Okay $7 Million School Budget

A Lad's Best Friend

THE THINKERS—A young man and his best friend, equally young, share a moment of quiet contemplation at Monroe, Wis. It's difficult to say, however, just what 18-months-old Duane Meier and his canine companion are reflecting on, unless it is the pleasant spring and summer days of care-free play ahead.

Ike, Benson Still Mulling Over Farm Proposal

Conference on Disliked Measure Will Continue Today; Veto Looms

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson met today to discuss an election year farm bill they don't like and which the President may veto.

Benson joined Eisenhower at 8:15 a.m. at the President's working vacation headquarters above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club. With Benson, on his arrival at the sun-splashed, white frame building was a team of advisers who sat in at the meeting.

Benson flew from Washington last night and declared as he stepped from his plane that the farm bill still is unacceptable to him.

"I have not changed my position," he told newsmen.

But he declined to say whether he would recommend a veto of the politically explosive measure which already is figuring in the presidential election campaign.

Eisenhower and Benson chatted easily while photographers took turns crowding into the sparsely furnished room.

Eisenhower himself has said the bill does not meet the test of a good piece of legislation. But he too has kept his own counsel regarding veto or approval.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said anew that the President's decision most likely won't be announced until he returns to Washington early next week.

A provision of the bill which Eisenhower and Benson most dislike is one which would discard the administration's current program of flexible farm price supports in favor of restoration of high, rigid supports for basic commodities this year.

On the other hand, a provision both men want very much would create a soil bank program which would pay farmers up to about $1,200,000,000 a year in subsidies to take crop land out of production of certain surplus commodities.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall was quoted as telling some senators and House members he believes a veto of the bill would be a political "mistake." But Hall was said to be holding out little encouragement he could influence Eisenhower's decision.

Twin Tax Refund Makes Friday 13 Rosy for Student

An approaching tax deadline, coupled with an ominous 13 on the calendar, held no misfortune for Phillip Smith, 17, of 150 N. Johnson St. — only perplexity.

Smith, a student at Cranbrook, received a refund check for $54 from the Internal Revenue Bureau on what is regarded as the unluckiest of days.

Others undoubtedly received similar checks the same day — the only difference is that Smith had already gotten a U. S. check for the same amount the day before.

Far from unnerved by the superstitious aspects, the double-winner intends to "hang onto both checks until I hear from the government."

Gruenther May 'Aid' Air Force

Retirement of General May Bring Selection of Officer to JCS Closer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The forthcoming retirement of Army Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther may mean the Air Force is a step nearer to having an officer picked as chairman of the strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The official announcement that Gruenther is leaving the Army late this year seems to put an end to persistent reports that President Eisenhower might name him JCS chairman when a vacancy occurs next year.

Until his retirement, Gruenther will continue as supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe.

(White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here that Gruenther, 57, is retiring from the Army and as supreme commander of Allied Forces in Western Europe "because of personal reasons." Hagerty said he could not elaborate.)

The Air Force may be confronted with choosing not one but two officers for top spots next year—the JCS chairmanship and the post of chief of staff of the Air Force. The second term of Gen. Nathan F. Twining as USAF chief will expire in June 1957.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, air deputy to Gruenther and now designated as Gruenther's successor in the supreme command of NATO forces, long has been mentioned in speculation regarding both top domestic posts.

President Eisenhower, with whom Norstad served when the chief executive was wartime commander and later NATO commander has praised the young general on several occasions.

Teachers' Pay Hiked by Board in '56-'57 Outlay

Record Sum to Boost Tax Rate by 2.49 Mills; Future Plans Outlined

The city Board of Education last night passed a record-breaking budget of $7,046,919 for the fiscal year 1956-1957, after granting teachers less than one-third of a requested pay hike for the coming school year.

Board members signified that the raise, totaling $333,315, and other allocated funds were the most they could manage in the face of generally increasing costs.

"We are seeking a balance in the costs of salaries, our building program and operational expenditures," explained Board President Louis H. Schimmel.

In addition to the $7 million in operating funds, the board also voted to spend some $1,819,131 to wipe out an operational deficit in the 1955-56 budget and to pay off debts incurred in the expanded building program.

The whole expenditure, the Board estimated, will require a tax rate of 16.83 mills, an increase of 2.49 mills over last year's rate, but still below the rate of 18.50 mills which might be available from the County Allocation Board and from a 8.75 voted millage.

The Board last year operated on a budget of $5,595,020. The new budget will go to the allocation board Monday.

The raise will bring salaries up to a $4,200 minimum with a bachelor's degree and a $6,500 maximum with a master's degree, levels comparable with other rates in the Detroit Metropolitan area, according to Board estimates.

Teacher representatives last night pared down original requests for a $1,109,770 boost by about $346,000. They asked for a $4,300 minimum with a bachelor's degree and a $7,000 maximum with a master's degree.

The board also cut down the number of pay-hike steps from 12 to 10, which Schools Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer termed "the trend in this area." Teachers had asked for retention of the 12-step system.

The board also included raises totaling $29,300 for secretaries and custodians, and provided some $179,000 in contingency funds to meet unexpected rises in building costs.

Representatives of the Pontiac Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers had warned that considerably

Policemen Protest Against Law

City Ponders Crackdown on Employe Suburbanites

The question of whether police officers will be forced to live within the city limits was shunted to City Manager Walter K. Willman today by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Straley turned in a report containing the names of 11 officers with homes outside of Pontiac, asserting that in four cases a 1932 amendment to the city charter is being violated. Willman said he will bring the matter up before the City Commission after returning from a trip next week.

Straley denied reports that he was "pressuring" officers to move and stated that he would remain "neutral" in the controversy.

The law requires only policemen and firemen to live within the city, Willman said, and added that "we've known of violators in both departments."

The question conceivably could eventually affect all city workers, he said. About 20 per cent of the city's employes, including police and firemen, now live outside the city limits, Willman said.

'UNFAIR,' SAYS GROUP

The Police Officer's Assn. has termed the law "outdated and unfair" and announced plans to petition for a referendum election in August to change the provision.

In charge of the association committee to circulate petitions is Officer Guy White, of 2356 Anders Rd. in Waterford Township, one of the four violators mentioned in Straley's report.

White said the association seeks

Snow Removal Taxes Budget

Cost to City Surpasses $12,000; Pontiac Crews Work 4,000 Hours

The 40 inches of snow that fell on Pontiac this winter cost the city $12,244.76 to remove, Joseph B. Jewell, superintendent of the Department of Public Works, said yesterday.

This was almost twice as much as snow removal and plowing cost the city last winter when 38 inches blanketed Pontiac.

The increased cost was the result of more than twice as many man hours employed this winter to eliminate the snow. Workers put in 4,091½ hours to move 1,191 loads of snow in 1955-56.

The previous year, 450 loads of snow taxed workers 1,700 man hours.

Department trucks spread 1,960 tons of salt on city streets this past winter. Last winter, 2,723 tons were spread.

Margaret Heading Home, Floating on a Pink Cloud

NEW YORK (INS)—Sweet and smiling Margaret Truman arrives in Independence, Mo., at 7:48 p.m. tonight, floating on what she calls a pink cloud.

Officials at Pennsylvania Station more sedately call it "The Spirit of St. Louis," the train that is taking ex-President Truman's daughter home for her wedding with Clifton Daniel April 21.

Miss Truman was wearing a black cloth coat, gray one-piece accordion pleated dress and patent leather belt, shoes and bag. Asked how she felt, Miss Truman grinned from gold earring to gold earring and asked in return:

"You mean to tell me you can't see the pink cloud I'm walking around on?"

Daniel, on hand yesterday to see his fiance off, just smiled happily.

TO REST FOR FIVE DAYS

The blonde bride-to-be said, "I'm going to visit with the family, then eat some and sleep some. I'm going to do nothing for five days."

She added as an afterthought:

"I'm going to have to be careful about that eating or I won't fit into the wedding dress."

Her bridegroom, newspaperman Cliff Daniel, will fly to Independence next Thursday.

"I don't think we have any secrets left," Miss Truman said to the reporters with a smile.

Miss Truman was asked if she felt boarding the train that will take her home made the wedding seem more real to her.

The level headed Margaret replied:

"You try choosing silver and china and crystal! It has seemed real all along. I've no more shopping to do, no more nothing."

The couple will return to New York after their Nassau honeymoon.

"We haven't found an apartment yet," she said. "We'll look in earnest when we get back."

Rooster Hitches Ride

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charles H. Lanhan, a salesman, saw a rooster dart in front of his automobile in Indiana yesterday but thought no more about it. Back in Louisville, 6½ hours and 130 miles later, he drove into a service station. When the hood was raised, out jumped the rooster.

Mideast Peace Talks Continue

Hammarskjold, Nasser Resume Conferences; 5 Israeli Wounded

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold held more peace talks with Egyptian leaders today.

* * *

There was relative quiet along the tense Israeli-Egyptian frontier but a Jerusalem dispatch said five Israeli soldiers were wounded today when their military vehicle was blown up by landmines near Niryitzhaq, east of the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

Hammarskjold talked for 30 minutes with Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and for an hour with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

He said he would meet again with Fawzi before returning to his temporary headquarters in Beirut this evening.

TEMPORARY LID

Asked by reporters if he considered his Cairo mission successful, Hammarskjold said tersely "I've done in Cairo what I came for."

The secretary's mission appeared to have succeeded in clamping at least a temporary lid on the smoldering frontier situation.

* * *

Both Israel and Egypt have given Hammarskjold written assurances they will refrain from hostile acts.

Kefauver, Adlai Meet in Florida

Both Attack Republicans Swap Election Buttons, Woo Potential Votes

TAMPA, Fla. (INS) — Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver went their separate ways today after exchanging campaign buttons, handshakes, banter and words denouncing the Eisenhower Administration.

* * *

New salvos against Republicans were voiced from opposites sides of Tampa Bay last night by the two presidential hopefuls in their respective campaigns to capture Florida's eight Democratic convention delegate votes.

Both raised the cry of "special interests." Stevenson made a bid for Tampa's labor votes by charging the administration favored big business while ignoring labor.

Kefauver bore down on the farm bill controversy and declared the nation would be better off without Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Stevenson heads to northwest Florida today while Kefauver goes to Miami.

The rival presidential candidates met yesterday on a school ground near one of the cigar factories both had toured. It was the first time they had met since Feb. 5 when they attended the California Democratic Club convention at Fresno.

GREET AMID CHEERS

The former Illinois governor and the Tennessee senator greeted each other amidst a din of pupils screaming, a political sound truck blaring music, a school band playing and the cheering of cigar plant workers.

The rangy Tennesseean crossed the street in long strides and stuck out his hand when he saw Stevenson shaking hands with high school students.

Stevenson was carrying a cigar he had rolled himself in the plant he had visited. Kefauver, noting the single cigar, exhibited the box of smokes he carried. But Stevenson beat him to the quip by stating in mock surprise:

"You don't mean to tell me you are taking corruption publicly? But I'm one up on you. I've got two boxes."

Cool Sunday Outlook for Pontiac and Area

A partly cloudy and cooler Sunday is expected to follow scattered showers and possible thunderstorms in the Pontiac area tonight, according to weather forecasters.

Today's forecast calls for a high of 60 to 64 degrees followed by a low tonight of between 36 and 40.

Tomorrow, although cooler, will still be fair, the Bureau said, with a high ranging from 50 to 54 and a low between 32 and 36.

The lowest temperature preceeding 8 a.m. was 39 degrees. The thermometer registered 54 at 2 p.m.

5 Blocks Long, 4 Acres of Deck, 187 Ft. High

Saratoga Joins the Fleet

NEW YORK (AP)—The Navy today commissions its mightiest ship yet—the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Saratoga.

* * *

She's bigger, faster and more powerful than any ocean fighting vessel afloat.

If she were turned on end, she'd reach the 80th floor of the Empire State Building. She's wide enough to set two of the world's largest passenger liners side-by-side on her deck.

More than three years in the building, the Saratoga joins the fleet today in a blaze of ceremony, music and newly hoisted flags, with fighter squadrons sweeping overhead.

60,000-TON SHIP

Federal and state notables, including Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas, are to take part in the commissioning on the huge flight deck of the ship, berthed at Brooklyn's naval shipyard.

The Saratoga, bearer of an illustrious name in American naval history, is the second ship to be launched of the class of the carrier USS Forrestal, but she embod'es advances over her sister ship.

Both are 60,000-ton vessels, larger than any other fighting ships. But the Saratoga, at 1,039 feet in length, is three feet longer than the Forrestal, and also swifter and more potently equipped.

Her newly designed 250,000-horsepower engines have the highest propulsion force of any ever installed on an American vessel, about the equivalent of 100 locomotives.

Although her top speed is secret, she'll cruise at an average of about 34 knots (a little over 38 miles an hour).

She's about five city blocks long, and about a block (252 feet) wide, with a flight deck more than four acres in size.

Her two acres of hangar space for the some 100 planes she'll carry bring the combined flight operations area to more than six acres.

The entire population of a city of 40,000 could stand on her decks. In height, from keel to top mast, the carrier rises to the equivalent of a 25-story building. She'll carry a crew of about 3,800 officers and men.

Taking over as her commander is Capt. Robert J. Stroh, 48, a New York-born career officer who weathered some of the hottest Pacific fighting in World War II.

Rain Dampens Kelly-Rainier Wedding Locale

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Rain and restrictions that will keep all but a chosen few from the Kelly-Rainier wedding and the glamorous social events preceding it were causing an exodus of tourists from Monaco today.

* * *

Worried hotelmen and merchants expressed concern that there may be only half the expected number of visitors left in Monte Carlo when Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier are married in civil and religious ceremonies Wednesday and Thursday.

One official said "if the bad weather continues, all we'll have is photographers." A decree by the Prince yesterday barred the cameramen from his palace and the civil wedding.

Meanwhile a steady, saturating rain greeted Grace this morning. Looking out the window of her palace, she saw gray skies. The multi-colored array of U.S. and Monacan flags displayed everywhere drooped damply.

The second day of rain prompted some last-minute changes in decor to protect the prince and the princess-to-be, should the storms continue during the week's festivities.

Bridal Attendant Dies in Collision

5 Injured in Romulus Smashup; Three Others Killed Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sixteen-year-old Louise DelProposto of suburban Belleville had planned on being a bridesmaid today. But she'll never see the wedding. She was killed Friday night, one of four victims in Michigan traffic accidents.

* * *

Louise was en route to Detroit with Leo Hojnacki, 18, and Julia Peters, 17, both of Detroit, who had planned to be married today—but will not.

Leo and Julia are in critical condition from injuries suffered in the same head-on collision that claimed Louise's life in Romulus Township, outside Detroit.

Also critically injured in the Romulus Township smashup were Aubrey Willis, 41; his wife, Lee, 38, and their son, Larry, 13, all of Belleville. Willis was the driver of the second car.

Clarence Anderson, 12, of Port Huron, was killed Friday night when his bicycle and a car driven by Richard Kristick, 26, of Port Huron, collided only a block from Charles' home on the northwestern outskirts of Port Huron.

An Illinois couple, Rudolph Petersen, 53, and his wife, Amanda, 55, of Forest Park, Ill., were killed Friday night when their car collided head-on with another on M60 outside Niles.

The driver of the second car, Nick Danilevich, 70, of Chicago, was taken to a Niles Hospital in critical condition.

City School Budget to Hit $7 Million

higher wages are needed to attract and keep good teachers in the city's system.

Schimmel pointed out that "if we raised taxes too high to meet all our demands, then everyone would complain. We have only so much money to spend," he said.

Whitmer said that recent state legislation changing the allocation of funds to some school districts would not affect Pontiac.

The Board figures on gaining some $2,181,000 in state aid plus $523,920 in primary interest funds. An additional $220,225 for special education and driver training programs is expected from state and county sources. About $4,046,584 is expected to come from local taxation.

Whitemer pointed out that operating costs are expected to rise some $851,000 in the coming school year. He listed as examples, costs for additional pupils—about 1,000 of them, increased expenditures for libraries and textbooks and monies needed to install new equipment.

Also necessarily included in the costs is about $250,000 to step up the building maintenance program which has sagged for many years, Whitmer said.

Not specifically included in the budget were raises for maintenance workers, which will be discussed Tuesday at a meeting with the State Labor Mediation Board.

Townships Must Ask Voters to Sell Land

Frederick C. Ziem, Oakland County Prosecuting attorney, has been notified that voters must approve sale of township real estate before authorization by a township board.

The information came from Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh today.

In another opinion, the attorney general said that a candidate, well-known by a nickname that he would like to appear on the ballot, must also file his given name.

The case is the same as any other in which a name is legally changed, Kavanagh advised in response to an inquiry from Secretary of State, James M. Hare.

FREE PISTON ENGINE—First of its kind in the world is the General Motors XP-500, powered by a free piston engine, announced by GM President Harlow H. Curtice. The experimental engine represents an entirely new concept in automotive power. The engine, which burns animal, vegetable or mineral oils, "pumps" hot gases through a pipe to a turbine which drives the rear wheels of the vehicle. It is making trial runs at General Motors Technical Center and will be unveiled at the Technical Center dedication May 15-16.

The engine develops a nominal 250 horsepower, and consists of two parallel cylinders, each containing a set of two horizontally opposed pistons. It is said to operate virtually without vibration. An engine which has never heard of "octane," it has been fueled with whale oil, peanut and other vegetable oils.

Chaplain Lauds Grace for Bringing Joy

Beaming Rainier Relaxes in Glow of Kelly 'Magic'

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Prince Rainier's chaplain said today Grace Kelly had made her future husband happy and relaxed in the 48 hours they've been together in Monaco.

* * *

"She did in one day what I've been trying to do for six years—make him happy and relaxed," the Rev. Francis Tucker, told reporters.

* * *

"I've never seen my boy so happy. My work is done."

Father Tucker, of Wilmington, Del., played a major role in the romance. He arranged for the Prince to visit the Hollywood actress last Christmas Eve at the Philadelphia home of her parents. The engagement followed.

* * *

Shortly after noon Rainier drove out of the palace with Grace at his side and swept off down the steep road toward Monte Carlo. A wall of policemen formed behind them, blocking off a double wall of photographers who tried to follow.

A friend said the two were spending a lot of time with each other and had let both their families know "they'd like to get slightly lost."

* * *

While the Prince and Grace basked in their new-found happiness, the High Chamberlain of Monaco announced they would get a lecture on the seriousness of marriage just before the civil ceremony Wednesday. He said that Marcel Portanier, president of Monaco's State Council, would devote three minutes to the lecture.

* * *

Many of the American wedding guests were greeting each other with "What do you hear from Grace?" They have found that the walls of Rainier's palace are even thicker than they look.

* * *

Prince Rainier still is furious over the tactics of some photographers yesterday when he took Grace and her parents to luncheon at his sister's villa.

The couple were scheduled to make their next official appearance tomorrow night at the International Sporting Club Gala, a white tie and tails affair which is being underwritten as a present to the Prince by Aristotle Onassis and other rich friends.

Mexican Police Deny Capture of Thorpes

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Mexican police officials continued their denial today that the missing Michigan embezzlers, Mrs. Anna Thorpe and her husband, Floyd, have been captured in Mexico.

Reliable informants said the Thorpes were picked up with their 9-year-old daughter, Kay, Friday in Merida, close to the seaport town of Progreso. The arrest scene was about 650 miles south of Mexico City.

It was believed the police were holding up formal announcement of the arrests because of "competition among Mexican authorities over who should receive the credit."

* * *

The law enforcement officers including the secret service, the federal security police and immigration officers, denied the capture reports.

Informants said the Thorpes were traced to Merida from Vera Cruz.

They vanished March 2 from a branch office of the Michigan secretary of state after a $74,841 shortage was discovered. The Thorpes were residents of St. Clair Shores, near Detroit.

Mrs. Thorpe's sister, Mrs. Josephine Rutsky and her boy friend Richard Radwill of Chicago, were arrested recently by Mexican police and extradited to the U.S. They allegedly made arrangements for the Thorpes flight.

Scout Chairman Wins New Term

Re-elect John Ostrander Pontiac District Head at Meeting

John E. Ostrander was re-elected chairman of the Pontiac Boy Scout District at a committee meeting this week.

Ostrander, of 1609 Parkway St., will serve for one year. He was first elected in a special election last fall.

Re-elected vice chairman was Harold Wright, of 145 E. Huron St.

Growth of the district and progress being made under Ostrander's leadership were praised in a talk by Lester Churchill, president of the Clinton Valley Council.

Ostrander introduced Frank Kuhn, past council president and former Pontiac fire chief.

George F. Taylor, Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, addressed some 70 district scouts, scouters and wives who attended at Grace Lutheran Church, where scouts of Troop 224 acted as hosts.

to have the charter changed before any officer is forced to leave his home.

Six others on the list, Straley said, are new officers not required to live in town until probationary periods end. The association claims several of these officers want to remain outside the city, and adds that other officers not on the report want to move out.

Straley said one objection to the officers' proposal is that they are "on call" 24 hours a day and must live close to their jobs to answer any emergency.

"If the tax-payers who pay the officers want them to live in the city," he added, "that's where they must live."

The eleventh officer on the report joined the force before the law was passed and hence is not affected by it, Straley said.

Says Gruenther Could Well Be '56 Dem Choice

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Rep. Chatham (D-NC) said last night Gen. Alfred Gruenther, retiring supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, "could be" the Democratic presidential nominee in the event of an impasse between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

In a statement issued here, Chatham predicted that Gruenther would be "completely available" for the nomination. Chatham described the general as a "well equipped man and definitely presidential timber."

