Jury's Verdict Finds Kidnaper LaMarca Guilty

Electric Chair Punishment for Killer of Baby

Decision of 12 Fathers Recommends No Mercy for Defendant

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A jury of 12 fathers last night condemned Angelo LaMarca to death in the electric chair for the kidnap-murder of 32-day-old Peter Weinberger.

The jury found the swarthy auto mechanic guilty of kidnaping and first degree murder.

LaMarca's knees wobbled when he heard the verdict. The court attendants grabbed him to keep him from sagging to the floor.

The defense built its case around a temporary insanity plea. It claimed LaMarca, 31, was a normal, hard-working husband and father until last spring when a burden of mounting debts drove him out of his mind.

In that unbalanced state LaMarca embarked on the kidnap plot, the defense said.

LaMarca tried but failed to collect a $2,000 ransom.

The defense asked mercy for LaMarca.

But Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta, the prosecutor, called LaMarca a scheming, cold-blooded criminal and demanded of the jury:

"What mercy was shown baby Peter when he was left in that woods . . . What mercy did he show then?"

The jury was out for six hours and 24 minutes before returning its verdict ending the month-old trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, parents of the tiny victim, were present in the Nassau County courtroom when the verdict was returned.

ADMITS TAKING BABY

The defendant admitted taking the baby from the patio of the Weinbergers' Westbury, N. Y., home last July 4 and abandoning him a short while later in a Long Island honeysuckle thicket a few miles away.

Police found the child's body Aug. 24, the day after the FBI seized LaMarca.

LaMarca's mother, 57, Vitina, also collapsed.

The jury did not recommend mercy in finding LaMarca guilty That automatically doomed him to the electric chair.

Trial Judge Mario Pittoni scheduled the sentencing for Dec. 14.

The sentence will be subject to automatic appeal, however, under provisions of New York State statutes.

On-Base Army Kids to Get Fluoridation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has directed military bases where dependent children live to use fluoridation in their water supply—to retard tooth decay.

The instruction says fluoridation shall be in conformance with "accepted health practice." In arranging the process, the department said the bases should obtain advice from local, state and national health and sanitary engineers.

Approves Fluoridation

IRON RIVER (AP) — The city commission Friday approved fluoridation of Iron River's water supply for one year, starting Jan. 1. The decision followed presentation of a clubwomen's petition with 1,000 signatures. Iron River Township voters last month rejected fluoridation by a 2-1 vote.

Mother Charged With Biting Arm of Daughter, 15

A Drayton Plains mother was arrested last night on a charge that she bit her 15-year-old daughter's arm because the girl complained the house was cold.

Held is Mrs. Grace Tode, 37, of 6192 Adamson St., charged with assault and battery on complaint of her divorced husband, Ross.

She is accused of hitting her oldest daughter, Marcelle, in the face Thursday night, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said. When Marcelle raised her right arm for protection, the mother bit it, Ziem said.

Assistant Prosecutor Walter K. Dennison asked for the warrant after hearing the girl's story yesterday, Ziem said. The father accompanied her.

Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy, who issued the warrant, said the woman may be arraigned today or Monday.

Treasury Asks One Billion Loan

Reason for Action: Possible Aid to Britain Would Deplete Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury has announced a new borrowing of one billion dollars to be used in part to defray the cost of possible financial aid to Britain.

Britain, confronted with depletion of its gold and dollar reserves by the Suez crisis, has asked for waiver of an 82-million-dollar interest payment due the United States Dec. 31.

The British action will mean a loss to the U. S. Treasury of cash.

The Treasury accordingly announced it will invite offers for approximately one billion dollars of 95-day Treasury bills on Monday.

Spanish Man o' War Anchors Off California

The cruiser Jucar arrived yesterday for a visit which will last until next week.

The U.S. Navy said it was the first time in 114 years that a Spanish warship has been known to sail these waters.

Dulles Boards Plane for Paris to Attend Meet

Expected to Reassure Western Europe of Aid at NATO Gathering

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles flies to Paris today with the evident intention of assuring Western European leaders that the United States will do everything possible to help them surmount their current financial crisis.

How much help can be given will depend largely on Congress, both branches of which are making intensive new studies of the foreign aid concept.

the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council.

The council is scheduled to review the over-all Allied defense program against Soviet might and also to consider ways of increasing the cooperation of the NATO powers on international political issues.

An additional major concern of Dulles and other foreign ministers attending the session will be to try to restore Allied unity and closer working relationships among the United States, Britain and France. The unity was shattered by their disagreement over the British-French attack on Egypt.

Attending the meeting along with Dulles, but traveling separately, will be Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

The trip will be Dulles' first diplomatic mission since he underwent a successful cancer operation early last month.

Weather Outside Is Shivery—Brr!

The U. S. Weather Bureau has predicted snow for tonight with 1 to 2 inches accumulation likely. The high will be 37, low 28 degrees.

Heavy snow warnings have been issued for southeastern and extreme south portions of lower Michigan with as much as 4 inches likely.

Sunday will be cloudy and continued cold with a high of 26-30.

Preceding 8 a. m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 33 degrees.

AP Wirephoto

FINAL TOUCHES — This is a general view of the National Automobile Show as final touches were put on displays before the official opening in New York's Coliseum. The nine-day show marks the first time since 1940 that American car builders have displayed their wares in one big show, under the same roof.

Industry-Wide Exhibit First One in 16 Years

Pontiac Shows Striking Convertible Sports Car with Fuel Injector

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, Pontiac Press

NEW YORK—The greatest automobile show of all times opened here at noon. On display are 124 new, glistening, gleaming 1957 model passenger cars and 66 trucks and buses. There are 26 individual car and truck exhibits and they're polished and scrubbed within an inch of their lives.

It's a breathtaking and inspiring sight. You are actually awed as you see these perfectly stunning cars standing there resplendent in all their 1957 glory.

This is the 42nd National Automobile Show but it's the first in the past sixteen years, due to the lack of a large enough place.

In the interim, groups have had their own private shows, but not since 1940 have the displays been brought together under one roof. New York City's magnificent new Coliseum makes the current venture possible.

George W. Romney, President of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, said: "The great size and modern facilities of the new Coliseum allow the largest and finest automobile display in history. As a nation we are standing at a pivotal point in history. We are at the close of the most productive and expansive decade ever known and at the threshold of what promises to be the golden era of America's greatest progress."

All Pontiac residents and Americans everywhere unite in hoping that this prophecy will come true.

Opening ceremonies drew Gotham's mayor, Robert A. Wagner who officiated as the greatest automobile show on Earth was opened to the public.

In addition to these distinguished and celebrated individuals, Miss Lee Meriweather, one time Miss America, is the official hostess. Miss Meriweather may not carry the official weight of her two compatriots but she is in first place by six country miles when it comes to "Oh's" and "ah's."

TURQUOISE AND GOLD

This is a tremendously colorful scene. The most progressive manufacturing entities in the world wouldn't settle for anything else. The background is turquoise, gold and red-orange, with lesser segments of the rainbow introduced where they do the most good and still don't clash with their headline brethren. The overall impact is tremendous and it makes you want to leave with a sparkling new automobile under each arm and a third on a string behind.

* * *

Maybe some yearn for more than three, but I'd settle for a trio—especially if they were these new 1957 Pontiacs.

Pontiac has flashed a new model down here that's one of the two or three most sensational and scintillating cars in the whole show. It's a low slung convertible sports car that looks like a million dollars and gives the impression that its 300 plus horse power would do 150 miles an hour.

In an unguarded moment Pontiac's Pete Estes, chief engineer, conceded that it might but he was hard to pin down. It's mostly white with a brilliant red dash that paces it on top of the world. Pontiac only plans to build 1,500 this year and they will be driven by dealers across the land. It's an injection fuel deal and experimen-

Press Probe in Shooting Spree

Heath Bail Set at $50,000

Alvin Heath was returned to Oakland County Jail yesterday under $50,000 bond set at arraignment before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

The 33-year-old unemployed construction laborer was arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to murder during a six-hour shooting spree which terrorized his neighborhood Wednesday night.

The high bail was requested by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who said he wanted to keep Heath in custody until a decision is reached as to whether the man is sane.

Ziem said two doctors have agreed to examine Heath at the jail Monday morning. They are Dr. Clinton J. Mumby and Dr. A. Tauber, both of Pontiac, whose findings may be used as evidence at a sanity hearing.

A hearing will be requested, either through Probate or through Circuit Court as soon as possible, Ziem said.

The results of the hearing will determine if Heath is to be committed before trial on the criminal charge.

Preliminary examination on the charge will be at 10 a.m. Dec. 18 before Justice Green.

Heath was taken from the jail to Green's office in Rochester by Sheriff Frank W. Irons and his deputy, Ross E. Miller. Irons is the complainant in the charge.

Heath was captured and his gun wrested away when he stepped out the door after reloading a second time inside.

Ziem said yesterday the object of Heath's drunken rage apparently was a neighbor, Herbert

16th Olympiad Bows Out

By BOB CONSIDINE

MELBOURNE (INS) — The 16th Olympiad — greatest sports show on earth — bowed into history today with Russia the unoffical team champion for the first time ever.

A tough Soviet team added the 37th gold metal to Russia's bulging bag in a rough, foul-filled soccer game final against Tito's Terrors from Yugoslavia. The 1-0 victory was marked by personal feuds, unnecessary foul tactics and player battling.

The United States, ruler supreme in the all-important track and field phase of the competition, had to be content with Russia's ability to pile up points in what we consider to be minor sports. Thus, even though the Reds ended the final day with a 722-593 victory in unofficial point standings, Uncle Sam still could be proud of his nieces and nephews who garnered 32 gold medals, 25 silver and 17 bronze.

Russia's state-financed young and old pros ended up with 37 gold, 29 silver and 33 bronze medals.

Goodfellows Go to 4 Townships for Paper Sale

Stars in the eyes of children on Christmas morning may result from the newsboys' sales today in Avon, Addison, West Bloomfield and White Lake townships.

* * *

Receipts collected today on main orders of these communities will go toward toys and warm clothing for children, as well as baskets of groceries for the tots' parents.

* * *

For those Goodfellows, warmly bundled and cheerily calling, are the same one who'll be looking about for needy families for the next two weeks.

* * *

So if you're driving through Avon, Addison, West Bloomfield or White Lake townships today and you hear a call, "Paper," think of those children's starry eyes on Christmas morning.

Sees Good Year Ahead for City's GM Units

Curtice Calls New '57 Pontiac Cars Best Ever Built

NEW YORK — Interviewed for The Pontiac Press about the prospects for the year ahead as far as Pontiac Motor Division is concerned, President Harlow H. Curtice, of General Motors Corporation, declared "Pontiac Motor certainly should have a better year in 1957 than it did in the twelve months just concluded. The new Pontiac cars are the finest and the best the division has ever built. I ought to know. I'm driving one myself."

In commenting on the truck and coach situation, President Curtice said that production in this GM division had held up much more steadily in 1956 than had the passenger car business in America.

"I look for this fine level to continue straight through 1957," he said, "and GMC Truck and Coach should experience another period of steady production."

Pontiac's general manager, S. E. Knudsen, found unanimous approval of the Company's 1957 cars in the hundreds of telegrams that have poured into his office from Pontiac dealers throughout the country.

Filled with such enthusiastic statements as "Best new car announcement in our experience," and "Believe we are well on our way to third place in industry," the dealer wires have flooded Knudsen's office since the 1957 Pontiacs were unveiled earlier this month.

"We could not have hoped for a better response to our 1957 Pontiacs than has been given by our dealers," Knudsen told The Pontiac Press today. "Their expressions of confidence in the Pontiac factory organization, their reports of unprecedented public acceptance of Pontiac's new appearance and quality, and their optimistic outlook for the coming business year, confirms our belief that this will be a banner year for Pontiac."

Knudsen quoted from a wire which read, "Have been Pontiac dealer since 1940. Never before has the public accepted the car as they have now. Sold all my show cars first day and am taking orders." Another one just as enthusiastically stated, "Public reaction to '57 Pontiac greatest we have seen in 23 years association with Pontiac. Product is finest. Price is right. Could have delivered 20 more cars during announcement showing if available." Still another read, "Greatest announcement in 20 years."

"It is this type of approval from our veteran dealers that is most encouraging to us at Pontiac," Knudsen stated. We feel that these independent business men who have sold cars for many years tal jobs have performed in simply marvelous style. Named the "Bonneville" it lacks a price tag but a check for $5,000 won't get you enough change to fill the gas tank.

Auto Industry Opens Big New York Show

PAUL BUNYON SPECIAL

The symbol of the show is an impressionistic figure labeled "a cosmic car." In fact, on the third floor there's a "cosmic car" sixteen feet high and 58 feet wide which qualifies as Paul Bunyon's personal transportation.

They've introduced a 30 minute musical review with top theatrical producers putting it on, an impressive list of television and theatrical personalities take part but personally I'll settle for the 16 June Taylor dancers whom you may remember from the earlier Jackie Gleason shows. Three movies pertaining to the industry are running constantly and you are welcome to all three.

In the past ten years, this nation has produced 67 million cars, trucks and buses, which is more than were built from 1907 down to the last decade. This fact unaided has spelled the growth, prosperity and progress of Pontiac, Michigan.

Today there are 77 million licensed drivers and General Manager S. E. Knudsen's personal objective is to put a Pontiac steering wheel in every pair of hands. Ten years ago, 68 per cent of the nation's families owned an automobile. Today it's 75 per cent. In 1947 only three per cent of the nation's families owned more than one car. Today it's ten per cent and Mr. Knudsen and Company are battling night and day to prove that Pontiac fits snugly, economically and beautifully into this expanding picture.

The automotive industry is expressing pleasure and pride in the 44,000 dealers spread across America who market these products. Their average investment is $108,000 and twenty years each in the business.

* * *

Statistics show they are public spirited citizens playing a big part in civic activities, school and church life and enjoying fine reputations in their respective areas. A third of them have held public office and two have been in the President's cabinet within the last four years.

* * *

Certainly everyone in the Pontiac area can go along with this appraisal. We have been blessed with an outstanding group of reputable and honorable automobile dealers with whom the public deals with faith and confidence.

The Pontiac area group stands behind the products and guarantees the buyers a square deal. All manufacturers are taking a new and added interest in these 44,000 retail outlets.

The big pow-wow runs through Dec. 16, giving it two week-ends for the benefit of New York's interested and attentive citizenry. Show officials hope to average 100,000 visitors a day.

G. M. President Harlow Curtice paid a whirlwind visit to Europe this fall and he reports GM's automotive holdings on the other side of the Atlantic are flourishing and progressing. "The capacity of the Opel plant in Germany has been stepped up to 300,000 units a year," he declared, "and we are producing 53,000 cars and trucks this year and half of this production will be exported." Mr. Curtice says he is very happy over the 200 million dollar modernization and expansion program in GM's European plants which is nearly completed.

* * *

The show really opened last evening with a special preview for automotive people and for the newspaper writers of the country. There are press representatives here from all sections and they were allowed a sneak peak from seven until ten.

The New York populace descends upon the Coliseum at noon today and through all of next week. New York is jammed as usual but there are so many people here from Oakland County it looks like an automotive family reunion.

Pontiac Deaths

Thomas Eric Marsh

Thomas Eric Marsh, infant son of Thomas Oscar and Mary Ellen Wilson Marsh of 2590 McDonald Ct., died yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill three days.

Born here Jan. 22, 1956, he lived 10 months. Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Patricia Ann.

The baby will be taken this evening from the Pursley Funeral Home to the Mutual Service Funeral Home in Decatur, Ala., for service and burial.

Sherrie Lynn Echols

Sherrie Lynn Echols, two year old daughter of Sidney and Dorothy Johnson Echols, died Monday in the Children's Hospital, Detroit. Her death came from injuries received following birth on Sept. 22, 1954, in Detroit.

Mrs. Sidney Echols

Service for Mrs. Sidney (Dorothy) Echols, 32, and her two-year-old daughter, Sherrie Lynn, will be at 2 p.m. Monday from the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home. The Rev. M. B. Terrell of Stried Stone Baptist Church of Detroit will officiate. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Sidney (Dorothy) Echols, 32, a native of Pontiac, died Sunday in Receiving Hospital, Detroit of a pulmonary vascular disease. She had been ill two months.

Born here on March 29, 1924, she was the daughter of William and Georgia Goodman Johnson. In 1947 the Echols were married in Toledo, Ohio. At the time of her death, the family lived at 1521 Fredick St., Detroit.

Mrs. Echols attended Eastern Junior High in Pontiac and belonged to the Stried Stone Baptist Church of Detroit.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Richard of Detroit; a brother Maurice Johnson of Pontiac; and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Brown and Erma Johnson, both of Detroit.

Mrs. Emerson Elliott

Service for Mrs. Emerson Elliott, 74, of 400 Louella St., Drayton Plains, will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday from the Huntoon Funeral Home. Dr. H. H. Savage, of the First Baptist Church, will officiate with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

A resident of Pontiac for 30 years before moving to Drayton Plains six years ago, Mrs. Elliott leaves six children; Ross of Pontiac, Harold of Clarkston, Mrs. Jean Roberts of Seattle, Wash., Stuart, Leonard and Mrs. Ann Dodge, all of Drayton Plains, and a sister, Mrs. John Henry of Ontario.

Mrs. Elliott died at her home yesterday morning of a heart condition.

Mrs. Fred Wuelfing

The Rosary will be recited at 7:30 Sunday evening in Farmer-Snover Funeral Home for Mrs. Fred (Julia Maley) Wuelfing, a former resident of 324 Whittemore Street.

The funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday from St. Vincent de Paul Church with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery, Milford.

Mrs. Wuelfing, 94, died Thursday at Green Lake Rest Haven.

Broken Collarbone, Result of Crackup

Kenneth J. Kritzman, 36, of Utica is under treatment for a broken left collarbone at Pontiac General Hospital today as the result of an early morning accident on Pontiac road in Pontiac Township.

Investigating Oakland County deputies reported the man was unable to explain what happened after his car went off the highway, through a guardrail, and struck some trees before rolling over.

Impressed by Machines, Workers

Spaniards Visit Pontiac in Tour of Area Industry

The Spanish delegation from the Third International Conference of Manufacturers were as much impressed with the workers as they were with the machinery yesterday when they toured the Pontiac Motor Division.

Spokesman of the group of five industrialists, Jose Solis, was "awed" by the attitude and ease with which the plant employes worked. Solis is president of the Spanish Manufacturers Assn. of Madrid.

Said Solis: "We were all impressed that the people worked easily and seemed very much to enjoy it. No one seemed to be under any stress or strain. We are pleased with the simplicity and open temperament of the American people."

Solis said that workers in Spain have to use more effort in their jobs because of inadequate machinery.

"The knowledge and conclusions derived here from study of techniques at the meetings and our tours of plants will be usefully employed when we return to Spain," said Solis. "We believe that the conference provides a fine opportunity to increase the human and industrial relationships between our two countries."

The Spanish delegation met with other foreign envoys and U. S. hosts in New York for a week of banquets and sessions before coming to Pontiac. The main topics of reports and discussions were internal organization, automation, nuclear energy and labor-management relations.

Others in the group from Spain are Miguel Garcia de Saez, chief of external relations of the Spanish Manufacturers Assn.; Mariano Cancer, president of the Federation of Employers; Francisco Torres, executive manager of Industries Cemar S. A., and Enrique de Angulo, Spanish press correspondent at the United Nations.

Heath Is Arraigned on Shooting Charge

Statements were taken yesterday, Ziem said, from Brewer, Mrs. Heath and from the neighbor directly behind the Heaths, Mrs. Dorothy Cushman, 2655 Dearborn.

Brewer said there had been "trouble" outside a township bar last summer, but maintained Heath had started it, Ziem said.

He minimized Heath's apparent grudge, Ziem said and also denied he had ever invited Heath to steal anything.

Mrs. Heath told of staying inside the three-room cinder-block home with her three children while her husband fired away outside.

She admitted loading the last round of 17 shots into his gun at his orders, Ziem said.

"I've learned my lesson to do everything he says when he's been drinking, otherwise he argues with me and starts hitting me," Ziem quoted her as saying.

She denied driving her husband's panel truck around the block that afternoon, Ziem said, so Heath could fire bullets into Brewer's car and home.

Mrs. Heath repeated she had believed Heath was firing into the air, as reportedly was his custom. "I heard the shots but didn't think he was shooting at anyone," she told Ziem.

"My radio was on and I couldn't hear everything. Once I heard him shout, I think he called somebody a Communist."

Mrs. Cushman said she couldn't see who was driving the panel truck, but knew it wasn't Heath, who was "firing the gun out of the right side," she told Ziem.

She originally had believed the driver was Mrs. Heath, forced to chauffeur at her husband's insistance.

She recalled "a couple" of past occasions when Heath had fired the gun up in the air outside his home, Ziem said.

No further investigation was planned for today, he added.

Board Counters Officers' Claims

Denies Undue Influence by Police Chief Straley Over Trial Group

The Pontiac Police Trial Board yesterday countered police officers' criticism, stating there is no "undue" influence over the present board by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The denial was made in a public statement, signed by Board Secretary James J. McCarthy, which read:

"The Pontiac Police Board, which serves without pay, is interested only in protecting the public interest and denies that the Chief of Police exercises undue influence over its decisions."

The statement also countered claims by the Pontiac Police Officers' Assn. that it has refused to meet with police to consider proposals and that it is guided by no fixed procedure for conducting trials and meting out discipline.

The statement implied that police officers had not contacted the board for a meeting. It referred to a letter from the officers' association to Board Chairman R. Verne Todd, which read in part:

"Our committee will call upon your committee in the not too distant future to arrange an agreeable meeting time."

That was last Sept. 17. The Board's statement yesterday said, "The Trial Board was never contacted by this (police) committee."

The remainder of the trial board statement follows:

"It is the position of the present Police Trail Board of five members, that the question of meeting with the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. should be considered by the seven man Trial Board when the two new appointments are made by the Pontiac City Commission. Increase in membership of the board was voted at the recent election. Since the City Charter requires the Police Trial Board to determine its own rules and order of business, it is believed fair and wise to permit the newly - constituted board, of seven members, to participate in this decision.

"Members of the Pontiac Police Trail Board deny that there is no set procedure for conducting trials and disciplining for infractions of police regulations, as alleged. Such actions are governed by a book entitled 'Rules and Regulations of the Police Department of the City of Pontiac, Mich., a copy of which is given to every policeman."

Steal $10 in Pennies

About $10 in pennies and 22 cartons of cigarettes were stolen Thursday night from a market at 402 Central St., Pontiac police said. Entry was gained through a skylight, police said. The pennies were in a cigar box.

Predict Stronger Ties

NATO to Meet Tuesday for Crucial Conference

By PRESTON GROVER
Chief of AP Paris Bureau

PARIS (AP) — Ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — pushed into a renewed spirit of cooperation by events in Hungary — next week open what may be their most dynamic meeting.

The session begins Tuesday, bringing together the ministers of foreign affairs, defense and finance of the 15 nations. It will provide the setting for the first meeting of British, French and American foreign ministers since the Suez campaign which threatened to split the organization wide open.

* * *

But the three members, once so widely divided with France and Britain on one side and America on the other, have begun the healing process so actively that one highly placed figure in the organization predicted: "It will be the love match of the year. The lovers are going to confess their faults, kiss and make up probably more warmly than ever before."

For the past two years NATO has shown signs of pulling apart at the seams. Many members, calmed by the smiles of the Kremlin, wanted to cut their defense expenditures. Russian cannons and tanks in Budapest changed all that.

* * *

"Members who were reluctant before are now remembering how much security the Atlantic Pact gives them," a member representative said.

The biggest event is the expected meeting of Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau. It has not definitely been decided when — or even whether — they will meet as a Big Three.

* * *

1. Agreement on a better method of consultation before any member makes a move which might affect the others. This grows out of the Suez affair.

* * *

2. Agreement on extending the area of interest to include the Middle East. This grows out of Russia's effort to get behind NATO's defenses by entry into that area.

3. Agreement on extension of a large scale radar warning net similar to that across North America, but with its most active segments in West Germany.

Zoo Authority Succumbs at 72

John T. Millen Dies, Was Head of Area Zoo for 16 Years

John T. Millen, a Kansas farm boy who is considered the "father of the Detroit Zoo," died yesterday in Henry Ford Hospital. He was 72.

He was stricken with cancer about three months ago.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Monday at the Northwest Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., 18900 James Couzens Hwy., with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Millen was director of the Detroit Zoo from its opening in 1928 until he retired in 1944. He was a dealer in animals since he went to work on an ostrich farm at the age of 15.

In 1932, Mr. Millen bought the original "Jo Mendi," an educated chimpanzee which brought laughter to thousands of children in Detroit and surrounding areas.

For several years, he went into the jungles of Africa and Asia to bring back animals for the zoo at Hamburg, Germany.

Mr. Millen had made numerous appearances in Pontiac speaking to church and civic groups.

Burned Inmate Names Hummel

Death Bed Testimony Accused Jackson Lifer of Igniting Cell

Convicted Oakland County killer Harold Hummel was accused, in effect, yesterday by a hated fellow inmate who was fatally burned in his isolation cell at Marquette State Prison last Nov. 15.

At Hummel's preliminary examination, it was testified that James W. Hudson named Hummel as his murderer shortly before Hudson died 19 hours after lacquer thinner had been thrown into his cell and ignited.

Hudson, 44, convicted killer and a leader in the bloody Jackson prison riots of 1952, made the accusation on his death bed, two prison officials and a state police detective testified yesterday before Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski.

Hummel, 26, is serving a life term for killing a Hazel Park bar owner and his son in a holdup four years ago.

Assistant Deputy Warden Edward J. O'Boyle testified he talked with Hudson 25 minutes after he was set ablaze, and said that Hudson told him: "It was Hummel."

Warden Raymond Butchee and State Police Det. Joseph Zimmer both testified Hudson told them the same thing.

O'Boyle said he asked Hudson why Hummel had attacked him and that the dying convict told him: "McDowell thought I had snitched on him."

O'Boyle said Hummel and McDowell were friends and McDowell's cell had been searched for contraband or weapons a week before Hudson was killed. McDowell is serving a term for breaking and entering in Kalamazoo.

Judge Dembowski took the case under advisement and said he would announce a decision late in January whether to bind Hummel over to Circuit Court or to clear him.

Detectives Investigate Local Hotel Robbery

Pontiac State Police detectives today are investigating the reported theft of money and jewelry totaling $200 in value from an Orchard Lake hotel room.

