

SEARCHERS AT WORK — Three policemen slowly, methodically cover part of a Bloomfield Township subdivision north of Walker Lake Road, between Franklin and Inkster roads. They are part of a 50-man search party which combed the area for a missing township

boy today. The 12-year-old wandered away from his home early yesterday. A half-dozen area police and fire departments joined in the search, aided by state police planes and a Navy helicopter.

Copter Joins Search

Hunt Missing Boy, 12

A helicopter was being flown in from Grosse Ile Naval Air Station this morning to help police in searching for a 12-year-old mentally retarded boy missing in Bloomfield Township since early yesterday.

The boy was identified by police as Robert Grinnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Grinnan of 3615 Pebblebrook Road.

Bloomfield Township police, Oakland County sheriff's deputies, state police and volunteers from surrounding communities resumed their search at daylight.

His mother told police the boy went out to play near his home at about 9 a.m. yesterday.

When she couldn't locate him about an hour later, she called police.

CANNOT TALK — Police said the boy cannot talk, but answers to the name of "Bob."

He is 4 feet 11 inches tall, weighs about 100 pounds, has blond hair and blue eyes.

He was wearing a maroon jacket with a fur collar, gray corduroy pants, a black cloth cap and black four-buckle boots.

Some 50 policemen and volunteer firemen joined in the search this morning.

Police chief Norman Dehne said he expects up to 100 men in the search party by nightfall if the boy isn't located by then.

Yesterday searchers combed vacant fields in the fashionable neighborhood near Quinon and Franklin roads, with the aid of their private planes.

"Today we'll cover the whole area. If we can't find him on land, we'll start on lakes, ponds and streams in the Bloomfield area," Dehne said.

The boy's parents said he had never wandered away before. His father told police that the boy "loved to eat and never missed a meal."

Both the Detroit tin and the Saratoga can were processed by the Washington Packing Corp. in the same day's pack of chunk light meat Japanese tuna last Jan. 8.

The A&P food store chain withdrew all of its own brand of tuna from its stores following a finding of type E botulism, a rare and deadly food poisoning, in the tuna can after the two Detroit deaths.

Dr. Merrill said that a toxic substance resembling botulism was detected in the spoiled and swollen tin found on the California store's shelf.

The recommendation was made to the County Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, which tentatively raised it to $17,118.167.

The committee will work further on the proposed budget before presenting it to the board of supervisors April 9 for adoption six days later.

Even then, the budget will remain only tentative, subject to the approval of the County Tax Allocation Board.

MILLAGE CUT — Last year the supervisors adopted a $16,600,202 budget but later chopped it to $15,536,992 when the allocation board gave the county less millage than asked.

The auditors' recommendation at this time would require levying $12,683,865 in taxes to operate the county in 1964.

The balance of the total budget would be expected to come from the county's annual receipts.

Based on an estimated 2 percent increase in the state equalized valuation in the county this year, the auditors' recommended budget would require a tax levy of 5.89 mills, or $5.89 per $1,000 equalized valuation of private property.

Last year the county was allocated 5.25 mills of the total 15-mill levy for county, schools and townships.

Ways and means at this time is recommending a $20,000 increase in the general relief appropriation. This would raise the auditors' welfare recommendation to $2 million.

DEPENDS ON ECONOMY — This year's budget includes $1.9 million for general relief.

The actual expenditure depends on how sound the economy is in the county. And this depends largely on how well independent agencies in northern California where the brand is marketed.

Army to Buy About 85,000 Disputed Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to buy about 85,000 of a controversial new smallbore rifle for use by its paratroopers and antiguerrilla fighters, it was learned today.

Army experts are sharply divided on the merits of the AR15, a lightweight, high-velocity weapon tested under conditions ranging from the jungles of South Viet Nam to the Arctic.

Backers praise the 6.9 pound, 223-caliber, AR15 chiefly for its lightness—three pounds less than the standard M14 infantry rifle—and its ease of handling.

Some Army officers skeptical of the Armalite's worth note its maximum effective range is 300-400 yards compared with 500-600 yards for the M14.

But other officers who defend the weapon argue its high velocity—about 400 feet a second faster than the M14—makes it bullet an adequate killer.

No Headway Made in Talks on ADC-U Bill

Celebrezze, Romney Dispute Definition of Unemployed Category

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's Gov. George Romney apparently made no headway yesterday in his attempt to convince Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze that a Michigan bill to provide federal aid to dependent children of the unemployed conforms to federal standards.

Romney and three aides spent 45 minutes with Celebrezze. They returned to Michigan armed with a promise that by Tuesday they would have a memorandum setting forth the legal basis upon which Celebrezze has disapproved Michigan's ADC-U bill.

"I did not get an adequate indication of the legal basis at this session," Romney told reporters. "If I do not get a better legal basis for the secretary's action, I think there is no chance of getting a revised ADC-U passed by the legislature."

Romney insisted that "as far as we know, the statute is clear on this point that the states shall establish eligibility under this program and in the words as defined by the state."

"The one point concerned," Romney said, "is the question of the right of the state to make the definition of unemployed and whether or not the department has authority to pass on this definition."

During Romney's visit to the capitol, the governor said he conferred with nine Michigan House Republicans, Sens. Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrats, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

After the meeting, McNamara and Hart issued a joint statement saying Romney had "explained the legislative position he has adopted on behalf of the state government... however, we feel it is unfortunate that the act passed by the State Legislature would exclude the children of at least 10,000 families who otherwise could be covered by the federal program except for this arbitrary action."

Seek to Stem Typhoid Fever

Swiss, U.S. Officials Search for Carriers

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP) — A Swiss widow, mother of 12 children, died in the hospital today, first fatal victim of the typhoid epidemic.

By United Press International. Health authorities in the United States and Switzerland tried today to stem the spread of typhoid fever by isolating suspected victims and searching for more possible carriers of the sometimes fatal disease.

Swiss medical officers prepared to move 35 suspected typhoid cases from a temporary hospital in the Alpine village of Zermatt to facilities in the valley below.

This was the first step in eradicating an epidemic in the town which already has affected more than 100 persons. The moving operation should be over by tomorrow, when the task begins of testing blood samples from about 3,000 villagers and foreign workers in Zermatt.

The New York City Health Department said one young woman was hospitalized at the Cornell University Medical Center with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Coma Continues

Boxer Fights Odds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former featherweight champion Davey Moore battled long odds today in his fight to survive brain damage. California's Governor Edmund G. Brown meanwhile called for abolishment of professional boxing in this state.

A team of consulting physicians indicated little hope for Moore, who lost his 126-pound division title Thursday night and lapsed into a coma an hour after losing by a knockout to Sugar Ramos of Mexico City.

"His prognosis is poor," the physicians reported Friday night after examining the unconscious boxer. "He still fails to respond to painful stimuli and is in a deep coma."

Moore suffered severe bruises in the brain stem area at the lower base of his skull. Although the physicians did not estimate odds on recovery, a spokesman at White Memorial Hospital said a condition of "fair" would have given Davey only a 50-50 chance.

BRUTAL SPORT — In Sacramento, Brown declared: "The Davey Moore fight is one more illustration that boxing is a brutal sport even under ideal conditions — if it can be called a sport."

He said he would ask the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in 1964 to outlaw boxing in California. The state constitution specifies a vote is required to abolish professional boxing and wrestling.

Brown said he will meanwhile appoint an emergency committee to survey boxing safety measures that now exist and recommend new provisions until the people act.

The 29-year-old Moore, of Columbus, Ohio, father of five children ranging in age from 2 to 11, was knocked down twice in the 10th round by the 21-year-old Ramos in their scheduled 15-rounder at Dodger Stadium.

As the round ended, Davey was helpless over a rope and his manager, Willie Ketchum, called a halt despite Moore's protestations that he was all right.

"Unless we step up our rate of growth—we create a supply of jobs that is more equal to the demand—our rate of unemployment will steadily and swiftly climb to the recession levels of 7 per cent, even without a recession," he said.

A jobless rate of 7 per cent would compare with the February level of 6.1 per cent, the highest in more than a year.

U.S. AIR LEADERSHIP — In another talk, for dedication ceremonies at the sprawling airport which last year handled 13.5 million travelers, Kennedy said the United States "intends to be a leader in the supersonic age" and develop airplanes that will travel three times the speed of sound, or about 2,300 miles an hour.

Once that is accomplished, he said, it will be a smaller world.

"Let us also see to it that it is a better world," he said. "A more just and peaceful world, a more promising world for our children and for their children after them."

In his highest address, Kennedy spotlighted just one of the obstacles, unemployment, to be overcome in creating a more promising world.

LOST WORK DAYS — The President noted, for example, that unemployed Americans last year lost one billion work days—"equivalent to shutting down the entire country with no production, no services, and no pay for over three weeks."

While saying "this nation can do better than that," he emphasized the ominous possibility (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

The dead were hurled into the pile of wreckage in Penney's basement and into four feet of water which gushed from broken pipes and sprinklers.

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Marie Straight, 55, Campbell, Calif., a clerk in Penney's yardage department, adjacent to the boiler room; Mrs. Florence Caballero, 45, San Jose, and Vernon B. Hinton, 41, San Jose, both customers.

Nine of the injured were reported in serious or critical condition. The blast struck at 4:49 p.m. the height of the rush hour. About 50 persons were in the drug store.

"The force of the explosion came up through the floor," said Charles Christie, a waitress at the Thrifty Lunch Counter in the rear of the store which bore the brunt of the blast.

Penney's planning fair skies with a high of 57 for the Pontiac area tomorrow.

Fair and mild is the forecast for tonight. A low of 35 is predicted.

The lowest thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. was 27. At 2 p.m. the mercury measured a delightful 51.

Approve Plans for Utilities

Supervisors Okay $516,000 Project

Final plans for $516,000 worth of additional utilities at the Oakland County Service Center were approved Thursday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The plans will extend and improve water, sewer and steam-heat lines at the center on Telegraph Road.

A federal grant covering half the cost already has been awarded subject to final approval of the plans.

In other action, the board authorized admittance of non-tuberculous patients at the county's tuberculosis sanatorium to relieve overcrowding and unsafe conditions among welfare patients at the county's medical care facility.

The supervisors also voted 73-3 to increase their mileage rate from seven cents to 10 cents a mile.

The board also appointed its health committee as the County Board of Health to replace a previous board of citizens members, all of whom have separately resigned.

The committee has been serving in the board's stead for several months.

The Board of Supervisors went on to approve official naming of Tull Lake in White Lake Township so that it may be so designated on state maps.

