United Fund Seeks $612,202 for 1957

October 23 Set for Drive Start in Pontiac Area

Twenty-Three Service Organizations Benefit From Contributions

The Pontiac Area United Fund will seek $612,202 during a three week drive between October 23 and November 16, top UF officials announced today.

UF President William B. Hartman and 1956 Campaign Director Walter K. Willman said 14 Community Chest agencies and nine United Fund agencies will be financed in 1957 by contributions to the 1956 fund drive.

The 1956 campaign goal is an increase of 8.9 per cent over last year's goal of $562,175.

Of the current goal, $360,473 will be given Community Chest agencies, with $148,355 going to United Fund agencies and the Michigan United Fund.

Administrative expenses will cost $32,000, with an additional $16,168 earmarked for campaign expenses. The UF Board of Trustees also voted to set aside $55,000 as a pledge loss reserve.

The campaign and administrative costs account for less than eight per cent of the goal.

RED CROSS RAISED

Several United Fund agencies will receive substantial increases in their 1957 operating budgets. A $73,100 share of the total goal will go the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

This is a 5.9 per cent increase over that given Red Cross in 1956. The American Cancer Society (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

How About It, City Hall? Let's Get Rid of Starlings

You may have noticed They're back.

Yes, those pesky, pestiferous starlings have descended once more upon certain hapless residential districts of Pontiac. The late evening is made hideous by their chirping and by their incessant flying from one roost to another.

One irate citizen on Cherokee road unsheathed his trusty muzzle loader and opened fire on the exasperating flocks.

His aim was good.

Several fell to an ignoble death.

But the balance of the flock didn't seem to be particularly impressed. What's the loss of a few starlings when there are millions more to make up the deficit?

Oh, a few flew away.

Some circled and returned.

And — so help me Hannah — some didn't even budge out of the tree from which their brother had just departed with such finality. A few on limbs immediately adjacent to the killing merely blinked.

It's discouraging.

Various devices have been tried in the past by civic authorities. Some work and some don't. Some work one year and not the next. The whole problem is sufficiently acute to justify civic investigation. It's too big for a private citizen. One humble householder can't declare war on thousands and thousands of starlings without assistance.

Perhaps it's too big for the City Hall.

We don't know.

We aren't critical.

We'd just like to see the city authorities give it the old college try and see what can be accomplished for the peace of mind and more sanitary living of the citizens who pay the taxes and don't roost in trees.

Britain Recalls Troops, General From Germany

Planes Ready to Move Men to Mediterranean, Troopships Speeded

LONDON (INS) — A top British general—and reportedly a full infantry division—were recalled from Germany today as the world digested Prime Minister Anthony Eden's warning that Britain never will accept Egypt's Suez Canal seizure.

Eden brought to London "for consultations" the brilliant Lt. Gen. Hugh Stockwell. He has been commanding the First Corps of the British Army in West Berlin.

There were immediate reports Stockwell will be appointed commander of British Mediterranean forces in view of his past experience in that area.

Meanwhile at Hurn and Blackbushe Airports, mechanics tuned up civilian planes in preparation for a big troop airlift into the Mediterranean—the biggest in Britain's peacetime history.

At the same time, the government decided to move back the sailing of the troopship Dilwara from Southampton to Friday instead of Sunday.

It also was disclosed 28 merchant vessels already have been chartered to carry troops into the area.

From Cyprus, Gov. John Harding told the Times of London the island is running smoothly as a British base, is not affected by "terrorists," and can make available special forces for any outside emergency.

Reports from Malta said "vast consignments" of military equipment and stores were being unloaded at British bases for "a massive military buildup."

As Eden held a morning meeting at 10 Downing St. with his top aides, rumors were rife in London the 2nd Infantry Division will be recalled from Germany to replace troops moving closer to the canal zone.

The 2nd Division Infantrymen would become "strategic reserves," ready to proceed to the Middle East if necessary.

This would leave two British armored divisions and one infantry division in Germany.

Wheeler Nominated in Sixth by 3 Votes

An unofficial check of Tuesday's vote in the sixth county legislative district, made by the county canvassing board this afternoon indicates that Bruce P. Wheeler has won the Republican nomination by a three vote margin. The revised count, while not yet official, gives Wheeler 980 and Gordon D. Haupt 977. A tabulating error in the district Tuesday night gave Haupt 1077 votes. Democrats in the district renominated Walter T. McMahon, incumbent.

Reds to Join Suez Talks

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet Russia announced today it will participate in the international conference on the Suez Canal dispute — under certain conditions.

Ortonville Entry Wins Fair Honor

BEST FLOAT — The Wonder Workers 4-H members of Ortonville smiled in victory when judges announced their float won first prize in last night's parade of floats at the 4-H fairgrounds, Perry Street at Walton Boulevard. The 4-H motto furnished the theme of the float, "4-H to Make the Best Better." Main attractions on the float were a live calf, chicken and duck.

Dress Review on Tonight

Floats, Livestock Fair Highlights

Ortonville 4-H Club members grabbed top honors in the Parade of Floats at the County 4-H Fair last night, and three pigs were grabbed for different honors, as fair weather drew thousands to the fairgrounds.

The Wonder Workers of Ortonville captured the float pageant top prize with their creation of 4-H projects under a banner "4-H To Make the Best Better." The three pigs were the prizes in the annual greased pig scramble, which gives young members a chance to win a valuable prize and future project.

Judges eying the floats considered originality, attractiveness, and efforts toward 4-H, agriculture, citizenship or patriotism in making their decisions.

MILFORD SECOND The Milford 4-H float took second place, and the Seymour Lake Club claimed third.

A running dive in the girls pig scramble brought a squealing prize to Charlene Sudia, 13, of the East Orion Club. Fred Barnard, 13, of Troy, and Larry Hudson, 16, of Milford, also got firm grips on pigs.

Stuart Hutchins, 19, of Rochester, captured five blue ribbons yesterday in dairy contests and dairy showmanship.

He won first in his class, senior yearling; Junior Champion which covers senior yearling down to junior calf; champion over all other Holsteins and champion of all breeds.

Stuart was also first in showmanship with Helen Miles of Troy 4-H runnerup.

OTHER JUDGING In other judging yesterday, Bill Middleton of East Orion and Beth Rose of the Pontiac Junior Homemakers won demonstration awards. Bill showed how to cut up a chicken and Beth demonstrated bread making.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, consumer marketing agent for Oakland County, was judge of food entries.

Mrs. Frieda Bennet, home demonstration agent for Oakland County, said exhibits this year showed an increase in outdoor cooking ideas and freeing foods.

The annual Dress Review is slated for tonight in the arena at the fair grounds along with the 4-H talent show featuring county 4-H members as well as competition from surrounding counties.

Tomorrow tractor field day starts at 1 p.m. with the machinery parade and 4-H cavalcade of horses highlighting tomorrow night.

The fair at Perry Street and Walton Boulevard ends Saturday.

Sacrifice 30 in Mine Pit Hoping to Save Other 230

MARCINELLE, Belgium (AP)—Rescue teams sealed off upper levels of the burning Casier du Bois coal mine today, dooming an estimated 30 of the 260 men trapped below in hopes of saving the others from suffocation.

With oxygen tanks strapped to their backs, workers descended the main shaft of the 3,300-foot-deep mine in relays with big slabs of spun-glass fibers. With these, they shut off all passages from the smoke-filled shaft down to about 2,200 feet.

They hoped this would enable them to descend to lower levels where most of the trapped men are believed to be.

The miners were trapped when the fire, caused by a short circuit, melted an elevator cable and sent the lift crashing to the bottom of the pit.

Other escape routes also were cut off. Twenty-five miners escaped aboard the elevator before it was lost.

Rescue workers removed nine dead and six injured miners from upper levels. Another 230 were in levels 2,500 to 3,300 feet down. About 30 more were believed somewhere in the sealed-off passages. If they were not already dead, the closing of the passages doomed them to suffocation.

One worker who came back from the 2,300-foot level said the "heat and smoke are terrible."

"With my light I could not see six inches in front of me," he said. "But if the men in the lower levels have found holes to hide in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Broomfield Denies Statement in Press

State Sen. William S. Broomfield, nominated to run for Congress in Tuesday's primary election, today corrected a report in yesterday's Pontiac Press that he attended college on a scholarship paid for by his opponent, George N. Higgins.

"The statement is completely untrue," Broomfield said.

He added that he has never been on Higgins' payroll, though he did sell autos for the Ferndale/autodealer on a commission basis while in Lansing.

Mickey Wins Free Ride to Republican Convention

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A parrot which can say "Vote for Ike" has been granted special permission to travel by regular railway coach to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

The parrot, Mickey, 27 years old, is owned by city assessor and Mrs. Jake Neighbor. They will accompany their pet to the national convention.

Kalamazoo Ups Its Population by Annexations

KALAMAZOO — Two suburbs have voted for annexation to Kalamazoo, boosting the city's population to about 75,000.

Burke Acres, on the northeast rim of Kalamazoo, voted 393 to 124 yesterday for annexation, and Knollwood, on the southwest perimeter, voted 292 to 65.

The two communities have a population of about 7,500. They will become a part of Kalamazoo next Jan. 1.

Two other suburbs, Oakwood and Westwood, will vote in November on annexation. Three more suburbs voted for annexation last fall.

There is a movement under way for a vote next spring on the annexation of all of Kalamazoo Township.

Partly cloudy and warm is the Weather Bureau's prediction for the Pontiac area tonight, with a chance of thundershowers. The low will be 66 to 70 degrees.

Tomorrow's forecast is partly cloudy and a little cooler with a high of 80 to 84.

In downtown Pontiac the low last night was 70. The thermometer registered 78 at 2 p.m.

Another SAVING • Ballot-counting time may also be reduced in future elections, she said.

Delay in counting ballots Tuesday was partially due to absentee ballots, Mrs. Evans said. Under Michigan law, these must not be registered on the machines until after polls close.

The procedure took about three minutes for each absentee ballot, she said, and a total of 165 Pontiac voters, out of the city Tuesday, took advantage of absentee ballots.

Pontiac rented 80 machines for use on a trial basis this year. At the end of the year commissioners will decide whether to complete purchase of the machines or return to paper ballots.

Under the terms of the contract, the rental of $150 per machine will apply on the purchase price.

'Any Dem Can Beat Ike,' Truman Tells Chicago

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CHICAGO — Former President Harry S. Truman arrived in Chicago today for next week's Democratic national convention and declared that "any Democrat" can defeat President Eisenhower.

Alighting from a train after an overnight trip from Kansas City, Truman was asked by newsmen if he had any opinion as to whom the Democrats would nominate as their presidential candidate. He replied:

"I am not a prophet. I do not make predictions."

He added: "Any Democrat can beat President Eisenhower."

Adlai Stevenson was among those greeting the former president and Mrs. Truman.

Truman said he "will see both Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman if they wish to talk to me."

Harriman, who has denied a report he might withdraw from the presidential contest, is due here Friday.

Asked about his views on the civil right issue, Truman said: "I will testify before the (platform) committee."

NO, NO, NO, NO

TRUMAN GREETS STEVENSON — Although he proclaims neutrality, Harry S. Truman has a handshake for Adlai Stevenson, front-running Democratic presidential nominee hopeful. ## Cobo Piles Up 191,000 Margin

Likewise Given Heavy Plurality by Pontiac City Republicans

Final Associated Press tabulations on Tuesday's election give Cobo 349,228 votes and Leonard 138,203 with all of the state's 5,177 precincts accounted for. Gov. Williams (with 170 precincts missing) polled 418,432 votes. He was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Pontiac city voters went along with the state trend, casting 2,824 votes for Cobo and 1,363 for Leonard. Williams polled 4,911 votes in Pontiac.

In the Republican Congressional race Pontiac city voters gave George Higgins the edge with 2,197 votes as against 1,700 for W. S. Broomfield. Broomfield took the nomination 19,906 to 18,424 by carrying Royal Oak and some other heavy South Oakland areas. Paul Sutton, Democratic nominee for Congress, polled 2,378 votes in Pontiac, well ahead of his four running-mates.

Calls Party Leaders

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today called congressional leaders from both parties to meet with him Sunday to discuss the critical Suez situation.

Voting Machines Save City $1,633 on First Trial

Pontiac City Clerk Ada Evans, enthusiastic over the first use Tuesday of the city's new voting machines, estimated this morning the machines saved the city enough money in their first use to pay the full purchase price of one machine.

"The machines worked wonderfully, and the transition from paper ballots was quite smooth," Mrs. Evans said. "Everybody cooperated beautifully."

The degree of success attained, she said, was due to cooperation by precinct workers, the city staff and representatives Keith Spaulding and Jim Jensen of Automatic Voting Machines Corp.

Money saved by the machines, she said, is the figure that would have been paid to precinct workers working longer hours counting the old-fashioned paper ballots.

In 44 precincts, she said, about 284 workers were hired for Tuesday's election. Each precinct chairman earned $3 an hour, and the other workers earned an hourly wage of $1.

In former elections, the average precinct completed its returns by about 3 a.m. of the day following the voting. In past years, some have been as late as noon.

On Tuesday, the first returns were received from Precinct 22 at 9:23 p.m., and precinct 31 was last in at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday. Average time was 19:30.

Election workers' wages for the 4½ hours saved would have amounted to $1,633, Mrs. Evans said. The machines sell for $1,355 apiece.

"We hope to save a little more in the future," Mrs. Evans said. "For the machines' first use, we averaged about six workers to a precinct, but I think we can reduce that number when our workers get used to working with the machines."

ANOTHER SAVING • Ballot-counting time may also be reduced in future elections, she said.

Delay in counting ballots Tuesday was partially due to absentee ballots, Mrs. Evans said. Under Michigan law, these must not be registered on the machines until after polls close.

Williams Sends Request to Ease Payroll Taxes

GOP Says Unemployed Situation in Michigan Is Exaggerated

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators, some facing unemployment themselves after rejection by the voters in the Tuesday primary, returned again today to mull over the question of raising benefits for the state's jobless workers.

Waiting for them was a new proposal by Gov. Williams—a special message asking them to ease the unemployment payroll tax for some 28,000 owners of small businesses.

"Now that the heat and the emotion of the primary campaign are behind us," Williams said in his message, "it is my hope you will devote yourselves earnestly and diligently to the problem of improving our job insurance law."

"You are returning for the third formal meeting of the current extraordinary session, and thus far your adjournments have not resulted in the disappearance of the problem."

"The unemployed are still with us," Williams said, "only there are more of them since you went away."

Indications were that the Republicans, who contend there is no crisis, will give the Democratic governor little satisfaction in his demands for a jobless pay increase.

OPPOSITION HINTED

Rep. George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), chairman of the House Labor Committee, said after a meeting of his committee Wednesday that he was not inclined to go along with the governor's proposals.

The House committee has been sitting on Williams' requests. These include a proposal to increase jobless benefits to 65 per cent of the worker's wage, plus five dollars for each dependent and an extension of the maximum payment period from 26 to 39 weeks.

"The unemployment hasn't been as serious as predicted," Van Peursem said. "The only increase has been because of the steel strike."

Van Peursem said he thought Republicans would ask for another recess of the Legislature to consider the governor's latest proposal for easing the payroll tax plan for small employers.

It was indicated that the Legislature may clean up some of the minor bills that are still hanging but that the only major question is how soon they will recess again.

"The governor's bill is dead, dead, dead . . ." said one Republican legislator of Williams' proposal for a hike in unemployment benefits.

A Touch of Summer to Linger With Rain

Partly cloudy and warm is the Weather Bureau's prediction for the Pontiac area tonight, with a chance of thundershowers. The low will be 66 to 70 degrees.

TWO Township Wins, Schools Lose

State Tax Commission Upholds Appeal, Cuts Education Millage

Independence Township's 1957 tax allocation appeal yesterday was upheld by the State Tax Commission. The township was granted .61 of an additional mill. Three school districts tied to the township rate lost millage by the decision.

A similar appeal by Brandon Township was denied.

The decision was a boon to taxpayers, but school officials will have to cut budgets sharply next year.

In financial terms, township governments gained $8,778 by the decision. Clarkston schools lost $10,264, Orion schools lost $10,664, and Waterford schools lost more than $20,839.

PROTEST RATE

Independence Township government was granted 1.32 mills by the county Tax Allocation Board after protesting its original allotment of one mill at the Board's hearing May 21.

Clarkston schools, which first had a millage rate of 9.32, were dropped to 9.8 after the hearing. The tax commission's decision reduces the school millage again to 8.40.

Lake Orion School District No. 3 Fractional and Waterford Township school districts, both of which extend into Independence Township, also suffered losses by the decision.

The Orion district, granted 9 mills by the county board, was dropped to 8.40. Waterford schools, granted 8.73 mills with a .27 mill variable which applied in Independence Township, also lost .6 mill and can collect only 8.40 mills.

County officials said this morning the drop in school district allocations would apply throughout the districts, not only in those parts which include Independence Township.

Commission Names Detroit Port Director

DETROIT (U.S.) — Carl J. Stettin, general manager of the Port of Olympia, Wash., will take over Sept. 16 as director of the Port of Detroit.

Stettin, appointed by Detroit's Port Commission yesterday, was recommended by Robert H. Wylie, former port director at San Francisco, Wylie had turned down the job.

Stettin, who has directed port activities at Olympia since 1953, formerly was assistant manager of the Port of Seattle and before that was employed by several steamship companies. His salary will be $18,340, graduating in three years to a maximum of $18,800.

His appointment must be certified by the Civil Service Commission.

'Tobi' Useful Hangovers From Japan's Feudal Past

TOKYO (INS)—Scattered among the eight million inhabitants of modern Tokyo is a small band of men who make it their business to keep alive the color and pageantry that was feudal Japan—and they do it by fighting fires.

Entirely independent of the city's fire-fighting force, these closely-knit men represent a tradition that goes back hundreds of years to the day their forebears fought fires with sticks and ladders.

They call themselves "tobi" after the name of the hooked stick that remains the mark of their trade, and today they serve as a valuable adjunct to Tokyo's modern fire department.

In fact there are several stories of embarrassed city firemen arriving at the scene only to find the "tobi" had gotten there first and put things under control.

Members of the "tobi" emphasize they are motivated only by the spirit of service. They receive no pay.

They all have other jobs, but when the call goes out they drop everything and move in well-organized teams to the scene of disaster.

Today the "tobi" membership is 2,400, divided into some 80 branches scattered within the areas that was the ancient capital of Edo—now the heart of modern Tokyo.

Their chance for pageantry comes at New Year's when all members, attired in the same "happi" coats of ancient days, gather before the Imperial Palace plaza and put on a thrilling exhibition of courage and daring.

The occasion is known as "demonshiki" and the "tobi" display their skill by performing acrobatic feats atop a tall up-right ladder.

"Tobi" elders explain they are held together by a moral code which places great value on obedience and devotion to the public interest.

Membership, too, is exclusive, requiring careful screening of the applicant's family background and "tobi." Japan today claims to be almost 30,000 fires a year in the most fire-ridden nation in the world. According to statistics there, houses.

Sullivan Overcomes Threat of Pneumonia

DERBY, Conn. (INS)—Ed Sullivan has passed the critical point in a threatened bout with pneumonia and started in "good spirits" toward recovery from his automobile accident injuries.

A spokesman at Griffin Hospital in Derby, where Sullivan and three other victims of a Sunday night crashup are under treatment, said chances of pneumonia are now "very slight."

A medical report said Sullivan is still suffering from a pre-accident cold which was congested by a fractured rib.

The hospital said it was unable to give any indication of when Sullivan will be released. Comedian Phil Silvers will take his place on the show Sunday night.

Save 'Kidnapped' Boy From His Parents

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—FBI agents jumped on the trail—but not too avidly—when this note was thrown from the window of a car:

"I am being kidnaped in a blue '53 Buick bearing Iowa license 1716107."

They found the car and ordered a handwriting test on the family inside. Confronted with the evidence, a 12-year-old boy confessed. He was released to his parents—in very poor standing.

Apparatus Intensifies Brightness of X Rays

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—An X-ray tube has been combined with an unusual electronic intensifier, which increases image brightness some 1,200 times, to permit remote inspection over closed television circuits.

The Mount Vernon company that developed the apparatus said it can be used to overcome many fluoroscopy difficulties previously encountered in iron and steel inspections.

The first floating dispensary in the Andaman and Nicobar islands has reached Port Blair—a motor vessel supplied by Australia under the Colombo Plan.

Somehow, We Do Not Credit Flying Saucers

What about flying saucers? Well, sir, we have an opinion. We can't prove our contention but a release from the Air Force sheds great light upon this general situation.

Serious men have argued that this planet has been visited by men and planes from other planets. Several books have been written. The legend of the "small, brown creatures" that were supposed to have emerged on this globe from one of the "saucers" is hard to squelch.

It bobs up again and again. Some time back there was discussion of an American war plane that flew "twice the speed of sound." This would approximate 1,500 miles an hour. Now we have a definite statement from officials that an American plane has actually been clocked at more than 1,900 miles an hour. This speed is hard to visualize. It means traveling more than 30 miles in a minute.

One mile is covered in two seconds. You could leave Pontiac at 12:00 noon today and have lunch in Miami. Yes, really. You'd be in Miami in 38 minutes. If you only wanted to go to Chicago, you wouldn't have time to smoke a cigarette, as you'd be over the Windy City in eight or nine minutes. Flying to Detroit is too fantastic to discuss.

It wouldn't take a minute. You'd be there in 50 seconds! And Birmingham? Why, you couldn't fly from Pontiac to Birmingham. They're too close. If you took off from Pontiac, you wouldn't have time to land. You'd be at Birmingham in 16 seconds.

This is probably the answer to the "flying saucers." Out of a thousand reports to the Pentagon of "flying saucers" or unidentified air craft, there have always been logical, sensible and practical explanations of 99 per cent. Peculiar clouds, shadows, weather balloons, experimental and observation balloons at great heights, unannounced flights and other phenomena have explained all but a few of these "mystery" cases.

In order to fly a plane 1,900 miles, you have to take it off the ground and fly it. You can't test it under water or underground. It has to be done in the God given air around the globe and the free air is always open for observation. Secrecy is impossible.

Hence, when an observer in another airplane sees one of these man operated bullets flashing ahead or across his path, what must he think? One of these 1,900 plus babies would startle any observer flying anywhere on this globe. It would leave him awed, gasping and practically speechless. The same holds true for a ground observer.

The Press, thus, is convinced that there are no flying saucers from other worlds or planets. Some 99 per cent of the "saucers" have been explained satisfactorily, and we feel the other 1 per cent simply constitutes the test flights of these super-super planes which have falsely seemed to substantiate the saucer hallucination.

Votes Only One Test of Good Lawmakers

Final figures show that six Senators and 35 Representatives had perfect voting records during the second session of the 84th Congress. In contrast to the situation in the House where all 435 seats have to be filled every two years, none of these Senators has to be a candidate this year. But in the lower chamber where there are far fewer "Yes" and "No" roll calls, 16 of the 35 members have perfect voting records for both the 1955 and 1956 sessions.

The fact that none of these Senators or Representatives is from Michigan, shouldn't worry any citizen of the State. Perfect voting records, of course, are desirable, but there is danger that their value may be over-emphasized in the people's minds. Of themselves they can not insure that a lawmaker is doing a good job.

On the other hand, a member with a considerably less than perfect record of voting or even attendance is not necessarily remiss in his duties. He may, in fact, be doing an outstanding job for his constituents. His work may take him out of Washington frequently or he may have to devote a great deal of time to his committee assignments.

The number of times he votes is only one test of the service he renders the people back home.

The Man About Town Big Wheat Yield Harvest Now Under Way Has Bumper Proportions

Boredom: Life's greatest enemy. Oakland County is harvesting one of the greatest wheat yields in its history, and doing it under adverse conditions. The heavy spring rains and cool weather brought about a rampant growth, with the heads so heavy that it lodged easily with the winds and rains during its ripening period. Many fields became a tangled mass.

While the acreage is below the average of past years, yields approaching 60 bushels per acre are reported, with an average around 40 bushels, as compared with 30 bushels in some years. This year's quality is being lowered by the wet harvest conditions. The current price hovers around $1.95 per bushel. The harvest is about half completed.

That wheat still is a major product with farmers in the Pontiac area is proved by the Oxford Cooperative Elevator which already has shipped 30 carloads of this year's crop. As far as we have been able to learn,

Jim Lemerson of Orion Township was the first Oakland County farmer to harvest and sell his 1956 wheat crop.

