Teachers Walk Out, Shut Florida Schools

From Our News Wires

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Many of Florida's 50,000 militant teachers attended mass meetings instead of classes today. Their leaders said the walkout "looks good—the schools are going to close down."

Teachers are meeting in 21 locations throughout the state for "information and instructions' on their bid for higher pay and more money for education.

The statewide strike appeared to be of major proportions, but schools were operating in some counties.

Most of the state's 1.5 million schoolchildren were enjoying unscheduled vacations. A majority of the state's 1,500 public schools were affected.

★ ★ ★

The situation was obscured by some hastily called planning days—designated by school boards when teachers are to show up at school for planning, but students do not attend.

ONE DISTRICT OK

At Lake City all of the county's 355 schoolteachers reported for work this morning.

Most of big Broward County's teachers reported for work and classes were in progress, a check showed.

But in other big population centers such as Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville and Brevard County's sprawling space center towns, most teachers were absent. Many were attending regional mass meetings.

★ ★ ★

At Miami, a mass meeting of Classroom Teacher Association (CTA) members got under way at Dade County's Marine Stadium nearly an hour late when rain helped pile up monumental traffic jams.

Nearly 4,000 of the Dade CTA members attended the meeting.

Reports from Orlando indicated about 40 per cent of Orange County teachers were absent. At Gainesville, a mass teacher meeting was moved from a football field to a downtown movie house because of rain and cold.

Florida Education Association (FEA) Executive Secretary Phil Constans Jr., served with an injunction Saturday Night enjoining him and others from influencing teachers to strike, said it "looks good. Now that we have it to do, it is being done well."

An FEA spokesman said that some counties had opened classes with substitutes, but predicted, "this won't last long."

LOADED DOWN—Seniors Gary Roediger, 3351 Grant, Avon Township, and Barb Swett, 810 Slocum, Pontiac Township, haul all their school possessions to the new Pontiac Catholic High School, which opened today. Students previously attended St. Michael's and St. Frederick's schools. The new high school at Giddings and Walton cost nearly $2 million.

Social Security Office Site Set

The federal government has acquired a site on Auburn between Hill and Parkhurst for construction of a new Social Security office, U. S. Rep. Jack H. McDonald, R-19th District, said today.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled to be constructed on the site is a one-story office building to cost an estimated $465,500.

The building will have 35,000 square feet of office space, officials said. Construction is usually concluded a year after purchase, a spokesman said.

Parking for 50 cars will be provided initially with another 25 spaces added when construction is ended.

★ ★ ★

The present Social Security office for this area is located in the shopping center at Glenwood and Perry.

★ ★ ★

The new site is close to the board of education building and City Hall.

Clouds Chase Sun From Skies in Area

Clouds began rolling in this afternoon to chase away the bright sunshine Oakland County residents enjoyed this morning. While daytime temperatures weren't exactly balmy, they were at least bearable as they climbed into the mid-20s.

The cloudy skies will persist through the night and tomorrow with highs in the low 30s. Tonight's low will be between 15 to 20. There is a chance of light snow by tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today, 5; tonight, 10; and tomorrow, 20. Low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 10. By 2 p.m. sunshine coaxed the thermometer to 27.

Fire Kills 7 Children

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Seven children, all members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox, perished today as fire wrecked their two-story frame home in Cincinnati's Lower Clifton area.

Whitmer Asks Group to Sever NEA Ties

Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer urged yesterday that school administrators split from their parent organization of teachers to avoid "stresses and strains that now threaten to tear us apart."

WHITMER

He spoke at a section meeting of 150 delegates to the American Association of School Administrators (AASA) in Atlantic City, N.J. Whitmer was recently elected to the executive committee of AASA.

Whitmer criticized the present position of AASA as a department of the National Education Association as unrealistic in view of increasing militancy in the posture of NEA.

"The superintendent," Whitmer remarked, "finds it extremely difficult to justify continued membership in and financial support of NEA or perhaps even of AASA so long as it is a department of NEA.

★ ★ ★

"The express goals of the teacher group tends toward matters of status quo, of self-protection and of benefits related to salary or working conditions," he said.

'LESS LIKELY'

"As the local groups grow larger they will be less likely to consider matters having to do with educational innovation, with changes to meet current problems or with quality of professional performance."

★ ★ ★

He proposed making AASA an independent organization but cooperative with NEA.

★ ★ ★

"This separate but cooperative relationship would make it possible for each organization to honestly and openly espouse its causes and programs without needing to compromise to reach a consensus that can be supported by diverse groups," he said.

Pontiac Twp. Man Dies in Auto Crash

Donald A. Burgess, 28, of 4275 Baldwin, Pontiac Township, was killed when his car went out of control and struck trees at Gregory and Rohr in Orion Township at 3:50 p.m. Saturday.

Sheriff's deputies said Burgess's car apparently went out of control. He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

LBJ Enthusiastic After Talk to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave an enthusiastic account today of a six-hour meeting with Dwight D. Eisenhower that climaxed a transcontinental tour. During his weekend tour, Johnson said more troops will be sent to Vietnam if needed.

★ ★ ★

Johnson visited the former Republican president yesterday at Eisenhower's home in Palm Springs, Calif.

See Picture, Page A-2

Their marathon get-together embraced both serious talks about Vietnam and an 18-hole round of golf. "He did beat me," Johnson said. "He's really a professional."

Before flying by helicopter to the luxurious Eisenhower winter home, Johnson bade personal farewells to Vietnam-bound Marines in California and Army paratroopers in North Carolina and spent Saturday night aboard the carrier Constellation off the California coast.

★ ★ ★

He also told newsmen during his busy, secrecy-cloaked travels that troops strength in Vietnam will be raised beyond the authorized level of 525,000 "if we need to."

IKE BRIEFED

As for Eisenhower, it is to be assumed Johnson was not unmindful of the political implications of his friendly meeting with the only living ex-Republican president in this election year.

Governors Seek Platform Voice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, frustrated in attempts to agree on a presidential candidate, are launching a grass-roots drive for a moderate party platform.

★ ★ ★

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, scheduled a news conference for today to announce a series of platform hearings. Individual citizens will be asked to contribute ideas on domestic and foreign policy issues.

The GOP state executives are promoting Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania for cochairman of the Miami Beach, Fla., convention platform committee to sit with Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The party moderates among the governors express fear that Dirksen, who has supported President Johnson's basic objectives in Vietnam, will be inclined to leave little room for a Republican alternative to the administration's Asian course.

★ ★ ★

They regard Dirksen, who placed Barry Goldwater's name in nomination at the 1964 convention, as too conservative on domestic policies.

$800-Million Jet Order

NEW YORK (AP)—American Airlines announced today an order of more than $800 million for a new McDonnell Douglas Corp. jetliner. It was commercial aviation's biggest single order.

U.S. to N. Korea: 'Flights Regretted'

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United States admitted today that two American planes strayed over North Korea briefly yesterday and expressed regret, with assurance that efforts would be made to prevent any more such incidents.

★ ★ ★

It was one of the few times in recent years that the United States had admitted a Communist charge it had violated the Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, the U.N. Command's senior delegate to the armistice commission, said the planes were on a navigational flight originating outside Korea yesterday afternoon. He said they violated Communists airspace because of bad weather, pilots unfamiliarity with terrain and failure of navigational equipment.

"When they became aware of their location, they immediately took action to depart," Smith said. "The United Nations Command expresses its regrets and offers assurance that all possible measures will be taken to insure that such incidents will not recur in the future."

★ ★ ★

There was no indication North Koreans fired on the planes.

REDS CALL MEETING

North Korea called the commission meeting. The senior Communist delegate, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook, charged "A formation of American military airplanes" intruded into North Korean airspace north of Panmunjom for four minutes and engaged in "hostile acts and reconnaissance."

Pak claimed U.N. forces had committed 35 other armistice violations between Feb. 13 and Feb. 18. Smith denied all these.

The North Korean delegate charged "a few Yankee aggressor troops" raided a Communists guard post near Songjon Ni on the western front last night. He said the infiltrators were "successfully repelled and wiped out."

Smith denied this. He said the only U.N. Command activity on the western front last night occurred when U.N. Command personnel fired on "several of your marauders" attempting to infiltrate into South Korea near Panmunjom.

Pak said preparations by "U.S. imperialists to unleash another war in Korea" reached a peak when they sent the U.N. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo into Communist waters Jan. 23.

5 Area Elections Drawing Voters

Area voters went to the polls today in two village primaries, one city primary and two school millage elections.

★ ★ ★

In Avondale School District, east of Pontiac, voters are being asked to approve a 12.7 increase in operating millage which could amount to as much as $190.50 tax increase on a $30,000 (market value) home.

If approved the millage would add $508,000 to the school district's annual income.

In Troy School District, residents were voting for the third time on an operating millage increase. Today's figure is 6 mills for two years. Troy district voters twice turned down a 7-mill increase last year.

★ ★ ★

Estimated revenue from the proposed increase would amount to about $715,000 in the first year and about $960,000 in the second year, according to school officials.

CANDIDATES ON BALLOT

Also in Troy, six candidates for City Commission and four for mayor were being narrowed to four and two, respectively. The city election is April 1.

Troy also is asking a half-mill hike for the purpose of constructing a municipal library.

In Clarkston the future of annexation may hinge on today's vote. The primary will eliminate one of two candidates for village president. Trustee David Leak, promoter of the village's recent annexation attempt, is faced by Frank Russell who has declared against expansion at present.

★ ★ ★

The primary vote will have no effect on other office seekers.

In Romeo the contest is among four candidates for three positions on the Republican side of the ballot for village trustee.

VC 'Had Assurances'

SAIGON — Three men and four boys, identified as Vietcong who surrendered during the Communist's big lunar new year offensive, said today they had been sent into battle with assurances that the people and government troops would help them "liberate the country from the American imperialists."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two pacifists involved in North Vietnam's release of three American fliers claim "inept and cold-blooded" handling of the situation by this country has endangered release of other prisoners of war.

The three airmen — looking fit and cheerful after reunions with their families — were in military hospitals yesterday for physical checkups.

They are Air Force Lt. Col. Norris M. Overly of Oscoda, Mich.; Capt. Jon D. Black of Laredo, Tex.; and Navy Lt. (jg) David Matheny of Bakersfield, Calif.

They indicated there would be a joint press conference, yet unscheduled, on their four to five-month ordeals in North Vietnam prisons after their planes were shot down last fall.

The pacifist — Prof. Howard Zinn of Boston University and the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit priest at Cornell University — claimed the three were reluctant to fly home on military aircraft for fear of jeopardizing release of other prisoners.

★ ★ ★

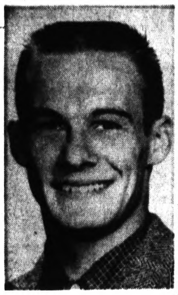
The pacifists said the men had been told by North Vietnamese authorities to return home on a nonmilitary plane or it could mean the end of release of U.S. prisoners of war.

Zinn and Father Berrigan, arriving in New York on a commercial flight from Paris, said U.S. authorities persuaded the airmen to return on military aircraft.

Berrigan said "The spirit of the mission to bring the men back home has been betrayed by U.S. intervention."

Officials Await Word on Pilot Forced to Fly State Man to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Authorities awaited word today from Ronald Doran, believed to have been the private plane pilot who sheriffs deputies said was forced to fly a passenger to Communist Cuba Saturday. The passenger was believed to be Thomas Boynton, son of a Western Michigan University professor.



THOMAS BOYNTON

"We haven't received a word since we got a radio message saying he (Doran) had landed safely in Havana at 4:33 p.m. Saturday," said a spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration. "We are still waiting."

* * *

The twin-engine Piper Apache took off from Marathon, in the Florida Keys about 50 miles northeast of Key West. With Doran at the controls and a tall thin man believed to be Boynton, 31, as his passenger.

James Boynton, chemistry professor at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo, said his son Thomas telephoned him Friday night but said nothing about going to Cuba.

CAR NOTE FOUND

The professor said his son drove to Florida in a 1964 Valiant, the same type car found at the Marathon airport with a "to whom it may coniern" note attached.

Boynton said his son had been a research worker at a Job Corps Center near Battle Creek, Mich., which recently closed down, and had left Kalamazoo in the family's second car for Florida last Monday.

* * *

Doran, 42, had flown to Marathon Saturday to talk about a job, according to John Stergeon, operator of a charter flying service.

Sheriff's deputies said radio messages indicated the pilot was forced to fly to Cuba after the plan was airborne, and the FBI would say only that it had the case under investigation.

* * *

In Havana there were unconfirmed reports that Boynton had asked for asylum for unspecified reasons and that Doran would be allowed to fly back to Florida today.

GOP Favored in Voting for State Senator

HOLLAND (AP) — Voters in the 23rd State Senatorial District went to the polls Monday to select a new state senator in an election which hinted religious overtones.

Republican Gary Byker, 47, of Hundsonville was favored over his Democratic opponent, Chester J. Harmsen, 52, of Holland, as successor to the late Sen. Harold J. Volkema, R-Holland.

The heavily Republican district includes the counties of Allegan, Ottawa and Van Buren and one township of Barry County.

An upset victory by Harmsen would plunge the State Senate into a 19-19 tie. Volkema's death last December left the Republicans with a one-vote margin, 19-18.

MAJOR ISSUE

One of the major underlying issues in the election was the question of state aid to nonpublic schools. Harmsen is opposed to state aid while Byker has indicated he favors legislation designed to give relief to the parochial school parents, perhaps with some form of tuition grants.

Neither candidate considered the question part of his campaign message although each had answered direct questions on the issue.

Collision Sinks Panama Ship

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Panamanian ship sank after a collision in the Dardanelles Strait early today and 14 crewmen are feared lost, the Turkish radio said.

The 1,530-ton ship, identified as the Captain Frangos, collided with a Greek vessel identified as the Timos. The Greek vessel was reported slightly damaged.

LBJ MISSES BIRDIE—President Johnson misses a putt and a chance for a birdie on the 18th green of the Seven Lakes Golf and Country Club in Palm Springs, Calif., where he played golf yesterday with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (left). The President invited news photographers to record his golf form for the first time and he scored a par on the hole. Johnson flew to Eisenhower's home at the country club for a visit after seeing Vietnam-bound Marines off Saturday night.

Pellets Hit 100 Cars in 3 Communities

DETROIT (AP) — More than 100 automobiles in three suburban Detroit communities had their windows shot, apparently by pellet gunfire Saturday night.

Police from Livonia, Westland and Redford Township said there was a rash of calls from car owners who went out to their vehicles Sunday to find the shotup windows.

No injuries were reported.

Sgt. Richard Ericson of the Livonia Police Department said the rash of destruction is apparently the result of an escapade by several young men in one or more cruising cars which roamed through southeast Livonia.

The areas in Redford and Westland that were hit border the affected Livonia area.

Ericson said about 70 autos in Livonia had windows shot, including several in two shopping centers.

"Somebody obviously had to see who did it," he said. He said that from 20,000 to 30,000 persons live in the densely populated area.

Redford Police reported 15 incidents of shot windows, while Westland Police reported from 15 to 20.

Livonia police say they have unmarked cars cruising the areas. They say they think teenagers on a spree caused the damage. Ericson says he received three contradictory descriptions of a car involved in the escapade.

Tornadolike Winds Lash Miami Beach

NORTH MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Tornado like winds smashed a 60-block area along coastal North Miami Beach early today, injuring more than a dozen persons, knocking down power lines, overturning cars and damaging houses and business establishments.

Police said injury reports included two heart attack victims. Their condition was not immediately known.

* * *

Three people were hurt, authorities said, when a house was knocked over by the winds. Others were cut by broken window glass and battered by debris.

Police with dogs set up road blocks to prevent looting and to keep out sightseers.

HARDEST HIT

The storm touched down briefly on the narrow strip of beach east of Miami shortly after 5 a.m. EST.

Apparently the hardest hit section was along Northeast 167th Street, a suburban shopping area.

* * *

Store fronts along the streets were blown out. Groceries and clothing were strewn across parking meters and along sidewalks. Four automobiles in a 167th Street car lot were overturned as was a house trailer which had one end ripped out.

Harold Jaffe, operator of a stationery store, said, "We have approximately 15,000 things to pick up."

POWER KNOCKED OUT

Power was knocked out temporarily from Northeast 12th Avenue to Northeast 17th Avenue and from Northeast 142nd Street to Northeast 187th Street.

The Weather Bureau said there was no evidence of a tornado on radar.

* * *

Forecaster Raymond Kraft said he suspected the damage was caused by a severe thunderstorm, "although it really doesn't make much difference what it was."

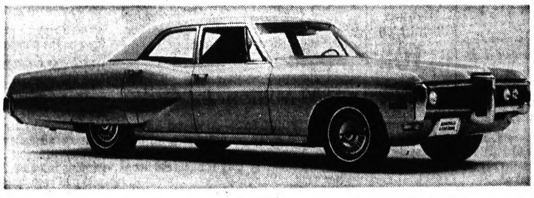
Six persons were taken to North Miami General Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises. None was considered seriously injured.

Eight persons were treated and released at two other hospitals.

Kite String Carries Shock

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A woman flying a kite was knocked unconscious when the kite string fell across a 7,500-volt power line.

Sharon L. Shoopman, 25, was flying the kite Saturday with her 6-year-old son, Steven. The kite dropped toward the ground and the string, which apparently contained wire, hit the line.



NEW BONNEVILLE—Pontiac Motor Division will unveil a new model — the Bonneville four-door sedan—at the Chicago Auto Show opening Saturday. The four-door is for those who prefer the Bonneville series but also want the added head and leg-room of a sedan, a spokesman said. Pontiac now has 35 models available.

Four-Door Bonneville to Be Unveiled

Pontiac Motor Division is introducing a new model, a four-door Bonneville sedan, at the 60th annual Chicago Auto Show opening Saturday at the Amphitheatre.

Pontiac said the new car will go on sale this week. Production is now under way at the division's home plant and four other plants across the country.

In making the announcement, John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac's general manager, said the new Bonneville will give car buyers who prefer the added head and leg room of a sedan the chance to also enjoy the luxurious interiors associated with the Bonneville series.

With the new sedan Pontiac now has a total of 35 models in its 1968 lineup.

* * *

At the Chicago Auto Show last year, Pontiac introduced its new sports car series, the Firebird.

SHOW CARS ON DISPLAY

Another highlight of the Pontiac display will be two customized show cars — the Costa del Sol and the Skin Diver.

Also sharing the spotlight within Pontiac's 9, 160-square-foot exhibit area will be 13 new 1968 Pontiac, Tempest and Firebird models including the GTO with its bouncy front bumper and recent winner of the Motor Trend Car of the Year Award, a Bonneville Brougham and a Grand Prix.

Of special interest will be an energy-absorbing steering column exhibit and a display of the Motor Trend Golden Calipers trophy presented to the GTO for the Car of the Year.

In addition there will be two cutaway engines on exhibit featuring Pontiac's exclusive overhead cam six-cylinder and the high performance V8.

CARRIES OUT THEME

On one of Pontiac's revolving turntables will be the Costa del Sol which is styled with a Spanish influence prevalent in the southwestern United States.

Pontiac's second show car is a Firebird 400 convertible named the Skin Diver. The exterior paint is a pearlescent yellow.

The interior carries out the skin-diving theme with pearlescent yellow vinyl accented with frost orange-red stripes on the seats and door panels.

In discussing the 1968 models, DeLorean said "great emphasis and much thought" was given to insure maximum safety for each occupant of the car. He listed the following new Pontiac safety features:

* * *

- New crushable armrests.
- Door hinges have been improved with steel stampings for additional strength.
- Windshield pillars have thick energy-absorbing padding.
- Front seat backs also have padding along the top of the backs.
- Every passenger location will have a seat belt.
- Door handles are stamped steel instead of die cast to flex on impact and are designed to protect against inadvertent opening.
- New wraparound parking lamps have side illumination which is lit when the headlights are on.
- Padding is featured across the entire width of the instrument panel.
- The ignition key has been moved to a recessed position and the cigarette lighter will push flush to the panel under an impact load of 90 pounds.
- Rear side lighting is provided by side marker lamps.

NATIONAL WEATHER—Showers are forecast tonight for the Pacific Northwest, the Gulf Coast and the mid-South Atlantic states. Snow flurries will hit the northern Rockies, with snow mixed with rain due in the central Rockies region. The northern Great Plains can expect snow, also. Warmer temperatures are forecast from Texas to the Great Lakes.

Birmingham Area News

Open Housing Is on Agenda

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission will again take up the question of fair housing at its regular meeting tonight at 8.

The city's fair-housing ordinance, which bars discrimination in the sale of homes on the basis of race, creed or color, was suspended Jan. 22 with the filing of referendum petitions with City Clerk Irene Hanley.

After Miss Hanley reported last week that the petitions contained signatures of the required 1,984 registered voters (15 per cent of those in the city), tonight's discussion was scheduled.

The commission has 30 days from the date of the report to repeal the ordinance or determine to submit it to public referendum.

* * *

The decision to schedule a referendum must be made by March 1 if the issue is to be placed on the ballot for the April 1 municipal election, however, the City Charter states that a referendum may be held in not less than 30 days nor more than a year.

PETITION DRIVE

The ordinance, passed Nov. 27 by the commission, provides for a fine of up to $500 or up to 90 days in jail, or both for violations.

Shortly after passage, the Birmingham Referendum Committee, a citizens' organization, began circulating petitions calling for a public vote.

Also on tonight's agenda is confirmation of deficiency assessment rolls for four special-assessed paving programs

* * *

Marines Push to Brink of Red Stronghold in Hue

SAIGON (AP) — Battle-weary U.S. Marines moving behind a protective umbrella of artillery pushed 400 yards through the rubbled ruins of Hue's Citadel today to the brink of one of the last Communist strongholds in Vietnam's old capital.

* * *

Elsewhere, the Vietcong slammed more rockets and mortars into Saigon and a few other cities today, but the Communists' "second wave" offensive appeared to be easing off considerably in its second day. One rocket hit a passenger terminal at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, killing one U.S. serviceman and wounding 21 as they waited with 180 other GIs for planes home after a year in Vietnam.

* * *

As the bloody battle for Hue raged through its 20th day, the Marines pushed to the southeast corner of the old walled Citadel. Then they turned right to begin a drive along the south wall toward the former Imperial Palace, where desperate North Vietnamese troops were dug in.

* * *

The Marines advanced about 400 yards and cleared the northeast wall of the old city.

ALONG WALL

South Vietnamese forces continued to battle their way along the stone wall on the western side of the Citadel, but the rate of their progress was not known.

* * *

Low clouds prevented air strikes today.

* * *

The battle for Hue is the only fighting still persisting from the Communists' lunar new year offensive. But in the "second wave," the Vietcong shelled 47 cities, towns and military installations Sunday and made ground attacks on several.

* * *

Woman Shot at Her Home by a Visitor

A Pontiac woman was in poor condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being shot four times by a visitor at her home.

Wounded at 1:53 a.m. yesterday was Frances Hardiman, 54, 30 Hibbard.

* * *

A witness to the shooting, Anne McCain, 36, of the same address, said an argument broke out between the victim and the suspect.

Police said she told them the man first shot into the ceiling and then shot the woman four times.

Being sought for questioning is Arnzelle Mayo, 42, of 384 S. Anderson.

Shell Hits Home-Bound GIs

SAIGON (AP) — It was the final hurry-up-and-wait for the American servicemen in the passenger terminal at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

After a year of slogging through mud and jungle, sitting in an office or riding a river patrol boat, they had only a few more hours before the jet flight to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco—and then home.

* * *

More than 200 servicemen lounged on couches or stood talking in small groups in the clammy morning air. Some sat in temporary bunkers made of baggage racks and anything else available set up in the customs area after Communist rockets slammed into the air base Sunday.

At 5:30 a.m. Saigon time today, two rockets landed in the terminal area.

COVER TAKEN BRIEFLY

"Everybody hit the dirt," recalled Seaman Paul E. Treuter of Detroit, Mich., who was working at the terminal. "But they didn't stay down too long and a little while later everyone was walking around again."

They got up too soon. At 6:04 a 122mm hit the terminal itself. It tore a 15-foot hole in the roof just over the area where most of the servicemen were waiting, scattering shrapnel and bits of metal, brick and wood from the roof over more than 100 feet.

RUNNING, SCREAMING

"People were running around, screaming, 'medic, medic' and 'take cover,'" said Staff Sgt. William Rucker, 27, of Nashville, Tenn., who was in the waiting room. He was not hurt.

Rucker said Army medics were on the scene within 15 minutes to treat the scores of servicemen cut down by the flying debris. Quite a few were seriously wounded, Rucker said.

* * *

"I helped take care of as many as I could," he added. "There was this one Air Force medic I was treating. He was hit by shrapnel, in the face, in the abdomen. He died here." It was the only confirmed death, although some of the uninjured servicemen said they thought a badly wounded American civilian also had died.

The Air Force listed one serviceman killed and 21 wounded but had no reports of any civilian casualties. There were several American civilians in the terminal at the time.

Hundreds of windows were blown out, and there were several large pools of blood on the floor.

* * *

The hole in the roof exposed twisted steel girders and crushed brick walls. Part of the wood ceiling hung crazily from the girders.

Some of the commercial airline counters opened, and the clerks swept away piles of glass and debris. The line for the plane to Travis opened again, and the servicemen resumed their wait.

State GOP Collegians to Hear Ford

DETROIT (UPI) — House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich., will be the keynote speaker at the annual convention of the Michigan Federation of College Republicans.

