Plumber Held in Investigation of Seven Fires

Blazes Cause $100,000 Damage in 2 Counties; Court Date Set

A 23-year-old Detroit plumber, who police say has admitted setting seven fires since last July 24 causing $100,000 damage, will be arraigned on an arson charge in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday.

Donald J. Roller of 12374 Wisconsin St., Detroit, waived examination before Farmington Township Justice Allan C. Ingle yesterday and was returned to Oakland County Jail under $5,000 bond.

Meanwhile, Detroit police announced today that another firebug suspect, Stanley Murdock, 25, also of Detroit, has admitted setting the $150,000 Wells Lumber Co. fire there last Saturday.

Murdock had been arrested for questioning about four small fires in Detroit recently when witnesses placed him at the scene of the lumber company fire. At first he denied any knowledge of the blaze, police said, but finally confessed today.

Roller told police that he set fire to six homes and an old school house in Oakland and Wayne counties but that he didn't know why he did it.

Roller returned to the scene of each fire dressed in a raincoat, boots and a fire helmet, passing himself off as a "volunteer fireman who just happened by." The fires he admitted setting caused damage estimated in excess of $100,000.

His "uniform" was an old army issue coat and the boots were those he used in his plumbing work but he admitted stealing the fire helmet at a Jackson Prison dairy barn fire earlier this summer.

"I don't know why I set the fires, the urge just seemed to come over me and there was nothing I could do about it," he said.

Roller said he has never had any desire to be a fireman and that he planned to continue in the plumbing trade in preparation for his marriage next spring.

The target for six of Roller's fires were homes under construction and the other was an old school house near Flat Rock.

On one occasion Roller called Dearborn firemen after igniting rolled-up newspapers in a nearly-completed home and then returned to help fight the blaze until 5 a.m.

"That was the only time I turned in an alarm myself, though," Roller said, "I usually waited around until someone else turned in the alarm and then came back in my firefighting outfit."

Two fires set in Southfield Township about Aug. 6 resulted in total destruction to the homes and at one of the fires Roller treated all firemen to coffee.

Roller's capture by Michigan State Police yesterday came about after Trenton Fire Chief Cameron Waldorf became suspicious of him for "just turning up" and gave police a description of the suspect's car.

Southfield Township fireman Frank Powell added a partial license number and Roller's arrest followed.

Court Okays Vote on Bingo

Turns Down Petitions by Churches Hoping to Stop Nov. 2 Ballot

LANSING (UP)—Two petitions aimed at keeping the "charity bingo" off the November election ballot were denied by the Michigan Supreme Court Wednesday, and the question will be submitted to the voters as scheduled.

The high court rejected petitions filed by the Michigan and Detroit Councils of Churches which had pledged a legal and moral fight against the proposed constitutional amendment permitting charitable groups to conduct lotteries. The State Constitution presently bans all lotteries.

The State Board of Canvassers previously had ruled that petitions demanding a referendum on the lottery issue were legal and ordered the proposed amendment printed on the Nov. 2 election ballot.

The church groups, failing in their attempts to have the Board of Canvassers throw out the petitions, asked the Supreme Court for (1) a writ of mandamus forcing election officials to check the validity of the referendum petitions, and (2) a writ of prohibition against placing the issue on the ballot. Both were denied.

Petitions for the referendum were circulated by the Michigan Association of Non-profit Charitable Organizations.

The constitutional ban against lotteries reads: "The Legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets."

This would be changed by the amendment to read: "The Legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit any sale of lottery tickets, except subject to statutory limitations, lotteries conducted by or lottery tickets sold by non-profit charitable organizations as hereafter defined by law."

Nine Doctors Quit Staff of Flint Hurley Hospital

FLINT (UP) — Hurley Hospital's board of managers last night accepted the resignation of all nine doctors on the hospital internal medicine teaching staff.

Four other doctors were appointed to the staff.

The board and the doctors who resigned refused to divulge reasons for the mass resignation. However, one board member, who declined to be named, said yesterday it was partly the outcome

Witness Claims He Paid $2,500 to Dan Keating

Contractor Says Cash Was to Call Off Union Wage Hike Demand

DETROIT (AP) — A Farmington sand and gravel dealer testified today he paid $2,500 to an AFL Teamsters Union official to call off a union wage demand.

The dealer, Edgar S. Mather Jr., testified in Recorder's (criminal) Court he gave the money in 1951 to Daniel J. Keating, president of the union's Pontiac Local 614.

Keating and four other officials of the union are on trial on extortion charges.

Mather said Keating took the $2,500 and "forgot" about a demand the union leader had made for a 10-cent hourly cost of living pay raise for union members employed by Mather.

Yesterday, Mather testified he paid Keating $5,000 and Hector Detavernier, another Farmington contractor, paid another $5,000 to "fix" another wage case in 1950.

Elaborating today on this testimony, Mather said:

"He (Keating) told me the money was going to a party in the state or federal district attorney's office, but I didn't believe him.

"I took it with a grain of salt."

Other defendants on trial before Judge Joseph A. Gillis are Michael E. Nicoletti, Detroit, president of local 247; Louis C. Linteau, Pontiac, local 614 business agent; Samuel J. Marosso, Utica, business agent of local 247, and Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Milford, business agent of local 299.

Charging Buffalo Felled—in Ohio, Not Wild West

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A thunder of hoofbeats, the angry barking of rifles and the charging buffalo bit the dust just feet away from his two intended victims.

A Western prairie a century ago? No, a woods near here yesterday, with farmer Russell Kiko and his 13-year-old son Dan killing the 1,200-pound bison with .22-caliber rifles.

The buffalo was one of four which belong on Tony Diano's animal farm and have been breaking out and roaming hereabouts altogether too often to suit Diano's neighbors.

As Kiko and Dan tell it, they had chased the four bison — three bulls and a cow — into a woods on their farm yesterday. With them was a neighbor, Robert Yohe.

One bull turned around and pounded toward them, head lowered for action. Yohe, unarmed, zoomed up a high-tension electrical power derrick. Kiko and Dan pumped their .22s as fast as they could, with a score of bullets finding their mark before the buffalo was felled.

Schools Approve Building Plans

Junior High and Grade Units, One Addition Are Scheduled

Plans for a new junior high school, an addition to Daniel Whitfield School and a 14-room elementary school, on a site to be selected later, were given the green light at Wednesday night's Pontiac Board of Education meeting.

Beyster Associates, Detroit architectural firm retained by the board, presented land use and preliminary plans for the 600 pupil junior high school. The school will be on part of the proposed Perry street high school site. This comprises 109 acres.

Henry Haberkorn, of Beysters, said that if contracts could be let within the next few months, the schools would be ready for use in September of 1955.

Seven rooms will be added to Whitfield School to be used as a primary wing. The present facilities can be used for grades three through six.

In discussing the junior high school plan, the board and architects agreed that the optimum pupil load should be 1,000.

Mercury Dips to 29 in State Last Night

As freezing temperatures hit parts of Michigan early this morning, the forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is mostly cloudy with rain tonight and Friday morning.

The mercury dipped to 29 at Grand Marais and Pellston reported 32, but the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 53 to 57 for Pontiac tonight, high Friday, 70 to 74. At 8 a.m. today the mercury registered 54 degrees, reaching 70 by 2 p.m.

Yesterday's temperatures in downtown ranged from 52 to 70.

Another Year Begins

More Than 17,000 Pupils Return to Public Schools

Another year in the school careers of Pontiac boys and girls opened today. Junior and senior high school students returned to classes and pupils in the city's elementary public schools reported for enrollment.

Pupils through the sixth grade will start regular class schedules Friday morning.

Conferences and registration for kindergartners are taking place today and Friday with the beginners to return Monday for their first day of school.

Over 17,000 students are expected to take their seats in the Pontiac system representing a 1,000 increase over the peak load of last year.

Four new classrooms await students in the Bagley School area; two at Whittier; one at Owen and one at Malkin.

Hurricane Edna Lingers at Sea

Is About 280 Miles East of Florida and Heading Into Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edna lingered of the Florida coast today and forecasters believed the capracious disturbance might swing harmlessly into the open sea.

Edna, the fifth tropical storm of the season, was about 280 miles east of Cocoa, Fla., and was moving northward at 12 miles an hour with indications of a turn to the north-northeast.

Small craft from North Florida to Cape Hatteras, N. C., were advised to remain in port.

The Miami Weather Bureau said at 5 a.m. that continued movement toward the north is indicated for the next 12 hours, with the possibility of a slow turn toward the north-northeast which would carry it up the Atlantic and away from the U. S. mainland.

The storm still had winds up to 115 miles an hour over a small area near the center and hurricane force winds of 75 m.p.h. or stronger extended 50 to 75 miles north and east and 30 miles southwest of the center.

Florida was alerted but early yesterday the hurricane began slowing and shifting toward the north. Later in the day forecasters said there was a possibility "nobody will get hit."

Woman Killed When Hit by Car

Mrs. Helen Martin Struck Down Crossing Elizabeth Lake Road

Mrs. Helen Martin, 39, of 9215 Southeastern, White Lake Township, was killed last night when she walked in front of an auto on Elizabeth Lake Road near Cass Lake road in Waterford Township.

Police Chief Frank Van Atta said today that she apparently did not see an auto driven by David Youngquist, 26, of 4005 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Mrs. Martin was dead on admittance to Pontiac Hospital.

Van Atta said Youngquist and a witness who was standing near the scene, Miss Delores Smith of 8286 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township, will make statements at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office today.

Both Mrs. Martin and Miss Smith were employed at a near-by factory, Van Atta said.

Dulles Pledges to Back Chiang

Secretary Meets With Nationalist Leader as Ships, Planes Hit Reds

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist warships and planes pounded the Red China coast again today, even as U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pledged that Nationalist China "doesn't stand alone against the forces of aggression . . ."

Dulles flew here from the Southeast Asia security conference in Manila and spent three hours and 15 minutes closeted with President Chiang Kai-shek.

Only five hours after Dulles' special plane landed here he and his party were airborne again, headed for Tokyo.

In a statement read to newsmen at the airport, he reiterated that the U.S. 7th Fleet is under orders to guard Formosa.

He said Communist China now is intensifying military and propaganda activity against the Nationalists "but we shall not be intimidated."

(See story on page 17)

This statement was viewed here as a direct and challenging reply to Communist threats to "liberate" Formosa and as an endorsement of Nationalist attacks on Amoy and satellite bases from which the Reds have shelled the Nationalist island base of Quemoy.

Amoy is only five miles from Quemoy, just off the China coast 120 miles west of Formosa.

Buildings Topple and Utilities Fail in Orleansville

French Rush Troops, Ambulances to Scene; Injured Evacuated

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—A tremendous earthquake struck northern Algeria today, blasting the town of Orleansville and wreaking a toll which unofficial reports put at approximately 800 dead.

The French National Defense Ministry said in Paris that it knew of at least 200 deaths.

Eyewitnesses reported that the city of 32,500 looked as if it had gone through a heavy air bombardment.

At the Strasbourg Observatory, the shock was timed at 1:07 a. m. Scientists there said it was the worst to hit Algeria in 40 years.

Orleansville, a modern French town, built on an ancient Roman site, lies about 100 miles west of Algiers on the main rail line to Oran. It is the center of a rich farming valley. Some reports said it was 20 per cent demolished.

Barracks, stadium, postoffice, prison, hospital, two hotels, police headquarters, a small dam and a new Roman Catholic cathedral all collapsed or suffered heavy damage. About 40 travelers were buried alive in their beds when the Hotel Baudoin fell in on them.

Electric power was out and communications were cut. Troops and ambulances were rushed to the area.

Gov. Gen. Roger Leonard hurried to take command of rescue operations on the spot.

The area worst hit is between Tenes, on the Mediterranean coast, and Miliana, about halfway between Tenes and Orleansville. All villages were reported heavily damaged, with Vauban, Duperre and Rouina among the worst hit.

An airlift for the injured was set up between Maison Blanche airport at Algiers and the earthquake area. Among the first victims to arrive, many were suffering from fractured skulls.

A 400-bed field hospital was set up at Orleansville, and five surgeons were sent from Algiers.

Family Needs Raise When Baby Comes

ROME (AP)—When baby comes, an expert said here today, it takes a 25 per cent raise in income for the family to maintain its accustomed standard of living.

Erland V. Hofsten, of the Stockholm Social Welfare Board told 500 scientists at the United Nations conference on population that junior's cost starts lower, but rises steadily past that mark as the child grows older.

Despite the cost, however, another report indicated the average wife still wants children. Prof. Jean Stoetzel of France's University of Bordeaux said his survey showed relatively few wives want no children or only one. Most want three.

Dr. Hofsten told the experts from 70 nations his statistics on the cost of children do not include the value of the time parents must devote to their actual care.

McCarthy Insists on Right to Request Secret Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy insisted today there was nothing wrong about any of his calls for government employes to give him information, and his counsel sought to show other senators have used secret data.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) of the special Senate committee weighing censure charges against McCarthy ruled, however, that the group would not look into the activities of other senators.

Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's attorney, protested that the ruling "has effectively prevented us from putting in a defense to this case."

From the witness chair, McCarthy appealed to Watkins not to expedite the hearings "at the expense" of his defense. He said he was being "precluded" from making an adequate defense presentation by the ruling.

(See story on page 17)

Watkins said the committee could review the ruling behind closed doors later, but he argued that "if we ever let down the bars" and start exploring precedents for McCarthy's actions the hearings could drag out for months.

The legal brief offered by attorney Williams contended there was nothing "novel" about the position taken by McCarthy on secret government information.

It said a like position had been taken in the past by Vice President

Lake Street Residents Protest Location of New School

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Seventy-five residents of the Lake Street area appeared before the Pontiac Board of Education in a five-hour meeting last night to protest building of an elementary school on a site owned by the school district on Lake Street.

The group claimed that because of the Negro population in the vicinity, locating of a school there would make the building a segregated school.

The board, after giving the group and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People spokesmen opportunity to express their feelings, said the move was not a question of segregation.

Board members pointed out that while locating the building on the Lake Street site looks like segregation to the residents of the area, to the board the move means sound educational planning, locating the building where the children are.

Final action on the go-ahead for working plans for the new building was tabled until a later date by the board.

"It is a matter of locating a much needed school on the only property available. It is within easy walking distance for early primary children and is an endorsement of the Pontiac Board's policy of keeping beginning elementary children near their home centers," declared the board.

Purchased a year ago by the school district, preliminary plans have already been authorized for a school designed to meet the influx of primary students who will be ready for school in Sept. of 1955.

Citing last year's Supreme Court Decision as the "new policy of the land," the protest group said this tribunal's declaration called unlawful the segregation of students in public school. The group urged Pontiac to replace what they called segregation with integration.

Dr. Harry Riggs, speaking for the local NAACP, pointed out that it was the psychological damage done to a minority group which was the greatest danger in segregation.

"Part of a child's education should be in an atmosphere where he is accepted by all races. We have proof that there is a tendency to retard educational and mental development in the Negro child in a separated learning experience," he stated.

The Lake Street residents proposed to the board that they build a school on the Golf Drive site already owned by the district.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, urged that people begin to think in terms of the "oneness" of the district and try to eliminate drawn boundaries

Ireland Says Traffic Signal Not School Responsibility

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Contrary to reports, Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland said this morning that the question of a traffic signal at the Southfield-Beverly road intersection, which must be used by children attending the new Beverly school at that location, "is not my problem."

While within the Birmingham school district, the building is in Southfield Township. According to reports, irate parents have threatened to barricade the intersection next Monday, unless action is taken.

"This is not an arbitrary, but a legal position," Dr. Ireland maintained "I'm no traffic engineer, and have no authority to say what is needed in the way of protection at the crossing.

"This problem was discussed by the school board last spring, with the result that the Oakland County Road Commission made a study," Ireland said. "The survey showed there was not sufficient traffic present for a signal light.

"Furthermore," he said, "Southfield Township told us they would share in the cost, if the school board would also, but only if the school board stationed an officer there.

"We have no people qualified to assume this responsibility, and we cannot start employing traffic officers," Ireland said.

Meanwhile the township has temporarily stationed a policeman at the intersection.

$18,000,000 Project Features Time-Savers, Built-In Luxuries

BIRMINGHAM — Built-in time savers and luxuries are some of the dominating highlights to be noted at three model homes opening in the $18,000,000 Westchester Village development tomorrow.

The homes, part of a 600 house project in the area bounded by Maple, Cranbrook and Lahser roads, have been built by the Garling Const. Co. of Detroit, and feature three period designs; early American; French provincial, and modern.

Visitors will find refrigerators, freezers, ovens and ranges, dishwashers and garbage disposals built into cupboards and walls. Each home in Westchester will also have a built-in high fidelity record player.

Five national firms, General Electric, Carrier, Reynolds, Ford and Detroit Edison have contributed latest ideas in the building field.

Of the three models, early American is the period design of the Detroit Edison "Diamond Jubilee" house. The Reynolds "Mr. Peeper's Honeymoon House" has a French provincial theme, and the General Electric "House of Stars" follows modern lines.

Wait Hearing on Breakin at Birmingham Store

BIRMINGHAM — Two Detroit men waived examination and were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court when they appeared before Justice John J. Gafill yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Antonio Nicosia, 29, and Robert Modzelewski, 29, were ordered to furnish $2,000 bond apiece. Police said the two had admitted the theft of a radio, television set, $49 in cash and a safe containing over $625 in cash and checks, from Electronics Service, 1265 S. Woodward Ave.

Birmingham Justice Dismisses Dog Case

BIRMINGHAM—Justice John J. Gafill yesterday dismissed a disturbing the peace charge against Mr. and Mrs. Irving A. Taylor, 756 Abbey Rd. Complaint had been brought by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, of 660 Abbey, who had objected to the barking of two dogs owned by the Taylors.

The case was previously taken under advisement for one month, allowing the defendants to remedy the situation.

Lake Street Group Oppose School Site

in their concept of their school system.

State president of the NAACP, Edward C. Turner, charged that the North by custom was practicing the same segregation unintentionally as the South did by law.

"There is not a member of this board who thinks of students as one race or another. They are all children who need and are entitled to an education. It is up to us to see that they get it in the best facilities we can provide and at the greatest economy to the district," declared Mrs. Harry E. King, board member.

Dr. Whitmer reminded the group that they had met together two months ago and since that time had explored every possibility of another school site.

"If it were a question of two equadistant sites and both available with segregation a result of the choice of one, there would be absolutely no question in this board's mind," he declared.

Stating that the NAACP proposal for the Golf Drive site would require a two mile trek for early elementary students, he pointed out that the Lake Street site has a high safety asset within a few minutes of all the student's homes.

White People's Candidate Wins

Georgia Dems Choose Griffin as Gubernatorial Nominee

ATLANTA (AP)—Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin, the self-styled "white people's candidate," was swept to an apparently overwhelming victory in yesterday's Democratic primary for the nomination as governor of Georgia.

Running with the blessing of Gov. Herman Talmadge whose white supremacy championship he is pledged to continue, Griffin piled up a huge lead for all-important county unit votes—alloted to the counties on the basis of two units for each seat in the House of Representatives.

* * *

Former Gov. M. E. Thompson, who twice unsuccessfully opposed Talmadge, was far back in second place, still clinging to a fading hope that later returns might pull him into a runoff.

The only major candidate strongly advocating ratification of Talmadge's so-called private school amendment, Griffin hit hard at his opponents for their "softness" on that plan to preserve racial segregation in classrooms.

Reinforce Police as More Pickets Mob Square D

DETROIT (INS) — Police reinforcements were rushed to the strikebound Square D. plant in Detroit this morning as 13 UAW-CIO locals rallied to help the Independent United Electrical Workers Union resist the company's back-to-work drive.

The UAW officers, led by Carl Stellato, president of Ford Local 600, and Pat Quinn, vice president of Dodge Local 3, brought squads of pickets to the plant gates in violation of a court order limiting pickets at each entrance to five. Stellato said UAW members were not bound by the injunction.

Police Deputy Supt. Kennedy Lawrence, in command at the embattled plant, immediately put in a call for more officers. Shortly before the 9 a.m. starting time, when some 450 employes were expected to again cross the picket lines, 167 uniformed officers were standing guard.

Detroiter Is Fined $100 for Healy Shop Theft

BIRMINGHAM — Appearing yesterday before Justice John J. Gafill, David Berry, 38, of Detroit, pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving stolen property. He was fined $100 plus $35 costs, or 90 days in jail.

Berry was arrested when Detroit police found in his car two dresses that had been stolen from the D. J. Healy Shop, 256 W. Maple.

LLOYD C. MEGEE

Society Elects New President

Lloyd C. Megee to Head Crippled Children Unit in County

The Oakland County Society for Crippled Children last night elected Lloyd C. Megee of Clarkston as their new president.

Megee, former vice president, succeeds the late Philip C. Baker.

Other officers elected are: First vice president, Dr. Fred Haisen, Ferndale; second vice president, Mrs. Fred Rollins, Birmingham; treasurer, John Madole, and secretary, Mrs. E. Verne McCall, both of Pontiac.

The appointment of committees was also announced.

Members of the advisory committee are Lyle Baker, Royal Oak, Oscar P. Peterson, Birmingham, Gar Sweezey, Royal Oak, Mrs. Hope Scott, and William Wilmot, both of Pontiac.

Sweezey was re-appointed as general chairman of the Easter Seal campaign. The building committee chairman is to be William Bullock, Royal Oak.

Baker heads the revisions committee and Madole will be in charge of finance and budget.

Publicity will be under the direction of Herbert Lewis and Mrs. Scott will head the case committee.

One of the high spots of the meeting was the Birmingham Rotary Club's presentation of an adding machine, a typewriter, a substantial check for the purchase of eight wheelchairs, and the promise of a garage within 60 days. Dr. Matthew Cammareri made the presentation.

Among the more solemn events was a resolution of the directors, read by Mrs. McCall, formally expressing their sympathy and esteem for their deceased president, Mr. Baker.

The treasurer's report was read, showing a large increase over last year's balance.

Mrs. Gerald Kirkby, of Pontiac, executive secretary, gave a progress report, listing the society's accomplishments for the year.

Mrs. Kirkby and Mrs. Leon Skelly, of Pontiac, were named delegates to the state convention.

All but two per cent of the nation's farms now have electricity or have it immediately available according to Collier's 1954 Yearbook.

HUNDREDS KILLED IN QUAKE—Above map locates Orleansville, north Algerian city almost completely destroyed by a violent earthquake today. Unofficial reports said more than 800 persons were killed in the city of 32,500. Other heavy damage and loss of life occurred in nearby villages of Vauban, Duperre and Rouina.

Californian Gets Swimsuit Cup

Miss D. C. Captures the Talent Award at First Night of Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—Miss California and Miss District of Columbia shared opening night honors at the "Miss America" pageant.

Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, 19-year-old blue-eyed brunette, captured the swimsuit competition to best 16 other wouldbe beauty queens among the 50 entered in the annual pageant at Atlantic City.

Linda Maud Weisbrod, 21-year-old Washington brunette, who wants to pursue a career in opera, won the talent cup with her contralto voice.

In the third division of the competition — evening gown — no findings are announced by the judges, but Miss New York (Heather-Jo Taferner), Miss Canada (Barbara Joan Markham of Cornwall, Ont.) and Miss Tennessee (Gerry Johnson of Nashville) proved popular with the spectators.

The 50 lovelies—representing 44 states, three cities, Canada, Puerto Rico and Hawaii—will compete in each of the three divisions before five of them are chosen for the finals Saturday night and one named "Miss America 1955" to succeed Evelyn Ay of Ephrata, Pa.

Miss California, who entered the pageant "to further my theatrical ambitions," checks out at 5 feet, 8½ inches in height, 124 pounds in weight and 34½-22-35 by the tape.

McCarthy Maintains Right to Information

Nixon, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) and others.

Williams contended in his brief that "Sen. McCarthy by virtue of express statutory law and Supreme Court precedents was entitled to receive and (government) employes had the duty to give him or someone else in civil authority information on graft, corruption, Communist infiltration and espionage within the executive departments.

Furthermore, Williams said, McCarthy, as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee, "has the duty imposed upon him by the Senate itself to get this information."

Williams said "there is no charge against Sen. McCarthy that he has solicited employes of the executive branch to bring him general 'classified' and 'confidential' information," adding "he has not asked for this."

"He has asked," Williams continued in his brief, "for information on graft, corruption, Communist infiltration and espionage inside the executive branch. He has taken the position that if such evidence exists, it should not remain hidden and ignored."

McCarthy testified for the second day as his own star witness before the special Senate committee considering a resolution to censure him.

One of the charges is that he has asked government employes to give him secret documents in violation of the law and of their oaths of office.

Over 17,000 Pupils Return to School

the western part of the city came this year with the opening of the new St. Benedict Catholic School. An elementary school, their enrollment stands at 500.

Pontiac's other Catholic schools, St. Michael and St. Frederick, opened today with St. Michael expecting 700 students. St. Frederick, enrolling elementary students today and secondary pupils Friday, anticipates registrations over the 850 mark.

military boats and damaged other craft.

Nationalist warships were credited with sinking 6 motorized junks, damaging 20 others and capturing 3 in waters between Wuyu Island and Cape Chenhai on the mainland, another target for Nationalist bombardment.

Dulles drove directly from the airport to Chiang's downtown Taipeh headquarters for their first meeting since 1938 in Hankow. Later the two drove to Chiang's home for lunch and a long talk.

In his airport statement Dulles recalled that when he last met Chiang "China stood alone against the forces of aggression."

"Now, unhappily, new aggression is rife in the world, and all who would be free are in peril," he said.

"This time the Republic of China does not stand alone. The United States fleet is under orders to protect Taiwan (Formosa).

"Red China is now intensifying its military and propaganda activity against free China. But we shall not be intimidated."

"KID STUFF"—Frosty is up in the air simply because it's a kid, and kids, as little goats go, just like to climb up on stumps and jump off. Frosty lives with a lot of other kids at the Seven Gables Dairy Goat Farm at Wiley City, in the Yakima valley at Yakima, Wash.

18,500 Expected at University for Fall Term

ANN ARBOR—Classes will open Monday, Sept. 20, for the Fall Semester at the University of Michigan.

Predictions based on reports from the deans of the 15 schools and colleges indicate the resident credit enrollment should climb to 18,500 this fall, an increase of 1,000 from last fall.

Adding further support to President Harlan Hatcher's often-stated assertion that the University will continue to offer a strong undergraduate program is the report that a third record-breaking freshmen class in a row will enroll this September.

Freshmen entering directly from high school are expected to number 2,850, an increase of 250 over last fall. Transfer students will bring the total of new students on campus to better than 5,000.

As has been the custom for years, the University will hold a weeklong orientation program for the freshmen and transfer students. Campus tours, tests, physical examinations and registration are included in the program.

Buttonhole Drapery Tops

If you're making your own draperies, try finishing the tops with large bound buttonholes. Ornamental iron rods will easily pass through the buttonholes and the decorative effect is extremely novel and pretty.

School Plants Expanded

Unlike the situation in some Michigan communities and far too many throughout the Nation, Pontiac has been able to increase its school facilities to meet the growing need. As a result half day sessions won't be necessary in our schools.

By the time all grades get down to regular class work the first of next week, public school enrollment is expected to exceed 17,000, an increase of about 1,000.

To take care of this larger enrollment a total of eight new classrooms have been added to Bagley, Whittier, Owen and Malkim Schools. In addition, portable buildings have been erected at McConnell, Wisner and Wever Junior High.

Similarly, parochial school facilities have been increased. At St. Frederick's two classrooms have been added and a new school, St. Benedict's, with a capacity of 500 pupils will be in operation.

Public school registration in the State is expected to reach 1,325,000, an increase of 70,000 over last year. To accommodate these pupils 2,000 classrooms have been added at a cost of $80,000,000.

Figures show that nationwide growth of school population will continue. Total registration is expected to increase 8,000,000 by 1960. This Fall there will be 1,692,000 more elementary pupils, 219,000 more high school and 89,000 more college students. As for teachers, there is a minimum need for 118,000 right now, according to educational authorities.

Thanks to a far sighted school board and the wisdom of school district voters Pontiac is preparing for continued increases in enrollment. On June 14 the electors approved a tax increase plan to finance a 10 year, $9,000,000 building program which will add 206 classrooms.

The people of Pontiac showed by their votes that they don't want the kind of second class public school education half day sessions would impose.

Ike's Working Vacation

It takes only a casual glance at President Eisenhower's daily schedule at Denver to understand why his sojourn there should be called a working vacation.

Though he has been in the Colorado city much of the time since Congress adjourned, the best the President has been able to do is reduce his working day to five hours.

★ ★ ★

While he is far removed from Washington, the truth is that he never really escapes the pressures that beat around his high office. At Lowry Air Force Base just outside Denver is the vacation White House. There a staff of 50 employes is kept busy handling routine work. At least twice a day and frequently more often the President talks by phone with aides in Washington.

Even when he is playing golf he can't escape completely. A Secret Service agent with a portable two way radio in touch with other agents near telephones follows him around the course.

This year's vacation is marked by more tension than was his 1953 Colorado holiday. One reason is that this is an election year. Another is that when Congress adjourned it dumped more than 500 bills into his lap for approval.

Despite all this he manages to get some relaxation painting, fishing and playing bridge and golf. He also gets some restful seclusion at the home of the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. While friends drop in occasionally, they have shown appropriate respect for the President's need and desire for privacy.

Malan Challenges U. N.

On September 21 the General Assembly is scheduled to take up the issue born of South African Prime Minister Malan's disregard of U. N. trusteeship over South-West Africa.

Dr. Malan now declares the mandated territory part of South Africa. He has taken that stand despite facts disputing the legality of his action. One of these is the ruling of the League of Nations mandating South-West Africa to South Africa.

Another is that U. N.'s trusteeship division is the legal heir of the League of Nations' mandate system. A third is a ruling by the International Court of Justice that South-West Africa is still a mandated territory.

The reasons for this attempt to grab the former German colony aren't hard to find. It has considerable economic value because of its diamond, lead and karakul skin trade and its fisheries. South-West Africa's exchange earnings also have been bolstering the Malan government's fiscal position by reducing its unfavorable trade balance.

This case is a warning to small member Nations which have to look to U. N. for protection and aid in realizing their legitimate aspirations.

Many people are gunning for that $300 in U. S. Bonds, as every mail brings more entries in this column's football contest. It will be given no publicity outside of this column.

A letter written in a childish hand and signed simply, says: "I am eight years old. I have raised and sold stuff from our garden to pay for all of my new clothes and things to start school. I have two dollars left, and wish you would give it to the reward for catching that terrible man who cut out the little dog's tongue. I hope they catch him and cut out his tongue. My dog Ike hopes the same." The two dollars has been forwarded to the proper parties.

"They Call Me Bozo,"

Nobody has greater anticipation for the football contest than

Communism Not Merely Political Party; Also Organized Atheism, Says Reader

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I believe it is a terrible error on the part of the Press to think of Communism as merely a political party. It certainly does not jibe with what they say and teach. The powers of Moscow base their hopes of expansion on the work of militant Atheism and the corruption of morals.

Long before the triumph of Bolshevism in Russia they declared, "It has been decided in our councils that we must get rid of Catholics, but we do not want to make martyrs, so let us strive to popularize vice among the people. It must enter by the five senses. Make men's hearts corrupt and you will have no more Catholics. The best dagger with which to wound the church is corruption."

Mrs. Bella Dodd, once the nation's top woman Communist, stated that Communists finance 85 per cent of all filthy comic books in this country. Gen. Franco declared that prior to the Red inspired Civil War the country was flooded with immoral literature.

