Problem: Find Cutoff Valve

AP Photofax

IN KNEE-DEEP WATER — Detroit firemen wade in knee-deep water as they search for a cutoff valve in the basement of Cobo Hall Sunday after a large water main burst and flooded the area. The water shorted out electrical equipment and stopped elevators. The Episcopal Convention in progress at the time was not disrupted, however.

1.2 Inches of Rain in 16 Minutes

Furious Storm Whips Detroit Suburbs

By the Associated Press

Furious winds and heavy rains flailed Southeastern Michigan Sunday, causing severe damage in Southern Wayne County and Northern Monroe County.

Trees, power lines and antennas were snapped off by the hundreds.

Streets and basements were flooded, and automobiles were tossed about like toys. Many plate glass store windows shattered.

A 7-year-old girl narrowly escaped drowning under a flooded viaduct.

* * *

The Detroit area got 1.2 inches of rain in 16 minutes.

AT THE AIRPORT

At Detroit Metropolitan Airport, witnesses said a tremendous wind gust carried two parked cars about 100 yards shortly before 5 p. m.

Winds at the airport were clocked at 66 m. p. h.

A 24-by-24-foot section of roof was ripped from a service station northwest of the airport terminal building and slammed into 16 cars parked about 40 feet away.

Empty 55-gallon steel drums stacked near the service station were blown as far as a mile out on the airport runways.

AT SOUTHGATE SUBURB

In the Detroit suburb of Southgate, a resident, Robert Schlacht (11124 Oaklawn), told of seeing the wind pick up a small, foreign-made bus and drop it 80 feet away in a field.

Police said several persons reported seeing tornado funnels, but the U. S. Weather Bureau at Detroit said it was unlikely that there had been any tornadoes.

At Maybee, eight miles northwest of Monroe, winds ripped off the 232-by-100-foot roof of a building at the Banas and Wrobel Co. lumber yard. Owner Walter J. Banas estimated damages at $100,000.

* * *

Hurtling two-by-fours pierced the sides of buildings at the lumber yard so that, sheriffs officers said, some walls "looked like porcupines with the quills sticking out."

AT RIVERVIEW

The weather bureau said Detroit's suburbs were hardest hit with hundreds of basements flooded in Taylor Township, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Southgate and Wyandotte.

Riverview police, who called it the worst rainstorm in 10 years, said residents reported more than 500 trees and wires down.

A highway in Southgate, U.S. 25, was blocked for some three hours by fallen wires.

A 7-year-old Wyandotte girl, Nancy Dailing, was rescued by a passerby when she rode her bicycle under a flooded viaduct and fell into an open manhole filled with water.

* * *

Mrs. Helen Walters, owner of a golf driving range in Southgate, said the strong winds ripped off several canopies and knocked down 35 trees on a lot at the range.

Detroit police said they had received only a few damage reports.

News Flashes

Firemen Plan Biggest Parade

To Gather From County for Annual Field Day, March in Pontiac

Firemen from all over Oakland County will meet in Pontiac Saturday to put on their biggest annual fireman's parade and field day. Last year, rain forced last-minute cancellation and left 3,500 staunch spectators standing under umbrellas — in vain.

This year, there'll be a parade, rain or shine.

The one-hour parade starts at 1 p.m. at Oakland and Saginaw streets, goes south on Saginaw and ends in the vicinity of Auburn.

It will kick off a week of educational efforts by Oakland County fire departments preceding Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14.

Field-day demonstrations and competitions will follow at 3 p.m. on the General Motors Athletic Field, Opdyke Road and South Boulevard. Admission to all activities is free.

At stake in water-battle competition is the Shaw Jewelers trophy presently held by the Walled Lake fire department. Following summer-long run-offs, Union Lake fire department has emerged as the challenger.

Also, the Harvey Johns trophy will be given to the team ranking tops in all events, including ladder and hose competition.

Star billing is given to a demonstration rescue of a man atop a utility pole.

Unemployment Off, Says Sec. Hodges

CHICAGO (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges said today the nation has "now made up the recession losses in employment" and predicted jobless rolls will be whittled to "5½ or 6 per cent" of the working force by the end of the year.

He forecast a "fairly long stretch" of prosperity for the U.S. "provided we work hard enough" at better selling and "product innovation."

Hodges pointed out that the gross national product reached an annual rate of $526 billion during the third quarter of the current year. He forecast a $540 billion rate during the final three months.

Ford Officials Present a New Economic Offer

New Proposal Similar to One UAW Approved From General Motors

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. made the United Auto Workers Union a new economic offer today roughly paralleling a proposal accepted by the union from General Motors Corp.

* * *

The company said the offer was contingent on the "peaceful conclusion of new agreements within the next two weeks and ratification within a mutually agreed upon time thereafter."

WOULD STAY IN EFFECT

Current agreements, which originally expired at midnight Aug. 31, would remain in effect.

* * *

Today's proposal calls for a continuation of the annual improvement factor and a cost-of-living allowance, for full cost of hospital - medical - insurance, improved pensions, and the new short work-week proposal which was included in the GM agreement.

The offer came as UAW President Walter A. Reuther and top union aides moved to the Ford negotiating scene following conclusion of talks at General Motors.

Reuther entered the Ford talks today bolstered with strike authorization against the No. 2 automaker.

* * *

The UAW International Executive Board Sunday night ordered GM workers back on the job and granted the union's Ford department permission to strike if necessary.

Ford's proposal was made by Malcolm L. Denise, vice president-labor relations of Ford.

Denise, in presenting the revised economic offer, said he believes his company and the union can reach agreement within the next two weeks without strikes either national or local.

* * *

Under the short work-week plan, employes would receive at least 65 per cent of their straight-time rate for each hour less than 40 in a week in which they were scheduled to work less than 40 hours.

Maximum weekly benefits under the supplemental unemployment benefit program would be increased from $30 to $40 and maximum duration would be extended from 39 weeks, to 52 weeks.

The company would grant up to $580 to employes transferred from one company plant to another.

* * *

Ford has 85 union bargaining units. Of these 12 made no separate demands. Nineteen others have been settled and 54 remain to be negotiated.

Three Die, 12 Injured

Crowd Gasps as Plane Crashes

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—An Air Force cargo plane carrying six daredevil Army parachutists lumbered clear of the runway Sunday, faltered, slewed off to one side and fell to a fiery crash before a shocked air show crowd of some 100,000 persons.

* * *

Three servicemen died. 12 others aboard were injured—six seriously.

Onlookers gasped as firemen and rescuers rushed to the broken C123 to drag out the injured from the gaping holes in the fuselage.

Three of four helicopters whirred out to the Hanover County airport. One hovered over the burning wreckage, the wash from its rotors beating back flames from two men in the cockpit.

The wife of a Civil Air Patrol officer, watching the CAP "Friendship Day" show on television from her mother's hospital room in Wilmington, dashed down to alert the emergency room and then began contacting blood donors.

By helicopter and ambulance, rescuers brought in the casualties. The dead were Sgt. Robert T. Turner, an Army photographer from Ft. Bragg, N.C., home base of the sky divers; and two Air Force men, Capt. John E. Markel and T. Sgt. John Lesso, both of Nellis (Nev.) Air Force Base.

Honor Surgeon in Birmingham

By RALPH HUMMEL and JIM LONG

Birmingham surgeon Dr. George P. Raynale was named today Michigan's foremost family physician of 1961.

The 81-year-old physician received the title at the 96th annual convention of the Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates session under way at Grand Rapids.

DR. G. P. RAYNALE

Dr. Raynale, the third generation of his family to have a medical practice in the Birmingham area continues with daily office hours at 301 Wabeek Building.

Dr. Raynale, who lives at 423 Tooting Lane with his wife Edna, was president of the Oakland County Medical Society in 1922.

AT ST. JOSEPH'S

When St. Joseph Mercy Hospital opened in 1927 he delivered the first baby. From 1930 to 1932 he was chief surgeon at the Catholic hospital.

In 1934 he became a fellow the American College of Surgeons.

His private life has been as busy as his professional career.

For a good many years he excelled in horsemanship but gave it up to pursue boating, an interest he has followed for more than 25 years.

An expert yachtsman, Dr. Raynale spends his summer months sailing his 40-foot craft on Georgian Bay.

The family medical practice goes back to 1828 when Dr. Raynale's grandfather Ebenezer settled in the area and set up a practice that was carried on in later years by his father, Dr. George M. Raynale.

Today's honored physician, estimated by fellow doctors to have performed 5,000 operations in his career, graduated from the Detroit College of Medicine in 1902 and began his Birmingham practice when the area was no more than an agricultural center.

His internship was taken at the Detroit Memorial Hospital, formerly St. Mary's Hospital. He often traveled by horse and buggy to serve his patients.

Dr. Robert R. Wessels, his office partner for 15 years, said:

Open-Election Campaign

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A campaign for elections to restore civil government in Turkey officially opened Sunday.

Kennedy Invites Russia to Join in Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Kennedy affirmed before the U.N. General Assembly today that the United States has both the will and the weapons to resist Communist aggression wherever it may occur.

He also challenged the Communist world to join in a broad disarmament program under effective control that he said would mean the end of the arms race in favor of "a peace race."

Applause dotted the entire 38-minute speech of the President—his first before the United Nations.

But none came from the Soviet delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Its members sat impassively in the first row of seats, joining only politely in the applause that greeted Kennedy's entrance.

The U.S. President was alternately tough and conciliatory as he told the Soviet Union that the United States believes a peaceful agreement can be reached over the world's No. 1 crisis — that of divided Berlin. But he added that threats of force must be rejected because "yield to threats can only lead to war."

Asked by reporters after the speech for comment, Gromyko said he wanted time to study it. He will address the assembly Tuesday.

C. S. Jha, the Indian ambassador, said: "A very fine speech." Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, past assembly president, said the speech was "forceful in the right places, and not provocative in any manner."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— After President Kennedy's speech today, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko shook hands with him and declared: "You were in good form." The two met as the Russian passed through a reception line. Gromyko appeared in high spirits.

The President's address covered the broad spectrum of crisis confronting a frightened world. He proposed a six-point disarmament plan and called for the creation of a U.N. peace force.

Kennedy urged the small nations of the world to rally behind the United Nations and defeat Soviet efforts to impose a "troika" system of three-man control over its police power.

The troika, he said, would "re-

Walter Ulbricht Visits Moscow

Berlin Wall Built After East German Chief's Last Call in August

MOSCOW (UPI) — East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht arrived unannounced in Moscow today presumably for consultations on the latest developments in the Berlin crisis.

* * *

Ulbricht last visited Moscow in early August. On August 13, shortly after his return to East Germany, the Communists sealed the East-West Berlin border and set off the current crisis there.

It was understood today that the East bloc Communist countries are going ahead with plans to call a peace conference of all nations who fought Germany in World War II.

Informed Moscow sources said the final decision will depend on whether the Rusk-Gromyko talks produce agreement on an East-West summit meeting.

Plane Skids off Runway, Falls in Harbor; 71 Safe

BOSTON (AP) — A four-engine Astrojet 707 carrying 71 persons skidded off a runway Sunday and dropped into shallow water in the harbor.

No one aboard the American Airlines plane was killed. Small boats rescued those aboard within six minutes, an airline official said. Two passengers and a stewardess were treated at hospitals for minor injuries and released.

Airline officials said seat belts helped avert more serious injuries.

* * *

One man died of a heart attack rescuing passengers in a small boat.

The big plane slid into the water a few feet from the spot where an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed into the harbor on take off almost a year ago with a loss of 62 lives.

The 707 American Airlines Flight 11 from San Francisco and Chicago was making an instrument landing in the murk and overshot the 10,000-foot runway, an air line spokesman said.

* * *

The Astrojet's pilot, Capt. Ted Johnson of San Francisco, said: "I was making a normal approach. There was some fog. I landed on the runway a little farther up than I would have liked to and we skidded off the end."

"I realized we were going to crash when the plane overshot the runway," said Norman Bagley, 47, a Saco, Maine, supermarket operator. "I thought the wheels touched and then went up again. I knew we were going to pile up somewhere and I prayed for it to be in water."

Stewardess Connie Forbes said some of the passengers were shaken up but there was no panic. The $5-million plane, its No. 1 and 2 engines torn off and its nose damaged, stopped in five or six feet of water. Four stewardesses led the passengers out on the wings.

Taken to the hospitals were Charles Ivsac, 38, Kenosha, Wis.; Lillian Rocheleau, 51, Westboro, Mass., and a stewardess, Sheila Homan of Lowell, Mass., and Burlingame, Calif.

Belgians by Carloads Flee Katanga

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—More than 350 refugees from neighboring Katanga Province have fled into the safety of Northern Rhodesia since Sunday morning as the threat of more bloodshed mounted in the break-away Congolese province.

Northern Rhodesia police said nearly 100 carloads of Belgian men, women and children crossed at frontier points.

In Leopoldville Gen. Victor Lundula, commander of leftist military forces in Stanleyville, put pressure on the Congo central government today to invade Katanga.

Fears grew in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province, that fighting is about to break out again.

Europeans began fleeing the city. A report from Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, said nearly 400 whites, mostly Belgians, had reached there from Katanga.

PLAN INVASION

The campaign for an invasion of Katanga was being whipped up by supporters of the late Patrice Lumumba, who launched such an attack before he was overthrown as premier last September.

* * *

The Lumumbists have regained key positions in the central government with the reconciliation of Antoine Gizenga's rebel Stanleyville regime and the central government headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

* * *

Lundula has accepted Adoula's leadership but has kept command of strong leftist forces in Stanleyville. He sent a deputation of his officers here Sunday to step up the pressure of the premier for an invasion.

In Elisabethville reports in- In Elisabethville reports indicate the United Nations is beginning to gain influence with the Katanga army but the problem of thousands of Baluba refugees is growing more acute.

Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien, civilian U.N. chief in Elisabethville, Sunday produced four native Katangese army officers who had deserted Katanga President Moise to serve the central Congo government.

* * *

The four were among 18 sent by Tshombe to Belgium earlier this year for training. Three refused to give their names for fear of reprisals against their families.

The fourth identified himself as Capt. Gilberto Kabulo. He said he and his colleagues had become disguested with injustices perpetrated by the Tshombe regime and with the way white mercenaries continued fighting the United Nations after the cease-fire was proclaimed last week.

Church Council Under Attack

Episcopal Convention to Consider Resolutions on Fate of U.S. Body

DETROIT (AP)—A clash over the conduct of the National Council of Churches moved toward a showdown today at the Episcopal general convention.

Up for consideration in the House of Deputies, the lay-clerical chamber of the bicameral church congress, were several resolutions aimed at curbing the council, or severing ties with it.

* * *

The council, an interdenominational cooperative body made up of representatives of 33 denominations with nearly 40-million members, includes most of the nation's major Protestant, Orthodox and non-Roman Catholic bodies.

It has been under running fire from various individuals and groups in the country, some of whom accuse it of being too easy on communism, although the council has repeatedly denounced communism.

DISTRIBUTED PACKET

One of the regular accusers, The Rev. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N. J., "Bible Presbyterian," showed up here, distributing an "Episcopalian packet" denouncing the council.

The packet also contained articles condemning church reunion moves, and charging some episcopal leaders with heretical teachings.

The approximately 900 voting delegates to the convention also have been bombarded with similar literature from sources, in a dozen cities in Arizona, Louisiana, Texas, Ohio, California and elsewhere.

Mailings of such material were received by all delegates before they came here. Some of it also contained racial segregationist leaflets.

EVACUATE BORDER BERLINERS — Behind barbed wire barricades, East Berliners load furniture on truck in Bernauerstrasse section today as Communist People's Police resumed forcible evacuation of East Berlin homes close to border dividing the city. Police officials in West Berlin said the operation began early today where the houses on Bernauerstrasse are in the Red sector but the street outside is in the West. First floor windows and all doors leading into the street were bricked up by the Communists weeks ago.

Berliners Assured West Won't Sell Out to Reds

From Our News Wires

BERLIN—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's envoy to Berlin, had an hour's talk with West German President Heinrich Luebke today on the situation in divided Berlin and Germany.

A spokesman for Luebke said the meeting was held in a cordial atmosphere at Luebke's official residence in Berlin. No details of the talk were disclosed.

* * *

Gen. Clay arrived in Berlin last week. President Luebke, who lives in the West German capital of Bonn, came Saturday to open West Berlin's new Opera House. He made a speech Sunday telling Germans to have full confidence in the Western Allies.

West Berliners were told Sunday night that Gen. Lucius D. Clay had come as their defender with the same determination he showed in breaking the 1948-49 Communist blockade of the city.

The assurances came from West German President Heinrich Luebke to allay growing fear in West Germany that the United States is planning a possible deal with the Soviet Union.

* * *

'PROMISE SINCERE'

"We can really have confidence in the firmness of our allies. Their promises have to be taken seriously in every respect. Gen. Clay has not come here to surrender Berlin, but to defend it as he did in 1948," Luebke said.

Meanwhile armed Communist police routed 200 more East Berliners out of their houses along the barricaded border with West Berlin Sunday.

Carrying machine pistols and bayonets, the East German police (Vopos) went through 10 apartment houses on Bernauerstrasse evicting the residents.

Previously they had cleared out homes on Harzerstrasse. They are expected to clear out all the homes along the border and then pull some of them down to make it impossible for East Germans to use the buildings as escape routes to the West.

Even while the evictions were in progress, a woman started slipping down a rope from the upper floors of an East Berlin apartment fronting on a West Berlin street. Communist police tried to pull the rope up but the woman dropped into a waiting West Berlin fire net.

ABOUT 20 ESCAPE

Western police said about 20 persons made it to West Berlin during the evacuation operation, most of them climbing out of apartment house windows.

* * *

In Washington Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has suggested that limited U.S. recognition of Communist East Germany might be inevitable in negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

20 Hurt as Freight Cars Pile Into Passenger Train

BAY, Ark. (AP) — A freight train derailed and slammed into a passenger train parked on a siding Sunday night, injuring at least 20 persons.

* * *

There were no deaths reported, but attendants at a Jonesboro, Ark., hospital where the injured were taken said at least five of the cases were critical.

* * *

Thurman Adam, a porter, said a hotbox caused a wheel to fly off one of the freight cars as the freight rumbled by the motionless passenger train.

Adam said in the chain reaction that followed about 20 of the freight's 88 cars left the tracks. Some piled atop the overturned passenger train. The engine of the passenger train was knocked into a nearby cotton field.

SWITCHED TO SIDING

Frisco officials said the passenger train had been switched to a siding to allow the freight to pass. They said the freight had slowed to about 15 miles an hour.

Passengers said they saw some of the freight cars start to move sideways on the track as the freight train "just started coming apart."

* * *

"It was terrible, I just don't know what happened," one of the injured said at Jonesboro. "There was a big noise and then all the lights went out."

The passenger train's single coach was carrying about 35 persons, most of them Frisco employes on their way to work at a railroad yard construction site. The train was en route from Springfield, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.

Weston, who suffered a broken back and face injuries, said from his hospital bed: "I knew we were going to crash when we were about 300 feet up and the plane stalled. The pilot (Capt. Markel) apparently nosed down to pick up air speed and he started to bank to the left to get clear of the runway. He leveled off at 100 feet and attempted to pick up speed."

* * *

The plane was to have climbed to several thousand feet for the descent of the sky divers, members of a crack Army parachute team of about 50 men.

Maj. Kenneth Wooten said he was "utterly amazed by the orderliness of the crowd," which stayed put and did not hamper rescue operations. Maj. Wooten's wife was at the hospital when the crash was shown on television, and she spread the word to hospital personnel. About 300 people answered an appeal for blood donors and 30 pints were taken.

A surgeon said the action of Capt. Jack Armstrong, who kept his helicopter hovering over the wreckage, probably saved the lives of two men menaced by flames in the cockpit.

Congress Tries for Adjournment

Runs Into Opposition as Speed Up Attempted on Several Measures

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A weary Congress, forced into extra innings, today resumed efforts to wind up the longest session in 10 years but promptly ran into parliamentary stumbling blocks.

* * *

Both the House and Senate met at 11 a.m. Pontiac time after efforts to adjourn last Saturday collapsed.

However, an effort by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to speed consideration of a supplemental appropriation bill was blocked by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. The New England Republican said he might withdraw his objection later.

There was only snail's pace progress on two other key measures blocking adjournment. One was a bill to provide tax relief for stockholders in the Du Pont Corp. which is under court order to sell its General Motors stock. The other is President Kennedy's foreign aid money bill.

* * *

The Du Pont tax bill was the pending business before the Senate, but Mansfield said prospects were dim that the Senate would complete action on the House-passed measure before adjournment.

He said he did "not intend to wear the Senate out" tussling over the bill.

A House-Senate conference on the foreign aid money dispute was set for this afternoon, but there was a question whether this issue could be resolved until after the supplemental money measure was sent to the White House. Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., has been reported determined to hold up the aid bill long enough to make sure no deleted funds could be put back in the supplemental bill.

* * *

The House — far ahead of the Senate on its work — also convened at 11 a.m. On a routine voice vote it sent to the White House a bill prescribing procedures which residents of the District of Columbia will cast their first vote for President in 1964.

U.S. Negro Girl Starts Classes in Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI) — A 14-year-old Negro girl from New Jersey began classes in the Soviet Union today to "help fight segregation" in the United States.

* * *

The girl, Huldah Clark, flew in Sunday night to begin an all-expense paid education promised her by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev when he attended the United Nation last year. She met him then.

Her father, William Clark, had told U.S. reporters it was better for his daughter to go to school in Russia than face "Jim Crow schools" back home.

Huldah echoed his sentiments when she stepped off the plane at Sheremetyova airport here and a Soviet education official whisked her off to one of Moscow's "international schools."

* * *

"I am the first but there are many more who want to come," said Huldah. "Maybe when enough of us arrive it will help fight segregation" in the United States.

At the "Skola Internat" primary classes, Huldah will be taught her lessons mostly in English under a Soviet educational experiment in accepting foreign students.

TRIP ARRANGED

Huldah, who said her trip had been arranged by the "Society for the Promotion of Education of Negroes in the "Soviet Union" in New Jersey, said the organization wanted to act against segregation like the "freedom riders."

She said she expected to enjoy school here better than back home, and that she was not sure she would return to the United States during her vacations.

Traveling alone, Huldah found Moscow's fall weather nippy. She had neglected to bring a coat but the Societ education official said the school might give her one or that she could buy one in town.

* * *

Under the scholarship Khrushchev said he would arrange, all Huldah's education and living expenses will be paid for by the Soviet government.

Still being sought is James B. Lovelace, 21, of Niles.

* * *

* * *

Jann and Lovelace both were serving 1½ to 2 years for unlawful use of an auto. Major had been sentenced to 2½ to 14 years for forgery.

DIGNITY AT WORK

Ione Doig Recalls Her 41 Years in Court

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Somewhere there's a copy of Pontiac Central High School's old yearbook "The Quiver" which has Ione Doig pegged accurately.

* * *

It reads under her name: "proper dignity always the rule."

For a person to last through 41 years in the nerve-cracking capacity of court reported for the Oakland County Circuit Court one needs more than dignity. It takes the patience of a panther and the temperament of a young kitten.

Ione has proved she has both. The never-ending tension of recording several hundred words a minute, still using the old-fashioned penpoint and ink well, hasn't taken from her face the smiles that betray her near-70 years of age.

A native of Pontiac—she was born near the old downtown courthouse — she put away the pen, ink well and stenographer pads for the last time last month because the pace "just got too much."

She also wants to devote more time to the woman she never failed to call daily while working, her 91-year-old mother.

Miss Doig was the last of the five Circuit Court reporters to use shorthand instead of the more modern stenograph machine.

She took her job as a secretary and assistant court reporter with the late Circuit Judges Glenn C. Gillespie and Frank L. Cover on Nov. 1, 1930, after a brief stint as a secretary with the purchasing department of the old Oakland Motor Car Co.

She can't recall adding any extra digits in her court transcripts, but Ione, of 98 Palmer St., laughingly remembers the time she ordered one million instead of 100,000 screws in her former secretarial capacity.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE

She'll vouch for the local court's heavy load of cases, considered one of the largest in Michigan.

"We used to get one or two cases in those old days — some days we didn't get any. Now look at it. On Monday we have had as many as 50."

The courts themselves have changed.

"I think you have to have dignity in the courts," she said. "There used to be a lot more. I remember Judge Gillespie sending a witness home to get a coat before he could testify."

* * *

She was quick to add: "Judge Holland won't put a woman wearing slacks on the stand."

She started taking the testimony for Judge H. Russell Holland when he joined the bench in 1936. She was with the senior judge until her retirement.

Though the number of cases blocks from her memory any particularly memorable ones, she does recall one which the late Detroit attorney Edward Barnard tried. The transcript ran 700 pages.

Being a court reporter is like a "study of human nature," Miss Doig said.

* * *

Testimony of doctors and psychiatrists sometimes is a stumbling block to a mind that must take testimony in machine gun order, sometimes with several voices being heard at once.

LIKED THE WORK

"I liked the work," she said as she typed out some of the last testimony. "I think I did the work satisfactorily or they would have fired me."

Still in her mind was the going-away party her fellow Circuit Court employes gave her upon retirement.

Former Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, who sat on the local bench 32 years, came back to say goodby to the stalwart of court reporters.

An orchid added that much more to Ione's dignity.

Nobel Peace Prize Demanded for Dag

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Norwegian government organ Arbeiderbladet has insisted that Dag Hammarskjold should be given this year's Nobel Peace Prize despite objections to awarding it to a dead man.

"We do not doubt for a minute that an overwhelming majority of the Norwegian people who elected the Storting (and through that the peace prize committee) wants the peace prize to be given posthumously to Dag Hammarskjold this time," the Oslo morning paper wrote editorially.

"Just about the whole world would agree," it added.

A landmark of the San Francisco Bay Area is the 275-foot tower of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University, named for former President Herbert Hoover.

U.N. Faces Greatest Challenge of Its Life

Anyway you look at it, the United Nations is "in a mess."

The untimely death of DAG HAMMARSKJOLD has simply precipitated an early crisis in a situation which was a bit sticky before the ill-fated plane went down—or was blown up.

★ ★ ★

The trouble makers from Moscow had been gunning for Dag's scalp for some time. He wasn't under any part of their bestial thumb nor was he amenable to Soviet orders or suggestions. They were demanding a triumvirate type of secretaryship in which "their boy" would be in the middle of every discussion and decision and with a full-blown veto. They wanted Dag thrown to the lions.

But the free world balked. Democratic nations refused.

★ ★ ★

And while this acrimonious debate was in progress, the airplane came down in a smoldering heap and left the position vacant. Now we face the greatest challenge in the U.N.'s sixteen years of hectic and stormy life. Some people think another world catastrophe impends if the U.N. collapses.

★ ★ ★

Russia is one of the five permanent members of the Security Council and can absolutely block the appointment of Hammarskjold's successor. Certainly she will bend every possible effort to institute her own "troika" through argument, cajoling and threats. Theoretically, the troika would consist of a Communist, a Westerner and a "neutral" and in Russia's dictionary a neutral would be a stooge who was quietly subservient to the Reds 95 per cent of the time.

★ ★ ★

HAMMARSKJOLD was a great international symbol of brotherly existence. He was a friend of all peace loving nations and acted the role in his official and personal life. Hence, he was anathema to the Reds and they were determined to dump him.

★ ★ ★

Now they suddenly face a big chance — heaven sent — or man made—depending on whether the "accident" was just that or something else.

Some observers are hopeful that a flock of the smaller nations who should be neutral but who have listened to the Soviet propaganda with a sympathetic ear may be stirred into action by this unseemly crisis. If they rally to the side of the free world, the Russians will have a tougher path and will find general sentiment against them.

But this is problematical.

Only time will tell.

★ ★ ★

The U.N. stands on the threshold of the most challenging period in history. Can we replace the departed servant of peace and good will with a similar figure? Can we find another dedicated individual who can carry on? And if we do, what chance is there of getting the pig-headed Reds to go along?

Russia's Deceitfulness Is Proved Once Again

Anyone who remembers America's careful, persistent efforts this year to keep alive the test ban talks at Geneva must be impressed with the sincerity of our purpose.

★ ★ ★

The Kennedy administration note to Japan on nuclear testing very properly points out, however, that Russia must have been engaged in extensive secret preparations for new tests, all the while its delegates at Geneva professed desire to effect a permanent ban.

★ ★ ★

Russia's steady string of explosions, starting quick on the heels of its announcement on test resumption, is a dead giveaway. Such complex experiments could not be improvised on short notice.

★ ★ ★

Each blast underscores Soviet deceit, and the phoniness of its claims that resumption was necessary to offset our own test preparations, our war threats, and France's quite modest Sahara tests.

Delay: What can mean $300 to you—football contest.

Not to be outdone by our rural residents, Pontiac City now has a tall corn contender,

Although not in the best of health, of 19 Taylor St., has a marvelous garden, with a great variety of flowers, fruit and vegetables.

Mrs. Mina King

First 1961 big pumpkin entry comes from of Waterford. Still on the vine, he takes a scales into his garden to weigh it and finds that it is taking on a pound nearly every day. Last report, 32 pounds. He facetiously adds: "If this keeps up until Christmas, it should be a world beater."

A Persian lilac bush in the yard of

HORRIS

The Easel Needs a Little Work

David Lawrence Wonders:

Why Didn't the ICC Act Long Ago?