* * *

More than 500 college students are expected to attend the convention, which will be held Friday and Saturday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Ford will address the group Saturday.

The annual elections will be held at the convention and State Chairman Robert Smart of the University of Michigan has announced his candidacy for reelection. He is challenged by prelaw student Raymond Cunningham of the University of Detroit.

Don Sivola of Northwestern Michigan College at Traverse City is unopposed in a bid for vice chairman while the post of treasurer is being sought by Carl Mayer of Western Michigan University and James Holtrop of Eastern Michigan University.

CLARKSTON JUNIOR HIGH — An architect's prospectus reveals the future look of the $2.2-million North Sashabaw Junior High School now under construction on Maybee Road in Independence Township. Of precast concrete with exposed columns, the building will accommodate 1,000 students, according to Richard Prince of Kalamazoo, architect. To be finished in face brick, the 117,820-square-foot school should be ready for usage by September 1969. At that time the district expects to withdraw the ninth grade from the present senior high school curriculum, allowing for expanded enrollment there. Clarkston Junior High School, 6300 Church, presently accommodates only the seventh and eighth grades. The new school is being built with funds from a $2.5-million bond issue approved by voters in June 1966.

Eight Are Killed in State Traffic Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Michigan highways were safer over the weekend than they've been in a while. Eight fatalities were recorded, down from 13 the week before.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims:

John J. Wojnarowicz, 38, Dearborn Heights, who was killed Sunday in a three-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 24 and M14 in Redford Township outside Detroit.

James Huck, 16, of Saginaw, a passenger in a car which ran into a tree along North River Road in Saginaw County's Thomas Township yesterday.

Danny O'Dell, 21, of Saginaw, Saturday when his car ran off a Bridgeport Township road in Saginaw County.

CAR RUNS OFF ROAD

Dean Ragan, 22, of Birch Run, Friday when his car ran off a road in Birch Run.

Helen Vollwiler, 56, Farmington, Friday in a two-car crash in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Lorimer Ramsey, 31, River Rouge, Saturday in a collision between his car and a truck on the Ambassador Bridge linking Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

Donald A. Burgess, 28, of Pontiac, killed Saturday when his car left a road in Orion Township in Oakland County and crashed into four trees.

Ronald Duke, 23, of Garden City, killed Saturday night when thrown from the car in which he was riding when it overturned on Edward Hines Parkway in Garden City.

School Nears No-Sprinkler OK

Huron Valley School administrators have received a verbal commitment that they will not be required to install a sprinkling system in a $1.1-million elementary school under construction here.

Work on the school had been stopped two weeks ago by order of the state fire marshal. The sprinkling system could have added as much as $40,000 to the cost of the building, officials indicated.

Richard Prince of Kalamazoo, architect for the school, said resumption of construction will await a written order from the State Department of Education.

He reported, however, that state fire officers had verbally agreed to foregoing the sprinkling system in favor of the installation of several fire doors in the building.

★ ★ ★

The point of contention as far as state fire authorities were concerned was reportedly the fact that the Hill street elementary school contains an interior windowless library.

6 EXITS INSTEAD OF 2

Prince said the room had been designed with six protected exits in place of the normal two, and it is some of these doors that will have to be fireproofed. He said other minor adjustments were also requested.

The school is one of three construction projects now under way in the Huron Valley District. Construction of a second elementary and a high school addition was not stopped.

Cliff Scherer, administrative assistant to the superintendent, said construction bids on the school were awarded prior to receiving the marshal's okay. He said an early letter was received saying the design must be altered, but a second letter had been interpreted as meaning the requirement was waived.

Work on Sewer Interceptor in Macomb County Is Likely to Get Under Way in June

Construction of the Macomb County Sewer Interceptor, into which the projected $16.9-million Clinton-Oakland interceptor system will drain, is expected to get under way in June, it has been announced.

Gerald J. Remus, general manager of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Services, said more than $36 million in contracts will be awarded this year.

About $21 million will be spent on the start of the 31.5-mile Macomb sewer line, Remus indicated.

The interceptor will make waste-water treatment service available to Warren, Mount Clemens, Utica and Fraser, and the townships of Sterling, Shelby, Clinton, Harrison, Macomb and Chesterfield.

★ ★ ★

It will connect with Oakland County's planned Clinton-Oakland Interceptor which will collect waste water from at least six central Oakland County communities.

6 COMMUNITIES

They are the townships of Avon, Independence, Orion, Pontiac, Waterford and West Bloomfield.

Construction on the Oakland County line is expected to start in early May, according to R. J. Alexander, director of the County Department of Public Works.

Bonds for the project have already been sold, and application for a federal grant to assist in the cost of the project has been made, Alexander has reported.

The Detroit sewer program is included in a four-year $114-million Detroit River basin program to reduce waste-water pollution, Remus said.

COULD BE ACCELERATED

He indicated that 1968 building could be accelerated if the State Legislature qualifies Michigan for additional matching federal funds available through the Federal Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966.

A total of $7.2 million in federal grants is now unavailable to local communities in the state, Remus said.

Its availability depends on the passage of a bill now before the State Senate, he reported.

The contracts to be awarded this year also include some $8 million for new facilities at the Detroit waste-water treatment plant at 9300 W. Jefferson and $950,000 for a $2.1-million federally assisted research project aimed at reducing the amount of waste water diverted to the Detroit River during storms.

Behind the accelerated sewer program is the Water Quality Standards Act adopted in Michigan which calls for creating an environment ideal for game fish and all forms of aquatic recreation such as boating, swimming, water skiing and scuba diving.

★ ★ ★

Towards that end the Detroit Metropolitan Water Services completed $5.6 million in construction during 1967, Remus noted.

Water Planning Is Starting NW of Farmington

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Planning has begun for a water system in the northwest corner of the township.

The Township Board recently gave a go-ahead to the Oakland County Department of Public Works to develop preliminary engineering plans, cost estimates and financing schedules.

The facility will serve an eventual 30,000 persons in the six-square mile area, said Supervisor Curtis Hall. He speculates that the system, to be connected with the Detroit mains, will be completed in about two years.

The board has agreed to have its supervisor arrange meetings between Farmington's city council and manager.

This is in response to a letter from Farmington City Council suggesting such meetings to discuss roads, traffic safety, zoning and other subjects.

★ ★ ★

At its meeting tonight at 8, the City Council is planning to consider the township's decision.

LOTS REZONED

The board also has rezoned lots 49, 50, 51, 66, 67 and 65 of Grand Gardens Subdivision from single family and business to multiple. Developers Holtzman and Silverman of Detroit requested the rezoning of the same four acres.

Two new zoning classifications have been adopted by the board:

- Special Purpose: convalescent home use only.

★ ★ ★

- Planned General Business: most restrictive commercial district for a neighborhood service center; doesn't permit outdoor businesses such as gas stations.

Circuit Court in Troy Apartment Dispute

TROY — The Oakland County Circuit Court has been dealt a hand in the controversy surrounding proposed expansion of the Somerset North apartment project.

Judge Robert L. Templin has handed down a temporary injunction barring the city from taking any action on petitions opposing the zoning change which would have allowed for the expansion.

The injunction was issued at the request of the Biltmore Development Co., which seeks to construct an extension of its present Somerset apartment complex between Maple and Big Beaver and east of Coolidge.

The City Commission approved the zoning change Jan. 8 by a 4-3 vote. Recommended by the planning commission, the rezoning changed 219 acres north of Big Beaver and east of Coolidge from single-family residential to multiple.

The Troy Council of Homeowners' Associations began a petition drive immediately after passage to force the City Commission either to repeal the ordinance or submit the issue to a public referendum.

25 PER CENT

If the petitions are found to contain signatures of 2,489 registered voters (25 per cent of registered voters in the city) the rezoning will be automatically suspended.

According to council President Anthony Pallotta, the petitions, which were filed last week, contain 3,309 signatures, well over the amount required.

Certification of the petitions was expected by Friday night, and the commission scheduled a special meeting then to receive a report from City Clerk Kenneth L. Courtney.

★ ★ ★

However, the meeting was quickly adjourned, Courtney said, after he informed the commission of the injunction.

HEARING SCHEDULED

Templin scheduled a show-cause hearing for Feb. 28 at 2 p.m. At that time, the city must show why it should not be barred permanently from certificating the petitions.

The development company contends that regular referendary procedures do not apply to zoning ordinances.

★ ★ ★

The Circuit Court judge also enjoined Biltmore from taking out building permits for the area in question before the hearing.

Mobile-Home Zone Law Eyed

AVON TOWNSHIP — Revision of the zoning ordinance to allow mobile-home zoning without apartment buffers seems likely here.

The Township Board has instructed attorney Rex Bebout to work with the planning commission in an effort to work out an acceptable amendment.

At issue was the request of Aaron Management Development Co. to construct a mobile home site on 55 acres of land owned by Walter Hoults on Avon Road in the John R area.

The land lies behind the Jehovah's Witness Church and Hoults' home on Avon Road and is adjacent to a gravel operation and near land owned by the Southeastern Michigan Incinerator Authority.

"It is unlikely that anyone would build apartments there," said Mrs. Thelma Spencer, clerk. "It was the consensus of the board that a wide green belt would be more acceptable."

Trash Burners Cautioned

5 Weekend Grass Fires in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — Grass fires in the winter?

"Absolutely!" says Rochester Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan.

Noting that five such fires were fought over the weekend in Avon Township, Buchanan cautioned trash burners to check wind conditions before lighting fires.

"We had one grass fire behind the Avondale Nursing Home on Walton where the flames traveled right over the top of the snow," he said.

★ ★ ★

Three such fires were reported fought by the Brooklands Fire Department and another by the Avondale Fire Department.

"It was the wind," said Buchanan. "The grass is dry, believe it or not, and it burns."

7 Candidates Vie in Wixom Vote Tomorrow

WIXOM — Voters here will decide which six of seven City Council candidates will run in the April 1 general election.

Polls for tomorrow's primary will be located at the City Hall, 49045 W. Pontiac Trail, and will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Ballots will be cast for three of seven candidates. The six candidates receiving most votes will vie for the three council vacancies of four-year terms each.

The primary candidates are Mrs. Kathryn L. Miner, 30290 Beck; William E. Allred, 1481 Wren; Charles S. McCall, 3884 W. Maple; Neal L. Taylor, 2901 Maganser, president of the Birch Park Civic Association; Mrs. Mary Parvu, 3645 W. Maple; and incumbents Oscar B. Simmons, Jr., 2028 Hazel, and Gunnar E. Mettala, 2752 Loon Lake.

★ ★ ★

The three vacancies are due to the expiration of the terms of Simmons, Mettala and Donald Nissen.

NO PRIMARY

The April 1 general election will decide on a mayor as well as three councilmen. No primary is necessary for the mayoralty because only two candidates filed petitions.

★ ★ ★

They are incumbent Mayor Wesley E. McAtee, 3031 W. Maple, and Frank Jadzinaki, 2945 Maganser, former city police chief.

★ ★ ★

Move to Save Shade Trees On

MILFORD (AP) — "Oak Wilt" killed countless sturdy oaks some years back.

The furniture and whisky barrel-making people raised a hue and cry—and money—for research to find the cause of the tree disease.

No such furor is raised over shade tree-killing diseases, because there "apparently is no big economic impact in shade trees," says Theodore J. Haskell of the Lansing Parks Department.

So Haskell and James W. Smith, a field landscape architect for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, have helped form the newly incorporated, nonprofit Michigan Shade Tree research Foundation, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Smith is president, Haskell vice president. There are eight other Michigan citizens on the board of directors.

RESEARCH FUND

Working under the philosophy, "You can't ask Uncle Sam and Uncle George to do everything," the board hopes to interest the private sector of Michigan economy in banding together to help save Michigan's shade trees from blight.

"What we want to do is get private citizens and industry interested in setting up a research fund—something that will be continuous and steady," Smith says.

Smith says more research is needed on how plants grow. "If we knew, for instance, how the moisture moved into the roots of trees, we'd be farther along in figuring out how to use fungicides."

★ ★ ★

Haskell suggests, "Most of the research is being done on how to control the vector disease carrier.

POSSIBLE TARGETS

"We need to find something that will kill the fungus. Penicilin helps sick people, but there is no real shade tree equivilent for penicilin."

Possible targets for fundation-financed research would be Dutch Elm disease, of course, and the Sugar Maple blight.

"We're losing maple trees all the time," Haskell says, "and for no good reason that we can find."

Smith and Haskell say all money solicited for private citizens and industry will go into a special fund earmarked for research.

APPLICATION FOR FUNDS

Once the fund hits at least $30,000 the foundation will solicit researchers.

Any scientist who has an idea for research, the results of which might help control or stave off disease in shade trees, will submit an application for funds.

The foundation board or a specially designated committee then would decide whether or not to support the project. Haskell sees a second function.

★ ★ ★

"There is no real communication about types of research done across the country and the world," he says. "We could act as a sort of clearinghouse for such information."

Pontiac Man Is Shot Following Argument at Shelby Twp. Drive-In

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A 26-year-old Pontiac man was shot here last night following an argument at a drive-in, according to township police.

Police said Clifford Dougherty of 290 Parkdale was shot about 9:45 at the Pixie Drive-In, 2790 Auburn. Dougherty was wounded in the left arm and side, police said, and was taken to Crittenton Hospital in Avon Township, where he was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Being sought in connection with the shooting, according to police, is Billy Wayne Flemming, 25, of 47414 Ryan. Police said five people witnessed the shooting.

Story Hours to Start

The first of eight story-hour programs at the West Bloomfield Library will be tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Main Library, 5030 Orchard Lake.

Children must be registered in advance for this program of the Pine Lake Women's Club.

Cranbrook Events

Following is a list of special events taking place at the facilities at Cranbrook on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills:

PLANETARIUM — Regular public demonstrations, Wednesday at 4 p.m. and weekends at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The topic for the month is "The Stars of Magellan."

ATOMARIUM — Public demonstration Sunday at 3:30 p.m. or by appointment. Admission 25 cents.

CHILDREN'S SERIES — "Introducing Science," the Institute of Science series designed for area children in grades 1-3, will meet Saturday for the final time.

The topic, which will be presented by instructor Martha Schaefer in two identical sessions, at 9 and 10:30 a.m., is "Care of Pets."

Students may bring any personal collections pertinent to the subject. Student members will be admitted free. The charge for nonmembers is 50 cents.

It Seems to Me . . .

United States May Attempt to Collect Long-Time Debt

Hang on to your hat!

Congress just may—"may's" the word—try and collect some of the international debt France has owed us since World War One. Get it straight. ("One"—not "Two.")

Our gold seeps to other nations, as France assists at every opportunity. Our cash position grows steadily worse. But we sit idly by and suck our impotent thumbs as France sneers at us openly over the $6,850,592,550.57 she owes us. Part of it covers 37 years.

★ ★ ★

It's really more than this as the interest hasn't been computed recently. Aren't we the champion, Number One, outstanding, gullible, weak-kneed, stupid, all-around world's Greatest Sucker?

The Aggressive RFK . . . .

One ROBERT F. KENNEDY is definitely becoming more assertive.

Is he merely sending up a series of trial balloons to "see what he can see" or is he laying the foundation for an all-out campaign to land the Democratic nomination?

Aye—there's the question.

And no one can answer.

★ ★ ★

Robert lacks some of his older brother's suavity and personal charm, but he's a fighter and one that can figure shrewdly. And where does McCarthy fit into this picture?

★ ★ ★

Crooked Competition . . . .

You can't stop crooked schemers, but you can often detect them ultimately and toss 'em out bodily or stop their machinations.

Take the Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

In a few recent competitions the Russians won feminine events with "women" that were highly suspicious.

They weren't women at all.

They were men disguised.

★ ★ ★

Probably no one but the pesky Reds would stoop this low but nothing seems to stop them.

Hence, we have a new Olympic rule. Any contestant refusing to allow a sex review will be summarily dismissed.

"She" should be.

★ ★ ★

Further, any contestant who refuses to undergo a dope test at the time of performance will be barred. The Olympics were pretty clean until the Commies crashed the ranks. Also, if you haven't been advised, most of their "Olympic amateurs" are strictly professionals.

They're paid by the government.

Why are they allowed to compete?

Stiff Travel Tax . . . .

President JOHNSON's proposal for a stiff travel tax still incites boos and jeers. The U.S. populace points an accusing finger and says: "Oh, yeah? We're to stay home, are we, while you spend billions — yes, billions — of our own tax dollars in foreign nations."

Boooooooo Mr. President.

Follow your ideas yourself.

★ ★ ★

This act could surely keep scholars, young people's clubs, teachers and professors at home while others, including government officials, percolate as usual.

Try again, LBJ.

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

LIZ TAYLOR and RICHARD BURTON dropped into New York with 80 pieces of luggage. They must have planned to stay a long weekend. . . . . When DENNIS WEAVER left "Gunsmoke" many thought he'd made a mistake. His first independent vehicle fizzled, but his new series, "Gentle Ben" tops the first year TV offerings. . . . . Overheard: "I can't pay you, Doc. I slowed down the way you said and I lost my job."

★ ★ ★

Scouts advise me Sandra Lewis deserves mention as one of the area's fine looking young ladies. . . . . Heisman Trophy winner, Gary Beban, ranked 14th in a computer test and he wasn't drafted until the 30th selection.

David Lawrence Says:

Government Worker Poorly Paid

WASHINGTON — One of the most serious problems facing the American people today involves the cost of living and the payment of adequate wages to cover household expenses.

LAWRENCE

Some strikes by the workers are unwarranted and push the prices of goods higher, thus causing a drop in sales. But there are other strikes and work stoppages that are fully justified due to the inability of workers, both organized and unorganized, to obtain adequate compensation.

What is distressing at the moment is the plight of employes in the federal, state and city governments.

Laws of many states forbid strikes, so, in some instances resignations by groups take place on a broad scale. But the obvious fact is that this isn't the way to run governmental operations.

Sooner or later, state legislatures and city councils will have to come to realize that a more realistic way of fixing wage scales and putting them into effect promptly to meet inflationary trends is absolutely essential.

The government as an employer is affected by a system of dual management growing out of separate legislative and administrative responsibilities. Budgets are made up far in advance, and elected members of the legislative bodies, including Congress, are not eager to raise taxes.

What is a salary that will enable the average family to get along reasonably well these days? Not so many years ago $5,000 a year was considered big pay. The purchasing power of the dollar, however, has gone down substantially in the last 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Department of Labor declared in October 1967 that a "moderate" budget for an "average city family of four" required $9,191 a year.

At first $9,000 looks like a big wage or salary, but even this sum isn't "take-home pay." For by the time federal and state income taxes, as well as Social Security payments, have been deducted, the pay check has been materially reduced."

So when one reads of a strike by sanitation workers in New York City's government or the work stoppage by teachers in Florida and other states, it is evident that inadequate compensation to meet living costs has forced extreme measures.

Bob Considine Says:

Kicking Westmoreland Out Is Incomprehensible

NEW YORK—It is incomprehensible to me that there should be talk in Washington of kicking Gen. William C. Westmoreland upstairs to the post of chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

CONSIDINE

The contest in Vietnam is not professional baseball or football, wherein managers and coaches are fired for fielding the inadequate teams provided for them by the front offices.

What's happening in Vietnam is war, in several respects the most serious in which this country has ever engaged.

Gen. Westmoreland, who believes in the authority of the civilian over the military, is waging it precisely the way he has been ordered to. Constant pressure on the enemy until such time as the enemy chooses to come to his senses.

★ ★ ★

If he departed from that practice, he would be removed as instantly as Douglas MacArthur was, when MacArthur appeared to take a more hawkish view of the war in Korea than did the Truman administration and the then allies.

ABIDING BY RULES

Westmoreland is abiding by the rules as laid down; to make him the scapegoat of the growing uneasiness that his filled the country since the Vietcong attacks on the cities of South Vietnam would be grossly unfair.

He's a damned good soldier, as any man who has served under him can tell you.

One wire service story out of Washington which told of grumblings against Westmoreland in Congress, criticized him for his so-called "search and destroy" tactics as opposed to a "clear and hold" approach.

The freshman or freshwoman Republican congresswoman from Massachusetts, Rep. Margaret M. Heckler — superbly named, incidentally — went on TV to charge that the general is "engaging in the vain art of self-delusion."

"The general is certainly deluding members of the Congress," she added.

As for the relative merits of "search and destroy" and "clear and hold," that's six of one and half a dozen of another. If Westmoreland's troops search out and clean out the enemy—as they have been doing—that's certainly as commendable as "clear and hold."

★ ★ ★

As I understand "clear and hold," it means clearing the Vietcong out of a hamlet and then leaving enough troops there to hold the conquered place.

PROGRESS

We've been doing that for a couple of years. In the past six months the U.S.-trained teams of South Vietnamese civilians have gone beyond that.

They have moved into cleared hamlets, being held militarily by South Vietnam troops, built schools, hospitals, roads, instituted social services and encouraged democratic processes.

It will take a lot more than a fleeting terroristic raid by the Vietcong to eradicate that sort of progress.

Discusses Referendum on Troy Zoning Change

As the retiring Mayor of Troy I present my thinking on the current dispute regarding the rezoning approval granted Somerset Park. There is danger of dissention in Troy. I refer to the attempt to challenge the decision of the commission by seeking a referendum vote on the rezoning approved for Somerset Park.

★ ★ ★

To the claim that the zoning change violates our land usage plan—such plans are adopted by all communities as simple guidelines. A master plan is subject to revision and re-evaluation. It is not easy to lay out guidelines which cannot be erased if they prove unwieldy or unnecessary in years to come. Decision is a responsibility of those elected to public office.

★ ★ ★

I ask that others join me by not signing the referendum petitions. If you've already signed, withdraw your name.

Reader Comments on Killing of Policeman

Recently a police officer was killed by a bank robber. Where are all the bleeding heart societies? They were very vocal when a man was shot while running from a stolen car and the police in Pontiac. They claim to be interested in law and order yet they remain silent when a police officer is killed.

★ ★ ★

Where are the sob sisters and the politicians now when they are needed? Now is the time when they should be screaming, trying to stir this lethargic society of ours into action.

★ ★ ★

It is time to clean up our streets. I urge everyone to write Lansing and demand a law making mandatory a prison term for all felons convicted of a crime against a person. By "prison term" I mean a period of time no less than 20 years.

With all the talk about fighting crime, there's little said of who is to blame. If parents would do more to raise children in the house of God, we would see the crime rate drop. Dial Emergency

The National Observer

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is making plans to install a nationwide emergency telephone number for police, fire, and ambulance services. The number it will use is 911.

Establishment of such a system has been under discussion for some time.

★ ★ ★

The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice last year recommended use of a single nationwide reporting number, and U.S. Rep. J. Edward Roush, Indiana Democrat, has been urging congressional action on the proposal.

Much of the support for the system has come from those who have studied the uniform reporting service in Great Britain, which has used a single emergency number, 999, for more than 20 years.

★ ★ ★

When the system is completed, a caller anywhere in the AT&T system will be connected directly with local emergency-aid agencies by dialing 911.

The company said it planned to modify pay telephones to allow a caller to dial the emergency number without using a coin.

Junket . . .

Spokane Spokesman Review

A junketing four-member House subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank M. Clark, D-Pa., is setting a poor example by a trip to Tahiti, Australia, Singapore, South Vietnam, Hong Kong and Japan.

★ ★ ★

The committee started the trip less than a week after President Johnson ordered government employes to curtail foreign travel as a step toward plugging the dollar drain.

Committee members said their trip would not contribute to the balance of payments deficit. A Treasury Department official, however, disputed this.

★ ★ ★

Regardless, a question exists as to why a subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee feels it is necessary to take such a junket primarily to attend a highway conference in Australia.

★ ★ ★

The second session of the 90th Congress just got started and there certainly must be enough problems in Washington, D.C., to keep members busy. What they hope to learn on this junket—except possibly that it is warm and sunny in Tahiti—is difficult to understand.

Are Girls With Short Hair Dis-Tressed?

By PATRICK E. O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Boys tend to like long hair on girls," Sheryl Karp started out. "It's more feminine . . ." Then she said it: "Sexier."

The 20-year-old coed—who keeps her own lustrous red hair a few inches below her shoulders—apparently speaks for a majority at Hunter College. The upper East Side school is a veritable stable of long silky manes — in blonde, brunette, brownette and every other imaginable hue.

* * *

"A lot of girls have short hair," said Sheryl's girl friend, Linda Langsam, 20, talking above the hubbub of Hunter's sprawling basement cafeteria. "But they can wear 'falls.' "

That's an artificial mane and they sell for $45 to $125 or so.

A FALLS WEARER

Sheryl and Linda nabbed Bonnie Karrin as she walked by. Bonnie owns a fall to go with her light auburn hair, which she wears shorter than most boys' hair. "I like it short because it's so easy just to get up in the morning and go," Bonnie said.

She alternates coming to school in short hair and coming in her falls, she said. Some people say hello to her and then blurt: "Hey, you hair grew!"

* * * *

These college girls, like many other jeune filles from Seattle to Miami, have found that long hair — whether real or "put on" — helps get looks and dates—despite the attempts of coiffeurists' to keep hair clipped and kinked.

"My boyfriend wants me to cut my hair because he's away," said Betty Franco, a 20-year-old nursing student. Her guy, a Navy Seabee serving at Da Nang in Vietnam, thinks this would help keep the pack away from his dark-haired sweetheart.

