209 Graduated From Kettering

A standing-room-only crowd filled Kettering High School's auditorium last night as 209 seniors were awarded diplomas during the commencement program. Guest speaker Dr. Gordon Sabine, vice president of Michigan State University, encouraged the graduates to further their educations.

In the commencement address, Dr. Sabine termed "one of the shortest in history." Dr. Sabine counseled the graduating class to be mindful of four basic points as they progress through life.

He encouraged them to be honest with themselves and to make courage a prime word in their vocabularies. Dr. Sabine also stressed the importance of mental alertness and told the graduates they should always be friends of education.

Deviating from the conventional, Dr. Sabine covered the principal points of his message during a supposedly introductory period.

When he announced that he was through with the preliminary remarks and ready to make his speech, Dr. Sabine then referred his audience to what had already been said.

School Board President Robert E. Field awarded the diplomas after James S. Fry, principal at Kettering, had presented the graduating class.

Gail Buegel, in her valedictory message, told fellow graduates that citizens of this country must first learn to live together before a successful international coexistence can be attained.

Negro Leader Slain in Mississippi

Kennedy Says Discrimination Threat to Lives

Proposal to Congress Is Outlined in TV Civil Rights Lecture

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has warned the nation that discrimination against Negroes has lighted "fires of frustration and discord" that threaten lives and the public safety.

The President outlined a broad legislative program he will propose to Congress next week. He said it will be based on the proposition "that race has no place in American life or law."

A great change is at hand, he said, and "our task, our obligation, is to make that revolution, that change, peaceful and constructive for all."

Kennedy appeared Tuesday evening on radio and television in a fireside civil rights lecture to Americans of both North and South only hours after Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace bowed to federal pressure and stepped aside to let two Negro students register at the previously all-white University of Alabama.

"I hope that every American, regardless of where he lives, will stop and examine his conscience about this and other related incidents," said Kennedy.

"When Americans are sent to Viet Nam or West Berlin, we do not ask for whites only," he said.

"It ought to be possible, therefore, for American students of any color to attend any public institution they select without having to be backed up by troops."

"In short," Kennedy added, "every American ought to have the right to be treated as he would wish to be treated, as one would wish his children to be treated. But this is not the case."

"MORAL CRISIS" Kennedy, declaring that America faces "a moral crisis as a country and as a people," said he will ask Congress to make a civil rights commitment "it has not fully made in this century."

The President said he will propose legislation that would: 1. Prohibit stores, hotels, restaurants and theaters from discriminating against Negroes.

2. Allow the federal government to take a more active part in court suits aimed at desegregating public schools.

3. Afford greater protection for Negroes' right to vote.

Acknowledging the new laws are not enough, Kennedy said, however, that in too many parts of the country wrongs are inflicted on Negroes because they have no remedies at law—and "unless the Congress acts, their only remedy is the street."

School Vote Won't End College Try

Efforts to establish a community college in Oakland County will not end with Monday's defeat of a property tax to finance it.

This was indicated today by County School Supt. William J. Emerson in the wake of the split vote that killed the junior college proposals.

Emerson gave a "we will try again" statement in answer to questions on what would happen next in the long fight to set up a two-year junior college.

Voters decisively approved a ballot proposal to establish a college, but rejected a second proposal to finance the institution.

The first proposition carried 19,492 to 17,752, while the second proposal lost by a 16,711 to 19,125 vote.

Emerson said the state law prohibits resubmitting the proposal for a vote before the regular school election next June, but left the door open for a special election.

He said a special election would be "extremely expensive" and would require an initiative campaign with petitions. Such petitions would require the signatures of 2 percent of the county's registered voters.

"One thing is certain," he said, "we will try again."

The superintendent did not know how a second attempt would be made, but next June would be the earliest time for a regular election.

Within hours of Kennedy's address, Medgar W. Evers, 37, Mississippi field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, returned to his home from an integration meeting.

He was shot down in his carport as he stepped from his automobile and died within an hour.

President Kennedy 'Appalled' by Murder of NAACP Official

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce said today police have found the murder rifle used in the killing of Medgar W. Evers. It was located in bushes not far from the Evers house.

Vivian Malone and James Hood Attend First Classes

Wallace Removing Police From College

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace told President Kennedy today, he is withdrawing state law enforcement officers from the University of Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa.

As the governor made his move, two Negroes went to their first classes at the university and saw white students extend friendly hands in an atmosphere of tranquility.

Wallace told Kennedy in a telegram that the President had assumed full responsibility for the presence of Negro students on the Alabama campus and for preserving peace and order there.

Wallace said he had set up a phrased withdrawal of state law enforcement personnel "in order that there might be complete coordination as you (Kennedy) assume this responsibility."

About 300 special enforcement officers and 228 state troopers left the scene today, leaving 162 state troopers in Tuscaloosa.

WON'T BLOCK 3RD NEGRO A source close to Wallace disclosed that the governor "at this time" does not plan to try to block enrollment of Dave McClathery, another Negro, at the university extension center at Huntsville tomorrow.

More national guardsmen moved into Tuscaloosa overnight, bringing to about 1,200 the number here to keep order at the University of Alabama.

Some guardsmen came in yesterday soon after Alabama units were federalized.

Three girls walked with Vivian Malone as she went from her dormitory to a classroom building. They chatted as they strolled.

And a white youth called James A. Hood "Jimmy" in advising him that he had taken the wrong turn along the tree-lined campus at one point.

Officials End Mercury Shots

Gemini's Next Step on Way to the Moon

From Our News Wires WASHINGTON (AP)—Space chief James E. Webb today closed the door on any more Mercury space shots.

The next U.S. manned space flight, possibly 18 months off, will be a two-man shot to inaugurate Project Gemini.

Webb told the Senate Space Committee that the decision against another Mercury flight was reached this morning at a conference with Associate Director Robert Seamans Jr. and Deputy Administrator Hugh Dryden.

In Houston, the manned spacecraft center said the experience gained from Project Mercury has approved the confidence needed to tackle the two-man project Gemini.

The decision to end the Mercury flights came as a disappointment to the seven Mercury astronauts and officials of the spacecraft center, but the knowledge gained from the one-man orbital program will not be wasted.

The Mercury team and spacecraft center officials had lobbied for one more Mercury flight to go for as many orbits as possible. They took their case all the way up to President Kennedy.

Webb said NASA would now concentrate on the $800-million Project Gemini, the second phase of its long-range program to send an American to the moon.

Gemini "envisions" putting two men in orbit in the same vehicle for extended periods—possibly as long as two weeks.

But the program—the forerunner to moon-landing Project Apollo—is running about a year behind schedule. The first shot is now expected early in 1965.

However, in testifying on NASA's request for a $5.7-billion appropriation, Webb said finally: "There will be no further Mercury shots. We will concentrate on reorientation and realignment of NASA to move on with Gemini."

Webb said plans and preparations for another Mercury flight would slow development of the Gemini program.

Between 600 and 750 persons have been assigned directly to Project Mercury on a full-time basis. Hundreds of others have worked in supporting jobs at Houston, Cape Canaveral and the McDonnell Aircraft plant in St. Louis, Mo., where the Mercury capsules were built.

Robert R. Gilruth, director of the manned spacecraft center, said earlier "No one will be thrown out of work."

More Cool Weather Due

Michigan residents will get a chance to see the other side of the weather coin—the cool side—for the next few days.

The weatherman said the Pontiac area will be fair and cool tonight, the low dropping to 48. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer, the high climbing to near 75.

Friday will continue warm but temperatures will be cooler again Saturday and Sunday, become warmer Monday.

Showers may be expected sometime tomorrow night and Friday, the rainfall measuring about .25 of an inch.

Forty-eight was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. The mercury reading at 2 p. m. was 56.

County Officials Concerned

Wonderland of Lakes Is Drying Up

Oakland County, the lake wonderland of the state, is faced with low water levels which have lake residents and county officials seriously concerned.

Recent heavy rains have brought some relief of relief, but the levels are still low, anywhere from one to two feet.

The effect is clay-baked shores, long reaches of nearly useless shallows, and a murre of reeds waving listlessly in the breeze.

The State Conservation Department says residents can only pray for more rain to restore the lakes to former glory.

Others, including Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry, suspect that the sinking of numerous wells has also had an adverse effect.

The state officials concede the ground water level is down anywhere from eight to 14 inches because of a lack of rainwater and melting snows.

Many lakeshore residents claim their lakes are down considerably more, as much as two feet in some instances.

LEVEL BLAME They often blame volume-users such as golf courses piping lake water to keep courses green.

Whatever the reasons, they probably combine to create the problem, there is plenty of water draining off Oakland County each year, according to Barry.

He would like to corral some of this water in area lakes by installing proper controls.

Through the use of dams, valves and pumps, the drain commission is maintaining water levels on Pontiac, Union, Oakland, Woodhill, Watkins, Lakeville and Tippecanoe lakes, said Barry.

These lake levels are being maintained at the expense of lake-front property owners who petitioned Circuit Court.

Similar petitions are awaiting court action on Upper, Middle, Lower Straits, Commerce, Ox-bow, Cass, Cedar Island, Long, Bush and Fox lakes.

"Come rain or shine, nearly all of the lakes in Oakland County could be controlled advantageously," according to Barry.

"It can be done because of the large flow of water carried each spring by the Clinton, Shiawassee and Huron Rivers into the Great Lakes."

Thorson Trial in Second Day

Prosecution Claims Money Slaying Motive

DETROIT (AP)—The trial of a Birmingham stock salesman charged with the first-degree murder of his mother-in-law entered its second day today in Recorder's Court.

Robert M. Thorson, 31, is charged with killing Mrs. Dorothy Thomas last Dec. 2.

In his opening statement Tuesday, Asst. Wayne County Prosecutor Max M. Silverman said money was the motive for the murder. He said Thorson had borrowed $7,200 from the slain woman and noted that Mrs. Thorson is sole inheritor of her mother's estate of "upwards of $80,000."

Defense attorney Konrad Kohl asked Judge Elvin L. Davenport to reduce the charge to second-degree murder or manslaughter on the ground that the prosecution had not established "the specific intent" required in the first-degree charge.

UNDER ADVISEMENT Davenport said he would take the motion under advisement and "rule on it at the end of the people's case."

Silverman later told Judge Davenport that the prosecution did not have enough evidence to go to a jury if clothing found in Thorson's car is not admitted as evidence.

A blood-stained pair of trousers and overcoat were taken from Thorson's car Dec. 5.

Kohl sought a mistrial on the grounds the evidence was unlawfully seized by police.

Judge Davenport said he would make a decision on the admissibility of the clothing when it was presented in testimony. Thorson has been free on $5,000 bond the past four months.

Umbrella Causes Injuries

PARIS (AP)—A woman's umbrella caused a short circuit in a subway station yesterday, and a dozen persons were injured, authorities reported.

The umbrella fell on the tracks as a train rolled into the station. A fountain of sparks and flame shot up.

A man stepping out of the train was slightly burned and a woman's hair was singed.

Some passengers panicked and a number were injured as they pressed to get out of the cars. Seven were taken to a hospital for treatment.

The electric current was quickly cut by the station master. The woman who had the umbrella could not be found.

Oxford Village, Orion Twp.

Areas Differ on Sewerage

Officials of Oxford Village and Orion Township last night made opposite decisions on the feasibility of a four-community sewage project proposed by Lake Orion.

Oxford "just can't go along with Lake Orion," Village President Allen E. Valentine said today.

But Orion Township wants to join in a sewage disposal plant with Lake Orion, if the affected township residents go along with the project.

Discussing the project at its regular meeting last night, the Oxford Council concluded that the joint facility would cost the village more money than an individual plant.

"We've been a long time thinking about this and we want to do it right," Valentine said.

The council now plans to negotiate with the Dominican Sisters for a 20-acre site between Pontiac Road and Draher.

A unique $200,000 spray irrigation treatment plant would be constructed there for village use.

Due to the available water outlets and layout of the land, the spray irrigation type plant is the only one practical for the village, according to Valentine, unless a joint venture was considered.

COST $226,000

The entire system will cost Oxford an estimated $226,000.

"We've got a pretty good idea how we want to finance it," Valentine said.

The village president explained that the council would work with the Michigan Municipal League to find out how much the service will cost each business establishment and homeowner.

It is expected that preliminary plans for the treatment plant and sewage system will be prepared in detail within a month.

Orion Township plans to hold a public hearing to find out how residents of the township area adjacent to the village feel about the joint project.

Township Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephan cast the only vote against the proposed sewage system. She said today that she anticipates public disapproval of the plan.

The two communities were acting under pressure of Lake Orion's village council.

Meeting in a joint session a week ago, Lake Orion told the heads of Oxford Village and Orion and Orion townships that their decision must be given to Lake Orion by Monday.

The Oxford Township board is expected to consider the project at its regular meeting tonight.

Rochester High student lounge, will leave the Rochester Schools to take over the superintendent's job in Ludington next year. The letters included one from Gov. Romney.

Road Work Awarded at $249,457

Contracts for five road improvement projects costing a total of $249,457 were awarded yesterday by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Two of the projects affect county primary roads, and three concern local roads with townships to pay half the costs.

The county road projects, their contract winners and costs are: Maybee, almost two miles of grading and gravel base construction for black toping next year from Sashabaw to Dixie Highway in Independence Township, O. V. Atkinson & Sons of Durand, $136,275.

Farmington Road, about one mile of gravel base construction and grading for 1964 black toping from 13-Mile Road to 14-Mile Road, Sterling Grading of Walled Lake, $53,009.

The local road projects are: Shawlesse, 5 of a mile of grading, drainage and 20-foot black top from Nine Mile Road to Farmington city limits in Farmington Township, Stanley B. Jones of Pontiac, $43,321.

Maybee, 54 of a mile of 20-foot black top from Baldwin Road to Grafton Street in Orion Township, Cooke Contracting Co. of Detroit, $7,978.

Fairview Street, 58 of a mile of base reconstruction and black top from Indianwood Road to Lake Orion village limits in Orion Township, A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham, $8,874.

CIA Rejects Message

Red Tape Wins Again

WASHINGTON (P)—It might have been simpler to phone President Kennedy—that was the conclusion of Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, after failure to get a messenger-borne letter through the security bars at the Central Intelligence Agency.

It all started last Wednesday when Church came across some information he thought John A. McCone, director of the super-secret spy agency, ought to have.

Church wrote a letter marked "Personal for the director" of the CIA. His office gave it to a Senate riding page, the messengers senators use for communications they consider too important or in too much of a rush for routine handling.

As added precaution, Church's secretary phoned the CIA the messenger was coming.

But the page reported back three and a half hours later that he had fallen into the hands of CIA security police who questioned him at length about what he was up to, and wouldn't even accept his letter.

Church's secretary said the messenger phoned asking what to do.

The upshot was that he brought the letter back and Church sent it by regular mail.

But the senator, obviously nettled by what happened to a letter with his mailing frank printed on it, said Monday he hadn't had an acknowledgment yet.

"Imagine if I had gotten hold of some information of very great importance to the country," Church said. "I couldn't get it past the barricades. I could call the President, though, I suppose."

School Elections Show Voters' Mixed Feelings

The Press heartily congratulates the electorate of Waterford Township on its heartening and victorious response to the school issues voted upon Monday.

At a time when public questions involving tax increase are being regularly vetoed, the constructive and generous attitude of the township's citizenry is particularly praiseworthy.

Regrettably, the countywide proposal for the establishment of a community college district failed of effective approval.

The vote was close, and supporters of the plan may well take heart that the future, with growing and demonstrable need for the facility, will bring a change of attitude among those who opposed it.

Locally, an incumbent member of the Pontiac Board of Education, Rev. J. ALLEN PARKER, was defeated after serving two terms. He served well and conscientiously and merits commendation on his service to the community.

Succeeding him is Russell Brown, to whom we offer congratulations on his victory and best wishes for an active and rewarding term of office.

Reflecting the City's appreciation of his devotion to local interests and indicative of the high value placed on his counsel, was the gratifying reelection of MONROE M. OSMUN for a sixth term on the board.

The voters have again spoken with the voice of command. So be it.

Both Waterford Township and the Oakland County Board of Education should take a second look at the public service end of election results.

Results of the Waterford voting and the countywide tally on the community college were not available until midmorning Tuesday.

Waterford chose to use paper ballots to save $1,500. The State had assumed all districts with votes coming up that the recount would be through before the schools needed the machines.

The County board had not handled countywide voting before, and had no machinery set up from previous experience.

We feel the public wants to know more quickly than the next day, and that reasonable expense to provide this is warranted.

GOP Governors Seen as Presidential Timber

The quantitative position nationally of the Republican Party is not impressive.

The GOP is outnumbered in the Senate two to one. It is a one-third underdog in the House. In the gubernatorial department, it trails the Dems 33 to 17.

But qualitatively, the party is in a much better position.

The national spotlight is currently on administrative gains and fiscal progress being shown by a third of the states headed by Republican governors.

● The list of the unusually able executives is well headed by our own George Romney.

● Neighboring Ohio's James A. Rhodes is making giant strides in the "do-something" field.

● A young and visionary governor, William A. Scranton, is bootstrapping Pennsylvania from its "worst-distressed" morass and setting it running again.

● The West offers Colorado as its entry in the revitalization parade. It is led by Gov. John A. Love.

● In the East, New York continues the fiscal improvement and social progress initiated during the first term of its chief executive, Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Although at this point, there is admitted thinness in its presidential first team lineup, the Republicans may well feel heartened over the promising freshman material that will bolster the varsity ranks in following campaigns.

JFK Race Appeal Does Five Things

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy, faced with a racial crisis that threatens violence and lives, finally appealed in a nationwide broadcast for an end to discrimination against Negroes.

He did five things in his talk last night.

1. He blamed all 50 states, not just the South where racial prejudice is most intense, for discrimination.

2. He made equal treatment for Negroes an urgent necessity by noting that violence and lives are threatened.

3. He asked all white Americans to examine their conscience and cooperate in ending discrimination.

4. By the broadcast he put the full weight of his office behind his plea to give Negroes the constitutional rights denied them.

5. He outlined steps he wants Congress to take in this direction by passing laws to overcome segregation.

That he make such a talk had been urged on Kennedy from various quarters for weeks as racial tensions increased and, in some places, burst into riots.