The money and such articles as cuff links and watches were taken in a breakin at 3230 Pine Lake Rd., troopers learned last night.

The Day in Birmingham

Cost of North Evergreen Leaps by Half Million

BIRMINGHAM—Study of a new estimate of $1,425,000 for enlargement of the sewage treatment plant here is underway, with some officials startled by its being a quarter million higher than they had expected.

"It's not above what I looked for," said James Juhl, Birmingham coordinator of the North Evergreen Sewage Authority. He indicated however many had expected the engineers' estimate to be closer to $1 million or $1¼ million.

The tentative estimate is being studied by member communities and will be discussed at next Tuesday's meeting of authority representatives. Then they will take the estimate to their governing bodies for approval.

The money, along with an earlier estimated $985,000 for the sewers in the North Evergreen area, will be divided in a share system between Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Township, and Troy.

In that order, shares for the plant project would be 42.7, 8.2, 35.7 and 13.4 per cent.

For the sewers, those communities would pay 22, 10.8, 36.7 and 30.6 per cent, according to the ten-page contract which will go to the four governing bodies.

So that the construction of the two projects can be started next spring, as ordered in circuit court, the authority expects to take bids before bonds are sold. That would avoid having costs turn out to be higher than the funds gleaned from the bond sale, Juhl says.

Plans to have the president of George Washington University, Washington, D. C., at a meeting in the Birmingham Community House is being planned by High Twelve members, with the Birmingham club to be host group.

The mid-winter meeting of the High Twelve International has just been completed at St. Louis, Mo., and among delegates were Arno Hulet, of Bloomfield Township, Michigan president, and Thomas Campbell, of Birmingham, third vice president.

At that session, Dr. Cloyd Marvin of the university agreed to talk, A 33rd Degree Mason, he will talk on needs for qualified young people in the U. S. department of foreign affairs.

Already studying at the university, under the Wolcott Scholarship plan operated under High Twelve sponsorship here are Mary Mullin of Birmingham and Alfred Reuther of Grosse Pointe.

Harold Gasser, president of the local club, has been nominated for a trustee of the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Mary Day Backus

Mrs. Mary Day Backus, 90, widow of the Rev. Dr. Wilson Backus, a Unitarian minister, died at her home, 1230 Latham Rd., after a long illness. She had been active in Unitarian church affairs, and lived here 15 years.

She leaves her son, Hugh, with whom she lived, four grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Service will be tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with interment in Milford, Ohio.

know what the public wants in a new car. When we are able to warrant their approval, we know we have a successful product on our hands."

The National Automobile Show offers truck manufacturers a wonderful opportunity to dramatize some new and important developments for the trucking industry, according to Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division.

"This show, which will draw thousands of persons interested in trucks, gives GMC Truck a chance to familiarize its customers with new product features in an atmosphere of excitement and glamour," Monaghan said in a statement today to The Pontiac Press.

"Our exhibit at this year's show is one of the most significant we have ever presented due to the many engineering advances embodied in our display trucks and engines.

"It tells our power story for 1957 and gives us an opportunity to emphasize our air suspension development which, with rubberized nylon air bags substituted for the conventional heavy steel springs, will mark an unusually important new trend toward this type of suspension.

"Truckers from all corners of the Midwest and other sections of the country will be shown in the GMC exhibit just how air suspension is going to serve them and the transportation industry."

"The year 1957 promises in many ways to be the most exciting and eventful postwar year for Ford Motor Company, said Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of Ford.

Some $4 billion and more than a decade of hard work by a half-million people have gone into making it possible.

"Our 1957 model cars and trucks, as well as our tractors and farm equipment, cover the broadest market base in our history and promise near-record sales. In the fall of 1957, we will vastly increase our market potential with the introduction of the Edsel, an entirely new line of 1958 passenger cars in the medium-price field. The Edsel line will reach the market at a cost of a quarter of a billion dollars.

"Under the tremendous reorgaization program blueprinted 10 years ago, our facilities expansion will reach its fullest impact on production in 1957, and we will achieve our goal of bringing production capacity up to expected levels of demand for our broader line of products.

"We have just passed the $4 billion mark in expenditures already made or earmarked for current projects since 1946. Ford Division offers the retractable hardtop, the industry's only true hardtop convertible.

"Although 1956 sales of some six million cars did not reach the industry's earlier expectations, the year ranks among the Ford Motor Company's best. In 1957, the industry should sell about 6¾ million cars, and Ford Motor Company expects to increase its share of this market."

"Automobile shows—by stimulating interest in automobiles and enthusiasm for new models — have played an important part in expanding car sales to dimensions beyond the most optimistic predictions a few years ago," said President L. L. Colbert of Chrysler to the Pontiac Press.

"At the automobile show this year led by the impressive 200 car and truck spectacle at the New York Coliseum and at shows in years to come, we expect to see ground work laid for even greater markets," he continued.

"We at Chrysler Corporation are extremely pleased that an industry show will be held in New York City—the showcase of the nation. We are looking forward to this show as an important opportunity for the public to compare our 1957 products with those of others and we believe that such comparison will be helpful to our sales efforts.

"All of us at Chrysler are convinced we have the finest line of cars we've ever produced."

Travel Program Tuesday Features Clifford J. Kamen

The third in a series of travel and adventure programs sponsored by the Pontiac Kiwanis Club will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac High auditorium with the showing of "The Union of South Africa."

* * *

Clifford J. Kamen, noted world traveler, photographer, and artist, will present a color film and lecture on the topic.

The new color movie depicts the major geographical areas, principal industries, unique game reserves, and the fascinating native life of this widely discussed region.

Southwest Africa, the historic Cape area, and Johannesburg, the city built of gold, will be among the main sectors explored in the talk and film.

Kamen is considered among the greatest illustrated lecturers. He has traveled in 32 foreign countries to gather information for such programs. The "Union of South Africa" was reportedly produced after extensive research and camera work by Kamen.

A Dollar Doesn't Go Far; Thieves Go Far for It

Thieves went a long way for the sake of $1 Thursday night, according to Pontiac police.

They forced open a coal bin window at the rear of the Pepsi Cola Co. warehouse, 922 Oakland Ave. After clambering through the coal bin, they forced open the inside door leading to the warehouse proper.

Reaching the office, they forced open a desk drawer. Inside was a $1 bill.

Battle for Freedom in Budapest

Russians Put Down Revolt, but Face Defiant Patriots

(Where there were lovely buildings, there now is rubble. Where there was life, there now is death. Where Hungarian patriots once fought successfully and heroically against overwhelming Soviet might, the Soviets now rule — nominally. As American reporter Katharine Clark reports in this last article of her series on the valiant battle of Budapest, the "spirit of freedom" has not been quenched.)

By KATHARINE CLARK
(INS Staff Writer)

The citizens of Budapest remain unbowed despite nearly six weeks of merciless pounding by Soviet military might, and a new chapter is being written in Hungary's heroic fight for freedom.

It is being inscribed with the blood of a people whose defeat was proclaimed as long ago as Nov. 9 by the puppet regime of Janos Kadar.

Within these last few days I have seen the fury of these people as they braved Soviet tanks and units of the Soviet-controlled army and police — a fury far more intense than on Oct. 23, when the revolution started. Never have I seen such an angry citizenry.

Hungarian workers fought troops and police in the streets, and many of the patriots fell dead or wounded. Black-veiled women mourning their dead at shrines of heroes in Budapest were clubbed down by rifle-swinging infantrymen.

Last Saturday (Dec. 1) night from my hotel window in Budapest I counted 23 Soviet tanks crossing a bridge from the West into the main section of Budapest. There was more trouble ahead. New fighting erupted the next day between Russian tanks and patriot workers.

On Tuesday, 3,00 defiant women marched through the streets in an anti-Soviet demonstration that set off more bloody clashes.

Soviet tanks threatened to crush unarmed demonstrators beneath the treads of their mammoth vehicles — and in some cases Hungarian soldiers cried when they saw the tanks turn toward the crowds.

While there still are battles between patriots and the armed might of communism, much of the resistance since the massive Soviet retaliation of early November has been of a passive nature.

The other day when police came to arrest three workers in a factory, 700 of their fellow employes laid down their tools and marched into the roadway, blocking the path of the police.

When Soviet tanks started to follow a crowd of demonstrators leaving a square, Hungarian bus and truck drivers blocked the exits with their vehicles.

There are many ways to resist repression and Hungarian patriots have run through the list of them after the Communist government claimed it had put down the revolution.

Small boys walk up to Russian tanks, spit on them or stick Hungarian flags to them. Freshly-painted signs declaring "Russians go home" keep appearing all over Budapest. A "public notice" was posted offered a reward to "anyone who can find a supporter of the Kadar government."

And the revolutionary spirit has burst forth anew every time the conquering communists brought down their heel too hard.

The first new outburst following the four death-filled days and night that ended Nov. 8 came in mid-November when reports swept the capital that Soviet authorities were rounding up thousands of patriots and shipping them off to Russia.

Children who had fought gloriously in the revolution stood around the Budapest railroad station watching their older brothers or fathers or cousins being herded by tommy gun-carrying Soviet soldiers into waiting freight cars. Then they swept through the city, some half-hysterical, carrying the news.

Budapest seethed with these stories. There were new, isolated suicide attacks against Soviet forces. There were mass meetings in defiance of curfews.

The Russians started rounding up the intellectuals whose agitation had moved the people of Hungary to revolt — writers, artists, student leaders. Leading Hungarian entertainers said they would refuse to perform while Soviet forces remained.

* * *

For those who remained in Budapest, life was grim, but the mood of resistance continued. When the government claimed 40 to 45 per cent of the workers had returned to their jobs, the workers' leaders ordered a 48-hour general strike.

Outside one building, early this week, I saw a tiny old woman picking at something in a pile of garbage.

Another woman, young, was shoving a baby carriage, creaking under the weight of a small coal range. I approached her and, amazingly, she managed what might be accepted as a smile. With a stove and a baby carriage, she said, anyone can make a new home.

All over Budapest, those who remain — and live — are busy. They are cleaning the debris from their homes. There is an unending, desperate, search for window panes, scarcer almost than food. Bricks fill the empty windows in most places.

Buses and streetcars, with cardboard windows, are staggering back into service. Trading and scrounging for the necessities of life take up much of everyone's time. Few persons walk about idly. There is much to do and keeping busy interrups thought.

* * *

Nearly six week after the revolution first flared, and despite the use of every device to stamp out the flame, the spirit of revolution remains today.

* * *

The students still demand withdrawal of all Soviet troops and call for an "independent" Hungary.

Many lives have been lost, there has been enormous suffering. But the Hungarians tasted freedom—if only briefly—after 11 years as a Soviet satellite.

They are united. They still carry the spirit of freedom—and the face of defiance is everywhere.

The couple obtained a marriage license yesterday and plan to be wed Sunday.

Dental Hygienist Announces Plan

Mrs. Ruth Toepfer to Apply Treatments of Fluoride in Schools

Mrs. Ruth Toepfer, dental hygenist for the Pontiac Public Schools, has announced her schedule for fluoride treatments for the next month.

Treatments in LeBaron School are getting under way this wee, Mrs. Topfer said. Malkim students will be transported to LeBaron for their applications.

Wednesday is the deadline for applications for Owen second and fifth graders, too, Mrs. Toepfer advised.

Immediately after the holidays Mrs. Toepfer will move to Owen School and following that, Webster students will be eligible for the fluoride treatments.

Second and fifth graders are given the applications, Mrs. Toepfer said. The series of four treatments which costs $4 includes a dental examination, cleaning and four applications of fluoride solution.

Forty per cent reduction in tooth decay following these applications is the result, Mrs. Toepfer said.

Participating in offering the treatments to Pontiac children are PTA members, the local dental society, the local health department and the Michigan Department of Health, Mrs. Toepfer added.

Safety-Economy Run

It's a big day Sunday for both Socony Mobil Oil Company and your high school students. We're joining forces to promote better driving practices through the Mobilgas High School Safety-Economy Run.

In tomorrow's Safety-Economy Run, young drivers (both boys and girls) will compete to see who can negotiate a 60-mile course using the least amount of gasoline per ton of vehicle per mile. Each contestant will be accompanied by an observer who notes all violations of safe driving procedure. At the end of the run the driver is penalized for each safety infraction by having 1/10 of a gallon added to his or her total gasoline consumption. Thus the winner must be not only a skillful driver but a safe one as well.

The growth of traffic accidents has become one of our major national problems. The simple fact is, however, that the vast majority of all these accidents could have been avoided — if normal safe driving procedures were observed. Socony Mobil believes that a Safety-Economy Run offers an excellent way of dramatizing the benefits of safe driving to those young men and women who are the drivers of tomorrow — our high school students. Accordingly, Socony Mobil is making possible a wide-spread program of High School Safety Economy Runs in the belief that through competition such as this, high school drivers can be made to feel a pride in their ability to drive an automobile skillfully and economically. This pride will be reflected in better driving practices and increased safety on our nation's highways.

An Athlete Is Clean

After the Greek Olympic contestant had his shield polished and new clothing and sandals ready, one detail remained. He must purify himself with a bath in clean water before going to the temple to fast and pray.

All water had to be carried into Greek homes, either from private wells or public fountains.

Here is a young Greek girl who is helping the young athlete by carrying the water for his bath. In this home there is a fountain in the garden. The girl will fill the pitcher with the clear water spouting from the lion's mouth. Above it is a statue of Athena, patron goddess of Athens.

Fire Razes Church, Arson Suspected

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A roaring fire, which police believe may have been the work of an arsonist, destroyed the stately 44-year-old St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic Church early today. Damage was estimated at more than two million dollars.

* * *

At the height of the spectacular three-alarm fire the roof and walls of the granite edifice collapsed in an inferno of sparks and flame. Four firefighters were swept from ladders by the falling wall. Three were hospitalized.

Destroyed in the church, regarded as a showplace of the Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, were priceless religious objects and stained glass windows and a $20,000 organ.

Egyptians Defy as Troops Leave

Civilians Mourn Dead, March Through Streets in Show of Anger

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Egyptians grew increasingly defiant today as the British-French garrison in Port Said dwindled. British authorities announced they had intercepted "a large quantity" of ammunition and explosives being smuggled into this city at the north end of the Suez Canal.

The British-French command prohibited any Egyptian fishing boats from entering the Allied beachhead on the northern quarter of the canal during the next few crucial days as a precaution against any flareup by an Egyptian underground.

The action was taken after security patrols found a boatload of ammunition and explosives in an Egyptian felucca, one of the graceful sailing craft that ply between Port Said and the Egyptian delta to the west.

The boat reached the fringe of Lake Manzala before being intercepted. A spokesman said there were some arrests. He gave no other details.

There was an air of hositility in Port Said more evident than at any time since the British and French occupied the city a month ago.

Yesterday about 2,500 Egyptian marched through the streets in a show of mourning for Egypt's war dead. British riot squads stood by but there were no disorders.

The open defiance came as the British-French withdrawal neared a climax. Some 4,350 of the 11,000 Tommies in Egypt have gone, and the exodus is continuing at a fast pace.

The U. N. police force that is taking over the British and French positions in phases still is of only token size.

THE ANIMALS' CHRISTMAS

Bird Jabbers, Gives Wolf Calls for Many Hours

A mite of a feathered creature visited Pontiac yesterday and quickly gained the reputation of being the talkingest bird for miles around.

Pretty Boy Ling, a jabbering parakeet, entertained shoppers in Kresge's periodically through the day with quite an oratorical repertoire.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ling of Windber, Pa., owners of the chartreuse and yellow bird, travel throughout the country (mostly Florida and New England says Mrs. Long) putting their charge on exhibition.

The bird, now nearly five-years-old, was obtained by the Lings in Florida when it was six-weeks-old. It began to talk soon after and at nine months came into the public eye.

Pretty Boy has been known to talk steadily for six hours at a time, Mrs. Ling said, but his regular times on exhibition rarely last longer than three hours.

VERY VERY TALKATIVE

His vocabulary ranges from shrill wolf whistles and wicked laughs, to short sayings like "Goodby Mr. Chips" and "I'm thirsty. Bring me some water." He begins at the beginning of his complete vocabulary and usually continues through the whole list. His owners claim the bird talks 85 per cent of the time he is on exhibition.

* * *

The bird's words are picked up by two microphones in the case and Pretty Boy stands up to the mikes and talks directly into them almost like a veteran radio personality.

The tone of the bird's speaking voice resembles that of a cartoon character in the movies or the frog-throated tones of Jimmy Durante.

To Predict Weather Years Ahead

Radical Forecaster System

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Irving P. Krick, meteorologist of Denver, Colo., Thursday told city officials of what he called a radical new weather forecasting system which he said will soon permit accurate daily weather forecasts "for several years in advance."

* * *

The city of Dallas recently canceled a weather modification contract with Dr. Krick. He met with city officials to discuss the new system.

He said his visit with city officials was purely informative and that he made no definite proposal or price offer.

City officials would not comment on the plan.

* * *

"By spring," Dr. Krick said, "we will be able to tell you when and where it will rain in Texas next year, and about how much."

"We are on the threshold of a dependable method of projecting the weather day by day for several years in advance," he said.

He said the forecasting would be done with the aid of electronic computers now being set up in his Denver laboratories.

* * *

"The atmosphere has a system of pressure waves," he said. "It was humanly impossible to know what these would do until we had computers."

"We do know," he said, "that the rhythms are persistent and real. Our hypothesis is that nature is ordered."

"We are now getting solutions to the year 2064," he said.

He said it would be impossible to predict "isolated local thundershowers."

Thesis Contends H'wood 'Decides' Gal's Personality

CHICAGO (INS) — If you're a man and think of Grace Kelly as a "lady" and of Marilyn Monroe as an "illicit playmate," think nothing of it. It was planned that way.

At least, that's what Thomas L. Harris, a University of Chicago graduate student, says in his master's degree thesis discussed tonight at a University seminar. Harris adds:

"Hollywood publicity men have imposed definite impressions of the personality of each star on the public consciousness. They have used the truth with phenomenal effectiveness in each case."

Grace Kelly, Harris claims, becomes widely accepted as representative of man's ideal longing for a lovely, charming wife.

Whereas, the screen characters Marilyn Monroe portrays, he asserts, have established her as a symbolic object of male desire by emphasizing her "playmate" characteristics.

6 Men Indicted in Taylor Area

Action Climaxes Probe of '55 Election Which Involved Rippe

DETROIT (AP) — Six Taylor Township officials, including the community's police chief and a police lieutenant, were indicted today by a one-man grand jury in connection with alleged election irregularities.

The indictments climaxed the grand jury probe of the 1955 spring election in which Harold Rippe won re-election as Taylor Township supervisor.

Rippe, who was named in two previous indictments by Circuit Judge Theodore Bohn, the grand juror, also was included in today's charges of violations of the state election laws.

In addition to Rippe, those indicted today are:

Several John Does and Mary Does also were named in the warrants.

In Scrape With Scrap

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP) — Police officers decided to investigate a parked car which was weighted down so heavily its rear bumper almost touched the ground.

Inside the car they found an estimated 1,000 pounds of scrap iron and two men who admitted stealing the scrap from a junkyard.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The atom is tiny but mighty. Christmas Seals are tiny, and mighty in the fight against T.B.

Tuberculosis can be arrested or cured; millions of men and women can testify to this statement. Christmas Seals provide the means to discover the illness; 1st detection; 2nd, treatment; 3, hospitalization; 4th, financial assistance; 5th, cure. For fifty years Christmas Seals have been sentinels at our door, aggressively alert, ready to attack; they have strengthened our Nation and increased its wealth. Christmas Seals give glowing health to a child, hope to a mother, thankfulness to sister and brother and a prayer of gratitude from the father.

I Want My Money Back!

Occasionally this Board receives a complaint concerning the policy of a merchant relative to refusal of refund of money or exchange of merchandise. In most cases, the complainants take it for granted that the store will refund their money or exchange the merchandise if it does not give complete satisfaction. We must remind such complainants that matters of refund, exchange or repair are part of each store's adjustment policy and any settlement is within the discretion of the store.

The public is asked to co-operate by making careful selections of purchases and the retailers are urged to give customers complete information about their return policies to eliminate misunderstandings.

Heart Study Indicates Importance of Diet

Recently the United States Air Force has come up with some interesting information on what causes heart attacks. Top Pentagon officials decided the health of the Air Force personnel should be studied.

Col. Marshall E. Groover Jr., heart specialist and Air Force physician was given the responsibility of caring for 250 Pentagon executives, and it is through his periodic examinations of these officials that he has come up with some clinical impressions on the causes of coronary attacks.

Col. Groover began his research on Pentagon officials six years ago under a program set up by the Air Force surgeon general. The rate of attacks among top military figures had reached an alarming percentage at that time.

Primary cause of heart attacks among air force personnel Col. Groover found to be the emotional stress and strain on high level planning. This emotional condition, coupled with high fat protein content in the blood, was blamed for the highest number of heart cases.

High fat content in the bloodstream has long been known as a cause of coronary artery disease, but Col. Groover's findings indicate this condition is most acute when the fat content fluctuates greatly under emotional strain.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the tense, hyperactive person whose diet is high in fats is very susceptible to an attack.

With this knowledge it should be clear to all of us that any person in a high pressure job should take particular care with his diet. Eliminate high fat protein foods and attempt to change your pace to get away from continued pressure.

★ ★ ★

Many times delegation of authority and spreading of responsibility will ease the pressure from what otherwise might be a killing job.

Lower Traffic Toll Still Too High

If the present trend continues through December, Michigan streets and highways will be safer this year than they were in 1955—safer by about 200 lives.

This is of slight comfort to families and friends of the 1,426 persons who were killed during the first 10 months of the year.

But the news that we have at last decreased the rate of traffic deaths and injuries is highly encouraging. There is hope that we can use the know-how we now have for really impressive reductions in the future.

Traffic experts credit the present improvement to two factors:

Crackdown on traffic law violators;

Removal of dangerous drivers from the highways.

State Police commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports that traffic arrests for the first 10 months totaled 185,298, nearly 47 per cent more than in corresponding months a year ago. This reflects a more rigid enforcement policy, and more manpower, with 250 more state troopers added to the force in the past 18 months.

★ ★ ★

In another phase of the safety battle, Secretary of State James M. Hare points to an up-to-date policy of checking violations against driver's records.

In a campaign to remove dangerous and wanton drivers from our highways license suspensions and cancellations are almost doubled this year—9,869 to date.

★ ★ ★

Continued emphasis on observance of traffic laws, and removal of unsafe drivers from the highways will further reduce the toll in lives and decrease suffering and loss from injuries.

Unemployment Drops

With the automobile industry back to full employment to meet the demand for the new 1957 cars the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported Thursday a new low for the year in unemployment.

The month ending November 15, showed a drop in the number of jobless in the state by 33,000 which brings the total down to 138,000. Most of the decrease was reported from the cities with automotive industry.

Obviously the stepped up auto production accounted for most of the improvement. Which again points out the fact of the tremendous importance of the automobile industry to this section of the state.

★ ★ ★

Citizens living in this area might well copy Californians in their constant dirve to sell California to the rest of the nation. We should all have pride in this great industry and appoint ourselves salesmen at large to help boost the sale of cars and trucks.

The People's Business

UP Eyes Bench

Northern Peninsula Man May Join High Court

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Strong sentiment for Upper Peninsula representation on the State Supreme Court is making itself felt in Lansing, and the next justice to don the robes may come from the U. P.

One of the governor's close advisers believes there is a 50-50 chance, or better, and others don't rule out the possibility.

The question probably will be answered sometime between now and Dec. 31 when Justice Emerson R. Boyles, Charlotte Republican, retires leaving a vacancy to be filled by executive appointment.

Nobody professes to know exactly what is in the mind of Gov. Williams, who currently is touring South America and will be gone from the state capital for nearly two weeks longer.

But that doesn't stop the campaigning for what many persons in the Upper Peninsula feel is rightly theirs.

LONG TIME AGO

The last time the Upper Peninsula had representation on the Supreme Court was in 1937, when Louis H. Fead of Newberry left the bench.

★ ★ ★

Unlike some of his predecessors, Williams has gone out of his way to maintain good relations in the U.P.

Political and other pressures being brought to bear on the governor's office have produced at least four U. P. possibilities for the impending Boyles vacancy. Not all are active candidates.

Possibly the best known among them is Paul L. Adams, 48, of Sault Ste. Marie, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan. Adams ran high in a field of four when he was elected last year for an eight-year term.

A U. of M. graduate in law, Adams was Sault Ste. Marie mayor from 1938 to 1942 and in the next two years served in Washington as attorney for the Board of Economic Warfare. He is a director of the Michigan Welfare League.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES

Others being supported include John Voelker of Ishpeming, Judge Joseph M. Donnelly of Houghton and Wheaton Strom of Escanaba.

All stand well in bar circles, and have good political backing in their respective areas.

Assuming these four are still in the running when the governor narrows down the field, he could be expected to take into account the need for whoever is appointed to win election in the spring to hold onto the seat.

Measured by this standard, Adams, because of the successful statewide race he already has made, and Donnelly, because of the attraction Irish names seem to have on the ballot in Detroit, would rank high.

Yelling Hardly Necessary

Days of All Faiths

Tomorrow Marks 'Bible Sunday'

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday is "Bible Sunday," one of the Church of England's gifts to the Protestant world. The day will be observed in the churches of many countries, with sermons, exhibits, study groups, etc., emphasizing and honoring the place of the Bible in Christian life. As a special day in the calendar Bible Sunday came into general recognition in 1904.

It had been part of English tradition since 1549, when the first English Prayer Book was produced by Archbishop Cranmer, and had been kept by American Anglicans (Episcopalians after the Revolution) since their arrival on this continent.

In the Anglican church Bible Sunday is the second Sunday in Advent; in Protestantism generally it is the second Sunday in December. Sometimes the two are the same, as this year; sometimes they are a week apart.

When Cranmer was making up the new Prayer Book, the Protestant Reformation was at its peak in Europe. One chief characteristic of the Reformation was its great concern about acquainting the people with the Holy Scriptures. The Archbishop found, in the Mass book of Salisbury Cathedral, an old prayer beginning "Blessed Lord, who hast caused all Holy Scriptures to be written for our learnings" and he translated it from the Latin and included it in his book. (The fact that he assigned it to the second Sunday in Advent has no significance.)

The word "all" in the opening phrase of the prayer was particularly appropriate to the Reformation frame of mind, for one of the reformers' chief complaints was that there were many parts of the Bible the people never heard read in the services of the church.

