Benson Talks to Cattlemen

'Mind Is Open' to Their Needs, Sees Obstacles

Likes Indirect Support to Beef Prices, So He Tells Group at Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today told a caravan of cattlemen, seeking government supports for cattle prices, that he has an "open mind."

But he said a support program would raise tremendous obstacles.

Benson drew a burst of applause from the 350 cattlemen from 30 states when he said he would consider the facts supporting their request for price supports on cattle.

But only a handful of cattlemen applauded when the agriculture secretary said that so far as he is inclined to believe that an indirect program, such as is already under way, is the more practical and feasible policy of supporting cattle prices.

The government is now buying meat for school lunch and other programs in indirect support of the market.

He said a program was a dismal failure when it was tried for hogs, and a fiasco when applied to potatoes.

"I don't say it's not possible for cattle," he added, "but it would be a terrible thing if we got into this program and found it wouldn't work."

Benson met with the cattlemen in the Agriculture Department auditorium.

The most popular chord struck at this meeting was the often-repeated statement that the only solution to the woes of the cattlemen was government price support such as are given to many grains and other crops.

The mass meeting selected a 12-member committee of spokesmen. This committee in turn chose Dennis Driscoll of Colorado Springs as chief spokesman for the entire delegation.

Drought Relief Success Told in First Article

His article, appearing on page 17 today, is the first in a series entitled 'For The Record,' to appear in the Pontiac Press.

Other widely known writers who will contribute to the series will include Upton Sinclair, Charles Coburn, Cleveland Amory, James Michener, William L. White, John Daly and Lawrence Spivak.

State Counts 21 Fatalities in Accidents on Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Of the 20 persons killed in traffic accidents over the state, nine died in three triple-death mishaps.

A Highland Park mother and her two children died Sunday in a head-on crash on Waltz road near New Boston in Wayne County. Victims were Mrs. Caroline Salmon, 27; a daughter, Yvonne, 7, and son, William, 5.

Three Jackson County youths were injured fatally Saturday night when their car went out of control on a curve and struck a tree eight miles east of Jackson.

They were Harry Daugherty Jr., 15, and Larry Frederickson, 16, both of Michigan Center, and Huey Swager, 16, of Jackson.

Three others were killed near Johannesburg in Otsego County Saturday night on a head-on collision.

Victims were John Greenwood, 40, of Detroit, and Chester Muzyl, 18, and Edward Mankowski, 18, both of Gaylord.

Melford A. Hansen, 40, of Detroit, died as he drove his car into the Clinton River Sunday near Mt. Clemens.

Elmer Fullerton, 34, Dexter, was struck and killed by a car as he was walking across U.S.10 just north of Flint Sunday.

Robert George Patterson, 46, of Maybee, died Saturday in a two-car collision near Milan. Two persons were injured.

42,000 Attend Graham Rally

Crowd Briggs Stadium to Hear Evangelist Give Reformation Day Talk

A congregation of 42,000 turned out at Briggs Stadium in Detroit yesterday to hear Evangelist Billy Graham and the Very Rev. James Albert Pike, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City.

The stadium crowd included participants in the seventh annual Protestant Reformation Festival as well as attendants at the Billy Graham Crusade meeting.

Church leaders said the turnout was the largest Protestant gathering in Michigan's history.

Dr. Graham originally had planned to end his month-long crusade in Detroit at the stadium rally, but will continue one week longer because of popular demand.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams joined the clergymen who spoke from a specially-built platform.

Speaking through a loud-speaker, Dr. Graham said:

"The Bible teaches that God is all-knowing. No sins escape his detection. God looks and thinks and meditates on all acts you perform."

He then exhorted the congregation to "declare yourself on the Lord's side."

Dr. Pike said of good men who don't go to church:

"Such men live off the income of a Christian endowment without contributing to the capital."

Reds Demand Neutral Nations in Peace Talks

Agenda Is Stumbling Block at First Session in Panmunjom

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today raised an immediate threat to the success of preliminary Korean peace talks at their opening session by demanding the admission of neutral nations to the big talks—a proposal opposed by the United States.

Despite the ominous first day of the preliminary talks, Arthur Dean, the U. S. ambassador representing the U. N., expressed hope that an agreement could be hammered out and "a political conference will be held."

Dean and the Communists ran together head on over the agenda for the preliminary talks. The Reds insisted on discussing composition of the political conference as the first item on the agenda for this meeting.

Dean has no authority to negotiate the makeup of the political conference. He can discuss only administrative matters, time and place.

Meanwhile, Red efforts to talk 22,400 ex-Red soldiers into coming home appeared headed for the junkpile with the Communist and Western members of the prisoner repatriation commission in direct opposition over whether to force prisoners to listen to the interviews.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission said after Monday's meeting the commission's chances of success in the operation are "very small . . . the situation is now very serious."

Thimayya said the commission has appointed a subcommittee to draft a letter explaining the split. Red satellites Poland and Czechoslovakia are demanding that the prisoners be forced to listen to the talks; and Sweden and Switzerland refuse to approve such action. India effectively has sided with the West, refusing to use force unless the vote is unanimous.

Observers have speculated the Reds may be trying to wriggle their way out of the talks to avoid the humiliation of having prisoners refuse to come back to communism. Only 20 of the 921 interviewed have asked to go home.

U.S. Fires Back on Germ Story

Ready to Blast Reds' Claim With Affidavits of Forced Statements

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States loaded one of its heaviest charges today to blast back once and for all at Russian claims that Americans used germ warfare in Korea.

The American denial was contained in a lengthy statement that included affidavits from American war prisoners saying their Communist captors tortured them into "confessing" they took part in the alleged germ war.

The statement was to be delivered by Dr. Charles W. Mayo, the noted Minneapolis surgeon, who is an alternate U. S. delegate at this session of the U. N. General Assembly.

Mayo was expected to speak this afternoon in the Assembly's political committee after that 60-nation body had finished its debate and voting on the question of France's administration of her North African protectorate of Tunisia.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, has been working closely with Dr. Mayo in preparing the statement which filled at least 30 pages.

Desperate Hunt Continues for Vanished Baby-Sitter

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—A widespread search was on today for a pretty 15-year-old high school girl who vanished from her baby sitting job Saturday night and left behind the marks of an apparently violent struggle.

The resources of the state crime laboratory were thrown into the hunt for Evelyn Hartley, daughter of a LaCrosse State College professor. She disappeared from the Viggo Rasmusen home where she had been staying with the Rasmusen's 20-months old baby. The infant was found asleep and unharmed in its crib.

Police Chief George Long said officers discovered what are believed to be bloodstains on the outside of the house, grounds, garage and the wall of a nearby home.

More than a thousand friends, neighbors, police and Boy Scouts and the Civil Air Patrol searched the city and an area 30 miles around it Sunday.

Evelyn's disappearance was discovered by her father, Rich Hartley, who told police he became alarmed when his daughter failed to telephone home as she usually did while baby sitting.

Hartley said he got no answer when he tried to call her. The Rasmusens were attending a football game.

Hartley said he went to the home, entered through a basement window and found signs of a struggle.

The girl, described as weighing 120 pounds with blue eyes and light brown hair, is five feet seven inches tall.

'Off the Record' Court Initiated

New Plan Designed to Give Juveniles Taste of Real Prosecution

A new "off the record" court for juveniles who step outside the law has been inaugurated by the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

With the cooperation of police in a specified "test area" youngsters are brought before the newly established court to get a first hand taste of criminal prosecution.

Parents must attend all sessions with the accused who are faced with arresting officers, complainants, witnesses and the prosecuting attorney.

"It's an attempt to show juveniles the serious nature of their actions and immediate results of the new procedure have been heartening," according to Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Any youngster found guilty of the charges brought against him is placed on probation.

The sponsoring of similar courts is being encouraged by Taylor who thinks that service clubs or other civic organizations are able to offer invaluable assistance in the project.

Blood Donors Needed, Welcomed 'til 8 Tonight

Tuesday's American Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to Pontiac has been canceled because of a lack of blood donors, Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced today.

Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman for Pontiac, said only 80 people have signed up to give blood today. Anyone who can donate is urged to "walk in" at Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 [illegible] ard Lake Ave., until 8 p.m. evening.

High Court Acts on Tidelands

Orders Four States, U.S. Officials to File Reply to Alabama Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today directed four states and federal officials to reply in 40 days to a move by Alabama challenging constitutionality of the 1953 Submerged Lands Act.

Alabama asked the Supreme Court for permission to file an original suit against Texas, Louisiana, California and Florida, as well as Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of the Interior McKay and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States.

The three officials are concerned with administration of the submerged lands and of funds impounded from oil developments on them.

Chief Justice Warren took no part in today's order.

After the replies are received, the high court will decide whether to let Alabama file its suit.

The Constitution gives the Supreme Court authority to decide disputes between states and between states and the federal government.

Executive Says He Let Unionist Borrow $7,000

DETROIT (AP)—A Pontiac executive of Fleet Carrier Corp., a national automobile haulaway firm, testified today that he had loaned $7,000 to the president of an AFL Teamsters local, but was never paid back.

As regional manager for the company, Michael Kabcenell said that he had loaned the money to Daniel J. Keating, president of Local 614 in Pontiac, over a three-year span.

His testimony was given as the examination of Keating and five other Teamsters Union officials resumed today in Recorder's Court. They have been charged by a labor rackets grand jury with extortion and conspiracy.

Kabcenell testified to Judge Martha W. Griffiths that he gave Keating three checks of $1,500, one worth $2,000, and a Western Union draft for $500.

The checks were entered on the company's books as a "loan" but wiped out the following year as "bad debts." Asked if he loaned the money because of trouble with the union, Kabcenell said:

"No, we never had any trouble with the union, but I thought if we didn't loan the money it might cause hard feelings. The union could cause us a lot of trouble with grievances and slowdowns. But we had no dispute over contracts."

Kabcenell said that he had asked for repayment of the money several times but not in the past year.

He added that he had also loaned $500 on Jan. 12, 1951, to the business agent for the local, Louis C. Linteau. Linteau, he explained, paid back $250 of it, and Kabcenell wiped the balance off the books as a "bad debt."

Asked by the prosecution if Linteau ever paid any more on the loan, Kabcenell said, "Yes, last Friday."

At that time, Kabcenell was due to testify before the examination. Linteau was in court. Testimony that day told of payments totaling more than $6,000, made to Keating and Linteau.

Also under indictment are Mike E. Nicoletti, president of Detroit Local 247, Anthony Liuzzo and Sam Marosso, business agents for Local 247, Frank E. Fitzsimmons, vice president of Local 299 and vice president of the AFL's Michigan Federation of Labor.

Scattered Showers Forecast Tonight

A low of 44 and a high of 52 degrees were recorded here yesterday. The mercury climbed today from 48 at 8 a.m. to 60 degrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Oakland Board to Choose Chairman for Seery's Post

Oakland County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to choose a chairman Tuesday to fill the post left vacant by the recent death of Clare W. Seery of Pontiac.

Several appointments to county offices are also up for consideration at the morning session, starting at 9:30 a. m. in Oakland County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Supervisors will name members of Oakland County board of auditors, board of health, retirement commission, social welfare board, tuberculosis sanatorium board of trustees, and planning commission.

Appointments of a corporation counsel, a post now held by Harry J. Merritt; animal welfare director, held by Dr. Frank R. Bates; and three men to run a department of veterans affairs also are on the agenda.

Several of the board's committees are down for reports Tuesday.

A special reapportionment committee, headed by David Levinson of Birmingham, will suggest new boundaries for redividing the county's legislative districts to make room for a sixth state representative. The county now has five.

H. Lloyd Clawson of Royal Oak, chairman of the special county building committee, will bring supervisors up to date on the Muskegon county building case now in Michigan Supreme Court.

Hazel Park Youth Arrested by Police After Release of Abducted Detroit Girl

DETROIT (AP)—A 22-year-old Hazel Park youth dragged a 24-year-old girl screaming from her home early today but was captured six hours later.

His captive, attractive Betty Sisk, shivering and near hysteria, was freed near her Detroit home just before police closed in on Reakoff.

Miss Sisk told police Reakoff kept her in his home, at gunpoint, the entire six hours. She was hospitalized to determine whether she had suffered any ill effects from the ordeal.

Police seized Reakoff beside his car as he watched the girl run toward her home after releasing her. He surrendered without a fight and made no attempt to reach his revolver on the front seat of the car.

The ex-soldier made no statements other than giving his name.

Police were alerted by Miss Sisk's parents who told of being terrorized by an armed youth known only as "Jerry." They said he invaded the Sisk home at 3 a. m., brandishing a gun and demanding to know if the girl was in.

Mrs. Sisk at first tried to bluff the youth.

She told him her daughter was at home but later changed the story and said the girl was out with friends.

"Jerry" waited.

The girl came down wearing bandages to cover injuries suffered in jumping from his car Saturday night. Police said the girl told friends she had jumped from the auto when "Jerry" refused to take her home from a date.

The parents pleaded with Reakoff for half an hour to leave the house without the girl.

The youth said he wanted to take Miss Sisk to a hospital to care for her injuries and dragged her from the house.

Police said Reakoff exhibited no emotion when he was brought to the station for questioning. They said he gave his name and address and refused to answer further question.

Joint Garbage and Rubbish Collection to Be Suggested to Birmingham Officials

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — A city manager's recommendation that garbage collection be made jointly with rubbish pickups at the curb will face city commissioners tonight.

The collection and disposal of garbage and rubbish in the city is an increasing problem, and is resulting in substantially increased costs due to higher cost of labor and equipment, and increased volumes with a rising population, City Manager Egbert has reported.

He added a 25 per cent saving, about $8,000 annually, could be made by the front yard joint pickup of the garbage and rubbish.

The commission has previously agreed to discontinue the garbage collection charge as of July 1, 1954.

Also to be taken up by the commission is a report from planning director Robert Boatman regarding amending the zoning ordinance to limit residential density in business zones, and a request of the Ford Tractor Division of the Ford Motor Co. for fire protection services to their 2500 E. Maple building.

Mrs. Bertha M. Mason, 75, of 400 S. Jessie St., died Saturday after an illness of four months. She was the widow of James Mason.

Born in Lapeer Jan. 15, 1878, Mrs. Mason had been a resident of Pontiac 30 years.

She was a member of the Sunset Club and the First Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church.

Funeral will be Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mount Hope Cemetery, Lapeer, with Dr. H. H. Savage of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Hugh David Robertson

Hugh David Robertson, 85, of 9748 Elizabeth Lake Rd., died at his residence Saturday after an illness of two weeks.

He was born in Almont, Sept. 18, 1868, the son of Robert D. and Anna White Robertson. He was the widower of the late Lillian Whitlark.

A resident of Pontiac for 15 years, Mr. Robertson was a life member of Diamond Lodge IOOF, Detroit.

Surviving are two brothers, Albert of Pontiac and Robert of Howell.

Funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Kirkby Funeral Home, with burial in Fairview Cemetery, Ann Arbor. The Rev. James W. Deeg of the Oakland Park Methodist Church will officiate. IOOF services also will be held at the Funeral Home.

School and Road Problem

Complications Piling Up for Birmingham Triangle

By HARRY REED
Of Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Having rid itself of one "growing pain" with the final agreement on the eventual zoning the Porritt property will bear if it is annexed, the community has discovered another one in its lap.

A 30-acre Troy Township triangle of land bounded by Adams Road, Buckingham and the Grand Trunk railroad has been popping up lately in City Commission and Board of Education meetings.

He plans to build about 60 single family residences in the area, and was going to equip them with wells and septic tanks.

But the Board of Education has expressed an interest in acquiring more than their present holdings there. They would like to add to the elementary site, and also provide a large playground.

Nechman says as yet he has received no offer from the board, but is going to meet with them this week.

However the city, learning of Nechman's proposed development, began negotiations with him for the use of city water and sewer facilities, if he would petition for annexation.

The City Commission acted to prevent the septic tank development, with possible future drainage problems. To add to the complications, the commission voted to vacate the stub ends of Rugby and Cambridge Roads, which poke into the Nechman land.

Nechman had already graded his subdivision roads up to the stubs, and traffic was moving through.

Residents of the area below the proposed development successfully petitioned the city commission to close the stubs, to prevent through traffic from the North Adams area.

This would leave Nechman with the possibility of an 1800-foot cul-de-sac development, with only one opening—Adams Road. Police have been called already when through traffic moved the barricades in the closed streets.

State Accidents Take 21 Lives on Weekend

lost his life Saturday when his car went out of control on M81 near Saginaw and plunged into a ditch.

Mrs. Dorothy Runyan, 21, of near Beaverton, was fatally injured Friday night in a car-truck collision on U.S.27 near Clare.

Melvin McKishnie, 13, of RD-3, Eaton Rapids, died Sunday as a tractor he was driving alone toppled off a rural road two miles from Charlotte, pinning his head to the ground and suffocating him.

Ralph D. Fuchs, 33, of Chicago, was killed Saturday when a two-seater plane crashed in a field near Holland.

Seven-year-old David Dodson was killed Sunday when struck by a car while playing in an alley in Detroit.

Mrs. Bertha Delker, 65, of Bloomfield, was killed Sunday when she walked into the side of a car.

Gerald D. Beers, 43, of Flint, was killed in a car-truck collision on M15 near Davison Sunday.

Wesley J. Sheldon, 30, of Port Huron, was killed early Sunday when he apparently lost control of his car and crashed two miles north of Port Huron.

Rep. Harrelson Injured as Auto Strikes His Car

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — State Representative Leaun W. Harrelson (D-Pontiac), 35, was injured slightly Saturday in an automobile accident on U. S. 24 at Fifteen Mile.

Police said he received neck injuries following a collision with a car driven by Carl Lee Lovett, 26, of 436 South Main St., Ann Arbor.

Police said Harrelson's car was struck from the rear by Lovett's car. Harrelson was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment, according to Bloomfield Township police.

Crash on Pontiac Trail Attributed to Dense Fog

A Lansing doctor was injured early today when his auto went out of control as he tried to avoid a truck in heavy fog on Pontiac Trail in Lyon Township and smashed into a tree, according to Michigan State police of the Brighton post.

Dr. Paul R. Stimson, 33, suffered face cuts and arm and leg injuries when he avoided the truck which had driven onto the road ahead of him from Southhill Road, troopers said. Both vehicles were southbound.

Rochester Man Injured

Hugh Upton, 71, of 226 First St., Rochester, suffered a bruised neck Saturday when his car and one driven by George A. Wooldridge Jr., 19, of 13690 Toepfer, Detroit, collided at Rochester and Orion Roads in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Born in Pontiac, he died Saturday following an automobile accident.

Open Trial of Man on Narcotic Charge

The trial of Richard Brown Jr., of 249½ Rockwell St., charged with the sale of narcotics, opened today before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

He was arrested with eight other persons Feb. 28 when Pontiac Police raided three homes in Pontiac following a two year investigation of dope traffic in the city.

Eugene Thompson of Flint, arrested on information obtained after the raids, was sentenced to 20 years in prison last April by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a similar charge.

Car Jumps Embankment Injuring Pontiac Driver

A Pontiac motorist, whose auto rolled over five times and went down a 20-foot embankment in Orchard Lake Saturday night, was treated for fractured ribs at Pontiac General Hospital, according to Orchard Lake Police Department.

Lonnie Perdue, 26, of 402 S. Saginaw St., driving west on Commerce Road, failed to make a turn and lost control of his auto, police said.

Wife Suffers Nose Cuts in Automobile Accident

Mrs. Mable Maloney, 65, of 217 Romeo St., Rohester, suffered nose cuts Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with another auto on M-24 near Walton boulevard in Pontiac Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Optometrists say that women are only one-fifth as likely to be color blind as men.

Local Man Hit by Pellet While Hunting Saturday

A Pontiac man was hit in the ear Saturday by a shotgun pellet while hunting near Holly, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Buchner Park, 55, of 33 Fiddis Ave., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Over the weekend sheriff's deputies answered 32 complaints involving hunters and minor hunting mishaps.