Simple Auto Idea Becomes Manufacturing Mishmash

By BEN PHELAN
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—This is a story of how a simple idea can become complicated if enough people get involved.

Our subject is the flashing light on the front of your car which signals a turn. By now most states require them. All cars have come equipped with them for the past decade.

Sometimes the flashing light is difficult to distinguish from an oncoming motorist. In sunlight the white light isn't bright enough. At night, too often it gets mixed up with headlights.

The folks who make light bulbs and the folks who make cars recognized the problem. They got together and ran tests. Why not, they asked, try some other color, like amber? Fine, but what color is amber?

One dictionary says yellowish to brownish. Reddellab-yellow, says another. Webster's third International says amber is variable, averaging a dark orange yellow.

Obviously, if the turn signals were to be uniform, the color would have to be the same. Tests followed. European countries came to observe. Phoenix and Detroit were two of the test locations.

EVERYONE CONVINCED

By the end of 1958 everyone who mattered was convinced. A specific amber color had been chosen as most effective in bright sunlight, the best contrast to headlights and the least objectionable reflection off chrome.

It wasn't until the 1963 model cars, however, that front turn signals became amber. That's because a lot of other people had to be convinced.

Some 25 states have laws which specified white, and only white, for turn signals. It took until January, 1962, to get all of these changed.

When amber got the green light everywhere, the Automobile Manufacturers Association recommended to the carmakers that they make the switch at the start of the 1963 model year. Checker jumped the gun and changed to amber lenses last spring when it had used up its stock of clear lenses.

When the 1963 models appeared, most had the same style amber lens which Checker uses. A few used a clear white lens with an amber lamp. In operation they looked the same.

Oldsmobile and Buick opened the year with amber lamps, but switched to amber lenses. Ford's Galaxie and Thunderbird switched from lenses to lamps. Pontiac, Plymouth, Mercury Monterey and the Buick Riviera have used amber lamps right along.

Ford Honors Four Employees

Four employees of the Ford Motor Co. Tractor Division, Troy, were honored for their community services at an awards banquet Thursday night. All are from the area.

They are Louis B. Turf, 157 E. Maple Road, Birmingham; Burdett W. Dzendel, 20750 Sherman St., Southfield; James Henderson, 622 S. Manistowic St., Clawson; and Walter W. Sewell, 59140 Van Dyke Road, Washington Township.

Turf was cited for his civic and scouting activities. Dzendel, as vice chairman of the Southfield planning commission, helped formulate zoning, ordinances and future planning for the city.

Henderson was recognized for his political, educational, scouting and youth activities. Sewell received the award for his service in public office and for his civic and youth work. Sewell is president of the Romeo Community School Board.

Know Where to Vote?

Well, Sleep on It!

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — When a voter's home is split squarely down the middle by an election precinct line, he should vote in the district in which he sleeps, says Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin.

Ervin's ruling Thursday said neither he nor Florida's courts ever had been presented the question until a county registration official posed it recently.

Pontiac said it preferred the lamps to the lenses for styling reasons. The lens generally was a less expensive way to make the change.

Cadillac used a clear white lens with an amber filter behind it.

All of these variations are legal. But then the free thinkers got into the act. Why not, they reasoned, dress up your older car with the amber lenses? If amber is so much better, why make it a 1963 exclusive?

So amber flooded the market. Your local gas station or garage probably has lenses to fit your car, if it is of recent vintage. Also on the market are pressure sprays to turn your present lenses amber.

After all, with some cars such as the Lincoln Continental and Chevy II showing virtually no styling changes from 1962 to 1963, new amber lenses are all that's needed to make the car look new again.

As it turned out, many of the amendments which made amber legal didn't take into account dressing up older cars. Some authorities are taking a very dim view of such enterprise.

Presently there is an uneasy truce. All 1963 installations are legal. Most do-it-yourself operations aren't.

Governor's Authority Should Be Increased

The changes dealing with the executive branch in the proposed new constitution will give the chief executive of our State the authority he should have.

It seems reasonable to believe that the power vested in our governor should be comparable with that of the chief executive officer of a large corporation or business, providing, of course, we elect a responsible leader.

With the present constitution, the Governor's hands are tied, and actually he does not have the proper authority to handle the various functions of state government.

Under this new provision, a consolidation of the present 130 administrative agencies (except for the governing bodies of institutions of higher education) to not more than 20 principal departments certainly appears to be a sound, streamlined way of doing business.

Over the years, methods have changed and new and more efficient ways discovered which facilitate day-to-day operations. The executive branch of our State has been bogged down with old-fashioned procedures which need modernization.

Streamlining would result in economies, simplicity of structure and fixation of responsibility. In reality, it means merely getting in line with up-to-date universal political practices.

Other states that have experienced many of these changes show that the advantages far outweigh the objections.

The complicated, outmoded operation of the State with so many agencies makes it doubly hard for the Governor of Michigan to do an adequate job.

Consolidation and tightening of the reins with more supervisory authority are the significant advantages to the executive branch changes under the new constitution.

To go forward and take our rightful position among the other states, Michigan needs this new constitution.

Stop Aid to Morocco if Bases Are Denied

Back in 1958, King MOHAMMED V of Morocco demanded "total and unconditional" evacuation of the U.S. bases in his country. The upshot was a formal agreement a year later that the United States would give up its four air bases and one naval installation there no later than the end of 1963.

The matter will be reviewed again when King Hassan II of Morocco, who took the throne after the death of King Mohammed in 1961, makes a 10-day visit to the United States next week. The United States is ready to live up to its agreement to get out of Morocco this year. But there is some talk that King HASSAN may be willing to renegotiate the 1959 agreement to provide for a later withdrawal from the U.S. naval station at Kenitra (formerly Port Lyautey).

Since gaining independence from France in 1956, Morocco has received an estimated $325 million in American aid of various kinds. With our bases gone, Morocco would lose part of its leverage for continued assistance.

A survey team, headed by WILLIAM O. BAXTER of the State Department was dispatched to Morocco late in 1961 to study ways in which the U.S. bases could be converted to serve economic and social development. Some proposals have been made, but nothing definite is settled.

Five years ago, the Moroccan government would have been satisfied simply to see America abandon her installations there. Now there is some feeling that this country has a duty to help fill the economic vacuum which such a withdrawal creates in the immediate vicinity of the bases.

We somehow feel that if Morocco is not interested in our bases, why waste time and American tax dollars worrying about its economic condition?

Perhaps our aid should be a two-way street, with the recipient giving up something in return.

TV Set a Delivery Room for Cat's Blessed Events

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Things were a bit disorganized at the Clarkson home of Mrs. Alvin Caverly when recently she reported some strange goings-on.

Seems their three-month-old calico cat by name of "Spitter"—because that's what she does at everyone—appeared repeatedly on a given evening with intent of entering the son's bedroom . . . But was talked out of it.

The feline reappeared later in the night bent, not on mischief, but on having kittens. Finding doors to all rooms closed, she finally settled on the base of the TV set (door was off because of repairs in progress) as a maternity ward.

When the man of the house arrived in the early morning after work, he found four new members of the household—with a grown Chihuahua trying to get into the act, with the idea of doing a little freeloading at the board of the kittens were enjoying.

The new mother, who had disowned her half-grown kitten to clear the deck for the new litter, did, however, welcome another entry—a sort of free lance Chihuahua puppy—into the fold . . . extending all the rights, privileges and prerogatives thereof. But, to cat the climax, the ousted kitten found refuge and sustenance at the paws of the grandmother of the puppy the mother cat had adopted.

Monday evening can be a memorable one for you.

Then, our area opens its heart and purse to one of its finest and most deserving citizens.

Frank Crowley of Waterford Township. Over the past two years, our friend has suffered crippling paralysis, and recently has undergone three major operations.

Doctors say he will not walk again. As most know, he was a collegiate athlete star during the '30s, and ran in the 1932 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. Locally, he has been identified with the beverage business for many years. Always an active participant in civic affairs, he was a faithful and honored member of Waterford Lions Club.

You can give a boost to Frank's indomitable spirit and provide much-needed financial assistance by joining his countless friends for dinner and dancing at Pine Knob Ski Lodge—with the program enlivened by a barbershop quartet and door prizes . . . The tickets are $5.00.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

... and Jesus went into the temple and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrow the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves. . . . And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? But ye have made it a den of thieves. Mark 11: 15, 17

After Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday he performed an act that proves true Christianity sometimes requires vigorous action as well as gentleness. He cleaned out the temple court of its commercialism, knowing that it was an attack on the financial interest of the priest, Jesus, the teacher, turned reformer, for He found the evil an intolerable affront to God.

Days of All Faiths:

Revive Medieval Mother's Day

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Not so long ago an advertising man happily demonstrated to an audience of his clients that "Next to Christmas, Mother's Day is the greatest sales opportunity of the year." Most of us are deeply troubled by the thought of either Christmas or Mother's Day as a "sales opportunity." In neither case is such an attitude worthy of the person we are trying to honor.

The Church of England (Episcopal in this country) is calendar enough to have in its calendar a Mother's Day that is centuries old and untouched by modern commercialism.

The fourth Sunday in Lent has been called Mothering Sunday since the Middle Ages. The name comes from the Epistle (one of the New Testament readings of the Mass) for the day, which is in the fourth chapter of Galatians. Here St. Paul says, "Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all."

Perhaps it is hard to see how this Bible passage led to the custom of giving all domestic servants time off to go and visit their mothers on this day, but that is what happened throughout England. And of course everyone took some sort of present home to mother. But this was before the time of superlatism, and the presents were usually homemade cakes.

Many American parishes are reviving the date and, more important, the spirit of this medieval Mother's Day.

THE GOOD THIEF

As everyone knows, two thieves were executed with Jesus. Everyone also knows that one of them showed no slightest sign of regret for his life of crime, while the other repented, recognized Jesus as Lord, and asked for mercy.

March 25 commemorates the "Good Thief," who is best known as Dismas, although one sometimes sees his name written as Titus and sometimes as Zosian.

Since Dismas and Jesus died on the same day, it is interesting to note that the commemoration of Dismas' death fixes the date of the Crucifixion as March 25.

We know no more about Dismas than the meager facts St. Luke gives us in the Crucifixion scene. But as in the case of so many other briefly mentioned New Testament personalities, such as Pontius Pilate, Joseph of Arimathea, Lazarus, and many others, he has a place in the legendary literature that grew up to fill in the gaps.

It is told that as the Holy Family fled to Egypt to escape Herod the King, they were set upon by robbers, but that Dismas bribed the other bandits to spare them. Jesus, a tiny baby at the time, predicted that He and this thief would be crucified together and that Dismas would go before Him into paradise.

