Boy Loses Legs in Fall Under Train

Hospital Reports Bobbie Dunn, 13, Condition Good

Witnesses Say Victim
Attempted to Catch
Ride on Freight

Thirteen-year-old Bobbie Dunn lost both legs when he fell under the wheels of a freight train here Christmas Day.

The youth, of 60 W. Pike St., was walking along the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks about a half-block from his home with two companions who said he attempted to "catch a ride" on one of the slow-moving cars.

The boys, Donald, 12, and William Hunter, 9, also of 60 W. Pike, said Bobbie lost his hold on the car ladder and slipped under the wheels.

The Hunter youths said Bobbie remained conscious and asked them to summon aid. An unidentified city bus driver saw the youths running for help, investigated and called police.

The train did not stop, police said, because crewmen apparently didn't realize the accident had occurred.

Ambulance drivers said the victim remained conscious throughout the ride to the hospital.

Although nurses at the hospital reported the youth is in good condition today, they said they are not sure he realizes both legs are gone.

Yesterday, he told his parents, Ben and Myrtle Dunn, "I know how bad it is," they said.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Arthur W. Kollin said statements from the Hunter boys would be taken today.

Hospital officials said the train wheels severed the arteries in the boy's legs saving him from bleeding to death.

Bobbie's family moved here from Romeo last September when the father secured employment at Fisher Body Division. They came to Michigan 22 months ago from Harrisburg, Ill.

The youngster has two sisters, Martha Anna, 15, a sophomore at Pontiac High School and Phyllis June, 10, a Central School fifth grader.

The Hunters said the three were on their way to visit a friend when the mishap occurred.

Chou Promises Fall of Formosa

Chinese Premier Vows to Capture Nationalist Isle in Bristling Talk

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, in one of his most bristling statements to date, said "the Chinese people will never halt" until the Red flag flies over Formosa, island holdout of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists.

Chou voiced this latest Communist threat to capture Formosa before a government-sanctioned consultative conference in Peking last Tuesday. Peking radio did not broadcast Chou's remarks until yesterday.

Peking quoted him as saying: "Taiwan Formosa is China's territory and the Chinese people will never halt until Taiwan is liberated. . . . The Chinese people resolutely demand that the United States withdraw all its armed forces from Taiwan."

Chou, at the same time, boasted that China no longer is a weak nation and would not beg for peace. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Ike Keeps Eye on Paris Crisis

President Ready to End
Georgia Holiday Unless
Rearmament Is OK'd

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS)—President Eisenhower, ready to fly back to Washington unless the French National Assembly approves West German reararmament, kept a close watch on the news from Paris today.

The chief executive may cut short his work-and-play Christmas holiday in Augusta and return to the capital for emergency conferences if the French fail to reverse last week's surprise vote on the issue.

It also was considered possible that Eisenhower might seek a meeting with British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill if the French do not approve reararmament for West Germany.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to speculate on such a possibility, however, pending the outcome of the crucial voting.

White House aides privately were optimistic that the final vote, expected today, would place a reluctant French stamp of approval on plans to bring a rearmed West Germany into the European defense alliance.

Should the French stick by their refusal to approve reararmament of their ancient foe, Eisenhower will summon his top foreign policy advisers into conference.

If the President does not return to Washington, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and probably Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson would fly to Augusta.

A decision to cut France out of the Western European alliance, at least temporarily, appeared certain if the French National Assembly rejects the reararmament plan.

29-Year-Old Tree Light Is Still Burning in Niles

NILES (UP)—As you replace those burned out Christmas tree lights, think of Leo Zimmerman of Niles.

Zimmerman reports that an old-fashioned Christmas tree bulb fashioned in the shape of a Santa Claus, which he bought 29 years ago, is still burning. He said he has used it every Christmas since 1925.

Mendes Regime to Stand or Fall on Today's Vote

French Assembly Will Decide German Arms
on Confidence Issue

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly convened shortly after 3 p. m. today for a decision fateful for the government of Premier Mendes-France and the defense of the Western world.

The Premier is asking for the Assembly's vote of confidence on west Germany's entrance into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and, by implication, the whole network of London-Paris accords for West German reararmament as a partner in a seven-nation Western European Union.