Communism is more than a political party. As a government it is Athesim politically organized and aims to gain control of all the economy so it has more power to carry on its diabolical work of destroying the morals of a nation, especially of youth for the purpose of enslavement.

Now if Christ has established His mystical body, the Church, Satan has also established his mystical body, the Anti-Church. These are the forces contending for the souls of men. The day religion comes to an end, the world will end.

Who Is Responsible for Man's Morals?

We find in the study of the New Testament that it is teaching man morals for the life in eternal formation.

I know of a man with eight or nine children. This man belongs to a church and is active in its belief.

When he selected the female form to wed, he vowed he would cherish, love and honor her, protect her from all harm until death did them part. To the world he appears as a pious man, walking upright in the eyes of God.

He has this family of children subjecting the loved form to a state of poverty in health and in material means for body comforts and cleanliness. When this mate of his choice was removed to the hospital for care, a few friends purchased the necessary garments for her well-being in the hospital.

The man is informed by the doctors that his beloved wife is about to die. The man cries out in pain at this news, shouting, "There is a higher power than the doctor's to heal her."

Yet he was so negligent with this beloved that he failed to take her to medical aid when first she began ailing.

Now whom is responsible for this man's morals? God or the man?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure; yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished. — Jeremiah 46:28.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Parents Should Avoid Making an Issue Over Stuttering by a Pre-School Child

Benny is not the real problem today. There is a woman in the case who is likely to "set" this nuisance habit until it becomes a permanent handicap to him. You mothers and fathers must overlook such speech difficulties at Benny's age.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-310: Benny R., aged 3, is a very smart youngster.

"But he stutters a great deal," his worried mother protested.

"His tongue gets so twisted at times that he can hardly utter a word. "It not only makes me nervous but even Benny himself gets angry at his inability to speak.

"Dr. Crane, I've corrected him a thousand times, but it does no good, so what would you suggest?"

We psychologists recognize a normal period of stuttering in the development of children. It occurs in this pre-school age when the boys and girls find their "speaking" vocabulary lags far behind their comprehension vocabulary.

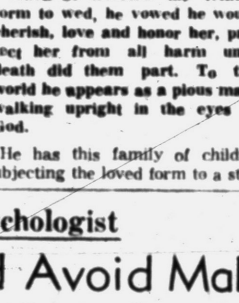

This irritates them, as well as their parents, as Benny's mother has so well indicated.

You adults who have studied a foreign language can understand this situation perfectly. For you can understand a foreign tongue much faster than you can speak in it.

In other words, your comprehension vocabulary exceeds your speaking vocabulary.

This situation is thus typical of youngsters like Benny, as well as those of high school or college age who are learning French, German or Spanish.

In Benny's type of stuttering, the parents, as well as visiting relatives, should never make an issue of his difficulty. They should tactfully overlook it, realizing that in another year or so, Benny will correct his trouble himself.

For his speaking vocabulary will then overtake his comprehension vocabulary.

But if a neurotic parent makes an issue of his stuttering and yells "Now stop and start over, Benny," she may "set" this stuttering in his nervous system and thus make it a permanent habit.

At present Benny is a nervous type of child, cooped up in a city apartment where he doesn't get the romping and running of the boy on a farm.

Besides, he has an I.Q. that is higher than normal. So he thinks faster than he acts or speaks.

Nagging mothers often are the cause for permanent stuttering in such youngsters. But irritable fathers who feel humiliated because their child isn't as adept as others in the neighborhood, may bawl out the youngster and thus make him a chronic stutterer.

So you jittery parents need to calm down and surround your children with a less hectic environment. Try to keep a soothing, happy atmosphere in your home.

Oh, I realize that isn't possible constantly, but at least shoot at such a goal as the bull's-eye.

And get your child a pet, such as a puppy, with whom he may romp and play, thereby expending his pent-up energy and quieting himself.

But when he does occasionally stutter at the age of 2 to 5, by all means IGNORE IT. It will correct itself in a couple of years unless you permanently "set" this nuisance habit by harping on it and scolding the child.

Aunt Het

I like to have nice things saved for company, but I don't see any sense in fillin' every drawer and shelf with stuff that's too nice to use.

James Marlow Says:

Committee's Impersonal Attitude Chills McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy said "I felt that . . ."

Sen. Watkins cut him short. "Let's not get into what you felt," said Watkins.

In a sentence Watkins pointed up the difference between last spring's televised McCarthy-Army hearings and the present untelevised hearings by a Senate committee on demands that McCarthy be censured for his official conduct.

* * *

The Wisconsin Republican is in an icebox. Washington has been sweating in a savage burst of summer. But the caucus room, where the present hearings are held, is cold. It's not the temperature. It's the attitude.

The committee of six senators, sitting across a long table from McCarthy, look at him as coolly and impassively as if he were a stranger. They do not appear hostile. They seem impersonal.

It apparently has been enough to chill McCarthy.

Chairman Watkins, dignified, white-haired Utah Republican and onetime judge, said repeatedly before these hearings began he would conduct them like an examination in a courtroom.

McCarthy tried once on Watkins what he did so many times successfully to Sen. Mundt (R-SD), chairman of the McCarthy-Army hearings: he tried to interrupt. Watkins banged him into silence with his gavel.

McCarthy hasn't tried it again.

Since he emerged into national prominence four years ago, McCarthy has been the center of an emotional thunderstorm. The best illustration is the intense feeling he has aroused in friend and foe.

In the hearings on his fight with the Army, McCarthy interrupted as he pleased, made speeches, new charges, fresh attacks and occasionally produced a sensation. Emotion was the steady thread through those rough-and-tumble days.

And upon occasion in those hearings McCarthy's voice vibrated with emotion. That kind of voice in the new hearings would seem out of place.

* * *

Watkins made it clear his committee wanted facts and evidence brought in and emotion and personal feelings checked outside. For the first week these hearings were enormously dull as the committee attorney droned evidence from past proceedings into the record.

Yesterday for the first time McCarthy took the stand in his own defense. The television audience which watched him last spring would have been astonished at the difference: the low voice, the "yes, sir" and "no, sir," the subdued voice, the lack of protest at interruptions.

* * *

It isn't Watkins alone who insisted that McCarthy keep personal feelings out of the hearings. Other committee members rapped him too, if gently.

At one point in his testimony yesterday, when McCarthy began drawing conclusions from what he had just said, Sen. Ervin (D-NC) broke in.

He told McCarthy: "Let us draw our own conclusions."

Again when McCarthy drew conclusions, which has been a regular practice with him, Sen. Case (R-SD) cut in with: "Let's get the evidence and let the committee draw the conclusions."

* * *

But the coldness of these hearings isn't directed at McCarthy alone. It pervades the caucus room and extends to the members of the committee too in their relations with one another.

When Case tried to interrupt McCarthy's lawyer, Edward B. Williams, Watkins, icily polite to everyone, stopped him in midflight. "Mr. Case," he said, "will you wait a moment until Mr. Williams has finished?"

Case said he would, and did.

Whatever Mendes-France is cooking up you can bet your store teeth it's not on the menu.

Looks to the unbiased foreman of the packed jury that Mendes-France is peddling the Moscow line. It's as possible as swimming fish he traded peace in Indochina for trouble in Europe.

Ever since he became premier he has his feather-edged shuffle working like a lamp-lighter in an eclipse.

His inaugural spiel was, "I will end the war in Indochina." That shows he was on the Moscow-Paris bee-line.

No guy ever won the La Savatte championship wearing carpet slippers. If Tiger Clemenceau isn't revolving in his tomb it's because they forgot to turn the crank.

One thing we didn't forget because we never knew it. That's in international diplomacy the art of double-crossing never reaches the saturation point.

It was several semesters ago that this stockpile of second guesses first realized that Sir Winston looked suspiciously like the smiling joss of Hong Kong.

Not the lightest tincture of organized doubt that 10 Downing Street is playing Beisbol with the Outlaw League.

It Helps

A coffee salesman was traveling through Alabama, and as he waited for a train in a small town he chatted with a lazy-looking man idling on a seat at the station.

"Ever drink coffee?" he inquired, with an eye to stirring up interest in his line.

The man admitted he drank a lot of coffee. Fifty cups a day.

"Fifty cups a day! Doesn't it keep you awake?" inquired the salesman.

"Well, it helps," answered the lazy one.

Two-Mile Hike Three Times Every Day Will Do You More Good Than Any Diet

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I was a very heavy smoker (writes a New York woman), 4 or 4½ packs of cigarettes a day. About two years ago I made up my mind to give up smoking, as I had this terrible cough and always felt sick.

But when I gave them up of course I took to chewing or eating constantly and in the course of a year I gained 40 or 45 pounds.

I am so conscious of my stoutness I do not like to go out amongst people, yet my will power is so weak I can't make up my mind to go on a diet. Here's a clean quarter and stamped envelope bearing my address. Please send your booklet Rules for Reducing, and any other advice you can give me. (Mrs. G. H. A.)

How do I know you should reduce? Maybe you need only six miles of oxygen on the hoof every day and regular morning and evening setting-up drill to correct the flabbiness you acquired in the years of shameful self-indulgence.

Millions of women make up their minds to go on a diet every weekend — a diet beginning Monday morning. A dozen of them do so, for a day or two, but there is always another weekend and another Monday when they'll go on a diet without fail, etc., etc. If talk would do it every nice looking woman would become a holy fright. How in Sam Hill did American women get this morbid notion that the ideal is a bag o' bones pushing around a pair of $2.98 falsies?

Besides a two-mile walk three times a day or a three-mile walk twice a day or a six-mile walk every day, or the equivalent in work, play or general exercise, if you have accumulated superfluous fat, you had better follow a corrective diet built on the basic health diet pattern given in Little Lesson 16, The 7 Keys to Vits, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Use the tape measure, not the scales, to determine your progress. Fat bulks larger than muscle and weighs less.

What you chew or eat constantly may be as important as your routine diet.

If your teeth are functionally efficient—if not it is imperative that you secure at once whatever dental treatment or dentures may be necessary to restore good mastication — restrict yourself to three chews a day, of whole wheat.

It is the common experience of habitual smokers to put on weight after they quit smoking and as a rule this is desirable.

In your case very likely the slacker flesh you have accumulated represents what you gain by "eating constantly." Without getting psychological about it, I suggest that you do something, instead of just idling your life away; something for your own good or for the good of your neighbor or for anyone less fortunate than yourself.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Crazy, Mixed-Up Talk to Be Used at Medical Convention

WASHINGTON (INS)—Patients who have long suspected that doctors had a language all their own were supplied today with a frank admission by the medicos.

The American Heart Association announced that its combined meeting with the World Congress of Cardiology, opening in Washington Sunday will mark the first time that an international language has been used at such a gathering.

As a medium of common communication, the specialists from 48 lands scattered around the globe will employ the language known as Interlingua for printing abstracts of scientific papers and the like.

Interlingua is a combination of all the common elements of most western languages, chiefly Spanish, French, Italian and Portuguese.

Here is how a typical medical statement looks in Interlingua:

"Studios clinic e metobolic essava executate pro promover le clarification del effectos de Rauwolfia Serpentina inpatientes in varie phases de morbo vascular hypertensive."

Translated into not-so-simple English, it comes out:

"Clinical and metabolic studies were undertaken to throw further light on the effects of Rauwolfia Serpentina (a new Indian drug) administered to patients in various phases of hypertensive vascular disease."

Development of the common language goes back to the beginning of this century when a well-known chemist, Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell, became convinced of the scientific need for such a medium.

Two scientific journals are now published entirely in the polyglot language.

Other translation facilities will be available for panel discussions and special lectures at next week's meetings. Six interpreters will give English, France and Spanish versions through 1,000 sets of earphones available to as many individual listeners.

The scientific groups claimed that Interlingua has a potentially limitless vocabulary and that its grammar is simple.

But they added this kicker: "As used at a medical meeting, however, Interlangua is more easily recognizable to physicians familiar with technical terms and Latin derivations."

Poultry Skin Scandals

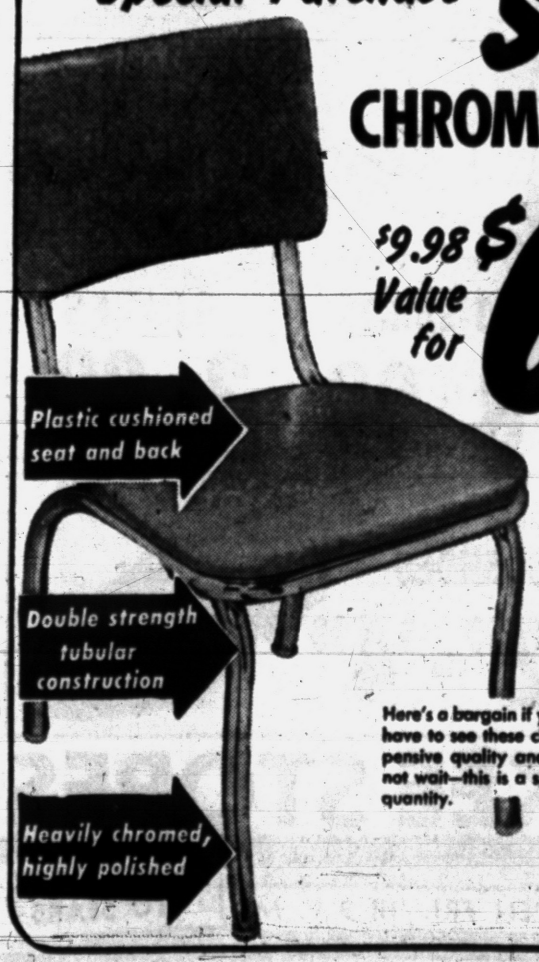

BUDAPEST (UP) — The Hungarian shoe industry will use the skin of turkey and poultry legs as ersatz for woman's sandals, the Budapest newspaper Magyar Nemzet reported. Such ersatz - leather has "an amazing resemblance" to reptile skin, like crocodile or tropical lizard, traditionally used for women's shoes. Sandals manufactured from goose-leg skin were "satisfactorily tried for four months" and will be exported now, the newspaper reported.

Pork Cuts to Be Featured in Stores This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Various cuts of pork will be among the most popular features in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And since pork—along with beef—rose sharply in price on the wholesale markets this week, it might be a good idea to buy it now. Meat specialists say that next week retail prices will be raised to bring them in line with wholesale quotations.

Prominent among the specials will be pork loins, with reductions of as much at 10 cents a pound; fresh and smoked hams, about four cents below last week's prices; fresh pork butts and pork chops.

Despite this week's rise at wholesale, one chain is trimming pork chop prices by from 4 to 10 cents a pound.

Legs of lamb will be another favorite. Meat experts also stress that turkeys of all sizes remain good buys. Chicken prices are considered reasonable and various stores will feature fryers and stewing chickens.

Prime ribs of beef will be featured here and there. Generally, beef and steak prices will be the same or a little higher than a week ago. A buyer for one chain says wholesale prices of beef are the highest so far this year.

Peaches, plums, prunes and grapes head the list of good fruit buys. The selection of melons is unusually broad: You can buy canteloupes, honeydews, Casaba melons, Persian melons or Crenshaw melons at moderate prices.

Most citrus fruits are higher in price this week. Pears also are up.

The decline of coffee prices that started in mid-August continued this week. In the latest devlopment, two of the nation's leading coffee roasters reduced wholesale prices by five cents a pound. They cut prices 10 cents a pound earlier.

By this time, coffee can be had at below $1 a pound in many sections of the country. However, an upturn in green coffee prices could reverse the downtrend at any time.

Brownell Calls 94 DAs to October Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today he is calling in all of the 94 federal district atorneys in the United States and its possessions for a three-day conference, Oct. 13-15.

The sessions in Washington, Brownell said, are designed to effect better coordination in all phases of the Justice Department's work.

Want Nudist Camp? Strip, Pay $30,000

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Want a nudist camp?

There's one near here for sale—$30,000 asked. The owners choose to remain anonymous.

They make it clear, however, that prospective buyers will have to strip if they want to look over the place, which consists of 110 acres, a 2½-story house, swimming pool and five grassy acres for sunning. They're determined that the camp is not going to degenerate into a rendezvous for people who wear clothes.

Nudists have used the camp for 18 years.

Baltimore Parents Ask Restored Segregation

BALTIMORE (AP)—Superior Court Judge John T. Tucker has given the Board of School Commissioners 15 days to show why they should not be required to put Baltimore schools back on a segregated basis.

Schools opened Tuesday with Negroes and whites in the same classes for the first time in history.

Judge Tucker's order was signed on a suit filed yesterday in which seven parents of six schoolchildren and two organizations seek to force the city to maintain separate schools.

Missing Court Reporter Locked Up by Mistake

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Things were a bit confused at the Court of Criminal Correction here yesterday. The court reporter, Roy Randall was missing for 10 minutes.

He had a good excuse. He had been accidentally locked in a storeroom with a woman prisoner.

He was found before he had to accept an offer from the woman to kick out a glass panel for him.

Reveals $7 Million Loan for Paraguay Plumbing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Export-Import Bank announced today a $7,200,000 loan to Paraguay for financing a U. S.-built public water system for Asuncion, its capital city.

Asuncion, with a population of about 250,000, has no public water supply system. Its water comes from privately owned wells, rainwater cisterns and carts which retail water throughout the city.

Condemning Property Years Ahead Not Legal

LANSING (UP)—Public agencies may not condemn private property years before the property is needed for public use on the theory that such action will save money, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled in a far-reaching opinion Wednesday.

The ruling came on appeal of a Grand Rapids couple from a Superior Court decision allowing the Board of Education to condemn their property for use as a site for the new high school, although the new school wouldn't be needed for 30 years.

STATE'S TOP JURIST—Justice Henry M. Butzel, 84, looks back 25 years on Michigan's Supreme Court as he relaxes at his Detroit office.

State's Chief Justice, 84, Marks 25 Years on Job

DETROIT — Henry M. Butzel, chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, has rounded out his 25th year on the state's highest bench—and he's still going strong.

But when former Gov. Fred W. Green named him to the post in 1929, Judge Butzel expected his term to be brief and wholly exhausting. Four justices had died of overwork in the preceding two years.

"They warned me the job was a man-killer, so I expected to stay no more than a year or more," he recalled. "But if I had it to do over again, I'd still take the job. It's been a wonderful life."

Now 84 years old, the judge still is as busy as ever. "Every day new cases," he says, pointing to the briefs and notes and law books that litter the desk of his office in Detroit's National Bank Building. "They never end."

Justice Butzel figures he's dealt with some 10,000 cases during his quarter century on the Supreme Court bench.

"Most cases," he says, "contain fairly clear-cut issues and are not hard to decide. But we get the tweedledee - tweedledum cases every once in a while where the issues are quite evenly balanced. Then we like to rule in favor of the lower court decision because the trial judge has had the opportunity of seeing and hearing the witnesses, which we have not."

The judge says Michigan's court system definitely could use some overhauling to reduce the flood of appeals which overwhelm the Supreme Court's eight justices year after year. The use of intermediate appeal courts, as in New York, Missouri and many other states, he believes, could best solve the problem.

"My only regret is that I have not been able to devote as much time to these cases as they needed," he says. "It's a feeling we all share up here. The volume is just too great."

Justice Butzel also feels the state needs a new method of selecting judges. This, he says, might be achieved under the Missouri Plan, which uses a combination of appointment and election.

The illness of Justice Butzel's wife makes his future uncertain. Nevertheless, he hopes that when his present term expires Dec. 13, 1955, he'll still be holding forth in Michigan's most exalted judicial chair.

Find Tombstone of Lincoln's Son

SPRINGFIELD, Ill (UP)—The tombstone of Abraham Lincoln's second son Eddie has been found by historians after being missing for 89 years.

Broken and lying face down, it was discovered serving as an entrance stone to the Oak Ridge Cemetery burial plot of the family of Ninian Edwards, Illinois' third governor.

• • • •

The body of Eddie, who died in 1850, six weeks before his fourth birthday, lies entombed with that of his father a short distance away. The whereabouts of the tombstone, a white marble slab, had been unknown since 1865, when Eddie's body was moved from a Springfield cemetery.

The stone was located by a photographer compiling a record of grave markers of Springfield persons associated with Lincoln.

Women Proving Capable 'Officers' of Traffic Law

CHICAGO (INS) — Many cities are finding women an asset in traffic—despite comments to the contrary from the opposite sex.

The American Municipal Association in Chicago has reported a growing trend toward the employment of women as traffic policemen throughout the nation.

The association said the fairer sex is used most often in parking and traffic control in the south.

New Orleans, La., Charlotte, N. C., and Richmond, Va., are among the southern cities to find distaff patrols effective in curbing violations.

In Richmond, women patrolmen draw the same pay as male members of the force and have the same authority—including the right to carry revolvers and to make arrests "on the spot."

In New Orleans, women serve as "traffic guards" and in Charlotte as "parking checkers."

The association said other cities with women on their traffic patrols include Seattle, Wash.; Evansville, Ind., and Phoenix, Ariz.

This authoritative, feminine role in traffic control is in addition to the one women have been playing for more than 20 years in protecting children at school crossings. Cities across the nation have been hiring women as school guards to free regular police for other duties.

Mighty Mo Jams Up Traffic in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—The people, obviously, loved the battleship Missouri but Long Beach traffic police probably will be relieved when the Mighty Mo sails northward today.

The battleship, moored here before proceeding to mothball status in Puget Sound, attracted a crowd estimated at 50,000 yesterday, thereby creating one of the biggest traffic jams Long Beach ever encountered.

At one time police had to restrict the outer harbor area to traffic at half-hour intervals, keeping one lane open for fire equipment.

Iced drinks produce a more rapid emptying of your stomach than hot ones.

Catch Prisoner Printing Bogus Bills in Jail Cell

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Luis Eduardo Shelly, serving seven years for counterfeiting, had another eight years added to his sentence today. Officials charged he kept in practice by running off bills on a portable press concealed in his cell.

Warders at the national penitentiary said Shelly had been selling the homemade currency to prisoners as they completed their sentences.

Coy Monkey Prefers Cemetery to Her Suitor

GALESBURG, Ill. (UP)—A female monkey named Cheetah caused a commotion by playing hard to get.

Cheetah, owned by Mrs. Opal Salee, was placed in a cage Wednesday with Joe, a male owned by Cal Hunter. Joe unlatched the door and his bride fled.

She was found perched in a cemetery tree two miles away. City firemen lured her down with cherry-flavored candy.

Harvest Moon Will Herald Fall's Arrival on Sept. 23

ANN ARBOR—Official opening of autumn and the shining Harvest Moon will be among September's astronomical activities, according to University of Michigan's Miss Hazel M. Losh.

As associate professor of astronomy, Miss Losh explains that the Harvest Moon scheduled to appear Sept. 12, at 3:19 p. m., is that occuring nearest the autumnal equinox.

"The autumnal equinox is scheduled to begin at 8:56 a. m. on Sept. 23 when the sun crosses the equator on its way south," she points out. This is the day the sun rises and sets at the east and west points of the horizon and the day and night will be said to be equal, she adds.

This is not strictly true, though, the professor says. For as the sunlight enters the atmosphere, it comes into a more dense region and its light is bent so that it appears to be "lifted" making the sun visible before it comes above the horizon and after it sets.

Among September's constellations, will be the legendary and famous Pegasus, Andromeda and Perseus, rising in the east and northeast just after sunset. Easiest to identify is "The Great Square of Pegasus" or the Big Diamond," marked by four stars equidistant apart.

"The northeast corner star of Pegasus is really a star of Andromeda," Professor Losh continues, "and its four bright stars stretch in a line parallel to the horizon. Legend says the constellation is the image of the heroine Andromeda chained to a rock by the sea where she awaits death, until rescued by Perseus."

Above Andromeda's third star is the Great Nebula, a universe similar to our own Galaxy or Milky Way system, Miss Losh states. "It is the most distant object seen by the human eye unaided," she adds.

Close to, and north of, Andromeda is the gallant hero, Perseus, a rough K-shaped figure with the downward side of the letter pointing to the small group of stars, The Pleiades, and the upward ending with Algol or "The Demon."

"The Demon" consists of two components, one bright and one dark, which revolve around each other causing an eclipse every three days and giving the impression of a blinking star, Professor Losh explains.

Cools Down Hot Hay

ROWLEY, Mass. (UP)—Rowley farmers have only to call Fire Chief Leonard Cook, if they feel their hay barns are over-heated and susceptible to fire. A representative of the agricultural school takes a temperature reading of the barn. He applies a cooling spray of carbon dioxide, if he decides the hay and barn are too hot.

Berry Production Drops

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UP)—Strawberry production in Kentucky in 1954 is expected to total only 55 per cent of normal, according to the state's department of agriculture. It estimated production at 65,000 crates, compared to 104,000 crates last year and 308,000 four years ago. Drought conditions of the past two years largely are responsible for the decline.

Drug Shortage Acute in Russia

Sufferers Often Wait 24 Hours to Receive Relief of Medicine

MOSCOW (INS) — A Russian aspirin has to travel such a long distance for processing it's aggravating almost as many headaches as it is relieving.

Raw aspirin manufactured in Moscow must be sent 7,000 miles to the east of Khabarovsk, north of Vladivostok, for pressing into tablets, then sent back again for distribution.

The central government newspaper of the Soviet Union, "Izvestia," notes this extraordinary situation in a sharply critical look at the nation's drug-supply industry.

An Izvestia survey of 120 Moscow drug stores reveals "thousands of customers" are being turned away daily because druggists just don't have supplies to fill their orders.

The paper found items like heart ailment and asthma medicines, penicillin and other antibiotics, and vitamin pills in critically short supply.

And there has been a complete breakdown in the system under which pharmacists are required to fill ordinary prescriptions within two hours and "urgent" prescriptions immediately. To quote Izvestia:

"A minimum of six to eight hours is required — and sometimes a whole 24 hours. One has to wait 24 hours for medicine for a person who is seriously ill."

The newspaper concludes:

"The supply of medicines and medical preparations need a lot of improvement. Not all of the problems are simple, but present conditions are intolerable. The first steps in solving this problem must be taken at once by the Ministry of Public Health in the USSR."

Army Plans Radios for Pentagon Autos

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army hopes to save time and money on its Pentagon auto fleet by inaugurating a radio-controlled "taxi" system.

The service was set up for a necessary convenience because of the high-ranking military and civilian personnel who often must grab their briefcases on the run upon an immediate call from the President, members of Congress or the cabinet. The cars are assigned to the Military District of Washington Motor Pool.

A trial run in the use of radio-dispatched cars at Ft. Eustis, Virginia, the Army's Transportation Center, proudced excellent results. Under the new system, a driver upon reaching a destination, would receive instructions via radio to pick up other passengers in the same vicinity for the return trip, thereby eliminating the need of dispatching additional vehicles.

According to Lt.-Col. C.V. Christianson, military district of Washington Transportation Officer, the use of radio equipment will greatly reduce the number of vehicles currently in use by the MDW Motor Pool and will "pay for itself" in a short time.

At first, the newly installed system will be used by 10 vehicles. It may later be expanded until the entire fleet of Pentagon cars is radio-equipped.

Burro Market Demands Strong, Importer Says

LAREDO, Tex. (UP)—The burro still has a place in this day of motor cars. Antonio Savazos believes. He has raised and imported burros for 50 years.

The market is still good, Cavazos said. The burros are used in donkey baseball games, as pack animals in the mountains, for sheep-herding, and by hunters to carry equipment.

Cavazos said many of the burros are sold for children to ride or drive. Some of the youngest, gentlest animals, he said, make good pets for crippled children.

Cavazos has a ranch near Villaldama, Nuevo Leon State, Mexico. He raises some burros there and buys others. He has pens on both sides of the international boundary—in Nuevo Laredo, Mex., and Laredo, Tex., where he keeps the animals until they can be sold and shipped to buyers in the United States.

The burros coming into the United States have to be dipped to kill ticks and other insects. Then the burros are tagged with a tin plate tied to a rope around the neck. Cavazos formerly tagged his burros with pieces of cardboard, but he had to change to metal ones because the burros often ate the paper tags before they got to their destination.

Forests cover more than 30 per cent of the total area of the Saar region.

Grayling Archer Fined for Shooting at College

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP) — Raymond Scully, 27, of Grayling, Mich., pleaded guilty in Police Court to charges of disorderly conduct and engaging in a dangerous sport.

He had been arrested on complaints that a man was shooting arrows into windows of Calvin College buildings.

He told police he was unable to sleep and decided on some archery practice to cure his insomnia.

He was fined $25 and court costs.

The nesting places of the cattle egret have not yet been located in South America although the bird appeared on the continent more than 20 years ago. Flocks have spread from British Guiana to Surinam, Venezuela, and Colombia.

New Synthetic Drug Aids in Shock Cases

CHICAGO (UP) — A relatively new, synthetic drug has been found of value in combating shock, according to an article in the Archives of Surgery.

Use of the drug, 1-arterenol, was described by Drs. R. E. Fremont, N. M. Luger, S. N. Surks and A. Kleinman, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

They said the drug, in conjunction with whole blood, plasma and fluids, helps to raise blood pressure.

It also permits some patients in profound shock to undergo life-saving surgery, they said.

The four doctors reported on 22 cases in which patients were given 1-arterenol. In each case, they said, the drug brought the patients out of shock when added to fluid replacement therapy which by itself had been ineffective.

The U. S. buys 60 percent of all Canada's exports.

Notorious Prison Escape Artist Joins 'Most Wanted'

(John Harry Allen, a bandit who has escaped from prisons in five states, is the new man on the FBI list of "10 Most Wanted" fugitives. He replaces the notorious gunman Nick George Montos, who was captured at Westchester, Ill., Aug. 23.)

By JAMES LEE

WASHINGTON (INS)—The FBI listed today as one of the nation's "10 Most Wanted" criminals John Harry Allen, 44-year-old armed robber who rates as one of the most expert escape artists in the annals of American crime.

Allen, who has boasted that he will shoot to avoid capture, has broken out of prisons in five states, including some of the country's supposedly "escape-proof" penal institutions.

His latest break occurred March 25 when he scaled the wall of the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing, where he was serving a 21-year sentence for the robbery of a market in Pittsburgh, Kansas.

Since his escape, Allen has taunted his former custodians with letters written from Arkansas.

He has been identified as the armed robber who staged a $2,400 market holdup in Coffeyville, Kan., April 24, a drive-in theater robbery in the same town on July 29, the looting of a supermarket in Springdale, Ark., May 22.

In his career of crime, Allen has broken loose from the Pocatello, Idaho, Jail, the Tennessee State Penitentiary, the Kilby Penitentiary at Montgomery, Ala., the North Dakota State Penitentiary and the Kansas prison.

Allen's break-out from the North Dakota Penitentiary at Bismarck provided a good example of his criminal cunning. Working in the prison yard, he concealed himself under a freight car and when a switch engine puffed out of the prison with the car in tow, Allen rode to freedom.

JOHN HARRY ALLEN

The FBI regards the "most wanted" fugitive as a vicious type. In 1950, he engaged in a running gun battle with Mississippi highway patrolmen.

A native of Tennessee who speaks with a southern drawl, Allen reportedly has stomach ulcers and subsists principally on a diet of raw eggs, milk, fresh fruits and vegetables. He never drinks or smokes.

Though in the past he has associated with notorious bank robbers, he is now known as a "lone wolf."

The FBI warns of Allen's arrogant boast that he will shoot to kill rather than submit to arrest, points out that he faces many years' imprisonment if captured, and urges great caution in approaching the armed and extremely dangerous desperado.

Here are aids to identification of the elusive criminal:

Aliases—Harry Allen Jerry Harry Allen, John Henry Allen, Jerry Holt, Thomas H. Holt, Tom H. Keefer, Tom Moore, Tom Tracy, Tom Slade, Tom H. Starr.