The indications were that he wouldn't. He finally did it a few hours after compelling the admittance of two Negroes to the University of Alabama over the completely empty resistance of Gov. George C. Wallace.

By the same token race relations in the United States now might have been far more advanced if President Dwight D. Eisenhower had made a similar plea just once in his eight years in office.

It is clear Kennedy felt compelled to talk now not because racial discrimination is any worse but because of the crisis he mentioned.

This is because Negroes, realizing they can accomplish far more by collective action than alone, have begun to batter against racial barriers in demonstrations which, if frustrated, could become riots.

HOW EFFECTIVE

Just how much effect Kennedy's talk has depends on three things:

1. How well he was able to stir the conscience of the nation, particularly the South where segregation is worst.

2. How thoroughly and forcefully he follows up by executive action in the field of civil rights and in pressuring Congress for civil rights laws.

3. How much Congress will go along with him—meaning just how much Republicans are willing to team up with Northern Democrats to overcome the opposition of Southern Democrats.

Kennedy made two points on the legislation he will lay before Congress:

- He wants a law giving Negroes the right to be served in public facilities, like hotels and restaurants.

This seems to mean a law forbidding proprietors of such facilities, if they are involved in interstate commerce at all, to decide on their own to refuse to serve Negroes.

On May 21 the Supreme Court ruled no state or city law can force such a proprietor to discriminate. It didn't yet say whether they could do it on their own.

- He wants a law from Congress to authorize the federal government to step in more fully in lawsuits to end segregation in public education.

HORRIS

Quick, Somebody—Do Something!

David Lawrence Asks:

Did JFK Violate Constitution?

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy yesterday took the same risk his predecessor did in ordering federal troops to compel the admission of students to a public educational institution. Was the Constitution violated by the Chief Executive himself?

The same LAWRENCE laws which were cited by the Eisenhower Administration, in connection with Little Rock were given as authority by President Kennedy.

Those sections of the law now being used as a basis for presidential action were passed nearly 100 years ago during or just after the War Between the States.

They refer to the enforcement or execution of "laws of the United States," but neither at Little Rock on Sept. 24, 1957, nor at Tuscaloosa this week were there any specific laws involved that deal with desegregation of public educational institutions.

One provision cited relates only in general terms to "unlawful obstructions" which may make it "impracticable to enforce the laws of the United States in any state or territory by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings."

Another provision authorizes the President to use troops if an insurrection or conspiracy occurs which "impedes the course of justice" under the laws of the United States.

Congress, however, on Sept. 9, 1857, had specifically repealed those sections of the then existing law which had authorized the President to employ land or naval forces to aid in the execution of judicial proceedings.

Congress, moreover, had explicitly enjoined the President and everybody else from using the military forces in any way to execute the laws unless specifically authorized to do so by the Constitution or any act of Congress.

In other words, Congress has prohibited the use of any part of the military force as a "posse comitatus" unless Congress says so.

TROOPS, MARSHALS
But in the case of Little Rock, U.S. marshals were not brought into the picture.

They were introduced at Oxford, Miss.—as also were Federal troops—but the argument used in defense of such a course was that an unlawful assembly had occurred and disorder had prevailed inside the state of Mississippi which the governor allegedly refused to restrain.

Governor Wallace of Alabama, on the other hand, took particular pains to prevent any unlawful assemblies or disturbances in connection with his announced intention to challenge the entry of Negro students to the University of Alabama.

He endeavored to secure a court test on the main issue of constitutionality and waited for the U.S. marshals to serve him with papers and arrest him for contempt if he prevented the entry of Negro students into the university.

President Kennedy, however, ordered the state militia federalized anyway so as to threaten the governor.

Only a few days ago, the Supreme Court of the United States, in answer to a petition by Governor Wallace of Alabama seeking to restrain such use of Federal military power, stated that the movement of Federal troops into Alabama by the President had been "purely preparatory," and that the military forces of the Federal government had not actually been used.

There are several new issues arising in the Alabama case which can only be resolved by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

If this is unfavorable to the state of Alabama and others who believe that there was a deviation from the Constitution as applied by the Supreme Court, then the only recourse is an amendment to the Constitution in the manner prescribed in the document itself.

Third Negro Talks Lightly of College Entry Tomorrow

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The slender Negro man talks easily and lightly with a not-too-serious air that belies the scientific mind that deals in space age physics.

He is Dave Mack McGlathery, 26, who expects to enroll tomorrow as the first Negro student at the University of Alabama extension center here.

"I want to study calculus or take a graduate course in mathematics," McGlathery said in an exclusive interview.

McGlathery had just finished watching President Kennedy's television appearance. The President, mentioning Alabama racial troubles, called for new legislation to safeguard the civil rights of Negroes.

"IT WAS GOOD"
"It was good," was the terse carefully worded appraisal by this Negro man who works as a mathematician at the Marshall Space Flight Center here.

He made it clear that he was not going to express any opinion on developments at the main campus of the university in Tuscaloosa where two Negroes enrolled Tuesday.

McGlathery's wife, Laberta, hovered nearby but said nothing. Once when she was asked a question, she left the room rather than reply.

Despite two years away from the classroom, McGlathery said he did not think he would have difficulty with his studies.

"I've been working steadily with math," he said.

His job at the Space Flight Center is concerned with nuclear and ion physics.

TO KEEP WORKING
"While I'm going to school, I'll still be able to keep my job," he said, "since classes are in the afternoon at the center."

There were a couple of things McGlathery wanted to set straight about published reports on him.

"My name is Dave, not David," he said. "And I am not a tennis player."

McGlathery, who wears a thin moustache and stands about 5-8, said he was too small to play basketball in high school days at Council Training (High School) near Huntsville. He was born here.

Reds Hold Own Poll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taking a leaf from the American book, Communist nations have started conducting their own public opinion polls. Some of them don't like what they find out, the U.S. Information Agency reports.

Communist pollsters have sampled public opinion in Poland, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union, the USA said in a report on its own research activities submitted to a House Appropriations subcommittee and made public today.

Poll reports published in Communist newspapers usually are not complete enough to permit accurate judgments about the findings, the agency said, but they do "tell us something about what people are thinking behind the Iron Curtain, where USA has an important audience."

The agency cited a report on a 1961 poll of Yugoslav students, conducted by the Zagreb Union of Communists, which indicated that "a large percentage of students had serious doubts about the validity of Marxist ideology."

"The poll reports also said that despite long indoctrination efforts, Yugoslav young people still are oriented largely toward private and personal pursuits in life," the USA said. "The newspaper report of the poll indicated that authorities were not at all pleased with answers the students gave."

Hodges' Lament

The Chicago Sun-Times

Commerce Sec. Luther H. Hodges is distressed. A secret congressional investigating committee is tearing one of his departments, the U.S. Travel Service, to bits for alleged inefficiency, waste and poor judgment.

Sec. Hodges should not be distressed. As a government official he has access to the reports prepared by the General Accounting Office, reports that demonstrate precisely the same sort of inefficiency, waste and poor judgment that Hodges now laments in his own operation.

Recent GAO reports reveal the following tidbits: From 1953 to 1962 the Air Force Logistics Command lost track of material valued at more than $9 billion and as a result procurement orders were initiated based on incomplete records and data.

In another Air Force case at least $2.6 million was added to the government's cost of a communications system in Alaska because a subcontractor negotiated excessive rental rates for equipment.

The Navy and one of its prime contractors accepted prices from a subcontractor for a classified defense item that was $785,900 too high.

The Army stored 900 trucks in the open for three years when inside storage space was available only 50 miles away. Result: $300,000 in unnecessary costs to recondition the trucks.

Military units on Okinawa were hiding excessive construction equipment valued at $725,000—yet these units ordered additional items of identical types costing $387,000.

No Cutbacks

The Daily Oklahoman

Persons taking those recent threats of postal curtailments seriously can relax.

The post office department discloses that it won't have to make any important cutbacks after all. The not altogether surprising disclosure comes in the wake of a senate house conference committee's agreement restoring $35 million of an earlier $60 million reduction of post office operating funds.

The department had threatened to lop one day off the present 6-day-a-week deliveries to homes and offices and/or to withhold service from more than a million new addresses expected to be added in the year ahead.

Of course these threatened dire consequences are commonplace whenever any federal agency undergoes what it considers cruel and inhuman punishment at the hands of congressional budget cutters.

But almost invariably the worst never happens. Nor does any contemplated retrenchment ever completely stick for that matter.

There is good reason to believe that automation will have an increasingly important role on the highways in the years ahead. But no matter how extensive that role may become, safety will never be wholly automatic.

Traffic safety will continue to depend basically upon the judgment, training and attitude of the individuals behind the steering wheel.

Automation

The State Journal (Lansing)

Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has predicted "a considerable amount of automation" in connection with future developments in highway safety.

He expressed belief that only automatic controls on motor vehicles would provide assurance against repetition of accidents like the multiple crash on the New Jersey turnpike in which six drivers were killed and a number of other persons were injured.

The Michigan official noted that some devices are available now and others are being tried experimentally.

Included among those now being studied are scanning devices which would activate dashboard buzzers to warn against too-close approach to a vehicle ahead, temperature-controlled warnings of icy bridge surfaces and automated vehicle guidance systems.

There is good reason to believe that automation will have an increasingly important role on the highways in the years ahead. But no matter how extensive that role may become, safety will never be wholly automatic.

Traffic safety will continue to depend basically upon the judgment, training and attitude of the individuals behind the steering wheel.

Mama, 76, Is Still an Extemporaneous Philosopher

By HAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—"When you're young nothing troubles you," said the old lady, cheerfully. "And when you're old nothing helps."

The old lady is my mother, and she is given to extemporaneous remarks like that.

Now in her 76th year, she is an incurable philosopher and always has been. No matter what has happened to her—or to anyone around her—Mama has always been able to come up with a sage comment that points up a lesson to be learned from the experience. She can see a silver lining in a cloud-burst.

She has slowed up a little since I saw her a year ago, and has needed herself of her pithy optimism. An attack of rheumatism has made her dependent on a cane for support while in slow and painful transit from the kitchen to the living room sofa, which generally serves as the throne from which she delivers her philosophic judgments of mankind.

REAL RELIEF
"I always knew I'd end up on a cane some day," she remarked. "My best friends now are the heating pad and the aspirin bottle. They're the only things that give you any real relief. Oh, sometimes I think they ought to take all us old people out and shoot us—for all the good we are to anyone, including ourselves."

Then she added with a smile of victory: "But, do you know, I haven't had to pay out $15 to doctors in the last two years. That's pretty good, isn't it?"

Mama, who is short and so stout in practically any situation, can even see some advantage in her rheumatism. It has made her something of a weather oracle.

Any in the neighborhood who go ahead with a picnic, on a day when her leg cripples up, do so at their peril. It is pretty sure to rain before nightfall.

SHORT AND STOUT
Mama, who is short and so stout, I can barely get my arms around her to give her a hug, gets a placid satisfaction out of reading the obituaries of skinny people. "I tried to get the doctor to put me on a diet," she remarked happily. "But he just told me, 'No, you're too old now to change your ways, and besides you've learned how to live with your weight. Just go on being yourself.'"

Widowed more than 25 years, Mama has a lot of living to look back upon, the struggling years when she cooked and washed and dusted and scrubbed for Dad and five children. She doesn't dwell much in the past, however, and is quietly proud that all her children are still alive and eating regularly—and the youngest is now 45.

She does resent it a bit that she is no longer able to stand for hours over a hot stove cooking a big family reunion dinner. She is also convinced nobody can mow the lawn—a chore she used to insist on doing herself—as neatly as she did in the old days.

TO SEE IRELAND

She talks wistfully of going again to see Ireland, the native land she left as a girl never to return to. But when the children offer to arrange a trip she shakes her head and says, "Oh, it would only make me sad. There's no one left there I know. And I'd rather remember it as it was—when I was young and so happy there."

Mama, who educated herself through daily newspapers, still reads them thoroughly and keeps up with national and world affairs.

"There is too much unnecessary tension in life today," she said the other night as we sat cooling off on a bench in the back yard. "People worry themselves sick trying to get things they don't really need."

"When your Dad and I were young we had nothing—so there was nothing for us to worry about. But bad as it is, this old world is still pretty good, and I guess that's the way it always will be—if you just have sense enough to realize it."

South Sea Countries Agree on Federation

MANILA (AP)—Representatives of Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines announced yesterday they have reached "common understanding and complete agreement on how to resolve problems of common concern arising out of the proposal to establish a federation of Malaysia."

A communique issued at the close of a five-day conference also announced that the ministers agreed how the Philippine claim to British North Borneo—one of the territories to be included in the Malaysia federation—should be resolved justly and expeditiously.

Trial Motions to Be Renewed

Henry Again Will Ask for Change of Venue

New motions for a change of venue and suppression of evidence in the first-degree murder trial of Adolphe White and Charles E. Hodges will be argued Thursday before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer. Attorney Milton R. Henry said in court yesterday he will renew his motions to have the trial held in Lansing instead of Pontiac because of a U.S. Supreme Court decision last week.

The high court overturned the murder conviction of a Louisiana man whose confession was broadcast on television before the trial.

White, of 79 1/2 Wall and Hodges, of 174 Prospect, both 22, are accused of the March 16 slaying of Pontiac Mall Kroger store manager Robert A. Greene, also 22, during a safe robbery at the store.

DENIED CHANGE
Judge Beer denied an earlier motion for a change in location of the trial.

Henry claimed an impartial jury is impossible in Oakland, Wayne or Genesee counties because White and Hodges made statements admitting the crime on television after their arrest.

County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he has not yet decided what position to take on Henry's new motion in light of the high court decision.

Henry also will renew his motion to have his clients' statements thrown out, saying they were made "under illegal pressure" while they were "illegally detained."

Henry further said he will file notice that he will enter a plea of insanity as his clients' defense if his new motions are denied.

Detroit Man Mute in Court

Admits Store Robbery for His 'Honeymoon'

A 42-year-old Detroit man who admitted holding up a Birmingham supermarket shortly after his "wedding" June 1 stood mute Monday at his Oakland County Circuit Court arraignment on an armed robbery charge.

William R. Blevins told police he looked in his wallet before he and his "bride" were to begin their "honeymoon" and found "I only had about $200, and I figured that wasn't enough."

His "bride" was Jean Helen Kreissig, 30, of 1700 Melton, Birmingham, who thought she had married Robert Chalfonte of Richmond, Va.

But Chalfonte was only one of Blevins' aliases. He admits he already was married under another of his aliases, Shawn Alane. His wife, Mrs. Loretta Alane, lives in Detroit.

After returning from a wedding reception in Royal Oak to the Kreissig home where Miss Kreissig was to change clothes for the honeymoon trip, Blevins excused himself saying he was going to get cigarettes, he told police.

He went to a Wrigley Supermarket near 14 Mile Road and Woodward where he held up store manager James Gysin and took $1,495, Blevins said.

He was arrested after Gysin, who had followed Blevins out of the store, phoned his car license number to police.

Blevins was sentenced to 10 to 15 years in prison in 1954 for a Highland Park market robbery.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer set bond at $10,000. Blevins was taken to Oakland County jail to await trial when he could not furnish it.

Not Ready to Seek Warrant

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said yesterday wasn't prepared to seek a warrant for the arrest of the county's former welfare director, George Burt, concerning alleged mismanagement of welfare funds.

Taylor said he was asked Monday by State Auditor General Billie S. Farnum and Joseph Sullivan, assistant state attorney general, if he "could seek a warrant."

According to Taylor, he hasn't sufficient evidence that Burt intended or did convert any public funds to his own use.

Burt, 78, said he collected $75 a month in welfare rental checks and deposited the money in his own name. He said he was holding the money for a welfare recipient.

The money, totaling $4,275, was collected in 1957 through 1959 in rentals on the home of a hospitalized welfare patient, W. Reid Clark.

Burt, now retired, has since turned the money over to the county, less taxes and insurance costs.

Burt's management of the funds was discovered by Farnum's department during a current investigation of all Oakland County funds.

Taylor said Burt's action might have been indifferent, but "because the money was returned, the county apparently hasn't any case of conversion of welfare funds."

He said that if Clark's estate is out any money as the result, it will be up to the estate to ask for a warrant.

Taylor said he is continuing an investigation to determine if Burt had intended to defraud the county by larceny by conversion.

If evidence bears out Farnum's allegations, Taylor said he would ask for a warrant.

Back Efforts on Lake Level

Waterford's Board Endorses Drive

Waterford Township Board members Monday night endorsed efforts of a group of Williams Lake residents campaigning for establishment of lake level controls by the county.

The lake group had appeared at two previous meetings to explain its low water level plight. Williams Lake is currently 2 feet below the level of neighboring Macedonia Lake, they said.

While the Williams Lake organization appeal to the township board for support was pending, County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry announced last week that a lake level study is currently being conducted by his department. It will be completed Saturday, he said.

If the results of the study warrant it, Barry said he would propose purchase of the Waterford dam by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

THE KEY

The dam at Andersonville and Dixie is believed to be the key to establishing water levels in a chain of Waterford and Independence township lakes.

In other business board members reviewed bids on new police cars but deferred action until next week pending a report on the cost of maintaining present cars.

The board authorized the JV Pharmacy, 580 Highland, and John's Drugs, 1120 W. Huron, as water bill collection stations.

In other business the board approved July 4 fireworks permits for the Stefani family reunion at 7110 Hatchery and for the Lakewood Drive Association on Watkins Lake.

Pro-Castroites Attack, Burn Warehouse

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Tommy gun-armed pro-Castro terrorists attacked and burned the U.S.-owned Goodway Tire and Rubber Co. warehouse yesterday. There were no casualties but damage was estimated at roughly $500,000.

Police said at least four men were involved in the attack and said some of them identified by a warehouse night watchman were members of the Venezuelan Communist party. They used two stolen cars for the raid.

All Caracas fire-fighting equipment and 300 firemen battled the three-hour blaze in the southwestern factory district, which burned up an estimated 10,000 tires and tubes, almost gutting the building.

JFK Eyes Bettering of Immigration Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said yesterday he plans to send Congress next week a proposal "to improve and modernize" immigration laws.

His statement was to some 200 delegates who are here attending the third symposium of the American Committee on Italian Migration.