The public and press galleries of the chamber were packed long before the Assembly was called to order by its presiding officer, Andre Lefevre.

Outside, many others, including knots of Communist demonstrators hostile to West German reararmament, thronged against barricades waiting a turn to get inside.

Hundreds of police stood on guard at strategic points around the Assembly building, the Bourbon Palace, to maintain order.

Shortly before the session opened, most of the political groups were holding last minute caucuses, and the odds appeared to favor the Premier by a slim margin.

The executive committee of the Independent Republicans, most of whom were hostile to the government last week, advised party members today to vote for the Premier. This, it said, should be done to support the Atlantic Alliance and not as a gesture for Mendes-France personally.

More Rain, Snow Seen for Pontiac

After a rather uneventful, weatherwise, holiday weekend, the forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is for more rain or snow tonight and tomorrow.

Starting late yesterday, the rain continued today to make 27 of an inch up to 8 a. m. today. Yesterday's temperatures ranged from above freezing, 33, to 40 degrees. Friday and Saturday were also relatively warm with 31 to 36 recorded Friday and 28 to 39 Christmas Day.

Tonight's low is expected to be near 30 to 34 with a high tomorrow of 34 to 38 degrees. Tomorrow night will be mostly cloudy with the rain ending and becoming cooler. Wednesday will bring snow or snow flurries by afternoon or night.

Today at 8 o'clock the mercury registered 37 degrees and remained almost steady and hitting that mark at 1 p. m.

Gift Exchange Deadline Is Set for January 3

Next Monday—Jan. 3—has been set as the deadline for the return of those ill-fitting, strangely-colored or "what-is-it" type Christmas gifts you may have received.

The Jan. 4 return deadline is set to help both merchants and customers, according to John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking for the C. of C.'s Retail Merchants Assn., Hirlinger explained:

"Most businesses close their fiscal year Jan. 31 and must have their inventories completed by that time. It's difficult to take an inventory with exchanges still being made."

"People with goods they want to return know they have to get it done by the 3rd and so don't keep putting the exchange off. They have a better selection of items to pick from, too."

Hirlinger announced that member stores will close at 5:30 p. m. Friday, New Year's Eve.

Fishermen Save Two From Lake

Ice Breaks at Orion
With Coaster, Brother
Attempts Rescue

Fast rescue work on the part of four Lake Orion fishermen Sunday averted a post-Christmas tragedy here when two young boys steered their sleds onto thin ice and plunged into the frigid waters of the lake.

Billy Herrington, 8, and his brother Glen, 7, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Herrington of 415 Lake St., were coasting off a point at Bellevue Island. Sloping ice carried Billy farther than he planned, about 200 yards off shore.

The ice gave way and boy and sled fell through.

Seeing his brother struggling in the icy water, Glen rushed out to help him and he, too, plunged into the 15-foot depth.

The boys' cries were heard by a fisherman, Arthur Schrah of 146 S. Bellevue, who ran out, jumped into the lake at the risk of his own life and caught the younger boy just as he was sinking. Schrah managed to keep both boys afloat until three other fishermen pushed a toboggan up to the edge of the hole.

Elroy Durocher, of 152 Bellevue St., Dailey Slater of 712 Buena Vista and Eddie Triest of 432 Summit, with the aid of Schrah, brought the frightened, half-frozen youngsters to safety and took them to the Durocher home.

There the pair, along with Schrah, were wrapped in blankets and given hot drinks, and the boys' parents were notified. The boys had been in the water about five minutes.

"My mommy and my new little baby sister were all I could think about," Billy said. The brothers have a three-week-old sister and two older sisters at home.

The boys were up and about today without even a cold to remind them of the near-tragedy.

"It was a lucky escape, and the boys have promised to stay away from the lake," Mrs. Herrington said.

Canada Mishaps Kill 65

TORONTO (INS)—Canada's accidental death toll for the Christmas weekend stood at 65 today, including 32 motor fatalities and six fire deaths.