WASHINGTON — There's an unexplained paradox in the news these days. It raises several interesting questions:

First, why was it necessary to organize "freedom rides" to protest against racial discrimination in the South in seating on buses and at bus-terminal restaurants when the Interstate Commerce Commission all along has had the power to do what it has just done—issue regulations forbidding such discrimination?

LAWRENCE

Second, why did the attorney general wait until May 29 to ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue these new regulations?

Third, why were the organizers of the "freedom rides" given encouragement by government officials here to carry on those demonstrations when there was a remedy in existing law?

Fourth, why was the United States subjected to criticism abroad and the Soviet Union enabled to get a considerable propaganda use out of the news of the disorders at a time of international tension, and especially when the United States was seeking to win the friendship and favor of various African countries which now have votes in the U.N.?

'TIME TO ACT'

The above questions relate to a fundamental belief which too many people have expressed that the only way to get things done is to "take the law into your own hands."

This was the psychology of those who argued that the Negroes had "already waited too long for equal treatment" and that it was "about time to do something."

Not so many years ago this was the argument also of those who started mobs to do lynchings. The leaders said it was useless to wait for the long-drawn-out processes of the law to punish criminals.

* * *

This was widely described as "government by mob instead of government by law and order." Indeed, when the disorders broke out at Little Rock, Ark., in the autumn of 1957, criticism was heard that the incitement to violence by impassioned partisans of the cause of segregation showed that they did not believe in "law and order."

* * *

But the "freedom riders" in 1961 disregarded the fears of the local populace that "law and order" would be disrupted and that violence might result if the demonstrations were carried to the point of actual resistance to local laws.

MINISTERS JOINED IN

Even some clergymen, who are supposed to teach reconciliation and certainly are not supposed to do anything remotely to provoke violence, actually participated in the "freedom rides" without getting a single letter of reprimand from the institutions, religious or educational, with which they were associated.

Does this mean that "the end justifies the means" after all, and that, if the cause one believes in is a worthy one, it's all right to engage in a demonstration notwithstanding that it is likely to incite a mob to violence?

Whether one likes the "law of the land" is irrelevant, but, since it's desirable in a democracy for the people to await the normal functioning of legal processes in one cause, it is equally desirable for the partisans of any other cause to agree that "law and order" must be given an opportunity to apply its mandates through the judicial processes available.

The Kennedy administration must have known last January that it could ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue regulations to cover seating in buses and terminal facilities similar to those previously issued for railways and rail-terminal facilities.

* * *

Why didn't the Department of Justice advise the Negro organizations in the begining not to start "freedom rides" but to give the law a chance to function?

There are rumors that the demonstrations were actually undertaken with the knowledge, if not the advice, of the Department of Justice. This needs to be cleared up.

A suspicion is growing that the Department of Justice is acting as a partisan of political causes and is playing politics with the whole problem of desegregation.

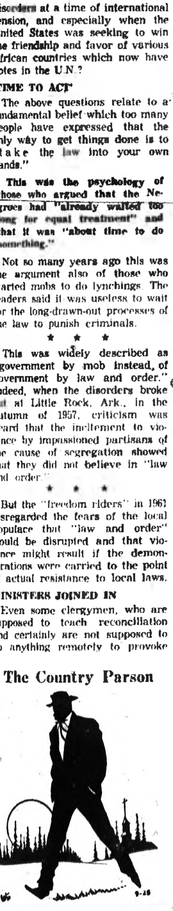
The Country Parson



"That a fellow's mind is packed with a lot of facts doesn't mean it isn't narrow."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Ulcers in Children Stem From Domestic Chaos

A stomach specialist recently called to his colleagues' attention the alarming fact that there has been, in the past four years of his experience, a "noticeable increase in the incidence of peptic ulcers in children between the ages of 4 and 12."

He went on to say that these ulcers represented a disease so common in childhood that they "should be suspected in any young child with otherwise unexplained abdominal pain."

In the speaker's opinion, this increase in the occurence of what used to be considered a rare affliction of childhood was due to "unpleasant family relationships, difficulties with playmates, unpleasant situations at school and other real or imaginary difficulties that created a great deal of worry, tension and mental strain."

* * *

High on the list of these causes were the tensions created by parents who sought to "exert their influence and impose their will too strongly upon their children."

With all due respect to my learned colleague, I must enter a most vigorous protest. Certainly the type of parental control and discipline he describes was all too common in the Victorian age when stomach ulcers in childhood were seemingly as rare as snow in the tropics.

Equally rare in my own limited experience, are modern parents who have the courage to oppose those child psychologists whose fear of creating "repressions and suppressions" is such that they recommend permissive rearing.

PERMISSIVE REARING

By permissive rearing, they encourage domestic chaos that turns most homes into a sort of railroad terminal at rush hour except, of course, when school's out, at which time the rush hour runs from the late, late breakfast until the completion of the late, late showing of the late, late, late movie.

It is my opinion that the strained atmosphere in many homes is a remote result of motorization.

When we were kids, every street and empty lot was a playground. You played in front of the house, on the next block, over in the park, down by the creek. You walked, ran, skipped, skated or biked since there was no danger of being run over.

When you finally answered the call to "come home," you were too exhausted to do much more than gulp down the evening meal and finish homework. Parents hadn't much of a chance to observe, demand and direct or to coddle you into thinking the world was getting all set to be your own personal "oyster."

And nary a kid I knew ever had an ulcer. Bellyaches, of course, but no ulcers.

For a copy of Dr. Hyman's leaflet "How to Choose Your Family Doctor," send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care of The Pontiac Press.

Voice of the People:

Ministers' Efforts Praised, but Feels Timing Was Off

I commend Episcopal ministers on their efforts to help solve a most dangerous social problem. But, it seems their timing is way off. Strange these pricks of their inner consciousness haven't bothered them before, as we have had this problem for an untold number of years.

Recently, the Norfolk Journal & Guide, a Negro weekly, cautioned that the civil rights movement is "ably and adequately guided through legal channels by the NAACP," adding that the movement as presently operated may "get out of control."

At this partcular time I question the wisdom of this trip.

Patriot

Says Socialist Party Can Assure Survival

If parents were asked their fondest interest they would mention first their children's present future well-being, implying grave concern about mankind's survival.

* * *

However, there exists no effective, organized human activity assuring this. President Kennedy said "I am determined upon our system's survival and success regardless of the cost and regardless of the peril."

* * *

Premier Khrushchev teetering crazily on the edge of chaos, demands "recognition of our grandeur." Both ignore priority of human survival.

We need a social system immediately responsible to living human interests—unfettered of both the dated, stupid priority of private profit and bogus national grandeurs. The Socialist Labor Party's unique program supplies this requirement—assuring progress and survival.

Dogs Becoming Popular Topic

In reply to "Old-Time Resident" who claims that Bloomfield Hills dogs are the worst mannered and loudest mouthed on the North American continent, I claim that dogs, like people, are much the same everywhere—some good and some stinkers.

My own dogs have a large and flourishing acquaintance of well-mannered and interesting canines and though one Basset will do anything to get his picture in the paper, he has a heart of gold and everybody loves him. Through the years I've known two canine residents who far surpassed the local human inhabitants in intelligence, character, and manners. We can't all have "Great Dogs," but I think we've got some darned nice ones.

Original Settler

If the Man About Town thinks that dogs don't bark as much as in the past, he might come over into Pioneer Highlands and listen to Charlie. I am sure he will not be disappointed.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, Sept. 25, the 268th day of the year with 97 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last Quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

* * *

On this day in history:

In 1789, the first Congress of the United States, meeting in New York, adopted 12 amendments to the Constitution and submitted them to the states for ratification. The first 10, the Bill of Rights, were ratified. other two were rejected.

In 1890, Congress established Yosemite National Park in California.

In 1959, the prime minister of Seylon, S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike, was shot by an assassin. He died the next day.

A thought for today: American writer William Faulkner said, "I believe that man will not merely endure; he will prevail."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Girls: Get Hep to Facts of Life

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-407: Laura L., aged 17, is an unwed expectant mother.

"Dr. Crane," she begged, "what can I do?

DR. CRANE

"My father is a drunkard and my mother scolds all the time so my home life is terrible.

"And as soon as they find out about me, life will not be worth living for my father will beat me and mother will never stop nagging.

"I thought this boy was wonderful and it was so nice to have somebody who seemed to care for me for myself.

"So I gave in to him. But now that he knows we are to have a baby, he has run off and left me.

"What can I do and where can I turn for help?"

MYOPIC GIRLS

Girls who live in very unhappy homes, with drunken or brawling parents, often fall into the very same trap with Laura.

They figure they will NEVER duplicate that unhappy home life when they grow up.

No, they will NEVER let their children grow up in such a messy environment.

Then they get so thrilled by the fact some boy kisses them and pours out fervent protests into their ears, that they park their brains, letting emotion have full sway.

Soon they find they are pregnant and often go back to their brawling parents where their new baby causes even more feuding and quarrels.

So will you girls PLEASE get hep to the facts of life! If you come from a broken or brawling type of home, for heaven's sakes use your head when you have a date. For you must be doubly on guard!

Don't let your excessive hunger for affection make you handicap your baby's future.

Resolve that you will fight your way up out of your messy home surroundings by graduating from high school.

Then take a year of college, preferably Business College, so you can get a good job.

If boys ask you for a date, play the field and don't permit yourself to get into a compromising situation.

* * *

For you are like the chronic alcoholic who finally joins Alcoholics Anonymous (A. A.). Such former drunks know that just one drink will set them off again on a drunken spree.

* * *

They say they are "allergic" to liquor. Well, you kids from unhappy homes are also "allergic" to kisses, so beware!

For you go overboard whereas teen-agers from happy homes have more perspective and thus are more inclined to use their brains.

FOREWARNED

Instead of profiting from broken homes, divorced parents and drunken, brutal fathers, you kids of such a background are more likely to go right back into that very same type of homelife when you grow up!

Instead of being forewarned, you let your excessive hunger for love becloud your good sense.

Knowing that you are thus more vulnerable to kisses, then you must be doubly on guard and not follow in Laura's tragic footsteps.

If a girl like Laura finally needs outside help, she should consult her clergyman and physician at once.

The Salvation Army and other agencies also operate homes for unwed mothers, where the baby can be born.

Resigns Top County Auditor Post

Move Fast to Replace Moore

Moves toward putting a top man in the Oakland County government has moved out of the talking stage.

* * *

Influential members of the board of supervisors were already talking about strengthening the administrative arm of the government structure before the ink was dry on Robert Y. Moore's letter of resignation.

Moore, 76, chairman of the money-controlling board of auditors since 1936 and the senior of all county officials with 31 years service, submitted his resignation to the ways and means committee of the board at a closed-door meeting in Pontiac.

"It is a tough assignment to tender my resignation," Moore said.

"However, I fully realize changes in the administrative functions are necessary to keep pace with changing conditions."

NOT ALL HIS IDEA

Moore's resignation, expected to be accepted by the board Oct. 2, was not altogether of his own choosing.

"They asked me to take the lesser job," Moore, of 476 Shore View Drive, Waterford Township, said.

The "lesser job" he had reference to would be that of county budget director, a new post.

"Appointment to budget director would be a challenge and I would be most happy to accept," Moore told Birmingham Supervisor David Levinson's committee.

* * *

The white-haired Moore, a former Bloomfield Township supervisor and ex-chairman of the board of supervisors, has two years and three months remaining of a three-year term on the three-member board of auditors.

He was reappointed by the supervisors last December.

His term as chairman expires Dec. 31 this year.

Levinson's committee for some time has been shopping around for a successor — a top qualified young man well-respected by supervisors and other county officials.

PASS UP COHORTS

They went right past Moore's two cohorts on the board of auditors, 67-year-old Vice Chairman John C. Austin — "I've never been interested in the position" — and Secretary Robert E. Lilly, 44, a Ferndale Democrat.

* * *

Lilly, who made some enemies when he tried to unseat Moore as chairman in a showdown last December, is up for reappointment by the supervisors at an October board meeting.

Tapped for Moore's seat on the board and chairmanship of it is Norman R. Barnard, 47-year-old corporation counsel for the county and committee clerk for the board of supervisors.

* * *

He has said he'd take the job and Levinson said his getting it is "well jelled."

At the second October session of the board of supervisors, the governing body of the county must fill Moore's spot on the auditors, name a $13,000-a-year chairman and either reappoint Lilly, or replace him.

Should Barnard, a former Troy supervisor, land the job, some revamping of the operations of the board of auditors, a statutory bipartisan requirement, can be expected.

SHIFT IN EMPHASIS

"It will mean probably less emphasis on the committee responsibility and more on the administrative," said Levinson.

* * *

For some time now both past and present county officials have bemoaned the lack of a front-office leader or manager. Some say they see the answer in Barnard.

"We have reached the point where we need a strong administrative head," Levinson said.

The survivor was identified as Salin Kalaaftoglu, a Turkish banking official. He was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

Among the dead was Bernard Havens, Rye, N.Y., a civil engineer with Socony Mobil Oil Co.

Resort Invites Travelers Set 'n' Roost a Bit

TWENTY NINE PALMS, Calif. (UPI)—Welcome, buzzards:

This desert resort 120 miles east of Los Angeles isn't quite as famous an San Juan Capistrano, where the annual influx of swallows attracts thousands of tourists but it does have something—buzzards.

* * *

Thousands of the large, ugly birds wheel into Twenty Nine Palms at the beginning of every autumn to roost a while before flying on to winter in Mexico.

About 1,000 buzzards arrived Sunday night and took off early this morning. Other flocks are expected each night for the next week or two.

* * *

The town's residents don't seem to mind their guests. One man put out a small sign saying, "welcome, buzzards!"

Sergeant's Wife Faces 2nd Trial

Aquitted of Strangling Her Children but Greek Law Different

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Joann Baker, wife of a U.S. Air Force sergeant, today faced a new trial after being acquitted on charges of strangling her three children last May. Greek law permits more than one trial for an offense.

Court President Spiros Gangas upheld the demand for another trial after the prosecutor protested Sunday that the jury must have misunderstood the evidence or the judge's instructions.

* * *

The jury of seven men and three women had ruled that Mrs. Baker, 28, from Stockdale, Tex., should be freed because she killed the children "during a mental upset in which she could not distinguish right from wrong."

* * *

Mrs. Baker had testified she had tried to kill herself after strangling the children. She said she wanted to show her husband "what wrong he had done us" after he beat her and she had found pictures of him with another woman.

While the jury deliberated Mrs. Baker fell asleep in a chair. When the jury returned she was taken to another room and did not hear the verdict.

Sgt. Baker, from China Grove, N.C., was in the courtroom. He is stationed at Athens air base.

Asks Kennedy to Aid Miners in UP Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been asked to ease by executive order an unemployment problem in Northern Michigan's iron mines which Rep. John B. Bennett, R-Mich., claims is caused by imports.

* * *

In a letter made public today, Bennett asked Kennedy to:

1. Set up an iron ore stockpiling program to prevent the immediate closing of mines.

2. Impose import quotas on iron ore similar to the quotas now in effect on crude oil imports.

"Our miners and unemployed and our communities are distressed because of the impact of imported ores," Bennett said in the letter.

The highest IQ ever recorded was 212 — 100 is average — by a Cleveland high school senior.

Says Hagerty Playing Politics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Roger Kent, chairman of California's Democratic State Central Committee, says James C. Hagerty and the American Broadcasting Co. plan to give Richard M. Nixon $100,000 worth of free publicity Wednesday night.

Hagerty, says, "Mr. Kent has been misinformed."

Hagerty, who was former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's press secretary now is news director of ABC.

NIXON TO GET DECISION

Former Vice President Nixon is expected to announce Wednesday night whether he plans to campaign for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

In telegrams to Hagerty and the Federal Communications Commission Sunday, Kent demanded "equal time—a full 30 minutes—to be provided by each and every one of the 400 television and radio stations owned by or affiliated with the ABC network throughout the United States on exactly the same basis that these stations participate in coverage of the Nixon broadcast under arrangements ordered by you (Hagerty) as chief of the ABC news division.

* * *

"It is our position that the Nixon broadcast is in no sense a legitimate national news event and that by extending nationwide coverage to it in your capacity as chief of the ABC news division your network becomes an organ of partisan politics serving Nixon's attempt to rebuild his bankrupt political fortunes and feed his still-burning presidential ambition."

PLAN REGIONAL COVERAGE

Hagerty told San Francisco newspapers by telephone that Nixon's news conference Wednesday night will get only regional live coverage over the ABC network.

Hagerty added, "There are people outside California who also are interested in Mr. Nixon's political future."

* * *

Hagerty said Kent "has every right to say what he wants to about Mr. Nixon and me personally, but he has no right to tell me how to report or run a news story."

Egyptian Personnel Must Reveal Income

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Cairo newspapers published Sunday details of a new presidential decree requiring personnel of nationalized industries to declare publicly the wealth of themselves, their wives and children over the past 10 years.

* * *

The decree is directed at Egyptain managerial and white collar classes.

It is a further step in socialization plans that have now effectively nationalized all industry. The maximum income allowed from all sources—is now limited to $28,000 and salaries above $4,200 must be approved by special presidential decree.

Urges Forming of FAA 'Guard'

Wants Air Controllers Put Under Military in Time of Emergency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has asked Congress to creat a "national guard" of key air traffic control personnel.

FAA Administrator Najeeb Halaby Sunday night proposed a new federal aviation service to operate under civilian jurisdiction in peace time and under military discipline in war or a national emergency.

This joint system, he said, would be cheaper and more efficient. The proposals would require major amendments in the Federal Aviation Act of 1958.

* * *

He pointed out the present law does not provide for putting key FAA air controllers under military discipline in an emergency. They now handle both civilian and military air traffic centers, except those military needs peculiar to warfare.

Halaby also said air traffic controllers and other FAA personnel should have higher pay, better working conditions and other inventives to attract the finest workers.

He proposed that controller at major airports work six hours, instead of the present eight-hour-day, using the other two hours for relief and training.

But What About Hurricanes?

Virgin Island Home Far Away From N-Fallout

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — As most of our friends (they're those folks with the bent ears) know by now, we're building a house on the sea at St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

It is concrete block up to its roof, we are hocked up to our ears, and as every new hurricane snubs the islands and barrels up toward the U.S. mainland, our prayers become stronger and our insurance company gets richer.

We are insuring this little West Indies hideaway against hurricanes, tidal waves, fire, theft and earthquake.

* * *

Although no great blow has blasted the island since the night of Sept. 12, 1928, we have a record book listing the hurricanes that used to come to call, with grim regularity, every 10 or 12 years from 1695 until the year before the depression.

* * *

It's also a matter of record that the first European ever to have made the acquaintance of a hurricane was Christopher Columbus — and where did he meet up with this windy lady which destroyed three of his ships?

In the Caribbean. In the process of discovering "our island" of St. Croix.

But there is one form of insurance that we do not need in the Virgin Islands — and that is protection against nuclear attack and-or fallout.

If Khrushchev and his fiendish friends are nutty enough to waste an expensive bomb to destroy a battalion of bathers, or atomize an army of American laggards on siesta, then the world is lost anyway.

* * *

We didn't, of course, think in these terms when we bought our property four years ago; it was honeymoon time, and we were loony from love, sea spray and trade winds. However, as it turned out, the lunacy could be lucrative. . .

* * *

"In these days of unrest," said a smart young gentleman currently visiting New York, who is the new commissioner of commerce for the Virgins under the Kennedy administration, "everybody wants to buy land in the Islands. There's almost no waterfront left. I guarantee that whatever you paid for your land, you could get many times that, this year."

We liked Henry L. Kimelman immediately.

MORE TOURISTS

"For years, the Virgin Islands have been a popular tourist resort, but nothing compared to what it will be. This year we expect a 40 per cent jump in the tourist business," Kimelman went on eagerly.

"St. Thomas is already the number one cruise port in the Caribbean, but we'll have 180 cruise ships, more than ever, next season. And Pan American is planning to fly jets into St. Croix — meaning it'll be only three and one-half hours from New York to your home.

"Some people commute longer than that.

* * *

"But the important thing is that people who used to come down just to have fun and rest and shop (the Virgin Islands are a free port) now are coming down looking for a place to live. As I—and they — see it, there's not a safer place to be in U.S. territory than the Virgin Islands.

"And when you add to that blessing the fact that the Rockefeller Research Institute found our islands to be the most ideal climate in the Western Hemisphere — well, obviously you've picked a winner."

While we sat by smugly, Mr. Kimelman (who built the famed Virgin Isle Hotel which he now leases to Conrad Hilton) described a new project to be begun this year: "Operation Weekend," backed by the State Department, which will fly United Nations personnel— particularly from the new African states— to the VI.

DEMOCRATIC SHOWPLACE

"We want to make the islands our showcase of democracy. We want people to see that here, on United States property, a population that is 85 per cent Negro and 15 per cent white, are living together with no social, racial or religious bigotry whatever. It's true. It should be more widely known."

* * *

And speaking of religion, Kimelman said, "Why don't you get rid of some of that costly hurricane insurance? We haven't had a hurricane in 34 years. We have two prayer days in which every Virgin Islander goes to church and prays against hurricanes — and believe me, we have enough different religions to take care of everybody.

"Somebody up there must hear us."

The average child born today can expect to live 15 years longer than one born 60 years ago.

Cannot Say No Politely to Smokers

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: The other evening neighbors of ours came to visit us. Shortly after they arrived, the wife took out her cigarettes and before lighting one, asked, "Do you mind if I smoke?" As I dislike the smell of smoke very much, I answered, "Yes I do." When they left, my husband was furious with me for having said this and thinks I was extremely rude.

* * *

Since she asked, I don't think I was wrong in being frank. What is the sense of asking this question if one must answer "No" regardless of whether one minds or not? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter.

* * *

A: The polite question, "Do you mind if I smoke?" is one to which the answer "No" is expected and unless a hostess is really made ill by the smell of smoke, she cannot politely refuse a guest permission to smoke in her house.

INVITE NEW FRIENDS

Q: We moved to this city three months ago and I know very few young people here. I was invited to a party recently and met a number of girls and boys my own age whom I liked very much. I will be celebrating my 17th birthday soon and mother said that I could have a party if I like. Would it be proper to invite these boys and girls whom I met for the first time to my birthday party?

A: It would be quite all right to invite them to a party but do not tell them it is a birthday party which would imply bringing a present.

* * *

Q: A friend of mine is being married and she asked my small daughter to be a flower girl. I was under the impression that the bride paid for the child's dress but have been told by several people that I am supposed to pay for it. Will you please tell me what is the correct procedure?

A: As a rule, the mother pays for her child's dress.

* * *

Bishop H. L. Jacob de Mel of Ceylon was among 150 bishops and their wives who were guests Saturday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scripps Booth for tea at Cranbrook House. Visiting the exhibition of painting and sculpture in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, Bishop de Mel was especially interested in the sculpture. He is shown with Berthold Schiwetz's "Jonah I."

Honor Bishops, Wives at Cranbrook House

Cranbrook House was the gracious setting for a tea Saturday afternoon honoring 150 bishops and their wives who are attending the 60th General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

Hosts to the group and fifty additional guests including trustees of the Cranbrook Foundation were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scripps Booth.

* * *

Two exhibitions of sacred art were viewed by the visitors: a liturgical crafts exhibit in Guild Hall of Christ Church Cranbrook and an exhibition of painting and sculpture in the lower galleries of the Academy of Art. Both exhibitions may be viewed by the public daily except Monday from 2 to 5 p.m.

PRAISES EXHIBIT

The latter exhibit represents the work of 12 contemporary artists from all parts of the country. Under the chairmanship of Richard C. Muehlberger of All Saints Episcopal Church, the work "here presented is not liturgical art, not sacred art, but fine art," according to Mr. Muehlberger.

* * *

"It represents the work of twelve contemporaries who have thought about God and man and who have something to say and say it competently, sometimes powerfully," he states. "Here is an art exhibit to make the church think."

* * *

Among area women pouring Saturday afternoon were Mrs. Ronald W. Ballantyne, Mrs. John H. Albrecht, Mrs. W. Sydnor Gilbreath, Jr., Mrs. William T. Gossett, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Neil C. McMath, Mrs. Gerald B. O'Grady and Mrs. Fred W. Sanders.

Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald of Ottawa Drive (at left) was among area women presiding at the tea table Saturday. She pours for Bishop and Mrs. William J. Gordon of Alaska.

Better Arm Yourself Now—Abby

GI Heads Home to Fight

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 19, in the service in Korea and in trouble. I have less than four months to go here, but I almost hate to go home. I have been writing to two girls back in the States who expect to marry me when I return.

I have dated both of them, but have never discussed marriage with either one. (But I did get carried away in some of my letters.) One of the girls wrote that she will be "ready" when I get home. I would like to know what she will be ready for. The other girl wrote that we could live with her parents until I got a job and we could get a place of our own. Both girls are attractive and intelligent, but I don't want to marry either one. What do I do now?

APO No. 20

ABBY

DEAR APO: Since you "proposed" to both girls by mail, you had better do some creative writing fast. Tell them both that because marriage is a permanent step, before they make any plans they should wait until you get home. Put a chill on both deals now, or, when you get home, the quiet of Korea will look good to you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your reply to Mrs. Citizen that "many mothers, in their well-meaning eagerness to make their daughters popular, encourage them to grow up too fast."

Thank heaven my mother was wiser than that. I am 18 and am a freshman at college. When I started my teens I was far from the first girl in my crowd to wear make-up, nylons and heels. I didn't get to go to all the parties, and was never Miss Popularity or anything near it. At first it bothered me, but I soon found out there were more rewarding things, such as the faith my parents had in me to live by their high standards. I don't smoke and they know I won't. I don't drink and they trust me not to start. They never doubt my word because they know I wouldn't deceive them. Although I think your advice is very good. Abby, I am glad I never had to ask for it. Love,

BONNIE

Following dinner new citizens presented a program. The group was led by Percy Briggs in the pledge to the flag. Jose Vega recited the American's Creed and also closed the program with "America, I Love You."

The reading "What the Constitution Means to Me" was presented by Christa Davis, and citizenship class members gave an outline of the Constitution. Participating were Angel Gonzalez, Louise Vaillencourt, Beja Hoogenstryd, Marlene Hampshire, Florence Yard, Elsie Hillon and Elizabeth Kirk. Others taking part were Annalies Quallo, Hanna Bredow, Maria Smith, Laurette Gauthier, Alex Bogar, Paz Vega, Waldemar Bauer, Crista Cristides and Anthony Kiefer.

Nations represented in the program were Mexico, Holland, Canada, Italy, France, England, Germany and Greece.

Serving of refreshments and baby sitting were handled by members of Girl Scout Troop 241 of Cass Lake under leadership of Mrs. Marie June. They were Dawn Lowen, Janice Pardy, Irene Kent, Laura June and Sharon Curran. Pamela Curran and Sue Penney of Scout Troop 413 also assisted.

Requires Special Consideration

Neck Can Age Before Face

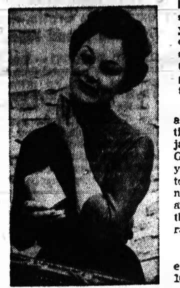
By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women often take care of their faces and neglect their necks. Actually, even when both are given the same care, the neck may show signs of age sooner than the face. If it is not given consideration, the neck may appear to be 10 or 15 years older than the face.

The neck profits by regular cleansing, lubrication and stimulation. If your neck is dry, use a cleansing cream instead of soap and water. You can whip up circulation wtih exercise, a circulation cream or patting. The latter should be gentle.

SOAK IN

A lubricating cream should be allowed to soak into the neck daily or at night. One of the hormone creams will be most beneficial. The use of a moisturizing cream, or a lotion worn under make-up during the day, is also a good idea for the neck which is beginning to wither.



The neck, given the same care as the face, may be the first to show age. It needs special care, regular cleansing, lubrication and stimulation.

Your posture, facial contour and weight also affect the appearance of your neck. If your posture is poor, your neck will be deeply lined or may be stringy. If you are overweight, you probably will have a double chin. If your facial contour sags, you will have jowls. For this reason, facial exercises are good for the neck as well as for the face.

Women are sometimes careless about neck make-up. The foundation and powder may end at the jawline or in front of the ears. Give your neck the same break you give your face, when it comes to make-up enhancing. Often it needs it even more. At any rate, a distinct make-up line, dividing the face from the neck, in unattractive.

* * *

If you would like to have my exercises for the neck, (leaflet No. 16) or face (leaflet No. 9) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your requests to Josephine Lowman in care of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Senate Probes to Continue

By JERRY LANDAUER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Investigators, who have spent a busy nine months looking into everything from loaded dice to pep pills, don't plan to stop during the congressional off-season.

* * *

Major inquiries shaping up include new drug price hearings, the special investigation of whether military officers have been "muzzled" and the juvenile delinquency subcommittee's new look at TV crime and violence.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said the subcommittee investigating the military "gag" would start hearings late this year and probably continue into 1962.

The juvenile delinquency group, headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., planned to summon Robert E. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., to testify on television shows.

* * *

The chief investigators this year have been Dodd and Sens. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn. They spent hundreds of hours prodding reluctant witnesses, filling fat books of testimony and promoting legislation to deal with evils they uncovered.

KEFAUVER CHIEF INVESTIGATOR

By the end of the year they will have spent more than $1 million.

