U.S. Musicians Die in Vietcong Ambush

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — Vietcong guerrillas ambushed four young American pop musicians and an Army sergeant escort driving near Saigon today on an isolated road.

Two teen-age members of the group—Brandi Perry and the Bubble Machine—were killed when they tried surrendering with their hands in the air. Two others, including 20-year-old singer Paula Levine of North Hollywood, Calif., and a U. S. soldier were wounded.

"I played dead, and that's the only reason I'm alive today," the attractive dark-haired Miss Levine said at the U.S. Army's 93rd Evacuation Hospital where she was treated for fragment wounds in the back and legs.

The others wounded were Jack Bone, 18, of Los Angeles and a 21-year-old soldier escorting the group, who was in serious condition.

IDENTITIES

Identities of the dead were withheld until their families could be notified.

The musical group had started out late in the day for the Vietnamese coastal resort of Vung Tau, about 45 miles southeast of Saigon, to play for American troops. Halfway to their destination, they were stopped by South Vietnamese militia guards who advised them to turn back.

A few miles along on their return trip, they ran into the ambush. Miss Levine said she crouched on the floor while the men got out, first thinking they were being fired on mistakenly by friendly troops. As they raised their arms in the air, the Vietcong opened up again.

On the northeast frontier, U.S. Marines charging through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire killed 78 North Vietnamese troops in a day-long battle yesterday, the U.S. Command reported. Four Marines were killed and 42 wounded.

Elsewhere around the country, only scattered skirmishes were reported.

Communist ground gunners shot down two U.S. fighter-bombers over North Vietnam yesterday, boosting to 863 the number of American planes lost north of the border, U.S. spokesmen said today.

ARTHUR J. HANES

Talk Gave Leads —Ray's Lawyer

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray's American lawyer talked with him in prison today and said he got "names and other leads" to build a case for the defense of the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., met with Ray for an hour in an interview room at Wandsworth Prison. Hanes said afterward he found the conditions somewhat restrictive.

Hanes and Ray were separated by a glass screen. Hanes said that when he wanted to exchange something confidential with Ray, he would either whisper or write or pass notes to him via a prison guard.

The Alabama lawyer said he was beginning to build his case and organize a defense for the day that Ray might be extradited by the British to stand trial for the murder of the American civil rights leader.

'THAT'S THE SYSTEM'

Hanes spoke to reporters on emerging from the prison. He said he had no cause to complain about the restrictions placed upon him because "that's the system here."

★ ★ ★

Apparently alluding to security, Hanes said: "I think the procedure over here is rather good. There have been people hurt in other cases like this, and I didn't like that at all."

★ ★ ★

Hanes declined to give any details about the names or other information Ray had given him. He also refused to answer a question about Ray's political orientation.

He said Ray had been receiving "many messages of support from the United States and he is grateful for it. He also has received many offers of help for his defense."

Rocky Is Confident of Open Convention

By The Associated Press

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says there are enough uncommitted delegates to assure an open convention when the Republican Party meets in Miami Beach next month to pick a presidential candidate.

"Today there are over 200 uncommitted delegates," he said yesterday as he met with reporters while vacationing in Hawaii.

These fence-sitters "are shifting all over the country," the New York governor said.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller said that if he loses the fight for the nomination, he will support the winner, whether it be Richard M. Nixon or any other Republican.

In the meantime, he said, he is unfazed by charges that he is sowing disunity in the party.

MUST BE DIFFERENCES

"I'm simply repeating what he said in writing and speeches and pointing out where I differ with him," he said of Nixon. "I am trying to offer a choice to the Republican party — and to have a choice there has to be differences."

Rockefeller conferred briefly with Hawaii's GOP convention delegates, but the other major presidential contenders treated yesterday as a day of abstention from speech making and public political muscle-flexing.

They unwound in places and ways of their own choosing — Nixon in Miami, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Washington and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, McCarthy's rival for the Democratic nomination, in Minnesota.

It was a rare cease-fire, perhaps the last until November. Nixon said last night as he attended a quiet 20th birthday dinner for daughter Julie that this weekend would be the last plateau and that from now on he will be working nonstop.

RELAXES

Humphrey relaxed at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., but planned to mount the stump again tonight in Poplar Bluff, Mo., for a Truman Day rally.

George Wallace, American Independent party candidate, was also booked for a speech tonight in Dayton, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey wrote Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., chairman of the platform committee for the Democratic national convention, urging that hearings be held throughout the nation so that all segments of opinion in the party can be sampled before the platform is drafted.

"If we are to make clear that our party is fully aware of the currents of change which are running swiftly in America and the world, and that it is truly responsible to the needs and problems of the future," he said, "I believe every Democrat must have a full vote in the shaping of our 1968 platform."

Latins' Paint Hits LBJ's Car

SAN SALVADOR (AP) — President Johnson's car was spattered by red paint bombs here Saturday as his motorcade passed a hill where hundreds of youths had assembled with signs proclaiming him "Vietnam assassin." At least one other car in the motorcade was hit by the paint.

SAN SALVADOR (AP)—President Johnson arrived today for a summit meeting with five Central American presidents.

Crowds waving American flags awaited along the route from the airport to the center of the capital.

National guards with slung rifles dispersed youths who apparently planned demonstration against Johnson.

Last night, more than 2,000 jeering students denounced Johnson as the "Murderer of Vietnam" and promised a massive protest demonstration today when he arrived.

Police and national Guard units did not interfere with the students last night, but Col. Alberto Medrane of the national guard pledged that he would not let the demonstrators disrupt Johnson's motorcade from the airport today.

Earlier yesterday four separate 21-gun salutes boomed as host President Fidel Sanchez Hernandez greeted President Joaquin Trejos Fernandez of Costa Rica, Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, Jilio Cesar Mendez Montenegro of Guateamala and Oswaldo Lopez Arellane of Honduras.

Warren Will Stay on Court if Senate Rejects Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl Warren says he will stay on as chief justice of the United States if the Senate does not confirm Abe Fortas as his successor.

But, Warren told a news conference yesterday, he expects Fortas to be approved despite the declared opposition of 19 Republican senators and he believes Fortas will be "a great chief justice."

"I am obliged to stay on," Warren said. "I suppose that under the oath I am obliged to perform the duties of my office. I neither expect nor hope that would be a fact."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, leader of the Republican opposition bloc, declined comment on Warren's declaration. There was no immediate reaction from the others, scattered across the country for the long July 4th weekend.

'BASED ON PRINCIPLE'

But the Republicans, who claim unnamed supporters among Southern Democrats, say their campaign is based on principle more than personalities.

In talking with newsmen in the court's east conference room Warren stoutly defended Johnson's authority as well as his selections.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, said Warren, is no more a "lame duck" president than any other president serving his last term in office. The chief justice rejected the idea that Johnson should leave the nominations to the next president.

The court's press officer, Banning Whittington, told reporters beforehand they should not put political questions to the chief justice.

QUERY RULED OUT

And during the session itself, Warren ruled out of bounds a question whether he was retiring now so that his successor could be named by Johnson rather than the president who takes office in January.

"That gets us into the realm of politics," he said with a smile. "I left politics 15 years ago. I wouldn't like to have my retirement inject me into politics again."

The chief justice, looking back on the last 15 years, ranked as the most important ruling in that span the March 1962 decision (Baker vs. Carr) that the court has jurisdiction to correct malapportioned state legislatures.

Paterson, N.J., Strife Calmed

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Police marching 10 abreast with shotguns broke up a crowd at the scene of a fire without incident, and calm returned today to the city's Puerto Rican areas hit by four consecutive nights of disorder.

Officers said there were no arrests at the fire scene but reported that nearly 30 persons had been arrested — mostly on minor charges — in other incidents last night and early today.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Lawrence F. Kramer has announced plans to meet today with Puerto Rican community leaders in an effort to end the disturbances.

Minor incidents of window smashing occurred until shortly before midnight when a fire broke out in a hardware store on Main Street, the heart of the area which has been the focal point of disorders.

8-BLOCK AREA

Helmeted police ordered all persons off the sidewalks and porches in an eight-block area near the fire and dispersed the crowd without arrests.

Elsewhere, in scattered locations, several fires were started with firebombs, Police Commissioner Edward Englehardt said.

Holiday Death Pace Falls Off

From Our News Wires

Americans were dying at a rate of one an hour below last year's record-setting traffic fatality pace as the long Fourth of July holiday weekend moved past the halfway mark.

The National Safety Council, although buoyed by this year's comparatively low figure, warned: "of course, optimism has to be tempered with a healthy dose of caution."

★ ★ ★

Last year's rate, when 732 persons died in the nation's worst holiday period, was 6.25 per hour. At the halfway point this year, the rate was 5.05 per hour, foreshadowing a total by the midnight Sunday end of the holiday period well below the predicted toll of 700 to 800.

★ ★ ★

Ten persons were killed on Michigan highways in the first half of the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

In addition, five persons drowned.

The normally hazardous homeward rush period still lay ahead for many holiday motorists.

COUNT IS 326

The count at noon (EDT) showed at least 326 persons had been killed in traffic accidents since the holiday period began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday. There were 30 boating fatalities and 94 drownings.

★ ★ ★

California led the nation with 25 deaths, Texas had 20, New York 17 and Ohio 14.

★ ★ ★

Rain slicked highways in the Southwest and in portions of the Plains, Great Lakes and the Southeast. Fog added an additional motoring hazard along parts of the Eastern Seaboard today.

The Safety Council warned drivers to be especially careful this weekend while homeward bound "because people are worn out, children are cranky and drivers are pressured by time."

1 OF THE WORST

One of the weekend's worst fatal accidents was a four-fatality smashup at Easton Md., yesterday. A family of three was killed in the accident.

Four unidentified men were killed yesterday in the crash of a CH47 helicopter near Ft. Rucker, Ala.

Warm, No Rain Sunday Forecast

Warmer temperatures have arrived in the Pontiac area for the weekend, with little chance of rain until Monday.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for the area is:

TODAY — sunny and mild. Tonight fair and not so cool with lows of 55 to 60.

Northerly winds two to 12 miles per hour becoming light and variable tonight.

TOMORROW — Partly sunny and warmer.

MONDAY — Cloudy and cooler with a chance of showers.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 54. By 2 p.m. the temperature was 76.

AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT — A $25,000 improvement project is under way at Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. It will add a turnoff taxiway about 1,500 feet from the west edge of the east-west runway. Checking a transit at the job site is Mark Karpeles of Southfield, a county employe with the department of facilities and operations, which is doing the construction. The new turnoff will make the airport safer and improve access to the terminal, officials said. Half the cost will be paid by federal matching funds.

Sports Site Backer Will Be Toastmaster

Ralph Norvell, a leading figure in recent attempts to promote a Pontiac sports arena, will be toastmaster for the combined luncheon and public presentation Tuesday of the newly proposed plan for redevelopment of Pontiac's downtown urban renewal land.

The plan includes provisions for a new sports arena.

Tickets ($2.25 per person) are available at Osmun's men's store, Tel-Huron branch; Dickinson's men's store; Hayes Jones Community Center; Community National Bank, Perry Street branch and Pontiac Mall branch; or at the door Tuesday.

New FCC Policy Hits Station Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcasters who engage in racial discrimination will not be able to get their licenses renewed, under a new Federal Communications Commission policy.

The commission announced the new policy yesterday and proposed at the same time a new rule under which broadcasters would be required to file with renewal applications a statement showing what they are doing to promote employment and programming aimed at minority groups.

A spokesman for the National Association of Broadcasters in Washington said the organization would have no comment until it could study the commission's notice.

* * *

The FCC estimated it would take four to six months to put the proposed rule into effect which would allow for filing of petitions by all interested parties and possible public hearings.

NOTICES POSTED

Henry Geller, FCC general counsel, said the new rule also would require broadcasters to post notices in their stations and to explain on employment applications that they are pledged not to discriminate against anyone on the basis of race.

Geller said the FCC has received less than a dozen complaints of discrimination since 1964.

However, the commission, in a 14-page notice about the new rule, referred to the recent report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, saying the nation "is confronted with a serious racial crisis."

Echoing a riot commission statement that it is not enough just to hire members of minority groups, the FCC said broadcasters should try to train and promote Negro reporters to top positions and to seek them out actively.

MOSTLY TV AFFECTED

In its notice, the commission said the federal equal employment law applies to all employers with 25 or more employes. Between 80 and 90 per cent of television stations fall in this category but it covers only 10 per cent of radio stations, the FCC said.

District Post to Insurance Executive

BIRMINGHAM — Gordon J. Muir, of 5435 Centerbrook, West Bloomfield Township, a representative of the Austin A. Kanter/Detroit general agency of National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont, has been named one of the agency's first district agents under the company's new district-agent plan.

Holder of company and life industry honors, he was chosen for the post in recognition of managerial ability and sales production. He will be concerned with recruiting, selecting and training and working with new agents, as well as with serving his own clients.

* * *

Under the Kanter Agency, the Detroit general agency serves National Life of Vermont policy owners in southeastern Michigan.

Michael P. DeLisio of 5228 N. Pebble Creek, West Bloomfield Township, has been appointed manager of the Air Pollution Control Department, Process Equipment Division, Arco Industries.

DeLISIO

Mr. DeLisio's experience will strengthen Arco's established position and enable us to move into new product lines manufacture," said John E. Graham, Arco president who announced DeLisio's appointment.

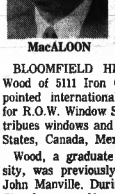

DeLisio comes to Arco from American Standard Inc., where he was manager of Air Pollution Control Engineering, Industrial Products Division.

He is a graduate of Syracuse University with a degree in chemical engineering.

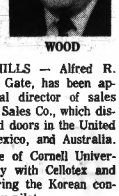

John MacAloon, of 571 Linden, Farmington Township, has been named manager of the J. L. Hudson Company's Oakland Mall store in Troy Township.

The new store, which anchors one end of the shopping complex at I-75 and 14 Mile Road, will open July 22.

MacAloon is a veteran of 30 years with Hudson's. In 1965 he was appointed merchandise manager of Hudson's Northland. In 1967 he was named assistant manager of the Northland store.

HE'S DOING WELL — The world's 24th heart transplant recipient, George Henry DeBord, 46, of Helotes, Tex., sits up and reads get-well wishes. He received the heart of a 50-year-old man at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston Tuesday. Doctors say they are pleased with the progress of DeBord, third person in the U.S. to live after such surgery. (Related story, page A-9.)

Some Returning GIs Will Get Out Early

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soldiers returning from Vietnam, Korea or other "short-tour" overseas areas soon will be eligible for up to five months early discharge.

The Army, announcing this yesterday, said the new policy will go into effect Aug. 1. Present policy allows early release of up to 90 days.

* * *

The Army said "short-tour" areas are those where a man serves less than 18 months if unaccompanied by his family and less than 24 if he has his family along.

* * *

"In the past, the majority of individuals assigned to units in the United States, after their return from short-tour areas, have been with their units for too short a time to justify retention on active duty," the Army said in explaining the policy change.

CHANCE TO EXTEND

The regulation, however, will not apply to soldiers returning to the United States with more than five months. This will give men serving in Vietnam or South Korea a chance to extend their tours to qualify for early separation, the Army said.

Of the other services, the Marines and the Air Force let Vietnam returnees go up to six months early although the Air Force limits it to three months for critical specialties.

* * *

The Navy lets men go up to 90 days early and, with approval of the navy personnel bureau, up to 180 in some cases.

Norway Boasts of Surgery 'First'

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A surgical team reported today it removed three vertebrae from a 26-year-old Lapp woman to treat a tumor that paralyzed parts of her lower body.

The team said the operation took place May 15 in Oslo's National Hospital and that the patient, identified only as Sara, is on her way to full recovery. The woman now can move her knee and lift her leg, the surgeons reported.

The team said the operation was the first of its kind in the world.

Will Change Country—Freeman

'New Rice to Aid S. Viet'

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman predicted today that the "green revolution" created by a new miracle rice seed will change war-torn South Vietnam from a rice importer to a rice exporter by 1971.

"If the price to the farmers remains right," he said, "The new IR-8 miracle rice will stimulate the entire economy, doubling and tripling yields. Already some of the farmers I talked to in the delta are asking for pumps, motor scooters, tractors and other machinery to take advantage of the new productivity."

* * *

Freeman wound up a four-day visit with Vietnamese agriculture and economics ministers and talks with farmers around the country. He said he was impressed with agricultural progress, particularly in the use of insecticides, pesticides and fertilizers, since his last visit here 2½ years ago.

Freeman said Vietnam's biggest agricultural problem right now is shoring up the price of rice which at paddy level has fallen from 14 to 15 piastres a kilo to 10 to 11 piastres since the Vietcong Tet offensive.

METHODS DISCUSSED

The piastre is worth .85 of a U.S. penny at the official rate of exchange.

Freeman said he discussed with Vietnamese Agriculture Minister Truong Thai Ton several methods of lifting the price paid to peasants for their rice.

The government so far has not decided on any solution, but is reported to be working on a plan that would combine several alternatives along with improving transportation from the delta.

Freeman said that the new IR-8 strain of rice developed in the Philippines would give Vietnamese farmers a greater yield per acre "than the best corn land in Indiana" and its shorter growing season of 120 vs. 180 days would enable farmers to diversify with a feed crop of sorgum to increase hog and poultry production.

Thant at Peace Talk Site

PARIS (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant arrived today for discussions with the heads of the American and North Vietnamese delegations to the peace talks.

He also had a lunch appointment with Michel Debre, President Charles de Gaulle's new foreign minister—their first meeting. Debre replaced Maurice Couve de Murville in the job last month.

* * *

Thant arrived by plane from Geneva and was to return in the afternoon.

After lunch he had separate appointments with U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy, the chief peace negotiators.

* * *

Thant took a leading role in setting up the talks, which have been going on for eight weeks. They have not made any apparent progress in easing the fighting.

Body May Be Ghostly Clue to 2½-Year-Old Burglary

OPELIKA, Ala. (UPI) — A ghostly body, anchored to a cold lake bottom by a concrete slab, drifted away from skin divers yesterday as they tried to bring it to the surface. Divers recovered from the creek bottom a pistol and a strongbox taken in a burglary more than two years ago.

Sheriff's officers said they had no clues to the identity of the body, believed to be a woman.

* * *

Authorities planned to return to Halawaka Creek today to search for the body, which drifted away from a diver as he tried to bring it to the surface.

The skin diver, Bill Red of Columbus, Ga., told investigators he was almost sure the body was that of a woman. He said the body, floating suspended from a 100-pound concrete block at the bottom of the creek, had long hair.

COULDN'T SEE

Red, a salvage diver, said he was unable to see the body clearly in the 70 feet of water.

Lee County Sheriff Paul Ragsdale said the body could have been preserved for "quite some time" in the 40-degree water.

* * *

The strongbox, containing checks and several empty money bags, was taken in a February 1966 department store burglary in Columbus.

Red told Ragsdale he was diving in the creek beneath a 300-foot bridge, attempting to salvage a boat motor which had been lost over the side of the span.

The diver was making his second pass over the creek bottom when he spotted the body, suspended eerily in the water, drifting aimlessly with the currents. Nearby were the small strongbox and pistol.

He surfaced, notified Ragsdale, then returned to the creek bottom with several other divers. Together, the divers freed the body by cutting through the wire and web belting which secured it to the concrete.

Clay Appeals His Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former World heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay asked the Supreme Court today to overturn his conviction and $10,000 fine and five-year jail sentence for refusing to be drafted into the armed services.

The appeal was filed on the last day permitted since his June 20, 1967, conviction in Houston federal court was upheld last May by the Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

* * *

Clay, who prefers his Black Muslim name, Muhammad Ali, is free on $5,000 bond.

Clay seeks either a ministerial exemption or status as a conscientious objector on the basis of his beliefs as a member of the Muslim faith.

'VIOLATES RIGHTS'

In a 75-page brief filed with the court his attorneys argued that Clay's ordered induction violates his constitutional rights.

Hall Likely to Be Red Nominee

NEW YORK (AP) — Gus Hall, general secretary of the American Communist party, is expected to become the party's first presidential candidate in 28 years.

* * *

A highly placed source said Friday that Hall's nomimination would come Sunday at the close of the party's 19th convention. Hall, 57, has said he will accept the nomination if it is offered.

Earl Browder, in 1940, was the last American Communist candidate for president. He got less than 40,000 votes against President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The convention, which began Thursday, is being attended by about 300 delegates and has been closed to the press and public. Simon Gerson, a party spokesman, said that Sunday's session probably will be open to newsmen and TV.

* * *

Hall has been the party's general secretary in this country since 1959. He said at a convention session that the U.S. Communist party has a dues-paying membership of 13,000 to 14,000 and between 100,000 and 150,000 supporters.

Party leaders said 37 states have laws to bar a Communist from seeking office.

Man With Pistol Robs Pontiac Cleaning Firm

A man with a small pistol robbed a Pontiac firm of about $100 yesterday, it was reported to city police.

An employe of Ogg Cleaners, 430 Orchard Lake, told investigators the man, who had pulled up his sweater to cover most of his face, entered the building about 1:30 p.m. and brandished the gun.

The bandit took the money from the cash register, then fled through the back door, officers were told.

LBJ to Central Americans: What Can We Do Together?

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — President Johnson told the chief executives of Central America today he wants to know "what more we can do together."

Johnson, on the first leg of a journey that will make him the first U.S. president to visit all five Central American republics in a single trip, said in remarks prepared for his airport arrival at this, the smallest nation:

"I come to San Salvador to learn. I come to find out from my fellow presidents what our nations have achieved toward improving the lives of the people. I come to ask what more can we do together."

* * *

From the airport Johnson was to go by motorcade through streets where 2,000 public university students demonstrated Friday night against him and the presidents of El Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala.

There were no incidents as the students marched down a main street in front of the U.S. Embassy, but leaders called for a bigger turnout today.

CARRY PLACARDS

Some of the students carried placards calling Johnson "the murderer of Vietnam" and saying "Get out of Vietnam." Others referred to the summit meeting as "the dragon and five mosquitos."

National Guard troops pledged full security for Johnson's arrival.

* * *

By Monday night, Johnson will have visited all five countries comprising the full membership of the 7-year-old Central American Common Market.

In a few years, Johnson said, the five countries have virtually completed the market framework and "have moved beyond the purely economic aspects of integration to produce important social advances."

U.S. CONTRIBUTIONS

He pointed to U.S. contributions to the area's self-help effort but said "it must always be so" that the Central Americans themselves provide leadership and determination.

Declaring that the goal, as much as anything is a state of mind, he asserted:

"If we all believe societies can and must change, they will.

"If we all believe that men can and must cooperate with each other to insure peace and progress, they will.

* * *

"If we all believe that poverty and misery, disease and injustice, can and must be eliminated, they will.

"I come to San Salvador knowing this. But I come to learn how we can hasten the day of progress."

LATIN-FLAVORED

Johnson's trip, his first out of the United States since his worldwide tour last December followed a heavily Latin-flavored July 4th weekend divided between work and relaxation at his ranch and a visit to Hemis-Fair, the world exposition at San Antonio.

Much of the work of the common market meeting, in progress since Tuesday, was already accomplished. Foreign ministers and finance ministers labored through the region's humid rainy season to prepare a conference-ending declaration and other documents for signature by the presidents.

TRIUMPH and TRAGEDY: The Story of the KENNEDYS
NEW BOOK TO TELL STORY OF THE AMAZING KENNEDYS

The Kennedys have had it all.

From hunger in Ireland to realization, three generations later, of the American Dream, Wealth, Position, Power.

And they have seen the dream become nightmare.

The violence done them by fate is cruel enough. But the violence done them by the dark side of the human mind has appalled the nation and the world.

The story of this American family, what has been given it and what has been taken from it, is as fantastic as it is frightening.

Once before The Associated Press has chronicled a shocking tragedy of this afflicted family in "The Torch Is Passed," one of the largest selling books of all time, and the classic account of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Now, in a time of national shock and sympathy, the AP is producing another book on this fated family.

It is called "Triumph and Tragedy: The Story of the Kennedys." Many of those who wrote "The Torch Is Passed" are at work on the new project. It will be a hardbound book fully illustrated in color and black and white, a fitting memoir of one of the most shocking personal and public tragedies of American history.

To reserve your copy, send only $3.12 now to "Triumph and Tragedy" and the coupon below.

Helicopter Is Handy in Ambush Getaway

SAIGON (UPI) — Slowly and cautiously, four Americans slipped through the darkened village, unaware that nearly 100 Vietcong guerrillas were watching their every step.

The four were members of a U.S. Army long range reconnaissance patrol (LRRP), the jaunty, jungle-suited scouts known as "Lurps" who serve as the eyes and ears of regular U.S. troops.

Fighting is not their primary mission. Lurps are intelligence gathers. They watch and listen and learn whatever they can about their Enemy.

Sometimes they get as close as the next bush — and sometimes they are discovered. Then they must fight to stay alive.

BURST OF GUNFIRE

So it was with four Lurps who slipped into the village of A Go Cong outside Saigon recently to set up a night observation post.

A burst of Communist gunfire showed them that they were the ones being observed.

The Americans had walked into the gaping jaws of an L-shaped Vietcong ambush. Soon they were surrounded by Communists firing machine guns and rifles.

The Lurps, Sgt. David L. Hill of Visalia, Calif., PFC. Robert Elsner of New York City, Spec. 4 Gerald W. Patty of Maryville, Tenn., and Spec. 4 William P. Cohn of Norwich, Conn., tried to withdraw. But every side was sealed off.

Their only way out was up — but this meant exposing a helicopter to certain danger and possible destruction.