LADY DAY

It may be that this was the first holy day ever observed by Christians. Certainly it deals with the first thing that ever happened in Christianity: the announcement to Mary, by the arch-angel Gabriel, that she would bear a son who would be the savior of the world. Monday is the Feast of the Annunciation, known everywhere as "Lady Day."

On this day Jesus was conceived and the Incarnation began. God took a new nature. He became human, capable of suffering pain and death. In one instant God became united forever to mankind.

Once the date was set by the Church for the commemoration of this first scene in the Christian drama, a whole annual cycle fell into place. If Jesus was conceived on March 25, then Christmas must be nine months later, on December 25; the Circumcision eight days from the birthday, on January 1; and Presentation in the Temple forty days after Christmas, on February 2.

It also sets the date for John the Baptist's birthday in June, since Gabriel had told Mary on March 25 that John's mother was at that time in the sixth month of her pregnancy.

Washington Notebook:

Tax 'Loophole' Offered Ad Men

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, answering questions at the Advertising Council's Washington meeting, was jokingly told by one businessman that he and others were puzzled as to how much money they might safely spend—under new federal expense account rules—for dinner that night.

Replied Kennedy quickly: "I've heard from Mortimer Caplin, the commissioner of Internal Revenue, and he tells me you can do anything you like to-night, providing you top it off with a toast to my brother, the President of the United States."

Women cab drivers are increasing in Washington, but not in such volume that it doesn't still create some raised eyebrows.

Quizzed by curious passengers, has placed this sign strategically inside her cab. "I'm 28 years old, married and the mother of three children. I've been driving a cab for three years."

Roswell Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense, had planned to go to Spain for negotiations with Generalissimo Francisco Franco on U.S. bases but canceled the visit when he learned Franco

Voice of the People:

'City Has Plenty of Pigeons and Even Intelligent Rats'

Pigeons will remain in Pontiac. I can remember them as far back as 1908.

Recently while stopped for a light at Pike and Saginaw Street, I saw an alley rat cross the street after the light turned green. Talk about educated animals—this takes the cake. Let's all complain and see how far we can get. Surely our City Fathers should figure out something.

'Car Headlights Often Misused'

Who started this practice of driving with headlights on long after and before they are needed? They serve no purpose in helping anyone to see where they are going anytime after sunrise or before sunset and are a hazard. The argument that shining lights call attention to the presence of the car to oncoming drivers is invalid to a good driver who pays attention to his driving at all times.

On days when it rains or snows it is especially annoying to have to face a line of bright lights in addition to splattered windshields. Let's start a movement to be more courteous to fellow drivers by keeping the lights off until they are really needed.

Opinions Differ on School Bus Bill

Our taxes pay for public schools, bus transportation, police protection and other services. We are free to use these facilities.

If we do not want to use them we can hire our own policemen, run our own schools, run our own buses and buy our own textbooks.

Public tax money should not be expected for our every whim and privilege. And we are not being penalized, persecuted or discriminated against if we do not receive them. We should be willing to pay the extra if we choose to be different.

Parochial School Parent

If the school bus bill is turned down the children attending parochial schools will be forced to attend public schools. Think of how much more it will cost to educate thousands more children. Compare this with the small expense to add a few buses.

This bill is wise economically as well as a sense of fair play and equal rights. It also affects the children. The partiality shown is not good for their morale. Treat them equal.

Ask your representative to vote for the school bus bill.

Claims Walkout 'Ill-Mannered'

Gus Scholle's and Barney Hopkins' walkout which was staged just prior to Gov. Romney's speech during the golden anniversary of the U.S. Labor Department, reminds one of a little spoiled brat who won't play marbles unless he shoots first. The only thing they gained was a state of utter ridiculousness and another smear of "one narrow road" thinking policy attached to unionism.

Just good manners would require them to stay whether they chose to accept Gov. Romney's speech or not.

Taxpayer Gives Views on Politics

The Federal government gives nothing. The politician gets his pocket full first. All wages should be cut from top to bottom.

All things being cut in proportion would do a lot for this country, such as cutting bread and milk to 18 cents. There wouldn't be a surplus of milk or wheat then.

You hear the big cry of politicians denying children of many things. Why deny them a living? Educate our younger generation with the basic studies of life. Why deny the man who is willing to work the job he is willing to take at the price his neighbor can afford to pay? Let's all live on easy street on the government payroll.

'Found No Humor in Press Joke'

The Press has topped all "sick" jokes with the story of Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy that appeared in the publisher's column. We can't find any humor in the implication that our President solve his many "woes, problems, disappointments and frustration," by being assassinated. I felt impressed as I listened to the "Continental Classroom." The U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights were discussed by an able editorial writer. The emphasis, in part, being on religious freedom.

I am another who will not wear the foot devastating "points," but am not prone to despair over the inability to acquire the shoes I want, for such an opinion is fallacy.

'Little Credit Given Ford Automobiles'

Let's be fair and give Ford a little credit. I'm sure a lot of Ford Motor employees who subscribe to The Press would like to see more news about their products. We think you have a fine newspaper. Let's face it, Pontiac is not the only car on the road. Ford has won two races recently, but The Pontiac Press has offered more coverage on both. Fords finished first, second, third, fourth and fifth in the Daytona 500 and a Chrysler product finished sixth but The Press published a very impressive story and picture of a Pontiac leading the race.
The recent Atlanta 500 Race was also won by a Ford, but not even reported by The Pontiac Press.

Oldest Driver Quits Highway After Accident

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Rhode Island's oldest automobile driver waved himself off the road yesterday after being fined $3 for going through a stop sign.

The 97-year-old church deacon, David C. Sutherland, said: "Yes, I think I'll give her up," referring to his 1951 car, which he had been driving regularly to church, market, and to visit relatives.

It had taken nearly a century to see the inside of a courtroom, when he was arraigned in district court yesterday following a two-car accident Tuesday. Sutherland began driving in 1903.

Issue Drug Warning

May Deform Babies

LONDON (AP)—Expectant mothers have been warned against using a tranquilizer drug used to treat severe depression and an anti-travel sickness pill.

Experts fear that the drugs might cause malformed births. Two doctors writing in a medical magazine, the Lancet, said rabbits dosed with the tranquilizer meprobamate—known commercially as Tofranil—produced a high percentage of deformed young.

Until more information is available, the drug should be used with caution by expectant mothers, say Drs. J. M. Robson and E. M. Sullivan of Guy's Hospital, London.

They urged doctors who have come Foundation, Ltd., recommended that the drug should not be taken by pregnant women except on medical advice.

Studies by the manufacturers, Geigy Pharmaceutical Co. of Manchester, found no abnormalities in 13,107 cases treated with the drug. Dr. R. H. Gosling, the firm's medical director, said:

The drug was on clinical trial for two years before being marketed in Britain in January 1959. It had been marketed abroad for a longer period.

The other drug under suspicion is Mazine, a well-known remedy in Britain for travel sickness. The manufacturers, the Well-

Stories Start Miscarriage

TOKYO (UPI) — "Great mental anguish" caused partly by shocking magazine articles about Princess Michiko's palace life contributed to her need for an "induced miscarriage," Imperial Palace officials said today.

The 23-year-old commoner-princess, who had been expecting her second baby this fall, underwent an operation in the palace hospital Thursday. Palace officials said it was necessary to "protect her health."

Michiko was reported resting comfortably in good condition with Crown Prince Akihito at her bedside. The couple has one child, Prince Hiro, a lively, husky 3-year-old.

Pontiac State to Note Mental Health Week

In conjunction with National Mental Health Week, April 28-May 4, Pontiac State Hospital will conduct its 17th Annual Open House April 28-30, from 1-4 p.m. daily.

Hospital tours, color slides and music by a patients' combo will be highlights.

The theme for this year's Mental Health Week is "National Rally Against Mental Illness."

Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, medical superintendent, has named

Dr. Harry Arnkoff as chairman of the open house planning committee.

5,788 VISITORS
During the 1962 open house the hospital had 5,788 visitors. Pontiac State Hospital has a patient population of better than 3,000 patients and services a 10-county area of 1.8 million persons.

Counties sending patients to the state hospital are Oakland, Genesee, Macomb, Lapeer, St. Clair, Sanilac, Huron, Shiawassee, Livingston and Tuscola.

5-Year Slump in State*Baby Output Down

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's baby production is in a five-year slump but the birth rate is sure to pick up, reports the State Health Department.

The department said there were 182,475 resident births in the state last year, nearly 10,000 fewer than the previous year. It was the fifth year in a row that the birth rate has dropped.

Of the babies born last year, 7,998 were illegitimate. Although this was lower than the national illegitimacy rate, it was the highest ever reported for Michigan.

The baby total was the lowest since 1952, when 177,835 were born.

Past statistics, said the department, show there is bound to be a baby boom in the next few years.

The reason is because most of the babies born from 1945 through 1949, when births averaged a steady 150,000 a year, will be getting married and having their own babies.

Winkleman's Plans Expansion Program

Winkleman Brothers Apparel, Inc., with a local store at Tel-Huron Shopping Center, has announced plans for an eight-store, three-state expansion program to mark its 35th anniversary this spring.

Five new stores will be built in regional shopping centers in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Plans are completed for new stores in the Macomb Mall at Gratiot and Masonic Boulevard in Roseville and a new center at Seven-Mile and Middle Bell Roads in Livonia.

Both are slated to open in the fall of 1964. A third store will open in the spring of 1965 at Westland Shopping Center in Livonia.

Plans for two other Detroit area stores will be announced at a later date.

Liz Files Suit Against Store

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A $1-million suit was on file today by actress Elizabeth Taylor against a women's wear store for allegedly selling "Liz Taylor" blouses without her consent.

The suit, filed by Miss Taylor's attorney Gerald Lapsky, charged that Hartfield Stores, Inc., which operates Zody's Discount House, merchandised the blouses beginning March 22, 1962.

"It is necessary (for me) to carefully and zealously restrict the use of (my) name and likeness so they do not lose the allure and glamour which they hold for the public," Miss Taylor said as a reason for filing the suit.

Romney Foiled in Job-Research Fund Bid

LANSING (AP)—A $750,000 appropriation sought by Gov. George Romney for college research on jobs has become a major casualty in committee deliberations on the proposed 1963-64 state budget.

The legislature has until next Friday to pass spending bills in the houses where they originated.

ASKS CLARIFICATION

Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, chairman of ways and means, had indicated the $750,000 for college research on job-creating activities would be withheld unless Romney's office could more clearly define how it was to be spent.

