Cong's Execution of 2 GIs Is 'Wanton Murder'---U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States today denounced the execution of two more American soldiers by the Viet Cong as "acts of wanton murder."

Communist broadcasts said an American captain and a sergeant were executed in reprisal for the execution of three Communist sympathizers last week by a South Vietnamese firing squad.

"The Viet Cong have carried out more acts of wanton murder against American military prisoners," an official U.S. spokesman said.

"These acts show utter disregard for humanitarian principles and the provisions of the 1949 Geneva prisoners of war convention of which the Viet Cong's masters, the Hanoi regime, are adherents."

Radio Hanoi identified the Americans as Capt. Humbert R. Versace of Baltimore, Md., and Sgt. 1.C. Kenneth M. Roraback, whose wife lives in Fayetteville, N.C.

"The Viet Cong's brutal conduct can in no way be justified as a reprisal for the Vietnamese government's recent execution of three civilian, nonuniformed Viet Cong agitators," the American spokesman said.

"These agitators were executed following a trial conducted in accordance with established procedure, in which they were convicted of fomenting public violence."

Versace, whose father retired from the Army two years ago as a colonel, was captured in October 1963, when the Viet Cong overran a special forces camp at Tan Phu, 110 miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

See Stories, Page B-7

Roraback was captured in November 1963 when the Viet Cong overran another special forces camp west of Saigon near the Cambodian border. One of two other Americans captured with him, Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., escaped last July.

Roraback is the son of Esther M. Robbins, Baldwin, N.Y., and George D. Roraback, West Hollywood, Fla.

Radio Hanoi said the two Americans were executed Sunday morning in a "liberated area of South Viet Nam" — meaning in Viet Cong territory — because they "had committed many crimes against the South Vietnamese people."

Then, quoting a Viet Cong spokesman, it accused the United States of "having ordered their henchmen to kill" the three Communist sympathizers executed in Dan Nang last Wednesday.

The three were charged with inciting an anti-American demonstration at Da Nang, where a large U.S.-Vietnamese air base is located.

Hundreds of Viet Cong agents are said to have been executed by the Saigon government, but only a few of the executions have been public or reported officially.

The Viet Cong had warned earlier that they would make their American prisoners "pay for their blood debts" if Viet Cong men held captive were executed.

Another American, Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, 25, of Perryville, Ark., was executed by the Viet Cong June 25 in reprisal for the execution of Communist terrorists in Saigon.

The Viet Cong spokesman quoted by Hanoi radio today said the Communists "always strictly observed humanitarian policy toward prisoners of war."

Mother of Silent Troy Teen Undergoes Mental Exam

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Troy, Mich., mother underwent a psychiatric examination today after telling how she abandoned her mentally retarded teen-age son in Miami because "I didn't know what else to do with him."

Mrs. Victor Thorne flew to Miami late last night, five days after the mute, smiling boy was found in the city's bustling International Airport with three pennies in his pocket and no identification.

She surrendered to airport police and was taken before Juvenile Court Judge Ben Sheppard, who ordered the psychiatric examination after a 30-minute hearing.

"You just dump him and expect someone else to pick up the pieces," the judge lectured the 44-year-old mother. "That isn't motherly concern.

"I'm going to order a psychiatric evaluation for you." The judge said. "I firmly believe you need it."

"All right," Mrs. Thorne replied softly, "Perhaps I do."

The judge said another hearing would be held tomorrow.

Ford Asks for 2-Party Rebalance

House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, in a speech to Oakland County Republicans Saturday, said that the people must restore the balance of the two-party system in the next election.

Speaking at the annual GOP picnic, Rep. Ford said he was "envious to a degree" that Democrats outnumber Republicans two to one in the House, "but proud of the fact that we follow our own will.

"The Democrats don't know whether to clap their hands or click their heels when a message comes from the White House," said Ford.

About 4,000 persons turned out for the event, held at the Ivory Farm in White Lake Township. Cool weather was blamed in keeping the total from reaching the anticipated 6,000.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Ford, the other special guests were Gov. Romney and Rep. William S. Broomfield of the 18th District.

'IRRESPONSIBLE'

Ford called President Johnson's administration the "most irresponsible in fiscal matters in the history of this country."

★ ★ ★

He said he saw no harm in a proposed congressional investigation into increased car prices "because it would point the finger at the Johnson administration."

On Viet Nam, Ford said he felt the administration is "dragging its feet in getting assistance from other countries."

Wider, Lower Look Revealed at Preview

A wider, lower look, and more models—that's the Pontiac and Tempest outlook for 1966.

The new line was previewed by auto writers of the nation today at Oakland Hills Country Club. Models will go on display Oct. 7.

From the Tempest to the Grand Prix, extensive advancements have been made in automotive styling, engineering, safety and model availability.

The entire Tempest line has been redesigned, expanded by the addition of five new models including a new GTO series, and for the first time in an American passenger car, an overhead camshaft six-cylinder engine is offered as standard equipment on all Tempest models except the GTO.

A new series, the 2 Plus 2 with two models, and a new Star Chief Executive sports coupe has been added to the Pontiac lineup, and all models, including the Grand Prix, incorporate both refinements in profile and complete changes in the front and rear.

"Our new models are a true reflection of Pontiac's policy of continuous and evolutionary progress in automotive design and with our new overhead cam engine we feel we are presenting a major engineering breakthrough as well," John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac's general manager, said.

Speaking of the new Tempest engine, DeLorean said: "Our six opens a whole new set of doors for us. For example, 2.5-million sixes were sold last year. We honestly feel that we can get 10 per cent of this six-cylinder market over the next few years — that's nearly 200,000 more additional sales."

★ ★ ★

The Catalina, 2 Plus 2 and Grand Prix have an over-all length of 214.8 inches, 0.2 inches longer than last year, and a wheelbase of 121 inches. The Star Chief Executive and Bonneville measures 221.8 inches over-all, a 0.1-inch increase, and their wheelbases are 124 inches. All Tempest models are one-half-inch longer over-all, measuring 206.4 inches, and have a 115-inch wheelbase.

INCREASE MODELS BY SEVEN

Pontiac has increased the number of models from 26 last year to 33 in 1966.

The Tempest series includes a sports coupe, four-door sedan and station wagon.

In addition to the four-door hardtop, which is new this year, a sports coupe, four-door sedan, hardtop coupe, convertible and station wagon are available in the Tempest Custom.

A LeMans four-door hardtop is also new for 1966 and it joins a sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible in that series.

The new GTO series includes a sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible.

The Catalina series has a two- and four-door sedan, a hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and both a two-seat and three-seat station wagon.

★ ★ ★

The new 2 Plus 2 series offers a hardtop coupe and a convertible.

A four-door sedan, four-door hardtop and a new model, a two-door hardtop coupe, are available in the Star Chief Executive series.

A Bonneville hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and station wagon are offered in that series and the Grand Prix hardtop coupe tops Pontiac's new car list.

De Lorean predicted his division would sell 825,000 cars this calendar year — 20 per cent over the previous record of 693,716 set in 1964.

He added that Pontiac continued to solidify its third-place standing in the industry and should finish a strong third this year for the fifth consecutive year.

In 1961 Pontiac's margin over its nearest competitor was 2,000 units, this year's margin should be about 175,000 units.

Unique in both engineering concept and design, the Pontiac overhead cam engine is smoother, has larger output

How Now, Weatherman?

During the last eight days, Pontiac weather ran the gamut from sweltering highs to shivering lows.

Just a week ago Sunday, 1955's record high of 92 was threatened as temperatures flitted dangerously close with a 90.

Today, the record low of 34 set in 1889 almost toppled as the mercury slid to a low of 36 at 6 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 2 p.m. it registered 58.

Outstate, Old Man Winter leapfrogged over autumn and dumped three inches of snow on Kincheloe Air Force Base, south of Sault Ste. Marie, yesterday, just four days after the end of summer.

The Upper Peninsula received brief snow flurries at Ironwood Saturday.

★ ★ ★

FRIGID BLAST

Temperatures dipped to the 20s in a blast of frigid air from Lake Superior.

The snowfall was a record for the early date, surpassing the 2.7 inches which fell on Sept. 29, 1958, said the Soo Chamber of Commerce.

Increasing cloudiness and warmer temperatures are predicted for the Pontiac area tonight with the low falling between 38 and 44.

Canada's Version of Peace Corps Currently Has 318 Volunteers in 22 Countries

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's version of the Peace Corps, started four years ago, has 318 volunteers in 22 counties of Asia, Africa and South America.

Called the Canadian University Service Overseas — CUSO — the privately administered organization hopes eventually to have 1,000 young people working in developing countries.

★ ★ ★

Until this year, CUSO has relied almost totally on private sources for its finances. The Canadian government gave $500,000 toward the project this year to supplement $250,000 already raised.

The government indicated it will continue to contribute to CUSO despite the fact that it is planning a similar organization of Young Canadians.

"I'm sure we will be putting 500 workers a year into the field within a year or two," says CUSO's secretary, William McWhinney. "On a two-year assignment basis, that will give us 1,000 before very long."

Interested candidates are screened first by volunteer committees at 33 Canadian universities and then put through a final examination by a national committee at CUSO headquarters in Ottawa.

★ ★ ★

Those accepted — 208 out of more than 300 this year—undergo extensive training first in Canada and then in the country of destination. The stress is on language, although this year's orientation program includes a seminar in community development.

★ ★ ★

Recipient countries pay the salaries of volunteers on a local-equivalent basis and the have the final say in accepting a volunteer for any specific assignment. The failure rate is less than 5 per cent.

★ ★ ★

CUSO pays the bill for orientation, transportation, insurance, some allowances and central administration. McWhinney says it works out to $2,500 to $3,000 per volunteer, compared with the $18,000-a-member cost of the U. S. Peace Corps.

Alaska has the largest surplus of men over women of all the states, with a ratio of 37 per cent male to 43 per cent female.

Amish Nix State Offer on Teacher

CAMDEN (AP)—A group of Amish parents today rejected a compromise offer from state officials in a clash over the teaching of 23 Amish children by a noncertified teacher.

A spokesman for the religious sect, Levi Graber, said his people felt the state's offer to provide a certified teacher to lead classes for several hours a day would make the school public.

* * *

Graber said that in rejecting the proposal, the Amish had made a counter-offer—to submit their youngsters to written examinations in competition with public school children.

Visitations and inspections by public school officials also would be welcomed, Graber said. The Amish action was reported to Lee Ionsberry, superintendent of the Hillsdale Intermediate School District, who was expected to forward the reply to Lansing.

TO PROVIDE TEACHER

The state had offered to provide a teacher free of charge to the Amish if they would make the school part of the Camden-Frontier school district.

The next step is up to the State Board of Education, according to acting state schools Supt. Alexander Kloster.

The next board meeting is scheduled for Oct. 5.

* * *

The Amish, who do not believe in formal education beyond the eighth grade, have been using noncertified members of their own community to teach at the school.

They have found non-Amish teachers "too worldly," they said.

State Board of Education member Donald M. D. Thurber told the board last week the Amish received the latest proposal courteously but were completely noncommittal and asked for time to study it and consult with their leaders and bishop.

Kloster said in previous proposals the Amish were asked to hire a suitable teacher. The latest proposal, he added in effect make their school a public school.

BOTH PRESENT

Under the plan, the regular Amish teacher, Ruth Graber, 20, would be permitted to spend the full day in the school. After the certified teacher had taught a specified number of hours, she would be permitted to take over for religious instruction and other Amish-interest subjects.

"The position of the State Board of Education is that it will do everything reasonable and possible to accommodate these good people, but there can be no question that the board must operate within the legal framework established by the Legislature for the protection of educational standards," said board President Thomas Brennan.

Annual Report Cost to Get Another Look

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will take another look at the cost of telling Birmingham residents about Birmingham.

Their consideration of an annual city report has been snagged on an unfavorable cost estimate.

While budgeting municipal funds for the 1965-66 fiscal year, commissioners set aside $3,000 to be used for the city's first annual report.

Late last month they directed administrators to prepare the report, which is to have a calendar format.

The report, describing municipal facilities and services, would be distributed in December.

CAN'T MEET DEADLINE

However, the reply from administrators last week was that it would be impossible for the report to be completed by December.

Administrative aide John Saefke reported that the work would require too much time of too many people.

One alternative would be to let an advertising firm handle the job, Saefke said.

However, that would take the estimated cost up to $4,500 or $6,500.

DEFEAT MOTION

Commissioners defeated a motion to ask MacManus, John and Adams of Bloomfield Hills for a firm bid.

Mayor Robert W. Page, who promised that the issue was not dead, is to return to the commission tonight with a report.

* * *

City Manager R. S. Kenning also will have some specific figures for commissioners to study.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A local woman has been named temporary vice chairman of a new state political party.

The conservative party, not yet named, was formed this weekend in Battle Creek with Mrs. Douglas A. Holmes, 1583 Clarendon, as its vice chairman.

She said the organization is "anti-Communist, pro-American and constitutional."

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Members of the Clinton Valley chapter of the Michigan Archeological Society will exchange information on their summer activities tomorrow night in the Cranbrook Institute of Science auditorium.

The public is invited to the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Refuse Delay in Trial of Rights Case

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — A circuit judge today refused to grant a delay in the trial of a white man in the shotgun slaying of Episcopal seminarian Jonathan Daniels, who had come to this rural Alabama area on a civil rights mission.

After listening to 25 minutes of heated argument for and against a postponement in the trial of Thomas Coleman, 55, indicted for manslaughter in the Daniels case, Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard said crisply and without additional comment: "Motion for continuance is denied."

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers and Joe Breck Gantt, assistant attorney general and a chief prosecutor in the state legal department, personally argued that the Coleman case and the second murder trial of Collie Leroy Wilkins, 21-year-old unemployed automobile mechanic accused in the May, 1965, killing of civil rights worker Viola Liuzzo, be postponed.

Gantt told Thagard in a courtroom noticeably tense toward the state legal officials, that both he and Flowers had threats made on their lives since they took control of the cases last week.

knowledge of her husband, Victor, 43, foreman of a Troy tool and die plant.

"I told him I'd made plans to have Ricky institutionalized in the South," she said. "He didn't even know we went to Miami."

"What did you expect would happen to him when you left him alone in a large airport terminal with a sandwich and three pennies in his pocket?" the judge asked.

"Didn't you think he might starve or get hurt all alone, unable to talk and without resources?"

"My problem had reached a point where it was unendurable," Mrs. Thorne replied quietly. "I couldn't give him money. He wouldn't know what to do with it.

"I wanted someone to find him and take good care of him and give him a good home," she said. "I knew he would attract attention."

* * *

Mrs. Thorne said her husband didn't know that she had left their son in Miami until he saw the boy's picture flashed on a television screen in Chicago, where he and his wife were staying on a business trip.

NEAR TEARS

"He put me on the plane to Miami and told me I must make a clean breast of it," she told the judge, coming close to tears for the only time.

Storm Heads Into Gulf, Is Expected to Intensify

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical depression Debbie was expected to intensify today as she moved out into the strength-giving warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Weather forecasters were keeping a close watch on Debbie as the storm, located at 5 a.m. EST about 500 miles south of New Orleans, La., moved toward the northwest at 7 miles an hour.

New Pontiacs Are Introduced capabilities, increased fuel economy and provides greatly improved ease of servicing.

Most significant in design of this engine, and the first time it has ever been used in domestic automobile industry, is the belt-driven overhead cam using a rocker arm and an hydraulic lash adjuster.

Also an industry first for Pontiac is that the new L6 engine utilizes a neoprene timing belt reinforced with fiberglass cords.

Bore and stroke on the 230-cubic-inch engine are 3.875 inches and 3.250 inches respectively. The standard single-barrel carburetor provides 165 horsepower at 4700 r.p.m. The compression ratio is 9.0:1 and it is available with either manual or automatic transmission.

Pontiac also announces it is making available an added performance option, the Sprint option, which offers a new sensation in driving response and performance.

FOUR-BARREL CARBURETOR

The Sprint includes a four-barrel carburetor with a compression ratio of 10.5:1. The engine is rated at 207 horsepower. It will be available with a three-speed manual transmission fully synchronized in all forward speeds as standard equipment; with a four-speed, or automatic transmission optional.

Pontiac's highly rated V8 engines, both the Tempest 326-cubic-inch option and the 389, and 421-cubic-inch engines available on Pontiac models, have been refined with the emphasis on smoother operation and greater economy.

The 1966 Pontiacs have been restyled for a lower silhouette and wider appearance.

The split grille and long lean directional nose theme continues to dominate the Pontiac front end look. From the back, long horizontal twin tail lamps are double chrome framed and ported into the rear sheet metal.

★ ★ ★

The 2 Plus 2, now a separate Pontiac series, takes on more individual identity in 1966. The front and rear will be easily identified with the bright red 2 Plus 2 emblem on hood and deck while the side will carry a very narrow stainless molding just below the lower body line.

FEATURES BLOCK LETTERING

To go with its new name there is Executive block lettering on the front fender side replacing the Star Chief script and a cluster of three horizontal star ornaments on the rear quarter fender.

The styling treatment of the Bonneville thins and lengthens the side appearance and a new Bonneville crest appears on the long rear fender. The rear end is completely new with emphasis on body sculpturing. Three bulb tail lamps are on either side with the winged Bonneville crest in the center.

The distinction of the new Grand Prix begins with the front end where the dual air intakes are neatly outlined with a narrow chrome leading edge. Larger and more sharply defined rectangular parking lamps are suspended at the grille ends and Grand Prix initials are on the left side.

★ ★ ★

The rear end is a combination of three horizontal elements; painted louvers, fine chrome louver edges and red tail lamp and reflex material.

The Grand Prix features a die cast full rocker panel molding side treatment on the lower body and small block lettering on the front fender and a new Grand Prix emblem at the rocker panel molding.

NEW TEMPEST ROOF LINES

New roof lines give the 1966 Tempests a completely new styling theme and big car appearance. Body side sculpturing is noted by its clean simplicity with a suggestion of sports car flair.

Tempest front end appearance retains the split grille design but has been styled to give an even wider stance. Deep tapered air intakes are framed with narrow bright chrome edges and recessed within the sculptured front end sheet metal.

The Tempest rear end design features a strong chrome molding treatment that defines maximum width and lowness characteristics. Rear bumpers have shaped ends to complement the rear end and tail lamp scheme.

The LeMans back end treatment has an additional bright ribbed full width molding between the tail lamps.

The GTO, a completely new 1966 series, has its own front end including grille, parking lamps, hood and ornamentation. The side view shows a full length rocker panel molding plus rocker extensions on the front and rear fenders.

★ ★ ★

The GTO rear end has its own tail lamp design consisting of horizontal painted louvers on each side of the rear end panel. The red tail lamp lens is recessed in the slits between the louvers. Individual block letters are mounted on the central painted panel and a GTO initial ornament graces the deck lid.

NEW PLASTIC GRILLE

Improvements of major significance in Pontiac's sheet metal design include an industry first in the use of a plastic, full floating radiator grill which is lighter and improves resistance to corrosion.

Pontiac's 1966 interiors include design refinements for greater convenience, added comfort and safety and a wide choice of colors and luxurious fabrics.

Four sets of seat belts, two for front seat occupants and two for the rear seats, are standard equipment on all models.

All new Profile bucket seats are introduced as standard on the 2 Plus 2, Grand Prix, GTO and all models of the LeMans except the four-door hardtop. These are fully contoured seats and backs.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's complete list of options and accessories has been expanded to give greater driving comfort, easier operation and simplified controls for safety.

The 1966 Pontiac automatic temperature control air conditioning features several control system revisions which give a more consistent comfort range, improved performance and added reliability.

SEAT OPTIONS AVAILABLE

There are several options to the new design Profile seat which is standard on some 1966 models. A reclining seat, where the right-hand side reclines, includes a head rest on both the left and right-hand side. Head rests only, without the reclining feature, are also available. There is also a Profile bench front seat offered on some models which may be ordered with both reclining right-hand seat and two head rests.

Damage Heavy

Hurricane Hits Mexico Port

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Hurricane Hazel hit the Pacific Coast port of Mazatlan late Saturday night, destroyed hundreds of houses, and flooded a vast coastal area of the northwestern state of Sinaloa, ham radio reports indicated early today.

There was no word on casualties, but the reports said damage in Mazatlan was serious and 5,000 people were homeless. Regular communications were disrupted. At least a score of boats and small ships were reported sunk in the port.

Heavy rains continued, sending the rivers to flood levels.

Mazatlan was reported reachable only by boat or canoe, a dangerous trip. A group of ham radio operators left Culican with radio equipment and generating plants for Mazatlan early today in an effort to establish communications and organize rescue operations.

Rosario, 10 miles southwest of Mazatlan, was considered the most seriously affected by floods and strong winds. Scores of persons took refuge in trees and hills when their homes were destroyed or flooded. They remain perched there waiting for help, reports said.

The navy department reported that the hurricane hit Mazatlan at 11 a.m. Saturday and continued until 5 a.m. Sunday. The department said it lacked information regarding damage.

Thant: Cease-Fire Not Holding

Pakistan Charges India Tried 2 Attacks

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — The India-Pakistan truce was threatened as Pakistan Sunday night charged Indian forces with two major attacks. The Pakistanis claimed the attackers were repulsed.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant informed the Security Council the cease-fire is "notholding" and said both sides were stalling on troop withdrawals.

The Pakistani government said Indian troops attacked Saturday night with tanks and artillery on the Fazilka front, near Lahore, but were driven back after 90 Indians were killed and 73 captured.

★ ★ ★

India charged that more than 1,000 Pakistani troops moved across the Sutlev River into Indian territory in the Fazilka area. "If they do not get out, there is going to be a fight," a spokesman for the Indian Defense Ministry said.

Later, the Pakistani government radio said Indian troops seized two posts in Rajahstan, near the Arabian Sea, but were forced back by a Pakistani counterattack.

CHARGE ATTACKS

In letters to Thant during the weekend, India charged that the Pakistanis attacked first on the two fronts, as well as near Gadra in the disputed Himalayan state of Kashmir. Pakistan protested the alleged Indian intrusions to Thant.

Thant said in a two-page report to the Security Council that area began Friday night when ea began Friday night when Indian troops opened fire with artillery, tanks, recoilless rifles and small arms near a small canal separating the two sides southwest of the city.

★ ★ ★

"As a result of this action, the local Pakistan command claims to have suffered a number of casualties in killed, wounded and missing," Thant said.

He quoted from the report of a U.N. observer at the scene:

"Difficult to state categorically if Pakistani artillery did retaliate but considered opinion is that Indians started the firing and I believe some shots were returned. I consider this situation explosive and I and experiencing great difficulty in preventing the Pakistan side from retaliation."

BOTH AGREED

Both nations agreed last week to heed a Security Council call for a cease-fire in their undeclared, 22-day-old war over ownership of divided Kashmir. The truce went into effect at dawn Thursday.

It was to be followed by withdrawal of both sides to positions they held before the fighting broke out Aug. 5. Thant said India had ignored a request Saturday to pull back its forces and Pakistan had refused to do so until India agreed.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told a political meeting in New Delhi Sunday:

"If Pakistan will not withdraw its forces from areas occupied by it, it will be impossible for us to do so unilaterally."

690 SQUARE MILES

India claims it holds 690 square miles of Pakistani territory and lost 250 square miles during the fighting.

Sketchy reports reaching New Delhi from the front indicated local commanders were trying to grab advantageous positions before large numbers of U.N. observers arrive to patrol the cease-fire line.

★ ★ ★

Both armies were digging in, indicating no thought was being given to the Security Council's request to withdraw. Trenches and fortifications were reportedly being constructed by each side, with the other trying to disrupt the work with occasional artillery fire.

Screen Vamp Clara Bow, 'It Girl' of 20s, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Clara Bow, the sensuous "It Girl" of the silent screen whose triumphs led to a succession of vamps, died last night while watching a late television movie. She was 60.

★ ★ ★

The red-haired star of the flapper era zoomed to success in the 1920s as the embodiment of sex. But in the decade that followed, her light of popularity flickered and the torch was carried on by succeeding screen beauties.

Among them were platinum-haired Jean Harlow, "Oomph Girl" Ann Sheridan, Marie "The Body" McDonald, and blonde glamour queen Marilyn Monroe.

Miss Bow had been in failing health for several years and until recently was under treatment for extreme insomnia at a rest home where she maintained an apartment and was free to come and go.

★ ★ ★

Friends said she kept a radio under her pillow at night for the soothing effect of music.

WATCHING TV

Her nurse, Mrs. Estrella Smith, said the onetime actress was watching television shortly before midnight when she died. Death was attributed to natural causes.

She lived in a modest home with a swimming pool in which she swam daily or watched television on one of the three sets she had in different rooms. Mrs. Smith and two dogs were her company.

Bill Would Hit Profit 'Misuse'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart today introduced legislation to forbid doctors to profit from the sale of medicines, eyeglasses or other things they prescribe.

★ ★ ★

The bill would provide penalties up to a year in jail and a $5,000 fine for a doctor to accept or anyone to pay such profits.

It also would arm the federal courts with power to prohibit the practice in specific instances.

In a prepared Senate speech, Hart said investigations by his Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee have shown thousands of doctors reap fat profits by owning openly or secretly the business firms which supply items they prescribe for their patients.

The Michigan Democrat said that until a 1955 change by the American Medical Association (AMA) softened it, a traditional rule of ethics for medical men delcared:

"An ethical physician does not engage in barter or trade in the appliances, devices or remedies prescribed for patients, but limits the sources of his professional income to professional services rendered the patient."

ETHIC BINDING

Said Hart: "All this bill would do is make that ethic binding on all physicians."

He charged that medicine prices have been inflated by doctor-owned drug and eyeglass dispensing firms.

Hart said the Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission report they are powerless to act against the practice under existing law, and the AMA "has consistently turned down efforts" to bar doctor-ownership of drug and eyeglass firms.