It was greeted with enthusiastic applause. The committee seeks increased quotas for admission of Italians to the United States.

Arrest Russ Store Execs on Black Market Charge

MOSCOW (AP) — Five executives of Moscow's big GUM department store have been arrested on charges of supplying black market operators, Pravda reported.

The Communist party newspaper said the chief offenders were two women who sent scores of letters to black market contacts as far away as the Ukraine. Three other store officials were accused of taking bribes from the two women.

Jury Convicts N.J. Teamster

'Tony Pro' Is Found Guilty of Extortion

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, powerful leader of the New Jersey Teamsters Union Joint Council, has been found guilty of extorting $17,100 from a New York trucking firm.

The verdict against the chunky, 46-year-old Teamsters boss was delivered last night by a U.S. District Court jury of six men and six women who received the case Monday.

Provenzano faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in jail and a $10,000 fine. District Court Judge Robert Shaw said a sentencing date would be set after Provenzano, who is at liberty in $1,000 bail, reports to his probation officer tomorrow.

Confident and argumentative throughout his three-week trial, the president of the 14,000-member Teamsters Local 500 of Union City heard the verdict with no outward sign of emotion.

NO COMMENT

"I feel fine, fine. I have no comment. See my lawyer," Provenzano said after the verdict was read.

Provenzano, a close friend of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, also is an international vice president of the union as well as president of the state joint council and Local 500.

Before reaching its verdict, the jury asked to rehear three days of testimony by Walter A. Dorn, the chief government witness. Judge Shaw completed reading the transcript at 5 p.m. and 2½ hours later the jury announced its decision.

Dorn is president of Dorn Transportation, Inc., of Rensselaer, N. Y.

Provenzano was accused of extorting $17,100 from the Dorn firm from 1952-59 to insure labor peace at its Secaucus terminal, where drivers of Local 500 were employed.

Some Fear N-Advance by Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon officially backs up President Kennedy's move for a nuclear test ban, with an interim moratorium, but some worry is expressed privately about the possibility of a sudden Soviet technological breakthrough.

"The Defense Department stands behind the President in seeking arms control measures, under appropriate safeguards, which would be in the national interest of the United States," a spokesman said today in reply to a question.

Kennedy announced Monday that the Soviet Union has agreed to a conference with U.S. and British representatives in Moscow next month for another attempt at reaching a test ban agreement. He also said that the United States will not conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere as long as there is no test ban.

There is a feeling in some military quarters that testing by the United States is absolutely vital to keep ahead of the Soviet Union in the arms race. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara does not share this concern now and administration officials contend that the United States has a long lead in nuclear weapons.

100-MEGATON WEAPON?
Soviet Premier Khrushchev has talked about a 100-megaton weapon going into the Soviet arsenal, which might mean production of an improved and more powerful version of the nuclear monsters the Russians experimented with in the 1961 tests.

Some military officials have suggested the United States should also have such massive weapons, if for no other reason than cold war prestige. Pentagon experts have tended to downgrade the value of these 100-megaton weapons, contending that several smaller warheads would have more practical value than one big one.

Steel Radio From Car

Joe Biskner, 1050 Boston, Waterford Township, told police that a citizen's band radio valued at $150 was stolen at 2 a.m. today from his car parked outside Dell's Inn, 3481 Elizabeth Lake Road.

"Protection" of big game through destruction of predators actually has weakened the species, say conservationists, because of the survival of the unfit.

Retired Doctor Is Honored in Appreciation

A dinner of appreciation was held at Pine Knob last night to honor Dr. Donald Strauss of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The oldest practicing osteopathic doctor in the county, Dr. Strauss, 71, recently retired from private practice. He was one of the founders and first president of the Oakland County Osteopathic Association.

Some 86 colleagues honored Dr. Strauss at the dinner. He was named chairman of the new department of physical medicine at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Gifts and a special plaque, commending him for nearly "a half century of dedicated service to the community and profession," were presented to the Pontiac doctor.

Dr. Strauss is on the staff of the osteopathic hospital.

Award Given to Hospital

Pontiac State Hospital was given an "award of merit" for its exhibit at Cobo Hall during the second annual inaugural ball and scientific program of the Michigan Society of Neurology and Psychiatry, Michigan District Branch, American Psychiatric Association.

The exhibit featured press photos, including several from the Pontiac Press, depicting hospital volunteers and community relations activities.

Pontiac City Affairs

Eye Civic Center Zone District

The City Commission last night took initial steps toward formal adoption of a new zoning district in Pontiac.

Commissioners introduced an amendment which would add a civic center district to the city's zoning ordinance.

The amendment was recommended by the city planning commission. It will be scheduled for a public hearing and final adoption at the July 2 commission meeting.

The proposed amendment would create a zoning classification for the civic center, with its own land uses and regulations clearly specified, as in other classifications in the zoning ordinance.

An accompanying report recommending boundaries of the civic center district was also accepted.

In connection with the forthcoming zoning amendment, public hearings were held last night on the proposed vacating of Cherry Court, Hill and Chandler, within the civic center, and Bliss from Hill to Parkhurst.

No objections were voiced at the hearings. Commissioners will approve vacating the streets at a future meeting.

Although civic center land is owned by the city, it presently is a mixture of land parcels zoned for different uses.

HAMPERS SALE
The city could construct a public municipal facility on any land it owns without need for rezoning.

However, conflicting zoning restrictions would hamper sale of parcels for other public or cultural institutions.

The proposed amendment would eliminate any conflict in selling land to the Pontiac Board of Education or Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union for offices in the civic center.

In other business last night, an ordinance to rezone property owned by the Oakland Coal Co. at the southeast end of Thomas was given final approval following a public hearing.

The rezoning had been recommended by the planning commission.

Also concurring with planning commission recommendations, the City Commission denied requests for a commercial zoning on three residential parcels.

The zoning denials involved a lost west of 619 Fildew, a lot at the southwest corner of Gillespie and Branch and a lot on the northeast corner of Telegraph and Edna.

Commissioner also concurred with a planning board recommendation to deny vacating an alley west of Baldwin, West Tennyson to West Beverly, and a 20-foot right-of-way on Tennyson from the alley to Baldwin.

A public hearing was completed on the proposed vacating of Walnut running south of West Tennyson through old water works property.

Final approval of the vacating will come at a later meeting. The move will allow development of a community recreation center on the water works site.

DEFER ACTION

Action was deferred until next Tuesday's meeting on a request to rezone three lots on the north side of East Columbia east of 101 E. Columbia.

The owner wants the lots rezoned from residential to commercial.

The vote on a motion to deny the request at last week's planning commission meeting ended in a 4-4 deadlock, prompting the City Commission to delay final action for further study.

A new lease agreement with Barber's Flying Service for three lots at Pontiac Municipal Airport was approved by commissioners.

The action merely canceled three separate leases on the lots and included all three parcels in one lease. The rent amounts remained the same.

Action was deferred a week on a request from the City of Dearborn for Pontiac support of a resolution asking the U.S. Post Office Department to issue a stamp honoring Henry Ford in July.

Approval was given an agreement with Grand Trunk Western Railroad whereby the city will demolish the north end of a railroad warehouse south of Orchard Lake Avenue in connection with purchase of railroad property in the R4 urban renewal project.

Action on bids for perimeter road lights was deferred for further study.

In the interest of public safety, Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. asked that city fire inspectors, in their daily rounds, check old cars sitting on vacant lots or behind gas stations.

Taylor suggested such vehicles with gasoline in their fuel tanks might present a fire hazard. He was referring to cars not in regular use.

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom requested that an extension of the sanitary sewer on the northeast side of Oakland, from Tallahassee to West Boulevard, be included in this year's improvement program as a public necessity.

Commissioners accepted with regrets the resignation of Rev. Joseph Moore, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, from the city's human relations commission.

Well-Known for Philanthropies

Playboy Aided Tom Swifty Publisher

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Among the literary lights here for a national booksellers convention this week is Bill McDonough of San Francisco, one of the world's foremost authorities on Tom Swifties.

I trust that it will not be necessary for me to explain what Tom Swifties are. Persons who have not been exposed to them by this time might as well crawl back in their father's shell and count their blessings.

As the center of intellectual life west of Oakland, Calif., San Francisco was a hot bed of Tom Swiftyery long before it engulfed the rest of the country.

McDonough, a former advertising executive, contributed mightily to the spread of Tom Swifting by preparing and publishing a Tom Swifties book.

The project was made possible by a $200 grant from Playboy Magazine, which is well known for its philanthropies in the cultural field.

My own interest in this fine arts prompted me to contact McDonough and seek a progress report on his masterwork.

"It's selling like hotcakes," he said flatly.

Copies are being dispensed at the rate of 3,000 or 4,000 a day. Personally, I would call that selling like wildfire.

VIVID EXAMPLE
Regardless of which metaphor you prefer, the success of the book can be marked down as another vivid example of how the spirit of enlightenment can triumph over the forces of darkness.

When McDonough first tried to find a publisher for it more than a year ago, he was turned down so often he became dog-eared.

"Publishers are so accustomed to seeing books they are unable to see a non-book," McDonough commented, more in anger than in sorrow.

He next made the rounds of magazines. Some liked the illustrations but objected to the lines. Others admired the lines but didn't like the illustrations. Some didn't like either, but none liked both.

"I gave up the project as dead," McDonough said gravely.

But last December, quite unexpectedly, he received a $200 check from Playboy, whose editorial instincts, coupled with a desire to sell more magazines, prompted it to buy 20 lines from the book.

Minister-Paper Owner
Will Graduate at 75

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—A seaman, turned minister and later newspaper owner, will graduate from college next Sunday. Edwin Halcrow, 75, calls his attendance at College of San Mateo, "my own personal experience in geriatrics."

Halcrow said he saw so many people grow old and deteriorate he was determined not to have it happen to him. When he gets his associate in arts degree some of his 20 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren will be on hand.

Encouraged by this windfall, McDonough pushed the project to completion. Incidentally, his partner in the enterprise was Paul Pease, son of Earl Pease, a Minneapolis adman said to have been present the night Tom Swifting was invented some 12 years ago.

It was Pease the Younger who introduced McDonough to Tom Swifties.

"He threw one over the transom at me and the rest is history," McDonough said. Another who buys the book will find a place at the end for do-it-yourself Tom Swifting. Those who can't read will enjoy coloring the pictures.

Modern Paintings Bring Record $2.9 Million

LONDON (AP)—A virtually unknown private collection of 47 French impressionist paintings and one bronze bust was auctioned Thursday night for $2,921,052. It was a record price for a collection of modern paintings.

The proceeds went to the estate of William Gargill, a Scottish shipping magnate and reclusive who collected the works of Degas, Monet, Renoir, Toulouse-Lautrec, Gauguin and other impressionists.

ROME (AP)—Stefan Cardinal Wysynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, arrived today for the conclave that will elect a new Pope.

Hundreds cheered the 61-year-old cardinal as his train pulled in. But he reminded them of the death of Pope John XXIII.

"Do not applaud. Remember that this is a time of grief for us," he said.

ROME (AP)—Gregory Peck, Geraldine Page and Darryl F. Zanuck were foreign winners Tuesday night of 1963 David of Donatello awards, among Italy's top film prizes.

The miniature golden reproductions of Donatello's statue will be presented July 27 to Peck as the best foreign actor for "To Kill a Mocking Bird," to Miss Page as best foreign actress for "Sweet Bird of Youth," and to Zanuck for "The Longest Day," named the best foreign film.

A government spokesman said a number of tankers were being chartered to bring water from the Pearl River, about 40 miles from Hong Kong.

For Detroit Schools

Kill Longer School Year

DETROIT (AP)—A proposal to operate Detroit high schools 11 months a year under a four-quarter system was defeated last night in a 3-2 vote of the board of education.

School Supt. Samuel Brownell told the board that the 11-month plan would cost more money than the present 10-month setup. He added, however, that the extra month would ease overcrowding in most high schools.

Board member Leonard Kasle, sponsor of the longer school year, said it would result in savings over a two-year period. He also contended it would improve the program for students and enable teachers to earn more money.

The school board, faced with mounting financial problems, voted to increase summer school tuition by 50 per cent for students and by 60 per cent for adults.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE HARPSICHORD

QUESTION: Who invented the harpsichord and how does it work?

ANSWER: One of the first stringed instruments to appear was the harp (1) in which a series of strings is plucked with the fingers, each having a separate, fixed note.

About 1300, experiments began laying such an instrument on its side and then using a keyboard so that depressing each key would sound one of the strings. (We don't know exactly who invented the idea.)

Two main systems of sounding the strings were used. In the "clavichord," the strings were struck by pieces from below. This led to the development of the piano where felt-tipped hammers sound the strings. In the other systems, the strings were plucked by quills (see drawings).

The quills were hinged to the "jack" and after plucking, folded in when the jack slid down. This system, used in the small "spinnet" (2) led to the harpsichord (picture below).

This was extremely popular in the 1600's and 1700's, but later lost place to the piano, because the piano was a more singing and expressive tone. But there is a fascination in the ready sound of the harpsichord and, especially through the influence of the great musician Wanda Landowska, the use of the harpsichord has come back.

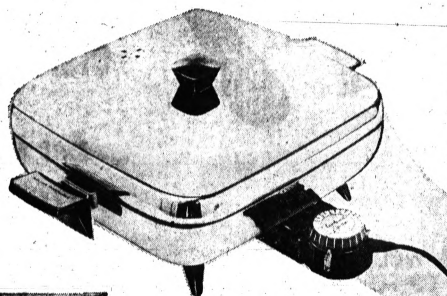

FOR YOU TO DO: Press down a piano key in the lightest way possible and notice what a soft tone you get. Now press harder and get a louder tone; with a strong stroke you get a very loud tone.

Notice too, that if you keep the key down, the tone goes on singing. Beautiful as the harpsichord is, it can't give you such shades of expression.

Venezuela Heads Into Crucial, Perhaps Violent, Election

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Still battling diehard Castro-Communists, Venezuela is hurtling toward an historic and probably violent election for the successor to President Romulo Betancourt.

Four candidates already are campaigning at full tilt and a fifth will appear next month—the long-awaited choice of Betancourt's own big worker-peasant party, Democratic Action.

No matter who wins the mere election itself would be a victory for democracy in this oil-rich but underdeveloped country.

Betancourt has been under attack by Communists—as well as right-wing plotters—since shortly after he took office in 1959 and refused to let Communists take part in his coalition government.

It was hardly a surprise when a special commission of the Organization of American States said Fidel Castro's Cuba has picked Venezuela as its principal target.

LOCAL SUPPORT

Betancourt appears to have gathered local support gradually as he has taken his own steps against Communists in answer to terrorism, oil installation sabotage and two full-scale revolts last year.

He has suspended the Communists as a party and banned them from the presidential and congressional elections, tentatively set for November. He has asked the Supreme Court to outlaw the party entirely.

Apparently weary of temporarily suspending constitutional guarantees to gain extra police powers, Betancourt last week asked Congress to pass an emergency law providing the first stiff sentences for terrorists who shoot policemen and burn down factories.

Diplomats say Communists have lost prestige in Venezuela since 1958, when they took credit for helping to oust dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

SPECIAL REPORT

"Terrorism has backfired on them," says one government official. "Fidel Castro has also lost his appeal because of his economic failure in Cuba."

PROPAGANDA

Communists themselves may feel this. The terrorist group FALN—Armed Front of National Liberation—no longer uses the words Castro or communism in its propaganda.

FALN, says the government, still is a Communist weapon which hopes by terrorism to provoke a right-wing army coup. Officials estimate only 400 of Venezuela's 40,000 Communists have been chosen as FALN activists.

Betancourt's successor must be as strong as he or it will yet be possible to overthrow Venezuelan democracy, say diplomats. Betancourt is believed to be sounding out the army, the church, and other influential groups for opinions on the candidate that should be picked at his party's convention next month.

Democratic Action claims more than a million peasants and workers plus several thousand government employees will be the decisive factor in the expected November turnout of four million.

BIGGEST THREAT

Veteran politician Jovito Villalba, head of the Republican Democratic Union, claims to be the biggest threat against whoever runs for the Democratic Action. He describes himself as non-Communist but not anti-Communist.

Three other major politicians are declared candidates and all urge a united front to beat the Democratic Action. The stumbling block to such a front so far is that each man wants to lead it.

The squirrel's name comes from two Greek words — "skia" and "oura." The literal meaning is "he who holds his tail over his back to shade himself."

Woman Who Adopts Children Is Mother With a Capital 'M'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day my brother and his wife came to visit us.

Maxine was telling us how much she liked the china set her husband had given her. Then she asked what Phil had given me.

He broke into the conversation with, "She's no mother, what do I have to give her a present for?"

Abbey, I have four children. But they are all adopted because I can't have children. This made me feel terrible.

Have you any advice? NO MOTHER: In my opinion, any woman who is unable to bear children, but wants so desperately to be a mother that she will adopt them, deserves the title of mother with a capital "M".

She is more Mother than the female who accidentally conceives and then resigns herself to her fate. You, madame, exemplify motherhood in its highest form. Quadruple congratulations!

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Wet Pillow," who cried because her husband gave her $20 and told her to go out and buy herself a Mother's Day gift, she doesn't know how lucky she is.

Mother's Day happened to fall on my birthday this year. I've been married eleven years and we have three lovely children.

My husband didn't even wish me a Happy Mother's Day or a Happy Birthday. Instead he gave me a big lecture on how "commercial" of Eason, was wed in a white peau de soie gown which featured an Alencon lace bodice and scalloped neckline. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara of pearls and sequins as she carried white carnations and Stephanotis on a white Bible.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Charlene Clark. Bridesmaids in identical mint green taffeta sheath gowns were Suzanne Stevens, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Paul Beeman and junior bridesmaid Jill Stevens, also a cousin of the bride.

All carried bouquets of yellow carnations and daisies. Attending the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford Lally of Detroit, was best man Paul Beeman and ushers John Bailey and James Lally.

A honeymoon at Canada Creek Ranch in northern Michigan followed the reception in the church parlor. The newweds will reside in Potigiac.

Mother's Day and all the other holidays have become. "CRIED ME A RIVER"

DEAR ABBY: We recently had a discussion about whether or not to bury pets with a little ceremony, and mark their graves. Someone said that you had written that it was "childish" and young people should "put away childish things".