A member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Chatham started a Gruenther presidential boom several weeks ago when the general appeared before the committee. Chatham told the committee at the time that Gruenther was "wonderful presidential material."

Acid Victim Riesel Suffering Relapse

NEW YORK (INS) — "Signs of regression" shadow the hope physicians held earlier that Labor Columnist Victor Riesel, victim of an acid throwing attack, would recover his sight.

A medical bulletin issued yesterday at St. Clare's Hospital, said:

"The next several days are highly critical ones in the fight to save Victor Riesel's sight.

"Today, there were regrettably signs of regression in Mr. Riesel's ability to distinguish bedside visitors."

The labor columnist's eyes had been seared by sulfuric acid when a still uncaptured assailant dashed the fluid in his face as he was leaving a Broadway restaurant April 5.

Alton Levy, Riesel's associate, said physicians were treating the columnist at regular invervals to overcome "dangerous developments."

Fear Missing Youth May Meet Foul Play

A playmate claimed that a Detroit boy, 12, "went away with a strange man to look at a lake" yesterday afternoon about 4 p.m.

The boy was Grant Letts, 18644 Champaign, Allen Park, and he has not been seen since.

Police learned of the "strange man" from Donald Bramlett, 11, Allen Park, who had run away from school with Grant. Donald said it was near the Detroit-Melvindale limits that the stranger offered to show them a lake. Donald refused to go but Grant and the stranger walked away together.

Policemen and special detectives are concentrating the search on a triangular industrial area bounded by Fort south, Oakwood and Schaefer, at Detroit's extreme southwest limits. A boy's pair of shorts has been found such as a 12-year old might have worn.

Grant is five feet tall, weighs 75 pounds and has brown hair and blue eyes.

The driver, Collis, said the vehicle left the highway and went into the ditch on Sashabaw Rd.

The Day in Birmingham

Library Budget Surplus to Go Into Redecorating

BIRMINGHAM — Shortage of librarians is causing a surplus of salary funds this year at Baldwin Public Library, according to Mrs. Graham Shinnick, secretary of the library board.

The funds are being switched into a redecorating fund, she explained in the expenditure summary for the current fiscal year enclosed with the proposed budget for next year submitted to city council.

The budget is being studied by the city manager, and will be submitted to the city's governing body again when the entire city budget is considered.

One post at the libary is still open and another vacancy could not be filled as soon as the job developed, Mrs. Shinnick says. Further reductions in total salary costs were caused when a senior clerk receiving a maximum salary was replaced by one at a minimum starting salary. For total salaries $52,380 is being asked, with $44,650 being used this year.

"This economy has worked a hardship to staff and a disservice to the public," she says.

But the cleaning and painting of reading room walls will be the first redecorating there in 12 years. That, with relighting and renewal of heating elements, indicates real progress, she points out.

Next year's plan calls for new thermostats, and a larger parking area on Chester. Long-range planning should come next year, the board's secretary indicates, for "relieving crowded conditions of books and borrowers."

The library board, which sets its 1955-56 actual expenditures at $80,472, asks that next year's budget be $89,516. That would include $800 in state aid, and a city contribution of $77,116. Taxes on the city's 1956-57 assessed valuations of over $58 million would take care of this, the board suggests.

* * *

Carl Christian, 25, will take over principalship of Our Shepherd Lutheran Church's new day school in September. Christian has headed a parochial school in New Albany, Ind. two years.

* * *

The city's new recreation director will be named in several days, according to Mrs. William Jackson, chairman of the recreation board. The candidate whom the board singled out at its Thursday meeting has asked for a letter with complete details of salary and benefits before his decision. His name is being withheld until he accepts the position.

* * *

Officers of the High Twelve club have been changed, because of the recent death of its vice president, Maurice Smith. His son, Maurice Jr., has been invited to club membership and attended his first meeting this week.

The new staff, under the President, Harold Gasser, is Lyle Bones, first vice president, Rutherford C. Scott, second vice president William T. Arlund, secretary, and Willis B. Mallory, director.

Next Monday night's program includes a Cranbrook planetarium tour after dinner at the Community House.

* * *

About 115 Holy Name students will receive their First Communion at Mass tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. The parish's catechism class of 50 students attending public school, will receive it next Sunday.

Offices at 73 W. Huron were entered and desks and cabinets rifled as well as the cash register, they said. The loss was not estimated.

Apparently the thieves did not enter at 75 W. Huron, police added.

Glass in the front door was discovered broken, they added.

Colossal, 9-Acre New York Coliseum Cost 35 Million--Opens on April 28

NEW YORK (AP) — Folks, wait until you see this town's new Coliseum. It's colossal!

* * *

The 35 - million - dollar project, with its nine acres of exhibition space, will be opened formally April 28. It's been under construction since April 12, 1954.

Four trade shows or exhibitions can be held in it simultaneously. The huge lobby can be broken up into four separate ones to accommodate each show or be a single foyer as it will be when the International Home Building Exposition takes over the four floors May 12 to 20.

* * *

The coliseum is so gigantic that the home building exposition will exhibit four model homes, one of them complete with swimming pool.

The building, located on the west side of Columbus Circle, extends between west 58th and 60th streets. The four exhibition floors take up the height of a normal six-story building. At one end of the structure a 20-story office building rises.

* * *

Air conditioning makes the coliseum usable all year around. It has daylight lighting, eliminating all shadows. Its public address system can be directed to the entire exhibit area or zoned to a section of it.

The largest truck on the road can drive onto the first and second floor exhibition halls by way of ramps from the street. Smaller trucks can reach the third and fourth floors by elevator. Two basement garages have space for 850 cars.

* * *

There will be 14 food bars scattered throughout the building. A liquor bar will be on each exhibition floor. There will be a cafeteria.

It has no permanent auditorium. The second floor, however, can seat 10,000 persons.

* * *

The coliseum is the dream of Robert Moses, chairman of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority.

The building is leased to the Coliseum Exhibition Corp. which will run it, guaranteeing the authority $300,000 a year in rent plus a percentage of the profit. In 35 years the indebtedness is expected to be paid. Then the coliseum becomes the property of New York City.

* * *

Last May 9 a man was killed when a temporary form collapsed under the weight of fresh concrete poured for the second floor. The accident delayed completion about a month.

Plant May Cut Farmers' Woes

Agriculture Department Reveals Medical Uses Obtained From Crop

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
A. P. Science Reporter

DALLAS (AP)—U. S. farmers may soon get a new money crop—growing plants to make hormones for medical use.

These plants, close relatives of the Mexican yam, would yield starting chemicals from which chemists can make cortisone, the hormone that combats arthritis, and sex and other hormones.

The prospects were outlined today to the American Chemical Society by Dr. M. E. Wall of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's eastern regional utilization branch, Philadelphia.

Mexican yams, plants of the species Dioscorea, are rich in the basic chemicals from which many hormones are made.

SOME SPECIES TESTED

Some of these species have been tested for growth in the United States at Beltsville, Md.; Savannah, Ga.; Coconut Grove, Fla.; and Baton Rouge, La., with prospects fairly bright now that they can be grown in this country, Dr. Wall said.

Dr. Wall, H. A. Walens and S. Serota are studying two chemicals isolated from a Dioscorea plant found in Mexico by Drs. H. S. Gentry and S. Correll of the Department of Agriculture.

These chemicals may provide a way of making cortisone by entirely chemical steps, instead of a method using partly chemical and partly microbial steps, Dr. Wall said.

This same species of plant also contains the raw material ordinarily used now in making cortisone synthetically.

Other scientists are investigating whether this plant can be grown in the United States. That study will take about two years.

If it will grow here, and is a good source of hormone material, then farmers will have a hormone money crop. Demand for the hormones is high, and increasing.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Robert H. King showed friends today a dollar bill—printed with pictures of George Washington on both front and back.

* * *

She said bank officials have told her they have no knowledge of such a bill released by the Treasury Department. Their examination indicated it had not been altered, she said.

The odd bill was sent to Mrs. King by her son who told her he received it in change from a store at Wilkes-Barre recently.

Mrs. King said the Bureau of Printing and Engraving had asked her to send it to Washington for examination.

Former T-Man Faces Charge on Filing Returns

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A former deputy collector who has specialized in preparing tax returns since he left the Internal Revenue Service was charged yesterday with not filing returns on his own income in 1953 and 1954.

* * *

The government accused Atty. Joseph P. Wilson, deputy collector in the service's Camden office from September 1936 to 1940, with no filing returns on income of $11,109 for 1953 and $10,487 for 1954.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John H. Mohrfeld III, who filed the charge, said Wilson was one of a number of attorneys in southern New Jersey whose tax affairs have been under investigation.

Wilson did not file returns since 1948 but is subject to prosecution only from 1953, Mohrfeld said.

Area School Boards OK Budgets for Coming Year

Districts Set Appropriations

Act on Staff Salaries, Financing of Bonds, Building Projects

School boards in several districts passed on budgets this week, ending pencil-chewing sessions on how to meet expanding costs of operating schools in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

Some school districts also took action on such related items as teachers' salaries, bonds to finance building projects, and school curriculum.

Rochester

Faced with a rapid expansion of the Rochester school district, the Board of Education approved a budget of $1,149,908 at its meeting Tuesday night. This is an increase of approximately $190,000 over the current year.

Addition of 24 teachers with salaries of approximately $110,000 will take a big slice of the budget increase, Superintendent of Schools Donald C. Baldwin said. Teachers' salaries have been revised upward to allow from $4,100 for new teachers with B.A. degrees to a maximum of $6,100 for teachers with M.A. degrees and 12 years' experience.

The opening of the new high school unit in September also will bring costs up, it was pointed out, although state school aid will take care of part of this.

In order to balance the budget, the local tax will have to amount to $499,945, an increase of about $150,000 over the 1955-56 tax, officials said.

School Board Treasurer A. R. Musson said undoubtedly a tax increase would be necessary, but "The exact amount cannot be determined until the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board sets our rate for next year." State funds will cover more than half the budget.

Twelve of the new teachers will be sent to the junior high school, where it is hoped to cut class enrollment from 40-45 pupils per room to 30-35.

Lyon Township

The Lyon Township Board of Education met in a special session and announced the school operating budget for next year as $433,000. This is an increase of $42,000 over the current year.

Over $30,000 will be taken up by increased salaries. Larger enrollments and cost of supplies necessitated the balance of increase, board members said.

Walled Lake

The Walled Lake Board of Education approved a budget calling for expenditures of $1,441,052, and will send it to the allocation board. A committee from the teachers' club is to meet with the board next Monday night, at which time teachers' salaries will be discussed.

Teachers' contracts under the new tenure law were approved for 93 teachers who have completed their tenure probation, 24 who have their degrees but who have taught less than two years, and for 27 who have less than a degree although they may have special or life certificates. These will be issued one year contracts.

In other business, Keego Sales and Service was awarded a contract for the purchase of five 60-passenger school buses. The bid called for the trade in of three old buses.

Farmington

The Farmington Board of Education approved a 1956-57 budget of $1,810,791, to cover all expenditures.

The board also approved two appointments—that of Harold Humble as high school assistant principal, and John Cotton as athletic director.

A meeting date of April 16 was set to appoint architects for the proposed new school building and consider teacher applications. The board also agreed to sell bonds to finance new schools. Voters authorized a $2,000,000 bond issue in a March 26 special election.

The board also approved four new courses. Driver training will begin about June 16 at the close of the present semester. Commercial law, sociology and typing for personal use will be offered next semester.

Royal Oak

No tax increase will be asked by the Royal Oak Board of Education even though the new school budget for 1956-57 which calls for $5,508,500 is $1,032,590 more than the present one. About $2,527,000 will come from local taxes, and money from the state aid appropriations.

Increased costs for operating new schools, pay increases and new teachers account for the increase in the total budget from $4,475,910 for the current year to $5,508,500 for next year.

School taxes now cost $38 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Madison Heights

The 1956-57 school year budget of $974,825 was approved by the Madison School Board Thursday. The present budget is set at $875,604. The budget will be submitted to the Oakland County Allocations Board soon.

MMPA Leader Calls Meeting

ROMEO—Harold H. Fritz, president of the Romeo local of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., has called a meeting of area association members for Monday, at 8:15 p.m. in Romeo High School Auditorium.

Principal discussion will revolve around the latest developments in the court case for clarification and interpretation of the by-laws and rights of membership of the MMPA.

"The recent milk strike has proved that we must get control of the association for the membership if our rights are to be protected," Fritz said today.

The president of the Romeo local is plaintiff in the court case.

Dairymen are invited to air their own personal grievances at the meeting. They will also be brought up to date on the progress of the Federal Grand Jury investigation into "evidence of a monopoly and possible collusion between persons connected with the MMPA and some dairies." The probe is now in progress in Detroit.

The building, at the corner of Williams Lake and Maceday Lake Rds., which was constructed at a cost of $60,000, is the first unit only, with provision for future expansion.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper and reception of members will be held during the morning worship service at 10:45 Sunday.

Formal dedication of the building has been set for May 27.

The body was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, where Dr. John D. Monroe has ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Would Bring World Famous Performers to Village

Campaign for Rochester Civic Concerts Near Climax

ROCHESTER — Over 150 volunteer workers had high hopes of success today in their campaign to form a Rochester Civic Music Assn. and bring world-famous singers, dancers or musicians to the village this fall and winter.

A goal of 600 to 700 memberships in the association—to guarantee a capacity audience for future concerts—passed the half-way mark Friday noon, with only a portion of the volunteers reporting.

The campaign will close at 6 p.m. today. No memberships will be sold after tonight, and no single tickets to the concerts will be available.

Membership in the Civic Music Assn. entitles the ticketholder to attend any and all concerts, which will be presented at the Rochester High School Auditorium, and arranged through the Civic Concert Service of New York City.

Along with membership goes a "talent ballot" which permits the member to indicate his preference of the type of concerts he desires. A similar cultural series in Waterford Township this winter included such varied programs as the Vienna Boys Choir, an international dance team and dual pianists.

Instrumental concerts, vocal and musical ensembles also are on the list of available talent.

TABULATE BALLOTS TONIGHT

A committee will tabulate the ballots tonight, and the concerts will thus be decided by popular vote.

Individuals and groups from Lake Orion, Oxford, Avondale, Romeo and Utica are cooperating with the Rochester Assn. in making the series possible, according to Donald Butcher of Rochester, president of the local association.

"All persons interested in fine music, good dancing and in seeing or hearing some of the well-known artists are invited to purchase a membership and see the concerts," Butcher said.

"Those who have not been approached by one of our volunteers still may make a reservation by telephoning Mrs. David Davis, representative from the New York office of the Civic Concert Service, at OLive 1-0321 today, or by calling any committeeman or volunteer."

'Angora Princess' Is Rochester Girl, 13

ROCHESTER—Jane Booth, 13, of 703 Parkdale, who was the only person to show Angora rabbits at the Michigan State Fair, has received a notice that she is being sent a pair of American Angoras in her favorite color, smoke grey.

Jane also received an advance copy of the American Rabbit Journal magazine in which she is featured as "Princess of the Month" for April.

Jane's new Angoras will be from the herd of the Secretary of the Angora Assn. The Association is also sending her materials to use for an educational exhibt on Angora rabbits at the Michigan State Fair in September.

These American type Angoras are a dual purpose type, for wool and meat.

Angora wool is use for yarns, for blended wool fabrics and especially for the finest felts used in expensive hats. The wool is obtained in one of two ways, by plucking or shearing.

Jane says, "I would not want to raise Angroas as a business as that takes about 100 head but they make affectionate and beautiful pets and a fine hobby."

Daily Worker Joins Anti-Stalin Campaign

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist Dailey Worker says it has "apparent confirmation" of a bloody purge of Jewish leaders in Russia during Stalin's reign.

The newspaper admitted in an editorial yesterday that it had been "too prone" in the past to repeat Communist denials of anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union.

The editorial appeared to be another blow in what has become a worldwide Communist party attack on Stalinism.

Stowaway on Airline Gets Stowed in Klink

NEW YORK (AP)—Wanderley Da Cunha Camargo, 21, Brazilian who flew here twice from Rio de Janeiro as an airline stowaway, has been grounded for six months.

Federal Judge Leo Rayfield sentenced him to the House of Detention yesterday for six months each on charges of illegal entry and being a stowaway. The sentences are to be served concurrently.

Camargo will be deported after he has served his time.

Maine 'Selects' Women Senator for High Office

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine delegates to the National Republican Convention have been instructed to present senior Sen. Margaret Chase Smith as the state's "favorite daughter" candidate for the vice presidential nomination.

Mrs. Smith's name was put before the state convention, which met for the last of its two-days convention here yesterday, by South Portland nurseryman Clinton D. Wallace.

Maine's 16 votes will go to San Francisco unpledged, however, to either a presidential or vice presidential candidate. The convention action left a loophole by charging the delegates to make the nomination only if it appears "feasible."

Most delegates showed a marked preference for President Eisenhower and the majority backed Vice President Nixon although others said they would support the President's choice. A few were noncommittal.

HOLLAND IN SPRINGTIME — 6
The Boy Who Saved the Dyke.

Along the seacoast of Holland, where the fierce tides of the North Sea beat constantly, the land would soon be covered with sea water, and the crops ruined if it were not for the dykes, a series of sea walls. Sometimes they are 60 feet tall, and have wide roads along the top.

Many years ago an American author, Phoebe Cary, wrote a poem about a boy who saw a trickle of water forcing its way through a dyke. Knowing there was no time to lose, he thrust his hand, then his arm into the opening and held back the sea water until help came. The little Dutch boy at the dyke has become a symbol of courage and quick thinking.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Fold back the left end panel so the picture will stand.

Cut a slot as indicated along the boy's shoulder, slip the separate arm through the slot and fasten it with a brass fastener or a bent pin. When the arm is down you can see the leak, but when you swing it up the Dutch boy's hand will hide it.

Policemen Nab Jittery Gunman

Good Luck Helps Catch Thug After Holdup of Pennsylvania Bank.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A jittery gunman who took more than $64,000 from the Williamsport National Bank was captured late yesterday by police who had a stroke of "incredible good luck."

The holdup man, identified as John A. Watts, 21, of Williamsport, was arrested after a chase across railroad yards at nearby Lock Haven six hours following the robbery. The money was recovered.

Police said a woman who lived near the Williamsport freight yards notified them she had seen a suspicious man with a small, bulging bag enter an empty car.

Officers determined that the man had boarded the only freight leaving Williamsport at that hour. State police met the train in the Lock Haven yards.

One officer said it was "incredible good luck. Had he gotten out anywhere else up here—what with all that wooded area—we'd be looking for him 10 years from now."

Mrs. Emily Fowler, a teller who stowed money into the gunman's bag, said, "He shook like a leaf during the four or five minutes he took to do the robbing."

The bank employs no guards. It was the first armed robbery in the history of the institution, one of the largest in Williamsport. The bank celebrates its 100th anniversary next year.

His home was one of several northwest suburban dwellings battered by a tornado April 3.

Says Anti-Stalin Campaign May Be 'Just a Front'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Soviet Union's anti-Stalin campaign may be a deception to meet external and internal dilemmas, says the head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

"A dead and dishonored Stalin is likely to be merely a device—possibly a Trojan corpse rather than a Trojan horse—with which the long suffering Russian people are, I fear, to be deceived in their expectation of a freer and better life," Allen W. Dulles told the Los Angeles World Affairs Council yesterday.

Reflections

What Are the Terms?

J. E. VOORHEES

The "terms" I have in mind are not those connected with purchase of merchandise.

A wife and husband came to a Divorce Court. The wise old judge invited them into his chambers, asked her, "Why do you want to leave this man?" She answered, "He leaves his clothes where they drop." The judge smiled and turned to the man. "And you?" The man shook his head. "I don't—I love her," looked at his wife. "I didn't realize that habit was offensive." Within five minute that unhappy situation was resolved; the terms of settlement? Thoughtfulness and understanding.

M. E. SIPLE

Too often we seem anxious to jump into a maelstrom of bitter dispute that has one certain result: enemies. Approach your problem fairly, find terms suitable to both and save the battle for the Army.

Report Finding Vital Hormone

Simple Brain Secretion Starts Body Production of ACTH, Cortisone

HOUSTON (AP)—The discovery of a simple brain hormone, a long sought internal triggering mechanism that sets off the body's production of ACTH and Cortisone, has ben reported by a doctor at the Baylor University College of Medicine.

* * *

Dr. Roger Guillemin, is to present his findings formally Tuesday before the American Physiological society at Atlantic City, N. J.

The 32-year-old French physician and researcher has received a travel award from the society to present a report on his work at the 20th Annual International Physiological Congress in Brussels, Belgium, this summer.

Dr. Guillemin said here yesterday the newly discovered hormone, in tests on hundreds of animals and four human beings, has proved to be a purified substance that can be injected into the body to make it produce its own chemical weapon against mental and physical stress.

The tests were reported to have shown that the brain hormone produces a perfectly normal response in both animals and humans. Unlike animal ACTH and Cortisone which is injected into patients for treatment of many illnesses, it has no objectionable "side" effects.

The discovery was described as the scientific link of evidence supporting speculation of 25 years or more that a tiny subdivision of the brain, the hypothalamus, secretes a substance or substances that govern the master gland of the body, the anterior pituitary at the base of the brain.

The discovery was said to be concrete evidence that the hypothalamus, which is connected with the anterior pituitary by only blood vessels and by no nerve fibers, is regulating the endocrine system.

The anterior pituitary is a tiny speck of matter that is known to produce six active hormones that spread out to control all other glands of the body. Among these hormones is ACTH, the body's method of combatting stress.

GOP Fails in Effort to Modify Farm Bill

While the President is silent as to whether he will sign or veto the farm bill, Congress has made certain that it will be a major issue in the developing 1956 campaign.

