

Aid for College Is Said Likely

State Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Dzendzel said last night he was optimistic that a bill to give state financial aid to the projected Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM) would pass the Senate.

Rebels Refuse to Surrender

Invitation Is Sent by Dominican Junta

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels have rejected a surrender invitation from the new military-civilian junta with a reply that they have the morale and manpower to withstand attack.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, president of the five-man junta, warned yesterday that his forces were ready "as of now" to move against the rebels. But he said no attack would be launched until every effort had been exhausted to avert bloodshed.

U.S. sources said Washington would counsel against any renewal of fighting between the opposing Dominican factions.

Imbert invited the rebels to lay down their arms and leave the country if they wanted to.

Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo, the rebel chieftain, issued this reply from his headquarters in the rebel-held southeast portion of Santo Domingo:

DEFEATED TROOPS

"We have defeated their best troops and the best from the national police force. Do they think that with reserves from the interior they will be able to defeat a people whose morale is higher than it ever was?"

The rebels have charged that eight truckloads of Dominican troops were brought in from the countryside and are bivouacked in the zone occupied by U.S. troops.

Although there were no official figures available to the junta, Imbert said his troops were capable of moving against the rebels.

Before the revolt, which deposed the civilian triumvirate headed by Donald Reid Cabral, the Dominican army was estimated at 25,000 to 30,000 men. Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, military strongman behind the junta, was said to command 1,500 troops and about 30 tanks, in addition to the Dominican air force.

Caamaño's high command has estimated there are 20,000 civilians and 3,000 armed forces officers and enlisted men ready to defend the rebel cause.

Dzendzel (D-Detroit) addressed the opening session of the House of Delegates of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

The majority leader told the association's policy-making body that 26 of 30 senators had signed the bill at its introduction. He urged the delegates to contact their legislators and the governor to show their support for the measure.

The House of Delegates met yesterday in advance of general sessions of the 67th annual convention of the state osteopathic association in Grand Rapids. The convention opens today.

PRESENTS DEED

Appearing before the delegates yesterday afternoon, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. presented the deed to the 164-acre site at Auburn and Opdyke for the proposed medical school.

The site has been purchased through the efforts of a local fund drive.

Dzendzel said legislators are not interested in just another medical school, but seek to have a separate and distinct osteopathic school of medicine.

Stating he was "somewhat optimistic" of the bill's passage, Dzendzel said he nevertheless expected a battle in the Senate. The Senate bill would provide for state aid to the projected college and also set up a 10-man college authority to oversee and operate the college once it is built.

The authority would be created from members appointed by the governor on the recommendation of the state osteopathic association and its House of Delegates.

In essence, the bill would place the school under state control, which would qualify the medical institution for state and federal funds.

Dzendzel said that the osteopathic profession provides for the general practitioner or family physician. He cited a survey showing that 75 per cent of the families in Michigan want such a doctor.

The Senate majority leader said only 25 per cent of the MDs are general practitioners, while 50 per cent of the DOs are so-called family physicians.

Dzendzel indicated there would probably be opposition to the Senate bill.

Meanwhile, an association spokesman said some observers in the House report enthusiasm for the Senate bill.

Michigan, he said, stands well below the national level of the physician-to-population ratio. The national average is 141 physicians per 100,000 population. Michigan's ratio is 132 to 100,000.

Dzendzel emphasized that the osteopathic profession and its members would have to push the legislation, which might be reported out of committee this week.

Mayor Exchange On Again for City

Pontiac's on-again-off-again pairings for Mayor's Exchange Day May 17 are on again.

The city has been paired with the village of Pentwater, located on the shores of Lake Michigan on the western edge of the state.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will trade jobs with Village President Edward A. Schimke.

Previously, Pontiac had been paired twice for the one-day switch. Each time the other participant in the exchange backed out. Previous pairings were with Mattawan and Adrian.

N. Viet Military Targets Pounded

All Warplanes Return Safely From Attacks

Two GIs Lose Lives, 8 Wounded in 6-Hour Battle With Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American and Vietnamese warplanes began pounding military targets in North Viet Nam at midnight and continued the aerial hammering through the day.

Returning pilots report destruction of bridges, highway and railroad vehicles, military installations and one large junk.

A U.S. spokesman said the planes encountered light to moderate ground fire but that all planes returned safely without sighting enemy aircraft.

One Navy jet pilot was killed yesterday when his plane failed to pull out of a strafing dive on a truck during raids on North Viet Nam.

Two American soldiers were killed and eight wounded in a six-hour battle with the Viet Cong 30 miles west of Saigon.

ONE OF SEVERAL

It was one of several attacks during the week-end in the Mekong River delta.

Navy aircraft from the carriers Coral Sea and Midway began the day's attacks, dropping 12½ tons of bombs.

They reported damaging four bridges, four trucks, one large junk and one road grader.

U.S. Air Force F105s and F106s took to the air at noon and in a "highly successful" raid dropped a span of the Hai Tinh bridge 150 miles south of Hanoi, dropped a span of a bridge nearby and then destroyed the Thoi Hoa bridge, south of Hanoi.

HIT VEHICLES

Sixteen F105s cruised over highway routes, destroying one truck, three boxcars and three small bridges.

Vietnamese Sky Raiders concentrated on bridge targets.

U.S. spokesmen also announced that aircraft from the carrier Oriskany hit Viet Cong targets yesterday in their second try at the guerrilla concentrations.

Jet and propeller-driven aircraft flew 81 sorties against Viet Cong headquarters areas, storage areas, gun emplacements, supply facilities and troop encampments.

DELTA FIGHTING

In the delta fighting, the Viet Cong inflicted heavy casualties on the Catholic refugee settlement of Hai Yen.

Then, early today, they attacked a nearby outpost and threw mortar fire on the town.

Three Vietnamese soldiers and seven civilians, including five children, were reported wounded.

Heavier casualties were suffered in a Viet Cong attack on an outpost 45 miles southwest of Saigon early today.

Thirteen defenders were killed, seven wounded and four captured.

Viet Cong forces seized and held a key stretch of road north of Saigon last Wednesday and foiled government efforts to break through for four days.

"Sources reported the Viet Cong set up roadblocks about 80 miles northeast of Saigon on the road to Dalat, stopped all vehicles, and mixed in with their civilian captives so completely that air strikes could not be used."

The Viet Cong apparently moved out of the area yesterday.

CAROLE TYLER

Hunt Plane With Baker Secretary

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)

The Coast Guard searched along the Atlantic shoreline today for the sunken wreckage of a plane in which Carole Tyler, who figured in the Bobby Baker investigation, lost her life.

The Coast Guard located what it believed to be the wreckage in midmorning, but later said it turned out not to be the plane. It was one of several reports of sunken objects which proved to be false.

Miss Tyler was on a Sunday joyride over the Atlantic when the red and white, single-engine Waco biplane crashed into the water.

Killed with the former Capitol Hill secretary was the pilot, Robert H. Davis, 43, of Huntington, W. Va.

Both had been staying at Baker's Carousel Motel, which is one of the plushiest hostilities in Ocean City and stands about 1,000 yards from the scene of the crash.

HAD JUST MET

Motel officials said Davis, who had spent a week at the Carousel, and Miss Tyler, who arrived last Friday to do some work for Baker, had just met. He invited her to see the beach resort from the air with him, they said.

Davis, married and the father of two sons, was the pilot for Chafin Coal Co. of Huntington until the firm sold its plane.

Miss Tyler, a former high school beauty queen from Lehigh City, Tenn., had worked for Baker when he was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority. After he quit because of the Senate investigation into his outside business activities, she remained in his employ.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — "I saw the shadow of the ship go under and heard the hissing as it sank. After that all I could hear was the terrifying screams of the Cedarville crew calling for help."

This was German Capt. Werner O. May's remembrance of the collision Friday of the Cedarville and the Norwegian freighter Tordalsford in the Straits of Mackinac.

Capt. May, 42, testified in Cleveland, Ohio, at a Coast Guard investigation into the disaster which killed 20 Cedarville crewmen and left eight others missing and presumed dead.

Meanwhile, officers of the Tordalsford recounted the fog-bound collision at a Coast Guard hearing here, about 60 miles from where the Cedarville lies in 300-foot of near freezing water.

Rasmus Haaland, captain of the Tordalsford, was expected to testify here at a Coast Guard (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Weatherman Sees 2 Days for Cookouts

If you're planning a barbecue supper tonight or a picnic tomorrow, the weatherman promises he won't dampen your efforts with a thunderstorm.

Brief but striking manifestations of yesterday's local storm were reported from many areas. Just after 5 p.m., traffic on Telegraph around Long Lake came to a complete halt as a miniature cloudburst made driving absolutely impossible. It concluded with a short but vigorous hailstorm.

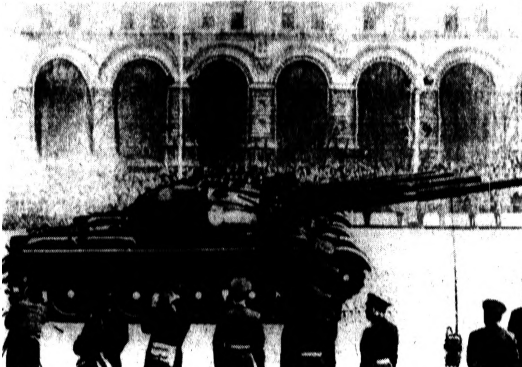

Tonight, the weather will be fair and cooler with lows registering from 50 to 58.

Tomorrow's sunshine will coax the mercury to range between 68 and 76.

TODAY'S WINDS

By late afternoon, today's southwesterly winds will swing to the west to northwest.

Wednesday will be fair and slightly warmer. The low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 65. By 2 p.m. it climbed to 71.

NEW SOVIET TANK A new version of the Russian medium tank is shown rolling through Red Square in Moscow yesterday during a V-E Day anniversary parade.

It was the first time the weapon had been displayed publicly.

Fire Moon Shot, Blast U.S.

Russians Mark V-E Day Anniversary

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union celebrated the 20th anniversary of V-E Day yesterday with a new moon shot, a military display, an appeal for renunciation of nuclear weapons and a new attack on U.S. policy.

The moon shot, Lunik 5, was a 3,254-pound electronic instrument package to gather and send back scientific information.

The Soviet news agency Tass said it was launched from an artificial earth satellite put into orbit earlier in the day by a multistage rocket.

The exact time or place of the launching was not announced, but it presumably took place about the hour the Kremlin gave its first public display of the kind of rockets that have carried its manned space ships into orbit.

Tass said Lunik 5 was equipped with "measuring devices" but did not say what kind of information it would send back from its 250,000-mile journey.

Tass said the rocket at 10 p.m. yesterday was 70,000 miles from the earth and was close to its planned course.

There was no indication of any attempt to radio back photographs of the moon's surface.

An earlier Lunik had photographed the dark side of the moon. There was no indication whether the rocket would hit the moon or go into orbit around it.

The U.S. Ranger 9, an 809-pound electronic package crammed with television cameras, sent back more than 5,000 pictures of the lunar surface before crashing into a moon crater March 24.

MILITARY PARADE

The Soviet display came during a military parade in Red Square. Soviet leaders and thousands of Muscovites saw in an 18-minute weapons show a pair of 110-foot, 3-stage rockets and four other weapons never seen in public before.

Tass said the giant rockets were solid-fueled and that their range was "unlimited." The agency added "they are similar" to the rockets that launched the Vostok and Voshkod manned space ships.

Western observers were skeptical of the claim that the rockets were solid-fueled. They noted that some exterior features were similar to those on liquid-fueled rockets used in the U.S. space program.

Other weapons not shown previously to the public were a six-rocket antitank system mounted on an armored reconnaissance vehicle, 20 new TB2 medium tanks that have been in service since 1963, a medium-range missile mounted on a self-propelled launching platform and a three-stage intercontinental rocket, about 60 to 65 feet long.

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, one of the Soviet Union's top World War II leaders, was in the parade. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Two More Persons Drown in Area Lakes

Two persons drowned in Oakland County yesterday, bringing to three the number of fatal water accidents which occurred since 3 p.m. Friday.

Killed yesterday were Lowell L. Whitlow, 42, and John R. Cahill, 7, both of Detroit.

France, Spain Agree

PARIS (AP) — France and Spain signed today an agreement for construction in Spain of two French Daphne-type submarines for the Spanish navy.

A 15-year-old Brandon Township girl, Georgia Carey, drowned Friday afternoon while swimming in Lake Louise near her home.

Whitlow drowned when his small, homemade, wooden boat capsized about 7:30 a.m. yesterday in the southwest corner of Lower Pettibone Lake in Highland Township.

Whitlow's 12-year-old daughter, Kathy, was pushing the boat into deep water when she came to a drop-off about 20 feet from shore. Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said.

When the girl began to panic, Whitlow attempted to push her back into shallow water and the boat capsized, deputies added.

Cahill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cahill, drowned in six feet of water about 30 feet from the northwest shore of the Number 2 Lake at Camp Dearborn in Milford Township.

BOY ALONE

The father and another son had gone to look at paddleboats and left the 7-year-old nonswimmer playing on the shore about 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

When they returned, about 30 minutes later, the boy was missing.

The youth's body was found at 6:55 p.m., by Deputy Medway Tessler, a diver for the sheriff's department.

The Peking regime has pledged to send men to the aid of the guerrillas if requested by the Viet Cong.

3 Governors in Conference on Pollution

CLEVELAND (AP) — The governors of three Great Lakes states, including Michigan's George Romney, opened a one-day conference today to discuss Lakes pollution.

Govs. James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York joined with Romney and other representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The premiers of the Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec, plus several experts from the federal government, were invited. Anthony J. Celebrezze, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and former Cleveland mayor, was to send a representative.

The meeting was set up by Rhodes, who said he would call for "accelerated enforcement action by the individual states" to halt pollution.

The communique was signed by the Thich Tinh Khiet.

There was no immediate reaction from either the government or the "liberation" radio of the Viet Cong.

In another development, Vietnamese police officials reported that an American who was searching the jungles for his missing brother has disappeared into a Communist-controlled area.

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?

What's the gimmick?

Here it is:

One fine day the McMaster's people discovered that, simply by importing their Scotch whisky in barrels instead of bottles, they paid a lower tax — and saved their customers money.

Big tax savings, that's the reason McMaster's comes to America — only in barrels.

You'd expect to pay $7.00 for an imported Scotch with the flavor and mellowness of McMaster's. But we save on taxes and other costs — so you pay only $4.97 a fifth. (Only $2.50 a tenth.)

Try McMaster's — aged in the barrel, imported in the barrel, taxed in the barrel — and enjoy an honest-to-goodness $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97. (Tax included.)

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?

Sure. McMaster's gives you the same big tax savings on its fine imported Canadian whisky, too. (Tax included.)

For Fall Enrollments

New Kindergarten Procedure

WALLED LAKE — A new procedure for enrolling prospective Wallied Lake kindergartners will be used this year for the first time.

Instead of the traditional roundup of the last several years, registration will be handled in two separate sessions.

The first meetings, to be held at night, are for enrollment and the second will be "visiting day" programs.

The change in procedure is aimed at allowing fathers to attend, minimizing inconvenience to working mothers and permitting teachers as well as principals to meet with the parents.

Other staff resource people such as the school nurse and speech correctionist will be on hand at the night meetings to answer questions and give parents ideas on how best to prepare their children for school.

NO CHILDREN

Children are not to attend the 7:30 p.m. enrollment meetings.

The sessions are scheduled for Wednesday May 19, Decker and Wallied Lake May 20, Twin Beach and Commerce May 25, Wixom May 26 and Keith and Union Lake May 27.

The "visiting day" sessions, scheduled for June 2 throughout the district, will allow next year's kindergartners to visit

Engineer to Report on Water

TROY — A report on the proposed water system expansion program will be presented at tonight's city council meeting by City Engineer Richard Graham.

Plans have been under way for more than a year to "strengthen" the city's water system, according to City Manager Paul York.

The total program will cost about $1 million, York said, with the city paying some $430,000 of the total.

Financing will be obtained through the issuance of special assessment and revenue bonds.

About one-fourth of the total project has already been approved, but construction won't get under way until sometime this fall, York said.

ENTIRE SUPPLY

The project will affect the entire city's water supply, with actual construction work planned throughout the area.

Board to View School Plans

SOUTH LYON — Taking another look at school building needs tonight, the board of education is expected to come up with a bonding proposition for the June 14 ballot.

