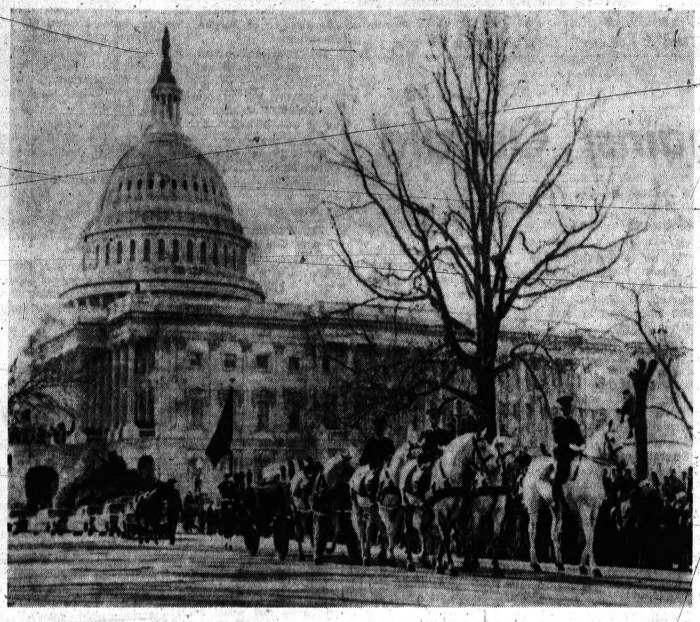
Nation Weeps as John Kennedy Is Borne on His Final Journey



CASKET LEAVES CAPITOL — A horse-drawn caisson carrying the flag-draped casket of the late President John F. Kennedy moves out of the Capitol today en route to St. Matthews Cathedral for funeral services.

Wife Leads Mourners

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sorrowing nation—and statesmen from around the globe—said farewell to the martyred 35th President today and commended to God the soul "of Thy servant John."

Hundreds of thousands, many of them weeping, watched as Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widowed so young, followed the caisson, part of the way on foot.

Bravely she walked, between Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on her right and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on her left. A black veil covered her face and draped her shoulders.

At the great stone steps of St. Matthew's Cathedral—scene of the Requiem Mass, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston awaited her, his tall mitre shining in the crisp autumn air.

By then, Jacqueline Kennedy had beside her her two small children, Caroline and John, dressed in blue, who had ridden to the great church. The cardinal leaned over and laid his hands on their shoulders, as if in blessing.

A few ranks behind Mrs. Kennedy strode one of the greatest assemblages of world statesmen ever seen — they came from 53 countries and included 26 heads of state or government.

Towering above them all was the figure of President Charles de Gaulle of France, in his olive drab uniform.

Quietly, behind Mrs. Kennedy, the great from abroad filed into the cathedral. There was Prince Philip, of Britain, husband of Queen Elizabeth; Queen Frederika of Greece; and all the many others who had come from thousands of miles.

Some wore red fezzes, some Africans wore maroon capes. Officers of other nations were girded by brightly colored sashes.

Behind them came the U. S. Supreme Court, the Cabinet, federal officials, White House staff men.

★ ★ ★

And far back behind the last rank of male dignitaries walked Mrs. Peter Lawford, a sister of the late President.

USHER LEADS

An usher spotted her in the rear and took her by the arm to bring her to the cathedral.

Just before the flag-covered casket was carried into the cathedral a band played "Hail to the Chief." Then, softly on the autumn air came the strains of hymns.

And, during the slow, final journey, the sound of bagpipes was heard — from the Black Watch pipers who were among the dead President's musical favorites.

The cortege had moved from the Capitol, where Kennedy's body lay in state this weekend, to the White House. Mrs. Kennedy and members of the family had ridden in limousines on this trip.

★ ★ ★

After a brief halt at the White House, the cortege moved on to the cathedral with the mourners walking.

THOUSANDS SEEN

Thousands lined the streets through all areas.

For the most part it was a silent crowd, a crowd of bowed heads and tears.

But at one point, as the caisson turned the corner by the Treasury Building, a woman broke into a high pitched wail, "President Kennedy is gone. Oh Lord, Lord." She kept up her cry but the words trailed off and soon were indistinguishable.

When Mrs. Kennedy stepped out of the limousine at the White House, she stood still for a moment, listening to a hymn sung by the Naval Academy Choir.

AT HEAD OF LINE

Then she turned and set out at the head of the procession of walking mourners.

For the fallen President, the funeral service was the same as funeral rites accorded to the humblest in the Roman Catholic Church.

The service contains prayers

TV Records Death

Accused Killer Slain

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Lee Harvey Oswald is dead, slain by a self-appointed executioner who undertook swift, savage reprisal for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Oswald's killer, Jack Ruby, 52, stepped out of a crowd of 200 in the basement of the Dallas City Hall yesterday and put a single pistol bullet into Oswald's side.

"It's too good for him!" someone shouted after the 24-year-old self-styled Communist dropped in his tracks, a single cry of anguish escaping his lips. Police quickly overwhelmed and disarmed Ruby.

It was an incredible climax to the wildest weekend in Dallas history—a savage, sudden moment of raw drama that was caught by national television networks and broadcast with shocking impact into American living rooms.

"He took Kennedy's death much harder than that of our 88-year-old father five years ago," said Ruby's older sister, Eva Grant. "He couldn't eat Friday. He kept talking about Jackie and the Kennedy kids."

Oswald had been formally accused of the sniper assassination of Kennedy last Friday as the President rode beaming beside his wife, Jacqueline Kennedy, in a triumphal motorcade through downtown Dallas.

GOVERNOR, TOO

Also wounded in the shooting was Texas Gov. John Connally, who is recovering. Later, authorities said, Oswald shot to death a Dallas policeman, J. D. Tippit, who—wittingly or otherwise — interrupted his getaway flight.

The first reaction of Dallas police to Oswald's murder was to mark the assassination case closed, and concentrate on trying to convict Ruby.

But federal officials felt otherwise. President Johnson ordered a full government probe of Oswald's slaying, and the FBI proposed further investigation into the presidential assassination with the hope of eventually giving the American people the full story. Later, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade listed what he said was a complete summary of the evidence against Oswald.

★ ★ ★

A wild tumult broke out immediately after the shooting of Oswald in the basement of City Hall. But it was nothing compared to the public uproar over the slaying.

Pontiac Offers Day of Tribute

Most Places Close for Prayers, Rites

A city closed its doors and opened its hearts today for the late John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

All area schools were closed all day.

Most churches were open all day for those who wanted to pray and some held special prayer and memorial services.

Moments before noon, a squad from Pontiac's National Guard unit marched up Saginaw to the Civil War monument at Oakland and Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

People began to gather along the sidewalks and in store windows watching the six guardsmen stand at attention facing the northeast.

GAVE ORDER

At the stroke of noon, Sgt. Glen Simpson gave the order. The men aimed to the sky; a drum rolled.

"Fire," he shouted and the first volley snapped through the crisp November air.

With that shot, the doors of business places along Saginaw closed and the doors of First

A Tearful Mrs. Kennedy Pays 2nd Visit to Casket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy went back for a second look at her husband's casket in the Capitol Rotunda and pleading, "Let me walk, let me walk," mingled with crowds that mourned the slain President.

The 34-year-old widow of President Kennedy seemed reluctant to leave his casket.

With her two children, she had come in a funeral procession yesterday to leave the President's body to lie in state in the Capitol for public viewing by many thousands.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kennedy, with her daughter Caroline beside her, had knelt and kissed the casket before she departed about 2:30 p.m.

RETURNS AGAIN

Unexpectedly, she was back about 9 o'clock last night on the arm of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as long lines of people waited to pass the President's bier.

She walked slowly by the ropes which kept the public from the casket area and once again knelt and kissed the coffin.

Until she had left it at the Capitol, Mrs. Kennedy had remained near her husband's body since he was slain in Dallas Friday afternoon.

On her sudden nighttime reappearance, the slow - moving crowd came to a halt.

TEAR-STAINED FACE

When Mrs. Kennedy rose, she turned her tear-stained face and looked for a long moment at the faces of those who came to pay their respects to her late husband.

As she and the attorney general left, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to look searchingly at the faces of the incoming throng.

"Let me walk, let me walk," she said as they descended the Capitol steps.

★ ★ ★

At first Mrs. Kennedy went unrecognized, but soon she was discovered and some followed after her party of police and Secret Service agents.

At one point, Mrs. Kennedy paused to speak to a group of Roman Catholic nuns. They offered sympathy.

Finally when the crowd about her grew, a limousine pulled up and took Mrs. Ken-

LBJ on Own as President

Was With Kennedy to the End of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson traveled the last miles with John F. Kennedy today—and then planned to set his own course in meetings with a massive array of world statesmen.

Everyone watched for clues as to how Johnson would get along with President Charles de Gaulle of France. De Gaulle differed from Kennedy on such great questions as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the European Common Market, and the French government's insistence on its own nuclear force.

★ ★ ★

Whether Johnson, noted as a master persuader when he was the Democratic leader of the Senate, would get together with de Gaulle on an in-depth discussion of world affairs was not yet certain.

First came the sad task of accompanying the martyred President Kennedy's body to the grave. Part of the journey was to be afoot, from the White House to St. Matthews Cathedral for the Requiem Mass, then by car to Arlington National Cemetery, for a hero's burial.

RECEIVES DIGNITARIES

After the funeral, Mrs. Kennedy arranged to receive the foreign dignitaries at the White House. Then Johnson plunges into his first round of personal diplomacy as president.

He scheduled a 90-minute reception—5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. — for the more than 100 foreign dignitaries who journeyed to Washington to pay their respects to the late President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The social gathering in the State Department's diplomatic reception rooms gives the new President little opportunity for more than a passing contact with foreign leaders with whom he will have more dealings later.

Today's emphasis, however, was on mourning, not international affairs.

TIME LIMITED

Efforts were under way to squeeze in some further appointments with some of the leaders though the time was limited.

De Gaulle, for instance, was expected to head back to Paris tonight.

★ ★ ★

In these swift moving days Johnson has had to work business in between the hours of mourning.

Trash Pickup on New Time

This week is going to present a problem to both city rubbish collection crews and homeowners trying to figure out what day their pickup will be.

City employes did not work today due to the death of President John F. Kennedy. They will not work Thursday because it is Thanksgiving.

The Thanksgiving holiday would normally move the current schedule for pickup to one day later in each individual neighborhood.

Here's what will happen this week, according to Clyde Christian, department of public works superintendent.

Areas where curbside rubbish-garbage collection was scheduled today, will be collected tomorrow.

Areas that have Tuesday pickup, will be collected on Wednesday, and Wednesday collections will be moved to Friday.

"We will work on Saturday this week only," Christian said. "Areas that have a Thursday pickup should put their trash out for pickup Saturday this week only."

Beginning next Monday, the trash pickup schedule will continue on a one-day-later basis until Christmas.

In other words, those who've had Friday pickup will have a Monday pickup each week, Monday will move to Tuesday, and so on.

'Case Solid Against Oswald'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"This is it—I've sent men to the electric chair on less evidence than we have against Lee Harvey Oswald."

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade made the claim as he revealed the evidence which convinced Dallas officers they had an air-tight case against the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"There is no doubt in my mind that Oswald was the killer," Wade said.

Nine hours before Wade spoke to newsmen Sunday night, Oswald, 24, was fatally shot by Jack Ruby, owner of a Dallas lounge. The shooting occurred in the police headquarters basement in front of hundreds of police, Secret Service, FBI men and newsmen, as Oswald was being escorted to an armored car for transportation to new jail quarters.

FIND MAP

Not long after Wade finished describing what he said was all the evidence against Oswald, the Dallas Morning News said in a copyright story that officers had found a map in Oswald's room which marked the path of the bullets which killed Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally Friday afternoon. Wade had made no mention of this.

The newspaper said the map outlined Kennedy's motorcade route, and a line was drawn from the Texas School Book Depository Building to Elm Street, where the President and Connally were shot.

★ ★ ★

Police officers available said they knew nothing of any map. In Washington, the Secret Service and FBI had no comment.

Wade said two facts stood high in the mass of evidence linking the slim, brown-haired Oswald to the slaying.

PALM PRINT

First, a palm print on the underside of the rifle which fired the bullets that killed Kennedy was identified as Oswald's.

Secondly, Wade said, Oswald had definitely been placed inside the building at the time the shots were fired from there at Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"The gun was here, his prints were on the gun, the gun was the gun that killed Kennedy, his palm prints were on the box on which the killer sat, and witnesses put him on the sixth floor at the time of the shooting."

Asked if he believed Oswald was slain to keep him from talking, Wade said police were looking into that angle but so far no connection has been established between Oswald and Ruby.

ANOTHER PROBE?

"There is no concrete evidence to go on that there is anyone else connected with the assassination," Wade said, but added that some aspects of the case may still be investigated.

The district attorney said that because Ruby's slaying of Oswald was an assassination "I am certain that I can get the death penalty for Ruby. Ruby walked up to a man who was handcuffed and defenseless and cold - bloodedly assassinated him."

Wade added several specific details to evidence previously brought out.

★ ★ ★

He said Oswald bought the Italian-make assassination rifle last March from a Chicago mail order firm, at a cost of slightly more than $12. The FBI, he said confirmed the serial number of the mail order rifle matched that of the rifle that fired the shots at Kennedy.

Wade said they found a photograph showing Oswald holding the rifle, at what he called an "at attention" stance. In one hand, Oswald held the rifle and in the other copies of the Daily Worker and a fascist publication, the Militant.

MUCH MATERIAL

There was no evidence that showed Oswald was a member of the Communist party, Wade said. "However, there was lots of material dealing with communism, such as the Daily Worker, and there was even more material dealing with the Fair Play for Cuba organization."

Officers said earlier Oswald told them he was a Communist, and was proud of it.

Wade also said three ejected shells, of an odd caliber that came from the assassination rifle found on the floor, were located near the box at the ambush window where a palm print of Oswald's was impressed.

In his calm, deliberate voice, the silver-haired district attorney retraced Oswald's actions last Friday.

DRIVEN IN

He was driven into town by a neighbor from Irving, a Dallas suburb. Wade said Oswald usually stayed there with his wife only on weekends, and at other times lived in a rented room in Dallas.

Oswald was carrying a package, which he said contained window shades. The package was long enough to have held a rifle. Oswald's wife said the rifle he owned was in Irving Thursday night but was not there Friday.

Several witnesses told of seeing the assassin's weapon protruding from a sixth-floor window at the time President Kennedy was shot.

After the shooting, Wade said, "We saw this man in the corner of the building and started to arrest him. The manager said Oswald was an employe and we let him go."

DESCRIPTION OUT

"We located every other employe but him. A description went out to look for him.

"Oswald got on a bus at Lamar Street and told a lady on the bus the President had been shot. The lady told the bus driver, and the driver asked where she had heard this. She said from a man in the back, and he (Oswald) laughed very loud."

★ ★ ★

"He got off the bus and caught a taxi the rest of the way to his Oak Cliff rooming house."

Wade said Oswald changed clothes hurriedly and left. "Then a block from the rooming house witnesses saw a police officer (patrolman J. D. Tippit) motion to him. Officer Tippit got out of his car and came around and Oswald shot him three times.

WALKED AWAY

"Then he walked across a vacant lot, ejected three shells, and reloaded the gun. He walked away and went into the Texas Theater.

"Dallas police spotted him. He struck at an officer and put his gun against officer M. N. McDonald's head." The firing pin missed the firing cap, Wade said, and the shell didn't explode. After a scuffle, six officers subdued Oswald and took him to the police station.

Pontiac Offers Day of Tribute

Baptist Church, immediately behind the monument, opened.

Thus began a day of tribute and mourning in Pontiac. The guardsmen and American Legion Firing Squad and Drill Team from Chief Pontiac Post No. 377, were alternated every 30 minutes.

EVERY MINUTE

A salvo was fired every minute from noon until Pontiac's official memorial service began at 4 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Adhering to a company announcement, General Motors plants here closed at noon to allow employes to attend memorial services.

The American Legion squad was headed by Merle Laurain, senior vice commander.

At 4 p.m., city officials, veterans, clergymen and guardsmen were to assemble at the Pontiac National Guard Armory on Water Street.

Escorted by the Oakland County Sheriff's Mounted Posse, the dignitaries planned to march to the monument.

Benediction was to be offered by Rev. Thompson Marcero, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

A wreath, donated by the Cook - Nelson American Legion Post was to be placed on the monument by Mayor Robert A. Landry.

Landry then will read an official proclamation of mourning for the late President.

This is to be followed by a 21-gun salute and Taps.

Buglers and drummers participating in the service are from Pontiac's two high schools.

With the service highlighting this city's observance of a national day of mourning, many stores remained closed all afternoon. A few reopened at 2:30 p.m.

At Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division and Fisher Body Division, all salaried employes were to return to their jobs at 3.

All first shift hourly workers, however, were sent home by noon. Others, such as maintenance and plant protection officers remained at their posts.

STARTING TIME

At Pontiac Motor Division, starting time for second - shift workers varies according to their regular reporting time for particular departments. For engine plant employes this is 5 p.m., and 6:18 p.m. for final assembly.

Most Fisher Body second shift employes will report at their regular start, 5 p.m.

GMC Truck & Coach hourly workers start second shift operations at regular staggered times, 3:15, 3:45 and 4:15 p.m.

Police Guarding Oswald's Body

Church Council Makes Plans for Thanksgiving

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Council of Churches is now completing plans for its annual community Thanksgiving Day service.

Host church for the service this year will be Northminster Presbyterian, 3633 W. Big Beaver, Troy.

Rev. Robert W. Boley, pastor of the Beverly Hills Methodist Church, will deliver a sermon entitled "The Continuing Opportunity of Thanksgiving."

★ ★ ★

Assisting in the worship service will be Rev. MacKay Taylor, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian.

The adult and hand bell choirs of the church will provide music.

A nursery will be provided for preschool children during the 10 a.m. service.

The Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its third annual father - son banquet tomorrow night.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. with the showing of two movies, "Night in a Pet Shop" and "Fun Factory."

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m., followed by a program featuring Trooper Stan Snyder of the Michigan State Police. He will have with him "Resusci-Anne", a life-sized mannequin he will use in his demonstrations.

TROOP INVITED

Members of the church's boy scout troop and their fathers also have been invited to attend.

Reservations can be made at the church office, 388 N. Woodward.

Lloyd M. McQuater

Service for former Birmingham resident Lloyd M. (Pat) McQuater, 63, of 130 Habrand, Troy, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. McQuater, an employe of Wayne - Oakland Bank, Royal Oak Branch, died unexpectedly Saturday.

He was a member of Birmingham Lodge No. 44, F&AM; Birmingham High-12; the Lost Lake Woods Club, Lincoln; and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association.

Mr. McQuater was also former district deputy of DeMolay, and a former member of the Birmingham Fire Department.

Two cousins survive.

Ruby Relatives in Southfield Under Guard

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Police today guarded the home of Earl R. Ruby, a brother of Jack Ruby, the man who shot and killed Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas.

Earl Ruby at first was believed to have traveled to Dallas to see his brother.

Mrs. Ruby said her husband was away and would not return last night. She declined to say whether he was Jack Ruby's brother.

Earl Ruby has scheduled a 2:30 p.m. press conference at his home, 29925 Woodland.

★ ★ ★

The first indication that Jack Ruby had a brother living in the Detroit area came when a sister, Mrs. Eva L. Grant, of Dallas, told newsmen of how Jack Ruby called her after President Kennedy was shot.

"He was crying," he said, "I could see he (Jack) was so emotional. Then he called his brother in Detroit."

Two priests assisted Cardinal Cushing, performing the functions often carried out by altar boys during Roman Catholic services.

Mrs. Kennedy, with the attorney general at her side, received Holy Communion from the cardinal.

Other members of the Kennedy family also went to the altar to receive Communion, as did many others.

By noon today, the hillside at the grave site was covered with people. They started gathering shortly after dawn. Most walked, because Memorial Bridge, crossing the Potomac River from Washington was closed to all automobile traffic except the funeral cortege.

The entire slope directly above the grave became a brilliant floral carpet as flowers arrived by the truckload from the Capitol and the White House. Mrs. Kennedy had asked that no floral tributes be sent but they were received anyway, many ordered before her wishes were made known.

Close above the grave was the wreath which President Johnson had placed at the Kennedy casket in the Capitol Rotunda.

nedy back to the White House.

It was learned Mrs. Kennedy personally had decided on many of the details of the presidential funeral, including the decision that the mourners would walk some eight blocks from the White House as was done at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln, the president slain almost 100 years ago.

Protocol and research experts had brought to the White House plans of the funerals of George Washington, Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt for guidance.

MAKES DECISION

Mrs. Kennedy, who shared her husband's interest in history, agreed on the marching procession in the streets, a theme dating back to Washington's funeral.

It was not known for sure whether Mrs. Lincoln actually, made the march on April 19, 1865 when thousands followed her husband's coffin on foot. State Department spokesmen said research showed members of Lincoln's family followed, but the widow was not mentioned in records they could find.

Lincolns' riderless horse followed his caisson. Mrs. Kennedy sent her thoroughbred bay gelding, Sardar, to fill the symbolic role.

The horse, a gift to her from Pakistan President Ayub Khan, a bit skittish and nervous, was led with empty saddle and boots reversed in the stirrups to symbolize the fallen leader.

Unending Line of Mourners Views Casket

Wait 10 Hours

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — It was beyond anything that had been expected.

Through the entire night an incredible outpouring of men, women and children inched along the streets outside the capitol, climbed the steep stairway of the east front and moved slowly past the casket of John F. Kennedy.

For some it meant a 10-hour wait in freezing temperatures without food or water, carrying small children, in order to pay their own private tribute to the slain President. Luckier ones made it in seven hours.

* * *

With never a break in the steady shuffle of feet across the stone floor of the Rotunda, the solemn procession went on from 3 p.m. yesterday through the afternoon, night and morning.

140,000 ESTIMATED

Police estimated 140,000 would pass the bier by 9 a.m. when the Capitol doors would close to prepare for Kennedy's funeral.

At that time, it is also estimated, another 50,000 will be left outside.

When plans for the public viewing were first announced it was thought the doors could be closed at 9 o'clock last night with another brief session in the morning. Then it was decided to keep the casket on view "as long as anyone was there to see it."

* * *

A 9 o'clock last night people were massed in a slow moving throng that was 9¼ miles long by the speedometer of an amazed congressman, Rep. William J. Randall, D-Mo.

ON CRUTCHES

There were elderly couples helping each other along. There were people on crutches and in wheel chairs. There were teenage girls in spike-heeled shoes.

There were families with as many as five small children, being alternately carried by their weary parents, all fighting to stay awake as the night wore on.

There was bitter discomfort of many kinds, but there was no thought of leaving. On they came, and the only explanation they could give to anyone who asked why they did it was "He was our President."

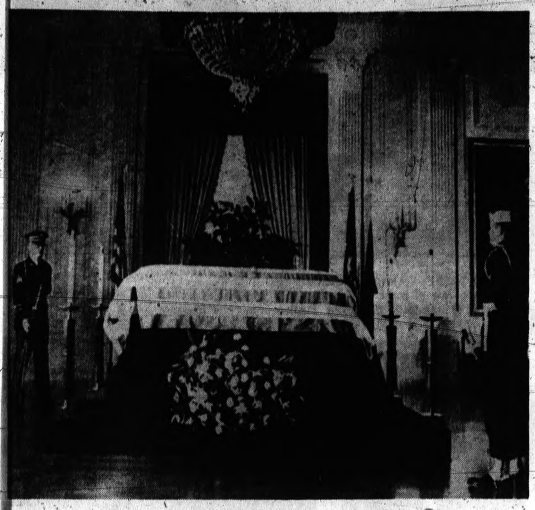
One of the mourners was former heavyweight boxing champion Jersey Joe Wolcott. He was moving slowly past the casket alone when a newsman recognized him.

9-HOUR WAIT

Wolcott said he had come from New Jersey and spent nine hours in the line waiting for his one minute beside Kennedy's casket. Why? "He was a great man," said Wolcott.

There were families from Connecticut, upstate New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and the South. But most of them were from the Maryland and Virginia towns near Washington and from the capital itself.

They were there to honor a man they felt had honored them by his service, and nothing could keep them away.



CATAFALQUE — The casket of the slain President rests on a catafalque in the historic East Room of the White House before being transported to the Capitol yesterday. Draped with an American flag, the coffin is guarded by an honorary military detachment made up of members of each branch of the service.

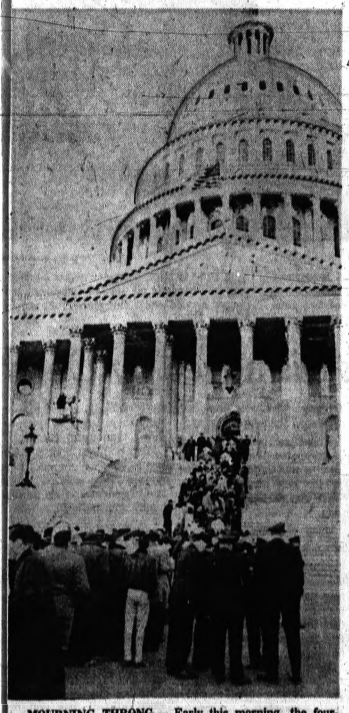
FACES OF CROWD — Thousands stood along the route taken by President Kennedy's funeral procession from the White House to the Capitol yesterday, the faces mirroring grief, shock and disbelief. The multitude was silent, talking only in hushed murmurs.



MOURNING THRONG — Early this morning, the four-abreast line of ordinary citizens moved through the U.S. Capitol to pay last respects to the slain President. Police estimated about 140,000 people, some waiting up to 10 hours, filled the line that stretched more than nine miles at one time.

Area Residents of All Faiths Pray for John F. Kennedy

Pontiac Press Photo

PRAYERS FOR KENNEDY — At St. Benedict Catholic Church in Waterford yesterday, black crepe adorned the front of the church in memory of President Kennedy. Special prayers, as in other churches throughout the Pontiac area, were offered during the services for the assassinated President.

Church Traditions Broken in Respect to Memory

Pontiac area residents of all faiths flocked to their respective places of worship yesterday to say a prayer for John F. Kennedy.

Many churches broke with age-old traditions out of respect to the late President. Clergymen throughout the city devoted their sermons to him.

Catholic parishes offered Requiem Masses, traditionally never done on a Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Black paraments adorned pulpits in many Protestant churches. They are traditionally used only on Good Friday.

OPEN ALL DAY

Most churches in the Pontiac area were open all day today. Some scheduled special prayer and memorial services.

To typify the sermons delivered yesterday in Pontiac, two churches were picked at random.

At St. Benedict Catholic Church in Waterford Township, Rev. Richard W. Thomas, pastor drew a comparison between the late Pope John XXIII and Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"Both men were burdened by awesome responsibilites," said Father Thomas. "Yet, like all men, both were ultimately answerable to God."

SHORT TIME

He spoke of the accomplishments of both leaders in the relatively short time allotted them.

"They were upright, honest men doing the best job they could, according to the dictates of their conscience," he said.

"The suddenness of John F. Kennedy's death brought many people closer to the realization that all of us must prepare ourselves to meet God.

"They came thinking 'If a man like that can go, what about me!' "

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT

Another viewpoint was voiced Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

The Rev. Mr. Auchard was the lone Protestant minister on the platform on Labor Day 1960, when Kennedy spoke in Pontiac at Oakland Park. He offered the invocation that day.

"John F. Kennedy was the first 20th-Century president," he told his congregation yesterday. "He was not homesick for 1890 or 1910 or even 1929.

★ ★ ★

"He was a better spokesman for the Protestant conscience than many a Protestant politician."

'ONE OF GREATEST'

The Rev. Mr. Auchard asserted that "regardless of political affiliations, many Americans were starting to realize that John F. Kennedy was beginning to become one of the greatest presidents of the United States.

"He possessed courage, compassion, intelligence and hope.

"One more testimony to God's creative power has been silenced.

"We should join, today, in dedicating ourselves to his (Kennedy's) own words: 'On earth, God's work must be our own.' "

★ ★ ★

Moments after the service, the pastor was told that the president's alleged assassin had been shot.

He shook his head sadly.

"Why must the sickness of violence infect men so they take matters into their own hands?" he remarked.

HALF STAFF — Along Montcalm avenue yesterday a row of home owners expressed the grief of residents throughout Pontiac by displaying their flags at half staff in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

IN MEMORIUM — A portrait of President John F. Kennedy draped in black crepe is flanked by two Michigan veterans in the rotunda of the State Capitol. With white chrysanthemums in front of it, the portrait stands before the state's copy of the Liberty Bell for the two-day vigil which began yesterday. The picture is to remain during the state's 30-day mourning period.

Michigan Goes Into Mourning

By The Associated Press

Millions of Michigan residents turned from their everyday task today to mourn the loss of President John F. Kennedy.

Schools closed, retail stores, although on the threshhold of their peak Christmas shopping season, shut their doors for at least two hours; factory and office workers left work to attend special services.

All federal and state government offices closed or operated with skeleton staffs.

★ ★ ★

Black bunting draped the "Spirit of Detroit" statue at the City-County Building and the face of the state capitol.

Even the toll gates of the five-mile-long Mackinac bridge will be lowered for the first time since the bridge opened in 1959. The gates were to be dropped for one minute at noon.

Special ceremonies were scheduled for the front steps of the State Capitol and downDetroit — as well as in Protestant and Catholic churches and synagogues across the state.

MONTH OF MOURNING

Gov. George Romney, before he left for Washington Saturday, declared a month of mourning, ending Dec. 22, and asked all state residents for a minute of silent meditation at noon.

★ ★ ★

Sales of all alcoholic beverages were ordered suspended between 12 noon and 2 p.m. the order was issued at the request of Gov. Romney, said George Burke Jr., Michigan Liquor Control Commission business manager.

United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther sent telegrams during the weekend, asking factories employing more than one million UAW members to close from noon until 2 p.m. today. Large auto and other plants responded, some ceasing work for the day.

★ ★ ★

"As grief-stricken citizens who mourn the tragic loss," Romney said in his proclamation, "let us renew our determination to serve the interests of the nation for which he gave his life."

TWO SALUTES

Two salutes — 21 and 50 guns — will be fired by the Michigan National Guard.

Banks were thrown into a state of confusion over the weekend by a request from Romney that they close. Many were unsure as to whether they should close or not Monday.

Outstate banks said they could not close unless ordered to do so by the state banking commission.

★ ★ ★

Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay said, "I understand the governor has issued an order that they should close. I have a telegram from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which urges the banks to close if it's legally proper and if state authorities permit. I don't know whether a day of mourning is the same status as a legal holiday."

CLOSE AT NOON

The major Detroit banks belonging to the Detroit Clearing House Association said they would close at noon, as did the Federal Reserve bank.

Colleges and universities around the state closed for the day.

Michigan State University changed plans to close for two hours and is suspending classes "in conformity with the proclamation of President Lyndon B. Johnson," said MSU President John A. Hannah. All but essential offices are being closed.

★ ★ ★

Ferris State College at Big Rapids decided yesterday to push its final examination schedule one day to suspend operations.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, asked that all schools close for the day. Most public and parochial schools were expected to follow his request.

A charter revision election in the Detroit suburb of Warren was postponed to tomorrow — but may cause some problems.

★ ★ ★

City Clerk James Gray announced the postponement, but City Attorney Charles Carmody said the move could not be made legally without replishing the election schedule.

BOND ISSUE

Clintondale and Mount Clemens community school districts in Macomb County were going ahead with bond issue elections.

American Motors Corp., the Ford Motor Corp., the Chrysler Corp. and the General Motors Corp. suspended operations at noon for the balance of the shift.

Meetings, civic affairs and public entertainment were suspended across the state. The New York City Opera Co. postponed a Monday night performance to tomorrow afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Post offices halted or sharply reduced mail handling, deliveries and window service.

Draft boards across the state were closed after Selective Service officials told all of today's prospective inductees to report tomorrow.

President Johnson Takes U.S. Reins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two minutes after Lyndon Baines Johnson raised his hand aboard a parked plane in Dallas, Tex., to take the oath which made him President of the United States; he said:

"Now let's get airborne."

That first order, as President, marked Johnson as a man of action. He has been on the move ever since, dividing his time between arranging for the honors due the chief of state who preceded him, and taking over firmly at the helm.

With no mandate for himself from the people, President Johnson has been making it clear that the mandate goes to the office, and he is the forceful occupant of it.

★ ★ ★

Airborne, within minutes after assuming office, the new President was working on his first public statement which he issued while on the way to Washington. He promised to "do my best. That's all I can do."

CALLS MOTHER

From the plane, Johnson also placed calls to Mrs. Rose Kennedy, the mother of the assassinated President, and to Mrs. Nelle Connally, wife of the wounded governor of Texas.

Two and a half hours later, Johnson was at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to broadcast to the American people his appeal for "your help and God's."

He also set up his first meeting with congressional leaders that same night.

★ ★ ★

But he did not forget those little things which made him so successful as a Senate leader.

MEETS DIPLOMATS

At the airfield, he strode over to shake hands with the assembled diplomats. And just before he boarded the helicopter for the White House, he noticed Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Diksen and hurried back to chat with him.

The new President requested Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Under Secretary of State George W. Ball to accompany him in the helicopter.

They conferred aboard the craft and continued their discussions later at the White House, where Presidential Assistant McGeorge Bundy joined them.

★ ★ ★

That night — Friday — Johnson set up a base of operations in the executive offices building adjoining the White House, rather than in the executive mansion itself.

FORMER PRESIDENT

He conferred briefly with congressional leaders, asked and got their pledges of bipartisan cooperation, and telephoned former presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He discussed Kennedy's funeral arrangements with R. Sargent Shivers, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the dead President.