Three Young Ladies Arrive for Holiday

TRIPLE CHRISTMAS PRESENT — Mrs. Cecil Morgan, 34-year-old grandmother and mother of six other children, is shown cuddling a trio of daughters born to her Wednesday, at Hominy, Okla., in time for Christmas. The triplets' father is an unemployed laborer. The new arrivals, (right to left) are Mary Loretta, Marie LaFene and Maria Juanita. Mary, first born, was 30 minutes ahead of Maria, the last.

Wife's Death Follows Rescue

Driver Holds Mate's Head Above Water in Long Vigil

A 56-year-old Williams Lake woman, trapped for more than seven hours with her husband in their overturned automobile near Gallipolis, Ohio, died on Christmas after being rescued from the wrecked car.

Mrs. Estelle Overstreet, whose husband, Robert, held her head above water in the ditch where the car overturned, died en route to Holzer Hospital in Gallipolis.

Her husband, also 56, is suffering from exposure and shock but is reported in good condition.

Their car turned over about midnight Christmas Eve in a ditch along U.S. 35, a heavily traveled route between Dayton and Charleston, W. Va. They were on their way to visit a daughter, Mrs. Homer A. Thurman Jr., of Cedar Grove, about 20 miles from Charleston.

Throughout the night-long ordeal Overstreet held his wife's head above water which seeped into the car from the ditch. A passing motorist discovered the couple and called for help.

Gallia County Coroner Donald R. Warehime said he placed the time of the accident at about midnight because a watch on Mrs. Overstreet's arm was stopped at that time.

He said she died from exposure and shock.

Overstreet said he never lost consciousness though his wife was unconscious when taken from the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet were living with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hosler, 6846 Brightwood, Williams Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Hosler left Christmas day to attend the funeral at Cedar Grove.

25-Mile Chase Nets Fugitives

3 Wyandotte Youths
Nabbed in Stolen Car
After Evading Blocks

Three 16-year-old Wyandotte boys, who were seized by State Police of Pontiac Post early today after breaking through three police roadblocks and eluding 22 scout cars in a 25-mile chase, will undergo questioning in connection with store breakins, police reported.

The wild chase at speeds up to 100 miles an hour finally ended when the youths' auto crashed into a tree on Orchard Lake Road, north of Pontiac Trail. The boys fled on foot through a wooded area after the crash and eluded police who organized a search.

They were captured trying to hitchhike a ride at Northwestern Hwy. and Telegraph Rd. this morning after a citizen tipped off police that the trio had gained a ride in a green car traveling south.

Troopers Lyle Tucker and John Benaglio arrested the trio moments after they had been let out of the auto. They are being held by State Police of the Redford Post.

The chase began when two Dearborn policemen spotted the car, previously reported stolen, speeding through a stop light and gave chase, but they were outdistanced. Redford Township police, in answer to a radio alert, set up a roadblock, but the fugitive car (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Michigan Ranks Among Worst With 20 Deaths

322 Killed on Roads,
Other Accidents Claim
Toll of 92 Lives

From Our Wire Services

Holiday motorists today presented the nation with the belated but welcome gift of a lower-than-expected Christmas weekend traffic toll.

Traffic accidents killed 332 persons across the nation during the holiday that started at 6 p. m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday, a United Press tabulation showed.

Fire claimed 51 lives, 2 persons died in plane crashes and 39 met death in miscellaneous accidents, making a total of 424 accidental deaths.

The parade of highway fatalities was topped by California, Texas, Illinois, Ohio and Michigan, with 20 each. Other tragic records were made by New York 13, Pennsylvania, 11, and Georgia, 9.

National Safety Council President Ned H. Dearborn said it appeared the total traffic toll would be "substantially below our pre-estimate of 370, for which we are, of course, very grateful."

However, he added, "The toll is still tragically high, and we believe needlessly so."

The Christmas holiday weekend saw accidents reap a deadly harvest toll of 25 lives in Michigan.

The weekend started beautiful and merry. It ended with an unusually heavy death toll and dreary weather.

Twenty died in traffic mishaps. Three burned to death and another died in a fall down stairs. And still another drowned.

One of the last to die in traffic was Miss Edna M. Olenka, 28, of Detroit. She was killed when her car rammed into the rear of a steel-lined truck at a Detroit intersection.

