Mr. Shnoo loved animals more than anything.

Shnellingham Shnoo Buys a Most Fantabulous Zoo

By LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time there was a man named Shnellingham Shnoo who loved animals more than anything in the world.

When he was a small boy he collected tropical fish and turtles and hamsters. As he grew older his collection grew to include raccoons and monkeys and snakes.

By the time he was a young man he was collecting tigers and zebras and even giraffes!

Finally, Mr. Shnoo bought a zoo. It was an old run-down place owned by a man named Crookshank.

This man did not love animals. He kept them in cages so small they hardly had room to turn around.

He gave them very little food and he did not heat their houses and he never spoke kindly to them.

Crookshank was glad to sell the zoo because he loved money as much as Mr. Shnoo loved animals.

Mr. Shnoo was so anxious to help the animals that he agreed to pay much more than the zoo was worth. It was going to take him 10 years to pay for it.

1,000 GOLD PIECES

It was arranged that he would pay 1,000 gold pieces each year. If in any year he could not pay it he would lose both the zoo and all the gold he had already paid.

Furthermore, Crookshank insisted that until the zoo was entirely paid for, he himself would continue to live there.

These were very hard terms but Mr. Shnoo was so happy to have the zoo he did not mind too much. He immediately set about improving things for the animals.

Confined to Apartment Despite Better Health

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appears well on his way back to resuming his normal duties after a week of battling a stomach disorder and serious anemia.

Despite the improvement in his condition, Pope John still was confined to his apartment and his audiences were not resumed. An audience for Lt. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, former Argentine provisional president, was cancelled.

The Pope's personal physician has returned to his home in Bologna, expressing confidence.

There are indications that the pontiff may take part in the ceremonies closing the first session of the Second Vatican Council next weekend.

The supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church made his first public appearance in a week Sunday.

He stood for four minutes at the open window of his apartment, unshielded from cold gusts sweeping St. Peter's Square, to give his usual Sunday blessing to the crowd below.

Kennedy Acts to Block Strike

Seeks Order to Stop Walkout at Lockheed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy directed the Justice Department today to seek an injunction to prevent renewal of a strike by the machinists union against the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Kennedy sent a letter to his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, telling him to seek an 80-day "cooling off" Taft-Hartley injunction.

Kennedy said the strike against Lockheed, "if permitted to recur or continue, will imperil the national safety."

The President acted after receiving the report of a three-member board of inquiry he named last Wednesday to look into the dispute.

The board said the union security issue "poses the stumbling block obstructing a negotiated settlement of this dispute."

The machinists struck various Lockheed plants for two days last week. Then sent its members back to work pending the report of the fact-finding board of inquiry.

80-DAY PERIOD

A Taft-Hartley injunction would prevent resumption of the strike for 80 days, during which the board of inquiry would continue with efforts to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

The report was one of two from Taft-Hartley emergency boards the President was to receive today.

In another development related to a major labor controversy, chiefs of the five operating unions on the nation's railroads gathered here for a huddle to determine their next legal step in fighting worker layoffs threatened by the carriers.

Of the three disputes a renewed strike by the 60,000 dock workers appears to be the most imminent.

The workers ended an earlier strike after the administration on Oct. 6 obtained an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions.

The emergency board studying this case is expected to report to the White House that there still is a tight deadlock between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, and ship-owning and stevedore firms.

Red Armies Smaller, Haven't Gone—Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today the Chinese Communists may have thinned out the advance units of their invasion armies, but they have not withdrawn them.

The Chinese reported their troops had pulled back in at least one sector in partial fulfillment of Peking's one-sided cease-fire proclamation. Indian sources reported apparent withdrawal in another sector.

Nehru, however, told Parliament there were "signs of withdrawal in the rear—in the front positions they might have been thinned out, but they have not withdrawn."

He added that "the position is rather confused and therefore it is not easy to make a precise statement."

Two members of Nehru's Cabinet vowed an eventual resumption of the battle rather than acceptance of Peking's terms. India's frontline commanders took a gingerly approach to the delicate situation.

LETTER TO PAKISTANI

3. Nehru was disclosed to have assured Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan in a letter Nov. 12 that Western weapons received by the Indian army would be used to fight the Chinese.

3rd Youngster Critically Hurt

All Were Too Young for Driver's License

Two Birmingham teen-agers were killed and a young friend was critically injured when their speeding convertible crashed into a tree in Bloomfield Township Saturday night.

Dead when they were pulled from the twisted wreckage of the car were John C. Krauss, 16, of 1800 W. Lincoln Road, and Paul H. Droege, 14, of 1590 Fairfax Drive.

Their companion, Dean Gebro, 14, of 1474 Pierce St., Birmingham, was still reported in critical condition today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

He suffered fractures of the neck, skull, jaw, arm and leg.

None of the boys, all students at Birmingham's Bartram Junior High School, was old enough to have a driver's license.

The car, which belonged to John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Krauss, was taken without the family's permission, according to Bloomfield Township police.

The car hit the tree in a field just east of East Lincoln Road, where it dead-ended at East Bradford Street.

Police believe the Krauss boy was driving.

Three tracks indicated he hit the brakes about 70 feet from the end of the road. The car skidded to the end of the street, jumped a curb and plowed through the field for 90 feet before crashing into the tree.

Residents of a nearby subdivision heard the car traveling down the road at high speed and then heard a crash. There were no witnesses.

Police said the auto apparently was traveling 60 miles per hour or more in the 25-mile an hour zone.

The boys met at the Krauss home while John's parents went out for dinner. The mishap occurred only a few blocks from the home.

John's father told police he had no idea the boys would take the car.

"I didn't even know he could drive," the stunned father told police.

The dead boys' bodies are at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Balmy Days May Fizzle With Drizzle

As the saying goes, "all good things must come to an end," so it is with the weather. Mostly cloudy skies with a chance of a little drizzle is tomorrow's prediction with a high of 54 expected, following a low of 36 tonight.

Precipitation will total .4 of an inch or less in a few showers tomorrow and again near the end of the week, when temperatures will turn cooler.

Today's winds are light and variable; they will become southerly at 5 to 15 miles an hour tonight.

Forty-one was the lowest temperature recording preceding 8 a.m. today. At 2 p.m. the thermometer read a mild 57.

Romney Undecided on Aides

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Elmer George Romney said today his plans for setting up his new administration are developing rapidly, but he has made no definite decisions on appointments.

All such designations will be "based on competence, character and capacity," he said.

In elaborating, Romney said, "in the process of taking a look (at possible appointees) I expect to weigh fully the competence, character and capacity of present incumbents."

"I do not expect to make a wholesale removal."

But, said Romney, who will become Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years when he is inaugurated Jan. 1, "I will not exclude the partisan consideration."

"Partisan identification is not a minus sign, it's not a controlling sign. But other things being equal, it's certainly a consideration."

Romney told a news conference, the first he has held since returning from a two-week post-election vacation, one of the first appointments he will make is that of state controller.

He said four men are under consideration for the post, but neither Walter de Vries nor L. William Sedman, members of his interim cabinet, who had been considered front runners for the post in first speculation, are among the candidates.

"I contemplate acting on that appointment during the week of their discussion on Cuba, but there was no word that either side had changed its position on unresolved issues."

John J. McCloy, chairman of President Kennedy's Cuban Coordinating Committee, and Ambassador Charles W. Yost represented the United States in the absence of Chief U.N. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson who was in Washington.

Romney expressed concern during the hour-long news conference over the fact "budget processes are not as far advanced as they were a year ago."

"The principal reason," he said, "is that this was an election year."

Marshals on Scene

S. Dakota Town Riled Up

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Federal Marshals meet here tonight to map strategy for their invasion of Mound City, a village where zealous town folk and farmers threaten "another Mississippi" to keep from turning over government records they have locked in a barricaded building.

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was moved this year from Mound City, the county seat with a population of less than 200, to Herried, population 633, eight miles north.

Half of the record were moved to the new ASCS building in Herried, but Mound City area folks foiled attempts to take the rest.

They locked the ASCS office and sandbagged the front. They threatened to fight if anyone comes for the records.

For years Mound City has been wary of any thought of moving the county seat. Mound City fears that if the ASCS records go to Herried, the courthouse may be the next to go.

CRITICAL SITUATION

"If they call the U.S. marshals out, someone might get his head blown off," one Mound City businessman said. A farmer said Mound City will never give up its fight to keep the ASCS office.

"The government is trying to scare us," he said. "We've been through too much to get scared."

Many people in Mound City have a financial interest in the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Dieting Days Ahead

Drop That Pizza, Bill

Behold: Here is one of America's biggest men.

But look now.

Things are going to change. This is our own Bill DeBats, foreman of The Press' composing room. He stands alongside Janet Swenson, the editor's secretary.

If Bill put on one more pound, he'd weigh exactly THREE TIMES as much as Janet. She tips the beam at a cozy 110. Bill checks in with a lolly and impressive 329.

Bill's going on a diet.

Yep, that's correct.

"I think," said he casually, "I'll knock off about 75 pounds between now and the first of August. That'll put me down to a reasonable 254 which isn't very heavy when you stop to think about it."

The big man sighed and pondered. "Dr. Ecklund told me I should level out around 200 and take a year or more. After August, I'll lose a paltry 34 pounds more so I can greet Christmas in 1963 at about 220. And what a turkey dinner I'll put away when THAT happens! I'd only weigh twice as much as Janet. Imagine, losing enough weight to construct a whole Janet."

"Then, starting the first of January, 1964, my plan is to ease back to 210 or even a skimpy, emaciated 200. People won't know me. I'll be confused with Janet. Well, here goes. Take back that triple piece of apple pie a la mode."

"I can see it now. I'll be known as 'Slim' DeBats."

"Whoopee!"

Freak Storm Still Churning Off East Coast

By The Associated Press
A severe storm that for the last week has churned in every direction off the South Atlantic Coast was centered 250 miles east of Charleston, S. C., today, packing gale winds of up to 65 miles an hour near its center.

It has cut away large chunks of beachfront in North Carolina, where seas were reported as high as 14 feet off Frying Pan Shoals early today.

The seven-day-old storm has floundered and churned in every direction. The center has remained in a circle with a radius of less than 250 miles.

No one has been injured. A ferry ran aground in North Carolina Saturday, but the only ones aboard, the crew of three, got off safely.

The storm was a "loner," cut off from the general circulation of the atmosphere. The Weather Bureau said that while cutoff low pressure systems are not new, one so strong as this was unusual for the area, since it has remained so long in such a relatively small area.

And there were no outside air currents of sufficient strength in immediate sight to cause the storm to move away.

Winds of from 25 to 45 m.p.h. extended outward 200 miles from the storm center.

The forecast was for the storm to remain nearly stationary today, with little change in size or intensity. Pictures from the Tires satellite have helped keep track of the storm.

Gale warnings were displayed from Myrtle Beach, S. C., to the Virginia Capes. Small craft warnings were in effect from Myrtle Beach to Cape Canaveral, Fla., and from the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N.J.

Draft Call Includes 30 From County

Michigan's draft call for January will affect 30 registrants in Oakland County and a total of 276 in the state, Michigan Selective Service Director Col. Arthur A. Holmes said today.

Holmes said the 12 months of 1962 saw 60,032 Michigan men registered by local boards. All men are required to be registered on their 18th birthday.

The January draft call will include only registrants of at least 22 years of age, except for volunteers who are accepted between the ages of 17 and 26.

Probe Blaze; Death Linked to Suffocation

The Pontiac fire marshal's office today was probing an early morning house fire in which a 60-year-old Pontiac man died apparently of suffocation.

The fire was reported at midnight in a 1½-story frame home at 400 Franklin Road.

Firemen found the body of James Brown, owner of the home, two rooms away from a bathroom in which the fire had apparently started.

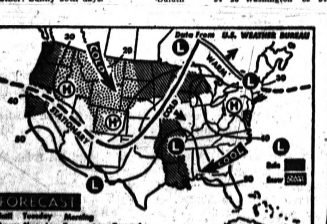

Brown was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, after failing to respond to inhalator treatment.

The fire gutted the bathroom, but firemen kept it from spreading to the rest of the house. Damage was estimated at $1,250.

52 Residents Sign Charter

Form Rochester Unit for U.N.

A total of 52 Rochester area residents yesterday signed up as charter members of a new chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN) at an open house held by an organizing committee.

Some 30 persons attended a meeting at Michigan State University Oakland to hear a talk by guest speaker Mrs. Philip Gentile, United Nations observer for the Adult Education Association, which is supported by the Ford Foundation.

Mrs. Wood M. Geist, 63309 Dequindre Road, Washington Township, said the turnout was "very heartening" and termed the meeting successful.

Mrs. Geist and Mrs. Lawrence S. Shepard, 229 Rochdale St., Avon Township, are temporary co-chairmen of the group.

An organizational meeting to establish the chapter's structure and elect officers is scheduled for Jan. 22 at MSUO.

Purpose of the group is to build an educational program to support the United Nations.

Chairman of yesterday's program, Mrs. Walter P. Reuther, said the new chapter was being formed because "each one of us is interested in doing what he can to bring peace to our time."

Mrs. Gentile urged participation in the new chapter as a means of "working with other people to build a stronger and safer world."

To be known as the Rochester Area Chapter of the AAUN, the group will draw its members from the Pontiac, Ulica and Romeo areas, as well as from Rochester.

GUESTS PRESENT

Guests at the meeting included Robert W. Peden, president of the state division of the AAUN; Dr. Robert Fretsch, vice president of the Detroit chapter and director of the Detroit Round Table of Christians and Jews; and Mrs. Warren Cooksey, president of the Detroit chapter.

Also present was Harold Chalk, president of the Oakland County chapter, whose membership is concentrated in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Township areas.

Others active in the formation of the Rochester area group are several MSUO faculty members, including Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of political science; Charles O. Hucker, professor of history; and Gerald Straka, assistant professor of history.

Rochester School Superintendent C. Baldwin, Dr. Edgar J. Geist of Rochester and Addison Township Supervisor Frank Weibel are also among the organization's sponsors.

JFK to Hear Results on India

Harriman to Discuss 2-Week Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy returned to the White House today for a rundown from W. Averell Harriman on the results of his two-week trip to India and Pakistan.

Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern Affairs, was believed preparing to give the president a rather encouraging report on his mission.

Harriman has expressed hope that a long border dispute between India and Pakistan might be on the verge of being settled and also was said to feel India has made judicious use of U.S. military aid in its border conflict with Red China.

The President arrived by helicopter at 9:30 a.m. (Pontiac time) from the first family's northern Virginia retreat near Middleburg, Va.

Kennedy asked the executive committee of the National Security Council to join him and Harriman for their 10 a.m. conference.

Harriman returned to Washington Saturday from a two-fold mission on the president's orders.

One aim was to try to determine the extent of India's military requirements in coping with the Red Chinese invasion. The other was to assure Pakistan that American aid to India would not be used in the 15-year India-Pakistan quarrel over Kashmir.

Harriman was reported to have brought back with him from New Delhi a list of requests for additional U.S. aid.

Armed Bandit Holds Up Market, Flees With $3

An armed bandit fled with $3 Saturday afternoon after handing a note demanding all the money in the cash register to Luder L. Barge, owner of Luder's Market, 2548 Elizabeth Lake Road.

LaBarge told police the robber held a gun in his right hand while thrusting the note at him with his left. He was described as in his late teens, small in stature and having blond hair.

Scout Executive Gets Jackson Post

Van R. Braidwood, an executive of the Pontiac District of Boy Scouts of America since 1954, has been named to a similar post in Jackson, No. successor has been named.

He will be given special assignments in his new post.

The Pontiac District contains about a quarter of the Clinton Valley District of Scouts.

Members of the Pontiac Boy Scouts honored Braidwood at a farewell dinner arranged for him last week.

Now he felt that his troubles would soon be over; the mo would be all his; Crookshank would be gone, and he could do even finer things for his animals.

He rushed about the zoo spreading the good news. He promised Molly, the hippopotamus, he would buy her a husband; he told Herbert and Louise, the giraffes, he would build them a grape arbor; and to Blue Lady, the parakeet, he promised a bottomless bowl of honey.

As he left the bird house he ran into Crookshank who handed him a letter.

"Come yesterday," said Crookshank. "I got you from the postman."

Mr. Shnoo looked and gasped. "Forgotten! Why didn't you give it to me sooner?"

"Forgotten," said Crookshank. "Impossible!" cried Mr. Shnoo. He stared in awe at the envelope. There, scrawled in red letters, were the words: "To Mr. Shnoo at the Zoo from Mr. S. Claus at Santa Land."

Mr. Shnoo Buys a Zoo

With strange fish from all over the world. For the birds, he built an enormous cage that was glassed in for winter. He enlarged the elephant house and built an outdoor pool for the hippopotamus.

He erected a beautiful building for the monkeys and a separate house for the snakes.

He called the zoo Shnoo's Zoo and before long people began to come from far and wide to pay to see his animals, for word spread that they were the finest and happiest animals in the land.

QUEEN COMING

Now it happened that the Queen of the land was very fond of animals.

She let it be known that in order to encourage kindness to animals she intended to visit all the zoos before Christmas and to make an award of 1,000 gold pieces to the one she found the most deserving.

When Mr. Shnoo heard this he was very excited. He felt that no finer zoo than his existed and he was sure he would win the 1,000 gold pieces.

He very much needed the gold because his last payment to Crookshank was due on Christmas eve and he had spent so much money building up the zoo that he really did not have the gold to pay.

Now he felt that his troubles would soon be over; the mo would be all his; Crookshank would be gone, and he could do even finer things for his animals.

He rushed about the zoo spreading the good news. He promised Molly, the hippopotamus, he would buy her a husband; he told Herbert and Louise, the giraffes, he would build them a grape arbor; and to Blue Lady, the parakeet, he promised a bottomless bowl of honey.

Elementary Curriculum to Include Languages

BIRMINGHAM — Foreign language instruction in the Birmingham School District, already offered to junior and senior high school students, is scheduled to be introduced in the elementary school curriculum next fall.

In a report to the Board of Education, Mrs. Louise Centre, coordinator of the elementary and secondary foreign language program, said a total of 2,925 junior and senior high students now are taking languages.

Russian is being offered for the first time this year. However, French is the most popular language in the district, which presently has 1,676 students enrolled in that course.

The languages are taught by the audio-lingual method, explained Mrs. Centre.

Students begin by listening and speaking, later read and write the language.

An "in-service workshop," third to be held this year, will take place this winter among 39 instructors who teach languages in the district.

Hugh W. McIntyre

Services for Hugh W. McIntyre, 40, of 15508 Kirkshire, will be at 10:55 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mr. McIntyre died unexpectedly yesterday at William Reuther Hospital, Royal Oak. His body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

He was a member of the American Society of Metals and president of the Men's Club at the First Presbyterian Church and a member of the Kappa Phi fraternity of Purdue University.

Surviving besides his wife Pauline are his daughter Gloria and son Richard H., both at home; his mother Mrs. Thomas McIntyre and a brother.

be used only to resist Chinese aggression.

The New China News Agency reported a withdrawal of Communist Chinese troops in the Walong area at the extreme eastern end of the 1,500-mile border line.

Walong, 15 miles west of the Burma border, fell to the Chinese in an offensive that subsequently carried them 80 miles down the Lohit River valley toward the plains of Assam.

High Indian military sources were quoted as saying Chinese troops still held positions in the Lohit Valley.

A dispatch from a Chinese correspondent in Walong said scores of peasants gave the withdrawing Chinese newly harvested sweet potatoes and bananas and "called down blessings on them."

The Chinese broadcast said nothing about withdrawals elsewhere, but authoritative Indian sources at Tezpur said the Chinese seem to have withdrawn 200 miles on the northeastern front, apparently the Bomdila area.

The area is some 300 miles west of Walong and is the scene of the greatest Chinese penetration toward the fertile populous Assam plains.

There was no word from either side on the situation in Ladakh, key area in the five-year old border contest. In rejecting important sections of Peking's peace terms, Nehru has said China's provisions would leave it in possession of 2,000 square miles of Ladakh.

The area, bleak and uninhabited, is important to China for the strategic road it has built linking its Singing Province with captive Tibet.

Too Many Sincere Nincompoops

U.S. Women Deeply Yearn for Sincerity

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK — Shortly before the elections in 1960, a nationwide survey among women was conducted in an effort to discover exactly what the female voter wanted most in a candidate.

The verdict was decisive. The asset they most admired — in president, governor or dogcatcher — was "sincerity."

Of all things I was appalled. But maybe that's because I've met so many sincere nincompoops in my time. There are also a good many sincere murderers, vandals and playboys. It seems here that sincerity is a dandy trait — certainly a step above dimples, or dancing ability — but totally meaningless by itself. Sincerity is nothing unless the sincere has something sincerely worthy of being sincere about.

POLITICS DIRTY
I chalked off the amazing survey result to the fact that (as other surveys have shown) American women tend to think of politics as "dirty," and therefore this loosely chosen adjective was their best defense against voting for a man sullied by the soot of a smoke-filled room.

However, another survey was taken recently among women — this time only young women — in search of mates.

These girls, aged 18 to 22 (and there were 500 of them, scattered round the land), were asked, "What kind of man makes a good date?"

Approximately 50 per cent of these damsels mentioned, first and most important, that ever-loving loquacious, "sincere."