Description—Age, 44, born Nov. 10, 1909, Carroll County, Tenn.; height, 5 feet, 11 inches: Weight, 160 to 180 pounds; build, medium; hair, brown, graying, may be dyed black; eyes, brown; complexion, ruddy; race, white.

Occupations — Welder, farmer, laborer, cotton picker, woodworker.

Humble Serbian's Credo Shows Wish to Aid Men

By JOHN BARROW

CHICAGO (INS) — A 62-year-old displaced person who willed his pension back to his place of work is rounding out his remaining years by scrubing floors 48 hours a week at Chicago's Passavant Memorial Hospital.

One-time Serbian Schoolmaster Dragoslav Mitrovich explains; "If I had more, I would give it. I have nothing else but gratefulness."

The meager employe retirement fund from his $62-a-week salary represents the total of his worldly goods.

He has no glib explanation for his dedication. He says humbly: "Here I belong. I want to contribute."

In contrast to his solemn mission, Mitrovich is noted by co-workers for his spirited tenor singing voice. He handles arias from the opera "Rigoletto" and Serbian folk songs with near-professional flair.

Yet behind the five-foot-eight janitor with the close-clipped military mustache lies a tale of the likes sometimes heard in the bitter-sweet melodies of a Gypsy violin.

Troop movements and gunfire uprooted the hapless scholar when he was 20, at the University of Belgrade. War erupted in 1912 between the Balkan states and Turkey and Mitrovich volunteered as a hospital attendant, "to help others live."

After the Turkish war came World War One with Mitrovich and the Servian Army driven into retreat to Greece. Fate sent him to Italy and then to France.

By mid 1920, the University of Belgrade awarded him a diploma with specialities in geology and geography, and three years later he became a full "professor" of the gymnasium, or liberal arts academy, at his hometown of Chachak.

Each city had a gymnasium, a combination high school and junior college like France's lycee, enrolling students from the age of ten to 19.

The next 18 years made up the "humdrum" home - office - church slice of a man's life which sometimes flits by, unrecognized as the richest part of all. Mitrovich, however, could regard it as "the real part of his existence.

The calendar turned to darker pages and Mitrovish's father died in 1938, his mother in 1939 and his wife in 1940. And with a new war, the 48-year-old school master donned a quartermaster corps uniform in 1941 on April Fool's Day. Nazis captured him two weeks later and he spent the next four years in a POW camp near Osnabruck, Germany.

British Tommies freed him in April, 1945, but Mitrovish said: "A number of Yugoslavs refused to return to their homeland because the Communists had assumed rule."

He remained in Germany to teach school in the British zone where many Yugoslavs with children had collected in DP centers. The British commander named him superintendant of the schools for the Rhenish-Westphalian district.

An old man's final prayer was answered in late 1950 when Mitrovich strode down a gangplank at Ellis Island, N. Y. He exclaims: 'People are so friendly, so decent, so optimistic. As a professor I tried to help young people become healthy in mind, body and soul. Here, I see it everywhere."

Children Say: Give Us Money, Save Advice

NEW YORK (UP) — Fathers give too many lectures when they hand out the allowances, children from 10 to 18 complained in a recent survey.

The majority of young persons questioned said they would rather get their allowance from their mothers and skip the paternal lecture, the Youth Research Institute reported.

"When it comes allowance time I get a lesson in economics," one boy complained. Another teenager said, "It looks as if I'm going to go on paying for the tough times my father had when he was a kid."

The survey showed mothers do hand out more allowances than fathers. Only 29 per cent of the youngsters polled received their spending money from Pop.

Rabies Control Includes Fox Hunt in New York

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — The state conservation department disclosed that more than 4,700 foxes have been destroyed by trappers in a continuing program to control the spread of rabies in the state.

A department spokesman said the program includes trapping foxes in certain areas creates a "zone of scarcity" around that area. But that is only one phase of the program. Dog vaccination clinics also are part of the program.

Foxes are trapped during the period from April through November from a wide belt encircling central New York counties.

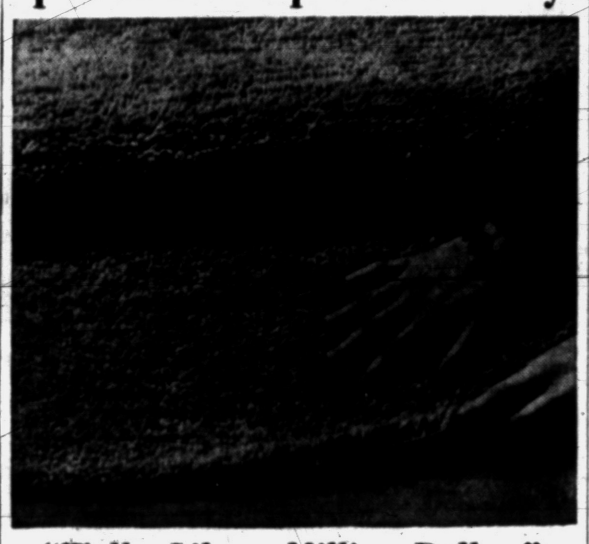

The program will continue. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has approved an appropriation of $80,000 to carry it out.

Brazil Is Promised Election Fairness

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President João Cafe Filho said last night his new coalition government "has no preferences" among contending parties in next month's general elections.

Speaking in a nationwide radio address on the occasion of Brazilian Independence Day, Cafe promised there will be no act of favoritism or hostility from his regime toward any group that shows itself favorable to Democratic ideals.

All of the National Parliament's deputies and two-thirds of the senators are to be named in the elections Oct. 3.

Cafe, formerly vice president, has headed the government since ex-President Getulio Vargas shot himself on July 24.

Animals Fight Enemies

LINTON, Ind. (UP)—Asa Fish told the Linton Daily Citizen editors he was sitting on a porch at his home watching a cat toying with a mouse it had caught.

A bird flew into the yard, and the cat deserted the mouse and pounced on the bird. The mouse scampered away, but an owl flew down and caught it and flew away with the mouse in its beak.

Towns Seeking Ferry Service

Frankfort - Menominee Run Is Sought by Civic Organizations

FRANKFORT (UP) — An old campaign to obtain state ferry service between here and Menominee in the Upper Peninsula will be re-launched at a meeting here today.

Officials of the Frankfort and Menominee Chambers of Commerce are getting together to discuss strategy to be used to get the state to operate car ferries between the two cities.

Both cities have been trying for years to obtain state ferry service and now feel they are closer to reaching their goal than ever before.

They believe the state will be in a position to establish a ferry route from here to Menominee when the $100,000,000 Mackinac Straits Bridge linking Michigan's Upper Peninsulas is completed in November 1957.

When the bridge is finished, the state will have at least two and possibly three idle car ferries that now operate between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, including the luxurious car ferry "Vacationland."

Construction of the five-mile span hadn't even started when proposals were made to establish state ferry service from South Haven to Chicago, Ludington or Manistee to Escanaba and between other cities on both sides of Lake Michigan with the straits ferries.

The Ann Arbor Railroad now operates a ferry between Frankfort and Menominee but it operates on an irregular schedule and can carry only a limited number of cars and no trucks.

Frankfort officials said they believe many big trucks would take a Frankfort-Menominee ferry if they could because it would cut off several hundred miles of driving for them and allow them to rest up before continuing trips to the far Northwest.

Many big trucks cross Lake Michigan on a car ferry operating from Muskegon to Milwaukee but Frankfort officials said many companies have told them they would send their trucks across Lake Michigan from Frankfort to Menominee if ferry service were available.

New-Type Boss Is Taking Over

Tact and Psychology Are Replacing Biceps and Gruffness

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP) Tact and psychology are replacing biceps and a rumbling voice as main requirements for the 1954 - style boss.

The key to these modern-day qualifications is development of new training techniques such as role-playing, forced leadership and voluntary discussion. These techniques stress persuasion over mere show of authority.

Thomas Q. Gilson, Rutgers University labor - management expert, said most large firms have abandoned the old idea of personnel being recommended by their superiors and then coached in their new jobs by their predecessors.

Gilson said present-day training methods are more efficient, more democratic, and more conducive of success.

Role-playing, he said, involves acting out by trainees the roles of others in a problem situation. The acting is spontaneous and gives observers a picture of attitudes and reactions under changing conditions, he said.

Forced leadership involves splitting a group into small subgroups, each assigned a problem to solve and report to the entire group.

In the process a spokesman or leader emerges. The process is repeated so everyone gets a chance to be a leader.

In voluntary discussion, case studies illustrating application of a particular principle are used in order to show potential supervisors or executives that there may be many answers to a single given problem.

Gross private domestic investment in the U. S. increased by 490 per cent from 1939 to 1951, one of the strongest gains on record.

'Boy' Finally Delivered to Cantors (Through Courtesy of Ed Wynn)

By EDDIE CANTOR

The papa of all the comics is Ed Wynn. He and I are the only ones around today who were in the Ziegfeld Follies. When the history of the American Theater is written, Wynn will occupy some of the most prominent pages.

Ed Wynn, like Danny Kaye, has never told an off-color joke. He's funny to look at—wears the most outlandish costumes—tells the most atrocious puns—and keeps an audience screaming.

Nobody ever used props to better advantage than Wynn. In "Manhattan Mary" he played the part of a waiter. An irate customer banged on the table, demanding service.

Wynn said, "I'm here to please you. What is it you want?" The customer yelled, "Where's my order? I'm so hungry I could eat a horse!"

Wynn made a quick exit and returned leading a horse. "Would you like ketchup or chili sauce with this?" he asked.

Off or onstage, Ed will go to any extreme for a laugh. I remember when my fifth daughter, Janet, was born. We were living in Great Neck, Long Island, at that time, and I telephoned the good news to all my friends, including Ed Wynn.

That night a tremendous box was delivered from Wynn. When it was opened, I almost collapsed laughing. It was a buoy from the ocean with a note saying, "Now you can brag that a boy was delivered to the Cantors."

Convict Fails in Try to 'Escape' to Soviet

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — A young prisoner who wants to trade the iron bars of Maryland's House of Correction here for the Iron Curtain of Russia was advised today he would have to stay in jail.

The desperate offer was made by Lawrence Banton, who has served half of a one-year sentence for attempted robbery.

He read a newspaper article on a proposed amendment being studied by the last Congress which provided, in effect, foreign aid funds to pay for one-way tickets to Russia for citizens of the United States who want to go to Russia and stay there permanently.

However, by the time Banton's inquiry reached its destination, the amendment had been killed in a congressional conference.

Warden William F. Syeiner said Banton, an Army veteran, was trying to get to Russia for a chance to "start life over." He said the young inmate was prompted by despair over his jail sentence and tangled family affairs.

Coast Guard Radios Medical Advice for Dog

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A radio message from the fishing boat Huson, anchored off Santa Rosa Island, to the Coast Guard said:

"Can we get medical advice for a puppy in misery? Right ear running quite a bit. Dog is nervous and itches, but has no fleas."

Such an emergency didn't daunt the Coast Guard, whose motto is "Semper paratus" (Always prepared). A veterinary was consulted. The radio answer went something like this:

"Dog apparently has foreign object in ear. Administer aspirin to keep puppy quiet until reach shore."

Communists Deliver 241 More U.S. War Dead

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Communists delivered the bodies of 241 American and 9 British war dead today in the ninth day of the exchange of soldiers killed and buried in enemy territory.

The delivery brought the total to 1,850 bodies handed over to the Allies, including 1,522 Americans, 51 British, 69 Koreans, 19 Australians and 189 of unknown nationality.

Camp Oakland Summer Program Termed Success

By ROBERT F. MAHER

More than 400 girls and boys from Oakland County in the "needy and underprivileged" class are still swapping stories today about their two weeks summer vacation at Camp Oakland.

Their taste of life in the country was received in groups of 50 that bunked in cedar cabins for two weeks on the shore of the camp's private 50-acre lake, nestled in the midst of 320 acres of rolling farm and woodland.

William Matus, superintendent of Camp Oakland and Boys' Ranch, and James Hunt, director of juvenile functions for the county, both agree that the summer vacation plan, tried on a large scale for the first time this year—was a huge success.

"This program for children under 14 years of age is fully rewarding for those who initiated it merely from the looks of complete contentment and happiness exhibited by youngsters lucky enough to have spent some time here," Matus said.

"But the greatest reward of all is in the knowledge that these children are learning to live and work together, while they play and share together."

The children are housed in units that are comprised of three, 16-resident cabins, with an additional two counsellors per cabin, and a centrally located building for sanitary purposes.

One complete unit was in use this summer with one cabin of another unit also utilized. By next summer the other complete unit is expected to be in operation with future plans calling for upwards of 1,000 children per summer.

Construction is provided by civic groups with no cost to the county, Hunt pointed out, and their cooperation in the past has been extremely valuable and deeply appreciated.

A 10-week summer schedule will go into effect next summer, Matus said, and he and Hunt are now mapping plans for use of the camp's facilities for winter sports.

Rolling hills afford excellent toboggan slides for weekend excursions but one minor detail may prevent the use of the natural slides. The "minor detail" referred to by them is the complete lack of any winter equipment.

"Last year some of the children improvised with cardboard boxes and had a wonderful time, but cardboard will never take the place of real toboggans for winter thrills," they explained.

"Help in our program has come unexpectedly at times and we're hoping now that Santa Claus will provide us with some equipment before all the snow is gone."

Another energetic endeavor being undertaken is the splitting up of county communities into sections, with each section being allotted a specific time period in which to bring needy youngsters to the camp.

"In order to make the plan successful, however, each section will have to provide its own group of counsellors for the vacation period and we'll provide all the supervisory personnel."

Successful operation of the camp to date has been largely attributable to the scores of volunteers who have come to the camp for brief periods to fill the several necessary supervisory spots.

"Large numbers of Circuit Court employes, nurses, teachers, and other qualified persons have helped tremendously in the past and we're hoping that others will do the same in the future," Hunt said.

"There's one thing we're grateful for in the present physical setup of the camp and that's a newly completed mess hall which can easily handle 150 persons per meal."

"With such a facility we can point toward construction of more living units, knowing we can take care of additional needs in the feeding department."

Donations of individuals, estates, service clubs and service groups have provided all the land, buildings and equipment at Camp Oakland.

Cost of summer camp operation is offset by similar donations so that Oakland County residents will not have the burden of supporting the camp by taxes.

The final end-product of such an organization is the successful prevention of juvenile delinquency—an important achievement in today's challenging world.

The hope of those responsible for the camp's founding is that enough persons maintain a lasting interest in the camp's future.

For those who find it difficult to believe that such accomplishments are being achieved a standing invitation to inspect the camp at any time has been extended.

AFFECTIONATE RACCOON—This rare albino raccoon shows his appreciation by cuddling up to Henry Ringstradt, maintenance engineer at the Oakland County Animal Welfare Shelter where workers are caring for the lost animal. The bushy coon was found on the front porch of a home owned by Thomas Nichols, 343 W. Pike St. last week. Mrs. Nichols said the raccoon was "so friendly" that her daughter, Connie, 10, and nephew, Jimmy, 9, wanted to keep him as a pet. Dr. F. R. Bates, director of the shelter, quoted experts as saying the albino is extremely rare. Ransom Vliet, 65, the shelter's chief deputy, said he has been hunting raccoons over 40 years, "but this is the first albino I've ever seen."

McCarthy Reported Subdued in Role as Witness

Shows Emotion Only Briefly

Hearing in Marked Contrast to Spring Army Hassle

WASHINGTON (INS)—A differ ent Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is o the stand in the senate caucu room today.

He appears much more subdue than the senator the televisio audiences watched in last spring' Army-McCarthy hearings. He vol unteers few remarks, his answer are comparatively brief and h has yet to raise a single point o order against procedures.

Perhaps it is the dampened atmosphere of the hearings that makes everything seem as it played in a minor scale. Gone are the television cameras with all their trappings and the white glare of lights that added to the excitement of the earlier inquiry.

However, McCarthy's attorney young Edward Bennett Williams is understood to be a major reaso for the difference in the senator' manner. Williams demanded a the start the right to do the talkin for both himself and his client.

McCarthy, in starting his testi mony Wednesday, even shortene his name.

After swearing to tell "the truth, the whole truth and noth ing but the truth," he was asked his name. He replied: "Joe McCarthy."

This is what he has been callin himself unofficially for severa years, but his full name is Josep R. McCarthy, with the middle in tial standing for "Raymond."

The emotion-packed voice of th "old" McCarthy rang out briefly while the senator was reading from the transcript of a hearing last winter when he was accused of "abusing" Brig. Gen. Ralph W Zwicker.

Looking up from the transcript and gazing directly at Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), McCarthy exclaimed: "I said he was not fit to wear the uniform of a general. I think he was not . . . I said that then, I say it now, and I will say it again."

McCarthy and Watkins had al most a scholarly discussion on the rights of a senator to prod a wit ness in cross examination. Watkins wanted to know if McCarthy thought a senator should lecture a witness or say "derogatory" things about him.

The Wisconsin Republican quick ly replied: "Certainly you should not abuse a witness but I think there should be considerable lati tude in cross examination . . . when we get an obstreperous wit ness, a witness who changes his story page to page, quite possibly we might get a little intemperate with him."

Watkins asked if it "isn't pos sible we might lose our tempers" and McCarthy smilingly replied: "I try not to lose mine."

The nearest the hearing came to a chuckle Wednesday was when Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan) was questioning the practice of per mitting senatorial assistants to sit in for their bosses and ask ques tions at committee investigations.

Carlson said that "if we con tinue to expand on this procedure, the time might come when we would let our administrative as sistants sit in and the rest of us go fishing."

With this slight exception, the mood of the hearing and the star witness was somber, slow and minus drama.

Lean Years Deductible to Up Security Payments

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of eight articles dealing with 1954 changes in the Social Security Act. Reprints are available by contacting the Pontiac Social Security Office, 322 Hubbard Bldg.)

In computing a worker's average monthly wage, upon which his benefit checks are based, years of low or no earnings may now be dropped out bringing up the average and the corresponding payments.

If a worker has at least 1½ years of employment under social security after June 30, 1953, or is eligible for benefits after Sept. 1, 1954, up to four years of low earnings can be overlooked in figuring his average wage.

Those with over five years of covered work can drop up to five years from their record if desired.

The amount of a retired worker's benefit is figured by first finding his average earnings from his official social security record.

From his average earnings, using a formula given in the law, the amount of the worker's retirement payment is computed.

Under the old law average income could be pulled down by years when a person had no income or very little. Now, if a person qualifies, these low income years may be disregarded.

For example: a man becomes 65 on Jan. 1, 1956, stopped work in July 1955, and filed for benefits upon reaching age 65. He had the following earning since Jan. 1, 1951:

1951	$2,500
1952	$3,600
1953	$3,600
1954	$3,600
1955	$1,800

His average monthly wage over the period is slightly over $250. The benefit rate on this average would be $88.50 per month.

But because he has at least 1½ years of covered work after June 30, 1954 or is first eligible for benefits after Sept. 1, 1954, he can drop low-income years to raise his average earnings figure.

The low years of 1951 and '55 are dropped. His average for the remaining years is $300 per month, which produces a benefit of $98.50 — an increase of $10 over what his check would have been under the old law.

'Pooch Party' Set for September 17 at Oakland Park

Young dog owners 7 to 17 years old will be able to show their pets in competition for prizes at the 5th annual Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department "Pooch Party" Sept. 25.

Co-sponsored by the Pontiac Kennel Club, the event is slated for Oakland Park at 2 p.m., according to David R. Ewalt, parks department director.

"An entry that is 'just dog' will have as much consideration as will the pedigreed dog," said Ewalt.

The contest will include two divisions. A junior grouping for youngsters 7 to 11 and a senior section for 11 to 17 year olds. Dog owners are eligible who have not reached their 17th birthday by Sept. 25.

Four events are planned:

1. Best groomed — applying to hair, skin, toenails, eyes, ears and teeth.

2. Best trick dog — judged by number of tricks and how well they are done.

3. Best informed owner — on general points about dogs, such as feeding, grooming and first aid.

4. Best pet combination — on evidence of good fellowship and understanding between dog and child.

"Dogs must belong to the immediate family," said Ewalt. "A person cannot enter a dog belonging to a neighbor."

Prizes from the Kennel Club will include ribbons for all first, second and third place winners, an award for the winner of each class and a trophy for the dog judged best "all around dog."

The show will climax "National Dog Week" Sept. 19 through 25.

Applications to enter the local show can be obtained at the parks department, 35 Hill St. and at schools.

It's Moisture, Not Joy Making Bathers Sing

OXFORD, England (UP) — A British scientist believes that moisture in the air makes men sing in the bathtub.

Geographer O. Hinchcliffe of Glasgow University told the British (scientific) Association Wednesday that climate affects human behavior.

"It has been suggested that increasing humidity so affected the vocal cords that those who were least gifted with song burst forth when rain was imminent," Hinchcliffe said. "It might also solve the problem as to why men sing in their baths."

Miss Universe Shuns Lush Movie Contract for School

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Miriam Stevenson, Miss Universe of 1954, has shunned Hollywood to go back to school.

The wholesome, country-reared Miriam, 21, announced yesterday she was terminating her six-month $250-a-week contract at Universal-International Studios, the chief prize she won with her title last July 24.

* * *

The termination was by mutual consent, but Universal spokesmen insist it is all Miss Stevenson's idea.

Did she have any talent? Those who worked with her say: As much as any girl with a nontheatrical background can display in a few weeks of coaching. Didn't she like pictures? She says she did, and she says she enjoyed meeting a lot of interesting people—the kind she doesn't see around her home town of Winnsboro, S. C.

Well, what, then? Miss Stevenson may not be too sure herself. She said:

"Things have happened so fast since I came out here for the contest that I've been studying and wondering what to do. And I decided I'd better go back and finish school. Yes, I know I arranged to put off my final year when I won the contest, but that wouldn't be right. I wouldn't want to do that now. I want to finish with my classmates."

* * *

Miriam has had three years at Lander College for Girls at Greenwood, S. C. She's always been an A and B student.

* * *

"But I don't know how good an actress I'd make," she said.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stevenson, said in a Winnsboro interview last month that Miriam is a determined girl who will do what she thinks she should, regardless of attempts to influence her. They probably won't be too surprised by her decision.

In 1952 the first Miss Universe, Armi Kuusela of Finland, decided to return home after winning the contest.

Ike's Foreign Policy Aimless --- Adlai

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, pinpointing the task of the Democratic party's nationwide campaign opening today, says it should "give direction again to a foreign policy which wallows aimlessly and dangerously while a bunch of bickering helmsmen quarrel at the wheel."

The 1952 candidate for president promises, at the same time, that Democrats this fall will "talk issues . . . whether the Republicans want to or not."

* * *

Stevenson spoke last night before 3,000 persons who paid $100 a plate at a Democratic fund-raising dinner officially commencing 36-year-old State Sen. George M. Leader's campaign for governor of Pennsylvania.

* * *

The Keystone State has had only one Democratic state administration in nearly 60 years.

Stevenson took note of this and, borrowing from a popular Republican campaign slogan of 1952, quipped that in Pennsylvania in particular it is "really time for a change."

The speech was the first major address by a party leader since Labor Day, the traditional opening day of campaigning.

Admitting that he is no "great admirer" of the Eisenhower administration's recent conduct of foreign affairs, Stevenson said he feels "no inclination" to blame the Republicans for the Indochina situation.

* * *

"Nor am I even tempted in this direction by Vice President Nixon's newest nonsense — that the Democrats are responsible for the loss of Indochina," he added.

* * *

Appealing to fellow Democrats to stick to "issues" this fall, he declared:

"We face the obligation to lift this campaign a considerable notch above the level of slander and ugly bitter name calling to which our political dialogue has sunk in recent months."

* * *

Country must be placed above party, he said, and "decency above ambition" during the weeks of the campaign.

"If it is the Republicans' choice to generate heat, it is still our duty to shed light," he said.

* * *

"And if the time ever comes when Republicans really regard Democrats or Democrats regard Republicans as enemies then truly the processes of democracy will stop — for those processes require, as between the two great parties, compromise, cooperation and respect."

Flash Flood in Florida Douses Newspaper Ad

DEFUNAK SPRINGS, Fla., (UP)—The Peoples Water Service Co. ublished an ad in the Defuniak Springs Herald announcing severe restrictions on using water to sprinkle lawns in the dried-out city.

A few minutes after the weekly edition was mailed to subscribers Wednesday, a flash flood hit the community, dumping more than one inch of rain on the parched area in 30 minutes.

Murder Charge Filed

FLINT (AP)—Floyd Taylor, 29, of Flint, was charged wth first degree murder Wednesday in the fatal beating of his 32-year-old common law wife, Joyce. Police said Mrs. Taylor died of a brain hemorrhage in a taxi cab on her way to the hospital Sunday after she was struck by her husband during an argument.

Admiral Guards Pacific

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—President Eisenhower recently said that if the Chinese Reds try to invade Formosa they will have to run over the United States 7th Fleet.

He might have added, "And a fellow named Stump."

Adm. Felix B. Stump is a brusque, plain-spoken West Virginian, nearing 60, with 37 years experience on virtually every type of Navy craft. He has been bombed, shot at and torpedoed. He started flying in 1919 and is a graduate of that hard World War II school of naval warfare which taught the tremendous importance of air power.

* * *

And he hates Communists.

Stump commands the Pacific Fleet, of which the roving 7th is an integral part.

* * *

For some five years, it has been patrolling the 100-mile-wide Straits of Formosa, separating that strategic Nationalist-held island from the Chinese mainland.

Stump is no sword rattler. He said in an interview that he does not believe another war is imminent. "We won't start a war and we won't start a preventive war," he said.

At the same time, he believes in acting fast when circumstances demand. Two months ago, Chinese Red planes shot down a British transport off Hainan Island, and U.S. Navy fighters were detailed to the scene to search for survivors. Red fighters jumped them, and the American pilots shot down two Communist planes.

Stump said the pilots had been instructed to be "alert and restrained," and if necessary, "quick on the trigger." He outlined this procedure:

* * *

"If any U.S. plane is attacked or approached with obvious hostile intent, it will fire back. In other words, you don't have to wait to get your head blown off to shoot back."

In his working day—which is seven days a week and sometimes at night—he is "rough and brusque as hell, but always considerate," as a member of his staff put it.

Outside the office, he likes to putter in his garden, hunt and fish, play tennis, and romp with his children, Frances, 12, and Felix Jr., 9.

* * *

He has a sharp sense of humor and occasionally it brushes off on his subordinates. They tell this story about him when the Lexington was hit and for two hours was in a hot fight as it evaded attacking Japanese planes. Stump noticed that a sailor seemed nervous and in an attempt to cheer up the lad said:

* * *

"Did you ever think you'd have a front row seat to a circus like this? All we need are some peanuts."

The sailor, from Georgia, later presented the admiral a sack of peanuts.

Boy Playwright Gives Gloria Grahame Advice

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—We're now in the carefree days between wars . . . and should laugh whenever we can.

So I hunted down a Wisconsin farm boy . . . one of the most amusing men in town.

"What's funny?" I asked boy playwright Howard Teichmann, George S. Kaufman's collaborator on "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

Gloria Grahame's wedding to Cy Howard was," replied Teichmann, an ex-roommate of Howard, the zany Hollywood producer.

On her wedding night, Miss Grahame, talking to Teichmann on the phone, said, "You know Howard . . . would you give me one word of advice?"

HOWARD TEICHMANN

"Yes," shouted Teichmann, "Reconsider!" . . .

Miss Grahame'd been married twice before . . . and her young son told her the night before she married Cy, "Mommy, if you blow this one, you're finished."

"Tike"—as they call him—has been busy recently not smoking, not writing a new play with Kaufman and not telling stories about Kaufman.

"Max Gordon got me to quit smoking," Teichman told me as he sipped milk at Sardi's. "The payoff is, then he started smoking."

He and Kaufman wrote three-fourths of a new play, then abandoned it. But he admires Kaufman more than ever.

"Kaufman hates people to say he's witty. I wrote one such piece and he rebuked me. He said I should always say he's a nasty, lazy bum. I did, and he said, 'Thanks, that was fine'."

Their play, "Cadillac," is to be brought out in a book.

Teichmann dedicated it "to Charles E. Wilson, Robert R. Young and the other small stockholders of America."

He also got the mayors of Natchez and Pittsfield, Mass.—which are mentioned in the play—to write defensive introductions.

Natchez is called "the jewel of the swamps."

Teichmann got the mayor of Natchez to complain, "Such inaccuracy!" and add that the fair city of Natchez isn't in a swamp—they must have been thinking of Upper Natchez, a half mile away.

Cancer Less Likely in Mothers of Many

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women with large families seem the least likely to develop breast cancer, scientists from five continents reported today.

Their studies indicated that unmarried women over 35 are most likely to have the disease.

Results of the studies were reported at a cancer panel meeting at the International Congress of Pathology, attended by about 1,500 scientists from more than 30 nations.

Kills Fly With a Towel, Sends Wife to Hospital

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP) — The next time George Eltgroth decides to go after a fly roaming his bedroom, he'll think twice before using a towel as a weapon.

The 40-year-old Syracuse man bagged his prey with a swipe of the towel, but he also shattered a light bulb and sent his wife to a hospital.

Fido and Pussy Rated Tops as Pets in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP) — A lot of people have hamsters, skunks, alligators, monkeys and parakeets for pets. But a survey shows that the old standbys—the dog and the cat—still are the favorites.

The National Geographic Society reports that the U.S. dog population is about 23,000,000. Estimates on the number of cats run to 27,000,000.

Ike Exceedingly Worried by Gunfire Off Formosa

By MERRIMAN SMITH

DENVER (UP) — Backstairs at the summer White House:

No reason to get excited, but the President is exceedingly worried about the gunfire off Formosa.

The big brass of American intelligence still wonders whether the Communist muscle act is pressure on the Southeast Asia treaty negotiations in Manila or a preface to war.

Best bet: The Communists are running a propaganda campaign.

• • •

The new crisis in the Far East had made Eisenhower's so-called vacation something less than a holiday. He spends long hours at home—the Lafayette street house of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud—on the telephone to Manila, Washington and points east and west.

Sometime this weekend, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may arrive at Lowry Air Force Base to give the chief executive a first hand report on what went on at Manila.

• • •

Who is the mysterious source of the daily orchid corsage that arrives every morning at 750 Lafayette St. for Mrs. Eisenhower? Mamie loves the flowers, the President likes to see her wearing 'em and the corsage-sender is probably an old friend of the family.

Matter of fact, the Eisenhowers get a daily deluge of gifts. The range runs between toy heilcopters from the Marz Toy Co. to prize-winning pies from county fairs.

• • •

When a big shipment of cheese arrived at the Layfayette street house, Mrs. Doud whacked it up into proper portions and divided the loot with the neighbors on the block.

The President usually leaves Mrs. Doud's house at about 7:20 or 7:25 a.m. for his working offices at Lowry Field. Rarely does he pull away from the curb in a big Chrysler limousine without kids from across the street shrilling, "Hello, Ike."

State Park Crowds Set Up New Marks

LANSING (AP) — Attendance at Michigan state parks has already broken the record with several weeks of the normal park season still to go.

Conservation department reported today that heavy use of the state's 60 parks and recreation areas over the Labor Day weekend boosted the total attendance for the year so far to 14,977,000.

This is 2,074,000 more than the 14,161,000 total attendance in 1953, the previous record year.

The big sequoia trees of California are one of the surviving links between the firs and cypresses. The giant trees were once found on four continents.

Eighth Wife Wants to Divorce Hotelman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The eighth wife of a Hollywood hotel owner, Glynn Wolfe, 46, is suing him for divorce or annulment and asking $220,000 damages.