A 'LENGTHY' ORDER

Another nurse-to-be, Pat Falco, 20, said she was under "strict orders" to keep her sandy hair lengthy "until he returns." He is in the Air Force at Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base in Missouri.

Upstairs in the offices of the Hunter student newspaper, The Envoy, a pert brunette staffer named Gerry Malerba commented: "Just about every guy I've met says, 'Keep your hair long,' and they even notice how much it's growing and everything."

Junior Editors Quiz on MOON

QUESTION: What is the moon made of?

* * *

ANSWER: Don't think big John is being mean when he calls his little brother a chimpanzee. He's only kidding—but his answers to Harry's questions are correct.

Astronomers tell us the moon in a ball of rock of the kind called basalt, which, with granite, forms a large proportion of the earth's crust. The moon is thought to be composed of this rock all the way through—rock which is thought to be stone cold.

By contrast, the center of the earth is thought to be of very hot liquid metal, with other very heavy materials, also very hot, lying outside. It is only the outer layer which is cool. A very long time ago, the moon is supposed to have been hot, too. By now, its heat is thought to have radiated away.

Basalt is a dark rock, which is why the actual color of the moon is thought to be brown. Big John will explain to his brother that it is the fiery rays of the sun, glancing off the moon's bare surface, which makes the full moon look so brilliant.

This effect is even greater because the moon has no atmosphere to dull the reflected sun rays. Our own atmosphere, however, tends to give moonlight its beautiful silvery sheen.

Public, Papers, Politicos Increasingly Critical of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voters, newspapers and politicians are expressing growing disapproval of President Johnson's Vietnam war policy.

★ ★ ★

The Gallup Poll reports the recent wave of Vietcong attacks on cities in South Vietnam produced a sharp decline—to 41 per cent—in the number of people who say they approve of Johnson's performance.

★ ★ ★

"This marks one of the sharpest declines over a period of three to four weeks yet recorded for President Johnson," said Dr. George Gallup, "and it ends a three-month upward trend in his popularity rating."

Gallup reported Saturday that 49 per cent of those polled expressed disapproval of the President's performance while 10 per cent had no opinion.

NOW AMONG FOES

The Boston Globe, reporting results of its poll of 39 major U.S. papers, said seven metropolitan papers last year switched from general editorial endorsement of Johnson's war policy to criticism of military escalation.

★ ★ ★

It said four other dailies last year shifted editorially to a harder line on Vietnam. No paper polled advocated either an immediate pullout or an invasion of North Vietnam, the Globe said.

★ ★ ★

Nineteen papers generally supported the U.S. involvement but were critical of "the President's escalation and peace efforts," the Globe said.

More than 300 state and county Democratic party officials in California wired Johnson that his war policy is hurting the party in their state.

"In our judgment, the only action which can avert major Democratic party losses in this state in 1968 is an immediate all-out effort to secure a non-military settlement of the Vietnam war," the telegram said.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said the key to honorable disengagement by this country is neutralization of South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Gore, a member of the foreign relations committee and a war-policy critic, told an audience in Moscow, Idaho, that America's real self-interest lies in its relations with the Soviet Union and Red China, while the Vietnam war is worsening U.S. relations with those two powers.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., another war critic, was sharply criticized for proposing a compromise Vietnam settlement.

★ ★ ★

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., took particular issue with Kennedy's Feb. 8 speech in Chicago in which the New York senator termed the war unwinnable.

★ ★ ★

"Every time a man of the importance of Bobby Kennedy makes a 'no win' speech it bewilders our own people and encourages the Communists to believe the people back here are divided," Smathers declared in a statement. "I think that when that happens it is a disservice to the American soldier."

★ ★ ★

There was no comment from Kennedy.

'Sheriff' Stops Wrong Man

CHICAGO (AP) — Detective John Manley was driving an unmarked police car Sunday when an auto with flashing red lights and blaring siren pulled up behind him and signaled him to the curb.

★ ★ ★

Manley said the driver of the car, Edward J. Cooper of Chicago, got out and approached him flashing a gold Tennessee sheriff's badge.

★ ★ ★

"He told me he was a police officer," Manley said. "So I told him 'That's a coincidence, so am I.'"

★ ★ ★

Cooper, 35, was charged with impersonating an officer, simulating the legal process, driving a vehicle equipped with a siren and driving without Illinois license plates or a city sticker. He was released on $1,000 bond.

10,000 Marchers in Berlin Back Antiwar Plans

BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's militant New Left climaxed a weekend of demonstrations against U.S. involvement in Vietnam with adoption of a program to help the Communist war effort there by undermining American forces in Europe.

An estimated 10,000 youths waving Vietcong flags and red banners wound up a three-mile protest march Sunday with a rally in front of the West Berlin Opera House.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrators endorsed a program calling for antiwar demonstrations at U.S. military bases, increased material support for the Vietcong and a propaganda campaign to dissolve the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by 1969.

They also pledged themselves to encourage American servicemen at European bases to commit sabotage and to desert.

PORTENT OF TROUBLE

West Germany's Socialist Students Union launched the movement, which attracted youth groups from throughout Western Europe and the United States.

West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuetz was overruled by a city court in his attempt to ban the outdoor demonstration. He warned that the leftists' proven ability to rally huge protest groups portended trouble throughout West Germany.

The demonstration, Schuetz said in a television address, "had nothing to do with the Left or with Vietnam . . . Rather it was directed at bringing disorder to our cities and towns and insecurity to our communal life."

As they marched toward the opera house Sunday with banners waving, the demonstrators chanted "Ho-Ho-Ho Chi Minh" and "Americans Out of Berlin." They carried placards reading "Hey, Hey, LBJ, How many kids did you kill today?" Some bore pictures of Lenin and Ernesto Che Guevara, the late Cuban revolutionary.

Barred from marching on the U.S. Mission as planned, the demonstrators kept to their prescribed route. But a strong contingent of police stood near the mission.

There were scattered fist fights as the rally broke up and the marchers encountered counterdemonstrators who tore up their placards and red flags.

As night fell and the neon signs flickered along the Kurfuersten-damm, West Berlin's show street, about 500 persons joined a counterdemonstration on the broad boulevard.

They chanted "Down With the Wall," "Freedom for East Germans" and "Rather Dead than Red" as they moved to the U.S. Information Service's center to demonstrate their support for the U.S. war effort.

Insurance Firms to Sue State for Losses

LANSING (AP) — A pair of insurance firms hit hard by last July's rioting are attacking the long-held idea that the state may not be sued, hoping to force Michigan to repay their millions of dollars in losses.

The two have officially served notice on the State Court of Appeals that they intend to file 324 suits, seeking to recover from the state money they paid in claims arising from the Detroit upheaval.

Until the flood of riot claims, only about 440 cases had been filed with the court in the entire 26 years of its existence, notes Court Clerk Helen Kohler.

Some lawyers are privately skeptical that the courts will hold Detroit or Michigan liable for the riot damage.

"But the trouble with these things," said one attorney who declined to be identified, "is that you just never know until the cases have been argued and decided. You never can tell."

★ ★ ★

Unlikely or not, a finding that liability did exist could bring on an avalanche of litigation designed to recover most of the riot's insured loss — estimated by David Dykhouse, state insurance Commissioner, at about $32 million.

Some 225 notices of intent to sue, for amounts ranging from $6.22 to $92,500, have been filed with the Court of Claims by Fireman's Fund American Insurance Co. of Detroit.

Of the 225 notices, 157 contain damage estimates totaling $800,000. Estimates are not made in the other 68 filings.

Another 99 notices have been filed since Detroit's riot by Toplis & Harding, Inc., a Detroit firm of adjusters and surveyors. The firm's clients range from individual homeowners to the Hazel Park Racing Associatintion.

Only one of the 99 Toplis & Harding notices spells out a dollar amount. A spokesman for the company recently refused to say how much it had paid out in riot-damage claims.

Thus it is impossible to determine the total value of the suits the two firms say they intend to file. The total clearly would be more than $1.5 million.

And the success of any of the existing claims would likely leave the state in a position of liability for any future rioting.

Traditionally, governments have been safe from such civil actions under the old common law principle of "governmental immunity."

★ ★ ★

But, one lawyer noted, "the doctrine has been undercut by various decisions of courts around the country."

A 1964 state law makes Michigan liable for damages caused through its negligence in cases involving state highways or state vehicles, but makes no mention of damages arising from failure to protect property.

Each of the 225 notices filed by Fireman's Fund American alleges "the failure of the state of Michigan . . . whether by misfeasance or nonfeasance, action or inaction, to guard and protect the peace, dignity and property of its citizens' during the July rioting.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the two firms declined comment on the possible suits, as did the attorney general's office, which would defend the state in such litigation.

In addition to the two insurance companies, two firms and an individual riot victim also have served notice of intent to sue the state.

One was Hygrade Food Products Corp., which alleges "loss and damage to food products" in five Detroit locations. The other is Rose Jewelry Co. of Detroit, which claims riot damage.

Riot-area resident Gertha Gitchway also has filed intent to sue the city, state and federal governments for $25,000 damages suffered when shot while in her home by a national guardsman.

Profit-Sharing Plan, Perhaps?

ST. LOUIS (AP) — James Madison, 35, and Charles Crawford, 44, janitors for a St. Louis auto dealer, were arrested in Crawford's kitchen Sunday. Police said they had the boss's safe.

★ ★ ★

Crawford and Madison were booked on suspicion of burglary and stealing.

Acting on a tip, police visited Crawford's home and made the arrests. They said the safe, holding an undetermined amount of money, had not been opened although the combination dial had been removed.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Thomas E. Starzl, University of Colorado surgeon who successfully transplanted livers in children last year, will speak at the University of Michigan Medical School March 5. He will give the annual Phi Delta Epsilon lecture at 8 p.m. in the Medical Science Building.

Israel's Retaliation Against Jordan Predictable

News Analysis

By HAL McCLURE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV — Israel's punishing strike against Jordan last week came as the culmination of a classic pattern: Arab provocation over a long period, Israeli warnings and finally, explosion.

The Israelis hewed to the pattern when they launched a punitive raid against the Jordanian town of Samua, an alleged Arab command base, in November 1966. Again, last May, a similar warning to Damascus was the announced reason for Egyptian intervention and the resultant June war.

★ ★ ★

A week before last Thursday's clash, Israeli leaders had been telling Amman to put a halt to Arab commando raids against Israeli settlements and stop provoking cross-border gun battles, some of which were rigged to permit the saboteurs to escape back across the border.

"Carefully consider" your ways, was the way Prime Minister Levi Eshkol put it to Jordan's leaders.

NOTE FROM DAYAN

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan was just as explicit when he gave the chief U.N. cease-fire observer in the Middle East, Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, a message for Amman on Wednesday. He said the cease-fire ending the June war not only covered the borders but Israeli interior.

But that very night, Israeli border settlements in the sabotage-plagued Beisan Valley were hit again.

By Israeli reckoning it was the 91st "offensive act" along the border since June. The fight was on.

The Israelis called in tanks, artillery and aircraft to silence the Jordanian positions. A score of Jordanian targets, including Al Fatah commando bases, self-propelled gun positions and ammunition dumps were hit by Israeli planes ranging at will 10 miles inside Jordan.

JORDAN HAS ENOUGH

By 9:15 that night, the Jordanians had plainly had enough, counting 40 soldiers and civilians killed and another 127 wounded.

Because there were no U.N. observers on this border, the Jordanians asked for a cease-fire through the good offices of the U.S. Embassies in Amman and Tel Aviv.

The cease-fire went into effect again shortly before 11 p.m. after eight hours' fighting.

King Hussein toured the battle zone the next day and then went on Radio Amman to say he would try to keep the border quiet by preventing Arab guerrillas from striking into Israel.

HUSSEIN'S PROMISE

"As from today, I shall not allow anyone to supply the enemy with pretexts and justifications for aggression," he said.

"I shall not allow anything to occur in this land which does not conform with the higher Arab interest or which does not support Arab rights in Palestine."

★ ★ ★

Confusing the picture is the presence in Jordan—since last June—of several thousand Iraqi troops, who are not directly responsible to Hussein.

The Israelis say the Iraqis also have been training, supplying and transporting Arab guerrillas striking inside Israel.

Iraqi cooperation with Hussein is imperative if the sabotage raids are to stop and the border clashes end, the Israelis believe, but they wonder if the king is in a strong enough position to carry out his no-raid pledge.

The thought here is that Hussein's very future may well be in the balance in the days ahead.

★ ★ ★

If border clashes and raids continue, another battle—even bigger than the last one—could erupt.

Death on I-75

BOWLING GREEN Ohio (AP) — Thomas Tartt, 22, of Ecorse, Mich., was killed Sunday when his car was run off I-75 near Bowling Green by another auto going the wrong way. The Ohio Highway Patrol said a passenger in the car, Ruben Bell, 22, of Detroit, was injured. The identity of the other driver was not known, police said.

She Speaks from Experience

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Several weeks ago I read with special interest a letter in your column from the mother of a mentally retarded daughter. She applauded the wise decision on the part of the parents to institutionalize their retarded child when it became apparent that she could no longer be properly cared for at home.

Despite the progress being made in providing facilities in the community for the retarded, there still remains a continuing need for residential care. I bear this in mind when I consider with gratitude how fortunate we have been thus far that our own little granddaughter, who is a mongoloid child, has been able to live with her parents and sisters.

There is, of course, great heartache when a child must go to an institution. But sometimes it is the most courageous and intelligent choice.

★ ★ ★

Once a child has been placed in an institution it is important for the family to maintain an active interest in the quality of care that is provided there.

If it is not adequate, they should join with other families and concerned persons in seeking improvements.

This can be done most effectively through one's local association for the retarded. I know of no stronger voice to raise the quality of institutions which may be sadly below the standard of treatment and training that is possible.

Sincerely,
MURIEL HUMPHREY
(Mrs. Hubert H.)

Fashionscope Benefit Features '68 Look

One of the area's most interesting fashion shows is the annual "Fashionscope," presented by the J.L. Hudson Company and the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony.

★ ★ ★

The showings, Feb. 27 and 28, are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the downtown store, followed by tea in the Woodward Shops.

Proceeds go to the maintenance fund of the symphony.

NEW APPROACH

This year, a different stage concept has been evolved. A variation of the theatre-in-the-round idea, it will present models on platforms in the center of the auditorium space with the audience seated all around.

Madelyn Coe, Hudson's fashion coordinator, who will announce the show says "We're having the first real fashion change this spring since the chemise was born in 1957."

The angular look is out and in its place are gently shaped clothes that make a woman look like a woman.

All the feminine details like ruffles are back. There is variety in style, skirt length and fabrics.

The show has three chapters: the Shape, the Shirt and the Romantic Look — with clothes for day, play and evening.

Tickets for the Wednesday show are still available by contacting the symphony office located in Ford Auditorium.

The romantic revolution. . . all lace and ruffles by Kasper for Joan Leslie. Belted in satin at the waist and teamed with pointe d'espirit stockings and feminine evening slippers.

The regency poles . . . done here in grey with double breasted detailing and a half belt in back. Note again the curved-in seaming giving emphasis to the waistline, and the appropriate to-the-knee hem on this conservative wearer. Bi-color neutrals are carried through in the snap-brimmed fedora.

For Women Who Work

Edison Sponsors Annual Contest

Detroit Edison is accepting recipes for its seventh annual Queen of the Kitchen contest for women who work. According to Marion E. Ryan, head of the company's electric living division, contest dates this year are Feb. 15 through March 15 and finalists will be announced March 21.

From entries received, ten women will be chosen to take part in a cook-off on March 28, with each finalist receiving an electrical appliance.

★ ★ ★

The grand prize is a deluxe range and the 'Queen' will have her choice of top-of-the-line models of nationally-known manufacturers. A broiler-rotisserie, complete with shish-kebob attachment, will be awarded as second prize; and the third prize will be a ten-speed blender.

All finalists will be guests of the Edison Company at the gala Salute to Women Who Work banquet at Cobo Hall in Detroit on March 26.

CONTESTANTS

The contest is open to any girl or woman who is employed full-time and who lives within the boundaries of Edison's Southeastern Michigan service area. Each is invited to submit a recipe for a one-dish meal that can be cooked in an hour or less.

Professional home economists and cooks, and employes of Detroit Edison or members of their immediate families are not eligible.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ryan announced that the judges will be Kay Savage of the Detroit Free Press; Cyrilla Riley, Detroit News; and Edythe Fern Melrose, television's Lady of Charm, and said that contestants must be able to compete in the cook-off which will be held in Edison's Electric Living Kitchen in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Entries must include name, address, telephone number and place of employment, and should be sent to Edison's Electric Living Division, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226, before midnight, March 15. Local area Edison offices will also accept contest recipes.

Kenneth Jewell Chorale Is Excellent, but a Bit Profound

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

The 46 voice Kenneth Jewell Chorale presented a concert Saturday night at Pontiac Northern High School. Sponsored by the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs, the Chorale was heard by a large and appreciative audience.

With the skill of a master of his art, Kenneth Jewell conducted his group of professional singers through a program, mostly religious, of difficult and taxing music, most of it unaccompanied.

★ ★ ★

Rarely does one hear a chorus with the magnificent blend of voices, balance of tone, oneness of spirit and sensitivity that the Chorale generates. With the possible exception of the Robert Shaw Chorale, there is no finer group to be heard anywhere.

Two 17th century Motets, one by Schutz and the other by Johann Sebastian Bach, opened the program. They projected the clarity, perfect phrasing, difficult part singing and long sustained notes characteristic of the Baroque Period, with understanding and immaculate attention to every minute detail.

CONTEMPORARY PIECE

On a more emotional level were the Tschesnokoff "Motet," a contemporary motet by Poulenc, and secular compositions by Barber and Vaughn Williams.

Particularly noteworthy were two of the three "Reincarnations" by Barber, "Anthony O'Daly," a moving expression of grief over the death of a man, and "The Collin," a pure and rarified mood picture of a love song.

Vaughn Williams' cantata, "In Windsor Forest", is a present day reflection on life in Shakespeare's day with modern refinements in harmony.

Carolyn Grimes, soprano, and Elsie Inselman, alto, were heard in fleeting solos, and accompaniment, where called for, was provided by Dalos Grabe, a member of the bass section.

Anton Bruckner's "Mass in E Minor", a considerable, portion of the program, is a long, belabored and unrewarding work.

Although it was certainly well performed, and many long hours must of have gone into its very musical performance, it is not a particularly good composition, with its many undeveloped themes, involved ideas which go nowhere, and generally cumbersome musicality.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps one of its six lengthy sections would have been sufficient, with the remaining time devoted to music of a lighter and more palatable quality.

Kenneth Jewell is an outstanding choral conductor, and he has hand picked a remarkably fine and devoted organization. His audiences, I think, would appreciate a balance in programming with a little less erudition and a little more of the lightness and lyric quality which they do so well.

Must Prove Grandma Is a Dependent

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I live with my grandmother and pay the bills. I would like to claim her as an exemption on my 1967 income tax return. She receives Social Security and a widow's pension from the Veterans Administration. Both checks are small. Her total monthly income is $104.

MARY FEELEY

If I claim her as an exemption, would either of these checks be affected in any way?

S. B., Woodside, N.Y.

Dear S.B.:

No, the checks would continue as is. But whether you can give satisfactory proof to the Internal Revenue Service that your grandmother is your dependent is up to the tax collectors.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Can one start a home business and pay Social Security tax as self-employed, even though the business is operated at a loss?

As a state employe, my retirement pay would be only $11 a week at age 65, and I was thinking of doing part-time typing at home. Is this acceptable as self-employment?

R.H.G., South Windham, Maine

Dear R.H.G.:

In order to cover yourself under Social Security, you must make as much as $400 net profit in a year. Otherwise, your home business doesn't entitle you to pay toward Social Security benefits.

Dear Mary Feeley:

I've contributed a substantial sum to a charitable group in a foreign country during the past year. Am I allowed to deduct this amount, along with my regular charitable donations in this country? I can show proof that the money was received and for what purpose. Please advise me.

Mrs. R.C.L., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Dear Mrs. L.:

The quick answer is No — unless the charity you speak of is based in this country and contributions are distributed abroad from here.

However, if you have reason to feel the particular circumstances justify further inquiry, you can write to the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D.C., for Publication 78. This is a list of all organizations, foreign and domestic, for which contributions can properly be claimed as charitable deductions on your federal income tax return. Or write to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D.C. 20224, Attention T:R: EO.

Dear Miss Feeley:

We are interested in buying a house and taking over the existing VA mortgage. This would be a break for us, since the mortgage was granted in 1959, at four and three-fourths per cent interest rate.

However, my husband is not a veteran, and we're wondering if this would affect the situation as far as the interest is concerned. Can you tell me?

Mrs. H.H., Portland, Oregon

Dear Mrs. H.:

Your husband doesn't have to be a veteran in order to take over the existing VA mortgage. And the interest would remain at four and three-fourths per cent — which is certainly a more attractive figure than today's six per cent for a VA mortgage.

But keep in mind that the interest isn't all that's to be considered. How high is the down payment? Also, the amount of interest involved in the monthly payment decreases as the time period of the mortgage shortens. However, you can usually expect much lower closing costs than if you start fresh with a new mortgage.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bailey of Milford announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Carol, to Gary Leigh Johnson. He is the son of Mrs. Kenneth L. Johnson of Highland Park and the late Mr. Johnson. A late May wedding is slated.

The Ohio State University extension service says a family usually spends between $15,000 and $27,000 to provide adequately for one child form birth to age 18.

Bentleys Go to Colorado on Ski Trip

On a skiing trip to Aspen, Colo., are newlyweds, the Ronald Cecil Bentleys, nee Judy Ann Weaver.

The daughter of the Fenton S. Weavers of North Holcomb street, Independence Township and the son of the Ralph E. Bentleys of Rochdale Street, Avon Township, spoke vows Saturday in First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

For the early evening ceremony, the bride wore an A-line silhouette of candlelight satin.

A Chantilly lace panel, frosted with seed pearls highlighted the gown from the bateau neckline to the hem.

LACE MEDALLIONS

Matching lace medallions were repeated on her full court train and petalled headpiece, which secured a bouffant veil.

★ ★ ★

Carrying a cascade of white roses and Stephanotis, the bride was attended by her sister, Jane, as maid of honor with Mrs. Gerald Urick as bridesmaid.

★ ★ ★

Best man honors were performed by the bridegroom's brother, Gerald, with Arthur J. Bentley and Jack E. Weaver ushering.

★ ★ ★

Prior to their wedding trip departure, the newlyweds were honored at the Holiday Inn.

New Velvets 'Queen It' for Gala Mood

NEW YORK (NEA) — Velvet does something for you. It doesn't just cover your figure. It casts an aura of rich elegance. It puts you in a dress-up mood.

★ ★ ★

Many of the velvet-dressed women this season will reflect the influence of medieval fashions reconstructed for the film "Camelot."

★ ★ ★

The opulence of the Middle Ages is interpreted at its romantic best by rich-textured boulevard velvets. There are long-sleeves, flowing gowns of classic simplicity, formals lavished with jewel embroidery on bodice or cuffs, hooded monk's robes and demure streaks of velvet touched with ruffles and bows.

★ ★ ★

There are also exciting and unexpected shirt-type dinner dresses with white satin collars and cuffs. Short, off-side buttoned cocktail coats and elegant theater costumes are important on the gay holiday scene, too.

NEW SURFACE

Although black velvet is still one of the greatest favorites, colors in deep, bright and pale tones also star in the picture. The new shadovel matte velvet produces colors in a new medium, with a closely loomed surface that eliminates any hard sheen.

★ ★ ★

The new boulevard velvets have both crush-and-spot resistant finishes and require only a minimum of upkeep and care. To refresh the surface, just hang the dress over a steaming tub for 30 minutes and brush upward when thoroughly dry.

Brainstorm of Cook County Sheriff

Riot-Posse Plan Stirs Big Response

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse James' career as an outlaw would have been short-lived if the settlers of the Old West responded to posse calls as Chicago area residents have.

Sheriff Joseph Woods of Cook County received more than a thousand applications and an equal number of telephone inquiries within a few days after his Feb. 12 call for a 1,000-man riot control unit to be used in case of civil disorders this summer.

As in the Old West, posse members will supply their own handguns and will draw no pay.

The first batch of volunteers included the president of an airplane company, two attorneys, a hospital therapist, a security guard, a utility company executive, a dining car porter, a systems analyst and an official of Pinkerton's, Inc., the private detective agency.

'I AM READY'

One man wrote, "I am 54 years of age. I know when the chips are down and America has to be defended, by God, I am ready."

A dining car porter said, "I am a Negro American. I don't think riots will help in any way. The only way is law and order."

★ ★ ★

The sheriff wants his unit to be biracial—500 Negro and 500 white volunteers. The first week's figures indicated white volunteers outnumbered Negro volunteers 4-to-1.

Earl Latham, a Negro security guard, said, "the squad is a good idea if members keep their temper and cool."

AUTOMATIC REJECTIONS

Applications from persons under 21, those with police records or physical disabilities, and persons without jobs are automatically rejected.

Three hundred persons tentatively accepted last week will meet with Woods tonight.

"Not one man will become a deputy until he has passed all the tests and gone through a riot training program of 40 to 60 hours," Woods stressed.

The sheriff said that during the training starting March 1, Negro sergeants would swing bats at white trainees and vice versa.

PHYCHOLOGICAL TESTS

"Part of the training," he said, "is to subject a man to insults and humiliation to a reasonable extreme. If he gets angry, out he goes."

"We are going to have psychological tests to help filter out sadists and kooks," he said.