School trustees have scheduled for 7 p.m. a work session with architects from O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham.

They are to review plans presented two weeks ago by Alfred B. Ueker, board treasurer.

Ueker's five-part tentative proposal was headed by construction of a new senior high school with a capacity of 850 students.

Next was expansion of the present high school to accommodate sixth graders and junior high school students.

LIBERTY ANNEX

Also listed was the remodeling of the Liberty annex to create administrative offices and storage space.

Other items were updating of the New Hudson Elementary School's lighting and heating system and site improvements at Sayre School.

Ueker's proposals were aimed at handling projected student enrollment in the district through 1974.

Within the next nine years, the number of students in the four high school grades is expected to jump from 582 to 822.

PRESENT CAPACITY

Capacity of the present high school is 450.

District property owners in the last two years have defeated four bonding propositions for new high schools and three compromise programs for additions.

Early May Livestock Prices Up 15 Pct.

BREAKING GROUND — Ground was broken Saturday for Troy's new city hall on Big Beaver near I-75. Helping with the first shovelful are State Senator Robert J. Huber, Mayor Vincent J. McAvoy, City Manager

Paul York and contractor Walter V. Desimpel. The new $695,000 building will house administrative offices and the police department.

Early May Livestock Prices Up 15 Pct.

Early May livestock prices are up about 15 per cent — a bigger jump than expected — over a year ago, according to John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

The 15 per cent climbs were observed for choice cattle, hogs and lambs, Ferris said.

He said choice cattle are up about $3 a hundredweight, standard steers have made about half that gain and cows are off slightly as a result of culling of

Halaby Successor Learning Ropes

Quiet Changeover Is in Progress at FAA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The changing of the guard is under way at the concrete castle that houses the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

With no fanfare or publicity, Najeeb E. Halaby confers almost daily with retired Air Force Gen. William F. McKee, who will succeed him as administrator of the 45,000-man agency.

Halaby hopes to leave by June 1, ending more than four years in a mighty tough job.

Aviation is dynamic, often individualistic, and the combination creates pressures that act like an emotional tug of war on the man who heads FAA.

Seldom does an FAA administrator take an action that doesn't send one segment of civil aviation into outraged anger publicly while another segment applauds happily, usually in secret.

SPECIAL EFFORT

This appears to be one reason why Halaby has made a special effort to orient McKee.

Halaby apparently is well aware that part of the aviation community greeted with raised eyebrows President Johnson's appointment of a career military man to be new boss of the civilian agency.

Many of the eyebrows have lowered. Top officials of the Air Transport Association (ATA), which represents the American scheduled airlines, are satisfied that McKee is a capable, considerate, diplomatic man with great administrative talents.

The Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) is taking a "We hope everything works out" attitude.

SOMEWHAT UNDERSTANDABLE

ALPA's cautious view is somewhat understandable. The first FAA chief, Gen. Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, engaged in many bitter battles with the pilots' union.

ALPA blamed most of the feuding on what it considered Quesada's arbitrary attitude and refusal to compromise — an attitude, in ALPA's view, stemming from his military background. Airline pilots got along better with Halaby, who regulated just as severely but also calmed and consulted.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots, has attacked the McKee appointment solely on the grounds that FAA should be headed by a civilian. But opposition by AOP and other general aviation groups is not likely to block the nomination.

It certainly will be offset by ATA support and what may be only a token objection from ALPA.

IMPRESSED

Halaby is known to be impressed with McKee, and has been transmitting this clearly to his 3,200-man Washington staff, even though the quiet, soft-spoken general was not his personal recommendation as successor.

Both Halaby and McKee are diplomatic, preferring cooperation to conflict. Both are "listeners" as well as "doers."

The word has gone out to the worried in the aviation industry that "Boss" McKee is not likely to be a second Pete Quesada, who ran FAA with an iron fist.

One of McKee's close associates when he was Air Force vice chief of staff under the fiery Gen. Curtis LeMay, described McKee as "the guy who went around picking up all the dishes LeMay busted."

By law, if a military man heads the FAA, the deputy administrator must be a civilian. When McKee takes over, Gen. Harold Grant Halaby's second-in-command must yield his post.

The aviation industry hopes his successor will be a top-flight man with ability — of vital importance, also, to William F. McKee.

It Seems to Me . . .

Gov. Romney Lifts State from Economic Depths

With nearly two and a half years of service behind him, this is a fitting time to appraise the stewardship of Governor GEORGE ROMNEY.

When the personable Oakland County man went into office, a long succession of bungling and inept misadventures had painted a drab and dreary picture of Michigan. It reached across the land, and even touched Europe. Your humble scrivener once opened a newspaper in Dublin and was shocked to read a two-column head of two words:

"MICHIGAN BANKRUPT"

This wasn't true.

But the signs were there.

Fear of payless paydays were real and General Motors and a few leaders paid taxes in advance to keep a calculating wolf from the door.

Michigan owed $85 million. Under a dozen years of mismanagement and a paucity of economic knowhow, we had drifted to lowly depths. Some businesses were leaving. Labor was uneasy. Citizens in general were dissatisfied and new concerns bypassed Michigan, while an alarming number did their expanding elsewhere. They had lost confidence in the administration.

GEORGE ROMNEY is essentially a businessman. He already had taken over an industrial merger that stood about as badly in debt as Michigan. And yet he paid off the entire deficit, started dividends and placed American Motors on a sound basis.

And remember this:

The competition was G.M., Ford and Chrysler. Stout fellows, all.

Business believed in him. Citizens at large placed faith in this new, dynamic leader because of his past record and the fact he was sufficiently patriotic to pass up an annual salary of $150,000 plus bonuses — for $25,000 in Lansing. A year and a half later Michigan had a surplus of $57 million. The next 12 months are completed a few weeks hence, the State will have $105 million in the bank.

Detractors will point out that since ROMNEY's appearance on the political scene, business has been the best in history.

This is true. But we've had good growth rather steadily during our century and a quarter of existence and the general upswing coincident with ROMNEY only stands slightly above the average. Businesses have been emboldened to expand. Who has heard of a single firm moving lately because of "fear of the administration" or doubts over State management? Governor ROMNEY's policies have been progressive, trustworthy and economically sound. During 1964, Michigan invested the incredible sum of $1.6 billion in expansion. Leaders believe in Michigan again. They believe in the Governor.

In 1965 the pace even quickens.

We are creating our own new jobs.

The first quarter alone totals $616 million. This includes new plants and expansions by existing firms. Michigan unemployment under Romney has dropped and the growth in personal income ranks third in the Nation, closely following Florida and Nevada (both resort states).

Programs in 1963 included reorganization of the State economic expansion department, college and university economic research and development, and cooperation with other Midwest states in the 12-state region. In 1964 tax law changes helped communities foster economic growth. Bills were adopted to encourage development of Great Lakes ports, and we saw a reification of the savings and loan laws. We improved our Blue Sky regulations and increased tourist advertising. Labor law revisions include the new minimum wage law, construction safety and increased jobless benefits

The red ink has been erased and once again the Wolverine State stands forth as a solvent, lusty land of fiscal integrity. Nor has penny pinching been in the Governor's lexicon. Wolverine citizens have seen record advances in State spending as the deficit was conquered. This is a monumental achievement. Another accomplishment is the adoption of the new constitution. This may stand as the Governor's first major victory and it should help lessen bureaucracy from Washington.

Independently wealthy, Governor ROMNEY is a strongly religious man who holds in many of our old-time tenets sacred and holy. And he lives accordingly.

When LYNDON B. JOHNSON swept Michigan by more than a million votes, the Oakland County man walked back into the Capitol by over 400,000. This is probably the biggest example of ballot splitting in U.S. history.

Currently, he is partly frustrated and hamstrung by a hostile opposition that has control and recognizes him as the formidable and powerful political figure he is. His opponents propose to drag both feet and obstruct. However, a summary of his record to date indicates that Michigan has been mighty lucky in electing an active, energetic and highly capable businessman.

Few states have been so fortunate.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Looking ahead, experts see gas stations in which you deposit your money in a machine and get the corresponding amount of gas without an attendant. . . . And if you want your credulity challenged even further, visualize a bank accepting your deposit by a machine that counts the money and makes the proper entry in your bankbook. . . . Overheard: "I know a bloke that's still badly shaken over last November's election: he thought he was voting for HOWARD JOHNSON."

Trusted scouts advise me Clarice Hurst deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . If you're curious, that cup from which Jackie Gleason sips every Saturday evening contains champagne. . . . "Playboy" Magazine just passed the three million mark in circulation which leaves the industry agast. The percentage of news-

David Lawrence Says:

Wage Floor Hike Has 2 Sides

WASHINGTON There is a significant debate going on inside the President's Cabinet over the question of whether the President should recommend to Congress an increase in the federal minimum wage.

The discussion relates to the possibility that such an action would have a severe impact on the national economy by increasing unemployment and perhaps raising the cost of living.

The Johnson administration has been urged to go along with the request of the union leaders that the federal minimum wage of $1.25 per hour be increased, but the big question is how much the total increase should be and whether it should be applied gradually over a period of years.

The amount of the increase itself might not be costly in a given year, but it is the indirect effect of a revolutionary change in the whole employment structure which could be the basis for a shakeup in wage scales.

There are many millions of persons today who are earning below the federal minimum wage, but most of them are doing odd jobs or their classifications of work are exempted by law.

MOVED UP

Once a minimum wage is stand purchases is about the highest in the business. . . . Red Skelton's burlesque of Abe Lincoln is still drawing a chorus of boos.

Traffic forecasters predict cars will run 100 miles an hour on the freeways in a few years and railroad trains may whizz along at 300 m.p.h. in special tunnels. Passengers wishing to board would be loaded in a car that is accelerated to the same speed and joins the train.

"Cigarettes Anonymous" is the newest. When you can't resist the desire any longer, you dial a special number and listen to a protracted, hacking cough. . . . The family doctor is fading from the scene. The total number has dropped from 38% to 24%.

— HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

raised, however, other persons occupying a little higher level of employment feel that their wages should be moved up correspondingly.

This could bring an escalation of wage scales all along the line, for as one class of employees is given an increase, the class just above it feels it is entitled to something of the same kind. This is often referred to as "humping" the wage scales.

Any change in the minimum wage rate, therefore, is bound to affect not only the number employed but also the wage costs of many employers throughout the country.

It can also mean that those persons without skills who are considered today to be worth more than $1.25 an hour would find it more difficult to get jobs because it might prove necessary for employers to hire better qualified persons at higher wages rather than to take chances with employees who are not really competent to do the work.

These various phases of the employment situation have always been a factor in American economic life.

The federal minimum wage has usually operated to intensify the difficulties, particularly since adjustments in many wage scales become necessary. It could take three to five years for employers to absorb these changes.

Says 2nd Sun Yat-Sen Could Win Back China

By RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON A distinguished American-born Chinese advances an interesting proposal for winning back the Chinese mainland through the combined help of the U.S. government and overseas Chinese.

William Dock RUTH Lee, proprietor of MONTGOMERY of fashionable Genghis Khan Restaurant says of the problem:

"The U.S. should select a Chinese of proven dignity, humility and character, and build up his image as a second Dr. Sun Yat-sen."

"The overseas Chinese would then rally behind him, and send word to their mainland relatives and friends that a new anti-Communist leader had emerged who would bring freedom to China."

Lee wryly observed that "America has the world's finest public relations experts who can sell the domestic consumer anything, but the poorest public relations abroad of almost any nation."

"American created Syngman Rhee as an image, and groomed him to lead Korea after the war," Lee said. "In similar vein, Dr. Sun Yat-sen used Hawaii as the base from which he began the revolution which overthrew China's Manchu Dynasty."

"The greatest strength we have in trying to win back the Chinese mainland as a friendly power is the overseas Chinese, who never sever their relations with relatives at home," he declared.

Lee believes it would be a simple matter for the CIA to find such a Chinese, after which the public relations guns could go to work at building up his image.

Inasmuch as we seem to be getting no place fast with Red China at the present time, Lee's proposal seems worthy of government thought.

Comments on Campaign for a Cleaner Township

I agree Waterford Township needs a clean-up campaign. Perhaps the job should be started by the township itself. There are many unsightly areas along our streets left by contractors installing water mains.

Our streets will always be remembered for lack of maintenance, as well as shrubs damaged by packs of dogs for which there is no apparent control.

Question Action of Planning Commission

Why did the City Planning Commission reject a request for an apartment building at Huron and Ottawa but approve rezoning for an apartment building next to the Pontiac Boys Club on West Columbia?

We had a petition with over 300 signatures protesting the apartment on Columbia. Doesn't a petition mean anything? And where was our representative, Mr. Hudson? Who is he for?

We believe we are fighting for our men of tomorrow and urge parents to be at the City Commission meeting May 11 and fight for what you believe to be right for Pontiac.

Replies to Letter on Cancelled Meeting

Replying to Burke Cueny's letter, the April 22 open meeting of the Rochester Area Human Relations Council was not cancelled — it was postponed until fall.

The Council is proud to have Mr. Crockett share his legal education and experience concerning the perplexing legal aspects of civil rights legislation. It is a privilege for this suburban community to have as a speaker a nationally known champion of individual freedom who has not only survived the McCarthy era but who has now lived to see his stands on the first amendment endorsed and supported by the Supreme Court. (Dombrowski vs. Pfister, U.S. Supreme Court, 33 U.S. Law Week, p. 4321, Decision April 26, 1965.)

It is regrettable that well-intentioned people can permit their bias against some racial minorities to put them in the role of cats-paw for extremist organizations.

How Now, OAS?

The New York Daily News

President Johnson's pouring of Marines and paratroops into the Dominican Republic goes on looking wise and praiseworthy to us — as it does, incidentally, to leading Republicans such as Gen. Eisenhower and ex-Sen. Goldwater.

Leaders of some member nations of the Organization of American States (OAS) evidently feel called on to please anti-Americans in their countries by denouncing the Johnson move.

But we suspect most if not all of them are secretly glad to have U.S. Marines and paratroops doing just what they are doing to quiet the island nation. No non-Cuban Latin American head of state in his right mind, it seems to us, can want Castro's brand of Red poison spread beyond Cuba.

So it seems to us that the wise things for the White House to do now would be (1) to ask the OAS to come up with a conservative and workable solution for the Dominican problem, but (2) to keep our fighting men there until such a solution is (a) offered, (b) applied, and (c) found to be effective.

Pull our fighting men out before then, and we'll merely invite a takeover of the Dominican Republic and probably of neighboring Haiti by Castro Communists. Why risk that?

Assuming he does not change his mind a year from now and withdraw, Mr. Rockefeller will be a strong candidate. He is measurably weaker than he was six years ago or even two years ago. But there are many strengths in his record, and he is still a formidable campaigner. He stands his bid for reelection as the established favorite.

In 1959 nothing seemed more probable in politics than that he would challenge Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination. But he suddenly withdrew.

Again, during the period of his divorce and remarriage, most political observers took it for granted that Mr. Rockefeller, recognized simply as an objective fact—that these events in his private life would have grievous effects on his presidential hopes. But the observers were mistaken.

Mr. Rockefeller persevered in his White House ambitions last year as if nothing had happened.

Hope for Senate Passage of Voting Bill This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hope for passage this week of the administration's Negro voting rights bill. In the House, emphasis will be on appropriations measures totaling more than $60 billion.

The key to Senate progress on the voting rights bill may be a vote scheduled Tuesday on an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and 38 other senators to ban poll taxes in state and local elections.

The amendment is opposed by the Senate leadership of both parties and by the administration on grounds of doubtful constitutionality.

Both Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen favor an amendment expressing the sense of Congress that poll taxes have been used to discriminate and directing the attorney general to challenge them in court.

FAVORS APPROACH

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach favors this approach, too. But Kennedy and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in a statement issued Sunday night that adoption of the Mansfield-Dirksen proposal might lead to prolonged litigation without ending state poll taxes.

They noted that a challenge to Virginia's poll tax is currently before the Supreme Court. They said adoption of their amendment would hasten a decision in the case and increase the chance the court would declare the state law unconstitutional.

The Kennedy-Javits amendment also was endorsed Sunday by the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches.

Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas still collect poll taxes for state elections. They have been outlawed in national elections by the 24th Amendment to the Constitution.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said he sees no chance of completing action this week. Ervin said he doubted Senate leaders could obtain the necessary two-thirds majority now to shut off debate on the bill.