He also conferred with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on the investigation of the assassination, and requested the White House staff and cabinet to remain on duty.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's first day as President formally ended when he left the executive offices at 9:24 p.m., and headed for his home in the Spring Valley section of Washington.

On Saturday, he left for the White House at 8:45 a.m. after being up for hours.

Pontiac Press Photo

TYPICAL STORE FRONT — Throughout the Pontiac area yesterday and today, stores were closed in memory of President Kennedy. Though the hours of closing varied from store to store, shopping center to shopping center, nearly all were closed during the funeral service today. This store front was in Miracle Mile.

Pontiac Press Photo

STATE CAPITOL DRAPED — Black bunting drapes the facade of the capitol in Lansing for the state's month of mourning proclaimed by Gov. George Romney. Special ceremonies were scheduled on the front steps of the Capitol as Michigan joined the entire nation in tribute to the dead President. All state offices were closed today. The period of mourning will end Dec. 22.

Activities Halted in Waterford Twp.

Four of five Waterford Township Recreation Department activities scheduled tonight have been canceled in observance of President Kennedy's funeral.

★ ★ ★

Canceled are meetings of the Waterford Civic Chorus, Waterford Civic Band, women's volleyball and an organizational meeting of the men's basketball program.

The Golden Age Club dinner slated for 6:30 will be held as scheduled at the Community Activities Inc. building because food for the occasion already has been delivered.

Canadians Dismayed by Death

By DICK HANSON

Canadian citizens registered intermingled feelings of hurt, anger and dismay yesterday at the thought that any American could take the life of President Kennedy, who was immensely popular in their own country.

Canadians looked upon his assassination not only as a loss to the United States, but to the rest of the world as well, and particularly to Canada.

While relations between the two neighboring countries have been somewhat strained of late, due mostly to Canada's recurring pangs of nationalism, Canadians generally were confident that they could rely on the late President to stem any real differences.

They looked upon him as a sympathetic and just man who put the freedom of all men first.

WINDSOR FEELINGS

The chagrin and sorrow felt by Canadians was especially apparent in Windsor Saturday.

There was a hushed tone to the border city as people went about their business at a much slower than usual pace.

Many went to noon-day services in Windsor churches where prayers were offered for the late President and his bereaved family and nation.

J. Kennedy Grieves in Privacy of Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy grieved in the privacy of his summer home today as the rest of the nation paid final homage to his slain son.

Although pronounced fit to travel, Kennedy, 75, elected to remain here. His niece, Ann Gargan, and the Rev. John Cavanaugh, long-time friend and president emeritus of the University of Notre Dame, were with him.

Security Officers Get Tough Job at Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP)—American security officers — still shaken by the assassination of John F. Kennedy—faced the staggering job today of protecting some 27 heads of state and government including President Johnson.

Making the task that much more difficult was that many were in the procession behind Kennedy's casket from the White House to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral several blocks away.

Rescues Helpless Patients

City Student Hero of Fire

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — "I did the best I could getting some out of the fire . . . I could see all these poor people inside, but I couldn't get to them."

So spoke Clifford French, 21-year-old graduate student at Pontiac's Midwestern Baptist Seminary.

French, who has been staying at 36 Putnam, was one of two heroes, along with Henry Dahman, a Sarber, Pa., truck driver, who aided in the rescue of 21 patients and three nurses from the blazing Golden Age Nursing Home in nearby Fitchville early Saturday.

★ ★ ★

More than 60 persons died in the flaming building.

VOICE CRACKS

French's voice cracked as he told of what he did after spotting the fire as he drove along US 250 en route to his home in Wooster, Ohio, with his 22-year-old wife, Elaine, also a student at the Pontiac seminary.

"Flames and smoke drove us back after we got a few out," French said. "One woman screamed, 'Oh, no, tell me it's a dream,'" he recalled. He said another, a nursing home supervisor, became hysterical and wanted to run back into the blaze.

"She kept on crying, 'Oh, my God, oh, my God. My patients are burning up. Help me. Help me,'" French said. He had to restrain her.

French said the truck driver, Dahman, already was there when he dashed up to the front door.

"We both got in about 10 feet, but the smoke was so bad that we had to get out," he said. "The truck driver already had used up one fire extinguisher and was using another. I could see the fire right near the top of the front door."

SEEK ENTRANCE

He and Dahman then tried to find another door which was open.

"I looked inside the windows and could see the people in their beds," French said. "There was little commotion and they all seemed in a daze."

French said he and Dahman managed to push in a side door and then saw a nurse carrying an elderly woman who couldn't walk. It was all dark, except for the flames and Dahman's flashlight.

★ ★ ★

"I picked up the woman and carried her to the side door," French said. "Some other patients already were huddled there. An attendant said other patients still were alive in another wing of the building.

ASSISTS LADY

"We went to the wing and there was a man and a lady standing there. I grabbed the lady and the truck driver got a wheelchair.

By then the flames were so bad that the side door exit was blocked and I had to head for another door. The smoke was so heavy and my eyes were smarting so much that I got down on the floor and crawled to the door to get out.

SEEK ENTRANCE

"We carried several out by then, but it was impossible to get any more . . ." French said as his voice became choked.

★ ★ ★

"In a matter of minutes the whole thing was aflame. I could see the other people, but I could not help them.

"It was just too much for my mind to grasp. We wanted to get them, but we couldn't. It was such a helpless feeling.

★ ★ ★

"God, I hope I never see anything like it again."

Cheating Test Given in India

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — A simple "corruption detector" test, without benefit of wires, graphs or other mechanical gimmicks, was invented by Punjab's Chief Minister Pratap Singh Kairon, according to the Hindustan Times.

The newspaper said Kairon called a conference of 35 government officials and told them they were suspected of cheating on the job.

"Despite coaxing and assurances of 'no reprisals', none admitted that his past was shady," the newspaper reported.

★ ★ ★

Unconvinced, the Chief Minister gave each a blank piece of paper and asked him to retire to a corner of the room and answer the query:

"Have you been corrupt in your official conduct in the past?" without signing his name on the paper.

★ ★ ★

Ten of the 35 admitted being dishonest, the newspaper said. The chief minister was reported to have destroyed the papers and administered an oath of honesty to all the officials.

New Astronaut's Fame Dates Back to Birth

WHEELER, Tex. (AP) — When 14 new astronauts were named recently, old-timers here remembered it was not the first time Navy Lt. Alan L. Bean, now of Jacksonville, Fla., made the headlines.

When Lt. Bean was born here March 15, 1932, he had two teeth. The family moved to Georgetown, Tex. when he was about a month old.

Dallas Head Is 'Proud' of Police

DALLAS (UPI) — Mayor Earle Cabell said today he was "proud" of the work done by the Dallas Police Department during the three days since the assassination of President Kennedy.

"They have performed admirably under the most difficult of circumstances," he said. Certainly the news media . . . and their representatives here from all over the world are intimately familiar with the challenge . . . the department has faced."

In a statement issued before Cabell flew to Washington for Kennedy's funeral, the mayor said the entire city had been under intense pressure since the assassination.

★ ★ ★

"I ask only that the world recognize and appreciate the burden Dallas bears. Lee Oswald is dead. But I believe the full story uncovered by all investigative agencies concerning his activities should be placed in the public record.

STAND TRIAL

"Oswald's murderer is under arrest. He, too, should stand trial and, if convicted, be given the extreme punishment reserved for those who commit murder or take the law into their own hands . . .

"Now is the time for all of us to come to our senses, to resist hysteria, to quit casting around for someone else to blame and to dedicate ourselves to those principles of service and courage exemplified by President Kennedy."

Man Kills Stepfather in Fight Over Kennedy

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — A dental technician, angered by police said, when his Russian-born stepfather "cursed President Kennedy and America," stabbed the older man to death with a pair of scissors Sunday.

Dead was Stephen Sikorachi, 68, a retired packinghouse worker. Police said his stepson, Vaschia Michael Behan, 47, admitted stabbing him during a fight which erupted as the men and Behan's mother were watching on television the cortege of the assassinated President.

Berlin to Name Square After Late President

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin planned to honor the late John F. Kennedy today by giving his name to the square where he won the hearts of the citizens only five months ago by proclaiming in German, "I am a Berliner."

★ ★ ★

Thousands of West Berliners were expected to attend the memorial service in the square, formerly named for Rudolf Wilde, lord mayor of Berlin in 1902.

Red China Ridicules Kennedy

TOKYO (UPI) — While the rest of the world, Communist and non-Communist, mourned the death of President Kennedy, Communist China yesterday attacked and ridiculed him.

It called Kennedy a warmonger and published a scornful cartoon of him.

Diplomatic sources here reported that the Sunday edition of the Peking Worker's Daily printed a cartoon with the caption: "Kennedy Bites the Dust."

★ ★ ★

The official New China News Agency, monitored here, did not let up in its attacks on the President or his successor. The bitter tone of its dispatches was in sharp contrast to the eulogies that came from Moscow and Soviet bloc nations in Eastern Europe.

'JOHNSON SUPPORTED'

"Since the emergence of the Kennedy regime, Johnson has positively supported various reactionary policies of the Kennedy administration and participated in formulating and promoting such policies," it said.

"Johnson has supported Kennedy's war strategy and called for maintenance of such a policy in a series of his speeches."

The Worker's Daily cartoon showed Kennedy sprawled facedown on the ground with blood gushing from his face. His necktie bore a dollar sign, the favorite label for American capitalism.

In GOP Reassessment

Possibility of Nixon Candidacy Grows

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON—The possibility that Republicans may give former Vice President Richard M. Nixon a second crack at the presidency appeared to be growing today.

★ ★ ★

The assassination of John F. Kennedy and the ascension of Lyndon B. Johnson to the office has forced a radical reassessment by GOP strategists of the 1964 campaign.

Where once they conceded privately they had only an uphill chance of defeating Kennedy's bid for a second term, they now feel the odds are nearly even they may be able to deny Johnson a first elective term.

WANTED GAMBLE

For a race with Kennedy, many wanted to gamble on the theory that a conservative like Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., could defeat a Democratic liberal.

Now the Republican candidate is likely to face a Democrat identified in the public mind as a Southern conservative. For this is how Johnson is viewed by many despite the support he has given as vice president to the Kennedy legislative program and his efforts to shed the tag of sectionalism.

★ ★ ★

The new President will take steps to rectify this public judgment. Already he has received an endorsement from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as a sincere advocate of the Kennedy civil rights legislation now before Congress.

Similar endorsements of Johnson's policies can be expected from the AFL - CIO's George Meany and other labor leaders.

Nevertheless the Republicans perceive a broad avenue leading toward the nomination of a man who can try to out-Johnson Johnson in being for positive action on civil rights and for prudent social welfare programs without having to bear the party umbrage of being a "me-too" candidate.

The Republican who ordinarily would fit this description is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. But to get his party's nomination Rockefeller will have to overcome the political liability of divorcing his wife of 35 years and marrying a divorced mother of four children.

If Rockefeller cannot surmount this political barrier—and many liberal Republicans are indicating by searching frantically elsewhere for a champion that they think he cannot—Nixon may prove to be their only refuge.

★ ★ ★

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov. George Romney of Michigan have been suggested as possible substitutes. But they have the built-in-liability of not being so well known and thus are subject to suspicion as to their views by most of the Republicans who will be delegates to the San Francisco convention.

Nixon's latent strength lies in this area. Many convention delegates are quadriennial repeaters. National committeemen and chairmen have a way of staying in power.

Almost all of them know Nixon and where he stands on individual issues. They may think he lost the 1960 election to Kennedy by a whisker because he didn't take their advice. But they remember he came close.

better highways save lives Traffic last Labor Day weekend broke all records—yet there was not a single fatality on Michigan's entire freeway system!

Modern highways are already reducing accidents by as much as 75% when compared with the outmoded roads they replace. It is a well-proved fact: Safety-engineered, easy-to-travel roads save lives. No better way has been found to cut accidents.

Yet today, nearly 50% of Michigan's roads and streets are still inadequate! This is no time to stop or curtail the state's great life-saving highway improvement program. The most effective way to further reduce Michigan's traffic toll is to improve these unsafe roads.

Also contributing to improved highway safety are today's modern concrete pavements. Wet or dry, concrete provides dependable skid resistance. Concrete's light color improves night visibility.

As an investment, too, concrete is first choice. Its long life and ability to take the heaviest traffic save taxes for every motorist.

Dallas Examines Conscience After Being Degraded Twice

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — In the space of 48 hours, this sparkling metropolis — while trying desperately to show its best face to the world — was degraded twice.

★ ★ ★

The first time, authorities said, it was by a ne'er-do-well, self-styled Communist with a mail-order rifle: Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, born in New Orleans, charged with the assassination Friday of President John F. Kennedy.

The second time, it was by a small-time, brawling strip joint owner, Jack Ruby, 52, born Rubinstein in Chicago, who took it upon himself to act for the courts Americans cherish, and shot down Oswald Sunday.

Dallas reacted with deep grief and shame to President Kennedy's death.

The reaction to Oswald's death was more complex. Some openly said the killing was a good thing. Others, secretly, thought it. But over most the weight of shame settled more heavily.

★ ★ ★

The burden of conscience became enormous. That it could happen here!

Dallas has a metropolitan population of more than one million. Its big growth came when Northern and Eastern manufacturers began moving their industrial plants to the rolling prairies surrounding the city.

It is now a cosmopolitan city. Its people are from Texas—but also from Connecticut, Ohio, New York, Kansas, Oregon. It is the national melting pot of the Southwest.

Its women are superbly gowned, its fashion centers respected the world over, its clubs smart, its symphony and opera renowned.

It is, indeed, a citadel of political conservatism at certain levels — just, as a matter of fact, as areas in New York, Philadelphia, Boston or Indianapolis.

OVERSTATED CASE

Pravda, Moscow's organ of the Communist party, overstated the case against Dallas: "All America knows that the most reactionary, the wildest elements have built their nests precisely in Texas."

But it struck an exposed nerve.

★ ★ ★

Before the President's visit, Dallas was agonizingly conscious that only a month ago Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was struck with a far right placard and spat upon — and that the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, and his wife had been spat upon and jostled here in the 1960 election campaign.

For weeks, news stories quoting city leaders, editorials and letters to the editor had urged the people to behave, to lay aside bitterness and to welcome President Kennedy as befitted his office.

BLACK MARK

Then—

"This is a black mark Dallas will never live down," said one resident despairingly the day the President died.

Sunday night—

"This thing is going to tear this town apart," a young woman said.

★ ★ ★

People avoid each other's eyes in elevators. The streets are quiet. Some clerks barely murmur as they serve you. There are few customers. The bars are almost empty.

Long lines of cars carrying whole families roll slowly past two landmarks: the underpass entrance where the President was shot, and the police department ramp where Oswald was shot.

TWO WREATHS

On the small grassy slope near the underpass were two wreaths. A card on one said: "In memory of our beloved President, John F. Kennedy. From the bereaved citizens of Dallas." The other said simply: "We are all so sorry."

The concrete where Oswald fell mortally wounded lay bare and cold in the night.

★ ★ ★

"I got a hard knot in my belly," a cab driver told a passenger. "I love Texas. I have been in a lot of places where there are nuts. I never thought we had these kind of nuts in Texas. Stupid! Stupid."

Mayor Earle Cabell knows his city's conscience.

"This still should not reflect on the image or character of Dallas. I challenge anybody to say this reflects the character of the people of Dallas," the mayor said.

Cabell does not ignore tragedy's impact: "We know it will be hurtful. But the whole community must not be made to suffer for this deed."

Friday afternoon, churches opened their doors and have kept them open so the people can go when they want to pray and meditate.

Collectively, the city examined its conscience.

It Seems to Me....

Great and Humble Mourn Martyrdom of John Kennedy

As world leaders arrived in an unending procession to attend the JOHN F. KENNEDY funeral rites, the most influential and the most popular man on the globe was reverently placed in his final earthly resting place today.

★ ★ ★

The late President of the United States was assassinated as he sat acknowledging the acclaim of a quarter of a million people who cheered as his gay procession moved along a main Dallas street. Friendly Americans were paying him the homage and respect that were justly his by right of position and personal acceptance.

★ ★ ★

Never before in history has the world centered as universally on the burial of a single individual as marked the ceremony today. Commercial, financial, educational and all marts of trade and human activity ground to a stop during some period out of respect and deference to the comparatively young man who has just given his life for his country in these unbelievable and tragic circumstances.

The subsequent murder and developments are incidental as the civilized world focuses attention on the 46-year-old leader of the greatest and most powerful nation of all. The original news spread like wildfire to the utmost corners of the planet and messages began pouring into Washington by the thousands. As the late President's body was laid in state, lines formed that quickly extended for several miles as humanity silently shuffled past the bier.

★ ★ ★

All over the Nation, weekend plans were canceled or modified. Entertainments based on fun and frivolity were abruptly dropped and other matters shaped accordingly. I was in Miami at the annual banquet of the Inter American Press Association with an imposing list of speakers. The meal was changed to a simple dinner, without formal clothes, with no program at all. Monsignor Jesus Maria Pellin, member editor of a Catholic publication in Venezuela uttered a formal prayer.

★ ★ ★

And so it went, without consultation or any particular intercommunication from coast to coast. No single individual has ever received such homage and deference by as many people. One woman even phoned the police and complained that 10-year-old boys were playing football in a nearby vacant lot. Just spontaneously a complete nation went into mourning. All 50 states canceled activities right and left and modified others drastically.

★ ★ ★

One of the most dastardly crimes in all annals aroused a veritable storm of righteous indignation and an unforgiving condemnation that was universal. Men, women and even little children expressed themselves openly and unmistakably. An absolute unanimity of opinion exists. The secondary murder of the killer is a startling aftermath but it does nothing to appease the grief and sorrow with which the wide world views the main circumstance.

★ ★ ★

The son of one of the wealthiest families in the world, JOHN F. KENNEDY was essentially democratic and spent his political life fighting for the common man. No one ever accused him of social snobbery or anything akin thereto.

★ ★ ★

He has always been an essentially personable and winsome individual whether you agreed with his political policies or entertained diametrically opposite views. There is no gainsaying the unconscious charm which was always in evidence whatever the occasion or the state of his personal health. He was exuberant, filled with the joy and zest of life and was a sparkling addition to any group.

★ ★ ★

Just four days before the global tragedy, he addressed the Inter American Press Association in Miami and immediately preceding the banquet he was welcomed at a small reception by the members of the executive committee. The President entered the ante-room with a big smile and plenty of bounce as he walked around and shook hands with everyone there and spoke a cheery greeting to each. When he reached me, I said: "Mr. President, you may forget a lot of these names, but you will always remember mine."

He smiled broadly, raised his eyebrows and said: "Yes?"

I nodded. "You can't forget. It's 'FITZGERALD.'"

He renewed the hearty handshake and grinned. "I can't possibly forget that."

★ ★ ★

Here was a winsome individual who claimed the affection of a nation—and personally I don't think he ever "worked at it." It came instinctively and naturally and even unconsciously. When he rose to speak, he radiated a personal cheer and friendliness that appealed to all classes and all groups, even though you might disagree with his policies and legislative platforms.

★ ★ ★

And so the Nation — or the whole world — says a final farewell to an always jovial and frequently spectacular figure who flashed across the horizon for three swift years and who was then senselessly swept into everlasting eternity before he had achieved the full fruition of his own aims and ambitions. In the eyes of ultimate history, his existence here was nothing more than a momentary flash, but unquestionably he will be remembered for just himself.

★ ★ ★

The world still marches on apace. It always will.

Even wars with millions of deaths have hardly checked the inevitable and onward surge to new and hitherto undreamed heights and achievements. Few anywhere in three short years have had their hand in the very center of global happenings to his extent and played so prominent a role as a hundred nations watched and reacted.

★ ★ ★

And then he was struck down without warning in the midst of 250,000 cheering compatriots. Yes, truth IS stranger than fiction — and immeasurably more cruel and tragic.

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Thomas Gray, in his classic "Elegy" of two centuries ago, wrote: "The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, and all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave, awaits alike the inevitable hour."

But while life on earth is finite, neither the American people nor the peoples of the rest of the world were prepared last Friday to see the sudden transfer of presidential power in the United States that came in the wake of a hideous and unforgivable crime.

John F. Kennedy was a sincere man, a conscientious man—a public servant with a high sense of fidelity to his office and to the people. How can we explain the abrupt separation of the President at age 46 from service to his country?

Why was he removed overnight from the international councils in which he sought so earnestly to carry forward the task of averting a nuclear war?

★ ★ ★

Pope Paul VI uttered in Rome his prayerful wish that the death of President Kennedy "may not hinder the cause of peace but may serve as a sacrifice and as an example for the good of all mankind."

PRIME OF LIFE

God has taken from us a man in the prime of his life, with tasks left unfinished, as a disheartened and distraught world goes into mourning.

Could the meaning be that we who are left behind have not sensed the neglect of responsibility by people to find ways to eradicate inside each country the perils to human life, including the ravages of crime?

★ ★ ★

Was this God's way of serving warning to us all that the erratic behavior of the mentally disturbed among us and of the delinquents in our society can no longer be given just cursory attention?

SELLING WEAPONS

Why are rifles and revolvers sold to persons of dangerous impulse whose records betray symptoms or signs of mental attitudes that can lead to the destruction of their fellow men? Crime in America is growing, but there is a tendency to shrug it off as merely a consequence of an increasing population.

Government security measures now will come in for constructive criticism. But many a president disregards the needs for some of the extra precautions. The Secret Service itself is powerless to do all that it wishes to do.

It has long been regarded by police experts as almost impossible to protect a president and other prominent figures against snipers firing from windows of high buildings.

The tragic ending of the career of John F. Kennedy will serve to remind all of us that, while man is mortal and faces "the inevitable hour," our human society within the span of our lives can do much more than has been done to isolate the mentally unbalanced who are permitted to buy rifles and pistols and roam at will menacing citizens on city streets and in their homes everywhere as crime produces in America the highest number of victims in all our history.

James Marlow Says:

America Needs to Take a Critical Look at Itself

MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's time America took a look at itself.

When an African or Asian leader is slain it may be regarded here as the result of a society less advanced than this one. This is an American myth, as Americans have demonstrated once again.

A president and a policeman shot to death and a governor wounded in Dallas and the man charged with the crimes in turn murdered, before he got a fair trial, by a gunman who leaped through police lines to shoot him.

These crimes are a product of the American society where violence and talk of violence increase as state officials defy federal court orders until troops are called out to stop them.

Yet, supreme achievements of the Western world are supposed to be respect for law, democratic and orderly change in government, a fair trial, and freedom and protection of freedom for the individual man, no matter who he is.

★ ★ ★

If President Kennedy had been the first president killed in office, it would be awful enough.

TO ELIMINATE

It would mean one individual, ignoring constitutional and peaceful change in government, decided to take the law into his own hands to eliminate an elected leader.

But killing American presidents, or trying to, is now assuming the complexion of a tradition. Four have been assassinated: Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, and now Kennedy.

Attempts were made on the lives of three other presidents: Jackson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman. A gunman shot Theodore Roosevelt after his presidency but while he was seeking reelection.

★ ★ ★

In that same period of almost 100 years, not one British prime minister was assassinated. A madman did kill a prime minister, Spencer Perceval, 151 years ago.

MORE DEDICATED

It can't be argued the British are basically different or that among them the percentage of lunatics or discontented are proportionately smaller. They are simply more dedicated to peaceful and orderly government.

As long ago as 1200 B.C. an Egyptian king, Ramses III, looking over his own administration of law and justice, said: "I made the land safe so that a lone woman could go on her way freely and none would molest her."

★ ★ ★

That's more than the United States can say today, 3,100 years later, even about the safety of its presidents.

Voice of the People:

Area Saddened by Death of John F. Kennedy

Our hearts are heavy with grief along with millions of United States citizens and people all over the world in the terrible assassination of our President.

★ ★ ★

We cannot always understand why certain tragedies occur, but there is One who understands and knows why.

★ ★ ★

Our sympathy and understanding are extended to all the members of the President's family. We must pray that his wife will find strength and determination to go on.

The Greater Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship

Beginning in 1840 every President elected eevry 20 years has died before he completed his term of office. Much has been published on this. The alleged motivation for the curse was called to the attention of Franklin D. Roosevelt when he ran for re-election in 1940. He thought he had licked it when he ran for another term in 1944, but he died in office just like Abraham Lincoln died five years after his election of 1860, both Lincoln and Roosevelt passing away in the month of April and the same week.

★ ★ ★

The curse was believed to have been made by President Martin Van Buren, when the electoral votes of 1840 showed Van Buren with 60 and Harrison with 234. Van Buren had a phobia against organized money and he stood for an independent treasury scheme free from control by private banks. He was so angered when he was defeated for re-election (blaming organized money), that he was reported as pointing to a painting of the White House and saying: "You have sold out to gold. A curse upon the head of your house for every generation." In colonial days a generation was considered 20 years.

★ ★ ★

Presidents who have been hit by the 20-year curse were: Harrison 1840; Lincoln 1860; Garfield 1880; McKinley 1900; Harding 1920; Roosevelt 1940; and Kennedy 1960.

It might be noted in passing that no president has died during office between these years, since the voicing of the curse by Van Buren in 1840.

Something to think about if your ambitions draw you toward the presidency—don't run in 1980.

Allen R. Biles

Everyone will pay for the tragic day that they killed the President of the United States of America, John F. Kennedy!

★ ★ ★

Let us not forget, that it is tragic that man must die for all men. Why is it not good for a President of the United States to tour a state within the states of America without being assassinated? Or are we, the people, under some kind of terror from pagan days?

Right to Vote

The Flint Journal

Americans often wonder why it is so difficult to sell our brand of freedom to the people of some other parts of the world.

They can't understand why anyone wouldn't be willing to fight even at the risk of death to secure the kind of "rights" that go with a democracy. They can't figure anyone's hesitating to follow our example.

★ ★ ★

Well, looking at us probably is what confuses those who still are groping with the intricacies of independence. The paradox with which our priceless freedom is stamped must be as difficult for them to comprehend as it is for us to explain.

In some parts of our country there are those who still are denied equal educational opportunities. Some jobs are unavailable to qualified persons because of racial bars. There can be found unreasonable housing restrictions. It is even impossible for some Americans to shop or eat in certain places of business.

But perhaps the greatest incongruity in the eyes of foreign observers is to be found in our elections.

★ ★ ★

The right to vote, to have a say in the conduct of public affairs is purported to be one of the most cherished rights of free men. Americans are said to guard this right of self determination zealously.

It must be a shock for those studying our way of life to discover that some Americans still are deprived of that right.

But an even greater shock must be discovery of the fact that the majority of those who do have the right to vote seldom bother to exercise it. Oh, maybe once every four years. But otherwise most infrequently.

★ ★ ★

If Americans who have the right to vote don't use it, can it be as vital as it has been cracked up to be?

That question must go through the minds of those from other countries. It even is kicked around occasionally among some Americans.

Perhaps it would be less confusing for those who don't understand Americans if instead of talking about the right of free men to vote we extolled the right of not having to bother to vote.

And, of course, you have to be registered before you can decide not to vote.

Congress Raise

Chicago's American

United Press International asked Sen. Barry Goldwater what he thought of the plan of some members of Congress to raise their own pay by $10,000 a year. The UPI question went like this:

"Some senators oppose the $10,000 annual wage increase which has been proposed for members of Congress, saying Congress should first clean its own house of conflicts of interest in institute procedural reforms. What is your position in this matter?"

"I think it is more serious than that," Goldwater replied "To me it seems almost irreconcilable that a Congress in which even the Democrats want to limit wage ceilings in industry would give itself an increase of approximately 50 per cent." And then, agreeing with a criticism which has been made by us, the senator added: "Looking at the present session, I cannot honestly say it has been worth that much more to the taxpayers."

To Future Presidents

Secret Service May Give More Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only agency which can give orders to the President — the Secret Service — may make much greater use of this perogative in the future, an authoritative source reports.

"I expect you'll see the new President under that bubble top a lot more often," he said last night.

By law, the Secret Service has authority to veto a president's plans if deemed unsafe. In practice, however, the Secret Service has usually bowed to the President's wishes and done the best it could.

* * *

Now in the wake of President Kennedy's assassination, the Secret Service and other government officials are making a careful check of precautions in an effort to learn what additional steps can be taken to protect the President and his family.

EASIER TO GUARD

There are indications that President Johnson will be an easier man to guard than was Kennedy, and other presidents, especially in willingness to take orders from the professional bodyguards.

Johnson has seen first hand what can happen.

"Presidents have always thought that they should appear flamboyant, gregarious — perhaps even swashbuckling," a source said. "They had the idea this is the way the American public wanted them to appear. Maybe we're going to get away from this now."

* * *

He said that Kennedy having survived great dangers in World War II may have made him blase about the chance of assassination. There was no outward indication that Kennedy gave any thought to bombs or bullets as he moved about in crowds and frequently walked away, at least momentarily, from the men who guarded him.

COULD KILL

Nevertheless, Kennedy cooperated with the service in taking security precautions. Kennedy himself had remarked that a determined man could kill a president.

"I suppose," the source said, "a glass cover could be built for a car to provide bullet proof protection."

Kennedy permitted the bubble top only when inclement weather was expected. Although the plastic dome provides little protection against a high - velocity bullet at close range, it might deflect a long distance shot, like the ones which killed Kennedy.

A stronger cover still would not be bulletproof in the sense that it would stop an extremely high-powered slug, but it could be designed so that virtually any shot would be deflected.

NO INDICATION

There is still no indication of what, if any, advance security arrangements were made regarding the textbook warehouse from which the fatal bullet was fired.

"I doubt if it would have made any difference if we had doubled our force in Dallas," the source said.

He said he was impressed by the "professionalism of the agents at the scene."

"As far as I know, there had not been a shooting at a president in a car for 30 years," he said. "But the driver did not panic and knew precisely the best route to the nearest hospital.

EXACTLY THE WAY

"You would think that after 30 years they would get pretty lax, but the agents responded in exactly the way they were trained to do.

"The agent who was guarding Johnson did not try to find out what was going on near Kennedy — he took the action he was trained to do. He grabbed Johnson, pushed him down in the seat and covered him with his own body."

Asked about a report that the FBI had known that Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas but had not told the Secret Service, the source said, "That's nonsense.

"The FBI keeps the Secret Service informed about anyone who could possibly be considered a threat to the President. They inform the Service about hundreds of cases, maybe thousands."

JFK Friend Threatened by Telephone

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "Oh, it's just awful and sickening," said an Atlanta widow, Mrs. Jack Kirksey, describing a threatening telephone call she received because she was a friend of President John F. Kennedy.

Police are guarding her now.

Mrs. Kirksey's husband was killed aboard PT109 on Aug. 1, 1943, at the same time Kennedy was injured.

As captain of the craft, it was Kennedy's duty to inform Mrs. Kirksey of her husband's death. He kept in touch with her and contributed to her son's education.

PHONE RANG

She said that the phone rang Saturday night and a man's voice asked: "Are you the Kirksey connected with the Kennedys?"

She said she was and quoted the man as saying: "You'd better stay behind locked doors. We'll deal with you later."

U.S. Newspapers Deplore Dallas Killings

By The Associated Press

The nation's newspapers generally expressed shock and dismay at the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Some editorials also assailed the authorities of Dallas, charging them with laxixty or sensation-seeking.

★ ★ ★

"The misguided, degraded citizen who fired the shot that killed Lee Oswald . . . has placed a serious blot on the record of American justice," said an editorial in a special edition of the Las Vegas, Nev. Review-Journal.

"Dallas authorities are responsible for the Oswald case," said the Omaha World Herald. "It happened because officials undertook to turn the transfer of a suspected murderer into a Roman circus."

VIOLENT THREAD

"Here again," said the Portland, Me., Press Herald, "we have the paradox of America—a country boasting of its unparalleled system of government by law, but with a thread of lawlessness and violence running through its national history. . . ."

Dallas' own newspapers, the Times Herald and News, each called on the city's people to keep calm.

★ ★ ★

"The events of the past few days are beyond belief," said the Times Herald. "Our city is left in the shocked depths of numb disbelief . . . the citizens of Dallas are surely engaging in the greatest spiritual self-examination any American community has undergone in this century."

The News said the people of Dallas "respect the law and the scales of justice. They abhor murder and grieve as any other community would grieve when tragedy leaves its dark clouds . . . there is urgent need for the whole community to settle down to the business of normal living, to relieve its tensions and to banish any feelings of rancor and guilt."

NO JUSTIFICATION

"One crime, however monstrous, and however it may shake the nation and the world, cannot justify another crime," said the Milwaukee Sentinel, "even the shooting of an accused, disreputable assassin . . . if we have faith in the law, we must let the law take its own deliberate course."

"Some called Oswald's end deserved," said the Nashville Tennessean. "Some called it irony. Some called it poetic justice. Irony it may have been, but it was not justice under the law . . . it was as misguided, as senseless and as void of 'solving' anything as was the assassin's action in striking down President Kennedy. . . ."

The New York Times charged that "the Dallas authorities, abetted and encouraged by the newspaper, TV and radio press, trampled on every principle of justice in their handling of Lee H. Oswald. . . .

"After two days of . . . prefindings of guilt, in the electrically emotional atmosphere of a city angered by the president's assassination and not too the vigilante tradition of the old frontier, the jail transfer was made at high noon and with the widest possible advance announcement . . . it was an outrageous breach of police responsibility."

CRIME COMPOUNDED

The New York Herald Tribune said Oswald's killing "has served only to compound a heinous crime. . . .

"Those who applaud the killer on the ground that he gave the suspected assassin his due must share in the disgrace. They do no honor to our late president, to the nation or to the insitutions which President Kennedy fought to uphold."

"Yesterday," said the New York Daily News, "a Dallas citizen climaxed a ghastly weekend in U.S. history by assasinating Oswald.