A U.S. helicopter gun-ship hovered overhead, keeping the Vietcong pinned down by rockets and machine-gun fire.

But the chopper, too, was drawing fire from the village.

The gunship soon had suspended its ammunition and was forced to leave its station. An Army Cobra gun-ship, a sleek, two-man helicopter that can send out a fantastic amount of firepower, was scrambled to continue supporting the four Lurps.

The Cobra split out bullets around the Americans. Then concentrated on an area to the northeast in an attempt to open up an escape route.

Finally, the Lurps managed to crawl about 400 yards to a rice paddy, using dikes for cover.

'COPTER LANDS

Air craft commander 1st Lt. Harry L. Taylor, 25, of Chattanooga Tenn., saw his opportunity to drop down into the rice paddy when the Lurps reached a point about 160 yards from a treeline.

The Cobra's pilot, Warrant Officer James O. Ratliff, 22, of Cody, Wyo. turned on a searchlight to mark the Lurps' position and told them via radio to get ready. There was no way to take on more passengers in the two-man helicopter. The Lurps would have to be carried out on the Cobra's landing skids.

* * *

Ratliff lowered the helicopter and was on the ground about 10 or 12 seconds while the four Lurps grasped the Cobra's landing skids. With the four men on the skids, the helicopter skirted the treetops at about 50 knots, much slower than its normal cruising speed of up to 120.

"We were drawing fire the last time I looked back," Ratliff said later.

Capt. Donny E. Ashley

Two years ago, Pontiac Police Captain DONNY E. ASHLEY could have retired from the force with twenty years of service behind him and a police pension in his future. He chose to stay on the job. Today he is dead.

ASHLEY

Capt. ASHLEY, one of the top ranking officers in the department drowned Wednesday in the Clinton River searching for two lost boys. There is no higher price a man can pay in the line of duty.

★ ★ ★

At 45, Capt. Ashley was in the prime of life when death claimed him. He had been with the Pontiac Police Department for almost 23 years.

★ ★ ★

ASHLEY, of 6042 Snow Apple, Independence Township, was promoted to sergeant in 1951. Eight years later he was named to head the uniform patrol bureau. Since 1965 he had been administrative assistant to Police Chief WILLIAM K. HANGER.

Although the spectre of death is a constant companion of police officers, it always comes as a shock when a devoted career in law enforcement ends on a note of tragedy. The police department has lost a dedicated man.

Urge Citizens to Learn Proper Use of Firearms

Recently we witnessed something that could become a serious hazard this summer — accidental shootings. The recent incidents involved a fatal shooting of a boy in Waterford Township and the wounding of a woman in Independence Township.

We sympathize with the families involved. But sympathy alone won't prevent such tragic occurrences from happening again.

★ ★ ★

It is well established fact that many people have purchased guns for their personal protection since the civil disorders here and elsewhere last summer. We could face a summer filled with tragic accidental shootings under such circumstances.

We do not propose to set ourselves up as experts on the proper use of firearms, but it seems apparent that any persons owning a gun should take the time to learn from competent authorities how to safely use and handle firearms.

★ ★ ★

Accordingly, it would seem evident that loaded guns should never be left lying around the house, particularly if they are within reach of children or adults who are not schooled in the proper handling of guns.

Unless owners of firearms practice maximum safety precautions, we could well find accidental shootings a major cause of death and injury in Oakland County by the end of the summer.

★ ★ ★

We strongly urge persons who have not been well trained in the use of firearms to contact their nearest law enforcement agency for tips on the safe use and maintenance of their newly acquired firearms.

Reaction of Federal Agency Positively Negative

Paris Talks Recall Historic Moments

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

It was 23 years ago this summer that the guns in Europe stood still. The Allied Powers were victorious in the West. It was the end of Hitler's evil dream. VE Day had come and there was peace.

DIRKSEN

I was in Paris when the lights went on. The pandemonium was deafening as the pent up spirit for years back was given expression by every man, woman and child. For the first time in years, the lights came on at night. On the Champs Elysees there was mass madness. There was absolute ecstasy as the soft lights of the Academy of Music added their glow to the shining night.

★ ★ ★

I stood against a building in the shadows and watched this human spectacle of joy and thanksgiving unfold. The mind was searching for an adequate thought. It came and it was of a Man hanging on a cross. His last words were, "It is finished." I thought, almost audibly, it is finished. Then there was the disquieting thought — was it only for now? Would mankind succeed in turning his failure of centuries of war into a lasting peace?

The following morning I went to Versailles to stand in the great hall where the Treaty of Versailles was signed to conclude World War I. The hall was closed. I knocked on many doors. At last, a dozen doors down the echoing corridors, a French policeman appeared. I told him what I wanted to see. He nodded gravely and conducted me to that large, high-ceilinged room with walls adorned with paintings of the more glorious days of France. To my guide I asked, "Where did President Wilson sit?"

He responded quickly, "Here, m'sieu."

"Where did Lloyd George sit?"

"Voila, m'sieu."

"Where did Clemenceau sit?"

"Voila!"

Then there was the picture of that meeting which formally concluded the war to end all wars, as it was then hailed and described.

And now, in 1945, half of the world was going through all that agony all over again. It was but another war to end all wars. The devils who played the leading roles in provoking war were pretty much the same. It was only that they bore different names.

U.N.

Then came another dream — the United Nations. Its structure and functioning were hailed with glorious language and high hopes. But one could not help but wonder a little at the depth of our faith as regional defense groupings — NATO, SEATO, the Warsaw Pact and others — began to take form.

It was but another six years before the troops of member nations of UN were fighting along Pusan Road and elsewhere in Korea. It was first regarded as a "police action." It turned out to be a major war with heavy casualties. Then, at long last an uneasy truce was achieved. Its continued violation by North Korea in the years that followed underscore the fact that it is indeed a fragile truce.

★ ★ ★

Then another 10 years and millions of men and boys — ours, Australia's, South Korea's, South Vietnam's, Viets from the North and the Vietcong — were at it again, seeking by arbitrament of force to settle questions which human understanding, tolerance and unselfishness should be able to settle.

And now the Vietnam negotiators are in Paris — the same Paris where I stood in the shadow 23 years ago to murmur a prayer of thanksgiving and hope that a marching, civilizing force would assuage the jungle instinct and the combative urge in mankind, and that reason, logic and forbearance might prevail.

★ ★ ★

We may well ask: Will this be another of the incredible failures of man? Will the melodious song of peace — "... In the sky, the larks still bravely singing fly" be drowned out by the guns below? Countless millions pray that now that man has yet another chance, he be given the power and the grace to succeed.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Amos, third of the minor prophets in the canon of the Old Testament, was the social reformer, concerned with social behavior and ethics. He rebelled against the oppression of the poor by the powerful, against social immorality, intemperance and corruption.

He did not refer to God as the "God of Israel" but as the "Lord of Hosts," for he believed that all nations were equal in the eyes of God and that Israel did not stand higher with God than the Ethiopians. (Amos 9:7)

He was a simple man, a shepherd and tender of fig trees. He lived with nature and had time to observe and contemplate the natural laws of God. It has been thought that Amos, with all his wrath, was a prophet of doom. But in Chapter 9 of the Book of Amos he prophesied the history of the Jew to the present day.

God said to him, "For lo, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations like as corn is sifted in a sieve . . ." and He concluded, ". . . and I will bring again the captivity of My people of Israel and they shall build the waste cities and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God."

Confident Living:

Get Acquainted With Yourself

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

On an airplane out of Miami a man with a briefcase took the adjoining seat and immediately got out some business reports and started working. He looked like good average Mr. American Citizen, probably in his early 60s.

DR. PEALE

It was raining hard as we took off. But soon we got above the overcast — and there, extending in all directions, was the glorious scene you see at 30,000 feet when vast expanses of great billowing clouds gleam in kaleidoscopic splendor under the rays of a setting sun.

"Isn't that beautiful!" my neighbor said. "Sure is a wonderful world God has made."

★ ★ ★

"It sure is," I agreed. You never know how people will react and I found his remark about the scenery a bit surprising.

He was silent a few moments, taking it all in. "I will be retiring soon — and I don't want to retire."

"Why do you do it then?"

"Well, we have a retirement regulation in my company. When you hit retirement age you've had it and you bow out. No, I don't want to retire . . . because I don't really know myself yet. I wonder if I ever will," he mused.

★ ★ ★

"I hope you will," I said. "I am sure you can. Many people do . . . so why not you? Personally I happen to believe religion is how a person finds himself. Through faith is where I find it."

He gave me a sharp look. "To know yourself is a great thing to find," he said, "a very great thing, isn't it?"

Before long the plane was coming into Atlanta and we but got off. It seemed curious that the man had talked about himself so openly. Perhaps it was something in the mood of the hour, some need to talk. He didn't really know himself . . .

★ ★ ★

Do you really know yourself? Do I know myself? We human beings do not know ourselves automatically just by being us. We are born complex.

You come to know quite a lot about your body: your physical reactions, appearance, state of health. But the body is only your outer form. It is not the real you.

You also know your likes and dislikes and your opinions on all sorts of things. But these are not the real you either. You have a deeper self. Everyone does.

★ ★ ★

Essentially we are spiritual beings so it is by finding ourselves spiritually that we get real self-knowledge. But many people go through life without ever doing this. And this is because of certain obstacles which every human being has to deal with.

First there is "the old Adam in you" — your worse self. You learn to know yourself by facing and fighting that "old Adam" that is in us all. But instinctively a person shrinks from the effort which that takes.

"The most frequent impediment to men's turning the mind inward upon themselves," wrote Coleridge, "is that they are afraid of what they shall find there."

★ ★ ★

A second barrier to knowing one's self is our strange reluctance to recognize how much good we also have within us and to believe in our potentials. We seem unconsciously to dread the challenge of living up to our best.

Greek philosophers maintained that self-knowledge is the beginning of wisdom. How should we pursue it? One way is to take time each day to practice inner quiet. That will help you to get better acquainted with your own thoughts and feelings.

★ ★ ★

Encourage your best reaction until they take over. Believe in yourself, in your abilities, for you are what you think. To know yourself visualize a really great person. That's you.

Intercom Pinch-Hits for Phones

By NOEL GROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — That isn't really a panic button that has been installed in Senate offices, insists a Capitol official.

Some persist in calling it that, however, since the button hooks up senators with an intercom system that could give a recorded account of nearby riot activity in case civil disturbances hit the city again.

★ ★ ★

With smoke drifting over the dome and the sound of breaking plate glass almost within earshot in the April riots, some staffers became edgy and rumors ran rampant. A torrent of calls all over Washington left many phones dead, for those who wanted to check on the rumors.

Word spread that snipers were waiting outside and that rioters were on Capitol grounds.

★ ★ ★

The new intercom system would help quash such rumors, admits Senate (acting) Sergeant at Arms Nicholas Lacovara, but its main purpose is simply to provide a means of communication between lawmakers in the event of another breakdown in phone service.

The spectre of crime and violence is a matter of real, as well as legislative, concern for Congress, however. Those historic walls are not immune to some of the same offenses that hit the rest of the nation.

★ ★ ★

Thefts of purses from office desks, typewriters, lamps, even cars from the parking garages are included on Capitol police records.

A fight broke out recently in the Rayburn cafeteria, but was stopped quickly by police. Capitol cops once had to use a pistol butt to subdue a man who said he had come to "get" now-expelled Rep. Adam Clayton Powell.

In March of 1964 came the chilling spectacle of three or four gunmen firing down on people on the 155 acres of Capitol Hill are the Capitol Police, with an authorized strength of about 500 men. Generally they rate high marks in terms of effectiveness and efficiency, and heavy patrolling of the grounds keeps violent crimes at a minimum.

"We have the same types of problems with citizenry that are encountered in urban areas elsewhere," said Lacovara.

For sheer impact, it would not be out of place in a year that has had more than its quota of political surprises and campaign acrobatics.

One Herbert Wheeler wants Mrs. John F. Kennedy to run for President.

★ ★ ★

"If England can have a queen and other countries have women for rulers, why not us?" writes Mr. Wheeler.

"This country needs a new image. I feel that out of all the Americans living today, she, Jacqueline Kennedy, is the only one who could pull this country together."

Voice of the People:

'Disagree With Comment on Support of Humphrey'

It was with a chuckle that we read a letter attributing "machine politics" to the supporting of Hubert Humphrey at the Democratic State Convention. As an observer at the 18th Congressional District Convention we noted McCarthy supporters with their "fresh, honest approach" efficiently operating what looked exactly like a steamroller in the Birmingham caucus so that no one but delegates supporting McCarthy were allowed to go to the State Convention from Birmingham. This resulted in many respected working Democrats from Birmingham not getting a seat in their own delegation. The majority in Birmingham prevailed. Should not this same privilege apply to the delegates at the State Convention without unmerited cries of "machine politics?"

★ ★ ★

I do not feel like a "political machine" or a "party hack." Our affection for and support of Humphrey is simply in recognition of an outstanding record as an instrument for social change and progress in this country.

★ ★ ★

Contrary to the previous letter, the last Harris poll conducted after the Kennedy assassination continued to show that Humphrey is the only Democratic candidate who can beat both Nixon and Rockefeller. We suggest that critics explore their own back yards before smearing other responsible delegates who support Vice President Humphrey because they feel he is the best man to lead the Country through the critical years ahead.

We appreciated The Pontiac Press and Reporter Bob Wisler for the fine article on the Pontiac Youthpower program which appeared recently.

★ ★ ★

Regrettably, we still have hundreds of young people, particularly in the 15-, 16- and 17-year-old age bracket that are unable to find part-time summer jobs because of their age.

As yet, the demand, especially in the City of Pontiac, for domestic help has been very small. I urge Pontiac area employers and citizens to respond by calling Youthpower at FE 2-0227.

Commend Effort for Benefit of Servicemen

Appreciation should go to radio station WXYZ for their successful drive to collect transistor radios for servicemen in Vietnam. It would be remarkable if this spirit of generosity and concern were to increase to a point where the average American might be moved to support the men who give the ultimate for this great country. How many patriotic organizations in Oakland County are actively engaged in supporting servicemen in Vietnam? Without a doubt, we could all do a lot better.

Junior Editors Quiz on U.S. TERRITORIES

QUESTION: What is the story of United States lands?

ANSWER: All but 15 of our states—the original 13 with the addition of Texas and California—were once territories or parts of them, meaning areas under a federal government but not equal in rights to a state.

The Republic of the Philippines was once a U.S. territory, but is now an independent nation. Alaska and Hawaii were the last territories which became states. Puerto Rico was a territory until it became a commonwealth, which gives it self-government under the protection of the U.S.

At present, the U.S. has five main territories and dependencies. These are, in the Americas, the Virgin Islands and the Panama Canal Zone; and in the Pacific Ocean, American Samoa, Guam, Wake and some other Pacific islands.

In our map we show states with large flags, the commonwealth with a middle-sized one, and territories with smaller ones. There are also trust territories administered by the U.S. under the U.N.—far too many to show on our map.

Recently the United States has been encouraging groups of the Pacific Islands to move toward self-government.

Flier Who Altered License Totally Barred as Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man who worked his way up to a top pilot's job with a major airline before it was discovered he held only a private license has been barred from flying anything permanently.

The National Transportation Safety Board said Friday it had upheld earlier rulings in the case of Jimmie H. Lane, 35, and had closed the book on him.

The Federal Aviation Administration discovered early last March that Lane, then of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., had been flying as a pilot for Eastern Air Lines since 1957 although he held only a private pilot's license. That license authorized him to fly only single-engine planes, and did not qualify him to carry passengers.

The FAA said Lane altered the certificate to make it resemble the card of an air transport pilot.

$20,000 A YEAR

After attending Eastern's pilot training school, Lane advanced progressively during 11½ years to the command of the piston-engine Constellation and then the four-engine Electra prop-jet into the $20,000-a-year salary class.

★ ★ ★

He flew the busy New York-Washington shuttle service regularly and had a perfect safety record.

He finally was unmasked by an FAA inspector checking his competence to become a DC-9 jet captain.

In Suit by Nader

GM Arguments Rejected

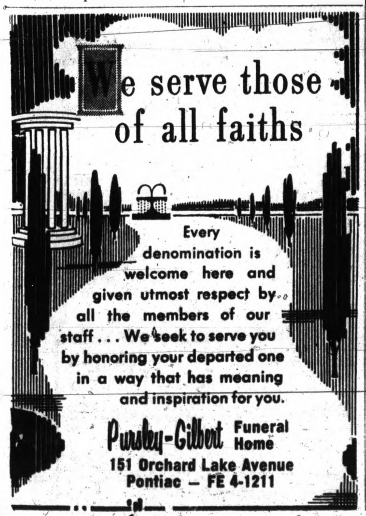

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court has rejected the main legal arguments advanced by the General Motors Corp. in seeking dismissal of a $26-million invasion of privacy suit brought against it by Ralph Nader.

★ ★ ★

Nader, a 34-year-old Washington lawyer who has crusaded for automobile safety and consumer protection, alleged in his suit that GM waged a concerted campaign to discredit his attacks on auto safety.

Justice Joseph A. Brust said Thursday in a five-page ruling that the corporation had, in part, acknowledged many of the allegations "for the purposes of this motion."

"It is conceded," Brust wrote, "that General Motors, through its agents, made threatening telephone calls to plaintiff, tapped his telephone, attempted to entice him with women, shadowed him in various places and caused him to be investigated by interviewing numerous of his acquaintances who could provide defendant with information about him."

No Longer a 'Scarface'

Young Hero Is Smiling Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two years and 270 surgical stitches after 9-year-old Billy Hines rescued a playmate from a snarling dog, smiles have returned to the lad's face.

Plastic surgery has erased nearly all signs of the mauling inflicted by Rex, a husky German shepherd, when Billy, then 7, stepped between it and Robbie Ellenberger, then 2.

* * *

"For two years he couldn't smile," said Billy's mother, Mrs. William Hines. "He was self-conscious. They called him Scarface."

"That dog was going to hurt Robbie," Billy said.

JUMPED IN

He recalled that he had pulled Robbie in a little red wagon, accompanied by their parents, to a neighborhood store, when Rex lunged at Robbie. He said he jumped in and pushed Robbie away.

* * *

"The dog scratched my elbow, and it hurt," Billy said. "Then he bit my face but I didn't feel that so much."

Robbie was unhurt.

The dog was not destroyed.

Would Billy be a hero again?

"If I saw a big dog getting ready to bite somebody, I'd try to save him—but I'd carry a big stick," he said.

Billy was in a hospital seven days for the plastic surgery.

'HURT A LITTLE'

"It just hurt a little when they pulled off the tape," the light-brown-haired, blue-eyed boy said.

Billy will have to go to the hospital periodically until his surgery is completed. That will be when he's 18.

* * *

At home, Billy plays with Bonnie, a Pekingese-Chihuahua puppy, and with Sharon, a Dachshund-Chihuahua. Also with Pretty Thing, the family Siamese cat.

On a living room wall hangs a good samaritan certificate which Billy received from Biblestown USA, a religious organization at Boca Raton, Fla.

In his acceptance speech, Billy said, "My mommy says that if this is what it takes to be a hero, she doesn't want any more in the family.

Aussie Police Maintain Vigil

Gunman Holds Bride, Child Hostage 5th Day

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — Police kept a tense vigil today near a suburban cottage where a deranged gunman who staged his own shotgun wedding held his bride and her tiny son hostage for the fifth day. They said he was in a "depressive fit" and most dangerous.

Officers acted on the advice of a psychiatrist in making no further moves against Wallace Mellish, 23, an ex-convict with a history of mental illness who was armed with an arsenal of firearms. His threats forced police to bring him a powerful sniper rifle and 200 rounds of ammunition for it Wednesday.

* * *

Detective Supt. Don Fergusson said a psychiatrist advised police Mellish's condition would improve if he were not disturbed.

"Just how long this recovery will take we cannot say, but we have been told that Mellish's case history shows that he comes out of his depressive fits more quickly than he enters them," Fergusson said.

ALLOWED TO WED

Mellish was allowed to marry Beryl Muddle, 19, a childhood friend, Tuesday when he threatened to kill her and her 11-week-old son, Leslie, if permission were denied him. The district police commissioner watched the ceremony, which was performed by a jail chaplain.

Mellish had promised to surrender 90 minutes after the wedding. But he broke that promise and a second promise to surrender the next morning. Yesterday police flatted food supplies, other than beby food going into the cottage.

Fergusson said police had ruled out the possibilty of using tear gas against Mellish.

"Gas will never be used in any circumstances for the simple reason that in the time it would take for the gas to have any effect, no matter how quick it would be, Mellish would have time to destroy the baby, possibly his wife and possibly himself," Fergusson said.

The detective said the baby is a chronic sufferer from bronchitis and this was another reason tear gas was ruled out.

Mellish is believed the father of the baby. He apparently became enraged when Miss Muddle's parents denied permission for the wedding.

S. African Heart Recipient Has Serious Lung Trouble

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, who has lived more than six months with a transplated heart, has developed serious lung trouble.

Groote Schuur Hospital announced Friday that pulmonary complications "are giving rise to concern."

* * *

In addition to the lung trouble, Blaiberg is recovering from a hepatitis infection. The hospital said the liver condition was improving.

Blaiberg, 59, the wolrd's longest surviving heart transplant patient, received the new organ Jan. 2 in an operation performed by Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, who pioneered such surgery.

To date 24 heart transplants have been performed in nine countries, and Blaiberg is one of seven surviving recipients. Two months after his transplant, Blaiberg was driving his car on downtown shopping expeditions.

Doctors discovered Blaiberg had hepatitis when he returned to the hospital for routine tests in May. At one time his condition deteriorated to the point where doctors feared for his life, and Dr. Barnard interrupted an overseas trip to rush to his bedside.

* * *

The new complication in Blaiberg's case developed little more than a week before a conference of heart transplant suregons in Cape Town, site of the world's first transplant operation seven months ago.

Barnard performed the operation Dec. 3, 1967, on Louis Washkansky, who died of pneumonia 17 days later.

SYMPOSIUM SET

Barnard will host the July 13-16 symposium, expected to attract Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, who performed the first heart transplant in the United States, and Dr. Denton A. Cooley of Houston, Tex., who has performed more heart grafts than any other surgeon.

In Canada, the Montreal Heart Institute said Gaetan Paris, the world's 22nd heart recipient, is recovering so rapidly since his June 28 operation that no further medical bulletins would be issued.

Sirhan's Brother Says Citizenship Is Withheld

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The American Liberties Union says it is investigating a claim by Saidallah Sirhan, brother of the man charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, that his U.S. citizenship is being withheld.

Sirhan, 36, said he was scheduled to report to the Los Angeles Naturalization Board to be sworn in June 7. However, after the June 5 assassination, he said he was told not to appear.

U.S. immigration officials said an investigation was pending, but they declined to elaborate.

In jail awaiting trial is Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, charged with the fatal shooting of Kennedy in Los Angeles.

"The denial of citizenship, solely because a member of one's family is charged with an offense, is patently the clearest violation of elemental rights," the ACLU's chief defense attorney for southern California said Friday.

* * *

A. L. Wirin, the lawyer, added: "It is the application of the doctrine of guilt by association in its ugliest form."

The attorney said the case was being handled by Saidallah Sirhan's attorney, David Marcus of Los Angeles, but added that the ACLU would look into the matter and "take such action as may be appropriate."

Sirhan's family came to the United States from Jerusalem in 1957.

Gregory in Hospital to Finish Sentence

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Civil rights activist Dick Gregory, suffering from a cold after fasting 39 days, was given oxygen Friday.

The Negro comedian was moved to a Tacoma Hospital from his cell in Thurston County jail in Olympic, where he was serving a 10-day sentence for illegal fishing during an Indian fishing rights demonstration in 1966.

Gregory's attorney, Jack Tanner, said he was expected to serve the remainder of his sentence, which started June 7, in the hospital, where his condition was described Friday night as satisfactory.

Rebel Drivers OK Meeting in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Striking bus drivers agreed to meet today with Mayor Richard J. Daley, top officials of their union and the Chicago Transit Authority in efforts to end a dispute which has idled half the city's buses.

The agreement Friday night was the first sign of a possible break in the wildcat walkout which began Tuesday morning on the South and West Sides and spread to other sections of the city as well. Previous efforts to get all parties to the dispute together had failed.

* * *

"I can assure you that we will be there to meet with those people," said a spokesman for the striking union dissidents who call themselves the Concerned Transit Workers.

A few hours earlier the strikers and union representatives had failed to appear at a similar meeting which Daley had called in his City Hall office Friday afternoon. Daley returned from a brief trip to Florida just before calling the meeting.

TOP AIDES

George L. Dement, CTA board chairman, and Thomas B. O'Connor, CTA general manager, were expected at today's session as was James J. Hill, president of Local 241, Amalgamated Transit Workers. Hill had refused previously to discuss the strikers' complaints with the dissidents until they returned to work.

CTA officials reported 50 per cent of their buses were in operation Friday and that subway-elevated trains were running at or close to normal schedules. Some train motormen had left their jobs Wednesday in sympathy with the bus drivers.

Some 1,500 drivers reported for work Friday compared with 1,400 Wednesday. There are 2,800 drivers in the CTA system. The transit problem was not as serious Friday as Wednesday because there were fewer commuters due to closing of many offices following the July Fourth holiday.

Canada's Seaway Ports See Long Strike as a Disaster

TORONTO (AP)—With the strike of Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority workers now in its third week, directors of the nation's Great Lakes ports are beginning to talk in terms of disaster if the strike is prolonged.

