Ships Standing Idle on Atlantic Coast; Freight Close to Standstill

NEW YORK (UP)—Leaders of the striking International Longshoremen's Association promised today to send their 65,000 cargo handlers back to work at paralyzed Atlantic coast ports if a Taft-Hartley injunction against their walkout is issued next week.

In the meantime, shipping was due to remain virtually at a standstill at ports from Maine to Virginia.

Fifty-three ships were tied up on the sprawling New York-New Jersey waterfront.

Others stood idle at piers from Portland, Me. to Hampton Roads, Va., including the big ports of Boston and Philadelphia.

The movement of freight by railroad bound for ocean shipment from New York already had begun to fall off under an embargo imposed by the American Association of Railroads Thursday.

Pres. Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley Law 12 hours after the strike began, to obtain an 80-day postponement in the walkout, but at best, the strike-stopping machinery will not be effective until next Tuesday.

Patrick J. Connolly, acting chief of the ILA, said his dock workers would comply with the presidential action in due course of the law.

He turned down an appeal for an immediate [illegible] anticipation of the Taft-Hartley court order.

The President appointed a fact-finding board which will report whether the waterfront tie-up en-

U.S. Willing to Negotiate on Easing World Tension

DETROIT (AP) — Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith declared today the United States is willing to negotiate on easing of world tensions and will "consider any reasonable compromise" for agreement.

But in a review and analysis of Soviet "peace" moves during the past spring and summer, Smith concluded that the Soviets have done nothing to indicate any change in their intentions toward the rest of the world.

President Eisenhower told a news conference in Washington earlier this week that Soviet hydrogen bomb development has made it more important than ever to determine what the Kremlin's intentions are toward the West.

Smith said that all Russia's peaceful gestures have had one thing in common—they have not cost the Soviets any sacrifice.

"There is nothing about them in which an intelligent and even moderately cautious individual could put his trust," Smith said. "And there is nothing on which

Uphold Loyalty of AF Officer

Witnesses Testify for Selfridge Airman at Expulsion Hearings

SELFRIDGE AIR FORCE BASE (UP) — Character witnesses testified today to the loyalty of Lt. Milo Radulovich who is fighting expulsion from the Air Force as a bad security risk.

More than a score of persons volunteered to appear before a board of three officers which resumed hearings on whether the 26-year-old reserve officer should be expelled.

Radulovich, a meteorlogy student at the University of Michigan, is not accused of disloyalty himself. But the Air Force has charged him with being a bad security risk because of his "too close association" with his father and a sister whom the Air Force accuses of Communist sympathies.

Over Radulovich's protest, the hearing is not public. The Air Force ordered secret sessions to guard the young father against "undue publicity."

One of those to testify was Claud Bland, an official of Local 154 of the CIO United Auto Workers Union at Hudson Motor Car Co. Radulovich's father is employed there.

23 Will Be Arraigned in Circuit Court Today

A total of 23 persons were scheduled for arraignment before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty today on charges ranging from breaking and entering in the nighttime to reckless driving.

Among the 23 cases are seven for breaking and entering; two embezzlement; four auto theft; one larceny; one bastardy and one reckless driving.

Ann Arbor Man Named to Corrections Vacancy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today appointed Talbot Smith, Ann Arbor attorney, to succeed Robert F. Steadman on the State Corrections Commission.

Steadman, former state controller and now a professor at Wayne University, was ruled ineligible to serve by Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard.

Smith, a Democrat, was appointed to a six-year term. He served as a member of the governor's board of inquiry into the Southern Michigan Prison riot.

Smith, who is 53, is a member of the law firm of Burke, Burke and Smith. Born in Fayette, Mo., he received his bachelor of science degree from the Naval Academy at Annapolis and masters and law degrees from the University of Michigan.

He was at one time professor of law at the Universities of Missouri and California and was deputy administrator of the old OPA in 1943.

Steadman retired today as state controller to return to his former post as professor of business administration at Wayne University.

In an opinion requested by Gov. Williams, Millard held that Steadman could not serve on the corrections commission while a member of the faculty of Wayne University.

He pointed to a provision of the new corrections law which said no commissioner could be an employe of a municipal unit. Wayne University is an agency of the Detroit Board of Education and Millard said that was a "municipal unit."

There is some speculation that the commission today will appoint the fifth member of the State Parole Board authorized under the new law. This is a civil service appointment but the commission could appoint a member provisionally.

Respected Pair Charged by FBI in $114,500 Theft

Virginia Town Is Agog Over Claims Against 2 Bank Officials

NEW MARKET, Va. (AP) — A self-styled ex-sheriff and a former mayor of this Shenandoah Valley town faced charges today they cleaned out the vault of a bank where they were officers and fled across the Canadian border with $114,500.

One of the men returned later. The money has not been recovered.

News of FBI charges against the hitherto respected pair swept through town with teletype speed and caused folks to scratch their heads in amazement.

Former Mayor Theodore Roosevelt Beahm Sr., 56, was "just about one of the nicest guys you ever saw," a local police officer said. Beahm had been with the town's only bank about 20 years and had risen to the posts of vice president and cashier.

Don R. Simpson, 55, a bank director, was a comparative newcomer "but he seemed real pleasant," police said. Officers said Simpson came here 2½ years ago, bought a fashionable estate and told folks he was a former sheriff in Somerset County, Pa.

Both Beahm and Simpson were charged with bank embezzlement. Accused of aiding the two men to flee to Canada is Simpson's nephew, Charles R. Simpson, 30, described by town officials as a "nice lad." The FBI said he chauffeured the other two to Canada.

The FBI said Beahm flew back Monday and complained he'd been forced at gunpoint to open the vault Saturday and give the money to an unknown man and the elder Simpson, who then kidnaped him and took him to Canada.

But the FBI said Beahm was unable to substantiate his story and, on further questioning, admitted he and Simpson followed a preconceived plan to clean out the bank's funds and take off. Beahm was quoted by the FBI as saying he last saw Simpson in Toronto, Canada.

The FBI said none of the $35,500 in cash and $79,000 in negotiables had been recovered. Beahm told agents he didn't get any of it.

He posted $2,500 bond yesterday.

2 Area Hunters Injured 1st Day

E. F. Waterman of City; L. C. Hack Accidentally Shot as Season Opens

Two Pontiac area hunters are the first reported as injured by gunfire accidents in Michigan's day-old hunting season.

They are Earl F. Waterman, 48, of 186 W. Columbia Ave., Pontiac, and Lyle C. Hack, 14, of 2441 Gilham St., West Bloomfield Township.

Waterman, an employe of the Grand Trunk Railroad here, is reported in fair condition in Mercy Hospital at Gaylord after being struck in the head yesterday by a bullet from his .22 caliber rifle while hunting in Otsego County.

State police said the gun discharged as Waterman was putting it in his car.

Hack was hunting with his brother Chancey, 19, yesterday afternoon at Otter Lake in Waterford Township, when a shotgun blast from nearby bushes hit him in the right leg, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Sgt. Herbert Dolby.

Dolby said the person who fired the shot has not been identified.

Rumor Oakland Man for State Controller

John Lederle, son of the late E. J. Lederle, Oakland County superintendent of schools for many years, is being considered for appointment to the office of state controller.

He is now director of Public Administration at the University of Michigan and has just returned from a year in the Philippines. At Manila he worked to establish a school of public relations at the University of Manila.

Lederle is the brother of Mrs. William J. Emerson of Pontiac and his mother, Mrs. E. J. Lederle, lives in Royal Oak.

If he receives the controller appointment he will succeed Robert F. Steadman who resigned to take a Wayne University post.

Indian Guards Kill 2 More Rioting Anti-Red Prisoners

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Indian guards armed with guns and clubs today killed two Chinese prisoners and wounded five others in the second mass breakout attempt in two days by restive anti-Communist war prisoners.

The Indians yesterday quelled with guns a riot of North Koreans who refuse to return home, killing one and wounding five.

Casualties in two days of violence — the first time blood has been shed since the Indians took custody — total three dead and 10 wounded, the Indian command announced.

An Indian spokesman said order had been restored at the compounds five miles southwest of Panmunjom in the demilitarized zone. The outbreak lasted only a few minutes.

An Indian spokesman said Friday's riot was touched off when five hospitalized POWs demanded that another prisoner, taken to the hospital after attempting suicide, be returned to the compound.

The Indians refused. The five prisoners rushed out of the hospital and shouted to a compound housing 500 men. The others took up the chant for the return of the prisoner and began scaling the barbed wire fences.

The spokesman said the guards repeatedly warned the prisoners to halt.

"We tried persuasion and they would not listen," he said. "The chaps continued to scale the barbed wire. Our guards tried to push and beat them back with sticks but the whole lot of them kept on coming.

"First we fired one shot in the air as a warning. That had no effect so the guards fired six more shots. A total of only seven shots was fired."

An Indian spokesman said Indian troops fired on the demonstrating Chinese after about 100 of them broke down a compound gate.

The Indian said that two of the five injured men were hurt by sticks wielded by the Indians and the other three were gunshot wounds.

Police to Keep 2-Man Patrols

Straley Says Kidnaping of 2 Officers Recently Supports His Decision

Despite a shortage of policemen, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said today he will not sanction one-man police car patrols in Pontiac.

Straley, who has never condoned the practice in the department, said he arrived at his conclusion as a result of the recent Bruce E. McLeod escapade which included the kidnaping of two officers.

Both officers, a Bloomfield Township patrolman and a Cass County deputy sheriff, were alone in their patrol cars when McLeod forced them at gun point to disarm.

"Some would like to see the police department personnel dispersed for wider coverage in the city by using the one-man patrol," he said, "but the method has proven a costly one."

Excluding civilian clerical help, the Pontiac force numbers 99 policemen, according to Capt. Edward H. Shigley, head of administration.

Straley quoted a national survey which states that industrial cities with a population of 100,000 should maintain a force of 187 policemen. According to the survey's statistics, Pontiac should have a minimum police force of 144.

142 New Michigan Laws, in Force Today, Include Several of Importance to Drivers

LANSING (UP) — Some 142 new laws adopted by the 1953 Michigan Legislature go into effect today.

The measures officially added to the state's already bulky statute books are those ordered to become operative 90 days after adjournment of the last legislative session.

Two of the most important delayed action laws affect motorists. One imposes a new three per cent state tax on virtually all used car sales while the second establishes a new centralized control over issuance of motor vehicle driver permits.

The title transfer measure affects all used car sales except those where the car is a gift and is expected to yield approximately $7,000,000 a year to the state.

The Department of State will assume control from state police of driver licensing functions, creating a new centralized violations file expected ultimately to enable the state to screen out drivers with consistently bad safety records. When the program gets under full swing, harder tests will be given before drivers can obtain licenses.

The new driver licensing law also provides for an increase in fees for new drivers of $3 while renewals will cost $1.50 instead of $1.25.

Driver licenses will continue to cover a three-year period but henceforth all permits will expire on the motorist's birth date.

All operator's licenses that would have expired after today will be automatically extended until the licensee's next birthday after the date of expiration as shown on his license.

Other new acts effective today provide for higher fees for marriage licenses, boosting the cost to $2 instead of $1, and increased fees for filing documents such as chattel mortgages with county registers of deeds.

The state's new law restoring commission control over the corrections department also becomes operative.

Other new measures liberalize pension plans for state employes and teachers; boost bonding authority for Detroit expressways; require licensing of residential building contractors; permit counties to replace coroners with medical examiners; and make trailer homes subject to property taxes.

dangers the "national health and safety."

If he receives an affirmative report, he will be free to request a federal court injunction against the strike.

David Cole, former director of the federal mediation service who was appointed chairman of the three-man board, said the group would hold a public hearing in New York Saturday.

Shipping and business interests, along with union officials, will be invited to the hearing.

The Taft-Hartley Law has been invoked 10 times in the past in the face of disrupting work stoppages.

In each case the fact-finding board recommended an injunction, which provides disputing sides with a "cooling off" period and time for further efforts at settlement.

An uneasy peace was maintained, meanwhile, between striking ILA members and longshoremen who bolted the discredited union to join a new union chartered by the AFL. The parent organization ousted the ILA last week for failing to rid itself of criminal elements.

Hundreds of extra police patroled the New York waterfront but reported no open clashes among the union men, some of whom stood on opposite sides of the street and hurled taunts and jeers back and forth.

AFL spokesmen said no attempt would be made to cross the ILA picket lines.

The Cunard liner Britannic was the first big passenger ship to be diverted from a scheduled docking at New York because of the strike. The liner was scheduled to dock at Halifax, N. S. today and its 876 passengers were to board three special trains to New York.

Soviet Wealthy Class Growing

Education, Hard Work, Talent, Often Intrigue, Ruin Red Claims

(Editor's Note: "So the Russians are all one happy family in a "classless" society? Tom Whitney, AP correspondent who lived in Moscow nine years, says the Russian upper class is growing rather than diminishing. This is the last of a series of articles by Whitney.)

LONDON (AP)—A jewelry store on Moscow's Petrovka street recently displayed an emerald of several carats, priced at 35,000 rubles.

That is about as much as an average Russian would earn in 4½ years. It is officially $8,750.

The store displayed the jewel because it knew there were potential customers.

Soviet propaganda contends Soviet society is "classless." Anyone who has seen Soviet citizens riding around Moscow in big, black Zis or Zim limousines will realize this is not so.

Small Pobeda automobiles are priced at 16,000 rubles ($4,000) each. The demand is such that a long line of prospective purchasers assembles each morning at Moscow's one auto store. This means certain Russians can lay down in cash as much as the average worker earn in two years (there is no installment buying).

* * *

The evidence that some Russians live a lot better than others is all about in Moscow.

Who are these well-heeled citizens?

First of all, the upper class includes officers, particularly the senior officers in the armed services, and of militarized and semi-militarized organizations such as the police.

There are high-ranking industrial and economic executives, scientists and research men. There are responsible government and party officials, and successful people from the literary and artistic world. A certain number of technicians and workers, for reason of special skills or work in particular regions, benefit from special bonus payment schemes. Certain collective farm executives and farmers benefit from special bonus schemes for particular crops. Finally, some doctors and other professional men have lucrative private practice.

Oftentimes big apartments costing nothing or almost nothing, the use of an official car at all times, and like privileges go with jobs the regime considers important.

This upper class is certainly increasing in size. As the state grows larger and more complex it needs more and more executives and specialists.

Some Soviet citizens make fantastic amounts of money. This applies particularly to the more renowned doctors with private practice. Writers, if successful, earn so much money they don't know how to spend it. Top scientists and generals are said to make very big salaries. And income tax rates are low—the top surtax rate is 13 per cent for "workers and employes"—a category which includes most of the upper class.

How do people get into the upper class?

The main factor to start with is education. Talent, hard work and occasional intrigue also play vital roles.

Some sprang from the pre-revolutionary upper and middle class. Most of the present members, however, were brought up by the Revolution from families of workers and peasants. These people are particularly strong for the Soviet regime, of course, since it gave them their opportunities.

Access of the upper class is still not closed to talented and hard-working youths from families of workers and farmers. But the new upper class tends to recruit its ranks from among children of families already upper class. Naturally, well-to-do Soviet citizens can provide better for their childrens' education than ordinary Russian families.

Of course, it is not only education that counts. Teachers and most doctors live worse even than many workers. They form an intellectual proletariat. It is logical to suppose that among this element of Soviet society in particular there is much discontent.

Soviet Names Aide to Georgian Premier

LONDON (AP) — An agricultural expert today was made deputy premier of the Georgian Soviet Republic.

The government-controlled radio in the Georgian capital of Tbilisi (Tiflis) announced the appointment of agriculture minister Mikhail Porfirovich Georgadze as right hand man to the new premier, G. D. Javakhisvili.

Finance Minister Kondratt Sokratovich Tsimakuridze was made a deputy chairman of the Georgian council of ministers, too. The broadcast did not make clear whether Georgadze and Tsimakuridze would retain their old posts as well as serving as deputies — bu. they normally do under the Soviet system.

The Kremlin has been giving special attention to Georgia, homeland of Stalin and the purged police czar Lavrenty Beria, since Premier Georgi Malenkov took over running things in the Soviet Union. Top leaders in the old Georgian Republic were ousted Sept. 22.

Start Incinerator at Twelve Mile

Project to Serve South Oakland Area, Is Result of 7 Years Planning

Ground was broken today on an extraordinary project shared by a group of communities.

The ground-breaking signaled the start of work on a $1,800,000 giant ingenerator to serve 11 cities and townships which lie along North Woodward avenue, or US-10.

When it is finished in early 1955, more than seven years of planning and work will have been consummated.

The incinerator will burn 450 tons of refuse a day. Its chimney will be 175 feet high.

The site is at John R and Twelve Mile Rd. in Royal Oak Township.

One reason for the delay in the start of work was objection from residents of the vicinity. They finally capitulated on assurances of benefits to themselves.

The incinerator is the project of the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

Members of the authority include Royal Oak, Birmingham, Berkley, Ferndale, Pleasant Ridge, Huntington Woods, Hazel Park, Oak Park, Clawson, Southfield Township and Royal Oak Township.

Mystery Plane Withdraws From British Race

LONDON (AP)—The much-touted London-New Zealand air race lost most of its remaining glamor last night when the Air Ministry withdrew Britain's new mystery bomber, the four-jet Vickers Valiant.

Aviation circles said 12 U.S. planes—originally entered in the 12,000-mile race starting next Thursday from London airport—previously dropped out because of the Valiant's apparent edge.

Withdrawal of the black bomber left just 10 entries competing for eight prizes totaling nearly $80,000. The race is sponsored by New Zealand's Canterbury International Air Race Council.

Seven planes still are entered for the speed section but five of these are British-built Canberra jet bombers, already record holders to the Far East. The other two are aging piston-engined fighters. The transport handicap section has only three entries.

Unofficial air authorities expected the Valiant would average at least 500 miles an hour for the trip half way around the globe.

In announcing its withdrawal, the air ministry said there had not been time for a long distance "rehearsal" needed for the race.

U. S. Will Negotiate to Ease Tensions

a responsible government could base its policies."

The No. 2 man in the State Department prepared his address for "The First Friday Club of Detroit," opening with an attack on Communist religious persecution in Iron Curtain countries.

He said the Reds are trying not only to eliminate "competitors of their Communist dogma" by smashing religious beliefs, but also to "complete the isolation" of subject peoples by cutting an important tie with the Western world.

"This persistence in a traditional Communist tactic," Smith declared, "is one of the factors which leads us to be skeptical about any basic change in Soviet policy."

The United States' attitude toward Russia, Smith said in taking up the question of negotiation, is based on the idea expressed by President Eisenhower in a speech last April—that the Communists should demonstrate their good will by "concrete deeds."

As "areas of suspicion, distrust and friction" are eliminated, the United States is ready to work concurrently toward arms reduction — "now more necessary than ever because of hydrogen bomb developments," he said.

Experts to Mull Over Russian Parley Plan

PARIS (AP) — American, British and French experts will meet in London next week, either Wednesday or Thursday, to work out a reply to the recent Russian note suggesting a Big Five conference on world problems, and a Big Four parley on Germany.

The foreign office said today the Western powers are currently exchanging views on the Soviet reply, which avoided an outright acceptance of the West's suggestion for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting on Germany in Switzerland Oct. 15.

Man Discovered Dead in His Garage Today

Donley MacDonald, 53, of 30450 12-Mile Rd., was found dead in his garage this morning by his wife, Betty. His death was ruled a suicide by Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, Oakland County deputy coroner.

Mrs. McDonald told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies Thurman Sauvage and Roy West that her husband had been despondent for some time. He had begun work yesterday, she said, after being unemployed since June. The couple has two children.

Process 2,830 Deeds in Month

County Office Reports $3,275 Fees Collected in September

Oakland County Register of Deeds office didn't make quite as much money last month as in September, 1952, a report from Orrin McQuaid, register of deeds, showed today.

Although office workers processed a few more papers—some 11,953 as compared to 11,947 filed the ninth month of last year—they collected only $11,204.25, some $85 less than the $11,290.90 grossed before.

With the report came a reminder that the higher fees ordered by Michigan Legislature for all county register of deeds offices in the state becomes effective today.

Offices will charge $1 for filing chattel mortgages, instead of 50 cents. Fee for deeds, mortgages and similar papers will be $1.50 for the first page—instead of $1—and 75 cents for each additional page. If a page contains over 1,000 words the charge will be doubled.

The local office's monthly report for September shows an increase in deeds filed. A total of 2,830 were processed last month for $3,275.75 in fees—slightly over the previous September's 2,650 filed for $3,166.75.

Mortgages were down just a bit with 1,116 filed for $3,997 as against September, 1952 totals of 1,202 for $3,443.50.

More local people filed chattel mortgages, though, with 4,914 processed for $2,457 in fees. The previous September's total was 4,509—more than 400 less—for just $2,254 in fees.

