Hanoi Turns Down Shipboard Talk Site

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the North Vietnamese embassy in Vientiane today rejected the proposal to hold preliminary peace talks with the United States aboard an Indonesian cruiser in the Gulf of Tonkin. The United States had accepted the proposal, but North Vietnamese rejection was expected in Washington.

Terming the shipboard talks "unacceptable" to the Hanoi government the North Vietnamese spokesman said the proposal by the Indonesian government "does not meet a single one of President Johnson's own conditions for preliminary contacts."

Recalling Johnson's demand for a neutral site for the talks, the spokesman said "Indonesia is not neutral," an indication that Hanoi considers the Jakarta government pro-Western since President Sukarno's ouster.

"Furthermore, contacts held on a ship would exclude representatives of other countries and of the press and would not permit what President Johnson called 'adequate communications'—conditions set by Johnson himself," the spokesman added.

He said Hanoi still insists the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland, both of which the U. S. government has rejected.

URGING WARSAW

In Washington, a number of U. S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated he and other committee members told Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach that the United States should lift its objections to the Polish capital as a site for talks.

Another committee member who asked not to be named said he's convinced the United States rejected Warsaw because of objections raised by the South Vietnamese.

★ ★ ★

Fulbright, asked if South Vietnamese objections are holding up talks, replied: "They are a major reason why we don't—both South Vietnam and South Korea—but especially South Vietnam."

FAVORED SHIP

Fulbright said he favored yesterday's offer by Indonesia to provide a ship on which the talks could be held in the international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

But he expressed skepticism Hanoi would go along—a view also voiced privately by diplomats in Washington.

Allied Troops Take N. Viet Stronghold

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — About 10,000 allied troops have won the battle of the A Shau valley, driving North Vietnamese forces from their sanctuary and cutting off major Communist supply routes into South Vietnam, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

Military sources also said the two-week drive through the 25-mile-long valley swept up sophisticated Russian weapons never before used by the Communists in the Vietnam war — including 122mm artillery shells and transistorized mine detectors.

The seizure of A Shau, a bastion the North Vietnamese took two years building up in a jungle full of tigers and pythons, snapped the key lifeline to Red forces which allied intelligence said was threatening Hue and other bases with a second invasion in three months.

The heaviest sustained fighting in two months raged through the fourth day today outside Hue and Dong Ha. Allied forces reported more than 1,139 enemy troops killed.

★ ★ ★

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 93 of their men killed and 449 wounded in the battling since Monday, the biggest eruption since the Vietcong's Tet offensive in February.

ENEMY DEAD

In the fighting outside Hue, the enemy dead included a North Vietnamese battalion commander, a battalion executive officer and three company commanders. U.S. paratroopers also reported the surrender of 97 North Vietnamese troops, including five women nurses.

U.S. casualties in the war increased last week, while those reported for the enemy and for South Vietnamese forces were less than the week before.

The U.S. Command in its weekly summary, said 302 Americans were killed and 2,458 wounded last week, compared with 287 killed and 1,458 wounded the week before. Of the wounded last week, 1,363 required hospitalization.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnamese headquarters said government casualties were 253 killed, 785 wounded and seven missing.

The report raised to 22,006 the number of Americans killed in action in the war since Jan. 1, 1961, and increased the number of wounded to 137,668.

Surtax Gets New Life in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has prescribed a formula to inject new life into President Johnson's $10-billion tax-hike bill—a spending cut proposal the administration labels good medicine.

★ ★ ★

Breaking a weeks-long deadlock, the committee proposed yesterday that any tax hike be accompanied by a $4-billion cut in actual spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1, plus a $14-billion slash in spending already authorized or appropriated for future years.

The committee's action removed a big roadblock in the tax proposal's progress through Congress, where it has been since last August.

But Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on a House-Senate conference committee trying to work out a compromise, said the Senate will not pass a tax-spending package that doesn't contain a $6-billion spending cut for next year—a proposal already endorsed by the Senate but opposed by the administration.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said the appropriations committee's recommendations "meet every reasonable demand for expenditure control."

COMPROMISE PLAN

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., predicted an eventual compromise which would include a $5-billion spending cut.

But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford declared partisan politics had a hand in formulation of the committee's proposal.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who, like Ford, appeared before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention, made a strong plea for a tax hike.

Kidnap Suspect Is Charged in Second Mall Abduction

A Pontiac man, held in the Oakland County Jail for kidnaping and raping a Pontiac woman Monday, was charged today with the same offense in the abduction of another woman in March.

The first charges against Laurence S. Moore, 24, of 499 W. Huron, stemmed from the kidnaping of Mrs. Norman Kinnison Jr., 19, and her 14-year-old brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison, both of 435½ University.

The Oakland County prosecutor's office issued the new charges against Moore after a 21-year-old Pontiac woman, on seeing Moore's photo and description in The Pontiac Press, reported to Waterford Township police that he was the man who attacked her.

Both kidnapings took place in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center parking lot in Waterford Township.

The Kinnisons were kidnaped shortly after Mrs. Kinnison had left work at Hudson's where she is a sales clerk. Moore is also charged with kidnaping the boy.

The other victim had been shopping at the center, before her assailant forced her at knifepoint to drive him to a secluded area in White Lake Township where he raped her and stole $81. He then had her drive him back to the Pontiac Mall area.

In the Kinnison case, the boy was released in Commerce Township a short time after the 9:30 p.m. abduction.

Mrs. Kinnison, however, was held captive for nearly 12 hours.

★ ★ ★

Her captor fled on foot, leaving her tied with her nylons to the steering wheel of the car, when the auto became stuck in the mud in a field near Columbiaville in Lapeer County.

ARRESTED TUESDAY

Moore, married and the father of one child, was arrested Tuesday in Genesee County during an extensive manhunt for Mrs. Kinnison's kidnaper.

Moore, who is employed at a Pontiac collision shop, was taken into custody by Lapeer State Police and turned over to the two detectives investigating the kidnaping, Henry I. Hansen and Roland G. Pless of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

He was apprehended about 10 hours after Mrs. Kinnison freed herself and called police from a nearby home.

Moore was expected to be arraigned on the new charges this afternoon.

Cure Social Ills, Exhorts Justice

Michigan Supreme Court Justice Michael D. O'Hara, speaking at a Law Day program in Pontiac yesterday, urged immediate legislation to cure social ills because time has run out in promising Negroes equality.

★ ★ ★

"Only when we, society, have demanded justice in all forms for the Negroes as urgently, as outragedly and as imminently as we demanded protection from, and punishment of, violent Negro protest, will we have the clean hands that equity demands for any judicial relief," said O'Hara.

For every antiriot bill there must be an antidiscrimination bill, he added.

"Not the enactment of one, and the promise of the other. For the time for promise has run out."

★ ★ ★

He said that he is not naive enough to think that the Legislature can enact a law of brotherhood, or that the courts can decree away hate.

MASS DEMAND

There must be a mass citizen demand for a massive program of public aid in the nature of housing, education, medical care and job opportunity in needed public work, according to O'Hara.

"Courts can ensure equal justice under law," the associate justice said. "The executive can ensure equal enforcement of law. Only we, acting through our state and national legislatures can ensure equality for the minority."

It is a mistake, he said, to believe that antiriot legislation, swift and rigorous punishment and more severe punishment will make the problem go away.

★ ★ ★

"From the depth of a troubled heart, I tell you if this is all we mean, we invite recurrent tragedy," O'Hara added.

Negro to Head Central School

The first Negro ever to be principal of a predominantly white school in Pontiac was named by the board of education last night.

Mrs. Harriette D. Brooks, team leader of the Bagley School Teacher Corps, was appointed to replace retiring Mrs. Marion Hinkley at Central Elementary School.

But a big issue discussed was whether to appoint a male or female, white or

A small group of Negro teachers known as the Black Educators have called for a black administrator.

Then last night, Franklin teachers asked for the best qualified principal, black or white, while civic leader Charles Tucker Jr., 161 Earlemoor, said the school needed "a black male identity figure."

NO ONE NAMED

The board didn't and hadn't planned to name a person last night to replace Lester Gripentrog at Franklin. He has been transferred to Rogers Elementary School for 1968-69.

Trustee Russell L. Brown, who chaired the crowded meeting in the absence of President Monroe M. Osmun, said the Franklin appointment has been "delayed."

Bell and CWA Reach Accord

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tentative contract agreement providing an increase of 6.5 per cent a year in wages and fringe benefits was announced today in the nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers.

The three-year contract, a pattern for all 600,000 Bell Telephone System Workers, totals 19.58 per cent in higher wages and other benefits over the life of the contract.

It will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion, said President Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

Beirne said the strike, the first nationwide telephone walkout in 21 years, could end early next week after ratification by the strikers.

★ ★ ★

In wages alone, the agreement will give the highest-paid telephone installers $34 more per week by the third year of the contract.

INSTALLERS' AVERAGE

Installers now average $130.80 for a 40-hour week.

For highest paid plant craftsmen who now make $167.50 a week, the wage increase will be $24 weekly in the third year of the contract.

The three-year increases for telephone operators who now make $102 per week will total $16 a week.

The contract agreement also includes improved vacations, holidays and holiday pay, overtime pay, pensions, wage progression, medical and life insurance, Beirne said.

LOCAL ISSUES

Beirne said the contract also disposes of local issues which for a time threatened to prolong the 15-day old strike indefinitely.

3 Young Men Slain in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Three young men were found shot to death in an apartment on Detroit's near West Side today, the Detroit Police homicide bureau reported.

Police said the victims, all in their 20s, apparently had been shot execution-style and one had been blindfolded. All had been shot through the back of the head.

The three bodies were found in the back of a second-floor apartment in the four-story building. Police said one man was found in the kitchen and the other two in the living room.

Residents of the apartment building told police they heard noises from the second-floor apartment early this morning.

Police tentatively identified the victims as William Jackson, 38; Donald S. Pressley, 25; and Robert S. Gillum, 27, all of Detroit.

leader for two years, has been a teachcr at Bagley School since 1952.

★ ★ ★

She was picked out of 19 candidates competing for five elementary principalships and one teacher consultant position. The Franklin and teacher consultant job remain unfilled.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Other appointments were:

● Richard H. Hoffman, 30, elementary principal in the Beecher School District near Flint, to Owen School to replace Richard Goodwin, who transfers to the new elementary school next to Lincoln Junior High School.

● William P. Counts, 42, Teacher Corps team leader at Jefferson Junior High School, to Bagley School to replace resigning Mrs. Jeanne Tillson White.

● Brian F. Castle, 29, sixth grade teacher at McConnell School, to Irving School to succeed retiring Mrs. Wilma Muldowney.

Negro principals will serve at Central, Bagley, Whittier, Bethune and Jefferson Junior High School for the next school year.

★ ★ ★

Discussing the Franklin situation, Ezekiel Wright, a sixth grade teacher there, told the board the teachers request that the board select a principal on the basis of his qualifications and not color.

'POWDER KEG'

A parent reminded the board they are "sitting on a potentially dangerous powder keg" and that is up to them "to prevent it from going off" by providing an integrated staff.

Tucker, former Oakland County NAACP president and father of two children at Franklin, drew applause when he called for a Negro principal.

"Many Negro teachers have left the system because opportunities for advancement are not here," he said. "You have to be realistic — a Negro can understand the students' problems better than a white man."

★ ★ ★

He claimed it was a "fight" to get other Negroes into principal positions and John Perdue as director of school-community and human relations.

OTHER PERSONNEL

In other personnel matters, the board:

● Heard Trustee James L. Howlett say he would not run for reelection June 10. He didn't give any reasons for his decision. He has been on the board almost four years.

● Learned from Lewis A. Crew, director of instructional personnel services, that 270 new and replacement teachers will have to be hired for the coming school year, almost 70 more than last year.

Crew said there has been less applicants to fill more positions than last year.

Tucker and Perdue, who does some recruiting at college campuses, suggested that an assistant personnel director position be created for a Negro.

★ ★ ★

The board tabled one appointment to the board of canvassers, which certify election results, because of interest shown by Negro members of the audience in vacancies for one Democrat and one Republican.

Kelley to Test Federal Bar to News Strike Interference

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley attempted today to determine whether a federal court can forbid Gov. George Romney and a Senate committee from interfering with the Detroit newspaper strike.

Kelley declined to say in which federal court he would pursue the matter, but expected court action early today.

The attorney general stepped into the case late yesterday after U.S. District Judge Damon Keith issued the restraining order and the federal court process server was bodily removed from a Senate committee hearing.

Detroit attorney Lawrence Vantil, appointed by the court to serve the restraining orders to committee members and the governor, was ejected after he failed to produce credentials or a copy of the order naming him as process server.

The restraining order prohibiting Romney and the committee from involving themselves with collective bargaining procedures under way in the 169-day-old strike was sought by Peter B. Clark, publisher of the Detroit News.

Clark had been subpoenaed to attend the committee hearing. The order declared the subpoena void.

Sen. Robert J. Huber, R-Birmingham and chairman of the committee to investigate newspaper strikes, called Clark's attitude "arbitrary, arrogant and dictatorial."

"This is an effrontery to the dignity of the senate," argued Sen. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, committee member.

★ ★ ★

Huber added that the committee would wait until the attorney general had resolved the matter of federal jurisdiction before deciding whether to pursue means of finding Clark in contempt of the Senate.

ALLEN ZEMMOL

Lawyer Enters Congress Race in 18th District

A Beverly Hills attorney announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 18th District, the eastern portion of Oakland County.

Allen Zemmol a law partner of Congressman John Dingell, said he will make every effort to discuss vital issues during the campaign.

"And hopefully, the incumbent will face up to the same standard even though he has failed to do so in the past," said Zemmol, 37, of 21501 W. 13 Mile.

Zemmol charged that the present officeholder, Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak, "has totally failed to show any imagination, understanding or leadership on any of the critical problems facing Americans."

Active in civil rights, Zemmol in 1964 served as a volunteer lawyer in Mississippi.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Wayne State University with honors, he received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1954. He and his wife, Lita, have three children.

★ ★ ★

Stating that Oakland County "can no longer hold itself aloof from America's urban crisis," Zemmol said he sees his campaign as an opportunity to galvanize the county's "considerable" talents to meet that challenge.

Strike Paralyzes Building in State

By the Associated Press

The skeletal forms of once-rising structures stood today as mute testimony of the impact of a strike by building tradesmen.

More than a dozen unions were on strike at various points throughout Michigan.

The strikes came because agreement had not been reached between tradesmen and contractors on labor settlements to replace those that expired at midnight April 30.

Contractors said the tradesmen, whose base pay exceeded $5 an hour under the old contracts, were asking for wage and fringe benefit increases ranging from 26 per cent to 76 per cent.

Government Will Pay 6 Pct. Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government, blaming stiff competition for investment funds, has upped its interest it will pay on the money it borrows to 6 per cent, the highest in almost 50 years.

★ ★ ★

The Treasury Department announced it was increasing the interest rate on its notes yesterday. At the same time, it said it would borrow up to $11 million in funds for the government by refinancing old Treasury bonds and issuing new ones at the new rate.

The 6 per cent interest level was the highest paid by the Treasury since 1920.

Ike's Recovery Is 'Encouraging'

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported making excellent recovery from his third heart attack since 1955.

"The general's progress to this point has been very encouraging," medical authorities said Wednesday.

The seizure appeared less severe than those in 1965 and 1955, the experts said, adding that there have been no complications since the retired five-star general was flown here by helicopter from his winter home in Palm Desert, Calif., on Monday.

Citizen Group to Push School Millage

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A new citizens' organization has been formed in this school district to work for the passage of the board of education's latest millage request.

The name of the group, which is chaired by Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) Council President H. Eugene Weiss, 2877 Courville, Bloomfield Township, is Citizens for Bloomfield Schools (CBS).

It will be attempting to secure voter approval of a proposed 9.5-mill tax increase on the June 10 ballot in the wake of the April 1 defeat of a proposed 14-mill hike by a 2½-to-1 margin.

Weiss, calling the situation of the district's schools "desperate," added, "It isn't a question of providing frills or improving the quality of education. It is a matter of being able to maintain a decent school system."

★ ★ ★

Even if the 9.5-mill proposition passes, he noted, cutbacks will be made, including reductions in transportation, art, music and athletics and an increase in the average class size.

★ ★ ★

"The board of education is going to have to lay it on the line this time," Weiss asserted, "and tell the parents and voters in this district exactly how much trouble we are in."

Economies so far put into effect by the board will save some money during the rest of the school year, but "don't begin to scratch the surface," he said.

Because of the fact that the district has only two years in which to eliminate its deficit estimated to reach $1.1 million by the end of this year, a drop of 20 per cent in money available for education will occur next year unless additional funds are approved by voters, Weiss explained.

"Further major reductions in the quality of education" will have to be effected unless the June 10 vote is favorable, he said, with the elimination of kindergarten and after-school activities and sharp reductions in spending on materials, supplies and equipment possible.

The 20-per-cent decrease, coupled with a 10-per-cent increase in enrollment, he continued, will mean that the amount of money available per pupil will be 27 per cent lower than at present.

"Time and events have seemed to conspire against us," Weiss commented in tracing the causes of the district's present financial bind.

"During the current school year, the board was simultaneously faced with major cost increases from several sources."

★ ★ ★

Among these sources he listed the opening of new schools, increases in teacher salaries, the high initial cost of introducing a new curriculum program, increasing enrollment, and general cost increases due to inflation.

SURPLUS TO DEFICIT

As a result, Weiss said, the district has gone from a $1.1-million surplus at the end of the 1965-66 school year to the present deficit.

Weiss said he plans to build the basic organization of the campaign around the PTO, and that local PTO presidents would serve as contacts for citizens wishing to participate.

A major part of the campaign, he added, will be a mass meeting for all voters of the district, with a fact presentation followed by open discussion.

Other members of the CBS steering committee will include Mrs. Thomas Kuzma, 3810 Carriage, Bloomfield Township; Mrs. Sander J. Breiner, 7410 Franklin, Bloomfield Township; John Burns, 4423 Ardmore, Bloomfield Township; James F. Murray, 475 Henley, Bloomfield Township; Richard Rosenbaum, 7070 Cathedral, Bloomfield Township; Irving J. Rights Group Forum Friday

Pontiac's Human Relations Commission will hold the third in a continuing series of public forums at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the City Commission chambers of City Hall.

Rev. Jack H. C. Clark, chairman, said the forum will focus on all aspects of Pontiac's housing problems.

Samuel A. Baker, chairman of a subcommittee on housing problems, is scheduled to present information for the commission.

All citizens of Pontiac who wish to contribute to discussion or who have concerns in the area of housing are invited to attend and participate, Clark said.

★ ★ ★

Among those who have been invited to attend the discussion are: Charles L. Langs, and Dr. John R. Ylvisaker, local developers; Donald H. Bauder, area director of the Civil Rights Commission; Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League; Charles M. Tucker Jr., president of a nonprofit corporation to develop housing in the city's south end; William Hawkins, coordinator of the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority; and James Kirk, the city's relocation specialist.

County Road Policy Changed

Thirteen townships in the north of Oakland County have received word of a County Road Commission policy change in regard to "matching fund" work on local roads.

Where previously the commission frequently insisted that work on such roads include paving, the new policy now allows that in the more lightly developed townships "matching funds" may be used for any improvement over and above routine maintenance.

In matching fund work, local sources are expected to contribute half the total cost.

The commission specified that the work must be of sufficient necessity and the road be a "mile type" road.

★ ★ ★

"We will not spend road commission matching funds on subdivision streets," said the commission.

SPOT IMPROVEMENTS

"In other words, we would be willing to match on mile type roads for gravel, ditching, spot improvements, crossroad culverts, intersection improvements and other similar work which would be an improvement to the road and which would be beyond the normal scope of routine maintenance."

The need for the policy change was explained: "The cost of completely constructing local roads to either a gravel or paved surface has increased to the point where many townships and the Road Commission feel it virtually impossible to justify this kind of expenditure on relatively low-traveled local roads."

The policy change was sent to Addison, Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Lyon, Milford, Oakland, Irion, Oxford, Rose, Springfield and White Lake Townships.

Copies of the policy change were sent to other more developed townships were it was noted that the old policy of requiring paving "is still basically true . . . (and) it is probably the only reasonable policy for the immediate future."

Personnel Changes Made

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Several personnel changes were acted upon by the township board last night.

Resignations were accepted from Fire Chief Merlin Joritz, and the senior assistant assessor, Roland Harkless.

Joritz, who began as a volunteer fireman in 1951 and was appointed chief early this year, explained in a letter to the board that he was resigning because of other "attractive" job offers. His resignation is effective May 15.

The board didn't discuss a replacement, but Township Supervisor John N. Doherty said he plans to begin interviewing for the job.

★ ★ ★

Harkless, in his letter to the board, offered no reason for his resignation, effective tomorrow.

Appointed to fill the vacancy was his assistant, William W. Stuart, 1840 Stratford, Sylvan Lake.

Four patrolmen were hired at $7,600 each per year.

On the job as of yesterday are Robert J. Sneddon, 24, of 3478 Richmond, Waterford Township, and Ronald Reynolds, 25, of 2651 LeRoy, West Bloomfield Township.

Both men had worked as auxiliary officers for one year, Sneddon in Waterford Township and Reynolds in Walled Lake.

To start May 16 are John A. Rahn, 29, of 1373 Nolta, Commerce Township, and Charles E. Sofko, 27, of 7540 Honeysuckle, West Bloomfield Township.

The board also approved the promotion of Ivan L. Grubbs from police sergeant to lieutenant. The creation of the new rank will establish a better chain of command in the department, Doherty explained.

Goodfellows Founder in Novi Is Honored

NOVI — The founder of the Goodfellows group here, Frazer Staman, was honored recently at a dinner for his 15 years of service. From the start he has been treasurer and will continue with the group as the Industrial Committee chairman.

★ ★ ★

Staman, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission and a former Novi resident, lives at 3614 W. Maple, Wixom.

Also at the dinner, the group's new officers were installed. They are: Novi Police Chief Lee Begole, president; Mrs. Florence Harris, vice president; Eugenio Choquet, secretary, and Mrs. Herbert Farah, treasurer.

FIRE REMNANTS—Rex Egres, owner of the home at 4240 Fowler, Independence Township, which burned to the ground yesterday morning, examines the debris. Thankful that his wife and three children were away when the blaze started at 10 a.m., he placed a $30,000 value on the four-bedroom, two-story home. Egres said he suspected burning fuel oil as the cause. The fire was fought by Independence and Waterford township fire departments.

Oxford May Need Boost of 1 Mill to Meet Budget

OXFORD — The likelihood of a 1-mill over-all hike in village taxes this coming year is indicated by the proposed budget.

A public hearing has been set for May 14 on the $219,024 budget.

The sum reflects a $29,424 increase over last year and calls for the levy of 15 mills instead of last year's 13 mills.

Debt service millage, however, has been reduced to 1 mill from last year's 2-mill levy. The money is to pay for the village's share of the new Civic Center.

★ ★ ★

Village Manager Robert Smalley said the agreed-upon figures had been whittled down from a proposed $229,494 budget, which would have called for the levy of 17 mills to finance.

PAY HIKES CITED

He said the major increase is an 8.5 per cent across-the-board pay hike for village employes, to become effective July 1.

Planned is a base $3 an hour for patrolmen plus fringe benefits. With a 44-hour week, it means their yearly salary will be $6,840.

The Sergeant's pay was raised to $7,250 a year and the chief will get $7,900 a year. The desk sergeant and the village clerk were raised from $5,700 to $6,185 a year, and dispatchers to $4,347.

Department of Public Works salaries will be $7,750 for the superintendent, $6,450 for the assistant and $6,240 for regular employes.

EQUIPMENT IN BUDGET

Smalley's pay will be raised from $9,200 to $9,984 a year. An office clerk will get a raise to $4,160.

Budget allowance also was made for street improvements and DPW equipment purchase, the manager said.

Smalley noted that the increase in millage does not include garbage pickup for the village. He said residents will continue to be assessed $3 a quarter for individual service.

The budget, he said, allowed for an $8,000 increase in highway funds, but showed an anticipated $5,000 drop in justice court fines because the courts are being phased out at the end of the current year.

HUD Gives Grant to Independence

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Approval of a Housing and Urban Development planning assistance grant in the amount of $5,130 for Independence Township has been announced by Sen. Philip A. Hart.

The grant is the second received by the township and is intended for continuation of planning studies, according to Supervisor Duane Hursfall.

Deadline for voter registration for school elections June 10 is May 10. Most registration offices will be open this Saturday.

Absentee ballots must be postmarked no later than June 9. In emergencies, they can be handed in up to 5 p.m. June 10.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions is May 13 at 4 p.m.

Voters will be selecting local school board officials and trustees for Oakland Community College. In addition, the Junen 10 ballot will include millage proposals in about a dozen communities.

11 Teens Enlist in Army Under Buddy System

Eleven Walled Lake area youths who have grown up together are going through Army basic training on the buddy system.

Together they will begin two months of training Monday at Ft. Knox, Ky.

They will all be in the same company and possibly the same platoon, said a spokesman at the Farmington Army Recruiting Station.

The 11 — all 18- and 19-year-olds — are now receiving shots and clothes and some orientation at Ft. Knox.

★ ★ ★

They include two from Walled Lake: Dennis J. Birchard, 831 Bluffton, and James L. Beaudoin, 1272 W. Maple; three from Wolverine Lake: John C. Allison, 654 Wolverine, David S. Lis, 585 Laguna, and James A. Miller, 653 Laguna; four from Commerce Township: Michael E. Fuller, 845 Sleeth, Neal P. Oberlee, 134 Oriole, Walter M. Boddy, 8917 Gittins, and Donald G. Budden, 3104 Mapledale; and two from Novi: Richard E. Hyde, 105 Penhill, and Joseph D. Simon, 101 Pickford.

IN HOSPITAL

Budden's 20-year-old brother, Gordon, is recovering from recent wounds in a South Vietnam hospital.

Together the youths enlisted Tuesday at the Farmington recruitment office. Together they were sworn in yesterday morning and sent to Ft. Knox.

They are next expected home after July 6 when their basic training ends.

★ ★ ★

Then the group will break up for about eight weeks of advanced individual training at camps across the nation.

Resuming the buddy system after this training is doubtful. But chance remains.

Card Party Tomorrow

UTICA — The annual card party of the St. Lawrence Altar Society is tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the St. Lawrence School cafeteria, 44429 Utica. The affair is open to the public.

Who Took the 'Blue' Out of Mondays?

By JEAN SAILE

Who do you know who still uses bluing?

No washday of my childhood was ever complete without a vat of blue water through which everything from sheets to shirts were rinsed. They came out looking the color of Lake Louise, but dried white as the fluffy clouds above it.

MRS. SAILE

Bluing can't have been replaced by bleach, because that's what has taken the place of the big copper boiler which used to simmer all morning on the front of the old coal-burning range. It steamed and its humid cloud took permanent Monday residence in our kitchen.

Inside the boiler was a limp, writhing mass of dish towels, hand towels and men's undershirts which my mother periodically poked with a long handled wooden spoon.

Satisfied that clothes were still bubbling, she returned to her scrub board — propped on the side of a big old galvanized washtub — and the perspiration from her brow dripped a counterpoint to the rub-dub-dub of her fingers.

Out in the shed (the woodshed), the rhythm of the kitchen was backed up by a soft swish, swish from the old galvanized washer.

Shaped in the form of a half moon, the washer hung on a swinging carriage and was operated by a tall wooden handle which stuck straight up.

TOOK PRECEDENCE

On the end of the handle most often was my father. Wash days were important, and his work in the fields generally could wait. He was also needed to stoke the fire and haul the water from the windmill about 100 feet down in the valley.

A kid like me was possibly of some use at the starch pan, where lace doilies, shirts, dresses and blouses were swished through a pale puree, wrung by hand and tossed in the laundry basket for hanging outside.

My muscles were up to the wringing of most small items, but I can recall my mother gripping a sheet and wringing it until not another drop of water could be coaxed from it.

★ ★ ★

There was one mechanical wringer, but as I recall it was attached to the wash machine and the machine was the least important part of the whole process.

GOOD THING

It received the clothes only after all the soiled spots had either been scrubbed out or boiled out. It was a good thing too.

With the water system as it was then, one change of water lasted for most of the day's wash. One planned very carefully — the sheets first — the blouses, shirts, etc. next — the boiled towels — the colored dresses — the socks and work shirts — and finally the men's dirty overalls.

An immaculate washer (and Mom was) changed the rinse water frequently. It didn't have to be heated.

Bluing and starching followed the three rinses, and then came the trek to the clothesline.

'CLEAN SMELL

In the summer hanging out clothes and bringing them in again and sniffin' the "clean" smell was a delight and an escape from the steamy house.

In winter it was a different story, and the clothes were affixed with coil sprung pegs to a line white with frost by fingers numb with cold. In minutes the clothes were stiff, but they were left out for the better part of the day because "it helped to whiten them."

Juggling the frozen product at the end of the day was a job for a warm-blooded acrobat. Frozen arms and legs stuck out all over. The stiff clothes defied balancing. Once inside they had to be bent over a wooden clothes dryer or a line strung through the shed.

★ ★ ★

Dried frozen clothes were softer than unfrozen ones, but the memory of summer's scratchy, crackly sheets, smelling their unforgettable smell, was a special part of childhood.

Protests Against Airport Sought

The Federal Aviation Agency has called for letters citing reasons for any possible protest to the construction of the proposed Oakland-Orion Airport.

A letter announcing this was received yesterday in the office of Rep. William Broomfield, R-18th District.

The FAA letter said it was considering the master plan for the facility submitted by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors last December.

The proposed airport, at the present site of the former Allen Airport, would be for general aviation purposes.

★ ★ ★

According to plans, it would be built in several stages. The first stage would see two small runways constructed along with hangers and other facilities.

FINAL STAGE

In the final stage, the airport would have two 7,000-foot runways and be an instrumentalized all-weather, night-day operation.

The FAA announced it was studying feasibility and air-space requirements.

The FAA announced: "Before a decision is reached we shall solicit comments by all known interested persons." Deadline for filing objections is June 3.

★ ★ ★

The address is: M. L. Kohler, chief air traffic branch, Dept. of Transportation, FAA, 3166 Des Plaines Avenue, Des Plaines, Ill., 60018.

Rochester Community Schools

ROCHESTER—A combination of improvement and enrichment courses will be offered in the Rochester Community Schools summer program, according to George Stringer, director.

Also planned are classes for children who have attended the Adjusted Study Classroom and the Perceptual Development Classroom and those students enrolled in Type A, special education.

Stringer said that on the junior and senior high school level, students may receive a half credit upon successful completion of makeup courses. He said science and American history requirements for graduation may be fulfilled by some of the courses.

Enrichment classes for elementary students will include creative writing, art and music, and leadership training.

A first-grade preparatory program for children needing extra help before starting first grade is also planned.

A special band class involves students in grades 5 to 12.

★ ★ ★

Registrations for all classes are now being accepted for the classes which begin June 24 and continue through Aug. 2, according to Stringer.

Takes New York Post

Brandon Educator Quits

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Dr. Henry Versnick, superintendent of the Brandon School District, has resigned his position effective July 1.

Versnick, who has served as superintendent since July, 1966, will become superintendent of Union Free School District 9, Mount Pleasant, N.Y.

Ronald Sutton, president of the board of education, said yesterday the resignation was accepted "with regret" and called Versnick's new post, "a very fine opportunity.

DR. HENRY VERSNICK

"We would like to have kept him, naturally, and we give him our best wishes for success in his new endeavor," Sutton added.

Prior to joining the Brandon administration, he taught for four years in the Redford School District and was assistant superintendent of the Clawson School District for two years.

BROAD BACKGROUND

A 1960 graduate of Wayne State University in Detroit, Versnick received a master's degree in administration from the University of Michigan in 1962 and a doctorate in education from Wayne State last summer.

He also attended the Detroit College of Law.

Versnick is a past president and chairman of the board of directors of the Detroit Jaycees.

★ ★ ★

Before entering the field of education in 1960, he was vice president of production engineering and a member of the board of directors of the Versnick Manufacturing Co.

Blind Pianist Prepares to Help Handicapped

JACKSON (AP) — Offer Ray Roberson a penny for his thoughts and he's likely to pay you back with a dissertation on piano tuning or the quality of social services for the handicapped.

Roberson is well-prepared to discuss those subjects.

Blind since birth, the 40-year-old Jackson native is an expert pianist, a much - sought - after piano tuner and repairman and now is preparing for a new career in vocational rehabilitation counseling.

He wants to work at helping others turn handicaps into advantages, something he has been doing for himself all his life.

In June he is to receive his master's degree in vocational rehabilitation from Wayne State University.

WANTS TO HELP

"Raymond wants to help people," says his brother, Leon, the first Negro to serve on Jackson's School Board. "He has put his whole heart into this new field."

Helping others always has been Ray Roberson's goal, parly, he emphasizes, "because when you do something for another person, you also help yourself."

Originally, he wanted to entertain, and to teach music.

After completing schools here, he entered Michigan State University in 1947 with thoughts of training as a concert pianist. Roberson switched to a public school music major and completed work on his bachelor's degree in 1952.

Just in case he would be unable to find the school position he wanted — teaching music to the handicapped — Roberson spent evenings in East Lansing learning piano tuning and repair work from a vocational instructor in the Michigan School for the Blind, where he also did his practice teaching to complete the education requirements for his degree.

AP Wirephoto

WORKING ON DEGREE—Ray Roberson, blind since birth, is an expert pianist and piano tuner and teacher. He is working toward his master's degree at Wayne State University.

He returned to MSU in 1953 for limited graduate study and then moved back to Jackson to set up a piano school and tuning business while waiting for an opening in the field of teaching the handicapped.

But no opening developed for him in any of the school districts to which he had applied, so in 1962 Roberson closed his studio in St. Paul's Episcopal Church and moved to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

"Transportation facilities are much better in Detroit," he explained during a recent visit here, "and the concentration of population allowed me to reduce the cost of conducting my piano tuning business."

NEW PIANOS

He served as a tuning and repairing contractor for two firms and then joined one of them as an employe working mainly on preparation of new pianos.

Roberson, who maintains a three-room apartment in Detroit and even cooks for himself occasionally, quit full-time work two years ago to enter Wayne State and begin formal training for his new career.