We're trying to establish a Pontiac relationship with Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, who breaks into state politics in a big way. Our city directory lists only one Cobo. He is a second cousin, Charles E. Cobo, formerly of the Bloomfield Terrace Apartments, but he has moved back to Texas.

It was the pleasure of MAT to phone in the first out-county returns to be received in The Press office Tuesday evening. They came from Rose Township whose count was completed within 45 minutes after the polls closed. Holly followed a few minutes later. Give us more voting machines.

Agreeing with us 100 per cent on the current low standards in television, a letter with a Pontiac postmark from "Also Badly Bored" wonders if the same programs have been crossed off our list. They are Godfrey, Gobel and Skelton as the top offenders, with Shriner, Hayes and Giguason on the skids. MAT places an OK on his sentiments, with the same percentage.

David Lawrence Says:

Newsmen No Exception to Ban

WASHINGTON—Secretary Dulles is getting some brickbats for it, but he is eternally right in insisting that American newspapermen should not be granted any preference over other Americans who wish to pursue their particular business on the territory of Communist China.

The government of the United States has a definite policy, which is to refuse passports to any American who wishes to go to the mainland of China. Permission, for example, was refused to the parents of the American fliers who were imprisoned by Red China. The Red China government invited them. It was a tough thing to have to refuse parents a chance to see their loved ones. Similar permission has been withheld from businessmen seeking to make deals with the Red Chinese in disregard of existing embargoes on trade.

Newsman naturally feel they are in a different class and that, in seeking information, they are not engaging in business, but, so far as the Department of State is concerned, it must treat all Americans alike, whether they are in the publishing business or the grain business. It cannot today let Americans engaged in the newspaper business pursue their work in Red China and tomorrow turn down the requests of similar privileges sought by other Americans engaged in other businesses who may wish to enter Red China for brief or prolonged visits.

NO EXCEPTIONS An argument can, of course, be made that the newsmen will bring out new facts, that they will not be "brainwashed" and that they will be objective and impartial. But the State Department cannot be concerned with the quality of the work that might be done by any American. It is not refusing to validate passports just because it is in any way afraid that American newsmen will be unduly influenced. What it is afraid of is that, if the doors are opened to one set of Americans, they must be opened to all other Americans in business, and this is not considered a desirable step to take at this time.

But supposing every American newsmen would sign a waiver of liability and free his government from any obligation to protect him or to intercede for him if he were taken prisoner, so that all newsmen who entered would be doing so at their own risk, it might be asked if this would satisfy the State Department. The answer would be negative. For other American businessmen might choose to apply for the same privilege, and the result would be commercial intercourse of a clandestine nature which the American government could not even tacitly encourage.

Some news is coming out of Red China through newsmen whose governments have established diplomatic relations with the Peking government. But no newsmen will probably be able to see during a 30-day visit the things which were described recently by Lucian Taire, a European businessman who has just come out of Red China after more than 30 years of residence there. Excerpts from his book, which were published recently by U. S. News & World Report, revealed an amazing story of how Communist China has been sovietized and enslaved.

NOTHING LOST It is doubtful whether much real news will be lost to the world by the failure of American newsmen at this time to make a 30-day trip to Red China. For about all they would get is what some Australian and British newsmen already have gotten on their 30-day trips—some generalities about the situation obtained in guided tours restricted in area and many quotations reiterating the propaganda of the Red Chinese leaders.

It is more important for the American newsmen to support their own government's efforts to secure compliance by the Red Chinese with international obligations, and particularly adherence to agreements already signed with the United Nations, than to assist the Red Chinese in

Make Drinking Water Safe for Camp Use by Boiling It

A reader asks how to make drinking water safe, particularly a small amount, such as eight quarts taken from stream, well or spring for use in camp, or a quart of water.

In an emergency, if water from a questionable source must be drunk, put two or three drops of Milt/Tincture of Iodine (the liquid commonly used as first aid disinfectant for burns, scratches, cuts, bruises) in a quart of the water, shake it up, let stand 15 minutes, and the water will be safe to drink.

For camp use, dissolve in a quart of water a rounded teaspoonful of freshly opened can of chlorinated lime. Use a teaspoonful of this solution to disinfect a gallon of water for drinking purposes. It is a good plan to carry enough drinking water to last from one town to the next. Municipal water is generally safe.

Boiling water for not less than a minute is the best way to make it safe to drink. "It's none of my business, Doctor, but I often wonder whether you are a homeopath, you remind me so much of a kindly homeopath . . ." (W.B.M.) I'm not a homeopath, but then what difference does it make whether a good doctor employs homeopathic, osteopathic or mugwumpian principles?

The characteristic indication of tetany in growing children is "growing pains"—an obvious error, for, of course, it doesn't hurt to grow. In elderly persons the most frequent indication of tetany is painful cramps in legs and feet, sometimes in arms and hands, occurring in the night or perhaps upon awakening in the early morning.

Reader Says Death Penalty Too Easy for Sex Slayers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature. P.M.

Now is the time for revision of the laws governing the crimes in this state. On that I agree. But is capital punishment the answer?

I was brought up to believe that two wrongs do not make a right, and that one should not commit murder nor judge lest you be judged accordingly. I fail to see how reverting to the old theory, "an eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth" can possibly do any good.

As far as I can see, we the people of the State of Michigan would be just as guilty of murder as the murderer himself. Personally, I can think of no greater punishment than to live in jail the rest of my life and for 24 hours of every day remember and regret the thing that I had done. Death seems to me too easy!

And again we can find no justification to take from any person the right of salvation.

Cites Dentist's Idea About Tooth Decay

It is common knowledge that the teeth of primitive men were sounder than those of modern men. That diet has much to do with this decay is also common knowledge. Dr. Reider Sognnaes of the Harvard School of Dental Medicine has found teeth get worse and worse as civilization develops. Dr. Sognnaes concludes, as the result of his study, that all is not lost. He believes that man can check his dental undoing by chemical means. It has been shown that fluoride and other trace elements can offset tooth decay. The clue is already being followed against much opposition. W.K.

50,000,000 Frenchmen Just Can't Be Too Wrong

NEW YORK (U.S.)—No matter what Hollywood rules, it'll never get 50 million Frenchmen to see anything immoral about a double bed. Nor perhaps 100 million Americans, for that matter.

Be that as it may, Hollywood's self-imposed censorship code forbids the shooting of scenes showing a couple in a double bed, and this restriction nearly created a crisis in Franco-American movie relations during the making of a recent picture in Paris.

The film, "The Ambassador's Daughter," was written, directed and produced by Norman Krasna. It is a comedy about a young GI who falls in love with a girl who turns out to be— who else but the daughter of America's ambassador to France. A plot has to have some connection with the title. Or does it?

Krasna figured he could save a tidy $400,000 if he shot the picture in Paris and used an all-French crew and cast with the exception of a few important American stars. He did, too.

But there were complications. The first came when actor John Forsythe, playing the American soldier, gulped and blushed when he glanced into a mirror and presumably saw the undraped bosoms of some night club chorines.

"Why should he look embarrassed?" argued the French cameramen. "That's how the girls perform in a night club." The cameramen also couldn't understand why Krasna wouldn't let him turn his lens on the chorines and put them in the film. Patiently, the producer explained the scene wouldn't pass Hollywood's litmus moral test.

"What's immoral about a bosom?" demanded the cameramen, unconvinced.

In a later bedroom scene in which Adolphe Menjou and Myrna Loy played the ambassador and his wife, Krasna ordered the double bed removed from the set and replaced by twin beds. At first the French crew thought Krasna was joking. Then they began to suspect it was a plot to

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Child Often Thinks He's Adopted

Joyce is a victim of a very common delusion. It belongs in the general category of "escape mechanisms." Many obstinate children develop this false notion, yet their parents don't even dream of what is wrong. So scrapbook this case record. File it beside the follow-up case that will appear tomorrow, for they are akin.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case S-334: Joyce L., aged 14, is a problem child in high school. "Dr. Crane, we can't do anything with her, said her parents when I was called into the case.

"She is obstinate and sassy. She acts disdainful of us. And she stays out late without permission. "Meanwhile, her school marks are falling, so her teacher finally called me to find out what is wrong with Joyce. Frankly, I don't know. "She is the eldest of three children and we have tried to treat them all alike. Can you locate the trouble?"

FOSTER CHILD PHANTASY It didn't take long till Joyce broke into tears and confided in me that she was positive she was an adopted child.

She said they treated her so badly at home that she just knew she wasn't the flesh-and-blood daughter of her ostensible parents. So she daydreamed a great deal about who her real parents might have been.

Once she thought she might even be the daughter of some visiting European prince or other titled person who had been touring America. Again, she imagined she was the offspring of a famous movie actor or of some man of wealth and influence in America.

We psychologists are familiar with this common fantasy of childhood. It is so widespread that we have even given it the name "foster child fantasy." And many mature adults still are victims of this widespread delusion by which youngsters try to lift themselves figuratively by their social bootstraps.

For when a child entering the teens, or even earlier, finds that its parents bluntly puncture its dreams and rudely order it about, it often turns to this "foster child fantasy" by developing this "foster child fantasy."

ESCAPE MECHANISMS In psychology we speak about escape mechanisms by which people try to flee from unpleasant situations. Such devices include vagabondage, alcoholism, the dope habit, insanity and suicide, as well as chronic teenage daydreaming and this foster child delusion, plus the "fantasy of unreality" (See tomorrow's Case Record).

India Riot Toll at 8 Over Border Plan.

BOMBAY, India (AP)—One person was reported killed and many injured today at Ahmedabad in the second day of riots protesting plans to form a new Bombay state.

Seven were killed and 107 injured in the first day of violence in the city 275 miles north of Bombay.

In New Delhi, meanwhile, the lower house of Parliament approved 241-49 a government-sponsored bill to create the new bilingual state.

Police reinforcements were being rushed to Ahmedabad. Reports reaching here said the rioters had set fire to a post office, a police station and several municipal offices.

The city virtually was paralyzed by the outbursts, which started when students struck in protest to the government plan to merge the Gujarati-speaking areas of western India with the Marathi-speaking regions into an enlarged, bilingual Bombay state. The demonstrators demanded a separate Gujarati state with Ahmedabad as its capital.

10 Injured When Boat Hits New York Bridge

NEW YORK (INS)—About 10 persons were injured yesterday when an around-Manhattan Island sightseeing boat struck a bridge spanning the Harlem River in New York.

Most of the injured were taken to Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx. Twenty-three other passengers who received minor injuries refused medical aid.

One hundred and ninety-five passengers were aboard the Circle Line boat which was headed toward the Hudson River on the last part of its sightseeing cruise around Manhattan Island.

Burmese Airliner Down; 21 Aboard Feared Dead

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—A Burmese airliner, carrying 17 passengers and a crew of four has crashed in central Burma. First reports said there were no survivors.

The craft, a government-owned Union of Burma Airways Dakota, was making a routine flight yesterday from Rangoon to Mandalay.

Food Sales Analyzed

NEW YORK — A trade publication found in a recent survey that food stores with an annual volume of $50,000 to $100,000 have the heaviest proportion of meat business—29.1 per cent of their total. Stores with volumes of $300,000 to $500,000 have the smallest percentage of total dollar sales in meat—17.9 per cent. General average is 22.6 per cent in meat sales.

Smoke-Filled Room Won't Oblige for TV

CHICAGO (INS)—One of the TV network camera crews had a nasty brush with modern living today and came off a disgruntled loser.

The boys set up their boxes, lights and strung cables and other gear about the Blackstone Hotel suite where Warren G. Harding was selected by a handful of GOP leaders in 1920 to head the party's ticket. This became the famed "smoke-filled room" of political lore.

"Now all you fellows start smoking," the brisk young man in charge of the TV setup was ordered. "We want it to look authentic; just like it was when Warren G. Harding was in here."

All the fellows lighted up smokes and manfully exhaled into the room.

"Action!" the young man shouted. Lights blazed, cameras purred.

"Cut!" he cried almost immediately. There was a long consultation and then capitulation. The young men packed up and left in a huff.

Seems the Blackstone is air-conditioned. Its ventilation system blew the smoke out of the "smoke-filled room" before the brave lads could photograph it.

Never underestimate the power of a Democratic national committee woman. Stunned momentarily by the news that Republican women are being urged to cook "Ike's beef stew," copying a favorite recipe of amateur chef Eisenhower, the women Democrats rallied with "Democratic beef stew." The recipe:

"Start with two pounds of any of a variety of beefs that the American people have accumulated since the Eisenhower administration took office. Brownell in two tablespoons of bungled security program. Add half a dozen 100 per cent of parity carrots dangled before the farmers in the '52 campaign; one red - faced tomato canned for selling to Kansas what Kansas already owned; several conflicts of interest onions, the kind with a real strong aroma and, one cube of sold gold bouillon from the Dixon-Yates deal. Season with salty language by Charlie Wilson and peppery Howard Pyle, flavor with essence of Nixon garlic and one Knowland San Francisco bay leaf. Place in Hoover administration pot—the one you didn't have two chickens in. Simmer in watered down defense until Nov. 6."

Unless the heirs of Joe Miller object, this recipe will be part of a skit to be put on Monday morning by Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities.

Facts suitable for lining a closet shelf: The first telephone used at a convention was in Chicago in 1880 when the Republicans—famed for their snap judgments—nominated James A. Garfield on the 36th ballot . . . more than 4,000 phones have been installed at the amphitheater for the upcoming Democratic convention.

That's enough phones for a city of up to 15,000 population . . . More than 11,500 miles of telephone wire were needed to connect the hall with regular Chicago telephone equipment, and 1,500,000 feet of the stuff has been added to the building itself. The convention will be covered by 10,250 newspapers, radio and TV stations, magazines, etc., necessitating a network of 760,000 miles of teletype circuits.

The British came down with a compounded case of ear-burning Tuesday afternoon, I'll bet, when Daniel, Doherty of Dorchester, Mass., a gray-haired man with a golden voice asked fellow Democrats to do something about the unification of Ireland.

He asked that the platform include a demand that British armed forces be withdrawn from Northern Ireland. "How can we consistently defend rightful principals in any nation or geographical location while we remain silent and inactive while England pursues her imperial policy of 'divide and conquer' in Ireland?" Doherty asked in the exasperated voice of Barry Fitzgerald.

"Their long years of operating in the field of secret intrigue, their unscrupulous utilization of unlimited wealth are the weapons upon which they depend in their brutal effort to keep mankind shackled and enslaved," he concluded. Everybody applauded, except news service.

Bob Murphy: Diplomatic Trouble - Shooter

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON 48—A State Department official scratched around for words to describe a diplomatic trouble-shooter for 31-year-old

Robert Murphy. He settled for this: "He must be like a good rewrite man on a newspaper. His job is to straighten out a story that's been all messed up."

Latest messed-up story assigned to Murphy was in London. The State Department sent him flying there when the British talked angrily of using force against Egypt's President Nasser for seizing the Suez Canal.

For Murphy international jams and jumbles have been a life and a living. He made diplomacy a career, starting in the State Department's foreign service 35 years ago, serving at posts here and abroad while working his way up.

He's as high now as he can go in the foreign service with the title of career ambassador and a salary of $15,000 a year. Only one other man, Loy Henderson, has the same top rank. He's been in career diplomacy 34 years.

What could Murphy do in London? Find out what the British are thinking and planning and keep Secretary of State Dulles informed; relay American thinking to the British; make suggestions; seek solutions; maybe pour oil on troubled waters.

One thing he can't do on his own: commit this country to any agreement or line of action unless told to do so by President Eisenhower or Dulles. And even a Murphy isn't always enough. Eisenhower sent Dulles over to join him.

Besides old-timers like Murphy and Henderson, the State Department has a handful of other men, a notch or two down the scale, to send into tough, tight, hot or delicate spots. They too have made a career of diplomacy.

They are this country's top, trained experts in foreign affairs. They are advisers to the secretary of state. Whether or not he listens to them is up to him. There's a difference between them and their boss, Dulles.

For them diplomacy has been a lifetime job. For Dulles, a lawyer and politician, diplomacy is an avocation. Secretaries come and go but the career officers stay. They never get to be secretary. The President picks an outsider, like Dulles, for the top job.

Such a man, although not trained in diplomacy, may be as successful with the head of some foreign state. A good example was Chester Bowles, longtime ambassador to India. He got along better with Prime Minister Nehru than the diplomatic professionals.

For an idea of how widely the State Department can use a man like Murphy, here are just a few assignments over the past 16 years:

He was assigned to deal with the Vichy French; he helped pave the way for the entry of American troops into North Africa; he represented President Roosevelt on special jobs; he was an adviser at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters and on the division of Germany and the Korean armistice.

Mediators Offer Help in Lake Ship Dispute

CLEVELAND 48—The Federal Mediation Service has offered to help settle a 2-union strike which has kept the 58 iron ore freighters of the U.S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh Steamship Division tied up in port.

The unions are seeking recognition as bargaining agents for the line's deck officers and licensed engineers, respectively.

A negotiating session between Pittsburgh and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Assn., ended yesterday in a deadlock with no dates set for future talks. Tuesday, a similar deadlock ended talks with the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn.

Pittsburgh had asked both unions to delay striking until an impartial election could determine whether the engineers and deck officers wanted to belong to the unions.

The Pittsburgh vessels have been idled since mid-July when they were temporarily tied up because of the steel strike, now settled.

'Flying Saucers' Likely in State This Weekend

EAST LANSING 48—There are likely to be a lot of flying saucer reports this weekend, a Michigan State University physicist said today.

But Dr. Richard Schlegel, the MSU expert, said a flashing object in the sky probably will be nothing more than the Perseid meteor shower.

The show of meteors, he said, is believed to be a disintegrated part of Tuttle's Comet. It races around the sun in an orbit perpendicular to the earth.

Schlegel said Saturday and Sunday nights should be particularly good for spotting the meteors because the earth crosses the orbit of the great meteor stream Aug. 12.

Go West Young Man —to Lower California

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gen. Augustin Olachea wants more people to go west—particularly to the territory of Lower California, of which he is governor.

He said this territory on the lower part of the peninsula, most of it still virgin, can absorb around another million people with a progressive spirit and willing to work for a better life.

He says the coasts are good for fishing, there are mining opportunities, room for industry, and good soil for agriculture. Wheat and cotton growing already are expanding, he said.

Largest Picture Gallery

Dog Candy Works Well; Gets Man Bosom Pal

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—The Gulf States Utility Co. got better results than it expected when meter readers were supplied with "dog candy" to soothe the tempers of heel-nipping dogs.

One meter reader reported a vicious dog which had long bothered him became a bosom pal after the first bite of candy—and followed the meter reader for the rest of his route, chasing other dogs away.

Youngster Not So High on Father's Profession

MUSKEGON (AP)—Roger Sloan, 15, was pretty high on his dad's business until he tried it. Now he's not so sure.

His father, Jack, 47, is a steepie-jack. He sent Roger up a 60-foot flagpole to paint the top and "everything was fine until the wind started to whip the pole," says Roger.

After sliding down the pole in a hurry, Roger said: "I think I'll wait a few years."

Fly Wrecked Budget

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A house fly cost James Horn $400. The fly got into Horn's car and distracted his attention from driving. Police said the car ran off the road and hit a street sign and a small building. Damage to Horn's sedan—$400.

Chinese Change Clergy Prison

Catholic Mission Paper Says Four Prisoners Get Easier Treatment

HONG KONG (U)—The Catholic Mission Bulletin today reported that the Chinese Communists have transferred four American missionaries from Shanghai prison cells to a guarded private house. They were said to be receiving much better treatment.

The Bulletin said the missionaries were the Rev. Paul Mackinson of Baltimore, a Lutheran, and the Revs. John Alexander Houle, Glendale, Calif.; John Paul Wagner, Pittsburgh; and Joseph Patrick McCormack, New York City, all Roman Catholics.

The four were among 10 American civilians still held in Red Chinese jails. The Bulletin said they were allowed to take recreation together, to walk in the house garden, to sleep as much as they wanted, and were given "three well-cooked meals daily — Western style, with steak, hamburger, and pork chops as frequent items on the menu."

Transfer of the quartet to house arrest was taken here as an indication that they might soon get their freedom. Two Catholic missionaries released June 13 — the Revs. John William Clifford and Thomas Phillips of San Francisco — were transferred to the house on Kao Yu Road a month before they were freed.

"Father Phillips is of the opinion that all of the remaining American prisoners may now be in that house as there would be sufficient room," the Bulletin said.

Find Burning Cross by San Antonio Road

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U)—The third burning cross in a month was found last night at the San Antonio city limits.

The cross, about six feet high and four feet wide, was on the highway 90 right of way near two settlements, one occupied by Negroes, the other by a group of farmers. It was near Lackland Air Force Base.

Bexar County Fire Chief Cliff Holcomb said the cross seemed to have been wrapped in military blankets and soaked in an inflammable liquid.

He said it would be checked for fingerprints.

Congressman's House Burns in Massachusetts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U)—U.S. Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill (D-Mass.) said today he will be so busy house-hunting that he may not be able to attend next week's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Fire swept the O'Neill residence yesterday causing damage he estimated at $15,000.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill and their five children were not at home at the time.

Wills Christmas Party to Pals at Sewage Plant

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (U)—Val G. Bretzer bequeathed a Christmas party to the men he worked with at a county sewage treatment plant.

His will, filed for probate, directs that $100 of his estate be used "to furnish my fellow workers with an Xmas party on the Xmas following my decease."

He died July 18 at 60. The total value of his estate was not listed.

What's All This Ruckus on Women's Rights?

By PHYLIS BATELLE
NEW YORK (INS) — There are not many places left into which a woman, with her twentieth-century tenacity, dare not enter.

To be sure, there are certain locations which she cannot trespass without losing face and possibly a few dollars in fines. The men's bar at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, for example, reserves the right to tell women where to go—either back out on 48th street, or the nearby 17th police precinct—and ladies still are quietly turned away from most stadium press boxes, YMCA locker rooms and Kiwanis Club luncheons.

But almost anywhere a woman really sets her mind on going, when you come right down to it, she can go. If turned away forcibly, she need only scream bloody murder, prejudice, outrage and the death of chivalry, and the world will listen. Especially if she's attractive.

For some reason too complex and Freudian to go into here, woman is still considered the oppressed underdog in any given situation. Man, on the other hand, cannot tread the world's byways so freely. Should he stupidly take the wrong turn and find himself in, say, a girls' gymnasium, it is not for him to scream men's rights.

TAINT' FAIR

It is for him to say "Oops" and back out promptly, before he is bashed by basketballs and carried off to the pokie.

The picture is clear. If a woman enters man's domain, she is being progressive, and to censor her is to set civilization back to the days of Carrie Chapman Catt.

If a man enters a woman's world, he is a Peeping Tom or a bully. Even the most feminist female will concede, in her broader minded moments, that this is not altogether fair and just. But rare is the man who has the nerve to speak up and publicly dispute the issue. Men are too enlightened—or is it downrighted—for that.

That is why it was with pleasurable shock that we read this week that in England, there is a ship's skipper who is sticking his weathered neck out and giving the women the old 19th century going-over. Alan Villiers, Cap'n of the new ship Mayflower which will sail from England to Plymouth, Mass., next spring says he's going to adhere to superstition—and instinct—and refuse women admittance to the ship.

CRUSADE AGAINST DAMES

"Women are bad luck at sea," he growls firmly, and what's more they are "nuisances." Despite the fact that third of his applications for crew membership came from women, Villiers is adamant. He will not have any "glamour pussies" aboard—and that goes for his own wife, who wants to come along.

Villiers is an old salt, savvy to the ways of the sea, and we wish him the best of luck in his crusade against dames on or below decks. Cynical old skeptic that we are, however, the bet is 5-to-5 the skipper has spouted himself off into a mess of trouble.

Dictating such orders to the woman of today is an almost certain assurance that, one day out at sea, it will be discovered there are ladies in the lifeboats.

Homecoming by TV

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U)—The USS Hancock, an aircraft carrier, arrived from the Western Pacific without the usual crowding of rails by the crew. Those who wished could observe the docking operation and welcoming crowd on the ship's closed-circuit television receivers in the wardroom, general mess and other gathering places—as seen from camera posts aboard. The ship financed the private system with Shipboard Special Service recreation funds.