Mrs. Shirley Wolfe, 17, alleges fraud and assault in her complaint. The Superior Court yesterday denied her $500 a month temporary alimony but ordered Wolfe to pay attorney's fees and costs of her suit.

Wolfe, admitting eight marriages told the judge: "My wives divorced me; I don't divorce them." He said he and Shirley eloped last June to Juarez, Mexico, where two of his previous wives had divorced him.

Misfortune Often Means Success for Understudy

NEW YORK (INS)—In the theater, the understudy sits around waiting for the star to get ill, hoping to turn in a fine substitute performance and find her way to stardom, too.

In opera, it's a bit different but often dramatic enough to form the plot of a story all its own. Take Josephine Guido, a lyric coloratura from Youngstown, Ohio. She was studying in New York, when the Salmaggi Opera Company, slated to give a performance of "Hansel and Gretel," discovered the artist who was to sing Gretel had had an accident.

The management contacted a number of others known to have sung the role but they were all busy. In desperation, leading teachers were contacted, and Josephine was recommended.

Three hours later, Josephine was on the stage of the Brooklyn Academy of Music, rehearsing. She did so well at the performance, she was engaged for a repeat.

Miss Guido recently returned from Italy where she worked on her Italian repertoire. She was heard in several opera houses there and signed a recording contract. Back now in this country, she is an up-and-coming opera star, and it all started with an understudy role.

Of the 6,500 Americans drowned every year, males outnumber females, six to one.

Grand Central May Be Razed

Tallest Building in the World Considered by Robert Young

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert R. Young, new boss of the New York Central Railroad, is considering a plan to raze Grand Central Terminal and erect on its site "the largest structure in the world."

The proposed building would cost about 100 million dollars. It would be 1,600 feet high, 128 feet taller than the Empire State Building, and contain upward of five million square feet of floor space.

Young, in his first statement since taking over the railroad last June, said yesterday that this plan and others are being considered in seeking to reduce huge annual deficits in operating the present terminal.

* * *

Young said he had asked architects and developers to submit their suggestions for using the "air rights" above the present eight-story terminal building — that is, the space above the building.

The present eight-story structure was built in 1913. It was then intended to add another 14 stories to it, but no additions ever were made.

Young said taxes are being paid now at rates that indicate these air rights "are the most valuable in the world."

Among the suggestions offered, Young said, was one from the New York building firm of Webb & Knapp.

"It is their estimate," said Young, "that a new building which would be the largest structure in the world . . . could produce a return consistent with its cost and the value of the air rights."

Webb & Knapp said its present plan is for a single tower 80-story office building with an elevated plaza and "an observation tower, the most unusual of its kind ever contemplated."

* * *

From building industry sources it was learned that such a structure, using 25 per cent of the terminal's 48-acre site, to comply with zoning, would cost around 100 million dollars.

The 102-story Empire State Building, the world's tallest, has only two million square feet of rentable floor space. The world's largest commercial building is Chicago's Merchandise Mart, with 4,023,400 square feet, or 93 acres, but the Pentagon is larger.

Want Property? Consider Mars for Advantages

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three "far-sighted" men have formed the Planet Mars Development Corp. "to subdivide and convey title of such area or areas of said planet Mars to competent persons for suitable remuneration."

Rex Sutton, George B. Pratt and R. B. Ramsey had articles of incorporation drawn up and submitted them to the secretary of state.

The incorporators claimed several advantages that should draw buyers:

1. No road-building troubles (there are no mountains).
2. You will live twice as long (there are 687 days in a year).
3. Mars has a mean temperature of 48 degrees (not too hot, not too cold).
4. No drainage or irrigation problems (there is no water).

Avon Township Buys 5-Acre Water System Land

Royal Oak OKs Water Project

6 Other Communities Expected to Approve Contract With Detroit

ROYAL OAK — Royal Oak City Commission tentatively approved joining with southeastern Oakland County communities in a 30-year water contract with Detroit, at an informal joint meeting of the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority and governing bodies of seven area communities last night.

Representatives from Clawson, Pleasant Ridge, and Huntington Woods indicated they would also approve the contract at their next meeting. Berkley, Southfield Township, and Birmingham, are also expected to go along with this plan.

The $6,000,000 contract is expected to bring sufficient water to the area to relieve the present water shortage.

Plans include a 10,000,000-gallon storage reservoir on the Beaumont Hospital property, at Woodward and Coolidge avenue, and also a large transmission main along Greenfield road to the 14 Mile Road.

Feeder lines will serve the communities from the main line. The project is expected to be completed in July, 1956.

If the plan is approved by all the member communities, the Authority will issue revenue bonds to finance the project. The cost will be paid by the consumer, billed directly on water bills.

Anyone between the ages of 21 and 59 may call the local Red Cross chapter at FE 4-3575 for an appointment to give blood or just walk in Monday at the specified times.

Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Pontiac recruitment chairman, expressed the hope of at least 250 donors during this visit.

Miss State Fair Wants Knowledge of Anatomy

DETROIT (INS)—Margaret Macrain, an 18-year-old brunette from Chassell, with a desire to learn about anatomy, last night was crowned Miss State Fair of 1954 by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Miss Mackrain won over 27 other Michigan beauties. She was named Miss Upper Peninsula two weeks ago at the Upper Peninsula Fair in Escanaba.

A 5-foot 8-inch farmer's daughters, Miss Mackrain will enter the University of Michigan Medical School this month to seek a degree in medicine.

MRS. DUANE ANDERSON

Anderson-Baynes Vows Exchanged in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — First Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Lois Marion Baynes and Duane Jerome Anderson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Baynes of Clarkston and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Kathryn, North Dakota.

The bride wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace, with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline, and a very full skirt of lace over satin. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of satin edged with seed pearls. She wore a pearl choker, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Edmund Gunter was her sister's matron of honor and Wanda Anderson, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

Stewart E. Baynes of Birmingham, brother of the bride, was Mr. Anderson's best man. Ushers were Eugene Clayton of Corunna, and Edmund Gunter of Clarkston.

Reception for the guests followed in the church parors.

Carolyn Cloutier, Durwood McGee Repeat Vows

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Before an altar of palms, Carolyn Cloutier became the bride of Durwood G. McGee Saturday, in Christ Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Schimke, of 5756 Highland Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. McGee, of 5915 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown was of chantilly lace and tulle over satin with portrait neckline and fitted bodice. She carried a cascade bouquet of American beauty roses and white carnations, and wore pearl earrings and necklace, given to her by the bridegroom.

Joyce Swartz of Drayton Plains was the bride's maid of honor, with Caroline Makowske, of Detroit Barbara Looney, of Pontiac, and Marie Barber, of Clarkston as attendants.

Allan Healy of Pontiac was the best man, with Charles and Donald McGee, brothers of the bridegroom, and Charles Maxwell, of Pontiac seating the guests.

Following a trip to Florida, the newlyweds will live with the bride's parents.

21 Milford Women Aid in Pontiac Blood Bank Drive

MILFORD — Twenty-one women from Milford volunteered their services to work on the donor program in connection with the Red Cross Blood Bank in Pontiac Wednesday.

The Bank, held at Central Methodist Church, was sponsored by the Pontiac branch of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. More than 200 pints of blood was donated from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. according to Melvina Eberle, director for this area.

Milford was the first all-community blood bank in Michigan and so far as it is known, was the first in the United States to organize the all-community blood bank, according to Mrs. Eberle.

The staff of women from Milford consists of 4 registrars, 4 regular nurses, 2 motor corps, 4 nurses aids, 2 receptionists and 6 canteen workers.

Bones May Be Old Potawatomi

Director of Kalamazoo Museum Thinks Mound Is Indian's Grave

KALAMAZOO (UP)—Workmen digging in an Indian mound in Bronson Park here Wednesday uncovered the decomposed remains of what was believed to be the Indian chief, Potawatomi.

The remains were found just two feet below the spot where a glass jar filled with old coins was found Tuesday.

Alexis A. Praus, director of the Kalamazoo Museum, said he believed the mound was the grave of Potawatomi, who was chief of either the Chippewa or the Ottawa Indians between 500 and 1,000 years ago.

Old Kalamazoo County records show that the jar containing the coins was buried in the mound 100 years ago by Alexander J. Sheldon, a political figure during the middle of the last century.

City officials plan to put a pyrex tube containing mementos of modern Kalamazoo in the mound and return the mound to its original shape.

The tube will contain such items as chewing gum, lipstick, aspirin, time tables, menus, bow ties and newspaper clippings. The tube will serve as a time capsule for residents of Kalamazoo in 2054, officials said.

MILFORD — Graduating classes of 1930, '31 and '32 of Milford High School are planning a big reunion Sunday to be held at Bay Woods picnic area in Kensington Park.

All former teachers and students are asked to bring a basket lunch and join the festivities which begin at 12:30 p.m.

1st A-Submarine Nears Testing

Nautilus Will Become Fleet Member Sept. 30; Sea Wolf Is 2nd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nautilus, first atomic powered submarine, will become a member of the fleet Sept. 30.

Formal commissioning ceremonies will be held then at Groton, Conn., where she has been building since 1952.

* * *

The Navy, announcing the commissioning date, said the Nautilus will begin her tests after the final equipment has been installed following the commissioning. This, it is understood, probably will be during the latter half of October.

Skipper of the huge, nuclear-engined submersible—the first of four either building or planned—will be Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson, of San Diego, Calif. Lt. Dean L. Axene will be executive officer.

The Navy said that "most of the crew of 11 officers and approximately 85 enlisted men have been in training for about three years for their unique assignment of operating the Nautilus." This training has included basic nuclear physics and actual operation of the landbased prototype of the nuclea power plant at Arco, Idaho.

* * *

The Navy noted that a second nuclear submarine, the Sea Wolf, is under construction at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. where the Nautilus has been built, and that Congress recently authorized construction of two more atomic submarines, as yet unnamed.

The fantastic submersible, which the Navy expects to be capable of operating submerged for weeks and to travel under water at speeds as fast as many surface warships, was launched Jan. 21. Since then the Nautilus has been at a fitting out dock for installation of equipment, including final components of the nuclear power plant.

Rotary Governor Visiting Milford September 14

MILFORD — The Rotary Club will be host Sept. 14 to Harold M. Dorr, governor the 222nd district of Rotary International.

Dorr, a member of the Ann Arbor Rotary Club, is making official visits to each of the 41 clubs in his district. He will address the local club, and confer with Joseph M. Gerrard, president, and Erwin Johnson, secretary.

3 Killed, One Hurt in Wild Gunplay by Plant Worker

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (AP)—Three men were killed and an office secretary was wounded in an outbreak of gunfire at the Elizabeth City freezer locker plant today. Police arrested Albert Jordan, about 21.

Those killed were Ed Zimmerman, Joe Parrish and Alex Johnson, all employes of the plant. Miss Audrey Brickhouse, office worker, was wounded.

Police Chief Clarence Owens said Jordan, an employe of the company about two years, reported for work about one hour late shortly after 8 a.m., and began firing a .22 calibre automatic rifle. The chief said he apparently fired without warning.

Miss Brickhouse was the first to fall into the line of fire. The men next were shot. All three died on the spot.

Chief Owens said Jordan ran to the rear of the plant and barricaded himself in a small room. Police ordered him to toss out his gun and come out with his hands raised. He refused. As officers were preparing to fire tear gas shells into the room, Jordan threw out the gun and emerged with his hands raised. He made no explanation. Police took him to headquarters for questioning.

Chief Owens said he was told that Jordan had been classified 4F and ineligible for military service three years ago. The chief added he was told that Jordan had been summoned by the board to appear today.

Both Drivers Injured When Cars Collide

Two persons were injured last night in a two-car crash at M 59 and Elizabeth Lake road when both drivers thought they had the right-of-way, according to Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta.

Len Neil Stoppert, 24, of 2190 Martson, Waterford Township, was traveling northwest on M 59 when his auto and another driven east on Elizabeth Lake road by Donald R. Hamm, 34, of 4985 Mowawke Blvd., Clarkston, collided. Both motorists were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts.

Blaze Damages Car

Careless smoking was listed as he cause of a fire last night that caused an estimated $50 damage to the car of Lee Perkins of 45 Hibbard Ct., according to the Pontiac Fire Department. Firemen were called to the Perkins home about 8 p.m. to extinguish flames in the car's upholstery.

$5,000 Paid for Mile Tract

Take No Definite Action on Financing Problem; Surveys to Continue

ROCHESTER — Five acres of land has been purchased by Avon Township for the purpose of installing a water system which eventually will service homeowners in a section more than one square mile.

An agreement has been signed by Supervisor C. E. Miller, Township Attorney L. R. Bebout and John Cook, owner of the land located on the northwest corner of Wabash Street and Hickory Lawn.

The 5 acres was purchased at a price of $5,000. Bebout said today that as soon as the deed and abstract are delivered, the deal will be closed.

The tract to be serviced will be bounded by Auburn, Rochester, South Boulevard and Livernois Roads, and may extend a distance west of Livernois and East of Rochester Road into Sections 33, 34, 35.

Many homeowners in the section have their own water systems but report that the water is quite salty and unsatisfactory.

Supervisor Miller reported last night at the regular meeting of the Township Board that the new well which was drilled recently is in excellent condition and engineers are continuing their survey. However, a number of families already are getting their supply of water from the flowing well.

Discussion at the meeting followed recommendations from the county engineers as to the logical way of financing the new project. Miller spoke of revenue bonds or general obligation bonds. No definite action will be taken until further reports are received.

A number of property owners present said that they thought steps should be taken to look out for the future and make the installations of mains and fire hydrants which would be adequate.

Supervisor Miller assured them that every effort would be made to get construction under way and hoped to have definite plans by the next meeting. He also stated that the state did not approve of any temporary plans but a complete system installation was in the offing.

On the agenda was the recommendation of Miller that a resuscitator be purchased for the Avondale Fire Department. The vote of the board was unanimous in approving the $496 purchase. Irving Sheldon, Avondale fire chief, said that a number of resuscitators had been considered.

L. R. Bebout reported that at the meeting of the Avon Township Zoning Board Tuesday, the commission recommended that the trailer ordinance prohibiting trailers in Avon Township remain as set up in 1941. Clerk F. O. Covert stated that the Township has never issued a trailer permit and that there would be no changes in the future.

Probes Secret of Orchids' Bloom

By WILMA GREENWAY

You don't have to have a string of letters after your name, a gleaming modern laboratory and countless hours of time to become a scientist.

Jack Biber of 4489 Walton Blvd., Drayton Plains, is conducting a bona fide scientific experiment in the basement of his home, and he even manages to do it by long distance.

In an 8x7 cubbyhole, Biber is seeking to control the blossoming of orchids by means of exposure to fluorescent light. During the summer when he is at his lake home, automatic timing devices take over much of the work.

For Jack, of course, the experiment is never work, but an exciting hobby, packed with interest.

"Orchids are the most fascinating of all flowers to grow," he says, "and it's the biggest thing in the world to watch one of them blossom."

Although his windowless "greenhouse" is homemade, Biber's methods are far from haphazard. His planting room, painted white to permit maximum light reflection, includes temperature and humidity gauges.

Shelves built around the room hold 119 plants, representing 57 varieties of orchid, mostly Cattleyas. They range from mature plants, 6-10 years old, to 2-year seedlings.

Three sets of lights, each 4 feet in length, are suspended over the plants. "Cool white" is the type of lighting used, and Biber controls the light intensity by removing or inserting the fluorescent tubes.

Currently, lights are left on 10 hours a day. When Jack, with his wife Verla and daughter Carolyn, decided to spend the summer at Big Lake, he installed an automatic timer to regulate the electricity. Now lights turn off at a set time and the experiment continues in his absence.

Records of the progress of the plants are precise and kept meticulously. Every plant is numbered and a record sheet keeps conscise accounts of its development. Flowering, growth, time of exposure to light, propogation, watering, conditions of plant are noted.

There are daily sheets and monthly summaries. High and low daily temperatures as well as monthly averages are charted. Costs, too, are carefully estimated.

Biber figures on $2.50 per month for electricity. Over a 7-month period, his books show a total cost of $156. Items include some 2-year seedlings at $1 each and one mature plant at $17.

But a $17 plant is penny ante stuff in the orchid line. Biber says it's nothing at all to pay $40 or $50 for a single plant.

"Any hobby costs money," he says. "But this one may pay off."

Biber, who is employed as a timekeeping supervisor at GM Truck, expects to retire in about 10 years. If during that time he succeeds in his effort to make orchids bloom when and as he wills, his post-retirement future is assured.

"There is a clear field in this area for a grower who specializes in orchids," he says, "and I can't think of a more absorbing occupation for the future."

"For the present, though, I'll rest a little easier when I find out if my back bulbs (cutting from mature plants) will blossom. If they do, it means my growing conditions are right, and I'm on the road to success."

Jap Stepmother Can't Cope With Runaway Kids

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 13-year-old boy and his 9-year-old sister, whose Japanese stepmother was described as a "timid soul who cannot punish children," are home after a week of outdoor living in San Francisco's parks.

Ronaldo and Clarinda Coutourier, children of Army W. O. Eugene A. Couturier, were taken home by police yesterday. They had run away a week ago, just a day before Coutourier came home from Korea on emergency leave.

The children had run away earlier in August and their stepmother, Mrs. Ikiko Couturier, called her husband home.

The youngsters spent last week sleeping in parks, eating with new-found friends, and avoiding searching policemen.

"We played on the swings in the parks during the day and climbed trees," the boy said. "At night, we'd sleep under the bushes. It got pretty cold."

Now and then someone would give Clarinda a quarter or a dime, and they would buy candy bars.

* * *

They ate at the homes of playmates, whose parents thought they were neighborhood children.

Coutorier said his wife, whom he married in Japan after the children's mother died, is "a timid soul."

"I guess Ronaldo took advantage of her. Japanese mothers discipline their children with persuasion and kindness and never hurt them.

"I want to talk to the kids and find out what the story is. We got along fine before this, and we're going to straighten it all out."

Chicago Stockyards Hail Arrival of Billionth Animal

CHICAGO (INS)—The billionth animal to arrive at the Chicago stockyards since its opening in 1865—a 1,180 pound Hereford steer from Iowa—was given a champion's honors.

The steer, owned by Bert Fevold of Humboldt, Iowa, arrived Monday night beating out hogs, lambs and other steers for the unique title.

The Hereford will bring Fevold $1,180 at a bonus rate of $1 a pound.

Fevold and his steer were given a grand reception by officials of the stockyards, packing companies, livestock exchanges and commission firms selling on the Chicago market after the steer was designated the billionth animal.

The first trainload of livestock to arrive at the Chicago yards on Dec. 26, 1865, contained 15 carloads of hogs. Farmers were paid less than a dime a pound. Today they get more than twice that amount.

The following year stockmen poured into the Chicago yards 1,563,293 head of all kinds of animals and the city later became famed as the "hog butcher of the world."

Last year the yards handled a total of 6,442,978 head of stock.

Going back to the first shipment, a yards official figured that it has handled 238-billion pounds of meat—enough to feed everyone in the United States for 16 years.

Old Couple Separates on Golden Anniversary

BARTLETT, N. H. (UP) — On Nov. 3, 1831, a teen-age girl named Dolly Emery was married here to a young pioneer named Hayes Dodifer Copp of Stowe, Me.

They went into the mountains a few miles from here, built their home and raised a family. On the 50th anniversary of their wedding, Dolly said:

"Hayes is well enough. But 50 years is long enough for any woman to live with a man."

So the couple divided their worldly possessions and, after a golden wedding party, separated. Dolly went to Auburn, Me., to spend her remaining days, while her husband went back to Stowe.

Ancient Rifle Yields Strange Hunting Tale

ORLAND, Me. (UP) — A 150-year-old muzzle-loading flintlock found by Basil Gross in his attic has yielded a story of a desperate woodland encounter of long ago.

Gross said a yellowed piece of parchment stuffed in the muzzle told how Collier Snow of Bucksport wounded a female bear with the gun and then "clubbed her to death" when the animal turned on him. Gross said there are teeth marks, apparently made by the bear, on the stock.

Family's Frequent Moves Fail to Stunt Youngsters

NASHVILLE, Ind. (INS) — A mother who has successfully shifted her home and her four children to several different locales wants to reassure other mothers that the effect of changes in residence upon small fry isn't as bad as it's supposed to be.

Miriam Sturgeon points out that child-rearing experts sometimes warn that jerking a child out of familiar surroundings and transplanting him to a strange place may stunt the personality of already shy youngsters.

But Miriam and her husband, Robert Sturgeon, have changed houses several times because Bob made job changes and they feel the shifts have not adversely affected Bill, 7, Sally, 6, and the 3-year-old twins, Barbara and Peggy.

The unity which envelopes the six Sturgeons may be one factor in their imperviousness to changing home sites.

The adult Sturgeons try also to build up in their children's thoughts a feeling of pleasant anticipation about the coming shift.

Because the father's job changes have meant staying for some time in each new locality, the Sturgeons have built a house in each city and incorporated all the things they liked best about the previous residences.

Plans Announced for "Sno Ball"

Helena Geistl announced plans for the coming season when members of Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Wednesday evening in Hotel Waldron.

Plans are under way for the annual "Sno Ball" to be held in February. Proceeds from the money making project held at the Wednesday meeting will benefit the State Hospital Recreation Department.

Tuesday Tees End Season With Tourney

The Tuesday Tees Golf Club originating in 1940 finished their golf season Tuesday with a tournament at Pontiac Country Club.

Flight champion is Mrs. Wallace Shiel of Ascot road. The first flight was won by Mrs. Floyd Levely, and second flight ended in a tie between Mrs. Louis Michot and Mrs. William Talbot. Third flight champion is Mrs. Robert Taft.

Trophies will be awarded at the league banquet to be held Sept. 30 at Old Mill Tavern.

Final meeting was held after a luncheon served at the home of Mrs. Ray Kneisel of Voorheis road.

Mrs. Howard Simmons (left) of East Iroquois road and Mrs. Walter Seaks of Cooley street were photographed as they admired the foliage in Mrs. John Cowe's garden. Mrs. Seaks is general chairman of the flower show called "Autumn Splendor" which is open to the public.

Flower Lovers to See 'Autumn Splendor' Friday

By WILMA GREENWAY

"Autumn Splendor" is the title given to a colorful flower show which will be presented from 2 to 10 p. m. Friday at Roosevelt Temple on State avenue by the Pontiac chapter of Better Home and Garden Club.

Flower lovers from a wide area are expected to view the free display and enter their own exhibits and the general public is invited to attend. Exhibits, which will be accepted from 8:30 to 11 a. m. Friday, will be entered in two major classes and 20 separate groupings.

The Horticultural Class will include annuals, perennials, potted plants, roses, fruits, vegetables and a variety grouping.

The arrangement classification will include white and yellow floral exhibits, autumn foliage, kitchen exhibits, living and dried flowers or material, vines, Thanksgiving table exhibits, arrangements using marigolds, gladioli, asters, dahlias or zinnias, and many others.

Special groupings will illustrate how autumn colors can beautify niches.

Six table displays will show settings for an outdoor breakfast, after-the-game snack, birthday, Christmas, bride's breakfast and an early American setting. There will be a conservation display, as well as educational display of flower and gardening literature.

A panel of four judges—Mrs. G. W. Chesley, Mrs. Clare McKay, Mrs. H. F. Klein, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. Donald James of Bloomfield Hills—will decide the winning entries.

Rules governing the admission of exhibits point out that horticultural specimens must be grown by the exhibitor and potted plants must have been in the exhibitor's possession at least three months.

"The show is designed to promote the cultural interest of Pontiac. It proposes to point out just how much beauty can be achieved with a few flowers or fruits and the use of a little imagination," Mrs. Walter A. Seaks, flower show chairman, said.

"Our committees have worked hard to bring Pontiac a truly spectacular and colorful exhibit, one that will be well worth seeing. We hope everyone will keep Friday as an open date and attend the exhibition.

Altar Society Announces Date of Fall Bazaar

Plans were discussed for a fall bazaar to be held Nov. 6 and 7 when members of St. Michael Altar Society met Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Omer DeConinck will be in charge of the turkey dinner to be served on Nov. 7. Her co-chairman is Mrs. Adam Kravitz.

Others working on the event will be Mrs. Gayle Caulson and Mrs. Benjamin Budwit, dining room chairmen. Unit two will have a handkerchief and apron booth; unit four will have a candy and doll booth and unit five will handle a parcel post and miscellaneous booth.

The society is planning a father and son breakfast to be served on Sunday. Unit four members are planning a cooperative dinner and money making project for Sept. 14 and unit five is having a house party on Sept. 21 in the home of Mrs. Michael Slahta.

At the Tuesday meeting Mrs. Bert Schneider was welcomed as a new member. Members are planning to attend a Day of Recollection at Our Lady of Reparatrix in Detroit on Oct. 26.

Engagement Is Announced

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Joseph A. Ullom Jr, are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Campbell of Airport road.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ullom of Euclid street.

Panhellenic Gives Award

The Pontiac City Panhellenic Annual College Senior Award has been given to Marian Behnke, who attends Albion College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Behnke of Joslyn road.

Girls eligible for this award are those living in the Pontiac area and attending Michigan colleges. Marian was one of seven girls considered from various colleges.

Helen Hunt is chairman of the scholarship committee. She is assisted by Mrs. Maxwell H. Doerr, Mrs. H. J. Howerth, Mrs. R. T. Norvell, Mrs. E. S. Rogers and Mrs. Enar West.

The first fall meeting of Pontiac City Panhellenic will be held Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. Richard Fisher on Cherokee road. The group will gather at 6:30 for a cooperative dinner and social meeting. Mrs. R. C. Burnes will be hostess.

Newcomers' Club of Pontiac Welcomes Members Wednesday

New Officers Introduced at Meeting

President Mrs. Gordon Bennett opened the first meeting of the season for the Newcomers Club of Pontiac Wednesday evening.

The opening dinner was held at Kingsley inn with 30 members attending.

Welcomed into the group as new members were Mrs. Fred Collins, Mrs. Reginald Edwards, Mrs. William Merritt, Mrs. John W. Ball Jr., Mrs. Alan D. Simonson and Mrs. Morton Bacon.

Introduced as new assisting officers for the coming year were Mrs. Grant McDonald, vice president; Mrs. Peter Aldo, secretary; Mrs. Don Hildebrandt, treasurer and Mrs. William Garner, publicity chairman and historian.

Heading the committees are Mrs. McDonald, program chairman assisted by Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Merritt.

Mrs. Hugh J. Hales is in charge of social arrangements assisted by Mrs. Jay T. Ford and Mrs. John Main, and Mrs. Norman Pattison is membership chairman. Her committee consists of Mrs. Howard Droeser and Mrs. Orlando B. Fink.

Other committee members include Mrs. W. C. Caverly, courtesy and bridge; Mrs. Floyd Short, finance; Mrs. William Emerson, music, and Mrs. Don Milbourn, philanthropic and social clubs.

On the telephone committee are Mrs. John W. Ball, Mrs. John W. Ball Jr., Mrs. Reginald Edwards, Mrs. James C. Graybiel, Mrs. Gordon Hayter and Mrs. Main.

Past President Mrs. Aldo read a report from a summary of recent activities.

Following dinner and a business meeting the group played bridge.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 22 at the Lake Angelus home of Mrs. Peter Dunn.

Anniversary Is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Grant McDonald of Clintonville road celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Monday. A surprise barbecue was given for them at their home by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Merritt.

On Tuesday a group of friends from Detroit, Chicago and Algonac gathered at Old Mill Tavern to honor the couple with a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dean will give a dinner in their honor Sunday at their Oakland avenue home. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Al Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Charboneau and Mr. and Mrs. Merritt.

Coming Events

This evening's meeting of Ladies Auxiliary POE 1230 has been cancelled.

WSCS of Bethesda Methodist Church will meet this evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Melvin Norberg, 109 East Brooklyn.

Eleanor June Seaver became the bride of William J. Deaver Saturday evening in Evangelistic Tabernacle. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kuren of Holbrook avenue and the Frank Deavers of Holbrook avenue are his parents.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM J. DEAVER

Eleanor Seaver Is Wed

Residing on South Paddock street are Eleanor June Seaver and William Justin Deaver, who were married Saturday evening in Evangelistic Tabernacle.

White gladioli and candelabra decorated the altar as the Rev. A. J. Baughey performed the eight o'clock ceremony before 150 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kuren of Holbrook avenue and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deavers also of Holbrook avenue.

A white satin gown with tiers of lace fashioned with long sleeves and a train was worn by the bride. A small cap secured her fingertip-length veil and she wore an heirloom clip in her hair which was worn by her mother at her wedding. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses on a Bible.

Mrs. Roger Deaver attended the bride as matron of honor wearing a ballerina-length gown of pink net over satin. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of blue carnations and her headband was of the same flowers.

Other attendants were Joanne Deaver, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a gown of mint green with bouquet and headpiece of pink carnations and Mrs. Marvin Morse wearing a peach gown with bouquet and headpiece of yellow carnations.

The flower girl, Cheryl Lynn Brown, wore a yellow nylon dress and a headband of flowers. David Van Kuren and Donald Deaver, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, were candlelighters.

Roger Deaver served as his brother's best man and Mr. Morse and A. DeWitt Baughey seated the guests.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the dining hall of the tabernacle.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a navy dress with white accessories for the ceremony.

When the couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Return From Camp at Interlochen

Recently returned from Interlochen National Music Camp where they participate in the All State Chorus were Raymond Freebury, Jacqueline Spratt, Phillip Twichel, James Stevens, Dennis McCartney and Greta Phipps.

Dennis McCartney and Greta Phipps participated in piano activities at the camp. All are students in the Pontiac High School Vocal Department.

Mayflower Group Serves Dinner

The women's fellowship of the First Congregational Church were sponsors for the first parish night dinner of the season Wednesday evening. The dinner was served by the Mayflower group. Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck, fellowship president, introduced the presidents of the various groups and also the chairmen of standing committees.

A program under the direction of Mrs. Ross Tenny consisted of a hymn sing led by Mrs. Dora Dawson and a skit by Mrs. George Gaches.

Pictures showing the progress made in the building program during the past year were shown by the minister, the Rev. Malcom Burton.

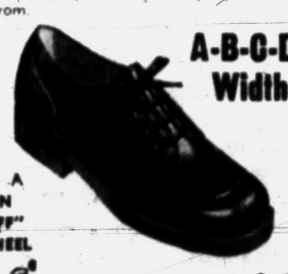

Announcement was made of two important dates on the calendar of the women's fellowship. Oct. 13 has been chosen for a smorgasbord and Dec. 3 as the day for the Christmas bazaar.

A Positive Attitude Can Sometimes Help to Change Bad Into Good

Advice Offered to Aid Aging Parents

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Too many times in life the parents who lovingly raised and cared for their children, end up, in their later years, dependent upon their children, and hating it.

Mostly, it has been my experience, that young people do honestly want to do what they can for the aging parents—but many times they just don't know how to solve their special problems.

"Should we have my husband's parents come and live with us, which would be horrible for them and disturbing for us and our children," one reader asks, "Or should we set them up in a tiny place of their own? This would take all our extra money and keep us from being able to educate our own children?"

Another reader asks, "What do you think about homes for the aged? Are there any good ones, and how can I find out where they are? My mother is in her seventies, in pretty good health, but she is so lonely since Father died, and she seems to be dying of just plain boredom."

And, "Should I let my father, who is in his late sixties, take a job which he has been offered? He retired several years ago, and now this job has fallen in his lap. But my friends think it is awful to let him go to work?"

Well, all these problems, and many, many more, are answered in a wonderful new book by Julietta K. Arthur, called "How to Help Older People."

Mrs. Arthur has handled the inspirational nonsense which the field too often attracts.