Kefauver, whose 1952 crime inquiry stirred up national interest, again was the chief investigator. This year he summoned $100,000-a-year executives, world famous boxers like Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano, and a host of learned medical professors.

* * *

Some executives told how they met secretly to rig prices and carve up markets in electrical machinery; the boxers complained of underworld influence in the fight game; and the professors, while praising the drug industry for contributing to high health standards, flailed at manufacturers for high prices and inadequate warnings against potent but dangerous drugs.

Out of this flurry of words came legislation to establish a national boxing commission; bills to stiffen antitrust laws and make company presidents criminally responsible for some violations by subordinate executives; and proposals to clamp stiff government controls on the drug industry.

None of these measures reached the Senate floor this session. Kefauver plans more hearings on the antitrust and drug bills this fall in hopes of action next year. Republican members have promised a vigorous fight to block them.

* * *

Dodd's subcommittee kept a close watch on the rising tide of delinquency and helped push through legislation authorizing $10 million a year in federal grants to help fight juvenile crime.

The Dodd group also quietly launched investigations of how "pep pills," "goof balls" and narcotics reach juveniles through illegal channels and how teen-agers with criminal records manage to obtain guns.

He also contributed an eye-catching series of public hearings in which TV producers accused the networks of telling them to spice shows with crime and violence. The networks answered by saying they strive for the highest TV standards.

McClellan, whose fire had been aimed largely at Teamster Boss James R. Hoffa, turned to organized gambling this year. His rackets subcommittee alerted the public to crooked gambling devices; showed how a confederation of furtive, underground racing wires flash results to bookmakers; and sought to show tie-ups between professional gamblers and sports handicappers.

Among the witnesses were 17 underworld figures who invoked their constitutional rights to remain silent, a platinum blonde who teamed with a jolly Welshman to wig-wag results from race tracks and Mickey Bruce, a University of Oregon halfback.

Bruce capped the two-week hearings by testifying that a Chicago gambler offered him $10,000 to help fix last year's Oregon-Michigan game. He reported the bribe attempt to his coach who notified authorities.

* * *

McClellan's hearings provided ammunition for supporters of seven anti-crime bills sought by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Most of the items in the anti-racketeer package were enacted.

Anti-Castro Plan Shot, Says Cuba

Charge Abortive Plot to Kill Premier Was Aided by U.S. Agency

HAVANA (AP)—A plot to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro and lay the groundwork for another invasion of Cuba has been smashed, the government claimed Sunday night.

A communique said 12 counter-revolutionaries armed with bazookas and hand grenades supplied by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency have been seized.

* * *

Luis Torroella, 31, described as a former Treasury Ministry employe in the Batista regime, was named as the leader of the plotters.

The communique said an ambush was to be laid for Castro as the prime minister drove to Ciudad Deportiva Stadium, where he frequently appears for rallies.

CHARGES CIA

Cuban newspapers printed pictures of bazookas and automatic rifles and asserted they were supplied by the CIA.

The Interior Ministry said Torroella fled Cuba early last year and returned last October to organize anti-Castro forces with the help of the CIA

A U.S. citizen, William Patten Tabares, 31, and five Cubans were shot last weekend on charges of counterrevolutionary activity. This brought to 622 the announced number executed since Castro took over in 1959.

'Russians Fear War as Much as the West'

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — Dr. Jacob Zhidkov, 76, president of the Russian Baptist Union, says the fear of a third world war is as great in the Soviet Union as it is in the West.

Most Russians do not want another war and "fervently hope there won't be one," Zhidkov said in an interview Sunday. Zhidkov is in Canada as a guest of the Baptist Federation of Canada.

Following too closely causes nearly 15 per cent of all traffic accidents, according to a mutual insurance company.

Crooner Critical After Accident

Charlie Applewhite in Texas Plane Crash; His Wife and Friend Killed

MIDLAND, Tex. (UPI) — Singer Charlie Applewhite showed signs of improvement today, but doctors said he is "a long way from being out of the woods" and still in critical condition from the plane crash that killed his wife and an oil company executive.

"He appears slightly improved," a hospital spokesman said.

"There is a possibility he will make it, but he is still critical. He still has no idea his wife and a friend were killed. He has had only fleeting moments of consciousness."

Applewhite, the crooner who was the idol of millions across the nation with his hit recordings of "Ebb Tide" and "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White," was injured last Friday.

The single-engine plane in which he, his wife Nancy, 29, and Robert McGannon, 35, president of Republic Mud (Oil Well) Co. of Dallas, were flying to Midland, struck a power line and crashed into a cotton field.

* * *

The hospital said Applewhite's legs were mangled, his chest crushed and the bones in his face broken.

Arrested Under Sky-Pirate Law

1st Nabbed Under New Federal Ruling Hiding Weapon on Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Elbert Miller Brooks, his wife and 6-year-old son boarded a Piedmont Airlines plane here Sunday for a short flight to Roanoke, Va.

* * *

Ten minutes after the plane took off from National Airport a discovery was made that brought Brooks' arrest by the FBI—the first under the new federal sky-piracy law.

The FBI said the plane's purser discovered an automatic pistol wrapped in a newspaper on the seat near the 38-year-old Eagle Rock, Va., man.

The plane returned here and the FBI was notified. Agents charged Brooks with violation of the section of the new law making it a federal crime to carry a concealed weapon on an airliner.

Brooks, who said he had the German luger for protection, told agents he was not aware of the new law. He was released under a $250 bond

The statute, passed by congress after three airliner hijackings this year provides a maximum fine of $1,000 or up to a year in jail on conviction of the weapons charge

FORD WAGON—The top offering in Ford's station wagon line for 1962 is this four-door, nine-passenger Country Squire. The power-operated rear window is standard in this Squire as well as in the six-passenger Country Squire and in the nine-passenger Country Sedan. The Galaxie nine-passenger wagons have the only forward facing third seat in the low-priced car field. Tailgate openings on all of the wagons are more than 50" wide.

Ford Offers 13 Wagon Models

Ford will have the largest selection of station wagons in its history in 1962 — a total of 13 models.

* * *

Ford models for 1962 will be available at Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford, and John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave.

Announced today were five standard wagons, in addition to the eight Falcon wagon models revealed earlier this week.

The standard Ford wagons include the four-door, six passenger Ranch Wagon; the four-door, six- and nine-passenger Country Sedans; and the four-door, six- and nine-passenger Country Squires.

* * *

The five standard Ford wagon models have an easy-to-operate rolldown rear window in the tailgate. A power operated rear window is standard in the nine passenger Country Sedan and both Country Squire models. It is optional in the other two station wagon models.

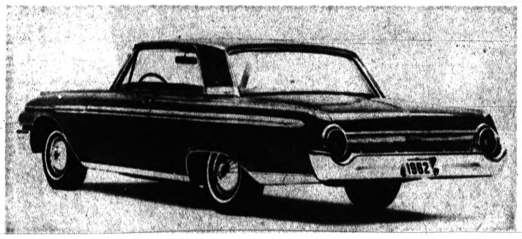
Ford tailgate openings, more than 50 inches wide, offer easy accessibility and spacious interiors will accommodate full-size 4-foot by 8-foot plywood boards, even with the tailgate closed.

Ford's nine-passenger wagons have the only forward facing third seat in the low priced automotive field, and the new, easy-to-fold second and third seats can be easily converted into a flat, level cargo floor.

* * *

Ford's selection of thirteen different station wagons for 1962, contrasts to the one model offered in 1929 by Ford.

GALAXIE SUNLINER—A crisp, fresh approach to Ford's classic styling is featured in the 1962 Ford Galaxie line. The Galaxie 500 Sunliner convertible is one of 12 models in the line. Though the new Galaxie is slightly shorter and fractionally narrower than the 1961 model, the large passenger compartment is the same size as 1961. The Sunliner top is anchored at each roof bow to prevent "ballooning" when under-way. The vinyl-lined top is stowed under a color-keyed boot.



GALAXIE 500 — This two-door hardtop, the Galaxie 500, is one of the 12 models in Ford's expanded Galaxie series for 1962. Its sculptured body gives the appearance of actual motion to unmistakably classic Ford lines. The recessed Thunderbird-like rear window and forward thrust of the roof emphasizes this appearance of movement.

Features Twice-a-Year Maintenance

Galaxie to Star in Ford Show

Featuring a crisp, fresh approach to Ford's classic straight-line styling, the 1962 Ford Galaxie incorporates major engineering advancements that reduce recommended owner maintenance to a convenient "twice-a-year" level.

Local dealers are John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave., and Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford.

For the first time, the Ford Galaxie is being offered in twelve models in two series: the Galaxie and the new Galaxie "500" series.

The 1962 Galaxie is the first regular production vehicle in automotive history to have a factory recommended 6,000-mile service interval, Ford officials said.

Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Ford Division, said that in addition to the many self-maintenance features introduced on the Galaxie last year, 1962 Galaxies will offer:

30,000 mile lubrication for wheel bearings.

A factory installed radiator coolant good for 35 degrees below zero and with a normal change interval of 30,000 miles or two years.

Extended fuel filter life of 30,000 miles.

A recommended oil change interval of 6,000 miles.

"These features, coupled with our 30,000-mile major lubrication schedule, self-adjusting brakes, double-wrapped aluminized muffler, and specially processed underbody parts," Iacocca said, "mean that the average 12,000-mile-a-year Galaxie owner will require normal maintenance on his vehicle only once every six months."

BRITISH—First '62 British economy car for the U.S. is the Hillman 1600. The new model features a larger engine for faster acceleration and higher speeds without loss of fuel economy. Other changes are in suspension, rear axle, gear ratios, steering and interior appointments.

FULL-SIZE LUXURY—That's the quality offered by the exclusive New Yorker series in the Chrysler 1962 line-up. Shown here is a four-door hardtop; four-door sedans and station wagons are also available. This series has a distinctively massive grille. New front section of all new Chryslers has canted headlights.

New Chrysler Stays Big

Chrysler's 1962 models will be new in appearance, improved in performance and unchanged in size, with emphasis on the new 300 sports series.

But there will be no junior editions of Chrysler, according to C. E. Briggs, vice president of the corporation and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division.

"This policy proved successful during the 1961 model year," Briggs said. "We gained in sales with Chrysler."

Chrysler models will go on sale Thursday at R and R Motors, Inc., 724 Oakland Ave.

AT LOWER PRICES

Briggs said the most important change in the Chrysler line-up will be the expansion of the 300 line of high-performance cars, which will now become available in a lower price range.

There also will be a 300H to carry on the tradition of previous 300 limited production models.

There will be a choice of three high-performance engines ranging up to 380 horsepower. In limited production will be a 405-horsepower, short ram, induction engine.

* * *

Improvements in all three series — New Yorker, 300 and Newport — include a new compact transmission, engine refinements for better cooling, quieter operation and economy; new quieter starting gear, lubricant-sealed chassis fittings, and a more efficient power braking system.

A total of 15 models is offered.

In styling, the most pronounced change in 1962 will be smooth side profile with accent on the front end of the car.

The new front section has gracefully canted headlights framing a powerful-looking grille. The cross bar grille which identified the 300G is the highlight of the 300 series. The New Yorker has a distinctively massive grille, while the Newport grille is a handsome grid pattern.

From the rear, the 1962 Chrysler has a low, gracefully wide appearance which comes from the clean, broad styling of the rear deck and its integration into the rear bumper. The tail lights are placed high for maximum visability.

The Newport and the new 300 series are built on a 122-inch wheelbase. The New Yorker retains its 126-inch wheelbase.

One of the most significant engineering achievements for 1962, Chrysler spokesmen feel, is the introduction of a completely new and greatly improved light-weight automatic transmission which replaces the previous TorqueFlite transmission used on Chrysler cars since 1957.

Complete with torque converter, the new transmission weighs about 60 pounds less than its predecessor. Its reduced size makes possible a lower and narrower transmission tunnel thereby increasing passenger room.

In line with the program to reduce maintenance and operating costs, Chrysler has virtually eliminated the need for regular lubrication. Fittings are prelubricated and sealed at the factory. This makes it possible to drive 32,000 miles between lubrications on major chassis points.

* * *

A new transmission oil filter being introduced this year increases the oil change interval to 32,000.

THE NEWPORT—This full-size economy car was the most popular model in 1961, Chrysler reports. The 1962 Newport two-door model (shown here) continues to offer big car advantages in a lower price range. It features new rear-end styling, new grille, and it is available with the Newport 305-horsepower engine combining economy and performance.

Itching Back Leads to Wreck

Teen-Age Driver Hits Sheriff's Cars, Garage in Lapeer Mishap

LAPEER — Maxine M. Bibber will have no difficulty resisting the urge to scratch her back in the future — especially while she's driving in the neighborhood of a police station.

* * *

Maxine, a 16-year-old who has had her driver's license less than six months told police she had a temptation to scratch her back last night while driving her father's 1961 automobile.

She soothed her itching back when she was about to make a left hand turn from Cedar Street on to Clay Street, she said.

The Lapeer County Sheriff's Department garage and jail are located at the intersection.

* * *

While attempting to apply the brakes to stop at Clay Street, Maxine said she missed and hit the wrong pedal—the accelerator.

PUSHES VEHICLE

The auto she was driving picked up speed and struck a sheriff's department patrol car parked alongside the jail. The impact moved the police car about 10 feet.

* * *

Her car kept moving in the direction of the police garage where it ripped off two sliding doors, knocked down an 8-foot brick column and came to rest against another patrol car parked inside.

Sheriff's deputies said the car inside the garage was a new 1962 model which had never been used. Damage to this vehicle was not serious, according to police.

However, sheriff's deputies said the first car, a 1961, was a total wreck. Maxine was not injured. The car she was driving was badly damaged.

* * *

Maxine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bibber of 4061 Genesee Road, told police she was only trying to scratch her back.

New Edition of Guide Covers Changes Made Since Last Printing

The new Metropark Guide for 1961-62 is now available for distribution, Kenneth E. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority announced today.

Supplied without charge, the guide is a map in color illustrating Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority park lands, state recreation areas, and highway routes throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne—the area served by the authority.

Just off the press is the fourth printing of this popular map with revised information covering changes since it was issued three years ago. Published this month, it shows the locations and lists the facilities of the Authority's loop of seven parks from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie.

Authority parks include Metropolitan Beach, along Lake St. Clair near Mount Clemens; Marshbank Metropolitan Park, fronting on Cass Lake and located 6 miles west of Pontiac; and Kensington Metropolitan Park, along Highway U.S.16 southeast of Brighton.

Also the three parks along the Huron River southwest of Ann Arbor which include Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park, Dexter-Huron Metropolitan Park and Delhi Metropolitan Park; and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, located along U.S.12 between Detroit Metropolitan Airport and Belleville.

The new map includes present and proposed expressway routes and the location of Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, a 4,000-acre recreation site presently under construction 3 miles northwest of Rochester astride the Macomb-Oakland line. Tentative opening date for limited public use is 1964.

* * *

Available for free distribution, this may may be obtained by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit 26, or by visiting the authority's park offices.

Mayor Fights Contract To Slam 'Illegal' Action Tonight

Says Mayor Pro-Tem Had No Right to OK Easlick for Position

SOUTHFIELD — The battle between members of the City Council and Mayor S. James Clarkson over the appointment of former City Assessor Gerald Easlick as planning consultant will continue at tonight's council meeting.

Clarkson is expected to tell the council that Easlick's contract — signed by Council President C. Hugh Dohany in the mayor's absence — is illegal.

City Attorney James C. Allen has ruled that, according to the city charter, Dohany, acting as mayor pro-tem, did not have the authority to sign the contract.

Clarkson said today that as far as he is concerned Southfield is still without a city assessor, assessor-consultant and city planner. He has notified City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery to stop all paychecks to Easlick.

The mayor fired Easlick in June. Council members then appointed Easlick to the newly-created position of assessing consultant.

Later Clarkson vetoed the appointment. His action was overruled by the council and Clarkson, in turn, refused to sign Easlick's contract.

FULL-TIME PLANNER

It is also expected the mayor will appoint a full-time city planner at tonight's session.

Council members discovered at the meeting last week that they had been without a city planner for more than a week. Alb Munson's contract as part-time city planner had expired.

The mayor promised the council he would appoint a full-time planner at tonight's meeting.

Job Reinstated for Employe

Court Says Mrs. Dillon to Get Back Pay for 3 Years at Lapeer Home

LAPEER — A former Lapeer State Home and Training School employe expected to return to work today after the State Supreme Court ruled that her firing in 1958 was based on a lack of evidence.

The Supreme Court has reversed the dismissal of Mrs. Lottie E. Dillon by a 6 to 1 vote. The State Civil Service Commission had charged her with conduct unbecoming a state employe.

The court record, according to Justice Thomas M. Kavanaugh, "shows complete lack of proof of the allegations."

She was accused of stealing clothing, linens, kitchen ware, food and other items from the institution and was dismissed in October 1958.

Mrs. Dillon's husband Elmer was accused of helping in the thefts. The charges against him later were dropped and he was reinstated in his job.

However, Dillon revealed today that he quit his job in 1960 after being reinstated. He and his wife now are operating an antique store at their home, 2494 Imlay City Road, Lapeer Township.

"They made it so tough on me that I had to quit," said Dillon. He said his wife planned to return to her old job as soon as she heard from officials at the institution.

Kavanaugh and two other justices asserted that Mrs. Dillon should be reinstated to her former position with full back pay for the three years.

Civil Service authorities estimated her pay would total $13,500 minus any income she might have earned during the three years.

Because his son Leland Jr. represented Mrs. Dillon in the case, Justice Leland W. Carr did not participate in the decision.

Two Youths, 19, Found Guilty Over Drag Race

AVON TOWNSHIP — Two 19-year-old youths have been found guilty of reckless driving by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green as a result of their drag race here Thursday.

John Wuest, 550 Whims Lane, Oakland Township, was ordered to pay $40 in fines and court costs and sentenced to four days in jail by Justice Green.

Wuest, who admitted trying to escape from Romeo state police in his souped-up automobile, also was placed on one year's probation. He will serve an additional 20 days in jail if the fines and costs are not paid.

Police said Wuest failed to stop for a red light and a stop sign while they were chasing him through Rochester and Avon Township at speeds up to 90 miles per hour.

James Basch, 2463 W. Hamlin Road, was released after paying $65 in fines and costs. Officers said Basch stopped his car at the red light when they began chasing Wuest's auto.

Bus Employes to Vote on Ending Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — Members of Local 1265 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America will vote Tuesday afternoon on a company offer to end the 8-week-old strike against Intertown Suburban Lines.

The suburban bus lines serve western Wayne County suburbs and an estimated 30,000 commuters have been inconvenienced by the strike. Some of the communities, including Dearborn and Lincoln Park, have started jitney service to replace the idled buses.

Mediators during the eight weeks have been pessimistic, but in announcing the company offer at the end of last week, federal mediator James Burke and state mediator Walter Quillico called it a major change in the state of negotiations.

Buy Cram Book for Child's Test?

Teacher Writes Such an Aid for IQ Exams but Is Criticized

NEW YORK (UPI)—Comes now a cram book for an intelligence test.

The author doesn't claim it will make your child more intelligent overnight or ever.

* * *

But he does expect it will help him get a better score on a standard IQ test. And this, he says, may open educational doors sometimes closed to the student who scores as a dullard.

Whether this is good is debatable, according to at least one educator.

But "30 Days to a Higher IQ for Your Child," by Sam Rosenfeld, a Long Island high school science teacher, does look like fun, which is what its author intended.

* * *

Designed for children nine years old and over, the book contains a series of sample game-like tests—combinations of mazes, "What's wrong with this picture?," "How many triangles in this picture?," simple arithmetic and matching and differentiation games.

* * *

Also included are exercises to improve reading, vocabulary and number skills.

STILL USED

Rosenfeld believes that although the IQ test has been widely discredited as an absolute measure of intelligence, its scores still are used without question by many educators as a measure of a child's ability.

This being true, he says, it's worthwhile for a youngster to work for a high score which could give him a chance at advanced class placement.

Dr. Morris Krugman, an associate superintendent of New York City schools and a professional psychologist, agrees with Rosenfeld that this kind of practice can make a child "test-wise" and thus improve his score. He's not so sure it's a good idea.

* * *

Krugman said most school systems have stopped viewing the IQ score as the sole or even major indication of a child's ability. And, in his opinion, a child who is placed in a class that is above his ability can get in just as much trouble as one placed too low.

Woman Drives Into River After Spat With Hubby

FLINT (UPI) — An inexperienced woman driver, who drove away from her home when she got mad at her husband, ended up in the Flint River yesterday, police said.

After being rescued, the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Chatman, 25, told officers there was a man in the car with her and officers quickly mustered a force to search for the alleged victim. However, her husband, Laurine, arrived on the scene an hour or so after the accident and said his wife was alone in the car.

But in the meantime, two wreckers, two ambulances, 19 policemen and several firemen had joined in the search. When the car was finally recovered, dragging operations immediately began.

Chatman told officers that his wife, who could not drive, jumped in the car and left when she got mad at him. Mrs. Chatman told police she must have lost her memory.

Would Cut Plan to Aid Integration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Rights Commission has urged Congress to slice in half all education grants to states which maintain totally segregated elementary and secondary schools.

The commission also recommended Sunday night in a report to President Kennedy that grants to other states be reduced in direct proportion to the percentage of pupils enrolled in all-white or all-Negro schools.

It also called for halting federal aid to segregated libraries, colleges and universities.

The commission complained that progress in school integration had been "slow, indeed" in the North, East and West, as well as the South.

School aid grants to Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina would be halved. These funds would be trimmed for Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Texas.

2ND RECOMMENDATION

The proposal was one of 12 recommendations made by the commission in the second of five reports to be prepared this year. The first report, on voting, was released earlier this month.

* * *

Only 44 school districts in 17 Southern and border states have started integration, the report said. All these are under court orders or pressure of pending suits.

* * *

In districts where integration has taken place, only a few Negroes have been admitted to formerly all-white schools, the commission said.

* * *

"In the North and the West," it said, "where segregation by race, color, religion or national origin is not officially countenanced, it exists in fact in many public schools."

It termed the court decision in the New Rochelle, N.Y., school case as "the most significant single event affecting equal protection of the laws in public education" since the Supreme Court's 1958 ruling on the Little Rock case.

The report said the New Rochelle case, in effect, placed the burden on the school districts to make certain that segregation was not achieved through gerrymandering of neighborhood communities.

No specific recommendations were offered pertaining to segregation outside the South. The commission said the New Rochelle case would provide guidelines for integration in those areas.

The major proposals included:

—A law ordering all school boards to file an integration plan within six months and begin it at the start of the following school year.

—Technical or financial assistance to local school systems starting an integration program.

—A survey of the school problem of servicemen stationed in localities where segregation exists and of steps needed to assure integrated schools for their children.

Baltimore Running Power Stopped

Invincible Lions' Defense?—No, but Tough

Martin's 49-Yard Boot Brings 16-15 Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BALTIMORE — Don't call the defense of the Detroit Lions invincible (not yet anyway), but just say it's "plenty tough." This was Joe Schmidt, proud captain of the defensive unit talking after yesterday's 16-15 nerve-racking victory in Baltimore.

For the second week in a row, against Green Bay last week, the Lions stopped two of the most high powered offensive teams in the Western Division.

"No team is invincible in this league," said Schmidt, "but if this defensive unit can stay healthy it can be one of the best in pro ball."

Last week against Green Bay, the power-runners of the Packers, Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor had to be content with 109 yards between them. Yesterday, an equally strong pair, Lenny Moore and Joe "the Jet" Perry were grudgingly allowed 78 yards. It was a different story for Perry, who a week before, picked 106 yards himself against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Colts certainly have the ingredients of the great championship teams of 1958-59, but Johnny Unitas appears to have lost his poise (or maybe his nerve) as the heralded third-down field general he was known to be.

The classy Colt passer may not be getting the protection he has been so used to getting, but he also seems to be a little shy in carrying the ball when the opportunity arises.

In the second quarter with third down and less than a yard, Unitas elected to pass and was smeared by Wayne Walker thus forcing a punting situation.

In the third quarter with third down and two yards to go with a wide open sideline to pick up the yardage, he hurried his throw far over the head of his receiver. Another time he elected to run out of bounds rather than get hit trying for an extra yard.

PRESSURE ON UNITAS

Of course the Lions put plenty of pressure on Unitas but it was his own doing which helped. Schmidt pointed out that Unitas was giving the quick count and it prevented the Lions from interior red-dogging.

This forced Walker and Carl Brettschneider to red-dog from the outside and they performed their duties especially well.

* * *

Heroes were plenty for the Lions, who now have disposed of the two toughest teams in the Western Division and get ready for a four game home stand.

The oldest player on the team, 37-year-old Jim Martin, should probably take the first bows.

His 49-yard shot-gun field goal with four minutes to play, provided the margin of victory.

A minute earlier, the Colts had just scored on a pass from Unitas to Moore, eight yards, to take a 15-13 lead. It looked hopeless for the Lions when the ensuing drive was halted by Billy Boyd's interception of Morrall's pass at midfield.

On the first play however, big Roger Brown rattled rookie fullback Mark Smolinski with a jarring tackle. The ball sprung loose into the arms of Alex Karras and at 8:25 to play the Lions had the ball on the Colt 45.

On the next play Gail Cogdill was called for offensive pass interference and the Lions were back on their own 40. Danny Lewis got 14, Nick Pietrosante got two and a third down pass failed thus setting the stage for Martin's field goal. The ball started out like a low line drive and started wavering to the right, but it just cleared the cross bar and 54,259 praying Baltimore fans dropped their silent jaws in dismay.

The first half produced some weird scoring. The Colts got first blood on Steve Myrha's 42 yard boot at 7:54 of the first quarter.

MORRALL JITTERY

Morrall looked jittery throughout the first half. The Lions got a first down on the Colt 22, but three plays failed to gain and Martin tied the score at 3-3.

A beautiful pass interception by Yale Lary started the Lions' march from the Colt 44 to the five. Three times Morrall was smeared and the 4th time, Carl Taseff intercepted on the three to kill the threat.

Jim Ninowski came a few minutes later and he too had his troubles. Gino Marchetti smashed through, ran over Bob Schultz, trying to block for Ninowski, and smeared Ninowski in the end zone for a safety. This was a 5-3 halftime score.

Martin started the second half with a 28-yard field goal in the opening minutes.

A bad punt from his own 28, out of bounds on the Colt 48 by Tom Gilburg set up the Lions' only touchdown. Morrall spotted Terry Barr in the end zone and with three players Bob Harrison, Jim Welch and Andy Nelson all around him, Barr made a sensational catch for the TD to make it 13-5.

* * *

Myrha's 12 yarder made 13-8 a couple minutes later and the Unitas to Moore pass in the 4th quarter made it 15-13.

The Lions almost lost it in the waning seconds. With 58 seconds to play, Pietrosante plunged over the line trying for first down to keep possession. The ball slipped out of his grasp and jerseys went diving from all sides. When the mass of players was removed, Morrall was at the bottom holding dearly to the pigskin. Morrall then held the ball for the final 31 seconds.

* * *

The 90 degree heat prevented the tired, wilted players from any wild locker room celebration. Bill Glass gave out with the loudest cheer—"hot dog."

At the 45th hour, the leaders had covered 804 miles and 4 laps.

WINNING BOOT—Detroit Lions placekicking specialist Jim Martin cuts loose with his game-winning 49-yard field goal against the Baltimore Colts in the final four minutes of yesterday's game at Baltimore. Martin's kick gave the Lions a 16-15 victory over the Colts. Earl Morrall (14) holds the ball for the boot as Colts Art Donovan (70) and Andy Nelson (80) try to block the effort.

HEAD KNOCKING FOOTBALL—Detroit Lions fullback Johnny Olszewski puts his head down and drives for a first down on the Baltimore 29-yard line in the 2nd quarter of Sunday's NFL game at Baltimore. Colt halfback Bob Harrison (20) and Billy Ray Smith (83) make the jarring tackle. Lion quarterback Earl Morrall (left) and Colt tackle Jim Colvin look on from the rear. The Lions edged the Colt, 16-15.

Martin Is Oldest Lion With 'Priceless Toe'

There must be something about the toe of a football player that doesn't keep up with his age. At least it would seem so in the case of Jim Martin, the Detroit Lions' ace field goal kicker.

At the age of 37, Martin is the "daddy" of the team, but he still has as much zest as anyone on the squad.

Martin has been in pro football for 12 years and strangely his best kicking has been in the last three years, ages which are usually considered "old" in pro ranks.

Yesterday's 49 yard field goal which gave the Lions' a 16-15 win over the Baltimore Colts was Martin's 4th longest of his career and oddly enough three of the four have been against the Colts.

Last year he booted 52 and 51 yarders and a 40 yarder in one game against Baltimore. In 1959 he had a 50 yard boot.

Yesterday's kick was "one of my big ones," said Maritn, "although they're all big for me, whether from the five or the 50."

From 1951 to 1955, the kicking chores rested with Doak Walker, although Martin did have a few. In 1956 he made four of 10 and as he got older his record improved each year. Last year he made 13 of 24 including the longest of his career.

Against Green Bay he has made one for one and the three yesterday gave him four in a row. In both games his field goals were the margin of victories.

The former Notre Dame star with a great service record as a member of the Marine Corps during the war, is also an ex-boxer and is considered to have the perfect well-built physique among the Lions.