Hunting Victims Include 10 More

9 Wounded and 1 Dead of Heart Attack During the Weekend

EAST LANSING (UP) — State Police reported today that nine more hunters were wounded in Michigan during the weekend and another died of a heart attack.

It boosted the number of hunting fatalities to six and the wounded total to 58. State Police said the figures included only those deaths and accidents reported at state police posts.

The fatality list included four gunshot deaths and two heart attack victims. The latest attack victim was Fort Childs, 50, of the Kalamazoo suburb of Oakwood.

Kalamazoo County sheriff's officers said Childs was stricken Saturday while hunting with his 6-year-old son, Jimmy, near Howard Lake. The boy became separated from his father and appealed to neighboring farmers for help after searching for him for several hours.

A posse was organized and located the body Sunday morning. A coroner's report said death was caused by heart failure brought on by overexertion.

Writer Refuses to Judge PWs Who Stayed Behind

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK (INS)—In the hands of a relentless and remorseless foe, I hope I would endure with courage and fortitude. But I don't know; I just don't know.

I can only hope that I would have the strength to cling to the faith of my fathers when the chips were down and the pressures applied.

But what man, who has never stood naked and alone before an alien foe, can really gauge the levels of his own courage? What individual, innocent of such experience, can be certain how much pain, how much cold and hunger, how much devouring fatigue he can bear?

The miracle it seems to me is not that a handful of American soldiers captured by the enemy in Korea have chosen—so far as we know—to stick with the Communist side, but that so many endured the terrible physical hardships, the gnawing anxieties, actual torture and constant brainwashing without breaking.

As this is written, one American soldier of the 23 who cast their lot with the Communists has asked and received repatriation. Others, given the chance, may want to come home, too.

We can hope so, not from the point of view of national pride but from that of Christian concern for the future fate and happiness of 22 young men who have suffered trials of the spirit and the flesh which most of us have been spared and which we cannot really imagine.

I have never been a prisoner in the hands of a harsh enemy for as much as an hour, much less for three years as was Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, 23, the American soldier who asked repatriation.

There are already a number of quite vocal Americans who are willing to sit in judgment on Dickenson and the 22 U.S. soldiers who are said to prefer communism to Americanism.

But I do not think that I am qualified to say that the corporal and the other dissenters should be whipped out of society, or brought to trial or branded with a scarlet "T." I simply do not know my own breaking point in the brutal circumstances under which these men made their decisions.

I hope I would have held out as long as there was breath in my body. But who, never tried in the fire, can be certain that he would have held steadfast for a day, a week or a year?

10th Cobra Snake Found Slithering Through City

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UP) — The 10th hooded cobra found slithering loose in this southwestern Missouri city this fall was captured yesterday. It was taken to both local TV stations and televised.

Springfield's cobra scare started in late summer, when the reptiles began appearing in the vicinity of a pet shop operated by an animal importer. He has denied the cobras came from his shop.

Biggest Group of B36s Will Test Arctic Base

Air force spokesmen said the Arctic base is being tested to see if it can handle a force of heavy bombers.

Math Specialist Among FBI's Most Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An escaped convict with a long record of desperate deeds today was put on the FBI's list of "10 Most Wanted Men."

He is Edwin Sanford Garrison, 53, known as "the Human Adding Machine," who has worked at many racetracks and with racing information agencies. A rapid calculator, his mental arithmetic is reputedly able to outstrip many machines.

Frequently in and out of prison, he was at Atmore (Ala.) State Prison Farm in August 1952, serving a life sentence for robbery, when he and 10 other convicts made a getaway by stealing prison equipment with which they cut through a cell block wall, forced an iron door and tunneled their way out.

The fugitive is believed to be a native of Newport, Ky. He is of slender build and medium height, weighing about 143 pounds. He has blue eyes and gray hair, and wears false teeth.

Lie Believes Tension in East Will Cool Off

DETROIT (AP)—Trygve Lie, first secretary general of the United Nations, believes the currently tense situation prevailing between Jews and Arabs in the Middle East "will be cooled off."

He also sees "no great threat to Israel."

Reds Launch Big Manhunt

Anti-Communists Being Sought by East German Police

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin newspapers say police of the Soviet East Zone have launched a new big manhunt for fighters of the anti-Communist underground and have clashed with them in several gun battles.

An estimated 28 police have been killed or wounded and 16 partisans arrested in the past two weeks as a result of the sweep, centering in wooded areas southeast of here, according to the reports.

* * *

West Berlin's Socialist-edited newspaper Telegraf said yesterday the latest outbreaks reportedly took place in the Cottbus district, near Poland. Der Tag, another West Berlin daily, said 2,500 police converged on the area, 60 miles southeast of here, a week ago.

The papers labeled their reports as unconfirmed.

Western intelligence sources said such clashes as have been officially confirmed "do not indicate that East Germany is on the verge of another June 17 revolt."

Der Tag reported that, as the East German police fanned through the countryside southeast of Berlin, 8,000 police and Soviet troops formed a cordon around the city to block possible escape routes into the Allied sectors.

* * *

Police, using loudspeaker trucks, were reported to have called on the people of Falkensee, just outside the British sector, to help ferret out "armed murder bands" hidden in nearby woods.

Rumors were that the underground fighters included partisan gangs which had slipped out of Poland and Czechoslovakia and were making their way through the East zone to the safety of political asylum in West Berlin.

* * *

The Western intelligence sources said possibly 20 or 30 anti-Red Poles and Czechs had infiltrated East Germany, but it was likely they were in very small groups or traveling alone. Almost certainly such escapees would be armed.

Some East German workers who led last summer's revolt are known, also, to be in hiding.

Motorist Tries Poetry, Dimes to Avoid Fines

MALONE, N. Y. (AP) — Bernard Gould kept forgetting to feed the parking meter and the police kept handing out tickets. He complained. Sgt. George Kositch came up with the solution that moved Gould to write:

Inside my car you'll find at all times
A holder filled with nickels and dimes;
Although I'm not the kind that hollers,
Use it — I'm running out of dollars.

Hal Boyle Says:

Solution to Traffic Problem Is Super-Super Market

NEW YORK (AP) — America is overlooking a simple, easy solution to one of its biggest worries —the traffic problem.

The answer lies in the supermarkets. Why not live in them instead of just shopping in them?

Now wait. Let me explain.

What causes the nation's traffic jams anyway? Because we have to go to too many different places to get things done. A man lives in the suburbs, but he needs his own car, a train and a bus ride to get to his office in a city skyscraper.

The movie house he patronizes is in one direction, the shopping center in another, his kids' school in a third point of the compass, and their church in a fourth.

It is all this traveling back and forth that causes traffic jams.

Why not simplify life by bringing everything a family needs into one coordinated center that would remove all necessity for traveling?

The supermarket is already a long step in this direction. Today you could get married, buried or even send your kids to school in a supermarket. But there is no reason you shouldn't be able to in the future.

Why not cross-breed the present supermarket, skyscraper, department store and pre-fabricated home into a single all-purpose building providing everything a family could want in a well-run civilization?

The result would be a true "supermarket city," and a series of these self-sufficient cities spread across the country would end the traffic problem forever.

The heart of the city is a tall skyscraper topped by a helicopter landing field. Leading out from it are a series of glass-roofed avenues along which automatic moving sidewalks trundle you to and from the skyscraper.

The pre-fab homes—linked to one another to cut down heating costs—line the avenues. As you come home from work, your wife has the door open, and you leap from the moving sidewalk and land in your own living room.

Atop your home is two feet of earth so that you won't lose touch with nature. A visitor asks for you, and your wife replies, "he's up on the roof cutting the lawn."

In the morning you, your wife and the kids jump on the moving sidewalk and go into town together. You get into a skyscraper elevator.

"Tenth floor — Acme Plastic Underwear Company," mumbles the operator. This is where you work, and out you go.

After work you can meet your wife and kids and eat at the family restaurant on the eleventh floor, drop the children off at the 13th, or baby-sitting and night nursery floor, and ride on up to the 18th floor and take in a 3-D movie.

Of course, a supermarket city like this could get pretty crowded, too. But it at least would move the traffic problem indoors out of the rain.

And isn't that more than is being done now?

Eskimo Boy Dislikes Ice Cream . . . It's Cold

MONTREAL (AP) — A three-year-old Eskimo boy in hospital here can't stand ice cream. The reason: it's too cold. Born in Fort Chimo, the Ungava Bay region of Quebec, Markussie will tackle practically anything on the hospital menu except ice cream.

Recovering from an attack of meningitis, he has become fond of nurses—and bread. For Markussie buttered bread has become what candy is for the other children.

WHY THEY SAY:

"We'd Never be Without Father John's Medicine"

In many homes Father John's Medicine is always on hand — because its use has become a habit from one generation to another. Today mothers are giving it to their children because their mothers gave it to them when they were young.

This unusual family confidence is the result of proven merit. Try it for yourself. It has been used by millions for over 95 years.

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS DOCTOR'S GREAT '3 IN 1' LAXATIVE

Always take a mild pure-vegetable laxative rather than harsh, jolting ones. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets combine three of the most effective yet gentle vegetable laxatives in one tiny tablet—ingredients praised for years by highest medical authorities for constipation.

One of the laxatives in Olive Tablets activates the small intestine. The other two stimulate the large intestine. In this way Olive Tablets clean out poisonous waste and gassy bloat from entire intestinal tract to help you feel just fine. Olive Tablets give more 'natural-like' movements, too! No purging! No griping!

Heard in a Pontiac Church

Today, as in Adam's Day, Man Finds It Hard to Obey

ELDER HERBERT E. LOHR

At the Sabbath service, in Pontiac Seventh-day Adventist Church, the Rev. Herbert E. Lohr, pastor, used "For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost," (Luke 19:10) for his text.

The church of 250 members at present is located at 81 E. Howard St., but the new church at 156 Mt. Clemens St. is expected to be completed and in use by Dec. 5. The church was organized in Pontiac in 1915.

* * *

Two vital facts are here set forth. Something was lost and it was so important that the Son of Man came to restore it.

To understand what was lost we must first understand what man had. Originally God gave man life. Gen 2:7. He didn't exist before. He didn't create himself.

For this he is indebted to God. His life was to continue so long as he ate of the tree of life. God gave man a righteous character. Gen. 1:26.

Contrary to theories advanced today, man was created in the image of God, righteous, noble and upright. Man would retain this righteous character so long as he was obedient to his creator. God gave man a beautiful home. Gen 2:8. Eden was to be his home as long as he was worthy of it.

What a perfect condition, eternal life, a righteous character, a "heaven on earth" home! What more could man desire? Just one thing—that it would last forever.

In the omniscience of God man was created with the power and freedom to choose. Freedom is a heritage of God.

God arranged a special test of obedience. It wasn't hard. No great deed, work or sacrifice was required. It was just to leave a certain tree strictly alone.

Today God has told us to leave certain things alone, but how difficult we find it just to leave them alone. Man's continuance in this Utopian condition was contingent upon obedience.

God warned man what the consequence of disobedience would be. But despite the warning man chose to disobey his Creator and his Friend.

True to God's warning, "in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die," Gen. 2:17, or as the margin says, "dying thou shalt die," Adam died. Gen. 5:5. Man lost the supreme gift, eternal life. Through disobedience man lost his righteous character.

"All unrighteousness is sin:" 1 Jn. 5:17, and all sin is unrighteousness. Man ceased to bear the image of his Maker. Through disobedience man also lost his Edenic home, "the Lord God sent him from the garden of Eden." Gen 3:23.

What a changed picture! What a sad condition! We may have suffered loss but it is not to be compared to the loss sustained by Adam.

Much was lost through sin, through disobedience. Our text says, "the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Here is the solution to the problem.

God was the Creator and He became the Saviour. Through Jesus all is restored that was lost by man. Through Jesus we have assurance of eternal life. "He that hath the Son hath life." 1 Jn. 5:12. He frees us from the penalty of sin. Through Jesus we attain to the righteousness of God.

"If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." 2 Cor. 5:17.

Through Jesus we have promise of a happy, eternal home. "I go to prepare a place for you. . . I will come again, and receive you unto myself." Jn. 14:2, 3. Through Jesus we have restoration of all that was lost by man through sin.

Jesus is the solution to every problem.

Tipsy Traveler Mistakes Police Car for Taxicab

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—State Trooper Dave Faulkner reported yesterday a tipsy traveler opened the door of his patrol car, got inside, and gave "cabbie" Faulkner an address. The trooper said he gave the man a new address for the weekend—the Tulsa County Jail.

London Correspondent Ordered Out of Tehran

LONDON (AP)—The News Chronicle said today its correspondent in the Iranian capital of Tehran, David Walker, had been ordered out of the country.

The London paper said Walker reported he was given no specific reason, but he said he had been questioned several times by the Ministry of Interior about his stories.

Walker was quoted as saying the questioning "showed exceptional sensitivity to reports suggesting (former Premier Mohammed) Mossadegh commanded any considerable support in the country."

Brake's Hat in Ring

D. Hale Brake's candidacy starts the 1954 GOP gubernatorial sweepstakes nine months in advance of the next August primary.

Though he is the first of either party to toss his hat in the ring, the veteran State Treasurer's announcement could not have been a surprise to party leaders.

More than once in past years he has been urged by friends and supporters to seek the governorship but has stepped aside in the interests of party harmony.

There may be those who will contend that the Stanton man lacks glamour and vote appeal. But glamour, as Michigan experience has shown, isn't a guarantee of sound administration. As for the ability to poll votes, the State Treasurer has shown he had it to spare in six victorious campaigns for the office he now holds.

D. Hale Brake knows State government inside and out, having been a part of it for 19 years. As State Treasurer he has demonstrated administrative capacity, and as a candidate, ability to discuss important issues with logic and clarity.

The Republican Party indeed will be fortunate if all of its 1954 primary candidates possess as many qualifications for the State's highest office.

Turkish Base For NATO

Because defense against Communism is so important to the free world, great interest attaches to reports that a NATO base will be established in southeastern Turkey.

Unofficial though these reports are, well informed sources give no indication of doubting them. In fact the prospect is being welcomed as a highly desirable means of sidetracking the trouble which has arisen from Britain's base in the Suez Canal zone.

Experts see at least three advantages in the project. Such a base could offer as strong or stronger protection for the Canal than the British base. Also, it would provide dispersal of these facilities now concentrated at Suez. Finally, the project would have the enthusiastic support of the Turkish people.

For many months the presence of Britain's forces and existence of its defense facilities in Suez have been the subject of almost constant Egyptian attack. Politicians with little regard for the safety of their own country assail the treaty with Britain as a threat to national sovereignty.

Other considerations also argue strongly for this project. Since the war Turkey has made enormous progress both politically and economically. With its army already the strongest in that area, the new base would make it an invaluable NATO ally stabilizing and standing guard over the Near and Middle East.

Dewey Forces Fight

Everyone interested in good government will hope Governor Dewey wins the fight he has chosen to wage in the Wicks case.

The issue has grown out of visits made by New York State Senator Arthur H. Wicks to Joseph S. Fay, convicted labor extortionist, at Sing Sing Prison.

After learning of these visits, the Governor demanded an explanation from Wicks, and transferred Fay to Dannemora Prison, 200 miles from New York. Neither the Governor nor leading New York newspapers considered Wicks' explanation satisfactory.

All Wicks would say of the visits was that they were made in the interests of preserving labor peace in his district, thereby indicating a link between Fay and State politics.

Asked by the Governor to resign his post of Senate majority leader, which makes him acting lieutenant governor, Wicks refused, saying he would leave the issue up to the Senate. This was a direct challenge to the Governor and he promptly called the Legislature into special session on November 17.

At stake here is more than the good name of the Republican Party which has a 32 to 19 majority in the State Senate. There also is the question as to whether a politician who consorts with a convicted criminal should be majority leader and first in line of succession to the governorship.

Governor Dewey, whose control of New York's GOP also hangs in the balance, is to be commended for forcing the fight to oust the defiant majority leader. In our view Wicks has forfeited his right to hold such an important post.

Of these 23 had picked the Forty-Niners to win, and two predicted a tie game. The 108 who had picked the Lions to win carry over until next Saturday's game between Michigan and Pennsylvania.

I wonder if the general public knows how much the Pontiac Lions Club has been doing for the League of the Blind, especially for the last three years.

They give transportation to their monthly meetings and to the monthly square dances which they arrange for the blind at the Longfellow School. They provide the orchestra, refreshments and entertainment.

They have loaned and given typewriters to help them out in their Braille classes and just recently distributed electric razors to many of the men, and folding white canes to the blind girls.

Reader Says City Needs More Parking Areas

The hardest thing to do in Pontiac is find a place to park. Not only is it hard, but if you do find a place you have to pay for parking all day, even if you only have to be downtown for a few minutes.

I've been in a lot of other cities around here and they are doing something about this problem.

Criticism of Ike Is Due in Large Part to His Bad Public Relations Planning

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The drop of 10 points in President Eisenhower's popularity—from 75 per cent in mid-September to 65 per cent today, as reported in the latest Gallup poll — will start considerable discussion of the probable causes.

As Dr. Gallup points out, it is not unusual for wide fluctuations in a President's popularity to be recorded during his administration.

Thus Truman started out with an all-time high of 87 per cent in 1945 when he took office, and went down to 43 per cent at the end of the year, and actually hit a low of 32 per cent within 15 months before starting upward again, yet it will be recalled that he won his election in 1948.

While the Gallup survey shows deflections in all groups and sections, it is interesting to note that those who disapproved of the Eisenhower record to date gave as their reasons: Failure to fulfill promises, failure to cut taxes, lack of leadership, lack of accomplishment, no improvement in economic conditions, caused unemployment, favors big business and doesn't help the worker, hasn't helped the farmer, golfs too much and takes too many vacations.

Analyzing these reasons, they can be attributed in large part to the bad public relations at the White House. This doesn't mean that they haven't very good press-relations officers there, because they really have.

But public relations isn't a mere matter of mechanics in the giving out of information. It's a matter of planning, and not by subordinated aides but by the President himself.

It's something that cannot be delegated to a staff meeting. The man who heads a company or a government agency has to do most of this type of thinking and policy-making himself. The press-relations officer can then articulate it effectively.

Anyone with the most meager knowledge of public relations might have told the President—if he cared to give time to such things—that everything a President does from the time he gets up in the morning till late at night is news.

Hence if the only news that comes out—and too much of what the President has really done on public questions and problems has been suppressed—is about golf and vacations, then that's the impression the public will get of what he does with his time.

More than this, somebody has sold the President a gold brick on how he must conduct himself as a "leader." The "left wingers" have been needling him to have a series of rows with members of his own party, thus adding to the confusion they would like to see provoked.

Persons of the opposite ideology have been needling him to take an ultra-conservative stand and let the chips fall where they may. The consequence has been that Eisenhower has become super-cautious, and has adopted a course in the middle of the road where he gets rocks from both sides.

Eisenhower instinctively dislikes political partisanship, but he hasn't shown the kind of indignation that should be manifested against the corruption, intrigue and treason that existed in the past administration.

He is a sort of let-bygones-be-bygones person, who, because of his excessive consideration for his predecessors, has not yet told the American people in what a mess he found the national government when he took office.

Maybe if he had told—or still will tell—the American people the facts about the way he found things, they will not expect miracles overnight, and will be patient as he tries to clean up "the Washington mess."

For it would seem incredible that the American electorate would be permitted to forget the disservice done the country by the corruption and traitorous conduct revealed to have occurred in the last administration.

The American people didn't vote Eisenhower into office just because he was popular or because the Republican Party was popular, but because they were fed up with the Democratic administration.