Wall Street Plans 30-Floor Building

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans have been announced for the biggest new building in the Wall Street financial section in a quarter of a century.

As reported yesterday, a 30-story skyscraper will rise on the site of the 69-year-old produce exchange building and will cost 25 million dollars.

Clinton W. Blume, the Exchange's realty consultant, said the Exchange will occupy 20,000 of the new structure's million square feet.

Blume added that a 50-year lease of the property, with renewal options, has been taken by Jack D. Weiler of New York and Benjamin H. Swig of San Francisco.

Highest ROK Medal Given Mark Clark

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean President Syngman Rhee today awarded the republic's highest military medal to Gen. Mark Clark, retiring commander of United Nations and U.S. forces in the Far East.

The citation accompanying the Taeguk medal with gold star said Clark "distinguished himself by eminently meritorious conduct in a position of great trust and grave responsibility."

Gen. John E. Hull, Clark's successor; the 8th Army commander, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, and U.S. Ambassador Ellis E. Briggs attended the ceremony.

Witness Confesses Guilt in May Killing

DETROIT (AP) — Raymond Scott, 24, of Detroit admitted to the hammer slaying of 21-year-old Belmon Lee Anthony of Detroit May 2nd yesterday and cleared the man he had previously accused of the killing.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said that Scott's formal statement to him cleared Thomas Hempton, 24, a Flint television repairman, of the crime.

After Anthony's body was found, Scott was picked up and accused Hempton. Hempton, because he could not find an alibi for the night of the killing was charged, arraigned and examined.

Scott was the only witness against him.

The National Association of Home Builders says the 2,000,000 veterans of the Korean war represent a vast housing market. Only 20,000 Korean veterans so far have exercised their GI home loan privileges.

Keep On, Ike Urges Civil Defense Heads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil defense leaders, sharply split over how to go about their task, were exhorted by President Eisenhower yesterday: "No matter what things look like at the moment, please keep going."

The President's appeal came when state civil defense directors left their annual conference to pay a White House call.

At the conference, Democratic Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Philadelphia said it is up to the President to rouse America from its civil defense apathy. He called on the federal government to assume most of the financial load.

But Arthur S. Flemming, director of the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization, said the federal government's role is one of leadership and example. He said the "heavy work" must be done at the local level.

Relatives Given Chance to Speak to Pro-Red PWs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Relatives of the 23 POWs who have chosen to remain with the Reds in Korea are to be given an opportunity to appeal to them directly by recordings.

KECA and KECA-TV have started making one-minute spot announcements to parents and relatives of the men, asking them to come to the studio and have their appeals to reason recorded.

The recordings will be flown Monday morning from Travis Air Base to Tokyo, where the Far Eastern Command has arranged to take them to the truce commission and have them played for the GI's who have refused to return to their homes.

Earl Hudson, vice president of ABC's Western Division, ordered the invitations to relatives to be broadcast throughout the weekend between programs.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1953

Lax Loyalty Screening

The case of JAMES MCNAMARA, who resigned his $9,800 a year Federal Mediation Service post at Cincinnati, shows how the loyalty screening process can prove worthless.

After MCNAMARA had been forced out of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union vice-presidency for alleged Communist activities, he had no trouble getting a job in the Mediation Service. He held that job until summoned to testify before a House Un-American Activities Sub-committee.

Before the Committee he admitted that in a union organizing drive he had solicited Communist help and was elected to his union office with Communist backing. He denied, however, that he had accepted the Communist ideology.

A surprising feature of the case is a post audit report showing that proceedings involving Mr. McNamara continued for three years before further consideration was recommended. The report adds that evidence in the case was contrary to the Loyalty Review Board's finding favorable to McNamara.

Such inexcusable laxity and delay weakens public confidence in all Government loyalty procedures. At the same time it emphasizes the grim fact that the job of driving subversives out of Government and key institutions is far from complete.

An Inspiring Bequest

All who knew the late FRANK R. BOYD well were little surprised when his will revealed a substantial bequest to the First Presbyterian Church.

A resident of Pontiac for all of his 86 years, Mr. BOYD was deeply interested in the welfare of the community and of the church in which he long had held membership.

His gift of 2,000 shares of General Motors stock will mean a substantial annual contribution to the church's operating budget.

Undoubtedly there are numerous other residents who, like Mr. Boyd, have survived their close relatives. Undoubtedly, too, some of them have wondered how best to dispose of their estates.

The BOYD bequest is an inspiring example and a reminder that there are numerous worthy causes which need financial aid. All of our churches can make good use of such bequests. The Pontiac Foundation was organized several months ago. Bequests to it would help swell the fund for a long needed civic auditorium and other civic projects. Similarly, gifts to the United Fund can do much to promote social welfare.

Income Tax 40 Years Old

With the Administration promising a 10 per cent cut in the income levy January 1, it is interesting to note that on October 3 that form of taxation will be 40 years old.

When President WILSON's signature on October 3, 1913, put the income tax law into operation, no one dreamed it would become so important a part of our tax structure.

In fact, the tax was written into the Underwood Tariff Act, instead of a separate revenue act. Moreover, the initial rates were very low, exemptions were high and relatively few persons were affected.

Single and married persons were exempt if their incomes were under $3,000 and $4,000 respectively. They were only one per cent on net income after exemptions and credits, up to $20,000, then two per cent up to $50,000. The maximum rate was seven per cent, applicable only when net income was over $500,000 a year.

No wonder only 358,000 individuals had to file returns that first year. They paid altogether only slightly over $40,000,000 for an average of a little more than $100. In 1950, the latest year for which detailed figures are available, 53,000,000 returns were filed for an average payment of $481.

Back in 1913 a married person with net income of $10,000 and three dependents paid $60 in Federal income tax. Today he pays over $1,900. Then, if he had a net income of $100,000, he paid only $2,500. Today his tax bill would be $55,000.

Nobody likes to pay taxes. But in the four decades since the income levy was inaugurated, the public's attitude toward it has changed greatly. Few now would deny that it is a sound way of broadening the tax base and one of the most equitable means of distributing the burden of Federal cost.

The Man About Town

The Color Display

It's Coming in Installments, Now Approaching Its Best

Daffynition

Egotist: A person who thinks if he hadn't been born people always would wonder why not.

The autumn foliage colors are spotty. Some trees have rushed the season. Others are late. Dry weather causes the leaves to fall earlier than usual, and some wooded tracts already are carpeted, and lawn raking has commenced. On many back country roads the display now is gorgeous, but it generally lacks the pink and red of the maples, many of which still are a verdant green. A heavy rainfall would divest the trees of their leaves before much of the color change. A drive in the country this weekend will be worth your trouble, but with good weather conditions a few days later will find the color riot at its tops. Better make two trips.

The 1,179 still in the Man About Town football contest divide their predictions on Saturday's game: Detroit, 691; Fordham, 450; tie game, 38.

The speaker at a local luncheon club Thursday told them he would talk only until one o'clock, as he had a date at that hour with and knew that everybody else present had the same date.

In a letter written by Wayne Harbour of Bedford, Iowa, to

Mayor Arthur J. Law

of Pontiac, is enclosed a "Believe it or not" clipping from an Omaha paper, which says that of Pontiac made an unassisted triple play in a baseball game. Goodloe tells me that this happened in 1921 when he was catching for the Oakland Motor Team in a game with Northway Motor of Detroit. It was made possible through a squeeze play and confusion of the opponents. Although he was catcher for the St. Louis Browns in their glorious days B. V. (Before Veeck), he does not consider that to be the acme of his baseball career. That height was reached when he was the catcher for George Sisler on the University of Michigan team, and their coach was Branch Rickey.

Disco is a live wire community just over the line in Macomb County, and Man About Town has an invitation from to attend a fire there. The VFW will burn an $18,000 mortgage on its hall built only five years ago. That shows civic enterprise of a substantial nature.

Most of his life a resident of Pontiac,

Charles Dressler,

now living in Bloomfield Hills, phones that there should be a great volume of sentiment here in the burning of the discarded excursion steamship, "Put-In-Bay," which takes place Saturday. "Over a period of at least 30 years," he says, "a Detroit River trip on this boat was the favorite outing for Pontiac Sunday schools classes and others. It was there that I first met the girl who became my wife, and I wonder how many others had the same experience."

Mrs. K. B. Collins Urges Avon Residents to Back Plan for New Fire Department

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

We have had several tragedies in our community because we have had to wait too long for the Rochester Fire Department to arrive. I am not complaining about the actual department or service, it is just that we in Avon Township are too far away.

I would like to remind everyone that Avon is a growing community. A fire department of our own has become a necessity. For a long time we have needed better protection against fires.

We have tried to start the ball rolling towards a fire department but we need everyone's help. Anyone interested should attend a meeting Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 8 p. m. at the Avondale Community Hall, 2137 Auburn Road.

At the last meeting held only eight people attended. I am sure there must be many more civic minded people interested in this cause.

Reader Intimates That Wrong Car Was Halted

My son and I were not going 50 miles an hour when a patrolman waved us to the curb. In fact I was almost at a standstill to make a turn. We asked him about that speeding Plymouth, but he never said a word about that. We suspect it was going faster than he dared to ride his motorcycle.

According to the speed we were given tickets for, that Plymouth must have been going 80 miles an hour.

Mrs. Stevens Says Everyone Needs a Rest

Every once in awhile someone will criticize President Eisenhower for taking a vacation. What most people forget is that everyone needs a little relaxation. Even Jesus while under great nervous strain said "Come aside with me into the country."

Everyone who loves the United States should back the President to the last degree instead of condemning him for playing golf.

One thing which is despicable in man or woman, is one who will not "play the game." The Republicans are in, so you Democrats get in there and pitch. We need all of America working together.

Lawrence Sees U.S. Policies Vague and Full of Threat and Counterthreat

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson made what looks like a curious suggestion to President Eisenhower. The former presidential candidate says he would like to see the United States sign a non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia.

Does this mean that Stevenson believes it necessary for the United States to make a pledge that hereafter it will not commit acts of aggression against Soviet Russia?

Has the United States ever been guilty of aggression heretofore?

In the eyes of Stalin, Vishinsky, Mao and the rest of the Communists, the United States crossed the 38th parallel in Korea with other members of the United Nations and committed acts of aggression against the so-called people's government in North Korea.

Stevenson says the objective of the proposed non-aggression pact would be "to deprive Soviet Russia of the peace propaganda it now has and put them on the spot as to their intentions."

But if the United States agrees "not to commit acts of aggression any more" — as the Soviet propaganda will phrase it — the step will be tantamount to pleading guilty, of course, to an absurd accusation.

The President is reported to have shown an interest in what Stevenson proposed and also to have listened intently to the story of what the former presidential nominee found on his trip around the world.

It is natural for Eisenhower to be polite about such things and to do so in the interest of a bipartisan front in handling foreign policy.

But at the same time the nation is getting a rather confused impression as to what the Eisenhower administration really has in mind in the matter of world policy, especially as it relates to Soviet Russia.

There is a feeling that the President has been unable to formulate a definite policy about what to do as a consequence of the development of the hydrogen bomb by Soviet Russia. From Eisenhower's press conference on Wednesday came the following official information:

1. The knowledge that the Russians have the bomb is, of course, an acute problem for the Defense Department.

2. This is causing more earnest study than anything which has happened lately.

3. When the President can get sorted out in his own mind and with his advisers exactly how the government here should approach this whole subject and its interrelationship with the international situation, the relief of tension in the world and the growing destructiveness of the world's armament — when he can get that all straightened out — he expects to go before the American people and tell them about it.

The foregoing doesn't sound as if the American government has any plan or program to deal with the Communist menace except to deal with each new situation as it arises.

The President feels he should not say anything in his forthcoming speeches that might produce adverse reactions. His reasons as he gave them to the press are these:

1. We have friends abroad and must be very careful that they understand always that we have one intention — namely, peace.

2. The President thinks the only possible tragedy greater than winning a war would be losing it. Just war should be ruled out of the calculations of all of us and we should proceed from there.

3. Now America wants all her Allies to understand thoroughly that, because we have to take rudimentary precautions for our own security, we will not quail from any sacrifice necessary to provide that security. If you don't look out, these intentions are misunderstood, and badly misunderstood.

4. Some of our friends say we are pugnacious and impulsive or we have lost faith in the conference table. Those things are far from the truth.

5. Another thing is that you don't want to frighten anyone to death in the world. Frightened people cannot make good decisions.

So you have to understand the strength of the free world and the strength of America at the very same time that you are weighing all our dangers and our risks.

Likewise, if too much emphasis is placed on what might happen to our side, it may be overlooked that the free world can deliver retaliatory blows as well.

The formula is still one of threat and counterthreat.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Continuous Contests Aid Sunday School Attendance

Contests are ideal for churches. But they serve like the newspaper ads for your local department stores. One ad will not keep patronage high for 52 weeks in the year. Nor will one contest hold enthusiasm high. Contests and newspaper advertising should be continuous to be most effective.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-305: Carolyn N., aged 29, is Director of Religious Education in a large Chicago church.

"Dr. Crane, what would you recommend for increasing our attendance at Sunday school and in the Young Peoples' Society?" she began.

"I remember you once suggested contests, but a professor we had in Seminary vetoed contests.

"For he said the enthusiasm drops off after a contest. The effect doesn't last. So what should we do?"

Every Christian should be an enthusiastic salesman for his church. He should constantly tell about the fine things his church is doing.

Many people can work beside you for a year and never mention the fact they even belong to a church. That is not the attitude that Paul or Peter or Philip or other great church pioneers showed.

And no life insurance salesman or book salesman can be around you very long before he works the conversation toward the merchandise he handles.

But effective Christian salesmanship must involve personal interviews and house calls to pick up the new prospects and take them to church with you.

You can't sell religion exclusively by direct mail advertising or even newspaper ads, though these are very helpful. In the final analysis, you must have personal interviews with your prospects.

Secondly, it is well to bring them to church by use of the "minor decision" technique.

This means you tactfully invite them to a church supper or a party or to a picnic.

If their children already attend the Sunday school, let those youngsters have parts in plays or Christmas programs. Then invite the parents to see their children perform.

Or enlist their participation in a basketball or softball church tournament or a bowling league.

Thus, they begin to feel acquainted and soon like the other members of your church. Soon they get to meet the clergyman and occasionally hear his sermons.

Then you can get down to brass tacks with your prospect regarding the "major decision" of joining the church and publicly acknowledging that he wants to team-up with God.

Contests are ideal for Sunday school and Young Peoples' Societies. But they must be continued!

They are much like department store full page ads in this newspaper. One ad will not last through the 52 weeks of the year and keep the store filled with customers.

No, indeed! It requires continuous advertising. The individual ads are changed each week but the advertising itself continues all 52 weeks in the year!

Contests can be changed, too, but they should also be running 52 weeks in th year:

One contest obviously will not keep attendance and enthusiasm at that high peak forever. And that's where churches have made their mistakes in the past.

They thought a single contest should keep enthusiasm high all the year around. That's impossible.

So schedule short-term contests, preferably not over 6 weeks in length. Make them simple to compute. And pay off the winners fast.

See tomorrow's Case Record for more specific advice on church strategy.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

That Republican and Democratic series in Chicago wound up in a tie.

Everybody was pitching and batting. Nobody was catching and fielding.

That's politics. You accuse the other side of what you're doing yourself.

There's no more come-back to that than jumping off the Eiffel Tower.

Everybody's tarred with the same brush, birds of a feather flock together and the beam in your eye gathers no moss. It's the law of diminishing returns with no re-sale value.

Each side held in victory dinner subject to referendum and recall. Let's give you an idea of what you get for a hundred certificates of the realm. Enough consomme in a tub to swim across.

There's canape of elephant's wrist, petits on all fours, tossed salad over the transom, fancy steps from the picket line, ear trumpets stuffed with malarkey and sweep-up-the-kitchen. If that's victory we'll take Patrick Henry's choice with double indemnity.

The 1953 convention could either be plans for the future or memoranda on a post-mortem. They're scattering the corn after the geese have gone south.

The crime of voting either way is non-extraditable. It's too early for an ambush. If Chicago revisited has any nutritious decibles why doesn't Farouk high-tail it back to Cairo?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular. — I Cor. 12:27.

Brady Dislikes Court Ruling on Dieting; Weight Loss Must Be Slow for Health

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A reader kindly sends a clipping of a news bureau story about a young woman who gained considerable weight while drawing a miserly $18 a week in workmen's compensation for disability that had followed a fall in the textile plant five years ago.

The woman's employers brought the case to court for review.

Both the insurance company's doctor and a doctor appointed by the court recommended that the woman should lose weight.

Her weight had increased from 155 to 225 pounds during the period of disability — at the rate of 14 pounds a year, that is.

Most people who accumulate too much slacker flesh gain it at the rate of five to 10 pounds a year.

Well, girls, you haven't heard the half of it yet.

Because the two doctors recommended that the woman reduce —as what doctor wouldn't where the patient carries such a burden? —the court decided that if the young woman wanted to continue drawing benefit payments she'd have to lose 25 pounds in six weeks time and 10 pounds in the four weeks thereafter.

All I know about the case is what I have quoted from the clipping.

But it occurs to me that the judge overextended himself in his arbitrary decision.

If the lady acquired the 70 pounds of superfluous fat and water at the rate of 14 pounds a year, it would be unreasonable and probably dangerous to try to lose it at a faster rate.

Too bad the victim of this maladministration of justice gave up the workmen's compensation payments.

There must be some doctors who would have the courage and competence to testify as experts that the judge's verdict was contrary to the woman's welfare and that any attempt to lose weight at the rate the judge prescribes would probably preclude the chance of recovering her capacity to resume work.

From 1½ to 3 pounds a week is as much as any obese person can lose on a reduction regimen that does not jeopardize health.

I am confident no physician of standing will contradict this statement.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

John L. Lewis Turns Salesman

Miners' Union Leader Out to Sell Anthracite Coal as Top Fuel

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — John L. Lewis, bushy-browed warrior of many a tussle with coal mine operators, presidents and courts, has turned salesman—to sell anthracite as the top fuel for the American home.

Gone from Lewis' latest role are the short, snapping phrases which have characterized his battles of the past. In their place is a straightforward, explaining approach to the problem of how to market more hard coal so John L.'s hard-pressed miners can put more bread and butter on their dinner tables.

The latest phase of this role came last night when John L. stood up to speak at the golden anniversary dinner of the Anthracite Mine Conciliation Board in suburban Lakewood Park Ballroom near this northeastern Pennsylvania town.

Lewis talked about the need for increased production and efficiency to meet the threat of a competitive market if the anthracite industry is to retain its high standards.

Competition from oil and gas interests has cut hard into the anthracite coal industry's sales to home owners. Bituminous or soft coal has not been affected since most of this grade is channelled to industrial uses in steel mills and similar enterprises.

". . . Great advances have been made in the coal industry," Lewis said. He cited the abolition of the "breaker boy era" when sons of miners had to work at an early age for long hours.

Lewis' message was the second he has delivered along these lines. Recently he outlined much the same material to the New York State Fuel Dealers Association.

Police Won't Tag Cars During Series Games

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)—World Series enthusiasm has overcome the relentless demands of the parking meters here.

This order has gone out to traffic officers:

"Do not tag automobiles for over-parking while World Series games are being played."

Television has only recently come to Prescott through relay by wire to individual sets.

With only a few sets in homes, business establishments having sets are playing to capacity audiences.

Police decided to give the lookers a break by eliminating the necessity of charging in and out to feed the meters.

Closes Up Plant, Awaiting Law

President of Kingsford Chemical Is Weary of Strike Disorders

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — "Until law and order is restored in Kingsford," the Kingsford Chemical Co.'s doors will remain closed.

With those words, Owen Pyle, president and general manager of the company, closed down operations yesterday.

Operating in spite of a strike, the plant in neighboring Kingsford has been the object of CIO United Auto Workers demands for a union shop, checkoff, and six paid holidays a year.

Company spokesmen said that the plant has been damaged and non-striking workers have reported their cars damaged in alleged vandalism at the plant.

Local 952 of the UAW was recently chosen bargaining agent in a plant election. But the company and the union have not reached agreement on the terms of the contract.

The company has agreed to six paid holidays a year, but has rejected proposals for a union shop and a checkoff.

Non-striking employes have filed 22 complaints against individuals who are alleged to have broken car windows, windows in their homes and scattered nails in plant parking areas.

Mailman Is Beginning His 50th Year on Route

UPTON, Mass. (AP) — Mailman John L. Maroney today began his 50th year on the same rural mail route.

When he started his rounds in 1904 there were 90 box holders along a 22-mile route in central Massachusetts.

Today most of his 180 "customers" were on hand to greet him along his 28-mile-long route through Upton, Northbridge, Westboro and Hopkinton.

Tornado Swept Savings Bond on 170-Mile Trip

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — A savings bond that disappeared from a Mt. Morris, Mich., home when a tornado swept that American city June 7, has been found in an oat field near here, 170 miles away.