"He's one guy I wouldn't advise anyone to get tough with," said coach George Wilson. Martin's home is Anaheim, California.

He has no immediate plans for retirement, in fact he just might stay in pro football and establish the record of being the oldest player in the game.

His career record now stands at 45 field goals in 99 attempts. It is unlikely he will ever break the record of 131 field goals for his career which is held by Lou Groza, but he could set the mark for one season at his present pace. Groza kicked 23 during the 1953 season.

One thing is certain. The Lions are protecting their "priceless toe" by giving him only limited duties as a linebacker.

It's no wonder that when Buddy Parker left to coach the Steelers he admitted that if he had his choice of Lion players he would take Martin. The Steelers could have used him the last two weeks as they have lost both games by the margin of a field goal.

Tigers Clinch Tie for Second Place

Spahn Posts 20th Victory 12th Time

By The Associated Press

National League historians may label 1961 the year of Warren Spahn. The Milwaukee pitcher reached the 300-victory mark in mid-summer and hasn't stopped yet. Spahn's 20th victory Sunday marked the 12th time he has scaled that peak, breaking his own major league record for left-handers.

The 40-year-old marvel now has won 308 in his career, tying him with Hoss Radbourne for 11th place on the all-time list. His 55 shutouts are tops for a lefty. The only pitchers who have won 20 as often are Walter Johnson (12) Christy Mathewson (13) and Cy Young (16).

Spahn left nothing for chance in his third bid for No. 20. He shut out Chicago with two hits 8-0 in the first game of a doubleheader and contributed two doubles and a single. The Cubs won the second game 4-2.

* * *

Meanwhile, back in the pennant race, Cincinnati edged a step closer despite a 12-5 drubbing at the hands of San Francisco. Because St. Louis beat Los Angeles 8-7, any combination of two Reds' victories or Dodger defeats would end it. The magic number is only one to clinch a tie.

The Giants scored nine runs in the fourth inning, including a grand slam homer by Orlando Cepeda, routing Joey Jay in the Reds' last home game. Cincinnati plays only four more, one at Chicago and three at Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles trailed 6-0 at one stage and just missed by one run in a ninth inning rally. As it turned out the winning run was driven in by Stan Musial's pinch double in the seventh, which put the Cards out front 8-5 at that time. The Dodgers have six to play, all on the road with two each at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

* * *

In the other National League game, Pittsburgh put together four straight singles by Dick Groat, Don Clendenon, Dick Stuart and Bob Skinner to score two runs in the seventh for a 4-3 edge over Philadelphia.

Spahn's feat of winning 20 was remarkable considering that he got off slowly and didn't win No. 10 until July 30. However he lost only one of his last 11 decisions, to Los Angeles in his first bid for his 20th, and failed to list against the Giants although he was not the pitcher of record.

Washington Hurler Has Best ERA

One-Hitter for 'Reject' Donovan

By The Associated Press

Dick Donovan, a "reject" who was tossed into the talent pool by Chicago when the American League expanded to 10 clubs last winter, shapes up as one of the best stories of the year.

* * *

The veteran right-hander, drafted by the lean and player-hungry Washington Senators for $75,000, practically clinched the league's earned run title Sunday when he pitched a one-hitter against the Minnesota Twins. The only hit was a home run by Joe Altobelli with one out in the seventh.

* * *

Unofficial pitching averages show Donovan has an earned run mark of 2.32. The nine innings against the Twins gave him 163 for the season, one over the revised required minimum (one inning for every game scheduled). Luis Arroyo of New York and Hoyt Wilhelm of Baltimore have lower averages but they can't qualify on innings pitched.

Considering that Donovan lost his first five, missed almost two months with various ailments, his 10-9 record for a last place club comes under the heading of minor miracles.

The M and M boys failed to connect for a home run in Boston where Roger Maris settled for a single and Mickey Mantle went hitless as the Yankees lost 3-1 to Bill Monbouquette.

Maris, still one short of Babe Ruth's season total of 60, has five more games to play in the 162-decision schedule. All of them are at home, two with Baltimore and three with Boston. Mantle has been in and out of the lineup recently, suffering from a bad cold.

Baltimore clinched third place with a 5-3 second game victory over Chicago after the White Sox took the opener 8-7.

* * *

Detroit topped Los Angeles in 10 innings 7-5 when Ken Hunt, whose eighth inning pinch homer tied the score, dropped a fly ball for a two-run error. The victory assured the Tigers of no worse than a tie for second place.

The Cleveland-Kansas City game was washed out in the second inning and was cancelled.

Before Altobelli hit his home run in the Twins' stadium, only three men had reached base against Donovan, two on walks and one on an error. Only one man had hit the ball out of the infield. Following the homer, Donovan retired the last eight men he faced. Jim Kaat was the loser.

* * *

The only Yankee run in Boston came on Bill Skowron's 28th homer. Maris gave the crowd of 30,802 a thrill when he lined a foul into the right field seats in the eighth. Jackie Jensen made a sensational catch on a long smash by Mantle in the sixth.

Jim Gentile hit his 45th homer for Baltimore in the first game at Chicago but it wasn't enough.

Shoots Ace at Municipal

Chester Singleton of Pontiac rifled the first hole-in-one of his golfing career over the weekend at Pontiac Municipal golf course. Singleton, who lives at 279 Central St., used his 8-iron to ace the 127-yard 4th hole on the South nine. Witnesses included former city golf champion Butler Cooper, Julius Cattlet and Harold Daniels. Singleton also eagled the 7th hole and shot par 35 for the round.

Outfield Error Helps Bengals to 7-5 Win

Detroit Uses 6 Hurlers in Los Angeles Game; Koplitz Triumphs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers didn't win the American League pennant but they did cinch at least a tie for second place.

The Tigers did it yesterday by clipping the oft-beaten Los Angeles Angels 7-5 in a 10-inning contest. It was the Angels' seventh straight loss and their 14th to Detroit in 18 games.

The game was knotted 5-5 in the 10th when Angel outfielder Ken Hunt dropped a fly ball with two outs and let in two runs.

Art Fowler, the last of four Los Angeles pitchers, retired the first two batters in the 10th, then walked Norm Cash and Steve Boros.

Jake Wood arrived at the plate, slapped a short looping fly to right and three Los Angeles players went for what seemed an easy out. But although Hunt had the ball in his glove near the foul line it popped out and Cash and Boros scored.

Hunt had been a hero earlier when he pulled the Angels into a 5-5 tie by belting a pinch-hit homer in the eighth.

The Tigers used six pitchers in the three-hour and 12-minute contest. The victory went to rookie Howie Koplitz (1-0). Fowler was the loser. He was one of four pitchers used by the Angels.

The Tigers were trailing 4-0 when they got a run in the fifth on doubles by Boros and Wood. They got three more in the seventh to tie it up. The tallies came on singles by Wood and Dick Brown, Al Kaline's pinch double and Bubba Morton's pinch single.

Detroit took a one-run lead in the eighth on singles by Rocky Colavito and Cash plus a wild pitch by Ryne Duren but Hunt tied it up in the bottom of the inning with his homer.

The Tigers play the Kansas City Athletics in a twi-night doubleheader today. Don Mossi (15-7) and Ron Kline (8-8) are slated to start for Detroit. They will be opposed by Jim Archer (9-13) and Bob Shaw (11-13).

Swinging at Bad Pitches

Pressure Bothers Maris

BOSTON (AP)—"I thought the pressure would be off me after the 154th game. But I was wrong. It's worse than ever now. The way things are going I don't even think I'll hit 60 home runs by the end of the season."

Disappointment was written all over his features as Roger Maris talked today of his steadily slimming chances to become the first man since Babe Ruth to hit 60 home runs in a season.

* * *

"Honest to goodness," the New York Yankee slugger muttered, "a guy could go out of his mind. Every pitch, every ball. You know you shouldn't be swinging at some of those pitches—they're so bad—but you do. You know you're hurting yourself. The average keeps going down. But what good do those bases on balls do?

"I guess it's my pride—or just plain stubbornness that makes me go after pitches I shouldn't. They're not giving me anything to hit. They're more concerned with getting me to go after a bad pitch than in getting me out.

"But I've got to swing. I've got to give myself a chance. I'd rather go out swinging than go out walking."

Maris drew only one walk in four times at bat Sunday but right-hander Bill Monbouquette, who permitted the Yankees only five hits in pitching Boston to a 3-1 triumph, served Roger only three good pitches, according to the outfielder's count.

"I popped up the first one, singled on another and fouled the third into the stands," he said.

The walk, Maris' third in two days, came in the first inning.

Pistons Return to Home Court for Daily Drills

PORT HURON, Mich (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association will finish their two-a-day drills today at their training site and return tomorrow to Detroit.

Tuesday afternoon they will begin training at their new Cobo Hall Arena home. Twice daily practices will continue Wednesday, Thursday and Friday before coach Dick McGuire sends his club to Morris, Ill., for the opening exhibition clash on Sept. 30 against the new Chicago Packers.

Rookie Doug Kistler voluntarily withdrew from the squad after Saturday's practice, leaving 13 players in camp, plus veteran Walter Dukes.

Dukes will remain idle for a few more days to fully recover from a summer appendectomy.

Kickers Pace Victorious Browns, Giants and Packers

Cowboys, Eagles Stay Unbeaten

By United Press International

The talented toes of the field goal specialists are paying off again in the National Football League, but it's the Dallas Cowboys who are getting the biggest "kick" out of the young campaign.

Jim Martin of the Detroit Lions, Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns, Pat Summerall of the New York Giants and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers all did some crucial kicking in winning Sunday games.

The Cowboys didn't boot any field goals but they got their "kicks" just the same by knocking over the Minnesota Vikings, 21-7, for their second straight victory.

With two weeks gone in the tough N.F.L. schedule, there are only three undefeated teams, and the Cowboys are in this elite class with the Lions and the champion Philadelphia Eagles.

Next Sunday could be the day of reckoning, though, when the Cowboys travel to Cleveland to meet the Browns.

The past Sunday was a day of the toe as N.F.L. clubs kicked 13 field goals in six games.

Groza, who was hauled out of retirement this season specifically for this purpose, booted a pair of three-pointers, his second coming from 19 yards out with 35 seconds left on the clock and earning the Browns a come-from-behind 20-17 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Summerall kicked only one field goal and it came as early as the third period. But his 19-yarder provided the Giants with their margin of victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-14.

The champion Eagles had a tough battle with the Washington Redskins before winning, 14-7, for their second straight victory; the Cowboys, who did not win a game in their initial N.F.L. season last year, made it two in a row by beating the Minnesota Vikings, 21-7; and the Packers bounced the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 30-10. In a Saturday night game, the Chicago Bears beat the Los Angeles Rams, 21-17.

The favored Browns trailed the Cardinals, 17-10 in the final period, when they rallied before a home crowd of 50,443. A 41-yard touchdown pass from Milt Plum to Leon Clarke tied the score. Rookie Tom Watkins' 18-yard sprint during the final minute put the ball in position for Groza's winning kick.

St. Louis had built up its early lead on a pair of touchdown passes from Sam Etcheverry to Sonny Randle during the first half.

Don Meredith and a pair of power-running rookies, Don Perkins and Amos Marsh, played starring roles in the Cowboys' win over the Vikings before an estimated crowd of 20,500 at Dallas.

Merredith ran 20 yards for one touchdown and passed 19 yards to Marsh for another. Marsh also scored Dallas' first TD on a 6-yard run. Perkins gained 108 yards in 17 rushes.

Y. A. Tittle came off the Giants' bench in the third period immediately after Summerall's field goal and guided the touchdown march that enabled New York to withstand the Steelers' late comeback before 38,587 at Pittsburgh.

Tittle hit on 10 of 12 passes, including a 5-yard scoring toss to Joe Morrison. The defense saved the Giants in the final period. With the Steelers driving into New York territory late in the game, Andy Robustelli jarred the ball out of Steeler quarterback Rudy Bukich's arms and tackle Jim Katcavage picked the fumble out of the air and ran to the Pittsburgh 24, ending the threat.

The champion Eagles needed a 23-yard TD pass from Sonny Jurgensen to Tommy McDonald in the third period to beat the dogged Redskins before 50,108 fans at Philadelphia. An earlier 80-yard pass play from Redskin rookie quarterback Norm Snead to Fred Duggan had tied the score. Jurgensen also passed 52 yards to Pete Retzlaff for Philadelphia's first TD.

Hornung scored a touchdown and kicked three placements and three field goals as the Packers rebounded from their opening defeat and beat San Francisco before 38,669 at Green Bay. Hornung and Jim Taylor accounted for 114 of the Packers' 124 rushing yards. Tommy Davis kicked a 46-yard Forty-Niner field goal that set a club record.

Single Drills for 'M'-MSU

UCLA Home Opener for Wolverines Next Saturday

By United Press International

Michigan football coach Bump Elliott and Michigan State mentor Duffy Daugherty today will move their teams through single practice sessions as they look ahead to tough season openers next Saturday.

Wolverine foe UCLA, considered a top threat for Pacific Coast honors this fall, opened with a 19-6 victory over Air Force, while MSU's opponent, Wisconsin, edged Utah, 7-0, Saturday.

UCLA, which will play in Ann Arbor, sported a more than adequate successor to departed tailback Bill Kilmer in Bobby Smith. He scored all three touchodwns in plugging the "hole" left by Kilmer, last year's national total offense leader.

Wisconsin scored on a pass from Ron Miller to Pat Richter—the same combination which paced the Badger offense last season.

Daugherty said he planned to emphasize pass defense in preparation for the Spartans' trip to Madison and their bout with Miller, Richter and Co.

Grid Powers Open on Saturday

By The Associated Press
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the teams ranked in the top 10 in the pre-season Associated Press college football poll get away to belated starts next Saturday, and the late starters include Iowa and Ohio State, the Big Ten powers ranked 1 and 2, respectively.

Iowa entertains California at Iowa City and the Buckeyes are hosts to a surprisingly strong Texas Christian which upset eighth-ranked Kansas last Saturday 17-16.

★ ★ ★

The third of the top 10 making its debut is Michigan State, which plunges right into the Big Ten title competition in a game at Wisconsin. The Badgers were hard-pressed to turn back a stubborn Utah eleven on a muddy field last Saturday 7-0.

California was thoroughly beaten by fourth-ranked Texas in its first start 28-3, so Iowa's performance against the Golden Bears will be watched with keen interest.

★ ★ ★

Aside from Kansas, the only other team in the pre-season top 10 to be upended Saturday was LSU, picked as No. 5. LSU bowed to Rice 16-3 before a crowd of 73,000 at Houston.

Alabama, rated No. 3, indicated it is to be reckoned with for national honors as it rolled over Georgia 32-6. Seventh-ranked Penn State had its troubles, but defeated Navy with a last-period surge 20-10.

Mississippi (No. 9) swarmed over Arkansas in last Saturday's nationally televised game 16-0, and 10th ranked Syracuse defeated Oregon State 19-8.

Two prolonged losing streaks went by the boards in Saturday's play. Virginia, winless in its 28 preceding games, snapped out of its doldrums to outscore William and Mary 21-6, and Stanford edged out Tulane 9-7 for its first victory in 12 starts. New Mexico State's 16-game winning streak was stopped by New Mexico 41-7.

In other games Saturday Duke barely got by South Carolina 7-6, Wyoming upset North Carolina State 15-14, Kansas State upset Indiana 14-8, Maryland downed SMU 14-6, Missouri whipped Washington State 28-6, Purdue downed Washington 13-6 and Iowa State upset Oklahoma State in the first Big Eight encounter 14-7.

★ ★ ★

Five of the current members of the top 10 turn night owls this week. Saturday night Alabama is at Tulane, Texas is host to Texas Tech, LSU entertains Texas Aggies and Mississippi invades Kentucky. Penn State meets Miami (Fla.) at Miami Friday night.

Kansas will seek to regain some lost prestige against Wyoming Saturday afternoon, and Syracuse meets West Virginia.

Uses Hot Putter to Edge Hill

Casper Wins at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Billy Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., closed with a rush in the final nine holes Sunday and won his third straight Portland Open Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Casper finished with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 under par on the 6,675-yard Columbia-Edgewater Course. He matched 5-under par rounds of 67 in the final two days of the four-day, $25,000 open tourney.

Young Dave Hill of Denver, Colo., who held a three-stroke lead over Casper going into the final round, finished second with 274 and a 71 for the round.

"I was worried all the way," said Casper, whose deadly clutch putting finally caught up with the 24-year-old Denver Open Champion on the 12th hole.

★ ★ ★

Casper evened the score in spectacular fashion. After reaching the green of the par 5, 532-yard hole in two strokes, he holed a 16½ foot eagle putt which traveled downhill and to the right.

The shot seemed to unnerve Hill, who lost the lead going 1-over-par on the par 3, 13th hole.

Casper calmly sank a short putt on the final hole to wrap up the tense match. Moments earlier, Hill had barely missed a bold 40-foot putt which would have given him a tie with the defending champion.

The victory was worth $3,500 to Casper. Hill received $2,300.

Rams Beaten, Our Lady Lakes Drops Squeaker

Cranes Take Groves, Emmanuel 18-0 Loser; Hawks, Sorrows Win

St. Michael got off to a successful start in the league and Orchard Lake remained unbeaten in come-from-behind triumphs featuring the 2nd week of Suburban Catholic play yesterday.

The Rams of St. Frederick were trampled 41-6 by St. Clement and Royal Oak St. Mary nipped Our Lady of the Lakes 7-6 in other loop tilts. Royal Oak Shrine and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows continued perfect seasons with Sunday wins.

Cranbrook opened happily under new boss Pete Slader with a 13-6 conquest of Birmingham Groves, Emmanuel dropped an 18-0 verdict to Huron, Ortonville kept rolling by taking Birch Run 18-14 and L'Anse Creuse walloped Clintondale 26-6 in Saturday games.

Heavy rains marred games on both days.

St. Mike didn't get going until it started to rain at the St. Benedict field. Trailing 12-0 after one period, the Shamrocks roared back to go ahead 14-12 by halftime and that turned out to be the final score.

Gary Hintz ran 60 yards for the 1st Mike TD of the season and Larry Sonnenberg ran the extra point. The visitors went ahead to stay on a 30-yard Sonnenberg-to-Charlie Daul pass. Hintz ran the PAT.

A 60-yard gallop by Sonnenberg gave the Shamrocks another chance just before the half ended but that threat faltered as did two in the 2nd part of the game. Hintz, Jerry Martin and 130-pound fullback Bill Harding ran well for the victors. Jim Hurren starred in the line.

Orchard Lake matched St. Clement at 2-0 with a 22-14 upset of St. James sparked by the running of Stan Garwood. He made the three Eaglet touchdowns on end runs covering 3, 6, and 20 yards. Walt Smela rushed for two PATs and Stan Sawicki tackled enemy quarterback Walt Motyka in the end zone for a safety.

The Ferndale eleven started fast reaching pay dirt on a 15-yard Motyka flip to Dave LaPrairie. It was 7-7 at halftime but St. Mary completely dominated the last half scoring 15 points in the 3rd period. Motyka passed for the other James TD and for both extra points. Eaglet linemen Tony Halat and Tom Summers led a strong defense which held Dale rushing ace Ron Koteles in check and forced numerous fumbles.

St. Fred was never in its game. An 80-yard kickoff return by Fred Medina in the last half avoided a shutout. Six different Clement players got touchdowns.

Our Lady of the Lakes made a disappointing showing at Royal Oak. Coach Bob Minewasser singled out only two-way line vet Lou Mettler for praise.

Royal Oak opened the scoring in the 2nd quarter on a 60-yard run and extra point kick. George Sharpe matched the TD on a 13-yard scamper shortly after but a PAT run failed. St. Mary got to the 2 once and dominated the 2nd half.

Shrine defeated Dearborn Sacred Heart 12-6. Cam Welsh went over from the 3 in the last second of the initial half and Chuck Lowther ran 47 for the other tally. Dearborn recovered a fumble in the end zone for its points.

Jeff Barth of OLS broke up a scoreless tussle with a 25-yard touchdown run and passed for another in a 12-0 conquest of St. Francis Xavier. Barth, who gained 127 yards, fired 15 yards to Dave Ormsby in the 4th quarter. Line ace Tony Sutter excelled both ways.

Dick Mosher hit Larry Hard with a seven-yard aerial and Dave Schultz crashed to pay dirt from two yards out for Cranbrook. Doug Moore went four following a fumble recovery for Groves' tally.

Huron scored in each of the 1st three periods featuring a strong ground attack which piled up 234 yards. A clipping penalty nullified a Lancer TD. Ron Jackson and Ralph Wingate ran well in defeat. Jack Gillespie was outstanding in the line where Dick Lawson and George Crawford also drew praise from coach Frank Thompson.

St. Fred transfer Bill Atkins scored two more touchdowns to pace Ortonville. He ran 14 for one and caught a pass from Pat Barrick on a 50-yard play for the other. Roger Wills ran 52 for the other points. Wills gained 80 and Atkins 52 rushing. Larry Frahm and John Francis were tops on defense, especially in the final period.

Bill Upton made two touchdowns, Dave Babe added one and a pair of extra points to lead L'Anse Creuse.

Sugar Ray Fights Greaves in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Age and youth will tangle here tonight when former five-time world middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson meets Canadian middleweight king Willie Greaves in a 10-round non-title bout at the Convention Arena.

Weigh-in was scheduled for 1 p.m. at local boxing commission offices.

Robinson, 41, will be giving 15 years to Greaves, 26, in his twilight bid for another crack at the world middleweight title.

His most recent title effort was last March in Las Vegas where he dropped a 15-round decision to Gene Fullmer, holder of the National Boxing Association's version of the crown.

Six-Month Suspensions Handed Snead, Burkemo

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sam Snead, suspended Saturday for six months by the Professional Golfers Association, now must await a decision on whether he can compete on the U.S. team in the Ryder Cup matches with Great Britain next month.

Snead, who has won more tournaments than any other golfer in the history of the game, was suspended and fined $500 for playing in a pro-amateur event in Cincinnati over the weekend which conflicted with the PGA-sanctioned Portland Open.

Tommy Bolt and four other golfers got the same penalty for playing in Cincinnati.

Also suspended were Dick Mayer, Chick Harbert, Lew Worsham and Walter Burkemo.

Upon learning of the suspension after he had completed the first round in Cincinnati Saturday, Snead withdrew from the tournament and said he would get a lawyer to appeal the decision.

Snead, obviously anxious to compete on the Ryder Cup team, apparently plans to use his quick withdrawal as a defense when he appeals the decision to the PGA Appeals Committee.

However, the decision on his eligibility for the Ryder Cup team rests with the executive committee of the PGA, which conceivably could give him a go-ahead even if the appeal from the suspension is denied.

Joe Black, PGA tournament supervisor who was in Portland for the open, announced the suspension upon learning that the six golfers had played in Cincinnati.

PGA rules do not permit name golfers who have won tournaments in the past year to appear in an event conflicting with one sanctioned by the PGA, without permission of the tournament's sponsors.

Oregon Golf Enterprises, sponsoring the Portland Open, denied the permission to Snead and Bolt.

Mayer had committed himself to play at Portland. The other three needed only PGA permission but did not get it. Mayer and Bolt also withdrew from the tournament.

Detroiter Is President

McHale 'Ruler' of Braves

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Young John McHale is the first absolute ruler the Milwaukee Braves have had in their nine seasons here and he may keep it that way indefinitely in his efforts to fulfill a directive from owner Lou Perini to rebuild the club into a pennant winner.

As it stands today, the 40-year-old McHale is president and general manager. He was lifted to the presidency during the weekend, succeeding Joseph Cairnes, who was named vice-chairman of the Braves board.

It's the first time since the Braves moved here from Boston in 1953 that they haven't had two or three top executives in the front office. And McHale is the first "baseball man" they've had in the presidency.

McHale said he will continue in both jobs at least until the first of the year and indicated his "doubling in brass" might go on indefinitely.

"Actually, the general manager is a misnomer, at times," he said. "The game is so complex now, with radio, television, taxes, insurance, expansion and so forth—that it is difficult to separate all the duties," he said.

* * *

Owner Perini has given McHale full powers to run the club, saying, "He's got full responsibility, however he wants to organize."

So it's conceivable McHale might go it alone with the possibility of adding an administrative assistant but taking responsibility for player procurement and other strictly baseball matters on himself.

McHale, a rapid riser in the baseball's front office, is thoroughly grounded in baseball at all levels. He was a player for eight seasons with the Detroit Tigers, then moved into their front office, starting as assistant farm director. He was general manager when he left the Tigers for the Braves in 1959 to be general manager and vice president.

Hoke Helps Adrian Triumph

By DON VOGEL

ADRIAN — The night before Jim Martin's field goal wrecked the Baltimore Colts, a former Waterford Township High School player was giving the boot to Defiance College.

* * *

Jim Hoke, a fullback for Adrian College, used a different type of kick here Saturday to help the Bulldogs to a 7-0 triumph.

While the Lions' Martin is a placekicker deluxe, Hoke is noted for his punting. And a driving rain made the punt an important factor in the contest.

The 190-pound sophomore was called on five times to boot the ball. Three of the kicks left Defiance inside its own 15-yard line and a fourth covered 55 yards only to just roll into the end zone.

His other punt carried 49 yards. This gave Hoke a 38-yard average for the game.

In addition to his kicking, Hoke turned in a top running performance on the muddy Adrian gridiron. He carried the ball 13 times for 40 yards.

He sprinted seven yards on third down late in the second quarter to give the Bulldogs a first down on the Defiance one yard line. Quarterback Tim Davies plunged over on the next play for the game's only score.

"Jim is going to help us a lot before he leaves Adrian," said coach Les Leggett. "He probably is the steadiest player on the team."

Bruce Norton, freshman quarterback from Pontiac, has appeared on the field for only one play in each of Adrian's first two games. In the opener against Findlay, he made his collegiate debut a memorable one by throwing a pass to John Fundukian of Southfield for Adrian's lone touchdown in a 20-6 setback.

* * *

"Norton was huddled up on the bench looking half asleep when I called for him in the third quarter," said Leggett. "I told him to go in and run a pass pattern. He lofted a beautiful pass right into Fundukian's arms.

"Bruce came back to the bench and said 'It happened so fast it was over with before I realized it.' He's on the small side, but I feel Norton will see plenty of game time in the future."

Fundukian, also a sophomore, turned in some fine defensive plays against Defiance, including one pass interception. He played defense last year, but has earned a berth on the attacking unit this season.

Hillsdale and Tom Ridley kept rolling along Saturday.

Ridley, a halfback from Southfield gained 146 yards, including a 86-yard scoring run, to lead the Dales to a 20-0 victory over St. Benedict College of Kansas at Flint.

This contest marked the appearance of former West Bloomfield star John Lucadem as Hillsdale's starting signal caller. He scored one TD on a two-yard plunge. It was the win in as many games for the Dales.

Heavy rains postponed the Northern Michigan-Western Illinois game at Macomb, Ill.

Tom Hornik led a spirited third quarter drive by Ferris Institute as the Bulldogs dumped Ohio Northern, 12-7.

Olivet won its second straight this year, defeating Indiana Central, 22-6, as quarterback Dave Cutler continued his dazzling passing and running.

Eastern Michigan stalled on the Ball State 16 yard line in the closing minutes and had to settle for a scoreless tie with their Indiana hosts.

St. Norbert made good on a fake punt to set up the winning touchdown in its 7-6 victory over Michigan Tech.

EX-SKIPPER — Jim Hoke, former Waterford Township High player, is the starting fullback for Adrian College. The 190-pound sophomore turned in a top performance in the Bulldog's 7-0 win over Defiance Saturday.

Break AFL Monotony With Punches

By United Press International

They're scoring at a point-a-minute clip in the American Football League and when things get dull, the boys punch each other around to break the monotony.

Sunday's feature bout took place in San Francisco, where Charlie Powell of hte Oakland Raiders, only recently an honest-to-goodness pro heavyweight boxer, landed a solid uppercut on the jaw of Ray Collins, 250-pound tackle for the Dallas Texans.

And in a tag team match at San Diego, the Chargers' two defensive tackles, 290-pound Ernie Ladd and 270-pound Bill Hudson, were ejected in the fourth quarter for trying to take a good portion of the Houston Oilers club.

The football was pretty wild and interesting, too. The Chargers defeated the Oilers, 31-24, for their third straight victory; the New York Titans, who had provided teh A.F.L. fisticuffs last week against Buffalo, threw nothing but touchdowns at the Denver Broncos and won, 35-28; and the Texans sent the Raiders down to their third straight defeat, 42-35.

In a Saturday night game, the Boston Patriots edged the Buffalo Bills, 23-21.

San Diego exploded with four touchdowns in the second period and then stood off Houston's last half rally to win before a crowd of 29,210 on the West Coast. The Chargers are the A.F.L.'s only unbeaten club.

Six pass interceptions played a prominent part in the Chargers' victory. Two of these by Charlie McNeil figured in two of San Diego's second-period scores. On his first McNeil went 76 yards to the Houston 17, setting up a seven-yard TD pass by Jack Kemp. On the second McNeil sped 71 yards for a touchdown.

At New York, halfback Dick Christy ran back punts 70 and 64 yards for touchdowns to spark the Titans to their win over Denver before 14,381 at the Polo Grounds. Dorow passed for New York's three other scores, hitting Don Maynard twice for touchdowns.