"You can understand the act. Many of us are convinced that the only good murderer is a dead murderer and the only good Communist a dead Communist.

DUE PROCESS

"Communist murderers in this country, however, like other murderers, should be made dead only by due process of law. . ."

The Long Beach, Calif., Independent, Press-Telegram declared that the shot from a revolver wielded by nightclub proprietor Jack Ruby, which took Oswald's life, "has negated the whole theory of American justice, which requires that those suspected of crimes be tried in courts of law rather than by the vigilance committee.

"Justice is thwarted," added the editorial.

The Miami Herald declared Oswald's death as "another incredible blunder of security—a blunder so fantastic that it almost seemed contrived. . ."

The Herald added that with Oswald "dies the motive of a murder that has staggered the world. With him goes a story which well may have had complications grave for the national security, made even more serious now by an eternal silence."

UNTHINKABLE DECISION

The editorial called it an "unthinkable decision to transfer him (Oswald) from one jail to another as reporters and photographers and loiterers milled around the scene."

The Albuquerque Journal said that "whether every precaution possible was taken to protect the president's life as he rode through Dallas downtown in an open car may never be satisfactorialy answered.

"But," the Journal added, "certainly there can be no excuse for the lack of security which resulted in the shooting to death of the president's alleged slayer. . .

"Dallas is not to be shamed as a city, but certainly shame falls upon the few people who carried the responsibility for what happened."

"Let us Americans conduct a national examination of conscience," said the Providence Journal. "In the last 72 hours, the world has witnessed in shock a display of horrid savagery that shames the greatest free nation in the world . . .

"In these two murders. . . is frightening evidence of the spread of the canker of disrespect of law and of the readiness to resort to violence against those with whom we disgree."

The Baltimore Sun called it "shame heaped upon shame that the man accused of the murder of Mr. Kennedy should himself have been murdered, and that his guilt, or his innocnce, should not have been determined by the orderly processes of the law. . .

"The immediate blame rests with a municipal police force which could not protect a prisoner on its own premises, and which incredibly violated one of the first rules of police custody, the rule that says the moving of a controversial prisoner must not be told in advance to the public.

DEEPER FAULT

"But a deeper fault, a fault we cannot in honesty and decency fail to face, lies in a diseased spot of hate somewhere in our society."

Memorial to President

Crowds Jam Russ Rites

MOSCOW (AP) — Five hundred diplomats and Russians crowded into the little Roman Catholic Church of St. Louis le Francais today to attend a memorial service for President Kennedy.

Bishop Alexei of Tallin, deputy chief of the foreign relations section of the Russian Orthodox Church, headed a delegation of officials from his church. Protocol representatives from the Soviet foreign ministry also attended.

The service was primarily ritual. In the front of the dark little church was a black casket topped by a cross. Columns on either side were draped in black. The Rev. Joseph F. Richard of New Bedford, Mass., who is assigned to Moscow's foreign colony, officiated.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and hiw wife sat in the front row. Chiefs of most Western diplomatic missions also were present.

PROTESTANT SERVICES

Afther the Catholic service, the diplomats drove to Protestant services at Spaso House, Kohler's residence.

The big ballroom of the Embassy residence was converted into a chapel, with black and white crepe draping one end of the long, columned hall. Three members of the Embassy's Marine guard stood at attention on either side of the improvised altar.

A cross and a photograph of President Kennedy stood on the altar. An American flag draped in crepe stood next to the pastor's lectern.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Donald V. Roberts of Buffalo, N.Y., Protestant chaplain of the Moscow diplomatic corps, led the congregation in prayers and reading of scriptures.

The ballroom was filled to overflowing with diplomats, American guides for the U.S. exhibit of graphic art opening in Moscow soon, and American residents of Moscow.

Guns Roar Salutes at Bases in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Big guns roared out final salutes at U.S. bases in Japan today as American servicemen mourned the death of their commander-in-chief.

★ ★ ★

In Yokosuka harbor, the rain-drenched cruiser Providence stood off from shore at dawn and fired a single gun every half-hour in a salute to the late President Kennedy.

Every U.S. base in Japan went into mourning and thousands of the 46,000 American servicemen in this country attended nondenominational prayer services.

All men not holding essential jobs were excused from duty.

Oswald Killing Valuable to Communists

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—The killing of Lee Harvey Oswald was a handsome and highly appreciated gift to the Communist propaganda machine.

★ ★ ★

Within minutes after news of the second Dallas assassination, the machine went into action, depicting Oswald as a martyr shot in an attempt to hide those responsible for President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

"The murderers of President John Kennedy are trying to cover up their traces," said the Soviet news agency Tass. "Now the only person who was accused of killing President Kennedy, the man who until the very end denied implication, has been silenced forever."

STRENGTHENED SUSPICION

Neues Deutschland, the East German Communist party newspaper, told its readers the slaying of Oswald strengthened suspicion that Kennedy was the victim of a conspiracy by right-wing extremists.

Neues Deutschland also suggested that the Dallas police officer allegedly killed by Oswald actually was shot down because he knew too much about men behind the assassination of the President.

★ ★ ★

ADN, the official East German news agency, said "political observers" believed Kennedy's assassination was ordered by extreme right wingers who "tried with all means to put the blame for the murder of Kennedy on the Communists and brand Oswald a Communist."

★ ★ ★

"To impede all further investigations which would reveal the true men behind the assassination of Kennedy, they decided to eliminate Oswald in the fascist manner," ADN said.

REICHSTAG FIRE

The East European press called Oswald "the Van Der Lubbe of 1963," likening him to the Dutch Communist Marius Van Der Lubbe whom the Nazis executed for the 1933 Reichstag fire. It is widely believed the Nazis set the fire themselves to provide an excuse for outlawing the Communist party.

★ ★ ★

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said in an article from New York: "With each hour after the tragic death of Kennedy, we have more and more reason to consider the assassination in Dallas as a well-planned action of fascist sources, of those ultra right-wing and racist circles which are weaving a conspiracy against any step directed at easing international tension, and which try to flood the country with a new dirty wave of reaction."

Among non-Communists, dismay was widespread.

"Shocking, terrible," said a West Berlin businessmen. "Now there won't be a trial and those over there (in East Berlin) will be able to tell whatever lies they like. Many people will believe them."

WHOLE TRUTH

"I don't think we've had the whole truth from Dallas," said a Swede in West Berlin. "It almost seems as if they wanted him killed, just to close the case."

Stephen Barber, special correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, cabled from Dallas that precautions at the police headquarters there were extraordinarily lax.

"During the past 48 hours," he wrote, "I have been able to saunter in and out of the City Hall police headquarters on innumerable occasions without anyone asking to see my White House press card."

State Asked to Aid Fund for Officer

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan was asked yesterday to aid the family of a Dallas, Tex., police officer whose death was all but obscured by the slayings of President Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald.

Herbert Adams, president of the Michigan Fraternal Order of Police, asked Michigan residents to contribute to a memorial fund for the family of policeman J. D. Tippitt.

Tippit was slain shortly after the President, and Dallas police charged Oswald with both slayings.

★ ★ ★

Oswald, in turn, was shot down by Jack Ruby, a striptease club owner.

DETROIT CLUB

Detroit's famed Hundred Club — devoted to financial support of families of Detroit policemen and firemen killed in action — indicated it also may help Tippitt's widow and three children.

Memorial fund donations may be sent to the J. D. Tippitt Fund, care of Sgt. Herbert Adams, Flint Police Department, Flint, Mich. Adams requested that all checks be made out to the fund.

Hoffa Praises JFK as Leader

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the International Teamsters Union, addressing a union local yesterday a few blocks from where a state memorial service was being held for President Kennedy, made only one reference to the assassination.

"Regardless of whether you liked (Kennedy) or didn't like him," Hoffa said, "he was a leader and a man of vision."

In an interview, Hoffa termed U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy "just another lawyer" since the assassination.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa, long a bitter critic of the younger Kennedy, had frequently termed federal cases against him a "personal vendetta" by the attorney general.

A WORD TO THE WISE FROM MISTER OH...
KEEP INDEPENDENT
You keep your freedom of choice with oil heat. Many local fuel oil suppliers compete to provide the service you want. If one fails to satisfy, you can easily call another—a choice you never have when tied to a monopoly fuel. Oil refiners compete with each other, too, which has kept oil cost down while monopoly fuel prices have gone up. Most important, of course, is the family security of an independent oil heating system. There's never a worry about an accident along a pipe line since your burner and fuel are right at hand to keep you warm and cozy.

Farmers to Hear Tax Talk

CAPTURED — The witch grabs Hansel and Gretel when they approach her gingerbread house for closer investigation in the Avon Players' forthcoming children's theater production of the favorite Humperdinck classic. An hour-long version of the play will be staged at 8 p.m. Friday and 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday at Central Junior High School, Rochester. Portraying the title roles are Mrs. Ralph Hothhelfer as Hansel (left) and Mrs. William McVeigh as Gretel. Mrs. Sulo Palmgren plays the witch.

Extension Agent to Give Information on Incomes

The latest information on the farm income tax will be explained at a meeting of Oakland County farm owners and operators next Monday in Pontiac.

Speaker will be Wilbur Dexter, southeast district extension agent in farm management.

Dexter also will describe the operation of the new farm management educational program called "TELFARM." This is the term for "Today's Electronic Farm Records for Management."

★ ★ ★

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Office, 155 N. Saginaw.

ASKS ATTENDANCE

County agriculture agent Jay Poffenberger urges all farm owners and operators to attend.

He said that on Jan. 1 Michigan State University will launch its TELFARM program. The university's $2.5-million data control 36000 computer will help Michigan farmers with key management decisions under the program.

Each month farmers will return business summaries. All figures will be recorded on the data processing equipment. Then, in a matter of minutes, thousands of comparisons and analyses of individual records can be made on the electronic computers.

★ ★ ★

Every quarter, the farmer will receive a summary and also a complete tabulation of the year's business at the end of the year.

GRANT PROVIDED

Farmers will pay an educational fee to share the cost of the program. The Kellogg Foundation has provided a $304,979 grant to emphasize field phases of the plan.

Each participant may select from 10 options in reporting data and in turn receive varying amount of business analysis detail.

The electronic equipment will enable data to be processed rapidly and accurately.

★ ★ ★

This will make it possible for staff members of the university's department of agriculture to concentrate on helping farmers make adjustments rather than merely gathering facts and making business analyses with limited data.

While the program is aimed primarily at the state's commercial farmers, any farmer is eligible to enroll.

11 in State Are Killed in Traffic

By The Associated Press

Eleven Michigan residents died in accidents on state highways during the weekend.

The fatalities were reported by the Associated Press during the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Victims not previously reported:

Bufford Cates, 54, of Detroit, died early yesterday in Outer Drive Hospital, Lincoln Park, of injuries suffered Saturday when his car struck a parked car in Lincoln Park.

★ ★ ★

Charles Gavin, 28, of Milan, was killed yesterday when his car left Oakville-Waltz Road on a curve and struck a pole 12 miles west of Flat Rock in Monroe County.

TWO-CAR CRASH

Delores Prosser, 29, of Battle Creek, was killed yesterday morning in a two-car collision in Calhoun County.

Tansil Gannon, 54, of Montrose was killed in a head-on collision with another car on M57 in Genesee County near Flint yesterday.

Beverly Young, 18, of rural Delton was killed Saturday when the car in which she was a passenger missed a curve north of Prairieville in Berry County and rolled over. Three other teen-aged girls in the car were injured.

★ ★ ★

Arnie Leinonen, 40, of Kearsarge was killed on Trap Rock Valley Road near Calumet in Houghton County Saturday. Police said his wife, Rebbeca, was driving when the car went off the road. The door flew open and Leinonen was pinned to an embankment, police said.

Annual Event Tonight by Job's Daughters

CLARKSTON—Bethel No. 25, Job's Daughters, will hold its annual Stars and Masons Night 7 p.m. today at the Masonic Temple.

Besides honoring area Masons and Eastern Star members, Job's Daughters also will initiate a class of new members.

The cork oak tree is recognized for its branches.

1,624 Dead in Traffic

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents in Michigan have killed 1,624 persons so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,440.

NEWS OF THE AREA

WINDOW DEDICATED — Troy City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart and Mrs. Lockhart view the window behind the chancel of Big Beaver Methodist Church. It was dedicated yesterday in memory of their son, James L. Jr., who was killed in an auto accident last fall.

Salary Boost Eyed in Troy

TROY — At tomorrow night's meeting the City Commission will consider amending the charter to allow a proposed $10-per-meeting pay hike for commissioners.

Troy's Charter Revision Committee has approved the meeting raises, however the committee did not increase the total amount allowed per year.

In other business the commission will discuss rezoning the southwest corner of Stephenson and 15 Mile (Maple) for a K-Mart department store.

City Planners Vilican-Leman & Associates of Southfield have recommended against the rezoning.

TRAFFIC CONFLICT

The firm's opinion is based on grounds that traffic from the commercial business will conflict with industrial traffic patterns, and rezoning would disrupt the city's master plan.

The planning commission was evenly split on the issue.

In other business tomorrow the commission will consider rezoning property east of Livernois and south of Maple.

★ ★ ★

Also up for airing is an ordinance which would increase the minimum house size in two of the city's single-family residential districts.

Vegetable Growers to Gather in Lansing

Internationally-known vegetable authorities will report on their industry's research results and marketing problems when the Vegetable Growers Association of America convenes at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing, Dec. 9 — 12.

The program will feature Michigan's Gov. Romney as keynote speaker.

Topics to be presented range from "Agricultural Uses of Peat in Europe" to "Controlled Atmosphere Plant Growing."

Speaking on the peat situation abroad, Dr. Robert E. Lucas, Michigan State University soil scientist, will point out that the success of Russia's "agricultural revolution" may very well depend upon the success of her peat industry.

★ ★ ★ ★

Dr. Lucas recently returned from a visit to the Soviet Union where he learned that the Russians plan to produce 130 million tons of peat by 1965 for use as fertilizer. This compares with only one million tons used in the U.S.

ON AGENDA

"Controlled Atmosphere Plant Growing" will be the topic of Dr. Sylvan H. Wittwer, MSU horticulturist.

By feeding carbon dioxide to plants at three to 10 times normal levels, Wittwer has produced lettuce plants that reached market maturity 10 to 14 days earlier with 10 to 20 per cent increase in weight and tomatoes that are one-half to one ounce larger. Cucumbers also doubled their number of potential fruit-bearing flowers while producing plants that are twice their normal size.

Besides Drs. Lucas and Wittwer, seven other MSU staff members will participate in the annual vegetable growers conference.

★ ★ ★

Vegetable growers, processors and market representatives — plus staff members from the universities of Missouri, Ohio State and Purdue — will also be on hand.

The University of Michigan was the first institution of higher learning in the west to have a medical school occupy is own building, in 1849.

School Boards Plan to Meet

All of the school boards in the county which had meetings slated for tonight were continuing with their plans this morning.

However, most of the municipalities and townships canceled or postponed meetings of their governing bodies.

The Lake Orion Village Council will meet as scheduled, but the Milford Village Council has canceled its meeting.

★ ★ ★

The Troy City Commission will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 and the Farmington Township Board at 10 a.m. Saturday rather than tonight.

Boards of education planning to meet are South Lyon Community, Utica and Farmington.

Interfaith Rite Set Thanksgiving Eve

LAKE ORION — An interfaith Thanksgiving service will be held at 7:30 Thanksgiving Eve in the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

All churches of the community have been invited to participate.

★ ★ ★

Those indicating a willingness to take part are Howarth Methodist Church, St. Alfred's Episcopal Church, St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church and the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

Rev. Merton Stevens, district superintendent of the Port Huron District of the Methodist Church, will be the preacher.

Travelogue in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Lions Club will offer the second in its current travelogue series at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in St. John Lutheran Church.

James Forshee of Ann Arbor will show his film entitled "Holiday in the Canadian Rockies."

Tickets are available from Lions Club members, at Mitzelfeld's department store or at the door.

Against Official's Reinstatement

Avon Supervisor to Continue Battle

AVON TOWNSHIP — Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller has decided to continue his fight against reinstatement of Lawrence Porter, the building inspector he transferred two months ago.

Speaking in reply to a letter from the Michigan Township Association that criticized his action, Miller said "I am certainly going to see if I can hold this thing as it is."

Miller demoted Porter to the job of handling maintenance duties at the township cemetery on July 22. By doing so he started a battle which is still undecided.

★ ★ ★

HEATED DEBATE

After a heated debate on the issue, the board and Miller agreed to follow the decision rendered by either the state attorney general's office or the Michigan Township Association.

"I will certainly contest this decision, because I didn't fire Porter," Miller said.

The supervisor says he wants a copy of the letter which Township Attorney Lewis R. Bebout sent to the Michigan Township Association.

★ ★ ★

"The association's reply says I can't fire Porter, but I didn't. I want to know if the letter to them asks about trying to combine jobs for more economy."

BOARD ACTION

Bebout said the letter indicated that "action of the board would be required in this issue," but didn't clarify whether he had asked the association for an opinion on firing or on transfering employes.

Miller also said he might see what the state attorney general's office had to say about the issue.

Bebout had not applied for the state opinion. "It's not easy to get the opinion of the attorney general," he contended.

★ ★ ★

Before Miller does anything, he is going to wait for the outcome of Wednesday's special meeting of the board, he said.

WHAT IS DONE

"My action is going to depend on what is done Wednesday." Miller said Porter would be asked to attend the 4 p.m. session.

Miller won one round of the controversy earlier, when the township board abolished a two-week-old Employment Board of Review it had established.

The review board was set up to hear employe grievances at periodic meetings.

★ ★ ★

Miller, referring to a letter from the Michigan Township Association, said the state attorney general has previously ruled such a committee was unconstitutional.

Keith PTA to Meet Later

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The organizational meeting of the Keith Elementary School PTA scheduled for tonight has been postponed.

It will be held at 8 tomorrow night in the multipurpose room of Union Lake School, 8289 Commerce Road, Commerce Township.

Rolland Langerman, assistant superintendent of Walled Lake Consolidated Schools, will brief parents on the opening of the new school before the group considers PTA bylaws and elects officers.

Billie Marie Shepard Wed in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — In a Saturday evening ceremony at Walled Lake Methodist Church, Billie Marie Shepard became the bride of Richard G. Sever.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo R. Shepard, 150 Wanda. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Beard of Ann Arbor.

MRS. RICHARD G. SEVER

The bodice of the bride's lace gown was trimmed with sequins and pearls. The floor - length skirt ended in a short train.

★ ★ ★

A pearl crown held her fingertip veil, and she carried white Fuji mums entwined with ivy.

MATRON OF HONOR

Matron of honor for the ceremony was Mrs. Richard Kay of Walled Lake. Mrs. Barbara Ham and the bride's sister, Mrs. Ronald Martin, both of Walled Lake, were bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was David McCarty of Livonia. The guests were seated by Larry and Tom Sever of Ypsilanti, cousins of the bridegroom and Dennis Marshall of Walled Lake.

Twins Vanessa and Vanricky McCarty attended as flower girl and ring bearer.

Following a reception in the UAW Hall, Wixom, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to New York.

Clarkston Blaze Rips Auto Shop

CLARKSTON—A local automobile bump and paint shop was partially gutted early Saturday morning by fire.

Independence Township firemen said it had not been determined what caused the blaze at Bill Spence's repair garage at Waldron and M15.

Four cars were damaged from heat and smoke.

★ ★ ★

Firemen were able to confine the blaze to one section of the L-shaped building. It housed a paint booth.

People Around the World Flock to Services

LONDON (AP)—Governments and men and women around the world joined today in mourning services for President John F. Kennedy. Their grief was mixed with shock and astonishment at the assassination of Lee H. Oswald.

They started in the Far East, where Nov. 25 first dawned, and followed around the globe as it turned to the sun.

Only in Communist China was there no official observance of the President's funeral. The Chinese Reds reported Kennedy's death Friday, but made no comment on it. Sunday, however, they assailed President Johnson, saying he supported reactionary policies under Kennedy.

Thousands of American soldiers attended memorial services in South Korea. Most of the 50,000 GIs were taken off duty but troops on the front lines kept to their bunkers and hilltop positions.

Japanese Emperor Hirohito sent Crown Prince Akihito and Crown Princess Michiko to memorial services at Tokyo's St. Ignatius church. Jotaro Kawakami, chairman of the opposition Socialist party, joined government officials and leaders of Japan's American community at the service. The government ordered the Japanese flag flown at half staff over all government buildings.

At U.S. bases throughout Japan the big guns roared final salutes over the heads of 50,000 servicemen and their dependents, assembled in a cold rain.

The Japanese, whose history is liberally sprinkled with political assassinations, reacted with shock to the killing of Oswald.

"The whole world has gone mad," said a Tokyo barber. "Everybody thinks he can kill anyone he wants."

Most of the 10,000 Americans on Formosa attended religious services for the President. Thousands of Chinese joined them. Nationalist China's flags were at half staff.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru and President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan attended a memorial service at the U.S. Embassy in New Delhi. Then Nehru drove to Parliament to eulogize Kennedy. Both houses adjourned after members stood in silent homage.

Westerners in Moscow paid their respects to Kennedy's memory at Protestant services at Spaso House, residence of U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler, and at Catholic rites at the Soviet capital's one small Roman Catholic church, St. Louis Francais.

★ ★ ★

Communist propaganda organs reacted immediately to the news of Oswald's killing with charges that he had been slain to cover up the real authors of Kennedy's assassination. The Red press and radio attributed both killings to extreme rightwingers.

The Italian tricolor flew at half staff for the third day, and unions throughout Italy scheduled five-minute pauses of respect for the dead American.

The Italian television network canceled its programs until late afternoon, when it planned to reopen with a telecast of the President's funeral. Theaters and other public entertainments were closed. Schoolteachers interrupted their classes to talk to their students about Kennedy's life and works.

Defiantly Denied Guilt to End

By MIKE COCHRAN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The name of Lee Harvey Oswald, echoed around the world, never will be forgotten.

He was shot down while accused of one of the most dastardly crimes in the nation's history.

★ ★ ★

The defiant young man never even had a chance to clear his name.

Oswald, 24, a self-styled Communist, was assassinated 48 hours after the President's life ebbed away in a Dallas hospital.

LAST STATEMENT

Among his last statements was this declaration to officers, to newsmen and to the world: "I didn't kill anybody!"

Oswald died very much a mystery man. Although much was learned of his lonely, tragic life, much more remained unknown.

★ ★ ★

He was a Communist, a Marxist and a Cuban sympathizer. He renounced his U.S. citizenship in 1959 and said he wanted to live in the Soviet Union, only to seek and receive a government loan to return to the United States in 1962.

In the Soviet Union, he married a Russian girl, and from this marriage two children were born.

WIDOWED MOTHER

Investigators found after his arrest that he had a widowed mother living in nearby Fort Worth, that his wife and children lived with friends in suburban Irving and that he lived alone in an $8-a-week rented room in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

He visited his family on weekends and it is said that he discussed political philosophy neither with his wife nor the family which befriended him.

★ ★ ★

Acquaintances described him in a number of ways.

"A peculiar man. He didn't care for people," said his housekeeper.

★ ★ ★

"Defiant and arrogant," said police.

INTROVERT, BOOKISH

"An introvert. Bookish, a loner," said a sixth-grade teacher.

"A quiet kind of guy," said his last employer.

"A man mad at the world," was another description.

His wife said he was a good husband, a good father.

FANTASTIC EVIDENCE

Could this man hate so deeply and bitterly that he could kill a president?

The evidence that he could, and did, is fantastic.

Buy why?

It is said that he deeply resented being born into poverty. He was embittered because his mother was forced, at times, to live on public welfare aid.

He announced proudly that he believed in the Communist doctrine. He actively supported the Cuban position and its bearded leader, Fidel Castro.

SERVICE DISCHARGE

Maybe he became disenchanted when he was discharged from the Marine Corps as undesirable, although he said he had become interested in Marxism at the age of 15.

He appealed while in Moscow that his designation as an undesirable be reversed. The appeal fell on deaf ears.

★ ★ ★

It is difficult to believe that one, or all, of these could have motivated a man to gun down the President of the United States.

Investigation eventually may confirm his guilt beyond question.

It is doubtful, however, the world ever really will know why.

OSWALD SLAYER — Girlie-show club owner Jack Ruby pushed past guards at Dallas City Jail yesterday and mortally wounded Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy. Oswald died in the same hospital in which the President died last Friday.

Sweden's industries produce 60 to 65 per cent more goods than prior to World War II.

Tragedy Engulfs Third Birthday of President's Son

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I want a flag to take home to my daddy."

Those were the words of John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., who is 3 years old today.

The little boy was seen by millions of people clutching the tiny American flag in his fist as he walked down the 36 steps of the Capitol yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He got the flag in the speaker's office for the tall man with laughing blue eyes who used to love him and pet him and take him on helicopter rides. The President who is no more.

GOT RESTLESS

John-John, as his father affectionately called him, was taken there when he got restless in the Rotunda where he had to be so still and couldn't break loose from his mother's firm hold.

His father, who was rarely still, would have understood.

John Jr. is expected to go to Arlington Cemetery today when the daddy he adored is laid to rest with other Americans who served their country. He has been there before and he has heard the sound of taps.

★ ★ ★

The President took his son to Arlington on Veterans Day, only two weeks ago, to honor the war dead. The youngster charmed the nation by saluting the men in uniform and attempting to fall in step with his father.

LITTLE PARTY

Today when there should be rejoicing for John Jr., there is sadness for him. He was to have a little birthday party tomorrow to celebrate with his playmates. He may still have that. His father would have wanted it.

John Jr. has been in the national limelight since the day he was born on Nov. 25, 1960.

It was Thanksgiving Day and his father was the President-elect.

His birth made headlines when his mother was rushed to Georgetown Hospital in a dramatic race with the stork, and his father turned around on a flight to Palm Beach, Fla., to fly back after his birth.

★ ★ ★

The first two years of his life were secluded. His mother wanted to protect his privacy.

MOST ATTENTION

His sister, Caroline, who will be 6 years old Wednesday, got most of the attention. She was the apple of her daddy's eye.

But in the last six months, a bond of mutual affection and mutual joy had sprung up between the President and his son. John Jr. used to walk him to the office in the West Wing in the morning, talking a blue streak about his toys, mostly about helicopters.

He liked to crawl under the President's desk, beg chewing gum from receptionist Dave Powers and rock fast in his daddy's famous rocker.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes he met world figures. At least he used to see a lot of them from the White House balcony with bands playing and his father standing at military attention.

WAS LOYAL TOO

He was loyal, too. When President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived on the White House lawn, John-John was up on the balcony shouting "We want Kennedy. We want Kennedy."

When he was kept out of his father's office and told that the Soviet Foreign Minister "Mr. Gromyko" was inside, he shouted from secretary Evelyn Lincoln's office "Gromyko, Gromyko."

The playground he shared with his sister and playmates will go down in history. His curiosity, inquisitiveness, cute remarks, his day-to-day growing up, his squeals that reverberated in the West Wing soon will be no more.

★ ★ ★

And children everywhere will think less about the White House because John-John and Caroline are no longer there.

LAST TIME

The little boy saw his father alive for the last time Thursday when he jauntily boarded a helicopter with his parents for a ride to Andrews Air Force Base. They went on to Texas and to a tragic fate.

The fallen President gave his son a White House beginning and a love that knows no end.

Halleck Says Adjourn to Give LBJ a Breather

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax reduction and civil rights, President John F. Kennedy's top legislative proposals, appeared likely today to be temporarily sidetracked by a drive to adjourn Congress and give President Johnson a breathing spell.

The push for early adjournment was led by House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and had substantial backing from members of both parties who believe Congress should adjourn and engage in no more bickering this year. The two pending proposals are the most controversial in Congress.

'SHOULD ADJOURN'

Halleck's adjournment target is Dec. 14. Democratic leaders have called for continuation of the session until Jan. 3, with a Christmas recess of two weeks. Jan. 3 is the date for opening of the next session of the present Congress.

"We should expedite what we have to do and adjourn," Halleck said in an interview. "Let's give the new President time to get his feet on the ground."

The vehicle for Halleck's adjournment drive is a resolution to provide temporary financing for federal agencies whose appropriations for the present fiscal year have not been made. It is the fourth such resolution since the fiscal year started on July 1 and comes before the House Tuesday.

The new measure would provide funds for the month of December. Halleck will attempt to change the date probably to next Jan. 31 on the assumption that Congress could dispose of other necessary measures between now and Dec. 14.

"I see no reason why we can't do the things that must be done and adjourn by Dec. 14," Halleck said.

GIVE UP HOPE

Democratic leaders already have all but officially given up hope of action this year on civil rights and tax legislation but feel that Congress should remain in session as long as there is any chance for action.

The House has passed a tax reduction bill which is bogged down in the Senate Finance Committee. The House Judiciary Committee has approved a civil rights measure which is being bottled up in the Rules Committee.

Neither measure would die if Congress quits soon, since the 1964 session is a continuance of this year's and all unfinished business retains its position on the docket of the next session.

President Johnson's address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday is not expected to clear up the disturbed congressional waters. Johnson, those close to him predict, will emphasize the need for national unity rather than attempt to prod Congress to act immediately on the unfinished program of his predecessor.

Isolated Jurors Just Learn of Assassination

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The news of President Kennedy's assassination came to 12 jurors here for the first time when they emerged from four days of isolation Saturday night.

The men, who had been deliberating a second degree murder trial, were told of the President's death by Circuit Court Judge Herbert Steffes.

The reaction, like the rest of the nation was shock.

Several jurors caught their breath. One man uttered, "No." Another man's hands flew to his face.

Mighty and Meek Pay Tribute to Courage

An Avenue of Tears

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mournful beat of muffled drums. The slow clip clop of the horse caisson moving down Pennsylvania Avenue. Caroline and John pressing their faces against the back window of the slow rolling limousine. The silent staring masses shuffling past the flag-draped coffin in the great rotunda of the Capitol.

Tragic and unforgettable, these images of grief shimmer in the air today as the nation observes a day of solemn mourning to mark the funeral of its assassinated leader, John F. Kennedy.

* * *

Down an avenue of stifled sobs and open tears, he had passed Sunday on his final journey from the White House to the Capitol, retracing in reverse the route he traveled on the occasion of his triumphant inaugural less than three years before.

A crowd of 300,000, packed tight to the building line along the famous street, doffed their caps and bowed their heads as the black draped caisson, pulled by six white horses and led by a seventh, rolled in stately procession along the mile-long route.

RIDERLESS HORSE

Just behind pranced the riderless horse, symbol of the slain warrior, with its pair of empty cavalry boots reversed in the stirrups and a saber in a silver scabbard swinging from its saddle. Led by a military man, the dark bay horse was Mrs. Kennedy's Sardar.

Next came a single sailor carrying the personal flag of the President, then Mrs. Kennedy and the children riding in a limousine with President and Mrs. Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. At one point in the procession, Robert Kennedy lifted John, whose third birthday is today, onto his knee. Mrs. Kennedy clutched Caroline's hand.

Ahead of the caisson bearing the casket marched an honor guard composed of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the commandants of the Marine Corps and Coast Guard, clergymen of the three major faiths, and a company of Navy enlisted men, who marched in memory of the young Navy lieutenant and war hero who became their commander in chief.

Perched on top of monuments, peering down from rooftops, clustered in the bare branches of the trees like so many huge starlings, the mourners covered every advantageous viewing place on the Capitol grounds.

FINAL ASCENT

John F. Kennedy's final ascent up the broad Capitol steps he had once climbed as a young congressman and senator and then as the youngest man ever elected president were marked by the distant booming of a 21-gun salute and the slow strains of a service band playing "Hail to the Chief."

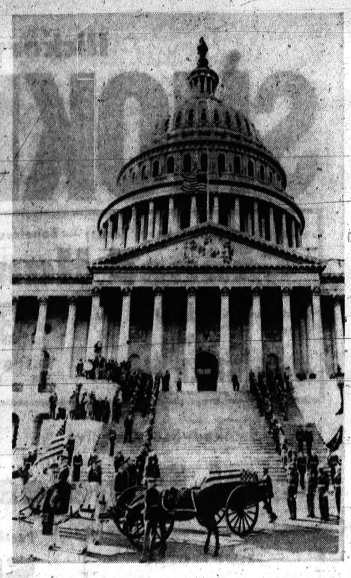
Erect and staring straight ahead, Mrs. Kennedy followed the casket up the steps, leading the children by the hand.

As Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Chief Justice Earl Warren and House Speaker John McCormack intoned the eulogies over the public address system, the crowd began forming itself into a long line, waiting its turn to move into the rotunda and file past the flag-draped coffin.

It was the same spontaneity of affection that had caused thousands to break through the police barriers and join in line behind the funeral cortege as it moved down Pennsylvania Avenue. Nothing like it had ever happened before at a presidential funeral.

SOLEMN FACES

All through the night people came to the Capitol. With slow steps and solemn faces they filed past the bier.



Known, Unknown in Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way to John Fitzgerald Kennedy's grave, below the brow of an Arlington hill, leads first past the memorial to another president who also fell to an assassin's gun — Abraham Lincoln.

In his eternal sleep, the fallen commander-in-chief will have many companions. Some of the 126,000 cluster close to this hitherto reserved and beautiful open area in Arlington National Cemetery.

The man who shaped history and died in doing it will have the company of famous men.

There are Gens. John J. Pershing of World War I, Jonathan Wainwright of Bataan's death march, Leonard Wood who rode with Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders in the Spanish-American War. The graves of admirals bear the names of William T. Sampson who devised the tactics which destroyed the Spanish fleet and Adm. William Halsey of World War II sea battles in the Pacific.