Canada UAW Asks Equal Pay

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—Equal pay for Canadian and American workers in the automotive industry was demanded Sunday by delegates to the Canadian United Auto Workers Council.

The 140 delegates, made up of elected representatives of UAW locals across Canada, endorsed a resolution asking that the issue be at the top of the 1967-68 bargaining agenda, union's international convention next May in Long Beach, Calif.

Canadian UAW Director George Burt told the delegates the union's international president, Walter Reuther, has already committed himself to support the Canadian position.

Burt said: "The great bulk of Canadians will see that our wage-price program is the spearhead of what will eventually result in Canadians enjoying the American standard of living."

Curfew Lifted in Aden After Disturbances

ADEN (UPI) — British authorities today lifted a dusk to dawn curfew on two oil refinery towns outside this tense Arabian port city following demonstrations by schoolchildren shouting anti-British slogans.

But the 6 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew remained elsewhere, including Aden City, scene of grenade, bombing and shooting incidents which brought a suspension on Saturday of the state constitution by Queen Elizabeth.

Schoolboys and girls at Crater town marched out of their classes this morning and paraded through the streets screaming anti-British slogans, demanding the lifting of the curfew and the end of security measures.

Police managed to keep the children under control, herding them into a schoolyard and releasing them in small batches.

* * *

It seemed unlikely that the schoolchildren would return to classes tomorrow. But the curfew was lifted at Crater town a Little Aden refinery town.

Librarians to Meet on OU Campus

Some 100 librarians are expected on the Oakland University campus Wednesday for the Oakland County chapter meeting, Michigan Association of School Libraries.

Don Goodson of the Michigan Department of Education will highlight the program, discussing provisions of the National Defense Education Act that are of particular interest to librarians.

The meeting will begin at 4 p.m. with a tour of the Instructional Materials Center at the Kresge Library.

Following a coffee break and business meeting, dinner will be served in the Oakland Center.

* * *

According to Phyllis Van Orden, head of the OU Instructional Materials Center and program chairman for the meeting, reservations should be made with Mrs. Marge Phells, Oakland County Board of Education.

More Smuggling Likely at N.Y.-Canada Border

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Customs agents along the New York-Canada border reportedly are preparing for an upsurge in petty smuggling after Friday.

A law effective Friday will reduce substantially the amount of liquor and other items a visitor to Canada may bring back or have shipped home.

Fury, Plymouth Sales Leader, Has New Engineering, Looks

Plymouth Fury, volume sales leader in the Plymouth line, was introduced today by Chrysler Motors Corp., with the new model changed in appearance and engineering.

A new look in the grille, wheel covers and rear bumpers along with a high performance engine option were cited as main new features.

The 1966 Plymouth Fury may be seen Thursday in the following area dealer showrooms:

Bill Spence, Inc., 6673 Dixie, Independence Township; Patterson of Rochester, 1001 N. Main, Rochester; Bird Sales and Service, 209 S. Main, Milford; Oakland Chrysler, 724 Oakland; and Birmingham Chrysler-Plymouth, 912 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

* * *

The Fury series consists of 15 sedans, hardtops and convertibles on a 119-inch wheelbase and six wagons on a 121-inch wheelbase.

MODEL CHANGES

Exterior appearance changes besides grille, wheel covers and rear bumpers, include modifications in the rear quarter panels, deck lid and upper and lower deck panels.

Among the new standard features are safety inside door latches, increased drum brake linings, new engine mounts and greater odometer-speedometer accuracy.

Options include a telescoping and tilting steering wheel, six-way power seat adjusters for both bench type and bucket front seats and power front wheel disc brakes.

* * *

The new 440-cubic-inch V8 engine choice has a compression ratio of 10.1:1 and uses premium fuel. Two other engine options are: A 383-cubic inch, two barrel carburetor V8, with 9:1 compression, using regular fuel; and a 383-cubic inch, four-barrel carburetor V8, with 10:1 compression, using premium fuel.

The standard engines are a 225-cubic-inch six and a 318-cubic-inch V8, both using regular fuel.

U. of Dayton Sponsors Dance Therapy Clinic

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — New techniques in dance therapy for the handicapped were taught to visiting teachers and nurses from all over the nation in the first clinic of its kind, held at the University of Dayton.

* * *

Students attending the three-day session will initiate or strengthen dance therapy programs in their community. At the clinic, they learned dancing techniques for deaf, blind and retarded people and those with cerebral palsy.

The nation's total customs receipts in the fiscal year 1965 have been estimated officially at $2.05 billion.

'Whole Child' Concept Hit

Progressive Education Put on Stand

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

The drive toward the "Great Society" has turned the spotlight on education.

Through education, the disadvantaged can be helped to overcome their present handicaps. Some educators insist that this calls for a resurgence of progressive education, which reached its peak in the 1930's and which later was severely criticized.

DR. NASON

Proponents of progressive education assert that only through a consideration of the "whole child" can the problems of individual children be solved. If by this, they mean return to so-called "life adjustment" and putting "learning group activity" as the central and most important goal of kindergarten and primary education, I object!

However, I do approve when they advocate progressive methods, spelled with a small letter, which take into account all of the circumstances in a child's life in an effort to relieve the effects of poverty whether physical, cultural or emotional. In this program, a child may gain all of the education possible considering his innate abilities.

We nevertheless cannot assume that, when a child's physical and emotional needs are met, he will automatically acquire needed skills. Helping him attain these skills is the first order of business in our school systems.

Present demands that every child receive as much education as he is capable of absorbing call for a reversal of the old "survival of the fittest" procedures.

Until the advent of progressive education, schools were operated as sieves. Little concern was shown that a large percentage left school in the elementary grades and that only a few managed to get through and reach college. The word dropout had not yet been coined.

Now, the central concern of the school must be that every child learn to read and write and to solve problems in arithmetic. Yet it is not enough just to stand firmly for the three R's. The importance of every child must be thoroughly recognized.

He or she must be handled individually or placed in groups small enough to allow generous individual attention.

In any area in which their handicaps are unusually severe, children must be given activities selected to bring progress and a sense of accomplishment. They must be given special help.

Their failures are not due to lack of effort or motivation but to inadequacies which they cannot, by themselves, overcome.

For example, children handicapped through lack of experience with words or ideas must be placed in situations where they can talk without embarrassment. They must be talked to and read to and encouraged to respond, if they are to gain the needed experience. This calls for more attention than is given to the average or gifted student.

Urge Inside Handles on '67 Refrigerators

BOSTON (AP) — All refrigerators sold in Massachusetts in 1967 and thereafter would be required to have inside release handles, under a bill being drafted for two members of the Massachusetts House.

The legislation stems from the deaths last week of three small Boston children who suffocated after becoming trapped in a refrigerator stored behind an appliance store.

OK Cotton for Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports that about 9.3 million bales of cotton have been authorized for export under the Food for Peace program since its inauguration in 1954. The cotton was valued at $1 billion.

Alcoholics Are Study Subject

By Science Service

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. — Alcoholics who have delirium tremens should be hospitalized even though their attack lasts a shorter time than the usual critical three-day period.

This is the opinion of Dr. Benjamin J. Cutshall, who reports a study of 205 cases, including 21 women, in Los Angeles, Calif., in the September issue of Quarterly Journal of Studies on Alcohol.

All these patients are seriously ill, announced careful treatment. They are dehydrated and need fluid replacement.

Glucose should be given while the person is unable to eat. Magnesium and potassium, as well as the other electrolyte, must be replaced by injection and by mouth as soon as possible.

Sedation should be handled carefully, and the personal interest of the patient's doctor is an important factor in successful treatment.

Strong-arm methods and overuse of medication can result in a high death rate.

Delirium tremens, complete with terrifying hallucinations, was perhaps a feature of Bacchanalian frenzies 2,500 years ago, Dr. Cutshall says, but it is still vaguely understood and inadequately treated.

To be in delirium temens, an alcoholic must suffer from these four definite signs: (1) hallucinations or mental confusion; (2) excess movement of muscles or hyperkinesis; (3) wakefulness and (4) tremor.

All these signs will develop after prolonged and excessive drinking. The type of alcoholic beverage is not important.

It Seems to Me....

Pontiac Has Done It Again--'66s Are Super-Excellent!

What a happy note we sound today. It's those 1966 Pontiacs and Tempests.

They're simply magnificent.

They leave you breathless.

★ ★ ★

Actually, when you stand between several of these bright, new glistening models you positively drool. Each is so distinctive and so attractive it seems impossible to single out the one you want the most.

At least that was my position. Others were similarly affected.

★ ★ ★

Of course I'm everlastingly prejudiced, but I can offer conclusive proof that I'm just one of a vast, nameless horde. Some 800,000 (yes, eight hundred thousand) purchasers jammed their way into Pontiac and Tempest dealers this past year and laid down demand orders for one of these American Beauties.

How about that!

★ ★ ★

No less an authority than the venerable ABRAHAM LINCOLN said: "You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

And right there lies Pontiac's indisputable claim to fame. Hundreds and hundreds of thousands have been buying and buying new model Pontiacs and Tempests in ever increasing numbers over a span of many years.

★ ★ ★

In fact, this All-American division sold more Tempests alone in 1965 than it did Pontiacs and Tempests combined in 1958.

Aye.

There's the triumph and the proof.

For the last five consecutive years Pontiac has been a big third. The local division fought its way from the seventh in the industry into this third position through sheer merit, value and established worth. To revive an ancient Pontiac dictum:

"Dollar for Dollar, You Can't Beat a Pontiac."

Well, you can't.

It's hard to come close.

★ ★ ★

The acceptance of this great automobile is universal in all 50 states. The intense loyalty of local citizens can never bring about 800,000 plus sales. Our own private, public, personal and selfish interests in the Pontiac Motor Division can't persuade eight-tenths of a million buyers to lay down cash orders in twelve months. That's a lot of people. In fact, it's an actual downright mob.

Are you thinking of buying a new Pontiac? Get your order in now. They're going fast. Sales may pass that 800,000 manufacturing record again — and 900,000 might storm the dealers' show rooms. You could just be one of the hundred thousand that got left.

With absolutely no exaggeration, the 1966 Pontiacs and Tempests are the finest cars this great division has ever produced. In fact, I say they're the finest cars manufactured today. And — so help me — they come at a slightly lower price.

Will wonders ever cease?

Feeling Differs....

What gives?

Certain signs from Russia indicate things aren't running too smoothly. People are becoming dissatisfied. And furthermore, they're expressing their feelings more openly and without apologies.

★ ★ ★

French authorities predict open revolution within five years. They feel an upper class may crash the gates and toss out communism in favor of a system that recognizes the rights of the individual.

Safety Measure....

If a sharp electrical storm cuts loose when you're jogging along the public highways, and lightning plays about, stay right in the car, and be glad you're where you are.

The Hillsdale Daily News shows that an automobile with those rubber tires is about the best protection against unharnessed lightning there is. Don't lean against the metal body, keep your hands off the metal parts and you're in the glory seat.

Around a thousand people are killed every year by lightning bolts and fires and destruction cost us about $100 million annually in property losses.

And in Conclusion...

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Several newspapers predict that by December the new TV shows will show the highest mortality rate of all time..... Metropolitan schools rather universally have ruled out Beatle hair cuts. Excessive regimentation is distasteful but not as much so as disheveled, unkempt and ludicrous personal appearances..... The new New York theater season promises 65 new shows — of which 50 will be financial flops..... CLETE BOYER's current home run is his 57th of the year — 35 in batting practice.

LINDA

Purely personal nomination for an attractive young lady in the area: Linda Tarlton.... ..... Overheard: "Anyway this foreign aid lets the various nations denounce us in better English."..... Recently the Marines suffered a sharp setback in Viet Nam and on-the-scene reporters filed dispatches. The White House roared and roared. We aren't supposed to get bad news until there's some "good" news to counteract it. In case you don't know it, you're being treated like little folk in kindergarten..... Odds on Lindsay winning the Mayor's post in New York have dropped from 2 to 1 to 7 to 5.

★ ★ ★

Overheard: "When two women kiss, it reminds me of two prizefighters shaking hands before the bell."..... At a handsome 76, IRVING BERLIN has written nine new songs for the MGM movie, "Say It With Music."..... HAL NEWHOUSER tells me AL KALINE is really crippled with two very bad toes He's destined for serious surgery when the season ends.... ..... Dept of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the Grand Trunk Railroad for smoothing the West Huron Street crossing; the J's—the constantly dragging war in Viet Nam.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

In The Midst Of Plenty!

James Marlow Says:

14B May Halt LBJ Steamroller

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year has been like one long Indian summer for President Johnson.

MARLOW

He was the medicine man and Congress took his medicine and danced as he wanted. But now some Senate warriors have their scalping knives out.

Their would-be victim is a bill to make the union shop possible in all 50 states by repealing section 14B of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act. Under 14B any state can outlaw the union shop. As of now, 19 states do.

The House passed this bill last July, although by a fairly narrow squeak, 221 to 203, with most of the opposition from Republicans but a lot from Democrats, even though Johnson gave it his blessing and asked for it.

★ ★ ★

Then it moved over to the Senate and at once banged into trouble.

OTHERWISE HELPFUL

A band of about two dozen senators of both parties set out to polish it off, led by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republicans' Senate chief who has otherwise been very helpful to Johnson all year.

At this moment Congress, which made a tremendous record in 1965, has been rolling toward a finish which could come around mid-October if there is no uproar over something.

There will be an uproar if the Democratic leadership tries to put through the union shop measure. Dirksen, among others, has threatened a filibuster. If that happens, Congress could be here for the snow.

★ ★ ★

The Democrats' 1964 campaign platform called for repeal of 14B. So did Johnson in his State of the Union message last January and again in a special message in May.

POLICY CONFLICTS

He said wiping out this section in the law would, he hoped, reduce conflicts in "our national labor policy."

Organized labor, of course, wholeheartedly backs repeal. But if there is a floor fight over the bill labor may have something else to worry about besides just this one change in the Taft-Hartley Act.

Republicans have said they would use the bill as a vehicle to try to win broad changes in the labor law.

★ ★ ★

Supporters of the bill, like Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, take the position that this year Congress should concern itself only with knocking out 14B and wait for next year before considering other changes.

COURT FIGHTS

Under 14B states can pass their own "right-to-work" laws banning labor contracts which compel workers to join a union. Repeal of 14B would make union shops legal in all states, perhaps. There would be court fights over it.

Arguments for and against the union shop go like this:

For: Unions have expenses, including the cost of negotiating contracts. Union members pay for those expenses through dues and assessments. Therefore all workers in a plant covered by a contract should have to pay their share by being union members.

★ ★ ★

More bluntly labor argues that nonunion workers are "free-riders" since under federal law a union must bargain for all workers covered by a contract, whether they are union members or not.

Against: No worker should be compelled to join any organization against his will as a condition for holding a job.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said it would be difficult to get the two-thirds majority to stop a filibuster. Supporters of the bill try to discount talk of one.

Capital Letter:

U.S. Employment Service Is Acting Like a 'Fat Cat'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — For some reason which eludes mere man, virtually every bureau established by the federal government quickly expands to gargantuan size, grabs for increased power, and costs a mint to operate. The U.S. Employment Service (USES) is a case in point.

Ruth Montgomery

Founded in the depression year of 1933 to help the unemployed find work, it has grown so fat that some congressmen think its bureaucrats are more interested in finding better positions for highly paid executives than in helping the unemployed get jobs.

Did you know that it costs taxpayers an average of $24 every time a government employment agency finds even a temporary, one-to-three-day job for a handyman or baby sitter?

★ ★ ★

Did you know that we're spending more than $225 million this year to operate these bureaus, which directly compete with private employment agencies in recruiting executives for $12,000 to $25,000-a-year positions in industry?

'MANPOWER MONOPOLY'

Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio, charges that USES "is trying to become a manpower monopoly, and in doing so has turned its back on the unemployed."

The Comptroller general reveals that the Washington State Employment Service has been spending $35,000 a year to operate a teacher's placement bureau, although teachers are in such short supply that the State Education Association found no need for a placement service there.

Although universities have traditionally maintained a placement service for students, without cost to the taxpayers, the Oregon State Employment Service spends $10,000 a year to maintain a branch office on the University of Oregon campus.

★ ★ ★

Congressman Bow says a USES official told him it's a "real problem" to get staff interviewers to pay any attention to an unemployed person's application for work as long as he is drawing unemployment compensation.

FIRST PRIORITY

It would seem to the long-suffering taxpayers that these, and other unemployed heads-of-families should have first priority, rather than the assistant plant manager who would like to switch to a plusher job as manager.

Ah, sweet mystery of life-in-government!

Suggests Study of Police Situation in County

During this period of ever-increasing lawlessness, I believe it would be in the public interest to have an in-depth study of the police situation in Oakland County. Lack of adequate manpower is reflected in rising crime rates.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Township's 1966 budget that was recently approved allocated no monies for additional policemen. The Township covers about 36 square miles and has a population of well over 50 thousand, with only 13 uniformed policemen. This gives us only two or three one-man patrol cars on the road at any one time. The police department has been working a six-day week for over a year in an effort to give better protection.

★ ★ ★

I hope the people of Waterford Township will let themselves be heard before they become directly affected by the rising crime rate. Possibly the Township Board would like to explain how we are to expect adequate protection with 13 uniformed policemen.

Moptops!

The Chicago Daily News

The decision by Hinsdale Township (Ill.) High School authorities to ban Beatle-type mopheads has been echoed in Fairfax County, Va., where an old rule banning ducktail hairdos (remember) has been dusted off and re-applied.

★ ★ ★

We heartily approve these decisions, and hope they will be widely emulated wherever the sheep-dog colf makes its appearance during the school term just beginning. Some objections have been raised in each instance, ranging from charges of fogeyism to suggestions of infringement on individual freedom.

★ ★ ★

This latter charge, raised in the Virginia case, is interesting. Does the right to look a mess transcend the right not to have one's sensitivities jolted by looking at the mess? We think not. A dilapidated-looking, weed-infested home can be nailed as a public nuisance; are dilapidated-looking, weed-infested top-knots essentially different in their affront to the public taste

And while we're on such subjects, what about the assault upon another sense organ — the ear — by (we will bet a hat) some of these same Beatle-types who, having conned their father out of second-hand motorcycles, go roaring about the suburbs at all hours shattering the nocturnal calm? Does the right to make noise like quad-mounted Oerlichon machine guns supersede the right to a fair night's sleep? Tolerance, we think, has gone a mite too far.

★ ★ ★

The path blazed in Hinsdale and Fairfax County should be widened and thronged by authorities alert to the rights of All The Rest of Us.

Rumored!

New York Daily News

Dopester and "informed sources" stories are flying around again, about how President Johnson is trying to end the Viet Nam war without victory for our side.

★ ★ ★

The President is rumored making peace advances to Hanoi, capital of Red North Viet Nam, through unnamed third parties. Hanoi is rumored still coy, but not so coy as it was a month or six weeks ago. And so on and so forth. We hope these stories are untrue — the more wishful thinking and thumb-sucking of "liberals" who invariably oppose any free-world victories over communism.

★ ★ ★

The report that Egyptian dictator G. A. Nasser has a Viet peace plan is true, apparently — a plan hatched by Nasser, Indian Prime Minister Shastri, and Yugoslav dictator Tito. Those names are sufficient to justify a firm U.S. thumbsdown — especially since Nasser has just shrunk some more by losing his war in Yemen.

★

As for a possible Johnson no-win policy in the Viet conflict, the President must know — unless he has been brainwashed by his "liberal" friends — that a U.S. Viet backdown would only encourage North Viet Nam and its Red China puppet-master to gobble up all Southeast Asia. That would be a disaster for the free world.

Lack of N. Viet Targets to Slow Raids?

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Reports circulating in diplomatic circles in London say U.S. air raids on Communist North Viet Nam can be expected to be slowed down in coming weeks simply because there is not much of military importance left to bomb, aside from Hanoi itself.

The Viet Cong too has suffered more heavily lately than the Communists are prepared to admit, and there are growing indications the back of the Viet Cong may be broken within a year or 18 months.

But the diplomats say Hanoi appears no more willing than ever to negotiate and that peace talks likely to be initiated by the United Nations General Assembly stand little chance of success.

PROPAGANDA BENEFITS: Indications in Europe are that the Soviet Union has benefited enormously from Premier Alexei Kosygin's offer to mediate in the Pakistan-Indian war and his suggestion for a summit meeting between Prime Minister Lal Bahdur Shastri and President Mohammad Ayub Khan on Soviet soil.

Diplomats believed the appeal was aimed largely at winning Afro-Asian support for Russia in its quarrel with Red China.

But it also helped on the home front. Most East bloc nations praised Russia and the United Nations and scored Peking for making inflammatory moves against India.

NUCLEAR ARMING: The Soviet Union has gone all-out recently in condemning what it calls West German efforts to gain control of nuclear weapons and has warned that the Warsaw pact nations will take "appropriate measures" if West Germany gets them.

★ ★ ★

Diplomats in Moscow say they doubt seriously the Russian opposition will lead to Russia's handing over nuclear weapons to members of the Warsaw Pact, however.

KIM COMEBACK: Kim Chong Pil, the controversial general who was South Korean President Park Chung Hee's right-hand man apparently is about to regain his No. 2 position there.

Kim went abroad last year when student demonstrations led to imposition of martial law but has returned to Seoul.

Since then he has been talking with leaders of every walk of life and seems to have appeased much of the antagonism of his erstwhile political foes within the ruling party.

CUSHY JOBS: Paris dispatches say more French ministers are already looking around for cushy jobs should they fall by the wayside in any government shakeup after the Dec. 5 presidential elections.

President Charles de Gaulle has not yet indicated whether he will seek another term.

Some members of the government believe he may step down and name Premier Georges Pompidou as his standard bearer. If he does that some of the ministers will be out of work.

Second Case Links Mumps, Heart Ailment

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A 17-year-old boy died of congestive heart failure eight months after he had mumps, scientists of the U.S. Public Health Service have reported here.

The rare medical case is the second in which the mumps virus was a factor in causing the heart ailment.

The boy had had no previous record of mumps or exposure to mumps, nor had he ever had rheumatic fever or scarlet fever that might have contributed to his heart failure.

Dr. William C. Roberts, chief of the pathology laboratory of the National Heart Institute's surgery branch, and Dr. Samuel M. Fox III, chief of the heart disease control program of the rare case in the September issue of the journal Circulation.

The patient represented the second instance in which pathological findings, and the first instance in which blood flow studies have been reported in a person with "mumps heart disease."

IN GOOD HEALTH

The boy was in good health until he was seized with pain in the left side of his neck.

The next day the entire left side of his neck was swollen and he was put to bed. Four days later he was admitted to a local hospital where he developed abdominal pain.

Heart enlargement and frequent premature ventricular contractions were noted, but a presumptive diagnosis of mumps only was made.

Mormons Shun Draft Dodgers

Act to Prevent Influx in Missionary Field

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Mormon Church has taken steps to make sure its already carefully screened missionary force won't be joined by young men who want to dodge the draft.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is noted for putting the cream of its young manhood into the missionary field.

They serve all over the world, pay their own expenses, and look forward to the job throughout adolescence.

When they become 19 years old they are eligible to accept a call, which they consider a divinely instituted privilege and duty.

BIG TURNOVER

The church has about 12,000 missionaries in the field, most of them around the draft age of 19-25. They usually serve from 24 to 30 months, so the turnover is about 5,000 to 6,000 a year.

These young men usually go to college or into the armed forces after their mission is served.

★ ★ ★

Last week the church's top hierarchal body, the First Presidency, announced new restrictions limiting a branch or ward (parish) to one missionary every six months.

The restrictions were adopted at the request of the Selective Service System.

President Hugh B. Brown, first counselor to church President David O. McKay, said in an interview the church was reverting to a program similar to that employed during the Korean War.

"Our missionary force," he said· "will definitely be reduced, but only time will tell how much."

The director of Selective Service in Utah, Col. Evan P. Clay, told a newsman the church was adopting "a controlled program which would enable a most sincere and worthy young man to fulfill his religious desires."

"But it will eliminate," Clay said, "the individual who attempts to use a mission as a shield from military service."

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Mayor Verl G. Dixon of Provo, 40 miles south of Salt Lake City, and a former ward bishop, said he thought the restrictions were adopted "to head off a large increase of applications for missionary service to avoid the draft."

However Utah County Commissioner G. Marion Hinckley, who also is president of a stake (diocese), said, "The missionary system is absolutely not used as a draft dodge. The church would screen out those who tried that."

The Mormon Church is primarily a laymen's organization. Most of the officers, except a few at the top, carry out their church duties in their free time — and without pay.

But when a young man goes on a mission it is a full-time affair and he is considered an ordained member of the clergy and hence entitled to draft deferment.

U.S.-Canadian Auto Pact May Spark Senate Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A little-noticed agreement with Canada, signed by President Johnson last January, appeared today to be headed for a bitter fight in the Senate.

The battle involves legislation to carry out the agreement, which provides for elimination of all tariffs on shipments of new cars and new car parts between the United States and Canada. It does not apply to shipments of replacement parts.

Canadian officials already have put it into effect in anticipation of U.S. approval. Up until a few weeks ago the Johnson administration had not anticipated any opposition.

But now Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., is leading a fight against the legislation.

There has been speculation that Gore might bring on a filibuster by attaching the auto parts bill to the controversial measure to repeal the "right to work" authorization of the Taft-Hartley act.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., a sworn enemy of the right to work repealer, has vowed to filibuster against its passage. The auto parts measure would then be caught in the middle.

What do Gore and his backers object to in the agreement?

Not the agreement itself as much as private pacts negotiated by the Canadian government with the big auto producers.

These pacts require that 60 per cent of the parts of cars sold in Canada be made in the dominion. They also require that the manufacturers invest $241 million in new plants and equipment in Canada by the end of the 1968 model year.