The lawmakers accomplished this first, by blocking Republican efforts to send the measure back to conferees to bring it more into line with the President's ideas. The House vote was strongly against that proposal. The conference version then was approved 237-181 and sent to the Senate. There it was finally passed by a vote of 50-35.

This leaves Mr. Eisenhower in a quandary. He likes inclusion in the bill of his soil bank feature which would give farmers $1.2 billion in additional farm aid. But he strongly opposes several other surplus breeding features with which the measure is loaded.

These include return for one year to rigid 90 per cent of parity. He also is against dual parity which sets up two methods of calculating aid on wheat and rice, increased acreage for corn and cotton and higher fixed supports for dairy products.

What the President has to decide is whether to sign a bill he doesn't like or veto it knowing there is no hope of getting alternate farm legislation this session. Rejection would mean that he and his Administration would face the voters in November with no new farm legislation.

What his decision will be remains to be seen. So far the President has said only that he thinks it isn't a good bill. The only other possible clues are Secretary Benson's statement that the bill is "unacceptable" and Administration leaders' predictions that it will be vetoed.

GOP Antitrust Work Thwarting Democrats

Election minded Democrats, eager to attack Republicans as the party of big business, are being frustrated by the Administration's excellent antitrust record.

In fact, there are those in Washington who believe the GOP hasn't realized fully yet the value of the work that has been done in this field since April 1, 1953. It was on that date that President Eisenhower chose Stanley N. Barnes, California judge, to be Assistant Attorney General in charge of the antitrust division.

Few Democrats took seriously the 1952 Republican campaign pledge to "relentlessly protect our free enterprise system against monopolies and unfair trade practices." But for three years not only Democrats but Republicans have been baffled by the vigor with which Barnes has discharged his duties.

Politically Barnes also has won a smashing success. By earning the confidence of wary Democrats and the backing of his superiors, he has disarmed critics and removed the antitrust issue from the political arena.

★ ★ ★

Barnes recently was confirmed as a Judge of U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for Pacific States. His antitrust work has been so valuable, however, the Administration plans to keep him around until Congress goes home.

Although more cases have been filed in the last three years, he has succeeded in reducing the number pending from 147 to 101. When he began work the 18 oldest cases on the docket were five and a half years old. Today the 18 oldest are three and a half. In short, the docket is two years closer to being current.

★ ★ ★

Finally, defendants have shown a greater confidence in the Government's willingness to accept settlement of antitrust cases out of court. That, of course, saves both the Government and the defendants the expense of lengthy trials.

Speaking the Language

From Stockholm comes news of what must be an outstanding example of how an American diplomat has been able to win friends in Sweden.

The diplomat is none other than Ambassador John Moors Cabot. According to the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet, in less than two years he has made a highly favorable impression on the people of Sweden by speaking their language.

★ ★ ★

Not only that, he speaks it so well that he is able to correct his interpreters and to insist that all questions directed to him at public discussions be in Swedish. Besides participating in some 40 such discussions, Ambassador Cabot has come to know the Swedish people by extensive travel in the country and talking to everyone he meets.

★ ★ ★

His success in making many more friends for America undoubtedly will not escape the attention of our State Department. Unfortunately, too many of our ambassadors, especially those whose appointments have political overtones, are handicapped by inability to speak the language of the country in which they are stationed.

The People's Business:

Gone, Not Missed

Michigan Gets by Without Preference Primary

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Over the country, presidential hopefuls have been jockeying lately, and still are, for pre-convention favor at the ballot box, but not in Michigan.

• • •

The presidential preference primary was quietly buried in this state 25 years ago. Apparently, it hasn't been missed much.

So dead is the issue here that talk about it seldom is heard, and relatively few persons—most of them political patriarchs—even recall that the quadrennial popularity contests once were held.

And small wonder.
Consider the results in 1920.

• • •

In that year, there appeared on the ballot in both Republican and Democratic columns the name of Herbert C. Hoover, en route to the presidency in 1928 and recognition later as the grand old man of the Grand Old Party.

SNOWED UNDER

Hoover was snowed under in the Republican preference voting. He drew 52,503 votes, running third behind Hiram C. Johnson, then U. S. senator from California, with 156,939, and Frank O. Lowden, Illinois governor, with 62,418.

• • •

But Hoover was front runner in Democratic balloting, outdistancing William Jennings Bryan and Edward I. Edwards, both about 3 to 2.

The late Henry Ford won the Republican popularity contest in 1916, and the Democratic in 1924. In 1924, Ford outpolled Woodbridge N. Ferris, Michigan's champion Democratic vote-getter of the day, 48,567 to 42,028.

Ferris then had served two terms as governor, 1913-1917, and was sitting in the U. S. Senate.

• • •

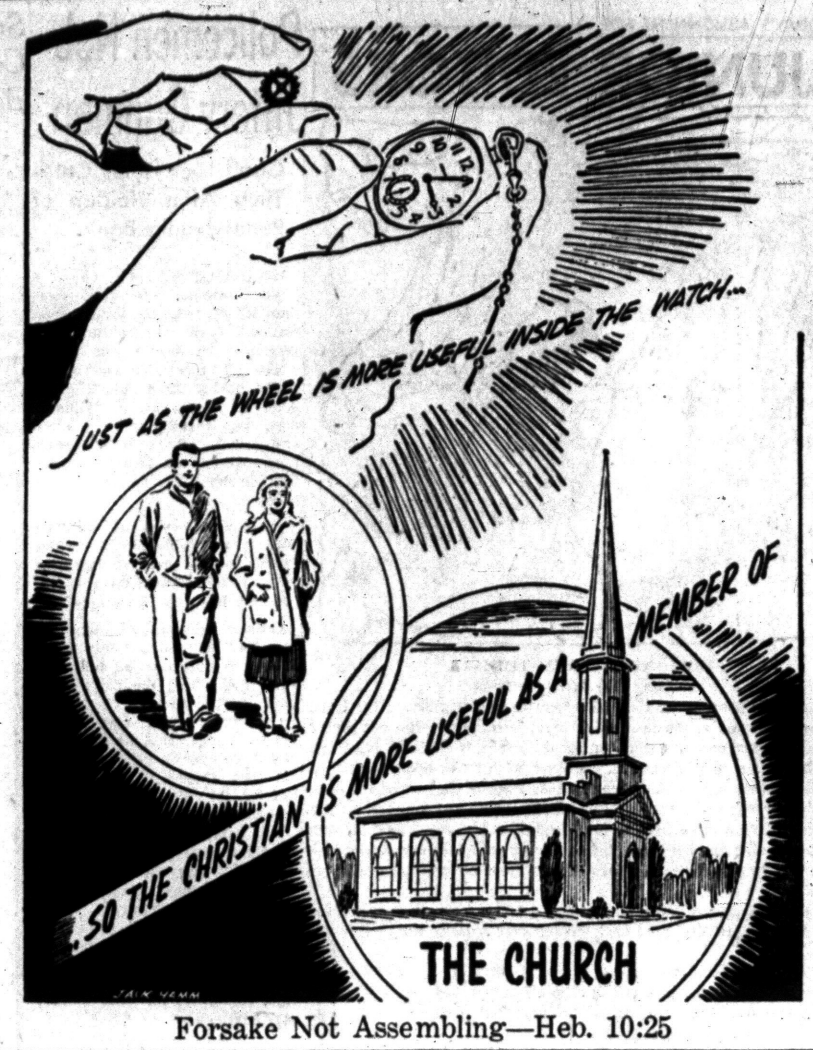

The first Michigan presidential preference primary was held in 1916 and the last was held in 1928.

'DOUBTFUL VALUE'

"Since its introduction it has been of doubtful value in determining the wishes of the voters, it has been ineffective and it has been a considerable expense to the state.

One of the principal arguments advanced in other states for the presidential preference vote is that it lets "the people" speak for the guidance of party organizations.

If this is true, it would appear that the public's voice often is muffled in the spring, sometimes indistinguishable although there have been striking exceptions, such as the clarion write-in call for Dwight D. Eisenhower in Minnesota four years ago.

Monday Marks Death of Bernadette, Girl Who Inspired Lourdes Shrine

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Monday is the anniversary of the death, in 1879, of a French peasant girl named Bernadette Soubirons. Bernadette lived a short life—35 years—and was ill and bedfast much of the time, but her influence has reached almost every corner of the world.

• • •

For it was through the visions of Bernadette Soubirons that the world's most popular shrine, the Shrine of Lourdes, came into being.

Gathering firewood near the town of Lourdes with her sister and a friend on February 11, 1858, 14-year-old Bernadette was astonished beyond belief to see, in a crevasse by the river bank, an apparition of a lovely young girl not more than a year or two older than she. The vision wore a white veil, a white robe and a blue sash, and carried a rosary.

Bernadette did not mention the strange occurance to her companions who obviously had not seen what she had seen, but other visions followed on succeeding days. On February 27 the Lady said to her, "Go tell the priests that a chapel should be built here." At this point there was nothing to do but to obey the order.

The news spread, of course, and everyone demanded proof. Many of the clergy, and thousands of the curious, gathered by the river on March 25 to see whether Bernadette's story was true, or was, as generally suspected, the hallucination of a sick mind.

And what they saw was enough to convince them, for even though only the child saw the vision and heard her say "I am the Immaculate Conception," there could be no doubt in the minds of the witnesses that something tremendous was happening—especily when Bernadette, in response to a command heard only by her, touched the dry earth and a spring gushed forth.

A chapel was built on the spot four years later, in 1862.

Bernadette entered the convent of the Sisters of Charity at Lourdes immediately after her visions—19 of them altogether—and when she was 22, finally was admitted into the Order. She died a year after having taken her perpetual vows.

SAN JACINTO DAY

San Jacinto Day is a great day in Texas, but it has nothing to do with the good Saint Hyacinth of whose name Jacinto is the Spanish version. St. Hyacinth was a young slave in Rome who was burned to death for her faith sometime around 257.

In Texas April 21 is the anniversary of a famous and all-important battle fought in 1836, the outcome of which was that Mexico was forced to recognize the Republic of Texas.

Only a few weeks earlier the Mexican general, Santa Anna, had besieged a Franciscan Mission known as the Alamo at San Antonio, Texas. On March 6 he captured and massacred the entire company of its defenders, including a man by the name of Davy Crockett.

Flushed with victory, the Mexican proceeded eastward until, at a place called San Jacinto near the present city of Houston, he met up violently with General Sam Houston himself. When the smoke and dust had cleared away, Santa Anna was a prisoner and his army was scattered. This was the end of Mexico's effort to keep Texas. The Lone Star republic was established, and the hero, Sam Houston, became its president.

The battlefield is now a state park, and San Jacinto Day is celebrated with great enthusiasm annually in Texas, especially at Houston and San Antonio.

St. Hyacinth's Day is September 11.

Surgical Removal Recommended for Frequent 'Joint Mice' Trouble

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Years ago a condition in my operated knee was diagnosed as "joint mice." What is the medical term for this condition, and what is the remedy? (Mrs. N. H.)

Answer—Portions of the fringes of synoval membrane (joint cavity lining) become pinched off, and are changed into cartilage, which slips about nearly or quite as a free body. If the condition gives you frequent trouble, the only remedy is surgical removal of the "mice" or loose cartilage or, sometimes, stitching the loose cartilage in place.

Have had wonderful relief from hay fever and asthma, by following the advice in your pamphlets. There is one thing you never discuss and you do not seem to have a booklet about it—halitosis . . . (Mrs. L. K.)

Answer—I discuss it and suggest remedies for it in Little Lesson 21, How to Breathe, for which send 35c and stamped self-addressed envelope. For pamphlet on Hay Fever, or one on Asthma, send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Followed your suggestion, used castor oil on my warts, and in a week or so they had all disappeared . . . (M. W.)

Answer—All I know is that it does no harm to apply a drop or two of castor oil to each wart every day.

Your bed-wetting pamphlet was a real help and I do thank you so much for it . . . (Mrs. N. W. T.)

Answer—The Habit of Bed-wetting pamphlet available on request (no clipping, please) if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. Well do I remember how unpleasant it was on damp mornings this time of the year. I wrote the pamphlet with sympathy for youngsters who wet the bed. sympathy inspired by the patience, kindness and affection my parents showed me when I wet the bed.

A few years ago I had what various doctors called mucous colitis, spastic colon, nervous indigestion. Luckily I read your articles . . . booklet on Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene . . . trouble has practically disappeared . . . (C. T. B.)

Answer—Send 35c and stamped self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 25, The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, that is, unless you think you know more about such trouble than an ordinary doctor does.

Let me commend you for your fine articles on having babies at home. After one harrowing hospital experience I thought I'd never have courage . . . but we know from experience how right you are, for we now have five healthy children, all born at home with my husband not only at my side but assisting in the delivery . . . (Mrs. T. S. A.)

Answer—Home is the safest place to have a baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voter Says Fluoridation Is Democratic Situation

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Calling the fluoridation issue a form of dictatorship is just plain silly.

Fluoridation is not forced on the public. It is put to a vote, just as any other democratic measure. Nor are there top officials sitting around trying to think up some new medicine or poison for "common people" to take.

The fluoridation issue came up after the public heard of its benefits and began an organized effort to obtain these benefits for themselves and their children. It is the "common people" who want fluoridation, just as the opposition is made up of other "common people."

The question of whether or not it will be used here is up to these people to decide. It is as democratic a situation as you could ever find.

Retail Employe Opposes Saturday Night Shopping

In regard to a previous article about Saturday night for the stores to be open, I wonder if that 'Hard Working Gal' in an office is on her feet or is she one of those who sit all day.

The girl in whose store she would like to browse never has time to browse. In her work she works from 9 to 5:30 and Monday and Friday nights and then goes home and works because she never has time to sit and read or enjoy her children or family.

Please, let us have Saturday night to prepare our dinner for Sunday, so we can at least have one day in which to rest or attend the church of our choice.

Arab Nations Resentment Goes Back Beyond 1917

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any war in the Middle East—springing out of Arab resentment of the Jews of Israel and the West—will have its roots in nationalism and memories that go back beyond World War I.

When World War I began the Turkish Empire included what has become Lebanon, Syria, Palestine and Jordan. Britain and France, to win over the Arabs when Turkey got into the war on Germany's side, promised freedom to the Arabs if Turkey lost. Turkey lost.

GIVEN MANDATES IN '20

The League of Nations then gave Britain and France a mandate — control — over what had been Turkish territory. The French got Lebanon and Syria, granted them independence in 1920, but didn't get out.

The British got a mandate over Palestine and what is now Jordan but didn't give Jordan independence until 1946. The British didn't get out of Palestine until 1948.

Meanwhile, the Jews, who had not had a majority in Palestine since the Romans defeated them in 70 A.D., began in the 20th century to demand that Palestine be made a Jewish homeland. In 1917 the British said they looked favorably on the idea.

WAR WEAKENS BOTH

Came World War II which weakened the French and British. France got out of Lebanon and Syria in 1946. Britain let Jordan declare independence the same year but retained military ties with the Jordanians. In 1947 the United Nations voted to divide Palestine into two states: One Arab, the other Jewish.

The Arabs protested this creation of a Jewish state where none had existed for 1,900 years. The British were getting out of Palestine. On May 14, 1948, the Jews there declared the republic of Israel.

Egypt has a leading part in this picture now. Britain moved into the kingdom of Egypt in 1882 to administer it and make it a protectorate in 1914 to defend it from the Turks.

EGYPT INSTIGATES MOVE

In 1922 Britain ended the protectorate, recognizing Egypt as a sovereign state, but reserve various rights there, including defense. This was a goad to the Egyptians who were militarily unable to throw the British out.

A movement for complete independence began in Egypt, and in 1947 the Egyptians went before the U.N. to demand that Britain get out. The British did, finally.

On July 26, 1952, revolution led by the army threw out King Farouk. The man behind this coup was Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, now Egypt's Premier, all-around strong man, and new leader of the Arab world.

In stepping into Arab leadership Nasser did what someone was bound to do sooner or later: He took over a vacuum. The Arabs had been disunited, their leaders distrustful of one another. This lack of unity helped whip them in the war with Israel.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Girls, Better Look for a Man Who Can Provide Butter Instead of Butterflies

Annette is infatuated. She gets "butterflies" in her stomach when she kisses her sweetheart. But it is safer to pick a man who can put "butter" therein throughout the years ahead! For your future children will profit far more from butter than your temporary romantic butterflies. Besides, you can teach yourself to fall in love anew in a few months.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-330: Annette S., aged 20, wants to get married immediately.

"Dr. Crane, I am madly in love," she admitted, "and I want to get married at once, but my parents veto my choice.

• • •

"They say Ted will never be able to support me, for he has no trade or profession and just drifts from one job to another.

"But I love him, and isn't love the main thing that counts? No other man has ever affected me like this.

"Why I just feel bubbly inside whenever I hear his voice on the telephone and I get "butterflies" in my stomach every time he kisses me.

"Surely our marriage would be successful if I feel this way, wouldn't it?"

MOONLIGHT & MOONSHINE

Annette is talking like a girl who has absorbed too much moonlight on a romantic night.

For moonlight and moonshine can both produce intoxication until their victims cannot employ good logic.

Everybody who is thus ardently in love, needs to lean over backwards to distinguish between infatuation versus true love.

For physical infatuation can also make your pulse zoom and put those "butterflies" in your stomach.

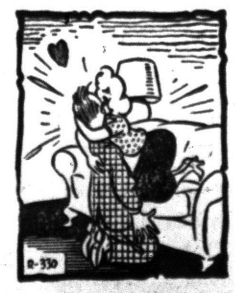

But many a man who can cause "butterflies" in your stomach cannot put the necessary "butter" therein during the years ahead.

When you pick a husband, you are selecting the father of your future unborn children. And they'll be more in need of butter than butterflies in their tummy.

• • •

So it behooves a girl to listen to her parents and friends. And also to rate her prospective mate by the tests named below.

For infatuation makes us careless of details. When we are head over heels in love, we react to a few striking elements in the other person's physical make-up, but gloss over logical items, even though the latter are critical.

Annette thus was inclined to ignore the fact that her fiance was heavily in debt for gambling debts.

He was so callous that he had borrowed money from Annette, as well as from her circle of friends.

• • •

Anybody whom he could 'touch" for a five-spot, was fair prey for him. He was a chronic gambler who still held the juvenile attitude that a man can win success in life instead of earning it.

That's a poor marriage prospect, so I sided with Annette's parents and vetoed her quick marriage.

MARRIAGE FACTS

Girls, you can fall in love with many men! So don't think you will never again experience love and "butterflies" in your stomach if you give up an obviously unfit present suitor.

And don't be a slave to printed wedding invitations. It is much simpler to back out of a wrong marriage, even on the actual wedding day, than to go through a divorce later on.

For your unborn children will not suffer from a broken wedding arrangement. But they certainly will be harmed by feuding parents and a divorce.

"But how can I get him out of my mind if I give him up?" Annette tearfully asked.

• • •

Definitely not by rereading his old love letters or hugging his picture as she cries herself to sleep each night.

Instead, make a clean break. Burn the leters. Return his picture. Start a new life. And, most important of all, start dating other boys as soon as possible!

Pick a new escort and act gay even though your heart is leaden. Soon you'll feel gay, too.

Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act!

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. They help you apply the "butter" test to supplement those "butterflies" in your stomach.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Most Are Overjoyed; Some Are Just Weary

Many Monacans Find Royal Wedding Plans of Grace, Prince Too Hurried

MONTE CARLO (INS) — The pleasure-loving, easy-going people of Monaco just are not used to hurrying, and the job of preparing for the wedding of their Prince and Grace Kelly hasn't been easy for them.

* * *

In fact, some of them are getting noticeably weary.

One shopkeeper, laboriously painting crossed American and Monacan flags on his shop front grumbled:

"I'm glad they're getting married and I can understand why anybody would want to marry Miss Kelly as soon as possible, but this haste seems almost indecent."

Many Monegasques and other residents of this tiny principality can't understand why the wedding was not set for some time in May.

"Certainly the Prince knows that the weather in April is generally poor, while May is the most beautiful month of the year on the Riviera," a hotel-keeper said.

"It's bad for business this way," a French businessman complained. "Not that the Prince has ever had any head for business but surely he could figure out that Easter and the Cannes Film Festival were all we could handle without dumping these monkeyshines on top of them."

COULDN'T BE HAPPIER

On the whole, however, people here in Monaco couldn't be happier. They are looking forward to one of the greatest seasons in Riviera history, and to having fun at the same time.

"The wedding is just the beginning," a real estate agent pointed out. "White elephants that we haven't been able to induce a tramp to spend the night in are being gobbled up. The 'Kelly set' is coming to town."

In Monte Carlo alone there are five of the world's most famous luxury hotels all catering to international society.

The International Sporting Club, one of the most exclusive in Europe, has an "imported" beach of especially fine sand for the comfort of delicate bathers.

The Monaco Country Club is the home of some of the world's greatest tehnis and golf matches.

ROMANTIC SETTING

The Summer Casino at the far eastern boundary line of tiny Monaco offers exclusive gambling privileges, dances, cabarets, amid one of the most romantic settings on the coast.

The Monte Carlo Opera Company is world famous, while the Royal Monacan Yacht Club, of which Grace will be a patron, has in its membership some of the world's foremost yachtsmen.

If Her Serene Highness tires of all this there are the nearby resorts of Nice and Cannes. Fashionable Eden Roc is just down the coast and some of the most beautiful country in all Europe is to be found in the mountains that rise just inland of Monaco.

The people of Monaco don't expect her to spend all her time amusing herself however. She will be required to attend to certain state functions, receptions and diplomatic dinners. As Princess she will automatically become patroness of a hundred different charities and benefits.