It was a negative verdict—not unlike that of 1932—and the consequence then was that the negative tide against the party which had been ousted continued to rise in 1934 and 1936. It could bring a higher Republican vote in 1954, but not if the Republican administration continues to hide its light under a bushel and ignores the political meaning of controversial problems.

* * *

Nor can the President continue to think politics is just a minor matter in modern government from which he can remain aloof while a group of amateurs among his subordinates wrestle with "public relations" and he fails to come to grips with sundry questions himself.

* * *

Eisenhower is perhaps the most likable man who has been in the White House since Theodore Roosevelt captivated the affections of the American people.

"Ike" wants to be fair, judicial, nonpartisan and modest as he seeks conscientiously to make a good record which he hopes some day the people will know about.

But he's been losing valuable time as against the groups that have been sniping at him. Their attacks should never have been ignored. For the best strategy in politics, as in the military game, is to go from a defensive to a counteroffensive at the earliest practicable moment. The Eisenhower administration is on the defensive today.

Case Records of a Psychologist

If Faced With Problems Solve Them Logical Way

Girls, your editor runs this column to give you wider experience so you will not act stupidly, as Mary has done. If you have serious problems, consult your clergyman or school adviser or write them to me. But wait for mature counsel before you contemplate any rash act like Mary's.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-325: Mary W., aged 16, is an attractive high school junior, who swallowed a handful of sleeping pills recently in an attempt to commit suicide.

"Oh Dr. Crane, I'm so unhappy," she moaned, as I talked to her at the bedside.

"I've made such a mess of my life that I just thought I'd avoid bothering my parents any longer.

"But I suppose they are now more embarrassed than ever, for the newspaper carried a story about me, and all the kids at school know about it."

When people are "down," we psychologists don't try to argue or reprove them. We wait till they are more nearly back to normal.

This also fits into the medical rule where doctors soothe an acute condition.

But will you other teen-agers please profit from Mary's stupid behavior.

For what do you suppose the people in her town think was the cause of her attempt at suicide? Pregnancy, of course!

So if Mary was trying to prevent further embarrassment to her family, including her younger sister in high school, she certainly pulled a boner!

For whenever an unmarried girl tries to kill herself, regardless of why she feels she has made a "mess" of her life, the first guess of the curious public is pregnancy.

It so happens in Mary's case today, that wasn't the diagnosis. But most of her townsfolk will never believe otherwise. So Mary has simply humiliated her entire family unnecessarily.

Therefore, teen-agers, please look ahead. If you don't have gumption or good sense of your own, then get an interview with your clergyman or family physician or school adviser.

If you are pregnant through unmarriage, certainly you should try to avoid flaunting that tragic fact before the public.

Or if you have been guilty of some other misdeed, get advice from mature adults in your area. Don't try to solve your dilemma by some dramatic though stupid act like suicide.

For suicide just leaves that much more humiliation and shame upon your parents, as well as brothers or sisters.

So if you've made a bad mistake, at least let your clergyman or doctor or parents try to help you out with a minimum of further trouble.

And don't confide in schoolgirl chums. For they seldom have any better judgment than you, yourself. Instead, go to somebody who can give you logical advice and meanwhile keep his mouth shut about your problem.

Your editor runs this column to help give you teen-agers some helpful advice, for many of you "clam up" around your parents and will not ask for information about your critical problems.

So this column offers you parallel cases from which you should profit. It helps you gain maturity of experience without making the mistakes of others in previous generations.

It shows you how to avoid unhappiness and unpopularity. It widens your mental horizons so you don't make mountains of molehills, which is what Mary was doing.

For she had been jilted by her boy friend who was a prominent athlete in the school. She felt she couldn't face her classmates again, since she had been the "steady" date of that boy for six months.

Winsome Churchill came back to the wars after some very monotonous peace.

He figures on a Locarno-type charter that preserved peace in Europe until everybody was ready for war.

We could use a couple of re-fills now. Winniker buzzed the Conservatives in Parliament he is for German rearmament. Probably figures it's a quick way to knock down the rest of London's slums.

France doesn't cotton to Winnie's peace-blitz because of the geographical formula in western Europe. It's downhill all the way from Berlin to Paris.

So naturally the old gander-hoppers like to goose-strut in the easiest direction. They've web-footed the dry promenade three times since 1871.

When the wind's Rhineward a Frenchman puts up his coat collar like it was a spite fence.

With the Locarno-brand certificate of reasonable doubt Winnie guarantees the inviolability of the Russian frontier. All of Winnie's transactions can be arranged on easy instalments.

Which is an ambitious schedule for an oldtimer who has been retired oftener than a lawnmower in October.

Winsome insists if French politics doesn't interfere with the French it shouldn't interfere with the Germans. Let by-groans be by-groans.

Brady Asks Doctors to Buy and Study Book by Watson on Hernia Treatment

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A doctor's library is hardly adequate if it doesn't contain Watson's 'Hernia,' Bicknell and Prescott's 'Vitamins in Medicine,' Boas's 'Patient past Fifty,' Duncan's 'Diseases of Metabolism' and Quigley's the National Malnutrition.'

Open-minded and thoughtful study of these books will make any doctor a better doctor.

Watson's Hernia, for example, is the outstanding textbook on hernia—so said a review of the book in the Journal of the AMA. Unlike older textbooks on hernia, this one includes several chapters on ambulant treatment.

I do not mean to imply that you must adopt this modern method as an alternative for radical operation in some cases. That would be beyond your capacity, perhaps.

But now that so many persons with hernia are aware that ambulant treatment is available and as likely to give a cure in suitable cases as is hospitalization and surgical treatment, it might be well to know something about the method when patients inquire about it.

A doctor makes an ass of himself when he answers such an inquiry by growling that the injection method is "No good," "has been tried years ago and discarded" or "is dangerous."

Watson and a thousand other doctors know better—not to mention the thousands of hernia patients who have been cured by

The study of the other books mentioned above would not only make the student a better doctor but it would open to the doctor numerous principles of diagnosis and therapy which would otherwise remain closed to him.

For instance, my dear doctor, how many cases of American beri-beri do you see in a month?

If you are in general practice you probably see dozens of cases, but if you haven't a copy of Bicknell & Prescott in your library the chances are that you will not diagnose them.

And tell me, Doctor, how much iodin do your patients, men, women and children, need daily to keep them at their best? No, please, don't grit your teeth and swear. That won't change the truth.

Read Quigley and you and your patients will be happier. Or, if you can lower yourself to my level, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for The Iodin Ration, a pamphlet which tells why every child and adult needs iodin every day, how much, and how to get it.

I wrote the pamphlet for laymen but it won't hurt doctors to know what it's all about.

FBI Undertakes Nationwide Search for Missing Greenlease Ransom Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today began nationwide distribution of the serial numbers of the unrecovered portion of the Greenlease kidnaping ransom money.

A total of $600,000 was paid to the kidnapers of little Bobby Greenlease, 6-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City, Mo., automobile dealer.

Bobby, however, had been killed before the ransom was paid. His body was found in a shallow grave at St. Joseph, Mo.

When Carl Austin Hall, confessed kidnaper and killer of the child, was arrested in St. Louis, only $296,280 was recovered.

All of the money is in $10 and $20 bills.

The lists are being furnished to banks and other financial institutions, law enforcement agencies and numerous other business concerns.

Altogether, $400,000 of the money was in $20 bills, the remainder in $10 notes.

The long list includes the numbers of bills from all of the 12 federal reserve districts, as specified by the kidnapers, Hall and his woman accomplice, Bonnie Brown Heady.

On the list being circularized the serial numbers are arranged alphabetically by letter at the beginning of the number and then numerically. Today's FBI announcement said:

"Mr. Hoover (Director J. Edgar Hoover) asked that anyone who has information concerning the money immediately communicate by telephone, collect, with the nearest office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

"Location and telephone number of the nearest field office of the FBI are listed on page 1 of all telephone directories."

The missing balance of the ransom money has been the objective of a wide hunt by federal and local officers since the kidnap pair were arrested.

Hall has told officers he was too drunk part of the time after the collection was made to remember what he may have done with a suitcase containing the cash.

Officer Resigns Over Kidnaping

Says Greenlease Probe Ruined Reputation; Quiz Continues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis police board today resumes its inquiry into reported discrepancies in police accounts of the Greenlease kidnaping case — an investigation which prompted a veteran officer's resignation.

Lt. Louis Shoulders, credited with breaking the kidnaping case, resigned in a surprise move Saturday, charging the probe had destroyed his reputation as an officer.

In another aspect of the case, the FBI arrested a 29-year-old blonde and said she would be charged today with giving false information to its agents.

The FBI apparently took the action in an attempt to discourage future false tips in its search for the missing $300,000 of the $600,000 ransom money.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eleanor Curti of St. Louis was seized at a small downtown hotel Saturday after reportedly saying she heard a woman acquaintance tell of having seen a "bundle of cash" in a west side apartment.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Herbert H. Freer said Mrs. Curti gave "phony information" on the missing ransom money, but he said she gave no clues on the whereabouts of the money.

Conviction on the charge calls for a fine of not more than $10,000 or a prison sentence of not more than five years, or both.

Chief of Police Jeremiah O'Connell said last night that only minor witnesses remain to be questioned in the board's inquiry.

The board is scheduled to delay until Wednesday, its regular meeting day, for action on Shoulders' resignation.

Light Plane Crashes Into House, Killing 2

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A light plane crashed into a house about five miles north of Kansas City last night killing both occupants of the single-engine craft.

Four persons in the house escaped injury.

Killed were C. B. Cullor, 53, and his wife, Daisy, also 53, of Fort Scott, Kan.

The plane crashed through a wall into the kitchen. Robert Berry, owner of the house, said he had left the kitchen just a minute before the plane hit. His wife was sleeping on the other side of the house and the couple's two grandchildren were playing in the living room.

The plane did not catch fire. The state highway patrol said it apparently had run out of gas. The Cullors had attended a family reunion at Unionville, Mo., and apparently were on their way home.

Youth Injured in Escape Leap

Jumps From 4th Floor as Detroit Police Raid Apartment Party

DETROIT (UP) — An 18-year-old youth was in Receiving Hospital today with injuries he suffered after leaping from a fourth-floor apartment to escape a police raid on a teenage drinking party.

Doctors aid it was possible that James Orient suffered a broken back in the fall. Police said he would be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police said Orient and a 16-year-old girl posing as his wife rented the apartment for the party. The caretaker called police early Sunday while the party was in session.

Several youths escaped when police arrived at the building but nine girls and two boys were rounded up in addition to Orient. They were questioned and turned over to the police Youth Bureau.

Police said they confiscated two empty whisky bottles and three empty beer cases.

They said the girl who posed as Orient's wife claimed to be a serviceman's wife. Officers said she admitted leaving her three-month-old baby alone in another apartment so she could attend the party.

Lone Bandit Robs Ferndale Station

FERNDALE — A lone armed bandit early this morning held up a gas station at 508 E. Eight Mile and escaped with about $80, according to Ferndale police.

The attendant, William Chandler of Hazel Park, who was alone at the time, said the man entered the station at about 2:36 a. m., brandished a chrome revolver and demanded money from the till.

Chambers described the bandit as about 25 years old, 5 feet, 11 inches tall and weighing 180 pounds.

Ex-Russian Teacher Talks at Waterford

WATERFORD — Stanislaw Uniechowski, University of Detroit professor, was speaker at a PTA meeting in the village school Thursday.

Uniechowski, born in Russia and a teacher there for two years, spoke on propaganda in his native country.

Youngsters have no choice of careers there, he said, but automatically become members of the Communist party. They are taught Communism from early childhood.

Uniechowski stressed that all subversive Communist propaganda should be counteracted in this country.

Royal Oak Police Grab Armed Youths

ROYAL OAK — Police seized two Kentucky youths on car theft charges here today and found an arsenal of weapons in their car.

J. C. Lyles, 15, and Eccles Harper, 21, told police that they had taken the shotgun, four pistols, and 15 knives from a hardware store in their hometown, Central City, Ky., and admitted to other robberies there.

The youths told police they had held up two service stations, robbed two schools and pistol-whipped a woman, taking $239 from her. Then they hitchhiked to Detroit.

Lyles was picked up reading a map at a major intersection, when a patrolman noticed he had a gun half hidden by the map. Police picked up Harper in a car he admitted he had stolen on information supplied by Lyles.

C. H. Smart Outlines Problems

Walled Lake PTA Told Schools Facing Dilemma

WALLED LAKE — Increasing enrollments and an acute shortage of teachers pose a dilemma for Michigan schools, Clifford H. Smart, Walled Lake superintendent, told PTA members here Thursday night.

Either more money for schools must come fom the state, Smart said, or more money must come from local school districts.

Many schools, including those at Walled Lake, already receive 80 per cent of their funds through the state, he added.

In tracing the history of the United States, Smart answered the question, "Why Do We Have Schools?" He cited the Ordinance of 1787, adopted before the Constitution, which provided for schools.

He also quoted famous personages of history who felt that to build and preserve a government, education was absolutely essential.

In order to provide equal opportunities for education for each child, Smart said, ways of financing schools must be found.

During the depression, he pointed out, 3 per cent of income was spent for schools, and in today's prosperity only 1.85 per cent is spent.

Smart further stated that citizens must pay double what they are now paying for schools if they hope to continue a tradition of an educated citizenry capable of self-government.

Noting a shortage of 7,000 teachers in Michigan today an increased enrollments to aggravate school problems, Smart urged PTA members to see that teaching was made more attractive and to help recruit young people into the profession.

St. Phillip Holds 25th Birthday Celebration

ROCHESTER — Celebrating the 25th anniversary of the re-organization of St. Phillip Episcopal Church Thursday, 105 persons attended a banquet in the church undercroft.

Seated at the honor table along with the Rev. Edgar A. Lucas, vicar of the church, were four charter members: Mrs. Fred Blome, Mrs. Arthur T. Morley, Mrs. Elizabeth Woodie and Mrs. Grover J. Taylor.

Rev. Lucas was presented a silver plaque made by Sunday school members.

Speaker for the evening was radio commentator Austin Grant.

The church now has 4,325 communicants and 400 members.

Farm Bureau Favors Popular Vote Election

NORTH BRANCH — Community Farm Bureau members, meeting here last week, came out for a popular-vote presidential election as opposed to the present electorial system.

The discussion, led by George Seelye, was held at the home of Burt Hurd.

The group also named a membership drive committee consisting of Charles Krippene, chairman; Seelye, Louis Payne, Fred DeTavenir Sr., Glen Worgess Florus Stevens and Alton Bowman.

Unfinished Reformation Is Subject for Sermon

WATERFORD—"The Unfinished Reformation" was the title of the Rev. Arvid E. Anderson's sermon Sunday when Christ Lutheran Church members observed the ninth anniversary of their parish.

During the service, the Junior Choir made its first appearance singing the anthem "Thy Word is Like a Garden Lord." Twenty five pre-confirmation children made up the choir. The adult choir sang "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee."

Lapeer Library Fund Approved

Appropriation Reflects an Increase of $1,400 Over Last Year

LAPEER COUNTY — A $5,000 appropriation has been approved for the Lapeer County library by the Board of Supervisors.

Principal activity of the library is the operation of a bookmobile which supplies books to rural schools throughout the county.

The library had asked for a higher appropriation last year. Instead, supervisors requested each of the 119 school districts to contribute $40 for bookmobile service.

Most of the funds for the library come from justice court fines. These totaled $4,600 last year and are expected to reach $8,000 in 1953 because of a larger force of deputies.

Jayno Adams PTA Gets Big Turnout

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Parents turned out in record numbers last week to attend a Jayno Adams PTA meeting at the school.

The nearly 100 persons present heard Loyal McMillen, area Boy Scout field director issue a plea for volunteers to aid in the local Cub Scout program.

Also on the program were Mrs. William Kuchon and Mrs. Niles Carlson who presented a skit "The First Customer."

Mrs. Richard Carlson, PTA president, introduced the 21 room mothers. The group also announced that it would hold a bake sale Nov. 3 at Dixie Recreation, Drayton Plains.

Tests by the Agriculture Department show that humus from green crops lasts about as long as that from straw and stalks.

According to a popular myth, the Isle of Man came into existence when an Ulster giant called Finn MacCoul grabbed a mound of earth in Northern Ireland and threw it into the Irish Sea.

Anthony Eden Tired, Pale; Britain Grows Concerned

LONDON (NEA) — Great Britain has a phantom for foreign secretary. Anthony Eden is the ghost over Whitehall.

True, he is back in London after a month of recuperating in Greece. But he hasnt yet cleared his desk of its accumulated papers.

He has a gorgeous tan and the same toothy, "Bugs Bunny" grin.

But he wears his Mediterranean tan like pancake make-up, and observers have the feeling that behind the grin is an ill man, who hasn't yet got a grip on himself.

His hair is much whiter than when Britons saw him last.

Foreign Office spokesmen are vague as to Mr. Eden's future plans. "Yes, Mr. Eden was in his office today, although he didn't stay long. No, he saw no heads of departments. No, Lord Salisbury is not planning to move out."

Meanwhile, in political circles there is a growing feeling of uneasiness, which is beginning to filter to the man in the streets.

It is as though John Foster Dulles should return from Bermuda after a long illness and divide his time between the State Department and St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Also imagine President Eisenhower none too steady on his pins and one gets a picture of the present Conservative government.

For despite his growls that he is "still in command," Prime Minister Winston Churchill to date has shown few signs of grasping the reins of government firmly since his doctors ordered him to bed months ago.

Observers are agreed that Britain's present predicament cannot continue much longer, and that Churchill will have to make drastic changes in his cabinet before or soon after Parliament convenes in November.

The obvious change, in the opinion of many, is to replace Eden as secretary of state for foreign affairs if, as appears likely, his health will not permit him to resume the No. 2 job.

The "happy" solution being urged by some Conservatives is to make Eden deputy prime minister, thus relieving Churchill of some of the burdens of his office.

That the Conservative government, like its Labor predecessor, is killing off its leaders with overwork is a truth that is slowly beginning to dawn.

Eden, and Churchill himself have been victims of delegating "too much to too few," just as Ernie Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps were in the previous Labor government.

Today there is no excuse for not delegating authority more widely, Churchill's critics argue. The Conservative Party has new rising lights in Butler, Macmillan and Monckton.

Sir Walter Monckton, present Minister of Labor, and Lord Salisbury are being spoken of as the most likely candidates for Eden's job should he retire as Foreign Secretary.

Should Eden retire he will leave behind him a career that reads like a political mystery story. It is a story of "always the bridesmaid, but never the bride."

For 30 years Eden has been spoken of as a likely Prime Minister, yet he has never quite made the grade.

His career has all of the ingredients of the perfect success story: a family with money, Eton, Oxford, a distinguished war record, member of Parliament at the age of 26.

Yet Eden lacks the warm, human quality of a Churchill. People still speak of him as "the great white knight," but like the knight, Eden is aloof, impersonal, a symbol.

"Churchill knows how to growl. Does Eden?

"Churchill knows how to scare the daylights out of ugly customers. Can Eden express anything more than distaste and disapproval? . . . .

"The Golden Boy of Promise has been waiting too long.

"He is nearly 60 and although he has ripened he has not progressed.

"He has matured — on the ground. He has waited patiently on the runway. He has never really taken off.

"He may yet become prime minister, but in the political firmament he will shine with a cold, pale and sickly light. Other and hotter suns are rising within the Tory Party."

'U. S. Could Shoulder Higher Arms Cost'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Planning Assn. says the nation's economy could bear defense spending of as much as 75 billion dollars annually by 1956, but that such an effort probably would require sales taxes and limited economic controls.

"The productivity of the American economy is so immense that the United States need not be afraid of adopting sizable additional national security programs if they are found to be advisable," the association said in a published study yesterday.

The association, which describes itself as a nonprofit and nonpolitical economic research organization, did not say that defense spending at such a level should be undertaken. It said its study, undertaken by a 19-member committee headed by Ralph J. Watkins of Dun and Bradstreet, New York, was aimed at showing what could be done.