★ ★ ★

Will the agreement have any effect on auto prices in either country?

Probably not. Canadian automotive output is too small in comparison with U.S. production to have much effect on the American market, and the required investment in new plants and equipment will use up the tariff savings Canadian firms obtain on parts imported from this country.

Some Canadian firms already have announced that the price of new cars will go up although Canada removed the tariff on U.S.-made parts right after the agreement was reached nine months ago.

Is there any substance to Gore's fears that American workers will lose their jobs as a result of the agreement?

Government officials agree there will be "some dislocation" in the U.S. automotive replacement parts industry. But they do not believe it will be as extensive as Gore fears. They note that the bill provides for federal adjustment aid to anyone adversely affected by the pact.

Pope Visits With Gypsies

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul's celebration Sunday of his 68th birthday amid wandering Gypsies was seen today as another reflection of the Roman Catholic Church's desire to be open to the world, the topic the Vatican Ecumenical Council was debating today.

★ ★ ★

The 2,200 bishops went into the third week of the council's fourth and final session after another unprecedented day in the life of Pope Paul VI.

★ ★ ★

The pontiff drove 25 miles south of Rome to Pomezia to say Mass for 3,000 Gypsies from various parts of Europe, encamped in caravan trailers and tents on a broad field that downpours turned into a quagmire. He clapped time with them as they entertained him with lively Gypsy ballads.

CLAIMS U.S. PLOT—Li Tsung-jen, 74, former vice president of Nationalist China who defected to Red China earlier this year, told newsmen in Peking yesterday of an alleged U.S. plot to overthrow Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek. Tsung-jen claims in 955 the U.S. asked him to overthrow Chiang Kai-shek, but he rejected the proposal.

Klan Seeks Members

By United Press International

The Ku Klux Klan plans to step up membership drives in five states this fall, with rallies in Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

The program was announced yesterday by Ohio Kleagle Parkie Scott during a rally at Covington, Ky.

Michigan would also be under consideration as a site for Klan activity, Scott said, but plans for that state are indefinite at present.

"We would rather hold a rally next in Virginia," Scott said. "We have a very definite reason for it. It is very necessary in Virginia."

Scott, a member of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said that "Ohio now is the best state for Klan purposes north of the Mason-Dixon line" and added that Cleveland is the best city.

300 AT RALLY

Police estimated the crowd attending the rally at Covington Saturday night at 300. Only a handful turned out for another meeting yesterday afternoon.

A Cincinnati television photographer, John Schaffer, swore out warrants for the arrests of two men on charges of assulting him during the Saturday night rally. Schaffer accused the pair of punching him in the stomach during a scuffle.

Other developments:

NATCHEZ, Miss. — A civil rights spokesman has vowed that Negroes will continue demonstrations here until city officials meet demands, including a public denouncement of the Ku Klux Klan. About 700 Negroes staged a march Saturday, the fifth in recent weeks.

Nashville, Tenn. — Mrs. Ruby Hurley, a regional director for the National Associaton for the Advancement of Colored People, said yesterday there are "too many showcase Negroes in this country." She was referring to the recent appointment of three Negroes to the Tenessee Highway Patrol.

St. Petersburg, Fla. — The Florida secretary of state yesterday told a Negro voters organization that Negroes will have to make individual efforts to assume responsibilities of citizenship. He said government can provide freedom but "the world owes no man a living."

Prisoners Celebrate During Stay in Jail

HOUSTON, Miss (AP) — Eight Chickasaw county prisoners held a party in jail here when they broke into a cell and got contraband booze that Sheriff Arnold Simpson had stored there.

Using a broom to pry open the door, they pulled out a case of gin. Charges of petty larceny were added to the original charges for which they were jailed.

WELCOMED FROM EXILE — Ex-President Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic is embraced by an admirer in Santo Domingo yesterday while rebel chief Col. Francisco Caamano Deno stands at right. Bosch returned to the troubled island nation Saturday after spending two years in exile.

Dominican Scene Facing New Crisis?

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — A serious deterioration in the internal political situation confronted the Dominican Republic's fledgling provisional government today.

The gravity of the crisis was underlined by the sudden return Sunday night of U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, the top troubleshooter in the Dominican crisis for the Organization of American States.

★ ★ ★

The presence of the 10,000-man inter-American peace force was believed to rule out any chance of large-scale violence.

The Dominican armed forces and the national university were understood to be the principal problem areas for the three week-old regime headed by Dr. Hector Garcia-Godoy.

TENSE CLIMATE

The return Saturday of deposed ex-President Juan Bosch was considered an aggravating factor in the tense political climate. On his arrival, Bosch exhorted the Dominicans to forceful action, including strikes, to force foreign troops out of the country.

President Garcia-Godoy was expected to address the nation tonight. There were persistent rumors that he planned to announce the appointment of a new armed forces minister to replace Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of the armed forces consider the president's attitude toward the progress of demilitarization in the rebel sector to be too soft. Rivera Caminero recently labeled rebel efforts to disarm their civilian sympathizers a "sham."

★ ★ ★

The rebels want Rivera Caminero and the three chiefs of staff removed for bombing and shelling the city at the height of the April revolt.

Relations between the president and his military chiefs are believed to have chilled more after a delegation of officers, led by Rivera Caminero, called on the president at 3 a.m. Saturday to suggest he postpone Bosch's return until the situation in Santo Domingo improved. The president refused.

The president also was reported looking into the unscheduled appearance in the security forces for Bosch's arrival of troops belonging to the armed forces training center formerly commanded by ousted Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin. These units reportedly were not included in the security arrangements, and eyewitnesses said they were involved in most of the shooting incidents during Bosch's return.

1 More Congressman Added to the Family

LEESBURG, Fla., (AP) — Rep. A. Sydney Herlong, D-Fla., today has a son-in-law who also is a congressman.

Herlong's daughter, Sydney, became the bride Saturday of Rep. Jed Johnson Jr., D-Okla., in a ceremony at Morrison Memorial Methodist church.

Independent Clan Happy in the Hills

LANDAFF, N.H. (AP) — Nate Kidder, 81, a man with no taste for a world he calls "the precinct," has founded his own kingdom with more than 20 descendants on the summit of a small mountain.

Kidder heads a nearly self-sufficient clan the size of a small town, at the 2,500-foot elevation on 285 acres of timberland in the Cooley Hills of northern New Hampshire.

The population includes Kidder's wife, nine children, more grandchildren than he keeps track of and cows, pigs and goats.

The patriarch, born in Vermont of Indian and Yankee stock, says he hasn't taken a trip since he went to Bellows Falls, Vt., about 60 miles away, years ago.

"Out here, we have it our own way," Kidder says. "It's quiet. We can do what we want, raise what we want and keep what we want."

THE PRECINCT

Kidder refers to the world below as "the precinct" — the nearest town is 10 miles away — and says, "You have to do what they tell you there and I'd hate that."

The Kidders raise their own food and do without doctors, dentists, butchers, carpenters and even undertakers.

Nate and his wife live in a large tarpaper-covered house. Other family members live in small wood structures with tins roofs that they built themselves.

★ ★ ★

The Kidders do make infrequent trips to town for clothing and other supplies. They sell some of their timber when they need money.

SIMPLE LIFE

Life is simple in the colony. "The Kidder women are not raised to dote on foolish finery," its founder said.

Kidder's mother died in the Landaff Hills. He bought his first 60 acres when a mill burned and the owner sold out.

Two of Kidder's sons served in the armed services during World War II but chose afterwards to return to the hills.

Visitors are few to Kidder's kingdom. The narrow brush and rock-covered road that winds up the mountain is impassable by car most of the way.

"The "precinct" below is growing, however.

A new road is planned that will pass Kidder's property on one side of the mountain, and land recently sold on the opposite side may be subdivided into building lots.

Rap LBJ Selection for U.S. Judgeship

BOSTON (AP) — Bar association leaders expressed displeasure today at President Johnson's announcement that he will nominate Francis X. Morrissey, an old friend of the Kennedy family, to a federal judgeship.

The Massachusetts Bar Association and the Federal Judiciary Committee of the American Bar Association have opposed Morrissey's appointment in the past because they said he was unqualified for the post.

★ ★ ★

Officials of both groups appear ready now to speak against Morrissey's confirmation by the Senate.

President Johnson announced Sunday from Johnson City, Tex., that he would nominate Morrissey, a Boston municipal judge for the past seven years, for a life-time U.S. district judgeship in Massachusetts.

OPPOSED BEFORE

Walter H. McLaughlin, president of the Massachusetts bar, said that organization had opposed Morrissey's appointment in 1961 and 1963 when word spread of an impending nomination by the late President John F. Kennedy.

"I would have a pretty good idea the position they have twice taken after full debate would be affirmed," he said.

Morrissey, 55, was executive secretary to Kennedy when Kennedy served in Congress. He was once an aide to former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's father.

★ ★ ★

When Edward M. Kennedy began his campaign in 1962 for election to the U.S. Senate from Massachusetts, Morrissey escorted him around the state and helped with the campaign. Sen. Kennedy submitted Morrissey's name to President Johnson.

McLaughlin said he will call a special meeting of the Massachusetts bar if the nomination goes to a Senate hearing before the next scheduled meeting Oct. 13.

INVESTIGATIONS

Albert E. Jenner, chairman of the ABA's Federal Judiciary Committee, said its investigations found Morrissey a "man of character and integrity."

The committee, however, concluded that Morrissey was unqualified for the federal bench, Jenner said.

★ ★ ★

"Judge Morrissey has no experience in the trial of cases. As a judge in Boston Municipal Court, he has presided over misdemeanor cases and minor civil litigation. He has had no experience in felony cases nor any equity jurisdiction. He has never presided over a jury," Jenner said in Chicago in a telephone interview.

He said Morrissey twice had failed the Massachusetts bar examination and would serve on the federal bench "so far as we can tell, with little aptitude."

NO COMMENT

Assistant press secretary Joseph Laitin said the White House had no comment on the critical reaction to Morrissey's selection.

Morrissey said: "I am very grateful to President Johnson for this demonstration of his confidence in me. I shall do everything in my power to prove worthy of the President's trust."

He was appointed to the Boston municipal judgeship in 1958 by former Gov. Foster Furcolo.

Fire Kills Five in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A mother and four of her children burned to death today when fire swept a two-story row house in densely populated North Philadelphia. Four other children escaped the flames.

Neighbors said they were roused by screams and shrieks from those trapped inside the house.

Authorities said tht victims were Mrs. Lucille Miller, 53, and her children Rupert, 12, Byron, 14, Wallace 10, Raymond 6 and Anthony 9.

A neighbor, Mrs. Margaret E. Coleman, said she heard Mrs. Miller crying, "Oh my God, my house is on fire help me! Please help me!"

The five other children leaped or were thrown to safety.

D.C. Home Rule Issue Close to Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revised bill to give District of Columbia residents self-government reaches the House floor today. Its backers confidently predict victory.

"We've got a minimum of 235 votes," said Rep. Abraham J. Multer, D-N.Y., a leader of a bipartisan group pushing for its passage. A majority of the House is 218.

★ ★ ★

Multer said there might be a filibuster by diehard opponents of the bill which would give Washington, with its heavily Negro population, the right to elect its own officials for the first time since 1874.

He said if this happens — it is done in the House by members demanding strict following of all rules and by repeated quorum calls — it may be Wednesday or Thursday before a final vote comes. "We'll just sit and twiddle our thumbs until it's over," Multer said.

In order that Jewish members of the House could be present for any votes during the Rosh Hashanah holidays today and Tuesday, an unprecedented Jewish religious service was arranged for the Capitol prayer room near the House chamber.

Backed up behind the home rule bill is a heavy schedule for the House this week.

A $2-billion pay raise bill for all federal workers is next on the schedule, with the complicated sugar bill and the highway beautification bill after that.

The Senate is taking the day off today. Tuesday, it takes up a bill to eliminate tariffs on new cars and auto parts between the United States and Canada. This may take all week, but if there is time, Senate leaders said they may bring up the controversial bill calling for repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

SHOP CONTRACTS

This section allows states to outlaw union shop contracts. Employers covered by such contracts must join a union within 30 days to hold a job. Nineteen states have such "right to work" laws. The union shop repealer has stirred considerable controversy, and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has threatened a filibuster to block it.

Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long said Sunday there are sufficient votes — about 55 — to pass the measure. But he said he doubted a filibuster could be shut off. A two-thirds majority of the 100-member chamber is necessary for that.

★ ★ ★

Long, in a taped interview for a New Orleans radio and television station, urged, however, that an attempt be made to get a vote.

"If we can't act on it this year," he said, "well, we can take a look at it again next year."

Vote Tomorrow on Trailer Park

ROSE TOWNSHIP — Property owners here tomorrow will determine the fate of the township's second mobile home park.

Enough of them were interested in the question to have it placed on a referendum ballot.

Some 209 property owners signed referendum petitions after the Township Board rezoned property in April to allow expansion of the mobile home district.

Supervisor C. Milton Nelson noted that the action was taken before he began serving in office.

* * *

Nelson, Clerk Mildred J. Jones and Treasurer Esther R. Downing have been opposed to the rezoning, while trustees Allan Hill and James J. Alexander have favored it.

CHANGE CLASSIFICATION

The rezoning changed about 40 acres of property at the end of Cogshall from industrial to mobile home classification.

It allowed the development of Bloch Brothers Mobile Home Sites No. 2, adjacent to the township's first mobile home park established by the same firm.

About half of the 100 lots in Bloch Brothers Mobile Homes Sites No. 1 have house trailers, Nelson said.

The property owned by the Waterford Township firm is just south of the Holly village limits.

VOTERS TO DECIDE

A majority of affirmative votes tomorrow would lend popular backing to the rezoning approved by the former Township Board.

However, the rezoning could be canceled by a majority of negative votes.

Nelson said the rezoning is being opposed because citizens "want to keep the township residential" and feel that the provision for one mobile home park is enough.

* * *

"The township gets very little in taxation" he said, noting that a 1-mill tax last year brought the unit $78 from the first mobile home development.

685 REGISTERED

While not having a specific figure on the number of persons eligible to vote tomorrow, Mrs. Jones said there are 685 registered voters in the township and that most of them own property here.

Polling will be conducted from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Township Hall.

LOST AND FOUND — Baby, the pet of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson of 255 Granger, Brandon Township, crows about his unauthorized trip to Pontiac while he gets a tasty tidbit from Mrs. Anderson and a stern lecture from two-year-old Amy Jane.

Car Is Found With Body of Avon Twp. Man

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—The body of a 26-year-old Avon Township man who had been missing since Tuesday was found yesterday in his smashed car in Romona Park on Auburn and West Utica roads.

Police said the car, containing the body of Fernando Dominquez, 1441 Hamlin, was found in a ravine yesterday by the park caretaker.

* * *

The body was taken to Berry Hospital in Mount Clemens where doctors set Tuesday as the date of death.

Police said Dominquez' car apparently crossed West Utica Road, "shot" into the park and down the ravine. They said the car was hidden from the road but could give no reason why it was not discovered earlier.

Parents' Class Opens Tonight

5-Week Program Set in White Lake Twp.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A five-week program aimed at helping parents to better understand their youngsters will begin tonight at St. Patrick Parish Hall, Hutchins at Union Lake road.

The free adult education program is open to all parents from the St. Patrick, St. Perpetua, St. Mary, St. Rita, St. William and Our Lady of Refuge parishes.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Gladys Westlake, St. Patrick Elementary School guidance director, the program is scheduled for 8 p.m. on consecutive Mondays.

Speaker tonight will be Mary Wills, children's case worker for Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, who will discuss "Helping Your Child to Grow Up."

* * *

Dr. Lawrence Gold, director of Oakland Schools' reading clinic, will talk about "The Role of the Parents for Successful Reading" Oct. 4.

"Family Relationships and How They Influence Your Child's Behavior" will be the Oct. 11 topic of Bernard Pointowski of Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

F. R. Wollaeger, program director of the North Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, will deal with "Growth and Mental Health" Oct. 18.

For the Oct. 25 program, Mrs. Westlake will speak on "How You Can Influence Your Child's Life" and show a movie entitled "Preface to a Life."

In-Laws' Crash Leaves 1 Dead

LAPEER — A 25-year-old Lapeer man was killed Saturday when the car he was driving collided with another driven by his brother-in-law.

The accident occurred at 1:04 p.m. on Stanley Road off Marathon Road, about five miles north of Lapeer.

Dead is Bruce A. Powers, 25, of 256 W. Genesee. His brother-in-law, Melvin Major, 19, of 2961 Flint River is in fair condition at Lapeer County General.

Police, who are still investigating the accident, said Powers apparently crossed the center of the road striking the other car.

* * *

There were no witnesses and police say they have not been able to talk to Major.

It Was a 'Fowl' Night

Crow Has 'Caws' to Complain

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — What does a pet crow do when he's locked out of his happy home on a rainy night?

He seeks whatever shelter is available, that's what.

But keeping his tail feathers dry last Wednesday night led Baby, the pet of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson of 255 Granger, on an adventure worth crowing about.

Anderson, an employe of The Pontiac Press, received an urgent phone call Thursday morning from his wife, who reported that Baby was missing from his usual perch in the garage.

* * *

"Keep looking," advised Anderson. "He'll turn up somewhere."

But after a careful search by Mrs. Anderson and her three daughters, Baby was still listed as missing.

Anderson had to work overtime that day, so a fellow employe who had hitched a ride to work Thursday morning drove his car back to Ortonville.

About 6 o'clock Mrs. Anderson loaded up the children and drove into Pontiac to pick up her husband.

* * *

As the family approached the Press parking lot on Pine Street, one of the girls cried, "There's Baby!"

THERE SAT BABY

Mrs. Anderson brought the car to a screeching halt and, sure enough, there sat Baby on the front lawn of a house adjacent to the parking lot.

A tenant in the house said the crow had spent most of the day walking back and forth between the Press parking lot and the front lawn.

Baby listed several "cawses" for dissatisfaction when Mrs. Anderson picked him up.

* * *

ON UNDERCARRIAGE

Apparently the crow, which the Andersons obtained as a fluffy fledgling last summer, perched somewhere on the undercarriage of Anderson's car to get out of the rain.

He clung to his precarious perch all the way to Pontiac, but was apparently afraid to wander too far from the car after he got here.

Not being very good with his wings, he was lucky he didn't end up in the jaws of a dog or cat.

* * *

And rest assured that in the future the Andersons will see to it that Baby isn't locked out at night, rainy or otherwise.

Church Members to Air Expansion in Union Lake

UNION LAKE — Members of the Mandon Lake Community Church will meet Wednesday night to discuss proposed expansion of their church.

They will vote on a recommendation of the church board regarding the first unit of a multipurpose building to be constructed in the spring.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the church, 915 Round Lake.

The congregation recently welcomed Paul Hiestand as a new missionary intern.

In Walled Lake District

First Citizens' Unit Talks on School Set

WALLED LAKE — The citizens advisory committee for Walled Lake School District's new high school will hold its first meeting Wednesday night.

* * *

The session is scheduled for 8 p.m. at Walled Lake High School.

The 32-member committee is responsible for developing the philosophy and educational objectives around which the new school will be designed.

Construction of the unit is scheduled to begin in May 1967.

* * *

The existing high school on South Commerce, built in 1953 to accommodate 1,500 students, now is housing close to 1,750.

TWO CITIZENS

Members of the planning committee for the new facility include two citizens from each of the eight elementary enrollment areas, six appointed by the senior high PTA, two appointed by each of the junior high PTAs two board of education members, two school administrators and two faculty members for each departmental study committee.

Chairman is Rolland J. Langerman, assistant schools superintendent.

He emphasized that any interested citizen in the district can participate in the planning project.

* * *

Langerman said the group will review the latest trends in educational theory and practice.

NEW IDEAS

"We will study these new ideas and then decide what is best for Walled Lake," he said. "I think some of the biggest changes that will result will be in the area of vocational education."

* * *

The committee is to make its recommendations to the school board by June 1, 1966.

1st Official Weekend of Fall

State Traffic Claims at Least 17 Lives

By The Associated Press

At least 17 persons died in Michigan traffic accidents during the first official weekend of fall—including an elderly Fremont couple killed in a two-vehicle crash Sunday.

* * *

The Associated Press weekend traffic death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims:

Frank Rinsmith, 76, and his wife, Jennie, 74, of Fremont were killed Sunday when their car turned into the path of an oncoming vehicle at the intersection of M82 and Wilkie Road near Fremont.

David Parker, 63, of Detroit was killed Sunday when his car turned into the path of oncoming traffic on U.S. 23 near Ypsilanti.

Falcons Used to Clear Birds From Runway

By Science Service

LOSSIEMOUTH, Scotland — The British Fleet Air Arm the flying section of the Navy, has discovered a way in which to rid the runways of the Royal Naval Air Station here, in the north of Scotland, of the flocks of seagulls which provide hazards to the Navy's jets.

It uses a team of four falcons, the medieval hunting birds, to do the job.

Damage up to about $50,000 a month has been caused at the base in collision with gulls, which can break a bulletproof canopy or get sucked into a jet intake.

Because Lossiemouth is the base for the Navy's newest and fastest jet fighter — the Buccaneer — it has been selected for this bird-versus-bird battle.

Four peregrine falcons are now "on the staff."

To provide mobility, a hooded falcon is taken by Land Rover out onto the airfield. The vehicle is controlled by radio for direction to a part of the runways where gulls are congregating. Then the falcon is released.

After dispersing the "enemy," the pursuit-bird is easily traced by the sound of a bell attached to one of its legs.

The falcons cannot be used in very high wind, fog or falling snow, but the gulls don't want to fly then either and the sound of a land-based vehicle is sufficient to drive them away from the runways.

Youth Portrayed Among Dead

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The faces of the dead Viet Cong often seem young—very young.

Uninitiated observers in the Mekong Delta area might be tempted to draw sweeping conclusions: The Viet Cong are running low on manpower—losses have hurt them severely. They are using more women for toting rifles and hurling grenades.

★ ★ ★

But people familiar with the background know better than to draw conclusions.

Yes, the Viet Cong have been hurt. But a Viet Cong guerrilla often begins carrying a rifle at 14 or 15. By 17, he is a seasoned fighter. He works his way up—from courier to spy to guerrilla fighter, to company commander and then, perhaps, into a crack fighting battalion.

CHERISH PHOTOS

Pictures found in battle areas—photos that are evidently cherished mementos of fallen young Viet Cong fighters—seem to tell a story. But the reason meaning is never clear.

One sees new uniforms—now more and more standardized with black shirts and khaki trousers. But this does not necessarily mean total standardization any more than it means conventional warfare.

★ ★ ★

One sees in pictures taken from bodies the evidences of discipline: The Viet Cong undergoing rigorous calisthenics between battles. Mementos are decorated often with handwritten slogans of battle.

One soldier carried in his wallet, encased in a plastic folder, a picture of himself on the day he first donned the uniform of the U Minh battalion, the most famous of all Viet Cong battalions.

CONG STRONGHOLD

Its stronghold is the U Minh forest, a strip of the west coast of the Ca Mau peninsula, 40 miles deep and 60 miles long, which is totally controlled by the Viet Cong. The terrain makes it virtually impregnable to anything but air attack. South Viet Nam troops have not penetrated it.

Sometimes the pictures are romantic—a snapshot of a face within a heart-shaped cutout. But almost always the slogans are there, too:

"We are worker-fighters."

"We will always be valiant."

"We will protect our heroism."

★ ★ ★

There is evidence that the Viet Cong's defection rate has risen in the first nine months of this year in the Delta area. Some leave because of too much discipline. Some defect because young cadres from the North—"the returnees," they call them because they are South Vietnamese who stayed North after partition—come in with their northern indoctrination and their toughness and take over, pushing veterans aside. Some defect because they find themselves alone because their units have been wiped out. Some defect because of fatigue or hunger.

Few experts doubt that the rate of recruitment is higher than the rate of defection. And indications are that the training and experience of the Delta Viet Cong have made them able to adapt themselves rapidly to the tactics of the other side. They are as hard as ever to find, smoke out and kill.

U.S. advisers in the Delta think the South Vietnamese and the Americans hold the initiative now, however.

★ ★ ★

"They are adapting to our tactics. Therefore, they are on the defensive now," says a U.S. colonel. "But we can't rest there. What we know, they are bound to know. To keep the initiative in our hands, we must keep them reacting. That is, we must hit them all the time with something new."

Korean Protests Pact, Attempts to Kill Self

SEOUL (UPI) — A South Korean college student tried to commit hara-kiri today in front of the National Assembly as a protest against the treaty normalizing diplomatic relations with Japan.

The youth, identified as Lee Too-Haeng, 21, wrapped himself in a South Korean flag, then attempted to plunge a knife into his stomach. Policemen standing guard disarmed Lee and took him to the station house.

Thieves Force Way Into Romulus Home

ROMULUS (AP)—Two armed men forced their way into a home Saturday night, ordered persons into the basement and escaped with $1,600.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rose Wojcik told police the thieves forced her and an aunt, Mrs. Agnes Kulinski, 79, and Michael Hodniak, a neighbor, into the basement and ransacked the house.

MADALYN MURRAY

Deported Atheist Is Freed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Atheist Madalyn Murray, whose lawsuit led to a Supreme Court ban on organized prayer in the nation's public schools, was free in $500 bond today, the result of a habeas corpus writ filed by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Mrs. Murray was arrested here Saturday night following her deportation from Mexico.

Police made the arrest on the basis of Baltimore, Md., warrants charging her with assault and battery stemming from a scuffle with police.

Following her release from jail yesterday, Mrs. Murray and her 10-year-old son Garth went temporarily to the home of a Unitarian minister, the Rev. William De Wolfe, local chapter president of the ACLU.

★ ★ ★

The plump, 46-year-old divorcee vowed to fight extradition to Baltimore.