PILLAR SAINT

Back in the early days of Christianity there were men called "stylites" who spent all their time at the tops of pillars. Stylites is the Greek word for pillar. Many of these strange pillar saints spent years on their lofty perches without ever coming down for any purpose.

Most famous of them all was St. Simeon, who lived for 68 years on his column, moving occasionally to a new and higher one—his last was 66 feet high. The second most renowned was St. Daniel, who is honored Tuesday. He died at 84 atop his pillar just outside Constantinople, after occupying it 33 years.

Such eccentric behavior in the name of religion seems bizarre to us today. We joke about these "ecclesiastical flagpole sitters" and tend to think of them as show-offs. But we miss the point. They were only following the mood of their time. Spiritual perfection was thought to come through withdrawal from the ordinary stream of life and through endurance of pain, inconvenience, discomfort or even

Pamphlet on Stage Fright Gave Reader New Poise

I followed the advice you give in your pamphlet on Stage Fright and Examination Jitters, and for the first time in my life, was able to face the audience without the shakes. I thank you so much for the many times you have helped me . . . (E. R.)

Answer — The pamphlet is available on request. Inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I am enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I would appreciate it if you would send me the pamphlet on Varicose Veins. My mother had a serious heart attack 5 years ago and has since been taking the "real heart tonic" suggested in your CVD booklet and has had little need for medicine . . . (A. M. W.)

Answer—For the CVD booklet, about heart and artery troubles, send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents. Any of the forty-odd pamphlets sent free if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you ask for two, inclose 25 cents.

By changing to high calcium diet and supplementing my diet with extra calcium and D, as you suggested, I have been entirely free from chronic sinusitis. (J. K.)

Answer—It's generally a good idea for anyone with chronic sinus trouble.

I used your fungus-ear remedy and it cleared up the trouble in less than a week. My neighbor, under treatment by ear specialist the past three months for the same trouble, came home last week with a prescription for ear drops identical . . . (Mrs. N. McK.)

Answer — On written request accompanied with stamped, self-addressed envelope, any reader may have the instructions for preparing and using drops for chronic running ear.

We found we couldn't take our pet poodle for a ride, because he invariably got carsick . . . until it occurred to us to try the motion sickness preventative you recommend. We gave the poodle about a third of a tablet, took him along with us, and he was perfectly happy all the way. (S. D.)

Answer—Thank you. I didn't know dogs are subject to it. (Tony the Wirish Terror).

In these winter months of heavier eating and more sitting—my office work keeps me confined—slacker flesh creeps up on me. Please send me "Losing Weight and Enjoying It." (E. E. R.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet How to Lose Weight. Does one require a permit to hike to and from work, downtown, through the park, to the suburbs or into the country?

Thank you so much. I'm so happy about the healing of my varicose ulcer with the Unna's boot as prescribed in your pamphlet. I had had the sore 9 or 10 years and even in bed at night . . . (Mrs. A. T.)

Answer — Full directions in pamphlet on Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Went through the menopause undisturbed. Even my doctor was amazed, but he pooh-poohed when I gave credit to you . . . (Mrs. H. E.)

Answer — Probably the doctor was right. However, the suggestions in the pamphlet can do no harm. For a copy of the pamphlet The Menopause send stamped, self-addressed envelope. A good many women who have hit sixty in fine fettle have told me the advice in the pamphlet helped them.

Relates Incident Showing Ike's Religious Conviction

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The following incident, reported by Fred A. Seaton, now Secretary of the Interior, shows the deep religious conviction of Dwight D. Eisenhower:

"One of the President's assistants walked into his office unannounced. He had authority to do that on urgent matters when the President is not otherwise engaged. The assistant entered quietly and found the President on his knees in silent prayer by his desk.

"The assistant was profoundly embarrassed, and immediately turned to leave. At that instant the President arose and noticed him. The assistant started to apologize, but the President told him it wasn't necessary.

"Then as the assistant delivered the important message he was carrying, the President quietly explained that he was making a crucial decision that might have a bearing on peace or war in the Far East, and had prayed for Divine guidance to choose the right course. The President had turned to God for help in his hour of momentous decision."

So human, so needy are earth's greatest men that Divine guidance and wisdom are imperative.

'How Soon Will We Be Neutral?'

Teenage problems may have started way back when women first got a chance to vote — they wanted the rights of men. I don't begrudge them that, but did they have to eventually take over styles of dress, jobs, positions and the like, also?

Now it seems that a man can wear French cuff shirts and women can, too. He wears a button-down collar, women wear them also. Men wear long pants; girls wear slacks. A man really has no garment he can call distinctly male, not even a sweatshirt.

Women, after they have taken over the jobs and careers of men (mainly due to the war), still want to be given gentle treatment. There was a time when males were characterized as being rough and ready; the inclination toward any feminine activity branded him as a sissy.

Now men do the cooking at times, takes care of the baby while mama is out earning the family income (don't laugh—it happens, especially among G.I. students), and even press their own clothes sometimes. Have you ever heard of a "male nurse"? Chances are you and almost everyone has. It was mainly a woman's field. Men were broad-shouldered, husky people while women were trim, slim and smaller than men. Some men can't even have a razor to themselves anymore.

First, look around you at high school teenagers, then compare them to Grandpa and Grandma. How long do you calculate it will be before people finally reach a neutral zone?

'Reserve Controls Present Problem'

Financial men and businessmen have been finding fault with the Federal Reserve's monetary controls. This is one time I agree.

There is more to the problem than is seen by the eye. The Kremlin would welcome an inflationary spiral in the United States, thus creating a back-drop for a possible tremendous crash. It is possible the Federal Reserve officials see this.

Reader Praises 'Voice' Column

It is very satisfying to see the Pontiac Press giving more space to Voice of the People. It is one of the most interesting columns in the paper, and most people never miss reading it.

In fact, it is about the only place in the paper where local subscribers can express their views in print so the public can read it. I hope for even more space.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Suggests Topic for Sunday School

Mrs. Porter's case is worthy of discussion in your Sunday School groups tomorrow. Did she have just an ordinary dream? And what about the little boy who reached up to place his hand in that of his grandmother in Heaven? Physicians encounter many interesting cases like these at the time people are dying.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-342: Before our marriage, Mrs. Crane and I were both officers in a young people's society in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Dr. John Porter was the beloved pastor of the church and he had a wonderful wife. In fact, they were as devout and devoted a Christian couple as I have ever met.

* * *

A number of years later, Dr. Porter died. His wife still remained active in the church and was especially interested in the high school youth.

But she was a victim of pernicious anemia and finally drifted off into a coma that lasted for several days.

The physicians held out no hope for her recovery, for she was elderly and apparently worn out from a busy consecrated life.

But she didn't die. She recovered. Later Mrs. Crane and I were visiting with her, and she told us of what she had seen during her coma.

WAS THIS A DREAM?

"I dreamed I was in Heaven," Mrs. Porter informed us. "And the Lord was inviting me to stay there. I wanted to do so, yet I felt I shouldn't.

"For I remembered my teenagers who were depending on me to help them through their next few months of Sunday evening meetings.

* * *

"Some of them were young folks, inexperienced in leading meetings, so they relied upon me for assistance.

"So I begged the Lord to let me come back to Earth until I could complete my work with those young folks who needed me.

"And the Lord said I could return. Then I woke up, and found the doctor beside my bed, as well as some of my grown children.

"It was very unique experience. I felt exhilarated, for it seemed not more than a second of time since I was standing in Heaven pleading with the Lord, and now I was back on Earth. It was so real I could hardly believe it had been a dream. How do you psychologists explain it?"

ENGIMA OF THE MIND

Let me cite another case from Ft. Wayne, Indiana. It deals with a boy about 12 years old, who had a brain tumor that was inoperable.

He was lingering for about a year, and his parents could hardly become reconciled to the inevitable outcome.

* * *

For he had been an unusually good boy, conscientious and unselfish. In fact, his parents both wondered at his precocious understanding of spiritual matters, and his uncomplaining nature.

Toward the end, however, he realized that he was soon to leave them, so he tried to reassure them.

"Don't you worry," he comforted his mother as he squeezed her hand, "for I am very happy and shall soon see you in Heaven."

Then he lapsed into a coma. But just before he died, he roused somewhat and his face lighted up eagerly.

"Oh, Grandma, is it really you?" he whispered. Then he stretched his hand upward, as if to clasp hers.

"I can't quite reach your hand," he murmured.

* * *

Then he relaxed, smiled and dropped back upon his pillow, dead.

* * *

Did he and Mrs. Porter both happen to dream of Heaven? Were the memory centers in the cerebral cortex activated by some chance nervous impulse, which is our psychological explanation for ordinary dreams?

Or do some saintly people get a momentary glimpse at God, as Moses is reported to have done on Mount Sinai?

Electricity and light both travel about 186,000 miles per second. But thought enables us to project ourselves instantly upon the sun or any other distant star, though it may be a million light years away.

Could it ever be possible that we could project our personalities via a thought beam, as much as we project TV or radio waves, and then re-appear in corporate form?

Was that how Jesus suddenly stood in the Upper Room before his amazed Apostles after his Resurrection?

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

People Can Manage Themselves When Aware of God

Confident Living

European Doctor Advises Religion for Entire World

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Last summer, when I was in Europe, I attended a Rotary Club meeting there. As a member of Rotary I try to be faithful to my obligation of attendance wherever I may be.

DR. PEALE

At this particular meeting, in a little town, there weren't more than fifty men. I think I was the only American present. There was an Englishman, a Frenchman and some Italians, Germans and Swiss. Fortunately, the men at my table all spoke enough English so that we could understand one another.

One of the men with us was a doctor, and I gathered that he was one of the most important medical men of that region. I was very impressed by his conversation and enjoyed talking with him.

"Doctor," I said, "back in the United States where I live, we have a lot of high blood pressure and tension and heart trouble and nervous breakdowns and other psychosomatic disorders. Do you have much of that trouble here?"

At first he seemed puzzled by what I was trying to say, but finally a look of understanding came to his face. "Oh," he answered, "you mean the manager's disease."

"What do you mean," I asked, "by 'the manager's disease'?"

"Anybody who has managerial responsibility seems to develop high blood pressure, nervous tension or heart disease," he told me.

"I like that interesting phrase, 'manager's disease'," I said. "But everyone isn't an executive or a manager."

"Yes, they are," he responded. "Everybody is an executive. Everybody has to manage himself. When they can't, they get sick with anxiety and tension and frustration. That's what we call the manager's disease."

"How do you cure it?" was my next question.

First, he told me about the latest developments in drugs and medicines. Then, this physician, who didn't know anything about me or my profession except that I was a visiting American, said something which impressed me.

He looked around challengingly as if he were to make a very radical statement. "Do you know what the people of Europe need — and from what I've heard of the United States, your people need it as well. I know it's what I need."

He pointed a long finger at all of us around that table. "And it's what all you men need." The finger stopped at me. "It's what you need, too. Just this one thing — people need more religion."

He went on to explain: "And I don't mean religion that is just formal and cold and lifeless. What I mean is expressed in one word—God.

"We need God. He gave us energy in the first place. He renews it constantly. If people could get the consciousness of God into their lives, they'd have the energy and strength they need to properly manage themselves." And how right that European doctor is.

God is more than just an abstract philosophical concept. He is our life blood — medicine for our bodies, our minds, our souls. Tolstoi expressed it best — "To know God is to live."

So we can learn to manage ourselves — and how to avoid "the manager's disease" — when we become aware of the health that comes from having God in charge of our lives.

CHRISTMAS BROADCAST — The Schola Cantorum of Ss. Cyril and Methodius Seminary will appear in its 19th annual Christmas Broadcast over the CBS network Sunday Dec. 23 from 10:05 to 10:30 p. m. The choir composed of 27 seminarians studying for the priesthood represents 12 states, Canada and Poland. Since 1938, the chorus has been shortwaved to South and Central America and transcribed for the "Voice of America." Other projects include album recordings and telecasts. The program will consist of Polish carols or Kolendy interspersed with a commentary on century-old Polish customs and traditions. Father Henry A. Waraksa, professor of Gregorian Chant and Polish Hymnology at Orchard Lake, directs the group. Father Waraksa is also noted for his musical arrangements and harmonic settings of Polish hymns. Donald Zielinski of Waterford, second from the right in the last row, also plays the organ at College Chapel.

Baptists Recommend Life Service Day

The observance of Jan. 27 as Life Service Sunday is recommended to American Baptist churches.

This special observance, on the first Sunday of Youth Week, will emphasize the tremendous opportunities confronting American Baptist young people who enter full-time Christian vocations.

Early in December the Convention's 6,500 churches received packets of carefully assembled material to guide in the planning of this important day.

In keeping with the theme of Youth Week, a series of leaflets were prepared entitled, "Consider Your Call" (a) To The Ministry (b) To Become a Director of Religious Education (c) To Home Mission Service (d) To Overseas Service (e) To Become a Church Secretary.

Christ Church Men Will Meet

Children's Chorus of 30-40 Voices to Sing Christmas Music

A program highlighting various aspects and problems of college and university life today has been planned for the Men's Club of Christ Church Cranbrook on Monday evening.

Special music will be presented by the octet of the Men's Glee Club from the University of Michigan.

A film entitled "The Time and the Place" will be shown. The film, recently released by the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church, depicts the church's ministry on the college campus.

It was produced at Pennsylvania State University where the Rev. Jones B. Shannon, formerly of Christ Church Cranbrook, is now rector of St. Andrew's parish.

Radio Brings God's Word to Fighting Men in Korea

Thousands of soldiers of the Republic of Korea on the uneasy armistice line above the 38th parallel go to church each Sunday morning by radio, reports a Korean army chaplain to the Methodist Board of Missions.

The troops hear Christian worship services beamed out from the 5,000-watt transmitter of station HLKY in Seoul, a station sponsored by several Korean Christian churches.

Chaplain Sang Chan Lee of the ROK 27th Infantry Regiment reports that "even non-Christians listen to the 'radio church.'

The soldiers attend 'services' holding their rifle in one hand and the Bible in the other and wearing heavy helmets on their heads."

RAVEMCCO, an interdenominational agency of the National Council of Churches, promotes the use of radio and other mass communications for overseas evangelism. Methodism supports HLKY both through direct missionary aid in Korea and through RAVEMCCO grants.

STARTED LAST YEAR

The station began broadcasting at Christmas, 1954. It carries music, educational programs and the Christian message to both North and South Korea.

* * *

"May the blessings of the Lord rest upon HLKY, the Christian broadcasting station," says Chaplain Sang.

"This is the front line above the 38th parallel. We are surrounded by thick woods and high mountains and just in front of us is the Chinese Communist army. It is our greatest pleasure that even in such a dangerous place God's words are to be heard.

"Since our soldiers must always be on the alert against sudden enemy attack, they are not allowed to gather in one place for church services. But here through radio they can have fine worship service.

* * *

"They listen to HLKY on Sunday morning at 7:30 and the music and the message give them much inspiration. In the dugouts along the front lines radio is a more effective evangelist than any chaplain."

Church Leaders to Meet at MSU

Week-Day Religious Education to Be Topic for State Conference

EAST LANSING—A national leader in week-day religious education will speak at a Michigan Council of Churches conferences at Michigan State University, Monday and Tuesday.

One of the featured speakers at the "Conference on Religious Opportunities in Week-day Education" will be Rev. E. L. Shaver, of New York. He is director of week-day education for the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

* * *

The conference, which is presented in cooperation with the new MSU Committee on Church-Related Programs, is open to all clergymen, church-school leaders, school administrators and others interested in week-day religious education. About 100 are expected.

One of the seminars will consider the present aspects and future need of week-day religious education. Rev. Shaver and others will discuss the after-school programs, the release-time practice and the dismiss-time procedure.

* * *

Other major speakers for the conference include Rev. Garner S. Odell, Detroit, director of Christian education, Synod of Michigan, The Presbyterian Church; Rev. Thomas J. VanLoon, director of church and public school relations, board of education, The Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Harry J. Lord, Lansing, director of the division of Christian education, Michigan Council of Churches.

'A Perfect Gift' Is Topic of Talk at Unity Sunday

The Unity Church of Oakland County announces the regular Sunday morning services at 71½ N. Saginaw St. Mrs. Blanche Joki, minister, will speak on "A Perfect Gift" at 11 a. m.

Sunday School for children will be held during the church service.

At 7:30 p. m. Thursday, the class on "Let There Be Light" will be conducted by Mrs. Joki.

Pioneer Aviator to Be Ordained

Ex-Defense Director Comes a Step Closer to Priesthood

IRON RIVER (AP)—A pioneer aviator who has long wanted to serve the Episcopal Church as a clergyman, comes one step closer to priesthood next month.

He is Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland who resigned as Michigan Civil Defense Director two days after the H-bomb was announced. He said then, "The time to pray is now."

Maitland will be ordained as a deacon in St. John's Church in Iron River Dec. 23. He has already served 18 months there as a lay vicar. He must wait six more months for priesthood.

Maitland is a one-time army pilot who became, in 1922, the first man to fly a plane faster than 200 miles per hour. Five years later he was the first to fly nonstop from the United States to Hawaii.

After serving as Civil Defense Director, Maitland was appointed director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, but quit the $11,000-a-year job to become a churchman.

Maitland will be ordained into the Episcopal deaconate by the Rt. Rev. Herman Page of Menominee, Bishop of the Northern Michigan Diocese.

Dr. George Selway, rector of Lansing's St. Paul Church, will deliver the sermon. It was under Dr. Selway that Maitland first prepared for the ministry.

Praises Missions for Useful Work

Speaking at the Methodist centennial in Southern Asia, observed at Lucknow, India, Nov. 1, Gov. K. N. Munshi of Uttar Pradesh lauded Christian missionaries for a century of "useful educational and humanitarian work."

The comparatively small Christian community, he said, had taken its full part in national life.

He mentioned the "historic role" of the Catholic Church in upholding a universal order based on the moral law and the role of Protestantism in "restoring to man his sense of individual dignity and freedom."

However, the governor sounded a cautionary note against what he termed an "active campaign of mass conversion" for social, political or economic motives. This, he said, could not be held "a religious act."

The international bureau of weights and measures which set up the metric system of measurements was established here in 1875.

Memberships Up for Methodists by 1.4 Per Cent

CHICAGO (INS) — Official reports show that membership in the Methodist church in the United States and its possessions are now just under 9,500,000.

The Rev. Albert C. Hoover of Chicago, director of the statistical office of the church, reports that during the past year membership has risen from 9,313,278 to 9,444,820—a net gain of 131,542, or a little more than 1.4 per cent.

The report is based on latest 1956 statistics furnished Hoover by the 102 regional conferences in this country and its possessions.

The membership total includes the denomination's 26,909 ministers, but does not include 1,285,116 preparatory members.

Service Personnel Christian Challenge

The influx of service personnel into a community poses a Christian challenge.

Middle Street Baptist Church, Portsmouth, N. H., is meeting that kind of situation, which stems from activity at the local air base.

* * *

With the financial aid of the Home Mission Society, it keeps open a servicemen's center seven days a week. Attendance there has passed the 10,000 mark.

"Just like home" is a common comment, which takes on real significance when it is realized that many of the fellows are aged 17 to 19.

St. John's Episcopal, North Congregational and First Methodist cooperate with Middle Street in furnishing hostesses for the center.

Baptist Nurses' Guild to Give Musicale Tea

A Musicale Tea will be given at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. Marvin Jackson, 327 California avenue. Sponsoring the affair are the Pontiac Baptist Nurses' Guild and the missionary departments of various churches.

The proceeds will benefit the needy at Christmas. The public is invited.

Rebuild Old Churches

Many of Frankfurt's historic churches, some seven centuries old, have been rebuilt, according to the German Tourist Information Office. St. Catherine's Church, scene of Goethe's confirmation, and the Church of St. Nicholas, the Nikolaikirche dating from the 13th century, are among those repaired.

Build at Record Pace

The U.S. Departments of Commerce and Labor have predicted that church construction will set a new record of $875,000,000 next year. The figure is a 13 per cent increase over the total of $775,000,000 expected to be reached by the end of this year.

The estimated figure would represent two per cent of all projected construction activity next year, the largest share in American history.

Village Learns of Christ From Single Family

Off the Korean coast there lies the island of Henk San Doh, which is inhabited by simple fisher-folk numbering 12,000. Their first contact with Christianity was made in 1952, when a Catholic family arrived there seeking protection from the Communists.

When the first priest arrived a year later, 6 people were already prepared to receive baptism. He then gathered a few dollars and built a small chapel which is now frequented by many more Christians.

Christmas Play to Be Presented

Officers of Women's Association Installed in Fellowship Hall

The regular quarterly meeting of the Women's Assn. of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will be held in Fellowship Hall Monday evening.

A play, "The Shepherds Live Again," will be presented by the Pioneer Youth Fellowship under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Napeisky.

* * *

Mrs. Ronald Richards of Ortonville will demonstrate how to wrap and tie Christmas gifts.

The following officers of the Women's Association were recently installed: Mrs. Eldon Powley, president; Mrs. Don Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Lexie Williams, vice president; Mrs. Don Upton, recording secretary and Mrs. William Bray, corresponding secretary.

Other officers were: Mrs. Gerald Schultz, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Osborne, asst. treasurer; Mrs. Roy Koch, literature secretary; Mrs. Edward Schultz, thank offering secretary; Mrs. Ernal Lloyd, temperance and social secretary; Mrs. Leon Verwey, prayer group secretary and Mrs. William Coffing, women's secretary.

Conducting the installation was Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

NEW MINISTERS — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crouch are serving Bethel Tabernacle as pastors. Before coming to Pontiac in April Mrs. Crouch was working in the evangelistic field. The Rev. Mr. Crouch came to Pontiac in 1929 from Bronson, Mo. A charter member of the church, he served with the U. S. Army during World War II. The tabernacle is located at 1348 Baldwin avenue.

New Seminary to Be Erected

330 County Acres Are Site for Jesuit Novitiate

Construction will begin soon on a novitiate to provide the first four years of training for aspirants to the Society of Jesus from the Michigan-Ohio area, it was announced this week by Very Rev. Leo D. Sullivan, S. J. Provincial.

The novitiate, to be known as Colombiere college, will rise on a 330-acre tract in Oakland County, north of Pontiac.

The land lies west of U.S.10 between Big Lake and Foster roads.

The principal structure of the college group will be four stories high, but because of the uneven terrain, five levels are included in the architectural plans.

* * *

The third floor will serve as a main level, affording entrance to the chapel, refectory, and central lobby.

HOUSING FACILITIES

The college will house 80 scholastic novices, 60 juniors, 20 novice brothers, 24 professed brothers, 16 faculty members and guests. It will contain a nine-bed infirmary, all necessary classrooms, libraries, and recreation rooms, rectory and dining rooms and a modern kitchen.

The chapel will seat more than 200. A visitors' area on the floor below the chapel will include a lobby, lounge, dining room, and 12 visitors' parlors.

Maintenance shops will be housed in a separate building, connected to the main structure by a covered walk. Adequate outdoor recreation fields are planned.

The need for Colombiere college is related to the increase of vocations and greater demand for Jesuits in various fields, according to Fr. Sullivan.

15,000 STUDENTS

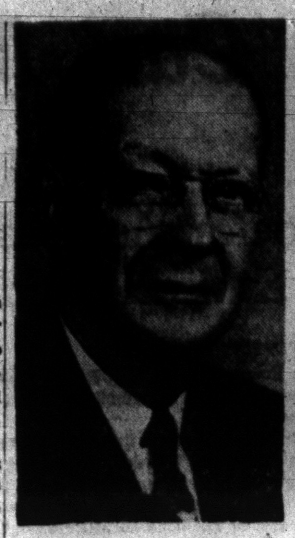

The Detroit province includes the University of Detroit and Cleveland's John Carroll University, as well as the University of Detroit High School and St. Ignatius High School in Cleveland. Enrollment in these four institutions is approximately 15,000 students.

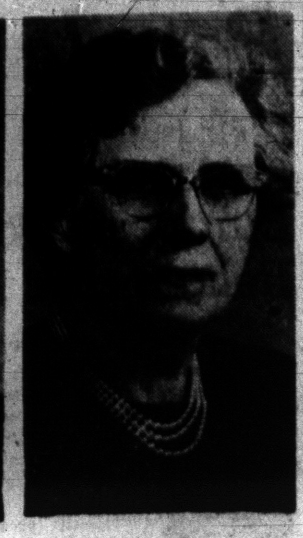

Conservative estimates indicate this attendance will exceed 20,000 in the next five years, according to Fr. Sullivan.

* * *

"These figures illustrate the increasing need for Jesuits as teachers and administrators in the universities and high schools," he said. "Other growing needs for Jesuits are being felt in the fields of missionary work, retreat house service and others."

At present Jesuit novices and juniors are being trained at Milford, Ohio, which is in the Chicago province. This seminary was built in 1927 to house 150. It now has an enrollment of 225.

DR. H. H. SAVAGE

MRS. H. H. SAVAGE

First Baptists to Dedicate Organ Sunday Morning

The new organ recently purchased by the First Baptist Church will be dedicated at the 10:45 morning service in commemoration of the 33 years of service here of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Savage.

During the pastorate of Dr. Savage more than 100 young people have gone into full time Christian work.

At the present time, the missionary family, both Home and Foreign Missions, consists of 55 adults and 33 children. The three children of the Savages are all serving on the mission field.

According to Dr. Savage, the church will support, if possible, any person from the First Baptist Church who desires to go into the Mission Field under a recognized fundamental Mission Board.

At the Christian Businessmen's convention in Washington, D. C. in October, 1948, Dr. Savage was named as the leading exponent of missionary activity in the United States.

Professor Donald P. Hustad, organist and director of the music department of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago will present an organ recital at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

His program will include:

Prelude Chorale & Variations . . . . Franck
Toccata in G Major . . . . . Dubois
Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken . . . . . Haydn
Jesus Has Loved Me . . . . . Batiste
A Mighty Fortress Is Our God . . Luther

Professor Hustad will also play several selections from the book of gospel songs written by Dr. Savage and his children, the Rev. James Savage of Sao Paulo, Brazil, the Rev. Robert Savage of Quito, Ecuador and Mrs. Richard (Helen) Broach of Pubio, Venezuela.

Following the recital, the Billy Graham film, "Eastward to Asia" will be shown. The public is invited.