Statesmen are there, too: President William Howard Taft; George C. Marshall, soldier and secretary of state; John Foster Dulles, secretary of state; William Jennings Bryan.

Maj. Pierre Charles L'Enfant, who planned the capital city, now lies in Arlington.

World Leaders Gather

WASHINGTON (AP) — A solemn procession of the world's mighty—some of them nearly twice the age of the slain young President of the United States—streamed into Washington to pay homage to John F. Kennedy.

They arrived, sometimes in twos and threes, somber and unsmiling, expressing the grief of their countrymen and wishing Lyndon B. Johnson, the new President, well.

At modernistic Dulles International Airport in the Virginia countryside south of the capital, hundreds of Americans stood six deep behind barriers Sunday to watch jets deposit their important cargo. Long after the blue of a chill Sunday afternoon had given way to night, the arrivals continued.

* * *

Fifty - three countries were represented in all. There were a dozen members of ruling families, 26 presidents and heads of state, 30 foreign ministers and five defense ministers.

MARCH BEHIND

This morning, they march behind the caisson carrying Kennedy's body from the White House to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral for the funeral.

After the burial in Arlington Cemetery, Mrs. Kennedy receives the foreign emissaries at the White House. In late afternoon, Johnson greets them at the State Department. Tuesday the President plans to confer with some of them.

One of the first to arrive at Dulles was France's President Charles de Gaulle, who celebrated his 73rd birthday anniversary last Friday, the day an assassin's bullets snuffed out the life of Kennedy at 46.

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan was named Premier Khrushchev's personal representative. From behind the Iron Curtain also came representatives of Poland, Romania and Hungary. Yugoslavia was represented, too.

De GAULLE

CANADA LEADER

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson represented Canada, the United States' friend to the north, and Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, Mexico, the friend to the south. Outside the United States, Pearson said, "I don't think there is any country that feels a greater sense of loss with the death of Kennedy than Canada itself."

* * *

From Britain came Prince Philip, wearing a simple dark business suit and black necktie, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Sir David Ormsby Gore, British ambassador to the United States and an old friend of the late President.

From West Germany, another ally, came President Heinrich Luebke, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, Defense Minister Kai Uwe von Hassel and Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

From Belgium came slender young King Baudouin, from Greece Queen Frederika, from South Korea President Chung Hee Park, from Ethiopia Emperor Haile Selassie, from Italy Foreign Minister Attilio Ticcioni, from Turkey Premier Ismet Inonu and from the Netherlands Crown Princess Beatrix.

Crown Prince George of Denmark said Danes and Europe were "shocked and horrified" by the assassination. Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, declared "this is the most horrible reason for coming to Washington."

Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda told Rusk, "I have no words to express my sympathy." Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi of the United Arab Republic said of Kennedy's death: "We should all endeavor to serve his memory by deeds in line with his valorous service toward a better and more constructive humanity."

Among those whose arrival bore a special meaning was Eamon De Valera of Ireland, 81 and with failing eyesight.

Last June, the Irish-descended Kennedy visited Ireland and now De Valera, accompanied by his two sons, Vivian and Brian, was reciprocating under heart-rending circumstances.

Cuban Exiles Present Tribute for Kennedy

MIAMI (AP) — One flower at a time, a dramatic floral tribute offered by Cuban exiles, grew today in honor of President John F. Kennedy.

The Cubans went to Miami's torch of friendship carrying the flowers. The idea of a gigantic floral offering appeared spontaneously yesterday throughout the colony. The torch is a stone pillar atop which burns an eternal gas flame. It is a symbol of friendship between Miamians and Latin Americans.

Veteran Gave Bow to Others

Kennedy at the Tomb of Unknowns Nov. 11

WASHINGTON (AP)—Exactly two weeks ago President Kennedy stood bareheaded before the Tomb of the Unknowns, listening thoughtfully to the mournful drum roll and the sad notes of taps.

* * *

Today he returns to Arlington National Cemetery and this time the somber sounds are for him.

Kennedy, a decorated Navy veteran of World War II, drove to Arlington on that bright, cloudless Nov. 11 to do honor to the men who died in the nation's wars.

TO PLAY DOWN

On that Veterans Day, although leading the nation's official observance, the President seemed to want to play down his role.

It was almost as if he didn't wish to attract attention from the dazzling white tomb symbolizing the hundreds of thousands of war dead, or the rank of aging veterans behind him representing the millions still living.

* * *

Kennedy, in a sober gray suit and gray tie, strode quickly to the tomb. Keeping brisk step at his side was Gen. David M. Shoup, the Marine commandant.

Aided by a dress-uniformed Army sergeant, the President placed in front of the tomb a wreath of red and white carnations and red, white and blue ribbons.

STEPPED BACK

The President stepped back a pace, ranging himself beside Shoup once more. A lone Army drummer beat a funeral roll. A single bugler sounded taps.

Kennedy's gaze never left the tomb, his eyes crinkling at the corners against the sun glare in his face.

* * *

At one point, Medal of Honor winner Luther Skaggs introduced the President and appeared to offer Kennedy the floor.

The President passed up the unspoken invitation. He stood, bobbed his head, nodded and smiled to the applauding 5,000 in the amphitheater. Then he sat down and later slipped out as unobtrusively as he could.

Policeman Also Has Rites Today

DALLAS (UPI) —Three hours after the last muffled drum tap and the last volley echoes over vast Arlington Cemetery today, across the Potomac from Washington, another body will be lowered into the earth here.

There will be far less ceremony.

Patrolman J. D. Tippitt, 39, devoted husband and father, will be buried in Laurel Land Memorial Park after services in the Beckley Hills Baptist Church on the south edge of Dallas.

Less than an hour after President Kennedy was shot, Tippitt, an 11-year-veteran on the force, was shot twice by a pistol. Police say there is no doubt — Lee Harvey Oswald shot President Kennedy and he shot J. D. Tippitt.

* * *

He used the initials, not a first name.

Tippitt had spotted Oswald in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas and had pulled his cruiser over to the curb. He got out of the car. The gunman fired. Tippitt fell dead.

NO INSURANCE

He made $490 a month. Dallas police have no insurance. They are not covered by social security. But his widow will receive $225 a month from the police retirement fund. And donations running into thousands of dollars have been pouring in.

There are three children to support: Allan, 14, Brenda, 10, and Curtis, 4.

Half the $225 will be for Tippitt's widow Marie. The other is for the children. They lose their payments when they are 18, if she remarries.

Tippitt will be the footnote in the history books. But Marie recalled him as a generous, hard-working husband, a devoted family man, a devout Christian.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy called Mrs. Tippitt after the shootings to express the family's regret. Mrs. Tippitt, through her own tears, thought of Jacqueline Kennedy and expressed her own condolences.

Neighbors rushed in with food, to take all burdens off Mrs. Tippitt.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE DESERT

QUESTION: Where do desert animals find water to drink?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: It is amazing how animals and plants can exist on the very small amounts of water they can get in a desert, for all living things need moisture.

The answer is that nature has worked out many ingenious ways for desert plants and animals to get and to conserve water.

The camel doesn't sweat like other animals and so a drink of water lasts him a long time. Deserts are hot, and heat means thirst, so many animals burrow underground during the heat of the day and come out in the cooler nighttime.

Many beetles have a tight round shell which holds moisture in, and hard scales and shells do the same job for reptiles.

The internal anatomy of many desert animals is arranged so they can get all the moisture they need from the plant or animal food they eat; many can go without drinking for weeks and months.

Desert plants either send down long tap roots to reach some underlying source of moisture, like the Yuccas and Mesquite, or have wide spreading root systems like the Saguaro castus, which enables them to catch every possible drop when the rare showers do fall.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Our picture shows evening shadows lengthening on the desert; as it gets cooler, the animals are coming out. We see a coyote, a gecko lizard, a rattlesnake, tortoise and jack rabbit. But there are four other animals. Can you find them?

Seeking Killer of Miami Child

10-Year-Old's Body in Clump of Bushes

MIAMI (UPI) — A heavy force of detectives was put on 24-hour duty today in an intensified search for the sex-slayer of a 10-year-old girl.

The body of brown-haired Loreen Thorbahn, was found in a clump of bushes on the city's outskirts Saturday and police said the case closely resembled the death of a 19-year-old retarded girl in the same area a month ago.

Police said the little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thorbahn, died of massive blows on the skull.

Lt. Hank Selsky of the Dade County (Miami) Police Department, said the little girl was only partially clothed when she was found.

A search for Loreen was started Thursday after she was last seen that afternoon by her mother. Mrs. Thorbahn said she talked to Loreen's teacher while the little girl started the half mile walk home from Coral Reef elementary school.

When Mrs. Thorbahn returned home, Loreen was not there, and the Thorbahn's other three children said they had not seen her. She called police.

Pvt. George Campbell, 22, one of 103 soldiers called in for the search, found the body in a dense growth of tropical palmetto trees and weeds not far from the Thorbahn home.

★ ★ ★

Other searchers discovered what appeared to be a pool of blood 50 feet away. Police theorized that Loreen may have been slain elsewhere and dumped into the clump of bushes by her assailant.

Lt. Selsky said that 50 detectives had been assigned to the case and that it closely resembled the death of Cheryl Armel, 19, whose body was found Oct. 6 in the same general area of Dade County.

Newest Cards Would Please Even Scrooge

Scrooge himself, even without Tiny Tim, couldn't resist the appeal of new 1963 Christmas card designs which portray the sentiment and traditions of an old-fashioned Christmas.

While this season's Christmas cards gain a delightful freshness from new art styles, their themes remain staunchly traditional.

The most popular designs are those portraying familiar and well-loved Yule-tide symbols—candles, holly, mistletoe, Christmas trees and lots of snow.

★ ★ ★

"These themes are favorites because they still express most people's ideal of Christmas," observes Mrs. Jeanette Lee, design director of Hallmark. "The symbols add to a greeting a sense of tradition and the good will of centuries."

REPRODUCE ART

Designs depicting the religious significance of the season continue on the upswing.

Accompanying the religious art are simple, brief verses that convey a Christmas message or a wish for the season.

Many of the cards bear reproductions of the works of El Greco, Boticelli, Breugel, Rembrandt, Fra Angelico, Giotto, Leonardo da Vinci and Holbein, and such modernists as Rouault, Dufy, Picasso, Van Goh, Matisse, Monet, Renoir and Cezanne.

★ ★ ★

Joining the classic paintings are the writing of W. H. Auden, Paul Engle, Ogden Nash, Archibald MacLeish, Richard Wilbur, Sara Teasdale, Winfield Townley Scott, Father James Keller, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and others.

Because Christmas is for children, greetings with games, story books that burst into three-dimensional scenes, and cards that can be made into tree ornaments or Christmas mobiles are included in the selection.

Among greeting card trends in evidence this year is the informal approach, notes James Fales of Norcross. There's gentle whimsy in these informals."

KNEELING IN PRAYER

One card shows a small child kneeling in prayer. Inside is the simple message, "Bless you." Another, picturing a cute mouse, says, "Merry Christmas, Dreamboat."

★ ★ ★

Colorful studio cards often take glitter and inside detail, and the humour is more mellow.

A card showing an elfin character asks, "Wanna know sump'n? I like you better than Santa Claus even!"

Among modern religious designs on Norcross cards is a white angel drawn on vellum-like stock bordered in gold.

Another pictures the Three Kings, in the manner of an oil.

Sen. Hart Tells His Holdings

Supports Measure to Force Disclosure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., made public his personal stock holdings yesterday. The voluntary move was spurred by Hart's support of a bill which would compel congressmen to disclose their finances.

Hart told reporters his outside interests in 13 companies yield $5,500 to $6,000 yearly. He did not release the stock holdings of his wife, who receives income from a trust fund set up by her father, the late Walter O. Briggs, founder of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. in Detroit. Hart said neither he nor his wife has control of the stock dealings of administrators of the trust fund.

The list of personal stock holdings released by Hart's staff include:

★ ★ ★

ANNUAL SALARY

Hart's annual salary as a senator is $22,500.

★ ★ ★

The bill that won Hart's support was introduced by Sens. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore.; Francis Case, R-S.D.; and Joseph Clark, D-Penn.

★ ★ ★

The bill has gained support recently in Congress because of the controversy surrounding the financial dealings of Bobby Baker, ex-secretary to Senate Democrats.

Wife of Former Aide to Sen. Ferguson Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Mode, 42, wife of Douglas Mode, who was once executive assistant to the late Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, died yesterday in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mode was secretary to Chicago Daily News Publisher Frank Knox when John S. Knight, editor of the Detroit Free Press, purchased the newspaper.

Two Survivors in State

ANN ARBOR (AP)— President Kennedy's survivors included two cousins in Michigan. Mrs. John B. DeVine, 37, of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Richard J. Clasby, 31, of Huntington Woods. Both were in mourning today.

McGuire Sisters Robbed at Hotel

BOSTON (AP)—Thieves entered hotel rooms occupied by two of the singing McGuire sisters yesterday and stole furs and jewelry valued at $32,000.

The robberies were discovered when the sisters returned to the hotel from a singing engagement.

★ ★ ★

The sisters—Christine, Dorothy and Phyllis—occupied separate rooms at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel. Thieves entered Christine's room on the sixth floor and Dorothy's on the third. Phyllis' room was untouched.

Many Reasons Given Why Ruby Would Kill Oswald

By WILBUR MARTIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "A Guys and Dolls' character, that's Jack Ruby."

"He's like a boxer whose nose never got broken."

* * *

He's the man millions watching television Sunday saw gun down Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused killer of President Kennedy.

The striptease club operator has a "million friends in show business" and a lot of ex-business associates. Most peg him in a different way.

WILL DEFEND HIM

"I don't think political affiliation had anything to do with Ruby's action," said attorney Tom Howard, who will defend him on a murder charge.

"I don't think Ruby has any political affiliation — Democratic or Republican — or if he even knew which he was."

* * *

His sister, Eva Grant, said he was badly shaken by Kennedy's death.

"He couldn't eat Friday. He kept talking about Jackie and the Kennedy kids."

OVER PHONE

"I'm crying. I can't take it." That's what Al Gruber, a friend in Los Angeles, said Ruby told him over the telephone early Sunday in talking about the Kennedy shooting.

Jack Ruby, 52, born Rubinstein, is breezy, emotional and hot-tempered. He brawled himself away from poverty and the streets of Chicago.

* * *

He made it good — For him — here about 15 years ago with his first little swinging place, the Silver Spur.

"Man," said a one-time partner in dance promotions, "he was hungry for a buck. He's always after it. He lives for the business — the two clubs (Carousel, Vegas)."

PATRIOTIC MAN

Some saw him as an intensely patriotic man, a hero worshiper of presidents.

To others:

"I think Ruby just got himself an impulse and operated on him (Oswald)," said Herbert C. D. Kelly in New Orleans. A business associate of Ruby two years ago, Kelly figured Ruby was more upset over the killing of a Dallas patrolman, than over the President's death.

* * *

"Patriotic, he wasn't. A police buff, he was."

To Dist. Atty. Henry Wade he is just a killer. "I'll ask the death penalty."

A guy you like or dislike, to night club columnist Toni Zoppi of the Dallas News. "Not many people are in between."

MORALS KICK

"I think he was on some sort of morals kick," said a woman who had dated him. "He didn't drink, smoke, cuss. But he always treated the ladies nice."

Wade met Ruby for the first time Saturday night, when Ruby crashed a news conference as police outlined more of what they termed an airtight case against Oswald as the President's assassin.

"I know all the policemen," Ruby breezily told Wade. "And all the newsmen."

Ruby did. He was used to being around. Maybe that's why it wasn't too surprising when he popped out among the crowd of police and newsmen, waiting as Oswald was being transferred from the city jail to the county jail.

POINT-BLANK

He fired at point-blank range, one shot from the nickel-plated, snub-nosed .38 he always carried.

Packing the pistol had caused two of his three arrests in recent years. Being tough, showing off the muscle he worked on building with exercise each day, caused another—for a night spot fight.

* * *

He lived in the world of his business and seldom saw the sun come up.

A flashy dresser, when he first came to Dallas he chose fancy Western wear.

"They called him the 'Chicago cowboy,'" Zoppi said.

"He felt very badly about the Kennedy assassination," said George Senator, manager of Ruby's Vegas Club, a public dance hall. "He kept saying: 'Oh, that poor family.'"

Ruby's one-time partner in dance promotions had a different idea as to why the President's death in Dallas shook him.

"It's the business. You live for the holidays in this town. Two months of free spending and it carries you the rest of the year."

"Who's gonna live it up now."

About one-third of all Americans over the age of 65 receive some form of social security payments.

FAMILY LEAVES CAPITOL — Mrs. John F. Kennedy walks down the steps of the Capitol with her daughter Caroline and son John Jr., yesterday after the slain President's casket was placed in the rotunda. Behind are members of the Kennedy family and President and Mrs. Johnson.

Most in Poll Deplore Act

By ROBERT R. HOLTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Millions of television viewers throughout the nation watched in stunned horror Sunday as a murder was committed.

Many looked beyond the grisly aspects of the spectacle to find in the deed some type of justice worked against Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused, but not convicted, of assassinating President Kennedy only two days before.

* * *

The overwhelming majority of those polled by The Associated Press looked upon Oswald's slaying by Dallas night club proprietor Jack Ruby as a frightening revolt against the American code of justice.

Many thought the murder mirrored a breakdown in the moral standards of the nation. Clergyman condemned it as a serious breach in Christian ethics.

Most of those polled expressed belief in the principle of American law stating that a man is innocent until proven guilty.

Rolland R. O'Hare, district attorney of Detroit, Mich., expressed fear that "due process of the law is on the verge of becoming a victim of assassination."

* * *

Mayor Earle Cabell of Dallas issued an urgent appeal "for all of us to come to our senses, to resist hysteria."

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America and chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, said: "Life, as the gift of God, deserves to be respected far more than it is, and self-control ought to be restored to its rightful standing among the Christian graces where the Bible puts it."

Then Move From Cellar

Tell Her Your Party Line!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 42 years old, and a bachelor by choice. I am neither ugly nor handsome.

ABBY

I enjoy the company of women occasionally, but I don't want to get married just now. My problem is an intelligent, but extremely aggressive young woman — a Goldwater Republican, by the way, who moved in next door to me.

She started the usual neighborly friendship. If she sees a light on in my place, or my car out in front, she runs over to visit.

She has offered to cook for me and do my mending (I refused), and her conversation always gets around to marriage.

Last week I moved my refrigerator, cooking equipment and TV down to the basement to make it appear that I'm not at home, but I can't fool her. What should I do?

★ ★ ★

DEAR IN: Tell her you voted democratic — and move back upstairs.

IN HIDING

DEAR ABBY: I had my first baby 18 months ago and I received some very lovely gifts for her. I also bought many nice things for her on my own.

I plan on having more children and want to save all her clothes for my next baby. I have put them away as good as new.

My sister-in-law is now pregnant and is due in May. She has two other children, 11 and 9, and didn't plan on this one, so she has nothing saved for it.

She is 35 and says this will be her last, so she doesn't intend to go all out buying stuff. She has thrown hints left and right for me to offer her my baby's things.

It may sound selfish, but I want to keep these things for my next baby. Once anything is used by her it is a wreck as she doesn't take care of anything. What can I say if she asks? Please advise.

SISTER-IN-LAW

★ ★ ★

DEAR SIS: Don't give anything unless it is given willingly and cheerfully. She won't "ask." People who hint haven't the courage to ask.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who would like your opinion about something my mother did. Last summer while I was on a trip with my family, I met a very nice boy who was working at the motel where we stayed.

My mother looked him over and okayed a movie date. We said we would be back by 11:30. We stopped for a snack after the movie and were only 40 minutes late getting back.

Mom didn't want to create a disturbance in the motel so she said she would put off my punishment until we got home.

By the time we got home I had forgotten all about it, but Mom hadn't. Out of a clear blue sky she won't let me go to the Thanksgiving dance.

Do you think it is fair of her to punish me this way for something I did last summer?

FURIOUS

★ ★ ★

DEAR FURIOUS: No. She should have punished you when you had it coming.

CONFIDENTIAL TO P. K.: You CAN and MUST quit. Think of the disastrous consequences when your luck runs out.

Club Opens Christmas Festivities

Pine Lake Country Club will open its holiday season with an annual Christmas Fashion Parade and dinner party at 7 p.m. December 4.

★ ★ ★

During the cocktail hour there will be informal modeling of ski and sport clothes by club members Mrs. John Murtagh, Mrs. Gilbert Hause, Mrs. Frank Nelson, Mrs. Charles Moeller, Mrs. F. William Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Moore, Robert Carlson and Al Matisse.

★ ★ ★

Ladies daytime and evening fashions will be modeled formally after dinner. Men's and women's sportswear will be by the Varsity Shop and women's wear by Chudicks.

★ ★ ★

Dancing to the music of Ray Baltani and his trio will follow the show. Mrs. Fred Jeffers is chairman for the evening.

Local Players Win Honors at Tournament

Bridge players from the Pontiac area starred in the third day of competition in the Fall National Contract Bridge League in Miami Beach, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Against 826 other contestants in the South Miami pairs one-session championship game, Ernest Guy, Brookdale Road and Dr. Charles Patrick, Angelus Drive won top score in their section.

★ ★ ★

The tournament ended Sunday after nine days of competition during which six major titles and a score of lesser championships were decided.

Fall Colors Seen at Wedding

★ ★ ★

Rev. Gus Tsompanas performed the four o'clock ceremony in a setting of white chrysanthemums and palms.

★ ★ ★

Daughter of the P. M. Murphys of East Madison Avenue, the bride wore a chapel-length white satin sheath gown accented with pearls.

CARRIED ORCHIDS

A crystal headpiece held her bouffant veil of illusion. White orchids centered her bouquet of white tea roses, Stephanotis and Pittosporum.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jordon Tenjeras, as matron of honor, wore champagne silk and held brown and yellow chrysanthemums and cattails.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Chrisanthy Pappas of Gary, Ind., and the late Mr. Pappas, had for his best man, Steve Margaretis of Detroit. Dr. Pete Leonard of Indianapolis ushered with Vernon Miller of Garden City.

★ ★ ★

The couple will live in Indianapolis where Dr. Pappas is resident psychiatrist at the L. D. Carter Hospital. He is a graduate of the Indiana University of Medicine and his bride is an alumna of the Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing.

Wed Sunday in St. George Greek Orthodox Church were Margaret Carol Murphy, daughter of the P. M. Murphys of East Madison Avenue to Dr. Nicholas Michael Pappas of Indianapolis, son of Mrs. Chrisanthy Pappas of Gary, Ind. and the late Mr. Pappas.

Philanthropy Is Subject of Meeting

The Waterford-Lakeland Opti-Mrs. Club has appointed Mrs. Robert Forster chairman of the club's annual Christmas basket. Mrs. T. E. Drake, Maiden Drive, was hostess at Thursday's meeting.

The group will become members of the Waterford Friends of the Library and use proceeds of all club projects to further the development of a library.

Mrs. Thomas Spragle of Lansdowne Drive will open her home for the Christmas party on Dec. 14.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Arno of Orchard Lake announce the engagement of his daughter Eleanor Jane to Francis Buckholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buckholtz of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and her fiance is an alumnus of Duquesne University.

A December wedding is planned.

Women Voters

Probe Tax Standards

Two members of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac opened their homes Thursday for study of the league's standards on taxation in Michigan.

Mrs. Cleveland Walcutt of Birmingham outlined the history of Michigan taxes from the late 20's to the present, in the home of Mrs. Glenn Griffin.

She spoke of the numerous futile attempts to bring about fiscal reform and stressed the league's standards for an adequate and flexible tax structure based on the ability to pay.

★ ★ ★

Margaret Harths, chairman of the Continuing Responsibilities item, assisted by Mrs. Charles Neidrett and Elizabeth Halsey gave a similar review in the home of Mrs. Claire J. Hinckley.

Consensus of members on the league's positions on United Nations was taken by Mrs. John Borsvold.

GAVE REPORT

Mrs. Frederick Holmes and Laura Belz reported on the recent banquet in Detroit honoring Michigan's Con-Con delegates.

Mrs. Francis McGinty assisted Mrs. Griffin as hostess and Miss Belz poured in Mrs. Hinckley's home.

★ ★ ★

Cora Krueger and Elena Bajari were guests.

Apartment Visit Could Cause Talk

by The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am an ardent lover of opera. I recently met a man who is also very much interested in opera. I have had many interesting talks with him on the subject and have learned much from him.

★ ★ ★

He has invited me to listen to his collection of very select opera recordings. He is a bachelor in the early forties and lives alone in a small apartment. I am in my late thirties.

★ ★ ★

He is a very nice person and I am sure perfectly honorable, but I do not think it would be right for me to accept this invitation. Do you agree?

★ ★ ★

If so, will you please tell me how I can decline his invitation without hurting his feelings and making him feel that I do not trust him?

★ ★ ★

A: Going alone to his apartment to hear his records would be unwise and could very easily incur unpleasant gossip.

★ ★ ★

You might suggest bringing along a friend who would also love to hear his records.

Q: I am a teacher in a junior high school. The new principal of our school is a man and quite a few years younger than I am. Should I rise when he comes into my classroom?

★ ★ ★

A: Yes. Regardless of his age he is the principal and you as hostess in your classroom, should rise to greet him.

Q: I have hired a four-piece orchestra to play from one o'clock to four o'clock at my daughter's wedding reception at which a dinner will be served. I would like to know if it is necessary to provide dinners for the members of the orchestra?

★ ★ ★

A: The members of the orchestra are usually given something to eat. This need not be a dinner, but refreshments of some sort should be provided for them.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party."

To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute in care of The Pontiac Press.

After Wedding, Couple Visits Niagara Falls

The Richard Y. McLaughlins (Sharon Kay Nelson) left for a honeymoon in Canada and Niagara Falls after their marriage and reception Saturday in the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Edmond I. Watkins performed the candlelight ceremony for the daughter of the Robert C. Nelsons of West Brooklyn Avenue and the son of the Henry Y. McLaughlins of Opdyke Road.

★ ★ ★

The bride's gown of ivory silk brocade was styled with fitted bodice and bell skirt which swept into a chapel train. Her bouffant French illusion veil was fitted to a flat Dior bow and floral headpiece. She carried white pompons, Mary Jo roses and Pittosporum.

Crescent bouquets of pompons in fall shades accented gold matelasse gowns for Marjorie Ogg of Gladwin, maid of honor, and bridesmaid Marilyn Pfannes of St. Clair Shores.

★ ★ ★

The bride and her attendants, all graduates of Saginaw General Hospital School of Registered Nurses, made their gowns.

★ ★ ★

With best man William Robinson, were Paul McLaughlin, groomsman, and the ushers James Tuttle, Daniel Nelson and Jon Williams.

★ ★ ★

The couple will live on Shimmons Road while he completes his senior year at General Motors Institute in Flint.

Let Your Baby Get to Know You Better

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My mother-in-law keeps my 20-month-old girl while I work. She adores the baby who is never any trouble to her at all.

But the child so resents any restraints from me that she has bitten me several times. My husband says that there is something in my attitude toward her that upsets her.

★ ★ ★

She is never any trouble to him when he looks after her. This is my first child and I know very little about babies.

ANSWER: Your little girl may not know you well enough to accept restraints from you.

It is your mother-in-law who is creating intimacy with her from which trust of discipline develops.

★ ★ ★

It is she who feeds your baby, bathes her, plays "This Little Pig Went to Market" with her toes, dresses her and introduces her to store windows and your neighbor's new puppies. You come home at night, a comparative stranger to her.

You've been tricked into competing with her for the title of "Best Controller of the Baby." You've allowed yourself to be made ashamed of your failure to match her easy authority over the baby without once asking yourself, "Is this competition fair?

"Can I reasonably expect this baby to trust me as much as her grandmother when her grandmother is the person who shares most of her waking life?"

★ ★ ★

You can't expect this. So start using what time you have with your baby, not in competitive displays control, but for sharing experiences with her.

Let the dishes wait for bedtime stories. Make Saturday lunches into picnics on the floor. Window shop with your baby. Crayon pictures with her.

★ ★ ★

Play with her, be with her until you have accumulated enough happy experiences between you to make your restrictions trustworthy to her.

It is quite possible, you know, that your baby resents your daily absence from her.

And that this resistance which so discourages you is a passionate wish for mother's presence, not rejection of her at all.

Such a view of it would alter its whole meaning, wouldn't it? It would replace your humiliation with pride. It would end competition with grandma. It would arouse tenderness for the resentment instead of fear.

I'd like you to take this view of it, not only because it would restore your baby to you but because I believe it's the true one.

Garden Club Sees Slides

Sylvan Lake Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, viewed slides titled "Adventures with Flowers" at a holiday workshop Thursday in the Oakland County Boat Club.

Mrs. Nagako Ito of Kyoto, Japan, and Mrs. Margaret Britton were guests, Mrs. Ernest Zilka was welcomed as a new member.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses were Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Henry Green and Mrs. Ralph Beebe.

Naturally Stronger

In general, natural fibers such as cotton and linen can take higher water temperatures than synthetics. If soiling is heavy, use a warm detergent and pre-soak for 10 to 15 minutes to help loosen embedded dirt.

So Grows the Branch

By POLLY CRAMER

GIRLS — Before you read the next letter, I want you to know it is from a teen-ager who feels it is often the mother's fault that some teen-agers have no sense of responsibility.

POLLY

DEAR POLLY — R. J. K's letter about an alphabetized notebook for a new bride started this. My sister had such a book and it was a great help to her. May I suggest a better way a mother can teach her daughter to cook?

Do not wait until she is engaged to introduce her to the kitchen. If she helps with meals and other cooking in her teens, she will be a capable cook when marriage rolls around.

Also, Polly, don't worry about being too strict with your daughter. She will thank you later for having enough interest to teach her the necessary tasks of any woman's life.

★ ★ ★

Daughters need to have adequate knowledge of washing, ironing, cleaning, etc., before marriage. A TEEN-AGER

DEAR POLLY — Here is a terrific help for mothers of small children who might close a door and get locked in a bathroom or closet.

Place a towel over the top of the door going into any such place.

The children cannot possibly close the door tightly enough to lock themselves in. Try this when your grandchildren come to visit. WILLA

DEAR POLLY — For minimizing strain on the bottom of zippers in straight skirts, step into the skirt with the second foot extended and crossed over the first one, thus reducing the circumference of your hip measurement.

★ ★ ★

This also works for dress plackets which extend far down the front of straight dresses. MRS. V. T. A.

DEAR POLLY — For washing kitchen waills more easily, I put a large kettle of water on the stove and keep it boiling.

★ ★ ★

In the bathroom, I run hot water in the tub and close the door until the room is steamy. This steam on the walls makes a distasteful job a breeze. MRS. A. S.

DEAR POLLY—For washing kitchen walls more easily, I child, here is a good way to keep it all in one place and not lose a bit.

Wet one spoon with water and shake off the excess. Place aspirin on this spoon and take a dry spoon to mash with. MRS. R. D.

Name Chairmen for for OU Events

Members of the Oakland County committee of the Oakland University scholarship committee met recently at the University to hear plans for the coming year and announcements of new committee heads.

Mrs. E. L. Windeler, chairman of the scholarship Committee, announced that co-chairmen for next June's Hunt Fair will be Mrs. Ralph Norvell of Pontiac and Mrs. Harold Howlett of Birmingham.

The Hunt Fair is sponsored annually by the scholarship committee in conjunction with the Detroit Horse Show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club in Bloomfield Hills. Last June's Hunt Fair netted $13,800 for the scholarship fund at Oakland University.

★ ★

Mrs. Windeler announced that close to 220 students are now attending the University with the help of scholarship funds. A total scholarship fund goal in excess of $85,000 has been set for this year.

This money is raised through sponsorship of such events as the Hunt Fair, the World Report Lecture Series; by contributions from individuals, corporations and organizations; and from contributions to the scholarship committee's tribute fund.

Proceeds from the Meadow Brook Ball, given each spring by the Oakland University Foundation, are also turned over to the scholarship fund.

★ ★

Mrs. Noel Buckner has been named finance chairman for the scholarship committee. Mrs. Robert Dearth will be the chairman for the committee's tribute fund for the coming year.

Shop Carefully When 'Buying' Money

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

How smart a shopper are you —when you're shopping for a good buy in money?

MARY FEELEY

Money is a commodity, after all, just like cheese. There are times when people find it profitable, advisable, or just plain necessary to shop for money. Or call it borrowing if you prefer. Just remember that how you borrow determines the real price you pay in money, convenience, or both.

Suppose, for example, you want to "buy" $100:

A. You borrow $100 at 6 per cent—a single - payment loan. You receive $100 in cash. A year from this day, you repay the loan with $106. It has cost $6. You have paid a "true" annual interest rate of 6 per cent.

B. You borrow $100 on a monthly repayment basis at 6 per cent add-on. You receive $100 in cash. You repay $106, divided into 12 equal monthly installments. It has cost you $6. You have paid a "true" annual interest rate of 12 per cent.

So — what's the difference? They look the same, you say. But consider this:

With Plan A, you have had the use of $100 for an entire year. Perhaps you put the $100 to good use and it made a profit for you. That profit more than paid for the $6 cost. So you came out ahead on the deal.

★ ★ ★

Plan B has allowed you the use of $10 for only one month. Thereafter you begin paying back, and have the use of less and less of the original amount each month thereafter.

So why isn't method A obviously the best? Because you may not use the whole sum profitably. Because at the end of the year when repayment is due, you may not have been better off repaying the loan little by little all through the year.

All of this brings up the point that why you borrow is as important as how you borrow. When you need money to pay off indebtedness — the usual reason for borrowing — it's apt to be easier on the budget to repay in small, multiple sums. It's also true, however, that the shorter you can make the repayment period, the less interest you pay and the lower the entire cost of the loan.