It is not entirely a question of lost revenue, but concern that foreign shipping men think the strike is giving new life to Montreal, unaffected by the walkout, and reminding foreign lines that cargo can be deposited there and the ships moved quickly back to sea — without tolls.

* * *

More than 70 foreign flag vessels have been trapped by the strike. The situation has also taken most of Canada's Great Lakes fleet of 200 inland vessels out of operation.

The cost to Canada's economy is not precisely known, but inland shippers estimate the operating costs of their fleets at $500,000 a day. The Seaway Authority itself acknowledges the loss of $96,000 a day in tolls.

TALK FRIDAY

Government and union officials talked for the first time in five days Friday, but W. J. Smith, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, representing the strikers, said the situation was "just as black" as ever.

The meeting broke up with no new talks scheduled, but officials reported that "misunderstandings that appeared to be developing were eliminated as a result of the meeting."

* * *

This was followed by a warning from the Canadian Importers Association that shipping may be permanently diverted to the United States if the strike is not halted immediately.

A sampling of opinion in the Great Lakes ports of Ontario, opened to ocean traffic in 1959 with the completion of the seaway, showed the mood to be grave.

PACE TOO QUICK

In Montreal, long mistrusted by shipping firms because of its militant Longshoremen's Union, the pace in the harbor was so quick that there was a shortage of dock workers to handle the 112 ships in port Thursday.

The strike involves 1,250 seaway workers who left their jobs June 21, demanding an 18 per cent pay increase. They want wages comparable with those in the United States-controlled sections of the seaway system.

* * *

The strikers say the U.S. workers earn an average of 21 per cent more than the Canadians.

The new government of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is just sitting tight. The Labor Ministry has refused to take a personal hand in the negotiations, reaffirming an earlier statement by Trudeau that a wage increase of 12 per cent over two years, as recommended by a conciliation board, seemed "fair and reasonable."

Corn starch forms the base of most wallpaper adhesives.

Union Ends Strike Against Cable Firm

MUSKEGON (UPI) — A strike against the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co. that began last Aug. 15 ended Friday with the ratification of a new contract by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The strike, which had idled 350 workers, was one of the longest in recent years in the Muskegon area.

* * *

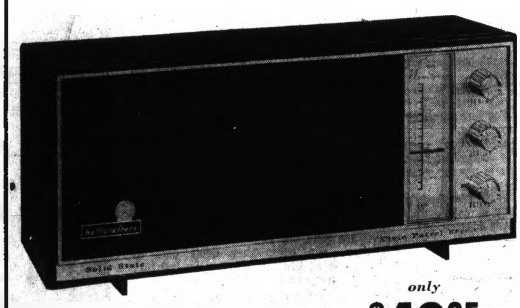

Local 350 of the IBEW voted 233-52 in favor of the new contract which has, as one of the most sought items, a common expiration date with contracts for Anaconda plants in Illinois, Georgia and Indiana.

The workers will receive a $1.11 per hour wage and fringe benefits package over the 45-month life of the contract.

Some machine shop workers will report to work Monday with the remainder being called back when production resumes.

The bridegroom said he didn't care for cake. But his bride of an hour probably changed his mind when she fed him wedding cake. Bridegroom is James Arthur Seaman of Wooster, Ohio; bride was Judy Varner, daughter of the D. B. Varners of South Adams Road, Avon Township.

The sun was still shining at noon as wedding guests waited for luncheon. From the left are Mrs. George Karas, Fair Oak Court, Avon Township; Mrs. C. Allan Harlan, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Robert G. Hoopes and Mr. Hoopes, Foster Road, Springfield Township.

Miss Varner Says Vows With James A. Seaman

Judy Varner, daughter of Oakland University's Chancellor and Mrs. Durward B. Varner, spoke her wedding vows Friday morning. She became the bride of James Arthur Seaman in a ceremony solemnized in the University Presbyterian Church, Avon Township, and attended only by family and close friends.

The bodice and long sleeves of her white silk organza floor-length gown were ruffled in vertical rows of Val lace. The dress was fashioned with a high Victorian collar.

★ ★ ★

Her shoulder-length veil was held by a lace and pearl crown. The round bridal bouquet contained baby's breath and daisies.

BRIDAL PARTY

Carol Norvell was maid of honor and the bride's sister, Sue, bridesmaid. Best man for the son of Mrs. Shirley Seaman of Wooster, Ohio and William Seaman of Okemos was Ford Neale.

Thomas Ewell and John Mann ushered.

★ ★ ★

After the ceremony, guests moved across Adams Road to the Varners' home for a reception and garden luncheon. Tables, centered with nosegays of garden flowers, were set under a tent on the lawn.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will live in Wooster, Ohio for the summer. In September, they will move to Hartford, Conn.

Male Is King of Castle and Voting Booth Too

VADUZ (UPI) — Never underestimate the power of a man in Liechtenstein.

The voters of this tiny state between Switzerland and Austria got around Thursday after 500 years to deciding whether women should be given political rights. They did it right.

Males of Liechtenstein decided to let their women vote. So 2,238 men and 2,506 women went to the polls.

They decided — 2,592 to 2,152 — that a woman's place is not in the voting booth.

Male election officials said 1,241 of the women voted to deny themselves voting rights.

The men voted 1,351 to 887 against women having political rights.

Interest Lags for Children Taking Lessons

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My younger brother and I play the same musical instrument. We have our lessons directly after school. At first he moved very quickly, as I did through the beginning. But now that he is in sixth grade he is quite busy and unable to practice very often anymore.

I also am busy trying to keep all my grades at an A average, being the editor of our school newspaper, and doing school projects. I have been playing for four and a half years and now I find it hard to work in time to practice.

★ ★ ★

After our teacher leaves, my mom lectures us on how badly we have done. This month the price was to have gone up, and my brother suggested we might quit. My mom said that if he quits, then she would also make him quite his beloved baseball, and I could stop listening to the radio and watching TV.

I sincerely love music, but hearing this day after day makes me mad and rebel against practicing. Are we right, or is our dear mother correct? — "Concerto of Tears"

★ ★ ★

Dear "Concerto of Tears": A certain amount of perseverance is essential to get through the practice which is part of learning to play any instrument. As long as the desire to learn is strong enough, a person is willing to put up with the drudgery.

But once practice, and worse, the lessons themselves, lose all appeal and become nothing but a source of frustration and boredom, there is little value in continuing. You and your brother seem to have reached this point, and I feel your mother should let you discontinue your lessons until such time as they will be equally important to you as your other activities.

The receiving line for the Seaman-Varner wedding was inside and guests went out from greeting the young couple to a reception and luncheon in the garden. Mrs. Varner is hidden behind the man in the center.

Curtain to Rise at OCC Theatre

Oakland Community College and the Court Theatre of Detroit have combined to present three outstanding plays for exciting and provocative summer theatre entertainment in the community, Robert Falk, assistant professor for Theatre and Drama at the OCC Orchard Ridge Campus, has announced.

The plays are "In White America," two one-acters "The Private Ear — The Public Eye" and the hit musical "The Fantastiks."

★ ★ ★

"In White America" will be staged July 12, 13, 21, 28, and Aug. 9, 17.

Produced off-Broadway in 1964, "In White America" is a documentary describing what it has been like to be a Negro in this country. Said the New Yorker" . . . there are dramatic moments and funny, enraging, defiant, and quiet ones."

★ ★ ★

"The Private Ear — The Public Eye" will be held on July 14, 19, 20, and Aug. 4, 24.

Written by the noted British playwright, Peter Shaffer, author of the award-winning Broadway productions "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," "Private Ear — Public Eye" were first produced in London and then on Broadway.

★ ★ ★

"Private Ear" is a tender and poignant account of an ill-starred romance and "Public Eye" is a rollicking comedy about an Augie March type character who, at the moment, is playing the part of a private detective for a wealthy accountant who suspects his wife of infidelity.

'FANTASTIKS'

"The Fantastiks" will be presented July 26, 27, and Aug. 11, 16, 20, 31.

The score of "The Fantastiks" includes such memorable songs as "Try to Remember" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain."

For reservations and information, contact the OCC — Court Theatre box office.

Powder Puff Derby Up, Up and Away

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Eighty-one planes with women pilots took off today for Savannah, Ga., on a 2,469-mile flight in the 22nd year of the Powder Puff Derby.

Of the 150 women entered in the race, some will be flying solo and some with copilots. There are prizes of $3,000 for the first five places.

STOPS

The pilots will be permitted to make eight stops, two of them mandatory. The planes must land at Corpus Christi, Tex., and at Greenville, Miss.

★ ★ ★

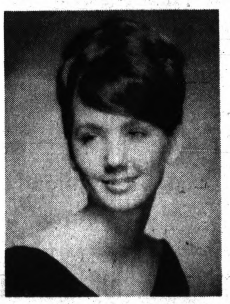

The event is sponsored by the Ninety-Nines, holding its international convention at Van Nuys Airport.

The women's flying group was founded by aviatrix Amelia Earhart. At the first meeting, 99 pilots showed up and from that developed the group's name.

★ ★ ★

The winners will be determined by their ground speeds. Handicaps are issued before the race and winners won't be known until all planes have crossed the finish line.

Deadline, however, is midnight, July 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Coram of Long Point Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Janet, to Ronald W. McCollum. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCollum of Monroe. The bride elect and her fiance are seniors at Michigan State University.

Shut All Windows---Musician at Work; Some Day Your Suffering Will End

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a 10-year-old boy living next door to us who has just started taking violin lessons. Now that summer is here, we keep all our windows open, and we can hear this kid practicing night and day. I have heard "Santa Lucia" for two weeks now, and there hasn't been any improvement.

ABBY

I saw his father in the yard and said, "Your Joey sure practices a lot. I hear him night and day."

Joey's father said, "Don't complain. You are getting a concert for free. One day you will have to pay for a ticket to hear him."

I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings, but this Joey is making me crazy with his violin. Any suggestions?

THE MAN NEXT DOOR

DEAR MAN: If "mother love is blind," father love is deaf, so buy an air conditioner and keep your windows closed during the summer until it's time to "buy that ticket."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to your column I realized that I wasn't the only woman in the world who was married to a man who had "lost interest" in her at a much too early age.

I tried all the tricks. Trimmed myself down, new clothes, new hair-do. I even fell for that bit about blondes having more fun. (They don't. They just have bigger beauty parlor bills.) I teased and flirted and even begged. At first I felt cheap, then humiliated. Then I finally realized that there was nothing wrong with ME, it was HIM. I asked him to try to get to the root of his problem, but he insisted that he had no problem.

So that is where things stand. If he won't get help, there's nothing I can do. It's helped me a lot to be able to "talk" about it. And as you know, a lady doesn't talk to her friends about things like this. Thanks for being you.

"A LADY"

DEAR "LADY": I received many letters from both husbands and wives who are married to icebergs, cold tomatoes, etc. Emotional temperatures differ. It's too bad these glaciers don't marry each other.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have two sons. One is 15 and the other is 14. My neighbor has two daughters. One is 15 and the other is 13. My husband works nights, and I work days. The problem is that our two boys like the neighbor girls. They are nice girls from a good family, but when we are gone, the sisters will come over to see our boys. They don't date or anything like that because we feel they are too young.

But now that it's summer vacation, the girls have been spending a lot of time here, and I don't think it's right with no adults at home. Besides, you know how neighbors gossip.

How do I tell these girls not to come here unless my husband or I are home?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You shouldn't tell the girls anything. Tell your sons that they aren't to have the girls in the house unless you are home.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Chapel Scene of Vows

St. Dunstan's Chapel of Christ Church, Cranbrook, was the setting recently for vows exchanged by Janice Eleanore Jablonski and John W. Paige Jr.

The bridegroom is the son of the senior Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paige of Birmingham. Parents of the bride, who feted the couple at a dinner reception at their Detroit home, are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jablonski.

★ ★ ★

The junior Paiges will make their home in Madison Heights following their return from a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan.

Family and friends will join the Harold Foots Sunday for an open house honoring the Dryden couple who marked their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. The affair, which will be hosted by sons Leslie, Bernard and Ardis of Dryden and Dayton of Warren, will be held at the Dryden Methodist Church from 2-5 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Foot, who were married in Lapeer, have 14 grandchildren.

Insurance Agents' Strike Apparently Stalemated

A strike by insurance agents against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. now appears to be at a stalemate, according to company and union sources.

In the Pontiac area, the strike, which began May 20, affects some 15 members of the chapter of the Insurance Workers International Union (IWIU). The office is at 1007 W. Huron.

Bargaining reportedly broke off last week. At issue is whether the insurance company will be allowed to take disciplinary action against members of the union for their conduct during the strike.

An IWIU spokesman claimed the inserting of this issue in the contract negotiations has placed an obstacle in the way of settlement. Allowing this would be "intolerable," the spokesman claimed, saying the company introduced the proposal only to prolong the strike and further punish the members economically.

SPOKESMAN DISAGREES

A spokesman for the Metropolitan firm at the regional office in Detroit disagreed with the union's interpretation of their action. He said, "Company and union committees met from June 25 until June 29 when negotiations broke off with no agreement being reached.

"A major obstacle appears to be the company's refusal to agree to the union's condition that no action be taken against any agent because of alleged misconduct, although the company is willing to arbitrate any termination for misconduct during the strike."

* * *

The spokesman said the company was only interested in attempting to rid itself of agents who had flouted the law during the strike in incidents which involved window-breaking and other acts of vandalism against the company.

Each case would be subject to all legal procedures available in labor dispute cases, the spokesman said.

PONTIAC AREA

It was not indicated by either party whether or not any Pontiac area agents would have dismissal charges brought against him when and if a settlement is reached.

Some 11,000 IWIU members are involved nationwide.

Meeting Is Monday in City Negotiations

A meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Monday between city officials, representatives of three different employe groups and state labor mediator Leonard Bennett in an effort to reach accord on unresolved contract terms.

The city is presently negotiating with the local fire fighters union, the Pontiac Police officers Association, about noneconomic matters, and the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association, nonsupervisory office personnel, about economic and noneconomic terms.

* * *

Fire fighters and the PPOA approved new pay raises in February.

Bennett said he is optimistic that the meeting Monday will bring accord on unresolved terms.

City Gets Cash to Study Waste

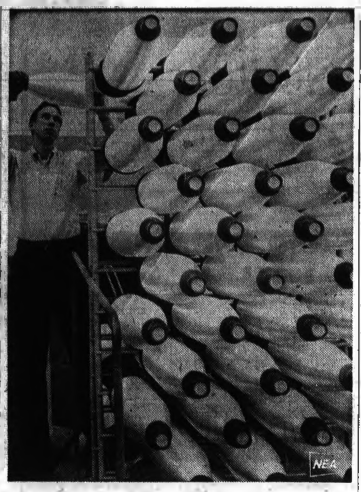

The Department of Interior has awarded Pontiac a $160,842 grant for research at the city's waste-treatment plant on Opdyke north of Auburn, Sen. Philip A. Hart announced today.

The grant will enable the city and federal government to engage in waste removal techniques designed to remove phosphates from the water before it is pumped into the Clinton River.

Present systems of waste treatment used by most municipalities do not remove most phosphates from the water and they are subsequently infused into existing waterways.

Phosphates contribute to the pollution of lakes, rivers and streams by providing nutrients for algae and other plant life which take oxygen from the water.

The grant will enable the government to determine if new techniques are feasible.

NEW LINES — They may look like bombs, but they're not. They are bobbins full of fiber glass yarn, ready for shipment to textile plants.

Euromart Unit OKs French Safeguards

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Executive Commission of the European Common Market has granted France's request for safeguard clauses to protect its steel industries, despite objections from other members.

The Euromart commission granted all French requests, including import restrictions and export rebates — both for a limited period.

The quota system will go into effect Monday until Dec. 31, and monthly quotas can be carried forward.

The French sought the safeguards in the wake of the May-June social upheaval that brought economic difficulties.

CAN LIMIT IMPORTS

The commission's approval means France can limit imports from its Common Market partners to 362,900 tons of regular steel products and 14,100 tons specialized steel products.

France was told not to discriminate among the partners and take previous deliveries into account.

* * *

France can restrict its imports from nonmember countries, including the United States, to 10,750 tons of regular steel products plus 2,250 tons of specialized steel products. No quotas were set for French imports from Communist and other state-trading countries. France trades with these countries under long-term bilateral agreements.

Promotions, Transfers for State Police

Cpl. Charles A. Clark of the Michigan State Police Post in Pontiac has been promoted to sergeant and assigned as commander of the Lapeer Post, it was announced today.

Clark, who has been with the department for over 20 years, succeeds Sgt. Raymond A. Dedenbach, who has been named a staff sergeant and assigned to command the Brighton Post.

CLARK

WILTSE

* * *

The promotions become effective July 21.

Clark has been stationed in Pontiac since 1964, the year after he was promoted to corporal. Dedenbach has headed the Lapeer post since 1966.

The promotion of Trooper Dorr N. Wiltse Jr. of Ionia to corporal and his assignment to Pontiac also was announced.

State Trooper From City Quits

A Michigan State Trooper from Pontiac who was responsible for the department reducing the workweek has resigned to take a job with the secretary of state in Detroit.

The resignation of Trooper Charles Weber, a 12½-year veteran of the department, is effective today. Weber is the son of Mrs. Jessie Weber of 9 Canal.

In 1962, Weber challenged and won his grievance through the State Civil Service Commission over a policy which had troopers working a six-day week but being paid for only five.

The workweek was reduced from six to five days, or from two days off every 10 days to four days off for every 10 days. The extended weekend is often referred to by troopers as the "Weber Weekend."

* * *

Weber cited "departmental reasons" for resigning but declined to give any further explanation.

He had spent most of his time as a trooper at the New Buffalo and Romeo posts. It was while stationed in Romeo that he challenged the workweek.

News in Brief

Eight windows valued at about $220 were smashed by rock-throwing vandals at Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Arlene, city police were told late yesterday.

EAGLE PUTT — U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino watches the ball as it heads for the hole and an eagle-3 on the 491-yard, par-5 13th hole at Warwick Hills during the second round of the Buick Open yesterday. Trevino carded a 68 for a 138 total after 36 holes and a one-stroke lead over Julius Boros.

Irate Bill Freehan Takes Aim, Too

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers catcher Bill Freehan, who is swinging the hottest home run bat in the American League at the moment, is plenty burned up.

The big catcher slammed a pair of three-run homers Friday night to pace the Tigers to an 8-5 win over the Oakland A's but he was still steaming about a pitch that hit him on the right shoulder in the fourth inning.

"I'm not trying to start a fuss, but I think it is about time something was done to protect the hitters," he said.

HOMER STREAK

Freehan's two home run blasts raised his season total to 14 and brought to five the number of round trippers he hit during the Tigers' current five-game winning streak.

* * *

"I thank God that the pitch did not hit me on the head for I have some kiddies who want to see their daddy come home at night," said Freehan.

"I'm not saying Catfish (A's pitcher Jim Hunter) threw at me deliberately," he said, "I talked with (Umpire Cal) Drummond about it later in the game and he said the A's were trying to pitch to me high and inside and that the pitch got away and bounced off my shoulder."

It marked the 12th time this season that Freehan was hit and he said wryly, "I don't want to equal last season when I was hit 20 times."

* * *

Freehan said, "I don't know why I have been hit so often but I do think it is strange to see a fellow hit one or two home runs and then get hit."

URGES TOUGH POLICY

The Tigers catcher urged that umpires adopt a tougher attitude towards pitchers. "I think there ought to be an immediate fine, not $50 or so, but $500 imposed right on the spot on a pitcher who throws at a batter."

* * *

"I have been catching quite a while and I know that pitchers sometimes get mad and try to shake a batter a little loose from the plate, but I am absolutely opposed to throwing at a batter's head," Freehan said.

"My view is that if the umpires do not fine these pitchers, the players are going to take things into their own hands. Some day a batter who has been hit will get real irritated and go out and hit a pitcher with a bat," Freehan said.

NOT NECESSARY

"I don't agree that deliberately throwing at batters is a way of baseball life," he added.

Freehan said the threat of being hit by a pitch bothers most hitters. "But if you get shy and don't dig right in at the plate you will never get a hit and you might as well go out and buy yourself a shovel and get a job as a ditch digger or something," the hard-hitting receiver said.

* * *

Freehan noted there was an earlier fuss this year between the Tigers and A's over a couple of hit batsmen but he added, "Neither I nor anyone else on the Tigers has anything against the A's."

The Tigers sent Earl Wilson (6-5) against the A's in a televised second game of the series today with Chuck Dobson (5-8) due for Oakland.

LONG BLOWS

Freehan's two homers last night carried well over 400 feet into the left centerfield stands. The first came off loser Jim Hunter (6-7) and the second off relief pitcher Ken Sanders.

The rain-delayed game had barely got underway before Dick McAuliffe and Mickey Stanley opened the Tigers first with back-to-back singles. Jim Northrup fouled out but Norm Cash singled McAuliffe home. Freehan then hit his first three run blast of the night and the Tigers were off and running with a 4-0 lead.

Mickey Lolich (7-4) pitched hitless ball until Reggie Jackson greeted him with a homer, his 11th, to lead off the A's third.

WERT IN ACTON

Don Wert singled home a run in the fourth and the Tigers got their final three runs in the fifth as Freehan delivered after Northrup had doubled and Willie Horton had walked.

BIG BLOW — Catcher Bill Freehan crosses home plate and gets congratulations from teammates following the first of his two three-run homers against the Oakland A's in Detroit last night. Welcoming Bill home after he belted his first one in the opening inning are Mickey Stanley and Norman Cash (25), who were on base when Bill connected. Moving up for a turn at bat is Tigers' Tom Matchick (2).

Trevino Holds Buick Open Lead

Boros Trailing Laughing Lee by One Stroke

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC—Outside of politics, Lee Trevino is just about the most popular Texan around.

The talented, talkative Trevino, who is wooing golf fans with his Texas charm, is making his first visit to Grand Blanc for the $125,000 Buick Open and it just might be a successful trip.

* * *

Trevino, who hit the jackpot with his victory in the U.S. Open last month, held a one-shot lead as a trimmed-down field headed into the third round of the 11th annual Buick tournament this morning over the 7,001-yard Warwick Hills Country Club layout.

SIX BELOW PAR

The 28-year-old Mexican-American fashioned a four-under-par 68 yesterday to go with an opening round 70 for a 36-hole total of 138, six under par.

* * *

Sitting just a stroke off the pace is 48-year-old Julius Boros, the defending champion who is bidding for his third title in this event. Boros carded a 69 yesterday after an opening 70.

Sharing the third spot with four-under-par 140s was the threesome of Tom Weiskopf, the Ohioan who is No. 2 on this year's money list; Fred Marti, 26, a product of University of Houston; and Johnny Stevens of Wichita, Kan.

LEADERS FADE

Californians Butch Baird and Rod Funseth, who set the pace Thursday with opening 68s, faded in the second round. Baird added a 77 to his 68 for a 145, while Funseth remained in contention with a 141.

* * *

Also at 141 was 32-year-old Johnny Pott, who has won more than $30,000 in these Buick tournaments.

DOUBLE BOGEY

Playing with Trevino, Pott had a chance to share the lead or pull within a stroke but he ran into a tree problem on the par-5, No. 7 and collected a double bogey.

* * *

The fans love Trevino and the young man, who was a $30 a week pro aide two years ago, responds with smiles and small talk for the gallerites.

* * *

"Winning the Open gave me confidence," he was saying yesterday after moving into the lead, "and having the crowd behind you helps."

WET GREENS HELP

Trevino said the wet greens—dampened by a Thursday night rain—helped his game. "I was putting better, and the greens held real well. The greens have to be wet for me. I hit low iron shots but they held today. On hard greens, I wouldn't have a chance against anybody.

* * *

"In Texas, we played on black mud. When it got hard you couldn't get a club through it. You just pick the ball clean. After I started playing on grass, I almost lost the ball I hit it so high."

BAGS EAGLE

Playing the back nine first, Trevino rammed home a seven-foot putt for a

AP Says LA Lakers Have Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia 76ers' brilliant but stormy center who fashioned the dunk shot into a modern-day sports legend, has been traded to the Los Angeles Lakers for three players and cash, the Associated Press has learned.

Chamberlain, greatest offensive player in National Basketball Association history, was dealt to the West Coast team for center Darrall Imhoff, guard Archie Clark and forward Jerry Chambers. The amount of cash involved was not disclosed.

FILLS COACH POST

It also was learned Friday that Jack Ramsay, 76ers' general manager for three years, was chosen as the new coach to fill the post vacated by Alex Hannum. Hannum, only coach to lead the team to an NBA title, resigned recently to go with the Oakland club of the rival American Baketball Association.

* * *

While the Lakers hope to mold a championship team out of a covey of superstars—Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Chamberlain—the 76ers received a solid guard in Clark, a sturdy defensive center in Imhoff and a potentially-good forward in Chambers.

GOOD IN BACKCOURT

Clark, 26, in his third year, is a superb backcourt man known for his speed and scoring ability. He is acknowledged by some to be the quickest guard in the NBA.

* * *

Imhoff, 29, though not a great shooter, is a standout defensive center who grabs about 1,000 rebounds a year. He is an eight year veteran.

Chambers, 24, in his second year, is known for his good eye from the field and foul line.