Business Group Warns Democratic Platform Unit

CHICAGO (U) — The National Assn. of Manufacturers today told the Democratic Platform Committee that any tinkering with new national policies which the NAM said have restored business confidence could kill off prosperity "overnight."

Cola G. Parker, NAM president, made no mention of the present Republican administration but said "the change in the economic environment" has fostered steady economic growth.

"We have not entered a new era in which prosperity can be taken for granted," Parker said. "Our problem now is to develop a program which will encourage and protect this confidence, and thereby keep our nation moving forward."

Parker, as head of the NAM, and John S. Coleman, as president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, gave their views as spokesmen for two leading business organizations.

Their prepared testimony was scheduled ahead of former President Harry S. Truman, due for a mid-afternoon appearance.

Parker said that for the first time in many years both party conventions can write platforms "in a situation of national prosperity which has not been created artificially by war or the aftermath of war and which is not being sustained by government expenditure."

"What is it the American people want?" he asked. "They want peace, not at the expense of honor or based on appeasement; they want prosperity and economic growth . . . they want security and steadily increasing abundance. They wish to attain these goals without loss or diminution of freedom. The political party which best meets these aspirations will deserve, and get, the support and confidence of the American people."

Coleman said that while the United States is a big country, with a big economy and complex society, government should be "tailored" to needs and not in excess of those needs.

Both business witnesses urged government economy, lower taxes on business, and reappraisal of foreign aid expenditures. Both called for bans on requiring membership in labor unions and further curbs on labor organizations.

Japan-Soviet Treaty in 'Crucial' Stages

MOSCOW (U) — Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu had a 30-minute confidential conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov today amid indications the Soviet-Japanese peace treaty negotiations are reaching a "make or break stage."

The one-legged veteran Japanese diplomat declined all comment on emerging from Shepilov's office but an aide said later the situation has reached a point where "either they or we must concede and they show no indication they will."

The deadlock is over Japanese demands for return of the two small islands of Kunashiri and Etorofu, in the southern Kuriles. Well informed Japanese sources indicated Shigemitsu might be ready to concede.

2 Men Killed, 3 Injured in Crash Near Lansing

PORTLAND (U) — Two men were killed and three persons were injured last night in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 16, two miles east of Portland in central Michigan.

Killed were James H. Blaine, 48, of Chicago, and Charles E. Haley, 32, of Fraser.

Rhee, at 81, Begins Third Term

SEOUL (U) — An 81-year-old man who has guided this infant republic since its birth eight years ago begins a third term as president next Thursday. Syngman Rhee's political foe Chang Myon becomes vice president.

What is in store for this battered country?

Can it ever achieve an independent existence without the millions

Absentee Ballots to Decide Contest

ST. LOUIS (U) — Absentee ballots, to be opened tomorrow, could decide whether Herbert Douglas, 41-year-old Neosho lawyer, holds his thin lead over Albert Schoenbeck of St. Louis in their Missouri primary contest for a Republican senatorial nomination.

Schoenbeck, 40-year-old lawyer and former general attorney for the Wabash Railroad, stayed on the heels of Douglas in the counting.

With all but 275 of the state's 4,555 precincts tabulated, the unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary gave Douglas 76,955 votes, Schoenbeck, 74,851.

All the missing precincts were outstate, where Douglas had a big lead.

The winner will meet Democratic Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. in November. Hennings had no opposition in the primary.

in U.S. aid now pouring in? If Rhee does not live out his third term, is the country sufficiently stable and mature to avert political chaos?

There are no pat answers, but a canvass of informed opinion reveals a picture of agreement.

The key to Korea's future lies with the 16 million farmers, about 80 per cent of the population.

Most farm families exist on the output from less than an acre of worn-out land. Many have lived in misery for so many generations they are lethargic and unwilling to help themselves or each other.

The big estates built up during 40 years of Japanese occupation have been broken up and the land sold to former tenants, but many have been forced to sell off chunks of their tiny plots. They could not

Moneybag Beats Bottle With One, Clean Swing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — It was a full moneybag versus an empty soft drink bottle.

Frank White, supervisor of a short-order restaurant, had about $500 in bills and change in the moneybag.

White told police that a youth who came up behind him suddenly had the soft drink bottle.

He said his assailant missed his first swing but White landed a blow with the moneybag. The youth, about 19, fell, got up and fled.

White completed his trip to the bank.

afford seed, or they faced starvation between harvests.

Farmers who try to improve their lot find that interest rates range up to 15 per cent a month. Fertilizer, brought to Korea under the American aid program, sells at government distribution points for as much as double the ceiling price.

Administration supported legislation would create a new agricultural bank operated without direct government supervision to provide low-cost credit for farmers. President Rhee hopes to promote the organization of loosely organized marketing cooperatives on a village level.

Chang, in his successful vice presidential campaign, promised the farmers cooperatives through which they could buy seed and fertilizer and market their harvest without paying exorbitant fees to middle men.

Few experts foresee serious political unrest or an attempted coup if Rhee dies.

"We would expect Chang Myon to take office and to follow all constitutional processes to the letter," one diplomatic source said.

Korea has made great political progress in eight years. In the last election voters demonstrated much political maturity. In Seoul and other major cities, where opposition parties are strongest, there appears to be political freedom.

Few Korean leaders expect military interference in the government. This hands-off attitude could change quickly, however, if after Rhee's death a situation developed which the army considered unstable or unfriendly.

Chang Myon, also known as John M. Chang, is 56. He is Korea's leading Catholic layman and was South Korea's first ambassador to Washington. He also is a former prime minister.

Chang was a compromise candidate to run with P. H. Shinicky, leader of the opposition Democratic party, in the last election. Shinicky died during the campaign. Chang easily defeated Rhee's candidate for the vice presidency.

Reveals Guard's Training Budget

State's Summer Camps Cost Over $1.5 Million, General Reveals

LANSING (AP)—More than a million and a half dollars will be spent training Michigan National Guardsmen this summer, Maj. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general, estimated today.

The estimated cost of 1956 field training for 13,000 soldiers and airmen is $1,544,518.

This includes two periods of field training already completed, one in session at Camp Claybank, the Camp Grayling encampment Aug. 11-25 and the training of 1,000 airmen at Alpena Aug. 18-Sept. 1.

Pay for the 10,000 troops to train at Camp Grayling this year is estimated at $928,000. The men are paid on their last day at camp so most of the money will go back to their home towns.

Other major expenses include $182,000 for food, $52,000 for gas, $18,000 for moving equipment, $18,000 for travel and $15,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Wife Loses, Husband Wins

Loss Keeps Family United

LUEDINGTON (AP)—Defeat, though unsavory at the polls Tuesday for Mrs. Arthur C. Hansen, probably helped keep the family under a single roof.

Hansen, a Ludington restaurateur, was nominated for Democratic state representative from the Mason County District.

Victory for both would have meant long separations for the couple and their 14-year-old son during lawmaking sessions and would have left their Ludington dining room in the hands of tenant operators.

TICKLED AT LOSS

Mrs. Hansen says: "I was tickled to death that I didn't win. I could see during the last few weeks of the campaign that victory was going to present many problems in family affairs and management of the business."

"Due to the fact that Rep. (Ruth) Thompson was defeated in the primary, I am happy I'm not a candidate. I thought, however, that two women would have made an appealing political race."

She termed Robert P. Griffin, Traverse City Attorney who defeated Miss Thompson, "a very capable person." She added she believes he will make it "a tough battle" in November with Democratic nominee William Baker.

Mrs. Hansen says she thinks her husband "has a very good chance" for success in his race against Republican Hans C. Rasmussen.

Nagasaki Observes 11th Year of A Blast

NAGASAKI, Japan (AP)—Nagasaki's mayor called today for "peace before mankind destroys as the rebuilt city observed the 11th anniversary of World War II's second and last atomic bombing."

Some 15,000 gathered before the world peace statue to renew the city's annual prayer that the bomb dropped here Aug. 9, 1945, would be man's last resort to nuclear warfare.

Rio de Janeiro is growing at the rate of some 70,000 persons a year.

Teenage Drivers Vie for J. C. of C. Awards

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifty of the nation's top teenage drivers busied themselves today with more written examinations and sightseeing as they waited to find out who would be chosen national champion.

The fifth annual teenage Road-E-O, sponsored by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, reaches its climax at a banquet tonight when the winner of the top prize, a $1,000 college scholarship, will be announced. Also named will be winners of a $1,000 second prize and a $500 third prize.

The winners will be selected on the basis of four days of competition—written, oral and actual driving examinations. The score—a running tally—has been kept secret.

Drivers have gone through a grueling series of tests of their driving aptitudes, knowledge of road rules and ability to handle a car in tight circumstances.

NUZZLING NOSES — Red Autumn (right) takes a fancy to his owner, Norman Williams of Oxford and member of the East Oxford 4-H Club. From the expression on Norman's face the only possible conclusion to draw is that he isn't too enthused over his smooching equine friend.

are Lynn Thompson (left) of Birmingham and Cheryl Waggener of Clarkston.

Oakland County 4-H Fair Offers a Challenge

The 20th annual 4-H Club fair means more than just the usual carnival to the more than 2,000 Oakland County boys and girls who help put it on, enter exhibits and make the whole event possible.

First of all, and there's no getting around it, the fair means lots of fun! It's a once a year event that's looked forward to more than any other single event in 4-H boys and girls lives.

It means a week of concentrated activity, too, that involves shining up the pet calves and trimming the sheep daily to vie for blue ribbon honors.

It means living and learning with all the friends made all year long in 4-H activities.

It means lots of play hours too — dreaming on top the ferris wheel, whirling in the loop the loop, climbing up the huge tank on display by a local reserve unit.

SENSE OF PRIDE

It means eyeing the apple pies on display, snitching a few peaches from the fruit stand and trying to talk the Good Humor man out of a "free one."

Above all to the many who have entered competition, the fair brings a sense of pride, a feeling of accomplishment in a job well done even though the treasured first prize may have gone to someone else.

Preparation for this final—finished product—the actual fair—started months ago.

4-H leaders and agents got heads together to plan fair programs and line up talent and displays. 4-H members began to plan what kind of projects they would enter.

The girls chose patterns for dresses and dug up special recipes to practice. The boys decided to try for honors in vegetable growing. Different displays were planned. Clubs en masse started dreaming up ideas for floats for the annual Parade of Floats.

So the work began and continued to a frantic last minute effort that called for help galore in setting up the fair as well as finishing the individual projects.

But the hard work is forgotten in the flurry of the fair. And come the final day—it will be a pretty sight who wistfully will haul their drooping displays, tired animals and aching feet back from whence they came. But years go fast and next year's fair will roll around.

THE VICTOR — Fred Barnard, of Troy 4-H Club, carries his victim back to the judges' stand. Fred was winner in the 12-14 boys' pig scramble. The slippery porker started down the midway before a head long jump stopped his progress. Fred will keep the pig for a year and exhibit it at next year's 4-H fair. Charlene Sudia of East Orion 4-H and Larry Hudson of Milford 4-H were the other class winners.

SCRUBBING DUTIES — This Aberdeen Angus gets a scrub down to beat all scrub downs in preparation for beef judging this morning at the 4-H fair. Twitching his ears and swishing his tail, friend Aberdeen doesn't seem to mind a bit. Doing the work are Steven Smith (left) and Phil Smith Jr. Both boys are from the New Live Wix 4-H Club and live in South Lyon.

EYEING THE JUDGES — Brownie, a handsome tan and white calf in his fancy green and white halter, isn't too concerned over what the judges will say about him. His owner, young Sammy Gingell of Metamora, member of the Thomas 4-H Club, gives them an apprehensive eye, anyway. Will they, or won't they pass that blue ribbon this way? If grooming means a thing, Brownie has it hands down!

THE BECKONING FAIR — Lights, noise, music, cotton candy, peanuts, merry-go-rounds and ferris wheels are all a part of the 20th annual 4-H fair. Down the midway are all the usual smells of a carnival, the sideshow barkers and the games of skill and chance. On duty in the foreground is a reassuring detail of the Oakland County Sheriff's department.

BUSY DAY — The afternoon's occupations were a trifle too strenuous for this 4-H member who proved that farm lads are rugged by curling up on a box of equipment for a nap. But he was the exception rather than the rule among the energetic exhibitors on the fair's first day.

Urges President to Settle Dispute

Reuther Requests Ike to Help Iron Out Spot in State Jobless Plans

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, wants President Eisenhower to step into the dispute over proposed changes in Michigan's unemployment compensation law.

In a telegram to the White House yesterday, Reuther urged the President to ask Republican members of the State Legislature to drop opposition to Gov. Williams' plan for increasing unemployment payments.

Williams proposed the plan at a special session of the Legislature which he called in June. The Legislature recessed twice without taking any action on the measure and it is expected to come up for debate again when the two houses reconvene today.

Reuther's telegram called attention to Michigan's unemployment situation, pointing out that "the most recent Michigan employment security commission figures report there are currently 225,000 unemployed in the state, of which 142,000 are in the Detroit area." He added: "These figures do not include model-changeover layoffs which are now starting (in the auto industry)."

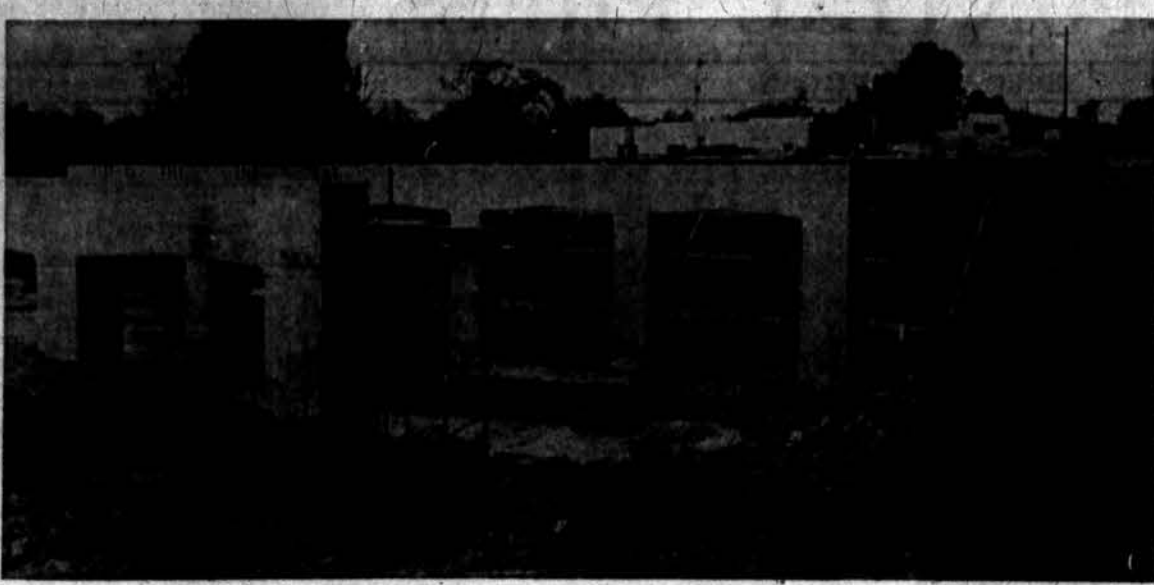

Reuther said Michigan now ranks last among the 51 states and territories with unemployment compensation laws in the relationship between the average wage and maximum primary benefits and 23rd in the relationship between average weekly benefits and the average weekly wage of workers covered by unemployment compensation.

Swap Ringside Seats for Assault Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton and two waiters have legally called it a "draw" as far as mutual assault charges are concerned.

Last June 2 in Queens the two waiters, Wade Nance, 29, and Samuel Wyatt, 34, allegedly blocked Saxton's car by double parking. Police said Saxton, 25, using a baseball bat, inflicted injuries on the waiters. The waiters said they battled to defend themselves.

In Felony Court yesterday all parties withdrew charges and came to the following agreement: the waiters to get ringside seats for the Saxton-Carmen Basilio fight next month, and Saxton to get a ringside table at the fashionable Forest Hills Inn.

UNDERPASS PROGRESS — Uprights to bear Orchard Lake traffic over Telegraph Road vehicles are rising at the site of the overpass at the intersection of the two roads. Currently the detour

$500,000 Project Moves Ahead

Traffic Slowed by Underpass Work

Traffic at the Orchard Lake-Telegraph Road intersection west of Pontiac, congested for several years, has been slowed even more this summer by construction work on the intersection's new relocation and grade separation.

When completed, the mile-long divided highway relocation of Telegraph Road will carry north-south traffic under Orchard Lake avenue at a point about 200 feet west of the present intersection.

Existing Telegraph Road pavement will remain in use to serve as an access from Telegraph to Orchard Lake Avenue.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $500,000, with the federal government picking up half the check and the state and city splitting the rest.

Under this arrangement, made possible in April, 1955 by the Dykstra Act, Pontiac's share of the cost will be $125,000.

Crews now are working on the grade separation bridge, a $206,000 project which must be finished before pavement of the relocation is laid. Traffic is detoured around the project along a strip of temporary pavement in a loop to the north.

Traffic surveys conducted in 1954 by the State Highway Department found up to 30,202 vehicles passing a point on Telegraph Road 200 feet southeast of Orchard Lake Avenue on a Sunday, the peak day. On a peak Friday, Orchard Lake Avenue carried 16,485 vehicles at a point 200 feet southeast of Telegraph Road.

Plane Crashlanding Fatal for Five People

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (INS)—Five men were killed yesterday when a plane being used to spray portions of Florida against the Mediterranean fruit fly crashed while attempting a landing at the Boca Roton Air Force Base near here.

The victims were identified as William J. Day, 28, the pilot; Rae Howery, co-pilot; Al Johnson, 18, John Tichner, 19, and Warren Rogers, 18. The three boys were employed as mixers for the poison spray used in the dusting of crops against the fruit fly.

Peron-Era Unionists Allowed Back in Jobs

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's revolutionary government has decreed that 92,000 Peron-era labor leaders may once again hold union jobs.

They had been barred from union posts two months after dictator Juan Peron's overthrow last year. The anti-Peron regime feared the labor leaders would launch a campaign of sabotage and trouble by the workers, the backbone of Peron's civilian support.

NLRB Sets Up Polls on Coast Sidewalk

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board had to set up its voting booths on the sidewalk in front of the Deutsch Co., manufacturer of valves.

Management denied NLRB examiner Fred W. Davis the use of the factory yesterday so he borrowed four portable booths from Los Angeles County, set up two card tables and substituted a swearing-in process and a registration of each prospective voter for the usual checkoff list supplied by management.

"This is a new one on me," said Davis. "I never ran an election on the sidewalk before, but we had to do something when the company declined permission for use of its property."

Allied Industrial Workers, Local 978, received 207 of the 228 votes cast.

A half-ton piece of stone from the Palace of Westminster, England, will be incorporated in the Gold Coast Legislative Assembly buildings at Accra.

Peron Arrives in Venezuela

Leaves Panama Exile; Argentine Events Will Guide Future Action

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Ex-dictator Juan D. Peron arrived here last night from exile in Panama, where he declared his future movements depend "on what happens in Argentina."

On hand to welcome the ousted Argentine President at Miquetia Airport were some 150 cheering fellow countrymen. Heading them was exiled Gen. Raul Tanco, who led the abortive 12-hour June revolt against Argentina's provisional government.

Tanco and seven fellow officers who fled with him when their plot failed were among the first to embrace Peron.

The deposed dictator refused to tell newsmen here what his plans were. Leaving Panama, where he spent the past nine months, he said he was flying to Venezuela to "get farther south" and added: "I don't know whether I am going to some other country (after Venezuela), or return here. That doesn't depend on me. It depends on what happens in Argentina. . . . A man in my situation cannot say where he is going or what he is going to do."

Accompanying Peron was his attractive Argentine girl friend, blonde Isabel Martinez. She stayed in the background while newsmen questioned the former dictator. Later, when a limousine whisked Peron away from the airport, she left in a separate car with Tanco.

Romantic Light Burns— but Without Loving Blink

COHASSET, Mass. (AP)—For the first time in 96 years the blinking light on Minot's Ledge in Boston Harbor failed to blink its romantic message last night.

It just glared steadily. The Coast Guard, which set out to repair the faulty mechanism today, said of the failure: "Let us say Minot's Ledge is not showing its proper characteristics."

Minot's light flashes in a sequence of one-four-three. Romantic seamen say the light sequence spells out the words "I love you."

Brink's Court Trial Still Lacking a Jury

BOSTON (AP)—The jury box in the Superior Court trial of eight Greater Boston men charged with the $128,211 Brink's robbery was still empty today as efforts to pick a jury continued for the third day.

Fully 200 men and women have been questioned so far for possible jury duty, but all have been excused by the court or on challenges by the prosecution or defense.

Many said they already had formed an opinion of the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

On trial for the nation's biggest cash robbery—on the night of Jan. 17, 1950—are: Joseph F. McGinnis, 52; Anthony Pino, 48; Henry D. Baker, 49; Adolph Maffie, 44; Thomas F. Richardson, 48; James I. Faherty, 44; Michael V. Geagan, 47, and Vincent J. Costa, 41.

Antique Flag Saved

GARBER, Okla. (AP)—VFW members decided not to destroy the old flag which has been replaced at their hall. They discovered it had only 45 stars, which indicated it was made some time before 1890 when the 46th state was admitted to the union.

Colombia Starts Developments

Begin Reclaiming Land of Empty Eastern Plains and Jungles

WASHINGTON — Horace Greeley's advice to young men of the 1850's echoes today in Colombia, South America — but with a difference.

"Go east, young man," is the way the Colombians hear it, as their government launches a new program of settlement and development for the all-but-empty eastern plains and jungles that reach toward the interior of the continent. Colombia's "Wild East" spreads over some 240,000 square miles, more than half the country, says the National Geographic Society. Yet it holds only a few hundred thousand people out of the nation's 13,000,000.

EAST VS WEST

As eyed by mapmaker or settler, Colombia's eastern and western areas could hardly be more unlike.

Rising from coastlands along both Caribbean and Pacific waters, the west is a mass of mountain ranges marching in parallel north-south columns. Some of the peaks are more than 18,000 feet high. Perpetually shrouded in snow, they look down on productive and populous valleys.

In contrast, eastern Colombia unfolds in a vast, monotonous expanse — an endless sea, one traveler described it, whose main ports lie at the edge of the western mountains.

Green and brown by turns, the eastern lowlands are furrowed by river systems, by occasional faint trails and by one cross-country road serving only the northeast. Here and there a ranch or farm, a pioneer town or isolated Indian village rises out of the general emptiness.

In the north, stretching toward Venezuela and the sunrise, are rolling grassy plains called Llanos. Tropical versions of the old ranges of the American West, the llanos are the roaming grounds of Colombia's Spanish-Indian cowboys.

Less well known and little traveled is the southern country of the Selva, or jungle, merging with inland Brazil, Peru and Ecuador. There monkeys chatter in rain forests and lush growth hints at future cultivation.

Colombia's pioneer East is marked off into six national territories. Though nobody knows yet what natural resources will turn up with exploration, some of these regions already have their own specialties.

A growing livestock industry in Arauca is based on an estimated 182,000 cattle, 10,000 horses and 10,000 pigs. Equator-straddling Caqueta produces rice as well as cattle. Meta adds salt mining to tropical farming and ranching, and has several oil deposits. In Vichada, Vaupes and Amazonas — farthest from the developed western highlands — are prospects of wealth in timber, cacao, rubber, resins and other forest output.

CANVAS COMES TO LIFE — Dutch soldiers, representing figures in Rembrandt's "The Night Watch," walk in Amsterdam parade honoring the artist's 350th birthday.

4-H Club Gives Money for India Farm Village

NEW DELHI (U) — An Indian village which had the gift of a visit from Russian leaders during their tour of last year has a more lasting remembrance from the 4-H Club members of Lake County, Ohio.

This is a contribution of $1,230 to buy farming tools for the village workers. The contribution from the Ohio farm groups, distributed through CARE headquarters here, was enough to purchase 50 handplows and 53 small tool kits. They were given to villagers of Bhatgaon, 35 miles from India's capital.

Florida Protests Ad Showing 105 Degrees

SARASOTA, Fla. (U) — Du Pont ran a magazine ad for a new fabric, showing a man standing beside a weather map listing a temperature of 105 degrees for Florida.

The Sarasota Chamber of Commerce and Florida Development Commission protested indignantly that their state never had such hot weather.