Dallas battled from behind five times before beating Oakland before a crowd of about 6,700 in San Francisco's Candlestick Park. Johnny Robinson's 13-yard touchdown run with less than two minutes remaining was the clincher for the Texans.

Sunnybrook won the Red Division title in the Michigan Publinx Golf League for the 3rd straight year Saturday by defeating Sylvan Glen in a tie-breaking playoff, 15-7.

John Kurach fired a six-under par 66 and Pontiac's Wally Smith carded 71 to pace the Sunnybrook win. Mike Andonian of Pontiac led Sylvan with 70.

Sunnybrook and Sylvan Glen tied for 1st place with 8-2 records. The Sunnybrook team, seeking its 3rd straight MPGA crown, now meets White Division champion Morey's No. 2 on Sunday, Oct. 1, for the loop title.

The Wings beat Edmonton Sunday night, 4-1, and met the Flyers again tonight.

Con-Con Delegates Must Decide

Do We Have Too Many Elections?

(Editor's Note: The convention to revise Michigan's 1908 constitution meets in Lansing Oct. 3. This is the 13th in a series of articles dealing with possible changes in the state's basic law.)

By DON MYERS

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan constitutional convention delegates must decide if fewer state elections should make a vote more valuable.

A strong argument for eliminating the odd-year spring election called for in the 1908 constitution—and reducing the number of elected state officials—is that voters tend to shrug off the importance of their ballot because they get to cast it so often.

Those who believe many elections with a long ballot are necessary say it keeps citizens interested in government, and keeps officials close to the people.

There's nothing like facing election every two years or so to keep politicians on their toes, those favoring the present system say.

* * *

The long-standing, and somewhat emotional, question of whether hands old enough to hold a rifle in defense of this country are old enough to mark a ballot must also be answered by the constitutional convention, which meets Oct. 3.

PROPOSAL SURE TO COME

A proposal to make 18-year-olds eligible to vote is sure to come up.

Making the elective process simpler, and hopefully better understood and easier to manage, could likely take several directions:

—The terms for state officials might be lengthened, for example, the governor might be elected for four years instead of the present two, and the balloting held in non-presidential election years.

—Elimination of the biennial spring election, which former Gov. G. Mennen Williams has called an "abomination," might also call for appointment of members of educational governing boards, Supreme Court justices, the superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner, which are now elected in the spring.

—Other adjustments in terms might make election to the State Senate a four or six year job, as in the Federal Congress.

—Fewer elected officials might mean an end to popular election of numerous county and township officers now called for in the constitution.

If power to appoint such local officials as county clerks, township constables and others were given to township or county boards of supervisors, then election of the supervisors would become more important and stimulate more citizen interest in the offices, many experts believe.

Merely simplifying the elective process by shortening the ballot or making elections less frequent would not necessarily mean better government, however.

* * *

Those who advocate sweeping changes in the election system say corresponding changes in administrative power and procedure should be taken to gain the benefit.

Advocates of the status quo say checks and balances which prevent abuse are built into the present system, and through the course of history have become respected and observed.

The issue of giving the vote to 18-year-olds will likely be entirely separate from the question of simplified elections.

While there are a multitude of arguments both for and against lowering the voting age, they all boil down to one basic question: Is an 18-year-old mature enough to take his responsibility as a voting citizen?

* * *

(Next: A "new look" for the Michigan court system will be proposed at con-con.)

Don't Mix Reading With Reality

Never Trust a Country Cousin

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When you are young, sometimes your reach to knowledge exceeds your grasp. Your reading can confuse you with reality.

BOYLE

I would like to tell you an experience of my own that taught me an unforgettable lesson: Never trust a country boy if that is all he can brag about.

Mother in tears—I didn't cry—came down to wave me farewell as I stormed aboard a train that would carry me 45 miles from Kansas City on the Missouri River to Lexington down the same river.

It was the summer of my ignorance and I went to where my father was born—where his father from Ireland before him had dug soft coal and raised 14 children.

To me it was all new, I was the son of one of the youngest sons of the family. My father had built a business—a grocery store.

HAD 10 KIDS

My hostess was my father's sister, whose husband then still dug coal. My father loved her dearly as he did all his sisters and brothers. My aunt had 10 kids, double what I was used to at home.

Being from Kansas City, I was amazed at the number of raisins that carpeted the ceiling. I was even more surprised to find that the raisins had wings and were flies. That's the welcome you got in the old soft coal days.

* * *

Well, my country cousins played the usual tricks that rural egotism employs, such as getting you to mix stale chocolates and chewing tobacco, then gnaw a live elm bole for relief.

* * *

That was part of your belonging. I didn't mind the tricks—except one.

HELD THE BAG

That was when as a child away from home I was invited to hold the bag in a snipe hunt. The idea was that the victim held a gunnysack before a lighted candle and waited for a snipe to leap across the light into the bag.

* * *

One of the reasons I held the bag before the candle so earnestly and so long was that I had read in nature study books there was a bird called the snipe. I was willing to believe, although I hadn't met one in Missouri.

* * *

As I held the empty bag in the lonely dark with the night gathering in my heart, I knew I would never believe as much as I had before.

But in the years since then I have gone a bit farther.

There is a snipe. There was a snipe then.

And I have been where the snipe flies.

Pushing Oscar Hopefuls to Meet Dec. 31 Date

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Theater booker's headache—trying to jam the Oscar hopefuls into Los Angeles houses before the yearend deadline. Among the December releases: "The Children's Hour," "West Side Story," "Judgment At Nuremberg," "Pocketfull of Miracles," "Majority of One," "El Cid," "King of Kings," "Tender is the Night," "Summer and Smoke," and "Four Horsemen."

THOMAS

"Ben-Hur" is finally closing at the Egyptian a few weeks short of two years, believed to be a local record. Ad line: "The word for Robert Rossens 'The Hustler' is prim-i-tive." Is that good?

SPLIT AT SUCCESS

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer stuck together during the four years he couldn't find work, then split when he found success as a director. How do you figure it? Note Mort Sahl's blowup over hecklers at the Crescendo. He who disheth out must learn to taketh.

* * *

Watch it girls! Carroll Baker, Natalie Wood, Deborah Kerr and Debbie Reynolds get single top billing in new films. That's a heavy load for any girl to carry. United Artists is finally releasing "Summer of the 17th Doll," filmed three summers ago in Australia with Ernest Borgnine, Anne Baxter, John Mills, Angela Lansbury. New title: "Season of Passion"!

JUST GETS $1 MILLION

Reports that Marlon Brando gets $2 million salary for "Mutiny on the Bounty" are exaggerated. It's only $1 million—$500,000 guarantee for 20 weeks plus golden hours of $25,000 a week. Plus 10 per cent of gross receipts. MGM turned down offers to buy the Bounty ship, will use it to publicize the film.

This may be the last season for the Nelson family on TV. Harriet is hankering to do a Gracie Allen. Frank Sinatra needs a strong film role. It ain't in "Devil at 4 O'Clock." The volcano has a better role than the actors.

* * *

Natalie Wood is the hottest gal in town following previews of "Splendor in the Grass" and "West Side Story". The Natalie-Bob Wagner-Joan Collins-Warren Beatty combo is the most promising round robin since Lana Turner, Lex Barker, Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas switched partners.

Lauds Colleges for Giving Public Extension Service

EAST LANSING (AP) — By taking higher education to the people, Michigan universities are performing an essential public service, the executive director of the Council of State College Presidents said today.

The director, M. M. Chambers, addressing a meeting of the Council of Field Services at Michigan State Universities, said university extension courses do not duplicate or compete with work of junior colleges.

There are mainly on senior college and graduate levels, he said, serving teachers and other professional and business people with fulltime jobs.

The council of Field Services is a subsidiary of the council of College Presidents.

U.S. Steel Pays Off $1.3 Million to State

LANSING (UPI) — U. S. Steel Corp. has paid the state more than $1.3 million in corporate privilege and filing fees for 1954-60, says Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

The delayed payment, plus interest, was made when the corporation dropped its appeal of the fees because of a U. S. Supreme Court decision.

U. S. Steel contended in an appeal to the Corporation Tax Appeal Board that its sales to Michigan customers on contracts executed outside the state could not be considered in determining the tax.

* * *

The high court ruled in a similar case that receipts from interstate sales could be taxed by the states, Adams said.

Irregular Mart Suffers Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined irregularly in moderate trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional and outnumbered gainers about 2-to-1.

The list was mixed with a downside tendency at the start. Losses grew more numerous as trading continued.

Aluminum stocks showed a softer tendency as price cuts widened in the industry. Reynolds Metals dropped a point to 38½ on 4,000 shares then cut the loss fractionally.

Profit taking continued in some of the electronics. Beckman instruments was down a couple of points. Sperry Rand was off ⅛ at 24⅛ on a big opening block of 11,000 shares. Zenith fell 3 points.

General Motors was up a fraction. Ford took a fractional loss as the auto union switched its bargaining pressure to that company.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Insurance Co. of North America (ex dividend) rose more than a point while Cenco Instruments and Syntex posted fractional gains. Losers included Creole Petroleum, Heli-Coil and Mead Johnson.

Hunt 2 Bandits in Kidnaping

Pontiac and Waterford Township Police are looking for two men today for questioning in the kidnaping and armed robbery Saturday night of a Waterford Township grocer, his wife and son.

The unidentified bandits escaped with about $600, according to Township police.

When John Phillips, 58, of 411 Lorberta Lane, got home from work about 9:30 p.m., two men were waiting for him in his driveway.

One, wearing a woman's stocking over his head and face, pointed a revolver at Phillips and ordered him into the house, Phillips told police.

The men ordered Phillips, his wife, Catherine and their son Gregory, 14, to lie down on the living room floor, tied their hands and took about $50 from Phillips and his wife, he told township police.

Then they made the three get into Phillips' panel truck and drive back to his store at 360 Franklin Road in Pontiac, said police.

Phillips said the men parked at the rear of the store, and took him and his wife and son inside where they ordered Phillips to open a safe.

It was estimated the bandits got $200 in silver and about $350 in bills from the safe.

DROVE THEM AWAY

Phillips told township police the men drove them about a block away on Crystal Lake Drive and parked.

The bandits were quoted by Phillips as saying, "Don't give us any trouble and nothing will happen to you" before they escaped on foot.

Phillips drove home and called police. Township police said they wanted the bandits for kidnaping. The armed robbery took place in Pontiac.

Algerian Rightists Call for Silent Demonstration

ALGIERS (AP) — The rightist Secret Army Organization tries today for another propaganda victory in its running battle with President Charles de Gaulle over Algeria's future.

* * *

This time the underground called for a silent demonstration after three noisy ones in three days showed support among European settlers in the rightist campaign against De Gaulle's self-determination policy for Algeria.

TO DISPLAY BLACK FLAG

The word went out to hang the black flag of the secret army from balconies and windows.

* * *

The secret army emblems have been showing up for the past week in Algiers. Europeans gathered booed when police hauled down the flags.

Black or dark blue cloth needed to make the army emblem was sold out in Algiers as early as last Friday.

* * *

Adherents of the secret army, which is commanded by former Gen. Raoul Salan, gave a noisy salute Friday night with an automobile horn-honking and pot-banging concert in the streets of Algiers.

OTHER DEMONSTRATIONS

The same sort of demonstration was held Saturday night in Oran and Sunday night in Bone. Police did nothing to stop the horn blowing and pot banging, although roadblocks were set up when traffic became too dense.

Winding up one of his sentiment-sounding tours of southern France, De Gaulle again called on Frenchmen to stand solidly behind his government.

All the extremists, those who exaggerate, those who stir up dissidence in Algeria are doing a bad deed," he said at one stop before returning to Paris.

Hawaii Worries; Lava Sinking

100 Million Yards of Hot Molten Rock Down in Old Volcanic Tube

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—Frightened residents of Hawaii Island's Puna district tried to learn today what has happened to 100 million cubic yards of lava that has disappeared from view.

Volcanologists, speculating on the possible reappearance of the molten rock, also feared tempestuous Kilauea volcano might be about to erupt again.

The volcano, one of the most active in the world, turned off a flow of molten lava Sunday after about 200 million cubic yards of the melted rock had spurted in less than 24 hours. The eruption drove some 300 residents of three tiny farming villages from their homes.

Scientists at the volcano observatory overlooking the main crater of Kilauea fear that about half the lava has disappeared into an old lava-found tube and could roar back through the earth's crust.

JFK Affirms U.S. Determination

place order with anarchy, action with paralysis and confidence with gross confusion."

'LIFE AT STAKE'

The President told the 99-nation General Assembly the United Nation's very life is at stake in the issue raised by the death in Africa of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. He urged for new strength and new roles for the United Nations.

President Kennedy proposed an approach to disarmament which would be both far-reaching and realistic.

"It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union not to an arms race but to a peace race—to advance with us step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has actually been achieved. We invite them now to go beyond agreement in principle and to reach agreement on actual plans," he said.

Attacking the Soviet proposal to substitute a three-man executive for a single secretary-general, Kennedy urged strengthening of the charter first of all by selection of an outstanding civil servant to continue Hammarskjold's work.

CRITICIZES PLAN

Of the Soviet plan, he said: "To install a triumvirate or any panel or rotating authority, in the United Nations administrative offices would replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis, and confidence with gross confusion."

* * *

Kennedy touched on world trouble spots and solutions to the causes of cold war conflict in his first appearance before the General Assembly.

In his prepared text he was most specific about halting the spread of atomic weapons. He said the new U.S. disarmament program, which may be set forth in detail within 24 hours, would include a proposal for all nations to sign a nuclear test ban treaty.

"Test ban negotiations need not and should not await general disarmament talks," Kennedy said to counter Soviet insistence that discussion of a nuclear treaty be wrapped into over-all disarmament negotiations.

* * *

Kennedy advocated a special U.N. power to keep the peace throughout the world. He recommended that all member nations earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to prevent aggression.

POINTS AT THREATS

Kennedy pointed directly to threats of peace in Laos and in Germany.

For the first time he personally emphasized that in connection with a Soviet-East German pact that "the Western allies are not concerned with any paper arrangement the Soviets wish to make with a regime of their own creation, on territory occupied by their own troops and governed by their own agents."

But to make the United States' position clear, he asserted: "No such action can affect either our rights or our responsibilities."

He said the Western powers cannot surrender the freedom of West Berlin or their commitments in Germany.

* * *

"A 'peace treaty' which would destroy the peace would be a fraud," he said. "A 'free city' which would suffocate freedom would be an infamy."

* * *

The Western Allies "have calmly resolved to defend, by whatever means are forced upon them their obligations and their access to the free citizens of West Berlin and the self-determination of those citizens," Kennedy said.

HOLDS HOPE

"Firmness and reason," rather than brandishing or yielding to threats, can lead to a peaceful solution, he said. Kennedy held out hope for peaceful solution to the 99 nations represented in the United Nations who have grown alarmed at the hazardous situation in divided Berlin.

He said troops and tanks can for a time divide a nation against its will.

"But we believe a peaceful agreement is possible which protects the freedom of West Berlin and Allied presence and access, while recognizing the historic and legitimate interests of others in assuring European security."

* * *

Events of the next 10 months may well decide man's fate for the next 10,000 years, Kennedy declared. He pledged every effort to spare future generations the scourge of war.

* * *

"I pledge you that we shall neither commit nor provoke aggression—that we shall neither flee nor invoke the threat of force—that we shall never negotiate out of fear and never fear to negotiate," he said.

TRANSFER TO INDEPENDENCE

To the noncommitted nations which make up nearly half the U.N. membership, Kennedy said "a worldwide declaration of independence has transferred nearly a billion people and nine million square miles into 42 independent states since World War II." In response to their protests against Western colonialism, he said less than 2 per cent of the world's population now lives under such rule.

The United States intends to be a participant and not merely an observer in the movement of nations from colonial to equal status, Kennedy said. He added, referring directly to the Soviets, that "there is no ignoring the fact that the tide of self-determination has not reached the Communist empire."

He added: "Let us debate colonialism in full—and apply the principle of free choice and the practice of free plebiscites in every part of the globe."

Kennedy said the U.S. program for disarmament would proceed through balanced and safeguarded stages designed to prevent one country from gaining military advantage over another.

"It would place the final responsibility for verification and control where it belongs—not with the big powers alone, not with one's adversary or one's self—but in an international organization within the framework of the United Nations itself," Kennedy said.

TRUE INSPECTION

He announced that the program would provide for true inspection, which he called an indispensable condition of disarmament. Inspection would also be incorporated in stages to halt ultimately production as well as testing of weapons. It would also halt transfer as well as possession of such weapons.

Under the eye of an international disarmament organization, Kennedy said, the program would achieve a steady reduction in nuclear and conventional forces "until it has abolished all armies and all weapons except those needed for internal order and a new United Nations peace force."

Kennedy proposed a prompt resumption of disarmament negotiations which would continue without pause until complete and general disarmament has not only been agreed upon but actually achieved.

Kennedy said "our new disarmament program" includes these proposals:

"First, signing the test ban treaty, by all nations. This can be done now. Test ban negotiations need not and should not await general disarmament talks.

* * *

"Second, stopping the production of fissionable materials for use in weapons, and preventing their transfer to any nation now lacking nuclear weapons.

"Third, prohibiting the transfer of control over nuclear weapons to states that do not now own them.

"Fourth, keeping nuclear weapons from seeding new battlegrounds in outer space.

"Fifth, gradually destroying existing nuclear weapons and converting their materials to peaceful uses; and

* * *

"Finally, halting the unlimited testing and production of strategic nuclear delivery vehicles, and gradually destroying them as well."

NO 'COLDER WAR'

Kennedy said "the cold reaches of the universe" must not become a new arena "of an even colder war."

"To this end, we shall urge proposals extending the United nations charter to the limit of of man's exploration in the universe, reserving outer space for peaceful use, prohibiting weapons of mass destruction in space or on celestial bodies, and opening the mysteries and benefits of space to every nation," he said.

"We shall further propose cooperative efforts in weather prediction and eventually weather control.

"We shall propose, finally, a global system of communication satellites linking the whole world in telegraph, telephone, radio and television. The day need not be far away when such a system will televise the proceedings of this body to every corner of the world."

The President said self-determination is but a slogan if the future holds no hope.

* * *

"That is why my nation—which has freely shared its capital and its technology to help others help themselves—now proposes officially designating this decade of the 1960s as the U. N. decade of development."

He said that under that framework "the U. N. existing efforts in promoting economic growth can be expanded and coordinated."

A miniature boat, electric powered and radio controlled, is said to retrieve ducks as well as a dog.

Highlights of Kennedy Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Highlights of President Kennedy's speech to the U.N. General Assembly today:

* * *

HAMMARSKJOLD'S DEATH — "His tragedy is deep in our hearts, but the task for which he died is at the top of our agenda. The problem is not the death of one man — the problem is the life of this organization."

HAMMARSKJOLD SUCCESSOR — "Our dedication to that (U. N.) charter must be strengthened by the selection of an outstanding civil servant to carry forward the responsibilities of the secretary general — a man endowed with both the wisdom and the power to make meaningful the moral force of the world community."

THE TROIKA — "To install a triumvirate, or any panel or rotating authority, in the U. N. administrative offices would replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis, and confidence with gross confusion. To give this organization three drivers — to permit each great power in effect to decide its own case — would entrench the cold war in the headquarters of peace."

ARMS RACE — "It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union, not to an arms race, but to a peace race — to advance with us step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has actually been achieved."

DISARMAMENT PLAN — "The program to be presented to this assembly — for general and complete disarmament under effective international control would achieve, under the eye of an international disarmament organization, a steady reduction in forces, both nuclear and conventional, until it has abolished all armies and all weapons except those needed for internal order and a new U.N. peace force. And it starts that process now, today, even as the talks begin."

U. N. EMERGENCY FORCES — "The United States recommends that all member nations earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces — to be on call to the United Nations — to be specially trained and quickly available — and with advance provision for financial and logistic support."

OUTER SPACE — "We shall urge proposals extending the U.N. charter to the limits of man's exploration in the universe, reserving outer space for peaceful use, prohibiting weapons of mass destruction in space or on celestial bodies, and opening the mysteries and benefits of space to ever nation."

LAOS — "The cease fire is at best precarious. Laotian territory is being used to infiltrate South Viet Nam. The world community must recognize that this potent threat to Laotian peace and freedom is indivisible from all other threats to their own."

EAST GERMANY—"It is absurd to allege that we are threatening a war merely to prevent the Soviet Union and East Germany from signing a so-called 'treaty' of peace. The Western Allies are not concerned with any paper arrangement the Soviets wish to make with a regime of their own creation. No such action can affect either our rights or our responsibilities."

WEST BERLIN—"If there is a dangerous crisis in Berlin — and there is—it is because of threats against the vital interests and the deep commitments of the Western powers, and the freedom of West Berlin. We cannot yield these interests. We cannot fail these commitments. The Western powers have calmly resolved to defend, by whatever means are forced upon them, their obligations and their access to the free citizens of West Berlin and the self-determination of those citizens."

NEGOTIATIONS ON BERLIN—"We are committed to no rigid formula. We believe a peaceful agreement is possible which protects the freedom of West Berlin and Allied presence and access, while recognizing the historic and legitimate interests of others in assuring European security. The possibilities of negotiations are now being explored."

Decide Skeletons in Plane Debris Are Guatemalans

SOMERVILLE, N.J. (UPI) — Two men whose skeletons were found in the wreckage of a small plane in a remote wooded area of the Sourland Mountains were identified today as two prominent Guatemalan businessmen.

State police at the Somerville barracks identified the victims as Manfred Koplowitz, president of a large automotive firm, and J. Alfredo Tabush, owner of a department store, both of Guatemala City.

Their plane was found on a mountaintop in a heavily wooded section of Hillsboro township Sunday by five boys who were out scouting the area in preparation for the deer hunting season.

State police said the men had disappeared six months ago while they were on a flight from New York to Guatemala.

No One Who Values His Rights Takes Road to Steinstuecken

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERLIN (AP) — "No, sir," said the West Berlin policeman. "You can't go through to Steinstuecken. They'll arrest you if you try."

He stood at the corner of Machnowerstrasse and Koenigsweg in the wooded parkland on the western edge of Berlin.

Behind him, on the other side of a double fence of barbed wire, stood two Vopos (Communist people's police) in their Russian-style uniforms.

"They always patrol in pairs," the West Berliner said. "They have to watch each other. They never talk to us. Anyone who did would immediately become suspect."

* * *

Through a gap in the fence, a narrow road led up into the woods in Communist territory. A battery of signs in four languages warned anyone against crossing over without a permit. A hundred yards away in the woods, Communist flags flew over a check point on the road.

A young girl came down the road on a bicycle. She greeted the two Vopos cheerfully, gave another greeting to the Western policeman, and rode on, without stopping, into the American sector of Berlin.

She is one of the 200 inhabitants of Steinstuecken, an isolated enclave of West Berlin territory a mile beyond the allied perimeter.

COMMUNITY SURROUNDED

The road to Steinsteucken is closed to all except those who live there. The tiny community itself is entirely surrounded by the Communist barbed wire but, for the moment, its inhabitants are left in peace and are allowed unrestricted access to West Berlin.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin, regards Steinstuecken as a symbol of Western rights in the city. One of his first acts after arriving here last week was to visit the enclave by helicopter.

Friday, three U.S. soldiers were flown in to set up what looks like a permanent Army post in the community. A helicopter airlift is keeping them supplied.

* * *

Theoretically, Western forces in Berlin have the right to drive up the road to Steinstuecken. But no Western troops have gone to the enclave in years except by helicopter. Any attempt to force the road past the Communist check point could create an ugly incident.

"I hope the Americans never try it," the Western policeman said. "It would only stir up trouble and give them a pretext over there for closing the road altogether."

At the side of the road, scores of bicycles were lined up in a shelter. A cream-colored West Berlin double decker bus stopped at the crossroads.

END OF LINE

"Steinstuecken," the conductor called out. It was the end of the line.

Several of the passengers fetched their bicycles from the shelter and rode off toward the enclave. Others walked. They all knew the guards on both sides, and greeted them. Most Steinstuecken inhabitants seem to feel it's best to keep up friendly relations all round.

Threatening Call Puts President's Police on Guard

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's police guard was on special alert today as the result of an anonymous telephone call prior to his arrival here to address the United Nations.

* * *

Manhattan police headquarters said the call from a woman was received by Port of New York Authority police at La Guardia Field shortly before the President's plane arrived Sunday.

* * *

"They'd better have plenty of cops ready when he comes into the city," a Port Authority police sergeant quoted her as saying.

'ROUTINE NUMBER'

Approximately 1,000 uniformed policemen and an undisclosed number of plainclothesmen are assigned to special duty during the President's visit. Police said this is routine.

The official flag of the President consists of the President's seal in bronze on a blue background with a large white star in each corner.

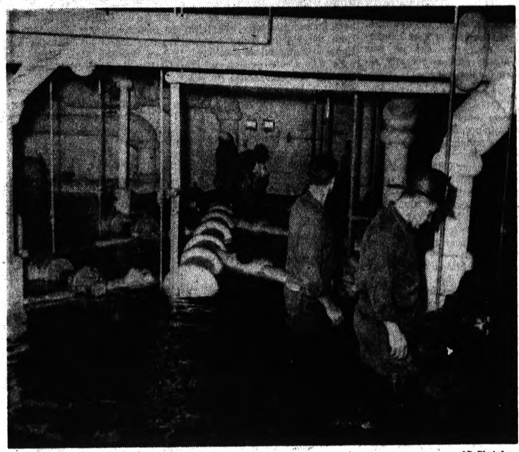
Problem: Find Cutoff Valve



AP Photofax

IN KNEE-DEEP WATER — Detroit firemen wade in knee-deep water as they search for a cutoff valve in the basement of Cobo Hall Sunday after a large water main burst and flooded the area. The water shorted out electrical equipment and stopped elevators. The Episcopal Convention in progress at the time was not disrupted, however.

1.2 Inches of Rain in 16 Minutes

Furious Storm Whips Detroit Suburbs

By the Associated Press

Furious winds and heavy rains flailed Southeastern Michigan Sunday, causing severe damage in Southern Wayne County and Northern Monroe County.

Trees, power lines and antennas were snapped off by the hundreds.

Streets and basements were flooded, and automobiles were tossed about like toys. Many plate glass store windows shattered.

A 7-year-old girl narrowly escaped drowning under a flooded viaduct.

The Detroit area got 1.2 inches of rain in 16 minutes.

AT THE AIRPORT

At Detroit Metropolitan Airport, witnesses said a tremendous wind gust carried two parked cars about 100 yards shortly before 5 p. m.

Winds at the airport were clocked at 66 m. p. h.

A 24-by-24-foot section of roof was ripped from a service station northwest of the airport terminal building and slammed into 16 cars parked about 40 feet away.

Empty 55-gallon steel drums stacked near the service station were blown as far as a mile out on the airport runways.

AT SOUTHGATE SUBURB

In the Detroit suburb of Southgate, a resident, Robert Schlacht (11124 Oaklawn), told of seeing the wind pick up a small, foreign-made bus and drop it 80 feet away in a field.

Police said several persons reported seeing tornado funnels, but the U. S. Weather Bureau at Detroit said it was unlikely that there had been any tornadoes.

At Maybee, eight miles northwest of Monroe, winds ripped off the 232-by-100-foot roof of a building at the Banas and Wrobel Co. lumber yard. Owner Walter J. Banas estimated damages at $100,000.

Hurtling two-by-fours pierced the sides of buildings at the lumber yard so that, sheriffs officers said, some walls "looked like porcupines with the quills sticking out."

AT RIVERVIEW

The weather bureau said Detroit's suburbs were hardest hit with hundreds of basements flooded in Taylor Township, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Southgate and Wyandotte.

Riverview police, who called it the worst rainstorm in 10 years, said residents reported more than 500 trees and wires down.

A highway in Southgate, U.S. 25, was blocked for some three hours by fallen wires.

A 6-year-old Wyandotte girl, Nancy Dailing, was rescued by a passerby when she rode her bicycle under a flooded viaduct and fell into an open manhole filled with water.

* * *

Mrs. Helen Walters, owner of a golf driving range in Southgate, said the strong winds ripped off several canopies and knocked down 35 trees on a lot at the range.

Detroit police said they had received only a few damage reports.

Firemen Plan Biggest Parade

To Gather From County for Annual Field Day, March in Pontiac

Firemen from all over Oakland County will meet in Pontiac Saturday to put on their biggest annual fireman's parade and field day. Last year, rain forced last-minute cancellation and left 3,500 staunch spectators standing under umbrellas — in vain.

* * *

This year, there'll be a parade, rain or shine.

The one-hour parade starts at 1 p.m. at Oakland and Saginaw streets, goes south on Saginaw and ends in the vicinity of Auburn.

It will kick off a week of educational efforts by Oakland County fire departments preceding Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14.

Field-day demonstrations and competitions will follow at 3 p.m. on the General Motors Athletic Field, Opdyke Road and South Boulevard. Admission to all activities is free.

* * *

At stake in water-battle competition is the Shaw Jewelers trophy presently held by the Walled Lake fire department. Following summer-long run-offs, Union Lake fire department has emerged as the challenger.

* * *

Also, the Harvey Johns trophy will be given to the team ranking tops in all events, including ladder and hose competition.