Margaret Truman Discovers Bride's Life Is Hectic

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman says she never dreamed how many more decisions would have to be made—and how fast she'd have to make them—after the big one was out of the way.

* * *

JUST THE START

Once she did, though, she found, it was just the beginning.

First off, she said, friends and family wanted to know right away her choices of silver, crystal and china patterns. There also were the details of her trousseau, furnishings for her home and also, where her new home was to be.

She said she never anticipated all the breathless newspaper hullabaloo over every tiny detail of everything, but she had one accidental stroke of good luck.

"I bought my clothes in February, and I was never smarter in my life."

AVOIDED PUBLICITY

This was before the announcement of her engagement. Now she couldn't even buy a pair of gloves without getting reams of publicity.

* * *

She and Daniel couldn't go house-hunting until after the engagement was announced—"Miss Truman is rather a conspicuous person to take house - hunting," said Daniel — and after the announcement she found she didn't have time.

So after their wedding trip to the Bahamas, they'll settle for the time being in Miss Truman's present apartment in the Hotel Carlyle.

Right now she's busy clearing closet space to make room for a man's wardrobe, too.

MOM IN CHARGE

As for her wedding April 21 in Independence, Mo., she said she has been leaving details of the reception up to her mother and "Mom has everything well in hand."

She said she'd received a lot of letters asking why she refuses to be married in the traditional white gown. Her answer:

"(A) I don't like white gowns. Never did, although I have nothing against them for others. (B) I look horrible in white."

Special Meeting Set by Areme Chapter

Homemaker Finds Freedom Dull

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Have you ever wished and wished and wished for something and then, when you got it, found it wasn't what you wanted at all? Most of us do, at one time or another in our lives.

* * *

Mothers, particularly, have this happen to them in the natural course of events.

Through the years, when they're really pinned down with the children, they wish they had time to themselves, time to do things on their own, freedom from day-in, day-out child care.

When they get their blessed liberty, when the children grow up and marry and leave, the liberty isn't half as blessed as they thought it would be!

* * *

That's how it was with Mrs. L. "My youngest married two years ago," she writes. "Suddenly I had the peace I'd always wanted. At first, it was nice!

TIME TO RELAX

"There were no clothes spread out all over the bedroom, no tied-up telephone, no kitchen being raided of things I had planned for tomorrow's dinner.

* * *

"I spent about a week sleeping late and getting over the wedding. I spent a month getting the house really in shape. For another two months I just enjoyed my husband, made the fancy dishes he loves, fixed my clothes up and took extra care of my skin.

"Pretty soon," she continues, "I began to miss the kids. The housework took no time at all. My clothes were all in apple-pie order. The house was too neat, too quiet and too empty.

"I decided to do something I'd always wanted to do—study ceramics. I signed up for a course and loved it. After a while, I fixed up one of the empty bedrooms with a kiln and shelves and really went to town. But I still missed the kids!

* * *

"Now," she concludes, "I've found the perfect solution. I have classes for children — teenagers mostly — two days a week after school. I just love it! I charge pennies but it is such fun.

TIME OF HER LIFE

"My husband is in stitches. After all those years of complaining about the noise and the mess that the kids caused, I'm back with the noise and the mess but I'm having the time of my life!"

* * *

If working with children interests you, I'll be glad to mail you some pointers on it if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press.

New Styles Feature Slender Silhouette

Little things, but they're important, make suits and coats significant for spring, 1956.

* * *

While fashion changes are not overwhelming, the style story is developed in strong variations on what has gone before and in giving the easy look to slim lines. It is the eased, slim silhouette that is taking over for spring.

Play Ticket Given Away by Friend

Recipient Wonders if She Should Offer Remuneration

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "The other evening a friend of mine called and asked me if I would like to use her ticket to see a certain play.

* * *

"She explained that she was supposed to go to the theater with several other young women but that she was taken ill at the last minute and could not use the ticket. I of course was delighted to have it. I would like to know if I should offer to pay her for the ticket. If not, how do I show my appreciation?"

Answer: You would not offer to pay for the ticket, but it would be nice to call her and tell her how much you enjoyed the play and thank her again for the ticket.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently some controversy has arisen in our department as to the correct way a registered nurse should be addressed in the heading of a formal letter and also on the envelope. I have always been of the opinion that she was referred to as Jane Doe, R. N. and not Miss Jane Doe, R. N.

"If the Miss is absolutely necessary, couldn't it be put in parenthesis after Jane Doe, R. N.? I think Jane Doe, R. N., sounds much more professional. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: I'm sorry to have to say I cannot agree with you. A title before her name is necessary; otherwise one has no way of knowing whether she is Miss or Mrs., and in my opinion is in no way less professional than addressing her as Jane Doe, R. N.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am an insurance salesman and call on many prospective clients throughout the day. When going into these houses, is it proper for me to sit down on a nearby chair while talking business, or must I wait until I am asked before doing this?"

Answer: You should not sit until asked to do so.

Camouflage Tricks Help With Sheath

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — The sheath is a figure-revealing dress but there are ways to camouflage your less attractive outlines.

* * *

If your hips are full, a full back-skirt panel lets you walk without mincing down the street and still retains the slim look in front.

Capes are another solution for drawing attention from the body-clinging features of the sheath, according to Lenore Landry, clothing specialist of the University of Wisconsin.

"Capes," said Miss Landry, "spotlight the face or at least the upper half of the body."

* * *

Naturally, the flared cape can be worn only by a tall, thin girl. But even women who are short can wear capes if they are slimmed down with pleats or split to allow free movement of the arms.

You can also wear stoles or shrugs in addition to capes, said Miss Landry, adding:

"Stoles are shorter this year and come in plaids and bright colors, which are particularly effective with sheath dresses of solid basic colors like navy, black, beige or brown."

Longfellow PTA Hears Talk by Flint Speaker

David Treat of the Mott Foundation in Flint spoke on "Home and Family Living" for members of Longfellow PTA Thursday evening at the school. Mr. Treat spoke briefly on the expectations husbands and wives had of themselves when they married, and what frequently happens to these expectations after motherhood.

Refreshments were served by mothers from the grades of Mrs. Peter Spring, Mrs. Melvin Johnson, Mrs. Wayne Yager and Mrs. Charles Gleason. Mrs. Spring and Mrs. Johnson presided at the tea table.

You Need That Salt!

If you eat your food unsalted to lose weight, a University of Chicago investigator says, "Stop!" You'll eliminate water through salt-reduction and lower the scales temporarily, but you won't pare down the pounds. Seems only calorie-counting will do it, after all.

THIS IS YOUR LIFE—Once every two months, young people of the Zion Church of the Nazarene, 239 E. Pike St. present a "This Is Your Life" program. Usually someone who has been a member of the church for sometime is chosen to be guest of the evening. Mrs. William E. Varian, the pastor's wife, chooses the member. She is then assisted in looking up relatives, neighbors and important facts and friends of her life by the young people. Like the television program, the group keeps the honored guest's name secret. Confident Living

'If Ye Know These Things, Happy Ye Who Do Them'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I recently read a statement by Dr. Clarence Cook Little, director of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Cancer Research Laboratory at Bar Harbor, Maine. Dr. Little is one of the great scientists in this field.

* * * * * *

"A person who is unhappy," he is reported to have said, "is more likely to develop cancer than one who is leading a happy, satisfactory life. Internal balance is health and internal unbalance is sickness. These bodily functions are controlled by glands that are influenced by mental health."

DR. PEALE

Now, I am not a doctor, and I cannot assure you that this is true. But I am willing to accept Dr. Little as an authority on this subject — and I do know, from my own experience and that of many others that one of the surest ways to make yourself sick is to get your mind bogged down with unhappy thoughts.

Happiness and joy are synonyms for harmony, and harmony is one of the greatest forces in the world in developing a state of well-being. When a person is in harmony with himself, his whole being functions without inner conflict. When he is in harmony with the universe, he is healthy, dynamic and powerful. When he is out of harmony with himself and the world about him, he tends to fall prey to disease, unhappiness and his energy declines.

IT SINGS WHEN IT WORKS

Once when addressing a group of machinery manufacturers, I developed this idea of personal well-being and efficiency through harmony. After the meeting, one of the members came to me and said that my statement was particularly appropriate for that group, because when you make a machine, "The objective is to make it so that it will sing as it works." For, when it sings, he explained, it is functioning with harmony in all its component parts. A machine does not function properly or efficiently unless the stresses or frictions in it are reduced to a minimum. "Listen to a machine that is perfectly made," the manufacturer told me, and one in which the stresses have been reduced, and you will hear it sing in harmony."

Men who work with machinery know that this is true. I became conscious of it just the other day, flying in an airplane through some bad weather. The fog was so thick you couldn't see at all. I got to listening to the great motors. They sounded as though they were working together in perfect harmony and I became aware that they were literally singing with joy because their stresses had been reduced and they were powerfully and efficiently performing.

If machines are capable of this harmony, why not human beings? To live with harmony, one must learn to practice joy and happiness. This is one great thing that the practice of religion does for you. It releases you from your fears and conflicts and therefore fills you with joy.

* * * * * *

Turn to the Bible, to John 13:17, "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them." Read the Bible and find out what "these things" are that the verse mentions. You know what they are; love, service and genuine goodness. Then practice joyful thinking every minute of your day. Keep it up until you become expert at it.

AMPLE STORE OF COURAGE

This will help reduce your stresses by freeing you from fear, from hate and from evil thoughts. The daily reading of the Bible will give you an ample store of courage, love and noble thoughts. Substitute these for the unhappy thoughts that create stress. This can be done with practice. It isn't easy to change old thought patterns, but it can be done, and it is most important if you want to live well.

* * * * * *

Your final step in finding harmony is in synchronizing and identifying your personality with God, who is the source of all inner and outer harmony in the universe. Get God's harmony in you, and forever after you will live in harmony within yourself and with other people.

640 Lb. Goliath Marries 360 Lb. Sweetie

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—A 23-year-old man, who says he weighs 640 pounds, married his 360-pound sweetheart last night.

* * *

W. D. Cowland of Erie, Pa., and Mabel Ruth Watkins, 21, of Aliquippa, Pa. were wed in the bus used by a traveling show in which Cowlan appears. Technicians from a medical laboratory here and deputy county clerks had to go to the bus to take blood tests and issue the marriage license. Cowlan, because of his size, couldn't manage the trip to the courthouse.

* * *

The new Mrs. Cowland said she will join the show. The couple doesn't plan a honeymoon.

"We're traveling anyway," the bridegroom explained. "We can just call the tour our honeymoon, and have one that lasts all year."

Will They Do It?

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An Argentine expedition has begun its attempt to scale rugged Mt. Dhaulagiri, the world's highest unconquered peak, the Argentine Embassy said today.

Sale Bargain: 1 Stuffed Lion

Fancier Offers to Sell Former British Mascot Owned by Churchill

LONDON (AP)—For sale: one stuffed lion, formerly owneed—before stuffing—by Sir Winston Churchill. Act fast, or he—the lion—may go to Moscow.

* * *

The lion, named Rota, was presented to England's wartime Prime Minister as a mascot by the London Zoo in 1943. The zoo provided the beast with board and keep until his death from old age last June.

Since Sir Winston had no use for a dead lion, the zoo returned Rota to George Thomson, a London lion fancier who gave him to the zoo in the first place.

* * *

In view of the animal's past connection with the noted British statesman, Thomson had him—the lion—stuffed, and filed him away in a corner of the living room.

Thomson told a reporter today it occurred to him that Rota, even stuffed, is "one of the greatest historical souvenirs of all time." So considered, the bulky living room ornament might be worth money.

* * *

Thomson accordingly advertised the lion for sale, specifying no price but hoping for a good one. "So far," he said. "I have had two offers, but they didn't offer enough. I am now awaiting bids from outside the British Isles.

"If nothing better materializes I may offer Rota to Mr. Bulganian and Mr. Khrushchev when they come here next week on their good will tour. They might like to exhibit him in the Moscow Museum."

Sucker Season Is Always Open

Be ware the fast talking salesman who high pressures you into an unheard of bargain. Be cautious of door-to-door promoters who represent vague faraway companies.

Good Posture Lengthens Waistline

To improve your posture place your fingertips on your shoulders, lifting the elbows. Keep the arms in this position as you straighten your spine and pull your abdomen in. Lift your rib cage as you bend back slightly.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Our figures are limited by our structure. For instance, some of us are just naturally longer waisted than others. However, the way we hold ourselves can make a big difference in the distance between our busts and our waists.

* * *

Many women go about with their busts practically resting on their ribs. The longer you make this distance between the bust and the hips the lovelier your figure will be.

* * *

This settling down in the middle is one of the main defects in women from middle age on. Even when sitting you should try to keep this line as long as possible. Otherwise you crowd internal organs, inhibit, respiration and promote fatigue, to say nothing of the way you look.

When sitting or standing we should straighten our spines, pull our abdomens in and lift our rib cages.

* * *

This is the sort of posture which suggests far horizons and gallant living. It has a subconscious effect on us, too. Try to remember this many times each day when you are sitting, standing or walking.

HELPFUL EXERCISE

The following exercise will be helpful: Stand tall. Place your fingertips on your shoulders, lifting the elbows. Keep the arms in this position as you strengthen your spine, and pull your abdomen in. Lift your rib cage as you bend back slightly. Feel the pull? Hold for a few seconds. Relax and continue.

Take the same starting position. Bend the trunk back to the let. Return to position. Now bend back to the right and return to starting position. Continue, giving plenty of time for the stretch.

No matter what size your bust is it will look about 2 inches larger when you will hold yourself correctly.

If you would like to have my exercises for increasing the bust measurement send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for lefleat No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Collegians Flunk Bill of Rights Test

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Would you recognize the Bill of Rights if it was shown to you in an "anonymous" form?

* * *

A survey of 560 Northwestern University students disclosed that 92½ per cent of them couldn't.

Dr. Raymond W. Mack, Northwestern assistant professor of sociology, reported all of the students said they believed in the Bill of Rights.

Cites Progress Toward Atomic-Powered Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) says "there have been some encouraging developered airplane, but no promise of immediate success.

"We may break through in a couple of years or it may be seven years, no one knows," he said in an interview. He is a member of the Senate-House committee on atomic energy.

Ceylon Bans Drinking at All Public Offices

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's new Cabinet, bowing to Buddhist demands, today decreed a ban on liquor at all government agencies and functions.

Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike will order ministers and public officers at home and diplomatic missions abroad to refrain from serving liquor at official functions.

The Cabinet also decided to do away with British imperial honors. The announcement said it had decided "humbly and respectively to recommend to" Queen Elizabeth II "That Her Majesty be graciously pleased to refrain from conferring any honors on citizens of Ceylon."

Hollywood Headlines:

Folks Wonder If Marilyn Is Pulling Garbo Routine

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Memos on movies. . . . Wonder if anyone in Hollywood realizes what the flood of big studio films on TV will mean to theaters. Wouldn't citizens rather stay home and see a good old movie than go out and see a mediocre new one?. . . . Folks are wondering if Marilyn Monroe is pulling a Garbo. Dodging reporters, photogs, etc. Never thought we'd see that. . . .

* * *

Humphrey Bogart is feeling much better since his throat operation. He's growling at reporters again. . . . Youngest looker at the Mary Pickford silent stars party: Laura LaPlante. Handsomest: Bill Boyd. Liveliest: Jack Oakie, despite rumors he was dead. There's plenty of life in those oldtimers still. . . . Seeing those wonderful reminders of Hollywood's past makes you realize how the town missed the boat in letting plans for a movie museum fall through. . . .

SHOCKING SPLIT

The Jeanne Crain-Paul Brinkman split refutes the boosters who claim that Hollywood is just like any other town. A shocker. . . . "The Man in the Gray Flannel suit" won't upset the TV-advertising crowd. The book's sting has been taken out of the movie. It's heavily-plotted, engrossing film fare. . . . Seeing Fredric March in two recent films makes me realize anew he's America's best actor. He deserves more starring roles.

* * *

"Moby Dick" will be the controversial film of the year. Critics will praise its pictorial beauty and literary style, but will audiences dig its 19th century speech?. . . . Most gracious Oscar winner in many years: Ernest Borgnine.

THEME REVITALIZED

The ancient film theme of "a boy and his dog" gets new life in "Goodbye, My Lady." Walter Brennan, Brandon DeWilde and a talented basenji (that's a dog) make it a charmer . . . Customer in Clearwater, Fla., bet friends that Alan Ladd is over 5 feet 3. You win, sir. Laddie's 5 feet 7. . .

* * *

Reporters are sorry to see Frank Sinatra and Marlon Brando leaving the country for a spell. But at least we got Errol Flynn and Orson Welles back. . . . Confusion: Stars of "Tea and Sympathy" are Deborah Kerr (car) and John Kerr (cur). Do you care? (Kerr). . . .

* * *

Lass loaded with talent: Mitzi Gaynor. She gives a mighty assist to George Gobel in his film debut, "The Birds and The Bees". . . . Most deliberate publicity buildup since Monroe: Anita Ekberg. Hope she doesn't believe it all.

Snead Still Far Ahead at Greensboro

Sam Fires 69 to Lead by 5 in 2nd Round

Doug Ford at 140 Has 11 Players Following Within 3 Strokes

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Greater Greensboro Open was shaping up into two distinct golf tournaments as it headed into its third round today.

One was dominated by Samuel Jackson Snead, the coin collector from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and recent links companion of President Eisenhower.

Snead was five shots ahead of the field in chase for $2,200 first money of the total $12,500 pot. His 69 yesterday gave him a 135 total going into the last two days of play.

Without Sam, who already has won here five times, this would be a wide-open scramble. Runner-up Doug Ford, at 140, has 11 men three shots or less back of him.

Unless Sam begins to feel his age or has some other misfortune the real fight from here on in appears to be for the $1,500 runner-up check.

Sam, with his putter giving him trouble (his longest successful putt was a 10-footer for a par on the second hole) was able to boost his one-stroke first round lead to five and depart for an afternoon of fishing.

His early challengers had all sorts of trouble with the tight fairways and traps on the 6,723-yard, par-71 Starmount Forest Country Club.

The day's best round was a 66 by Jimmy Turnesa of Spring Valley, N. Y. It was 10 strokes better than his first day performance, vaulting him into a tie for sixth at 142.

STAYS WITH TRIBE—Earl Averill Jr., whose dad averaged well over .300 in hitting for 11 seasons with the Cleveland Indians up until 1939, has won himself a Tribe contract. The 24-year-old catcher has hit four homers and well over .300 in the Grapefruit Circuit.

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now it's official. Robin Roberts, who admits doing more "for the home run hitters than the lively ball or the laminated bat," is finally ready to shoot for his seventh straight season of 20 or more victories.

* * *

There was some nonsense about Robin, the Big One of the Philadelphia Phils' pitching staff, being rarin' to go after going nine innings and setting down the Boston Red Sox 2-1 last Tuesday. But Roberts was far from his old self—he had only given up two home runs in 33 exhibition innings.

That was away off pace for a guy who set a major league record last season by serving up 41 home run pitches.

It was the Red Sox, the same crowd who "proved" the big right-hander ready earlier in the week, who came back to put Robin in right yesterday.

* * *

They put the slug on him for four home runs and 10 hits in his five-inning "warmup" for an opening day assignment next Tuesday and coasted in with a 9-3 decision.

Pitcher, Bob Porterfield started the barrage with a three-run poke in the second inning. Then Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen whacked back-to-back wallops in the third. Milt Bolling sent Robin on his way with a two-run homer in the fifth.

* * *

The New York Yankees, who aren't underestimating the pennant potential supplied by Boston's power, underscored their own homer threat by smacking three in a 17-7 rout of Pittsburgh. Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard tagged the blows against the Bucs.

* * *

Cleveland's Indians also won with power, beating the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 as Bobby Avila homered with a man on in a three-run first inning against Warren Spahn.

The Chicago White Sox finally ended their road-tour with the St. Louis Cardinals, and with no regrets. The Cards came from behind again to belt the Sox 7-5 and win the series 7-1.

* * *

A two-run Texas League single by Gail Harris broke up the ball game in the eighth and gave the New York Giants a 3-1 decision over the Senators at Washington.

Big Ted Kluszewski, hampered by a pulled hip muscle after hitting 47 homers last season, connected for his second home run of the spring for Cincinnati in a 6-1 victory over Indianapolis of the American Assn.

Fight Manager Called by Jury in Chicago Quiz

Probers to Question Begun About Basilio-Saxton Fight Blast

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Begun, Chicago fight manager and promoter, was subpoenaed yesterday to appear before the Cook County Grand Jury Monday in a boxing investigation.

* * *

Also scheduled to appear before the jury is former heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Wolcott, who voiced remarks about crookedness in boxing in a TV debate earlier this week.

* * *

Wolcott and State Athletic Commissioner Lou Radzienda, also president of the National Boxing Assn., engaged in a squabble on a television program Tuesday.

* * *

Wolcott was subpoenaed Thursday while promoting the movie "The Harder They Fall," a film depicting crookedness in boxing.

* * *

Begun yesterday went before the State Athletic Commission for his remarks concerning the Johnny Saxton-Carmen Basilio bout in Chicago March 14 when Saxton decisioned Basilio for the welterweight title.

* * *

In a Chicago amusement circular, Begun wrote it was "common gossip" Saxton would get the decision if the bout went 15 rounds.

Tigers Think About 1st Division Berth Not 5th

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Don't remind the Detroit Tigers that nearly all the "experts" have them ticketed for another fifth-place finish in the American League.