W. E. Gordon, Du Pont advertising manager, in a letter to Tod Swalm, chamber manager, said he was sorry.

Conscientious Marine Gives the Navy a Plug

OKLAHOMA CITY (U) — It was just too much for a conscientious Marine recruiter to stand. Sgt. Jack Conkel, stationed here, had applied for the Armed Forces Radio Service and had been working part time at a local station to gain experience.

And what spot announcement did he have to handle? One on Navy recruiting.

After getting through the Navy recruiting commercial, he ad libbed:

"And folks, the Navy recruiting office is straight across the hall from the Marine recruiting office."

Police Will Fix That — Robbery Is a Felony

DENVER (U) — Police arrested a purse-snatch suspect who offered the information he was "clean" and had no police record. At headquarters, when confronted with a seven-page police record showing 59 arrests for drunkenness, he explained:

"Well, what I meant was that I've never been in any penitentiary or concentration camps."

The Right whale lives on almost microscopic life which it strains out of sea water.

Pleads Innocent, Found Guilty—on Other Charge

LOVINGTON, N.M. (U) — Two Lovington oil field workers were recently charged with assault and pleaded innocent before Justice John W. Green.

But one of the accused men ended up in jail anyway — after pleading guilty to stealing cigarettes while being booked on the assault charge.

Honey Is One of World's Widest Distributed Crops

WASHINGTON — Honey, the sweet food relished alike by athletes and babies, is one of the world's most widely distributed agricultural crops.

There is scarcely a country where honeybees have not been kept, the National Geographic Society says. Honey has been produced in tropic and temperate zones, in desert and mountain regions, in plains and swamps.

From Ethiopia, where it may be served in a rhinoceros horn, to New Zealand, where Mt. Everest climber Sir Edmund Hillary keeps his bees; from Alaska to Brazil; from Scotland's heather to Hawaii's carob tree; from Peru to Japan, honey is known and prized.

Because of its high content of simple sugars, Olympic athletes since the original Greek games have eaten it for energy. It is used in many infant-feeding formulas as a readily digestible body builder.

EASY TO DIGEST

Honey is easy for man to digest because the bees have done part of the work for him. Flower nectar, gathered into hives, is treated by the bees with enzymes, which break down its sweetness content into dextrose and levulose, both simple sugars. Also present in the honey are vitamins, minerals and other body-building elements.

The bees need all their well-publicized industry to produce honey. The average worker bee will gather enough nectar for a teaspoonful of honey in its six weeks of life. Production of a pound of honey requires some 35,000 trips from the hive. The most popular container of honey—the 16-ounce bottle—holds the essence of 2,000,000 blossoms.

In the United States, some 353,000,000 pounds of honey were produced last year. The crop came from 5,500,000 hives, each housing between 25,000 and 70,000 bees.

American honeybees are immigrants. They came over with early settlers, astonishing the Indians, who called them "white man's flies." Bees found wild here, except for such natives as the bumble bee, escaped from their keepers.

HONEY HAS MANY FORMS

Each flower produces a distinct type of honey. A department store once rounded up 169 kinds of honey from 18 states and 12 foreign countries. Most popular in the United States is clover honey, with alfalfa, orange blossom, sage, tulip tree, buckwheat, sourwood and other varieties also highly regarded. Much commercial honey is blended from several kinds.

Honey ranges in color from water clarity to that of red wine and is sold in various forms—in the comb, extracted, and creamed.

Mentioned in the Old and New Testaments, the Koran and the Scandinavian Sagas, honey has been important to the world for centuries. It is the only natural sugar food that needs no refining.

After all the years man has been exploiting the honeybee, some bees have found a way to outwit him. From certain species of rhododendron they produce a honey on which bees thrive—but it is poisonous to people.

Coal on the Move

NEW YORK — Two hundred barges and scows operating in the coal trade in the 39 channels comprising New York harbor move 10,000,000 tons of coal each year. Power companies and industries consume half of it.

Hard Working Thief

KITCHENER, Ont. (U) — A "gold thief" is operating the hard way here. Police said four gold letters were pried off a hotel beverage room door. The hotel manager said the letters might be worth $7.50 if they could be disposed of.

ADA Says Dems Liberal in Voting

Use Own Yardstick to Rate Parties' Records in Recent Congress

Advance for 8 a.m. est Aug. 9. WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans for Democratic Action today credited Democrats in both Senate and House with a "far more liberal" voting record than Republicans in the recent session of Congress.

The ADA, using its own yardstick to measure liberal vs. conservative votes, said Democrats supported the liberal position on 14 selected Senate roll calls 72 per cent of the time as contrasted with 30.5 per cent for the Republicans.

On seven roll-calls it selected in the House, Democrats were found to have voted the liberal position 70.8 per cent of the time as compared with Republicans' 40.5 per cent.

The ADA advocates principles of the Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman administrations, although calling itself nonpartisan.

The 14 Senate issues selected by ADA for judging party and individual performances included the natural gas bill, foreign aid, public housing, Social Security, Niagara power and Hells Canyon dam. Issues in the House included foreign aid, aid to education and civil rights.

Eleven senators, all Democrats, scored 100 per cent on the liberal side: Douglas (Ill.), Humphreys (Ky.), McNamara (Mich.), Humphrey (Minn.), Hennings (Mo.), Lehman (N.Y.), Morse and Neuberger (Ore.), Kefauver (Tenn.), Laird and Neely (W.Va.), (Humphreys and Laird took office during the session and did not vote on all issues).

Two Republican senators, Williams (Del.) and Welker (Idaho), were listed as voting the conservative position on all issues.

In the House, 94 Democrats and 7 Republicans were recorded on the liberal side on every test vote; 10 Democrats and 19 Republicans on the conservative side on all the selected roll calls.

The seven Republicans listed as voting liberal on all the issues and Canfield (N.J.), Fulton (Pa.), Holmes and Tollison (Wash.).

New Mexico Tribes to Dance for 28,000

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Gallup's annual inter-tribal Indian ceremonial opened today with thousands of white and red visitors filling the town to capacity.

Officials of the Ceremonial Assn. which operates the affair expected in the vicinity of 16,000 white and 12,000 Indian visitors to attend before the last performance Sunday.

USING HIS NOODLE — Lt. Elton L. Miller, USNR, dons a Japanese street vendor's costume over his immaculate uniform to blend with his latest acquisition — a noodle-vendor's cart. Stationed at Atsugi Naval Air Station, Japan, Lt. Miller is not going to mix noodles with jets. He's planning to take the cart stateside and convert it to a barbecue grill for the patio of his home at Flat River, Mo.

Two-Way Improvement

Eisenhower Up to Par — Both in Golf and in Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — If golf is a yardstick, President Eisenhower may be convalescing faster than he expected from his major operation two months ago today.

Eisenhower said last week his physicians had advised him after his June 9 intestinal surgery that he probably wouldn't feel like playing golf again for about four months—until early October.

Any such advice was given privately. The chief surgeon on the case, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, told a news conference a few hours after the operation that Eisenhower would be able to resume "full duties" of the presidency in four to six weeks. Eisenhower was back at the White House July 15.

Last Saturday, three days after telling newsmen he had been advised he probably wouldn't feel up to golf until October, he played four holes at Burning Tree Club in nearby Maryland. Yesterday he got in nine holes at Burning Tree and told an aide afterward he was feeling "very well."

Eisenhower walked three of the nine holes. On the other six he rode in an electric cart between shots. He used powered cars occasionally even before his heart attack last Sept. 24. After the attack they became the usual thing a good part of each round.

Shortly after Eisenhower completed his nine-hole tour late yesterday the White House announced he plans three or four days of golf and rest at the swanky Cypress Point Club on the Monterey Peninsula about 100 miles south of San Francisco immediately after the Republican national convention.

The convention opens a week from Monday.

Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday about plans to stay on for three or four days in the area. The White House provided the details later.

The President will be a guest of the Cypress Point Club, whose golf course has been the scene of a number of major tournaments. Although Eisenhower is playing golf before he said he expected to be, an aide noted that he still has not played a full 18-hole round.

A British firm will build Iraq's highway bridge across the Euphrates at Nasirya.

Movie About Marines May Feature McKean

PARIS (INS) — The 20-Century Fox studio in Paris announced today Darryl F. Zanuck is planning a film entitled "Parris Island," dealing with the S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKean case.

The announcement said the movie will stress rigorous training taken by Marines.

It said official permission for the use of the Parris Island base in shooting the film already has been obtained. There is a possibility

McKean might appear in the movie.

Director to Pay $500, Alimony Until Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film director Bruce Humphreys has agreed to pay his estranged wife, Gay, $500 monthly alimony and child support pending trial of her divorce suit. She is 26, an actress and model known as Gay Poling.

Humphreys is 50. It's a friendly separation. Humphreys told the court yesterday he was taking his wife to lunch.

Newest Rocket Soars 70 Miles Into Ionosphere

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP) — Military scientists shot a new research rocket, called the "Dan," 70 miles into the ionosphere yesterday.

The two-stage rocket took off with a crash like nearby lightning. The boom of its breaking the sound barrier echoed across the empty desert before observers could wink an eye. It landed 40 miles away.

In its nose were instruments to measure and radio back the heat generated by air friction, air pressure, temperatures, altitude and other factors.

Another "Dan" was ready for firing today. If it goes off as well, the launching device will be dismantled and flown to Ft. Churchill in Manitoba, sub-polar Canada.

That's the site for extensive rocket tests planned shortly in connection with the International Geophysical Year.

Opposition Party Heads Blamed by Government for Revolt

QUITO, Ecuador (U)—Ecuador's government says it has broken the back of brief revolt and bottled up the rebel remnants on the ranch of one of the leaders.

A government spokesman said only three deaths—all army men—had been reported since army units in western Ecuador's Manabí province rebelled Monday night and seized key cities and towns in the province.

The spokesman denied a rebel charge that government planes had machine-gunned the center of the revolt, Portoviejo, and killed a number of "mothers and defenseless children."

The outbreak was blamed on civilian leaders of the opposition Liberal party, which lost in the presidential election in June and charged fraud.

The government said loyal troops had recaptured the rebel centers of Portoviejo, the provincial capital, Manta and Jipijapa, and that the rebels' military chief, Lt. Col. Arturo Davila, and his holdouts were cornered near Chone on the ranch of Sen. Homero Andrade.

Andrade and the Liberal party's unsuccessful vice presidential candidate, Jose Maria Plaza, were named as civilian leaders of the revolt.

The government radio said Chone was surrounded by loyal troops.

Mississippi Democrat Segregationist Readies for Convention Big Fight

JACKSON, Miss. (U)—The street-corner talk in Mississippi is that J. P. will win for the South at Chicago.

J. P. is James P. Coleman, Mississippi's eloquent 42-year-old governor. "At Chicago" is a capsule phrase often heard whenever two Mississippians meet. They're talking about the fight to keep the Democratic National Convention from doing things the South doesn't want.

The South doesn't want any interference with its right to segregate the races and say who can vote. She also doesn't want a presidential candidate who believes otherwise.

Coleman, a onetime plowboy whose 6-foot-2 frame is still tight-muscled, is in some ways well set up to speak for the South. He is a militant segregationist, an able constitutional lawyer, a loyal Democrat and he could talk a time causing the North is no way bound dog into sharing his meal with a raccoon.

As a Deep South governor sitting on the Platform Committee—which will decide, among other things, on a civil rights plank—Coleman's goal at Chicago is to keep the South, and particularly Mississippi, in the Democratic party without any compromise on segregation and state's rights.

He won the right to make the fight—and some say he also will have to take the responsibility for its outcome—by putting down a states rights rebellion at the state Democratic convention. The states rightsers wanted a date set for a recess convention at which Mississippi Democrats could jump the party traces if they disliked the party's presidential nominee. Coleman spiked the move, but made it plain that he's not rushing into anything.

Some of his recent outspoken quotes:

"I know the Democratic party, with all its shortcomings, is the best friend of the South."

But he added: "They could do something (at the convention) which would make it impossible for Mississippi to support the nominee. Mississippi will take no 'loyalty pledge' to support the nominee before seeing who he is."

"I do not now favor the Negro voting in Mississippi. He is wholly unprepared to assume this responsibility."

But he added that Mississippi is spending a large sum to give the Negro "equal education and opportunity."

"I am opposed to any form of coercion by the federal government. If federal bayonets held over the heads of a prostrate people from 1865 to 1877 couldn't do it, how do you suppose it could be done now?"

But he added: "Spending our

Polish Red Leader Expresses Party Line

VIENNA (U)—Radio Warsaw reported today that Edward Ochab, chief of the ruling Polish Communist party, promised workers at Poznan that "the party and government are striving to raise living standards of the people as quickly as possible."

Ochab reportedly spoke to workers at Poznan's Zispo works, where the bloody June 28 "bread-and-freedom" strikes and demonstrations began. He said the Communist party had "drawn the necessary consequences from the Poznan strikes and made necessary workers."

Radio Warsaw claimed, however, that the Zispo workers "on their part acknowledged that the street riots which followed the strike were unjustified, that they damaged Poland and gave hostile elements the opportunity for provocations."

Pity the Taxpayer

ROANOKE, Va. (U)—A 9-year-old boy committed to the Roanoke Juvenile Detention Home couldn't understand why he was given two bed sheets. He regarded one as acceptable, two as extravagant. "Who pays for this?" he wanted to know. "The taxpayers," he was told. "A top sheet is a waste of the taxpayers' money," the youth in-bed sheets. He regarded one as acceptable, two as extravagant.

Republicans Gird for Fall Battle

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's Republican leaders, with Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo at the forefront, today began girding themselves for an all-out try at deposing Gov. Williams and his lieutenants in the Democratic administration.

The main event in the state election will match two candidates who have never been beaten for public office. Cobo, three times mayor of Detroit and seven times city treasurer, will go against Williams who is seeking an unprecedented fifth term as governor.

Republicans predicted Cobo's ringing victory over Donald S. Leonard in the primary balloting Tuesday boosted their chances of unseating Williams.

"An Eisenhower-Cobo ticket will be the strongest the Republicans have had the pleasure of presenting to the state in many years," said John Felkens, Republican state chairman.

Democratic leaders also appeared heartened over the turnout of their candidates attracted in the absence of any statewide competition.

Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, said he learned of the returns with "rejoicing." Williams, who polled more than 418,000 votes, called them "encouraging."

The governor's running mate, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, also unopposed, polled 338,863 votes in his campaign for a second term.

In his impressive triumph, Cobo carried 77 of the state's 83 counties, collecting nearly 350,000 votes for a plurality of more than 190,000 over Leonard, a former State Police commissioner who lost out to Gov. Williams in the 1954 election. Cobo lost only Alger, Dickinson, Iron and Keweenaw counties in the Upper Peninsula and Benzie and Clare in the Lower Peninsula. Leonard carried five of these by less than 100 votes each.

In a radio talk acknowledging his victory, Cobo promised a "clean and constructive" campaign to be carried to all sections of the state. Leonard said he would work for Cobo and other Republican office seekers in the coming campaign.

FEW OTHER SURPRISES

In other contests there were few surprises. Robert P. Griffin, 32-year-old Traverse City attorney, pulled the biggest upset, trouncing Rep. Ruth Thompson, Whitehall Republican who was bidding for a fourth term in Congress. Griffin will oppose William E. Baker of Mesick, a member of the state board of agriculture, in the ninth congressional district race.

All the other Congress incumbents who are running for reelection came through, but two, Reps. August E. Johansen of Battle Creek and Thaddeus M. Machrowicz of Detroit, had narrow scrapes.

On the basis of complete unofficial returns, Johansen, a Republican, edged state Sen. Creighton R. Coleman, another Battle Creek entry, by a mere 531 votes in the third district.

Machrowicz defeated state Sen. Cora Brown by more than 5,000 in the first district pulling away in the late stages in a race that was nip-and-tuck most of the way.

Two Negroes will oppose each other in the 12th district, situated in Detroit. Democratic incumbent Charles C. Diggs Jr., who was handily over two other primary candidates, is pitted against Willis F. Ward, a former University of Michigan football star.

Two former congressmen making comeback tries failed to win nominations. They are Democrat Frank Hook, who lost to Joseph S. Mack, in the 12th district; and Kit Clardy, who was swamped by Charles E. Chamberlain, Ingham County prosecutor, in the battle to oppose Rep. Don Hayworth, East Lansing Democrat, in the sixth district.

NEWCASTLE, England (AP)—Artist Scott Dobson reported today he has found a way to make posing easier for his model, 18-year-old Hazel Moffett. He said he hypnotizes her.

"The trance technique has given me perfect sittings," Dobson said. "I just sit there in a wonderful dream world while time flies by," said Hazel.

Forger Gets Probation

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Orman J. Bennell, 36, of South Haven, who pleaded guilty on six counts involving stolen government checks, has been placed on probation for three years by Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent. Bennell admitted stealing letters and forging government checks in March and April.

Buy Garments With Hip Sizes

Purchase Your Clothes With Measurements to Insure Comfort

Note to mothers: A recent survey on shopping habits showed that more than 80 per cent of a young man's clothing, including underwear, is purchased by you.

According to Coopers, Inc., the job of underwear shopping can be quick and accurate if you follow these tips:

When you shop, always ask for a garment size by measurement. This is especially important when buying knitted underwear. To insure comfort and longer wear, use the hip measurement instead of the waist measurement for briefs, midways and longs.

FLEXIBILITY

The flexibility of knit fabrics with elasticized waist bands will provide advantageous custom-tailored fit for his under wardrobe. Whenever you find a satisfactory brand of underwear, save the brand name tag. It will simplify shopping, because the product will be easier to locate.

Shop for good fabrics and sturdy construction features. When purchasing underwear, quality service will be your reward if you choose laundry-controlled materials that are sturdy under all types of washing conditions. Rely on the package, tag or garment label to help you evaluate the fabric.

Sturdy construction means lock-stitched, smooth seams placed where they are out of the way. Other points to observe are: (1) Reinforced seams at points of extra strain, such as shoulder, neck, underarm, leg bands, or groin seams; (2) Shape retaining nylon reinforced neck band for T-shirts; (3) Extra fabric reinforcement at points of extreme wear; and (4) Heat resistant elastic waist bands or insertions.

Blackmail Threat Broken Up in Niles

NILES 48—An attempt to extort $2,500 from a retired bank president has been broken by postal authorities, U.S. Postal Inspector V. D. Burlingame has revealed.

Burlingame said Leslie DePoy, 36, of Niles, has signed a statement in the case and has been charged by federal warrant with "using the mails to extort." He has been arrested.

DePoy told him, Burlingame said, of mailed instructions to P. S. Farquhar, retired president of the Niles First National Bank. DePoy told Burlingame he had mailed Farquhar a letter Sunday threatening Farquhar's reputation.

Farquhar was to put the money in a coffee can and place it at the Fort St. Joseph Monument in Niles Tuesday, Burlingame said. DePoy was arrested at the monument.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXXXVI

Shayne cut the cloth binding Lucy's wrist. He lifted the phone and dialed the direct line to Will Gentry's office. He said wearily:

"Come around to Lucy's place to pick up your killer. Nellie Paulson. But do this first. Put a fast tap on Lucy's phone and stake this place out. Nellie's accomplice is supposed to call here any moment. When he does, Lucy will try to stall him long enough for you to trace it—or get him to come here, if she can. You got that?"

"Nellie Paulson?" said Will Gentry. "I thought—"

"Save it until you get up here. She spilled the whole story to Lucy."

He hung up and turned to look at Lucy who had limped across the room and was now seated at the end of the sofa. Nellie Paulson still lay in an unconscious heap against the wall beyond the sofa.

The cognac bottle still stood on the tray, and the glass of brandy Lucy had poured out for Shayne two hours previously.

He looked at his watch and grinned wryly as he went to the chair beside the sofa. "Sorry I didn't quite make it by midnight for that drink, angel."

WHAT MADE YOU?

She shuddered, but kept her tone as light as his. "What made you come at all?"

"It still lacked five minutes of midnight when you told me I shouldn't dare come here at that hour. I knew you too well to believe you wouldn't give me that last minute to keep my promise in—and suddenly everything clicked into place. I knew the murderer was Nellie Paulson and that she hadn't left your place."

Her plumb exploded suddenly in great racking sobs. "Was she in the room when Barnes' sister looked in and saw Charles dead on the bed?"

"Yes. She hid in the bathroom. She told me all about it. How she wound his coat about his throat so the blood wouldn't spill out, and pushed him out the window into the bay and then ran up two flights of stairs and down the elevator."

SHE TOLD ME

"I don't get how she came to be in my hotel lobby waiting for me with a picture of Barnes when I got there."

"She told me all that too. She walked up the street looking for a cab. She found one two or three blocks away and got in and told him to drive by the Hibiscus, just to see if anything was happening. And then the man's sister, Mary Barnes, came running out of an alley beside the hotel and stopped the cab to get away from a man who was chasing her. Nellie looked back and saw it was her own brother. So she stayed in the cab and heard the driver recommend you as a detective who might help Mary, and watched her get out at your hotel. She had the driver drop her a few blocks away. She would have gone up to your room and killed Mary right then to get rid of the only witness to the other murder, but the clerk refused to give your room number.

"She kept hanging around outside in the shadows. Mary came up behind her on the sidewalk and recognized her as the girl who'd been in the cab before. Then she lured Mary into the park and got her to sit on a bench—and cut her throat, too. Mary had told her about your note and how she was coming here, so he caught a cab here and gave me the note."

ANSWER IT

Lucy's telephone shrilled at that exact moment. She got up, looking questioning at Shayne, and he nodded.

"Answer it. If it's Lanny, stall him as long as you can. Will should have a tap on it by this time."

Lucy picked up the phone and said, "Yes?"

She listened a moment, then nodded to Shayne who was waiting intently. "Yes, she is here and he's been trying to call you. If you could hold on a minute? I'll get her. I know she's anxious to talk to you."

She put down the telephone, looking at Shayne anxiously.

As he nodded his approval, a scuffling sound behind him made him swing on his heel.

Nellie Paulson had come back to consciousness enough to have gotten up on her hands and knees. She shrank back and opened her mouth to scream as Shayne turned toward her.

He leaped forward and held his palm against her mouth before the sound came out.

Lucy watched transfixed, her own mouth wide open. Shayne whirled and gestured frantically to the telephone on the table.

She picked it up, asked sweetly, "Oh—Are you still there? Nellie will be out in just a sec."

YOU THERE?

She continued to hold the receiver to her ear, and after another 30 seconds her eyes widened at sound of loud voices and a struggle at the other end of the wire.

Then a different voice came to her. "You there, Miss Hamilton? Good work. We got him all right. And tell Mike Shayne that Chief Gentry's on his way up and for him to stay put until the chief gets there."

Lucy replaced the phone and reported the conversation to Shayne. Nellie dropped back on the floor, moaning softly.

Shayne grinned wryly at Gentry's order, and sank back into his chair. "I swear I'm never going to leave you alone again."

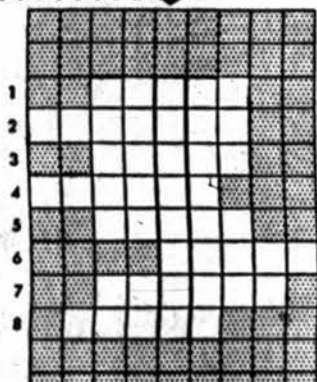

Lucy went to him slowly. She flung her arms about his neck and pressed her face against his chest.

Security for You

Disabled Workers at 50 Now Eligible for Benefits

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

You may be eligible for Social Security payments after next June. If you are now or ever become severely disabled and have reached 50.

This is a completely new feature Congress has just added to the Social Security program. It's the first break from traditional Social Security benefits since payments to survivors were tacked on to the retirement payment program in 1939.

It's expected that about 250,000 persons will draw the disability payments within the first year.

You'll be eligible if you:

1. Have a medically established mental or physical disability so severe that you can't engage in any substantial work, and
2. Have had the disability for at least six months and it appears likely to last for the rest of your life, and
3. Have worked under Social Security for five of the ten years before you were disabled and for 18 of the 36 months before you were disabled, and
4. Are 50 or older.

If you believe you meet these requirements, you should get in touch with your Social Security office after Oct. 1 and apply for the payments. No applications will be accepted until then.

The first month for which the disability payments will be made is July, 1957.