Of the first 51 volunteers, 21 were turned down. One man's application was rejected when he remarked, "The colored have gone too far. We need something like this to stop them in their tracks."

When Woods' plan was announced Feb. 12, the sheriff was reported to have said the unit was being formed to quell threatened demonstrations and riots during the Democratic National Convention in August.

CRITICIZED PLAN

Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat, then criticized the plan as dangerous and said, "We don't want that in Chicago."

But Woods, a Republican, said Sunday, "I have never said I would come into the city of Chicago." He said he lacked manpower for such a move.

Harry Leviton has filed suit on "behalf of the people of Illinois" to stop formation of the posse on grounds it is illegal.

Woods said he believed it is based on an 1874 Illinois law but asked State's Atty. John Stamos for an opinion.

If Stamos "tells me this plan would put Cook County in an untenable position," the sheriff said, "I would drop it."

Regional Approach to Sewage Is Cited

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan is in the fore of a new government approach to handling the age-old problem of disposing of human and industrial wastes.

Instead of each town and city handling its own sewage problems, emphasis is changing toward vast centralized systems that would handle the wastes of scores of communities.

The target in initial steps toward regional waste treatment is Detroit and southeastern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration office in Grosse Ile near Detroit are recommending, as the result of an intensive study, that the U.S. government put much of its money into centralized systems.

This is a sharp change from the practice of governments granting individual sums to hundreds of communities.

NO EXCLUSION

"We don't say the only money you can get is for a regional system," said Laurence B. O'Leary, director of the Detroit district of the Pollution Control Administration.

"However, if there is a regional system set up, we wouldn't be very likely to give out funds for an individual community that wouldn't cooperate with the regional system."

★ ★ ★

Detroit, currently serving 54 communities with a primary sewage treatment plant, is preparing to construct a $72 million secondary treatment plant in 1970.

The plant is designed to serve a large region outside the city limits.

O'Leary said officials of many smaller communities have objected to the regional waste treatment concept, "particularly if they have a large amount of money invested locally."

★ ★ ★

Municipalities in the state are spending $19.12 million in the 1967-68 fiscal year for sewage treatment facilities, the Michigan Water Resources Commission said.

★ ★ ★

The recommendations in the study from O'Leary's office have yet to be acted upon by officials in the U.S. Department of the Interior. But O'Leary said his report is a "plan for the future" in which he expects most of the recommendations to be adopted.

He says advantages of a regional system include employment of expert staffs to maintain top efficiency, larger and more modern facilities and emptying of the treated sewage into larger bodies of water.

★ ★ ★

In areas near many small communities, "the rivers are very small and their capacity for waste assimilation is limited," he said.

★ ★ ★

He also said smaller communities often can't afford staffs of experts to run their treatment facilities.

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

New Bridal Registry

C. R. Haskill

Thanks to a new and unique photographic registry service initiated this week by C. R. Haskill Studios, many brides and brides-to-be will now be able to have their complete wedding photographed and albums given to them as wedding presents.

How often it has been said, "I'm not having wedding photos taken, it's beyond us right now." Yet, the very thing the young bride forsakes in the beginning is the one thing that remains forever, bringing memories of that wonderful day each time photographs are viewed.

Now through "Wedding Photography Registry" a prospective bride can call C. R. Haskill Studios on University Drive in Pontiac and engage a photographer to cover the wedding day festivities. At the same time, she can select the style of wedding photography she prefers — Natural color; the album; wall - hung paintings; frames, etc.

As a gift, C. R. Haskill provides each of his brides a Wedding Guest Book, a portrait for the newspaper free and even rice conveniently packaged for the guests to throw at the happy couple when leaving the church.

Mr. Haskill has also available at special discount prices, invitations and napkins and often quips, "We supply everything but the Bridegroom!"

Why not call C. R. Haskill Studio now at 334-0553 and reserve your wedding date, or stop in at 1 University Drive, Pontiac.

Panel Hopes Riot Report Will Jolt U. S.

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — In a sma'l red-carpeted room just off the Senate chamber, 10 men and a woman meet several times each week and toil in secret over a document which they fervently hope will sock the American people squarely between the eyes.

* * *

Taking their seats around a long table covered with a white linen cloth, members of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders revise, and revise again, drafts of a report, a one-two-three punch.

* * *

What will the report say? That won't be known, officially, until about March 1 when the commission reports to President Johnson on its investigation of last summer's riots.

But it has been learned that the report will cover:

1. What happened in Newark, Detroit and other cities. This section will describe the riots in graphic details, from the incidents that triggered them to the ashes and grief they produced.

2. Why the riots occurred. This section will examine the obvious and not-so-obvious reasons. The commission will conclude that the root causes are poverty, frustration, bitterness and hostility of slum dwellers.

3. What can be done to prevent riots. This section will tread on some bureaucratic toes by criticizing government programs which, the panel contends, haven't worked. There will be a recommendation for expansion of other programs, including a massive effort to get jobs, better education and decent housing for Negroes who live in urban slums.

NATIONAL CRISIS

One member said the commission believes it must jolt the public into realizing that the nation faces a crisis. For this reason, he said, the tone of the report will be dramatic, sharp—even harsh.

"Attitudes will have to change," the member said. Another added: "We can't keep on with business as usual. We all have to understand that this is a crisis."

* * *

"The report," says Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

In the seven months since their appointment by President Johnson, commission members have walked the streets of riot-scarred neighborhoods and talked with slum residents, governors, mayors, police chiefs, generals, social workers, employment experts and Negro leaders of all persuasions, from old-line moderates to advocates of Black Power.

TOO SENSITIVE

Some of the testimony received by the commission is so sensitive that it will be locked up in the National Archives for an undisclosed period.

Commission members are chary of publicly discussing what takes place behind the thick wooden doors of their Capitol meeting room. Still, broad outlines of the report are emerging.

News Analysis

Commission investigators report there was agitation before and during the riots, but say they have uncovered no firm evidence that the disorders were planned. "As far as we can tell," one officials said, "all broke out spontaneously."

In each case, an incident involving policemen provided the spark. In Newark it was the arrest of a Negro taxi driver. In Detroit it was a raid on an after-hours night spot.

FOCAL POINT

"The policeman is the focal point of a lot of resentment in these ghettos," a commission source said. "He is the only element of the white society that many of the people come in contact with. He has a difficult job."

With this in mind, the panel is expected to call for better training and better salaries for policemen. "But most important," one member said, "we are going to have to recruit more Negro policemen."

* * *

In addition, the commission will urge steps toward improving relations between city hall and the slums, and may recommend creation of police review boards composed of civilians.

Referring to mayors and other city officials, one commission source said, "A lot of these guys are not quite aware of what's happened to their cities."

'DIALOGUE NEEDED'

"We need to open up a dialogue between the city establishment and the ghetto dwellers who now are often completely isolated," said another.

Shortly after its creation last July 29, the commission called for an increase in the number of Negroes in the National Guard and for improvements in the Guard's riot control training. In its final report, the Guard probably will receive more lumps for its performance in trying to quell the riots.

* *

This was indicated last week when New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, commission vice chairman, said in a speech that the panel "found that the National Guard won no medals in those cities where it was called into burning ghettos.

"The guardsmen were undertrained and perhaps overequipped," said Lindsay. "By and large they were unsympathetic to the Negroes of the cities. The record is filled with charges that the guardsmen were unreliable, trigger-happy and ineffective in dealing with mobs in the streets."

Sources said the commission is considering recommending creation of a specially trained federal force to deal with riots. In this connection, they said, some questions have been raised, including whether the force should be a civilian or military unit and at what point it would step in to combat rioters.

Following this disclosure, military officials talked freely of preparations the National Guard and Army have taken for possible riot duty this summer. These include the stockpiling of riot-control equipment in strategic locations, ready for rapid airlift to any city struck by disorder.

* * *

One of the commission's major recommendations is said to center on jobs. "This is most important," one official said.

The employment program could involve action to open up thousands of jobs this summer, he said, plus longer-term projects to equip slum residents with job skills.

TAX INCENTIVES

Tax incentives also may be sought for industries that locate in poverty-stricken areas and hire Negroes and other poor persons.

* * *

Sources report that one draft proposal considered by the commission outlined a comprehensive $3-billion effort next year to provide jobs.

* * *

It also is anticipated that the commission will recommend a massive move to upgrade education in the slums. The panel will point out, one source said, that per-pupil expenditure in the nation's white suburban schools are about double the figure for those in city slums.

One commission member, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., has termed slum schools "almost criminally ineffective."

'NO CHANCE'

"I think we are systematically turning out young people who have no chance of getting jobs because of the inferior education they have received," he said in an interview.

* * *

Some government housing programs may come under sharp criticism.

* * *

One member, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., told a home-state audience last week he troubled by "the inept performance of some federal agencies which ought to be playing a larger role in the campaign to make our cities fit places to live and work."

Aid to Parochial Schools Keeps Legislators Occupied

LANSING (UPI) — The question of state aid for parochial schools will go before the State Legislature next week. But the bill occupied the time and attention of most legislators last week.

A highly organized letter-writing campaign flooded legislative offices. As the flow of letters urging state aid for parochial schools approached the 100,000 mark, Gov. George Romney ordered his staff not to try to answer all the mail, as state policy dictates.

Reps. Thomas L. Brown, R-Lansing and J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, plan to introduce a bill in the House next week that calls for state grants to parents of children who attend parochial schools. A similar plan is to go before the Senate.

Organizations leading the "mail-in" are the Michigan Association of Nonpublic schools and Citizens for Educational Freedom.

* * *

OTHER LEGISLATION

While the "Parochial" bill shone in the spotlight, other major legislation routinely moved through committee channels. Court reorganization, revised property tax exemptions for disabled veterans and the session's first antiriot law all moved toward passage.

But the chairman of the committee that is considering open housing told Romney that his committee would keep the bill in storage until antiriome and antiriot bills get at least debated.

During the week, the Legislature passed bills to repeal the chain store tax that reaps $700,000 a year; to provide identification cards for those over 18 who don't drive; and to authorize $1.6 million in additional spending this year for building projects.

* * *

Introduced were measures to amend the Constitution to allow state sweepstakes and church-sponsored bingo games; to elevate the liquor control department to a full state department; to provide state scholarships for college athletes; to set a 50-cent county tax on rats; and to earmark $14 million for township road building.

Travels by legislators to Florida and Texas last year kicked off another furor over out-of-state trips.

And the Romney for President organization paid back the state $906.37 for a cocktail party thrown in San Francisco last November. The bill had "mistakenly" been paid by the Michigan Senate. American Airlines picked up the balance of the bill.

Dead GI Mourned by Three Rivers

THREE RIVERS (UPI) — Mayor Ralph B. Vandenberg has proclaimed today Homer A. Runle Jr., Day in Three Rivers and asked residents to fly their flags at half staff.

Spec. 5 Ruple, 29, was killed by enemy snipers in Saigon. He had been in the U. S. Army for 12 years and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Ruple. Funeral service will be held for the soldier this afternoon.

CHRISTENING DAY—Comedian Jerry Lewis and his wife Patti (center) stand with their family yesterday after the Lewis' granddaughter, Sara Jane, was christened at St. Paul the Apostle Catholic Church in Westwood, a Los Angeles suburb. From left are Gary Lewis and his wife, the former Philippines beauty queen Sara Jane Suzara; Mrs. Jerry Lewis; Jerry; and Mrs. Andres Suzara, mother of Gary's wife.

By The Associated Press

"Think Pink" was one of the comedian Jerry Lewis' favorite songs. But it never quite worked out that way. He ended up with six sons. But one of those sons thought pink.

Grandpa Lewis, his wife, Patti, and their son and daughter-in-law, Gary and Sara Jane (Suzara) Lewis, gathered at St. Paul the Apostle Church in the Los Angeles suburb of Westwood yesterday for the christening of the younger Lewis' first child, a daughter.

Gary married the former Philippines beauty queen last March 11 in the same church.

The baby is named after her mother. Gary, whose mother is Catholic and father Jewish, has converted to Catholicism.

Chevalier Mobbed at 'Farewell' Appearance

CHEVALIER

Maurice Chevalier was mobbed last night by well-wishers after his "farewell" appearance at the London Palladium.

Hundreds of fans stormed the stage to wish the 79-year-old trouper well. Most of those who dashed up to shake his hand were middle-aged and elderly.

Chevalier wowed them with his theme song "Louise" and his more recent hit, "Thank Heaven for Little Girls." He closed with "There's No Business Like Show Business."

He now leaves on his "au revoir" tour for Cardiff, Glasgow, and Coventry.

Only Male in Home Economics Not Perturbed

Peter M. Stegmayer is the first and only male among 400 women at the University of Georgia's school of home economics, but he isn't perturbed.

Stegmayer, 21, said, "Ever since I can remember I've been interested in foods, restaurants and the like. I came from a large family—seven boys and no girls—and I've always helped out a lot in the kitchen.

"Some of the guys rib me about it, but it doesn't bother me," Stegmayer added.

Stegmayer is a native New Yorker. He transferred to the university from Cobleskill Junior College near Albany, N.Y., where he took courses in foods and hotel management.

As for being a chef, Stegmayer said, "You can work anywhere in the world, and there's a big shortage of professionals in the field, especially men.

PEANUT COOKIES

... old fashioned flavor for today's good eating.

Peanuts and peanut products have long been a flavor favorite for cookies. Be they home made or commercially baked, peanut cookies today seem to represent the best in old fashioned American baking traditions.

Here we've collected five choice cooky recipies, each distinctively different, yet carrying that good peanut flavor. Salted peanuts, peanut butter, peanut candy and peanut oil bring their unique taste and texture characteristics to these cookies.

In spite of the old fashioned heritage, today's peanuts are as modern and up-to-date as the United States peanut industry can make them. And new products appear frequently to add to your eating and cooking pleasure. For example, do you recall that it was only a few years ago when you ate your first salted in the shell peanut? And did you know that a peanut with fewer calories has been developed recently ... one from which about half the natural oil has been removed?

Peanut butter has had some changes too. First came the homogenized (non-separating) product, today's creamy peanut butter. Then peanut chunks were added to make a companion product which appeals to many. Now peanut butter blended with crisp bacon-flavored bits or with jelly is available.

A real boon to good cooks is the more bland peanut oil now on the market. It's so versatile it is equally usable for salads, baking and especially deep-frying, where its high smoke point makes it particularly desirable.

You can bring some of the up-to-date, old fashioned flavor into your home today, with the cooky recipes below. So, start baking!

These man-sized cookies are hearty enough for the lunch box, yet elegant, too, with their slightly chewy texture chock full of salted peanuts and moist coconut.

PEANUT COCONUT COOKIES

1-1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine, soft
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped peanuts
1 cup flaked coconut

Sift together dry ingredients. Stir in sugars. Add butter or margarine, egg and vanilla and stir until well mixed. Blend in peanuts and coconut. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cooky sheets. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Fancied-up cereal cookies delicately flavored with peanut butter and frosted with chocolate — the quickest ever to make since they require no baking.

FROSTED PEANUT BUTTER CRISPIES

5 cups chocolate-flavored crisp rice cereal
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup peanut butter
1/4 pound marshmallows (18 to 20)
5 one-ounce milk chocolate bars

Pour cereal into large bowl. Melt butter or margarine, peanut butter and marshmallows in top of double boiler over boiling water. Stir until well blended. Pour peanut butter mixture over cereal and stir with spoon or mix with greased hands until cereal is evenly coated. Pack firmly into greased 9-inch square pan. Lay chocolate bars over top in single layer. Place in moderate oven about 2 minutes until chocolate is melted. Remove from oven and spread to form frosting. Cool at room temperature or in refrigerator until chocolate is set. Cut into squares.

Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Crisp midget meringues studded with bits of chocolate and peanuts are pretty enough for company, but the family may get there first. Surprisingly low calorie, too!

CHOCO-NUT CLOUDS

4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped chocolate-covered peanuts

Place egg whites, vinegar, vanilla and salt in bowl. Beat until soft peaks or mounds can be formed. Add sugar very gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture is glossy and stiff peaks can be formed. Lightly fold in chopped chocolate covered peanuts. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto paper-lined baking sheets. Bake in a very slow oven (275°F.) about 30 minutes, or until crisp, dry and lightly browned. Cool a few minutes, then remove from paper. (Since these cookies are really "dried out" as much as baked, you may place them in a preheated oven, turn off the heat, and leave the cookies to "bake" overnight, if you wish.)

Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Miniature cupcakes, marbled with peanut brittle and sporting cherry toppers to brighten your tea table or dessert service.

PEANUT BRITTLE CUPS

Topping:
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup crushed peanut brittle
12 maraschino cherries, quartered

Batter:
1-1/4 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup peanut oil
1/2 cup water
2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup finely crushed peanut brittle

Prepare tiny (1-inch diameter) cupcake pans with topping before making batter. Measure small dab (about 1/4 teaspoon) butter or margarine into each cup and place pans in oven a few seconds to melt butter. Remove from oven and place in each cup 1/4 teaspoon peanut brittle and 1/4 maraschino cherry. For batter, sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in center of dry ingredients and add oil, then water, egg yolks and vanilla. Beat with spoon until smooth. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff and glossy. Fold into batter. Fold in peanut brittle. Spoon into prepared pans. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) about 18 to 20 minutes, or until delicately browned. Remove from pans at once by loosening edges with sharp knife then inverting pan quickly over wire rack.

Makes 4 dozen cookies.

These delicate little cooky roll-ups are definitely in the party class: rich, with an almost candy-like crispness, and intriguing to the eye.

PEANUT LACE ROLL-UPS

1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup finely chopped, salted peanuts

Sift together dry ingredients. Add remaining ingredients and stir until well mixed. Drop by small teaspoonfuls onto greased and floured cooky sheets, at least 3-inches apart and no more than six cookies to a sheet. Bake one sheet at a time in a moderate oven (375°F.) 6 to 8 minutes, or until bubbly in center and brown around edge. Remove from oven and cool about 1 minute on cooky sheet. Then working very quickly, remove one cooky at a time and roll top side out around a wooden spoon handle or similar implement. Cool on handle until set, then remove to wire rack. If cookies get too firm to roll up easily, return cooky sheet to oven for about 30 seconds.

Makes about 2-1/2 dozen cookies.

French, Austrians at Odds

Spirit of Harmony Missing as Winter Olympic Games Close

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — So ends another Olympic Games, the great sports festival dedicated to the fostering of brotherhood and good will among athletes of all nations.

Karl Schranz of Austria contends he got jobbed out of the gold medal in the men's special slalom so that Jean-Claude Killy of France could complete his skiing grand slam. In Brooklyn, they call it home-cooking.

French and Austrian newsmen almost come to blows in a shouting, shoving post-Games press conference, and the British joined the melee, attracting this biting order from a French press officer: "De Gaulle kept you out of the Common Market, and now you can get out, too."

At Autrans, a Finnish long-distance skier socks a gendarme over the head with a ski and at Chamrousse the tough CRS men — France's security police — get even by almost cracking a few arms in their protection of skier Killy.

At Alpe d'Huez, some rabbit-furred Olympic hostesses are fired for carrying good will too far with the athletes, and the bobsledders threaten to strike unless one favorite bunny is restored. She quickly is.

"Without regard for politics, religion, race, color or creed," says the Olympic code.

CAPITALISTIC TRICK

Women athletes of Communist East Germany are disqualified for allegedly heating the metal runners of their sleds in the luge. The East Germans call it a dastardly, capitalistic trick.

The Russians call a press conference to blast the American role in Vietnam and to enunciate their own credo: "Peace and love for the world."

Racially-segregated South Africa is readmitted to the Olympic movement and automatically black African nations begin pulling out of the Summer Games in Mexico City. The Soviet Union, blasting the IOC action, threatens to do the same.

Athletes object strenuously to the mandatory sex and dope tests. "You can't even take a birth control pill," complains a pretty French Alpine skier. "What do they think we are — HORSES?" adds Gertrude Gabl, the Austrian skier.

North Koreans pull out of the Games before they start because they don't want to be a direction. They resent the designation "North."

"Harmony among nations, and sport for sport's sake," they tell us.

Avery Brundage, the IOC president, blasts the International Ski Federation for double-crossing him at the last minute and voting to permit commercial markings on skis.

No one sees Brundage present a medal to an Alpine skier. A French newspaper says the IOC executive showed his displeasure of overcommercialism in the sport by snubbing Killy, the French hero, at a swank reception.

Some disgruntled observers start screaming for Brundage's scalp and the militant, 80-year-old Olympic head replies, "I am still in the driver's seat — I won't resign."

★ ★ ★

On the figure-skating rink, judges continue to show bias in their markings, the Communist countries downgrading the West and Western judges downgrading the East.

Athletes of the same political conviction continue to eat together and play together — in segregated clusters.

And one windy night in the midst of the Games, a gust blows out the eternal Olympic flame. Is it an omen?

Norway's Athletes Star in Winter Show

GRENOBLE, France (UPI) — Russia was the flop of the 10th Winter Olympic Games and Norway took full advantage of it to regain world supremacy on ice and snow.

★ ★ ★

Super-skier Jean-Claude Killy of France became the only triple gold medal winner of the games—as millions of Frenchmen had predicted—and the United States did about as well as expected with seven medals despite a jinx that haunted America's top skiers all the way.

★ ★ ★

Russia's Valdimire Beloussov came through wtih a stunning upset in the 90-meter ski jump that closed the 13-day event Sunday but by then the once-powerful Soviet team already had lost the medal race it dominated since entering the competition in 1956.

Norway, all-time Winter Olympic leader, piled up six gold, six silver and two bronze medals against second-place Russia's five gold, five silver and three bronze.

That was far off Russia's landslide at Innsbruck, Austria, four years ago when the Soviets amassed 25 medals including 11 gold.

RUSSIANS GAMBLED

The conservative Russian coaches gambled on tested veterans rather than newcomers and it was a risk they lost except in hockey. Lydia Skoblikova, who swept all four women's speed skate events at Innsbruck, was one of the losing veterans.

Lydia became a mother between Olympics. She finished out of the medal-running in the two events she entered at Grenoble.

The U.S., shut out in ski events, nevertheless managed to collect one more medal than it had at Innsbruck with elegant figure skate queen Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., scoring the lone gold medal triumph.

★ ★ ★

Tim Wood, 19-year-old son of a Bloomfield Hills surgeon, won a silver medal in men's figure skating and tough Terry McDermott, only American gold medal winner in 1964 and now 27 years old, came out of retirement to share a silver medal in men's 500 meters speed skating.

Mary Meyers of St. Paul, Minn., Jenny Fish of Strongville, Ohio, and 16-year-old Dianne Holum of Northbrook, Ill., added silver medals in an unprecedented triple tie for second place in the women's 500 and Dianne added a bronze in the 1,000 meters.

Beloussov romped off with Russia's first ski jumping medal in history at St. Nizier Sunday before a throng of 20,000 with two almost perfect jumps for a gold medal total of 231.3 points.

★ ★ ★

He cracked the hill record on his first jump of 333 feet, .06 inches. Then the run-in on the hill was shortened as a safety precaution and he followed with 321 feet, 7¾ inches.

SILVER AWARD

Jiri Raska of Czechoslovakia, who won the gold medal on the 70-meter hill a week earlier, collected the silver medal with 229.4 points and Lars Grini of Norway was third at 214.3 while Norway's world champion, Bjoern Wirkola, was a poor 24th.

★ ★ ★

Best of four U.S. jumpers was Bill Bakke of Madison, Wis., 34th with a score of 175.5 and a best flight of 297 feet.

Yank Track Stars Romp in Russian Invitational

MOSCOW (AP) — Maybe it was the vodka he gargled—but didn't swallow—to cure a sore throat Saturday night.

Whatever it was, Martin McGrady shook off sickness and lack of sleep Sunday to win the 400-meter race and help give America a total of six victories in eight events at a 10-nation indoor invitational track meet here.

McGrady, 21, of Akron, Ohio, was one of a number of U.S. athletes in the weekend meet who overcame problems to turn in an outstanding performance, including breaking two world records.

The six Americans competed against athletes from the Soviet Union, Hungary, Romania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Norway and Canada.

Bill Gaines, a 19-year-old high school student from Millica, N.J., was hindered by a lack of sleep, improper diet and lackluster Soviet competition.

But that didn't stop him from sprinting to a world record of 5.4 seconds in the 50-meter dash.

UNEVEN TRACK

Pretty Barbara Ferrell, 20, a Chicagoan at Los Angeles' California State College, had trouble with the uneven wooden track and confusion over the starter's gun, but left it all behind with a world record of 6.0 seconds in the women's 50 meters.

McGrady, a junior at San Jose State College and holder of the world 600-yard record at 1:09, was all style as he breezed to victory in the 400-meter event in 48.2 seconds.

He came in second in the 800meter event, but team manager Heliodoro Rico of Tarrytown, N.Y., says he displayed a "great time" of 1:51.2 considering he ring he had never competed in that event before.

John Mason, 22, a senior at Fort Hayes, Kan., State University, kept power in reserve in the 1500-meter run and turned it on in a spectacular final sprint to win with a time of 3:47.5.

Dave Maggard, 28, a 6-foot-3 inch physical education teacher from Mount View, Calif., won the shot put event with a throw of 62 feet 4¾ inches.

Jane Burnett, a 17-year-old high schooler from Chevy Chase, Md., gave the Americans another first prize with her time of 56.1 in the 400-meter run.

State Keglers Gain High Positions in First ABC Weekend

CINCINNATI (AP) — Harvey Haan of Marshall led five other Michigan bowlers by ranking fourth in two out of three events at the end of the first weekend of action in the American Bowling Congress championships.