The bond was found by William Bierling, a farmer, who mailed it to its owner, Mrs. Lucille Parr of Mt. Morris.

In a letter of thanks, Mrs. Parr told Bierling the bond was one of 86 that disappeared when the tornado struck the city leaving 141 dead, more than 1,000 injured and millions of dollars damage. Among the victims were her husband and two children.

Mrs. Parr said four of the bonds since have been mailed back to her.

Social Security Allows Oldsters to Be Married

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—More elderly persons are marrying nowadays but the number still is small, a New York State legislative committee reports.

The Joint Legislative Committee on problems of the ageing yesterday attributed the increase in late marriages to social security.

The committee, of which Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, 65, is chairman, said the program enabled oldsters to support themselves rather than live in institutions.

BARBER ACTIVE AT 93 — Dr. Mario Nigro relaxes in the barber's chair as 93-year-old Frank H. Thomas, oldest active barber in the U. S., starts another day's work. Thomas operates his shop in Milford, Kans., and has been in the business for 77 years. He still features old-style wooden chairs and individual shaving mugs, dating back to 1876, the year he started in business.

Late for Work? May Be Weather Man's at Fault

WASHINGTON (AP)—A psychologist has come up with scientific proof of what every schoolboy knows: it's hard to be prompt when the sun is shining, easy when the day is dismal.

Dr. Roland E. Mueser of Pennsylvania State College studied the punctuality of 101 men and 32 women research workers during a three-month period. The research showed it was easy to dawdle toward work when the skies were cheery, but dark days meant gulped coffee and a dash to the office without fanfare, he said.

Nevertheless, he found six per cent, all males, were eager beavers who got to work early every day regardless of the weather.

Average life of a milk bottle is 35 trips.

Korean Envoy to U. S. Beaten

Describes Attackers as 2 U. N. Soldiers With British Accents

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's ambassador to the United States, Dr. You Chan Yang, today confirmed reports that he was badly beaten Sunday by "two U.N. soldiers with British accents."

The South Korean government earlier had denied officially that the ambassador was beaten.

Dr. Yang said:

He was attacked and injured by "two U.N. soldiers who wanted money from me."

He has been in bed since.

He lost four front teeth in the beating and his right eye was badly bruised. He was knocked unconscious "for quite a while."

He was robbed of his wrist watch and some American dollars. He was walking down a Seoul street after dark when attacked.

He made no official complaint and wanted to "keep quiet about it."

He did not disclose the nationality of his attackers other than they spoke "with British accents."

He made his first public appearance today at the mansion of President Syngman Rhee, where the U.N. Far East commander, Gen. Mark Clark, was decorated.

He said he will leave for Tokyo Monday to participate in the Korean-Japan conference scheduled Tuesday. He planned to stay in Tokyo about a week and then fly to Washington.

Bob Considine Says:

Chandler Evades Series; Says 'Wouldn't Look Right'

NEW YORK (INS)—Sad sight 'midst all the hubbub and hilarity on the eve of the World Series: Ex-czar of baseball Happy Chandler sitting in Toots Shor's with Kiyoshi Miyahara, president of the non-pro Baseball Association of Japan, and several Japanese friends.

"Staying for the series, Hap?" a friend asked.

Chandler shook his head.

"Wouldn't look right, I guess," he said.

Carl Hubbell, one of the all-time all-timers, was stopped at the press gate at the Yankee stadium on the opening day of the series. The man whose pitching in the 1936 and 1937 series filled the place, and whose various records may never be equalled, had misplaced his ticket. A stadium cop wouldn't let him in until a friend intervened.

"Sic transit gloria Wednesday," one reporter wrote of the event.

Hub's modest manner and patience in the face of knuckle-brained obstructionism recalls a pitching predecessor who in all probability will one day be canonized: Walter Johnson.

One hot summer day in Washington, a pest got a death grip on Johnson's lapel, backed him in the corner of a hotel lobby, and talked to him until Walter's shirt melted. Johson kept nodding, pleasantly, until the guy ran out of words and freed him.

Goos Goslin walked over to Johnson after that and said, "Walter, why in heaven's name would you stand still that long for a bum like that?"

Walter looked dwn uneasily at the carpet and said, "He was telling me he went to school with my sister."

That stopped Goose. "I'm sorry," he said. "I didn't even know you had a sister, Walter."

Walter swallowed unhappily.

"I haven't," he said. "I just hate to hurt anybody's feelings."

Educational note:

A small child named Deborah toured out household from end to end yesterday, kissing all of us. When I got mine, she looked at me with sad courage and said:

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye?"

"I'll never see you again," the child said, causing us to splatter half of a perfectly good martini.

"Why, dear?"

"I'm going to kindergarten tomorrow."

I asked her if she had dreamed about the great event and she said, with dancing eyes:

"Yes. I walked into the kindergarten and it was filled . . . all boys."

The short fat lady with a heavy Spanish accent was standing outside the Yankee Stadium, hours after the series game. It was dark and the streets were abandoned. Some reporters trudged out, lugging portables that seem to grow heavier with the passing of the years.

"Is Joe DiMaggio still in there?" she asked. "I've waited so long."

"He left the team couple years ago," a writer said.

"Don't I know!" she bridled. "He was here today as a fan . . . like me. Only reason I came, to see him . . . not these new fellows. I love him."

"You know him?" I asked.

She seemed quite startled as she gasped:

"Oh . . . no! I've never met him in my life."

Only One Way to Find How Fire Started . . .

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Firemen had trouble finding the cause of a blaze that damaged the Amigo variety store in Brownsville.

A deputy state fire marshal was called from Austin. Several days after the fire he and local officials gathered in the store to examine the burned area.

Suddenly someone smelled smoke. Brownsville Fire Chief Eddie Valent said apparently one of the investigators had dropped a cigarette, causing a second fire. The second fire was quickly put out.

An Eye to the Future

OLIVE HILL, Ky. (UP)—Former Kentucky Gov. William J. Fields, 78, recently signed a 10-year lease on a country general store he will operate near here. Fields also signed an option giving him the right to renew the lease for another 10 years at the end of the present lease.

Comedy Hour Has Personality

Durante, O'Connor and Cantor Three More on Winter Listing

NEW YORK—The comedy team of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will inaugurate the fourth consecutive season of TV's "Comedy Hour" on Sunday Oct. 4.

The explosive shenanigans of the young duo will set the stage for the fall debuts of Jimmy Durante, Eddie Cantor, Donald O'Conner, and Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, in that order, on successive Sunday nights.

These seven comedians will appear regularly on the show throughout the season. Durante, who debuts on the series this year, will appear eight times.

Abbott and Costello and Eddie Cantor will each do six shows, with Martin and Lewis set to appear five times, and Donald O'Connor scheduled for four productions.

This leaves six open dates for the complete season, two of which will be filled by Ethel Merman and Sonja Henie.

Sam Fuller, executive producer of the series, developed the "Comedy Hour" policy of surrounding the great names of show-business who star on the show with top personalities and promising newcomers as guests which has caused the series to be called "The Palace of Comedy."

For example, Burt Lancaster will appear with Martin and Lewis on the opening show; John Wayne will make his video debut with Jimmy Durante on Oct. 11; and Eddie Cantor will present Jack Benny and Eddie Fisher on his first show of the season, Oct. 18.

Frank Sinatra will also guest with Durante on his second appearance of the season.

The "Comedy Hour" was the first program to introduce the big-name comedians to TV on a regular basis by developing the rotating formats for the stars.

It was the first major show to move to the West Coast, and became the first commercial program to be made available across the country via the coaxial cable.

A rundown of the stars and guests who have appeared on this one show reads like a list of "Who's Who in Show Business."

Bob Hope, Fred Allen, Eddie Cantor, Ray Bolger, and Abbott and Costello all made their TV debuts on the Sunday night series.

Martin and Lewis, then a new comedy team, were introduced to the country with a show of their own, and a production was designed to capture the versatile talents of Donald O'Connor.

Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye and Milton Berle have all appeared as guests on the show.

Last season the show marked its 100th telecast by assembling all seven of the regular comics who take turns on the show for one production.

This "million dollar" offering achieved one of the all-time audience records, having more viewers than any single session of the political conventions and considerably more listeners than the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, which had one of the highest all-time radio audiences.

Length of Life Hits 68.5 Years Average in '52

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The average length of life of America's wage-earners and their families reached a new high of 68.5 years in 1952, it is reported by the statisticians of a life insurance company.

Experience among industrial policyholders shows that 1952 registered the ninth year of consecutive rise in longevity.

The gain in average lifetime amounts to 5 years since 1941, to 10 years since 1932, and to 22 years since 1911-1912. In 1879-1889 the average lifetime was only 34 years — less than half that for 1952.

Comparing longevity in 1952 with that of 1946, the first post-war year, brings out some noteworthy improvements, especially among female policyholders.

Whereas the increase in expectation of life for white males at age 5 mounted to 1.3 years, the corresponding gain for white females came to 2.2 years.

"The record for gains in longevity among wage-earning families when compared with that for the general population, is particularly impressive," the statisticians concluded.

"In 1911-1912, the average lifetime for industrial policyholders was about six and one-half years less than that for the general population; currently the two are on a par.

"It is significant of our American way of life that the health status of the wage-earning segment of our population has now caught up with the general average for the country."

Adlai Says Ike Is Studying Pact

Claims That President Views Non-Aggression Plan With Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson says that, far from regarding an offer to Russia of a non-aggression pact as appeasement, President Eisenhower is giving close study to the possibility.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, discussed with newsmen yesterday his lunch and conference with the President. He called at the White House to report on his world tour earlier this year.

Stevenson, who proposed the pact idea in a speech last month in Chicago, renewed his advocacy of it yesterday, saying that if Russia turned down such an offer, "it would be rather apparent that her peaceful professions aren't as sincere as they might seem."

Questioned as to whether Eisenhower, like some other Republicans, had said he was indulging in appeasement by making the proposal, he replied, "Not at all."

The President is studying it along with other methods of reducing cold war tensions, he said.

My Rheumatism Is Gone! I Give O-Jib-Wa Bitters FULL CREDIT
"The intense shooting pains that I suffered during the last three years made work very difficult," says Mr. Earl V. Williams, 320 W. Elm St., Reading, Michigan.
"It was my lucky day when I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the paper and decided to try it. For three years I suffered from rheumatism and arthritis pains in my knees, back and arms. The intense shooting pains made work difficult and kept me awake nights. I was sure miserable. Other medicines I tried failed to help me, but from the very start, O-JIB-WA went right to work and showed me results in about a week. I have taken it for some time now and my rheumatism is gone and I can honestly say that I am better in everyway. Although I am in good shape now, I'll always keep a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS handy. It is really a great medicine and I would recommend that if you suffer from rheumatism or arthritis, that you give it a fair trial, and let it help you too. I give O-JIB-WA BITTERS full credit for my recovery."

Men Attracted to Women Who Have Found Happiness in Their Jobs

Girl Errs in Taking Any Old Position Until She Can Find Prince Charming

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In a book which I wrote several years ago, there was a chapter called "All I want Is Any Old Job Till I Get Married."

It described the girl who takes a job she hates just in order to mark time until she snares a husband for herself.

My experience has always been, however, that this plan doesn't work.

The girl who really wants to get married, I pointed out, is better off if she gets into a job she likes, even if it isn't generally considered a good field for husband-hunting.

The other day I received a letter from a young woman who had read that chapter, and who wanted to tell me how completely her own case history agreed with it.

"When I was 28," she wrote, "I had a receptionist job in a law firm in New York City. I had taken it because there were so many eligible young bachelors working there.

"I hated the work, and I was just dying to get married and never have a job again. In fact, I guess I was too anxious.

"At any rate, none of the eligible young lawyers paid much attention to me.

"So I began to eat too much. I would go home at night, with no dates, and I would stow away all kinds of pastries and candy and practically eat myself sick.

"I got so fat that the doctor put me on a strict diet, but it didn't help. By the time I was 30, I had just about given up.

"So I decided that, since I would have to support myself the rest of my life, I might just as well love my job.

"I had always wanted to work with animals and I had always longed to live in the country. Finally, I managed to get a job as assistant to a veterinarian, who also had kennels.

"I was bookkeeper, salesgirl, chief cook and bottle washer, puppy-sitter, etc. My friends thought it was a terrible comedown, and of course the salary was nothing to brag about.

"But," she concluded, "I absolutely fell in love with the work. Gradually I began to lose weight without even trying, and my figure got very much better.

"I began to be almost attractive, and I never had felt so well in my life, nor so happy.

"Then one day a farmer came in to pay the bill for a cow my boss had treated. We fell in love—and I am now a very happy farmer's wife!"

Moral: If you want a man to share your life, the first step is to make your life so happy that someone will want to share it.

MAKE FRIENDS

Of course, you want to look attractive for your dinner date, Sadie. And it is now considered quite all right to take a quick look in your compact mirror at the end of a restaurant meal. But if you must touch up your lips—don't spread your lipstick by rubbing your lips together. And don't, for heaven's sake, Sadie, whip out your comb in public and go to work on your hair-do. There's a powder room for that kind of fixing up.

Would you care to dine in the boudoir?

New Ladder Should Be Protected
Needs a Coating of Wood Preservative Immediately

By HUBBARD COBB

When you buy a new wood ladder or stepladder, give it a coat of wood preservative—not paint—immediately.

This will protect the wood against decay even if it is allowed to become wet from time to time.

A length of old garden hose tacked along the walls of a small garage about 3 feet up from the floor will protect the finish on your car doors when they are opened and strike the wall.

* * *

Be very careful never to use harsh abrasive cleaning compounds on glazed surfaces such as tile or brick, for only the surface has been scratched the marks cannot be removed. Use only scratchless powders on these surfaces.

Before you put down your carpets, go over the floor carefully and set any nail heads that might cause damage. Also sand down any rough spots on the floor.

* * *

Iron insect screens around porches should be given a coat of paint or varnish at the end of the summer to prevent them rusting.

Copper screening should be coated to prevent it staining the adjoining woodwork.

Check over the condition of the smoke pipe from furnace to chimney carefully before putting the furnace into operation. Small holes in the pipe can be filled with iron cement, but if the pipe is badly rusted—replace it.

Be sure that the joint where the pipe enters the chimney is sealed tight with mortar, asbestos cement or furnace cement.

Formula for a distinguished wardrobe: Uncluttered simplicity plus just a touch of drama. The case in point is a featherlight suit (left) starring flannel in a two-tone role. A face-framing collar is the focal point of the lined jacket topping a slender skirt that can be paired off with blouses and sweater-soft jackets. The collarless two-piecer on the right is easily transplantable from country to town to travel via clever accessory changes.

Must Accept Invitations From In-law
No Way to Escape Despite Aversion to Sloppiness

By EMILY POST

A reader today asks me: "How does one decline an invitation to dinner by a member of one's immediate family? I am referring to my sister-in-law who is a very sloppy housekeeper, and I just can't bring myself to eat in her house.

"Not only is her place very untidy, but her dishes and silverware look half washed. I certainly don't want to cause dissension in the family but my stomach just can't take it. I most certainly hope you have a solution to my problem."

Answer: I'm very sorry but the answer is that you have to "take it" — you can't possibly do otherwise without causing dissension in the family.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just started a new job and have been told by one of the secretaries that it is not correct when writing to a man who has an official title, such as president, vice-president, etc., to prefix his name with Mr.

I have never before heard of this and would like to know if this omission of "Mr." is a new rule?

Answer: Not at all, you address him as "Mr. John Smith, Pres."

Dear Mrs. Post. When I was very young I ran away and was married. When my parents found out about it they had the marriage annuled. The marriage lasted three days.

That was over 10 years ago and I doubt whether anyone remembers it. Now I am going to be married to a very fine young man and would like to have a real wedding with bridal dress and veil and all the trimmings.

Will you please tell me if this would be proper under the circumstances?

Answer: As your first marriage lasted three days, you cannot wear a bridal veil or orange blossoms but you can wear a white bridal dress and a wreath.

Try It
Act Out Barber Shop Stunt

It seems that in the fall of the year I get requests for stunts. Here is one of the stunts which we have used over and over again in camp and it always gets laughs.

Another good part of this stunt is that it only requires two people, and this is important in groups which are not too large Many times there are too few people in the audience after the actors are chosen.

You will need to plan on this stunt ahead of time in order to get the props for it. The actors are the barber, who is just out of barber school and who is very absent minded, and his "victim."

The customer comes into the shop with a huge head of hair and a mustache. The barber is so happy to see him.

He puts the man in the chair and searches for his cloth to cover him while the customer glares. The barber uses hedge clippers to clip the hair and pulls out pieces of it. The hair can be sections of rope or wads of old false Halloween hair.

He accidentally lets the clippers slip and clips off the man's mustache. (False hair). He then tries to shave the rest of it off and lathers his face with soapsuds put on him with a huge brush.

Let him oil the man's hair with an oil can, spray him with a spray gun, shave him with a rubber dagger. Get the right actors and be prepared to roar.

IF full face and figure—

Avoid derby-like crown, lavel pose down on the forehead. A deep crown, a tiny brim broken to show the hairline and frame your face.

Mrs. A. F. Crowns set the trend in new hats—rounded, derby-like crowns and deep square crowns with a minimum of brim. To go with these, cashmere shawls, plain or plaid, offer a new costume wraplet.

Gal Banker Emphasizes Friendliness
Believes Personal Touch Is Important in Finance

By DOROTHY ROE

Women, says a woman banker, often make the best bankers.

This may be because they have had long experience with stretching a dollar, guarding a piggy bank and wrestling with the grocery budget.

Also, women take a realistic view of money. Men are likely to talk of it in large round numbers, adding a few digits to make things sound good.

Women will announce the price of a dress as $12.98, and men will describe it as "somewhere under $15." That extra $2.02 means a pair of stockings and a manicure to a woman, but to a man it's lot worth talking about.

It's an attitude of mind, says Ann Javits, one of the first women in America to hold an executive position in a metropolitan bank. Miss Javits, vice president of the Cimmercial State Bank Co. of New York, has been with this institution for 29 years.

She started in 1924 as a secretary. She worked in practically every department before her advancement to assistant vice president in 1951, and this year to vice president and manager of the personal loan division. Says she:

"Big business is people. That's what it always has meant to me. I always have tried to make personal contact with as many customers of the bank as possible.

"I can tell more in five minutes of personal conversation with a man than I can by pages of credit references. You have to bank on character."

During her long career in banking Miss Javits has stressed the personal element. She explains:

"Too many people think of banking as a cold, impersonal business. Actually it should be the exact opposite. A bank must deal with people and invest in character if it is to succeed. A handshake and a greeting from an officer of the bank can mean more than an annual report to the average depositor."

Today Miss Javits passes on every application for personal loans that comes into any of the branches of her bank. Many are for small amounts, and these are the ones she considers most important. She says:

"It's not the big businessman who wants a $5,000 loan to take care of an emergency shipment who is most likely to remember the service he gets.

Child Cannot Be Termed Cruel When He's Only 4

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

He is 4 years old. His 2-year-old sister is a friend of Mrs. D.'s little girl.

The other day they were playing together in the yard when he came by with his dump truck. It was loaded with his sister's heavy wooden blocks.

She wanted one — and grabbed it. He snatched it from her and with it, struck her across the face, splitting her lip.

There followed screams, blood, panic and a spanking. Later, when he came calling on Mrs. D., she slammed the door in his face.

"He is a cruel child," she writes me. "His tantrums so frighten his sister that she hides in her crib till they're over. He's a menace to my youngster, but his mother has no control over him and I don't know what to do . . ."

We might try opening the door to him instead of slamming it in his face.

At 4, we cannot be called cruel. We just don't have the experience for cruelty. When we are enraged, we may split sister's lip, but we simply don't possess the imagination to evaluate what we have done.

So, instead of spanking us, grownups try to help evaluate. If they love us, they open our infant minds most carefully to realization.

For though they recognize that it's physically shocking to our sister to get a wooden block in the face, they also understand that we are emotionally shocked by reactions to our impulse.

They see that we are utterly bewildered by the screams, blood and excitement we've created.

They know that these sensational results can fill us with such confused terror of ourselves that we, not our sister, may be the ones to suffer the more serious scare.

Therefore, under such difficult circumstances, the adults who love us try to remain as composed as possible. They don't spank us for something we can't appreciate because they don't want to add to our terror, but to release us from it.

The little boy who came knocking at Mrs. D.'s door did not bring menace with him, but an unheard cry for comfort from terror of himself.

Soap, Water, Cloth Remove Evidence

Who-dunnit fans would never leave fingerprints behind! But little sticky fingers would — specially on your good dining room table. A quick light job with a sudsy cloth will take these marks off.

Wipe off with a clean cloth wrung out in clear water. Then dry well and apply a fresh new coat of furniture polish. You'll be pleased with the results.