She has chapters on "Getting Along with Older People," "What Is Normal Old Age?" "Financing Old Age," "To Work or Not to Work," "Active Leisure," and "Leaving the Well-Enough Alone." In addition, Mrs. Arthur adds wonderful suggestions for helpful reading.

Dart Game Uses Burdock

Here is a game which will be fun to use at picnics or at a weenie roast. Perhaps you might collect the burs to keep if you plan a "Hard Times" or "Come As You Are Party" this fall. This game is almost made from nothing.

You will use burdock burs for the darts. These burs are sticky and fasten themselves to clothing, but they are soft enough to handle with ease. They do not have the sharp stickers that thistles do. Their stickers are soft and pliable. After you have collected the burs, you will need to make a simple target. If you are out in the picnic area and do not have target materials, use an old coat for the target, having the sleeves count so much, the collar be the "bull's-eye," and so on. At home a target can be made from a square of material with rings painted right on it. Use red, white and blue paint.

Burlap makes a good target for the burs will stick to the rough surface. Keep score for each player, and the one with the most points is, of course, the winner.

Open-Faced Hamburgers Suggested

Mrs. William Dean Finds Them Tasty Post-Meeting Fare

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Now that school is about to start the club season will soon be in full swing. What better late evening refreshments after a business session or just some rounds of cards than some form of hamburger? Mrs. William J. Dean suggests making open-faced hamburgers.

Besides helping in the family business, Mrs. Dean holds several important positions in city organizations. She is the pleasant, efficient president of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital.

The board of the Catholic Family Center also knows her as its president. She says she gets a great deal of enjoyment out of belonging to the Toastmistress Club.

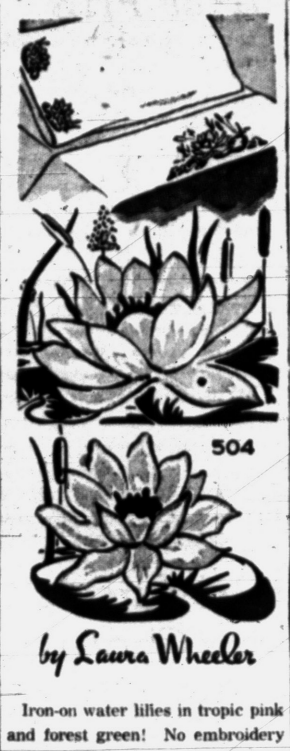

OPEN-FACED HAMBURGERS
By Mrs. William J. Dean

8 hamburger buns, split
1 pound ground round steak
4 Bermuda onion
Salt and pepper
Butter or margarine

Butter the split buns well. Cover each half with a thin meat patty. Slice the onion into one-quarter-inch slices and place one on each patty. Season with salt and pepper and dot with butter.

Place in the broiler, 4 inches from the heat. Broil 10-15 minutes. Three to four minutes ahead of the time the sandwiches are done they may be covered with a slice of American cheese placed over the onion.

Broil until the cheese is melted and brown. Makes 16 sandwiches.

Iron-on water lilies in tropic pink and forest green! No embroidery—they look handpainted on sheets, pillowcases, guest towels, dresser sets, luncheon cloths! Picture all the pretty accessories, gay gifts you can create with a stroke of an iron!

Iron-on! Colorful! Washable! Patern 504; six iron-on lilies, two 4½x13, four 3x4 inches.

Noises Are Only What You Think

Positive Attitude Best Exterminator for Psychic Bugs

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

It's been wonderful to escape for three months from the noise of that kitchen ventilator in the apartment next door. I feel like a new woman, and the incessant hum of insects, the song of birds at 6 a.m., the nocturnal croaking of frogs in the pond nearby haven't bothered me a bit.

I had just begun to wonder why that should be so when along came the incident of the electric clock.

The clock stands on the bedside table in the guest room. It makes an odd rustling noise when it runs. Two visitors, occupying the room in rapid succession, described its effect on them.

Janice appeared the first morning looking sleepy but amused.

"I awakened in the middle of the night," she explained, "and heard a buzzing noise. It sounded as if the room were full of insects. I could even feel them biting me, and I spent most of the night swatting wildly—but without turning on the light because you know how THAT attracts bugs. This morning, of course, I realized that the buzzing was that cursed electric clock."

Upon her departure, another friend arrived. She wandered down to breakfast the next morning looking well-rested but unhappy.

"I'm so disappointed," she announced sadly. "I woke up in the middle of the night and heard rain pouring down. It sounded wonderful and I thought dreamily how much good it would do my garden. Then I went crashing back to sleep, lulled by the delightful sound. This morning, I found it was just that old noisy clock."

I remember Leon Uris, the writer, telling me that his two young children, whose bedroom was next to his study, were so accustomed to the sound of his typing that they couldn't fall asleep without it. Some nights, between plays, Uris lullabyed his babies by just doodling on the machine.

"There's nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so"—Shakespeare, right as usual.

Take those psychic bugs when I was very young in New York. I had had two experiences with apartment beds infested with hungry, disgusting insects whose very name, in those pre-DDT days, was not mentioned in polite society. My body was covered with their distinctive bites. There was nothing psychic about those bugs.

But the first morning at the third place, after a restless, itchy night, I looked at my arms. Sure enough, there were the familiar blemishes. I marched down to the landlady and complained. Horrified, she hurried me back to my room and together we inspected every inch of it. All was spotless. Evidently the place had never harbored my old enemy.

The spots disappeared instantly and I never had them again.

Now, if I can only persuade myself that the ventilating fan is psychic I'll sleep like a baby when I move back to town.

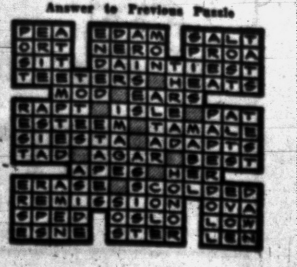

IF minimize bosom—

Avoid deep armhole and choose set-in narrower sleeves with long shawl collar. Some width in hat and hemline helps.

Mrs. M. B.—Bulky tweed jacket worn loose, bloused or belted is less slenderizing than the black suit of low-cut neckline but well-fitting sleeves and bodice. With some skirt fulness the right balance will be attained.

Cold Winds Mean That Heat Is On

Heating Plant Will Fill Your Needs if Checked Properly

By HUBBARD COBB

If you heat your home with a wood burning fireplace, you don't have to worry much about it ever getting out of order. Just as long as the chimney is clear, there is plenty of firewood and you have someone around 24 hours a day to toss on a log when required, the fireplace will work. It may not give off much heat but it will work.

Now modern automatic heating equipment is a little different from a fireplace. It's complicated stuff and various and sundry things can go wrong with it.

Because modern heating equipment is so automatic, we are inclined to forget about it year after year until all of a sudden on the coldest day it stops. Then we go off and get mad.

This isn't the best way to handle matters. The smart thing to do is have the equipment inspected at regular intervals just the way you do the family car. In this way, if you are heading for future troubles, the cause of the trouble can be corrected before any damage occurs.

A good time to have your heating equipment checked over is right now before it goes into constant operation for the heating season. Even if the system was running like a dream when it was turned off last spring is no insurance that it's going to breeze through the next few months without effort.

The person best qualified to inspect your system is your regular serviceman. We don't suggest any amateur trying to check out a modern heating system. If you don't have a regular serviceman and don't know of any, try the service department of a firm which sells your type of equipment. If you can't find any local distributor, try your fuel company. Many of these concerns have service departments which are well qualified to service most types of heating equipment.

The butter-soft caress of a glove is the new trend in footwear. The news in these "Imps" is that they're selected jacket quality capeskin, fully lined with perspiration-proof lining. And they're all handmade on a leather sole and heel lift.

Wash Spray Holders

After you spray plants with insecticide, wash all containers thoroughly in hot soapsuds. Then you can reuse the holders without fear of chemical reaction, and also protect children and pets from the injurious sprays.

Care for Plastics

Be careful when using kitchen plastics. Not only will they melt when exposed to excess heat, but certain plastics are inflammable.

Girl Should Ask Neighbor to Attend Casual Party

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "I will soon be celebrating my eighteenth birthday and plan on having a birthday party. I would like very much to invite the boy who lives next door to me to this party but would like your opinion before doing so.

"We have never been introduced to each other but we do say 'hello' whenever we meet and he seems very friendly. Mother thinks he will get the idea that I am running after him."

I think it would be entirely proper for you to say, "I am giving a party on Friday and I would like to have you come to it." It is certainly not very personal to invite him to a party.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I asked friends of mine, a married couple, to dine with me. I am unmarried and live at a club and have no place to entertain people. This couple has had me to their house often and to repay some of these invitations I invited them to a very nice restaurant to dinner.

I asked the waiter to bring me the check at the end of dinner but apparently he forgot and handed it to my guest. He took the check and paid it even though I asked him to please let me have it. I feel terrible about this and would like to know if it would be proper for me to send him a check for the amount he spent, or might this hurt his feelings?

Yes, that is exactly what you should do with a note explaining that you had invited them and it would make you very unhappy not to pay the check. If you don't remember the amount, go back to the restaurant and find out.

Dear Mrs. Post: As a business woman I would like to know the correct way to sign my name. My name, which can be either a man's or a woman's, is always mistaken for a man's. All my mail from people who do not know me personally comes addressed to Mr. Lee Page. Would it be proper to sign letters Miss Lee Page?

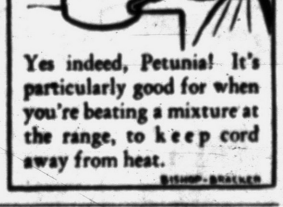

Correctly you put "Miss" in parentheses before your name.

Buy Cottons Now

Foresighted women know that now is the time to stock up on cottons for next summer. Even though it's a long way off, the sale prices are so small it's worth it to buy and save.

BISHOP-BROEKER

Chefs Can Take the Cake for Being Temperamental

RENO, Nev. (INS) — When it comes to temperament, the man in the tall white hat beside the hotel restaurant range wins hands down over any "difficult" Hollywood star or Metropolitan Opera diva.

"I've only known one chef who wasn't temperamental," said Eddie O'Dowd, general manager of the Riverside Casino and Theater-Restaurant at Reno's Riverside Hotel.

"And he's now in the insane asylum — he kept everyting inside himself."

O'Dowd was outlining some of the headaches behind the smooth, unruffled brow that a large resort hotel presents to the vacationing public.

"Cooks are the chief headache," he said. They come to you, they tell you they have learned their trade in Paris; they rattle off a string of top hotels in Europe.

"But you get them behind the range and you quickly discover they've missed their vocation. . . They should have been shoemakers."

"That's why we put up with their termperament and, believe me, they have it; pans fly at the slightest provocation and the waitress who brings back a steak because the customer said it was not done properly had better duck.

John Daly Has the Knack of Talking Into a Hot Mike

By RELMAN MORIN
(For HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK (AP)—Screen-print of a fellow on your TV screen:

John Charles ("What's My Line") Daly has two sons, both named John. He has a brother named John. They solve the problem around John's house by calling the younger John "Charlie."

The boys are 16 and 13 respectively, and both taller than John, who is 6-feet-1. In addressing him, they say "sir," which is a refreshing thing to hear when you read about teen-agers in the papers these days. He reciprocates by treating them as adults on a man-to-man basis.

There are also two ladies around the house.... Helene, otherwise "Buncie," is nine. Margaret, nickname of "Kit", is the handsome ex-Washington girl who changed John's life.

He was learning to be a wool merchant in Boston when he met her some 17 years ago. She was living in Washington and John tried courting by commuting, but couldn't afford it. So he gave up the rams and lambs and got a job as a bus dispatcher in the capital. ... He went into radio there.

As you may know, very few announcers are capable of talking into a "hot mike"—meaning, to talk without a script, simple describing an event as it unfolds. Daly is one who can. He got his training the hard way—covering such exciting events as the birth of a penguin, the annual marble-shooting tournaments, and an occasional fence-whitewashing contest.

Thus, Daly once stood in front of an open mike and talked about nothing for 39 minutes. It happened during the 1940 presidential campaign when FDR, due to a schedule mixup, was late in starting a speech.

During the late unpleasantness in Europe, John was a pretty good war correspondent. . .racked up a flossy beat on the fall of Messina, in Sicily, by talking the late Gen. Patton's personal pilot into flying him back to Algiers. . . . You guys from the 3rd Division probably remember him.

He hasn't changed much since then.... Still sleeps late, has a weakness for inside straights and holds his hand too long, waiting for gin.... He has just turned 40 this summer and is still a chow hound... Steaks and roast beef, mainly... So he never gains any weight, a slim 165 stripped.... He's a good swimmer, and getting surprisingly accurate with age on the tennis court.... Takes his TV successes calmly and in stride.

On Sunday nights, he goes to the theater about an hour before "What's My Line" comes on ... Says he never knows who the challengers will be.... "I make it a point not to." He meets them a few minutes before camera time ... Eases them over the usual nervousness... also, "if I'm completely unfamiliar with what they do, I get some pointers about their business."

Then they go on.... The show he says is completely unrehearsed ... All ad-libbing ... That's where the old penguin-and-marble-shooting experience comes in.

He has only one signal for the panel.... Watch for it....when he pulls the lobe of his right ear, he is warning the panel that the conversation is getting what he calls "blue"—meaning, off-color.... It occasionally happens by accident because the panelists, not knowing the business of the challenger, innocently ask questions that could be misinterpreted. For example, the time the challenger was a man who makes Pullman cars ... lots of room for double-entendre there, so John yanked his ear.

"What's My Line" is only one of his jobs. He is also a vice president in charge of news for ABC ... But he likes the program and so does his family.... His wife doesn't always see it. "She sometimes gets sleepy before 10:30," he says, "you know these Southern gals."

Right Wrong Turn

NORTH POWNAL, Me. (UP) — Four years ago Richard D. Haskell, 27, and his wife Patricia, took a wrong turn while touring Maine and wound up in this tiny, isolated hamlet. They fell in love with the place, bought themselves an old colonial homestead, and established a little country store which now caters to other tourists who take wrong turns.

Hearty Lunch Awaits Scholars

IT'S A GOOD LUNCH, MOM—Home from school with healthy appetites, the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Thomson of Linden road polish off an appetizing lunch. Craig, 11, (left) eats faster than the others and is already enjoying fruit and cookies. Sheila, 7, is on the sandwich course, while Paul, 9, empties his soup bowl. All the children attend St. Benedict School.

Mother Follows Standard Menu

Mrs. Thomson Varies It With Goodies Such as Oatmeal Cookies

Three hungry youngsters dashing in for lunch each day can pose a problem for any mother. Mrs. Charles Thomson of Linden road meets this problem with the efficiency which is characteristic of her.

To be sure that Craig, Paul and Sheila have an adequate diet she follows a pattern for their school-day lunches. Celeste and Karen, the two pre-schoolers, enjoy the same menu as the older children.

A bowl of hot soup, a filling sandwich, plenty of milk, fruit and cookies are the standard lunch in the Thomson household. Each part of the meal can be varied so there is never any monotony, and each child's taste can be considered.

Keeping the cookie jar full for five children means baking often. One of Mrs. Thomson's favorite recipes is for an oatmeal coconut cookie because it makes 6 dozen!

OATMEAL COCONUT COOKIES

By Mrs. Charles Thomson

2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
2 cups coconut
2 cups rolled oats

Sift dry ingredients together. Cream shortening and sugars. Add eggs, dry ingredients, coconut and oats.

Drop on a greased baking pan. Bake 14-16 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes 6 dozen.

Melon Balls, Berries Are Delightful Partners

Fresh honeydew melon balls taste wonderful when they are paired with frozen raspberries, and look luscious too! Serve this fruit cup as a first course or for dessert.

If you haven't a melon scoop, just use a one-fourth—or one-half teaspoon measuring spoon to make the balls.

Surround a mound of cottage cheese with slivers of cooked beets and thin rounds of cucumbers; garnish with watercress, escarole or chicory. Serve for lunch with small slices of buttered salty rye bread.

Storage Problems Solved With Midget Watermelon

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

We ate a whole watermelon for dinner the other night. That isn't so piggish as it sounds. The Better Half has grown some midget watermelons in his garden this year, and we're having more fun with them.

They're about the size of a honeydew melon, and we think they're wonderful. No longer do I need to rearrange the entire refrigerator just because we're having watermelon.

We pick and chill just what we intend to eat, and there's no half or quarter taking up space needed for other foods.

So much for the midget melons. If you come across them in a store or market, try them. If you have a gardener in your family, plan on growing some next year. They're nice.

Watermelon is as good to look at as it tastes. Few foods are as lavishly colored as is the fully ripe watermelon. In my estimation, it is better served for lunch or as a between-meal snack; it is so filling for dessert after a dinner.

We all know that the best way to eat this fruit is to sit outside and to eat a slice of melon from the hand. But there are other ways of serving it.

Have you ever cut the fruit out and sliced it into long sticks? Serve on dessert plates with salt handy for those who can't eat melon without it.

Hollowed out, the green shell makes an attractive container for fruit salad, fish salad, for an appetizer, or as a basket for ice cream or sherbet.

The meat may be cubed or cut into balls. By the way, if you don't have the melon ball gadget, use a small spoon to get a similar effect.

A recipe that came to my desk recently was for a watermelon freeze. Scoop out the pink meat, force it through a sieve, sweeten to taste and freeze to a mushy consistency. Serve with the meat course or on other fruit.

To freeze the melon itself most books say to put a 40 per cent syrup on it and to hold the fruit in the syrup with crumpled waxed paper. I have found that just plain diced or balled watermelon can be frozen as is.

To serve, let it thaw slightly, but not completely, or it will be mushy. Serve it just lightly frosted for best results.

It tastes mighty good in the dead of winter, and it dresses up winter salads and desserts in a most effective manner.

Stuff Tomatoes With Hearty Mix of Cheese, Rice

Your family will feel well fed when you serve them this good stuffed tomato dish.

Luncheon Tomatoes

4 medium-sized tomatoes
1 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons quick-cooking rice cereal
1 cup (4 ounces) grated process American cheese
1 egg (beaten)
2 tablespoons fine dry buttered bread crumbs

Cut off stem end and hollow out tomatoes; save tomato pulp for use in a soup or sauce.

Mix broth from can of mushrooms, milk and salt in a saucepan and bring to boil. Sprinkle in quick-cooking rice cereal so that boiling does not stop.

Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Lower heat and cook, covered, for five minutes.

Add drained mushrooms and cheese to beaten egg. Add rice cereal to cheese mixture and mix thoroughly.

Drop a fourth of this stuffing into each of the hollowed-out tomatoes. Sprinkle tops with bread crumbs.

Bake in shallow individual custard cups (5-ounce size) in moderate, 350 oven until stuffing has set and is golden brown — about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

Use one buffet-size can of crushed pineapple and team it with strawberries, raspberries or finely diced melon for a quick ice cream sauce.

Cook Shrimp in Butter to Serve as Appetizer

Peel and devein a pound of shrimp; do not cook them first. Heat a quarter cup of butter in a skillet and add the shrimp and a quarter cup of chopped parsley. Cook and stir just until the shrimp are opaque through.

Sprinkle with salt, freshly ground pepper and a little lemon juice. Serve with small rounds of bread cut from a crisp French roll, for an appetizer.

No celery in the house to add to a tuna salad? Add finely diced cucumber or green pepper instead.

Shrimp Adopts Oriental Appeal

Chow meins and chop sueys are spurious Chinese, as we all know. But because most of us think of them as Oriental food, Chinese restaurants are glad to oblige, with mixtures of shellfish, meats, nuts, or chicken and Chinese vegetables and herbs to pour over crisp noodles — with delicious results.

If you've some Chinese food devotees in your family or among your friends, whom you'd like to please with a special chow mein every once in a while, you'll like this recipe for the shrimp version.

It's so easy to make that you can start from scratch and wind up with a highly professional and delicious dish. Shrimp, by the way, is a popular ingredient of Chinese cooking.

The recipe calls for 2 cups of cooked shrimp. The Shrimp Association of the Americas suggests that you clean and cook 1 pound fresh or frozen shrimp three to five minutes, or that you use two cans of shrimp. You will come out with approximately 2 cups of cooked shrimp.

Shrimp Chow Mein

4 tablespoons cooking oil
1 tablespoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup sliced onions
2 cups sliced celery
1 No. 2 can bean sprouts
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup cold water
3 tablespoons soya sauce
1 can Chinese egg noodles, heated
2 cups diced cooked shrimp

Heat cooking oil, salt and pepper in a frying pan. Add onions, celery and bean sprouts. Mix, cover and cook for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Thoroughly dissolve the cornstarch in cold water and soya sauce. Add this mixture to the vegetables and stir until slightly thickened. Add the shrimp. Serve on noodles. Makes four servings.

Be sure your knives are kept sharp. You are more likely to cut yourself while straining to use a dull tool than when slicing easily with a sharp one.

DRESSED UP POTATOES—If you are tired of serving potatoes in the same old ways, try this version of mashed potatoes. Small balls of mashed potato are rolled in beaten egg, then in finely crushed corn flakes, before baking.

Mash Potatoes; Dip and Bake

Need a vegetable that's a little different for a company dinner? Here's a new way to serve potatoes that emphasizes their flavor in a dressy-company way.

Cook and mash potatoes, season with salt and cayenne pepper. Roll into fairly small balls, dip in beaten egg and crushed corn flakes crumbs and bake about 20 minutes. Serve at once.

Potato Balls

1½ cups corn flakes
2 cups mashed potatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
Few grains cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg, well-beaten

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine potatoes, salt and cayenne pepper; mix well. Shape into 12 balls about 1½ inches in diameter.

Roll potato balls in flour; dip in beaten egg, then roll in corn flakes crumbs. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 425 oven about 20 minutes. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings, 2 potato balls each.

Butter, Cream and Some Milk May Be Frozen

WASHINGTON (INS)—You can freeze butter and homogenized milk or cream successfully, if you follow the procedure outlined by dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cream or milk should be frozen in waxed cartons or freezer containers rather than in glass bottles.

Milk, which has not been homogenized, is unappetizing after freezing because the fat separates from the liquid.

Heavy whipping cream also may be frozen. Tests at Michigan State College show that 40 per cent cream, sweetened or unsweetened, whipped or unwhipped, may be frozen and stored for future use as a topping for salads and desserts.

Drainage from frozen whipped cream proved very slight. The cream should be completely defrosted but still cold for whipping.

Long frozen storage is not recommended for dairy products.

Frozen Applesauce Luscious, but Easy

Here's an easy-do frosty dessert fine for busy days.

Frozen Applesauce Dessert

2½ cups (1 No. 2 can) applesauce
1 cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
2 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar

Mix applesauce, orange and lemon juice; freeze to a mush in refrigerator tray.

Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in sugar until firm and glossy.

Fold frozen mushy applesauce mixture into egg whites. Return to refrigerator tray and freeze. Makes six servings.

Quick Way to Prepare Dainty Tea Sandwiches

The simplest and quickest way to prepare tea sandwiches goes like this: Prepare ordinary sandwiches. Stack no more than three high. With a very sharp knife remove crusts, then cut the sandwiches in four irregular shapes.

Each stroke of the knife makes three more small sandwiches — takes precious little more time to prepare a platter full of cute tiny sandwiches than a few big ones.

Pour Juice on Pears

Peel some fresh pears and slice them into your prettiest glass bowl; cover with chilled orange juice. Makes a most refreshing dessert!

French Dressing Flavored With Fruit

It's only your imagination that limits the salad dressings you can concoct. Here's a perfect fruit French dressing to serve with fruit salads.

Fruit French Dressing

¼ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients and shake thoroughly. Yield: About 1 cup.

Marinate fresh-cooked or canned green beans in a tangy French dressing. Serve on salad greens and top with tissue-paper thin slices of crisp red radish.

Lunchers Laud Pretty Pudding

Whether you pack a lunch for school-age members of your family, or for those who go to work each day, variety in the foods used is appreciated by either group.

* * *

In planning lunchbox menus, it is important to include a combination of foods that will supply a variety in color, texture, flavor, and needed food nutrients as well. Dairy foods should play an important part in these meals away from home because of the important minerals, vitamins and protein they supply.

Milk as a beverage may be carried in a chilled thermos if not available at school or office. Cheese and cottage cheese, both made from milk, are tasty sandwich fillings or can be carried as individual foods.

Both youngsters and grownups will welcome lunchbox puddings made with calcium-rich milk. Puddings of the cornstarch type add texture and flavor as well as an additional amount of milk.

* * *

Puddings pack well in the lunchbox in covered paper containers which are readily available.

Lunchbox Surprise Pudding

½ cup sugar
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.) shaved
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
6 marshmallows, cut in quarters

Mix together sugar, shaved chocolate, cornstarch and salt. Stir in milk gradually. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, (about five minutes.)

Blend in vanilla; cool slightly. Add quartered marshmallows and stir to give swirl effect. Chill. Put pudding in small paper containers which have tight-fitting lids for packing in lunchbox. Serves six.

Eye Appeal Is Important for Hot Weather Salads

One of the smartest ways to make a salad appetizing is to serve it on a bed of ice. Now that the new automatic "ice maker" refrigerators have made available almost inexhaustible supplies of ice for home use there is no problem about using ice for service.

The crescent-shaped "ice circles" are also decorative and help to give the dish on which they are served a festive look.

Fresh peaches, blueberries and cottage cheese on a bed of crisp salad greens make a tempting salad so why not try the recipe given here?

Fresh Peach and Blueberry Salad

½ head escarole
½ head curley endive
4 fresh peaches, peeled
8-oz. package cottage cheese
½ cup fresh blueberries
"Ice-Circles"
Fresh dressing or Fruit Salad dressing

Arrange escarole and endive leaves on a salad platter. Arrange 8 peach halves on the greens. Pile cottage cheese in the middle between the peaches. Fill cavities of peach halves with blueberries. Place platter on a larger platter on a bed of "ice circles." Serve with French dressing or Fruit Salad dressing.

Fruited French Dressing

½ cup fresh orange segments
½ cup French dressing
½ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons seedless grapes, halved
2 tablespoons very finely chopped fresh apples
¼ teaspoon crumbled whole oregano leaves

Serve over Fresh Peach and Blueberry Salad.

Freeze Sandwiches

If you wrap your sandwiches separately and put them in the freezer, they will still be good to eat a week or two later.

Avoid raw vegetables which lose their crispness, whites of hard-cooked eggs, fruit jellies and salad dressings. Once frozen sandwiches are thawed, use them promptly because they spoil rapidly in temperatures above 45 degrees.

Test for Peaches

When you buy peaches, look for firmness and freedom from bruises. Avoid all-over green peaches showing no whitish or yellowish signs of ripening.

Peach Custard Wins Applause

There is nothing more delicious than that old-fashioned favorite—baked peach custard. It provides a delicate ending to many a family meal. Here is a rich, extra creamy custard made with sweetened condensed milk. Try it and you'll serve it often.

Baked Peach Custard

¾ cup (½ 15-ounce can) sweetened condensed milk
2 cups hot water
3 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
6 peach halves, fresh or canned
Nutmeg

Combine sweetened condensed milk and hot water. Gradually add beaten eggs while stirring constantly. Stir in salt and vanilla.

Place well-drained peach halves in individual custard cups. Pour milk over peaches. Sprinkle top with nutmeg.

Place in pan filled with hot water to depth of custard. Bake in slow 325 oven 45 minutes, or until knife inserted near the center comes out clean. Chill.

No Water for Spinach

Leafy vegetables, such as spinach, must be washed thoroughly before cooking to remove sand and soil. Then you needn't put water in the pot; enough clings to the leaves to cook them and the precious vitamins are retained!

RIPE PEACH CONSERVE—Why not try ripe peach conserve along with peach jam this year? Peaches are a joy to jam. They are so easy to prepare and so economical to use. Add oranges, lemons and blanched almonds for a luscious spread.

Peach Conserve Brings Summer to Winter Table

It's a real pleasure to go marketing these days. The fruit stands have such a fresh sparkling look.

And what a delight to know that this sparkling goodness can be transferred into homemade sweet spreads that will bring the taste of summer to your table all winter long.

Conserves are members of the sweet spread family that are sometimes neglected. Because the cooking process used to be long and slow, many homemakers were discouraged from attempting conserves.

Modern homemakers need hesitate no longer over this sweet spread situation. By using liquid or powdered natural fruit pectin and the short-boiled method, you can turn out delicious jams and conserves filled with the flavor and fragrance of the fresh, ripe fruit in less than 15 minutes after the fruit has been prepared.

Ripe Peach Conserve

4½ cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin
½ cup chopped blanched almonds

Cut one orange and one lemon in quarters. Remove seeds. Grind fruit, chop fine, or slice crosswise wafer thin. Squeeze the juice from a second lemon. Measure two tablespoons into pan with fruit.

Add one cup water and simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Peel and pit about 2 pounds fully ripe peaches. Chop very fine or grind. Combine fruits and measure 4½ cups into a very large saucepan.

Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin and nuts. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 glasses.

Peach Jam

4 cups prepared fruit
6 cups sugar
1½ ounce box powdered fruit pectin

Peel and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil, and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Makes about nine glasses.

Corned Beef Pasties Perfect Picnic Fare

Here's something different to take to a picnic.

Corned Beef Pasties

½ cup chili sauce
½ cup chopped onion
2 12-ounce cans corned beef (chopped)
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour
1 cup enriched cornmeal
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
¾ cup shortening
1½ cups milk

Mix chili sauce, onion, corned beef and one-half teaspoon salt for filling. For pastry, sift together flour, cornmeal, baking powder and two teaspoons salt.

Cut in shortening well. Add milk; mix lightly only until all ingredients are dampened.

Roll out on lightly floured board or pregared pastry cloth to one-eighth inch thickness. Cut into 24 circles about four inches in diameter, place 12 of these pastry rounds on two cookie sheets.

Place small amount of filling on each of the 12 rounds. Top with remaining rounds; seal edges with fork.

Prick top of pastry with fork. Bake in 400 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Try Apricot Dessert

Slice apricots into sherbet glasses. Add a sprig of mint to each glass. Pour on a combination of pineapple juice and ginger-ale.

Pack Lunchbox With Essentials

Packing school lunches again becomes a part of the daily schedule in many homes.

Here's a point that every lunchbox preparer should keep in mind at all times — the school child's lunch should be a part of a well-planned daily diet, not simply a snack to satisfy hunger.

A generous part of the daily allowance of meat, milk, vegetables and fruit should go into the lunchbox, points out home economist Reba Staggs.

Meat in the sandwiches, milk in a vacuum bottle, vegetables in raw form such as celery and carrot strips, radishes, etc., and fruit serving as dessert.

Of course, sandwiches are the main item in practically every lunchbox.

Remember that several thin sandwiches are likely to be more appetizing than one thick one. Also, rather than one thick slice of meat, cut several thin, even slices of roast beef, pork, veal or lamb.

Making sandwiches that are different is the constant search of many mothers. One easy way is to consider the different meats that go with different breads.

Here are a few examples: Crisp bacon is good with peanut butter and, for a change, is temptingly used between two slices of Boston brown bread.

Corned beef is excellent on rye; canned smoked tongue or liver sausage on whole wheat; canned luncheon loaf on raisin; beef on pumpernickel; a chipped beef, cream cheese and chutney mixture on a bun.

Teens Will Love Candy Spiked With Peppermint

The high school set will enjoy making this candy treat themselves. They'll eat it all up, too!

Peppermint Crisps

6 cups puffed rice
½ cup crushed peppermint candy
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ pound (about 32) fresh marshmallows

Heat puffed rice in shallow pan in moderate 350 oven 10 minutes. Pour puffed rice into large buttered bowl. Mix with crushed peppermint candy.