Plan Memorial on Guadalcanal

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—America's Blue Star Mothers plan to build a shrine and research hospital on Guadalcanal in honor of the men and women who lost their lives in World War II, it was announced today.

Mrs. George A. Brown, Pontiac, national president of the association which is holding its annual convention here, said the mothers hope to complete the shrine sometime in 1954 and start construction of the hospital at the same time.

Mrs. Brown said the hospital would be a research center for studies of South Pacific diseases which took the lives of thousands of Allied servicemen during World War II.

The shrine would be built with stones from all countries that fought against Germany and Japan during World War II, Mrs. Brown said. She said the British government, which controls the island, has agreed to donate land for the project.

Ruth A. Durnbaugh Wed in Harper Woods Church

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in Harper Woods, Ruth Anne Durnbaugh became the bride of William A. Rounds of Elizabeth Lake road.

The Rev. Paul Studebaker of the First Church of the Brethren performed the 6 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Ruth E. Durnbaugh of Watkins Lake is the bride's mother, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Glenn Reamer of Drayton Plains and William A. Rounds of Holly.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Richard E. Durnbaugh, the bride wore a gown of slipper satin fashioned with a yoke of Alencon lace and basque bodice. Ruth's gown was made by her mother.

Her illusion veil, bordered with Chantilly lace, fell to floor length, and she carried a bouquet of white fugi chrysanthemums and roses accented with ivy and streamers.

MRS. WILLIAM A. ROUNDS

Bridesmaids Diane Taig of Watkins Lake and the bridegroom's sister, Beverly Gray, wore mint green net over satin gowns with braided headpieces. They carried bouquets of bronze roses and white chrysanthemums.

Robert Durnbaugh was best man, and seating the guests were Alvin J. Fox and Charles E. Rounds.

A gown of old gold velvet with black accessories and a corsage of orchid and purple chrysanthemums was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother wore gray-rose iridescent taffeta with navy accessories and a corsage of pink delight roses.

After a reception at the home of the bride's mother, the new Mrs. Rounds changed to a blue-gray suit with navy accessories and a white rose corsage for the wedding trip to northern Michigan. On their return they will reside in Pontiac.

Betrothal Told at Cocktail Party

BIRMINGHAM — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bartholomew of Yarmouth road announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Jane to John Calvert Malstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Malmstrom of Detroit.

Interlocking wedding rings of pink roses revealed the news to guests at a cocktail party the Bartholomews gave in their home Sunday afternoon.

The bride-elect was graduated from Kingswood School Cranbrook and from the University of Michigan. Her finance attended the University of Michigan and was graduated from Lawrence Institute of Technology.

ANNA LOU TERRY

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Terry of West Cornell avenue are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anna Lou, to James R. Smith. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith of Whittemore street.

'Spook Street' Is Dance Theme

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller were hosts at a get-acquainted party for new members of Allemanders Dance Club preceding the dance held Saturday evening at Donelson School.

New members include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zeeman, Mr. and Mrs. Brenard Tryon, the John Havilands, the Joseph McCarthys, the Norman Allens and the Sam Millers.

"Spook Street" was the theme of the dance and Sam Joan was caller for the evening. Frank Coad, president, announced plans for a hayride to be held Nov. 7 at the farm home of the Sam Millers near Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. Anders Hustvedt were guests.

The six groups of the Women's Society of Bethany Baptist Church have been busy preparing handwork, special fruitcakes, greeting cards, aprons and baked goods to fill the booths Friday when the church stages its annual Harvest Festival and turkey dinner.

Mrs. John Sheehan is general chairman of the project, which is to benefit the new church building.

Committee members include Mrs. A. J. Cadieux, Mrs. C. R. Hobart, Mrs. A. P. Webb, Mrs. Walter Willson, Mrs. Hardy Fair, Mrs. I. M. Lewis, Mrs. Lee Bourne and Mrs. Harry Randall.

Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Halloween Night Parties Planned

Halloween parties for Halloween night were planned by PTA groups meeting Thursday, and reports and speeches were made.

Guest speaker for Nathaniel Hawthorne School PTA was Gerald White, coordinator in elementary education of Pontiac schools. Speaking on "What We Want for Our Kids," he said we want more for our children than we had ourselves, in understanding and interests.

A Saturday evening Halloween party will be held at Hawthorne, it was announced.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Ronald Carr, Mrs. Norma Mouser, Mrs. Hartley Bray, Mrs. George Lembke, Mrs. James Tuttle, Mrs. Arthur Dodge, Mrs. James Card and Mrs. George Drake.

Heirloom Cameo Worn by Opal Harris for Rite

MRS. GLENN A. DUCKWORTH

A natural pink cameo, which belonged to her grandmother, was worn by Opal Harris Saturday evening when she became the bride of Glenn A. Duckworth in Emmanuel Baptist Church.

He is the son of Mrs. W. H. Caraway of Morganton, N. C.

The daughter of Mrs. Edward Allison of Blaine avenue and Burgess Harris of Cass Lake road, Opal chose a wedding dress of pleated nylon tulle and Chantilly-type lace.

Tiers of pleats cascaded down the skirt which ended in a chapel train, and pleated tulle finished the portrait neckline of the lace basque bodice.

In a gown of dusty rose fashioned with tiers of nylon tulle with a lace bodice was Mrs. Charles Haney, matron of honor. She carried a cascade of chrysanthemums and ivy surrounding carnations.

In similar gowns were the other attendants, Mrs. Duane LaFave, the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Daniels and Mrs. Marjorie Wells, another sister of the bride. They carried bouquets of chrysanthemums and ivy surrounding carnations.

Mr. Haney was best man, and seating the guests were Howard Fields, Harry Alee and the bride's brother, J. R. Harris.

The ring was carried by Gene Head, and Mary Jane Head wore mint green tulle and lace for her duties as flower girl.

For the 7 o'clock service the bride's mother was dressed in navy blue crepe and lace with a corsage of white gardenias and teasroses. Mrs. Caraway wore a dress of orchid crepe and lace with a corsage of white gardenias and yellow roses.

On their return, the couple will reside on Elizabeth Lake road.

Luncheon Held by Directors of Garden Club

Mrs. Herbert W. Mason was hostess at a luncheon at her home on Lower Long Lake today for the board of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Plans were completed for the next meeting of the club which will be Nov. 2 at 1:30 p. m. at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mrs. J. Hawley Otis, program chairman, announced the program, which will consist of a lecture by Mrs. Walter D. Byrd of Royal Oak, an outstanding authority on flower arrangements and table settings. Her subject will be "Creating a Picture" with with illustrations of picture tables.

The tables which she will create will be "The Big Top", "Golden Hues of Autumn", "Lines of Scrimmage", "Plumb Beautiful", "Holly Wreath", "Tree Trimmings" and "Candlelight Tea."

Following the program, tea will be served by Mrs. W. G. Ferguson and her hospitality committee. Pouring at the tea will be Mrs. James Q. Goudie and Mrs. DeForrest W. Candler.

Order Holds Party

Mrs. Kathryn Quick was ticket chairman and Mrs. William Sherwood was in charge of the dinner when Esther Court 13, Order of the Amaranth, held a chicken dinner and card party Friday evening in Roosevelt Temple.

Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Conway Lewis of Motorway drive is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where she underwent surgery.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Singer's Rambler Rose Symbolizes Fresh Start

I heard the other day that Jane Froman is golfing again. Maybe she isn't shooting in the 80s as she used to do, but she's back on the course and that's a triumph that needs to be shouted from the housetops.

MISS McBRIDE

The whole world knows Jane's story—how in 1943 bound for camps in Europe and Africa to sing for servicemen she was plane-wrecked off the coast of Portugal and doctors said she'd be a helpless cripple for life.

Maybe you've heard Jane's tale of the rambler rose in her New York garden, a cutting from the bush carried from the east to Missouri in a covered wagon by a great-grandmother who seems to have handed down some of her pluck and determination to her talented descendant.

I love stories of women who crossed the wide American continent with everything they owned jouncing up and down in the creaking wagons. They had left their beloved homes and families, their flower gardens, most of their furniture, to follow their adventurous men.

"Help Yourself," scrawled on rough signs, topped pathetic heaps of feather beds, mirrors, chests of drawers that had been thrown overboard to lighten loads as the oxen grew gaunter and wearier.

Sometimes there were graves in the desert. A small one that a pioneer told about was marked by a wooden cross with a baby's pink bonnet hung on top.

Seattle, Wash., had a settler who all her life was called "The Sweetbriar Bride," because of a packet of sweetbriar seeds from her best friend's garden that she took with her and planted in the Northwest.

Women brought many growing things to the West—one preacher's wife carried apple cuttings from New York state; another, red clover seeds. Still a third started dandelions growing and because parts of the plant were used to brew medicines, the first small specimens were nursed along as carefully as roses.

I remember Roberta Frye Watt of Seattle telling me how her grandmother bragged about her sunbonnet and the sunbonnets of the other women. Even when food ran short and they thought Indians would swoop upon their wagons and scalp them all, they managed somehow to wash, starch and iron their little sunbonnets, precious links with respectability and their old homes.

One of the women almost caused a riot, though, when she appeared with what seemed to be a new blue ribbon in the bonnet's frill. After she'd enjoyed the excitement for awhile, she showed her friends how she'd taken the paper lining from a sugar barrel and cut it into strips.

Jane Froman says of her pioneer rose: "We're both beginning life all over again. And I thank God constantly for a country where, plants or people, starting from scratch is an old custom."

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Report on a 12-year-old's birthday party. "Some of the kids who told Connie they were going to her party decided at the last minute not to go and she didn't even know they weren't coming. They decided it wasn't going to be a very good party." Never let a child accept an invitation and then back out at the last moment.

There's no better time than in childhood to learn that if you accept an invitation you don't back out because something better turns up.

Scrub Your Way to Loveliness

Encouraging news from Hollywood is a comment made by one of the newest actresses. She claims that "a girl doesn't climb to success . . . she scrubs her way to stardom."

Of course, this actress was referring to the many lavish bathtub scenes in the movies, but anybody can scrub her way to stardom in her own home.

Soap and water — plus some hearty scrubbing—enhance beauty.

An average of 219,855 men and women a month were examined for entrance into the U. S. armed forces during the first quarter of 1953. Processing of these individuals was done in 74 armed forces examining stations in various parts of the country by the Adjutant General.

Wife Objects to Husband's 'Sir' Habit

Mrs. Post Agrees That It's Ridiculous Ordinarily

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "Of late my husband has adopted the practice of saying 'Yes Sir' and 'No Sir' when speaking to other men. While I am not snobbish in the least, I feel that this 'Sir' business suggests subservience.

"My husband says that the men in his office, executives as well as employes, address their business contacts this way. When a man is very elderly or reverend, I can understand it, but not otherwise. Am I wrong?"

Answer: I agree with you. If that happens to be the custom in his office, that's one thing—but under ordinary circumstances outside the office it would be ridiculous, unless addressing a much older or especially distinguished person.

Dear Mrs. Post: When spending the weekend in someone's house, is it proper to come to the breakfast table in a housecoat, or must one be fully dressed in street clothes?

I am going to spend the weekend with my college roommate and her family and want to be sure to do the right thing as they are socially prominent people and I don't want them to think me ignorant.

Answer: To wear a dress couldn't be wrong and the housecoat might very well be.

Dear Mrs. Post: At a college president's evening reception for new students, held in one of the college buildings, not the president's house, should his wife and members of the faculty who will receive with them wear hats with afternoon dresses?

Answer: Evening, no; daytime, yes.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, who is 1 month old, will be christened this coming week.

I had my heart set on his wearing a long white christening dress but have been told that a dress is not correct for a boy and that he should be dressed in a white silk suit or romper. Will you please advise me about this?

Answer: A baby 1 month old — whether boy or girl — certainly wears a long christening dress.

Away with the old-fashioned idea that perfume is only for evening wear. The smart woman knows that without perfume she is not completely dressed. Good taste calls for the right scent for the right occasion. Fragrance worn in the daytime should have the same fresh crispness that is expressed in the clothes you wear.

Money Motive Often Prevents Woman From Finding Profitable Part-Time Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Don't tell me to do anything for my own amusement," women will occasionally tell me. "Or for personal development, or self-expression, either. I want money, period."

"I like to paint—or sew, or write, or cook, or whatever—but strictly for cash," they say.

And yet frequently the woman who gives lavishly of her time and her talent is the one who eventually gets paid for it.

Mrs. C. S. loved art and design.

"Just as I finished my course at the academy," she told me," I got married. But I kept at my art work a little, and when the children were too young for school, I used to get them water colors and let them play, while I worked on my drawings and designs."

Her husband was a salesman, with lots of customers.

One year, he decided it would be very good for business, and a lot of fun, to send Christmas cards on his own to all of his many customers, and all of their many friends.

And so, starting as early as August, Mrs. G. S. went to work designing a lovely card. She had always done her own cards year after year, as well as those for birthdays and holidays.

"In the early days," she told me, "I had tried to sell my designs, but nobody would buy any. However, I loved doing it, so I just kept on through the years.

"Naturally, this stood me in good stead when George decided to have business Christmas cards. We mailed out more than 600 of them, and everybody was crazy about them.

"Shortly after Christmas," she went on, "I was sitting in the kitchen late one afternoon, contemplating all the bills and thinking—rather pessimistically, I'm afraid—how awful it was that I couldn't ever make any money to help out.

" 'That's what an artist gets,' I was saying to myself, when George came home from the office. I knew the minute I saw him that something good had happened—and guess what it was!

"One of his customers who had gotten our card had been so impressed with it that he had shown it to a fraternity brother of his, who runs a very successful greeting card company. He wanted to buy my design!"

Mrs. G. S. has sold that one company a great many designs. She works on a fee basis and can sell as many good ones as she has time to do. She works right in her own home and makes a good deal of money.

In short, Mrs. G. S. has a setup which the average young mother would envy very much.

The reason that so many people envy it, and so few achieve it, is that most women refuse to begin working for love and for free—and therefore they cheat themselves of the big rewards.

Moral: Don't say, "If someone would pay me for such-and-such, I would do it happily." Do it happily, and someone is very likely to pay you for it.

Girl Should Pick Tried and True Beau Rather Than Lad She Scarcely Knows

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I have to decide between two boys—they're both waiting for my answer. But I told them I wouldn't choose between them until I heard from you.

"I've been going with Pat for months and like him very much, but a couple of weeks ago I met Jack and went out with him just once. Pat was very hurt and said if I went out with Jack any more, we'd be through.

"I've known Jack only a short time and I like him, too, but a friend of mine says he's not very nice. (I don't know him well enough to know about that).

"Anyway, they both say they like me and insist that I choose. How will it be?"

There on the table are two items—you can take your pick. One is a big plate heaping with brownies that look divine, and you love brownies. The other is a box, all wrapped up and tied tight—and you've absolutely no idea what's in it.

Which would you choose? The box is a mystery — its contents might be interesting, or utterly white elephant. Is it worth a chance—when those brownies have you drooling?

Seems to me that you have a very happy and successful dating relationship with Pat right there in plain sight. And all wrapped up in the box is Jack —the unknown quantity with a dubious reputation.

Giving up Pat for Jack's sake would be giving up a friendship that has had time to develop and mean something to you.

It seems only sensible to me to go steady only with a boy you know something about, a boy you know you like and can get along with. Promising to go steady with a boy you've dated only once is like leaping before you look!

"Dear Miss Woodward, I'm nearly 18 and have been out of things for years because of illness. I never had a boy friend, of course, so recently when I started doing more I was delighted to have this boy like me.

"I was so timid about this first experience that I didn't mind the fact that he was two years younger.

"But now an older boy is interested in me and my first beau is so hurt that he's acting childish and as though he owns me. Must I hurt him so I can be free to go out with other boys?"

It might not hurt so much if you explain to him how very grateful you are. He came into your life just when you needed him most, gave you the pleasure and confidence you craved in your timid start.

Thank him most humbly and sincerely for launching you. Then tell him you don't want to lose him—but you do have places to go, now that you're on your way.

You want him always for your friend, but you want to make other friends, too. You want to make up for lost time. Ask him to try to understand that—then he may decide of his own accord to free you.

Stitch in Socks Saves Confusion

If wash day leaves you in a dilemma about which sock belongs to which child, identify each one so a glance will tell you.

A few stitches of colored thread — a different color for each child — just below the mid-cuff will serve that purpose and will last through many sudsings. The stitches will be hidden when the socks are worn with cuffs turned down.

Family Recipe for Pasties Contributed by Mrs. Bradley

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Perhaps we are sticking our neck out to publish a recipe for pasties. There are probably as many ways of making pasties are there are of making potato salad, for instance.

This recipe came from the Austrian-born brother-in-law of today's contributor, Mrs. James Bradley.

Mrs. Bradley has the large job of being both mother and father to her two sons. She is an efficient worker for the blood bank and for the United Fund drive. Her main recreational interest is bowling.

PASTIES (AUSTRIAN STYLE)
By Mrs. James Bradley

Rich pie dough
1½ pounds flank or round steak
Potatoes
Onions
White turnips or rutabagas
Salt and pepper

Make extra rich pie dough. Roll and cut in 3-inch squares. Dice the steak fine with potatoes, onions and turnips or rutabagas. Season with salt and pepper.

Place part of mixture in center of each dough square and pinch edges together. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 1½ hours.

The pasties may be basted with butter or margarine during the last half hour of basting time. They may be served hot or cold. Makes four servings.

For a Tidy Room

One way to organize mess makers — such as magazines, newspapers, sewing, and toys — is a bright cotton catch-all, hung sling-style in a black iron stand. The cotton bag is detachable so it can be laundered in hot soapsuds as often as needed.

Get After Suffering of INFECTIOUS COLDS!
This Special VapoRub Care Needed Now!

Easy 2-Step Treatment Gives Such Comforting Relief

When an infectious cold strikes anyone in your family, most effective relief from suffering is what you want. So, use dependable VapoRub this special way. Millions of mothers have proved its effectiveness!

To Relieve Upper Bronchial Congestion, Croupy Coughs of Colds, Head-Cold Stuffiness: Just put VapoRub in a vaporizer or bowl of steaming water, as directed in package. Breathe in the soothing, medicated steam. With every breath, VapoRub's active medication penetrates through the cold-stuffed nose and the throat . . . deep into the large breathing passages. It helps break up congestion. It soothes and moistens dry, irritated membranes . . . relieves the cough, makes breathing easier!

Then, for Continued Relief rub VapoRub on chest, throat and back, and cover with a warmed cloth. VapoRub spreads a wonderful feeling of warmth and comfort. It soothes away tightness, muscular aches and pains. You feel so much better! And under that warm glow, Vicks VapoRub keeps on working for hours—bringing more and more relief!

. . . So remember—when anyone in your family gets an infectious cold—the sooner you use Vicks VapoRub, the sooner you relieve the suffering!

Kentuckian Ranks Third in Daily Shows; Kids Seem to Love Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nature! That's what the youngsters of today are interested in.

Sure, they still like shoot-'em-up cowboy stuff and assorted blood and thunder. But if that cowboy is smart, he will hock his six-shooter, sell his horse and start telling nature stories.

He's a former hillbilly singer from Mount Sterling, Ky., who now has the job each day. He mixes in cartoons and songs, but mainly he goes in heavily for nature.

And what do the kids think of all this?

"I began the show in March," Johnson said, "and it took only three weeks for it to become the most popular of all locally produced shows.

"I don't understand these ratings, but anyway they figure that 11,000 kids watch me each day. And in comparison with all daily shows, wherever they're produced, I rank third.

"Perry Como and Howdy Doody are ahead of me, but"—and here a look of pleased bewilderment crossed his face — "I'm beating Arthur Godfrey in his home town."

Obviously nature is hot stuff.