Under Romney's proposed economic expansion program, the funds would be administered for projects recommended by a special commission and approved by the governor himself.

"They weren't satisfied," said a committee member.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann

Arbor, sponsor of the four-bill economic expansion package, said he will attempt to restore the funds by amendment when the appropriations measures come up for debate.

The last of the four economic bills, calling for reorganization of the Department of Economic Development, was approved 104-0 by the House yesterday.

The House appropriation bill for general government totaled $32,454,000, a net increase of $3.2 million over Romney's after adding $4 million for civil service pay increases and subtracting other requests including the research funds.

Also approved was a $150,000 Romney request for a governmental efficiency study.

The welfare portion of the budget was offered at $98.7 million by the House committee, an increase of $2 million over Romney's request.

The money is included as an estimate of increased costs of the federal Kerr-Mills medical care for the aged program. A $10.4-million budget for regulatory agencies was turned out by the committee, reflecting a $4,000 slash in fair employment practices' commission spending sought by Romney for broadening the agency's work.

The committee gave the conservation-recreation - agriculture budget an extra $18,000 for the conservation committee and $175,000 for a spray program to fight the cereal leaf beetle.

But it proposed turning some $400,000 over to the earmarked game and fish fund leaving the budget at $10.4 million, some $300,000 less than Romney sought.

Bonds Sold to NY Bank for Project

Bonds totaling $5.4 million to finance construction of the Dequindre interceptor sewer were sold Thursday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to the Chase Manhattan Bank.

The New York bank was low bidder for the 30-year bonds with a net interest rate of 3.11 percent. It was one of three banks to submit bids. Nine bids were tendered.

Chase Manhattan also bought $32.6 million in bonds to build the 12-Town storm relief drain in South Oakland County in 1961.

The Dequindre sewer is a companion project. It is intended to divert sewage from the storm drain into the Detroit sewage system for treatment.

The twin projects will serve 14 communities when completed by 1964 under the direction of Oakland County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry.

The nine bids opened Thursday ranged to a high of 3.31 percent, with the second lowest bid at 3.18 percent.

Receives Estimates on Cost of Cremation

GAINSBOROUGH, England (AP)—Richard Chadercraft, 51, said Friday he plans to pay for his cremation in advance—to save money. Businesslike, he advertised in the newspapers for estimates. The lowest offer was 32 pounds—$59.60.

"I don't want any fuss when I die," said Chadercraft. "By making arrangements in advance I'm safeguarding my wife. I shall have a clause inserted in the agreement I make to the effect that even if I live another 30 years—and prices treble—no more will have to be paid."

California, Minnesota and Iowa are the leading turkey-producing states.

Cuban President Claims Output of Food Is Up

HAVANA (AP)—President Osvaldo Dorticos says production is increasing and Cuba's food situation is improved. Most shortages, he declared, are due to what he called the people's increased buying power.

Speaking to a political gathering, the president acknowledged that "there is a just and understandable reaction of popular disgust" when rationing becomes necessary and still does not lead to equal distribution of goods in short supply.

Dorticos' speech, delivered earlier this week, was printed in newspapers Friday.

Another Union OKs News Pact

Paper Handlers Agree With NY Publishers

NEW YORK (AP)—The non-striking paper handlers union agreed today to a new two-year contract with publishers of the city's eight closed newspapers.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the settlement after both sides conducted 17 hours of talks that lasted into the 106th day of the newspaper shutdown.

The agreement brought to six the number of unions that have reached firm or tentative settlements in the complicated dispute. Of this six, two are still striking but their negotiators have approved proposed contracts and have urged acceptance by the membership in ratification votes to be held Sunday. The two are the printers and mailers unions, both affiliates of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. The printers rejected the same terms in a ratification vote last Sunday.

OTHER STRIKES — Also on strike is a third union, the photogrocers, where president, Frank McGowan, said today that agreement on a new contract was "getting closer" to reality. Still negotiating for new contracts, beside the photogrocers, are the pressmen, machinists and electricians.

Wagner said the paper handlers did not want details of their proposed settlement disclosed until it is presented to the membership at a ratification meeting March 31.

In Cleveland, Ohio, where two newspapers have been blacked out for 114 days, one of three striking unions ratified a new contract Friday night.

By a vote of 101-13, striking Cleveland mailers approved a two-year settlement providing a basic money package of $10.60. This was close to the two-year, $10 package accepted earlier by seven other newspapers unions there.

Scoring data at the 1964 Olympic winter games (which will cover an area of 124 square miles) will be compiled instantaneously by an electronic system that will use computers, communications networks and television.

Well-Designed Lamps Should Be Your Goal

The flaring bouillotte shade and gold trim is a characteristic of the revival of elegance. It complements the graceful turnings of the fruitwood candlestick base. Bands of gold-tooled brown leather enhance the rich, masculine look of the base.

All that glitters is gold in this instance. The graceful gold crackle base with its long, slender neck is mounted on a gilded base. Delicate tracery and flowers are embroidered in nonfading gold threads.

The combination of sculptured fruitwood and stained glass with jeweled appliques of enameled glass typifies the new opulence in lamps of contemporary design.

Pastors, Priests, Rabbis Informed

Council of Churches Serves Patients

By MARY ANGELMIER
Church Editor

Most of us appreciate the expression of concern on the part of family and friends when illness comes into our lives.

And there is no substitute for a call from our pastor, priest or rabbi. But many times a spiritual leader is not informed of a parishioner's illness.

To make sure that pastors know about those who are confined in hospitals the Pontiac Area Council of Churches has established a service, known as "Operation Contact."

The office of the newly organized council is located in First Christian Church, 858 W. Huron St. Mrs. Richard Kain, part time secretary, is in the office from 8 to noon Monday through Friday.

Early every morning, Mrs. Kain calls Pontiac General, Pontiac Osteopathic and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals for information concerning those who entered the hospital the previous day.

The list shows church preference, names, addresses and the hospital and room number of each patient.

This information is made available to all pastors and churches in the area who wish to call the council office.

In this way every person who lists a specific church preference upon entering a local hospital has the opportunity for that information to reach his or her pastor. Many religious leaders are already using the service.

BEGINS AT 8

A normal day for Mrs. Kain begins at 8 when she begins to receive information. Two hospitals are contacted by phone with special equipment—two telephone lines, a beeper tone, a volume regulator and a dictaphone—installed for the purpose.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is usually contacted first where Mrs. Vera Jones, an employee of the hospital mailroom, compiles names for the council office. Sister Mary Xavier, administrator of St. Joseph, assists with the program.

Only Protestant information is transmitted to the council as Rev. Edwin Schroeder is full-time Catholic chaplain at the hospital.

About 8:30 a.m. Mrs. Mervel Minich calls in information from Pontiac General Hospital. Only those who list a specific church are called from Pontiac General and those in the children's pediatric ward are not listed.

Patients who do not name a church or pastor are visited by Rev. Gerald W. Gibson, of Central Christian Church, hospital chaplain who is president of the chaplain's group of Pontiac Pastors' Association this year.

The operation contact program is under the supervision of Mrs. Irene McNamara, public relations director of Pontiac General.

SPECIAL CARDS

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital provides a special religious preference card for the use of the council in "Operation Contact." These cards are picked up each morning and information relayed to the council office.

Elaine Adams, admissions director of Pontiac Osteopathic and Sue Reece, her assistant, supervise the collecting of the cards and contact the council office.

Jack Whitlow, assistant hospital administrator, works with the girls.

Interested in serving all those who wish or need a hospital service, the Council of Churches calls priests at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church at their request on Wednesday and Friday each week.

Rev. Daniel J. Murphy calls on patients at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and Rev. Joseph P. Femminio calls on patients at Pontiac General Hospital.

"Operation Contact" is just one of the many services that the Pontiac Area Council of Churches plans to render to this and the surrounding communities," said Rev. Jack Clark, pastor of First Christian Church and one of the leaders in founding the council.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church, is president of the group.

Rev. Richards in Campaign

The Rev. C. M. Richards, director of Christian Education for the Central District of the Christian & Missionary Alliance, will conduct an evangelistic crusade at the Alliance Church Monday through March 31.

Each summer he directs five such camps at Beulah Beach, Ohio, the district headquarters of the C. & M. Alliance.

The pastor of the local church, the Rev. G. J. Bersche, extends a most cordial invitation to the people of Pontiac to attend these meetings which will stress special emphasis on the needs of our children and youth.

Services will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, climaxed by a full program of meetings on Sunday at 11 a.m., 6 p.m. Alliance Youth Fellowship, and evening worship at 7:15.

Children's Religious Art to Tour Nation

The children's paintings of Bible stories, which were seen by more than 40,000 people in New York when they were exhibited recently at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, will be among hundreds more that will soon start on a national tour.

The paintings were the result of a project begun a year ago by the Greater Miami Council of the World Council of Christian Churches. In coming months, they will be on view in Concord, N. H., Detroit, Mich., Green Lake, Wis., Norwich, Vt., Tulsa, Okla., Lincoln, Neb., Nashville, Tenn. and cities in Massachusetts, New York state and Connecticut.

In April, said the announcement by Dr. Wilson Cheek, WCCF director in the United States, 25 of the paintings seen at the Metropolitan will be shown at the Chicago Public Library.

Another group of these paintings will be on exhibit during the annual Festival of the Arts at the Auburndale (Mass.) Congregational Church in April.

Of the other exhibits, one at the Fort Worth Children's Museum closed on March 6 and went to South America.

Seen as a new approach to religious education, the paintings "present spiritual insights that hold lessons for us all," Dr. Cheek declared. "While the children learn from their teachers, the teachers are also learning from the children."

Mary Matthews and Mike Vaughn were chosen ushers.

Rev. Walter Rowe of Antioch Baptist Church and choir will be present Thursday and Rev. Amos Johnson of New Bethel Church will be in charge Friday.

Many of the shipments were to meet emergency situations arising from earthquakes, floods or other natural disasters.

Other major activities of CWS include refugee resettlements and assistance, and an ecumenical scholarship exchange program. The latter has brought more than 600 foreign students to the United States for study. CWS handles 60,000 refugee resettlement cases annually.

MOON MAP - GUIDE FOR A LUNAR LANDING

Box Outlines Area of Large Map

American moon pilots will know where they are going.

Here, in a remarkable graphic journalism presentation, is a map of the area our spacemen will use as a pre-landing reference point.

It is about 230 miles wide and 239,000 miles away.

The moon belongs to everyone, so they say, but the first nation to land men on its surface will win honors for accomplishing the greatest feat of exploration in human history.