Since methods of lending vary, so does the terminology employed. These terms may be unfamiliar to you if you've never had occasion to borrow before.

★ ★ ★

For instance, consumer finance companies and credit unions under law are required to compute interest rates on a monthly basis of from 1 to 3½ per cent. The "simple interest" method is used to compute these monthly rates, and the annual true or simple interest rate would range from 12 to 42 per cent.

Rates may be charged on the full amount of the loan, or only on the outstanding balance. Of course, the latter is more desirable.

65 No Time to Quit

Experience Counts Most

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

Because I admire his emphasis on useful knowledge, I have quoted freely from his writings in my college textbook.

Recently he had an article in Labor Herald in which he attacked the idea that everybody is through at the age of 65.

"It is conceivable," he began, "that today's oldsters are better employment risks at 65 than their grandfathers were at the same age."

Obviously, Dr. Uhrbrock doesn't claim that at 65 we are all as active and strong muscularly as we were at 25.

But most of the back-breaking tasks of the last century are now performed by machines.

★ ★ ★

Thus, even a frail housewife can operate a farm tractor, pull a combine and thresh the grain; then drive the truck full of grain to the neighboring farm elevator.

In our stores and factories, there is also very little lifting demanded.

So we are now living in an age where strong backs are not as vital as good brains.

The last century was the "back" era.

This late 20th century is the "head" period in civilization.

★ ★ ★

If people don't drive themselves prematurely into heart attacks or strokes of apoplexy by heavy use of tobacco, they can often do stellar work even at the age of 80.

For experience is now more valuable than strong backs!

OLDSTERS EXCEL

Experience is the salable business and industrial talent in which oldsters far excel the younger generation.

With our modern emphasis on biochemistry and furnishing the body's internal glands with the needed chemical raw materials (as found in sea water or sea salt), we may easily find that the years from 60 to 80 will soon become our most fertile work span.

You Bible scholars will recall that Moses wasn't even picked by Jehovah to become the George Washington of the Hebrews in Egypt, till Moses had passed his 80th birthday.

BECAME LEADER

Moses then became the leader, lawgiver and inspirational force for the 40 long years spent wandering throughout the wilderness till they had reached the Promised Land.

Energetic Myrtle Walgreen, co-founder of the famous Walgreen Drug empire, drives her automobile as far as 300 miles from Chicago so she can put on a 2-hour illustrated color slide program for the Red Cross.

★ ★ ★

She helps carry her heavy camera equipment and then, after that full evening's performance, she may drive clear back another 300 miles to her suburban home, arriving at midnight or later.

Yet next morning she may be up at dawn and downtown for the 4-H club breakfast at 7 a. m.

★ ★ ★

Yet Mrs. Walgreen is 84 years of age! But her vivid lectures on flowers and color photography can hold an audience spellbound.

AIM HIGHER

So we need to raise our sights and quit using the age of 65 as the sole yardstick for measuring a person's usefulness.

That silly method was devised by F. D. Roosevelt to lessen unemployment and is still fostered.

A far better plan is to give business the green light and let science open up new jobs for all who can work, regardless of age!

Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long, 3 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Mend Clothes Well, They'll Look Like New

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — For better looks and longer wear, reinforce, mend, and repair garments before they become threadbare. That's good advice anytime. But don't let garments look mended.

If you're not familiar with good mending techniques, you can find help in a correspondence course from The Pennsylvania State University. Worn trouser cuffs and knees, coat and jacket elbows, and pocket edges will look like new when correctly mended with good workmanship.

Mends described in the course may be used on fabrics of wool, cotton, or manmade fibers. Correct pressing and stain removal procedures are added features of the course.

★ ★ ★

To get the Care of Clothing course, send $1.50 to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. Make your check or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University. The fee covers all costs and the complete course will be sent by return mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Buck of Sandy Ridge Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Annalee to Charles E. Harty, son of the Charles Hartys of Sylvan Village. A June wedding is being planned.

Mass-Produce Chanel Suit

Coco Chanel's hottest number in her fall collection in Paris this summer was an easy double-breasted boy jacket with notched lapels, and an A-1 line skirt.

★ ★ ★

In record time this style has filtered through the price ranges. A mere two weeks after line-for-line copies were introduced in New York city at more than $200, an enterprising department store was offering its version for $25.

Color Matters Not

Dark and light colored egg yolks have the same nutritional value.

MRS. JAMES D. ROEHL

Pair United Saturday in Dearborn

Barbara June Klaus exchanged vows and rings with James David Roehl before Rev. Billy P. Bennett Saturday in the Dearborn Church of God.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Russell Hale of Dearborn Heights, the late Walter Klaus, and the William W. Roehls of Blaine Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Seed pearls accented the bride's bouffant tiered gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, worn with veil of English illusion and a pearl tiara. White pompons and an orchid rested on her small white Bible.

★ ★ ★

Joyce Fithian of Dearborn Heights was the honor attendant with bridesmaid Mrs. Carl Barnett of Taylor.

YOUNG ATTENDANTS

Angela Barnett was flower girl and Michael Klaus, ring bearer.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side were the best man, Myles Baker, with ushers Donald Roehl and Clifford Klaus of Taylor.

★ ★ ★

After a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountain area, the couple will reside in Redford Township.

Care of Enlarged Pores

There are several types of pores on the face. An enlarged pore represents the opening of a special type of hair follicle that has been termed "the sebaceous follicle."

★ ★ ★

This is a hair follicle with a very fine, almost invisible hair. The term sebaceous comes from the fact that this hair follicle has larger sebaceous (oil) glands than most.

★ ★ ★

Enlarged pores are normal anatomic variations and do not indicate a disease process.

Although numerous cosmetic manufacturers claim to have preparations which will shrink enlarged pores, there is very little objective, substantiating data.

★ ★ ★

The most commonly used preparations are astringents which contain alcohol as their active ingredient. This gives a tightened feeling to the skin which is frequently refreshing. It is questionable, however, whether any shrinkage of the pore results.

If enlarged pores are cosmetically disturbing, the most practical approach to the problem is the use of a suitable coverup type of cosmetic on social occasions. Excessive use of these preparations, however, will aggravate the condition.

The common cold is limited to humans and monkeys.

Why Grow Old?
By Josephine Lowman

I am giving a couple of days this week to my teen-age readers.

★ ★ ★

Many of you worry needlessly about your figures. This is especially true during early teen-age years.

Body types are individual. One woman may have thin legs, a large bust and a straight up and down waistline and flat hips while another may have heavy hips and a small bust. Bony structure and the distribution of weight both play a part.

Also, certain ages have typical figures. The usual figure for a girl 12 or 13 or sometimes even 14, is a thick waist with a small bust.

★ ★ ★

This is an awkward time for a girl when it is difficult to find attractive clothes. At this age many girls worry about their large waistline and small bosom. I always tell them to "give nature time."

WEIGHT DISTRIBUTION

The weight distribution of a girl of 12 and a woman of 19 are usually entirely different. Given a few years more the chubby girl of 13 will magically changed into a streamlined young woman of 19. Have patience!

The age at which the bust develops varies greatly. Some girls reach near full development by the age of 14 while others do not achieve full development until the age of 17 or 18.

Even the face changes during these years from the rounded less classical little girl features to the more sharply defined contours of maturity. So don't worry. Wait and let nature have a chance at you.

★ ★ ★

However an early interest in appearance and good grooming is of the greatest value to a girl. She enters her young womanhood with confidence and self-assurance. If you are overweight do something about it, but do it sensibly.

Overweight can make you shy and self conscious and ruin your fun and personality!

If you would like to have my leaflet "Popularity" which gives you diet suggestions along with other help, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 58 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mexican Customs in Pontiac Wedding Rites

Traditional Mexican customs were observed as Rev. Daniel Murphy officiated at the marriage of Victoria Lucille Neaves to Luis Ricardo Jimenez Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

★ ★ ★

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Neaves of Scottwood Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Filiberto Jimenez of Irwin Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Bouffant white Chantilly lace over satin for the bride, swept into a cathedral train. A jeweled crown topped her silk illusion veil and a white orchid centered her bouquet of carnations and Stephanotis.

AUTUMN ROSE VELVET

Helen Neaves, her sister's maid of honor, appeared in Autumn Rose velvet with veiled petal cap of Romance pink. She carried rose carnations and rosebuds.

★ ★ ★

Wearing Limoges blue velvet were the bridesmaids Maria Jimenez, Mrs. Ralph Jimenez, Mrs. Richard Converese and Armida Nerio of Saginaw. Their bouquets were blue-tipped carnations.

★ ★ ★

Catherine Neaves and Ester Jimenez were flower girls. Aaron Nava carried the rings.

Ralph Jimenez stood as best man for his brother. Richard Jimenez and his uncle Leo Placencia ushered with Richard Converse and Robert Paramo.

★ ★ ★

After a reception in the Knights of Columbus hall, the couple left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. They will live in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullin, Dixie Highway, will observe their golden wedding anniversary at a family dinner, Saturday. Open house will be held Sunday from 2-5 p.m. at their home. Mrs. Alvin Shoemate of Pontiac, Mrs. George Sweazy, Rochester, N.Y. and Glen Mullin, Union Lake are children of the couple who also have 11 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

White Potatoes in Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press
Food Editor

Everyone's heard of sweet potato pie. But have you heard of white potato pie? Mrs. Cyrene Bell says it's delicious. She's used the recipe for years.

Now retired, Mrs. Bell is enjoying her leisure. She is a member of the Urban League Guild.

WHITE POTATO PIE
By Mrs. Cyrene Bell

2 cups mashed white potatoes
3 eggs, or 2 egg yolks and 2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 unbaked pie shell

Line pan with pastry forming a high collar. Beat eggs and add other ingredients. Save 1 or 2 whites for meringue.

Bake 45 minutes, having oven at 450 degrees for first 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees for remainder of baking time. Bake until a knife inserted in the middle comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

Make a meringue with egg whites and 2 tablespoons sugar for each egg. Mound high on pie and brown at 350 degrees.

Mixing Plan Eases Work

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — The Washington State Health Department offers this advice to busy housewives:

"Scramble the work instead of finishing arduous tasks, one at a time, so as to use different sets of muscles.

"Avoid hurrying. Frequent short rest periods are more valuable than the long rest period after a job is done.

"Don't sit too long in one position."

By First of Year, It's Rumored

Staebler Ready to Run for Governor?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indications are strong that Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., will be a candidate for the governorship of Michigan by the first of the year.

Although Staebler, Michigan Democratic national committeeman, is shying away from stating his intentions, some sources say he will make the run even if former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson tries to recapture his old job.

And the White House, prior to the assassination of President Kennedy, also was reported to have entered the picture.

★ ★ ★

One source said the White House had been concerned about Michigan in the 1964 presidential election, and Kennedy had believed Staebler would make the strongest candidate to run against Republican Gov. George Romney.

Romney defeated Swainson last year 1,420,086 to 1,339,513 or a margin of 80,573. Staebler, running for the at-large House seat, defeated former Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, the Republican nominee, 1,392,221 to 1,282,082, or a margin of 110,139.

Earlier this year Staebler said he would not be a candidate for governor if Swainson decided to make the race. However, those who know the situation say that Staebler now is edging away from this position and has about decided to run for the governorship in any case.

Kennedy won Michigan in 1960 by a narrow margin over former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and reports were that he wanted the strongest possible state ticket in 1964 in his effort to retain that state's big electoral vote.

★ ★ ★

Swainson has had strong labor backing, but some contend that his ties with labor are so close that it could be a liability.

Earlier this year Swainson won out in the Democratic state convention in Grand Rapids in having his former executive secretary, Zolton Ferency, named state Democratic chairman.

This was a sharp blow to Staebler who had strongly backed the then State Chairman John J. Collins, who rose in the ranks under Staebler.

It was also a blow to Sens. Philip A. Hart and Pat McNamara, Michigan Democrats, and most of the top elected Democratic officials who had supported Collins.

In spite of this, Staebler took the position that he would defer to Swainson if the latter sought to regain the governorship. But Staebler now is reported to be swinging away from this position.

One source put it this way: "Neil has not definitely decided to run, but he is very interested. The odds are he will run."

Staebler, admitting, he has been under heavy pressure to make the race, said:

"It is imperative that the Democrats get the machinery under way for the 1964 campaign before the first of the year no matter who the candidate for the governorship is. I have said this right along and I still say it."

The Staebler people say that if Swainson did not make up his mind on whether to run until February, it would be too late for Staebler to get into it.

Staebler is reported to feel now that he will not let Swainson have a veto over his decision and, if he decides to make the race, he will do so regardless of what Swainson does.

Former Jesuit Editor Expires in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. John LaFarge, 83, Jesuit author and a leader in Roman Catholic interracial affairs, died yesterday.

He was associate editor and former editor in chief of the weekly Jesuit magazine, America. His body was found in his room at Campion House, the magazine staff's office building and residence.

State Police Nab Escaped Convict

FREE SOIL (AP)—A 30-year-old convict escaped from a prison camp near Free Soil yesterday. But state police nabbed him 40 miles away today in Newaygo County.

Robert Gross fled Camp Sable in Mason County in a prison truck, ditched it and stole a station wagon that stalled outside the village of Bitely in Newaygo County, officers said.

Council Okays Media Decree

New Communications to Be Used by Church

VATICAN CITY—The Vatican Ecumenical Council today gave final approval to a decree calling on the Roman Catholic Church to use modern communication media to help spread the message of the church.

The council also suggested the establishment in Rome of an international Catholic information center.

The prelates adopted by a 1,598-503 vote a schema (topic) on mass communications — the press, radio, television and the arts.

★ ★ ★

The schema, approved in sections earlier this session, requiries only the promulgation of Pope Paul VI to become a formal decree in the Roman Catholic Church.

WIDE REFORMS

It was the second schema completed by the council. The other brings wide reforms to the Catholic liturgy. Both are expected to be promulgated by Pope Paul VI before the council recesses Dec. 4.

As the council entered the final week of its second session, it was still in doubt as to when the next session would be called by Pope Paul.

Vatican sources said the next session — the third since the council was convened in October, 1962 by the late Pope John XXIII—may come next spring or early fall. Others believe it will be postponed until 1965.

The current session began last Sept. 29 after a nine-month recess.

Connolly's have always specialized in handling diamonds and watches. We've made a thorough study of these important jewelry items to aid our customers in every way in their purchases so value and ownership will reflect prestige.
Our decision to change our Pontiac stores was reached in order to further serve your needs in these lines. We will search out the markets so we can have larger stocks of the finest, most perfect diamonds and really mastercrafted watches for your selection. We will really specialize in these areas for your trusted business. Thus Connolly's will continue to be in a position to counsel and provide fine jewelry for those who want and appreciate the best.
We will also need to do some remodeling of our stores so to help carry out this new merchandising plan everything will go on sale.
BOTH STORES WILL BE CLOSED TOMORROW AND WEDNESDAY TO PREPARE AND MARK ALL ITEMS FOR OUR STORE WIDE SALE!
Don't Fail To Come To Connolly's Jewelers And Take Advantage Of One Of The Greatest Sales Ever To Take Place In The Pontiac Area!
Sale Starts Friday November 29th.

Plan Good Eating After Big Day

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Because there are so many excellent ways to use leftover turkey, you probably bought a big one and hoped it wouldn't all be eaten the first day.

One of the simplest ways to serve it after this Thursday is to slice it and prepare an interesting sauce.

For instance, try hot sour cream sauce, a mildly tangy sauce seasoned with bits of green onion and finely chopped dill pickles. Rich as a cream gravy, but infinitely more interesting served over big meaty slices of turkey.

Sour Cream Sauce

½ cup sliced green onions (including tender stems)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1-3 cup minced dill pickle
1½ tablespoons dill pickle liquid
½ teaspoon sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream

Saute' onions in butter until tender. Add pickle and remaining ingredients; heat, but do not boil. Serve hot over cooked turkey, fish, chicken or veal. Makes 1½ cups or enough for 6-8 servings.

Cranberry Sauce

1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce (1¾ cups)
¾ cup condensed consomme' undiluted
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon dry white wine

Combine all ingredients; bring to a boil; simmer until clear and thickened. Serve over broiled turkey or chicken. Makes approximately 3 cups or enough sauce for 10-12 servings.

If your family likes casserole dishes, Turkey Pilau is the recipe you want. Frozen cut okra is the interesting ingredient in this recipe.

Turkey Pilau

6 slices bacon
1 large pepper, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut okra, thawed
3 teaspoons salt, divided
4½ cups turkey broth
2 1-3 cups raw regular rice
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1 can (1 pound, 3 ounces) whole tomatoes
3 cups turkey pieces

Saute bacon until golden; remove from skillet and break into pieces. Reserve 2 tablespoons of bacon drippings in skillet. Add pepper, onion, okra and 1 teaspoon salt. Saute about 5 minutes.

In large saucepan, heat turkey broth to boiling; add rice, 2 teaspoons salt and Tabasco. Top with onion mixture. Add bacon and tomatoes; simmer covered about 25 minutes or until liquid is absorbed. Toss with turkey. Fluff up rice with fork before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

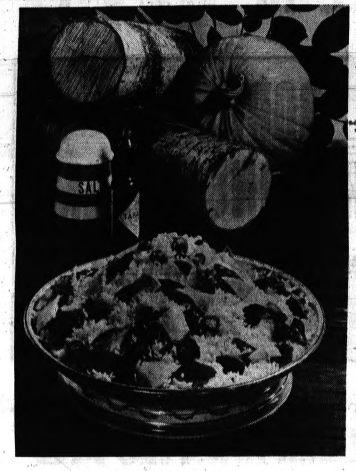
When you get down to those last bits of leftover turkey, make hash patties. They look a little more elegant than just plain hash.

Turkey Hash Patties
(Servings - 4)

2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
2 cups diced leftover turkey
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ cup chopped celery
1 (3-ounce) can chopped mushrooms, drained
¼ cup pure vegetable oil
¾ cup flour
¾ cup milk
1 egg yolk
2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Bread crumbs
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper

Saute turkey, onion, celery and mushrooms in 2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil. Heat ¼ cup pure vegetable oil in saucepan, add flour and mix. Stir in milk and cook, stirring, until thick. Add to turkey mixture and cook for 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolk with ½ can of tomato sauce and stir into turkey mixture. Add salt and pepper. Chill. Shape into patties and roll in bread crumbs. Brown in pure vegetable oil.

Make sauce for hash patties by combining remaining 1½ cans of tomato sauce with the chopped green pepper. Heat to serve over the hash patties.



TURKEY PILAU

Tasty Wine Dressing for Unusual Salad

For a colorful, flaverful salad, combine 2 or 3 chopped anchovy fillets, ¼ cup each chopped pitted ripe and green olives, 2 tomatoes cut in wedges, a few slices of mild red onion, and crisp lettuce about ½ head.

Toss with a dressing of 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, a pinch of curry powder and ½ cup olive oil. Makes 6 servings.

Cornmeal on Pizza

Try greasing a pan in which you are going to bake pizza pie with corn meal before placing your dough in it. Bake as usual. The corn meal not only keeps pizza from sticking to the pan but also adds a pleasing flavor.

Leftover baked ham in the refrigerator? Dice and add it to any creamed green vegetable—cabbage, snap beans, peas—and serve as a main dish for lunch.

Grandmother's Turkey Was Harder to Prepare

The holiday bird no longer is the chore to prepare and roast that it was in grandmother's day. Oven ready turkeys, with hardly a pin feather to be plucked, packaged stuffing made from fine quality bread with the best of herbs and spices added—and aluminum foil, all do much to make turkey roasting a breeze for the modern homemaker.

Here are new Easy Truss Directions for turkey preparation:

THAW SLOWLY

Leave bird in original wrap and place under cold running water. Allow 2 to 6 hours for thawing.

Leave bird in original wrap. Place on tray or shallow pan in refrigerator. Allow 1 to 3 days for thawing. Don't thaw at room temperature.

A thawed or fresh ready-to-cook turkey can be kept on the refrigerator shelf at 38 degrees for 1 to 2 days. It is important to remove the original wrap and to wrap very loosely in heavy duty aluminum foil. It is not advisable to refreeze.

Rinse bird with cold water, drain and pat dry. Rub skin and cavity lightly with salt, and Accent. If stuffing is used, fill neck and fasten neck skin to back with a skewer or trim excess skin and close opening by tying.

Fill body cavity loosely with just enough stuffing for 1 dinner. Bake extra stuffing in foil-lined casserole or foil package. This way saves removing stuffing when storing leftovers.

It's no longer necessary to bind turkey with string or lace the front opening. Modern turkeys are compact and beautifully shaped. Fold wings "akimbo" style and bring wing tips onto the back. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail, if present, or tie them to tail with soft string. This will hold the legs down and keep stuffing in place without lacing.

They Celebrate Yule in July

DOVER, N. J. (AP) — When members of the First Memorial Presbyterian Church here start making Christmas plans, thermometers are registering in the high 80s, and the shoppers are wearing summer cottons.

Christmas-in-July has long been an annual event at the church, a time when stacks of presents are donated for December use in Presbyterian missions in deprived areas.

The summer Christmas is nearly identical with the winter one.

* * *

A huge, lighted Christmas tree, covered with balls and lights, stands in the sanctuary. A mound of presents surrounds it. Carols ring out from the choir loft.

ANOTHER CHRISTMAS

From the pulpit, the minister, the Rev. Hugh McHenry Miller, preaches on "There Must Be Another Christmas."

Each year the church's governing body chooses a different group of recipients for the July Christmas giving.

Last year, presents were sent to the Cuban Refugee Center of the First Spanish Presbyterian Church in Miami.

* * *

Others have gone to Indian children in relocation centers in Utah, to Alaska, Puerto Rico, Berlin, Korea and China.

YULE PARTY

The July Christmas extends beyond the church doors too. Mrs. Dorothe Lanning, choir director, annually gives a Christmas party for school and college students in the garden of her home, and the music of "O Come, All Ye Faithful," floats through summer air.

Rough, Tough Game; the Players Can't See

PANHANDLE, Tex. (AP) — Contact was rough on contact lenses throughout a recent football game here. Bill Purvines lost one lens in the second quarter and in the third quarter he lost the other one.

Curtis Whaley of the opposing team lost a vision-helper in the fourth quarter.

Santa Needs Swim Suit for Holiday Down Under

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY (AP) — Years ago, when we were young, our parents would take us to spend the six-week Christmas school vacation at a cottage near the cool Pacific Ocean, lapping the shores of eastern Australia.

Christmas time is midsummer in Australia. We would spend the days on the beach, running in and out of the water.

Then would come Christmas Eve and we would hang our stockings near the bed — Santa Claus had to come through the window because there were no chimneys.

* * *

Christmas Day — one of the longest days in the year in Australia — we would dive into the stockings around 6:00 a. m., and play with the toys until breakfast.

Then we would head for the ocean beach, have a couple of hours sunning and surfing, and return home in time to dress for church at 11:00 a. m.

After church we would swim in the river, then sit down for the big Christmas Day midday dinner. There would be hot chicken (some years turkey) and cold ham, hot plum pudding and cold ice cream, and plenty of iced drinks.

In the afternoon we would sleep for an hour or two, then once more walk out to the beach.

* * *

We would be home in time for a light evening meal and the Christmas cake. And in the evening, perhaps, we would look again through the Christmas cards, and note that most of them — especially those sent from within Australia — showed snow scenes in England.

HOW ODD, SNOW

And we would think how odd it was to have snow at Christmas.

That was how we knew Christmas as children, and that is about how it is today for many people here.

The majority of Australians cling to tradition and have a big hot Christmas Day dinner at midday, as they or their forefathers did in Britain and Europe.

But as Christmas is also the big summer vacation time down here in Australia, many people are away from home.

* * *

They have their Christmas day dinners in cottages at the seaside and in the mountains, in caravans or canvas tents, in boarding houses or hotels.

OUTDOOR FEAST

Then there are those — and they run into hundreds of thousands — who break with tradition and have their Christmas midday meal out in the open. You see them eating cold chicken and tomatoes on the beach, in the shade of a gum tree in the country, or beside a stream in the mountains.

* * *

If you're interested in Christmas Day weather statistics in Sydney: the sun rises at 4:41 a. m. and sets at 7:07 p. m.; the temperature range is likely to be 66-77 degrees F.; chances are there will be no rain.

Scientists Will Hunt for Disease

NEW YORK (UPI) — A group of American scientists will journey into the relatively uninhabited lowlands of Eastern Bolivia next April in an effort to determine the cause of the deadly disease hemorrhagic fever.

A team of scientists from the American Museum of Natural History will join with medical teams in Bolivia in an attempt to locate the ectoparasites which are believed to carry the disease.

The disease, which causes internal bleeding and other symptoms, has afflicted at least 600 persons in Bolivia during the past four years with a mortality rate of approximately 20 per cent.

Dr. Richard G. Van Gelder, who will head the museum's scientific team, said his group will collect mammals in the area and the ectoparasites which they carry.

ANIMAL VIRUS

He said their primary objective will be to determine whether or not the hemorrhagic fever virus can be found in the animal population of the region.

The museum team will work together with scientists from Middle America Research Unit (MARU), an agency of the National Institute of Health and the Walter Reed Research Institute, which has been trying to isolate the virus.

Dr. Van Gelder said the expedition would probably last about six months, the scientists would travel along the Rio Itenez living in a 53-foot houseboat complete with a laboratory. They would make numerous stops to collect animals and carry out their research.

Dr. Van Gelder said the greatest problem will be one in logistics.

"There are no roads, few people, an uncertain food supply and no adequate geographic information about the area in which we will work," he said. "The region is biologically unexplored."

He said, however, that the boat would be stocked with a six-month's food supply and would provide purified water.

The team from MARU has been working in the area for the past six months in an all-out program to isolate the virus, determine what animals are carrying the disease and find the modes of transmission.

Bus Pool Solution to Commuter Woes

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sixteen commuters who live here and travel 204 miles a day to get to work and back have formed their own transportation company.

The travelers make a daily trip to their jobs at the North American Aviation, Inc., at Downey, Calif., about a two-hour drive each way on the freeways.

The group purchased two eight-passenger buses and pool members take turns driving.

* * *

The average cost per person is $30 a month, covering purchase of the compact vehicle, gasoline and maintenance.

Cranberries Are Picked by Wet and Dry Methods

Though automation prevails throughout the five cranberry producing states, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Oregon and Washington, there is an interesting difference between the machine harvesting methods in the two leading cranberry states, Massachusetts and Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

The Badger State "water picks," a method of harvesting unique to this northern inland area. Wisconsin farmers flood their cranberry marshes during the harvest. The vines are floated upright by the water and the berries brought close to the surface.

Mechanical pickers, ridden by the harvesters as they would ride a tractor, fork up the berries and load them by a conveyor belt into flat picking boats, hitched behind the pickers and traveling with them along the marsh. When the boats are filled, they are beached on the marsh edges.

Hip-booted harvesters maneuver the boats closer to an hydraulic crane on the shore, and this crane hoists each boat to waiting trucks and unloads its cargo. The truck rushes the berries to mechanical driers where the moisture is removed immediately.

The fruit is then "bounce" tested and screened before it is packaged for the fresh fruit market. The combined process makes it possible for a boatful of cranberries to be harvested, cleaned, dried, sorted and packaged within a half hour.

Cranberries are bounce-tested for quality in packaging and processing plants in all areas. The berries are unique in that they bounce when dropped and the firmer the berry, the more "bounce-ability" it has. In the bounce-test, berries are given seven chances to bounce over four-inch wooden barriers.

Those that make the grade are conveyed along belts to the screening room where they are picked over by the screeners before processing or packaging. Berries with no bounce are discarded.

Wisconsin is the leading state in cranberry production per acre. Massachusetts leads in total production. Cranberries are native to both states.

The picturesque history of the ruby red fruit goes back to Indian times when the Pequods of Cape Cod and the Algonquians in Wisconsin gathered the wild berries to eat with meats and other foods, to use as dyes and as poultices to draw out the venom from poison arrow wounds.

The Bay State's Plymouth and Barnstable Counties grow more of this native American fruit than any area of similar size in the world, and about 50 per cent of the U. S. crop. Wisconsin grows over 32 per cent and its harvest is constantly increasing.

Massachusetts cranberry farmers harvest their berries from dry bogs, using machine pickers guided along by the harvesters. The machines unload the berries they have picked into native white pine "pickin" boxes or burlap bags placed on the back of each machine.

The harvesters unload the filled boxes or bags from the machines and set them down on harvested areas of the bog. Other workers wheel them ashore in barrows across the plank bridges.

They are then tallied and stacked for loading into trucks that take the fresh berries to plants and receiving stations either for processing into sauce or juice, packaging for the fresh berry market, or for storage.

The 1963 harvest will be the third largest in history. It looks as though in 1963-64 the cranberry "sass" can be passed and the cranberry juice quaffed without stint on holidays and between-times, too.

If you've opened a can of water chestnuts and have some left over, cover them with water in a jar, cover and refrigerate. You can keep them for several days at least if you change the water daily.

Cheering Crowds Greeted Kennedy in Last Visit to Michigan

DETROIT (AP)— The death of President John F. Kennedy brings to mind the dynamic figure he presented in a whirlwind tour of Michigan a little more than a year ago.

Oct. 5 and 6 of last year, Kennedy swept across Michigan with impassioned pleas for voters to support Democratic candidates in the Nov. 6 election.

He was less than completely successful because voters chose Republican George Romney over John B. Swainson for the governorship. But Neil Staebler defeated Republican Alvin Bentley for the new post of congressman-at-large.

* * *

While Swainson, Staebler and other Democratic officials shared the platforms with the President, there was no doubt about who was the star of the show.

CROWDS SPELLBOUND

It was, indisputably, the President. His tenor voice with its Eastern accent held the crowds at Detroit, Flint and Muskegon.

He declared at the beginning of the tour that it was a political trip.

In a five-minute speech to some 5,000 cheering spectators on Detroit's Washington Boulevard, the President reeled off a long list of issues as examples of legislation which he said was proposed by Democrats and rejected by the GOP.

The list included medical care and housing for the aged, a $1.25 minimum wage, special security, area redevelopment and unemployment compensation.

* * *

Kennedy noted that a majority of Michigan Republicans in Congress had opposed a flexible tariff bill which he said would broaden exports of through Detroit's East Side Michigan-built cars to Europe. He added:

COUNTRY MUST MOVE

"You won't sell cars from Detroit unless this country is prosperous."

Kennedy spent a Friday night in a downtown Detroit hotel and rode in a motorcade to Detroit City Airport. From there the delegation flew to Flint and Muskegon.

* * *

The motorcade wound neighborhoods and Hamtramck, solid Democratic strongholds in most elections. Police estimated the crowd which lined the route from downtown Detroit to the airport at close to 100,000.

* *

At Flint, a crowd of some 25,000 turned out to hear him and the President was warmly applauded as he urged the election of a Democratic Congress.

At Muskegon, a gathering of about 20,000 greeted the President at the airport, where he spoke.

The crowds were enthusiastic and there were no expressions of sentiment against Kennedy policies.

At Muskegon, the President paused to shake hands with citizens, striding along a fence and reaching with both hands for the extended grips of his admirers.

* * *

His fast walk appeared at times to have him ahead of hustling bodyguards.

The Michigan visit over, Kennedy climbed aboard his airplane. The giant ship sped down the runway, lifted into the autumn haze and flew out over Lake Michigan, carrying President John F. Kennedy away from Michigan for the last time.

Traffic policemen in Rome are required to learn one foreign language.

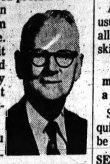
Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Use of Some Drugs Checks Hypertension

Q—My doctor has prescribed Sandril and Donnatal tablets for my high blood pressure.



I have been taking them for some time. Are they habit forming and would they cause a fast pulse or fainting spells?

A — If you have a chronically high BRANDSTADT blood pressure, as I assume you have, the drugs you are taking should help you.

Although reserpine (Sandril) has some tranquilizing action, it is very valuable in controlling hypertension.

Donnatal is a combination of antispasmodics that is also highly recommended for high blood pressure.

PHENOBARBITAL

It also contains a very small amount of phenobarbital which is habitforming, but the small dose contained is justifiable on the grounds that chronically high blood pressure must be controlled.

These drugs should not cause a rapid pulse. They would be more likely to slow the pulse.

Neither would they cause fainting in the recommended doses.

Q— I am a 30-year-old housewife. My doctor says I have dermographism and that I was born with it, but I never had it before.

What causes it and what should I do for it?

★ ★ ★

A — You have a rather unusual type of hives which is an allergy that chiefly involves the skin.

What your doctor probably meant was that you inherited a tendency to allergy.

Since allergy may also be acquired, yours may or may not be inherited.

SENSITIVE SKIN

Persons with dermographism have such sensitive skin that if letters are spelled out on the skin with a toothpick or tine of a fork, a large white wheal will form where the pressure was applied.

In other words, you can read what was written on your skin for 30 minutes or more.

The cause varies with different persons and includes allergy to drugs, infections, food, light, heat, cold and, to some extent, emotional stimuli.

The treatment, as with any form of allergy, is elimination of the cause, antihistaminic drugs and the application of a protective lotion such as calamine lotion.

Q — My breasts have never completely dried up since the birth of my last child nine years ago.

I now have a sticky yellow discharge from both breasts. Is it cancer and is there any way to clear this up?

A—First let me set your mind at rest by saying that you couldn't have had it for nine years if it were cancer.

Furthermore the discharge from a cancer is usually tinged with blood and it would be most unusual for it to occur in both breasts.

Discharges such as yours are not uncommon in women who have had children, especially if they are nearing the menopause.

GLAND DISORDER

Your doctor should look into your thryoid and pituitary function, as sometimes disorders of these glands are at fault.

In some persons with this complaint a potent compound of an estrogen and progeserone either brings about a cure of causes a great improvement.