The club is tired of hearing it and the players are sincere when they talk of first division. They speak about "probabilities" and not "possibilities."

From the veterans to the rookies the players are thinking in terms of a fourth, and possibly third-place finish. Their spirits are up and they are hustling all the way down the line.

The club the experts said "stood still" after its fifth-place finish in 1955 has not given off with any great show of strength in the spring drills.

"But the spring games don't count," says Manager Bucky Harris. "Sure, we like to win them then, but we've been doing some experimenting here and there, trying first one thing and then another. That's what all this business is for. But come Tuesday there'll be no more experimenting."

The Tigers open the American League season Tuesday at Briggs Stadium against the Kansas City Athletics. Detroit had a day off yesterday and met the Pirates here today.

* * *

Ray Boone, last year's AL co-leader in runs batted in, claims the optimism "isn't one of those things that all teams talk about every spring."

Said Boone:

"There's no limit to what this team can do. But it seems like everybody already has it figured out. They say fifth place—and they think that's it. But no one asked us.

"I still think it's a five-team race. We could do it. I think we might just be like the Phillies of 1950 when the 'Whiz kids' of Philadelphia came out of nowhere to win the National League pennant."

The veteran third baseman says he believes first baseman Earl Torgeson, acquired last season from the Phillies, will be a key man.

"He could be the difference," Boone said. "He helped us a lot last year and this year we have him for a full season. He's in great shape and I'm sure he'll get the job done. And no one has to say anything more about Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Bill Tuttle, Bill Hoeft, Frank Lary, Frank House and some of the other fellows.

Sweep 1st SVC Test With Sharp Playing; Face Jacks Next

Turning in a far better performance than Coach Vic Lindquist had anticipated, Pontiac High's tennis squad Friday afternoon opened the 1956 and Saginaw Valley Conference campaign with a resounding win.

Flint Northern was on the receiving end of the 6-0 count. Good, all-round play from a "tired-up" crew of Chiefs produced the victory, Lindquist reported.

One doubles match was called on account of darkness, after each club had won a set. Pontiac took the other in straight sets.

PHS faces another SVC foe in next Tuesday's match when defending champion Arthur Hill comes here.

In several matches Chiefs had to come from behind to win. Such was the case with No. 1 Bill Bonner. Bill defeated Kurt Gripentrog 2-6, 7-5, 6-4. Bob Erb lost the 1st set to Jim Harrington 6-8, then won the others 6-4, 6-3.

Ted Wiersema defeated Ed Jordan 6-4, 6-3; Gary Thomas defeated Bob Kribs 9-7, 8-7; Gary Wylie defeated Gary Jesik 7-5, 6-2 and doubles pair Fred Roeser and Dick Mallory defeated Dave Ruhala and Fred Burgett 7-5, 6-4. In the called game Dave Scriven and Johnny Doer won the 2nd set, 6-2 from Dick Koch and Dennis Whittington who took the 1st, 8-6.

YMCA Swimmers Set Meet Records

Pontiac Y intermediate "B" swimmers took 2nd place with 34 points in team standings at the YMCA swimming meet held at Jenson Pool in East Lansing yesterday.

Bruce Sias set new meet records by winning the 50 and 100 yard free style races in times of 25.9 and 1:00.4 respectively.

High school age boys who have not won varsity awards comprise "B" entries.

In the intermediate "A" swims, Dennis Simonson picked up 12 points as the Pontiac YMCA team took 4th place.

Simonson swam the 100 yard breast in winning time of 1:14.1.

Today the prep (9-12 year-olds) and junior (13-14) teams with 24 swimmers will go to MSU for the YMCA meet.

Two Weekend Drills

Oliver Buick baseball club will hold two workouts over the weekend, today at 4:30 p.m. and on Sunday at 2. Both sessions will be at Wisner Feild. Experienced players are sought, and those interested are invited to these drills.

Son of Former Tribe Catcher Follows Father

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Earl Averill, whose dad averaged well over .300 in hitting for 11 seasons with the Cleveland Indians up until 1939, has won a Tribe contract.

The 24-year-old catcher has hit four homers and well over .300 in exhibition games, and Manager Al Lopez says his work behind the plate "has improved 100 per cent."

The Tribe cut its roster to 32 yesterday by returning second baseman Larry Raines to Indianapolis, which owned his contract, and selling first baseman Joe Altobelli to Indianapolis.

Jackson Wins Over Williams

Hurricane Now Wants Crack at Rocky After 4th Round TKO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson set up a new demand today for a heavyweight title bout with Rocky Marciano after his quick dispatch of England's willing but overmatched Johnny Williams. Starting slowly but flailing away for two rounds, Jackson dropped Williams three times and won a technical knockout at 2:49 of the fourth round.

* * *

"We want Marciano—or anyone else if he won't fight," clamored Lou (Lippy) Breidbart, Jackson's manager and speechmaker.

Jackson gave his approval with a happy "Yeah, man."

The 24-year-old windmill from New York's Far Rockaway section showed no signs of wear for his brief and decisive session with Williams in a televised scrap before 2,500 fans at Uline Arena last night.

* * *

Breidbart hadn't even waited for the contest, in which his charge was a prohibitive 5-1 favorite, to shout for Marciano. He announced he had sent a wire on Thursday to Chairman Julius Helfand of the New York State Athletic Commission demanding a match with Marciano. And if Rocky won't fight, Breidbart added, Jackson is ready to take on any other challengers if it means the title hangs close by.

Jackson has scored 13 kayos among 27 victories in his 32 bouts. The defeat was Williams' ninth in 69. Jackson weighed 194, Williams 194½.

Marlene Hagge Leads 1st Round

Floridan Fires 4-Under Par 69 to Edge Patty Berg at Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A four-under-par 69 yesterday gave Marlene Bauer Hagge the first-round lead in the fourth annual Babe Zaharias Golf Tournament now underway at the Beaumont Country Club.

* * *

Finishing one stroke behind the Sarasota, Fla., golfer was Patty Berg of Chicago while two strokes behind the leader was defending champion Betty Jameson.

Hagge's 69 was four strokes over Miss Jameson's 65 in last year's opener. Par for the 6,219-yard course is 73.

* * *

Miss Berg with a 33 had the low nine-hole score for the front nine while Miss Jameson with a 34 was low for the back nine.

The $5,000 tournament ends Sunday.

Starting Monday

Secrets of Better Golf

Rare is the golfer who is completely satisfied with his game. It's certain there is no such animal among the many Pontiac Press fairway enthusiasts.

Those who'd like to improve their game under the expert guidance of an all-time golf great like Patty Berg are advised to turn to her new 24-part series, "The Secrets of Better Golf," which starts in the sports section Monday.

Recently honored by the Associated Press as Woman Athlete of the Year for the third time in her long and illustrious career on the nation's big time tournament circuit, Miss Berg ranks high among the top sports figures of our time.

Anyone, be he duffer or pro, can profit from the years of title competition that have gone into making Miss Berg one of the finest instructors in the country. If he is willing to learn, even the beginner can benefit from this champion's experience.

Miss Berg is one of the hardest working professionals the game of golf has ever known. Her annual golf clinic has done much to popularize the sport during the past fifteen years.

Her recognized accomplishments as a player, teacher and writer make "The Secrets of Better Golf" an invaluable source of golfing information.

BEING ON OUTSIDE NO OBSTACLE — Obstacle, (left) with hoofs flying, Bill Boland up, is on the outside as the horses round the clubhouse turn in the second race at Jamaica yesterday. Obstacle, however, won the race paying $6.50, while Whiskey Sour (center) with George Glassner up and Port Windsor on the rail ridden by Ted Atkinson both finished out of the money.

Wisconsin Takes Lead in NCAA Boxing Meet

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin today held a virtual stranglehold on the NCAA boxing championship, needing only two victories in six bouts to take the ring crown.

Two triumphs in tonight's finals at the University field house would give the Badgers 32 points—2 more than second-place Idaho State could possibly total, assuming the Bengals won all three of their bouts.

Coach John J. Walsh's boxers last won the college ring world's biggest prize in 1954 at Penn State. They also captured the title here in 1952—an Olympic year as is 1956.

Here is the lineup for the finals in the 10 Olympic weight divisions:

112 Pound Class — Willard Ira, Washington, vs. Dean Plemmons, Wisconsin.

119—Choken Maekawa, Michigan State, vs. Sammy Macias, Nevada.

125—David Laird, Houston, vs. Bobby Soileau, LSU.

132—Richard Rall, Washington State, vs. Joji Tomei, Wisconsin.

139—Dan Axtman, Idaho State, vs. Dick Bartman, Wisconsin.

147—Gil McLane, LSU, vs. Walt Sabboth, Michigan State.

156—Vince Ferguson, Wisconsin, vs. Dick Wall, Oklahoma.

165-George Sissini, Michigan State, vs. Roger Rouse, Idaho State.

178—Oriville Pitts, Wisconsin, vs. Mike McMurtry, Idaho State.

Heavyweight—Billy Ray Smith, Arkansas, vs. Truman Sturdevant, Wisconsin.

The Badgers finished with 22 points—based on 1 point for each quarter-final victory and 3 for each semifinal triumph—at the close of last night's semifinals. Victories tonight count 5 points.

Idaho State, an odds-on favorite to return to Pocatello with the trophy until last night when only three of six Bengals survived, wound up with 15 points and three finalists. Defending champ Michigan State was third with 12 points and three finalists. Rounding out the first five teams were LSU with 8 and 2 and Washington State with 6 and 2.

Tonight's top bouts are expected to be the 165-pound battle between Sissin and Rouse and the 178-pound meeting of Pitts and McMurtry.

Game Bird Site Gets Approval

The State Conservation Commission, meeting at Haven Hill Lodge in the Highland Recreation area yesterday approved establishment of a prairie chicken management area in Eastern Missaukee County.

* * *

Efforts are being made to bring back the prairie chicken as a major game bird in Michigan.

Prairie chickens, once plentiful in Michigan, have been disappearing at an alarming rate since 1953.

The Commission also voted to close Boardman River to fishing for a half mile upstream from its mouth during June to protect rainbow trout to Grand Traverse Bay.

* * *

Approval was also given for the purchase of 64 acres to be added to Bear State Park in Leelanau County.

St. Freds' Linksmen Win Opening Match

Gene Wright's St. Frederick High School golf squad got off to a good start Friday afternoon at the Municipal course, with a 183-200 victory over Clarkston high.

Ed Kast was low for the match with 42, winning from Clarkston's Bill Shanks (50). Rams took all but one of the medal play tests, Bill Junglas of Clarkston (52) edging Tom Davey (53). Other results Dick Doyon (43), Roger Dubats (46); Dick Kast (45), Bob Hall (52).

Maples Nip Waterford, 2-1

Birmingham's Eastern Michigan League champions got a 7th inning scare, but the Maples held on to nipWaterford 2-1 on the Skipper diamond yesterday.

With Birmingham leading 2-1 after one out, Waterford loaded the bases in the final frame on a single by Woodman, walk to Latta and an intentional pass to Bruce. The Skippers could not drive home a run as Jerry Kruskie popped out and Ron Kind bounced out leaving three men stranded.

Birmingham scored both runs in the first inning when Bob Isbell singled home Bill Deer and John Fleser who got on base with a single and fielder's choice.

Dearborn doubled for Waterford in the second inning to drive in Harnack with the Skippers' lone tally.

Milford Runs Away With 3-Way Event

A power-packed Milford High School track squad last night crushed West Bloomfield and Howell School teams in a triangular meet at Howell. The Milford club won 10 first places for a 88 9-10 point total. West Bloomfield had 22 and 1-10, Howell 26 points.

Outstanding performance was the 15-point plus effort of Milford's Lee Averill. Averill won the 100, the 220 and the broad jump, plus a part in the winning 880-yard relay. Best mark was the 47 feet 9½ inches shot toss by Howell's Dick McMackin, host school's only first. Bill Schulz' 2:15 half mile win and Doug Stilwell's 5 feet 2 inch high jump victory were West Bloomfield's only wins.

Eaglet Thinclads Trounce Oak Park

St. Marys of Orchard Lake won its second dual track meet of the season by trouncing Oak Park 91-17 Friday.

Doubles winners for the Eaglets were Pete Madelans who took first place in the 70-yard high hurdles and 120 lows, and Chet Wajda who was first in the pole vault with 9' 6" and broad jump in 17' 6".

St. Marys took 10 firsts and won both relays. Lone Oak Park first was Mike Kaczander in the mile run.

* * *

Marciano Is 'Confused'

BOSTON (AP)— Heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, undefeated in 49 straight bouts since turning pro, may decide next week whether to retire or keep on fighting.

Boxing writer Bill Liston of the Boston Traveler quoted Marciano as saying in a telephone conversation yesterday "I can't give you an answer . . . I'm confused."

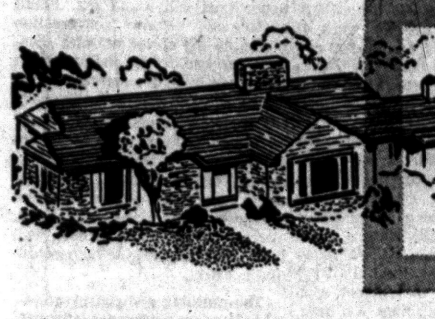

Marciano, who will be 32 in September, is in Florida after completing a South American tour. He lives in Brockton, Mass.

Liston quoted the slugger as saying:

"I don't know my own mind. You can say I'm thinking about it. I'm not trying to kid anybody. I'm really thinking of forgetting about the ring. I am going to talk with my manager, Al Weill, next week. Then we'll have a decision."

5 Little Begles Spread Out in New House

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"Sure, you may come out and see our new house. But if you turn it down, I wouldn't blame you. We have five children, so we haven't bought any glamorous furniture."

We assured Mrs. H. E. Begle of Union Lake that we were not interested strictly in glamorous furnishings. We like to photograph and write about interesting new homes and the families living in them.

Five children, the oldest of whom is five years, can be pretty hard on a house. With this in mind, the Begles built their new home on Locklin Lane.

Everything possible has been done to keep housekeeping chores to a minimum. The years when these same children will be adolescent have been taken into consideration. The house has been built to accommodate a family.

The lot is a level one, almost an acre in size. There is a wide shallow beach right in front of the house. At the rear — (or is it the front?)—anyway, on the road side, a horseshoe drive welcomes guests.

The house is long and low with an attached two-car garage. In the garage there is a great deal of storage space, all of which is screened against the curious, prying fingers of the young Begles. A seeing eye beam raises the garage doors when the car is a block away.

The house itself is of yellow brick with white trim. Around the white front door, there is white clapboard. Stone work frames in the front stoop, on one side.

This stone wall continues into the house and forms one wall of the vestibule. The floor is slate. Louvered doors shut off this area from the hall where the coat closet is.

The hallway has blue green woodwork to match the wallpaper. This paper has a darker green and gold design. On the left there is a sliding door to Mr. Begle's office.

Originally planned as the playroom, this office came into being when Mr. Begle decided he needed a place at home in which to discuss business.

Most of the cork textured floor is covered by the gold cotton rug. The walls and built-in storage units are painted a pleasant green. The wall between this room and the living room has ribbed glass as the upper half.

Matchstick bamboo draperies and leather furniture contribute to the masculine look of the room. The bleached mahogany tables and desk have Formica tops. Brass planters and lamps finish the decorating.

The living room which has a wall of windows overlooking the lake is completely paneled in sliced oak. The ceiling is beamed in the same wood. There is a jalousie door to the crescent-shaped slate terrace outside.

The floor in this room is cork. Mrs. Begle again chose cotton rugs, this time in red. The bamboo furniture has brightly colored upholstery on it.

The large fireplace is made of stone. At one end there is a table-height, hooded barbecue fireplace for indoor barbecuing. On the outside there is a second similar fireplace for summer cooking.

The space under the ribbed glass wall is completely devoted to storage units. The fourth wall contains both a built-in TV set and a Hi-Fi system.

The records are stored behind glass in their own wall case. Were they all to be played in order, there would be twenty-seven continuous hours of music.

This music is piped to the terrace outside. Mr. and Mrs. Begle are looking ahead to the time when their adolescent children will want to dance.

Behind the fireplace is the breakfast room and kitchen. The first room has a slate floor, the second rubber tile. Cabinets, opening on both sides, separate the two areas. One set of these cabinets hangs from the ceiling.

The breakfast room has pickled knotty pine paneling on one wall. A picnic-type table and benches are used for meals. At the large window there are brown and yellow plaid curtains.

In the kitchen there is more knotty pine. Even the ceiling is beamed with it. Cupboards, dishwasher front and wall dadoes are wood. The rest of the walls have been painted lime green.

Copper is the accent color. The hood over the stove is copper. The cupboards above the work surfaces are supported with copper poles. Light fixtures are also copper.

Green has been used for counter tops and for the floor. The window above the sink is curtained with matchstick bamboo.

There is room in this kitchen for a 22-foot food freezer. Mrs. Begle has one refrigerator here and a second one in the garage.

Walls in the utility room, located between garage and kitchen, are green. Back of this room is a lavatory and stall shower for the use of swimmers.

At the other end of the house there are four bedrooms. All the floors in these rooms have rubber tile on them. First down the hall is the maid's room. Here, also, is located the children's TV set.

Cathy's room is next. Cathy is the eldest in the family and the only one attending school. Her room is yellow. The draperies at the window are made of the same material as the ones in the living room. Her twin beds have white leather headboards and flowered spreads.

The master bedroom has its own private bath, also a jalousie door to the patio. The walls are green, the rugs and bedspread pale gold.

The white leather headboard is tufted. All the furniture is enameled black, with brass handles on the dressers.

Near the windows there is a comfortable green lounge chair. Next to the bed is an oversize square bed table with a green lamp on it.

The bathroom is yellow and green. Yellow fixtures, shower curtain and vanity counter top contrast nicely with the green wallpaper and the grey tile. There's a light above the tub—for reading!

The boys have a large bathroom of their own, separated into two parts. The outer part has two sinks set in a long plastic topped counter.

Mrs. Begle has made no attempt to "decorate" the boys' dormitory, beyond painting the walls beige and hanging matchstick bamboo curtains at the windows.

That the room is a large one is proven by a list of furniture it contains: two youth beds, one double bed, one studio couch, one crib. In addition, there is a chest and a dresser, the ironer and dozens of toys. Three double-door closets provide plenty of hanging space for clothes.

The yard is beautifully shaded. Mrs. Begle said the workmen removed about 60 trees in the process of building the house.

The TV antenna is set up on its own pole, high above the house. A large picket fence playpen provides safe play space for the smallest Begles.

Before taking their plans to their builder, Webster Buell, the Begles had set down exactly what they wanted in a house. Mr. Buell had only to have his staff architect put the plans in working order.

About six months after the house was started the family moved in. They have been Locklin Lane residents since last July.

SHADED LOT — The Begles are fortunate to have a number of fine trees on their lakefront lot. This is a view from the lake side. The Begle home is located on Locklin Lane on the east side of Union Lake. Yellow brick with white trim is used for the exteroir. There are three doors on this side of the house, one opening into the master bedroom, one into the living room and a third into the utility room.

DOUBLE-DUTY FIREPLACE — In addition to the living room fireplace, there is an indoor barbecue fireplace at the left end of the chimney wall. The hood above it can be seen. Beyond this fireplace wall is the breakfast room and the kitchen. The beamed ceiling and paneled walls in the kitchen are pickled knotty pine.

FAMILY GROUP — Mrs. H. E. Begle and four of her five children pose for their picture in the living room of their home on Union Lake. She is holding Peggy, aged three months. Richard, 4, is at the left. Danny, 2, is sandwiched between his mother and Patrick, 3. Sturdy bamboo furniture with bright cushions withstands the onslaught of young children. The cotton rug is bright red. Walls and ceiling are sliced oak.

BUILT-IN STORAGE—The wall separating the living room and Mr. Begle's office has storage units on both sides. A ribbed glass window and a half swinging door lets light filter between the two rooms. The front door can be seen at the left. There are louvered doors shutting off the vestibule from the hallway. The entrance into the office has a sliding door.

OFFICE AT HOME — To accommodate customers who want private conferences Mr. Begle has an office in his home. The desk and table tops are laminated plastic. Furniture is leather and masculine in character. Matchstick bamboo draperies control the sunlight. The picture to the left is lighted so that it appears most realistic in detail. Lamps and accessories are brass.

At least half of the refrigerators in use today are not equipped to handle frozen foods and do not have separate compartments to take care of the different temperature and moisture requirements of different foods.

New Methods Boost Light Bulb Output

CLEVELAND—Improvements in methods of making incandescent light bulbs have resulted in increases in light output ranging from 6 per cent for household bulbs to 15 per cent for higher-wattage bulbs used in industrial and commercial lighting.

The company announcing the new development said no more electricity is required to obtain the light bonus from the new bulbs.

LIVING ROOM EXTERIOR — A number of long windows on the lake side make the living room a pleasant place in which to stay. Draw draperies at the windows are tan rayon. The mammuth stone chimney serves three different fireplaces, including the one shown here on the outside. The circular terrace makes an ideal spot for summer living. Music from the HiFi system is piped out here.

For the Birds — Something "for the birds" is this haven for your feathered friends, tucked into the gable end of house or garage. A small perch runs beneath pigeonholes bored into western red cedar or Douglas fir bevel siding. Under the window is a simply-designed planter consistingonly of a board braced against the building. Holes in the board accommodate preferred size pots which may be easily lifted out for transplanting or to change the window box flower scheme.

Milwaukee Artist Plans Huge Mosaic

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Edmund Lewandowski, a Milwaukee artist may execute a huge mosaic mural —consisting of thousands of half-inch square pieces of Italian glass —for the cafeteria of a firm here. He says the 200-color mural will depict the progress of the company since 1906.