RENT APARTMENT

De Wolfe said he had never met Mrs. Murray until she was released from jail yesterday. He said she plans to rent an apartment pending her Oct. 8 hearing on the writ.

Asked why he took in Mrs. Murray, called by some "the most hated woman in America," De Wolfe said "because I have a profound interest . . . I believe there are real legal questions in her situation that really deal with civil liberties."

He did not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

After her arrest, Mrs. Murray refused to be fingerprinted or photographed by jailers. She gave in yesterday at the request of her attorney, Maury Maverick Jr., who has been prominent in Texas cases involving individual rights.

TO FIGHT RETURN

She said, however, that she would fight being taken back to Maryland, "for the next two years if I have to."

De Wolfe said Mrs. Murray has not attempted to telephone her older son Bill, 19, in Baltimore. He also faces charges in connection with the police scuffle.

Nor has she talked to her fiance, Richard O'Hare, a painter living in Mexico, whom she planned to wed next month.

★ ★ ★

Before being deported from Mexico, Mrs. Murray had told UPI reporter Terrance W. McGarry that she had been "framed" on the assault charge in Baltimore and that private and governmental antagonism toward her because of the controversial Supreme Court decision had driven her out of the United States.

"I can't understand it," she said. "They should be pinning medals on me instead of hounding me out of my own country."

'JFK to Be Recalled for Giving U.S. Impetus'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., believes President John F. Kennedy will be remembered by future generations most for giving "our country new impetus."

The junior senator from Massachusetts, in reply to a series of written questions, told the Associated Press that this was one of the late president's major contributions.

* * *

"He was able to dramatize the nation's needs to its people and was able to involve young people in the problems of public service, as well as giving the underprivileged in our country a feeling that America was concerned with their needs."

SEN. EDWARD M. KENNEDY

Concerning President Johnson's success with Congress, Kennedy said:

"Many of the programs, such as medicare and aid to education, which President Kennedy first proposed, had gone through the necessary phase of public acceptance and were thus ripe for passage in the last year and a half. But in addition, President Johnson works extremely hard at his relation with Congress. He knows Congress intimately, and the legislative branch has the highest regard for him."

QUESTIONS, ANSWERS

The senator expressed himself in the following series of questions and answers:

Q. Do you subscribe to the so-called 'domino effect' theory about South Viet Nam — that if Viet Nam were lost we'd lose all allied nations in Southeast Asia like toppled dominoes?

A. I do not think the effect would be so quick or immediate but I do believe that if we abandon our commitment in South Viet Nam it would lessen the ability of nations like Thailand, Malaysia and the Philippines to stand up to the pressures of Communist China.

* * *

Q. In view of your accident, have you developed qualms about flying?

A. I have flown a good deal since returning to the Senate. I have no fear of flying.

FUTURE AMBITION

Q. Do you have any further ambitions beyond the Senate, such as a Cabinet position or other high office?

A. My ambition is to be as good a senator as possible; to serve the people of my state, and to serve the national interest as well. The Senate is an extremely important part of our government. Anyone who makes a career there has an opportunity to make a significant contribution.

* * *

Q. How would you explain President Johnson's phenomenal success with the Congress? Was the time ripe for the legislation he proposed or does he seem to have some mystical sway with the Congress?

A. Both statements are true. Many of the programs, such as medicare and aid to education, which President Kennedy first proposed, had gone through the necessary phase of public acceptance and were thus ripe for passage in the last year and a half. But in addition, President Johnson works extremely hard at his relation with Congress. He knows Congress intimately, and the legislative branch has the highest regard for him.

Congress is also much more Democratic under President Johnson than it was under President Kennedy. We have to thank Barry Goldwater, in a sense, because his candidacy produced the large Democratic majorities that have made President Johnson's job easier.

RED ADVANCES

Q. What can we do to persuade the emerging nations that our system offers more than the Communist system? As you have pointed out, the Communists have made dramatic advances in most areas other than agriculture since 1917.

* * *

A. Any leader of an emerging nation who wishes to make a comparison, will find that the economic advances in America under the free enterprise system have been much greater than those under the Communist system. The distribution of the fruits of prosperity is also much wider. But in addition to economic progress, there is the question of individual freedom which is something that is important to every human being. Here our system is vastly superior.

* * *

Q. How's your personal health now, sir?

A. I feel fine. I still use a cane sometimes, and I cannot engage in some of the more strenuous sports that I like, but I am sure that this will change with time.

JFK CONTRIBUTIONS

Q. Of President Kennedy's contributions to this nation's history many feel that he will be remembered generations hence most for the Peace Corps. Others feel that it will be for his courage in the Cuban encounter. If you had to single out a contribution by his administration, what would it be?

A. One of the major contributions was that President Kennedy gave our country a new impetus. He was able to dramatize the nation's needs to its people and was able to involve young people in the problems of public service, as well as giving the underprivileged in our country a feeling that America was concerned with their needs.

Q. It has been said that a man must have wealth — personal or family — in order to run successfully for president; that a man of limited means, even though he may be highly qualified, cannot finance through contributions alone. Your comment?

A. This is very true, and I think the situation should be corrected by a system that will allow candidates to raise the large sums of money that are needed for campaigning through small contributions from people of modest means. A tax credit of 10 dollars or 20 dollars for political contributions is one way to do this. A $100 deduction from taxes is another way.

PRESS COVERAGE

Q. President Kennedy's relations with the press were good. How about you?

A. The coverage of my activities by the press so far has been eminently fair, and I have no complaints. I find in general, however, that the press when covering stories I have read sometimes tends to overemphasize the personal elements at the expense of giving its readers an understanding of the substantive issues involved. Issues may be less dramatic than personality but are more important to public understanding.

* * *

Q. The Alliance for Progress was a key proposal from the Kennedy administration. So far it seems to be an unqualified success. What can the United States do to more solidly weld North and South America?

* * *

A. Continue with the Alliance for Progress, especially those parts which help bring about social and economic forms. It is also important that whatever political actions we take in Latin America be done on a multilateral basis wherever possible. We should try to avoid the hasty, military action that breeds today's antagonists and tomorrow's Communists.

Q. Do you feel, as do many, that the entire Congress is too sluggish and needs streamlining?

A. I think the record of the present Congress shows that when the public mandate is clear and when there is vigorous leadership from the President, Congress as presently organized can perform effectively.

Detour Queen Mother

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI) — Queen Mother Elizabeth, holidaying with the rest of the royal family at nearby Balmoral, was forced to take a 13-mile detour yesterday when a two-ton beech tree toppled on the road she normally takes to attend morning services at Crathie Church in Pennsylvania Visit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Japanese Prince Mikasa visited the University of Pennsylvania last week and spent part of the day in a dentist's chair.

The prince lost a filling during a luncheon in his honor. He was taken to the university's dental school, where the filling was replaced.

Central cities must provide services during the daytime for a population 30 to 50 per cent greater than their residential population.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA GULLS

QUESTION: If some sea gulls live inland, what do they feed on?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In our picture we are looking at a remarkable scene. In the foreground is a field of fine wheat, planted by Mormon farmers in the old days of the West.

★ ★ ★

The grain is ripe; but a horde of large insects called Mormon crickets have desended on it and will destroy it unless something is done at once.

If the farmers pulled off the crickets one by one, the battle would be lost. They could not do this quickly enough. It was a desperate situation, for these wheat crops were vital to the pioneering Mormons.

Then something wonderful happened: great numbers of Franklin's gulls, a gull which lives inland, appeared and picked off the crickets, saving the crops.

★ ★ ★

In gratitude, the Mormons erected a monument to these gulls, which can be seen in Salt Lake City today.

Franklin's gull breeds in the inland marshes. It is a handsome bird with a black head and lives on a varied diet of insects, small fish and mollusks, berries and anything else edible it can find.

Other kinds of sea gulls often live inland, especially Herring Gulls, which find large fresh water lakes to their liking. However, most gulls prefer the sea shore, because they have such an appetite for sea food.

Short Circuit Blamed for Newaygo Firm Fire

NEWAYGO (AP) —A fire, apparently caused by an electrical short circuit, destroyed the Dawes Fermentation, Inc., plant early Sunday.

No one was injured. A company spokesman estimated damages in excess of $500,000.

The 1,200 sesimograph stations around the globe detect about half a million earthquakes during a year. About 100,000 can be felt or heard. About 1,000 cause damage.

U.S. to Order Supertransport

Jet to Have Room for 700 Passengers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is reported ready to announce this week a $2 billion order for the larges jet transport ever built.

The plane, known as the C5A, would make its first flight in 1969. It will be designed to carry 600 armed troops, compared with 150 for the biggest transport now in the U. S. air fleet, the C141. As a civilian jet it would carry 700 passengers.

Defense Department sources said the finishing touches are being put on the unique contract which will call for development and production of 58 of the sky monsters, plus spare parts and support of the fleet over a period of 10 years.

They expect the contract will be announced Wednesday or Thursday. Because of its importance, the announcement may come from the White House.

★ ★ ★

The probable cost is $2.2 billion, but, with three firms competing for the major portion of the order, officials hope for a lower figure.

3 COMPANIES

The firms are Lockheed, Boeing, and Douglas Aircraft companies. General Electric has already been selected to produce the engine, if and when the plane is built.

The transport, scheduled to weigh about 700,000 pounds, will be substantially larger then the giant Antonov-22 exhibited by the Russians at the Paris air show in June.

It will lift approximately 250,000 pounds, compared to a reported 160,000 for the Russian plane.

★ ★ ★

Despite the huge initial outlay, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes the long-term cost in ton miles of transport will be 30 to 40 per cent less than for the C141 — itself a flying freightcar.

HIGH PERFORMANCE

The plane will have 2,700 square feet of cargo space, in a shell 150 ft. long. It will lift the heaviest existing tank, take off loaded on 8,000-foot runways, and land in less than 4,000 feet.

The dollar cost is greater than the $1.5 billion price tag on the Air Force's proposed manned orbiting laboratory.

The price of the first 58 production models, enough to equip three squadrons, will exceed $1 billion — probably about $18 million each.

The unique "total package" contract has been devised to avoid situations in the past where the developer of a plane possessed all the know-how and was assured of getting the production contract but had made no production commitments.

Mailbag Covers Items From Headaches to Folklore

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

BOYLE

Seven out of 10 headaches are caused by nervous tension, and doctors say they hit three times as many women as they do men.

America's economic loss from traffic accidents last year came to $10 billion, according to the Insurance Information Institute. That amounts to more than $50 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Prosperity note: The average price of a new home today is $16,597. Nearly two out of three new homes have more than one bathroom.

The more education a woman has the more likely she is to be employed outside the home. Almost 54 per cent of those with college degrees hold jobs, compared to only 30 per cent among those with a grammar school education.

If you want to live to be 100, you'd better keep your weight down. Fat centenarians are rare.

Here's bad news for the enemy: A new battlefront radar system has been developed that is sensitive enough to detect a moving person nine miles away and a moving vehicle 22 miles distant.

Quotable notables: "I like snobs. A snob has to spend so much time being a snob that he has little time left to meddle with you" — William Faulkner.

Fire facts: Fires damage or destroy 1,000 U.S. homes a day. Fire claims a human life every 44 minutes. One out of every five fires is caused by matches or smoking.

If all the monetary gold in the free world were lumped together, it would make a 41-foot cube.

Speaking of gold, if you want to surprise your wife with an unusual gift this Christmas, you can buy her a 100-piece set of 14-karat gold tableware for $25,000.

History lesson: Can you name a U.S. president who became a senator after leaving the White House? Andrew Johnson, president 1865-9, was elected to the Senate from Tennessee in 1874 and served until his death the following year.

Worth remembering: "The bigger a man's head gets, the easier it is to fill his shoes."

Folklore: If it snows on your wedding day, you will become rich. Wear an eelskin around your waist and it will ward off rheumatism. If you see three white horses and then make a wish, it will come true. If the back of your legs itch, that's a sign you're going on a long journey.

Russian Liner Runs Aground Near Sweden

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The Soviet liner Nadeshka Krupskaya went aground yesterday on its way out of Stockholm inlet with 94 persons aboard.

The Soviet captain declined assistance offered by two Swedish tugs. A Soviet tug was reported en route to free the vessel.

Wisconsinites Visit Italy in Trade Tour

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin led a state trade mission of more than 100 members here Sunday night for a two-day visit.

The mission, on a tour of Europe to promote Wisconsin produce and trade, flew here from Sweden.

Its delegates present everything from fruit-growing and processing industries to industrial machinery and finance. They go next to Spain.

Billy Graham Home After Mayo Surgery

MONTAEAT, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham is back at his North Carolina mountain home after undergoing surgery at the Mayo Clinic twice within three weeks for a prostate condition.

★ ★ ★

Graham returned from the Rochester, Minn., clinic Sunday 10 pounds below his normal weight. He said he felt fine and will spend the next two and a half weeks preparing himself for a crusade next month in Houston, Tex.

Prisoner-Ranger Team Halts Sea Threat to Homes

CAPISTRANO BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A task force of prisoners and rangers from U.S. Forest Service camps was credited by residents today with reinforcing an 800-foot seawall before an angry ocean surf could reach beach-front homes.

Cause of the sudden giant 15-foot swells has not been officially determined.

The big breakers began two weeks ago — eating away at the wooden barricades that separate the expensive frontage homes and the sea.

Suddenly this weekend, an especially high tide was noted. Waves sent spray 50 feet into the air. Surf poured off the roofs of some houses. Four 12-foot seawalls collapsed.

★ ★ ★

One resident, Joe Hall, 20, was hospitalized with cuts. He was standing near a plate-glass window in a neighbor's home when a wave smashed into it.

AIRBORNE GOES 'NAVY' — U.S. paratroopers, more often thought of as fighting from the air or ground, take to the water in a hunt for Viet Cong guerrillas in Viet Nam. The men hold their weapons high while crossing a river in the jungle area of Ben Cat. The troopers have been searching the area for Cong for 12 days.

Cong Keep Up Pressure, Elude Yanks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong are keeping up their constant pressure on government outposts and district towns from the Mekong Delta to the central highlands but still shun major contact with U.S. troops.

U.S. war planes continue to throw heavyweight punches at targets in North Viet Nam and enemy hideouts in the steaming jungles of South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The massive air campaign is designed to keep the Communist forces off balance while U.S. ground troops seek to wrest the initiative from the elusive and resourceful Viet Cong.

For the third straight week U.S. jets last week flew a record number of flights over the Communist north. B52 bombers from Guam hit at guerrilla positions four times.

B52 STRIKES

The effectiveness of the B52 strikes was still a matter of debate. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said they are providing "a saturation of Viet Cong strongpoints which could not be reached in any other way."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, said the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces "have the initiative at this time." But North Viet Nam once again sharply rejected U.S. offers for unconditional discussions. "A mere swindle," said Hanoi.

★ ★ ★

In one of the largest Viet Cong assaults in weeks, a force estimated at regimental strength hit government positions in Binh Dinh Province. Heavy U.S. air support gave the Vietnamese added strength and they claimed 600 guerrillas were killed. U.S. officials did not confirm the figure but said the Viet Cong apparently suffered heavy losses.

Intelligence reports said the Viet Cong were massing large numbers in the province and U.S. troops of the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) at An Khe were put on the alert. Small guerrilla units probed the defense perimeter of the newly arrived helicopter-borne paratroopers.

DENSE BRUSH

Other U.S. Army units just north of Saigon found evidence of heavy Viet Cong influence in dense brush and jungles. The 173rd Airborne Brigade uncovered two enemy field hospitals and an arms factory, and troops of the 1st Infantry Division found enemy documents and large quantities of rice after assaulting Viet Cong bunkers.

Informed sources said two broad and controversial subjects dealing with U.S. tactics on the ground and air are presently under study:

— Ranking U.S. officers have been named to study the use of tactical air power as it affects noncombatants.

★ ★ ★

— U.S. military officials in South Viet Nam have requested a review of the policy that now prohibits U.S. field commanders from authorizing the use of nonlethal tear gas under certain conditions.

The Marine Memorial in Arlington, Va., portrays the raising of the Stars and Stripes by Marines on Mount Suribachi during fighting on Iwo Jima during World War II.

Attack Outpost

48 Cong Said Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops claimed today that 48 Viet Cong were killed in an unsuccessful attempt to overrun an outpost southwest of Quang Ngai.

Two Viet Cong companies attacked the outpost Sunday, inflicting moderately heavy casualties on the defenders before air attacks drove them off, the South Vietnamese said.

★ ★ ★

They said the Communist death toll was confirmed by body count.

4-DAY SWEEP

Soldiers of the U.S. 1st Division completed a four-day penetration of D Zone, the 600 square miles of jungle area that starts 30 miles north of Saigon and has long been a Viet Cong stronghold.

★ ★ ★

"We went into an area that had not been penetrated by government forces for years and destroyed important Viet Cong positions," said Col. Y. Y. Phillips, commander of the 16th Regiment.

★ ★ ★

U.S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade found 62 Soviet-made sniper rifles while patrolling a jungle area 35 miles north of Saigon normally controlled by the Viet Cong. The paratroopers also seized other war supplies, spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said the World War II vintage rifles were packed in crates which contained slips of paper with the message: "A long-range rifle for sharpshooters to be used only for shooting leaders and American advisers."

CONG DOCUMENTS

Also seized were 5,000 Viet Cong documents, 3 field hospitals with 500 pounds of medical supplies, 28 tons of rice, 23 mortars, 1,400 pounds of explosives, 5,500 rounds of small arms ammunition, clothing, salt and radio supplies.

U.S. spokesmen said a U.S. Marine amphibious task force swept Vung My peninsula, 15 miles south of Qui Nhon, Saturday and destroyed guerrilla bunkers and tunnels. One Viet Cong was killed and 20 suspects were captured in the action 270 miles northeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The Marines suffered light losses from sharpened, poisoned bamboo stakes.

South Vietnamese Brig. Gen. Vinh Loc, commander of the 2nd Corps area, claimed Sunday that his forces had killed 1,350 enemy troops, including 10 Red Chinese advisers, in a battle at the Phu Cu pass last Thursday. There was no confirmation of this from the U.S. Command in Saigon.

DEMONSTRATION

About 10,000 Buddhists staged a peaceful demonstration Sunday at Quang Tri, South Viet Nam's northernmost provincial capital. They charged they were victims of discrimination. Their protest appeared to be directed at the province chief, who is a Roman Catholic.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Air Force planes dropped 42 tons of bombs on the Tai Xuoan ammunition depot in North Viet Nam, spokesmen said Sunday. Pilots reported destroying eight buildings in the strike by 24 planes 60 miles northeast of Hanoi.

★ ★ ★

Eight other planes bombed bridges, radar sites and sampans, spokesmen said, adding that all planes returned safely.

U.S. PLANES

North Viet Nam claimed it has downed 600 American planes since Aug. 5, 1964. A New China News Agency report from Hanoi said the 600th plane was downed Friday. American officials said the total losses between Feb. 7, 1965, and last Thursday were 98 planes.

A Japanese correspondent in Hanoi said in a report to the Tokyo newspaper Mainichi that all evidence seen by him indicates increased American bombing will not seriously hurt North Viet Nam.

Hemlines Have Gone Up, Down, but Mostly Up

America was shocked when women stepped out in public in skirts that bared more than the ankle. A few states proposed legislation limiting hemlines to a maximum three inches from the floor.

It was not until 1925 that legs were exposed from the knee down. Another innovation was the appearance of flesh-colored hosiery.

Paris suceeded in dropping hemlines in the Thirties. They were still at mid-calf length or lower when the development of nylon was formally announced at a preview of the 1939 New York World's Fair.

Wartime restrictions regulating amount of fabric in clothing produced a severe silhouette with square shoulders and short, skimpy skirts. With Du Pont's entire nylon output earmarked for military applications, nylon stockings became as precious as gas ration coupons and steak and butter.

Rise and Fall Yesterday and Today

The skirt length endorsed by most Seventh Avenue manufacturers bares half if not all of the knee. There are even which, hopefully, will land only on females of tender age and equally tender dimensions.

Hemlines have had their ups and downs ever since fashion began, but they did not get off the ground to stay until after World War I.

★ ★ ★

The recent fuss over topless bathing suits was nothing compared to the storm that was set off when women first stepped out on the street in skirts that reached a few inches above the ankle.

★ ★ ★

The schoolboy silhouette of the mid-Twenties really brought legs into the open. For the first time, it became impossible for a woman to sit down without showing her knees. Flesh-colored hosiery also was making news.

Before 1924, women wore black or other darkly colored stockings.

Dior's New Look rocked the fashion world in 1947, outmoding every dress in every closet in America in a single stroke. Another innovation that year was 15-denier nylons. Until then, nylons were made only in 30- and 40-denier weights.

The New Look and 15-denier nylons arrived on the fashion scene about the same time. The long skirts left little leg showing, but what did show was clad in the sheerest stockings women had ever known.

Not much above ankle length when the Fifties began, hemlines inched up slowly. By the end of the decade, they were approaching knee level and have been climbing uninterruptedly ever since. This dress and jacket costume is typical of the period.

Delta Zetas Have Plans for the Fall

Group I of Oakland County Alumnae Chapter, Delta Zeta Sorority, will begin the new year with a coffee Oct. 5 at 10 a.m. Hostess will be Mrs. Robert Boger of Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

After a short business meeting when plans will be made for next month's trip to Detroit Edison Co. and Founders Day Oct. 26, members will see a fall artificial flower arrangement demonstration.

★ ★ ★

Demonstrator-speaker will be Mrs. Fred Trickey, president of the Osage Garden Club.

Women's Section

Mrs. Lawyer Talks

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac will have a dinner tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the Elks Temple. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, district consumer information agent, Michigan State University extension service, will speak on "New Food Processing."

Will Dine, Dance

A fall dinner dance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Edgewood Country Club by the Men's Club of Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will precede dinner and dancing at the annual affair.

Rev. Myers Will Speak

"There is Nothing Like a Dame" will be the subject of Rev. Herbert G. Myers, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church, Southfield, when he speaks to the women of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at a luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Beginning at 11 a.m. in the church, the meeting will be followed by luncheon and the program. First gathering of the season, the event is to acquaint newcomers with the women of St. Andrew's.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made at the church or with Mrs. R. F. Morgan.

New Evening Art Classes at Cranbrook

A new evening drawing and painting class for adults, beginning Oct. 5, has been announced at Cranbrook School for Boys in Bloomfield Hills.

Classes will be on 10 successive Tuesdays from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Interested persons with little experience in the field are encouraged to attend, according to instructor Peter Kerr, head of the Cranbrook School arts department and director of Kerr School of Art, Nantucket, Mass.

The first semester will have for its theme: Still Life. First class will deal with drawing for painting, followed by color theory, setting up a still life, and drawing a still life.

The last six classes will concentrate on painting a still life.

Cards Follow a Hat Show

The Parents' Group of St. Michael's School Athletic Association will sponsor the annual fall hat party at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, in the parish hall.

An evening of cards will follow a showing of Nancy Richards hats, accessories and gift items.

Assisting the chairmen Mrs. Gordon Gillette, Mrs. Harry Cook and Mrs. Warren Newton, are Mrs. Thomas Thornberry, Mrs. Joseph Cassabon and Mrs. Arnold Bentham.

Proceeds will be used for new football equipment at the school.

Mrs. Hanes Hosts

Mrs. John Hanes of Sutherland Drive will host the membership of the Highland Estates extension study group at 8 p.m. tonight.

Bud Guest Will Open Public Lecture Series

The Junior Group of the Village Woman's Club has planned a series of Friday public lectures, designed to be of general interest.

Bud Guest, well-known Detroit area radio personality and lecturer, will start the series Oct. 8 at 1:15 p.m. in the club house on East Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. Guest's topics may range from the question "How Would You Sit if Your Knees Bent the Other Way?" to "Where to Buy an Abandoned Railroad Station for Your Backyard."

EDUCATION

In November Mrs. Steven Bauer, coordinator of social studies for Birmingham Schools, will talk on "New Trends in Curriculum Planning."

Hubert Locke, executive director of Citizen's Committee for Equal Opportunity, will talk about "Current Civil Rights Issues" in February.

"The Most Modern Art" will be March's subject by Jack Andrews, assistant director of the Society of Arts and Crafts.

MENTAL HEALTH

Dr. John Sullivan of Wayne State University will discuss "Your Child's Mental Health" in April.

Chairman of the series is Mrs. William C. Wilkinson. Assisting her are Mrs. Richard R. Deskin, Mrs. Roger Crimmins, Mrs. James F. Jamison and Mrs. David Long.

Others are Mrs. John C. Maddox Jr., Mrs. John K. Moore and Mrs. Loren D. Riley.

★ ★ ★

Information as to time and dates of the lectures may be had by calling the club house.

Go With His Blessings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman past 60. I live alone. My husband has been an invalid for over 25 years and is now in a hospital for the chronically ill.

ABBY

Some gentlemen friends I have known a long time (widowers) have invited me out for dinner and a movie after visiting my husband. Everyone says, "Don't go! How will it look?"

I have never neglected visiting my husband and I do everything in my power to see that he is comfortable and well cared for.

Would it be so bad if I were to go to dinner and a movie with a gentleman once in a while? Just working around the house and visiting the hospital gets so tiresome. And I do get lonely for male companionship occasionally.

My husband says for me to go. Should I?

TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: Go, and enjoy yourself. You need answer only to your husband and your own conscience.

And tell your critics not to judge you until they have walked a few miles in your moccasins.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, in love with a traveling man whose territory includes my town. He is married and has two children, but he and his wife are married in name only.

I didn't know he was married when I first started seeing him. But after getting to know him, and the circumstances of his marriage, it made no difference.