The trade was expected to be announced next Monday or Tuesday. But Chamberlain, contacted in San Francisco Friday night by the Los Angeles Times, said there will be no announcement concerning him on either of those days because he hopes to meet with 76er owner Irv Kosloff at that time and "wind up my business or settle it with the 76ers." He added:

WILT MAY BALK

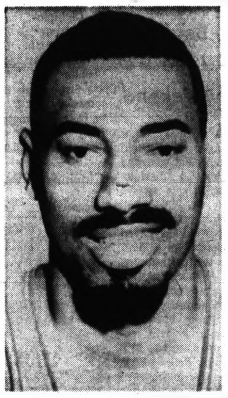

"There can be no trade involving me without my permission.

"I do like the West Coast and expect to wind up here. I don't know right now exactly where I will wind up, but I think I'm going to make a move."

Ramsay admitted the 76ers were having trouble signing the record-breaking 7-foot-1 star— as is the case every year.

* * *

"If you're looking for odds," Ramsay said, "I'd have to say that they were not in favor of us signing him. And if we didn't sign him ... we'd have to find another solution."

Two Pros Score With Solo Shots

GRAND BLANC — A couple of pros picked up new Buicks with single shots yesterday during the second round of the $125,000 Buick Open at Warwick Hills.

Roger VanDyke, 27, head pro at Flint Golf Club and cousin of television comedian Dick VanDyke, aced the 185-yard 17th hole early in the day. It was the third of his career and second in eight days. The ace didn't help, however, as he failed to survive the cut with his 157.

The other hole-in-one shooter was Dow Finsterwald, who cashed in on the 191-yard 17th with a 4-iron. Two holes later, Finsterwald bagged an eagle-3 on the 491-yard 13th.

With his ace and eagle, Finsterwald managed a 31 on the back nine, a feat equalled during the day by Masqn Rudolph, to tie the record held by Don Fairfield and Cary Middlecoff.

Rudolph collected six birdies, five in a row during his 31.

Mays, Mantle Named to Captain All Stars Tuesday in Houston

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees were chosen today as captains of their All-Star squads for Tuesday night's midsummer classic in Houston.

* * *

National League Manager Red Schoendienst of St. Louis and American League Manager Dick Williams of Boston picked Mays and Mantle because of their outstanding performances in past All-Star games. It was the first time All-Star captains were chosen.

Mays, making his seventh All-Star appearance, has an over-all batting average of .335 in the games with three home runs and nine runs batted in. His 19 runs scored and 22 hits are All-Star records.

* * *

Mantle, selected for the 16th time, has an All-Star average of .238 but two of his 10 hits have been home runs.

Mrs. King Retains Wimbledon Crown

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean King became the first player in 14 years to win three straight Wimbledon titles when she defeated Judy Tegart of Australia today for the women's crown in the first All-England Open Tennis Championships. The score was 9-7, 7-5.

The Long Beach, Calif., housewife won the title in 1966 and 1967 as an amateur. She turned professional in April.

The last player to win three Wimbledon titles in a row was Maureen "Little Mo" Connally, 1952-1954.

The first Open Wimbledon Tennis Tournament, starring the world's highest paid professionals, could end up today with two unsung Russians winning a title for the sheer pleasure of it.

Alexander Metreveli and Olga Morezova were battling for the mixed doubles crown, the first Russians ever to reach a Wimbledon final.

FACING AUSSIES

The pair faced Australian amateurs Ken Fletcher and Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, winners of the title three times in the last five years.

The Soviet pair, toppled two professionals, Fred Stolle of Australia and Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 6-3, 12-10 in the semifinals Friday.

* * *

Metreveli, 24, had previously caused an upset in the men's singles by eliminating veteran Los Angeles pro Pancho Gonzales.

Metreveli later fell to Dennis Ralston, the Bakersfield, Calif., pro, but Metreveli and Miss Morezova, 17, downed Gonzales and another pro, Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, on their way to the semifinals.

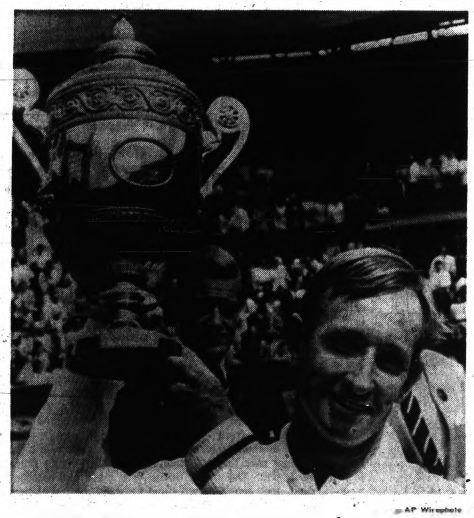

LAVER TRIUMPHS

Rod Laver won the men's title Friday by defeating fellow Australian pro Tony Roche 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Laver, who last won Wimbledon in 1962 before turning pro, picked up $4,800 dollars.

"This was the greatest thrill of my tennis career," Laver said.

Later Mrs. King and Miss Casals were scheduled to meet Mrs. Jones and Francoise Durr of France in an all-pro women's doubles final.

Pension Boost Lone NFL Snag

By The Associated Press

Only one demand seems to be preventing settlement of the feud between the National Football League Players Association and NFL club owners.

After days of rumors, NFL players Friday, for the first time openly, threatened to strike unless their demands for a pension plan are met.

'APPROPRIATE ACTION'

John Gordy, all-pro offensive guard with the Detroit Lions and players association president, said in a statement, "As long as the owners refuse to resolve the pension problems, we have no choice but to take appropriate action."

* * *

Another players' spokesman said appropriate action meant a strike.

Howard Mudd of the San Francisco 49ers, said, "The offer on the owners' part is not satisfactory. Our demand is not unreasonable."

MIDLAND PLAYER

Mudd spoke to Don Yehl of the Midland, Mich., Daily News in a telephone interview from his home in Redwood City, Calif. Mudd played prep football in Midland.

Mathews Has Surgery

DETROIT (AP) — Eddie Mathews of the Detroit Tigers was reported in satisfactory condition Friday night following surgery in a Detroit hospital.

Mathews, traded last year to Detroit from Houston, was treated for a herniated lumbar disc, an affliction of the lower back.

Redskins Trade Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, in a National Football League deal, sent defensive-back Paul Krause to the Minnesota Vikings for tight end Marlin McKeever Friday night.

Bosox 'Hawk' Puts Pressure on Pitchers

By The Associated Press

Any doves among American League pitchers had better beware. The Hawk is on the warpath whenever he picks up a bat.

Ken "Hawk" Harrelson made believers of the Minnesota Twins Friday night as he unloaded a three-run first inning homer, powering the Boston Red Sox to a fifth straight victory, 4-2.

In other American League action, Cleveland topped California 5-1, the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 4-2, the New York Yankees nipped Baltimore 2-1 and the high-flying Detroit Tigers belted the Athletics 8-5.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not exactly thinking more, but I certainly am concentrating more than in the past," Harrelson said. "I just hope we can keep it up and can do my share."

TOP HITTER

As the American League's leading hitter and RBI man, Harrelson is doing more than his share. On the trade block until Tony Conigliaro was sidelined by an eye injury just before the start of the season, Harrelson is carrying the lead with 17 homers and 60 RBIS.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know where we'd be without him," Boston Manager Dick Williams said. "He gives us solid punch in the cleanup spot behind Carl Yastrzemski in the batting order. And he's also doing a darn good job for us in right field."

SPARKS TRIBE

Larry Brown drove in three runs with three singles as the Indians waited through two rain delays to beat the Angeles. Don Mincher hit his eighth homer for California, which put two men on with two out in the ninth before Stan Williams replaced Sonny Siebert and got the final out. Siebert now is 9-5.

Mrs. Berning Improves Women's Open Golf Lead

READING, Pa. — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning, a mere wisp of a gal, is the leader heading into today's third round of the U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship, but it took a soft-spoken blonde to sum up what really happened in Friday's second round.

"It's a humbling game, gentlemen," said Mickey Wright, recognized by many golf experts as the greatest woman golfer of her time.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright had just completed a miserable round over the troublesome 6,232-yard Moselem Golf Club Course. She hit a ball out of bounds, sent shots flying over 8 greens, took a penalty when her ball moved off a spike mark on a green, putted as a spectator dropped a pocketbook in a bunker, and failed to card a birdie.

★ ★ ★

She wound up with a seven-over-par 40-38—78 and a two-round total of 148, six strokes behind Mrs. Berning, a 113-pounder, who increased her lead over the field of 57 pros and 41 amateurs despite a faltering three-bogey finish.

Mrs. Berning shot a 36-37— 73 for a 36-hole total of 14, four strokes better than Mrs. Murle Lindstrom. 29-year-old mother of two, and 1962 Open champion.

Veteran Defender With 49ers

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Veteran George Rose is expected to strengthen the San Francisco 49er's defensive secondary, but the 49ers have given up veteran tight end Monty Stickles to get him.

The 49ers said Friday night that the New Orleans Saints have offered Rose for Stickles with the trade contingent on Stickles signing with the Saints rather than retiring.

Big Bat Binge Sends Walters on Top of List

City Men's Baseball Slates Four Games Sunday at Jaycee

One of the hottest hitting surges in city Class A League history has thot catcher Dennie Walters of Pass Excavating into the men's baseball league individual hitting lead.

The backstop has reached base nine consecutive times including seven singles and two walks — in his last three games to jump ahead of Santos Sanchez with a .542 average.

The Clippers' star improved his home run and runs batted in position, now leading the league in both departments. Walters also improved his rbi count, driving in six in his last two games to stand second overall.

Undefeated M.G. Collision's standout mound duo of Jack McCloud and Walt Miller continues to dominate the pitching statistics, and three of their teammates rank among the best five hitters.

The Class A schedules resumes tomorrow with four games at Jaycee Park.

Duke Gridders Appeal Punishment

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Appeals are pending in a cheating scandal at Duke University involving some key members of the football team, a university spokesman said Friday.

The spokesman, who declined to reveal identities and many other details, said "most and perhaps all" of the 13 students involved had filed appeals.

PUNISHMENT VARIES

They had been given punishments ranging from probation to suspension after hearings, the spokesman said.

He said it might be several weeks before decisions are made on the appeals.

The students, all of them apparently athletes, were accused of submitting term papers written for them by their coed tutors.

TWO GRIDDERS

Two of these involved were identified Thursday by the Raleigh News and Observer as members of the football team—tailback Pete Schafer and fullback Jay Calabrese.

The newspaper said Schafer's father told it by telephone from Ramsey, N.J., that Schafer had been suspended until the spring semester of 1969.

★ ★ ★

The elder Schafer said a Duke coed who helped Schafer with term papers "squealed on Pete and all the other boys because Pete wouldn't lend her his car," the newspaper reported.

Trying Pays Off

After 46 years of trying, Joseph Brennan of Birmingham made it in the hole-in-one column.

Playing at Pine Lake Wednesday, Brennan, 71, a retired Ford executive, aced the 172-yard 17th with a 3-iron.

Huge Leads Ruin Races

Tigers, St. Louis Aid Split

NEW YORK (AP) — When the St. Louis Cardinals and Detroit Tigers sped past the traditional July 4 milestone with 8½-game leads, maybe it was time for the major leagues to think about going to that division system. Like, right away.

On the morning of July 5, the magic number for the Cards was 76 and for the Tigers 75. Unless somebody trips the front runners soon, the commissioner might as well call in the two clubs and set the World Series dates.

★ ★ ★

The American League, of course, has decided to split into two six-club divisions in 1969 when it adds Seattle and Kansas City. The National League voted to add San Diego and Montreal but decided to go along with one big 12-club league.

Under the urging of the executive council, Commissioner William Eckert has called the two leagues to meet in Houston next Wednesday, the day after the All-Star game. The National is under pressure to follow the American's lead and split into two divisions.

Just for the sake of argument, let's suppose the National League decides to go for an East-West split along geographical grounds. This is a most unlikely possibility but it could happen.

★ ★ ★

Lumping the Eastern teams into one group, the National would have Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York, Atlanta, Cincinnati and the new Monreal entry. The Western loop would include San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, St. Louis and, of course, San Diego.

The American League has already announced its realignment.

If the four-divisional setup were in effect this season, this is how the races would have looked after July 4th:

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

What do you do with the South cards? If you are the type player who does not bid at all with these 10 high card points you will pass throughout.

JACOBY

If you are the type who likes to compete when you have a good suit and aren't vulnerable you will overcall the opening one spade with some number of diamonds.

South liked to compete. In addition he and his partner were playing preemptive jump overcalls so South jumped to three diamonds.

East-West vulnerable

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	3 ♦	4 ♠	5 ♦
6 ♠	7 ♦	Dble	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ A

West's hike to four spades showed a good hand and North had enough to warrant raising his partner to five diamonds. North did not think that South would make this contract but he was sure that East would make his four spades.

At this point East decided to jam his nonvulnerable opponents. He didn't really think that he could bring home a spade slam.

He was pretty sure that the defense would collect a diamond trick right off the bat and probably a club trick later on. East didn't really care. He was pretty sure that a six-spade call would bring out a seven-diamond bid by South.

Let's get back to the first paragraph. What would you do as South?

If you have looked at all the cards you will have seen that East is not going to make his contract. You wouldn't actually double since you aren't supposed to have seen the cards but you would pass and let East struggle.

If you haven't looked at all the cards you should still pass. You told your story when you bid three diamonds.

Let your partner decide whether to pass or to take the save. He will have a tough problem but will probably pass on the theory that if East really thought he could make six spades East would not have jumped there but would have allowed himself to be pushed.

★ ★ ★

This last is academic. When this hand was played South went right to seven diamonds and paid off 900 points for going down five tricks doubled.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A 4 ♥ K Q 10 9 8 ♦ K J 6 5 ♣ K 8

What do you do now?

A—Bid two hearts. With your diamond fit you should force to game immediately.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid two hearts and your partner bids two no-trump. What do you do now?

THE BETTER HALF

"We did better than every today—made it to the 14th hole before it got dark."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Sunday

"The wise mind controls its destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Stress spiritual unfoldment, expansion of interests. Avoid the pitfall of overcaution, tendency to be narrow in view. Fine for special journey, including vacation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Aid received from generous friend. Be specific in stating needs. Err on side of modesty — be frank. If you are forthright, others respond in splendid manner.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You are able to get across point to family member. Be receptive to response. Family harmony can result today from intelligent give-and-take. Find out the way of things — analyze.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Practical matters concerning relatives are apt to dominate. Be firm to make gesture of conciliation. Don't argue needlessly. Remember resolutions concerning diet? Start.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Creative efforts lead to profit, emotional and otherwise. Express yourself. Fine for participating in activity with children. Face issues as they exist. Avoid self-deception.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your sense of security is heightened. Show that you are capable of handling responsibility. Cooperate with family members. Be especially alert concerning property affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Accent on visits, short journeys. One who helped you in past now asks favor in return. Adhere to principles of golden rule. Gain indicated through spiritual advice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Welcome contacts; give and you also receive. Obtain hint from LIBRA message. Break through to new areas — be creative and original. Money question can be resolved — talk it out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Solid results from efforts indicated. Aim toward the new. Shake off any tendency toward lethargy. New hope should bring optimism. Many look to you as example — be a good one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be flexible. Some behind the scenes put you to test. If stubborn, you lose face. If versatile, you gain friends, allies. Travel could figure prominently. Read and write. Be creative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Friendly advice today is more valuable than you might imagine. Be observant and a good listener. Welcome opportunity to attend social gathering — it could result in a meaningful relationship.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Agreements reached which help make you feel more secure. Fine for rediscovering loved ones. Communicate innuendo, tactless idiom. Self-expression is key to a successful day.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are introspective, interested in religion and history, would make fine science researcher. You now are going through period of preparation. Don't be in too much of a hurry.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar position makes this a good fishing day. Cycle high for SAGITTARIUS, CAPRICORN and AQUARIUS. Special word to LEO: discern your own motives. Find out what it is you really desire.

For Monday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Get correspondence out of way during early afternoon hour. Study written material. Later, career is emphasized. Your ambitions are crystallized. Be thorough in approach. Avoid carelessness.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Be ready for changes. Communication received may cause you to revise conditions, policies. Some financial pressure is lifted if you get at the facts early.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Financial discussion may be necessary. You could become involved with one who invests in unusual project. Be fair but firm. Be certain you are getting money's worth.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Give consideration to opposing position. Creative thinking includes ability to change your mind. Go with the flow. Don't permit stubbornness to ruin opportunity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You may have to provide accounting for expenses. Have facts at hand. Display ability to accept responsibility. Romantic interests continue in spotlight.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Finish projects. Don't rush into new project. Be sympathetic toward one who confides problem. Study LEO message. Be aware of financial standing. Check accounts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Stress independence to thought, action. Welcome new starts in new directions. Highlight originality. Don't play follow the leader — do your own thinking. Arrive at valid conclusions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Tonight, an evening with family close to home base is advisable. Serious discussion of aims, aspirations proves of value. Your hunches tend to pay off. Follow through on inner feeling.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Accent on personal possessions. Cycle remains high. You can make financial transaction which is successful. You hear of genuine bargain during recess from routine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Take initiative. Meet people, go places and do things. Obtain hint from LEO(!) message. Mingle socially. Improve appearance. Many will be listening and watching.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Activity tonight should be confined to groups which claim your interests. Motives don't go too far afield. Certain amount of privacy is necessary. Above all, be discreet.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Tonight fine for socializing. You come out of period of blues. Show appreciation meaning. Home who stuck with you during time of difficulty. Entertainment at home fills the bill.

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have knack of handling financial projects. Would make fine investment adviser. You are loyal to family and home, very talented in the culinary arts. Social life has recently improved — more to come.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar position good for fishing. Cycle high for SAGITTARIUS, CAPRICORN, AQUARIUS. Special word to VIRGO: romantic interests continue to dominate the scene.

Econo-Lining will last 1 year or 10,000 miles.	O.E. Quality Lining will last 2 years or 20,000 miles.	Premium Master-Balanced Quality will last 3 years or 30,000 miles.

Prices for Chevrolet, Plymouth, Ford, Dodge, and all U. S. Compacts. Others slightly higher.

Here's what you get...Here's what we do!

- Rugged lining that meets G.S.A. minimum brake lining standards.
- All new lining, and new or completely reconditioned brake shoes installed by trained brake specialists.
- Free brake adjustment at 1500 and 5000 miles.
- REPLACE all old linings on both front and rear wheels.
- CLEAN and INSPECT brake drums for perfect roundness.
- Inspect entire hydraulic system (cylinders, lines and hoses) for possible leaks and cracks.
- Inspect front wheel grease retainers for leaks; clean, inspect and repack front wheel bearings.
- Inspect brake shoe return springs for tension and balance.
- Add heavy duty brake fluid and road test.
- Adjust brakes on all four wheels for full even contact with brake drums.

IT MUST BE RIGHT OR WE MAKE IT RIGHT

Goodyear-installed brake lining is available in three grades — good, better and our best.

If the Goodyear installed brake lining should wear out before the time or mileage (whichever comes first) as listed above for the grade you purchase (and upon surrender of the original invoice) we will supply new linings of the same grade at no charge. You pay only for the cost of installation.

Sid Caesar guests as a drunken comedian who appears in a television commercial with Marlo Thomas on Channel 7's "That Girl" Thursday, at 9 p.m.

12 Survivors Form Girl Singing Group for 'Golddiggers'

Over 400 girls tried out and 12 were selected.

The lucky and talented 12 make up the all-girl singing group, the Golddiggers, who are featured on NBC Television Network's "Dean Martin presents the Golddiggers" (Thursdays, 10-11 p.m.) Joey Heatherton and Frank Sinatra Jr. star in the summer variety series.

* * *

Audition requirements for the Golddiggers were that the girls be 18 to 22 and able to sing and dance. Good looks were important, too. Producer-director Greg Garrison wanted the fresh, young look — girls who sparkled with the exuberance of youth.

It took Garrison, music director Lee Hale, and production assistant Janet Tighe three weeks of intensive auditions to pare the group down to the 12 lovelies who made the "team."

* * *

The girls performed so well during the taping of the summer series that Garrison and Hale formed them into a company. They have already performed at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas and are booked solidly for the summer at various state fairs.

We are Pontiac area young people . . . ranging in age from 16 to 21. We have listed our work qualifications with Youthpower, Inc., a non-profit organization which helps young people find the summer jobs which we often need to continue our education. Youthpower is sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Area Jaycees and Manpower of Pontiac, Inc.

Our application cards are on file in the Youthpower office. When you call and place an order for a young person to work at your home or business, the volunteers who staff Youthpower check the files and find the best qualified young person closest to the job.

As soon as a job is available for us, Youthpower calls and asks us to contact you, the employer, and arrange for an interview.

Youthpower is really a very simple, clearing house type operation. It's designed to save you, the employer, the expense of running an advertisement, and the time of interviewing dozens of young people who do not have the exact qualification you want.

If only everyone would find just one job . . . full time, part time or one time only . . . that could be handled by a young person, the summer unemployment problem would be solved.

Won't you please help us spend a worthwhile summer by calling

Youthpower today?

YFC Quiz Set for Sunday

Hillcrest Nazarene Church on Walton Boulevard will host the Youth for Christ "singspiration" tomorrow night from 9 to 10.

Highlight of the evening will be the YFC church quiz finals between Gingellville, Marimont and Silvercrest Baptist teams. Trophies will be awarded.

* * *

Special music will be presented by the YFC trumpet trio which recently placed second in the statewide Youth for Christ instrument group competition, accordionist Dennis Darch and other teen talent.

A film adaptation of the book, "In His Steps," will be shown at the Youth for Christ rally July 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

TRUMPET TRIO

The award-winning YFC trumpet trio again will be featured preceding the 70-minute Ken Anderson Films production. The trio is composed of Mike Bowman of Joslyn Avenue Presbyterian, Duane Moffitt of Gingellville Baptist and Fred Rieth of Sunnyvale Chapel.

* * *

In addition to the state award won by the trumpet trio, Pontiac area teens captured seven of the top positions in the Youth for Christ talent and quiz contests.

* * *

Larry Gavette or Marimont Baptist Church placed first in the song leader contest, winning an opportunity to compete next week in the national competition at Winona Lake, Ind.

* * *

Mike Bowman placed second in the trumpet solo contest.

PIANO SOLOIST

Winning second place in a field of 14 piano soloists was Gail Strader of Waterford Community Church. Gail has been pianist for YFC programs for the past three years.

Third place winner among 17 girl soloists was Brenda Smith of Pontiac First Free Methodist.

* * *

More than 100 teens competed in the Bible quiz of the Gospel of John. High individual scores were earned by Charles Hopper of Gingellville Baptist and Lynanne Clark of Marimont Baptist. They were named to the state all-star senior and junior high quiz teams.

AWARD-WINNING TRIO—The Youth for Christ trumpet trio won second place in the trumpetal group division of the state Youth for Christ talent and quiz contests in June. The group (from left) Mike D. Bowman of 1925 Hopefield, Orion Township; Fred H. Rieth of 5145 Durnham, Waterford Township; and Duane Moffitt of 4090 Mill Lake, Lake Orion, will be featured at the YFC Singspiration tomorrow night and again at the YFC Rally on July 13.

Noted Ministers to Preach Sermons at Kirk in the Hills

Eight nationally known Protestant ministers and theologians will visit the Kirk in the Hills this summer to deliver guest sermons, according to the Rev. Dr. Harold C. DeWindt, minister of the Bloomfield Hills church.

* * *

Dr. Robert D. Swanson, president of Alma College, will launch the summer series tomorrow. The guest schedule will continue for nine Sundays through Sept. 1.

* * *

This marks the second time Dr. Swanson has visited the Kirk as guest preacher. A noted Presbyterian leader, he is a graduate of Park College and McCormick Theological Seminary, where he served as vice president before coming to Alma in 1956.

Dr. Swanson received his D.D. degree from James Milliken University and served as a chaplain with the Navy in the Pacific.

TWO SERVICES

In announcing the summer schedule, Dr. DeWindt noted that the Kirk will continue to hold two services each Sunday at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. In addition, the full Chancel Choir will sing at both services, and two sessions of the Kirk School will be held in the Abbey concurrently with the worship services.

Following Dr. Swanson's visit, the summer schedule will be:

July 14 — The Rev. Dr. Frederick B. Speakman, pastor of Westminister Church in Dayton, Ohio. Dr. Speakman, who was a guest preacher at the Kirk in 1960, is the author of "The Salty Tang" and "Love Is Something You Do."

July 21 and 28 — The Rev. George A. Buttrick, professor of preaching at the Garrett Theological Seminary, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

DR. ROBERT D. SWANSON

* * *

This is the 10th summer in a row Dr. Buttrick has visited the Kirk. He was formerly pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City, preacher to the University of Harvard and editor-in-chief of the 12-volume Interpreters' Bible.

* * *

Aug. 4 — The Rev. Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind.

Known for his ability as a speaker and as a writer, Dr. Trueblood is the author of 23 books, the latest being "General Philosophy," "The Humor of of Christ" and "The Lord's Prayers." He previously spoke at the Kirk in 1961 and 1966.

* * *

Aug. 11 — The Rev. Dr. Gene E. Bartlett, president of the Colgate Rochester Divinity School.

The nationally known author, lecturer, educator and preacher is making his fourth visit to the Kirk. Dr. Bartlett has served as president of the Theological Council of the American Baptist Convention and has conducted seminars on preaching in Berkeley, Chicago, St. Paul and Dallas.

* * *

Aug. 18 — The Rev. Dr. Ray H. Kiely, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Buffalo, N.Y.

* * *

Dr. Kiely is chairman of the Ministerial Relations committee of the Synod of New York, as well as chairman of the Ecumenical Committee and Committee on Church Union for 10 denominations in the western New York state area. He is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary and received an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis.