Final decision has not been made on the project, but Lewandowski has left for Italy to arrange studio space, have the glass fabricated and hire 20 to 30 artisans to work on the mural.

He said he plans to go back to Italy again this summer to supervise the intricate details. Plans are for sections of the murial, in which glass is glued to paper, to be shipped here and embedded in mortar at the site and the paper washed away, the artist said.

The mosaic would cover one area 10 by 40 feet, another 8 by 10, and 13 colums 3 feet around and 10 feet high.

Florida Family Grows Only Four-Leaf Clovers

ST. PETERSBURG — The Daniels family of St. Petersburg runs the only four-leaf-clover farm in the world.

Members of the family have devoted 30 years to culture of clover plants that grow four leaves instead of the usual three. Millions of the "lucky" clovers are sold all over the world.

Don't use abrasives on linoleum and remember that too vigorous cleaning can harm this type of floor covering.

Women's Housing Meeting Will Accept No Criticism

WASHINGTON (INS) — Uncle Sam imposed some restrictions today on the 100 housewives who are being invited to Washington to let their hair down on what's right and wrong with U.S. home building.

* * *

Press and public are expected to be barred from the working committee sessions of the "Women's Congress on Housing" which Federal Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole will open late next month.

Officials also said the women who win the government-paid, springtime trips to the capital will be required to stick to a specific agenda in discussing the makings of a "dream home."

It's not that Cole's housing and home finance agency wants to gag the gals, but spokesmen explained that HHFA customarily meets in secret with industry and public interest groups to discuss housing problems.

'WON'T SPOUT OFF'

Some construction men have privately expressed concern that the women's congress will produce "nothing but criticism" of the housing industry. But this was denied by HHFA.

Pointing to the plans for closed meetings and an agenda, one official said in an interview: "We will have that pretty well under control. They won't get a chance to spout off."

Despite this, housing men said they still have misgivings about the situation. Some said they regard the project as a Republican move to lure women voters for the November elections.

Rep. James M. Quigley (D-Pa), has termed the congress "ridiculous." Quigley, the father of four daughters, said: "Why housing authorities . . . would be interested in learning what the women of this country want in a house is beyond my comprehension."

1,000 WOMEN

HHFA officials declined comment on Quigley's criticism. They said they are going ahead full speed with their planning and have no plans to call the Congress off.

More than 1,000 women from all sections of the country have responded to Cole's appeal for letters telling him what should be done to improve housing. More are coming in daily. It is on the basis of the letters that Cole will select delegates to the Congress.

Under present plans, Cole intends to select 100 women representing a cross-section of the country for the three-day meeting in the capital. The government will pay transportation costs and a $12 a day allowance.

Before a formal invitation is sent out to a housewife to attend the congress, HHFA said it would do some checking on the "background" of prospective selectees to make sure genuine housewives with families are chosen.

NO 'WORKING MOTHERS'

"We don't want professional contest winners," officials said. "And generally we do not want working wives or working mothers although a few may be invited."

Officials said they would try to learn—on a confidential basis—the income status of the housewives, how many children they have and the type of home in which they live.

After the 100 women are selected, officials said they would be called to a public session to open the congress. Then, they will be divided into various working committees to consider individual housing problems—in secret.

* * *

When these deliberations are completed, the women are expected to file their report and the congress will end.

Miss Annabell Heath, an assistant to Cole in charge of the project, said that HHFA is looking for "constructive ideas" on housing as part of a general review of government rules on home building.

* * *

Members of the women's congress, she said, will be asked to evaluate space problems, split-level homes, ramblers and the various materials and equipment that make up a house.

Blind Ex-GI Excused in Police Dice Raids

CHICAGO (AP) — Although dice games are illegal in Chicago, Police Commissioner Timthy O'Cnnor has made special dispensation for Raymond Di Guilio.

He was caught at two recent police raids on dice games but released when it was found he was blind, the result of injuries suffered during Army service in North Africa during World War II.

Di Guilio, 38, says he doesn't participate in the games but goes there to talk to friends.

Rush to Leave Germany Slowed by Prosperity

BONN—Between 1945 and 1953 the average German wanted to emigrate and about 400,000 were able to do so, but today Germans love no country better than Germany.

The long lines of would-be emigrants that once stood outside American and British Commonwealth consulates have all but disappeared. In 1953 alone, 60,933 people left the Federal Republic. English-speaking countries were the main attraction.

Now, however, in a period of full employment, German immigration authorities are reluctant to let too many young, able-bodied people leave, particularly since age groups under 40 have decreased by seven per cent since 1939.

Rock Shelters Hold 30,000 in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM — Two new rock shelters, among Sweden's largest, have been opened in Stockholm.

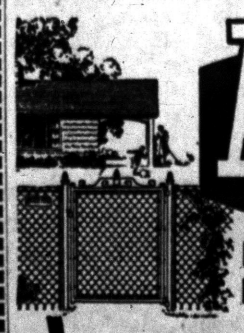

One has been blasted out of the granite cliffs on the south shore of the inner harbor; the other is farther north, and still near the capital's center.

In an emergency the southern shelter will accommodate 20,000 persons and the other new one 10,000.

They will be self-contained bombproof cities, with hospitals, supplies, water, sewers, and electric lighting and heating. At present they are being used as garages, and the rent is expected to pay for 40 per cent of the building cost.

Character of Any Room Is Reflected by Wallpaper

Wallpaper establishes the character of a room more quickly than any other means of decorating. Fine wallpapers are the work of painstaking artists, so that you can relay upon their choice of colors as your guide for selecting fabrics, accessories, floor coverings, and even your furniture.

In setting the mood for your room, your problems are over once you select your paper from the wide choice available. This method of beginning is not essential in either remodeling a room or starting from scratch. Wallpaper is so versatile that there is always one that will be the perfect companion to the furnishings you have, or with whatever you have decided to use in the room.

The old favorites in wallpaper are still going strong, so that your furniture of yesterday can be dressed up by good design and color, simply by adding a new paper—and one thing you can be sure of, a good pattern is always good.

Architectural defects are so easily quieted by blithely selecting a paper that will stand out. Small areas can become conversation pieces by the clever use of a scenic. A papered ceiling and appointed areas can form the setting for furniture, or spotlight a favorite color.

With the increased popularity of modern furniture, designs of abstracts and geometrics give a third dimensional feeling. For tailored tastes, there are papers executed in modernistic architectural motifs, alternating neutral shades with deep tones, giving a monochromatic effect.

The amusing and conversational papers are perfect for informal rooms. These range from poodles to peanuts. For the utterly feminine young miss, clusters of posies on her wall can be repeated as cut-outs on her window shade, and under the glass top of her dressing table. The variety of papers for kitchen and bath have destroyed forever the ideas that these rooms must have a clinical look.

Try taking the emptiness out of a room with the able assistance of wallpaper. For those who like to "Do-It-Yourself," hanging wallpaper is something that even the amateur can do—and enjoy.

* * *

The added interest and originality that it will give to all rooms will be your bounty.

Snow Covering Ice Causes Fish Deaths

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — When fish die in ponds and lakes during the winter it may be the indirect result of snow on the ice.

* * *

The Nebraska Game Commission explains that when the ice is covered with snow for a long period the sunlight cannot get through the ice. The sunlight is necessary to produce photosynthesis in the millions of microscopic floating plants beneath the ice.

Photosynthesis results in the production of oxygen by the tiny plants and the fish need the oxygen to remain alive.

* * *

Deeper lakes seldom have fish kills because they have larger supplies of oxygen and can stand longer periods of snow covered ice.

Only a few years ago a 30-gallon water heater was considered adequate for most homes. Today a 30-gallon heater is regarded as the minimum in size.

Proper Heating Placement Vital

The proper placement of the heat distributors is far more important than the total amount of heat given off by the heating system.

• • •

This is a rule for the selection of heating plants that will be helpful to prospective builders of new homes as well as owners of middle aged homes with heating plants that should be modernized.

It is not how much heat, but where the heat is directed that counts in determining comfort and fuel economy.

It is for this reason that heating engineers prefer to install heat distributors under windows where they meet and counteract the stream of cold air which pours down the panes and leaks in around the sash.

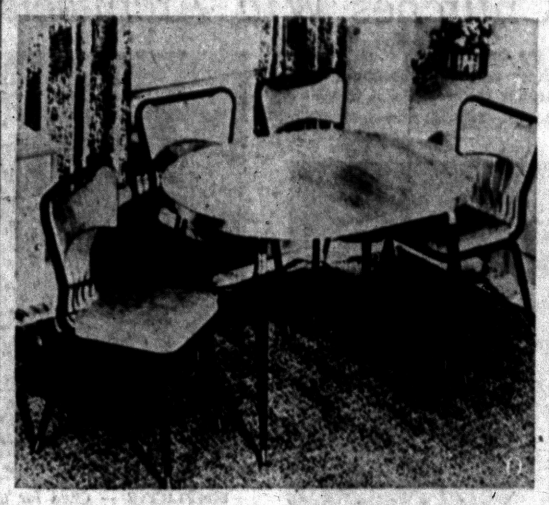

Heating engineers have another reason for preferring to place heat distributors along the outer or exposed walls of a room. These are cold surfaces. By warming these surfaces, the radiant heat loss from the body does not exceed the comfort limit.

• • •

With hot water heating, the distributors such as baseboards, convectors, and radiators can be installed under windows and along the outside walls. Similarly radiant panel installations also provide a high degree of comfort because they permit close control of the radiant heat loss from the body.

Oldest Type Plant

DENVER — The oldest known specimen of a flowering plant has recently been found in the San Juan Mountains of Colorado, the National Geographic Society reports. A palmlike growth that flourished 165 million years ago, it left the imprint of its leaves on Colorado's red rock. Fossil experts have discovered seven such imprints. The largest was 18 inches long.

PLASTIC TOPPED TABLE — Here is a new treatment of the round table. The top of the table is a wood grain plastic in such colors as suede walnut, blond walnut or silver walnut. The legs are black, trimmed with brass.

Here's the Tale of Traveling Wife, U. S. A.

Did you ever hear the story of the traveling housewife? Did you know that on the average she travels about 3 miles a day, from cellar to attic, phone to hi fi, breadbox to broom closet?

• • •

That's why any homemaker is fair game for a carpet salesman. No woman wants to pound over 3 miles of cold, slippery, scuffed cruel floors every day, much less try to maintain them with some semblance of passive appearance.

Any woman walking three miles a day through her home wants to be proud of it. She craves beautiful broadloom carpeting with its blissful, noise-muffling qualities.

Any woman who walks three miles through her home each day can't carry a papoose on her back. She needs warm, safe floors, with nice-to-play-on broadloom carpet.

And no woman who walks three miles a day, would lift a footsy if she could get a maid to walk those three miles for her.

• • •

So, the next best thing is easy-to-maintain heavenly broadloom that she can give loving care by merely caressing the handle of the vacuum and giving it a daily once-over lightly.

Colony's Fate Mystery

ASHEVILLE, N. C. — Roanoke Island, now within the borders of North Carolina, was the site of the first English settlement in America—in 1585. There Virginia Dare was born in America of English parents. Shortly afterward the colony disappeared. Its fate remains one of history's greatest mysteries.

Curves, Colors Defy Starkness

NEW YORK (INS)—Curves and color are part of the latest trend in modern-style decor, with the accent on softening the too-stark look.

• • •

Mixing a piece or two of traditional furniture — such as 18th century Venetian — with modern design can make a room look more livable, as well as lived in.

The Venetian look is gay and cheerful. Woods are painted in reds, pale green and similar shades. The lines are curvy, with much emphasis on "Bombay" fronts.

A modern room featuring black-painted or natural woods might be brightened, for instance, with a Chinese red secretary. A typical Venetian desk would be scattered with gilt oriental figures and could be set off by a severe modern chair.

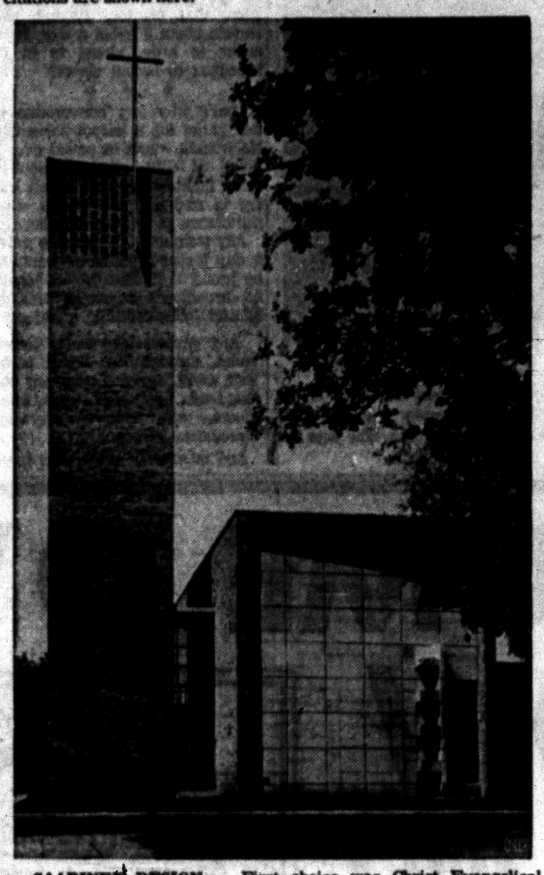

Venetian mirrors blend in well with the latest styles. There are simple as well as ornate versions, usually with bevelled edges, and several cut glass or crystal tiers to the frame.

• • •

Venetian marble table and commode tops are high-style today, particularly those white marble slabs with an inlay of colored marble inserted close to the edges.

Modernistic Churches Win Architects' Plaudits

After a three-month poll of 35 top authorities on church design, 18 U. S. churches have been cited for general architectural excellence. Choices were made by members of the National Council of Churches' Commission on Architecture. Typical churches winning citations are shown here.

SAARINEN DESIGN — First choice was Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church of Minneapolis, Minn. Erected in 1949, it was the last completed work of the late Finnish-American architect Eliel Saarinen.

SIMPLICITY — Cited for using humble materials and simple details to convey idea of purpose rather than richness was First Presbyterian Church of Cottage Grove, Ore., Pietro Belluschi, architect.

STONE AND WOOD — Combination of simple native stone and wood to assimilate achievements of modern art won praise for St. George's Episcopal Church, of Durham, N. C., designed by John A. Carter.

ONLY BOICE Uses High Pressure Steam Curing in Oakland County

What Is HIGH PRESSURE Steam Curing?

IT IS THE BEST METHOD OF CURING CONCRETE BLOCKS KNOWN TODAY!

Blocks are placed into massive cylindrical Autoclaves, where they are subjected to 350 degrees steam at 100% humidity under 125 p.s.i. This process accelerates the hardening, produces a superior Lightweight Concrete Block which is STRONGER . . . permanently!

This method also stabilizes the strength of the block, and reduces future shrinkage and expansion by at least 80%. Eliminating cracked walls!

Blocks are ready for immediate use when they leave the Autoclaves, having been given a treatment equal to at least 28 days of moist curing!

Nearly $200,000 has been spent in our plant to install High Pressure Curing . . . to assure our customers they are receiving the best products available!

Make Your Own Play Sculpture

Play sculpture is replacing slides, jungle gyms and the like in many parks and kid gathering places everywhere. Psychologists claim these structural abstractions stimulate young imaginations, and what yesterday was Ali Baba's cave might today be a 25th century rocket ship.

A play platform built of fir in your own back yard follows this same concept of transforming a simple object into a thing of rare delight through the magic of "let's pretend."

Children love to get off the ground, so the play platform should be elevated—not too high so that it is dangerous, but high enough to be the deck of a pirate ship or an opera stage for the dimpled diva.

You can build a big, sturdy stage, for, by using inexpensive grades of Douglas fir, outlay for materials will be very nominal. For the floor, two-by-fours spaced a quarter-inch apart will allow water to run through, keeping it dry underfoot, and a fir frame underneath set on cement piers will form a base for flooring.

Fences will serve as supports for three of the corners, if the platform is built in a corner where they intersect. A post will support the fourth corner.

And such a platform will keep the kiddies out of the mud, to a certain extent, on rainy or damp days, and will keep their feet dry.

France's commercial walnut crop in 1955 totaled 28,500 short tons, unshelled, compared with 26,500 tons in 1954.

Wall Covering Ideal for Washing, Glazing

The homemaker, who as a young spry was spanked for "decorating" the walls, can now gleefully make another attempt and be praised for her handiwork. A textured wall covering produced by the Timbertone Decorative Co. is saturated in oil in its manufacturing, glazing or further painting.

Gay caricatures on the playroom wall, "stick" figures for the children's room, or colorful scenes in the den are only a few of the ways that the artistic homemaker can not only brighten her home, but prove her talent.

U. S. farmers used 16 billion gallons of crude oil in 1955.

Use Hair Bleach on Grout Lines

Ladies, unshelve that hair bleach. Daddy won't mind if you use if on your grout lines!

* * *

You didn't know you had any? Well, you do. And grout lines, like one's hair, tend to become gray with age. They're the fine lines of cement between the waterproof ceramic tiles in your bathroom and kitchen.

No too much can be done about tile grout's turning slightly gray over the years, but many other household stains can be removed—and that's where your hair bleach comes in. Beet juice, blood, catsup, coffee, grape juice, ink, laundry bluing, mustard, shoe polish, tea and soot all submit to bleaching.

The important thing is to treat staining of the grout lines just as soon as possible. With fresh strains, try first a non-scratching scouring powder and water. Follow this treatment with a good rinsing. On really stubborn spots, try a clean steel brush; but work carefully so you don't rub off an excessive amount of cement.

Crayon marks can usually be dry-brushed off. Iodine will gradually fade away, but fresh stains can be removed with alcohol. Try carbon tetrachloride to dissolve lipstick and nail polish remover for nail polish stains.

For paint and rust, use removers designed for those jobs. Oils, grease, paints, lacquers and the like require certain solvents such as alcohol, gasoline, or cleansing fluid.

To sum up, the basic rules are these: 1. For ordinary cleaning, use scouring powder and then rinse. 2. Always treat staining promptly. 3. Try simplest method first; use special preparation if it's necessary.

Stainproof ceramic tile is itself the easiest thing in the world to keep clean. A damp cloth wipes away most dirt. A soapless detergent is sometimes needed for stubborn stains. Always rinse with a clean damp cloth.

Digging Dry Well? Then Use These Tips

DO . . . build a dry well at least 8 feet from a downspout to carry rainwater away from the foundation.

DO . . . make a dry well from a barrel or oil drum, with the top and bottom removed, or from concrete blocks laid in place without mortar.

DO . . . dig a trench from a spot under the dowspout to the well, sloping it slightly away from the house.

DO . . . place drain tiles in the trench, with one end connected to the downspout and the other end leading into the well.

* * *

DON'T . . . overlook the importance of a strong cover, such as a concrete slab, so that there is no possibility of a cave-in when it is walked on.

DON'T . . . forget to check the flow of water through the drain tile into the dry well before filling in the ground.

DON'T . . . neglect to place some mortar or building paper over the joints between the drain tiles to prevent earth from seeping through.

Wood Output Growing

U.S. lumber manufacturers produced a record-breaking 39,105,000,000 board feet of lumber during 1955, according to estimates of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. The 1955 volume was seven per cent above 1954. Softwood production in 1955 was eight per cent above 1954, while output of hardwoods increased one per cent.

ROCHESTER KNOLLS — A model home in Rochester Knolls is now furnished and open for inspection. Features of this home are a GE Work Saver kitchen, two and a half baths, three bedrooms and an attached two-and-a-half car garage. Thomas Furniture and McCandless, Inc. cooperated in furnishing the house. Offered by Hannan Real Estate, the price is $19,600. The home is located a mile east of Adams road, on Walton boulevard and Fifth street in Rochester.

Color Scheme Adds Greater 'Illusion' Space

If you wish to give the illusion of greater space in a small home, decorate adjoining rooms in similar colors rather than contrasting tones, say leading color constultants. If, for example, pale green is the major tone in your living and dining rooms, play it up in your kitchen too, even to your storage cabinets.

* * *

The latest steel kitchen cabinets are now available in shades of green as well as numerous other colors, so that today it is easy to color-harmonize your kitchen with other rooms.

Postwar Demand for Homes Lessens

The housing demand created by the postwar housing shortage is behind us. The demand for new houses today comes largely from the fact that many American families have larger incomes and desire better housing.

Most home buying will be optional rather than on the grounds of necessity until the next great bulge in family formation comes in the mid-1960s, when the war babies and those now crowding the schools begin to marry and buy houses. Incidentally, the war babies won't show up in the real estate market until about 1965.

Use Proper Tools

You will do a better job of sanding floors if proper equipment is used. One machine cannot do the whole job. Both a floor sanding machine and an edging machine are needed. The edger sands near the walls where the large sander cannot reach.

NEW RANCH HOME — Informality and economy are headlined in this brick ranch home. The hip roof with broad overhangs helps to keep the house close to the ground. The two-car garage opens into the kitchen, has storage space built in.

ONE FLOOR PLAN — A carefree family room dominates this one story plan for economical modern construction. It covers 1595 square feet, has overall dimensions of 47'11" deep by 59'11" wide. The family room is the heart of the house and opens onto an outdoor patio. The bedrooms are all good-sized.

House of the Week Offers Extra Big Family Room

A family room as the heart of the home is headlined in Design A-701 for The House of The Week. It is the biggest room in the house. It's planned for informal relaxation, for good times and carefree living.

This room extends completely through the house from floor-to-ceiling windows in the front to sliding glass doors merging it with a rear garden patio. A modern kitchen and cozy breakfast nook are virtually parts of this big area.

