Assassin Kills President of Guatemala

Personal Guard Shoots Castillo Armas, Foe of Country's Reds

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES
GUATEMALA CITY

Anti-Communist President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala was shot and killed last night by a soldier who then killed himself.

The assassin was identified as Romeo Sanchez, a member of the presidential palace guard detail.

Vice President Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez was sworn in as president this morning and pledged to "carry on the anti-Communist fight" of Castillo Armas.

Castillo Armas, 43, overthrew the Communist-supported regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in 10 days of military revolt in June 1954.

The scrappy Guatemalan leader, an army colonel, forced out of office a government in which Communists wielded their greatest influence in the history of Central America.

There have been several plots reported against his regime, allegedly masterminded by Guatemalans living abroad. Arbenz himself is in exile in Europe.

But Castillo Armas said last November that such attempts were "of no importance" and that the country's economic and political foundations were sound.

Castillo Armas led a ragtag army of irregulars against the Arbenz forces to bring his country back from the road to Communism. He quickly purged the country of Communists, sending them into exile or putting them in jail.

He also moved against right-wing elements who he said "might try to hold back the hands of the clock of history."

Officers Give Gypsies Scenic Tour of State

The carefree Gypsy life is taking a beating in Michigan, with an assist from Oakland County.

More than 100 Gypsies in 27 trailers were ushered from county to county across southern Michigan last night. They were reluctantly on the move—their destination uncertain.

The exodus began when Lapeer County Sheriff William Porter ordered the caravan off the farm of Gerald Bond near Brown City. The sheriff said chickens had evaporated off neighboring farms and a wave of thefts developed in Imlay City.

The Gypsies had rented trailer space from Bond four days ago and had planned to hold a convention there last night. Porter ruled that Bond's farm was lacking in facilities for a trailer camp. He and his deputies escorted the tightly-herded 27 trailers to the Macomb County line on M-53.

Although Macomb County deputies denied knowledge of the caravan, Oakland County officers said the Gypsies were ushered into their territory by Macomb Officers.

Difficulties developed in Oakland County. One of the gypsy automobiles had a flat tire. Then four trailers escaped to the north before the escorting officers could call in reinforcements from Highland, Milford, White Lake and the Pontiac State Police.

The remaining 23 trailers were herded on to the Livingston County line.

Oakland County Sheriff Sgt. Paul Carpenter said he was uncertain under what law the Gypsies were being forced to move.

"We're just doing it, that's all," Carpenter said. "We don't let them light."

State Police at the Pontiac Post said their troopers were not "herding" the Gypsies.

"We're just checking to see that they are behaving," said Trooper Stanley Sitkowski.

Quads to Return After Vacation Trip to Kentucky

Oakland County will not lose its famous Rosebush quads, as reported from Kentucky yesterday.

Their father, a truck driver, has been transferred to Louisville but the family has not made any plans to move from their present home at 3043 Baldwin Rd.

Mrs. Rosebush, 41, and the quads arrived Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Miles Powell, 22, for a short vacation visit.

When contacted this morning, Mrs. Rosebush said, "We have no present intentions of moving from Michigan, and plan to return home next week."

The quads, now 6, are all doing fine and enjoying their week in Kentucky. Krystal, the smallest quad at birth, now is the heaviest. All are about the same height, but the girls outweigh the boys.

Highly Secret Rocket to Be Fired Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Atomic scientists plan to fire a highly secret rocket 90,000 feet above the Nevada wastelands today to inaugurate America's newest high altitude rocket range.

The launching will be the first from the new Tonopah Ballistics Range, which is operated by the Atomic Energy Commission's Sandia, N. M., nuclear laboratory.

The AEC said the rocket will carry no explosives or nuclear materials. It will be fired solely for research purposes.

In the top photo you are looking south from the bridge, which was opened to east and west bound Orchard Lake avenue traffic this month. The swamp south of the bridge has been drained and is being filled. The new road will run behind the Teamsters hall and the Bloomfield Inn to tie-in with the present Telegraph road. The bottom photo looks northwest from the overpass. The mile-long relocation curves west of the present road, and stretches from Rockwell avenue to James K boulevard. The project involves the construction of a bridge over the Clinton River just south of the boulevard, and is scheduled for completion in December.