Johnson may be the only television entertainer in history who does most of his homework with the forestry and wildlife services. And it's here he digs up such nuggets as:

"Do ou know an otter makes an ideal pet? The reason is, it never has had to worry much about its food. So it plays all day long, that's all it does.

"If you ever get one, put it in the bathtub and it will have a heck of a good time sliding down the sides. Loyal and lovable, too.

Me? Oh, no, I don't have one. The only pet we have is a hound dog named Boots."

Johnson is well aware that life in the woods isn't all peaches and cream, that animals have to prey on one another to live.

But I think the kids will find that out soon enough. In my show there's never a shot fired, and no one ever dies."

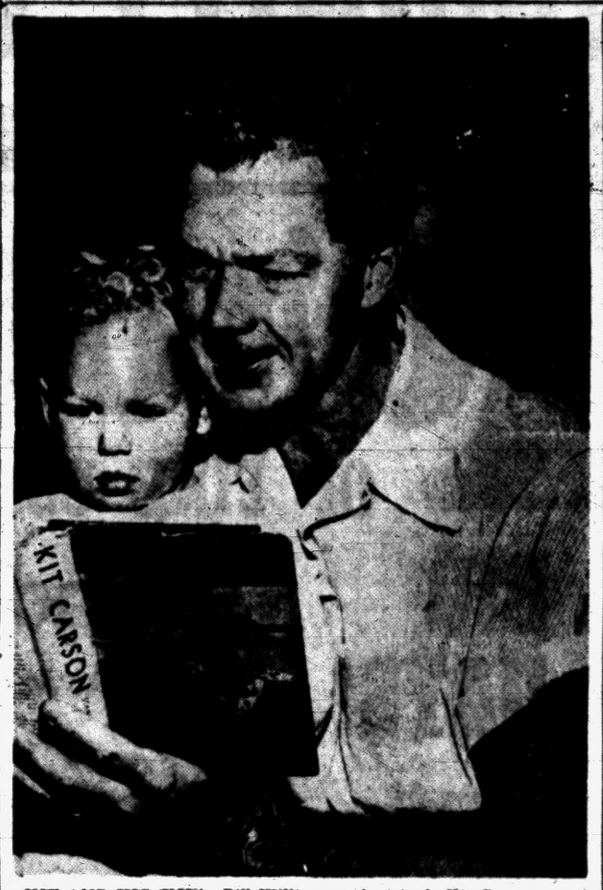

One hazard of working with children is their frankness. His two chief critics are the Johnson youngsters, Theresa Marie, who is 5 and Billy who is 2. "When I'm off the beam," he said, "I hear about it."

But he also gets notes like this one from Randy Simpson of Arlington, Va.:

"When my daddy and I go to the woods we sit quiet and listen. Pretty soon all the birds and the animals forget we are there and thay talk to each other.

"One time a rabbit just looked at us while we looked at him."

Any cowboy actor should see the writing on the canyon wall. Drop that pistol, pardner. We and them rabbits are a-goin' to look at one another.

KIT AND HIS 'KID'—Bill Williams, television's Kit Carson, reads about the original Carson of a century ago to his three-year-old son Billy just before bedtime. Billy, who already has a buckskin suit like Dad, is learning to ride a horse as expertly as his famous father.

Fears Results at Red Seating

Knowland Says Move May Give Communism 'Go Ahead' Signal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he thought seating of Red China in the United Nations "would be generally recognized as the 'go ahead' signal for communism in the balance of Asia."

Knowland, Senate Republican leader who returned recently from a six-week trip around the world, said letting Red China into the U. N. "would be taken as a scuttle and run policy on the part of the free world."

* * *

In a copyrighted interview with U. S. News World Report, an independent weekly news magazine published in Washington, Knowland said of such action:

"I think it would definitely break the morale of the people in the balance of Asia who are prepared to resist communism, so that they would feel that there was nothing much left for them to do but to go hat in hand to the Kremlin or to Peiping and make the best deal that they could."

Knowland said he found some concern in the Far East as to "whether we will continue to resist the admission of Communist China into the U. N."

* * *

"I think," he said, "that those nations realize the consequences that would flow from any such act, because most of the anti-Communists out in the Far East recognize, I believe, that the mere admission of Communist China into the United Nations would not satisfy the Communists either at Peiping or in the Kremlin at Moscow.

"They would immediately then press for Chinese Communist membership on the Security Council. That would require the removal of the Republic of China from membership on the Security Council and membership in the United Nations, and even that would not satisfy them, because they would then claim that as the legally recognized member of the United Nations they should have possession of Formosa."

Final Mine Death Toll Stands at Twenty-six

SERAING, Belgium (AP)—The final death toll from an explosion and fire in the Charbonnages du Many coal mine here has been set at 26 killed. Of the 40 Belgian and Italian miners trapped by the blast Friday, only 14 escaped. All but one of them were hospitalized for burns.

Estimated costs of the Savannah river hydrogen bomb project in South Carolina is $1.25 billion, or about double the total cost of the Panama Canal.

Youngster Awaits His Dead Father

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A tear-stained boy of six hunted for hours for his father, who took him on a hunting trip and then told him to wait while he surved for pheasants. Darkness finally drove t lad to a house for help.

Aposse of sheriff's deputies and farmers found the father dead of a heart attack Sunday. He was Fort Childs, 59, a chef at the Sutherland Paper Co.

The boy, Jimmy, and his father set out hunting Saturday.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

'For the Record'

Soil Work Proves Out; 1953 Dust-Bowl Less Severe

(This is the first of a series of articles entitled "For the Record" by many of the nation's top-flight authors. Today, Roscoe Fleming, long-time newsman and free lance writer tells how 20 years of soil conservation practices are making the 1953 "dust bowl" easier on Texas farmers and ranchers. Watch for "For the Record" Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the Pontiac Press.)

By ROSCOE FLEMING

DENVER — Why, some people ask, did West Texas dust drop again on New York streets in 1953, after 20 years of soil conservation and other defenses against drought? Has there been no progress?

Yes, there has been, and you can measure it by the region's rapid recovery if rains come normally from now on. This was the third year of drought in some places. Plains rainfall runs in cycles, and no human effort can overcome three straight years without it.

The Great Plains are the nation's weather frontier. Their very soils are largely wind-blown loess — the record of past "dust bowls" over millions of years.

Fighting drought is a rare, unpleasant incident to eastern farmers. In the southern Great Plains it is almost a way of life, "risk farming." The experts say that three years of drought can break a farm family.

Yet this year's regional crisis is passing with little effect on the nation's booming economy. In the northern plains rainfall and crops were good.

In the southern plains, county drought committees in some instances passed out relief certificates to all applicants, and some still highly-solvent people, including some reported millionaires, got them.

The difference from the old "dust bowl" is that no one could stay solvent then. Today's is a regional crisis that the nation took in stride, while that of the '30s was a national crisis that forced half a million people from the region for good.

Few have gone in 1953, and most will be back.

The old "dust bowl" came as the bitter climax to a national farm depression that had lasted almost without a break since 1921. Prices for farm crops were at an all-time low.

By 1930, the "suitcase farmers" who had broken the prairie sod for wheat had long since gone, leaving the land to blow. In 1934, early rains brought promise of recovery, blighted in late summer by the nation's worst heat wave of all time.

Farmers who practiced conservation then were far between. Driving one day in the mid-30s to interview a pioneer who had invented conservation tools, a reporter located his farm because there was a sort of clear window above it in the dust-veil.

Most of the hardy men who stuck with their farms and learned conservation methods, reaped their reward. Crops and prices were good for a dozen years.

They bought the new tools and practiced subsoil plowing and other means of getting the rains and snows down into the soil quickly, insulated by mulch and loose topsoil against evaporation.

One simple pair of figures shows how this economy teeters as the rainfall goes: In the disastrous '30s region-wide rainfall was nearly 90 per cent of normal; in the '40s it was about 110 per cent.

"WHAT HAPPENS NOW?—Every year in Oakland County dozens of terrified children watch death or divorce take away their mothers and fathers, leaving them alone. Finding families who will care for or adopt these homeless youngsters is the work of Michigan Children's Aid Society and Catholic Family Center. You can help these children in wholesome homes by donating to Pontiac Area United Fund's 1953 campaign.

Homes, Health, Happiness

Community Youth Helped by Children's Aid Society

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

Perhaps his mother just didn't come home. Maybe there isn't enough money to keep him fed and clothed. Perhaps divorce is in the offing.

Helping such youngsters find new homes is the work of Michits Pontiac branch supported by Pontiac Area United Fund.

Last year, the agency, located at 10 W. Huron St., took care of 24 children in its temporary foster homes. It watched over 50 youngsters in adopted homes—and supervised final adoption of 25.

It saw that 385 vaccinations, X-rays, and doctors' visits were given the youngsters under its care.

Workers at the agency tell of case after case where parents—perhaps parents who care a great deal for their children—found they just couldn't keep them any more.

One father, left with three small boys under five years old, turned up at the agency office to ask for help. His wife had left him. Debts had piled up. He couldn't afford to hire anyone to stay with the tots while he worked.

"I haven't any relatives to help," he said. "I don't want to give the children to just anybody. But I just can't give them the right kind of care."

Workers took the three children and placed them in a foster home, or boarding home, to give the harassed father time to "think things over." He stuck to his decision—but with the condition that the three children could stay together. Workers found a family who adopted all three.

"It will mean a great deal to those three youngsters later that they could stay together," agency people point out.

A typical unmarried mother-to-be, about 18 years old, who appealed to the agency for help about six months before her child was to be born. The agency found her a place in a Detroit maternity home, to await the baby's birth; then tried to help her, her mother and stepfather to make a decision.

The baby was boarded in a foster home until the young mother, who had returned to her job, decided she couldn't care for it properly. The child is now in the home of an adopted family.

But workers point out that in adoption lie dangers that can lead to misery for both parents and children—if the two aren't right for each other.

As one staff member says:

"One day a man came in to ask us to put his four-year-old child up for adoption. We found out he and his wife had adopted the child in the first place.

"They weren't getting along well—and the wife's mother thought all the marriage needed was a baby. She arranged with an unwed mother to take the child off her hands—unsupervised by an agency.

"The result was horrible. The couple was saddled with a child they didn't want. They became more unhappy than ever. Four years later they were divorced, leaving an upset, mixed-up, frightened youngster. The agency later found the right home with patient, understanding people who are helping him find security.

Furthermore, workers say, each child needs a certain type of home.

Psychologists may determine that a youngster isn't apt to graduate even from high school. Why then place him with parents who will want him to go to college?

Another child may need quiet surroundings. Why place him with a family of sports-loving, rough-and-tumble people?

Still another youngster may need to romp and rough-house. Placing him with a family of quiet, studious people would be a mistake.

"Our job is to find the right home for every child," workers emphasize.

Thompson 'Critical' After Prison Beating

NEW YORK (AP)—Communist leader Robert G. Thompson's condition is reported still critical from a beating over the head by another federal prisoner last Friday. However, he is said to be resting comfortably.

This was reported yesterday by the superintendent's office at the federal house of detention, where Thompson was being held pending a trial for contempt.

A Yugoslav alien, Alexander Pavlovich, 32, assaulted Thompson with an iron pipe Friday, a few hours before the Yugoslav was to have been deported.

Federal officials noted that Pavlovich claims to be an anti-Communist and said ideological factors may be involved in the incident. However, the authorities expressed belief Pavlovich chiefly wanted to avoid deportation.

If so, he succeeded, at least temporarily. On Saturday U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald ordered him held in $25,000 bail on an assault charge. The commissioner scheduled a Nov. 6 hearing on the charge, which could bring a 10-year prison sentence.

New York Out of Milk

NEW YORK (UP)—A strike of 13,000 dairy plant workers and deliverymen cut off the milk supply today to 12,000,000 residents of the New York metropolitan area.

Signs reading "Sorry, No Milk" were appearing in thousands of supermarkets, dairies and neighborhood delicatessens. The supply of fresh milk on retail markets was expected to be completely exhausted by tonight.

Federal mediators worked until early today with representatives of the AFL Teamsters Union and 200 milk distributors who had failed to reach agreement on a wage increase when the union's strike deadline passed at 4 p. m. yesterday. The strike had been postponed 24 hours from a Saturday deadline.

A three-man team of mediators held separate meetings with company and union negotiators until 1:30 a. m. EST.

One mediator said prospects for a quick settlement were dim, and the tie-up might last more than a week.

The 13,000 processors and truck drivers employed in parts of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut were demanding a $15 a week wage increase. Weekly pay now ranges from $82 for plant workers to $115 for truck drivers, who receive commissions in addition to basic wages.

The walkout cut off deliveries to homes and stores that normally receive up to 4,000,000 quarts of milk a day. Many housewives crammed their refrigerators with milk over the weekend in anticipation of the famine which developed today.

DuFrain Points to Improvement

Says City Classrooms May Be Overcrowded, but Cites Progress

Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools, today admitted that the city's classrooms may be overcrowded next fall.

But he pointed out that Pontiac is in far better shape than many large nearby districts — some of which are running on half-day sessions.

The magazine rated as poor school systems those with more than 30 pupils to a classroom, districts with 7 per cent of students in buildings older than 50 years, and areas where more than 20 per cent of students attend non-fire-safe schools.

DuFrain confirmed that the present average class load is 31.3 students to a teacher; that Cora Bailey, Central, Baldwin and McConnell Schools are older than 50 years; and that some of the city's schools are not completely fire safe. Officials expect 500 more students next fall—but no additional buildings are planned then.

"What the article didn't mention," he said, "was that we just opened 40 new elementary classrooms and a new high school addition this fall, making about 100 classrooms completed in the last five years.

"It also didn't mention that we've been installing fire doors and fire-proof stairwells in our older buildings — and that we've reduced the size of classes in the last four years.

Canasta Makes Bridge Players, Says C. H. Goren

But an internationally - known bridge expert says cansasta actually is good for bridge because it gets more persons to try their luck at cards.

"Canasta is one reason why bridge's popularity has zoomed tremendously in the past four years," Charles H. Goren said Sunday. "After their introduction to card-playing many people switched to the deeper game of bridge."

Parents Notified of Sight Tests

Pre-School Tots to Get Free Exams at Pontiac Vision Center

By WILMA GREENWAY

Over 2,000 special notices were distributed to children in Pontiac schools last week. They were given to students who had brothers and sisters between the ages of 3 and 5, and invited the parents of those pre-school tots to bring them in to the Pontiac Vision Screening Center for a free sight test.

But they didn't tell the whole story.

They didn't tell about the dream. And they never said a word about the apples.

The dream? To give every youngster entering school a fair start. To be sure that no child starting his education in a Pontiac school kindergarten will ever be ridiculed by his classmates—labeled "dumb bell"—because he couldn't see his work.

To make that dream come true, sight tests will be given from 9:30 to noon Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and next, to youngsters 3 to 5 years of age. The sight clinic, located at Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, Williams and Pike streets, is sponsored by the Junior League of Birmingham, in cooperation with the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The league is urging every parent in Pontiac and surrounding communities to bring their youngsters in for a vision checkup. The examination, the Snellen section of the Massachusetts Vision Test, tests the children's vision by a series of "sight games" which is just plain fun for the kiddies.

The program, under the direction of carefully-trained junior league volunteers, has the backing of the Pontiac Board of Education, Michigan, Oakland County and Pontiac Health Departments, and an imposing list of Pontiac physicians and educators.

Now, about the apples. They are an "extra" Junior Leaguers offer tots when the vision screening session is over.

9,000 Dockers Join New AFL Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL President George Meany says more than 9,000 New York longshoremen have joined the new dock union set up last month when the AFL ousted the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ila).

It was the first estimate of results in the organizing drive to come from a top AFL official.

Meany, replying to questions on an NBC television program yesterday, said the biggest task is "trying to dispel the fears of the longshoremen in New York, fears for their jobs, families and even life itself."

The Ila was ejected from AFL membership last month for failure to purge itself of racketeering elements.

Oakland Now Boasts 32 Cooperative Credit Unions

If you are desperately in need of money and have no security nor anyone to sign with you as insurance on your loan, you face a serious dilemma.

But your problem probably is solved if you belong to one of the 32 credit unions in Oakland County.

Take the case of a young couple with three children who needed $775 to put running water and bathroom facilities into their home. No one would or could help them — loan companies wouldn't because of lack of security; their friends just didn't have the money.

They turned in desperation to the Pontiac Motors Employes Federal Credit Union to which they belonged and soon had the loan and a liveable home.

What is a credit union? It is a group of at least 100 people who have a common bond such as employment, religion, or fraternal ties, who co-operatively conduct what amounts to their own private trust company.

These individuals can invest their savings at about three per cent interest return annually, or they can seek loans at the union.

Money received from the union costs one per cent in interest a month on the unpaid balance, and can be borrowed for as long as three years.

There are 17,700 credit unions in the United States, according to Francis H. Schneider, president of the Oakland County Chapter of Credit Unions.

The largest auto employes credit union in the world, said Schneider, is located in Pontiac — the General Motors Truck and Coach Employes Federal Credit Union with assets of $2¼ million.

Two of the largest banks in Detroit even have a credit union for employes of their organization, in which they invest their money or from which they may borrow.

"And we're growing bigger every year," said Schneider. "We make loans on faith alone, loans other companies will not make, and yet in the 12 years of this credit union, the organization has lost on bad debts only .0025 per cent of over $4 million loaned out."

The Pontiac Motors Credit Union now has over $1 million loaned out and assets totaling $1¼ million. It has about 5,000 members.

The largest loan ever made by the Pontiac Motor Credit Union was $75,000 to the UAW-CIO to finance a new labor union hall. "However, we are in no way connected to the labor unions," points out Schneider.

"There are going to be a lot of people who will feel proud when they read this story," remarked Schneider, referring to the many unpaid officials who aid in the smooth operation of the organization.

"It takes an average of 15 officials for each credit union, including a board of nine, three on the credit committee and three on the audit committee. None of these officials receives pay for his efforts," said Schneider. Only the treasurer, a full-time official, is paid.

To Review Classes on Social Services

A resume of previous classes on available services from social agencies will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. during the final class in a series of six in UAW-CIO Local 594 Hall, 90 Mt. Clemens St.

March Haas, CIO representative on the Michigan Health and Welfare League, and Dwight S. Adams, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, will chairman the meeting.

Those attending class will hold practice interviews referring persons to various social service agencies.

Community Services Committee of the Oakland County CIO Council and the Pontiac Area United Fund co-sponsored the series. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Camera Fans to Meet

246 Patients to Get Benefits

Are Due to Enjoy Own Newspaper, Therapy Program, Visitor Boost

Oakland County Infirmary's 246 patients are due to enjoy their own newspaper, an occupational therapy program and perhaps more visitors soon.

For the infirmary's new manager, State Rep. Howard R. Estes (R-Birmingham) is brimming with plans to carry out his belief that "the patient is most important."

Rep. Estes, named manger of the infirmary by the Oakland County Social Welfare Board, took office July 1.

Since then he has:

1. Called for inspections by Michigan Fire Marshal and Oakland County Health Department, both of which, he says, gave the infirmary a good rating.

2. Helped organize a small newspaper produced by patients, among whom, he says, he has found "poets, artists and reporters."

3. Started to lay out plans for quick evacuation in case of fire and a loudspeaker system for emergency use.

4. Re-organized the 120 attendants' working hours from the "split shift" system, which left many with several hours to kill between tours of duty, to straight eight-hour shifts.

The split shift system, he said, was started so that extra employes would be on hand at "peak hours," such as mealtimes, early evening and early morning, when patients need more attention.

Thus an attendant might work from 7 to 11 p.m. and from 3 a.m. until 7.

"The attendants had little to do," Estes said. "They just hung around — or went downtown. Sometimes they were late coming back. Sometimes they found it awkward to tie up four hours between shifts."