How can anyone who has the compassion for people that you appear to have be so insensitive to animals?

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: I could not have expressed the above sentiments. May I quote one of my favorite poems?

"Oh, shame on the mothers who do not love their children. Who did not stop to teach the sorrow that lies in dear dumb eyes

The same force formed the sparrow That fashioned man and king And the God of the whole

DEAR ABBY: How long is a high school senior obligated to a young lady after he has invited her to the senior prom? Or perhaps I should put it this way:

How long should a young lady keep a young man waiting for her answer to his invitation? At this writing, our son has been kept dangling for 72 hours.

DEAR PINKEY: Regarding for 24 hours, a young man can consider himself "cut down."

Don't Leave One Alone at Dance

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A group of us went to a testimonial dinner and dance last Sunday. There were nine of us at our table (all friends). There were supposed to be 10 but at the last minute one of the men could not come which left one unattached woman.

A few times during the evening the four couples got up and danced at the same time leaving this one woman sitting alone. I understand she thinks we were very rude for doing this and is of the opinion that one couple should have remained at the table with her.

Will you please tell me if we committed a breach of etiquette?

A: Leaving her marooned at the table with no one to talk to several times during the evening was rude and one couple should have remained at the table until another returned, before getting up to dance.

Q: I plan to give a buffet party before my senior prom for about 10 couples. Several of the boys, who will be coming to the party, have invited to the dance girls I never met, and of course they will be asked to the party, too.

I would like to know if it is necessary to send invitations to these girls or would it be proper just to invite the boys and ask them to bring their dates with them?

A: Correctly, they should be invited personally and not just "brought along" by the boys.

Q: I am going to graduate from college shortly and have received my college ring. Up to the present time I have been wearing my high school ring.

I would like to know if it would be proper, and in good taste, to wear both rings. Or should I now discard high school ring?

A: Wearing two school rings at the same time would be very strange and now that you have received your college ring, you should put aside your high school ring and wear just the college one.

Soroptimists Install Officers for 1963-64

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac installed officers for 1963-64 at a dinner meeting Monday in the Waldron Hotel.

Guest speaker, Rt. Rev. Msgr. W. F. Suedkamp gave the invocation and Marguerite Parrish was mistress of ceremonies.

Freida Corroch of the Hamtramck Soroptimist Club conducted the candlelight installation ceremony.

Msgr. Suedkamp, secretary for charities, Archdiocese of Detroit, is active in the White House Conference on Aging. He has participated in the establishment and growth of Carmel Hall and the Martin Kundig Center, counseling center for the aging in Detroit.

URGES VISITS

He urged his audience to visit nursing homes where the aged are so often abandoned or neglected by their own grown children. Volunteers who will listen to problems are needed.

"Homes are needed for persons who could be released from geriatrics wards," he said "and a role or niche in society is needed for many persons facing compulsory retirement. They need a work substitute."

"Strides made in gerontology and geriatrics," Msgr. Suedkamp concluded, "have changed the image of Whistler's mother to a modern grandmother with her leg in a cast after a ski weekend."

Checks were presented to Mrs. Gerald Kirkby, executive director, Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults; to Lee Brock, Pontiac Youth Assistance Department and to Dorothy Roe, director of recreational therapy, Pontiac State Hospital.

'Too Easy for Teens to Marry'

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—A Kent County supervisor thinks, young couples should be screened before they are granted marriage licenses.

"It's too easy to get marriage licenses, it's too easy to get on welfare and then it's too easy to get a divorce," said Wallace Obets of Rockford yesterday.

Obets told a joint meeting of the welfare committee and the county board of social welfare that "Young people should have quite a lecture on the responsibilities of marriage."

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: I am making a suit with a notched collar. When I graded my seams where the garment joins the collar, they wouldn't stay pressed open. Any suggestions? Mrs. J. McK.

Dear Mrs. J. McK: Your mistake was in grading these seams. As you know, grading your seams means cutting them in two different widths to avoid a ridge when they are pressed.

Only faced edges, such as those down the front of a garment, around collars, necklines, etc., should be graded. These are seams where there is an actual facing stitched to garment.

Never grade the seams that form construction details on your garment.

My only suggestion at this point would be that you try catch-stitching the seam allowances down to the under collar.

This will leave only one layer of seams free. Let's hope you'll be lucky and that they won't curl-up and make the collar lumpy.

SLICK BUTTONHOLES

Mrs. B. G. says: Slip a piece of waxed paper over the area on which you intend making a machine buttonhole.

Stitch through the paper and your buttonhole will come out perfect every time. This is especially helpful when you are working on any kind of synthetic fabrics which have a tendency to pull easily.

Dear Eunice Farmer: I have very prominent hip bones which are quite high and the darts at the front of my skirt seem to pull my skirt out of shape. My darts aren't too deep, so what else could cause this? Mrs. G. D.

Dear Mrs. G. D.: As I have said before, darts are merely an aid to good fitting and they must be changed to suit the individual figure.

In your case, a dart that is more than 2.5 to three inches long would be taking fabric away from the hip bones where you actually need a little extra room.

Try making darts by moving the point of the darts so it is a little less than three inches below the waistline and about 1.5 inches closer to the side seam than shown on the pattern.

The top marks for the darts will remain the same. Your darts will not be slanted toward the side seam and should give you the fullness and the fit you need.

You could also eliminate the front darts altogether and run a gathering stitch across the top of the skirt.

The amount you would ease would be the same as you would take up in darts and would not appear too full or bulky. Have fun and experiment.

BUTTON AID

Mrs. Mimi Riley, Blackstone, Mass., wins this week's Tailor Trix pressing board with this suggestion.

I am a former sewing teacher, and how I wish I had your excellent hints when I was teaching, they are priceless. I am now a dressmaker and would like to submit the following:

To cover metal form buttons with a dark fabric, glue a piece of fabric on the form with colorless all-purpose glue.

After it is dry, clip the excess from the edges and cover with your dress fabric.

The extra layer of fabric will keep the shine of the button from showing through.

Dear Eunice: Every time I use a pattern with unpressed pleats instead of darts, they are turned in just the opposite way that they seem to be in the picture on the pattern. Are the pictures always right? Mrs. L. E. R.

Dear Mrs. L. E. R.: Usually the pictures on the pattern are accurate and I am almost sure you are making a rather common mistake. When you mark unpressed pleats on your fabric, you must tailor-tack these instead of marking with chalk.

They must be made from the right side of your garment to come out correctly. Hold the right side of your pattern in front of you and check the direction they will go according to the arrows on the pattern.

In this way you can check yourself and avoid any mistakes.

What About College Scholarships, Loans?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Along with the season of high school graduations come thoughts of financing next fall's trip to college. Here's a timely letter about applying for scholarships.

Dear Miss Feeley:

We expect to complete the parents' confidential statement of the College Scholarship Service for one of our children who will be entering college.

Of course we retain all of our cancelled checks, but we do not feel these reflect the total amount of our expenses. For instance, how would one arrive at a reasonable estimate of "annual home expenses" when a lot of the expenses would be paid in cash (including taxes, utilities, etc.)

Mrs. M. K. T., Stillwater, Minn.
Dear Mrs. T.:

The authority in charge of scholarship applications at a large university tells me that a "reasonable estimate" of annual home expenses is expected to be kept at a minimum.

Figure in your cash outlays as well as your recorded payments. There is no necessity for proof of your figures, as there would be in filing an income tax return. Just estimate as logically as you can. This is simply information the college or university needs to guide their thinking in justifying a scholarship.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Regarding your reply to Bob B. relative to the National Defense Education Act of 1958 and obtaining a loan for a college education, I would appreciate more details. I have been trying to do this for my son who is matriculating at— for dentistry, and we can get nowhere.

It appears that you have to be in the top 10 of your class, otherwise there is no room for you at the inn.

Frank S., Chicago

Dear Frank:

You sound a touch bitter at this point. You're getting discouraged too soon. It's true that recipients of these loans are selected by the college or university itself. And that the law does provide special consideration for superior academic background.

But there are other ways for students to earn money for an education. Some 65 colleges have what are called cooperative programs, wherein students divide their time between classrooms and acquiring on-the-job experience and income. You might ask about this at—

There are also grants-in-aid—money awards that generally apply toward tuition or living expenses of promising students unable to qualify for an academic scholarship. There's also part-time work to be considered, either at the college or in the vicinity.

If you want detailed information on the National Defense Student Loan Program, write to the Office of Education of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Do you have any suggestions for people who just can't save? We have cashed bonds and drawn out all our savings again and again. Is there help for us?

M. V., Irvington, N. J.

Dear M. V.:

Make up your minds what you want to save for. Just putting money away is a pretty dreary business. You have to have a reason, a real objective. Give it a name. Is it for a home, a world tour, retirement?

Once you get a mental picture of what you want that money to buy, you won't be tempted to spend it for something less important.

(Mary Feeley will welcome your questions. Write her in care of The Pontiac Press.)

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
In the United States alone, there are about 25 million folks who are overweight. Physicians consider this a major public health problem. Why is it important for these persons to lose their excess weight?

Studies and statistics have proven without a doubt that excess poundage is a real hazard. Overweight persons do not live as long.

They are very much more likely to develop heart and kidney diseases, diabetes and arthritis.

Obesity complicates any illness and makes surgery more hazardous. It leads to all sorts of minor but miserable physical discomforts such as backaches and foot trouble.

It places a great burden on all joints since these were not meant to carry about such great weight.

CHRONIC FATIGUE
Chronic fatigue is one of the worst penalties of overweight. I know of one instance where a friend of mine had pains about his heart and was abnormally tired. He went to one of the most famous heart specialists for an examination.

He was given a thorough one. At the end of it the physician said, "I find nothing wrong with your heart. If you will lose 25 pounds your fatigue will disappear."

Of course, there are exceptions. Many individuals are overweight but enjoy excellent health and never seem to be tired. There are those who are overweight all of their lives and live to a very old age.

There are other factors than overweight which enter into the picture too.

However, the evidence as to the danger of too many pounds is so overwhelming that we are taking a chance to think that we will be one of the lucky ones.

If you missed my nine-day reducing diet which gives you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days and want it in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Oust Medicine Chest Clutter

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A few days ago I received a reminder that a large health goods company was sponsoring its 5th medicine chest cleanup campaign to call attention to the dangers of accidental home poisoning.

What I found behind my mirrored door was a mish-mash of cosmetics, scouring powders, bowl cleaner, razor and blades, toothpaste, shaving cream, disinfectant and a few legitimate items such as gauze and adhesive tape.

A mess, but not a particularly lethal mess. I told myself smugly, my neighbor, William Elson, medical research director of a large pharmaceutical firm, dashed this conceit. "One of the things which makes the danger of home poisoning greater than it ever has been," he said, "is the increased use of drug preparations, many of which can be poisonous to children, and the increased availability of household chemicals which may be fatal if swallowed."

Such highly toxic chemicals as most bowl cleaners certainly don't belong in a medicine cabinet. Don't keep half-empty prescriptions. Pour unused, discolored or unknown materials down the drain, Elson says.

Children under the age of 5 are the chief victims of home accidental poisoning.

Rich Chocolate Cakes Must Chill Overnight

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor.

New recipes come out all the time, but there are certain timeless classics that never lose their popularity. Such a recipe is Mrs. James Aldrich's Chocolate Charlotte Russe Cake.

Mrs. Aldrich is a young homemaker who enjoys cooking and baking. She is active in a number of civic activities.

If you are interested in cutting calories, use one of the dessert topping mixes in place of the whipped cream.

CHOCOLATE CHARLOTTE RUSSE CAKE

By Mrs. James G. Aldrich
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
¾ cup sugar
6 eggs, separated
1½ cups unsalted butter
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
3 dozen ladyfingers, split

Line deep 9-inch spring-form or other loose-bottomed pan with split ladyfingers. Put in alternate layers of chocolate mixture and remaining ladyfingers, having three layers of chocolate. Chill overnight.

Remove sides of pan and put dessert on cake plate. Garnish with whipped cream and shaved chocolate. Serves 12.

Hewitt-LaBarge Vows Spoken at St. Michael

The Italian-American Club was the setting for a reception following recent vows of Betty Lou LaBarge and John W. Hewitt in St. Michael Church. Rev. Herbert E. Mansfield performed the double-blessing ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Lauren Millers, Joseph, and the David Hewitts of Union Street.

White brocaded taffeta fashioned the bride's gown with which she wore a short illusion veil fitted to a sequined headpiece. She held a cascade of white roses and pompoms... Her pearl necklace was the bridegroom's gift.

Gowns for the attendants were blue nylon sheer over yellow taffeta.

Green hat, shoes and carnations in her bouquet of yellow carnations designated the honor man, Mrs. Earl Payne, the bride's sister.

Bridesmaids Charlene and Carol Hewitt, twin sisters of the bridegroom, carried yellow and white carnations.

Brothers of the bride couple comprised the escort. Ronald E. LaBarge was best man. His brothers Dean and Charles, ushered with Robert and Ralph Hewitt.

The newlyweds will live in Pontiac following a northern honeymoon.

Dad's Error Caused Son's Permissiveness

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our 4-year-old girl doesn't give her older brother a minute's peace. He can't sit down in a chair without her running over to him and pushing at him until he lets her have it.

I've seen her deliberately walk up to him and throw dirt in his face. He is 10 and is much kinder and more patient with her than

I think he ought to be. But she is her father's favorite....

Answer: Her father seems to admire aggressiveness.

Is he a man who tries to be nice to everybody? When your daughter was a baby, did he make a big point of her littleness and weakness to her brother?

When she began to grab at her brother's toys, did he suggest that big brothers must honorably refrain from any attempt to protect themselves against baby sisters and make it impossible for your son to learn how to use his strength to control your daughter's aggressiveness?

Many parents make it impossible for older children to defend themselves against younger ones by just such premature sermons on honor, kindness and other eminent virtues.

Then, when the older child seeks to please the sermonizing parents by pretending not to mind getting shoved off his chair by younger children, the parents feel a secret contempt for him.

FEELS CONTEMPT
The father who has preached chivalrous restraint toward baby sister's grabbings, secretly thinks, "Ye Gods, what a sissy Billy is turning out to be!"

He feels contempt for the very tolerance and submission he has commanded. And he expresses it by making baby sister his "favorite."

Any parent who finds himself favoring a bullying child is wise to ask himself, "Why do I admire aggression?"

Usually, we admire an aggressive person's disregard of other people's rights because we've been required to disregard our own.

We've been educated to think of our compliance as "kindness," "patience" or "understanding." We cling frantically to our belief that our fear of resistance is evidence of our special sensitivity and moral superiority.

It is at this point that we may develop an intense favoritism toward an aggressive child.

We'll feel secret delight in a 4-year-old daughter's fearless grabbing at anything she wants, and not realize that our delight in her is envy.

Dear Mrs. Housewife:

Did you ever stop to count the number of individual items you have purchased weekly at the supermarket? Well the average shopper usually purchases about 40 to 60 items each and every week! Some supermarkets try to lure you into their store with 2 or 3 so-called specials.

If you were to stop and figure it out, you'd soon realize that a few cents you save on these items are soon eaten up by the regular shelf prices on the other items you use daily.

At National we have over 6,000 SPECIALS on our shelves RIGHT NOW! These are our regular EVERYDAY LOW SHELF PRICE! With a hard hitting policy like ours, you save on every item, every day of the week. That is why you are GUARANTEED MORE TOTAL SAVINGS, as you pass through the checkout. So Pay More... What For???? Pass through the door where savings are MORE. YOUR NATIONAL FOOD STORE

Labor, Transportation Leaders to Hear Fiscal Reform Plans

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney, already told by an educator that his outline for fiscal reform might fall short of the mark, prepared today to take his case before labor and transportation industry leaders.

The plea for relief from taxes which hit hardest at the low income groups was expected from spokesmen for the AFL-CIO, the Michigan Building Trades Council and the United Auto Workers.

Conferring yesterday with some 20 educators and spokesmen for the beer and liquor industry, the governor learned he was not to expect any group invited to one of the week's five briefing sessions to be hesitant about voicing what it wants from tax and fiscal overhaul.

For educators, the main issue in the 2½-hour meeting was making certain that the legislature, in the special fall session, sets up machinery that will provide enough money to cope with expanding enrollment and increasing school operating costs.

POWER TO TAX
Led by Benjamin Buikema, Grand Rapids superintendent of schools, and Dr. William Simmons, assistant superintendent in Detroit, spokesmen urged that local school districts be given power to tax income or other sources.

This, they said, would relieve the districts from sole reliance on property taxes for operating and might ease the "communist reaction" that has made it increasingly difficult to obtain voter approval of millage and bonding proposals.

While Romney pleaded that any effort at total fiscal reform must stay within the area of the possible, Buikema asserted:

"The schools are in a strait-jacket and the state must take a hard look at how they are financed. It is high time that school boards have local fiscal independence and autonomy."

NAACP Asks Housing Law

DETROIT (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday urged the Detroit City Council to outlaw racial discrimination in private housing.

Failure to enact an open occupancy law, NAACP officials said, could lead to "rising racial tensions over the racial inequality in housing and schools."

Edward Turner, president of the NAACP's Detroit branch, requested a public hearing. The council said one would be held later this month after several of its members return from out-of-state visits.

Turner said the NAACP will seek more anti-segregation restrictions than those contained in Michigan's "Rule 9" legislation, which was ruled invalid in court.

"We are asking for broader legislation, a prohibition against segregation and discrimination in housing," Turner said. "We want to make sure that the housing rights of the Negro citizen will not be restricted on any point because of color."

Will Airlift Cubans From Embassy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cubans who took sanctuary as much as two years ago in Uruguay's Embassy in Havana will begin leaving Thursday for airlift to Miami under safe conduct of the Fidel Castro regime.

Pan American World Airways will fly 401 persons from Havana to Florida in four flights under arrangements approved by the United States and Cuban governments.

Only about 260 of the group actually lives in the embassy reservation. The others—children—lived under Uruguayan protection outside, and will be reunited with parents for the flights to America. Two of seven children who lived in the embassy were born there.

adviser to Romney and one of three aides who helped present the briefing, said a key question is whether any new taxes should be raised by the state and allocated locally, or levied by local governments and collected by the state.

"It's the same old problem," he said. "The solutions can be too far from local situations and won't fit local needs."