They are quoted making such whimsical statements as, "To me a good date is going out with a fellow who's sincere."

Or "I like a sincere man... what I can't stand is a phony."

And, "American men are the most sincere in the whole world. You go out with an American and in 15 minutes he loves you, you're irresistible, you're everything he's ever wanted in life..."

The only conclusion to be drawn from this is that, while men over voting age think of politicians as being insincere, girls under voting age tend to think of all men as being the same.

Or, at least, to consider enough boys to be stinkers that the open-honest personality is the personally most devoutly to be cherished.

STARTLING STUFF
This is pretty startling stuff to us depression adolescents who remember the era when all boys seemed to be painfully sincere.

In those days, every family in the neighborhood had sincere kids (or so it seems in recollection).

Boys sincerely tried to kiss girls after the second date (never after 15 minutes) and girls sincerely slapped them.

After that, they went together for six months and then the boys tried to kiss the girls again, sincerely, and the girls kissed back with equal sincerity.

In those days they didn't take surveys.

Well, maybe they did, but nobody ever called on the damsels of Dayton, Ohio.

If they had, I'll bet the girls would have said what they wanted most in a date was a sense of humor, intelligence, ambition and maybe — among the older ones — a good income.

Those were the qualities that counted then, and I'm sure they count today among the young female set.

But what has gone wrong with the American male that, before a girl comes to these important qualifications for a husband, she first feels she has to clear away the dishonesty, veneer and wolfery?

SURVEY OF MEN
The answer may be found in still another survey. This time of young men, aged 15 to 25.

Asked what THEY wanted most in a girl they dated, the number one characteristic was "sex appeal." The number two asset: "Beauty."

Boy obey! If this is the thesis thinking of our current crop of eligible males, it is no wonder our girls yearn for sincerity in romance, just as their mothers seek sincerity in politicians.

Politics looks soiled to the adult set, and lovers look grimy to the young ones.

It's a sorry situation. And all we can recommend is that today's young ladies wait for marriage until the day when they are mature and wise enough to take sincerity for granted and look for deeper assets in the men they date.

That's a most sincere bit of advice, but probably wasted... nobody seems to care about sincerity from a woman!

Gay Colors Spark Tasty Root Punch

For a colorful Christmas party drink, try this recipe for spruce root punch. Since root beer is a favorite with young people, they will especially enjoy this holiday treat.

Chill, and combine at the last minute in a punch bowl, two cups of unsweetened pineapple juice, seven bottles of root beer, one-half cup of lemon juice.

Add color with candy cane ice cubes. These can be made by placing one-inch pieces of red and white striped candy cane into each compartment of two ice-cube trays. Fill the trays with very cold water and freeze quickly.

To add a bright green against the deep color of the root beer and the red and white candy cane, thinly slice one lime and float slices on top of the punch.

The measurements given in this recipe will serve 12 with a delicious, gay-colored beverage.

How to 'Do It Yourself'

LONDON (UPI) — British Railways today published a 42-page booklet titled, "Want to Run a Railway?" As its reply to incessant passenger complaints about service.

The booklet says there are forty 8:15's carrying commuters to London each morning and claims the railroad's job involves "the busiest, most complicated, hard-pressed surface railway in the world."

Cellular metal, produced by forming, is a new material with many possible uses. Various metals can be used, formed in various ways, and made to serve as building materials, filters, battery plates and cooling devices.

NOTICE OF TAXES CITY OF PONTIAC

The 1962 County taxes in the City of Pontiac will be due and payable at the office of the Pontiac City Treasurer, December 10, 1962 through January 21, 1963, without fees.

On January 22, 1963, a collection fee of 4% will be added to all County taxes paid through February 28, 1963.

On March 1, 1963, all unpaid County and 1962 City and School taxes will be returned to the Oakland County Treasurer's office and must be paid there with additional fees.

Payments made by mail must be postmarked not later than January 21, 1963 to avoid penalties.

To Wash, Pack Yule Baubles

You may hate to admit it, but eventually those Christmas decorations simply have to come down. Some women tackle this ritual promptly on Dec. 26, while others like to wait until early in the New Year.

But whatever your particular preference, be sure to set aside enough time to do the job properly.

Before packing anything away, wash it in warm soap or detergent suds and rinse.

Ornaments, wreaths, artificial greenery, Christmas balls, outdoor lights, and even manger figures will all benefit from a sudsy bath, and there will be no worrying about breakage if you use a plastic dishpan or line your sink with a thick towel.

In the case of decorations with delicate surfaces or brightly colored trimmings, play safe by merely wiping them with a damp rinse cloth.

Colorful tree sprays and stockings should be laundered separately because of possible bleeding.

Cites Evidence Leaders Talk Under Tranquilizers

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Author Eugene Burdick claimed yesterday "there was abundant evidence" the nation's leaders have been paralyzing their emotions with tranquilizers while debating the vital issue of war or peace.

"The higher you go in the pyramid of power," he said, "the surer is the indication of finding unbalanced people at the top."

Burdick, co-author of "Fall Safe" and "The Ugly American," charged that there is "an abnormally high" consumption of tranquilizers in Washington and "no one can say that these drugs help in achieving wisdom in the vital decisions made there."

The best-selling author addressed the final session of a three-day symposium on the prospects for democracy, sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Burdick did not elaborate on the use of tranquilizers but protested the growing complexity that seemingly necessitates their use.

"Those men now in power in our government are already near collapse under the tremendous weight of scientific knowledge placed upon them," he said, urging instead a return to a principle of simplicity in which "Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Khrushchev would simply say, 'Let's turn off the arms race.'"

Because of similarities between the United States and Pakistan, a study is being made of their native plants which could be useful in this country.

It Seems to Me . . .

Something's Behind Russia's Apparent Change in Attitude

What's going on in Russia?
Are the Reds worried?

Concurrently with the President's Mikoyan conference, a new feeling is arising. John F. Kennedy has now referred in public, on three occasions, to a "turning point in world administration."

When I was in New York last week, several close students of world affairs, including a few from Central and South America, expressed the belief that Khrushchev isn't as sure of himself as he was earlier in the year.

The head Red isn't nearly as belligerent and bellicose as he was. Some believe that he is disturbed over the Chinese advances in India and that he can envision an Asiatic force of tremendous power and scope. No one in his right mind will ever discount 600 million Chinese. If they were all equipped with as little as 12-gauge shotguns they'd constitute an awe-inspiring force.

Then, if these overwhelming hordes were equipped with the latest armaments from some "outside and disinterested party," the handwriting on the wall would be visible all the way to Mars.

Some people are wondering why the Russians have allowed Mao Tse-tung to make the progress he has to date. Apparently the Reds can tie his hands overnight by cutting off the oil supply — as no one else stands ready to fill this gap. Without oil, Mao would be a pretty sick Chinese laddie. Some think Russia has delayed so she can keep a finger in India and in China simultaneously. Playing both sides against the middle is one of Khrushchev's favorite devices.

Our allies are selling to Red China. Nikita knows this. And he isn't very happy about the fact or the overriding implication. Japan is even extending credit to Red China — sort of an international credit club deal.

Russia has hinted she may not press for a Berlin settlement. Furthermore, Russian diplomats are acting in a friendly way. This is counter to the past, and Khrushchev himself has lost a large part of his offensive arrogance. That lofty grandeur and sublimity are becoming restrained. And that's a record.

In fact, it arouses suspicion. No one in the U.S. will accept any Russian diplomat at face value, but their new attitude is heartening. A current military book in Russia says rather openly that she lags behind us in over-all fire power. The Soviets realize they're running second and their chances of lessening the gap are slim.

Now for the 864 question. Is this for real?
Do the Russians mean it, or is it another dodge to lull us into a false sense of security? Our lightning rods are still erected and we are discounting the sweet talk until we see what's behind it. It may mean nothing. But there's no harm in hoping.

Some close students believe things aren't going too well "at home" for the pesky Soviets. Their collective farms have failed to produce as Nikita had boastfully predicted. Also the populace is a little more uneasy. It's asking more pointed questions, and Khrushchev's glib and patent answers become less satisfying. There are heartening signs in the sky. Certainly the man with the big mouth and the big stick isn't as belligerent. When President Kennedy called that Cuban bluff, it marked an unmistakable shift.

Can better days lie ahead?
It might be so.

When President Kennedy disclosed the enormous concentration of troops, airplanes, ships and fighting personnel in connection with the Cuban blockade, Nikita must have pondered a bit in bleak silence. Here was startling and sensational action of the most impressive kind. JFK was practically speaking the Russian tongue.

The current Washington talks are significant, but they won't be conclusive until Mikoyan returns to the Kremlin and the world hears the official verdict.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter: A Federal Aviation official says in 1970 we'll fly from coast to coast in an hour and a half at 80,000 feet in the "Supersonic Transport." David Lawrence Says:

Forced Unionization Is 'Tyranny'

WASHINGTON — The Russians have a way of calling their government a "democracy." They interpret the word as meaning a system in which their government imposes anything it considers good for the people even if it "satisfies every principle of democracy with which I am familiar."

The Secretary of Labor, W. Willard Wirtz, who is a dithering, reflects President Kennedy's views. LAWRENCE now says publicly that compulsory unionization is "democracy."

He says that if two-thirds of the employees of a plant who are members of the union vote to compel the other third to join — under penalty of losing their jobs if they don't — this "satisfies every principle of democracy with which I am familiar."

He made his statement in an attempt to influence the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to bow to labor's demand for compulsory unionization.

HANDS-OFF LAW
But the Supreme Court of the United States pointed out specifically that the law enacted by Congress does not prohibit the making of individual contracts by the employer with individual employees.

Likewise, both the Wagner Act and the Taft-Hartley Act are forbidden discrimination "in regard to hire or tenure of employment in any labor organization."

Existing law really tells employers to keep their hands off the question of membership in unions. The employer has no basic obligation today to require an employee, by contract or otherwise, to join a union or lose his job.

Yet, because the law permits an employer to violate this principle when he accepts a collective-bargaining contract embodying compulsory unionization, the practice of labor unions in bludgeoning employers by strikes or threats of strikes to accept the mandate of a majority of the employees has caused a surrender by many employers.

Thus, the principle involved — interference with the rights of the individual worker — has been brazenly disregarded.

LOCKHEED HOLDOUT
If there were some kind of award given annually in recognition of the courage of an employer who stood up for the right of his own employees to decide for themselves as individuals whether they want to join a union, such a badge of merit ought this year to go to the Lockheed Company Executives.

In the present dispute all wage issues have been settled by collective bargaining with a recognized union.

The employer has merely declined to agree to an election that could bring compulsory unionization. If the nonunion men wish voluntarily to join the union they can always do so.

The Defense Department can exert pressure and threaten to withdraw defense contracts unless the company conforms to the political objectives of an administration which counts on the votes from labor unions at the polls and the benefits derived from big campaign contributions collected by the union officers.

Why does a labor union want the minority included? After all, the law provides that wage rates cannot be discriminatory and must be the same for union and non-union employees. The answer is that the labor union wants more dues money.

More and more the labor union becomes, on its own, a system of government which decides also

Composer's Story Reads Just Like Movie Script

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Santa Claus I never had any doubts about. It's guys like Irwin Bazelton that I have trouble believing in.

Yes, Virginia, there is an Irwin Bazelton. There must be, because I have just been talking with him. But what happened to him could only happen in the movies. Let me set the scene for you.

There was this struggling young composer, see, who has written this symphony. Like all struggling young composers, he keeps getting the brush-off.

Now this struggling young composer's hobby is handicapping horse races. So one day he goes to the track and parleys a few bucks into mere than a grand. This is the place where I need to go out for popcorn.

Then he takes the dough and has some of his music recorded. Then he borrows his uncle's car — I forget to mention that his uncle is a federal judge — and goes around to see an important conductor.

He plays the recording for the conductor, who is so impressed he accepts the composer's symphony for his own orchestra. Not only that; he invites the composer to be a guest conductor at his premiere performance.

REMEMBER THE PLOT?
Veteran moviegoers will recognize that plot as coming right off a Hollywood back lot. And that's why I have trouble believing in Irwin Bazelton.

His symphony, "Testimonial to a Big City," will be given its premiere performance by the National Symphony Orchestra this week with Bazelton himself on the podium.

Furthermore, the events leading up to this climactic moment were more or less as outlined in the scenario above.

If this taxes your credulity, you and I are not alone. Bazelton said he has trouble believing it, too.

He is not exactly nervous about getting his big chance, but he plans to conduct without a baton. He is afraid it might slip out of his hand and impale a piccolo player.

how much pension money shall be set aside from each worker's pay, irrespective of whether or not the sums subtracted fit his particular financial problems.

The usual argument made in favor of compulsory unionization is that the worker is benefited by the union's negotiations.

But many a worker will dispute that claim, especially when a union demand for wages is so high that the economic disturbance created compels the employer to lay off workers whom he might otherwise retain.

Today is Monday, Dec. 3, the 337th day of 1962 with 28 to follow. The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1818, Illinois entered the Union as the 21st state.

In 1833, Oberlin College, the first truly coeducational college in the United States, opened its doors.

In 1929, the Ford Motor Co. raised daily wages from $6 to $7 despite collapse of the stock market.

In 1945, the Nation learned that invention of secret U.S. documents had been found in a hollow pumpkin on the farm of Whittaker Chambers.

A thought for the day — the British statesman, Sir Winston Churchill, said: "There is no finer investment for any community than putting milk into babies."

Kilroy Is Dead

The Chicago Tribune

Wherever Americans went during World War II, Kilroy had already been there. He beat the infantry to Normandy. He scaled the Owen Stanley mountains of New Guinea. He used Stalin's private washroom at Potsdam. And after the war, when the first team of scientists went in to examine the wreckage of the B-29 bomber that exploded at Bikini, they found the familiar chalked message, "Kilroy was here!"

We'll never know for sure whether James J. Kilroy of Hattfield, Mass., who died last week at the age of 86, was the originator of the expression. But we can recognize as such in a content in 1947 and his story is plausible.

He was an inspector at a Bethlehem Steel company shipyard in Quincy, Mass., and in order to identify material that he had inspected he marked it "Kilroy was here." Equipment thus labeled wound up in all corners of the world and started the fad which proved embarrassing to the few service men named Kilroy.

One, a Sgt. Eugene Kilroy, had a tale of woe. Whenever he was challenged by an MP and gave his name, the MP would sneer, "O, a wise guy, eh?"

When he produced an I. D. card to verify his name, the MP would demand to see his dog tags, and finally . . .

MP—So your name is Kilroy!
Kilroy—That's what I've been telling you.

MP—So you're the guy who's been defacing government property! All right, wise guy, let's take a walk to the guardhouse!

Education

New York Herald Tribune

In the past position of U. S. Commissioner of Education has been one of the most important jobs in Washington. Its power has been limited, its functions cloudy, its prestige modest, its support grudging.

And yet, by all accounts, the quality of our education is a matter of grave concern in an era when scientific frontiers are being pushed back.

Education in the American system, is not primarily a Federal function. But there can be no denying the interest of the Federal government in seeing to it that this country has as sound an educational system as any in the world. And whether our present system can make such a claim when compared with the systems in other countries is a matter of controversy.

Can a strong, resourceful and respected U. S. Commissioner of Education help bring about necessary changes and improvements in our schooling? We don't know. But we do believe that President Kennedy has appointed such a commissioner in Francis Keppel, dean of the Graduate School of Education at Harvard.

Dean Keppel has done an outstanding job at Harvard. He is well aware of the difficulties, obstacles and frustrations that await him. If he did not think that there was an important job to be done in Washington, he obviously would not have accepted President Kennedy's appointment.

As he undertakes his new task, Mr. Keppel will need plenty of support. For it's entirely conceivable that he'll be stepping on some toes. At least we hope he will, for many areas of education need new leadership and ideas.

Dean Keppel may be just the man to supply both.

New Stamp Selling in a Christmas Rush

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Christmas stamp can't be printed fast enough to satisfy the demand, the Post Office Department reported today.

"It's far and away the best-selling special stamp ever issued," said James F. Kelleher, information aide to Postmaster Gen. J. Edward Day.

Kelleher said advance demand for the stamp was so great that Day ordered a record first printing of 500 million. The previous high for a special issue was 300 million for the Mercury astronaut Glenn Jr.'s space flight.

"We've already upped the Christmas order to 600 million," said Kelleher, "but now we face the possibility that we might not be able to print enough."

This is not the kind of problem the department anticipated when it announced last May that it would issue its first special Christmas stamp.

The greatest apprehension among postal officials then was that the stamp might provoke protests on grounds that it violated the principle of church-state separation.

Another fear, says Kelleher, was that it might antagonize the National Tuberculosis Association, which for years has sponsored the sale of Christmas seals as a fund-raising device.

Kelleher says the decision to issue the stamp was made by Day only after extensive inquiries indicated no widespread objection. The proposal was unanimously approved by the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, a 12-member group set up to give the postmaster general counsel on the subjects and designs of new issues.

"Oddly enough," said Kelleher, "there was more furor over the design of the stamp than over the question of whether the Christmas stamp itself should be issued."

Designed by James Crawford, a Post Office Department artist, the four-cent stamp bears traditional Christmas symbols—slender candles and an evergreen wreath with red bow.

Kelleher said the department has received no letters from religious groups protesting the stamp. Protesting letters are generally of three types. "One group dislikes the design, but maybe they'll like next year's Christmas stamp design and those who like this one will write in then to tell us they don't like that one," said Kelleher.

A second group felt the stamp was an affront to the concept of the separation of church and state.

The third group, said Kelleher, "somehow felt the stamp would carry out separation of the church and state even further."

"All we were trying to do was to come up with a stamp in response to a demand expressed to the department in hundreds of letters every year for the last 20 years or more—something to reflect the holiday atmosphere during a particular time of the year, rather than something to mark a religious observance," Kelleher said.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

The Chinese also violently rejected any mediation by Yugoslavia in the Chinese-Indian border conflict. The People's Daily accused Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic of maneuvering in Cairo "to sabotage efforts made by the Chinese government and other Asian and African countries for a peaceful settlement."

Togliatti also accused Red China and its European ally, Albania, of conducting a harmful "smear campaign" against world communism.

Looks as Though Bossa Nova May Be Here to Stay

NEW YORK (UPI) — A dance rhythm from Brazil known as the bossa nova may become the nation's biggest ballroom favorite since the early days of the twist.

It is not likely to replace the twist, hully-gully and other such tempoes where teen-agers gather, but it certainly will appeal to dancers who look with disfavor upon gymnastics.

Paul B. Winter's Sextet recently played the bossa nova at a private White House concert, and the First Lady was reported to have been elated about the new rhythm.

The bossa nova is a mixture of the samba and modern American Jazz. Unlike the often cacophonous music of the twist, the sound of bossa nova appeals to the ear as well as the feet.

The bossa nova is not a new dance in America. It first was heard in the United States about three years ago and was quite popular until the end of 1959.

Then it was forgotten until Sidney Frey, owner of a record company, heard it in Brazil and decided to revive it.

Now dozens of recordings are on the market and no end to production of albums is in sight.

The bossa nova, which means "new flair" in Portuguese, the language of Brazil, was invented by a group of young Brazilians who were experimenting with new rhythms and harmonies. It caught the fancy of the elder Brazilians and soon enjoyed national popularity.

NO ROYALTY YET

Bossa nova has no royalty, yet. Benny Goodman was hailed in his time as the king of swing, Elvis Presley became the prince of rock 'n' roll and Chubby Checker was the high priest of the twist cult. However, Joao Gilberto, a Brazilian composer and singer, is regarded as the "Father of Bossa Nova" because he made it popular.

Gilberto was present when

S. E. KNUDSEN

Will Address UF Volunteers

General Motors executive S. E. Knudsen will be the main speaker Dec. 12 when 700 Michigan United Fund volunteers gather in East Lansing for the Campaign Achievement Celebration of the Michigan United Fund.

Knudsen is general manager of the Chevrolet Division and vice president of General Motors Corp. He also is a member of the executive board of the Michigan United Fund.

Knudsen former general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, resides at 31500 Bingham Road, Bingham Farms.

The volunteers will represent every community in Michigan in the annual event, recognizing efforts of community leaders in the fund-raising campaign.

The session will be held at the Kellogg Center of Michigan State University.

Sid Frey and Show Magazine sponsored the first public bossa nova concert — at Carnegie Hall in New York on Nov. 21.

The audience did not react favorably at the beginning of the concert but within a short time it caught the rhythm of the new beat and at the end of the evening gave Gilberto an ovation.

Kathryn Murray, of the dancing schools, who with husband Arthur has seen many dances come and go, believes the bossa nova will be more than an overnight sensation.

"I think we have a real dance this time and not a dance craze," she said.

Over at rival Fred Astaire's dance studios, instructors are teaching the bossa nova as a cross between the samba and the mambo.

"The dance is still in the beginning stage," a spokesman for Astaire said. "Everyone is making up their own steps by the hundreds. We will know in a month which steps will be accepted."

SANTA'S HOLIDAY HOUSE—This year Santa will greet eager children throughout the holiday season in his "Christmas Bazaar" but in Oxford's village park. Aloha Poli, a ninth-grade student at Oxford High School, stands in front of the hut which she designed and painted for the local chamber of commerce. Her design was selected from many submitted to the chamber by high school students.