"I decided vocational rehabilitation work is what I want to do," Roberson said, "after many discussions with a friend who works in social services. He pointed out that I enjoy working for and with others and said vocational rehabilitation counseling is a field in which my age would not count against me."

★ ★ ★

Roberson's desire to help others has been a characteristic since childhood, according to those who remember him then.

HELP OTHERS

Said his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Taylor of Jackson, who raised him, "Raymond always liked to help other people. When he gives you anything, he is helping and doesn't want you to pay him back. He's always talking on the telephone to his friends when he comes home."

Miss Louise Davis, also of Jackson, who was Roberson's piano teacher from the age of 8 until he finished high school, said he was a persistent student.

To learn music, she noted, he had to read the score in braille, memorize the part for one hand and then the other and finally put them together.

★ ★ ★

Roberson's studies at Wayne, he said, are equipping him to provide vocational guidance for disadvantaged persons aged 16 and older who are handicapped physically, mentally or emotionally.

Is Local Government Outgrowing Self?

Local government has become big business. Cozy and casual council meetings may still be cozy and casual, but the ayes and nays now involve thousands instead of hundreds of dollars.

Township boards, village and city councils now meet weekly instead of monthly. Township supervisors and board members who previously attended to their official duties in a nominal half-dozen hours a week now devote nearly all their spare time.

From an occasional phone call in the evening, public officials now receive a string of calls, make Saturday and Sunday trips and steal time from the business day for government duties.

The big business of government is time consuming.

The home owner sees government grow almost by the number and size of the deductions on his pay check or the steady annual rise of his house payment. As might be expected, the taxpayer is largely in the dark on all this.

He wonders: Can I afford this added education? Why not wait for street paving, sewers, and public water?

Meantime, the pace quickens and the gap widens between the taxpayer and public official. The question of credibility grows.

Not all complaining taxpayers are kooks, nor are all public officials incompetent.

In many area communities public officials have not been eager to disseminate controversial information, namely, anything that tends to increase taxes.

The giant Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer, planned for six area townships, provides an illustration. Estimated to cost nearly $33 million over a 40-year period, the Clinton-Oakland will collect sewage from Avon, Independence, Waterford, West Bloomfield, Pontiac and Orion Townships.

To date, only Avon Township has disclosed plans for its share of financing both the Clinton-Oakland and the local sewers necessary to connect to the trunk line.

★ ★ ★

In Avon, the township board — headed by Supervisor CYRIL MILLER — disclosed the actual cost only AFTER the board had acted on the ordinance.

This, of course, makes taxpayer comment rather futile.

Independence Township has slated two public meetings to discuss its participation in the Clinton-Oakland. However, at least one township official has indicated that the board might pass the sewer ordinance prior to the public discussion.

Township officials, who have scheduled the public meetings for May 14 and 15, say cost figures are not final until acted upon and that changes can be made until then.

★ ★ ★

The Clinton-Oakland and the development it will unleash more than anything else indicates that sleepy town meetings are a thing of the past.

Local government is big business. While it may be big, it is not a private business.

'Shall We See If It's Loaded?'

Voice of the People:

'Many Homes in Pontiac Not Up to Housing Code

I wish to clear up a point for some Negroes in Pontiac. The housing for white people, although apparently superior in some sections of the City, is far from being a general Utopia. I have visited hundreds of white homes which verged on being substandard and many which had to be condemned.

★ ★ ★

The range of deficiencies included inadequate electrical and plumbing systems which invited fire and disease; overcrowding which invited mental and social disorders; filthiness which invited infestations by rats and insects; and general deterioration which invited accidents. A fresh coat of paint on the exterior of a house does not guarantee a solid, attractive home.

★ ★ ★

Many, both Negro and white, do not wish to spend money on their homes to bring them up to the minimum housing code. Instead of being thanked for pointing out substandard conditions, people tell the housing and health inspectors to mind their own business and not to pick on them. Apparently many value their dollars, color televisions and new cars above their homes, health and safety.

Urge Renewal of Waterford School Millage

Next Monday Waterford Schools are asking for a 15 mill renewal. As parents of three children attending Waterford schools, we strongly urge everyone to use their voting privilege and vote yes on this issue. If we don't pass this millage we will not qualify for State aid.

★ ★ ★

We are not being asked for additional millage but for the renewal of the millage our schools are operating on now. Because of rising costs, even passage of this millage will not permit us to have the same quality education we had last year. Dr. Tatroe and the Waterford Board of Education have done remarkably well with the money they have had. However, without more money to work with, even these people can't work miracles.

GRADY AND SHIRLEY ROBERTSON
489 BERRYPATCH

It is imperative that voters of Waterford Township pass the school millage as requested May 6th. When this is done, then let our Board of Education again look at the increase in tax money coming in from the new valuations on our property, fix the amount required and call for another millage vote. The recent analysis by Dr. Tatroe in The Pontiac Press was concise and apparently answered most questions that have been proposed.

★ ★ ★

Whether it be sports, music or any "frill" in our education, in this modern, complex world we fail if we don't provide a youngster with the opportunity at least to try to learn something about them. In this mad whirl to prepare youngsters for college, we also work as hard to give that child that doesn't go to college the necessary education to prepare him for any type of work.

Questions Need for Airport Development

I agree that progress and change are necessary but find it illogical to believe that funds are available to purchase land for an airport and develop it, while there are no funds for roads. I feel that development of Allen Airport would be more acceptable to the majority of those who oppose it if the previous handling of the arrangements were open, honest and showed interest in the manner that the money was spent. If the people of Oakland County prefer nothing substantial for today's travel by automobile, will they need better future facilities for travel?

Suggest Sale of Some State-Owned Property

Over a year ago I read that the Federal Government owns 769,900,000 acres of land in the 50 states, or more than one out of every three acres. I notice a lot of the State-owned land is the most scenic and desirable property. Most would make wonderful home sites. If some of this land could be sold to individuals for that purpose, the land would become taxable in addition to the houses that were built on it. This would add a lot of revenue for the "hungry" State coffers.

When the State buys property, it usually has to buy the parcel, regardless if it is ten or 200 acres. Possibly a small fraction would accomplish the purpose or protection desired. The rest of the land just lays there, so why not resell it?

Discusses Press Article on Use of Firearms

I subscribed to The Pontiac Press out of necessity, but now think it's a fine newspaper and getting better every day. My wife thinks the Women's Section rates with the best. However, I was somewhat stirred by a recent article by Dick West, UPI reporter. He compiled some interesting statistics about the handling of firearms by many who have lately purchased them.

★ ★ ★

If all the folks used to get his percentages were as uninformed about firearms as Mr. West, I can understand the confusion and believe his findings were correct and even underestimated. Among the cases he cited, some forgot to buy "bullets," others bought the wrong size "bullets," didn't remember where they put the "bullets," or how to put the "bullets" in the gun. It's been some time since, in modern firearms, one put the "bullet" on a rag and pushed it down the barrel with a stick. We began to use "cartridges" in firearms more than a hundred years ago.

★ ★ ★

I wonder how many fine sportsmen and gun lovers in the Detroit and Pontiac area smiled when they read Mr. West's column on "Suburb Hot Shot Potshots?" I suggest a three-year membership in the National Rifle Association for this reporter before his next release.

David Lawrence Says:

Clumsy Political Setup Ignored

WASHINGTON — How often the obvious is overlooked—or ignored!

All the emphasis now is on the respective campaigns of five men, each of whom wants to be president of the United States. But hardly anything is being said about the outworn, clumsy and unrepresentative system by which nominations are made and a president is elected.

LAWRENCE

The real question is whether the country gets the best qualified candidates by the convention method.

Large funds are needed in preconvention campaigns to pay for TV and radio programs, the intensive work of organization and other expenses, particularly in the states with big delegations.

Even if the finances were taken care of by governmental appropriation, as is sometimes advocated, the question still would be whether the five men who have to a certain extent selected themselves are the candidates who would be chosen if a different formula, more responsive to the public interest, were adopted.

How can the electorate as a whole know whether an individual is really capable of being a good chief executive of the nation?

★ ★ ★

In the few months of a campaign, can the voters learn enough about the two rival nominees to make a good judgement?

ATERNATIVE PLANS

Alternative plans for selecting a president have been discussed intermittently.

The people of every congressional district either know their candidates for the House of Representatives or can get enough informatinn about them in the local campaign to make a sensible choice.

If the members of the House and Senate who belong to the majority party were to choose a president, the chances are that a leader would be selected who would be more intimately acquainted with current operations of government and policy-making than most of the nominees indicate in their speeches during a campaign.

★ ★ ★

Under the parliamentary system in vogue in Great Britain, Canada and other countries, the majority party in the national legislature picks the top man and his cabinet associates.

If the people later feel that these individuals have failed to make good, an election can be held at any time and a new majority selected for the parliament.

One advantage of the system is that the executive and legislative branches of the government usually work closely together.

If the head of the cabinet says a tax-surcharge law, for instance, is needed, the majority party in the national legislature votes for it as a matter of party discipline. If the party rejects such a law, a new prime minister can be chosen from their own membership, or national elections can be called. But the voters always depend on their own elected legislators to pick the man best fitted for the top post.

★ ★ ★

If the cabinet system were adopted in this country — as Woodrow Wilson once predicted it would be — men with glamorous personalities and a good TV "image" would first have to convince their fellow members of the national legislattive body itself that they were capable of running the government of a nation of more than 200 million people.

Bob Considine Asks:

Where Are All the Guys Who Did Those Tunes?

NEW YORK — Where are all those fellows who in 1930 wrote the words and music of the "Little Things in Life," "Reaching for the Moon," "When the Folks High-up do the Mean Low Down, and "How Deep Is the Ocean?"

CONSIDINE

Wonder how many ganged up to produce the lyrics and tunes of two fine Broadway musicals that helped lift the nation out of the doldrums of the Depression — "Face the Music" and "As Thousands Cheer"?

In 1935 they turned out a show named "Top Hat" with Fred Astaire.

In 1939, most of the work went into two shows, "Second Fiddle" (a movie) and "Louisiana Purchase," a big lush Broadway musical.

★ ★ ★

Then one day, the group wrote the words and music of an unashamed hymn to a good country. The title was easy, as so many enduring works have been. The title was, and remains, "God Bless America."

WORLD WAR II SONGS

Came World War II. And so also came "Angels of Mercy," "Any Bonds Today?" "Arms for the Love of America," "A Little Old Church in England," "American Eagles," "The Army's Made a Man of Me," "How About a Cheer for the Navy," "I Left My Heart at the Stage Door Canteen," "That Russian Winter," "This Is the Army Mr. Jones," and numerous others.

A little time was taken out to do a film named "Holiday Inn." It was a sentimental thing that somehow captured the loneliness of the early stages of the war.

Fellow named Bing Crosby sang the most memorable tune of the picture, and he's still singing it: "White Christmas."

Then peace, blessed peace, and a rip-roaring Broadway hit, "Annie Get Your Gun." You couldn't throw a rock anywhere in the land without interrupting one of that show's torrent of hits:

"Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better," "Doin' What Comes Naturally," "The Girl That I Marry," "I Got Lost in His Arms," "I Got the Sun in the Morning," "There's No Business Like Show Business," "They Say It's Wonderful," "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun."

The '50s were vintage years, too: "The Hostess With the Mostest on the Ball," "I Like Ike," "Sayonara," and the '60s brought along the words and music of "Mr. President," "The First Lady," "It Gets Lonely in the White House," "The Washington Twist," and "This Is a Great Country."

No mob, no group, no computer put all of the above together. They were all the work of Izzy Baline, born May 11, 1888, in Russia, brought to this country when he was 5, shortly after which Izzy became Irving and Baline became Berlin.

If you've ever hummed one of his 800 songs, send him an 80th birthday card. The address is Irving Berlin, 1650 Broadway, NYC.

Critics Call NLRB Biased, Autocratic Agency

Until that promised day when the lion lies down with the lamb and dogs no longer chase cats, somebody is apparently going to have to referee the continual power struggle between employer and employe, management and labor.

That somebody is the National Labor Relations Board which was constituted by Congress and whose five members are appointed to five-year terms by the President.

But what happens when the referee gets out of line?

★ ★ ★

The Ervin Senate Subcommittee on Separation of Powers is conducting a series of hearings on the NLRB to determine whether the board exceeds its authority, as many critics charge.

In announcing the hearings on March 26, Sen. SAM J. ERVIN, D-N.C., chairman of the subcommittee, described the NLRB as the most severly impugned of all Government agencies.

"The Supreme Court and every Circuit Court of Appeals, former board members and employers, dissenters on board decisions, labor and management, members of Congress, the academic community — all have criticized the board, not only for making mistakes, which it is authorized to do, but also for making decisions contrary to the policy and rules announced by Congress—which the board is not authorized to do."

The question is whether the NLRB has become, in fact, a legislative body, interpreting the labor laws to suit its own concepts, instead of being the impartial, quasi-judicial administrative body it is supposed to be.

Among those documenting charges that the NLRB has, over the past half-dozen years at least, developed a definitely pro-union, anti-management bias, is the Labor Law Study Committee, a group representing some 35 national trade associations and hundreds of companies of all sizes.

★ ★ ★

The big, big news of the past month has overshadowed these continuing Senate hearings, even though, from the standpoint of future labor legislation, they may be the most important since Congress enacted the Taft-Hartley Law in 1947.

Everyone Has Fun at School Fairs

By JERRY ROBBINS
City Editor

How long has it been since you attended a school fair? Ten years? Fifteen? Twenty-five? Thirty?

ROBBINS

My two daughters recently persuaded me to attend their school fair at Silver Lake Elementary in Waterford Township.

Although, it's been 25 years or more since I attended my last school fair, I discovered things haven't changed much.

Fairs today may be bigger, games more challenging and the prizes more elaborate than when I was a youngster, but the one element that remains is the enjoyment.

Excitement is everywhere. A little, blue-eyed blonde girl shrieks as she wins a stuffed yellow teddy bear. A plump little boy with the sign "ain't I cute" pinned to his shirt tries again and again to win a chocolate cake in the cake walk.

★ ★ ★

Junior high students try their skill at tossing rings, throwing darts and firing a popgun. Even parents and school officials are among the funseekers.

Ice cones, cotton candy and a clown selling balloons add to the carnival-like atmosphere.

Months of hard work go into school fairs. A chairman must be selected, committees named, volunteers lined up and prizes and refreshments purchased.

The end result makes it all worthwhile as the profits go toward something for the school such as playground equipment.

★ ★ ★

Like all good things, school fairs must come to an end. As one little girl told Mrs. Kay Freeman, the fair chairman:

"School fairs are lots of fun. But the saddest part is when you've spent your last ticket."

Free State of Israel Is 20 Today

By United Press International

Almost destroyed at birth by its Arab neighbors and still a nation under arms, Israel celebrates the 20th anniversary of the founding of the state today in no mood for unilateral niceties.

★ ★ ★

Rebuffed in its attempts to make peace with Egypt, Syria and Jordan, harried by guerrillas, and threatened by the growing Soviet naval and air presence in the Mideast, Israel thinks it is time there was a gesture from the other side.

Thus, its determination to stage the greatest military parade in its brief history through the Arab quarter of Jerusalem, in direct defiance of a Security Council resolution, is a symptom of powerful emotional pressures building up in the little country.

Against the long-term possibilities of these pressures the parade was anticlimactic in that it did not tell the Arabs anything they had not learned at bitter and bloody cost on and above the field of battle in the six-day war of June 1967.

★ ★ ★

The questions now are whether Israel will match guerrilla warfare with its own brand of guerrilla fighting inside Arab lands and whether it will finally decide to hold on to and settle the captured territories it originally considered as bargaining counters in peace negotiations.

OLD CITY

This is the first anniversary day in which Israeli Jews have been able to enter the old city of Jerusalem where stands the holiest of all Jewish relics, the western (Wailing) wall of the temple destroyed by the Romans in 70 A.D.

Under Jordan occupation, they were barred from the city of King David although it is as holy to their religion as it is to Christians and Moslems.

The Arab district and the old city were united to Israel's capital, the new city, after the June war, and all Israelis agree the unification is irrevocable, Security Council or not.

★ ★ ★

The thousands of Israelis and tourists, mostly Jewish, from the United States and other countries who rejoiced well into last night with fireworks and dancing in the streets did so in the knowledge that three victories over the Arabs in 20 years have not yet insured peace.

RUSSIAN SUPPORT

Egypt is believed to have received Russian armor, planes and rockets, all but replenishing the total lost in the six-day conflict.

The wide support given by Arab countries to the Al Fatah guerrillas underlines the pessimism of some Israeli leaders, such as former Premier David Ben-Gurion, that a fourth war is now more than likely.

These considerations have led to the comparatively new suggestion that the Arabs have thrown away their last chance to get back their lost lands in peace negotiations and that Israel ought now to consider the lands it conquered part of the "historic borders" of the nation.

★ ★ ★

However, Foreign Minister Abba Eban has drily observed there is really no historical basis for this claim.

6-DAY GROWTH

Israel, whose total area was 7,992 square miles when the guns began blazing the morning of June 5, found itself six days later in command of enemy territory 2½ times its own size.

Arabs charge its continued presence is proof of an "expansionist" policy, but the Israeli reply has been that the remedy lies in Arab hands.

Many Israelis saw this captured territory as bargaining points for a direct peace conference with the Arabs. This view has been fading in some quarters as the months go by with little sign the Arabs want anything but a fourth war.

★ ★ ★

Israeli troops took all of Sinai to the Suez Canal from Egypt, the west bank of the river Jordan from Jordan and the Golan Hills from Syria.

★ ★ ★

Unless there is some give soon in the Arab position, there will be no more demands for Israeli settlers to move in behind them.

Foreigners See 'Violent U. S.'

LONDON (AP) — The suggestion that Americans have a tendency toward violence has popped up again in foreign commentary on the United States.

Two weeks after one British writer said the Americans' greatest fault is "an undue toleration of violence," another wrote from Washington: "The United States is a violent country.

"It was born in violence, and developed in violence," said Louis Heren of the Times of London. "Foreign wars have been periods of regulated violence between the revolution and the latest race riots.

"Four of the 35 presidents were assassinated, and Mr. Johnson (the 36th President) was not the first to limit his movements for fear of violence. This is not an indictment, or an expression of latent anti-Americanism, but a statement of fact."

The earlier statement about toleration of violence was by Paul Johnson, writing in the left-wing weekly New Statesman.

An Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion also turned up comments on nonviolence in La Nation, the Gaullist party organ in France.

★ ★ ★

In a three-page section on America in the face of the black problem," the newspaper commented: "Has nonviolence been outlived? The tragic end of pastor (Martin Luther) King tends to indicate this is so . . .

"It was a certain section of America, that of fraternity and good will, which was once again assassinated . . . It is to be hoped that the death of Pastor King will fortify the faith of his followers."

ON CANDIDATES

In comment on American presidential candidates, a West German writer criticized Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Most German correspondents recall the enthusiastic greeting the German people extended to the senator's elder brother, President John F. Kennedy, and expect Robert to be popular too.

Kurt T. Leissler wrote in the nationally distributed Sunday paper Welt am Sonntag that if a "second President Kennedy" should enter the White House, he would be active in foreign politics.

But, Leissler said, his primary effort in Europe would be not the revitalization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, "but the 'disengagement,' the detaching of the United States from its West European allies and the lifting of the confrontation of the United States and the U.S.S.R. in central Europe."

The writer said Kennedy's father, Joseph, as American ambassador to London in 1938, fought against U.S. involvement in the fight against Hitler and in 1948 argued for American withdrawal from Korea and all of Asia.

'CONFORMITY OF VIEWS'

Robert Kennedy's remarks on Vietnam in 1966 and 1967 revealed a conformity of views with his father, Leissler added.

Leissler also wrote that Kennedy used many "curves" to get ahead. He said in one case Kennedy switched from helping in a campaign aimed at isolation of Red China to an attack "on this hard isolationary policy . . . which he had helped found. Only he now blamed President Johnson for it."

★ ★ ★

The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri said if Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota wins the Democratic presidential nomination, "it will indeed be the proverbial 'voice of the stork.'"

It recalled the fable of the peacock and the stork in which the stork, ridiculed for drabness, replies that he is able to be near the stars and sing while the peacock must content himself with the drab surroundings of the earthbound.

The newspaper added: "If McCarthy, simple in attire but rich in song, is the stork, he could be speaking to Kennedy who, taking advantage of his wealth, will spend a reported $20 million until time for the Democratic National Convention."

PLANNING THE MARCH — The Rev. Ralph Abernathy whispers a comment to Mrs. Coretta King, widow of assassinated rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., during a rally last night kicking off the Poor People's March.

Poor People's March Set to Start Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes are starting the Poor People's march on Washington, envisioned by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a means of dramatizing the plight of the poor of all races.

As a final preliminary before departure of a bus caravan to Marks, Miss., today, a marble stone bearing a cross and a star is being dedicated here in memory of the slain civil rights leader.

★ ★ ★

King's widow and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, the man who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, take part in dedication of the stone, to be placed on the second floor balcony of the Lorraine Motel where King was standing when killed by a sniper April 4.

Then Abernathy leads the first contingent of the Poor People's Campaign on a twisting two-mile route through some of Memphis' worst slums to buses chartered for the trip to Marks.

BIG TURNOUT ASKED

Both Mrs. King and Abernathy addressed a kickoff rally of about 8,000 Wednesday night and pleaded for a large turnout for both the dedication and the trip to Marks, the town termed by King as the nation's worst rural poverty area.

"I hope at least 3,000 to 4,000 people will meet me at the Lorraine Motel," Abernathy said. "I want to take such a number into Marks that the sheriff will look up and see so many that nobody can number them."

★ ★ ★

A brief outbreak of violence flared in Marks Wednesday when about 20 Mississippi highway patrolmen used rifle butts to break up a demonstration by Nerro high school pupils outside the Quitman County jail.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Jack Harrison said about 350 students had started a sit-in to protest the arrest of Willie Bolden, an advance organizer for SCLC.

VP Leads Dems, According to Poll

Top U.S. Execs Favor Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top businessmen overwhelmingly favor Richard M. Nixon for president — and a number bitterly oppose Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, according to a copyright Washington Post survey.

The newspaper said Nixon was favored by 91 of 160 leading executives surveyed. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was second with 38 votes and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey third with 24.

Kennedy was the choice of 3 executives, California Gov. Ronald Reagan of 2 and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and third party candidate George C. Wallace, 1 each.

The Post said a number of executives' comments showed "an edge of bitterness toward Kennedy" — saying the Democratic candidate was their last choice or they thought him least qualified.

Nearly three-fourths of the executives identified themselves as Republicans, the newspaper said. It said questionnaires were sent to 298 executives, including the entire membership of the prestigious Business Council, which has worked closely with President Johnson, and 180 responded.

Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who fared best in the poll, told a U.S. Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday that some businessmen have even "outliberaled Hubert Humphrey" and said their help is needed to solve slum problems.

In other political developments:

● Republican candidate Rockefeller takes a swing through Iowa today after calling his Massachusetts primary victory a surprise to him and urging de-Americanization of the Vietnam war.

● Kennedy, pressing his campaign in Indiana's presidential primary next Tuesday, said the administration should be more flexible on a site for tentative Vietnam peace talks. "We need not worry about whether we will lose face by agreeing to a site we have not suggested," he said in Lafayette.

● McCarthy, whose Democratic presidential campaign began as a protest to Vietnam policy, said in Louisville the issue should not be lost sight of. "This whole question hasn't been put to the people since New Hampshire," he said. "It ought to be again."

● California Gov. Ronald Reagan said in a position paper that civil rights must be attained by "time, skill and resourcefulness and capital from all sectors," not "by shrill exaggerations or false promises, and it will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club."

N-Spread Curb OK in U.N. Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A 20-nation resolution endorsing the U.S.-Soviet proposal to bar the spread of nuclear weapons was expected to get a favorable reception today in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee.

Finnish Ambassador Max Jakobson was scheduled to introduce it formally in the 124-nation committee.

★ ★ ★

The resolution would have the assembly endorse the draft treaty, ask that it be opened for signature and ratification as soon as possible and request the Geneva Disarmament Committee to negotiate urgently on nuclear disarmament.

The proposed treaty was first put forward in the 17-nation Geneva committee. It would bar countries with nuclear weapons from handing them over to others and bar others from getting them or making them.

★ ★ ★

Diplomats generally agreed that it would muster well over the two-thirds vote necessary to pass and that probably only Albania and Cuba would vote against it.

Charges Filed in Kidnap Case

The scene of his arrest was about six miles across the county line from where Mrs. Kinnison's car was abandoned.

PISTOL FOUND

A two-shot derringer pistol was found in the seat of a pickup truck that had stopped to give him a ride near the intersection of Mount Morris and Oak streets in Richfield Township.

Police said the weapon, and a Bowie knife found nearby later, were of the type used to threaten the two kidnap victims.

A resident had called police to the scene after she became suspicious of a man walking out of a wooded area near her home.

★ ★ ★

Moore, returned to Oakland County late Tuesday by Pless and Hansen, was held overnight for questioning.

ALERTED POLICE

In ordering warrants, Assistant Prosecutor Alexander McGarry said the second kidnaping charge was leveld against Moore for the abduction of Frank Kinnison.

He had alerted police to the kidnaping after being freed unharmed in the Walled Lake area.

Appearing yesterday at his arraignment before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead, Moore stood mute to the charges, and a preliminary examination hearing was scheduled for May 10.

★ ★ ★

He was returned to the Oakland County Jail when he was unable to post a $50,000 bond set by Hempstead.

Jordanian King Getting Medical Care

King Hussein, 32-year-old ruler of Jordan, has entered a London clinic for treatment.

The king, who flew there on a hastily arranged trip Monday, entered the clinic yesterday.

A source at Hussein's palace in Amman said he is completely exhausted. In addition to stomach trouble and chronic sinus trouble, he is suffering back pains as a result of an auto crash three years ago.

"The king has had an exhausting year and was advised to take advantage of the London visit to have medical treatment," the sources said.

★ ★ ★

A Justice Department official was expected to testify on the subject today.

Sharply Rising ADC Rolls Cast Shadow on County Economy

By ED BLUNDEN

In an otherwise glowing economy, one statistic in Oakland County casts a gloomy shadow — the one on Aid to Dependent Children (ADC).

The total of families on the rolls has risen sharply in the last four years, and all indications are that it will continue to rise.

This February the total was 2,288 compared to 1,743 in 1965 and 1,864 a year ago February.

Ora Hickley, acting director of the County Social Services office, said the growth of number of families on the roll is due to several factors.

She said some of these have simple explanation such as the rise in population and the increased divorce rate.

MODERN LIVING

Other more intangible factors are involved such as the tensions of modern living, the increased knowledge that ADC money is available and the state and federal minimum wage acts, she said.

The wage laws set pay scales at $1.60 per hour for work involving interstate commerce and $1.25 for inside-the-state businesses. These rates have been raised steadily in the last few years and can be expected to go up more.

However, firms employing persons on the lowest rate — mostly marginal, nonskilled labor — have been increasingly unable to retain their employes. They have either installed machinery to do the nonskilled work, changed their operation or gone out of business.

Thus many persons who would normally be employed must now seek relief and job retraining. This has had an effect not only on ADC statistics, but other welfare loads also, Miss Hickley said.

$183.97 MONTHLY

For each family on the rolls an average of 4.3 children are involved, she said. The average family receives $183.97 per month on a state check.

Miss Hinckley said the amount paid is not on a head-count basis but is determined on how much rent the family must pay, food and clothing needs, heating bills, etc.

Oakland County residents receive almost exactly the state average. However, in Ontonagon County in the Upper Peninsula, the average family monthly check is $228.46. It's $199.20 in Detroit.

Since 1965 Oakland County hasn't paid directly to ADC recipients. The county administers the program, but the check comes from state and federal funds, about half and half.

However, this may change. County officials are watching federal funding. In July, a limitation may be placed on the number of state cases . . . which means any more cases added to the county roll will have to be paid for by the county.

At least that is the contingency county officials are allowing for—pending an interpretation of what rules federal funding measures contain.

Any drastic downturn in the general economy can have a marked effect on expenditures on ADC and other county and state welfare programs.

However, according to budget estimates, county expenditures for welfare purposes have been greatly decreased, in general, in recent years. For instance, in 1965 the general relief budget was about $2 million and in 1968 is $1.25 million.

State and federal programs replacing county programs in caring for the elderly have accounted for much of the decrease.

State Rejects Youths' Litter Cleanup Offer

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Commission has refused — with regrets — several offers by young people to pick up trash left along the highways by litterbugs.

The commission said that because of insurance and liability problems it couldn't permit the youngsters to work along state highways.

★ ★ ★

A group calling themselves "The Teen Raiders" from Centreville, a chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association, was one of the latest to volunteer for cleanup duty.

"Any program of this type would require that all persons performing such work be properly insured," the commission said.

EDUCATION DRIVES

It suggested, instead, that youth groups conduct education drives against litterbugs, stressing the health and safety hazards and the unsightly mess caused by the litter.

Michigan youth, through clubs, schools and church groups, could become a powerful voice in the state's antilitter campaign, the commission said.

County Schools Get $10 Million in Aid

The sum of $10,259,430 has been released to county school districts by the Oakland County treasurer's office, according to James E. Seeterlin, treasurer.

The money represents 16 per cent of the April apportionment of state aid money. Top fund-getter is Waterford Township schools with $894,690, followed closely by Pontiac, $860,370 and Royal Oak, $833,150.

Some of the other districts and amounts involved are: Birmingham, $649,410; Bloomfield Hills, $443,920; Troy, $189,040; Clarkston, $297,000, Farmington, $738,680; Rochester, $229,340; Walled Lake, $432,560; and Novi, $50,280.

State Gets Grant

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Edward P. Dubiel, 43, a Grand Rapids city housing inspector, Wednesday announced he would seek the Republican nomination for state representative of the 90th district, a seat now held by Rep. Martin D. Buth, R - Grand Rapids.

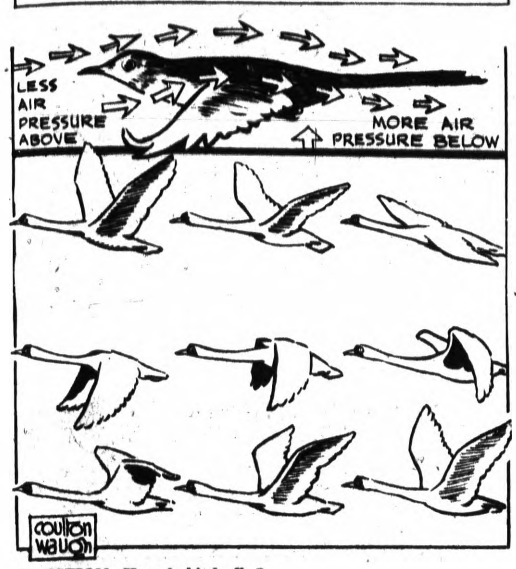
Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS



QUESTION: How do birds fly?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: A bird's body is amazingly well adapted to flight. It is very light, with hollow bones, many filled with air. The shape of the wing tends to create an uplifting force, just as an airplane wing does.

Check the upper picture. A bird's wings are rounded on top, flatter below. Air takes longer to pass over the top, which reduces air pressure there, allowing the greater air pressure below to push the bird up.

Follow the movements of our flying swan, looking at each row from left to right. If you do this rapidly, you can see the swan flap his wings.

In the first four positions, the wings are straight out with feathers overlapping so the air can't get through. This is the power stroke, pushing the bird up and forward.

Notice in the next four positions that the wings are lifted up half folded. The feathers separate — the wing resists the air less on this upstroke.

Then, with the position at the lower right, our swan is set to begin again the powerful downward stroke which, in connection with the principle explained at first, enables him to fly.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

New Toothbrush Devised

An ultrasonic teeth-cleaning apparatus for home use has been devised to provide the type of cleaning usually available only in a dentist's office.

As with electric toothbrushes, it has replaceable heads so that a single power unit can be used by all members of a family.

A typical ultrasonically driven toothbrush, according to the new patent, would have a bristle stroke of about one-thousandth of an inch and would operate at a frequency of 20,000 cycles per second.

DOMINATING THE SKYLINE—Workmen put finishing touches yesterday on the skeleton of the 100-story John Hancock Center in downtown Chicago. A topping-out ceremony will be held Monday.

But It'll Be a 'Near' Miss

Tiny Planet Hurtling Earthward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The maverick asteroid Icarus, a pip-squeak planet about a half-mile in diameter, starts hurtling earthward today at 20,000 miles per hour.

Navy astronomers say it will come within four million miles of earth on June 14, its closest approach since its discovery in 1949. It won't be visible to the naked eye.

★ ★ ★

The Navy assured that there is "no danger of a collision" with earth.

There have been similar reassuring words in recent years from the high echelons of astronomy—all aimed at counteracting reports that rocky Icarus just might be on a collision course with the earth. Such a catastrophe would be equivalent to dropping 100 hydrogen bombs at one time.

As recently as last November a member of the British House of Commons asked the government for official reassurance the two celestial objects would not collide. He got it.

But one American astronomer, Dr. Robert S. Richardson, while conceding there's no apparent chance of a collision during Icarus' upcoming visit, has said this might not always hold true as the asteroid keeps returning every 19 years.

Richardson of Altadena, Calif., has theorized Icarus might eventually be pulled off course by the combined gravity influences of the planets Earth and Mercury, with which it also has relatively close brushes.

He has suggested a possible defense if danger ever appears imminent—blasting Icarus out of the heavens with a nuclear-armed space vehicle.

It has been known since at least 1957 that Icarus was due to make a close approach to the earth June 14 or 15 of this year.

This forecast has been based on a computation of its strongly elliptical orbit around the sun ranging from 18 million miles at its closest point to the sun, and 183 million at its farthest. Icarus wheels around the sun once every 409 days.

Navy astronomers said Icarus will make its closest solar approach in its present orbit today and then start its stretch-run toward the earth.

Icarus is named for the adventurous youth of Greek mythology who flew too close to the sun on wings of wax and feathers, then fell into the sea when the wax melted.

It is one of more than 1,500 known asteroids wheeling around the solar system.