Boy's Family Relations Are Strained Because of His Sneaking Out With Girl

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm having trouble with my mother because I have a girl. And I'm having trouble with my girl because of my mother. I'm caught in the middle, and it's a mess.

"I've been going steady for three months now and my girl and I are crazy about each other. But my parents think I'm too young for a steady girl and if they knew I had one they'd do anything to break us up. And that would hurt and embarrass me.

"They know who she is, but they don't know of all the times we're together, and they'd have fits if they knew. So I have to sneak.

"I give excuses for going out, have phoney reasons for not coming in when my parents tell me to. There are ruckuses galore at home, and I seem to take it out on my girl by being jealous, distrustful and suspicious.

"And she says if I keep that up we'll break up. That I don't want to happen. Can you please help me get out of this fix?"

If your mother wou ld cheerfully lift the lid and graciously invite you to spend every waking minute with your girl and stay out as late as you please, that would fix things, wouldn't it? And if your girl would knuckle under and do nothing to arouse your suspicions, that would fix things, too, wouldn't it?

But what are you going to do to fix things yourself? Are you willing to compromise with your heart's desires in order to ease the strain at home and abroad?

Well, the first thing is to cope with your parents' idea that you're too young to have a steady girl. Review that subject with them a " let the cool sweet breezes of reason blow through it.

The" might wind up granting that's it's possible for you to like one special girl very much indeed. They might even allow as how it's possible you might want to have two or three dates during a week with her. They might even revise the curfew schedule when they know what's involved in the evening's plans.

But unless they know, they're going to go right on being distrustful and suspicious of you. And the ruckuses will go on happening.

Get things open and honest with them first, then your own sneaking can stop. When your own on-the-sly stuff is over, you'll stop suspecting your girl friend of same.

You've been accusing her of the very "crime" you've been committing. Which is certainly someone in a glass house throwing stones.

But you can't expect your parents or your girl to make compromises, unless you're willing to make them yourself. Your obsession with your girl has led you into this fix. And you've kept it secret and on the sly.

With a very firm hand, air it in the sunshine. Limit the times you see her to a number that's reasonable to your parents. Get busy at all the other wholesome things that interest you.

Be honest with yourself, your family, and your girl, and you'll make peace.

Car Traveling in United States Is Broadening

By CAROL LANE

Have you ever thought of utilizing a trip to get acquainted with your neighbors? This may strike you as a novel idea, but thousands of Americans take friendship field trips every year.

When I use the word "neighbors," I don't mean your next-door neighbors, but rather those who live in other towns, cities and states. Neighborliness doesn't imply contact only with those people in your immediate proximity, but with those who, though far removed by distance, are closely akin to you in inteersts and hobbies.

Webster has a simple definition for "neighborliness." He defines it as "friendliness," and this is what I mean, too.

When I travel, I am as interested in the people in a new community as I am in the sights. A highlight of many of my trips is exchanging recipes with housewives from Maine to California.

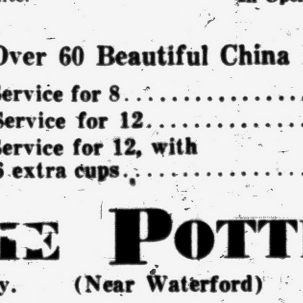

Fishermen the country over search out local anglers and exchange pointers on flys, rods and reels and regale one another with tales of the "one that got away."

An elderly lady of my acquaintance is an enthusiastic amateur violinist. She always takes her violin along on trips. When she arrives in a community, she looks up the local instrumentalists and joins them in long, pleasant evenings of chamber music.

I know another woman who collects salt and pepper shakers from all over the country. While at home she corresponds with collectors in other states. When she travels, she looks them up and thus makes new friends and neighbors away from home.

Traveling brings home the fact that your neighbors aren't restricted to the people who live next door. Your neighbors in interest may be across the continent.

Round Rugs Will Solve Room Dividing Problems

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Now that one room so often serves the purposes of two rooms, the round rug is an artful problem solver.

It sets a grouping of furniture apart from the rest of the room, ties the several pieces of furniture together and gives the grouping unity on an island of its own.

Here William Palhmann, A. I. D., uses a round rug for a comfortable grouping of upholstered furniture in the music-living room he designed for the famous Hardwoods Exhibit at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, to contrast with the handsome patterned teak floor.

Round rugs are expecially liked to set the dining table and chairs apart in living-dining rooms, and they can be any size and made from any carpet.

Decide what size the round rug should be according to the area of floor occupied by the furniture grouping.

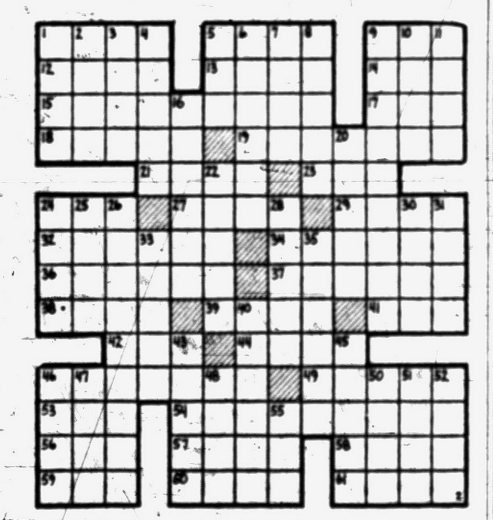

Take the measurement to the carpet section of the store and choose the carpet — the carpet workroom will cut and bind the round rug by the same methods used for any other rug.

Prepare for Rain

Before the rainy weather starts an emergency hunt for rubbers and overshoes, scout the closets. Wash rubbers. Brush and vacuum pile-lined overshoes. Clip the mates together with clothespins.

Motion to Dismiss Reds' Case Denied

DETROIT (AP) — A defense motion to dismiss the case against six alleged top state Communists was denied yesterday by Federal Judge Frank A. Picard.

The trial will be held Oct. 27 for the six, accused of violating the Smith Act and advocating and conspiring to teach the overthrow of the government.

Judge Picard dropped three counts against three of the defendants, William Allan, Philip Schatz, and Saul Wellman, on grounds that the alleged acts took place more than three years before the indictment was drawn.

Besides the three, the other defendants named in the grand jury indictments are: Mrs. Helen Winter, Thomas Dewitt Dennis Jr., and Nat Ganely.

Foresees Split Over U. S. Role

Sen. Humphrey Thinks Group on Federal-State Relations Will Disagree

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), a member of President Eisenhower's commission on federal-state relations, said today he foresees a strong possibility the group could not agree unanimously on its recommendations.

Humphrey said in an interview the discussion at the first meeting Wednesday showed a "sharp conflict of opinion" in the 25-member Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

"Some members are strong states righters who feel the federal government should turn back to the state and local government many functions," he said. "Some have the opposite view."

The Minnesotan said, in reply to a question, that it was quite possible there would be one or more minority reports.

Humphrey said some persons want the commission to recommend that the federal government drop activities which others view as important to social and economic progress.

He said it might be possible for the group to propose some eliminations. But he added it was his view in general the federal government had an important role to play in furnishing services the people need.

"I think that it is not so important who does certain things which government must do, as it is that they get done," he commented.

"We are living in a vital, dynamic world, with expanding needs and greater challenges.

"Many times the answer is an integrated approach, with all levels of government playing a part. We must think of the needs of the nation as a whole and how they can best be met."

As to specific questions before the commission, Humphrey said he was dubious about the proposal to drop the federal tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and turn over all highway financing to the states. The conference of state governors has advocated this. Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), also a commission member, has called this an issue for serious study by the group.

As to the federal public housing program, which some sources have indicated might come under fire in the commission, Humphrey said he was convinced Uncle Sam would have to stay in this field.

"The low-rent public housing program is only a minor part of the drive to provide good housing for all of the people and to eliminate slums," he said, "but it is an important part."

Humphrey said he doubted whether the group could finish its work by next March 1, the date for its final report fixed in the law which created it. He said an extension very likely would be voted early in the next congressional session.

Pontiac Unites to Put Force in Fire Prevention Week

Groups to Push Drive Oct. 4-10

Fire Chief Spearheads Plan to Urge Residents to Check Danger Spots

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and the Association of Insurance Agents are joining forces with the Pontiac Fire Department to carry the national fire prevention drive next week into every Pontiac home.

National Fire Prevention Week has been proclaimed from Oct. 4 to 10 by President Eisenhower.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder, spearheading the local campaign, says that although 1952 fire losses throughout the United States hit an all time high, statistics gathered so far this year indicate that the country is piling up a worse record for 1953.

He emphasizes human carelessness as the greatest fire hazard.

In attempting to cut down further fire losses in Pontiac, the Chamber of Commerce is distributing check-list blanks to over 10,000 school children. Maynard Johnson, chairman of the committee, said parents will be requested to return the blanks which will be used in fire prevention studies.

Pontiac factories will circulate about 35,000 blanks to employes, according to Robert J. St. Clair, manager of the Chamber.

The association again will sponsor the annual fire prevention essay contest in Pontiac schools. St. Clair said the topic this year will be "How to prevent fire in my home."

Students during the week will be put through several fire drills in schools at the request of the fire department.

Posters appearing throughout the city, urging everyone to take an active part in the crusade, have been prepared by Chamber members.

The National Fire Prevention Association, Schroeder said, reports a life loss of 12,535 and a property loss of $896 million in 1952.

According to the national group 90 per cent of the fires that are taking a high toll of life and property could have been prevented.

"We of the fire department," Schroeder concluded, "are ready at all times to fight fire for the community—but we'd rather work with the community and prevent fires. Let us try to make every week Fire Prevention Week."

Italian Deputies Start Fistfight

Foreign Policy Debate Interrupted as Fascists Tangle With Reds

ROME (AP)—A staid debate on foreign policy erupted today into a fist-swinging brawl between Comumnists and pro-Fascists in the Italian Chamber of Deputies.

While bells rang futilely for order and shouts of "criminal . . . tool of the Russians!" echoed in the hall, members of the two parties poured over the benches in hot-tempered combat.

It all started with the words of a Christian Democrat deputy who said, "We must entrust the most delicate diplomatic tasks to career men—not politicians."

From the Communist side, Deputy Giancarlo Pajetta intoned, "Such as Anfuso."

Deputy Filippo Anfuso, Italian ambassador to Germany under Mussolinio and member of the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) shouted, "You're right!"

Communist Deputy Pajetta cried, "Shut up! You sold out to the Germans!"

"Slave of the Russians!" returned Anfuso.

The presiding officer for the day, Christian Democrat Giovanni Leone, said "Gentlemen, please . . ."

Someone cried, "Criminal!"

At this the Communists and MSI deputies surged over the benches with fists flying. Attendants helped restore order in a few minutes. Business resumed quietly.

Then a hollow voice was heard: "But Anfuso is still a criminal." And it started all over, with the bell ringing and fists swinging. The fight ended when Leone threatened the combatants with fines.

Bruises were reported minor.

Adlai Pays Near $1,000 for Delinquent Taxes

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Although Adlai E. Stevenson's name appears on a list of delinquent taxpayers in Lake County, his 1952 property taxes of approximately $1,000 have been paid.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, whose name was among several hundred property owners who owed 1952 taxes, was listed on the document as owing $998.18 for his 70-acre estate near Chicago.

However, Hugo L. Schneider Jr., Lake County treasurer, said the former Illinois governor had paid his taxes between the time the delinquent lists were sent to the printer and the time of their publication.

Pitching Horseshoes

Brings Up Question: Is Stealing Ever Right?

By BILLY ROSE

I've been around Broadway for 30 years, and there aren't 30 people on this balmy boulevard I would trust as far as I can throw the theater in which I'm writing this piece.

One of them, strangely enough, is a man who once robbed another man of $1,500.

Before you tell me it's silly to trust a thief, let BILLY ROSE me brief you on the details of the crime. . . .

Time: 1923, during the bad joke called Prohibition.

Place: A cabaret named the Backstage Club on West 56th street.

The Thief: A straggle-haired waiter known as "Pops."

The Victim: A gent whom, in lieu of profanity, we'll call Terry Lake.

First, a few words about the Backstage Club. I opened it late in 1922, and when it was jam-packed it seated all of 80 people.

Was it a classy joint? I wouldn't say so. Willie Rhinelander Stewart used to drop in once in a while, and so did F. Scott Fitzgerald.

But the drop-ins also included bums like Arnold Rothstein and Waxey Gordon.

The biggest spender among the regulars, however, was a minor hoodlum named Terry Lake.

Only two people at the Backstage Club had any use for him—I, its greedy little owner, and one of my chorines—a button-nosed blonde named Vivian Clark.

The night before Terry was robbed, Vivian keeled over in the middle of a tap-and-torso routine.

One of the waiters carried her into my office, and when a doctor examined her a few minutes later he said he was afraid the girl had tuberculosis. She needed at least a year in a sanitarium.

When we asked what this would cost, he said his best guess was about $2,000.

"How's about takin' up a collection for her?" said a musician.

Pops, the waiter, was designated to do the honors, and when the money and pledges were toted up there was about $250 in the kitty.

"I'll match it," I said. "Wish I could do better, but the 'protection' gets most of what the place is taking in."

"Vivian's been seein' a lot of Terry Lake," said the coat-room girl. "He could give us the rest of the dough and never miss it."

When Terry came in the following night, Pops tackled him as he was checking his coat. "Vivian is sick and has to go away," he said. "We're passin' the hat and thought you'd like to chip in."

The hoodlum took out a wad of money and handed Pops a five-dollar bill. "Always glad to help a pal," he said.

That night, as per usual, Terry sent a lot of wine around the room and took on a pretty good cargo of lightning bugs himself. By 4 a. m. he was a few swallows from passing out.

Had Pops been a violent man, he probably would have rolled him at this point. Instead, he walked up and handed the sauce-silly bum his check, which came to $460.

"Cheap at half a price," mumbled Terry as he threw five one-hundred-dollar bills on the table. "Keeps change." Saying which, he passed out.

Pops took the money to the cashier but he kept Terry's tab in his hand. The cashier noticed this and looked over at me. I looked over at Pops. "I'm going out for a walk," I said. "I'll be back in time to lock up."

Half an hour later Pops shook Terry awake and handed him the same tab. Terry again threw five one-hundreds on the table. "Drinksh f' the' house," he said, and went back to sleep.

Pops collected the tab twice more before we closed, and when Terry finally wobbled out he didn't know why the band was playing "Ain't We Got Fun."

Nor did he notice that Pops was a little tanked up on the drinks the employes had been buying him.

Next day we all went down to the station and wished Vivian luck as she left for Saranac. . . .

This story poses a pretty question: Is it ever right to steal?

According to Pops and Vivian, it is.

Me, I'm hiding behind the Fifth Amendment.

Tour Pontiac Press Plant

High School Journalists View Latest Equipment

Pontiac High School journalists had a chance to examine one of the newest pieces of typesetting equipment in the United States when they toured the Pontiac Press yesterday afternoon.

The group, which visited the Press in conjunction with National Newspaper Week, saw a big new Intertype in action in the Pontiac Press composing room.

One of two machines of its kind in the state, the new Intertype can set types from 18 point (¼ of an inch high) all the way up to 60 point (five-sixths of an inch high).

Thirty-six point type is the largest type other automatic type casters are able to handle.

The new Intertype also features:

1. An automatic type spacer, eliminating manual spacing of each line;

2. A saw attachment which cuts type slugs to any desired length before they leave the machine;

3. And an extra wide "magazine rack" which holds up to 10 different faces of type. Most other machines are equipped to carry but three faces.

The Press was host to 17 teachers and staff members of Pontiac High School's Tomahawk, Quiver and print shop at a noon luncheon at the Waldron Hotel before touring Press offices and plant.

The group included teachers Robert Beauchamp, Mrs. Betty Fournier and Theodore Carlson, advisers for the Tomahawk, Quiver and print shop respectively.

Tomahawk staff members at the luncheon were Diana Pierson, Pat Dombroski, Margaret Smith, Louis Schimmel, Bud Osmun, John Moreau, Mark Keavy and Bill Bryant.

Quiver staffers attending included Dessalee Temple, Valarie Durnen, Sandra Hodge, Carol Wortman, Sharon Hubbell, Frances Hunt and Jerry Scott.

North Country Ready for Fall 'Color Tours'

TRAVERSE CITY — All over this hardwood territory of northwestern Michigan, signs bearing the legend "Color Tour Route" are being nailed to trees and rail fences for the annual October Color Tours.

The entire month will be devoted to viewing the outdoors in its dramatic display of autumn coloration. Road commissions of Benzie, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Leelanau and Kalkaska counties have surveyed the routes which will carry beauty-seeking tourists from one flaming vista to another and are now marking these roads.

While some of the routes are only 27 miles long, Leelanau county has a 75-mile route laid out.

Already the tips of the maples along the Boardman Valley are displaying the first blush of color which will spread like wild fire across the hills and valleys of northwestern Michigan within the next two weeks.

The condition of the foliage assures visitors four week ends in which to see the countryside flaming with the reds and yellows of the maples, the browns of the beeches, the bright yellows of the aspens and the deeper red carpet of the sumac.

Guide maps will be furnished all visitors, directing them to the various color routes and containing detailed information on regional highways.

Stars and Stripes Offers 3-D Edition Next Sunday

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The Stars and Stripes will distribute a three-dimensional edition and special viewers to 120,000 subscribers in Europe on Sunday, the editor-in-chief, Lt. Col. Arthur L. Jorgenson, announced today.

He said it is believed to be the first 3-D edition by a newspaper on this continent. The U. S. Army daily will include five pages of 3-D pictures, together with an article on various third-dimensional techniques. It has a reading public of nearly 500,000 Americans in Europe.

Army Suggests Boost in Draft

Wants 35,000 a Month Starting in January to Give Steady Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has recommended that draft calls be raised to about 35,000 a month starting in January, it was learned today.

The recommendation is now on the desk of Assistant Defense Secretary John A. Hannah. Hannah, the Defense Department's manpower specialist, told a reporter he expects to reach a decision on the Army's proposals within "the next few weeks."

Draft calls have been running at the rate of 23,000 monthly since July. They are presently scheduled to continue at that rate until next July when they are due to jump to 45,000 a month.

The sharp jump in draft calls scheduled for next year stems from the heavy turnover of Army personnel every other year established by the two-year draft term.

The Army, which drafted large numbers of men in 1950 and 1952, now faces the problem of replacing some 500,000 men in 1954-55.

Hannah wants to break this cycle system in the turnover of personnel, and asked the Army to work out a plan for a steady supply of draftees. The plan to call 35,000 a month beginning in January was the Army's solution.

Hannah pointed out that the Army would be able to operate with "greater efficiency" and consequent savings in money and manpower if the same number of trainees were taken in each month. At present, the Army's training facilities must be geared to the peak periods, and then lie partially idle during the months of low draft calls.

Scaling 94-Foot Ladder Test for Job Seekers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To prove their ability to stand the altitude 90 candidates for jobs as city painters were asked to climb a 94-foot fire ladder yesterday.

Only 53 scaled the ladder to the roof of a building and came down the fire escape. The jobs pay $396 a month.

Road Board Sued

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—A $25,000 damage suit has been filed against the Isabella County Road Commission by the estate of the late Gerald F. Wilcox who died Feb. 12 when his car plunged into the Chippewa River. The suit accuses the county of negligence in not sanding approaches to a bridge.

Polio Toll Down

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Washtenaw County polio toll stands at 46 cases, 10 less than reported last year at this time.

LAST CHANCE—This Oakland County lake, the last to be featured by the Pontiac Press, is located almost entirely in one township and was named after a statesman of the last century. Covering more than 1,250 acres, its shores are home to an estimated 7,500 people. A river flowing through it keeps its water level relatively level. See identification of airview photo on page 38.

'Where's That Paper?'

BY WALTER KIERNAN

This is National Newspaper Week and every editor secretly hopes for at least one letter saying, "Thanks for giving us a fresh look at the world every 24 hours."

What he'll probably get is one letter starting . . . "I know you won't print this in your paper but . . ."

Or another reading "I wouldn't have your paper in my house again" . . . that one will be signed "Fair Play."

But to one whose pulse still quickens to the clatter of the press there is still nothing quite like the marvel of the daily newspaper.

There is no other product put together in such a short space of time, distributed so quickly, used so widely and succeeded so fast as the daily paper.

Any city that ever has been without its newspaper for even one day for any reason knows the emptiness, the sudden realization of loss.

Not too many persons will sit down and write, "Thanks for your newspaper . . . we'd be lost without it" to an editor or publisher but if it doesn't hit the stands or the doorstep on time, they'll hear about it, fast.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines, which had been testing respirators, did the first work on gas masks for the army in World War I.

Three Witness Accident, No Two Stories Tally

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Police had three witnesses to a hit-run accident yesterday.

One told officers 45-year-old Victor Coppers was struck by a taxi.