Melt butter in 3-quart saucepan; add marshmallows and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is well blended. Remove from heat.

Pour marshmallow mixture over puffed rice and peppermint candy, stirring until puffed rice is evenly coated.

Pack into buttered 7"by 11-inch pan. Cool and cut into bars. Store in refrigerator. Makes 32 bars.

Menu Planning in a Rut? Serve Tongue for Supper

With tongue prepared ahead of time and stored in your refrigerator you have the basis of many interesting and flavorful main dishes.

Here is a guide for buying tongue given by Reba Staggs, well-known meat expert. According to Miss Staggs, pork and lamb tongues are small and are usually sold in a ready-to-serve form. Beef and veal tongues are larger and are sold fresh or cured.

You can count on 10 to 12 servings from an average beef tongue and from 4 to 6 from a veal tongue.

In cooking smoked or pickled tongue it may be necessary to soak it in water before cooking. Then follow the same directions as when preparing an uncured tongue.

Place the tongue in a heavy deep utensil and completely cover with water. For fresh tongue add 1 teaspoon of salt for each quart of water used in covering the tongue. Then cover the meat closely and let it simmer until tender, allowing 1 hour per pound cooking time.

When tongue is tender, trim away the hard parts and remove the skin. To do this, plunge the tongue in cold water a few minutes immediately after cooking.

When planning to serve tongue chilled, or for later slicing and reheating, let the meat cool in the liquid in which it was cooked. Then tightly cover and store in your refrigerator.

Slice, reheat and serve tongue on split hot corn bread squares and top with a mushroom sauce.

Or reheat slices in a clove-cherry sauce, lemon or raisin sauce. Serve with a mustard sauce, piquant sauce, with horseradish or with creamed spinach.

SUNNYLAND SANDWICH—Luncheon is always appetizing when it consists of a fruit salad and a satisfying sandwich like this Sunnyland Sandwich. Dress up peanut butter for the filling with dates and crushed pineapple.

Extras Add Zest to Peanut Butter

Peanut butter is a first class sandwich filling "as is." But see if it doesn't have extra appeal when you mix it with lemon juice, chopped dates and crushed pineapple. Such a filling makes Sunnyland Peanut Butter Sandwich a real "work of art."

Whole meals built around sandwiches provide the answer to quick, easy meal planning. They are the answer for the busy mother who must get a nourishing lunch on the table every day at noon sharp. The grade school crowd will cheer this one.

Sunnyland Peanut Butter Sandwich

- ¾ cup peanut butter
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- ½ cup chopped pitted dates
- ½ cup drained crushed pineapple
- 12 slices enriched bread
- Butter or margarine
- Lettuce, if desired

Combine peanut butter and lemon juice, mixing until well blended. Add dates and pineapple and mix thoroughly. Spread bread with butter or margarine.

Spread peanut butter mixture on 6 slices bread. Arrange lettuce on peanut butter mixture. Top with remaining bread slices. Makes 6 sandwiches. (1½ cups filling.)

In warm weather it is best to keep creamed honey in the refrigerator because it may partly liquefy at a very warm room temperature.

When marshmallows are to be melted, cut them into small pieces with a kitchen scissors

Try Bantam Avocado for Different Appetizer

If you want something really different and delicious, try this appetizer!

Bantam Avocado

- 2 medium-size avocados
- 1 can consomme madrilene (chilled)
- 1 3-ounce jar red caviar

Peel avocados; cut each into thirds. Flake chilled jellied madrilene with a fork and mix in caviar. Serve madrilene-caviar over avocado. Makes six servings.

Spanish Omelet Solves Friday Menu Problem

Wondering what to serve for Friday lunch or supper? How about a Spanish omelet—puffy eggs with a spicy tomato sauce?

Accompany the omelet with French-fried potatoes and a tossed green salad made piquant with chives and basil. Hot biscuits or crisp rolls will round out the menu.

School Reopening Means Back to Kitchen for Mom

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

They started school today, every Tom, Dick and Harry, every Trudy, Dotty and Helen. They started school once again, or maybe it was for the first time; and now we mothers have a new job.

During the summer I think we are apt to get a little careless—or just relaxed. The need for a regular schedule is gone so the children often eat at odd times and consume less well-balanced meals. Now we must change.

MRS. ODELL

These children of ours work hard at school. They may not romp around so actively all day as they did during the summer months, but their need for an adequate, nutritious diet is as great.

They still expend a great deal of energy. They are growing, some of them at a tremendous rate. Teeth, bones and muscles need good material for good growth.

Let's review briefly the "Basic Seven." They are: Green and yellow vegetables — one or more servings a day; oranges, tomatoes, grapefruit, raw cabbage or salad greens—one or more servings a day; potatoes and other root vegetables and fruits—two or more servings a day; milk, cheese, ice cream — children, three to four cups milk — adults, two or more cups; meat, poultry, fish, eggs, legumes — one or two servings a day; enriched or whole grain bread or cereals every day; butter or fortified margarine — daily as customarily used.

What specifically are we going to do during the school year? We're going to see that the family gets up early enough to eat a good breakfast that will supply one-fourth to one-third of the day's food requirements.

We're going to prepare an appetizing lunch, be it for home consumption or lunchbox carrying, so that each child will anticipate sitting down to that lunch.

We're going to have a pleasant evening meal for the whole family, one that consists of food the family likes in as calm and relaxed an atmosphere as possible.

Life gets very hectic at times and meals aren't always ideal. However, if we have a clear picture of what we're trying to accomplish attaining that end is easier.

For you readers who are home all day the job is perhaps simpler, though sometimes monotonous. If you have an outside job in addition to your homemaking job, you have learned you must do more detailed planning. You have to make short cuts and enlist all possible aids.

Being in the latter category myself several days each week, I think I know some of your problems. I'll do everything I can in these columns to help you, suggesting easy-to-prepare, nutritious meals and passing on to you all the new ideas I receive.

We're all in this enterprise together; we all want to raise healthy, happy children.

Preserving, Preserves Are Entirely Different

Did you ever wonder what the difference between "preserving" food and putting up "preserves" is?

Well—when fruits or a mixture of fruits are combined with an equal amount or three-quarters as much sugar as fruit, and cooked until the syrup is quite thick with the fruit transparent or shiny, the product is called a preserve.

When grated, a quarter-pound of process or natural cheddar cheese will make 1 cupful.

Plain Cake Pairs Perfectly With Fruit

Here's a delicious plain cake that goes well with fruit.

Cake Squares

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup water

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in eggs thoroughly.

Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water, mixing until smooth each time.

Grease baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); line bottom with waxed paper; grease paper. Turn cake into prepared pan.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Turn out on rack; strip off paper. Cool. Cut in squares, then cut each square through horizontally; fill and top with sliced peaches (or other fruit) and whipped cream.

Casserole Adds Chipped Beef

Evaporated milk acts as a binding agent in this dish as well as giving it a characteristic rich flavor and color. Everyone, both adults and children need plenty of milk each day. Evaporated milk is a quick and economical form of milk to use in cooking.

Celery, onion, and dried beef are cooked in butter to start the preparation of the macaroni casserole. The flour is added, then the evaporated milk and water are slowly poured in to form a white sauce.

After this has thickened, the cooked macaroni, grated cheese, seasonings, parsley and pimiento are added. Save some of the cheese to garnish the top of the dish. Twenty minutes after it is put into a moderate oven, it is ready to serve, piping hot and appetite-appealing.

Chipped Beef-Macaroni Casserole

- ⅓ cup butter, melted
- ⅓ cup chopped onion
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ¼ pound shredded dried beef
- ¼ cup flour
- 1 tall can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk
- 1 cup water
- 1½ cups grated sharp cheddar cheese
- 3 cups cooked macaroni
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

For the sauce: Cook the celery, onion and dried beef in the melted butter. Stir in the flour and mix well. Add the evaporated milk and water gradually. Cook until thickened. Then add to the white sauce mixture ¾ cup of the grated cheese, macaroni, seasonings, parsley, and pimiento and mix well.

Pour into a buttered 1½ quart casserole. Top with the remaining ¾ cup of grated cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes. Serves 4-6.

New Trick to Try With Cauliflower

Here's a luncheon dish that is different. So good, too!

Canadian Bacon and Cauliflower Au Gratin

- 1 small head cauliflower (about ⅔ pound)
- ½ cup boiling water
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- ½ cup grated cheddar cheese
- 8 to 12 thin slices Canadian bacon
- Paprika

Cut tough green leaves away from cauliflower; separate into small flowerets; wash in cold water; drain. Add to boiling water with ¼ teaspoon salt; bring to a boil again, cover and cook rapidly until just tender—about 7 minutes.

Drain liquid from cauliflower into measuring cup; add enough milk to make 1 cup.

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; blend in flour; add milk mixture all at one time, and stir constantly until smooth. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper to taste; cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and bubbly.

Over low heat stir in ¼ cup of the cheese until melted; add drained cauliflowerets and reheat.

Put bacon in cold heavy skillet and fry until lightly browned on both sides. Arrange bacon slices in small shallow baking dishes (about 6 inches across top); spoon creamed cauliflower into dishes, having edges of bacon show.

Sprinkle with remaining ⅓ cup cheese; dust with paprika. Place under broiler for 1 or 2 minutes to melt cheese. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Chill Ice Cream Cake for Quick, Easy Treat

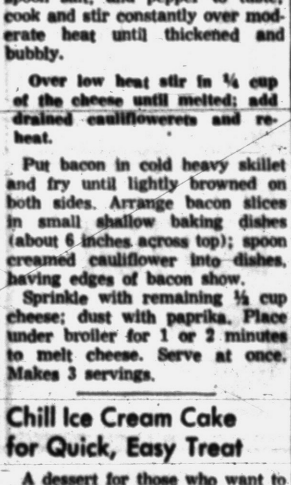

A dessert for those who want to cook in cool comfort — angel food ice cream cake. Line a refrigerator tray with heavy waxed paper. Slice a bakers' 13-ounce loaf angel food cake horizontally into thirds. Slice a pint brick of strawberry ice cream into thirds, also horizontally.

In the refrigerator tray, place ice cream slices between two layers of cake; use 1½ slices of cake for a layer. Cover with waxed paper and store in freezing compartment. Slice into portions and serve with whipped cream.

4 Peaches Equal Pound

About four medium-size peaches will make a pound. Easy way to peel the peaches is to let them stand in water that has come to a boil for a minute or two; the skin will then slip off easily.

Finely crushed cornflakes make a different and delicious coating for oven-fried chicken.

FRUITED SKEWERS—Use those long skewers for a recipe that needs no cooking. Marinate a variety of fruits in French dressing or lemon juice and serve on the skewers. Suggested as a tasty combination are Italian prune plums, pears, bananas and peaches.

Skewer Marinated Fruits for New Eating Pleasure

For fresh eating, Italian prunes are the most popular member of the plum family. This dark purple fruit is firm-meated with a tangy sweet flavor. Even fully ripe it remains firm, which is an important factor in its success as a commercial fruit.

Italian prunes are shipped to distant markets from the orchards in eastern Washington and arrive table-ready to enrich and sweeten menus.

Besides the popularity of the Italian prune for fresh eating, it also is a favorite canned for sauce, frozen for pies or made into delicious marmalades and jams.

Italian prunes are of great nutritional value in the diet. Due to their large amount of fructose or fruit sugar they are excellent for quick energy besides being most refreshing. The mineral content is high with iron. They are mildly laxative and contain more calories per pound than most other fruits.

While days are still warm and picnics popular, enjoy these sugar-rich Italian prunes on a skewer in combination with Bartlett pears, bananas and freestone peaches.

Marinate the fruits in lemon juice or French dressing before placing on the skewer. Team the fruited skewer with toasted buns and weiners, an ice cold drink and ginger cookies.

Fruited Skewers

- 16 Italian prunes
- 2 Bartlett pears
- 2 freestone peaches
- Lemon juice
- 2 bananas
- 8 maraschino cherries

Wash the fruit. Cut Italian prunes in halves and remove the pits. Halve pears and peaches. Pit and cut in slices. Cut bananas in slices.

Marinate fruits in lemon juice or French dressing. Arrange on eight skewers with a prune half between each piece of fruit. Place maraschino cherry on each piece of fruit. Place maraschino cherry on end.

Italian Prune Pie

- 3 cups sliced Italian prunes
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- Dash of salt
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Grated rind of 1 half lemon
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted
- Pastry for double crust

Line pie plate with crust. Combine all other ingredients. Place in pie plate. Adjust top crust, cutting vent and sealing edges.

Bake in 425-degrees oven for 35 minutes or until crust is brown and fruit is tender.

Mix Ham With Cheese

Mix deviled ham with cream or cream-style cottage cheese for a sandwich spread. Add minced chives or parsley, prepared horseradish or Worcestershire sauce for extra seasoning.

To Sterilize Jars, Lids

To sterilize jars with glass or porcelain-lined zinc lids used in pickling and preserving: Put them in a kettle, fill it with cold water, then boil for 15 minutes. Keep the jars and lids in hot water until you are ready to fill the jars.

Table Shows How Many Canning Jars You'll Need

In planning your canning you naturally want to know how many jars are going to be needed for any quantity of raw food. Or vice-versa, how many bushels, boxes or lugs of produce you'll need to fill the number of jars you plan on putting up.

Experience, of course, is your best guide, because it depends upon the manner of preparing and packing as well as on the size and condition of the product.

Here is a "quickie" table that you can use as a guide:

Food	Fresh Weight	Qt. Jars Needed	Weight Per Jar
Apples	1 bu. (48 lb.)	15 to 20	2½ to 3 lb.
Apricots	1 lug or box (22 lb.)	7 to 11	2 to 2½ lb.
	1 bu. (50 lb.)	20 to 24	2 to 2½ lb.
Berries (except strawberries)	24 qt. crate	12 to 18	1½ to 2 lb.
Cherries	1 lug (22 lb.)	11	1½ to 3 lb.
(unpitted)	1 bu. (50-56 lb.)	22 to 32
Peaches	1 lug (22 lb.)	8 to 12	2 to 2½ lb.
	1 bu. (48 lb.)	18 to 24	2 to 2½ lb.
Pears	1 box (35 lb.)	14 to 17	2 to 2½ lb.
	1 bu. (50 lb.)	20 to 25	2 to 2½ lb.
Plums	1 lug (24 lb.)	12	2 to 2½ lb.
	1 bu. (56 lb.)	24 to 30	2 to 2½ lb.
Tomatoes	1 lug (30 lb.)	10	2½ to 3 lb.
	1 bu. (53 lb.)	18 to 22	2½ to 3 lb.
Tomato Juice	1 bu. (53 lb.)	12 16	3 to 3½ lb.
Asparagus	1 bu. (45 lb.)	11
Beans (lima in pods)	1 bu. (32 lb.)	6 to8	4 to 5 lb.
Beans (green or wax)	1 bu. (30 lb.)	15 to 30	1½ to 2 lb.
Beets	1 bu. (52 lb.)	17 to 20	2½ to 3 lb.
Carrots	1 bu. (50 lb.)	16 to 20
Corn, sweet	1 bu. (35 lb.)	8 to 9	6 to 16 ears
Okra	1 bu. (20 lb.)	16 to 18	1½ lb.
Peas, green	1 bu. (30 lb.)	6 to 7	2 to 2½ lb.
Pumpkin	50 lb.	15
Spinach	1 bu. (18 lb.)	6 to 9	2 to 3 lb.
Squash, summer	1 bu. (40 lb.)	16 to 20	2 to 2½ lb.
Sweet potatoes	1 bu. (55 lb.)	18 to 22	2½ to 3 lb.

Remove Pear Cores With Melon Ball Cutter

When stewing or preserving pears, it's a simple matter to remove the core. Use the scoop you use for cutting melon balls.

The neat little cavities are good for filling with honey and spice if you're planning to broil or bake the pear.

Clam Patties Delicious as Friday Night Fare

Clam patties are delicious for Friday night supper. Mix canned minced clams with a beaten egg and cracker crumbs; add a little of the clam liquid, so the patties will hold together, and a little grated onion for seasoning.

Fry in patty-shape in deep fat and serve with catchup or chili sauce, baked potatoes and a green salad.

Try Molded Egg Salad

Egg salad may be packed into small containers, chilled and then unmolded on salad greens at serving time. Garnish with extra mayonnaise and capers, paprika or minced parsley.

Easy dressing for fruit salad: French dressing sweetened with a little honey.

Farm Operation Proves Unique

Straight and Narrow Wheat Field Borders Railroad Track

NEPHI, Utah (UP) — A leading candidate for the title of the most unique agricultural operation in the Intermountain West is Mrs. Loa Langenbacker's "straight and narrow" wheat farm just south of Nephi.

The dimensions of the farm: 85 feet wide, 11¾ miles long.

It there's a longer, norrower wheat plot in the West, Utah agricultural authorities don't know about it.

The story of the farm goes back many years to the time when Jack Langenbacker, the present owner's late husband, was an engineer on the Union Pacific railroad's run through south-central Utah.

As Langenbacker, a U. P. engineer for 35 years who died two years ago, piloted his engine over the high ridge between Nephi and Levan, he noticed the railroad right-of-way was, as his widow puts it, "plenty wide."

Along the right-of-way there was lush dry-land wheat fields.

"It didn't seem to him," Mrs. Langenbacker recalls, "that there was any reason that wheat should grow right up to the fence and then stop."

Langenbacker approached Union Pacific officials and made the novel suggestion that he be given a long-term lease on the nearly 100 acres of right-of-way along the straight stretch of track on Levan ridge.

The railroad people liked the idea," Mrs. Langenbacker said. "After all, the wheat would cut down on the dust and weeds beside the track and reduce the summertime fire hazard."

So engineer Langenbacker got his lease "at a nominal figure" and began cultivating the land. He planted his wheat every other year, letting the ground lie fallow alternate years, the usual practice with dry farms in the West.

His widow said the crop yield was "real good" every planting year, with a bountiful harvest of winter wheat.

In addition to leasing the "straight and narrow" farm, Langenbacker invested in Nephi's Forest Hotel, one of the better known hostelries along Utah's "main stem," U. S. Highway 91.

When he died, his widow moved from their home in Salt Lake City to full-time residence in Nephi to operate the hotel and watch over the farm, which is plowed and harvested under a semi-tenant arrangement by Frank Morgan, a farmer who has other agricultural holdings in the Sanpete country area.

Mommy Teaches Little Stargazer Planets, Galaxies

WASHINGTON (INS) — Three-year-old Davey Rubin can point out the planets and galaxies in a textbook on astronomy with the ease that most youngsters identify barnyard characters.

But the boy is not a candidate for the quiz kids — yet.

His astronomical knowledge who received her doctor's degree in astronomy from Georgetown University last month.

Mrs. Vera Cooper Rubin, 25, is the author of a thesis compiling new and old data on the distribution of galaxies which support the theory they condensed from a turbulent gas cloud.

The brainy mother of Davey and another child, Judy 1, said additional research by others interested in the field has brought about more or less general acceptance of the theory.

Mrs. Rubin hopes to continue her studies, but not until her children are in school. Meanwhile, she will do most of her star-gazing at the pictures of the Horsehead Nebula in Orion and the galaxy of stars named as M-81 on the walls of her home in Hyattsville, Md.

With wifely affection, Mrs. Rubin credited her husband with making it possible for her to attend classes at Georgetown, twice a week for the past two years. He chauffeured her to the University until she learned to drive, and did the baby-sitting chores.

Kibitzing Spreads

CHICAGO (INS)—Kibitzing — an old American habit—is becoming profitable. So says George H. Thobaben, president of the National Association of Suggestion system. The Cleveland manufacturer adds that suggestion systems are growing day by day. They have improved employe-employer relations and a recent survey among 192 firms showed that 1,045,000 suggestions were made by employes. For these, the companies paid $6,500,000 in awards.

Entire South Dakota City May Go on Auction Block

PICKSTOWN, S.D. (UP) — Is the housing shortage bothering you? If so, there's a whole town going begging for occupants here shortly.

It's a town adequate for 3,000 to 5,000 population.

It was built to accommodate workers and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers personnel who constructed huge Ft. Randall Dam here, and cost about nine million dollars. It will be abandoned unless some suitable use can be found.

* * *

All the government wishes to retain is about 50 houses to accommodate some 100 employes who operate the dam's powerhouse and other facilities.

The layout includes a church, a 500-capacity school, a theater and a 30-bed hospital.

It's complete with a half-million-dollar hotel with 122 rooms and three apartments. There's a garage, fire and police station, large recreation hall, a huge warehouse and a modern shopping center. The railroad tracks run to the door.

But don't start packing, because you can't move in yet. The Army hasn't decided what disposition will be made of the facilities.

Disposition will be governed by congressional action directing the corps to recover at least a part of the government's investment.

Gov. Sigurd Anderson and Executive Secretary Hug Carlson of the State Natural Resources Commission are leading efforts to keep Pickstown alive. They believe some industry must be looking for just such a location and would be willing to buy the town lock, stock and barrel.

Picture Tube Is Used to Check on Engines

SIDNEY, N. Y. (UP) — An electronic unit with a TV-type picture tube is being installed in DC-7s of several major airlines to show ignition performance to the flight crew.

The unit, known as the ignition analyzer, is so precise it pinpoints engine performance. Its cathode-ray tube instantly checks the 300 to 400 sparks per second of any one of the eight magnetos on a four-engine airliner in action. It also can "picture" any one of the plane's 144 spark plugs and predict their life expectancy, aviation engineers explain.

There are auto or assembly plants in 41 of the states.

Every Tom, Dick, Harry Named Larry or Steve

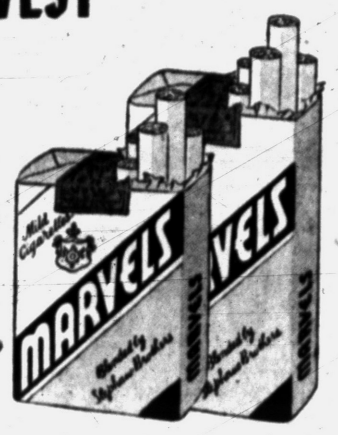

ENID, Okla. (UP) — Mrs. Irene Ehrlich enjoyed a laugh at the expense of a fellow teacher with four Larrys in a class at El Reno, Okla.

That was before she sat down to call the roll in her own classroom at North Enid Elementary School yesterday.

Mrs. Ehrlich found that she not only has five Larrys but three Stephens as well.

Garden Club to Meet at Rochester Tuesday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester National Farm and Garden Assoc. will hold a board meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday, followed by a regular meeting at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carl Dorst, 5680 Livernois Ave.

Members are asked to bring their favorite place setting for a tray or luncheon table, for demonstration and group discussion.

Teachers Plan Picnic

ROCHESTER — The Board of Education and school faculty members will meet at 6:30 p.m. today at Avon Park pavilion for a picnic. The whole staff of teachers returned today from Caseville, where they attended the teachers conference at Sleeper State Park.

Sandra Folsom, Claude Hamby Exchange Vows

IMLAY CITY — Sandra Jeanine Folsom became the bride of Claude Dean Hamby Saturday at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamby of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

After a dinner and reception at the Masonic Hall, the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip to Northern Michigan. They will make their home at 9660 Grandmont, Detroit.

Only about 3 per cent of the total salt produced in th U. S. reaches consumers across the dinner table.

Elm Disease Cases Increase

25 Trees Afflicted This Year Compared to Two in 1953

Nearly 13 times as many Dutch Elm disease cases were found this summer in Pontiac as last season, according to City Forester William Aho.

Some 25 cases were located and the trees removed this year, compared with two in 1953, he explained.

Despite an extensive program of spraying, trimming and dead wood removal, the tree-killing blight spread, Aho stated, and will increase again next year unless strong measures are taken against it.

The disease carrying beetle hibernates in dead elm wood and Aho advised elm owners to prune trees this winter of dead branches and remove any on the ground.

Before leaves come out, elms should be sprayed to kill any insects hibernating in small dead twigs which escape pruning. For maximum safety, trees should be sprayed again after leaves are out, Aho advised.

The city carries on a preventive program with trees on public property, but private owners must do likewise if steps are to be effective.

Last year the disease broke out only in Pontiac's southeast section, but this season trees were killed throughout the city, Aho said.

This year the city sprayed 3,316 elms on municipal property plus 242 on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds. In July two State Department of Agriculture men helped to survey trees suspected of the infection.

ROYAL OAK — Service for William A. Mason, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mason, 724 N. Rembrandt Ave., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday, at the Schnaidt Funeral Home, with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery. He died Wednesday.

Surviving besides his parents are two sisters, Marcella and Barbara, and his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Fields of Nova Scotia.

Attlee Calls Reds 'Genuine Idealists'

CANBERRA (INS) — Former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee told the Australian parliament today that the people running Communist China are "genuine idealists."

The Labor Party leader, who came to Australia after a 17-day tour of the Red China mainland, said "the whole of the Chinese people are out for peace."

Attlee refused to comment, however, on one development of his visit to Peiping—a bitter attack on him today by the Moscow Communist Party paper, Pravda.

The Red organ accused him of backing an alleged "American policy of arming the most aggressive forces of Europe and the Far East."

Pravda's comments were in reaction to Attlee's disclosure that he had suggested to Peiping leaders they urge their Russian friends to set an example for peace by reducing their armaments.

RALPH A. MAIN

Waives Examination on Narcotics Count

Lofton Mims, 31, of Detroit, arrested here Aug. 30 on a narcotics charge, waived examination yesterday in Municipal Court and was bound over for arraignment Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

He was returned to Oakland County Jail after he failed to post a $1,000 bond set by Judge Cecil McCallum.

Mims, of 637 E. Adams, Detroit, was arrested in a car here with Herbert DeLone, 24, of the Detroit address. Police said they had heroin in their posssion.

DeLone is being held for investigation of possessing narcotics.

Runaway Car Hits Owner, Speeds Off

DENVER (UP) — It all started when John A. Simon climbed from his car, stumbled and fell.

He awoke several hours later, bruised and shaken, his car gone, and started police on a search for the missing auto.

They found it about two blocks away. It had coasted downhill, over a curbing, across a vacant lot and into the parking area of an express company, where it crashed into a truck.

Officers had an easy explanation for Simon's bruises. They said the runaway car probably had run over him.

The words copper, bronze and brass—at times used interchangeably—now represent three standardized materials. Copper is an element. Bronze is an alloy of copper and tin. Brass is a combination of copper and zinc.

260,000 Attend Catholic Ritual

Chicago Marian Year Ceremonies Pack Huge Soldier Field

CHICAGO (UP) — An estimated 260,000 persons filled huge Soldier Field to overflowing last night at a colorful, sacred Roman Catholic ceremony celebrating the Marian Year in the Chicago archdiocese.

The vast multitude of worshippers who paid reverent tribute to the mother of Christ filled every seat in the big lakefront stadium. Thousands pressed out into the grassy field near the specially built altar in midfield. Other thousands remained outside the stadium and heard the ceremonies over loud speakers.

* * *

Traffic in the vicinity of the field was jammed for hours before and after the ceremonies.

The crush at the gates resulted in 19 persons being hospitalized. No serious injuries were reported but police said that about 100 persons were given treatment at first aid stations. Most of those affected fainted while others suffered from shock or exhaustion or were bruised as the throng pressed through the gates.

More than 8,000 men, women and children participated in the program. Included were four choirs of 4,000 voices, some 1,600 priests and prelates, Catholic fraternal groups, the American Legion color guard and drum and bugle corps and gaily costumed groups representing 16 of the nationalities of persons of the archdiocese.

Pennsylvania Is Making Straits Bridge Caissons

MACKINAW CITY (UP)—Two huge caissons for the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, one 199 and the other 204 feet tall, are being fabricated at Ambridge, Pa., by the American Bridge Division of the United States Steel Corp.

Filled with concrete the caissons will support the two 552-foot main towers of the bridge, which will connect Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Completion of the bridge is expected in November 1957.

Roy Cohn to Be Honored at Dinner in Baltimore

GLAMOUR STANDS IN — A Hollywood stand-in, in the person of pretty Peggy Burke, came to Pontiac yesterday after finishing the picture "Naked Alibi" as stand-in for Gloria Grahame. The film, adapted from the story "Cry Copper," will open Saturday at the Strand Theater here.

Seaway Planners Will Hold Hearing

LANSING (UP)—A legislative committee on the St. Lawrence Seaway today decided to hold a public hearing in Lansing on state legislation needed to get full benefit of the seaway.

Chairman Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) said that the date of the hearing would be set later. Representatives of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, the Michigan Waterways Commission, the Lake Carriers Assn. and mayors of cities having existing or potential port facilities will be specially invited, he said.

The committee, holding its organizational meeting, decided to make a study of laws needed to permit municipalities to build needed dock facilities.

Possible new laws permitting the state and local governments to enter into compacts with other governments will be studied.

The committee also decided to prepare for the 1955 Legislature a codification of the state's marine laws with changes made necessary for the seaway.

Low Bids Revealed for 5 Road Projects

LANSING (UP) — Low biders on five state trunkline construction projects were announced today by the State Highway Department.

They were:

1.346 miles of grading, drainage, pavements, ramps, service road and utilities from the Ford and Lodge expressway interchange east to Rivard street in Detroit, Denton Construction Co. and Louis Garavagila, Center Line, $1,553,090.

Bridge to carry Burns avenue over the Edsel Ford expressway in Detroit, Louis Garavaglia, Center Line, $209,329.

6.5 miles of pavement and ramps from Buhl road in Monroe County north of the North Huron River drive in Rockwood in Wayne County, Sargent Construction Co., Saginaw, $962,532.

Bridge to carry Lakewood road over the Toledo-North expressway, 6.8 miles south of Monroe, Northern Builders, Traverse City, $159,589.

6 Claim Winning Ticket

OSAKA, Japan (UP)—Police here may have to hold a lottery to decide the owner of a $5,555 winning lottery ticket found in a gutter yesterday by a 23-year-old woman. Six persons already have put in claims.

Glamorous Film Stand-In Doesn't Want to Be Star

By ABBIE KUCSERA

Blonde Peggy Burke, one of Hollywood's unsung glamour girls, having finished her work in Universal-International's "Naked Alibi," visited Pontiac yesterday on a tour of the nation.

Unsung simply because she is one of the girls whose job it is to "stand in" on the set for the star of the show, Miss Burke, in her latest picture worked with Gloria Grahame.

The willowy, blue-eyed blonde who has been stand-in for Rhonda Fleming, Rosemary Clooney and Arlene Dahl, worked for the first time with Gloria Grahame in "Naked Alibi." So much did Miss Grahme enjoy working with Peggy that she asked the studio if the latter might stand in for her in all future pictures.

Miss Burke, pretty enough to be a star herself, says she enjoys her work very much, terming it "always interesting, always exciting." She has no aspirations, however, to be an actress. Simply meeting the stars and working with them is fun in itself.

She cites, for example, the time she worked in a picture with Bing Crosby for several weeks. She had always admired the crooner, and when she met and worked with him, found him to be finer and more friendly than she had expected.

Too, Miss Burke brought up the fact that, as a stand-in, one gets the glamour and the excitement of Hollywood but misses the nervous tension one is apt to build up when acting.

She laughingly added: "Anyway, I leave the drama in the family to my husband, Paul Burke. (Husband Paul recently completed a part in the movie "South Sea Woman.")

Back home in Hollywood she and Paul have two children, Paula, 6, and Bryan, 4. Their glamorous mother telephones them every other night and though she has been on tour less than two weeks, their first and favorite question is: "Mommy, when are you coming home?"

The requirements of a stand-in, says Miss Burke, are that one must have the same general features as the star she represents. She must stand in while the crew lines up lighting and camera angles. And she must substitute in any hazardous work for which the script calls.