Both the United States and Russia have set their sights on this lifeless (we think), rocky ball that swings around the earth every 27 days 7 hours and 43.2 minutes.

But the story is not all one of spectacular rockets and daring spacemen. It is also a story of centuries of study, of mathematical calculation, exacting measurements and painstaking planning —including mapping the moon as thoroughly as possible to protect the lives of the men who will land there.

Unlike Columbus, who set out on a chartless course completely unaware that an entire New World lay between him and the Indies, America's astronauts will have a virtual road map showing every visible feature in the area they plan to probe.

Shown is the Oceanus Porcellarum, or Ocean of Storms, named by early astronomers who thought the moon had seas. Moon-shot planners selected the area because of three easily recognized terrain features, the Kepler, Encke and Kunowsky craters. The upper figures beside them on the map are the heights of the rims in meters. The lower figures, in parenthesis, show depths of craters.

With navigation confirmed by these landmarks, our space pilots will land in a plains area south of the map. The maneuver is comparable to using Pike's Peak as a reference point to insure a landing in Kansas.

Moon charts differ from earth maps in that the colors show rock structure and light reflection rather than elevation.

The moon's surface proper, the floor of the "ocean," is believed to consist of volcanic flows, possibly covered by a layer of dust. Dotted lines indicate probable faults or fractures in the crust.

However, a new theory holds that the moon's surface is porous and filamented like cotton candy.

Crewless instrument probes will establish that the moon's surface is solid enough for a landing.

This map is based on the first of a series prepared by the U.S. Geological Survey in co-operation with NASA and the USAF Chart and Information Center, under the direction of Robert J. Hackman. It is another key step toward putting a man on the moon.

background for LIVING

Models Open for Spring

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Has the Oakland County real estate market become saturated with homes in the say medium-income bracket? Many local real estate officials think so.

In a spot survey made by The Press, land developers admit that at the present time many more homes in the $28,000-to-$35,000 range have been built than those in the $12,000-to-$20,000 bracket, reversing last year's trend.

However, models are barely completed before duplications are ordered and the building business really seems to be booming, they say.

Competition is keen. Where only cooking and refrigeration units were formerly included in kitchens, builders are now installing dishwashers and disposals as an added attraction.

Wooden parquet floors — a definite luxury — are appearing in family rooms. Occasionally a builder will include wall-to-wall carpeting and draperies in a custom-made house. In some cases landscaping also is included in the final price, so great is the upper-bracket competition.

Most of the newer homes have taken on a definite personality. For instance, if a buyer is Early-American minded, he usually can find what he is looking for in small-print wallpapers, sectioned windows and old brick-walled fireplaces.

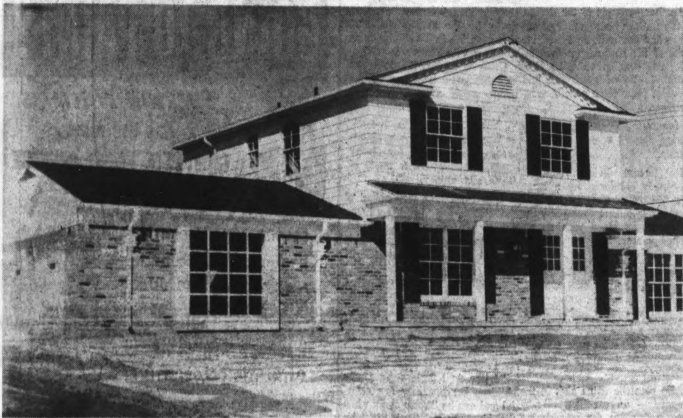

For those with more modern preferences, there are streamlined efficiency homes and for those that lean toward contemporary styling the dramatic look is emphasized.

Local developers seem to be designing models to suit specific personalities, and not houses with the old assembly-line look.

The trend toward presenting furnished models for public inspection has picked up momentum this year, and some realtors have as many as five or six houses completely furnished. Colors in these houses are vibrant, with orange, yellow and blue predominating. Last year's favorite colors, violet and blue mixtures also are seen in furnished models.

However, softly muted tints may be featured with bright bold shades, depending on the type of house.

With the opening of the spring season, real estate developers all over the county are finding more ways to attract prospective buyers. The six shown on this page are only a few of the many new subdivisions open for public inspection.

BELLARMINE HILLS — One of the newest subdivisions in the country has a first model open to the public in Avon Township off Walton Boulevard. Each of the 63 lots available is more than one-half acre, according to officials of the Stilwell-Thiesen development company. Sanitary sewers are only one of the many features of the home, that range in price from $21,000 to $30,000. Shown above is the Williamsburg model. It has four bedrooms, 2½ baths, a formal dining room and a very large paneled family room. It sells for $28,900.

INDIAN WOODS — Known as the Grand Prix, the house shown above was built by Triple A Homebuilders. Prices for this type of home range from $15,850 to $20,800. It features gas heat and a full basement (prices do not include the lot). The model, open from 1 to 8 p.m. daily, is located on Schoolhouse Drive in Waterford Township. The kitchen has utility built-ins including a disposal.

TWIN LAKES — Only 35 lots remain in the Twin Lakes development just south of M59 in White Lake Township. Forty-five homes have already been constructed both on the inside lots and many more along two man-made lakes in the subdivision.

Homes range in prices from $17,900 up, with lake lots costing from $4,700 to $6,000. Homes by Weinberger feature two fireplaces, a plastered 3½ car garage and parquet-floored family rooms. Two models are open from 1 to 8 p.m.

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward E. Noble

BALMORAL ORCHARDS — Located on Walnut Lake at Franklin roads, the Balmoral Orchards subdivision, under development of Mac-C-Inc., has six models open for public inspection. The Covington, shown above, is completely furnished and sells for $32,500 on a 130- by 135-foot lot. There are five large bedrooms, full basement and a brick fireplace-wall in the family room. Built-in bookcases and a large woodbox add distinction. All models are open from noon to 8 p.m. weekdays and from noon to 6 p.m. Saturdays.

NEAT, NOT GAUDY — More than 100 lots are available in the Kirkwood Subdivision, located between Quanton and Walnut Lake roads, and between Franklin and Inkster roads. Houses range in price from $28,000 to $45,000 and lots are no less than one-third acre in size. Veteran builders, the Thompson-

Brown company, are developers. Colonial, ranch and trilevel houses feature four and five bedrooms, with gas heat. Shown above is the Columbia, at $32,900 including the lot. There are Three furnished models and 11 other models open for public inspection.

GOLF MANOR — The Smoker Co., builders and developers of many area subdivisions, are especially proud of the Berkley, in Golf Manor in the Union Lake area. Shown above, the $16,250 model is really a raised ranch house — a ranch house that has been pulled up out of the ground four feet. The living area is all upstairs and the family-recreation room is down, but without that underground feeling such as in a basement. Prices range from $15,000 to $20,000 and there are about 200 homes occupied. Only 65 lots remain unsold.

J66 Statistics
A three-bedroom ranch with two full baths, living room, dining room, kitchen with adjoining laundry, attached garage, optional basement. Total living area is 1,212 square feet in over-all dimensions of 49 feet 6 inches wide by 40 feet 4 inches deep.

The architect's ingenuity in making every square foot pay its way — a hallmark of Cohen designs — is readily apparent in this house.

FLOOR PLANS — This straightforward layout contains 1,212 square feet of living area in dimensions of only 49 feet 6 inches wide by 40 feet 4 inches deep. Should the basement be eliminated, space for a heater and utilities would occupy the area taken up by the basement stair well.

Here's Your Chance to Build Dream House

By JULES LOH

Most dream houses are built on little more than fantasy. The sad truth is that most budgets just can't accommodate most dreams.

Well, now you can stop dreaming and start building.

This house was designed for the house-hunter of moderate income and average family size whose sense of good styling and logical room layout has been frustrated by today's countless unimaginative offerings in the medium-price range.

The warm, homey exterior of this house, with its covered porch, wood shingles and accents of stone, give it a true "dream house" facade; and its well-ordered floor plan should satisfy the most finicky homeowner.

NICE PACKAGE

The house has three bedrooms, two full baths, living room, dining room, large kitchen with adjoining laundry, and an attached garage, all packaged nicely into only 1,212 square feet of living area and modest dimensions of 49 feet 6 inches wide by 40 feet 4 inches deep.

It is the product of architect Lester Cohen and is design J66 in the House of the Week series.

For those who really want to economize, the house can be built without a basement.

Space for a heater and utilities would occupy the area taken up by the basement stair well.

The combination of kitchen and dining room should appeal to practical homeowners.

In a larger, more expensive house this dining area might be called a family room.

But for those who see nothing wrong with getting maximum use out of a dining room — who don't mind using it for doing homework and cutting out dress patterns as well as for eating supper — this is an eminently sensible arrangement.

Clear separation of the bedroom wing from the living area is a remarkable accomplishment in the restricted dimensions of this house.

It is done with a minimum of wasted space; the same hallway serves both areas without compromising privacy in either.

Another example is the design of the master bedroom. Its front projection not only improves the looks of the house from the outside, but enables all three bedrooms to be of good size and provides room for a private master bath as well.

For all its efficiency, this house doesn't neglect the aesthetic.

Its formal living room is graciously enhanced by a large bow window overlooking the covered porch and, of course, by the handsome fireplace with its attached planter.

But it probably is the house-keeping area, the well planned kitchen with the adjoining laundry-mud room, that will catch the eye of most housewives.

The work area of the kitchen is removed from any traffic passing through.

Also note the extra sink in the laundry — an excellent all-purpose wash room, for kids coming in from play or a husband coming in from the garage work bench, or a wife washing out muddy flower pots.

The storage statistics also are impressive for a house this size. There are eight closets in all, plus extra storage space in the garage and basement.

Attic Fine Room for Boy, but Use Color, Imagination

Mothers who are looking for bedroom space to suit the needs of a growing family might consider the attic.

An attic room decorated by interior designer Michael Greer is intended for a playroom, but the same ideas could be put to use in converting it to a bedroom, particularly for a young boy.

"It should be cheerful, especially if it is to be used as a bedroom," he points out.

Children are braver about color than you'd suspect. They like bold, brilliant primary colors—red, green, blue, yellow, the kind used in first crayons and poster paints.

"When individuals get more sophisticated they think of various values of colors."

A playroom decorated by Greer is in white, bold blue and "very bold terra cotta, a grayer version of a red-red," he says. Those colors are used in the acoustical ceiling tile in a child-charmer "gentle" pattern designed by Greer.