Glenn Weimer, 51, of Midland County was killed Sunday three miles south of Midland when struck by a car.

David Fairchild, 17, of Dearborn was killed Friday night when a car in which he was riding went out of control and hit a utility pole in the Detroit suburb.

Frank McCaren, 64, of Carsonville died Friday night in a fire that swept his brick home in Sanilac County.

Noted Botanist Succumbs at 96

Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey
Was Early Graduate of Michigan State College

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Funeral services will be held at the Cornell University Chapel tomorrow for Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey, 96, a noted botanist, horticulturist and pioneer in the field of agricultural education.

Bailey, dean emeritus of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell, died at his home here on Christmas Eve.

Considered an expert on the subject of plant and animal life, Bailey had written or edited more than 100 books, among them the "Cyclopedia of Horticulture."

He made expeditions totaling more than 250,000 miles, including trips to China, New Zealand and various parts of the Americas. He spent his 90th birthday alone on an island in the Caribbean Sea hunting palm specimens.

In East Lansing, Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, today paid tribute to the famed botanist.

"Everyone at Michigan State College feels a sense of loss in the death of one of our most distinguished alumni," Dr. Hannah said. "Bailey was a pioneer in science in every sense of the word and lived a long life of tremendous usefulness."

A native of South Haven, Mich., Bailey was reared on a farm and was graduated in 1882 from Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State).

Kiplinger Reports on Population Trend in Nation

'54 Saw Record Number of Births as U.S. Heads for 220 Million People by 1975

WASHINGTON—Did you know that more babies were born in the United States in 1954 than in any other year? That one third of all women work? That Florida's population is growing faster than California's? That the average bride is 20 years old, and that the average bridegroom near 24? That our population will reach the 220 million mark in 1975?

These and many other facts about our people have been assembled in a special report on population by the Kiplinger Washington Agency. Excerpts from the report follow:

The nation's birth rate is up a bit. It has been on a high plateau since war years. Now the plateau is rising. New babies this past year, 4.1 million . . . largest number ever in one year. The rate, 25.2 per 1,000 women, compared with a prewar rate of about 19. Peak rate was 26.6 in 47, when men were just coming back from the war.

All signs are that the high rate will continue through the coming year.

Young women are having more babies than their mothers had, and there are now more second, third, fourth children—family size is up. The birth rate is about the same at all income levels.

The farm mothers have the most babies; city mothers the fewest. The bigger the city, the lower the birth rate. But things are changing, the gap is narrowing.

As for marriages, the young marrying people of today were born back in the 20's, and there weren't so many babies being born those days. Consequently there aren't so many of marrying age today. Marriages now are about 1.5 million per year, as compared with 2.3 million back in '46.

The birth rate boom indicates future problems in education. Elementary grade school enrollment is now almost 28 million. Next year, plus 29 million. By 1960, only 5 years off, 33½ million. That's 20 per cent more than now. High schools enrollment is now about 7 million (grades 9 through 12). Next year, near 8 million and in 1960, plus 9 million. That's 28 per cent more than now.

Some 117,000 classrooms should be added each year, for grade and high schools only, and to maintain existing standards only. Number being built this year, 50,000.

As for school teachers we have about 1,000,000 of them as of now. This past year we needed 55,000 more, unavailable. By 1960, 5 years off, we shall need approximately 1,700,000, which is 700,000 more than now.

It's largely a matter of pay, and pay is largely a matter of local taxes. There's one answer and only one: Higher taxes to get schools and teachers.

at the price of surrendering territorial claims.

He called the recently signed mutual defense treaty under which the United States promises to defend Formosa and the nearby Pescadores as "a great menace to peace in the Far East and Asia."

The Chinese Communist leader charged that the United States attempted "to cover up the aggressive substance of the . . . treaty" by creating "a great clamor about the . . . U.S. spies that had been justly convicted in China."

That was Chou's only reference to the 11 U.S. airmen imprisoned by the Reds on spy charges. He made no mention of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's projected trip to Peking to seek the airmen's release.

Stolen Car Stalls; Two Youths Caught

BIRMINGHAM — Two Detroit boys, ages 15 and 16, who police said had stolen a car in Pontiac, were caught on Christmas night here as they were syphoning gas for the stalled auto at Pinter's Service, 1365 N. Woodward Ave.