In "Yankee Pasha," Miss Burke rode horseback in the various dangerous chases, substituting for Rhonda Fleming. She also did the fight scene with Mamie Van Doren in the picture.

In answer to the question, "Does Mamie Van Doren really look like Marilyn Monroe," Miss Burke said "I think she looks remarkably like her, and to top it all, Miss Van Doren is a very sweet girl."

Born in Eau Claire, Wis., Miss Burke went to Hollywood 12 years ago, following the death of her mother, to live with an older sister.

There the late Earl Carroll spotted her and asked her to work in a show in his famous Hollywood restaurant. From there she went into film work.

Miss Burke, enchanted with the beauty of Michigan and especially the Oakland County countryside, is scheduled to visit Flint and Saginaw before going on to New York.

Next weekend she will fly back to the coast, where she is scheduled to do a picture with Arlene Dahl.

Niles Twins Win Again

NILES (UP)—The Shaffer twins, Richard and Robert, have won their ninth trophy for being the most identical twin boys between 13 and 18 years old at the International Twins Convention. The 16-year-old boys have won eight other cups for being the most handsome and most identical twins at previous conventions.

Fragile Infant Fishes on His 92nd Birthday

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (UP) — Berry farmer John Green, who celebrated his 92nd birthday yesterday by going fishing in Beaver Creek, says he was such a fragile infant that his mother carried him around on a pillow.

His subsequent good health and longevity, said he, is due to "a copper-lined stomach and good whisky."

Ginger Rogers' TV Debut to Be 90-Minute Show

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Ginger Rogers is leaping into television the hard way with a strenuous, 1½-hour live show.

After a couple of years of romancing with TV, the star is ready to go. She'll make her debut (except for an appearance on the Oscar telecast) on NBC Oct. 18. The show will be the first of the "spectaculars" produced by Leland Hayward. Show time is 8 p.m. and the layout is obviously designed to knock I Love Lucy out of its supremacy.

* * *

Ginger will appear in three plays from Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30"—"Red Peppers," "Shadow Play" and "Still Life." The latter was the basis for the film "Brief Encounter," and its star, Trevor Howard, will appear opposite Ginger.

Isn't she scared with such a heavy schedule?

"No," she replied. "It means a lot of hard work. But then, I've never been allergic to work. The memorizing doesn't throw me either. I have a habit of memorizing whole plays, so I can throw a cue if it is needed.

"The only thing that worries me is the changes of costumes. I don't see how I am going to get into so many outfits in an hour and a half. But I suppose they will figure it out."

I saw Ginger over breakfast coffee on the veranda of her hilltop home overlooking the Beverly Hills. She looked as youthful as ever and enthused about the activity her career is enjoying.

"It never rains but what it pours," she said. "I'll sit around for months, and then suddenly I'll be so busy I don't know what to do."

Before leaving for New York and the TV show, she has to make a Columbia picture, "Dead Pigeon," in which she'll play a Roxie Hartlike gal who comes out of prison to be a reluctant state's witness. After the TV show, she goes on the road for two weeks to help sell "Twist of Fate," which she made in England with her husband Jacques Bergerac. Coming out at the same time will be her latest picture, "Black Widow," in which she plays her first killer.

Employment Picture Changes Very Little

WASHINGTON (UP) — The latest federal survey of the job situation shows little change in either employment or unemployment from July to August.

Usually the number of jobless drops sharply in this period but the figures remained fairly stable this year—largely because unemployment did not increase as much as usual in July and therefore the seasonal return to work in August was less than in most years.

The joint monthly employment report of the Commerce and Labor departments issued yesterday, said employment increased from 62,148,000 to 62,276,000 and unemployment dropped from 3,346,000 to 3,245,000.

State Gets Check for School Lunches

LANSING (UP)—The first federal allotment for the 1954-55 school lunch program in Michigan was received Wednesday by Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor.

Taylor said the $215,000 check was part of a $2,000,000 allotment for Michigan public schools for the school year.

"This program has grown every year since it started in 1947 and every indication is that the growth will continue during the school year," Taylor said.

During the 1953-54 terms, 2,080 schools and 400,000 children participated in the program, an increase of 61 schools and 45,000 children over the previous year.

The average cost for a complete lunch was 25 cents, Taylor said.

MRA Convention Set for Mackinac Sept. 25

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP)—The World Assembly of the Moral Rearmament (MRA) movement will be held here Sept. 25-Oct. 5.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, founder of the MRA movement, will be on hand to conduct the convention. MRA officials said the assembly was called at the request of Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) and Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney and prominent Catholic layman.

Delegates from Europe, Africa, Asia and South America as well as from all parts of the U. S. will attend the 10-day meeting.

California leads the states with about 5.5 million motor vehicles.

Mayor Frees 30 Jail Inmates

Prisoners Set Loose in Reply to Condemnation of Workhouse

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mayor Ben West emptied the city workhouse late yesterday by turning 30 prisoners loose and transferring six others to the county workhouse, on the heels of a court order to close the jail and workhouse.

City Workhouse Supt. E. F. Benderman quoted West as saying he took the unprecedented action in an effort to comply with a Chancery Court ruling yesterday which enjoined the city from operating the jail and workhouse until the building is made habitable.

* * *

Among the 30 prisoners released was Andrew T. Stone, 21, convicted recently on 32 counts of threatening to kidnap, rape and murder a young Nashville white woman.

City Judge Andrew J. Doyle immediately questioned the mayor's authority to free the prisoners.

"Unless the mayor orders the police chief to rearrest these prisoners immediately," Doyle said, "he will be responsible for any tragedy that can and might result from his precipitate action."

* * *

Doyle, who had sentenced the prisoners, added that "I was never consulted . . . It is the city administration's duty to house the prisoners; it is not within the mayor's power to turn them into the streets."

Special Chancellor E. J. Walsh, acting at the request of the Davidson County Board of Health, had granted a temporary injunction forbidding the city from keeping prisoners in the jail and workhouse "until and unless" corrective measures are instituted to improve sanitary conditions.

City Council voted a $100,000 bond issue Tuesday to repair the jail. Benderman said repairs should be finished within six weeks.

Reds Start Resignation Lies, Mrs. Luce Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce, U.S. ambassador to Italy, says reports she will resign are "mostly Communist rumors inspired to create an air of uncertainty."

Boarding a plane for Rome last night, Mrs. Luce told newsmen:

"There has never been any truth in these rumors, and there is no truth in them now."

Immigrant Wills $69,000 to His Adopted Country

NEW YORK (AP) — German-born Julius Lehmann loved America, and he proved it in his last will and testament.

He came to this country 50 years ago, and became a prosperous importer. In 1951 his wife died. Last June 20, he died at the age of 92.

In his will, probated yesterday, he left all but $1,000 of his $70,000 estate "to the government of the United States of America to which my wife and I are so much indebted for the blessings we have enjoyed as citizens of this country."

Advanced Student, 69, Vows to Finish College

BOSTON (UP) — Undaunted by the fact that it took her 10 years to get a high school diploma from Boston public evening school, 69-year-old Mrs. Ida Jacobson, a Latvian immigrant, says "now I'm going to college." Mrs. Jacobson entered Boston Clerical school night classes in 1944 when two of her five children were serving overseas. She had made up her mind that she would learn to write to them without having to bother the rest of the family.

Beau Brummell Remark May Rightfully Irk Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Always there's something to worry about. And today those who care to may fret about this question:

Which city can claim it has the nation's best-dressed men?

Boston began the argument when Donald J. Hurley, president of the Chamber of Commerce there said Boston should be the scene of the premiere of a new movie, "Beau Brummell," coming out this fall.

His reasoning:

"Boston has more well-dressed men and more chivalrous men, per capita, than any other city in the United States."

Naturally this isn't the sort of talk other well dressed Chambers of Commerce can take lying down. And while the movie's press agents turned handsprings of delight, various claims of sartorial splendor came from Rochester, N. Y., Hartford, Conn., and Houston, Tex.

Now comes Francis J. Kane, president of the Washington Board of Trade, with a plug for the nation's capital.

"President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon," Kane wrote, "are exemplary of the well-dressed men we boast in our city.

"Many of our great statesmen on Capitol Hill can be considered the Beau Brummell type."

Well, Eisenhower, Nixon and some congressmen are nifty dressers all right. But possibly Kane went a bit far in comparing Brummell with "our great statesmen on Capitol Hill."

For although George Bryan Brummell, born in 1778 in London, became celebrated as a wit, a dandy and a friend of the then Prince of Wales, he hardly appears to be the type that would captivate the voters, of say, Blue Eye, Mo.

When "Beau Brummell" first was turned into a play, in 1890, William Winter, a New York drama critic, sized up the original Beau thusly:

"Luxurious, licentious, rapacious and cruel—and insentate profligate and heartless libertine."

But it isn't surprising Brummell went in for fine clothes.

"The passion for dress (at that time) amounted to a mania," Winter said. "Powder was the rage. Capt. Jesse (an earlier biographer) mentions that in the army alone 6,500 tons of flour were used annually for powdering the hair, enough to make 59,353 loaves of bread."

But if Brummell seems a mite giddy for a present day politician's taste, he's the stuff an actor's dreams are made of, a man who began as a friend of princes and wound up an imbecile pauper.

His elegance remained, though, almost to the end.

Once, in his hard-up days, a nobleman asked him to dine, at 3 o'clock.

"Really," said Beau, "I cannot feed at such an early hour."

A woman once asked if he ate vegetables. His reply should hardly endear him to the home of the baked bean.

"Yes, Madam," the great dandy said. "I once ate a pea!"

Mom "Catches" Son, 3

FLANDREAU, S. D. (UP)—Mrs. Marshall Jewett, fishing along the Big Sioux River near here made the luckiest "catch" of her life—her three-year-old son, Randy, who fell into the river and was swept downstream. He drifted toward his mother's "throw-line," and Mrs. Jewett hooked him by his clothes with the line and pulled him to safety.

Governor to Attend Democrat Picnic

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be the guest of Oakland County Democratic chairman Willis M. Brewer Sunday at Brewer's summer home, 1645 Lakeview, Sylvan Lake.

Brewer said the wives and members of the county committee, finance, legislative and advisory committees, together with all candidates and their wives will be present at the affair from 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

"The governor will then travel to Murphy Park to attend the Pontiac Democratic Club picnic and from their he'll go to Cass Lake Park to meet with the Southwestern Democratic group.

Following his visit to Oakland County, Gov. Williams will travel to Macomb County for similar appearances, Brewer said.

Kiddies to Have Exclusive Rights on Texas Ranch

DALLAS (INS) — The first ranch in the world designed, and maintained exclusively for children is being built by Ben-Jack Cage, Dallas industrialist.

Plans for the miniature ranch, complete to house, stables and corral, have been completed and work on construction is to start immediately.

The project, to be called The Lazy C Kids' Ranch, is being constructed on several acres of Cage's 4,000-acre horse and cattle ranch in Sugarland, Texas. The Lazy C Kids' Ranch will be stocked with miniature animals, the world's tiniest horses, cattle and chickens and will have a number of amusement facilities.

Designed by MacKie and Kamrath of Houston, the project will be a complete operating ranch, according to Cage. The working technique will be that of the adult Lazy C Ranch, but on a smaller scale.

The ranch will be open the year 'round for children to inspect it, to learn from it, to work and play on it.

Joey Next in Campaign

Andrews Being Groomed to Face Maxim After Impressive Victory Over Hughes

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Andrews, a rangy 6-3 ex-paratrooper who has a hard time shedding weight to the 175-pound level, is being groomed to take on Joey Maxim next in a campaign for the lightheavyweight crown held by Archie Moore.

• • •

After Andrews' second-round knockout of Bobby Hughes in Chicago Stadium last night, the International Boxing Club swung into action to land Maxim for the Buffalo belter.

• • •

"I'll see Doc Kearns (Maxim's manager) in New York next week," said Truman Gibson, IBC secretary. "We want to match Andrews and Maxim for Chicago Stadium or Buffalo, probably in November."

Marshall Miles, former manager of Joe Louis, said he prefers his boy Andrews—third-ranked light-heavy—to get a foot into the heavyweight door.

Hughes, a Warren, Ohio, product who has scored 19 knockouts in 37 bouts, gave Andrews trouble in a savage first round of the nationally-televised scrap scheduled for 10.

But Andrews in the second round caught Hughes as he was ducking in close with a whistling right. Hughes sagged to his knees, then to his haunches and finally stretched out on his side.

• • •

He couldn't get up for several minutes after taking the 10 count, and when he was helped to his feet his nose and mouth were bleeding.

Aside from television, the bout was just about a private party. The paid attendance was 465 and the gate $1,461—new lows for the IBC in Chicago Stadium.

Andrews outweighed Hughes 180 to 176. It was his 29th victory—15th by a kayo—in 32 bouts.

Ez to Punch With Marciano

By ED CORRIGAN

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Just to get it over with fast, yes, Ezzard Charles well remembers the pasting he took from Rocky Marciano in their last heavyweight championship fight.

The challenger well remembers it and so does his manager, Tom Tannas.

• • •

Therefore the reasoning is that the memory of the last battle will have a bad psychological effect on Ezzard who climbs into the Yankee Stadium ring against Marciano in just six days.

• • •

"Only the match will disclose that," said Charles today as he resumed heavy drills that will keep him busy until Monday. "I feel the same as I did before our last meeting. I might say even better. I know what to expect and will have a better offense and defense.

"I know, and I think that I proved that Rocky is no superman. If it weren't for that wild crippling blow to the Adam's Apple in the ninth, I'm certain my performance would have been even better."

For Charles, that's a long speech. But he did appear confident.

• • •

Unless he is throwing up a smokescreen, Charles will trade punches with Marciano. That's just what the Rock and his manager, Al Weill, want, so they say, so someone is making a mistake.

Tannas frowned when the psychological effect of Marciano's mauling was mentioned.

"No one ever seems to consider that Marciano received more punishment in that fight than he did in any other tough match," Tannas said. "Ezzard always has recovered quickly after every contest and never has showed any ill effects. Only the next fight will reveal who suffered the most from their first match."

• • •

Tannas, who is a convincing fellow when he gets going, even thinks Charles has a chance to knock out the Rock.

• • •

"I know my man will remember the pummelling he took from Rocky," Tannas admitted. "But in my book, that's good. Ez knows he took everything Marciano had that night and that he was still there at the finish. Don't forget, he was told Rocky would put him out anytime he landed. Marciano landed and Charles took those punches and fought right back.

'Red' Duffy Clinches Place on Olympic Equestrian Team

Frank (Red) Duffy, 17-year-old son of prominent Birmingham horseman Irving A. Duffy, last weekend clinched a berth on the U. S. Equestrian team for the 1956 Olympics.

Competing in the Olympic trials at Nashville, Tenn., over the holiday weekend, young Duffy tied for 3rd in the opening dressage trials, placed 1st in the cross country event on Sunday and won the closing stadium jumping test on Monday.

Frank, who two years ago won the state junior championship, is the 1st Pontiac area rider to be chosen for the Olympics. He will compete for the United States in the Pan-American Games next March in Mexico City.

He plans to enroll in the Engineering College at the University of Michigan this month.

BASEBALL TO PRISON GUARD—Jack Wisner stands among sports page clippings as he fingers a ball while recalling his baseball days with Pittsburgh, New York and St. Louis. Wisner, who bounced around in baseball from 1917 to 1933 is now working as a guard at Southern Michigan Prison.

'Prodigal' Back With New York, Beats Orioles

Tommy Hurls and Bats Team to 8-2 Victory Over Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel says the forlorn hopes of the New York Yankees to overtake the Cleveland Indians for the American League pennant depends on improved pitching and a prodigal son, Tommy Byrne, has given him some encouragement.

• • •

Byrne returned last night to the Yankees after a 3-year absence to pitch and bat them to an 8-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

• • •

Byrne, 34, was bought last Friday from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League where he had a 20-10 record. The southpaw's first appearance in a Yankee uniform since 1951 and in the city of his birth turned out to be a holiday for him.

He gave the Orioles only seven hits, getting them out in order in five innings. A throwing error by center fielder Mickey Mantle let in one of the runs scored by the Orioles.

At the plate, Byrne got the first four runs for himself. He scored after tripling in the third and cleared the loaded bases in the next inning with a double.

Byrne won 15 games two straight seasons for the Yankees in 1949 and 1950. His major league pitching record is 56 victories and 53 losses, including an 8-7 log last year with the St. Louis Browns which now are the Baltimore Orioles.

Prior to his taking a quick chance on Byrne in last night's game, Stengel was saying that the Yankees need better pitching to stay in the pennant race and win 100 games this season.

• • •

"If we get the pitching we'll win the 100," Stengel said. The Yankees need only six more victories in 16 games to reach the century mark for the first time under Stengel. The 1942 Yankees won 103, the club's latest high.

• • •

But Casey concedes winning 100 games is going to be easier than catching Cleveland.

"I've been saying for three weeks that we're going to have to win every game, and we haven't because of the pitching," he said. Cleveland loses, too, but we're just where we were then."

That's 4½ games behind as Cleveland also won last night over Philadelphia.

Big 10 Slated to Take Action on Financial Aid

Faculty and Athletic Directors Open 2-Day Conference

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big 10 is expected to take action today on proposals governing financial aid to athletes and recruiting.

Such action would cap two years of committee study on the subjects.

Demonstrated scholarship is currently a conference requirement in awarding aid to athletes. The element of need and the method of calculating it represent the principal novelty in the proposal.

If the Big 10 adopts a set formula to determine need for athletes, some officials believe that bidding for a star high school prospect may disappear since every conference school would offer the same aid as every other one.

All contacts of prospective star athletes will be limited, as at present, to interviews on the campus and to correspondence.

The facultymen and athletic directors, opening their 2-day parley yesterday, reviewed recodification of the conference recruiting regulation with limiting contact to the basic principle.

Athletic directors received a report on a 26-week television program to be carried by ABC following its football series this fall.

Faculty representatives meanwhile, took under advisement modification of the rule which now prohibits athletes from specific appearances on sponsored radio or TV programs.

Tuna Tourney Enters Second Session Today

Fog Hampers Anglers From 11 Countries in Annual Event

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (AP)—Soldier's Rip lived up to its name as the "world's best fishing hole" as the 11th International Tuna tournament entered its second session today.

The saucy and turbulent strip of tidal water gave up six of the seven fighting bluefin caught yesterday—opening day of the 3-day international meet. The other was caught at the mouth of the Tusket River.

• • •

Fog hampered the anglers from 11 countries on seven teams as they started out in quest of the Sharp Trophy, highest award which can be won by big-game anglers.

• • •

On yesterday's fishing, the United States, twice winners of the title, held the edge. The Americans gathered 1,669 2-3 points while the defending champions, Mexico, collected 1,304 2-3, Venezuela 883 2-3 and the British Empire team 203. Cuba, a three-time winner, Argentina and France failed to score.

Top man was Joe Gale, New York car salesman who landed a 783-pounder that shattered the previous record catch this season by 28 pounds.

Sizzling Scoring Plays Highlight Spartan Drill

Peaks, Hinsley, Morrall and Duckett Figure in Spectacular Action

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's 1st and 2nd string football elevens ganged up against the rest of the squad in scrimmage yesterday and scored eight touchdowns.

The session was held in Macklin Field stadium. No injuries were reported.

Two players who have been on the sidelines up to now contributed the most spectacular play. Sophomore quarterback Clarence Peaks of Flint sent a perfect 40-yard pass into the arms of Jim Hinsley junior end from Detroit.

Two veterans supplied another thriller. Earl Morrall, Muskegon junior quarterback, passed to Ellis Duckett, senior end from Flint, on a play that covered 50 yards for the score.

Travis Buggs, right halfback from East Chicago, Ind., and John Lewis, end from Fremont, O., each scored twice. Buggs scored on running plays and Travis on passes.

Coaches said the outstanding performance on the line for the offense was turned in by Morley Murphy, senior tackle from Detroit.

Hank Bullough, senior guard from Canton, O., and Randy Schrecengost, senior tackle from Ford City, Pa., sat out the scrimmage because of minor injuries.

UM Line Coach Building Up 3-Deep Wall

Jack Blott, Michigan's veteran line coach, is patiently doing just that in the gruelling practices on Ferry Field. The harvest indicates Blott is not far off.

"We're building them three deep," Blott says. And a look at his lineup shows just that.

He has populated the weak side of his Michigan line with lettermen. The strong side that paves the way for most of the single wing's power plays is manned by two juniors, a senior and three sophomores.

"We're faster and deeper this season," Blott says. For Blott, one of the nation's top line coaches, this is a surprising statement.

Many of his linemen have not been tested. Some of them were on the injury list all of last season. But the fact that he has depended on inexperienced men to cover the strong side, shows his confidence.

"Next year, if they develop, we'll have a tough, well-knit nucleus," Blott says.

Blott would lose only five of his current linemen through graduation. Of six tackles carried on the three-deep roster, he would lose half: Art Walker, Ron Geyer and Charles Ritter.

But he would have left Bill Kolesar, John Marrow and Dave Williams.

Football Briefs

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest football briefs:

IOWA — Bill Reichow, first team tackle, suffered a broken shoulder bone. . .the 210 pounder, who at 25 is the oldest man on the squad, will be sidelined for at least six weeks. . .

OHIO STATE — Hubert Bobo, Chauncey (Ohio) sophomore, is leading three other rookies in a scrap for the fullback job. . .

ILLINOIS — The Illini brushed up on passing with sophomore Hiles Stout of Peoria, Ill., the most effective thrower. .the aerial game is under par because five ranking ends have been shelved with minor injuries. . .

WISCONSIN — Halfbacks Bob Gingrass and Bill Lowe were snappy performers in a two hour scrimmage. .work on the single wing attack will be started today. . .

MINNESOTA — Chuck Kubes, first string tackle who has been taking it easy because of a gashed arm suffered in an auto accident, put on full football gear for the first time to work out.

NOTRE DAME — Don Schaefer and Dick Fitzgerald, leading fullback candidates, and halfback Paul Reynolds are on the injury list. . .

Wynn Joins 20 Game Winners

Indian's Hurler Beats Athletics on Eight-Hit Job Wednesday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 20-Game Club, that exclusive circle of pitchers, probably will wind up with six members this season.

Four have made the grade so far, with Early Wynn of the fast-moving Cleveland Indians the newest recruit.

Wynn passed his entrance exams with flying colors last night, throwing an eight-hit 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. And a long-time associate of the elite, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, moved next in line by winning No. 19 for the rip-roaring Braves, 5-2 over Pittsburgh.

On hand to greet Wynn, who has won 20 or more twice before, were teammate Bob Lemon, a six-time member; Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, who has been in good standing for five consecutive seasons; and newcomer Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants.

Bob Fitzsimmons came from Australia to win all three of his fight titles in the U. S.—middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight.

Valley 11's to Display Variety of T-Attacks

By DOUG MINTLINE

FLINT (AP)—An intriguing variety of T-formation offenses, plus a pair of new coaches, assure an interesting football season in the strong Saginaw Valley Conference this fall.

The Flint schools, Northern and Central (which have won 12 of the last 16 titles), have the new coaches.

Defending champion Northern's head coach is Andy MacDonald, former Central Michigan College passing ace and older brother of Duncan MacDonald, current University of Michigan aerial artist.

With 13 lettermen, MacDonald seems fairly well fortified to defend the Valley crown. But before Northern even faces the rugged Valley schedule, it must take on strong non-Conference foes Grand Rapids Catholic Central, Detroit Catholic Central, Ann Arbor and Muskegon.

Fline Central, meanwhile, will abandon all forms of single-wing taught under former coach Howard Auer. The new coach, Bill Doolittle, is installing the split-T. The former Ohio State quarterback, who played under Paul Brown, makes his debut with seven lettermen.

Flint Central and Bay City Central rate along with Northern as the top title contenders.

Bay City Central is expected to continue in its cycle of good football under Elmer Engle.

Returning from the 1953 Bay City squad which lost only two games by a total of seven points are 15 lettermen and a promise of better backfield speed.

Saginaw Arthur Hill is a darkhorse title contender. With 13 lettermen, coach Kurt Kampe is junking the single-wing for his own version of the conventional T-formation.

With the two Flint teams using a split-T, Saginaw Arthur Hill a conventional T and Bay City the Illinois-type T, only Saginaw and Pontiac will use the single wing. Even those two teams have mixed in lots of T during the past few seasons.

Herb Korf, now dean of the Valley coaches, has only five lettermen at Saginaw while Ed Graybiel has just six experienced players at Pontiac.

Dodgers Recall Nine Farm System Players

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today recalled nine players from their farm system to report next spring. From Montreal they brought back pitchers Joe Black, Ken Lehman, Ed Roebuck and Glenn Mickens along with catcher Charlie Thompson. From St. Paul they recalled pitchers Bob Milliken and Don Bessent; from Los Angeles outfielder Vic Marasco, and from Pueblo catcher Ken Staples.

CBS Network to Carry Charles-Marciano Bout

The world's heavyweight championship bout between Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles will be broadcast exclusively over WJR and the CBS Radio Network on Wednesday, Sept. 15, beginning at 9:30 p.m.

This is a return meeting between the two fighters.

Wins 'Jack Pine' Race

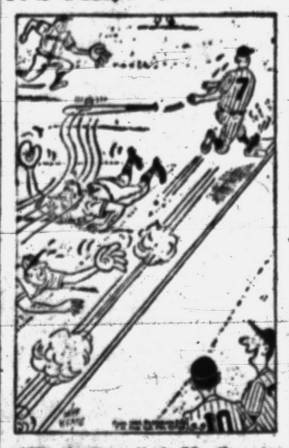

LANSING (AP)—Judges today had crowned Bill Penton of Lorain, O., the 1954 champion of the annual "Jack Pine" motorcycle run.

Completing tabulation of scores in the 28th running of the national reliability test, the judges gave Penton 930 points out of a possible 1,000.

Pro Grid Eagles Get Boost by Star's Return

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles' offensive operations—especially the line play—figures to get a big boost with the announcement that Ken Farragut, one of the National Football League's best offensive centers—has decided to play another year.

It's Time Out!

"Wow! Can that Mantle ever drag a bunt!"

Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made 223 hits his first season in the big leagues (1927). This is a record for first year players.

—Alex Kellner, left-handed pitcher for the Athletics, holds the dubious distinction of leading the American League in 1953 wild pitches. He threw 10 wild ones.

Two Big Seven Coaches Pleased With Candidates

KANSAS CITY (AP)—This usually is the time of the year Big Seven football coaches are shedding tears—but two of them came up with surprising comments about their teams.

• • •

Chuck Mather, who replaced J. V. Sikes as head coach at Kansas last year, watched his Jayhawks run through an hour and a half scrimmage yesterday and termed it "the best since I've been here."

• • •

Bill Meek, Kansas State's coach, also wound up practice on a cheerful note. He called his team's passing drill the best he had ever seen at the college. This is his fourth year at K-State.

Three of the conference squads had official weigh-ins yesterday.

At Nebraska, the heaviest man was tackle Pev Evans at 237 pounds. Lightest was quarterback Ray Fischer at 161. Nine cornhuskers went over the 200-pound mark.

Colorado's Walt Schneiter, sophomore tackle, was the heaviest on the Buffalo squad at 232 and sophomore halfback Byron Bennett the lightest at 163.

The 69 men on the Missouri squad averaged 196½ pounds with weights ranging from 158 pounds for halfback Bill Rice to around 250 for some of the sophonore linemen.

• • •

At Oklahoma the first, second and third strings scrimmaged with the reserves. Long passes and runs and good downfield blocking featured the workout.

• • •

The Iowa State Cyclones worked out before a movie camera. Coach Vince DiFrancesca hopes the movies will help him detect weaknesses in his squad.

Wisconsin, Sparked by Fullback Alan Ameche, Should Be One of Big 10's Sharpest Contenders

By JERRY LISKA

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — One of the Big Ten's sharpest contenders this football season could be Wisconsin's Badgers owning perhaps the nation's best fullback, improved quarterbacking and a new flavoring of single wing attack.

In the words of coach Ivy Williamson:

"There won't be too many others that will grind better than we will."

The genial Williamson, who turned Wisconsin into a Big Ten perennial threat virtually since he took charge six seasons ago, didn't have to elaborate on who will do most of the grinding.

WILLIAMSON

Fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche is ready again!

Ameche has turned out for his senior year — and fourth varsity season — at 208 pounds, compared with a paunchy 235 last spring. A summer of rigid ROTC training produced the streamlined, but still vicious charging Ameche.

In his career to date, Ameche has gained 2,768 yards in 565 smashes for a 4.8 average. During that three-season span, Wisconsin won 19 games, lost six and tied three with Ameche's rushing a prime factor in virtually every victory.

The 1953 Badger team had a 6-2-1 overall record and was third in the Big Ten with 4-1-1.

Williamson has added the single wing to his T-attack to further exploit Ameche and Wisconsin's fine-running quarterback, Jim Miller.

Miller, the "find" of 1953, is joined at quarterback this season by Jim Haluska, Williamson's "find" of 1953, which should give the Badgers the league's best one-two punch.

The Badgers this season probably will play single wing about 25 per cent of the time. When they do, Miller will be in the tail back spot where his pass-run threat, coupled with the straight-ahead or buck-lateral smashes of Ameche, should give rival defenses something to ponder.

Williamson's analysis of his team is that it will have good passing, good power and a "pretty strong defense."

Braves Extend Streak to 10 Games

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jolly Cholly Grimm's Milwaukee Braves—winners of 10 straight games and only four behind the league-leading New York Giants—open a two-game series with Brooklyn tomorrow and by the time it's over not a tree may be standing in Flatbush.

* * *

"We're hot," chortled Grimm after the Braves' 5-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. "Very hot. If we can get by the Dodgers—and we're playing them one-by-one, maybe we can squeeze by the New York Giants. But it's a big order.

* * *

"Everything depends on the Giants. If they fold and we win—well it will be a big story. But let me remind you—we're playing them one-by-one. Yes, I mean one-by-one.

"The Pirates weren't any push-overs. They had us 2-1 in the first inning. I wasn't worried. Never worry until the last out. But you might say, Charley was a little perturbed!"

The victory not only was the Braves 10th in a row but marked the third time this season they've accomplished the feat. It also was Warren Spahn's 19th victory of the season and the 11th in a row for the lefthander. There's not a National League pitcher who can boast that feat.

Spahn, a five-time 20-game winner in the circuit, looked like a sandlotter in the first inning. The Pirates clubbed him for four hits and two runs and could have added another except for sleeping Frankie Thomas. He was picked off second base.

* * *

"What was wrong?" asked the veteran southpaw. "You might say I was trying to fog the ball past them. But I loosened up in the second inning and well—you know the rest."

Spahn, who has 10 defeats, gave up only three hits in the last eight innings. But the crafty lefthander showered all the credit for his victory on third sacker Eddie Mathews who hit his 36th home run with one aboard in the third. The blast landed in the fifth row of the right tier seats. He's now hit a home run in every National League ball park this season.

"It was a fast ball," commented Mathews. "Dick Littlefield really grooved that one. And it was one I really wanted. But most of all I'd like the Braves to win the pennant. I don't care about winning the home run crown."

TENTATIVE ILLINI BACKFIELD — Quarterback Em Lindbeck, right, talks with his backfield teammates who are expected to be the heavy guns in the University of Illinois running attack this season. Left to right are Abe Woodson, halfback; fullback Mickey Bates; halfback J. C. Caroline and Lindbeck. Woodson, a swift sophomore who is the Big 10 indoor low hurdling champion, will be paired with Caroline, who led the nation in rushing as a sophomore last season.

Braves' Club, Milwaukee 'Honeymoon' to Continue

By JOE REICHLER

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Which has reaped the most profit from the blissful association between the Braves and Milwaukee?