A second witness said Coppers was hit by a truck and semi-trailer.

A third saw the whole thing. He told Officer Leroy Jacobsen it was a black sedan.

The victim, who didn't see what hit him, said he was crossing the street to catch a ride. He said he did see the traffic light and it was in his favor.

He was reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

The U. S. Census reports that coal heats half the homes in the Middle Atlantic states.

Old Glory Stuck at Top of 85-Foot Flagpole

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Old Glory still waves proudly over Lewiston's Pioneer Park, and city officials are trying to correct the situation.

The U. S. flag is stuck atop an 85-foot pole. It's been waving gloriously up there all summer. And the last steeplejack who climbed the pole told a councilman he "wouldn't go up there again for anything."

The fire department's ladder truck was out, too—its ladder will only reach up 65 feet.

The City Council has decided to ask a local power company for the loan of a lineman with nerve.

Humus in the soil helps hold nitrogen and moisture.

Guardian Angel Helped, Says Hobart Doctor

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—A Hobart doctor believes a badly injured Roman Catholic priest has a guardian angel.

Dr. Jake Braun reported that the Rev. Richard Francis Dolan of Oklahoma City was brought into the hospital "as close to death as a man could get."

That was two weeks ago following an automobile accident. The doctor today said the priest is alive and "downright jolly."

Dr. Braun added: "All I can say is there was surely a guardian angel around him."

Father Dolan suffered a crushed chest, punctured lung, crushed left arm, right hand, severe facial cuts, loss of blood and shock.

Dr. Braun said "We thought he was a goner, but after the first 24 hours he regained his faculties and got downright jolly" despite losing the injured arm to amputation.

Acheson Backs Talk With Reds

Says Negotiation With Soviet Is Both Possible and Desirable

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson says negotiation with the Soviet Union is both possible and desirable "and may—but only may—be productive."

Acheson, in his first major speech since leaving office in January, says the main principle that must be followed in any negotiation with the Soviets is that:

"Never more than at present is the preservation of the (Western) coalition so essential. To sustain it and to strengthen it must be the foundation of our foreign policy."

Acheson adds that "The central point around which all else revolves is the health and strength and cohesiveness of the coalition."

The former Democratic Cabinet member spoke last night at a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel dinner given in his honor by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

He received the Woodrow Wilson Award for Distinguished Service, which is presented by the Foundation at irregular intervals for "meritorious service to the cause of liberal thought, public welfare and peace through justice."

The foundation, established through public subscription in 1922 to perpetuate President Wilson's ideas of world organization and international cooperation, gave Acheson a plaque. The citation praised his foreign policy.

Adlai E. Stevenson spoke at the dinner in praise of Acheson's work in the State Department. The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate said that on his recent trip to Europe and Asia he saw at first hand the results of Acheson's actions.

Stevenson said that in this country Acheson "was villified with all the ugly words that deface our political vocabulary," but that he also, was bitterly attacked in Moscow. "His record," Stevenson said, "won him a place, I daresay, among Russian historians as one of their most implacable enemies."

Acheson, without mentioning the Eisenhower administration, advised against cuts in military and foreign aid budgets. He said the Eastern anti-Communist coalition might be made ineffective by budget cuts or destroyed by a harsh attitude toward America's allies.

Acheson took credit to himself and to his "beloved chief"—former President Harry S. Truman—for developing the Western coalition. He claimed the coalition had compelled—the Soviet Union to abandon its policy of aggression and threats of aggression in Europe.

Release Mother Jailed for Acting as FBI Agent

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A young mother charged with impersonating an FBI official has been released from jail to care for her 2½-year-old daughter.

U. S. Judge Carl A. Hatch released Mrs. Lorraine Piacenza, 22, of Harvard, Ill., and set date for trial on the charge for Dec. 2. Her child has been in an Albuquerque nursery since Mrs. Piacenza was arrested last week.

The FBI said she told military police at top-secret Sandia base here she was an FBI agent when they ordered her from a parking space reserved for the provost marshal.

U. S.-ROK Pact Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mutual Security Treaty between the United States and South Korea was signed yesterday, and Secretary of State Dulles voiced a hope it would be ratified early next year by the Senate.

The miracle at your front door

MRS. LAREEN MASON, 40 BENNETT ST.

By BOB CONSIDINE

International News Service Columnist

CAME face to face with a genuine miracle today. Opened the door of my house and there at my feet lay an object which, when unfolded, brought the whole world before my eyes. It was a world of war and peace, high resolve and despair, love and hate, tears and laughter —and it was all there before me.

THIS MIRACULOUS OBJECT was easy to lift. Its leaves were easy to turn. Yet once it had been a massive part of a tree in Canada or Sweden, a tree that had needed years to grow. The tree was felled at the proper moment, stripped of its bark by intricate devices, pulled through forests, transported down rivers, fed into the maw of a mill, mixed with strange chemicals and made into paper.

There were words on these folded sheets of paper I found at my door. And pictures to explain the words. Here, to make these words and pictures visible and enduring, a substance named ink had been introduced—a substance made of a varnish prepared from linseed oil, rosin and soap, to which the proper pigment had been added and the lot ground to a great fineness in a special mill.

THE INFINITE TRAGEDY of war came to me, snug in my home, through the intercession of a reporter who had studied and worked for years to obtain his job, and who drank in his impression only by living with the muddied warriors and sharing their terror and bravery.

His story had been shouted into a crackling field phone, or tapped out in a battered press hostel, and flung across the sea by the confounding miracle of radio.

ONCE IN THE UNITED STATES, it had been further polished and placed on a "printer," and fed electronically to hundreds of outlets at 60 words a minute. Then it had been taken off the machine, edited, interpreted in headlines that contained the exact number of letters and spaces, reduced to metal, pressed against a yielding, pulpy sheet named a matrix, which in turn gave birth to its image in metal, attached to a printing press that cost a million dollars, inked, and wedded to an endless sheet of surging paper.

It had been bound, transported in trucks, trains, planes, earmarked for me for a few pennies, and put at my door by a neighborhood lad.

THE WORLD UNFOLDED. From Moscow there was word that deeply affected me, an intra-mob fight in the Kremlin — where previous machinations had brought to mankind an incomparable scourge, and had caused us of the free world to teeter on the brink of bankruptcy.

Puzzled by the significance of the strife, I turned to a story written by a man who had lived in Russia and who knew the purgers and the purged. And from there to stories of what the great ones had said of all this, in London, Paris, Washington, Ottawa, Mexico City, Melbourne, Manila, Rio De Janeiro, Johannesburg . . .

But there was so much more. There was word of the progress of the latest political revolution in our own country, of changes in the law of the land, the cost of continuing to be a citizen, the cost of a skyscraper and of a pat of butter.

SOME OF MY FUTURE was being shaped by my representatives in Washington and some of it in Korea, and yet I knew it almost instantly —its scope and meaning—and, being a person who employs these representatives by my vote, I could begin to decide then and there whether to dismiss them or retain them in office.

There was news of the atom, our smallest weapon, and of the projected carrier, our largest. The miracle in my hand took me through the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin and showed me the wrath of risen slaves. It let me into the study of Marshal Tito. I was with Adlai Stevenson in Vienna and Dwight Eisenhower in drought-stricken Texas, and with Cambodian Premier Penn Nouth in Saigon. And Marilyn Monroe in Hollywood.

I left London with the Queen of Tonga, and helped lasso a Hereford bull in the streets of Charlotte, N. C. I went to a stylish first night on Broadway, and to a couturier's opening in Paris. Mr. Truman told me why his side had lost last November. "People let demagoguery get the best of them," he snapped at me.

MY BALL CLUB won, my comic hero was saved in the nick of time, my wife learned how to cook and make over the entire house, my two shares of stock would stand the impact of peace, my fear of polio dispelled by gamma globulin, my golf slice could be cured by a change of grip.

ALL THIS, through the miracle I held in my hand (and had come to accept as routine)—MY NEWSPAPER.

Army General to Direct AEC

New Atomic Manager, Kenneth Nichols, Was Pioneer in Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), in a move dramatizing its intensified interest in nuclear weapons, has picked an Army general and A-bomb pioneer as its new general manager.

The commission announced last night the appointment of Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols, who participated in the original, secret "Manhattan District" project which developed and exploded the world's first atomic bomb.

Nichols will succeed Marion W. Boyer as AEC general manager on Nov. 1. The AEC said "arrangements were made with the Department of Defense" to permit Nichols' retirement from military service so he can serve as a civilian.

Nichols has been an Army officer since his West Point graduation in 1929. Ordinarily, general officers come up for retirement after 30 years service or 60 years of age. However, there is a provision allowing retirement after 20 years' service as a commissioned officer.

Boyer came to the commission in 1950 with the understanding that he would return to Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, of which he was a vice president, at the end of three years.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said in a statement that Nichols "was a pioneer among military men engaged in the development of atomic energy in 1942." He commented also that Nichols had a continuous record of accomplishment in key positions in research and development, construction of plants, production, weapons manufacture and military application of atomic energy, along with military planning and weapons development."

The latter reference appeared to have particular significance in light of the AEC's stepped-up program for hydrogen bomb production.

Nichols' experience also includes work on development of guided missiles, including those designed to carry atomic warheads.

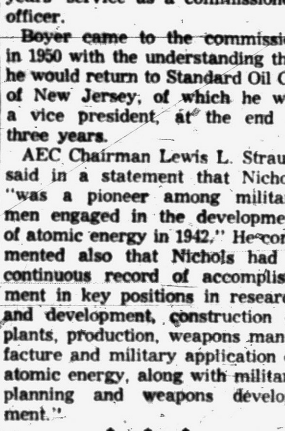

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, where he was born in 1907, he has lived for several years in Washington.

Forger Enters Prison With Clear Conscience

OMAHA (AP)—Wallace Case, 57, was starting a 5-year Nebraska penitentiary sentence today with a clear conscience.

Case yesterday agreed to plead guilty to writing $591.60 in bad checks if detectives would pay back his victims with money Case had in his possession when arrested. Detectives agreed.

The money, more than $1,000, apparently represented gambling winnings, court officials said.

Quite Apparent Reds Aim to Be Boss in North Korea

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The Russians have never intended to get out of North Korea.

Now behind the false front of North Korean independence, there is evidence they not only intend to continue their sway, but also to eliminate even Red Chinese influence there.

All of which is in a pattern with their actions toward their European satellites and East Germany, and makes just so much Red propaganda their maneuverings in the United Nations and in their so-called diplomatic notes to Washington, London and Paris.

When American soldiers drove into Wonsan on North Korea's East Coast in late 1950, they found that railroad stations, streets and public buildings all were identified in Russian as well as Korean.

North Korea is the industrial half of the Korean peninsula, rich in water power and minerals, and the Russians had not been idle in their years of occupation after World War II.

North Korea already had been built into the Communist Far Eastern industrial complex.

Wonsan was a booming port and an important railroad link between north and south. Just to the north were the twin industrial towns of Hamhung and Hungnam.

Farther still to the north was the port of Chongjin and only about 150 miles away, Vladivostok, Russia's vital base in Siberia.

Now, as the United Nations strive for a free and united Korea over Communists obstructions, come two other developments.

One is the return to Pyongyang of North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung from Moscow.

He said the Moscow conferences had "an important political significance," and — of more importance — he announced Communist determination to take over Korea "without the interference of U. S. imperialism."

As of the signing of the Korean truce, North Korean's civilian population was estimated at about 3,000,000 as opposed to about 25,000,000 South Koreans.

Hence, as opposed to the militantly anti-Communist South Koreans, the Communists obviously could not unite the country in a free election.

Obviously, too, then, Kim proposed his unification only at the expense of a United Nations withdrawal — either militarily or at the conference table.

And he proposed to do it with Russian help.

The second development also had to do with Kim's visit to Moscow.

The Russians announced they were making immediately available to North Korea approximately $250,000,000 for reconstruction.

Russian help will include everything from consumer goods, to power stations to technical advisers.

Russia's economic hold on North Korea effectively eliminates Red China, which can offer no such assistance and can only place her soldiers there to die for the benefit of the Russians.

The Chinese must also wonder why the North Koreans get $250,000,000 immediately while they, with problems just as pressing, get only a promise of credits worth $300,000,000 over a period of several years.

T-H Law Changes Won't Work: Lewis

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis' union says President Eisenhower is seeking what it calls an impossible goal: Taft-Hartley law changes "that will pacify labor but not inflame big business."

An editorial in the United Mine Workers Journal, published yesterday, declared that election next year of a Congress sympathetic to unions was the only way to insure "labor's program for getting rid of T-H oppression."

It was the first such comment from the union which Lewis heads since the T-H dispute between Eisenhower and Martin P. Durkin. Durkin quit as secretary of labor, contending Eisenhower reneged on a promise to back 19 proposed T-H changes. Eisenhower denied ever breaking his word with an associate.

Dynamite Mill Town 2nd Time in 5 Days

PITKIN, La. (AP)—The second dynamite explosion in five days last night rocked this community, eight miles from the strike-torn paper mill town of Elizabeth.

State police said the blast took place 200 yards from the Pitkin High School gymnasium where about 500 persons were attending a fair and rodeo. No one was reported injured.

State police said the dynamite apparently was thrown from a moving car into a ditch near a residence.

The town of Elizabeth and surrounding areas have been the scene of violence since September, 1952, when AFL employes of the Calcasieu Paper Co., and the jointly-owned Southern Industries, Inc., walked off their jobs in a contract dispute.

Barkley Admits Dems Mention Him for Senate

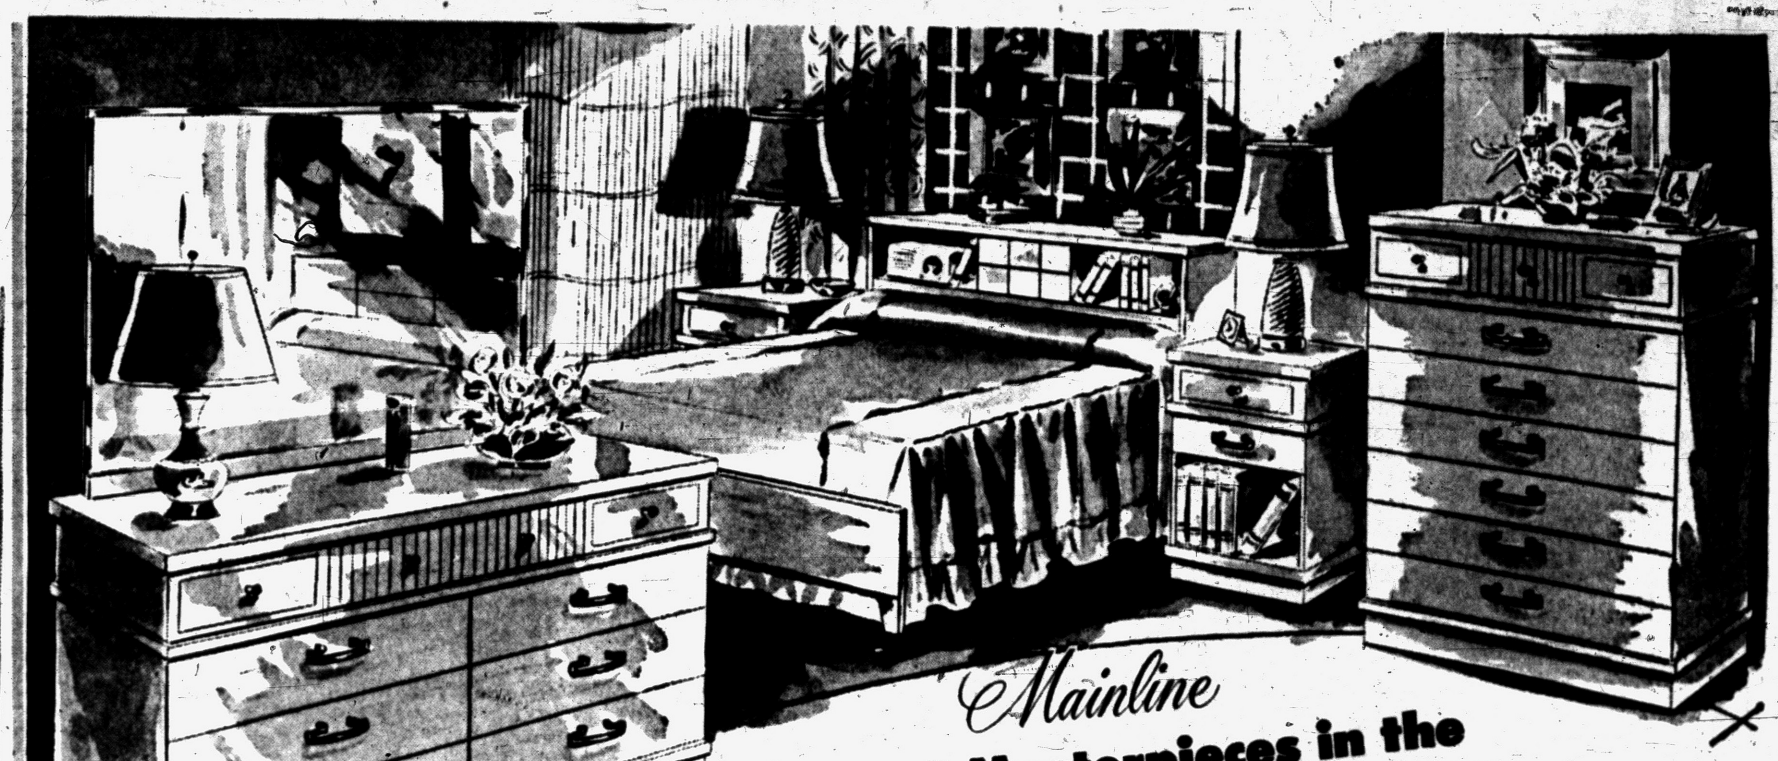

DETROIT (AP) — Former Vice President Alben Barkley acknowledged yesterday that Democratic circles were mentioning him as a possible candidate for Kentucky's U. S. Senator, but he wouldn't make an announcement "at the present time."

He spoke at an Israel bond drive here, at which some $65,000 worth of the bonds were sold. He said that an independent, self-sufficient Israel would be a democratic bulwark in the Middle East.

Construction Worker Killed in 6-Story Fall

DETROIT (UP)—James Jewell, 26, a construction worker, was killed Thursday when he fell to the ground from the sixth floor of the city-county building.

Fellow workers said Jewell was lifting facing stones into place with a hand derrick. A stone began to fall, Jewell jammed the brake on the derrick and the quick stop pulled him from the edge of the building.

Old Grads, Guests Return to Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Homecoming activities at the Naval Academy got underway today for more than 2,100 old grads and their guests.

A special afternoon parade by 3,600 midshipmen, a reception and a dinner were on today's program. Open house will be held tomorrow morning and in the afternoon comes the weekend highlight, Navy's football clash with Dartmouth.

Among the old grads are Admirals Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations.

West Berlin Files Past Reuter Bier in Square

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's common folk trudged slowly past a simple coffin on City Hall Square today in silent tribute to their departed champion against Communist tyranny, Mayor Ernst Reuter.

Long lines waited patiently for the one-second trip past the closed coffin. They filed past at the rate of 2,500 an hour.

The body will lie in state until tomorrow afternoon, when funeral services are expected to draw more than a million persons to the City Square.

Stevenson Suggested as College President

BALTIMORE (AP)—The name of Adlai E. Stevenson, democratic presidential candidate, is among two dozen suggested to the Maryland Board of Regents for choosing a new university president.

Board Chairman William P. Cole Jr. made the disclosure yesterday and said the group has not actually yet considered the suggestions or negotiated with anyone for the job. He says he expects "Something concrete in a couple of months."

Dr. H. C. Byrd is retiring as head of the university.

$25 Check From Widow Keeps League in Black

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (AP)—The Christy Mathewson Juvenile Baseball League ended its season $14.60 in the hole.

Then in the mail came a check for $25. It was from the widow of the famed New York Giants pitcher.

Mrs. Mathewson now lives in Lewisburg, Pa., where the great right hander started his sports career at Bucknell University. He died in a sanitorium here in 1925.

Young Husband in Clinton Jail

'Tired of Wedded Life' After 3 Months, Bashes Wife With Bat

ST. JOHNS (AP)—A young bridegroom, "fed up with married life," faced an attempted murder charge today following a baseball bat attack on his 16-year-old bride of three months.

Delmar Leffler Jr., 19, was held in Clinton County Jail here after sobbing out his story over the telephone to sheriff's deputies and state police yesterday.

The victim, Mrs. Betty Leffler, suffered a fractured skull and was in critical condition in Clinton Memorial Hospital.

State police said the young husband told them he had no reason for the brutal beating of his wife, except that "I was fed up with married life."

Police rushed to Leffler's home, near Laingsburg, after receiving the youth's call. They found his wife lying in an upstair's bedroom.