Metz Man Killed in Two Car Crash

One man was dead and another critically injured in a two car collision at 14 Mile and John R. Roads at about 4:45 this morning.

Eugene R. Kowalski, 28, of Metz died in the hospital three hours after the accident.

Elmer Kobus, 35, of 7750 East Ferry St., Detroit, is not expected to live, according to Madison Heights Police, who investigated the accident.

Although there were no witnesses, police theorized that Kobus, traveling west on 14 Mile, failed to heed stop signs and drove into the path of the northbound car.

Plunge Into River

Long Trailer, Short Boat Strands Area Family

A Walled Lake couple and their two children escaped injury when their car and 48-foot trailer rolled off a ferry yesterday and sank in the St. Mary's River.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coldstock and their sons, Harry, 13, and Patrick, 9, were enroute from a Canadian vacation when the mishap occurred.

They boarded a International Transit Co. ferry at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, bound for the U. S. side. The vessel proved somewhat short for the combination car and trailer and the rear of the trailer overhung the boat's deck and was resting on the ramp.

As the boat got underway, the ramp which was not tightly secured sagged, starting the trailer rolling backwards.

Coldstock immediately leaped out and pulled his sons from the rear seat, while two deckhands grabbed the car and tried to stop it.

The trailer rolled off into 30 feet of water between the boat and the dock, while the car was half submerged. Later in the day a skin diver secured cables to the vehicles and they were raised from the river.

Curtice Called to House Quiz

Asked to Appear Before Subcommittee Probing Government Contracts

WASHINGTON (U) — Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., has been asked to appear before a House subcommittee investigating government contracts.

Rep. Hebert (D-La.), chairman of the subcommittee for special investigations of the House Armed Services Committee, wired Curtice yesterday that his group "has been advised by the Comptroller General of the United States that your company has refused access and examination of your corporation's books and records relating to government contracts currently being performed by divisions of General Motors."

Hebert made special reference to the Cadillac Division.

The chairman asked that Curtice appear before the subcommittee "to hear your company's position and policy on this subject" and related matters.

Hebert asked Curtice to advise the subcommittee by return wire on his "availability."

Milk Strike Scheduled Thursday in Detroit

DETROIT (INS)—The Michigan Milk Producers Association has scheduled a milk strike for next Thursday if Detroit dairies continue to refuse a "reasonable price" to dairy farmers.

The association is seeking $5 a hundredweight for drinking milk, a 35 cent increase over the current wholesale price. Contracts with Detroit dairies expire Wednesday.

Hundreds Vote to Endorse Him for Beck's Post

Popular Support Causes Another Candidate to Withdraw From Race

CHICAGO (U) — Jimmy Hoffa has emerged as the apparent strong man in the race to succeed Dave Beck as president of the powerful Teamsters Union.

Hoffa's growing strength in the 1½ million member union was sharply focused yesterday when some 800 cheering, shouting Teamster leaders voted unanimously to endorse the Detroit's candidacy for the $50,000 a year post.

The caucus was called by Hoffa's supporters especially to boom the 44-year-old Hoffa for Beck's job. Beck is stepping down amidst charges by a Senate Rackets Committee that he misappropriated large sums of money from the union.

Hoffa himself was acquitted by a jury July 19 of bribery and conspiracy charges brought by the same committee which said he tried to plant a spy on the committee staff.

Harold J. Gibbons, St. Louis Teamster chief, offered the resolution backing Hoffa.

"There's nothing I can do but carry on your wishes," Hoffa said later.

Enthusiasm for Hoffa led another announced candidate for the five-year post to virtually withdraw from the contest. John T. (Sandy) O'Brien, who was running hard for the nomination, emerged from a conference with Hoffa and asserted:

"Tim has 75 per cent of the vote. I will go back and tell my friends the situation."

O'Brien said that if Hoffa had as much strength as the meeting demonstrated "I have nothing else to do" but withdraw. O'Brien, of Chicago, is a fourth vice president.