Surprisingly, there is a variety of opinion among the inhabitants of this thriving beer-capitol. All agree that it has been a wonderful 2-year honeymoon.

* * *

How long will this honeymoon last? Will the enthusiasm wane when the Braves go into a tailspin as is almost inevitable in baseball? Will the fans continue to fall all over each other to get to the park when the thrill of being in the major league wears off?

A majority of the people asked for an opinion frankly said they didn't know. Others like sports editors Russ Lynch of the Milwaukee Journal and Lloyd Larsen of the Sentinel were emphatic in the belief that both the Braves and Milwaukee will continue to prosper for a long, long time.

"The people make their own fun at the stadium and, as long as they do, just a reasonable amount of winning will be satisfactory," said Lynch.

* * *

"It's a freshness that I don't think will wear off," said Larsen. "The people of Wisconsin wanted it so badly all these years. They don't have sophisticated, big time, night club diversions. They don't have any race tracks or dog tracks to compete with baseball. This is their sole outdoor summer attraction. They grasp at it because it's their only thing that's Big League.

Larsen estimated he averaged 30 hours a week answering telephone requests for tickets. The requests include tickets for the World Series in October and the All-Star game next July.

Sheehan Joins Amateur Champ

Detroiter, Palmer Play in Waite Memorial Test on Eastern Course

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa. (AP)—Defending champions George Rowbotham of Philadelphia and Ben Smith of Detroit have joined National Amateur champion Arnold Palmer of Cleveland and Tom Sheehan of Detroit in the second round of the Bill Waite Memorial Invitation golf tournament.

These favored twosomes advanced this way yesterday: Rowbotham and Smith eliminated Bob Davies of Rochester, N.Y., and David Perkins of Ligget, Ky., 3 and 2 while Palmer and Sheehan were forced to the 19th hole before defeating Don Norbury, Cape May, N.J., and Buddy Lutz of Reading, 1-up.

John and Ellen Tworzdlo won a husband-wife bowling tournament in Detroit. They spent their $1,000 prize money as first payment on a new house.

Better Pheasant Hunting Indicated in State Report

LANSING (AP) — Pheasant hunting will be better than last year, rabbit and duck hunting will be at least as good, and grouse hunting will be off, conservation department game men said today.

* * *

On the basis of censuses conducted by rural mail carriers and staff data, the department estimated hunters will probably kill more than the 1,000,000 pheasants harvested last year.

Most popular game bird in the state is most plentiful in the Thumb and Ottawa County areas, and next most plentiful in southeastern counties, surveys show.

Cottontail rabbits continue to hold their own and at least 1,500,000 of them, the same take as last year, should be harvested. Snowshoe hares, the cottontail's northern cousin, however, is not quite as plentiful as they were last year.

* * *

Ducks raised in Michigan are not as plentiful as last year because of an unfavorable breeding season. But an increased migration of ducks from Canada is expected to at least make up the local deficiency.

* * *

A downward swing in the population cycle of ruffed grouse is evident, the game men said. This will reduce the number of targets grouse hunters will have. The reports indicate, however, that the downswing diminishes toward the southern limits of the grouse's range and that good hunting will be possible in the area from Tuscola through Gratiot and Saginaw Counties.

Only moderately good hunting for sharptailed grouse is predicted in the upper peninsula.

Eaglet 11 Holds First Practice

Seventy Hopefuls Out for Opening Drills at St. Mary (OL)

Seventy candidates turned out yesterday for the opening football practice at St. Mary's of Orchard Lake.

Rev. John Gabalski, starting his 3rd year as Eaglets' head coach, sees improved prospects for his team's campaign in the Suburban Catholic League this year.

Among the top lettermen returning are Capt. Stanley Wierzioch, a guard, end Tom Kalasz, quarterback Pete Ziebron, and halfback Gerald Leszczynski.

Rev. Gabalski will put his charges through brief conditioning drills before starting scrimmages.

The veteran grass racing star, Frere Jacques, won the Miami Beach Handicap in 1946 at the age of four, finished second in 1947 and third in 1948.

Blaik Isn't Too Optimistic Over Army's Grid Outlook

NEW YORK (INS)—This is supposed to be "the year" at West Point, according to the time table set up following the cribbing disaster of 1951.

If the gridiron rebuilding program is on schedule—and last season's 7-1-1 record would indicate that it is—Army should be high up in the scramble for national championship recognition.

However, Coach Earl (Red) Blaik is not optimistic. Lack of depth and experience, particularly in the line, and a rigorous schedule have Blaik — probably the most notorious "weeper" in football now that Notre Dame's Frank Leahy has retired—grievously worried.

Biggest blow to cadet hopes was the premature loss of captain Bob Farris, star tackle and defensive line backer, who had a delicate eye operation last winter and has been advised to give up football. With Farris out, the man to watch in the line is guard Ralph Chesnauskas.

The backfield is a brighter story. Returnees include Pete Vann, a really fine passer; Pat Uebel, who scored all three touchdowns in the Cadets' 20-to-7 triumph over Navy, and wingback Tommy Bell.

The Cadets, who lost only to Northwestern last year and tied Tulane, open with South Carolina on Sept. 25. Then come Michigan, Dartmouth, Duke, Columbia, Virginia, Yale, Penn and Navy.

Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' manager, thinks that drag bunts are as important as home runs to win games.

Michigan Squad So Far Escapes Injury Bugbear

Only 3 Minor Hurts Reported During Early Fall Workouts

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The aspirin of "spring conditioning", apparently has cured the headache of "fall injuries" for Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Last year the Wolverines lost two football players permanently and two others for the season, besides several others for a game or two.

This year only three injuries are reported — all minor.

Last year at this time, doctors had told Dean Ludwig, the top center prospect, and Norm Canty, a candidate for left halfback, to forget about football for good.

Tackle Art Walker had hurt his knee off campus and he was lost for the season. Jim Bates, (Milford) an end turned center for his defensive abilities, was to be lost for the 2nd year in a row.

Walker says his knee and leg feel good again this season. He's the prime left tackle candidate. Bates is back too. He probably will be first string center.

Only three injuries reported in the Michigan camp are minor.

Michigan ticket sales are running about 10 per cent ahead of last year. Ticket manager Don Weir said three games are going the best.

Michigan State (Nov. 13) is the hottest game with Army (Oct. 2) and Illinois (Nov. 6) following.

Weir says the Army band and corps of cadets will accompany the army team.

Iowa (Oct. 9) is high school band day. Minnesota (Oct. 23) is homecoming and Indiana (Oct. 30) is alumni band day.

National Boxing Association Will Honor Ex-Champ

WASHINGTON (AP) —Johnny Kilbane, world featherweight champion from 1912 to 1923, will be honored as "the outstanding boxer" at the National Boxing Assn., convention in Cleveland next week.

Announcing this today, NBA officials said the 65-year-old Kilbane will accept the Helms Foundation award.

Kilbane, now a television company executive in Cleveland, won more than 300 fights during his longtime boxing career. His 11-year tenure as titleholder was the longest in featherweight history.

He won the championship on Feb. 22, 1912, from Abe Attell, and lost it to Eugene Criqui. Kilbane was knocked out only twice in his career, by Criqui when Kilbane was 34 years old, and by Benny Leonard, the former lightweight champion who retired undefeated in 1924.

Kuenn Beats 'Soph' Jinx, but Tigers Still Lose

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn has routed the spectre of the sophomore jinx.

* * *

The determined, 23-year-old shortstop of the Detroit Tigers has hit at a remarkable .387 clip since July 19—a span of almost two months. It has turned a dull, disappointing season into one bright with accomplishment.

The Tigers dropped a vital 5-2 decision to the Boston Red Sox yesterday but Kuenn continued his steady hitting, collecting two singles in four at bats. It boosted his average for the season to .302—a considerable improvement over his .252 mark on that dark July 19th morn.

"Sophomore jinx? There's no such thing. So how can it hurt me? I'm not worried about it."

These were the bold words of a brash Harvey Kuenn in spring training. He has made 209 hits in his first big league season and was voted (almost by a landslide) the American League's "rookie of the year." Nothing to it.

* * *

But everyone wondered if the sophomore jinx—a strange, inexplicable jinx—would strike him down this year.

Everyone wondered, that is, except Kuenn. He just laughed.

That laughter was turned to cold silence when his batting average dipped below the .300 mark, and kept right on dipping.

* * *

Well, he's back at the .300 mark and going strong. Since July 19, Kuenn has had 84 hits in 217 times at bat. Prior to that he had collected only 92 safeties in 365 trips to the plate.

Kuenn knocked in the Tigers' first run yesterday with a hot single to center in the fifth inning. It scored Bill Tuttle from second. Moments later Fred Hatfield chased home Detroit's second—and last—run with another single to center.

Other than that, the Tigers offered little in the way of an offense against Boston's lanky, 6-foot-8 righthander, Frank Sullivan. The Red Sox hurler went all the way for his 13th win against 11 setbacks. Consecutive home runs by Sam Mele and Sammy White cushioned his victory in the eighth inning.

Steve Gromek, was the Tiger starter but failed to retire a single batter as the Sox poured across three runs in the first inning—enough to win the game.

Heavy Schedule Set for MSC Wrestlers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Athletic director Biggie Munn today announced a 10-match 1954-55 schedfor the Michigan State College wrestling team.

* * *

In addition to the regular matches, wrestling coach Fendley Collins will take his team to Minneapolis for the Western Conference championships and to Ithaca, N. Y., for the National Collegiate Championships.

* * *

Highlight of the schedule is a quadrangle tournament at Evanston, Ill., Jan 22, involving Michigan State and Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue.

MSC, Illinois and Wisconsin Big 10 Powers

Michigan, OSU, Iowa Also Strong Factors in Topheavy Race

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State, Illinois and Wisconsin stand out in what should be a battle royal for the Big 10 football championship this season.

Iowa, Ohio State and Michigan also are strong factors in what shapes up as a topheavy race of six contenders. Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota are figured for upset shots from the second division. The consensus is that Northwestern will be last.

Illinois and Wisconsin are the best bets for the Rose Bowl trip since Michigan State, 1954 champion of the New Year's Day Pasadena show, is ineligible to return this time.

But the sprightly Spartans, under new coach Duffy Daughtery, could well take the Big Ten crown and enter a powerful bid for the mythical national title as well. Ranked third nationally in 1953 after sharing the conference chamionship with Illinois, Michigan State's merits should be ascertained quickly this season.

The Spartans open the campaign Sept. 25 at Iowa, whose Hawkeyes have gained a lot of mileage toward title contention off their 14-14 tie with Notre Dame last year. Michigan State then meets Wisconsin, Indiana and Notre Dame. If Daugherty's demons are unbeaten up to this point they should be holding the No. 1 spot in the nation.

2 Dams Planned to Create New Upstate Lakes

LANSING (AP)—The state conservation department announced today it would start work this winter on two dams to create two new Michigan lakes.

Part of the department's lake and stream improvement program, the dams are expected to be completed next summer.

One dam on a tributary of the Black River in Montmorency County will join two small lakes to make a 52-acre lake for bass, bluegills and other warm water species.

The other dam will be built on a branch of the Cedar River, Gladwin County, to form a 23-acre trout lake.

Court Denies Downs Fall Racing Season

LANSING (AP) — The state supreme court refused yesterday to open Northville Downs to a fall horse racing season.

The court upheld State Racing Com. James H. Inglis in refusing to license a 24-day flat racing season starting Oct. 4.

The suit was brought by Mark Leach, Detroit auto dealer who has leased the track.

Junior League Formed

Boys' Junior Bowling Leagie is now being organized at the Montcalm Bowling Center. League will start its season at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Any boy 16 years of age or under may register by calling FEderal 5-2221 or appearing at the lanes.

Expert Offers Four 'Don'ts' to Review in Backswing

By SAM SNEAD

Backswing "don'ts."

There are four "don'ts" which you should keep in mind as you learn the correct backswing. It wouldn't do to think of them as you are swinging in actual play, but it wouldn't hurt to review them as you take some practice swings before you tee off next time.

First, don't pick up the club at the start of the backswing. This gets the arc of the swing out of whack right away, as the clubhead will move straight up instead of in the circular arc you want.

Second, the old golfers' bugaboo, the sway, must be avoided. Keep your chin over the ball and you will not be guilty of this mistake. Third, don't start the club back with the hands first. If you do this, the clubhead will probably go back outside the line of flight, the left arm will bend early in the swing and your balance will be destroyed.

Fourth, don't let the clubhead start back first. This will cause you to break your wrists way too early. Today's illustration shows a player halfway through his backswing, with his wrists (A) just starting to break, or cock, and his left arm (B) still straight. He hasn't committed any of these four faults.

City Cyclists in National Run

Ohio Rider Is Winner in Event; Other Spots Not Yet Determined

Seven members of the Pontiac Motorcycle Club competed in the National Jack Pine run last weekend.

The 2-day event covered 569 miles, with the cyclists following a route up the west side of the state the 1st day, staying overnight at West Branch and returning down the eastern side of the state the following day.

Bill Pelton of Lorraine, O., won the event, but the remaining places have not yet been determined.

Only Pontiac cyclists to finish the grind were George Rallis and Don Bumgrass. More than 400 competitors from throughout the U. S. started the run, but only 70 finished.

Other Pontiac entries included Harold Harkness, Roy Wallace, Don Brice, Ron Moore and Jack Austerman. They were forced out of the event by mechanical difficulties.

Mountaineers' Tackle Enlists in U.S. Army

BECKLEY, W.Va. - 8 west Virginia University tackle Clyde Sweeney of West Union was sworn into the Army here yesterday and will leave for Ft. Knox, Ky., today.

Sweeney doggedly carried out plans for enlistment, although the commanding officer of the induction station here, Maj. W. W. Cumbey, tried to persuade him to return to the university.

The 20-year-old junior, who is nearly 6 feet 5 and weighs 235, was figured to be the Mountaineers' No 2 left tackle this fall.

He disappeared from West Virginia's football training camp at Jackson's Mill last Friday. He didn't tell coaches his plans, but teammates surmised he was going to join the Army. He had passed

Season Ends Sunday

LANSING (AP) — Fishermen were reminded by the conservation department today that the general trout season ends in Michigan Sunday.

All waters will be closed to brook and brown trout on that date. But rainbow trout may still be taken through November on designated waters in 61 counties. These include some lakes and the lower reaches of many trout streams.

Rochester Star Is Named IL's Most Valuable Hurler

MONTREAL (AP)—Tony Jacobs, Rochester Red Wings slim righthander relief specialist, was named today as the International League's Most Valuable Pitcher for 1954.

The selection, made through a ballot of the circuit's baseball writers, was announced through league headquarters by Al C. Weber of the Rochester Times-Union, president of the International League Baseball Writers Assn.

Jacobs, 29, 5 feet 9 and weighing 150, leads the league with a 13-1 record and has won his last 10 decisions.

* * *

Jacobs was the first choice of 10 of the 21 voting writers and polled a total of 144 points on the basis of eight for first place, seven for second, six for third, etc.

* * *

Ken Lehman, Montreal Royals southpaw, a 16-game winner, was second with 135 points and Jack Crimian, Toronto Maple Leafs righthanded fireman, finished third with 118. Others who figured in the balloting were Ken Johnson, Buffalo Bison southpaw, 100 points; Kent Peterson, Syracuse Chiefs lefthander, 87; Jim Melton, Havana Cubans, 70; Wimpy Nardella, Richmond Virginians, 51 and Leroy Wheat, Ottawa Athletics, 50.

Jacobs, a native of Dixmoor, Ill., has been in the league since 1950. He was signed by the Chicago Cubs and played two seasons with the Des Moines Cubs in the Western League. His major league experience consists of two innings with Chicago in 1948.

Titlist in Top Form in Practice Test Yesterday

Briton, Canadian and America's Polly Riley Are Contenders

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 28-year-old bookkeeper with the confidence of a champion says she sees no reason why she shouldn't repeat as women's National Amateur golf queen.

* * *

"I've got just as good a chance as anyone," drawled Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., yesterday after she toured the 6034-yard layout at Allegheny Country Club where the tournament opens Monday. "I'm playing pretty consistent golf and I think I'll win it again."

* * *

Miss Faulk, confessing she is a reformed tennis player who once hoped to be another Helen Wills or Helen Jacobs, said the championship course calls more for accuracy than length. Admitting she's not noted for her long drives, she grinned and said:

"I think you'll need sharp second shots but after all, it just boils down to getting 'em into the hole, doesn't it?"

Miss Faulk said she started to play golf when she was 10 but "didn't learn how to hold the club right until I was 18."

In 1945 she won the first tournament she ever entered, the Georgia State tournament. Since then she's taken numerous tourneys, climaxing her efforts by winning the national crown at Providence, R.I. last year.

After her first round yesterday, she didn't announce her score but observers reported she was showing top form.

* * *

Although she's confident of winning again she named three players she thinks will go far in the tourney because the course "suits them." They are Frances Stephens, the British champion; Marlene Stewart, Canadian queen, and Polly Riley, American Curtiss Cupper who has won five Southern titles.

* * *

Tournament officials will announce pairings Saturday for the match play opening Monday for the 158 entries. The event, which has attracted stars from as far away as the Argentine, winds up Sept. 18.

Tommy Jackson, before his recent fight at Madison Square Garden, explained why "708" was written in indelible ink on both his hands. "That's my hotel room number," he said.

Chisox Offer Pilot New Pact

Request for Decision in 'Reasonable' Length of Time

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Comiskey, Chicago White Sox vice president, says contract negotiations with Paul Richards have ended and the manager has been tendered a new pact "at a slight increase" in salary and "for more than a year."

* * *

Richards' current 2-year contract, reportedly at from $30,000 to $40,000 annually and a bonus based on attendance, expires at the end of the year.

* * *

The Sox already have passed the million mark and on the basis of a 250,000 excess, Richards' 1954 bonus would be $12,500.

Comiskey said the next move is up to Richards, adding that he had asked for a decision in a "reasonable" length of time.

"He would have been tendered the same kind of agreement even if the report Baltimore was after him as general manager had not been circulated," Comiskey said.

Farm Directors Talk Over More Aid for Minor Clubs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farm directors of all 16 major league baseball clubs yesterday discussed improved financial aid for the minors. They met here with minor league president George M. Trautman.

Lee McPhail of the New York Yankees said, "we feel the entire lower structure of baseball needs bolstering. For baseball just can't get along without the class B, C and D loops. There have been ideas that industrial and other leagues might take their place as "feeders' for the majors, but that time hasn't arrived yet."

McPhail is chairman of a subcommittee named at the recent all-star game to submit recommendations. He said some sort of legislation to help the minors would be ready for the December minor league sessions at Houston, Tex.

"Operating costs of minor league clubs are up 100 per cnet in the last 10 years and they need aid, McPhail said. He suggested more financial help might come through working agreements.

McPhail said each of the farm directors would have to report back to his parent club on yesterday's discussions and that another meeting of the group would be held at the World Series.

Some People Just 'Know' Everything---They Think

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
(International News Service)

"Bingo" for charity is a subject there are several points of view about, but I got into a polite discussion on it and boing-g-g-g! I was clobbered with a hunk a verbal lead pipe.

Never mind what side I was on—or whether I was on any special side. Bingo is just one of those subjects you aren't permitted any dissenting opinion on at all any more, unless you're a big courageous character ready to fight for freedom of speech!

In my case, I didn't even know heroics would be called for. The folks I was with were talking about the criticism in some quarters, and the praise in others, that had been heaped on Deputy Chief Inspector Louis Goldberg, head of the Brooklyn morals squad, for closing down several bingo games in various synagogues and churches.

"Over in Jersey," I said without any particular passion, "Senator Somebody-or-other says the raffle and bingo laws are too rigidly enforced—even though he introduced them in the first place. He's going to try getting them eased off."

Boing-g-g! That's when I discovered I was with 100 per cent anti-bingo folks.

Boing-g-g! You'd have thought I had stood up on a soap box to denounce motherhood and cheer for marijuana.

You'd have thought I'd just praised bank robbery and criticized blood banks. You'd have even thought I had stated any positive opinion one way or another about bingo games for charity!

Which I had not. The truth is I haven't the foggiest idea where I stand on this moot subject. Pro, con, in the middle, or straddle.

But that didn't matter—these folks didn't even bother to find out how I did feel, or even exactly what I had said. They just heard what they wanted to hear, and started dishing out the old one-two.

They gave me a large, serious, and oh, so familiar, pain.

They always know exactly what they think, what they want everybody else to think, what they approve of(what they disapprove of.

Never do they feel the nibble of doubt or know the torment of indecision—not about life's major issues like EDC, disarmament, food surpluses nor bingo, nor about life's minor and more frequent problems.

They know for sure what's right and what's wrong about a teenage girl, say, and her first lipstick, about a teenage boy and his first desires to stay out "a little later."

They won't admit there might be more than one way for "decent parents" or "decent children" to behave, or that their way isn't the "only right way."

If a neighbor and his wife are wretchedly unhappy in their marriage, these positive folks know just whose fault the misery is, why it came about, what should be done about it by whom, and why any other solution would be "wicked."

They also know for sure whether this book or that movie is "sinful" or "indecent" or "a vicious influence on our youth." They don't need to wait for the considered judgment or ruling of any court—they simply, flatly "know."

These are the positive of the earth. Woe to those who disagree openly, or who even imply there might be another point of view just as "decent" and just as much "the right way" to think.

My friends with the verbal lead pipe, alas, are not merely rare birds you hardly ever run into. With their neat, squared-off certainties, they're all over the place about everything from bingo to baloney.

Half the time, no matter how thin you slice it, gives out with "boing-g-g!"

Rescue Craft Hunt Channel Swimmer

DOVER, England (AP)—Rescue planes and surface craft combed coastal waters today for a 44-year-old steelworker who vanished on his second unescorted attempt to swim the English Channel.

The lone swimmer was Ted May of Scunthorpe, father of nine children. The hulking 238-pounder was long overdue on his daredevil try at crossing from France with only a makeshift life raft.

He failed in a similar one-man swim last month. He was picked up, exhausted, by a freighter nine hours after he struck out from France.

Aristotle Found Hangover Prevention

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — If you must drink, here's some advice involving cabbage.

UCLA's Latin professor emeritus, Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, has found that the Greeks and Romans consumed entire cabbages and the seed to relieve pounding heads and fuzzy eyesight.

Aristotle counseled his readers to "dine well on cabbage just before starting out for a big evening," said Dr. McKinlay, while the Roman, Cato, evidently preferred a form of cole slaw.

"If you wish to drink much at a banquet, before dinner dip cabbage vinegar and eat as much as you wish," Cato counseled. "When you have dined, eat five leaves. The cabbage will make you as fit as if you had had nothing, and you can drink as much as you will."

Ava Suffering 'Nervous Crisis' in Visit to Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Ava Gardner, on a South American good will tour, recuperated from what her press agent called a "nervous crisis" today in the Copacabana Palace, her second hotel in three days in Rio de Janeiro.

The management of the swank Gloria Hotel asked the dark-haired Hollywood star to leave yesterday, charging she threw things and shouted in her room.

Miss Gardner's press secretary, David Hanna, denied the charges of boisterousness. His story: She suffered an attack of nerves after 700 unruly fans mobed her when she arrived at the airport Tuesday.

The Gloria's management said the property damage was slight.

Miss Gardner, touring South America to publicize her new picture "The Barefoot Contessa," canceled a news conference and cocktail party after the incidents.

There was talk she might also curtail her stay in Brazil.

Dealing Routine in Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain market failed to develop any pronounced trend in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today.

More reports on the poor condition of the Canadian wheat crop did not stimulate any urgent demand for the bread ceral. Soybeans appeared to be in a resting period as the trade waited to see how soon the bean harvest would get under way in volume.

Rye acted a little better than the rest of the market as has been the case for the past couple of weeks. Oats had to absorb some profit-taking after yesterday's advance.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to 1 cent lower. September $2.17½; corn ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.64; oats ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, September 77⅝; rye ¼ to ½ higher, September $1.46; soybeans unchanged to ⅛ higher, September $3.00, and lard 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $17.15.

Market Mixed After Early Dip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed in early afternoon today after drifting moderately lower in the morning.

Volume was unusually light. Only 290,000 shares changed hands in the first hour against an average of about 450,000 in recent sessions.

Selected oils, steels, rails and chemicals were among the better performers. Pacific Western Oil was a feature, ahead two points. Lion Oil also was strong with a gain of nearly a point.

Gains of better than a point were recorded at one time by Consolidated Natural Gas, American Optical, Crucible Steel and Seaboard Airline Railroad, but most other price changes were extremely narrow.

Stocks on the offside included Chrysler, Boeing, Douglas, Radio Corp., DuPont and Katy Preferred. Slightly higher were Republic Steel, American Smelting, Southern Pacific and International Paper.

LOOK

We want someone to look at this home that has been shopping around and know what's on the market for $16,000; because we know that if you've looked at a lot of homes you'll say that our listing is one you never dreamed you'd find. If you enjoy a beautiful, well landscaped lot with fenced back yard and swings for the kiddies, lots of shade and flowers, then you owe it to yourself to look at this before you buy. This home is very roomy with its large kitchen and dining area, large living room and sun porch, much larger than average utility room and plenty of sleeping area for you and your family. There's a 1½ car garage with stove and work bench. The home has automatic oil-fed hot water heat which assures you and your family of a comfortable winter for less than $100 a year in fuel bills. The full price is $9,500 with $2,000 down. $65 mo. What are you waiting for — call now!

DON'T BE MISLED!

Those dollars come hard. Anybody can make big claims — "No payments for umpteen months" — "Guaranteed forever" — "Nothing down" — "We sell all the cars in town" — etc., etc. Our big used car advantage remains in the fact that Buick is having a most sensational year. Our used cars are all trade-ins. WE DO NOT BUY THEM TO MAKE A PROFIT. WE HAVE 70 USED CARS. THEY ARE NOT ALL IN PERFECT CONDITION, JUST MOST OF THEM. OUR MANNER IS HONEST. WE HAVE 22 YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL DEALING WITH SATISFIED CUSTOMERS. DROP IN AND SEE US TODAY FOR THE CAR OF YOUR CHOICE.

Girl Co-directs The Web on TV

Began 10 Years Ago as Assistant Secretary, Also Is a Script Writer

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP)—One way for a woman to become a television director is to start as a stenographer—sometimes called assistant secretary.

Lela Swift of a TV staff began that way, and now she is co-director of the mystery drama series "The Web." She also found script writing on the side a help.

This summer she has had full charge of "The Web" as both producer and director while her co-worker, Herbert Hirschman, was in Europe.

Miss Swift became assistant to the secretary of Dr. Peter Goldmark, the network's TV engineering expert, when she went more than a decade ago to get her first job after graduating from college. Later when she expressed the hope of getting into television behind the scenes he helped her along.

At that time in TV "everybody did everything," although her specific assignment was assistant floor (or stage) manager.

She became the pupil of Worthington C. Minor, who was busy then making Studio One into an outstanding TV dramatic series. As his assistant director for two years in some 60 or more shows, she closely studied his techniques, until she qualified as the program's first woman director.

While she was working for Dr. Goldmark she tried radio script writing. One of her many successes was a $300 prize for a Dr. Christian story. Thereafter her scripts sold almost as fast as she could turn them out.

Nab 2 Prison Escapees Hitchhiking at Jackson

JACKSON (INS) — Two escapees from a Jackson prison farm, hitchhiking near the city, were captured by State Police early today.

They are Norton Silvers, 28, serving 7-10 years for the 1951 assault of an eight-year-old Detroit girl, and Curtis Updegraft, 32, also a morals offender. The pair, both trusties, walked away from the prison farm Tuesday night.

"LASSIE" STARS—Lassie, the famed canine film star, will soon make her TV debut with 12-year-old Tommy Rettig on a new Sunday series, the Lassie Show.

Hancock Brewery Sold to Houghton Company

HANCOCK (UP) — The Cohodas Paoli Co., Houghton, purchased the Copper Country Brewing Co. here Wednesday for an undisclosed sum.

Cohodas Paoli was the only bidder for the firm.

The new owners said they were considering resuming operations of the old brewery.

Deputies Restore Order After Washer Bites Dog

WHEELING, W. Va. (UP)—Deputy sheriffs raced to the home of Mrs. William Ball Wednesday to find the woman hysterical, a washing machine revolving on the basement floor and a barking collie running ahead of the machine.

The quickly liberated the tail of "Red" from the washer belt and peace was restored.

Society Changes Official Name

Historical Foundation Elects Directors at Wisner Home

Among th other items of business transacted at the annual meeting of the Oakland County Pioneer and Veterans' Historical foundation Wednesday was the unanimous adoption of a more abbreviated name.

In the future it will be known as the Oakland County Historical Foundation, the change going into effect as soon as the necessary procedures are completed.

The meeting was held at the Moses Wisner home on Oakland Ave., which is owned by the foundation, and was attended by members coming from all parts of the county. Mrs. Donald E. Adams presided.

The annual reports showed that several improvements have been made in the Wisner home, which it is hoped will soon be open to the public as a county historical shrine. Many donations of historical items were received during the year.

Guest speaker was Barlett M. Frost, a member of the Detroit Historical Museum staff, who explained the functioning of a similar organization in that city, and made suggestions for projects in Oakland County that are incidental to the work.

Directors chosen for a term of three years are: Mrs. Joseph Panter, Richard Poole, Jack Harris, Ernest Hughwaite, Arno L. Hulet, Mrs. D. E. Adams, Garner Miller, Mrs. E. G. Clark, Mrs. Morgan Axford and Miss Helen Mary Watties. Directors will elect officers at a later meeting.

City Continues Clearing Debris in Clinton River

Work has beung for the third straight year on a program to clear debris from the Clinton River and allow a steady flow through Pontiac, City Forester William Aho said today.

An eight-man crew started at the sewage treatment plant on East Boulevard and will work westward to the Wessen street bridge, he stated.

Dead and dangerous trees plus refuse of all kinds are removed which clog the stream or threaten to imped it, the forester explained.

The project will continue for about a month financed by $2,000 alloted for the work each year.

This year's efforts will complete work over the same stretch done last year with aid from the Department of Public Works, Aho said.

"Although it's detrimental to public health, people are still dumping garbage in the river," he stated, "and unless the channel is kept clear sendiment piles up and becomes stagnant."

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (UP) — Ricardo J. Celli, 45, was fined $200 and placed on two years' probation when he pleaded guilty in court to stealing a $7 volleyball. Police said that when Celli was arrested he was carrying $10,000 in cash — all his own.

Wife Desertion Cases Disappearing in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese girls still are marrying U. S. servicemen but the "Madam Butterfly" cases — where the homebound soldier leaves his wife behind — have just about disappeared, says Sizuka Odawara of the Tokyo police department.

Odawara says 279 Tokyo girls have married U. S. servicemen so far this year and of these 249 already have left for the states.

Deserted Pet Alligator Gorges on Dogs, Cats

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The neighborhood around the 500 block of First street in New Orleans has pet trouble. It began, neighborhood historians say, 20 years ago when one man moved to another part of the city and left his pet alligator behind.

Neighbors report the 'gator, grown to be 15 feet long, has been getting fat on neighborhood dogs and cats ever since they tore down a brick wall that enclosed the property. The animal has a den under a nearby house, but no method for catching it has been devised.

One-fourth the nation's trucks are eight or more years old.

Buddhists Give Hair

TOKYO (UP) — Half a million widows and relatives of 200,000 Japanese who died in Burma during World War II have contributed locks of hair to be made into statues of Kwannon, the goddess of mercy, which will be buried on the Imphal front battleground.

A six-member Budhist mission, headed by a 79-year-old Buddhist priest, will take 33 statues to Burma and bury them for the repose of the soldiers' souls.