Hails Magazine in South Africa

Bishop Sees Periodical Meeting Urgent Need to Back Negro Cause

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa —The first issue of a new anti-segregation magazine "Africa South," was hailed here by the Rt. Rev. Richard Ambrose of Johannesburg, who said that it would meet "a particularly urgent need."

* * *

"The appearance of such a magazine at such a time as this must put fresh heart into all those here and elsewhere who detest the oppression and injustice that is now so rampant in our land," the Bishop said.

"What is South Africa's problem today may easily be the world's tomorrow," Bishop Reeves said.

"The white races of the world are faced with the coming-of-age of the vast populations of Asia and the deep stirrings that now are taking place throughout the continent of Africa.

* * *

"Asia and Africa are on the march, and the white races must learn that their day of world domination is ending," he concluded.

Pontiac Area Churches Offer Homes to Refugees

REV. C. GEORGE WIDDIFIELD

The Rev. C. George Widdifield announces that Mr. and Mrs. Willem Lang with their three sons, Stephen, aged 14; Ralph aged nine and seven-year-old Maurits will arrive soon in the United States.

Sponsored by All Saints Episcopal Church, they will come to Pontiac to make their home.

The Lang family is one of 1500 families which Episcopal churches throughout the nation are sponsoring. Originally from Indonesia, they have made their home in Holland since 1949.

The project has been approved and will receive support of both the Vestry and Women's Auxiliary.

* * *

A small committee of three men and three women, appointed to undertake the preliminary investigation, will assume the organization of the project.

The Rev. Mr. Widdifield asks all members of the parish to watch for the arrival date of the Langs and to share in welcoming them to our country, city and parish.

He also urges parishioners to search their attics, basements and closets for usable furniture and furnishings which might be given or loaned the Langs to begin their home.

SPONSORS TWO

Sponsoring two families from European countries is Christ Church Cranbrook. The first family, Mr. and Mrs. Johannes de Bruyn and nine-year-old son, John, arrived here this fall. They are from The Netherlands. The other family has not yet arrived.

St. Andrew's Mission in Drayton Plains is waiting for the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich to assign a family to the mission congregation.

St. Trinity Lutheran Church recently welcomed a family from Western Germany, Mrs. Erna Hradetzky and her three sons, Dieter, aged 22, Ulrich who is 19 and Peter, 14 years old.

In sponsoring a family, a parish agrees to supply and furnish a home and provide employment for the head of the family.

U.S. Missions in Egypt Feel Effect of Crisis

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP) — The Middle East crisis has seriously compromised American missionary work in Egypt. The secretary of the Near East committee of the National Council of Churches says.

* * *

Dr. Roland Scott of New York City told a foreign missions conference that no U.S. mission has yet closed, however.

He said two British Protestant missions closed after the British-French invasion.

Auxiliary Holds Christmas Party

The Pontiac Council of United Church Women will enjoy a Christmas Tea with members and friends on Monday from 1:30 to 3 p. m. in the YWCA at 22 Franklin boulevard.

Women of Pontiac and the surrounding area are invited. A Christmas program has been arranged with area chairman, Mrs. George Hagman of Birmingham giving a brief informative talk about United Church Women.

The tea committee is comprised of Mrs. Fred Haushalter, Mrs. Alan Hersee and Mrs. Brady Adams.

High Death Rate Caused by Drinking

In France, drinking caused more deaths last year than tuberculosis according to International News Service. There were 17,400 deaths attributed to alcoholism and cirrhosis of the liver in 1955 and 13,300 TB-caused deaths.

Bible Words for Today

PROVERBS 25:11 — "A word fitly spoken is like apples in a setting of silver." (RSV)

Do words, when "fitly spoken," merely sound well? Or do they change people for the better?

A woman started a transforming friendship with a homeless orphan boy through these first words alone with him: "You are lonely, and that is why you took that dollar from my purse, isn't it?" Two men discussed whether to take a certain action or not; with things evenly balanced, a friend said, "I once learned 'when in doubt, don't'." (They didn't!) A mother rallied her daughter, heartbroken when not re-appointed to a country school, with "Good! Now — it's back to Teacher's College, a higher license, a better school next year. Good!" At a religious camp a leader started a boy choosing his profession with "Bill, have you ever thought of being a minister?"

Words, moving from someone's insight to another's need and fitly spoken, are like apples of gold in a setting of silver.

Baptist Assembly Announces Jobs Open on Staff

Though these brisk December days carry no hint of Green Lake zephyrs, the American Baptist Assembly announces that the time is here to apply for positions on the 1957 staff.

Jobs are open for bellmen, boatmen, bookkeepers, bus boys, cashiers, cooks, desk clerks, auto and bus drivers, dishwashers, flower arrangers, gate attendants, office clerks, handymen, hostesses, kitchen helpers, lifeguards, mimeographers, night watchmen, nurses, stenographers, snackery clerks, switchboard and teletype operators.

Applicants for the Adult Staff and the Young Adult Staff (the latter including persons under 35 years of age who are not in college) should communicate with Director of Personnel, The American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis.

Applicants for the Student Staff (those who in the spring of 1957 will have completed the first, second or third year of college work) should write to Rev. M. Parker Burroughs, 152 Madison Ave., New York 16.

Australians Visit Chinese Church

First Religious Group to Enter Iron Curtain in Seven Years

MELBOURNE, Australia — An eight-member delegation of top Australian Anglican Churchmen left here late in October on a visit to China, where they will traval 10,000 miles as guests of the Chinese Episcopal Church.

It is the first representative group of religious leaders from outside the Iron Curtain to visit China since the Communists took over the country in 1949.

The delegation was led by the Most Rev. Howard W. K. Mowll, Primate of the Church of England in Australia and Sydney and Metropolitan of the Province of New South Wales.

Archbishop Mowll was a bishop of the Chinese Church for more than ten years, before coming to Australia in 1933.

Other members of the party included the Archbishop of Perth; the Bishops of Tasmania and of Rockhampton; the principal of Moore Theological College in Sydney; the secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society; the managing director of the Anglican News Service; and Mrs. Mowll.

Church School Slates Parties

Deacons to Send Clothes to Korean Orphanages Before Christmas

Mrs. Robert Boggs will present a series of Christmas stories to the Pioneer Society for Junior High young people at 5:30 Sunday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church.

* * *

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard will lead a study on "Christian Symbolism" for the Tuxis Society at the same hour. Devotions will be led by John Markley and Mary Wood will be in charge of refreshments.

Children of the nursery, kindergarten and primary departments of the Church School will meet for their annual Christmas parties at the church Dec. 15.

* * *

Children of the primary department will bring 25 cents each for gifts to be purchased and sent to the Van Lierop children whose parents are missionaries in Korea.

The deacons of the church are packing additional winter clothing to be sent to Korean orphanages or Church World Service before Christmas.

Church Adopts Budget

The Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., has adopted a foreign missions budget of $9,112,398—the largest in its 120 years of overseas work. The denomination has more than 1,000 missionaries and "fraternal workers" in 36 countries of Asia, Africa, Europe, and Latin America.

Orchard Lake Church Has Interim Pastor

The Rev. W. F. Bostick of Inkster has accepted the invitation given him by the Session of Orchard Lake Community Church to serve as interim minister until such time as a permanent pastor is secured.

Though now retired, the Rev. Mr. Bostick has been active in the ministry for many years. He has served 14 years as pastor of Redford Baptist Church and nine years as chaplain of Wayne County General Hospital under the Detroit Council of Churches.

He will be available to anyone in need of pastoral help. He may be reached at the church office or at his home, 26670 North River Park drive, Inkster.

Home Sheltered Immigrant Girls

Alma Mathews House in New York Founded in 1887

From its growth as a mission to immigrant girls, established in 1887 by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to its present status as a residence for young women, the Alma Mathews House in New York City has provided a Christian home for young women entering Manhattan.

One of the national projects of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Board of Missions, Alma Mathews House today serves "immigrants" from Florida, Arkansas and Minnesota as well as young women from Greece, Turkey, Canada and Germany.

* * *

In 1887, however, the mission aided actual immigrants only. It was founded because of the plight of the ever-increasing numbers of young women who arrived in the United States with little or no money, no friends and no command of the English language. The mission was established at Castle Garden, New York City, with Mrs. Helen A. Mathews as director.

MET THE SHIPS

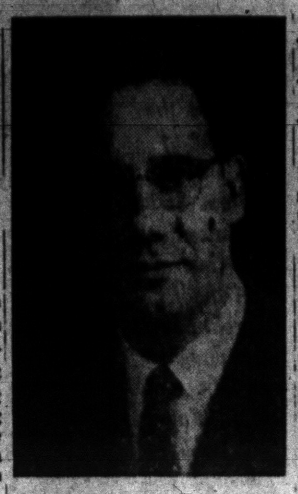

Mrs. Mathews met immigrant ships in New York and took as many as possible of the arriving girls to her own home to help them make the initial adjustment to the United States.

Soon it became apparent that another place of residence was needed, and in January, 1889, the Woman's Home Missionary Society rented a building at 27 State Street, New York City.

Early that same year Miss Alma Mathews was employed to assist her sister-in-law, continuing in that capacity until Mrs. Mathews' ill health forced her to give up the work. Another woman then was employed to supervise the home while Mrs. Mathews continued the work of meeting the girls at Ellis Island.

* * *

As were others before them, the young women living today at Alma Mathews House, now under the directorship of Miss Hazel Lovell, are grateful for the economy, the comfort and the atmosphere of their New York home, typical of the other 27 residences under the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

REV. PAUL T. HART

First Methodists Assist Pastor

Rev. Paul T. Hart Asks Congregation Consider Opportunities

* * *

Members of the finance commission have asked First Methodist members and friends wishing to assist in the project to consider four things, namely: his contribution to God's work; his indebtedness to the Church of Jesus Christ; his opportunity to further the Kingdom through his contributions and his understanding of the New Testament teachings of stewardship.

The commission members include: Ben Church, A. A. Dodd, Chester Caughell, Pere Parsons, Mrs. Glenn Williams, Chester Arnold and Mrs. Clayton Rule.

Others working on canvass teams and committees are Mrs. George Hevel, Jerry Augsburger, Mrs. Ernie Morris, Pere Carr, Allen Elliott, Bob Burnworth, Mrs. Ben Church, Mrs. John Rawley, Howard Crawford, Guy Emery and Mrs. Oliver Dunstan.

* * *

The commission has asked that weekly or monthly pledges be made for a period of 100 weeks. The total cost is estimated at around $30,000.

Pontiac Pastor Attends Civil Defense Course

The Rev. Wesley R. Wibley, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, has been attending the third special civil defense course for clergy in Battle Creek.

More than 70 ministers from all over the United States were enrolled in the course, sponsored by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Men Will Meet Monday

Judge Cecil McCallum of Municipal Court will be the speaker at the Monday noon luncheon of the Christian Men's Club. The group meets every Monday for lunch and program in the Waldron Hotel.

New Braille Bible for Japan's Blind in 24 Volumes

Readers of the Bible Society Record may recall the enthusiastic reception given to the Japanese Colloquial Bible, which was published last year. There was great rejoicing as this Bible came off the press, for it is printed in the language which all the people of Japan can easily understand.

On April 15, 1955, at the Ginza Church in downtown Tokyo, the new Colloquial (Kogotai) Bible was released to the Japanese public. There was a beautiful service of prayer and thanksgiving.

* * *

On August 3, 1956 there was another large service at the Ginza Church, this occasion being a celebration of the Japanese Kogotai Braille Bible for the blind. Though Tokyo sweltered on an exceptionally hot day, 250 persons, blind and sighted, were present to pay tribute and to offer thanks for this great gift to the sightless.

While the entire ink-print edition of the new Bible is in one volume, thirty-two volumes are required for the Braille edition. The Old Testament is in twenty-four volumes and the New Testiment in eight.

Military Alcoholics Medical Aid Saves

The U. S. Air Force has saved more than $1,000,000 through a small experimental program for giving treatment to chronic alcoholics before they were lost from the service through court martial, imprisonment, or forced separation.

* * *

The treatment program was tried out as an experiment at the 3700th Air Force Hospital at Lackland Air Force base located at San Antonio, Texas.

The results with the first 50 cases, which brought the million dollar saving, are reported in the American Journal of Psychiatry by Air Force Major Louis Jolyon West, the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine, and Master Sergeant William H. Swegan, psychiatric social worker at the Lackland Hospital.

Trend Toward Bible Interest Is Increasing

Major religious trends of the past 10 years, according to Dr. Harold DeWolf, Boston University School of Theology, include continued intense interest in the Bible and increased interest in theology on the part of laymen. In colleges there is "a new and increasing hunger for real Biblical learning."

Only a few years ago "theologians couldn't understand each other and didn't want to"; but their new interest in missions and evangelism has taught them that "they must talk in terms their listeners will understand when they go into non-theological circles."

Dr. DeWolf's implication seems to be that theologians are now trying to be intelligible to one another—and to laymen as well.

Plan Church Services in Dominican Republic

Sunday morning church services have been arranged for American businessmen and their wives visiting in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, by the city's Protestant Community Church. Its minister, the Rev. L. E. Wilson, conducts services each Sunday for U. S. visitors at the city's Hotel El Embajador, located four miles from the church.

The church is one of 70 overseas English speaking churches serving American residents living abroad, in association with the Department of American Communities Overseas of the National Council of Churches.

Tennessee Resolves School Desegregation

The Tennessee Council of Churches has unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the State's governor, board of education and state legislature to desegregate its public schools.

It urged that the public school system be brought "into harmony with the letter and spirit" of the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation decision and denounced as "contrary to our evangelical principle of separation of Church and State" the announced intention of "organized opposition to desegregation" to propose "legal control of church schools in order to attain its ends."

COVERT METHODIST ADDITION—Members of the congregation at the Covert Methodist Church have added a new wing, 24x24 ft., to the original building. The white frame church has a basement under all with oil heating. The pulpit furniture of limed white oak with walnut insets, was designed by Harold A. Wright of 1251 Merry road and madeb y the Pontiac Millwork Co. Future plans include a recreation hall. The Rev. C. Warren Wilson is pastor of Covert Methodist and Baldwin Avenue Methodist Churches.

Covert Methodist Church Adds to Present Building

Under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. C. Warren Wilson, the Covert Methodist Church has added a 24 x 24 ft. wing to the original structure.

Built of white frame, the church has a basement under all. It is heated with oil.

The sanctuary walls are a gray blue with wood paneling. The floors are hardwood throughout. A blue velvet hanging is behind the altar. The church will seat between 300 and 400.

Covert Methodist Church was started as a church school mission in 1931 by the Wilson Avenue Methodist Church with an enrollment of 60.

The first church service was held in October, 1933 in the Hudson Covert School.

In 1934, the church became an independent church with the Rev. S. J. Pollock its first pastor.

The following composed the list of charter members, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Passmore, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Benn, Kenneth Remley, and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Wheeler.

During the pastorate of the Rev. Harold Patton, men of the church and the community saw the need of having a church building. They bought the present property and erected the first unit, 24 x 36 ft. in the summer of 1936.

On Oct. 3, 1937, the first service was held in the white frame building.

Sunday School is held every Sunday at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11:30 and young people have a devotional service at 6 p.m.

Lawrence Hartman is superintendent of the Sunday School; Mrs. Harold Wright is president of the women's group; John Robertoy is chairman of the Official Board; Mrs. Don Sturdevant is secretary and Mrs. James Feagles, treasurer.

The congregation is planning next to build a recreation hall. The pulpit furniture of white limed oak with insets of walnut was designed by Harold N. Wright of 1251 Merry Rd.

Youth Leaders Study Churches in South America

Six church youth leaders left the United States this week for a three months study tour of Latin and South American Protestant church youth programs. The ecumenical team members are from five countries and are led by the Rev. Bengt-Thure Molander, Geneva, Switzerland, who heads the youth department of the World Council of Churches.

Americans on the team are Miss Ethel Shellenberger, Philadelphia, Pa., associate director of youth work for the Evangelical and Reformed Church; and George A. Williams, Cleveland, O., national president of the Richard Allen Youth Council of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The group will make 18 visits, all the way south to Argentina and Chile. En route they will attend the fourth Congress of the Union of Latin American Evangelical Youth, to be held at Barranquilla, Colombia, Dec. 10-20.

U.S. population is expected to reach 185 million by 1965.

By RENE CAPPON

NEW YORK (AP) — Bravely bucking the main stream of migration to suburbia, the Seventh-Day Adventists have opened a handsome six story center for spiritual and cultural fellowship in New York's teeming theatrical district just off Times Square.

* * *

It's the first metropolitan venture of this type in America for the Adventist church, which records slightly over a million members throughout the world.

Religious themes, of course, are dominant but without any special denominational emphasis. The $900,000 center is intended to attract people of all faiths in the area, including a portion of the countless out-of-town visitors who make Times Square their mecca.

The church acquired the building three years ago and remodeled it from top to bottom, in the face of some costly difficulties; the original blueprints had been lost and much demolition was necessary to locate the structual supports.

* * *

The building originally served as the home of the National Vaudeville Actors Club, and the address still evokes nostalgic memories in old troopers. On Sunday nights — "celebrity nights" —leading vaudevillians performed in the old ballroom for the edification of their fellow artists.

* * *

Religious observances take place on Saturday and Sunday. In their name, the Seventh Day Adventists combine the two beliefs forming the distinctive character of the church. They observe the Sabbath on the seventh day—Saturday. "Adventist" refers to their tenet of Christ's imminent return to the earth.

Face Little Opposition

A survey made by the Milwaukee field office of the U. S. Census Bureau indicates there will be little opposition to including religious preference question in the 1960 decennial census. Only three persons out of a total of 431 householders interviewed in four Wisconsin counties flatly refused to answer the question, Bureau officials report. The Census Bureau had announced that results of the study might determine whether the question should be asked nationwide in 1960.

Honor Boycott Leader

Dr. Martin Luther King, leader of the bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., has been named to receive one of the 1956 Social Justice Awards of the National Religion and Labor Foundation, to be presented at a luncheon in New York, next February 19.

Dr. King is pastor of the Dexter Ave. Baptist Church in Montgomery and president of the Montgomery Improvement Association. He has directed the year-long bus boycott passive resistance movement there and has lectured extensively on civil rights.

Delegate to National Convention Elected

Joseph Zabelski, of 504 Granada drive, chairman of the recent state convention of members of the Baha'i Faith in Lansing, was elected as a delegate to the national convention.

Recommendations were formulated at the convention which will be sent to the National Spiritual Assembly for discussion and consideration at the national convention in April to be held in Wilmette, Ill.

Given $1,000 Award

The Council of United Church Women of Atlanta, Ga., last week received the eighth annual Lane Bryant group award for volunteer service to the community. A check for $1,000 was given to the council for its work in adult education, housing, prison welfare, mental health programs, race relations and programs on behalf of the United Nations.

Iowa has 72 state parks covering about 18,500 acres.

South Dakota and Wyoming produce 60 per cent of the U.S. supply of bentonite, a clay used principally as a bonding material in the molding sand of the steel foundry industry.

Three GM Wives Introduced to Press

Husbands Just Given Promotions

New First Ladies Proudly Tell About Their Families

NEW YORK (AP) — Some extra special models for 1957 were introduced by General Motors Corp. this week—three wives whose husbands are newly named vice presidents in the big auto company.

* * *

A press conference was held for Mrs. Anthony G. DeLorenzo, whose husband will be vice president in charge of public relations; Mrs. James M. Roche, wife of the Cadillac Division's vice president and general manager, and Mrs. Louis G. Seaton, wife of the new vice president in charge of personnel.

GM President Harlow Curtice and his wife were on hand to introduce reporters to the auto industry's newest "first ladies."

All proudly told about their homes and families. Of their husbands' promotions—effective Jan. 1—the wives said they were "surprised but had hoped" for the move.

* * *

Mrs. DeLorenzo said she and "Tony" would soon be moving into a new and larger home on Flint's Parkside drive with their four children. The youngsters, Annette, 15, Anthony Jr., 13; Josephine, 12, and Peter, 5, all attend St. Matthew School in Flint.

The Roches live in Bloomfield Hills and have a daughter, Mrs. James Quinlan of Birmingham, and two sons. Jim attends Harvard Law School and Douglas is a junior at Holy Cross, Worcester, Mass.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Seaton, of Huntington Woods, have two sons, John, a student at General Motors Institute in Flint, and Peter, a student at St. Mary's, Royal Oak. A daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Swartout, lives in Whittier, Calif.

GM's "First Lady," Mrs. Harlow H. Curtice, wife of the president of General Motors Corporation, is shown as she entertained wives of newly-appointed vice presidents of the company in her suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. Left to right are Mrs. Louis G. Seaton, wife of the new director of personnel staff; Mrs. James M. Roche, wife of the general manager of the Cadillac Division; Mrs. Curtice, pouring coffee and Mrs. Anthony De Lorenzo, wife of the director of public relations staff. The Seatons live in Huntington Woods and the Roche's in Bloomfield Hills.

Jean L. Lucas became the bride of Charles William Smith this afternoon at Central Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Babb of Clawson and Charles is the son of Mrs. Lula Smith of Richwood road and Stanley Smith of Oxford.

MRS. CHARLES WILLIAM SMITH

Jean L. Lucas and Charles William Smith were married this afternoon in a 4 o'clock ceremony at Central Methodist Church.

* * *

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Babb of Clawson and Charles is the son of Mrs. Lula Smith of Richwood road and Stanley Smith of Oxford.

Dr. Milton H. Bank officiated at the service in the presence of 250 guests. The bride designed the bridegroom's ring for the double ring ceremony.

* * *

The bride wore a princess style gown of crystal chiffon velvet featuring a "V" neckline, short sleeves and matching white gauntlets. The ballerina-length skirt fell over a multi-ruffled underskirt.

Mrs. Richard Brosier of Allegan wore a peacock blue ballerina-length dress of velveteen with a matching bandeau for her duties as matron of honor. She carried red roses with accents of pine and holly.

* * *

Bridesmaids Madah Mack, and Marilyn Hamilton of Royal Oak were gowned identically to the matron of honor and carried bouquets of red roses and pine. Their gowns were styled by Miss Mack. The bridal attendants wore small silver earrings designed and made by the bride.

Randall Audas served as best man and ushers were Richard Brosier of Allegan, William Maier of Auburn Heights, James Lesar and Jack Martin.

For the reception held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony, Mrs. Babb greeted her guests wearing a dress of light blue jersey and crystalette with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

* * *

Mrs. Smith wore a dress of shell pink cotton and orlon accented with pink and brown accessories. Her flowers were also cymbidium orchids.

* * *

Jill Johnson Speaks Marriage Vows

A gown of ivory Italian silk with hand-corded Alencon lace and pearl motifs outlining the neckline was worn by Jill Mary Johnson for her marriage today to Robert Harvey Kohr in the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

* * *

The bouffant floor-length skirt fell into a chapel sweep. A fitted lace cap held her tiered fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Jill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bevis Johnson of Witley, Surrey, England. She has been residing with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Anatole M. Wauters of Covington road. Her uncle gave her in marriage.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franz Kohr of Wimbleton drive, Birmingham.

* * *

Paulette Wauters was maid of honor and Mrs. Thomas G. Lightner of Moundsville, W. Va., sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's other attendant. They were gowned alike in white chiffon frocks and carried cascade arrangements of Happiness roses and ivy.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Thomas G. Lightner served as best man. Ushers included John A. Wauters of Grand Rapids, Charles R. Goodyear and Lawrence A. White.

Mrs. Wauters wore a navy blue sheath dress with a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids for her niece's wedding. Mrs. Kohr chose a blue brocade dress with pale blue accessories. Her corsage was also of cymbidium orchids.

On their return the newlyweds will reside in Royal Oak.

Jill Mary Johnson and Robert Harvey Kohr were married this afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bevis Johnson of Witley, Surrey, England. Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franz Kohr of Birmingham.

They were selected at the Thursday meeting held at the home of Mrs. Maxwell Shadley on Ottawa drive.

In addition, delegates were selected for the Michigan DAR Conference at Grand Rapids in March. Mrs. Porter, Mrs. George Eldred, Mrs. Allan H. Monroe and Mrs. Bradley D. Scott will represent the chapter.

* * *

Navy Mothers Club Holds Party Dec. 15

Mrs. Frank Riley presided at the Thursday evening meeting of the Navy Mothers Club 355. The group met at the Naval Reserve Training center.

* * *

Preparation of gifts to be sent Navy personnel was completed. Mrs. Paul Hanson, chairman of the annual Christmas party, announced Dec. 15 as the party date. It will be held at the training center.

* * *

Mrs. Maude Coffell, a former charter member, was reinstated.

Garden Club to Meet at Annett Home

Mrs. Bruce Annett will be hostess to members of Pontiac Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association at 2 p.m. Monday in her home on Sylvan Shores drive. A Christmas gift wrapping demonstration will be presented during the afternoon.

* * *

Members are asked to bring new or used children's books for the Oakland County Children's Home.

Two Dusters Best

For efficiency, dust with one clean, dry, lintless cloth and another wrung from warm soap or detergent suds. Each has its mission.

The damp cloth washes finger marks from tables, lamps and woodwork—as well as those little pollen marks often dropped by flowers.

Coming Events

News From Birmingham

Christmas Festivities Dominate Social Calendar

BIRMINGHAM — Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Mosby will be hosts at a Christmas dinner party next Saturday for a group of friends who have gathered together at holiday time for a special celebration for over 20 years. Most came here from Texas, Kansas and other Western states.

Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rising, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. William C Sproull, Mr and Mrs. S. Gordon Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm W. Welty, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugh Whitelaw and several others.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawrence of Winnetka, Ill., formerly of Wing Lake, had as their guests over last weekend Mr. and Mrs. James O. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Drissen and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Judd of Wing Lake and Bingham road.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will have as their Christmas houseguest Mrs. Wright's cousin, Mrs. Taylor Sellers of Montgomery, Ala. They are planning a cocktail and supper party Dec. 21.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Archangeli and their two children and Mr. and Mrs. E. Wright Yount plan to spend Christmas at Otsego.

YULE IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl and their five children leave Dec. 21 to spend Christmas in Florida. They will travel in their new Landcruiser which is equipped with every convenience.

The Diehls have invited friends to view their newest mode of transportation at a cocktail party Dec. 16.

* * *

It will take place this year on Tuesday evening in Christ Church Cranbrook, with the singers enjoying a wassail bowl later at St. Dunstan Pavilion.

Solos will be sung by Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis, Mrs. Glen R. Miller, Mrs. Edward R. Chapman and Templin Licklider.