* * *

Aug. 25 — The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Sept. 1 — The Rev. Dr. Elmer Homrighausen, dean of Princeton Theological Seminary.

This will be the sixth summer that both the president and dean of one of the nation's outstanding theological institutions have visited the Kirk to deliver guest sermons.

FORMER PASTOR

Dr. McCord has been president of the Princeton Seminary since 1959, and was formerly pastor of the University Presbyterian Church in Austin, Tex., and professor of Bible at the University of Texas.

He has held several responsible positions in connection with the World Alliance of Reformed Church and served as chairman of the advisory committee on faith and order of the National Council of Churches.

* * *

Dr. Homrighausen has held the Charles R. Erman Chair of Pastoral Theology at Princeton since 1954. Author of several books, he is the cotranslator of several of Karl Barth's works and has preached in many American churches in foreign countries.

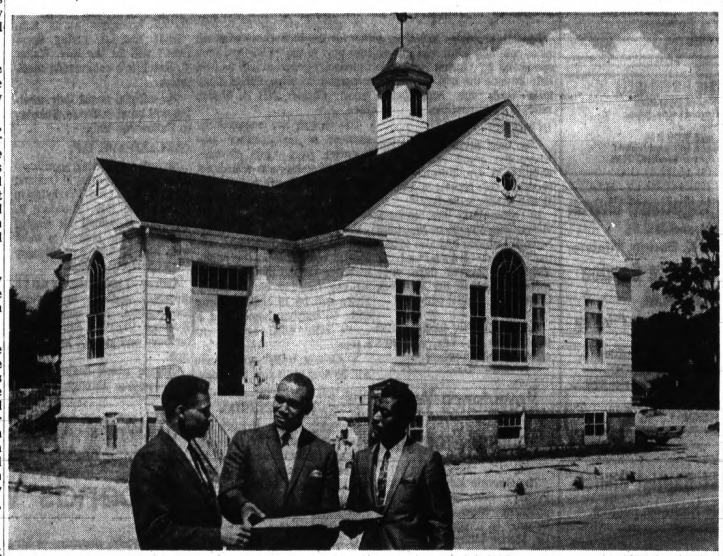

Dr. DeWindt will return to the Kirk Sept. 8, following several guest preaching visits in Toronto and New York.

Plan Musicale

The Gospel Classic Masonettes and Bright Stars of Detroit, Wandering Travelers of Pontiac and other vocal groups will be heard in a musical program at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Mt. Olive Baptist Church, 458 Central.

CHECK FOR CENTER — Stanley S. Kresge, board chairman of Kresge Foundation, presents a check for $12,000 to Pastor Elmer L. Malcolm for the Health and Welfare Center conducted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 156 University. Mrs. Rollin DeCamp of 1053 Oxford assists with the center.

REVIVAL STARTS — Looking over Bible Scripture lessons for the three-week revival beginning Monday are ministers of participating churches. The 7:30 p.m. services will be held the first week in Friendship Baptist Church, 96 Williams. The second week meetings are scheduled for Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, 95 Mariva; and the third week the revival in Bible Way Baptist Church, 188 E. East Blvd. Shown are (from left) the Rev. E. H. McDonald of Friendship Church, the Rev. J. J. Blackshere of Mt. Calvary, and the Rev. Charles Warren of Bible Way Church.

Union Creates New Church

Wesleyan Methodist, Pilgrim Holiness Join

The new Wesleyan Church has been created by the union of the Pilgrim Holiness and the Wesleyan Methodist churches. The local announcement is being made by the Rev. William Lyons, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church, 19 W. Fairmount.

The united denomination has a membership of 122,340 and a constituency based on Sunday school enrollment of 300,000.

* * *

Immediately following the action upon the declaration of union, approved unanimously by the 648 delegates, the conference proceeded to elect four general superintendents.

The new leaders are Dr. B. H. Phaup and Dr. V. A. Mitchell, former general superintendents of Wesleyan Methodist, and Dr. M. H. Snyder and the Rev. J. D. Abbott, former general superintendents of Pilgrim Holiness.

MISSIONARY PROGRAMS

The union brings together two denominations with outstanding missionary programs, the Rev. Mr. Lyons said. The Wesleyan Church has membership and missionaries in 30 nations on every continent.

The annual per capita giving of both former denominations exceeded $275, thus placing them among the five highest of all American church bodies.

Davisburg Church to Show Bee Film

The Davisburg Baptist Church, 12881 Andersonville, Springfield Township will show the latest Moody Institute of Science film, "City of the Bees," tomorrow night at 7.

* * *

The film seeks to help the viewer understand the highly developed language of the bees.

* * *

It has taken over 10 years of painstaking work with especially designed photographic equipment for the Moody Institute of Science staff to obtain the footage upon which "City of the Bees" is based.

Study Tour of Missions in Latin America

Linda McCulloch, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCulloch of 3828 Brookdale Lane, Waterford Township, has just completed a study tour of American Baptist missions in Latin America.

★ ★ ★

A senior at Waterford Township High School and a member of Bethany Baptist Church, Linda was one of 10 youths from the Detroit area who participated in the 12-day tour of El Salvador and Nicaragua.

★ ★ ★

Special projects, including a bake sale and a car wash, were sponsored by church groups to help finance the trip. Additional gifts from the congregation made the trip possible.

IN MIAMI

The tour started in Miami where the group received orientation by Dr. Edward Rapp, secretary of American Baptist Home Missions Society.

In Nicaragua, the students visited with President Anastasio Somoza Debayle and also toured the Baptist hospital at Managua. Several days were spent working at the Mt. Casa Colorado, a Baptist camp.

★ ★

In El Salvador, Linda visited the Colegio Bautista, a Baptist elementary-high school.

Providence Youth Sponsor Program

The Crusade for Christ Young People's Club will present a program titled "I have a Dream" in memory of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

★ ★

The program will include musical, selections and readings.

Richard Reese will sing "Precious Lord Take My Hand" and Mrs. Walter A. Richardson will give a dramatic reading.

Marshalyn and Marlyn Taylor will sing a duet.

The club is made up of young people of the Providence Church and children of the Howard McNeill Street neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

Catherine Corley and Betty Anderson of the church youth group direct the study of the Bible, teaching the Lord's Prayer and many Gospel hymns to the youngsters every Friday.

Meetings are sometimes held in homes but usually at Providence Church.

The public is invited, Pastor Claude Goodwin said.

News of Area Churches

W. BLOOMFIELD BAPTIST

The Rev. Hubert Karl of the Rural Bible Mission will be directing a daily vacation Bible school next week at West Bloomfield Baptist Church at 4900 Orchard Lake Road, Orchard Lake.

Beginning Monday, classes will be held every afternoon from 1:30 to 4 through Friday, according to Rev. John W. Trate, pastor.

All children between the ages of 4 and 12 are invited. There is no registration fee.

FIVE POINTS COMMUNITY

A special service of dedication for the 50 workers who will take part in the "VBS Operation Outreach" program will be held tomorrow at Five Points Community Church, 3411 E. Walton Blvd.

The church has engaged the services of six summer missionaries from Child Evangelism Fellowship who will direct the local staff which is under the direction of Mrs. Norma Garner.

VBS will be for six days, Monday through Saturday, and will be conducted in the neighborhoods around the church using the five-day club method. There will be 18 clubs meeting daily in various homes and a youth rally each evening at 7 p.m.

A closing rally and picnic will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday.

AUBURN HEIGHTS UNITED PRESBYTERIAN

"Praying in the Crisis" will be the theme of the Rev. F. William Palmer's sermon at tomorrow's 11 a.m. worship hour at the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church. Cindy and Ken Hebel will sing "One God" during the service.

Members and friends of the congregation will be sitting for portraits Tuesday through Saturday in preparation for the church's pictorial directory, the Rev. Mr. Palmer said.

The Sunday School Cabinet will hold its summer meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., with superintendent Ronald Salow presiding.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

The Rev. Harold F. Fredsell, guest preacher from New York, will speak on "The Christian as an Advocate" tomorrow in First Presbyterian Church. Margaret Harths, soprano, will sing the offertory solo, "Teach Me to Love."

Greeting worshippers as they arrive will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Galloway. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDermid and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Barker will host the congregational coffee hour at 11 a.m.

During the past week 88 persons have been attending the 10th annual family camp at Yankee Spring Recreation area near Middleville.

Laura Sartell spent last week at Greenwood Camp near Greenville. She is the first of 19 young people to attend a summer camp sponsored by the Synod of Michigan.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST

The new summer schedule at First United Methodist Church includes Sunday school at 9 a.m. and Sunday morning worship at 10 a.m.

Holy Communion will be observed tomorrow at 10 a.m. "What Me? A Living Sacrifice!" will be the Rev. Walter T. Ratcliffe's communion meditation.

The official board July meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Fellowship Hall.

OAKLAND AVE. U.P.

In order to better coordinate most of the activities at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Theodore R. Alleach is asking all elected officers of the church to meet with him at 7:30 p.m. Monday for a quarterly session.

Audrey Limkeman, youth director, assisted by several lay leaders, will conduct the Evening Vacation Bible School for boys and girls of junior high age.

Classes which begin July 13 will continue through July 19. Hours are from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Connie Miller will spend about six weeks in Bad Oiesloe, West Germany under the Youth for Understanding program.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Live E. Reusch, a representative of the headquarters staff of the Watch Tower Society, has been named principal speaker for the "Good News for All Nations" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The convention is set for July 11-14 at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

All assembly sessions are free, convention officials emphasized, and all area residents interested in the solution to the racial crisis are invited.

Seminary Head Guest Speaker

Dr. Charles Frank Leadum, president of Baltimore College of Bible and Seminary will be guest speaker at a special convocation service at St. James Missionary Baptist Church tomorrow at 5 p.m.

Others participating in the service will be the Rev. Eddie A. McDonald, pastor of Friendship Baptist; the Rev. J. R. Fleming, assistant pastor of Macedonia Baptist and the Rev. Thomas H. Holt, Jr., pastor of Greater Mt. Calvary Baptist.

In Watts Area Spends Weekends

Joann Field, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Field of 147 S. Avery, Waterford Township, is attending a six-week course at the Institute of Biblical Studies, Campus Crusade for Christ, San Bernadino, Calif.

Approximately 10,000 college students are expected to participate in the Arrowhead Springs camp this summer. One-, two- or six-week courses are offered.

As part of the crusade program, Joann is spending several weekends in the Watts area of Los Angeles.

★ ★

Both Joann, a sophomore at Michigan State University, and her sister Barbara, a senior, are active in Campus Crusade for Christ on the MSU campus.

Joann is a 1967 graduate of Waterford Township High School where she was homecoming queen. She is a member of Central United Methodist Church, Waterford Township.

Lutheran Youths Leave for Retreat

Some 40 newly confirmed Lutheran youths from the Metropolitan area were to leave today for a Confirmand's Retreat at Camp Pioneer near Buffalo, N.Y.

At the Lake Erie camp the group will join with approximately 200 youths from other parts of the United States and Canada for the week-long Christian-living experience.

The Rev. L. A. Kinne, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church, 2040 S. Commerce, Wolverine Lake, will be one of eight counselors at the camp.

The stories of past courage can define that ingredient — they can teach, they can offer hope, they can provide inspiration. But they cannot supply courage itself. For this each man must look into his own soul. —John F. Kennedy, 35th U. S. president.

LT. WILMA BROCKSIECK

New Aide Named at Salvation Army

A new assistant leader has been appointed to the Salvation Army in Pontiac. She is Lt. Wilma Brocksieck.

Commissioned June 8 from the School of Officers Training in Chicago, Lt. Brocksieck received her formal education in Quincy, Ill. She has been a member of the Salvation Army since childhood.

In ther new position, Lt. Brocksieck will be responsible for the youth program in Pontiac and Clarkston.

Missionary to Speak

The Rev. Don Rose, a Southern Baptist missionary recently returned from Germany, will be guest preacher at the 11 a.m. worship service tomorrow at Columbia Avenue Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Rose is a graduate of Lake Orion High School, Wesleyan College of Fort Worth, Tex., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary of Fort Worth.

Mr Rose served as pastor of Baptist churches in Texas for 18 years before going to Germany in 1963 to serve as associational missionary to 35 English-language Baptist Churches.

In August the Rev. Mr. Rose and his family will be moving to Ridgecrest, N.C., where he will be associated with the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention as assistant to the director of Southern Baptist orientation and training program for newly appointed missionaries.

Triumph Members Will Hold Opening

The Triumph the Church and Kingdom of God in Christ will hold the opening worship service in the newly purchased building at 178 Green at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The members' new home was formerly the First Pentecostal Church.

★ ★ ★

The congregation has worshiped in the church at 63 Elizabeth for the past 20 years.

The Rev. Tommie Lee Taylor, pastor, will bring the message and speak of the founding and growth of the congregation.

Wycliffe Bible Director at First Baptist

A former assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church will return Sunday to speak at the 7 p.m. service.

The Rev. Robert W. Fischer served in Pontiac for nine years. He is now associated with Wycliffe Bible Translators in Santa Ana, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Sunday School at First Baptist Church will convene at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow with classes for all ages. The Rev. Robert Messner, director of music and Christian Education will speak at the 10:45 a.m. service.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Shelton will return to Pontiac Friday from a missionary tour of the Orient, Israel and Europe. Pastor Shelton will speak at both morning and evening services July 14.

YFC RALLY

While the Rev. Mr. Fischer was at First Baptist he organized and directed the Youth for Christ rally. He made two missionary tours — to the Orient in 1953, and to Mexico and Guatemala in January.

★ ★ ★

He received his training at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, and the University of Arizona. Before becoming deputation director at Wycliffe, he had served 25 years pastoring Baptist churches in Michigan, New York, Arizona and California.

Several Pontiac area ministers will bring greetings and the Northern Michigan State Choir of the Triumph Church will sing.

★ ★ ★

The newly organized Young People's Choir of the local church also will be hear. Other musical groups will be featured during the afternoon program. The public is invited.

REV. T. L. TAYLOR

Guest Organist at St. Augustine's

Joseph J. McHugh, a student at Colombiere College, Clarkston, will be the guest organist at the Ecumenical Vespers Service tomorrow at 6 p.m., at St. Augustine's House, 3316 East Drahner Road, Oxford.

McHugh, who is studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood, will perform "Entrata" and "Finale" by Handel, "Pastorale' by Flor Peters, and "Versetto" by Dominico Zipoli.

Bible College Sign-Up Near

Detroit Bible College is now taking applications for fall registration.

Registrar Robert F. Ramey announces that July 15 is "penalty date" for new students intending to enroll. After that date, the college will charge a $5 late application fee. No student applicant will be accepted after the final deadline of Aug. 15.

★ ★ ★

Fall classes are to begin Sept. 11. Registration is scheduled for Sept. 9-10.

DBC's current summer session has the second highest enrollment since 1959, Ramey reported.

★ ★ ★

He said 79 students are attending summer classes. In 1959, the enrollment figure stood at 103, with a record high set in 1966, when 115 students were enrolled.

DeLima College Receives Grants

DeLima Junior College of Oxford recently was awarded two federal grants from the Office of Education for the improvement of undergraduate instruction and library facilities.

★ ★ ★

The liberal arts college for women received $6,429 for the purchase of a full line of audio visual equipment under the Higher Education Act, Title 6.

★ ★ ★

A second grant, for $5,125, was approved for the purchase of library books, magazines, and binding equipment.

Flag Scholar Disputes U.S. Stamp Color Choices

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP) — A Massachusetts flag scholar says two of 10 new flag stamps issued by the Post Office Department are incorrectly colored.

The criticism was made by Dr. Whitney Smith of Lexington, who teaches political science at Boston University and received a doctorate on flags there last month.

Smith said both the Bunker Hill flag and the Rhode Island State flag of the colonial period are wrong in the new stamp series.

The Bunker Hill flag had a red, not a blue background, Smith said. And the Rhode Island flag contained white stars, instead of gold stars.

Smith, who owns a 300-volume flag library which he boasts is larger than the collections of both the Library of Congress and the British Museum, said all but one contemporary source support his claim the Bunker Hill flag was red.

"The painter John Trumbull was in Roxbury during the battle," he said, "and his painting of it shows the flag to be red."

Russians Report Radiation Find; Old as Universe?

By Science Service

The existence of radiation which may have been born when the universe itself was being formed has been confirmed by Russian researchers.

Three Soviet astronomers report that they have found cosmic blackbody radiation at a wavelength of 8.2 millimeters.

Drs. V. I. Puzanov, A. E. Salomonovich and K. S. Stankevich of the P. N. Lebedev Physics Institute relate, in Soviet Physics-Astronomy for May-June, that measurements of radio reception at that wavelength shows a component corresponding to a black body at a temperature of minus 270 degrees C.

Such black body or thermal radiation is believed to be left over from a so-called cosmic fireball, the giant explosion with which some theorists think the universe began.

Originally created at a temperature around 10 billion degrees, the radiation would have cooled as the universe expanded until now it is only three degrees above absolute zero (minus 273 degrees C.).

Luxurious Plantings Highlight Grounds Of The Palle Schierups In West Bloomfield Township

Fresh Flowers, Year-Round

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

No matter how deep the snow or how low the temperature, Mrs. Palle Schierup always has fresh flowers to enliven her home's interior. During the winter months, these florific gems come from her husband's well-planted greenhouse and during the summer from his garden.

Some men take to the putting green when their demanding workday is completed but Mr. Schierup passes up the putter for the hoe every time.

"I get the relaxation I need and Kirsten gets the flowers," he said with a quick smile.

For her relaxation, Mrs. Schierup turned to sewing. Attesting to her creative talents are freehand petit point and needlepoint pieces displayed in the living room.

NATIVE LAND

To remind her husband of his native Denmark, Mrs. Schierup fashioned one wall hanging in felt and gingham, using the colorful costumes of Denmark as her theme.

Liking both the old and the new, the Schierups chose to follow today's popular electric trend and combined contemporary, Italian and French provincials and authentic antiques in their formal living room.

Throw pillows of rust, blue and purple on the beige boucle custom sofa emphasize the colors of the Chinese dish on the walnut and marble cocktail table.

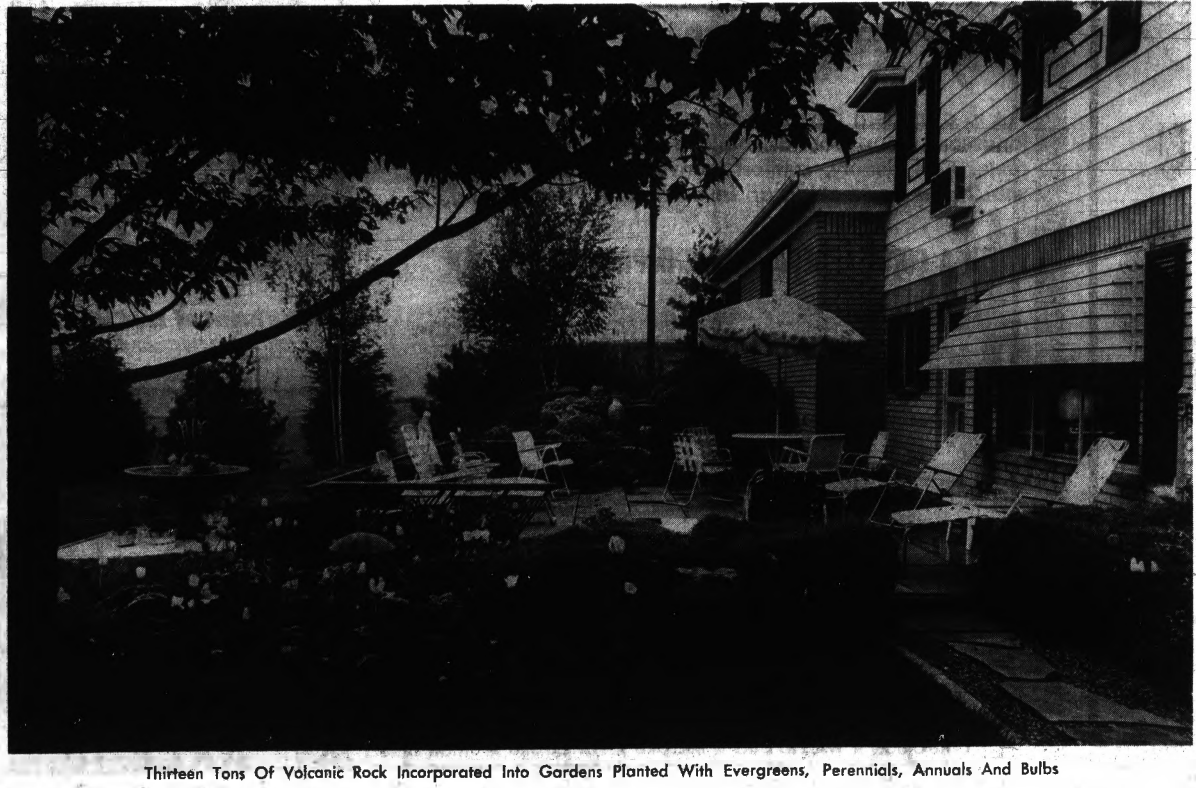

Throughout the living room and the adjoining dining room may be seen the couple's collection of Danish and French oils and Royal Copenhagen pieces.

HEIRLOOM

The covered candy dish near the sofa is one of the first Royal Copenhagen pieces made and features a painting of Mrs. Schierup's great-great-grandmother.

"I'm fond of them all," said Mr. Schierup, "but I believe my favorites in the Royal Copenhagen line are the polar bears on the stereo."

Another of his favorites found in the room is the massive, hand-carved oak desk. The desk is appropriately placed before the picture-window expanse so that Mr. Schierup can look up from his work and enjoy the beauty of the landscape he created.

CANE ACCENTS—A variety of textures and feelings lend drama and design interest to a living room setting featuring a collection of contemporary furniture. Boasting a romantic appeal, the sofa and lounge chair feature a delicate yellow floral tracing on a white silk ground and luxurious soft-edge upholstery treatment in direct contrast to the stark delineation of the richly grained wood frame. A windswept textured shag rug mirrors the sweeping scrolls of the dimensional wall tiles providing dramatic backdrop for the stacking unit. Six pieces including bar and television bookcases, drawer and door units make up the versatile grouping.

For Light and Air

Check Window Placement

When you build or remodel, will you get the most from your windows in terms of light, ventilation and views?

You won't if the windows are not installed at the correct height for a particular room, do not face the best wind direction, or are not the proper size and proportion.

Several points to keep in mind when selecting and installing windows for maximum sunlight, air, visibility and good looks are:

- The right sill height for a window depends on whether people in the room are likely to be sitting or standing most of the time.

For example, windows in the kitchen should be high enough for a woman to look out of while she works, and allow air flow at a height that will keep her comfortable.

In a living room or dining room, where people will be seated, sills should be lower for best visibility and ventilation.

Charts with suggested sill heights for various rooms are available from local lumber dealers.

- There should be a balance of visibility and ventilation in every room. One way to achieve this is by using casement windows, which open at a 90-degree angle, to flank fixed glass windows that offer maximum visibility.
- In general, large-expanse windows in a south wall give the best effect of day-long sunlight. If this brings unwanted glare, use tinted glass.
- For good ventilation, place operating windows where they are most likely to pick up wind currents.

Outdoor obstructions such as a high stand of trees, tall buildings or a high wall can cut air flow.

- Select window styles to suit each room. In bedrooms, a ribbon of operating windows placed high in the wall will give privacy as well as light and air.

* * *

It also makes an interesting window treatment, and frees the lower portion of the wall for furniture placement.

In kitchens, casement windows are best for that awkward area above the sink because they can be easily reached and operated, and offer maximum ventilation to rid the room of cooking odors.

- Consider the low-maintenance qualities of windows. New vinyl-clad windows do not require painting, and will not pit, rust or corrode.

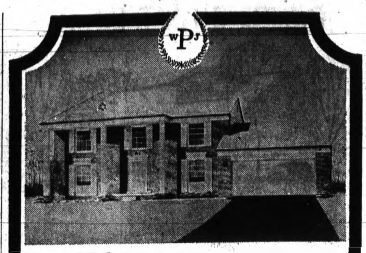

Welded insulating glass is standard, so storm sash is eliminated and window-washing chores are cut by half.

Do Consider Cabinet Care

Cabinets built of plastic-surfaced hardboard are ideal for kitchens, bathrooms and children's rooms.

The panels are extremely resistant to moisture, and finger marks, dirt, even grease can be wiped off with a damp cloth or cleaned with a mild water-and-detergent solution.

Plastic-surfaced hardboard comes in a variety of attractive woodgrained finishes, colors and patterns.

And Set Up Check on Loan Program

Move to Simplify Budget

A group of prominent Americans wants the government to keep closer tabs on its $100 billion loan guarantee and insurance programs, including those of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and Veterans Administration (VA).

If the government takes the advice of the President's Commission on Budget Concepts, it could mean slower growth of FHA, VA and similar programs in the years ahead.

The Commission's most important recommendation is that the three federal budgets now in use be boiled down into one to make the budget easier to understand. Another important proposal is for separate accounting of direct federal loans.

The commission thinks it is important to distinguish between federal expenditures, which are not paid back, and loans, which are supposed to be paid back sooner or later.

* * *

PROMOTION

The government has another way of promoting what it thinks is a worthy cause. Instead of giving away money or lending it, the government lets a private bank or other lender make the loan, but insures or guarantees repayment. The federal backing enables the lender to give the borrower a lower rate of interest.

But the Commission recognizes that putting the spotlight on the government's direct loan programs, which now total $30 billion, "may operate toward further expansion of guaranteed and insured loans not warranted by program considerations."