Most asteroids circle the sun in orbits that lie entirely between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, but there are a few mavericks like Icarus whose orbits occasionally cross the earth's orbital pathway. The nearest visitor was Hermes, which passed within 485,000 miles of the earth in 1937.

Betty Mintz, a Navy astronomers, said scientists in various parts of the world hope to reap rich scientific returns by observing Icarus by telescopes and radar.

Navy astronomers at Flagstaff, Ariz. will try to test anew the validity of Einstein's general theory of relativity.

According to that theory, the plane of Icarus' orbit should change by about 50 miles with each passage around the sun—and sightings of Icarus could help verify this.

Soapy to Leave in Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new U.S. ambassador to the Philippines, G. Mennen Williams, said Wednesday night he would leave for his Manila post in about a month.

★ ★ ★

The former Michigan governor made the comment after a talk at the White House with President Johnson on U.S.-Philippines relations.

Williams said he was looking forward to a challenging and interesting assignment. He did not elaborate on his meeting with the President.

Statistical evidence indicates that emissions of heat and particles from industry into the air has increased rainfall by 31 per cent at nearby LaPort, Ind., in a 30-year period.

Salvatore says:

HOME UNDER HOOD—A pair of persistent robins built a nest under the hood of Jerry B. Kahn's car while it was parked in the driveway of his Grand Blanc Township home over the weekend. The nest contains four eggs. Kahn says this is the seventh time this year that a nest has been made there but the first time he has found eggs.

Heart Patient Shows Steady Improvement

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg walks 160 yards a day by himself now, and he dreams of taking up swimming again.

★ ★ ★

Once unable to lift an arm or even speak more than a few words without exhaustion, the world's only heart transplant patient looks, to the layman at least, like a new man.

Since surgery by Dr. Christiaan Barnard on Jan. 2, Blaiberg appears to have gained strength steadily with the heart of 24-year-old Clive Haupt beating in his breast. Haupt died of a stroke on New Year's Day.

Blaiberg now looks younger than his 58 years. Daily sunbathing on his apartment balcony has tanned him deeply.

Convalescence does not happen all at once. The dentist still cannot walk up or down steps without a firm but gentle helping hand. But there is no longer the pain or shortness of breath which made his life agony before the operation.

KEEP ROLLING IN

Letters from sympathizers and heart patients all over the world keep rolling in. Reading them is a fixed part of Blaiberg's daily schedule, as are the six hours he puts in daily on his autobiography.

Doctors at Groote Schuur Hospital report they are "more than pleased" by Blaiberg's progress.

A typical Blaiberg day begins early. Breakfast at 8:30 a.m. is usually followed by the day's letter-reading. He personally answers much of the correspondence.

Following tea at 11 a.m., his wife, Eileen, takes him for a drive around Cape Town, to places the once hopelessly sick man had resigned himself to never seeing again.

At Sea Point, he sits silently, looking out over the beach front and sweeping view of the south Atlantic. Passersby, recognizing a face now at least as familiar as that of Premier John Vorster, stop, stare, smile and wave greetings.

The face of Philip Blaiberg, round, balding at the temples, neatly moustached, beams back.

Lawman Fights Off Small Dog to Get His Woman

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — County patrolman Richard Roush was checking a call that a woman wearing only a green negligee was walking a dog around Park Circle Wednesday.

When he approached her, the patrolman said she ordered the dog, a spirited chihuahua, to attack him. The dog inflicted a painful nip on Roush's hand and, while he assessed the damage, the woman and her pet ran off.

Roush and another patrolman finally apprehended the 45-year-old woman about three blocks away. She was charged with disorderly conduct.

West Offers Tips to Shorten Wind, Lengthen Life

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This is the last of a two-part series on "aerobics," the new exericise program that is based on oxygen intake.

WEST

In case you were too short of oxygen to read the first install m e n t, here is a brief recap:

Maj. Kenneth Cooper of the Air Force Medical Corps, who has written a fast-selling book on the subject, says the best kinds of exercises are those that force the body to process more oxygen.

★ ★ ★

He says the extra oxygen not only is good for what ails you, but may even prevent the ailments from developing. End recap.

It may be presumptuous of me, an unschooled layman, to raise a point of order with Cooper, who is an M.D. Nevertheless, he seems to be operating from a premise that isn't necessarily valid.

DOESN'T HOLD

He arbitrarily assumes that the stuff you will be sucking into your lungs while jogging, cycling or whatever is oxygen.

The benefits Cooper speaks of so glowing were mostly observed on military bases where the air usually is relatively pure.

But in recommending the program for civilians, he fails to take into account the fact that many of us live in cities where the air is likely to be composed of exhaust fumes, factory smoke, street dust and bad breath.

Although I haven't conducted any medical studies, it stands to reason that the less city air you inhale the better off you are.

'SMOGOBICS'

Consequently, as a sort of adjunct to aerobics, I have started working on an exercise program I call "smogobics."

Whereas aerobics were designed to improve your health through exercises that induce deep breathing, the purpose of smogobics is to preserve what little health you have left by means of shallow-breathing exercises.

First exercise — Lie flat on the floor the air is better down there, close your mouth and with your right thumb cover up your right nostril. Practice breathing through only one nostril, which cuts your smog intake in half.

Second exercise — While still on the floor, dangle a wet noodle in front of your nose and try to breathe shallow enough to keep the noodle from rustling.

Third exercise — Place a rope around your neck and pull it tight enought to . . . well, actually I'm plannning to write a book about smogobics and I don't wish to give away all of the exercises in advance. I will say, however, that if you live in an area with a high air-pollution index, smogobics may increase your life expectancy by as much as 20 minutes.

Issue Comes to Head

Buttons Brew Up Storm

LANSING (UPI) — You can brew up all the political ruckus you like in Michigan, but cause a ruckus for the brew of your choice—never.

That's the ruling of the state Liquor Control Commission, which has banished from the Wolverine state those clever, shiny "campaign" buttons for Budweiser beer.

"They're the kind of things that kids like to stick on their beanies — and before you know it, they're walking into church with them on and all that," sighed George Burke, business manager for the LCC.

DREAMED UP

Behind the whole thing is the Anhauser-Busch Brewing Co., which dreamed up the election-year gimmick to push its most famous product. It advertises a set of 12 buttons for $1, sent directly from St. Louis, Mo. It invites beer drinkers to throw a party and wear the buttons.

The ads add, though, that the offer is "void where prohibited by law." There isn't exactly a law banning buttons in Michigan, but the LCC screens all beer, wine and liquor advertising and can toss out any it doesn't like.

The company has not advertised its button sets in Michigan, but national magazines circulating in the state are running the ads. Every Michiganite sending in his $1 for a set gets it promptly back with an explanation from the company.

Cancer Victim Is Reunited With Children

DOUGLAS (AP) — Generous residents and an Illinois oilman provided the "best medicine" for a mother ill with cancer and separated by thousands of miles from her children.

Mrs. Melitan Almanza, 29, was reunited in her room at Douglas Community Hospital Wednesday with four of her children from Mexico.

She hadn't seen them since last September and for a while it appeared she might never again see the youngsters, aged 10 months to 6 years, because of a lack of money.

Mrs. Almanza came to Allegan County with her husband last fall to visit her parents and brothers living in Fennville. Her seven children were left behind in Mexico.

Three weeks later she became ill and the diagnosis was incurable cancer. Her doctor ruled against travel to Mexico and said a reunion with her children would be the "best medicine."

The family pooled its resources and her two brothers left for Mexico by car. There was enough money to bring back only three of the oldest children.

★ ★ ★

An appeal to area residents was made and the story was carried by the Associated Press. Illinois oilman Burt Burrows offered help to bring the other four children to Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The youngsters were flown by commercial airlines to Chicago where Burrows and an associate, Vaughn Wigley, picked up the youngsters and flew them to the Allegan Airport. From there the children rode by car to nearby Douglas and the reunion with their mother at the hospital.

WITH RELATIVES

Father Leo Rosloniec of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Douglas said the children will stay with relatives. He added that funds received from area residents and persons elsewhere in Michigan will be used to care for the family and a return trip to Mexico "if and when it happens." He indicated a representative of the Mexican Consulate was to meet with the family soon.

★ ★ ★

Jackson Blaze Kills 1 Fireman, Injures 6

JACKSON (AP) — The walls of a three-story building in Jackson were knocked down by a crane as a safety precaution Wednesday night, after flames destroyed the insides and thick gray-black smoke caused the death of one firemen and injured six others.

Firemen had no report on the cause of the blaze, which apparently smoldered for a long time Wednesday morning before erupting into a general alarm fire, which sent flames 50 feet in the air.

Fireman Wilbur Smith, 26, died when he was overcome by smoke after breaking into the back entrance on the second floor, where a vacant bowling alley was located.

Smith, a 10-month veteran of the Jackson department, was wearing only a small smoke mask when he collapsed. Another fireman, Granger Krebill, took off his larger self-contained breathing apparatus and tried unsuccessfully to administer the oxygen to Smith.

Krebill also was overcome by by the blaze and was taken to the hospital for treatment. He was reported in good condition.

Of the six firemen injured, four were kept in the hospital for observation.

No damage estimate was reported.

A memorial fund was started for Smith's widow and his two children, aged 4 and 7.

Only a bar and a barbershop had been in use on the first floor of the three-story building.

The building, known as the Recreation, opened in 1929. It contained 26 bowling alleys and was the scene of three state bowling tournaments.

Court Voids Motorcycle Helmet Law

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State Court of Appeals Wednesday said that motorcyclists do not have to wear helmets as required in a 1966 state law.

In a review of the statute, the court declared the law unconstitutional because it could find no direct relationship between wearing helmets and public health, safety and welfare.

The court said, "This statute has a relationship to the protection of the individual motorcyclist from himself, but not to the public health, safety and welfare."

The court rejected Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's argument that the state has an interest in the "viability" of its citizens and can legislate to keep them healthy and self-supporting.

'FAULTY LOGIC'

"This logic could lead to unlimited paternalism," the three-member court panel said.

The court further added there is no doubt that the state has a substantial interest in highway safety, but it added, "The difficulty with adopting this as a basis for decision is that it would also justify a requirement that automobile drivers wear helmets or buckle their seat belts for their own protection."

Humphrey, Nixon Cast Shadows Over Indiana Dem Primary

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The names on the ballot are Branigin, Kennedy and McCarthy.

But two other names—Nixon and Humphrey—are casting shadows over Indiana's Democratic presidential primary May 7.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey publicly proclaimed himself a candidate too late to enter the primary.

★ ★ ★

But less than two days later he was talking about Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigin, who's running as a favorite son. Humphrey commented in a nationwide television interview: "If anything I can say will be helpful to him, I want to do that."

THEY SAY NO

Is Branigin a stand-in for Humphrey?

Branigin and Humphrey say no.

★ ★ ★

But the fact remains that Branigin alone is in a position to knock off Humphrey's two major opponents for the nomination—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, making his first bid in a major primary, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, trying to keep the momentum of victories in New Hampshire and Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

Richard M. Nixon is all by himself on another ballot—the Republican presidential primary—but he's got a fight on his hands holding Republicans' interest in his uncontested race and putting down the Republicans' temptation to record their votes in the white-hot Democratic battle.

COURTING CROSSOVER

Both Branigin and McCarthy have openly courted Republican crossover votes. Technically, a crossover is illegal in Indiana. But, as a practical matter, the enforcement lies in the challenge at the polls, and the challenges have been minimal in the past.

★ ★ ★

In Marion County (Indianapolis), for example, election officials are sending only six of the forms for making a challenge to each precinct. They are holding 2,000 more of the forms in reserve—a small percentage in a county that might see 300,000 voters go to the polls.

★ ★ ★

A "Republicans for Branigin" group is urging the GOP faithful in advertisements to take a Democratic ballot on election day and vote for the Indiana governor to stop "the purchase of the presidency."

★ ★ ★

A "Republicans for McCarthy" group has tried to appeal to Indiana GOP voters with the slogan: "Republicans ... we do have a place to go." The group cites crossover votes in New Hampshire and Wisconsin for McCarthy, "a man whose convictions cross party lines."

LOW VOTE TOTAL

With write-in votes forbidden, Nixon faces no greater threat in Indiana than the possibility of a low vote total resulting from either crossovers or apathy.

★ ★ ★

His backers figure the entry of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as an announced candidate may serve to keep Republicans in their own primary.

★ ★ ★

They've issued statements urging Republicans not to cross over, and criticizing "a governor and a U.S. senator urging voters to break the law."

★ ★ ★

As for Nixon, he's aimed his campaign guns elsewhere so far. The former vice president's appearances iin Indiana today and Friday will be the first since February.

HEAD OF STEAM

On the Democratic side, the three-way battle is gathering a head of steam the likes of which Indiana voters have not seen since the legislature inaugurated a presidential primary in 1953.

★ ★ ★

Branigin motorcades from town to town, shaking hands and asking for votes "in the best interests of Indiana," with the full backing of the regular state Democratic organization. Kennedy is barnstorming the state by jet, train and car, and McCarthy is speaking as much as eight times a day on a schedule running from early morning to late at night.

Branigin, a lame-duck governor barred by law from reelection, got into the race as an announced stand-in for President Johnson. When Johnson withdrew, Branigin became a favorite son candidate.

He argued that a Hoosier, not "a foreigner, an outlander, a tourist," should have control of Indiana's 63 votes in the Democratic National Convention.

ON FIRST BALLOT

Indiana law binds delegates to the primary winner on the first ballot. They can make their own course after the first ballot.

★ ★ ★

Branigin described himself as a "serious candidate" — without elaboration, at first.

But as the campaign has rolled along, he's given hints that Indiana voters, if they support him in the primary, might have the chance to see political lightning hit their governor.

★ ★ ★

Branigin began referring to Indiana as "the mother of vice presidents." The state has had four. He said if he fared well in his home state primary he might enter other primaries. He didn't say how well would be well enough. He said he would "consider" vice - presidential tenders.

POSSIBLE TICKET

Newspapers backing Branigin have repeatedly discussed the possibilities of a Humphrey-Branigin ticket. Branigin replies with: "Anything can happen."

Branigin and his backers have hammered hard at the blitzkrieg aspects of the Kennedy and McCarthy campaigns, saying the senators are trying to buy the presidency.

★ ★ ★

How much is really being poured out of the coffers?

★ ★ ★

Gordon St. Angelo, state Democratic chairman, said Kennedy and McCarthy each would spend $2 million in their bid to sew up Indiana.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy replied that if he spent one-fourth that amount he would consider the campaign well-financed.

STATEMENT IGNORED

The Kennedy people ignored the St. Angelo statement.

The campaign has been agliter with the big names of politics and show business.

★ ★ ★

On the Kennedy side, his mother, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, 77, shakes hands at receptions. His brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., appears at meetings and rallies. Wife Ethel, the children and even the family dog, Freckles, accompany the candidate on flying swings around the state. Old friends from the Justice Department and members of John F. Kennedy's "New Frontier" speak at colleges and universities.

★ ★ ★

For McCarthy, actor Paul Newman, television star Garry Moore and actress Myrna Loy have been on the stump. Popular singers Simon and Garfunkel staged a concert.

College Freshman Finds This Subject the Hardest

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an average 19-year-old college student (male) living on campus in a college town. My home is 200 miles away. My mother has an old friend living near campus, so she wrote and asked this friend of hers to look me up.

What for, I'll never know because I'm not lonesome and this woman is a 65-year-old widow, and we don't have one thing in common.

ABBY

Well, this old lady invited me to her house for Sunday supper, so I went. She was very nice to me. Too nice. There were just the two of us there and she made me feel very uncomfortable. She kept wanting to hug me and touch me, and she made all sorts of remarks about how she "had a crush" on me.

A few days later she called me up and invited me over for dinner again. I told her I had to study. (I did.) Then she sent me a silly "I could go for you" card with a $10 bill inside. Today I got a box of cookies with a note, "Honey, when am I going to see you again?"

Abby, she keeps calling me, and I tell my roommate to tell her I'm at the library. I want to see this old lady again like I want to go to Vietnam. I hate to insult her, but I sure don't want to see her again. How should I handle this?

SOPHOMORE

DEAR SOPHOMORE: First, return her money with a "thank-you" note, and thank her for the cookies, but ask her not to send any more. Then continue to be "out" when she calls. In time she will be sufficiently discouraged to forget you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: All went fine with my marriage, until my loving spouse got so heavy from Manhattans, beer, pizza, candy, etc., that the bed sagged on her side. Although the sagging caused me to roll down near her, I must confess this nearness created no romantic interest whatsoever. My partner angrily declared me "impotent," and took to her own bed in another room.

I was determined to prove to myself that I was not impotent. The details are only incidental, but let us just say that it didn't take me very long to prove it. My question: Should I share this happy discovery with my wife? SWINGER

DEAR SWINGER: Go ahead. She'll never believe you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago my mother passed away. She and my father had been married nearly 50 years, and seemingly had a good life together.

★ ★ ★

To me, it seemed disrespectful to my mother's memory, but ONE WEEK after my mother's burial my father (a minister) began seeing other women. Less than three months later he remarried.

This marriage lasted four months; they got a quick divorce, and within 30 days my father remarried again!

★ ★ ★

Now my father insists that his grandchildren call his new wife "Grandma." My children all remember their real grandmother and it doesn't seem natural to them. (Nor to me.) Should I insist they call this woman "Grandma" just because their grandfather demands it? Or am I within my rights to tell them they don't have to? So far they call her "Mrs. ———."

DAUGHTER

★ ★ ★

DEAR DAUGHTER: Tell the children to call the lady whatever comes naturally.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: You recently printed a letter from someone who said if an adopted child turns out bad, it could be because of "bad blood." Well my blood ("bad" or otherwise) boiled.

I was adopted when I was an infant. I don't know exactly how old I was when I learned about it but it was early enough for me to say, "Yes, I know," when a cousin whispered what he thought was a big secret.

★ ★ ★

Much later I became curious about my natural parents. After satisfying that normal curiosity, I promptly put it aside and seldom think about it until some ignoramus makes a statement about "bad blood." Then I blow up.

★ ★ ★

Of course, heredity is a factor, but the strongest force in shaping a child's character is environment, and an adopted child will be more like the couple who adopted him than anyone else.

★ ★ ★

However, here is one fact that seems to be overlooked. The adopted child knows that he was wanted, and that he's not in the family because she forgot to take "the pill," or they got drunk one night. For this reason, the adopted child should be especially secure in the knowledge that he is loved by his adopted parents.

If you print this, please use my right name. I'm proud of it.

Viewers Talk Frankly About Others' Habits

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Your article "A Spectator Hits the Fan" was as true as it is possible to be. I have a complaint about people who bring their children, sit in back of you and allow the children to keep hitting your chair with their feet.

Most of the time they hit the bottom of your back between the back rest and the seat, and you are constantly waiting for that next thump. Not only are you so nervous you cannot keep your mind on the game, but also dirty shoes are being kicked against your dress.

★ ★ ★

If you tell the child nicely not to hit your chair, the parents consider it an insult and say, "How do you expect to keep a child still?" A child that young does not belong at a ball game in the first place. — Mrs. E. B.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. B.: A vote of thanks to those who wrote me additional complaints about sports spectators. Some seemed valid to me, others were too personal or too local to apply generally.

I will, from time to time, print those which I hope my readers will heed. The one above is most important.

WEDDING CHECKS

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if I should give the bride or the groom the wedding check? The groom is my brother-in-law. — Joan

★ ★ ★

Dear Joan: Wedding presents are traditionally given to the bride. A check, therefore, is usually handed to the bride, although it may be made out in both names.

Homemaker-Student Juggles Her Time

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

What's a mother to do . . . in this case a college-bound mom with a household to run, two energetic youngsters to raise and an ever increasing number of pets finding their way to her door?

In a nutshell, says Joy Holler, who was in the Spring graduating class at Oakland University (magna cum laude no less), "Your big battle is getting some serious studying done while trying not to forget to take the meat out of the freezer."

All kidding aside, this attractive brunette credits husband Jack and children Jami and Jeff, with much of the responsibility for her scholastic success.

"It was a family joke that, once I got Jack (an automotive design engineer) through school, it would be my turn," she says.

Now five years later and with a diploma in elementary education, she's amazed at how the time flew by. She admits a sense of melancholy about leaving the campus and fellow classmates, the majority of whom are married too.

"It's been a good experience for the kids as well," she says.

Both know there's a lot of work involved in getting an education and because I've had to share my time, they've become more independent."

Jami says she'll take college and marriage one step at a time.

A second major family project has been an all-out revamp job on their home, which is located on Hummer Lake Road in Brandon Township.

The house, built in 1863, is situated along a rambling pasture with an elderly barn.

The Hollers, who moved here from a comfortable Waterford suburb, always yearned for a large comfy home with plenty of open space.

They had just about given up searching when they discovered their "diamond in the rough" — no plumbing, heating or indoor bathroom.

Jami, 9 and Jeff, 12, are taking full advantage of the space available by accumulating a small menagerie.

To date there are four horses, two dogs, a barn cat named Leroy, mamma cat and her four offspring, two calves and some Mongolian mice.

What's ahead for Joy Holler, whose energy equals that of her kids?

Her latest endeavor, teaching first grade in Ortonville, will be a steady project until June.

Come summer, she plans to spoil herself and family and just loaf.

After that, it's back to Belleanl School and OU. She has 10 more hours to go before she earns her permanent teacher's certificate and she's tempted by a master's degree.

And not to be forgotten is a list of "Musts" as the Hollers set to work polishing up that "rough diamond."

'The Sea Gull,' Noted Drama

"The Sea Gull", now in rehearsal at the Meadow Brook Theatre, is one of those rare dramas that truly may be called a turning point in world theatre.

Before Chekhov, theatre had been dominated by an artificial style that relied on declamatory actors, clever directors and spectacular effects for its impact.

★ ★ ★

Chekhov's emphasis of quiet, everyday situation and deep psychological penetration into character was a radical departure.

★ ★ ★

With the success of "The Sea Gull," after an original failure, a new theatrical style and an entirely new approach to acting were established. "Modern" theatre was born in 1898.

★ ★ ★

The Meadow Brook production of "The Sea Gull" is under the direction of John Fernald, internationally recognized as the finest interpreter of Chekhov in the English-speaking theatre today.

His production, Mr. Fernald says, will contain "few surprises, nothing new — just tons of love."

★ ★ ★

"The Sea Gull" opens Friday and will continue through June 2, with performances at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday through Saturdays, at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays, and at 1:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

After its Meadow Brook engagement, "The Sea Gull" will go on tour for five performances at the Johnson Theatre in Durham, New Hampshire.

More Wisdom Needed in Custody Cases

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: When I married a year ago, my husband brought his eight children to live with us as he'd been given their custody by the court. (The oldest is 17.) But I have four of my own. I am worn out looking after so many and my husband is also exhausted by supporting us all.

None of his children has been taught to obey and two are very rebellious. His ex-wife has a very good job but he won't return them to her because he's sure she'll neglect them. Would it be wrong to return them to her?

ANSWER: Has your husband asked these children whom they want to live with—their mother or you and him? If not, why hasn't he?

Because there are many kinds of parental neglect. We neglect children if we feed them bad food or fail to prepare them for a world that will require obedience from them. But we also neglect them if we just grab them away from their mothers without consulting their feelings about our action. For this is high-handed performance which they intensely resent.

* * *

They are not pots and pans to be moved about at our changes of marital partners. My suggestion is that your husband ask the children if they wish to return to their mother. If they do, ask the court to reverse its custody decision, adding the request that it assign its social agencies to help her look after them.

IS IT WISE?

As I've said before in this space, separating children from mothers is very tricky business. When child-caring institutions do it, they have to employ professional staffs to help them get away with it.

As to foster homes which do it, they require almost continuous support by social agencies to pull off this tricky task. Even with this support, they often fail in it. But you, in undertaking this task, get what amounts to no support at all.

As you yourself say, your husband is too exhausted with the feeding of all of you that he has no strength left to help you with this trickiest of undertakings.

I don't understand this court's willingness to hand over eight children who belong to one woman to another woman merely because she has married their father.

And if I don't know all the facts which produced this judicial act, I don't have to. I know all I need to know about removing children from mothers against their will.

GERTZ-IVANOV

To complement her bridal gown of organza and Chantilly lace, Mrs. Theodore Gertz (nee Norma Jean Ivanov) chose a pearled crown with an illusion veil. Honor attendants for the Saturday evening ceremony in Undenominational Sunday School on Highland Road, White Lake Township, were Mrs. Frank Remenar and Warren Wiggins. Other members of the wedding party were Mrs. Robert Lorenz, Mrs. Harry Dayner, Helen Melnik, David Machin, Gerald Cline and Dennis Carrol. Terry Dayner and Kimberly Carter were flower girls. The daughter of the Nicholas E. Ivanov's of Davisburg and son of Mrs. Dorothy L. Foster of Mechanic Street and the late Theodore Gertz Sr. were feted at the Holiday Inn, following the ceremony.

How Much Is a Homemaker Really Worth?

How can you — a housewife — determine the value of your services in dollars and cents?

If you are among the one in three who are practically certain to have some kind of accident this year, you can figure out your worth by using a formula devised by Daniel Baldyga in Macmillan's new book "How To Settle Your Own Insurance Claim."

Mr. Baldyga, an insurance claims manager who deals with thousands of cases annually, has developed a method whereby a non-professional can determine the amount she is entitled to for her accident caused pain and inconvenience.

The formula is based on probability statistics utilizing a weekly wage figure; although the final sum exceeds presumable weekly earnings. One grateful woman said using the formula was an easy as following a recipe in a cookbook.

"It's difficult to determine lost earnings capacity for a housewife, but it can be done," says Mr. Baldyga.

"Start with the fair market value of a full time domestic servant in the area where you live. Use the hourly rate as a guideline. Don't forget that both full and part time lost earnings are involved."

"For example," he continues, "if you were completely confined to bed and thus totally disabled for one week, then your lost earning capacity is approximately that of a domestic servant's lost earnings for a week.

"If you were able to get up and move around the house half days the following week, then your capacity is approximately that of a domestic's partial lost earnings for a week. Keep a diary of how many hours during the day you were confined to bed and forced to rest."

Let's hope the neighbor's dog won't bite you; that you won't fall down the steps next door; that the delivery truck won't back into your car as you're pulling out of the garage.

But should you have this type of accident, you can decide from Mr. Baldyga's book how much your claim is worth. You will be in a position to challenge a settlement offer, if an insurance company profers less than the formula indicates, without the bother of hiring a lawyer.

And you will not have to give up to one half of your settlement to a lawyer as his contingency fee.

Guests Hear Aims, News of BPW Groups

A membership tea held Tuesday in the Lacota Road home of Helen Kinney and Mabel Smith introduced guests to the activities and aims of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The meeting was sponsored by the Pontiac group. Members and guests were welcomed by Rosamond Haeberle, of the Pontiac club, who is also by-laws and procedures chairman of the Michigan Federation.

Guest speakers were Mrs. Russell Funk of Southfield, state expansion chairman; Mrs. Philip Peterson, also of Southfield, District 10 director and Mrs. Laula Loveless of Ferndale, district membership chairman.

Forty-year member of the Pontiac club, Vera Bassett, and English exchange teacher, Barabara Graves, each presented her views of what membership in the club meant to her.

Assisting the hostesses were Mesdames E. Cleo Wiley, Gordon Rice, Russell Brackett and George Pudduck.

Jackie's Ex-Cook to Write Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Annemarie Huste, former cook for Mrs. John F. Kennedy, said Monday she has signed a contract for publishing a cookbook. The book will contain Miss Huste's favorite recipes.

A spokesman for the Bartholomew House Ltd., declined to disclose financial aspects of the contract, but added, "Annemarie is the highest priced author we've ever signed."

Miss Huste, 24-year-old German blonde, was dismissed by Mrs. Kennedy two weeks ago, apparently because she revealed her ambitions to write a cookbook and do a television show on cooking. Reportedly, Mrs. Kennedy feared her cook would discuss the former First Lady's private life.

Asked if her book would mention that she was employed by Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Huste said, "Yes, but it's just a matter of reference."

Can You Help Lonesome Ones?

Childhood to most is filled with pleasant memories. To emotionally disturbed children, however, life is lonely and empty.

Volunteers are desperately needed to be companions to disturbed children in hospitals and local clinics. The volunteer would be a part of the staff and would be consulted concerning the youngster's progress in staff meetings.

The hour spent with the boy or girl would be the only one he or she experiences in the area of human understanding. Here is an excellent opportunity to become a friend to a lonely child. For information please contact the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau, Birmingham.

Following luncheon yesterday in Central Methodist Church, Mrs. George Romney chats with arrangements cochairmen, (from left) Mrs. Charles Hawley and Mrs. Frank Voll Jr. Mrs. Hawley is Oakland County Extension Home Economist for Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, sponsors of this first annual College Day for Women. Mrs. Voll, of Rochester, belongs to University Extension Study Group.

Mrs. Romney Gives Talk to Women

Lenore Romney, chief supporter of political aspirant George Romney, addressed a gathering of about 300 women, members of Extension Study Groups of Oakland County, in Pontiac Wednesday.

It was the first annual College Day for Women luncheon and took place in Central Methodist Church.

Her beautiful contralto ringing with sincerity, Mrs. Romney attacked the subject of "Public Apathy, Concern or Indifference."

She drew a parallel between the aims of our effort in Vietnam and the present state of society here in America.

★ ★ ★

Saying, "We either have a society governed by laws or by whim," she continued, "we should change it (a law) when we don't like it, but we don't break it, or we have chaos."

★ ★ ★

She emphasized the importance of the role of the homemaker as a moulder of the future and urged her listeners to start with themselves, by "improving the quality of our own lives."

STUDENT UNREST

Touching on the student unrest at Columbia University, Mrs. Romney said she was shocked and horrified at the results of "students trying to take matters into their own hands."

She suggested that the obliteration of moral guidelines has created a vacuum on college campuses. To abolish restrictions because they are unenforceable, e.g. the coed dorm-visiting rules, is an abandonment of responsibility on the part of administrations, she added.

★ ★ ★

The morning session was taken up with three class sessions, "History of Michigan" by Dr. Douglas Dunham of Michigan State University social science department; "Your Family Tree" by Mrs. Joanne Harvey, genealogist; and "Drugs in Today's Society," with speaker Dr. William King, psychiatrist of Pontiac State Hospital.

When Should a Wife Just Stay Home?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
In Money Management

FEELEY

What are we coming to when women feel they have to justify staying at home with the kids instead of going off to work?

I've come to expect the mail that asks "why shouldn't I get a job?" But today's change of pace reflects a yearning for the old-time security summed up in "woman's place is in the home."

Writes Mrs. E. H., of Rochelle, Illinois:

Dear Miss Feeley:

When my husband died two years ago, all I could think about was finding work to take care of my family. I did, but have forfeited the veteran's widow's pension and some Social Security, because my income was "over limits." I'm even paying the VA for their overpayments to me in 1966.

I suppose I'm really looking for an excuse to quit, since I have three young children at home. I worry about my second-grader, who comes home to an empty house so many times (her older brother and sister have extra-curricular activities.

I don't feel they should be deprived of simply because I'm at work. I only know there's a definite pleasure on my day off to see the big grin on my little girl's face when she comes in the door to find me home.

It will be difficult to give up a $200-plus-a-month job. I know Social Security was not created to get rich on, either. However, would I not be ahead to be home — less wardrobe, car expense, lunches, etc.? Also, more economical cooking.

And it's certainly true that I'm usually too exhausted and inclined to be ill. I am 50, and the personnel director of my company informed me that to get any place there, one would have to stay at least 20 years, full time!

What is your opinion? Of course, what I really want you to say is "Quit!" But the idea of boredom and loneliness frightens me. Is there really enough at home to "stay busy?"

Dear Mrs. H.:

If three young children can't keep you busy, balancing your new budget will — minus that $200 a month salary. So I'll say the magic word with confidence: Quit.

Actually, you've probably been spending around $70 a month on job-related expenses anyway. Statistics show that the average woman with a family who holds down a regular job must allot from 30 to 40 per cent of her income to all those expenses you mentioned, plus some others you didn't mention — such as office donations, coffee breaks, upkeep of clothing and shoes.

So, if you can figure out a way to make do with the Social Security and pension that you'll be entitled to when you're no longer earning, then I'd say both you and the children stand to gain.

Perhaps as they grow, and their wants do, too, you can review the job situation. You'll still be young enough, and they'll be old enough.

The following letter, in the same mail, ought to boost your morale:

Dear Miss Feeley:

You don't seem to say much about the happy housewives who don't want to hold down a job outside the home — and who wear pretty housedresses, keep their hair looking nice and enjoy doing the ironing, watching TV or listening to the radio.

Mrs. A. N., Haines City, Fla.

Reinforce Buttons

As soon as you have finished sewing on the buttons on any new garment, go over each button and put a dab of clear nail polish in the center, covering the thread that holds the button. These buttons will stay on ever so much longer in spite of children's rough treatment. This can save a lot of time spent in resewing button.

Mrs. Howard C. Kuhn (nee Virginia Muldoon) was awarded a BA degree recently from Oakland University. Mrs. Kuhn, who received her degree from the School of Elementary Education, resides on East Boulevard South.

University Club Sets a Date

The Village Woman's Club will be the setting for the May 10 annual meeting and bridge luncheon of the University of Minnesota Women's Club.

★ ★ ★

Beginning with a social hour at 11:30 a.m., hostesses at the event will be Mrs. Carl Nepper and Mrs. Howard Green.

Highlight of the meeting will be a report of the nominating committee.

Viet-Bound Men Get GI-Loan Aid

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON — A major problem facing some men heading for Vietnam is buying a home for their families before they leave and having to do it in a hurry. So the Veterans Administration has ordered its people to act with special speed on such GI loans.

BAULCH

By getting the sellers, the leaders, the appraisers and others to join in the rush process, days are shaved here and there in the usually lengthy process.

As an example, one case file I looked at was that of an Army staff sergeant who wanted to move his family into a home in upper New York state before he left for the war zone.

His process was reduced to 16 days, including weekends, from the time he signed the purchase contract.

But things aren't always that simple.

There was the case of another Army man who had to leave for Vietnam before the sale could be completed. Meanwhile, the seller permitted the soldier's wife and children to move into the house without closing the deal.