Buikema criticized the Romney planners for "almost inferring that local education is to continue as a local tax burden."

GREATER EQUITY
School officials, Buikema said, supported the principle of greater equity in taxation as a way of improving the state's economic climate, but added:

"You're not talking big enough when you talk about only $30- to $50-million in increased revenue. I don't think we can build the kind of state we want unless we do more about relieving responsibility from the state level."

One fault which Buikema found in the plan was that it is predicated on current levels of spending with a $16-million increase in school aid payments for higher his autobiography, "Naturalist enrollment, but has no increase in the state's share under the aid formula.

He said the last decade had seen the state's share of support for operating costs rise only about $2 per child — from $150 to $172 — while the portion drawn from local property taxes has risen from $90 to $191 per child.

"I'm concerned about the lack of concern over this," he said. "The state has not kept pace with inflation, to say nothing of the quality of instruction."

Romney said Buikema was only indicating that the outline for fiscal reform didn't go far enough, and added that estimates by his staff on projected revenues are "conservative, in order to show that on a conservative basis, we've got to do something."

The governor told the gathering that he hoped the "greater concern will be about the state's whole fiscal problem, and putting it behind us," rather than concentrating on the needs of any single element.

Included in the groups represented were the Council of State College Presidents, the Michigan Education Association, the Association of School Boards and the Association of School Administrators, for which Buikema was spokesman.

A 'Ridiculous System'

Educator Hits State's College Appropriation Method

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan from 1929 to 1951, has called Michigan's method of appropriating state funds to colleges and universities "a ridiculous system."

"The annual battle for appropriations in the legislature requires a state university president, honest or otherwise, to do battle every year with smooth and well-equipped lobbyists of powerful interests for funds to support one of our most important social responsibilities," he says in school aid payments for higher his autobiography, "Naturalist

Two Worlds," just published by the University Press.

"I have suggested that a better procedure would be for the legislature to appropriate a lump sum for the universities, the money to be apportioned to the several institutions by a grants committee composed of representatives of the governing boards. So far the proposal has fallen on deaf ears," he added.

The outspoken retired president takes other pot shots at the legislature.

Year after year I had to try to explain to some of our legislators the advantages to Michigan students from foreign students. . . If this policy is ever changed, Michigan will not be the university that it has been up to this time," he said.

College graduates, and especially U. of M. alumni, have been the least interested in higher education in the legislature, he said, adding:

"It is easier to arouse active interest among the rural and labor representatives in Lansing than in the college group. The college group was usually made up in large proportion of men with strong political aspirations. . . Ambitious members of the legislature learn very quickly how to become "slick" politicians, willing subjects of party discipline and advocates of special interests."

He has long backed, he said, the idea that state-supported institutions should charge only nominal fees to state students.

"It does not make good sense to insist that we need more college-trained citizens, and at the same time to cut down the supply at the high school level by increasing costs of further training. I have never found sympathetic ears for this contention outside of Russia," he said.

The president-emeritus who now serves as a consultant to the U. of M. development council and raises horses on a farm east of here, was a zoologist before he was tapped for the presidency. The move took him by surprise, he recalled, and the reasons behind it remains a mystery to him.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

Your colon has nerves that control regularly. When you are tense or nervous, colon bowels impulses are blocked—and you become constipated. New Colomax tablets relieve this misery with a new principle. Simmons, assistant superintendent in Detroit, spokesmen urged that local school districts be given power to tax income or other sources.

Leaving U. S. Post for Return to MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University announced that Dr. Harold Wein has resigned from a position as top economist with the federal power commission to return to teaching at the university.

Wein took a leave of absence from MSU in January of 1962 to accept a position as director of the office of economics and chief economist with the federal agency. His leave expires Aug. 31.

Joseph Swindler, power commission chairman, lauded Wein for his accomplishments for the agency. "You can take pride in the fact that under your leadership the office of economics has become an important part of the commission's staff organization," Swindler said.

Signs Order for Lot Hearing

May Prevent Use of Site for Pay Parking

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem yesterday morning signed an order for a show-cause hearing, at 9 a.m. July 1, on why a temporary injunction should not be issued against the operation of a pay parking lot at Huron and Saginaw.

A petition requesting the hearing was filed by local labor leader Cecil C. Mullinix. Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653, UAW, said that an investigation of the original deed showed that the property was given to the county "for the purpose of erecting a courthouse and no other purpose whatsoever."

The lot is currently being leased from the county by Sam Stolorow, owner of Outdoor Parking Co., for a pay parking lot.

This does not meet the restrictions in the deed, Mullinix said.

He termed the use of the lot "a commercial venture, not a public use."

In the event that the property is not used for a courthouse or a public use, the deed stipulates that the lot reverts back to the donor, he noted.

Mullinix said this morning that he feels "more optimistic than ever" that the site will eventually be secured for a drop-in center for Oakland County's 40,000 retirees.

He said he based much of the optimism on the tremendous response he has received from downtown merchants and local businessmen.

Pennsylvania Claims Kentucky Rifle

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The American frontiersman knew it as the "long rifle."

Or, as mankind often does to inanimate objects, he personalized it to "Old Sure Fire," or "Indian Killer," or "Deer Killer," or "Absolutely ridiculous, say folks in Pennsylvania."

Headed by Gov. William W. Scranton, they are in the midst of a "campaign—with strong overtones of luring the tourist trade—to remove the term Kentucky rifle from history books and substitute "Pennsylvania rifle" or "Lancaster rifle."

According to Pennsylvanians, historical evidence traces the origin of the long rifle to Continental Europe, through German and Swiss immigrants who settled in eastern Pennsylvania in the early 18th century.

The distinctive feature of the hunting weapons used in the German forests and the Swiss mountains was the rifled barrel, providing greater range and better accuracy than the smooth-bore muskets of the English.

Early American settlers brought the musket with them, but the wave of immigration from the Continent—in the early 1700s—brought German and Swiss gunsmiths in the lush valleys of what is now Lancaster County, southeast of Harrisburg and west of Philadelphia.

These gunsmiths began turning out the weapons common to their homeland for use on the frontier that was their back yard.

GRACEFUL WEAPON

The large-bore, heavy, cumbersome weapon of the Continent became the lightweight, small-bore, graceful weapon of the American woodsman.

The typical rifle weighed seven to nine pounds, was about five feet in length and fired a .45-caliber ball.

It was loaded by ramming powder and ball through the barrel.

The firing process began somewhat like lighting a modern cigarette lighter: the trigger tripped a flint that ignited a primer that fired the charge.

Modern marksmen can attest to the distraction of that first flash of the primer, but the colonial marksmen learned to ignore it and earned a proficiency for accuracy that was chronicled in both the diaries of the frontier and of the Revolutionary War.

Its range and accuracy were equalizing factors for the unschooled militiamen against the trained armies of England. On the frontier, it tipped the scales definitely in favor of the American woodsman.

WAR OF 1812

It still was earning its reputation in the war of 1812 as Andrew Jackson's Tennessee and Kentucky riflemen sighted through the mists at Chatterbox British troops in the battle of New Orleans.

By then the romance of the frontier and the frontiersmen had earned the generic title, "Kentucky rifle" for the long rifle.

None of the earlier names, such as "Lancaster rifle," had caught the historians' fancy. Efforts to attach the name of Daniel Boone to the rifle never caught hold.

Boone was one of the woodsman that helped earn a reputation for and from the rifle. It was ironic, because he was born in eastern Pennsylvania not too far from Lancaster, and learned to handle his weapon on the Pennsylvania frontier. His family moved westward in 1750 when he was about 16 and he went on to win fame in Kentucky and help attach that state's claim to the rifle.

Pennsylvania still maintains the Boone birthplace near the city of Reading as an historic shrine.

It hopes to retain its right to the long rifle in a shoot-out on the Boone homestead this September.

A challenge to the match was issued earlier this year, born of nostalgia and nurtured by unadulterated press agency.

The idea is that the states will shoot two rounds, one at the Boone homestead and one somewhere in Kentucky, with at least temporary title to the rifle going to the winner.

In any event, the two states hope to gain lots of tourist dollars. End advance for Wednesday

Sen. Roberts Is Expected to Get Post

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, is expected to be named Thursday to head the judiciary subcommittee of an 18-member interim committee shaping legislation to implement the new state constitution.

Main tasks of the judiciary subcommittee will be drafting bills to put into effect the new intermediate state court of appeals and to replace the justice of the peace court fee system with another revenue method.

The subcommittee is expected to have six members. Two other subcommittees are to be formed—one to draft legislation to implement executive and legislative provisions of the constitution and one to consider necessary election law changes.

Adoption of measures putting the new basic law of the state into effect is scheduled along with tax reform for the special fall session of the legislature which Gov. George Romney plans to call.

The new constitution will take effect Jan. 1, 1964.

Broderick Crawford Relearns the Great Blessing of Sight

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Having known what it is to live in a world of darkness, Broderick Crawford knows how great is the blessing of sight.

Last December the Academy Award-winning actor was blinded in the right eye. "I was making a picture in Spain called 'The Castilians,'" he said. "We were doing a sword fight and the director called out the weapons common to their language barrier, the Spanish kept on fighting and one of them hit me on the right side of my face, right next to the eye."

The blow caused a hemorrhage that blanked out vision in the left eye (so the right eye will exercise properly). He is also trying out some new contact lenses.

"It was quite a scare," said Crawford, who doesn't scare easily. "After I lost the sight of the right eye, I worried constantly about losing the other one. I guess it was only natural."

Doctors here told him he had suffered a traumatic cataract; the eye was beginning to glass over with the milky look of cataract victims. He submitted to surgery and for three days lay still, his eyes covered with light bandages.

"That was the toughest part of all," he recalled. "You don't realize how helpless you are without your sight. I had to be fed like a baby."

When the bandages were finally removed, Crawford experienced the shock of re-entering the world of light. He found he was dazzled by the brilliance.

"The operation removed the film that ordinarily coats your eyes," he explained. "It's a remarkable thing. When I look at things with my left eye alone, they seem of normal color and shading. But when I look at them with my right, the colors stand out brilliantly."

Crawford made a fast recovery. Within six weeks, he was back at work, acting with Ed Begley and Jack Kelly in a drama for the debut of Kraft Mystery Theater on NBC June 19.

The actor has since been fitted with glasses which bring the right eye up to 20-20 while blurring the left one (so the right eye will exercise properly). He is also trying out some new contact lenses.

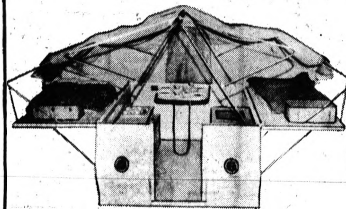

"It was quite a scare," said Crawford, who doesn't scare easily. "After I lost the sight of the right eye, I worried constantly about losing the other one. I guess it was only natural."

School's Out! Drive Safely

LANSING (UPI) — A reminder for motorists to be extra cautious now that school is out and more children are playing on the streets came yesterday from State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Some 2 million public and parochial school youngsters are now on summer vacations from the classroom, Bartlett said.

"This means the chances of accidents involving children who are having too much fun to remember to be careful definitely increases," he said.

"A little extra care on the part of motorists and the help of parents reminding their children of basic traffic, water and play safety rules are needed," said Bartlett.

Workshop Conference Scheduled in Leland

LELAND (AP) — The 20th annual Vocational Education Summer Workshop Conference will take place here June 16-19; with some 300 trade, business and vocational educators expected to attend. The chief topic of the conference is to be the adjustment of education to constantly changing labor market demands.

Famed Poet's Wife Reflects on Their Life Together

EDITOR'S NOTE — For more than half a century, Mrs. Carl Sandburg has chosen to remain out of the public's eye while her husband became one of America's most well known literary figures.)

By RICHARD C. BAYER
FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Carl Sandburg, whose memory matches her wit, recalled that when she married her poet husband 56 years ago Saturday they "weren't so darn sure it was going to last."

"We entered into the marriage with the agreement if either of us wanted to quit, the other would say, 'all right,'" she added. "Now we're waiting for our 75th anniversary. That will really be something."

For more than a half a century Lillian Paul Sandburg has remained quietly in the wings while her husband—poet, historian, novelist, Lincoln biographer and twice a Pulitzer Prize winner—played a leading role on the American literary stage.

Visitors to Conemara, the Sandburg farm here, are met by a woman who looks every bit the part of the 80-year-old grandmother that she is. But when the conversation starts they find a woman with a bright and youthful outlook still possessed with the desire to exchange and express ideas.

"Carl Sandburg was so independent he wouldn't have allowed any woman to make a mess out of him," she said. "I don't believe there's a woman behind every great man."

Mrs. Sandburg was a school teacher in Princeton, Ill., when in 1907 she met Sandburg, a Social-Democratic party organizer at party headquarters in Milwaukee. Letters and poems followed her back to Illinois.

"Carl had all the makings of a good organizer. He was forthright and easy to talk with," she remembered. "But when he sent me a copy of his collection 'In Reckless Ecstasy,' I saw a different man. I thought he was just a little better than Whitman."

In six months they were married. There was no ring and "obey" was omitted from the vows.

LOOKS TO GENIUSES

After 56 years of married life, Mrs. Sandburg looked to the two geniuses she has known best, her husband and her brother, Edward Steichen, the renowned photographer.

"People often think artists are difficult to live with. Carl and my brother are the most reasonable people I've ever known," she said.

For Mrs. Sandburg, the poem "The People, Yes," published in the depression year 1936, is her husband's greatest piece of work. "It took someone who lived and knew the people to write that," she said.

Time has brought most of the things the Sandburgs championed as young Social-Democrats—the eight-hour day, child labor laws, the income tax and social security—and now Mrs. Sandburg says socialized medicine is needed.

"If it can happen in Sweden and England—or even in Russia, let it happen here. The Communists believe in fresh air. Does that mean we should breathe nothing but foul air?"

MOVED FROM MICHIGAN

In 1945 the Sandburgs and two of their three daughters moved here from Harbort, Mich., where they lived in a home Mrs. Sandburg designed to her husband's specification.

At Conemara, Mrs. Sandburg, in Monticello, Ind.

a mathematician and classicist at the University of Chicago, manages a herd of 62 high-producing goats. She keeps the family books, prepares the meals, gardens and is an inveterate nature watcher.

Sandburg said: "A most amazing woman. We're equal, but she is superior in learning."

"We're both Phi Beta Kappa, but she earned hers. I went up to it, it's the God's truth."

Romney Names 2 to Aeronautics Posts

LANSING (AP) — Britton L. Gordon, of Grand Rapids, and Fontana, of Iron Mountain, yesterday were named to the Michigan Aeronautics Commission by Gov. George Romney.

Each will serve for a four-year term if confirmed by the Senate as members of the eight-man commission.

Gordon and Fontana replace Robert Jenkins, of Grand Rapids, and Herbert Norton, of Escanaba, whose terms expired May 27.

Restaurant Owner Finds Missing Chicago Boys

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI)—The operator of an all-night restaurant became suspicious when two boys' first request was for "a lot of milk."

Police found the boys were Frederick Ford, 10, and his brother, Rick, 9, missing since Sunday and en route from their home in Chicago to their grandmother's house 100 miles away in Monticello, Ind.

Cons Offer Own Blood for Ill Boys

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the story of two boys and 76 convicts. The boys are brothers—Mike and Pete Meurer—2 and 4.

The two youngsters developed hemophilia at birth, a disease which prevents the blood from clotting, often causing its victims to bleed to death from a scratch. Mike bumped his head on his crib last week and was rushed to Monticello Hospital in Brooklyn where he was given blood transfusions.

Soon after, Pete struck his leg against a chair. He was taken to the same hospital for transfusions. Thomas McCarthy, serving time in Queens County House of Detention on a weapons charge, read about the boys and how they each require about 100 pints of blood a year to stay alive.

He asked fellow inmates to donate blood for the boys.

Then he wrote a letter to the boys' parents. "We are getting together, 76 of us out here, and are donating a pint of blood apiece to help Michael and Peter. We are praying for you. Best regards to Mike and Pete."

Pete was told about the letter today and smiled. Mike died Monday before it came. Prison authorities said the Red Cross blood bank will collect the blood and deliver it to the hospital for Pete.

Will Install Cooling Units

LANSING (AP)—The 90-year-old walls of the executive office in the state Capitol will feel the refreshing breezes of air conditioning for the first time this summer.

Workmen are wiring the offices of Gov. George Romney and Dr. Walter Devries, one of Romney's aides, for window-style air conditioning units.

Both units are privately paid for. The legislature has never granted funds for air-conditioning the Capitol.

The varying hare, or snowshoe rabbit, weighs about 2½ ounces at birth, but usually doubles its weight at the age of one week.

Politicians Reap Harvest of Doctorate Degrees

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON: "The future lies before you."
This marvelously redundant cliché is rolling forth, in only slightly altered form, from oratorical commencement platforms throughout the land.
It's degree-pickin' time in the valley, and not only are thousands of students marching single file to the dias to collect their hard-earned sheepskins, but politicians are also reaping an enormous harvest of diplomas.
President Kennedy, accepting his twentieth honorary degree at San Diego State College the other day, began in time-honored fashion:
"This is a proud moment — proud for me as a recipient of this honorary degree — proud for those of you who have earned your degrees with hard labor."
Having delivered commencement addresses ourselves, and received two honorary doctor's degrees, this correspondent can testify that nothing new is ever uttered on such occasions.
Perhaps it is just as well. The graduates, proudly stepping forth into the world, will never again know as much as they think they do at this glorious hour.
College degrees mark the "man of distinction" in our culture-conscious age. They are traditionally obtained in two ways: By studying one's way through four years of book-learning, or by getting elected to high public office.
TOO POOR
Speaker John W. McCormack, too poor to take advantage of the first method, now boasts a string of eleven honorary degrees, and rejected the opportunity for six more this spring, because he was too busy with congressional chores.

Senator Teddy Kennedy, once expelled from Harvard for a year, received his first honorary degree this spring after capturing his brother's old seat in the upper chamber.
Attorney General Robert Kennedy has amassed six such degrees since joining the cabinet, and Senator Barry Goldwater, with only a year of college to his credit, has four.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who once taught history and public speaking in a Houston high school, has picked up sixteen honorary degrees in the last five years, and is adding four more this month.
Whether JFK will enjoy having LBJ tie his own honorary scholastic record is a moot point. Presidents are notoriously wary of any build-up of potential rivals, as Lyndon himself learned during New Deal days.