The House Judiciary Committee hopes to complete its work on the House version of the voting rights bill this week.

The House, after considering a batch of miscellaneous non-controversial bills today, takes up Tuesday the $14-billion independent offices appropriation bill which finances agencies such as the Veterans Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Viet Nam Jewelry Salesman Example of Oriental 'Can-Do' Man

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam — Kim Chi rarely sells a star sapphire to an American serviceman without first applying a blowtorch to it to prove it is not glass.

Watching Kim Chi earnestly foot pedal the torch as he turns the hot flame on two pieces of glitter on a slab is one of the best acts in the Far East. The glass melts, the real gem doesn't.

"Glass fin," exclaims Kim

Chi triumphantly. "But ruby no fin. Emerald no fin. Star sapphire no fin." The impressed GI dutifully forks over $10 or $20 and another victory is chalked up for Oriental salesmanship.

Every war zone needs a native "can-do" man to get things done. "Can-do" man here is undoubtedly Kim Chi. If he can't do it for you, it can't be done.

Kim Chi is a slender man of 39 who stands out because he always wears a black necktie. He looks about 21 but he has eight children and is buoyantly inarticulate in about the same number of languages.

LEARNED HIMSELF

"I learn English by myself," he said proudly, and no one would doubt it.

Kim Chi runs three jewelry stores and rents a fleet of wheezy Jeeps that break down every third day. When they break down, Kim Chi is the only guy to see to have them fixed.

Kim Chi also is the GI's pal when it comes to changing money, getting laundry done, or having a pair of shoes made. If he's not in that particular line of work himself, he has a relative or close friend who is.

Over a pair of beers which he insisted on buying, Kim Chi explained his philosophy.

"I like the soldiers. Most of our people like the American soldiers. It makes sentiment between us."

"I no get big profit. I try to make all people happy."

"Wife work in stores with me. Children too small."

A note of caution crept into his voice when I asked him how business is. Obviously, it is booming, but Kim Chi gave the answer you would expect from a businessman everywhere.

EVEN BUSINESS

"Business is not good, not bad, just medium," he said.

Kim Chi has never served in the Vietnamese army.

He said that when he applied for an examination his health turned out to be very bad. He tapped on his chest significantly but forbade to cough loudly.

As to the quality of his tormented wars, Capt. Floyd R. Rockhart, 32, a helicopter air rescue pilot from Mogadore, Ohio, said:

"I gave Kim Chi an old jacket and $3 for an emerald and sent it home to my wife. She had it

Ike Backs LBJ on Latin Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has voiced general support of President Johnson's policies in the Dominican Republic situation.

Eisenhower, who visited the World's Fair Sunday, said in answer to newsmen's questions: "Naturally, I do not have all the facts. But if presented with the same set of facts that I presume must have been supplied President Johnson, I feel that my action and the action he has taken would coincide."

"Communists only respect force. You remember the remark attributed to Stalin at the Yalta conference when he was told of the importance of the views of Pope Pius XII. 'How many divisions does Pope Pius command?' Stalin asked at the time. That shows us the Communist mentality clearly."

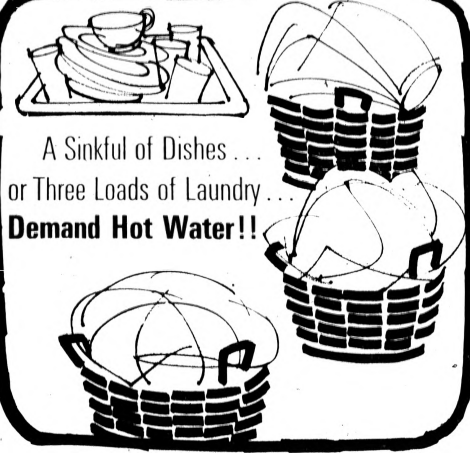

Eisenhower was asked whether he thought Johnson was sending more troops into the Dominican Republic than the situation warranted. Eisenhower replied that when using force it is best to have sufficient strength on hand.

WON'T SUFFER

"Once you use force," he said, "you had better make sure you have plenty of it. If you need a battalion to do a job, it's much better to have the strength of a division. You probably won't suffer any casualties at all in that way."

Eisenhower, supreme Allied commander in the European theater in World War II, visited the Churchill Center at the fair and reminisced about his wartime colleague, the late Sir Winston Churchill. He was guided through the pavilion by Sir Winston's onetime secretary, Jane Welby.

Eisenhower told Mrs. Welby: "In all the years I knew him and through all the troubled times we shared, I never once saw Sir Winston rattle. I never once heard him raise his voice in anger. I can tell you that when he spoke, everyone listened."

Demand Hot Water!!

The HANDLEY-BROWN Water Wonder supplies it—in abundance!

A sinkful of dishes two or three times a day is no problem to any water heater, but three loads of laundry can exhaust hot water for hours.

DEMAND-O-STAT to the RESCUE!

Handley-Brown's DEMAND-O-STAT burner control "sends in the reserves" when heavy hot water demand occurs. More heat when it's needed speeds recovery and provides more hot water during peak periods. When the water crisis is over, DEMAND-O-STAT returns the burner to its normal level!

Let us demonstrate DEMAND-O-STAT and the many other fine features of the HANDLEY-BROWN Water Wonder!

Klan Orderly During Massive Alabama Rally

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — Ku Klux Klan leaders held a massive Mother's Day rally and parade in this northeast Alabama city and heard Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton declare that "segregation and purity of the races is God's law."

There were no disorders, nor arrests, as the Klansmen and about 500 supporters met in the Municipal Auditorium and then paraded for 10 blocks under a warm sun through the downtown area.

The orderliness of the demonstration was in sharp contrast to Mother's Day in 1961 and 1963 and outbursts of racial violence here.

Joining Sunday's marches were the three Klansmen charged with the March 25 slaying of Viola Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife who was shot to death near Lowndesboro while shutting civil rights workers from Montgomery to Selma following a march to the capital.

TRIO APPLAUDED
The trio—Eugene Thomas, 43, William Orville Eaton, 42, and Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, all of the Birmingham area — got a

Dixie Chiefs Blast U.S. Bias Orders

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Six Southern governors say they are in agreement that the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has overstepped its authority by issuing directives on school integration.

The governors, following a five-hour meeting at the Georgia governor's mansion Sunday night, issued a joint statement in which they said: "No federal agency has the right to extend the law any more than any individual has the right to defy the law."

The chief executives said they would request an immediate meeting with their congressional delegations to discuss the directives.

Gov. Carl Sanders, host to the meeting, read the statement to newsmen. Standing with him on the back porch of the mansion were Govs. Orval F. Faubus of Arkansas, Albertis Harrison of Virginia, Robert McNair of South Carolina, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Paul Johnson of Mississippi.

BACK STATEMENT
Sanders said Govs. Haydon Burns of Florida, Dan Moore of North Carolina and John McKeithen of Louisiana had subscribed to the statement by telephone.

The statement said, in effect, that the department's directives were not in keeping with court decisions regarding school integration and were confusing to the states involved.

Sanders said the department and U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel have issued "conflicting and contradictory statements."

"We have determined that the most responsible and logical solution is a joint meeting of the congressional and senatorial delegations of the several states," the statement said. "We want to bring order to a problem that now seems to be headed toward chaotic conditions."

FOUR GRADES
Sanders called the meeting after Keppel issued a decree saying public schools must integrate four grades by September or lose federal aid.

The Georgia governor indicated that earlier directives had stated the money would be cut off unless school systems agreed to comply with the Civil Rights Act, which is not specific in its demands.

Sanders pointed out that most Southern systems have based desegregation plans on federal court decisions, but said that Keppel's decree goes beyond the court requirements.

standing ovation when they were introduced by Shelton.

Shelton, imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, Inc., said the rally marked the beginning of a series of such meetings throughout the South. Shelton said rallies will be held in Natchez, Miss., and several Alabama cities such as Scottsboro, Plant City, Linden and Dothan. To counter what Shelton termed the Klan's adverse publicity.

FREEDOM RIDERS

The rally here coincided with the fourth anniversary of the Mother's Day, 1961, burning of a Greyhound bus, occupied by Negro and white "freedom riders."

On Mother's Day 1963 shotgun blasts were fired into a Negro church and into two Negro homes.

Shelton was joined by Klan leaders Bob Creel, of Birmingham, grand dragon in Alabama, and Calvin Craig, KKK leader from Atlanta, Ga. Another speaker at the rally was Edward Fields, of Birmingham, information director of the National States Rights party.

Shelton told the audience to "fight for purity of our children" against what he called a Communist conspiracy. He said that the Klan "is battling socialism and the anti-Christ," and that a massive network of Communist conspiracy has taken hold of the federal government.

BLASTS LBJ

He attacked President Johnson. He said he would welcome an investigation of the KKK.

If such a probe was carried through, Shelton said, "some Communist groups would have to be investigated, too."

Many of the Klan leaders were dressed in business suits when they paraded but other followers were garbed in Klan robes. Some women were seen pushing baby carriages as they went.

The paraders were watched by an estimated 1,000 curious citizens. Only one Negro was seen on the street. The marchers had received a parade permit and were not bothered by police.

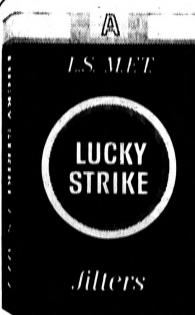

The Mississippi River, third largest in the world, stretches 3,860 miles.

Chesaning Showboat

CHESANING (AP) — Chester M. Howell, "father" of the Chesaning Showboat and long-time editor and publisher of the Chesaning Argus, will be buried today at Saginaw after funeral services here.

Howell died at home Saturday of a heart attack. He was 81.

BEFORE YOU BUY THAT CAR

Check These 6 Rules of Auto Financing

- 1 Select the source for your new or used car loan as carefully as you select your make of car and local dealer. There is a difference — one that can save you time, trouble, and cash. In fact, this difference can be your biggest money-saver.
- 2 Work closely with your local auto dealer salesman. He knows car financing, and can handle nearly all the details right at his desk. (And ask him if he doesn't agree that auto loans from Community National Bank are best.)
- 3 Loan application forms should be simple and easy-to-follow, and processing of the loan should be prompt. Check to make sure that the loan can include insurance if you wish, and that you can select your own insurance company or agent. (This is a real advantage of Community Bank Auto Loans.)
- 4 Secure your loan from people you know and trust. And people who know and trust you. People like Community Bankers. They'll refer to your needs and budget when figuring term of the loan and monthly installments.
- 5 Make certain your auto loan helps you establish credit for any future money transactions. This is another area where Community Bank loans are best. By meeting your auto loan payment schedule, you automatically become a valued and trusted customer of your Community's most important financial institution — its Bank.
- 6 Arrange your loan with people who want to loan you money. Your Community Bank is in business to meet your money needs. If we can serve you best by making your auto loan, we want to do it.

And If You Still Have Questions, Ask Us

There's an Auto Loan Specialist at every one of the 16 Community Bank offices. He'll assist you in any way he can. And for your convenience, he's available Friday evenings and Saturday mornings, too.

Seattle Felt Panic When Farmer's Almanac Predicted Quake

(EDITOR'S NOTE—A story of needless trepidation in Seattle—A different form of smelting in Minnesota. Novel use of an old railroad station in Baltimore and a question of Indians as tourist attractions in New Mexico are among snippets from the U.S. scene this week.)

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The earthquake that didn't happen caused nearly as much consternation as the one that did. The Old Farmer's Almanac indicated a two-day earthquake period for the Northern Hemisphere beginning April 29. That's just when the Seattle quake came to pass, causing seven deaths and $15 million damage in the Puget Sound area. Then word got around that the almanac also warned of tremors May 5 and 26 in the Northern Hemisphere.

That takes in a lot of territory besides Seattle, but the jangled nerve net was sure it meant a repeat performance.

Some people left town, others secured cupboard doors with rubber bands so they wouldn't fly open, a secretary wrapped some prize vases in dish towels and laid them carefully on the floor.

Came May 5 and nothing happened.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The old Mount Royal station would surprise the generations of railroad commuters who routinely filed through its cavernous waiting room.

The vaulted waiting room is now a lecture hall; the baggage room is a sculptor's studio, and second- and third-floor offices are painting lots.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad closed the landmark to passenger traffic in 1961, and it stood desolate for a while. But the Maryland Institute College of Art recently bought the station and is putting its spaciousness to good use.

Even more transformation is scheduled shortly, when workmen begin an estimated $500,000 in alterations to the station first opened in 1896.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Rep. Clyde Dengler is one Republican who can call the tune for state legislative Democrats almost anytime he wants and get away with it.

Dengler is leader of the legislative chorus.

A former professional singer, Dengler, of Upper Darby in Delaware County, helped create the legislative chorus in 1967, his freshman year in the House. He is director of music of the Upper Darby school system.

From its humble beginning as a quartet, the chorus grew to its present 21 members, comprising members of the House and Senate, lobbyists, legislative employees, and even a page boy or two here and there.

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Tourist trade is a big factor in New Mexico's economy and the Indian is a big factor in the tourist trade.

Now the state's tourist promoters have to contend with a new survey report that says many outsiders couldn't care less about the Indians.

The report from a New York firm, under contract with the New Mexico Department of Development, said there was considerable feeling among those interviewed that if you've seen an Indian once, that's enough.

The Indian has been a mainstay in the state's national tourist promotion. The Indian will remain so, state tourist division officials say, because the state has a lot of Indians and there are a lot of tourists who want to see them.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dipping in the dark is still the best way to catch smelt. Smelt are a silvery fish, larger than a sardine, smaller than a herring. They come to Lake Superior shores near Duluth in hordes each spring.

So do smelt fishermen. They came this spring equipped with catch containers ranging from ordinary waterpails to steel stock watering tanks mounted on trucks. Game wardens have an easy time. There is no bag limit.

While seining is permitted, the dip net on a pole is the smelter's standby in working the rocky shores and swift flowing streams.

Dipping starts about 10 p.m. when smelt head for shore and upstream to spawn. Sometimes the score is big on each try in the frigid water. About 4 a.m., when the run stops, it's back to the campfire for a fish fry and sleep.

New Mail System 'in the Bag'

No Longer in Zip Pocket of Resistance

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — In testifying before a House subcommittee recently, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski gave a glowing report on the progress of the zip code program.

While conceding that there may still be "pockets of resistance," he said the public thus far "has taken to the zip code like ducks to water."

"I'll confess that until a few days ago, I was one of the pockets. Frankly, my conduct in relation to the zip code has not been very ducklike."

Having already been assigned more numbers than I can possibly keep track of, I automatically tend to resist anything that smacks of digitization.

At the same time, however, I also try to keep an open mind, and so I resolved to put the zip code to a little test.

I had my father, who lives in Texas, mail to my home in the Virginia suburbs of Washington six envelopes—three with air-mail and three with first class postage.

ONE OF EACH

One of each variety had my zip code on the address; one had no zip code, and one had the wrong zip code. In the third category, I used the zip code of some place in Florida.

My father dropped them all into a mail box on a Sunday afternoon, and I marked down their arrival time as they were delivered. On the basis of this experiment, I am ready to admit that the zip code program really works.

The airmail envelope with the correct zip code was delivered to my house on Tuesday. Which is pretty zippy. Considering the distance, you could hardly ask for better service than that.

The zip coded envelope bearing regular postage arrived on Thursday. Which isn't bad either, considering how little you get for a nickel nowadays.

DELIVERY TIMES

Just to complete the record, and for purposes of comparison here are the delivery times of the other envelopes:

The two airmails—one with and one without a zip code and one with the wrong code—also arrived in Tuesday's mail.

along with air-mailed, zip-coded envelope.

The two first class items—one sans code and the other in correctly coded—were delivered on Thursday, along with the same postage.

As you can see from this, the zip code program is truly remarkable. It not only speeds delivery of zip coded letters, but of other mail as well.

I wonder why Gronouski did not tell the subcommittee about that.

Couldn't you use some of that easy cash?

YOU CAN BE A WINNER, TOO!

You have the opportunity simply by playing the PLAY PURE game yourself, between now and June 6th.

All you do is pick up a card from any participating Pure Oil dealer. (Or, if you prefer, you can get a card by writing to PURE, Box 37, Eastchester, New York 10709.)

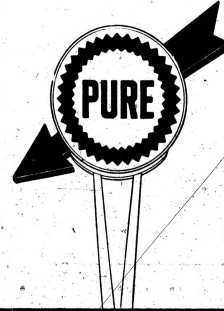

Simply wipe the Magic Circle on the card with household chlorine bleach. The Firebird symbol, or one, two or three letters will then appear.