Formal nomination of presidential candidates comes Sept. 30 at the Teamster convention in Miami.

At a later news conference after the meeting, Hoffa said he did not intend to take the Fifth Amendment when he makes a scheduled appearance before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa read a 2,500 word campaign policy statement to the meeting. It was adopted without dissent. The nine-point platform endorsed the AFL-CIO ethical practice code with the exception of the Fifth Amendment provision, which Hoffa opposes.

What Do Teenagers Need for Summer Recreation?

More Supervised Social Events Lead List of Suggestions

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

How do local teenagers spend their summers, especially for an evening's entertainment? Are they bored or do they keep busy and have enough recreational activities to occupy their spare time?

The following are comments from teenagers during on-the-street interviews regarding the recent series of letters in the Voice of the People about recreation for teens during the summer.

Some youths have charged recreation for them in Pontiac is practically all.

They claim they are bored and want a safe place to meet and associate with the opposite sex during the evenings.

Gary Owen, 14, of 109 Gateway Dr., agrees with one letter claiming Pontiac teenagers have nothing to do during the summer. "That's why many walk the streets as I do," he explained.

"I think there should be more dances in the summertime. They also have to be publicized more now because the kids don't spread the word as much as when they are in school."

"I wish teens would have somewhere to go, like the C&I Hall in Waterford," said Jean Fincannon, 15, of 670 Bow Lane. "I've gone to lots of dances there that were supervised."

"I've only gone to one dance at the Pontiac Boys Club because I always thought you had to know someone who belonged there. My friends usually spend most of the evenings swimming and going to parties and drive-ins."

"You always have some kids who aren't interested in participating in community-wide projects," says David Ohngren, 17, of 795 Corwin Ct.

"I have gone to several dances over at the Amvets Hall and they were very nice and reasonable for teenagers' pocketbooks. My friends and I have plenty to do," he claimed.

Sandy Arnold, 16, of 303 Going St., thinks summertime dances and activities for teens need more publicity, such as posters. "I'm satisfied with the present recreational opportunities in Pontiac for teens. If they look in the right places, kids can find many things to do that are fun, time consuming and yet, keep themselves out of trouble."

"It would be a good idea if the City Parks and Recreation Department would continue to hold teen dances in the elementary schools all year instead of just during the school months," she advised.

"Teens should provide their own recreation by getting together in their own groups during the summer," says Ann Wiltse, 19, of Lake Orion.

"I have three younger teen brothers. They certainly aren't restless. Yet, I believe teens do too much cruising in cars. In our town, a Pontiac disc jockey puts on dances weekly at a new roller rink and really draws large crowds," said Ann.

Bill Dean, 15, of 720 Clara St., agrees summers are "dull" for local teens.

"That's why every summer I spend most of my time at my uncle's home on Cass Lake. I think summer activities in Pontiac need much more publicity," he explained.

"I have never gone to any Pontiac teen night functions since I came home from the Navy," says Richard Jackson, 19, of 721 Clara St.

"Most teens like to dance. And we usually go out to Waterford or Auburn Heights to dance because we never hear of any dances going on in Pontiac," Richard said. "These complaining teens have done so much now and have had so much freedom they are probably getting tired," claims Ellen Taylor, 16, of 247 Ottawa Dr.

"About the only thing I could suggest for an improvement in teen recreation in Pontiac would be to have more dances with bands on in Pontiac," Richard said. "Instead of records. Personally, I don't like jazz and that's what most record dances have," according to Ellen.

Pontiac High Speaker
Warns His Audience
Against Conformity

"Know what you believe and live what you believe." This was the parting advice given 62 Pontiac High School summer graduates by Dr. Ted Ward, Michigan State University coordinator of teacher education in Pontiac, last night.

Dr. Ward warned the graduates against the conformist, the follower and what he described as "the pre-pectual consumer."

He urged a respect for differences and an appreciation of the interdependence of all people.

Dr. Ward was introduced by Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education. Diplomats were given out by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. Francis Staley, principal, presented the graduating class to Dr. Whitmer.

Speaking for the graduates was Dean Perko, class president, while Earl Neeb, vice president, delivered the invocation.