As an ambitious, liberal young representative from Texas, LBJ worked so hard-in-glove with President Franklin D. Roosevelt that an admiring columnist wrote a glowing piece about him.
Referring to the youthful Johnson as a "wonder boy," the columnist declared that Roosevelt could never have gotten a particularly difficult piece of New Deal legislation through Congress without Lyndon's help.
Johnson was feeling pretty rosy about the clipping in his pocket as he checked into the White House that morning for breakfast with FDR.

The President, peering across the table at him, said sternly: "Lyndon, the best administrative assistant I ever had utterly destroyed his usefulness to the president a few months ago."
LBJ ASKED
"How is that, Mr. President?" LBJ asked eagerly.
Reaching for a piece of toast, Roosevelt responded dryly:

"By getting too much personal publicity for himself." LBJ soberly caught the point.
Happily for John F. Kennedy, honorary doctor's degrees are available for a U.S. President practically anytime that he cares to walk on campus with a prepared speech in his hand.
In fact, politicians find them so easy to come by that if someone cried from the house balcony, "Is there a doctor in the house?" probably the entire body would rise.

New Continental Look

Socialists Increase Europe Influence

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

De Gaulle himself plays such a role today.

In a fast-changing Europe, de Gaulle remains the great unchanging figure.

In Britain, public opinion polls give the Labor party, rooted in socialism, the best chance of winning a general election.

In West Germany, a revived Socialist party under West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt broke the majority hold of the Christian Democrats and forced Chancellor Konrad Adenauer into an unwanted coalition with the Free Democrats.

Adenauer, now a lame-duck chancellor, is scheduled to leave office this fall, turning his duties over to Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, a brilliant economist but untried as a national leader.

And in Italy, the Christian Democrats, still the largest party, are forced to seek a left-of-center government whose existence will depend upon the good will of Pietro Nenni's left-wing Socialists.

The swing to the left does not mean a simultaneous drift away from the United States.

Italy, for example, regards itself as probably the most pro-American country in Europe. A foundation stone of the new Erhard government in West Germany will be continued close relations with the United States and with the Atlantic community.

A Labor government in Britain would work closely with the Kennedy Administration in Washington, especially on matters of defense.

Nor does the Socialist movement necessarily mean widespread nationalization of industry.

In Britain, the Laborites probably would renationalize steel and seek public ownership of such industries as ethical drugs.

In Italy, the opening to the left has meant nationalization of the power industry.

In Denmark and Sweden, private industry remains strong and vibrant.

On the continent, the move to the left has been accompanied by other important changes.

PARTY DECLINE

One of these is the decline of Christian Democratic parties in Italy, France and West Germany.

In fact, no trace is left now of the powerful Christian Democratic movement which was the mainstay of early efforts toward European unification.

De Gasperi of Italy, Adenauer of Germany and Robert Schuman of France were more than just national leaders—they actually were "Europeans" with a vision far beyond national boundaries.

For them Europe counted for more than national interests.

The French Christian Democrats (MRP) lost ground and the Italian and German Christian Democrats parted ways — the Germans in the direction of free enterprise and the Italians toward state planning.

Under both Adenauer and de Gaulle, the power of parliament also declined.

Under Erhard, this trend in Germany may be reversed because Erhard is noted as a team player.

In Italy, parliament remains a force, but one dominated by parties.

Urges Program for State Aged

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has called for a 10-year program for "more adequate services, facilities and opportunities" for senior citizens to be developed by the Michigan Commission on Aging.

Such a program could set the pace for the entire nation, Romney told Commission Chairman John Martin in a letter.

The governor said the group could furnish the leadership to "stimulate planning, coordination and a division of program responsibility between public and private agencies and organizations."

Romney said state leadership and local control must be used to help elderly persons meet their health, housing, economic, spiritual, educational, social and recreational needs.

One aspect of the plan, he said, should be a program of formal and informal education on preparation for retirement.

Another should be aimed at maximum use of the experience, skills, knowledge and talent of the elderly in community enterprises.

State Highway Dept.

to Auction Off Property

LANSING (AP) — Three pieces of property valued at a total of $17,025 will be sold at auction in Grand Rapids by the State Highway Department June 25.

Two of the properties are in Grand Rapids, the third at the east city limits of Mt. Pleasant, in Isabella County.

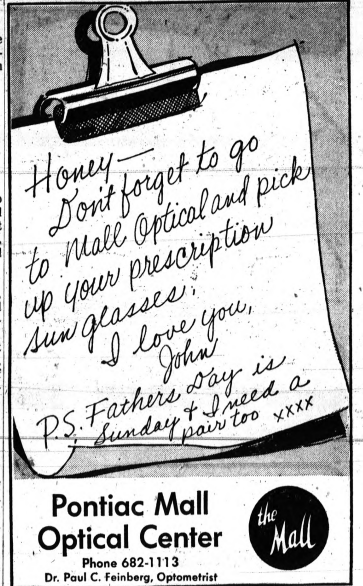

Selfridge Offers Base Command to Boy in Area

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Officials at Selfridge Air Force Base have announced a contest for Greater Detroit Area boys between the ages of 10 and 15 on command certifying for a day.

"Why I Would Like to Be a Base Commander for a Day."

The winner will set in the chair of the Selfridge AFB Commander, be given a royal tour of the base, a ride in a plane and a document certifying he was base commander for a day.

Deadline for entries in the contest is July 5. The winner will be announced the following week.

Egypt Clamps Down

Belly Dancers Shook

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's belly dancers may never dance again with the old verve if a new reform plan takes effect.

They are worried about a warning issued by the Art Specification Censorship Department ordering them to cover up and keep their shakes "respectable."

The chief censor, Abdel Rehim Sourour, opened the campaign with a circular letter sent to each dancer outlining the official reform plan.

Sourour's letter said there is to be no more hipswinging; no more belly or bosom shaking; no more lying down on the floor and executing quivering or shivering motions; no more suggestive movements.

And—breast, back and abdomen are to be covered—the lower part of the dance costume is to be a full skirt with no side or front openings.

The letter also warned musicians, especially the drummer, against leaving their seats to follow the dancer.

The girls covered up with flimsy veils, but they were reluctant to change their traditional movements.

The government campaign assumed a more serious shape when it banned the belly dance from state-owned television two years ago. But the dancers rallied and fought it. The ban was lifted a year later.

The government offensive appears to be far more serious this time. First-class dancers seem to welcome the reform.

For instance, shapely, red-haired, 21-year-old Miss Sohair Zaki said that "since satisfaction of sex starvation is no part of oriental dancing, I believe the new regulations will raise the standard of the art."

Sourour told the local press the reform movement was triggered by a number of top belly dancers. He said they "approached me a couple months ago requesting that their profession be purged of what they called 'shameful intruders who do nothing more than expose their body charms and call themselves oriental dancers.'"

Master Plan for Ice Cream Melts Away

TORONTO (AP) — A master ice-cream plan for the North York area of metro Toronto has melted away.

A committee prepared a vast map of regional streets on which heavy green lines indicated where ice cream vendors could travel. Then there were red lines, where they couldn't travel.

Reeve Norman Goodhead suggested, "We would have to install traffic signs with an ice cream cone to show where sales are allowed."

Another council member said children might get lost just looking for the signs.

Proclaims Unity Day

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Monday, June 17, as German Unity Day in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the uprising against East Germany's Communist leaders.

Salt Mine Is an Ideal Spot on a Hot Day

By JANET ODELL

"Back to the salt mines" will never have a bad connotation for me again. I've been to the salt mines. On a muggy day when the temperature hovered in the 80's, it was pure delight to spend a couple of hours 1,000 feet under ground where the temperature is always in the 62-68 range.

After years of wanting to make a trip through the salt mines, the chance came to go with a group of consumer marketing information agents.

Having been warned ahead of time, I took along a coat. We were given smocks and miner's hats in the company office. My smock came to my ankles and extended a foot below by hands. My hat which made me feel top heavy was baby blue.

All 18 of us crowded into an elevator marked, "Load capacity, 16 people." Oh well, we women weighed less than 16 men would.

Down, down, down and still down. Our ears popped and we yawned to equalize the pressure. When we stepped out at the bottom, a rush of cool air met us and I was glad of the extra coat under my smock. It was windy too.

Outside air comes into the mine constantly. It passes through several chambers to cleanse it and remove the moisture.

We climbed into a wagon with seats along both sides. Our driver knew where he was going, but we couldn't see how. All 30 miles of the corridors looked alike.

There's a veritable city down below with streets nearly 30 feet wide. There are cross strips every hundred feet.

Unlike coal and other minerals, salt doesn't crumble. The walls, ceiling and floor are smooth and slick. There is no danger of explosion; no gas and no water.

LIKE SNOW

Walking in the mine is like walking on fine dry snow without the extreme cold. The walls are glistening white with an occasional strata of dark shale.

Our driver stopped and we got out where men were loading the salt into trucks. A huge monster of a truck with great balloon tires came chuffing and snorting up to the loader as a filled one drove away.

The loader scoops up the salt with two "hands." Some of the chunks are as large as a man. Back on our truck and off to the spot where they were getting ready to bring down some more salt from the walls.

There's enough salt in this one mine to last 1,000 years and in the particular spot where they're working for 300 years. Salt does not come in pockets, but is widespread.

Our last stop in the truck was at a spot where we picked up samples. Some were perfect square crystals and so clear we could read through them.

WEIGHED DOWN

By the time I had filled my pockets with a dozen samples, I could hardly walk.

We saw the salt dumped on a conveyor belt and silently travel to the "skip" that carries it up to the surface.

We saw the complete machine shops that keep the machinery in working order. Brilliantly lighted with fluorescent lights, this shop assembles all equipment that is used.

Above ground the machinery has to be cut into pieces small enough to send down in the skips. It's reassembled in the mine.

The men were experimenting with different kinds of plants, using both fluorescent and incandescent lights. Some did well; others died.

This mine, the Gijbway Salt Mine, just south of Windsor, Ont., supplies rock salt for ice control and industrial purposes. Salt mining for table salt is a different matter.

But I'm glad to have seen the inside of any salt mine. And I have a certificate designating me an honorary salt miner.

Peach Halves Go With Fowl

Brown cut-up frying chicken in melted butter in a large skillet. Cover and simmer until tender in ¾ cup chicken broth seasoned with ginger, salt and a dash of nutmeg.

Add canned cling peach halves and cook 10 minutes longer. Remove chicken and peaches to serving dish.

To make gravy, stir ½ cup cream into skillet and thicken mixture with flour blended with a little water.

Try Brown Sugar

Ever vary that meringue for pie by adding brown sugar instead of the white sugar usually called for? Use two tablespoons of brown sugar for each egg white.

Greece Sees Government Crisis Over Slated State Visit

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A government crisis gripped Greece today, as a result of King Paul's insistence that he and Queen Frederika make a scheduled state visit to Britain next month.

Premier Constantine Caramanlis resigned Tuesday because the king rejected his advice to postpone or call off the trip. Caramanlis feared a repetition of the leftist demonstrations which plagued the queen during a private visit to London in April.

The king now must decide whether to name a new government or to dissolve Parliament.

and call a national election within 45 days.

A new government could only come from Caramanlis' National Radical Union party, which has a 60-seat majority in Parliament. The party's high command advocated new elections, with the king naming a caretaker Cabinet to supervise the voting.

The situation was packed with paradox.

Caramanlis, a staunch friend of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, found himself out of office because he opposed a royal visit to Britain, a NATO ally.

King Paul, a staunch friend of Caramanlis, insisted he and the queen would make their trip to avoid a blow at the NATO alliance—even if it meant dumping Caramanlis.

Opposition elements in the Greek Parliament—who are friends of neither Caramanlis, the royal house, nor NATO—got a windfall.

For the past year the opposition has been sniping at the royal family as a roundabout way of attacking the government. The royal way of life, their palaces and their personal budgets have been under fire. Caramanlis and his Cabinet stood solidly behind the royal house.

The 57-year-old premier had headed the government since 1955, a record for Greece, and his party won national elections in 1956, 1958 and 1961. The king said he accepted Caramanlis' resignation with "great regret."

"BLOW TO NATO"

But King Paul said that refusing the invitation from Queen Elizabeth II after it had been accepted might be "a blow to the British government's apologetics and assurances that such demonstrations would not be allowed to recur."

The king's communique said Greece must not ignore the regret felt by most Britons over the April incident nor could it spurn the British government's apologies and assurances that such demonstrations would not be allowed to recur.

In April Queen Frederika was jostled by demonstrators who claimed Greece still held political prisoners from the 1947-48 Communist civil war. On one occasion she and her daughter, Princess Irene had to take refuge in a private home.

The opposition brought censure motions against the Caramanlis government. The government survived the vote after a week of showdown debate. Caramanlis insisted that there were no political prisoners in Greece, that prisoners from the civil war were guilty of common crimes or acts against the state.

See Completion of 6 Millionth Dearborn Ford

DETROIT (AP)—Two Ford Motor Co. employees who saw the first Model A driven off the Dearborn assembly plant final line in 1927 yesterday witnessed completion of the plant's six millionth vehicle.

They are Joseph Ginzinger of Lincoln Park and Bernard Hart of Detroit, both employed in the plant's maintenance department.

Ginzinger, who has been with Ford since 1918, drove No. 6 million—a 1963 Fairlane hardtop—off the final line. Hart, who also joined Ford in 1918, rode with him.

The Dearborn plant currently is used for production of Ford Fairlanes and Mercury Meleors.

Memorialize Saigon Monk Who Died a Human Torch

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Milling crowds gathered in front of Buddhist pagodas today for memorial services for a monk who burned himself to death in protest against President Ngo Dinh Diem's religious policies.

Combat police in battle dress blockaded at least five pagodas, including the one where the monk's body lay. Monks said police granted permission for about 100 Buddhists at a time to enter the building to pay homage.

One pagoda defied a government ban and flew a giant five-colored Buddhist flag until police ordered it down.

There was no violence, however.

Some of the Buddhist anger also is directed at the United States because American weapons furnished for the war against Communist guerrillas, have been turned on Buddhists accusing the government of religious persecution.

Diem, a Roman Catholic, told the aroused South Vietnamese people Tuesday night he was "very sorry" about the torch suicide of a 73-year-old Buddhist monk in downtown Saigon.

GRAVE CRISIS

Faced with one of the gravest crises in his eight-year rule, the 62-year-old president promised resumption today or negotiations on Buddhist demands for more religious freedom and social reforms.

He blamed extremists for arousing public opinion against his government with false propaganda. "I solemnly declare that, behind Buddhism in this country, there is the constitution—which means I myself," he said.

About 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's 15 million people are Buddhists, but the government is dominated by Diem's Catholic family.

Buddhist leaders, committed by their religion to non-violent action, threatened to call on lay followers to join in demonstrations "with all the violent consequences that probably would follow."

One monk threatened to disembowel himself publicly if Buddhist demands were not met.

Prayer services were scheduled at Buddhist pagodas throughout the country Sunday. It was feared these would produce more incidents.

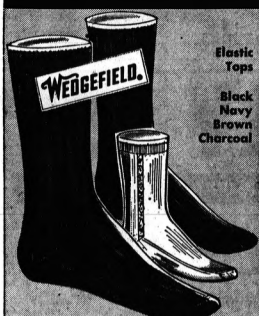

The U.S. Embassy, trying to steer a neutral course, instructed

Michigan Tech Raises Tuition

HOUGHTON (UPI) — Michigan Tech has announced a $10-per-quarter tuition increase this year, charging the lowest tuition rate of any tax-supported institution in Michigan granting degrees in engineering.

Tech's new rate will be $276 for a three-quarter year for Michigan residents, and $540 for nonresidents. This compares with $324 and $870 at Michigan State.

University of Michigan has a sliding scale which ranges from $280 and $900 for freshmen and sophomores, to $350 and $1,000 for graduate students.

The Michigan Tech Board of Control also voted to name Tech's new research building in honor of the late Dr. C. Harry Benedict, former chief metallurgist for Calumet and Hecla, Inc., who died April 4 at the age of 86.

The marriage is to be in Tucson, but the date has not been announced. Young Martin lives in Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Arraign Escapees on Robbery Charge

Three young escapees from a White Lake Township prison camp Monday stood mute at their Oakland County Circuit Court arraignment on charges of unarmed robbery.

John W. Breathour, 26, of Port Huron, Norman Royer, 21, of Avon Township, and Charles Byas, 22, were ordered held for trial at Oakland County Jail when they were unable to post $10,000 bond each.

The three are accused of robbing a Waterford man five hours after they walked away last Thursday from Camp Pontiac, a minimum-security prison.

Breathour was seized by police in Port Huron June 2, the same day Royer surrendered himself to state police in Romeo. Byas was recaptured in a Detroit home June 4.

6 Dogs Take English Class

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Six German shepherd dogs yesterday began a six-week course in conversational English.

The dogs arrived this spring to become part of the Boston police force. The main problem was that they responded only to commands given in German.

The Providence Police Department, which has a nine-dog K9 corps, was asked to retrain the animals.

Rule-Out Flight From Sydney Due to Noise

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A non-stop flight from Sydney to San Francisco by a U.S. Air Force C135 jet has been canceled because the plane would make too much noise taking off over Sydney.

The Department of Civil Aviation refused to approve the flight because the load of 24,000 gallons of fuel would have prevented it from climbing fast enough.

The department said the noise over Sydney suburbs would have been excessive.

The plane is to leave today for Nandi, Fiji, with 10,000 gallons of fuel. There it will refuel and take off for Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

McCovey Leads 'Frisco

Giants Down LA, 3-0

By The Associated Press
Ask Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers who W.M. is on the San Francisco Giants and what do you think he'd say?

Willie Mays?

Nope—Willie McCovey.

As far as Drysdale's concerned Mays is easy compared to McCovey, who doesn't exactly own the Los Angeles pitcher, but hits him often enough to hold a first marriage.

McCovey did it again Tuesday night, tagging Drysdale for a three-run homer that gave the Giants a 3-0 victory over Los Angeles behind Juan Marichal's strong pitching and dropped the Dodgers out of the National League lead.