When you get two cards that together spell P-U-R-E, you've won fifty dollars cash. When two cards spell P-L-A-Y, you've won ten dollars. If the Firebird symbol appears on a card, you've won five gallons of PURE Firebird® Super Gasoline. Winning cards must be redeemed by June 30, 1965, and full rules are printed on every card.

Maybe there's an easier way to make easy cash.

But we don't know of one.

Do you?

S. Korean Coup Try Said Halted

SEOUL (UPI)—The government today announced the arrest of at least seven army officers and some civilians for plotting a coup against South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

An announcement later by army headquarters said no generals were involved. It said the accused officers were colonels and majors.

Sources here said Park had the situation well in hand and that it seemed unlikely the alleged plot would force postponement of his trip to the United States. He is scheduled to leave Sunday.

The government announcement said the dissident officers were unhappy because they had been passed over for promotion.

The news agency Orient Press reported the plot was to have occurred next Sunday, timing it with Park's departure and the fourth anniversary of the military overthrow of Premier John M. Chung's civil government.

40 ARRESTED

About 40 alleged conspirators were under house arrest today.

The sources said the trouble stemmed from rivalry between two classes graduated from the Korean military academy some years ago.

According to the sources, most of the plotters were graduates of the academy's seventh class who had been passed over for promotions in favor of graduates from the eighth class.

The sources said the reason they were passed over was favoritism by the government toward officers who participated in the May 1961 coup d'état that installed Park in power.

TOP AIDES

One of Park's top aides, former Gen. Kim Chong Pil, was a member of the academy's eighth class. Kim was forced out of the government after he was found involved in several high-level scandals, but he still retains a great deal of influence with Park.

Sources said real trouble began early in March when members of the dissident group got into a bitter argument with former army chief of staff Gen. Min Ki Shik at a dinner party here. They insulted Min before his subordinates and when Min was unable to do anything about it, Park had him sacked.

Later, the new army chief of staff, Gen. Kim Yong Dae, fired a general who commanded the army's signal corps when he also argued for promotions for the seventh class officers at a party honoring Kim's promotion early in April.

Unconfirmed reports said the coup plotters then enlisted the aid of some seventh class colonels in the army and some others who had been discharged after failing to be promoted under the army's "up or out" personnel system.

Under this system an officer must be promoted within a certain length of time or is forced to resign.

SEARCHING DEBRIS Three residents of Primrose, Neb., search through knee-deep piles of debris as cleanup starts following a Saturday night tornado. Four persons were killed and nine injured in Primrose.

Hard-Hit Nebraska Village Begins Tornado Cleanup

PRIMROSE, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska, left four dead and nine injured in Primrose alone. No other deaths were recorded, but reports filtered in from more than a score of other communities, it appeared the injured toll would be at least 25.

In this village of 129 persons 100 miles west of Omaha only 5 of 14 business buildings on Main Street were left standing. About 20 dwellings were demolished and 18 to 20 more were so badly damaged they appeared beyond repair.

The completeness of the devastation was expressed this way by George Adams, 73, son-in-law of one of the men who founded Primrose in 1902. "This town, like other small towns, was dying, but this tornado sealed the coffin. It can't be rebuilt."

HEADING WEST William Davis, who estimated he lost a $50,000 investment represented by his home, two cars, three tractors and a feed lot, declared: "I've had it. I'm going to pile the family in a car and head west. A man would be nuts to live in tornado country."

"Before the tornado hit," said Davis, "I considered myself a fairly wealthy man. Now I haven't even got a shirt to call my own. I had to borrow one this morning."

U.S. Engineer Is Missing in Antarctica

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carl R. Disch, an aeronautical engineer from Monroe, Wis., is missing and presumed lost near Byrd Station in Antarctica, the National Science Foundation says.

Disch, 26, was last heard from Saturday afternoon when he set out to walk 11-13 miles from a small low-frequency radio substation which he had been operating to the main station.

The foundation, which manages the scientific program at Byrd Station, said Sunday the search is continuing. It said Disch was dressed very warmly, but that the temperature was last reported to be 45 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) with winds nearly 35 miles an hour and blowing snow.

Searchers followed his footprints for about four miles before losing them in the snow, the foundation said.

"NOT A FOOL" In Monroe, Disch's mother, Mrs. Leonard Disch, said, "I will not give up as long as there's hope."

"He is not a reckless fool," she said. "He is a smart boy."

Disch, unmarried, was graduated as an aeronautical engineer from Northrop Institute of Technology at Los Angeles. He has three brothers, Leonard Disch Jr., Clinton, N.Y.; the Rev. Walter Disch, Aberdeen, S.D.; and Harold Disch, Sun Prairie, Wis.

Disch reached Antarctica last November and had told relatives he expected to be home by next Christmas.

Possible French Disruptions Feared

LONDON (UPI) — NATO ministers assembled here today for a review of the alliance in an atmosphere of apprehension over possible disruptive actions by France.

The regular spring meeting of the NATO foreign ministers opens tomorrow at London's Lancaster House.

Mario Brosio, the secretary general, denied rumors of any withdrawals from NATO in an arrival statement last night.

Such reports have "no justification," the Italian diplomat told newsmen. "I'm not speaking of France specifically, but all members," he said in answer to a question about President Charles de Gaulle's attitude toward the alliance.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville will attend.

BOYCOTTED MEETING France in effect boycotted the meeting of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO).

last week in protest over U.S. policies and action in Viet Nam. Asked last night if the NATO ministers would discuss Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, the Atlantic nuclear force and Cyprus, Brosio said:

"I expect discussions to be very full with these matters in mind in a very full agenda, but I can't say what the delegates will raise at the meeting."

"The purpose of the meeting is to examine the world situation and exchange views. The meeting is not supposed to have any particular aim or achievement."

TO RESPECT OBJECTIONS Nevertheless, Couve de murville was expected to reiterate French objections to the American position in Santo Domingo when the ministers met in private session.

Some reports said that the Western powers had been pressing Turkey and Greece — both NATO members — to engage in bilateral talks here over the problem of Cyprus, where Greek and Turkish Cypriots have been warring for more than a year and a half.

American concern over its involvement in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam became apparent when U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball, arriving here last night, sprang to the defense of American policy.

"When you imperil freedom, the common ideals the alliance stands for, we do what we have to," Ball said at London airport.

UNDERSTOOD "I think this is understood by our friends throughout the world."

Were the American actions damaging the image of the United States? "I would not suggest we are deeply concerned with what the image might be," Ball replied.

I think when people know the facts, they will know we have acted in accordance with a purpose."

The American undersecretary

State Man Quizzed in Fatal Stabbing

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — A Highland Park man, James Pitts, 35, was held for investigation today in the fatal stabbing Saturday of ex-convict Thomas Furdos, 44, also of Highland Park.

Police said Furdos, paroled last year from a 1954 manslaughter conviction, was harassing neighborhood residents by throwing bricks and bottles at their homes.

Pitts told police he went outside to ask Furdos to stop and Furdos slashed him twice on the arm. Police said Pitts declared he stabbed Furdos twice with an ice pick.

did not think France would hinder discussions. "I think we will have the usual opportunity to review the affairs of the alliance," he said.

Ball is representing U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as he did last week at the SEATO conference. Rusk remained in Washington to deal with the situation in the Dominican Republic.

Everything, Fine Shape

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have a very dear friend who has a fabulous figure, but she seems to be ashamed of it. She is 36-24-36, and wears her clothes a couple of sizes too big for her in an effort to hide this fabulous figure of hers. She is 26 years old and teaches school. She's unmarried, and at the rate she's going she never will be.

Is there anything I can do to help her? She is on the quiet side, "churchy," and I am sure she could have men flocking around her in droves if she would only show off what she's got.

A VERY DEAR FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If your "fabulously-figured friend" is living a contented, rewarding life, how do you figure in the role of matchmaker?

What a girl does with her statistics is her business. And if you expect to keep her as a "very dear friend," enjoy her as she is.

Mass Tonsillectomy Is Hospital Record

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—
"My husband and I thought we might as well have all their tonsils taken out at one time so we wouldn't be running back and forth to the hospital," explained Mrs. Leroy Clark as she checked her eight children into Osteopathic Hospital here.

The seven girls and one boy, ranging in age from 4 to 12, set a record in the operating room at the hospital for the most children from one family to have their tonsils removed in one day.

Father Is Host at Wedding

Q: I have been divorced for eight years and have one daughter who lives with me.
She is going to be married shortly and I will be paying the entire cost of the wedding.

My former wife has remarried but I have not.
I would like to know what is proper protocol to follow in this situation.

Does the name of my ex-wife appear on the invitations?

A: The name of the receiving line? I want everything to be in good taste.
My feelings toward my ex-wife are very indifferent but I still don't want to do anything to deliberately hurt or embarrass her.

I would appreciate your answering these questions for me.
A: As your daughter lives with you and you are giving her her wedding, the invitations would go out in your name alone.

At the reception, you, as host, receive the guests.
Your ex-wife does not receive with you but is merely present as a guest.

To prevent this, my husband and I took a "dry run" to the nearest hospital. Now we know the fastest route there and the location of the emergency room should any unhelped for crisis call for emergency medical treatment. — JAN.

GIRLS — Recently we published a hint from Elizabeth concerning the way she cleaned her percolator basket.

As a footnote I suggested that the coffee grounds be emptied into something other than the sink so they would not clog the drain. This was advice from a plumber.

An avalanche of letters came from readers saying they did it all the time. One of the girls had called her plumber to check and he said the grounds would keep the drain clean. We proceeded to call several plumbers for their opinions.

Four out of five said NOT to flush the grounds down the drain and the one who agreed that it was all right qualified his answer by saying never to put coffee grounds down the drain if one had a septic tank.

There are differences of opinion even among the experts. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — recently one of the members of our bride club moved to another state.

We each took her a small household gift as a remembrance. I printed with a ballpoint pen all our first names on a small clothespin bag. I also printed each name on the side of a clothespin.

I am sure she will remember the good times we all had together as she hangs up her wash which will be often as she has four children. — MRS. W. F.S.

Crisis Deepens for Sinking Tigers on Road

Double Defeat in Baltimore by 7-1, 5-4

Bengals Drop Below .500 for First Time This Season

BALTIMORE (AP) — Crisis deepened today for the sinking Detroit Tigers, in an alarming losing streak, short on pitchers, and with their eastern trip threatening to be a flop.

Sunday's doubleheader defeat by the Baltimore Orioles, third doubleheader loss in eight days for the Tigers — put interim manager Bob Swift in a painful position.

Swift's team was below .500 for the first time after this season's promising start and he was forced to grope for a pitcher for tonight's fourth series game here.

The Orioles, with injured Brooks Robinson leaving the bench to win the second game, clipped the Tigers Sunday, 7-1 on 13 hits in the opener and 5-4 in the extra inning tieup.

OVERTIME WIN

The second game went to the 12th inning before the verdict. Robinson, benched with a broken right thumb, singled off Fred Gladding as a pinch hitter, scored on a hit batsman, and scored on Norm Siebern's single.

The defeats were the sixth and seventh in the last eight games for Detroit. The Tigers' immediately previous doubleheader defeats were by the Boston Red Sox a week ago Sunday and by the Chicago White Sox Wednesday.

Robinson, who played only four innings of Sunday's first game, suffered the thumb fracture when hit by Hank Aguirre in Saturday's 15-inning game by the Tigers, 5-4, on Al Kaline's home run.

Kalime smashed another, his fifth, with a man on base in helping keep his team in the second game battle. Willie Horton also homered for Detroit.

TIGERS TAMED

Former Detroit sandlotter Milt Pappas tamed the Tigers on six hits in the first game for the 99th triumph of his major league career. He is 2-0 for this season. He was injured May 19.

The Orioles meanwhile took over the four Tiger pitchers. Phil Regan was driven out after two innings and Ed Rakow, brought up recently from the minors to aid a sagging mound staff, worked only one.

The only Tiger run resulted from Dick McAuliffe's second double in the eighth and two in-field hits.

Rookie outfielder Jim Northrup's misjudging of a fly ball helped Baltimore tie the score 4-4 with two runs in the seventh inning of the second game.

Robinson Plays Despite Injury

Thumb No Hinder for Oriole Ace

By United Press International

Brooks Robinson's thumb resembled a small tomato.

The thumb was fractured and Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer was forced to remove the American League's most valuable player of 1964 from the starting lineup in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader for the first time in 209 games.

Robinson was taken to a hospital, supposedly lost to the team for three to 10 days.

"But it wouldn't surprise me if Robinson is in there sooner," ventured Bauer, "because he's the kind of guy who doesn't know what it's like not to play."

Sure enough, in the 12th inning of the second game with the Orioles and Detroit Tigers deadlocked 4-4, up stepped Robinson as a pinch-hitter.

He drove a single past pitcher Fred Gladding, moved to second when Gladding hit Paul Blair and scored the winning run on Norm Siebern's two-out single.

The triumph gave the Orioles a 7-1 and 5-4 sweep of the Tigers.

FINISHED GAME

Robinson injured the thumb Saturday when he was hit by a Hank Aguirre pitch in the fifth inning.

He played the entire game and the first four innings of the opener Sunday before the pain became unbearable. He was dispatched to the hospital for X-rays where the fracture was discovered, but then returned to the park for possible pinch-hitting duties.

Cleveland took two from Boston 9-4 and 10-7, Washington whipped New York 5-4, Minnesota topped Chicago 6-1 and Los Angeles clipped Kansas City 5-3, in other American League games.

Camilo Pascual, 40, scattered seven hits and slammed his second home run of the season to help the Twins edge within a half game of the league-leading White Sox.

Zeno Versalles also homered for Minnesota and Jim Hall added two run-scoring singles off loser Bruce Howard.

Little Jose Cardenal boosted the surging Los Angeles Angels within a half game of the lead also by powering a two-run homer and stealing home for another run against the Athletics.

The Senators beat Whitey Ford for only the seventh time in 43 decisions against the New York Jetty and the Yankees dropped three out of four games as they competed in Washington for the first time in 18 years.

Scot Pacing '500' Practice

Clark Turns Track at 158.8 M.P.H.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — With only five days of practice remaining before the start of qualifications for the annual Memorial Day 500-mile auto race it appears as if Scotland's Jimmy Clark has a good chance to claim the pole position for the second straight race.

Clark continued to lead all drivers at the speedway here Sunday with a 158.8 miles per hour unofficial speed over the 2.5-mile oval.

It was the fastest day of the year thus far, with four drivers topping the 156 mark and 19 in all getting onto the track.

The speeds were forgotten, however, when 1963 champion Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., went out for a few last laps shortly before closing time.

"I was coming off the No. 2 turn when I suddenly heard a rattling," Jones said. "I thought it was a piston or rod going out so I shoved the car out of gear and turned her off."

It was a race or gear. As Jones' rear engine Lotus-Ford slowed, the right rear wheel came off in the backstretch. It was later determined the hub had broken.

Jones said he was going only "25 or 30 when the wheel came off. Thank God I wasn't standing on it."

Earlier, he had been timed at 156.4 m.p.h.

CATCHING HELP — Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher John Roseboro (left) got some help from first baseman Wes Parker on a foul pop-up between home and first by San Francisco's Harvey Kuenn in the seventh inning of yesterday's game at San Francisco. They ran together but Roseboro held onto the ball. Giants won, 6-3.

Eleven Track Marks Fall

Romeo Wins Oxford Invitational

Romeo piled up enough points in the final two events Saturday to squeeze out a slim victory in Oxford's third annual Track Invitational.

The only Tiger run resulted from Dick McAuliffe's second double in the eighth and two in-field hits.

Rookie outfielder Jim Northrup's misjudging of a fly ball helped Baltimore tie the score 4-4 with two runs in the seventh inning of the second game.

Eleven records were set in the meet which was held under ideal weather conditions. The invitational attracted 11 teams and some 300 athletes.

Romeo came out on top with 35 1/2 points with Bad Axe grabbing the runner-up spot with 35. Fenton (31 1/2), placed third and defending champion Oxford (26 1/2) wound up fourth.

Romeo trailed going into the final two events of the meet, but speedy Lee Stewart won the 220-yard dash and the winners' mile relay team placed third in the final event to sew up the victory.