Legislature May Not Adjourn Holidays Could Prevent Gathering of Majority

LANSING (UPI) — The 1962 Michigan legislature will stay in recess until after Christmas and the holidays may prevent an adjournment altogether of the session, Republican leaders said over the weekend.

The lawmakers, prompted by fears over the Senate reapportionment case, have been in recess since July

Tea Parties Set; Protest Income Tax

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee has reached into the pages of history in its fight against the Detroit city income tax.

The committee, composed of a group of suburban Detroit communities, Saturday approved a "tea party" in the metropolitan area Dec. 16 to spark the final phases of the petition drive against the tax.

Berkley Mayor George D. Kuhn, committee chairman, said the two-hour "tea party" will take place at city and township halls and other appropriate spots on the 189th anniversary of the famed Boston Tea Party.

He said persons who have not yet signed petitions, calling for a statutory law preventing cities or other local governments from enacting income taxes without voter approval, were invited.

The hour of the tea parties was from noon to 2 p.m. At the same time, he said, they could sign petitions.

Kuhn said his committee has obtained more than 120,000 signatures and needs about 100,000 more before the call for a statutory law can be presented to the legislature.

"We have about 50,000 petitions presently in the field and we urge that they be completed, notarized and returned to the committee as soon as possible," he said.

To Head Area Drive to 'Sell' Michigan

TROY — Mayor Robert J. Huber has been named Oakland County chairman of a campaign to promote Michigan.

Huber, 40, of 1373 Key West St., is one of three chairmen appointed from the tri-county metropolitan area to lead the promotion in connection with the 1963 observance of Michigan Week.

Jervis C. Webb of Detroit was named chairman for Wayne County and Milton Maltz of Mount Clemens was selected to head the Macomb County drive.

The 10th annual Michigan Week will be held May 19-25.

SEEKS ACTING TALENT — Clarkson's Village Players will hold tryouts today through Wednesday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Clarkson Depot to find cast members for their February presentation of "Born Yesterday."

LONGTIME GOODFELLOWS — These three Pontiac Township firemen will sell The Pontiac Press along with other firemen and members of Metropolitan Club, Spirit No. 60, beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday. Charter members of the fire department, they have been

12 From County to Exhibit

Livestock Show Opens

More than 350 4-H'ers from 33 Michigan counties including 12 from Oakland County, are expected to participate in this year's Detroit Junior Livestock Show, which opened today at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Detroit.

Many 4-H'ers throughout the state look forward to the show, now in its 33rd year, and put months of hard work into preparing their animals for exhibition and competition.

Lambs, hogs and steers will be arriving today and tomorrow. All carcass livestock entries were to be submitted today. Live evaluation of carcass entries is set for 7 tonight.

All other livestock is scheduled to arrive tomorrow morning.

Judging of the lambs, hogs and steers will begin Wednesday morning. In the afternoon beef, lamb and hog carcass evaluation will be conducted at Detroit Packing Co. plants.

The four-day show will come to a close at 12:30 p.m. Thursday with the sale of hogs, lambs and steers.

Sale of the grand and reserve grand champions will be followed by the selling of other animals.

Approximately one-third of the high placing steers from each class will be sold individually.

Exhibitors are allowed to compete in only one class of livestock. Entrants must have kept complete records on their project animals.

The Detroit Junior Livestock Society is sponsoring the show jointly with the 4-H Club department of Michigan State University.

The society will present over $2,000 in prizes as well as showmanship trophies and a four-year scholarship to MSU to the competing youngsters.

WALLED LAKE — The Wall Lake School District has received approval from the State Department of Public Instruction to borrow $150,000 against anticipated state aid.

Utica Teamster Still Tries for Spot on Union's Ballot

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamster Melvin Angel of Utica still hopes to get a spot on the ballot of Teamsters Union 299 in the Dec. 6-8 elections.

Angel said Saturday he would appeal the rejection of his candidacy as president of the local union. Teamsters President James Hoffa, Angel's candidacy was rejected by local Vice President Frank E. Fitzsimmons Nov. 4 at a meeting of the local's executive board.

The board said Angel's nomination lacked a qualified second.

Angel, 37, of 47555 Jeffrey St., charged that he had been illegally disqualified and filed a protest with the executive board.

The board met for four hours Saturday and rejected the protest. Angel said he planned to carry his appeal to the Michigan Joint Teamster Council or the international president.

"The trouble is," he lamented, "that no matter where I go, Mr. Hoffa is president."

The executive board is made up of Fitzsimmons, Hoffa, Secretary-Treasurer Roland McMaster, Recording Secretary David Johnson and George Shelp and Sam Calhoun, who are trustees.

Angel said Hoffa told him the board's decision was unanimous. "I still consider myself a candidate," Angel said. "I am trying to bring democratic practices to the local but it's a hard thing."

If Angel does not run, Hoffa and his slate will be opposed by only two local candidates for the control of Local 299. They were Ira D. Cooke Jr., a Dearborn driver, and Charles (Chuck) O'Brien, a business agent who has been regarded as a member of the Hoffa camp in the past.

Mystery Fire Levels Three Vacant Barns

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed three vacant barns early yesterday morning at Cuthbert and Crosby Lake roads.

Springfield Township Fire Chief Charles Hillman said one of the old frame structures already was leveled by flames when his department arrived about 2 a.m.

Firemen were unable to save the other buildings, but they kept flames from spreading to other parts of the unused farm. There is no home on the property.

Group to Dance in 'Nutcracker'

Flint Civic Ballet Sets Show in Farmington

FARMINGTON — The Flint Civic Ballet will stage a free performance of the "Nutcracker Suite" here Sunday under the sponsorship of the Children's Ballet Theater of Oakland County.

The Tchaikovsky ballet, directed by Jeanne Hinoe, will be presented at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Farmington Junior High School, 33000 Thomas St.

The Flint ballet company's Douglas Niles and Eva Marie Sage are cast in the leading roles. The performance is being presented as part of the county's Children's Ballet Theater December seminar meeting.

The newly formed children's ballet group, which will have openings for students 10 to 15 years old, was organized to provide a local outlet for talented children in classic and contemporary ballet.

To Discuss Attempt to Recall 4 on Avondale School Board

The move now in progress to recall four officers of the Avondale School Board will be the main topic of discussion at a public meeting tomorrow.

The "Defenders," a citizen's group opposing the recall, will sponsor the meeting, to be conducted at 8 p.m. in the Community Building, 2177 Auburn Ave.

Speakers will discuss the present Avondale situation as well as trace the history of the present board and the school system.

Curriculum, accreditation, renovation and building programs and recall procedures will also be aired.

Those attending will be introduced to the present board members.

A question and answer period will be conducted after completion of the speeches.

The "Defenders" are opposed to the activities of another citizens' group, the Avondale School District Improvement Association, which is currently attempting to recall the four board officers.

The four are Floyd L. Cobb Jr., president; David W. Hackett, vice president; Raymond N. Baker, secretary; and Mrs. Genevieve Porter, treasurer.

The ASDIA has charged that the four forced former School Superintendent LeRoy R. Watt to resign and that they are insufficiently dedicated to their school board duties.

The board has said in rebuttal that the ASDIA had a "deal" with Watt.

Each group has charged the other with misrepresentation and dis-

Southfield Reappraisal

Land Valuation Increased $15.5 Million in Review

SOUTHFIELD — An almost completed report on the reappraisal of land values in Southfield, submitted Saturday to the City Council and its assessing department by a Cleveland firm, showed an increase of $15.5 million.

Representatives of Clemenshaw Co. presented their findings at a special meeting in the city hall.

The firm was hired about a year ago by the council on the recommendation of Mayor S. James Clarkson, who attested that assessment figures on land values at that time were below par for taxation purposes.

The study covered the entire city including vacant lots as well as improved property.

While the study was submitted to the council, its members have no voice in assessing land values. According to state law the city assessor determines all land assessment.

The mayor has been in odds for the past year with City Assessor Gerald C. Eastlick and tried to fire him as "incompetent."

The council vetoed the attempted ouster action, however, and Eastlick is still on the job.

Check Turkey, Buyers Urged

State Says Shoppers Cheated on Weight

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department has issued an early warning to housewives thinking ahead of buying their Christmas turkeys.

Some of the shoppers probably were cheated by below-advertised weights on their Thanksgiving turkeys, said the department's foods and standards division.

The purchaser of poultry, or any other commodity sold by weight is entitled to 16 ounces to a pound. There is no allowance for shrinkage, packaging or wrapping materials, the department advised.

Michigan law also requires the advertising of true net weight on the package, plus the name and address of the packer.

The poultry also should carry a designation showing whether it is Grade A, B or C. This means a government inspector has passed the bird and certified it for grade.

Housewives were urged to check the weight of the bird on scales, check out other specifications and report any violations to the agriculture department.

Fire Destroys Toys at Hudson's Store

SOUTHFIELD — A fire in the toy department of the J. L. Hudson Co.'s Northland store was brought quickly under control yesterday afternoon after destroying a 20-by-20-foot section of the department.

The blaze also burned through a wall leading to a stock room, ruining all the toys on both sides of the wall.

Southfield firemen said they believe the fire started from faulty wiring to which Christmas lights were attached. They were assisted by two fire fighting units from Detroit.

No estimate of damage was immediately available. The blaze was discovered shortly after 1 p.m. by a maintenance man in the building.

Clarkston Jaycees Pick 3 Junior Miss Judges

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce has selected three judges for Saturday's Junior Miss Pageant at Clarkston High School.

Judging the 16 contestants will be Mrs. Virginia Loveland, women's division secretary, Pontiac Area United Fund; John D. Karago, public relations director, Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; and attorney William P. Whitfield.

JUDITH ANN FRENCH

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. French of 2735 Christian Hills Drive, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Ann to Woodward S. Smith, son of Dr. and Mrs. Woodward C. Smith of Mount Pleasant. The couple plan a summer wedding.

Expect Red-U.S. Clash on U.N. Funds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Soviet-U.S. clash is in prospect over a resolution to make all U.N. members legally responsible for sharing the cost of the U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East.

The resolution, sponsored by the United States and nine other countries, proposes acceptance of the World Court's July 20 advisory opinion that costs of the peace-keeping forces constitute "expenses of the organization" which the U.N. charter says "shall be borne by the members as apportioned" by the General Assembly.

SEEK SUGGESTIONS

A companion proposal, sponsored by the United States and eight other countries, calls for a 15-member working group to give the assembly suggestions by next April 1 on methods of financing similar costly U.N. peace-keeping operations in the future.

Brig. J. H. Price of Canada was to introduce both resolutions this afternoon in the assembly's 110-nation budgetary committee.

Soviet delegates said privately the Soviet Union would vote against accepting the court opinion and would never pay any part of the Congo or Middle East expenses no matter how the assembly voted.

Arab delegates said they could not vote to accept the court opinion because they refuse to help pay for the Middle East force. Latin-American delegates have been drawing up a proposal to amend the second resolution. The Latin Americans want the cost of peace-keeping operations assessed do of the regular budget.

Separately from the yearly U.N. budget, and they want the percentage of the annual U.N. budget permanent members of the Security Council—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and extra contribution has been on a voluntary basis.

Sponsors of the two resolutions were reported confident that at least the one accepting the court's option would get the two-thirds amendment.

A key question was how many countries that do not pay any peace-keeping costs would vote to make themselves legally responsible to pay. Fifty have never paid for the Congo operation, and 26 have never paid for the Middle East operation.

Expect Lab Report on Body Remnants

IONIA (AP)—A laboratory report from Lansing was awaited today in the case of a decomposed body found near the outskirts of Ionia Saturday.

A rabbit hunter, Dale Shattuck, 22, of Ionia, found the skull and other bones while hunting. A change purse and a single-shot 22-caliber rifle lay near the body.

Ionia County Sheriff Peter Vanvleck said he believed the body was that of Norton Bloomer, 51, an Ionia taxi driver missing since Dec. 10, 1956.

The largest piece of fused silica ever made (22 x 11 inches) will be used as a telescope mirror at the Naval Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz.

2nd Trial Faces Young Slayer

Summon Prospective Jurors in Texas

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI) — John Mack Herring, 18, a former Odessa, Tex., schoolboy who killed his 17-year-old sweetheart goodby, then shot her to death, starts his second murder trial today.

A special 300-man venire of prospective jurors has been summoned for the change of venue trial.

Herring's chief defense counsel, John Burnett, indicated he would file motions to dismiss the trial because a jury at Kermit, Tex., ruled last February Herring was insane at the time he killed Elizabeth Jean Williams.

Dist. Atty. Dan Sullivan denied that Herring is being placed in double jeopardy and said he would base his case on premeditated murder. The prosecution has subpoenaed 17 witnesses, 16 of whom testified at the Kermit trial. The defense has not yet called its witnesses.

Jury selection was expected to take several days.

At the Kermit trial in February, Herring testified he killed the pretty schoolgirl in March of 1961 at her own request. Herring said he and the girl chatted happily en route to a stockpond near Nothwest, Tex. where she died.

On the day of his arrest he talked freely about the killing. "On the way out there we talked about her friends. She was cheerful and chatted about how happy she was going to be. She wasn't sad. She was happy. We talked about all sorts of things. She kept saying what it was going to be like in heaven," Herring told officers.

The eight-man, four-woman jury at Kermit ruled that Herring was insane at the time of the shotgun killing but did not rule on his sanity at the time of the trial. The Texas Supreme Court overruled the verdict on grounds that Herring's sanity at the time of the trial should have been determined.

CAB to Ask Door Change After Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) will recommend modification of the doors on twin-engine Convals similar to the one from which a stewardess fell to her death Oct. 19.

The CAB has not yet issued a formal report on the tragedy, which occurred aboard an Allegheny Airlines plane approaching Windsor Locks, Conn. The Stewardess, Francine de Moriére, was sucked out of the aircraft when the rear door blew open at 1,500 feet.

Reliable sources outside the CAB said that as far back as 1957, Convair advised airlines using this model that the rear loading doors had an inadequate locking device. It recommended installation of a special "kit" to correct the deficiency.

The recommendation was not made mandatory by the old Civil Aeronautics Administration, predecessor of the present Federal Aviation Agency.

The Allegheny Convair from which Miss De Moriére fell was owned at the time by another airline which, because it was about to sell the plane, did not order the special kit.

Allegheny bought this particular Convair but did not know about the door modification and never installed it.

The Ranger spacecraft is 8 1/2 feet high.

Christmas Card History Is Long and Romantic

Christmas cards have had a romantic history from the first known woodcut holiday greeting, printed in 1450 to the photographic cards of today.

There are designs to satisfy anyone's taste — floral motifs, Santa Claus, Currier and Ives scenes, and the most personal kind of all, with photographs of the family.

The earliest "holiday greeting" on record is a New Year's card, printed about 1450 in the Rhine Valley of Germany.

It showed the Christ Child standing in the bow of an ancient galley manned by angels.

The inscription read, "Here

I come from Alexandria and bring many good years to give generously."

"I will give them for almost no money and have only God's love for my reward."

INTRODUCED IN 1843

The very first Christmas card was introduced in 1843 by Sir Henry Cole, director of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

Its center panel showed a family celebrating the conviviality of the season around a festive board.

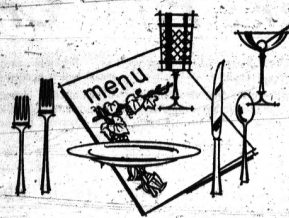

The panel was frowned upon by the Puritans. But side panels showed the charitable acts of feeding and clothing the poor.

This helped save the Puritans' objections, and by 1860 sending Christmas cards was an established custom in England.

CROSSED ATLANTIC
Christmas cards crossed the Atlantic in 1875 when Louis Prang, a penniless German immigrant who later became known as the "Father of the American Christmas Card," issued the first line of American cards.

During the early 1900s the sentiment of the card became dominant and the illustration incidental, until after World War I, when color reproduction improved.

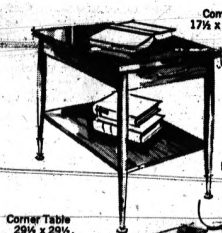

Nowadays, Christmas cards have evolved into a well-established custom. For what better way to keep friends informed of the latest family news than through photographic cards or messages written on holiday greetings.

Expected to Serve One More Year

'Adenauer Era' Near End in W. Germany?

BONN (UPI) — West Germany may be nearing the end of its "Adenauer era."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who will be 87 in January, is facing demands from his own Christian Democratic Party that he name his successor, and it is unlikely that he will remain in office for much more than another year.

Adenauer begins his 14th year of chancellorship this month. Germany's first and only chancellor since the first postwar West German government was formed in 1949, Adenauer's leadership has outlasted Adolf Hitler's Third Reich, which lasted just over 12 years.

During these years Adenauer has given Germany new political stability and helped make it one of the world's richest nations. Above all, Adenauer has earned recognition of the federal republic as a leading member of the free world community of nations.

POPULARITY SLIPS

The chancellor's popularity two years ago was incredible despite his age. But then it began to slip. Many Germans would have liked Adenauer to assume the position of president. The chancellor first said he would run for the job but then changed his mind because he would no longer be able to steer German policy in a time of cold war tension.

The general elections in September last year marked what Adenauer's friends and enemies alike called the "beginning of the end."

Adenauer and his Christian Democratic Party (CDU) lost their absolute majority in Parliament and the chancellor was forced — at a price — to accept the middle-of-the-road Free Democrats (FDP) into a coalition.

The political partnership between the two parties began badly and gradually worsened. Adenauer himself had to agree to retire by the fall of 1963 to make way for a younger man. The FDP reportedly makes it clear it will hold him to this promise.

Although "Der Alte" (the old man) is still full of vigor and political fire, his retirement pledge is giving Germany what Germans call a "Regierung auf Zeit," or a "marking time government."

Adenauer remains remarkably healthy for a man of his age. His close aides say he does need his customary after-lunch nap, however.

There have also been unconfirmed reports in the German and foreign press that Adenauer has an occasional lapse due to exhaustion if he is forced to miss his siesta.

Adenauer's wit is as sharp as ever. He knows full well that his new foreign minister, Gerhard Schröder, has some very concrete ideas of his own.

Asked recently about German foreign policy, Adenauer promptly retorted, "whose policy do you mean, mine or Mr. Schröder's?"

This remark had more than humorous significance. Not long ago Adenauer would never have admitted that one of his ministers might have other ideas about policy. In fact it would have been extremely unlikely that there was such a minister.

ONE-MAN SHOW

Adenauer has never hidden the fact that this is a one-man leadership. When he received a letter from President Kennedy not long ago an aide asked him if a copy should be sent to the foreign minister.

"Oh no, this is a private letter for me," Adenauer said, folding it up and putting it in his inside jacket pocket.

The general public is only too ready to acknowledge the chancellor's achievements. "People who vote Socialist are quick to agree that they have Adenauer to thank for Germany's position today."

"But the man is 86," most everyone says with an expressive shrug.

Some members of Adenauer's party feel that he should continue as chancellor as long as he is able. They are rapidly becoming a minority, however.

Just what Adenauer himself thinks about his age is unknown. There is no one who would dare ask him outright.

His closest friend, banker Robert Pierfranceschi, once told Adenauer the joke about one of the chancellor's 23 grandchildren asking him, "Grandad, can I be chancellor when I'm grown up?"

Mrs. Nixon Defied Pain to Campaign

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Patricia Nixon campaigned for her husband, Richard M. Nixon, while suffering from three cracked ribs, an informed source has revealed.

He said Mrs. Nixon kept the injury secret, although she was in intense pain for days, "because she didn't want pity."

Mrs. Nixon received the injury in early October when she slipped on a bathroom floor in a San Francisco hotel.

Since Nixon lost to Gov. Edmund G. Brown in the Nov. 6 election, she has been in virtual seclusion at her home. She and her daughters, Tricia and Julie, joined the former vice president in Bermuda for Thanksgiving but returned soon afterward. Nixon is still vacationing in the Florida Keys.

Adenauer replied, "Don't be silly, we can't have two chancellors."

Pierfranceschi, who died earlier this year, refused to comment on Adenauer's reaction.

The "Dea Spiegel" news magazine affair contributed to but was not the sole reason for the split between Adenauer and the FDP.

Adenauer's CDU and the FDP were never happy together in their one-year coalition for several reasons.

Some of the basic differences between the two parties affect Germany's foreign and domestic policies.

The FDP always showed its dislike of Adenauer's policy toward the East bloc nations. It felt the government should make better use of its existing contacts with several Communist nations, particularly Poland and Czechoslovakia, and try to establish diplomatic relations with these nations.

The FDP also strongly opposes any backdown towards trades union wage increase demands.

Fireworks Explode, Cyclist Is Killed

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Police reported the city's first fireworks victim of the Yuletide season, Sunday.

They said Antonio Maffei, 16, was cruising along on his motorcycle with a big load of fireworks — illegal in Naples — when he missed a curve and crashed into a car. He died in the explosion of his cargo. The two car occupants were slightly hurt.

Reward Offered to Crew Spotting Missing Nina II

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Wynn Oil Co. of suburban Azusa said Sunday it will pay a $1,000 reward to the crew of a Navy plane which spotted the missing Nina II sailing ship Friday.