To put it another way, the federal government is like a leaky pipe: grab one place and water starts running out of another.

* * *

In addition to this bureaucratic phenomenon, loan guarantees and insurance are a natural way for the government to try to lure more private capital into the job of rebuilding the cities, controlling pollution, and providing mass transportation.

So the executive branch and Congress may want to think about setting up new ways of "reviewing the authorizations and ceilings" on insured and guaranteed loan programs, the Commission said.

The Commission's proposal fell on receptive ground at the Treasury. Undersecretary Frederick Deming said a few days later that "if the federal government's aegis is there, it is hard to say that no limit or restraining force should be placed on the underlying credits."

* * *

Never mind if the government isn't actually lending the money, Deming said. The government's promise to repay the loan if the borrower defaults is enough of an involvement to warrant tighter budgetary control, he said.

Pool Rules for Safety, Enjoyment

Most important to the lasting enjoyment of any pool is the need for complete safety both in and around the pool. Keep these factors in mind:

Many townships require fencing around the pool to protect the owner from the liability for children and uninvited visitors who may not be able to swim. Check with a pool dealer for the local ordinances on the fencing of pools.

* * *

You must have proper filtration, chlorination and good water circulation if you are to swim in pure water. Hence, don't stint on the price of a filter.

Obtain an underwriter's inspection of any electrical wiring, which must meet certain safety codes. He will make sure your pool is grounded to guard against the possibility of an electric shock.

* * *

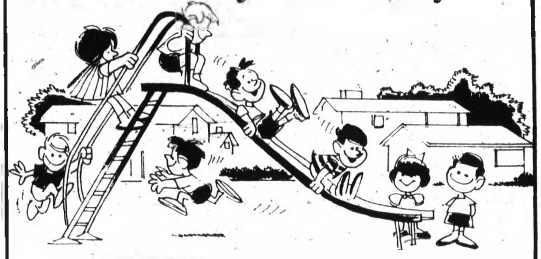

Have a rope and float assembly to separate the deep end from the shallow. It also acts as a safety feature for children.

Use a water border, vinyl pool cover during the non-swimming season to protect yourself against unauthorized visitors, falling leaves and debris. You'll find that your pool is ready for immediate use in spring when the cover is removed.

* * *

Your swimming pool is one of the most important investments you will ever make. If it is well manufactured and installed, and properly maintained, it will pay great dividends.

A HOME

IS STILL THE BEST INVESTMENT a Family Can Make

THE TIME TO BUY IS NOW –

HERE ARE 8 GOOD REASONS WHY

1 The price of land is going up . . . up . . . up. Just the other day a group of distinguished economists predicted real estate will go up 20% in the next three years.

2 The steady rise in population, in virtually every section of the nation, exerts a steady upward pressure on land prices.

3 Today, right now, you can find real bargains in new homes. See Kampsen Rlty. and you'll find the selection was never better.

4 Interest rates may go even higher. The actual difference between present and past interest rates is only a small factor in the cost of your home. For example: A one-half percent increase in interest rates is only $6 per month on a 25-year, $20,000 loan. Remember, your interest is deductible on your income tax.

5 Real estate is your best hedge against inflation. "No investment on earth is so safe, so sure, so certain to enrich its owner as real estate."

6 If you shop at Kampsen's, you'll find architects and builders are now figuring with sharper pencils, because of the momentary lull in demand. You can save important money by acting now.

7 The family who buys now will be ahead of the family that continues to collect rent receipts. Each monthly payment builds equity. At the same time, the home can be increasing in value.

8 The best security in the whole world, for you, your wife and children, is the security of owning land.

Roof Important to Design of House, Reports Architect

The roof is one of the most important design elements of a house and is more important than ever before, according to a recent speech made in Chicago by one of the nation's leading architects.

"Take away the roof from a house and all you have left is a box," said Robert Martin Engelbrecht, AIA, who has won numerous awards for his designs, and whose firm has become well known for development work in building products and roofing systems.

"The overhang, height, color, size and design of the roof give the exterior of the house its character, distinction and personality," he said. "Roof design is equally important in remodeling and new construction."

"Building sites in metropolitan areas and suburban communities have become scarce and costly. Lots are smaller, and houses are located closer to one another," Engelbrecht said. "While much can be done inside the house to differentiate it from the house next door, the roof acchitecture is the most important factor in a structure's individuality."

* * *

More than a decade ago Engelbrecht forewarned of the rising cost of land and the trend to small lots. In a national magazine article in 1958, he predicted that by 1970 land values would equal construction values. They already have in many areas of the United States.

CHECK COLOR

"Because of the physical dominance of the roof, color is one of the most important factors in considering roof scape design criteria," Engelbrecht said. "The color of the roof should be selected before any exterior color."

* * *

"If the house is complicated and broken with various setbacks and planes, a dark roof will pull it together more effectively than a lighter colored roof. On the other hand, a lighter colored roof will tend to make a house appear longer.

"The construction quality as well as the color of the roof are important factors in heating and cooling costs. Dark colors tend to absorb solar heat while light colors reflect the hot rays of the sun."

* * *

While virtually any color or blend is available, the more popular asphalt roofing colors include white, blues, reds, greens, browns and earth tones. Asphalt roofing offers a designer unlimited opportunities to stylize a roof because of the availability of numerous colors and blends, textures and patterns. Color allows individuality, personal choice and the opportunity for one to distinguish according to his own taste.

In choosing the roofing material, the homeowner should select a product that not only has color but the advantages of low maintenance, long-lasting durability, the UL label for fire resistance, wind resistance and insulating value.

A comprehensive new booklet which helps homeowners select the right roof for their house is available by sending 25 cents to cover mailing and handling to 3M Company, P.O. Box 3500, 3M Center, St. Paul, Minn., 55101.

Plan Kitchen as Wife Saver

A kitchen is essentially a workshop. But, it doesn't have to look like one.

Modern kitchens need all the efficiency essentials such as storage space, work counters, a time-and-step saving lay-out, and easy-to-clean surfaces.

They should also be attractive, well-lighted and comfortable.

If you're remodeling your kitchen, try to give it as many of these assets as possible.

* * *

Lay-out — The "work triangle" — with refrigerator, range and sink or dishwasher placed at equidistant points of a triangle — is considered most efficient.

ELBOW ROOM

About seven feet between each appliance cuts steps while providing elbow room.

Workspace — Allow at least 30 inches of countertop space near the sink, 18 inches on the latch side of the refrigerator, and 24 inches of heat-resistant surface material adjacent to the range.

Use one of the many attractive laminate surfaces which resist stains and marring and can be washed clean.

* * *

Walls — Easy-to-clean surfaces such as plastic-finished hardboard panels are ideal for the kitchen.

The sturdy hardboard panels are highly resistant to moisture, humidity and stains, won't mar, dent or scuff, and can be damp-wiped clean. They come in a wide range of beautiful decorator finishes.

Floors — Resilient flooring is a practical choice because it takes hard wear and cleans easily.

* * *

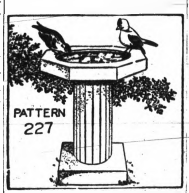

New resilient floor tiles now come in a variety of attractive colors and designs; or you could use water-and-stain-resistant carpeting for an unusual touch.

ROOM TO STORE

Storage — There should be plenty of cabinets, with easy-clean surfaces, placed where they can be conveniently reached.

For additional "open" storage, install a panel of perforated hardboard which will hold pots, pans and utensils handy for use.

More suggestions on kitchen remodeling and other projects that feature hardboard paneling are available for ten cents from SR&A, Dept. HP, Box 3498, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

A CEMENT BIRD BATH may be made with a mould constructed of lath and lumber. Pattern 227, which shows each step and gives concrete formula, will be mailed for 35 cents. This pattern also is one of four full-size patterns in Packet No. 74 — Worthwhile Yard and Garden Features all for $1.

HARMONIOUS MERGER: The old and new are effectively joined in this three-bedroom house, with the wood shingles and stone combination going way, way back, and the split level design a product of the years following World War II.

Dramatic Details Highlight Splitlevel

The splitlevel almost invariably has a "busier" appearance than a two-story house, primarily because of its roof lines.

Our house, this week is no exception. But architect Herman H. York has taken advantage of the additional breaks to add little touches of interest.

* * *

One of these is the covered entry with part of it done in "open to the sky" rafters to allow light and air to reach the plant box below.

The design has definite characteristics of contemporary styling, but uses traditional materials to achieve texture.

SHADOW PATTERNS

The stone veneer and wood shingles can always be counted on to produce interesting patterns of light and shadow. Incidentally, today's home buyers generally are showing a decided preference for heavier textures.

Beyond the larger foyer of this house is a very sizable kitchen, especially for a three-bedroom house. It is 16'5" long, with an eating area, a pantry and an entrance to a rear terrace.

* * *

To the right of the foyer is the living room, more than 20' long and giving the impression of being even longer because it is open to the dining room, with only partial wrought iron railings between them.

* * *

A few steps up, at the left side of the house, is the bedroom wing. The main bedroom, at the rear, has a mirrored dressing table, walk-in closet and private bath.

SECOND BATH

A second bathroom is reached from the hall.

A most desirable feature in this area is a laundry chute that takes clothing down to the laundry on the lower level. All three bedrooms have cross ventilation.

Z-47 STATISTICS

Design Z-47 is a split level, with a living room, dining room, kitchen, foyer, three bedrooms and two baths on the upper levels, totaling 1566 square feet of habitable area. The lower level, with a family room, lavatory and laundry, has 422 square feet. This is exclusive of the two-car garage and storage area. Over-all dimensions are 50' by 37' 5".

Highlight of the lower level is a fireplaced family room, with built-in book shelves and sliding glass doors leading to a rear patio.

A lavatory and a game storage closet are adjacent, with the laundry area, two-car garage and storage space at the front of the house. Down from this level is a basement under the kitchen, dining room and living room.

ECONOMY

Note that, from the standpoint of economy, all plumbing — the bathrooms and the kitchen sink — is located in one area.

As in most side-to-side split level houes, this plan is best suited to a plot which slopes that way; that is, side to side.

* * *

The garage side is low, thus allowing convenient access to the garage from the side and permitting a dining terrace to be placed outside the higher kitchen.

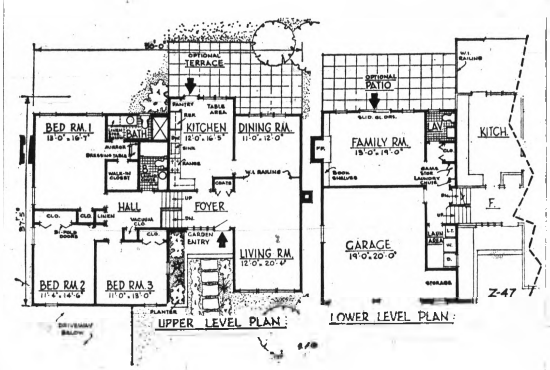

Even a gentle slope is sufficient for such an arrangement, because some of the grade can be altered, if needed, to suit the conditions.

TROUBLESOME

Admittedly, however, the matter of changing the grade level can be troublesome if the plot is heavily wooded.

Although this house has a total of 1988 square feet of habitable area — 1566 on the upper level — it will fit on a modest lot, since the frontage is only 50'.

Bonsai, the art of dwarfing trees, has been practiced in Japan since the 13th century.

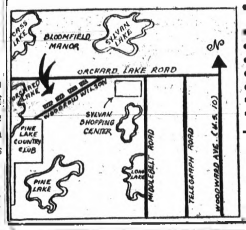

FLOOR PLANS: Well-defined zones of activity characterize this split-level layout. Placement of fireplaced family room on the lower level means less wear and tear on areas upstairs.

Tile Expands Livin' Time

If, as the song has it, "you've got a lot of livin' to do," you'll need more than just a plain, ordinary living room; you'll need a room designed especially for 'a lot of livin'."

Tile can make the distinctive difference.

* * *

Ceramic tile is a pretty and practical finishing touch for any room in your home. And it'll be especially suitable in your living room if you do a lot of entertaining.

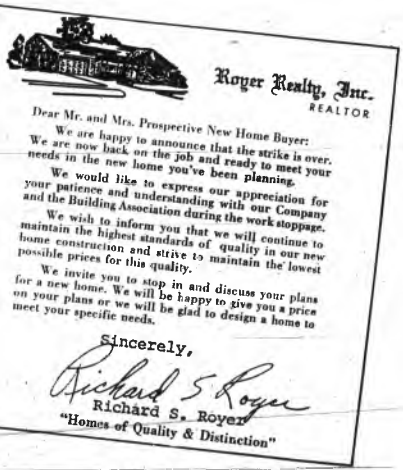

Domestic ceramic tile is available in so many colors, color combinations, sizes, shapes, designs and textures that you'll be able to combine sophistication and modern casual living in a décor that is classically elegant and, at the same time, unassumingly stylish.

* * *

You'll appreciate the practical side of tile when it's time for party clean-up. An occasional wipe with a damp cloth or a once-over with a damp mop is all that's usually needed to keep a tiled surface new-looking.

How to Get Pool Ready for Use

It's Summer! It's time to get the pool ready for another busy season. If it needs a refresher coat of paint, make sure the surface of the pool is clean. All build-up of grime, algae, body oil, chemical and mineral debris should be removed.

An economical and good cleaning solution can be made up by adding an ounce-and-a-half of tri-sodium phosphate (Oakite, for example) to a gallon of warm water. Scrub it in.

If there happens to be any loose, powdering or peeling paint, it should be removed. Wirebrushing and scraping will take care of this operation. Defective paint is an indication that there may be other areas of the pool in almost as poor condition. If the paint is in generally bad shape, it will pay to consider sandblasting everything off and starting anew.

After the pool is thoroughly cleaned, flush it out with clear water to remove soap as well as the dirt from walls and floor. A hose under pressure does the best job. Scrub as you flush.

★ ★ ★

Aside from letting the pool dry, the surface is all set to paint. This is the excellent opportunity to change color of the pool finish, if it is desired. In considering pool paints, wherever an easily cleaned, dirt-resistant finish is needed, a tile-like enamel is called for — not a flat finish. Beware of miracle finishes that "never need another coat of paint."

QUALITY PAINT A MUST

A paint manufactured by a pool paint specialist is a good buy. His long experience in the field can be of direct help to pool owners, especially in the selection of color and the solution of technical problems. A pool paint specialist doesn't offer just one or two types of paint. He'll have a kind of paint designed for your pool — regardless of the material of which the pool is made.

When the finish of a plaster pool becomes grey, rough and thin from cleaning or from the attack of water and water-treatment chemicals, it can be simply cleaned, etched and painted. Sandblasting is not needed.

Plaster needs only to be removed if it is powdering, flaking or chalking. Surface preparation, patching and etching are the same as those for a concrete pool, as discussed below.

★ ★ ★

On a concrete pool bare and smooth spots are signs that the paint came away because of improper etching of the surface. These spots should be treated with a solution of muriatic acid until the smooth areas take on the appearance of a fine grade of sandpaper.

A concentration of 30 to 36 per cent or a "20°B" solution will do the job. Use a large enamel or wood bucket to mix a gallon of this strength with an equal amount of water.

★ ★ ★

Pour the acid solution on the concrete and brush it in with a long-handled scrub brush. Then flush and scrub off the residue.

HELPFUL TIPS

If expansion joints show signs of deterioration, remove the defective material (taking care to keep it from falling to the pool floor). Fill the joint to within ½ to ¾ inches of the top with jute, oakum, or preformed fiber joint. A rubber type filler is recommended for the top of the joint.

Fine cracks on the surface will present no problems. A good paint will hide them. Deep cracks and rough surfaces require filling with a hydraulic cement. Broken out areas require a special epoxy adhesive. This will permit the bonding of new concrete with the old. Etch repaired areas prior to painting.

In preparing a metal pool for repainting, workmen should wear sneakers; not shoes. Nails in shoes may scratch. The pool should be cleaned with tri-sodium phosphate solution.

Rust, corrosion, and deteriorating paint should be wirebrushed to bright metal. Workmen should not touch the bare metal with their bare hands — moisture and body oils must not touch steel.

A brush should be used to clean up wirebrushed areas. Rags can leave lint that will project up through paint, permitting contact to bare metal. This can cause further rusting. Since bare metal is sensitive to corrosion, it must be painted immediately after cleaning.

Wear and tear — even the rays of the sun — will eventually affect fiber glass. An abrasive household cleanser should be used to remove all foreign matter. The pool must then be rinsed to get rid of all debris (including traces of the cleanser). The fiber glass then must be sandpapered lightly to ensure a mechanical bond for the paint. The pool should be then hosed down in a final cleaning. As soon as the pool is dry, painting may be started.

★ ★ ★

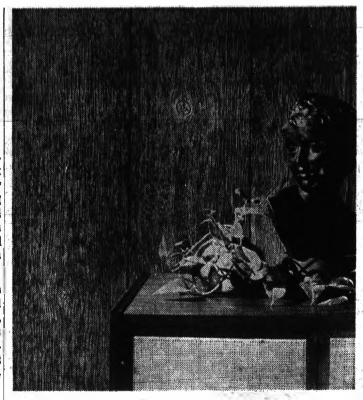

On liner pools, if the paint is of good sound construction it can be painted after removal of the plastic skin. Simply prepare and paint the shell like any other concrete pool.

Water, even as unseen moisture, should not be present when paint is applied. Not only does it affect bond by standing between the paint and the pool but, trapped beneath paint in the pores of concrete, it will form blisters when it vaporizes under the hot sun.

Drying normally takes from 10 days to two weeks of good drying weather. After painting, don't fill the pool until it is thoroughly dry. During the drying period certain important changes are taking place in the paint.

Until it is dry enough (according to the manufacturer's directions) to fill the pool, it hasn't reached the proper degree of strength, color-fastness, stability, chemical-or-abrasion-resistance.

Manufacturer's directions should be followed to the letter — from surface preparation through painting. Only then can the full value of the paint and the manufacturer's know-how be realized. It's worth the little effort to have a beautiful pool with a tile-like finish that is easy to clean; and one on which the color may be changed when the owner gets the urge.

NEW SOURCE — The only source for weathered woods — much prized for their natural beauty as wall paneling — used to be old barns, fishing shacks and the like. This made the weathered woods very costly — and increasingly scarce as their popularity gained. Now, Armstrong Cork Company has brought out a deep-embossed wall paneling named Sturbridge with the rugged graining, random knotholes and delicate coloring of real weathered barn siding.

Wild Flower Book Features Color

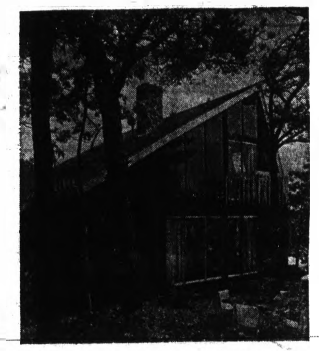

The first set of the second volume of "Wild Flowers of the United States' was presented to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson by the author, Dr. Harold W. Rickett, and Mrs. David Rockefeller at the New York Botanical Garden.

Rickett is senior curator of botany at the garden. Mrs. Rockefeller is chairman of the garden's Committee on Wild Flowers.

Volume 2 covers 1,900 species of native plants of the southeastern states. It has 1,685 color photographs and 384 line drawings.

The first of the five volumes deals with the Northeast. When completed, the series will touch on virtually all the wild flowers of America.

One therm of natural gas, which is equal to 100,000 British thermal units (Btu), will produce enough heat in an instantaneous gas water heater to bathe 60 babies.

Housing Programs for Senior Citizens

The rapidly increasing ranks of the elderly have confronted society with many problems, including the need for special housing.

U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare statistics show there are 18.5 million people over the age of 65 today as compared to 6.6 million in the 1930's.

Latest estimates are that one out of every three families headed by a person over 65 lives in substandard housing programs for the elderly — especially in low-income groups.

★ ★ ★

There is increased recognition that the special needs of the aged and infirm require housing that differs substantially from conventional homes, particularly in terms of safety and easy housekeeping.

GOOD DESIGN

For example, a well-designed apartment for the elderly might include: non-slip surfaces and grab bars in tubs and showers, elimination of thresholds to reduce the danger of tripping and allow passage of wheelchairs, entrance ramps for wheelchairs, and shelves and cabinets placed at a height that does not require climbing or stooping.

Easy-care building materials would be another asset. For instance, an apartment for the elderly rising in Hagerstown, Maryland, will feature low-maintenance windows and gliding doors which have a vinyl-clad sash that doesn't need painting and welded insulating glass which has two less surfaces to wash than storm sash.

The Walnut Towers apartments, designed by the architectural firm of Bushey-Chapman-Burrey, will have casement windows which can be operated easily and cleaned from inside. The gliding doors can be safely washed from individual apartment balconies.

★ ★ ★

The apartments will also have a special alarm system. If an elderly tenant needs assistance, an emergency button in each apartment will, when activated, turn on an emergency light in the hall, ring an alarm bell, and automatically open the front door so neighbors can gain quick access.

Care Pays Off When Installing Floors of Oak

Adequate nailing of both the subflooring and the hardwood finish floors is vital for trouble-free floors, advises a spokesman for the National Oak Flooring Manufacturer's Association.

"When nailing is done properly and other recommended installation procedures are observed the result is beautiful, long-lasting doors that inspire pride of ownership," says Henry H. Willins, NOFMA executive vice president.

The approved nailing schedule for the popular 2¼-inch wide oak strip flooring of 25-32-inch thickness calls for one 7d or 8d nail every 10 to 12 inches.

The preferred 4-inch or 6-inch wide subfloor boards should be face nailed solidly at each bearing point with two 10d nails.

★ ★ ★

The flooring should be delivered about five days before installation and piled loosely in the house, with a temperature of about 70 degrees maintained.

All plaster and cement work should be dry and the painting completed before the oak is laid.

Murdered EMU Coed Is Found

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The partially clothed body of an Eastern Michigan University coed was found in a wooded area Friday, five days after she disappeared while hitchhiking at Ypsilanti.

Medical officials at University Hospital said Joan Schell, 20, of Plymouth died of multiple stab wounds. She apparently had been killed not long after she disappeared, they said.

Police described the murder as "similar" to the unsolved 1967 slaying of another EMU coed, Mary Slezar, whose body was found in an area near the campus at Ypsilanti.

Construction workers found the body of Miss Schell, a petite 5-foot-4 girl weighing only 90 pounds, clad in a blue dress, in a wooded area along a road on the northeast side of Ann Arbor, about 10 miles from Ypsilanti.

HITCHHIKING

The girl was last seen Sunday night by her roommate, Sue Colby, while hitchhiking to Ann Arbor.

Miss Colby told police she tried to talk her roommate out of hitchhiking and was still pleading with her as she climbed into a car with three young men.

* * *

She could describe the car only as a late-model red car with a black vinyl top.

L. MONTGOMERY SHEPARD

Drive to Force State Income Tax Vote Slips

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A statewide petition drive to have a constitutional amendment voiding provisions for a state income tax put on the November ballot appears to be faltering.

L. Montgomery Shepard of Benton Harbor, head of the Sound Taxation Association, one of three groups circulating the petitions, said 155,000 signatures have been obtained, 95,000 short of the necessary 250,000 required by the Monday deadline.

* * *

Shepard said that unless there is a "sudden influx of completed petitions" the deadline might not be reached.

Other groups circulating petitions are the United Republicans of Michigan, working out of Detroit, and the Oakland County Conservative Club.

* * *

A suit now in the Court of Appeals at Lansing questions the legality of the tax and Shepard said his hopes of having the tax nullified rests on the outcome of the court case.

Court Outlaws Top Billing for Incumbents

DETROIT (AP) — The State Court of Appeals has ruled unconstitutional two new laws which would have put the names of incumbent officeholders at the tops of ballot lists in the Aug. 6 primary.

* * *

In a 2-1 decision, the court said putting an incumbent's name at the top of the ballot in effect gives him a ballot designation, which the State Constitution forbids.

* * *

Judge John H. Gillis dissented from the decision of Judges Thomas G. Kavanagh and Charles M. Levin.

"This hit us sort of like a bomb," said State Elections Director Bernard Apol.

PRINTING DELAYED

Apol noted that printing ballots for the primary — now only four weeks away — had previously been delayed by legal squabbles over county supervisor districting and the new Court of Appeals.

* * *

A return to the more complex "rotation" printing system which the two stricken laws were designed to replace will cause further delays, he added.

* * *

"Will we be ready by Aug. 6? I guess we'd better be. I'm sure we will be," Apol said.

"But it's going to be real tough to meet certain deadlines," he added. "There's no doubt about that."

ONLY ONE COUNTY

A court spokesman said that for the moment the ruling applied only in Wayne County, where the court decided the case. But, he added, other legal action likely will spread its effects.

Under the rotation system of ballot listing, names are printed alphabetically and "rotated" so that each candidate's name appears first on approximately the same number of ballots and voting machines.

The two laws ruled unconstitutional — one affecting paper ballots and the other machines — provided for printing the incumbent's name first on every ballot, followed by those of the other candidates in alphabetical order.

Agenda Is Light in Waterford

A light agenda will be on tap for the Waterford Township Board's regular meeting Monday night.

The board will hear a recommendation from its insurance comittee regarding workmen's compensation insurance policy bids received last week. The committee also will report on its study of a proposed package insurance policy offered to the township by Pauly's Insurance Agency.

* * *

Five rezoning requests will be considered. Monthly reports will be presented by the fire department, the township library and the clerk's department.

Contract renewals with Johnson and Anderson, Inc., township engineers, and Stratton Associates, township financial consultants, also will be up for consideration.