Clinton County Sheriff Percy Patterson said Leffler told of knocking his wife down with a baseball bat and then hitting her "four or five times more."

The young husband, Patterson added, said he had made up his mind to kill his wife yesterday while going to work at the General Motors Oldsmobile Division plant in nearby Lansing.

Leffler was quoted as saying that he tried twice to buy a gun but didn't have enough money.

The sheriff said the youth told him he had intended to shoot his wife and then himself.

The couple were married June 20.

Seaway Group Boosts Plan to Dredge Rivers

DETROIT (AP) — The proposal to dredge the Detroit, St. Clair and Saut Ste. Marie Rivers to a 27-foot depth got a boost yesterday from the directors of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association.

The rivers would need to be dredged to accommodate ocean-going ships that would arrive with the proposed St. Lawrence seaway, the directors pointed out at their semi-annual session here.

Congress had appropriated $70,000 for a survey of the dredging project which is now being made by the U.S. corps of engineers.

The directors said that they hoped authorizing legislation for the $100 million project would be obtained on the completion of the survey.

They also resolved to continue support of dam building by the state of New York. They said that it would permit the U.S. and Canada or either to complete the seaway.

Detroiters at the meeting were: Foster Winter, treasurer of J. L. Hudson Co., and Gerald J. Lynch, executive staff member of Ford Motor Co.

LEONARD FROM THE AIR—The above airplane view of Leonard shows the P. O. & N. Division of the Grand Trunk Railroad circling its way through the village.

Located in Addison Township, near the northeast corner of Oakland County, the village was named in honor of Leonard Rowland, one of its first business men.

The community started its growth when the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railway was built through there 70 odd years ago. That area then was quite heavily timbered, with the clearings well cultivated, and saw and flour mills were the first industries.

Leonard was incorporated as a village by resolution of the Board of Supervisors in 1889, and by special act of the Michigan legislature in 1893.

In the 1950 census it had a population of 391, an increase of about 40 per cent over its 1940 figure. Jay Secord, who built bridges for the railroad when it was put through, and who was a member of the Board of Supervisors when the court house was built, still lives at Leonard. William Gabriel is village president.

(This is the first in a series of airplane views of Oakland County communities which will be published in the Press.)

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The kidnaping case of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease went into its fifth day today with his wealthy parents showing signs of desperation for some break.

A spokesman for the family reiterated no word had been received from the kidnapers since Bobby was abducted Monday from a private Catholic school by a red-haired woman who posed to a nun as his aunt.

Robert Lederman, a Tulsa business associate of Bobby's multi-milionaire father, said the family indicated a new approach would be taken in the case unless word about Bobby was received within the next few days.

"If we don't hear something within the next few days we are going to do something else," Lederman said.

Lederman said what would be done had not been decided. Presently the family and their spokesmen have moved carefully and without police intervention in hope of making a contact by which they could ransom Bobby's release.

Police Chief Bernard Brannon said the police would continue their "hands-off" policy unless called in by the family. Brannon reiterated that the first concern was to get the child back home safely.

The 71-year-old father, a pioneer automobile dealer and distributor here, today apparently had steeled himself for the ordeal after he was near collapse Wednesday night. Lederman said he was a little better. Mrs. Greenlease, in her mid-40s', also was reported to be standing the strain better. She has been under a physician's care since told of the abduction a few hours after it happened.

To Underline Fire Prevention

Township Fire Stations Open to Public Next Week

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Pontiac Township Fire Department will throw open its doors at all three fire stations next week for open house during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10.

Firemen will be in the fire halls each night from 7 to 9 except Sunday. The open house will be held daily starting Monday from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. to enable residents to view the equipment and to meet firemen.

"The men will be there to answer questions and to explain what the fire department has in Pontiac Township to meet emergencies that we will come in contact with from time to time," according to Fire Chief Carl Schingeck.

Last year, Schingeck said, through contributions of township businessmen the department was able to purchase fire prevention posters and literature which were distributed by firemen to business places and schools.

Enough money was left over this year to purchase more posters and literature for distribution.

"We would like the people to take a few moments to read this literature in the hopes that it may save a life or someone's property," said the chief.

Last GI Quits Hospital as Percy Jones Closes

BATTLE CREEK (UP) — The last of some 93,500 GIs and their dependents left Percy Jones Army Hospital and the doors closed yesterday for the armed forces medical center.

A crew of some 300 officers and men stayed behind to mothball the millions of dollars worth of equipment and put the hospital on a standby basis beginning Jan. 1. It was opened in 1943.

The last patient to leave was Pfc. Earl E. Long, 22, of Collingwood, Tenn. He had lost parts of both arms in Korea.

Building Burns, Thirty Escape

Fire Starts in Owosso Store, Causing About $250,000 Damage

OWOSSO (UP) — Only an empty shell remains today of a two-story building in the downtown district that was devoured by flames yesterday causing an estimated $250,000 damages.

No one was hurt in the blaze, but almost 30 persons barely escaped from the first floor before the flames enveloped the Kline Department Store housed there.

Employes from professional offices on the second story managed to escape down an untouched stairway. The fire was discovered shortly before 5 p.m.

It was noticed first by store manager Clarence Matzen, who with help tried to put out the blaze with fire extinguishers. Efforts were futile however. The fire had started in newly-arrived goods.

Eight pieces of fire equipment, including one from nearby St. Johns and another from Corunna answered the call. But the fire, spread by an explosion believed to have been caused by gas, raged out of control.

Firewalls protected two adjacent buildings, a theater and a bank.

The building was insured but the extent of the coverage was not known. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Damages were estimated by occupants of the building and representatives for the estate of Mrs. Selden Miner, owner of the building.

'Cinerama' Film Success Big Challenge to Industry

It was just about a year ago—on Sept. 30, 1952—that Cinerama was shown in its final and completed form to the public, and incidentally, its owners.

It set off a chain reaction, about as uncontrolled as anything can be, and one that still continues in the motion picture industry.

The response of the public eclipsed even professional excitement engendered by the revolutionary new multi-dimensional medium.

Impressed by the great curve of the Cinerama screen Spyros Skouras, the astute director of the destinies of 20th Century-Fox, imported from France early this year a wide-screen process that had been on the market but unbought since 1928.

Renamed CinemaScope, it uses 100 degrees of the 165 degrees of peripheral vision compared to Cinerama's 145 degrees.

CinemaScope's process is less complicated and less costly in terms of installation and operation; so the illusion of a third dimension is less complete.

But the claim that CinemaScope was lower in cost automatically gave it a wider appeal to motion picture exhibitors, specially since Cinerama's heads had voluntarily limited themselves to 20 theater installations within the next two years.

Stereophonic sound or, more correctly, directional sound that comes from the direction of its source, is another Cinerama innovation that is finding increasing acceptance today.

With hundreds of theaters rewiring to accommodate the new system, most of the producing companies are now releasing their more important productions in two versions, one with, and one without stereophonic sound.

Cinerama's sound, however, with seven independent channels as opposed to the three or four in most current installations still stands as a challenge to the industry.

As Cinerama celebrates its first birthday without interrupting its memorable history-making run in New York, with the handsome Warner Theater as its home, it has grossed more than $2,535,000 and has been seen by 1,215,504 people.

At Detroit's Music Hall Cinerama starts its 29th epochal week Oct. 5, and has shown to over 425,000 people and has grossed over $825,000.

Chiropractic Group Asks Grand Jury

DETROIT (UP)—The Michigan Academy of Chiropractic, Inc., has recommended that a grand jury investigate charges of irregularities in the administration of two state boards.

Directors of the academy discussed criticism of the State Board of Basic Science Examiners and the State Chiropractic Board of Examiners Thursday at a special meeting.

They asked Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash, Lansing, to approve a petition for a one-man grand jury investigation. The petition was filed a week ago by Dr. Clair W. O'Dell, president of the academy.

Pole Fleeing Commies En Route to Washington

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A 28-year-old Pole who "will do anything as long as I can be a good American" is on his way to Washington today on the last leg of his flight from communism.

Jan Hajdukiewicz arrived yesterday. He had slipped away from a Red inspection team in Korea Sept. 9 to seek asylum.

The former Communist interpreter said a Voice of America broadcast prompted his escape.

Telling of troop movements and stockpiled supplies he saw in his two months in Korea, Hajdukiewicz said he is convinced "The Communists don't want peace."

FILM WITH FOOTBALL FLAVOR—Tony Curtis and Loris Nelson finally find happiness together in "All American," Universal-International's new story of a grid star who finds love by remodeling his life. A team of forty top football players is assembled for the screen story, with Michigan's Tom Harmon playing the part of a sportscaster. "All American" opens Saturday at the Strand Theater.

USS Caine Sails Again, Onto Stage

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — The embattled USS Caine is sailing again, this time for the stages of 80 American cities.

In a curious reversal of the usual turn of events, "The Caine Mutiny," which was recently made into a movie, is going on the road in a stage version.

Whereas the film contains most of the book, the play will be only the trial and the hotel celebration thereafter.

A stellar crew has been assembled for the show.

Henry Fonda, veteran of service in the real Navy and "Mister Roberts," is appearing as the brilliant defender, Barney Greenwald. Lloyd Nolan plays the infamous Capt. Queeg, and John Hodiak is the thoughtful mutineer, Lt. Maryck.

The show is being directed by a onetime crooner named Dick Powell, who more recently has turned director and producer of movies.

Author Herman Wouk, two-thirds of the way through his fourth novel, interrupted his work to adapt his novel to the stage. He's no newcomer to the stage, having written a middling Broadway hit called "The Traitor" a few seasons back.

The whole works was put together by Paul Gregory, a young man who looks like an actor but is producer of such hits as "Don Juan in Hell" and "John Brown's Body."

I dropped in to see this noted crew at the Musicians' Union Bldg., where rehearsals are under way. The large hall echoed with speeches.

Loose-limbed Fonda stalked around Nolan, who was being interrogated on the witness stand. Defendant Hodiak, realistic in a close crewcut, was being questioned in a corner by an actor playing the prosecuting attorney.

This sort of thing went on until Director Powell showed up from his movie duties.

He greeted everyone warmly, especially a hopeful actor who was waiting to try out for a major role. Gregory and Wouk came in and the actor was given a run-through in the part.

When the scene was half-finished, Powell said, "I think we've heard enough to see what you can do. Thanks very much."

"I don't read too well from a script," the actor apologized.

"That's all right — you're pretty," Powell said genially.

When the actor left, his possibilities were discussed. The general agreement was that he might make the grade.

"He looks the part," reasoned Powell, "and that's important. We've got to type-cast in this play, because we have so little time to establish the characters. They have to look what they are."

Wouk had been absent on a week's work of rewriting and he reported he had the script in pretty good shape.

"It took a lot of work," he said, "but I think I've got 20 minutes out of it. I'm a pretty good cutter, you know. I took 150,000 words out of 'The Caine Mutiny' before it was published.

He told me that it wasn't possible to transfer the book verbatim to the stage. "The reader has the advantage of having read 300 pages of narrative before he gets to the trial," he explained.

"But we must assume that the playgoer knows nothing of the previous events. In the book I could say, "Queeg told what had happened on the day of the mutiny.' But in the play he will have to repeat what happened."

Gregory said that the show will play a pre-opening engagement in Santa Barbara, Calif., and then premiere in San Diego Oct. 14.

The Navy plans a big celebration, he said, which indicates that naval censure of the "Mutiny" has blown over. About 80 cities, mostly one-nighters with a few week stand, will be played. The show will brave New York Jan. 18.

"If we aren't ready for New York by then, we never will be," Gregory said.

Jackson Cave-in Causes Airline to Stop Flights

JACKSON (UP) — American Airlines flights to Jackson were discontinued Thursday until a cave-in is repaired under one of the runways at Reynolds Field, the municipal airport.

The cave-in was caused by the shaft of an abandoned coal mine, according to City Engineer George Snyder. He said it would require about 280 yards of rocks and approximately three weeks to repair.

Poetry Society to Meet

JACKSON (UP) — The Michigan Poetry Society will meet here Sunday, Oct. 11. Principal speaker will be Mrs. Mary Magruder, retired Kentucky poetess. Margaret Drake Elliott of Muskegon, society state president, will preside at the meeting.

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Police today were attempting to trace two youths who squirted fluid from a water pistol in the eyes of Harry Boelens from a passing car, causing his auto to crash over a curb.

Boelens told police the fluid, containing peroxide or some form of acid, burned so strongly that it was several minutes before he could see again after his car crashed over the curb.

Yanks' Round-Tripper Set Brooks Down 2nd Time

BY BOB CONSIDINE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (INS)—Two soaring home runs into the left field seats, struck by the clubs of youthful Billy Martin and Mickey Mantle, broke the backs of the Dodgers Thursday, gave the Yankees a 4-2 victory, and a 2-0 lead in the golden anniversary World Series.

The series now moves to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, with the Yanks prohibitive favorites to win their fifth straight title.

Friday's pitchers will be Vic Raschi for the high and mighty champions and Carl Erskine, knocked out of the box in the first game, for the hapless National Leaguers.

Yesterday's two late-inning blasts broke a mystifying spell that Preacher Roe had woven about the champions, a spell that had limited them to two hits and heaped upon them much mortification in front of the Yankee stadium crowd of 66,786.

Martin's poke in the seventh, with the Dodgers leading Eddie Lopat and the Yanks, 2-1, barely escaped the frantic glove of Dodger leftfielder Jackie Robinson.

Mantle's blast in the 8th, with Hank Bauer on, was a stirring symbol of the fantastic wristpower possessed by the bubblegum-popping young man from Commerce, Okla. Roe would give him nothing enticing, but Mantle reached out after a low, outside pitch and hit a tremendous blow 20 rows deep in the left field stands.

For most of the two hours and 42 minutes this game lived, Roe and Lopat dealt a brand of soft stuff that had the vaunted sluggers of both teams swinging so ludicrously the crowd often roared at their ineptitude.

By contrast with the rambunctious first game of the series, the second began on a note of frustration. Peewee Reese pushed a soggy pitch into right field for a triple, with one out, but Duke Snider lifted damply to Yogi Berra, and Jackie Robinson stranded Peewee.

Yanks got a run in their half of the 1st, but more by default than vigor. Roe walked three Yanks in that inning and hit another. Flies from the bats of Hank Bauer and Berra moved Gene Woodling, first walkee, from second to third and third to home.

Dodgers fought back against Lopat's slippery stuff and finally pinned it down in the 4th. With two away, Gil Hodges singled past Phil Rizzuto. Carl Furillo followed with a single to right, and Billy Cox doubled to left. The double scored both runners, putting Dodgers ahead 2-1. But the rally was dead then and there. Roe was the next hitter and went out.

In the box, the Preacher had 'em spellbound. Rizzuto's slicing double to right, which Furillo mishandled into three bases, and Martin's blooper single to right, followed by Rizzuto's sacrifice, had the Preacher in a mild sweat in the 2nd and 4th.

It was a photo finish, at the 5-foot barrier in left field. Robinson, off slowly, picked up speed and got there with the ball. He hit the wire and steel, leaping high.

The ball shot inches above his glove, hit a fan and bounced back. For most of those in the park it appeared that Robinson had blocked the ball.

But Robinson pantomimed that it was a home run by continuing to lean against the fence, though the ball was now resting on the field 15 feet from him. Only when he failed to go after it did umpire Dascoli rule it a home run.

The score was tied.

Dodgers were not licked yet. Hodges, hitless in 21 trips to the plate in the 7-game 1952 series, made his 5th hit of the current clash with one out in the 8th. But Lopat worked on Furillo. Furillo's grass-cutter was scooped up by Martin, flung to Rizzuto and thence to 1st baseman Joe Collins for the first double play of the series.

It was time for Mickey Mantle. Bauer was on first. Collins and Berra had been set down. Mantle had been hitless all day.

The 3rd pitch, a screwball, low and outside, was hit by Mickey. The Yankee bunch stood as a man to greet Mantle on his return to the cave. Yanks had their 4-2 lead. They had hit home runs in nine straight World Series games. They were one big step closer to a payoff that will run about $8,000 a head.

Dodger fans who stayed to the bitter end were given a chance to yell. Pinch-hitter Dick Williams singled to left off Lopat with one out in the 9th, and with two gone Lopat walked Reese—the fourth walk Eddie gave during the day.

Up came Snider with the tying runs on base, and himself the "winning run." Wrinkled old bow-legged Casey Stengel waddled out to talk to Lopat, and was cheered when he returned—leaving Lopat in the game.

Eddie justified the trust by making Snider roll to Martin.

TV Feature
California-OSU Game Battle of 'T' Attacks

By Frank LEAHY
Notre Dame Football Coach

Television viewers are extremely fortunate this week in that the game to be telecast nationally should be one of the outstanding contests of the season.

It's California versus Ohio State in a game which features two of the nation's top candidates for All American honors — State's John Borton and California's Paul Larsen. Both teams operate from the T formation.

In a Split T sequence Ohio State's Quarterback Borton runs directly for his own right end. The enemy end is given an open shot at Borton and as he moves in Borton fakes with his head as if to cut straight up-field. As the end comes around wide behind the line. This is the well known option play which is an integral part of every split T offense.

In the California attack, a favorite play is one which throws a great deal of strength at the left side of the defensive line. As the quarterback spins to his right and starts to run away from the line of scrimmage, the right halfback, the fullback, and the entire right side of the line move quickly into position to block tacklers on that side.

As the signal caller retreats with the ball, the left halfback starts to sweep just outside the right end. When passing the quarterback, he takes the ball and falls in behind his teammates and heads goalward.

Notre Dame takes its shortest trip of the year to play one of its oldest foes, Purdue University, in Lafayette, Ind., tomorrow. In my years of coaching at Notre Dame, no other coach has given us as much consistent trouble as has Purdue's Stu Holcomb.

Our players well know that the only reason we won against Purdue last fall was because we were fortunate to recover eight fumbles. Knowing Coach Holcomb, it is certain that such errors won't happen a second time.

MICKEY GREETED — Yankees' Mickey Mantle races home to greeting by Gil McDougald (12) and Hank Bauer (9) after crashing his game-winning homer in the eighth inning of Thursday's World Series game against the Dodgers. Bauer scored on the hit to give the Yankees a 4-2 victory.

Grid Action Close to Home

By JACK SAYLOR

Pontiac city and suburban fans have a variety of games to choose from for their weekend football fare without the need of traveling very far.

Pontiac High, St. Michael's, Waterford, Keego Harbor and Avondale are all at home this week, while Oxford and Lake Orion also will perform on their home field.

This afternoon, Walled Lake is at Waterford and Troy at Avondale. The Viking-Skipper tussle may determine the role each is to play in the Inter-Lakes Conference race, while strong local rivalry exists between the Troy and Avon Township elevens.

End Toby Aldrich has been given the tough assignment of replacing the injured Ron Shore at Avondale. Shore is out for the season with a broken ankle. Ray Boyl will take Aldrich's end slot for the Oakland-B loop opener.

In addition to the Wisner Stadium meeting of PHS and Lansing Sexton, Keego will entertain Clarkston in a Wayne-Oakland tilt, Oxford meets Ortonville and Lake Orion entertains Lapeer in arc-light contests.

St. Mikes faces Royal Oak St. Mary in Wisner Stadium Sunday afternoon. Cranbrook has a Saturday date at home with Lake Forest, Ill., while Rochester also sees action Saturday. Falcons, however, are on the road, playing St. Mary at Mt. Clemens.

The schedule in the Oakland County area:

TODAY

SATURDAY

Rochester at MC St. Mary; Lake Forest at Cranbrook; Royal Oak at Grosse Pointe.

SUNDAY

Royal Oak St. Mary at St. Michael (Wisner Stadium); St. Frederick at St. Rita; St. Theresa at Shrine.

Maples Begin EML Campaign at Mt. Clemens

Bathers Have New Boss; Look Improved After 2 Lean Seasons

Eastern Michigan League football campaign gets underway tonight as Birmingham High School's gridders journey to Mt. Clemens.

Mt. Clemens football has been in the doldrums since 1950, but the Bathers show signs of snapping out of it this year.

After an unbeaten 1950 season, Mt. Clemens lost eight straight in 1951 and seven of eight last year.

A 25-19 win over Van Dyke was the only victory. This season opened with an 8-0 loss to Grosse Pointe, followed by a 6-6 tie against a good Van Dyke eleven.

Birmingham won its only start, last Friday, beating Cranbrook, 19-12. Coach Vince Secontine was fairly well pleased with the showing of his inexperienced team particularly tackles Dick Thalacker and John Sloane.

Sloane, though he weighs only 158, filled in capably for injured Capt. Jerry Beck. Beck may see some service tonight, but will not start. He is recuperating from an injured ankle.

Besides Thalacker and Sloane, the other starters will be Bill Watkinson and Chris Christie at ends, Howard Blake and Ernie Teichman at guards and Bill Hohmeyer at center.