Terraflax companion tile, specified in those colors, was used on the floor with a border of black around it.

The gay tile pattern offset the severity of exposed studs that were painted white and helped cover some of the blemishes on the sloping ceiling.

"I'm not a do-it-yourself enthusiast," explains Greer, "But these ceiling tiles can be put up easily by the homeowner, stapling each tile to the ceiling or applying it with fixative."

Greer is against the do-it-yourself movement because he thinks people waste a lot of money in experimentation and make a lot of expensive mistakes.

When planning a child's room, don't think for today only, he says. It's a waste of time and money.

"One must plan way ahead of the child's age bracket. Many people play down to a child, whereas one should really plan several years in advance," he says.

He suggests that all children's rooms should have good book shelves, a chest for catch-all stuff, table for dining or occasional snacks, good lighting, a comfortable bed and a cheerful wall decoration.

"I like wall posters for young children because they are colorful and can be thrown away when the child grows tired of them and replaced with more sophisticated art."

"Travel posters, circus posters, sports posters all intrigue the child's imagination," he explains.

He doesn't think children should be surrounded with old-fashioned, cast-iron furniture unless it is finished in the gay colors children love.

He prefers to shop the stores for good, old furniture that is inexpensive for children's rooms.

"Even a toy can be an attractive asset in a child's room," he points out. One pine chest he used

Attractive Study Area Can Employ Originality

Although a work area or study-desk corner is virtually a necessity in any home, there is no reason why this functional area cannot be as attractive as any other carefully decorated spot.

The most ordinary-looking desk can be more appealing when surrounded by attractive embellishments, and today's furniture market offers many desk units which conceal their functional nature behind decorative facades.

To give a new look to any study desk, try hanging a wall arrangement over it, rather than the conventional bulletin board bookshelf unit. There are a variety of plaques which would combine imaginatively with their useful planter units for charming over-desk arrangement that includes a touch of real or artificial greenery.

For a home without a real study, you can find a desk unit designed to fit attractively into almost any room—in a wide range of period styles. For example, a charming French provincial secretary could be an attractive note in any period living room.

A dressing-table desk unit which can rest on a two-drawer chest to make a useful and space-saving addition to a bedroom, gives the lady of the house her own personal desk for letter writing or bill paying.

And for the man of the house, a multipurpose unit incorporates a roll-top, plastic-surfaced desk into a contemporary walnut chest, allowing for clothing storage and workspace in one attractive piece.

Why Not a Carport?

If your budget doesn't permit putting up a garage this spring, why not settle for a carport?

If well constructed and planned, it can be converted to a garage in a later step.

Meanwhile, you can offer the family car some shelter and even have a roofed over patio of sorts during the summer.

The carport is native to warmer climates where rain and hot sun are the only considerations.

If you live where there is plenty of snow, plan on a roof that will bear the heavy load.

The carport is generally anchored to one wall of the house.

This wall, a roof and two or more posts on the other side of the roof, are the bare minimum requirements for a carport.

The carport also can be a way of making the transition from a one-car to two-car garage.

In this case one wall of the garage is used for the side of the carport.

When it comes to closing in the structure completely you can use the siding from the old garage wall for the new one.

MEASUREMENTS
A 2 by 4 or 2 by 6 securely anchored to the wall of your house (use spikes or lag bolts with anchors for masonry) will form one support for the roof.

Allow a pitch of about one inch per foot.

The rafters are toenailed to this anchor beam or ledger. Use 2 by 6 or 2x4-inch centers for the rafters.

The outer edges of the rafters should be firmly supported on a 4 by 6 plate fastened to at least two 4 by 4 posts securely mounted on concrete footings that go below the frost line.

Strap iron or an angle iron should be inserted in the concrete before it hardens. Bolt the post to this.

Use wire mesh over the rock and gravel fill.

Sides needn't be left completely open. Fence rails, plywood panels, louvers, even trellises with climbing vines can be used for increased privacy and a little shelter.

Before going ahead with any

Make the carport at least 16 feet long.

BEFORE OR AFTER
It's easier to put in a concrete slab before the carport is finished, but because of it's open construction it can be done after as well.

Free Basement From Boiler

Every once in a while you'll run into him—the man who positively will not have a basement under that new house he is going to build.

He'll cite the arguments against a basement—the expense of excavating and building the wall and the tendency of the basement to become a sort of family catchall for cast-off furniture and just plain junk.

To the antiseptic family it will come as good news that there is no need for a basement with a hydronic (modern forced hot water) heating system.

Not so many years ago it was necessary to have a basement as a place to put the boiler. Because the hot water was circulated by gravity, the boiler had to be at a lower level than the heat distributors.

The perfection of forced circulation of the hot water by means of a small but powerful electric pump changed all that.

Now the boiler can be installed in any convenient place—in the kitchen, in a utility room, in the garage, in a small closet, yes, even in the attic.

Modern trends in boiler design make possible the placement of the boiler in the most convenient place. The latest type of boiler is extremely compact. A boiler large enough to heat a six-room house is hardly larger than a television set.

Along with compactness has come an increase of the modern boiler. Boilers are available in package units for utmost speed in installation.

Prospective builders are advised to seek the advice of an experienced plumbing-heating contractor in everything pertaining to hydronics.

Wondering about the increase of apartment construction? A 20-story apartment building can usually accommodate about 100 families per acre, but a conventional subdivision's acre generally accommodates only six or eight.

Look about you this weekend. Does your eye spot the perfect site for an indoor room divider or an outside terrace? A barbecue grill? A flagstone walk? Do you have a large tree which needs to be protected by a tree well? Or a sloping bank which needs to be shored up by a retaining wall?

With building stone which is now available in pre-cut, pre-packed kits in many colors and varieties, with instructions, with a few simple tools, and a little determination, you can change the appearance and value of your home over the weekend.

Here are 10 do-it-yourself stone fixtures which require only a few hours to build — yet last practically forever.

If you need privacy or would like to block out a view, a stone free-standing wall will often do the job. While stone wall construction is not complicated, it does require the knowledge of a few practical principles.

Education Section of Constitution Draws Praise, Criticism

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixth in a series of articles on Michigan's proposed constitution.)

By GENE SCHROEDER
LANSING (AP) — Michigan's educational system—from the little red schoolhouse to the vast college campus—costs the taxpayers about half-a-billion dollars a year.

Some 40 per cent of all state revenue goes for education. Because of this, virtually every citizen in the state would be affected by the education provisions of the proposed new constitution.

Are they good, bad or indifferent? Republican Alvin Bentley, chairman of the education committee of the constitutional convention, says they provide the state with a unified and strengthened framework for education.

Democrat Adelaide Hart, vice chairman of the committee, says opponents view many of the education features with grave concern.

Both agree that some of the provisions in the revised constitution represents advancements over the present 1960 document.

EXPAND POWERS

These include expansion of the powers of the state board of education into a body which will coordinate education from the kindergarten through the university. Michigan is one of the few states which has yet to set up such a policy-making body for the total educational picture.

Agreements also comes from both sides on the new provision granting constitutional status to all of the colleges and universities supported by the state.

But supporters and opponents come to a parting of the ways on the proposal to give the board of education the responsibility for appointing the superintendent of public instruction, who currently is elected by a vote of the people.

Democrats generally contend the provision will demote the superintendent to a position of executive secretary to the board, while Republicans say the new structure would diffuse his main rule while retaining his responsibility in directing the state education system.

Other points of disagreement center around in the inclusion of the governor as nonvoting member of the board and a provision requiring Senate confirmation of the governor's appointees to college and university boards.

ANALYSIS BY EDUCATORS

In an effort to present a "balanced" viewpoint of the differences between the old and the new constitutions, 31 educators cooperated in a joint analysis of the documents through in inter-university faculty committee on constitutional revision.

The professors—from six Michigan colleges and universities—prepared a set of "position papers" on which there was general agreement among the participants on the conclusions reached, although not every participant subscribed to the individual interpretations.

Discussing the education article, the committee said that the selection of the superintendent by the State Board of Education finds disagreement between some political scientists and educators.

Many political scientists, the committee reported, believe that the superintendent should be appointed by the governor. It added:

"They agree that the schools are an ever-increasing part of the state government and should be integrated by giving the governor the power to appoint the state superintendent."

But educators, the report continued, generally support his selection by the state board, arguing that schools should remain free of partisanship.

"The argument of freedom from partisanship is difficult to support so long as the members of the board are selected on party tickets," the report commented.

"The difficulty of accomplishing statewide elections on any meaningful basis other than party, makes party elections of boards nearly essential.

Both political scientists and educators generally agree that the appointment of the state superintendent under the new constitution is better than election for a two-year term as provided (now).

"They agree it is very difficult for persons who are qualified for the position to become involved in statewide political campaigns."

Discussing the board of education's responsibility for the general planning and coordinating of all public education, the committee paper said "the exact nature of this... function is unknown."

DOUBTFUL SITUATION

The report continued: "It is doubtful whether the board would assume powers under this provision which would lead it to come in serious conflict with the powers given the other boards provided for in the institutions of higher education..."

"The power to coordinate higher education has not been lodged in any constitutional or legal agency in the past."

The committee said the new board might exercise considerable financial leadership by giving advice to the legislature which conflicts with or supports the budgets provided by the institutions themselves.

"An energetic board could accomplish considerable coordination using this influence, provided it gains the confidence of the legislature," the committee declared.

In drawing up language for the education article, the constitutional convention included a new provision which was generally acceptable to all delegates.

Republican and Democratic alike.

It forbids discrimination in public schools as to religion, creed, race, color or national origin.

But other provisions touching on civil rights were not all accepted by unanimous agreement.

Establishment of a civil rights commission, while hailed by some as a step forward, nevertheless was criticized because the proposed constitution fails to specify the jurisdiction of the commission regarding housing, employment and public accommodations.

In discussing civil liberties and civil rights, the interuniversity faculty committee report pointed out that much of the criticism also is directed at a provision which entitles a person aggrieved by the commission to begin the entire proceedings anew before the courts (trial de novo).

SPECULATIVE

"This does make it possible for a hostile judiciary to prevent effective activity by the civil rights commission," the report said.

However, it added, this is purely speculative.

"It is unlikely that a court can treat the clear intent of the proposed constitution to secure equal treatment and opportunity for all as specious or meaningless," the committee declared.

"In addition, this right to a trial de novo applies not only to those commission orders against a person charged with discrimination but also against any refusal of the commission to issue complaints."

"Thus, it can be a two-edged sword."