* * *

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Waterford Township High School.

Rail Accord to Restore Full British Service

LONDON (AP) — Britain's railroads were back to near normal today after a pay settlement for 270,000 employes who had been on a slowdown strike for 12 days.

The state-owned rail system promised full commuter service Monday for the first time in two weeks. It said some trains would run Sunday to south and west coast vacation centers.

* * *

Last Sunday the system closed down because the railwaymen refused to work Sundays or overtime.

The settlement was reached in talks between the National Union of Railwaymen and the Rail Board's chief negotiator, Len Neal. It provides for immediate pay increases of 4 per cent for lower paid workers and 3 per cent for others. Previous pay averaged $36 to $60 a week, including overtime.

* * *

In return the railmen promised to cooperate with manpower evonomies to take effect Sept. 2. Management previously insisted that manpower economies should start before any general pay increase.

WCC Studies Ways to Give Youth a Voice

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — The World Council of Churches assembly has formed a committee to study ways to give youth more representation in meetings and conferences.

Although the council has arranged for 150 church youths to attend, they have no voting rights.

* * *

With Roman Catholic observers attending for the first time, the council assembly is the most widely representative gathering of Christians in history. It embraces 222 Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, anglican and national Catholic denominations that have more than 350 million members in 80 nations.

The assembly opened with a posthumous plea for fulfillment of ecumenical efforts, contained in a 2,000-word unfinished report by the late Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry.

COUNCIL HEAD

Rev. Fry died June 6 after 14 years as head of the WCC.

The report said improved relations between the council and the Roman Catholic Church were the "overtowering event" of the last seven years.

But it conceded that "thorny problems" had been encountered in relations between the council and Roman Catholics. It also said efforts to establish relations with evangelical groups had met with "meager results."

Songwriter Dead After Long Illness

LEONIA, N.J. (AP) — Songwriter and vaudeville performer Ben Ryan, who wrote "Inka Dinka Doo" for Jimmy Durante, died Friday at his home here after a long illness. He was 77.

Among Ryan's other better known songs are "Heart of My Heart," "Mississippi" and "When Frances Dances With Me."

* * *

He also wrote scripts for George White's "Scandals," material for comedians Jack Benny, Groucho Marx and Fred Allen, and acts for burlesque shows.

Taiwan's population growth rate dropped to a record low 2.3 per cent in 1967, compared with the peak 3.9 per cent in 1959.

Italy's Premier Sure of Support

ROME (AP) — Premier Giovanni Leone is virtually assured of winning the first vote of confidence for his new interim government.

* * *

From the two parties crucial to Leone's hopes—the Socialists and Republicans—he had grudging admissions of satisfaction with the legislative program he outlined to Parliament Friday night.

* * *

At the end of a debate on Leone's government, the Socialist party directorate decided Friday night the Socialists would abstain when the confidence vote is taken later this month.

The Republicans indicated they would do the same, enabling Leone to win the mandate with the 266 votes of his own Christian Democrats in the Chamber of Deputies.

With the Socialists and Republicans abstaining, the combined opposition from Communists on the left to Fascists and monarchists on the right, has 261 votes.

Leone described his program as limited by the short time he expects to have in office and by the hair-thin majority he is counting on.

* * *

Leone expects to be in office only until after the Socialists decide next October whether to rejoin the center-left coalition with his Christian Democrats.

After serious losses in the May elections, the Socialists quit the coalition, blaming the setback on the moderation of the Christian Democrats.

McQueen Pro-Police Now; He Was Different as Youth

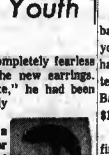

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Steve McQueen sounded completely fearless until his wife, Noelle Adams burst in with the new earrings.

"The cops of our country get a bad shake," he had been saying with eloquent frowns. "I think nobody likes a cop until they need one.

"I'm not talking about getting busted for a speeding ticket. But in homicide or larceny, or rapes, the heavier crimes, the cops take a lot of abuse."

He had been talking about things he learned, studying police methods in San Francisco, for his film, "Bullit." He hadn't "hit the streets with them very often" but had "looked over their shoulders" at the cases coming in, and though he might have been a bad boy as a boy, he had new respect and we all should.

WILSON

* * *

Then was heard a pounding at the Sherry-Netherland suite door, and in came "My old woman," as he delights in calling her, with some dark shiny things at her ears which terrorized him, caused him to throw up his hands.

"Where'd you get them?" he called out accusingly.

"Tiffany's" she smiled.

"Holy ——! You don't want to see a grown man cry, do you?"

His "old woman" surrendered. "They're fake," she laughed. "I almost went belly-up," he admitted.

* * *

It demonstrated a good relationship to the students of such things. Steve is such an orderly citizen now, it scares him to think of spending more than he should for baubles for his wife.

"I bounced around with the law a little when I was younger," Steve said. "When you're banging around on the streets, you have a certain attitude. But don't mention it, I might get burned . . .

"How old was I? Fourteen. But I'm not telling any more. I'm a family man now and got a tie on, and I'm all shaped up.

* * *

The thing I learned in San Francisco was, some of the guys knew a homicide had been done by somebody but they couldn't prove it. They had a wife, a couple of kids at home and they weren't supposed to be emotionally involved. But they worked at it on their own time, maybe it would take a year or two, but they'd stay with it and prove it."

Steve swallowed hard. "I think with what's happened with our country, respect for the law, and unity, are important."

Bandit Keeps His Holdup Note

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The bandit's note said, "Give me your money. I have a gun." He handed it to Viola Ward, a teller at Security First National Bank, and she handed him $1,170.

Then he fled, but not without first grabbing his note back.

Youth Held in RFK Case Found Dead

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — A 17-year-old who was arrested because he had a letter containing statements about the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was found hanged in a psychiatric ward cell, police said today.

Jesus Chacon, Juarez judicial police chief, said the body of Crispin Curiel Gonzalez was found Thursday in the cell at a Juarez hospital. The report said the body was hanging from a rope made of strips to cloth torn from the mattress in the cell.

* * *

Gonzalez had been taken to the hospital for psychiatric observation under an order from Mexican federal Dist. Atty. Noberto Salinas.

Salinas said the youth was arrested June 17 after a letter or manuscript fell from his pocket at a concession stand in Juarez. The paper included writings to the effect that the youth had prior knowledge of the slaying of Sen. Kennedy in Los Angeles.

Gonzalez had been taken from Los Angeles to El Paso, Tex., across the Rio Grande border from Juarez for deportation. Salinas said the youth claimed both Mexican and U.S. citizenship.

At the hospital, attendants said that for several days the youth had been singing and shouting from his cell that he was going to become more famous and receive more newspaper publicity.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Dizzy Gillespie, the man with the hot horn, gave the Newport Jazz Festival a happy afternoon yesterday.

Gillespie, in bermuda shorts, knee socks and a hippie medallion, entertained the Rhode Island crowd not only with his music but a number of side remarks.

He identified one number as "Swing Low, Sweet Cadillac" and sang the lyric, "I looked over Jordan and what did I see, an Eldorado comin' after me."

At night, the big bands took over, including those of Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Woody Herman.

Nixon Helps Daughter Celebrate Birthday

Richard M. Nixon took what may be his last leisure before the Republican National Convention to help his daughter, Julie, celebrate her 20th birthday last night in Miami, Fla.

NIXON

It was a family party, with the exception of Julie's fiance, David Eisenhower, grandson of the former president, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rebozo, long-time friends of the Nixons.

The former vice president, his wife, Pat, and their other daughter, Tricia, made up the rest of the party in the main dining room of the Key Biscayne Hotel.

Miss Nixon had a small, white birthday cake with candles. She wore a sleeveless print dress and let her dark, shoulder-length hair hang free.

Rusk Spending a Long Weekend at Home

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who normally puts in a six-day week plus some time on Sunday, is spending a long weekend at home in Washington.

RUSK

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said yesterday that Rusk, last at his office on Wednesday, plans to return to work Monday.

The 59-year-old secretary has been in subpar health from what has been described as a recurring low-grade fever of undetermined cause.

U.S. Princess Weds French Nobleman

Princess Arenberg, an American citizen, was married yesterday in Marakech, Morocco, in a civil ceremony to Duke Emmanuel d'Uzes, a member of one of France's oldest noble families.

The bride, 34, formerly was Peggy Bedford. She was married previously to Thomas Bancroft and Prince Arenberg.

The duke, 39, a chemical engineer, is an executive of an insecticide firm in Marakech.

Among witnesses at the wedding were the countess of Breteuil and the maharajah of Penjur, India's ambassador to Madrid.

The ceremony was performed by Jilali Chajai, pasha of Marakech.

Cable Hits Line, Two Electrocuted

ALPENA (AP) — Two young Alpena men died Friday afternoon near Alpena when the cable of a crane hit a power line. Robert DeCaire, about 25 and Gary Duby, 25, were pronounced dead at the scene by Alpena County Coroner, Dr. John Bunting.

Duby was leaning against the crane and DeCaire was standing on the bumper when the cable struck the electric line, police said. The crane was being used in the construction of a steel frame building.

Report on Bias in Textbooks Due

LANSING (AP) — An advisory committee checking into possible prejudice in Michigan's public school social studies textbooks is to report to the State Board of Education Wednesday.

The committee, chaired by Dean J. W. Menge of the Wayne State University College of Education, is to present the board with its first set of recommended guidelines for the impartial teaching of social studies.

Area Army Officer Killed in Vietnam

An Army warrant officer from Independence Township was one of two Michigan men who died in recent combat action in Vietnam, the U.S. Defense Department reported yesterday.

He is James D. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon C. Carter of 6220 Snow Apple.

Carter had been previously listed as missing in action.

Also identified as being killed in action was Marine Cpl. Randell B. Little of River Rouge.

Cavanagh Urged Not to Veto Stop-Frisk Law

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, Friday urged Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh not to veto a so-called "stop and frisk" ordinance recently approved by Detroit's city council.

In a telegram to the mayor, Kuhn said that enactment of such a law would do more to reduce violent street crimes than any other single action.

* * *

Kuhn said affirmative action by the city would provide the "necessary support and basis for the Legislature to pass a statewide stop and frisk law."

Kuhn said two such bills are still pending in the legislature and probably will be revived in committee when lawmakers reconvene in Lansing July 24.

$200 Damage by Vandals

Vandals with paint sprayers caused an estimated $200 damage at a Pontiac auto dealership, it was reported yesterday.

Officials at Spartan Dodge, 855 Oakland, told city police that paint was sprayed on the building and on six cars parked in the firm's used car lot.

They said the damage figure will be higher if the finish of the vehicles was damaged.

Child Blamed in Garage Blaze

A youngster playing with a cigarette lighter was blamed by Waterford Township firemen for causing a fire that destroyed a garage and its contents yesterday afternoon.

* * *

Damage to the structure owned by Ervil Latimer of 5800 Tubbs was estimated by firemen at $1,000. Firemen said the boy dropped the flaming lighter on a gasoline-powered lawn mower.

U.S. Musicians Die in Vietcong Ambush

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — Vietcong guerrillas ambushed four young American pop musicians and an Army sergeant escort driving near Saigon today on an isolated road.

Two teen-age members of the group—Brandi Perry and the Bubble Machine—were killed when they tried surrendering with their hands in the air. Two others, including 20-year-old singer Paula Levine of North Hollywood, Calif., and a U. S. soldier were wounded.

★ ★ ★

"I played dead, and that's the only reason I'm alive today," the attractive dark-haired Miss Levine said at the U.S. Army's 93rd Evacuation Hospital where she was treated for fragment wounds in the back and legs.

The others wounded were Jack Bone, 18, of Los Angeles and a 21-year-old soldier escorting the group, who was in serious condition.

IDENTITIES

Identities of the dead were withheld until their families could be notified.

The musical group had started out late in the day for the Vietnamese coastal resort of Vung Tau, about 45 miles southeast of Saigon, to play for American troops. Halfway to their destination, they were stopped by South Vietnamese militia guards who advised them to turn back.

A few miles along on their return trip, they ran into the ambush. Miss Levine said she crouched on the floor while the men got out, first thinking they were being fired on mistakenly by friendly troops. As they raised their arms in the air, the Vietcong opened up again.

On the northeast frontier, U.S. Marines charging through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire killed 78 North Vietnamese troops in a day-long battle yesterday, the U.S. Command reported. Four Marines were killed and 42 wounded.

Elsewhere around the country, only scattered skirmishes were reported.

Communist ground gunners shot down two U.S. fighter-bombers over North Vietnam yesterday, boosting to 863 the number of American planes lost north of the border, U.S. spokesmen said today.

ARTHUR J. HANES

Talk Gave Leads —Ray's Lawyer

LONDON (AP) — James Earl Ray's American lawyer talked with him in prison today and said he got "names and other leads" to build a case for the defense of the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., met with Ray for an hour in an interview room at Wandsworth Prison. Hanes said afterward he found the conditions somewhat restrictive.

★ ★ ★

Hanes and Ray were separated by a glass screen. Hanes said that when he wanted to exchange something confidential with Ray, he would either whisper or write or pass notes to him via a prison guard.

The Alabama lawyer said he was beginning to build his case and organize a defense for the day that Ray might be extradited by the British to stand trial for the murder of the American civil rights leader.

'THAT'S THE SYSTEM'

Hanes spoke to reporters on emerging from the prison. He said he had no cause to complain about the restrictions placed upon him because "that's the system here."

★ ★ ★

Apparently alluding to security, Hanes said: "I think the procedure over here is rather good. There have been people hurt in other cases like this, and I didn't like that at all."

★ ★ ★

Hanes declined to give any details about the names or other information Ray had given him. He also refused to answer a question about Ray's political orientation.

He said Ray had been receiving "many messages of support from the United States and he is grateful for it. He also has received many offers of help for his defense."

Rocky Is Confident of Open Convention

By The Associated Press

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says there are enough uncommitted delegates to assure an open convention when the Republican Party meets in Miami Beach next month to pick a presidential candidate.

"Today there are over 200 uncommitted delegates," he said yesterday as he met with reporters while vacation in Hawaii.

These fence-sitters "are shifting all over the country," the New York governor said.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller said that if he loses the fight for the nomination, he will support the winner, whether it be Richard M. Nixon or any other Republican.

In the meantime, he said, he is unfazed by charges that he is sowing disunity in the party.

MUST BE DIFFERENCES

"I'm simply repeating what he said in writing and speeches and pointing out where I differ with him," he said of Nixon. "I am trying to offer a choice to the Republican party — and to have a choice there has to be differences."

Rockefeller conferred briefly with Hawaii's GOP convention delegates, but the other major presidential contenders treated yesterday as a day of abstention from speech making and public political muscle-flexing.

They unwound in places and ways of their own choosing — Nixon in Miami, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Washington and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, McCarthy's rival for the Democratic nomination, in Minnesota.

It was a rare cease-fire, perhaps the last until November. Nixon said last night as he attended a quiet 20th birthday dinner for daugheer Julie that this weekend would be the last plateau and that from now on he will be working nonstop.

RELAXES

Humphrey relaxed at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., but planned to mount the stump again tonight in Poplar Bluff, Mo., for a Truman Day rally.

George Wallace, American Independent Party candidate, was also booked for a speech tonight in Dayton, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey wrote Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., chairman of the paltform committee for the Democratic national convention, urging that hearings be held throughout the nation so that all segments of opinion in the party can be sampled before the platform is drafted.

"If we are to make clear that our party is fully aware of the currents of change which are running swiftly in America and the world, and that it is truly responsible to the needs and problems of the future," he said, "I believe every Democrat must have a full vote in the shaping of our 1968 platform."

New FCC Policy Hits Station Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcasters who engage in racial discrimination will not be able to get their licenses renewed, under a new Federal Communications Commission policy.

The commission announced the new policy yesterday and proposed at the same time a new rule under which broadcasters would be required to file with renewal applications a statement showing what they are doing to promote employment and programming aimed at minority groups.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the National Association of Broadcasters in Washington said the organization would have no comment until it could study the commission's notice.

★ ★ ★

The FCC estimated it would take four to six months to put the proposed rule into effect which would allow for filing of petitions by all interested parties and possible public hearings.

NOTICES POSTED

Henry Geller, FCC general counsel, said the new rule also would require broadcasters to post notices in their stations and to explain on employment applications that they are pledged not to discriminate against anyone on the basis of race.

Geller said the FCC has received less than a dozen complaints of discrimination since 1964.

Warren Will Stay on Court if Senate Rejects Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl Warren says he will stay on as chief justice of the United States if the Senate does not confirm Abe Fortas as his successor.

But, Warren told a news conference yesterday, he expects Fortas to be approved despite the declared opposition of 19 Republican senators and he believes Fortas will be "a great chief justice."

"I am obliged to say on," Warren said. "I suppose that under the oath I am obliged to perform the duties of my office. I neither expect nor hope that would be a fact."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, leader of the Republican opposition bloc, declined comment on Warren's declaration. There was no immediate reaction from the others, scattered across the country for the long July 4th weekend.

'BASED ON PRINCIPLE'

But the Republicans, who claim unnamed supporters among Southern Democrats, say their campaign is based on principle more than personalities.

In talking with newsmen in the court's east conference room Warren stoutly defended Johnson's authority as well as his selections.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, said Warren, is no more a "lame duck" president than any other president serving his last term in office. The chief justice rejected the idea that Johnson should have the nominations to the next President.

The court's press officer, Banning Whittington, told reporters beforehand they should not put political questions to the chief justice.

QUERY RULED OUT

And during the session itself, Warren ruled out of bounds a question whether he was retiring now so that his successor could be named by Johnson rather than the president who takes office in January.

"That gets us into the realm of politics," he said with a smile. "I left politics 15 years ago. I wouldn't like to have my retirement inject me into politics again."

The chief justice, looking back on the last 15 years, ranked as the most important ruling in that span the March 1962 decision (Baker vs. Carr) that the court has jurisdiction to correct malapportioned state legislatures.

Paterson, N.J., Strife Calmed

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Police with shotguns marching 10 abreast broke up a crowd at the scene of a fire without incident, and calm returned today to the city's Puerto Rican areas hit by four consecutive nights of disorder.

Officers said there were no arrests at the fire scene but reported that nearly 30 persons had been arrested — mostly on minor charges — in other incidents last night and early today.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Lawrence F. Kramer has announced plans to meet today with Puerto Rican community leaders in an effort to end the disturbances.

Minor incidents of window smashing occured until shortly before midnight when a fire broke out in a hardware store on Main Street, the heart of the area which has been the focal point of disorders.

8-BLOCK AREA

Helmeted police ordered all persons off the sidewalks and porches in an eight-block area near the fire and dispersed the crowd without arrests.

Elsewhere, in scattered locations, several fires were started with firebombs, Police Commissioner Edward Englehardt said.

Holiday Death Pace Falls Off

From Our News Wires

Americans were dying at a rate of one an hour below last year's record-setting traffic fatality pace as the long Fourth of July holiday weekend moved past the halfway mark.

The National Safety Council, although buoyed by this year's comparatively low figure, warned: "of course, optimism has to be tempered with a healthy dose of caution."

★ ★ ★

Last year's rate, when 32 persons died in the nation's worst holiday period, was 6.25 per hour. At the halfway point this year, the rate was 5.05 per hour, foreshadowing a total by the midnight Sunday end of the holiday period well below the predicted toll of 700 to 800.

★ ★ ★

Ten persons were killed on Michigan highways in the first half of the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

FIVE DROWN

In addition, five persons drowned.

The normally hazaddious homeward rush period still lay ahead for many holiday motorists.

COUNT IS 309

The count at 10 a.m. EDT showed at least 309 persons had been killed in traffic accidents since the holiday period began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

California led the nation with 25 deaths ,Texas had 20, New York 17 and Ohio 14.

★ ★ ★

Rain slicked highways in the Southwest and in portions of the Plains, Great Lakes and the Southeast. Fog added an additional motoring hazard along parts of the Eastern Seaboard today.

The Safety Council warned drivers to be especially careful this weekend while homeward bound "because people are worn out, children are cranky and drivers are pressured by time."

1 OF THE WORST

One of the weekend's worst fatal accidents was a four-fatality smashup at Easton Md., yesterday. A family of three was killed in the accident.

Four unidentified men were killed yesterday in the crash of a CH47 helicopter near Ft. Rucker, Ala.

122 Killed by Cholera

MANILA (UPI) — A cholera epidemic has killed 122 persons in the Philippines and may spread further during the impending rainy season, the Manila Times reported today. The disease was concentrated on the main island of Luzon, where about half the nation's population lives, the paper said.

Warm, No Rain Sunday Forecast

Warmer temperatures have arrived in the Pontiac area for the weekend, with little chance of rain until Monday.

The official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for the area is:

TODAY — sunny and mild. Tonight fair and not so cool with lows of 55 to 60.

Northerly winds two to 12 miles per hour becoming light and variable tonight.

TOMORROW — Partly sunny and warmer.

MONDAY — Cloudy and cooler with a chance of showers.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 54. By 12:30 p.m. the temperature was 73.

AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT — A $25,000 improvement project is under way at Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. It will add a turnoff taxiway about 1,500 feet from the west edge of the east-west runway. Checking a transit at the job site is Mark Karpeles of Southfield, a county employe with the department of facilities and operations, which is doing the construction. The new turnoff will make the airport safer and improve access to the terminal, officials said. Half the cost will be paid by federal matching funds.

Sports Site Backer Will Be Toastmaster

Ralph Norvell, a leading figure in recent attempts to promote a Pontiac sports arena, will be toastmaster for the combined luncheon and public presentation Tuesday of the newly proposed plan for redevelopment of Pontiac's downtown urban renewal land.

The plan includes provisions for a new sports arena.

2,000 in San Salvador Jeer LBJ

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — More than 2,000 jeering students denounced President Johnson as the "Murderer of Vietnam" and promised a massive protest demonstration today when the U.S. chief executive arrives for a summit conference with five Central American presidents.

Police and national Guard units did not interfere with a students' march last night, but Col. Alberto Medrane of the national guard pledged that he would not let the demonstrators disrupt Johnson's motorcade from the airport later today.

The students yelled "Get out of Vietnam," distributed leaflets urging people to "decorate" Johnson's face with eggs and carried placards referring to the summit meeting as "The dragon and five mosquitos."

* * *

They are not Communists, just students," said another national guard officer. "Look at the students in the United States, they are doing the same thing these days."

Earlier yesterday four separate 21-gun salutes boomed as host President Fidel Sanchez Hernandez greeted President Joaquin Trejos Fernandez of Costa Rica, Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, Jilio Cesar Mendez Montenegro of Guateamala and Oswaldo Lopez Arellano of Honduras.

After their first meeting the five issued a declaration expressing concern over possible restrictions by more developed countries against Central American exports and urging that their countries pass jointly a tax on imports into Central America. Each president supported economic integration of the five coffee and sugar republics, currently faced with large foreign trade deficits.

* * *

Although the Latin president agreed on economic goals, there was some dissension about a painting of Somoza hanging in the offices of ODECA, the Organization of Central American States.

Some of the Central American presidents apparently objected to having the painting there and delayed the signing of a joint declaration late last night.

DISPUTE SETTLED

In another development the presidents of El Salvador and Honduras announced they had settled a long-smoldering dispute in a move believed necessary to clear the way for the summit meeting.

Honduras agreed to release 40 Salvadorean soldiers imprisoned for more than a year after they allegedly blundered over the Honduran border. In return Salvador agreed to release a convicted Honduras-born bandit the Hondurans claim was illegally arrested across their border.

Johnson will spend two days here, and will briefly visit the capitals of the other four participating presidents before returning to Washington on Monday.

Some Returning GIs Will Get Out Early

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soldiers returning from Vietnam, Korea or other "short-tour" overseas areas soon will be eligible for up to five months early discharge.

The Army, announcing this yesterday, said the new policy will go into effect Aug. 1. Present policy allows early release of up to 90 days.

* * *

The Army said "short-tour" areas are those where a man serves less than 18 months if unaccompanied by his family and less than 24 if he has his family along.

* * *

"In the past, the majority of individuals assigned to units in the United States, after their return from short-tour areas, have been with their units for too short a time to justify retention on active duty," the Army said in explaining the policy change.

CHANCE TO EXTEND

The regulation, however, will not apply to soldiers returning to the United States with more than five months. This will give men serving in Vietnam or South Korea a chance to extend their tours to qualify for early separation, the Army said.

Of the other services, the Marines and the Air Force let Vietnam returnees go up to six months early although the Air Force limits it to three months for critical specialties.

* * *

The Navy lets men go up to 90 days early and, with approval of the navy personnel bureau, up to 180 in some cases.

Will Change Country—Freeman

'New Rice to Aid S. Viet'

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman predicted today that the "green revolution" created by a new miracle rice seed will change war-torn South Vietnam from a rice importer to a rice exporter by 1971.

"If the price to the farmers remains right," he said, "The new IR-8 miracle rice will stimulate the entire economy, doubling and tripling yields. Already some of the farmers I talked to in the delta are asking for pumps, motor scooters, tractors and other machinery to take advantage of the new productivity."

* * *

Freeman wound up a four-day visit with Vietnamese agriculture and economics ministers and talks with farmers around the country. He said he was impressed with agricultural progress, particularly in the use of insecticides, pesticides and fertilizers, since his last visit here 2½ years ago.

Freeman said Vietnam's biggest agrucultural problem right now is shoring up the price of rice which at paddy level has fallen from 14 to 15 piastres a kilo to 10 to 11 piastres since the Vietcong Tet offensive.

METHODS DISCUSSED

The piastre is worth .85 of a U.S. penny at the official rate of exchange.

