OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

1,000 YEARS OF POLISH CULTURE ON DISPLAY

An art exhibit depicting more than 1,000 years of Polish cultural history is on display at Oakland University. The public is invited at no charge.

The February 17-April 2 exhibit is sponsored by the OU area studies program and the university's Kresge Library with the assistance of Mitchell and Zofia Kafarski of Bloomfield Hills.

Zofia Kafarski arranged and directed the exhibit that includes books, world-famous posters, art pieces, 16mm films, and narrated slide presentations. Most of the materials are being supplied by the Polish government. Most of the artifacts are from the personal collection of the Kafarskis or from the Polish government. Several Polish-American artists will participate.

The formal opening of the exhibit was held February 23 in the Oakland Center. Attending were the Honorable Wojciech Jaskot, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the Polish People's Republic; the Polish cultural attache; members of the area Polish-American community; and OU students, faculty, and staff.

The exhibit will be on display in the Art Lounge of the Oakland Center from February 20 through February 28. It will be moved to the main entry of the Kresge Library and shown there from March 8 through April 2. Oakland Center exhibit hours are 8 a.m. to 11:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday; and 2-11:30 p.m. on Sunday.

$100,000 GRANT TO FUND STUDENT INTERNSHIPS

Oakland University has received a $100,000 grant from Oakland County to support a student internship program in county government.

Participants must be of junior, senior, or graduate level status at OU and be permanent residents of Oakland County.

Some 30 students are being interviewed and placed for the winter semester explains Harvey Hohauser of the OU Urban Affairs Center. Hohauser is program manager for the internship project.

Placements are available in the county's personnel department, public information office, manpower department, law library, management and budget office, and the planning and physical development department, among others.

The student interns will work 20 hours a week and attend regular OU classes. The pay rate is $2.98 an hour for juniors and seniors and $3.75 an hour for graduate students.

Information can be obtained by calling the OU Urban Affairs Center at 377-3211.

ROCHESTER, MICHIGAN

OU BOARD MEETING

The next board meeting of the Oakland University Board of Trustees will be on Wednesday, February 25, at 8 p.m. in Lounge II, OC.

LAST CHANCE FOR TEXTS

The Bookcenter will begin processing unsold winter term textbooks for return to publishers on March 8.

We ask that students plan accordingly and that they purchase the texts and materials they still need for the winter term before the March 8 return date.

OU SENATE MEETS THURSDAY

There will be a meeting of the Oakland University Senate on Thursday, February 26, at 3:30 p.m. in rooms 128-130 Oakland Center. The agenda will be concerned with second readings on motions from the Academic Policy Committee and the Academic Budget and Planning Committee.

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE TODAY

A conference on "Youth Employment" is being conducted at Oakland University today, February 24, in the Oakland Center.

The day-long program is co-sponsored by the Oakland County Youth Assistance Office, the university's Human Resources and Development Area and Manpower Institutional Grant.

John Conyers, Jr., U.S. Congressperson, Detroit, will keynote the program. Topics to be explored throughout the day include youth rights, occupational trends, and career-development programs. The closing session will be a panel discussion on how to start and maintain a local youth employment service.

SCOVIL TO SPEAK ON JOB SEEKING

On Wednesday, February 25, the Association for Childhood Education will sponsor a brown-bag luncheon in Gold Room C from 12 noon-1 p.m. (Bring your own lunch; coffee is free.) John Scovil from the Career Advising Office will speak to education majors about resumes, job interviews, the job market, and how to start a file in the Career Advising Office. He will also spend some time discussing out-of-state jobs, where to look for them, how to apply for them, and what the requirements are.

While the talk will be directed towards students seeking jobs in the education field, any information presented is likely to be applicable to any and all students. Everyone is welcome. Please come and bring a friend.

DAVID MAGUIRE TO LECTURE ON THURSDAY

The president of one of the nation's most widely publicized experimental colleges will present a free public lecture at Oakland University on Thursday, February 26, on "The Future of Undergraduate Public Education."

The speaker will be David Maguire of the State University of New York College at Old Westbury. The 1 p.m. talk is in the Sunset Room of the Oakland Center.