* * *

Here is a house for health and appetites. It illustrates a definite trend. The family room elbows the living room to one side like an old fashioned parlor. It's nice to have a place to sit and talk when you're dressed up for company. But for everyday living you don't have to worry about delicate furnishings in the family room.

This is the place for the piano, the hi-fi, the TV, for dancing, for eating, for singing, loafing, smoking and just being yourself. You can pave the floor of this room in colorful asphalt, vinyl or rubber tile and forget about it. There's adequate wall space for furniture placement and, with light streaming through front to back, an invitation is presented for colorful decoration.

Economical to build, this house stands on a concrete slab. It calls for no basement. A modern heating plant is accommodated in a closet off the bedroom hall. Space for a water heater and washing machine is provided in a corner of the garage along side a big storage closet to take care of odds and ends that would be lost in a basement anyway. You can heat the house with radiant coils laid in the concrete slab, with perimeter heating around the outer walls or air condition the house with modern small size, high velocity ducts through the attic — a system of blending the air.

RANCH STYLE PLANNING

Crochet & Carroll, architects of Houston, Texas, have given this room layout the most popular features of ranch style planning. Bedrooms are segregated in a quiet separate wing. Two bathrooms are provided. The main bathroom serves the two rear bedrooms and is convenient to the living room. A private bathroom for the master bedroom in front has a corner shower stall. Both bathrooms have built-in vanity style lavatories and separate linen storage compartments.

To the convenience of one-floor ranch style planning, the architects have engineered especially good circulation. All rooms open into the big family room. Step out of the bedroom hall, out of the living room, even out of the garage, and you're in the family room.

The living room has a floor-to-ceiling picture window facing the garden patio.

Folding doors make it possible to close off the living room from the front entrance foyer, centering all attention on the informal zone of this house.

The kitchen is planned for modern equipment. Being open to the family room it offers a good opportunity for working the kitchen cabinets into the general color scheme of this area. A peninsula base cabinet forms a room divider and snack bar at the breakfast end of the room. Corner windows light the breakfast space and another window is located over the kitchen sink.

A place for a separate built-in oven is indicated along the garage wall of the kitchen. Next to this is space for countertop hot plates. A pocket is allowed for a large standing refrigerator, or this spot could be filled with base cabinets and a new hanging wall refrigerator could be used.

A hip roof, low pitched with broad overhangs all around, gives this house a snugly, close-to-the-ground appearance. A brick veneer exterior, battened board window shutters and a stained board fence carry out the ranch atmosphere.

Separate Pump and Septic Tank

Keep at Least 50 Ft. Distance, Health Group Recommends

LANSING—If you're a suburban or country home owner, make sure that the water pump is located at least 50 feet to one side or the other of the septic tank, the Michigan Department of Health urged today. In a series of spring tips for homeowners and builders, the health department emphasized that "The separation of water supply from sewage disposal isn't just an arbitrary recommendation, but is based on long years of experience. Unless there is a clear-cut separation of water from sewage, there is a danger that you will end up drinking contaminated water."

Willard F. Shephard, department engineering division chief, added that the distance between the water and sewage, not the depth of the well, is the chief protection against water-carried infections. Shephard said that while most water-carried diseases are under control in Michigan, they are not eliminated.

"Michigan has had six cases of typhoid fever already this year," he said, "which tells us that all we have to do is drop our guard and typhoid and other water-carried diseases may take the advantage to strike out at some member of the family."

The health department said new plumbing installed in any home should be treated with a chlorine solution to clean out any contaminating materials in the pipes.

It was also recommended that most septic tanks should be cleaned at three-year intervals, and that homeowners should hire only those septic tank cleaners who are licensed by the Michigan Department of Health.

The department said that city homeowners who have trouble with drains plugged by tree roots may find that copper sulphate will help prevent roots from entering the drain, and clean out roots which have already made entry. Shephard added that both state and local health departments have instruction sheets on the use of copper sulphate to help keep drains running free.

Here's an Idea!

Want to spice-up the decor of your living room? Try paneling at least one wall with wood, then finish it in a hue that contrasts with the other walls, suggests the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

Lumber yards now sell inclining, double-leaf, fireproof, metal basement doors that make an excellent theater-type exit in case of fire.

Trap Door Traps Him

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A dustless trap door trapped an AWOL soldier. Military police went to the soldier's home but were told by his wife that he was not there. Obtaining a search warrant, they went inside. About to leave, they noticed that a trap door leading to the attic was devoid of dust — unlike the surrounding area. The soldier was hiding in the attic.

NEW LORRAINE MANOR — One hundred more homes are being erected in Lorraine Manor. The model, shown above, is located on Fernbarry road. A full basement, Philippine mahogany cupboards in the kitchen, gase incinerator, select oak floors, built-in bookcases and planter box, tile bath with vanity sink, screens and storm windows are features. Optional items are mahogany paneling in the den, basement lavatory and kitchen fan. Buyers have a choice of 5 exteriors. These homes with the full basement sell for $15,200, while houses on a slab sell for $13,200. The houses are being offered by White Brothers.

Say Honey Not Vinegar Tames Wild Motorists

ATCHISON, Kan. (AP)—Atchison's police chief Guss Wood is satisfied that motorists are tamed more readily with honey than with vinegar.

For some months, the department has issued courtesy tickets under a new policy. Of 375 handed out, Wood reported, only five recipients proved repeat violators, and of that number only two were cited for the same offense a second time.

New Chemical Miracles Ease Painting at Home

Each year, it becomes easier to take your paint brush in hand and turn your rooms into gay, bright stimulating surroundings that are a delight to you, your family and your friends. This year, particularly, with all the new chemical miracles in paint development, the job can be done with little or no fuss, muss or special know-how.

April, with its balmy weather, revises in all of us a healthy urge to "Spruce Up . . . It's Spring." The news in paints this year is unusually stimulating with gay, colorful hues leading the decoration parade. Before you plunge into the absorbing and gratifying project, here are a few professional tricks, which will help cut corners and get the slickest results:

1. For painting a room flooded with sunlight, base the color scheme on sienna, ochre or umber. These hues not only lend themselves to every variety of color combination but their chief characteristic is color-fastness under constant strong light.

2. Paint brush notes: clean shellac brushes in alcohol; varnish brushes in turpentine; lacquer brushes in lacquer thinner; all-purpose paint brushes in turpentine and store in a container half-filled with raw linseed oil.

3. Use varnishes as they come in the can — no thinner. Don't apply them where the room temperature is under 70 degrees F.

4. If you're buying a new step-ladder always check its "spread" first. For sturdiness and good balance the distance between the sections when opened should be 5½ inches for each foot of height.

5. Now there are cardboard use - and - throw - away paint pots available for the occasional painter. A metal holder keeps them open and upright until the job is done for the day.

6. A quick, easy formula to help you estimate amounts of paint is the general fact that most paints cover 400 square feet to the gallon. Primer coats (those put on new wood as a first coat) cover a little less territory.

7. When you've filled in a crack or a small break in the wall with patching plaster, give it a chance to dry overnight. Then test its dryness by scraping your fingernail over the surface. A screeching sound means it is ready for the paint coat.

8. If you are planning to wallpaper one or more of your rooms this spring, check your dealer to see if you can return leftover rolls. The tendency is to underestimate the number of rolls needed. Buy a few extra for returning. The new wallpaper pastes are especially good too, this year, and much better than you can make at home for only a few additional pennies.

9. To dry small, freshly painted objects more quickly, like toys, picture frames, drawers, utility or bread boxes, turn a slow moving electric fan on them or place them near a low oven or a not-too-hot furnace.

10. A coat of paint on a cement floor will hold down the cement dust. Don't paint until the cement is at least one year old, however.

* * *

11. If you are using one of those fascinating open-work stencils to paint a design on the baby's room, be sure to wipe it gently but thoroughly at every lifting and before placing on the next surface area.

EASY JOB — While no special skill is needed to make this handsome post lantern you will need a pair of tinsnips and a soldering iron, as well as some household tools, including a pair of pliers. The "do - it - yourself" craftsman will find that he has saved a tidy sum when the cost is compared to that of a ready-made lantern. The practical experience gained in making the first one may lead to others as working with metal is an interesting avocation for the handyman. The price of this pattern is 25 cents. The Homestead Improvement Packet which includes the lantern pattern, and four other outside improvements will be postpaid for $1.

Begin Atom Advertising

LONDON (INS — Britain, with a vast new atomic industry anxious to capture world export markets, is launching out in the field of atomic advertising. A series of commercial films in color, aiming to "tell the world what atomic goods Britain has to offer," are being made in London by an industrial cinematographic firm.

Brighten Rugs During Spring House Cleaning

A shiny, clean house seems to go hand in hand with the coming of spring.

Dull looking rugs and carpets need be no exception, says Mary Hixon, Oakland County home demonstration agent. Rugs can be brightened with a dry suds shampoo. To do this, clean the rug thoroughly with a vacuum cleaner.

Prepare the dry suds by dissolving ¾ cup syndet (synthetic detergent) in one cup of hot water in a large mixing bowl. Whip it with a beater or mixer until you get a dry, fluffy suds—just like beaten egg whites. Syndets are usually used because they are easy to prepare and leave no "soap-curd" or scum on your rugs.

Work with just a small area of the rug at one time. Put the suds on with a soft scrubbing brush using wide circular strokes. The excess suds can be lifted from the surface with a spatula. Use it flat on the rug and lift the suds rather than scraping them along.

Have a newspaper handy to wipe off the spatula as you work. To rinse, go over the shampooed area with a sponge or soft cloth wrung out in clear, warm water. First wipe the area with a circular motion, then against the nap, and finally with the nap. Get as much of the suds out as possible, but avoid getting the rug wet. Do this by wringing out the sponge as dry as possible.

You can give the rug a finished look by lightly rubbing it with the nap, using a clean brush. Be sure to overlap the adjoining areas slightly to prevent rings or light and dark spots on the rug. Allow at least 24 hours drying time before walking on the rug or carpet.

Tips to Vets on Home Buying

Five tips for veterans with the Spring urge to buy homes under the GI loan program were offered recently by Lloyd H. Jameson, Manager of Veterans Administration Regional Office at Detroit.

The tips are:

1. Make sure your home is near enough to transportation, schools and shopping to suit the needs of you and your family.

2. Be sure your income is large enough to pay all costs of home ownership, including loan principal and interest, taxes and insurance, utilities and maintenance, and anything you are buying on installments.

3. Make certain your interests in such matter as deposits, purchase agreements, and sales contracts are fully protected before you make a deposit or sign any document.

4. Be sure you understand the important legal documents you have to sign when you make "final settlement" or "close the loan."

5. And, remember, a GI loan must be repaid. GI loans offer you many advantages, but like any other debt, they must be paid back on schedule.

Details on these five tips and many other helpful hints for veterans thinking about buying a home with the aid of a GI loan are contained in the 30-page VA pamphlet, "To the Home-Buying Veteran," available at any VA office.

Mr. Jameson said veterans may obtain a copy of "To the Home-Buying Veteran" by writing or visiting the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 310 East Jefferson Avenue, Detroit 31, Michigan.

Increasing popularity of colored plumbing fixtures is reflected in the bathrooms shown in model homes throughout the country this spring, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

White Paneling Now

Book shelves surfaced with white paneling are striking in appearance, and stay that way, for they are easy to clean. The plastic finish of this paneling does not permit dust to cling to it as to other surfaces. It is easily wiped clean with a damp cloth. The paneling, sold at lumber yards, is finished in various colors, woodgrains and marble patterns.

An easy way to transport your scrub pail is by putting casters under a small board and attaching a string to it, like a pull-toy.

DAYLIGHT TO CELLAR — Modern glass block can solve the difficulty of providing daylight for the basement or crawl space without the attendant problems of breakage, frame rotting or condensation damage which afflict ordinary window sash. At top, a conventional basement window has been replaced by a sturdy, attractive glass block panel. In the center, a similar panel is used where a well brings the window opening below ground level. If the drain in the well clogs, the solid glass block will effectively prevent entry of water into the basement. At the bottom, glass block are used to daylight crawl space beneath the house — a definite advantage when repairs are necessary under the house. Glass block is modular and fits with any type of foundation or construction.

Kitchen Wall Oven Housewife's Delight

Raising the oven from near the floor and building it into the kitchen wall is one of the most welcome innovations in the recent history of the residential construction industry.

* * *

In their zeal to minimize the homemaker's back bending, however, some builders apparently are giving the ovens "too much" of a lift. Many wall ovens are being installed so that the bottom of the unit is on a level with countertops.

* * *

After conducting tests to find the oven height providing "maximum safety, comfort and convenience," Cornell investigators concluded that, ideally, each individual should have a custom-fitted oven. For the mass-production builder they recommend installing the oven so that the bottom of the door opening (not the bottom of the oven unit) measures 36 inches from the floor—a compromise height based on the average height of American women.

Hardwood Shorts Save You Coin in Laying Floor

It is possible to install attractive floors with short lengths of hardwood.

* * *

The short lengths of hardwood flooring, manufactured in the same manner as standard lengths, are pieces considered too short to include in the standard length bundles. However, these short lengths are perfectly matched, provide the same strength durability and smoothness as longer standard lengths.

Short lengths of hard maple or birch permit blending of tones and provide a floor of unique and individual beeauty. There is no monotonous sameness of pattern and the strips present, in the home floor, a pleasing artistic regularity.

Professional floor-layers point out there is no trick to the laying procedure; that the cost of all short lengths compares favorably with the cost of regular lengths.

Spring Cleaning Chores for Dad

It's true that the annual major assault on dirt and disorder traditionally falls within Mrs. America's province. In these days of appliances and mechanical aids in almost every room of the home, however, Father is beginning to take a hand in spring cleaning.

* * *

The result can do much toward improving the safety, appearance and comfort of the home. Here are a few typical steps the male animal can take while his helpmeet tackles the scouring and dusting:

ATTIC ATTACK: The firm, strong hand of the husband can work wonders here. The attic catches everything imaginable and accumulated clutter can be a fire hazard in an area that is seldom visited except to pile more old magazines, clothing and other tinder.

BATHROOM REPAIRS: Walls, floors and even ceilings of bathrooms should be checked for signs of damage from moisture and steam. Replacements call for the permanent, waterproof surface of a material like ceramic tile. It's up to Hubby to call in the tile contractor and supervise the job.

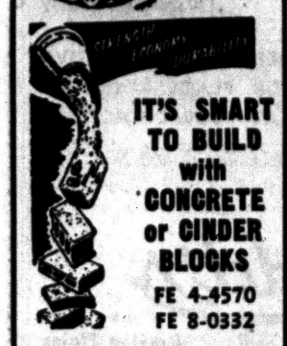

SHARPENING KNIVES: Dull tools are not only difficult but dangerous to work with. Avoid injuries by handing the blades to The Man for a good whetting.

* * *

STAIR SAFETY: While he has the tools out, dispatch the amateur carpenter to the attic or cellar stairs and have him check handrails. Loose connections should be tightened and worn links replaced.

Study the topography of your land to insure proper grading and drainage away from the house.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS LATER—The day after the steel was delivered for the Detroit Edison building this is the way it looked. With amazing rapidity—and the help of a huge crane—the metal skeleton of the building went up. Since that time, a week ago, the workmen have been putting in utilities. The building is scheduled for completion in June.

Attic Play Den in Every House

A home's "bargain basement" is in its attic!

* * *

Topflight expansion possibilities abound right under a home's roof, and at comparatively little cost, too. Attic space can be finished for about half the cost of similar space in an addition or a new home.

But before you start remodeling, make sure you've included certain essentials in your plans. For instance —

Head room. Determine the space in which you can have ceilings of normal height. Low and sloping ceilings will cause bumped heads and no one appreciates that. If the space is to be small, plan for one large room rather than two or three cramped rooms.

* * *

Bathroof. All renovated attics should have bathroom facilities. Locate them over an existing bath or kitchen to save plumbing costs. Walls and floor should, of course, be surfaced with waterproof ceramic tile just as your other bathrooms are. Although there are 200 different tile colors, choose only one for the attic bath; two or more colors in a small bath would make it seem too "busy."

* * *

Storage. Plan all low space for storage. Drawers, cabinets and even a bunk can be built into such areas.

Light and ventilation. Before putting in large dormers, check to see how they'll affect the appearance of the rest of the house. Perhaps a window wall at one end of the attic would be better.

Make final check with an architect or builder. Show him your plans; with just a glance he may make some very important contributions by way of both practicality and design.

Roofing and flashing should be as permanent as possible. Heavy grades of asphalt shingles cost more, but last longer. Flashing must be rustproof.

Stork Compels Student to Resign One Day Job

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Earl Smith's one-day job as city airport manager during Roanoke student government day didn't last a day. Smith, a senior at Lucy Addison High School, had to resign shortly after his term got started. His wife gave birth to a girl.

Because most middle - aged houses still have the original plumbing fixtures, dramatic changes can be made in the bathroom by replacing the outdated colorful new fixtures.

Hint for Annual Trek to Cottage

Why do mothers get gray?

Well, for one thing, double-duty on the home front is close at hand for many busy homemakers.

* * *

Pretty soon it will be time to open up the summer cottage and still maintain the city home on a part-time basis for dad between his weekend trips to the country.

* * *

Such a situation calls for real skill in home management, of course, and plenty of tact and patience, too! And in the midst of the confusion accompanying the trek out of town, it's small wonder that some things are forgotten only to be painfully brought to mind later.

One of the most common oversights is failure to remember the basic physical difference between city and country living and the need for certain home first aid items to deal with the minor but irritating afflictions that are more likely to occur in the summer.

Since storage space generally is more often a problem in your country place, experienced resorters point out that salves and ointments in handy fold-up metal tubes are perfect for the cottage medicine chest. The tubes are small to begin with and take up less space as you roll them up.

Homemaker of the Present Is Classed as a 'Nomad'

Compared with home-owners of a generation ago, current householders are "nomads."

* * *

Families today don't settle down on homesteads and stay put. They move frequently. The Federal Reserve Board recently found that almost half of the non-farm families that own their homes had been there for fewer than five years.

Another study disclosed that almost half the houses built last year were constructed for families that already owned homes at the time they were arranging to buy new ones.

This way of living puts a premium on keeping a house in good condition in order to maintain a high resale value. A well-designed, soundly constructed house deteriorates very little if it is well taken care of.

INSPECT OFTEN

The secret is making repairs as they are needed. This not only spreads the cost over a longer period of time, but it prevents the added expense that often results from neglect.

For example, prompt attention should be given a leaking roof. Water seepage can raise havoc with walls and ceilings.

When a roof leaks in one spot, the rest of it should be held suspect. Various parts of a roof wear out at about the same rate. When a leak occurs in a weathered roof, a complete asphalt shingle reroofing job is warranted.

In addition to making a roof weathertight, application of a new roof over the old one offers another benefit in terms of resale value. Asphalt shingles today offer a wide variety of colors in attractive dark tones or new, exciting pastels.

PAYS DIVIDENDS

Putting on a new roof, consequently, presents the opportunity of modernizing a house in appearance, thus making it more desirable in the current market.

Frequent exterior painting is another maintenance habit that pays rich dividends. Four or five years is generally considered the maximum interval between paint jobs.

Special emphasis should be given to the exterior trim, particularly panel doors, ponderosa pine windows, and shutters. The highlights of exterior decoration, they are often taken as clue to the care a house has been given.

* * *

Well-cared-for exterior millwork gives a house a brightness and freshness that a last-minute decorating job can never supply.

'Cover Wagons' Being Tested

Multi - Horsepowered, Steel Bodied Units to Push Through Africa

WASHINGTON—A fleet of modern "covered wagons," steel-bodied and multi-horsepowered, is being tested for a push through Southwest Africa that recalls pioneer days of the American Wild West.

* * *

The plan is to use massive tractor trains to open up hinterland desert and bush country too rough for jeeps and other light cars to cross. Ultimate objective: to extend traffic from the Atlantic port of Walvis Bay to the Rhodesias in the heart of southern Africa.

At present, says the National Geographic Society, rails and roads on the shortest route end at Grootfontein, 520 miles from the transcontinental railway that runs through Northern and Southern Rhodesia.

Along Southwest Africa's entire Atlantic front stretches a barren desert, 50 to 100 miles wide, grimly known as the "Skeleton Coast." Its only important port is Walvis Bay, halfway between Portuguese Angola on the north and the Union of South Africa on the south.

* * *

Yet even this forbidding region yields considerable wealth. From the diamond-bearing sands of the desert's southern reaches come some of the world's finest gems, worth many millions of dollars annually. Walvis Bay fisheries are a growing industry. The interior exports are minerals, meat, wool and hides.

BOER DESCENDANTS

Beyond the coastal dunes and deserts, the bulk of Southwest Africa rises to plateau and mountain regions three to seven thousand feed high. There live most of the area's 50,000 Europeans—descendants of Boers from South Africa, plus German-speaking citizens whose holdings go back to the period of German control before World War I, and a lesser number of British.

In the sunny uplands are found nearly half of the estimated 350,000 native tribesmen, including Hottentots, Hereros, and a few bow-and-arrow hunting Bushmen. Their reservations, pastures and roaming grounds are scattered over the country.

But the central area is a thirsty land. Its only permanent streams flow along northern and southern borders. With surface water limited to a few springs, essential supplies must come from wells and sinkholes.

3-Dimensional Wallpaper Made for Ultra Homes

NEW YORK (INS)—Some people may have thought the recently introduced mother-of-pearl wall covering was too showy—so now you can buy mere fakes of it on wallpaper.