Freeman said he discussed with Vietnamese Agriculture Minister Truong Thai Ton several methods of lifting the price paid to peasants for their rice.

The government so far has not decided on any solution, but is reported to be working on a play that would combine several alternatives along with improving transportation from the delta.

Freeman said that the new IR-8 grain of rice developed in the Philippines would give Vietnamese farmers a greater yield per acre "than the best corn land in Indiana" and its shorter growing season of 120 vs. 180 days would enable farmers to diversify with a feed crop of sorgum to increase hog and poultry production.

Thant took a leading role in setting up the talks, which have been going on for eight weeks. They have not made any apparent progress in easing the fighting.

Body May Be Ghost by Clue to 2½-Year-Old Burglary

OPELIKA, Ala. (UPI) — A ghostly body, anchored to a cold lake bottom by a concrete slab, drifted away from skin divers yesterday as they tried to bring it to the surface. Divers recovered from the creek bottom a pistol and a strongbox taken in a burglary more than two years ago.

Sheriff's officers said they had no clues to the identity of the body, believed to be a woman.

* * *

Authorities planned to return to Halawaka Creek today to search for the body, which drifted away from a diver as he tried to bring it to the surface.

The skin diver, Bill Red of Columbus, Ga., told investigators he was almost sure the body was that of a woman. He said the body, floating suspended from a 100-pound concrete block at the bottom of the creek, had long hair.

COULDN'T SEE

Red, a salvage diver, said he was unable to see the body clearly in the 70 feet of water.

Lee County Sheriff Paul Ragsdale said the body could have been preserved for "quite some time" in the 40-degree water.

* * *

The strongbox, containing checks and several empty money bags, was taken in a February 1966 department store burglary in Columbus.

Red told Ragsdale he was diving in the creek beneath a 300-foot bridge, attempting to salvage a boat motor which had been lost over the side of the span.

The diver was making his second pass over the creek bottom when he spotted the body, suspended eerily in the water, drifting aimlessly with the currents. Nearby were the small strongbox and pistol.

He surfaced, notified Ragsdale, then returned to the creek bottom with several other divers. Together, the divers freed the body by cutting through the wire and web belting which secured it to the concrete.

Norway Boasts of Surgery 'First'

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A surgical team reported today it removed three vertebrae from a 26-year-old Lapp woman to treat a tumor that paralyzed parts of her lower body.

The team said the operation took place May 15 in Oslo's National Hospital and that the patient, identified only as Sara, is on her way to full recovery. The woman now can move her knee and lift her leg, the surgeons reported.

* * *

The team said the operation was the first of its kind in the world.

The operation team was headed by Dr. Tormod Hauge, chief of the hospital's neurosurgical department, and Dr. Bertil Stener of Sweden. They were assisted by assistant head surgeon, Dr. Odd E. Johnsen, and Mrs. Liv Refsum, a neuroanesthetic expert.

Pieces taken from the woman's shinbone replaced the three vertebrae, the doctors said.

Hall Likely to Be Red Nominee

NEW YORK (AP) — Gus Hall, general secretary of the American Communist party, is expected to become the party's first presidential candidate in 28 years.

* * *

A highly placed source said Friday that Hall's nomination would come Sunday at the close of the party's 19th convention. Hall, 57, has said he will accept the nomination if it is offered.

Earl Browder, in 1940, was the last American Communist candidate for president. He got less than 40,000 votes against President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The convention, which began Thursday, is being attended by about 300 delegates and has been closed to the press and public. Simon Gerson, a party spokesman, said that Sunday's session probably will be open to newsmen and TV.

* * *

Hall has been the party's general secretary in this country since 1959. He said at a convention session that the U.S. Communist party has a dues-paying membership of 13,000 to 14,000 and between 100,000 and 150,000 supporters.

Party leaders said 37 states have laws to bar a Communist from seeking office.

Man With Pistol Robs Pontiac Cleaning Firm

A man with a small pistol robbed a Pontiac firm of about $100 yesterday, it was reported to city police.

An employe of Ogg Cleaners, 430 Orchard Lake, told investigators the man, who had pulled up his sweater to cover most of his face, entered the building about 1:30 p.m. and brandished the gun.

The bandit took the money from the cash register, then fled through the back door, officers were told.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will live in Wooster, Ohio for the summer. In September, they will move to Hartford, Conn.

The sun was still shining at noon as wedding guests waited for luncheon. From the left are Mrs. George Karas, Fair Oak Court, Avon Township; Mrs. C. Allan Harlan, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Robert G. Hoopes and Mr. Hoopes, Foster Road, Springfield Township.

The receiving line for the Seaman-Varner wedding was inside and guests went out from greeting the young couple to a reception and luncheon in the garden. Mrs. Varner is hidden behind the man in the center.

Male Is King of Castle and Voting Booth Too

VADUZ (UPI) — Never underestimate the power of a man in Liechtenstein.

The voters of this tiny state between Switzerland and Austria got around Thursday after 500 years to deciding whether women should be given political rights. They did it right.

Males of Liechtenstein decided to let their women vote. So 2,238 men and 2,506 women went to the polls.

They decided — 2,592 to 2,152 — that a woman's place is not in the voting booth.

Male election officials said 1,241 of the women voted to deny themselves voting rights.

The men voted 1,351 to 887 against women having political rights.

Interest Lags for Children Taking Lessons

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My younger brother and I play the same musical instrument. We have our lessons directly after school. At first he moved very quickly, as I did through the beginning. But now that he is in sixth grade he is quite busy and unable to practice very often anymore.

I also am busy trying to keep all my grades at an A average, being the editor of our school newspaper, and doing school projects. I have been playing for four and a half years and now I find it hard to work in time to practice.

★ ★ ★

After our teacher leaves, my mom lectures us on how badly we have done. This month the price was to have gone up, and my brother suggested we might quit. My mom said that if he quits, then she would also make him quite his beloved baseball, and I could stop listening to the radio and watching TV.

I sincerely love music, but hearing this day after day makes me mad and rebel against practicing. Are we right, or is our dear mother correct? — "Concerto of Tears"

★ ★ ★

Dear "Concerto of Tears": A certain amount of perseverance is essential to get through the practice which is part of learning to play any instrument. As long as the desire to learn is strong enough, a person is willing to put up with the drudgery.

But once practice, and worse, the lessons themselves, lose all appeal and become nothing but a source of frustration and boredom, there is little value in continuing. You and your brother seem to have reached this point, and I feel your mother should let you discontinue your lessons until such time as they will be equally important to you as your other activities.

Chapel Scene of Vows

St. Dunstan's Chapel of Christ Church, Cranbrook, was the setting recently for vows exchanged by Janice Eleanore Jablonski and John W. Paige Jr.

The bridegroom is the son of the senior Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paige of Birmingham. Parents of the bride, who feted the couple at a dinner reception at their Detroit home, are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jablonski.

The junior Paiges will make their home in Madison Heights following their return from a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan.

Curtain to Rise at OCC Theatre

Oakland Community College and the Court Theatre of Detroit have combined to present three outstanding plays for exciting and provocative summer theatre entertainment in the community, Robert Falk, assistant professor for Theatre and Drama at the OCC Orchard Ridge Campus, has announced.

The plays are "In White America," two one-acters "The Private Ear — The Public Eye" and the hit musical "The Fantastiks."

★ ★ ★

"In White America" will be staged July 12, 13, 21, 28, and Aug. 9, 17.

Produced off-Broadway in 1964, "In White America" is a documentary describing what it has been like to be a Negro in this country. Said the New Yorker" . . . there are dramatic moments and funny, enraging, defiant, and quiet ones."

★ ★ ★

"The Private Ear — The Public Eye" will be held on July 14, 19, 20, and Aug. 4, 24.

Written by the noted British playwright, Peter Shaffer, author of the award-winning Broadway productions "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," "Private Ear — Public Eye" were first produced in London and then on Broadway.

★ ★ ★

"Private Ear" is a tender and poignant account of an ill-starred romance and "Public Eye" is a rollicking comedy about an Augie March type character who, at the moment, is playing the part of a private detective for a wealthy accountant who suspects his wife of infidelity.

'FANTASTIKS'

"The Fantastiks" will be presented July 26, 27, and Aug. 11, 16, 20, 31.

The score of "The Fantastiks" includes such memorable songs as "Try to Remember" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain."

For reservations and information, contact the OCC — Court Theatre box office.

Powder Puff Derby Up, Up and Away

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Eighty-one planes with women pilots took off today for Savannah, Ga., on a 2,469-mile flight in the 22nd year of the Powder Puff Derby.

Of the 150 women entered in the race, some will be flying solo and some with copilots. There are prizes of $3,000 for the first five places.

STOPS

The pilots will be permitted to make eight stops, two of them mandatory. The planes must land at Corpus Christi, Tex., and at Greenville, Miss.

★ ★ ★

The event is sponsored by the Ninety-Nines, holding its international convention at Van Nuys Airport.

The women's flying group was founded by aviatrix Amelia Earhart. At the first meeting, 99 pilots showed up and from that developed the group's name.

★ ★ ★

The winners will be determined by their ground speeds. Handicaps are issued before the race and winners won't be known until all planes have crossed the finish line.

Deadline, however, is midnight, July 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Coram of Long Point Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Janet, to Ronald W. McCollum. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCollum of Monroe. The bride elect and her fiance are seniors at Michigan State University.

Shut All Windows---Musician at Work; Some Day Your Suffering Will End

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a 10-year-old boy living next door to us who has just started taking violin lessons. Now that summer is here, we keep all our windows open, and we can hear this kid practicing night and day. I have heard "Santa Lucia" for two weeks now, and there hasn't been any improvement.

ABBY

I saw his father in the yard and said, "Your Joey sure practices a lot. I hear him night and day."

Joey's father said, "Don't complain. You are getting a concert for free. One day you will have to pay for a ticket to hear him."

I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings, but this Joey is making me crazy with his violin. Any suggestions?

THE MAN NEXT DOOR

DEAR MAN: If "mother love is blind," father love is deaf, so buy an air conditioner and keep your windows closed during the summer until it's time to "buy that ticket."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to your column I realized that I wasn't the only woman in the world who was married to a man who had "lost interest" in her at a much too early age.

I tried all the tricks. Trimmed myself down, new clothes, new hair-do. I even fell for that bit about blondes having more fun. (They don't. They just have bigger beauty parlor bills.) I teased and flirted and even begged. At first I felt cheap, then humiliated. Then I finally realized that there was nothing wrong with ME, it was HIM. I asked him to try to get to the root of his problem, but he insisted that he had no problem.

So that is where things stand. If he won't get help, there's nothing I can do. It's helped me a lot to be able to "talk" about it. And as you know, a lady doesn't talk to her friends about things like this. Thanks for being you.

"A LADY"

DEAR "LADY": I received many letters from both husbands and wives who are married to icebergs, cold tomatoes, etc. Emotional temperatures differ. It's too bad these glaciers don't marry each other.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have two sons. One is 15 and the other is 14. My neighbor has two daughters. One is 15 and the other is 13. My husband works nights, and I work days. The problem is that our two boys like the neighbor girls. They are nice girls from a good family, but when we are gone, the sisters will come over to see our boys. They don't date or anything like that because we feel they are too young.

But now that it's summer vacation, the girls have been spending a lot of time here, and I don't think it's right with no adults at home. Besides, you know how neighbors gossip.

How do I tell these girls not to come here unless my husband or I are home?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You shouldn't tell the girls anything. Tell your sons that they aren't to have the girls in the house unless you are home.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Family and friends will join the Harold Foots Sunday for an open house honoring the Dryden couple who marked their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. The affair, which will be hosted by sons Leslie, Bernard and Ardis of Dryden and Dayton of Warren, will be held at the Dryden Methodist Church from 2-5 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Foot, who were married in Lapeer, have 14 grandchildren.

Veteran Defender With 49ers

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Veteran George Rose is expected to strengthen the San Francisco 49er's defensive secondary, but the 49ers have given up veteran tight end to get him.

The 49ers said Friday night that the New Orleans Saints have offered Rose for Stickles with the trade contingent on Stickles signing with the Saints rather than retiring.

Big Bat Binge Sends Walters on Top of List

City Men's Baseball Slates Four Games Sunday at Jaycee

One of the hottest hitting surges in city Class A League history has shot catcher Dennis Walters of Pass Excavating into the men's baseball league individual hitting lead.

* * *

The backstop has reached base nine consecutive times including seven singles and two walks — in his last three games to jump ahead of Santos Sanchez with a .542 average.

* * *

The Clippers' star improved his rbi count, driving in six in his last two games to stand second over-all.

* * *

Undefeated M.G. Collision's standout mound duo of Jack McCloud and Walt Miller continues to dominate the pitching statistics, and three of their teammates rank among the best five hitters.

* * *

The Class A schedule resumes tomorrow with four games at Jaycee Park.

THE KING — Eddie Feigner (left) the King of the four-man softball team, "The King and His Court," talks with one of his two infielders, Milt Stark. The king and his court will play a regulation game against the Royal Oak All Stars at 8 p.m. July 11, at Royal Oak's Memorial Park.

Duke Gridders Appeal Punishment

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Appeals are pending in a cheating scandal at Duke University involving some key members of the football team, a university spokesman said Friday.

The spokesman, who declined to reveal identities and many other details, said "most and perhaps all" of the 13 students involved had filed appeals.

PUNISHMENT VARIES

They had been given punishments ranging from probation to suspension after hearings, the spokesman said.

He said it might be several weeks before decisions are made on the appeals.

The students, all of them apparently athletes, were accused of submitting term papers written for them by their coed tutors.

TWO GRIDDERS

Two of these involved were identified Thursday by the Raleigh News and Observer as members of the football team—tailback Pete Schafer and fullback Jay Calabrese.

The newspaper said Schafer's father told it by telephone from Ramsey, N.J., that Schafer had been suspended until the spring semester of 1969.

* * *

The elder Schafer said a Duke coed who helped Schafer with term papers "squealed on Pete and all the other boys because Pete wouldn't lend her his car," the newspaper reported.

Huge Leads Ruin Races

Tigers, St. Louis Aid Split

NEW YORK (AP) — When the St. Louis Cardinals and Detroit Tigers sped past the traditional July 4 milestone with 8½-game leads, maybe it was time for the major leagues to think about going to that division system. Like, right away.

On the morning of July 5, the magic number for the Cards was 76 and for the Tigers 75. Unless somebody trips the front runners soon, the commissioner might as well call in the two clubs and set the World Series dates.

The American League, of course, has decided to split into two six-club divisions in 1969 when it adds Seattle and Kansas City. The National League voted to add San Diego and Montreal but decided to go along with one big 12-club league.

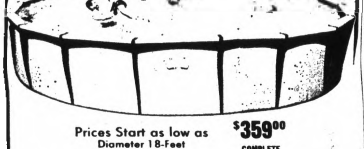

Under the urging of the executive council, Commissioner William Eckert has called the two leagues to meet in Houston next Wednesday, the day after the All-Star game. The National is under pressure to follow the American's lead and split into two divisions.

Just for the sake of argument, let's suppose the National League decides to go for an East-West split along geographical grounds. This is a most unlikely possibility but it could happen.

Lumping the Eastern teams into one group, the National would have Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York, Atlanta, Cincinnati and the new Monreal entry. The Western loop would include San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, St. Louis and, of course, San Diego.

The American League's realignment, already announced, will find Boston, Baltimore, New York, Washington, Detroit and Cleveland in the East and Minnesota, Chicago, California, Oakland and the new teams at Seattle and Kansas City in the West.

STATE WINNERS—Gail C. Strader of 2967 Stephanie, Waterford Township, displays her keyboard style which won second place in the YFC state talent competition. Larry Gavette of 3608 Warringham, Waterford Township, who placed first in the song leader contest, looks on.

Win State Awards

YFC Quiz Set for Sunday

Hillcrest Nazarene Church on Walton Boulevard will host the Youth for Christ "singspiration" tomorrow night from 9 to 10.

Highlight of the evening will be the YFC church quiz finals between Gingellville, Marimont and Silvercrest Baptist teams. Trophies will be awarded.

* * *

Special music will be presented by the YFC trumpet trio which recently placed second in the statewide Youth for Christ instrument group competition, accordionist Dennis Darch and other teen talent.

A film adaptation of the book, "In His Steps," will be shown at the Youth for Christ rally July 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

TRUMPET TRIO

The award-winning YFC trumpet trio again will be featured preceding the 70-minute Ken Anderson Films production. The trio is composed of Mike Bowman of Joslyn Avenue Presbyterian, Duane Moffitt of Gingellville Baptist and Fred Rieth of Sunnyvale Chapel.

* * *

In addition to the state award won by the trumpet trio, Pontiac area teens captured seven of the top positions in the Youth for Christ talent and quiz contests.

* * *

Larry Gavette or Marimont Baptist Church placed first in the song leader contest, winning an opportunity to compete next week in the national competition at Winona Lake, Ind.

* * *

Mike Bowman placed second in the trumpet solo contest.

PIANO SOLOIST

Winning second place in a field of 14 piano soloists was Gail Strader of Waterford Community Church. Gail has been pianist for YFC programs for the past three years.

Third place winner among 17 girl soloists was Brenda Smith of Pontiac First Free Methodist.

* * *

More than 100 teens competed in the Bible quiz of the Gospel of John. High individual scores were earned by Charles Hopper of Gingellville Baptist and Lynanne Clark of Marimont Baptist. They were named to the state all-star senior and junior high quiz teams.

AWARD-WINNING TRIO—The Youth for Christ trumpet trio won second place in the trumpetal group division of the state Youth for Christ talent and quiz contests in June. The group (from left) Mike D. Bowman of 1925 Hopefield, Orion Township; Fred H. Rieth of 5145 Durnham, Waterford Township; and Duane Moffitt of 4090 Mill Lake, Lake Orion, will be featured at the YFC Singspiration tomorrow night and again at the YFC Rally on July 13.

Noted Ministers to Preach Sermons at Kirk in the Hills

Eight nationally known Protestant ministers and theologians will visit the Kirk in the Hills this summer to deliver guest sermons, according to the Rev. Dr. Harold C. DeWindt, minister of the Bloomfield Hills church.

* * *

Dr. Robert D. Swanson, president of Alma College, will launch the summer series tomorrow. The guest schedule will continue for nine Sundays through Sept. 1.

* * *

This marks the second time Dr. Swanson has visited the Kirk as guest preacher. A noted Presbyterian leader, he is a graduate of Park College and McCormick Theological Seminary, where he served as vice president before coming to Alma in 1956.

Dr. Swanson received his D.D. degree from James Milliken University and served as a chaplain with the Navy in the Pacific.

TWO SERVICES

In announcing the summer schedule, Dr. DeWindt noted that the Kirk will continue to hold two services each Sunday at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. In addition, the full Chancel Choir will sing at both services, and two sessions of the Kirk School will be held in the Abbey concurrently with the worship services.

Following Dr. Swanson's visit, the summer schedule will be:

July 14 — The Rev. Dr. Frederick B. Speakman, pastor of Westminister Church in Dayton, Ohio. Dr. Speakman, who was a guest preacher at the Kirk in 1960, is the author of "The Salty Tang" and "Love Is Something You Do."

July 21 and 28 — The Rev. George A. Buttrick, professor of preaching at the Garrett Theological Seminary, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

DR. ROBERT D. SWANSON

* * *

This is the 10th summer in a row Dr. Buttrick has visited the Kirk. He was formerly pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City, preacher to the University of Harvard and editor-in-chief of the 12-volume Interpreters' Bible.

* * *

Aug. 4 — The Rev. Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, professor of philosophy at Eartham College, Richmond, Ind.

Known for his ability as a speaker and as a writer, Dr. Trueblood is the author of 23 books, the latest being "General Philosophy," "The Humor of Christ" and "The Lord's Prayers." He previously spoke at the Kirk in 1961 and 1966.

* * *

Aug. 11 — The Rev. Dr. Gene E. Bartlett, president of the Colgate Rochester Divinity School.

The nationally known author, lecturer, educator and preacher is making his fourth visit to the Kirk. Dr. Bartlett has served as president of the Theological Council of the American Baptist Convention and has conducted seminars on preaching in Berkeley, Chicago, St. Paul and Dallas.

* * *

Aug. 18 — The Rev. Dr. Ray H. Kiely, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Buffalo, N.Y.

* * *

Dr. Kiely is chairman of the Ministerial Relations committee of the Synod of New York, as well as chairman of the Ecumenical Committee and Committee on Church Union for 10 denominations in the western New York state area. He is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary and received an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis.

* * *

Aug. 25 — The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Sept. 1 — The Rev. Dr. Elmer Homrighausen, dean of Princeton Theological Seminary.

This will be the sixth summer that both the president and dean of one of the nation's outstanding theological institutions have visited the Kirk to deliver guest sermons.

FORMER PASTOR

Dr. McCord has been president of the Princeton Seminary since 1959, and was formerly pastor of the University Presbyterian Church in Austin, Tex., and professor of Bible at the University of Texas.

He has held several responsible positions in connection with the World Alliance of Reformed Church and served as chairman of the advisory committee on faith and order of the National Council of Churches.

* * *

Dr. Homrighausen has held the Charles R. Erman Chair of Pastoral Theology at Princeton since 1954. Author of several books, he is the cotranslator of several of Karl Barth's works and has preached in many American churches in foreign countries.

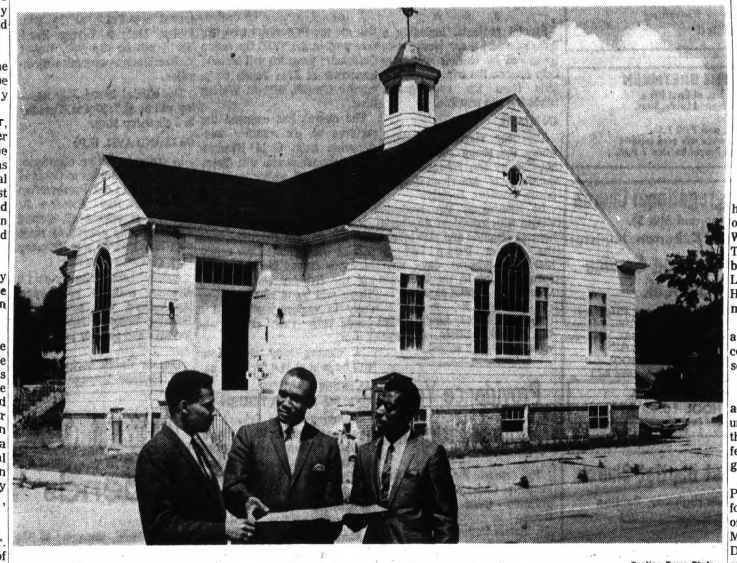

Dr. DeWindt will return to the Kirk Sept. 8, following several guest preaching visits in Toronto and New York.

Plan Musicale

The Gospel Classic Masonettes and Bright Stars of Detroit, Wandering Travelers of Pontiac and other vocal groups will be heard in a musical program at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Mt. Olive Baptist Church, 458 Central.

CHECK FOR CENTER — Stanley S. Kresge, board chairman of Kresge Foundation, presents a check for $12,000 to Pastor Elmer L. Malcolm for the Health and Welfare Center conducted by the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 156 University. Mrs. Rollin DeCamp of 1063 Oxford assists with the center.

REVIVAL STARTS — Looking over Bible Scripture lessons for the three-week revival beginning Monday are ministers of participating churches. The 7:30 p.m. services will be held the first week in Friendship Baptist Church, 96 Williams. The second week meetings are scheduled for Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, 95 Mariva; and the third week the revival in Bible Way Baptist Church, 188 E. East Blvd. Shown are (from left) the Rev. E. H. McDonald of Friendship Church, the Rev. J. J. Blackshere of Mt. Calvary, and the Rev. Charles Warren of Bible Way Church.

READY FOR CAMP — Jesus Robledo (left) of Detroit and Gerardo Chavez of 122 W. Fairmount wait for the bus to take them and several other Pontiac children to Camp Sarah Grindley near Jackson today. Anxious to share their Mexican-American traditions and customs, the boys are taking a pinata with them. The group's stay at camp is being sponsored by the Joslyn Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Union Creates New Church

Wesleyan Methodist, Pilgrim Holiness Join

The new Wesleyan Church has been created by the union of the Pilgrim Holiness and the Wesleyan Methodist churches. The local announcement is being made by the Rev. William Lyons, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church, 19 W. Fairmount.

The united denomination has a membership of 122,340 and a constituency based on Sunday school enrollment of 300,000.

* * *

Immediately following the action upon the declaration of union, approved unanimously by the 648 delegates, the conference proceeded to elect four general superintendents.

The new leaders are Dr. B. H. Phaup and Dr. V. A. Mitchell, former general superintendents of Wesleyan Methodist, and Dr. M. H. Snyder and the Rev. J. D. Abbott, former general superintendents of Pilgrim Holiness.

MISSIONARY PROGRAMS

The union brings together two denominations with outstanding missionary programs, the Rev. Mr. Lyons said. The Wesleyan Church has membership and missionaries in 30 nations on every continent.

The annual per capita giving of both former denominations exceeded $275, thus placing them among the five highest of all American church bodies.

Davisburg Church to Show Bee Film

The Davisburg Baptist Church, 12881 Andersonville, Springfield Township will show the latest Moody Institute of Science film, "City of the Bees," tomorrow night at 7.

*

The film seeks to help the viewer understand the highly developed language of the bees.

* * *

It has taken over 10 years of painstaking work with especially designed photographic equipment for the Moody Institute of Science staff to obtain the footage upon which "City of the Bees" is based.