In the backfield will be Jerry Wedge at quarterback, Tom Beck and Payson Chapman at the halves and Dave Allen at full.

Mt. Clemens, with new coach Otto Huebner, who brought a great prep record from Iowa, will average about 190 pounds in the line. Backs Willie Thomas, Tom Montgomery and Connie Pappas have speed and quarterback Dennis Schultz is a fine passer from the Bathers' Split-T.

Holiday Park Slates Indian Summer Regatta

Power boat racing in the inboard classes will come to a close Sunday afternoon with an "Indian Summer Regatta" at Holiday Park, on Elizabeth Lake.

Outstanding race drivers in the Michigan Ohio area will compete in a series of races for inboard hydroplanes in the 48, 135, 225 and 266 cubic inches classes. First event is set for 1 p. m.

Two entries from Pontiac are Lloyd Maddock, who will be pushing "Holiday" in the 135 Class, and Jack Keating, a consistent performer with "Vele" in the 225 Class.

Officials for the regatta, which will be staged under sanction of the American Power Boat Association, include Fred Alter, chairman; Bill Newton, referee; Tom Henley, starter, and Ken Fournier, pit manager.

Chiefs' Dual Meet String Extended to 25 Thursday

Pontiac High's cross country team extended its unbeaten dual meet string to 25 Thursday, defeating Wyandotte and Highland Park by identical 15-45 scores at Wyandotte.

Meet was held as a triangular affair, but point totals were figured as two dual meets.

Led by honorary meet captain Shelley Ford, who won the 2-mile run in 11 minutes 4 seconds, Chiefs captured the 1st five places. Following Ford across the line within a 3-second interval were Felix Brooks, Bill Douglas, Alonzo Watson and John James. Highland Park's 1st man was Terry Dumas in 6th place, while Gary Breitfeld, 8th was Wyandotte's 1st finisher.

PHS junior varsity won a dual meet with Wyandotte, 15-45. Pontiac's Norris Jackson won in 11 minutes 47 seconds.

Record-Breakers Back at 'Pasture' Drag Strip

Detroiter Stanley Yee, who last week set a new track record of 71.5 miles per hour at Partington's Pasture drag strip, will return to the track for this Sunday's racing.

Also competing Sunday will be Bob Albright, who posted a new motorcycle record of 72 miles per hour last week.

Racing will be held from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sunday at the track, located on Ryan at 15-Mile Road.

Orioles Start 1954 Season Ticket Sale

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, drawn into an early launching of a ticket drive by baseball hungry fans, today formally began accepting applications for the 1954 home season.

Clarence W. Miles, head of the local syndicate which bought the St. Louis Browns, said applications for season tickets, boxes and opening game tickets would be filled in the order received.

Miles had planned to launch an advance sale within the next few weeks in an attempt to sell at least $500,000 worth of tickets before the season opened.

Two Dodger Farmhands Purchased by Indians

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland Indians purchased a first baseman and a center fielder from farm clubs of the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday.

They acquired the player voted most valuable in the International League, Gene (Rocky) Nelson, 30-year-old first baseman who throws and bats from the port side. In the past season he hit .308, had 35 home runs and 123 runs batted in.

Hot Weather for Hunting

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Hunters facing opening day for upland ducks and geese yesterday in this area peeled to undershirts and watched their dogs sit it out in the shade. It was just too hot to hunt. It was too hot for the ducks and geese too, although some were taken from the mouth of the Muskegon and Grand Rivers.

Fordham Tough Test for Titans

DETROIT (AP) — After two one-sided warmups, University of Detroit gets its first real test of the football season tonight, meeting Fordham University.

Detroit walloped North Dakota State and Wayne in its first two games but the Titans may have their hands full against Fordham, even though they're favored by six points.

Fordham, playing its first game, led the nation in passing last year. Rams gained 225.8 yards per game via passing last season and were, according to NCA statistics, the first major college team to pass more than they ran.

Shamrocks Meet Irish in 'Roamin' Jug' Game at Wisner; Rams Play at St. Rita

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac's two parochial football teams jump into the Suburban Catholic League race Sunday, when St. Michael entertains Royal Oak St. Mary and St. Frederick travels to Hazel Park to meet St. Rita.

Mikes-Irish contest, scheduled at Wisner Memorial Stadium at 3 p. m., will be the 4th in the schools' rivalry for the "Roamin' Jug," an old Italian wine jug donated for the series by the late Anthony Miller in 1950.

Shamrocks have kept the jug since it was put into play, beating St. Mary 31-6 in 1950 and 2-6 in 1951. Last year's game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

Injuries and illness have dogged the St. Michael squad this week. Don Doll, regular guard who has missed both games to date because of a knee injury, may see some action Sunday.

Guard Mike Campbell has been excused from practices because of complications arising from a tooth extraction, and Larry Maison, Joe Wilhelm and Tom Pruente have had touches of influenza.

All are expected to be ready for action by Sunday.

St. Frederick's Rams, with a .500 mark in two starts, meets St. Rita at 3 p. m. at Hazel Park High School field. Coach Charles Talbot reports no injuries on his squad from the 14-6 loss to St. Benedict last week, and plans no changes in his usual starting lineup.

Hunters Find Birds Scarce Opening Day

By JACK PATTERSON

CURRAN (Special to Pontiac Press) — Opening day for bird season in Alcona County, for city hunters anyway, ended with more excuses than birds. In cover reminiscent of Philippine jungles, with temperatures to match, birds were somewhat harder to locate and put up than earlier estimates would have indicated.

PATTERSON

Alcona County Bird Watching and Bible Reading Society, represented by Bob Glen, Chuck Rodgers, Ed Barret, and your correspondent turned in a rather lackluster performance.

After Barrister Barrett learned the difference between robins and pats he pulled a sample of shooting he didn't learn from Blackstone.

The writer came as close to being skunked as he had in many a year but pulled the chestnuts out just in time.

At neighboring Camp 24, absence of gun-fire and other disturbance denied the presence of Bob Oliver, Charlie Corwin and Dave Edstrom.

Words from Oscoda County's Woodland Springs Club revealed that Vern Abbott's eye isn't improved this year.

Dogs are having a rough time because the whole pat tribe seems engaged in a tree sitting contest.

Few woodcock are in evidence in normally productive early season color.

Pontiac's Jayvee '11' Defeats Hamtramck

Pontiac High's junior varsity football team won its 1st victory in three starts Thursday, downing Hamtramck's juniors, 12-0, at Hamtramck.

Bruce Baker, Little Chief halfback, plunged for the final three yards in a 60-yard sustained drive in the 1st quarter to give Pontiac a 6-0 lead.

Hammer Scores KO

DETROIT (AP)—A straight right hand gave Detroiter Ken (Golden Boy) Hammer, 190½, a kayo over Detroit's James Anderson, 199, at 1:26 of the final round in their scheduled six round battle at Motor City Arena last night.

Woman 'Hard Luck' Trainer in Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Horsewoman Judy Johnson has earned the title of "hard luck" trainer of Delaware Park's 1953 race meeting through a series of misfortunes that would have driven some of her male counterparts to despair.

Early in the meeting her Radiola was disqualified from second. About 10 days later one of her jumping horses broke a leg and had to be destroyed. Then Beaker, a two-year-old first time strater, won but was disqualified for bearing out. She lost Breaker, too, when he was claimed out of the race.

Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians holds a lifetime pitching edge over every American League club except the New York Yankees.

Pride at Stake as Spartan 11 Meets Gophers

Munn on Old Stamping Grounds in Test With Giel & Co.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — "Minnesota is the big apple, as far as I'm concerned." This is the one I want."

It was Michigan State coach Biggie Munn talking about the Big Ten football game here Saturday against his alma mater.

"I never ask the boys to win for me," Munn said, "but I hope with all my heart they look good against Minnesota." Naturally, I have a lot of friends here, and having the Spartans look good is a matter of personal pride."

Munn, a native of Minneapolis, was an Associated Press All-America at Minnesota in the 1930's. Saturday's game marks the first time Michigan State has payed in the Minnesota stadium and the first time Munn has ever led a team into his home state.

Munn had two main worries as the hour of the sellout game approached. He was concerned both about Minnesota back Paul Giel and his own quarterback Tommy Yewcic.

Giel, who runs, punts and passes is expected to be the mainstay of the Minnesota attack.

Yewcic was rested from scrimmage during practice this week because of a twisted knee suffered in the Iowa game. He's back in shape and will be ready to start against Minnesota with his "pony" backfield.

But coaches are worried that his knee might go bad again. And for insurance they added Jerry Luzader of Three Rivers, another quarterback, to the 38-man traveling roster.

Immediately behind Yewcic are sophomore Earl Morrall of Muskegon and Johnny Matsock, a junior from Detroit.

Munn was the center of attention as he returned to his home town. He was stated to be guest of honor at a Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon today.

Because of local interest in Biggie, MSC sport publicist Fred Stabley had to schedule a press conference for the afternoon — the first time such a formal press conference has been held on an out-of-town trip.

Michigan, Michigan State Favored Over Tulane, Gophers, but UD Rated Underdog to Fordham

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — Football's new season has now reached a spot where one looks over the landscape and finds out what's going on.

As the third playing date of the seasons rolls around, we know the strong teams include Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Michigan, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Southern Cal., UCLA, Mississippi State, Mississippi, Maryland, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Rice, West Virginia and Michigan State.

I like Michigan's fast, smashing offense, which moves the Wolverine up with Ohio State and Notre Dame in the Midwest. Alabama hasn't won a game yet, and Georgia Tech has been tied. There will be more changes when this Saturday's program is finished. Here's the pick —

EAST: Army-Northwestern. Northwestern has the man power. Northwestern. Pennsylvania-Penn State. Penn should take this one. Boston College-LSU is one of the best in Dixie. Princeton-Columbia. Tigers should be much better this time. Princeton.

Holy Cross over Colgate and Rice over Cornell. Navy should take Dartmouth, and Maryland is much too strong for Clemson. Oklahoma looks too fast and strong for Pittsburgh.

SOUTH: Alabama and Vanderbilt face a tough afternoon. Alabama is about due. Mississippi is named over Auburn and Baylor gets the nod over Miami. Duke is picked over Tennessee and Villanova over Wake Forest. Florida should beat Kentucky and Georgia should handle Texas A. and M.

Georgia Tech is the choice over SMU. North Carolina is named over Washington and Lee and Michigan looks much better than Tulane. South Carolina gets the call over Virginia.

WEST: Fordham should have the edge over Detroit. Illinois and Stanford will be close, but Illinois is the pick. Southern California is much too strong for Indiana.

Minnesota-Michigan State. One of the best games of the day. Michigan State. We like Missouri over Colorado and Nebraska over Kansas State. Notre Dame - Purdue. Notre Dame should keep rolling. Ohio State should handle California and Wisconsin should take Marquette.

Chiefs Face Sexton, Seeking 3rd Win

'M' Anticipates Versatile Aerial Attack Saturday

Defensive Backs Work Overtime Against Air Offensive

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his Wolverines expect a versatile aerial assault from the Tulane team that invades Michigan stadium Saturday.

Yesterday, as he did earlier in the week, the Michigan coach worked his defensive backfield overtime, in preparation for the southern team that runs and passes from the T, the split T, and double wing back formations.

Halfbacks Ted Kress and Dan Cline alternated in the safety trying to anticipate the Tulane offense as demonstrated by the Michigan reserves. Fullbacks Dave Hill, Bob Hurley and Dick Balzhiser worked out alternately at one half back position. Other was manned by Tony Branoff and Ed Hickey.

They'll be faced with a Tulane team that employs two passers. Quarterback Pete Clement directs the team and throws from the T formation. Left halfback Lester Kennedy is the expert on the double wing throwing.

Michigan, with Kress, Branoff and Balzhiser setting the pace, smothered Washington's aerial game in the opener. Husky throwers tried 19 passes and completed five for a mere 61 yards.

However, Tulane with its varied offense is expected to provide a tougher test for the Wolverine secondary.

Against reserve opposition Oosterbaan's regulars were able to bottle both the Tulane pass and running games.

HOPE TO END FAMINE — Lake Orion High School's veteran backfield runs through a play during a practice session. Dragons, with this quartet carrying the load, seek their first win over a Lapeer team tonight at Orion. Quarterback Jay McCaughna handles the ball as he prepares to hand off to either (left to right) halfback Ed Leach, fullback Jerry Laidlaw or halfback Joe Mendoza.

Fourteen members of the 1953 Pontiac High School football team who were with the squad last season may feel that history is repeating itself when Lansing Sexton comes here tonight for a non-league contest.

Events leading up to the encounter closely parallel developments prior to last year's meeting. Chiefs are hoping, however, that the parallel ends with tonight's opening kickoff.

Going into the 1952 game, Pontiac boasted two straight victories — a 20-13 triumph over Wyandotte and a 44-0 rout of Hamtramck. Sexton had lost 7-6 to Muskegon in its opener and had beaten Ypsilanti, 7-0. This season, the records are identical. Chiefs have downed Wyandotte and Hamtramck (34-13 and 6-0), while Lansing has bowed to Muskegon, 7-0, and beaten Ypsi, 7-0.

The two rivals battled to a scoreless tie, and neither managed a creditable showing the remainder of the season. Pontiac lost three of its next five games and Sexton dropped four of five starts.

Coach Ed Graybiel will keep his usual offensive lineup intact tonight, but may use Bill Rose at linebacker in the place of Dick Ayling. Lee Quince, alternate safety man along with Jimmy Williams, has been nursing a back injury this week and probably will not be in uniform.

Vie for Racing Honors

YONKERS, N. Y. (UP) — Stanley Dancer and Bill Haughton will be trying for the 1953 harness driving crown this year. Both are far ahead of their nearest rivals. If either one wins the title he will be the youngest ever to take it. Dancer is 26 and Haughton is 29.

New York in Four?

Yanks Hold Overwhelming Advantage; Carl Erskine Faces Rugged Test Today

By GAYLE TALBOT

BROOKLYN (UP)—Unless Carl Erskine, the collar ad man, can subdue his World Series jitters and pitch a regular scorcher against the Yankees today, it might very well be all over at an early hour tomorrow evening and the boys on their way home.

And Erskine's pitching will have to be very good in his own Ebbets Field, for the man who opposes him on the hill—Vic Raschi—is an old hand at this game. Raschi, when he is rested and ready, is about as tough as they come. The job he did on the Dodgers in the second Series game a year ago still is fresh in memory.

Having won the first two games, Casey Stengel's team holds an almost overwhelming advantage. Not since they made it a best four of seven games back in 1922 has any club ever lost the first pair and then rallied to win the championship.

Even if Erskine should break the Yankee spell today, the Dodgers still could look forward to nothing more entertaining than trying to beat young Whitey Ford, one of the game's better southpaws, tomorrow. To find a suitable opponent for Ford, Manager Charlie Dressen probably would have to choose between Billy Loes and Russ Meyer, a couple of large question marks. It looks like the Yanks in four, frankly.

Lopat was the man who stood out yesterday, even though he needed a little help toward the last from those two brash youngsters, Billy Martin and Mantle. In scoring his 17th victory of the season against only four defeats, the chubby portsider gave a classic demonstration of what it is to do without speed, strictly on guile.

The tragic figure was Roe, who always before had been able to win in Yankee Stadium's great expanses. The thin man from Arkansas with the lively sense of humor fidgeted and fretted and nearly drove everybody nuts before he finally consented to guide his soft stuff across. He had the Yankees talking to themselves, too, before they finally solved the riddle.

State Seeks to Cut Violations

McKay Issues Orders to Crack Down on Game Law Breakers

By TOM FARRELL

LANSING (UP) — Conservation officials, alarmed at the increase in violations of federal wildlife laws, have ordered a "crack down" in an attempt to reduce violations.

Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay released a report the other day showing that the total of convictions jumped from 4,929 for the 1951-52 fiscal year to 6,225 for the 1952-53 fiscal year which ended last June 30.

McKay said it was the "greatest number of convictions for game law violations ever reported for any one year by game management agents of the fish and wildlife service."

So far this year in Michigan, number of convictions for violation of conservation laws is running slightly behind a year ago.

During the first eight months of 1953 there were 2,270 convictions compared to 2,626 during the same period of 1952.

Frisch Heaps Praise on Yank Series Star Martin

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BROOKLYN (UP) — Frankie Frisch is a crusty old offshoot of baseball's lustier days and not easy to impress, but a spindly-legged Yankee second baseman has turned him into a mushy sentimentalist.

"He's my kind of ball player," the Fordham Flash said warmly today, and his pride was that of a papa hawk which has just seen a fledgling make its first kill. "He's smart. He's aggressive. He hates to lose."

Object of this praise was young Billy Martin, whose hitting, fielding and base running have made him the outstanding star so far of this golden anniversary World Series.

They call him a fighter," Frisch continued. "I don't like the word. He's a competitor. He wants to win. He plays with enthusiasm and gusto. But mainly he's got the equipment from the neck up.

"He has brains and uses 'em. He's always studying the other guy. He's always got the jump on him."

Frisch's admiration for the Yankee infielder may stem from the fact that Frankie sees a reproduction of himself — one of the great all-time second basemen of the game and one of the sport's bitterest battlers.

CASE—Block in Swing.

CURE — Hew to the Line — The importance of stepping straight in line with the right foot (four step stride) can't be stressed enough. Only by doing so will the right hip clear out of the way to allow the ball to swing back close to the body—grooved!

The least little zig zag to the right at the outset, plus the weight of the swinging ball, and anything can happen . . . anything but the correct finish at the line. Ususally the left foot finishes broadside, causing the ball to be quickly pitched—off the target.

Worthy Wisdom Rewards Backers in Jackson Meet

JACKSON (UP)—Bettors had wisdom indeed who bet Worthy Wisdom at the Jackson Raceway last night. It was the best longshot winner of the harness meet so far, paying $80.60.

Daily double at the track was the highest of the season too. Sandy Long and Worthy Wisdom together paid $515 for a $2 double ticket.

Martinez Favored Over Vince D'Andrea

NEW YORK (UP) — Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., who has given up his drafting board in favor of pasting opponents on canvas, is favored to outclass young Vinnie D'Andrea of New York tonight in their 10-round bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

The fight will be televised and broadcast nationally, starting at 10 p. m. EST.

It should be an interesting bout between two of the most promising welterweights in the New York area.

Ferris Loses Backfield Regular for Two Weeks

BIG RAPIDS (UP) — Maj. Sam Ketchman head football coach at Ferris Institute, was searching today for someone to replace Bob Krawiec of Flint in his backfield.

Krawiec, a right halfback, dislocated a shoulder in practice Wednesday and will be out of the lineup for two weeks. Ketchman said he wasn't sure who the replacement would be.

Video Switch OK'd by NCAA

Twin Cities' Stations Will Carry Saturday's MSC-Gopher Test

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — The NCAA has granted permission for the Minnesota- Michigan State football game Saturday to be televised locally because it is a "sell-out."

N C A A officials announced Thursday the game will be carried by two Twin City television stations, WCCO and KSTP, ununder the sponsorship of the General Motors Corp.

WCCO will televise the game from its beginning. KSTP, which is carrying the World Series, will switch to the football game as soon as the 4th World Series game ends.

KSTP said it still might carry the NCAA national game of the week, Ohio State vs. California, which doesn't start until 5 p. m. (EST). General Motors also sponsors the national game.

In the Cleveland Indians' last home stand of the season against the eastern clubs, the Tribe completed at least one double play in each game.

Horse Racing Idol of '20s Plans Return

Earl Sande Applies for License to Ride Again at Belmont Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Sande, turf idol of the golden twenties, has applied for a riding license and plans a comeback at the age of 54 — probably during the current Belmont Park meeting.

It's been 21 years since the popular little "handy guy", winner of three Kentucky Derbies, hung up his tack for a brief night club singing acreer followed by several years as a successful trainer.

Thirty years ago he rode Zev to victory over Papyrus, British Derby winner, at Belmont Park.

Who would have dreamt Sande would be trying to boot 'em in again, 23 years after he crooned to Gallant Fox as the Belair stud three-year-old swept the triple crown. He also won the Kentucky Derby with Zev in 1923 and Flying Ebony in 1925.

"I want to pay off some debts and this is the trade I know," he said. "I hope I can be riding before the present Belmont meeting closes." The meeting ends Oct. 10.

John Bateman, line coach at Columbia, was in charge of athletics at Pensacola (Fla.) Naal Air Station during World War II.

HUG DOWNS RUNNER — Quarterback Art Poe (22) is brought down after a short gain by an unorthodox but apparently effective tackle by Jefferson's Archie Brooks during the 2nd quarter of Thursday's Washington-Jefferson Junior High game here. Braves won, 6- on a touchdown by Poe in the last two minutes of play.

Braves and Indians Win Opening Junior Contests

Suburban Junior High League football season opened Thursday, with defending champion Washington edging Jefferson, 6-0, and Eastern blanking Walled Lake, 21-0.