The payments will be the same as the Social Security benefits you would be entitled to if you were 65 and retired. They may range from $30 to $108.50 a month. The actual amount will be based on the average monthly earnings on which you paid Social Security tax either from (A) Jan. 1, 1937 to the time you were disabled or (B) Jan. 1, 1951 to the time you were disabled. In either case, up to five years of your lowest earnings may be dropped out in figuring your payments.

You'll get no additional payments for dependents until you reach 65 (or until you reach 62 if you're a disabled woman worker). If you should die and your survivors are eligible, they'll get Social Security payments.

Any other payments you may get from either your state or the federal government will be subtracted from your disability payments if the other payments are in any way based on a disability. This includes such things as disability payments to veterans and workmen's compensation.

When you apply for the disability payments, you can expect to have your name referred to the vocational rehabilitation agency in your state. This will be done so you may get help to try to put you back in a job. If you refuse to accept this help without a good cause, your disability payments may be taken away.

Since the disability feature is new, the money for it will come from a raise in the Social Security tax after Jan. 1. You and your boss will have to put up an additional 1/4 of 1 per cent each, bringing the total tax for each of you to 2 1/4 per cent. Or, if you're self-employed, your tax will be raised from 3 to 3 3/4 per cent. As now, the tax will be on any earnings you have up to $4,200 a year.

Babe Zaharias: Dedicated to Help Others

(This is the last of four articles on the greatest woman athlete the world has ever seen—now waging a battle against cancer.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

GALVESTON (INS)—One of the more absorbing phenomena of sports is that so many of its physical marvels experience profound physical disorders.

Lou Gehrig, Walter Johnson, Babe Ruth, and Jim Thorpe succumbed many aggregate years before their normal life span expectancy, dead from assorted aches while fragile folk who regarded them as supermen live on.

Joe Louis, who would be considered a young man in almost any calling except his chosen one, recently was declared physically unfit to engage in the sweaty horseplay of professional wrestling—though it seems likely the Bureau of Internal Revenue may insist he continue. The former heavyweight champion has a heart murmur and, his wrestling opponents say, an odd growth on his shoulders. Bobby Jones is on canes.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias, floored here at John Sealey Hospital by her second great cancer surgery, has with the help of her massive husband, former wrestler George Zaharias (himself diabetic), set up "The Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc."

NOT BIG BUSINESS

In a day and age when many organized charities necessarily or unconsciously assume the air of Big Business, a visit to the home office of the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc., can be immensely touching. It is confined to one room at the John Sealey Hospital, around the hall from which the girl for whom the fund is named is dazedly engaged in appalling strife with something she cannot reach out and hit.

Babe thinks of it as a living memorial. When she and Big George first thought it up they sought the best advice available, the doctors who had worked so closely with Babe through her cancer problems and who knew what was needed most where they and so many like them served. They wanted no duplication of any of the other and much better known cancer funds.

On the board are George, Fred Corcoran of New York, Dr. John H. Childers, of John Sealey Hospital, Dr. Hyman W. Paley, professor of medicine, John W. McCullough, chairman of the board of the philanthropic Sealey-Smith Foundation, former U. S. District Judge Charles G. Dible, V. W. McLeod of the Sealey-Smith Foundation, Dr. Martin Schneider, University of Texas professor, and Dr. John Otto, an especial friend of the Babe.

START EXAM CLINICS

Babe is convinced that she would not be in her present trouble if she had been able to drop into a nearby clinic years ago, when the pain and tiredness first came,

and been given a competent checkup. She, Big George and the others concerned, would disburse such funds as come in to the job of providing tumor clinics around the land and personnel to operate the modern means of diagnosing

whether the tumor concerned is malignant or benign.

Since the fund was started last

Sept. 12 about $40,000 has been received. There is one paid

secretary who keeps tab of the mail—sometimes strange—that comes in to university station.

Her salary is low. The rest of the work is done gratis by Big

George, who even buys the stamps to mail the hundreds of

thank-you notes and responses to queries, and by Babe's sister

Lillie.

Big George let me look at some of the mail that has come in to his courageous wife. It was a strange mish-mash. Four little

Tampa girls, ages nine, seven, six and three—they called themselves

the "3 1/2 Club"—contributed $3.84

they had saved. The Cleveland Indians passed the hat and raised

GEORGE IS WORRIED

Casey Stengel, the New York

Yankee manager who has become a legend for his double-talk, wrote most plainly, "It is our hope that you will be able to tell me what you think of our plan."

The center, to be called Vincent

Hall, will be located in Ceymans

Hollow, N. Y., 35 miles southwest of Albany, and is expected to be opened in October.

The location is close to Tracy farms, a 500-acre ranch were for almost 10 years Tracy has worked in the field of alcoholic rehabilitation.

Financing of the center will be by private contribution.

The review board adopted a report of the Chicago Division Army

Engineers calling for Peerless and the federal government each to put up one-half of the $203,000 cost.

Congress must authorize the project

THE BALLOON BOY

Polly is picking out a balloon to take home from the balloon boy who stands near the park gate. Polly is rubbing her fingers on the balloon to hear the funny squeak of the rubber.

When you color the picture with your crayons make the balloons different bright colors, so they will attract customers. Leave the little spot at the top of each balloon white. This is called a high light—where light is reflected on a smooth surface—and it makes the balloons look round. Next time you see a balloon in the sunlight look for the high light.

Paste the picture down on cardboard, and cut it out carefully. Cut out the separate balloon and fasten a string to the back of it with gummed tape. Bring the string through the boy's fingers from the back through the indicated hole, and then slip the lower edge of the balloon into the slit shown between Polly's hands.

Fold the two sides forward on the dotted line and it will stand up. (Carolyn Willis, Oklahoma City, Okla., first sent in this idea. Submit your ideas care of this newspaper, and Junior Editors will pay $10 for each used. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Check Passers Await Hearing

Face Circuit Court Trial After Arrest in Berkley Supermarket

Two members of an alleged check forgery ring were bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday following examination in Justice Court on charges of uttering and publishing and forger.

John F. Weightman, 39, of Farmington, and John Freeman, 48, of Berkley, will appear before Circuit Court Judge George Hartwick Monday. They were examined yesterday by Justice Ralph Finley of Berkley. A third member of the group, Fred Bartz, 40, of Farmington, pleaded guilty to the charges earlier and awaits sentence.

Freeman was released on $1,000 bond. Weightman was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond.

Weightman and Bartz were arrested June 22 when attempting to pass a false check at a supermarket in Berkley. Police found $660 in cash and 21 uncashed checks in their possession. Freeman was apprehended later as an alleged partner in the ring.

Police said the group admitted passing bad checks valued at $10,000 over a six month period, printing equipment, plates, and other materials were confiscated.

NEW YORK (INS)—Establishment of what is believed to be the first privately-operated center in the nation where alcoholics may be rehabilitated free of charge was announced last night by Vincent Tracy, director of the center.

The center, to be called Vincent Hall, will be located in Ceymans Hollow, N. Y., 35 miles southwest of Albany, and is expected to be opened in October.

The location is close to Tracy farms, a 500-acre ranch were for almost 10 years Tracy has worked in the field of alcoholic rehabilitation. Financing of the center will be by private contribution.

Peerless to Benefit by Rouge Dredging

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army Engineers Review Board has approved a plan for deepening a portion of the old channel of the Rouge River near Detroit.

The segment involved extends from the short cut channel to the north property limit of the Peerless Cement Corp. It would be deepened from its present depth of 17 feet to 21 feet.

The review board adopted a report of the Chicago Division Army Engineers calling for Peerless and the federal government each to put up one-half of the $203,000 cost. Congress must authorize the project and appropriate money for it before any work can be started.

You'll Be Seeing Mars!

Watch for That Red Star

WASHINGTON (INS) — Don't look now, but those men from Mars are pussyfooting up on us.

The National Geographic Society reports that as of Sept. 7, the neighboring planet of Mars will be about as close as it ever comes to the earth—a mere hop, skip and jump of 35 million miles away.

For us guys in the street, the approach of the red planet may conjure up visions of invasions by Martians, flying saucers and other Jules Verne nightmares, but astronomers throughout the world are jumping for joy, according to the National Geographic news bulletin.

The society reports that the space-gazers, working together through the International Mars committee, are preparing to give the nearby planet "the most intensive inspection since the perfection of the telescope."

WHAT IS IT?

Twenty-two observatories will be scanning Mars. After the "visit" is ended, astronomers may be able to speculate confidently on some of these questions:

Is Mars volcanic? Does it have a core of molten metal like the earth's? And of course, what kind of life, if any, is it capable of supporting?

The planet will probably be visible to the naked eye and can be detected by the average sky-watcher by its reddish color.

According to the National Geographic report, astronomers are glum about one development. At the moment, Mars is enjoying Los Angeles weather—an apparent combination of dust and smog.

However, Dr. Albert G. Wilson, secretary of the Mars committee, hopefully said there is a "good possibility" the atmosphere will clear in the coming month.

As the planet approaches, it will probably be subjected to as much photography as Marilyn Monroe.

The Mars committee is hoping to turn up with photographs of the famed canals, the oases, rifts in the planet's rapidly melting polar ice cap and blue-green areas which astronomers think are vegetation.

The astronomers aren't promising any pictures of men from Mars.

Aide Sees Symington on Stevenson Ticket

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mark R. Holloran, Democratic national committeeman for Missouri and chief strategist of the campaign to get the Democratic presidential nomination for Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), says Symington would make a good vice-presidential running mate for Adlai Stevenson.

"He fits ideally the qualifications for a vice president laid down by Stevenson," Holloran declared.

"The contrast between him and Vice President Nixon would be tremendous."

Holloran said when and if the Missouri delegation switches from Symington at Chicago most will undoubtedly go to Stevenson.

Groups Ask Home-Rule Village

Poll Completed at Southfield

488 in Beverly Hills, Berkshire, Favor Being Part of Westwood

SOUTHFIELD — A poll just completed by the Greenfield-Beverly Hills Improvement Assn. shows residents overwhelmingly in favor of becoming a home-rule village.

Of the 555 votes cast, 488 were in favor of the home-rule village, 52 were in favor of annexing to Birmingham, 10 would remain in Southfield Township, four would like to be in the new city of Southfield and one was undecided.

Vice president and chairman of the fact-finding committee of the association, Robert B. Reed, said this morning that the census now being taken should be completed within a week. A new legal rule makes it necessary for a census to be taken of any area planning incorporation before petitions can be circulated he said.

TO CIRCULATE PETITIONS — At the completion of the census, petitions will be circulated to incorporate East and West Beverly Hills and Berkshire Hills subdivisions into a home-rule village, Reed said. It would be known as Westwood.

Boundaries of the area would be from Greenfield to Evergreen, between 13 and 14 Mile roads, and from Evergreen to the eastern boundary of Bingham Farm Village, between 12½ and 14 Mile roads.

Rain Can't Stop Cooks

MILFORD — Rain did not stop 35 Cook family members from their recent 50th annual reunion, although it did move the gathering in from Davisburg Park to the Mrs. Tom Brendel home.

Watch From Car or Boat Student, Community Bands Join in Concert

MILFORD — One of the most unique concerts ever staged in this area will be presented Saturday night at Kensington Park, according to Phil Haddrell, high school band leader.

The 60-piece student band will combine with the newly organized Community band and choirs from the Methodist and Presbyterian churches to sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Many other musicians in the area have been invited to sing at the concert which begins at 7 o'clock.

For five consecutive Saturday evenings, the band has played for hundreds of spectators that jam the area at Maple Beach. A new public address system has made it possible for people to enjoy the hour-long programs while sitting in their cars, or in boats on the water.

Featured in the concluding concert Saturday night will be "Marche Slave" by Tschakovsky and "March Semper Fidelis" by John Sousa. Selections from "Oklahoma" will also be presented by

Engineers Ready to Start Grand Canyon Dam Work

WASHINGTON — The Colorado River, carver of the Grand Canyon, someday will help men capture the natural riches now untapped in its semi-arid upper basin.

Engineers — armed with a $760,000,000 Congressional appropriation soon will begin three or four major dams and 11 supplemental irrigation and reclamation projects to force increased service from the 1,700-mile waterway. Benefits are expected eventually to flow across the national economy. Areas to be immediately affected by the new water and power are Colorado, New Mexico, part of Arizona, Utah and Wyoming, the National Geographic Society says.

Larger than Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York combined, the thirsty upper basin will be transformed in places into farmland. Gas and oil deposits will be developed along with titanium and uranium fields.

Under the officially named "Colorado River Storage Project," Glen Canyon Dam and Reservoir will rise some 13 miles downstream from the Utah-Arizona boundary. As the largest storage unit, it will impound about 26,000,000 acre-feet of water. A power plant generating some 800,000 kilowatts will complement the dam.

LAST WATER HOLE — Flaming Gorge Dam and Reservoir, to be built on the Green River in Utah, will include a power plant with 72,000 kilowatt capacity.

Navajo Reservoir will about New Mexico's San Juan River, about 34 miles east of Farmington. The Curcanti storage unit of four dams and reservoirs for Colorado's Gunnison River is also authorized, providing feasibility is certified by the Department of the Interior.

Called "the last water-hole of the West," the Colorado's moisture has been invaluable for years along its course from the western slopes of the Rockies to its end in the Gulf of California. It is the only water source in parts of California, Nevada and Arizona.

In dividing its water between upper and lower basins, a decades-old compact allows the upper basin to consume 7,500,000 acre-feet of water each year, but only if an equal amount is left for the lower basin, averaged over a ten-year period. Lee Ferry, near Arizona's northern border, is the dividing point between the two basins, the lower consisting of parts of Arizona, California, Nevada and small portions of New Mexico and Utah.

Though a powerful canyon-carver, the river's flow is extremely erratic. There are recorded variations of from 4,000,000 to 22,000,000 acre-feet annually at Lee Ferry. A tendency for the high and low years to be grouped accentuates the problems of use and regulation of the river, engineers say.

There is insufficient water in prolonged dry periods to allow the upper basin to consume its allotment and make the required deliveries to the lower basin. Thus, large storage reservoirs are needed for filling when the flow is abundant.

The summer program has had an enrollment of 114 students from the entire school system. Fifty beginners have had 45 minutes of instruction, five days a week, in classes of like instruments.

This program began with the idea of eliminating beginning instruction in the fall.

"In two months," David Leith, their director states, "they have equalled six months of regular school instruction, because under this program, in groups of six to eight, they have had practically individual instruction every day."

The Board of Education has paid for the instructor, the cost to the students being only their method books and instruments.

Most of the eighth grade band members have been active in the summer group, and will have the opportunity of playing with them when the Lake Orion Senior band presents a half hour concert at the State Fair on Sept. 5.

New FHA Rules to Aid Farmers

Provides Debt Loans, Raises Operation Top, Helps Part-Timers

WASHINGTON (INS)—It seems reasonable to assume that thousands of farmers are likely to benefit from the recently-enacted law affecting Farmers Home Administration loans.

The law provides loans for refinancing existing debts, increases the maximum amount that can be advanced for operating loans and, as a part of the rural development program, makes available loans for operating and developing farms where the farmer has part-time employment.

All of the FHA's present loan services will continue to be made available. These include loans for the operation, development and purchase of family-type farms, farm housing, soil and water conservation and loans to meet emergency credit needs.

Acting Secretary True D. Morse said the expanded credit system is primarily for family-type farms, but will help other farmers meet drought and other difficulties over which farm families have no control.

Farmers may apply for FHA loans at county offices of the FHA.

Instructions on making and serving the loans under the new policies will be given to FHA state field offices in a series of training meetings throughout the country during the three weeks beginning Monday.

Worker Killed; Ex-Wife Held

Felled With Three Shots Following Argument in Battle Creek Home

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A 40-year-old factory worker was shot to death yesterday on the lawn of his estranged wife's home in Battle Creek, Asst. Police Chief Ross Reppert said.

Reppert said Mrs. Louis Hannum, 48, was held for investigation in the shooting of her husband, John. Reppert said Mrs. Hannum shot her husband three times with a .32 caliber pistol. He was dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Reppert said a neighbor, 21-year-old Billy Robbins, told him of hearing Mrs. Hannum shout, "I love you, I can't live without you." Then came the sound of shots inside the house. The couple had been legally separated.

The chief said Robbins saw Hannum stagger outside. He was bleeding and holding a gun in his hand.

Mrs. Hannum followed. Reppert quoted the neighbor as saying, when her husband dropped the gun Mrs. Hannum picked it up and fired three more times.

Since their separation, Mrs. Hannum had been living with one of three sons by a previous marriage, while her husband lived near Dowling in Barry County.

Combine Claims in Ship Disaster

Damage Suits Mounting, Reach 3 Million Dollars Against 2 Lines

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has signed an order consolidating all damage claims filed against the Swedish American Line as a result of the collision of its liner Stockholm and the Italian liner Andrea Doria.

Damage suits against the two lines already have grown to about three million dollars.

Dist. Judge Lawrence E. Walsh signed the consolidation order yesterday at the Swedish American Line's request.

The judge also granted the Stockholm's owners limitation of liability in accordance with international procedures. He issued an order permitting the Italian Line to take statements from officers of the Stockholm.

The Swedish American Line entered a stipulation—amounting to a bond—for $3,904,233, the stated value of its damaged Stockholm.

The judge set Sept. 11 as the deadline for the filing of claims against the Swedish American Line.

Only the Swedish American Line was mentioned because the Italian Line has not yet filed any action in federal court.

The Swedish American Line filed a petition in U.S. District Court Tuesday asking that — in case it is found responsible in any way for the collision—the line's liability be held to $3,021,635. That was the line's stated interest in the Stockholm and her freight at the time of the crash.

Fifty-two persons are dead or unaccounted for in the collision on the night of July 25 off Nantucket Island, Mass.

The 29-million-dollar Andrea Doria lies at the bottom of the ocean. The Stockholm is in a Brooklyn drydock for repair of its crushed bow.

Esther Peterson Weds, Couple Eye Mission Aid

Wed in First Baptist Church last Saturday afternoon, were Esther Lucille Peterson of Fenton and Wayne Huhta of Detroit.

They spoke their vows in Barnett Chapel before the bride's father, the Rev. Maurice R. Peterson, pastor of Fenton Bible Church. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George M. Peterson, 308 Osun Street, and Mrs. Leone Reed, of Drayton Plains.

Both the bride and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huhta of Detroit, are graduates of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and are planning to serve as foreign missionaries.

For her marriage, the bride chose a floor-length gown of rose point lace and nylon tulle over satin, the lace forming an apron effect over the bouffant skirt. The basque waist of lace was styled with a sheer yoke edged with Vienna lace trimmed with rhinestones and iridescent sequins.

She wore a finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion with matching lace trim, caught to a head tiara. Her bouquet was of white gladiolus and ivy. She was given in marriage by her grandfather.

Ruth M. Peterson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Shirley Sadler of Detroit and Carolyn Pier, Lansing, were bridesmaids.

Susan Brooks, Auburn Heights, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid and was accompanied to the altar by junior groomsmen, James Peterson, brother of the bride.

The bridegroom's brother, Warren, Detroit, was his best man. Carl Matties of Inkster, and Larry Peterson, brother of the bride, of Fenton were ushers.

Following the reception in the church parlors, the newlyweds left for Northern Michigan. They will be at home at 1325 Corona, Inkster, after August 12.

Where Are Leading Ladies to Supply Movie Needs?

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Where are the leading ladies for the screen?

This is the lament sounded by Guy Madison, ordinarily a laconic talker of the "yup" school. But now he isn't merely an actor. He has contracted that common bug among film stars—produceritis.

Guy has signed a deal with Columbia to produce six pictures in four years, four starring himself and two without. He already has one in the can, as the saying goes hereabouts. It's a Western called "Reprisal." When he was whipping up the movie, he realized the dearth of leading ladies.

"It's a real headache trying to cast women in pictures these days," he observed. "Either the established names are too old for the part, as with Barbara Stanwyck or Joan Crawford. Or they are so popular that you have to wait eight months before you can get them for a picture. Like Marilyn Monroe."

Not only that, but the handful of female drawing cards would insist on owning half the picture or some such exorbitant demand, I suggested.

"I wouldn't give them half of the picture," Guy replied. "But I would be willing to cut them in on the profits. After all, if you have a hit, there's plenty of profit for everyone. And I think a good combination of male and female star helps to make hits."

After trying vainly for top names, producer Madison was required to select relative newcomers. So he picked Felicia Farr, who had been in the then-unreleased "Jubal," and Kathryn Grant, who had done a few roles at Columbia. Guy thinks both are comers.

He figures that something's got to be done about developing new female stars if the film industry is to succeed. He suggests television as the answer.

"If I were the head of a studio, I'd encourage my younger players to do as much television as they can," he remarked. "It's terrific experience—the only way they can learn the acting business today. And they've got to have experience; that's the only way they can make the grade."

His proposal would appear to have merit. In the old days, a studio like MGM could hold onto a girl like Ava Gardner for seven years, hoping one day she would achieve stardom. But the studios are not rich enough to take those long-range gambles any more.

Furthermore, most of the studios no longer make the program pictures (or B's) in which most of today's veteran stars got their seasoning. So TV would seem to be the answer.

Lawn Supper Fun for Guests

Some families have an outdoor fireplace which easily sets the scene for many backyard picnics. However, many of us who have lawns which are not sufficiently large to accommodate either fireplaces or picnic tables and benches in the backyard, need not miss the fun of family picnics in the backyard.

More than that, when you work out some plans for doing so, it makes wonderful Sunday evening recreation to have friends join you at supper on trays in your backyard.

A clever hostess will provide comfortable chairs arranged in conversation groups on the lawn and have the kitchen table or counter set and ready for family and guests to have the fun of assembling their own sandwiches.

For a very easily prepared but winning picnic meal, arrange on the table — around a wooden tray featuring slices and wedges cut from a red wax-coated Gouda cheese — round platters of cold sliced baked ham and chicken, and bowls of other sandwich ingredients.

ACCESSORY SALADS

Fill the bowls with egg salad, sliced tomatoes, salmon salad, lettuce, sliced raw onions. Fill smaller serving cups with catsup, mayonnaise and mustard.

Nearby place a tray filled with slices of a good variety of favorite breads, cut sandwich buns, and plenty of butter, plus an electric toaster ready for action.

The sky is the limit . . . a Dagwood sandwich or a delicately thin one may be produced by each guest . . . according to his or her choosing.

Your guests will appreciate your foresight in featuring the Gouda cheese in your picnic menu, because a slice or two of this nut-like flavored semi-soft cheese adds interesting flavor to every one of the other sandwich fillings on your table. Be sure to have enough cheese on hand to allow at least one slice per guest.

CHOICE OF BEVERAGES

At the side provide a coffee pot filled with that favorite picnic brew, cream and sugar, and a pitcher of milk or iced lemonade or limeade for those who prefer a chilled beverage.

At dessert time the eyes of your guest will brighten noticeably, even in the darkening twilight, when you bring to them, seated in their lawn chairs, colorful servings of cantaloupe a la mode and another cup of hot coffee.

The pleasant recreation that results from a simple but delicious picnic of this type reminds you that summer is the season when it's fun to entertain much and work as little as possible at mealtime.

Lyonnais Beans Have Zesty Flavor

French cuisine inspired this delicious dish.

Wax Beans Lyonnais

1 pound wax beans
1 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (cut in fine strips)
1/2 cup light or heavy cream
Salt, pepper
Snap ends from beans; scrub in cold water; cut crosswise and slantwise in about 1-inch lengths. Put beans, boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan; cover and boil gently just until tender.

Meanwhile melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and cook, stirring often, until lightly browned.

Mix with drained beans and cream; add salt and pepper to taste. Reheat if necessary but do not boil. Makes 6 servings.

Mint Cantaloupe Sherbet Makes Perfect Dessert

Minted Cantaloupe Sherbet

1 1/2 cups sugar
2 cups water
2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups mashed very ripe cantaloupe
Mix 1 1/2 cups sugar, water and mint. Bring to boiling point and boil 2 to 3 minutes; strain. Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot syrup and stir until dissolved; cool. Stir in lemon juice, lemon juice, vanilla and salt. Turn into two 4-cup freezing trays, filling each half full. Freeze to a mush—about 40 minutes.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually add the 1/2 cup sugar, beating until stiff. Turn sherbet mixture into a mixing bowl and beat with a rotary beater (hand or electric).