Then the wife and the generous home seller were told the loan application had been turned down because the soldier had a bad credit history. They appealed and the VA looked into the situation a bit more.

★ ★ ★

It was found his credit rating wasn't really as bad as it seemed on the surface and, besides, his wife had some income-producing property and was able to make a small down payment. So the deal was closed under the power of attorney her husband had left with her.

NOT ENOUGH INCOME

And then there was the technical sergeant, getting ready for Vietnam duty, who wanted to buy a $17,000 home in the Washington area for his wife and 10 children.

The VA figured he didn't make enough money under the circumstances and turned him down. He appealed to the VA central office.

Paul Dorsey, the VA expert in the central office, personally looked into the case. It turned out the sergeant, in his mid-30s, was adept at adding to his income by moonlighting.

★ ★ ★

His wife had always made all the children's clothes. They didn't owe a dime and had a reputation for paying bills promptly.

CHANGED HIS MIND

And, figuring the sergeant would be getting more pay in the combat zone, the VA changed its mind and the deal went through.

Dorsey says there's been no kickback, so the mortgage payments apparently are being kept up.

There's a problem too when a man is killed in Vietnam and there's a mortgage on the family home. It can result in foreclosure and if the property sale doesn't take care of the debt the veteran's estate is liable for the remainder.

★ ★ ★

But some cases have happy endings—for instance:

A GI killed in Vietnam owned a home in Tennessee and when payments weren't made, foreclosure was started. His widow offered to use part of her husband's $10,000 GI insurance and sent the VA a check to clear up the debt.

SECOND LOOK

The VA took a second look at her case and decided using the insurance to pay the debt would be a real hardship on the family. Under its authority to act in such cases, the VA forgave the debt and returned the widow's check.

Another San Francisco GI with shrapnel wounds in both legs found he couldn't get to and from work from his high-rise apartment and needed to buy a home quickly.

The VA managed to process his application in 21 days—actually 15 work days excluding Saturdays and Sundays.

Dual Water Plan Urged

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Some Americans drink polluted water while others sprinkle their lawns with what's practically mountain spring water, a North Carolina sanitary engineer claims.

The solution, says Dr. Daniel A. Okun of the University of North Carolina, is a dual water system; one kind for drinking and the other for washing, flushing and other uses.

Both water supplies would be sanitary under his program, says Dr. Okun, so there would be no danger of poisoning someone who carelessly drank utility water.

The drinking water would be taken from high-quality sources such as upper-valley reservoirs fed by streams, springs and precipitation, before it has been exposed to industrial or urban contamination.

★ ★ ★

The secondary water could be reconditioned from sources that had been contaminated but could be purified by chemical or other means.

Fair-Housing Bill Strengthened in State House

LANSING (AP) — The House Civil Rights Committee Wednesday adopted two strengthening amendments to the Senate-passed open-housing ibll, then voted down a third.

The nine-member committee scheduled a second meeting on the controversial measure today, hoping to send it to the House floor.

★ ★ ★

The bill, strongly backed by Gov. George Romney and proposed after last summer's racial rioting, outlaws discrimination in rental or sale of housing. Bias complaints could be filed with the State Civil Rights Commission.

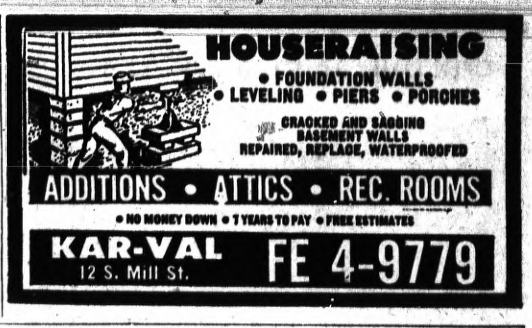
Approved Wednesday was a provision intended to make it easier to prove a complaint—requiring only a decision based on "the preponderance of the evidence." A Senate amendment would require proof "beyond a reasonable doubt."

A second change made by the House committee was designed to clarify that a person cited in a complaint and involved in proceedings before the commission could not end them abruptly by demanding a jury trial.

Defeated on a 4-4 vote, however, was a provision making the state liable for fees and costs of a person named in a complaint which is dismissed. The bill now provides that a court could assess fees and costs against the person filing the complaint.

"You're not helping the respondent any by making him chase the complainant around to try to collect his costs," said Rep. David Serotkin, R-Mount Clemens.

Rep. George Prescott, R-Tawas City, said the threat of being charged the cost would help deter "capricious complaints."



JP System Hit in Debate by State Senate

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's justice of the peace system was called "rotten and corrupt" on the Senate floor Wednesday.

The justices had their defenders, however, and one amendment to allow nonlawyer justices to run for district judgeships won preliminary approval.

★ ★ ★

The debate over the court reorganization bill kept the attention of only those most immediately concerned.

Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, presiding on the rostrum over the preliminary debate, repeatedly had to hammer his gavel to bring the Senate to order.

RAPS AMENDMENT

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, an attorney, voiced the most outspoken objections to an amendment to the court bill to allow nonlawyer justices of the peace to run for district judges in their own districts.

"The justice courts were so rotten, we decided to abolish them," declared Brown. "We shouldn't allow these corrupt justices to continue in office."

Sen. John Toepp, R-Cadillac, objected.

Some justices have been caught taking funds," he said. "But not all of them were laymen. A crook is a crook whether he is a layman or a lawyer. It is not fair to call all of them corrupt."

Toepp estimated there are some 3,000 justices of the peace in Michigan, some laymen and some lawyers. His amendment proposed that, under the so-called "grandfather clause," the nonlawyers be allowed to run for district judge seats against lawyers.

'NOT FAIR'

"It is not fair to legislate them out of office," Toepp said of the nonlawyer justices. "Some of the laymen are just as good as the lawyers. You don't have to have a law degree to handle this so-called 'poor man's court'."

The Toepp amendment was given preliminary approval on a 13-5 vote. Less than half the Senate members were recorded in a show of hands.

A similar amendment failed in the House. Opponents of the proposal predicted it also would be defeated in the Senate on the final showdown vote.

House Votes for Pay Setters

LANSING (AP) — Most folks would love the power to set their own salaries, but Michigan legislators — who have that power — are thinking of giving it away.

The House Wednesday gave 81-19 approval to a proposed constitutional amendment creating an executive compensation commission which would set pay scales for the governor, lieutenant governor, Supreme Court justices and lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

Currently, the Legislature sets salaries for itself and the other officials, and lawmakers' pay cannot be raised during their terms. The no-raise provision would be erased by the House-passed measure.

The House passed 69-30 a Senate-approved bill deleting a provision of the State School Code forbidding dissemination of birth control education, information or advice.

Approved 79-26 was another Senate-passed bill, authorizing public school districts to provide, in elementary and secondary schools and adult education classes, "wholesome and comprehensive education and instruction in sex education."

The bill, introduced by Sen. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, requires the State Department of Education to help local districts desiring to set up sex education programs and to make materials available.

Marinades Will Tenderize Meat

MARINATED STEAK — This Shoulder Steak has been marinated overnight in a Red Wine Marinade of wine, oil, herbs and Tabasco liquid red pepper seasoning. It's a succulent entree served with broiled tomatoes and fresh bread.

Marinades usually call to mind pot roasts, chuck steak or any number of other good meat dishes.

Actually we may steep just about any food we like in a spicy mixture of oil, acid and herbs.

These recipes for beef marinade are designed for two different tastes — one is basically a wine sauce; the second is much more spicy. Both use the basic combination of acid, oil, herbs and Tabasco, the red pepper sauce that's a must for beef.

When preparing the Red Wine Marinade for Shoulder Steak, keep all the ingredients in a glass or enamel dish. Stainless steel may also be used but not aluminum or porous containers. If you have one, turn the steak with a wooden spoon.

As the steak stands in the Tabasco and spice mixture, the acid and oil will begin the tenderizing action and carry the flavor of the pepper and spices throughout the meat.

This is a slightly tougher cut of meat but overnight marinating will make it a most tender, succulent entree.

Red Wine Marinade for Shoulder Steak

2-pound shoulder steak
1 cup red wine
¼ cup lemon juice
1 garlic clove
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dried leaf marjoram
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Put steak in glass or enamel container. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over steak. Marinate in refrigerator overnight, turning once.

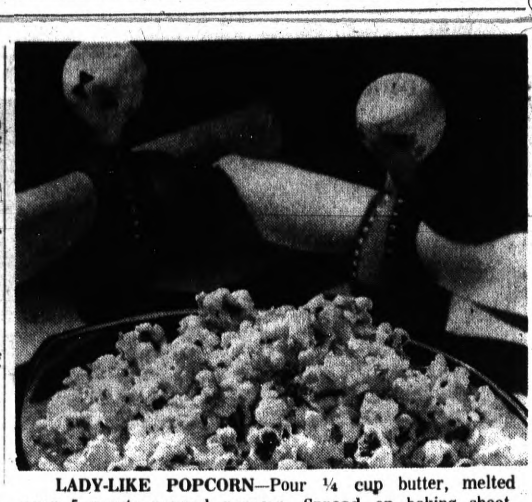
When ready to cook, line broiler pan under rack with aluminum foil. Place meat on broiler rack. Broil 5 inches from heat, 10 to 15 minutes on each side to desired degree of doneness.

Cut steak into very thin slices. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Tabasco Herb Marinade for Chuck Steak

¼ cup lime juice or vinegar
½ cup salad oil
½ teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon each dried leaf thyme and basil
¼ teaspoon powdered rosemary
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Follow instructions for shoulder steak, using chuck steak.



LADY-LIKE POPCORN—Pour ¼ cup butter, melted over 5 quarts popped popcorn. Spread on baking sheet. Combine 4 teaspoons grated lemon peel, ¼ cup sugar and ¼ cup teaspoon mace. Sprinkle over buttered popcorn. Place in 325-degree oven for 3 to 5 minutes. Makes 5 quarts.

Swirl Melted Chocolate in Orange Filling

This recipe for Orange Chiffon Pie is proof that there's no reason for oranges to take second place to lemons for pies with refreshing, tangy flavor. The product responsible for the sunshiny tang and rich, full flavor is frozen orange juice concentrate.

★ ★ ★

Unlike home-squeezed orange juice, frozen orange juice is a blend of juices from several varieties of oranges, selected at the degree of ripeness when flavor, color, body and Vitamin C content are at the peak of perfection.

ORANGE CHIFFON PIE

2 cups chocolate wafer crumbs
¾ cup melted butter or margarine
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 cup water
3 egg yolks
¾ cup sugar
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
2 tablespoons frozen lemon juice
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 cup (½ pint) heavy cream, whipped
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted

Mix crumbs with butter. Press mixture evenly over bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Chill. Sprinkle gelatine on ½ cup of the water; let stand 5 minutes to soften.

Combine egg yolks, sugar, orange juice concentrate, lemon juice and remaining ½ cup water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a spoon. Do not boil.

Add softened gelatine and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened.

Fold in beaten egg whites and whipped cream. Add half the melted chocolate and stir only until chocolate is swirled evenly through mixture. Pour into crumb-lined pie pan. Using a tablespoon, drizzle remaining melted chocolate in fine lines across top of pie. Chill until firm.

Makes one 9-inch pie.

ORANGE CHIFFON PIE — A chocolate wafer crust and melted chocolate morsels set off the tangy chiffon filling of this pie prepared with frozen orange juice concentrate. Some of the melted chocolate is swirled through the filling as well as drizzled over the top.

Fruit Sauce Gives Duckling Glamour

A fruit-flavored sauce complements roast duck.

Roast Duck Christine

3 to 5 pound duckling
1 tablespoon each sugar and wine vinegar
Grated rind and juice of 2 oranges and 2 lemons

Roast duck in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 1½ to 1¾ hours or until skin is crisp and leg joint moves easily.

★ ★ ★

In a small saucepan over low heat, cook the sugar and vinegar until sugar begins to caramelize; add fruit juice. Pour off fat from roasting pan; add juice mixture to pan and stir over low heat to get up brown particles; simmer about 10 minutes; add grated rind.

Pass sauce with duck. Makes 4 servings.

Mash Avocado for a Spread

Use frozen tortillas instead of bread, with a hot chili spread for the brave, and let the fiesta begin.

GUACAMOLE
(Avocado Appetizer)

2 medium-sized, very ripe avocados
2 medium-sized ripe peeled tomatoes
1 small onion, grated very fine
2 tablespoons chili powder
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 teaspoons (1 each) lime and lemon juice
Dash of paprika
2 teaspoons salt (more or less)
Freshly ground pepper to taste
½ teaspoon coriander (or more to taste

Mash avocados with fork. Add the other ingredients and stir into a paste that has texture and is not too smooth.

This dish is best if made immediately before serving. But if you want to make it a bit ahead of time, be sure to put avocado seed in the spread and wrap the dish tightly with foil or cellophane wrap so it will not darken.

Serve with Tostaditas or crackers. Makes 3 cups of spread.

Cooks Use Two Kinds of Gelatin—Not Interchangeably

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Oooh, did I goof! My mistake and a telephone conversation I had recently with a puzzled cook are responsible for this article on gelatin cookery.

★ ★ ★

The other night I was making one of my favorite molded salads. The recipe calls for frozen orange juice.

★ ★ ★

This I had, but I discovered a can of orange - pineapple concentrate and decided to use that. I was putting canned pineapple in the salad.

To my dismay, when I checked the salad the next morning, it was still soupy. Only then did I remember that frozen pineapple juice is like fresh pineapple; it prevents gelatin from setting.

What could I do?

First of all, I dissolved some unflavored gelatin in cold water and added it to the salad liquid. Then I heated that mixture.

That did two things; it melted the new gelatin and changed the character of the frozen pineapple juice. Then the salad would set.

So, profit from my experience, all ye cooks. Don't use frozen pineapple, frozen pineapple juice or fresh pineapple in gelatin mixtures and exepct them to set.

The question put to me by one of our readers was what is the difference between unflavored gelatin and the powdered gelatins we buy for desserts and salads?

NOT INTERCHANGEABLE

She had substituted two tablespoons of flavored gelatin for the same amount of unflavored gelatin specified in her recipe. It didn't work and her salad was soupy like mine.

Unflavored gelatin is a pure protein substance which swells on contact with a liquid and dissolves in a hot liquid. One tablespoon (the amount in each package) will gel two cups of liquid.

Flavored gelatin, says Woman's Day Encyclopedia of Cookery which is my authority today, is a commercial mixture of unflavored gelatin, sugar, salt, acides, flavorings and certified coloring.

There is only one rule to follow with both these products. Read and follow the directions on the package.

If you've never used unflavored gelatin, the following recipe is a good way to begin.

MOCHA MOLD

¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons instant coffee powder
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
¼ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
3 egg yolks
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
6 tablespoons sugar
½ cup whipping cream, whipped Sweetened whipped cream
Chocolate curls

MARKET BASKET

In a 1-quart saucepan combine sugar, coffee powder, gelatin and salt. Beat together milk and egg yolks; gradually add to gelatin mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon (about 8 minutes). Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla.

Place in large mixing bowl; chill until mixture thickens slightly. Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and beat until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar and beat until sugar is dissolved and peaks fold over.

Fold egg whites and whipped cream into coffee mixture. Pour into 5 cup ring mold. Cut with knife to reduce air holes. Chill until firm.

Unmold; serve with sweetened whipped cream and chocolate curls. Makes 6-8 servings.

Your old standby, flavored gelatin, thickens this cherry-cottage cheese mold.

CHERRY AND ALMOND GELATIN MOLD

½ cup chopped or sliced blanched almonds
1 pkg. (6 oz.) cherry flavored gelatin*
1 can (1 lb.) dark sweet pitted cherries
⅔ cup water
1 carton (16 oz.) creamed cottage cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup evaporated milk

Place almonds in a shallow pan and toast in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) until lightly browned, about 5 to 8 minutes. Cool before using.

Place gelatin in a medium size mixing bowl. Drain liquid from cherries into a pint measure, then add water to make 1½ cups. Bring liquid to a boil, then pour over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in the ⅔ cup water. Cool.

Cut cherries in halves. Stir cherries into the cooled gelatin along with the cottage cheese, mayonnaise and almonds. Blend in evaporated milk.

Chill until mixture begins to set, then laddle into a well oiled 1½ to 2 quart mold. Chill until set, about 3 to 4 hours. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

*Two 3 oz. packages of cherry gelatin may be used in place of the 6 oz. package.

Freeze Patties

To freeze hamburger meat to be used at a future date, shape into individual patties& separating the patties with waxed paper; then wrap and freeze.

PINEAPPLE SHERBET

Put Desserts in Refrigerator

Gelatins are used in frozen desserts and refrigerator cakes. They prevent large crystals from forming in ice cream.

PINEAPPLE-BUTTERMILK SHERBET

1 can (9 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
3 cups buttermilk
¾ cup sugar

★ ★ ★

Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Sprinkle gelatin over reserved juice; let stand 5 minutes; dissolve over boiling water. Combine buttermilk, drained pineapple, sugar and dissolved gelatin; stir until sugar dissolves.

★ ★ ★

Pour into refrigerator tray; freeze until firm around edges, but soft in center. Turn into chilled bowl; beat well. Return to refrigerator tray; freeze until firm. Makes about 1 quart sherbet.

ORANGE REFRIGERATOR CAKE

2 11-ounce cans Japanese Mandarin oranges
1 6-ounce package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
18 to 20 lady fingers, split
2 cups heavy cream, whipped

★ ★ ★

Drain juice from Mandarin oranges; if necessary, add enough water to make 2 cups, and bring to boil. Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid; add cold water, and cool until mixture is syrupy.

Line bottom and sides of 9" spring form pan with lady fingers. Fold syrupy mixture into whipped cream with Mandarin oranges, reserving a sufficient quantity of the segments for garnishing.

Pour into lined cake pan, and chill for several hours, or overnight. Makes 10 servings.

Cream Mold Flavored With Cinnamon

For a lovely dessert after a walk, try this delicate molded cinnamon cream with fresh strawberries.

MOLDED CINNAMON CREAM

2 sticks cinnamon, 2 inches long
1½ cups light cream
1 cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
Fresh, frozen or canned fruit

Heat for 10 minutes (do not boil) cinnamon, light cream and sugar. Soften gelatin in cold water and stir into hot cream mixture.

Cool and chill until mixture begins to thicken. Remove cinnamon. Beat sour cream until smooth and fluffy. Fold into the mixture along with vanilla extract.

Turn into oiled individual molds or into an oiled 1-quart mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold and serve with fresh, frozen or canned fruit. Six portions.

Chewy Oats Cookies Are Good Travelers

Bake hearty, good-tasting cookies for your boys and girls overseas or away at school. Beware of the fragile, fancily frosted ones that can't take a trip.

These Coconut Oat Drops are ideal travelers. A generous amount of rolled oats gives them crisp yet chewy texture so that the cookies hold up well for shipping.

The toastiness of oats combined with subtle sweetness of flavor in addition to added flaked coconut yield good nourishment. Breakfast cereals, when used as an ingredient in recipes, make contributions of protein, B vitamins, and minerals.

A good way to wrap these cookies for mailing is in foil or saran, six to eight cookies in a pack.

Coconut Oak Drop Cookies

2¼ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
2 cups rolled oats, quick or regular, uncooked
½ cup shortening
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar, packed
2 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup chopped pecans
1 can (3½ ounce) flaked coconut

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, and soda. Stir in oats. Cream shortening and butter or margarine. Add sugars, eggs, and vanilla; cream until fluffy.

Stir in dry ingredients. Add pecans and coconut; mix well. Chill dough.

Shape rounded tablespoonfuls of dough into balls. Place 2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Flatten with fork.

Bake in moderate oven (350) degrees) until done and lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: about 5 dozen cookies.

Serve Beans in Mustard

"Mustard Beans" is a fast and easy way to bring new interest to canned Blue Lake green beans, those favorite, stringless beans from the Northwest.

Dill weed, onion and beef consomme contribute their flavors, too, making this recipe a tasty way to serve green beans when you are serving beef or ham.

Mustard Beans

1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon instant minced onion or 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
½ cup undiluted canned consomme
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Dash dill weed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Drain beans. Combine cornstarch, onion, consomme, mustard and dill weed; stir until smooth. Cook, stirring, until mixture comes to boil and is thickened. Stir in butter and beans; heat.

Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Lumps are OK

Lumps in evaporated milk are formed by the solids settling during storage. The Consumer and marketing Service says the lumps do not harm the milk. To prevent lumping, turn or shake at frequent intervals during storage.

Deviled Eggs Top for New Casserole

Ralph Waldo Emerson said it: "There is always a best way of doing everything, if it be to boil an egg." And the proper way to boil an egg is, strangely enough, not to boil it.

For best flavor and tender quality, lower the eggs carefully into rapidly boiling water. Turn down the heat immediately and allow the eggs to cook just under the boil for the required length of time.

They're easier to shell if you prick the small end with a needle before cooking. Crack them by tapping gently all over and begin peeling from the large end where there is an air space.

Just as there is a correct way to cook an egg, there is also a best way of seasoning. The spicy goodness of Tabasco liquid red pepper sauce is a natural for the mild-mannered egg. Springtime Deviled Egg Casserole is a marvelous dish for buffets or sunny brunches.

SPRINGTIME DEVILED EGG CASSEROLE
Deviled Eggs

6 Hard-cooked eggs
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Cool eggs; remove shells and cut into lengthwise halves. Slip out yolks; sieve and mix well with remaining ingredients. Refill whites, using pastry tube if desired.

Cheese Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour and salt. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add Tabasco and cheese; stir until cheese melts.

Asparagus

Wash 2 pounds asparagus; break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Cook in boiling salted water in a large covered skillet for 5 to 10 minutes, just until crisp-tender. Drain. If desired, 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen asparagus may be substituted for fresh. Cook according to package directions.

To Assemble

Place hot asparagus in shallow baking dish; top with deviled egg halves. Spoon hot sauce overall. Bake in 375 degree oven, 10 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Saute Onions to Flavor Soup

When the children arrive home for lunch, be sure that the meal you've planned is not only tasty but also nutritious. A well-balanced menu, centered around the four food groups, is important for proper growth and development.

The wise homemaker serves cream soups often for she knows that they make a valuable contribution to daily nutrient requirements. All the protein, vitamins and minerals provided by milk as a beverage are also provided by milk used as an ingredient in recipes.

Creamy Onion Soup

4 cups thinly sliced onion
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 quart milk
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup shredded Parmesan or Cheddar cheese

Saute onion in butter until tender and golden. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened.

Add a small amount of hot mixture to egg yolks, beating constantly. Return yolk mixture to hot mixture and add Worcestershire sauce. Heat thoroughly.

Serve in hot soup bowls. Sprinkle with Parmesan or Cheddar cheese. Makes 5½ cups soup, enough for 6 to 8 servings.

Have Butcher Saw Roast

Baste Lamb With Honey

Lamb is such a unique meat that it's possible to combine the qualities of nutrition, flavor and economy with that of "no carving" if you select a precarved lamb shoulder roast.

The butcher has a special saw which will cut through the bones in the square cut lamb shoulder. He will then tie the roast so that when you are ready to serve it, you will need only a pair of scissors to cut the string and have each slice fall into portions.

As with all lamb use a low temperature for best results. Set the oven at 325 degrees and place the meat on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.

Do not cover and do not add water. The fat covering the roast acts as a baster and keeps the meat moist.

Honey-Lemon Lamb Shoulder

¼ cup chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
Precarved shoulder of lamb*
1 medium lemon, sliced
⅓ cup honey
2 tablespoons orange juice
⅛ teaspoon ground allspice

Sprinkle parsley and salt and pepper in carved lamb. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in 325 degree (slow) oven 30 to 35 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees for medium doneness.

Halve lemon slices; insert in lamb. Blend honey, orange juice and allspice and baste occasionally on lamb, the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Makes 6 servings.

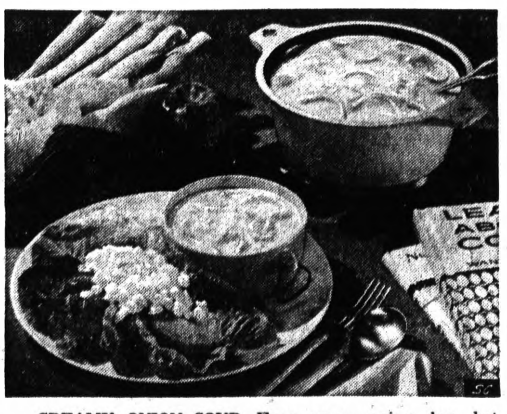
*Have meatman saw and tie.

Make Dessert With That Rice

Rice is one of the few foods that can be reheated without changing flavor. Try it in a low-cost pudding, mixed and cooked in the top of a double boiler.

★ ★ ★

For each cup of cooked rice, stir in ¼ cup sugar (or sweeten to taste) and ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract. Add ¼ cup milk and cook over simmering water until milk is absorbed, 15 to 20 minutes. Serve chilled with a center accent of strawberry jam.



CREAMY ONION SOUP—Even on a spring day, hot soup is welcome for lunch. Serve this different kind of cream soup with your favorite sandwich and fruit for dessert.

BLAME IT ON THE WEATHER — A drought-caused sinkhole which appeared in Winter Haven, Fla., Monday has been growing in size since. It is swallowing, room by room, the $40,000 home of Polk Junior College instructor Dr. Evelyn Brunson. Gone, so far, are the carport, utility room and kitchen. When last measured, the hole was 125 feet wide and 50 feet deep.

Step Reported in Taming of the H-Bomb

By SCIENCE SERVICE

A step toward use of the hydrogen bomb principle for generating electric power is reported.

A substantial reduction in the instabilities of the hot hydrogen gases squeezed in magnetic "bottles" to study controlled fusion has been achieved at Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Livermore, Calif.

The new work partly bridges the gap between the turbulent behavior normally encountered in plasma containment experiments and the stable conditions required for success in a controlled fusion reactor.

Impurities, such as cold plasma and dirt in the chamber, can cause the instabilities, providing the hope of further reduction of instabilities.

★ ★ ★

A consequence of the reduction has been the maintenance of fusion reactions for a two-thousandth of a second — about three to four times longer than in earlier experiments.

This lifetime is about one-tenth what it would be if the plasma were completely stable.

U.S. Missionaries Kept Busy in Congo

By MORT ROSENBLUM

KARAWA, the Congo (AP) — For many, a missionary is a lonely pauper in funny clothes with a grave look, spouting Bible verse while slapping mosquitoes and dodging spears.

No more . . . now mostly just the Bible and the mosquitoes are left. And the Bible is, increasingly, taking second place to a blackboard or a stethoscope.

★ ★ ★

There's Grace Nelson, for example. Hovering around middle age, she jounces around Karawa Mission Station on a motorbike, holding onto her nurse's cap with a free hand. The missionaries at Karawa eat food shipped from Denmark and the United States and one of their chief complaints is the perfidy of the community's generator. The children, with their own school, say they'd prefer to stay put, though they miss apples and peaches once in a while.

And there's Sam Vinton. He spends half the year in a luxurious villa in Bukavu which he figures he's earned after 40 years of building a school-dispensary-workshop complex in the bush. At 60, he still hasn't carried out his threat of retiring and anyway his son plans take over the mission.

MANY MISSIONARIES

There are 1,450 Protestants and 5,800 Catholic missionaries in the Congo, doing everything from running a Catholic news service to seeking substitutes for fertilizer. They subsidize more than half of the Congo's teachers and make up one-eighth of the doctors.

Objective observers close to the missions say long years in a single post tend to bring out extremes, making a missionary either very effective or very damaging.

★ ★ ★

"What are needed now," says Bryon Ediger, whose mission hostel in Kinshasa fills 11,700 beds a year, "are more well trained young people to spend a few years at a specific job and leave. It's the perfect chance to teach by Christian example and do some good."

Ediger, 24, is a Mennonite conscientious objector from Buhler, Kan., here with his wife in lieu of military service.

WORKERS NEEDED

Many old-timers, like Vinton, say the trick is finding missionaries who will work. "When we first came here," he recalls, "there were plenty ready to do the preaching. We needed people to work."

Missionaries serve for three years and go home, coming back if they want. Their houses, looking mostly Midwestern ranch style, are comfortable and well-staffed. Most stations have airstrips.

Ann Berg of Oakland, Calif., in the Congo since 1945, runs the women's program.

"I try to get out as much as possible," she says, "always staying with village families. Once I had trouble sleeping because the rats kept walking over a wire that was strung inside (as a clothesline) and falling onto my mosquito netting. Every few minutes I had to wake up and kick them off."

Experts believe air travel could increase as much as 136 per cent in 1970 over the 1965 level of nearly 49 billion passengers.

Opening lead—♠K

By OSWALD And JAMES JACOBY

Here is a hand from the early '30s which Fred Karpin calls as beautiful a falsecard as he has ever seen.

JACOBY

Fred does not mention the declarer's name, but it was the late Louis Watson. We know the hand well. At least one of us does. Oswald Jacoby sat North and as usual had bid a trifle too much.

Louis was a great player who always gave the impression of general sleepiness at the table.

West opened the king of spades and continued with the ace. Louis dropped his jack of spades on that second spade lead. He did it so carelessly that West did not pause to ask himself, "What is Louis up to?"

If declarer had done so he would have deliberately led his dence of spades. East would have ruffed that and cashed his ace of clubs to set the contract, but West just continued with the 10 of spades.

East was convinced that Louis was going to ruff that third spade and East dropped his three of clubs.

West had to lead again and selected a diamond. Louis was in with the king and at first glance it appears that Louis would still have to lose a trick.

A second glance shows that he did not have to. Louis simply ran off all his trumps and discarded four clubs from dummy.

This left dummy with the ace-queen-seven of diamonds while Louis held the king-eight of clubs and nine of diamonds.

East couldn't keep the ace of clubs and three diamonds so a squeeze had materialized and the false-card was properly rewarded.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1♠	Dble	4♠
Pass	Pass	Dble	Pass
5♣	Pass	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠A8764 ♥K10532 ♦54 ♣3

What do you do?

A—Double. You have two probable defensive tricks and your partner has opened the bidding.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Again East doubles your partner's one spade opening. This time you hold:

♠A8764 ♥A10532 ♦54 ♣3

What do you do now?

Atlanta 'Snowed'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Nothing creates more excitement than to predict snow for Atlanta, says a retiring U.S. weatherman. Harry Armstrong, who retired after 41 years of weather forecasting, said, "I've predicted hurricanes for Florida and all sorts of other weather. But just call for snow in Atlanta—wow!"

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Responsibility of home, family is accented. In making decisions, consult one close to you. Many are sensitive, may be easily hurt. Realize this — act accordingly. Be generous, not extravagant.

TARUS (April 20-May 20): Accent on short journeys, social activity. Excellent for surprise party involving relatives. Be versatile. Display sense of humor. Don't be rigid in views. Expand area of interests.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Emphasis on how you spend and collect funds. Some friends request aid. Give this careful consideration. You could lose valued friend if overly permissive. Draw line between help and giveaway.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle high. Superiors may request overtime effort. Whatever you do is appreciated. Realize this — put forth best effort. No day for petty complaining — handle necessary tasks in person.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Fight tendency to be domineering. Even if certain of role, temper actions with modesty. Some at a distance get reports which might be distorted. Don't compund error. Stick to facts, not rumor.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Business and pleasure may not mix today. Hold tight to money, possessions. Tips from friends may lack substance. Realize this — consult genuine authorities. Read your paper. Absorb knowledge.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You may be called upon to account for actions, expenditures. Have facts available — don't become victim of confusion. Social contact helps solve what appears to be serious dilemma.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Balance reality and desire — today you can move ahead if aware of the rules. Familiarity with details is a necessity. If you become impatient, you risk losing. Remain on even keel — leads to gain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Emotions run high. Find out where you stand. Applies especially to dealing with opposite sex. Nothing seems to occur halfway — it's all the way or nothing. Be ready for all-out effort.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 19): Today you get down to facts about home, agreements, legal committments. A change seems necessary where residence is concerned. A condition in the home will be revised.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Some who promised to aid you now appear to lose interest. Means more work for you. Be cheerful. Confusion is due to genuine misunderstanding. Avoid dispute with relative.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Avoid extravagance. Ignore those who advocate impulsive actions. Key is to time moves. Creative force surges to forefront. But you require discipline to achieve best results. Be mature.

★ ★ ★

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have fine sense of humor. You are versatile. Dramatic and artistic talent is indicated. Avoid having determination turn to stubbornness. Significant change due, including travel.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high -or CANCER, LEO. Special word to a QUARIUS: be analytical. The truth is available and it will provide strength.

Parents, Teachers Elect Three Veeps

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers elected three regional vice presidents Wednesday at the windup of its 50th annual convention.

★ ★ ★

The organization, founded in Battle Creek a half-century ago, selected Flint as the site of its 1969 convention.

★ ★ ★

The 1,500 delegates to the annual meeting named Gordon Williams, Comstock Park; Mrs. David J. Love, Royal Oak; and Mrs. Earl Tate, Detroit, as regional vice presidents for three-year terms. The terms of the three other regional vice presidents will expire in 1970.

City Planners Approve Human Resource Center

The city planning commission last night gave general approval to a proposed plan to build a human resource center — an educational development to replace three elementary schools and parts of four others with one new complex — on a site behind the City Hall.

The commission also elected officers for the coming year.

Howard Simmons of 130 E. Iroquois was elected chairman replacing D. W. Lougheed of 415 Fourth, who became a vice chairman. Lougheed declined another term as chairman.

Also elected vice chairman was F. Keith Hills of 38 Newberry.

★ ★ ★

The commission authorized the city's planning staff to draft recommendations on the Human Resource Center to send to the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education.

EDUCATION COMPLEX

The school board has plans to construct a new educational complex on the site adjacent to City Hall and behind the board of education administrative office.

The complex is slated to replace McConnell, Central and Baldwin elementary schools.

In other business, the commission approved a request to extend manufacturing zoning to a lot at 435 S. Sanford for expansion of a manufacturing building next to the lot.

★ ★ ★

The commission also voted to recommend denial of a petition for rezoning for multiple construction a lot at 1220 Joslyn.

FAILED TO APPEAR

The petitioner, who had requested the rezoning from single family zoning to build four two-bedroom apartment units, failed to appear at the meeting, Planning Commission Secretary Henry Smith said.