Abby, this man has the power to transform me from a 49-year-old woman into a 16-year-old high school girl. It's magic! Now the problem:

For three years he has been promising to divorce his wife so we could be married. Last year I visited his town with the idea of renting an apartment to be near him. He discouraged this, saying he planned to file for a divorce very soon.

★ ★ ★

It's been seven months and nothing has happened. How long should I wait for him? He doesn't want me dating anyone else and I am not getting any younger.

MAGICIAN'S SWEETHEART

DEAR SWEETHEART: Give him 30 seconds. Snap your fingers three times and if your "magician" doesn't appear with his divorce decree in one hand and a wedding ring in the other, disqualify him. He's a phony!

J.L. Pfeifers at Home

At home in Detroit after a honeymoon at Diamond Point, N.Y. are the Jerome Leo Pfeifers (Judith Anne Kreucher) who were wed recently in the Sacred Heart Church, Auburn Heights.

* * *

The Raymond N. Kreuchers of Troy, Mrs. J. V. Pfeifer of Detroit and the late Mr. Pfeifer, are parents of the couple who received guests in the Pagoda Inn, Clawson.

Attending their sister as matron and bridesmaid were Mrs. Robert A. Johnson and Karen Kreucher, along with Judith Madek.

Stephen and Leonard Peifer assisted their brother as best man and usher. Martin B. Alice also ushered at the ceremony performed by Rev. Henry Kreft.

Large Party to Pay Back Invitations

By The Emily Post Institute

One of the least attractive customs that has arisen in recent years is that of giving large pay-back cocktail parties.

A hostess who has been invited to many parties herself, but who thinks she has not the time or the energy to give a number of small parties, invites on one evening all those to whom she is indebted and creates one large horror!

The guests are not chosen for compatibility, there are not enough places to sit down, the crowd is likely to be such that no one can move freely from group to group, or table, or bar, and the noise level reaches an intolerable pitch.

So, if you are a popular guest and incur social obligations with frequency, do make the effort to give small parties from time to time and avoid the necessity of a yearly pay-back.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE

Q: Will you please tell me if the father of the bride stands in the receiving line at the reception?

A: He sometimes stands in the receiving line, but usually he circulates among the guests just as he would at a ball or any other party where he is host.

* * *

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Bride Dons Antique White Satin

Mary Elizabeth Shotka chose a gown of antique white satin for her marriage to Nicholaus Peter Musat, Saturday, in the Holy Name Church, Birmingham.

A matching pillbox held her silk illusion veil and her bouquet included white roses, Phalaenopsis orchids and ivy.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shotka of Troy and the Peter Musats of Detroit.

* * *

Mrs. John D. Sharkey of Ontonagon and Mrs. George F. Wallace of Chelsea attended their sister as honor matron and bridesmaid.

With Martin Pavelich, best man, were the bridegroom's brothers, John Musat of Detroit and Peter Musat of Wayne, who ushered.

After the reception in Greenfield's Birmingham Restaurant, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. Both are alumni of Michigan State University.

MRS. NICHOLAUS PETER MUSAT

Wed Saturday in Holy Name Church, Birmingham, were Mary Elizabeth Shotka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shotka of Troy, and Nicholaus Peter Musat, son of the Peter Musats of Detroit.

Bounced Check Case Dismissed, Honeymoon OK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — An embarrassed pair of newlyweds wound up in the hands the law before they could go on their honeymoon. The check the bridegroom gave for the marriage license "bounced."

* * *

The young couple opened a joint checking account before being married, but the bridegroom-to-be did not file a signature card with the bank. When he signed a check and there was no signature on file, the check was returned.

Judge Harold Maurice heard the case and assured the couple they were properly married.

Store Redeems Old Certificate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. David Ettinger, 65, has proved that all women aren't impulse shoppers. She went shopping at a store here with a $10 gift certificate that was 24 years old. Before she began her buying trip, her husband had insisted, "They'll never make it good. It's too old."

Mrs. Ettinger had enough faith to pick out some cosmetics and a gift for a friend before presenting the gift certificate. The store redeemed it immediately.

Polly's Pointers

Sew Plaid Like Mad

DEAR POLLY — Those who dislike sewing on plaid materials because of the trouble in matching plaids may welcome my Pointer.

The bodice pieces of a pattern front and back and sleeves, after they are seamed together, all meet at the underarm seam. To have matching plaid lines, fold the sleeve pattern across at the points where the armhole and underarms seams intersect.

Also fold the front and back pieces where the armhole and underarm meet. When this is done correctly the lines made by the folds will be perpendicular to the straight of the goods line. I like to mark the line with a red pencil and label it the "plaid line."

* * *

When doing the final pressing of a finished garment, I also press the pattern so it stores flatly. I also date a pattern and make any appropriate comments on adjustments and materials. — LIZ

GIRLS—Many of you will soon be making school clothes from plaid fabrics so I am sure that this Pointer will be most welcome. Liz's method still requires care and caution but I found it to be sure if carefully followed. I prefer the use of a straight pin to identify the plaid line being followed rather than a red pencil mark. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When you buy a bottle of cooking oil, fold a paper napkin in half, wrap it around the bottle and secure with a rubber band. The drip which usually runs down the bottle to soil clean shelf paper is absorbed by the paper napkin and there are no resulting greasy rings.—MRS. A. T.

DEAR POLLY — For a long time I have been trying to come up with a good way to save the yolks of separated eggs. I now keep each yolk in the original half shell after separating it from the white.

To "close" the shell, wrap a small piece of plastic wrap or foil around the shell and place it upright in the egg rack in the refrigerator to keep for use in the immediate future. — SHIRLEY

MRS. R. J. BENEDICT

Eastern Trip for New Couple

Carol Jean Fritz exchanged candlelight vows with Robert James Benedict Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of Hesperia.

After greeting some 300 guests in the social room of the Hesperia Community Schools, the couple left for a honeymoon in the New England states.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Fritz of Hesperia and the Robert E. Benedicts of Cherryland Street, Pontiac Township.

CASCADE BOUQUET

Cascading white Fugi chrysanthemums and gladioli complemented the bride's Empire sheath gown and train of white peau satin. A crystal tiara held her silk illusion veil.

Sonja Bennett was honor maid at the rite performed by Rev. Roger Spear. Bridesmaids were Jane Combs, Patricia Robson, Kristene Swanson and Mrs. Steve Hren.

On the esquire side were Charles Crump, best man, and ushers Charles Bocskey, Patric McIsaac, Dale Fritz and Ronald Keeler.

★ ★ ★

The couple will reside in Royal Oak. He is a graduate of Ferris State College.

The Charles D. Smiths

Honeymoon in Capital

The Charles Delbert Smiths (Geraldine Dawn Clark) who were wed Saturday in the Bethany Baptist Church will reside in Royal Oak after a honeymoon in Washington, D. C.

A reception in the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Post followed the ceremony performed by Rev. Donald Gabler of the Bethel United Church of Christ.

LACE ACCENTS

Daughter of the E. R. Clarks of Ellwood Street, the bride chose a gow nof white silk organza over taffeta. Alencon lace accented the wrap-around effect and bordered her chapel train.

A lace coronet held the bride's veil of imported illusion. She carried a crescent of white glamellias and ivy.

With Mrs. Thomas L. Clark, matron of honor, were bridesmaids Mrs. Kester Smith Jr., Ann and Susan Raymond, and Leann Clark flower-girl.

Kester Smith Jr. was his brother's best man. Their parents are the senior Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Peacock Street.

Ushers were Larry Davis, James Gain, Thomas Clark and Richard Raymond. Charles Clark was ring-bearer.

His Few Letters So Far Between

PORTALES, N. M. (UPI)—Letters between a man and his wife's mother may be few. But one written by Glen Gordon finally reached his mother-in-law, Mrs. Gertie Kemp.

Stationed in the South Pacific in 1946, Gordon mailed the letter to Mrs. Kemp. Badly tattered, but with a readable address, the letter was delivered recently. The latest news was 19 years old.

Subtle Sudsing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Instead of chiding a reluctant child who won't wash his hands at meal time, try making a game of it, suggests the Cleanliness Bureau.

Place a finger bowl with warm soapy water on the table and the youngster will dip his hands in it. This novelty touch may be just what is needed to get hands clean both before and after each meal.

There are about 22 million war veterans in the United States.

It will require 50 years to complete the job of mapping the nation at the present rate, according to the U.S. geological survey.

Dance Group Opens the Founders Series

The internationally acclaimed Paul Taylor Dance Company will open the tenth anniversary season of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts Concert Series Oct. 22.

Season tickets for the series are available now at the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office, all J. L. Hudson Co. ticket service offices and Detroit's Grinnell's downtown. Individual tickets will be available after Oct. 4.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the regular concert series, a special program will be presented Feb. 1 featuring the Krakow Choir and Orchestra. This event commemorates the Polish Millennium (966-1966), and is arranged in cooperation with Detroit's Polish Millennium Committee.

December will bring two extra concerts of unusual interest, according to Edith J. Freeman, series chairman.

★ ★ ★

Dec. 4 the Christmas season will be heralded by the Michigan Consort of Voices, Viols and Other Historic Instruments from the University of Michigan, presenting a costumed medieval music-drama.

JAPANESE MUSIC

On Dec. 17 to complement the institute's exhibition of "Art Treasures from Japan" and "Contemporary Japanese Art," Dr. William Malm will present a program of Japanese music with authentic instruments. Dr. Malm is associate professor of University of Michigan's school of music.

★ ★ ★

Performances will be in the institute's Arts Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Additional information may be obtained by calling the museum's theater arts office.

Finances 'First Duty' for Wilson

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — The chairman of Britain's ruling Labor party opened the party's annual convention today with a blunt warning that the government's first duty is to get Britain back in the black.

Until that happens, Ray Gunter told the convention, "there certainly will be no promised land."

Gunter, labor minister in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet, recalled that the government on taking office last October found its conservative predecessors had left a deficit in the balance of payments of about $2 billion.

He appealed for loyalty, trust and understanding from the entire labor movement at a time when Wilson's grip on power seems to be precarious.

The conference began amid rumblings of discontent over aspects of governmental policy among some big labor unions as well as in the rebellious left.

SERVED NOTICE

The left-wing rebels have served notice of a series of challenges to be debated in the conference on such issues as the government's policy on incomes and prices, colored immigration, Viet Nam and nuclear matters.

Taken together, the criticism appeared to amount to a concerted demand for more full-blooded socialism.

On top of this, Wilson's aides spread word that it now seems unlikely the Conservative party will provide a successor to the late Sir Harry Hylton-Foster as speaker of the House of Commons.

Dr. Horace King, Hylton-Foster's Laborite deputy, is considered certain to move up to the speakership, leaving the government with a working margin of only one vote in Commons—unless the Conservatives or Liberals offer to make members available for the two non-voting deputy speakerships.

SEALAB ELEVATOR — Ten aquanauts are inside the personnel transport capsule as it swings across the deck of Sealab 2 staging vessel Berkone yesterday off the coast of La Jolla, Calif. The capsule brought the divers up from the ocean bottom as another group took residence in Sealab 2.

Astronaut Ends Sea Stint

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Whether he's hurtling through space or swimming the ocean's depths, M. Scott Carpenter has "the skill to do a fine job," according to President Johnson.

The President and the astronaut-aquanaut chatted by telephone yesterday as Carpenter completed a 30-day experiment under the Pacific Ocean in Sealab 2 as part of the man-in-the-sea project.

Carpenter received the presidential call while in a decompression chamber aboard the mother ship Berkone.

Carpenter, who orbited the earth three times in his 1962 space-flight, was the only man in the scheduled 45-day sea project to remain submerged 30 consecutive days. He was to emerge from the chamber today.

"You have convinced me and all the nation that, whether you are going up or down, you have the skill to do a fine job," the President told Carpenter.

"Well, thank you very much," Carpenter replied. "There were a lot of other people who demonstrated the same kind of courage. It's a great crew out here and we are all very honored and pleased that you saw fit to call us and let us know that you were interested in what we are doing."

The President then said:

"I know that being 205 feet under water for 30 days and making the excursion dive that you did has been very valuable to us and has advanced our knowledge of how humans can perform to these conditions, and I want you to know that the nation is very proud of you.

"You are very brave and skillful, and I am grateful that you have successfully completed this experiment."

Actually, the project won't end until Oct. 11. Carpenter headed the first 10-man team of aquanauts that descended into Scripps Canyon Aug. 28.

'U.S. Girls Spoiled by Sex Education'

CHICAGO (AP) — Too much emphasis on sex education and insufficient training in other modes of life are making American girls unfit for marriage, says a court psychologist whose job is saving marriages.

"They're brought up to think all they need is their femaleness, which often turns out to be helplessness, hesitancy and indecisiveness," Dr. I. A. Burch, director of the divorce conciliation service for Illinois Circuit Court, said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Burch has directed the service since its founding about a year ago. He counsels couples seeking divorces whose marriages the court believes might be saved with psychological help.

Many divorces, he said, can be blamed on wives who have "been brought up to feel they have the right to expect a man to guarantee them an easy life simply because they're female."

THE SOURCE

How do they get this notion?

"Too much stress on sex education and not enough stress on personal education," said Dr. Burch.

★ ★ ★

"All the emphasis is on their being sexual partners," he said. "They aren't encouraged to develop themselves any other way. They aren't taught to take care of themselves, to accept responsibility, to meet challenges instead of resorting to selling their femaleness."

The obsessive concern with sex education, he said, gives girls a bizarre outlook.

SEX IS LOVE

"They believe that sex is love. This is absurd. An obvious condition of love is that one be deserving of it. And this comes from self-realization in other areas than sex," he said.

★ ★

"The crucial question for a girl," he said, "is 'can I take care of myself and perhaps even take care of someone else?'"

Many girls cannot answer the question affirmatively, he said, because "they have been prepared only to bargain with their femininity for bed and board."

And, said Dr. Burch, few can tell their husband truthfully: "I stay with you, not for survival, but because I like you."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Burch's remedy:

"Stop stressing sex education and start stressing personal education, the development of inner resources, the discovery of self from which love for others is born."

Champagne Flows After Minnesota Clinches Pennant

Lions' Big Play, Non-Patterned but Stunning

Plum's 48-Yard Bomb to Marsh Nets Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — "I've been crying for the big play and I finally got it," said coach Harry Gilmer after the Detroit Lions scored a 31-29 victory over the Minnesota Vikings before a record Metropolitan Stadium crowd of 46,826 yesterday.

It was a crazy mixed up play. But mixed up or not, it was spectacular and Amos Marsh, 31-year-old fullback obtained from Dallas less than a month ago, was on the receiving end of the 48-yard bomb thrown by Milt Plum with 22 seconds left in the game.

The Lions' situation looked hopeless when the Vikings scored a touchdown to go ahead 29-21 with 7:32 left in the game.

Two minutes later, Wayne Walker kicked a 35 yard field goal to make it 29-24 but with Fran Tarkenton scrambling for two straight first downs, the Vikings kept possession until 1:09 when Bobby Walden was forced to punt.

Watkins took the ball on the 16 and moved it to the 25 on the return. At this point there were 48 seconds left and the Lions were 75 yards from pay dirt.

Plum fired down the middle to Pat Studstill, 20 yards to the 45. He then threw over Terry Barr out of bounds to stop the clock.

TWO PASSES

On the second down with :40 to play, Jim Gibbons took a pass and stepped out of bounds on the 47. Another five yarder to Barr put the ball on the Minnesota 48 with 31 seconds left.

Marsh then raced onto the field and into the huddle.

"Throw it to me," he said but the play that Plum called had Joe Don Looney as the intended receiver. This call meant Marsh would have been the blocker.

"When I stepped out of the pocket and saw Marsh heading toward the goal post, it wasn't the pattern, but he said the bench said to throw it to him, so I did," said Plum.

Looney the intended receiver on the particular play was also downfield, "but I didn't even see him," said Plum.

The ball just cleared the outstretched arms of linebacker Rip Hawkins and defensive back Lary Vargo into Marsh's waiting arms.

"I did the wrong thing. I broke the pattern," said Marsh apologetically afterward, but everyone was too stunned and too excited to care.

The first half was a game of errors.

Minnesota scored after a poor 31-yard punt by Studstill gave the Vikings the ball on the Detroit 37. In four plays Tarkenton hit end Gordon Smith with a 19-yard touchdown and Fred Cox converted.

TWO PENALTIES

The Lions then got two big penalty breaks. George Rose was called for interference on a pass to Terry Barr at the 50, and on the same play, in protest, Viking defender Lee Calland pushed the official.

* * *

He was ejected from the game and Minnesota assessed another 15 yards to the 35. Five plays later on the third down, Plum tossed to Gibbons who made a great catch for the touchdown to tie it 7-7 with the PAT.

Midway in the 2nd period after Hawkins intercepted a pass intended for Barr, the Vikings moved from the Detroit 26 to the 17, where Sam Williams smeared Tarkenton for a loss. This forced Cox to go for the field goal from the 28 to make it 10-7.

Then the Lion's offense came to life, with the defensive unit setting up a key TD.

After Studstill dropped a sure TD pass at the two-yard line, Plum hit Barr for 18 yards to the Viking 16. At the 2:00 minute mark, Marsh took a wide sideline pass and went the 16 yards for the score. It was 14-10 and 1:54 left.

Tarkenton then hit Tommy Mason with a screen, but he was hit by Alex Karras, fumbled but recovered. A personal foul on the play moved the ball back to the Viking 12.

Tarkenton then went back to pass and Karras again shot through hitting his arms forcing a fumble. Roger Brown fell on the ball and it was placed on the one yard line from where Plum went over to make it 21-10 with the extra point.

Still with 52 seconds left, the Vikings threatened. A 43-yard pass interference penalty on Bobby Thompson put the ball on the Lions 30.

LION HERO — Fullback Amos Marsh (left) of the Detroit Lions emerged as a hero in yesterday's game with the Minnesota Vikings as he pulled in a 48-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Milt Plum with 22 seconds remaining to give the Lions a 31-29 victory. Viking defenders beaten by Marsh on the play were Rip Hawkins (behind Marsh) and Larry Vargo (25).

GB Packers Jar Colts to Fumble

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Baltimore Colts have fumbled away their chance for a quick getaway in the National Football League's Western Division title chase and they have no one to blame but the Green Bay Packers, jarring defense.

The defending division titlists, 20-17 losers to the Packers Sunday, surrendered the ball four times on fumbles. The miscues set up a Green Bay field goal and a touchdown while short-circuiting two likely Baltimore scoring drives.

* * *

The other Packer touchdown came when Herb Adderley gobbled up a Johnny Unitas pass and rambled 4 yards to the end zone.

The Packers played without fullback Jim Taylor, who is out of action with an ankle injury. Halfback Paul Hornung and quarterback Bart Starr were decommissioned by Colts' defenders. Hornung injured a nerve in his neck and Starr hurt his leg.

Zeke Bratkowski took over at quarterback after Starr's injury in the third period. The 33-year-old former Georgia star fired a 37-yard strike to veteran end Max McGee for the decisive touchdown with 2:48 left to play. McGee was filling for Boyd Dowler, who sprained his ankle.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Years ago in the days of Bob Waterfield and Dutch Van Brocklin, Elroy Hirsch and Tom Fears, the Los Angeles Rams were famous for fantastic fourth quarter comebacks.

So it was no surprise that the Ram followers in the crowd of 35,359 sat in stunned disbelief, and they burst into near hysteria, when their heroes broke loose with three touchdowns, the last one in the final 30 seconds, to beat the Chicago Bears 30-28 Sunday.

The Rams' fourth period drives consumed 74 yards, Bill Munson scoring from the one; 42, with Munson passing the final five to Tommy McDonald, and 98 in 13 plays, Terry Baker fielding the final 10 yards with Bear defenders all over him.

Cards Bomb Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Wally Lemm of the St. Louis Cardinals was relaxed. He sat behind a desk and said calmly, "I never expected this."

* * *

Neither did the sellout crowd of 80,161 at Municipal Stadium.

What they saw was a lesson of the disciplined arm by St. Louis quarterback Charley Johnson. He preached the elementary rules of hook-and-go, flare, post and deep patterns for three quarters in a stunning 49-13 victory over the defending National Football League champion Cleveland Browns Sunday.

Johnson, with ample protection to keep the Browns' defense off his back, fired six touchdown passes, three to Sonny Randle.

The Cards defense chipped in with six interceptions, four in the second quarter when St. Louis exploded for 28 points and put the game out of reach. They led 35-10 at halftime.

EAGLES BOOTED

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Andy Stynchula figured he "might earn myself a job some day" if he kept his foot busy kicking field goals that didn't count.

The 250-pound defensive end of the New York Giants kicked field goals at Latrobe, Pa., High School, but admits that during three years at Penn State the only time he raised his foot was to administer himself a swift kick when he made a mistake.

During his five seasons in the National Football League, four with Washington and last year with New York, he booted field goals only for fun — in practice.

Sunday, he kicked three field goals against the Eagles, the last from the 11-yard line with 11 seconds remaining, and New York trailing 14-13.

It boosted the 11-point underdog Giants to their first victory of the season, 16-13, after losing the opener to Dallas.

BULLET BOB

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are in a most unaccustomed place — first in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

They got there with a 27 - 7 victory over the Washington Redskins Sunday and it pretty well illustrated an observation made by Coach Tom Landry during the summer.

Landry said he thought that Bob Hayes, the Olympic sprint champion, was the key to any success his team might have.

Hayes has done that very thing. Sunday he used his speed to run between a couple of Washington defenders and scat 45 yards to a touchdown with a pass thrown by Don Meredith.

Then Hayes ran like a scared rabbit on an end around for 11 yards and another touchdown before Washington knew he had the ball.

He also grabbed a 23-yard pass in the end zone with his superior speed but that touchdown was wiped away by a holding penalty.

OU Harriers Win Third

Oakland University's cross-country team ran its record to 3-1 Saturday with a 27-28 victory over Olivet.

Former Pontiac Northern runner Gary Cobb led the way over the 3.2 mile Olivet course with a time of 18:18. Louis Putnam, also of OU, finished second at 18:20.

Mike Pugh came in third for Olivet. Other OU scorers were Tim Kaul (7th), Tom Tobias (8th), Gil Ashendorf (9th) and Bruce Neumer (10th).

Dressen Talks Trade; Tigers Split Twinbill

DETROIT (AP) — "I'd like to make just one big trade before the season starts next year," Detroit Manager Charlie Dressen said Sunday. "I think we'll be improved if we can swing the one deal — and stay healthy."

Dressen, who signed another one year pact with the team Saturday, made his comment after the Tigers split a doubleheader with Cleveland to close out the home season.

Mickey Lolich pitched a three-hitter in winning the opener, 2-0, and Tom Kelley gave up just two hits as the Indians took the nightcap, 7-1.

The two teams, still battling for fourth place, split the 18 games between them this season.

Dressen made no excuses for the Tigers' showing, even though it's highly unlikely they'll improve on last season's fourth place finish.

LOOKING FOR RELIEF

The win in the opener was their 86th of the season, their best showing since they won 101 in 1961.

"I'm looking for a relief pitcher who we can count on to come in in the last inning or two and keep that one or two run lead," Dressen explained.

Twins Capture First AL Flag With 99th Win

Vice President Phones Congratulations; Club Awaits Series Foe

By The Associated Press

The phone jangled persistently in the Minnesota Twins dressing room under D.C. Stadium.

"Get that, I'm busy," yelled a champagne-soaked Sam Mele.

"It's the vice president," said an aide.

* * *

So Mele went to the phone and accepted congratulations from Vice President Hubert Humphrey after the Twins had clinched their first American League pennant by edging Washington 2-1 Sunday for their 99th victory of the season.

"By gosh, it's great, Sam," said Humphrey, a former senator from Minnesota. "You've done a great job. Give my best wishes to all the players. I couldn't be happier."

Neither could the Twins. Ironically the Twins wrapped up the pennant in Washington, the city they left after the 1960 season for the upper Midwest.

And Zoilo Versalles, the sparkplug shortstop making a strong bid for Most Valuable Player honors, was the key as the Twins put it out of reach of their last challengers, the Baltimore Orioles.

Versalles tripled in the sixth inning and promptly scored on a passed ball by catcher Don Zimmer. Then, in the eighth, with the score tied 1-1, Frank Quilici doubled, took third on a wild pitch by Pete Richert and scored when Versalles drove a long fly to center field.

Some 15 minutes later Mele was being sprayed with champagne while talking about the World Series.

'WE'RE READY'

"I don't care who we face, we're ready for them," he said. "We've got pitching for them. We've got the ball club for them."

* * *

Then he ticked off his first three pitchers for the Series — Jim Grant, who became a 20-game winner Saturday, Camilo Pascual and Jim Kaat, who had the honor of pitching the pennant-clincher.

At Baltimore, the Twins' score was posted on the scoreboard, letting the Orioles know they had been eliminated. But they rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning and edged California 2-1 for the seventh straight victory.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 5-3, and Kansas City edged Boston.

George Brunet of the Angels and Dave McNally of the Orioles each had three-hit shutouts through seven innings, then California broke through for a run in the eighth on singles by Rick Reichardt and Paul Schaal and a sacrifice by Jimmy Piersall.

* * *

But the Orioles won it in the ninth against reliever Bob Lee on a walk and singles by Curt Blefary, Jerry Adair and Dick Brown.

Shutout on two hits by Whitey Ford, the White Sox tied the score with a three-run seventh in which Pete Ward hit a two-run homer, then won it with two runs in the eighth. Bill Skowron singled in Danny Cater with the tie-breaking run and Don Buford also scored from first when Ross Moschitto fumbled the ball and then threw wild.

The A's broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh on Jose Tartabull's single and a double by Bert Campaneris. Rollie Sheldon got the victory, his 10th.

Drysdale Pitches Streaking Dodgers Into Tie With Giants

By The Associated Press

Juan Marichal can't win.

Don Drysdale can't do anything else.

And so the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers go into the final week of the National League season all even.