The ship, a reproduction of one of Christopher Columbus' fleet, had been missing for two weeks on its voyage from Spain to the Bahamas, duplicating Columbus' voyage of discovery in 1492.

Carl E. Wynn, president of the oil firm, offered the reward last Wednesday.

Auto Fumes Kill 2 in Italy; 3 Survive

MAZZINI, Italy (AP) — Five persons out for a drive parked their car to chat and left the motor running.

Exhaust fumes overcame them all Saturday night. By the time passers-by in this north Italian town investigated, Bruno Lorenz, 22, and his brother Mario, 23, were dead.

The others, two men and a woman, were hospitalized in serious condition.

Those International Pen Pals Start Writing Again

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The 11 in seemed ripe for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to write another secret letter to President Kennedy. Worriedly licking the ballpoint of one of those pens that Dick Nixon passed out in Moscow, he began:

Dear Mr. President, my wife

Nina knows English, and since I have not been sleeping so good lately, she has been reading me some of those new American bed in a stories like "Fall - Safe" and "Seven Days in May." Now I am sleeping worse than ever.

Several things bother me that I do not wish the comrades to know about. For one thing, where is that phone that is supposed to connect me direct to you at the White House?

I must have mislaid mine. Second, just where is this fall-safe line that we ought to be watching?

Aid by the way, how do we hook up that touch-button phone to the war room where your generals can tell me how to shoot down American planes before reaching Moscow?

Please be assured that I will not publicize your reply.

JFK REPLIES

The President responded as follows: Dear Mr. Chairman, let me say first that I am relatively certain that Mrs. Khrushchev is as conversant with English as my wife Jackie is with French, Italian and Spanish.

I do not, therefore, question her translation, but I would like to make crystal clear that the books alluded to are not authoritative.

In fact, they are meant only to be a story, and in order to avoid any misunderstanding of the word "story," Jackie told me that this translator "histoire" in French, "racconto" in Italian and "cuento" in Spanish.

Unfortunately she does not know

Russian. I hope this answers your questions.

Apparently it did not, for by return courier JFK received a stinging rejoinder. Waving aside the formalities, it began: How dare you tell me a story?

How can I believe anything you promise about calling off a Cuban attack if you tell me stories? Lie! Lie! A pack of lies! And to think I took the missiles away from that madman Castro (or at least most of them, ha, ha!).

I am sure Stalin took our end of the phone with him when he did us the favor to leave this earth. Should we reinstall it?

DISTURBED JFK
Disturbed by the tone of the letter, President Kennedy summoned governmental press secretaries and told them hereafter to withhold all news that could prompt any more newsmen to write novels about Soviet-American relations. Then he called Khrushchev as follows:

I have noted what you say about a direct telephone line between us. Now let me make a judgment about that.

As long as your puppet in Cuba refuses to permit the inspection that you yourself promised, I would say that we have very little to say to each other, by telephone or otherwise.

A "story" is not the same as a "lie," and Jackie assures me that her translation was perfectly lucid on that point.

She says that "lie" translates "menture," "buglarido" and "embustero" in the languages previously referred to.

I do not mean anything personal by that word, but I would just say this: When are we going to get on the spot-inspection of those missile sites?

KREMLIN CAJOLERY
Khrushchev, painfully recalling the last time that Kennedy backed him into a corner over Cuba, thought it wise to switch to cajolery.

"Your excellency," he wrote with a flourish, "that hilarious fellow Mikoyan has - how you say - split my sides by sending me your new record called "The First Family."

Some unsavory jesters insisted that it is only an imitation, but they can't fool Nikita. I would know your voice anywhere, and also Jackie's wispily lip.

Like father like son is smart businessman, and I congratulate you on figuring how to sell a million records without using your own name. Ha ha.

I have one small favor to request. Inasmuch as I sent America the "Swan Lake" ballet, could you send me a rubber swan for my bath? It is nice to have things in common, even if it's a private telephone line. Expectantly yours, Nikita.

P.S. What is a panic button?

Waitress Set Straight on a Crooked Patron

MIAMI (UPI) — "Hey, mister, you dropped your change," the waitress shouted when she saw several dollar bills flutter by a man in Duke Manse's restaurant Saturday night.

Another employee stopped the waitress before she pursued the patron further, and pointed out that the bill dropper had just fielded up the cashier.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Clean Mouth, Teeth Keeps Breath Fresh

Q — Except for seeing my dentist twice a year and brushing my teeth daily, what can I do to eliminate halitosis?

A — Bad breath may be caused by decaying tissue, mucus or food particles in the mouth, nose, nasal sinuses or lungs. Constipation has been overrated as a cause of halitosis.

Eating onions, drinking alcoholic beverages and smoking may aggravate the condition.

In some persons the cause is hard to find.

Sometimes all BRANDSTADT that is necessary is to take a few deep breaths to clear out the stale air in the deeper air sacs in the lungs.

BRUSHING NOT ENOUGH
Brushing your teeth daily is not enough. You should brush after every meal if possible. Despite the advertisements for various toothpastes, brushing alone will not remove all the food particles from between your teeth.

These are the most likely source of the trouble.

Some dentists recommend using what amounts to a rubber toothpick such as may be found attached to the handle of some of the better toothbrushes.

Others advise dental floss, but unless your dentist has instructed you in how to use it without injuring your gums, you had better not use it.

The gums are easily bruised and whenever you bruise them there will be some dead tissue at the site of the injury.

This in itself can be a cause of halitosis.

GUM MAY HELP
Chewing gum after meals may help to clean your teeth when you are unable to brush them.

The gum does not have to contain chlorophyll.

If your tongue is coated, grasp the tip of it with a clean handkerchief and brush the back of it with a toothbrush.

Mouthwashes often do not remove the cause.

Q — I am a housewife. Ten months ago I mixed some cleanser in my shampoo by mistake.

The cleanser contains benzoin. Since that time I have lost almost half of my hair. Could the cleanser have caused it? What should I do?

A — Although the causes of thinning hair in women are not known for sure some skin specialists believe that the regular use of shampoos that contain modern detergents may aggravate the condition.

This could not be a factor in your case unless the shampoo you use regularly contains detergent.

A single exposure to a cleansing fluid even if it contained detergent could not be the cause.

Thinning of the hair in women is more diffuse than that seen in men, so no bald spot will form unless the patchy loss of hair known as alopecia areata develops.

This is an entirely different disease.

There will always be enough hair on your head so that, with proper hair styling, the thinning will not be noticeable.

You should shampoo with castile or tincture of green soap and use a drier rather than rubbing briskly with a towel.

In setting your hair, avoid using the brush-type rollers that have become so popular, because they may cause hairs to break off and also they may injure the scalp.

'Admits Killing' Her Daughter

Ski Instructor's Wife Near Death in West

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — A 37-year-old woman who admitted to police she killed her daughter last yesterday was reported in critical condition and near death today with multiple stab wounds that apparently were self-inflicted.

Mrs. Erna Geba, wife of ski instructor Bruno Geba, underwent surgery last night at Bataan Memorial Hospital, where she was rushed with stab wounds in her neck, stomach and wrists.

Officers said the girl was nearly decapitated with a military-type saber.

FINDS BODY
Gebas, recently appointed ski instructor at La Madra ski area east of here, returned home shortly after 6 p.m. for a birthday celebration for his daughter, police said.

He found his daughter's body in the blood-splattered basement of their home and his wife in the bathroom, bleeding profusely from what investigation officers said were self-inflicted stab wounds.

Geba, a former ski instructor for the shah of Iran and an expert on dead and physical conditioning, said he had no idea of what had happened or what had caused it.

The Gebas came to Albuquerque less than a year ago.

Man's Escape Almost Fatal

DALLAS (UPI) — Police brought in Cecil Everett Davis yesterday to jail him on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

The two arresting officers were writing out their reports on Davis part in a knife fight that seriously injured another man.

Davis, 28, noticing that no one was paying too close attention to him, turned and stepped out a window.

The window was on the third floor. Davis was in serious condition at a hospital early today.

Cash receipts from farm markets are expected to be up in 1963, although gains will be erased by higher production costs.

Santa Missing Three Fingers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Santa Claus lost three fingers Saturday as he waved to a group of admirers from the steps of a helicopter at Sacramento Municipal Airport.

The incident occurred as Santa, in this case Donald Novotny, 27, of Carmichael, was touring local airport facilities as a holiday stunt sponsored by civic groups.

Novotny stepped from the craft when it landed and answered the cheers of waiting youngsters with a hearty wave—before the rotor blades struck his hand, severing three fingers. He was reported in good condition at Mercy Hospital.

MacMillan to Tell Whether He'll Retire

LONDON (UPI) — The Daily Mail said today Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will decide soon whether to retire and may step down within the next three months.

The Mail said Macmillan "will privately make known his intentions after Christmas."

"His stature among Tory members of parliament is near its lowest ebb," the newspaper said, referring to his party's poor showing in 14 by-elections this year.

During the past million years, at least four ice advances have occurred.

Council Nears Long Recess at the Vatican

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council, with its job barely begun, moved today into a long recess after a nine-month recess.

A long and important draft dealing with the nature of the Catholic Church, its functions and its aims was before the council when it convened in St. Peter's Basilica.

The draft, entitled "De Ecclesia" (about the church), is only the 5th of 71 scheduled subjects to come before the council since it began its discussions exactly six weeks ago. Even one of these was put aside for later debate.

When the council begins its second session next Sept. 8, it is almost certain to have the "De Ecclesia" draft still before it, with another 66 subjects waiting to be discussed. Some of these, however, may never be taken up.

The "De Ecclesia" draft was first discussed Saturday. A council communiqué then said that because of its importance and its length, discussion on it almost certainly could not be completed in the five working days remaining in the council's first session.

The session will end Saturday with a public ceremony in St. Peter's at which Pope John XXIII, his health permitting, will preside.

'Plane Downed by Dissidents'

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has blamed a dissident group of his own neutralist forces for the shooting down of a U.S. supply plane.

Two American crewmen died and the third was slightly injured in the incident last Tuesday.

Informed Laotian sources said the dissidents were members of the radical leftist "youth association," which is practically indistinguishable from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

Souvanna had first blamed the Pathet Lao for downing the plane, which was carrying supplies at his request to the neutralist forces on the Plain de Jarnes.

But his spokesman confirmed yesterday that the dissidents poured bullets into the plane as it prepared to land.

Ex-Mobster Killed in Mystery Shooting

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Three shotgun blasts from the shadows of a vacant house early Sunday ended the life of a one-time member of Chicago's Bugs Moran gang.

Virgil Wilson, Summers, 49, henchman of the late ganglord George (Bugs) Moran, was ambushed as he returned to his apartment about 3 a.m.

Police said Summers had been under periodic surveillance but they could advance no theory for the gangland style slaying.

Officers found three empty shotgun shells near the vacant house, adjacent to Summers' apartment building.

2 Divers to Try 'Secret' in 1,000-Foot Plunge

AVOLON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif. (AP) — Two frogmen are scheduled to make a record dive to 1,000 feet today, staking their lives on a secret mixture of gases.

They are Hannes Keller, a Swiss mathematician who descended to 728 feet in June 1962, and skin diver John Light of New York, who is going along "to prove anybody can do it if they know the secret."

Most skin divers get the bends at depths below 200 feet, from extreme pressures which make the nitrogen in their blood and tissues bubble painfully, sometimes fatally.

Keller, who used a computer to work out his nonnitrogen breathing mixture, says he is confident he will eventually be able to reach 3,000 feet.

DESCENT IN BELL

Plans called for them:

1. To make the descent in a 7-foot diving bell, lowered by cable from a ship off this island 20 miles west of Los Angeles.

2. Partially fill the bell with seawater on the way down to keep the pressure inside constant with that outside.

3. At a depth of 1,000 feet, just above the ocean floor, where the pressure is 30 times that on the surface, duck out of the bell and swim around for five minutes in view of a television camera lowered from the ship.

4. Re-enter the bell for the ascent.

Bowling Ball Gets Strike but in the Wrong Lane

TORRINGTON, Conn. (UPI) — Randall Schmidt, 18, was driving through the downtown area yesterday when his car was struck by a 16-pound bowling ball.

Police said a nearby bowling alley reported all its balls accounted for and they theorized the runaway may have dropped from a passing car.

Keller, who hopes to sell his secret, believes his new technique will open mineral rich underwater shelves around the world's continents to exploration on a scale not now possible.

Other men have gone deeper in diving vessels—the bathyscaphe Trieste descended to 35,800 feet Jan. 23, 1960—but did not leave them. Keller says that by breathing his mixture men can work at great depths for hours at a time, equipped only with rubber suits and breathing tanks.

Reds' Kozlov Blasts Peking as Adventurist

ROME (UPI) — Soviet Communist party Secretary Frol Kozlov publicly criticized Communist China today for its "adventurist position" in the Sino-Indian border conflict.

Without mentioning the Chinese by name, Kozlov, a member of the party's ruling presidium, told the 16th congress of the powerful Italian Communist party in a rare open attack.

"Those who are certain of their historic future have no need to play with fire and endanger all the achievements of civilization."

Attacking the Chinese party line that war with the West is inevitable, Kozlov said this is "an adventurous position which has nothing to do with Marxism."

Delegates to the session of the Western world's biggest Communist party broke into stormy applause. But Chinese representatives remained silent.

No Bid for 'Moneybag'

NANCY, France (AP) — The auctioneer disposing of things left by widow Andrei Stoli could not get a bid for an old briefcase offered at 40 cents. It seemed heavy as he was hugging it away; inside he found a hoard of francs amounting to $1,040. It reverts to the state since there are no heirs.

President to Speak on U.S. Economy

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy will address the Economic Club of New York Dec. 14 with the national economy as a major topic.

About 2,000 business executives and their guests are expected to hear the President's speech and question him from the floor.

President of the club is Kenneth C. Royall, who served in the Truman administration as secretary of war and secretary of the army.

Bag With $508 Missing From Pontiac Bakery

A thief who had apparently been hiding in the Tasty Bakery, 30 N. Saginaw, stole a paper bag containing $508 Saturday night, Pontiac Police reported.

The bakery owner, Ted Henning, 42, of 8180 Allen Road, told police an employee had hidden the bag with the money inside a laundry bag stored in a back room.

Police said they could detect no signs of a break-in.

Officers conjectured that the thief must have hidden in the building before closing time and escaped through a basement window which was found open.

FOUND DEAD — The dismembered body of Mrs. Keruna Jain, 17, wife of an Indian medical intern was found in the refrigerator of her New York apartment. Police are holding her husband, Dr. Ramish Jain, who they say has admitted dismembering the body.

Injury's Fatal to Lapeer Man

Death Due to Hitting Head on Rock in Fight

LAPEER — A 35-year-old local man died today from an injury sustained when he fell and hit his head on a rock while fighting yesterday.

Orie Marr, 622 N. Monroe St., died in Hurley Hospital, Flint, early this morning, after being transferred there from Lapeer General Hospital last night.

Marr was involved in a fight yesterday afternoon with Michael Trojanowski, 3588 Merwin Road, Edna Township, according to Lapeer County Sheriff Kenneth A. Parks.

Parks said Trojanowski walked over to a wood pile near his home on Merwin Road to see if the two men and a woman had permission to take the wood they were gathering.

Marr allegedly drove up in a truck, said he had permission to take the wood, and after a heated discussion struck Trojanowski.

According to the police report, Trojanowski said he hit Marr and knocked him down and Marr's head struck a rock.

Marr did not regain consciousness. Investigation of the incident is not completed.

'Showdown March' Planned by Yemen

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Yemen's deposed imam says he has started a "showdown march" to recapture his throne, but the rebel army has challenged him "to show his face in any part" of the Red Sea country.

Claiming a slaughter of 456 Egyptian soldiers in the preceding 48 hours, Mohammed Al-Badr announced yesterday that four of his royalist tribal armies were marching on the republican capital of Sana'a and other key cities.

In a communique broadcast by the government radio of Saudi Arabia, which supports the monarchists, Al-Badr accused the United Arab Republic air force of "mercilessly raiding and devastating" pro-royalist towns and villages "as if they were Israel."

Rhode Island is 48 miles long, 37 miles wide, and has 600 miles of coastline.

Cuban Coup Changes Russ Little

U.N. Plane Missing in Congo; 4 Aboard

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:

Declining optimism: President Kennedy warned Americans not to become overly optimistic over the Soviet agreement to remove its missiles from Cuba. And other Western statesmen advised the Polyannas not to work their hopes too high over a possible change of heart by the Kremlin after Cuba.

Now the realities are beginning to sink in. Indications reaching Western capitals from Moscow in the wake of Nikita Khrushchev's Cuban backdown show no inclination so far on the part of the Soviets to make any noteworthy concessions.

In Geneva, too, the Russians to date have remained as unyielding as ever on disarmament and a nuclear test ban. The only noteworthy development at present is the absence of any real pressure for a Berlin settlement, and even on this one Moscow gently needed the West again last week in notes to Washington, London and Paris. Khrushchev still may be making up his mind on the next phase of the cold war and how it is to be pursued.

But the optimists who have predicted a new era of good will in Soviet diplomacy are beginning to be less optimistic.

There are big crises in the world such as those between India and China that get all the attention, and then there are smaller ones generally ignored by the world but important to those concerned.

One such is the contention between Malaysia and the Philippines over North Borneo. This is a complicated affair.

North Borneo once belonged to the Sultan of Sulu, whose heirs ceded it to the British North Borneo Company, which after World War II ceded it to the British government.

The British now plan to have it incorporated into the nascent Federation of Malaysia. But not too long ago, the Philippines lodged a claim for the territory based on the right of succession through the Sultan of Sulu.

The result has been some bad feeling between Malaysia and the Philippines.

As a consequence, Malaysia's Prime Minister, Tengku Abdul Rahman is expected to skip the forthcoming ministerial meeting of the Association of Southeast Asia (ASA), the cultural and economic organization of the Philippines, Malaysia and Thailand.

Tentatively, this is scheduled to be held at the Philippine mountain resort city of Baguio in January.

But the strained relations between Manila and Kuala Lumpur could torpedo this meeting and even damage the fabric of ASA itself.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT

The word from Paris is that French Premier Georges Pompidou's new government to be announced Dec. 6 is unlikely to show any startling changes.

Key posts such as those of foreign minister, interior and finance will be filled by the same men who held them before a rebellious parliament supplanted the government and forced President de Gaulle to go to the people for an overwhelming electoral victory.

Minister of Information Christian Fouchet is likely to be named

Minister of Education, and Alain Peyrefitte probably will return to the information job after three months as minister for Algerian refugees.

GUERRILLA WARRIORS

A couple of months ago, heavy weather forced a strange rubber boat flotilla into a remote corner of Hong Kong.

Aboard were 44 young Chinese men in top physical condition, expertly trained in guerrilla warfare and carrying a full complement of portable weapons.

Their original destination had been the coast of Red China. But for the unexpected storm, these nationalist Chinese agents would have wreaked their havoc on the Communists and the world would have been none the wiser.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A Swedish-manned U.N. transport plane with four men aboard was reported missing today in the Congo.

The Swedish defense staff said the two-engine C-47 Dakota made its last radio report at 4:31 p.m. Sunday, saying it was flying at 12,000 feet and had fuel for about one hour.

The plane was believed to be en route from Leopoldville to Albertville. The defense staff spokesman said there are several small airstrips in the jungle along the route but some of them have no radio links.

Soviet Delinquents Bring Chaos

Keep 'Em Off the Farm

MOSCOW (U) — Life down on the collective farm just hasn't been the same since Soviet courts started shipping juvenile delinquents out of the big cities to work with the peasants.

Exasperated Ukrainian Kol-khoziks (collective farmers) are telling authorities to quit sending problems — they have enough of their own.

The country folks' case against the government's program for "re-educating" young idlers who won't work was presented in the Kiev newspaper Pravda of the Ukraine.

"This is re-educating idlers?" the newspaper demanded in an article exposing the hijinks of the Soviet dead-end kids among their country cousins.

OK AT FIRST . . .

It cited the Makstroy state farm near Donetsk. Valentin Donskoy, chairman of the state farm, said he and his farmers got a shipment of idlers last year and, at first, everything went all right, but soon things began getting worse.

"The worst of it is the drunkenness," he told an interviewer, "especially on paydays — then they drink for three or four days. They don't go out to work until they drink up everything." Donskoy and his assistants decided to quit selling vodka at the state farm store. That same evening, all the "special settlers" were drunk as usual.

"It turned out the special settlers had hung one on with cheap eau de cologne," he explained.

"The storekeeper couldn't keep up with the demand. He fulfilled his plan for the sale of eau de cologne for the next 10 years."

The article said the spirit of the 1961 law calling for the exile of idlers and other undesirable was not being observed.

Another state farm leader ruefully said: "Our village people are saying: 'If the city folks don't know how to bring them up, then what are we supposed to do?'"

A district official told this tale of woe:

"This is a nice, quiet village district. But the cities started cleaning out their scum, and dumping all the hoodlums on us.

BOWL OF CHERRIES

"This is no life for idlers but a bowl of cherries. All summer they live here on ready-made fodder — cucumbers, tomatoes, radishes, potatoes, carrots, peas, peppers, cantaloupe, watermelon apples . . . (all scarce items in the cities).