Henry S. Booth will give a reading.

Hosts at the pavilion party will be members of the St. Dunstan board of directors. These are Mrs. Herbert G. Taylor, Mrs. Stephen F. Booth, Henry M. Jackson, J. Thomas Martin, Mrs. Robert H. Porter, Mrs. Donald S. Hutton and Robert L. Garrison.

Baked goods were a part of the bazaar at Pontiac State Hospital Friday. Members of the association assisting were (left) Ruth E. Moore of Moreland avenue, and Mrs. Clair Young of Putnam street, general supervisor of women. All proceeds will be used for the purchase of Christmas gifts for patients.

Zonta Club Sees Yuletide Floral Arrangements

Zonta Club of Pontiac met Thursday at Hotel Waldron for a meeting and floral demonstration by Mrs. Dorothy Brooks.

* * *

Christmas arrangements of flowers, candles and ornaments and a talk about the meaning of Yuletide flowers were presented by the speaker.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. D. W. Shults, Mrs. Robert Frayer, Mrs. Thomas Eggleston, Mrs. Wanda Pandurem and Mrs. Mary Pipe.

* * *

Pontiac Press Photos

Pleasant experiences were exchanged at Birmingham Country Club Friday when Actors Albert Dekker and Edith Atwater and the producers of Will-O-Way Theater and Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater got together for luncheon. The affair followed the production of "Two's a Company" at Birmingham Town Hall. Seated (left) is Mrs. Celia Turner and Mrs. James Moon of Bloomfield Hills (right) president of Town Hall. Standing are Mr. and Mrs. William W. Merrill of West Long Lake road. He is producer-director of Will-O-Way Theater.

The cocktail length dress, so popular for so many years, still reigns as a heavy favorite, but a growing trend is to the full-length. The former is admittedly easier to pack, but if you just can't resist the more formal fashion, well, you can always skimp elsewhere.

Salt, Pepper Not Placed Upon Table

May Visitors Ask Their Hostess for Seasonings?

BY EMILY POST

A reader asks: "When pepper and salt are not put on the table is it proper for a guest to ask the hostess for them?

"The other evening my husband and I were invited out to dinner and found ourselves eating food that was badly in need of seasoning (at least according to our tastes) but neither one of us could bring ourselves to ask for it as we thought it might embarrass the hostess. Is it wrong to ask a hostess for something she has neglected to provide?"

Answer: Salt and pepper are so universally put on a table that it could hardly embarrass the hostess to ask for them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I sailed here to England with my young daughter a month ago to visit my parents who are quite elderly. We will spend Christmas with them. Because of his job my husband was unable to accompany us.

"I would like to send Christmas cards to our friends in the States. Do I sign them John, Mary or Sue or just Mary and Sue? Since my husband is not here with us, would it be proper to include his name?"

Answer: It would be entirely proper to include his name.

"Dear Mrs. Post; When paying a visit, isn't it up to the hostess to ask her visitor to remove her coat? I always thought so.

"However, the other afternoon I went to see a lady whom I always thought a very gracious hostess, and she let me sit in her living room for almost an hour and never asked me to take off my coat. Wasn't this very rude on her part?"

Answer: No, because she took it for granted that if you wanted to take your coat off, you would have done so. It isn't something that you have to be asked to do.

Some Pointers for Job Beginners

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This is the time of year when a lot of people are having first-job-itis. Students in high school get after-work jobs and housewives get Christmas-money jobs.

• • •

The first week or two in a new job, especially a first job, can be pretty nerve-racking.

So here are some pointers which will help you to sail through with a minimum of pain, a maximum of success:

1. When in doubt, dress down.

Housewives, particularly, tend to get all dressed up when they go out to business. Better to wear plain, neat clothes, which look businesslike and keep you from standing out.

OPEN YOUR EYES

2. Keep your eyes open and your mouth shut.

Don't come up with brilliant suggestions until you've been around enough to know why they are impractical.

The company has been in business for quite some time, chances are, and they have already thought of, and rejected, many of the bright ideas.

Later, when you know what you're doing, you'll have ideas that'll be vastly different from your first ones.

3. Don't get too friendly too fast.

You'll be working with these people for some time, so it's a mistake to get cliquey in the beginning. You might get in the wrong clique and when it's too late to change, you may regret it badly.

Stay away from chatting on the job. You're paid to work, not kaffee-klatch. Smile pleasantly, but don't tell your life story to all comers.

AVOID QUESTIONS

4. Don't ask any unnecessary questions.

It's fine to be eager to learn, but you don't have to overprove it by asking silly questions. If you keep your eyes and ears open, you'll get most of the answers.

5. Be on time. This ought to be elementary, but many people think a few minutes make no difference. Well, they do!

6. Be cautious about offering to help others.

• • •

If you find time on your hands, devote it to double-checking your own work, instead of jumping in and offering Mable your help.

MAY RESENT IT

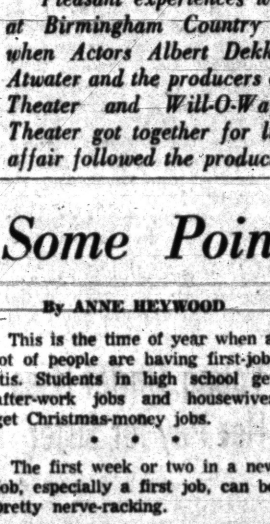

Mabel may feel that you think you're more efficient than she, or she may even think you're after her job. Besides, if you look, you'll find more to do in your own bailiwick.

• • •

7. Resist the temptation to give total-recall at the family dinner table.

Your kith and kin are interested in your job, of course, but most beginners get into the awful habit of talking nothing but shop. This is a bore to all concerned.

Luggage Colorful

Women's leather luggage this year starts with off-white and palest beige and goes on through champagne, pinks, blues, and other pastels, to suntan, charcoal, chocolate brown and black . . . with some of the smartest being in plushy reversed leather in the vivid, oriental hues.

Christmas Birds Made of Spangles

They are tiny spangles you can attach to the candles with short pins. Add small pearls and flower spangles between the gold birds.

Earl Wilson Explains About 'Late Beauties'

By EARL WILSON

Ava Gardner, who was habitually late before Marilyn Monroe came along and made it popular, is "Miss Unpunctuality" even more so in Spain and Italy nowadays. "The late Miss Gardner" loves Madrid partly because she won't hurt anybody's feelings if she makes an appointment for tonight at 8 and doesn't show up until next Thursday.

"She's always late," says F. Hugh Herbert, who just finished a picture, "The Little Hut," starring her, "but she has such charm that you forgive her."

"So you don't bawl her out?" I asked him.

"No, you need her. And, after all, what would she say if you asked her about being late?

"Why," he answered his own question, "it would merely be that she wanted to sleep another hour or so."

Frank Sinatra knows about this pretty well. Ava was supposed to have divorced him in the summer of 1954. She's reported to be about to get it either in Mexico or California . . . 30 months or so behind schedule.

"Maybe," F. Hugh Herbert said, "she goes off the lot to lunch and doesn't get back when she's due back. Possibly she's having a good time at lunch; so she says to herself, 'Oh, to heck with it. I'll be an hour late today.'"

AVA

"And nobody minds?"

★ ★ ★

"And that makes it just dandy?"

"What are you going to do about it anyway? She's spoiled . . . naturally."

"I'm amazed at your attitude," I scolded him.

"She's a star—and she's so pretty!" he shrugged again.

And so there you have the secret—it's because guys tolerate tardiness. I'll always remember that the first time I interviewed Marilyn Monroe, she was unknown—and punctual. The second time, she was famous—and an hour late. The last time I interviewed her she was more famous, and while I wouldn't say she was tardy, I can mention that while waiting for her I shaved twice.

"Don't you think you should set an example by making the next star you work with be on time?" I demanded of Ferbert.

"Not if it's somebody like Ava," he said. "She's too beautiful to bawl out for merely being late."

I think it's a crime . . . and I'd like to add that I wrote this piece while waiting for my wife to get dressed to go out.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

The producers of O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night" are hunting for his son, Shane; can't find him anywhere . . . "Auntie Mame" is such a sellout the ticket brokers are calling it "My Fair Mamie" . . . Bandleader Ben Cutler did a bit on the "Valiant Lady" soap opera, on which his wife is the star . . .

Susan Harrison, 18, co-starring in "Sweet Smell of Success," was a salesgirl at Saks last Christmas . . . Comic Jack E. Leonard gave away his oversized suits when he dieted, had to buy one to show on the "Person to Person" show . . . Joe Louis, who still owes more than a million bucks in back taxes, sighs, "I'm over-matched."

One B'way talent agent has a sideline—he's also a funeral director . . . Charles Adams, the "Apple Cart" producer, will bring "Friendly Persuasion" to the B'way stage . . . Texas oilmen predict the government production restrictions will be set aside soon because of the shortage abroad.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It's strange how unimportant your job is when you ask for a raise, and how important it becomes when you want a day off."—Howie Lasseter.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Rob't Q. Lewis recalls the time he lived in a cold-water flat: "We had no stove—the only thing that kept me warm was listening to Gabriel Heatter."

A guy took his two children into a bar and explained, "All of a sudden it struck me I wasn't spending enough time with the kids." That's earl, brother.

William Holden Box Office King

No 'Personality' Type, Bill's Quite a Rarity in This Field

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — William Holden is the movies' new king of the box office, one of the rare times that an actor of his sort has won the coveted award.

Usually, the people who buy tickets applaud performances by such as Holden, Spencer Tracy and Fredric March but they make box office champions of famed screen personalities such as John Wayne, Martin and Lewis or a Shirley Temple.

* * *

In the trade, Holden is known more as an actor than as a personality. That means he has the knack of submerging his own personality into the role he portrays. The personalities of previous champions are so fixed in the public's mind that producers seldom let them deviate.

* * *

Holden started his climb into the select box office list two years ago when he won the Oscar for his performance of the heel war prisoner in "Stalag 17." The 38-year-old veteran of 17 years in the movies placed seventh in 1954 and fourth last year.

* * *

The rest of this year's list, based on a poll of theater men, included some familiar winners and four new ones. The runners-up follow, in this order: John Wayne, James Stewart, Burt Lancaster, Glenn Ford, Martin and Lewis, Gary Cooper, Marilyn Monroe, Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra.

It's the first time for Lancaster, Ford, Miss Novak and Sinatra.

Of the win, Holden could only say: "I hate to sound like a prize fighter but Gee, Mom, it was a tough fight and I'm glad I won."

Hungary's Rebels Refuse to Quit

Guerrillas Harass Reds

BUDAPEST (AP) — Definite word was brought today that bands of rebel guerrillas are waging hit-run warfare on Russian troops from mountain hideouts in southern Hundary.

There have been numerous reports of continued fighting around the mining center of Pecs, but until now they were impossible to confirm. Communication with Pecs is cut off.

Today an unimpeachable Hungarian source disclosed that at least 1,500 rebels are harassing the Soviet occupation forces from the Mecsek Mountains, near Pecs and not far from the Yugoslav frontier.

But the informant said he believed the Mecsek rebel forces were the last still holding out.

* * *

This indicated the Russians have succeeded in wiping out some 2,000 college students that had been waging guerrilla raids north of Miskolc, until at least 10 days ago.

There was an air of tension in Budapest. The government ignored a demand by the capital's Central Workers Council to quit jailing workers' leaders or face another outburst of violence.

The council had accused the puppet regime of draging officers and members of councils from their homes "without investigation," and warned that if this continues "the end will be a general strike, bloodshed and a new national tragedy."

There were more strikes and street fights yesterday. The strikes disrupted work in several factories.

Price Support Loss Exceeds $400 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm price support operations cost the government more than 100 million dollars a month for the four months ended Oct. 31.

The Ariculture Department put the figure yesterday at $426,245,685, compared with a net loss of $240,514,022 for the same period of 1955. For the fiscal year which ended June 30, the loss was computed at $974,767,365.

Trade Member Flees

BERLIN (AP)—A member of the Hungarian trade mission in Communist East Berlin has fled to Allied-occupied West Berlin with his family, refugee officials said today. They identified him as Bela Karsay.

Young Starlet Uses Her Pay for Sister

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Starlet Lili Gentle, 16, says she plans to use a court-approved salary increase to bring her polio-stricken sister here from Birmingham, Ala.

"My sister is in an iron lung," the actress told the court yesterday in seeking approval of her contract. "I want to bring her out here and take care of her."

Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes approved the option renewal increasing Miss Gentle's salary from $200 to $250 a week. Because she is a minor her contract is subject to court approval.

Lioness Captured After Attacking 11-Year-Old Boy

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — A 300-pound lioness broke out of its cage in front of an auto agency and mauled an 11-year-old boy who was helping his father operate searchlights for an advertising display.

* * *

The 3-year-old lioness, being used in a promotion stunt, clamped its jaws on the youngster's knee when he walked too close to the wire cage, deputies said.

Still clutching Erlan, the lioness broke out of its wire cage. The boy's father, Elwood Trenholm of nearby Wilmington, joined a bystander and the lion's owner in beating the animal until it released Erlan, deputies said.

The beast then ran across busy, four-lane Brookhurst Avenue and hid in some weeds, where owner George Frasier lassoed it.

Hollywood Headlines

Actress Conquers Polio by Relying on Her Faith

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — The latest Hollywood success story concerns a beauteous blonde from Eagle Rock, Calif., who was told three years ago she would never walk again.

Shapely, healthy-looking Barbara Lang has walked right into an MGM contract. Today she's preparing to play the sole female role as Jack Palance's wife and sister-in-law (he plays dual roles) in "The House of Numbers."

* * *

"I always knew I was going to be an actress," she recalled. "Even when I was a girl in Eagle Rock (a suburb of Los Angeles), I used to organize plays in which I would star and direct. Then I'd go around the neighborhood collecting 2 cents from the grownups to see the show."

After high school, she tried her luck as an actress. She acted in little theaters and did some night club singing. Then polio struck.

* * *

"One morning I woke up feeling tired," she said. "I couldn't understand it, because I was always full of pep. But I had pains in my back and neck and I couldn't remember having done anything to strain them."

She was taken to General Hospital. Soon her body was rigid except for her toes. She was even unable to close her eyes.

* * *

She said that doctors despaired of her ever using her legs again. But she didn't. She prayed often and read the Bible.

"I never doubted that everything would be all right," she remarked. "Even my mother was ready to give me up when she saw me. But I had faith that God would help me."

* * *

After months of treatment, she was once again able to walk.

Anxious to get back to her career, Barbara took long walks and studied breath control to get back her wind. She did night club singing to earn some money for an assault on the studios. Returning, she found work in TV films like "Death Valley Days," "My Little Margie" and the Bob Cummings show.

* * *

Paramount saw her on TV and gave her a test. The powers wanted to sign her but the studio boss was out of town. Meanwhile, MGM saw the test and signed Barbara while Paramount fiddled. Happy with her career and recently wed to actor Alan Wells, she's convinced of the benefits that faith can bring.

WALKS INTO CONTRACT — Barbara Lang was told three years ago that she would never walk again, but nevertheless she walked right into an MGM contract. Polio invalided her for months, but today she is preparing to play the lone female role in "House of Numbers," co-starring with Jack Palance, sister-in-law (he plays dual roles) Rock (a suburb of Los Angeles), and read the Bible.

Production of roll roofing and asphalt shingles in the United States has more than doubled since 1939.

Predicts Upswing in '57 Cherry Crop

EAST LANSING (UP)—A Michigan State University agricultural economist predicted today Michigan's 1957 tart cherry crop will be larger than this year's.

* * *

The 1957 grape crop will probably be lower than this year's above average harvest, however, Mott said.

He added that apple storage should be profitable for Michigan growers because heavy sales during the harvest lowered prices then and prices should climb.

But storage of Michigan onions until late spring is not expected to be profitable unless the 1957 Texas crop is reduced by drought or is late, he said.

* * *

So, Don't Ask Them!

HUTCHINSON, Minn. (UP) — The pokester who asks the Hutchinson resident "Do you think it's going to rain?" better get ready to duck. Over one eight-day period this summer the skies dumped almost 11 inches of rain. One farmer reported carp swimming in his cornfield.

Tot Wants Sax for Christmas: So Does Daddy

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Two-year-old Randy Koral, watching a television program, got so excited that he jammed his foot in his father's alto saxophone.

His mother tried melted butter and warm salad oil, but Randy's foot was really wedged. She called firemen. They removed some of the keys and, with pressure from the other end, worked the boy's foot out of the bell of the instrument.

"A saxophone," he replied brightly.

Lions Meet Steelers in Home Finale

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions will be out to protect a slender half-game margin in the Western Division of the NFL tomorrow when they face the upset-minded Pittsburgh Steelers at Briggs Stadium.

It will be the last home game for the Lions and could be a serious roadblock before the showdown game with the Bears in Chicago next week.

* * *

Pittsburgh was hurt seriously early in the season with numerous injuries including the loss of Lynn Chandnois, the team's best runner.

However, with a reshuffled lineup, the Steelers have started to move. Last week they took a 30-13 decision over the Los Angeles Rams with several former Michigan college athletes playing a big role in the victory.

Engineering the Steelers is former University of Detroit passing and running ace Teddy Marchibroda. Halfback Lou Baldacci of Michigan and guard Marv McFadden of Michigan State are other former state college stars who wear the Steeler colors.

Veteran fullback Fran Rogel is Pittsburgh's leading ball carrier. With him in the make-shift backfield is Elbie Nickel, long time one of the best ends in the NFL.

Nickel was shifted when Chandnois, along with Lowell Perry were knocked out for the season with injuries.

Last season in Pittsburgh, the Lions scored a 31-28 victory, but as the game ended the Steelers were only one foot away from the winning tally.

* * *

It was Marchibroda who sparked that late rally with his pinpoint passing. Behind him is Jack Scarbath, former Maryland passing ace.

The Lion coaching staff is fearing a mental let down after the great triumph over the Bears, 42-10, last week.

"We know they have a fine club, and they always seem to spoil the season for some team every year. I hope it's not this week," said Parker.

* * *

Detroit will regain some help in the forward wall with tackle Gil Mains due back after recovering from an ankle injury.

The Lions have been sparked by the running of Gene Gedman and Leon Hart along with aerial arni of Bobby Layne who has found Dorne Dibble, Dave Middleton and Jim Doran as the big three on the receiving ends.

Gedman, in his last three games against Baltimore, Green Bay and Chicago, has rolled up 255 yards in 83 carries which is more than he gained in his entire rookie season of 1953 before going into the service. His total yardage is 458 yards in 115 carries for the season.

Detroit holds a 10-4 edge in the all-time series with Pittsburgh, including the last four meetings in regular season competition.

A crowd of 50,000 will insure the Lions of a new all-time season attendance record at Briggs Stadium. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

OUT OF REACH — Gordon Wallace of Toronto lands on his back out on the ring apron after being knocked off balance by light heavyweight Tony Anthony last night in New York. Wallace, the British Empire light heavy champ, however, crawled back into the ring and was just getting up when he was counted out in 1:34 of the first round. He is protesting the bout. Officials say his knee was on the floor at the count of ten.

Bloomfield Hills Drops 1st Game

Bloomfield Hills suffered its 1st loss of the season last night, a 49-30 setback at the hands of Huron Township in a Southeast Suburban Conference game on the Hills' court.

The Huron cagers raced into an 11-2 1st quarter lead, stretched it to 29-11 at intermission and coasted through the 2nd half.

Chiefs' Mat Coach Pleased Despite Loss

Despite a 43-15 loss in his first PHS wrestling match, at Bay City Central last night, Coach Bill Willson was pleased with the way his new squad performed. It was the Chiefs first mat event in the school history and Pontiac won three matches out of 12.

Dave Payne (120 pounds) pinned Harfst at 1:20 of the 2nd period; Mel Nosenchuck (133 pounds) pinned Kinney at 23 seconds of the 2nd period and John Herron pinned Clark at 1:04 of the 1st period. All three used half-nelsons with crotch holds.

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS

Winter Sports Fans Inactive, No Snow

DETROIT (INS) — Lack of snow at all but one of Michigan's ski facilities has forced most outdoor enthusiasts to stay home this weekend.

Harbor Highlands at Harbor Springs said it has six inches of packed base snow with no bare spots. All other facilities in both east and western sections of the state are closed because of a lack of snow.

Most of the reports are the same as one from Fred Bocks, manager of Caberfae who says, "Caberfae is closed. Will open with additional snow."

On the other hand, there is plenty of ice skating this weekend around Detroit.

Seven of the city's artificial rinks are open. They are Butzel, Heilmann Field, State Fair Grounds, Gallagher Field, Redford Gold Course, St. Hedwig and Chandler Park.

* * *

Talking about ice—ice fishing is getting underway as more freezing wather hits us. There are scattered reports of ice fishing around sections of Lake St. Clair—especially in Anchor Bay. Conservation department officials warn that ice is not thick enough to hold large shanties and automobiles.

Naturally, ice fishermen shoud drill holes to test the thickness of the ice before venturing out from shore.

With the lower temperatures, pike spearing is a fast growing Michigan sport. Using a perch for bait, a spear fisherman will be kept busy with a four or five foot spear.

Waterfowl hunting in Michigan ends Sunday a half hour before sunset. Most duck and geese hunters felt they were cheated this year by the weatherman.

Field reporters say duck hunting is very slow and unproductive.

Russia Clear-Cut Winner

Soviet Olympians Depart

MELBOURNE (AP) — Russia carted home its first unofficial team and gold medal Olympic championship today as the Games ended with solemn ceremonies on a chill, damp afternoon following another Russian victory in the soccer finals.

* * *

As the Olympic scoreboard flashed, "Farewell and bon voyage 1956. Good luck, Rome 1960," American officials already were making plans for regaining world supremacy in Italy four years hence.

The final totals showed Russia a clear cut winner in points, 722 to 593 for the United States and also in gold medals 37 to 32. The Russians also amassed more total medals—gold, silver and bronze—with 99 to the Americans' 74. No matter how it was scored, American point system or European, it was a Russian victory.

Although the United States showed marked superiority in track and field, bettering its 1952 Helsinki showing with 15 gold medals in men's track and field and one in women's, Russia piled up huge chunks of points and 11 gold medals in gymnastics and six in wrestling.

Eleven world records were set and 31 Olympic marks were broken in the sport carnival that started Nov. 22 and finally was concluded this dark day when the flame in the bronze Olympic torch finally was extinguished. American athletes set six of the world records with its men's 400-meter relay team in track, Mildred McDaniel of Atlanta in the women's high jump, George Breen of Buffalo in a trial heat of the 1,500-meter swimming event and weightlifters Charley Vinci of York, Pa., Isaac Berger of Brooklyn and Tommy Kono of Sacramento, Calif.

Track, 16-5; swimming, 5-0; weight lifting, 4-3; gymnastics, 0-11; wrestling (free style and Greco-Roman, 0-6; boxing, 2-3; rowing, 32; yachting, 1-0; basketball, 10; canoeing, 0-2; shooting, 0-3; pentathlon, 0-1; soccer, 0-1.

Russia's final triumph was a 1-0 decision over Yugoslavia in one of the roughest soccer matches of the tournament. Players on both sides were guilty of unnecessary foul tactics and personal feuds flared.

After this rough and ready scramble, another capacity crowd of over 100,000 settled down for the brief but impressive closing ceremonies. The final day's attendance pushed the unofficial total over two million and appeared to have assured a small profit for the organizing committee.

Men's City Cage Leagues Open New Season Monday

The City Men's Basketball Leagues, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, will get their 1956-57 season under way Monday night with two games in the Pontiac High gymnasium.

Griff's Grill, last season's National League winner, will square off against the Calgon Kids at 7 o'clock and Shaw's Jewlers, defending Class A kings, will meet the Boys Club at 8:30 to officially open the new season.

Eight teams make up the American circuit. They include Shaw's Jewelers, Booth Homes, CIO Local 594, Walled Lake Super Market, Clarkston Merchants, Stadium Inn Boys Club and the Lakeside Royals, defending Class B champs.

There are only four teams in the National division. Included are Griff's Grill, Calgon Kids, Pontiac Merchants and Pontiac Police.

Monday, Wednesday and Thursday games will be played in the PHS gym. Tuesday night contests will be held on the Jefferson Junior High School Court. Starting times each night at 7 and 8:30 p.m.

The regular schedule for the adult leagues will end Feb. 27. A series of post-season playoffs will determine champions in classes A, B and C.

Class D competition, for boys 18 years of age and under, will begin Monday, Dec. 17.

Spectators are welcome at all City League games and there is no admission charge.

Chips Place 5 on IIAC Eleven

CHICAGO (AP) — Undefeated Central Michigan, winner of five straight conference titles, today landed five spots on the 1956 all-11 AC football team chosen by players and coaches.

Jim Podoley, Central Michigan's great halfbac and a member of the 1954 all-league squad, was the only unanimous choice. Podoley saw little action last year because of injuries.

Two 1955 holdovers were named —tackle Ray Fisher of Eastern Illinois and guard Gerald Brown of Eastern Michigan.

Ends: Dave Timock, Western Illinois and Tim Burdon, Central Michigan; tackle, Oliver Fisher, Central Michigan; guard, Harold Hanson, Illinois Normal; center, Gehrig Dergo, Western Illinois

Munson Hits 35 Points on Scoring Spree

Speedy Harrison Munson, forward in PHS Reserves, couldn't miss, and compiled what is believed to be one of the highest individual scoring marks in many years for PHS. Munson bucketed 35 points in the 61-57 win for Little Jacks.

At least four times Munson grabbed a rebound off the Hills' board, raced the length of the floor to sink driving shots. He got 15 goals, five free shots.

Syracuse Eastern Champ

Wichita Rips 'M,' 81-76

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The University of Wichita's Wheatshockers threw an 81-76 basketball shock into the University of Michigan's Wolverines last night.

Michigan, which defeated Delaware in its opening game, was 1-1 as it headed for Lincoln, Neb., and a game tonight against the University of Nebraska.

The Wolverines, incidentally, will be without Ron Kramer tonight. He hustled from the Wichita fieldhouse to an airport to New York for a television acceptance of a football award. Kramer was an All-America end.

* * *

Lack of accuracy from the free throw line and a rash of fouls on its own part cost Michigan the game. The Wolverines bucketed only 4 of 25 free throws, while Wichita was hitting on 27 of 37. Kramer missed six free throws.

Michigan had a 51.7 per cent shooting average from the field, making 31 baskets in 60 shots. Wichita got only 27 field goals.