Under the new system, almost ready to be put into use, some shifts will overlap to give the extra attendants needed at certain times, he said.

As for the occupational program, Estes explained that about one-fourth of the patients really want something to do—and are able to

"We plan to start with weaving and wood-working, he says, "with perhaps a little jewelry and leather craft later. Patients' products could be sold at small fairs, and they could share any profits."

Next spring, Estes hopes to have a gardening contest between a dozen or so patients, with a prize for the winner.

Estes is eager to sign up volunteers who could help in the crafts program or visit patients no one ever comes to see—"and a visit from someone outside would mean a lot to them."

"There's still room for improvement in a lot of areas," he says. "We don't 'keep house' as neatly as we could. We're trying to improve that.

"We believe the folks who come to us should be fed and housed, certainly, and given medical care. We also believe we should do all we can to help them be happy and contented."

POW Has Barb Tally: 17,442 Per Compound

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Sgt. David Sharp returned home today from 18 months as a prisoner of war in Korea and reported: "There were exactly 17,42 barbs on the barbed wire around the 42-by-9 foot compound in which he was held.

Pitching Horseshoes

Schopenhauer's Heavy Book Means Only Light Refreshments to GI

By way of Korea, and with an assist from the U. S. mails, a letter arrived this morning from an infantry sergeant who, a brief two years ago, was selling orange drinks in my theater.

After a page of the usual GI gripes, the sergeant sets down a story which he says is almost as popular in the canteens as the famous pin-up calendar of Marilyn Monroe.

BILLY ROSE

In the interests of high art and exact reportage, I'm passing the yarn along . . .

In the fall of 1943, a group of Boy Scouts in Perth Amboy, N. J., set out to collect books and magazines for servicemen overseas.

One of the kids a 12-year-old named Ernie Jaeger, wasn't satisfied with the pile of reading matter he had managed to pick up and so one evening when his parents were out swiped an imposing looking volume from the family bookshelf — "The Philosophy of Schopenhauer."

Further a-bustin' with patriotism, the lad took a two-dollar bill from the money he had been saving to buy a bicycle and Scotch-taped it to the title page along with the following note:

Dear Soldier or Sailor,

Here is $2.00. Please have a good time with it. I live at 267 Norfolk Ave., Perth Amboy, N.J. Will you please write me a letter and tell about the war? Good luck.

Ernie Jaeger.

* * *

The boy never received an answer to his letter, and it was probably due to the fact that none of our soldiers even bothered to open so forbidding a book as the Schopenhauer classic.

For one thing, as you'll remember, the most popular reading matter in the last fracas was the line below the pin-up pictures of Jane Russell and Betty Grable.

For another, there weren't many men in the service who were interested in having their philosophies retooled. They knew what they wanted: O-U-T.

What actually happened to the volume can, of course, only be guessed at. Chances are, however, it was bundled up by the USO and sent to one of the canteens overseas where it collected dust for the duration.

Then, after things in Germany and Japan quieted down, it was probably crated, shipped back to this country and stored in a government warehouse. . . .

The next scene of our story finds us in a fresh locale. The time is the spring of 1953, and we're in a Special Service center in the beat-up town of Solun, Korea.

"You don't have to tell me," says the girl. "You're looking for a book by Mickey Spillane. Sorry, no got."

"I was going to ask whether the beer ration had arrived," says the corporal.

"Not yet," says the WAC, "but there's a joint down the street selling Korean beer."

"For that a guy needs money."

"That's something else we no got," says the WAC.

The girl goes to the bookshelf and pulls down the first book that comes to hand—"The Philosophy of Schopenhauer." Here's a thousand pages of fun," she says.

"Looks like heavy reading," he says, "but if nobody else wants it—"

Ten minutes later he walks into the joint down the street.

"How much is a bottle of beer?" he says.

LaRosa 'On His Own' in TV Appearance

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Julius La Rosa, after his first television appearance since being fired by Arthur Godfrey, says he still does not know whether the events of the past week have been a break.

"Time will tell," added the 24-year-old Brooklynite who for two years had been a "Little Godfrey" and last night started a career as a television star in his own right.

He made the change with his parents watching from the audience and a host of teen-age fans shouting encouragement on the sidewalks outside the studio.

La Rosa appeared on the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" TV program over CBS. Cheers greeted his rendition of the song, "Eh Cumpari," which he made popular in a recording.

It was the singer's first TV performance since Godfrey a week ago today gave him his walking papers during a morning broadcast.

Parking Law Repealed by Voice of the People

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—For years it's been against the law to park on the streets here between midnight and 6 a.m. The idea was to help street sweepers, but no one paid any attention.

Suddenly the police started enforcing the law. Parked cars were towed to a garage. Then, the howls went up.

The mayor and councilmen stood it for six weeks. Then, they repealed the law.

Re-elect Young Dems' Chairman

Detroiter Renamed as Group Lowers Minimum Membership Age

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's Young Democrats re-elected Victor Baum of Detroit as their chairman and voted to lower their minimum membership age from 18 to 16 years over the weekend.

They also heard Leon Henderson, one of Franklin D. Roosevelt's original "New Dealers," declare that the Eisenhower administration is returning to principles which he said worked so well under presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

He said Republicans had retreated from their "hard money" policy and have "turned back to the Brannan farm plan, no matter what name they give it."

Election of a Democrat in a normally Republican Congressional district in Wisconsin, he said "turned the Republicans around" on farm policy.

Henderson also predicted that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson "is likely to be thrown to the wolves."

'Angle Worm' Is Said an Aid to Getting Tube Into Intestine

ATLANTA (AP) — A mechanical "trained angle worm" offers a new and improved aid in relieving dangerous obstructions of the intestine, the Southern Medical Assn. was told today.

Two Lynchburg, Va., doctors said the new device appears to be the answer to the difficulties—and sometimes failures—marking previous methods for getting a rubber tube down through the food passageway into the intestine.

Dr. John W. Devine Jr. and his doctor-father said the problems have resulted from the fact that there are several devious curves and one outright loop in the passageway leading from the gullet down through the stomach into the duodenum, the first part of the intestine.

The new "angle worm" is a hollow piece of curved hard rubber, attached by an ingenious "swivel joint" to the fore end of a rubber suction tube which is inserted into the patient's nose and guided down through the meandering pathway into the duodenum.

The "swivel joint" is remotely controlled by a miniature speedometer cable inserted in the tube so that the doctor can swing the "angle worm" in any direction he desires.

Thus, the doctors said, the entire tube can be guided, much like a crawling worm, along the tricky pathway.

Accuse Night Watchman of Setting Fire to Shops

BALTIMORE (AP)—A hearing was scheduled today for a 38-year-old night watchman charged with arson in two fires at shops he was employed to protect.

Police accused Alton E. Fuhrer of setting a fire Oct. 8 in a garden shop next to the St. James Hotel. They said he reported the fire, notified the night clerk of the hotel, then rushed through the hotel arousing guests.

6 Perish as Flames Sweep Mountain Hut

RICHLANDS, Va. (AP) — Six persons died in a flaming mountain cabin near here early yesterday while the head of the household was fighting a forest fire four miles away.

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Mildred Osborne, 41; her daughters Vicey, 22, and Brenda, 11 months; and three sons, James, 15, Clyde, 9, and Franklin, 6.

Two other sons got out of the cabin before it collapsed into a pile of blazing logs.

Their father, Babe Harrison Osborne, 51, working with a fire-fighting crew, was unaware that his home was burning.

Cause of the cabin fire was undetermined.

Michigan Men Safe After 7 Days Adrift

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A cabin cruiser with two Grand Rapids men aboard and missing in the Gulf of Mexico for seven days was towed into St. Marks last night by the Coast Guard cutter Nemesis.

Aboard the cruiser, the Ronnie Dee, were Jack Malone and Robert Kipp, both of Grand Rapids and both apparently in good condition.

The 20-foot power boat was discovered drifting Saturday about 85 miles west of Cedar Key.

Jordan Police Pick Up 2 Alleged Israel Spies

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP) — A senior Jordan official said today two spies allegedly operating for Israel were arrested yesterday while trying to cross back into Jewish territory.

The spokesman said the agents were caught at the armistice demarcation line in possession of maps and sketches of Arab Legion positions and details of legion troop movements. They also carried pictures of destroyed houses in Kibya, the Jordan border village in which officials say 66 persons were killed by Israeli attackers Oct. 14, the spokesman said.

Claudette Says Her Husband Worth Keeping

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Claudette Colbert is back from 20 months of filming and vacationing in Europe. The reason for her return: "You either have a husband or you don't."

In Miss Colbert's case, she has a husband. She intends to keep him, despite what the rumor mongers reported during her absence. She has long been married to Dr. Joel Pressman and admitted he was the reason for her return.

"I was supposed to film 'That Lady' in Spain this summer," she remarked. "Then it was postponed until September. I decided I should come home instead of doing the picture.

"After all, you either have a husband or you don't. Being apart has been difficult, and Jack (her husband) hated it. If he had been in private practice, he might have been able to spend more time with me over there. But now he is on the staff at the new UCLA Medical School.

"He did make four quick trips over to see me. He laughed that while we were supposed to be saving money by my staying in Europe, he was spending it in transportation to visit me.

"I could have done more pictures, but I decided to come home. I have always prided myself in the fact that I never have put my career ahead of my private life. I know women who have, and I've seen how unhappy they can be."

Back at her West Los Angeles home, Miss Colbert is as lovely as ever. She still has her trademark bangs. She talked breezily about her European stay, which was enjoyable but a financial debacle.

"I didn't go over for the 18-month tax deal," she said. "I went over to do a picture in England. When I was finished, people convinced me I should take advantage of the tax setup. I already had five months, and it sounded too good to pass up.

"I should have warned the other stars who were doing it. As soon as I get into something, it blows up. Everything I've ever invested in has taken a nose-dive.

"I didn't make anything on the 18-month deal because Congress made the repeal of the law retroactive. The other two pictures I did were made this year so they didn't count."

The actress indicated she hopes her return will silence those who have sniped at her marriage.

"I used to take such things seriously," she remarked. "Fortunately, it doesn't worry me any more. I got a big laugh out of one report that I was romancing with Anton Walbrook. I suppose the rumor started because I was scheduled to do a picture with him. As a matter of fact, I have never set eyes on the man."

While not making movies, Miss Colbert spent a great deal of time in her native France. She said it made her a believer in atavism. I looked it up and the word means the recurrence in a descendant of the characters of an ancestor.

"Of course there's not a drop of blood in me that isn't French," she said. "But I left France at the age of 3. Despite that, I felt right at home in Paris. It was as though I had always lived there."

California looks good, she added, and she is amazed at the changes that have taken place in the movie industry.

"I haven't even seen Cinerama, Cinemascope, 3D or any of the new gimmicks," she said. "I've got a lot of catching up to do. Do you think I can get another job in pictures?"

I assured her that her film fortunes should continue the success she has known over the past 20 years.

'ALL-FIRED' FASCINATING—Girls were pretty in the days when this ancient fire engine was the latest thing. However, few would have dared to pose in as brief a costume as Barbara Deer, 18, of Las Vegas, Nev., wears above. Though times change, much can be said for modern trends.

Pat Costello, 17, Weds Young GI; Papa Consents

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An Army private is now married to the daughter of comic Lou Costello, the girl he was afraid he might lose if he left her while he was away with the Army.

Pvt. James Cardinet, 19, scion of a candy making family, and Patricia Anne Costello, 17, were married yesterday in the Catholic Church of St. Francis De Sales. A number of Hollywood celebrities attended, including the Pat O'Briens, the Joe E. Browns and the Bud Abbotts. The Rev. James O'Mahony officiated.

During the courtship Costello told his daughter and young Cardinet, now stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif., that he thought they were too young for marriage. But Papa relented when the soldier told him: "Gosh, Mr. Costello, I love your daughter and I'm afraid I might lose her while I'm away in the Army."

Four-Car Pileup Caused by 1 Driver

Three cars were pushed together on Rochester Road in Avon Township Sunday night, by a fourth auto whose driver told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he did not see the other cars in time to avoid them.

Kenneth W. Willey, 31, of 11957 Laing, Detroit, drove his car into the back of an auto driven by Richard Allen Somers, 24, of 433 Hendrickson St., Clawson, pushing Somers' car into another driven by Eldon F. Cox, 38, of 438 Marshall St., deputies said.

Cox's auto then went forward, hitting a car driven by Robert R. Wiggle, 28, of 29921 Southfield, Royal Oak, according to deputies. A passenger with Cox, Rebecaca Hunt, 40, of 37½ Stout St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for leg bruises.

Local Speech Therapist at Cerebral Palsy Meet

Miss Beverly J. Eaton, Whittier School speech therapist, was among 400 professional workers and delegates attending United Cerebral Palsy Association's regional meeting in Detroit this past weekend.

Medical and professional leaders speaking at the conference included Dr. Glidden L. Brooks, national UCPA medical director. Another program feature was a "workshop" demonstration at Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center.

While playing football for Illinois, Harold (Red) Grange scored 31 touchdowns, gained 3,637 yards and threw 42 passes for 643 yards.

Chauffeur to Pay Parking Ticket for Governor

Gov. G. Mennen Williams' chauffeur promised today to pay a $2 ticket received Friday night in Pontiac when the governor's limosine was parked in a restricted zone.

The car was ticketed on South Saginaw street in downtown Pontiac while the governor was addressing a youth group in a nearby theater.

His chauffeur, Sgt. George Kerr of the Michigan State Police, was quoted in Lansing as saying he was sorry he broke the law and would pay the fine.

Meanwhile, Pontiac Police decided to withhold a letter asking for payment of the fine after learning that the ticket would be paid off. The deadline for paying the ticket was 8:30 p.m. Sunday, but a period of grace is granted persons ticketed, said police.

2 County Firms Report Breakins on Weekend

Deer Lake Lumber and Supply Co. of 7110 Dixie Highway in Independence Township was broken into Sunday, but nothing was taken, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Also broken into over the weekend was Huron Cleaners at 4313 W. Walton Blvd., Waterford Township. Both companies were entered through the rear. Nothing was reported missing at Huron Cleaners, deputies said.

Woman Injured in Auto Crash in Novi Township

Miss Patricia Adams, 16, of 7870 Eldora St., Walled Lake, was treated for chin cuts after the auto in which she was riding collided with another on Pontiac Trail at Old Plank Road in Novi Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Clyde E. Brown, 54, of New Hudson, told deputies that oncoming auto lights blinded him, and his car and one driven by Robert L. Olson, 17, of 3945 W. Maple St., Milford, collided. Miss Adams was riding with Olson.

Thrown From Auto, Man Seriously Hurt

A Drayton Plains man was seriously injured and a companion shaken up when their car went out of control Saturday night on Clarkston-Orion road, one-half mile west of Sashabaw road in Independence Township, according to Michigan State police of the Pontiac Post.

Harold Copeman, 32, of 3962 Sashabaw Rd., Drayton Plains, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with multiple rib fractures suffered when he was thrown from the auto. His condition today is good, the hospital reports.

Lewis Hutchinson, 34, of 7928 Hill Rd., Davisburg, driver of the auto, was treated for shoulder bruises. He told State troopers he was northbound on Clarkston-Orion road when he lost control on a curve and his auto skidded into a bank, throwing Copeland from the car.

Michigan Turns to Preparation for Penn Game

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

Michigan had held the famed little Brown Jug over a 10-year span and lost the trophy on its 50th anniversary in as a thorough a defeat as the long series had witnessed.

Shut out for the first time since a 6-0 decision at the hands of Northwestern in 1951 and mauled by the greatest Minnesota margin since a 39-6 trimming in 1937, Wolverines lost their first game in five this season.

Not since a 25-0 loss to Michigan State in the 1951 season opener had Michigan suffered such a defeat.

In the first half alone, Giel rushed for 61 yards and passed for 147 yards in a huge individual effort that gave Minnesota a 14-0 lead.

Giel passed to end Bob Rutford in the third period for another touchdown. Scoring ended in the final period when Michigan fullback Dick Balzhiser fumbled and recovered in his own end zone, giving the Gophers two more points on a safety.

Michigan only got beyond midfield once in the first half. That came in the dying second when quarterback Lou Baldacci passed to halfback Ted Kress 36 yards to the Minnesota 49.

Prior to the game there was criticism against Giel for not calling his own signal enough. Giel took the criticism to heart. He called his own signal on 16 of the first 18 plays it took to score the first two touchdowns.

A fumble by Jim Soltau on the Michigan three was recovered by Michigan linebacker John Peckham to stop one Gopher bid. Minnesota lost the ball on downs on another occasion on the Michigan three when Giel took a rest and Garry Johnson tried to score.

Batts Reverses Decision, Stays in United States

Tiger Catcher Passes Up Mexican Loop for Insurance Business

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Matt Batts, Detroit Tiger catcher, has changed his mind about playing baseball this winter for the Mexico City Aztecs. He's going to enter the insurance business in Baton Rouge, La., instead.

Manager Alejo Peralta of the Mexico City club asked police to help locate Batts Sunday, saying he was four days overdue in joining the Aztecs and had left San Antonio by car with his wife and two children for the Mexican capital Monday.

Batts' home reported last night that he went to Mexico intending to play with the Aztecs, but decided he'd prefer to remain in the United States and returned to Baton Rouge via Houston.

Peralta said Batts was to have caught the opening game of the winter baseball season between the Aztecs and Cordoba Saturday but didn't show up.

Spartans' Boss Has No Alibis for 6-0 Upset

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — "Now we've got to get off this losing streak," quipped Michigan State football coach Biggie Munn after MSC's 6-0 upset loss to Purdue last Saturday.

"Of course, the boys felt awfully bad about it," Munn said. "Not a one of them knew what it was like to be beaten. But I think we'll be a better team because of it."

Loss to Purdue marked the first time Michigan State had been held scoreless since Michigan blanked MSC 55-0 in 1947, the black Saturday of Munn's debut as Spartan coach.

Spartans had five pass attempts intercepted. Each time they seemed about to score, the wrong guys would walk into the way of a Michigan State pass. A penalty, for roughing the kicker, put Purdue in position for its one score by Dan Pobojewski in the fourth quarter.

Ironically, Pobojewski, from Grand Rapids, was at Michigan State in 1947 and 1948 but transferred to Purdue after a stint of military service because he couldn't make the team.

On the play after the Purdue touchdown, the game started in the comeback pattern so familiar to Spartan rooters in recent years. Leroy Bolden took the kickoff on his own five-yard line and outfought, outdodged and outran the entire Purdue team on a 95-yard

But it wasn't to be allowed. Field judge William Farrell, a former Minnesota schoolmate of Munn's signaled a clipping penalty against State. The touchdown was called back and after that blow Michigan State wasn't able to pull itself together to make a real threat.

Today the Spartans turned their faces forward: to its Oregon State game here next Saturday, two Big Ten games with Ohio State and Michigan on successive Saturdays and a windup game with Marquette.

Leahy's 'Stomach Ache' Sparks Irish to Win

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—That was quite a stomach ache Frank Leahy had Saturday.

* * *

Variously diagnosed as a heart attack, a "muscle spasm," intestinal flu and "acute enteritis," it became—because of its timing—even more celebrated than his Notre Dame football team's 27-14 victory over Georgia Tech.

Attendants at St. Joseph Hospital in nearby South Bend, Ind., were going along with the "acute enterities" theory today. One of them described it as "nothing more than a high-class stomach ache."

Leahy complained of pain as his team was trooping into the Notre Dame dressing room at the end of the first half. The attack was at first thought to be a heart seizure and he was given oxygen, the last sacraments of the Catholic Church and a swift trip by ambulance to the hospital.

* * *

The Irish coach was reported clamoring to get out of the hospital as early as Saturday night but doctors scheduled further precautionary tests for this morning before giving him any word on when he could leave.