Mrs. Campsie Wins

WDGA Weekly Event

Mrs. Frank Campsie of Gross Pointe led a field of 52 players in yesterday's Women's District Golf Association play at the Washnaw Country Club.

Mrs. Campsie fired a 41-45 to win the weekly tournament on the water-logged course.

Mrs. Anthony Koutas, Dearborn 48-48-86
Mrs. L. W. Shugart, Oakland Hills 48-48-86

McCovey now has tagged Drysdale for 8 homers, 4 doubles, 1 triple and a cover of singles since he joined the Giants in 1959. The slugging outfielder is 21-for-46, a .457 average over-all against Drysdale, last year's 25-game winner bugged down at 7-7 this season.

McCovey's homer provided more than enough margin for Marichal, who posted his first shutout of the season and brought his record to 9-3 with a seventh-inning that left the flip-flop Giants only .002 points behind the second-place Dodgers.

The St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1 victors over Pittsburgh on Bob Gibson's pitching and batting, are sitting on top of the standings, one game in front of the two West Coast rivals.

In other NL games, Houston belted Chicago's Cubs 6-2 on Bob Aspromonte's 10th inning grand slam homer. Cincinnati whipped the New York Mets 8-3 and Philadelphia outlasted Milwaukee 8-7 in 10 innings.

Gibson, 3-3, checked the Pirates on six hits and drove in the run that snapped a 1-1 tie with a single in the sixth inning following Julian Javier's double. Bill White had given the Cards a 1-0 lead in the first with his 10th homer off Don Schwall, 3-4, but the Pirates tied it in their half on walks to Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazeroski and Jerry Lynch's double. Gibson stopped them the rest of the way.

Vada Pinson collected a homer, double and single leading a 15-hit Reds' attack that got the job done against the Mets.

Indians Win Fifth Straight

Birdie Chirps Merrily

By The Associated Press

Birdie Tabetts has changed his tune. He was whistling the blues not so very long ago—but now he's chirping merrily.

The reason is simple. Birdie's Cleveland Indians are making the hottest music in the American League.

They made it five victories in a row Tuesday night with a home run crescendo that drowned out Baltimore's off-key Orioles, 9-5.

The Indians, next-to-last in the standings and 9½ games behind just 10 days ago, now have won eight of their last 10 and climbed to seventh, five games off the pace.

WINGS CLIPPED
Meanwhile, the drooping Orioles have dropped 10 of 12 and fallen from first to third. They're a game behind the Chicago White Sox, who were trimmed 8-6 by Minnesota, and eight percentage points behind the New York Yankees, who were idle.

In other AL action, 15th-inning homers by Frank Malone and Dick Stuart and another superb relief job by Dick Radatz carried Boston over Detroit 7-3 and Kansas City beat Los Angeles 5-2. Washington was idle, along with the Yankees.

Al Luplow, Fred Whitfield and Dick Whitfield socked Cleveland homers off Robin Roberts and Willie Kirkland connected with two on against Wes Stock in the Indians' four-run seventh inning.

Mudcat Grant yielded a two-run homer to Al Smith in Baltimore's eighth, then was lifted in a rube-rubbed ninth. With one run in and the bases loaded, Bob Allen came on in relief and pitched two balls to Jim Gentile.

Tabetts then called in Ted Abernathy—despite the rule that says a reliever must finish pitching to at least one man—and manager Billy Hitchcock of the Orioles protested.

BACK TO MOUND

Allen was recalled, walked Gentile and forced in a run, then Abernathy got the last out. Grant is 4-6 and so is Roberts, who was bombed for three doubles and a triple in addition to the three homers.

The Twins blew three leads before finally nailing down their victory over the White Sox, with Bernie Allen's double in the ninth inning deciding it. Rich Rollins was hit by one of Hoyt Wilhelm's pitches, was sacrificed to second

Collision 9 Clipperled in City Loop

The Clippers crossed in every inning but one last night to stay in front of the Class A recreation baseball race with a 9-1 triumph over M. G. Collision.

The win was No. 3 (a tie) for the Clippers, and left the Clippers and Cranbrook (yet to play) as the only undefeated teams in the eight-team circuit.

Right-hander Bob Reader had a three-hit shutout until yielding a run in the final inning en route to his second win of the season. He fanned eight batters.

Charley Honchell and Larry Douglas each had three hits for the winners. The former scored twice while Douglas had a double, scored once and drove in a run.

Tonight, Huron-Airway will play Local 594 at 8 p.m. under the lights at Jaycee No. 2 field.

Western Michigan Ousted From NCAA Tournament

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Western Michigan had the best team batting average and highest winning percentage when the college world series started.

The Broncos, second ranked in the nation, were the first team to go home.

They were knocked out of the double-elimination NCAA tournament yesterday, losing 3-0 to Penn State in their second-round meeting for survival.

Western's hitting was a big factor as it roared through the regular season and District 4 playoffs with a 24-4 record. The Broncos came here with a .295 team batting average, five points better than the second hottest hitting team.

But in the losses to Penn State and Florida State, Western could take only ten hits and had a college world series batting average of .139.

Western, which yielded five earned runs in the two losses, due to shaky fielding, was in

Tale of Three Fishermen

Anglers 'Invest for Future'

A handful of anglers are taking a close look at a cleared section in the Bald Mountain recreation area as a possible "investment for the future."

They are studying the land from all angles possible. All are taking the "plunge" — and it isn't costing them anything but time and possibly a few dollars for pictures.

The "investment" won't yield a dividend for a couple of years. In fact, it is doubtful if these fishermen will even bother to check into the land's status during that time.

But when the time is right they'll take a profit of full strangers while other fishermen are returning home empty handed.

These veteran-fishermen aren't going to need any tips.

They are photographing, memorizing or sketching the bottom of what is to become a lake in the southern unit of the Bald Mountain area.

When the lake is flooded and stocked with fish, these anglers know where the drop-offs, channels, brush piles and felled trees are located.

They won't have to waste a lot of time finding the prime fishing areas of the lake by trial and error methods.

Only a few anglers make a practice of studying the bottom of a lake before it is flooded. The Bald Mountain lake will cover the pond and dam on Bald Mountain Road. It will stretch downstream, over Trout creek's bed, to almost behind the headquarters building.

ABANDON SHIP: There's nothing to equal going fishing with a snake in the boat. That's what happened to Jerry Wooliever and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slaybaugh last week.

There is some question whether the snake, a blue racer, or the fishermen have recovered from the experience.

"I left my boat turned upside down on the shore of a private lake in the county," related Wooliever. "When Frank and I turned the boat right side up I noticed a snake skin on the ground."

"We checked the boat, but didn't find anything."

"A little way from the shore

TOP BLUEGILL — For the second time in three years Frank Dennis, 397 Scott Lake Rd., leads The Press Derby's bluegill division. He won in 1961. Now he is hoping the 1 pound 3-ounce bluegill on the platter will stay on top until the Sept. 4 Derby deadline. Dennis caught the 10½-inch on Silver Lake.

The snake decided to scramble under the back seat's air chamber. Wooliever was assigned to fish from that seat by a 2-1 vote. An attempt to oust the intruder with spray mosquito coils failed.

A short time later Slaybaugh shouted:

"Jerry, the snake's behind you!"

Wooliever went one way, toward the bow, while the snake decided to terminate its association with the anglers. It was helped over the side by an ear.

"Then it tried to crawl back in," said Wooliever. "We finally convinced the snake that it would be better off on shore and it swam in that direction."

Once the reptile had departed, the fishermen settled down and "caught some very nice bluebills."

Pictures of the new leaders in the Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby are elsewhere on this page. The pike leader remains at 9 pounds 1 ounce and the top rainbow is 4 pounds 7 ounces.

Study Control Plans

Dr. Stanley A. Chin, chairman of Michigan's Conservation Commission, has been appointed to a committee that will study predator and rodent control programs of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Propose State Park for Sanilac County

The State Conservation Commission will consider a proposal to acquire the nucleus of a new state park near Forestville in Sanilac County when it meets at Ludington Thursday and Friday.

The department is recommending purchase of 55 acres with more than 3,000 feet of Lake Huron shoreline as an opening move to meet growing demand for public recreation facilities in that part of the state, a commission spokesman said today.

Also up for commission action will be the department's recommendation to offer state oil and gas rights to nearly 17,000 acres for leasing at a public sale.

Except for 220 acres in Allegan County, all of the lands are located in the northern Lower Peninsula. Included on the suggested list are 8,330 acres in Mason, Lake, Osceola, Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta and Muskegon counties.

Acquisition of lands for wildlife habitat improvements and public hunting have been proposed at a number of state game areas. Some 400 acres are sought for purchase at Gratiot-Saginaw, Barry, Grand Haven, Flat River, and Maple River state game areas at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station.

TWO GAME AREAS

Department officials are recommending that 1,513 acres be bought in northeastern Montcalm

County. Of this total, 570 acres would be added to the Edmore state game area, with the remaining 943 acres to be dedicated as the Vestaburg state game area.

Also sought is a 43-acre public fishing site on the East Branch of the Paw Paw River in Van Buren County. The property, about three and one-half miles southeast of Paw Paw, borders good trout fishing waters.

In Great Lakes fisheries matters, the commission will consider a proposal to remove the closed season and minimum size limit on suckers.

Informal meeting of the commission will start at 1:30 p.m. Thursday with its formal session to start at 9 a.m. the next day.

Both are slated for the blue flame room of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. building, Ludington, and are open to the public.

GOOD REASON TO SMILE — Arno F. Marson (right), Dearborn, and William Ruby, Duck Lake, are all smiles as they pose with this 6-pound, 9-ounce largemouth bass. Marson caught theunker at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Duck Lake on a home-made popper. He was using a fly-rod. The fish has a 16½-inch girth and is 22½ inches long. Because he does not live in the county, Marson could not enter the junker in The Press Derby. The two anglers caught four other bass.

'Blasting' for Waterfowl

Preparations are being made by the Conservation Department for a series of tests this summer which may literally blast open another approach to developing better waterfowl habitat in Michigan.

Borrowing a few tricks of the trade from rock quarry operations, the department plans to set off explosive charges in several Southern Michigan state game areas in hopes of creating small, open-water holes and level ditches tailored to its program of wetlands management.

Results of test shots conducted at the St. Clair Flats wildlife area in early May were encouraging to game men.

They are currently checking out different types of soil in other areas where experiments can be held to learn more about the potential of earth blasting.

If all goes well during the summer tests, this new technique will be adopted as an added management tool to improve existing projects where it is not practical or economical to flood entire marshes.

It also will be used in places inaccessible to bulldozers, draglines and other heavy equipment.

Results of the St. Clair Flats experiment verify that the treated fertilizer produces about as much explosive power, pound for pound, as dynamite.

Test blasting will be limited to marshes and waters that are too shallow to support fish populations.

Federal Funds Aid Michigan's Game Projects

Some $465,000 in federal funds will be allotted to Michigan on July 1 as part of the state's apportionment for game and fish improvement projects during the 1964-65 fiscal year, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Of the total, nearly $377,000 will go for game work with the remaining $88,000 earmarked to carry out fisheries projects.

Michigan's share of credited federal funds does not represent ready cash for the Conservation Department's game and fish programs. The department must first spend its own money on approved projects. It then will be reimbursed for up to 75 per cent of the costs.

Shows Areas of Mars Flat

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists reported Tuesday that a 72-million mile radar probe of Mars showed a stable flat area on the planet's surface.

The news agency Tass said the probe was made last February. It said the radio waves took over 11 minutes to travel to Mars and back.

Tass said the results of the experiment were compared with earlier radar scanmings of the planets Venus and Mercury.

A chemical coating for golf balls is claimed to increase distance up to 30 per cent.

OK Bond Issue for City Project

Financing is Set for Work on Clinton River

A $2.5-million bond issue to finance Pontiac's Clinton River project was approved today by the State Municipal Finance Commission at Lansing.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner, Daniel Barry said a date to receive bond bids will be set within the next few days by the County Drain Board.

Meanwhile actual construction is scheduled to begin Monday.

Widening, deepening and straightening of the river to ease its flow through the downtown area, is being undertaken by R. E. Bailey & Co. of Southfield, is the construction bidder.

Dalley will move his equipment onto the Blaylock Coal & Building Supply Co. site at 81 Orchard Lake to start construction there.

Work will be carried on simultaneously in conjunction with the downtown perimeter road project at several points in the city.

Barry said the sewer project should be completed in approximately 18 months.

Bonds to finance construction over 30 years should be sold in about four weeks, he said.

The work is being done as a joint drain project, to be paid for by the city in special assessments.

Waterford Board to Canvass Election

The unknown vote total for Waterford Township Board of Education trustees will be revealed tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. when Monday's election returns are canvassed by the school board.

Ballots from Precinct 7 were sealed in a ballot box before election workers called in the results.

But, regardless of the Precinct 7 count, Mrs. Dorothy Baringham and Donald W. Porter garnered sufficient votes in the other seven precincts to assure their elections to the two board vacancies.

In addition to conducting the vote canvass at a special meeting, the school board will also consider recommendations of the superintendent relative to administrative appointments.

Two vacancies for principals have been created by resignations. The position of elementary coordinator held by Carrie Hubbell retiring, must also be filled.

Also slated for board attention are proposed salary adjustments for secondary school principals and the elementary and secondary school coordinators.

The board also will consider proposed new teacher contracts and review a letter of absence

To Discuss Center for Retirees

Plans for a retirees' drop-in center will be discussed at a meeting of Oakland County senior citizens 11 a.m. tomorrow at GMC Truck & Coach Local 455, 625 S. East Blvd.

Since the group's previous meeting last month, hopes for a center for the county's 40,000 retirees have improved.

Cecil C. Mullins, president of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653, UAW, is heading a drive to obtain the site of the old county courthouse, Huron and Saginaw, for a senior citizens meeting place.

The property is currently being leased from the city by Sam Stolorow, owner of Outdoor Park City, for a parking park.

Whether the county has the right to lease the property for a nonpublic use is to be decided at a show-house hearing set for Circuit Court Judge Frederick Cierni for 9 a.m. July 1.

Mr. Griffin, a retired employee of GMC Truck & Coach Division was a member of the Community United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains and Roosevelt Lodge No. 21 F&M.

Surviving are his wife Ruth; daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Keller of Waterford Township; a son Leon of Waterford Township; three grandchildren; a great-grandson; and a sister.

JAMES MOFFAT, 78, of 1129 Boston will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Donelson-Johns Chapel with burial at Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will meet in Pontiac tomorrow to formally accept a $111,400 federal grant for sewer construction in West Bloomfield Township.

The board also will receive a recommendation from its boundaries committee to special election on whether Waterford Township should incorporate as a city held in the township Nov. 5.

The federal grant has been offered to underwrite half the cost of adding a Sylvan Manor Arm to the Farmington Sewage Disposal System.

The arm would serve the Sylvan Shopping Center at Orchard Lake and Middle Belt and some existing homes in that area of West Bloomfield Township. It would enable further home construction in the area now served by septic tanks.

MUST APPROVE PLANS

The board will also have to approve plans, specifications, cost estimates totaling $240,000, a financing agreement between the county and West Bloomfield Township, and a 30-year bond resolution at this time.

These steps must be taken to meet a federal government requirement that construction begin within the next 100 days.

The federal grant has been offered under the Accelerated Public Works Act to create jobs in economically distressed areas.

The board meeting has been called for 9:30 a.m. at the auditorium of the old county office building at 1 Lafayette.

Pontiac's Civic Improvement Advisory Committee will hold its last meeting before September 2 to night at 7:30 in the City Commission meeting chambers at City Hall.

Community appraisal forms given members will fill out last month will be handed in at night. The questionnaires were initiated to better identify local community problems where they exist.

Subcommittees are to be appointed tonight to carry out various programs toward community improvement during the summer months, according to E. Eugene Russell, chairman of the 70-member committee.

Paving Bids Appear Under Estimates

Apparent low bids for Pontiac's Ann Arbor company asking $31.1963 street paving and resurfacing $84.23, and Detroit Asphalt bid-contrasts total $29,800 less than $35,430.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling will analyze the bids and make his contract recommendations to the commission at a future meeting, probably next Tuesday.

Oakland Paving Co. of Berkeley, was apparent low bidder for the paving contract. The firm's price offered is $72,836.72.

A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham was apparent low bidder for the resurfacing contract with a bid of $29,873.50.

DOESN'T BID
Oakland didn't bid on the resurfacing contract. Seven bids were submitted, four for the paving contract and three for resurfacing.

Neippling's original cost estimates totaled $132,520. He estimated the paving would cost $101,694.80 and the resurfacing about $30,826.

The apparent low bids totaled $108,710.22.

Oakland's bid for the paving contract was some $12,700 below the second lowest bid of $91,552.32 submitted by A & A Asphalt.

Other bidders and amounts for the paving contract were: Ann Arbor Construction Co. of Ann Arbor, $93,459.66; and Detroit Asphalt and Paving Co. of Detroit, $98,545.90.

SAME FIRMS
The same two firms also bid on the resurfacing contract, the contract includes various site improvements at about 100 half-dozen locations in the R20 project area.

It includes paving new streets, resurfacing existing streets, sidewalk construction and repair and reconstruction of street and sanitary sewers prior to resale of urban renewal parcels to residential developers.

'Route' Star Kept From Work in Row

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—George Maharis quit the cast of "Route 66" more than six months ago, claiming his health wasn't up to the job. Now he is in the strange position of a healthy young man, much in demand, who wants to resume his career, but can't.

Maharis claims he was notified by CBS that he was a free agent last month as far as his commitments to "Route 66" were concerned because the packages of the show had found in Glenn Corbett a "suitable replacement."

The dark-haired, intense young actor, who has become a popular singing star with hit records, was talking happily last week about making his singing debut next Sunday on the Ed Sullivan Show, a date which has been made and broken three times in the past three years.

Apparently, Sullivan wasn't so certain he never announced Maharis' forthcoming appearance. Now, it has been postponed again. The packages of "Route 66" have, according to Maharis' representatives, served him and CBS with legal papers and seek to enjoin him from working for other shows.

Maharis and Lancer productions, the package, have been at odds for the better part of a year. First Maharis quit the show, suffering from hepatitis. Then he returned, claimed he was required to work too many hours during a convalescent period, and quit.