Stewart was the meet's lone doublewinner. He won the 100-yard dash in a time of :10.3 and came back later for his 220 victory.

Oxford picked up a pair of firsts. Mike Lantry tossed the shot 52 feet 1 inch to lead that event and the Wildcats posted a time of 1:35.3 in taking the 880-yard relay.

Things Better for Cub Slugger

CHICAGO (AP) — All the pieces are falling in the right places for Ernie Banks this year.

As the Chicago Cub slugger himself says, "The rain in Spain falls mainly in the plain, right? That's how it is this year. Everything is going right."

That's only the half of it. The 34-year-old slugger, who seemed to be gradually fading from the scene the last two seasons, is enjoying the greatest start of his commendable career, during which he became the only player in the National League to win the Most Valuable Player award in successive years.

Banks was the MVP in 1958 and 1959. He has never played with a first division club.

FIGHT HOMERS

But Banks is doing his utmost this year to help pull the Cubs from oblivion. He is hitting a .348 batting average with eight home runs and 32 runs batted in to lead the majors in that department.

Banks has made some adjustments in his stance after studying movies, but admits that this isn't the reason for his fast start.

Honestly, I don't know what it is," said Banks. "I had it a little rough the last two years."

"I'm the type of guy who never had to concentrate on hitting. It came naturally. Then things started going bad. I began pressing. Instead of snapping my wrists and hitting the ball out of the park, I began using force."

"Sure I'd hit a homer now and then but it wasn't the same. It got the point where I began wondering if I could still play. The harder I tried, the worse it got. I worried."

"But now it seems like I have it again. Oh boy. It's like night and day. The snap is back in my wrists. More important, the confidence is back."

Banks drove in a run in the first game Sunday to help the Cubs grab a 2-0 first inning lead against Houston but the Astros won it 11-5.

In the second game, Ernie homered in both the fourth and sixth innings to make it eight consecutive games in which he has driven in at least one run. The Cubs won the nightcap 7-1. When he came to bat in the eighth, the crowd of 17,596 gave him a standing ovation. Banks replied with a single.

Softball Men Have Meeting at City Hall

Managers of teams in Pontiac's adult softball leagues will hold a final planning meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Health Department conference room at City Hall.

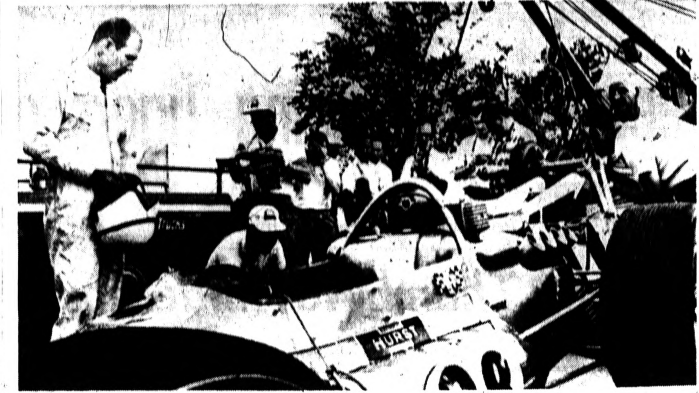

All managers planning to enter a softball team in the summer season should be represented at the meeting.

James E. Jones, softball supervisor, said all entry fees for softball teams are due and that only those teams which have fees paid as of the Thursday meeting will be considered for league participation.

On the agenda for the final session are team classification, schedules and general rules changes.

Wins NAIA Keg Crown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Omaha University won the fourth annual NAIA bowling crown on two straight strokes by Bob Bigley in the final frame of the closing position round match with favored Southwestern Louisiana Saturday.

RACER'S PROBLEMS — Racer Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif. (left) stands dejectedly in watching a wrecker hook up his Agapian-Hurst Special after he lost a wheel during a practice run at Indianapolis Speedway. He was not injured and he saved the car from smashing up by keeping it on the track. The time trials will begin next weekend at the "500" track.

With the conference race at a point where every game is crucial, the Wolverine-Spartan confrontation will be a Big Ten attraction.

Verdell Dick Kenney, MSU's famed barefooted football field goal kicker, hurled a six-hit 72 victory over the Gophers in the opener of a doubleheader which State swept with a 3-2 victory in the second game.

Michigan was forced to split with Iowa, winning the first game 4-3 and dropping the second 2-1.

BUCKEYES SPILT

Ohio State, pressing Michigan, moved towards a tie for the league lead with a 7-5 victory over Illinois but fell behind by one game again when the Illini came back for a 2-0 victory in the nightcap.

The double success lifted MSU into third place, two games behind Michigan and one behind Ohio State.

In other baseball games Western Michigan topped Miami of Ohio 4-1; Illinois and Central Michigan split a doubleheader; Detroit took two from Ferris; Northwestern Institute split with Hillsdale; and Allegheny doubled Eastern Michigan 2-1 in extra innings.

Illinois State's Claude Krek slammed a home run in the third inning to help power his squad to a 3-2 opening game victory. CMU bounced back to win the nightcap 9-4 and bring its record to 19-5. Fletcher Miller and Paul Peterson hit homers for Central in the second Interstate Athletic Conference game.

The Detroit-Ferris twin bill featured 11 home runs, including four by Bob Green of Ferris. Detroit swept the Big Rapids doubleheader by scores of 8-5 and 18-16.

Training Camps Set

The city Parks and Recreation Department's annual junior baseball training camps will start Saturday, May 15, around the city.

Boys 7-18 years of age can receive fundamental training in batting, fielding, sliding, pitching, running, catching and throwing, plus help with team organization from qualified instructors.

The practice sessions are organized according to league classifications.

Boys 9 and under are eligible for T-Ball. Widget teams include boys 11 and under. Those 13 and under can play Class F, 15 and under Class E and 18 and under Class D.

Prospective managers for the summer leagues should register their teams with the recreation department at City Hall.

Class F managers will be able to schedule practice games by registering with the Aaron Perry Park supervisor. Additional information is available from the recreation office at FE 3-7131.

Spartans, 'M' Await Big 10 Baseball Duel

MSU Trims Gophers, 7-2, 3-2; Wolverines Split With Iowa

By The Associated Press

First place Michigan and third place Michigan State to gether now hold one key to the Big Ten baseball championship. The Wolverines, who tasted defeat for the first time in nine games Saturday, and the Spartans met Friday at Ann Arbor in a showdown at their own.

With the conference race at a point where every game is crucial, the Wolverine-Spartan confrontation will be a Big Ten attraction.

Verdell Dick Kenney, MSU's famed barefooted football field goal kicker, hurled a six-hit 72 victory over the Gophers in the opener of a doubleheader which State swept with a 3-2 victory in the second game.

Michigan was forced to split with Iowa, winning the first game 4-3 and dropping the second 2-1.

BUCKEYES SPILT

Ohio State, pressing Michigan, moved towards a tie for the league lead with a 7-5 victory over Illinois but fell behind by one game again when the Illini came back for a 2-0 victory in the nightcap.

The double success lifted MSU into third place, two games behind Michigan and one behind Ohio State.

In other baseball games Western Michigan topped Miami of Ohio 4-1; Illinois and Central Michigan split a doubleheader; Detroit took two from Ferris; Northwestern Institute split with Hillsdale; and Allegheny doubled Eastern Michigan 2-1 in extra innings.

Illinois State's Claude Krek slammed a home run in the third inning to help power his squad to a 3-2 opening game victory. CMU bounced back to win the nightcap 9-4 and bring its record to 19-5. Fletcher Miller and Paul Peterson hit homers for Central in the second Interstate Athletic Conference game.

The Detroit-Ferris twin bill featured 11 home runs, including four by Bob Green of Ferris. Detroit swept the Big Rapids doubleheader by scores of 8-5 and 18-16.

3 Sub-Par 70's Earn Triumph

Miss Whitworth Takes Shreveport Tourney

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—A third consecutive two-under-par 70 gave Kathy Whitworth top money in the $8,500 Shreveport-Kiwanis Club Women's Invitational Golf Tournament.

The victory Sunday over the par 36-36 Palmerto Country Club course added $4,275 to Miss Whitworth's LPGA total for the season thus far—boosting it to $5,273. Her 54-hole total was 210.

The consistent San Antonio star clipped in for a birdie on the second hole and added an other fancy birdie on the seventh with a 15-foot putt.

Patty Berg put down an eight-foot putt on the 18th green for a 73 and a 54-hole total of 215, good for second place. It was her best showing since 1962.

Ruth Jessen finished third with an even par total of 216. Mickey Wright's second straight 72 left her in fourth place at 217.

GAM Champion Starts Fast

Long-hitting Bud Stevens of Western Golf and Country Club, the 1962 GAM champion, opened the 1963 amateur tournament season where he left off last year—winning.

Stevens and long time friend Don Mead of Plum Hollow closed the season last fall with a victory in the George Sadow ski best-ball event at Rochester Country Club.

They were at it again over the weekend, teaming up for a two-stroke victory in the Michigan Puklin's Golf (MPGA) Association's 36-hole invitational best-ball tournament at Salem Hills.

It was a slight setback for the public links golfers, who watched private club players take the top spot and share the runner-up position.

Stevens, booming his drives over the 7,047-yard course, and Mead wound up with a 69-72-141, three strokes under par.

Sharing second place at 143 were private clubbers Bob Heynolds and Gene Funk, both of Washtenaw, along with publicists Mike Andanson of Pontiac and John Lock of Monroe.

Lee Gols and Bill Curtis, finished well back at 148.

Don Stevens (Bud's brother) of Plum Hollow and Pete

Green of Orchard Lake, who shared second last year, came through with a 76-73-149 to finish well off the pace.

Stevens and Mead wound up with seven birdies in their 36 holes, with Stevens bagging them all. Mead helped the stocky shotmaker on two holes posting pars on the 450 yard 18th on Saturday and the 410 yard first hole Sunday.

Wally Smith and Jeff Law, members at Rochester C.C., turned in a 145, and Charles Barker and Paul Hada, Morey's team players, posted a 147.

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Balding was the first Canadian ever to win a Professional Golfers' Association tournament where he captured the Mayfair Inn Open at Sanford, Fla., in 1955.

Canadian Still Leads Rain-Stalled Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—George Knudson, the Canadian who may become the fifth man to lead the $100,000 Colonial National Golf Tournament all the way, went out today in the rain-plagued tournament boasting a one-stroke bulge over Bruce Crampton and Tony Lema.

The final round was postponed Sunday because of a one-half inch rain accompanied by lightning.

Knudson was neither helped nor hurt by the postponement. Entering the final round with a one-under-par 209 for 54 holes, George, up with the top echelon in most tournaments, parred the first two holes of the final round before the postponement.

Only 17 players had finished the final round when it was postponed after two strokes. Among the finishers were Tommy Aaron and Chris Blacker, who had one-over-par 71 over the 7,100-yard Colonial Country Club course. But Aaron had 228 for 54 holes and Blacker 226. So they weren't regretful that there had been a postponement.

Juan Rodriguez and Doug Sanders didn't like it though. They both had picked up a stroke and gone into a tie for third with Lema.

It was the fifth time in the 20 years of Colonial for play to be stopped because of the weather but all were played out. It also was the first time of the year for a round to be postponed on the tour.

Just Like Orioles, Redlegs Also Have Hero Robinson

It figured. Soon as Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisker needed a pinch hitter he called on Frank Robinson, the guy with the Most Valuable Thumb in the National League.

The 29-year-old Robinson sat out last Tuesday's game, played Wednesday but had to leave in the seventh inning of Thursday's contest against Los Angeles because his hand bothered him too much and he couldn't grip the bat properly.

He played again Friday and aggravated the injury when he tried to hold back on a swing. Scheduled to start Saturday, he was pulled from the line-up at the last minute. His insertion into the line-up Sunday came at the last minute, too — much to the anguish of the Pirates.

Elsewhere in the NL, Chicago whipped Houston 7-1 after losing 11-5, Milwaukee dropped New York 8-2 before bowing 5-4, Philadelphia trimmed St. Louis 4-2 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 6-3.

Robinson's winning hit climaxed the three-run rally that wiped out a 3-2 Pittsburgh lead. Pinch hitter John Edwards singled across the tying run before

Rusk Proposes Standby Military-Political Machinery to Handle Hemispheric Crises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has urged the American states to consider setting up standby military-political machinery which could tackle emergencies quickly pending more formal action by hemisphere governments.

Rusk also denied in an Associated Press interview that the United States had reverted to the gunboat diplomacy of earlier years when it rushed troops into Santo Domingo.

With local authorities unable to protect foreign nationals and asking for U.S. aid, he said, the United States had a well-recognized obligation to do what was needed to save American lives.

"Recent U.S. actions in the Dominican Republic have had nothing to do with 19th century forms of intervention for the purpose of collecting revenues, protecting concessions or changing governments," he said.

LIFESAVING MISSION

"We went in to save lives. We are there in support of the Organization of American States and inter American system," he added.

In other weekend U.S.-Dominican developments:

—An official document said members of the inter-American peace mission to the Dominican Republic were told by rebel leader Col. Francisco Caamaño Drené that Communists had infiltrated but do not control his movement.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said in a radio television broadcast with Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., that "we have to be prepared for some time in the future to have the Communist forces in the world test us every place where there is any weakness or any possibility of success."

Jack H. Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, also predicted fresh troubles ahead and said the Communists have a priority list of Latin American governments that they hope to subvert and overthrow. He named no nations. Vaughn appeared on a taped television interview with Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" radio television program that "from a military standpoint we are prepared to handle such contingencies as may arise."

Two Republican senators, Nebraska's Roman L. Hruska and Colorado's Gordon Allott, said on a taped radio-television program that President Johnson should maintain military forces in the Dominican Republic to prevent a Communist take-over. Two other Republicans, Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and House GOP Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan, also expressed support for Johnson's Dominican policy.

In his AP interview Saturday, Rusk said time factors were crucial as U.S. Marines hurried ashore at Santo Domingo April 28 "just in time to avoid a major calamity." He said there had been no opportunity to take this up with the OAS in advance.

4 Die in Kashmir Rioting

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Four persons were killed and a number arrested during a week-end of rioting in Kashmir over India's sending Sheikh Mohammed Abdullah into exile.

An Indian government spokesman blamed the strife on nationalist groups and the Awami action committee, which wants the accession of Kashmir to Pakistan.

Supporters of Abdullah, 60-year-old "Lion of Kashmir," claimed at least 14 persons have been killed and that about 400 persons have been seized. Police denied the arrest figure.

Abdullah was seized by Indian police in New Delhi Saturday when he returned from two months of campaigning abroad for support for his demands of self-determination for his Himalayan state. He is being held incommunicado in the south India town of Ootacamund.

Propose U.S. Hold Kennedy Slaying Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is drafting legislation to put key evidence in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy — including the murder rifle — into the National Archives for permanent safekeeping.

The department has not yet decided which items of evidence it wants to retain in government hands.

An authoritative source said that they certainly would include the mail-order rifle used by Lee Harvey Oswald to shoot Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

"We want it always to be in hands responsible to the government, so that no questions as to its authenticity can be raised if, for instance, the investigation is ever reopened," the informant said.

The murder weapon and other prime evidence are currently in an FBI storage vault.

The government also will retain the pistol Oswald used in the fatal shooting of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippitt on the day of Kennedy's assassination.

A gun collector has offered Oswald's widow Marina $10,000 for the two weapons.

In its report, the now dissolved Warren Commission which investigated the Kennedy assassination requested the Justice Department to decide what to do with the evidence accumulated during the 16-month probe.

NATIONAL INTEREST

The Justice Department plans to base its proposal solely on the proposition that it is in the national interest to make absolutely secure the key physical evidence in the assassination.

"We think physical evidence relating directly to the crime itself should be preserved under absolute security so that the public may always be assured of its nature and character," the official said.

No public display of the evidence is planned.

The legislation also would permit persons whose property is claimed by the federal government to sue in federal court for compensation.

"People are entitled to be paid for it," the source said. "The courts will determine how much. But it's horrible to imagine that the instruments of such a heinous crime could result in a windfall to anyone."

More than a million and a quarter Americans now work in the nation's space program, their payroll last year reaching $9 billion.

Say French Want NATO Centers Out

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Reports in London claim that France wants to get rid of NATO centers, which would mean the eventual removal of NATO headquarters from Paris. France has been a "sleeping partner" in NATO for some time, according to these reports.

Officially, nothing has been said so far on removing the NATO centers, but it could be broached this week when NATO holds its annual ministerial council in London.