★ ★ ★

Haan with a 1762 led John Basinski of Birmingham, ranked sixth with a 1746, Dick Hoid of Monroe, seventh with a 1737, and George Siwik of Kalamazoo, eighth with a 1730, in the regular all events standings.

★ ★ ★

In the regular standings, Haan with a 623 led Lorean Teall, fifth with a 616, and Wayne Allen of Kalamazoo, ninth with a 608.

In the regular doubles event, Siwik paired up with Art Krog of Kalamazoo to rank fourth with a 1196 score.

Michigan Girls Fare Well in Ski Event

CLOQUET, Minn. (AP) — Michigan girls did better than the boys in the second annual National Jay Cee Junior Ski Championships at Pine Valley, near here over the weekend.

The girls finished second behind Nevada in team standings. Gail Procarelli was third in the junior girls giant slalom and Ingrid Gallo was third in the prop girls slalom. Both events were Saturday.

Michigan boys finished out of the rankings in team standings.

Two Chicago Skaters Score 3 Goals Each

By The Associated Press

Helmeted Stan Mikita and bare-headed Ken Wharram each scored the three-goal hat trick but it was no trick compared to the acrobatics Doug Favell went through.

Mikita and Wharram, two-thirds of Chicago's dynamic Scooter Line, riddled Detroit's Roger Crozier as the Black Hawks hammered the Red Wings 7-1 Sunday.

Favell kicked out 42 shots and went a round or so with rough Reg Fleming as Philadelphia bowed to New York 3-1. In Sunday's only other National Hockey League game, Boston outlasted Los Angeles 6-5.

On Saturday, New York edged Toronto 3-2, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, Oakland dropped Boston 3-1 Chicago battered Detroit 7-4 and St. Louis tied Minnesota 2-2.

Mikita, Wharram and linemate Doug Mohns all donned helmets after the tragic death of Minnesota's Bill Masterton early this year. Since then, Wharram has discarded his and Crozier could have used it Sunday.

LEAGUE LEADER

The Scooters terrorized the Detroit goalie with Mikita tacking two assists on to his three goals and running his season's total to a league leading 70 points. Bobby Hull, with his 40th goal and two assists, has 69 points.

Detroit's Gordie Howe tied the score less than two minutes the first Chicago tally. But after that Detroit never came close again.

The Red Wings lost the services of rookie right wing Ron Anderson in the third period when he suffered an injury to his left arm while being checked by Bobby Hull. The extend of the injury was not immediately known.

Meanwhile, the Rangers kept the pressure on the second place Hawks in the NHL's East race. New York is just two points back of Chicago and unbeaten in the last eight games.

The Rangers fired 45 shots at Favell and Fleming landed a couple of punches on the goalie in a first period scrap. It developed from a high sticking duel around the Philadelphia net and wound up with each player drawing major and minor penalties.

Don Marshall, Bob Nevin and Orland Kurtenbach scored the Ranger goals in an 18-shot second period — as many shots as the Flyers took at New York's Ed Giacomin all night.

Phil Esposito had a goal and three assists for Boston but it took a goal by Glen Sather in the final two minutes to give the Bruins their victory over Los Angeles.

The Kings had rallied three times to tie the game before Sather put it away for Boston.

Streaking Clarkston Faces Waterford '5'

After a shaky start, Clarkston's Wolves have emerged as one of the most productive basketball teams in the area.

After dropping five of their first seven starts, the Wolves reversed the trend and have won six in a row to bring their over-all record for the campaign to 8-5.

They'll try to improve on that mark tomorrow night when they entertain Waterford, a team that has had but moderate success and will enter the contest with a 5-8 record.

The game is one of a handful on tomorrow night's schedule as the season nears end.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Waterford Kettering journeys to Milford, Orchard Lake St. Mary entertains Hamtramck St. Stanislaus and Lake Orion visits winless Oxford.

SHARP TWOSOME

Sharp gunning by Mark Erickson who's averaging 17 points a game, plus scoring and rebounding assistance by Eric Hood have sparked Clarkston's recent surge.

★ ★ ★

Waterford's Skippers have been on a win a few, lose a few streak.

They opened the season by winning a pair. Then came five setbacks, followed by three wins and then another three setbacks.

The inconsistency could lead coach Bob Taylor to turn more to younger players on the Skipper squad with an eye on the future.

★ ★ ★

Kettering has rolled up a 10-2 record, but the Captains aren't likely to find a soft touch in Milford.

BREAK EVEN

After losing their first six games, Milford Redsikns have come on strong and managed to break even in their last six contests.

★ ★ ★

A big reason for Milford's turnabout has been the presence of senior Mark Geigler, who came back after recovering from an injury and has averaged nearly 20 points a game through eight contests.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, winner of the Northwest Parochial League championship, starts tuning for the state high school tournament in the tilt against visiting St. Stanislaus.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion bombed Oxford in the season opener, 76-20, and nothing's changed since that time so it'll be another breeze for the Dragons.

In a Saturday night contest, Detroit Country Day survived a late rush by Grosse Pointe University School to post a 78-76 victory.

Reed Bohne came off the bench in the first quarter and led Country Day with 12 rebounds. Mike Ross picked off 10 rebounds to go with his 15 markers. Leading the scoring parade was Jack Zwener with 29.

★ ★ ★

Country Day entered the fourth period with a 60-49 lead, but GPUS stormed back to deadlock it at 70 with three minutes. But baskets by Dwight Edwards and Zwemer plus two free throws apiece by Jeff Smathers and Mitch Hansen pulled the game out for the Yellow Jackets (11-3.)

Pro Grid Officials Work on Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Professinal football's two major leagues went to work on the knotty problems growing out of their two-year old merger at joint meetings starting here today.

Included on the agenda for Commissioner Pete Rozelle and officials of the National and American Leagues are the establishment of committees to work out the realignment of the leagues, scheduling, player relations and other issues.

Rozelle has indicated that the first tentative steps towards realignment would be taken at these meetings.

OPEN DOOR—Ken Wharram of the Chicago Black Hawks raises his stick after slamming his second goal of the day past goalie Roger Crozier of the Detroit Red Wings during their game in Chicago yesterday. Both Wharram of teammate Stan Mikita found the scoring door wide open against the Red Wings. Each scored three goals to pace the Hawks to a 7-1 decision. In background is Detroit defenseman Kent Douglas (5).

Drop Road Encounters

Spartans, 'M' Lose

By United Press International

Michigan and Michigan State grudgingly played the role of perfect weekend guests and left their hosts savoring a pair of Big Ten basketball victories.

The Spartans' 69-61 loss at Northwestern Saturday boosted the Wildcats' won-loss record to 6-3 and kept them within a half-game of Iowa, which jumped into the lead with a 69-61 victory over Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

Indiana welcomed last-place Michigan to Bloomington and snapped its five-game conference losing streak 98-92.

Michigan State, now tied with Indiana for seventh place at 5-3, held a 37-29 lead over Northwestern at halftime but the Wildcats rallied and surged ahead 55-45.

Although the Spartans fought back to take a 58-57 edge, the Wildcats scored eight points on free throws in the final four and one-half minutes to preserve their victory.

SCORING HONORS

Lee Lafayette topped Michigan State scorers with 17 points while Dale Kelley of Northwestern took game scoring honors wtih 24.

★ ★ ★

Indiana, which treks to East Lansing to challenge the Spartans Tuesday night, built up a 17-7 lead over Michigan with 13:34 left in the first half Saturday and never trailed again.

Michigan cut the margin at intermission to 44-36 and, led by sophomore Rudy Tomjanovich, furthered narrowed the gap to 72-70 with seven minutes to play.

But baskets by Earl Schneider and Vernon Payne moved the Hoosiers back into a six-point spread which they maintained until the gun.

Tomjanovich ended with 30 points, 20 of them in the second half. Butch Joyner was tops for Indiana with 25.

Michigan, now 2-7 in the conference, hosts sixth-place Illinois (4-4) Tuesday night.

Ohio State plays host to Northwestern in a battle of the second-placers Tuesday night. The Buckeyes lost the conference lead Saturday with an 83-79 defeat at the hands of Minnesota's Gophers, who are taking the spoiler-of-the-season role.

The lowly Gophers (3-7) upset Northwestern earlier last week before dumping the Buckeyes.

In other Tuesday night action, Iowa travels to fourth-place Purdue, where Rick Mount is still scoring at better than a 28-point-a-game average and leads the conference.

The talented sophomore scored 28 points Saturday as he sparked Purdue to a 75-68 victory over Illinois. Mount has 236 points for the season, to lead Minnesota's Tom Kondla, who has 220 and Wisconsin's Joe Franklin, who has 219.

ON TARGET — Marquette University's George Thompson (24) outjumps University of Detroit's Jerry Swartzfager and pushes this shot into the bucket for two points during their game in Milwaukee Saturday night. Marquette won, 81-70.

Wins Phoenix Open

Knudson Golf Victor

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "I can't remember wanting to win a golf tournament as much as I did this one."

That's how George Knudson, a $20,000 first-prize check in his pocket, described his winning effort in the $100,000 Phoenix Open.

★ ★ ★

Knudson, a 31-year-old tour regular from Toronto, Canada, carded an even-par 71 in Sunday's final round for a 12-under-par 272 and a three-stroke victory over three challengers.

Oddly, it was a four-foot bogey putt on the 210-yard, par-3 15th hole which Knudson considered the spark that led to his first triumph since the 1967 New Orleans Open and his fifth tour win.

"I showed my colors there," said the chain-smoking Knudson of the putt which managed to keep him even with charging Sam Carmichael, after he had put his tee shot in a lake in front of the green.

FELL BEHIND

Carmichael, who parred the 15th, held a share of the lead only briefly and fell two strokes behind after the next two bogeys. He was only one of two challengers who caught Knudson during the final round over the 6,765-yard, par-71 Phoenix County Club Course.

"Nothing I did was too easy," said Knudson. "I spent all day watching what the others were doing. It wasn't until the 18th hole that I was able to take my first big swing of the day."

Knudson carried a two-stroke lead into the final hole and then holed out a three-foot birdie putt to put him 3-up on Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., who finished with even-par 71.

Defending champion Julius Boros, who finished in a tie with Carmichael and young Jack Montgomery, Fort Worth, Tex., for second place, each with nine-under 275, missed a shot to be all alone in the runner-up spot.

ROLLED AWAY

He pitched to within three feet of the hole on the 535-yard, par-5 18th hole, but his putt rolled to the left of the hole. Second place was worth $8,166 to each of the three players.

Tommy Shaw, 26, Golf, Ill., club pro, after two early birdies, passed Knudson on the sixth hole when the Canadian carded the first of his two final-round bogeys to go 12 under par.

But from that point on, Shaw's game collapsed completely. He bogeyed the eighth and ninth holes, double bogeyed the 11th and added successive bogeys on the 12th, 13th and 14th holes, dropping from 13 to six under par.

★ ★ ★

Finishing in a tie for third place, each at eight-under 276, were Frank Beard and Bert Yancey. Each won $4,050.

First-round leader Frank Boynton, veteran Gene Littler and Shaw each pocketed $3,100 fourth place money at seven-under 277.

Tourney Bids Await Top Teams

Plot Thickens for College Cage Races

By The Associated Press

The plot thickens as most of the major college conference basketball races remain muddled on the eve of post-season tournament bids, but Houston and St. Bonaventure leave little suspense among the independents.

The unbeaten Cougars and Bonnies, ranked No. 1 and No. 4 respectively, led an impressive week for all but two — Tennessee and New Mexico — of the Top Ten teams and appear certain to get the first bids this week.

Houston, after stomping Miami, Fla. early in the week and then Air Force 106-82 Saturday in Houston for its 23rd victory, is likely to be the first selection for the 25-team NCAA tournament.

St. Bonaventure, idle Saturday after an early week triumph over Seton Hall, sports an 18-0 record and could be the 14-team NIT's first pick.

However, only second-ranked UCLA, figured a shoo-in for the Pacific-8 Conference crown, has an NCAA bid all but wrapped up among the conference teams. The Bruins, 20-1 after clobbering Oregon and then Oregon State 88-71 Friday and Saturday at home, are 9-1 in the league but must play second place Southern California, 8-1, march 9.

Most conference winners receive automatic bids.

Elsewhere, the tension grows, particularly in the Southeastern Conference where three of the Top Ten teams are involved.

Tennessee, No. 7, dropped a 75-63 decision at Nashville to ninth-rated Vanderbilt following a 60-59 heart-breaking loss to eighth-ranked Kentucky.

Kentucky stopped Mississippi State 107-81 Saturday at home and took a 1½-game lead with an 11-3 league record, 17-4 over-all. Tennessee, 15-5, and Vanderbilt, 17-4, are tied for second at 9-4.

Kentucky plays at tough Georgia tonight and closes its season at home March 2 in a showdown against Vanderbilt. Vandy must take on Georgia later this week while Tennessee has left six of the SEC's less successful clubs.

Third-ranked North Carolina, 20-1, followed victories over North Carolina State and Clemson with a narrow 84-80 escape over South Carolina at Charlotte.

Duke, 10th ranked and second to North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference, ran over visiting Temple 92-57 Saturday after a league triumph over Wake Forest.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils meet March 2, but the ACC title is decided in a post-season conference tournament.

New Mexico, 20-2, put its No. 5 ranking and the Western Athletic Conference crown in jeopardy by losing at Utah 71-64 and dropping into a first place tie with the Redskins at 5-2.

The other Top Ten team, Columbia, No. 6, crushed Harvard 116-56 at home for its 13th straight victory and 17th in 20 games, but it didn't crack an Ivy League deadlock for first place with Princeton, 17-4. Both are 9-1 after the Tigers whipped Yale 74-71.

★ ★ ★

Individually, Pete Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, hit a career high of 59 points as LSU defeated host Alabama 99-89, and No. 2 scorer Calvin Murphy of Niagara scored 50 in a 100-88 road victory over St. Peter's, N.J.

Local Skiers Gain Titles in Regionals

West Bloomfield's boys and Waterford Township's girls reaffirmed their team Michigan High School skiing Saturday with state regional championships at Mt. Holly.

The Lakers dominated the boys' competition by scoring with 2-6-9-10 placings in the slalom, and 2-5-10-15 finishes in the giant slalom.

★ ★ ★

Tom Carter led the champions, who repeated their victory of last year, by placing second behind East Lansing's George Foster in both events. Larry Walter, Rick Stanker, Tim Brennan and Kim Woodruff contributed points to the win.

Waterford won its first girls' regional title while repeating, as did West Bloomfield, its team title from the annual Mt. Holly Interscholastic Meet in January.

Cathy Benson, Julie Crary and Sue Nye did the work for the Skipper coeds, taking 3-6-7 in the slalom and 1-5-8 among the girls.

Paced by the strong skiing of Wendy Willis and Cheryl Luther, Rochester made a strong bid for the girls laurels, missing by only 13 seconds. West Bloomfield was third.

SURPRISE

Defending girls' champion Bloomfield Hills Andover placed fifth. However, the Andover boys' team did surprise by taking second place in their division.

300 Game Hit in State Play

Saginaw Kegler Rolls Perfect Score

JACKSON (AP) — William Lake, 36, a cement contractor from Saginaw, rolled a perfect 300 game Sunday in doubles handicap competition during the sixth weekend of the Michigan State Men's Bowling Tournamen.

Lake said it was his first perfece game in 21 years of bowling. It moved him and his partner, Robert Wtckerle, also of Saginaw, into ninth place in the handicap doubles with a 1332 score.

★ ★ ★

New leaders also emerged in three of the eight divisions of the tournament, which continues 13 more weeks.

Adrian Black Label rolled a 3,250 to take over the team handicap race from Frankenmuth Universal Engineering.

George Luther of Blossom Land and John West of Battle Creek each rolled a 674 to tie for first in the singles actual, which saw new names in four out of the five top places this weekend.

Former Major Leaguer Dies

SHERRILL, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur "Ben" Eagan, a catcher who caught Babe Ruth when he broke into professional baseball, died Sunday at his home. He was 84.

Eagan was with the Baltimore Orioles of the old International League, when Ruth came to the Orioles as a pitcher.

2 Indoor Records Set in Mason-Dixon

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two world indoor records in one meet might be good enough for some places but for the Mason-Dixon Games it's considered an off year.

Villanova's two-mile relay team broke its own world indoor record with a 7:23.7 time and Mamie Rallins established a world mark of 8.7 in the women's 70-yard low hurdles to provide the highlights of the eighth annual Games Saturday.

But that quota is below par for the Games, which holds nine standing world indoor records in both men's and women's event —more than any other indoor track.

Aussie Netter Takes Lead in Pro Tournament

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Australian John Newcombe scored victories in four matches Sunday to take the lead in the $4,000 New Orleans Professional Tennis Tourney.

The victories gave Newcombe 170 points in the standings and a berth in Monday night's finals.

Four other players have a shot at the other final spot. They are Pierre Barthes, Cliff Drysdale, Tony Roche beat Butch Buchholz 31-22, 31-27; Newcombe downed Nicky Pilic 31-25, 31-27, and Taylor beat Dennis Ralston 31-28 in a one-set match.

Top Seeded Netter Next for Champ

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — Billie Jean Moffitt King, the queen of world tennis, attempts to avenge one of her rare losses tonight in a showdown with defending champion Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis for the New England women's indoor title.

Mrs. King, top-seeded, qualified for another shot at the New England Championship as Miss Eisel, seeded No. 2, staged a tremendous rally in semifinals Sunday night at the North Shore Squash and Tennis Club.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. King, a 24-year-old Long Beach, Calif., housewife, swept past fourth-seeded Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 8-6, 6-1, while Miss Eisel struggled to a 2-6, 6-4, 8-6 comeback victory over third-seeded Rosie Casals of San Francisco.

Trailing 1-5 in the third set, the 21-year-old Miss Eisel broke Miss Casals in the seventh, ninth and 13th games to pull out the victory in a 90-minute match.

★ ★ ★

"I just didn't quit on myself," Miss Eisel said. "I couldn't afford to go for broke, so I just tried to hit safe shots."

Miss Eisel won the New England title by upsetting Mrs. King 6-4, 5-7, 11-9 last year. They met in the recent Tasmania Championships in Australia, Billie Jean winning in three sets.

DEFENSE TWO WAYS—Bob Arnzen (40) of Notre Dame takes a rebound, but is halted when Bradley's Al Smith nearly makes a tackle trying to knock the ball away. This led to trouble and Arnzen then had to use some boxing style defense. When things cooled off, Notre Dame finally won the game in Chicago Stadium, 64-61.

Pistons Snap Skid Without Bing

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons are temporarily minus the services of league-leading scorer Dave Bing, but Happy Hairston has begun doing what the Pistons hired him for: score baskets.

Bing was in the hospital Sunday when the Pistons, playing on their home court, drubbed the San Francisco Warriors, 123-104, in a National Basketball Association contest.

★ ★ ★

The game, which ended a five-game losing streak for the Pistons, saw four Detroit players score 20 or more.

Hairston topped the list with 25. Eddie Miles had 24, Jimmy Walker 23 and Dave DeBusschere 20. Fred Hertzel topped the Warriors with 22 points.

Bing missed the game with what doctors described as an upper respiratory infection. He also was suffering from a jammed left thumb. He is expected back for Tuesday's game in New York against Chicago.

In other games Sunday, San Diego knocked off defending world champion Philadelphia, 111-106, Cincinnati beat Boston, 107-100, and Chicago defeated St. Louis, 113-107.

San Diego's triumph lost them another chance to set an NBA record. They were headed for record string of losses — 17 before meeting Philadelphia. Even at that, they tied the record.

Don Kojis, with 25 points, and Art "Hambone" Williams, with 10 points and 10 assiists, sparked the Rockets, who led all the way. The 76ers got to within 97-94 with 7:44 to play.

But Kojis hit a basket and Williams set up Jim Barnett for two easy baskets and the Rockets had finally won. Wilt Chamberlain had 34 points for the 76ers and Billy Cunningham added 30.

2 Nats' Hurlers Agree to Terms

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Pitchers Dick Lines and Frank Bertaina have agreed to terms and will start work with the Washington Senators Monday, General Manager Georg Selkirk said on arrival here Sunday.

Selkirk added that Bob Humphreys and Casey Cox, two valued members of the Senators' bullpen last year, were being ridiculous in their salary demands and would be classed as holdouts.

Clay Appeal Has Hearing

HOUSTON (AP) — Arguments on heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay's appeal of a five-year prison sentence were to be heard today by a three-judge federal court.

Clay received the prison sentence and was fined $10,000 after he was convicted June 20 for refusing to enter the Armed Services. He has remained free under a $5,000 appeal bond.

It was not necessary for Clay to be in court and one of his lawyers said the boxer did not plan to be here.

4 Americans Break Canadian Records

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Americans broke four Canadian Open indoor track records and tied another Saturday night in the Achilles International meet.

The record breakers:

Roy Robinson of the University of Montana, 7.4 seconds in the 60-yard hurdles. Blaine Lindgren of the Southern California Striders was second.

Tommie Smith of Santa Clara, Calif., 31.5 in the 300-yard run. John Carlos of Santa Clara was second.

Pontiac Bows, 146-119

Comets Speed Past T-Hawks

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The host Columbus Comets wrapped up the berth opposite Grand Rapids in the North American Basketball League finals by overrunning the Pontiac Tomahawks Saturday night, 146-119.

Displaying blazing speed, excellent jumping and crisp passing, the Comets repeatedly fast broke away from the slower Tomaawks for a 45-26 lead in the opening quarter.

Pontiac adjusted its defense and managed to stay within three-five points of the Comets in the closing three quarters but it never could cut into the winners' sizeable opening advantage.

* * *

The victory assured the Columbus club (12-6) of a share of first place in the Eastern Division race of the NABL, and since the Comets won the season series from Lansing, it gains the playoff nod between the two clubs.

LAST GAME

Pontiac finished its initial NABL campaign with a 4-14 mark. The record includes two forfeit losses — a crucial one to Columbus and a closing one to Lansing next Saturday in lieu of playing the last regularly scheduled game.

Mid-season acquisition Ed Burton, the Tomahawks' 6-7 center, tied the club's season-high point performance by tallying 43 at Columbus Saturday.

The former Michigan State performer also led the rebounding with 19 retrieves. John Watson pulled down 11 and added 17 points, and Paul Long made 7 of 12 shots in scoring 18.

* * *

But the Comets' speed enabled them to post a .526 field goal percentage while making 15 more baskets than the losers.

* * *

Seven of the eight players were in double figures led by Al Jackson's 35 points on 14 of 20. Jim Doughty grabbed 12 rebounds and three teammates had 10 each.

Auburn Hills 5 Winner, 93-55

Reserves See Action in Easy Victory

Coach Don Nichols of Oakland Community College's Auburn Hills campus had a look at his reserve strength Saturday night and he must have liked what he saw.

Going against one of the weaker foes on his schedule, Mercy College, Nichols decided to give the reserves an opportunity to play and they responded with a convincing 93-55 triumph.

Only one of the Nikes' frontliners saw action, Bob McNab, and he was pressed into service after some of the subs ran into foul problems.

Setting the pace for the Nikes were Keith Stubl and Don Kirkwood with 22 points apiece.

Ken Walker tossed in 16 for the losers.

The victory raised the Nikes record for the season to 14-8. They meet Dearborn Henry Ford at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Troy High School.

Scot Driver Triumphs

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — Jim Clark, the daredevil Scot farmer, drove a Lotus 49 to victory in the 100-mile Warwick auto race at an average speed of 89.01 miles an hour.

Crowd Sees Boats

NEW YORK (UPI) — Officials of the National Boat Show reported an estimated 401,379 persons visited the 1968 marine craft exhibition during its 12-day stay. Exhibitors reported receiving orders totaling $48.9 million, a record for the show.

Athletes' Golf Won by Krause, Mazeroski Again

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Paul Krause, a safety for the Washington Redskins, and Bill Mazeroski, a second baseman for the Pittsburgh Pirates, both feel golf is much harder than both of their specialties.

* * *

But they both seem to do well as golfers as evidenced by the $5,000 checks they have today after winning the $30,000 American Airlines Astrojet Golf Classic as partners Sunday for the second straight time.

Their best-ball score of 185 for 54 holes included a pair of birdies on the final two holes, enabling them to nose out Joel Horlen and Art Powell. The winning 185 was the same score the same team chalked up last year to win the top prize.

Christian Five Rebounds for 84-75 Victory

Michigan Christian Junior College of Rochester bounced back Saturday to defeat Grace Bible College of Grand Rapids, 84-75, as four players were in twin figures for the winners.

Jim Harris notched 25, Bill Leak 20, Jerome Shoemaker 15 and Garth Pleasant 11 as the Warriors raised their Michigan Christian College AA third-place league record to 6-3.

They held a 41-34 lead at the intermission. The Warriors played without ace scorer Bill Davidson who broke his wrist during the closing minutes of an 86-83 loss earlier last week to Grand Rapids' Baptist Bible College, one of two teams grappling for first place.

MCJC will meet the other contender, Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music, at 3 p.m. Saturday in a Senior Day game on the Rochester High School court in the league finale.

Thursday, Great Lakes Bible of Lansing will visit the Warriors in an 8 p.m. nonleague contest at Avondale HS.

Richey Tennis Indoor Champ

Young Netter Given Huge Ovation

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Even Cliff Richey's detractors had to give him a backhanded compliment for winning the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championship.