Fold in beaten egg whites and mashed cantaloupe. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm and ready to serve, stirring once during this freezing period while mixture is still in a partially frozen state.

Remove from freezer about 20 minutes before serving and let stand at room temperature. Serve in sherbet glasses. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Broil Liver Sausage as Luncheon Change

An attractive innovation for liver sausage is broiled liver sausage. It is wonderful to use for a luncheon change.

Slice liver sausage 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Place slices on broiler rack and brush with melted butter.

Insert broiler rack so the top surface of the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Brown, turn and finish broiling on the second side. Allow 5 minutes broiling time.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

RED CAVIAR APPETIZER. This is the way Rufus C. Dawes, Chicago Daily News Chapter, likes to do this. And it isn't at all bad, if you like red caviar.

Start with a bed of shredded lettuce on a chilled plate for each serving. On this, a thick slice of tomato. Spread cream cheese generously over the tomato, and

Cheese Bits Fill Tomato Shells

The lady we're aiding chiefly is the hostess . . .

When the girls get together, they like to nibble at a lettuce leaf, dip into a nut cup (so festive), choose which hot roll (or should it be the water, non-fattening?) — then really dig into a salad that tastes even better than it looks. Something with body, or as Grandmother is reported to have said, something that "sticks to the ribs."

You can't find anything tastier to stick to your guests' ribs than this Cheese Salad in Tomatoes.

Switzerland Swiss cheese is perfect for such a dish because it adds to the flavors of other foods—doesn't dominate.

Cheese Salad in Tomatoes
2 large tomatoes
1/2 pound Switzerland Swiss, cubed
1/2 cup French dressing
1 teaspoon chopped onion or onion juice
Salt, pepper

Cut tomatoes in halves, scoop out some of the pulp, salt lightly and turn upside down to drain. Mix mustard, onion or onion juice with French dressing.

Cube cheese into 1/4-inch pieces, marinate with dressing, cover and let stand at room temperature for 1 hour.

Fill tomatoes and serve on watercress or lettuce with mayonnaise thinned with cream and lemon juice. Trim with parsley or chopped chives.

There's a Sandwich to Fit Every Meal

Sandwiches are so versatile! Plan a sandwich meal at least three times a week during National Sandwich Month. Sandwiches take such a number of forms that it's easy to make every one new and different.

For breakfast, try French toasted sandwiches or broiled, open-face sandwiches on split English muffins. For luncheon munching, make popular salad sandwiches.

Dinner sandwiches can be baked with a sauce, hot with a meat gravy, or spooned from a skillet onto buns or toast.

Sudden Party Not So Difficult

Impromptu guests are the rule rather than the exception in summer when the pattern of social life becomes happily informal.

If one's pantry shelves are prepared for the unexpected guest such visits become as pleasant for the hostess as for the visitors. With a little advance planning one can be ready to serve an informal but appetizing meal in a matter of minutes and with so little work that entertaining is fun.

MAKE MENUS

Party planners of a large can company have a number of suggestions for impromptu summer entertaining that should solve quick-meals-for-company problems easily. The first thing to do, they say, is to make out three or four menus, then stock the pantry shelves with the necessary foods.

For the tidbits to be served with long cool drinks it is a good idea to have on hand a versatile supply of spreads—meat, fish and cheese. With these put a box or two of crisp crackers and melba toast rounds.

For the main course one might lay in a supply of canned hamburgers, a whole chicken, ham and some of the steaks that can be built up with vegetables for extra services. A few cans of vegetables—such as green beans, beets and carrots—kept in the refrigerator will provide the ingredients for a quick vegetable salad to accompany the ham or chicken.

Don't overlook the other easily served main-dish items such as chili con carne, chicken a la king and spaghetti.

Desserts are easy. Stock up with all sorts of canned fruits—peaches, apricots, black cherries, plums and pears and you have the makings of delicious fruit compotes or of mixed fruits which can be chopped and marinated in a little sherry wine to serve over ice cream.

SUMMER BREAKFAST—Hot weather is no excuse for a skimpy breakfast. With many people participating in active sports, the need for three square meals a day may be even higher than in the winter. Tempt appetites with Bran Blueberry Muffins and watch the family perk up.

Muffins Boost Dull Appetites

Sultry days have a way of dulling appetites, so take advantage of the cool morning hours to eat a substantial, well-balanced breakfast.

Such a breakfast as this, consisting of sugar-coated puffed corn with milk, chilled melon, grilled Canadian bacon, a beverage and fresh Bran Blueberry Muffins, will supply you with all the energy you'll need right up to lunchtime—and the heat won't defeat you so readily.

Since blueberries are in peak season these muffins are a timely breakfast touch—easy to make and most delicious when served hot with butter.

Bran Blueberry Muffins

1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg

1 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup milk
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup fresh blueberries

Blend shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add to first mixture together with blueberries, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 25 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins, about 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

Candy Sauces Rate Tops on Ice Cream or Sherbets

AP NEWSFEATURE
CHICAGO—Calory-counters beware! Candy sauces on ice cream and sherbets is the newest delicacy hint from the National Confectioners Assn. Janice Nelson, educational director of the candy makers, says the sauces are simple to make and delicious to taste. They are prepared from many varieties of candy.

All of the sauces are combined with corn syrup. If they are prepared in advance of serving they can be stored in jars at room temperature. If the sauce thickens, thin it out with a little corn syrup or water, mixing it well. Favorites are Molasses Chip Caramel Sauce, Jewel Fruit Sauce and Chocolate Mint Sauce.

Here is the recipe for Molasses Chip Caramel Sauce, crunchy and tasty over vanilla or butter pecan or New York ice cream:

1/2 pound molasses caramels (wrapped)
2 tablespoons water
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/2 pound chocolate covered chips (chocolate covered honeycomb chips), chopped

Combine caramels, water and syrup in heavy sauce pan. Place over low heat and cook gently until candy has melted. Stir occasionally.

Remove from heat. Cool, stirring at intervals. Fold chopped chocolate covered chips into sauce. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Jewel Fruit Sauce

1 1/2 pounds oranges hard candy balls (or strawberry, lime, raspberry or lemon could be substituted for orange)
2 tablespoons water
1 cup light corn syrup

Combine ingredients in heavy sauce pan. Place over very low heat and allow candy to melt. Stir occasionally.

Remove from heat. Cool. Serve plain as a quick fruit sauce or... Add one-third pound of assorted fruit flavored stick candy which has been broken into tiny pieces. Fold into mixture.

Chocolate Mint Sauce

1/2 pound chocolate covered mint melts (or any other mint flavored melt always could also be used)
2 tablespoons water
1/4 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter

Combine ingredients in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water and allow to melt, stirring occasionally. Serve hot or cold.

Chicken Stock, Cream Make Luscious Soup

Make some rich chicken stock with chicken giblets, wing tips, necks, bony back pieces. Cover the chicken parts with water and add a small onion and a carrot, some celery leaves, peppercorns, salt, whole cloves and whole allspice. When the giblets are tender the broth is ready.

Chill, then remove all fat. Mix with heavy cream and curry powder to taste. Serve as a cold soup with chopped chives.

Hot Weather 'Fooler'

Warm-weather hint: Prepare a main dish in a skillet on the top of the range; turn it into a casserole and top with buttered crumbs and paprika. Brown under the broiler.

Make Iced Tea With Lemonade

Here's the easy way to make Lemonade Iced Tea with frozen concentrate for lemonade (which is pure lemon juice frozen with the correct amount of sugar). Just empty the can of frozen concentrate for lemonade into a pitcher, fill the pitcher with cold water, and add ice cubes.

Garnish the glasses of lemonade with a slice of fresh lemon and a sprig of fresh mint.

To serve with Lemonade Iced Tea, cucumber sandwiches are a perfect accompaniment.

Crisp the cucumber slices first by soaking them for about 15 minutes in cold water to which you have added a little lemon juice (canned or frozen lemon juice is always easy to use) and ice. Then make open-faced sandwiches by spreading pumpernickel bread with butter and putting the crisp cucumber slices on top.

Lemonade Iced Tea
1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
4 cans cold tea (use lemonade can as measure)
Combine ingredients in pitcher. Mix well and add ice cubes. Garnish with fresh lemon slices, sprigs of mint, or maraschino cherries.

Garnish Meat Loaf With Spiced Pineapple

This bright pineapple garnish makes meat loaf elegant fare, and it is assembled in a few minutes. Drain a No. 2 can of pineapple chunks and stick a whole clove in each chunk.

Arrange in a shallow baking pan, sprinkle with 2 tablespoons of brown sugar and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F) for ten minutes.

Dip Liver, Then Fry

Dip cubes of liver in biscuit mix before pan-frying in butter.

EASY PICNIC POINTERS — Take advantage of summer days for enjoyable family picnics. Picnics are in vogue for young and old alike. Liver sausage, bacon-tomato sandwiches are just the item for easily prepared lunch baskets. Cole slaw and potato chips are other easy picnic food take-alongs.

Liver Sausage Is Ideal for a Picnic Sandwich

Take along or eat at home sandwiches—that's liver sausage-bacon-tomato combination. Whether it's a barbecue or just a plain sandwich, eating out-of-doors does make the food taste even better.

This liver sausage-bacon-tomato combination is especially flavorful with bacon strips tucked in between the tomato slice and liver sausage spread.

LIVER SAUSAGE FILLING
To make these luscious liver sausage sandwiches, simply spread one-half of a large hamburger bun with liver sausage thinned with mayonnaise. Top the sausage with half slices of crisp bacon, then add slices of tomato and lettuce.

If you wish, use rye or pumpernickel bread instead of the large hamburger buns.

Perhaps a zesty dried beef sandwich filling would be just the thing for a beach or a porch picnic.

Cut the dried beef from one 2½-ounce jar into thin strips with scissors. Combine the meat with one 3-ounce package of cream cheese, 1 teaspoon horseradish, and 1 tablespoon minced onion.

Use this filling on whole or cracked wheat bread and use shoestring potatoes, pickles, olives and stuffed celery as main plate accompaniments.

For dessert, plan on baking brownies the day before the scheduled picnic. Plenty of ice cold milk or lemonade is a must for this picnic menu.

No Soppy Sandwiches

Making sandwiches to freeze? Keep fillings from soaking into bread by spreading it liberally with softened butter or margarine.

Avoid using mayonnaise, salad dressing or jelly as a base spread.

Food Editor at Seashore Tells Vacation Highlights

Pontiac Press Home Editor
IPSWICH, Mass.—Vacations are wonderful. Family vacations can be exasperating at times because you take the same personalities with you that you have all year. But they are also rewarding in that they give the family a chance to do everything together for a time.

Although we did not drive as far south in Pennsylvania as the Pennsylvania Dutch region, we saw one sign we were sure was prompted by P-D customers. One grocery store advertised "Loose Vinegar."

Another sign that pleased us was at an ice cream stand. Instead of advertising double dip cones there were signs calling attention to "Super Scoopers." Appealing, isn't it?

We're on the seashore and are having our fill of seafood. On Cape Cod we had a seafood plate that gave us our first taste of clams. They're all right, I guess.

We ate broiled lobster at the famous Provincetown Inn, after seeing the beautifully simple Pilgrim Monument.

LOBSTERS SCARCE
Last night for dinner we had fresh halibut and tonight shrimp salad. Tomorrow we expect to buy and cook a lobster.

It is not a good year for lobsters. The waters off the New England coast have been too cold and the usual number of lobsters have not migrated southward from Nova Scotia. At least, that's the explanation one expert gives.

Following our usual vacation custom, we picnicked at lunch time each day en route. One day we had fresh little blueberry pies for dessert that were delicious. We had bought them at our breakfast stop.

FIND COUNTRY KITCHEN
Right out in the Connecticut countryside at the intersection of two highways, there was a "diner and a Country Kitchen."

In the Country Kitchen a group of workers were busy making half a dozen different kinds of pies. We watched them work, then, in an adjoining room, bought the finished product.

In addition to pies, this store sold hand dipped chocolates, other candies and homemade doughnuts. We could have had a large pie or the miniature ones.

I wish you could have seen the meringue on the lemon pies. It was at least three inches high!

We had good, bad, and indifferent dinners along the way. Although I am always happy for a brief vacation from cooking, it takes only a few days of eating out for me to want to prepare a meal myself.

We're eating well this week, but I'm keeping preparations simple. I'm supposed to be on vacation too.

CATSUP 'BONER'

In packing our food box I made one boner. I thought it would be a good idea to bring along the little plastic catsup container, since The Seven-Year-Old thinks no meal is worth eating without catsup.

What I didn't count on was The Better Half's turning the food box on its side. Nothing else was disturbed. But one night I wiped catsup off half the items in the box.

To cap the climax, the darn stuff "worked" and went sour. Next time I'll fake the original bottle or leave it at home.

This is the stillest place I've ever seen. Not even a car can be heard at night. The tide is coming in, but there is no wind and no waves are audible.

It's the perfect place to relax and to gather strength for a busy season ahead. See you all soon.

Summer Tip: Lunch Snacks

The children are home from school for summer vacation, and we would like to register our vote for a vacation for mother. The children can help by giving mom a meal time rest at lunch.

Let the children fix and pack, if they please, their own lunches. Eat them on the terrace, in the back yard or plan a quick fixin' neighborhood picnic. It's good training for Junior and lots of fun, too. Remember, of course that young cooks must also learn clean-up.

Coney Cheesewiches
1 can (16 ounces) chili con carne without beans
6 wieners or frankfurters
6 slices of American or cheddar cheese
6 sliced coney buns
Pickles

Butter both halves of buns. Lay cheese slices on buttered sides of top halves. Place wieners on bottom halves. Put both sandwich halves on broiler rack; broil about five inches from the source of heat until the cheese is melted and the wieners are warmed.

Heat Chili Con Carne in a saucepan. Spoon heated chili over wieners. Top with Pickles and serve.

Treat for Epicure: Stuffed Ham Rolls

Good way to use up leftover ham.

Stuffed Ham Rolls
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup finely diced onion
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 can (8 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
1/2 cup cooking sherry
Nutmeg

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add onions and garlic; cook, stirring a few times, over low heat until onion is wilted — about 5 minutes.

Drain mushrooms and add to skillet; heat rapidly. Spread stuffing mixture over ham slices; roll individually and tie each with string.

Return to skillet; add sherry and a dash of nutmeg; reheat. Remove strings before serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Bake Herb Biscuits

For a warm weather supper, complement cold cuts and salad with fluffy herb biscuits. Mix 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon crumbled dry sage and 1 1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds with 2 cups biscuit mix. Stir in 2 1/2 cups milk. Make biscuits, bake at 450 degrees, 10-12 minutes.

ICE CREAM SAUCES — Ice cream served buffet style is always popular. Keep a variety of toppings on hand and make up some super-special ones like Butter Rum Topping. Add nuts, coconut and candied cherries for garnish, then let your guests make their own sundaes.

Family Will Enjoy Spinach With Onions

Try this new recipe if you want your family to enjoy spinach.

Spinach With Onion Rings
1 package (12 ounces) frozen chopped spinach
1/2 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) French-fried onion rings

Put spinach in boiling water in a saucepan; use a pan that is a little wider than the length of the block of spinach. Keep turning spinach over with a fork and scraping it until it is entirely defrosted. This will take about 5 minutes and spinach will stay green.

Turn into a strainer and drain well, pressing spinach down. Measure spinach liquid; add enough water if necessary to make 1/2 cup.

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour; remove from heat. Add milk gradually, stirring after each addition to keep smooth; stir in spinach liquid. Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in spinach; reheat.

Turn hot spinach into shallow baking dish—a heat resistant glass pie pan 8 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches is a good size. Top with onion rings. Place in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 3 or 4 minutes to lightly brown onion rings.

Serve at once. Makes four large or six small servings.

Use Pudding-Pie Mix as Filler for Cake

A package of lemon pudding-and-pie mix helps make a cake taste good. Prepare the mix according to package directions and cool, stirring occasionally. Split two eight-inch sponge-cake layers in half crosswise. Put the layers together with the lemon filling. Dust the top of the cake with confectioners' sugar or frost the entire cake with whipped cream sweetened with sugar and flavored with vanilla.

Team Carrots, Celery

Cook diced carrots and celery together in one saucepan for a supper vegetable. They will be done in the same length of time if they are cut in even pieces.

From 7 Seas, 6 Continents Come Sandwich 'Makings'

"Take it easy" is the password for August, sandwich time. So why not plan a sandwich tour without ever leaving your own dining room?

You can serve sandwiches garnished from the north, south, east and west—during National Sandwich Month.

Foods from the seven seas and six continents are as close as your supermarket. Sandwich ingredients range from South African rock lobster tails to Danish blue cheese.

But don't neglect those food products grown within the U.S.A. So many favorites take on new appeal between a couple slices of bread, or arranged on a bun. Make your choice of anything and everything—from Maine sardines to California olives and all points between.

Start your sandwich expedition with this Coast-to-Coast Sandwich Supper.

First on the August-15-Sandwich-Time itinerary is "Savor of the Orient Sandwich." Curry powder gives it a characteristic Eastern flavor. Add chutney for elegance, cream cheese for smoothness and ham for substance.

Blended and spread on nutritious enriched bread, this is a sandwich calculated to please any Oriental palate.

From the home of the bean and the cod come New England Rye-wiches. Make this sandwich either with hefty slices from a round rye loaf or on the new, milder rye buns.

For the last stop, the sandwich tour goes sailing down to Chesapeake Bay for a snappy crab sandwich. In addition to flaky crab meat, Chesapeake Bay Sandwich has ripe olives, parsley and pimiento to enliven a salad-type filling.

Savor-Of-The-Orient Sandwich

4 ounces cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup chutney
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup chopped cooked ham
12 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine, softened
Combine cream cheese, chutney and curry powder. Mix well. Stir in ham. Spread bread with butter or margarine. Spread ham mixture on 6 bread slices. Cover with remaining bread slices. Makes six sandwiches.

New England Rye-Wiches

1 1/2 cups chopped corned beef (12-ounce can)
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped dill pickle
1/4 cup chopped cucumber
Dash pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
12 slices rye bread or 6 rye buns
Butter or margarine, softened
Combine corned beef, celery, pickle, cucumber, pepper, mustard and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Mix thoroughly. Spread bread with butter or margarine (or split buns and spread with butter or margarine).

Spread filling on 6 bread slices or on bottom half of buns. Cover with remaining bread slices or bun tops. Makes six sandwiches.

Chesapeake Bay Sandwich

1 cup flaked crab meat (6 1/2-ounce can)
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
12 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine, softened
6 lettuce leaves
Combine crab meat, olives, parsley, pimiento, lemon juice, salt, pepper and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Mix well. Spread bread with butter or margarine.

Spread 6 bread slices with filling. Top with lettuce leaves and cover with remaining bread slices. Makes six sandwiches.

They'll Scramble Morning or Night for This Dish

Wonderful flavor when you scramble eggs this way.

Scrambled Eggs With Cottage Cheese and Chives

For each serving:
2 eggs
1/4 cup cream style (large curd) cottage cheese
1 tablespoon minced chives
Salt, pepper
1 tablespoon butter
Beat eggs just enough to mix yolks and whites; beat in cottage cheese enough to distribute. Add chives and a generous dash of salt and pepper.

Heat butter in skillet until it hisses but is not brown. Add eggs. As eggs set, lift them from edges with a spatula and tilt skillet so liquid part of eggs will flow over; keep doing this until eggs are as soft or dry as desired. Do not stir continuously. Keep heat high enough to set eggs quickly but not high enough to brown them. Lift eggs from pan with wide spatula; serve at once. Use 6-inch skillet for 2 eggs, 8 or 9-inch skillet for 4 eggs, 9 or 10-inch skillet for 6 eggs.

SUMMERTIME SALMON — A delicious summer salmon dish is made by steaming fresh salmon steaks and serving them chilled with homemade mayonnaise. Surround the fish with a chilled vegetable mixture. Wonderful eating.

Chilled Steamed Salmon Smothered in Mayonnaise

Summertime meals hold no more delightful main course than steamed fresh salmon served chilled with homemade mayonnaise.

If you have fresh dill in your garden, or can get it at your market, it will make a wonderfully delicious addition to the mayonnaise.

Just chop it fine and add it to the dressing, then garnish the salmon platter with fronds of the pretty herb. The Scandinavian cuisine often uses this combination.

Another way of serving cold salmon and mayonnaise is to add chilled cooked vegetables so that you have a complete main course.

Here mushrooms are used along with the vegetables, and the recipe calls for commercially-prepared mayonnaise for quick service.

PREPARE EARLY
Prepare the salmon and vegetables in the cool of the morning and refrigerate until supertime, then arrange attractively on a large platter.

When serving this combination, preface it with a cold before-dinner beverage and a Roquefort-cheese spread and crackers.

Along with the salmon, for something crisp and crunchy, a bowl of watercress and carrots. The carrots may be sliced into rounds, their centers cut out, and several sprigs of watercress drawn through the carrot rings.

Good to look at and refreshing to eat! For breadstuff, hot buttered toast is good, or you might provide hard rolls and sweet butter.

Dessert could be a luscious bowl of fresh whole fruit — Bing cherries, apricots, and clusters of seedless grapes.

Strong hot black coffee in demitasse cups makes a fine finish.

Cold Salmon With Vegetables and Mushrooms

Water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables
1/2 cup mayonnaise
4 small salmon steaks (poached and chilled)
Lemon wedges

Drain mushrooms; add enough water to the mushroom liquid to make 1/2 cup. Put liquid in a saucepan with salt and frozen mixed vegetables; cook according to directions until just tender.

Drain and mix with drained mushrooms, capers and mayonnaise. At serving time arrange poached chilled salmon steaks on platter.

To Poach Salmon Steaks

Four small fresh salmon steaks (weighing 1 1/2 pounds) may be poached in a 12-inch skillet. To do so, put 1 1/2 cups water, 1 small onion (sliced), 1 teaspoon salt, 4 peppercorns, 1 bay leaf, a sprig of parsley and a few celery tops into the skillet. Bring to a boil; simmer for 10 minutes.

Place the steaks in the skillet,

Good Food Buys Include Vegetables, Some Fruits

This is the time to be aware of all the good eating offered at prices geared to fit seasonal supplies. By using more summer fruits and vegetables, and the most plentiful meats, the shopper can stretch food dollars.

SUPPLY OF VEGETABLES

Mid-summer brings a good supply of excellent quality vegetables. Green and wax beans, at 15 to 20 cents a pound in many retail stores, afford garden fresh flavor at four or five cents a serving. For canning or freezing, beans by the bushel would be the better choice.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information agent, suggests the following recommended varieties for freezing: Fullgreen, Wade, Kentucky Wonder, and Tendergreen. One bushel of snap beans will yield about 40 pints of frozen beans.

There is a big change in the potato picture, and that is price. Prices are lower as more Michigan Irish Cobbler and Onaway varieties come to market. Sebago potatoes from Canada are helping ease the potato situation.

More homegrown tomatoes are available for the summer salad bowl, and there is a noticeable price difference as the local supply increases.

"Corn" and good might be the reason for selecting a few extra ears of this fine quality Michigan vegetable. The best corn is cool corn. Unless it is kept cool from the time it is picked until the time it is eaten, it will lose much of its natural sweet flavor.

Studies have shown that corn on crushed ice throughout the day had 43 per cent more sugar than similar ears on non-refrigerated counters.

STARRING FRUITS

Several fruits may be starred for the market list this week.

While blueberries are about 29 cents a pint, be more extravagant with ideas for using them.

These plump berries bring juicy goodness to muffins, cereals, salads and fruit cups, tarts, pies, or shortcakes. One-half cup of blueberries contains only 42 calories which makes them a smart choice for weight-watchers.

Prices of new Transparent and Duchesse apples are very reasonable. Other summer fruits to check are grapes, melons, and peaches.

Most of the peaches are arriving from South Carolina and Arkansas, but by next week the famous Michigan Red Haven variety will be coming to market in light supply. A good crop of large fine quality Michigan peaches is predicted.

MEATS, OF COURSE

What's a meal without meats? A good stick-to-the-ribs protein food is the center of most meals and summer meals are no exception.

Fryers, stewers, and roasting chickens are attracting more attention as reasonable prices continue. Young roasters with glamorous trade names and improved meaty features are among the latest poultry developments.

These 4 to 6 pound birds have more white meat, larger breasts, and thick meaty legs and thighs. Even though they are young enough to broil or fry, the smart shopper will consider their price compared to the regular broiler-fryers in the summer market.