A number of adjacent home owners objected to the rezoning and the commission concluded that it would be bad zoning to allow the multiple development in a residential neighborhood, Smith said.

Status Unclear for Supervisors

'68 Reapportionment Unresolved Question

Whether the Oakland County board of Suprvisors will be reapportioned this year has not been resolved in spite of one more court ruling on the issue.

The reapportionment will greatly change the structure and operations of the board. Its membership will be reduced from 87 to 27 and the southern communities will have a far larger voice on the one-man, one-vote principle.

The U.S. Supreme Court, acting on a Texas case, upset Michigan's county system. Since this happened on April 1, the state court has been reconsidering cases on the issue including one from Oakland County.

A reapportionment plan had been submitted, but was challenged. Both the State Supreme Court and Appeals Court are involved in the issue.

County officials have been waiting for rulings from them before deciding if reapportionment could be done this year.

Yesterday's ruling by the Court of Appeals cleared the one-man, one-vote principle, but didn't specify a timetable. No ruling has been made yet on the Oakland County reapportionment plan, so officials still can't proceed.

An election could be held coinciding with this year's national elections or a special election could be called, according to officials.

Arson Blamed for Pontiac Fire

A fire in a Pontiac home early today has been blamed on arsonists and is under investigation by city police and fire officials.

The blaze at 284 Luther, a house owned by Mrs. Ruth Gracey of 288 Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills, was discovered shortly before 2 a.m.

Three vehicles under the command of Assistant Chief Albert Rayner responded to the alarm and were at the scene more than 90 minutes.

Firemen said they found evidence of arson, including burnt rags and piles of paper soaked with an acelerant, in six rooms.

Damage to the building was estimated at more than $2,000. No estimate of damage to contents has been made.

Mrs. Dorothy Wray, occupant of the house, was not home at the time of the blaze.

Probe of Theft in Early Stage, Police Report

The investigation of the $50,000 robbery of two GMTC Credit Union employes Tuesday is still in the preliminary stages, Pontiac police said today.

Capt. Charles Gale, chief of city detectives, said local investigators are still attempting to determine the escape route taken by the lone gunman who took the white canvas bag containing the cash.

Tracking dogs brought to the scene shortly after the 11 a.m. robbery failed to pick up a scent.

The bandit apparently waited at a bus stop until the employes made their way from the nearby Community National Bank into a parking lot adjacent to the credit union.

He then drew his gun, demanded the bag, and fled on foot.

Police have released a partial list of serial numbers of the stolen bills.

These—all 20s—include: G45435501A through G454356 and G45435651A through G45435745A.

'Seduce and Destroy' Girls Lure Marines

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — That beautiful Vietnamese girl, her silken black hair swirling about her fragile body as she bathes in the stream can be an angel of death.

Vietcong terrorists around this big Marine base are now using "seduce and destroy" squads of girls, in attempts to entice Leathernecks to their deaths.

Marine sources said three Marines were missing and one was killed by the female assassination teams in three months.

A captured Vietcong confirmed that attractive girls were being recruited and trained in English and intelligence work for the assassination teams.

In one recent incident, three Marines on patrol near their camp spotted three girls swimming nude in a stream. A few minutes later, one Marine lay dead, face down in the water. The other two are still missing.

PROBABLE LURES

"It is considered probable that the females were used as lures," the sources said.

The first inkling of the death-dealing decoys came in January when Marine counterintelligence units uncovered what they called a "Vietcong suicide platoon, composed of approximately 30 females." The girls were already operating near this sprawling Marine complex.

The girls, many believed to be fresh-faced teen-agers like many Marines, work in the time-honored tradition: strike up a conversation, get the Marine talking about himself, make an appointment for a quiet rendezvous, then arrange the kill.

Marine sources said the effectiveness of the "seduce and destroy" missions—a play on the Marine combat plan of "search and destroy"—is still limited. But they are concerned enough to begin putting out warnings to the grunts, as the lower ranked men are called. The curfew, which is imposed at 8 p.m. in the once-lovely city of Da Nang, is strictly controlled.

MOSTLY OFF-LIMITS

Much of the city is completely off-limits to the Leathernecks. Houses of prostitution, vermin-infested, tin-roofed shacks, stand less than 100 yards from the main gates of some camps. Officials are not too concerned with these. They cannot be eradicated but can be better patrolled when nearby.

They are concerned, however, with the houses located deep in the twisting, dark alleys that wind away from the main streets.

★ ★ ★

And now they are even more worried about the fragile-looking maidens bathing in the leaf-ringed streams near here. They may bestow the kisses of death.

Dedication Marks Teacher of the Year

SANDWICH, Ill. (AP) — David E. Graf, honored by President Johnson as 1968 National Teacher of the Year, is a man with an uncommon dedication to helping children learn.

★ ★ ★

Graf, 51, is the coordinator of a diversified occupations program in Sandwich, a town of 5,000 about 60 miles west of Chicago. His pioneering efforts in this program, which places students in local businesses and industries for half a day, and his work with the mentally retarded, won his national recognition.

★ ★ ★

In ceremonies in Washington, Johnson told Graf the award was in "recognition of your gift to the nation and to those of us who want to see the teaching profession occupy the high place to which it is entitled."

★ ★ ★

Robert Turney, Sandwich superintendent of schools, said Graf was instrumental in establishing a training and employment program for the mentally retarded.

PROVIDES WORKSHOP

The project, Open Door Inc., provides a workshop for the retarded and places them in jobs with local industry, Turney said. Graf's work puts him in constant contact with both students and local businessmen, the superintendent said.

"Dave's a very good public relations man," Turney said.

His efforts were rewarded recently by local donations to build a $35,000 building to house the workshop.

Leonard Barter, Sandwich mayor, said Graf doesn't take part in many other civic acivities. "He's devoted to his teaching and work with the retarded," Barter said.

★ ★ ★

Graf, a teacher for 30 years, said his work with the mentally handicapped has given him, "a tremendous lift."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Barter, who has known Graf for 35 years, said the Teacher of the Year, "is just a common, ordinary guy if you meet him on the street."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Remember when collegians were making news by swallowing goldfish instead of holding demonstrations?

Well, some are still gulping goldfish.

Dan Cavuto of Philadelphia staggered off with top honors Wednesday in the annual goldfish swallowing contest at St. Joseph's College by downing 269 wigglers.

The 240-pound champion and runner-up Bill Shuda, also of Philadelphia, twice wiped out the contest committee's supply of fish. Emergency purchases were made at several pet shops.

CHEWING RULE

Shuda failed on fish No. 200—because of a contest rule that No. 200 must be chewed before swallowing.

The contest was finished despite the protest of an agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who said the contest was "not right for a Catholic college."

★ ★ ★

WSU Paper's 'Nudies' Hit

LANSING (AP) — Nude pictures in a student newspaper, the South End, published by Wayne State University, have been criticized by a state senator.

★ ★ ★

"A student newspaper is no place for such pictures," said Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, Wednesday. "The paper, like all the departments of the university, is tax-supported. Its purpose should be educational and an aid in training future journalists."

★ ★ ★

Youngblood termed the pictures of nude female torsos "lewd and provocative."

Youngblood said he had received several complaints from students and parents of students about the April 24 issue containing the pictures.

THEATER OPENING

The senator said he planned to take the matter up with the university administraion.

Youngblood said pictures of the two nude women were used in connection with the opening of an "art film" theater in the Detroit area. A caption said the first 10 customers would receive two of the pictures.

★ ★ ★

"It is not only a salacious picture, but an advertisement for a private business venture," Youngblood said. "It is the worst kind of commercialism."

'M' President Ties Campus Riots, Society

DETROIT (AP) — University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming said Wednesday that campus unrest stems from the same values and concerns which disturb society at large.

Fleming, who is a lawyer, told guests at the Detroit Bar Association Law Day dinner, "violence and illegal behavior cannot be condoned. But let us not suppose that the campus is unique.

★ ★ ★

"Cable-cutting in a telephone strike, dumping of milk in farm strikes and similar acts are acts of violence, too, yet our society tolerates those disruptions," he said.

Fleming said the college campus is a reflection of a larger society and that changes in society have led to a larger degree of unrest and disturbance on campuses.

★ ★ ★

"The challenge of the campus is the confrontation between the generations," he concluded. "Let us not conclude that student values are less worthy than ours, or that their dedication to this great country is more doubtful."

Columbia Trustees to Study Basic Changes

AP Wirephoto

AT STORMY HELM — Columbia University President Dr. Grayson L. Kirk has been criticized as both too easy-going and too tight-fisted.

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's board of trustees, meeting in special session on the campus crisis, agreed today to study basic changes in the university structure and to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial gymnasium in nearby Morningside Park.

The board took the action after conferring with a 12-member executive committee of the faculty named Tuesday and charged in a general faculty resolution with restoring order to the strife-torn Ivy League campus.

★ ★ ★

The action by the trustees, aimed at two key demands of the protesting students who have disrupted academic life for nine days, was coupled with a request that "all students and faculty resume their scholarly activities so that the presence of the police can be ended."

There was no immediate comment from leaders of the protest.

CLASSES OFF AGAIN

Columbia had called off classes in most of its branches again today after new fighting flared Wednesday between police and protesting students.

★ ★ ★

At least 11 persons, including five policemen, were injured when about 30 police charged a chanting, hostile crowd attending a rally by the university gate at Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street. One student was arrested.

The clash marked the ninth day of disorders in the emotion-charged protest that has virtually paralyzed the university—a day which the administration had set aside for "reason and reflection" by all concerned.

The protest began with demands that the university halt construction of the gymnasium and sever its ties to the Institute for Defense Analysis. Excavation for the gym was suspended Friday at the suggestion of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

CONSULTATIONS ASKED

In announcing the trustees action, the board said it intended "that consultations and negotiations with community leaders shall be held before a decision is reached as to whether or not construction of the gymnasium will be resumed.

"By such action the board emphasized its recognition of the special opportunities that the university has to be associated in mutually constructive undertakings with its immediate neighbors."

The chairman of the trustees announced appointment of a five-man committee "to study and recommend changes in the basic structure of the university."

The committee was instructed "to consult with representatives of the administration, students and alumni of the university concerning its basic structure."

'REDESIGN' ASKED

Alan F. Westin, 38, professor of public law and government and a cochairman of the facility executive committee, said earlier that it was necessary to "redesign" Columbia.

He declared in an interview that the action was needed to assure "relevance, meaning and contact within the university and with the university's relations to the community."

Westin asserted that Columbia was "being run like a 17th or 18th century private university" with neither the faculty nor students having a "significant voice in decisions on larger issues."

Whittier to Get Transportable Rooms

Pontiac's Whittier School will get a much-discussed two-classroom transportable unit next fall to relieve facility shortages.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer told parents of the school at the board of education meeting last night that it is planned to be there three years.

Parents were concerned over the board's tableing the $35,000 proposal last month for further study when opposition arose from the audience.

Rev. Earl J. Crocker, 477 Pearsall, told the board that parents were in favor of the unit.

Facility shortages have been increased in recent years because federal programs are housed at Whittier, an almost all-Negro school.

PROBLEMS OUTLINED

Whitmer outlined the building problems:

- "Reading teacher is housed in the teachers' lounge on the second floor.
- "Community school director for Project 100 is housed in the teachers' lounge on the first floor.
- The headquarters for the Teacher Corps unit at Whittier is housed in the old library. The old library is about half the size of a regular classroom and the Teacher Corps headquarters should have a full-size classroom.
- "The school nurse, school social workers, speech therapist and other specialized personnel must use the PTA kitchen when they are working in the school.
- "The office area provides no conference room.
- "There is no teachers' lounge and rest room that is available.
- "The noninstructional aids are housed in a stock room."

Whitmer recommended the board take the proposal off the table. The board did so and approved it.

"Portables at McConnell School have been there for years," Charles M. Tucker Jr., 161 Earlemoor, told Whitmer. "Can you assure the people that Jefferson Junior High School will be phased out and that the portables will be there three years at the most?"

★ ★ ★

Facility problems at Whittier will be solved when Jefferson is phased out as a junior high school in three years as provided in the long-range plan to relieve de facto segregation, according to Whitmer.

NEXT DOOR

Whittier then could use the Jefferson building, which is next door.

Clarence J. Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League, commented that a use for Jefferson has not been decided. He suggested building an interracial junior high on Golf Drive.

In other matters regarding facilities, the board:

- Took under advisement a proposal to name the planned Human Resources Center after the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
- Agreed to buy 14 acres east of Madison Junior High School on Perry Street at $93,150 for the site for Pontiac Schools-Oakland Schools vocational high school.

★ ★ ★

Tucker criticized the board for not immediately naming the HRC after the slain civil rights worker.

NAMED BY STUDENTS

Trustee Dr. Robert Turpin said the center is at least 1½ years off before opening and that the proposal of McDonnell School PTA would be considered when discussion of the naming occurs.

Pontiac schools traditionally are named by its students, he pointed out.

Funds for the purchase and construction of the vocational high school site will come from Oakland Schools.

★ ★ ★

Selection of the site was made by Oakland Schools. The school will serve junior and senior high school students from Pontiac and areas to the north.

Board Sets Up Guidelines for Teaching About Negro

A resolution emphasizing the teaching of Negro history culture and contributions was passed by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

It follows a series of three critical discussions from the audience at board meetings over the current program in this area.

The complete text of the resolution follows:

"It is the policy of the board of education that all children shall receive instruction in the role and contributions of the Negro in America's history and heritage as an integral part of the curriculum.

★ ★ ★

"Furthermore, the board of education believes this emphasis must be given a high priority by school district personnel in the development activities of the school district.

GUIDELINES IN FORCE

"To carry out this policy, the following guidelines are hereby established:

- "The administration should develop in-service training for all teachers in the system. It shall also provide the leadership necessary to insure effective teaching in all schools of the contribution of the Negro.

★ ★ ★

- "The administration should develop instructional guides in Afro-American history for each elementary grade and for all social studies courses in the secondary schools.
- "The assistant superintendent for instruction and pupil personnel services, director of elementary education and director for secondary education should devote the necessary personal attention to insure that usable guides are developed.

- "Each principal shall see that the instructional guides are followed in his building.
- "Teachers should utilize those materials which are available and assume responsibility for developing their own backgrounds and understandings through personal study."

Assistant Supt. William Lacy said the guides should be ready in September and that in-service training for all elementary and secondary social studies teachers will begin next year.

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Commission will take bids June 5 on the improvement of U.S. 23 at Long Rapids Road and Johnson Street in Alpena. Romney Sees Hope for Social Problems

DETROIT (AP)—Despite the widening gulf between "the affluent majority and the deprived minority," there is hope for overcoming America's social problems, Gov. George Romney told a group of Negro ministers Wednesday night.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church 38th Quadrennial Conference, Romney said, "The affluent have become arrogant, unsatisfied and frightened, while the deprived have become dependent, frustrated and embittered."

★ ★ ★

Yet there is hope, he said.

"I believe the vast bulk of the people of our inner cities by their actions have made it plain to the rest of the American community that they are rejecting the voices of violent revolution—that they seek only dignity, justice and the opportunity to live as responsible citizens, full citizens, in a free society," he said.

Daring Stroke in Guatemala

Leader Calms Nation, Assumes Full Control

GUATEMALA (AP) — In a daring stroke almost two years after his election, President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro has assumed full control of the government, which he had been forced to share with military overlords.

As a result, a measure of peace has settled over this long troubled Central American country, where political violence between rightist and leftist extremists has taken at least 1,000 lives and possibly as many as 4,000, since Mendez, a Liberal, became president in July 1966.

News Analysis

The only violent deaths of political significance since the shift three weeks ago involved the leaders of a right-wing terrorist organization, slain while in police custody, under officially explained but still clouded circumstances.

The move that quashed right-wing extemist influence in the government — at least for the present — came last March 28 when President Mendez fired three top officials including Defense Minister Rafael Arriaga Bosque.

★ ★ ★

The president's decision, it is generally believed here, has stripped rightist terrorists of official protection and pacified the non-Communist left.

NEUTRALIZES RECRUITING

It has also neutralized an effective source of Castroite recruiting propaganda: militarism in government.

Still to be seen is just how far-left militants, given a respite from military pressures will respond to the changes.

The abduction of Guatemala's archbishop, Msgr. Mario Casariego, last month is regarded as a catalyst in bringing the explosive Guatemalan situation to an anticlimax few local or foreign observers had anticipated.

The kidnaping of the 58-year-old prelate was the far right's boldest and most desperate bid to bring down Mendez.

LITTLE RESPONSE

The now-apparent objective was to make it appear the abduction was the work of the far left and thus turn Roman Catholic sentiment against the government, which the rightists claim is infiltrated with Communists.

There was little or no public response, however, because it was quickly established that the rightist terrorist group MANO was responsible.

The Guatemalan Curia exhorted Catholics to remain calm and refused to deal with the kidnapers, who had issued an ultimatum that unless Mendez resigned the archbishop would be killed. He was released March 20.

The archbishop had been in Mexico on church business and was kidnaped March 16 as he was being driven from the airport to his home.

TRIGGERED MOVE

The circumstances of the abduction — in broad daylight in an area usually alive with armed guards and during a "state of alarm" when official surveillance is supposedly at its sharpest — strongly suggested acquiesence if not direct involvement of high official circles.

It is believed this is what persuaded Mendez to bring matters with the ultrarightists in the regime to a showdown.

Assured of the support of the air force, under Col. Doroteo Monerrosa, and of the country's most important military unit, the Mariscal Zavala Barracks under Col. Enrique Daniel Cifuentes, Mendez made his move.

★ ★ ★

He summoned Col. Arriaga Bosque, the defense minister, to his office and informed him of his dismissal along with the chief of the Zacapa Military Base in eastern Guatemala and the chief of police.

The three were considered the most militant rightists in the regime.

The president is said to have offered Arriaga any ambassadorial post he wished, including Washington. The colonel reporterly chose the consulate general in Miami.

Senate Team Aims for Aid in Draft Appeal

By Walter R. Mears

WASHINGTON (AP) The Selective Service system has withstood a proposed major overhaul, but now a team of senators favors a change to permit men challenging their draft status representation by an attorney.

Nine senators, led by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., are sponsoring a bill that would guarantee potential draftees the right to be represented by counsel in any proceeding before a Selective Service board.

Legal representation currently is ruled out. One argument for this: The draft system contends it would not be fair to the poor, who couldn't afford attorneys.

Long's judiciary subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure sees—in the Office of Economic Opportunity—a way around that objection.

POVERTY AIDE

Earl Johnson, who heads the poverty agency's division of neighborhood legal services, is among witnesses slated to appear at a May 16 hearing on the draft-counsel measure.

Johnson said in an interview his agency would attempt to provide counsel to youths facing the draft who could not afford it otherwise, should the bill be enacted.

"Legal services projects would be available to provide representation of eligible people," he said.

But Johnson said he has no idea what the possible caseload might be if the bill were enacted. "We don't have unlimited resources," he said. "If the load became too great we wouldn't be able to handle them all."

NO FORMAL POSITION

Publicly, Selective Service is taking no formal position on the matter. But privately, officials there said it could create chaos for the draft boards.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service director, is to testify on the measure, and the bill's advocates expect him to oppose it.

A form letter currently is sent to lawyers or draftees who ask why they can't have counsel before draft boards. The letter notes that draft board members are generally without legal training.

"Our efforts through the years," it continues, "have been aimed at keeping the procedures so simple that it would not be necessary to have legal counsel at any hearing before the local board.

UNFAIRNESS CITED

"We have always been of the opinion that it would be unfair to the many who cannot afford to hire attorneys if the sons of other families were permitted to have their cases presented by legal counsel."

However, the form letter adds, a government appeals agent is attached to each draft board, assigned to be "equally diligent" in protecting the rights of the government and the potential draftee. Sponsors of the bill question whether this kind of dual service is really possible.

Furthermore, Sen. Long voices belief the Supreme Court would hold denial of counsel unconstitutional.

The overhaul proposal was produced by a White House advisory commission and rejected by President Johnson. Hershey announced this Monday.

The commission proposed replacement of the 4,000 local draft boards with 300 to 500 area boards, plus modernization and standardization of all operations.

Moon-Earthquake Link Is Suggested

By Science Service

Watching the heavens may be the best way to predict earthquakes, according to Anatol James Shneiderov of the Arctic Institute of North American, Washington, D.C.

In 27 passages of the moon through its point of greatest apparent latitude, 33 earthquakes occurred within a day of the event.

If there were no relationship between the two events, said Shneiderov, a random distribution should have produced only 23 quakes in the period.

Using this and similar observations, several earthquakes of magnitude 5.9 or greater were predicted days or weeks in advance from 1965 to 1967.

U.S. Roundup of VC off Target

Most of the Suspects Are Ordinary Civilians

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — In Vietnam you just don't see a couple of hundred husky men out in the middle of nowhere.

But there they were, little white-shirted peasant figures spread out across the dry paddy fields, all moving intently in the same direction, hastening their steps as the American helicopter swept low.

★ ★ ★

In his command helicopter, Col. Hank Emerson was exuberant. True, the motley band appeared unarmed but in the delta where Vietcong arms are hidden in myriad bamboo stands, that meant nothing.

"They damn well ought to be in somebody's army," snapped the 42-year-old Vietnam veteran from Milford, Pa., raising bedlam on the command radio channels as he yelled for troops and helicopters.

RIDING HERD

Gunships quickly flashed in, riding herd like sheepdogs and firing short bursts on the flanks of the men now scurrying for tree lines. Sweating GIs began to drop ahead and behind, under orders not to shoot unless fired upon.

By midmorning 113 "detainees" were squatting in the dust outside the barbed wire of a 9th Division camp in the steaming delta. An Army medic treated one who appeared to have an old shrapnel wound. South Vietnamese interrogators began to lead the men one by one into the back of a battered truck with an old blanket draped over the end for privacy.

★ ★ ★

The detainees gave mainly the same tale. They were fleeing from some kind of expected attack. The very cohesiveness of their replies raised hopes that perhaps the division had bagged a Vietcong replacement company on the move—an unheard of feat.

Disappointment was quick.

VOUCHED FOR THEM—

Within 24 hours interrogation teams had identified seven of the men as Vietcong soldiers and 29 as civilian offenders, men with improper papers or dodging the draft or fleeing civil charges. But the remaining 77 were classified as just ordinary civilians, and the chief of their district showed up to vouch for them.

A year ago the 77 men would simply have been turned loose to make their way home as best they could, doubtless embittered by their experience. Nowadays, the Army is more experienced in the complications of Vietnam's twisted war.

Before turning the men loose, Brig. Gen. William Knowlton, the soft-spoken assistant commander of the 9th Division, called in a special South Vietnamese psychological warfare team from nearby My Tho.

Knowlton, 47, of West Springfield, N.H., feels desperately the need to reach South Vietnam's impassive peasantry. That night the psy-war team of five soldier actors and two young girls put on a spirited show of songs and dances. Most popular was a skit in which the country bumpkin outwitted the city slicker Vietcong for the hand of the maiden.

AIMED AT CIVILIANS

The show was ostensibly directed solely at the 77 civilians. It was held within sight, however, of the seven bonafide Vietcong and the 29 assorted civil offenders.

★ ★ ★

"It was a pretty lively night in the prisoner compound," Knowlton smiled. "It got everybody back in a good mood and even the Vietcong were applauding."

The next day the 77 were placed on trucks and driven home, each given a small package with a toothbrush and soap and a small sum of money.

And so within 48 hours the men were back home. Nobody was quite satisfied, but Knowlton felt that a plus had been gained instead of the minus that previously resulted from most such incidents—which are almost daily occurrences in Vietnam.

"There are still some things about it that I am not satisfied with," Knowlton shrugged. "Why did all those men have military haircuts? Why were they so 'cohesive?' Why did one supposed 'peasant' have an expensive pair of eyeglasses? But when the South Vietnamese authorities vouched for them, what could we do?"

Hawaii Nice Spot to Rest for Viet GIs

HONOLULU (AP)—Each day at Waikiki's Fort DeRussy military reservation, anxious wives, children and other relatives and friends wait for the big Army buses to arrive from Honolulu International Airport.

They wait to greet a relative or friend among the more than 8,400 American servicemen arriving each month from Vietnam for a six-day rest and recuperation leave.

★ ★ ★

For Katherine Forbes, this daily drama was intensified. She waited at the R-and-R center with many others recently, watching carefully as the men filed out of the buses.

★ ★ ★

Her husband, Col. John Forbes, was not among the group. But an Army official quickly informed Mrs. Forbes that her husband's rank entitled him to ride in from the airport in a staff car directly to her hotel.

HURRIED BACK

Mrs. Forbes, who had flown to Honolulu from her home near Patrick Air Force Base in Florida, hurried back to her hotel room for a reunion with her waiting husband.

★ ★ ★

Forbes called the Hawaii R-and-R visit "very ideal," an opinion apparently snared by many others since Hawaii has become the No. 1 choice among the 35,000 servicemen who are given a break from Vietnam duty each month.

★ ★ ★

Col. Max V. Talbot, Army officer in charge of the R-and-R program in Saigon, said, "We have a large backlog, and are unable to fill all the requests for R-and-R in Hawaii. Some men wait six or seven months just to be able to go to Hawaii."

★ ★ ★

The R-and-R program in Hawaii began on Aug. 3, 1966, with one flight a week from Vietnam. The program proved so successful that the number of flights was doubled two months later, increased to one-a-day in January 1967 and then increased steadily to the present 52 flights per month.

'FIRST HONEYMOON'

For the Forbes, the Hawaii visit was a "first honeymoon." Forbes reported to Fort Benning, Ga., three days after he and the former Ona Katherine Warner were married in Tampa, Fla., 23 years ago.

★ ★ ★

"We had never before gone any place where we could just relax and do nothing," Mrs. Forbes said.

★ ★ ★

For the wives, the brief visit is as much rest and recuperation for them as it is for their husbands.

"This is the first time I could really unwind," Mrs. Forbes said.

NO PROBLEM

Forbes, a staff officer at 1st Field Forces headquarters at Nha Trang, said he had no problem relaxing and leaving the war behind. It's no problem at all; it's the easiest thing in the world," he said. But he admitted that the soldiers who are doing the actual fighting might have trouble forgetting about the war while trying to enjoy their leave.

He said dissent on the home front "has not affected the morale of the fighting men one bit."

★ ★ ★

He noted not so much a lack of support for the war effort, but a "lack of understanding by the American public and world public."

"But I must admit that understanding the war in Vietnam is difficult even for those closely associated with it on a daily basas," he said.

BRING CHILDREN

Some R-and-R wives bring their children with them — in some cases so their husbands can see new children for the first time.

But Mrs. Forbes left their four children behind and traveled to Hawaii alone. "For these few days, a husband and wife should be together with no encompasses," she said, "it is one time when we should be alone."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Forbes described their separation by the Vietnam war as "really rough," and said it can't compare with the separation when her husband was in Korea.

"The longer you are married, the more you feel the separation," she said.

British A-Flutter Over Rare Bird

Black-Tailed Godwit Is Living in Secrecy

LONDON (UPI)—The British can keep a secret if they really try — recent spy experience to the contrary.

For 16 years bird egg collectors have been trying to break the solid security screen around the whereabouts of the black-tailed godwit.

They have failed — though in the process they did manage to penetrate the electronic defenses guarding the only breeding pair of ospreys in Britain, high on a tree in remote Loch Carten in Scotland.

The black-tailed godwit has been able to breed peacefully because the location of its nests has been kept even from qualified ornithologists since it first returned to England after an absence of more than 100 years in 1952.

★ ★ ★

The first hint that the godwit—a long-billed, long-legged orange-and-black beauty 18 inches high—may come off the secret list in 1969 was given recently by Peter Conder, director of the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds.

SAFER NUMBER NOW

He said there was now a safer number of breeding pairs and the society had raised enough money to buy as a reservation the land the birds are using.

In the meantime the society is heavily involved in an equally exciting ornithological event, the nesting of the first herons in history in the center of London. A pair fluttered down recently on a tiny island in the midst of the rowing lake in busy Regent's Park.

They could hardly have picked a more vulnerable spot from the point of view of the virulent egg collectors, who in this country will go to any lengths, even the destruction of the species, to acquire rare eggs.

★ ★ ★

Despite laws against it, the practice is more widespread in England than anywhere else in the world.

DARING ATTEMPT

One such collector once managed to evade the burglar alarms around the osprey tree. He shinnied up and replaced their eggs with hen's eggs daubed with shoe blacking.

He was discovered in the tree by guards and, in his effort to jump to freedom, smashed the precious osprey eggs.

Fears that something similar may happen to the herons has led the government to put the island out of bounds to rowers and unauthorized persons. But the Royal Society is adding its own secret precautions, according to Conder.

★ ★ ★

Birds and animals in this land of nature lovers can be box-office attractions rivaling the Beattles. Some 20,000 people make the trek to Loch Carten every year just for a fleeting glimpse of the ospreys through a telescope.

THOUSANDS OF FANS

Thousands have flocked to Regent's Park to try to catch sight of the herons, and thousands more are crowding the Regent's Park Zoo to see the first polar bear cub born there in a decade or so.

★ ★ ★

They would like to pay the same attention to the black-tailed godwit — but Conder isn't telling, yet.

Lab Generates Laser Pulses of Brief Duration

By Science Service

Scientists of the United Aircraft Research Laboratories, East Hartford, Conn., are generating laser pulses that last between a thousand-billionth and a hundred-billionth of a second. This is the time light takes to travel approximately one-hundredth to one-tenth of an inch.

★ ★ ★

Among the possible uses of such pulses is range-finding. Distances of many miles could be measured to within fractions of an inch.

★ ★ ★

The pulses can also be used in high-speed photography, optical information processing, and in studies of optical and vibrational properties of materials.

Viet Village for Orphans Is Well-Run

AN LOI VILLAGE, Vietnam (AP) — The 5-year-old boy in yellow Buddhist robes solemnly handed a bouquet of lilies to the American general and thanked him.

Bending low to take the flowers, the tall soldier in starched fatigues made a little, formal acceptance speech.

Standing awkwardly in ranks beneath a hot midmorning sun, 270 boys and girls clapped their hands. Then the general was led off for a tour of the cleared hilltop that was jungle a year ago. Within an hour he was gone, carrying the flowers and a little plaque.

It wasn't much of a ceremony but it meant something to the children and elders who run "the orphan village." They had paid a debt and that was important to the independence of a most unusual and most independent village.

YANKS FIND VILLAGE

The village had not sought aid from the Americans; in fact the Americans had to seek out the village. Lanky Capt. James Moye, 27, a civil affairs officer from Sanford, Fla., was proud of having found it.

It was started almost a year ago by a jovial but deeply serious Catholic layman from Saigon, Nguyen Van Su. He wanted to build a village for orphans of all religions and he wouldn't ask or accept any money contributions.

Through the help of a Buddhist monk, Su obtained title to 2,500 square yards of hilltop jungle about 25 miles east of Saigon. He and about 20 helpers—Catholics, Buddhists and members of the Cao Dai sect—moved in and started clearing land.

They hacked away at the jungle, started a small garden plot and began constructing simple wood and thatch-roofed schoolrooms and huts. Within three months about 25 orphans had arrived, many the sons or daughters of soldiers killed in battle. The kids worked as they could alongside the elders.

THE WORD SPREADS

The word spread to U.S. 9th Division headquarters about five miles away across the jungle.

"I heard there was an orphanage in the area and I finally found it," Capt. Moye related. "I asked Mr. Su if we could help, and he said he would accept any gifts but would take no money. He said money was the beginning of corruption."

Su also insisted that the work inside the orphanage compound be done by the elders and the kids.

The Americans gave lumber and cement and occasionally sent over a doctor. Su relaxed his rules a little and sometimes let the Americans help clear land. Capt. Moye was allowed to start a class in English three times a week. A little dispensary was equipped and a deep well dug, equipped with an electric pump—rare in this area.

270 ORPHANS NOW

Now there are 270 orphans. They live in rudimentary barracks and sleep on hardboard bunks. The houses are clean and cool and the kids are cared for and loved by some 140 Buddhist monks and nuns who have also arrived. Though most of his helpers are Buddhist, Su is the undisputed boss.

An informal board of directors is made up of Catholics, Buddhists and Cao Dai members but in the Vietnamese tradition the definitions tend to overlap.

Technically, the land is still in some dispute—the province agreed to give it up and district approval is pending—but Su is confident the village will soon hold the 1,000 orphans he planned for.

"The war has caused many orphans," he says. "But with many villages like this, there would not have been a war."

Boston Called Open 'Pot' Mart

BOSTON (AP) — "Any teenager, if he wants to get turned on, can buy marijuana today in Boston, on Charles Street, in the South End, almost anywhere," a Massachusetts legislative commission on drugs has been told.

The testimony was given by a 20-year-old Boston resident whose identity was not disclosed. He said he started using marijuana at 16 and progressed to LSD before he was arrested—for selling marijuana.

Cars and Stars Fluid Systems

Theoretician Explains Auto-Following Fact

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Systems as seemingly diverse as spiral galaxies, the earth's upper mantle and the driver in his car actually have something in common — the way they behave can be described, at least partially, using the established laws of fluid dynamics.

★ ★ ★

A session of invited papers at the American Physical Society meeting here was devoted to these fluid systems.

Fluid dynamics is the science that concerns itself with the motions of fluids and things that can be considered as fluids.

Vehicular traffic flow resembles a fluid and is "amenable to sophisticated mathematical attack," reports Dr. Robert Herman, head of the theoretical physics department of General Motors Corp. Research Laboratories in Warren.

★ ★ ★

One approach used by traffic theoreticians describes the flow of traffic on the basis of the behavior of individual units—the driver and his car.

SIMPLE LAW

When one motorist tries to drive along a highway behind another car in a stable manner, the motion of his car appears to obey a simple law.

Dr. Herman and his coworkers have derived a mathematical relation that describes this car-following phenomenon.

It explains, for instance, why drivers seem to follow another car too closely: A driver, instead of responding to the distance between his car and the one ahead, attempts to keep at a minimum the difference in speed between his car and the leading automobile.

★ ★ ★

This follow-the-leader theory is helpful in examining the stability and flow characteristics of a line of vehicles under no- passing conditions.