Police making their rounds noticed a broken rear window and upon investigation found the boys hiding under a car in the garage. They had pocketed $2.91 from a soft drink machine and cut the hose on what police said was an expensive acetylene pump for syphoning purposes.

The two, who told police they had been arrested twice in Detroit on breaking and entering charges, are being held at the Oakland County Juvenile Home, pending court action.

Birth Rate Predicts Problem of Future

In '30's. Thus fewer new families than in recent past. (2) The "un-doubling" of families, going on since war, seems at an end. We can expect a gradual tapering off of new houses in about another year.

But another big boom, starting in early '60's, is almost sure. The wave of births in past 15 years will become a wave of marriages then, creating demand for millions of homes; a bigger boom than at present.

Remodeling of old houses and rehabilitation of seedy areas; all reports indicate a coming rise in these and a buttress to building.

Suburbs are growing three times as fast as the downtown areas, and in many cities, the central areas are even shrinking.

One third of all women have jobs outside the home. Propriety changes from year to year. Over long pull it is increasing. And about 31 per cent of all workers are women, considering all lines, all jobs.

People are living longer, many more beyond age 65. Fifty years ago, the people past age 65 were 4 per cent. In 1950, they were 8 per cent. Twenty years from now the people past age 65 will be 11 per cent . . . still rising.

Our people are still moving (although less) so some states grow, some shrink, some are static. Southeast states, growing fast in business. Texas is still spectacular. New England is lagging, excepting only Connecticut. The big industrial states aren't keeping pace in creating new businesses.

Florida is now growing at a faster rate than her old rival state of California. But California in 10 years promises to be number one state, bigger than New York State.

In the past five years Michigan's population growth has been 10 per cent; new business growth, 1 per cent. The average is 5 and 4 per cent, respectively.

Widows outnumber widowers, because men die younger than women, and also because men are older than their wives. Divorce is now about level, or slightly statistically downward. Almost 3 out of 4 of all divorces remarry, after wait of about 3 years.

U.S. population now, 164 million, should be about 230 million by 1975. Each new estimate is higher than the one before, amazingly so.

In summary, Kiplinger's report says: "This country is growing in many ways. In people. In resources. In ingenuity. In standard of living. In energy which makes for progress. It is anything but static. People with vision see great expansion ahead, the years ahead. To expect it and to plan on it . . . that is realistic."

feet would mean the resignation of his six-month-old government.

He is asking a vote of confidence today on two points—West Germany's entrance into NATO, and endorsement of the government's position on three amendments to the ratification bill.

If successful on those ballots, he was slated to demand that the Assembly reverse its refusal last Friday to ratify the treaty permitting West Germany to rearm as a member of the seven-nation Western European Union (WEU). That, too, would be a question of confidence which under Assembly rules could not be voted on for 24 hours, probably tomorrow.

Defeat on any of the three votes would force the government to resign, plunging France into another of its numerous postwar cabinet crises.

A dozen or more of the players dashed in and offered their services to the homeowner. The boys dragged furniture and household goods to safety while regular firemen extinguished the blaze.

Flat Look Hits Snags as 'Curtain'

Soviet Style Show Held in Budapest Sticks to Curves

VIENNA (INS)—Christian Dior's new "flat look" got stuck in the Iron Curtain.

The latest Soviet-world fashion show, held in Budapest, indicated that the Communist countries will stick to curvy feminine lines.

Not a single one of hundreds of model shown by the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Hungary was trying to introduce Dior's H-line to women in the Soviet orbit.

It was the third international Communist fashion show, and the Soviet Union scored first place again, as it did in Leipzig and Prague, where the 1953 and 1954 shows were held.

As far as the word "international" was concerned at the Budapest show, it applied only to the Soviet Union and the "Peoples Democracies"—Russia's satellites.

According to an official Communist Hungarian report, "simple lines, a tasteful application of folk designs and the skillful use of new textiles" were typical of the Soviet orbit 1954 fashion show.

Softer, feminine lines stressing "curves" were the most popular, the report asserted.