Wichita's Joe Stevens got 19 points and Gary Mann 16. The latter's came on two field goals and 12 free-throw buckets in 12 tosses.

Guard George Lee trailed Kramer by a single point for Michigan, getting 17 points on eight field goals and a free throw—the only one he had.

Bill Wright contributed 16 Michigan points on seven field goals and a perfect 2-for-2 from the free-throw line.

Wichita led 43-35 at halftime and three times in the second half spread its lead to 14 points.

Canadiens Near NHL's Leaders

'Pocket Rocket' Spark in Montreal's 3-1 Win Over Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The defending champion Montreal Canadiens, thanks to Henri "Pocket Rocket" Richard, were closing in on first place in the National Hockey League today.

Richard scored two goals and assisted on the other last night as the Canadiens whipped the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 in the circuit's only action.

The victory gave Montreal 30 points. The Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings are deadlocked for the lead with 32.

The Pocket Rocket put the Canucks in front midway in the second period but Hec Lalande came back to tie the game for the Hawks later in the session.

Boom Boom Geoffrion and Richard scored in the final period which saw several fights break out. As both teams left the ice, fights broke out in the stands and players on both teams abandoned their scraps to watch the side attractions.

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion New York Yankees will entertain Chuck Dressen's Washington Senators in the Yankee home opener, Tuesday, April 16.

Giants Seek to Gain Eastern Division Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Giants ruled 10-point favorites today to defeat the Cleveland Browns tomorrow and clinch their first Eastern Conference crown in the National Football League since 1946.

* * *

The Giants-Browns game in New York, the Bears-Cards meeting in Chicago and the Pittsburgh-Lions get-together in Detroit highlight the circuit's six-game weekend program.

Other Sunday games pit Baltimore at Los Angeles and Philadelphia at Washington. In today's only encounter, Green Bay will be at San Francisco. This one will be nationally televised via CBS.

The Giants need either a victory or a tie to wrap up the Eastern title. New York whipped the Browns 21-9 in Cleveland, Oct.14 and has shown steady improvement since, winning five, losing one with one deadlock.

Over-all, the Giants show a 7-2-1 record. The runner-up Cardinals are 6-4 and the third place Redskins are 5-4.

* * *

The Bears, trailing the pace-setting Lions by half a game in the Western Division, have been installed 9-point choices to beat their intra-city opponents. The Bears will be seeking to bounce back from their whopping 42-10 setback by Detroit last Sunday.

Washington has been made a 7-point favorite over the Eagles. The 'Skins had their 5-game winning streak snapped by the Giants a week ago. Halfback Dick James, who injured a knee ligament early last month, may see some action for Washington.

In the other games, neither of which will affect the top of the standings, San Francisco is favored by one point over the Packers and Baltimore by three over Los Angeles.

Anthony Wins; Wallace Angry

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Anthony is clamoring for a light heavyweight elimination bout with Chuck Spieser today and Gordon Wallace is protesting the official count that ruled him a knockout victim in 1:34 of the first round at Madison Square Garden.

"He was on his feet at nine," said Wallace's co-manager, Harry Sheppard, after last night's short-lived bout. "Randy Turpin also knocked him down in the first and he got up and knocked him out. I'd like to go to the commission to make a protest."

* * *

Any protest is not likely to get much consideration for the New York State Athletic Commission already has the report of Referee Barney Felix who said, "Wallace's knee was on the floor at the count of ten."

The small crowd of about 2,000 that paid $5,000 to see the nationally televised bout booed the sudden ending because they felt short changed. After all, Wallace holds the British Empire light heavy crown although he weighed only 164 to Anthony's 173¾ pounds.

Lubanski Holds Lead

CHICAGO (INS) — Veteran Ed Lubanski increased his lead in the all-star bowling tournament while Mrs. Marion Ladewig, a five-time winner, moved out in front in the women's division last night in Chicago.

Lubanski, a husky Detroiter, ran his Petersen point total to 158.11 with 23 victories and 9 losses and total pinfall of 6,761 for a 211.2 average.

In second place is Don Carter of St. Louis with 155.07, while Dick Weber of St. Louis, the high qualifier, is third with 153.17.

Bunched together far back of this trio is William Golefbiewski of Grand Rapids; Tom Hennessey of St. Louis; Chuck Wagner of Chicago, and the defending champion, Bill Lillard of Chicago.

Carter is only five pins back of Lubanski for the 32 games, but has lost one more game.

Mrs. Ladewig, a Grand Rapids grandmother, shot into the women's lead over Jere Price of Fort Worth, Tex., as she scored her 12th victory in 16 games—averaging 199.5—for a point total of 75.42. Miss Price has a score of 73.28.

Jacks Loaded, Sink PHS

PHS swimming coach Bob Boyce remarked a few days ago that Arthur Hill's swimming team was "loaded" again this season. He proved a good prophet yesterday afternoon when the Lumberjack natators swamped Chief splashers 63-33. Meet, in the Pontiac pool, opened SVC competition for both clubs.

Dennis Simonson broke his own pool record for the 120-yard individual medley with a fine 1:16.6 mark to edge AH's Nieman. Old time was 1:17.7. Other Chiefs who did well were Jim Cornforth in the 40-yard freestyle, Robarge and Stinson in the orthodox breaststroke, and the 160-yard freestyle relay.

Summary:

40-yard freestyle — won by Myers (AH); Cornforth 2nd; Bear (AH) 3rd; Doerr (P) 4th. Time 19.4 seconds.

100-yard breaststroke — won by Stimonson (P); Nieman (AH) 2nd; Day (AH) 3rd; Gayette (P) 4th. Time 1:09.9.

100-yard freestyle — won by Dewell (AH); Williams (AH) 2nd; Cummins (P) 3rd; Colech (P) 4th. Time 56.9 seconds.

160-yard medley relay — won by Arthur Hill (Koehler, Krogman, Day, Schoch). Time 1:28.7.

St. Mary's Smothers St. Clements, 62-25

Led by Pete Madelans' 19 points St. Mary's of Orchard Lake last night swamped Centerline St. Clements 62-25 in a Suburban Catholic loop opener on the Eaglets' floor.

Eaglets led all the way, with a 24-10 halftime count. They face St. Rita in the next game, Dec. 14, in Detroit, another SCL test.

St. Mary's reserves also won by a heavy count, 56-22, paced by Tony Chojnowski's 18 points.

Chief Cagers Blast Lumberjacks 58-39

By H. GUY MOATS

SAGINAW — A well coordinated, smooth working Pontiac High School basketball club last night gave a rather broad hint to any possible Saginaw Valley Conference observers that there really is something to the advance notices that the Chiefs "will be a hot team this winter."

Tangling with Arthur Hills' reputedly good squad, Art Van Ryzin's players made a shambles of the contest. They opened with a 14-9 first period and never permitted Chuck Fowler's outfit to get any closer in the 58-39 victory. Van Ryzin used about everybody on his squad, but the changes failed to decrease the scoring pace.

PHS coaches were highly pleased with the performance. "It was a fine team victory" said the head coach. "Everybody did a great job. I think our defensive maneuvers were very effective. And we couldn't ask for better shooting."

Jacks never were in contention after the first five minutes. Indicative of the hot pace Chiefs set was the run of 12 unbroken points at the start of the second period. It left the count 26-9. At halftime Chiefs had doubled the count over their opponents, 30-15.

* * *

Where the game against Catholic Central was jittery, and the finish was too close for comfort, last night's Valley opener was steady, well polished and speedy on the part of the Chiefs.

Dave Diehm again was top point maker with 21 which gives him a two-game total of 39. Hudson (Goose) Roy, 6-4 center, with 13 and Terry Zellhart with 12 also had a good night. Diehm and Zellhart were deadly from the corners.

* * *

Ray's rebounding and control of the boards, with plenty of help from Dick Whitmer was a big factor in keeping the Lumberjacks off balance. Observers and coaches alike pointed out the brilliant ball handling and playmaking of little Larry Peet, and Diehm as being particularly responsible in getting the ball out of Hills' territory and into scoring position for the Chiefs.

For Saginaw Jim Rae, husky guard, was the only player to score in double figures, and he just made it with 10.

Chiefs engage Flint Central here in their next outing, and will be favored to mark their 3rd straight win. In other Valley encounters Friday night in a full-strength opening card, winners were Flint Central over Bay City Central 57-52 and Flint Northern over Saginaw 53-48. Saginaw was minus big Ron Frost, bounced off the squad for disciplinary reasons. Vikings had a rough time winning despite Frost's absence, going ahead only in the game's late minutes.

Ram Cagers Beaten, 54-46

By BILL CORNWELL

Highland Park St. Benedict, preseason favorite to win the Suburban Catholic League basketball title, started living up to advance notices by handing St. Frederick a 54-46 licking Friday night in the St. Fred gymnasium.

A dazzling display of long-range fire power riddled St. Fred's tight zone defense in the SCL opener for both schools.

St. Ben's outside shooting strength, spearheaded by Larry Gacki, buried the Rams under a 16-5 deficit going into the 2nd quarter and they could never recover from the shock.

The Ravens led all the way as four of their eagle-eyed marksmen hit double figures in the scoring column. Gacki paced the assault with 20 points, followed by Art Clark's 11 and 10 each for Martin Massucci and Hank Dezenski.

Two bad quarters, the 1st and 3rd, actually put the Rams out of contention. They scored only one field goal in the 1st period, a layup shot by Bill Mountain with 15 seconds remaining. They narrowed St. Ben's halftime advantage to 30-21, but fell back again after intermission.

Mountain sparked the Ram attack with 20 points. Teammate Tom Derocher added 12.

St. Ben made a clean sweep of honors with a 35-29 victory over the Rams in the reserve game. Mike Gendich scored 17 points for the Ravens while Phil Bierel was tops for St. Fred with 12.

Wolves Wallop Milford, 60-38

The Redskins opened their 1956-57 season Friday night at Clarkston and the host Wolves rudely dished out a 60-38 shellacking in the 1st W-O game for both schools.

The score was tied at halftime, 25-25, but Milford wilted under Clarkston's 2nd half surge. Clarkston had margins of 14-4 and 21-9 in the final two periods.

George Lang led the Wolves with 21 points while teammates Leroy Parks and Dick Lippert made 16 and 10 respectively. Bob Bedford topped the Redskins with 10.

It was Clarkston's 2nd win in three starts.

Vikings Rally to Gain 3rd Straight Win

A gallant fourth period comeback after they had trailed all the way enabled the Walled Lake Vikings to pull out a 55-50 verdict over Wayne in a close battle last night.

It was the third straight triumph for Walled Lake. The winners pulled the game out of the fire in the final three minutes of play by taking over complete control of the contest and forging to an eight-point lead which Wayne could not overcome.

Scoring ace Larry Hughes led the scoring with 23 points but it was the work of Larry Dion and newcomer Larry Vandervelde that sparked the 22-point last quarter surge. They clicked for a total of 10 points to carry the load in the closing stages as Wayne twice failed to hold a one-point lead.

The visitors, with Al Betz hitting 14 points, held their biggest edge of eight points in the third quarter before Walled Lake started the successful rally.

CHICAGO — Cash prize for the first place in the 1956 Tam O'Shanter golf open tourney classic was an even $50,000.

Falcons Whip Romeo, 73-55

Packing a high-powered scoring combination in Dave Eldred and Dave Peters, Rochester broke its season opener wide open in the third period to hand Romeo a 73-55 walloping on its home court.

The talented winning forecourt pair combined for 45 points, 23 by Eldred, to spark the triumph over the inexperienced losers.

Romeo trailed only 19-18 after the first quarter and was right in the thick of things until four successive Rochester field goals, three of them hook shots by Peters, gave the victors a lead they never relinquished in the second stanza.

Don Fowler rung up 16 points to lead the losing offensive with Tom Williams adding 10. It was the second straight setback for the Bulldogs.

Bottle Hunting —New Sport?

ST. JAMES, MINN. (AP) — Game Warden Phil Ham, piloting his plane over pheasant country, noticed a car stop several times. On each occasion the driver hurried into the ditch and back to the car.

Things looked suspicious. Ham radioed ground wardens and directed their cars into St. James where they halted the mysterious hunter.

The car contained no pheasant — not even a gun.

"I was out hunting up enough beer bottles in the ditches to fill up my case," said the frightened driver.

Friday Was Heaviest Night for Preps

The young prep basketball season had its heaviest night of action last night with most Oakland County and area teams getting into the picture.

* * *

Ferndale showed some class and Southfield gave indication for a lean season in their battle on the Dale's court last night where the Bluejays were trounced 77-35.

Four Ferndale players led by Henry Johnson's 20 points get into the double figures. Southfield did not score a point in the first quarter and it was 18-0 before the Jays hit in the second stanza.

George McDaniel, 6-5 sophomore got 24 and Amos Bradsher hit 19 for Holly. Dick Biery got 21 and Bud Bell 18 for Northville which led at halftime 45-26.

* * *

Ten Clawson players got into the scoring column as the Trojans whipped Oak Park 61-30. It was Oak Park's third straight loss and the season opener for Clawson with Larry Dorr getting 16 points.

Almont got off to a slow start, then pulled ahead with Larry Kersten and Lee Hartway hitting 19 and 16 respectively to beat Capac, 57-37 in a Southern Thumb clash.

* * *

Farmington made its record 1-1 for the season by dumping Clarenceville 47-35 with Tom Kosty getting 12 and John MacDonald and Jerry Stainbrook getting 10 each for the winners.

* * *

Troy and Lake Orion, two of the favorites in the Oakland-B circuit scored wins last night.

The Dragons, led by Jim Drake's 16 points and three other double point men, Dave Golladay, Nick Niera and Ralph McLaughlin whipped Roseville 53-36.

Ortonville dropped its second straight of the season by falling 53-33 to Goodrich in a ragged game. The Blackhawks never had the lead and they were led by Bob Hutchin's 12 points.

East Detroit, and EML power started the season with a 73-41 romp over Van Dyke as 10 Shamrocks scored led by Dick Kehrer with 18 and Ron Emerick with 15.

* * *

Using an effective tight press, Lapeer bounced back after trailing for three periods to eke out a 49-47 victory over Flushing for its second straight win. Tom Wilson and Dennis Troy paced the attack with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

West Bloomfield Drops 1st, 48-41

West Bloomfield had its opening day troubles in dropping a 48-41 decision to Brighton in a Wayne-Oakland League game on the Laker court last night.

Brighton's scoring twins Brian Watson and Herb Snider led the attack with 16 and 13 points respectively while three Lakers, Ross Fockler, Ray Le Pratt and Larry Hollister, each had 10.

West Bloomfield led only after the first quarter, 6-5, and moved within four points once in the 4th stanza.

The loss of 6-4 center Rolf Gordhamer in the 4th period hurt West Bloomfield.

Victory for Faculty

Ed Heikkinen came through handsomely, yesterday afternoon, in the big PHS gymnasium to snatch a victory for the Faculty over Varsity club cagers, 16-14.

Count was tied at 14-all when Heikkinen got his game-winner with seven seconds left. Varsity club howled a bit, claiming faculty had seven players on the floor. As usual the game was an uproarious comedy-filled encounter.

Birmingham Wins Opener

By CHUCK ABAIR

Height and depth spelled victory at Birminghm last night as the Maples opened their season with a 47-36 win over a small but scrappy Cranbrook quintet.

The home club pulled out ahead to stay midway through the third period paced by the key goals of 6-4 forward Bob Isbell and speedy Tom Kelly after being outplayed in the first half.

The hustling Cranes, lacking a six-footer in the lineup, kept things interesting throughout the area battle on sheer determination and fight before faltering in the final minutes to drop their third straight game.

Cranbrook raced to a 14-9 first period advantage led by Chuck Grube's eight digits and held the edge by a slim 21-20 margin at halftime. A 17-point third session turned the tide for BHS which had expected first game shooting troubles from both the floor and foul line.

Isbell topped all the scorers with Kelly adding 11. The rugged Grube was the spark in the Cranbrook offensive hooping 16 in a game which saw the victors take more than double the amount of floor shots than the losers, 70-32. Birmingham's reserves gained a 50-38 triumph in the prelim.

Cranbrook Mat Team Drops Opener, 48-0

Ypsi swept to triumphs in all eight weight classes despite the efforts of Crane stars Jim Marcus, Bill Burnett, and Ken Tragenza. Marcus, a 165-pounder, and heavyweight Burnett both gained ties in their matches but lost out on riding time. Tragenza turned in an outstanding showing before bowing in the 154-pound class.

Monday stop into the Waterford Bureau offices of The Pontiac Press and become acquainted with us.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

BUILT-IN PIANO — Covering an upright piano with cherry paneling makes it part of the room. The large windows in this room frame a lovely view of trees and grass and a distant small stream. The secretary at the left has been painted a flat black. Paintings and pieces of sculpture, all done by Mrs. Alison, have an important part in the decoration of her home.

BEDROOM SECTION — The sunny half of Mrs. Alison's bedroom is her sleeping area. Simple like the rest of the room, it has a twin bed with a white spread, an easy chair and a table. Under the window is the antique child's bed. The two black chairs in the foreground have white plastic woven seats.

Home Has Studio for Artist Owner

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When Mrs. D. J. Alison (Helen) of Birmingham built her home last year, she had the assistance of three architects. She refuses to credit any one, says they all helped her to get the house she wanted.

Ease of upkeep and convenience were uppermost in her mind as she planned the house. As an artist, she needed space in which to work as well as living quarters.

The lot Mrs. Alison was fortunate enough to acquire is a wooded one, bordered on one side by a small stream. The city of Birmingham owns part of the property next to the stream; at one time they considered putting a road there. The rear of the pie-shaped lot has been left in its natural semi-wild state.

The red brick house with its wide overhangs is set back from the street. There are only a few windows on the street side. There are three entrances here; one to the garage, a second into the breezeway, the third is the formal front door.

Around the solid door the area is frosted glass. The studio-height ceiling is covered with white acoustical material. Walls are Philippine mahogany; the floor is red quarry tile. In one corner a large planter provides a spot of living color.

Quarry tile steps go down from this hall to the living area. Four wrought iron bars making the lower hand rail end in an unusual pistol-type grip.

Floors on the lower level are all tile, with the red quarry tile used in the living room and the smaller conventional tile in the other rooms.

In the living room the fireplace wall is made of pink bricks set endwise. It is a contemporary fireplace with a built-in wood storage unit at one side. A charming ceramic madonna and child is hung above the fire opening.

At one side of this fireplace there's a floor-to-ceiling bookcase. The walls are paneled in wild cherry. Window sills are tile.

Mrs. Alison converted an upright piano into an integral part of the room. The piano was placed in one corner, then covered with cherry paneling. From a distance it looks like part of the wall, with the keyboard protruding.

At the opposite end of the room is the dining area. The birch table is pushed up against the windows. Two large English silver candlesticks make a pleasing decoration on a Mexican scarf.

In the corner a hi-fi system has been built in, and music is piped throughout the house. A wild cherry buffet does double duty as a serving area and storage space. Plastic and woven cane chairs provide more seating space.

The kitchen is small and compact. Fish net curtains bordered in peasant braid hang at the windows. The cupboards have ribbed glass doors. Walls are birch.

In the utility room next door the utilities themselves are hidden behind louvered doors. The walls here are also birch. Two walls have counters with white tops. There is a lavatory adjoining this room. A lounge chair converts to a bed, so this room can be used for guests.

The breezeway is really a porch, opening to a terrace. It has a skylight with pink glass in it. In the summer it is a second living room. Right now it's more of a storage space.

The guest room which is also the college son's room when he's home, has bare oak floors and Philippine mahogany walls. The two large windows have wooden valances and black, white and grey draperies. The slanting ceiling is white.

All the furniture has been painted a flat black. The twin beds have grey spreads. Above one are three corner bookshelves. Two closets have louvered double doors.

Accessories are all Mexican. There is a fascinating straw picture, done in the most minute detail. A picture is hung in a plain silver frame, while the mirror has a frame with flowers painted on the silver.

In the bathroom special tiles made by Mrs. Alison are set in the pale blue tiling around the tub. The floor and vanity top are white. The ceiling and other walls are papered in a brown plastic paper with pale blue Egyptian figures on it.

Running the depth of the house, Mrs. Alison's room is both studio and bedroom. One wall is given over to closets—four of them with the same louvered doors as in the other bedroom. This wall is Philippine mahogany in its natural shade. The other three walls are bleached Philippine mahogany.

The north side of the room, of course, is the studio. Curtains on this window are hand-woven cotton striped ones. All Mrs. Alison's painting materials are here.

PANELED IN CHERRY — This large living area is paneled in wild cherry. The buffet at the far end of the room is made of the same wood. For an interestingly textured ceiling acoustical tile has been used. The pink brick fireplace has bricks set endwise. In the living room area there are foam rubber sofas on either side of the Oriental rug. Cherry valances are mounted over the deep red draperies.

AT WORK — Helen Alison (Mrs. D. J. Alison of Birmingham) put on her smock and set to work on her current painting as the Press photographer took her picture. Here at the north window of her bedroom she has the correct lighting in which to paint.

Good Advice on Freezers

Add to Convenience by Learning Proper Uses and Methods

Some women lose much of the convenience and some of the efficiency of a food freezer by failing to use it properly Here is some advice on packaging food for the freezer:

1. Always choose cartons and wrappings that are moisture-proof and vapor-proof, easy to handle, seal and label. Materials should be flexible and strong enough to withstand handling at zero degrees.

* * *

2. Wrap all food tightly. "Freezer-burn," which appears as frost or grayish-white spots on frozen food, is caused by air pockets that are left between the products and the wrapping material.

If containers are used, they should be filled to the recommended mark—usually ½ inch from the top for solids, one inch from the top for liquids.

3. For convenience each package should be labeled with the date of storage, kind of food and, when necessary, weight or quantity.

4. Use only table-ripe vegetables or fruits that are at the peak of maturity.

5. Fruit should be packaged in meal-size quantities, so there will be no left-overs. Defrosted frozen fruit loses its palatability if left standing several hours, and it should never be re-frozen.

* * *

It is especially important for fruits to be packaged in containers that are leak-proof, firm, moisture and vapor-proof.

6. Fruits that are to be used primarily for pies, jellies or preserves can be washed and frozen in dry packs without sugar or syrup. Fruits can also be frozen in a dry sugar pack or in a syrup pack.

7. Meats should be wrapped immediately after cutting, to prevent loss of juice and flavor.

8. When sheet material or plastic bags are used in packaging, use a box or pan as a form until the wrapped product is frozen solid.

* * *

9. Keep small food packages in one large nylon bag. It makes them easier to find.

10. Freeze foods in meal-sized amounts to avoid de-frosting foods that connot be re-frozen.

Removes Lids Easily

NEW YORK (AP) — Requests made by hospitals and foundations to the introduction of the Can-O-Mat can opener which can be operated with one hand. Produced by Rival Manufacturing Co., Kansas City, Mo., the device features a vacuum base which locks it to a flat surface and a magnet which holds severed can lids.

Focus Spotlight on Yule Cards Inside Doorway

A festive holiday doorway can be made with your early collection of Christmas cards. Protect them from the weather by attaching them to the inside of your storm door.

* * *

General Electric holiday lighting specialists recommend that electrical cords be "anchored" with insulated staples. Also, be sure to allow just enough extra cord to accommodate the opening and closing of the door without catching the cords.

To make the most of your front door, finish off with a pink 150-watt color projector lamp in an outdoor-type holder. Place it several feet away from your doorway (right or left) and aim the light on your arrangement. It will not only focus attention on your "Christmas Card," but this new weather-proof bulb will flood your entrance with a warm friendly glow of welcome.

Use Homemade Shrubs as Props for Lighting

If you are spending your first holiday in a newly-built home that you have not yet landscaped, substitute evergreen branches for permanent shrubbery.

Drive a few short stakes firmly in the ground and wire the branches to them. Then attach your outdoor lights just as you would on growing shrubbery.

String Lights Closely for Brightest Effect

Have you ever wondered why your neighbor's outdoor Christmas lighting seems to have a more professional result than yours?

For greater effectiveness, lay three separate strings of outdoor lights on the ground and stagger them so that sockets and bulbs are about six inches rather than the usual 18 inches apart. Tape them together with weatherproof electrical tape and hang them in place in the usual manner.

Neighbors often find that by planning their holiday decorations together the result seems twice as effective. Stringing lights from one home to another can often make small houses look larger and give a more uniform effect to each decorating design.

Wash Windows Easily

Window washing now can be made one of the easiest cleanup jobs in the house. This is made possible by new designs available in double-hung and sliding windows of ponderosa pine, which can be lifted right out of the frame, cleaned, and replaced in minutes. The outside of a modern wood window can be washed inside the house.

More than 90 per cent of all domestic shipments in packages are made in one of many types of containers of paper or paper fibre content.

ARTIST'S HOME — Mrs. D. J. Alison of 1301 West Lincoln in Birmingham lives in a two-story brick home. The rear view of it is shown above. The front view couldn't be photographed properly because of the trees. The section in the center is the breezeway or summer living room. Plastic over the screens helps to keep cold winds out. The garage is at the left. Directly in front of the breezeway is a terrace. Most of Mrs. Alison's lot has been left in its natural state.

Mrs. Alison's House Shows Her Artistry

bricks. A variety of paintings hang on the walls. On one door knob there is a string of Spanish onions.

The ceiling is white. The floor is oak. A set of open bookshelves sets Mrs. Alison's bed off from the work area, making a headboard for her bed.

For visiting grandchildren there is a child's delightful antique bed next to the window. On one wall is Mrs. Alison's antique card table with a folding top. Two black chairs next to the bed have white woven plastic cane seats.

That the owner is an artist is shown throughout this house. That she is also a homemaker and a woman with a family is also apparent.

Spray on Snow Flakes

Now you can spray artificial snow flakes on your Christmas tree and other holiday decorations from a push-button container offered by Martin-Senour Paint Co., Chicago.

Building Costs Pared by Using Right Material

In building a home, there are two ways in which costs can be kept from ballooning: Shortcuts in labor time and using accredited materials which will serve as well or better than those purchased at highest prices.

* * *

Exterior soffits in ranch style homes are an excellent location in which to save money. Since the roof overhang is protected from the weather, low-cost Masonite panelwood may be installed rather than conventional panels which are much more expensive.

* * *

A further saving can be made by putting up factory-primed panels in this location. Cost of the primecoat over the raw board is nominal—much less than the labor and paint required for the priming.