SPEED CHANGE

If a driver suddenly changes speed — slowing down because of an insect sting, for instance — this change can be easily absorbed by the next few drivers if they react quickly enough to the stimulus, and the situation will again be stable.

However, if the reaction time of the nearest following drivers is even slightly delayed, the change in the motion of the lead car may lead to a wave-like transfer of instability, a fluctuation propagated along the traffic line that can result in tail-end collisions.

On an infinitely larger scale, the structures of hundreds of millions of spiral galaxies, of which the Milky Way is a typical example, can be pictured as giant natural laboratories of fluid physics, with each star behaving in a manner corresponding to a single electron or proton in the plasma of a terrestrial laboratory.

★ ★ ★

Dr. C. C. Lin and his collaborators at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, believe such stellar systems can develop density waves through the collective behavior of the stars, very much like the waves known in laboratory plasmas and in traffic.

SPIRAL ARMS

These density waves — alternate condensation and rarefaction of star concentrations—are not observable by themselves, but can be traced by plotting the positions of brilliant young stars. These young stars, each more than 10,000 times brighter than the sun, are distributed along the spiral arms.

The density waves travel around the Milky Way galaxy once every 450 million years, Dr. Lin has calculated, whereas the stars in the solar vicinity would have a galactic year of 200 million years.

For the earth's mantle, one of the implications of a fluid behavior is the possibility of instability: The lower mantle will become hot due to the heat released by radioactive elements. The heated rocks expand and move upward, resulting in a thermally driven flow of a cellular type.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Daniel L. Turcotte of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., suggests that the ascending flow in a cell is associated with the oceanic ridges. The rising hot mantle material results in volcanic activity, shallow earthquakes and high heat flow.

Science Seeks to Crack the Neural Code

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — If you touch the red end of a lighted cigarette, you are going to hurt.

★ ★ ★

Usually, the nerves get the blame, of credit, since the pain causes withdrawal and prevents further burning. Most people think that pain travels up a nerve from offended hand to the brain, where it is noticed and acted upon.

Actually the nerve does not transmit pain. It transmits a coded message which the brain is capable of interpreting as pain.

Scientists are very interested in cracking this neural code. Understanding of it could lead to understanding of how the brain functions.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Theodore H. Bullock of the University of California Medical School says there are three methods suggested at the moment whereby the nerves can transmit their coded messages.

SPLICED TOGETHER

The most familiar is the neural impulse. This is analogous to telephone communication.

Nerve fibers are spliced together to form something like long wires leading from the finger, for instance, to the brain.

In a way not at all clearly understood touching something stimulates the end of a wire.

★ ★ ★

The stimulation causes the movement of a group of light metal ions into and out of the nerve cell. These ions are electrically charged atoms of sodium, potassium, and calcium.

LIKE DOMINOES

The movement of one group causes similar movement in the next group of ions up the nerve fiber.

Like falling dominoes, the groups of ions all the way to the brain jostle each other into motion. In this way an impulse is quickly carried up the fiber.

A second method of transmission is called decremental transmission, comparable to radio transmission. Stimulation of some kind, acting on the nerve ending, produces a flash of electrochemical activity.

★ ★ ★

This flash causes weaker activity a little farther up the fiber, which weaker activity causes even weaker activity even farther up.

CHEMICAL TRANSMISSION?

The third method of transmission, given shelf space by scientists only as a theoretical possibility at the moment, might be chemical. This would be like the mail.

It would involve the physical transport along the nerve fiber of packets of chemicals which would stimulate or inhibit some action upon arrival at the other end.

Like the mail versus radio and telephones, this kind of transmission would be much slower than impulse or decremental transmission.

★ ★ ★

A single impulse carries comparatively little information to the brain. In some cases of course the brain has a nerve-labelled eye, ear, hand and so on.

WON'T INFORM BRAIN

In this case a single impulse will carry only the information that the eye has seen, the ear heard, the hand touched. (It will not inform the brain as to what has been seen, heard or touched.)

Often nerves are not labelled with any degree of exactness at all, in which case the single impulse carries even less information. The nerves therefore must modulate their signals to form codes.

Dr. Bullock says there are presently five codes besides the uninformative single impulse. (The impulse often is referred to as a spike because of the sharp peak it records on monitoring devices.) Often different codes are used by two nerves lying side by side.

★ ★ ★

One coding sustem uses something like Morse code. There may be a long burst of impulse firing followed by a short burst, then by a medium-length burst, then by another short burst, then by a single spike.

Engineer Voice Being Heard

National Academy Is Finding Acceptance

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — If the public image of the scientist is of a rather remote idealist, that of the engineer is of a specialist with his feet on the ground.

To hear members of the National Academy of Engineering tell it, that image is pretty accurate.

The 237-member NAE was formed a little more than three years ago because prominent engineers felt they weren't getting the voice they deserved.

The National Academy of Sciences was the chartered adviser to government on matters that demand an expert scientific judgment, and scientists — not engineers—were dominant.

★ ★ ★

After three years of knocking on Washington doors in a search for takers of their advice and counsel, the consensus in and out of NAE is that the new academy is well-launched and on its way to making the voice of the engineer heard in the land.

A ROLE TO FILL

At least in the matter of having a role to fill, the group appears to have found acceptance—there is no lack of projects the NAE has been asked to undertake.

"Our big aim now is not to find projects, but to do them right," says NAE president Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University. "It's important that in the younger days at least we don't flub things."

Partly because it was able to ensconce itself in the already-functioning structure of the century-older National Academy of Sciences, the NAE has been able to concentrate on matters directly related to its work and not expend effort on setting up house.

★ ★ ★

Besides having at hand a functioning staff and ready-made location, the NAE can make use of the older academy's operating subsidiary, the prestigious National Research Council. Many of the studies undertaken by both academies are carried out by consultants through the NRC.

ONGOING PROJECTS

Ongoing projects of the NAE to date include:

- Design of civilian airplanes. Until not too long ago commercial airliners were converted military planes; now they are being designed from scratch — an example being the supersonic transport. The question of where this design effort should originate, in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or in private industry, is one aspect of the engineers' study.
- Education of engineers in the life sciences. The National Institutes of Health asked the academy to look into ways of training bioengineering specialists.
- Ocean engineering. Broad claims and predictions have been made about the future riches to be gained from the sea. The NAE is evaluating these possibilities, with the support of a number of agencies including the Navy.
- Technological assessment. Congress, increasingly concerned about technological side effects, has asked the NAE to advise on the usefulness of a permanent institute to predict what new technologies will do for the country, and what bad side effects could be expected.

Technically, all of these projects should have been proper areas of investigation for the National Academy of Sciences, which was set up with a congressional charter a century ago to advise on both scientific and technical questions.

★ ★ ★

The working force was also there — the engineering division of the Research Council is one of its largest, and includes the extensive Highway Research Board among other agencies.

LEAN ON ENGINEERS

But the actual membership of the Science Academy was exceptionally lean on engineers; who were outnumbered more than 12-to-1.

Besides denying the engineering fraternity the prestige of election to the NAS, which they felt they deserved more than they were getting, the older academy brought a diffferent attitude to projects they were asked to undertake for government.

Opposition to Argentine Regime Felt

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Several opposition groups have begun to agitate openly for the overthrow of President Juan Carlos Ongania, or at least his conversion to their point of view.

Ongania has responded with sporadic arrests. Recently, he jailed a retired army general and five former congressmen for making "subversive statements." His government, seeking popular support, is issuing statements and statistics designed to show that the country is making fine economic progress.

Ongania, who came to power in June 1966, had promised dramatic economic development by 1968 as a result of a wage freeze and other economic austerity policies. His opposition, quiet for more than a year, now claims the president's policies have failed to life the economy.

Gen. Ongania, a cavalry officer, appears to have signaled the start of the campaign against his regime by indulging last month in a bit of self-criticism. On March 5, just as the country was returning from long summer holidays, he called together his cabinet and his top advisers and scolded them in a two-hour speech for "bureaucratic inefficiency."

FAILED TO ACHIEVE

The speech was widely interpreted as an admission by Ongania that his regime—which came to power as a result of a coup—had failed to achieve its most important goals of ending inflation, stimulating large-scale investment and increasing exports.

Ret. Gen. Adolfo C. Lopez, 46, who tried to launch an opposition movement late in 1966, redoubled his efforts and was jailed for 120 days in a remote army garrison.

Marcelo Sanchez Sorondo, 56, a right-wing nationalist leader, linked up with another retired general, Carlos A. Caro, and formed El Movimiento de la Revolucion Nacional. Its known aims include formation of an autocratic government opposed to foreign influence in Argentine affairs.

Raul Ongara, 40, a left-of-center Peronist, has emerged as the leader of an antigovernment faction in the huge General Confederation of Labor, which ex-dictator Juan Peron made into a political power. Ongaro is said to be meeting with Sanchez Sorondo and others, investigating the possibilities of a united front.

JOINED TALKS

The People's Radical party also has joined the antigovernment unity talks. Five ex-congressmen, members of this party, were arrested in March for expressing opposition to Ongania in statements and public meetings. The People's Radical party is headed by ex-president Arturo Illia, who was deposed in 1966 by Ongania.

So far there has been no indication that the opposition groups will manage to link up, achieve significant backing from the armed forces, or even agree on a common course of action.

While some call for overthrow of the 54-year-old president, others propose that he simply drop Adalbert Krieger Vasena, his economy minister, and adopt an economic policy which favors labor and puts less emphasis on foreign investment as a key to development.

Ongania has restated in an interview his plans to remain in office for 10 years before permitting elections so that he can complete his economic development programs.

Judge Frees 'Super Guru'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A self-styled "super guru" was freed in Municipal Court Wednesday after his arrest on a charge of being under the influence of a dangerous drug.

Satyananamah Bodhisatva, who says he is a member of the Kandeharya Raja sect, told the court he was squatting on the sidewalk because he was meditating, and explained: "I did not respond to the police because I was not in my body . . ."

Judge Lawrence Mana dismissed the charge for insufficient evidence.

KATHLEEN TOLES

Waterford Honors Ninth-Grade Teen

A ninth grader at Mason Junior High School is Waterford Township's current Teen of the Week.

Named to the honor is Kathleen Toles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean C. Toles of 2910 Costa Mesa, Waterford Township. She is a member of the school's cheerleading team.

★ ★ ★

A staff member said Kathleen, 14, typifies the All-American girl and is "one of the finest students I have had the privilege to work with."

"If it were possible to sum up this young lady in one word, we would simply say 'outstanding,'" said a staff member.

Stateless Gaza Is a Broken, Burdened City

GAZA (UPI) — Gaza, where Samson pulled down the temple in biblical times, now is a broken city and one of the most neglected spots in the entire Middle East.

It has been stateless for the past 20 years, changing hands from one conquering army to another.

Part of the Arab territory under Israeli military rule since the June Middle East war, Gaza now is burdened with a vast population of refugees it cannot afford to support and cannot send away.

It was never annexed by Egypt, whose armies conquered it. The Egyptians used Gaza as a "free port" from which to import luxury goods, but they never modernized its port facilities.

★ ★ ★

Porters still carry passengers and cargoes through the shallow waters to the lighters that ferry them to the boats in the harbor.

Israel conquered Gaza in the Sinai campaign of 1956 but was persuaded to hand it back to the Egyptians under pressure from the West. Many of those who briefly cooperated with the Israeli army were executed.

Profumo Scandal Figure Celebrity in Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Mandy Rice-Davies, one of the leading figures of London's Profumo scandal five years ago, now waters her garden, models, makes movies, runs a discotheque, keeps house and waits impatiently for her baby to be born.

"Boy or girl, it doesn't matter," she says, "as long as it's sound in mind and limb."

★ ★ ★

The blonde former call girl married an Israeli air steward-turned-businessman named Rafi Shauli — pronounced Sha-ooly — and settled in Israel two years ago. The 22-year-old Londoner has become one of the most popular and best-known celebrities in Tel Aviv's noisy, arty nightlife.

She and her husband run one of the most sophisticated nightclubs in town. Mandy's Discotheque sets the pace and dictates the fashion for the humming mile-long strip of bright lights, coffee houses, steak bars and discotheques in central Tel Aviv.

CLOSED BY COMPLAINTS

At present the cellar club is closed, following complaints from neighbors about the noise.

"The noise is outside, not inside," she shrugs. "Anyway we'll open again soon. Actually it suits me, because at the moment I'm getting a rest, and I need it."

★ ★ ★

She has cut her cascading hair short and pert.

"The pregnancy made it fall out," she giggles.

In the two-story Shauli cottage in posh North Tel Aviv, dabbing on makeup, she tells a visitor: "I don't mind appearing without makeup in Tel Aviv. But what would the folk back home say?"

Mandy hasn't cut herself off from Britain. She flies there twice a year.

SILENT ABOUT AFFAIR

"Not that I'm crazy about England, but I visit people and buy clothes. You can't get anything here," she says.

She doesn't talk about the 1963 affair that shook the British government.

John D. Profumo, Britain's war minister, resigned after admitting that he lied to the House of Commons about his affair with Christine Keeler, another call girl who shared her affections with a Soviet Embassy attache. Christine and Mandy had shared an apartment and were the chief witnesses in the trial of Stephen Ward, who committed suicide on being found guilty of keeping a brothel.

★ ★ ★

Mandy has just finished filming a locally made movie called "Iris," to be premiered in June, in which she plays a seductive English model having an affair with a disillusioned Israeli journalist.

She speaks English in the film, but off the screen chatters away in fairly fluent Hebrew, laughs at her own mistakes and calls herself a shikseh — Yiddish for a non-Jewish girl.

WILL CONVERT

She intends to convert to Judaism before her baby is born.

"Life here used to be a terrible rush," she says, "modeling, filming, traveling, keeping house, running the discotheque."

★ ★ ★

Her husband bursts into the house, yelling he is "starving to death."

★ ★ ★

And Mandy disappears into the kitchen.

Use Is Suggested for Protein Waste

By Science Service

Proteins now discarded as waste could help meet the world's protein shortage as food coatings, Dr. Paul F. Hopper of Johnson and Johnson Co. suggests.

Dr. Hopper notes that the world presently produces 50 per cent more protein than is needed by its populace.

One cause of the shortage in some places, of course, is poor distribution. But, he says, many potentially nourishing proteins are thrown away during the processing of animal and vegetable foods because no usable form has been found for them.

Negro's Candidacy Spices N. Carolina Governor Race

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Negro candidate in a three-way race for North Carolina's Democratic nomination for governor needs a heavy Negro vote and considerable white votes to survive Saturday's primary election.

Yet the candidacy of Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a dentist and minister, has virtually assured a runoff even if he places last in the voting.

★ ★ ★

Neither of Hawkins's opponents, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Mel Broughton of Raleigh, is expected to get a majority of the votes and outright nomination.

On the Republican side, U. S. Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., opposes Jack Stickley, a Charlotte businessman, for the gubernatorial nomination.

There will be no presidential ballot for the North Carolina voter Saturday and the campaign for governor has aroused little interest. Surveys have reported numerous undecided or apathetic voters.

BIGGER TURNOUT

State election officials predict about 800,000 Democrats and 250,000 Republicans will vote in the primary. The 1964 total vote included 769,090 Democrats and 63,815 Republicans.

The larger turnout is expected this year because of the increased number of candidates, particularly for legislative seats and district judgeships.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think the respective gubernatorial campaigns will get the vote out," said Alex Brock, executive secretary of the State Board of Elections.

His opinion is shared by most political veterans. However, all the experts qualify their predictions and point to the unknown factors such as new Negro registration and emotions stirred by the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. The Negro vote reportedly totals 200,000 to 300,000.

LITTLE MONEY HELP

Hawkins, the first Negro candidate for governor in the state's history, has conducted his campaign with little financial help. His preliminary campaign expense report totaled some $6,000 compared to almost $100,000 for each of his opponents.

In his quest for support among white voters, Hawkins has advocated a tax on cigarettes and liberalization of the state's liquor laws. North Carolina is the only state that does not tax tobacco products and liquor-by-the-drink sales are prohibited.

Gleason Sure to Sparkle in Diamond Jim Brady Film

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Jackie Gleason, who's grown enamored of Hollywood, told me at a birthday party for his longtime friend Honey Merrill, that he and Lucille Ball will team up to do the story of Diamond Jim Brady and Lillian Russell in 1969.

WILSON

Jackie's making jokes about his next picture with Bob Hope, "How to Commit Marriage." There's a billing problem, he says, with Hope.

"That poor soul thinks he should have billing over the Great Gleason!" he said. Actually, some unique billing arrangement probably will be worked out, with "Bob Hope Presenting Jackie Gleason," and "Jackie Gleason Presenting Bob Hope," so that billing is shared.

With Carol Burnett expecting again in August, won't that be Joe Hamilton's 10th — or 11th? Hey, Computer!

★ ★ ★

Yves Montand was definitely signed to be Barbra Streisand's leading man in her next picture, "On a Clear Day," which will be his first big picture since "Let's Make Love" with Marilyn Monroe back in 1959 or thereabouts.

★ ★ ★

Tommy Smothers, who said a bad word in Miami while on the stage in a hotel with Marty Allen and Steve Rossi, is being pretty funny about it when asked just what he meant by such conduct.

"It's a word we all use in conversation," he says. "But my timing was bad. Yes, my timing was away off, and that's what caused all the furore."

Maybe he means his timing was off in that he should have said it at a party but not on stage.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Busty Monique Van Vooren, who promised to wear a transparent blouse (with nothing under it) at the premiere of "Hair," says she's worn it before, at a party: "And everybody came over to say hello."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Snag Werris recalls the WW II gag about the GI who complained of "a pain in the abdomen." The medic told him, "Listen, soldier, officers have abdomens, sergeants have stomachs . . . and you . . . you have a belly-ache!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Someone described an extremely clothes-conscious actress: "Put it this way — she'd put on a hunting jacket to set a mousetrap."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The secret of economy is to live as frugally the first few days after payday as you did the last few days before payday."

EARL'S PEARLS: It's wonderful to be a teen-ager. Every night you can turn on TV and have your choice of hundreds of pictures you've never seen before.

Jack Benny insists he's neither a Democrat nor a Republican: "I'm a registered Whig. When I join a political party, I stick with it!" . . . That's earl, brother.

Birth-Control Pill Study May Alter Labeling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has called a Wednesday meeting of birth-controll pill manufacturers to discuss "prompt revision of uniform relabeling" following a British study on effects of the pills.

The British study found that a woman using oral contraceptives increased by seven to eight times her chances of death from a blood clot.

★ ★ ★

The FDA now requires U.S. pill-makers to advise in their labels the symptoms of an approaching or serious clot—swelling of the legs, shortness of breath.

The study said the annual death rate from clots in the lungs or brain is 1.3 per 100,000 for women aged 20 to 34 and 3.4 per cent for women 35 to 44.

385 DEATHS

The probe covered the deaths of 385 women in 1966 of diseases involving blood clots.

In reporting the findings April 27, directors of the British study noted the death rate from use of the birth-control pills would be much less than the percentage of women who die in childbirth.

★ ★ ★

An FDA official said privately the agency planned no such comparison because "it's like comparing apples and oranges." An FDA study along lines of the British project is under way at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, with findings to be announced next year.

The British study found no special differences in risk among various brands of pills, some but not all of which are sold in the United States.

Miriani Tax Trial Begins

DETROIT (AP) — The long-delayed income tax evasion trial of Detroit Councilman Louis C. Miriani got under way in U. S. District Court with the selection of eight women and four men as jurors Wednesday.

Miriani, a former mayor, is accused in a four-count indictment of failing to report $261,100 of a $450,000 income which the government alleges he had from 1959 through 1962. It claims an additional $152,721 taxes due.

★ ★ ★

Special U.S. attorney Anthony J. Cafferky told the jury that much of Miriani's income came from mayoral campaign contributions which he converted to his personal use, much of it going to purchase stocks and bonds.

Tigers Stop Twins, 3-2, but Not Killebrew

THE PONTIAC PRESS

McLain Gains Third Victory; Sparma Tonight

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

An expert in jigsaw puzzles couldn't have been more precise than the Detroit Tigers who fitted the runs in perfectly to defeat the challenging Minnesota Twins, 3-2 last night.

★ ★ ★

It was by no means a slugfest, even though three home runs figured in most of the scoring. However, the Tigers with their overly quiet bats managed to have the right man at the plate at the right time.

With a strong performance from pitcher Denny McLain, who now stands 3-0 for the season, the Tigers collected only five hits and left only five men on base, but the hits came when they counted.

Harmon Killebrew slammed his seventh homer of the season in the fourth inning to give the Twins a 1-0 lead, but after Don Wert singled to start the fifth inning for the Tigers, Jim Northrup clobbered one of southpaw Jim Merritt's pitches into the upper deck section of the right field stands.

TIES GAME

The 2-1 margin stood pat as McLain set down eight straight batters until the seventh inning when Rich Reese, starting his first game, got his first hit of the season by belting a fly-ball homer just inside the right field screen to tie the count.

★ ★ ★

In the bottom of the eighth, Dick McAuliffe then laced a liner into left center with the ball going between the two outfielders for a triple.

With one out, manager Cal Ermer called for an intentional walk for Al Kaline hoping for a double play. In issuing the walk, Merritt's second pitch actually caught the outside corner for a strike.

Willie Horton then came through with the long fly needed to score McAuliffe as leftfielder Reese threw to second to stop Kaline's advance.

★ ★ ★

With two out in the ninth, McLain gave up a single to Killebrew and when Reese singled to right, manager Mayo Smith made a trip to the mound.

★ ★ ★

"I had no intention of taking him out," Smith said. "I just wanted him to know I was unhappy with the way he pitched to Killebrew.

"I told him he should have thrown his best pitch to Harmon and to do the same with (Ted) Uhlaender who was coming up. You don't throw a slow changeup or slider to Killebrew. Denny had good control and he should have given Killebrew everything he had."

MR. HOCKEY DIES — Jack Adams, who would have been 73 years old next month, one of the outstanding figures of the National Hockey League during his years with the Detroit Red Wings, died yesterday of a heart attack in his Detroit office.

McLain Credits Bowling as Aid to Stronger Arm

Denny McLain, who matched his current 1.97 earned run average with his 197 bowling average of the past season, said his arm felt very strong and one reason is "because I really did a lot of bowling during the winer."

Commenting on his 3-0 mark after last night's verdict over the Twins, McLain said, "This is as good if not better start for me than the 1966 season. I'm very happy with my control."

In 1966, McLain led the Tigers with a 20-14 record and a 3.92 earned run mark. Last year he missed the last three weeks of the season except for the last day as result of a freak accident in which he injured his foot, and he finished with a 17-16 record.

★ ★ ★

During spring training in Florida, McLain started and left camp with a new outlook and challenging goal.

"I want to be the winningest pitcher in the American League this season. I have some making up to do for those weeks I missed and when we missed winning the pennant last year."

WRAP AROUND TAG — First baseman Mickey Stanley of the Detroit Tigers took a wide throw on an infield grounder but he makes a wrap around tag on Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins for the putout in the 7th inning of last night's 3-2 Detroit win.

Heart Attack Fatal for 'Mr. Hockey'

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Adams, whose fiery temper and stark dedication as a player, coach and general manager helped mold the National Hockey League, died Wednesday at the age of 72.

★ ★ ★

Adams suffered a fatal heart attack at his Detroit office where he had run the Central Professional Hockey League for five years.

★ ★ ★

Adams, who helped found the league in 1963, served as its president with the same quick-silver temper and loving dedication which marked his 44-year NHL career, including 35 as coach and general manager of the Detroit Red Wings.

Adams discovered Wings' superstar Gordie Howe and was one of the few men to have his name inscribed on the Stanley Cup as a player, coach and general manager.

"It's a real sad day for hockey," said Clarence Campbell, NHL president. "He was a very close personal friend of mine."

HOWE SADDENED

Howe, signed by Adams at the age of 16 in 1946, said "I felt sick when I heard the news about Jack Adams' death. Mr. Adams was like a father to me.

"When I joined the Red Wings' organization I was only 16 years old, and he looked after me as though I was his own son."

★ ★ ★

Adams, coach and general manager of the Wings from 1927 to 1962, when he retired, built Detroit's greatest teams around Howe and the Wings famed "Production Line" of the early 1950s. On the line with Howe were Sid Abel, current manager-coach of the Wings, and Ted Lindsay.

★ ★ ★

The Wings won 12 NHL titles, including a record seven in a row during Howe's heydey from 1949 to 1955, and seven Stanley Cups.

"Mr. Adams had love and dedication for hockey than any man I ever knew," added Howe.

Abel termed Adams' death "a great personal loss for me. Everything I have ever done in hockey has been with Mr. Adams. I played for him — I coached for him—and I followed in his footsteps as general manager."

Adams is survived by his widow, Helen. They have no children.

★ ★ ★

Both June 11, 1885, in Fort William, Ont., Adams learned to play hockey in Canada's Thunder Bay area.

★ ★ ★

He played amateur hockey in Fort Williams and Calumet, Mich., before begining an eight-year NHL career with the Toronto Arenas in 1918. After stints with Vancouver and Ottawa, Adams retired in 1926.

When Detroit got an NHL franchise in 1927, the late Frank Calder, then president of the league, recommended Adams for the job as coach and general manager.

The Red Wings won their first league title in 1934 and their first Stanley Cup in 1935.

Adams and James Norris, the late father of current Red Wings' owner Bruce A. Norris, worked 20 years in building the Red Wings into a contender. The team won four Stanley Cups from 1950 to 1955.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in Detroit's Gesu Church across from U. of D.

TRADE SEALED—Bill Munson, 26, puts his signature on the dotted line after Detroit Lions' general manager Russ Thomas (right) negotiated the trade with the Los Angeles Rams for his services. The Rams received three players and a No. 1 draft choice from Detroit.

Lions End Trade Speculation

LONG DISTANCE SIGNALS—Head coach Joe Schmidt (right) of the Detroit Lions has a phone discussion with newly acquired quarterback Bill Munson, who was on the other end in Los Angeles. Lions' owner Bill Ford (left) and Schmidt made the trade announcement at a press conference yesterday afternoon.

Munson Signed After 3-Player Deal With LA

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Rumors and speculation have ended for the Detroit Lions who finally completed the long awaited deal to obtain quarterback Bill Munson from the Los Angeles Rams.

The question asked of head coach Joe Schmidt during a press conference called yesterday to announce the deal was, "Did the Lions give up too much to obtain the quarterback?"

Flanker and punter Pat Studstill, running back Tommy Watkins and quarterback Milt Plum, along with a No. 1 draft choice in 1969 were given to the Rams for Munson and a No. 3 draft pick.

"We gave a lot, but we feel we got something which in the long run will help us," said Schmidt.

Bill Ford, owner of the Lions, noted that "at least four other clubs were involved in the bidding and it was a matter of bidding for something we felt we really needed."

AGREE ON DEAL

Asked if the trade was made with the objections of coach Schmidt, Ford said, "We had several discussions about the trade and we certainly wouldn't make a trade if there was no unanimity over who should be traded.

"There were too many names being tossed around which is not good, and I'm glad all speculation is over and the deal has been completed," he added.

★ ★ ★

The key player as far as the Lions were concerned was Studstill. "I'm disappointed in losing Studstill," said Schmidt, "but you have to give something to get something and quarterback come high anymore. We agreed that Munson was the best quarterback there was available."

"Milt and Tommy certainly have value in trading," added Schmidt, "and the Rams wouldn't have considered the trade if they weren't given a quarterback."

★ ★ ★

Schmidt did note that the trade was made on Tuesday, 24 hours before Munson's option was to run out, but the Lions weren't ready to consumate the deal unless it was certain that Munson would sign to play for Detroit.

"The Rams even tried to convince Munson that he should use his option to sign another contract with them," said Schmidt, "but he made up his mind he had a better chance to be a starting quarterback elsewhere."

Ford said "Munson was given a contract for more than one year," but its length and financial figure would not be made known.

A newspaper report in Los Angeles said Munson signed a long term con-

Probation Placed on Wichita State

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association council placed Wichita, Kan., State University on two years' probation and approved 16 postseason football games for next season before concluding its three-day meeting here Wednesday.

The council also announced Central College of Pella, Iowa, has been restored to full membership after a one-year suspension for "taking part in an uncertified post-season football game" in 1966.

In addition, it warned coaches who have their own television programs that the rule against using high school athletes on such shows would be tightly enforced.

The council said its probation action against Wichita State was based on "improper inducements to approximately 25 prospect student-athletes" to encourage their enrollment.

Arthur J. Bergstrom, assistant executive director of the NCAA, told reporters the Wichita State case "was one of the most widespread and willful violations ever to come before the council."

EFFECTIVE ACTION

He praised the university administration and the Missouri Valley Conference for "drastic, immediate and effective" steps taken in the case. These included the discharge of the director of athletics, the head football coach and two assistant coaches.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Neinas, another NCAA assistant executive director, said a committee plans to make a further study of athletic participation by athletes from foreign countries.

★ ★ ★

A rule adopted in 1961 by the association specifies that such a student loses a year of competition in U.S. universities for each year he is over 20 when enrolling.

The bowl games are:

Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 30; Junior Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 7; Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 14; Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Tex., Dec. 21; Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., both Dec. 28; Cotton Bowl at New Orleans, all Jan. 1.

In addition, there will be the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., and the Peach Bowl at Atlanta, the dates to be determined.

The all-star games are:

Sudan Temple at Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 30; Shrine Potato Bowl at Bakersfield, Calif., Dec. 21; Shrine East-West at San Francisco Dec. 28, and Blue-Grey at Montgomery, Ala. Dec. 30.

Leading 3-2 in the best-of-7 series, the Celtics face the Lakers' at home. A Los Angeles triumph would send the action back to Boston Sunday for a finale.

USHERING THE WINNER—Detroit Tiger pitcher Denny McLain (17) is ushered into the dugout by teammates Willie Horton (23), Dick McAuliffe (3) Jon Warden (left) and others after pitching a strong 3-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins last night in Detroit. McLain, in winning his third game without a loss, struck out nine and did not issue a walk.

No Accord

Fans Differ Over Trade

There could never be happy accord over a trade such as one made by the Detroit Lions yesterday in obtaining quarterback Bill Munson, and here are some of the comments made by local pro football fans:

★ ★ ★

TONY MITCHELL, 4000 Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road—"I think it was a good trade. It will help the Lions in coming years. They have the runners, but have needed a quarterback to go with them. He could be the best since Bobby Layne."

DON ROLSTON, 2228 Old Salem—"I think it was quite a bit to give up for Munson. I question whether they will get that much out of him. They had to give up Plum but I don't know about the others."

HARRY DAKESIAN, 2403 James K. Blvd.—"I think it stinks. They gave up too much for one man. I'd have given Plum and just Plum. Studstill is worth more than Munson."

TOM BUCHANON, 3644 Lotus — "I think it was a good trade. They need some new talent, they should have gotten rid of Plum a long time ago."

★ ★ ★

HARLOW HOYT, 2065 N. Oxford, Oxford—"I like the deal. This is what they've needed . . . a quarterback. Watkins is injury prone, McCullough can fill Studstill's shoes and Sweetan is as good a backup as Plum."

★ ★ ★

JIM GALLAGHER, 609 Provincetown—"I had hoped they would have come up with a more top notch quarterback. The loss of the three Lions isn't so great, but the gain isn't either. Los Angeles made out like a bandit."

★ ★ ★

MRS. CRAIG ROMEO, 60 Fernberry Drive—"I guess it's alright. I don't know much about them, but my three sons play football and they think it was a good trade."

★ ★ ★

WAYNE CASE, 91 Nevada, Rochester—"I think it was a good trade. They needed a quarterback. I hated to see them give up Watkins."

JOE FORTINO, 310 Nick — "Typical Ford - Thomas deal. They gave more than they got."

★ ★ ★

TOM NICHOLAS, 921 Voorhies—"It's a very good deal. The players they gave up have very little left. They made out okay."

★ ★ ★

MARTIN SHOALS, Walled Lake—"It seems like they gave a lot, but I'm glad they had the guts to do something about that quarterback situation. The Tigers could take a lesson as far as their shortstop situation."

tract, presumably seven years for an estimated $365,000 and the promise of a starting job.

Speculation locally however was that Munson received a two year contract for $65,000.

Substantiating Ford's comment that other clubs had been after his services, Munson, in a telephone interview to the Lions' office press conference admitted he "talked to several other clubs, as did my attorney.

"I talked to the Vikings and to the Lions during the draft, I talked recently to the New Orleans Saints and just last week my attorney talked to the Green Bay Packers," said Munson.

"I felt my greatest opportunity was in Detroit and I think from the personnel on the team it has a great future.

"I've been getting myself into shape," he added.

NO COMMITMENT

Did Munson recieve a commitment of being the No. 1 quarterback with the Lions, he was asked?

"Definitely not. I wouldn't have signed on that kind of a promise. I want to be in camp and fight for the job like the others," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Lions will have Karl Sweetan, No. 1 choice Greg Landry, rookie red-shirt Tim Jones and No. 9 choice Greg Barton from Tulsa in camp when the rookies report to Cranbrook, July 9.

Munson said he expected to be in Detroit in June after his children complete their school terms.

Standing 6-feet-2 at 200 pounds, Munson is 27 years old and was the No. 1 choice of the Rams in 1963 after an outstanding career at Utah State.

He moved into the starting Rams' lineup as a rookie in 1964 with a record of 108 completions in 223 attempts for 1,533 yards and nine touchdowns.

Former Lions' coach George Wilson, who coached Munson in the Senior Bowl, always regarded Munson as an outstanding prospect and the best of several great quarterbacks in collegiate ranks that year.

As a sophomore quarterback in the NFL in 1965, he was short of sensational, having hit on 144 of 267 passes for 10 touchdowns and 1,701 yards.

However, he missed the final four games of 1965 after a knee injury which required surgery and thus surrendered the starting job to Roman Gabriel.

His over-all record with the Rams stands at 287 completions in 550 attempts — a .522 percentage with 3,556 yards and 22 touchdowns.