Music for the ceremony was provided by a June graduate, Eleanor Massenzahl, at the organ.

Urge U.S. Probe
of Union Heads

McCellan to Forward
Record of UTW Officers to Justice Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probes today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to look into the activities of the top two officials of the United Textile Workers Union.

The special Senate Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) wound up its investigation yesterday with demands by a committee member that UTW President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert resign.

The committee had heard testimony that Valente and Klenert diverted $128,405 in union funds to their own personal uses over a period of years since 1952, and that Klenert had even charged the UTW $5.50 for a milk stool, $25.20 for a corkcreeper, $2,564.65 for tickets to the Broadway stage hit "My Fair Lady" and for costly Bermuda, Florida and Maine vacations for his family.

McClellan authorized a statement that he was sending the stenographic record of the testimony to the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service for further investigation.

Klenert said he does not know whether he paid income taxes on $101,963 the committee accused him of diverting from his union's treasury. It accused Valente of using $26,442 in UTW funds.

GYPSY CARAVAN ON MOVE — This is a portion of the Gypsy caravan which sheriff's deputies and state troopers yesterday escorted to the Indiana state line, after pointing out that the climate might be more suitable in that direction. The migration started in Lapeer County when a number of vehicles and their occupants were ordered off a farm near Brown City. Officers in other areas of Southeastern Michigan started a like roundup. (Story on page 1.)

Garden City Mayor
Upset About Family

DETROIT (AP)—Still in critical condition with five bullet wounds, Garden City Mayor James Tierney says he is "worried sick" about the safety of his wife and five children.

"We have some vicious people out there in Garden City," he said. Tierney, shot in the chest, abdomen and groin at a public meeting in Garden City Thursday night, was given a better-than-even chance of living by hospital officials.

The 52-year-old Tierney underwent four hours of emergency surgery and received 12 pints of blood.

Lester Ellerhorst, 52, a prosperous Garden City contractor, was held in connection with the shooting. He refused to make a statement except when asked how he felt. He replied: "Not good."

About 50 officials and spectators saw the attack. City Atty. Russell L. Swarthout cut his hand on the sights of the assailant's .32 caliber target pistol while disarming him.

The crowd, too startled to act, stood back and watched as Ellerhorst walked from the room. He was picked up an hour later. Police Chief Arthur Nagle said he believed the shooting grew out moved across the state throughout the night. The escorting lawmen couldn't understand the Gypsy jeers, and perhaps it's just as well. From Livingston County, the group moved through Jackson and Branch counties. At the border of each county, a new set of deputies was waiting to take up escort duties.

Jackson county deputies said phrases recognizable as curses in any tongue began to flow hot and heavy around Concord, where the Gypsies wanted to camp.

Flood Blocks Road;
50 Flee Homes in New Mexico

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—Flood waters swept through the desert country of western New Mexico last night and early today as mountain cloudbursts severed U.S. 66 and trapped 1,800 cars for hours.

From 50 to 100 persons were evacuated from their homes in this uranium town as two creeks in the city charged from their banks. By midnight (MST), the waters were falling and officials said the danger appeared past.

More rains between Albuquerque and Grants brought state police warnings that the transcontinental U.S. 66 might again be closed by flooding.

Flash floods broke the highway for a time in several places in the 70 miles stretch between Albuquerque and Grants.

At Correo 29 miles west of Albuquerque a three-car collision killed one, injured seven and trapped an estimated 1,800 cars for several hours.

Cars backed up behind the wreck bumper to bumper for 4 1/2 miles on each side. They were prevented from detouring by racing floodwaters on each side of the highway.

Water from the San Mateo and San Jose creeks in Grants lapped at homes: Grants Beacon weekly editor Jim Barber said the water "didn't stay out of its banks long enough to do much damage."

He reported, as of midnight, that all evacuees had returned to their homes.

Mrs. Alvena Stronisd found the baby in front of her home after hearing it cry.

Democrats May Profit Most

School Aid Defeat to Echo
in Next Year's Election

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Political repercussions from Thursday's House vote killing a federal school aid bill are likely to echo loudly through the 1958 congressional election campaign.