The educators also took note of objections that have been provisions which permit outside-voiced to the search and seizure the home seizure of narcotics and dangerous weapons without a search warrant.

"This provision has understandably upset a number of civil liberty conscious groups in Michigan," they observed.

In conclusion, the analysis declared:

"The civil liberty and civil rights provisions of the proposed constitution take away no traditional safeguards and strengthen those that exist."

"The search and seizure provisions are regrettable, represent

Sues Railroad in Wife's Death

Mother of Five Killed When Hit by Train

The husband of a Clawson mother of five who was killed on an Avon Township railroad trestle in 1961 is seeking $124,000 in damage suits against the New York Central Railroad.

Joseph P. Stach accused the railroad of negligence in the death of his wife, Regina E., in two suits filed in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Stach was killed instantly as she snatched her youngest son off the tracks on a railroad trestle near Yates Cider Mill. She was hit by an approaching passenger train.

All but Mrs. Stach and her 6-year-old son, Martin, raced clear of the oncoming train. Mrs. Stach was hit when she reached back to grab Martin to hold him away from the tracks.

Stach's suits charge the railroad was negligent because it knew or should have known that the public walked on the track; failed to take necessary precautions in view of this fact; and was traveling at an excessive speed under the circumstances.

The suits also claim the train's speed—estimated by its engineer at 90 miles per hour—was excessive in view of the fact that a sharp curve in the tracks obscured the engineer's view of the trestle and the public's view of oncoming trains.

The damages are sought as compensation for losses and mental suffering of Stach and the children, funeral expenses, and injuries to Martin when he was thrown off the trestle as his mother was killed.

The couple was escorting its children over the trestle to Bloomer State Park No. 2 after purchasing soft drinks at the cider mill on Avon Road.

Ticket 200-Car Freight

ORANGE, Va. (UPI) - The Southern Railway got a traffic ticket yesterday when a 200-car freight train stalled, blocking all three railroad crossings in this small community for nearly two hours.

Seek Answers in France

PARIS (UPI) - Premier Georges Pompidou called in his ministers today to get their views on how to end France's worst labor crisis in five years.

They planned to discuss a report from a special three-man committee set up by the government to study demands for an 11 per cent wage increase by 600,000 striking coal miners.

President Charles de Gaulle delayed this week end in the country to get the report and the ministers' reaction to it.

The miners walked off their jobs in nationalized pits March 1, contending they were paid less than workers in private industry.

QUIT IN SYMPATHY
Gas, electricity, rail, postal, atomic energy and other workers in state-owned enterprises followed up with a series of harassing sympathy strikes in support of the miners.

The government has said that any big wage increase would raise production costs and result in further inflation.

An announcement today indicated that the cost of living last February rose slightly from the month before.

Joan Crawford Denies Love With Rocky

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Actress Joan Crawford denied Friday night that she plans to marry New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"How can you be engaged to a man who's never asked you for a date?" she quipped when asked about the reported engagement, while here to accept an award from the Philadelphia Women's Advertising League.

"There's nothing to it. I'm as embarrassed about this as I'm sure he - Rockefeller - is."

A Washington columnist had reported earlier this week that Miss Crawford and Rockefeller planned to marry.

Rockefeller has made no comment on the report.

Koreans Face Courts-martial

Government Junta Gets Demonstrators

SEOUL (UPI) - Eighty-six of the 109 persons arrested here yesterday for demonstrating against South Korea's military junta government will be court-martialed on unspecified charges, police said today.

The other 23 demonstrators arrested here were released, but a score of demonstrators are believed to be in custody in other Korean cities, including five arrested in Taegu today.

It was not certain immediately what would be done with demonstrators arrested outside Seoul.

Gen. Park Chung Hee's junta, ignoring demands of opposition politicians, was going ahead with its plan to hold a referendum in which the people would be asked to approve its continuance in power.

Former students who led the uprising which overthrew President Syngman Rhee in 1960 threatened to rebel again unless Park abandoned the referendum plan.

Political observers said, however, that it is doubtful whether the former rebels have enough influence over the present generation of university students to command much of a following.

The two parties joined in an appeal published in the Communist newspaper "Humanite."

Both parties backed the Russian line on Berlin calling for a German peace treaty and for a nonaggression pact between NATO and Eastern bloc countries.

French-Bonn Pact Rejection Urged

PARIS (UPI) - French and German Communists today urged rejection of the French-German cooperation treaty signed by President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer last January.

The two parties joined in an appeal published in the Communist newspaper "Humanite."

Both parties backed the Russian line on Berlin calling for a German peace treaty and for a nonaggression pact between NATO and Eastern bloc countries.

Say Rebels Killed 130 Castro Men

MIAMI (UPI) - Anti-Castro rebels ambushed a militia unit in Las Villas Province, Cuba, last week and killed 130 men, according to a Cuban refugee who arrived here from Havana yesterday.

The rebels lost 36 men in the engagement which occurred March 12 in the city of Sancti Spiritus, said the refugee, who declined to permit use of his name. The government losses were roughly four men for every anti-Communist guerrilla killed, he said.

He arrived here with 95 other Cuban-Americans on a Pan American DC8B which had carried 12,000 pounds of ransom supplies to Havana. Reports of increasing rebel strength and activity were confirmed by other refugees in the group.

There were 32 U.S. citizens - some of them Puerto Ricans - among the passengers who comprised 24 men, 41 women and 31 children.

Their arrival brought to more than 1,000 the number of Cuban refugees who have fled since Jan. 13 on planes that have ferried supplies bartered to the Castro regime for the release of 1,113 Cuban Bay of Pigs prisoners.

Also on yesterday's flight was the out-going Israeli minister to Cuba, Jonathan Prato, and his wife.

He declined to talk about conditions in Cuba but said there was "no significance" to his departure from Havana and that he would be succeeded by another Israeli diplomat.

Plane Carrying 3 Lands Safely Without Wheels

DETROIT (UPI) - Three persons escaped injury early today when a private plane made a wheels-up, emergency landing at Detroit City Airport.

The plane, which was en route from Toledo to Detroit, circled the airport for more than three hours to expend fuel before attempting the landing.

The landing gear mechanism failed and the pilot was unable to lower the wheels of the Piper Comanche.

Airport officials said pilot Warren Bess Jr., 24, of Detroit, made a "good landing on the runway and skidded to a stop."

Bess suffered burns of his hands when he tried to repair the wires that control the landing gear prior to the landing.

Chinese Build-Up Charged by Nehru

NEW DELHI (UPI) - Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today Red China has moved in fresh troops along the 2,000-mile border between India and Tibet.

He warned the lower house of Parliament that China may be considering "further armed action at a time of its own choosing."

"During the past fortnight or so Chinese notes (to India) have become sharp and provocative, some actually scurrilous," Nehru said.

He told the house that Communist China's Defense Ministry recently issued a statement reserving the right to act "in self defense."

The prime minister said he thought the phrase might be used to justify a renewed assault in against India.

DISPUTED BORDER YEARS
The border between India and China has been in dispute for years. Last fall, Peking launched a sudden "human wave" assault that drove down deep into territory India considers its own.

China then proposed that both sides withdraw 12.5 miles from the "line of actual control" while both governments tried to negotiate the dispute.

New Delhi officially rejected any proposal to leave Chinese troops in control of Indian territory, but a de facto cease fire has existed ever since.

Nehru said the Chinese pulled back 12.5 miles but "their concentration beyond this narrow strip continues unchanged." The prime minister called the concentration "heavy."

Nehru also said the Red Chinese, aided by Tibetan villagers, have been building up roads leading to India's northern border.

The Indian prime minister said he had a good idea of the strength of the Communist air force and its deployment. He said, however, he "would not share this knowledge with house members."

URGES ADHERENCE
Nehru urged Red China to abide by proposals for settling the dispute outlined by neutral nations at the Colombo (Ceylon) conference.

He told the house India would stand firm in its attitude toward the proposals.

The Chinese attack last fall brought swift military aid to India from the West.

Employees Out, Back
They had been dismissed Thursday afternoon because the walls were cracking up.

The first incident came Wednesday, when a wooden lintel on a window arch crashed to the floor near Mrs. Charles Summerfield, a machine operator in the publications division.

Then cracks began appearing on the walls. Some grew as fast as one foot in a half hour. One attained a length of 15 feet.

At that point, Dr. Ferris Crawford let the workers go home for a day.

They were back at their desks yesterday, measured by engineers that there was no danger.

A building engineer, Richard Wright, said after inspecting the building "the only danger is in terms of morale."

Wright explained that the building - constructed around 1926 - is a timber-framed structure, and when plings shift, cracks appear in the brittle masonry.

The state leases the building from the Lansing Board of Water and Light. It was once used as a showroom for the Reo Motor Car Co.'s "Flying Cloud" line.

Reflections
Before the dust had settled over the avalanche that trapped Reinhardt, Peru, our Red Cross was functioning.

Red Cross doesn't need prodding; it's on the way before prodders get started. During 1961 thousands of seriously ill people received transfusions; 90% of that blood came from our Red Cross Blood Bank.

It gives one glowing pride to know Red Cross comes to the aid of everyone, anyone, anywhere, at the moment we hear of disaster. Communism as a political philosophy that our people overflows when we read of a Russian Scientist who asked our Red Cross for a drug unavailable in Russia; it was flown by jet plane to his life - and that's the ultimate objective of our Red Cross.

"In nothing do men more nearly approach the gods than in doing good to their fellow-men." Cicero. What finer, more noble way to reach that ideal than to contribute to our Red Cross!

To help a neighbor please have your check ready when he, or she, comes to call.

SPADEA DESIGNER PATTERN

N-1205

Definitely for the "on-the-go" set whether it's headed for town, travel or an afternoon at the club—all well within the realm of this delightful dress designed in two chic parts by Mollie Parnis. The brief, slender, body-skimming over blouse is sliced to slender proportions by a neat solid center channel below the bodice, collarless neckline. Midway to its tip-of-the-hip hem, a sassy bit of how undersides the dress. Seamless sides and a lightly gathered front panel which opens into pockets account for the flattering slim-but-easy silhouette that skirts this winning combination. To satisfy your first longings for spring, choose sheer wool, grainy textured silk or double knit, then make it, again in a summer-silk, cotton or linen. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

| Size   | 34 | 36 | 38 | 40 | 42 | 44 | 46 | 48 | 50 |
|--------|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|----|
| Bust   | 34 | 36 | 38 | 40 | 42 | 44 | 46 | 48 | 50 |
| Waist  | 28 | 30 | 32 | 34 | 36 | 38 | 40 | 42 | 44 |
| Hips   | 36 | 38 | 40 | 42 | 44 | 46 | 48 | 50 | 52 |
| Length | 36 | 38 | 40 | 42 | 44 | 46 | 48 | 50 | 52 |

Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yds. of 42" fabric for two piece dress. To order Pattern No. N-1205, state size, send $1.00; add 25c for first class mail and special handling. Pattern Book No. 20, 21, 22, No. 43 and Dances of Winders are available for 50c each OR any 3 for $1.25 OR all 5 for $2.00.