* * *

Similar and considerable savings may be achieved by using factory-primed Masonite exterior sidings. These are available at lumber dealers. Many of these sidings, being in wide panels or in 12" horizontal form, go up quickly.

* * *

Tests have shown that erection time is reduced as much as one-third. Again, the savings benefit the owner.

Stop Lawn Erosion With Splash Block

A new and practical answer to the problem of unsightly puddles, lawn erosion and basement seepage beneath drain spouts has been perfected.

This is the Monco galvanized metal splash block, a tapered and grooved lightweight receptacle that permits gentle, rapid run-off of water from down spouts.

According to the manufacturer, the new splash block weighs less than five pounds which makes it easy to move when mowing the lawn or doing yard work, yet is durable enough for several years service.

The Monco galvanized metal splash block features rounded edges on top as a safety factor for persons or things that might strike against it. A decorative note can be added by painting the splash block to harmonize with house colors. It is now being marketed through hardware, department, lumber, and building supply stores.

Way to Remove Cork

You can remove a cork that has been pushed into a bottle by pouring in enough ammonia to float the cork and letting the bottle sit for 24 hours. The ammonia will crumble the cork and you can pour it out.

Wood-Paneled Walls Best for Young Fry

Architects are using more and more wood-paneled walls in schools and homes where there are younger children. Wood's toughness and resistance to all sorts of knocks and abuse makes it the ideal material to withstand the unintentional kicks and scars inflicted by active children at play.

* * *

New types of varnish and plastic finishes provide an easy to maintain surface on these wood-paneled walls. This is especially true when such durable and wear-resisting lumber as west coast hemlock or Douglas fir is used in these panel installations. An occasional wiping with a soft cloth is about all the maintenance and upkeep needed.

Here's New Yule Idea for Lighting Doorway

Looking for a new idea for your Christmas doorway? Lighting experts suggest easy-to-make evergreen bells with lighted clappers.

* * *

Fashion bells from chicken wire. Then, with a string of C-9½ outdoor Christmas lights, clip the chicken wire frame over each bell and fasten so that bulbs are positioned like clappers.

Cover frames with short sprigs of evergreen until "bells" are solid with greens. Use assorted colored bulbs for your lighted clappers.

Insulate for Cleanliness

Insulation helps keep a house cleaner by eliminating "ghost marks" on walls and ceilings. These wide, shadowy lines are caused by dust which collects on surfaces that are cold, since warm, dust-bearing air naturally is attracted to a cold surface. Mineral wool insulation keeps the walls and ceilings at a more uniform temperature with the air in the room and the "ghost marks" do not appear.

Draft Caused by Cold Walls

If the walls of your home are cold in winter, be cautious about letting your children play on the floor unless you want to risk endangering their health.

This is the advice of heating engineers, based on the fact that cold walls can cause chilling drafts even in a room with all doors and windows tightly closed so that air doesn't leak in.

The engineers say it works this way: A cold wall chills the air closest to it. Cold air is heavier than warm air and it sinks rapidly, sliding down the wall and skimming across the floor.

One remedy for cold walls is insulation. A wall adequately insulated with mineral wool will be as much as 11 degrees warmer than a non-insulated wall, with the result that temperatures are uniform throughout the house and objectionable drafts disappear.

Mineral wool can be installed in the walls and ceilings of existing homes by the pneumatic "blown-in" process. A professional installer completely insulates all areas by filling the walls and covering ceilings with a compact layer of mineral wool, which protects the warmth of a house much as a thick blanket protects a sleeping person on a winter night.

Mineral wool works the other way around in summer, helping to keep heat outside, thus contributing to comfort the year around.

This type of insulation also is available in thick batts or blankets, which can be installed in walls during construction, or in attics and other accessible areas of older homes.

GIRAFFE CLOTHES TREE — There's hardly any reason for a child to be without a giraffe clothes tree. When you build it yourself the cost is practically nothing. And any inexperienced amateur can build one when he (or she) uses the pattern. The pattern is full size. All you need do is trace the parts on wood, then saw them out and finally put them together. Painting is easy too. You simply trace the giraffe's features, such as the eyes, nose, spots, and so forth on the wood and then paint over the tracings. The pattern lists the required materials and gives easy-to-read step-by-step directions which anyone can understand. You will notice that the little pegs on the neck are just the right height for hanging up clothes. The whisk broom tail is handy at all times. To obtain the full size giraffe clothes tree pattern No. 113 send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Soap Slithers Into History

Familiar Yellow Bar Sidelined by Progress, Modern Detergents

Back when a bar of yellow laundry soap was the household standard, washday was a dreaded family chore.

Today, the concept of "washday" has practically disappeared as the automatic laundry has replaced the washboard and scores of specialized cleaning products have appeared in place of the old fashioned laundry bar.

Today's housewife can choose from any number of soaps and synthetic detergents in powder, granule, flake and liquid form. But she is often at a loss which to buy for washing dishes, nylon underthings or for use in her washing machine.

The term "detergent" can be confusing. A detergent is simply a cleansing agent which, in water solution, removes soil. So, both soaps and synthetic detergents qualify as "detergents."

However, synthetic detergents have certain advantages over soaps. They launder equally well in hard or soft water and leave no dulling soap scum. Some synthetic detergents produce fewer suds and are somewhat better for front-loading machines.

During the past 10 years synthetic detergents have won quick acceptance and today outsell soaps by an overwhelming majority. Soap powders are still recommended for use in soft water areas. In a washing machine they do an excellent job on all types of clothing.

Mild soap flakes are especially suited for hand washing fine fabrics like nylon hosiery, lingerie, baby clothes, silk and wool. For best results in hard water, a water conditioner should be added to the basin or washer before the soap.

In hard or soft water, china, glass and silverware will sparkle when a dishwashing detergent is used. The liquid detergents, in particular, have wonderful grease-cutting abilities. For dishwashers special detergents are available.

Loose knobs on cabinet and dresser drawers can be tightened with sandpaper. Make a small washer from a piece of fine sandpaper and thread it onto the screw with the rough side next to the drawer. Tighten the screw and it will hold.

Water Heater, Hard Worker

Hot Water Available for Many Personal Uses in the Home

Next to the housewife, the hardest-working occupant of any home is the water heater.

And you can install your water heater anywhere because there is no flue or vent connection needed. A counter-high model can be placed right next to the dishwasher, sink or clothes washer where much hot water is used.

This is a practical spot for the heater, incidentally, because the water will stay hotter if it doesn't have to travel so far through the pipes to get where it's going.

* * *

Electric water heaters are available with quick recovery heating units. These supply hot water after draw-off at a faster rate and so provide increased hot water service from the same size tank.

For best results to fit your needs, consult your local utility or electrical contractor.

In addition to their dependability and thrift, electric water heaters are now shaped to fit in with washers and dryers in laundry rooms or in the kitchen. They match in color and in height, providing extra counter space. And no housewife ever has too much of that.

* * *

Just as you use sun tan lotion to protect your skin from the hot sun, manufacturers of asphalt shingles imbed millions of tough, opaque mineral granules into the asphalt-coated felt to keep the sun from drying out the heavy oils, assuring long life for the roof.

British Discover They Need Not Keep Shivering

LONDON (INS)—After shivering in cold houses for centuries the British have finally discovered that they needn't be miserable after all.

* * *

David Renton, Parliamentary Secretary for the Ministry of Fuel and Power, introducing the booklet in London declared that its aim was to show people "how to make the homes of tomorrow much warmer than the shivering castles of yesterday."

* * *

* * *

Copies have been dispatched to local authorities, builders' merchants, building and arechitectural schools, gas and electricity showrooms, government departments and to members of Parliament.

Rubber Pillow Upkeep

Foam rubber pillows can be washed and dried in an automatic washer and dryer. Pillows should be washed in their covers to keep the foam rubber from tearing. Limit the agitation, if you can.

'Odd' Copper Gifts Good for Decorating

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Those odd-shaped copper plates and dishes that often make interesting gifts but don't help much around the house can be put to good decorating use.

* * *

They make fine bedroom or study accessories for the man of the house who wants something besides frills and chintz in his corner.

* * *

In the bedroom they can be used to hold artificial fruit and make a more masculine container than your best pink china.

* * *

Outdoor Tree Will Glow If Accessories Get Care

Christmas lighting outdoors, like spectator sports, is more fun when you know the tricks of the game. To help you make your "Christmas Greetings in Light" more effective and easier for you this year, here are some practical suggestions for you.

* * *

Before your Christmas lamps can put on their show of brightness and color, they must be supplied with electric current, through wires, plugs, sockets and outlets, fuses and switches. Wires and accessory items must withstand water and weather. They should be protected from undue wear and damage. And they should be approved types, satisfactory from a safety standpoint.

The recommended way of supplying current to outdoor Christmas lighting displays is by means of a weatherproof plug-in outlet placed outside the house. The practice of running current from indoor receptacles to outdoor lights by running wires through doors and windows, even when the wires are protected by inserted boards and other devices is never recommended. However, you may use other existing outdoor outlets like porch fixtures, yard lights, entrance lights and post lanterns.

Flexible extension cords used to convey current from a receptacle to a group of lamps, or other lighting devices, should be types suitable for use outdoors in wet locations and should be large enough to carry the load without overheating. Plugs, current-taps, and other attachments should also be weather resistent.

INSPECT CORDS

By all means be sure to inspect all cords as well as other holiday lighting equipment, before each season's use. Repair or replace if damaged.

* * *

When possible, use waterproof portable cord sets having weatherproof plugs and connectors. If you are in doubt, you can protect the plug and connector from the weather by wrapping plastic or rubber sheeting around them. Sheet rubber or plastic bags such as those used in food stores to wrap vegetables can be used to keep water away from connections.

Simply put the connection in the bag and bind the ends tightly against the cords with several turns of strong twine.

* * *

Before putting up your outdoor Christmas lights, see that each lamp is screwed firmly into its socket. Then stretch the string of lamps on the ground and connect them to your source of current. Thus you can spot the burned out lamps before you install them. Or, you might use only new lamps in sockets that are to be mounted in hard-to-reach places.

When stringing cords and wires where rain will strike them, try to arrange drip loops so that water running down them will be diverted away from sockets and other attachments.

There are also the customary non-electrical precautions you should keep in mind when putting up and taking down your Christmas lighting, such as being sure that your ladder is sound, and using it in a safe manner; and getting help in erecting or taking down heavy or bulky displays.

And finally, when your Christmas lighting display is operating smoothly, make a drawing of it showing how the wires run, the connections, the number of lamps, and so on. If possible, take some color photos. Such notes will come in handy next season when you dust off your Santa, reindeer and lamps again.

Women Favor Cedar for Home Decoration

Lewis and Clark mention in the diary of their 1805 overland expedition to the Oregon country that Indian women wore short petticoats made from the inner bark of the western red cedar which hung in loose strings to their knees.

* * *

Modern women love cedar, too, but they prefer the lovely, autumn colored boards made from cedar which are ideal for wall paneling, built-ins in library, den, family or living room. The bark is very prickly, but the Indian women did not seem to mind. Like women through the centuries, they were willing to endure any discomfort if what they were doing was in style.

Scuff-Proof Floor Used by Memorial

Nearly 8,000,000 visitors have walked into the Will Rogers Memorial at Claremore, Okla., since its dedication in 1938; yet the original floors show no wear and are in gleaming bright condition.

* * *

The floors of the three main display rooms are Masonite Tempered Presdwood, laid in 12-inch squares. Open daily, the memorial has an average attendance of 1,200, a total reportedly exceeded only by Mt. Vernon.

This record scuffing, experts say, attests to the toughness and durability of the tempered Masonite, so widely used in manufactured articles, residential siding, farm buildings, business and industrial structures.

Everybody Has a Place in Home Well Planned

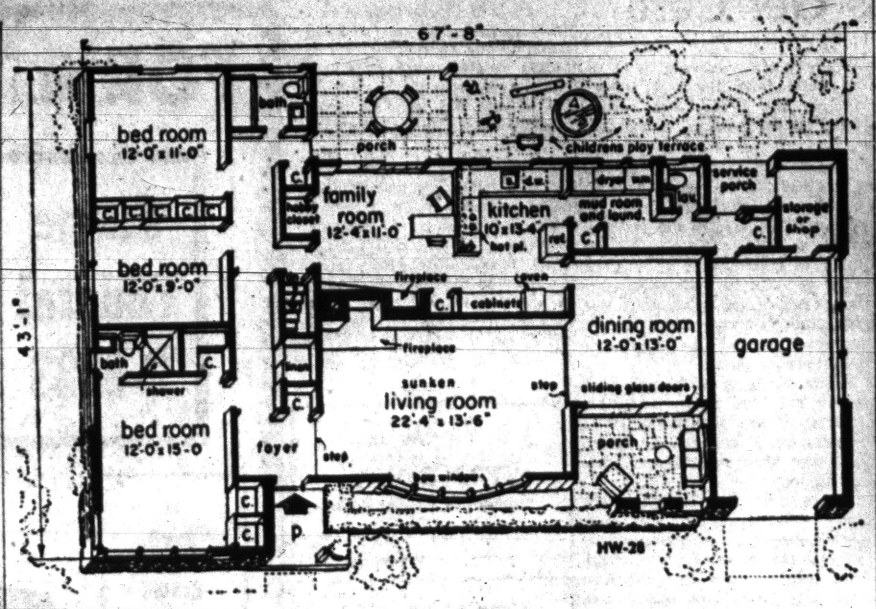

A happy home provides a place for each member of the family—a place for sophomore Sister Sue as well as for Junior and his pals—a place for Father, too, as well as for Mother and her afternoon teas. This big order is filled completely in Design HW-28 for The House of The Week.

When you look at this plan you can see places for children to play. You can visualize privacy for young people. And still you see little likelihood that adults are going to be pushed out of their own home.

This is the kind of house most women described in their dream schemes at the national housewives' housing conference in Washington. It includes so many things those delegates said they preferred that it takes on slightly larger and more expensive proportions than their feminine optimism hoped for.

Such is realism in home-building. The women hoped to have a house of less than 1,500 square feet, but when you add up all their loved features shown here, you have 1,757 square feet.

PERFECT ZONING — Living, sleeping and work areas are separated in this plan. Room doors are placed to prevent direct views into bedrooms, bathrooms and kitchen.

SMART DESIGN — This house is attractive from every point of view. Its brick veneer facade is pleasantly relieved by vertical wood siding flanking the big bowed window of the living room.

Without Basement

You can building HW-28 over a basement, a crawl space, or on a concrete slab. The house is perfectly designed for any of these preferences. Blueprints for building this house include a conversion sheet for each type of construction.

Space shown on this plan for basement stairs is readily available for a heater or air conditioning room. The chimney flue is at hand. With the laundry already provided on the main floor and extra storage space behind the garage, the necessity for a basement is eliminated.

Family living and relaxation are secluded from the front of the house. The rear family room provides a place for study, games, television, barbecue parties. Clutter is localized. Unexpected guests can be ushered into a presentable front living room without as much as a glimpse of scattered toys.

Even Dad—the forgotten man in most house plans—gets somewhat of a break from the ladies in this layout. That storage room off the garage looks like a dandy place for his shop. If you build a two-car garage (as you certainly should for prudence and resale value) that shop grows in size.

Attractive from all angles, this house meets the most exacting tests for good design. A brick veneer facade is pleasantly relieved by vertical wood siding flanking the big bowed window of the living room. A pierced brick wall screens the front porch from street view. Sliding glass doors merge this recessed porch with the dining room.

A covered dining porch on the garden side of the house is joined to the family room by another set of sliding glass doors. Both porches lend themselves readily to insect screening.

Living, sleeping and work areas are definitely zoned in this plan. The living room and dining room are clearly separated from the sleeping area as well as from the kitchen zone. Room doors are placed to prevent direct views into bedrooms, bathrooms and kitchen.

A sunken living room, one step down from foyer and dining room, gains extra ceiling height —a gracious feature for any living room. The log burning fireplace in the living room is in the same chimney as the barbecue fireplace in the family room, permitting one chimney to serve the house.

For an Estimate

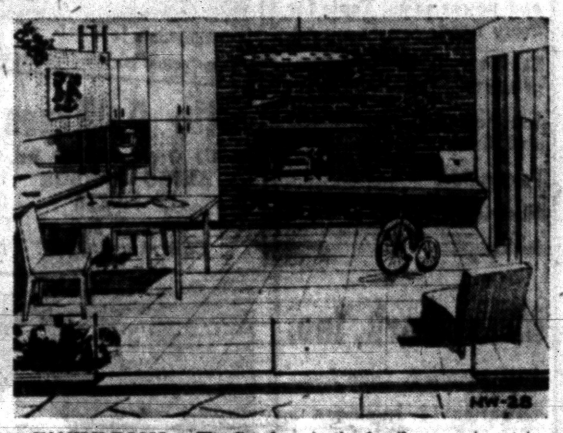

Building costs vary widely. The best way to get a rough estimate for your location is to send for a study plan and show it to a builder of homes of similar size.

Design HW-28 is for a house covering 1,757 square feet without garage and porches, which figure at lower rates. The garage adds 272 square feet. The house, if built with a basement, contains 31,608 cubic feet.

Rudolph A. Matern, the architect, has packed a maximum of housewives' preferences into the kitchen area. The kitchen itself is compact, yet planned for plenty of cabinets and modern equipment, such as a separate oven and hot plate.

A large rear window faces the children's play terrace. Step saving is envisioned both for food preparation and serving, whether the table is set in family room or dining room.

The combination mudroom and laundry with adjoining lavatory is convenient to back door and garage door. A small service porch is sheltered from the weather and indoor passage from garage to kitchen makes it easy to lug groceries in from the car on rainy days.

FAMILY ROOM — The fireplace in the family room is set in a brick wall. This room, secluded from the front of the house, provides a place for study and relaxation.

Happiness Rugs Are Good Ideas

There'll be "oh's" and "ah's" under the family tree on Christmas morning when the gift-unwrapping takes place. A gift that will delight the young fry—and that mother will appreciate, too—is one of the new Happiness Rugs manufactured by a carpeting company.

Designed to add a note of brightness to a child's room, the colorful rugs are 36 by 45 inches. They are made of all cotton plush pile which is easy to keep clean.

Another rug features the child's favorite toys. Scattered gaily upon it are dolls, balloons, a toy soldier and some capering monkeys. For a little lady's room, there is available a delicate-looking little Happiness Rug. Birds, flowers, and musical notes are woven on a lacy background.

"Now I lay me down to sleep" is the theme of another of the rugs. It shows a small boy, girl, and dog kneeling at their prayers while visions of pleasant dreams dance over their heads.

Modern gasoline has sufficient energy to propel an automobile 450 miles to the gallon if power losses by friction, wind resistance and other causes could somehow be eliminated.

ON NORTHEAST SIDE — A new Pontiac development of 60 three-bedroom ranch homes is being built. A model is open on Robinwood at North Perry, just southeast of the Madison and North Perry intersection. Lots are 50x122. Features of these Rose-Hill Company homes are tiled full bath, wardrobe closets with folding doors, gas hot water heater and oak flooring. Buyers have a choice of colors and exterior designs. Offered at $11,200, the homes are being built by Lerner and Langer Building Company. Vets may buy them with a $300 down payment on 30-year terms.

They Speak Up At Conference

Ladies List Their Views on Well-Equipped Home

The women of America have spoken on what they want in new homes. And, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, what they said can be helpful in planning up-to-date modernization projects.

The women's views were summarized in a recent housing and home finance agency report listing the results of the Women's Congress on Housing, which brought together 160 homemakers from all parts of the country. Here are some of GAMA's observations on the conclusions, and ideas as to how these can be put to work for the benefit of the home improver:

1. The top demand was for adequate space. Super-compact modern gas heating equipment can not only save space but also upgrade the areas in which it is installed.

2. Home quiet and privacy were emphasized. Here again, heating system improvements take a top role. With the right equipment, basement, porch and upstairs areas can be utilized most effectively to keep living rooms from becoming noisy and congested.

3. The convenience of a laundry-utility room adjacent to the kitchen-dining room or kitchen-family room was stressed. The home improver who can add such a room will never regret it, GAMA states, and will obtain one of the advantages featured in the best new dwellings. Extension of gas lines from the kitchen or basement is a simple matter.

4. A washroom at the kitchen entrance was recommended to eliminate the problem of having children, often muddy from outdoor play, have to pass through kitchen and dining room areas to get to the bathroom. Consider this improvement GAMA suggests, and make sure there'll be plenty of hot water to meet the added demand.

5. The majority preferred the kitchen-family room combination. Color combinations are especially important in such a heavily-used family center, and the new gas ranges and refrigerators offer a wide variety of choices. However, traditional white may be best if you think you'll want to be changing color schemes from time to time.

Prove Pigment Paint to Be Most Durable

ST. LOUIS—Pigmented coatings have record durability and a longer life span than the clear finishes made for exterior use.

* * *

Even the addition of half a pint of color in oil (oil containing a pigment) to one gallon of clear exterior finish will lengthen its life considerably.

* * *

Pigmented coatings have the ability to repel the destructive ultraviolet and infrared rays of the sun—a faculty that clear coatings lack.

* * *

Traverse rods in five colors, champagne pastel, carnation, willow, tawny beige and sandelwood, have been introduced by Stanley Judd.

Drops of rain have been measured as large as one-fourth of an inch in diameter. Their rate of fall is from 15 to 25 feet per second.

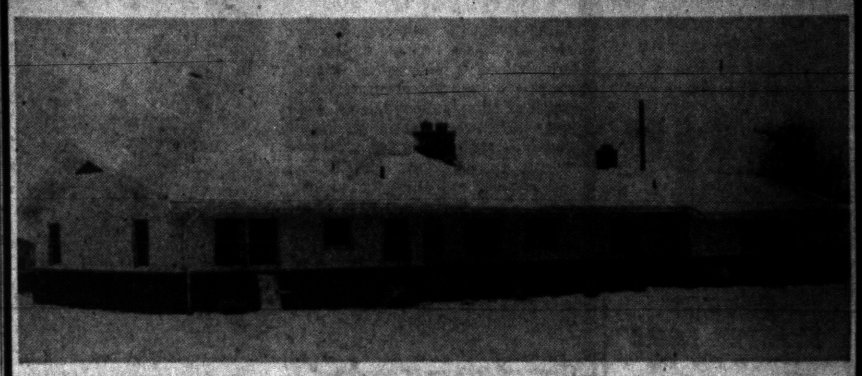

It is estimated that more than 35 per cent of all Americans either work on farms, in industries which process farm products or furnishing of goods and services to farmers.

"NEW" FLOORS FOR OLD in 1 Day!

It's true! With FABULON, the revolutionary new finish for wood floors, you can make your old floors "new," all in one day. Remove the old finish with a modern, easy-to-use sanding machine, available at low rental from your paint, hardware or lumber dealer.

Dust the sanded floors with your vacuum cleaner; then apply two coats of FABULON; no filler or sealer needed. FABULON comes ready for use—no stirring, no settling, no skinning; flows on easily with brush or roller; dries in half an hour.

Allow the last coat a few hours to harden well, and your "new" floors are ready to use . . . the entire job completed all in the same day! What's more, your FABULON-ed floors never need waxing or scrubbing! FABULON's so tough, dirt and grime won't grind in . . . stains of all kinds won't faze it. That's because FABULON is the "twin" of a finish used on the finest bowling alleys all over America. $1.98 per qt.; $6.79 gal.

Rover Need New House?

Does Rover need a new residence? Perhaps he's outgrown his abode or it is simply too old and rickety to be repairable. If the family is acquiring a new dog, the pet certainly will need a home of its own.

An attractive dog house, a welcome addition to any yard, can easily be made by the home craftsman in only a few hours.

First, decide on the size of the dog house. It'll have to be large enough for the dog, but not so large that it's not cozy. A framework of two by four lumber will make the house sturdy. A floor should be included to keep the house snug and draft-free.

An attractive and practical material with which to enclose Rover's new palace is aromatic red cedar closet lining. The wood is easy to work with and is available at most lumber yards in handy packages containing enough pieces to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area. The pieces are tongued and grooved for snug-fit and easy construction, are up to 8 feet long and are from two to four inches wide.

Aromatic red cedar is extremely durable and weather-resistant, even if it is not painted or varnished. The inside surface of the dog house, at least, should not be finished. Paint or varnish would seal-in the fragrant aroma of the cedar which has a repellent effect on small insects.

Use roofing shingles that match the roof on your own house to cover the dog house roof and seal out the weather.

Line Closet Ceiling, Too

It pays to cover the ceiling and doors when installing a cedar closet. The additional aromatic red cedar closet lining gives the closet a finished look and improves the moth protection. Weatherstripping around the edges of the door will help seal in the moth-killing fragrance of cedar.

Cleaner Still Best Way to Save Floor Covering

No matter what kind of floors you have in your home, no matter how many kinds of floors, the sure and easy way to keep them clean, free of grit, dust curls and the like, is to use the household vacuum cleaner or one or another of its convenient tools.

* * *

Dust-removal, with your vac, always whisks away damaging grit before it has even half a chance to mar the finish of hard-surface floor materials. And you have heard already, many times, that it is not good to let a carpet or rug go very long without being cleaned well with a vacuum cleaner.

Dust and dirt grind down into the base of the material and do inestimable damage. For dust and dirt, whatever floors there may be, use your vacuum cleaner thoroughly and frequently.

NEW PLASTIC GAME — Children who love to root for the underdog find it exciting to keep stray mutts a step ahead of the dogcatcher's net in a new game. The chase is made even more realistic and fascinating by a new three-dimensional playing board formed of rigid vinyl sheet. The colorful houses of a little town are pressed into the sheet and raised above the playing surface which has streets for the dogs escaping to the safety of real little doghouses. Because this plastic resists moisture, it is easy to wash away finger smudges, spilled food, crayon or pencil marks without leaving stains. The durable sheet also resists abrasion when the four dogs and dogcatchers truck are moved about the board. These moving pieces and the spinner that indicates the number of squares to move are also molded of plastic. Pooch is the name for this new child's game. Playing board, pieces, spinner and playing instructions are packaged in a window display box.

Floor Panel Proves Best Not Costliest

Testing laboratories often have proved that "best" does not necessarily mean "most costly." Their findings apply to many commodities, from appliances to autos, from clothing to building materials.

Practical tests over the years have shown that home owners can save considerable money and have excellent satisfaction by putting flexible flooring over Masonite underlayment, a hardboard that has a uniform thickness and a smooth surface that can't cause wear.