But spokesmen for the Democratic and Republican congressional campaign committees disagree over how effective the vote will be as a political issue.

All House seats come up for election every two years. Democrats believe they will be able to beat some incumbent Republicans who voted to kill the bill. Their chances will be enhanced, they claim, in districts where there is a heavy Negro vote, since the bill contained an anti-segregation clause.

And since a majority of Republicans in the House voted to kill the bill while a majority of Democrats voted to save it, the Democrats think they may have a defense for any campaign plea by President Eisenhower for more Republicans in Congress.

The President has in past campaigns called for more Republicans to help him carry out his legislative program. The school bill was a major part of his program. Although the measure killed by the House was not exactly what the President wanted, it was represented as being acceptable to him. Yesterday, a White House spokesman said Eisenhower had expressed "great disappointment" at the House action.

Had a majority of Republicans not voted to kill the bill, the House would have had an opportunity to vote on a compromise measure almost word-for-word what the President wanted.

The actual vote: For killing the bill, 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats; against killing it, 77 Republicans and 126 Democrats.

Republicans generally discount the potency of the school bill vote as a political issue. Some of their political strategists believe the taxpayers aren't in favor of the legislation and consider school construction a local responsibility.

Last year's election results support their position. The House killed a similar school measure in 1956 with a majority of Republicans opposing the bill and a majority of Democrats supporting it.

The 1958 elections will be decided mainly on local issues, Republicans believe, since there is no presidential contest. In no districts now represented by GOP congressmen is federal school-aid an issue, Republicans maintain.

Democrats hope to change that situation and force the issue wherever they believe it might help the Democratic cause.

"The breakdown of the roll-call of both parties on this (school) bill is very interesting," said House Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts. "It should be interesting to the people of the country."

Beck Pleads Innocent to Larceny Charge

SEATTLE (AP)—A plea of innocent to a charge of grand larceny in the use of funds derived from the sale of a union-owned automobile, was entered in King County Superior Court yesterday by Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

Beck's brief appearance was restricted to a formal entry of the plea. He had been scheduled for arraignment next Tuesday but the date was moved up because he leaves for Florida today on union business.

Dave Beck Jr., indicted on two similar charges, will enter his plea Tuesday.

Students have been in the foreground of resistance to the Castillo Armas regime. The worst outbreak came in June, 1956, when five students were killed in a clash with police and 17 others were wounded. One policeman was shot to death and three wounded.

Castillo Armas put the country under modified martial law for 30 days. Security Chief Ismael Ortiz Orellana linked the student demonstrations with a Communist plot to overthrow the government, but student leaders denied any Red connections.

A member of the United Nations, the Organization of American States and the Organization of Central American States, Guatemala is preponderantly Indian in population. Of its approximately 3,000,000 inhabitants, some 2,000,000 are Indians.

The country is about 75 per cent illiterate and the "politically conscious" element has been estimated at only about one-quarter of a million people.

The country's area, 42,042 square miles, makes it just a little smaller than the state of Tennessee.

Guatemala's major customer is the United States which purchases some 60 per cent of its exports, largely coffee and bananas. Coffee accounts for about 80 per cent of the country's exports, and bananas 15 per cent.

Survey Cooling Systems to Obtain Water Costs

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—A "survey" of air conditioning systems in the city of Birmingham has been requested by the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority, to determine the formula for costs.

Engineer-Manager Donald C. Egbert explained that the cost of water to supply the needs of air conditioning equipment is substantially greater than water-produced for ordinary needs.

Egbert added that these conditions which re-use the water are not included in the survey. He said the report should include units installed prior to May 7, 1956, and those after that date. In conclusion, Egbert said, "upon receipt of this information, and as soon as certain problems are solved incident to the enforcement of regulations concerning the installation of those units using continuous water supply, a statement will be forwarded to your city for payment as provided for in your contract with the authority."

With one riflery tournament ending yesterday and another scheduled to run July 29 through Aug. 2, the City Rifle Range at Cranbrook and Lincoln is getting a heavy workout each morning from 9 to noon.