★ ★ ★

While Milwaukee was handing Marichal his third straight loss Sunday, 3-2, Drysdale won his fourth in a row and pitched the Dodgers to their ninth consecutive victory, 1-0 over St. Louis.

Drysdale fired a five-hitter at the Cardinals and made a first-inning run — produced on Maury Wills' base-running and Jim Gilliam's single — stand up.

The hard-throwing right-hander, now 22-12, has accounted for one-third of the nine victories in the Dodgers' streak, which has lifted them from 4½ games back into a tie for first.

BIG HOMER

At San Francisco, Gene Oliver's bases-empty homer in the sixth inning gave the Braves a 3-0 lead and proved the clincher against Marichal, who's lost 13 and won 22.

The Giants, who zoomed to the top with a 14-game winning string, have dropped five of nine since — with Marichal losing three of them.

★ ★ ★

Each front-runner has seven games left — all at home — before the regular season closes next Sunday. The Giants open a three-game set against St. Louis today, then conclude with a four-game series against Cincinnati's third-place Reds. Los Angeles starts a three-game series against Cincinnati tonight, then plays four against Milwaukee.

The eventual winner of the NL scramble will face the Minnesota Twins in the World Series. Minnesota clinched its first American League pennant Sunday with a 2-1 decision over Washington.

★ ★ ★

In other NL action — Houston kept Cincinnati three games behind, trimming the Reds 4-2 on rookie Chuck Harrison's three-run homer with one out in the last of the ninth; Pittsburgh overcame the Chicago Cubs 5-3 on run-scoring doubles by Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliarni in the 10th inning; and Tony Gonzalez' double in the 10th gave Philadelphia a 5-4 victory over the New York Mets.

BUNT SINGLE

Wills led off the Dodgers' first against Ray Sadecki with a bunt single. When the St. Louis lefthander attempted a pickoff, Wills stole second, and continued to third when Bill White's throw to second was wild. Gilliam followed with his single — and it was 1-0.

It still was 1-0 after Dick Groat filed to Lou Johnson for the final out. Drysdale, making his record 4-0 against the Cards this year, did not walk a man and allowed only three runners as far as second.

Singles by Frank Bolling in the second and Mack Jones in the third drove in Milwaukee runs against Marichal, then Oliver homered in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

Willie McCovey tagged his 39th homer, off winner Hank Fischer in the bottom of the sixth, and the Giants got another run in the seventh. But relievers Phil Niekro, Denny Lemaster and Dan Osinski stopped them after that.

Harrison's homer, his first in the majors, came off Billy McCool, who had replaced Joe Nuxall at the start of the Astros' ninth with Cincinnati holding a 2-1 lead. Joe Morgan led off the inning with a single, and Jim Wynn drew a one-out walk before the rookie connected.

★ ★ ★

Pagliaroni's three-run homer in the sixth gave the Pirates a 3-0 lead and Don Cardwell blanked the Cubs on five hits until the ninth, when they tied it. But the doubles by Stargell and Pagliaroni in the 10th off Ted Abernathy — making his 80th appearance of the season — won it for Pittsburgh.

Charlie Smith's single in the top of the 10th put the Mets ahead 4-3, then Dick Stuart's single tied it for the Phils and Gonzalez cashed in the winner with his double.

The pitching loss went to Jack Fisher — his 23rd defeat.

State's Small College Units Break Even

By United Press International

Michigan's small college football teams gained a split in a Saturday of interstate warfare by winning the close ones.

Michigan teams won 6 of 12 encounters with out-of-state foes despite being outscored 223-152 overall.

★ ★ ★

In the only small college game involving two Michigan teams, Western Michigan's strong Central Michigan passing attack for a 21-13 win.

Michigan Tech played the lone conference game, launching its Northern Intercollegiate Conference season with a 14-7 victory over Moorehead State of Minnesota.

Hope beat Wheaton of Illinois 7-0, Northern Michigan topped Bradley 19-15, Kalamazoo came from behind to beat Lake Forest of Illinois 20-10, Wayne State edged Allegheny 7-0 and Alma blanked Wilmington of Ohio 14-0.

The Michigan losers did it the hard way. Western Illinois swamped Eastern Michigan 44-7, North Central of Illinois trounced Olivet 35-0 and Defiance of Ohio routed Adrian 33-15.

DALES EDGED

Hillsdale and Albion kept it close but were edged. St. Norbert of Wisconsin beat Hillsdale 27-21 and Ohio Northern edged Albion 17-6.

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan beat out 233 yards on the ground and scored three times, enough to ward off two last-period touchdown passes by Central's Pat Boyd.

Gary Brewer Wins Seattle Open Tourney

SEATTLE (UPI) — The $6,000 check for winning the Greater Seattle Open golf tournament was most welcome, and it was all the sweeter to Gay Brewer Jr. because he has a good memory.

Besides winning his first tourney since 1963, Sunday's triumph in a playoff with Doug Sanders atoned for a near miss here in 1961 when the tourney ended in a playoff and Brewer wasn't in it.

He could do no better than equal par 37-35-72 on the Inglewood course Sunday.

Brewer and Sanders, 32, Ojai, Calif., playing in the same threesome, each birdied the 18th hole to wind up at 279.

Sanders bogied the first hole of the playoff and picked up $3,800 for second place, giving him $67,532 in winnings for the year and leaving him within $125 of this year's fifth place money winner, Bruce Devlin.

Lakeland Lakers Open With Two Victories

The Lakeland Lakers began their Suburban Midget Football Conference season Saturday at Royal Oak by winning two of three games from the Rangers.

* * *

Randy Shane, Dennis Brown and Art Goldman scored as the varsity took a 19-6 verdict, and Tim Simon ran 80 yards for one of his three touchdowns in a 28-0 freshman romp.

The junior varsity was blanked, 12-0.

Defensive Back Casting a Spell

* * * * * *

By The Associated Press

Fred Williamson, who once broke the spell of a hypnotist, now apparently is casting his own.

The subject in both cases: Lance Alworth.

Williamson, a defensive back for Kansas City who is antagonistic toward receivers in general and Alworth in particular, held the San Diego flanker to a complete standstill Sunday as the Chiefs and Chargers battled to a 10-10 tie in an American Football League game.

It wasn't long ago, at a party after an AFL All-Star Game, that Williamson was put under hypnosis. The hypnotist, aware of Williamson's feelings about Alworth, ordered him to say the name of the San Diego pass catcher in response to a question.

MAKES STATEMENT

"I didn't know what I was doing," Williamson said, "but the hypnotist told me afterward that when he asked me who the best receiver was, I opened my mouth and made sounds but I wouldn't say Alworth—because I think he's overrated."

Even more convincing than his reaction to the hypnotic act was the show Williamson put on Sunday as he allowed only two passes to reach Alworth, who had grabbed 11 for 277 yards and a 25.2-yard average in the Chargers' first two victories.

While the tie put the first blemish on San Diego's record, Oakland handed Houston its first loss 21-17 on Tom Flores' touchdown pass with 58 seconds remaining and Buffalo wound up the day the only team with a perfect record by downing New York 33-21 despite a sharp performance by Jets' quarterback Joe Namath.

Plum-to-Marsh Beats Minnesota in Final Seconds

then batted away end zone passes and with four seconds left, Cox missed a 37-yard field goal try.

To start the second half, Minnesota marched 80 yards in 11 plays with Mason going three yards to make it 21-17, and Cox then made it 21-20 with a 46-yard field goal.

The fired up Vikings then pinned the Lions to the wall. Trying to pass from his own five, Plum was hit by Carl Eller for a safety which made it 23-21.

* * *

Joe Schmidt intercepted a pass, his second in two games, to stop one Minnesota drive but early in the 4th period after a 47-yard completed pass to Mason, the Vikings scored when rookie Dave Osborn went three yards to make it 28-21. Cox converted.

Plum had the range on his third-down passes yesterday, but four of them were dropped. The biggest third play however was the pass to Marsh, a play not in the Lions' pass patterns.

It was great because it worked, but as the question later came up —— what if he had dropped it as the Lions had been dropping them on third down most of the afternoon?

* * *

It would have deprived coach Gilmer of getting the game ball which was presented to him later in the locker room.

Pontiac's Arrows made their first trip away from home a successful one Saturday by squeezing out a 7-0 victory over a tough Milan eleven.

"That's the meanest bunch I've ever seen," said quarterback Karl Sweetan about the Viking defenders who draped him over a player bench on one occasion and tried to unscrew his head on another.

It was the roughest game of the season for the Arrows who came home with an assortment of gouges, bumps and bruises.

The triumph was the fourth in a row for the Arrows, their third shutout of the campaign and the win raised their record to 3-0 in the Midwestern Football League.

* * *

The big Viking defensive line, beefed up by a few ex-Toledo Tornado players, kept the Arrows' runners well in check throughout most of the game.

LONE SCORE

The only score of the game came at 9:15 of the fourth quarter when fullback Willie Jones ripped up the middle for the final yard and Sweetan booted the extra point.

* * *

"I was beginning to wonder if we would score at all," said Arrow coach Lyle Wells who voiced some disappointment with the work of the offensive line and the pass receivers.

Dennis Spencer, a 260-pounder, and Larry Holley, a 230-pound linebacker, both of the Toledo Tornadoes, along with Mike Cunningham (275) of Kansas State and Walt Benton (280) of Olivet pushed the Arrows' offensive line around and held Pontiac to only 78 yards rushing.

And they put a strong rush on Sweetan, who hit on only five of 15 passes for 132 yards.

* * *

"The passes — the misses — weren't his (Sweetan's) fault," said Wells. "The field wasn't lighted well and our receivers said they couldn't see the ball. Anyway, we're going to spend some time with the receivers this week."

SET UP TD

End Bill Leonard, generally the most reliable of the Arrows' receivers, dropped a couple but he picked off a 38-yard toss from Sweetan to set up the only score.

* * *

With a first down at the Viking's 43-yard line, Sweetan tossed deep to the right to Leonard who made a diving catch at the Milan five-yard line.

Halfback Ken Pfent carried twice, putting the ball at the two and Jones got the call on the next two plays and carried it over from the one on fourth down.

Pontiac's defense turned in another solid performance.

Milan moved to the Arrows' 24-yard line early in the first but Pontiac stiffened and the Vikings Gary Hobbs missed a 40-yard field goal.

* * *

The Vikings strongest threat came in the third quarter when quarterback Lou Bartoletti, another former Toledo player, led the team to a first down at the Pontiac five-yard line.

INTERCEPTION

Two running plays produced nothing, and Bartoletti tried a pass on third down which the Arrows' defensive halfback Gene Luppino, a former Pontiac Central player, picked off in the endzone and returned to the Milan 38-yard line.

* * *

Saturday, Pontiac travels to Lansing to meet the defending champion All-Stars. The Arrows next home game is with Milan at 7 p.m. Oct. 10.

OL St. Mary Jolted by St. James 21-0

The title hopes of Orchard Lake St. Mary suffered a setback yesterday as the team fell to Ferndale St. James, 21-0.

It was the first setback in league competition in the past 11 games for the Eaglets, who shared the Northwest division championship last year with Detroit St. Agatha.

St. Agatha is gone — now in the Southwest section — and it looks as though the Northwest will have a new champion.

Quarterback John Kozlowski sparked the St. James attack by pasing for touchdown and scoring another.

* * *

The winners took the lead at 6:03 of the first period when Kozlowski hit Tim Mullen with a 21-yard scoring pitch.

FINAL TD'S

The final two scores came in the fourth on a seven-yard run by Pierre LaPraire and a one-yard sneak by Kozlowski.

* * *

St. James rolled up 313 yards on the ground and picked up 69 more in the air as Kozlowski hit on six of 11 passes.

The Eaglets managed only 25 yards on the ground, and quarterback Conrad Krogulecki had his worst day of his passing career as he hit on only two of nine passes for 27 yards.

In other Northwest games, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows downed St. Francis De Sales, 28-7, Royal Oak St. Mary trimmed Highland Park St. Benedict, 19-6, and Detroit St. Rita beat Mount Clemens St. Mary, 19-14, in a non-conference encounter.

Quarterback Jim McGrath tossed three touchdown passes to lead FOLS (1-1) past DeSales.

He hit Jerry Turner with 29 and 25-yard strikes and tossed a 40-yarder to Bob Urbain. Cliff LaFond scored the other FOLS six-pointer on a six-yard run. LaFond and Dave Hickey picked up two extra points apiece on runs.

PCH Harriers Triumph

Pontiac Central placed four runners in the top 15 Saturday to win the Milford invitational cross country meet at Kensington Park.

Jim Lindler of Walled Lake took individual honors with a time of 10:10 over the two-mile course. Sterling Speirn of Bloomfield Hills was second in 10:22.

* * *

Bill Hollis paced the PCH runners by taking sixth place in 10:36.5. Martin Acosta was ninth, Joe Dickie of the Chiefs placed 12th and Harold Boone was 14th.

Arlester Johnson of the Chiefs finished 24th in the field of 60 Class A runners.

Jim Anderson sparked Farmington to second place by placing third. The runners up scored 88 points. Bloomfield Hills was third with 96 and Pontiac Northern fourth with 99. Walled Lake was next with 121.

Lakers Aiming for Loop Title

Defense Is Too Much for Shamrocks

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's too early for a title race to end, so the Lakers of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes will have to be content with the 'unofficial championship' while they proceed to make it official.

* * *

The Lakers, a heavy favorite to win the Macomb section of the Detroit Catholic League, disposed the biggest obstacle in their title path yesterday when they pinned a 20-0 setback on St. Michael.

It was the second shutout and second win of the campaign for the Lakers who were pre-season favorites along with the Mikemen to pace the Macomb section.

So with St. Michael out of the way, the Lakers will now play the supposedly weaker teams in the league — Richmond St. Augustine, Marine City Holy Cross, New Baltimore St. Mary and Detroit St. Rose.

* * *

In other action over the weekend, St. Augustine blanked Holy Cross, 8-0, and St. Rose downed NB St. Mary, 7-6, and St. Frederick was a forfeit winner over Detroit St. Bernard, a school which closed last week.

SHARP ATTACK

The Lakers unveiled a potent running attack and a stiff defense in handing the Mikemen their first loss of the season.

* * *

The offense collected 245 yards rushing and passing while the defenders limited the Mikemen to 38 yards — 29 through the air.

The chief target of the Laker defense was quarterback Greg Glynn, who completed five of 10 passes, but who was dropped nine times for losses totaling 67 yards.

The Lakers struck early. They took the opening kickoff and from their own 48-yard line, quarterback Barry Bradford tossed a 47-yard pass to end Brian Haskins and they picked up a TD two plays later when Carl Matzelle went over from the two. Dennis Gardner ran the point.

* * *

Bradford posted the second score in the third on a 38-yard scamper around right end and Don Guibord plunged a yard for the other six-pointer late in the fourth frame.

Clarence Rose rambled 70 yards for a TD to lead St. Augustine to victory. The winners added a safety when Marty Chamberlain tackled the Holy Cross quarterback in the endzone.

Northern, Kettering Lose Home Openers

AP Photofax

SPARTAN SCAMPERS — Halfback (34) Dwight Lee of Michigan State eludes the hands of fallen tackler Bob Kane of Penn State for a short gain in Saturday's game at University Park, Pa. Other Penn State players are Gerry Sandusky (82) and Mike McBath (67). MSU won, 23-0.

BY JERE CRAIG

The home debuts of Waterford Kettering and Pontiac Northern were spoiled Saturday by "northern" gridiron machines.

Flint Northwestern extended Pontiac Northern's losing streak to 10 with a 20-0 conquest, while hungry North Farmington feasted on the Captains, 27-12.

Flint NW scored in the middle two periods and held PNH's offense almost to a standstill for the full game.

Northwestern made the big play against the Huskies twice in the second quarter. Sonny Gonder went 73 yards for the first six-pointer early in the period.

Just before the half, after stopping PNH on a drive to the Flint 25, the Wildcats went 72 yards in three plays. Jim Novar tossed 40 yards to Billy Magee and he out-ran the secondary to complete the 67-yard scoring play.

Novar's 36-yard run to the Northern 15 set up Gene Mitchell's one-yard scoring plunge for Flint's final score.

The victory was the second straight shutout for the Wildcats who are in their second season of football. PNH could muster only three first downs two via penalties.

RAIDERS ROMP

North Farmington's Raiders captured the booty from the Captains with determination, drive and disdain.

Bill Oldershaw, a 6-0, 180-pound senior quarterback, tossed touchdown passes of 29 and 36 yards, and ran nine yards to score in a very efficient display of backfield talents.

Coach Jim Larkin of Kettering, impressed by his scouting report on the Raiders, before the game promised to use everything in the Kettering arsenal against them.

For three and a half periods the only productive weapon was a blocked kick by Jay Nash. Junior tackle Clint Jones scooped up the ball and rambled eight yards to paydirt.

After that, all the Captains' offense was Dick Miceli's short yardage passes and penalties against the enthusiastic Raider defense.

Following Jones' touchdown, North Farmington needed five and a half minutes to go 67 yards in seven plays.

Other results Saturday had Warren Woods nipping Country Day, 12-7.

Bob Davenport ran five yards and added the extra point as Birmingham's Country Day squad took a 7-6 last-quarter lead at Warren Woods. But Ed Schaubert ran 64 yards to give the win to the latter late in the game.

The Yellow Jackets drove inside the 10 with time running out, but a fumble on fourth down and one cost them a possible tie or win.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Paul Johnson can look forward to at least 28 more games as a member of the Michigan football team.

But it's unlikely he'll ever come up with a bigger play than he did Saturday to preserve the Wolverines' 10-7 victory over California.

★ ★ ★

The sophomore defensive tackle, who gained All-State honors at Bay City Central two years ago, stole the ball from California quarterback Dan Berry on the Michigan 12-yard line with less than a minute to go.

He almost completed the play with another lineman's dream—scoring a touchdown—but officials ruled his knees touched the ground.

MISSED TACKLE

I didn't plan on making the play," Johnson said later. "I sort of missed the tackle but Berry slanted sideways trying to get the extra yard or two and I hit his arm.

"The ball popped up a bit and I grabbed it," said the full-blooded Chippewa Indian, whose teammates call him Chief.

Johnson's last-minute heroics enlivened an otherwise drab game which saw Michigan do all its scoring in the first half and give the ball away five times, twice on interceptions.

The interceptions ended Michigan drives on the California 17 and 25-yard lines. The Golden Bears, who looked stronger than in their 48-6 drubbing at the hands of Notre Dame a week ago, also covered Michigan fumbles on their own 45 and 21 and on the Michigan 30.

FAIR CATCH

The latter recovery came after Rick Volk had signalled for a fair catch on a California punt but bobbled it and set the stage for the Bears' aborted last-minute drive.

Rick Sygar's 27-yard field goal opened the scoring in the first period. Frank Numley's interception of a Jim Hunt pass had given the Wolverines the California 42.

★ ★ ★

Michigan got as far as the Bears' seven but settled for the three points after Carl Ward was thrown for a nine-yard loss and a Dick Vidmer-to-Jack Clancy passed gained six yards.

Vidmer later climaxed a 66-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter.

A 16-yard pass from Berry to Ted Parks in the third quarter produced the Golden Bears' only touchdown.

MSU Team Turns on Power in Blanking Penn State, 23-0

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State-Illinois football game is going to be a hard one to figure—except that you can safely predict the score is going to be high.

Michigan State put on a show of power this past weekend by blanking Penn State 23-0. Illinois, meanwhile, warmed up for the meeting with the Spartans by running over Southern Methodist 42-0.

★ ★ ★

The two Big Ten foes clash at East Lansing this Saturday.

Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty had everything going for him in the family reunion he staged at University Park, Pa. Daugherty's mother was in the stands and gave the team a brief pep talk before the game.

His players from Hawaii looked even better than advertised.

MOST NEEDED

His end from Pittsburgh, Bob Viney, made a key interception to keep the scoring rolling when it was most needed.

His quarterback, Steve Juday, from Northville, called a fine game.

All the old friends from Barnesboro, Pa., Duffy's hometown, were there to cheer him on.

Dick Kenney, barefoot kicker from Hawaii, was the hit of the afternoon. Kenny scampered in to kick field goals of 24, 29, and 36 yards and also kicked two extra points.

Bob Apisa, the other MSU recruit from the Islands, bolted for a 35-yard touchdown run.

Juday hit 10 of his 13 pass tries for an even 100 yards and also sneaked in for a four-yard touchdown when he couldn't find a receiver for one of his passes.

Halfback Clint Jones led the MSU rushers with his 81 yards.

ONLY THRUST

Penn State only thrust into MSU territory three times. The field goal try, by Tom Sherman, was from the 24. It hit the left upright of the goal post and bounced off.

The players gave Daugherty the game ball and carried him off the field. In the dressing room Daugherty in turn awarded the ball to Viney, whose interception and slashing tackles helped his coach look so good.

QB Griese Greases Skids as Purdue Dumps Irish

By The Associated Press

Purdue Griesed the skids for Notre Dame and now the Boilermakers hope their slick showing against the Irish can move them closer to the top of the college football pack.

In a brilliant passing show that Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian called "the finest performance I have ever seen," Purdue quarterback Bob Griese picked the No. 1 ranked Irish apart as the Boilermakers, ranked sixth, chalked up a 25-21 victory Saturday.

Griese completed 19 of 22 passes for 283 yards and three touchdowns and rolled up 322 total yards.

While the top-ranked Irish were being toppled by Purdue, Nebraska, No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, whipped the Air Force Academy 27-17 but the Cornhuskers weren't ready to claim the No. 1 spot on the basis of that victory.

THREE TDs

Frank Solich scored three touchdowns for Nebraska and, with Griese, led a host of individual standouts.

Princeton's Charley Gogolak, son of a Hungarian refugee and brother of the Buffalo Bills' place-kicker, booted six soccer-style field goals as the Tigers walloped Rutgers 32-6.

★ ★ ★

Billy Stevens, Texas Western's sophomore quarterback who set two NCAA records in the opening game, hurled five more touchdown passes and ran his passing yardage to 797 for two games as the Miners routed New Mexico 35-14.

Brenden McCarthy, Boston College's fullback, carried 34 times for 168 yards in a 28-0 romp over Villanova. Harold Deters kicked a pair of 45-yard field goals, the second with just 35 seconds to go as North Carolina State toppled Wake Forest 13-11.

FAKE PUNT

Larry Sieple, faking a punt on fourth down, dashed 70 yards for a touchdown that helped 10th-ranked Kentucky down Mississippi 16-7. Ashby Cook's passing led Mississippi State to an 18-13 upset of eighth-ranked Florida.

Fred Custardo hurled three touchdown passes helping Illinois rout Southern Methodist 42-0. Iowa's Gary Snook completed 13 passes and a stingy Hawkeye defense held Oregon State 27-7.

Grosse Ile Driver Best at Waterford

Grosse Ile's Dave Johnson won the season point title as the Waterford Hills Road Course finished the summer series with racing Saturday and Sunday.

Johnson won three class events in his H-Modified D. J Special to clinch the championship.

Dennis Waszkiewicz of St. Clair Shores nipped Pontiac's Tom Swindell by one car length Sunday to win the Large Production and Modified Feature race. Both drove Corvettes.

★ ★ ★

The Small Production winner was Don Watson of Livonia in a Datsun. Troy's Jerry Thompson won the Sedan Trophy in a Corvair.

The top Formula C driver was Ken Nielsen of Clawson in his Loutus; while Stu Carter of Allen Park topped the Forumla vee competitors in his FormCar.

By JACOBY & SON

The American Contract Bridge League has completed its annual book showing the most interesting hands of this year's world's championship.

JACOBY

The book should give many hours of pleasure to anyone interested in seeing how various systems work in this competition.

Here is a hand that produced several international match points for the United States when our team bid and made a venturesome game while the Italians stopped at a safe part-score.

South's final bid of four spades was a decided gamble. In fact looking at the North-South cards you would really have to worry about the hand since you start with three sure losers.

As the cards lie there are any number of lines of play open to declarer and no line of defense that will beat him if he makes all guess correctly but at the table the defense made matters rather easy for declarer.

East won the heart opening with the ace and shifted to the nine of diamonds. South and West played low and dummy's ten won the trick.

Now South simply played the ace and another spade. West won and led a low diamond. South played low from dummy and, after East ruffed with the jack of trumps, was able to claim the balance because he had plenty of parking places for his low clubs.

At the other table Italy never got past two spades after the Italian South decided to pass originally. He also managed to make nine tricks but we feel that he would have made 10 had he been in game.

Herald Tribune Back on Stands

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune appeared on newsstands today for the first time since it shut down 11 days ago in support of the strikebound New York Times.

The newspaper resigned from the Publishers Association of New York Saturday, citing "economic and other considerations" for resuming publication.

Negotiations continue today between the striking AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild and the Times and between the Mailers Union and the Publishers Association.

A Guild spokesman said some progress had been made Sunday, but added: "I don't expect an early break in the deadlock, not even this week."

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16 in a dispute over job guarantees against automation and mergers, a voice in the introducton of automation, improved pensions and a union shop agreement requiring all editorial employes to join the Guild.

All other major dailies in New York suspended publication in support of the Times, except the New York Post. The Post resigned from the association during the 114-day strike in 1962-63.

There are 7,000 fabric specialty shops in the nation, which last year accounted for about 39 per cent of all home-sewing fabrics sold.

Wealthy Countries Urged to Aid Poor

WASHINGTON (AP)—President George D. Woods of the World Bank urged high income countries today to send "a greater flow of long-term capital on less burdensome terms" to the underdeveloped world.

The need for stepping up aid to the developing nations was the theme of Woods' speech on the opening day of the World Bank — International Monetary Fund annual meeting.

Woods painted a generally dismal picture of the developing countries' efforts to raise their standards of living.