"This is no place for them. They get their bread too easily here.

"Not far from here, there are some stone quarries. It would be a good idea to send them there. Let them work — and if anybody doesn't show up for work he won't get a fig on payday.

"That would be a real re-education."

The official said that of the 220 exiles shipped to his district a year ago, only about 100 remain. Most of the others, he said, "are being re-educated in prisons."

"Thirty-three were sentenced for illegally leaving their settlements, 33 for hooliganism, the rest for thievery and other crimes. A few are fugitives," he added.

Pedaling Garment Chief Forced Into His Car

NEW YORK (UPI) — David Dubinsky, 70, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, will have to get around in his chauffeur-driven car for awhile.

Dubinsky, who is fond of bicycling in Central Park, left his two-wheeler outside a Manhattan restaurant yesterday, and when he came out it was gone. The labor leader said he forgot to lock it.

WALL BLASTED — A bomb blew this hole in the Berlin wall yesterday, shattering 200 windows in the area. The explosion occurred at the corner of Harzerstrasse and Boucherstrasse along the wall between the American section and East Berlin, scene of many dramatic escapes. The sign in the background reads "Attention! You are leaving West Berlin."

Reds Quickly Brick Up Opening Bomb Rips Hole in Berlin Wall

BERLIN (UPI) — A large home-made bomb blasted a 4-by-2-foot hole in the Communist anti-driftage wall yesterday and shattered some 200 windows in nearby buildings.

Communist and West Berlin police rushed emergency squads to the scene from both sides of the wall. But no other incident occurred and Communist repairmen quickly bricked up the hole.

The East German Defense Ministry blamed West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and West Berlin "ultras" for the explosion, which occurred on the Neukolln District border of the American sector of the divided city.

Soviet Premier Ridicules Abstract Art

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet press today picked up Premier Nikita Khrushchev's ridicule of abstract art and turned it into a plea for a return to a "realism" that can serve communism.

Khrushchev, who like Prince Philip and former President Eisenhower definitely knows what he likes about art, touched off the storm Saturday night by attending an exhibition by Moscow artists.

He told one group of artists and sculptors their work was so abstract that they looked like they were "dashed by the tail of a donkey."

Armed with this colorful criticism, the Communist party newspaper Pravda today told Soviet artists what they may and what they may not paint.

Pravda criticized "the pseudo-innovation and incorrect trends which have appeared in the work of certain artists and writers."

"The Leninist party of Communists," it said, "has, by directing the development of literature and art to serve the people in the spirit of the great ideals of communism, established conditions making possible an unprecedented burgeoning of artistic creativity."

The editorial hailed the "mighty power of Lenin's principles of ideology, national roots and realism, and the unbreakable ties between the work of the artist and the life of the people."

It urged a return to "the glorious traditions of our realistic art" and scored artists who "chase unthinkingly after western fashion, spending their time in pathetic imitation of the corrupt and formalist art of the bourgeois world."

Khrushchev had told the artists that good art should "give a truthful picture of the life of the people, inspire... cultivate noble sentiments and a deep understanding of the beautiful."

It was not known what effect this would have on Soviet art, which was severely restricted in earlier years to a rigid "realism" that favored representational paintings of tractors or peasants in the field.

It was learned that the works which Khrushchev panned Saturday night would be returned to the artists.

And an exhibition of abstract art, due to open here Thursday, was canceled at the last minute without explanation.

Viet Cong Band Kills 13 Outpost Defenders

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A Communist Viet Cong guerrilla band overran a government outpost in Quang Ngai Province near the North Vietnamese border Thursday, killing 13 defenders and wounding seven others, a government military communique reported today.

It said enemy casualties were not known.

Invite Detroit Inventor to African Celebration

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit inventor Joseph N. Blair has been invited by Tanganyika President Julius Nyerere to attend the African Republic's independence celebration this month.

Blair, 58, who recently developed a system to build a five-room house in a day using two men, was invited to help Tanganyika provide low-cost housing for its citizens.

U.S. to Orbit Second TV Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Relay satellite will be launched next week from Cape Canaveral to pave the way for a second exchange of live television program with Europe.

Relay will follow in the footsteps of Telstar, used last summer for the initial swap of television shows across the Atlantic. This time, there's a chance the exchange may be three-sided with the possible inclusion of South America.

The planned launching was mentioned Sunday on a televised interview — "Youth Wants to Know" — by Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, and confirmed by a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Higher Orbit

The NASA official said a Thor Delta missile will be used and that Relay will travel in a somewhat higher orbit than Telstar. Leonard Jaffe, NASA project officer for Relay, said it is one of a number of communications satellites that will be tested in that "will live there."

Although Telstar is still functioning, it became balky last week about taking orders from earth and refused to turn its communications receiver on and off. Telstar was built by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Relay was developed by the government, with the Radio Corp. of America serving as the prime contractor.

'Peace' Theme for Bazaar

Coordinator for the All Saints Episcopal Church bazaar Thursday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the church, is Mrs. Jerome Mulligan of Covert Street

"Peace Around the World" will set the stage Thursday for the bazaar presented by All Saints Episcopal Church, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the church.

Carrying out the theme, various booths will represent different countries, selling appropriate Christmas novelties, decorations, handwork, baked goods and Christmas greenery. A featured attraction will be the antiques and family heirlooms booth.

Luncheon will be available during the noon hours and a tea room serving snacks will be open all day. In addition, a smorgasbord dinner will be served, starting at 5:30 p.m. in Stevens Hall.

A game room will be provided for the youngsters during after-school hours. Coordinator for the bazaar is Mrs. Jerome Mulligan.

Couples Entertain

All Around the Town

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Eickmeier of Gogswold Road returned Friday from an extended vacation in Miami Beach and Tampa, Fla.

The James E. Grissoms are entertaining at two prebudding buffet dinners in their home on Carey Lane.

Their guests Friday evening were the Frederick J. Milburns, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Price, the Fred J. Crockett and the William Hendersons, all of Birmingham.

This Friday they will entertain the Daniel A. Packards, the Walter A. Rutenbergs of Franklin, the Dean Berthets and the Charles A. Grissoms of Birmingham.

On Dec. 4 the George Cranes of Green Ridge Road are entertaining at a supper party.

Mrs. Jack Brannock of Lakeward Lane will entertain close friends, neighbors and members of her church guild at an informal Christmas get-together Thursday evening Dec. 13.

Mrs. Brannock is president of Guild Six of All Saints Episcopal Church. Some 30 guests will gather around the organ for traditional Christmas carols during coffee and dessert.

Honored at an open house Saturday at the home of Mrs. Edna Tomlinson of Murphy Avenue was Mrs. Julia Bowd of Aberdeen, Scotland. Mrs. Bowd has been visiting the U.S. since September and will return Saturday on the Queen Elizabeth.

Feature Seasonal, Standard Selections

City Schools Plan Four Holiday Concerts

Four festival-styled programs are planned through-out the month by the music department of Pontiac public schools.

A holiday concert is set for Wednesday at Pontiac Central High School's gymnasium, 7:30 p.m.

Richard Morse will conduct the Pontiac Central High School band. Eastern, Jefferson and Washington Junior High School bands will also play, directed by their respective conductors, Robert Wolters, Fred Smith and Gerald Irish.

On Dec. 11, a second band concert will include seasonal as well as standard pieces in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Participating bands and their conductors are Pontiac

Northern, Eldon Rosegari; Lincoln Junior High School, Earl Somerville; and Madison Junior High School, Roger Welton.

The All-City Instrumental String Orchestra and All-City

Advanced Youth Orchestra will present their concert Dec. 12 in the Lincoln Junior High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m. About 125 musicians will participate.

Climaxing this annual parade of concerts is the Community Christmas Concert, Dec. 16, 8 p.m. at PCHS.

In addition to combined vocal music departments of the two Pontiac high schools, the Pontiac Women's Chorus, directed by George Scott, and the MacDowell Male Chorus, directed by A. Michael Dempsey, will participate.

The All-City Advanced Youth Orchestra will accompany the 650-voice chorus and the audience in Handel's Hallelujah Chorus. Former members of the music department's choir and glee clubs are issued a special invitation to again join in this final selection.

All of the concerts are open to the public free of charge. At the band and orchestra programs, a free-will offering will be taken for the Interlochen Music Fund.

Widow Told to Beware of Scandal

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have a friend who is a widow in the late 40s. She owns her own house in a fine residential area in this community and is highly respected. Recently a couple, close friends of hers for many years, moved to a distant city.

It will be necessary for the husband to return here occasionally on overnight business trips.

My friend stoutly insists that it would be perfectly proper for this man to stay at her house as long as his wife is aware of this and approves. There is positively no question of other than friendship involved.

My friend is of strong moral character, deeply religious and forthright. Nevertheless, I feel that it would be improper for her to invite this man to remain alone with her in her house, overnight.

It is my contention that regardless of her good reputation and irrespective of her good intentions, there would be overtones of scandal with resulting injury to her good name in the community.

She and I are greatly concerned over this issue and would very much appreciate your opinion regarding it. A: I agree with you. She would be wise to avoid any possible scandal by not having him stay in her house overnight.

Q: At what age is a girl considered too old to be a flower girl in a wedding? My daughter is being married in a few months and we would like to have her little sister who is seven as flower girl. Is she too old to fill this position?
Q: Unless she is very small for her age, a seven-year-old girl is too old for a flower girl, but she can properly be a junior bridesmaid.

Q: The other evening unexpected visitors arrived while we were still at dinner. I asked them to go into the living room and told them we would join them shortly. Was this the proper thing to do, or should I have asked them to sit down at table with us?
A: It would have been more courteous to have asked them to sit with you while you finished your dinner.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Alpha Chi's to Prepare Gifts for Tots

Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae, North Woodward Suburban Chapter, will prepare Christmas gifts for children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School in Northville during the Dec. 11 meeting in the Bloomfield Village home of Mrs. Fred A. Henry of Broadway Boulevard to begin at 8 p.m.

Members have been asked to bring mittens, hats and scarves and the chapter is buying a sled for the youngsters. Mrs. William I. Deenan, Jr. is chairman of the refreshments committee. Mrs. C. V. Crockett, Mrs. Joseph Kinney and Mrs. Robert J. Stuart will assist.

Plan Bazaar for Charity

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society will hold its annual Christmas bazaar Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Mulligan.

Chairman for the affair is Mrs. Harold Aule, who will be assisted by Mrs. William Wanger, Mrs. Arnold Brown, and Mrs. John Plick.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be donated to the Michigan Diabetes Association.

Favorite Carol

NEW YORK — The late Eleanor Roosevelt, in her last published column revealed that her favorite Christmas Carol was "Silent Night."

Abby Gives Warning

Freedom's Dangerous

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please print this to let other wives know how one wife feels about office parties.

I think it's silly for a wife to try to keep her husband from going. Let him go and tell him to have a good time. If he kisses a widow—so what? Or even a divorcee.

If a man knows he has all the freedom he wants, he won't take it. Half the fun of swinging green apples is the danger and risk of stealing them.

I shove my husband at other women all the time he hardly looks at them because having my okay takes all the fun out of it. Try it. It works.

JULIET: And what if it doesn't work? You'll have to go hunt up your husband in somebody else's orchard. No, thanks. I say tell him you love him, refuse to share him, and if you catch him straying you will have his scalp!

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for making it known that tattoos can be removed by a physician.

Some people still believe that just because they foolishly got themselves tattooed when they were out on a spree one night they have to live with the tattoos forever.

I know a fellow who applied for the State Police and had to have two propellers removed from a very embarrassing part of his anatomy before he could pass the physical.

AN M.D.
DEAR ABBY: My daughter had a child out of wedlock when she was 16.

She married shortly afterwards and her husband adopted the boy. At 18 the boy joined the Air Force. He was never told that he was illegitimate.

Everybody knows but him. I told my daughter to write the chaplain and have him tell the boy. He is a man now and should be told. My daughter refused, and even forbade me to write to my own grandson for fear I might slip and tell him.

She has robbed him of his greatest joy... to write to his Granny. We have always been on good terms. I say the boy should be told. I think my daughter is afraid her son will find out she was no angel. What is your opinion?

GRANNY
DEAR GRANNY: It appears to me that you've never forgiven your daughter and would like to punish her through her son. My advice is to stay out of your daughter's personal relations with her son.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who is worried about her brother. He is 17, very good-looking, has a build like Tarzan and I think there is something in the matter with him. He doesn't like girls!

All he is interested in is sports, his guitar, hunting and country music. He doesn't even like rock and roll. How can I get him interested in girls?

TARZAN'S SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Leave him alone. He's normal. He'll discover "girls" soon enough—or some "Jane" will discover him!

What's on your mind? For a person really, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, the Pontiac Press.

25th Anniversary Show

Garden Club to Ring 'Silver Bells'

Commemorating its 25th anniversary, the Birmingham Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association has entitled this year's Christmas show "Silver Bells."

Mrs. Chester Wisniewski, chairman, and her committee have chosen titles of past years' schedules for this season's show, to be staged Wednesday and Thursday in Birmingham Community House.

Indoor and outdoor wreaths and hanging arrangements, under the caption "And Once Again Christmas," will include shadow-box compositions. Mrs. William McCallum is in charge of this class and a special group, "This Is For the Birds."

Angels or a Madonna will highlight a class called "The Angels Sing," title of the 1959 show. Mrs. Henry J. Gilmarin is chairman.

"The Shining Hours of Christmas" featuring compositions of pewter, brass, silver, glass or china has been assigned to Mrs. Donald Irwin.

A class "Merry, Merry Christmas" challenges all members to design and create a Christmas card, with Mrs. George W. Tischer handling entries.

Compositions with child appeal entitled "Christmas All Through the House" will be accepted by Mrs. Francis P. McGuire.

Mrs. William B. Grabendike's class "Merrily, Merrily Ring the Bells" will honor the club's anniversary.

"Table Arrangements" entries will be approved by Mrs. Robert E. Fowler and Mrs. Horace T. Bretelle.

Mrs. S. J. Skatista is chairman of the junior class "Night Before Christmas" showing tree ornaments created and exhibited by children.

Mrs. James A. Hunter will accept for exhibition special house plants of members. This class is called "Sharing of the Greens."

Bird feeders and charts will comprise "Joy to the World," in charge of Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr.

Examples of work done by the children at Pontiac State Hospital will be shown by Mrs. J. Reed Alexander.

Mrs. George S. Dixon is show cochairman. Mrs. Hobart Andreae and Mrs. Cecil E. Nickel prepared the schedule, and Mrs. J. Vinton Burch designed its cover.

Mrs. F. Gordon Davis, Mrs.

Carmen Adams, Mrs. Edward Sammut, Mrs. F. F. Maish and Mrs. C. A. Ross comprise the invitational decorations committee. Mrs. Claude Welles Jr. will do the stage.

Other committee members include Mrs. Rosas, Mrs. Aldo Patria, Mrs. Mark R. Kraus, Mrs. Stuart M. Gastrom, Mrs. Royal E. Paulette and Mrs. Aaron H. Webster. Mrs. Norman W. Berry, Mrs. C. V. Di

Pietro and Mrs. John F. Rosier Jr.

Mrs. Harry O. Hoyt Jr. is hospitality chairman, with Mrs. Leon E. Jackman appointing hostesses.

Area senior citizens are invited to attend the show and tea on Thursday afternoon. The event is open to the public from 3 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m., Thursday.

Selecting place mats made by children at Pontiac State Hospital for their 25th annual Christmas Show Wednesday and Thursday at the Birmingham Community House, are members of the Birmingham Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (from left) Mrs. James A. Hunter, horticulture chairman and Mrs. Chester Wisniewski, show chairman, both of Birmingham. Mrs. J. Reed Alexander of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the group's horticultural therapy program at the hospital.

Festive Christmas decorations and novelties, such as these displayed by Mrs. Gladys LaBar of Murphy Avenue (left) and Mrs. Reuben Ellison of Fourth Avenue, will be among many booth offerings during the All Saints Episcopal Church bazaar, Thursday at the church, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Polly's Pointers

Use a Buffet Board

DEAR POLLY—When I have our families over for dinner, I find that my small dining table will not accommodate the necessary things for table setting plus the meat and vegetables, to say nothing of a centerpiece.

So, the last time I had a group, I bought a large colorful tablecloth and draped it over my opened ironing board and used it as a buffet serving table.

The ironing board will hold most of the food and then an attractive table setting is not spoiled. MRS. R. M. C.

DEAR POLLY—If you do not have a place to store table place mats so they are flat and smooth, buy a clip board (the kind found in office supply stores). It makes a handy holder. Clip on the mats and then hang the board in a closet or cupboard.

C. W.
DEAR POLLY—Did you know that there is exactly enough material used on the back of a chair to reupholster the arms?

A favorite chair of ours became frayed on the arms (the first place to show wear). My husband got the idea of using the like new material on the back (which we replaced with material of almost the same color) to cover the arms.

An upholsterer did the job for less than $10 and the chair is still good after a year of wear. THRIFTY

DEAR POLLY—A time saver for new mothers: before attempting to feed an infant, rub baby oil on his face. It washes much easier and is especially good when feeding cereal or things that tend to dry and clog on the face. MRS. C. M.

DEAR POLLY—I keep a toy egg beater in my cupboard. Using it simplifies the problem of beating one egg in a cup.

I find the egg is beaten better and easier than in a bowl. H. K.

DEAR POLLY—Do your children struggle to the point of tears with winter boots that are a tight fit?

Have them push the toe of the foot in, then "cup" a four-inch square of waxed paper around the heel of their shoe and pull the boot over.

Nothing to it. Replace the waxed paper from time to time. MRS. LOVE

DEAR POLLY—Don't throw away those faded colored smocks. Paint them with clear fingernail polish and they will keep bright and colorful for years of enjoyment.

Also I would like a good Polly's Pointer on what is good to remove dried plaster from a porcelain bathtub. E. F. K.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas... send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

honor Sunday afternoon at Pontiac Unity Center. Rev. Dell is the new minister of the church on North Genesee Avenue.

New Minister Honored Sunday at Women of Unity Reception

Women of Unity honored their new minister and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Everett Dell, at a reception Sunday afternoon in the church on North Genesee Avenue.

Joining the Dells in the recep-ing line were Alice Kimball, chairman of the board, Gordon Gray and LeRoy Traflet. Mrs. George Bodell, Mrs. S. J. Filkins, Mrs. R. Elliott Thorpe and Mrs. Ernest Vivers took turns presiding at the tea table.

Mrs. Kenneth Wright was a general chairman for the afternoon. Working with her were Mrs. Gordon Moats, Mrs. Thorpe and Mrs. Mary Wagner. Other committee members were Talmecia Suroia, Mrs. Harry Kreher, Mrs. Ray Raeb and the Elmer R. Hutsons. Guests were present from Algonac, Detroit, Birmingham and Royal Oak.

Perked up Wishes

In France, instead of the familiar wash tub and a bar of soap, housewives have traditionally boiled clothing in large cylindrical pots which operate on the same principle as the coffee percolator.

Do-Si-Do at Dance

Promenaders Square Dance Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, held a dance Saturday at the Hawthorne School.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lou Steib, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Zachar, Kelly McClanahan, Carolyn Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Kintz and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chandler.

The annual New Year's dance will be held at the Waterford Community Center. Tickets and information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Newell.

Gals to Sing Yule Carols

Delta Zeta Sorority Group 2 Alumnae members will sing Christmas carols at the Alexander Convalescent Home on West Fourth Street in Royal Oak, 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 13.

Mrs. Fred W. Supnick of Clawson Avenue, Royal Oak, will entertain afterward. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Peter J. Carr and Marjorie A. Bormuth. Mrs. Carlyle W. Rees is caroling chairman.

Reshaping Directions

NEW YORK—Women who want to restore shape to their hair should lift each section, and carefully roll it in the direction of the original set, then spray lightly. When it's dry and combed out, the top hair should be raised, section by section, and teased lightly at the base. Then the top layer should be brushed, not combed, over the coil smoothly.

Anticipate Future Use

A water heater that's too small to meet the demands of the household will not last as long as an adequate-size one. Prospective buyers should try to anticipate their future uses as well as present needs for hot water. For instance, if you are planning to buy a dishwasher or replace a wringer washer with an automatic one, you can anticipate increased demands.

Single-Seizure "Epilepsy"

Q. If a child has only one convulsion, what are the chances of his having others? Does one seizure indicate epilepsy?
A. Several things must be considered in dealing with seizures. Anyone, child or adult, who has a seizure should be examined by a physician. If no specific cause for the seizure can be uncovered, most doctors assume that the patient has "epilepsy." A Baltimore specialist recommends that the single-seizure child be given appropriate medication for a period of four years. Medication is then tapered off over a period of one or two years. This treatment is utilized to prevent possible recurrence and to help overcome the fear of a second seizure. In many cases, treatment beyond such a period is not necessary. The diagnosis of epilepsy is not considered in a young child who has a short seizure with high temperature. Single febrile seizures of this sort usually do not recur after four or five years of age.

We have but one policy—to provide drugs of the highest quality at reasonable prices.

Use It, Don't Pass It

You Can't Recover Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Metropolitan Opera star, Blanche Thebom, has beauty, success and a magnificent voice, but above all, she values her time. "Time is important," she said, "because we can't recover it if we waste it. If you lose your money you can make more. If you lose your figure you can get it back, although I admit it's easier to keep it in the first place. Most things which have been dissipated can, with effort, be recovered. But not time!"