As is expected at this time, beef prices are somewhat higher. Most of the grain fed cattle have been marketed and the grass fed have not yet appeared in quantity. Considering current wholesale costs, forequarter cuts—particularly chuck cuts and ground meat—are among the best beef values. Canned hams, with about 3 per cent skin and 10 per cent bone removed, compare favorably in price with other ham cuts in many stores.

FRANKFURTER FRUIT BROIL—This is a warm weather treat. The biscuit mix covering can be either sealed at the ends to form a complete blanket or the hot dogs can be permitted to peak out as illustrated.

Frankfurters Go Glamorous in Biscuit, Cheese Wraps

During July, National Hot Dog Month, Americans will consume nearly eight hot dogs each.

While just about everyone's mouth waters at the thought of a hot dog toasted and on a bun, we sometimes forget that it's possible for the hot dog to be glamorous, too.

The versatile frank can easily be dressed up for company or to make a festive treat for the family.

July is also a time for outdoor dining. So feature a hot dog dish at your next al fresco meal. Here are a few hot dog recipes, not only for summer, but meant to be enjoyed all year.

Frankfurter Fruit Broil

4 skinless frankfurters
2 tablespoons grated romaine cheese
1/2 cup milk
Dash cinnamon
1 cup biscuit mix
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 cup peach halves
1/2 cup melted butter
4 slices pineapple

Combine biscuit mix, cheese, and parsley; stir in milk and turn onto a floured board. Knead into a rectangle about 14 x 4 inches. Divide into four oblong pieces.

Lay a frankfurter on each piece and enclose in dough; pinch the edges to seal letting the ends of the hot dog peek out if desired. Place seam side down on a broiler rack.

Broil 8 inches from the source of heat for ten minutes. Sprinkle peaches lightly with cinnamon and brush with butter. Turn frankfurters over; place peaches beside them. Broil for a few minutes.

Brush pineapple rings with butter and place on broiler rack. Broil for five minutes or until biscuit covered franks are golden brown. Makes four servings.

Frankfurters on Brochettes

8 frankfurters, cut in half, lengthwise
8 canned, whole stewed onions, drained
8 canned, whole white potatoes, drained
16 small, whole, raw plum or cherry tomatoes
Melted butter or margarine
Grated cheese, if desired

On long metal skewers or sturdy, but thin green sticks, arrange in the following order: 1/2 frankfurter, 1 plum tomato, 1 whole potato, 1 whole onion, another plum tomato and another 1/2 frankfurter. Repeat arrangement on 8 skewers.

Brush the food with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with grated cheese (dry grated cheese cooks best). Broil the brochettes over the glowing coals of grill until browned and thoroughly heated. Makes eight servings.

Swiss Cheese Dip for Grilled Frankfurters

1 1/2 pounds Swiss cheese, well aged, imported or domestic
To cover the shredded cheese, Chablis or Sauterne wine
1/2 to 1 1/2 tablespoons cherry flavored brandy, such as Kirchwasser

Put the cheese in a deep, heavy pottery, heat-proof casserole or a heavy saucepan and pour on the wine to just cover the cheese. Set the casserole or saucepan over very low heat or on an asbestos pad over the outdoor grill, stirring constantly until the cheese melts and becomes smooth.

Stir in the brandy and pour into individual "dip" dishes or bowls. Serve immediately while hot, or keep hot for dipping grilled frankfurters as eaten.

Cabbage - Bundled Franks

8 cabbage leaves, pre-cooked in boiling water until soft enough to roll
4 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 slices American cheese (pre-sliced commercially)

1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
Spread each slice of cheese with 1/2 teaspoon of prepared mustard. Wrap each frankfurter with a slice of cheese, mustard side on the frankfurter. Place cheese rolled frankfurter in a cabbage leaf, boiled and dried. Wrap cabbage leaf around the filling and secure with toothpicks.

Place "Bundled" in skillet or Dutch oven, sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and tomatoes. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Makes eight servings.

Honey Cookies

Like a cookie that's a little less sweet than usual? Then here's your recipe.

3 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup honey
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Beat butter, honey and vanilla together until combined; beat in egg thoroughly.

Gently beat in sifted dry ingredients; stir in walnuts. Drop heaping teaspoonfuls on buttered cookie sheet about 2 inches apart.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 13 minutes; cookies should be lightly browned and cake tester inserted in center should come out clean. Makes about 3 dozen.

Dilute apricot nectar with sparkling water; add a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Budget Strain Is Eased With Tuna, Seasonal Fruit

July is a month of plenty with large supplies of fruits, vegetables, meats, and dairy products. Michigan berries and vegetables clamor for attention as do beef, tuna, and poultry in the meat department. The seasonal peak in milk production brings plenty of ice cream for easy-does-it desserts.

Almost as much a part of summer as bright blue skies are Michigan berries—first strawberries, now raspberries and blackberries, and next blueberries. Good quality strawberries from the Alpena growing area are still available for about 39 to 49 cents a quart.

The peak of black raspberries in the Benton Harbor area was expected between July 10 and 12 with the peak of red raspberries about July 15 reports Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent. Shoppers should find good supplies in markets this week.

Michigan's summer apples may suggest fresh apple pie or sauce for just a few pennies per serving. For as little as 4 and 5 cents a pound in some stores, watermelon may rate attention.

Local vegetable crops are 3/4 solid meat and 1/4 flakes. Grated tuna has been flaked in uniform pieces by machine, while tuna flakes is tuna packed in small pieces of different sizes. The last types are usually less expensive. The 6 to 7-ounce flat cans provide 1 cup of meat or 2 to 3 servings per can.

High on the list of good buys, compared to many other meats in the market, are young roasting chickens weighing between 4 1/2 to 6 pounds.

About one-third of the year's supply of ice cream is made and eaten during June, July and August when more milk is produced. Prices are at the attractive low level of approximately 79 to 89 cents a half gallon. One-quarter of all ice cream is now manufactured in this size package.

An average serving usually gives less calories than many common desserts. 1-3 pint of vanilla ice cream contains 200 calories, 1/4 of an apple pie has 230 calories, and a 2 1/2 inch square of ice cake contains 300 calories.

growing and now is a good time to enjoy a favorite green. Collard, beet, turnip, and mustard greens add color and abundant food value. While quality varies, there is some excellent iceberg lettuce at 12 1/2 to 20 cents a head.

Light supplies of potatoes are responsible for the current high prices, still potatoes remain one of the most economical vegetables when price per serving is considered.

For a change in the meat menu, pot roasting beef cuts and ground beef are plentifully available at prices to tempt most everyone. Round steak and chuck cuts make tasty barbecue or kabobs when tenderized for 12 to 48 hours in the refrigerator in a natural food acid such as tomato or lemon juice.

Tuna fits well into warm weather menus. With large supplies now in stock, summer specials often make it a wise choice. It pays to read and understand the label when buying, for tuna packed in this country is produced from four species of the mackerel family: albacore, yellowfin, bluefin, and skipjack.

White meat tuna comes only from albacore. Fancy or solid pack indicates that the contents are solid pack. Standard is about

Tuna Dumber Than Humans, Fishermen Claim

People are smarter than tuna. Which is why a 50-pound boy can eat part of a 1,000-pound tuna, instead of vice versa.

Tuna fishermen, most of them on the Pacific Coast, have learned when tuna are excited by some live bait tossed into the ocean, the poor fish will bite at almost anything. So the fishermen give them a bare hook to bite, and before the tuna know that's happened, they're in a boat, on their way to a tin can and your food store.

This year's tuna crop is as excitable and stupid as ever, and the tuna catch has been good. So tuna is one of the plentiful foods listed by the Department of Agriculture for July.

There are three main kinds of tuna meat, described by color, and three styles of pack, based on size of pieces. Highest quality tuna generally is considered to be white meat; then light meat; then dark meat. Tuna of any of the three colors may be packed in three different styles: Solid pack; chunk style; and flake style.

Meat Balls Go Well With Vegetables, Salads

Delicious meat balls are a wonderful accompaniment for garden vegetables and salads, to be served with crusty French bread, rather than the usual spaghetti with tomato sauce.

The secret of success is frying them slowly for ten minutes in fine Spanish olive oil.

Moisten three slices of dry bread with water and mix with a pound of lean chopped beef, adding three slightly beaten eggs, three tablespoons of grated sharp cheese, two tablespoons of chopped parsley, salt and pepper.

You can add a chopped clove of garlic, or brown the clove in the olive oil, removing it before frying the meat balls. Serves four.

Makes It Tasty

If you keep a bottle of raspberry syrup on hand for use in summer drinks, use it once in a while for fruit desserts. Pour the syrup over grapefruit sections or cubed fresh pineapple, for instance.

Try This?

Some good cooks like to marinate broiler-fryers (cut into pieces) in buttermilk overnight. When ready to use, drain, coat with seasoned flour and fry in shallow fat.

Meaty Sandwiches Provide Vitamins

No matter where you go for a picnic—to the beach, the park, a roadside table, or aboard a boat—you'll need lots of big meaty sandwiches. Picnickers want lots of hearty food to satisfy their ravenous appetites, and sandwiches made with meat help satisfy such appetites.

Meat sandwiches provide minerals and vitamins necessary for maintaining good health, too.

One sandwich filling which is nutritious as well as good tasting is roast pork.

Slice thin pieces of the cooked roast and place them between slices of white or whole wheat bread. Spread the meat with pickle relish, chili sauce, or mayonnaise, if you prefer.

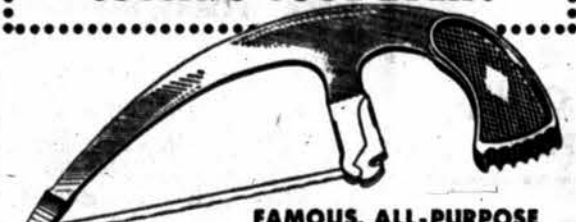

To assure crisp lettuce for the sandwich, wrap a few leaves separately and add them at serving time.

Bake a Cheese 'Pie' for Lunch, Supper

Butter a 9-inch pie pan. Line the pan with 6 slices of buttered bread using half slices around the edge. Cover with 1/2 pound of sharp cheese, sliced.

Combine and pour over the cheese 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1 cup of milk and 1/2 teaspoon of salt. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes until browned. Serve hot or cold with a green salad.

Steve Cochrane Has Live Lure for Ladies With 'Ancestral Touch,' Tackling Ability

By EMILY BEISER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Film actor Steve Cochrane's latest lure for the ladies is doggone good and catty with plenty of monkeyshines!

"Women love animals," he chuckled. "A beast on one end of a leash and a man at the other is great girl bait."

To back up his argument Steve navigated this reporter to a bustling street corner where a medium-attractive male was dangling a leash with a cocker spaniel at the other end.

"See," he cackled and pointed a knowing finger.

Sure enough, in a span of five minutes four medium-attractive girls had passed. Three stopped to pet the pooch's head. The fourth did not, but only because she was piloting a canine of her own.

"I've made a study of women and their attraction for the domesticated animal," Cochrane said with an air of authority. "I own

"I've ambled up and down this avenue with one or all of them on a leash and I've never once failed to negotiate a date—if I happened to be in the mood."

But Steve grumbled that things are rough all over and he's had to dig up a better gimmick than a dog or cat to attract the female of the species.

"A dog on the end of a string may cause some doll to stop and pat his head, but it doesn't necessarily follow that she'll wind up walking home with you. You've got to do better than that."

Let Gay Mood Prevail at Mealtime

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fatigue and extreme emotions may affect appetites, digestion and assimilation. It is not yet known how many different ways these influence the body. For one thing, it has been found that during times of stress the chemistry of the saliva may change.

The expenditure of energy which induces fatigue lessens the blood supply to the stomach and intestines. The very tired person may feel as though the meal he has eaten when in such a state lies like lead in his stomach. I myself have known instances when emotional distress caused nausea.

If you are grieved or worried or have a problem which is haunting you it is unlikely that you will be interested in food.

On the other hand if you are extremely happy or excited about something the same thing may be true. The mood in which we approach our food and the surroundings in which we eat our meals are of the greatest importance.

NO TIME FOR PROBLEMS

Only pleasant subjects should be allowed at the dinner table, and attractive surroundings promote relaxation and good digestion. However, the meal hour in many homes is the time for solving problems, for a recital of the day's dreary happenings, for combative subjects in conversation, for hurry and hecticness.

It is easy to see why this happens. Today mealtime is too often the only time when the family is together. And most of the time at least one member of the family is rushing through the meal in order to meet an appointment of some kind.

This all seems too bad. The gathering about the family board

An attractive and comfortable table setting is conducive to a relaxed mood. The gathering about the family dinner table should be a time for good companionship and gaiety as well as good food. The mood in which we approach our food and the surrounding in which we eat our meals are of the greatest importance.

Announcement was made of newly elected officers at a cooperative picnic held Tuesday at Murphy Park by members of the Pontiac Federation WCTU. Mrs. A. D. Stimer is the new president and Mrs. Frank Hardenburg and Mrs. Verna Cole are first and second vice-presidents respectively.

Other officers are Mrs. Frank Davis, recording secretary; Mrs. Iris Martin of Drayton Plains, corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. John McCormick.

Opening devotions for the affair were given by Mrs. Herbert Fleming who stressed the decisions. Mrs. Joseph Green of Royal Oak, president of the 18th district; Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak, vice president and Mrs. Frank Deaver, president of the Anna Gordon Chapter WCTU, reported on the progress of several new Youth Temperance Council groups sponsored by them.

Announcement was made of the retirement of Mrs. Orville Hurd from the office of state president of WCTU.

Mrs. L. G. Rowley spoke of the nation-wide effort of the WCTU to coordinate education in the harmful effects of the use of alcoholic beverages with regular school curriculum.

Dr. Arthur Weaver appeared on the evening program. He spoke of the importance of informing young people of the harmful effects of drinking. Mrs. Delbert Jones gave the closing prayer.

London Newsmen Roast Star, Olivier

Marilyn Monroe on Pan

LONDON (INS)—Marilyn Monroe and Sir Laurence Olivier were panned and roasted yesterday by London newspaper columnists for using "Gestapo methods" to keep newsmen out of Pinewood Studios, where the blonde American star is shooting "The Sleeping Prince."

Furious gossip columnists labeled Marilyn's locked-door policy "The New Monroe Doctrine."

Sir Laurence was labeled "Sir Cork" and "Old Smoke" as the angered columnists found a vulnerable spot in Olivier's wending his name to new cigarette advertisements.

The newspapermen related how a photographer for the London Daily Mail had his camera seized and negatives confiscated after he should be a time for good companionship and gaiety as well as good food. This builds tremendous bonds in family relations.

In addition to this important factor it is suicide, nutrition-wise, to eat under unattractive circumstances.

MAKE IT PRETTY

In attempting to lure your family into a relaxed and happy mood when at the table do not forget that attractive linen, china and flowers or an attractive centerpiece, and comfortable chairs are all most helpful.

Candlelight, too, is most conducive to a relaxed mood.

If we are going to ruin our digestion it does seem that we might do it in a more dramatic way than bickering and rushing at mealtime.

Surprise Tactics Needed to Jar Husband Out of Rut

Urge Wife Who Wants Companionship to Read, Study, Offer Mental Challenge

By RUTH MILLETT

A wife writes: "On reading your article, 'There Are Some Tricks to Being Companionable,' I want to tell you I have been trying to accomplish this feat for 23 years and have met nothing but failure."

"My husband eats his breakfast (which I have always gotten up to prepare for him) behind a newspaper. In the evening he comes home saying, 'When will dinner be ready? I'm tired' on his way to the living room where he reads until he is called for dinner."

"The silence of our dinner is broken only by my questions about his day. He rarely volunteers any information or asks my opinion about anything although he will talk fluently to any chance acquaintance on almost any subject."

"After dinner he sits in front of the TV (usually in his underwear) until bedtime, looking at the programs he selects."

"SOLITARY" HOBBIES

"His hobbies are reading fiction, TV and playing chess (with experts)."

"His idea of taking me out is to go to a movie about once a month at my suggestion. He says he hates to go to the beach or on family picnics. He doesn't like having company come in."

"In his estimation he is a good husband because he doesn't stay out nights and drink, for which I am truly grateful."

"What is the trick for me? I am lonely for a little companionship."

CALLS FOR ACTION

Are you willing to try to jar him out of his rut? If so, try a few of these ideas:

Subscribe to two copies of the morning paper. If he objects, explain quietly that since he likes to read at breakfast, rather than talk, you have decided you will read, too.

Two persons reading the same news at the same time are almost sure to make some comments on what they are reading.

Get out some books on chess and study them. When you know enough about the game to talk intelligently about it, ask your husband to teach you how to play.

Invite guests over at least one night a week. That will get your husband into a shirt and away from the TV set at least one evening a week.

Plan something besides the movies for an evening out—a ball game, concert, lecture. Ask your husband to go with you and if he refuses, go by yourself. At least you'll have something to talk about when you get home.

Don't be afraid to upset routine. The more changes you make, the better.

Your husband has settled down to a comfortable rut, but it is a rut. And if you don't want to be stuck in it with him for 23 more years you'd better make every change you can.

To make fruit ice cream the easy way, just soften plain vanilla ice cream, add the fruits and refreeze.

Neiman-Marcus Awards to Be Given Sept. 3-4

Dallas Fashion House to Honor 3 Europeans

DALLAS — Three international personalities whose influence through design or projection, has effected a "continental look" in fashionable women throughout the world will receive Neiman-Marcus Awards at the Texas specialty store's 19th Annual Fashion Exposition in Dallas Sept. 3rd and 4th.

Cecil Beaton of London, Marie-Louise Bousquet of Paris and Giuliana Camerino of Venice will fly from Europe to Dallas to receive their fashion "Oscars".

Highlighting one of the nation's largest and most elaborate fashion shows, the 1956 award presentations will be made before two audiences, Monday night and Tuesday noon, at the new Statler Hilton Hotel.

Reiterating the fashion authority of Neiman-Marcus, the 19th annual showing of the premier collections of the great couturiers, furriers, jewelers and accessory makers of the world will be followed by an elaborate supper dance on Monday night. The three awardees also will be guests of the evening.

"She is a woman whose counsel, judgment and understanding have been sought and valued by a whole generation of fashion creators," Giuliana Camerino, a "fair lady" from Venice, who has devised new forms using the century-old weaving facilities of her famed native city to provide one of the freshest and most creative notes in the field of hand-bag design.

ROSTER GROWS
For nearly a score of years, the roster of Neiman-Marcus awardees has grown to represent a Fashion Hall of Fame. The award to Mme. Bousquet this year makes the tenth time the honor has gone to a French national.

Previous ones were made to Elsa Schiaparelli in 1940, Christian Dior in 1947 (the year of the revolutionary "new look"), Mme. Henri Bonnet in 1949 during the time her husband was French Ambassador to the United States, the late Jacques Fath and Alice Cadolle in 1949, Jacques Lesur, textile designer and industrialist, in 1951; the following year to Roger Fare and Gilbert and Heleine Orsel, fine millinery designers.

In 1954, fashion's accolade went to Marchese Emilio Pucci of Florence and Capri for his original and exciting leisure clothes, to Herbert and Beth Levine for architectural perfection in fine shoes, and to James Galanos, brilliant young California designer, who received the Fashion Critics' Award the same season.

Last year's recipients of the award, which is the oldest existent one of its type, were: Pierre Balmain of Paris, whose magic designing touch has kept him at the top in the highly competitive French couture.

Henry Dreyfus, whose 25 years in the field of industrial design have made millions of people look better, work better—or just made happier with innumerable objects known and used in daily life.

Florence Eiseman, who clothes the wondrous state of childhood with understanding, beauty and rightness in fine, simple designs for young America.

Sally Kirkland, fashion's great reporter, interpreter and analyst, who, as fashion editor of Life Magazine makes what people wear constant news to 27,000,000 readers.

Vera Maxwell, who designs with talent and integrity in an American concept for the full and active life of today's woman.

The sixth award, in 1955 was made to the former Grace Kelly, Her Serene Highness Princess Grace of Monaco.

MRS. M. B. HUNGERFORD

Versatile Coed Grandma Earns Bachelor's Degree

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Her zest for living belies the graying hair of Mrs. M. B. Hungerford (nee Mona L. Sergeant) of Liberty street, grandmother of six and mother of three children.

This summer all Mrs. Hungerford needed was a course in Shakespeare's tragedies to complete her work for a Bachelor of Science Degree. She took the course and was graduated from summer school at Eastern Michigan College.

Besides several poems, this grandmother has had a fishing story and an article on antiques published. For five years, she has been a member of the Writers' and Manuscript Club of Birmingham.

Mrs. Hungerford loves to hook rugs, collect antiques, study birds and go north with her husband to their cabin near Rose City.

When she was graduated in 1912 from the Vassar High School, she was given the assignment to write an oration on the class motto.

RAISED 3 CHILDREN
The Hungerfords moved to Mt. Clemens after their marriage in 1918, returning to Pontiac a year later. For 2 years, Mrs. Hungerford kept books for her husband besides raising a family of three children.

In 1942, when teachers became scarce, she was asked to teach at the Hubbell School on the corner of Adams and Rochester roads. Pupils from the Christian Hill School on the Dodge Estate also were placed in her school, making it necessary to hold 27 classes every day.

Mrs. Hungerford later taught eight years in Waterford Village, one year at the Webster School and three years in the Pontiac Public School System.

Since 1942 she has been taking extension classes at Wayne University and Eastern Michigan College. Her course this summer enabled her to earn four extra credits on a Master's Degree.

When the Vassar High School burned down in 1917, little did she think that the contractor who came to build the new school would become her future husband.

When she was graduated in 1912 from the Vassar High School, she was given the assignment to write an oration on the class motto.

Unexpected Gift Poses Problem

Token Present Best in Return to Avoid Starting Precedent

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a birthday present from a friend last week which was very unexpected since I never exchanged presents with her before. She is to have a birthday in another month and I would like to know if it is necessary to give her a present in return."

"In the past I have always sent her a card but I don't want her to think me 'cheap' in view of the fact that she gave me a present. On the other hand, I certainly don't want to make this a practice. Will you please advise me what to do?"

Answer: I would send her something of small value, nothing important enough to obligate her to give you something next year.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a guest refuses something more to eat, isn't it wrong for a hostess to keep urging him (or her)?"

Answer: While it is a natural and generous impulse to ask a guest if he (or she) would like more to eat, to continue to coax will surely embarrass rather than please.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When guests in our house lose money at card games, should we take their money? Doesn't the fact that we are hosts make it seem inhospitable for us to consider their card debts seriously? Your opinion on this matter will be much appreciated."

Answer: No. You either play for money or you don't, and you are merely a player in the game and take exactly the same position as the other players do.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a congratulatory wedding telegram, should it be sent to the bride's house to her alone, or to both? Or to the bridegroom at his house if he is the friend, and the bride unknown?"

Answer: It is always addressed to Mr. and Mrs. . . . and sent to wherever the reception is to be held.

If You Must Explain, Keep It Short

By ANNE HEYWOOD

They say that Elsie de Wolfe had a lifetime philosophy which went, "Never complain—never explain." It's that "never explain" part that interests me the most.

Explaining too much, giving too many details and explanations about your past jobs, and particularly your "reason for leaving," can keep you from getting a good new job.

Elinor is finding that our right now.

Elinor had a good job as a secretary, which she kept for seven years. It's the only job she ever had and therefore her only reference.

Recently her boss left the company and took a post in South America. Unfortunately, the man who took his place did not like Elinor and fired her soon after.

While she has an excellent letter of reference from her former employer, he is nevertheless in South America and hard to reach.

She is afraid that a prospective employer will telephone the man who took his place—who is in the same city—and get an earful.

All Elinor has to do, under the circumstances, is show her letter of reference and explain that the new man brought in his own people.

The employer-to-be will either not check her reference at all or will telephone the company and get a lukewarm reference, which he will understand, since obviously if the new man liked Elinor she would still be there.

REASON FOR LEAVING

In short, it would be a perfectly easy, natural reason for leaving and Elinor would get a new job easily.

But Elinor is not content to leave it at that. She explains and explains and explains.

By the time Elinor is finished explaining, it sounds as if she and her employer were very close friends indeed and as if the new man had to get rid of her because her heart was in South America.