Maguire, a graduate of Yale University Divinity School, is a specialist in modern religious thought. Long active in the Civil Rights Movement, Maguire was one of the original "freedom riders" in 1961 in Montgomery, Alabama, and he is a permanent trustee of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Social Change in Atlanta, Georgia.

LYONS AT LIBRARY MEETING

Thomas Lyons was a presenter at the recent MAME II Fall Conference held at Boyne Mountain. The meeting, "Media Aide--Replacement or Co-Worker?" examined the specific roles of professionals and para-professionals in libraries and media centers. The more than 800 conference registrants represented a cross section of the library/media profession--school library/media specialists, library educators, instructional technologists, and administrators at school district, county, and REMC levels.

McMASTER SELECTED BY COUNCIL

Maureen McMaster, freshman, has been selected corresponding secretary of Area Hall Council. She was appointed by council president, James A. Cummer, on December 9 in accordance with the AHC constitution and was ratified at the February 3 meeting by the general body of the council. She will serve for the remainder of the 1976 winter term.

Area Hall Council is the student governing body of the OU residence halls.

MICHAUD PUBLISHES ARTICLE

Paul Michaud, history, has published an article entitled "The Bureaucrat" in Varieties of Man and Society: Social Science Reader, edited by Alfred Feinstein. Michaud's article, adapted from a lecture delivered at Wayne State University, traces historical developments which led to the emergence of the bureaucratic-planning system and discusses aspects of the bureaucrat's self-definition and relations with other persons, using an ideal-type mode of analysis.

'ROLLING STONES' EXAMINED IN ARTICLE

James Graham and Roy Kotynek, history, have contributed an article to Thomas J. Volgy's anthology, Exploring Relationships Between Mass Media and Political Culture: The Impact of Music and Television on American Society (Tucson: Institute of Government Research, 1975). Their contribution, "Dialectics of Alienation in Contemporary Pop Culture: The Rolling Stones," grows out of their mutual interest in the relationship between contemporary history and general studies, which they are exploring with other faculty in New-Charter College. This article constitutes the first in a collection of essays on which Graham and Kotynek are collaborating toward teaching and writing about "Media and Consciousness: Redefining the Sixties."

ENGINEERING LECTURE BY TORONTO PROF

Prof. W. Murray Wonham will give the next Sigma Xi seminar on Thursday, February 26, at 5 p.m. in room 203 in Dodge Hall of Engineering. The title of his talk is "The Internal Model Principle of Control Theory." All are welcome. The talk will be mathematical in nature and will deal with the basic question that feedback regulators (control systems) must in some sense incorporate the model of the dynamic system they are controlling. He will also propose a "categorical" version of these ideas in the spirit of general systems theory.

Wonham is a nationally recognized expert on control theory and has won several prizes for his research papers. He has held teaching and research positions with Purdue University, the Research Institute for Advanced Studies (RIAS), Brown University, and NASA.

PAPERS READ BY J. HAROLD ELLENS

J. Harold Ellens, speech communication, has read the following professional papers recently: "Humanization of Man in the Antique World," Philosophy Club, OU, January 6; "Psychological Processes and Christian Experience in Psychotherapy," Institute of Religion and Mental Health Annual Convention, Atlanta, Ga., January 24-26; and "The Concept of Man in Western Rhetoric From Paul to the Present," Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, Grand Rapids, February 1 and 21. He will read "Anthropology and Psychotherapy: A Correlation of Models" to the Christian Association for Psychological Studies, Washington, D.C., on February 28.

PIRGIM SPONSORING SEI AT OU

PIRGIM, the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan, is sponsoring the state-wide Safe Energy Initiative (SEI) on the OU campus.

By getting eight percent of the voters in Michigan to sign a petition, the SEI will give voters the opportunity to decide on the November ballot whether the state will have safety standards for nuclear power plants.

There will be a meeting on Thursday, February 26, in room 126-127 of the Oakland Center to discuss this. The meeting is open to the public. For additional information, call the PIRGIM office, 377-3041, 377-3769, or 377-3743.

HESS JOINS ED. BOARD

Allen K. Hess, psychology, has accepted an invitation to join the editorial board of Criminal Justice and Behavior, the journal of the American Association of Correctional Psychologists.

Criminal Justice and Behavior is an international journal examining the behavioral, psychological, and interactional foundations of people in the criminal justice system.