Second place of the international fashion show went to Communist Hungary, the third was awarded to Red Czechoslovakia.

Eastern Germany's fashion industry was mentioned for its use of new plastic materials, Nylon and Perlon.

Models shown at the Budapest fashion parade ranged from overalls for women to deluxe evening gowns.

Swing-back coats have replaced swaggar and straight line coats and coiffe jackets are not in vogue any more behind the Iron Curtain, the official Hungarian report said.

Soviet Russia topped her satellites with what Hungarians described as a dark evening gown with white lace collar, designed in a style similar to that of the 19th century.

Most dress-up frocks of the Communist world have very full skirts, snugly fitted bodices and lots of tulle.

The pretty-as-a-picture look stars with a good figure. Fashion a finer shape with the right foundation garments. If you are a junior size, bandeau and lightweight girdle will do the trick.

For the average woman, a corset is the perfect way to achieve a smooth silhouette. The full figure needs a long line bra and a girdle that really holds down the hips.

Food Prices Double Since War Days

Expenditures for food have risen from $31,000,000,000 in 1944 to an anticipated $63,000,000,000 this year, according to Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America.

Willis told a meeting of food editors in New York recently that a combination of good reporting by editors and increased food product advertising caused food sales to double in the past 10 years.

Civitan Club Announces Stage Play

'Vagabond King' Slated January 15 at High School

Members of Pontiac Civitan Club feel that they are paving the way toward a greater appreciation of the better type of entertainment in our community with the coming stage presentation of "The Vagabond King."

The production will be presented Jan. 15 at 8:30 p.m. in the Pontiac High School auditorium.

Civitan spokesmen say that the amount of community response to this production will influence the frequency of future presentations of its kind.

The production will duplicate the original Broadway show which ran for three solid years in New York City and which has been seen in major cities all over the globe.

There are two more weeks remaining to purchase tickets. All seats are reserved and tickets are available at many Pontiac stores or from Civitan members, according to William Lane, ticket chairman.

In bringing "The Vagabond King" to Pontiac, Civitan members hope to establish the legitimate theater in this locality. They are considering for future bookings such popular musicals as "Fanny's Rainbow", "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" and "Guys and Dolls".

They point out that community concerts have started Pontiac toward an appreciation of the better things in life and the amateur theater groups in Pontiac have taken another step in this direction. Now, they continue, we can enjoy Broadway productions on a par with the larger cities of the nation.

Legal Whisky Sales Decline

Moonshine Traffic Up During 1954, Beverage Spokesman Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans cut down on their drinking of legal liquor in 1954.

Industry estimates are that the final consumption figure for the year will be between 188 and 190 million gallons. That would be a decline of from 2.4 to 3.4 per cent from 1953's total of 194,663,000 gallons.

Consumption of moonshine liquor was something else again. There were estimates that 68 million gallons of illegal liquor was produced during the year, and presumably found a market.

"Federal still seizures," says vice president Thomas J. Donovan of Licensed Beverage Industries Inc., "increased more than 11 per cent in the first 10 months of the year as against the same period last year. And the daily producing capacity of the stills seized amounted to 330,846 proof gallons, almost 10 per cent over 1953."

Liquor men say moonshining flourishes because legitimate liquor is highly taxed—currently the federal tax is $10.50 a gallon. If the tax were lowered and moonshining put down, they say, their sales would climb impressively.

Despite these problems, the industry is inclined toward optimism about 1955. It looks for a moderate increase in sales, based on a continuing high level of consumer income and spending.

In the whisky field, straights and blends of straights moved ahead again. The licensed beverage institutes reports that in the first nine months of the year, these whiskies accounted for 30.27 per cent of the whisky market against 26.39 per cent in the same period a year earlier.

Bonds edged up to 8.10 per cent of the total from 8.02 in the 1953 period. And spirit blends declined to 66.63 per cent of the total whisky market from 64.58 in the first nine months of 1953.

B. C. Ohlandt, vice president of National Distillers, attributes a large part of the switch to the increase in the country's middle income group.

"As wages rise and additional numbers attain that middle income group level," Ohlandt says, "the industry can anticipate continued increases in the demand for straights and blends."