GOLFERS HONORED—Six of Michigan's top amateur golfers were on hand along with the Golf Association of Michigan president Dr. Frank R. Lovell (seated, second from left) yesterday at a Rotary Club luncheon at Detroit. It was the GAM's annual Honor Roll awards presentation and six of the top 10 were on hand to receive awards. Heading the Honor Roll was Peter Green (seated left) of Franklin . Continuing (l-r) are Lovell, Melvin Stevens and Bill Albright. Standing (l-r) are R. Hunter McDonald, Chuck Kocsis and Bill Newcomb.

Awards Made to Top Ten at GAM Fete

By FLETCHER SPEARS

DETROIT — Indications are that Peter Green won't be playing second fiddle among Michigan's amateur golfers from now on.

Green, 27, Orchard Lake member who had been on the verge of winning for the past several years, made the breakthrough last season with a couple of key championships and he picked up his first win of the '68 campaign yesterday without lifting a club.

The lastest honor for Green was first place on the Golf Association of Michigan's 1968 Honor Roll, and he and 10 others received awards from the GAM at a Rotary Club-sponsored luncheon here.

Ten received awards in the over-all golfing category, while Ray Palmer of Grosse Ile was honored for winning the U.S.G.A. Seniors' Championship.

★ ★ ★

Trailing Green on the Honor Roll were Bill Newcomb of Ann Arbor; John Grace of Detroit; Melvin (Bud) Stevens of Western G.C.; James St. Germain of Meadowbrook; Stan Thompson Jr. of Midland; Charles Kocsis of Red Run; R. Hunter McDonald of Oakland Hills; Bill Albright of Detroit; and Glenn Johnson of Detroit.

Green, a member of Orchard Lake Country Club, checked in last season with titles in the Golf Association of Michigan and the Middle Atlantic Amateur tournaments.

Along with those victories, he made the 36-hole cut in the U.S.G.A. National Amateur and shared fourth in the Horton Smith Memorial.

Newcomb, a 28-year-old golf course architect, made the Honor Roll for the first time and it came on the heels of his triumph in the Michigan Amateur. In addition, Newcomb was second in the Michigan Medal Play and third in the Horton Smith event.

Grace, 20, a sophomore at University of Houston, lost to Newcomb in the state amateur, 3-2, and he wound up third in the Medal Play and made it to the semifinals of the GAM.

Stevens made the list for the 10th time on the strength of a semifinal venture to the state amateur and a tie for sixth in the Medal Play.

St. Germain, who switched from Houston to Eastern Michigan University this year, was 10th last year, but his sharp play in '67 earned him the No. 5 spot. He was a quarter-finalist in the state amateur, 13th in the Michigan Open and won the Horton Smith Memorial.

Kocsis, on the list for the 20th time, qualified locally last season for the U.S.G.A. Open and for the U.A.G.A. National Amateur. Kocsis is a six-time winner of the Michigan Amateur and three-time champion in the Michigan Open.

'67 WMGA Leaders Hold Form for '68

The two gals who dominated play last year in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association picked up where they left off as the group opened the '68 season yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Max Evans, winner of the WMGA medal play championship in '67, and Mrs. Midge Cova, the reigning match play champion, finished one-two to lead a field of 72 at Sylvan Glen in the first weekly tournament of the campaign.

Most of the gals had trouble with the wind and the long Sylvan Glen (6,400 yard) layout.

Mrs. Evans soared to a 48 on the front side but settled down to card a 42 on the back nine for a 90.

Mrs. Cova fashioned a 43 on the front but ran into some drainage ditch problems on the back nine and closed with a 48 for an 18-hole score of 91.

Sharing the third spot with 95s were Mrs. Nick Panasuik of Elmstead, Ont., Mrs. Henry Pramick of Dearborn Woods and Mrs. John Hartzell of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Rift Hits Tennis Camp

LONDON (AP) — The first signs of a rift between professional and amateur tennis threatened today to halt the progress of open tournaments.

American promoter George MacCall was reported planning to pull his ten stars out of the Kent Championships at Beckenham—one of the open tournaments scheduled to precede Wimbledon.

He said the prize money offered was not big enough and started planning a rival tournament of his own at Eastbourne.

The International Lawn Tennis Federation sanctioned open tournaments a month ago and allotted four open events to Britain this year.

★ ★ ★

The first—the British Hard Court Championships at Bournemouth last week—was won by Ken Rosewall, one of MacCall's professionals.

Hawkins' 41 Points Leads ABA Pipers

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Connie Hawkins sank 41 points to lead the Pittsburgh Pipers to a 118-112 victory over the New Orleans Buccaneers Wednesday night and tie the American Basketball Association best-of-7 title series at three games each.

The championship game will be played in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

McLain, Tigers Edge Minnesota

McLain, who had nine strikeouts in the game, and did not allow a walk, whipped in a fast ball to Uhlaender who popped it foul to Wert to end the game.

CHILLED EXCITEMENT

The crowd of 17,523 who sat in chilly 40-degree temperatures, watched excitedly as the two American League contenders battled on somewhat even statistics.

★ ★ ★

McLain, who struck out Tony Oliva three times, left the mound repeatedly to put his hand to his mouth without being called for the violation because he was in the permitted zone.

★ ★ ★

"It was cold out there. It's a ridiculous rule when you can't blow a little warm breath into your hands," said McLain.

"My curve was working real good, but on a cold night like that I stayed more with my fast ball. Of course with Killebrew, I don't think there's a pitch to stop him."

The victory kept the Tigers a game and a half ahead of the Baltimore Orioles, who moved into second place ahead of the Twins after defeating New York, 6-1.

Joe Sparma will try to hold the position for the Tigers tonight when he goes against Minnesota's Dean Chance.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota manager Cal Ermer played a hunch last night and it paid off when he took out righty Bob Allison who is hitting .333 and started Reese, a left-hander.

★ ★ ★

Reese got the homer and single, his first hits of the season.

It was the Twins' first road loss of the campaign after opening with seven straight out opening with seven straight out-of-town victories.

Defensive Back Awaits Contact

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Defensive halfback Pat Fischer said Wednesday he was waiting for the St. Louis football Cardinals to contact him.

Fischer commented after Vice President Bill Bidwell of the Cardinals denied that the former University of Nebraska standout was through with the club because he had played out his option.

★ ★ ★

Bidwell said the Cardinals would make every effort to sign the defensive ace.

McDowell Whiffs 16 Athletic Batters

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell struck out 16 Oakland batters Wednesday night and Cleveland rallied for a 3-1 victory after John Odom had retired the first 15 batters he faced.

McDowell's single in the sixth inning tied the score and the Indians scored two more in the seventh.

The Indians' big left-hander retired 20 men in a row after the Athletics' scored an unearned run in the third to take a 1-0 lead.

Andover Ends Tennis String for Clarkston

A lengthy winning streak came to a halt yesterday as Bloomfield Hills Andover posted a 3-2 upset victory over Clarkston's tennis squad.

Clarkston went into the match with a string of 19 in a row and the lead in the Wayne-Oakland League, but the loss left the Wolves (4-1) a half game back of unbeaten Andover (4-0).

In another match, Royal Oak Kimball ran its record to 6-0 with a 4-3 triumph over city rival Dondero.

Skippers Gain 3-1 Triumph

Lahser Hands Mott 5-3 Diamond Loss

Waterford and Bloomfield Hills traded victories on the baseball front yesterday.

The Skippers of Waterford Township turned back Bloomfield Hills Andover, 3-1, while Bloomfield Hills Lahser pinned a 5-3 setback on Waterford Mott.

Frank Ballard scattered five hits and his Skipper teammates backed him with a pair of double plays in taming Andover.

Waterford scored all three runs in the third inning. Dennis Alvis singled home one run, Steve Goit chased home another with a sacrifice fly and Gary Lynn doubled the other home. Andover's only marker came on a leadoff home run by Roger-Hirshman in the fifth.

Jeff Kezlarian started Lahser on the way to victory with a two-run triple in the first inning. He later added a double while teammate Doug Wagner went three-for-three.

12th Inning Triple Beats Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Julian Javier's 12th-inning triple drove in the tie-breaking run Wednesday night and St. Louis beat Houston 3-1.

★ ★ ★

Houston has now lost 10 of its last 12 games and St. Louis has won eight of nine.

Johnny Edwards singled, leading off the inning, and was forced at second by Mike Shannon. Javier then tripled to left center off reliever Wade Blasingame and scored on Denis Menke's wild throw.

★ ★ ★

Julio Gotay singled Houston's tying run home in the fifth after John Bateman had reached on Orlando Cepeda's error and reached second on a fielder's choice.

The Cards had touched Houston starter Dave Giusti for a run in the fourth when Edwards singled and Javier doubled. Javier was out, trying to stretch his hit into a triple.

Cubs Protest Pirates' Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al McBean hurled his fourth victory, a six-hitter, and Donn Clendenon cracked a run-scoring single and home run Wednesday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Chicago Cubs 4-0 in a game protested by Cub Manager Leo Durocher.

★ ★ ★

McBean overcome some early shakiness in going the distance for the fourth time.

The Pirates got a run in the first inning when Roberto Clemente tripled off the right field wall with two away and scored on a single by Clendenon.

Durocher announced the Cubs were playing under protest, apparently because he thought Pittsburgh Manager Larry Shepard made two trips to the mound to talk to McBean in the eighth inning.

Shepard appeared to leave the 18-foot circle around the mound and then re-entered it to talk to his pitcher.

Umpire Shag Crawford said that when catcher Jerry May was injured by a foul tip in the top of the eighth, Shepard asked for and received his permission to go to the mound and confer with McBean.

Tito Triggers Rally

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tito Francona's infield single in the ninth inning drove in his third run of the game, triggered a four-run rally and sent Atlanta to a 7-3 victory over Los Angeles Wednesday night.

Mike Lum led off the inning with a pinch single and moved to third on Felipe Alou's single. John Billingham replaced Jim Grant on the mound and got Sonny Jackson to force Alou, Lum holding.

Hank Aaron was purposely passed, loading the bases and Francona beat out a grounder to Paul Popovich at short with Lum scoring. Popovich threw wildly to first on the play, letting Jackson score. One out later, Clete Boyer doubled, driving in the last two runs of the inning.

Oriole Rookie Wins, Angels Streak at 4

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dave Johnson drove in three runs and Boog Powell two as the Baltimore Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 6-1 Wednesday night behind the four-hit pitching of rookie Dave Leonhard.

Johnson's sacrifice fly tied the score 1-1 in the fourth and his run-scoring single sent the Orioles ahead in the sixth. Both times he drove in Curt Blefary, who started the rallies with singles and moved up on hits by Brooks Robinson. Mark Belanger also had a sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Steve Hamilton, who relieved loser Mel Stottlemyre, 3-2, allowed three runs in the seventh. Powell drove in two with a bases-loaded single and Johnson followed with another run-scoring single.

BOSTON (AP) — Roger Repoz' ninth-inning single drove in two runs Wednesday night as California beat Boston 5-3 and ran its winning streak to four straight games. The Red Sox have lost four in a row.

Bobby Knoop led off the ninth with a single and moved to second when Red Sox reliever John Wyatt fielded a smash by Paul Schaal, but threw widly to second.

Knoop and Schaal then worked a double steal and Repoz' single to right drove in both runners.

The Red Sox, held to one unearned run by Angel starter Ricky Clark for seven innings, rallied to tie it 3-3 in the eighth on Ken Harrelson's bases-loaded single of reliever Jack Hamilton.

Milford Nine Slips Past Walled Lake

Milford shoved across two runs in the top of the ninth yesterday to down Walled Lake, 6-4.

While the batters held their own in that contest, the pitchers starred in several other contests.

Elsewhere, Cranbrook downed Rochester, 3-1; North Farmington blanked Livonia Franklin, 8-0; Birmingham Groves halted Oak Park, 3-1; Birmingham Seaholm shut out Royal Oak Kimball, 2-0; and Royal Oak Shrine downed Detroit Holy Redeemer, 5-2.

Milford's Bob McFarland singed home the lead run in the ninth and scored the second run in the frame on a bases-loaded walk in pacing the Redskins to their sixth win in eight starts. McFarland finished with two hits, while Mark Geigler and Bill Stanley also picked up two hits each.

★ ★ ★

Greg Fogle picked up two singles and drove in two runs and teammate Tom Johnson rapped a triple and single and scored twice to pace Walled Lake (4-4).

A two-out error in the third inning opened the gates for three unearned runs for Cranbrook. Norm Lerchen led the Cranes with a pair of hits and he drove in one run.

★ ★ ★

Pitcher Steve Eversman fashioned a three-hitter and fanned eight in taming Livonia Franklin. Eversman also paced the hitters with a pair of singles and an RBI.

Groves pushed across single runs in the second, fifth and seventh in running its record to 2-2.

Right-hander Mike Hilkene scattered four hits and struck out nine as Seaholm blanked Kimball.

Seaholm picked up both runs in the fourth, one coming home on a sacrifice fly by Hilkene and the second on a double by Rich Bowman. Marty Kovachevich paced the winners with a pair of doubles. Catcher Carl Roehling picked up two of the four safeties off Hilkene.

★ ★ ★

Burt Garavaglia and Bob Reilly combined for a five-hitter as Shrine (4-1) downed Holy Redeemer. Tom Scostkowski went 3-for-4 and knocked in two runs to lead the attack.

Gal Puts Heat on Czar in Bid for Ump's Job

NEW YORK (AP) — The commissioner of baseball denied Wednesday that he's responsible for keeping a 35-year-old coal miner's daughter out of the game as an umpire.

"The commissioner does not handle the hiring of umpires," Gen. William D. Eckert said in a formal statement after Mrs. Bernice Gera a Long Island housewife, took her case before the State Human Rights Commission.

It is Mrs. Gera's argument that she is being discriminated against because she is of the so-called weaker sex.

"There is no reason a woman cannot umpire a baseball game," Bernice contended. "It's just a matter of good eyesight, judgment and ability to move around.

"I think I fit the qualifications better than most men."

She has a diploma from a West Palm Beach, Fla. umpiring school — the first ever given to a woman — to prove it. Also, she umpired more than 30 games last year in the National Baseball Congress, which is just a step below the minor leagues.

Equipped with a lawyer, Mario Biaggi, and a sheaf of papers, Mrs. Gera filed her formal complaint Tuesday before the Human Rights Commission, which must decide whether to order public hearings.

Mrs. Gera said the commissioner wouldn't give her an application.

The commissioner said that's not so, issuing the following statement.

'NOT SO'

"Inquiries have been made to this office concerning the complaint by Mrs. Bernice Gera against the commissioner in the New York State Human Rights Commission.

"The complaint is said to allege discrimination in the refusal to hire her as an umpire. The commissioner has not seen such a complaint and therefore can only comment that the commissioner does not handle hiring of umpires and specifically has not refused Mrs. Gera an opportunity to file with the approrpiate authorities for a position as umpire."

If she wants to be a big league umpire, the commissioner's office said, she must talk to the league presidents — Joe Cronin of the American League and Warren Giles of the National League.

If she's interested in the minors, she must approach Phil Piton of Columbus, Ohio, president of the National Association, or one of the heads of the minor leagues.

Amish Build Barn in a Day

EAST RANDOLPH, N.Y. (AP) — About 200 bearded and black-clad Amishmen, working between dawn and dusk in one day, have built a barn for one of their brethren to replace one destroyed by fire.

Wearing long hair and the old-fashioned clothing that distinguishes them, the Amishmen came from a 150-family colony of the sect in this Western New York area and from several colonies in Pennsylvania on Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

They worked assembly-line style under the direction of Moss Miller, who designed the structure for his father-in-law Menno Herschberger.

Women of the sect prepared and served a huge farm dinner for the workers at noon.

Couple Held in Slayings of Spouses

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A handsome former police officer and his woman friend were in jail today — branded by detectives as the killers of their spouses in plots to collect more than $100,000 in "double indemnity" life insurance.

The onetime policeman is Paul Perveler, 31, who quit the Los Angeles force under a cloud in 1964 and now owns two taverns.

Also in custody was Mrs. Kristina Cromwell, 27, a onetime clerk for an automobile association.

Perveler's second wife, Cheryl, 22, was shot to death on the front seat of her car on the night of April 20 just after she drove into the garage of their apartment in the Los Angeles suburb of Burbank.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Cromwell's husband Marlin, a 27-year-old stock clerk in a department store, was killed at his home in Highland Park, Calif., in December, 1966. The death weapon was a 22-caliber firearm which was never found.

3 Michigan Men Killed in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Wednesday that three Michigan men were among a list of 39 American servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam War.

Killed were Army S. Sgt. Karl Lucas, father of Karl Lucas Jr., River Rouge; Army Cpl. Thomas J. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carroll, Grand Rapids and Marine Pfc. Bruce K. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Craig, Escanaba.

Teen Patrol Jobs Available for 50

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —As many as 50 youths between 16 and 20 years will be hired this summers by the Teens on Patrol Program in Grand Rapids to cool potential civil disturbances. The city commission authorized $25,000 from the Grand Rapids Foundation to pay the youths $1.75 an hour to work under police supervision at swimming pools and parks, playgrounds and similar activities.

Pair to Visit U-M to Promote RFK

DETROIT (AP) — Arthur Schlesinger, historian and former special assistant to President John F. Kennedy, and U.S. Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., were scheduled to visit Michigan today to promote the campaign of U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Schlesinger was set to address a group at the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor at 8 p.m. today. His visit is sponsored by the U. of M. Faculty for Kennedy Committee.

Tydings speaks at 8 p.m. today at Michigan State University, in East Lansing. The senator's appearance is being sponsored by the Alliance for Kennedy of Lansing and East Lansing.

WAHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor will sponsor a Neighborhood Youth Corps project for 320 Pontiac youths this summer, it was announced Monday. The project will cost $184,580, $154,090 from the federal government and the balance from the local sponsor.

Added Pounds Cost Her Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Helen Caspan, a typist for the city hired last October with a warning to lose weight, has been fired after gaining 14 pounds for a total of 230.

The 33-year-old woman, 5-feet-10, said she tried pills and dieting but became so nervous from the pills and so hungry from the diets that she ate more than before and gained weight.

★ ★ ★

The city said her health was in jeopardy, making her too much of a risk for the city's health plan insurance to cover.

"I will try to lose weight," said the mother of two. "I even thought of handcuffing myself, but I'd probably find some way out of that."

Ford Calls for Cut in Space Program

WASHINGTON (AP)— House Republican leader Gerald Ford called Wednesday for a $200-million cut in the nation's civilian space program.

The House Science and Astronautics Committee has trimmed $153 million from the administration's $4.3 billion request for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

★ ★ ★

But Ford suggested this could be cut another $200 million "without impairing the safety or the effectiveness of our space program."

Patent Given Transistor for Microphone

A pressure - sensitive field - effect transistor, useful, among other applications, as a microphone, has been patented by engineers of the German firm Siemens Corp.

Field - effect transistors control the flow of electricity from one terminal to another by applying a voltage across a thin strip of insulator attached to the transistor. One kind of voltage that reflects the sound pattern slows down the flow of current; another increases it.

German engineers have found that pressure on the insulator strip does the same thing a voltage can do: it controls the flow of current from one end of the transistor to the other.

The result is a varying flow of electricity out of the transistor diaphragm that vibrates according to the sound imposed.

For use in a microphone, the hard point that applies pressure to the transistor is attached to a received.

100 YEARS AGO

This was a new home, having risen proudly to take its place among the stately frame homes of the little village of Clarkston. Many changes have occurred in the ensuing years; the parlor is gone and has become part of the large living room and some years ago, modern plumbing was introduced. Today, it graciously awaits a new family who will enjoy the comfort and tradition of one of the older homes of Clarkston. 3-bedrooms await the laughter of children and the large dining room looks forward to many more family dinners. May we introduce you to this opportunity? $20,000 with $5,000 down.

EXECUTIVE RANCH

In Clarkston within walking distance to schools and the village. 3 ample bedrooms, full basement with walk-out to heated pool and fireplaces, 2 lots, 2-car garage, too many other features to mention. Call for an appointment to show your family their new home.

SOLOMON WASN'T SO WISE!!

That's a fact! A fella named Solomon was in Fischer Buick's Used Car Lot today and he looked at a large selection of quality used cars. Mr. Solomon said that all of the cars looked real good and ran nicely, but he decided that he would keep his 1928 Essex for a couple more years. So why don't you come and buy a car here. You'll be smarter than Solomon!

A Look at TV

Leslie's Hour Colorful

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — On ABC last night, Leslie Uggams, once of the Mitch Miller show and more recently the star of Broadway's "Hallelujah, Baby" last night appeared in her first television special. It was a variety hour and consisted almost entirely of musical numbers performed in wildly colorful psychedelic settings.

★ ★ ★

Miss Uggams, a very attractive young woman with an interesting singing style, demonstrated her way with material that ranged from "Anything Goes" to "My Man."

★ ★ ★

She had some help from a chorus, and was given an assist by Robert Morse and Noel Harrison, neither of whom had anything particularly interesting to contribute.

The motion picture Oscar awards show on April 8 topped the most recent national Nielsen ratings list, with an audience estimated at almost 20 million homes. Second in popularity was "The Andy Griffith Show," followed by the cartoon show, "Charlie Brown's All-Stars," a rerun.

President Johnson has taped a message urging conservation of natural resources which will be tacked on at the end of NBC's "Smokey the Bear" rerun to be broadcast May 5.

Recommended tonight: "The Admirable Crichton," NBC, 8:30-10 EDT, last of this season's "Hall of Fame" series, an adaptation of J. M. Barrie's satire written over 50 years ago.

Sparta Senior 'Hams' It Up With Prize

SPARTA (UPI) — Linnea Hogan, who has a lot of hobbies, has come up with a new one — a radio station she won as a door prize.

Her father, attorney Philip L. Hogan, a "ham" operator, bought a door prize ticket and filled in her name at a meeting of the Michigan Amateur Radio Convention in Lansing recently. She won.

Linnea, who is 17, pretty, and a senior at Sparta High School, is a talented artist and plans to continue her art studies at Western Michigan University next fall. She also excelled in gymnastics and expects to continue that at WMU.

Meanwhile, she is getting an avid interest in operating her own "ham," station, with the complete shortwave transmitting and receiving equipment she won.

A computer program has been developed for determining how changes in an aircraft's design will affect the force of its sonic boom over a range of flight conditions.

Hanoi Turns Down Shipboard Talk Site

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the North Vietnamese embassy in Vientiane today rejected the proposal to hold preliminary peace talks with the United States aboard an Indonesian cruiser in the Gulf of Tonkin. The United States had accepted the proposal, but North Vietnamese rejection was expected in Washington.

Terming the shipboard talks "unacceptable" to the Hanoi government the North Vietnamese spokesman said the proposal by the Indonesian government "does not meet a single one of President Johnson's own conditions for preliminary contacts.

Recalling Johnson's demand for a neutral site for the talks, the spokesman said "Indonesia is not neutral," an indication that Hanoi considers the Jakarta government pro-Western since President Sukarno's ouster.

"Furthermore, contacts held on a ship world exclude representatives of other countries and of the press and would not permit what President Johnson called 'adequate communications'—conditions set by Johnson himself," the spokesman added.

★ ★ ★

He said Hanoi still insists the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland, both of which the U. S. government has rejected.

URGING WARSAW

In Washington, a number of U. S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated he and other committee members told Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach that the United States should lift its objections to the Polish capital as a site for talks.

Another committee member who asked not to be named said he's convinced the United States rejected Warsaw because of objections raised by the South Vietnamese.

★ ★ ★

Fulbright, asked if South Vietnamese objections are holding up talks, replied: "They are a major reason why we don't—both South Vietnam and South Korea—but especially South Vietnam."

FAVORED SHIP

Fulbright said he favored yesterday's offer by Indonesia to provide a ship on which the talks could be held in the international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

But he expressed skepticism Hanoi would go along—a view also voiced privately by diplomats in Washington.

Allied Troops Take N. Viet Stronghold

SAIGON (UPI) — About 10,000 allied troops have won the battle of the A Shau valley, driving North Vietnamese forces from their sanctuary and cutting off major Communist supply routes into South Vietnam, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

Military sources also said the two-week drive through the 25-mile-long valley swept up sophisticated Russian weapons never before used by the Communists in the Vietnam war — including 122mm artillery shells and transistorized mine detectors.

The seizure of A Shau, a bastion the North Vietnamese took two years building up in a jungle full of tigers and pythons, snapped the key lifeline to Red forces which allied intelligence said was threatening Hue and other bases with a second invasion in three months.

The heaviest sustained fighting in two months raged through the fourth day today outside Hue and Dong Ha. Allied forces reported more than 1,000 enemy troops killed.

★ ★ ★

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 81 of their men killed and 395 wounded in the battling since Monday, the biggest eruption since the Vietcong's Tet offensive in February.

ENEMY DEAD

In the fighting outside Hue, the enemy dead included a North Vietnamese battalion commander, a battalion executive officer and three company commanders. U.S. paratroopers also reported the surrender of 97 North Vietnamese troops, including five women nurses.

U.S. casualties in the war increased last week, while those reported for the enemy and for South Vietnamese forces were less than the week before.

The U.S. Command in its weekly summary, said 302 Americans were killed and 2,458 wounded last week, compared with 287 killed and 1,458 wounded the week before. Of the wounded last week, 1,363 required hospitalization.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnamese headquarters said government casualties were 253 killed, 785 wounded and seven missing.

The report raised to 22,006 the number of Americans killed in action in the war since Jan. 1, 1961, and increased the number of wounded to 137,668.

Surtax Gets New Life in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has prescribed a formula to inject new life into Preesident Johnson's $10-billion tax-hike bill—a spending cut proposal the administration labels good medicine.

★ ★ ★

Breaking a weeks-long deallock, the committee proposed yesterday that any tax hike be accompanied by a $4-billion cut in actual spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1, plus a $14-billion slash in spending already authorized or appropriated for future years.

The committee's action removed a big roadblock in the tax proposal's progress through Congress, where it has been since last August.

But Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on a House-Senate conference committee trying to work out a compromise, said the Senate will not pass a tax-spending package that doesn't contain a $6-billion spending cut for next year—a proposal already endorsed by the Senate but opposed by the administration.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said the appropriations committee's recommendations "meet every reasonable demand for expenditure control."

COMPROMISE PLAN

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., predicted an eventual compromise which would include a $5-billion spending cut.

But House Republican leaded Gerald R. Ford declared partisan politics had a hand in formulation of the committee's proposal.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who, like Ford, appeared before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention, made a strong plea for a tax hike.

Charges Filed Against Man in Area Abduction Case

A Pontiac man is being held today in the Oakland County Jail on charges of kidnaping, rape and gross indecency in the abduction of a young married woman.

The charges, as well as a second count of kidnaping, were brought against Laurence S. Moore, 24, of 499 W. Huron on the request of Detectives Henry I. Hansen and Roland G. Pless of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Moore, married and the father of one child, was arrested in Genesee County during an extensive manhunt Tuesday for the kidnaper of Mrs. Norman Kinnison Jr., 19, and her 14-year-old brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison.

The two, both of 435½ University, were abducted from the parking lot at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center in Waterford Township shortly after Mrs. Kinnison had left work as a sales clerk at Hudson's.

The boy was released in Commerce Township a short time after the 9:30 p.m. abduction.

CAPTIVE 12 HOURS

Mrs. Kinnison, however, was held captive for nearly 12 hours.

Her captor fled on foot, leaving her tied to the steering wheel of her car, when the auto became stuck in mud in a field near Columbiaville in Lapeer County.

Moore, who is employed at a Pontiac collision shop, was taken into custody by Michigan State Police troopers George Woodward and Dennis Banks of the Lapeer post about 10 hours later.

Cure Social Ills, Exhorts Justice

Michigan Supreme Court Justice Michael D. O'Hara, speaking at a Law Day program in Pontiac yesterday, urged immediate legisaltion to cure social ills because time has run out in promising Negroes equality.

★ ★ ★

"Only when we, society, have demanded justice in all forms for the Negroes as urgently, as outragedly and as imminently as we demanded protection from, and punishment of, violent Negro protest, will we have the clean hands that equity demands for any judicial relief," said O'Hara.

For every antiriot bill there must be an antidiscrimination bill, he added.

"Not the enactment of one, and the promise of the other. For the time for promise has run out."

★ ★ ★

He said that he is not naive enough to think that the Legislature can enact a law of brotherhood, or that the courts can decree away hate.

MASS DEMAND

There must be a mass citizen demand for a massive program of public aid in the nature of housing, education, medical care and job opportunity in needed public work, according to O'Hara.

"Courts can ensure equal justice under law," the associate justice said. "The executive can ensure equal enforcement of law. Only we, acting through our state and national legislatures can ensure equality for the minority."

It is a mistake, he said, to believe that antiriot legislation, swift and rigorous punishment and more severe punishment will make the problem go away.

★ ★ ★

"From the depth of a troubled heart, I tell you if this is all we mean, we invite recurrent tragedy," O'Hara added.

Negro to Head Central School

The first Negro ever to be principal of a predominantly white school in Pontiac was named by the board of education last night.

Mrs. Harriette D. Brooks, team leader of the Bagley School Teacher Corps, was appointed to replace retiring Mrs. Marion Hinkley at Central Elementary School.

But a big issue discussed was whether to appoint a male or female, white or

★ ★ ★

Then last night, Franklin teachers asked for the best qualfied principal, black or white, while Charles Tucker Jr., of 161 Earlmoor said the school needed "a black male identity figure."

NO ONE NAMED

The board didn't and hadn't planned to name a person last night to replace Lester Gripentrog at Franklin. He has been transferred to Rogers Elementary School for 1968-69.

Trustee Russell L. Brown, who chaired the crowded meeting in the absence of President Monroe M. Osmun, said the Franklin appointment has been delayed.

Wage Accord at Bell Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone strike negotiators reportedly have agreed on wage hikes of about 6 per cent a year for a three-year contract, but snags on other issues held up final settlement of the nationwide walkout.

The reported wage agreement between the AFL CIO Communications Workers of America and the Bell Telephone System would raise average pay of some 600,000 telephone workers from $2.79 to about $3.29 per hour by the third year.

About 200,000 telephone workers are involved in the 15-day-old dispute, first nationwide telephone strike in 21 years, and contracts of many of the other 400,000 expire in the next few weeks.

The current negotiations, biggest set of labor-industry contract talks this year, will set the pattern for all telephone workers.

★ ★ ★

Union and company negotiating teams in 17 cities worked through the night in hopes of ironing out final differences.

23,000 INSTALLERS

Key strike negotiations in New York cover 23,000 telephone installers on strike in some 40 states.

The strike also includes about 145,000 telephone operators, linemen, repairmen, clerks and other Bell System workers in 16 states and the District of Columbia.

Additional thousands of workers in states where Bell contracts have expired are refusing to cross picket lines of the Western Eelctric installers.

★ ★ ★

"It's a solid strike," a union spokesman said.

LITTLE EFFECT

However, there has been little effect on telephone service.

Building Strike Impact Spreads

By the Associated Press

The skeletal forms of once-rising structures stood today as mute testimony of the impact of a strike by building tradesmen.

Millions of dollars in construction work was halted by the strike of thousands of building tradesmen. The strike is in its second day.

The strikes came because agreement had not been reached between tradesmen and contractors on labor settlements to replace those that expired at midnight April 30.

Contractors said the tradesmen, whose base pay exceeded $5 an hour under the old contracts, were asking for wage and fringe benefit increases ranging from 26 per cent to 76 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The offer from contractors was 6 per cent in wages and fringe benefits in each of the next two years.

OVER DOZEN UNIONS STRIKE

More than a dozen unions were on strike at various points throughout Michigan.

Some 2,500 tradesmen did not report in the Saginaw Valley District.

About 500 carpenters were off the job in Alpena, Cadillac, Traverse City, Cheboygan and Petoskey, according to the Northwest Michigan Building Trades Council.

The Southwest Michigan Carpenters Council called out some 4,000 members in a 14-county area, which includes Holland, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Muskegon, Benton Harbor and Coldwater.

Vietcong Plot Foiled

SAIGON (AP) — Police said today they foiled a Vietcong May Day plot to blow up the national police headquarters in Saigon.

leader for two years, has been a teachcr at Bagley School since 1952.

★ ★ ★

She was picked out of 19 candidates competing for five elementary principalships and one teacher consultant position. The Franklin and teacher consultant job remain unfilled.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Other appointments were:

Richard H. Hoffman, 30, elementary principal in the Beecher School District near Flint, to Owen School to replace Richard Goodwin, who transfers to the new elementary school next to Lincoln Junior High School.

● William P. Counts, 42, Teacher Corps team leader at Jefferson Junior High School, to Bagley School to replace resigning Mrs. Jeanne Tilson White.

● Brian F. Castle, 29, sixth grade teacher at McConnell School, to Irving School to succeed retiring Mrs. Wilma Muldowney.

Negro principals will serve at Central Bagley, Whittier, Bethune and Jefferson Junior High School for the next school year.

★ ★ ★

Discussing the Franklin situation, Ezekiel Wright, a sixth grade teacher there, told the board the teachers request that the board select a principal on the basis of his qualifications and not color.

'POWDER KEG'

A parent reminded the board they are "sitting on a potentially dangerous powder keg" and that is up to them "to prevent it from going off" by providing an integrated staff.

Tucker, former Oakland County NAACP president and father of two children at Franklin, drew applause when he called for a Negro principal.

"Many Negro teachers have left the system because opportunities for advancement are not here," he said. "You have to be realistic — a Negro can understand the students' problems better than a white man."

★ ★ ★

He claimed it was a "fight" to get other Negroes into principal positions and John Perdue as director of school-community and human relations.

OTHER PERSONNEL

In other personnel matters, the board:

● Heard Trustee James L. Howlett say without reason that he would not run for reelection June 10. He has been on the board almost four years.

● Learned from Lewis A. Crew, director of instructional personnel services, that 270 new and replacement teachers will have to be hired for the coming school year, almost 70 more than last year.

★ ★ ★

Crew said there has been less applicants to fill more positions than last year.

Tucker and Perdue, who does some recruiting at college campuses, suggested that an assistant personnel director position be created for a Negro.

★ ★ ★

The board tabled one appointment to the board of canvassers, which certify election results, because of interest shown by Negro members of the audience in vacancies for one Democrat and one Republican.

ALLEN ZEMMOL

Lawyer Enters Congress Race in 18th District

A Beverly Hills attorney announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 18th District, the eastetrn portion of Oakland County.