Braves were hampered by 80 yards in penalties and has three touchdowns nullified by infractions. Quarterback Art Poe scored on an option play from the 6-yard line in the last two minutes to give his team its 6th victory over two seasons.

Earlier scoring runs by Alex Barge, on 60 and 25 yard gallops, and Poe, on a 40-yard dash, were called back.

Louis Waterfield, a transfer student from Colorado, scored tallies on runs of 40 and 10 yards as Eastern trampled Walled Lake. Gordon Bredo added a 3rd TD on a 35-yard sprint. Extra points were scored by Bredo, Arnold Larsen and Marvin Cagle.

Junior Vikings never were able to penetrate beyond Eastern's 40-yard line.

Eaglet Team Routs Boys Republic, 49-0

Orchard Lake St. Mary won its 1st victory of the season in a convincing manner Thursday at Inkster, blasting Boys' Republic, 49-0. Eaglets rolled for 346 yards on the ground and added another 103 passing.

Halfback Albert Kowaleski and quarterback Bernard Sokolowski each scored two touchdowns to account for half their team's total. Boys' Republic was unable to advance through the stiff St. Mary defense, and threatened only once.

Inkster eleven reached the 7-yard line in the 4th period, but lost the ball on downs.

Smart Granted an Injunction

Ohio Judge Issues Written Blast at Inglis and USTA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio judge yesterday rebuffed attempts by the United States Trotting Association and "the Michigan commissioner" to suspend driver-trainer Wayne (Curley) Smart.

In a sharply worded 3,000 word summary, Judge William C. Bryant granted Smart a temporary injunction against suspension by the USTA and the Michigan State Racing commission.

"The man (Smart) has been charged, tried, convicted and found guilty and sentenced without any charge being filed," the Franklin County common pleas judge said.

Referring to state racing commissioner James H. Inglis, judge Bryat said:

"The Michigan commissioner has apparently had a rather novel approach to the matter. If the law is burdensome we just shove it aside and do it a better way. Frankly that doesn't ride too well in court."

Smart was suspended for a year, several weeks ago by the Michigan State Racing commission for alleged horse-doping.

The old Washington Nationals were the first to train in Florida.

Bucks Appear on TV Against Golden Bears

Indiana, Iowa, Illinois Also Meeting Teams From Pacific Coast

By BOB HOOBING

NEW YORK (AP)—The Midwest, apparent stronghold of 1953 college football, faces a series of tough intersectional tests this weekend while the two top-rated teams, Notre Dame and Michigan State, tackle neighborhood opposition.

Ohio State, the nation's No. 6 team, travels to Berkeley for Saturday's nationally televised encounter with California's improving Bears. This is one of four Big Ten meetings with Pacific Coast conference representatives. In the others Indiana plays Southern California's seventh-ranked Trojans tonight, Iowa hosts Washington State and Illinois runs into Stanford.

Michigan's surprising Wolverines No. 4 power, flexes its single wing muscles against Tulane, one of the darkhorse powers of the Southeast. And two unknown quantities that looked impressive last week running over outclassed opponents—Army and Northwestern — meet head-on at Evanston, Ill.

Notre Dame, leading the field after its triumph over Oklahoma, clashes with Purdue in a Hoosier state match.

Michigan State, No. 2 in the country, pits its superior speed against Minnesota's deceptive attack led by All-America Paul Giel.

Wisconsin has its traditional Badger State encounter with Marquette to round out major midwest activity.

Elsewhere, Maryland's third ranked Terps begin their new Atlantic Coast Conference competition against Clemson with two non-loop victories already tucked away. UCLA, No. 5, meets Oregon in a Pacific Coast struggle while eighth-pluace Oklahoma invades Pittsburgh.

Baylor, after a week's layoff following its workmanlike exhibition against California, puts its ninth position on the line against Miami, Fla., in another contest tonight. Georgia Tech, the No. 10 team still unbeaten in 28 outings but tied by Florida last week, hosts Southern Methodist in the first game for the Mustangs.

Highlights of 2nd Series Tilt

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Did any team lose the first two games, yet go on to win a World Series? The answer is yes. Giants of 1921 dropped the first two to the Yankees and went on to take all the marbles. But in those days the winner was decided in the best-of-nine games, and the Giants won 5-3.

Allie Reynolds, sore back and all, has been an honorary deputy fire chief in observance of fire prevention week. The big Oklahoman donned a fireman's hat and posed for photographers before yesterday's game.

Western Union advised that the '53 series might set a record for the long-windedness of writers covering it. The first day's output was 494,664 words, beating the previous first day mark of 450,000 set in 1951. The all-time record is 4,809,165 words sent on the Yankee-Dodger classic last year.

Billy Martin is the series' leading hitter so far with five hits in seven trips for a .714 average. Gil Hodges is next with .625 on five-for-eight.

You wouldn't know for the way he's playing, but Yogi Berra is somewhat under the weather. "Got a cold," he complained. "Had a about five days and can't get rid of it. You work up a sweat and then it gets drafty in the shadows when you're catching."

Carl Furillo, who was expected to have trouble at the plate because of his sore finger, surprisingly is running into difficulty in the field. He has already made two errors in seven chances. He's three-for-eight at bat.

The "magic number" for the Yankees is now two. Two more Yankee victories and/or Dodger defeats and the cry of "Wait 'til next year" will be heard — once again — in Brooklyn.

Paper Reflects Feelings of All Dodger Fandom

BROOKLYN (UP) — The Brooklyn Eagle, this borough's only daily newspaper, echoed the sentiments of all Dodger fans Thursday following their team's second straight defeat at the hands of the Yankees in the World Series.

The Eagle's eight-column headline on the front page read:

! ! ? ' && $, $ —) (' - & $?

Immediately beneath that bold streamer ran the sad linescore of another Dodger defeat.

There are a estimated 3,500 roller skating rinks in the U.S.

Large Turnout Marks Hunting Season's Start

High Temperatures Hold Take Down Throughout State

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

A larger than expected crowd of hunters opened Michigan's first major season yesterday in weather that was too hot for the best shooting.

It was estimated that well over 200,000 began water fowl shooting all over the state and upland geese hunting in the north. These were augmented by a few archers who started their statewide season on deer at the same time.

Waterfowl hunters found ducks and geese largely inactive in temperatures in the seventies.

In the Saginaw Bay area, the hunting pressure was up, but the take was down. Hunters were taking mallards, blacks and teals.

At Pointe Mouillee State Game Area hunters had to be turned away when the 300 allowed in the area had taken up all the permits. Total take for the day by the 300 was 836 ducks compared to 950 last opening day which was stormy and cold.

There was little waterfowl activity in the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula, although there was some concentration in the Dead Stream and Mollasses River area.

In the upland geese reserve in the north hunters found more rough ground generally than they were led to expect, but the unseasonable warm weather held the take down.

In both the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula hunters found conditions good until 10 a.m. There was enugh moisture on the ground to permit dogs to work efficiently. After 10 however the woods had dried up and were noisy.

There was little hunting for sharp tailed grouse and prairie chickens in the Upper Peninsula and the few northern Lower Peninsula counties open. The few out reported that their takes were down considerably from last year. Woodcock hunting was very slow.

Conservation department had received an authenticated report of a killing of a Wilson snipe. First season on this species in many years opened yesterday. Single report came from Conino in the Upper Peninsula. Conservation officers reported however that some hunters in the thumb area were illegally shooting yello legs, mistaking them for snipe.

Wimbledon tennis tournaments began in 1877.

Westerners Face Bad Time During Weekend Contests

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

One of my zillions of Pacific coast readers takes umbrage at a statement of mine to the effect that the Rose Bowl indeed was thorny for far western teams—har-rumph!

Egad! May I insert here, for purposes of the record, that Dr. Zlobotny's system is absolutely impartial. When the system picked Baylor to defeat California, I gave you the prediction without flinching, though privately I must confess I had some doubts.

After the smoke of battle had cleared away, however, there it was: Baylor 25, California 0.

This weekend will be a bad one for far western teams that meet rivals from the Big Ten. Indiana will defeat Southern California. Ohio State will take California. Illinois will defeat Stanford. Iowa will trounce Washington State.

Another coast upset will be provided when Oregon noses out UCLA, 14-13.

As I read it it appears unbelievable, but I pass these on after careful study, and I must stick to my chalk.

Other upsets will see Purdue beating Notre Dame, Columbia winning over Princeton and Kansas State edging Nebraska.

Now go on and read the rest of my intrepid forecast:

Two Leaders Hold Up Corn

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and soybeans rode higher on the Board of Trade today, one propelled by continued dry weather and another by a bullish private crop forecast.

The strength in these two leaders was enough to give corn quite weak all this week, a steady tone. Oats and rye inched higher, while lard spurted on news of a sharp drop in Chicago lard stocks during September.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛-⅞ cent higher. December $1.93¾; corn was ⅛ lower ⅜ higher, December $1.45, and oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, December 74¾. Soybeans were 1¼ to 2 cents higher, November $2.62½, and lard was 13 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $15.10.

Auto Production Dips in July-September

DETROIT (UP) — Auto production in the U. S. dropped 8.6 per cent during the July-September period, Automotive News estimates.

The trade paper said 1,585,671 cars rolled off assembly lines during the third quarter, 8.6 per cent under the second quarter but still 4.1 per cent above the first three months of the year.

September output was the lowest since January, the News said, due to parts shortages, model changeovers and the GM transmission plant fire.

Continuing to standout is Ford Motor Co. For the fourth straight week the Ford Division is outscheduling Chevrolet, planning to build 30,782 Fords against Chevrolet's 30,100.

Fruehauf Co. Names Assistant Treasurer

Luther E. Lawrence, 6100 Wing Lake Rd., Birmingham, formerly with Ford and McLouth Steel, has been named assistant treasurer of the Fruehauf Trailer Co.

Lawrence, a Michigan State College graduate, spent World War II with the office of chief of ordinance of the U.S. Army.

Federal and state governments own about 43 per cent of U.S. raw timber.

Today's Lake Named After Statesman

In a list of the largest lakes in Oakland County the one pictured today on page 21 can hardly be overlooked. Its area exceeds 1,250 acres.

It is almost wholly located in one township, two of its bays extending into another township. On its shore is an incorporated village, also a community of several thousand people not incorporated as either village or city.

This lake was named in honor of a 19th century statesman. He was the nominee of one of the major parties for President of the United States in 1848.

Its history has little of the Indian lore and legend enjoyed by a lake that is its close neighbor. The white man first settled on its banks 125 years ago.

A river flows through it and maintains its waters at a quite uniform level. It is the mouth of some smaller streams and has many springs in its depths.

Paved highways touch the shores of this lake at only a few points. Some of its banks are high and wooded, but in less proportion than many other lakes among the 400 such bodies of water in the county.

An estimated 7,500 people live on its shores or on subdivisions quite near it. This lakes bathing beaches are among the most largely patronized in the county. A state park is on its shores.

Early landowners on the banks of this lake included the Ward, Dow, Green, Hiller, Simpson, Deane, Cole, Voorheis, Whitehead, Devor, McCallum, Greer, Carter, Watchpocket, Norton, Hinman, Tregent, Smith, Walls, England, Castle and Judd families.

Without doubt you already have identified Oakland County's largest body of water, Cass Lake, named in honor of Gen. Lewis Cass. It lies mostly in West Bloomfield Township, with two arms extending into Waterford Township. Orchard Lake Village and the Keego Harbor Community border its shores. The Clinton river flows through it.

Car Production Ahead of 1952

GM 9-Month Output Shows Big Gain Over Like Period Year Ago

General Motors Corp. produced more passenger cars but fewer trucks last month than in September, 1952, the corporation announced today.

GMC plants turned out 212,333 passenger cars and 31,825 trucks in September, compared with 198,476 cars and 48,629 trucks in the same month a year ago.

A break-down of local GM production however, shows a decrease for the month.

Output of Pontiac cars was 26,427 compared with 29,539 for Sept., 1952; five Pontiac panel trucks year ago; and production at the Truck and Coach Division dropped from 13,495 in September, 1952, to 5,792 for the past month.

Pontiac's 9-month output was 330,934 passenger cars as against 201,398 in the corresponding months a year ago. GMC Truck produced 93,818 units in nine months as against 84,773 in the first nine months of 1952.

In the same 1952 period they produced 2,639,130 cars.

The monthly production reports today showed General Motors output for the January-through-September period totaled 2,274,769 cars. In the same period last year GM plants built 1,305,999 cars. In addition GM factories built 388,634 trucks this year against 309,964 in the first nine months of 1952.

Ford's January-September output this year amounted to 1,147,522 cars and 234,357 trucks against 678,353 cars and 154,791 trucks in the like 1952 period.

Chrysler reported production of 957,388 cars and 78,589 trucks in this year's January-September period against 654,778 cars and 118,135 trucks in the comparable 1952 period.

Hal Boyle Says:

Brightening Up the Home Really a Simple Chore

NEW YORK (AP) — What are you doing, fellows, to brighten up that old barn you call a home?

Wives are always reading articles called "101 Inexpensive Ways to Cheer Up Your Boudoir," or "99 Hints on How to Help Your Kitchen Get Over the Blues." (The first of the 99 hints, of course, is to paint it red.)

But for some reason the helpless husband generally is told his only way to make his house happy is to go down in the basement and hammer out a rickety bookshelf which usually ends up in the guest bedroom.

Actually, any sensible man can find hundreds of ways, whether he dwells in pup tent or palace, to give it those little golden touches of charm and grace that make all the difference between a house and a real home.

Yes, fellows, you too can tease your bathroom out of a sulky mood and make your living room drop its hangdog expression and break out in merry laughter. I do love a laughing living room, don't you?

It doesn't take a lot of money to give your home and yard that warm, cozy, friendly, lived-in look. All you need is a little time and ingenuity in putting to practical use the things you now thoughtlessly throw away — such as old shoes, hats, neckties and wornout light bulbs.

Take an old shoe, for example. Covered with aluminum paint and inscribed in gold letters, "Old Shoes and Old Friends Are Best," it makes a cunning recoration for your fireplace mantle. Useful, too, as you can put packets of matches in it.

Your old shoes fixed up in this clever manner also make wonderful presents for your old friends, particularly the more sentimental ones. The danger is they will become so popular you will end up barefooted.

There are lots and lots of cute things to do with neckties you tire of. You can use them to decorate your Christmas tree, and don't forget to hang on a sign saying "free. Take a few." Don't think your neighbors won't take them. You know neighbors.

Have you ever yearned to put up some really picturesque bird nests? Why not use your old hats? Try them in your front yard tree and see. Mother birds often get claustrophobia in the ordinary wooden bird home, and complain of a dark, closed-in feeling. A hat nest gives them plenty of fresh air and a splendid view.

Now, about that garden of yours. Why not pep it up by planting a few rows of tastefully painted old light bulbs? Unlike other bulbs they need neither water nor spraying.

A fellow named Jones brightened his garden by planting light bulbs in the shape of his family crest. Tiring of the jeers of his neighbors, he went out into the country one night and caught a bunch of fireflies.

The next morning he broke the tips off the bulbs, put a firefly in each, then sealed the hole with tape.

Soon after dark a dozen excited neighbors phoned Jones, saying:

"I thought you were crazy when you planted your electric garden, but it's in full bloom tonight. Could you sell me some of those bulbs so I can plant them next year?"

These are just a few helpful hints on how to give your tired old home a fresh and exciting look. But your real reward, fellows, will come when your wife, showing the wonders you have wrought to her envious lady friends, turns lovingly toward you as she says:

"John isn't like the average husband. He takes a real interest in improving our home."

Cable Car Railroad Urged for Mackinac

LANSING (AP) — If you've ever hoofed it up the bluff to see old Fort Mackinac — take heart.

The Mackinac Island State Park Commission will be asked at its next meeting to authorize construction of a cable-car railroad to carry visitors up the 250-foot incline.

Commissioners W. F. Doyle of East Lansing and James P. Dunnigan of West Branch, sponsors of the plan, said they proposed to grant a franchise to have the cable-car railroad constructed and operated by private capital.

Doyle said the State Building Division estimated a two-car system, capable of carrying 12 passengers to the fort every four minutes, would cost about $30,000.

A recently developed turbojet airplane engine is two and one-half times more powerful than the four engines of a World War II heavy bomber—although it weighs less than one of the bomber's engines and a propeller.

Teachers Hear Story of Union

200 Meet for Annual Dinner Held to Honor 25 New in Group

Four long-standing members told the history, aims and accomplishments of Pontiac Federation of Teachers at the organization's annual dinner for new teachers Thursday.

Some 200 members and guests, 25 of them new to Pontiac Public Schools, turned out for the program at Pontiac High School cafeteria.

John Buchanan, president, was master of ceremonies with Henry (Hank) Elling as pianist.

The four-man panel included Theodore Carlson and Guy Bevington of Pontiac High School; Theodore Wiersema, Crofoot School principal; and Mrs. Naomi Dennis of Malkim School.

Carlson told of the origin and plan of the federation. Bevington reviewed some of the gains for teachers which he said had been granted by the Board of Education in previous years.

These, he said, included equal pay for men and women teachers, 10 days a year of sick leave, accumulating up to 40 days; and a tenure system.

Weirsema described the organization's affiliations with other American Federation of Labor units. Mrs. Dennis spoke of the personal relationship of each member to the organization.

EDC Prospects Look Brighter

State Department Now Strongly Optimistic on Saving Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long-stalled European army, projected as the military heart of Western defenses against Russia, is reported by high officials here to be off dead center at last.

During the summer, State Department opinion took a gloomy line, but now it is strongly optimistic about chances for saving the plan to add the strength of an armed Western Germany to the strength of the West.

United States policy has been built on the assumption that German forces are an essential part of an effective defense of Western Europe.

The proposal took treaty form in May 1952, calling for a European Defense Community (EDC) which would put French, German and other troops into a common army. France provided this formula for getting German strength while guarding against revival of German militarism.

The treaty was supposed to be ratified, Secretary of State Dulles once said, by the fall of 1952. Actually, although West German ratification was substantially completed some time ago, successive French administrations have run into big obstacles in the form of internal political opposition to rearming Germans.

That has been mainly responsible for stalling the whole undertaking, and, in the view of some officials here, endangering the very heart of Western defenses. Officials here, however, have privately expressed sympathy with the difficulties of the French position.

A few weeks ago the general feeling here was that the EDC project was likely to lag indefinitely, and that it could hardly be expected to make any progress until after the Western Powers had met with Russia in an attempt to find some other solution for the German problem. That gave the Russians a weapon for delays—a constant source of worry and concern here.

American ambassadors in the Western European countries met recently in Luxembourg with Asst. Secretary of State Livingston Merchant and reviewed EDC prospects. It has been reported here, following Merchant's return, that they found the outlook highly encouraging and, particularly, that there was confidence France would ratify the EDC treaty within the next few months.

Town Sprayed With Bullets From AF Jet

FARRELL, Pa. (AP)—An Air Force Sabre jet plane, its electric firing device out of order, sprayed this western Pennsylvania town with machine gun bullets for several terror-filled seconds.

The whining .50 caliber slugs riddled 12 autos, setting two afire and tore into nearly 30 buildings and homes yesterday. No one was hurt although several persons had narrow escapes.

"Something happened to one of its machine guns," Police Chief John J. Stosito said after a conference with Maj. A. F. Martin Jr. of the Vienna Air Force Base near Warren, Ohio.

The plane was on a routine flight from the base. Name of the pilot was withheld. Witnesses said the craft was several thousand feet up as it zoomed over the city.

Martin, who came here to conduct an investigation, said there is "only about one chance in a million" of such a thing happening and added the Air Force would pay all damages.

Bar State Truck Firm on Indiana Highways

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — George F. Alger Trucking Co. of Detroit has been barred from Indiana highways for a week by the Indiana Public Service Commission.

The commission took the action yesterday, pointing out the fact that the firm's drivers had been arrested on overweight violations eight times since June. The firm averages 90 trips a day, carrying steel from Gary, Ind. and Detroit.

Minimum depth of the Suez canal is about 34 feet.

Citizen 'Cop' Is Stern on Parking Violator

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Milkman Roger Voyles came back for his truck after making a delivery to find it gone.

He didn't have to wait long. A man informed him in no uncertain terms he had taken the truck and parked it astride some railroad tracks, then proceeded to Pop Voyles in the nose.

Voyles filed a complaint against Bill Bob Gale who told police he was irked at the milkman for double-parking.

Trooper Gets Soaked Giving Water Board Aid

State Trooper Henry De Loof of the Pontiac Post gave the Water Resources Commission a hand Thursday morning—but he got his feet wet in the process.

De Loof, investigating a flood in a vacant house at 66 E. Washington, Clarkston, landed in two inches of water when he climbed through a bathroom window.

He waded through the house until he found a water tap left running.