The high income level also helped distillers and importers of Scotch.

CHANUKA WINNER—The Feast of Lights Home Decoration Contest produced two winners, the Carl Berg family, 2960 Middlebelt Road (upper) and the Jack Gambard family, 964 Berwick Blvd. (lower). The Berg children, Leah and Mark thought up the motif and cut out the pictures for the religious scenes.

William, nine year old son of the Gambards, did the drawing of the Temple on the mirror over the fireplace. The contest was sponsored by Congregation B'nai Israel with 30 families participating. More than 75 per cent of the work was done by the children.

U.S. Launches Big Research Assault on Secrets Locked Within Antarctica

WASHINGTON — The United States is again preparing a "major research" assault on secrets locked in the great white wastes of the Antarctic.

Since the early 1770s, when Captain James Cook circled the ice-barriered southernmost continent without catching sight of it, men of many nations have probed the Antarctic, says the National Geographic Society.

Yet despite daring thrusts to the South Pole, modern aerial surveys, and patient scientific studies carried on at lonely, snowbound camps, much of this last land frontier of the world remains shrouded in mystery.

The first stage of the current American project is under the direction of the United States Navy, which will send out an icebreaker in December during the Antarctic summer.

Other expeditions are expected to continue the work through several seasons, culminating in United States participation in the International Geophysical Year of 1957-58. At that time worldwide scientific findings will be correlated by cooperating countries.

The American explorers will collect information on the Antarctic's geography, its resources and atmosphere, the melting polar cap, the effect of the chilly land mass on the world's weather, and problems of transport and supply. Some preliminary camp building is planned.

The last expeditions sent out from the United States were in 1946-47 and 1946-48. They were directed respectively by the United States Navy and an independent Antarctic explorer, Commander Finn Ronne (USNR).

The Navy undertaking—led by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd—was the largest in polar history. Four thousand men and 13 ships took part.

Out of Operation Highjump, as it was officially called, came new facts for mapmakers, geologists, meteorologists and biologists. Photo-mapping airplanes based at Little America made 29 island flights that reached toward the Pole and beyond. Seaplanes from offshore tenders mapped most of the coastline. High mountain ranges, peninsulas, islands and seas were charted for the first time. To their surprise, the explorers came on ice-free "oases" of green lakes and brown hills.

The Ronne expedition, carrying on through the Antarctic winter of 1947, found evidence that the continent is one piece, and not, as had been theorized, split by a strait between the Weddell and Ross Seas.

Meantime, other nations were setting up temporary and permanent bases. Seven countries—Britain, France, Australia, Norway, Argentina, Chile and New Zealand—have claimed portions of the continent. The United States, however, has made no claim and recognized none.

On the map, the broad mass of Antarctica still stands significantly blank. Only around the fringes and here and there in the interior are place names hinting at man's hard-won success. Among them are the broad stretches of land, seas, bays, glaciers and islands named for such pioneers as Palmer, Bellingshausen, Wilkes, D'Urville and Shackleton; for Amundsen and Scott who stroged to the Pole; and for airmen Wilkins, Byrd and Ellsworth.

Admiral Byrd, a life trustee of the National Geographic Society and technical adviser for the Navy's forthcoming expedition, was the first man to fly over both North and South Poles. He has led four American expeditions to the Antarctic, the first two of which were aided by substantial grants from the society.

Five-Legged Frog Seen

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UP)—Thirteen-year-old Gerard Gerstner, the envy of his playmates, may have a champion jumping frog.

Young Gerard is the proud possessor of a frog that has five legs. The youth, a frog-hunting enthusiast, found Freddie when the latter was just a tadpole.

"People may laugh at Freddie because he's got five legs," he said. "But just wait until he becomes the champion."

Gerard hopes that Freddie, with the extra jump-off power afforded by the fifth leg, some day will beat the 19-foot championship leap made by Gas House Gus in Sarasota, Fla., in 1936.

The U. S. weather bureau was organized under control of the Department of Agriculture July 1, 1891.

Dairy Industry Hits U.S. Curbs

2 Associations Charge Minimum Milk Prices Swell Surplus

WASHINGTON (UP)—Two dairymen's associations want the new Congress to investigate whether "improper administration" of federal milk marketing orders has helped swell dairy surpluses.