The ovation from the crowd of 4,000 in the Civic Center was genuine after the controversial 21-year-old routinely polished off Clark Graebner 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 Sunday—and so was Richey's smashing backhand passing shot.

★ ★ ★

From the baseline, the nation's No. 3 player from San Angelo, Tex., time and again passed Graebner as he rushed the net. It accounted for vital points in each of the four service breaks suffered by Graebner.

After Richey sent three consecutive backhands into the net in the third game of the opening set, he got the stroke under control and it became more effective than his forehand.

PASSING SHOTS

He climaxed the spectacular performance with three straight passing shots from the baseline to score the final service break in the third set.

When he was presented the winner's silver bowl in courtside ceremonies, Richey held it aloft but didn't approach the microphone. Asked why, he said, "I talked to them the other day."

★ ★ ★

He referred to his comments Friday after beating Jan Leschley of Denmark, the top foreign seed. Richey complained that the crowd rooted for Leschley, saying. "This is the only country in the world where they cheer against the home man."

OU Wins Home Finale

Improving Oakland University completed its home season Saturday night with a 108-68 triumph over Western Ontario in one of the Pioneers' best efforts of their first full varsity schedule.

The triumph, Oakland's fourth in its last five outings, raised its record to 5-14 with only road games at Albion Friday night and Grand Valley Saturday left.

The Pioneers shot at a 56 per cent clip in the opening half in taking a 59-41 advantage to the lockerroom. Crisp passing repeatedly set up easy baskets for the winners.

Tom Allan, 6-6 sophomore center, again led the shooting display. He made 12 of 16 shots (75 per cent) while scoring 26 points. Glen Beier added 21 points.

Jay Shutt had nine assists and 11 rebounds to lead the Pioneers' floor play.

Daytona 500 Next Race

Fast Company for 'Lucky Andy'

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lucky Andy Hampton of Louisville, Ky., moved from the winner's circle in Automobile Racing Club of America ranks into faster company today as he joined dozens of other stock car drivers in qualifying runs toward the $200,000 Daytona 500 next Sunday.

Hampton collected $5,300 for victory in the ARCA 300-mile winter championships Sunday in a 1967 Dodge Charger. The winner of the Daytona 500 will get upward of $35,000.

★ ★ ★

Hampton will drive the same smooth-running Dodge in the faster competition.

"I won't outrun all of them, but I'll hang in there," he said.

The car gave him a trouble-free two-hour spin at an average speed of 148.372 miles an hour and put him home one lap in front of second-place Jesse Baird of Louisville in a 1965 Dodge.

"I made only three stops," Hampton said. "We took on gas all three times and changed tires on the right side once."

BAD LUCK

Each of the past three years, the chunky 39-year-old veteran driver ran into bad luck in the Midwest Racing Organization's annual event in Daytona Speed Weeks.

★ ★ ★

He finished second, third and fourth and was beginning to think the high banked 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway was a jinx to him.

"Last year, Les Snow blew an engine right in front of me on the second lap and I had to pit to clean the oil off the windshield," he recalled.

★ ★ ★

That cost him a minute and possibly the race. He finished fourth in a pack with the first three cars.

★ ★ ★

In runner-up, Baird was one lap back of Hampton, third-place Iggy Katona of Willis, Mich., and fourth-place Charles McWilliams of Union Ky., were two laps behind. All of the first four drove Dodges.

Exam Is Feb. 27 in Hit-and-Run

A 26-year-old suspect in a hit-and-run accident awaits examination after his arraignment Saturday.

John H. Savers of Detroit, charged with leaving the scene of an injury accident, is in Oakland County Jail after failing to post $5,000 bond.

He was arraigned before Wixom Justice Elwood Grubb. Examination is set for Feb. 27 at 1 p.m. before Grubb.

The victim of the Friday afternoon accident, Felix J. Droz, is in critical condition at Botsford Hospital.

The 17-year-old, who lives at 28474 Alycekay, reportedly was struck while walking along the I-96 exit ramp to Wixom, said police.

The car left the scene and was found later in the Lincoln plant parking lot in Wixom where Savers was arrested, police said.

The United States has more than 97.5 million registered motor vehicles.

BELGRADE, Maine (AP) — Edward Cottle, 55, of Belgrade died Sunday night at Augusta General Hospital from injuries received when his snowmobile collided with a logging truck here Saturday.

Pontiac Div. Local Voting on New Pact

Members of Local 658 at Pontiac Motor Division today are voting on the ratification of its local contract covering working conditions at the plant.

Balloting began at 5 a.m. and will continue to 9 a.m. tomorrow, according to local President Wayne Anable.

The results of the vote should be known by 11 a.m. tomorrow, he said.

Nearly 800 members attended a meeting yesterday at the union hall to hear an explanation of what had been accomplished by the pact. The contract covers such areas as work relief time, protective clothing and wage rules. A national contract was settled in January.

* * *

Anable said that voting is taking place in trailers set up behind the union hall, 964 Joslyn.

There are more than 81 million automobiles registered in the United States.

Protesters Called 'a Miserable Lot'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The national president of the Reserve Officers Association, Navy Capt. Vincent A. Primerano, says, "The miserable minority which is pulling against our country and waving Vietcong flags" is beneath contempt.

"If there were any place to banish this sorry lot, the nation would be that much better off," he said in a weekend talk to the association's greater Atlanta chapter.

College OKs Gym Shorts

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Male students at Trevecca College have been given permission to wear "standard athletic attire" such as gym shorts for basketball games.

In the past, more modest attire such as slacks or sweat togs were considered standard for male athletes at Trevecca, a school supported by the Church of the Nazarene.

AID Puts Off Civilian Hiring for Viet Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. foreign aid agency has temporarily halted its nationwide recruiting of civilians for duty in Vietnam pending a review of job needs there.

As a result, plans for enlistment campaigns in 37 cities across the country from February though June have been put on the shelf until the Agency for International Development completes its reassessment.

★ ★ ★

AID normally carries on extensive recruiting drives for qualified U.S. specialists in police training, agriculture, nursing, and a variety of other non-military tasks in the pacification or nation-building effort in South Vietnam.

AID's last recruiting campaign ended in Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 1.

PACIFICATION HURT

The Communist assault on cities throughout the country also took a toll in the pacification programs in the countryside, and this is one of the factors in AID's study. Some officials in Washington believe there also will be a need for more AID attention to urban centers.

However the review was under way before the Reds unleashed their onslaughts at the end of January. William S. Gaud, AID chief, had decided before then that he wanted to slice about 10 per cent off the agency's plans for a Vietnam force of some 2,500 by mid-1968.

★ ★ ★

Some 2,000 Americans are on AID rolls in Vietnam now, so Gaud in effect was proposing a more limited increase there than previously scheduled.

President Johnson's January directive for a 10 per cent trimming of U.S. overseas staffs globally did not apply to Vietnam. But AID is applying the 10 per cent cut to the 3,000 Americans it employs in other overseas areas and some may be sent to Vietnam.

RETURN DELAYED

The head of the U.S. aid mission in Saigon, Donald G. MacDonald, had been slated to return to Washington by this time to meet with Gaud on this matter, but his trip was delayed by the Vietcong attacks.

There is little doubt here that AID will resume its stateside recruiting in due course. Since the regular U.S. civilian tour in Vietnam is only 18 months, it needs replacements if only to keep up its current force there.

★ ★ ★

AID recruiters said they do not expect a fall-off in volunteers because of the Communist attacks. So far seven AID workers are known to have been killed in the recent Red assaults.

The recruiters reported that at Phoenix, where the enlistment campaign was just winding up when news of the Communist attacks broke, only five of some 300 volunteers asked to be taken off the list.

He Made Off With Rings

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Three men surprised and robbed Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jerrell Sunday night when the visitors from Hamlin, W. Va., returned to their apartment.

One of the intruders yanked three diamond rings off Mrs. Mary Jerrell's hand. She told police she hadn't been able to get the rings, valued at a total of $100,000, off for the last six months.

"He just about tore my fingers off," she said.

Usher Is Diverted for Theft at Church

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — While the usher's attention was diverted, thieves walked out of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church with a collection box holding $2,000.

The Rev. Charles Maloney said the theft took place Sunday when the usher stopped to answer a query about the church calendar. He said at least two accomplices went to the vestibule and took the box outside to a waiting truck.

Father Maloney said the box held contributions from four Masses.

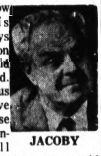
By Oswald and James Jacoby

Jim: "Some years back you discussed the various types of bad bridge players. Are they still with us?"

Oswald: "Today and forever. The most common is the hand hog. Somehow or other this player always finds a reason why he should play the hand. Every one of us is likely to have some of these hoggish tendencies but all good players try to avoid them."



JACOBY

Jim: "Of course lots of players excuse their hand hogging by claiming that their partner misplays so many dummies that they want to prevent that."

Oswald: "There is something to that theory. On the other hand no matter how well you play you can't make a no-trump game if the opponents start proceedings against you by running a five-card suit nor can you make four of a major if they collect four quick tricks in aces and kings."

Jim: "Sometimes there must be a little sympathy for the hand hog. Take today's hand as an example."

Oswald: "Yes, indeed. I am afraid that most bridge players would go on to four spades after their partner jumped to three no-trump. Most bridge players but never a really good player who could trust his partner."

Jim: "Four spades figures to make unless the defense cashes its four tricks right away. On the other hand there is no reason why they should not."

Oswald: "This hand was actually played in a rubber bridge game. South justified his four spade call on the theory that if North held the ace of diamonds instead of the king-queen-jack, four spades would have made easily while three no-trump might have gone down."

Jim: "South was right about that. On the other hand North was looking right at his own hand and knew exactly which diamonds he held."

What do you do?

A—Various expert artificial bids are available to show this type of very big hand. If you aren't playing one of them your best line of attack is to go right into Blackwood and get to six at least. Give your partner five spades to the king and nothing else and there may still be a grand slam.

TODAY'S PROBLEM

Instead of responding one spade your partner passes one club but East is kind enough to bid one diamond. What do you do?

Astrological Forecast

By SIDNEY OMARR

For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your willingness to probe deep may alienate some persons. But real friends will understand. Means don't back down from basic mission. Intelligent people are sympathetic.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Some who are very close may be temporarily in state of financial embarrassment. Show that you are versatile. Display sense of fitness, humor. And don't brood.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Don't wait for news in order to get started on key task. Go ahead — what you do will create policy. It's not the other way around. Means proceed with confidence.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Money and relatives appear to dominate. Be perceptive. Make necessary changes. Exchange thoughts, ideas. Embark upon creative program. Don't be afraid of progress.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Listen to proposals connected with residence, security, property. Pay special attention to legal counsel. Family members can help your cause if you confide questions, doubts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emphasis on ideas rather than long range plans. Stress also on short journeys, messages, ability to correctly interpret special information. Don't scatter forces.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Deception connected with what you own could crop up today. Keep close watch on possessions. Opposite sex flatters you. Question you ask concerns sincerity or lack of it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You tend to see with distorted vision. Means today there is the real, the imagined. You lose something — but prepare for new gains. Find out what must go, what is to be attained.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): A call today could help unravel mystery. Break through to source, to heart of matter. Add to knowledge. Seek aid from special organization, library. Do so to remove obstacles.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Some friends may be victims of wishful thinking. Be sociable. But don't commit yourself to program that lacks solid base. Accent on wishes and how to fulfill them.

AUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on standing in community, prestige. Express ideas. One in position to do something about your ideas could invest time, money. Enlarge horizons — spread influence.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Emphasis on publishing, writing, getting views across to large numbers of people. Your unique way of putting across a point appeals, wins allies. Know this and be daring.

Jurors Convict Their Lodgings

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A panel of jurors forced to spend a night of temporary lodging in the Allegheny County Jail said one reason they didn't like their quarters was "a symphony of snores that sounded out like the echoes of gunshot."

★ ★ ★

"We are completely astonished that after all the tax dollars poured into the county treasury, there are not a few hundred dollars left to pay for decent lodgings in a nearby hotel," the jurors wrote to Dist. Atty. Robert W. Duggan.

Ancient Square Cleared at Mexican Site

The excavations center around the Cholula Pyramid, which was discovered 30 years ago and has a larger base than any other known pyramid. The marks of civilizations surrounding it range in age from the Aztec period 600 years ago back to the time of Christ.

Included among finds in the three-acre tract are an eight-ton throne, six 1,000-year-old mural paintings, nearly seven miles of tunnels, housing units and the ruins of seven temples. The paintings, primarily of red, yellow, green and blue, are being restored by a team of artists directed by Antonio Carbajal.

Although little is left of the throne, which is 13 feet high, 13 feet wide and nearly 10 feet along each side, an attempt will be made to restore it also.

Explorations of the site are being made under a plan begun a year ago. The project's director, Ignacio Bernal, head of the National Anthropology Museum and director of the Institute of History and Anthropology, expects the excavations to be completed in 1969.

The earliest known examples of sculpture date from the old Stone Age, over 20,000 years before the time of Christ.

Revealed Report Casts Doubt on Bombing of N. Viet

By DICK KLEINER
NEA West Coast Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Calif — The Pentagon has had in its possession, for slightly more than a year, a report stating that continued bombing of North Vietnam is of doubtful value from an economic and political standpoint.

★ ★ ★

This report has just been declassified and its contents are being revealed here for the first time.

It was made by Dr. Oleg Hoeffding of the economic department of the Rand Corp.

His research into the economic and political effects of the bombing, sponsored by the Department of Defense, also suggests that there has not been a decisive reduction in the level of infiltration of men and supplies from north to south.

★ ★ ★

"Although the bombing in North Vietnam," he writes, "raised the cost of infiltration, the level of infiltration has not been reduced sufficiently to prevent North Vietnam from helping to maintain a combat force in the south strong enough to deny the prospect of a decisive military victory to the United States and its allies in the foreseeable future."

DEEP STUDY

The report, dated December 1966, is titled, "Bombing North Vietnam — An Appraisal of Economic and Political Effects."

It is a 35-page document which delves deeply into the subject, from every conceivable angle. Hoeffding is a specialist on the Soviet economy and an expert in propaganda analysis.

In his conclusion, Hoeffding writes:

"It becomes increasingly doubtful that the advantages of continuation or intensification of the (bombing) attacks outweigh the potential net gains from cessation or, at least, drastic and demonstrative deescalation."

★ ★ ★

(Hoeffding's position today, more than a year later, remains unchanged. He states now: "My own feeling is that my report has stood up fairly well. Escalation of the bombing has occurred and the effects — or lack of effects — have been what I predicted.")

2 QUESTIONS

Hoeffding directed his report toward answering two basic questions: Has the bombing of North Vietnam had any appreciable effect on "the physical and organizational functioning of North Vietnam as an economy and political entity?" And has the bombing had any effect in inducing Hanoi "to agree to negotiations, in initial terms acceptable to the United States?"

Hoeffding says throughout his report that the level of U.S. bombing has not been as great as Hanoi expected — or said it expected. Thus, the North Vietnamese have been — and are — prepared for more severe attacks than they have yet undergone.

In terms of evacuations, diversion of the labor force to emergency repair work and training programs, Hanoi was ready for a great amount of destruction. It never materialized, at least not to the degree that had been anticipated.

★ ★ ★

Even if they had been bombed as heavily as they professed to expect, Hoeffding says, the effects would not have been catastrophic. For example, he writes that Hanoi diverted as much as 15-to-20 per cent of the agricultural labor force into war-related activities.

NOT CRITICALLY HURT

Despite this, North Vietnamese agriculture — and it is an agricultural country — has not suffered critically.

The country is continuing (or was, at the time the report was written) with such nonmilitary efforts as a large-scale program to expand irrigated acreage and a major program of resettling the rural population to less densely settled areas.

Outgoing Defense Secretary Robert McNamara in his final message to Congress on the nation's defense posture reflected certain aspects of the Rand report when he said:

"The agrarian nature of the (North Vietnamese) economy precludes economic collapse as a result of the bombing.

'CAN STOP SUPPLIES'

"Moreover, while we can make it more costly in time and manpower, it is difficult to conceive of any interdiction campaign that would pinch off the flow of military supplies to the south as long as combat requirements remain at anything like the current low levels."

Hoeffding says that Hanoi has learned to deal with the bombing attacks and suggests that a sizable portion of its war-essential manufacturing capacity has been moved beyond the effective reach of any but the most indiscriminate and wasteful air attacks."

As to the matter of civilian casualties from the bombing, Hoeffding says, in effect, that Hanoi could not have asked for a better situation than that which developed.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. bombers exercised restraint — the casualty level is below World War II and Korean war levels — and yet there have been enough civilian casualties to keep the population's anti-American feeling high.

CAN TAKE LONG WAR

"In terms of its moral effects," he said, "the U.S. campaign may have presented the (Hanoi) regime with a near-ideal mix of intended restraint and accidental gore."

He believes that North Vietnam can withstand a long war, and that its allies — China and Russia — can continue to supply it with military and economic aid, no matter how severe the bombing might get.

"Hanoi's calculation," he says, "is that the United States will be unable completely to deny access overland to aid from or via China, and unwilling to deny access to aid delivered by sea."

★ ★ ★

In summation, Hoeffding writes:

"The bombing specifically has produced enough incidental damage and civilian casualties to assist the North Vietnamese (government) in maintaining anti-American militancy, and not enough to be seriously depressing or disaffecting."

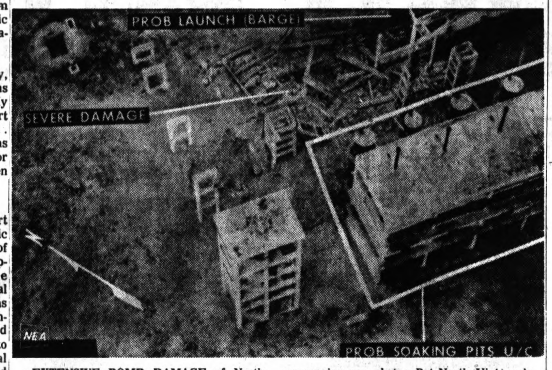
ESCALATION?

As to any escalation of the bombing:

"It appears likely that further escalation of the air war would involve the United States in increasingly serious conflict between the quest for greater effectiveness . . . and the credibility of the U.S. stance of asserted restraint in targets and objectives."

★ ★ ★

It all adds up, in Hoeffding's view, to the doubtful value of the bombing. It remains to be seen when — or if — the Pentagon will act on this advice.



EXTENSIVE BOMB DAMAGE of North Vietnamese steel works at Thai Ngyen, 88 miles north of Hanoi, is revealed in a U.S. reconnaissance photo. But North Vietnam's economy is essentially agricultural and agriculture has not suffered critically.

THERE IS LITTLE HOPE that bombing can check the flow of North Vietnamese supplies to the south, says outgoing Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, "as long as combat requirements remain at anything like the current low levels." Photo from an official Communist source shows members of a "people's transport unit" using bicycles to carry ammunition and supplies down the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Trade Fairly Active

Market Holds Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held a moderate gain early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains outnumbered losses by less than 100 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.21 at 837.55.

The market was higher at the start, showing relief thatnothing of an upsetting nature had occurred over the weekend. It was a continuation also of a fairly steady performance last week despite a mild decline.

GOOD GAINS

Some ood gains by blue chips as well as the high-priced glamwas evident that the market was in a cautious mood, still wary of developments in Vietnam, especially the situation of the U.S. Marines at Khe Sanh.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks atnoon was up .1 at 307.2 with industrials off .1, rails unchanged and utilities up .5.

* * *

McDonnell Douglas responded to news that it had been awarded the "airbus" contract by American Airlines—an $800 million dollar deal and commercial aviation's biggest single order. McDonnell Douglas was up about 4 points in its first response to the news it had gotten the contract for the new jet liner. It pared the gain to 3 in later dealings.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Signal Oil "A" was the most active stock, off 2. Fractional gains in active trading ere made by Stanrock Uranium, Campbell-Chibougamau.

Town Facing Plant Closing

Relocation Mentioned as Result of Strike

CHILDERSBURG, Ala. (AP) — Civic leaders are desperately seeking a solution to the impending shutdown of a strike-bound textile plant which threatens economic disaster for this town of 6,000.

The plant's closing would be "so big a blow to Childersburg that I hate to even think about it," Mayor Robert Limbaugh said. "It would be a terrible economic blow."

* * *

The Beaunit Fibers Plant, which employes more than 1,000 persons with an annual payroll of about $7 million, "is definitely closing," Gene Boykin, production supervisor, said Sunday.

"The staff is being relocated," he said. Boykin said he would not discuss the matter further pending a full statement from management.

WENT ON STRIKE

The textile workers at the $50-million facility went on strike Jan. 21 seeking a wage increase. They reportedly made about $2.25 an hour under the old contract.

Sources said the company offered an increase of about 25 cents an hour in wages and benefits, over a two-year period, which was turned down. It was not determined what the United Textile Workers Union was asking.

Pickets Sunday surrounded the plant, located in central Alabama near Birmingham. Other craft unions have members working at the plant, but there have been no reported attempts to cross picket lines.

Limbaugh said Sunday he hoped a solution could still be worked out. Charles O'Bryant, plant manager, was expected back from New York today.

Limbaugh said the Beaunit plant, together with the Kimberly-Clark newsprint mill, comprise most of the Childersburg economic base. Workers also come from several surrounding towns.

The Beaunit plant manufactures nylon cores of truck and automobile tires.

Britain Goes on Daylight Saving Time

LONDON (AP) — The government forced the British out of bed an hour early today, and a lot of them didn't like it.

It was a day of triumph for William Willett, a Surrey house builder who died 53 years ago and the inventor of daylight saving time. Britain has decided to go on daylight saving time permanently.

* * *

Technically this was T-Day-plus-one, but in practice it was T-Day.

The clocks went ahead an hour at 2 a.m. Sunday. But on Sunday morning a man could sleep late. Today he had to be at work an hour before the winter norm.

* * *

First to protest were England's 185,000 farmers. The change means an extra hour of darkness at morning chore time. Their union said it was prepared to try the new time—known as British Standard Time—as a year's experiment. But members had expressed so many objections it must oppose the plan to make it permanent, the union added.

Taxes' Share Grows

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — An amount equal to 31.6 per cent of the value of the nation's net output of goods and services will be collected in taxes this year to support local, state and federal government projects.

CUNNIFF

This percentage, highest in modern history, is an estimate by the Tax Foundation, a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization engaged in research and education.

This estimate does not mean that close to 32 per cent of everything somehow will go to pay government bills or that it will seep down the drain. But it does mean that this percentage of output will be taken for spending and redistribution by government rather than individuals or corporations.

* * *

Tentative estimates arrived at recently by the Tax Foundation and so far unpublicized indicate that federal taxes this year will rise to 22 per cent of the net national product, a record, while local-state taxes will remain at 9.6 per cent.

TAXPAYER AMMUNITION

These figures include sales, Social Security and excise taxes and assume a 10 per cent income tax surtax. They undoubtedly will supply added ammunition to many thousands of disgruntled taxpayers who, in the heat of recent debate, have forged their gripes into missiles aimed at Congress.

This taxpayer restlessness already has had a negative effect on President Johnson's attempts to impose a temporary surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes, and has also forced reductions in domestic programs.

* * *

The federal government's big bills result from an almost indescribable complex of responsibilities. Tax money goes not just for government administration, but for national defense, international affairs, commerce and finance, health, sanitation, civilian safety, transportation, education, highways, veterans benefits, welfare, agriculture and interest on debt.

Stated in terms perhaps more meaningful to the average person, the Tax Foundation estimates that Americans will work two hours and 26 minutes each eight-hour day to pay 1968 taxes. To own and operate their homes will take only 61 minutes.

TREND NOT NEW

Disturbing as this might be to most Americans, it is nothing new, for the percentages have been in their current areas for several years now. Although this year's estimate is the highest ever, it is larger only by a small percentage.

In 1966 the percentage of national product collected as taxes was a bit under 30, made up of 9.4 per cent local and state taxes and 20.9 in federal taxes. Last year it was 20.9 and 9.6, for a total of 30.5.

* * *

The entire rise this year, the Tax Foundation estimates, will be in federal taxes. The percentage of 22 exceeds any year in recent history, including the World War II and Korean War years.

The 1968 estimate compares with an extreme low of 2.9 per cent in 1931, when the federal government was less extensively involved in welfare or warfare, and when the country was undergoing a depression.

RISE AFTER STABILITY

The spurt in the federal percentage marks a significant rise after several years of stability, and even of shrinkage after the 1964 income tax cut.

But the dramatic rise in taxation in recent years has come not from the federal government but from state and local administrations, whose percentage has grown from 5.9 in 1948 to more than 9 since 1961, or better than 60 per cent.

* * *

Much of this state-local increase represents the demand for roads and schools that had been postponed during war years, after that to accomodate the crop of postwar babies, and still later for rising welfare costs.

Dr. George A. Bishop of the Tax Foundation feels that the percentage for state and local taxes might be leveling off. Military and defense needs and the degree of social problems may dictate the size of federal spending.

90 Arrested From Frisco's Hippie Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police hurled tear gas and marched into crowds in massed formations Sunday to clear streets of pedestrians who were blocking traffic in the Haight-Ashbury hippie district.

More than 90 persons were arrested.

* * *

Cars were backed up for blocks around, police said, and the crowds refused to get off the streets.

Police gave this account:

Two squad cars from Park Station answered the original trouble call but quickly summoned reinforcements.

20 SQUAD CARS

Some 20 squad cars arrived, along with five tactical command units and 15 motorcycle officers.

The police formed columns and used three-foot long batons to clear the Haight-Ashbury intersection.