Golden Silence
Cost Father
Walking Horse

CONCORD, N.C. (INS)—Silence is not only golden, it's costly.

Ask John Butler, who rashly promised his 10-year-old daughter, Kitty, a horse—if she promised to keep her tongue quiet for 30 days.

The freckle-nosed youngster did just that but broke her silence when the time limit was up—at 10 o'clock last night.

Her father kept his side of the bargain, too. He bought a red and white Tennessee Walking horse with a white blaze on its nose. Kitty helped pick it out by nodding when asked if that was the one she wanted.

Butler said that he began to miss her voice a little in the final week of the month-long period of silence. He said:

"I missed it more than I realized I would. I won't mind when she talks now and if she talks too much, I'll just put cotton in my ears."

VACATION BUNGALOW—Here is the final version of the expandable cottage. The exterior is vertical redwood siding. This is exceptionally durable near lakes or wherever there are periods of high humidity.

Beat Heat and Costs in Expandable Cottage

This week the House of the Week goes on vacation—YOUR vacation!

Whether it be at the beach, or the mountains, or that favorite cool lake, design HW-58 is a vacation home you'll want to consider for the sweltering months ahead.

Besides initial economy, this vacation house can be built to grow in both space and value. Architect Herman York provides you with three choices: The basic plan for a delightful bungalow at lowest possible cost, alternate Number One for the same house with an added bedroom, and alternate Number Two for expanding the original with two bedrooms and a carport.

If desired, one or both alterations can be made long after the original construction—it is a house that grows naturally. This flexibility gives it an excellent resale value.

The basic design features an indoor-outdoor motif, with an outdoor terrace literally "growing" off a huge indoor leisure room. Only sliding glass doors separate the two. A fireplace in the leisure room and a grill on the terrace share the same chimney. A wood fence on two sides of the terrace can provide outdoor privacy if necessary.

A folding partition between the leisure room and the kitchen can be used to combine or separate these indoor areas, as desired.

The side door provides a convenient entrance for returning swimmers and other sportsmen, since it leads almost directly to the shower room. This in turn is accessible to a lavatory. Both rooms can be used privately.

Architect York has provided a spacious storage area, not only for luggage, but for sleeping when the basic plan is used without one or both of the extra bedrooms. This storage-sleeping section has a large closet, an entrance to the lavatory and another to the leisure room. A whole family, of course, can use the leisure room as a sleeping area with the use of convertible furniture.

When either of the alternate plans is used, the storage area becomes a private hall for access to the lavatory and shower room from the bedroom addition. With alternate plan Number One, a single bedroom is added to the left rear of the house directly behind the shower room. It has cross ventilation and a large closet.

With alternate plan Number Two, a second bedroom is added between the first one and the terrace. It, too, has cross ventilation and a large closet. A door from this bedroom leads to the leisure room.

The basic plan has a frontage of 42 feet and is 18 feet from front to rear for a total of 738 square feet. On a narrow lot, it can be turned so that the present side door will serve as the front door. The plans show an alternate front elevation.

Alternate plan Number One totals 936 square feet... alternate plan Number Two 1,057 square feet. A carport or garage at the left side of the house is optional with any of the three plans. Also optional, and shown in the plans, is a centrally located floor furnace so that the house can be used in the winter as well as the summer in certain sections of the country.

Architect York recommends vertical redwood siding on the exterior, with a white asphalt shingle roof. The redwood is exceptionally durable near lakes and beaches and wherever there are periods of high humidity. Natural-finished wood paneling is suggested for the interior.

Wouldn't the possibilities of this modern, economical vacation home fit that favorite retreat you've always wanted to build on to escape the summer heat?

Convector Won't Burn

Don't worry whether creeping tots can get a burn from touching a convector. They can't. The reason is this. The heating unit inside is not in contact with the cabinet enclosure. The cabinet cover stays at the same temperature as gently warmed air circulating through the unit.

House Hit by 600 Taxes

A total of 600 taxes is levied on a complete new home, according to a recent study by two New York accountants reported by Practical Builder magazine. By comparison, there are 100 taxes on an egg, 150 on a woman's hat, and 116 on a man's suit.