Allen Zemmol a law partner of Congressman John Dingell, said he will make every effort to discuss vital issues during the campaign.

"And hopefully, the incumbent will face up to the same standard even though he has failed to do so in the past," said Zemmol, 37, of 21501 W. 13 Mile.

Zemmol charged that the present officeholder, Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak, "has totally failed to show any imagination, understanding or leadership on any of the critical problems facing Americans."

Active in civil rights, Zemmol in 1964 served as a volunteer lawyer in Mississippi.

A graduate of Wayne State University with honors, he received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1954. He and his wife, Lita, have three children.

Stating that Oakland County "can no longer hold itself aloof from America's urban crisis," Zemmol said he sees his campaign as an opportunity to galvanize the county's "considerable" talents to meet that challenge.

Citizen Group to Push School Millage

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A new citizens' organization has been formed in this school district to work for the passage of the board of education's latest millage request.

The name of the group, which is chaired by Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) Council President H. Eugene Weiss, 2877 Courville, Bloomfield Township, is Citizens for Bloomfield Schools (CBS).

It will be attempting to secure voter approval of a proposed 9.5-mill tax increase on the June 10 ballot in the wake of the April 1 defeat of a proposed 14-mill hike by a 2½-to-1 margin.

Weiss, calling the situation of the district's schools "desperate," added, "It isn't a question of providing frills or improving the quality of education. It is a matter of being able to maintain a decent school system."

★ ★ ★

Even if the 9.5-mill proposition passes, he noted, cutbacks will be made, including reductions in transportation, art, music and athletics and an increase in the average class size.

★ ★ ★

"The board of education is going to have to lay it on the line this time," Weiss asserted, "and tell the parents and voters in this district exactly how much trouble we are in."

Economies so far put into effect by the board will save some money during the rest of the school year, but "don't begin to scratch the surface," he said.

Because of the fact that the district has only two years in which to eliminate its deficit estimated to reach $1.1 million by the end of this year, a drop of 20 per cent in money available for education will occur next year unless additional funds are approved by voters, Weiss explained.

"Further major reductions in the quality of education" will have to be effected unless the June 10 vote is favorable, he said, with the elimination of kindergarten and after-school activities and sharp reductions in spending on materials, supplies and equipment possible.

The 20-per-cent decrease, coupled with a 10-per-cent increase in enrollment, he continued, will mean that the amount of money available per pupil will be 27 per cent lower than at present.

"Time and events have seemed to conspire against us," Weiss commented in tracing the causes of the district's present financial bind.

"During the current school year, the board was simultaneously faced with major cost increases from several sources."

★ ★ ★

Among these sources he listed the opening of new schools, increases in teacher salaries, the high initial cost of introducing a new curriculum program, increasing enrollment, and general cost increases due to inflation.

SURPLUS TO DEFICIT

As a result, Weiss said, the district has gone from a $1.1-million surplus at the end of the 1965-66 school year to the present deficit.

Weiss said he plans to build the basic organization of the campaign around the PTO, and that local PTO presidents would serve as contacts for citizens wishing to participate.

A major part of the campaign, he added, will be a mass meeting for all voters of the district, with a fact presentation followed by open discussion.

Kelley to Test Federal Bar to News Strike Interference

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley attempted today to determine whether a federal court can forbid Gov. George Romney and a Senate committee from interfering with the Detroit newspaper strike.

Kelley declined to say in which federal court he would pursue the matter, but expected court action early today.

The attorney general stepped into the case late yesterday after U.S. District Judge Damon Keith issued the restraining order and the federal court process server was bodily removed from a Senate committee hearing.

Detroit attorney Lawrence Vantil, appointed by the court to serve the restraining orders to committee members and the governor, was ejected after he failed to produce credentials or a copy of the order naming him as process server.

The restraining order prohibiting Romney and the committee from involving themselves with collective bargaining procedures under way in the 169-day-old strike was sought by Peter B. Clark, publisher of the Detroit News.

★ ★ ★

Clark had been subpoenaed to attend the committee hearing. The order declared the subpoena void.

Sen. Robert J. Huber, R-Birmingham and chairman of the committee to investigate newspaper strikes, called Clark's attitude "arbitrary, arrogant and dictatorial."

"This is an effrontery to the dignity of the senate," argued Sen. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, committee member.

★ ★ ★

Huber added that the committee would wait until the attorney general had resolved the matter of federal jurisdiction before deciding whether to pursue means of finding Clark in contempt of the Senate.

3 Young Men Found Slain in Apartment

DETROIT (AP) — Three young men were found shot to death in an apartment on Detroit's near West Side today, the Detroit Police homicide bureau reported.

Police said the victims, all in their 20s, apparently had been shot execution-style and one had been blindfolded. All had been shot through the back of the head.

The three bodies were found in the back of a second-floor apartment in the four-story building. Police said one man was found in the kitchen and the other two in the living room.

Residents of the apartment building told police they heard noises from the second-floor apartment early this morning.

Identities of the victims have not been revealed.

Rights Group Forum Friday

Pontiac's Human Relations Commission will hold the third in a continuing series of public forums at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the City Commission chambers of City Hall.

Rev. Jack H. C. Clark, chairman, said the forum will focus on all aspects of Pontiac's housing problems.

Samuel A. Baker, chairman of a subcommittee on housing problems, is scheduled to present information for the commission.

All citizens of Pontiac who wish to contribute to discussion or who have concerns in the area of housing are invited to attend and participate, Clark said.

★ ★ ★

Among those who have been invited to attend the discussion are: Charles L. Langs, and Dr. John R. Ylvisaker, local developers; Donald H. Bauder, area director of the Civil Rights Commission; Clarence E. Barnes, executive director of the Pontiac Area Urban League; Charles M. Tucker Jr., president of a nonprofit corporation to develop housing in the city's south end; William Hawkins, coordinator of the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority; and James Kirk, the city's relocation specialist.

Government Will Pay 6 Pct. Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government, blaming stiff competition for investment funds, has upped its interest it will pay on the money it borrows to 6 per cent, the highest in almost 50 years.

The Treasury Department announced it was increasing the interest rate on its notes yesterday. At the same time, it said it would borrow up to $11 million in funds for the government by refinancing old Treasury bonds and issuing new ones at the new rate.

The 6 per cent interest level was the highest paid by the Treasury since 1920.

Latins in U. S. Aided

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — With a contention that Mexican-Americans in this country are in the same plight as Negroes were 25 years ago, the Ford Foundation announced yesterday a $2.2-million legal defense and education fund for the 4 to 5 million Mexican-Americans in the United States.

Ike's Recovery Is 'Encouraging'

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported making excellent recovery from his third heart attack since 1955.

"The general's progress to this point has been very encouraging," medical authorities said Wednesday.

The seizure appeared less severe than those in 1965 and 1955, the experts said, adding that there have been no complications since the retired five-star general was flown here by helicopter from his winter home in Palm Desert, Calif., on Monday.

HOME UNDER HOOD—A pair of persistent robins built a nest under the hood of Jerry B. Kahn's car while it was parked in the driveway of his Grand Blanc Township home over the weekend. Heart Patient Shows Steady Improvement

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg walks 160 yards a day by himself now, and he dreams of taking up swimming again.

★ ★ ★

Once unable to lift an arm or even speak more than a few words without exhaustion, the world's only heart transplant patient looks, to the layman at least, like a new man.

Since surgery by Dr. Christiaan Barnard on Jan. 2, Blaiberg appears to have gained strength steadily with the heart of 24-year-old Clive Haupt beating in his breast. Haupt died of a stroke on New Year's Day.

Blaiberg now looks younger than his 58 years. Daily sunbathing on his apartment balcony has tanned him deeply.

★ ★ ★

Convalescence does not happen all at once. The dentist still cannot walk up or down steps without a firm but gentle helping hand. But there is no longer the pain or shortness of breath which made his life agony before the operation.

KEEP ROLLING IN

Letters from sympathizers and heart patients all over the world keep rolling in. Reading them is a fixed part of Blaiberg's daily schedule, as are the six hours he puts in daily on his autobiography.

Doctors at Groote Schuur Hospital report they are "more than pleased" by Blaiberg's progress.

A typical Blaiberg day begins early. Breakfast at 8:30 a.m. is usually followed by the day's letter-reading. He personally answers much of the correspondence.

★ ★ ★

Following tea at 11 a.m., his wife, Eileen, takes him for a drive around Cape Town, to places the once hopelessly sick man had resigned himself to never seeing again.

At Sea Point, he sits silently, looking out over the beach front and sweeping view of the south Atlantic. Passersby, recognizing a face now at least as familiar as that of Premier John Vorster, stop, stare, smile and wave greetings.

The face of Philip Blaiberg, round, balding at the temples, neatly moustached, beams back.

Lawman Fights Off Small Dog to Get His Woman

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — County patrolman Richard Roush was checking a call that a woman wearing only a green negligee was walking a dog around Park Circle Wednesday.

When he approached her, the patrolman said she ordered the dog, a spirited chihuahua, to attack him. The dog inflicted a painful nip on Roush's hand and, while he assessed the damage, the woman and her pet ran off.

Roush and another patrolman finally apprehended the 45-year-old woman about three blocks away. She was charged with disorderly conduct.

SPRINGTIME CASSEROLE—Deviled eggs top a tabasco-flavored casserole for a springtime buffet. Under a zesty cheese sauce you'll find fresh asparagus. Use plentiful eggs also in cheese pie and in salad.

Serve Beans in Mustard

"Mustard Beans" is a fast and easy way to bring new interest to canned Blue Lake green beans, those favorite stringless beans from the Northwest.

Dill weed, onion and beef consomme contribute their flavors, too, making this recipe a tasty way to serve green beans when you are serving beef or ham.

Mustard Beans

1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon instant minced onion or 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
½ cup undiluted canned consomme
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Dash dill weed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Drain beans. Combine cornstarch, onion, consomme, mustard and dill weed; stir until smooth. Cook, stirring, until mixture comes to boil and is thickened. Stir in butter and beans; heat.

Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Lumps are OK

Lumps in evaporated milk are formed by the solids settling during storage. The Consumer and marketing Service says the lumps do not harm the milk. To prevent lumping, turn or shake at frequent intervals during storage.

Deviled Eggs Top for New Casserole

Ralph Waldo Emerson said it: "There is always a best way of doing everything, if it be to boil an egg." And the proper way to boil an egg is, strangely enough, not to boil it.

For best flavor and tender quality, lower the eggs carefully into rapidly boiling water. Turn down the heat immediately and allow the eggs to cook just under the boil for the required length of time.

They're easier to shell if you prick the small end with a needle before cooking. Crack them by tapping gently all over and begin peeling from the large end where there is an air space.

Just as there is a correct way to cook an egg, there is also a best way of seasoning. The spicy goodness of Tabasco liquid red pepper sauce is a natural for the mild-mannered egg. Springtime Deviled Egg Casserole is a marvelous dish for buffets or sunny brunches.

SPRINGTIME DEVILED EGG CASSEROLE

Deviled Eggs

6 Hard-cooked eggs
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Cool eggs; remove shells and cut into lengthwise halves. Slip out yolks; sieve and mix well with remaining ingredients. Refill whites, using pastry tube if desired.

Cheese Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour and salt. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add Tabasco and cheese; stir until cheese melts.

Asparagus

Wash 2 pounds asparagus; break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Cook in boiling salted water in a large covered skillet for 5 to 10 minutes, just until crisp-tender. Drain. If desired, 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen asparagus may be substituted for fresh. Cook according to package directions.

To Assemble

Place hot asparagus in shallow baking dish; top with deviled egg halves. Spoon hot sauce overall. Bake in 375 degree oven, 10 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Saute Onions to Flavor Soup

The original recipe for the famous Tetrazzini dish called for chicken. But nowadays it is sometimes made with shrimp or tuna, or, as in the case of this new recipe from the National Macaroni Institute, with ham.

The method of preparation remains the same as in the classic version.

The rich but delicate sauce of chicken broth, cream and sherry is a magnificent foil for the more pronounced flavor of the ham, and a perfect complement for the spaghetti.

Ham Tetrazzini

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti
2 cups cooked ham, cut in strips
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup flour
1 cup chicken broth
1 cup heavy cream
⅓ cup shredded Gruyere or Swiss cheese
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons dry sherry (optional)
1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
⅓ cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil.

Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander.

In medium saucepan, saute ham in butter about 2 minutes; remove ham. Saute onion until crisp-tender; blend in flour.

Gradually add broth and cream; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until sauce thickens. Add Gruyere cheese, mustard, pepper and sherry; stir and heat until cheese melts. Add ham and mushrooms.

Combine with spaghetti in a 1½ quart or 6 individual shallow heat-proof dishes. Sprinkle Parmesan on top. If desired, also sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds.

Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 4 minutes or until lightly brown. Makes 6 servings.

Have Butcher Saw Roast

Baste Lamb With Honey

Lamb is such a unique meat that it's possible to combine the qualities of nutrition, flavor and economy with that of "no carving" if you select a precarved lamb shoulder roast.

The butcher has a special saw which will cut through the bones in the square cut lamb shoulder. He will then tie the roast so that when you are ready to serve it, you will need only a pair of scissors to cut the string and have each slice fall into portions.

As with all lamb use a low temperature for best results. Set the oven at 325 degrees and place the meat on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.

Do not cover and do not add water. The fat covering the roast acts as a baster and keeps the meat moist.

Honey-Lemon Lamb Shoulder

¼ cup chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
Precarved shoulder of lamb*
1 medium lemon, sliced
⅓ cup honey
2 tablespoons orange juice
⅛ teaspoon ground allspice

Sprinkle parsley and salt and pepper in carved lamb. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in 325 degree (slow) oven 30 to 35 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees for medium doneness.

Halve lemon slices; insert in lamb. Blend honey, orange juice and allspice and baste occasionally on lamb, the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Makes 6 servings.

*Have meatman saw and tie.

CREAMY ONION SOUP—Even on a spring day, hot soup is welcome for lunch. Serve this different kind of cream soup with your favorite sandwich and fruit for dessert.

Parents, Teachers Elect Three Veeps

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers elected three regional vice presidents Wednesday at the windup of its 50th annual convention.

★ ★ ★

The organization, founded in Battle Creek a half-century ago, selected Flint as the site of its 1969 convention.

★ ★ ★

The 1,500 delegates to the annual meeting named Gordon Williams, Comstock Park; Mrs. David J. Love, Royal Oak; and Mrs. Earl Tate, Detroit, as regional vice presidents for three-year terms. The terms of the three other regional vice presidents will expire in 1970.

City Planners Approve Human Resource Center

The city planning commission last night gave general approval to a proposed plan to build a human resource center — an educational development to replace three elementary schools and parts of four others with one new complex — on a site behind the City Hall.

★ ★ ★

The commission also elected officers for the coming year.

Howard Simmons of 130 E. Iroquois was elected chairman replacing D. W. Lougheed of 415 Fourth, who became a vice chairman. Lougheed declined another term as chairman.

Also elected vice chairman was F. Keith Hills of 38 Newberry.

★ ★ ★

The commission authorized the city's planning staff to draft recommendations on the Human Resource Center to send to the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education.

EDUCATION COMPLEX

The school board has plans to construct a new educational complex on the site adjacent to City Hall and behind the board of education administrative office.

The complex is slated to replace McConnell, Central and Baldwin elementary schools.

In other business, the commission approved a request to extend manufacturing zoning to a lot at 435 S. Sanford for expansion of a manufacturing building next to the lot.

★ ★ ★

The commission also voted to recommend denial of a petition for rezoning for multiple construction a lot at 1220 Joslyn.

FAILED TO APPEAR

The petitioner, who had requested the rezoning from single family zoning to build four two-bedroom apartment units, failed to appear at the meeting, Planning Commission Secretary Henry Smith said.

A number of adjacent home owners objected to the rezoning and the commission concluded that it would be bad zoning to allow the multiple development in a residential neighborhood, Smith said.

State Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Department of Transportation has awarded Michigan a $11,056 grant for emergency medical services and a statewide survey of emergency medical needs.

Status Unclear for Supervisors

'68 Reapportionment Unresolved Question

Whether the Oakland County board of Suprvisors will be reapportioned this year has not been resolved in spite of one more court ruling on the issue.

The reapportionment will greatly change the structure and operations of the board. Its membership will be reduced from 87 to 27 and the southern communities will have a far larger voice on the one-man, one-vote principle.

The U.S. Supreme Court, acting on a Texas case, upset Michigan's county system. Since this happened on April 1, the state court has been reconsidering cases on the issue including one from Oakland County.

A reapportionment plan had been submitted, but was challenged. Both the State Supreme Court and Appeals Court are involved in the issue.

★ ★ ★

County officials have been waiting for rulings from them before deciding if reapportionment could be done this year.

Yesterday's ruling by the Court of Appeals cleared the one-man, one-vote principle, but didn't specify a timetable. No ruling has been made yet on the Oakland County reapportionment plan, so officials still can't proceed.

An election could be held coinciding with this year's national elections or a special election could be called, according to officials.

Probe of Theft in Early Stage, Police Report

The investigation of the $50,000 robbery of two GMTC Credit Union employes Tuesday is still in the preliminary stages, Pontiac police said today.

Capt. Charles Gale, chief of city detectives, said local investigators are still attempting to determine the escape route taken by the lone gunman who took the white canvas bag containing the cash.

Tracking dogs brought to the scene shortly after the 11 a.m. robbery failed to pick up a scent.

The bandit apparently waited at a bus stop until the employes made their way from the nearby Community National Bank into a parking lot adjacent to the credit union.

He then drew his gun, demanded the bag, and fled on foot.

Police have released a partial list of serial numbers of the stolen bills.

These—all 20s—include: G45435501A through G454356 and G45435651A through G45435745A.

Arson Blamed for Pontiac Fire

A fire in a Pontiac home early today has been blamed on arsonists and is under investigation by city police and fire officials.

The blaze at 284 Luther, a house owned by Mrs. Ruth Gracey of 288 Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills, was discovered shortly before 2 a.m.

Three vehicles under the command of Assistant Chief Albert Rayner responded to the alarm and were at the scene more than 90 minutes.

Firemen said they found evidence of arson, including burnt rags and piles of paper soaked with an acelerant, in six rooms.

Damage to the building was estimated at more than $2,000. No estimate of damage to contents has been made.

Mrs. Dorothy Wray, occupant of the house, was not home at the time of the blaze.

Robbery Clue Hunted in Files

Pontiac police said today they are hopeful their picture files will lead them to two men who reportedly robbed a fruit vendor of some $3,000 in cash and checks yesterday.

He said bandits searched him, found the cash and checks, then fled on foot.

'Seduce and Destroy' Girls Lure Marines

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — That beautiful Vietnamese girl, her silken black hair swirling about her fragile body as she bathes in the stream can be an angel of death.

Vietcong terrorists around this big Marine base are now using "seduce and destroy" squads of girls, in attempts to entice Leathernecks to their deaths.

Marine sources said three Marines were missing and one was killed by the female assassination teams in three months.

A captured Vietcong confirmed that attractive girls were being recruited and trained in English and intelligence work for the assassination teams.

In one recent incident, three Marines on patrol near their camp spotted three girls swimming nude in a stream. A few minutes later, one Marine lay dead, face down in the water. The other two are still missing.

PROBABLE LURES

"It is considered probable that the females were used as lures," the sources said.

The first inkling of the death-dealing decoys came in January when Marine counterintelligence units uncovered what they called a "Vietcong suicide platoon, composed of approximately 30 females." The girls were already operating near this sprawling Marine complex.

The girls, many believed to be fresh-faced teen-agers like many Marines, work in the time-honored tradition: strike up a conversation, get the Marine talking about himself, make an appointment for a quiet rendezvous, then arrange the kill.

Marine sources said the effectiveness of the "seduce and destroy" missions—a play on the Marine combat plan of "search and destroy"—is still limited. But they are concerned enough to begin putting out warnings to the grunts, as the lower ranked men are called. The curfew, which is imposed at 8 p.m. in the once-lovely city of Da Nang, is strictly controlled.

MOSTLY OFF-LIMITS

Much of the city is completely off-limits to the Leathernecks. Houses of prostitution, vermin-infested, tin-roofed shacks, stand less than 100 yards from the main gates of some camps. Officials are not too concerned with these. They cannot be eradicated but can be better patrolled when nearby.

They are concerned, however, with the houses located deep in the twisting, dark alleys that wind away from the main streets.

★ ★ ★

And now they are even more worried about the fragile-looking maidens bathing in the leaf-ringed streams near here. They may bestow the kisses of death.

Dedication Marks Teacher of the Year

SANDWICH, Ill. (AP) — David E. Graf, honored by President Johnson as 1968 National Teacher of the Year, is a man with an uncommon dedication to helping children learn.

★ ★ ★

Graf, 51, is the coordinator of a diversified occupations program in Sandwich, a town of 5,000 about 60 miles west of Chicago. His pioneering efforts in this program, which places students in local businesses and industries for half a day, and his work with the mentally retarded, won his national recognition.

★ ★ ★

In ceremonies in Washington, Johnson told Graf the award was in "recognition of your gift to the nation and to those of us who want to see the teaching profession occupy the high place to which it is entitled."

★ ★ ★

Robert Turney, Sandwich superintendent of schools, said Graf was instrumental in establishing a training and employment program for the mentally retarded.

PROVIDES WORKSHOP

The project, Open Door Inc., provides a workshop for the retarded and places them in jobs with local industry, Turney said. Graf's work puts him in constant contact with both students and local businessmen, the superintendent said.

"Dave's a very good public relations man," Turney said.

★ ★ ★

His efforts were rewarded recently by local donations to build a $35,000 building to house the workshop.

Leonard Barter, Sandwich mayor, said Graf doesn't take part in many other civic acivities. "He's devoted to his teaching and work with the retarded," Barter said.

★ ★ ★

Graf, a teacher for 30 years, said his work with the mentally handicapped has given him, "a tremendous lift."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Barter, who has known Graf for 35 years, said the Teacher of the Year, "is just a common, ordinary guy if you meet him on the street."

Fishy Feat Tops Riots at 1 Campus

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Remember when collegians were making news by swallowing goldfish instead of holding demonstrations?

Well, some are still gulping goldfish.

★ ★ ★

Dan Cavuto of Philadelphia staggered off with top honors Wednesday in the annual goldfish swallowing contest at St. Joseph's College by downing 269 wigglers.

The 240-pound champion and runner-up Bill Shuda, also of Philadelphia, twice wiped out the contest committee's supply of fish. Emergency purchases were made at several pet shops.

CHEWING RULE

Shuda failed on fish No. 200—because of a contest rule that No. 200 must be chewed before swallowing.

The contest was finished despite the protest of an agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who said the contest was "not right for a Catholic college."

★ ★ ★

WSU Paper's 'Nudies' Hit

LANSING (AP) — Nude pictures in a student newspaper, the South End, published by Wayne State University, have been criticized by a state senator.

★ ★ ★

"A student newspaper is no place for such pictures," said Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, Wednesday. "The paper, like all the departments of the university, is tax-supported. Its purpose should be educational and an aid in training future journalists."

★ ★ ★

Youngblood termed the pictures of nude female torsos "lewd and provocative."

Youngblood said he had received several complaints from students and parents of students about the April 24 issue containing the pictures.

THEATER OPENING

The senator said he planned to take the matter up with the university administraion.

Youngblood said pictures of the two nude women were used in connection with the opening of an "art film" theater in the Detroit area. A caption said the first 10 customers would receive two of the pictures.

★ ★ ★

"It is not only a salacious picture, but an advertisement for a private business venture," Youngblood said. "It is the worst kind of commercialism."

'M' President Ties Campus Riots, Society

DETROIT (AP) — University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming said Wednesday that campus unrest stems from the same values and concerns which disturb society at large.

Fleming, who is a lawyer, told guests at the Detroit Bar Association Law Day dinner, "violence and illegal behavior cannot be condoned. But let us not suppose that the campus is unique.

★ ★ ★

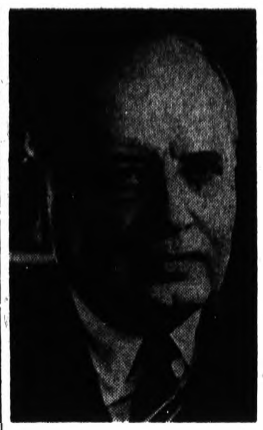
"Cable-cutting in a telephone strike, dumping of milk in farm strikes and similar acts are acts of violence, too, yet our society tolerates those disruptions," he said.

Fleming said the college campus is a reflection of a larger society and that changes in society have led to a larger degree of unrest and disturbance on campuses.

★ ★ ★

"The challenge of the campus is the confrontation between the generations," he concluded. "Let us not conclude that student values are less worthy than ours, or that their dedication to this great country is more doubtful."

Columbia Trustees to Study Basic Changes



AP Wirephoto

AT STORMY HELM — Columbia University President Dr. Grayson L. Kirk has been criticized as both too easy-going and too tight-fisted.

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's board of trustees, meeting in special session on the campus crisis, agreed today to study basic changes in the university structure and to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial gymnasium in nearby Morningside Park.

The board took the action after conferring with a 12-member executive committee of the faculty named Tuesday and charged in a general faculty resolution with restoring order to the strife-torn Ivy League campus.

★ ★ ★

The action by the trustees, aimed at two key demands of the protesting students who have disrupted academic life for nine days, was coupled with a request that "all students and faculty resume their scholarly activities so that the presence of the police can be ended."

There was no immediate comment from leaders of the protest.

CLASSES OFF AGAIN

Columbia had called off classes in most of its branches again today after new fighting flared Wednesday between police and protesting students.

★ ★ ★

At least 11 persons, including five policemen, were injured when about 30 police charged a chanting, hostile crowd attending a rally by the university gate at Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street. One student was arrested.

The clash marked the ninth day of disorders in the emotion-charged protest that has virtually paralyzed the university—a day which the administration had set aside for "reason and reflection" by all concerned.

The protest began with demands that the university halt construction of the gymnasium and sever its ties to the Institute for Defense Analysis. Excavation for the gym was suspended Friday at the suggestion of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

CONSULTATIONS ASKED

In announcing the trustees action, the board said it intended "that consultations and negotiations with community leaders shall be held before a decision is reached as to whether or not construction of the gymnasium will be resumed.

"By such action the board emphasized its recognition of the special opportunities that the university has to be associated in mutually constructive undertakings with its immediate neighbors."

The chairman of the trustees announced appointment of a five-man committee "to study and recommend changes in the basic structure of the university."

The committee was instructed "to consult with representatives of the administration, students and alumni of the university concerning its basic structure."

'REDESIGN' ASKED

Alan F. Westin, 38, professor of public law and government and a cochairman of the facility executive committee, said earlier that it was necessary to "redesign" Columbia.

He declared in an interview that the action was needed to assure "relevance, meaning and contact within the university and with the university's relations to the community."

Westin asserted that Columbia was "being run like a 17th or 18th century private university" with neither the faculty nor students having a "significant voice in decisions on larger issues."

To Lower Barriers Faster

Allies OK Trade-Balance Plan

GENEVA (UPI) — With a tribute to the livesaving U.S. aid they received after World War II, America's allies moved today to help solve its balance of payments problem.

Canada, Japan and nations of Western Europe said they would speed up planned reductions in trade barriers in an effort to increase the flow of American-made goods to their countries.

The offer, announced Wednesday at the Geneva headquarters of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) organization, included conditions that need Washington approval.

The GATT nations stood to benefit from the offer as well as the United States. If America clamped down on imports from abroad everybody would suffer and the 16 nations hoped their offer would prevent that.

SPEEDUP IN DUTY

The proposal called for the GATT nations to speed up by one year reductions on import duties that were agreed upon during the Kennedy round of tariff negotiations. The cuts would be made Jan. 1, 1969, instead of in 1970.

The nations also would permit the United States to wait for an unspecified time, probably about a year, before making similar cuts in its own duties.

In return Washington would have to refrain from imposing restrictions on foreign imports, or subsidizing U.S. exports. The United States would also have to abandon a pricing system that keeps duties high on chemical imports, an action requiring congressional approval.

Gold Prices Hit Highs in Europe

Congress Eyes Action on Payments Deficit

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold in Europe's bullion markets rose to new highs today despite indications from Washington that Congress is preparing action to reduce the U.S. foreign payments deficit.

In the London market, the price was fixed at $39.25, up five cents on Wednesday night's close. This was the highest level since the reopening of the London market April 1.

The rise has been steady for 10 days since Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martins' warning of the danger of another financial crisis.

In Frankfurt, the price was $39.125 an ounce, up 2½ cents.

POUND DROPS

On the London foreign exchange market, the pound dropped 13 points at the opening, apparently on the news from Washington with its implications of tougher selling conditions for British exporters in the United States. The pound opened at $2.3963, down from $2.3975, then eased another point to $2.3962.

★ ★ ★

Dealers in the London gold market said turnover was very brisk but they believed much of the demand was coming from industrial users, especially American, rather than speculators.

McLain, Tigers Edge Minnesota

McLain, who had nine strikeouts in the game, and did not allow a walk, whipped in a fast ball to Uhlaender who popped it foul to Wert to end the game.

CHILLED EXCITEMENT

The crowd of 17,523 who sat in chilly 40-degree temperatures, watched excitedly as the two American League contenders battled on somewhat even statistics.

★ ★ ★

McLain, who struck out Tony Oliva three times, left the mound repeatedly to put his hand to his mouth without being called for the violation because he was in the permitted zone.

★ ★ ★

"It was cold out there. It's a ridiculous rule when you can't blow a little warm breath into your hands," said McLain.

"My curve was working real good, but on a cold night like that I stayed more with my fast ball. Of course with Killebrew, I don't think there's a pitch to stop him."

The victory kept the Tigers a game and a half ahead of the Baltimore Orioles, who moved into second place ahead of the Twins after defeating New York, 6-1.

Joe Sparma will try to hold the position for the Tigers tonight when he goes against Minnesota's Dean Chance.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota manager Cal Ermer played a hunch last night and it paid off when he took out righty Bob Allison who is hitting .333 and started Reese, a left-hander.

★ ★ ★

Reese got the homer and single, his first hits of the season.

It was the Twins' first road loss of the campaign after opening with seven straight out opening with seven straight out-of-town victories.

Defensive Back Awaits Contact

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Defensive halfback Pat Fischer said Wednesday he was waiting for the St. Louis football Cardinals to contact him.

Fischer commented after Vice President Bill Bidwell of the Cardinals denied that the former University of Nebraska standout was through with the club because he had played out his option.

★ ★ ★

Bidwell said the Cardinals would make every effort to sign the defensive ace.

McDowell Whiffs 16 Athletic Batters

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell struck out 16 Oakland batters Wednesday night and Cleveland rallied for a 3-1 victory after John Odom had retired the first 15 batters he faced.

McDowell's single in the sixth inning tied the score and the Indians scored two more in the seventh.

Amish Build Barn in a Day

EAST RANDOLPH, N.Y. (AP) — About 200 bearded and black-clad Amishmen, working between dawn and dusk in one day, have built a barn for one of their brethren to replace one destroyed by fire.

Wearing long hair and the old-fashioned clothing that distinguishes them, the Amishmen came from a 150-family colony of the sect in this Western New York area and from several colonies in Pennsylvania on Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

They worked assembly-line style under the direction of Moss Miller, who designed the structure for his father-in-law Menno Herschberger.

Women of the sect prepared and served a huge farm dinner for the workers at noon.

Couple Held in Slayings of Spouses

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A handsome former police officer and his woman friend were in jail today — branded by detectives as the killers of their spouses in plots to collect more than $100,000 in "double indemnity" life insurance.

The onetime policeman is Paul Perveler, 31, who quit the Los Angeles force under a cloud in 1964 and now owns two taverns.

Also in custody was Mrs. Kristina Cromwell, 27, a onetime clerk for an automobile association.

Perveler's second wife, Cheryl, 22, was shot to death on the front seat of her car on the night of April 20 just after she drove into the garage of their apartment in the Los Angeles suburb of Burbank.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Cromwell's husband Marlin, a 27-year-old stock clerk in a department store, was killed at his home in Highland Park, Calif., in December, 1966. The death weapon was a 22-caliber firearm which was never found.

Pair to Visit U-M to Promote RFK

DETROIT (AP) — Arthur Schlesinger, historian and former special assistant to President John F. Kennedy, and U.S. Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., were scheduled to visit Michigan today to promote the campaign of U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Schlesinger was set to address a group at the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor at 8 p.m. today. His visit is sponsored by the U. of M. Faculty for Kennedy Committee.

WAHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor will sponsor a Neighborhood Youth Corps project for 320 Pontiac youths this summer, it was announced Monday. The project will cost $184,580, $154,090 from the federal government and the balance from the local sponsor.

Added Pounds Cost Her Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Helen Caspan, a typist for the city hired last October with a warning to lose weight, has been fired after gaining 14 pounds for a total of 230.

The 33-year-old woman, 5-feet-10, said she tried pills and dieting but became so nervous from the pills and so hungry from the diets that she ate more than before and gained weight.

★ ★ ★

The city said her health was in jeopardy, making her too much of a risk for the city's health plan insurance to cover.

"I will try to lose weight," said the mother of two. "I even thought of handcuffing myself, but I'd probably find some way out of that."

Ford Calls for Cut in Space Program

WASHINGTON (AP)— House Republican leader Gerald Ford called Wednesday for a $200-million cut in the nation's civilian space program.

The House Science and Astronautics Committee has trimmed $153 million from the administration's $4.3 billion request for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

★ ★ ★

But Ford suggested this could be cut another $200 million "without impairing the safety or the effectiveness of our space program."

Patent Given Transistor for Microphone

A pressure - sensitive field - effect transistor, useful, among other applications, as a microphone, has been patented by engineers of the German firm Siemens Corp.

Field - effect transistors control the flow of electricity from one terminal to another by applying a voltage across a thin strip of insulator attached to the transistor. One kind of voltage that reflects the sound pattern slows down the flow of current; another increases it.

German engineers have found that pressure on the insulator strip does the same thing a voltage can do: it controls the flow of current from one end of the transistor to the other.

The result is a varying flow of electricity out of the transistor diaphragm that vibrates according to the sound imposed.

For use in a microphone, the hard point that applies pressure to the transistor is attached to a received.