While urging greater external aid for the poorer nations, Woods said "It is the effectiveness of internal effort which to a large extent is going to determine the future of international development assistance.

"In my daily activities," he continued, "I am constantly and sympathetically aware of the impatience, disappointments and frustrations in the developing countries; but at the same time I am conscious of the frustration and disillusionment that the industrial countries feel about development finance.

"Governments which provide development finance are subjected to searching questions by their legislatures and peoples about it . . . performance will have to stand up to close scrutiny."

Woods said that income is rising in the industrial countries but that the level of development aid to the less affluent countries has been stationary for several years.

Out of about 80 developing countries in the bank, Woods said about one-third has attained the target growth rate of 5 per cent.

However, he said about half of the nations had raised income per person by one per cent or less per year as they struggled to stay ahead of burgeoning populations.

The average per capita income is about $120 a year for this group.

Milford Woman Hurt in Traffic Accident

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital following a traffic accident last night is Marian Booth, 21, of 1450 W. Maple, Milford.

Theft, Killing Hit Museums

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (UPI)—A $5,000 blue topaz was discovered missing from a new museum in Weatherford yesterday, only four blocks from where another museum's caretaker was found dead and believed murdered Saturday.

Police said they did not believe there was any connection between the puzzling stabbing death of 83-year-old John L. Reid, caretaker of the Texas Railroad Museum, and the theft of the gem, although the possibility was not completely discounted.

Reid was found robbed and stabbed to death near the old museum building. Officers have been unable to find any leads.

Theft of the 333½-carat topaz, believed the largest of its kind cut from a stone in the Southwest, was discovered early yesterday at the newly opened Rockhound Museum.

* * *

Burglars took the semiprecious, emerald-cut gem from a black pad after breaking the display glass.

Also missing was a star ruby ring, but a smaller piece of topaz on the pad in front of the larger stone was not moved.

Captured State Escapee Admits Stealing 8 Cars

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—A Michigan prison camp escapee captured here Sunday admitted stealing at least eight cars since his Aug. 25 flight, State Police said.

Wilbur E. Smith, 22, alias Ed Williams, fled the Cassidy Lake Prison Camp at Chelsea, Mich., with another inmate, Craig Rishe, 23.

Police said when Smith was seized he was driving a 1965 model auto stolen Sunday from Farmington, Mich. They said he told them he took the cars while touring through Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Utah and California since his escape.

Smith, from Berrien County, Mich., was sentenced to 2-10 years for breaking and entering.

Rusk to Have a Busy Week

To Meet With Many Leaders at U.N. in NY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk sweeps into a whirl of diplomatic appointments today which included Pakistan's foreign minister and perhaps Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Launching a two-week visit to the headquarters of the United Nations, Rusk planned to see as many as he could of the 88 leaders attending the U.N. General Assembly's 20th anniversary session.

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto promptly got a morning date with Rusk, presumably to press for the plebiscite in Kashmir Pakistan wants and India opposes. The United States does not want to take sides in the quarrel and says it should be handled through the United Nations.

Rusk had appointments today also with the foreign ministers of France, Holland and Tunisia, but whether he would get in a proposed afternoon discussion with Gromyko remained in doubt. U.S. officials said there were scheduling difficulties.

The Rusk-Gromyko dialogue, which has become a yearly event at the United Nations fall gathering, shaped up as the first high-level contact between the United States and the Soviet Union since roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman went to Moscow in July.

Rusk intended to go over a wide range of subjects with the Soviet foreign affairs chief. But U.S. officials foresaw no quick breakthrough on major East-West questions. They figured U.S.- Soviet cooperation on the Kashmir dispute did not spread beyond that. Meanwhile, the Kremlin is embracing North Viet Nam's cause in the Viet Nam war.

The most promising topic appeared to be an agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons. Both the American and Russian presentations to the General Assembly listed this as top priority. The catch is: Moscow's version would kill Washington's plans for sharing nuclear weapons with its European allies.

The assembly's 25-nation steering committee scheduled a meeting this afternoon to decide what to do with Gromyko's proposals for a nuclear non-dissemination treaty and for a declaration against "foreign interference in the internal affairs of states." By the latter, Gromyko said he means what he terms aggression by the United States in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the Congo.

'U.S. Jews Face a Threat Greater Than Persecution'

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Jews today face a threat "far more severe than any Jewish persecution," a Detroit rabbi warned Sunday.

"The shofar (trumpet) sounded through the ages to call on the Jewish people to endure every form of oppression and to remain true to their faith," Rabbi Leon Fram said in a Rosh Hashanah message.

"The Judaism we cling to when paying a high price for survival we may be tempted to abandon under the warm sun of friendship and freedom."

Reasons include intermarriage, the influence of agnostics and science, he said. "The space age renders us so confident of human power that we cease to look for power from God."

Senate Unit to Quiz Nurse Execs on Bill

Sen. William Romano, D-Warren, chairman of the state affairs committee, said the committee will question representatives of various nursing associations tomorrow to draft a new bill to regulate the nursing profession in Michigan.

"We have already had one meeting with state officials to work out details of this complicated bill," Romano said. "Our one objective is to bring the law up to date and protect the high standards of the nursing profession without adding more costs to the patients.

"There are too many grey areas in the present law that is not entirely obeyed because medical practice over many years has demonstrated implicit obedience to the law is impractical.

"We want a law that is practical and can be obeyed and enforced to protect the public health.

* * *

"Our meetings with various interested organizations and agencies will continue, as we promised last session when a temporary substitute plan was approved and became law.

* * *

"The Committee wants to be able to introduce such a bill early in the 1966 session."

Witnesses at the committee session tomorrow include Charles Wagg, chief assistant director of the State Mental Health Department; Julia Brandeberry, R.N., chief of the nursing division of the State Health Department, and Alice Dorian, R.N. executive director of the State Board of Nursing.

They told the committee they had met with nursing and medical groups last Friday and had ironed out some of the controversies that prevented agreement on a permanent solution earlier this year.

Frost, Rain Grip Nation; Crops Hurt

By the Associated Press

Frost, rain and unseasonably low temperatures gripped the nation today and growers were told by officials in some states that much of their crop might be wiped out.

A killing frost struck northern Wisconsin, a state already hit hard by rains which have left crops trapped in fields too muddy for mechanical harvesting.

The official said a third of Wisconsin's sweet corn crop might be lost. Serious losses also are expected in carrots and cabbage. The rains have increased the possibility of a potato blight.

Many thousands of dollars damage, especially corn and soybeans, was reported after the first killing frost Sunday in much of Minnesota. A county agent estimated that half the corn and soybeans were lost in Kandiyohi County.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Heavy damage to other vegetables also was reported.

Coral Gables, Fla., was hit with 3.46 inches of rain and Miami Airport had 2.21 inches. Miami Beach had 2.18 inches South Miami 2.55 inches and Tamiami Trail at 40-Mile Bend, 1.56 inches.

★ ★ ★

The September rainfall in Florida is 11.37 inches, 3 inches above normal.

Rain pounded southern Texas from San Antonio to the southern tip. It was the first general precipitation since May.

SITUATION IN HAND

Some homes were flooded temporarily and a highway was closed, but the situation was in hand. Most rains measured 2 or 3 inches, but Poteet, a village 30 miles south of San Antonio, had an unofficial fall of 5 inches.

The Northeast continued in the grip of a drought and giant waves pounded the West Coast.

★ ★ ★

Brief showers helped alleviate the drought in the Northeast the last two days, but the rain was not enough. Boston has had 18.31 inches of rain this year. The normal amount is 31.66 inches.

Gov. John W. King of New Hampshire has declared the drought a disaster list.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MRS. ETHEL Rockwell who passed away September 27, 1964. Greatly missed by Husband Hovelle.

IN MEMORY OF CAROL ANNE Rookard.
The pangs of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Dad and sisters.

Outlook Said Dim for 14B

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long has 'grave doubts" the Senate will vote this year on President Johnson's controversial bill to nullify the 'right to work" laws of 19 states.

The principal cause of Long's doubts is Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., an implacable foe of the measure to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

It is this section which authorizes states to enact laws against "union shop" labor contracts.

Dirksen told United Press International yesterday he still plans to mount a filibuster against the repeal bill, which is scheduled to come up in the Senate this week.

If the administration wants to try to push a vote, he said, it had better be ready to let other key bills "just languish" while the extended debate drones on.

LACK SUPPORT

Long said yesterday he did not believe that supporters of the 14B repealer could command the necessary two-thirds vote to curb Dirksen's filibuster.

Even before the right to work repealer comes up later this week, the Senate faced the threat of a filibuster against another bill — the one to implement an agreement with Canada on import of auto parts.

MOVIE CAREER HALTED—Jan Berry, whose movie career ended the day it began, gets some consolation from his girlfriend, Jill Gibson, while resuming his medical studies His leg was broken while he was watching a train sequence being filmed for "Easy Come, Easy Go" in which he and his rock 'n' roll partner, Dean Torrence, were to have starred.

Crash on Movie Set Just Gaining Reality

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—To Jan Berry, the whole affair had a feeling of unreality: the onrushing locomotive, bodies strewn about as on a battlefield, his own leg dangling at a crazy angle.

THOMAS

But the event was painfully real. A month later, the rock 'n' roll singer is able to gain some perspective on the catastrophe that nipped his budding film career on the day it began.

★ ★ ★

Berry is a member of the singing act, Jan and Dean, the latter being Dean Torrence. The two boys messed around with rock 'n' roll while students at University High School in West Los Angeles, scored with their first record, "Jenny Lee."

In the shaggy, semi-literate world of rock 'n' roll, Jan and Dean stand out. They are well-groomed and look like football ends, which they once were.

SCHOOLING FIRST

Although they can earn as much as $5,000 per night on singing dates, they refused to let careers interrupt their schooling. Dan graduated in art at the University of Southern California. Jan got through pre-med at UCLA and is now in his second year at California College of Medicine.

Their wholesome appeal attracted the interest of Paramount Pictures, which signed them for a starring film, "Easy Come, Easy Go."

Last month, they began shooting the movie with a train sequence at Chatsworth in the San Fernando Valley. The first day's work was actually the tag of the film, in which the pair was to race before a train.

Jan and Dean had performed their scenes during the day, then they watched as the camera crew filmed the oncoming train. The camera was mounted on a flatcar which was pulled by another locomotive.

"This is too dangerous for me; I'm getting off," said Dean after a couple of takes.

"I'm going to watch just one more take," said Jan, remaining on the flatcar.

After the next shot began, the oncoming locomotive seemed to be gaining on the camera flatcar, which was traveling about 40 m.p.h. Said Jan: "The flagman in the other engine was waving us off but I still couldn't believe what was going on."

Within seconds it was apparent that a crash was coming. Jan joined the crew members in leaping off the flatcar.

DOT LANDSCAPE

"I saw the other guys sprawled all over the landscape, bloody and delirious," Jan recalled. "I still couldn't believe it. Then I looked down at my foot and saw that it was pointed the wrong way."

Somehow, he managed to hop to a road where he hailed a car to take him to a hospital to set the leg. Fourteen members of the crew also suffered broken bones; director Barry Shear's injuries included four breaks in an arm, two in the pelvis and eight ribs.

Jan returned to medical school this month, and Paramount is hopeful he will be recovered enough to resume "Easy Come, Easy Go" in January.

His Ducking Cargo Violated Height Limit

INLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)— Eugene Goebel was tagged by a police officer for violating the California freeway height limit of 13 feet, six inches, as his truck rolled through town.

He protested vainly that his cargo ducked every time he came to a low bridge. The truck was carrying two giraffes. Lei, 15 feet tall, and Sudan, 13 feet. The animals were in crates on a flatbed bruck enroute to a zoo.

Black Box Tracks Problems of Sewers

McPHERSON, Kan. (AP)— A little black box is keeping up with the condition of McPherson's sewers.

A light on the box flashes when some malfunction occurs in the city sewer system. Officials estimate the electronic device will save the city 100 man hours of work per month previously spent in tracking sewer problems.

Champagne bottles will soon be equipped with a plastic opening ring imbedded in the inside groove of the cork, for easier opening.

Red Chiefs Seek to Solve Russia's Economic Woes

MOSCOW (AP) — Big black cars drove up in front on the Soviet Communist party Central Committee's administrative building today, bringing party leaders to launch a new effort to solve the country's economic problems.

The Central Committee apparently began meeting on schedule at 9 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The party newspaper Pravda made no mention of the meeting but filled half of its front page with an outline of what the Central Committee had to do and what it had done in the past year to set the country on a better course.

The editorial did not mention former Premier Nikita Khrushchev, blamed for much of the difficulty the country now faces in industry and agriculture.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER

"The workers of agriculture this year met the serious difficulty caused by unfavorable weather, the drought in some regions and excessive rain in others," the editorial said.

Then it went on to outline what tasks still lie ahead. Among the projects before the party leadership, Pravda said, were:

Improvement in planning and enlarging the independence of industrial units.

★ ★ ★

Improvement in the management of industry.

Wider use of economic stimuli of industry, a Communist synonym for higher pay and more fringe benefits for better workers and managers.

USE OF CAPITAL

Improvement in the use of capital.

Improvement in the quality of production and the productivity of labor.

★ ★ ★

"Much has been done to improve the life of the people," Pravda said, "but the party and its Central Committee see how much remains to be done to increase living standards.

"The affairs of the party itself must be subordinated to this."

Pravda took a glancing shot at Khrushchev, commenting that in the management of the economy the party and government must work on a "strictly scientific, realutic basis."

SUPREME SOVIET

The meeting is expected to continue until just before the opening of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Parliament, on Oct. 1. This organization will go through the formality of considering the recommendations of the party Central Committee, then adopt them.

Pravda said that the Central Committee could already see some improvement in the economy as a result of decisions taken during the past year. That covers the period since Khrushchev's replacement by party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

★ ★ ★

"Already in the first half of the current year the volume of industrial production has grown 9.3 per cent in comparison to the same period of last year," the editorial said.

An estimated seven million of America's 24 million teenagers have driver's licenses.

Ex-Hotel Man Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—George D. Smith, 76, former owner of the Mark Hopkins Hotel, San Francisco's Nob Hill landmark, died Friday of a heart attack. He opened the hotel in 1926 and, in 1939, opened the famous "Top of the Mark" lounge on the top of the hotel.

REAR ATTRACTION — Traffic and passersby must have goggled at this sight in Indianapolis. However, it was not the spare tire but just a tractor tire being transported.

Whittler Turns Out Carved Link Chains

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Give Sam Matthews an old broom handle or some scrap lumber and he'll turn it into an intricately - carved chain, a lamp, a picture frame, a doll, a horse or a walking cane.

Matthews, 46, has been whittling as a hobby for 28 years and has produced hundreds of chains which are cut from one piece of wood. He has a hard time convincing people that he never glues or inserts any pieces even though some chains have 50 links extending about six feet. One link takes about an hour to whittle.

Fire Hits Home for the Elderly

42 Evacuated From Building in Fenton

FENTON (AP) — Forty-two elderly occupants of a convalescent home were evacuated when a predawn fire threatened the establishment Sunday.

There were no casualties and Fire Chief Bruce Dorland said "We were lucky. It could have been a disaster."

Young people at the scene aided firemen in removing the inmates, some of them bedridden.

The fire, confined to a linen closet, a rear hall and a stairway, was at the Hilltop Acres Convalescent Home in this little city of 8,500 population 15 miles south of Flint.

18 SUMMONED

All 18 men of Fenton's fire department were summoned to the scene at a 1:15 a.m. alarm from the home's fire alarm system.

Chief Borland credited the fire alarm system and the aid of the young people in preventing a disaster.

* * *

The home, an old three-story stone building, keeps its inmates on two floors. The occupants are in their 70s and 80s.

Borland said he and his men asked fire spectators for help. They included men and women in their 20s and late teens.

AIDED FIREMEN

"They pitched right in," he said. "They helped take the people out. Half a dozen—bedridden—were carried out. The young women comforted those who were frightened."

Some of the inmates were taken to a nearby elementary school for the night. The others were lodged elsewhere.

Borland said the home is operated by Mary Shannon and an assistant, Mary Stiverson. Miss Shannon is in Ireland on a vacation.

The fire began in the linen closet but the cause was undetermined, Borland said.

Guests Have a Hot Time at Saints & Sinners Rib

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The air-conditioning failed at the Waldorf when Circus Saints & Sinners were ribbing Steve Lawrence & Eydie Gorme, and Big Names from Gov. Rockefeller to Tom Poston to Huntington Hartford got out of their jackets, into shirt sleeves. The Governor arose from his table and strode across the room to put his arms around Stage Delicatessen Owner Max Asnas, also in shirt sleeves.

WILSON

* * *

"Steve Lawrence's voice changed when he was in his teens," Walter Kiernan, the official ribber, said. "Now sometimes his voice changes right in the middle of a note . . . Steve got his start auditioning for Arthur Godfrey's 'Talent Scouts.' Now Steve has a CBS show and Arthur Godfrey is auditioning for 'Talent Scouts.'

"Eydie wanted to change her name for show business, but her mother wouldn't let her. Her mother said, 'If you become a success, how will the neighbors know?' "

Hershfield advised the honor guests that the club always closes lunches with "God Bless America." Steve Lawrence ad libbed, "Then I'd better just listen. I learned the lyrics from Robert Goulet."

Bid to Signing Gets Rejection of Playwright

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Playwright Arthur Miller has turned down an invitation to watch President Johnson sign the Arts and Humanities Act because the U.S. government has not answered a peace proposal from North Viet Nam.

In a telegram rejecting the White House invitation, Miller said Sunday that he had urged Johnson to respond with a definite American proposal for a cease-fire and negotiations.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

New Drug Aids Most Arthritis Sufferers

Q—Is the new drug, Indocin, which is used for arthritis, experimental?

Should it be used in addition to cortisone? What are the side effects?

A—Although indomethacin (Indocin) has only recently been made available in the United States it has been used for several years in some European countries and is no longer considered experimental.

BRANDSTADT

It has given excellent results in about 80 per cent of the persons who have used it for gouty arthritis, osteoarthritis (hypertropic arthritis), rheumatoid arthritis and other varieties.

It has a distinct advantage over the cortisone group of drugs in that it can be used for prolonged periods.

* * *

In the treatment of these chronic conditions, therefore, it should replace the cortisones because of the serious side effects of the latter.

SIDE EFFECT

The side effects from too large a dosage of indomethacin are headache, depression, dizziness and digestive upsets. If any of these occur the dosage should be reduced.

Q—Is there such a thing as a white-livered person? Is it contagious?

* * *

A — Although Shakespeare speaks of 'lily-livered cowards' this expression is purely fanciful.

In fatty degeneration of the liver, the organ becomes pale yellow. This may occur in alcoholic cirrhosis, diabetes, obesity and various types of poisoning.

In cancer of the liver the tumor is white but the liver tissues not yet invaded by the cancer maintain normal color.

* * *

In either case, there is no danger of contagion.

Q—Why do so many elderly people take niacin? What is it given for? Could it cause a rash or itching?

A—Niacin or nicotinic acid is given for the vitamin deficiency disease, pellagra, but most elderly people who take it — and in very large doses — do so to reduce the cholesterol level in their blood.

This helps to prevent hardening of the arteries.

Large doses often cause flushing of the neck with or without itching, but this can be prevented by switching to the closely related nicotinamide.

Q—Is there anything wrong in eating raw meat? I really love it.

* * *

A—The only harm is the risk of getting fish, beef or pork tapeworm or (from pork only) trichinosis.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Pontiac Press. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Income taxes provided 80 per cent of all tax revenue of the national government in fiscal 1963-64, sales and gross receipts supplied 58 per cent of all the states' tax revenue, and property taxes provided 87 per cent of all tax revenues of local governments.

Cong's Execution of 2 GIs Is 'Wanton Murder'---U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States today denounced the execution of two more American soldiers by the Viet Cong as "acts of wanton murder."

Communist broadcasts said an American captain and a sergeant were executed in reprisal for the execution of three Communist sympathizers last week by a South Vietnamese firing squad.

"The Viet Cong have carried out more acts of wanton murder against American military prisoners," an official U.S. spokesman said.

"These acts show utter disregard for humanitarian principles and the provisions of the 1949 Geneva prisoners of war convention of which the Viet Cong's masters, the Hanoi regime, are adherents."

Radio Hanoi identified the Americans as Capt. Humbert R. Versace of Baltimore, Md., and Sgt. 1.C. Kenneth M. Roraback, whose wife lives in Fayetteville, N.C.

"The Viet Cong's brutal conduct can in no way be justified as a reprisal for the Vietnamese government's recent execution of three civilian, nonuniformed Viet Cong agitators," the American spokesman said.

"These agitators were executed following a trial conducted in accordance with established procedure, in which they were convicted of fomenting public violence."

Versace, whose father retired from the Army two years ago as a colonel, was captured in October 1963, when the Viet Cong overran a special forces camp at Tan Phu, 110 miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

★ ★ ★

Roraback was captured in November 1963 when the Viet Cong overran another special forces camp west of Saigon near the Cambodian border. One of two other Americans captured with him, Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex., escaped last July.

RORABACK'S PARENTS

Roraback is the son of Esther M. Robbins, Baldwin, N.Y., and George D. Roraback, West Hollywood, Fla.

Radio Hanoi said the two Americans were executed Sunday morning in a "liberated area of South Viet Nam" — meaning in Viet Cong territory — because they "had committed many crimes against the South Vietnamese people."

Then, quoting a Viet Cong spokesman, it accused the United States of "having ordered their henchmen to kill" the three Communist sympathizers executed in Dan Nang last Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The three were charged with inciting an anti-American demonstration at Da Nang, where a large U.S.-Vietnamese air base is located.

CONG AGENTS

Hundreds of Viet Cong agents are said to have been executed by the Saigon government, but only a few of the executions have been public or reported officially.

The Viet Cong had warned earlier that they would make their American prisoners "pay for their blood debts" if Viet Cong men held captive were executed.

Another American, Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, 25, of Perryville, Ark., was executed by the Viet Cong June 25 in reprisal for the execution of Communist terrorists in Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The Viet Cong spokesman quoted by Hanoi radio today said the Communists "always strictly observed humanitarian policy toward prisoners of war."

MRS. VICTOR THORNE

Mother of Silent Troy Teen Undergoes Mental Exam

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Troy, Mich., mother underwent a psychiatric examination today after telling how she abandoned her mentally retarded teen-age son in Miami because "I didn't know what else to do with him."

Mrs. Victor Thorne flew to Miami late last night, five days after the mute, smiling boy was found in the city's bustling International Airport with three pennies in his pocket and no identification.

She surrendered to airport police and was taken before Juvenile Court Judge Ben Sheppard, who ordered the psychiatric examination after a 30-minute hearing.

"You just dump him and expect someone else to pick up the pieces," the judge lectured the 44-year-old mother. "That isn't motherly concern.

"I'm going to order a psychiatric evaluation for you." The judge said. "I firmly believe you need it."

★ ★ ★

"All right," Mrs. Thorne replied softly. ' Perhaps I do."

ANOTHER HEARING

The judge said another hearing would be held tomorrow.

Mrs. Thorne said she left her 13-year-old son, Richard, at the airport without the

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department identified the victim as Mrs. Robert G. Knight, killed when an automobile driven by her husband collided with a car driven by Gerald C. Quick of 687 Balboa.

Mrs. Knight was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Quick is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General.

The accident occurred shortly before 11:30 p.m., according to deputies. Neither driver was held.

The Knight car was travelling east on Mount Clemens, Quick was going north on Opdyke, witnesses told deputies.

Must Restore Balance of 2 Parties---Ford

House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, in a speech to Oakland County Republicans Saturday, said that the people must restore the balance of the two-party system in the next election.

Speaking at the annual GOP picnic, Rep. Ford said he was "envious to a degree" that Deomcrats outnumber Repulbicans two to one in the House, "but proud of the fact that we follow our own will.

"The Democrats don't know whether to clap their hands or click their heels when a message comes from the White House," said Ford.

About 4,000 persons turned out for the event, held at the Ivory Farm in White Lake Township. Cool weather was blamed in keeping the total from reaching the anticipated 6,000.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Ford, the other special guests were Gov. Romney and Rep. William S. Broomfield of the 18th District.

IRRESPONSIBLE'

Ford called President Johnson's administration the "most irresponsible in fiscal matters in the history of this country."

Wider, Lower Look Revealed at Preview

A wider, lower look, and more models—that's the Pontiac and Tempest outlook for 1966.

The new line was previewed by auto writers of the nation today at Oakland Hills Country Club. Models will go on display Oct. 7.

From the Tempest to the Grand Prix, extensive advancements have been made in automotive styling, engineering, safety and model availability.

The entire Tempest line has been redesigned, expanded by the addition of five new models including a new GTO series, and for the first time in an American passenger car, an overhead camshaft six-cylinder engine is offered as standard equipment on all Tempest models except the GTO.

A new series, the 2 Plus 2 with two models, and a new Star Chief Executive sports coupe has been added to the Pontiac lineup, and all models, including the Grand Prix, incorporate both refinements in profile and complete changes in the front and rear.

"Our new models are a true reflection of Pontiac's policy of continuous and evolutionary progress in automotive design and with our new overhead cam engine we feel we are presenting a major engineering breakthrough as well," John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac's general manager, said.

Speaking of the new Tempest engine, DeLorean said: "Our six opens a whole new set of doors for us. For example, 2.5-million sixes were sold last year. We honestly feel that we can get 10 per cent of this six-cylinder market over the next few years — that's nearly 200,000 more additional sales."

★ ★ ★

The Catalina, 2 Plus 2 and Grand Prix have an over-all length of 214.8 inches, 0.2 inches longer than last year, and a wheelbase of 121 inches. The Star Chief Executive and Bonneville measures 221.8 inches over-all, a 0.1-ich increase, and their wheelbases are 124 inches. All Tempest models are one-half-inch longer over-all, measuring 206.4 inches, and have a 115-inch wheelbase.