* * *

Bottles were thrown from rooftops as the officers made their march.

After the arrests, clusters of people remained along the sidewalk, holding handkerchiefs over their noses as a heavy fog cover kept the tear gas fumes in the area. One youth donned a gas mask over his shoulder-length hair.

CROWDS SWELL

Police said crowds in the area had increased during a balmy summer-like afternoon. There was an unusual influx of young people and other visitors.

The disturbance continued from midafternoon until 8:30 p.m., when the police radio called in tear-gas equipment.

* * *

Officers at City Prison said charges against those arrested were mostly for failure to disperse, but included assault, resisting arrest and inciting a riot.

News in Brief

Four guns were among items reported taken in the break-in of a residence in West Bloomfield Township yesterday.

* * *

Larry Hayden of 2500 Horseshoe told Oakland County sheriff's deputies two shotguns, two rifles and about $30 in cash were taken. Some vandalism was also reported in the break-in, deputies said.

Injuries Fatal

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Abraham Jr., 15, of Dearborn Heights died in Wayne County General Hospital Sunday from injuries he suffered in an auto accident last weekend. The youth was the fourth teen-ager to die as a result of the accident.

Firm and Exec Sued by U. S.

Airports Service Line Said in Pay Violation

The U.S. Department of Labor has filed suit in Federal District Court, Detroit, charging Airports Service Line, Inc., Pontiac, and Louis Linteau, an officer of the corporation, with failing to comply with the minimum wage law.

* * *

The firm, at 431 E. Wilson, furnished airport limousine service for passengers, baggage and freight.

The complaint alleges that the corporation and Linteau failed to pay many employes the applicable minimum wage, and also violated the record-keeping provisions of the law since Oct. 2, 1965.

A judgment is being sought to permanently enjoin and restrain the defendants from future violations of the law.

* * *

Legal action followed an investigation of the corporation by the Detroit East Office of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Division.

The minimum wage became $1.60 an hour effective Feb. 1, 1968 for workers protected by the law since 1961 or earlier — those employed in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, and in certain large retail and service enterprises.

GMC Process Aids in Control of Pollution

A metal-plating process pioneered by GMC Truck & Coach Division has added a new dimension to pollution control through the use of a nontoxic solution in chemical baths.

Donald G. Hamaker, supervisor of production engineering laboratories, said sodium zincate replaces cyanide solutions in coating steel parts with a smooth silvery zinc finish.

He said the changeover gives the division the largest sodium-zincate plating installation in the nation. It has been operative six months.

"Our new installation gives us an excellent metal finish and also results in major equipment and labor savings through reduced water treatment requirements," he said. Although sodium zincate requires treatment before disposal, cyanide solutions must be specially treated before being discharged as waste.

* * *

This is the latest step in GMC Truck & Coach Division's continuing program to use nontoxic chemicals wherever possible. In 1961, it did away with cyanide in chrome-plating areas.

14 Paper Unions to Picket, Seek Bargaining as Unit

DETROIT (AP) — All 14 unions affected by Detroit's 96-day newspaper shutdown will mass hundreds of pickets Wednesday in a campaign to force the publishers into bargaining with their union organization, instead of separately, sources said today.

The picketing will begin at 8 a.m. and continue on four shifts a day at the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press, the union sources said.

* * *

The planned picketing drive would end the situation in which only a few pickets of the Teamsters Union, the only unit officially on strike, have been carrying signs outside the Detroit News.

Members of Teamsters Local 372 struck the News, an afternoon paper, at midnight last Nov. 15 to support demands for a new contract.

SUPPORTED NEWS

Two days later the Free Press, a morning publication voluntarily halted its presses and closed its doors to most of its employes. The paper said its action was in support of the News. The Free Press and News bargain most of their union contracts jointly, although not the ones with the Teamsters.

The campaign, said one union official, will be an "effort to force the publishers into bargaining "with the Detroit Council of Newspaper Unions.

"The publishers want to fall back on the historic pattern of negotiating with individual unions, find a weak point and then impose a pattern," the union official said.

He said the picket lines will be "part of a total campaign," implying that one objective will be to arouse public support for the position of the unions.

The Council of Newspaper Unions previously has been mainly an informational organization, in which officers of all unions shared reports on bargaining and labor disputes.

The publishers bargain most of their contracts jointly through the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association.

Revolutionary Mali Turns Back to Capitalists

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — Austere Mali is waging a Chinese-flavored cultural revolution but is returning to the protection of the capitalist French franc.

Mali ideologists call this Year Two of the Revolution. The 80-member National Assembly started it Jan. 16 by abruptly dissolving itself. The members bent to pressure from labor and youth leaders who claimed the legislators were corrupt and no longer representative of the popular will.

★ ★ ★

President Modibo Keita, 52, handsome, 6 feet 3 and revered by many, showed up at the assembly in a Mao Tse-tung-style tunic he acquired in Peking in 1964. Under his aegis, the Chinese are more active in Mali, a country the size of Alaska, than anywhere else in West Africa.

Estimates of Chinese in Mali range from 800 to 5,000—compared to about 500 Russians and 40 Americans. Most of the Chinese work on Chinese-supported development projects. They are building a transmitter for Radio Mali they hope to use to relay Radio Peking throughout Africa. Their other projects range from a motel in Mopti to an exhibition hall which blocks the view of the River Niger that American Ambassador C. Robert Moore once had from his veranda.

DOUBT INFLUENCE

There is doubt about the Chinese influence on the Malian cultural revolution. The Malis always have been a proud, go-it-alone sort. Red Guard-like youths have marched 12 miles on what has become known as "the Long March" to hear Keita say, "Our revolution will be a violent revolution which will entail, if it is necessary, physical liquidations."

So far, this has not been necessary. But 20,000 persons at the Soviet-built sports stadium roared approval as the names of 177 government and political functionaries were read last November. They were accused of illegally operating taxicabs for extra income in Bamako. One minister lost his job in "Operation Taxicab," and Keita has promised the same penalty for "Operation Real Property."

Officials of the government and the one party, Union Soudanaise, have been major targets of the revolution in a land where 95 per cent of the 4.5 million population is subsistence farmers and livestock herders.

Officials have been required to smoke only cigarettes made at the Chinese-built Djiloba factory — a fate which some smokers believe is penalty enough.

Year One of the revolution started Aug. 22, 1967, when the 20-year-old political bureau of the party was dissolved and replaced by a Council for the Defense of the Revolution. But the Socialist revolution has run parallel to another, quite unsocialist, movement — a series of agreements designed to bring back French backing for the Mali franc.

Mali in 1962 demonstrated its independence by leaving the franc zone. That meant France no longer backed its currency, and the Mali franc became worthless outside the country.

Now France has agreed to back the franc as of March 31. It has demanded certain conditions, including a 50 per cent devaluation last May that boosted prices by 100 per cent in the face of a wage freeze. The French demanded the Malians balance their $50-million budget and economize in state-owned enterprises, which owe about $40 million.

It is expected a French official will direct the Institute d'Emission to regulate the currency backing. Among other items, he will approve state enterprise requests for foreign exchange. This will give him wide powers to influence the hitherto independent Malian economy.

RESISTED IN COUNTRY

Mali officials insist the return to French economic protection will not deter the country from what they fondly call its "Socialist option."

Despite the panoply of socialism, the system has not penetrated deeply into the country where farmers till their own tiny plots and Fulani herders still hoard cattle because they prefer the status many head confer instead of the cash they could bring. Farmers and herders are unrepresented in the government.

★ ★ ★

There appears to be little any economic system could do for Mali, which last year ran out of paper to print its budget, about 20 copies of which exist. In Bamako, a city of 100,000, the largest food store, the state-owned Printana, on one day offered patrons only Polish beer and Dijon mustard.

Keita's balancing of East and West has brought some help. On Army Day, celebrated the fifth anniversary of the expulsion of French troops, American-trained army paratroops leaped from American - supplied C47 transports while Soviet T34 medium tanks rolled through the city. Chinese pilots captain Air Mali's Russian-built Ilyushins.

Not all the help has worked. The skeleton of a 17-story hotel started by Egyptians decorates the otherwise low-lying Bamako skyline. Work ceased almost two years ago. A Los Angeles meat packer looked at a slaughterhouse built by Yugoslavia and said it was 40 years behind times. In three years, not a single head of cattle was slaughtered in it.

American aid in seven years has amounted to about $20 million. No new programs are planned, and a loan for a teachers' college, negotiated in 1963, still is undelivered.

Renewal Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highland Park, Mich., was awarded an additional $582,404 federal grant for the Neighborhood Six Urban Renewal Project, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced Saturday. The new funds bring the total grant to $5,134,024.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Travel Series Features Area of Caribbean

ERIC PAVEL

"Six Gateways to the Caribbean" well presented by Eric Pavel as part of the Travel and Adventure series at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Pavel has filmed Panama City, the operation of the Panama Canal and the cities of Colon and Fort San Lorenzo.

Venezuela, South America's largest gateway to the Caribbean, is also on the film. A tour of Carcas, oil-rich Maracaibo, the Andes and the coastal regions will also be seen.

The North Atlantic gateway is Haiti with Port-au-Prince and the colorful native markets. Scenes include a visit to the Citadel of the mad King Henri-Christopher, watching local artists and native voodoo ceremonies.

* * *

In Guatemala, Central America's gateway to the Caribbean, scenes include Lake Atitlan, Guatemala City, Antigua, the Maya ruins and the life of an Indian family in Chichicastenango.

LIVES IN CALIFORNIA

Pavel, born in Europe and educated in Switzerland, lives in California with his French-born wife. He speaks six languages.

Tickets for this film, sponsored by the Downtown Kiwanis Club of Pontiac, are available at the door.

Return of CD Forms Asked

Pontiac residents who have not yet returned civil defense questionaires received in the mail have been requested to do so by City Manager Joseph A. Warren, director of civil defense for the city.

* * *

Pontiac is one of 72 cities involved in a mail survey to evaluate homes for fallout protection. The questionaires are to be evaluated by computers.

A confidential report on the fallout protection of each home and information for improving protection will be sent to the homes, Warren said.

* * *

Stalin's Son Begged to Die

U.S. Reveals Details of Death in Nazi Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department documents show that Josef Stalin's oldest son, Yakov, was shot to death in a German prison camp in the spring of 1943 after pleading: "Guard, shoot me!"

* * *

Details of Yakov Stalin's death, an act bordering on suicide, were captured by allied forces in Germany in 1945, but were kept secret—even from Stalin, to spare him pain.

According to the documents from the State Department's historial office, Yakov surrendered to the Nazis on July 18, 1941, near the surrounded Soviet city of Smolensk.

In a concentration camp for important prisoners, he quarreled with his fellow captives and, despondent after one bitter dispute on the night of April 14, 1943, touched the wire of an electrically charged fence and pleaded with a guard to shoot him.

"Guard, shoot me!" he said at one point.

"Shoot! shoot!" he called out later.

"Guard, don't be cowardly," he yelled, his hands on the charged wire. He was shot through the head.

The documents were first made public in a story in yesterday's Washington Star and confirmed by the State Department.

* * *

American and British officials had documentation of Yakov's death shortly after the war, but they decided to keep it secret to spare Stalin grief, the Star reported in its story.

Stalin went to his grave in 1953 still ignorant of how his son had died, although it was generally assumed in Russia that he had met his death in a Nazi prison camp.

After the war, Stallin offered a $250,000 reward through an East German Communist newspaper for information about his son's fate.

FAST FOOTWORK — These Marines, engaged in house-to-house fighting against heavily entrenched Communist positions in Hue, South Vietnam, find that fast footwork keeps a guy alive.

Major Bills— Their Status in Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Status of major legislation in brief:

TAXES — President Johnson asked for a temporary 10 per cent income tax increase. House Ways and Means Committee shelved proposal for third time, but said hearings may be reopened in March.

GOLD — Johnson asked for removal of requirement that gold be held in reserve for 25 per cent of paper currency. House Banking Committee approved it. Floor action planned this week. Senate Banking Committee also approved it.

RIGHTS — President asked again for bars on housing and federal jury discrimination, tough penalties for intimidation of rights workers. House passed intimidation bill, and Senate currently debating it. Senate passed jury discrimination bill which has been approved by House Judiciary Committee.

RIOTS —Administration supports bill outlawing travel between states to incite riots. House passed its own version. Senate Judiciary Committee considering House bill.

CITIES — Congress last year gave Johnson $312 million of the $662 million he asked for model cities program. This year he wants $1 billion. No action yet.

More Laws Eye Cleanup, Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — The various tates in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air polution control, noise contrôl and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearning House said well over 100 laws related o such proglems were passed across the country as compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the Mid-Atlantic States Air Pact which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Commerce Twp. Burglary Probed

Oakland County sheriff's deputies are investigatig the burglary of a plastics firm at 3331 Oakley in Commerce Township in which considerable vandalism was reported.

In addition to taking checks totaling $52, the burglars broke into coin machines, destroyed typewriters and spilled dye around the premises, deputies said. It was reportedly the fourth time the building was burglarized in recent months.

Return of Dog Has Some Jarring Consequences

POCA, W. Va. (AP) — The mutt hasn't come home this time. He may have been frightened off by the results of his first return.

The dog came back to the home of James Goodwin after Goodwin had given his faithful companion to Archie Moore. Both men live on Rout 1 Poca, Poca.

* * *

Goodwin started driving the dog back to Moore's home and, at the top of a hill, Goodwin's car met head-on one carrying Moore and his nephew.

Goodwin suffered a fractured skull. Moore and his nephew suffered facial lacerations. The dog ran away.

Crane Tips in Lift of Death Derrick

DETROIT (UPI) — A tragedy which claimed one life last week was nearly repeated yesterday when a 37-ton crane tipped over on a barge in the Rouge River.

* * *

The crane was being used in an attempt to pull, from he river bottom, another crane which plunged into the water Wednesday, carrying one workman to his death.

* * *

No one was injured in the Second mishap, but workers had to temporarily abandon their efforts to retrieve the body of Joseph Piksa, 57, of subrban Grosse Ile, from th submerged crane.

Suit Seeks Display of Motels' Rates

SANTA ROSA, N.M. (AP) — Santa Rosa motel owner John J. Coury is seeking a court order restraining this east-central New Mexico community from carrying out a new ordinance prohibiting display of rate signs.

Coury filed the suit Saturday and said "Nobody's going to tell me what kind of sign I can put in front of my own place of business."

Penalty for violation of the new ordinance is up to 90 days in jail and $300 in fines.

Police Captain in Sheriff Race

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Capt. Paul M. Schoder, 50, of the Battle Creek police force and a veteran of the department for 28 years, announced Saturday he will seek the Republican nomination for Calhoun County sheriff in the September primary.

Incumbent Sheriff Joseph W. Liebher has not announced as yet if he will seek a new term.

100 YEARS AGO

This was a new home, having risen proudly to take its place among the stately frame homes of the little village of Clarkston. Many changes have occurred in the ensuing years; the parlor is gone and has become part of the large living room and some years ago, modern plumbing was introduced. Today, it graciously awaits a new family who will enjoy the comfort and tradition of one of the older homes of Clarkston. 3-bedrooms await the laughter of children and the large dining room looks forward to many more family dinners. May we introduce you to this opportunity? $20,000 with $5,000 down.

EXECUTIVE RANCH

In Clarkston within walking distance to schools and the village. 3 ample bedrooms, full basement with walk-out to heated pool and fireplaces, 2 lots, 2 car garage, too many other features to mention. Call for an appointment to show your family their new home.

THE KITCHEN

Here surpasses those often seen in $20,000 homes. Completely remodeled with built-in range, the hours spent here by the little woman will be pure pleasure. A 2-bedroom home close to all city conveniences. Offered for only $8,500 on a new mortgage. Ideal for newlyweds or the retired couple, we will be happy to show you how you can beat the renting game.

TED'S CORNER

Are you interested in income properties? If you are just starting out in this field here are a few pointers. Be prepared to make a 35 to 40 per cent down payment if you want to take out a mortgage. Due to the location of most rental units do not expect the property value to soar as many residential areas do for you are getting your profit weekly or monthly. There are fewer and fewer properties available on low down payment with land contract terms for there are more and more people getting into this field. Make sure you receive the first and last month's rents. Have some type of written agreement between you and the tenant. For more on this subject please call we will be happy to assist you.

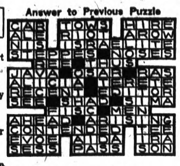
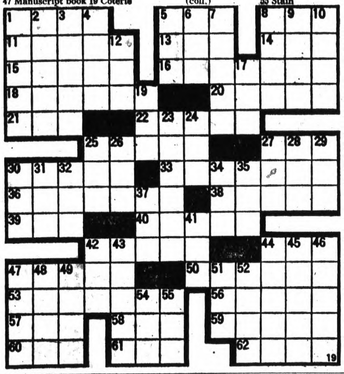
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Dead Ragpicker Was Worth More Than $7,000

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Clemmie Andrews, 65, who perished in a fire in her bedroom Sunday, apparently profited more than anyone ever suspected from her daily rounds as a ragpicker and bottle collector.

★ ★ ★

In her three-room shack, searchers turned up evidence she was worth more than $7,000 as they picked through an accumulation of discarded garments, trinkets, boxes and bottles.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief C. E. Larkin said a bankbook listing $5,500 in deposits and more than $600 cash was found in syrup cans, cigar boxes and some of the bottles. There also was money sewed into part of the clothing.

★ ★ ★

Miss Andrews was a familiar figure to many residents of this east Texas city as she she rummaged through the discarded goods of supposedly more affluent neighbors. She had lived in Marshall all her life.

This Thief Takes Cold Way Out

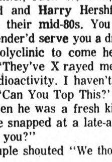
WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — A would-be thief surprised during a break at an auto parts shop, took the cold way out Sunday night.

The youth evaded a policeman and made a dash for the ice-rimmed Kennebec River. He plunged in, swam 150 yards through frigid water and escaped, police reported.

'Lambs' Turns Back Clock to Honor Early Radio Wits

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It was far from Teen-agers' Night at the Lambs Club party for Jack Pearl and Cliff Hall, the radio stars of yesterday. The kid m.c., Jack Waldron, was a mere 75.



WILSON

"Senator" Ed Ford and Harry Hershfield, the storytellers, are in their mid-80s. You had to be 60 before the bartender'd serve you a drink.

"I escaped from Polyclinic to come here," said "Senator" Ford. "They've X rayed me for everything including radioactivity. I haven't had any radioactivity since 'Can You Top This?' "

He remembered when he was a fresh kid in vaudeville. One night he snapped at a late-arriving couple, "What kept you?"

The male of the couple shouted "We thought you were through."

★ ★ ★

"Oh, have I got a new story for you!" exclaimed Hershfield.

Two men just come to Heaven discussed their deaths. One man said he'd been romancing a woman whose husband surprised them and threw an icebox on him, killing him.

"What a coincidence," said the second. "I was the husband. I was so full of remorse, I killed myself."

They were so amazed they wanted to tell it to a third man but first asked how he died.

"I don't really know," he said. "You see, I happened to be hiding in an icebox, and . . ."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

While having supper at Sardi's, Max Reibeisen, the insurance-real estate genius, advised John Gillen, the big banker, to have oysters. Gillen discovered a pearl in the first oyster. While he was warmly thanking Reibeisen for his advice, headwaiter Jimime was heard mumbling, "Those boys in the kitchen should make a pearl check of every oyster, and if they find any, give them to Mr. Sardi!"

Mayor Lindsay has a friend at Chase Manhattan.

Gov. Rockefeller may not quite agree—but Mayor Lindsay was introduced at the Madison Sq. Garden opening as "one of the most vigorous candidates in the history of mankind . . . he's proven he's indestructible . . . he's just the kind of mayor we need for this city."

The man who introduced him was George Champion, president of the Rockefellers' Chase Manhattan.

★ ★ ★

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The pessimist is worried because he's afraid the optimist may be right."

EARL'S PEARLS: Opportunity, for today's teen-age miss, doesn't knock—it drives up in a sports car and blows its horn.

Marty Ingels, in N.Y.C. to TV-tape "Kiss Me Kate," got a note from City Hall welcoming him, and asking how they could make his stay more enjoyable. "So," says Marty, "I sent them three parking tickets I got that day!" . . . That's earl, brother.

2 Ideas for TV: 1 Okay, 1 Bad

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Television's busy idea hunters turned up a couple of new ones on NBC Sunday night. One had possibilities, the other had best be forgotten.

"I Remember Illinois," inspired by the state's 150th anniversary, was a warm and affectionate salute that managed to include most of its famous sons and adopted sons from Abraham Lincoln and Carl Sandburg to Jack Benny and Benny Goodman.

★ ★ ★

Steve Allen narrated the program. Dave Garroway recalled the old radio days of Chicago. Paul Douglas spoke of Lincoln and Everett Dirksen recited a poem about him. Mercedes McCambridge read from the writings of Jane Addams, and Adlai Stevenson Jr. recalled a short speech by his father.

And, naturally, the program wound up with the voice of Sandburg reciting some of his own poetry, and pronouncing the word "Chicago" as if it were a word of love.

IMPRESSIVE

It was, altogether, something of a mishmash, and yet all the bits and pieces were put together with such affection that the result, even to a rank outsider whose experience in Illinois has been limited to changing trains in Chicago, was impressive and interesting.

On the other hand, the producers of "The Legend of Robin Hood" are already laying plans to follow Sunday night's effort with musical specials centering on other members of the merry outlaws of Sherwood Forest.

The first endeavor hardly merits such big thinking for the future. While the costumes and settings were handsome and the singing voices of the cast were, by and large, excellent. there was considerable trouble encountered in the handling of the plot and the general treatment.

First Hint of Arnold's Treason May Lie in Letter

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — A Vermont man's wish to contribute to a Washington's birthday exhibit at a grammar school has led to the discovery of a letter that may have given George Washington "the first hint" of Benedict Arnold's treason.

A total of 87 papers from the Revolutionary War period, including 51 written by Washington, was entrusted to Union College here by John L. Hawkes of Dorset, Vt. a descendant of a major general in the war, the college announced Sunday.

The letter referring to Arnold's treason was written by Lt. Col. John Jameson of the 2nd Light Dragoons after the capture of Maj. John Andre, the British officer who had been negotiating with Arnold.

The emplege said Jameson transmitted a packet of papers found in Andre's stocking. Included were plans of the American fortress at West Point.

SENT TO ARNOLD

"I have sent the prisoner to General Arnold," the letter said. "He is very desirous of the papers and every thing being sent with him. But as I think they are of a very dangerous tendency ... it is more proper your excellency should see them."

The letters from Washington dealt with military matters. Ten were written from the Continental Army's winter quarters at Valley Forge, Pa.

The collection contains 1 previously unpublicized letters by Washington, the college said, and documents signed by such figures as John Adams, Benedict Arnold, Alexander Hamilton, John Jay, Benjamin Franklin, George Clinton, Nathaniel Green and John Hancock.

Hawkes said he had received the collection in 1958 in a dilapidated suitcase from his mother, who termed the documents "family papers." They had belonged to Maj. Gen. Alexander McDougall, an ancestor of Hawkes.

Hawkes said he did not know original letters were included since they were marked "copied."

In 1964, he offered to show the Washington letters at an exhibit at the Dorst Grammar School. They later were authenticated by Dr. Edwin K. Tolan, librarian of the Schaffer Library at Union.

Teacher Walkouts Close Most of Florida's Schools

From Our News Wires

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Many of Florida's 50,000 militant teachers attended mass meetings instead of classes today. Their leaders said the walkout "looks good—the schools are going to close down."

Teachers are meeting in 21 locations throughout the state for "information and instructions' on their bid for higher pay and more money for education.

The statewide strike appeared to be of major proportions, but schools were operating in some counties.

Most of the state's 1,500,000 schoolchildren were enjoying unscheduled vacations. A majority of the state's 1,500 public schools were affected.

★ ★ ★

The situation was obscured by some hastily-called planning days—designated by school boards when teachers are to show up at school for planning, but students do not attend.

ONE DISTRICT OK

At Lake City all of the county's 355 school teachers reported for work this morning.

Most of big Broward County's teachers reported for work and classes were in progress, a check showed.

But in other big population centers such as Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville and Brevard County's sprawling space center towns, most teachers were absent. Many were attending regional mass meetings.

★ ★ ★

At Miami, a mass meeting of Classroom Teacher Association (CTA) members got under way at Dade County's Marine Stadium nearly an hour late when rain helped pile up monumental traffic jams.

4,000 AT MEETING

Nearly 4,000 of the Dade CTA members attended the meeting.

Reports from Orlando indicated about 40 per cent of Orange County teachers were absent. At Gainesville, a mass teacher meeting was moved from a football field to a downtown movie house because of rain and cold.

★ ★ ★

Florida Education Association (FEA) Executive Secretary Phil Constans Jr., served with an injunction Saturday Night enjoining him and others from influencing teachers to strike, said it "looks good. Now that we have it to do, it is being done well."

An EFA spokesman said that some counties had opened classes with substitutes, but predicted, "this won't last long.

Whitmer Urges Group to Sever Ties With NEA

Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer urged yesterday that school administrators split from their parent organization of teachers to avoid "stresses and strains that now threaten to tear us apart."

WHITMER

He spoke at a section meeting of 150 delegates to the American Association of School Administrators (AASA) in Atlantic City, N.J. Whitmer was recently elected to the executive committee of AASA.

Whitmer criticized the present position of AASA as a department of the National Education Association as unrealistic in view of increasing militancy in the posture of NEA.