PEACE SEEKERS: Malaysian officials in Kuala Lumpur have decided to continue to seek peace "relentlessly" even though Indonesia's President Sukarno has shied away from the conference table.

The Malaysians say they have nothing to lose and can claim a propaganda victory every time Sukarno refuses to meet them halfway. They also say they believe more and more that Sukarno is no longer his own boss.

SECOND FRONT: The rigidly trained and well-equipped Nationalist Chinese army has little chance of seeing action in South Viet Nam though other Asian countries have sent troops. The Americans are afraid the presence of Nationalist troops might provoke Chinese Communist intervention.

The Chinese Reds fear a psychological and propaganda blow should the Nationalists prove themselves superior to Red troops.

Should Peking become directly involved in Viet Nam the Nationalists believe they would be used to open a second front in the Formosa Strait.

SUSPICIOUS AFRICANS:

African countries will be looking with more suspicion in the future at the European Common Market. Eighteen former French colonies complain the Europeans are not buying as much as they promised.

Trade negotiations with Nigeria are deadlocked because

Find Stolen Lock After Tip-Off on Breakout Plans

LONDON (U.P.)—The Home Office reported today the theft of a lock from Liverpool's Walton Jail, where one of the great train robbery gang is serving a 30-year sentence.

Security at the jail was doubled. The theft was discovered after a tip from a former prisoner that an attempt would be made to free the train robber, James Hussey, 31.

According to the tipster, the lock was to be smuggled out so that keys could be made. The Home Office confirmed that the lock had been found buried near the jail.

Another of the train gang, Charles Wilson, escaped last year from Birmingham's Winslow Prison, where he was serving 30 years.

He has never been recaptured. Nor has most of the $7.28 million which the gang scooped up by ambushing a mail train in August 1963.

The average American family spent only 19 cents of its take-home dollar for food in 1964, compared with 26 cents 15 years ago.

the former British colony reflects the European demand for reciprocal trade concessions, and Nigerian Ambassador Charles Okigbo says: "We are surprised the rich Europeans should want reciprocity from a developing country."

FIRST HURDLE: British Prime Minister Harold Wilson has cleared the first hurdle on the way to steel nationalization, but he has not yet won the race. Disaffection within his own Labor party ranks is enough to frown brows as legislative proposals for the take-over are formulated.

His majority of four in winning commonsense to consider the legislation was the maximum he could get. The margin may be smaller when the bill is worked out. It is being widely predicted the fight ahead will be long and could continue throughout the rest of the year.

MORE INDEPENDENCE: President Charles de Gaulle of France may continue pushing his "National Independence" theme in a speech at Bourges on Friday when he goes there to visit the city's House of Culture. It will be his first real speech since he put forth the idea of "National Independence" and "hands off other countries' ideas" at his April 28 radio-TV broadcast.

Applause for Stalin Shakes Brezhnev During Speech

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP) — A burst of spontaneous applause for Joseph Stalin reverberated over the Kremlin during the weekend and across the Soviet Union.

The unheralded tribute erupted suddenly after a fleeting mention of Stalin as the Soviet's World War II armed forces commander in chief in a speech on the 20th anniversary of V.E. Day by the new Soviet Communist party leader, Leonid Brezhnev.

The crowd's reaction seemed to strike Brezhnev like a thunderclap obviously surprised, he charged into combat shouting the battle cry: "For the Motherland, for Stalin."

TAUGHT HYMNS

Many were taught hymns to Stalin in schools and nurseries. They still know by heart verses giving thanks to Stalin for everything from their daily bread to the onset of spring.

Small groups gathered in Red Square after the meeting to discuss the applause for Stalin.

Many openly repudiated Khrushchev's charges against the former Kremlin ruler. Others bitterly criticized Khrushchev.

The comments are typical of the warm sentiments toward Stalin frequently encountered by Russian-speaking foreigners in informal contacts with ordinary Russians.

MAY SOFTEN

Popular sentiment may soften the official criticism of Stalin but it is not likely to force the Kremlin leaders to rehabilitate him.

Khrushchev's successors are on record in favor of continued de-Stalinization. They recently made it clear that Stalin's positive contributions, particularly during World War II, would be acknowledged, but that his mistakes and tyrannical methods would not be forgotten.

The Kremlin audience gave further evidence of the ease with which Russians can accept yesterday's villain as today's hero and vice versa.

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, making his first appearance in public since Khrushchev banished him from public life in 1957, got a hearty round of applause.

News Analysis

stumbled over his text. He quickly recovered his composure and abruptly cut off the demonstration by resuming his reading.

The manifestation indicated that, despite nine years of de-Stalinization, there may be many more fans of Stalin than the Soviet leaders suspected.

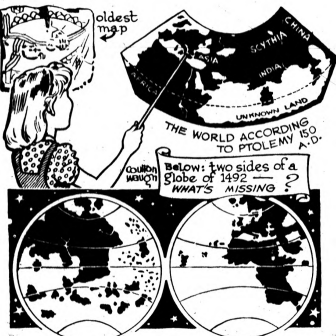

BLOODY TYRANT

The crowd gathered in the 6,000-seat Kremlin Palace of Congresses auditorium was similar to the hundreds of Soviet audiences before whom Nikita Khrushchev had denounced Stalin as a bloody tyrant.

Many were representatives of the Soviet Communist party and government elite who professed complete sympathy with Khrushchev's vituperation toward the late dictator.

A majority of the audience, however, were ordinary men and women who fought under Stalin's command during World War II.

Junior Editors Quiz on WORLD MAPS

QUESTION: Who made the first world maps?

ANSWER: Crude maps were made in ancient times, such as the clay tablet in upper left, dating from 2300 B.C. Its rough marks indicated a wealthy man's estate.

But the peoples of the first civilizations had little knowledge of what lay beyond their borders and lacked accurate instruments to determine the location of places, with the result that early maps were vague and confused.

The first map to show the world with at least some positions scientifically located was made by the Greek Ptolemy about 150 A.D. and was used for hundreds of years thereafter.

Ptolemy's map suggested that the earth was round, to be connected by some strange, unknown lands. It was not until nearly 1500 that the idea of the earth as a full sphere became accepted.

Even then, Martin Behaim, who drew the first globe map in 1492, made a curious mistake: he greatly underestimated the size of that part lying between Europe and the East Indies.

It looked to be a short sail from Spain to the riches of the East. Judging by what soon happened, however, perhaps we owe a great debt to Behaim and his funny little globe! FOR YOU TO DO: Try to understand the meaning of the last sentence above, checking with the two sides of Behaim's globe in the picture. (Because the trip to the East looked so short, Columbus may have decided to try it—and incidentally to stumble on the huge continent Behaim had left out—the continent later to be known as America!)

Education Bill Report Is Due

Senate Unit Request
Tops Romney's Plan

LANSING (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee tonight was expected to report to the Senate floor an education appropriations bill calling for expenditures about $5 million higher than Gov. George Romney's recommendations.

The committee completed its deliberations on the education bill Friday night and agreed to the amendments, committee members said. There remained a possibility that the measure could be further changed before it was reported out of committee at tonight's session.

Under the committee amendments, the state's "big three" institutions of higher learning—University of Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State—would receive $2 million more than Romney recommended.

Wayne State was slated for an additional $1.2 million, and U-M and MSU each were to receive $900,000 over the governor's recommendations.

The other institutions, excepting Michigan Tech, were scheduled to get 5 per cent across-the-board hikes over the governor's recommendations. Tech was scheduled to get an extra $275,000—$200,000 for operations and $75,000 for equipment.

$187.7 MILLION

The education appropriation bill originally called for $184.7 million. That marked an increase of $37 million over appropriations for fiscal 1964-65, but was below the 1965-66 agency requests of $213.9 million, Romney said.

In his budget message, the governor said the state's 10 four-year colleges and universities will require $156.7 million, $25.5 million more than was appropriated for the current fiscal year.

All of the increases went to the colleges and universities.

Committee members said there was no argument over the proposed expansion of the University of Michigan two-year Flint branch to a four-year institution at the meeting.

The apparent reason for lack of a confrontation was that the State Board of Education has authorized the university to enroll a freshman class of 200 students this fall and the appropriation—roughly $247,000—covered those students, committee members said.

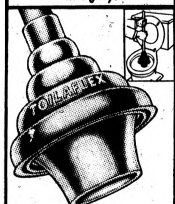

The governor's recommendations for the institutions of higher learning were: Central Michigan University, $4.8 million; Eastern Michigan University, $6 million; Ferris State College, $4.1 million; Grand Valley State College, $1.6 million; Michigan State University, $46.5 million; Northern Michigan University, $3 million; University of Michigan, $50.1 million; Wayne State University, $25.5 million; and Western Michigan University, $9.9 million.

The appropriations committee held lengthy public hearings on the needs of the colleges and universities before amending the bill.

Appropriations also was scheduled to report to the Senate floor a mental health bill calling for an increased appropriation of about $1.1 million over the governor's recommendations.

Cong Force Urgency in Project

U.S. Will Deepen Viet Nam Harbors to Better Supply the Interior

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington has put in a rush order for dredges to deepen the waters of nine ports in South Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong guerrillas are responsible for this urgency in what was originally a more leisurely project to broaden Viet Nam's ability to berth seagoing vessels.

With the Communist guerrillas cutting the main coastal railroad and highway and supply needs of U.S. forces soaring, what started as a transportation study aimed toward long-range improvement of the country's economy now bears the label "crash program."

Ports earmarked for dredging include Saigon and Da Nang — plus Hue, Qui Nhon, Cuang Ngai, Nha Trang, Vung Tau, Can Tho and Cam Ranh.

BETTER SUPPLIES

U.S. planners figure that by getting supplies to these towns rimming the 800-mile coast of the long, narrow country, most of the nation's population can be serviced without extensive use of the more hazardous long-distance arteries inland. In terms of the volume that cargo craft can carry, it has been estimated that one cargo vessel the size of a Liberty ship can transport as much as was ferried by the whole Berlin airlift in 1948-49, at a third the cost.

According to U.S. officials today:

The Elliott Machine Corp. of Baltimore has been awarded a $1.6-million contract for five dredges because it was the only dredge-building concern in this country found able to deliver within 30 to 60 days. A $300,000 contract has been negotiated with Daniel, Mann, Johnson and Mendenhall, Inc., of Los Angeles for a survey on improving South Vietnamese port facilities to be completed in six months.

Transportation Consultants Inc. of Washington, D.C. has received a $300,000 award to study all of South Viet Nam's transportation facilities.

waterways, rail, highway and air — during the next 12 months.

How much the over-all program will cost is still a matter of guesswork. It could come to $5 million in the next six months. Beyond that, the port and waterway improvement work could go on as long as 5 or 10 years.

Writes Civil Rights Spiritual

Pat Boone: Voice of Minorities

By JAMES RACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pat Boone is becoming the composing and singing voice of minority peoples.

First he wrote lyrics for "This Land Is Mine" to the theme from the movie "Exodus."

Now he has written words and music for a civil rights spiritual called "Time Marches On."

It tells the story of the Negro from Africa to Alabama with a catch beat.

Boone, a Southerner, said he became interested in the civil rights movement when he had his half-hour television show a few years back.

"On Thanksgiving," he recalls, "I had Ella Fitzgerald as my guest."

"The next day I was bombarded by calls and letters from my relatives in the South, and some from the North, too. All of them chastised me for having a Negro as a guest."

"I was astonished. Here on the day we set aside each year to give our thanks to God, my own relatives were hawling me out."

"It seemed a very un-Christian thing to do."

Pat later mentioned his indignation on a television interview show. One of his listeners was Harry Belafonte.

"Harry said he liked that I said and wanted to come on my TV show. I told him the budget wouldn't support an entertainer of his stature. But Harry said he would do it for nothing just because he liked what I had done."

"I was thrilled and told the producer about it. Soon, the agency people representing the sponsor asked me not to have Belafonte on the show. The reason given was that Harry was married to a white girl and his appearance on my show would hurt sales in some parts of the Deep South."

"Do you mean I have to go back to an entertainer the stature of Harry Belafonte and tell them... or something like that?"

him I can't have him on my show because he is Negro?" I asked. And I was told yes.

I MEANT IT
"Then I said, 'If that's the case, then you might just as well forget about me for this show.' And I meant it and they knew I meant it."

"Finally, the sponsor relented and said okay. But the payoff is that Belafonte's schedule was so filled up that by the time he could do it, my show was off the air."

Pat has recorded his civil rights song.

"Sammy Davis flipped over it when I sang it over the phone to him in New York. Now, he's going to record it."

STRONG FEELINGS
Pat has strong feelings about his professional life. He has done well in movies but keeps turning down scripts.

"They aren't making enough family movies," he says. "I was talked into doing one that dealt with prostitution. That convinced me. Never again. There are two scripts around that I would like to do: 'Chautauque' and 'The Sky Photographer.' Both could be great family movies. And I'll wait until I get them... or something like that."

Report British Kill Indonesian Raiders

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP)—British troops killed three Indonesian raiders, identified as regular soldiers, during a brisk fire fight yesterday in the jungles of Sarawak, a military spokesman here reported today. He said two British troopers of the Argyll and Sutherland regiment, were slightly wounded in the fighting, which broke out when a platoon-strength patrol caught up with a small Indonesian band.

The raiders, retreated across the nearby border into Indonesian Borneo, the spokesman added.

World War I Shell Explodes, Killing Boy

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa (AP)—A German World War I artillery shell which had been lying around for 50 years exploded here yesterday, killing Wilhelm Bezuindhout, 7, and seriously injuring another boy. The two boys had been playing in a back yard, chopping and hammering at the shell for some time before it exploded. Southwest Africa was a German colony before 1918 and is now a territory of the Union of South Africa.

Plane's Landing Gear Fatally Crushes Man

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP)—A workman was crushed to death by the landing gear of a giant X1570A triple-sonic bomber while watching a static test, Sunday.

says a North American Aviation, Inc., spokesman.

The spokesman said Wilbert Lanning, 50, of nearby Lancaster was in the plane's wheel well, watching the gear being raised and lowered as the plane reeled on jacks in the hangar Sunday.

Actor Richard Burton says that he plans to retire from film acting in three years.

In an interview published in the London Sunday Mirror, Burton said:

"It's a great life—but I'm giving it up. I'm committed to three contracts for three years and then I'll retire. Forty-two is a good age to retire. I'd hate to be one of those aged stars playing love scenes with young girls."

Charged in Krebiozen Case

Doctor Shows Little Emotion at Trial

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Dr. Andrew C. Ivy was one of the world's most respected scientists. Then he staked his reputation on an untested chemical substance called Krebiozen. Now this sometime lion of the laboratories is on trial charged with fraud and conspiracy in promoting Krebiozen as a treatment for cancer.)

(CHICAGO UPI) — The defendant sits quietly, almost unobtrusively at the defense table. He lifts his head, looks away and works his jaw, as if in deep and detached contemplation.

Daughters Give Gifts to Mrs. LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson received two books of quotations from Lynda Bird and flowers from Luci Baines as the First Lady celebrated Mother's Day at the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

The President, Mrs. Johnson and Lynda Bird 21, flew up to Camp David by helicopter Saturday night and returned Sunday night. Lynda Bird 17, stayed behind at the White House.

She telephoned her mother at noon to wish her a happy Mother's Day. About the same time, flowers and a personal note arrived from her.

Earlier, Lynda had presented her mother with two small volumes entitled "Springs of Humor" and "Springs of Joy." They contain quotations from noted authors.

The Johnsons spent a relaxing day, reading newspapers and taking walks in the woods.

low legal pad. Less often, he leans across the table and whispers in a small voice to a colleague.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, 72, Phi Beta Kappa, expert witness on medical ethics at the war crimes trials of Nazi scientists, American Medical Association gold medal winner, and a world renowned physiologist is the man on trial.

He is accused of conspiracy and fraud in connection with the "cancer drug" Krebiozen — a substance he once took himself before surgery for removal of a malignant lesion on his tongue.

CONTENTION
The government contends that Krebiozen is worthless and that Ivy and three other defendants practiced fraud in promoting it.

Ivy believes in physical fitness. He bounds up the stairs to his laboratory at Roosevelt University in downtown Chicago with the same energy he once displayed as a college wrestler.

But 14 years of battling for a cause are beginning to take their toll in the deepening lines in his face.