Weekend Stars

By The Associated Press

PAUL GIEL, Minnesota tailback—scored two touchdown, completed 13 of 18 passes for 169 yards and a third TD, ran for 113 yards and intercepted two passes as Minnesota upset Michigan 22-0 in the Little Brown Jug game.

NEIL WORDEN, Notre Dame fullback—Rammed across the first touchdown and led the ground attack that stopped Georgia Tech's unbeaten string at 31 in a 27-14 Irish triumph.

ED GRAMIGNA, Penn quarterback—Kicked field goal with 6 seconds remaining to give Penn 9-6 upset over Navy.

STAN WALLACE, Illinois fullback—His runs of 45 and 55 yards produced pair of touchdowns, enabling the Illini to defeat Syracuse 20-13.

PAUL CAMERON, UCLA tailback—Scored twice in running for 121 yards, passed for 47 more as he led Bruins to 44-7 victory over Washington State.

Paul Giel Has Greatest Day as 'M' Topples

Gopher Star Smashes Big 10's Record for Ball Handling

Fesler's Gophers had gone into the game 3-time losers and an almost unanimous choice to go down to their 4th defeat. But Michigan was to go away mauled and confused.

Tip-off came with the game three minutes old, when Minnesota recovered a fumble on the Michigan 29. Giel hammered four times at the Wolverine line and was over from the six on the last try.

Minnesota maintained constant pressure, refusing to let Michigan open up with any sustained offense. Giel handled the ball on all but 2 of 14 plays as the Gophers paraded 61 yards for the 2nd score late in the 1st period.

Giel counted that one from two yards out, and then helped produce Minnesota's final touchdown in the third quarter with a 9-yard pass to Bob Rutford. Gophers scored their final two points when Michigan's Dick Balzhiser was tackled in his own end zone.

Giel, a 4-letter winner in high school, pitched baseball well enough to attract several major league socuts and at least one approached with a contract. He also plays on the mound for Minnesota and had a 5-0 record last spring.

Kline Is Star in UD Victory Over Aggies' 11

Former St. Fred Ace Figures in All Scoring in 18-14 Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Title minded Oklahoma A & M, with the blue chips within reach, hits the climax of its bid to return to Missouri Valley Conference football supremacy this weekend.

Playing all of four Valley games on consecutive weekends, the Aggies come to the end of the conference trail Saturday at Stillwater against Tulsa. A victory would assure A & M nothing less than a share of the title. A defeat would make it another season of frustration for the Aggies, who haven't held the championship since 1948.

At least a share of the title could [illegible] hands this week except for a rude jolt thrown by Detroit last week end. The Titans saw a 12-0 lead crumble, then came back to upset the Aggies, 18-14.

It was the first conference defeat for the first place Aggies (2-1) and the first Valley victory for Detroit, now tied for second with defending champ Houston and Wichita with a 1-1 record.

A scond A & M defeat could let either Houston or Wichita, who don't meet, slip into the title.

Detroit scored just before the half when Kline, the former Pontiac St. Fred's star, passed to Jack Flanagan for a 1st down on the Aggie 12. Kline then pitched out to Burgmeier for the first touchdown.

Kline passed to Lee Riley for another Titan TD in the third quarter on a 46-yard play. Aggies roared back to tally twice in the 3rd period and take a 14-12 lead.

Then came the UD's winning rally. Kline ran 31 yards to the Cowpokes' 26 before passing to Burgmeier for the score.

Fool's Career Brief, Great

Greentree Ace Retiring at 4, but Ranks 7th on Money-Winning List

BALTIMORE (AP) — For a horse who didn't even start in the triple crown races as a 3-year-old and who's retiring as a youngster of four, Tom Fool has made quite a name for himself.

Greentree stable's darling, now seventh among the all-time top money winners, started his brief career by winning the 2-year-old championship in 1951.

He was the winter book favorite to win the 1952 Kentucky Derby, but took sick and didn't compete in any of the 3-year-old classics.

Tom Fool won five stakes last fall. And this year, he's won 10 straight, including nine stakes, to lay undisputed claim to the 1953 handicap title.

No wonder jockey Ted Atkinson, who rode Tom Fool to victory in the Pimlico Special Saturday in a record-breaking performance, calls him "one of the best horses of our time."

'Pee Wee' on Spot

Reese, Logical Successor to Dressen's Job, Will Face Tough Task as Manager

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, the first citizen of Louisville, Ky., is believed by most baseball men to have a hammerlock on the glamorous job of managing the Brooklyn Dodgers next season. His predecessor, Chuck Dressen, doesn't consider that anyone else is in the race.

* * *

Practically everyone who has been quoted on the subject, including his teammates, agrees that the tactful, intelligent little shortstop should get the post surrendered by Dressen in pique at not being given a two-year contract. There could be no more popular choice with the fans of Brooklyn. That just about makes it unanimous, and we hereby add our vote in favor of the former marble-shooting champ—that is, if he really wants to take on what shapes up as one of the toughest tasks in baseball. Perhaps it's a challenge that couldn't be refused, but Pee Wee should at least be advised of the odds he's bucking.

In the first place, any manager who takes over a pennant-winning club is on the spot. He can't do any better and he might do worse. He is under an abnormal strain from the first day of the season.

Another thing, Pee Wee, is that these fellows you'll be called upon to direct and to discipline are your old teammates, the same buddies with whom you've spent so many happy hours sitting around and gabbing and maybe even trimming at golf on an off-day. They all think you're a wonderful guy now, but we've been told by a man who knows from experience that they can change.

* * *

This fellow, who was as great a star at his position as you are at yours, undertook a few years back to make the same big jump you are contemplating. His wasn't a pennant contender, even, so that handicap wasn't present, but he still found his position so distressing that he didn't even ask that his contract be renewed after one season.

But don't let this scare you off, Pee Wee, if you get that call. A manager's got to start somewhere.

Sports Mirror

Hardy Plays 60 Minutes

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Senior Bob Hardy of Birmingham, Mich., played 60 minutes of quarterback and was outstanding on defense for Harvard here today as the Crimson defeated Dartmouth, 20-14, to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the completion of Harvard Stadium.

In the 3rd quarter, Hardy recovered a Dartmouth fumble at midfield to set up the final Harvard touchdown. In the last minutes of the game, he halted a Dartmouth drive by intercepting a pass on the Harvard 40.

New Castle 'Cap Rich

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Delaware Park's $100,000 added New Castle Handicap for fillies and mares has been run 16 times and the gross purse values have amounted to $497,800. Of that sum the 16 winners netted $350,350. The $84,600 won by Grecian Queen, winner of the 1953 renewal, topped all previous first monies.

Purdue's Reserves Heroes of Upset Over Spartans

By DALE BURGESS

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — "I've had it," said Dan Pobojewski. The chunky, 5-foot-9 Purdue fullback, who transferred from Michigan State because he couldn't make the team, and scored Purdue's touchdown Saturday in the 6-0 victory that chopped off Michigan State's string of 28 straight victories.

He was one of a gang of reserves who had a great day filling in for injured Purdue regulars.

It may be back to the bench for Danny at Illinois Saturday if fullbacks Max Schmaling and Bill Murakowski are ready to go. They're bigger and faster than Pobojewski.

"Of course, I'd like to play all the time. That's why I shifted from Michigan State to Purdue. Anyway, I had a minute of glory on that touchdown. I felt so good I just lay there and bawled."

If Pobojewski hadn't been the man with the ball on that one-yard scoring plunge, he would have had to beat his bass drum to attract attention from other Purdue stars of the day.

Rex Brock, only regular in Purdue's starting backfield, intercepted a Billy Wells pass the first time Michigan State had the ball and picked up 82 yards rushing.

Fronchie Gutman, reserve quarterback, also intercepted a State pass and handled the ball neatly. Phil Ehrman, sub fullback, intercepted two of Tom Yewcic's passes.

Michigan State, baffled and frantic, made two fatal mistakes. It drew a clipping penalty that nullified a 94-yard kickoff return by Leroy Bolden. It let Purdue keep the ball, by roughing the kicker, when Purdue started to punt in the course of its one touchdown drive.

RO Wins, Cranes Lose

Royal Oak High School continued its bid for championship honors in the Border Cities League Saturday with a 19-7 victory over Dearborn Fordson. Acorns spotted the Tractors a 7-0 first period lead, then came back in the second half. In another Saturday game, Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh downed Cranbrook, 13-7.

Autographed Baseball Glove Not Lost Long

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The things that boys can forget! Found at the YMCA summer camp near here after the boys had gone home were: towels, two left foot rubbers, a right foot overshoe, pajamas, T-shirts, dungarees, undershirts, caps and a baseball mitt autographed by Ted Williams, the Red Sox slugging outfielder.

Its owner was among the first to reclaim his property.

Hogan Turns In 72, Calls It 'Miserable'

His two-stroke handicap made Hogan's net score 74, and Britons with 73 or better beat him. Hogan will sign certificates for the winners among the estimated 30,000 who competed against him. The number of winners won't be known for a week or more.

Paul Brown, One of Greatest Football Coaches, Has Hit Peak of Career in Professional Game

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—There is a football coach who is pretty well known around the countryside. He might be the best of all time.

He appeared in New York yesterday when his team battled Steve Owen's Giants. He is rated one of the best coaches football has known. Maybe he is better than that. Paul Brown was an exceptional coach at Massillon with high-school football.

* * *

He was one of the best with Ohio State in college football. If he had remained there he would have set a Big Ten record. But his top record has been set in professional football, where you meet the toughest foes.

* * *

Paul Brown's record in the pro league has been phenomenal. In a long span of years he has been up there, winning usually, but running a close second when he didn't win.

He has been in the center of the spotlight year after year. Many seasons ago, when pro football came along, he collected a team in a hurry. He netted Otto Graham, who has been the most successful of modern passers.

* * *

Brown then drew in Marion Motley, a big bruising back who is still around, and two star ends in Mac Speedie and Dante Lavelli. Brown has kept many of his stars on year after year.

I was with Greasy Neale one day when someone mentioned a Cleveland deal for players from another club.

"What do you think of it?" Neale was asked. "I don't know anything about it," the star ex-coach said, "but I'd like to bet that Brown didn't get the worst of the deal. I've never seen him get the worst of any deal yet."

The eminent Mr. Neale has deep respect for a few people. He has for Paul Brown.

Rams Remain in Tie With Lions; Browns All Alone

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell must have been psychic when he made out the National Football League schedule because weekly, without fail, the slate of games has included at least one with an important bearing on the standings.

And then yesterday there was not one but two involving leaders of the Western Conference. The Detroit Lions, 1952 league champions, edged the San Francisco 49ers out of a share of the top rung, 14-10. But the Los Angeles Rams kept pace with the Lions by downing the Chicago Bears 38-24.

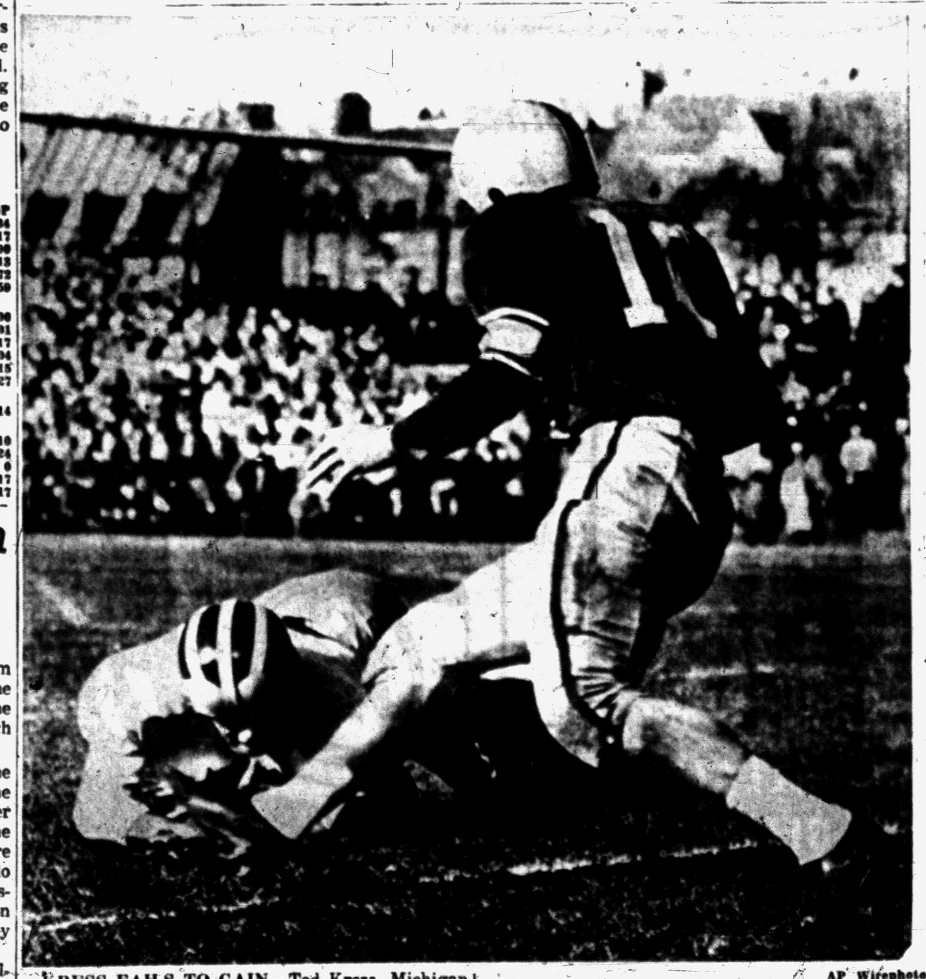

The victories of the Lions and the Rams made Bell's schedule look good again for the two teams meet Sunday in Los Angeles with each showing a record of four victories and one defeat.

* * *

The 49ers' setback dropped them into a third place tie with the Baltimore Colts, who trounced the Washington Redskins 27-17. Each has a 3-2 record.

In the Eastern Conference the unbeaten Browns remained alone at the top with five victories after their usual close game with the New York Giants. The final score on the rain-soaked New York Polo Ground gridiron was 7-0. Pittsburgh moved into second place on the strength of its 31-14 Saturday night triumph over Green Bay.

But it remained for the Philadelphia Eagles to put on the real offensive display of the weekend. They defeated the winless Chicago Cardinals 56-17.

KRESS FAILS TO GAIN—Ted Kress, Michigan halfback, is dropped for no gain on his 9-yard line by Mel Holme as Paul Giel (10) moves in to assist. The play occurred in the 1st period of the Gopher-Wolverine game at Minneapolis Saturday. Minnesota won, 22-0, to hand Michigan its 1st loss in five games this season.

Long Streaks Stopped; West Virginia's 11 Is Best

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1953 college football season, you might say, will start next Saturday for just about every top team in the country except Notre Dame.

* * *

Frank Leahy's legions today stood head and shoulders over the pack and if they don't crush Navy just as they've beaten down all their opposition so far the experts will be jumping off high buildings in droves.

* * *

At the moment, the longest winning streak among the major schools is a modest 11 compiled by West Virginia, which won six last year and has won five more this season.

For Georgia Tech, which fell before the Notre Dame powerhouse, and Michigan State, which dropped a 6-0 decision to Purdue, hitherto the patsy of the Big Ten, the dream world is gone. Now they're back in reality.

The Engineers had run up a string of 31 games without a defeat, although they were tied twice, before Johnny Lattner and company slugged them 27-14 last Saturday.

The Big Ten race is now scrambled like breakfast eggs. Michigan, which was supposed to give State a run for its money, also was the victim of a mighty upset. Minnesota, no great shakes, trounced the Wolverines 22-0.

* * *

Navy perhaps was spending its time on Franklin Field looking ahead to the Notre Dame game. At any rate, Penn, the Ivy League outfit with the suicidal schedule, beat the Middies, ranked No. 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll, 9-6, in another major upset.

West Virginia, after slugging Virginia Military Institute 52-20, seems to have clear sailing the rest of the way. Penn State is its next and probably strongest opponent.

Another strong outfit is Baylor, which took care of Texas A&M 14-13. The Bruins still are unbeaten and rule the choice to win the Southwest Conference title. But they still have four league foes to play—Texas Christian, Texas, Southern Methodist and Rice—so anything can happen.

* * *

On the Pacific Coast, UCLA, despite its upset at the hands of Stanford a week ago, could take the conference title. The Uclans, warmed up to the California game Saturday by slaughtering Washington State 47-7. Southern Cal took a lot of the wind out of California by beating the Golden Bears 32-20.

In the South, it is Maryland all the way. The Terps had a day off Saturday after overcoming Miami (Fla.) Friday. Their next opponent is South Carolina.

Annual Midget Football Night Held Saturday

McCarroll Back Scores Four Touchdowns, Leads Team to 25-14 Win

Bad weather limited the crowd to 1100 Saturday night at the annual Midget Football Night in Wisner Memorial Stadium. The hardy fans that turned out for the program witnessed six interesting contests involving players of the 5th-to-7th grade level from 21 city schools.

Individual standout of the the night was Danny Kimmel of McCarroll. The speedy little back scored touchdowns on runs of 40, 10, 15 and 15 yards as his team beat Webster, 25-14.

Longest runs of the night were registered in the Lincoln and Eastern-Wever junior high game, won by Lincoln, 7-6. Tom Hyatt returned the opening kickoff 75 yards for Eastern-Wever's only score. Jerry Orr raced 60 yards for the tying tally in the last half, and Mike Iverson converted the winning extra point.

Results of other games: Crofoot 33, Bagley 0; Longfellow-Malkim 34, Wisner 0; Emerson-Hawthorne-Owen-Roosevelt-Whittier - Willis 19, McConnell - Whitfield - Wilson 14; Jefferson 7, Washington 0.

Dressen Flies West to New Coast Job

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles (Chuck) Dressen, the ex-manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, arrived by plane last night en route to his new job of managing the Oakland Oaks in the Pacific Coast League.

He had no comment on his sudden departure from service with the Dodgers.

Asked his opinion on the possibility of major league's baseball moving to the Pacific Coast he said; "It's the general opinion throughout the East that Los Angeles will have major ball within three years."

THAT ONE GOT AWAY—Jimmy Mathis of the Jeffersons was "surrounded" by Washington players in Saturday night's Midget grid feature, and lost the ball. With outstretched hands (at right) is teammate James Gardner who recovered the loose oval. Jefferson won 7-0.

Six golfers have won the U. S. Open in their first try.

Giardello, Cartier Meet in Tonight's Bout on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey (Reversible) Giardello, who won, lost and won in the same fight with Billy Graham a year ago, is a 2-1 favorite over New York's Walter Cartier tonight in a middleweight bout at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway.

The Philadelphia boxer never has lost at the Parkway, where Carter was stopped by Bobo Olson and split two decisions with Garth Panter. Giardello is the No. 5 contender in the division, now topped by Olson. The bout will be seen on Du Mont TV in some parts of the country.

* * *

George Araujo, a newly wed, will try to reverse a Sept. 10 upset by Teddy (Red Top) Davis when they meet Friday at Madison Square Garden. Araujo was favored to win the light weight title the night he fought Jimmy Carter, but was stopped in the 13th round. Now he is No. 5 in the ring ratings.

Davis, now 28, has been a hot scrapper this year, winning five of six starts. Although he whipped Tommy Collins, Charley Riley, Fabela Chavez, Cecil Schoonmaker and Araujo in '53 his career record is barely over .500 with 50-48-2 for 100 pro starts. That's the usual Friday radio (ABC) and TV (NBC) Garden show.

Cleveland presents an international middleweight match, the third in the country within a week, when Rocky Castellani boxes France's Mickey Laurent Wednesday on TV (CBS). Castellani, third contender, has been moving up fast since he adopted Cleveland as his home.

Red Wings Split Games Against Canadian Foes

Lose at Montreal, but Beat Toronto Sunday on Home Ice

DETROIT (AP) — Champs at home and chumps on the road. That about sums up the Detroit Red Wings today after nine games of the National Hockey League season.