Or else it sounds as if she is so personal about everything that she lacked the flexibility to work for a new department head. Finally, it just sounds as though Elinor is so long-winded that she would never have time to get any work done!

If this problem ever faces you—either in business or in volunteer or club work—remember not to engage in long explanations.

The handbag that "goes with everything" simply does not exist. Multicolor doesn't mean coordinating.

Dem Statement 'Misconstrued'

Desegregation Stand
by Stevenson Believed Misunderstood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today he believes Adlai Stevenson's statement that the Democratic platform should express "unequivocal" approval of the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision has been misconstrued as going further than Stevenson intended.

Sparkman, Stevenson's vice presidential running mate four years ago, gave this view in an interview as he prepared to leave for the party's national convention in Chicago. Sparkman is supporting Stevenson for the presidential nomination again, but he said "I am not in any sense a candidate for anything."

Sparkman stressed that he does not believe the party's civil rights platform plank should include any declaration about the Supreme Court's decision outlawing racial segregation in the public schools. Appearing on a TV interview in Chicago, Stevenson had been quoted as saying:

"I have a very strong feeling unequivocal approval of the that the platform should express court's decision, although it seems odd that you have to express your approval of the Constitution and its institutions."

Sparkman said he believes too little attention was paid to the latter part of Stevenson's statement.

BRIGGS STADIUM BOUND — It was baseball party time at Tel-Huron yesterday as 96 teenagers and youngsters lined up for a chartered-bus trip to Detroit where they saw the Tigers triumph over the Kansas City Athletics. Assn. for boys and girls from Camp Oakland, the Oakland County Children's Home and the city's midget baseball leagues. The group later shared box lunches, milk, ice cream and comic magazines contributed by member firms of the association.

Vatican Changes Labor Saint's Feast Day Date

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican's Congregation of Rites has agreed to switch the Feast of St. Joseph the Worker, celebrated in most of the world on May 1, to Sept. 3 in the United States and Canada.

Bishops of both countries requested the change to coincide with the celebration of Labor Day this year. Pope Pius XII established the feast day last year to "Christianize" the workers' holiday.

Detroit Army Specialist Predicts Contract Hikes

DETROIT (AP) — A "substantial" increase in Army contracts for small businesses in Michigan during the current fiscal year was predicted today by C. M. Kaltwasser, small business specialist for the Detroit Ordnance District. Kaltwasser said he based his estimate on an expected increase in purchase of replacement parts for military vehicles. "We expect more emphasis on procurement of secondary items during the 1957 fiscal year," he said. "This means increased activity for the many small concerns that make vehicle components in Michigan."

Scores Surprise Victory

Intruder Wins Hambletonian Stakes

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—A mining engineer and a rosy-cheeked Ohio driver, combining money and knowledge of horses learned at the knees of a U.S. cavalry officer, today basked in the glory of winning their first Hambletonian.

Leonard Buck, owner of the All-wood Stables of Far Hills, N.J., stepped into the 1934 Lexington yearling auction ring and—paid $35,000 for a brown son of Scotland named the Intruder.

Yesterday, as a fitting climax to the mining engineer's knowledge of equine blood lines, Ned Bower of Ravenna, Ohio, celebrated his 33rd birthday one day early as he drove the colt to a surprise victory over 19 other 3-year-old trotters in the $100,000 stake.

As a 2-year-old the Intruder didn't race because of illness. He made his debut at Saratoga, N.Y., where he won two of his six starts and finished second the same number of times. Until he arrived at Good Time he never had raced over a mile track.

After the first heat, which Vallant Rodney won in 2:03, it appeared as if Bower should have kept his ace in the barn. But the "kid" came back with drives that

City Titles at Stake in Junior Loop Play

Two championships in the City Junior Baseball League post-season playoffs will be at stake today on the south and north diamonds of Columbia-Joslyn.

Morse Heads Program

Saturday night's big water carnival at Oakland Hills CC pool, involving a number of top swimming and diving stars, is under the direction of Granville A. Morse, club swimming committee chairman. Others in the group handling the affair include C. Boyd Stockmeyer, vice-chairman and William Bullock and Norman C. Fry.

Several British Olympians and U. S. Olympic and national AAU stars are listed as performers.

Babe 'Feels Good'

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—"I feel so good I could walk out of here right now," a smiling Babe Zaharias said last night following her second operation Monday in the past three weeks.

The Pontiac Police collide with the Pontiac Boys Club in Class D on the south field and Clarkson faces the Boys Club in Class E on the north layout. Both contests start at 5:30 p.m.

The police team bounced back into contention with a decisive 13-1 victory over the Boys Club in their 2-out-of-3 series to square the issue at one win apiece. Today's victor will claim the "D" title and enter the regional tournament at Dearborn.

Bud and Bill Hayward each socked three safeties yesterday to spark a 10-hit attack by the Policemen, regular season champions. Whitey Larson and Jerry Pointer shared pitching duties and limited the opposition to five blows.

Jerry Wilnot bested Nick Niera in a tight pitchers battle to bring Clarkson a 2-1 decision over Gingelville. Niera was touched for six safe blows while Wilnot gave up only one hit, a single by Niera himself in the 3rd inning.

Wednesday's triumph eliminated Gingelville and moved the once-beaten Clarkson nine into the final round against the Boys Club. Clarkson must win today to stay in the fight for honors. The "E" winner earns a regional tourney berth.

Boys Club squads in Class F and Midget captured divisional crowns Tuesday. They also will enter regional tournaments.

One Big Inning Brings Victory

A robust first inning was enough to give Oliver Buck a 6-5 verdict over Elks No. 723 last night in a Class A City Baseball League game at Winster Field.

Starter R. E. Winfield was shelled from the mound in the opening stanza by a five-run, four-hit assault as 10 batters stroled to the plate. Relief pitcher Bill Hurd finally put out the fire.

The Elks bounced back with four runs in the 1st off Ken Campbell, but they were unable to close the gap. Oliver's single run in the 5th inning offset the Elks' last run in the 7th.

Gus Elchhorn and Don Ernst followed Campbell to the hill with the latter receiving credit for the win. Winfield was tagged with the loss.

Lakeland Gets By Test in Playoffs

Dor Herr's four-hit pitching enabled Lakeland Pharmacy to survive its opening test and Emmanuel Baptist forfeited to Thrifty Drug in the Waterford Township League softball playoffs Wednesday night at Drayton Plains.

Lakeland defeated the VFW, 4-1, behind Herr's yeoman-like task. Dick Hubble's single scored two runs, Bill Troyer's safety picked up one tally, and a passed ball sent home another. A 2nd-inning error resulted in an unearned run for the VFW.

The playoffs continue tonight at the Drayton park. White Brothers and Emmanuel Baptist square off at 7 o'clock while Drayton Drug battles Thrifty Drug at 8:30.

93 After Tam's Pot of Gold

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf tournament pros today started their search for the rainbow's end in the $50,000 winning pot of gold in Tam O'Shanter's "World" championships.

A field of 93 will fire in the first round of the 72-hole sweepstakes over Tam's exacting 6,915-yard landscape, knowing that it will take four days of sub-par tension-filled play to capture the richest award in golf.

The total purse is $101,200 with second place worth $10,000, third $5,000 and fourth $3,000. The list scales down to $100 for 61st through 67th position.

The $50,000 winner's share is accompanied by an optional contract of 56 exhibitions at $1,000 each and all expenses paid. Last year, Julius Boros' "World" championships brought him $108,000. There is also a $15,000 melon to be cut by a field of 23 women pros, headed by Patty Berg, seeking her fourth straight "World" title; Louise Suggs, winner of last week's All-American; U.S. Women's Open champion Kathy Cornelius and the No. 1 money winner, Marlene Bauer Hagge.

The winner will receive $6,000 with $2,000 going for second, $1,200 for third and $1,000 for fourth on a list graded down to $150 for 17th through 20th place.

Completing the Tam carnival are fields of 12 women amateurs and 12 men amateurs.

Generally favored among the men pros are Cary Middlecoff, 1956 U.S. Open champion; Jack Burke, this year's Masters and National PGA winner; Ed Kroll, PGA runner-up; Gene Littler and Ed Furgol, the 1954 U.S. Open king.

Never has the so-called longshot taken the "World" bonanza unless you want to include the victory of Henry Ransom in 1950.

The consensus seems to be that a 72-hole score of 280 probably will take the rich first prize.

"I would settle for the 278 (10 under par) that I won last week's All-American with," said Dutch Harrison. "If I could do it again I think I would win comfortably."

Only once has the same pro won both the All-American and the "World" title in the same year.

Lloyd Mangrum did it in 1948.

The tournament has entered four playoffs since 1948, but there hasn't been an extra session since 1952 when Boros defeated Middlecoff 68-70 after they had tied at 276.

Records Shattered at Olympic Trials

fer Reed product, won an Olympic berth with an easy victory in the 200-meter breaststroke. Her time of 2:58.6 was four seconds better than runner-up Mary Lou Elenius from the Berkeley, Calif. YMCA.

Mrs. Pat McCormick of Los Angeles Athletic Club, defending Olympic champion and winner of 27 national titles, won the women's 3-meter springboard diving final with four graceful dives for a total of 464.10 points.

Miss Gilders and Miss Stunyo both of Detroit A. C. took 2nd and 3rd respectively with Stunyo's victory coming on the last dive of the day. By executing a near-perfect twist back dive she edged out Paula Jean Meyers for the Olympic berth.

It was the first time since 1928 that Detroit has had women representatives in the diving event of the Olympics.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Dig and stop

DIAGNOSIS: Right hand hit

TREATMENT: Digging too deeply into the turf with the pitch clubs is due largely to poor hand position in the backswing. The wrists break too quickly to make the swing too upright. This causes the three back fingers of the left hand—middle, third, and little fingers—to be forced open at the top.

The right hand naturally takes over, pounds downward into the ball, and the digging results. Of course, the swing stops immediately after ball contact.

Keeping the right arm closely tucked into the side in the backswing is the remedy, and to get into that comfortable and necessary position the hands pronate as shown in the sketch. Exactly how much of the pronating action to use is up to each individual, and practice alone will determine it.

Only with the natural pronation (call it a wrist roll if you will) is it possible to keep the right arm from moving away from the body, and to maintain a straight left arm. Important: The head must not move a particle; the middle, third, and little fingers keep firm hold of the club, with a little pressure, in order to give the left arm control throughout the backswing. As you see, the arm is in position to pull down directly to hit the ball with a descending blow and continue to pull on and out on the line of flight.

Dorow Leads Redskin Squad to 7-3 Victory
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Al Dorow, former Michigan State quarterback, tossed a touchdown pass to Leo Elter in the closing minutes to give the "East" a 7-3 win over the "West" in the Washington Redskins' intra-squad game at east Los Angeles Stadium last night.

Fullback Elter raced 49 yards to score after the pass and Norb Hecker converted.

Pontiac, Milford Legion Winners

Boys' Club Clinches Win Over Rochester in Early Frames

Pontiac and Milford nines came through Wednesday's Junior American Legion games with clean-cut victories. In the night's 3rd contest, at Clawson, Birmingham took a forfeit from the Clawson club when the home nine couldn't get use of the field where the game was to have been played.

Boys Club of Pontiac avenged the first round defeat by Rochester that beat Bill Couacos boys out of the championship. They stopped their hosts 4-2 on the basis of some early frame runs. Victory was the 6th in a row for Pontiac, current league leaders.

At Berkley Milford's Dave Gaddis hurled a 1-hitter for his 2-0 victory. Teammates gave Dave solid support with seven safeties. Both clubs played errorless ball in a very interesting contest.

Couacos' club collected seven hits off Jim Howe, three in the 2nd for two runs and two in the third when the winning run counted. Final tally came in the 6th helped by a single and Don Danner's long double. Jerry Orr gave up five hits, hit a double himself.

Pontiac plays a double header Sunday at Washington playground. First game at 1:30 is with Clawson and the nightcap at 4:15 is a makeup game with Berkley. Berkley also plays two games, meeting Birmingham at 1 p.m. at Pierce Field before coming out to Pontiac. Rochester plays at Milford.

HUMAN BUTTERFLY—Bill Yorzyk, 25, national champion from Northampton, Mass., swims to a world long course record for the 200-meter butterfly stroke in the Olympic trials at Detroit yesterday. He reeled off the distance in 2:19 to eclipse the Olympic record of 2:34.4 set by John Davies of Australia in 1952 and to break the world record of 2:23.8 set by Takashi Ishimoto of Japan in 1955.

Wisner Fights Saturday

Bout Pairings Made

Pairings for the Nephrosis Benefit Boxing show to be held Saturday night at Wisner stadium were listed for the 10-bout card.

Leonard Spencer, 120-pounder from Pontiac will tangle with Jack Slade of Flint in the opening bout. Tony Joe Perez of Pontiac and Renal Burns of Flint, a pair of 128-pound glovers will follow.

A change was made in a welterweight bout with Dick Mitchell of Pontiac facing Willie Bray of Flint instead of John Conty. Conty scored a 2nd round TKO over Mitchell in their last meeting in June at Waterford High School.

Ken Carte, 200-pounder from Pontiac and 225-pound Sam Jones has been finally arranged. Promoter Stan Allen is attempting to bring the two boys together in a rematch of the June fights in which Jones kayoed Carte in the 2nd round.

In a couple of middleweight bouts, Rodney Ralney of Pontiac will face Manuel Green of Flint, and Larry Lamphere also of Pontiac goes against Harry Walker of Flint.

The heavyweight fight between

A short feature of the program has Michael Allen and Terry Silver, both 5 years of age going in their 1-minute rounds.

Door prizes, donated by 20 merchants of the Pontiac area, will be given away at the fights, and all proceeds will go to the National Nephrosis Foundation for research work.

Tickets are available at numerous business places around Pontiac and also can be obtained at the gate Saturday night.

Angler Goes Overboard to Capture 'Biggest' Fish

Observers along the shore of a lake in the Union Lake chain yesterday morning witnessed an unrehearsed bit of comic opera. That's the way Mrs. Martin Distel, 5900 Commerce road, described the exciting piscatorial episode involving her 15-year-old son Allen David Distel.

"Allen was so excited, when he caught this fish (a 6-pound 3-ounce largemouth bass) that he just jumped right into the lake and grabbed the bass," the lad's mother reported.

Distel was fishing with his friend Fred Gregg of Keego Harbor. Both are pupils of West Bloomfield High School. They hooked the big bronzeback in deep water. Without a landing net the boys figured they'd best head for a nearby dock. Near the landing spot Allen couldn't wait, jumped overboard in 10 feet of water, tossed the fish into the boat.

He wasn't going to lose his first really big fish, he told his mother later. The bass was 22½ inches long, but four ounces too light to qualify in the Pontiac Press contest. The boys took several other bass, one 4½-pounder, 20 inches long and one 3½-pounder, 18 inches in length.

Giammalva Could Boost Cup Hopes Against Fraser

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Sam Giammalva, who feels "lucky," can boost his future Davis Cup stock today in his third-round match with Neale Fraser, one of Australia's second-line Cuppers, in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament.

Giammalva, the defending champion, will be facing Fraser for the first time after rallying to stay alive yesterday, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5 over Michael Davies, England.

The chunky 5-11 Texan faces a battle to retain the title he won last year with victories over Vic Seixas, Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, and Gil Shea. If he gets past Fraser, Giammalva figures to play Shea, Seixas and Australia's Ken Rosewall.

Fraser the second-seeded foreign player, needed a 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 rally to stop Jack Leach, Los Angeles, as his three Australian teammates—Rosewall, Cooper and Roy Emerson—all gained.

Rosewall, top-seeded foreigner whipped C. Maxwell Brown, Louisville, 6-1, 6-1, and third-seeded Cooper stopped Crawford Henry, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-4. Unseeded Emerson, winner at Southampton, ousted Allen Morris, Atlanta, 7-5, 2-6, 10-8.

Saginaw Bout Card Has Pontiac Boxer

SAGINAW (AP)—Yama Bahama, a 6-5 favorite, meets Pat Lowry in the 10-round feature of an outdoor boxing card in Memorial Stadium tonight.

Bahama is from the Bahamas. Lowry fights out of Toledo.

The supporting card is topped by a six-round bout between Sam Pillarik of Saginaw and Major Woodson, Detroit, middleweight.

Len Richards, Van Dyke heavyweight, vs. J. C. Williams, Toledo; Paul Ozzie, Bay City welterweight, vs. Tom Hendricks, Windsor, Ont.; and Ronnie O'Berry, Pontiac welterweight, vs. Dick Kuster, Bay City.

The first bout starts at 8:30 p.m.

Saxton Signed for 10-Rounder at Worcester

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Johnny Saxton, welterweight boxing champion, will make another New England appearance before his title defense against Carmen Basilio.

Saxton gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Barry Allison of Springfield, Mass., in Boston Tuesday night.

Parker Satisfied

Lions Have 1st Scrimmage

YPSILANTI (AP)—The Detroit Lions came through their "first all-out workout" without serious injuries.

Coach Buddy Parker sent his charges through a tough hour and a half scrimmage yesterday and said he was "satisfied" with the team's performance. Another heavy scrimmage is scheduled Saturday at the Lions' training camp at Ypsilanti.

Parker cited the work of three veterans and a rookie in the rough head-bumping session.

He said Leon Hart, who has been shifted to fullback from his normal end position, was "running faster, harder and shifting better than any time last year." The former Notre Dame All-American was moved to fullback during the 1955 season when the hapless Lions were searching for a line buster and blocker to help take the pressure off quarterbacks Bobby Lane and Harry Gilmer.

Parker also said he was pleased with the way Layne and Gilmer were throwing. Layne, the veteran Texan mainstay of Detroit's aerial attack, completed 7 of 14 passes, while Gilmer connected on 11 of 16. Both were passing short and deep.

Rookie Pete Retzlaff of South Dakota State also came in for a share of the praise. He caught two of Layne's aerials for touchdowns.

WEDNESDAY'S HOME RUNS:
Colavito, Indiana; Lollar, White Sox; Pizarro, Athletics; Kaline, House, Tigers; Williams, Vernon, Red Sox; Mantle, Sherman, Yankees; Lospina, Jones, Kansas; Phillips, Rhodes, Giants; Thomas, Pirates; Moon, Cardinals; Logan, Adcock, Braves; Kline, Braves; Kline, Braves.

Soviet Trials for Olympics Resume Today

MOSCOW (INS)—The track and field phase of the 11-day Soviet Olympic trials resumes today at the huge Lenin Stadium in suburban Moscow.

Russian weight-lifters set two new world records yesterday. Lightweight Ravi Khabutdinov pressed 271 pounds to top his own mark by one pound and featherweight Evgeny Minayev pressed 251 pounds, bettering by a single pound the record set by another Russian, Viktor Kozh.

'Husbands' Day' Set

Final arrangements have been made for the annual "husbands day" for Silver Lake Women's Golf League. The two-ball foursome tournament will be followed by a dinner at Club Tahoe.

In yesterday's play Mrs. Elbert Looney again had low gross, at 49 and also took the blind hole (No. 4) with a par four. Low net went to Mrs. Max Richardson with 57.

Two Coast Schools Regain Part of Grid Eligibility

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two West Coast gridiron giants, UCLA and Southern California, got back a big and vital segment of their eligibility-riddled football teams last night when the Pacific Coast Conference ruled the seniors could play five games per man in 1956.

At the same time the conference warned that pair and its two other errant members—Washington and California—to clean up their athletic back yards or "be expelled from the conference as of Aug. 1, 1957."

The action was announced at the close of a joint session of the presidents and faculty athletic representatives of the nine member schools, Chairman Robert G.

Russians Plan Big Net Event

MOSCOW (AP)—A high Soviet tennis official said today that the biggest international tournament in the history of Russia would be held here next year—probably in September.

This comes under the heading of big news in Russia, because tennis is one sport this country definitely has not been interested in in the past.

There are 203 players in the Spartakiad, the big pre-Olympic sports festival now going on. "Our players have improved to a point where we are about ready to try them out in international competition," said Leon Elovich of the Government Tennis Committee.

"Next year we plan to have the biggest tournament in our history and will invite American, British, Swedish, French and Italian players."

Sproul of the Presidents' Council said conference solidarity was "stronger as a result of today's action."

Five schools—Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State, Stanford and Idaho—were given clean bills of health. For two days prior to the joint session the faculty members who run the conference had examined self-confessions prepared by the nine members.

Earlier in the year, when placed on probation by the conference for illegal financial aid to athletes UCLA had declared its entire football team ineligible. Southern California did the same for 42 gridgers and two trackmen.

The conference then ruled this action too harsh and modified it to one year of lost eligibility for each player.

Yesterday's action restored the coming year's seniors to eligibility for five consecutive games. Sproul said he assumed the coaches would select the games in which the forgiven seniors would play. The two Southern California trackmen will be allowed to take part in half the scheduled meets.

Senators Dedicate Griffith Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A marble monument stands today at the entrance to Washington's ball park in honor of the late Clark Griffith—the man who symbolized baseball in the nation's capital for 44 years.

The 7-foot memorial was dedicated in style last night. Vice President Nixon and other top government officials were there for the ceremony. So were Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Warren Giles of the National League.

'The Pelvis' Shivers at Thought of Draft

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (INS)—Snake-bitten Elvis (the Pelvis) Presley has shown a reluctance to trade in his "blue suede shoes" for a pair of Army boots.

The 21-year-old grunt-and-grind groaner, currently appearing at the Florida Theatre in St. Petersburg, said it was news to him when informed a report was circulating that he had received his "Greetings" from Uncle Sam.

"I haven't heard from them in three years and I hope I never do," he said.

The lurching Lothario of the lobby-sox set took a philosophical viewpoint when questioned further about Army service. "If it comes, it comes," he said, but added he had no intentions of joining.

He indicated no preference for any particular branch of service and said he hopes whoever is elected president will cut out the draft law.

The young singer, who skyrocketed to fame with his twirling renditions of such melodious numbers as "Heartbreak Hotel," "Blue Suede Shoes," and "You Ain't Nothing But a Hound Dog," is touring Florida, and drawing record mobs of teenagers wherever he goes.

A special police detail was assigned to keep order among the 3,000 squealing teenagers who turned out for his performance yesterday afternoon.

Presley, always courteous to reporters, went to extra special lengths Wednesday. After answering the questions of a young woman reporter for the St. Petersburg Times, he kissed her on the forehead and showed her to the door of his dressing room.

When she got back from the assignment, her city editor suggested she do a feature article giving her "impressions" of a kiss from Presley. "I'd better not," the 20-year-old newshawk blushed.

Ravenous Rogues

FREEMONT, Minn. (UP)—Thieves with either an unlimited appetite of fancy picnic plans broke into a supermarket here and took 130 pounds of minced ham, a case of chopped ham and 40 pounds of sausage. Possibly thinking of despoils they grabbed $60 from the cash register.

Jail 'Sneak-In' Fails

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—Toby Mendon, 41, got into trouble with police for sneaking into jail. The trouble was that he sneaked out in the first place.

Jailer Jim Bennett said Mendon, a trusty, sneaked out and got drunk, then tried to crawl back in. He first got into jail for sneaking away from a police compound where he was being held overnight.

Red Shorts, Frantic Waves Are of No Help

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (U)—Misses Shirley Moore and Jeanette Fox went for a boat ride down the St. Lucie River and got stuck on a sandbar.

Hundreds of people passed by on either shore but interpreted frantic waves for help as friendly salutes and a pair of red shorts hoisted as a distress signal as a gay bit of whimsy.

The girls were marooned for 14 hours before a boatman realized their plight and towed their vessel off the bar.

'Knuckles' May Place Policemen in Schools

WHEELING, W. Va. (U)—Herman Levite probably is in full agreement that a recommended educational training program for city police here should begin immediately.

Levite put a dime in a "knuckles only" meter while parking his car, but realized his mistake immediately and left an explanatory note under his windshield.

When he returned, Levite found a familiar blue parking ticket beside his note. A policeman had written: "knuckles only, sir."

Little Uruguay Lacks Vital Raw Materials

MONTEVIDEO — Uruguay, with an area of 72,000 square miles, about the size of North Dakota, is the smallest South American republic. Its population is about 2,600,000.

Uruguay lacks such raw materials as iron, manganese, aluminum, copper, sulfur, and rubber. It also lacks sources of industrial power, such as coal and petroleum, and is dependent on the export of wool, meat, vegetable oil, hides and skins for foreign exchange to buy essential imports.