A comment about what a crowded life she must live brought a laugh, and she said, "I wouldn't want you to think I don't relax—or even daydream on occasion. As a matter of fact I think that constructive daydreams often give one new goals or hint at new ways to accomplish old ones."

Miss Thebom's philosophy is one I have long promoted in this column. It has always seemed to me that too often we fail to recognize the importance of choosing how to spend our time rather than just letting it be spent.

People spend so much time doing things they would not really choose to do but are expected to do.

Blanche Thebom doesn't think that her concept of how to use time holds for everyone because this is a highly individual matter.

However, she feels that it would pay folks to think about whether they are using time or just passing it.

For instance, she values her friendships greatly, but differentiates between friendship and mere sociability.

PASSING TIME

She said: "To spend an evening with people who really don't interest me, just to pass the time, is my idea of a real waste. There's nothing wrong with it but for me it makes no sense. For a novelist it might very well furnish him with material and come under the heading of research."

"For me, browsing through department stores and shops when I don't need to buy anything is just frittering time away. But, for a dressmaker, it could be professionally stimulating and enlightening."

Miss Thebom had completed her music studies in the incredible space of three years when she made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera. She was an instant success and has been there ever since.

"I'd never have been able to do it without concentrated use of the time at my disposal, and of course it might not have worked out."

"But if it hadn't, if I'd found I didn't have a voice or couldn't learn a foreign language or had no gift for acting, at least I would not have had to think that the reason for my failure was because I had wasted time which I should have spent in effort."

She continued: "Time is the element in which we exist, as water is the element in which a swimmer swims or air is the element in which birds fly. Whatever our hopes for the future, we have to accomplish them in the unknown amount of time given us."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis Mathews, Bloomfield Hills, were photographed aboard American President Lines SS President Wilson just before the ship's recent departure from San Francisco for the Orient. They are en route to Honolulu on the luxury liner. The President Wilson calls at Honolulu, Yokohama, Hong Kong, Manila, Hong Kong (second call), Kobe and Yokohama (second call) before returning to San Francisco via Hawaii.

Husband Platonic

Wife Causes Drinking

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE N-491: Terry T., aged 42, was a leading insurance sales manager.

"But, Dr. Crane," his lovely wife protested tearfully, "Terry is now going downhill rapidly."

"For he is almost drinking himself to death."

"And it has been going on for several years. He refuses to admit he is whipped by John Barleycorn."

"He will not even consent to seeking the aid of Alcoholics Anonymous."

WARNED TWICE

"But he has been warned twice by his firm and now he has been told that if he ever comes to the office even once more in an intoxicated condition, he will be discharged permanently."

"Yet Terry used to be such a wonderful husband and father. So what can I possibly do to help him? Last night he told me it is either whisky or suicide."

In modern psychiatry we regard alcoholism as somewhat like the fire escape from a burning building.

Liquor addicts thus resort to whisky as an escape mechanism by which they try to flee from an inner torment (emotional burning) due to humiliation, shame, fear or prolonged guilt.

By use of certain drugs we medics can make the addict so nauseated whenever he touches whisky that he can't stand his liquor."

MUST QUELL 'FIRES'

But unless we first put out the inner emotional "fires" from which he is trying to flee, he may then resort to some other escape device, such as the drug habit or insanity or even suicide; as Terry threatens to do.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," Terry's wife admitted, "but what could Terry be afraid of?"

"He has always been a big, strong man and very successful in sales work. So why should he wish to flee into alcoholism?"

Wives, your sins of omission in the bedroom often drive men into chronic drunkenness. And that's exactly what was wrong with Terry.

For he began to grow platonically several years earlier, although his wife neither realized this fact nor noticed it, for most wives are relatively frigid, anyway, as measured by the usual masculine standard.

In his terror lest his wife realize his failure, and also to gain a little relief from his constant dread that he would become totally impotent, Terry resorted to the bottle.

WORRY CHIEF CAUSE

Indeed, most men when they pass the age of 40 grow more or less platonic, chiefly because of worry itself.

For "worry" is a cerebral or brain action, whereas sexual passion is emotional.

You cannot "cerebrate" and likewise "emote" very long before one or the other of those processes dwindles.

So as soon as a man begins to worry about weakening ardor, it wanes far more. Most impotence in men is PURELY psychological.

And a lot of testosterone shots produce their effects mainly because of the BELIEF of the patient in the doctor, rather than because of the hormone effect.

WHY THEY START

Since platonic husbands subconsciously decide that if they get half drunk, their wives will fret about their liquor habit and forget to notice their waning erotic ardor, millions of fearful husbands start guzzling whisky.

And you wives can prevent such alcoholism by reviving their sexual ability, so send for the booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Husbands," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always send to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan 48130. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover the cost of the booklet when you send for his psychological charts and material.

Calls on Women to Fight Against N-War

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
TOKYO — The hands that rock the cradle should join into a potent force to prevent nuclear war, says Japan's only woman cabinet minister. Miss Tsuneko Kondo, minister of state, member of parliament and chairman of Japan's Atomic Energy Commission, sent this message to the "women of the world" during an interview.

"You ask what I think is women's role in working for peace... I would say, let us unite and stand up against their development and use for any war purpose."

Spinster Dinner Honors Pontiac Bride-Elect

Camille MacInnis of Detroit, Tex., honored Katherine Alice Hayes of Lowell Street at a spinster dinner and surprise bridal shower in the Daniel MacInnis home in Detroit.

Mrs. Howard Hayes attended her daughter's party with Mrs. Leonard Walsh of Clarkston, mother of the future bridegroom. Gerald Vincent Walsh of Washington, D. C.

Theta Phi Alpha Sorority sisters and former University of Detroit classmates of the honoree also attended the affair. A Dec. 29 wedding is planned.

Quinine Replaced

Drug research has progressed so far so fast that quinine, the only medicine formerly available to fight malaria, has now been almost completely replaced throughout the world by other drugs—chief among them is chloroquine developed by an American pharmaceutical company in 1941. Makes you glad we're on our side, doesn't it?

Lawn Light From Old Dinner Bell

An attractive lawn light can be created by putting a socket in an old brass or iron dinner bell. Bolt the assembled bell to a cedar post, and paint the inside to reflect light.

For Sick Days in the House

To amuse a sick child, take a colorful cap from a shampoo or detergent container and plant a few seeds in regular soil. Enclose an eye dropper for watering the flower pot. Lentil seeds, used for soup, sprout quickly into vines.

Have You Tried This?

New Meat Recipes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

At least two readers came to our rescue promptly with new recipes for this column. Mrs. Frank L. Mills of Lake Orion sent in a couple of good main dish recipes. We couldn't choose between them, so here are both of them.

BEEF HIGH HATS
By Mrs. Frank L. Mills

Bake 3-inch rounds of your favorite pie crust in a hot oven.

Brown one pound of ground beef in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add 1/2 cup chopped green pepper; 1/2 cup chopped celery; 1/2 teaspoons chopped parsley; cup chopped green onion; 2 salt and pepper.

Cook together about 3 minutes. Serve between rounds of pastry, using 3 rounds of pastry and 2 layers of meat for each serving.

"Women are the child bearers," said the tiny, 61-year-old member of the cabinet. "They are instinctively against destructive force."

"Here the world is at a stage when man is about to reach the moon, Venus, perhaps other planets. Let us direct our scientific research toward the happiness of mankind. Not his destruction."

"Yes, I'm optimistic about the chances for peace... The Cuban settlement is most encouraging."

HEADS SCIENCE AGENCY
Miss Kondo was trained as a home economist, but part of her job as well as directing AEC, is to head up the science and technology agency.

She candidly admitted, as we spoke through an interpreter, that when she was appointed to the cabinet more than four months ago "they made a case out of me." There was strong criticism in the Japanese press against the appointment by Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

Japan, she said, is concentrating on research for peaceful use of atomic power — especially in the medical, thermal, and agricultural fields. However, the government is developing one of the world's advanced rockets, and plans for a nuclear ship are in the works.

"There is no question but what nuclear research should go on," she said. But she stressed its peaceful aspects.

"Here in Japan, we have much fear of what a nuclear arms race can mean... Japan is the only nation ever to suffer atomic bombardment. "I feel strongly opposed to atomic tests on the part of both the United States and the U.S.S.R. But the United States warns the world in advance of testing... The Soviet does not. Its position is intolerable."

URGED BY BROTHER
Miss Kondo was graduated from the Nippon Women's College, Tokyo, and was a teacher at the Okayama Women's High School until her brother urged her to go into politics.

She has just been re-elected for a six-year term to the upper house of the diet, comparable to senator in the United States.

Since suffrage for women was granted during the U.S. occupation, women have had the same political equality as men—officially. Actually, she said, it isn't so yet... There's still a strong tradition with the older generation about a woman's place being strictly in the home.

The Japanese parliament has 17 women in the 250-seat upper house; seven in the 467-seat lower house.

"Not enough of our women are getting into politics," said the cabinet minister. Japan, like the United States, has more eligible women voters than men — 20 per cent more.

"So," she smiled, "there should be at least 10 per cent more women in office."

LINDA SUE ADAMS
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Adams of York Street announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Sue to Tommy K. Smallwood, son of the John T. Smallwoods of South Anderson Street.

Tired Skin? Try 'Masks'

NEW YORK—Women with "tired skin" — dull or pale, that is — should use a facial mask. All three varieties — thirty-minute — have tautening action that stimulates circulation, carry off dry flakes of skin or excessive oiliness, and leave a fresh pink glow.

Grosse Pointe Shows Talent While Beating Chiefs

Slow Start, Finish Hurt Central, 62-45

Jones, Sain Impress in Opening Setback to Blue Devils

By JERE CRAIG
The basketball court at Pontiac Central High School has a reputation in recent years for exhibiting top flight prep cagers and Saturday night's season's opener between the local Chiefs and the visiting Grosse Pointe team did not harm that reputation.

Unfortunately, however, the bad guys had an abundance of good players and Grosse Pointe carried its second impressive victory in two nights, 62-45.

The Blue Devils beat Dearborn 67-48 Friday on a team effort and their second win followed the same share-the-wealth program. Four of the five starters reached double figures and the fifth one hit for eight points and played a good defensive game.

Gary Spade shot nine field goals into the hoop and added two fouls for 20 points to pace the winners. Robert Hadley scored 10 points as did 6-3, 215-pound Marc Lonesk and 6-4 center Jim Seder.

Mel DeWalt came off the Central bench to give coach Art Van Ryzin the offensive punch his club lacked at the start of the contest and combined with Gerald Henry and Ray Sain to rally the Chiefs. DeWalt hit 14 points, Henry had 13 and Sain dropped in six of his eight points in the first half.

EARLY LEAD
Grosse Pointe's pressing, quick defense bothered the Chiefs in the early going and permitted the talented visitors to jump into a 12-2 lead. The Blue Devils' team play dissolved into individual efforts too often at the second quarter but they had enough ability to hold a 30-21 halftime margin.

Field goals by McKinley Jones and DeWalt narrowed the margin to five points at the start of the second half, but that was the closest the home team could get. Both teams' shooting was off in the third session and Grosse scored had only jumped to 48-38 entering the final stanza.

But the superior manpower of the Blue Devils showed itself in a 22-point burst that built to a 60-38 bulge with less than three minutes remaining to play. Chief tormenters in the stretch run were Spade, a 5-11 backhand with quick hands and feet and legs that sprung him over the hoop, and Vic Dhooze (pronounced Dooze).

PULL-OUT
Spade connected for eight straight points at the outset of the fourth quarter to put the game out of reach; and Dhooze kept the score comfortable for coach Chuck Holley by hitting six of his eight points in the late going.

Van Ryzin could find solace in the manner the home club hung in the game after appearing completely outclassed in the early moments. Forced to shoot from the outside, the Chiefs made a contest of it until ball handling and defensive lapses completely blunted their tomahawks.

Jones was particularly impressive with his defensive rebounding while Sain showed good moves under the offensive backboard. Harold Pickett gave indications of developing into a good playmaker, a needed commodity.

The Central junior varsity fell before a late rally by Grosse Pointe's reserve unit, 42-39. The Pointers took the lead 40-30 on a short jump shot in the final minute of play and added a pair of fouls after the final whistle.

WILSON ALERT
Watkins assumed the ball was an incomplete pass and the Colts themselves had a mental lapse at this point. Wilson stood screaming from the sidelines for Watkins to go for the ball and after the Lions' halfback realized there was no whistle and the ball was behind him, he dove for it and the officials ruled it a recovered fumble on the Colt 35 for a yard loss.

Morrall then passed complete to Cogdill for 18 yards and with two minutes left he sneaked for a first down making it by just inches to the Colt 13.

A five yard Colt penalty moved the ball to the 10 and a running play lost two back to the 12. On the next play, Morrall has the option of running or passing. Substitit the intended receiver was covered so Morrall heeded the line of scrimmage and started to pull the ball down under his arm when he heard Pietrosona yelling. He hoped the ball 13 yards to the Lions fullback all along for the game winning touchdown.

"I don't know what I yelled but I just had to get Morrall's attention as I saw him getting ready to go over the line," said Pietrosona.

"The pass was perfect and I'm also glad he's got a good pair of ears as I didn't know he'd hear me through the noise," he added.

With 1:42 remaining, Unitas arm got sharp and in four passes the Colts got to the Detroit 23. Williams drove through to Unitas for a five yard loss and with 20 seconds left Alex Karras and Roger Brown swarmed over Unitas as the ball sprung loose.

The officials however ruled it was not a fumble but an incomplete pass and the Colts had a 4th down on the Lions' 23.

Unitas then went back and spotted Ray Berry in the end zone to score.

A pair of contenders for cageuel Christian plays at Whitmore Lake, Ortonville opens at Linden Lake and Madison travels to Cranbrook in other top contests on a light midweek schedule.

Holly goes to Fenton, Emmamillford won its first game

under coach Chuck Schrader, Saturday, downing South Lyon, 54-48.

Kettering's trip to Oxford is expected to be a happy one for the Captains who are rated a strong chance to cop the Tri-County championship.

Oxford, however, will floor a veteran quietest highlighter by lowering 7-foot Dana Marlowe.

The Wildcats have visions of adding the South Central crown to their football championship.

The Holly-Fenton rivalry is such that the game invariably is rated a tossup regardless of the records. It is even more so this time because the contest comes so early in the season.

TOP SCORER
Emmanuel Christian will be trying to climb above the 500 mark against the Lakers. Ralph Wungate has been carrying the scoring load for the Lakers, scoring 56 points in two games.

Madison, rated an outside chance to pick up the marbles in the Oakland A, may experience some trouble at inexperienced Cranbrook. Although hit hard by graduation, the Cranes are being given a good chance for a successful season by coach Hugh Davidson.

Milford unleashed a balanced scoring attack against South Lyon to even its record at 1-1.

Three Redskins hit in doubles. Tom Shiffer was high with 16, Tim Barnes added 14 and Gary Powers hit 13. Joe Parrish chipped in with 9.

Jim Sprinkles was high scorer for South Lyon with 10.

WHERE NOW? — Marc Lonesk of Grosse Pointe searches for his next move after grabbing pass from teammate in second quarter action Saturday night against Pontiac Central.

PCH defender Al Galbraith (50) prevented Lonesk from scoring a bucket this time. Center Jim Seder (51) anticipates a pass from Lonesk in game won by the Blue Devils.

DEVILISH — Vic Dhooze of Grosse Pointe's Blue Devils throws up an arm barricade on Pontiac Central forward Gerald Henry Saturday night at the local gymnasium.

STaubach Sinks Army, 34-14

Chief among those returnees is the boy whose exploits keyed the Navy triumph and mesmerized the vaunted Cadet defense—Roger Staubach.

Navy's entire squad starred with its exhibition of alert, tough football. But it was the "name" "Staubach" that constantly hummed through Philadelphia Stadium Saturday and has been the key word in post-game conversations since.

Very few have taken charge in this renowned classic the way Staubach did in view of the stadium crowd of 100,000 and the nationwide television audience. The strapping sophomore quarterback, with the physical talents and mental agility to become one of the great ones, plagued the frustrated Cadets all afternoon with his pinpoint passing, clutch runs and audacious field generalship.

Strangely enough, Staubach was not the outward personification of a poised and smooth performer. He often ran with the skittering awkwardness of a new colt. His passes sometimes looked like the desperation heaves of a sandlotter.

GOT RESULTS
But as someone remarked, "All he got was results." The 20-year-old Ohioan closed out a vital first varsity season with 10 pass completions in 12 attempts for 204 yards and two touchdowns, and scored two touchdowns himself. And even these impressive figures do not tell the whole Staubach story.

Time and again he was apparently trapped only to turn potential large losses into a vital gains with his dazzling passes and weaving runs. Time and again he was Staubach whose artful dodging kept Navy drives steaming.

Billy Moran, Albie Pearson, Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner played 100 games for the Los Angeles Angels last season.

STaubach Sinks Army, 34-14

Chief among those returnees is the boy whose exploits keyed the Navy triumph and mesmerized the vaunted Cadet defense—Roger Staubach.

Navy's entire squad starred with its exhibition of alert, tough football. But it was the "name" "Staubach" that constantly hummed through Philadelphia Stadium Saturday and has been the key word in post-game conversations since.

Very few have taken charge in this renowned classic the way Staubach did in view of the stadium crowd of 100,000 and the nationwide television audience. The strapping sophomore quarterback, with the physical talents and mental agility to become one of the great ones, plagued the frustrated Cadets all afternoon with his pinpoint passing, clutch runs and audacious field generalship.

Strangely enough, Staubach was not the outward personification of a poised and smooth performer. He often ran with the skittering awkwardness of a new colt. His passes sometimes looked like the desperation heaves of a sandlotter.

GOT RESULTS
But as someone remarked, "All he got was results." The 20-year-old Ohioan closed out a vital first varsity season with 10 pass completions in 12 attempts for 204 yards and two touchdowns, and scored two touchdowns himself. And even these impressive figures do not tell the whole Staubach story.

Time and again he was apparently trapped only to turn potential large losses into a vital gains with his dazzling passes and weaving runs. Time and again he was Staubach whose artful dodging kept Navy drives steaming.

Billy Moran, Albie Pearson, Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner played 100 games for the Los Angeles Angels last season.

under coach Chuck Schrader, Saturday, downing South Lyon, 54-48.

Kettering's trip to Oxford is expected to be a happy one for the Captains who are rated a strong chance to cop the Tri-County championship.

Oxford, however, will floor a veteran quietest highlighter by lowering 7-foot Dana Marlowe.

The Wildcats have visions of adding the South Central crown to their football championship.

The Holly-Fenton rivalry is such that the game invariably is rated a tossup regardless of the records. It is even more so this time because the contest comes so early in the season.

TOP SCORER
Emmanuel Christian will be trying to climb above the 500 mark against the Lakers. Ralph Wungate has been carrying the scoring load for the Lakers, scoring 56 points in two games.

Madison, rated an outside chance to pick up the marbles in the Oakland A, may experience some trouble at inexperienced Cranbrook. Although hit hard by graduation, the Cranes are being given a good chance for a successful season by coach Hugh Davidson.

Milford unleashed a balanced scoring attack against South Lyon to even its record at 1-1.

AAU Calls for Probe

DETROIT (AP)—The AAU of a coalition plan with U.S. Track and Field Federation and other track agencies. At the same time, the AAU decided Sunday to leave the door open for further negotiations with the NCAA-supported Federation.

AAU president Louis J. Fisher of High Point, N.C., said, "It is the duty of the U.S. Congress to investigate the NCAA and its puppet federations from top to bottom."

Fisher also offered Congress the AAU's full cooperation in making a similar investigation of his group.

A truce meeting called by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy last month in New York saw a coalition plan offered to settle the 2½ years of bickering between the rival groups over track power. However, the AAU executive committee approved a coalition plan last Thursday which the Federation charged repudiated the original agreement made in New York.

The question of whether the AAU for the proposed coalition will be the recognized ruling body for American participation in 1964 international track affairs appeared to be the basic issue.

The AAU has been recognized for many years by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which governs world track and field. The track federation wants this recognition to go to the coalition after the 1964 Olympic games.

AFL Honors at Stake

Dallas Texans' 'Back' Into Title Tilt

By The Associated Press
It wasn't exactly the way they would have liked to be crowned Western Division champions in the American Football League, but through fair means or foul, the Dallas Texans are ready for a title battle today with either the Houston Oilers or Boston Patriots.

The Texans backed into the title Sunday. They were beaten 23-14 by the Buffalo Bills but it didn't matter as second-place Denver lost its third in a row, 34-17 to the Oilers in the mud and rain at Houston. Houston's victory kept it one-half game ahead of the Patriots in the battle for the Eastern title following Boston's Friday night victory over New York.

The deposed Western Division titlist, the San Diego Chargers, threw off a six-game losing streak and extended Oakland's to 18 games with a 31-21 victory in the other scheduled game. The Raiders have not won since November, 1961, including 12 times this year.