'Identical' Tragedy Grieves Mme. Nhu

ROME (AP) — "I understand fully how you should feel," Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu said in a cable to Mrs. John F. Kennedy Sunday.

Mme. Nhu's husband and her brother-in-law, President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam, were killed during a military revolt Nov. 1, while she was touring the United States. She joined her children in Rome two weeks ago and has been in seclusion at a convent.

★ ★ ★

Irving R. Levine, National Broadcasting Company correspondent, said Mme. Nhu had sent this cable to Mrs. Kennedy:

"Though not having the pleasure to know you, or hearing from you personally, I wish to tell you of my profound sympathy for you and your little ones in your time of shock and grief.

U.S. EQUIVALENT

"Though I have said that anything happening in Viet Nam will surely find the equivalent in the U.S.A., truly I would not wish for anyone what the Vietnamese and myself are now enduring while we were so near our victory against communism.

★ ★ ★

"But though not being proven alike, I understand fully how you should feel before that ordeal which God has bestowed on you. I sympathize the more, for I understand that the ordeal might seem to you even more unbearable because of your habitually well-sheltered life, notwithstanding how particularly incomprehensible it would be if, as reported, President Kennedy's assassination comes from Communist hands.

IDENTICAL TO HUSBAND

"Indeed, such a murder where even the wounds inflicted on President Kennedy were identical to those of President Ngo Dinh Diem and of my husband, and coming only 20 days after the Vietnamese tragedy, would only prove to the world that even power or extreme graciousness with communism still does not protect from its traitorous blows.

★ ★ ★

"My children and I have especially prayed for President Kennedy when we learned that he did not regain consciousness to receive the last sacraments of the church. Be assured also that our most fervid thoughts and prayers are with you and your dead ones."

Like the Kennedys, Mme. Nhu and her four children are Roman Catholics.

Cross Family Wins Words With Puzzler

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A 10-year-old local boy put in a telephone plea to the San Diego Evening Tribune, urging the paper to remove its crossword puzzle feature.

"Mom doesn't cook dinner," he explained "unless she can finish the puzzle."

Human Skeleton Found by Hunter

SAGINAW (AP) — State police said Sunday a human skeleton was found by a hunter in a wooded area in Saginaw Township.

Robert Bowden, 54, of Saginaw told police he was hunting in the area when he stumbled on a group of bones, portions of clothing, a pair of eyeglasses and a deteriorated billfold.

The billfold and other articles were sent to the state police crime laboratory in Lansing.

Sympathizer Shoots Self

CHICAGO (AP)—"The President got shot in the head. I'm going to shoot myself in the head."

Teodor Maraszczak, 53, exclaimed this to his wife Saturday night after watching television programs about the assassination of President Kennedy, police said Sunday.

The body of Maraszczak, a carpenter who recently suffered several heart attacks, was found Sunday in a workshop behind his home. He had been shot once near the right ear, police said, and a pistol lay nearby.

Indian Plane Missing

JAMMU, Kashmir (AP)—An Indian air force plane with eight persons aboard has been missing since Friday while flying from Srinagar to Jammu, informants said Sunday. Search is continuing along the high Himalayan ranges separating Kashmir Valley from Jammu Province.

Ballplaying Boy's Got Good Reason to Crow

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Daniel Ogle has a mean pitching arm. The 13-year-old boy was walking along a sidewalk tossing a baseball into the air.

He gave it an extra high throw and the ball killed one of a flock of crows flying overhead.

Service Guild

Tea Lovers Organized

Of special interest to those who appreciate good tea and would like to know more about the subject, is an invitation to become a member of the Rare Cargo Tea Guild.

Each month members receive a quarter pound canister of a different tea from the most renowned tea gardens of the Orient. The year's 12 outstanding teas are chosen by the Guild's advisory board.

Members also receive two or more recipes with each tea-of-the-month arrival. The recipes are particularly suitable to the individual tea. Many are native to the country of the tea's origin — India, Ceylon, Formosa, Japan, etc.

Members may request information on tea service, menu planning and etiquette.

The distinctive Rare Cargo Tea Chart compiled by Lea Kates Karp, tea expert and director of the Guild, is also sent to members. The chart which lists 17 varieties of tea is a veritable encyclopedic compendium of answers to many tea questions. One column is devoted exclusively to tea personalities, others to types and origins, what to serve with each, etc.

PP Gift memberships are shipped from Bethlehem (Conn.) for the holidays. For information, write Rare Cargo Guild, P. O. Box 628, New York 5, N. Y.

Barbecue Filling in Packaged Rolls

You should have everything in your cupboard to prepare these interesting rolls. Serve for late-evening or lunch.

Barbecue Rolls

1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
6 butterflake rolls (1 six-ounce package)
1½ sandwich size slices cheddar cheese

Mix together the deviled ham, chili sauce and onion. Separate each roll in 4 places but not all the way through. Spread the ham mixture over cut places in rolls.

Arrange on foil on a small cookie sheet. Cut cheese into 6 squares; place a slice over the top of each roll.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 10 minutes or until cheese is melted — it should drip down into cuts — and rolls are hot. Makes 3 to 6 servings.

To avoid cracking the egg shells, start eggs that are to be soft- or hard - cooked in cold water.

Add Brazil Nutmeats to Deviled Egg Filling

Mellow Brazil nuts, now in abundance on the market, go into a nippy filling for Party Deviled Eggs. Cut 1 dozen hard-cooked eggs in half lengthwise, remove yolks and mash them.

Combine yolks with 1-3 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1½ teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons vinegar, and 1-3 cup mayonnaise. Spoon yolk mixture back into egg whites and garnish with chopped parsley.

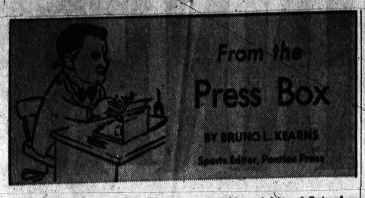
Steelers Tie Bears; Lions Doomed by Six Fumbles, 34-31



Among the deluge of calls received Friday night and Saturday morning in regard to whether the college football games would be played or postponed in memorial tribute to John Kennedy, there was one which we note especially.

It was a Michigan State coed calling, one of more than 2,000 calls which swamped our phones.

"I hear they called off the Michigan-Ohio State, what about the Michigan State-Illinois game?"

This was a 9:15 a.m. just a few moments after the announcement came from Ann Arbor that the Michigan game was off.

"As far as we know, Michigan State and Illinois are playing," we answered.

"Well," came the reply, "we're gonna look pretty damn bad at Michigan State if we don't follow suit with Michigan, even after the governor's request."

★ ★ ★

How right she was, and it was 10:30 a.m. and hundreds of phone calls later that we were able to relay the information that Michigan State and Illinois would play Thanksgiving Day.

GOVERNOR'S PLEA

Governor Romney's request that the state schools call off their games was noted on the AP wire at 5:00 p.m. Friday evening. The governor of Illinois made the same request.

Both requests were rejected as hundreds of athletic events across the nation were being cancelled or postponed.

The country, still in a state of shock, was mourning.

Why had the two big institutions rejected the plea of their governor and left themselves open to the scrutiny of the emotions straining the American public at this time?

Michigan athletic director Fritz Crisler made the first announcement that both games would be played in the "best national interest and tradition."

The next morning, the Michigan Board of Regents expressed disappointment that the game was not postponed immediately and that they were not contacted before president Harlan Hatcher announced an earlier decision to play the game."

GAME STILL ON

At 9:57 a.m., 45 minutes after the reversed Michigan decision, a story came out of East Lansing quoted MSU president John Hannah as saying, "a decision was made, after conferring with the board of trustees, that we would proceed with the game."

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty said he didn't "believe President Kennedy would have wanted it stopped."

"I don't know of anything that could be a more moving tribute than to have 76,000 people who will take time together to remember what a great loss our country has had."

Then there was the statement from Michigan State that the decision to play was made to "carry out the wishes of our late president, because of his interest and concern for physical training and welfare of our youth."

At 10:15 a.m., half hour later the game at East Lansing was off.

By this time anything or anyone who would deviate from the black of mourning to the green, red or blue of the gridiron, was placed in scornful opinion.

NFL DECISION

Then there was the statement by Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, whose strength in his office we have always doubted.

In explaining why the NFL games should continue, he said," "It has been traditional in sports to perform in time of great personal tragedy. Football was Mr. Kennedy's game, he thrived on competition."

It may all be true what he said, but there are levels of success and tragedy and this was the greatest tragedy of them all.

Rozelle, a compromise president, merely solidified our opinion of him.

Chicago Still in 1st Place After Deadlock

Packers Half Game From Lead by 28-10 Defeat of 49ers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Chicago Bears are still in first place in the National Football League Western Division today —mainly because of the finesse and brute strength of tight end Mike Ditka.

Ditka, the league's Rookie of the Year in 1961, showed his finesse by sailing through the air to make a diving catch of a short Bill Wade pass and set up Willie Galimore's one-yard touchdown run which put the Bears ahead 13-7 in the second quarter.

★ ★ ★

However, it was the brute strength of the former University of Pittsburgh All-America which saved the day for Chicago.

Trailing 17-14 and with a second and 35 situation on the Bears' 22 in the fourth quarter, Wade passed to Ditka who was surrounded by several Steelers at about midfield.

BROKE LOOSE

Stiff-arming some and bowling over others Ditka broke free. Obviously tired by his efforts, Ditka seemed to be running in slow motion as he approached the goal line and he was caught from behind on the 15.

★ ★ ★

Unable to take advantage of the play to get a go-ahead touchdown the Bears did score on Roger Leclerc's 18-yard field goal for the tie that gave them a 9-1-1 record and kept them ahead of Green Bay which has a 9-2 mark.

GOOD LUCK

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers have won just two of 11 National Football League outings, but the Green Bay Packers are hoping their West Coast rivals can play the upset role once more.

With quarterback Bart Starr in action, the Packers struck for four first half touchdowns and cruised to a 28-10 victory over the 49ers Sunday before a packed crowd of 45,905 at County Stadium.

★ ★ ★

The Packers paid more attention to the scoreboard in the final two quarters and later heard that the Chicago Bears had rallied for a 17-17 tie with Pittsburgh to remain ahead of Green Bay in the Western Division race.

The results left the Packers struggling in their hopes for an unprecedented third straight NFL title. With just three games remaining, the Bears have a 9-1-1 record, the Packers 9-2. And the standings are decided on a percentage basis, with ties not counting.

★ ★ ★

Despite the setback, the 49ers promised to do their best to repeat their 20-14 victory over the Bears when the two teams meet again at San Francisco Dec. 8. They didn't say what their plans

AERIAL STEAL — Defensive end Darris McCord (78) of the Detroit Lions, intercepts a pass thrown by Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings in Minneapolis yesterday afternoon. Cards Nip Giants, Tie for 1st Place

NEW YORK (AP)—The bright young men of St. Louis have turned the National Football League's Eastern Division into a wild three-way scramble.

By beating the New York Giants 24-17, while Cleveland was whipping Dallas, they set up a triple tie among the Cards, Giants and Browns with three games to go.

★ ★ ★

Somehow, it didn't seem to matter much Sunday at Yankee Stadium. They played the game and 62,992 people paid to see it. If there were empty seats you couldn't tell from the press box.

On the way to the game, car radios told the shocking news of the most recent shooting in Dallas. The events on the field seemed far away, even from the press box on the 50-yard line.

RESTRAINED CROWD

Football? Did it really matter what happened at Yankee Stadium?

You could sense a mood of restraint in the crowd. They stood in awesome silence for a moment of prayer for President Kennedy. More people than usual joined in the singing of the National Athem.

The men on the field had to be thinking the same thoughts but this was their bread and butter. The game was ordered played and they were there to do it.

It was an unusual game, often played as though the men did have their minds on something else. There were nine fumbles, five by the Giants and four by the Cards. Y.A. Tittle who had been intercepted only four times all season in 10 previous games, had two of his passes picked off by the same man, Larry Wilson.

Charley Johnson, the budding chemical engineer who runs the Cards, threw two touchdown passes to Sonny Randle and Bobby Joe Conrad. Bill Triplett ran 14 for another and Jim Bakken kicked a 16-yard field goal. Tittle hit Aaron Thomas and Joe Walton with scoring passes for the Giants and Don Chandler kicked a 15-yard field goal.

In the final minutes the Giants had two chances to tie. They had a first down on the Cardinal two after a long pass from Tittle to Del Shoffner but they were forced back and finally tried a fake field goal from the 16. Glynn Griffing ran to the two but it was not far enough.

THROWN BACK

A few seconds later a punt return by Eddie Dove brought the ball to the St. Louis seven, then the Cards defense rose and clobbered Mr. Tittle, with rookie Sam Silas and veteran end Joe Robb leading the rush. The Giants gave up the ball when Tittle, trying to pass on a fourth and 16 situation, was thrown by Robb on the Card 29.

BROWNS WIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland turned two fourth-period pass interceptions into touchdowns Sunday to defeat the Dallas Cowboys 27-17 and moved into a tie with New York and St. Louis for the National Football League's Eastern Conference lead.

The Browns were hanging onto a slim 13-10 edge going into the fourth quarter when Ross Fichtner intercepted Don Meredith's pass and raced 36 yards into the end zone for what proved to be the clinching counter.

Later, Paul Wiggin and Galen Fiss captured errant tosses by Meredith and quarterback Frank Ryan threw 16 yards to Gary Collins for a score after the catch by Fiss.

The Cowboys got their final points in the last four seconds when Jim Brown fumbled and Cornell Green picked up the bounding ball for a 20-yard scoring jaunt.

Ryan, back at starting quarterback after a week on the bench, completed 13 of 27 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns. Both scoring tosses went to Collins, giving him a total of 10 for the season and erasing the club record of nine set by Dante Lavelli back in 1947.

GIANT BOBBLE — This costly fumble by the New York Giants led to a St. Louis Cardinal touchdown in the 2nd quarter of their game in New York yesterday. Joe Robb (84) of the Cards recovers Phil Kings' (24) fumble. The Cards won over the Giants, 24-17.

Vikings Win First in Detroit Series

DETROIT (AP)—Losers their last three times out, and now sharing fourth place with two other clubs, the Detroit Lions face the difficult task of preparing for the traditional Thanksgiving day football game with the Green Bay Packers.

The Lions fumbled the ball away six times Sunday and suffered a 34-31 setback at the hands of the Minnesota Vikings. It marked the first time in their three-year history that the Vikings had defeated the Lions.

A crowd of 28,763—smallest to attend a National Football League game on the sad Sunday—watched as the Lions blew a 28-17 lead and failed on a last-second try for victory.

Detroit's fumbles set up 20 Minnesota points as the Vikings turned the recovered bobbles into two touchdowns and a pair of field goals.

Minnesota jumped to 10-0 first period lead on a one-yard plunge by Tom Wilson and Fred Cox followed with a 14-yard field goal. Wilson's score was set up on a 59-yard pass from quarterback Fran Tarkenton to end Paul Flately.

The Vikings took advantage of rookie Tom Hall's inexperience in the Lions' secondary and threw his way constantly in their scoring drives.

Quarterback Earl Morrall got the Lions moving early in the second period as he directed a 70-yard climaxed by a touchdown toss to Terry Barr from the Minnesota 10 yard line.

Minnesota bounced back after Hall dropped a punt on the Detroit 11 and Larry Bowie recovered for Minnesota. Two plays later, Tom Mason raced in from the nine.

The teams exchanged miscues on the next series of downs, with Detroit's Darris McCord picking off a Tarkenton pass on the Viking 11 and returning it to the four. Barr had fumbled after catching a pass that brought the ball to the Minnesota 10.

★ ★ ★

Nick Pietrosante carried the ball in from the four to bring the Lions within three points.

Detroit grabbed the lead with 38 seconds remaining in the first half when Morrall passed to Gail Cogdill under the goal posts to complete a 22-yard play.

At the start of the second half, McCord jolted Tarkenton and the Viking signal caller fumbled. Sam Williams recovered on the 35, and Morrall later bootlegged the ball around left end from four yards out for another Detroit score.

LONG TD

Minutes later, Hall leaped to try to intercept a Tarkenton aerial and the ball slid off his fingers and into waiting hands of Viking Gordon Smith who dashed 54 yards to paydirt.

Cox boosted another field goal from the 17 after Morrall fumbled at the Lion 31.

Wayne Walker gave the Lions a four-point lead when he kicked a 26-yard field goal. The teams exchanged fumbles after this score with the Vikings winding up with the ball on their own 33. Don Hultz's recovery of Dan Lewis' second fumble of the game at that point was his eighth of the season and tied the NFL record set by Detroit's Joe Schmidt in 1955.

A Tarkenton-to-Flatley pass was good for 35 yards and brought the ball to the Detroit 10. Three plays later, Mason went in from the two.

LAST MINUTE

Morrall attempted to bring the Lions back after Pietrosante and Wilson fumbled with the Lions gaining possession on their own 17 with a minute remaining.

A series of sideline passes brought the ball to the Minnesota 34 with two seconds to go. The Lions passed up the chance to go for a game-tying field goal, and Morrall tossed to Barr. The Detroit flanker was buried under a host of tacklers on the 11 as the game ended.

The Lions, Vikings and Los Angeles Rams now share fourth place in the NFL's Western Division with identical 4-7 records. The Lions have not lost this many games since 1959 when they finished 5-8-1 and were fifth in the final standings.

Packers Veto Turkey Game

Thursday's Clash Last for Green Bay

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers Thanksgiving Day clash—which had developed into one of the nation's great sports attractions —will be played for the last time Thursday.

National Football League commissioner Pete Rozelle confirmed over the weekend that the Packers have succeeded in pulling out of the game.

Rozelle said that the game will remain in Detroit but that Western Division teams will rotate their turns in the nationally-televised game.

Green Bay Packer coach Vince Lombardi has been attempting to pull the Packers out of the Thanksgiving Day clash ever since he became the Packer boss four years ago.

Lombardi claims that the Packers don't have enough time to prepare for a game on Thursday after playing on the previous Sunday.

But the real reason that Lombardi wants to pull out of the game—according to most NFL sources—is because the game is a tradition in Detroit and the Lions are usually fired-up for the game.

While winning three straight Western Division crowns, the Packers have twice lost here on Thanksgiving Day although they did turn in a 24-17 win in 1959 in Lombardi's first year as head coach. The Packers also won two years ago, 17-9.

St. Mike's Game Rescheduled

Prep Cage Action Starts on Tuesday

A late postponement Saturday afternoon delayed the start of the 1963-64 basketball season among the county high schools until Tuesday, and the slate will be light even then.

Pontiac St. Michael elected to tangle with Immaculate Conception of Hamtramck Tuesday night instead of yesterday afternoon, joining the growing list of athletic postponements during the weekend of national mourning.

Thus the Mikemen missed the opportunity to tipoff the county cage season by themselves. Instead, they will join three other Northwest Catholic League teams and a couple Wayne-Oakland League members tomorrow.

In addition to the St. Mike's game (expected to be at Madison Junior High School), St. Frederick will travel to Emmanuel Christian for a cross-town game.

Orchard Lake St. Mary will be host to St. Stanislaus and Royal Oak St. Mary, the title favorite, will play Ferndale St. James in the Kimball gymnasium.

None of the Catholic clashes will be league games. Royal Oak Shrine will entertain St. Rose in another contest.

Bloomfield Hills will journey to Oak Park Tuesday for its first cage start under new coach Hal Henderson. Another Wayne-Oakland squad in action will be Brighton which will play at South Lyon.

The league opener Wednesday will have Holly at Clarkston.

Other games tomorrow will find Lamphere at Warren Cousino and Deckerville will visit Sandusky.

★ ★ ★

Several other big tilts are on tap for Wednesday. North Farmington will clash with arch rival Farmington, Walled Lake will visit Royal Oak Dondero, and RO Kimball will meet Hazel Park.

Imlay City will collide with Yale also Wednesday.

Michigan Sets Plan for Refunds

By The Associated Press

It was back to the practice field again today for the Michigan State football team, with the Big Ten football title and the Rose Bowl contender still to be decided.

The game will be played Thursday at East Lansing.

The University of Michigan's athletic board of control announced its refund policy for Saturday's postponed Ohio State-Michigan football game following a special meeting Sunday.

H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, board chairman and athletic director, said tickets for the postponed game will be valid for the rescheduled game on Nov. 30 at Ann Arbor.

Crisler said those who are unable to attend may present intact tickets for refund in person at the university's athletic ticket office or by mail.

★ ★ ★

The deadline for in-person refunds is 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 27.

The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mail refunds will be honored, but must be before midnight, Wednesday, Nov. 27.

Coaches have the job now of trying to build the Spartans up to a peak of efficiency again for the showdown Thanksgiving Day with Illinois.

The conference decider was rescheduled at the last hour Saturday for 1:30 p.m. (EST) on Thursday. Protests about plans prompted the decision to switch dates.

Today's workout will be held in the late afternoon, following the last rites for President Kennedy.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said both teams were frustrated by the off again, on again delay.

The MSU squad let off steam Saturday with a brisk workout at the indoor baseball diamond. The Illinois team, leaving its uniforms and most of its gear behind, flew back to Champaign.

The Illini will return to East Lansing again Wednesday afternoon.

REFUNDS MADE

The postponement is sure to hurt attendance. Nearly 1,000 tickets were turned in for refund Saturday, mostly by Illinois fans.

The MSU team banquet, originally scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until next Monday. The most valuable player award and the election of next year's captains will be announced at the dinner.

The delay will give more time to MSU for the healing of such injuries as an ankle twist suffered by center Don Ross, a knee bruise bothering Mike Currie and dislocated finger picked up by punter Lou Bobich.

The Spartans can take the title and the bowl bid with a tie or a victory. Michigan State is 4-0-1 in conference play and Illinois has a 4-1-1 league record.

SITTING ON A STAR — Quarterback Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers gets a face full of dirt as he is hit by Jim Johnson (37) and Ed Pine (54) of the San Francisco 49ers in their game in Milwaukee yesterday. Starr was trying to run the ball after being trapped. The Packers won the game, 28-10.

STARR RISES

Starr passed 11 yards to Boyd Dowler to cap an 82-yard touchdown march with the opening kickoff and engineered three scoring thrusts in the second period. He hit on 14 of 20 passes for 107 yards and rushed three times for an additional 42 yards.

"I feel fine," the soft-spoken Starr said. "It was nice to play."

The 49ers and Packers joined the sellout crowd in a moment of silence in tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy. However, members of both teams said their play was not affected, although they personally felt deeply about the Assassination of the nation's Chief Executive.

"We had a job to do and we did it," said center Jim Ringo, the Packers' offensive captain. "We felt a little bad about playing. The league required us to play."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dick Bass and big Ben Wilson led a crushing ground attack engineered by quarterback Roman Gabriel and the Los Angeles Rams edged out the Baltimore Colts Sunday, 17-16, in a National Football League game played before 48,555.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Unitas and the Colts attempted their patended last minute rally but as time ran out, Jim Martin, who had kicked three field goals, attempted an abortive field goal that had to carry 62 yards for what would have been the winning points.

The boot fell far short and the game ended.

★ ★ ★

Minutes earlier, Martin, whose successful kicks traveled 39, 22 and 41 yards, tried another for the victory margin but it went wide to the left from 24 yards out.

The lone Baltimore touchdown came on a 20-yard rush on a draw play by Jerry Hill in the second quarter which put the Colts momentarily ahead 10-7.

★ ★ ★

Art Perkins scored both Los Angeles touchdowns, each from one yard out, and Danny Villanueva kicked a 13-yard field goal which proved to be the winning margin.

The Rams powerful defensive unit twice stopped Baltimore drives deep into scoring range.

Hamilton Enters Grey Cup Playoff

TORONTO (AP)—The Hamilton Tiger-Cats, Eastern Conference winners six of the last 10 years, will participate again in the Grey Cup for the Canadian Football League championship here next Saturday, against the British Columbia Lions.

★ ★ ★

The Tiger-Cats won the two-game total points Eastern final, although they were beaten 35-18 by the Ottawa Rough Riders Sunday. In the first game the Tiger-Cats ran up a 45-0 margin over the Rough Riders.

★ ★ ★

The Lions trimmed the Saskatchewan Roughriders, 36-1 in the final of a three-game series for the Western Conference title.

Hamilton last won the title game in 1957.

Call Issued for Glovers

Local aspirants for Golden Gloves honors will begin working out Monday night in the Mexican Mutual Society building at 2165 Pontiac Rd. under the eyes of manager Bill Strange.

Boxers 16-29 years old without professional ring experience are eligible to compete for berths on the local squad.

Training sessions will be 6-8 p.m. Monday through Thursday each week.

Those interested in trying out are requested to contact Benjamin Acosta, trainer for the Lone Wolf AAU Boxing Club, at 307 Perry St., or at FE. 3-9190 between 6 and 8 p.m.

Resume Qualifying in Press Tourney

Plans to resume Bowlerama qualifying Sunday at six county establishments remain unchanged after the postponement this weekend due to the assassination of President John F. Kenneiy.

Pre-registration continued at Airway Lanes, 300 Bowl, Montcalm Bowling Centre, Howe's Lanes, Norts Hill Lanes and Wonderland Lanes despite the postponement.

More than 60 county bowlers qualified for the Dec. 8th finals at 300 Bowl Nov. 17th at six other sites. The finals were set back one week by the postponement.

Also delayed are the actuals invitational (now Dec. 7th) and the awards banquet (date undetermined), both at 300 Bowl.

Bowlers who pre-register this week before 5:30 p.m. Friday at a participating establishment or the Press sports department will be listed on the squads to be published in Saturday's Press.

Sunday's squads are expected to begin at 11 a.m. unless otherwise stated by the individual establishment. At least one house, 300 Bowl, will run a 10 a.m. squad if the interest warrants.

★ ★ ★

The overall interest this year, particularly among the low average bowlers, has been a disappointment to Press officials and the tournament is in danger of losing its financial backing in future years if sufficient increase isn't shown in the closing qualifying.

The top prizes in the handicap portion (70 per cent based on 200), amounting to $1850, are guaranteed. First prize is $700, and fifth place is worth $150.

First modern rider to be enshrined in the new Jockeys Hall of Fame, founded in 1955, is Eddie Arcaro.

RIDER OF THE WEEK

Paul Lowes, age 43, rides motorcycles for the sport of it and has been riding since 1954. Paul is sales manager of Anderson Sales and Service. He rides the Triumph, Cushman and Honda, but says he likes the Honda the best. Paul lives at 20 Gingell Court, Pontiac with his wife Lucille and children Patsy, Pandy Merle and Paula.

WHITE HOUSE GIFT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Washington Redskins will send the game ball in Sunday's victory over the Philadelphia Eagles to the White House as a symbol of the deep feeling they and other National Football League players felt for the late President Kennedy.

Coach Bill McPeak said after the Skins' 13-10 win:

"I don't want to be morbid or corny, but I really feel our gang was playing today for President Kennedy and in his memory."

★ ★ ★

Although there was some adverse feeling about playing the game, apparently the fans approved. All but about 300 to 400 of a sellout crowd of 60,671 showed up at Franklin Field.

There was no band. Taps were sounded. The crowd sang the Star Spangled Banner as the players of both teams stood at attention in a semicircle.

Pete Retzlaff, president of the league's players association, said the Eagles players were donating $50 each to a fund for the widow of the Dallas, Tex., policeman shot and killed while trying to arrest a suspect in the assassination.

Retzlaff said he hoped other players in the league would follow suit and that management would match whatever the players gave.

Both the Eagles and the Redskins protested Rozelle's decision to go ahead with the games in the face of the tragedy.

Sports Scene Quiet in State on Weekend

By The Associated Press

The Michigan sports scene was quiet over this grief - filled past weekend.

A few sports events went on as scheduled. Many were postponed or called off.

Some high school basketball games were played Friday night, and the International Hockey League, which has representatives from both the U.S. and Canada, played its games.

The University of Detroit and Toledo cancelled their grid game, scheduled for Saturday night. The cancellation left the Titans with a 2-6-1 record.

The Detroit city high school football game went on as scheduled Friday because the sponsors felt it was for a good cause. Proceeds from the annual Goodfellow's game go to charity.

The Detroit Red Wings and Detroit Pistons both were scheduled to play Sunday, but their games were postponed.

Weekend basketball games in the Detroit Catholic League were postponed. Individual schools planned to make their own arrangements for rescheduling.

Harvard Will Play Yale 11 Saturday

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The 80th renewal of the Harvard-Yale game, postponed a week because of the slaying of President Kennedy, will be staged here Saturday. The outcome could affect the Ivy League title.

Princeton and Dartmouth meet at Princeton Saturday in another postponed Ivy game. If Princeton loses and Harvard wins, Harvard will capture the league title. Princeton can win the crown outright by beating Dartmouth.

Tigers Boost Evening Slate

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers will attempt to lure more paying customers through the turnstiles next year by playing more night games.

The 1964 schedule, announced by vice president-general manager James Campbell Saturday, includes 30 night games and 12 doubleheaders.

The 30 night contests are six more than the Tigers have ever played in one season since the lights were installed in 1948. The twinbills are three more than the team scheduled last season.

Pick 6 State Skaters

CLEVELAND (AP)—Six Michigan skaters are among 28 candidates for the U.S. Olympic figure skating team. Named by the U.S. Figure Skating Association were Gary Visconti, Tim Wood and Myrna Bodex of Detroit, Joanne Heckert and Gary Clark of East Lansing and Peter Kollen of Ann Arbor.

'64 Officers Elected at Tam O'Shanter

Tam O'Shanter Country Club announced the election of 1964 officers over the weekend with Leon Lewis selected to the presidency. David Keats was named executive vice president; Nathan Share, vice president; Allen Stein, secretary and Ben Pivnick, treasurer.

Elected to the board were Oscar Braun, Morris Cole, Al Posen and Pivnick.

North Takes Bork

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Northern Illinois' outstanding quarterback, George Bork, today was named to play for the North in the annual Shrine North-South College All-Star charity football game.

The game will be played Dec. 21 in the Orange Bowl.

Walt Poe Tops on Touch Grid Scoring Ladder

The Minute Men came through with a second-place finish in the Waterford Men's Touch Football League, but the squad produced the top two individual performers in the loop.

Walt Poe won the scoring crown with 50 points while teammate Bob Casteel topped the league in number of TD passes thrown with 12. Poe added a touchdown in playoff game, but the six-pointer is not included in the regular season scoring figures.

The Minute Men lost the championship in an overtime match with the Red Raiders.

MM's Poe also led the league in TD-pass receptions with eight.

Selection of Opponents for Major Bowls Slowed

By The Associated Press

Most of the nation's major colleges, stunned and shocked by the death of the President, have delayed until this weekend their football day of decision.

Only two teams, Texas and Nebraska, have nailed down major bowl berths and only Nebraska accomplished it last weekend. Still to be decided are both teams in the Rose and Sugar Bowls, and the visiting teams in Orange and Cotton Bowls.

Most were scheduled for settlement last weekend but were postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The traditional clash between Army and Navy, scheduled in Philadelphia Saturday, still is in doubt. Officials of both service institutions have expressed a desire to play, however, so the chances of cancellation appear to be remote.

Navy, ranked second at 8-1 and possessing the season's most highly publicized player in quarterback Roger Staubach, is a solid favorite to make it five in a row over Army, 7-2.

The Middies are considered prime candidates for the Cotton Bowl, to oppose top-ranked Texas. The Longhorns, the nation's only major unbeaten, untied team at 9-0, already have clinched the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. They close the regular season against old foe Texas A&M, 2-6-1.

Nebraska won the Big Eight title, its first in 23 years, and clinched the Orange Bowl spot in one of the few games played Saturday. The 10th ranked Huskers rolled over No. 6 Oklahoma 29-20.

The crowd at Lincoln, Neb., stood for a moment of silent prayer before the game, but the Nebraska partisans couldn't restrain themselves when it became apparent Nebraska had it in the big and rained oranges on the field.

The only other member of the top ten in action was No. 9 Auburn, which advanced its record to 8-1 with a 21-15 victory over Florida State. Auburn plays seventh-ranked Alabama at Tuscaloosa Saturday, with both considered leading candidates for a major bowl berth.

ROSE BOWL

The host role will be determined Saturday in the Washington-Washington State and Southern California-UCLA games. A victory for Washington probably would clinch it, with a loss throwing the spot to Southern Cal, providing the Trojans beat UCLA.

The Sugar Bowl is still wide open. Chief contenders appear to be Auburn, Alabama, Mississippi, and Pitt.

Pitt, ranked fifth on an impressive 7-1 record, plays Miami, Fla., this week, then closes against Penn State Dec. 7. Other key games in the Sugar Bowl picture are the Auburn at Alabama and Mississippi at Mississippi State battles.

Aggie 11 Remembers 1940 Game

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The fires of conquest burn brightly in Aggieland today, aimed at beating traditional enemy Texas when it hurts the most.

★ ★ ★

And if Texas A&M should upset the nation's No. 1 team here Thursday it can be laid at the door of another group of Longhorns who hit the Aggies where it hurt the most 23 years ago.

It was Thanksgiving Day of 1940 and Texas A&M swaggered into Memorial Stadium at Austin with a 19-game winning streak, the 1939 national championship to their credit, the 1940 national title within their grasp and the Rose Bowl bid in their hip pockets.

QUICK TD

Texas, which had lost two games and wasn't going anywhere, scored in the first 57 seconds and beat the Aggies 7-0.

Coach Hank Foldberg of the downtrodden Aggies, 2-6-1, is chief instigator of the plot to knock over Texas and ruin its national championship hopes.

"I would like to see us avenge that defeat that hurt so much," he said and he'll be firing his team with a battle cry that might be compared to "Remember the Alamo."