Now, he says, he feels fit. He recently cut a new record, and has 400 for the general construction contract. There were six bids re-way, a drama for a future television series produced by David Susskind, looking over movie scripts and talking to CBS among others about a future television series.

Kessey Electric Co. of Watertown Township, submitted a bid of $7,775, lowest of four bids for the electrical trades contract.

The apparent low bids were contained in a preliminary bid tabulation presented to the City Commission at its meeting last night. Bids were opened Monday, yesterday a proposal that the old City Hall site be named Frank Grant still subject to analysis, with re-Murphy Hall in honor of the late spect to bids on alternate plans, mayor, governor and Supreme before they will be made official. Court Justice.

Jill St. John Says Sinatra Is Her Idea of 'Ideal Man'

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Frank Sinatra—who surprised everybody by flying in for the "Come Blow Your Horn" party at Toots Shor's—probably came in, if the truth were known, to be with beautiful Jill St. John. I heard him refer to her a couple of times as "my girl." And they were mutually possessive arm-in-arm in Jill's bar.

Furthermore, Jill told me a couple of days before that her ideal man would be sort of a combination of Sinatra and Sinatra. "What about Cary Grant?" I asked her. "Brilliant and charming," Jill said, "but remember that he was once almost my father-in-law!" (Of course, of course! Jill, still Mrs. Lance Revett, legally, had Barbara Hutton, the once-upon-a-time Mrs. Cary Grant, as a mother-in-law.) Jill told me that one of Sinatra's great charms is his intelligence.

"Happy" Rockefeller charmed the Republican gathering at the Waldorf the other night—the ladies love her because she's not too chic. They already figure her as a threat to Jackie... Rip Taylor tells the Copacabana crowds: "I just saw 'Cleopatra'—and that Claudette Colbert was gorgeous."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Ronnie Drinkhouse says he won't allow his wife to work, except under special circumstances: "Such as if he wants food, clothes, etc."

EARL'S PEARLS: A local fellow who said he's going fishing is, Robert Ryan suspects, really a lush. He took along two cases of beer and one worm... That's earl, brother.

Racial Chaos Spreads

Kill Negro, Wound Whites

Kennedy Says Discrimination Threat to Lives

Proposal to Congress Is Outlined in TV Civil Rights Lecture

WASHINGTON UP — President Kennedy has warned the nation that discrimination against Negroes has lighted "fires of frustration and discord" that threaten lives and the public safety.

The President outlined a broad legislative program he will propose to Congress next week. He said it will be based on the proposition "that race has no place in American life or law."

A great change is at hand, he said, and "our task, our obligation, is to make that revolution, that change, peaceful and constructive for all."

Kennedy appeared Tuesday evening on radio and television in a fireside civil rights lecture to Americans of both North and South only hours after Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace bowed to federal pressure and stepped aside to let two Negro students register at the previously all-white University of Alabama.

"I hope that every American, regardless of where he lives, will stop and examine his conscience about this and other related incidents," said Kennedy.

"When Americans are sent to Viet Nam or West Berlin, we do not ask for whites only," he said.

"It ought to be possible, therefore, for American students to have any color to attend any public institution they select without having to be backed up by troops."

"In short," Kennedy added, "every American ought to have the right to be treated as he would wish to be treated, as one would wish his children to be treated. But this is not the case."

"MORAL CRISIS" Kennedy, declaring that America faces "a moral crisis as a country and as a people," said he will ask Congress to make a civil rights commitment "it has not fully made in this century."

The President said he will propose legislation that would:

1. Prohibit stores, hotels, restaurants and theaters from discriminating against Negroes.
2. Allow the federal government to take a more active part in court suits aimed at desegregating public schools.
3. Afford greater protection for Negroes' right to vote.

Acknowledging the new laws are not enough, Kennedy said, however, that in too many parts of the country wrongs are inflicted on Negroes because they have no remedies at law—and "unless the Congress acts, their only remedy is the street."

SECOND AFFRONT — Alabama National Guard Brig. Gen. Henry Graham informs Gov. Wallace that the guard is under federal control as the two meet at the entrance to the University of Alabama's Foster Auditorium yesterday.

Wallace, who earlier turned away federal marshals in an attempt to prevent integration of the campus, gave way to the troops.

Macmillan Backed by British Cabinet

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's cabinet threw its support solidly behind him today with full approval of his handling of the scandal threatening to topple his government.

Well-informed sources said the cabinet members gave Macmillan their complete backing during a two-hour secret session that was one of the most dramatic since the Suez crisis nearly seven years ago.

The action put the cabinet squarely behind Macmillan for his confrontation with the Labor opposition at next Monday's parliamentary session on the security aspects of the scandal.

The sources said the 63-year-old Macmillan rallied his colleagues at an emergency session that was described as one of the most dramatic cabinet sessions of his six-year term as prime minister.

The backing of the cabinet was a key move in Macmillan's fight to retain his leadership of Britain and stave off mounting demands that he resign.

The crisis reached its apex when former Minister of War John Profumo admitted last week he had lied to the House of Commons about his links with London playgirl Christine Keeler.

He admitted his statement that there were no "improprieties" in his relationship with her was untrue. Then he resigned.

The possibility of a security compromise arose when it was disclosed that Miss Keeler, a 21-year-old model, also was seeing a Soviet former assistant naval attaché in London at the same time Profumo was seeing her.

All's Peaceful at Tuscaloosa

Students Are Friendly to Negro Boy, Girl

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace today told President Kennedy he is withdrawing state law enforcement officers from the University of Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa.

By REILMAN MORIN Tuscaloosa, Ala. (AP)—Two Negroes—a girl and boy—went to their first classes at the University of Alabama today and white students extended friendly hands in an atmosphere of tranquility.

Three girls walked with Vivian Malone as she went from her dormitory to a classroom building. They chatted as they strolled.

A white youth called James A. Hood "Jimmy" in advising him that he had taken the wrong turn along the tree-lined campus at one point.

Across from Comer Hall, where Miss Malone went to study business administration, a National Guardsman in green fatigues uniform stood. Nearby were three federal marshals.

Marshals FOLLOW The marshals had followed the 20-year-old Negro discreetly in a car from her dormitory a quarter of a mile away.

The car was well behind Miss Malone and three white coeds who chatted with her as they walked along to class.

Hood, 20, the other Negro admitted to the school Tuesday night (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

NAACP Leader Is Shot in Back

A Mississippi Negro civil rights leader was killed today by a bullet fired into his back from the darkness.

In Maryland, two white men were wounded by gunfire in a race riot in Cambridge.

North and South, what President Kennedy last night called discrimination-ignited "fire of frustration and discord" burned in mass protest demonstrations, picketing, sit-ins and conflict.

Within hours of Kennedy's address, Medgar W. Evers, 37, Mississippi field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, returned to his home from an integration meeting.

He was shot down in his carport as he stepped from his automobile and died within an hour.

Beside Evers lay a blood-stained T-shirt bearing the slogan "Jim Crow must go." Jackson police asked the FBI to help find the killer, who apparently used a high-powered rifle, and the NAACP offered a $10,000 reward.

Officials End Mercury Shots

Gemini's Next Step on Way to the Moon

From Our News Wire WASHINGTON — Space chief James E. Webb today closed the door on any more Mercury space shots.

The next U.S. manned space flight, possibly 16 months off, will be a two-man shot to inaugurate Project Gemini.

Webb told the Senate Space Committee that the decision against another Mercury flight was reached this morning at a conference with Associate Director Robert Seamans Jr. and Deputy Administrator Hugh Dryden.

The decision, long foreshadowed, was a bitter blow to astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. and others at NASA's manned spacecraft center in Houston.

They had plugged hard for another Mercury shot lasting even longer than L. Gordon Cooper's day-and-a-half, 22-orbit flight last month.

Webb said NASA would now concentrate on the $800-million Project Gemini, the second phase of its long-range program to send an American to the moon.

Gemini envisions putting two men in orbit in the same vehicle for extended periods — possibly as long as two weeks.

But the program — the forerunner to moon-landing Project Apollo — is running about a year behind schedule. The first shot is now expected early in 1965.

However, in testifying on NASA's request for a $5.7-billion appropriation, Webb said finally: "There will be no further Mercury shots. We will concentrate on reorientation and realignment of NASA to move on with Gemini."

Webb said plans and preparations for another Mercury flight would slow development of the Gemini program.

"We cannot conduct a flight in the Mercury program with a second team, or plan for a flight operating up to two weeks and make the changes in the work on the ground, without delaying the Gemini program," he said.

"It will require the first team in the manned spaceflight program to do the work we must do in the Gemini Project."

209 Graduated From Kettering

A standing, room-only crowd filled Kettering High School's auditorium last night as 209 seniors were awarded diplomas during the commencement program.

Guest speaker Dr. Gordon Sabine, vice president of Michigan State University, encouraged the graduates to further their educations.

In the commencement address, which he termed "one of the shortest in history," Dr. Sabine counseled the graduating class to be mindful of four basic points as they progress through life.

He encouraged them always to be honest with themselves and to make courage a prime word in their vocabularies. Dr. Sabine also stressed the importance of mental alertness and told the graduates they should always be friends of education.

Deviating from the conventional, Dr. Sabine covered the principal points of his message during a supposedly introductory period.

When he announced that he was through with the preliminary remarks and ready to make his speech, Dr. Sabine then referred his audience to what had already been said.

School Board President Robert E. Field awarded the diplomas after James S. Fry, principal at Kettering, had presented the graduating class.

Bus Company to Cut Service

To End Rides to Mall, Eight Other Runs

Pontiac Transit Corp. will drop all bus service to Pontiac Mall and discontinue eight regularly scheduled runs on other routes next Monday.

"The changes are being initiated mainly as a summer schedule to compensate for the loss of student fares during vacation," said Glen Crawford, general manager.

"We have two runs from downtown to Pontiac Mall each day," Crawford noted, "and our daily passenger load for the route ranges from zero to four persons."

The other runs being canceled are predominantly patronized by students.

Three runs each will be dropped from the Perry Park and South Boulevard bus routes. The James K. and Oakland Avenue routes will lose one each.

TO BE DISCONTINUED

Bus runs leaving downtown at 7:15 a.m., 3:15 and 5:45 p.m. daily will be discontinued on the Perry Park route, which follows Mt. Clemens, Melrose, Madison and Parkwood, terminating at Madison Junior High School.

The South Boulevard route, which follows, Auburn, Jessie, Raeburn and Sanford to South Boulevard, will lose buses leaving downtown at 7:45 a.m., 3:45 and 6:15 p.m.

This will amount to a cut-back from 17 to 14 runs on each route daily.

The James K. route goes from downtown to the Sylvan Lake city limit via Orchard Lake, Telegraph and Voorhees. The run leaving downtown at 6:45 a.m. will be dropped.

The run leaving downtown at 4:45 p.m. will be discontinued on the Oakland Avenue route, which follows West Huron, State, Johnson and Oakland, terminating at Saratoga.

With the schedule changes in effect Monday, the James K. run will have 20 daily scheduled runs and the Oakland route, 19.

Cool Weather Will Continue

Michigan residents will get a chance to see the other side of the weather coin—the cool side—for the next few days.

The weatherman said the Pontiac area will be fair and cool tonight, the low dropping to 45. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer, the high climbing to near 75.

Friday will continue warm but temperatures will be cooler again Saturday and Sunday, and become warmer Monday.

Showers may be expected sometime tomorrow night and Friday, the rainfall measuring about 25 of an inch.

Forty-eight was the low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 58.

County Officials Concerned

The State Conservation Department says residents can only pray for more rain to restore the lakes to former glory.

Others, including Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry, suspect that the sinking of numerous wells has also had an adverse effect.

The state officials concede the ground water level is down anywhere from eight to 14 inches because of a lack of rainwater and melting snows.

Many lakeshore residents claim their lakes are down considerably more, as much as two feet in some instances.

Through the use of dams, valves and pumps, the drain commission is maintaining water levels on Pontiac, Union, Oakland, Woodhull, Watkins, Lakeville and Tipisicoe lakes, said Barry.

These lake levels are being maintained at the expense of lake-front property owners who petitioned Circuit Court.

Wonderland of Lakes Is Drying Up

Similar petitions are awaiting court action on Upper, Middle, Lower Straits, Commerce, Oxbow, Cass, Cedar Island, Long, Bush and Fox lakes.

"Come rain or shine, nearly all of the lakes in Oakland County could be controlled advantageously," according to Barry.

"It can be done because of the large flow of water carried each spring by the Clinton, Shiawassee and Huron rivers into the Great Lakes."

He would like to corral some of this water in area lakes by installing proper controls.

Webb said plans and preparations for another Mercury flight would slow development of the Gemini program.

"We cannot conduct a flight in the Mercury program with a second team, or plan for a flight operating up to two weeks and make the changes in the work on the ground, without delaying the Gemini program," he said.

"It will require the first team in the manned spaceflight program to do the work we must do in the Gemini Project."

Salt Mine Is an Ideal Spot on a Hot Day

By JANET ODELL

"Back to the salt mines!" will never have a bad connotation for me again. I've been to the salt mines. On a muggy day when the temperature hovered in the 80's, it was pure delight to spend a couple of hours 1,000 feet under ground where the temperature is always in the 62-68 range.

After years of wanting to make a trip through the salt mines, the chance came to go with a group of consumer marketing information agents.

Having been warned ahead of time, I took along a coat. We yawned given smocks and miner's hats in the company office. My smock came to my ankles and extended a foot below by hands. My hat which made me feel top heavy was baby blue.

All 18 of us crowded into an elevator marked, "Load capacity, 16 people." Oh well, we women weighed less than 16 men would.

Down, down, down and still down. Our ears popped and we yawned to equalize the pressure. When we stepped out at the bottom, a rush of cool air met us and I was glad of the extra coat under my smock. It was windy too.

Outside air comes into the mine constantly. It passes through several chambers to cleanse it and remove the moisture.

We climbed into a wagon with seats along both sides. Our driver knew where he was going but we couldn't see how. All 20 miles of the corridors looked alike.

There's a veritable city down below with streets nearly 30 feet wide. There are cross streets every hundred feet.

Unlike coal and other minerals, salt doesn't crumble. The walls, ceiling and floor are smooth and slick. There is no danger of explosion; no gas and no water.

LIKE SNOW

Walking in the mine is like walking on fine dry snow without the extreme cold. The walls are glistening white with an occasional strata of dark shale.

Our driver stopped and we got out where men were loading the salt into trucks. A huge monster of a truck with great balloon tires came chuffing and snorting up to the loader as a filled one drove away.

The loader scoops up the salt with two "hands." Some of the chunks are as large as a man.

Back on our truck and off to the spot where they were getting ready to bring down some more salt from the walls.

There's enough salt in this mine to last 1,000 years and in the particular spot where they're working for 300 years. Salt does not come in pockets, but is widespread.

Our last stop in the truck was at a spot where we picked up samples. Some were perfect square crystals and so clear we could read through them.

WEIGHED DOWN

By the time I had filled my pockets with a dozen samples, I could hardly walk.

We saw the salt dumped on a conveyor belt and silently travel to the "skip" that carries it up to the surface.

We saw the complete machine shops that keep the machinery in working order. Brilliantly lighted with fluorescent lights, this shop assembles all equipment that is used.

Above ground the machinery has to be cut into pieces small enough to send down in the skips. It's reassembled in the mine.

The men were experimenting with different kinds of plants, using both fluorescent and incandescent lights. Some did well; others died.

This mine, the Ojibway Salt Mine just south of Windsor, Ont., supplies rock salt for ice control and industrial purposes. Salt mining for table salt is a different matter.

But I'm glad to have seen the inside of any salt mine. And I have a certificate designating me an honorary salt miner.

Peach Halves Go With Fowl

Brown cut-up frying chicken in melted butter in a large skillet. Cover and simmer until tender in ¾ cup chicken broth seasoned with ginger, salt and a dash of nutmeg.

Add canned cling peach halves and cook 10 minutes longer. Remove chicken and peaches to serving dish.

To make gravy, stir ½ cup cream into skillet and thicken mixture with flour blended with a little water.

Try Brown Sugar

Ever vary that meringue for pie by adding brown sugar instead of the white sugar usually called for? Use two tablespoons of brown sugar for each egg white.

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors nudged ahead as the stock market moved unevenly higher early today. Trading was moderate.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional, some going to around a point.

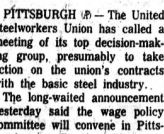

The savings- and loan companies carried through mildly on their late rally of yesterday but trading in them had simmered down.

Radio Corp. (ex dividend), gained more than a point. IBM dropped more than a point. Polaroid added 2.

Opening blocks included: San Diego Imperial, up 1/4 at 12 1/2 on 4,000 shares; Hupp Corp., unchanged at 7 1/2 and Standard Oil of Indiana, off 1/4 at 38, both on 3,800 shares; Ryder Systems, up 1/4 at 13 1/2 on 3,000; and Pan American World Airways, off 1/4 at 37 1/2 on 3,100.

Yesterday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 4 to 271.5.

DAWSON

The numbers game has worked fine for many of them. The digits have become household words. Customers have had little trouble remembering the numbers—every woman knows what you mean when you say Chanel No. 5.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The Internal Revenue Service and the banks and the phone company are just a few of the numbers game.

Many makes some 300 products, without changing its slogan.

But many depositors still aren't reconciled to losing their names and becoming numbers at the bank.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today "Anybody who would spend $40 billion in a race to the moon for national prestige is nuts."

Eisenhower made the blunt remark at a breakfast meeting with about 160 Republican congressmen.

The breakfast was sponsored by the "8th Club," composed of Republican members whose service in the House began with the 8th Congress in 1801.

They made Eisenhower an "honorary Republican congressman-at-large."

Looking fit and tan, Eisenhower arrived for the breakfast from Walter Reed Hospital, where he underwent a routine physical checkup yesterday.

The former chief executive gave frank comments on issues and answered questions put to him by congressmen about current affairs.

He called President Kennedy's administration "fiscally irresponsible" for raising the spending budget by more than $27 billion and at the same time proposing to cut taxes.

On defense spending Eisenhower cautioned against appropriating unlimited amounts of money for the military services.

He said it was up to Congress to determine how much an "adequate" defense would cost, and then refuse to allow $1 more.