Star billing is given to a demonstration rescue of a man atop a utility pole.

City to Dry Off After Shower; No Chills Yet

Showers and occasional thundershowers will partially clear tonight with a low of 52 predicted.

The weatherman says Tuesday will be partly cloudy with a high of 72.

Morning northeasterly to easterly winds at 8 miles per hour will diminish this evening.

Temperatures for the next five days will average near the normal high of 70 and normal low of 51. Tuesday through Thursday will be mild. Cooler temperatures are expected Friday and Saturday.

Precipitation will total about three-quarters of an inch in showers Thursday and Friday. From 10 a.m. Saturday until 10 a.m. today .8 of an inch in rain fell in downtown Pontiac.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 62. The mercury had climbed to 66 at 1 p.m.

K Removes Deadline on E. German Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP) — Premier Khrushchev removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany in his talks with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henry Spaak, diplomatic sources reported today.

"Khrushchev reportedly told Spaak that the Soviet Union prefers slow negotiations to a quick war," these sources said.

Spaak reported to the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last Thursday on his five-hour talks with Khrushchev in Moscow on the previous Tuesday.

Khrushchev was said to have told Spaak he never had committed himself to signing a peace treaty with East Germany before the end of this year.

UAW Orders Strikes Ended at GM Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Peace was expected to return today to the world's largest manufacturing empire — General Motors Corp.

The United Auto Workers Union ordered two weeks of crippling strikes ended Sunday night and instructed all workers to return to their jobs today—or as soon as GM is ready for them.

While decreeing peace with GM, with the completion of a new three-year contract, the UAW authorized open warfare against Ford Motor Co. if it doesn't meet or beat the new GM terms.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized both the strike-ending and strike-threatening moves in a 5½-hour meeting. The board has over-all power within the union.

The UAW had let negotiations slide at both Ford and Chrysler Corp., while a new pattern-setting pact was hammered out at GM. UAW President Walter P. Reuther already has said "Ford's will be the next door I knock on."

The date of any strike was left to the UAW's bargaining team there. Ken Bannon, UAW Ford Department director said, "Things must get moving as of today."

LOCAL ISSUES HURT

The GM package includes: 1. A national economic agreement covering wages and fringe benefits; 2. A national noneconomic pact establishing a uniform rest period and the like, and 3. At-the-plant work rules.

It was local strikes over the latter that knocked out GM for almost two weeks.

* * *

While GM and the UAW reached agreement on national economic issues Sept. 6, the union authorized local unions to strike Sept. 11, if they had not effected local-level agreements by then.

With the passing of that deadline strikes quickly sprang up. At the peak 92 of GM's 129 plants were shut down and more than 200,000 of the company's 350,000 production workers idled.

When the company and union reached agreement on national noneconomic issues last Wednesday the number of local-level strikes had dwindled to 24. But at some plants where settlements had been reached workers remained off the job and some of the struck plants were key parts-suppliers to all five car-building divisions.

Confident that it could wrap up the whole three-package deal, the UAW summoned its 280 member General Motors Council to Detroit Wednesday to make formal acceptance recommendation to the Executive Board. The union estimated the economic package was worth more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay and Reuther termed fringe benefits "very liberal."

Airliner Skids, Falls in Harbor

None Aboard Jet Plane Killed as It Overshoots Runway in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — A four-engine Astrojet 707 carrying 71 persons skidded off a runway Sunday and dropped into shallow water in the harbor.

No one aboard the American Airlines plane was killed. Small boats rescued those aboard within six minutes, an airline official said. Two passengers and a stewardess were treated at hospitals for minor injuries and released.

Airline officials said seat belts helped avert more serious injuries.

One man died of a heart attack rescuing passengers in a small boat.

The big plane slid into the water a few feet from the spot where an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed into the harbor on take off almost a year ago with a loss of 62 lives.

The 707 — American Airline's Flight 44 from San Francisco and Chicago — was making an instrument landing in the murk and overshot the 10,000-foot runway, an air line spokesman said.

* * *

The Astrojet's pilot, Capt. Ted Johnson of San Francisco, said: "I was making a normal approach. There was some fog. I landed on the runway a little farther up than I would have liked to and we skidded off the end."

"I realized we were going to crash when the plane overshot the runway," said Norman Bagley, 47, a Saco, Maine supermarket operator "I thought the wheels touched and then went up again. I knew we were going to pile up somewhere and I prayed for it to be in water."

Stewardess Connie Forbes said some of the passengers were shaken up but there was no panic. The $5-million plane, its No. 1 and 2 engines torn off and its nose damaged, stopped in five or six feet of water. Four stewardesses led the passengers out on the wings.

Taken to the hospitals were Charles Ivsac, 38, Kenosha, Wis.; Lillian Rocheleau, 51, Westboro, Mass., and a stewardess, Sheila Homan of Lowell Mass., and Burlingame, Calif.

In addition to the 63 passengers and crew of 8, the plane also carried the body of William F. Richardson Jr. of San Francisco, being shipped to Northampton, Mass., for burial

Crowd Gasps as Plane Crashes

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—An Air Force cargo plane carrying six daredevil Army parachutists lumbered clear of the runway Sunday, faltered, slewed off to one side and fell to a fiery crash before a shocked air show crowd of some 100,000 persons.

* * *

Three servicemen died, 12 others aboard were injured—six seriously.

Onlookers gasped as firemen and rescuers rushed to the broken C123 to drag out the injured from the gaping holes in the fuselage.

Three of four helicopters whirred out to the Hanover County airport. One hovered over the burning wreckage, the wash from its rotors beating back flames from two men in the cockpit.

The wife of a Civil Air Patrol officer, watching the CAP "Friendship Day" show on television from her mother's hospital room in Wilmington, dashed down to alert the emergency room and then began contacting blood donors.

By helicopter and ambulance, rescuers brought in the casualties. The dead were Sgt. Robert T. Turner, an Army photographer from Ft. Bragg, N.C., home base of the sky divers; and two Air Force men, Capt. John E. Markel and T. Sgt. John Lesso, both of Nellis (Nev.) Air Force Base.

The injured included the six skydivers — Lt. James P. Pearson, recent winner of the world

Hunt 2 Bandits in Kidnaping

Pontiac and Waterford Township Police are looking for two men today for questioning in the kidnaping and armed robbery Saturday night of a Waterford Township grocer, his wife and son.

The unidentified bandits escaped with about $600.

When John Phillips, 58, of 411 Lorberta Lane, got home from work about 9:30 p.m., two men were waiting for him in his driveway.

One, wearing a woman's stocking over his head and face, pointed a revolver at Phillips and Phillips told police.

The men ordered Phillips, his wife, Catherine and their son Gregory, 14, to lie down on the living room floor, tied their hands and took about $50 from Phillips and his wife, he told township police.

Then they made the three get into Phillips' panel truck and drive back to his store at 360 Franklin Road in Pontiac, said police.

Phillips said the men parked at the rear of the store, and took him and his wife and son inside where they ordered Phillips to open a safe.

It was estimated the bandits got $200 in silver and about $350 in bills from the safe.

DROVE THEM AWAY

Phillips told township police the men drove them about a block away on Crystal Lake Drive and parked.

The bandits were quoted by Phillips as saying, "Don't give us any trouble and nothing will happen to you" before they escaped on foot.

Phillips drove home and called police. Township police said they wanted the bandits for kidnaping. The armed robbery took place in Pontiac

The McMullen car was traveling west on 12 Mile Road and the Madsens were going north on Novi Road when the cars crashed at the intersection.

The accident occurred about 7:35 p.m.

Novi police said that one of the cars apparently ran a red traffic light.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said witnesses to the accident have made conflicting statements as to who had the right of way.

He said it is believed Mrs. Madsen was driving when the accident happened. The couple was returning home from work when the crash occurred, according to BeGole.

The Madsens had two children.

Britain Slams Charge It Aided Iraqi Kurd Revolt

LONDON (AP) — Britain has denied and protested against Iraqi charges that British agents, with American backing, engineered a recent revolt of Kurds against Iraq's government.

The Foreign Office, in disclosing this today, also announced that Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, ambassador to Baghdad, is under orders to ask the meaning of a warning attributed by newspapers Saturday to Premier Abdel Kassem Kassem was widely reported to have told newsmen he will shut the British Embassy if Britain does not stop "hostile acts endangering the security of Iraq."

British authorities were trying to figure out just why Kassem made his accusations at this time.

They speculated, that the premier may be still irritated at the diplomatic beating he took over his claim to the British-protected oil sheikdom of Kuwait or want to exert pressure for a new deal between Iraq and the London-based Iraq Petroleum Co.

'Cold War' Officer Dies

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UPI)—Patrolman Timothy O'Neill, 58, who carried on a "traffic ticket cold war" several years ago with members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, died at his home Sunday.

U. N. Is Told U. S. Has Will, Arms to Resist

Offers Hope for Berlin Crisis in Speech Both Tough and Conciliatory

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Kennedy told the United Nations today the United States has "both the will and the weapons" to resist aggression. He challenged the Communist world to drop the arms race in favor of a "peace race."

* * *

The President, in an address alternately tough and conciliatory told the Soviet Union the United States believes a peaceful agreement is possible for the central world crisis, that of divided Berlin. But he added that threat of force must be rejected, because "yielding to threats can only lead to war."

The President's address covered the broad spectrum of crisis confronting a frightened world. He proposed a six-point disarmament plan and called for the creation of a U.N. peace force.

Kennedy urged the small nations of the world to rally behind the United Nations and defeat Soviet efforts to impose a "troika" system of three-man control over its police power.

* * *

The troika, he said, would "replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis and confidence with gross confusion."

'LIFE AT STAKE'

The President told the 99-nation General Assembly the United Nation's very life is at stake in the issue raised by the death in Africa of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. He urged for new strength and new roles for the United Nations.

President Kennedy proposed an approach to disarmament which would be both far-reaching and realistic.

"It is therefore our intention to challenge the Soviet Union not to an arms race but to a peace race—to advance with us step by step, stage by stage, until general and complete disarmament has actually been achieved. We invite them now to go beyond agreement in principle and to reach agreement on actual plans," he said

* * *

Attacking the Soviet proposal to substitute a three-man executive for a single secretary-general, Kennedy urged strengthening of the charter first of all by selection of an outstanding civil servant to continue Hammarskjold's work.

CRITICIZES PLAN

Of the Soviet plan, he said: "To install a triumvirate or any panel or rotating authority, in the United Nations administrative offices would replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis

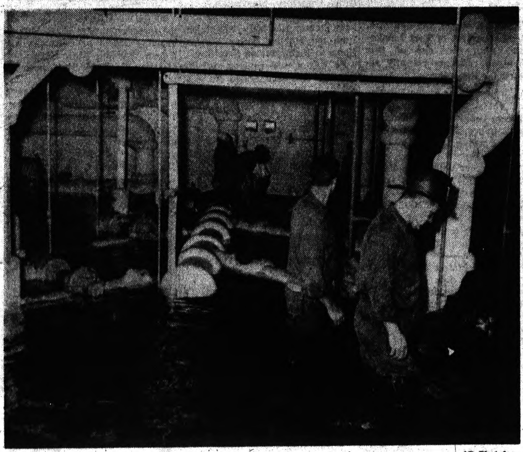
Problem: Find Cutoff Valve



AP Photofax

IN KNEE-DEEP WATER — Detroit firemen wade in knee-deep water as they search for a cutoff valve in the basement of Cobo Hall Sunday after a large water main burst and flooded the area. The water shorted out electrical equipment and stopped elevators. The Episcopal Convention in progress at the time was not disrupted, however.

1.2 Inches of Rain in 16 Minutes

Furious Storm Whips Detroit Suburbs

By the Associated Press

Furious winds and heavy rains flailed Southeastern Michigan Sunday, causing severe damage in Southern Wayne County and Northern Monroe County.

Trees, power lines and antennas were snapped off by the hundreds.

Streets and basements were flooded, and automobiles were tossed about like toys. Many plate glass store windows shattered.

A 7-year-old girl narrowly escaped drowning under a flooded viaduct.

The Detroit area got 1.2 inches of rain in 16 minutes.

AT THE AIRPORT

At Detroit Metropolitan Airport, witnesses said a tremendous wind gust carried two parked cars about 100 yards shortly before 5 p. m.

Winds at the airport were clocked at 60 m. p. h.

A 24-by-24-foot section of roof was ripped from a service station northwest of the airport terminal building and slammed into 16 cars parked about 40 feet away.

Empty 55-gallon steel drums stacked near the service station were blown as far as a mile out on the airport runways.

AT SOUTHGATE SUBURB

In the Detroit suburb of Southgate, a resident, Robert Schlacht (11124 Oaklawn), told of seeing the wind pick up a small, foreign-made bus and drop it 80 feet away in a field.

Police said several persons reported seeing tornado funnels, but the U. S. Weather Bureau at Detroit said it was unlikely that there had been any tornadoes.

At Maybee, eight miles northwest of Monroe, winds ripped off the 232-by-100-foot roof of a building at the Banas and Wrobel Co. lumber yard. Owner Walter J. Banas estimated damages at $100,000.

Hurtling two-by-fours pierced the sides of buildings at the lumber yard so that, sheriffs officers said, some walls "looked like porcupines with the quills sticking out."

AT RIVERVIEW

The weather bureau said Detroit's suburbs were hardest hit with hundreds of basements flooded in Taylor Township, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Southgate and Wyandotte.

Riverview police, who called it the worst rainstorm in 10 years, said residents reported more than 500 trees and wires down.

A highway in Southgate, U.S. 25, was blocked for some three hours by fallen wires.

A 6-year-old Wyandotte girl, Nancy Dailing, was rescued by a passerby when she rode her bicycle under a flooded viaduct and fell into an open manhole filled with water.

* * *

Mrs. Helen Walters, owner of a golf driving range in Southgate, said the strong winds ripped off several canopies and knocked down 35 trees on a lot at the range.

Detroit police said they had received only a few damage reports.

Firemen Plan Biggest Parade

To Gather From County for Annual Field Day, March in Pontiac

Firemen from all over Oakland County will meet in Pontiac Saturday to put on their biggest annual fireman's parade and field day. Last year, rain forced last-minute cancellation and left 3,500 staunch spectators standing under umbrellas — in vain.

* * *

This year, there'll be a parade, rain or shine.

The one-hour parade starts at 1 p.m. at Oakland and Saginaw streets, goes south on Saginaw and ends in the vicinity of Auburn.

It will kick off a week of educational efforts by Oakland County fire departments preceding Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14.

Field-day demonstrations and competitions will follow at 3 p.m. on the General Motors Athletic Field, Opdyke Road and South Boulevard. Admission to all activities is free.

* * *

At stake in water-battle competition is the Shaw Jewelers trophy presently held by the Walled Lake fire department. Following summer-long run-offs, Union Lake fire department has emerged as the challenger.

* * *

Also, the Harvey Johns trophy will be given to the team ranking tops in all events, including ladder and hose competition.

Star billing is given to a demonstration rescue of a man atop a utility pole.

City to Dry Off After Shower; No Chills Yet

Showers and occasional thundershowers will partially clear tonight with a low of 52 predicted.

The weatherman says Tuesday will be partly cloudy with a high of 72.

Morning northeasterly to easterly winds at 8 miles per hour will diminish this evening.

Temperatures for the next five days will average near the normal high of 70 and normal low of 51. Tuesday through Thursday will be mild. Cooler temperatures are expected Friday and Saturday.

Precipitation will total about three-quarters of an inch in showers Thursday and Friday. From 10 a.m. Saturday until 10 a.m. today .8 of an inch in rain fell in downtown Pontiac.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 62. The mercury had climbed to 66 at 1 p.m.

K Removes Deadline on E. German Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP) — Premier Khrushchev removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany in his talks with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henry Spaak, diplomatic sources reported today.

"Khrushchev reportedly told Spaak that the Soviet Union prefers slow negotiations to a quick war," these sources said.

Spaak reported to the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last Thursday on his five-hour talks with Khrushchev in Moscow on the previous Tuesday.

Khrushchev was said to have told Spaak he never had committed himself to signing a peace treaty with East Germany before the end of this year.

UAW Orders Strikes Ended at GM Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Peace was expected to return today to the world's largest manufacturing empire — General Motors Corp.

The United Auto Workers Union ordered two weeks of crippling strikes ended Sunday night and instructed all workers to return to their jobs today—or as soon as GM is ready for them.

While decreeing peace with GM, with the completion of a new three-year contract, the UAW authorized open warfare against Ford Motor Co. if it doesn't meet or beat the new GM terms.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized both the strike-ending and strike-threatening moves in a 5½-hour meeting. The board has over-all power within the union.

The UAW had let negotiations slide at both Ford and Chrysler Corp., while a new pattern-setting pact was hammered out at GM. UAW President Walter P. Reuther already has said "Ford's will be the next door I knock on."

The date of any strike was left to the UAW's bargaining team there. Ken Bannon, UAW Ford Department director said, "Things must get moving as of today."

LOCAL ISSUES HURT

The GM package includes: 1. A national economic agreement covering wages and fringe benefits; 2. A national noneconomic pact establishing a uniform rest period and the like, and 3. At-the-plant work rules.

It was local strikes over the latter that knocked out GM for almost two weeks.

* * *

While GM and the UAW reached agreement on national economic issues Sept. 6, the union authorized local unions to strike Sept. 11, if they had not effected local-level agreements by then.

With the passing of that deadline strikes quickly sprang up. At the peak 92 of GM's 129 plants were shut down and more than 300,000 of the company's 350,000 production workers idled.

When the company and union reached agreement on national noneconomic issues last Wednesday the number of local-level strikes had dwindled to 24. But at some plants where settlements had been reached workers remained off the job and some of the struck plants were key parts-suppliers to all five car-building divisions.

Confident that it could wrap up the whole three-package deal, the UAW summoned its 280 member General Motors Council to Detroit Wednesday to make formal acceptance recommendation to the Executive Board. The union estimated the economic package was worth more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay and Reuther termed fringe benefits "very liberal."

Airliner Skids, Falls in Harbor

None Aboard Jet Plane Killed as It Overshoots Runway in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — A four-engine Astrojet 707 carrying 71 persons skidded off a runway Sunday and dropped into shallow water in the harbor.

No one aboard the American Airlines plane was killed. Small boats rescued those aboard within six minutes, an airline official said. Two passengers and a stewardess were treated at hospitals for minor injuries and released.

Airline officials said seat belts helped avert more serious injuries.

One man died of a heart attack rescuing passengers in a small boat.

The big plane slid into the water a few feet from the spot where an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed into the harbor on take off almost a year ago with a loss of 62 lives.

The 707 — American Airline's Flight 44 from San Francisco and Chicago — was making an instrument landing in the murk and overshot the 10,000-foot runway, an air line spokesman said.

* * *

The Astrojet's pilot, Capt. Ted Johnson of San Francisco, said: "I was making a normal approach. There was some fog. I landed on the runway a little farther up than I would have liked to and we skidded off the end."

"I realized we were going to crash when the plane overshot the runway," said Norman Bagley, 47, a Saco, Maine, supermarket operator. "I thought the wheels touched and then went up again. I knew we were going to pile up somewhere and I prayed for it to be in water."

Stewardess Connie Forbes said some of the passengers were shaken up but there was no panic. The $5-million plane, its No. 1 and 2 engines torn off and its nose damaged, stopped in five or six feet of water. Four stewardesses led the passengers out on the wings.

Taken to the hospitals were Charles Ivsac, 38, Kenosha, Wis.; Lillian Rocheleau, 51, Westboro, Mass., and a stewardess, Sheila Homan of Lowell Mass., and Burlingame, Calif.

In addition to the 63 passengers and crew of 8, the plane also carried the body of William F. Richardson Jr. of San Francisco, being shipped to Northampton, Mass., for burial.

Three Die, 12 Injured

Crowd Gasps as Plane Crashes

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—An Air Force cargo plane carrying six daredevil Army parachutists lumbered clear of the runway Sunday, faltered, slewed off to one side and fell to a fiery crash before a shocked air show crowd of some 100,000 persons.

* * *

Three servicemen died, 12 others aboard were injured—six seriously.

Onlookers gasped as firemen and rescuers rushed to the broken C123 to drag out the injured from the gaping holes in the fuselage.

Three of four helicopters whirred out to the Hanover County airport. One hovered over the burning wreckage, the wash from its rotors beating back flames from two men in the cockpit.

The wife of a Civil Air Patrol officer, watching the CAP "Friendship Day" show on television from her mother's hospital room in Wilmington, dashed down to alert the emergency room and then began contacting blood donors.

By helicopter and ambulance, rescuers brought in the casualties. The dead were Sgt. Robert T. Turner, an Army photographer from Ft. Bragg, N.C., home base of the sky divers; and two Air Force men, Capt. John E. Markel and T. Sgt. John Lesso, both of Nellis (Nev.) Air Force Base.

The injured included the six skydivers — Lt. James P. Pearson, recent winner of the world

Hunt 2 Bandits in Kidnaping

Pontiac and Waterford Township Police are looking for two men today for questioning in the kidnaping and armed robbery Saturday night of a Waterford Township grocer, his wife and son.

The unidentified bandits escaped with about $600.

When John Phillips, 58, of 411 Lorberta Lane, got home from work about 9:30 p.m., two men were waiting for him in his driveway.

One, wearing a woman's stocking over his head and face, pointed a revolver at Phillips and Phillips told police.

The men ordered Phillips, his wife, Catherine and their son Gregory, 14, to lie down on the living room floor, tied their hands and took about $50 from Phillips and his wife, he told township police.

Then they made the three get into Phillips' panel truck and drive back to his store at 360 Franklin Road in Pontiac, said police.

Phillips said the men parked at the rear of the store, and took him and his wife and son inside where they ordered Phillips to open a safe.

It was estimated the bandits got $200 in silver and about $350 in bills from the safe.

DROVE THEM AWAY

Phillips told township police the men drove them about a block away on Crystal Lake Drive and parked.

The bandits were quoted by Phillips as saying, "Don't give us any trouble and nothing will happen to you" before they escaped on foot.

Phillips drove home and called police. Township police said they wanted the bandits for kidnaping. The armed robbery took place in Pontiac

The McMullen car was traveling west on 12 Mile Road and the Madsens were going north on Novi Road when the cars crashed at the intersection.

The accident occurred about 7:35 p.m.

Novi police said that one of the cars apparently ran a red traffic light.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said witnesses to the accident have made conflicting statements as to who had the right of way.

He said it is believed Mrs. Madsen was driving when the accident happened. The couple was returning home from work when the crash occurred, according to BeGole.

The Madsens had two children.

Britain Slams Charge It Aided Iraqi Kurd Revolt

LONDON (AP) — Britain has denied and protested against Iraqi charges that British agents, with American backing, engineered a recent revolt of Kurds against Iraq's government.

The Foreign Office, in disclosing this today, also announced that Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, ambassador to Baghdad, is under orders to ask the meaning of a warning attributed by newspapers Saturday to Premier Abdel Kassem. Kassem was widely reported to have told newsmen he will shut the British Embassy if Britain does not stop "hostile acts endangering the security of Iraq."

British authorities were trying to figure out just why Kassem made his accusations at this time.

They speculated that the premier may be still irritated at the diplomatic beating he took over his claim to the British-protected oil sheikdom of Kuwait or want to exert pressure for a new deal between Iraq and the London-based Iraq Petroleum Co.

Belgians by Carloads Flee Katanga

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—More than 350 refugees from neighboring Katanga Province have fled into the safety of Northern Rhodesia since Sunday morning as the threat of more bloodshed mounted in the break-away Congolese province.

Northern Rhodesia police said nearly 100 carloads of Belgian men, women and children crossed at frontier points.

In Leopoldville Gen. Victor Lundula, commander of leftist military forces in Stanleyville, put pressure on the Congo central government today to invade Katanga.

Fears grew in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province, that fighting is about to break out again.

Europeans began fleeing the city. A report from Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, said nearly 400 whites, mostly Belgians, had reached there from Katanga.

PLAN INVASION

The campaign for an invasion of Katanga was being whipped up by supporters of the late Patrice Lumumba, who launched such an attack before he was overthrown as premier last September.

* * *

The Lumumbists have regained key positions in the central government with the reconciliation of Antoine Gizenga's rebel Stanleyville regime and the central government headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

* * *

Lundula has accepted Adoula's leadership but has kept command of strong leftist forces in Stanleyville. He sent a deputation of his officers here Sunday to step up the pressure of the premier for an invasion.

In Elisabethville reports in- In Elisabethville reports indicate the United Nations is beginning to gain influence with the Katanga army but the problem of thousands of Baluba refugees is growing more acute.

Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien, civilian U.N. chief in Elisabethville, Sunday produced four native Katangese army officers who had deserted Katanga President Moise to serve the central Congo government.

* * *

The four were among 18 sent by Tshombe to Belgium earlier this year for training. Three refused to give their names for fear of reprisals against their families.

* * *

The fourth identified himself as Capt. Gilberto Kabulo. He said he and his colleagues had become disgusted with injustices perpetrated by the Tshombe regime and with the way white mercenaries continued fighting the United Nations after the cease-fire was proclaimed last week.

Church Council Under Attack

Episcopal Convention to Consider Resolutions on Fate of U.S. Body

DETROIT (AP)—A clash over the conduct of the National Council of Churches moved toward a showdown today at the Episcopal general convention.

Up for consideration in the House of Deputies, the lay-clerical chamber of the bicameral church congress, were several resolutions aimed at curbing the council, or severing ties with it.

* * *

The council, an interdenominational cooperative body made up of representatives of 33 denominations with nearly 40-million members, includes most of the nation's major Protestant, Orthodox and non-Roman Catholic bodies.

It has been under running fire from various individuals and groups in the country, some of whom accuse it of being too easy on communism, although the council has repeatedly denounced communism.

DISTRIBUTED PACKET

One of the regular accusers, The Rev. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N. J., "Bible Presbyterian," showed up here, distributing an "Episcopalian packet" denouncing the council.

The packet also contained articles condemning church reunion moves, and charging some episcopal leaders with heretical teachings.

* * *

The approximately 900 voting delegates to the convention also have been bombarded with similar literature from sources, in a dozen cities in Arizona, Louisiana, Texas, Ohio, California and elsewhere.

* * *

Mailings of such material were received by all delegates before they came here. Some of it also contained racial segregationist leaflets.

EVACUATE BORDER BERLINERS — Behind barbed wire barricades, East Berliners load furniture on truck in Bernauerstrasse section today as Communist People's Police resumed forcible evacuation of East Berlin homes close to border dividing the city. Police officials in West Berlin said the operation began early today where the houses on Bernauerstrasse are in the Red sector but the street outside is in the West. First floor windows and all doors leading into the street were bricked up by the Communists weeks ago.

Berliners Assured West Won't Sell Out to Reds

From Our News Wires

BERLIN (AP) — West Berliners were told Sunday night that Gen. Lucius D. Clay had come as their defender with the same determination he showed in breaking the 1948-49 Communist blockade of the city.

The assurances came from West German President Heinrich Luebke to allay growing fear in West Germany that the United States is planning a possible deal with the Soviet Union.

* * *

'PROMISE SINCERE'

"We can really have confidence in the firmness of our allies. Their promises have to be taken seriously in every respect. Gen. Clay has not come here to surrender Berlin, but to defend it as he did in 1948," Luebke said.

Meanwhile armed Communist police routed 200 more East Berliners out of their houses along the barricaded border with West Berlin Sunday.

Carrying machine pistols and bayonets, the East German police (Vopos) went through 10 apartment houses on Bernauerstrasse evicting the residents.

Previously they had cleared out homes on Harzerstrasse. They are expected to clear out all the homes along the border and then pull some of them down to make it impossible for East Germans to use the buildings as escape routes to the West.

Even while the evictions were in progress, a woman started slipping down a rope from the upper floors of an East Berlin apartment fronting on a West Berlin street. Communist police tried to pull the rope up but the woman dropped into a waiting West Berlin fire net.

ABOUT 20 ESCAPE

Western police said about 20 persons made it to West Berlin during the evacuation operation, most of them climbing out of apartment house windows.

In Washington Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has suggested that limited U.S. recognition of Communist East Germany might be inevitable in negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

Mansfield said Sunday there was room for negotiations on Berlin. But he said the Western allies must insist on freedom for West Berliners, access to the city and the right to keep troops there.

* * *

In London a Foreign Office spokesman said today he would make no comment about the British government's atttitude toward the East German regime.

He said that it was official policy not to comment on speculative reports about East Germany such as have been appearing in the world press over the weekend.

He said: "We are not commenting now and will not comment in the future."

20 Hurt as Freight Cars Pile Into Passenger Train

BAY, Ark. (AP) — A freight train derailed and slammed into a passenger train parked on a siding Sunday night, injuring at least 20 persons.

* * *

There were no deaths reported, but attendants at a Jonesboro, Ark., hospital where the injured were taken said at least five of the cases weer critical.

* * *

Thurman Adam, a porter, said a hotbox caused a wheel to fly off one of the freight cars as the freight rumbled by the motionless passenger train.

Adam said in the chain reaction that followed about 20 of the freight's 88 cars left the tracks. Some piled atop the overturned passenger train. The engine of the passenger train was knocked into a nearby cotton field.

SWITCHED TO SIDING

Frisco officials said the passenger train had been switched to a siding to allow the freight to pass. They said the freight had slowed to about 15 miles an hour.