★ ★ ★

It is the first time the Aggies have had Texas in this position although their series runs over a period of 70 years—one of the oldest football rivalries in the nation.

Undefeated, untied Texas, already in the Cotton Bowl needs a tie or victory in this game to sew up the undisputed Southwest Conference championship. The Longhorns need a victory to gain the national crown.

For the first time, however, there will be no giant bonfire before the game on the Aggie campus. It was felt that gathering material for the bonfire over the weekend might be looked upon as a lack of respect for slain President Kennedy.

'D' League Session Set

The final managers' meeting for the city Class D basketball program sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will be 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Health Department conference room at City Hall.

All team managers must be present at the meeting, recreation supervisor Leonard Buzz announced. Team fees for both in-town and out-town teams are due at the time of the meeting.

Eligibility rules, practice plans and playing schedules will also be formulated at the Wednesday meeting.

Olympic Skiers Leave, Will Train in Europe

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The U.S. Olympic ski team will leave Denver Monday en route to Europe for pre-Olympic training.

The 14 team members and Coach Bob Beattie will spend two days in New York, then go to Val d'Isere to start training.

LEG CAROM — Dave Balon (20) of the Montreal Canadiens tries to score against the Chicago Black Hawks but the puck caroms off the leg of goalie Glenn Hall (1) during the first period of their game last night. Other Hawks are Bill Hay (11) left and Pierre Pilote (3). The Hawks won, 7-3.

Hawks Rap Montreal to Pad Lead

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks are turning the National Hockey League race into a runaway.

The Hawks raced off to a 6-0 lead after only seven minutes of the second period, and coasted home 7-3 Sunday night over the Montreal Canadiens.

★ ★ ★

The Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers played to a 3-3 tie in the other game.

The Detroit-Boston game at Boston was postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy. The Bruins played Toronto Saturday night at Toronto, with the Leafs winning 4-1.

The Black Hawks, who led the NHL most of last season but faded to second in the final days, now hold a nine point lead over second place Toronto. The Canadiens are another point back in third.

WILD GAME

Chicago's victory came in wild game in which 63 minutes in penalties were handed out in the second period. Jacques Laperriere of Montreal and Stan Mikite of Chicago drew misconduct, and Dave Balon of Montreal and Howie Young of the Hawks each drew majors for fighting, plus added time for assorted other infractions.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Jim Pappin poked in his first NHL goal late in the third period to salvage the tie for Toronto. It was the second consecutive tie for the Rangers, who moved to within two points of fourth place Detroit.

Young Golfer Breaks Into Victory Column

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Rex Baxter Jr. compiled a brilliant record as an amateur but in pro golf ranks he was frustrated until Sunday.

One of Baxter's biggest problems has been bad finishes but yesterday he fashioned back-to-back 68s to win the $20,000 Cajun Classic.

★ ★ ★

The victory in the marathon 36-hole windup broke the ice for Baxter, whose best previous finish was second in the Waco Turner Tourney in 1961.

He had rounds of 68-71-68-68—275 over the 6-555-yard Oakburne Country Club layout.

Young Jack Rule Jr., the former University of Iowa swinger, who had had a two-stroke margin after the first 18 holes, had to settle for a tie for third place with Tommy Aaron at 278 as Bob Shave Jr. moved into second at 277 two strokes behind Baxter.

TIE FOR FIFTH

Most attention was centered on Jack Nicklaus, youngest member of golf's big three, who cracked into the six-figure bracket in official earnings with a tie for fifth place.

Nicklaus, winding up his sophomore year as a pro, collected $1,050, pushing him to $100,040 in official winnings for the year. Only Arnold Palmer, leader of the big three, has won more in one year on the tour. Palmer, who did not play here, did it this year with $128,230. Gary Player, the little South African and third member of golfdom's leading trio, also did not compete here.

The crew-cut Baxter, 27, who calls Amarillo, Tex., home, turned pro in 1958. After a two-year hitch in the army he joined the PGA tournament circuit.

★ ★ ★

Baxter compiled an outstanding amateur record, winning the USGA junior crown, the CAA title as well as starring on the University of Houston golf team.

Royals' Pairs Top NBA Foe

CINCINNATI (AP) — A blazing first half by Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas and sharpshooting by Adrian Smith and Wayne Embry in the second carried the Cincinnati Royals to a 122-113 victory over the St. Louis Hawks in Sunday night's only National Basketball Association game.

The "Big O" hit at a 100 per cent clip in the opening period—five shots for five goals. In the second quarter, Lucas scored nine points in 2 minutes, 35 seconds.

★ ★ ★

The Hawks were down only five points with less than three minutes to go in the final period, but Smith and Embry combined for nine points in less than two minutes to make it 120-107 with 48 seconds remaining.

Sunday's only other scheduled meeting, Boston at Detroit, was postponed out of respect for the death of President Kennedy.

The Royals and Hawks paid tribute to the assassinated President by saying a one-minute silent prayer before the start of the game.

LEADING SCORERS

Robertson topped all scorers with 32 points and Lucas had 21. High for St. Louis were Bob Pettit with 28 and Bill Bridges with 27.

Two games were played and two others postponed Saturday. The New York Knickerbockers whipped Detroit, 108-99, and St. Louis downed Cincinnati, 133-121. Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles were both postponed.

Oklahoma Team Votes to Shun Bowl Offers

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The University of Oklahoma Sooners, obviously disturbed after Saturday's 29-20 loss to Nebraska in the Big Eight Conference championship football game, voted Sunday to shun any bowl offers.

The Sooners have a 7-2 record with a Saturday game remaining with traditional rival Oklahoma State.

Oklahoma had been a top contender for a Bluebonnet Bowl bid.

No coaches attended the squad meeting which was called by co-captains John Garrett and Larry Vermillion.

World Keglers Pause

CHICAGO (AP)—Play in the seventh annual World's Invitational Bowling Tournament, the third scheduled day of the $48,000 marathon event, was suspended today in observance of President Kennedy's burial.

After two days of firing over the 16 newly installed lanes in McCormick Place, Dick Weber, the St. Louis sharpshooter, led the 128 men bowlers after 18 games in the qualifying round.

★ ★ ★

Weber, the bowler of the year, broke his own 18-game qualifying record Sunday with a total of 4,017 pins. This topped the mark he set last year with 3,999 and gave him a lead of 20 pins over husky Fred Ricciilli of Garden Grove, Calif., who finished his 18 games with 3,997.

Pontiac's Monroe Moore, standing 56th with 2441 after Saturday's bowling, slumped to a 1094 block for Sunday's 12 games and is in danger of not making the cutoff at 48th place tomorrow night.

Weber, who won both the 1962 and 1963 All-Star bowling titles, posted a total of 1,428 in Sunday's six games—an average of 238. He started with 226 and finished with a whopping 277. In other games he shot 235, 237, 226 and 227.

QUALIFYING FINALE

Both the men and the 64 women in the tourney will shoot their final games in the qualifying round Tuesday—the men six games and the women four. The field then will be cut to the top 48 men and 32 women for the semifinals on Wednesday. The 15 high scorers in each division, plus the defending champions will advance to the round-robin final which will continue from Thursday until Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

Don Carter of St. Louis, who has won five of the six previous world's tournaments, will join the men in the finals shooting for the first prize of $7,500. Carter finished second in the 1958 tournament after winning the first marathon in 1957. He was top man the last four years.

The defending women's champion, Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., will join with the women finalists in the head-to-head competition and seek the first place award of $4,000. Mrs. Ladewig won the tourney in 1960 and 1957 and finished second in 1961.

Almost unnoticed in the match game finals in Sunday's barrage of strikes was 300 game by southpaw Ken McKenzie of Dallas. It was the 22-year-old plastics engineer's fifth sanctioned 300 game of the year.

Gov. Connally Is Recovering

Texas Leader Is Told of Oswald's Death

DALLAS (UPI) — In a room at Parkland Memorial Hospital, where he had just taken his first steps toward recovery from an assassin's bullet wound, Gov. John Connally learned yesterday that Lee Harvey Oswald had been brought, dying, to the same hospital.

Told of the shooting, Connally could only shake his head. His assailant was taken to "Trauma Room No. 2," where surgeons strove Friday to save the governor from severe wounds dealt him by President Kennedy's slayer.

The 46-year-old Texas chief executive, who resigned in 1961 as Kennedy's secretary of the Navy to run successfully for governor, was eating hearty meals of chicken and pie.

He shaved himself with an electric razor, left-handed. His right wrist was shattered by the sniper's bullet.

STEADILY IMPROVING

The Oswald shooting occurred at the city jail just as Connally's attractive wife, Nellie, had appeared at a brief news conference to say that her husband's condition was steadily improving.

Mrs. Connally said the governor was out of danger.

Connally sent his son, Johnny, 17, to Washington today as his personal representative at the state funeral for Kennedy.

Yesterday the governor, through his wife, expressed his deep concern and deep sympathy to Mrs. Kennedy and all members of the Kennedy family over the assassination.

HEAVY GUARD

The governor will be hospitalized for about two weeks. He is under close security guard of officers of the Department of Public Safety, whose duties include protection of the governor.

An additional 20 state highway patrolmen were sent in today from Tyler, East of Dallas.

Some of the governor's staff came here from the state capital in Austin and established a 24-hour-a-day office on the first floor of the hospital.

Rapists May Have Been at Bloomfield Hills Station

Three suspects in the kidnap-assault of a 32-year-old Coloma mother and her 12-year-old daughter might have been spotted by a Bloomfield Hills gas station attendant early this morning.

The report was being checked out by state police at the Reed City post today.

Pontiac state police said John George, an attendant at the Mobil station, 3975 Telegraph, reported selling gasoline to a car that fits one described as being driven by the assailants.

* * *

Officers at Reed City said they were checking the car's owner through the License Bureau in Lansing.

BOTH KIDNAPPED

The mother and daughter were kidnapped at gunpoint yesterday near Baldwin and raped repeatedly by three men in hunting clothes.

Officers said the assailants fired two shots at the woman's car, puncturing a tire and forcing it to halt on a lonely country road at about 5 p. m.

They then abducted the victims and left the mother's three younger children in their family car. They were found later by a passerby.

* * *

The woman and her eldest daughter were found a short time later wandering in a dazed condition along a side road where their assailants had released them.

YOUNG MEN

The woman described their assailants as three young men, "reeking of alcohol," and driving a 1963 blue Ford hardtop or convertible.

Road blocks were set up in the area, and local hunting camps were checked out to no avail.

George, the attendant here, called the Pontiac state police post at 12:30 a. m. today to report he had just serviced a 1963 blue Ford hardtop with three men in their early twenties in it.

* * *

He said there were hunting clothes on the back seat, and that the three appeared to be intoxicated.

HIT ON HEAD

Police did not release the names of the victims. The woman said she had been struck on the head with a gun as she was dragged from her car.

Both victims then were blindfolded with their own headscarves. They said they caught only fleeting glimpses of their assailants.

Police said the mother and daughter were in fairly good condition at Reed City Community Hospital.

* * *

Officers found the father hunting in the area, where he had been dropped off by his family before the attack occurred.

Seek Attendant for Questioning Into Robbery

Waterford Township police are seeking a service station attendant for questioning in the theft of $150 early today from the Ken Young Shell Station, 4790 Dixie.

* * *

Two customers stopped at the station at 4:29 a.m. and found no one on duty. They called police after discovering that the cash register was open and had been emptied.

* * *

The missing attendant, Elmer Buckhart, 26, of 60 Michigan was hired four days ago.

On Business Boom

Await Effect of Death

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business seemed getting set to start another big expansion drive—before the shock of President Kennedy's assassination.

DAWSON

Predictions for spending next year for new plant and equipment had ranged from a moderate increase to a possible 10 per cent boost.

Plans may be held up while industrialists assess the new business climate.

But the first tangible sign of quickening business interest already had come in the language of dollars. Manufacturing firms have sharply boosted their appropriations for capital spending—as much as 45 per cent in some key industries.

The total set aside is the highest since 1956, when the last big boom was in full swing.

* * *

The greater part of the actual dollar outlay would be made in 1964. And if the appropriation trend that started this summer continues, next year could see a duplication of the outpouring of money by corporations which made 1955-56 a notable expansion era, unchallenged since in year-to-year spending increases.

STRONG BOOST

Appropriations can later be canceled, but mostly they are not. So the $3.2 billion which directors of 602 leading manufacturing firms earmarked in just the last three months for future capital spending—if matched by the multitudes of firms so far unreported—could mean the 1964 economy can expect a stronger boost than heretofore foreseen.

This year business spent $39 billion on new equipment or plant expansion. Private surveys of business intentions show expenditures next year may run from 4 to 10 per cent higher.

The Department of Commerce's own survey of intentions for 1964 is due out this week.

OPTIMISTIC FORECAST

The most optimistic forecast so far has been for a $43-billion expenditure.

But the money-on-the-barrelhead appropriations, as tabulated by the National Industrial Conference Board, shows that in the July-September quarter money set aside by 602 corporations increased 19 per cent over the second quarter of the year.

The total of $3.2 billion approaches the $3.3 billion back in the summer of 1955. In the 1955-56 boom spending suddenly swelled by 22 per cent.

* * *

Significantly perhaps, appropriations this summer by industries turning out durable goods increased 22 per cent over the April-June quarter.

BELLWETHERS

Bellwethers are the primary iron and steel firms, up 45 per cent; motor vehicles and equipment, up 35 per cent; fabricated metal products, up 70 per cent; instruments and photographic equipment firms, up 64 per cent.

Details of the survey will be published in this week's issue of Newsweek Magazine.

It will show nondurable goods industries boosting appropriations by 16 per cent, with the leaders being oil and coal products, up 35 per cent; rubber products, up 33 per cent; and food and beverages, up 20 per cent.

* * *

Economists have been watching closely the trend of business spending because it is the third leg of the economy. The other two—consumer and government spending—have shown steady but moderate rises.

PEPPED UP RATE

A definite increase in business spending might give the economy the pepped up growth rate desired if more jobs are to be created. It also might be proof that industries have finally trimmed the surplus of productive capacity that the 1955-56 expansion created.

* * *

Inspiring directors to appropriate more funds for expansion might be the notable rise in profits in recent months, the cut in unit costs of production, the incentives of quicker depreciation allowances on new investments for tax purposes, and the hopes of a tax rate cut by Congress.

Also directors may be figuring that in today's highly competitive markets this is the time to replace obsolete equipment or plants.

Studebaker President Resigns

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Sherwood H. Egbert resigned today as president and member of the corporation of Studebaker Corp. Byers Burlingame was named as president and Chief executive officer of the auto manufacturing firm.

Egbert, president of Studebaker since January 1961, had tried unsuccessfully to bolster the firm's sagging auto sales.

Egbert said in his resignation that while he was still in agreement with the Studebaker board on general policies, there was some difference of opinion on how various plans should be carried out.

* * *

He said he was almost completely recovered from recent surgery for an undisclosed ailment and that he would convalesce and relax for a few months at his home in Palm Springs, Calif.

LONG CAREER

Burlingame, 63, has been in the automotive business since 1925 when he went to work for the old Packard Motor Car Co. He has been an executive with Studebaker since it merged with Packard in 1954.

In 1960, he was named as Studebaker's vice president of finance and only this month was named executive vice president and acting head of Studebaker when Egbert took what was described as a medical leave of absence.

Studebaker sales got off to a slow start in the 1964 model run. Two weeks ago, the S-P production lines were closed for a week to "permit sales to catch up with production" as one company spokesman put it.

The firm is operating its production lines three days this week because of the Thanksgiving holiday curtailment.

Mrs. Khrushchev Pays Respects to Kennedy

MOSCOW (UPI) — Mrs. Nina Khrushchev, wife of the Soviet premier, paid her respects to President Kennedy at the American ambassador's residence today and emerged with tears in her eyes.

Mrs. Khrushchev went to Spaso House at the head of a delegation of the American-Soviet Friendship Society, a Moscow organization of which she is chairman.

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Five-year-old Paul Triff figured he'd hooked a big one when he and his dad were fishing in Glen Oak pond.

* * *

His father, George Triff, agreed and the two pulled on the line, hauling in a park bench.

Character Develops at Home

Parents' Cheating Passes On to Children

By LESLIE J. NASON

Much attention has focused on the question, "Are we becoming a nation of cheaters?"

If so, where does the responsibility lie? Not primarily on the schools. The first duty of schools is to promote scholarship. Home is the place for developing ethical character.

Are you parents careful about being honest yourselves? You must be if you want your children to be honest.

A first grade teacher I know in a school located in a favored area reported these shocking incidents within a two-week period:

* * *

One little girl reported gleefully how her mother, while on trips to the supermarket, removed a jar of candy from the shelf, unscrewed the top, gave the girl and her sister pieces of candy and took one for herself, then replaced the lid and put the jar back on the shelf.

This happened each time they went to the store.

HID FIREWORKS

A boy related that on a trip across the border into Mexico his father had purchased some fireworks for use on July 4. As they approached the border to return to the United States the father said, "We must hide these because we don't want the Customs Officer to find them. It's illegal, you know, to take them across the border."

And the third story came from a little girl following a fishing trip. The family had caught many fish. As they headed for shore her father said: "I have more than my limit so if a man stops us and asks about them, you must say that you caught 10 fish.

Your mother has no fishing license and you don't need one."

* * *

How can parents expect teachers to instill honesty when they exhibit attitudes like these?

THEY CAN SUCCEED

Students can be made to realize that they should, and can, succeed without resorting to cheating.

* * *

But the children need help and guidance to understand this. It is when the children lack the "know-how" gained from efficient learning skills that they're tempted to try anything to get by.

* * *

Most children are not lazy. They will work hard on a project when they know what to do, how to do it, and can see some hope for success. But only a few are fortunate enough to acquire efficient learning skills on their own.

* * *

If the teacher recognizes the limits of each child's ability and parents' demands are not beyond reason, children can learn to succeed through honest effort.

By OSWALD JACOBY

With certain card combinations there is no right play. You just have to guess. For one such combination there are probably five or six where there is a right play and maybe two or three wrong plays.

JACOBY

South's jump to four hearts was quite sound and if West had opened anything but a trump South should have had very little trouble with his contract, but opponents aren't always co-operative. West did open the deuce of trumps.

South won in dummy and promptly led a spade to his king. West grabbed his ace and led a second trump. He got in again to lead a third trump and South wound up losing three spades and a club, his contract and his partner's esteem.

It seems that South had found a way to go wrong at trick one. He should have won the first trick in his own hand and led a spade toward dummy's jack. Once South made that play the defense would have been helpless.

If West rose with the queen there would have been no need to ruff a spade. South would have developed a sure spade trick while if West played low dummy's jack would have been a winner.

Of course, South pointed out that the lead toward the jack would not have done him any good if East had the queen of spades, but in that case there was no winning play at South's disposal. With the cards placed as they were the lead toward dummy had to win.

For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Now, move ahead with confidence. Take DIRECT action. Be specific—even demanding, if necessary. There may be some yet to be convinced that you are serious, show them.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Excellent evening for reading, attending theater — "getting away from yourself." Avoid unnecessary worry. Find ways of gaining knowledge, adding to your potentiality.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Start ENJOYING things! Look around. Realize that many friends are loyal. Give understanding and you will receive it. Begin now to fulfill hopes and dreams!

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Display abilities. Fine for obtaining solid agreements. Look to future. Plan ahead. Know that superiors are "keeping tabs." Don't be caught off guard!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Good lunar aspect corresponds to travel, writing, communication. Make known your views, turn on showmanship, as only you can do! But also highlight SINCERITY.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Consult with marital or business partner. Important that you receive COOPERATION. Otherwise, ventures prove costly, and valuable time could be lost. Remember to respect feelings of others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Be patient! Don't expect everything on "first day." Use time as your ally. Pace activities. Don't be in too much of a hurry. Applies especially to contracts, legal affairs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Your instinctive desire to "win" comes to fore. But with victory comes responsibility. Make sure you don't bite off more than you can chew! Go slow and easy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Favorable Moon aspect points to exciting opportunities. Be ready and willing! No time to be blocked by emotional armor. Throw off inhibitions. Express yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't be led astray by rash promises. Keep your head! Follow concepts of Golden Rule. Set example of fair play. Stick to facts; the "big things" will organize themselves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Find out what's expected of you. Don't rush into situation until you are AWARE. Then act accordingly. Avoid scattering your forces. Finish one thing at a time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You should begin to feel sense of ACCOMPLISHMENT. Accept credit. Don't hide light under bushel. Excess modesty could be misinterpreted. Speak up! Tonight, take a bow. You deserve it.

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are practical, capable of making money, but not always as wise when it comes to saving it.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle up for PISCES, ARIES, TAURUS. Special word to SCORPIO: A little care with details could save time, money.

No Answer for Robbery

State Trooper Can't Say Why He Did It

DETROIT (AP)—A Michigan state trooper said over the weekend he was at a loss for the reason he robbed a Royal Oak bank last week of $3,156.

"There has got to be an answer somewhere, but I haven't got one. I wish I did," said suspended trooper Andy Salkovich.

The 32-year-old Salkovich, a trooper for seven years, was arrested Thursday at the Center Line post, for the armed robbery of the National Bank of Royal Oak.

Making the arrest was Post Commander Sgt. Wayne Stevens. Salkovich was tripped up because of a dent in his auto.

DENTED CAR

While he was driving away after the robbery, a teller at the bank threw a brick at Salkovich's auto. The brick made a noticeable dent in Salkovich's auto.

Stevens made the arrest after being informed that Salkovich tried to have the dent repaired at a nearby garage.

Salkovich, a father of three, explained he staged the robbery on the spur of the moment.

★ ★ ★

"I did this on an impulse. I was driving from Oak Park where I had gone to sign some papers for the house we were having built there."

BEGAN THINKING

Salkovich said he looked into the bank as he drove along and then he began thinking about the possibilities of robbing one.

"I must have looked at half a dozen banks," he said. "Then I saw this one in Royal Oak (National Bank of Royal Oak) and I made up my mind to rob it."

According to the suspended trooper, "It was easy. I just showed my gun to the teller and told her to give me some money, then I just walked out."

Salkovich, who made $7,226 a year as a trooper, said he didn't need the money.

"I didn't know what to do with it after I got it. I put it in my coat pocket, then I hid it in a suitcase after I got to my room."

Founder's Kin to Head News

Grandson of Scripps Is Named Publisher

DETROIT (AP) — Peter B. Clark, 35, a great-grandson of James E. Scripps who founded the Detroit News, has been named publisher of the newspaper and president of the Evening News Association.

Clark succeeds Warren S. Booth, who was elected chairman of the board of directors after 11 years as chief executive officer of the Evening News Association, which owns the newspaper and WWJ-AM and FM and WWJ-TV.

Booth also has been a director of the corporation since 1925.

★ ★ ★

Evening News Association directors also elected Edwin K. Wheeler to their board and named him executive vice president of the parent corporation. Wheeler will continue as general manager of the newspaper.

FOUNDED NEWS

Clark, whose great-grandfather, James E. Scripps, founded the News on Aug. 23, 1873, served for the past two years as vice president and assistant publisher of the newspaper.

Clark's election continues a tradition of management of Michigan's largest newspaper by direct descendants of Scripps.

His grandmother, now Grace Scripps Johnson, is a daughter of James E. Scripps, who lives in LaJolla, Calif., which also is the home of Clark's father, Rex Scripps Clark.

★ ★ ★

Clark came to the News in 1961 as a secretary and assistant to the president. He was named second-in-command as vice-president and assistant publisher in November, 1961.

ATTENDED CRANBROOK

Born in Detroit in 1928, Clark attended Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills and finished high school in LaJolla.

He was graduated from Pomona College in 1952. He majored in government. Clark took his master's degree at Syracuse University a year later. He was awarded his doctorate in political science at the University of Chicago.

Clark was named assistant professor of political science at Yale University in 1959. He resigned this post to become an executive with the News.

Knew Kennedy Well

U.S. Bid Farewell Through TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—During the quiet time after Sunday's moving and incredible events, television networks sometimes aimed their cameras on the coffin of John F. Kennedy in the Capitol Rotunda and showed the stream of people silently and reverently walking past the bier.

★ ★ ★

By the miracle of television, all Americans could pay their final respects in the same place. This was as it should be. Because of television, the public knew, or felt it knew, President Kennedy better than any other executive before him.

He had been a television visitor in most of our homes on an almost daily basis for more than three years. His death, therefore, was more than the tragic loss of a president or of a vital, needed young man. It was the loss of someone we felt we knew very well, almost as a member of a family.

HAD SEEN HIM

We had seen him making formal speeches. We remember his grave warning of the Cuban crisis. But perhaps most of us got to know him best during those informal moments before the cameras—seated in a rocking chair talking informally and off the cuff from his White House office, being interviewed on the lawn of his Hyannis Port home, squinting against the sun and his hair ruffled by a sea wind, wittily parrying reporters' questions in a light moment at a news conference.

★ ★ ★

During these last few days of national nightmare with shock piled on shock, television brought us more sights and sounds few of us will ever forget.

There was the face of self-controlled Jacqueline Kennedy bending to her children during services in the Capitol. There was Caroline putting out a small white gloved hand to touch the coffin during a brief moment with her mother beside the bier. There was that appalling moment when Lee Harvey Oswald was shot down in Dallas police headquarters as, through television, the eyes of the nation were on him and his killer.

The concentrated coverage started Friday. So much has crowded before our eyes, and our emotions have been touched so often it is hard to single out all of the memorable moments. Sometimes watching became almost unbearable and one had to go away.

But only for a while.

The performance of the three networks has been splendid. They covered the mournful events in Washington and the terrible events in Dallas with great crews of men and equipment. Amid all the confusion—even pandemonium at one point Sunday in Dallas—they kept a sense of balance and order.

For the most part, the coverage was done with dignity and good taste.

LONG PERIODS

There were, of course, long periods when each network obviously was finding it a problem to find things to talk about and new film to show. Then they fell back on classical and liturgical music, old film and tape. They rounded up senators and representatives, professors and experts, to discuss politics, future events, and to reminisce. They started the job of introducing a shocked nation to its new President with special biographical shows and in round-table talks.

★ ★ ★

Local radio and television stations also served well by keeping the public informed about cancellations and postponements, school, store and bank closings today.

Regular programming will be resumed Tuesday and most of us will be glad to start picking up the threads of normal life again.

FINE PERFORMANCE

But television's fine performance during these critical days is something that they can be proud of and for which we can be grateful.

Communists Wipe Out 2 Viet Nam Strongholds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 1,000 mountain tribesmen are missing from two of the South Vietnamese government's strategic hamlets following a wave of large-scale Communist attacks, military sources reported today.

Eighty-two government weapons were captured in massive enemy attacks that wiped out the hamlets of Dak Rode and Plei Kobay, 250 miles north of Saigon in mountains near where the South Vietnamese, Cambodian and Laotian frontiers meet.

★ ★ ★

The coordinated attacks reportedly began a few hours before dawn Sunday. Details were scant, but 550 tribesmen with 57 weapons were missing from Dak Rode and 522 tribesmen with 25 weapons were missing from nearby Plei Kobay.

It was the worst government setback in the central highlands since last January, when the Viet Cong overran several major posts.

ACTIVITY INCREASED

Communist activity has increased several hundred per cent all over Viet Nam in the past few weeks.

The government has returned the Viet Cong onslaught with a series of slashing operations of its own. In two operations in the Mekong Delta starting last Thursday, the government said it killed about 150 Viet Cong.

★ ★ ★

In the past 48 hours, Viet Cong units have smashed outposts in many areas and carried off enough American weapons to equip several Communist battalions.

Four Americans were missing after guerrillas overran a strike force camp at Hiep Hoa, 18 miles west of Saigon. Thirty-seven Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 27 persons were wounded, including an America officer.

RESCUE ATTEMPT

Government forces launched a major action in an attempt to rescue the Americans.

Government troops also were searching for the bodies of two Americans and a Vietnamese who apparently were killed in the crash of a B26 fighter-bomber over the Mekong Delta.

An American spokesman said 14 American servicemen are listed as missing in action in South Viet Nam. Seventy-eight Americans have been killed in action and another 63 have died of natural causes, accidents and incidents in the field.

Feminine TV Star Rebels, Hairdressers Get in Hair

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Hairdressers rule New York—but Colleen Dewhurst, a Middlewesterner, and her husband, George C. Scott, a Virginia gentleman and TV star, have started a revolution that may spread—I hope.

WILSON

"I just won't go to a beauty parlor or hairdresser," says tumbly-haired Miss Dewhurst, star of "The Ballad of the Sad Cafe." Preferring to look natural and a little rumpled, she rebels at letting "hair appointments" guide her life.

"They want to slick your hair into a beehive that no man would want to run his hand through because it'd get sticky with goo," she says. "Some women get to be hairdo addicts. They have to have their hairdos like alcoholics need booze.

"They keep trying to convert me. In Detroit, where we lived for a while, they'd say, 'I'll just run a color comb through it.' I tell them my husband likes me this way and he said if I ever use a color comb, I needn't come home."

★ ★ ★

Her husband, the brilliant star of CBS TV's "East Side, West Side," who comes from Wise, Va., has terrorized the N. Y. hairdressers into silence—and bosses her around too, so she claims.

"Naturally," says Miss Dewhurt, who' also lived in Milwaukee and Gary, Ind., "I often wonder if he likes my hair in its natural state as much as he says he does. Once I had my hair dyed blonde for a movie. I couldn't get any man to talk straight to me. I'd start a conversation and a man would say, 'Yeah, yeah, baby, just don't talk. Don't talk, honey, whatever you do, don't talk.'"

Yule Clubs Help Early Shoppers

How many shopping days till Christmas? Well over 300, say some of Santa's smartest assistants—just enough time to start planning early.

They're referring, of course, to Christmas '64. In the midst of this Christmas season, they're looking ahead to the next one by enrolling in 1964 Christmas savings clubs.

Local banks are presently paying out savings to members of their '63 clubs and at the same time announcing the opening of new Christmas Savings plans.

★ ★ ★

For assistant Santas who cherish dreams of giving a special big gift or gifts, and for all who enjoy the idea of having a comfortable sum all ready for Christmas gifts spending, the savings plans offer a convenient answer.

WITH LOANS

In still other ways, banks can help in playing Santa this Christmas.

They assist in making those big gifts dreams come true right away, with loans for the purchase of such major items as appliances and automobiles.

Banking services can be a gift, too. "Give a bank account!" is the suggestion, to be carried out in many ways. Open a checking account for mother, and start it off with a gift of cash.

Cave Explorer Dies Despite Rescue Try

INGLETON, England (AP) — More than 100 rescuers fought a grim battle with picks and shovels Sunday but failed to save a 25-year-old cave explorer trapped in a cave by flooding waters.

When they reached the trapped man, Michael McShay, married and father of a 2-year-old daughter, they found him dead.

Advertising to Note President's Death

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The words, "Friday, Nov. 22, 1963," printed on a white background with a 12-inch black border, will be posted on billboards in Detroit and about 100 other cities in the nation.

It will be the advertising industry's way of joining the national mourning for President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The industry planned to cover up commercial advertisements with as many of the memorial signs as possible by the hour of the slain President's funeral today, the spokesman said.

Parachute Fails to Open; Young Jumper Killed

GREYBULL, Wyo. (AP) — A young parachute jumper was killed Sunday when his 'chute failed to open after he left a plane over the Greybull airport.

Ernest Bleamer, about 22, of Pinedale, Wyo., was making his fifth parachute jump.

Morris Avery of Avery Aviation said the plane was about 3,000 feet above the airport when Bleamer left the craft.

"It looked like the reserve parachute started to open but it didn't," said Avery.

Bleamer was one of six jumpers in the plane.

President Kennedy Laid to Rest With U.S. Heroes at Arlington

TV Records Death of Accused Killer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Lee Harvey Oswald is dead, slain by a self-appointed executioner who undertook swift, savage reprisal for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Oswald's killer, Jack Ruby, 52, stepped out of a crowd of 200 in the basement of the Dallas City Hall yesterday and put a single pistol bullet into Oswald's side.

"It's too good for him!" someone shouted after the 24-year-old self-styled Communist dropped in his tracks, a single cry of anguish escaping his lips. Police quickly overwhelmed and disarmed Ruby.

It was an incredible climax to the wildest weekend in Dallas history—a savage, sudden moment of raw drama that was caught by national television networks and broadcast with shocking impact into American living rooms.

"He took Kennedy's death much harder than that of our 88-year-old father five years ago," said Ruby's older sister, Eva Grant. "He couldn't eat Friday. He kept talking about Jackie and the Kennedy kids."

★ ★ ★

Oswald had been formally accused of the sniper assassination of Kennedy last Friday as the President rode beaming beside his wife, Jacqueline Kennedy, in a triumphal motorcade through downtown Dallas.

GOVERNOR, TOO

Also wounded in the shooting was Texas Gov. John Connally, who is recovering. Later, authorities said, Oswald shot to death a Dallas policeman, J. D. Tippit, who—wittingly or otherwise—interrupted his getaway flight.

The first reaction of Dallas police to Oswald's murder was to mark the assassination case closed, and concentrate on trying to convict Ruby.

But federal officials felt otherwise. President Johnson ordered a full government probe of Oswald's slaying, and the FBI proposed further investigation into the presidential assassination with the hope of eventually giving the American people the full story. Later, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade listed what he said was a complete summary of the evidence against Oswald.

★ ★ ★

A wild tumult broke out immediately after the shooting of Oswald in the basement of City Hall. But it was nothing compared to the public uproar over the slaying.

CALLED COVERUP

Communist propaganda organs abroad promptly depicted Oswald's death as a coverup to mask sinister rightist forces which they blamed for the President's assassination. Moscow bitterly resented the linking of Oswald with communism.