Ivy is almost obscured at the crowded defense table. With him are Dr. Stevan Durovic, the discoverer of Krebiozen, who generally sits across the table from Ivy, Marko Durovic, Stevan's lawyer brother who generally sits next to Ivy, and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, who sits next to Ivy, and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, who sits at the end of the table. They are on trial with him in U.S. District Court.

LITTLE CONVERSATION
Interspersed between them is each one's attorney. Ivy's attorney, John F. Sembrower, sits at the other end of the table, several feet from Ivy. Ivy and Sembrower have little conversation during the trial.

Ivy, wearing horn-rimmed glasses and an inscrutable smile, shows the detachment of a scientist.

One of the few times when his emotions seeped to surface came as the government offered into evidence blown up pictures of the laboratory where Ivy helped produce Krebiozen.

Ivy insisted on examining each picture, almost curiously. "You'd almost think Dr. Ivy hadn't seen the laboratory before," one courtroom spectator said.

500 Expected at Detroit Rally

DETROIT (UPI) — Some 500 persons were expected to attend a neighborhood rally tonight to enlist support in a fight against slum landlords.

Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz, Traffic Judge Richard Maher and health department education officer Andrew Dempster are scheduled to speak to the West Grand Boulevard Clearing and Improvement Association, Inc., a ground group of 32 block clubs.

The group is campaigning to force absentee landlords to repair their property. Included in their proposals is one that would allow the city to make necessary repairs to rundown property and add the cost to the owner's taxes. The bill is pending in the legislature.

Johnson Lauds HST on Birthday

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Said the 36th President of the United States to the 33rd.

"You have succeeded over recent years in velving birth days. Your enthusiasm, zest and growing vigor constitute both a delight and an inspiration to us older folks."

"That's very nice of you," replied Harry S. Truman 81, to Lyndon B. Johnson, 56. "I don't want to count until I'm 100 and then I'll start all over again."

The White House call was made Saturday as Truman celebrated his 81st birthday with more than 300 friends gathered at an annual luncheon.

TRUMAN ANSWERS
President Johnson showered Truman with praise, then got this reply: "That comes from an authority. I hope you'll put that in writing."

"I will, as soon as I have a minute," said the President.

Truman's old friend, comedian Jack Benny, also telephoned his birthday wishes and congratulated Truman on his television series about decisions in his administration.

"Now that you've gone into my business, I'm entering politics," said Benny. He said that by his reckoning of birthdays, Truman is 49.

UNKNOWN FRIENDS

A friend, who anonymously throws the party each year, presented Truman with a desk set embellished with two solid gold pens, a Brazilian amethyst and a copy of the television award Truman received this year.

A Canadian friend gave 82 newly minted Canadian dollars — one for each birthday and one to grow on.

There were only five speeches and they were short and affectionate.

No one has ever faced as many difficult decisions than President Truman," said Gen. Omar N. Bradley, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. "He made them all and he made them right."

Day-Long Attacks

Planes Pound N. Viet

Hit Vehicles,

Killed in Raids

Two GIs Lose Lives,
8 Wounded in 6-Hour
Battle With Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American and Vietnamese warplanes began pounding military targets in North Viet Nam at midnight and continued the aerial hammering through the day.

Returning pilots report destruction of bridges, highway and railroad vehicles, military emplacements and one large junk.

A U.S. spokesman said the planes encountered light to moderate ground fire but that all planes returned safely without sighting enemy aircraft.

One Navy jet pilot was killed yesterday when his plane failed to pull out of a strafing dive on a truck during raids on North Viet Nam.

Two American soldiers were killed and eight wounded in a six-hour battle with the Viet Cong 30 miles west of Saigon.

ONE OF SEVERAL
It was one of several attacks during the weekend in the Mekong River delta.

Navy aircraft from the carriers Coral Sea and Midway began the day's attacks, dropping 12½ tons of bombs.

They reported damaging four bridges, four trucks, one large junk and one road grader.

U.S. Air Force F105s and F100s took to the air at noon and in a "highly successful" raid dropped a span of the Ha Tinh bridge 150 miles south of Hanoi, dropped a span of a bridge nearby and then destroyed the Tho Hoa bridge, south of Ha Tinh.

HIT VEHICLES
Sixteen F105s, cruising over highway routes, destroyed one truck, three boxcars and three small bridges.

Vietnamese Skyraiders concentrated on bridge targets.
U.S. spokesmen also announced that aircraft from the carrier Oriskany hit Viet Cong targets yesterday in their second try at the guerrilla concentrations.

Jet and propeller-driven aircraft flew 81 sorties against Viet Cong headquarters areas, storage areas, gun emplacements, supply facilities and troop encampments.

DELTA FIGHTING
In the delta fighting, the Viet Cong inflicted heavy casualties on the Catholic refugee settlement of Hai Yen.

Then, early today, they attacked a nearby outpost and threw mortar fire on the town.

Three Vietnamese soldiers and seven civilians, including five children, were reported wounded.

Heavier casualties were suffered in a Viet Cong attack on an outpost 45 miles southwest of Saigon early today.

13 KILLED
Thirteen defenders were killed, seven wounded and four captured.

Sources reported the Viet Cong set up roadblocks about 80 miles northeast of Saigon on the road to Dalat, stopped all vehicles, and mixed in with their civilian captives so completely that air strikes could not be used.

CAROL TYLER

Hunt Plane With Baker Secretary

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—The Coast Guard searched along the Atlantic shoreline today for the sunken wreckage of a plane in which Carol Tyler, who figured in the Bobby Baker investigation, lost her life.

The Coast Guard located what it believed to be the wreckage in midmorning, but later said it turned out not to be the plane. It was one of several reports of sunken objects which proved to be false.

Miss Tyler was on a Sunday joyride over the Atlantic when the red and white, single-engine Waco biplane crashed into the water.

Killed with the former Capitol Hill secretary was the pilot, Robert H. Davis, 43, of Huntington, W. Va.

Both had been staying at Baker's Carousol Motel, which is one of the plushiest hostilities in Ocean City and stands about 1,000 yards from the scene of the crash.

Miss Tyler, a former high school beauty queen from Lenoir City, Tenn., had worked for Baker when he was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority. After he quit because of the Senate investigation into his outside business activities, she remained in his employ.

2 More Drown in Area Lakes

Two persons drowned in Oakland County yesterday, bringing to three the number of fatal water accidents which occurred since 3 p.m. Friday.

Killed yesterday were Lowell L. Whitlow, 42, and John R. Cahill, 7, both of Detroit.

A 15-year-old Brandon Township girl, Georgia Carey, drowned Friday afternoon while swimming in Lake Louise near her home.

Whitlow drowned when his small, homemade, wooden boat capsized about 7:30 a.m. yesterday on the southwest corner of Lower Pettibone Lake in Highland Township.

Whitlow's 12-year-old daughter, Kathy, was pushing the boat into deep water when she came to a drop-off about 20 feet from shore.

John A. Aird, 28, of 1832 Point Commerce Township, died at 3:30 a.m. in Pontiac General Hospital from injuries he received in the collision.

Willis Wirick Jr., three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wirick, 744 Townley Madison Heights, died shortly after the accident.

West Bloomfield police believe Aird was the driver of one of the two cars involved in the 11 p.m. head-on collision on West Maple near Haggerty.

Mr. Wirick and Aird both were listed in serious condition after the mishap. Another Wirick child and a passenger in the Aird vehicle were also admitted to the hospital at the time of the accident.

Willis Wirick, driver of the second car, was treated at the hospital and released.

Rebels Refuse to Surrender

Invitation Is Sent by Dominican Junta

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican rebels have rejected a surrender invitation from the new military-civilian junta with a reply that they have the morale and manpower to withstand attack.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, president of the five-man junta, warned yesterday that his forces were ready "as of now" to move against the rebels. But he said no attack would be launched until every effort has been exhausted to avert bloodshed.

U.S. sources said Washington would counsel against any renewal of fighting between the opposing Dominican factions.

Imbert invited the rebels to lay down their arms and leave the country if they wanted to.

Col. Francisco Caamaño Dengo, the rebel chief, issued this reply from his headquarters in the rebel-held southeast portion of Santo Domingo.

DEFEATED TROOPS

"We have defeated their best troops and the best from the national police force. Do they think that with reserves from the interior they will be able to defeat a people whose morale is higher than it ever was?"

The rebels have charged that eight truckloads of Dominican troops were brought in from the countryside and are bivouacked in the zone occupied by U.S. troops.

Although there were no official figures available on the size of forces available to the junta, Imbert said his troops were capable of moving against the rebels.

Before the revolt, which deposed the civilian triumvirate headed by Donald Reid Cabral, the Dominican army was estimated at 25,000 to 30,000 men. Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, military strongman behind (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

NEW SOVIET TANK—A new version of the Russian medium tank is shown rolling through Red Square in Moscow yesterday during a V-E Day anniversary parade. It was the first time the weapon had been displayed publicly.

Soviets Launch Moon Shot on Anniversary of V-E Day

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union celebrated the 20th anniversary of V-E Day yesterday with a new moon shot, a military display, an appeal for reunification of nuclear weapons and a new attack on U.S. policy.

The moon shot, Lunik 5, was a 3,254-pound electronic instrument package to gather and send back scientific information.

The Soviet news agency Tass said it was launched from an artificial earth satellite. He put into orbit earlier in the day by a multistage rocket.

The exact time or place of the launching was not announced, but it presumably took place about the hour the Kremlin gave its first public display of the kind of rockets that have carried its manned space ships into orbit.

Tass said Lunik 5 was equipped with "measuring devices" but did not say what kind of information it would send back from its 250,000-mile journey.

Good Weather for a Cookout

If you're planning a barbecue supper tonight or a picnic tomorrow, the weatherman promises he won't dampen your efforts with a thunderstorm.

Brief but striking manifestations of yesterday's local storm were reported from many areas.

Just after 5 p.m., traffic on Telegraph around Long Lake came to a complete halt as a miniature cloudburst made driving absolutely impossible. It concluded with a short but vigorous hailstorm.

Tonight, the weather will be fair and cooler with lows registering from 50 to 58.

Tomorrow's sunshine will coax the mercury to range between 68 and 76.

TODAY'S WINDS

By late afternoon, today's southwesterly winds will swing to the west to northwest.

Wednesday will be fair and slightly warmer.

The low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 65. By 1 p.m. it climbed to 80.

Report on Finances, Johnson Orders 200 Top U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has ordered 200 top government officials — including Cabinet members — to file statements of their financial interests with the Civil Service Commission.

An executive order issued Sunday also gave the Civil Service Commission authority to require similar statements from 2,000 lesser officials. These would be filed with the heads of their agencies.

The seven-page executive order which superseded several existing directives, set strict standards for 2.5 million civil servants limiting acceptance of gifts, entertainment and favors by executive branch personnel.

All statements will be kept confidential and not made public. The Civil Service Commission or the head of a department or agency, however, will make available to the President any information they feel he should have.

FIRST ORDER

The order was the first directing the filing of statements by presidential appointees. Some congressional committees have asked for such information in connection with confirmation of nominees.

The order does not apply to Johnson but one official said he expects the President to file a statement because "I am confident it is his intention to do everything that is required of any other employee."

The financial reporting requirements will apply to key members of Johnson's staff. They will decide whether their subordinates should file statements.

In issuing the directive, Johnson praised "the unusually high standard of honesty, integrity and impartiality" of government employees but said:

"There are some whose duties on occasion place them in difficult or awkward situations, and thus the order today lays down general guidelines and standards of conduct as clearly as possible."

The order provides that "no employee shall solicit or accept directly or indirectly, any gift, gratuity, favor, entertainment, loan, or any other thing of monetary value, from any persons, any corporation or group which—

"(1) has, or is seeking to obtain, contractual or other business or financial relationships with any agency;

"(2) conducts operations or activities which are regulated by his agency;

"(3) has interests which may be substantially affected by the performance or nonperformance of an official duty."

Princess at Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Princess Benedikte of Denmark took flowers to Arlington Cemetery today, honoring the unknown soldier. President John F. Kennedy and a Danish-born U.S. Marine corporal who died in Korea.

The chief mate of the Topdalsford, Karl Fagerli was recalled to testify here again yesterday. He was asked if, from the time the Cadillac was first sighted, the collision could have been averted. Fagerli said it would not have been possible.

Jan A. Gronstol, second officer of the Norwegian vessel, told Coast Guard officials he was on the bridge watching the radar just prior to the collision. He said he saw an object on the screen too large to obtain a bearing.

He said he ran to a passage-way off the bridge to warn the captain, Rasmus Haaland. The captain ordered the engine room to reverse the propellers, Gronstol said, ringing "hard astern" on the engine room telegraph.

GRONSTOL REPEATED Gronstol said he then heard the helmsman repeat the order "hard astern", turning the wheel completely to the right. Together, the two maneuvers would turn the ship backward in a counter-clockwise circle.

Captain Haaland did not appear at the hearing. His doctor told hearing officers Haaland was still confined to bed due to extreme exhaustion caused by overwork and lack of sleep.

The hearing here is scheduled to continue today with the Topdalsford's radio operator and chief engineer expected to testify.

U.S. Steel Corp. hired seven divers to join the land, sea and air search for the eight missing men. The diving party included four "hard-hat" men, in metal helmets and carrying full equipment, and three scuba divers.

Rebels Refuse to Surrender

The junta, was said to command 1,500 troops and about 30 tanks, in addition to the Dominican air force.

REBEL FORCE Camacho's high command has estimated there are 20,000 civilians and 3,000 armed forces and enlisted men ready to defend the rebel cause.

The rebels are hemmed in by the L-shaped zone occupied by U.S. troops, and have their backs to the Caribbean Sea.

A strengthening of U.S. positions took place yesterday without official explanation.

Units of the 4th U.S. Marine Expeditionary Force and 82nd Airborne Division, installed 105mm howitzers in a field in front of the Embajador Hotel, the seaside resort in suburban Santo Domingo which has been an evacuation center and American headquarters area.

CANNON IN PLACE Bulldozers scooped out huge holes for the howitzer emplacements and the cannon were set up facing east — toward the rebel area. Access routes to the hotel also appeared to have more troops than usual.

The rebels returned three American Seabees they captured Friday. They were Mike P. Monk, 29, Vandemere, N.C.; Elard C. Dana, 40, Virginia Beach, Va.; and Donald E. Martin, 27, Wichita, Kan.

Dana said they got into rebel territory while trailing a lost Jeep. He said they were well fed, guarded part of the time by

Extend Hitches ---Navy Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze today urged Navy officers and enlisted men to extend their service voluntarily for up to six months to ease a drain in experienced manpower while the fleet is on crisis duty off South Vietnam.

Nitze called on the men to "make a personal contribution to meeting the present challenge" by voluntarily staying in uniform another three to six months if their terms of service are due to expire.

The appeal comes at a time when the Navy is under dual strains:

— Deployment of fleet units for extended periods off South Vietnam and, the Dominican Republic.

A drop in enlistments and a continuing loss of trained people for various reasons, including higher pay in industry.

JOBS ASHORE Last month, Nitze asked for volunteers to fill a limited number of jobs ashore in South Vietnam. More than 14,000 men responded.

The announcement today said the duty tour extension would serve two purposes:

1. "Retain highly trained personnel."
2. "Insure peak state of readiness for those ships deployed in support of our national objectives."

Navy sources said that if enough officers and men step forward it would create a situation in which trained men have been leaving the 7th Fleet in the South China Sea when their enlistments or tours of duty expired.

TOP OFFICERS The officers had long held top jobs in the Dominican's armed forces and were considered a source of aggravation to younger officers leading the rebellion.

Imbert wouldn't say outright that the move was a concession to the rebels, but answered a question by saying this was "as far as we'll go."

The eight removed were: Brig. Gen. Belisario Paez, former national police chief, ousted on charges of corruption but given command of some troops during the present crisis; Gen. Salvador Augusto Montas, former army chief of staff; Gen. Miguel Alvia Luna Perez, former air force chief of staff; Col. Marcos Rivera Cuesta, most recent army chief of staff; Gen. Felix Hernandez Jr.; navy Commodore Julio Rib Samartia; Col. Manuel Maria Garcia Urbaz; and Col. Renato Hungria Morel.

Camacho belittled the junta's military shakeup. He blames Wessin and Gen. Juan Jesus de los Santos Cespedes, the air force chief, for the aerial bombardments which he claimed took 1,000 lives in the case of fighting.