RECORD RUSH

Dallas fell victim to the Bills' rejuvenated quarterback Jack Kemp and the record-breaking rushing of fullback Cookie Gilchrist. Kemp, back in action after an early-season hand injury while with San Diego, threw a pair of 1-yard TD passes and completed 21 passes for 230 yards. Gilchrist, the AFL's leading rusher, picked up 63 yards to set a season record of 985, five more than Billy Cannon's record-making total in 1961. It also helped Buffalo (6-6-1) break Dallas' season rushing record of 2,170. The Bills now have 2,183 with another game to play. Dallas (9-3) moved to within 16-14 late in the game as Len Dawson connected for two touchdown passes but Gilchrist's 2-yard TD burst finished the Texans. He also added a 3½-yard field goal.

The Oilers (9-3) making their patented late-season rush that has carried them to two divisional and league crowns, have won five straight. Again, it was old pro quarterback George Blanda who rose to the occasion, throwing for three touchdowns and kicking two field goals despite the atrocious conditions. Two of the scoring passes went to Cannon, but Houston had eight intercepted to help set a game record of 13 thefts.

BLANDA STARS

Gene Mingo upped his league-leading scoring total to 123 with a field goal and two conversions for the Broncos (7-6). Denver turned a fumble recovery and pass interception into a pair of scores and a brief 14-10 lead in the second period before Blanda hit Cannon and Charlie Hennigan with touchdown passes.

Battle of Pocketbook Begins Today With NFL

CHICAGO (AP)—The battle of the pocketbook between the rival professional football leagues begins today when the National Football League holds its annual player draft.

The NFL will select 280 players in 20 rounds with the Los Angeles Rams getting first pick and probably grabbing quarterback Terry Baker, the Heisman Award winner from Oregon State.

The American Football League held its draft Saturday and did not select Baker until San Diego picked him in the 12th round, an indication that Baker is headed for the NFL and AFL teams did not care to waste a high draft choice on him.

SIGNED FACT

For the same reason, Junior Buchanan, the 274-pound tackle from Grambling, is not expected to be a top choice in the NFL draft. Buchanan was Dallas' first choice in the AFL draft and was immediately signed to a contract. Because a player is drafted by one league doesn't mean he will not be drafted in the other league. The top players will be drafted by both leagues and that's when the battle of the pocketbook begins in getting the sought player to sign a contract.

Because of this, the first few rounds in the NFL draft will go slowly. Before selecting a player, the interested teams will try to contact him in order to make sure it has a chance of signing him.

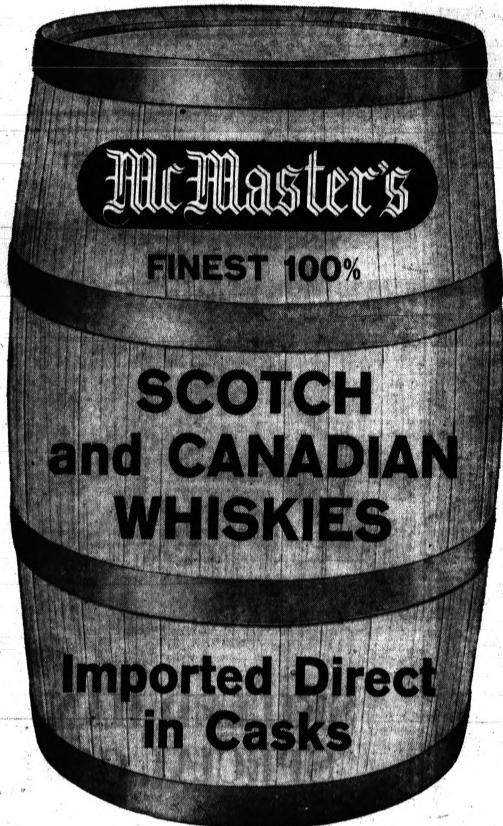

Aside from Buchanan's selection by Dallas, other first round choices in the AFL draft were Ed Walker, Syracuse (San Diego); halfback Jerry Stovall, LSU (New York); center Dave Behrman, Michigan State (Buffalo); halfback Kermit Alexander, UCLA (Denver); fullback Denny Brabham, Arkansas (Houston); end Art Graham, Boston College (Boston); tackle Ed Budde, Michigan State (Dallas).

Outstanding in quality! McMaster's 6 year old 100% Canadian Whisky and 100% Scotch Whisky are each skillfully distilled and fully matured in their native lands... They are light, mellow, and full flavored... delightful straight or mixed.

Why do these fine whiskies cost so much less?

Scotch and Canadian Whiskies, bottled abroad, are imported in cases. The import duties and Federal excise taxes must be paid on a minimum of 100 proof... even though they are actually less than, 100 proof.

We import fine McMaster's Whiskies in barrels at 100 proof or more and we pay the duty and excise taxes only on the actual proof. Then, just as they do in Canada and Scotland, we reduce the proof under careful supervision.

This substantial tax savings is passed on to you. If these fine whiskies were bottled abroad, they would cost you far more.

You can't buy finer imported Scotch or Canadian Whisky than McMaster's... WHY PAY MORE?

Just How Far Can Administration Go With Censorship?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public.

At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban version of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

During the night troops blocked the principal roads into Algiers, and police conducted a search operation in the city.

Official sources declined to explain the action. But it was believed connected with the arrest yesterday of a police divisional commissioner, Omar Harreg. He was accused of being a member of the underground Social Revolution party, which has severely criticized the government of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

The party has issued tracts calling for immediate and full land redistribution, nationalization of all major enterprises and a vast social benefit program.

The party's line follows closely that of the Algerian Communist party, which Ben Bella's government outlawed last week.

Last night, Mohammed Khider, secretary general of the Political Bureau, Algeria's policy-making body, spoke over the state radio—television network and called for a purge of persons blocking operation of the government.

He said special people's military courts will be set up to try offenders.

This happened last year to some 7,100 beneficiaries in Michigan and to more than 200,000 in the United States.

Two cards are required under the new pension law, one for veterans and the other for widows and children. These require statements on both income and net worth.

A fourth card is being mailed to dependent parents receiving pensions.

The Detroit manager explained the earlier mailing as a continuing step in VA's efforts to reduce the problems of processing the annual questionnaire.

President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

"To a remarkable degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news-making events, ranging from a backstage greeting (by Kennedy) to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in the Pacific are under firm presidential control."

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him. When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order. But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and twaddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels, in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Unrelenting need. Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

Then there is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

Federal officials, including the President and vice president, but not members of Congress, are subject to impeachment proceedings by the House of Representatives.

Army Rings Government in Algeria

ALGIERS (U) — About 200 heavily-armed troops of the Algerian National Army surrounded government headquarters today.

During the night troops blocked the principal roads into Algiers, and police conducted a search operation in the city.

Official sources declined to explain the action. But it was believed connected with the arrest yesterday of a police divisional commissioner, Omar Harreg. He was accused of being a member of the underground Social Revolution party, which has severely criticized the government of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

Shake-Up On Inside Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (U) — Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar ordered a sweeping cabinet shake-up today including the dismissal of Minister for Overseas Territories Adriano Moreira.

Moreira's replacement by Navy Cmdr. Peixoto Correia, a former governor of Portuguese Guinea, was believed due to a dispute with Salazar over colonial policy.

A reliable source said Moreira had been urging more autonomy for Portugal's restive possessions while Salazar wanted to keep the power in Lisbon.

Prof. Galvao Teles was named education minister, replacing Prof. Manuel Lopes de Almeida. The change was believed due to criticism of Lopes de Almeida's handling of recent student strikes.

The other changes — in seven cabinet posts and six subcabinet jobs — were considered normal routine replacements.

The charge was made in an article in the Saturday Evening Post written by the magazine's Washington editors Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett.

A spokesman for Stevenson said "the story... rests on the allegation that Ambassador Stevenson 'wanted to trade the Turkish, Italian and British bases for the Cuban bases.' The record will show that this is unfounded."

"The story further charges that Ambassador Stevenson dissented from the consensus of the President's (National Security Council) executive committee and preferred 'political negotiation' to the policy of the quarantine," the spokesman said.

"This is also untrue."

Soccer Players Kicked Into Clink by Blue Law

SHEFFIELD, England (UPI) — The soccer match had gone only 33 minutes yesterday when all 22 players were arrested.

They were charged with breaking a local law banning athletics on Sunday.

Reaps Benefit of Health Plan

LONDON (AP) — Lord Beveridge is benefiting from the welfare state he fathered.

Sunday was the 20th anniversary of the Beveridge report, the study drawn up in wartime Britain which led to the founding of the free National Health Service in 1948.

Leaning heavily on a stick, the 83-year-old economist told reporters: "I've had arthritis in my right leg and arm since I was 80. I see doctors everywhere and don't pay a farthing."

Van Lines in Business at New Warehouse

Stevens Van Lines, Inc., began doing business today from its newly acquired office and storage warehouse at 3565 Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township.

The new building is of fire-resisting masonry construction and the property includes a three-quarter acre fenced parking lot for trucks. The firm moved to its new location from 119 Gladstone Place.

NEEDS TWIN CARRIAGE — Edith Dowling's mother would like a twin carriage because her 8-month-old daughter, with 45-pound casts on both legs, is too heavy to carry. Edith was born with a dislocated hip. She is steered by her 4½-year-old sister Denise, in their Boston home.

Believes Prayer, Not Surgery, Will Save Child From Cancer

GLASGOW, Scotland (U-P) — A Scottish mother is putting her faith in prayer rather than surgery to save her 19-month-old daughter from a cancerous tumor on her right eye.

"I believe that prayer can do wonderful things," said Mrs. Mary McKeown, 35, a Roman Catholic.

"Despite what the doctors have said, I no longer think I am going to lose Margaret."

British doctors told Mrs. McKeown and her husband, Matthew, that the baby will die unless the tumor is removed. Margaret already has lost the sight of her left eye, and an operation would blind her.

The McKeowns took the baby to New York City last month after Mrs. Joseph Gales Ramsay of Reno, Nev., wife of a retired financier, offered to pay for surgery.

But doctors in New York gave no hope that an operation could save both Margaret's life and the sight of her remaining eye.

"I have wavered in discussions with my husband," said Mrs. McKeown. "He has tried to persuade me to let the doctors operate."

"But now he has accepted my decision because I have complete faith that Margaret will be cured without surgery."

"I am waiting and praying."

Special prayers were said yesterday for the baby and her parents at the Catholic church in Uddingston, just outside Glasgow.

After the service the parish priest visited the family and advised them to go ahead with the operation. But Mrs. McKeown was adamant.

A professional man in Nottingham, who asked to remain anonymous, said he was prepared to offer one of his eyes to Margaret.

But medical authorities said the technique of replacing a whole eye has not been mastered.

FBI Reveals Capturing One of Top 10 Criminals

WASHINGTON (U-P) — The FBI announced the capture of one of its 10 most-wanted criminals in Hollywood, Calif., apartment early today.

The FBI identified the man as John Kinchloe De Jarnette, 41, a native of Kentucky. They said he was placed on the most wanted list only last Friday in connection with three bank robberies totaling $100,000.

De Jarnette, slim, square-jawed and bushy-haired, had boasted he would not be taken alive and FBI agents found three fully loaded pistols in the apartment. They also found a briefcase filled with $5 and $100 bills and were in the process of counting it.

Also arrested at the apartment was Miss Doris Lee Nelson, 28, wanted on a Kentucky warrant charging her with fleeing the state to avoid prosecution for obtaining narcotics by fraud.

The FBI said Miss Nelson and De Jarnette registered at the apartment as Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson on Saturday.

They said both would be held at the Los Angeles County Jail pending arraignment today.

The bank robberies De Jarnette is charged with occurred over a 42-day period this fall.

He is charged in federal warrants with robbing the Seventh and Hill Branch of the Liberty National Bank & Trust Co. of Louisville, Ky., of almost $24,000 on Sept. 10; the Highland Branch of the same bank of more than $35,000 on Oct. 10; and the Madison Road branch of the Providence Bank in Cincinnati, Ohio, of more than $38,000 on Oct. 22.

He also was sought for violation of parole from a federal penitentiary.

U. S. Eying Neutrals' Ban Ideas

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States said today it is interested in neutral proposals for resolving the nuclear test ban deadlock but warned the Soviet Union would have to change its position before they could lead to a treaty.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference his government is giving "careful consideration" to proposals made last week by Sweden and India for ending the test ban deadlock.

Dean said the most interesting points in the two proposals made by the neutrals last week were those concerned with international on-site inspection of suspected underground blasts.

"We believe that any agreement must contain provisions for detecting and inspecting these concomitant with the obligation to cease testing," he said.

Dean warned the Soviet Union would have to change its position regarding inspection before the neutral resolutions bore fruit.

"The American delegate reiterated his country's opposition to an uncontrolled moratorium on testing, because of the way the Russians broke the last moratorium in 1961."

'OPPOSE ARRANGEMENT'
"We oppose such an arrangement and will not enter into such an arrangement again," he said. "We have had a sad, experience with an unsuspected obligation or pledge to cease tests. Now, quite frankly, the shoe is on the other foot."

"Now is the time for the other side to come forward and try an adequately controlled agreement banning all tests, as we tried the unsuspected arrangement."

Dean said Sweden's suggestion that an international scientific commission be set up to police a test ban, and serve as the nucleus of the proposed international disarmament organization "offers some interesting comments."

'A Rude Affront'

Robinson Notes Heart Attack

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "It was a rude affront," says Edward G. Robinson of the heart attack he suffered in an African film location.

"It's one of those little stumbling blocks that you encounter along the way. The only thing to do is to kick it aside and keep on going."

The actor is back in his Beverly Hills home, surrounded by the great French impressionist paintings he loves — "They're like old friends."

He makes little of the attack that felled him in Tanganyika June 18.

"I had a little pain after dinner and it persisted for two or three hours," he said. "Not much would have been made of it, except that people in the company started getting worried and sent for a doctor. They started with cardiograms and all that, and there was much excitement."

"Actually it wasn't much," Robinson added. "Of course, anything that has to do with the ticker is important, but this was just a little warning—an insufficiency, they called it."

Afterward I asked the doctor who was flown down from London what would have happened if I had just gone to sleep after I was sick. He said I probably would have gotten up the next morning feeling okay and would have gone right back to work with no ill effects."

BEDRIDDEN 4 WEEKS

Robinson was bedded for three weeks in Africa and one in London. "That's what makes you sick—lying on your back," he complained. "By the time they took you up, you have to learn to walk again."

He had acted in a third of his scenes before the attack and finished with five weeks of work in England. They moved Africa to Shepperton studios. Then he came home.

His activities now? "The same as before," he said. "I feel great. There are a few things I'm supposed to watch, but otherwise my life hasn't changed. Have a cigar?"

I declined, but he lit one with satisfaction. "I asked the London doctor if I would have to give up smoking," he said. "He told me, 'Well, since you've been smoking all your life, I see no reason why you shouldn't continue.' I told him, 'You're my doctor.'"

The U.S. will need to increase food production by two and one-half times the present rate to meet the nation's needs in the year 2000.

Mr. Shnoo loved animals more than anything.

Shnellingham Shnoo Buys a Most Fantabulous Zoo

By LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER ONE

Once upon a time there was a man named Shnellingham Shnoo who loved animals more than anything in the world.

When he was a small boy he collected tropical fish and turtles and hamsters. As he grew older his collection grew to include raccoons and monkeys and snakes.

By the time he was a young man he was collecting tigers and zebras and even giraffes!

Finally, Mr. Shnoo bought a zoo. It was an old rundown place owned by a man named Crookshank.

This man did not love animals. He kept them in cages so small they hardly had room to turn around.

He gave them very little food and he did not heat their houses and he never spoke kindly to them.

Crookshank was glad to sell the zoo because he loved money as much as Mr. Shnoo loved animals.

Mr. Shnoo was so anxious to have the animals that he agreed to pay much more than the zoo was worth. It was going to take him 10 years to pay for it.

It was arranged that he would pay 1,000 gold pieces each year. If in any year he could not pay it he would lose both the zoo and all the gold he had already paid.

Furthermore, Crookshank insisted that until the zoo was entirely paid for, he himself would continue to live there.

These were very hard terms but Mr. Shnoo was so happy to have the zoo he did not mind too much. He immediately set about improving things for the animals.

He built an aquarium and filled it with strange fish from all over the world. For the birds, he built an enormous cage that was glassed in for winter. He enlarged the elephant house and built an outdoor pool for the hippopotamus.

He erected a beautiful building for the monkeys and a separate house for the snakes. He called the zoo Shnoo's Zoo (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Confined to Apartment
Despite Better Health

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appears well on his way back to resuming his normal duties after a week of battling a stomach disorder and serious anemia.

Despite the improvement in his condition, Pope John still was confined to his apartment and his audiences were not resumed. An audience for I. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, former Argentine provisional president, was canceled.

The Pope's personal physician has returned to his home in Bologna, expressing confidence. There are indications that the pontiff may take part in the ceremonies closing the first session of the Second Vatican Council next weekend.

The supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church made his first public appearance in a week Sunday.

He stood for four minutes at the open window of his apartment, unshielded from cold gusts sweeping St. Peter's Square, to give his usual Sunday blessing to the crowd below.

Expect Rain to Cut Into Ideal Weather

As the saying goes, "all good things must come to an end," — so it is with the weather. Mostly cloudy skies with a chance of a little drizzle is tomorrow's prediction with a high of 54 expected, following a low of 36 tonight. Precipitation will total .4 of an inch or less in a few showers tomorrow and again near the end of the week, when temperatures will turn cooler. Today's winds are light and variable; they will become southerly at 5 to 15 miles an hour tonight. Forty-one was the lowest temperature recording preceding 8 a.m. today. At 1 p.m. the thermometer read a mild 58.

On Dock, Space Workers

JFK to Get T-H Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gets reports today from two Taft-Hartley law emergency boards he named in stopping strikes by East Coast dock employees and Lockheed aerospace workers.

In another development related to a major labor controversy on the nation's railroads, gathered here for a huddle to determine their next legal step in fighting worker layoffs threatened by the carriers.

Of the three disputes a renewed strike by the 60,000 dock workers appears to be the most imminent.

The workers ended an earlier strike after the administration on Oct. 6 obtained an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions.

The emergency board studying this case is expected to report to the White House that there still is a tight deadlock between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, and shipowners and stevedore firms.

STRIKE THREAT

The next step will be a vote on the employers' last settlement offer, rejected by the union. A worker turnout of the offer, which officials say they expect, will mean a real threat of a pier strike on Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Dec. 23 when the 80-day injunction runs out.

The Lockheed labor dispute is an earlier stage of development.

Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley provisions in this case last Wednesday to end a walkout that had started earlier that day.

On Thursday, the striking International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, called off its walkout at the government's request.

The report from the Lockheed emergency board is expected simply to recite a negotiating deadlock. It is strictly a formality that, under the law, will enable the government to go ahead with application for an 80-day court injunction barring a further strike.

The time lag will enable government mediators and the special board headed by Prof. Arthur M. Ross, director of the University of California Institute of Industrial Relations, to try new peace moves.

The chief issue in dispute between Lockheed and the machinists is the union's demand for a union shop arrangement, requiring employees to be union members.

Red Armies Smaller, Haven't Gone—Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today the Chinese Communists may have thinned out the advance units of their invasion armies, but they have not withdrawn them.

The Chinese reported their troops had pulled back in at least one sector in partial fulfillment of Peking's one-sided cease-fire proclamation. Indian sources reported apparent withdrawal in another sector.

Nehru, however, told Parliament there were "signs of withdrawal in the rear—in the front positions they might have been thinned out, but they have not withdrawn."

He added that "the position is rather confused and therefore it is not easy to make a precise statement."

Two members of Nehru's Cabinet vowed an eventual resumption of the battle rather than acceptance of Peking's terms. India's frontline commanders told a generals, provided the workers approve the idea by a two-thirds margin. Lockheed has declined to permit such a poll or be bound by its outcome.

An earlier White House board had recommended the union shop subject to two-thirds approval by employees.

The rail dispute has been a continuing one all year. The carriers are trying to abolish up to 65,000 jobs they claim are now obsolete. Still another White House board recommended more gradual reduction, originally confined to locomotive firemen. The unions have been resisting any layoffs.

No Appointees Yet—Romney

Next Governor Plans Careful Assessment

LANSING (UPI) — Gov.-Elect George Romney said today his plans for setting up his new administration are developing rapidly, but he has made no definite decisions on appointments.

All such designations will be based on competence, character and capacity," he said.

In elaborating, Romney said, "in the process of taking a look (at possible appointees) I expect to weigh fully the competence, character and capacity of present incumbents."

"I do not expect to make a wholesale removal."

But, said Romney, who will become Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years when he is inaugurated Jan. 1, "I will not exclude the partisan consideration."

"Partisan identification is not a minus sign, it's not a controlling sign. But other things being equal, it's certainly a consideration."

Romney told a news conference, the first he has held since returning from a two-week post-election vacation, one of the first appointments he will make is that of state controller.

He said four men are under consideration for the post, but neither Walter de Vries nor L. William Sedman, members of his interim cabinet, who had been considered front runners for the post in first speculation, are among the candidates.

TO ACT THIS MONTH

"I contemplate acting on that appointment during December and obviously it is one of the most important from a time standpoint," he said.

Romney expressed concern during the hour-long news conferences over the fact "budget processes are not as far advanced now as they were a year ago." "The principal reason," he said, "is that this was an election year."