INCREASE MODELS BY SEVEN

Pontiac has increased the number of models from 26 last year to 33 in 1966.

The Tempest series includes a sports coupe, four-door sedan and station wagon.

In addition to the four-door hardtop, which is new this year, a sports coupe, four-door sedan, hardtop coupe, convertible and station wagon are available in the Tempest Custom.

A LeMans four-door hardtop is also new for 1966 and it joins a sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible in that series.

The new GTO series includes a sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible.

The Catalina series has a two- and four-door sedan, a hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and both a two-seat and three-seat station wagon.

★ ★ ★

The new 2 Plus 2 series offers a hardtop coupe and a convertible.

A four-door sedan, four-door hardtop and a new model, a two-door hardtop coupe, are available in the Star Chief Executive series.

A Bonneville hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and station wagon are offered in that series and the Grand Prix hardtop coupe tops Pontiac's new car list.

De Lorean predicted his division would sell 825,000 cars this calendar year — 20 per cent over the previous record of 683,716 set in 1964.

He added that Pontiac continued to solidify its third-place standing in the industry and should finish a strong third this year for the fifth consecutive year.

In 1961 Pontiac's margin over its nearest competitor was 2,000 units, this year's margin should be about 175,000 units.

Unique in both engineering concept and design, the Pontiac overhead cam engine is smoother, has larger output

Bit Brisk Outside

How Now, Weatherman?

During the last eight days, Pontiac weather ran the gamut from sweltering highs to shivering lows.

Just a week ago Sunday, 1955's record high of 92 was threatened as temperatures flitted dangerously close with a 90.

Today, the record low of 34 set in 1889 almost toppled as the mercury slid to a low of 36 at 6 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 1 p.m., it registered 57.

Outstate, Old Man Winter leapfrogged over autumn and dumped three inches of snow on Kincheloe Air Force Base, south of Sault Ste. Marie, yesterday, just four days after the end of summer.

The Upper Peninsula received brief snow flurries at Ironwood Saturday.

★ ★ ★

In both cases, the snow melted as the day wore on.

FRIGID BLAST

Temperatures dipped to the 20s in a blast of frigid air from Lake Superior.

The snowfall was a record for the early date, surpassing the 2.7 inches which fell on Sept. 29, 1956, said the Soo Chamber of Commerce.

Increasing cloudiness and warmer temperatures are predicated for the Pontiac area tonight with the low falling between 38 and 44.

Annual Report Cost to Get Another Look

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will take another look at the cost of telling Birmingham residents about Birmingham.

Their consideration of an annual city report has been snagged on an unfavorable cost estimate.

While budgeting municipal funds for the 1965-66 fiscal year, commissioners set aside $3,000 to be used for the city's first annual report.

Late last month they directed administrators to prepare the report, which is to have a calendar format.

* * *

The report, describing municipal facilities and services, would be distributed in December.

CAN'T MEET DEADLINE

However, the reply from administrators last week was that it would be impossible for the report to be completed by December.

Administrative aide John Saefke reported that the work would require too much time of too many people.

One alternative would be to let an advertising firm handle the job, Saefke said.

* * *

However, that would take the estimated cost up to $4,500 or $6,500.

DEFEAT MOTION

Commissioners defeated a motion to ask MacManus, John and Adams of Bloomfield Hills for a firm bid.

Mayor Robert W. Page who promised that the issue was not dead, is to return to the commission tonight with a report.

* * *

City Manager R. S. Kenning also will have some specific figures for commissioners to study.

Storm Debbie Is Mild, but Under Watch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical depression Debbie was expected to intensify today as she moved out into the strength-giving warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Hurricane Carol moved around in the Atlantic, about 1,800 miles east of North Carolina and was of no immediate danger to land with her mild winds.

Weather forecasters were keeping a close watch on Debbie as the storm, located at 5 a.m. EST about 500 miles south of New Orleans, La., moved toward the northwest at 7 miles an hour.

Highest winds in Debbie were clocked at 35 miles in squalls 150 miles out from the center in the northern semicircle. Winds over the northern portion of the Gulf of Mexico, churned to a froth just two weeks ago by Hurricane Betsy, were expected to create rough seas.

CRAFT WARNED

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans warned small craft along the northern Gulf Coast not to venture out into open water and that interests in that areas should remain in contact with advisories on the storm.

Carol was moving toward the southeast at a slow speed. No increase in size or intensity was expected.

Amish Will Rule Today on Teacher

CAMDEN (AP) — A group of Amish parents today rejected a compromise offer from state officials in a clash over the teaching of 23 Amish children by a noncertified teacher.

LANSING (AP) — The Amish at Camden were to decide today whether they would meet state education requirements by allowing a certified teacher to teach several hours a day in their one-room school.

State officials awaited a decision on a proposal made last Tuesday which would make the school's 23 pupils members of the Camden-Frontier school district and provide a teacher free of charge to the Amish.

If the members of the quiet-living religious sect reject the proposal, the State Board of Education would have to decide on the state's next step, said Acting State Schools Supt. Alexander Kloster.

The next board meeting is scheduled for Oct. 5.

NONCERTIFIED

The Amish, who do not believe in formal education beyond the eighth grade, have been using noncertified members of their own community to teach at the school.

They have found non-Amish teachers "too worldly," hey said.

State Board of Education member Donald M.D. Thurber told the board last week the Amish received the latest proposal courteously but were completely noncommital and asked for time to study it and consult with their leaders and bishop.

Kloster said in previous proposals the Amish were asked to hire a suitable teacher. The latest proposal, he added in effect make their school a public school.

BOTH PRESENT

Under the plan, the regular Amish teacher, Ruth Graber, 20, would be permitted to spend the full day in the school. After the certified teacher had taught a specified number of hours, she would be permitted to take over for religious instruction and other Amish-interest subjects.

"The position of the State Board of Education is that it will do everything reasonable and possible to accommodate these good people, but there can be no question that the board must operate within the legal framework established by the Legislature for the protection of educational standards," said board President Thomas Brennan.

Three bills and two amendments intended to exempt the Amish from the state law came up in the Legislature this year, but were rejected after long hours of heated, emotional debate.

"What did you expect would happen to him when you left him alone in a large airport terminal with a sandwich and three pennies in his pocket?" the judge asked.

"Didn't you think he might starve or get hurt all alone, unable to talk and without resources?"

"My problem had reached a point where it was unendurable," Mrs. Thorne replied quietly. "I couldn't give him money. He wouldn't know what to do with it.

"I wanted someone to find him and take good care of him and give him a good home," she said. "I knew he would attract attention."

* * *

Mrs. Thorne said her husband didn't know that she had left their son in Miami until he saw the boy's picture flashed on a television screen in Chicago, where he and his wife were staying on a business trip.

NEAR TEARS

"He put me on the plane to Miami and told me I must make a clean breast of it," she told the judge, coming close to tears for the only time.

Rap LBJ Selection for U.S. Judgeship

BOSTON (AP) — Bar association leaders expressed displeasure today at President Johnson's announcement that he will nominate Francis X. Morrissey, an old friend of the Kennedy family, to a federal judgeship.

The Massachusetts Bar Association and the Federal Judiciary Committee of the American Bar Association have opposed Morrissey's appointment in the past because they said he was unqualified for the post.

* * *

Officials of both groups appear ready now to speak against Morrissey's confirmation by the Senate.

President Johnson announced Sunday from Johnson City, Tex., that he would nominate Morrissey, a Boston municipal judge for the past seven years, for a life-time U.S. district judgeship in Massachusetts.

OPPOSED BEFORE

Walter H. McLaughlin, president of the Massachusetts bar, said that organization had opposed Morrissey's appointment in 1961 and 1963 when word spread of an impending nomination by the late President John F. Kennedy.

"I would have a pretty good idea the position they have twice taken after full debate would be affirmed," he said.

Morrissey, 55, was executive secretary to Kennedy when Kennedy served in Congress. He was once an aide to former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's father.

* *

When Edward M. Kennedy began his campaign in 1962 for election to the U.S. Senate from Massachusetts, Morrissey escorted him around the state and helped with the campaign. Sen. Kennedy submitted Morrissey's name to President Johnson.

McLaughlin said he will call a special meeting of the Massachusetts bar if the nomination goes to a Senate hearing before the next scheduled meeting Oct. 13.

INVESTIGATIONS

Albert E. Jenner, chairman of the ABA's Federal Judiciary Committee, said its investigations found Morrissey a "man of character and integrity."

The committee, however, concluded that Morrissey was unqualified for the federal bench, Jenner said.

* * *

"Judge Morrissey has no experience in the trial of cases. As a judge in Boston Municipal Court, he has presided over misdemeanor cases and minor civil litigation. He has had no experience in felony cases nor any equity jurisdiction. He has never presided over a jury," Jenner said in Chicago in a telephone interview.

He said Morrissey twice had failed the Massachusetts bar examination and would serve on the federal bench "so far as we can tell, with little aptitude."

NO COMMENT

Assistant press secretary Joseph Laitin said the White House had no comment on the critical reaction to Morrissey's selection.

Morrissey said: "I am very grateful to President Johnson for this demonstration of his confidence in me. I shall do everything in my power to prove worthy of the President's trust."

He was appointed to the Boston municipal judgeship in 1958 by former Gov. Foster Furcolo.

QUEEN VISITS HOME — Queen Hopia of Siggim, the former Hope Cooke of New York and Philadelphia, arrived in Kennedy Airport, N.Y., yesterday to "see doctors." She did not elaborate on her reasons for the medical visit.

Fire Kills Five in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A mother and four of her children burned to death today when fire swept a two-story row house in densely populated North Philadelphia. Four other children escaped the flames.

Neighbors said they were roused by screams and shrieks from those trapped inside the house.

Authorities said the victims were Mrs. Lucille Miller, 53, and her children Rupert, 12, Byron, 14, Wallace 10, Raymond 6 and Anthony 9.

A neighbor, Mrs. Margaret E. Coleman, said she heard Mrs. Miller crying, "Oh my God, my house is on fire help me! Please help me!"

The five other children leaped or were thrown to safety.

D.C. Home Rule Issue Close to Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revised bill to give District of Columbia residents self-government reaches the House floor today. Its backers confidently predict victory.

"We've got a minimum of 235 votes," said Rep. Abraham J. Multer, D-N.Y., a leader of a bipartisan group pushing for its passage. A majority of the House is 218.

* * *

Multer said there might be a filibuster by diehard opponents of the bill which would give Washington, with its heavily Negro population, the right to elect its own officials for the first time since 1874.

He said if this happens — it is done in the House by members demanding strict following of all rules and by repeated quorum calls — it may be Wednesday or Thursday before a final vote comes. "We'll just sit and twiddle our thumbs until it's over," Multer said.

In order that Jewish members of the House could be present for any votes during the Rosh Hashanah holidays today and Tuesday, an unprecedented Jewish religious service was arranged for the Capitol prayer room near the House chamber.

Backed up behind the home rule bill is a heavy schedule for the House this week.

A $2-billion pay raise bill for all federal workers is next on the schedule, with the complicated sugar bill and the highway beautification bill after that.

The Senate is taking the day off today. Tuesday, it takes up a bill to eliminate tariffs on new cars and auto parts between the United States and Canada. This may take all week, but if there is time, Senate leaders said they may bring up the controversial bill calling for repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

SHOP CONTRACTS

This section allows states to outlaw union shop contracts. Employers covered by such contracts must join a union within 30 days to hold a job. Nineteen states have such "right to work" laws. The union shop repealer has stirred considerable controversy, and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has threatened a filibuster to block it.

Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long said Sunday there are sufficient votes — about 55 — to pass the measure. But he said he doubted a filibuster could be shut off. A two-thirds majority of the 100-member chamber is necessary for that.

* * *

Long, in a taped interview for a New Orleans radio and television station, urged, however, that an attempt be made to get a vote.

"If we can't act on it this year," he said, "well, we can take a look at it again next year."

Junior Editors Quiz on— SEA GULLS

QUESTION: If some sea gulls live inland, what do they feed on?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In our picture we are looking at a remarkable scene. In the foreground is a field of fine wheat, planted by Mormon farmers in the old days of the West.

★ ★ ★

The grain is ripe; but a horde of large insects called Mormon crickets have desended on it and will destroy it unless something is done at once.

If the farmers pulled off the crickets one by one, the battle would be lost. They could not do this quickly enough. It was a desperate situation, for these wheat crops were vital to the pioneering Mormons.

Then something wonderful happened: great numbers of Franklin's gulls, a gull which lives inland, appeared and picked off the crickets, saving the crops.

★ ★ ★

In gratitude, the Mormons erected a monument to these gulls, which can be seen in Salt Lake City today.

Franklin's gull breeds in the inland marshes. It is a handsome bird with a black head and lives on a varied diet of insects, small fish and mollusks, berries and anything else edible it can find.

Other kinds of sea gulls often live inland, especially Herring Gulls, which find large fresh water lakes to their liking. However, most gulls prefer the sea shore, because they have such an appetite for sea food.

Short Circuit Blamed for Newaygo Firm Fire

NEWAYGO (AP) —A fire, apparently caused by an electrical short circuit, destroyed the Dawes Fermentation, Inc., plant early Sunday.

No one was injured. A company spokesman estimated damages in excess of $500,000.

The 1,200 sesimograph stations around the globe detect about half a million earthquakes during a year. About 100,000 can be felt or heard. About 1,000 cause damage.

Large Party to Pay Back Invitations

By The Emily Post Institute

One of the least attractive customs that has arisen in recent years is that of giving large pay-back cocktail parties.

A hostess who has been invited to many parties herself, but who thinks she has not the time or the energy to give a number of small parties, invites on one evening all those to whom she is indebted and creates one large horror!

The guests are not chosen for compatibility, there are not enough places to sit down, the crowd is likely to be such that no one can move freely from group to group, or table, or bar, and the noise level reaches an intolerable pitch.

So, if you are a popular guest and incur social obligations with frequency, do make the effort to give small parties from time to time and avoid the necessity of a yearly pay-back.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE

Q: Will you please tell me if the father of the bride stands in the receiving line at the reception?

A: He sometimes stands in the receiving line, but usually he circulates among the guests just as he would at a ball or any other party where he is host.

Bride Dons Antique White Satin

Mary Elizabeth Shotka chose a gown of antique white satin for her marriage to Nicholaus Peter Musat, Saturday, in the Holy Name Church, Birmingham.

A matching pillbox held her silk illusion veil and her bouquet included white roses, Phalaenopsis orchids and ivy.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shotka of Troy and the Peter Musats of Detroit.

* * *

Mrs. John D. Sharkey of Ontonagon and Mrs. George F. Wallace of Chelsea attended their sister as honor matron and bridesmaid.

With Martin Pavelich, best man, were the bridegroom's brothers, John Musat of Detroit and Peter Musat of Wayne, who ushered.

After the reception in Greenfield's Birmingham Restaurant, the couple left for a northern honeymoon. Both are alumni of Michigan State University.

MRS. NICHOLAUS PETER MUSAT

Wed Saturday in Holy Name Church, Birmingham, were Mary Elizabeth Shotka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Shotka of Troy, and Nicholaus Peter Musat, son of the Peter Musats of Detroit.

Bounced Check Case Dismissed, Honeymoon OK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — An embarrassed pair of newlyweds wound up in the hands the law before they could go on their honeymoon. The check the bridegroom gave for the marriage license "bounced."

* * *

The young couple opened a joint checking account before being married, but the bridegroom-to-be did not file a signature card with the bank. When he signed a check and there was no signature on file, the check was returned.

* * *

Judge Harold Maurice heard the case and assured the couple they were properly married.

Store Redeems Old Certificate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. David Ettinger, 65, has proved that all women aren't impulse shoppers. She went shopping at a store here with a $10 gift certificate that was 24 years old. Before she began her buying trip, her husband had insisted, "They'll never make it good. It's too old."

Mrs. Ettinger had enough faith to pick out some cosmetics and a gift for a friend before presenting the gift certificate. The store redeemed it immediately.

Polly's Pointers

Sew Plaid Like Mad

DEAR POLLY — Those who dislike sewing on plaid materials because of the trouble in matching plaids may welcome my Pointer.

The bodice pieces of a pattern front and back and sleeves, after they are seamed together, all meet at the underarm seam. To have matching plaid lines, fold the sleeve pattern across at the points where the armhole and underarms seams intersect.

Also fold the front and back pieces where the armhole and underarm meet. When this is done correctly the lines made by the folds will be perpendicular to the straight of the goods line. I like to mark the line with a red pencil and label it the "plaid line."

* * *

When doing the final pressing of a finished garment, I also press the pattern so it stores flatly. I also date a pattern and make any appropriate comments on adjustments and materials. — LIZ

GIRLS—Many of you will soon be making school clothes from plaid fabrics so I am sure that this Pointer will be most welcome. Liz's method still requires care and caution but I found it to be sure if carefully followed. I prefer the use of a straight pin to identify the plaid line being followed rather than a red pencil mark. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When you buy a bottle of cooking oil, fold a paper napkin in half, wrap it around the bottle and secure with a rubber band. The drip which usually runs down the bottle to soil clean shelf paper is absorbed by the paper napkin and there are no resulting greasy rings.—MRS. A. T.

DEAR POLLY — For a long time I have been trying to come up with a good way to save the yolks of separated eggs. I now keep each yolk in the original half shell after separating it from the white.

To "close" the shell, wrap a small piece of plastic wrap or foil around the shell and place it upright in the egg rack in the refrigerator to keep for use in the immediate future. — SHIRLEY

Rails, Airlines Strong

Stock Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved higher early today, showing strength in rails, airlines and assorted key stocks.

Steels were unchanged and little movement was shown by nonferrous metals despite higher commodity prices for copper.

Trading was fairly active although many Wall Streeters were not at their desks because of Jewish holidays.

A 2-point gain by du Pont helped boost the averages, as did a gain of more than a point by General Motors.

FRACTIONAL GAINERS

Eastern Air Lines, up 1, highlighted the airlines. United and Pan American were among fractional gainers. American Airlines lost about a point.

Prices were unevenly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Up to a point were O'Okiep Copper and Paddington "A" (ex dividend). Fractional gainers included Creole Petroleum, Syntex, Pyle National and Reliance insurance.

On Friday the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose 1.1 to 342.2.

Herald Tribune Back on Stands

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune appeared on newsstands today for the first time since it shut down 11 days ago in support of the strikebound New York Times.

The newspaper resigned from the Publishers Association of New York Saturday, citing "economic and other considerations" for resuming publication.

Negotiations continue today between the striking AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild and the Times and between the Mailers Union and the Publishers Association.

A Guild spokesman said some progress had been made Sunday, but added: "I don't expect an early break in the deadlock, not even this week."

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16 in a dispute over job guarantees against automation and mergers, a voice in the introduction of automation, improved pensions and a union shop agreement requiring all editorial employes to join the Guild.

All other major dailies in New York suspended publication in support of the Times, except the New York Post. The Post resigned from the association during the 114-day strike in 1962-63.

There are 7,000 fabric specialty shops in the nation, which last year accounted for about 39 per cent of all home-sewing fabrics sold.

VIETNAMSES SPEARSMEN—Montagnard tribesmen display skill with spears in an exhibition at the inauguration of the "Rear Regional Force" at Kontum, South Viet Nam, Saturday. About 40 per cent of the newly created semimilitary force will be Montagnard tribesmen.

Wealthy Countries Urged to Aid Poor

WASHINGTON (AP)—President George D. Woods of the World Bank urged high income countries today to send "a greater flow of long-term capital on less burdensome terms" to the underdeveloped world.

Woods painted a generally dismal picture of the developing countries' efforts to raise their standards of living.

While urging greater external aid for the poorer nations, Woods said "It is the effectiveness of internal effort which to a large extent is going to determine the future of international development assistance.

"In my daily activities," he continued, "I am constantly and sympathetically aware of the impatience, disappointments and frustrations in the developing countries; but at the same time I am conscious of the frustration and disillusionment that the industrial countries feel about development finance.

"Governments which provide development finance are subjected to searching questions by their legislatures and peoples about it . . . performance will have to stand up to close scrutiny."

Woods said that income is rising in the industrial countries but that the level of development aid to the less affluent countries has been stationary for several years.

Out of about 80 developing countries in the bank, Woods said about one-third has attained the target growth rate of 5 per cent.

However, he said about half of the nations had raised income per person by one per cent or less per year as they struggled to stay ahead of burgeoning populations.

The average per capita income is about $120 a year for this group.

The need for stepping up aid to the developing nations was the theme of Woods' speech on the opening day of the World Bank — International Monetary Fund annual meeting.

Milford Woman Hurt in Traffic Accident

Miss Both's automobile slid out of control and off the pavement on West Commerce Road in Milford Township.

Theft, Killing Hit Museums

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (UPI)—A $5,000 blue topaz was discovered missing from a new museum in Weatherford yesterday, only four blocks from where another museum's caretaker was found dead and believed murdered Saturday.

Police said they did not believe there was any connection between the puzzling stabbing death of 83-year-old John L. Reid, caretaker of the Texas Railroad Museum, and the theft of the gem, although the possibility was not completely discounted.

Reid was found robbed and stabbed to death near the old museum building. Officers have been unable to find any leads.

Theft of the 333½-carat topaz, believed the largest of its kind cut from a stone in the Southwest, was discovered early yesterday at the newly opened Rockhound Museum.

* * *

Burglars took the semiprecious, emerald-cut gem from a black pad after breaking the display glass.

Also missing was a star ruby ring, but a smaller piece of topaz on the pad in front of the larger stone was not moved.

Captured State Escapee Admits Stealing 8 Cars

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—A Michigan prison camp escapee captured here Sunday admitted stealing at least eight cars since his Aug. 25 flight, State Police said.

Wilbur E. Smith, 22, alias Ed Williams, fled the Cassidy Lake Prison Camp at Chelsea, Mich., with another inmate, Craig Rishe, 23.

Police said when Smith was seized he was driving a 1965 model auto stolen Sunday from Farmington, Mich. They said he told them he took the cars while touring through Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Utah and California since his escape.

Smith, from Berrien County, Mich., was sentenced to 2-10 years for breaking and entering.

Morningstar, 2918 W. Huron, finished third over-all in the East Detroit Open. Thirty-six participants competed in the tourney.

South Viet Nam has only 200 physicians for 16 million people. Life expectancy is only 35.

Rusk to Have a Busy Week

To Meet With Many Leaders at U.N. in NY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk sweeps into a whirl of diplomatic appointments today which included Pakistan's foreign minister and perhaps Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Launching a two-week visit to the headquarters of the United Nations, Rusk planned to see as many as he could of the 88 leaders attending the U.N. General Assembly's 20th anniversary session.

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto promptly got a morning date with Rusk, presumably to press for the plebiscite in Kashmir Pakistan wants and India opposes. The United States does not want to take sides in the quarrel and says it should be handled through the United Nations.

Rusk had appointments today also with the foreign ministers of France, Holland and Tunisia, but whether he would get in a proposed afternoon discussion with Gromyko remained in doubt. U.S. officials said there were scheduling difficulties.

The Rusk-Gromyko dialogue, which has become a yearly event at the United Nations fall gathering, shaped up as the first high-level contact between the United States and the Soviet Union since roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman went to Moscow in July.

Rusk intended to go over a wide range of subjects with the Soviet foreign affairs chief. But U.S. officials foresaw no quick breakthrough on major East-West questions. They figured U.S.-Soviet cooperation on the Kashmir dispute did not spread beyond that. Meanwhile, the Kremlin is embracing North Viet Nam's cause in the Viet Nam war.

The most promising topic appeared to be an agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons. Both the American and Russian presentations to the General Assembly listed this as top priority. The catch is: Moscow's version would kill Washington's plans for sharing nuclear weapons with its European allies.

The assembly's 25-nation steering committee scheduled a meeting this afternoon to decide what to do with Gromyko's proposals for a nuclear non-dissemination treaty and for a declaration against "foreign interference in the internal affairs of states." By the latter, Gromyko said he means what he terms aggression by the United States in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the Congo.

'U.S. Jews Face a Threat Greater Than Persecution'

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Jews today face a threat "far more severe than any Jewish persecution," a Detroit rabbi warned Sunday.

"The shofar (trumpet) sounded through the ages to call on the Jewish people to endure every form of oppression and to remain true to their faith," Rabbi Leon Fram said in a Rosh Hashanah message.

"The Judaism we cling to when paying a high price for survival we may be tempted to abandon under the warm sun of friendship and freedom."

Reasons include intermarriage, the influence of agnostics and science, he said. "The space age renders us so confident of human power that we cease to look for power from God."

Senate Unit to Quiz Nurse Execs on Bill

Sen. William Romano, D-Warren, chairman of the state affairs committee, said the committee will question representatives of various nursing associations tomorrow to draft a new bill to regulate the nursing profession in Michigan.

"We have already had one meeting with state officials to work out details of this complicated bill," Romano said. "Our one objective is to bring the law up to date and protect the high standards of the nursing profession without adding more costs to the patients.

"There are too many grey areas in the present law that is not entirely obeyed because medical practice over many years has demonstrated implicit obedience to the law is impractical.

"We want a law that is practical and can be obeyed and enforced to protect the public health.

* * *

"Our meetings with various interested organizations and agencies will continue, as we promised last session when a temporary substitute plan was approved and became law.

* * *

"The Committee wants to be able to introduce such a bill early in the 1966 session."

Witnesses at the committee session tomorrow include, Charles Wagg, chief assistant director of the State Mental Health Department; Julia Brandeberry, R.N., chief of the nursing division of the State Health Department, and Alice Dorian, R.N. executive director of the State Board of Nursing.

They told the committee they had met with nursing and medical groups last Friday and had ironed out some of the controversies that prevented agreement on a permanent solution earlier this year.