NO CONSIDERATION Imbert said De Los Santos was remaining. He said Wessin would not be a part of the junta but that no consideration had been given to his removal as commander of the armed forces training center.

In San Juan, exiled ex-President Juan Bosch said U.S. military intervention in the Dominican Republic created more Latin-American Communists in a week than the Russians, Red Chinese and Cubans could make in five years.

Bosch said in an interview that U.S. forces, "instead of stopping another Cuba, will make another Cuba."

The Senate majority leader said only 25 per cent of the MDs are general practitioners, while 50 per cent of the DOs are so-called family physicians.

Drendzel indicated there would probably be opposition to the Senate bill.

Meantime, an association spokesman said some observers in the House report enthusiasm for the Senate bill.

cern from one senior commander "that many of our young instructors feel that it's smart to use suggestive or off-color stories."

"The use of off-color or suggestive stories has been justified to me as essential for establishing audience rapport or for rekindling interest in a presentation," Johnson said.

"I would only comment that any individual who must resort to such practices should review his ability as a public speaker, or instructor."

Johnson reminded his commanders that the impressions carried away by men who serve only a single enlistment "contribute materially, for better or worse, to the image of the Army among the general public."

Thus, he concluded, all commanders responsible for instruction or training should "take the necessary action to prohibit the use of offensive language and off-color stories in our service schools and as a part of training."

South Dakota Digs Out After 31-Inch Snow

DEADWOOD, S.D. (AP) — Snowplows pulled out of what was supposed to be summer storage were back on the highways today, attacking drifts left by a 31-inch snowfall in the west central South Dakota mountain country.

The snow started Saturday morning and didn't let up until noon Sunday. Deadwood had 30 inches and Lead, less than a mile away, measured 31 inches.

The snow drifted six to seven feet high in places. People who had gone to their fishing cabins Friday found themselves trapped by snow-covered roads.

Eight couples who had attended a dinner at a country club five miles from Lead shoveled and pushed their cars for 9½ hours before getting home.

CARS STUCK Cars became stuck on city streets. Some areas lost electricity when trees toppled across power lines.

Thawing temperatures followed the snow.

"It isn't as bad now," said a Deadwood resident. "The drifts were over our heads, but now it's below our shoulders."

But Westerners here considered the speech less harsh in tone than others he has made and more in keeping with the moderate approach to the United States taken by Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev Saturday.

N-WEAPONS The Soviet leaders also called on "all nuclear powers solemnly to announce to all the world their renunciation of the use of nuclear weapons."

The appeal was contained in a lengthy appeal "to all countries" reiterating the frequent Soviet calls for general disarmament.

"The year of the 20th anniversary of the victory over Hitlerism must be marked by an intensification of the struggle for liquidation of the hotbeds of war," the statement said.

First, it said, "it is necessary to end the U.S. aggression in Vietnam."

Colonial wars must be ended, it asserted, listing the Dominican Republic, the Congo, Angola and Mozambique as examples.

David Lawrence Says:

Wage Floor Hike Has 2 Sides

WASHINGTON — There is a significant debate going on inside the President's Cabinet over the question of whether the President should recommend to Congress an increase in the federal minimum wage.

The discussion relates to the possibility that such an action would have a severe impact on the national economy by increasing unemployment and perhaps raising the cost of living.

The Johnson administration has been urged to go along with the request of the union leaders that the federal minimum wage of $1.25 per hour be increased, but the big question is how much the total increase should be and whether it should be applied gradually over a period of years.

The amount of the increase itself might not be costly in a given year, but it is the indirect effect of a revolutionary change in the whole employment structure which could be the basis for a shake-up in wage scales. This, in turn, would have an effect upon the price of food and goods sold to the consumers.

There are many millions of persons today who are earning below the federal minimum wage, but most of them are doing odd jobs or their classifications of work are exempted by law.

MOVED-UP
Once a minimum wage is raised, however, other persons occupying a little higher level of employment feel that their wages should be moved up correspondingly.

This could bring an escalation of wage scales all along the line, for as one class of employees is given an increase, the class just above it feels it is entitled to something of the same kind. This is often referred to as "bumping" the wage scales.

Any change in the minimum wage rate, therefore, is bound to affect not only the number employed but also the wage costs of many employers throughout the country.

It can also mean that those persons without skills who are considered today to be worth more than $1.25 an hour would find it more difficult to get jobs because it might prove necessary for employers to hire better qualified persons at higher wages—rather than to take chances with employees who are not really competent to do the work.

These various phases of the employment situation have all ways been a factor in American economic life.

The federal minimum wage has usually operated to intensify the difficulties, particularly since adjustments in many wage scales become necessary. It could take three to five years for employers to absorb these changes.

Capital Letter: Could Win Back China Says 2nd Sun Yat-Sen

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — A distinguished American-born Chinese advances an interesting proposal for winning back the Chinese mainland through the combined help of the U.S. government and overseas Chinese.

Ruth Lee, proprietor MONTGOMERY of fashionable Genghis Khan Restaurant says the problem:

"The U.S. should select a Chinese of proven dignity, humility and character, and build up his image as a second Dr. Sun Yat-sen."

"The overseas Chinese would then rally behind him, and send word to their mainland relatives and friends that a new anti-Communist leader had emerged who would bring freedom to China."

Lee believes it would be a simple matter for the CIA to find such a Chinese, after which the public relations gurus could go to work at building up his image.

Inasmuch as we seem to be getting no place fast with Red China at the present time, Lee's proposal seems worthy of government thought.

William Dock RUTH Lee, proprietor MONTGOMERY of fashionable Genghis Khan Restaurant says the problem:

"The U.S. should select a Chinese of proven dignity, humility and character, and build up his image as a second Dr. Sun Yat-sen."

"The overseas Chinese would then rally behind him, and send word to their mainland relatives and friends that a new anti-Communist leader had emerged who would bring freedom to China."

Leaders of some member nations of the Organization of American States (OAS) evidently feel called on to place anti-Communist in their countries by denouncing the Johnson move.

But we suspect most if not all of them are secretly glad to have U.S. Marines and paratroops doing just what they are doing to quiet the island nation. No non-Cuban Latin American head of state in his right mind, it seems to us, can want Castro's brand of Red poison spread beyond Cuba.

"The greatest strength we have in trying to win back the Chinese mainland as a friendly power is the overseas Chinese, who never sever their relations with relatives at home," he declared.

Reminding that China is expected to develop a hydrogen bomb within four years, he said: "Time is against us. The educated Chinese would be on our side if we could rally behind a high-caliber leader whose image can be projected back to China as a 'savior,' in the manner of Dr. Sun Yat-sen."

President Johnson's pouring of Marines and paratroops into the Dominican Republic goes on looking wise and praiseworthy to us — as it does, incidentally, to leading Republicans such as Gen. Eisenhower and ex-Sen. Goldwater.

So it seems to us that the wise thing for the White House to do now would be (1) to ask the OAS to come up with a conservative and workable solution for the Dominican problem, but (2) to keep our fighting men there

But we suspect most if not all of them are secretly glad to have U.S. Marines and paratroops doing just what they are doing to quiet the island nation. No non-Cuban Latin American head of state in his right mind, it seems to us, can want Castro's brand of Red poison spread beyond Cuba.

Comments on Campaign for a Cleaner Township

I agree Waterford Township needs a clean-up campaign. Perhaps the job should be started by the township itself. There are many unsightly areas along our streets left by contractors installing water mains.

Our streets will always be remembered for lack of maintenance, as well as shrubs damaged by packs of dogs for which there is no apparent control.

Question Action of Planning Commission

Why did the City Planning Commission reject a request for an apartment building at Huron and Ottawa but approve one for an apartment building next to the Pontiac Boys Club on West Columbia?

We had a petition with over 300 signatures protesting the apartment on Columbia. Doesn't a petition mean anything? And where was our representative, Mr. Hudson? Who is he for?

We believe we are fighting for our men of tomorrow and urge parents to be at the City Commission meeting May 11 and fight for what you believe to be right for Pontiac.

Replies to Letter on Cancelled Meeting

Replying to Burke Cueny's letter, the April 22 open meeting of the Rochester Area Human Relations Council was not cancelled — it was postponed until fall.

The Council is proud to have Mr. Crockett share his legal education and experience concerning the perplexing legal aspects of civil rights legislation. It is a privilege for this suburban community to have as a speaker a nationally known champion of individual freedom who has not only survived the McCarthy era but who has now lived to see his stands on the first amendment endorsed and supported by the Supreme Court. (Dombrowski vs. Pfister, U.S. Supreme Court, 33 U.S. Law Week, p. 4321, Decision April 26, 1965).

It is regrettable that well-intentioned people can permit their bias against some racial minorities to put them in the role of cats-paw for extremist organizations.

The Better Half

It Seems to Me . . .

Gov. Romney Lifts State from Economic Depths

With nearly two and a half years of service behind him, this is a fitting time to appraise the stewardship of Governor GEORGE ROMNEY.

When the personable Oakland County man went into office, a long succession of bungling and inept misadventures had painted a drab and dreary picture of Michigan. It reached across the land, and even touched Europe. Your humble scrivener once opened a newspaper in Dublin and was shocked to read a two-column head of two words:

"MICHIGAN BANKRUPT"

This wasn't true. But the signs were there.

Fear of payless paydays was real and General Motors and a few leaders paid taxes in advance to keep a calculating wolf from the door.

Michigan owed $85 million. Under a dozen years of mismanagement and a paucity of economic knowhow, we had drifted to lowly depths. Some businesses were leaving. Labor was uneasy. Citizens in general were dissatisfied and new concerns bypassed Michigan, while an alarming number did their expanding elsewhere. They had lost confidence in the administration.

GEORGE ROMNEY is essentially a businessman. He already had taken over an industrial merger that stood about as badly in debt as Michigan. And yet he paid off the entire deficit, started dividends and placed American Motors on a sound basis. And remember this:

The competition was G.M., Ford and Chrysler. Stout fellows, all.

Business believed in him. Citizens at large placed faith in this new, dynamic leader because of his past record and the fact he was sufficiently patriotic to pass up an annual salary of $150,000 plus bonuses — for $25,000 in Lansing. A year and a half later Michigan had a surplus of $57 million. When the next 12 months are completed a few weeks hence, the State will have $105 million in the bank.

Detractors will point out that since ROMNEY's appearance on the political scene, business has been the best in history.

But we've had good growth rather steadily during our century and a quarter of existence and the general upswing coincident with Romney only stands slightly above the average. Businesses have been emboldened to expand. Who has heard of a single firm moving lately because of "fear of the administration" or doubts over State management? Governor ROMNEY's policies have been progressive, trustworthy and economically sound. During 1964, Michigan invested the incredible sum of $1.6 billion in expansion. Leaders believe in Michigan again. They believe in the Governor.

In 1965 the pace even quickens. We are creating our own new jobs.

The first quarter alone totals $616 million. This includes new plants and expansions by existing firms. Michigan unemployment under Romney has dropped and the growth in personal income ranks third in the Nation, closely following Florida and Nevada (both resort states).

Programs in 1963 included reorganization of the State economic expansion department, college and university economic research and development, aid cooperation with other Midwest states in the 12-state region. In 1964 tax law changes helped communities foster economic growth. Bills were adopted to encourage development of Great Lakes ports, and we saw a recodification of the savings and loan laws. We improved our Blue Sky regulations and increased tourist advertising. Labor law revisions include the new minimum wage law, construction safety and increased jobless benefits.

Independently wealthy, Governor ROMNEY is a strongly religious man who holds many of our old-time tenets sacred and holy. And he lives accordingly.

When LYNDON B. JOHNSON swept Michigan by more than a million votes, the Oakland County man walked back into the Capitol by over 400,000. This is probably the biggest example of ballot splitting in U.S. history.

Currently, he is partly frustrated and hamstrung by a hostile opposition that has control and recognizes him as the formidable and powerful political figure he is. His opponents propose to drag both feet and obstruct. However, a summary of his record to date indicates that Michigan has been mighty lucky in electing an active, energetic and highly capable businessman.

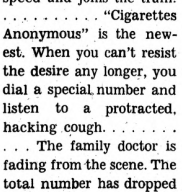

Few states have been so fortunate.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Looking ahead, experts see gas stations in which you deposit your money in a machine and get the corresponding amount of gas without an attendant. . . . And if you want your credulity challenged even further, visualize a bank accepting your deposit by a machine that counts the money and makes the proper entry in your bankbook. . . . Klan Orderly During Massive Alabama Rally

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — Ku Klux Klan leaders held a massive Mother's Day rally and parade in this northeast Alabama city and heard Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton declare that "segregation and purity of the race is God's law."

There were no disorders, nor arrests, as the Klansmen and about 500 supporters met in the Municipal Auditorium and then paraded for 10 blocks under a warm sun through the downtown area.

The orderliness of the demonstration was in sharp contrast to Mother's Day in 1961 and 1963 and outbursts of racial violence here.

Joining Sunday's marchers were the three Klansmen charged with the March 25 slaying of Viola Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife who was shot to death near Lowndesboro while shutting civil rights workers from Montgomery to Selma following a march to the capital.

TRIO APPLAUDED

The trio—Eugene Thomas, 43, William Orville Eaton, 42, and Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, all of the Birmingham area—got a

Dixie Chiefs Blast U.S. Bias Orders

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Six Southern governors say they are in agreement that the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has overstepped its authority by issuing directives on school integration.

The governors, following a five-hour meeting at the Georgia governor's mansion Sunday night, issued a joint statement in which they said: "No federal agency has the right to extend the law any more than any individual has the right to defy the law."

The chief executives said they would request an immediate meeting with their congressional delegations to discuss the directives.

Gov. Carl Sanders, host to the meeting, read the statement to newsmen. Standing with him on the back porch of the mansion were Govs. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, Albertis Harrison of Virginia, Robert McNair of South Carolina, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Paul Johnson of Mississippi.

BACK STATEMENT

Sanders said Govs. Haydon Burns of Florida, Dan Moore of North Carolina and John McKeithen of Louisiana had subscribed to the statement by telephone.

The statement said, in effect, that the department's directives were not in keeping with court decisions regarding school integration and were confusing to the states involved.

Sanders said the department and U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel have issued "conflicting and contradictory statements."

"We have determined that the most responsible and logical solution is a joint meeting of the congressional and senatorial delegations of the several states," the statement said. "We want to bring order to a problem that now seems to be headed toward chaotic conditions."

FOUR GRADES

Sanders called the meeting after Keppel issued a decree saying public schools must integrate four grades by September or lose federal aid.

The Georgia governor indicated that earlier directives had stated the money would be cut off unless school systems agreed to comply with the Civil Rights Act, which is not specific in its demands.

Sanders pointed out that most Southern systems have based desegregation plans on federal court decisions, but said that Keppel's decree goes beyond the court requirements.

standing ovation when they were introduced by Shelton.

Shelton, imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, Inc., said the rally marked the beginning of a series of such meetings throughout the South. Shelton said rallies will be held in Natchez, Miss., and several Alabama cities such as Scottsboro, Plant City, Linden and Dothan. To counter what Shelton termed the Klan's adverse publicity.

FREEDOM RIDERS

The rally here coincided with the fourth anniversary of the Mother's Day, 1961, burning of a Greyhound bus, occupied by Negro and white "freedom riders."

On Mother's Day 1963 shotgun blasts were fired into a Negro church and into two Negro homes.

Shelton was joined by Klan leaders Bob Creel, of Birmingham, grand dragon in Alabama, and Calvin Craig, KKK leader from Atlanta, Ga. Another speaker at the rally was Edward Fields, of Birmingham, information director of the National States Rights party.

Shelton told the audience to "fight for purity of our children" against what he called a Communist conspiracy. He said that the Klan "is battling socialism and the anti-Christ," and that a massive network of Communist conspiracy has taken hold of the federal government.

BLASTS LBJ

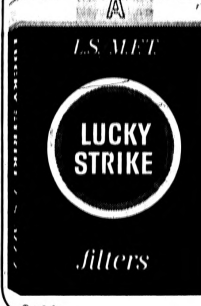

He attacked President Johnson. He said he would welcome an investigation of the KKK. If such a probe was carried through, Shelton said, "some Communist groups would have to be investigated, too."

Many of the Klan leaders were dressed in business suits when they paraded but other followers were garbed in Klan robes. Some women were seen, pushing baby carriages as they went.

The paraders were watched by an estimated 1,000 curious citizens. Only one Negro was seen on the street. The marchers had received a parade permit and were not bothered by police.