In new houses where the occupants plan on using all-over carpeting, considerable money can be saved by omitting the usual hardwood flooring and instead installing Masonite underlayment right over the rough boards.

Other savings in home construction and remodeling come through the use of hardboard panels because they are economical in first cost, installation and maintenance. Panel installations go up more quickly and save labor.

Baseboard Aids Heating

Modernization of an existing hot water heating system is easy with baseboards. Simply have a heating contractor remove old-fashioned radiators replacing them with baseboard heating units attached to the same piping connections with the boiler. The full story on baseboard heating advantages is presented in a booklet entitled "Baseboard Heating," published by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois. The price is 10 cents a copy.

Owners of many new homes are putting new screw-in type push-button circuit breakers called Mini-Breaker in their fuse boxes instead of old fuses.

Use Pie Pan Reflectors

When trimming outdoor trees for the holidays, General Electric lighting specialists suggest this easy way to combine lighting with decorating for added glamour. Fashion reflectors from individual-size aluminum foil pie pans. (Many frozen "pies" are sold in these small containers.) Make a hole in the bottom of the pan, insert the socket, and tape the reflectors to the sockets. Then, press the reflectors into the shape of stars or giant snowflakes.

If You're Building Protect All Trees With Wood Fence

Builders build houses. They don't pamper the foliage—unless you see to it. A national magazine describes steps "short of "mounting guard with a claw hammer" that you can take to save trees while your house is being built.

* * *

Build wooden fences around your select trees so that roots are not trampled and treetops not damaged. If filling in over roots is necessary, heap crushed rock and gravel around the tree, leaving 6 inches for topsoil.

* * *

Pile rocks immediately around the tree to give the trunk air space. If cuts are required, build a masonry wall to hold soil intact around the tree.

It's well known that trees not only enhance the beauty of your home and surroundings, but also add great monetary value. In many cases a good tree can add as much as $1,000 to $2,000 to the value of your property, so they're well worth saving.

Hatchway Saves Money

Recent tests show that it takes the average workman ten minutes or less to assemble and set a steel basement hatchway over the steps leading from the basement when a new home is being constructed.

When installed while the house is built, the hatchway actually pays for itself, because a direct opening to the basement cuts down man hours during construction and save labor costs.

When painting the exterior of your house, remember also to paint your steel basement hatchway so that it blends in with your over-all color scheme. Any good car enamel is recommended for these double-leaf doors which cover the steps leading from the basement.

Hardwood Flooring Started With Solomon

The idea, it seems, goes back to wise old King Solomon. At least that is the earliest recorded mention of wood floors, according to an interior designers' trade publication.

Among the historic old oak floors still in use and in good condition, the publication reports, is that of the banquet hall of Carnarvon Castle, birthplace of Britain's first Prince of Wales. The fine oak planks were installed about six centuries ago.

Decries Subdividing of Good Farmland

EAST LANSING (UP)—Will today's flight to the suburbs force the nation to tighten its belt tomorrow?

* * *

A Michigan State University soil expert thinks the answer is "yes."

"We're subdividing ourselves right out of food-producing land," said Louis A. Wolfanger, soil science and resource development researcher.

Every year, more than one million acres of good food-producing land are gobbled up by homes, highways and factories, he said.

Wolfanger lamented the fact that hilly, woody, rocky land is seldom developed as home sites, although many times it is better for that purpose than flat, valuable farmland.

Two California communities which recognized the problem zoned their county land and restricted farm land to growing food, Wolfanger said.

$15 in Stamps Stolen From Whittier School

A $15 roll of three-cent stamps were stolen yesterday by juveniles, who Pontiac police believe ransacked the Whittier School, 600 Motor St.

Police said a side window was broken and the principal's office and several classrooms searched. The stamps were in the principal's desk.

Passed the Bars

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Keeping the peace is nothing new to William K. Richey, a candidate for county attorney. The husky attorney told an audience: "I don't know how to put this politely, but when I was working my way through law school I was a bouncer at a bar."

Reds Drop Search of Berlin Traffic

BERLIN (UP)—The Russians have told the U.S. Army they are dropping their suddenly imposed demand to search Allied traffic between Berlin and West Germany.

The Army had feared the Soviets were clamping down on Allied rail and road traffic passing through their zone. Russian guards forced a 10-truck U.S. convoy to abandon its weekly run Wednesday from West Berlin to West Germany. The Russians made new demands for identification papers and the right to search the trucks for "concealed persons."

The Americans — three officers and 18 enlisted men — returned to West Berlin rather than comply. To reach the West German border the convoys must drive 110 miles down a superhighway through the Soviet zone.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Parents to Hear Youth at Three Schools Thursday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Christmas Sing program of the Lambert School PTA will be presented Thursday at 7 p.m. at the school. If weather permits, it will take place outdoors.

An open house will follow the program with refreshments being served by first grade room mothers.

The 700 students of the Williams Lake School will participate in their PTA's annual Christmas program to be given Thursday at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of Isaac E. Crary Junior High School.

With Christmas around the world as its theme, the program will be divided into two parts. Carolers and Christmas customs of foreign lands will make up the first scene. The second will show the manger with the wise men and shepherds.

Acting as narrators will be two sixth graders. community singing will close the program.

An outdoor program by the Pontiac Lake School children will take the place of the regular PTA meeting at the school. Set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, the event will be given from the school's rear porch, with parents invited to listen and watch from their cars or gathered on the school playground.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE VAN WAGONER

Following a northern Michigan honeymoon, the George Van Wagoners are living in Big Rapids. Two hundred persons attended their recent wedding in Oxford Methodist Church. The bride, the former Roselyn H. Francis, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Francis, of Oxford. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Van Wagoner of Lake Orion.

Clarkston Choirs to Unite for Service Tomorrow

CLARKSTON—The three choirs of First Methodist Church, Clarkston will open the Christmas season at the church with a Christmas Choral Service at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

* * *

The singing of over 60 voices, with instrumentalists will herald the coming of Christmas.

The program, is under the direction of the director of music of the church, William Mansfield, who will be assisted by the assistant director, Daniel Addis.

Opening with Yule music sung by the church quartet, the program will continue with the senior choir's 20 voices in "Glory to Kings," and other numbers.

The junior choir will sing "And There Were Shepherds," the new Youth Choir, with over 25 voices, will sing the traditional "What Child Is This?" and "O Come, O Come Immanuel."

Featured also will be an instrumental ensemble composed of Robert Peterson, violin, Mary Lee Eliason, viola, Mary Wignall, organ, and Ellwyn Eggert, piano, uniting in "Christmas Chimes."

Adele Thomas will be at the organ for several solo numbers, and rounding out the program will be congregation carol singing and a meditation by the pastor, William J. Richards.

Three in Riesel Case Sentenced to Prison

NEW YORK (INS)—Three men convicted of conspiracy in the acid blinding of columnist Victor Riesel have been sentenced to prison terms.

Gondolfo Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi were sentenced for participating in a plot to prevent Riesel from testifying before a rackets grand jury.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands cracked down hardest on Miranti, whom he called the "sergeant" in the underworld chain of command. The lower East Side thug received a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Leo Telvi, brother of the slain Abe Telvi who allegedly blinded Riesel, got a two year term and no fine. He had been charged with helping his brother to flee from New York State after the acid attack.

Plan Holiday Music at Green Lake Tea

GREEN LAKE—Holiday music will provide the program when the Green Lake Women's Club has its Christmas tea at the Green Lake Community House Monday at 1:30 p.m.

The vocal program on a Yule theme will be presented by Mrs. Charles Urquhart, Mrs. Jean Carpenter, and Mrs. Charles Drake.

Hostesses for the tea, which will precede the music and gift exchange, will be Mrs. Martin Lee Sr., Mrs. John Warren, Mrs. Parker Rockwell, Mrs. William Fryer, Mrs. Robert Crane and Mrs. Leslie Patterson.

Stiles Gardeners Yule Party to Be Monday

AVON TOWNSHIP — Stiles Branch of the National Women's Farm and Garden Assn. will meet at 1 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. James Cleland, 3900 Alida St.

This will be the annual Christmas party, with Mrs. Frances McCallum of Birmingham as guest of honor. "Secret Pals" will be revealed at this session.

Puddletown in Protest Against Piddletown

LONDON (INS) — Puddletown or Piddletown—home is where the heart is.

The parish council of Puddletown is threatening mass resignation today if the Dorset county council carries out a plan to rename the village Piddletown.

The villagers angrily claimed "it will always be Puddletown in our hearts."

Ask Aid Funds in Paper Sale

Goodfellows Working Main Corners Today in 4 Townships

Four townships are sites today of Goodfellow fund drives, seeking funds for Christmas gifts in all four areas and parties in two.

* * *

Old Newsboys, dodging traffic to sell papers to motorists and standing on windy corners, will be looking forward to Christmas, when their efforts will show results.

Paper sales in West Bloomfield, says Fire Chief Ben J. Moshier, will probably glean $2,-$2,000 for Yule baskets and yearlong help for destitute families.

Avon Township's sale will finance a big holiday party for youngsters on Dec. 22 at the Junior High School cafeteria. "We expect about 300 there, says Harold Dawe. Goal in that community is $2,500.

Addison Township's Goodfellow funds will go towards baskets for needy families, but if enough are gained, a children's Christmas party will be slated for Dec. 22.

Romeo Police Tally Costs of Meter Harm

ROMEO—Police department personnel launched a crackdown on parking meter vandalism in town this week, according to Chief Gordon Osgood.

* * *

Damage to more than 60 of the 159 village meters necessitated the move, Osgood said. He estimated the cost of repairs and time required to put the meters in working order at more than $200.

Osgood said that anyone arrested for damaging meters would be prosecuted. He cited three problems caused by meter vandalism. They are loss of village revenue, cost of repair, and drivers inconvenience.

Police officers say it is difficult to determine if a meter is jammed —a single blow hard enough to shatter the glass will damage the interior mechanism, they said.

Fire in El Train Kills 1, Injures 50

CHICAGO (INS)—Four separate investigations into a fire that flashed through a 50-year-old wooden elevated car killing the motorman and injuring 50 persons were underway today.

The Chicago Transit Authority blamed the motorman, 47-year-old Daniel Cullen, who died at his controls in the cab of the flaming car yesterday afternoon for the fire.

The fire apparently started as Cullen began the switch from trolley to third rail (an electrified rail alongside the tracks) as the train neared the Howard St. station in Evanston.

The 75 passengers in the burning coach and the rest of the 300 passengers in the other cars broke windows and scrambled in panic out of the train onto the elevated embankment.

Most of the injured, taken to a half dozen hospitals on the North side, were reported suffering from burns, smoke inhalation and cuts. One rider was reported suffering from a fractured arm.

A jam occurred as those seeking escape from the front car became wedged in the narrow passage between the cars and many turned back to leap through windows as flames enveloped the car.

Holly Township Crash Results in Minor Injury

One driver received a minor ankle injury in a two-car pileup on US-10 at Groveland road in Holly Township last night.

Fred B. Walsh, 43, of 1265 Bielby Rd., White Lake Township, was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital. The other vehicle involved was operated by Stanley J. Patterson, 36, of Davison.

Walsh told deputies of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department he could not avoid the accident when Patterson made a sudden stop in front of him.

Philippines Win Seat in U. N. From Czechs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Philippines won a first ballot victory yesterday over Czechoslovakia for a one-year term on the U.N. Security Council.

The vote in the 79-nation General Assembly was 51 for the Philippines, 20 for Czechoslovakia Afghanistan 1, Spain 1 and Yugoslavia 1.

The Philippines had just one vote more than the two-thirds required since only 74 affirmative votes were cast.

Pleasant Lake Group Meeting at Millar's

Start Archery Lessons Monday at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Archery instruction for beginners will start for Township area residents Monday, at the Community Activities on Williams Lake road.

* * *

Lessons will be conducted on a six week basis from 7-8 p.m. Registration can be made by calling the recreation office, OR 3-9152, or at the gymnasium the first night.

Boys and girls old enough to pull a 35 pound bow will be eligible for instruction and a separate class may be provided for them at a later time.

The annual winter archery league for adults will begin Tuesday, Jan. 8. Registrations are now being taken for league teams, announces the recreation department.

Police Graduate 6 County Men

Class of 48 Recruits Given Post Assignments as State Troopers

Six Oakland County men were among 48 recruits who graduated from State Police school yesterday under the Michigan program for increasing its overall trooper strength.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, guest speaker at the graduation, announced the 1957 legislature will be asked to add 100 officers and men to the unit increasing its total to 1,250 in an effort to continue the all-out drive for the reduction of traffic deaths in the state.

The newly-commissioned troopers were the first to join under a legislative authorization passed last spring for 168 men.

County grauates and their assigned posts are as follows: Charles R. Anderson, 2600 Corey St., Waterford Township, Battle Creek; Robert R. Craun, 170 Opdyke Rd., Avon Township, Flat Rock; Larry Keeton of Ferndale, Erie; Harry E. Mapes, 1610 Bawtree Rd., West Bloomfield Township, Flint; Norman H. Robbins, of 23041 Vassar Ave., Hazel Park, Sandusky; and Andy J. Salkovich, 23090 Oneida Dr., Oak Park, New Buffalo.

* * *

An addition to the Pontiac post will be new trooper Maurice L. Larsen, of Wallace.

In connection with the graduation, trooper Gerald F. Tafel, of the Pontiac post, was among 14 officers from the state to be presented meritorious service awards by Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

A Sausage Peddler to Appeal Decision

A Detroit sausage peddler, convicted of violating state food laws, will appeal the decision Dec. 17 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Luther McIntosh, 33, of 1741 Collingwood Ave., was freed under $400 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

McIntosh was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $100 after convicted on a charge that he sold canned sausage which had been seized as substandard by Det. Sgt. Walter A. Baerwolf and Michigan State Food Inspector James McCullon.

The sentence was suspended pending outcome of the appeal.

Farmington Woman Aids Test for Homes

FARMINGTON — Mrs. Wallace E. Burrell, of Oakland County, Michigan, has been named a member of the national Family Test Group of Town Journal magazine, Gertrude Dieken, home editor of the magazine, announced this week at Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Burrell, and her family, who live at 27634 Wellington Road, Farmington, are one of 500 families —in all sections of the country— comprising the group.

The family Test Group tests new food and homemaking products and services; contributes experiences and suggestions for articles on family living; advises the editors on homemaking problems; and reflects community opinion.

Members of the Test Group are selected by TOWN JOURNAL— which has a national readership of more than two million subscribing families—for their excellence as homemakers, and for their special interest in homemaking and family living, as well as community activities.

To Reopen Clinton High With Full Police Guard

CLINTON, Tenn. (INS)—School officials have made plans for reopening strife-torn Clinton High School Monday, with full police protection for the nine Negro students enrolled in the formerly all-white school.

The school was closed Tuesday after a white minister who escorted six Negro students to school was badly beaten by a group of white men.

Some 16 segregationists, out on bonds ranging from $1,000 to $12,-000, face arraignment on contempt charges in Knoxville Monday, for interfering with the U. S. court-ordered integration.

Salvation Army to Help Needy

Volunteers Needed to Aid Destitute at City Headquarters

The Pontiac Salvation Army will be the clearing house for Christmas baskets from all of Oakland County north of 14 Mile road, according to Senior Capt. Magnus A. Michalsen.

Volunteer workers are needed to help process the requests from needy families. All welfare and social agencies will cooperate in the program, Capt. Michalsen said: No family receives two baskets.

Volunteers may call the Salvation Army at FE 2-5122.

Capt. Michalsen stated that the baskets are not a sharing program. They are primarily for people who are destitute.

Churches, school, social agencies and individuals have been asked to check with the Salvation Army to make sure there are no duplicates and that no family is overlooked.

EXCHANGE CLUB HELPS

On Friday members of the Exchange Club will be standing on the street corners downtown ringing the familiar bells and selling the Salvation Army magazine, "The War Cry."

Requests may be made daily at the Salvation Army Citadel, 29 W. Lawrence St., 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Deadline for requests is Dec. 17.

First Rocket Blasted in Satellite Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Naval and civilian scientists blasted a Viking rocket — dubbed "the first test rocket of the earth satellite program" — 125 miles into the air early today.

The Defense Department said the rocket reached a peak velocity of 4,000 m.p.h. before plunging into the Atlantic Ocean about 180 miles from the launching base at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

* * *

Newsmen watched the huge 45-foot rocket, 13th in the Viking series, from a vantage point four miles away. One reported it "rose slowly and almost silently into the air," leaving "a glowing bright pink trail" as it picked up speed.

* * *

The department said the rocket was fired to test instruments and gather information to be used later in the launching of the earth satellite planned for the 1957-1958 International Geophysical Year. It was built for the Navy by the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore.

The IGY is a worldwide cooperative research program aimed at finding out more about the earth and the air around it.

Orion Plans Water System With New Aide

LAKE ORION—James Baynes, engineer for the Oakland County Road commission, has been hired by the village council here to lay out plans for a water system extension for Swiss Village.

The council also plans the acceptance of a plot of land from Fred Ruge which he has offered the Village as a well site.

State Warns Farmers of Check on Cattle

LANSING (AP) — Starting Jan. 1, farmers who ship cattle over state lines must prove that the animals are brucellosis-free, the State Agriculture Department said today.

The department said the new federal regulation will be a big help to the state in its campaign to wipe out brucellosis by 1960.

Will Retire on Jan. 1

Three GM Vice Presidents in Line for New Activities

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens when you've been a vice president in the world's largest corporation and you retire? What do you do next?

That's a question which three vice presidents of General Motors are wondering today. One of them, Harry W. Anderson, has his bags packed for a leisurely trip to Honolulu with his wife.

The third, Paul W. Garrett, says he's been so busy working he hasn't had a chance to think about it. All three are to be retired Jan. 1.

Actually the man who wants to go to Honolulu, Anderson, has been rumored as a possible new addition to the federal administration. He's got a lot of experience in personnel work, after heading that department for GM where he has worked since 1919.

But all of this seems to be what Anderson has put behind him. He says he is planning to head for Europe when he gets back from Honolulu in April.

Ahrens who was chief of GM's Cadillac Division has always made a hobby of charity Now he will concentrate on it—including the United Foundation, Salvation Army, heart, cancer, polio, and tuberculosis.

* * *

For Garrett, it's been a busy time with the National Automobile Show and "I just haven't given it much thought."

Remind Drivers of 1-Way Route

Extend Lawrence, Pike for Single Traffic Flow Effective Monday

The present one-way traffic flow of Pike and Lawrence streets between Cass and Perry will be extended west to Williams, effective Monday, Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer reminded motorists today. Traffic will move eastbound on Lawrence and westbound on Pike.

Since Pike (M59) is one - way westbound, the State Highway Dept. has approved the following eastbound re-routing of traffic on this state trunkline: West Huron to Cass, south thereon to Orchard Lake, east thereon to Saginaw and continue east on Auburn.

The westbound re-routing of M59 will be along Auburn, north on Perry to Huron and west thereon to final destination.

An additional change effective Monday will be the return to two-way of Lafayette street. Parking along the south side of Lafayette will be eliminated.

Ike to Confer on Atom Budget

Calls in AEC Chairman for Closed Door Talk on Nuclear Projects

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower arranged a conference today on top secret spending plans for the Atomic Energy Commission in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The President called in the AEC chairman, Lewis L. Strauss, for discussion of prospective outlay of both nuclear weapons development and the program for peacetime use of atomic energy.

After a conference yesterday, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told newsmen, "it certainly looks as though defense expenditures in the new year will be greater than the 36 billion dollars estimated for this year.

Eisenhower complained to Wilson that "leakage" of military budget figures and manpower plans to the public "is something that's got to stop."

Alluding to budget and manpower planning, Wilson said: "We got started last June, and then things began to leak."

Wilson said that when he started work on the military spending budget he did not know there was going to be trouble in the Middle East or that there would be the steel strike which occurred last summer.

Attend Yule Dinner, Leave Horses Home

The Sheriff's Posse will leave their horses at home tonight when they hold their 14th annual Christmas dinner at the Elks Temple, according to Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons.

The Sheriff's Posse is a special force of men, headed by Irons, who own their own horses. The mounted deputies are used to patrol wooded areas and are especially needed for search parties over rugged terrain.

The posse also conducts an annual horse show. The proceeds go to make up baskets for needy families, which the posse distributes at Christmas time.

Thirty-two deputies and their wives will attend the dinner.

Pick Princeton Head From School Staff

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — A quick-minded 37-year-old professor here is to be the new president of Princeton University — the third youngest in the school's 210-year history.

He is Robert F. Goheen, Indiaborn father of six, who was named yesterday to succeed Dr. Harold W. Dodds when he retires next June at age 67.

The surprise choice of the assistant classics professor from Princeton's own ranks came after a year and a half of canvassing possible presidents among the nation's outstanding educators.

Harold W. Helm, chairman of the board of trustees, said in announcing Goheen's appointment yesterday that the board was unanimous for him.

Goheen will be Princeton's youngest president since 1750 when Samuel Davies, 36, was named to head the institution. He also is only the third president who was not a minister — the others being Dodds and Woodrow Wilson.

The greatest snowfall in New York City occurred Dec. 26-27 in 1947 when there was 25.8 inches of the wet stuff in a 24-hour period.

Detroit Firm's School Design Is Exhibit Choice

A school in Millington in Michigan's thumb area designed by H. E. Beyster and Associates, architectural firm of Detroit, was chosen for national and international exhibition awards, the company has been notified.

The Beyster firm designed Pontiac's Madison Junior High School and Holly High School, both of which have won school design awards.

The Millington School won a place in the 1957 School Architectural Exhibit and simultaneously the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare selected it as part of the U. S. exhibit of school buildings at the 20th annual International Conference on Public Education opening in Geneva, Switzerland next July.

Seek Road Aid at Maple Beach in New Effort

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Maple Pointe Beach Improvement Club, Inc., more active than ever in 1956, is now in the process of carrying out a road improvement program insofar as funds will allow.

A road committee, headed by Herman Rubritius with Norman Nickerson, Mrs. Paul Gritter and Stanley Tusan as members, mapped out a plan intended to improve private streets maintained by residents in Maple Pointe Beach and Annex subdivisions.

The area lies between Mapledale road and Dodge State Park No. 5.

The committee has completed the first phase of its program, that of grading many of the streets. Next, gravel will be added to the streets designated as needing it the most: Listeria, Chenoa and Fox.

The club has about $600 in its road fund, an amount which has been raised by membership dues and by various social functions.

Card of Thanks 1

We want to thank our many friends and neighbors and Rev. Earl Fuets for the many flowers, kind deeds & cards. God bless everyone who had a kind word or thought for us-thru our sorrow for our beloved wife, daughter, mother & sister's tragic death Nov. 24th. Care Bowmon & Son Bobby; Mr. & Mrs. Henry Stamper Sr.; Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Stamper; Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Stamper; Mr. & Mrs. Henry Stamper Jr.; Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Stamper; Mr. & Mrs. Willard Stamper; Mr. & Mrs. John Petrasky, Faye, Ray & Lester Stamper.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends, neighbors and relatives for their acts of kindness and floral offerings during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, William Douglas. Special thanks to Rev. Robert VonOeyon of White Lake Church, the Farmer-Shover Funeral Home, American Forge and Sockett Co. His wife Adeline and daughter Marilyn Douglas.

In Memoriam 2

BEANE — In loving memory of Elizabeth Beane who passed away 8 yrs. ago, Nov. 28th, 1951. You are not forgotten Mother dear, Nor ever shall you be. As long as life and memory lasts, We shall remember thee. Sadly missed by Husband, Children & Grandchildren.

TEDDER — In loving memory of William V. who passed away Dec. 7, 1955. His smiling way and pleasant face, Are a pleasure to recall; He had a kindly word for each, And died beloved by all. Some day we hope to meet him, Some day, we know not when, To clasp his hand in that better land, Never to part again. Sadly missed by his Family.

IN MEMORY OF CLARA JEAN Bass who passed away Dec. 3, 1956. One year has gone but still we miss you Never shall your memory fade Loving thoughts will always linger Till in Heaven we meet again. Sadly missed by uncles and aunts; Mr. & Mrs. David Seaver and Mr. & Mrs. George Van Kuren and Cousin David.

Another Video Giveaway to Replace Shriner Show

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The Herb Shriner Show, which sank Tuesday, will be replaced by still another giveaway, "Nothing But the Truth," a Goodson-Todman quiz with Polly Bergin, Hildy Parks, John Cameron Swayze, and Dick Van Dyke on the panel.

This Tuesday, Victor Borge fills the void left by Shriner. Borge's one-man show has 200 men putting it on the air. Asked what will happen that night if he gets sick, Borge replied: "I'll go to a doctor."

We hold no brief for Godfrey, but the Rutgers prof who went snooty or publicity-conscious over the announcement the great man would lecture on "Air Power" at dear old Rutgers should realize Godfrey is about the smartest salesman of aviation to laymen there is . . .

The Julius La Rosas (she was Rory Meyer, Perry Como's secretary) expect a bambino in July . . . Julius and the former Manitowoc, Wis., beauty were wed last April.

WRONG AGE GIVEN

Leo Durocher gave Robert Alda the sort of tongue-lashing backstage after NBC-TV's "Can Do" (for speaking while Leo was shooting pool on TV) that made him unpopular with many a Giant.

Don DeFore quit the Ozzie and Harriet series again. Wants to be a star not a stooge.

Universal-International pix screamed when NBC's Matinee Theater announced "Dracula" for next week until boss Albert McCleery pointed out the ancient chiller had passed safely into the public domain two months ago. Mac will pay $50 for any usable clue to a play or novel in the public domain.

Young Cancer Victim Gets Mail Space

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A storage company today came to the aid of Irene Jaroncyk whose small home literally bulged with Christmas cards and presents.

Her parents estimated that approximately 100,000 pieces of mail and telegrams had been received since she made a wish Monday for Christmas cards, "mailed early." The 16-year-old girl has cancer. Her doctor doesn't expect her to live until Christmas.

U. S. Gives Report on '56 Surplus Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the record, the United States ended the fiscal year last June 30 with surplus of $1,625,553,403.69.

The Treasury Department announced the final figure yesterday, after taking into account belated reports of receipts and expenditures. The total was nearly 130 million dollars below that estimated last July, when the figure was put at $1,754,000,000.

America and Russia Each Take Photos

The Soviets yesterday turned down an American proposal for a joint project which originally was suggested by Soviet scientists.

The joint project had been proposed as part of the International Geophysical Year, a worldwide scientific research effort aimed at finding out more about the earth and the air around it.