Because of the delay in drafting a budget, the governor-elect said, "Obviously there is not adequate time for submission of a budget that could be called with reservation a Romney budget."

"It must reflect to a considerable extent going programs. But we do expect to do the best job we can in the time available and expect to have some impact on the character of the budget."

Romney also said because of the new school aid formula and planned steps in the state capital budget, even if all other appropriations were omitted at the same level, would be up $18 million over the $512 million appropriated for fiscal 1963.

I-75 Section of 12 1/2 Miles to Open Dec. 11

A 12 1/2-mile section of I-75 freeway from Pontiac's northeast corner to Dixie Highway west of Clarkston will be opened to traffic Dec. 11.

State Highway Department officials today indicated a small ceremony will mark the opening. The new link will give motorists uninterrupted freeway travel from Pontiac to the Straits of Mackinac.

A 2.4-mile stretch from the Dixie Highway intersection to U. S. 31 southwest of Flint was opened Oct. 25.

The freeway is expected to be completed southward to 11-Mile Road in Madison Heights by the end of 1963.

The Pontiac area opening will bring the total of freeway miles in Michigan to 953. On Dec. 12, the total will go over the 1,000-mile mark, when the final 5 1/2-mile section of the Detroit-Lansing-Muskegon Freeway (I-96) will be opened.

The 51 miles extends from Lake Clemens Road between Brighton and Howell in Livingston County to old U. S. 16 west of Lansing.

Marshals on Scene

S. Dakota Town Riled Up

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — Federal Marshals meet here tonight to map strategy for their invasion of Mound City, a village where zealous town folk and farmers threaten "another Mississippi" to keep from turning over government records they have locked in a barricaded building.

The county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was moved this week from Mound City, the county seat with a population of less than 200 to Herried, population 633, eight miles north.

Half of the record were moved to the new ASCS building in Herried, but Mound City area folks foiled attempts to take the rest.

They locked the ASCS office and sandbagged the front. They threatened to fight if anyone comes for the records.

For years Mound City has been wary of any thought of moving the county seat. Mound City fears that if the ASCS records go to Herried, the courthouse may be the next to go.

CRITICAL SITUATION

"If they call the U.S. marshals out, someone might get his head blown off," one Mound City businessman said. A farmer said Mound City will never give up its fight to keep the ASCS office.

"The government is trying to scare us," he said. "We've been through too much to get scared."

Many people in Mound City have a financial interest in the

DPs Elect to Return to Ruined Isle

LONDON (AP) — After 13 months of modern life, the refugees from Tristana da Cunha have elected to return to their volcano-ravaged island, it was announced today. The vote was 148 to 5.

By this secret ballot the islanders decided to return in late 1963 to their isolated homeland in the South Atlantic and turn their backs on traffic problems, television, big movie houses and other refinements of civilization. The vote was organized by Britain's colonial office among islanders over 21.

The 260 islanders were brought here when the volcano on their island — an island with a total coastline of only 21 miles — erupted, threatening their lives and homes.

Since arriving here, most of the islanders have been living at government-provided quarters at the island, but far from comfortable Royal Air Force camp near Southampton.

'DECISION MADE'
A colonial office spokesman said that now that the decision to return had been made, the bulk of the islanders will be in Tristan da Cunha by the end of next year.

The weather will be suitable for resettlement toward the close of next year, which is the summer period in Tristan.

Twelve chosen representatives were sent to inspect the island a few months ago and to discover if it was fit for repopulation. They decided it was. A large amount of restoration must be done to get homes and their fishing industry ready.

Many of them have complained about the weather here, saying Britain is damp and cold. Others have been frightened by the traffic. While some have liked TV — which they never saw before coming here — many said they would be just as happy without it.

Tristan da Cunha was discovered in 1566 by the Portuguese Admiral Tristão da Cunha, and annexed by Britain in 1816. The people are said to be descendants of shipwrecked sailors, settlers of British origin and women from the island of St. Helena.

temperatures climbed to record highs for the date Sunday in many cities, with the mercury reaching into the 60s in many sections.

U.N. SUPPORTERS — Among the sponsors of the new Rochester Area Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations are (from left) Mrs. Walter P. Reuther, Prof. Charles O. Hucker of Michigan State University Oakland, Mrs. Lawrence S. Shepard and Mrs. Wood M. Geist. Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Geist are temporary co-chairmen of the group, which held an open house and signed up 52 members at MSUO yesterday.

52 Residents Sign Charter

Form Rochester Unit for U.N.

A total of 52 Rochester area residents yesterday signed up as charter members of a new chapter of the American Association for the United Nations (AAUN) at an open house held by an organizing committee.

Some 60 persons attended the meeting at Michigan State University Oakland to hear a talk by guest speaker Mrs. Philip Gentile, a United Nations observer for the Adult Education Association, which is supported by the Ford Foundation.

Mrs. Wood M. Geist, 6360 Dequindre Road, Washington Township, said the turnout was "very heartening" and termed the meeting successful.

Mrs. Geist and Mrs. Lawrence S. Shepard, 229 Rochdale St., Avon Township, are temporary co-chairmen of the group.

An organizational meeting to establish the chapter's structure and elect officers is scheduled for Jan. 22 at MSUO.

Purpose of the group is to build an educational program to support the United Nations. Chairman of yesterday's program, Mrs. Walter P. Reuther, said the new chapter was being formed because "each one of us is interested in doing what he can to bring peace in our world."

Mrs. Geist urged participation in the new chapter as a means of "working with other people to build a stronger and safer world."

To be known as the Rochester Area Chapter of the AAUN, the group will draw its members from the Pontiac, Utica and Romeo areas, as well as from Rochester.

GUESTS PRESENT
Guests at the meeting included Robert W. Peden, president of the state division of the AAUN; Dr. Robert Frehe, vice president of the Detroit chapter and director of the Detroit Round Table of Christians and Jews; and Mrs. Warren Cooksey, president of the Detroit chapter.

Also present was Harold Chalk, president of the Oakland County chapter, whose membership is concentrated in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Township areas.

Others active in the formation of the Rochester area group are several MSUO faculty members, including Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of political science; Charles O. Hucker, professor of history; and Gerald Straka, assistant professor of history.

Rochester School Superintendent Donald C. Baldwin, Dr. Edward J. Geist of Rochester and Addison Township Supervisor Frank Webber also are among the organization's sponsors.

JFK to Hear Results on India

Harriman to Discuss
2-Week Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's returned to the White House today for a rundown from W. Averell Harriman on the results of his two-week trip to India and Pakistan.

Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern Affairs, was believed prepared to give the president a rather encouraging report on his mission.

Harriman has expressed hope that a long border dispute between India and Pakistan might be on the verge of being settled and also was said to feel India has made judicious use of U.S. military aid in its border conflict with Red China.

The president arrived by helicopter at 9:30 a.m. (Pontiac time) from the first family's northern Virginia retreat near Middleburg, Va.

Kennedy asked the executive committee of the National Security Council to join him and Harriman for their 10 a.m. conference.

Harriman returned to Washington Saturday from a two-fold mission on the president's orders.

One aim was to try to determine the extent of India's military requirements in coping with the Red Chinese invasion. The other was to assure Pakistan that American aid to India would not be used in the 15-year Indian-Pakistan quarrel over Kashmir.

Harriman was reported to have brought back with him from New Delhi a long list of requests for additional U.S. aid.

The president attended the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia Saturday, then went to Glen Ora to spend the remainder of the weekend with his family. He and Mrs. Kennedy attended Mass at the Rochester Community Center yesterday.

Armed Bandit Holds Up Market, Flees With $3

An armed bandit fled with $3 Saturday afternoon after handing a note demanding all the money in the cash register to Ludwig LaBarge, owner of Ludwig's Market, 2548 Elizabeth Lake Road.

LaBarge told police the robber held a gun in his right hand while thrusting the note at him with his left. He was described as in his late 30s, single, in stature and having blond hair.

Freight Cars With Atomic Cargo Derail

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Two special freight cars of classified Atomic Energy Commission materials in charge of five couriers derailed along with 22 other cars and three locomotives today.

Two of the couriers were slightly injured in the derailment of a Louisville and Nashville Railroad freight at Kennesaw, Ga., about six miles north of Marietta.

An AEC spokesman at the Albuquerque, N.M., Atomic Weapons Research Center, emphasized that the derailed materials constituted no hazard to health or safety.

Mr. Shnoo looked and gasped. "Goodness! Why didn't you give it to me sooner?"

"Forgot," said Crookshank. "Impossible!" cried Mr. Shnoo. He stared in awe at the envelope. There, scrawled in red letters, were the words: "To Mr. Shnoo at the Zoo from Mr. S. Claus at Santa Land."

Tomorrow: Mr. Shnoo's Decision.

Copyright 1962

When Mr. Shnoo heard this he was very excited. He felt that no finer zoo than his existed and he was sure he would win the 1,000 gold pieces.

He very much needed the gold because his last payment to Crookshank was due on Christmas eve and he had spent so much money building up the zoo that he really did not have the gold to pay.

Now he felt that his troubles would soon be over; the zoo would be all his; Crookshank would be gone, and he could do even finer things for his animals.

He rushed about the zoo spreading the good news. He promised Molly, the hippopotamus, he would buy her a husband; he told Herbert and Louise, the giraffes, he would build them a grape arbor; and to Blue Lady, the parakeet, he promised a bottomless bowl of honey.

As he left the bird house he ran into Crookshank who handed him a letter.

"Come yesterday," said Crookshank. "I got it from the postman."

Nehru Says Reds Not Withdrawn

be used only to resist Chinese aggression.

The New China News Agency reported a withdrawal of Communist Chinese troops in the Walong area at the extreme eastern end of the 1,500-mile border line.

Walong, 15 miles west of the Burma border, fell to the Chinese in an offensive that subsequently carried them 90 miles down the Lahit River valley toward the plains of Assam.

High Indian military sources were quoted as saying Chinese troops still held positions in the Lahit Valley.

A dispatch from a Chinese correspondent in Walong said scores of peasants gave the withdrawing Chinese newly harvested sweet potatoes and bananas and "called down blessings on them."

The Chinese broadcast said nothing about withdrawals elsewhere, but authoritative Indian sources at Tezpur said the Chinese seem to have withdrawn 20 miles on the northeastern front, apparently the Bomdila area.

The area is some 300 miles west of Walong and is the scene of the Chinese penetration toward the fertile populous Assam plains.

There was no word from either side on the situation in Ladakh, key area in the five-year old border contest. In regarding important sections of Peking's peace terms, Nehru has said China's provisions would leave it in possession of 2,000 square miles of Ladakh.

The area, bleak and uninhabited, is important to China for its strategic road it has built linking the Sining Province with captive Tibet.

Scout Executive Gets Jackson Post

Van R. Braidwood, an executive of the Pontiac District of Boy Scouts of America since 1954, has been named to a similar post in Jackson. No successor has been named.

He will be given special assignments in his new post.

The Pontiac District contains about a quarter of the Clinton Valley District of Scouts.

Members of the Pontiac Boy Scouts honored Braidwood at a farewell dinner arranged for him last week.

Probe Blaze; Death Linked to Suffocation

The Pontiac fire marshal's office today was probing an early morning house fire in which a 60-year-old Pontiac man died apparently of suffocation.

The fire was reported at midnight in a 1½-story frame home at 480 Franklin Road.

Firemen found the body of James Brown, owner of the home, two rooms away from a bathroom in which the fire had apparently started.

Brown was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, after failing to respond to inhalator treatment.

The fire gutted the bathroom, but firemen kept it from spreading to the rest of the house. Damage was estimated at $1,250.

Elementary Curriculum to Include Languages

BIRMINGHAM — Foreign language instruction in the Birmingham School District, already offered to junior and senior high school students, is scheduled to be introduced in the elementary school curriculum next fall.

In a report to the Board of Education, Mrs. Louise Couture, coordinator of the elementary and secondary foreign language program, said a total of 3,925 junior and senior high students now are taking languages.

Russian is being offered for the first time this year. However, French is the most popular language in the district, which presently has 1,876 students enrolled in that course.

The languages are taught by the audio-lingual method, explained Mrs. Couture.

Students begin by listening and speaking, later read and write the language.

An "in-service workshop," third to be held this year, will take place among 30 instructors who teach languages in the district.

Hugh W. McIntyre, 40, of 15548 Kirkshire, will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Service for Paul H. Droege, 14, of 1590 Fairway Drive, was to be held at 3 p.m. today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with cremation to follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

He died Saturday night in an auto accident in Bloomfield Township. Surviving besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Droege, are a sister, Susan, at home, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes of Vero Beach, Fla.

Walter Kadell
Service for Walter Kadell, 65, of 1264 Lenthil Court, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Kadell died unexpectedly Saturday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

He was a member of Charles Edward Post, American Legion; the Senior Men's Club of Birmingham; and the McDowell Church of Pontiac.

He was a retired sales representative. Surviving besides his wife Loraine are a daughter Mrs. Edward Wright of Indianapolis, Ind., a son, Walter R. of Nankin Township; and seven grandchildren.

JOHN C. KRAUSS
Service for John C. Krauss, 15, of 1800 W. Lincoln Road, will be 4 p.m. tomorrow at Christ Church of Cranbrook. Cremation will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

He died Saturday night in an auto accident in the Bloomfield Township. His body is at the local post office of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Surviving besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Krauss, are a brother, and grandparents, Mrs. Marion Wield of Yucapah, Calif., and Hazen Purdy of Dade City, Fla.

Draft Call Includes
30 From County
Michigan's draft call for January will affect 30 registrants in Oakland County and a total of 276 in the state, Michigan Selective Service Director Col. Arthur A. Holmes said today.

Holmes said the 12 months of 1962 saw 60,632 Michigan men registered by local boards. All men are required to be registered on their 18th birthday.

The January draft call will include only registrants of at least 22 years of age, except for volunteers who are accepted between the ages of 17 and 26.

Closing the ASCS office has affected business in Mound City. Albin Herman, said reopening town's only safe, said reopening of the office would provide a lot of business.

The ASCS program is hurting too. With all the records in each town, ASCS officials have been handicapped. The agency administrators look bank loans and handles other Agriculture Department functions.

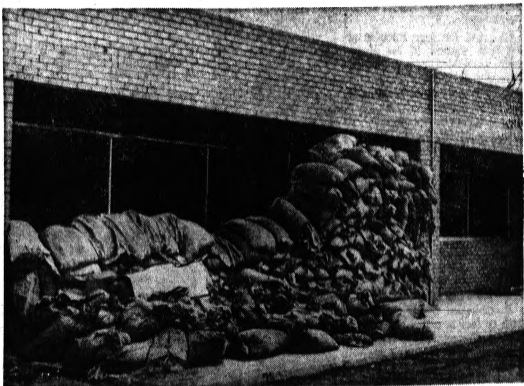

Travis Lewin of Sioux Falls, assistant U.S. district attorney, met with more than 200 Mound City farmers and their wives Saturday night. He said marshals will be sent unless the records are surrendered.

Lewin told the group, gathered in the grade school gymnasium, "if we can't voluntarily get the records we will have to send marshals in."

"If anyone attempts to stop the marshals, and you know what happened in Mississippi — the marshal will be required to take steps to protect themselves."

"He advised the Mound City people, 'if you want to fight, fight it legally.'"

The Justice Department's position, he said, is unconditional surrender of the record. He said the government will use whatever force is necessary and lawful.

Cites Evidence Leaders Talk Under Tranquilizers

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Author Eugene Burdick claimed yesterday "there was abundant evidence" the nation's leaders are paralyzing their emotions with tranquilizers while debating the vital issue of war or peace.

"The higher you go in the pyramid of power," he said, "the surer is the indication of finding unbalanced people at the top."

Burdick, co-author of "Fail Safe" and "The Ugly American," charged that there is "an abnormally high" consumption of tranquilizers in Washington and "no one can say that these drugs help in achieving wisdom in the vital decisions made there."

The best-selling author addressed the final session of a three-day symposium on the prospects for democracy, sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Burdick did not elaborate on the use of tranquilizers but protested the growing complexity that seemingly necessitates their use.

"These men now in power in our government are already near collapse under the tremendous weight of scientific knowledge placed upon them," he said, urging instead a return to a principle of simplicity in which "Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Khrushchev would simply say, 'Let's turn off the arms race.'"

Because of similarities between the United States and Pakistan, a study is being made of their native plants which could be useful in this country.

Teacher Finds Lesson a Loss

SPRINGFIELD, N.H. (AP) — Penacook High School's hunting safety instructor was recovering today from a shoulder wound suffered in a hunting accident.

Warren Miller, 15, teaches the high school safety course. Miller, 15, was shot in the right shoulder by a juvenile hunting companion.

About $365 million, or more than twice as much money is paid annually for operas, concert and opera tickets and recordings in America than for sports events.

Big Fellow, Small Vent

San Jose, Calif. (UPI) — Police today asked by Roger R. Hadden, 20, of Redondo Beach, Calif.

They would like to know how the suspect managed to squeeze through a 6-inch by 11-inch air vent to escape from jail.

MAKE OVER PAGES Expect Red-U.S. Clash on U.N. Funds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A Soviet-U.S. clash is expected over a resolution to make all U.N. members legally responsible for sharing the cost of the U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East.

The resolution, sponsored by the United States and nine other countries, proposes acceptance of the World Court's July 20 advisory opinion that costs of the peace-keeping forces constitute "expenses of the organization" which the U.N. charter says "shall be borne by the members as apportioned" by the General Assembly.

SEEK SUGGESTIONS
A companion proposal, sponsored by the United States and eight other countries, calls for a 15-member working group to give the assembly suggestions by next April 1 on methods of financing similar costly U.N. peace-keeping operations in the future.

Brig. J. H. Price of Canada was to introduce both resolutions this afternoon in the assembly's 110-nation budgetary committee.

Soviet delegates said privately the Soviet Union would vote against accepting the court opinion and would never pay any part of the Congo or Middle East expenses no matter how the assembly voted.

Arab delegates said they could not vote to accept the court opinion because they refuse to help pay for the Middle East force. Latin-American delegates have been drawing up a proposal to amend the second resolution. The Latin Americans want the cost of peace-keeping operations assessed separately from the yearly U.N. budget, and they want the permanent members of the Security Council—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China—to pay a larger share of such costs than they do of the regular budget. The United States pays 30 percent of the annual U.N. budget but has paid nearly half of the cost of the U.N. Congo force. This extra contribution has been on a voluntary basis.

Sponsors of the two resolutions were reported confident that at least the one accepting the court opinion would get the two-thirds vote needed for final adoption in the assembly.

A key question was how many countries that do not pay any peace-keeping costs would vote to make themselves legally responsible to pay. Fifty have never paid for the Congo operation, and 36 have never paid for the Middle East operation.

Expect Lab Report on Body Remnants

TONIA (AP)—A laboratory report from Lansing was awaited today in the case of a decomposed body found near the outskirts of Ionia Saturday.

A rabbit hunter, Dale Shattuck, 22, of Ionia, found the skull and other bones while hunting.

A change purse and a single-shot 22-caliber rifle lay near the body.

Ionia County Sheriff Peter Vanvick said he believed the body was that of Norton Bloomer, 51, an Ionia taxi driver missing since Dec. 10, 1956.

2nd Trial Faces Young Slayer

Summon Prospective Jurors in Texas

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI)—John Mack Herring, 19, a former Odessa, Tex., schoolboy who kissed his 17-year-old sweetheart goodby, then shot her to death, starts his second murder trial today.

A special 200-man venire of prospective jurors has been summoned for the change of venue trial.

Herring's chief defense counsel, John Burnett, indicated he would file motions to dismiss the trial because a jury at Kermit, Tex., ruled last February that Herring was insane at the time he killed Elizabeth Jean Williams.

Dist. Atty. Dan Sullivan denied that Herring is being placed in double jeopardy and said he would base his case on premeditated murder. The prosecution has subpoenaed 17 witnesses, 16 of whom testified at the Kermit trial. The defense has not yet called its witnesses.

Jury selection was expected to take several days.

At the Kermit trial in February, Herring testified he killed the pretty schoolgirl in March of 1961 at her own request. Herring said he and the girl chatted happily en route to a stockpond near Notrees, Tex., where she died.

On the day of his arrest he talked freely about the killing.

"On the way out there we talked about her friends. She was cheerful and chatted about how happy she was going to be dead. She wasn't sad. She was happy. We talked about all sorts of things. She kept saying what it was going to be like in heaven," Herring told officers.

The eight-man, four-woman jury at Kermit ruled that Herring was insane at the time of the shotgun killing but did not rule on his sanity at the time of the trial. The Texas Supreme Court overruled the verdict on grounds that Herring's sanity at the time of the trial should have been determined.

Nab Skunk Freeloading at Cages in Philly Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A free-loading skunk has been speaking at night into the camel, kangaroo and penguin cages at Philadelphia Zoo.

Zoo officials caught him Saturday night. They'll continue to feed him, but the skunk will have to go on display and let folks look at him during the day, just like the zoo's other five skunks.

English Civil Service to Insure Tax Collectors

LONDON (UPI)—The Civil Service Clerical Association said today it is taking out a special insurance policy for members, especially tax collectors and welfare workers.

They will be insured against attacks by angry citizens.