Passengers said they saw some of the freight cars start to move sideways on the track as the freight train "just started coming apart."

* * *

"It was terrible, I just don't know what happened," one of the injured said at Jonesboro. "There was a big noise and then all the lights went out."

The passenger train's single coach was carrying about 35 persons, most of the Frisco employees on their way to work at a railroad yard construction site. The train was en route from Springfield, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.

sky diving championship; M. Sgt. T. Hollis, Sgt. Joe E. Norman, Sgt. Wilfred J. A. Charrette, Spec. 5 Bobby Letbetter and PFC. Robert McDonnell.

Others hurt were John Weston, a free lance photographer; Lt. William F. Maxey, Nellis Air Force Base, Bob Lemoyne, Wilmington Star-News photographer; and three staff members of WECT-TV, photographer John McNeill, art director James Craig and salesman C. D. Martin. All are from Wilmington.

Weston, who suffered a broken back and face injuries, said from his hospital bed: "I knew we were going to crash when we were about 300 feet up and the plane stalled. The pilot (Capt. Markel) apparently nosed down to pick up air speed and he started to bank to the left to get clear of the runway. He leveled off at 100 feet and attempted to pick up speed."

* * *

The plane was to have climbed to several thousand feet for the descent of the sky divers, members of a crack Army parachute team of about 50 men.

Maj. Kenneth Wooten said he was "utterly amazed by the orderliness of the crowd," which stayed put and did not hamper rescue operations. Maj. Wooten's wife was at the hospital when the crash was shown on television, and she spread the word to hospital personnel. About 300 people answered an appeal for blood donors and, 50 pints were taken.

A surgeon said the action of Capt. Jack Armstrong, who kept his helicopter hovering over the wreckage, probably saved the lives of two men menaced by flames in the cockpit.

Ex Mau-Mau Terrorist Says Violence Is Wrong

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Jomo Kenyatta, who was imprisoned for nine years for leading the Mau Mau antiwhite terrorists, says he has foresworn violence.

"There is no real freedom when there is violence," he told a rally of 120,000 followers Sunday at Nyeri. "We want unity and freedom. We don't want to steal land or farms from the Europeans."

and confidence with gross confusion."

* * *

Kenedy touched on world trouble spots and solutions to the causes of cold war conflict in his first appearance before the General Assembly.

In his prepared text he was most specific about halting the spread of atomic weapons. He said the new U.S. disarmament program, which may be set forth in detail within 24 hours, would include a proposal for all nations to sign a nuclear test ban treaty.

"Test ban negotiations need not and should not await general disarmament talks," Kennedy said to counter Soviet insistence that discussion of a nuclear treaty be wrapped into over-all disarmament negotiations.

* * *

Kennedy advocated a special U.N. power to keep the peace throughout the world. He recommended that all member nations earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to prevent aggression.

POINTS AT THREATS

Kennedy pointed directly to threats of peace in Laos and in Germany.

For the first time he personally emphasized that in connection with a Soviet-East German pact that "the Western allies are not concerned with any paper arrangement the Soviets wish to make with a regime of their own creation, on territory occupied by their own troops and governed by their own agents."

But to make the United States' position clear, he asserted: "No such action can affect either our rights or our responsibilities."

He said the Western powers cannot surrender the freedom of West Berlin or their commitments in Germany.

* * *

"A 'peace treaty' which would destroy the peace would be a fraud," he said. "A 'free city' which would suffocate freedom would be an infamy."

* * *

The Western Allies "have calmly resolved to defend, by whatever means are forced upon them their obligations and their access to the free citizens of West Berlin and the self-determination of those citizens," Kennedy said.

DIGNITY AT WORK

Ione Doig Recalls Her 41 Years in Court

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Somewhere there's a copy of Pontiac Central High School's old yearbook "The Quiver" which has Ione Doig pegged accurately.

* * *

It reads under her name: "proper dignity always the rule."

For a person to last through 41 years in the nerve-cracking capacity of court reported for the Oakland County Circuit Court one needs more than dignity. It takes the patience of a panther and the temperament of a young kitten.

Ione has proved she has both. The never-ending tension of recording several hundred words a minute, still using the old-fashioned penpoint and ink well, hasn't taken from her face the smiles that betray her near-70 years of age.

A native of Pontiac—she was born near the old downtown courthouse — she put away the pen, ink well and stenographer pads for the last time last month because the pace "just got too much."

She also wants to devote more time to the woman she never failed to call daily while working, her 91-year-old mother.

Miss Doig was the last of the five Circuit Court reporters to use shorthand instead of the more modern stenograph machine.

She took her job as a secretary and assistant court reporter with the late Circuit Judges Glenn C. Gillespie and Frank L. Cover on Nov. 1, 1920, after a brief stint as a secretary with the purchasing department of the old Oakland Motor Car Co.

She can't recall adding any extra digits in her court transcripts, but Ione, of 98 Palmer St., laughingly remembers the time she ordered one million instead of 100,000 screws in her former secretarial capacity.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE

She'll vouch for the local court's heavy load of cases, considered one of the largest in Michigan.

"We used to get one or two cases in those old days — some days we didn't get any. Now look at it. On Monday we have had as many as 50."

The courts themselves have changed.

"I think you have to have dignity in the courts," she said. "There used to be a lot more. I remember Judge Gillespie sending a witness home to get a coat before he could testify."

* * *

She was quick to add: "Judge Holland won't put a woman wearing slacks on the stand."

She started taking the testimony for Judge H. Russell Holland when he joined the bench in 1936. She was with the senior judge until her retirement.

Though the number of cases blocks from her memory any particularly memorable ones, she does recall one which the late Detroit attorney Edward Barnard tried. The transcript ran 700 pages.

Being a court reporter is like a "study of human nature," Miss Doig said.

* * *

Testimony of doctors and psychiatrists sometimes is a stumbling block to a mind that must take testimony in machine gun order, sometimes with several voices being heard at once.

LIKED THE WORK

"I liked the work," she said as she typed out some of the last testimony. "I think I did the work satisfactorily or they would have fired me."

Still in her mind was the going-away party her fellow Circuit Court employes gave her upon retirement.

Former Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, who sat on the local bench 32 years, came back to say goodby to the stalwart of court reporters.

An orchid added that much more to Ione's dignity.

Nobel Peace Prize Demanded for Dag

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Norwegian government organ Arbeiderbladet has insisted that Dag Hammarskjold should be given this year's Nobel Peace Prize despite objections to awarding it to a dead man.

"We do not doubt for a minute that an overwhelming majority of the Norwegian people who elected the Storting (and through that the peace prize committee) wants the peace prize to be given posthumously to Dag Hammarskjold this time," the Oslo morning paper wrote editorially.

"Just about the whole world would agree," it added.

A landmark of the San Francisco Bay Area is the 275-foot tower of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University, named for former President Herbert Hoover.

To Telecast Nixon's Announcement

Says Hagerty Playing Politics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Roger Kent, chairman of California's Democratic State Central Committee, says James C. Hagerty and the American Broadcasting Co. plan to give Richard M. Nixon $100,000 worth of free publicity Wednesday night.

* * *

Hagerty says, "Mr. Kent has been misinformed."

Hagerty, who was former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's press secretary now is news director of ABC.

NIXON TO GET DECISION

Former Vice President Nixon is expected to announce Wednesday night whether he plans to campaign for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

In telegrams to Hagerty and the Federal Communications Commission Sunday, Kent demanded "equal time—a full 30 minutes—to be provided by each and every one of the 400 television and radio stations owned by or affliated with the ABC network throughout the United States on exactly the same basis that these stations participate in coverage of the Nixon broadcast under arrangements ordered by you (Hagerty) as chief of the ABC news division.

* * *

"It is our position that the Nixon broadcast is in no sense a legitimate national news event and that by extending nationwide coverage to it in your capacity as chief of the ABC news division your network becomes an organ of partisan politics serving Nixon's attempt to rebuild his bankrupt political fortunes and feed his still-burning presidential ambition."

PLAN REGIONAL COVERAGE

Hagerty told San Francisco newspapers by telephone that Nixon's news conference Wednesday night will get only regional live coverage over the ABC network.

Hagerty added, "There are people outside California who also are interested in Mr. Nixon's political future."

* * *

Hagerty said Kent "has every right to say what he wants to about Mr. Nixon and me personally, but he has no right to tell me how to report or run a news story."

Egyptian Personnel Must Reveal Income

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Cairo newspapers published Sunday, details of a new presidential decree requiring personnel of nationalized industries to declare publicly the wealth of themselves, their wives and children over the past 10 years.

* * *

It is a further step in socialization plans that have now effectively nationalized all industry. The maximum income allowed from all sources is now limited to $28,000 and salaries above $4,200 must be approved by special presidential decree.

Urges Forming of FAA 'Guard'

Wants Air Controllers Put Under Military in Time of Emergency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has asked Congress to creat a "national guard" of key air traffic control personnel.

FAA Administrator Najeeb Halaby Sunday night proposed a new federal aviation service to operate under civilian jurisdiction in peace time and under military discipline in war or a national emergency.

This joint system, he said, would be cheaper and more efficient. The proposals would require major amendments in the Federal Aviation Act of 1958.

* * *

He pointed out the present law does not provide for putting key FAA air controllers under military discipline in an emergency. They now handle both civilian and military air traffic centers, except those military needs peculiar to warfare.

Halaby also said air traffic controllers and other FAA personnel should have higher pay, better working conditions and other inventives to attract the finest workers.

He proposed that controller at major airports work six hours, instead of the present eight-hour-day, using the other two hours for relief and training.

Get African Hostesses

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Central African Airways plans to employ nonwhite African women as air hostesses for the first time.

But What About Hurricanes?

Virgin Island Home Far Away From N-Fallout

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — As most of our friends (they're those folks with the bent ears) know by now, we're building a house on the sea at St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

It is concrete block up to its roof, we are hocked up to our ears, and as every new hurricane snubs the islands and barrels up toward the U.S. mainland, our prayers become stronger and our insurance company gets richer.

We are insuring this little West Indies hideaway against hurricanes, tidal waves, fire, theft and earthquake.

* * *

Although no great blow has blasted the island since the night of Sept. 12, 1928, we have a record book listing the hurricanes that used to come to call, with grim regularity, every 10 or 12 years from 1695 until the year before the depression.

* * *

It's also a matter of record that the first European ever to have made the acquaintance of a hurricane was Christopher Columbus — and where did he meet up with this windy lady which destroyed three of his ships?

In the Caribbean. In the process of discovering "our island" of St. Croix.

But there is one form of insurance that we do not need in the Virgin Islands — and that is protection against nuclear attack and-or fallout.

If Khrushchev and his fiendish friends are nutty enough to waste an expensive bomb to destroy a battalion of bathers, or atomize an army of American laggards on siesta, then the world is lost anyway.

* * *

We didn't, of course, think in these terms when we bought our property four years ago; it was honeymoon time, and we were loony from love, sea spray and trade winds. However, as it turned out, the lunacy could be lucrative. . .

* * *

"In these days of unrest," said a smart young gentleman currently visiting New York, who is the new commissioner of commerce for the Virgins under the Kennedy administration, "everybody wants to buy land in the islands. There's almost no waterfront left. I guarantee that whatever you paid for your land, you could get many times that, this year."

We liked Henry L. Kimelman immediately.

MORE TOURISTS

"For years, the Virgin Islands have been a popular tourist resort, but nothing compared to what it will be. This year we expect a 40 per cent jump in the tourist business," Kimelman went on eagerly:

"St. Thomas is already the number one cruise port in the Caribbean, but we'll have 180 cruise ships, more than ever, next season. And Pan American is planning to fly jets into St. Croix — meaning it'll be only three and one-half hours from New York to your home.

"Some people commute longer than that.

* * *

"But the important thing is that people who used to come down just to have fun and rest and shop (the Virgin Islands are a free port) now are coming down looking for a place to live. As I—and they — see it, there's not a safer place to be in U.S. territory than the Virgin Islands.

"And when you add to that blessing the fact that the Rockefeller Research Institute found our islands to be the most ideal climate in the Western Hemisphere — well, obviously you've picked a winner."

While we sat by smugly, Mr. Kimelman (who built the famed Virgin Isle Hotel which he now leases to Conrad Hilton) described a new project to be begun this year: "Operation Weekend," backed by the State Department, which will fly United Nations personnel— particularly from the new African states— to the VI.

DEMOCRATIC SHOWPLACE

"We want to make the islands our showcase of democracy. We want people to see that here, on United States property, a population that is 85 per cent Negro and 15 per cent white, are living together with no social, racial or religious bigotry whatever. It's true. It should be more widely known."

* * *

And speaking of religion, Kimelman said, "why don't you get rid of some of that costly hurricane insurance? We haven't had a hurricane in 34 years. We have two prayer days in which every Virgin Islander goes to church and prays against hurricanes — and believe me, we have enough different religions to take care of everybody.

"Somebody up there must hear us."

The average child born today can expect to live 15 years longer than one born 60 years ago.

Kickers Pace Victorious Browns, Giants and Packers

Cowboys, Eagles Stay Unbeaten

By United Press International

The talented toes of the field goal specialists are paying off again in the National Football League, but it's the Dallas Cowboys who are getting the biggest "kick" out of the young campaign.

Jim Martin of the Detroit Lions, Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns, Pat Summerall of the New York Giants and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers all did some crucial kicking in winning Sunday games.

The Cowboys didn't boot any field goals but they got their "kicks" just the same by knocking over the Minnesota Vikings, 21-7, for their second straight victory.

With two weeks gone in the tough N.F.L. schedule, there are only three undefeated teams, and the Cowboys are in this elite class with the Lions and the champion Philadelphia Eagles.

Next Sunday could be the day of reckoning, though, when the Cowboys travel to Cleveland to meet the Browns.

The past Sunday was a day of the toe as N.F.L. clubs kicked 13 field goals in six games.

Groza, who was hauled out of retirement this season specifically for this purpose, booted a pair of three-pointers, his second coming from 19 yards out with 35 seconds left on the clock and earning the Browns a come-from-behind 20-17 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Summerall kicked only one field goal and it came as early as the third period. But his 19-yarder provided the Giants with their margin of victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-14.

The champion Eagles had a tough battle with the Washington Redskins before winning, 14-7, for their second straight victory; the Cowboys, who did not win a game in their initial N.F.L. season last year, made it two in a row by beating the Minnesota Vikings, 21-7; and the Packers bounced the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 30-10. In a Saturday night game, the Chicago Bears beat the Los Angeles Rams, 21-17.

The favored Browns trailed the Cardinals, 17-10 in the final period, when they rallied before a home crowd of 50,443. A 41-yard touchdown pass from Milt Plum to Leon Clarke tied the score. Rookie Tom Watkins' 18-yard sprint during the final minute put the ball in position for Groza's winning kick.

St. Louis had built up its early lead on a pair of touchdown passes from Sam Etchverry to Sonny Randle during the first half.

Don Meredith and a pair of power-running rookies, Don Perkins and Amos Marsh, played starring roles in the Cowboys' win over the Vikings before an estimated crowd of 20,500 at Dallas.

Merredith ran 20 yards for one touchdown and passed 19 yards to Marsh for another. Marsh also scored Dallas' first TD on a 6-yard run. Perkins gained 108 yards in 17 rushes.

Y. A. Tittle came off the Giants' bench in the third period immediately after Summerall's field goal and guided the touchdown march that enabled New York to withstand the Steelers' late comeback before 38,587 at Pittsburgh.

Tittle hit on 10 of 12 passes, including a 5-yard scoring toss to Joe Morrison. The defense saved the Giants in the final period. With the Steelers driving into New York territory late in the game, Andy Robustelli jarred the ball out of Steeler quarterback Rudy Bukich's arms and tackle Jim Katcavage picked the fumble out of the air and ran to the Pittsburgh 24, ending the threat.

The champion Eagles needed a 23-yard TD pass from Sonny Jurgensen to Tommy McDonald in the third period to beat the dogged Redskins before 50,108 fans at Philadelphia. An earlier 80-yard pass play from Redskin rookie quarterback Norm Snead to Fred Duggan had tied the score. Jurgensen also passed 52 yards to Pete Retzlaff for Philadelphia's first TD.

Hornung scored a touchdown and kicked three placements and three field goals as the Packers rebounded from their opening defeat and beat San Francisco before 36,669 at Green Bay. Hornung and Jim Taylor accounted for 114 of the Packers' 124 rushing yards. Tommy Davis kicked a 46-yard Forty-Niner field goal that set a club record.

Single Drills for 'M'-MSU

UCLA Home Opener for Wolverines Next Saturday

By United Press International

Michigan football coach Bump Elliott and Michigan State mentor Duffy Daugherty today will move their teams through single practice sessions as they look ahead to tough season openers next Saturday.

Wolverine foe UCLA, considered a top threat for Pacific Coast honors this fall, opened with a 19-6 victory over Air Force, while MSU's opponent, Wisconsin, edged Utah, 7-0, Saturday.

UCLA, which will play in Ann Arbor, sported a more than adequate successor to departed tailback Bill Kilmer in Bobby Smith. He scored all three touchodwns in plugging the "hole" left by Kilmer, last year's national total offense leader.

Wisconsin scored on a pass from Ron Miller to Pat Richter—the same combination which paced the Badger offense last season.

Daugherty said he planned to emphasize pass defense in preparation for the Spartans' trip to Madison and their bout with Miller, Richter and Co.

Grid Powers Open on Saturday

By The Associated Press
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the teams ranked in the top 10 in the pre-season Associated Press college football poll get away to belated starts next Saturday, and the late starters include Iowa and Ohio State, the Big Ten powers ranked 1 and 2, respectively.

Iowa entertains California at Iowa City and the Buckeyes are hosts to a surprisingly strong Texas Christian which upset eighth-ranked Kansas last Saturday 17-16.

★ ★ ★

The third of the top 10 making its debut is Michigan State, which plunges right into the Big Ten title competition in a game at Wisconsin. The Badgers were hard-pressed to turn back a stubborn Utah eleven on a muddy field last Saturday 7-0.

California was thoroughly beaten by fourth-ranked Texas in its first start 28-3, so Iowa's performance against the Golden Bears will be watched with keen interest.

★ ★ ★

Aside from Kansas, the only other team in the pre-season top 10 to be upended Saturday was LSU, picked as No. 5. LSU bowed to Rice 16-3 before a crowd of 73,000 at Houston.

Alabama, rated No. 3, indicated it is to be reckoned with for national honors as it rolled over Georgia 32-6. Seventh-ranked Penn State had its troubles, but defeated Navy with a last-period surge 20-10.

Mississippi (No. 9) swarmed over Arkansas in last Saturday's nationally televised game 16-0, and 10th ranked Syracuse defeated Oregon State 19-8.

Two prolonged losing streaks went by the boards in Saturday's play. Virginia, winless in its 28 preceding games, snapped out of its doldrums to outscore William and Mary 21-6, and Stanford edged out Tulane 9-7 for its first victory in 12 starts. New Mexico State's 16-game winning streak was stopped by New Mexico 41-7.

In other games Saturday Duke barely got by South Carolina 7-6, Wyoming upset North Carolina State 15-14, Kansas State upset Indiana 14-8, Maryland downed SMU 14-6, Missouri whipped Washington State 28-6, Purdue downed Washington 13-6 and Iowa State upset Oklahoma State in the first Big Eight encounter 14-7.

★ ★ ★

Five of the current members of the top 10 turn night owls this week. Saturday night Alabama is at Tulane, Texas is host to Texas Tech, LSU entertains Texas Aggies and Mississippi invades Kentucky. Penn State meets Miami (Fla.) at Miami Friday night.

Kansas will seek to regain some lost prestige against Wyoming Saturday afternoon, and Syracuse meets West Virginia.

Uses Hot Putter to Edge Hill

Casper Wins at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Billy Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., closed with a rush in the final nine holes Sunday and won his third straight Portland Open Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Casper finished with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 under par on the 6,675-yard Columbia-Edgewater Course. He matched 5-under par rounds of 67 in the final two days of the four-day, $25,000 open tourney.

Young Dave Hill of Denver, Colo., who held a three-stroke lead over Casper going into the final round, finished second with 274 and a 71 for the round.

"I was worried all the way," said Casper, whose deadly clutch putting finally caught up with the 24-year-old Denver Open Champion on the 12th hole.

★ ★ ★

Casper evened the score in spectacular fashion. After reaching the green of the par 5, 532-yard hole in two strokes, he holed a 16½ foot eagle putt which traveled downhill and to the right.

The shot seemed to unnerve Hill, who lost the lead going 1-over-par on the par 3, 13th hole.

Casper calmly sank a short putt on the final hole to wrap up the tense match. Moments earlier, Hill had barely missed a bold 40-foot putt which would have given him a tie with the defending champion.

The victory was worth $3,500 to Casper. Hill received $2,300.

Rams Beaten, Our Lady Lakes Drops Squeaker

Cranes Take Groves, Emmanuel 18-0 Loser; Hawks, Sorrows Win

St. Michael got off to a successful start in the league and Orchard Lake remained unbeaten in come-from-behind triumphs featuring the 2nd week of Suburban Catholic play yesterday.

The Rams of St. Frederick were trampled 41-6 by St. Clement and Royal Oak St. Mary nipped Our Lady of the Lakes 7-6 in other loop tilts. Royal Oak Shrine and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows continued perfect seasons with Sunday wins.

Cranbrook opened happily under new boss Pete Slader with a 13-6 conquest of Birmingham Groves, Emmanuel dropped an 18-0 verdict to Huron, Ortonville kept rolling by taking Birch Run 18-14 and L'Anse Creuse walloped Clintondale 26-6 in Saturday games.

Heavy rains marred games on both days.

St. Mike didn't get going until it started to rain at the St. Benedict field. Trailing 12-0 after one period, the Shamrocks roared back to go ahead 14-12 by halftime and that turned out to be the final score.

Gary Hintz ran 60 yards for the 1st Mike TD of the season and Larry Sonnenberg ran the extra point. The visitors went ahead to stay on a 30-yard Sonnenberg-to-Charlie Daul pass. Hintz ran the PAT.

A 60-yard gallop by Sonnenberg gave the Shamrocks another chance just before the half ended but that threat faltered as did two in the 2nd part of the game. Hintz, Jerry Martin and 130-pound fullback Bill Harding ran well for the victors. Jim Hurren starred in the line.

Orchard Lake matched St. Clement at 2-0 with a 22-14 upset of St. James sparked by the running of Stan Garwood. He made the three Eaglet touchdowns on end runs covering 2, 6, and 20 yards. Walt Smela rushed for two PATs and Stan Sawicki tackled enemy quarterback Walt Motyka in the end zone for a safety.

The Ferndale eleven started fast reaching pay dirt on a 15-yard Motyka flip to Dave LaPrairie. It was 7-7 at halftime but St. Mary completely dominated the last half scoring 15 points in the 3rd period. Motyka passed for the other James TD and for both extra points. Eaglet linemen Tony Halat and Tom Summers led a strong defense which held Dale rushing ace Ron Koteles in check and forced numerous fumbles.

St. Fred was never in its game. An 80-yard kickoff return by Fred Medina in the last half avoided a shutout. Six different Clement players got touchdowns.

Our Lady of the Lakes made a disappointing showing at Royal Oak. Coach Bob Mineweaser singled out only two-way line vet Lou Mettler for praise.

Royal Oak opened the scoring in the 2nd quarter on a 60-yard run and extra point kick. George Sharpe matched the TD on a 15-yard scamper shortly after but a PAT run failed. St. Mary got to the 2 once and dominated the 2nd half.

Shrine defeated Dearborn Sacred Heart 12-6. Cam Welsh went over from the 3 in the last second of the initial half and Chuck Lowther ran 47 for the other tally. Dearborn recovered a fumble in the end zone for its points.

Jeff Barth of OLS broke up a scoreless tussle with a 25-yard touchdown run and passed for another in a 12-0 conquest of St. Francis Xavier. Barth, who gained 177 yards, fired 15 yards to Dave Ormsby in the 4th quarter. Line ace Tony Sutter excelled both ways.

Dick Mosher hit Larry Hard with a seven-yard aerial and Dave Schultz crashed to pay dirt from two yards out for Cranbrook. Doug Moore went four following a fumble recovery for Groves' tally.

Huron scored in each of the 1st three periods featuring a strong ground attack which piled up 234 yards. A clipping penalty nullified a Lancer TD. Ron Jackson and Ralph Wingate ran well in defeat. Jack Gillespie was outstanding in the line where Dick Lawson and George Crawford also drew praise from coach Frank Thompson.

St. Fred transfer Bill Atkins scored two more touchdowns to pace Ortonville. He ran 14 for one and caught a pass from Pat Barrick on a 50-yard play for the other. Roger Wills ran 52 for the other points. Wills gained 80 and Atkins 52 rushing. Larry Frahm and John Francis were tops on defense, especially in the final period.

Bill Upton made two touchdowns, Dave Babe added one and a pair of extra points to lead L'Anse Creuse.

Sugar Ray Fights Greaves in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Age and youth will tangle here tonight when former five-time world middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson meets Canadian middleweight king Willie Greaves in a 10-round non-title bout at the Convention Arena.

Weigh-in was scheduled for 1 p.m. at local boxing commission offices.

Robinson, 41, will be giving 15 years to Greaves, 26, in his twilight bid for another crack at the world middleweight title.

His most recent title effort was last March in Las Vegas where he dropped a 15-round decision to Gene Fullmer, holder of the National Boxing Association's version of the crown.

Six-Month Suspensions Handed Snead, Burkemo

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sam Snead, suspended Saturday for six months by the Professional Golfers Association, now must await a decision on whether he can compete on the U.S. team in the Ryder Cup matches with Great Britain next month.

Snead, who has won more tournaments than any other golfer in the history of the game, was suspended and fined $500 for playing in a pro-amateur event in Cincinnati over the weekend which conflicted with the PGA-sanctioned Portland Open.

Tommy Bolt and four other golfers got the same penalty for playing in Cincinnati.

Also suspended were Dick Mayer, Chick Harbert, Lew Worsham and Walter Burkemo.

Upon learning of the suspension after he had completed the first round in Cincinnati Saturday, Snead withdrew from the tournament and said he would get a lawyer to appeal the decision.

Snead, obviously anxious to compete on the Ryder Cup team, apparently plans to use his quick withdrawal as a defense when he appeals the decision to the PGA Appeals Committee.

However, the decision on his eligibility for the Ryder Cup team rests with the executive committee of the PGA, which conceivably could give him a go-ahead even if the appeal from the suspension is denied.

Joe Black, PGA tournament supervisor who was in Portland for the open, announced the suspension upon learning that the six golfers had played in Cincinnati.

PGA rules do not permit name golfers who have won tournaments in the past year to appear in an event conflicting with one sanctioned by the PGA, without permission of the tournament's sponsors.

Oregon Golf Enterprises, sponsoring the Portland Open, denied the permission to Snead and Bolt.

Mayer had committed himself to play at Portland. The other three needed only PGA permission but did not get it. Mayer and Bolt also withdrew from the tournament.

Baltimore Running Power Stopped

Invincible Lions' Defense?—No, but Tough

Martin's 49-Yard Boot Brings 16-15 Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BALTIMORE — Don't call the defense of the Detroit Lions invincible (not yet anyway), but just say it's "plenty tough." This was Joe Schmidt, proud captain of the defensive unit talking after yesterday's 16-15 nerve-racking victory in Baltimore.

For the second week in a row, against Green Bay last week, the Lions stopped two of the most high powered offensive teams in the Western Division.

"No team is invincible in this league," said Schmidt, "but if this defensive unit can stay healthy it can be one of the best in pro ball."

Last week against Green Bay, the power-runners of the Packers, Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor had to be content with 109 yards between them. Yesterday, an equally strong pair, Lenny Moore and Joe "the Jet" Perry were grudgingly allowed 78 yards. It was a different story for Perry, who a week before, picked 106 yards himself against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Colts certainly have the ingredients of the great championship teams of 1958-59, but Johnny Unitas appears to have lost his poise (or maybe his nerve) as the heralded third-down field general he was known to be.

The classy Colt passer may not be getting the protection he has been so used to getting, but he also seems to be a little shy in carrying the ball when the opportunity arises.

In the second quarter with third down and less than a yard, Unitas elected to pass and was smeared by Wayne Walker thus forcing a punting situation.

In the third quarter with third down and two yards to go with a wide open sideline to pick up the yardage, he hurried his throw far over the head of his receiver. Another time he elected to run out of bounds rather than get hit trying for an extra yard.

PRESSURE ON UNITAS

Of course the Lions put plenty of pressure on Unitas but it was his own doing which helped. Schmidt pointed out that Unitas was giving the quick count and it prevented the Lions from interior red-dogging.

This forced Walker and Carl Brettschneider to red-dog from the outside and they performed their duties especially well.

★ ★ ★

Heroes were plenty for the Lions, who now have disposed of the two toughest teams in the Western Division and get ready for a four game home stand.

The oldest player on the team, 37-year-old Jim Martin, should probably take the first bows.

His 49-yard shot-gun field goal with four minutes to play, provided the margin of victory.

A minute earlier, the Colts had just scored on a pass from Unitas to Moore, eight yards, to take a 15-13 lead. It looked hopeless for the Lions when the ensuing drive was halted by Billy Boyd's interception of Morrall's pass at midfield.