Address SPADEA, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P, New York double knit, then make it, again in a summer-silk, cotton or linen.

SEARCHERS AT WORK — Three policemen slowly, methodically cover part of a Bloomfield Township subdivision north of Walnut Lake Road, between Franklin and Inkster roads. They are part of a 50-man search party which combed the area for a missing township boy today. The 12-year-old wandered away from his home early yesterday. A half-dozen area police and fire departments joined in the search, aided by state police planes and a Navy helicopter.

Copter Joins Search

Hunt Missing Boy, 12

A helicopter was being flown in from Grosse Ile Naval Air Station this morning to help police in searching for a 12-year-old mentally retarded boy missing in Bloomfield Township since early yesterday.

The boy was identified by police as Robert Grinnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Grinnan of 5515 Pebblebrook Road.

Bloomfield Township police, Oakland County sheriff's deputies, state police and volunteers from surrounding communities resumed their search at daybreak.

His mother told police the boy went out to play near his home at about 9 a.m. yesterday.

When she couldn't locate him about an hour later, she called police.

CANNOT TALK

Police said the boy cannot talk, but answers to the name of "Bobby." He is 4 feet 11 inches tall, weighs about 100 pounds, has blond hair and blue eyes.

He was wearing a maroon jacket with a fur collar, gray cordary pants, a black cloth cap and black four-buckle boots.

Some 50 policemen and volunteer firemen joined in the search this morning.

Police chief Norman Dehke said he expects up to 100 men in the search party tonight if the boy isn't located by then.

Yesterday's searchers combed vacant fields in the fashionable neighborhood near Quanton and Franklin roads, with the aid of two private planes.

"Today we'll cover the whole area. If we can't find him on land, we'll start on lakes, ponds and streams in the Bloomfield area," Dehke said.

The boy's parents said he had never wandered away before. His father told police that the boy "loved to eat and never missed a meal."

Argentine Official Quits Over Election Decision

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Treasury Secretary Horacio Garcia Belsunce resigned last night in protest against the government's decision to allow supporters of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron to participate in the election scheduled June 23.

Garcia told newsmen he "resigned verbally" at a meeting with President Jose M. Guido. He said he would submit a formal resignation today.

Army to Buy About 85,000 Disputed Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to buy about 85,000 of a controversial new small-bore rifle for use by its paratroopers and antiguerrilla fighters, it was learned today.

Army experts are sharply divided on the merits of the AR15, a lightweight, high-velocity weapon tested under conditions ranging from the jungles of South Vietnam to the Arctic.

Backers praise the 6.9 pound AR15 chiefly for its lightness—three pounds less than the standard M14 infantry rifle—and its ease of handling.

Some Army officers skeptical of the ArmaLite's worth note its maximum effective range is 300 yards compared with 500-600 yards for the M14.

But other officers who defend the weapon argue its high velocity—about 400 feet a second faster than the M14—makes its bullet an adequate killer.

Seek to Stem Typhoid Fever

Swiss, U.S. Officials Search for Carriers

By United Press International Health authorities in the United States and Switzerland tried today to stem the spread of typhoid fever by isolating suspected victims and searching for more possible carriers of the sometimes fatal disease.

Swiss medical officers prepared to move 35 suspected typhoid cases from a temporary hospital in the Alpine village of Zermatt to facilities in the valley below.

This was the first step in eradicating an epidemic in the town which already has affected more than 100 persons. The moving operation, should be over by tomorrow, when the task begins of testing blood samples from about 3,000 villagers and foreign workers in Zermatt.

The New York City Health Department said one young woman was hospitalized at the Cornell University Medical Center with typhoid fever apparently contracted in Zermatt.

"RECUPEPERATING" A spokesman at New York Hospital, a part of the center, said the victim "is recuperating nicely."

No Headway Made in Talks on ADC-U Bill

Celebrezze, Romney Dispute Definition of Unemployed Category

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's Gov. George Romney apparently made no headway yesterday in his attempt to convince Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze that a Michigan bill to provide federal aid to dependent children of the unemployed conforms to federal standards.

Romney and three aides spent 45 minutes with Celebrezze. They returned to Michigan armed with a promise that by Tuesday they would have a memorandum setting forth the legal basis upon which Celebrezze has disapproved Michigan's ADC-U bill.

"I did not get an adequate indication of the legal basis at this session," Romney told reporters. "I think there is no chance of getting a revised ADC-U passed by the legislature."

Romney insisted that "as far as we know, the statute is clear on this point that the states shall establish eligibility under this program and in the words as defined by the state."

"The one point concerned," Romney said, "is the question of the right of the state to make the definition of unemployed and whether or not the department has authority to pass on this definition."

During Romney's visit to the capitol, the governor said he conferred with nine Michigan House Republicans, Sens. Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrats, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

After the meeting, McNamara and Hart issued a joint statement saying Romney had "explained the legislative position he has adopted on behalf of the state government... however, we feel it is unfortunate that the act passed by the State Legislature would exclude the children of at least 10,000 families who otherwise could be covered by the federal program except for this arbitrary action."

Coma Continues Boxer Fights Odds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former featherweight champion Davey Moore battled long odds today in his fight to survive brain damage, California's Governor Edmund G. Brown meanwhile called for abolishment of professional boxing in this state.

A team of consulting physicians indicated little hope for Moore, who lost his 126-pound division title Thursday night and lapsed into a coma an hour after losing by a knockout to Sugar Ramos of Mexico City.

"His prognosis is poor," the physicians reported Friday night after examining the unconscious boxer. "He still fails to respond to painful stimuli and is in a deep coma."

Moore suffered severe lacerations in the brain stem area at the lower base of his skull. Although the physicians did not estimate odds on recovery, a spokesman at White Memorial Hospital said a condition of "fair" would have given Davey only a 50-50 chance.

BRUTAL SPORT

In Sacramento, Brown declared: "The Davey Moore fight is one more illustration that boxing is a brutal sport even under ideal conditions — if it can be called a sport."

He said he would ask the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in 1964 to outlaw boxing in California. The state constitution specifies a vote is required to abolish professional boxing and wrestling.

Brown said he will meanwhile appoint an emergency committee to survey boxing safety measures that now exist and recommend new provisions until the people act.

The 26-year-old Moore, of Columbus, Ohio, father of five children ranging in age from 2 to 11, was knocked down twice in the 10th round by the 21-year-old Ramos in their scheduled 15-rounder at Dodger Stadium.

As the round ended, Davey was helpless over a rope and his manager, Willie Ketchum, called a halt despite Moore's protestations that he was all right.

He said it stems from a combination of the revolution in agriculture, the flood of postwar babies reaching job-seeking age, and labor-saving automation.

Boiler Explosion in Store Takes 3 Lives, Hurts 71

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A bomb-like boiler explosion blew a gaping hole in a downtown store yesterday, leaving three persons dead in a maze of rubble and at least 71 injured.

The blast from the 6-foot-high boiler in the basement of J. C. Penney's wrecked a drugstore on the building's main floor and scattered glass and wreckage in the main intersection of this city of 200,000.

City Manager A. P. Hamann said police questioned Ricardo Mello, 27, the boiler maintenance man who was laid off his job less than five hours before the explosion.

Officials would not elaborate on the interrogation.

Another partial mystery was a telephone call reporting boiler trouble minutes before it blew up. The call sent a fire truck to the scene—it arrived one minute after the blast.

The dead were hurled into the pile of wreckage in Penney's basement and into four feet of water which gushed from broken pipes and sprinklers.

FATALITIES

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Marie Straight, 55, Campbell, Calif., a clerk in Penney's yardage department, adjacent to the boiler room; Mrs. Florence Caballero, 45, San Jose, and Vernon B. Hinton, 41, San Jose, both customers.

Nine of the injured were reported in serious or critical condition.

Fire Chief Ronald Lebeau estimated damage at 4:49 p.m. the height of the rush hour. About 50 persons were in the drug store.

"The force of the explosion came up through the floor," said Sylvia Christie, a waitress at the Thrifty Lunch Counter in the rear of the store which bore the brunt of the blast.

"It was like an earthquake—just one long rumble. The blast picked up a man who was sitting at the counter and hurled him over the counter beside me."

"There were people lying on debris all over the store, screaming for help."

Economic Stall Would Raise Unemployment

Gives Gloomy Outlook During Speech After Dedication of O'Hare

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy said today that even without a recession the unemployment rate will climb "steadily and swiftly" to 7 per cent "unless we step up our rate of growth."

Kennedy spoke of this disturbing prospect in a speech for a civic luncheon to follow his dedication of O'Hare International Airport—the world's busiest airfield.

In talking bluntly about the darkening unemployment outlook, Kennedy appealed for approval of his proposed three-year tax cut of $10.3 billion—the first and most necessary step, he said, toward solving the employment problem.

Kennedy said his administration's "No. 1 domestic concern" is jobs "for the tidal wave of men and women now flooding our labor market."

He said it stems from a combination of the revolution in agriculture, the flood of postwar babies reaching job-seeking age, and labor-saving automation.

"Unless we step up our rate of growth—unless we create a supply of jobs that is more equal to the demand—our rate of unemployment will steadily and swiftly climb to the recession level of 7 per cent, even without a recession," he said.

A jobless rate of 7 per cent would compare with the February level of 6.1 per cent, the highest in more than a year.

U.S. AIR LEADERSHIP

In another talk, for dedication ceremonies at the sprawling airport which last year handled 13.5 million travelers, Kennedy said the United States "intends to be a leader in the supersonic age" and develop airplanes that will travel three times the speed of sound.

Once that is accomplished, he said, it will be a smaller world.

"Let us also see to it that it is a better world," he said. "A more just and peaceful world, a more promising world for our children and for their children after them."

In his luncheon address, Kennedy spotlighted just one of the obstacles, unemployment, to be overcome in creating a more promising world.

LOST WORK DAYS

The President noted, for example, that unemployed Americans last year lost one billion work days—"equivalent to shutting down the entire country with no production, no services, and no pay for over three weeks."

While saying "this nation can do better than that," he emphasized the ominous possibility (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)