The joint committee of the National Creameries Association and the American Butter Institute charged last night that "monopoly milk markets" and "iron curtain barriers to trade" have been fostered by the agriculture department's administration of the orders.

Few consumers, the committee said, know about the arbitrary pricing policies affecting their milk supplies. It said fewer still know the department has "balkanized" milk order areas by requiring "tariffs" on milk from farms and plants not considered regular suppliers of milk order areas.

The committee said it is sure Congress did not foresee that price levels set in milk orders would encourage overproduction and discourage consumption which it contended is now the case. Overproduction in fluid milk has only one place to go, the committee said, and that is into manufactured products.

"This drastically depresses the market for dairy farmers who produce mainly manufacturing milk, and also tends to break down the government's price support program under unnecessary mountains of butter, cheese, and dried milk," it said.

The orders, authorized by Congress in 1937, now cover 84 milk marketing areas and govern about 50 per cent of all milk sold as fluid milk in the United States. The orders set minimum prices handlers must pay producers for milk.

Members of the National Creameries Association and the American Butter Institute process and distribute most of the creamery butter consumed in this country.

Inter-Lakes Garden Club to See Two Movies

WALLED LAKE—The Inter-lakes Garden Club will see two sound movies, "Background for Beauty" and "Better Gardens for Better Living," at a noon meeting Tuesday.

Address Corrected

MILFORD—Mrs. William B. Upton today informed the Press that Herbert C. Upton, arrested recently in Texas while posing as a woman, does not live at 1800 Lombardy Dr., LaSalle Gardens, nor is he any relative of hers. An article appeared in Friday's Press listing that address for the arrested man.

Christmas Was Sad Day for 2 Burned-Out Families

BROOKLANDS — Most of the gaiety of Christmas was gone for two Brooklands Subdivision families who were burned out of their home early Friday.

One of the eight persons who lost their home, Thomas Littlefair, 65, of 3451 Harrison, was almost trapped in the second floor of the 10-room frame home. A son, Roy, 29, put a ladder to a second-story window to rescue his father.

Littlefair's wife, and son, Thomas R., 34, Thomas' wife, Thelma, 33, and their four children, Tommy Jr., 10, Jim, 7, Joyce, 4, and Alice, two months, were driven from their home by a fire of unknown cause started in the kitchen and which rapidly spread to all parts of the house.

Firemen from Brooklands and Rochester were able to save only the shell of the house and a few of the family's personal belongings. Brooklands Fire Chief Ted Graves estimated the damage at $10,000.

Temporary home for the Littlefairs is the basement home of Roy Littlefair, located about 40 feet in front of the burned-out home.

Mrs. Thelma Littlefair said that gifts for her children, about $30 in cash, and clothes for her children were all that remained of their possessions.

Her husband, Thomas, unemployed for the past year, recently returned to work. A factory employee, he was forced to sell his home next door and move in with his parents after prolonged unemployment.

Neighbors provided clothes for the Littlefairs, who were caught in their bed clothes by the fire.

C. D. Kelley to Serve on Water Authority

LATHRUP VILLAGE — Charles D. Kelley has been appointed to represent Lathrup for the next three years on the South Oakland Water Authority.

Kelley will join planner David S. Greer of Birmingham as the only two non-government representatives to the authority. All other members are township supervisors and city managers.

Kelley and his wife, Louise Lathrup Kelley, originally subdivided the land on which the city is built, and 1 Senate and 2 House Democrats were inclined to vote yes. The others divided this way: To restore, 11 Senate and 34 House Democrats, 2 Senate and 2 House Republicans, 1 Senate independent. Total, 50.

Not to restore, 5 Senate and 58 House Republicans, 2 Senate and 4 House Democrats. Total, 69.

House and Senate Republicans who took a stand against flexible agricultural states, with one exception. Rep. Gwinn (R-NY) listed himself as against either flexible or rigid supports, saying he "would end all subsidies."

Democrats favoring flexible supports are all from the East except Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a former secretary of agriculture, and Rep. Urdahl (D-Ariz).