It's one of the new effects designed to give a deluxe and different look to what once may have been four bare walls.

Flakes of mother of pearl are imbedded in plastic for a rich and sparkling effect. The manufacturer claims his pearl-flaked wallpaper is washable. It's available with pearl gray, shell pink, pale green, oyster white, blue and yellow backgrounds which pick up the sparks of color in the shell.

If this is too fancy for you, perhaps you'd favor the textured stripe that not only looks, but actually is, three dimensional. It's made of paper-backed plastic in gray, green, beige, driftwood and white.

Strips of the plastic are raised so that you can feel the stripes when you run your hand down the paper.

Anybody for Hiking?

ATLANTA — The longest hiking trail in America is the Appalachian Trail, which begins in northern Maine and runs through 14 states into northern Georgia. Four to 6 feet wide and plainly marked, the trail cuts through wilderness.

WEBBING CHAIR — This webbing chair and stool are made from regular fir plywood available at any lumber dealer. You may finish it with upholstery webbing for indoors or wooden slats and a pad for outdoors. Each side of the chair has three pieces held together with wooden dowels. Order the full size pattern from Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California. Price is $1.00.

New Concrete Floor Paint Dries in Only 20 Minutes

A new concrete floor paint, reportedly the world's first fast drying floor coating, may make a lot of cartoonists unhappy. You can't trap yourself in a corner with it. It dries in only 20 minutes with favorable moisture conditions.

* * *

No joke to cartoonists and gag writers, it virtually eliminates a classic do-it-yourself plight lampooned in endless variety in newspapers and magazines. In a typical twist, the trapped painter glumly reads paint can directions which tell him, ". . . then open window to air out . . . will dry in about eight hours."

Another variation shows the victim painting himself toward the only door in the room only to find his wife painting herself toward the same door from the opposite direction in the adjoining room.

Called Luminall Concrete Floor Paint, the new material contains Acrypolyrene, a specially processed paint vehicle designed by National Chemical and Manufacturing Company, Chicago, to give the paint greatest possible cohesion and adhesion, or toughness and surface grip.

Completely alkali-resistant, the material requires no pre-painting acid wash of the surface. Concrete surfaces are prepared simply by: (1) washing with detergent or trisodium phosphate; (2) rinsing with clear water; and (3) allowing the surface to dry.

Ability of the paint to withstand alkali in concrete makes possible for the first time the painting of new concrete floors. Basements of new homes may now be painted as soon as the structure is ready for decoration, eliminating entirely the volume of concrete dust which accumulates in a new home.

SAVE SMALL FORTUNE

According to Luminall, this feature will help homeowners save a small fortune in cleaning bills as concrete dust is prevented from clogging up air system filters, tracking up rugs and floors, and settling on furniture and other items stored in the basement.

The paint's water repellent, easily washable qualities enable painted concrete surfaces to be cleaned quickly by mopping, or even by vacuum cleaner.

It comes ready to use, requiring no mixing, primers, or sealers. Six popular colors are available in a low sheen finish. The colors include: Cocoa brown, tile red, sandstone, tile green, light gray, and battleship gray, in addition to black and white.

Results of durability tests on heavily used floors show that the paint will remain in good condition for five years in the average basement, according to the manufacturers.

* * *

It is highly resistant to gasoline, oil, kerosene, and heat. Equally effective on primed or previously painted wood surfaces, it can decorate and protect porches and sun decks, also.

Be Wary About Plumbing Jobs

Americans have always prided themselves on being eagey business men. Being a "shary trader" to us means getting the best "deal" for the lowest price. And yet, following this sort of impulse can lead to excesses of poor judgment on occasion.

* * *

Opportunities frequently exploit such bargain-hunters, particularly in home plumbing. It is important to know a plumber's qualifications before entrusting him with the installation or repair of a plumbing or heating system, points out the National Association of Plumbing Contractors.

When a man who is not a licensed journeyman or master plumber tells you that anybody who can handle a wrench can fix that kitchen sink — and I'll do it for half the price a licensed contractor would charge — beware!

It may end up costing you many times more in the end; the initial cost, the cost of repairing the damage resulting from improper work and the cost in time and temper lost. Also, bootleg work is against the law in many communities and with good reason. It could endanger the health of your family and neighbors.

A licensed plumber is the product of years of training, including formal schooling, supervised experience, and the passing of strict qualifying examinations, NAPC states.

* * *

The association advises homeowners to get the best plumbing buy for their dollar, but to make sure that they get long-term value and protection, too.

More than 2,000 types of lutes are made by master craftsmen in Great Britain.

Top Old Coffee Table With Marble Pattern

An old coffee table can be given a new look that's in the height of furniture fashion when it's topped with a panel of marble patterened Marlite.

* * *

This predecorated hardboard paneling offers a choice of five authentic reproductions of rare imported marbles, varying in color, tone and pattern.

The beauty of marble is provided at a fraction of the cost of the natural stone.

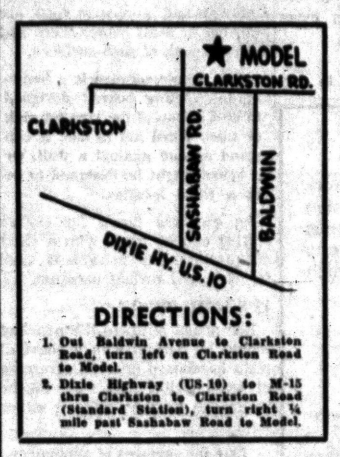

To modernize a coffee table with Marlite, a piece that has been cut to size is simply applied to the old top with wallboard adhesive. No surface preparation is necessary, other than removal of excess soil or loose material.

Legs of the table and other exposed wood areas may be painted to complement the marble pattern panel. A striking combination results, for example, with a black and gold marble pattern top and black enamel on the rest of the table.

* * *

For a modern flair, prefabricated legs of metal or wood may replace the original ones.

Loan Groups Help Out

The nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations, which this year celebrate their 125th anniversary, have financed nearly 10 million homes in the postwar period, according to the United States Savings and Loan League. These specialized thrift and home financing institutions are currently financing nearly 40 per cent of America's home purchases annually.

Sorting Board in Laundry Eliminates Onus in Chore

A laundry center with plenty of suitable surfaces for sorting and handling clothes plus adequate storage for laundry supplies can greatly lighten the unending task of keeping the family in clean clothes.

* * *

It takes a lot of area to sort efficiently the family's entire array of clothes after drying or ironing. And the surfaces on which fresh laundry is laid ought to be clean and easily kept that way. Counters and appliance tops are fine, but in most homes there just aren't enough of such surfaces.

One simple solution is a homemade "sorting board" designed to rest on top of the laundry sink or tubs. When not in use, it can stand on end against a wall. Or a board might be designed to be in a fixed location.

An excellent board for clothes sorting can be made with a sheet of plastic-finish hardboard used for wall and ceiling paneling.

IT'S SNAG-PROOF

For added stiffness the paneling should be backed with a sheet of plain hardboard or with a framing of wood strips. The man of the house can quickly make it either way.

Like the surfaces of appliances, the smooth, hard finish of the predecorated hardboard is easily dampwipe clean. This snag-proof paneling, available at lumber yards, may be chosen from a variety of wood grains and plain colors which will give a visual lift to the laundry center.

Another boon for the homemaker is suitable shelf or cabinet space on the wall over the washing machine for storing boxes and bottles of laundry supplies. Wiping up dirt and spilled powders is made easier if the shelves are topped with Marlite.

* * *

To reduce dirt-catching, open laundry supply shelves can be converted into a cabinet by enclosing them at the ends and installing sliding doors. Here again, Marlité can do an excellent job. Prefabricated metal tracks for the doors can be fastened to the shelves, or tracks can be improvised with wood molding strips.

NEW TABLE LAMP — Rope texture is realistically simulated on the elongated white neck of this new, smoke-gray composition lamp. The shade is a white boucle weave laminated on fiberglas.

Most Popular Room

TV helped greatly to introduce the family room into the American home setting. But once given a place, the family room has maintained its popularity on merits of taste and intelligence, the family room often becomes the most popuar area in the whole house. Essential to the design is a versatile material, both practical and beautiful, for floor and walls.

One of the country's largesg gas companies estimates that the average cost of water heater service increases over 400 per cent for families lacking the benefits of soft water.

Replace Antique Mattress Now

Have you the kind of husband who thinks any home furnishings not strictly Early Stone Age must be entirely too modern? And who brushes off your best decoration efforts, aided by a battery of self-appointed experts, as "less comfortable than the old"? If so, there's one item upon which you'll have him dead to rights, without pre-selling.

* * *

Positively no one who pauses to think about it seriously actually wants an antique mattress, according to a survey made by sleep equipment authorities. The Ming vase, the Egyptian bronze statue, the paintings of the Old Masters (even in reproduction), the beautiful blending of old and new in furniture—yes.

But not a dilapidated, creaking mattress dating from the 1930's. And oddly enough, there are 25 million of them in use in the United States, according to a national survey.

In planning your home's new look for spring, why not give top priority to the bedding that has as much to do with the average person's sense of well-being as anything else?

Check them for the whole household, and find out which mattresses need replacing. In making your tests at the store to determine which type of mattress best suits your needs, remember that the best way to test a mattress is to lie down on it and decide which firmness you want.

As a yardstick, if your mattresses are close to the 10-year mark, then they've probably given their quota of service and should be given a careful check-up. Spring cleaning time is excellent for replacing them.

Most Versatile

Wood is probably man's most versatile material. Besides being used as lumber and for other wood products, it has been converted by chemical processes into paper, wallboard, rayon, X-ray and photographic film, toothbrush handles, shoe buckles, safety glass, fountain pens, buttons, washable wall shades, upholstery fabrics, explosives and thousands of other items.

Dedicated to Principle

Forests, unlike other natural resources, can be used and regrown forever. The forest products industries are dedicated to the principle of continuous production of trees on lands best suited for this purpose.

Sees Rising Prosperity, No Sign of Depression

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. Roy Blough, a New York economist, believes there is little chance of a depression similar to the 1930s and predicts a steadily rising national prosperity.

* * *

The only serious threat to continued growth of our economy, Blough said yesterday, is the possibility of a third major war. He spoke at the Third National Study Conference of the Church and Economic Life.

* * *

Blough said he sees no reason why the factors which have contributed to the nation's economic growth will not continue to operate.

Even if a downward movement developed, Blough said, "the policies of both business and government are likely to be much more favorable to a rapid restoration of prosperity than they were in the 1930s."

He said the economy had "automatic stabilizing elements" such as old-age and unemployment insurance, stabilization of agricultural income and bank deposit insurance.

* * *

"Both political parties," he said, "have shown that they understand the problems of maintaining and restoring high level demand and have acted with some vigor in meeting the minor downturns of 1949 and 1953."

* * *

About 400 clerical and lay Protestant leaders are attending the 4-day conference sponsored by the National Council of Churches and major Protestant denominations. The conference ends Sunday.

Britishers Now Drink Mixed Milk Cocktails

LONDON — The British Milk Marketing Board reports encouraging results in its attempt to increase consumption of fluid milk.

* * *

In co-operation with dairy organizations, it sponsored portable milk bars at 63 agricultural fairs in 1955.

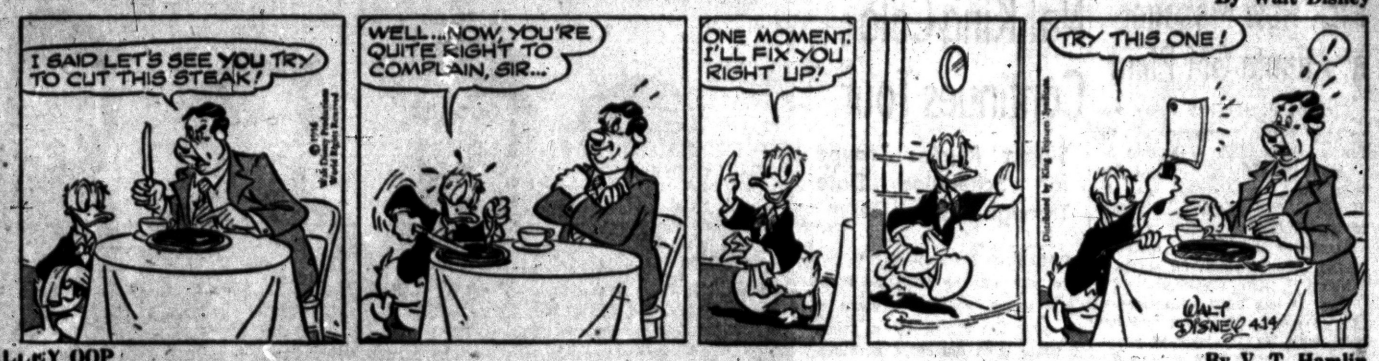

Drinks sold usually are fluid milk alone or in milk shakes, but the board reported that one enterprising bar offered a milk cocktail of milk, grated Parmesan cheese, tomato puree, egg, salt, pepper, and paprika.

* * *

More than 180,000 milk drinks were sold at the 63 events.

More than 10 per cent of the population of the United States is concentrated within the city limits of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Detroit.

Nat King Cole Continues Tour

Singer Rejoins Troupe for Scheduled Date Through South

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Nat (King) Cole was on the road in Dixie again today, anxious to leave in the past the attack by a group of white men during a Birmingham, Ala., performance.

The Negro singKer, rejoining a Southern concert tour here last night, said he was ready to leave behind, too, the "political situation" resulting from the incident.

The near-capacity segregated audience in Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium greeted Cole with enthusiasm typical of his reception here in the past. The auditorium seats 3,700.

To reporters, he had compliments for Birmingham policemen and citizens. He called the city's reaction "a ownderful gesture." He said he has no intention of filing damage actions against his attackers.

Troop Cites Top '55 Scout, Names 3 to Eagle Rank

In addition to his Life Scout badge, Raymond Davis, 14, this week was awarded the top trophy of Boy Scout troop 224 Grace Lutheran Church as the best all-around scout of the year.

Three other boys won Eagle rank at the court of honor meeting, according to scoutmaster Jack Bell. They are James Remez, 14, of 88 Ogemaw Rd.; Lawrence Olliffee, 15, of 269½ W. Huron St. and Michael Strang, 15, of 234 Tilden Ave.

Raymond, of 315 Voorheis Rd., was chosen because of his near-perfect attendance, appearance at inspections and rapid advancement from First Class rank a year ago.

He also shared in a four-way tie for an explorer achievement trophy, with Strang, James Smith, 15, and Raymond Smith, 14.

About 60 members of the troop and some 50 cubs of Webster School pack 6 were on hand for the ceremonies, Bell said.

Other trophies went to Raymond Smith, Arnold Jerome, 14, and Ted Gaenesbauer, 13, for first aid skill; Lynn Carson, 15, for signalling proficiency, and Bruce Rogers for his outstanding record since joining the troop five months ago.

Lots of Things Happen to Ernie, Edie Kovacs

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Arthur Godfrey has his friends—but Ernie Kovacs and his wife Edith Adams, Arthur's morning TV opposition, also have some—including a cab driver who wakes Ernie at 4:30 a.m. and has breakfast with him.

★ ★ ★ ★

"His name's Lou Pack—'Pack the Hack'—and he makes the coffee . . . The only thing is he likes his eggs scrambled a little harder than I do," said mustached, cigar-frazzling Ernie, a former Trenton newspaperman, the other night, "but since he scrambles them and he's my guest, what can I do? "'Pack the Hack' is a wonderful friend—he cuts out anything in the papers about us. Some mornings when he gives me the papers, they're full of holes!"

I'm convinced that about everything happens to Ernie and Edie.

Just now they're set to replace Sid Caesar this summer, but Ernie's sure it won't happen.

"I've had so many big deals," Ernie says.

"I was in Bermuda on vacation when I got a call from New York. The voice said, 'Ernie, this is Hub.' I said, 'Hub who?'

"He said 'Hubbell Robinson.' It was the top vice president at CBS. He wanted me to come right back and start a big program with a million-piece orchestra.

"I said I was on my first vacation in years and was going to stay on it for three weeks. So he said when I came back to hurry right in to see him.

Lots of Things Happen to Ernie, Edie Kovacs

"I hurried, and when I got there I didn't know whether to say 'Is Hub in?' or what to his secretary. But Hub happened to come out and he said 'Hi, Ernie. How are you, Ernie?' I said I was fine. He said, 'Good boy,' and walked on. So many things had happened in those three weeks that the program he'd been thinking about had been entirely forgotten."

"We had one cab driver," Ernie said, "who always drove about four miles an hour and drove right through red lights but never got arrested. We found out he was drunk. We didn't know it till he got out of the car one morning to fix something and fell right across the hood."

★ ★ ★ ★

Ernie's got such zany characters on his program as Howard the Ant—Whose fans send in crocheted, monogrammed ski-outfits, little fishing poles, little whisky bottles, and, yes, even little ant girl friends, to make his life livable and lovable.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Comic Allan Drake got an opening night wire from Rocky Marciano: "Just do what I do before an audience — keep punching" . . . Gretchen Wyler's sad—her boy friend, cellist Shep Coleman, won't go on tour with her in "Silk Stockings" . . . Lionel Hampton canceled a 27-day tour of North Africa because of battling there.

★ ★ ★ ★

Gladys Shelley refused a songwriting job in London because she can't take her dog along . . . Marlon Brando's keeping Rita Moreno and the phone company happy with those long distance calls from the Orient.

★ ★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Prosperity has its drawbacks. It's now costing more than ever for people to live beyond their means."—Tit-Bits, London.

★ ★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The owner of a local night spot sighs, "Things are so quiet I'd even welcome a threatening letter."

"It takes strong will power for a man to quit his bad habits," says Jack Herbert,"—but many wives have that will power." That's earl, brother.

India Seeks U. N. Parley to Prevent Antarctica Stir

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India had called for a U.N. discussion on Antartica to stave off a possible international uranium rush on the polar continent.

"The matter should be considered by the United Nations and the minerals not left to the various countries to grab," Nehru told Parliament.

Nehru said Chile and Argentina had expressed concern after India on Feb. 17 asked that the subject be placed on the fall agenda of the U.N. General Assembly.

India has reassured the South American nations it is not challenging their claims, Nehru added.

Group Says Long Shows Can Be Health Hazard

TOKYO (AP) — The government's Motion Picture Deliberation Council ruled today that too many hours in a theater at one stretch may be a health hazard.

It said it would recommend that first-run theaters in 10 major cities be required to limit their programs to 2½ hours.

Some theaters now show programs lasting four hours.

ABC Reveals Big Plans for Next Season's Video

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC-TV, the youngest of the three major networks, is taking a long forward stride in programming next season.

* * *

Three important themes will be brought to the home screen by its News and Special Events Department: Alcoholism, divorce and the human element in the scientific complexity of our national defense program.

Both film and live cameras will be combined in the format of these three big program designed by John Daly.

They are tentatively titled "Let's Cry Today," "Divided We Fall" and "Operation Survival." Dates have not yet been set for their showings.

"Omnibus," which this viewer considers the most consistently intelligent and interesting regular program on television, is switching from CBS to ABC next October.

A basic reason is that ABC offered prime Sunday evening time. There has been no official announcement on the hour, but you can bet on 9:30 to 11 p. m., Eastern time.

REVIVAL NEEDED

"Omnibus" at such an hour will revive an evening that has become dull and stereotyped on the home screen. Except for occasional good dramas there hasn't been much in the way of stimulating TV fare on the one evening of the week when most families are at home.

* * *

In step with this increase in live programming, ABC-TV will present six Theater Guild productions from dramatic and musical comedy theater beginning in January.

Among the shows planned are "The General's Other Son," "The Honeys," "Take a Giant Step," "By Jupiter" and "Playboy of the Western World."

In addition, the Metropolitan Opera will produce two operas with the Met's regular stars and artists under the direction of Rudolf Bing.

* * *

NEW SERIES, TOO

A dozen new weekly series are in the works for ABC-TV next season, 10 on film and 2 live.

* * *

Of top interest, and marking a new development for the network, will be a 90-minute weekly drama series on film called "Command Performance." Produced by John Gibbs, the dramas will be based on the works of writers of the caliber of Somerset Maugham, John Dos Passos and John O'Hara.

2 Get Research Grants

EAST LANSING (AP)—Two political scientists at Michigan State University have received research grants from the Social Science Research Council. Dr. Leroy C. Ferguson, director of the Government Research Bureau, received $9,000 to work on a comparative study of state legislatures. Dr. Joseph A. Schlesinger, of the political science faculty, received $7,000 for a study of how state political leaders are recruited.

Fund to Aid Study of College Faculties

NEW YORK—Clarence H. Faust, president of the Fund for the Advancement of Education, announced today the Fund has made grants totaling $501,615 to 34 institutions of higher learning in the United States to support planning and experimental programs designed to effect better utilization of their teaching resources.

Only institution in Michigan to receive funds at this time is hte University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Dr. Faust said, "The problems of recruiting more able peopple for college and university teaching, providing them with adequate preparation for their work, and utilizing their competence more effectively, are the most challenging ones facing higher education for the next 10 to 15 years.

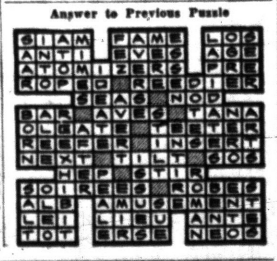

Police Vulcgnized Him and Broke Up Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police suggested today the lookout for a certain poolroom card game will get a new nickname.

They said they surprised William Powell, 36, last night and moved in on the card game before money could be moved from the table.

They confiscated $16.65 and arrested 12 men—including Powell, the sentry who was charged with engaging in a hazard and who is known throughout the district as "Rubberneck."