Americans themselves disagreed over the shooting of the cold-eyed Oswald. Some thought he got what he deserved. Others noted that no matter the enormity of the crime against him, he still was entitled by law to his day in court.

Amid the furor, Ruby was booked on a murder charge and Dist. Atty. Wade announced he would press for his conviction and execution in the electric chair with the same vigor he had proposed to apply toward Oswald.

Oswald was arrested Friday,

Grieving World Says Farewell

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mourning nation buried John F. Kennedy today on an open hillside scarred with history after a formal farewell from statesmen, countrymen and family.

The youthful President, who sought peace at an age of hot and cold wars, was put to rest beside the nation's heros in Arlington National Cemetery — in a grave overlooking the memorial of another martyred president, Abraham Lincoln.

But with the prayers for the dead there were hopes for the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, who briefly laid aside the awesome problems he inherited to lead 26 presidents, prime ministers and kings in paying respect to the assassinated Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Not since the burial of the Unknown Soldier 40 years ago has there been such a gathering in Washington.

SOMBER PROCESSION

Many, if not all, of the 100 or so dignitaries—including French President Charles de Gaulle, Prince Phillip and Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Britain, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany—joined the grieving Mrs. Kennedy in a sombre procession behind the horse-drawn caisson bearing Kennedy's body to St. Mathew's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

The low Pontifical Mass was celebrated by Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of the Kennedy family.

Because of the space limitations, only those with invitations were allowed up the 13 steps and into the dark-red brick church.

★ ★ ★

But in a moving display of sorrow and affection, Americans mighty and humble paid their respects to their slain leader by the hundreds of thousands.

CHOKED SIDEWALKS

They choked the sidewalks along Pennsylvania Avenue and flooded the Capitol grounds yesterday as the late President's body was carried past them on a caisson drawn by six horses. Then came the dark riderless horse, with empty cavalry boot reversed in the stirrups, the traditional symbol of a slain warrior.

After the procession passed the crowd of spectators broke through police lines and by the thousands marched silently up the broad avenue to the white Capitol crowning Capitol Hill.

All night long and into the morning they passed the bier lying with its guard of honor under the Capitol rotunda. At times the line extended nine miles, involving a seven-hour wait.

★ ★ ★

Some cried. Some carried children in arms to let them have a brush with history.

NEW SHOCK

But even as the crowds waited along Pennsylvania Avenue for the start of the procession, a new shock whispered through the throngs.

Lee Harvey Oswald, the 24-year-old Marxist and ex-Marine charged with killing Kennedy, was himself gunned down and died in an emergency room at the Dallas hospital not 10 feet from where Kennedy himself had died Friday.

Oswald breathed his last shortly after the late President's body was carried by nine servicemen into the Capitol.

Not long after Oswald died hundreds of miles away, Mrs. Kennedy, her eyes shadowed by fatigue and grief, stood with daughter Caroline before the flag-draped casket in the Capitol and heard Chief Justice Earl Warren speak in eulogy to the late President.

"If we really love this country; if we truly love justice and mercy; if we fervently want to make this nation better for those who are to follow us, we can at least abjure the hatred that consumes people, the false accusations that divide us and the bitterness that begets violence," Warren said.

★ ★ ★

"Is it too much to hope that the martydom of our beloved President might even soften the hearts of those who would themselves recoil from assassination, but who do not shrink from spreading the venom which kindles thoughts of it in others?"

OTHER EULOGIES

The other eulogies were delivered by the late President's congressional leaders, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker John W. McCormack, the tall white-haired Bostonian who had watched the Harvard-educated millionaire's son move swiftly up from House to Senate to White House.

"We must thank God," said McCormack, "that we were privileged, however briefly, to have had this great man for president."

As Mrs. Kennedy grasped Caroline's hand, Mansfield said of her late husband, "there was a husband who asked much and gave much, and out of the giving and the asking, wove with a woman what could not be broken in life - -"

★ ★ ★

John Jr. had also accompanied his mother and sister to the services but, too young to understand, fidgeted and finally had to be led away. His third birthday is today.

KISSED COFFIN

Then at the end, Mrs. Kennedy walked up to the closed coffin with Caroline beside her. She knelt and kissed it.

Later in the night and alone except for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, she returned and, passing through the long lines of those who came to pay their respect, she once again knelt and kissed her husband's casket.

that mourned the slain President.

The 34-year-old widow of President Kennedy seemed reluctant to leave his casket.

With her two children, she had come in a funeral procession yesterday to leave the President's body to lie in state in the Capitol for public viewing by many thousands.

Mrs. Kennedy, with her daughter Caroline beside her, had knelt and kissed the casket before she departed about 2:30 p.m.

RETURNS AGAIN

Unexpectedly, she was back about 9 o'clock last night, on the arm of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as long lines of people waited to pass the President's bier.

She walked slowly by the ropes keeping the public from the casket area and once again knelt and kissed the coffin.

Until she had left it at the Capitol, Mrs. Kennedy had remained near her husband's body since he was slain in Dallas Friday afternoon.

On her sudden nighttime reappearance, the slow - moving crowd came to a halt.

TEAR-STAINED FACE

When Mrs. Kennedy rose, she turned her tear-stained face and looked for a long moment at the faces of those who came to pay their respects to her late husband.

As she and the attorney general left, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to look searchingly at the faces of the incoming throng.

"Let me walk, let me walk," she said as they descended the Capitol steps.

At first Mrs. Kennedy went unrecognized, but soon she was discovered and some followed after her party of police and Secret Service agents.

LBJ on Own as President

Was With Kennedy to the End of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson traveled the last miles with John F. Kennedy today—and then planned to set his own course in meetings with a massive array of world statesmen.

Everyone watched for clues as to how Johnson would get along with President Charles de Gaulle of France. De Gaulle differed from Kennedy on such great questions as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the European Common Market, and the French government's insistence on its own nuclear force.

★ ★ ★

Whether Johnson, noted as a master persuader when he was the Democratic leader of the Senate, would get together with de Gaulle on an in-depth discussion of world affairs was not yet certain.

First came the sad task of accompanying the martyred President Kennedy's body to the grave. Part of the journey was to be afoot, from the White House to St. Matthews Cathedral for the Requiem Mass, then by car to Arlington National Cemetery, for a hero's burial.

RECEIVES DIGNITARIES

After the funeral, Mrs. Kennedy arranged to receive the foreign dignitaries at the White House. Then Johnson plunges into his first round of personal diplomacy as president.

He scheduled a 90-minute reception—5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. — for the more than 100 foreign dignitaries who journeyed to Washington to pay their respects to the late President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The social gathering in the State Department's diplomatic reception rooms gives the new President little opportunity for more than a passing contact with foreign leaders with whom he will have more dealings later.

Today's emphasis, however, was on mourning, not international affairs.

TIME LIMITED

Efforts were under way to squeeze in some further appointments with some of the leaders though the time was limited.

De Gaulle, for instance, was expected to head back to Paris tonight.

★ ★ ★

In these swift moving days Johnson has had to work business in between the hours of mourning.

Bullet Fells Man Held for Killing John F. Kennedy

shortly after Kennedy's assassination, and after the slaying of officer Tippit.

He insisted from the outset: "I did not kill President Kennedy. I did not kill anyone."

He stuck to this story during 48 hours of intensive questioning in temporary detention quarters in City Hall.

The assassin fired on Kennedy from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building, which overlooked the route of the President's motorcade. Oswald was a warehouse employe of the firm.

Finally, police decided they would get no information from Oswald. They announced that he would be transferred by armored car from City Hall to a permanent maximum security cell in the Dallas County jail, about a mile away.

Some 200 newsmen and officials gathered in a basement ramp leading from a City Hall elevator to a driveway outside. Other curious spectators stood in bright sunshine outside to await Oswald's emergence.

Oswald, handcuffed, with detectives on either arm, came out of the elevator and took a few steps in the direction of the armored car parked halfway up the inclined ramp.

At that moment, the stocky, conservatively dressed Ruby lunged forward, stuck his pistol flush against Oswald's side and fired a single shot. The roar of the gun was somewhat muffled by its close proximity to the victim's body.

'Case Solid Against Oswald'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"This is it—I've sent men to the electric chair on less evidence than we have against Lee Harvey Oswald."

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade made the claim as he revealed the evidence which convinced Dallas officers they had an airtight case against the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"There is no doubt in my mind that Oswald was the killer," Wade said.

Nine hours before Wade spoke to newsmen Sunday night, Oswald, 24, was fatally shot by Jack Ruby, owner of a Dallas lounge. The shooting occurred in the police headquarters basement in front of hundreds of police, Secret Service, FBI men and newsmen, as Oswald was being escorted to an armored car for transportation to new jail quarters.

FIND MAP

Not long after Wade finished describing what he said was all the evidence against Oswald, the Dallas Morning News said in a copyright story that officers had found a map in Oswald's room which marked the path of the bullets which killed Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally Friday afternoon. Wade had made no mention of this.

The newspaper said the map outlined Kennedy's motorcade route, and a line was drawn from the Texas School Book Depository Building to Elm Street, where the President and Connally were shot.

★ ★ ★

Police officers available said they knew nothing of any map. In Washington, the Secret Service and FBI had no comment.

Wade said two facts stood high in the mass of evidence linking the slim, brown-haired Oswald to the slaying.

PALM PRINT

First, a palm print on the underside of the rifle which fired the bullets that killed Kennedy was identified as Oswald's.

Secondly, Wade said, Oswald had definitely been placed inside the building at the time the shots were fired from there at Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"The gun was here, his prints were on the gun, the gun was the gun that killed Kennedy, his palm prints were on the box on which the killer sat, and witnesses put him on the sixth floor at the time of the shooting."

Asked if he believed Oswald was slain to keep him from talking, Wade said police were looking into that angle but so far no connection has been established between Oswald and Ruby.

ANOTHER PROBE?

"There is no concrete evidence to go on that there is anyone else connected with the assassination," Wade said, but added that some aspects of the case may still be investigated.

The district attorney said that because Ruby's slaying of Oswald was an assassination "I am certain that I can get the death penalty for Ruby. Ruby walked up to a man who was handcuffed and defenseless and cold - bloodedly assassinated him."

Wade added several specific details to evidence previously brought out.

★ ★ ★

He said Oswald bought the Italian-make assassination rifle last March from a Chicago mail order firm, at a cost of slightly more than $12. The FBI, he said confirmed the serial number of the mail order rifle matched that of the rifle that fired the shots at Kennedy.

Wade said they found a photograph showing Oswald holding the rifle, at what he called an "at attention" stance. In one hand, Oswald held the rifle and in the other copies of the Daily Worker and a fascist publication, the Militant.

MUCH MATERIAL

There was no evidence that showed Oswald was a member of the Communist party, Wade said. "However, there was lots of material dealing with communism, such as the Daily Worker, and there was even more material dealing with the Fair Play for Cuba organization."

Officers said earlier Oswald told them he was a Communist, and was proud of it.

Wade also said three ejected shells, of an odd caliber that came from the assassination rifle found on the floor, were located near the box at the ambush window where a palm print of Oswald's was impressed.

In his calm, deliberate voice, the silver-haired district attorney retraced Oswald's actions last Friday.

DRIVEN IN

He was driven into town by a neighbor from Irving, a Dallas suburb. Wade said Oswald usually stayed there with his wife only on weekends, and at other times lived in a rented room in Dallas.

Oswald was carrying a package, which he said contained window shades. The package was long enough to have held a rifle. Oswald's wife said the rifle he owned was in Irving Thursday night but was not there Friday.

★ ★ ★

Several witnesses told of seeing the assassin's weapon protruding from a sixth-floor window at the time President Kennedy was shot.

After the shooting, Wade said, "We saw this man in the corner of the building and started to arrest him. The manager said Oswald was an employe and we let him go.

DESCRIPTION OUT

"We located every other employe but him. A description went out to look for him.

Oswald got on a bus at Lamar Street and told a lady on the bus the President had been shot. The lady told the bus driver, and the driver asked where she had heard this. She said from a man in the back, and he (Oswald) laughed very loud."

★ ★ ★

"He got off the bus and caught a taxi the rest of the way to his Oak Cliff rooming house."

Wade said Oswald changed clothes hurriedly and left. "Then a block from the rooming house witnesses saw a police officer (patrolman J. D. Tippit) motion to him. Officer Tippit got out of his car and came around and Oswald shot him three times.

WALKED AWAY

"Then he walked across a vacant lot, ejected three shells and reloaded the gun. He walked away and went into the Texas Theater.

"Dallas police spotted him. He struck at an officer and put his gun against officer M. N. McDonald's head." The firing pin missed the firing cap, Wade said, and the shell didn't explode. After a scuffle, six officers subdued Oswald and took him to the police station.

Write Safety Essay! It's Judge's Sentence

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP) — Judge Arthur L. Raelson let the punishment fit the crime when 15 boys and girls ranging in age from 12 to 17 were cited for violating bicycle safety rules.

The youngsters appeared at bicycle court in La Porte city court with their parents and each was ordered to write a 150-200 word essay on "Bicycle Safety."

But Some Sympathize With Ruby

Most in Poll Agree Justice Hurt

By ROBERT R. HOLTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Millions of television viewers throughout the nation watched in stunned horror Sunday as a murder was committed.

Many looked beyond the grisly aspects of the spectacle to find in the dead some type of justice worked against Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused, but not convicted, of assassinating President Kennedy only two days before.

★ ★ ★

The overwhelming majority of those polled by The Associated Press looked upon Oswald's slaying by Dallas night club proprietor Jack Ruby as a frightening revalt against the American code of justice.

Many thought the murder mirrored a breakdown in the moral standards of the nation. Clergyman condemned it as a serious breach in Christian ethics.

PRACTICAL LOSS

Still others saw in Oswald's death a practical loss. They wondered whether the world ever would know if the true presidential assassin had paid for his crime.

In Dallas, Tex., where the slaying of both the President and his suspected killer took place, some openly cheered the killing of Oswald. Many more, along with the clergy and civic leaders, denounced the slaying as an unlawful and damaging act.

★ ★ ★

In Albany, N. Y., an unidentified woman telephoned a newspaper office to recommend that Ruby be given the Medal of Honor.

"Good," said Chicago cab driver Carl Moore. "It was justified. The man who did it was a nut. But he (Oswald) got what he deserved."

BELIEF IN LAW

Most of those polled expressed belief in the principle of American law stating that a man is innocent until proven guilty.

Rolland R. O'Hare, district attorney of Detroit, Mich., expressed fear that "due process of the law is on the verge of becoming a victim of assassination."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Earle Cabell of Dallas issued an urgent appeal "for all of us to come to our senses, to resist hysteria."

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America and chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, said: "Life, as the gift of God, deserves to be respected far more than it is, and self-control ought to be restored to its rightful standing among the Christian graces where the Bible puts it."

'INSANE BARBARITY'

Dr. Fredrik A. Schiotz, president of the American Lutheran Church, said the slaying of Oswald was an act of insane barbarity and added: "We bow in shame and sorrow that this deed could be done among us."

Barbara Smiet of Chicago said, "Now maybe somebody will shoot the guy who shot Oswald. What are they gaining by it?"

Police Guarding Oswald's Body in Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Two policemen stood guard today outside the room where the body of Lee Harvey Oswald lay in Miller's Funeral Home.

Funeral home personnel last night delivered the body of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy to Fort Worth from Dallas.

"We don't anticipate any trouble," said Lt. S. D. Pruitt, heading the police guard, "but, we're here to protect the peace."

Ruby Brother's Home Guarded

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Police today guarded the home of Earl R. Ruby, a brother of Jack Ruby, the man who shot and killed Lee Harvey Oswald in Dallas.

Earl Ruby was believed en route to Dallas to see his brother. Earl Ruby's wife, Marge, declined to talk to newsmen. Yesterday she told newsmen that she "had nothing to say until my husband returns."

The Rubys live at 29925 Woodland in this fashionable Detroit suburb.

Mrs. Ruby said her husband was away and would not return last night. She declined to say whether he was Jack Ruby's brother.

However, police said Ruby (Earl) was now believed en route to Dallas.

FIRST INDICATION

The first indication that Jack Ruby had a brother living in the Detroit area came when a sister, Mrs. Eva L. Grant, of Dallas, told newsmen of how Jack Ruby called her after President Kennedy was shot.

"He was crying," he said, "I could see he (Jack) was so emotional. Then he called his brother in Detroit."

Church Council Makes Plans for Thanksgiving

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Council of Churches is now completing plans for its annual community Thanksgiving Day service.

Host church for the service this year will be North minster Presbyterian, 3833 W. Big Beaver, Troy.

Rev. Robert W. Boley, pastor of the Beverly Hills Methodist Church, will deliver a sermon entitled "The Continuing Opportunity of Thanksgiving."

★ ★ ★

Assisting in the worship service will be Rev. MacKay Taylor, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian.

The adult and hand bell choirs of the church will provide music.

A nursery will be provided for preschool children during the 10 a.m. service.

The Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its third annual father - son banquet Tuesday.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. with the showing of two movies, "Night in a Pet Shop" and "Fun Factory."

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m., followed by a program featuring Trooper Stan Snyder of the Michigan State Police. He will have with him "Resusci-Anne", a life-sized mannequin he will use in his demonstrations.

TROOP INVITED

Members of the church's boy scout troop and their fathers also have been invited to attend.

Reservations can be made at the church office, 388 N. Woodward.

Lloyd M. McQuater

Service for former Birmingham resident Lloyd M. (Pat) McQuater, 63, of 130 Habrand, Troy, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. McQuater, an employe of Wayne - Oakland Bank, Royal Oak Branch, died unexpectedly Saturday.

He was a member of Birmingham Lodge No. 44, F&AM; Birmingham High-12; the Lost Lake Woods Club, Lincoln; and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association.

Mr. McQuater was also former district deputy of DeMolay, and a former member of the Birmingham Fire Department.

Two cousins survive.

At 4 p.m., city officials, veterans, clergymen and members of the Pontiac National Guard Unit, were to assemble at the Pontiac National Guard Armory on Water Street.

MONUMENT MARCH

Escorted by the Oakland County Sheriff's Mounted Posse, the dignitaries planned to march to the monument.

Benediction was to be offered by Rev. Thompson Marcero, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

A wreath, donated by the Cook - Nelson American Legion Post was to be placed on the monument by Mayor Robert A. Landry.

★ ★ ★

Laundry then will read an official proclamation of mourning for the late president.

This is to be followed by a 21-gun salute and Taps.

SCHOOL STUDENTS

Buglers and drummers participating in the service are from Pontiac's two high schools.

With the service highlighting this city's observance of a national day of mourning, many stores remained closed all afternoon. A few reopened at 2:30 p.m.

At Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division and Fisher Body Division, all salaried employes were to return to their jobs at 3.

★ ★ ★

All first shift hourly workers, however, were sent home by noon. Others, such as maintenance and plant protection officers remained at their posts.

STARTING TIME

At Pontiac Motor Division, starting time for second - shift workers varies according to their regular reporting time for particular departments. For engine plant employes this is 5 p.m., and 6:18 p.m. for final assembly.

Most Fisher Body second shift employes will report at their regular start, 5 p.m.

GMC Truck & Coach hourly workers start second shift operations at regular staggered times, 3:15, 3:45 and 4:15 p.m.

Tearful 2nd Look for Mrs. Kennedy

Roman Catholic nuns. They offered sympathy.

Finally when the crowd about her grew, a limousine pulled up and took Mrs. Kennedy back to the White House.

It was learned Mrs. Kennedy personally had decided on many of the details of the presidential funeral, including the decision that the mourners would walk some eight blocks from the White House as was done at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln, the president slain almost 100 years ago.

Protocol and research experts had brought to the White House plans of the funerals of George Washington, Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt for guidance.

MAKES DECISION

Mrs. Kennedy, who shared her husband's interest in history, agreed on the marching procession in the streets, a theme dating back to Washington's funeral.

It was not known for sure whether Mrs. Lincoln actually made the march on April 19, 1865 when thousands followed her husband's coffin on foot. State Department spokesmen said research showed members of Lincoln's family followed, but the widow was not mentioned in records they could find.

Lincolns' riderless horse followed his caisson. Mrs. Kennedy sent her thoroughbred bay gelding, Sardar, to fill the symbolic role.

The horse, a gift to her from Pakistan President Ayub Khan, a bit skittish and nervous, was led with empty saddle and boots reversed in the stirrups to symbolize the fallen leader.

Tragedy Engulfs Third Birthday of President's Son

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I want a flag to take home to my daddy."

Those were the words of John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., who is 3 years old today.

The little boy was seen by millions of people clutching the tiny American flag in his fist as he walked down the 36 steps of the Capitol yesterday.

* * *

He got the flag in the speaker's office for the tall man with laughing blue eyes who used to love him and pet him and take him on helicopter rides. The President who is no more.

GOT RESTLESS

John-John, as his father affectionately called him, was taken there when he got restless in the Rotunda where he had to be so still and couldn't break loose from his mother's firm hold.

His father, who was rarely still, would have understood.

John Jr. is expected to go to Arlington Cemetery today when the daddy he adored is laid to rest with other Americans who served their country. He has been there before and he has heard the sound of taps.

* * *

The President took his son to Arlington on Veterans Day, only two weeks ago, to honor the war dead. The youngster charmed the nation by saluting the men in uniform and attempting to fall in step with his father.

LITTLE PARTY

Today when there should be rejoicing for John Jr., there is sadness for him. He was to have a little birthday party tomorrow to celebrate with his playmates. He may still have that. His father would have wanted it.

John Jr. has been in the national limelight since the day he was born on Nov. 25, 1960.

It was Thanksgiving Day and his father was the President-elect.

His birth made headlines when his mother was rushed to Georgetown Hospital in a dramatic race with the stork, and his father turned around on a flight to Palm Beach, Fla., to fly back after his birth.

* * *

The first two years of his life were secluded. His mother wanted to protect his privacy.

MOST ATTENTION

His sister, Caroline, who will be 6 years old Wednesday, got most of the attention. She was the apple of her daddy's eye.

But in the last six months, a bond of mutual affection and mutual joy had sprung up between the President and his son. John Jr. used to walk him to the office in the West Wing in the morning, talking a blue streak about his toys, mostly about helicopters.

He liked to crawl under the President's desk, beg chewing gum from receptionist Dave Powers and rock fast in his daddy's famous rocker.

* * *

Sometimes he met world figures. At least he used to see a lot of them from the White House balcony with bands playing and his father standing at military attention.

WAS LOYAL TOO

He was loyal, too. When President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived on the White House lawn, John-John was up on the balcony shouting "We want Kennedy. We want Kennedy."

When he was kept out of his father's office and told that the Soviet Foreign Minister "Mr. Gromyko" was inside, he shouted from secretary Evelyn Lincoln's office "Gromyko, Gromyko."

The playground he shared with his sister and playmates will go down in history. His curiosity, inquisitiveness, cute remarks, his day-to-day growing up, his squeals that reverberated in the West Wing soon will be no more.

* * *

And children everywhere will think less about the White House because John-John and Caroline are no longer there.

LAST TIME

The little boy saw his father alive for the last time Thursday when he jauntily boarded a helicopter with his parents for a ride to Andrews Air Force Base. They went on to Texas and to a tragic fate.

The fallen President gave his son a White House beginning and a love that knows no end.

There are about 319,000 blind Americans; 75 lose their sight each day.

Halleck Says Adjourn to Give LBJ a Breather

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax reduction and civil rights, President John F. Kennedy's top legislative proposals, appeared likely today to be temporarily sidetracked by a drive to adjourn Congress and give President Johnson a breathing spell.

The push for early adjournment was led by House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and had substantial backing from members of both parties who believe Congress should adjourn and engage in no more bickering this year. The two pending proposals are the most controversial in Congress.

'SHOULD ADJOURN'

Halleck's adjournment target is Dec. 14. Democratic leaders have called for continuation of the session until Jan. 3, with a Christmas recess of two weeks. Jan. 3 is the date for opening of the next session of the present Congress.

"We should expedite what we have to do and adjourn," Halleck said in an interview. "Let's give the new President time to get his feet on the ground."

The vehicle for Halleck's adjournment drive is a resolution to provide temporary financing for federal agencies whose appropriations for the present fiscal year have not been made. It is the fourth such resolution since the fiscal year started on July 1 and comes before the House Tuesday.

The new measure would provide funds for the month of December. Halleck will attempt to change the date probably to next Jan. 31 on the assumption that Congress could dispose of other necessary measures between now and Dec. 14.

"I see no reason why we can't do the things that must be done and adjourn by Dec. 14," Halleck said.

GIVE UP HOPE

Democratic leaders already have all but officially given up hope of action this year on civil rights and tax legislation but feel that Congress should remain in session as long as there is any chance for action.

The House has passed a tax reduction bill which is bogged down in the Senate Finance Committee. The House Judiciary Committee has approved a civil rights measure which is being bottled up in the Rules Committee.

* * *

Neither measure would die if Congress quits soon, since the 1964 session is a continuance of this year's and all unfinished business retains its position on the docket of the next session.

President Johnson's address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday is not expected to clear up the disturbed congressional waters. Johnson, those close to him predict, will emphasize the need for national unity rather than attempt to prod Congress to act immediately on the unfinished program of his predecessor.

Isolated Jurors Just Learn of Assassination

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The news of President Kennedy's assassination came to 12 jurors here for the first time when they emerged from four days of isolation Saturday night.

The men, who had been deliberating a second degree murder trial, were told of the President's death by Circuit Court Judge Herbert Steffes.

The reaction, like the rest of the nation was shock.

Several jurors caught their breath. One man uttered, "No." Another man's hands flew to his face.

Five Persons Killed in German Train Crash

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) —Five persons were killed today when a slow passenger train rammed an express train near Hannover, the German Federal Railways announced.

★ ★ ★

Seven persons were seriously injured and 20 others suffered lesser injuries. Officials said the slow train went through a stop sign.

They Celebrate Yule in July

DOVER, N. J. (AP) — When members of the First Memorial Presbyterian Church here start making Christmas plans, thermometers are registering in the high 80s, and the shoppers are wearing summer cottons.

Christmas-in-July has long been an annual event at the church, a time when stacks of presents are donated for December use in Presbyterian missions in deprived areas.

The summer Christmas is nearly identical with the winter one.

★ ★ ★

A huge, lighted Christmas tree, covered with balls and lights, stands in the sanctuary. A mound of presents surrounds it. Carols ring out from the choir loft.

ANOTHER CHRISTMAS

From the pulpit, the minister, the Rev. Hugh McHenry Miller, preaches on "There Must Be Another Christmas."

Each year the church's governing body chooses a different group of recipients for the July Christmas giving.

Last year, presents were sent to the Cuban Refugee Center of the First Spanish Presbyterian Church in Miami.

★ ★ ★

Others have gone to Indian children in relocation centers in Utah, to Alaska, Puerto Rico, Berlin, Korea and China.

YULE PARTY

The July Christmas extends beyond the church doors too. Mrs. Dorothe Lanning, choir director, annually gives a Christmas party for school and college students in the garden of her home, and the music of "O Come, All Ye Faithful," floats through summer air.

Rough, Tough Game; the Players Can't See

PANHANDLE, Tex. (AP) — Contact was rough on contact lenses throughout a recent football game here. Bill Purvines lost one lens in the second quarter and in the third quarter he lost the other one.

Curtis Whaley of the opposing team lost a vision-helper in the fourth quarter.

Bus Pool Solution to Commuter Woes

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sixteen commuters who live here and travel 204 miles a day to get to work and back have formed their own transportation company.

The travelers make a daily trip to their jobs at the North American Aviation, Inc., at Downey, Calif., about a two-hour drive each way on the freeways.

The group purchased two eight-passenger buses and pool members take turns driving.

★ ★ ★

The average cost per person is $30 a month, covering purchase of the compact vehicle, gasoline and maintenance.

Santa Needs Swim Suit for Holiday Down Under

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY (AP) — Years ago, when we were young, our parents would take us to spend the six-week Christmas school vacation at a cottage near the cool Pacific Ocean, lapping the shores of eastern Australia.

Christmas time is midsummer in Australia. We would spend the days on the beach, running in and out of the water.

Then would come Christmas Eve and we would hang our stockings near the bed — Santa Claus had to come through the window because there were no chimneys.

★ ★ ★

Christmas Day — one of the longest days in the year in Australia — we would dive into the stockings around 6:00 a. m., and play with the toys until breakfast.

Then we would head for the ocean beach, have a couple of hours sunning and surfing, and return home in time to dress for church at 11:00 a. m.

After church we would swim in the river, then sit down for the big Christmas Day midday dinner. There would be hot chicken (some years turkey) and cold ham, hot plum pudding and cold ice cream, and plenty of iced drinks.

In the afternoon we would sleep for an hour or two, then once more walk out to the beach.

★ ★ ★

We would be home in time for a light evening meal and the Christmas cake. And in the evening, perhaps, we would look again through the Christmas cards, and note that most of them — especially those sent from within Australia — showed snow scenes in England.

HOW ODD, SNOW

And we would think how odd it was to have snow at Christmas.

That was how we knew Christmas as children, and that is about how it is today for many people here.

The majority of Australians cling to tradition and have a big hot Christmas Day dinner at midday, as they or their forefathers did in Britain and Europe.

But as Christmas is also the big summer vacation time down here in Australia, many people are away from home.

★ ★ ★

They have their Christmas day dinners in cottages at the seaside and in the mountains, in caravans or canvas tents, in boarding houses or hotels.

OUTDOOR FEAST

Then there are those — and they run into hundreds of thousands — who break with tradition and have their Christmas midday meal out in the open. You see them eating cold chicken and tomatoes on the beach, in the shade of a gum tree in the country, or beside a stream in the mountains.

★ ★ ★

If you're interested in Christmas Day weather statistics in Sydney: the sun rises at 4:41 a. m. and sets at 7:07 p. m.; the temperature range is likely to be 64-77 degrees F.; chances are there will be no rain.

Scientists Will Hunt for Disease

NEW YORK (UPI) — A group of American scientists will journey into the relatively uninhabited lowlands of Eastern Bolivia next April in an effort to determine the cause of the deadly disease hemorrhagic fever.

A team of scientists from the American Museum of Natural History will join with medical teams in Bolivia in an attempt to locate the ectoparasites which are believed to carry the disease.

The disease, which causes internal bleeding and other symptoms, has afflicted at least 600 persons in Bolivia during the past four years with a mortality rate of approximately 20 per cent.

Dr. Richard G. Van Gelder, who will head the museum's scientific team, said his group will collect mammals in the area and the ectoparasites which they carry.

ANIMAL VIRUS

He said their primary objective will be to determine whether or not the hemorrhagic fever virus can be found in the animal population of the region.

The museum team will work together with scientists from Middle America Research Unit (MARU), an agency of the National Institute of Health and the Walter Reed Research Institute, which has been trying to isolate the virus.

Dr. Van Gelder said the expedition would probably last about six months, the scientists would travel along the Rio Itenez living in a 53-foot houseboat complete with a laboratory. They would make numerous stops to collect animals and carry out their research.

Dr. Van Gelder said the greatest problem will be one in logistics.

"There are no roads, few people, an uncertain food supply and no adequate geographic information about the area in which we will work," he said. "The region is biologically unexplored."

He said, however, that the boat would be stocked with a six-month's food supply and would provide purified water.

The team from MARU has been working in the area for the past six months in an all-out program to isolate the virus, determine what animals are carrying the disease and find the modes of transmission.

Cheering Crowds Greeted Kennedy in Last Visit to Michigan

DETROIT (AP)— The death of President John F. Kennedy brings to mind the dynamic figure he presented in a whirlwind tour of Michigan a little more than a year ago.

Oct. 5 and 6 of last year, Kennedy swept across Michigan with impassioned pleas for voters to support Democratic candidates in the Nov. 6 election.

He was less than completely successful because voters chose Republican George Romney over John B. Swainson for the governorship. But Neil Staebler defeated Republican Alvin Bentley for the new post of congressman-at-large.

* * *

While Swainson, Staebler and other Democratic officials shared the platforms with the President, there was no doubt about who was the star of the show.

CROWDS SPELLBOUND

It was, indisputably, the President. His tenor voice with its Eastern accent held the crowds at Detroit, Flint and Muskegon.

He declared at the beginning of the tour that it was a political trip.

In a five-minute speech to some 5,000 cheering spectators on Detroit's Washington Boulevard, the President reeled off a long list of issues as examples of legislation which he said was proposed by Democrats and rejected by the GOP.

The list included medical care and housing for the aged, a $1.25 minimum wage, special security, area redevelopment and unemployment compensation.

* * *

Kennedy noted that a majority of Michigan Republicans in Congress had opposed a flexible tariff bill which he said would broaden exports of through Detroit's East Side Michigan-built cars to Europe. He added:

COUNTRY MUST MOVE

"You won't sell cars from Detroit unless this country is prosperous."

Kennedy spent a Friday night in a downtown Detroit hotel and rode in a motorcade to Detroit City Airport. From there the delegation flew to Flint and Muskegon.

* * *

The motorcade wound neighborhoods and Hamtramck, solid Democratic strongholds in most elections. Police estimated the crowd which lined the route from downtown Detroit to the airport at close to 100,000.

* * *

At Flint, a crowd of some 25,000 turned out to hear him and the President was warmly applauded as he urged the election of a Democratic Congress.

At Muskegon, a gathering of about 20,000 greeted the President at the airport, where he spoke.

The crowds were enthusiastic and there were no expressions of sentiment against Kennedy policies.

At Muskegon, the President paused to shake hands with citizens, striding along a fence and reaching with both hands for the extended grips of his admirers.

* * *

His fast walk appeared at times to have him ahead of hustling bodyguards.

The Michigan visit over, Kennedy climbed aboard his airplane. The giant ship sped down the runway, lifted into the autumn haze and flew out over Lake Michigan, carrying President John F. Kennedy away from Michigan for the last time.