The Wings have played five games at home — and have won them all.

They have played four games away from home — and haven't won any of them. Their road showing is two losses and two ties.

Detroit stuck to the script over the week end. Wings lost 1-0 at Montreal Saturday night but last night bounced back and blanked Toronto, 2-0, in friendly Olympia Stadium.

But that loss in Montreal was a costly one. It broke a 1st place tie between the two teams and gave the Canadiens a two point lead. Frenchmen held fast to it Sunday night by nipping the Rangers, 2-1. As the result, Montreal has 14 points to Detroit's 12.

After failing to score at all Saturday night, Wings struck for two 1st period goals against Toronto last night. Gordie Howe and Vic Stasiuk tipped in a pair of screen shots and then the Detroiters went into a shell and protected this margin for goalie Terry Sawchuck's 2nd shutout of the season.

Sawchuck had an easy time of it, making 23 saves. Only a few were hard to handle.

Howe and Stasiuk scored in similar fashion. After 9.16 of play, Howe deflected in defenseman Bob Goldham's 50-foot screen shot form the blue line. Then, at 14:36, with the Leafs a man short, Stasiuk repeated Howe's performance by tipping in Dutch Reibel's 50-foot screen shot. Ted Lindsay picked up assists on each play.

BAGS FINE 'REDCOAT'—Jim Naylor, young hunter, afield last week end with his dad and boss, bagged a beautiful "redcoat." The red fox, which Jim is holding in the picture was shot near Brown and Giddings roads, north of Pontiac. It was in prime condition, with unusually fine color, and was of large size, approximately 15 pounds. Naylor lives at 1190 Taylor road.

St. Frederick	0	4	0	18	70

Suburban Catholic League standings remained scrambled Sunday, with once-beaten St. Michael and St. Benedict battling to a 13-13 deadlock to further complicate the situation.

* * *

With a total of only six games on the league schedule, any one of the top three teams still can grab the championship. St. Rita moved into the undisputed lead Sunday with a 12-6 triumph over Royal Oak St. Mary, while Orchard Lake St. Mary edge St. Frederick, 6-0.

Shamrocks, who looked like world-beaters in beating St. Rita last week, just couldn't get their offense rolling against the Bens. After trailing 6-0 at halftime, Mikes tied the score on a 72-yard scoring run by quarterback Russ Shindorf in the 3rd period.

* * *

Ravens regained their lead in the finale, with Melvin Robinson plunging 10 yards and Jim Fitzpatrick converting. Then, with 30 seconds remaining, Shindorf sneaked over from the three to climax a 60-yard march. Dropps' conversion tied the score. Mikes recovered an onside kick and drove to the 30 before time ran out.

* * *

A 21-yard pass, from quarterback Ed Pilarski to halfback Al Kowaleski in the 2nd quarter accounted for the game's only touchdown as St. Mary (OL) defeated St. Frederick. Flanker Tom Kalasz ripped a 63-yard run on an end-around play to set up the score.

6 Straight for Hurons

Northern, MSC, Wolverines Bow, but State Has Unbeaten Team in Normal Il

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What is more, it is among only 15 in the nation which have perfect records through six 1953 games. And it has rolled up 153 points to a mere 55 for the opposition.

It is Michigan Normal of Ypsilanti, which chalked up its third straight interstate conference (IIAC) win with a 37-0 pasting of Southern Illinois over the week-end.

Normal now shares the IIAC lead with Central Michigan, whose 13-6 victory over Western Illinois gave it a perfect, 3-0 league mark.

Central has bowed only to Great Lakes.

Northern Michigan tumbled from the ranks of the unbeaten, along with Michigan State and Michigan. Once-tied Northern bowed 7-2 to Ferris Institute.

Detroit muddled the Missouri Valley Conference standings by defeating Oklahoma A. & M., 18-14. Western Michigan started with a rush but faded and lost 18-7 to Washington University of St. Louis.

Brandeis University upset Wayne, 6-0.

STICK 'EM UP!!!—"Oops!—That's no victim, fellows, here comes a hunter," or some such nonsense as that seems to be running through Mr. Raccoon's noggin as he regards the 1953 hunting season, recently opened. This masked woodland bandit and his outlaw pals have been legal game for hunters across the north part of Michigan since October 1, and will be open to hunting after October 20 in the southern Lower Peninsula. But don't let that coy expression fool you: Those busy beady, watching eyes have lots of woods wisdom packed behind them and it takes some plain and fancy hunting to corner this critter.

Coons Don't Always Wash Their Food, Observer Says

LANSING — That old saw about raccoons washing all their food before they eat it just ain't so, according to a man who has watched them for a number of years.

F. W. Stuewer of the conservation department's game division has done considerable work on raccoons and notes that they will, for the most part, eat corn or acorns without bothering to wash the food.

If near a stream, Mr. Coon likes to paddle his feet in the water and will wash fish or frogs if he can catch such a shore dinner.

The animals apparently don't hibernate, either. Unlike some animals that crawl into burrows to snooze out the winter, raccoons just climb into their dens and watch the winter pageant roll past. Mostly, they remain awake, but seldom venture out, depending on body fats to carry them through to springtime.

Coon hunting seems to be growing more popular in Michigan. In recent years, coon numbers have been high and last year, hunters took the highest kill ever recorded —about 110,000. Again this year coon numbers are high and game men hope hunters make good use of surplus populations.

Stroh's Keglers Win Elimination

Hit 12,190 for Dozen Games; Therm Gibson Individual Star

CLEVELAND (AP)—Stroh's Bohemian Beer of Detroit won the ninth annual elimination tournament of the Bowling Proprietors Association of American last night with a 12-game score of 12,190.

Second in the field of 36 teams competing in the two-day event was another Detroit quintet — Pfeiffer's Beer, which posted a 3,187 score for tonight's three-game block to total 12,085.

Pfeiffer's 3,187 total in the afternoon three-game block today was the high for the tounament, and Therman Gibson of Pfeiffer's had the individual three game high of the meet—a 736.

In addition to winning $1,500 first and $1,000 second prize money, top two teams will bowl for the national championship in Detroit on the weekends of Nov. 28 and Dec. 5.

Gene Sarazen has played in 26 PGA tourneys, more than any other golfer.

Purdue Takes Shot at Illini

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue, the toast of that sentimental portion of the football world that rides with the little fellow, gets another crack Saturday at one of the big guys.

In this case, the guy is the Big Ten's biggest—Illinois, the undefeated outfit that rides alone atop conference standings.

Purdue, which had lost four straight, pulled what was undoubtedly the season's greatest upset in topping Michigan State. It was the Spartans' first defeat in 29 games, 6-0.

When Minnesota, another vast underdog, humbled undefeated Michigan, 22-0, it left the Illini, 20-13 victors over Syracuse in a nonconference game, the conference's only unbeaten team.

Illini have won four games — two of them in the Big Ten—but were tied in their opener by Nebraska.

Other games next Saturday have Missouri at Indiana, Iowa at Wisconsin, Penn at Michigan, Oregon State at Michigan State, Pitt at Minnesota and Northwestern at Ohio State.

Ohio State beat Wisconsin 20-19 last Saturday, Iowa took Indiana 19-13 and Northwestern outlasted Pitt 27-21.

Purdue's victory was no fluke. Boilermakers outplayed the Spartans, favored by three or four touchdowns, by what observers thought was just their margin of victory, six points.

Almost as resounding was Minnesota's victory over Michigan. The Gophers turned Paul Giel loose and the All-America back scored two touchdowns and passed for another.

46 Unbeaten Clubs Left in Grid Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-six college football teams remained undefeated and untied today, following an eventful weekend which saw powerful Michigan State and Michigan among others, taste defeat for the first time this season.

Peru (Neb.) State Teachers heads the list with seven victories. Maryland is the leader among the major schools with six wins. Baylor has five triumphs and Notre Dame four.

Michigan State's 6-0 loss to Purdue was its first after 28 wins in a row.

Hospital Discharges Middie Quarterback

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Navy quarterback John Weaver, 20, who was knocked unconscious in the game with Penn on Saturday, has been discharged from the Naval hospital here. He was described as in good condition. Weaver was carried off the field on a stretcher after being tackled by two Penn players while attempting an end run.

Lions' Air Game Beats 49er "Shock Troops"

Detroit Lions had this weapon Sunday and the San Francisco 49-ers didn't. The result: an amazing 14-10 victory for the Lions which kept them in a tie with Los Angeles for first place in the Western Division of the National Football League.

Both Detroit and Los Angeles have 4-1 records. So first place will be the prize Sunday when these pro powers collide in Los Angeles.

But back to yesterday's game which saw the 49ers, behind a vicious rushing attack, push the Lions all over Kezar Stadium. They piled up 227 yards on the ground and 25 first downs to only 13 for the Lions.

But with Y. A. Tittle playing only a few minutes because of a fractured cheekbone, San Francisco didn't have a passing game to balance its attack and the 49ers went crashing to their second defeat of the season to Detroit.

In the first three periods, San Francisco displayed a slashing ground game. Joe Perry, Hugh McElhenny and Joe Arenas tore sharp holes in the Lions' defenses, grinding out first down after first down. But this constant line slamming produced yardage at only five or 10 yards a clip and accounted for only 10 points.

Lions, badly outplayed, showed the value of the forward pass. Bobby Layne tossed touchdown passes of 47 and 23 yards and these aerial strikes offset all the 49ers hard work along the ground.

49ers took the opening kickoff and, with Perry slamming up the middle, drove 80 yards in 14 plays to go ahead 7-0. San Francisco continued to dominate the play and late in the second quarter Gordie Soltau kicked a 32-yard field goal, pushing the score to 10-0.

Then the Lions uncorked two quick passes and pulled back into the game. Layne passed 10 yards to Doak Walker and followed with a 47-yard touchdown pitch to end Dorne Dibble.

In the third period, 49ers continued to pound out short consistent gains but two drives fizzled out deep in Detroit territory.

Then the Lions came up with another touchdown pass to take the lead for good. This time Layne fired a 24-yarder to fullback Ollie Cline.

Taking the Lions cue, 49ers tried to tie it up through the air but the injured Tittle, far off his form, had two of his passes intercepted in the final minutes.

So, even though the Lions were outplayed, they won the game because they had the forward pass on their side.

Canucks Keep NHL Lead by Nipping Rangers, 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flying Frenchmen won their 7th game in nine starts last night, eking out a 2-1 win over the revamped New York Rangers. The triumph, their 3rd straight, enabled the powerful pace-setters to maintain their two point edge over the Red Wings, who blanked Toronto 2-0. Boston Bruins edged the still winless Chicago Blackhawks 4-3 in the other NHL tilt.

CASE—Shift For Spares.

Angle To Left for No. 10 — Whether to roll a hook, straight ball or backup (reverse) at the No. 10 pin, over there in the extreme right corner of the alley, has always been a controversial point among experts. Actually, it's each to his own choice.

Rain Halts Race

HATFIRELD, Pa. (AP) — Rain forced the postponement until next Sunday of the 12½ mile AA Eastern Big Car Racing championship after one qualifying heat was run yesterday. The program will be held next Sunday.

Second Period Spree Helps Lakers Win

ST. PAUL (AP)—A 29-point second period sped the Minneapolis Lakers to a 77-58 basketball victory over the College All Stars last night.

Walter Dukes, seven-footer from Seton Hall, made 9 for the All Stars. All seven of his free throw attempts were good.

Bob Considine Says:

Greenlease Killing Story Rouses Public Response

NEW YORK (INS) — Not in a long time has there been as much response to these little pieces as there was to a column about two monsters named Hall and Heady and the wish I expressed to apply a club to them.

I believe more people were aroused over this heartless kidnaping and savage murder than were openly aroused over the Korean War and the atrocities behind the Iron Curtain.

Not in my time, at least, have I heard more expressed desires on the part of people to shove aside the processes of law and take what was left of the law in their own hands.

Now, apparently, we must sit through a trial in which counsel will contend (via psychiatrists) that these confessed human butchers deserve to live out the rest of their lives on the taxpayers because something thwarted them in their youth, or they "blacked out."

Mrs. Dorothy Bartlett of Harrisburg, Pa., sums up the feeling of a number of readers in a letter which reads, in part:

"Psychiatry should confine itself to where it belongs — in the medical field, not the courts of justice. Frankly, since it is so willing to lend itself as a toy to defense lawyers, and is so compassionate towards all who murder, it is creating a stench in the nostrils of its former respecters . . .

"When we cease to act like human beings, we no longer deserve the consideration due human beings."

The trial of the murderers of Bobby Greenlease, and those of fantastically cruel or deranged persons who tried to collect ransom on the dead child — or did indeed wind up with some of the ransom money — will take a lot of time and more money.

Harry Storms, the erudite New York publican who collects odd news items for the library of his "press box" restaurant, suggests in a letter that it was considerably more economic to rid society of people like Hall and Heady in the early days of the republic.

He sends me a transcript of the published itemized bill for the execution of two traitors on May 13, 1777. It reads:

Due Jacob Hoorbeck for hanging Jacobus Rosa and Medeagh:

Disguising Hangman	4 pounds
2 Coffins	3.0.0.
Burying Criminals	1.0.0.
Erecting Gallows	1.0.0.
Disguising Helper	.16 Sh.
Attending Execution	2.0.6.

Miss Anne O'Neill, a teacher at the Sierra Vista School of Madera, Cal., commenting on my suggestion that schools hereafter refuse to give up a child to a stranger, sends along a directive from Lawrence Geffen, principal of the Sierra Vista School. It might well serve as a model:

"To all Teachers:

"The recent mid-western kidnaping has set off at least eight other cases of the same crime, all of which occurred where the children were released from their schools to strangers who claimed kinship.

"In this state, such an action would leave the school district, the teacher and the principal liable, financially and morally.

"Please do not release any children, even to their own parents, without a note from the office granting that permission.

"If a person comes after a child, he must secure permission before the child will be released to him. This even applies to the juvenile authorities.

"Honestly, this is not only for our protection. In fact, it is more in the line of our duty to these children not to treat lightly of their presence."

Barber Gets Clipped by a Sharp Operator

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP) — A stranger approached a boy on Pleasant street and asked him if he wanted a free haircut.

The boy was willing and accompanied the man to a nearby barbershop.

The man had his hair cut first, then told the barber to trim the boy's hair and he'd be back.

An hour later the barber asked the boy, "What's taking your father so long?"

"He wasn't my father," the boy replied.

Motors, Steels Lead Activity

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors and steels were active and higher today in the Stock Market and provided the major portion of buoyancy in the list.

Grains ran to between 1 and 2 points at the best, although advances of that size were not frequent. Losses were fractional.

Briggs in a delayed opening started on a block of 6,500 shares up 6⅜ at 37½ and then dropped back to a trading range of 34-35. Chrysler gained more than a point and held to that level.

Business Notes:

1953 GM Hiring Rises by 110,680

General Motors Corp. employed a total of 557,261 persons around the world during the first nine months of 1953—a rise of 110,680 over the 1952 figure—President Harlow H. Curtice announced today.

Worldwide payrolls were correspondingly increased $569,000,000, Curtice said in a statement preliminary to GM's third-quarter financial report.

Production at Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and GMC Truck and Coach Divisions was greatly curtailed by the fire that destroyed the GM transmissions plant at Livonia Aug. 12.

Partial production of hydramatic transmissions was resumed at the Detroit Transmission Division's Riopelle plant in Detroit last Monday, and the plant was expected to be producing at the rate of 1,200 units per day in November.

ROK Prisoner Says Reds Hit Neutral Zone

SEOUL (AP)—The second South Korea solider to renounce communism said today he was tortured by Red-influenced ROK prisoners because he had torn down anti-American posters in a POW compound.

Cpl. Jo Kyu Mun, 21, told his story after he was turned over to the Allies at Panmunjom today by the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Jo said in an interview at the 36th ROK army hospital that the Communists were sneaking propaganda newspapers into neutral zone prisoner compounds where 333 ROK prisoners are held for "explanations."

Jo said his hands were tied behind his back and a rope was tied around the bonds and thrown over the limb of a tree. Then, Jo said, he was hoisted and left hanging for 30 minutes.

Trieste Has Little Value in Peacetime, Strategic War Location Is What Counts

Whey then is possession of this piece of land, roughly one-fourth the size of Rhode Island, such a key problem

The answer lies partly in history and national tempers and partly in Trieste's strategic value in the cold war.

The crisis came to a head when the United States and Great Britain said they would let the Italians take over part of Trieste. Yugoslavia's Premier Tito threatened to send in troops the minute Italian soldiers replaced the British and American units.

the Gulfs of Panzano and Trieste, is bounded on the north by Italy, on the east and south by Yugoslavia and on the west by the Gulfs of Panzano and Triete, arms of the Adriatic Sea. It has 350,000 persons, mostly city dwellers. Of this number about three-fourths are Italians.

This Austrian overlordship developed into possession and except in the Napoleonic period Trieste was considered an integral part of the Austrian dominions until 1918. Throughout this time, however, there was always the Italian feeling that Trieste should be restored to Italy.

After Austria's defeat in World War I, Trieste was handed to Italy. In World War II, Italy was defeated and Trieste again became a pawn.

A compromise was finally worked out in the Italian peace treaty of 1947. Trieste was divided into Zones A (which included the port city) and B. The British and Americans would occupy Zone A and Yugoslav troops would occupy Zone B.

The compromise was expected to be temporary. The United Nations was to chose a neutral governor for Trieste and the area would become a free territory under the U. N. But a governor could never be agreed upon by Russia and the Western nations and the temporary arrangement continued.

In 1948, Britain, France and the United States declared all Trieste should be given to Italy. This was designed to help defeat Communists in an Italian election then coming up.

After Tito broke with Stalin, his feelings in the matter were viewed in a different light. The West suggested Yugoslavia and Italy work out an agreement on Trieste.

To help strengthen Italy's position, Britain and the United States let Italy have a hand in running Zone A. A large part of administrative duties was given Italian officers.

The troops of the two allies, about 7,000, were inconspicuous as possible—the actual patroling of the zone boundary being left in the hands of a highly trained mobile police unit of Italians, organized like light infantry. Yugoslav troops, on the other hand, were kept in prominent display in Zone B.

But still no progress was made on an agreement between Italy and Yugoslavia. On Oct. 8, the United States and Britian said they would let Italy take over and Tito made his threat in return.

Trieste's importance is not economic. The markets served by the port were largely cut off by reduction of trade with the Iron Curtain countries.

But Trieste does have strategic importance as a possible supply port for any forces opposing a Russian offensive. Also useful as supply routes in case of war are the three railroad lines which connect Trieste with Yugoslavia.

But one thing stands out clearly as the international dispute rages on: The Balkans are still very much the traditional powder keg.

Dr. McCormick Hits VA Medical Policy

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Dr. Edward J. McCormick, president of the American Medical Assn., esterday called the Veterans Administration's policy of admitting all patients who sign a pauper's oath a "threat to private enterprise."

VA care now is supposedly limited to those who cannot afford to pay, but the VA has no authority to question a patient's application or admission.

Dr. McCormick, scheduled to speak tonight at the Oklahoma Clinical Society's conference, said he foresees an expensive system of "free" government medicine unless VA regulations are modified.

Puerto Rican Given Posthumous Award

UTUADO, Puerto Rico (AP) — A weeping Puerto Rican mother, Mrs. Petra Ledesma Garcia, received yesterday the United States' highest award, the Medal of Honor, for her son, Marine Pvt. Fernando Luis Garcia. The 22-year-old soldier was killed in Korea last year when he threw his body on a Chinese grenade to save another soldier's life.

Maj. Gen. Albert D. Cooley, commander of the 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, flew here as a special representative of President Eisenhower to make the award at City Hall. It was the first time the Medal of Honor had gone to a Puerto Rican serviceman.

The U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs has 13,000 employes.