On the first play however, big Roger Brown rattled rookie fullback Mark Smolinski with a jarring tackle. The ball sprung loose into the arms of Alex Karras and at 5:25 to play the Lions had the ball on the Colt 45.

On the next play Gail Cogdill was called for offensive pass interference and the Lions were back on their own 40. Danny Lewis got 14, Nick Pietrosante got two and a third down pass failed thus setting the stage for Martin's field goal. The ball started out like a low line drive and started wavering to the right, but it just cleared the cross bar and 54,259 praying Baltimore fans dropped their silent jaws in dismay.

The first half produced some weird scoring. The Colts got first blood on Steve Myrha's 42 yard boot at 7:54 of the first quarter.

MORRALL JITTERY

Morrall looked jittery throughout the first half. The Lions got a first down on the Colt 22, but three plays failed to gain and Martin tied the score at 3-3.

A beautiful pass interception by Yale Lary started the Lions' march from the Colt 44 to the five. Three times Morrall was smeared and the 4th time, Carl Tasseff intercepted on the three to kill the threat.

Jim Ninowski came a few minutes later and he too had his troubles. Gino Marchetti smashed through, ran over Bob Schultz, trying to block for Ninowski, and smeared Ninowski in the end zone for a safety. This was a 5-3 halftime score.

Martin started the second half with a 28-yard field goal in the opening minutes.

A bad punt from his own 28, out of bounds on the Colt 48 by Tom Gilburg set up the Lions' only touchdown. Morrall spotted Terry Barr in the end zone and with three players Bob Harrison, Jim Welch and Andy Nelson all around him, Barr made a sensational catch for the TD to make it 13-5.

★ ★ ★

Myrha's 12 yarder made 13-8 a couple minutes later and the Unitas to Moore pass in the 4th quarter made it 15-13.

The Lions almost lost it in the waning seconds. With 58 seconds to play, Pietrosante plunged over the line trying for first down to keep possession. The ball slipped out of his grasp and jerseys went diving from all sides. When the mass of players was removed, Morrall was at the bottom holding dearly to the pigskin. Morrall then held the ball for the final 31 seconds.

★ ★ ★

The 90 degree heat prevented the tired, wilted players from any wild locker room celebration. Bill Glass gave out with the loudest cheer—"hot dog."

WINNING BOOT—Detroit Lions placekicking specialist Jim Martin cuts loose with his game-winning 49-yard field goal against the Baltimore Colts in the final four minutes of yesterday's game at Baltimore. Martin's kick gave the Lions a 16-15 victory over the Colts. Earl Morrall (14) holds the ball for the boot as Colts Art Donovan (70) and Andy Nelson (80) try to block the effort.

HEAD KNOCKING FOOTBALL—Detroit Lions fullback Johnny Olszewski puts his head down and drives for a first down on the Baltimore 29-yard line in the 2nd quarter of Sunday's NFL game at Baltimore. Colt halfback Bob Harrison (20) and Billy Ray Smith (83) make the jarring tackle. Lion quarterback Earl Morrall (left) and Colt tackle Jim Colvin look on from the rear. The Lions edged the Colt, 16-15.

Martin Is Oldest Lion With 'Priceless Toe'

There must be something about the toe of a football player that doesn't keep up with his age. At least it would seem so in the case of Jim Martin, the Detroit Lions' ace field goal kicker.

At the age of 37, Martin is the "daddy" of the team, but he still has as much zest as anyone on the squad.

Martin has been in pro football for 12 years and strangely his best kicking has been in the last three years, ages which are usually considered "old" in pro ranks.

Yesterday's 49 yard field goal which gave the Lions' a 16-15 win over the Baltimore Colts was Martin's 4th longest of his career and oddly enough three of the four have been against the Colts.

Last year he booted 52 and 51 yarders and a 40 yarder in one game against Baltimore. In 1959 he had a 50 yard boot.

Yesterday's kick was "one of my big ones," said Maritn, "although they're all big for me, whether from the five or the 50."

From 1951 to 1955, the kicking chores rested with Doak Walker, although Martin did have a few. In 1956 he made four of 10 and as he got older his record improved each year. Last year he made 13 of 24 including the longest of his career.

Against Green Bay he has made one for one and the three yesterday gave him four in a row. In both games his field goals were the margin of victories.

The former Notre Dame star with a great service record as a member of the Marine Corps during the war, is also an ex-boxer and is considered to have the perfect well-built physique among the Lions.

"He's one guy I wouldn't advise anyone to get tough with," said coach George Wilson. Martin's home is Anaheim, California.

He has no immediate plans for retirement, in fact he just might stay in pro football and establish the record of being the oldest player in the game.

His career record now stands at 45 field goals in 99 attempts. It is unlikely he will ever break the record of 131 field goals for his career which is held by Lou Groza, but he could set the mark for one season at his present pace. Groza kicked 23 during the 1953 season.

One thing is certain. The Lions are protecting their "priceless toe" by giving him only limited duties as a linebacker.

It's no wonder that when Buddy Parker left to coach the Steelers he admitted that if he had his choice of Lion players he would take Martin. The Steelers could have used him the last two weeks as they have lost both games by the margin of a field goal.

Spahn Posts 20th Victory 12th Time

By The Associated Press

National League historians may label 1961 the year of Warren Spahn. The Milwaukee pitcher reached the 300-victory mark in mid-summer and hasn't stopped yet. Spahn's 20th victory Sunday marked the 12th time he has scaled that peak, breaking his own major league record for left-handers.

The 40-year-old marvel now has won 308 in his career, tying him with Hoss Radbourne for 11th place on the all-time list. His 55 shutouts are tops for a lefty. The only pitchers who have won 20 as often are Walter Johnson (12) Christy Mathewson (13) and Cy Young (16).

Spahn left nothing for chance in his third bid for No. 20. He shut out Chicago with two hits 8-0 in the first game of a doubleheader and contributed two doubles and a single. The Cubs won the second game 4-2.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, back in the pennant race, Cincinnati edged a step closer despite a 12-5 drubbing at the hands of San Francisco. Because St. Louis beat Los Angeles 8-7, any combination of two Reds' victories or Dodger defeats would end it. The magic number is only one to clinch a tie.

The Giants scored nine runs in the fourth inning, including a grand slam homer by Orlando Cepeda, routing Joey Jay in the Reds' last home game. Cincinnati plays only four more, one at Chicago and three at Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles trailed 6-0 at one stage and just missed by one run in a ninth inning rally. As it turned out the winning run was driven in by Stan Musial's pinch double in the seventh, which put the Cards out front 8-5 at that time. The Dodgers have six to play, all on the road with two each at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

★ ★ ★

In the other National League game, Pittsburgh put together four straight singles by Dick Groat, Don Clendenon, Dick Stuart and Bob Skinner to score two runs in the seventh for a 4-3 edge over Philadelphia.

Spahn's feat of winning 20 was remarkable considering that he got off slowly and didn't win No. 10 until July 30. However he lost only one of his last 11 decisions, to Los Angeles in his first bid for his 20th, and failed to list against the Giants although he was not the pitcher of record.

Outfield Error Helps Bengals to 6-4 Win

Detroit Uses 6 Hurlers in Los Angeles Game; Koplitz Triumphs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers didn't win the American League pennant but they did clinch at least a tie for second place.

The Tigers did it yesterday by clipping the oft-beaten Los Angeles Angels 7-5 in a 10-inning contest. It was the Angels' seventh straight loss and their 14th to Detroit in 18 games.

The game was knotted 5-5 in the 10th when Angel outfielder Ken Hunt dropped a fly ball with two outs and let in two runs.

Art Fowler, the last of four Los Angeles pitchers, retired the first two batters in the 10th, then walked Norm Cash and Steve Boros.

Jake Wood arrived at the plate, slapped a short looping fly to right and three Los Angeles players went for what seemed an easy out. But although Hunt had the ball in his glove near the foul line it popped out and Cash and Boros scored.

Hunt had been a hero earlier when he pulled the Angels into a 5-5 tie by belting a pinch-hit homer in the eighth.

The Tigers used six pitchers in the three-hour and 12-minute contest. The victory went to rookie Howie Koplitz (1-0). Fowler was the loser. He was one of four pitchers used by the Angels.

The Tigers were trailing 4-0 when they got a run in the fifth on doubles by Boros and Wood. They got three more in the seventh to tie it up. The tallies came on singles by Wood and Dick Brown, Al Kaline's pinch double and Bubba Morton's pinch single.

Detroit took a one-run lead in the eighth on singles by Rocky Colavito and Cash plus a wild pitch by Ryne Duren but Hunt tied it up in the bottom of the inning with his homer.

The Tigers play the Kansas City Athletics in a twi-night doubleheader today. Don Mossi (15-7) and Ron Kline (8-8) are slated to start for Detroit. They will be opposed by Jim Archer (9-13) and Bob Shaw (11-13).

One-Hitter for 'Reject' Donovan

By The Associated Press

Dick Donovan, a "reject" who was tossed into the talent pool by Chicago when the American League expanded to 10 clubs last winter, shapes up as one of the best stories of the year.

★ ★ ★

The veteran right-hander, drafted by the lean and player-hungry Washington Senators for $75,000, practically clinched the league's earned run title Sunday when he pitched a one-hitter against the Minnesota Twins. The only hit was a home run by Joe Altobelli with one out in the seventh.

★ ★ ★

Unofficial pitching averages show Donovan has an earned run mark of 2.32. The nine innings against the Twins gave him 163 for the season, one over the revised required minimum (one inning for every game scheduled). Luis Arroyo of New York and Hoyt Wilhelm of Baltimore have lower averages but they can't qualify on innings pitched.

Considering that Donovan lost his first five, missed almost two months with various ailments, his 10-9 record for a last place club comes under the heading of minor miracles.

The M and M boys failed to connect for a home run in Boston where Roger Maris settled for a single and Mickey Mantle went hitless as the Yankees lost 3-1 to Bill Monbouquette.

Maris, still one short of Babe Ruth's season total of 60, has five more games to play in the 162-decision schedule. All of them are at home, two with Baltimore and three with Boston. Mantle has been in and out of the lineup recently, suffering from a bad cold.

Baltimore clinched third place with a 5-3 second game victory over Chicago after the White Sox took the opener 8-7.

★ ★ ★

Detroit topped Los Angeles in 10 innings 7-5 when Ken Hunt, whose eighth inning pinch homer tied the score, dropped a fly ball for a two-run error. The victory assured the Tigers of no worse than a tie for second place.

The Cleveland-Kansas City game was washed out in the second inning and was cancelled.

Before Altobelli hit his home run in the Twins' stadium, only three men had reached base against Donovan, two on walks and one on an error. Only one man had hit the ball out of the infield. Following the homer, Donovan retired the last eight men he faced. Jim Kaat was the loser.

★ ★ ★

The only Yankee run in Boston came on Bill Skowron's 28th homer. Maris gave the crowd of 30,802 a thrill when he lined a foul into the right field seats in the eighth. Jackie Jensen made a sensational catch on a long smash by Mantle in the sixth.

Jim Gentile hit his 45th homer for Baltimore in the first game at Chicago but it wasn't enough.

Shoots Ace at Municipal

Chester Singleton of Pontiac rifled the first hole-in-one of his golfing career over the weekend at Pontiac Municipal golf course. Singleton, who lives at 278 Central St., used his 8-iron to ace the 127-yard 4th hole on the South nine. Witnesses included former city golf champion Butler Cooper, Julius Caillet and Harold Daniels. Singleton also eagled the 7th hole and shot par 35 for the round.

Swinging at Bad Pitches

Pressure Bothers Maris

BOSTON (AP)—"I thought the pressure would be off me after the 154th game. But I was wrong. It's worse than ever now. The way things are going I don't even think I'll hit 60 home runs by the end of the season."

Disappointment was written all over his features as Roger Maris talked today of his steadily slimming chances to become the first man since Babe Ruth to hit 60 home runs in a season.

★ ★ ★

"Honest to goodness," the New York Yankee slugger muttered, "a guy could go out of his mind. Every pitch, every ball. You know you shouldn't be swinging at some of those pitches—they're so bad—but you do. You know you're hurting yourself. The average keeps going down. But what good do those bases on balls do?

"I guess it's my pride—or just plain stubbornness that makes me go after pitches I shouldn't. They're not giving me anything to hit. They're more concerned with getting me to go after a bad pitch than in getting me out.

"But I've got to swing, I've got to give myself a chance. I'd rather go out swinging than go out walking."

Maris drew only one walk in four times at bat Sunday but right-hander Bill Monbouquette, who permitted the Yankees only five hits in pitching Boston to a 3-1 triumph, served Roger only three good pitches, according to the outfielder's count.

"I popped up the first one, singled on another and fouled the third into the stands," he said.

The walk, Maris' third in two days, came in the first inning.

Pistons Return to Home Court for Daily Drills

PORT HURON, Mich (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association will finish their two-a-day drills today at their training site and return tomorrow to Detroit.

Tuesday afternoon they will begin training at their new Cobo Hall Arena home. Twice daily practices will continue Wednesday, Thursday and Friday before coach Dick McGuire sends his club to Morris, Ill., for the opening exhibition clash on Sept. 30 against the new Chicago Packers.

Rookie Doug Kistler voluntarily withdrew from the squad after Saturday's practice, leaving 13 players in camp, plus veteran Walter Dukes.

Dukes will remain idle for a few more days to fully recover from a summer appendectomy.

Pushing Oscar Hopefuls to Meet Dec. 31 Date

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Theater booker's headache—trying to jam the Oscar hopefuls into Los Angeles houses before the yearend deadline. Among the December releases: "The Children's Hour," "West Side Story," "Judgment At Nuremberg," "Pocketfull of Miracles," "Majority of One," "El Cid," "King of Kings," "Tender is the Night," "Summer and Smoke," and "Four Horsemen."

"Ben-Hur" is finally closing at the Egyptian a few weeks short of two years, believed to be a local record. Ad line: "The word for Robert Rossens 'The Hustler' is prim-i-tive." Is that good?

SPLIT AT SUCCESS

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer stuck together during the four years he couldn't find work, then split when he found success as a director. How do you figure it? Note Mort Sahl's blowup over hecklers at the Crescendo. He who disheth out must learn to taketh.

Watch it girls! Carroll Baker, Natalie Wood, Deborah Kerr and Debbie Reynolds get single top billing in new films. That's a heavy load for any girl to carry. United Artists is finally releasing "Summer of the 17th Doll," filmed three summers ago in Australia with Ernest Borgnine, Anne Baxter, John Mills, Angela Lansbury. New title: "Season of Passion"!

JUST GETS $1 MILLION

Reports that Marlon Brando gets $2 million salary for "Mutiny on the Bounty" are exaggerated. It's only $1 million—$500,000 guarantee for 20 weeks plus golden hours of $25,000 a week. Plus 10 per cent of gross receipts. MGM turned down offers to buy the Bounty ship, will use it to publicize the film.

This may be the last season for the Nelson family on TV. Harriet is hankering to do a Gracie Allen. Frank Sinatra needs a strong film role. It ain't in "Devil at 4 O'Clock." The volcano has a better role than the actors.

Natalie Wood is the hottest gal in town following previews of "Splendor in the Grass" and "West Side Story". The Natalie-Bob Wagner-Joan Collins-Warren Beatty combo is the most promising round robin since Lana Turner, Lex Barker, Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas switched partners.

Lauds Colleges for Giving Public Extension Service

EAST LANSING (AP) — By taking higher education to the people, Michigan universities are performing an essential public service, the executive director of the Council of State College Presidents said today.

The director, M. M. Chambers, addressing a meeting of the Council of Field Services at Michigan State Universities, said university extension courses do not duplicate or compete with work of junior colleges.

There are mainly on senior college and graduate levels, he said, serving teachers and other professional and business people with fulltime jobs.

The council of Field Services is a subsidiary of the council of College Presidents.

U.S. Steel Pays Off $1.3 Million to State

LANSING (UPI) — U. S. Steel Corp. has paid the state more than $1.3 million in corporate privilege and filing fees for 1954-60, says Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

The delayed payment, plus interest, was made when the corporation dropped its appeal of the fees because of a U. S. Supreme Court decision.

U. S. Steel contended in an appeal to the Corporation Tax Appeal Board that its sales to Michigan customers on contracts executed outside the state could not be considered in determining the tax.

The high court ruled in a similar case that receipts from interstate sales could be taxed by the states, Adams said.

Irregular Mart Suffers Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined irregularly in moderate trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional and outnumbered gainers about 2-to-1.

The list was mixed with a downside tendency at the start. Losses grew more numerous as trading continued.

Aluminum stocks showed a softer tendency as price cuts widened in the industry. Reynolds Metals dropped a point to 38⅛ on 4,000 shares then cut the loss fractionally.

* * *

Profit taking continued in some of the electronics. Beckman Instruments was down a couple of points. Sperry Rand was off ½ at 24⅛ on a big opening block of 11,000 shares. Zenith fell 3 points.

General Motors was up a fraction. Ford took a fractional loss as the auto union switched its bargaining pressure to that company.

* * *

Pontiac Teacher Retires Friday After 30 Years

After 30 years of service in Pontiac public schools, Mrs. Ellsworth (Ruth) Willis is retiring. She will teach her 4th-grade class at Hawthorne School for the last time Friday, Sept. 29.

On Wednesday, the Hawthorne Parent-Teacher Association will give a luncheon in Mrs. Willis' honor at 12:30 p.m. in the Hawthorne School cafeteria.

Mrs. Willis began teaching at Hawthorne School eight years ago when the school was opened. Previously she taught at Weaver and Malcolm schools.

Before coming to Pontiac, Mrs. Willis taught 2½ years in Onaway. She is a graduate of Ypsilanti State Normal.

Sawmills in the United States last year produced 31,727,000,000 board feet of lumber.

U.S. Tourists Go, Uh, Native

Latest Word in Fashion, According to Caribbean Report, Is OUCH!

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower once reminded American tourists they were sort of U.S. ambassadors when they went abroad.

He might not have made the statement if he could see some of the resort clothes those tourists, especially the men, wear ashore in this and other resorts in the Caribbean.

Men's fashion advertisements show smart looking sports shirts, smart looking slacks and shorts, smart looking shoes, smart looking hats and neat looking bathing attire.

* * *

What most of the tourists wear ashore is something fantastically different, dredged up from heaven knows where and worn with an incredible lack of style and skill.

Winter residents flee to the hills when they see a cruise ship appearing over the horizon. The businessmen of Bay Street whose livelihood depends on tourism shudder at the sights to come and prepare for the onslaught.

And when they pour ashore, these ambassadors of good will, it is something to behold.

FROM NECK DOWN

From the neck down the only word is "much." There are bright flowered shirts flapping in the breeze or hanging down over baggy shorts that obviously were worn all last summer for suburban lawn mowing.

But the shocker is the shoes. Black business shoes and with them black socks, which, since garters obviously are too impractical, are allowed to droop sadly over the shoes. And that is almost standard tourist attire.

The worst are those who do not bother to button their shirts, and then they really flap in the breeze, disclosing a pale and paunchy stomach that overlaps the sagging, drooping shorts. Some even wear swimming trunks ashore.

Teens Encouraged to Purchase on Credit

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — A Tulsa department store reports "real success" with a program which allows charge accounts for teenagers without parents as cosigners.

* * *

"We limit them to $30 and try to impress them with the importance of good credit," said credit manager Bill Vance of Froug's Department Store.

* * *

"This country's economy is being built on credit and you must teach children to use credit and use it wisely."

Ghost Chills Families in Nottingham

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP)—Frightened families today told of seeing the ghost of a woman in black pigtails.

* * *

A local vicar, the Rev. George Muxlow, has been called in to comfort women who claim to have seen the ghost move through their homes in an apartment block here.

The women say the ghost reaches out its arms appealingly to people it meets, moves articles from tables and cupboards — and shows itself only to women and children.

They say it is the ghost of a woman who killed herself in one of the apartments several years ago.

Reginald King, whose family lives in the block, said:

"We have children staying here. The other night the baby, asleep in its crib, suddenly started laughing.

"When another little girl got up in the morning she asked if the strange woman would be coming back. She had seen her tickling the baby."

At last one family is planning to move out of the apartment block.

* * *

"My wife has seen the ghost twice," said Leslie Weatherill. "She spoke to it and asked if she could do anything to help. It drifted away without answering."

Another little girl once said to her father, pointing across the room: "Who is that lady over there?"

He saw nothing.

U.S. Opposes 'Veto Principle'

Extend Troika Plan to Disarmament

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union disclosed Sunday night it has extended its three-man "troika" principle to the field of general disarmament.

* * *

Tass News Agency made the disclosure in a dispatch on a report on Soviet-United States disarmament talks it said Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had turned over to the United Nations.

Tass said that in the course of negotiations between John J. McCloy, President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, and Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, the Soviet Union made the following points:

—General and complete disarmament in 4 to 5 years with "strict international control."

—No "effective control," no disarmament.

—Resolute opposition to control over armaments.

* * *

—An international control organization, consisting of all nations party to a disarmament treaty, and under administrative control consisting of one neutral, one Western and one Communist bloc representative.

U.S. OPPOSES PLAN

Previously the Soviet Union had applied its Troika demand to the administration of the United Nations and the nuclear test ban treaty. The United States has opposed it on the grounds this would give the Russians a veto power with which they could effectively cripple any action.

Tass said Gromyok's report was delivered to Mongi Slim of Tunisia, president of the 16th General Assembly.

McCloy and Zorin discussed disarmament and the setting up of a multi-nation disarmament conference in Washington last June, in Moscow in July and in New York this month.

They reached an impasse and last week turned the problem over to the General Assembly.

* * *

Tass said the Soviet Union had turned over to the United States several documents "substantiating in detail" a program for general and complete disarmament under strict international control that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev submitted to the general assembly a year ago.

It said this was done to "enable the U.S. government to make a deeper study of the Soviet position."

Tass said the report to the United Nations charged the West with obstructing a solution to disarmament.

Tass also reported that Zorin had sent a letter to McCloy saying Russia will "continue to make an effort to get an agreement" on disarmament but repeated its position that the United States control proposals would lead only to "an international system of legitimate espionage."

Pole Sitter 'Unseats' Record Set in 1930

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI) —Paul Emile Cote, a 32-year-old French Canadian, today claimed a new pole-sitting record of 50 days and 23 minutes.

* * *

Cote ended his stay Sunday in a canoe perched atop a 50-foot pole at a drive-in restaurant in this Canadian border city.

* * *

The former paratrooper, who had remained aloft since Aug. 5, contended he broke the mark of 49 days, 8 hours and 3 minutes established by Alvin (Shipwreck) Kelly at Atlantic City, N.J., in 1930.

Two Great Salespeople Seen Lately as Duo

By EARL WILSON

Dave Garroway and Betty Furness — two of the greatest salespeople of this age—are a new duo at the Voisin these nights: could they be giving each other a salestalk? . . . Richard Rodgers discovered ex-Miss America Marianne Mobley (of Mississippi) has a good voice, and since she's also pretty and humble, look out all! . . . Dick Powell between his many jobs around "the Dick Powell Show" has found a format for Jan Murray who may be the next big TV star . . . Frank Sinatra discovered he has high hopes for developing the talents of Copa Gal Linda Wehle, who is the character of the chorus.

WILSON

Broadway chuckled over that wire service story about "Dorothy Lamour's husband, Willie Howard." Dorothy's husband is Bill Howard, only 30 years younger than the late great comic Willie Howard and no relation . . . I was in Danny's Hideaway when Nat Wilcox and Gil Hart of Pittsburgh handed me a key chain bearing the words, "Our Business Is Picking Up." I asked what they do. "Rubbish removal," they explained.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Pretty Myrna Fahay (of CBS' "Father of the Bride") has been dating Harland Svare, the NY Giants' defense coach . . . Dick Gregory says at the Blue Angel, "Kennedy's so smart testing underground — 'cause that's where all the people are gonna be. But it creates a whole new problem—fall up."

Debbie Reynolds'll do no more TV. "I was paid $300,000 for the last one—and it cost me money," she says.

EARL'S PEARLS: Isn't it remarkable that people who ought to feel inferior, don't?

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The Professor said, "There's so much noise in this room I can't hear my own lecture," and a voice from the rear said, "You're not missing anything."

Disney Has Answer for TV Mediocrity

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The great simplifier, Walt Disney, has gone and simplified the solution to TV mediocrity.

As driven home, relentlessly, on the first of his "Wonderful World of Color" shows Sunday night on NBC-TV, the answer is that too many people are still watching on black-and-white TV sets.

The first half of Disney's one-hour program was devoted largely to this pitch, augmented by a new cartoon character, Ludwig Von Drake, and commercials by RCA. It was an unexpectedly hard-sell, callous and condescending attack that was launched upon owners of black-and-white sets.

Of course, the NBC-Disney marriage was ordained by color TV sales potential, but I felt that the TV show itself would operate on a more subliminal level, in the manner of "Bonanza," or "The Shari Lewis Show."

The segment dealing with color—and, naturally, it was beautifully filmed — failed to take the subject apart in the customary Disney style. Von Drake, the lecturer, stayed on too long, made too much noise, was not very funny and was too repetitious.

Much more imagination was displayed during Donald Duck's excursion into the history and uses of mathematics. Here, Disney's awesome ability for simplification made the learning process absorbing. But never has Disney's penchant for simplification been displayed to better advantage than when Donald was told to rid his mind of "confusion, antiquated ideas, false concepts and superstition," Presto, it was done ah, the wonder of the drawing board.

Before Disney, NBC-TV presented the first of "The Bullwinkle Show," formerly known as "Rocky and His Friends" on another network, ABC-TV.

In the Bill Scott-Jay Ward cartoon production, we watched Bullwinkle J. Moose, Rocket Squirrel, Boris Badenov and Natasha Fatale acquit themselves with distinction once more.

* * *

The zany satrical inversions — in color, although nobody was being so darned pushy about it — were as raucous, sweet and chewy as ever. They operate on a less sentimental wave-length than Disney, but they do take time out to educate us.

Opposes Racing of Go-Karts by Young Children

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has voiced opposition to go-kart racing by children under legal driving age.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, Roslyn Heights, N.Y., said the PTA disapproved of such racing because it "is too highly competitive for the emotional maturity of these children, as well as being physically hazardous to them."

In the statement, issued on behalf of the National Congress Board of Managers, Mrs. Jenkins cited two go-kart deaths in Indiana.

"Putting children too young for a drivers' license behind the wheel of even a miniature racing car is endangering their lives," she said.

No One Who Values His Rights Takes Road to Steinstuecken

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERLIN (AP) — "No, sir," said the West Berlin policeman. "You can't go through to Steinstuecken. They'll arrest you if you try."

He stood at the corner of Machnowerstrasse and Koenigsweg in the wooded parkland on the western edge of Berlin.

Behind him, on the other side of a double fence of barbed wire, stood two Vopos (Communist people's police) in their Russian-style uniforms.

"They always patrol in pairs," the West Berliner said. "They have to watch each other. They never talk to us. Anyone who did would immediately become suspect."

* * *

Through a gap in the fence, a narrow road led up into the woods in Communist territory. A battery of signs in four languages warned anyone against crossing over without a permit. A hundred yards away in the woods, Communist flags flew over a check point on the road.

A young girl came down the road on a bicycle. She greeted the two Vopos cheerfully, gave another greeting to the Western policeman, and rode on, without stopping, into the American sector of Berlin.

She is one of the 200 inhabitants of Steinstuecken, an isolated enclave of West Berlin territory a mile beyond the allied perimeter.

COMMUNITY SURROUNDED

The road to Steinsteucken is closed to all except those who live there. The tiny community itself is entirely surrounded by the Communist barbed wire but, for the moment, its inhabitants are left in peace and are allowed unrestricted access to West Berlin.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin, regards Steinstuecken as a symbol of Western rights in the city. One of his first acts after arriving here last week was to visit the enclave by helicopter.

Friday, three U.S. soldiers were flown in to set up what looks like a permanent Army post in the community. A helicopter airlift is keeping them supplied.

* * *

Theoretically, Western forces in Berlin have the right to drive up the road to Steinstuecken. But no Western troops have gone to the enclave in years except by helicopter. Any attempt to force the road past the Communist check point could create an ugly incident.

"I hope the Americans never try it," the Western policeman said. "It would only stir up trouble and give them a pretext over there for closing the road altogether."

At the side of the road, scores of bicycles were lined up in a shelter. A cream-colored West Berlin double decker bus stopped at the crossroads.

END OF LINE

"Steinstuecken," the conductor called out. It was the end of the line.

Several of the passengers fetched their bicycles from the shelter and rode off toward the enclave. Others walked. They all knew the guards on both sides, and greeted them. Most Steinstuecken inhabitants seem to feel it's best to keep up friendly relations all round.

Threatening Call Puts President's Police on Guard

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's police guard was on special alert today as the result of an anonymous telephone call prior to his arrival here to address the United Nations.

* * *

Manhattan police headquarters said the call from a woman was received by Port of New York Authority police at La Guardia Field shortly before the President's plane arrived Sunday.

* * *

"They'd better have plenty of cops ready when he comes into the city," a Port Authority police sergeant quoted her as saying.

'ROUTINE NUMBER'

Approximately 1,000 uniformed policemen and an undisclosed number of plainclothesmen are assigned to special duty during the President's visit. Police said this is routine.

The official flag of the President consists of the President's seal in bronze on a blue background with a large white star in each corner.