"The superintendent," Whitmer remarked, "finds it extremely difficult to justify continued membership in and financial support of NEA or perhaps even of AASA so long as it is a department of NEA.

★ ★ ★

"The express goals of the teacher group tends toward matters of status quo, of self-protection and of benefits related to salary or working conditions," he said.

'LESS LIKELY'

"As the local groups grow larger they will be less likely to consider matters having to do with educational innovation, with changes to meet current problems or with quality of professional performance."

★ ★ ★

He proposed making ASA an independent organization but cooperative with NEA.

★ ★ ★

"This separate but cooperative relationship would make it possible for each organization to honestly and openly espouse its causes and programs without needing to compromise to reach a consensus that can be supported by diverse groups," he said.

U.S. Regrets N. Korea Flight

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United States admitted today that two American planes strayed over North Korea briefly yesterday and expressed regret, with assurance that efforts would be made to prevent any more such incidents.

It was one of the few times in recent years that the United States had admitted a Communist charge it had violated the Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, the U.N. Command's senior delegate to the armistice commission, said the planes were on a navigational flight originating outside Korea yesterday afternoon. He said they violated Communists airspace because of bad weather, pilots unfamiliarity with terrain and failure of navagational equipment.

"When they became aware of their location, they immediately took action to depart," Smith said. "The United Nations Command expresses its regrets and offers assurance that all possible measures will be taken to insure that such incidents will not recur in the future."

★ ★ ★

There was no indication North Koreans fired on the planes.

REDS CALL MEETING

North Korea called the commission meeting. The senior Communist delegate, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kook, charged "A formation of American military airplanes" intruded into North Korean airspace north of Panmunjom for four minutes and engaged in "hostile acts and reconnaissance."

Pak claimed U.N. forces had committed 35 other armistice violations between Feb. 13 and Feb. 18. Smith denied all these.

The North Korean delegate charged "a few Yankee aggressor troops" raided a Communists guard post near Songjon Ni on the western front last night. He said the infiltrators were "successfully repelled and wiped out."

Smith denied this. He said the only U.N. Command activity on the western front last night occurred when U.N. Command personnel fired on "several of your marauders" attempting to infiltrate into South Korea near Panmunjom.

Pak said preparations by "U.S. imperialists to unleash another war in Korea" reached a peak when they sent the U.N. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo into Communist waters Jan. 23.

N. Viet Frees Fliers; U.S. Is Called Inept

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two pacifists involved in North Vietnam's release of three American fliers claim "inept and cold-blooded" handling of the situation by this country has endangered release of other prisoners of war.

The three airmen — looking fit and cheerful after reunions with their families — were in military hospitals yesterday for physical checkups.

They are Air Force Lt. Col. Norris M. Overly of Oscoda, Mich.; Capt. Jon D. Black of Laredo, Tex.; and Navy Lt. (jg) David Matheny of Bakersfield, Calif.

They indicated there would be a joint press conference, yet unscheduled, on their four to five-month ordeals in North Vietnam prisons after their planes were shot down last fall.

The pacifist — Prof. Howard Zinn of Boston University and the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit priest at Cornell University — claimed the three were reluctant to fly home on military aircraft for fear of jeopardizing release of other prisoners.

The pacifists said the men had been told by North Vietnamese authorities to return home on a nonmilitary plane or it could mean the end of release of U.S. prisoners of war.

Zinn and Father Berrigan, arriving in New York on a commercial flight from Paris, said U.S. authorities persuaded the airmen to return on military aircraft.

Berrigan said "The spirit of the mission to bring the men back home has been betrayed by U.S. intervention."

★ ★ ★

A defense Department spokesman said the airmen chose military transportation because it was faster and they could get medical examinations en route.

"This was a foreign capital," said Navy Capt. Edmond Castillo, "We couldn't drag anyone onto a military plane if we wanted to."

★ ★ ★

Overly, 38, ranking member of the three, said on arrival at Washington he understood there was a possibility that other pilots may be released.

Clouds Chase Sun From Skies in Area

Clouds began rolling in this afternoon to chase away the bright sunshine Oakland County residents enjoyed this morning. While daytime temperatures weren't exactly balmy, they were at least bearable as they climbed into the mid-20s.

Southwest winds at 5 to 15 miles replaced the frigid blasts from the Arctic that plagued the area over the weekend.

The cloudy skies will persist through the night and tomorrow with highs in the low 30s. Tonight's low will be between 15 to 20. There is a chance of light snow by tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Precipitation probabilities in percent are today, 5; tonight, 10; and tomorrow, 20. Low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 10. By 1 p.m. sunshine coaxed the thermometer to 24.

VC 'Had Assurances'

SAIGON — Three men and four boys, identified as Vietcong who surrendered during the Communist's big lunar new year offensive, said today they had been sent into battle with assurances that the people and government troops would help them "liberate the country from the American imperialists."

Two Area School Issues, 3 Primaries Draw Voters

Area voters went to the polls today in two village primaries, one city primary and two school millage elections.

★ ★ ★

In Avondale School District east of Pontiac voters are being asked to approve a 12.7 increase in operating millage which could amount to as much as $190.50 tax increase on a $30,000 (market value) home.

If approved the millage would add $508,000 to the school district's annual income.

In Troy School District, residents were voting for the third time on an operating millage increase. Today's figure is 6 mills for two years. Troy district voters twice turned down a 7-mill increase last year.

★ ★ ★

Estimated revenue from the proposed increase would amount to about $715,000 in the first year and about $960,000 in the second year, according to school officials.

CANDIDATES ON BALLOT

Also in Troy, six candidates for City Commission and four for mayor were being narrowed to four and two, respectively. The city election is April 1.

Troy also is asking a half-mill hike for the purpose of constructing a municipal library.

In Clarkston the future of annexation may hinge on today's vote. The primary will eliminate one of two candidates for village president. Trustee David Leak, promoter of the village's recent annexation attempt, is faced by Frank Russell who has declared against expansion at present.

★ ★ ★

The primary vote will have no effect on other office seekers.

GOP RACE IN ROMEO

In Romeo the contest is among four candidates for three positions on the Republican side of the ballot for village trustee.

Martin Durham, John Kegler and Kenneth Smith, incumbents, are joined by Forest H. Clark. Since no Democrats filed nominating petitions before deadline, victory in the primary here is tantamount to election.

LBJ Enthusiastic After Ike Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave an enthusiastic account today of a six-hour meeting with Dwight D. Eisenhower that climaxed a transcontinental tour. During his weekend tour, Johnson said more troops will be sent to Vietnam if needed.

★ ★ ★

Johnson visited the former Republican president yesterday at Eisenhower's home in Palm Springs, Calif.

Their marathon get-together embraced both serious talks about Vietnam and an 18-hole round of golf. "He did beat me," Johnson said. "He's really a professional."

Before flying by helicopter to the luxurious Eisenhower winter home, Johnson bade personal farewells to Vietnam-bound Marines in California and Army paratroopers in North Carolina and spent Saturday night aboard the carrier Constellation off the California coast.

★ ★ ★

He also told newsmen during his busy, secrecy-cloaked travels that troops strength in Vietnam will be raised beyond the authorized level of 525,000 "if we need to."

IKE BRIEFED

As for Eisenhower, it is to be assumed Johnson was not unmindful of the political implications of his friendly meeting with the only living ex-Republican president in this election year.

Governors Seek Platform Voice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, frustrated in attempts to agree on a presidential candidate, are launching a grass-roots drive for a moderate party platform.

★ ★ ★

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, scheduled a news conference for today to announce a series of platform hearings. Individual citizens will be asked to contribute ideas on domestic and foreign policy issues.

The GOP state executives are promoting Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania for cochairman of the Miami Beach, Fla., convention platform committee to sit with Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The party moderates among the governors express fear that Dirksen, who has supported President Johnson's basic objectives in Vietnam, will be inclined to leave little room for a Republican alternative to the administration's Asian course.

★ ★ ★

Area Man Killed as Car Hits Trees

Donald A. Burgess, 28, of 4275 Baldwin, Pontiac Township, was killed when his car went out of control and struck trees at Gregory and Rohr in Orion Township at 3:50 a.m. Saturday.

Sheriff's deputies said Burgess's car apparently went of control. He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

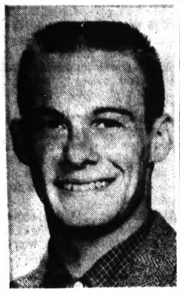
Officials Await Word on Pilot Forced to Fly State Man to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Authorities awaited word today from Ronald Doran, believed to have been the private plane pilot private who sheriffs deputies said was forced to fly a passenger to Communist Cuba Saturday. The passenger was believed to be Thomas Boynton, son of a Western Michigan University professor.



THOMAS BOYNTON

"We haven't received a word since we got a radio message saying he (Doran) had landed safely in Havana at 4:33 p.m. Saturday," said a spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration. "We are still waiting."

★ ★ ★

The twin-engine Piper Apache took off from Marathon, in the Florida Keys about 50 miles northeast of Key West. With Doran at the controls and a tall thin man believed to be Boynton, 31, as his passenger.

James Boynton, chemistry professor at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo, said his son Thomas telephoned him Friday night but said nothing about going to Cuba.

CAR NOTE FOUND

The professor said his son drove to Florida in a 1964 Valiant, the same type car found at the Marathon airport with a "to whom it may coniern" note attached.

Boynton said his son had been a research worker at a Job Corps Center near Battle Creek, Mich., which recently closed down, and had left Kalamazoo in the family's second car for Florida last Monday.

★ ★ ★

Doran, 42, had flown to Marathon Saturday to talk about a job, according to John Stergeon, operator of a charter flying service.

Sheriff's deputies said radio messages indicated the pilot was forced to fly to Cuba after the plan was airborne, and the FBI would say only that it had the case under investigation.

★ ★ ★

In Havana there were unconfirmed reports that Boynton had asked for asylom for unspecified reasons and that Doran would be allowed to fly back to Florida today.

GOP Favored in Voting for State Senator

HOLLAND (AP) — Voters in the 23rd State Senatorial District went to the polls Monday to select a new state senator in an election which hinted religious overtones.

Republican Gary Byker, 47, of Hundsonville was favored over his Democratic opponent, Chester J. Harmsen, 52, of Holland, as successor to the late Sen. Harold J. Volkema, R-Holland.

The heavily Republican district includes the counties of Allegan, Ottawa and Van Buren and one township of Barry County.

MAJOR ISSUE

One of the major underlying issues in the election was the question of state aid to nonpublic schools. Harmsen is opposed to state aid while Byker has indicated he favors legislation designed to give relief to the parochial school parents, perhaps with some form of tuition grants.

Neither candidate considered the question part of his campaign message although each had answered direct questions on the issue.

Collision Sinks Panama Ship

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Panamanian ship sank after a collision in the Dardanelles Strait early today and 14 crewmen are feared lost, the Turkish radio said.

The 1,530-ton ship, identified as the Captain Frangos, collided with a Greek vessel identified as the Timos. The Greek vessel was reported slightly damaged.

LBJ MISSES BIRDIE—President Johnson misses a putt and a chance for a birdie on the 18th green of the Seven Lakes Golf and Country Club in Palm Springs, Calif., where he played golf yesterday with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (left). The President invited news photographers to record his golf form for the first time and he scored a par on the hole. Johnson flew to Eisenhower's home at the country club for a visit after seeing Vietnam-bound Marines off Saturday night.

Pellets Hit 100 Cars in 3 Communities

DETROIT (AP) — More than 100 automobiles in three suburban Detroit communities had their windows shot, apparently by pellet gunfire Saturday night.

Police from Livonia, Westland and Redford Township said there was a rash of calls from car owners who went out to their vehicles Sunday to find the shotup windows.

No injuries were reported.

Sgt. Richard Ericson of the Livonia Police Department said the rash of destruction is apparently the result of an escapade by several young men in one or more cruising cars which roamed through southeast Livonia.

The areas in Redford and Westland that were hit border the affected Livonia area.

Ericson said about 70 autos in Livonia had windows shot, including several in two shopping centers.

"Somebody obviously had to see who did it," he said. He said that from 20,000 to 30,000 persons live in the densely populated area.

Redford Police reported 15 incidents of shot windows, while Westland Police reported from 15 to 20.

Livonia police say they have unmarked cars cruising the areas. They say they think teenagers on a spree caused the damage. Ericson says he received three contradictory descriptions of a car involved in the escapade.

Tornadolike Winds Lash Miami Beach

NORTH MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Tornado like winds smashed a 60-block area along coastal North Miami Beach early today, injuring more than a dozen persons, knocking down power lines, overturning cars and damaging houses and business establishments.

Police said injury reports included two heart attack victims. Their condition was not immediately known.

★ ★ ★

Three people were hurt, authorities said, when a house was knocked over by the winds. Others were cut by broken window glass and battered by debris.

Police with dogs set up road blocks to prevent looting and to keep out sightseers.

HARDEST HIT

The storm touched down briefly on the narrow strip of beach east of Miami shortly after 5 a.m. EST.

Apparently the hardest hit section was along Northeast 167th Street, a suburban shopping area.

★ ★ ★

Store fronts along the streets were blown out. Groceries and clothing were strewn across parking meters and along sidewalks. Four automobiles in a 167th Street car lot were overturned as was a house trailer which had one end ripped out.

Harold Jaffe, operator of a stationery store, said, "We have approximately 15,000 things to pick up."

POWER KNOCKED OUT

Power was knocked out temporarily from Northeast 12th Avenue to Northeast 17th Avenue and from Northeast 142nd Street to Northeast 187th Street.

The Weather Bureau said there was no evidence of a tornado on radar.

★ ★ ★

Forecaster Raymond Kraft said he suspected the damage was caused by a severe thunderstorm, "although it really doesn't make much difference what it was."

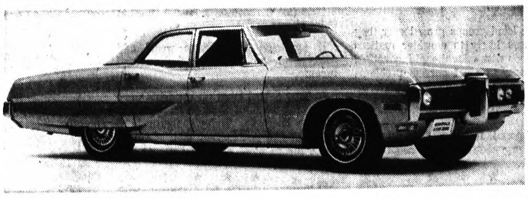
Six persons were taken to North Miami General Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises. None was considered seriously injured.

Eight persons were treated and released at two other hospitals.

Kite String Carries Shock

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A woman flying a kite was knocked unconscious when the kite string fell across a 7,500-volt power line.

Sharon L. Shoopman, 25, was flying the kite Saturday with her 6-year-old son, Steven. The kite dropped toward the ground and the string, which apparently contained wire, hit the line.



NEW BONNEVILLE—Pontiac Motor Division will unveil a new model — the Bonneville four-door sedan—at the Chicago Auto Show opening Saturday. The four-door is for those who prefer the Bonneville series but also want the added head and leg-room of a sedan, a spokesman said. Pontiac now has 35 models available.

Four-Door Bonneville to Be Unveiled

Pontiac Motor Division is introducing a new model, a four-door Bonneville sedan, at the 60th annual Chicago Auto Show opening Saturday at the Amphitheatre.

Pontiac said the new car will go on sale this week. Production is now under way at the division's home plant and four other plants across the country.

In making the announcement, John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac's general manager, said the new Bonneville will give car buyers who prefer the added head and leg room of a sedan the chance to also enjoy the luxurious interiors associated with the Bonneville series.

With the new sedan Pontiac now has a total of 35 models in its 1968 lineup.

★ ★ ★

At the Chicago Auto Show last year, Pontiac introduced its new sports car series, the Firebird.

SHOW CARS ON DISPLAY

Another highlight of the Pontiac display will be two customized show cars — the Costa del Sol and the Skin Diver.

Also sharing the spotlight within Pontiac's 9, 160-square-foot exhibit area will be 13 new 1968 Pontiac, Tempest and Firebird models including the GTO with its bouncy front bumper and recent winner of the Motor Trend Car of the Year Award, a Bonneville Brougham and a Grand Prix.

Of special interest will be an energy-absorbing steering column exhibit and a display of the Motor Trend Golden Calipers trophy presented to the GTO for the Car of the Year.

In addition there will be two cutaway engines on exhibit featuring Pontiac's exclusive overhead cam six-cylinder and the high performance V8.

CARRIES OUT THEME

On one of Pontiac's revolving turntables will be the Costa del Sol which is styled with a Spanish influence prevalent in the southwestern United States.

Pontiac's second show car is a Firebird 400 convertible named the Skin Diver. The exterior paint is a pearlescent yellow.

The interior carries out the skin-diving theme with pearlescent yellow vinyl accented with frost orange-red stripes on the seats and door panels.

In discussing the 1968 models, DeLorean said "great emphasis and much thought" was given to insure maximum safety for each occupant of the car. He listed the following new Pontiac safety features:

★ ★ ★

- New crushable armrests.
- Door hinges have been improved with steel stampings for additional strength.
- Windshield pillars have thick energy-absorbing padding.

Front seat backs also have padding along the top of the backs.

- Every passenger location will have a seat belt.
- Door handles are stamped steel instead of die cast to flex on impact and are designed to protect against inadvertent opening.
- New wraparound parking lamps have side illumination which is lit when the headlights are on.
- Padding is featured across the entire width of the instrument panel.
- The ignition key has been moved to a recessed position and the cigarette lighter will push flush to the panel under an impact load of 90 pounds.
- Rear side lighting is provided by side marker lamps.

NATIONAL WEATHER—Showers are forecast tonight for the Pacific Northwest, the Gulf Coast and the mid-South Atlantic states. Snow flurries will hit the northern Rockies, with snow mixed with rain due in the central Rockies region. The northern Great Plains can expect snow, also. Warmer temperatures are forecast from Texas to the Great Lakes.

Birmingham Area News

Open Housing Is on Agenda

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission will again take up the question of fair housing at its regular meeting tonight at 8.

The city's fair-housing ordinance, which bars discrimination in the sale of homes on the basis of race, creed or color, was suspended Jan. 22 with the filing of referendum petitions with City Clerk Irene Hanley.

After Miss Hanley reported last week that the petitions contained signatures of the required 1,984 registered voters (15 per cent of those in the city), tonight's discussion was scheduled.

The commission has 30 days from the date of the report to repeal the ordinance or determine to submit it to public referendum.

★ ★ ★

The decision to schedule a referendum must be made by March 1 if the ussue is to be placed on the ballot for the April 1 municipal election, however, the City Charter states that a referendum may be held in not less than 30 days nor more than a year.

PETITION DRIVE

The ordinance, passed Nov. 27 by the commission, provides for a fine of up to $500 or up to 90 days in jail, or both for riolations.

Shortly after passage, the Birmingham Referendum Committee, a citizens' organization, began circulating petitions calling for a public vote.

Also on tonight's agenda is confirmation of deficiency assessment rolls for four special-assessed paving programs

★ ★ ★

Programs and amounts of deficiency are Edgewood from Catalpa to Smith, $2,034; Elm alley north of Forest, $398; Floyd south of Lincoln, $832; and Lawndale from Hunter to Oakland, $1,136

Marines Push to Brink of Red Stronghold in Hue

SAIGON (AP) — Battle-weary U.S. Marines moving behind a protective umbrella of artillery pushed 400 yards through the rubbled ruins of Hue's Citadel today to the brink of one of the last Communist strongholds in Vietnam's old capital.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, the Vietcong slammed more rockets and mortars into Saigon and a few other cities today, but the Communists' "second wave" offensive appeared to be easing off considerably in its second day. One rocket hit a passenger terminal at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport, killing one U.S. serviceman and wounding 21 as they waited with 180 other GIs for planes home after a year in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

As the bloody battle for Hue raged through its 20th day, the Marines pushed to the southeast corner of the old walled Citadel. Then they turned right to begin a drive along the south wall toward the former Imperial Palace, where desperate North Vietnamese troops were dug in.

★ ★ ★

The Marines advanced about 400 yards and cleared the northeast wall of the old city.

ALONG WALL

South Vietnamese forces continued to battle their way along the stone wall on the western side of the Citadel, but the rate of their progress was not known.

★ ★ ★

The Vietcong flag still flew on a towering radio mast rising from the inner Citadel.

Low clouds prevented air strikes today.

★ ★ ★

The battle for Hue is the only fighting still persisting from the Communists' lunar new year offensive. But in the "second wave," the Vietcong shelled 47 cities, towns and military installations Sunday and made ground attacks on several.

★ ★ ★

"This is an economic way to do something without a significant loss of life on their part," said Lt. Col. Malcolm A. Sussel of Monterey, Calif., an operations officer at U.S. headquarters.

Woman Shot at Her Home by a Visitor

A Pontiac woman was in poor condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being shot four times by a visitor at her home.

★ ★ ★

Wounded at 1:53 a.m. yesterday was Frances Hardiman of 30 Hibbard. Police are hunting for a suspect in the shooting.

★ ★ ★

A witness to the shooting, Anne McCain, 36, of the same address, said an argument broke out between the victim and the suspect.

★ ★ ★

Police said she told them the man first shot into the ceiling and then shot the woman four times.

It Seems to Me . . .

United States May Attempt to Collect Long-Time Debt

Hang on to your hat!

Congress just may—"may's" the word—try and collect some of the international debt France has owed us since World War One. Get it straight. ("One"—not "Two.")

Our gold seeps to other nations, as France assists at every opportunity. Our cash position grows steadily worse. But we sit idly by and suck our impotent thumbs as France sneers at us openly over the $6,850,592,550.57 she owes us. Part of it covers 37 years.

★ ★ ★

The Agressive RFK . . . .

One ROBERT F. KENNEDY is definitely becoming more assertive.

Is he merely sending up a series of trial balloons to "see what he can see" or is he laying the foundation for an all-out campaign to land the Democratic nomination?

Aye—there's the question.

And no one can answer.

★ ★ ★

Robert lacks some of his older brother's suavity and personal charm, but he's a fighter and one that can figure shrewdly. And where does McCarthy fit into this picture?

★ ★ ★

Crooked Competition . . . .

You can't stop crooked schemers, but you can often detect them ultimately and toss 'em out bodily or stop their machinations.

Take the Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

In a few recent competitions the Russians won feminine events with "women" that were highly suspicious.

They weren't women at all.

They were men disguised.

★ ★ ★

Probably no one but the pesky Reds would stoop this low but nothing seems to stop them.

Hence, we have a new Olympic rule. Any contestant refusing to allow a sex review will be summarily dismissed.

"She" should be.

★ ★ ★

Further, any contestant who refuses to undergo a dope test at the time of performance will be barred. The Olympics were pretty clean until the Commies crashed the ranks. Also, if you haven't been advised, most of their "Olympic amateurs" are strictly professionals.

They're paid by the government.

Why are they allowed to compete?

Stiff Travel Tax . . . .

President JOHNSON's proposal for a stiff travel tax still incites boos and jeers. The U.S.-populace points an accusing finger and says: "Oh, yeah? We're to stay home, are we, while you spend billions — yes, billions — of our own tax dollars in foreign nations."

Boooooo Mr. President.

Follow your ideas yourself.

★ ★ ★

This act could surely keep scholars, young people's clubs, teachers and professors at home while others, including government officials, percolate as usual.

Try again, LBJ.

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

"Maybe A Little Bait Would Help"

David Lawrence Says:

Government Worker Poorly Paid

WASHINGTON — One of the most serious problems facing the American people today involves the cost of living and the payment of adequate wages to cover household expenses.

LAWRENCE

Some strikes by the workers are unwarranted and push the prices of goods higher, thus causing a drop in sales. But there are other strikes and work stoppages that are fully justified due to the inability of workers, both organized and unorganized, to obtain adequate compensation.

What is distressing at the moment is the plight of employes in the federal, state and city governments.

Laws of many states forbid strikes, so, in some instances resignations by groups take place on a broad scale. But the obvious fact is that this isn't the way to run governmental operations.

Sooner or later, state legislatures and city councils will have to come to realize that a more realistic way of fixing wage scales and putting them into effect promptly to meet inflationary trends is absolutely essential.

The government as an employer is affected by a system of dual management growing out of separate legislative and administrative responsibilities. Budgets are made up far in advance, and elected members of the legislative bodies, including Congress, are not eager to raise taxes.

What is a salary that will enable the average family to get along reasonably well these days? Not so many years ago $5,000 a year was considered big pay. The purchasing power of the dollar, however, has gone down substantially in the last 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Department of Labor declared in October 1967 that a "moderate" budget for an "average city family of four" required $9,191 a year.

At first $9,000 looks like a big wage or salary, but even this sum isn't "take-home pay." For by the time federal and state income taxes, as well as Social Security payments, have been deducted, the pay check has been materially reduced.

So when one reads of a strike by sanitation workers in New York City's government or the work stoppage by teachers in Florida and other states, it is evident that inadequate compensation to meet living costs has forced extreme measures.

Bob Considine Says:

Kicking Westmoreland Out Is Incomprehensible

NEW YORK—It is incomprehensible to me that there should be talk in Washington of kicking Gen. William C. Westmoreland upstairs to the post of chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

CONSIDINE

The contest in Vietnam is not professional baseball or football, wherein managers and coaches are fired for fielding the inadequate teams provided for them by the front offices.

What's happening in Vietnam is war, in several respects the most serious in which this country has ever engaged.

Gen. Westmoreland, who believes in the authority of the civilian over the military, is waging it precisely the way he has been ordered to: Constant pressure on the enemy until such time as the enemy chooses to come to his senses.

★ ★ ★

If he departed from that practice, he would be removed as instantly as Douglas MacArthur was, when MacArthur appeared to take a more hawkish view of the war in Korea than did the Truman administration and the then allies.

ABIDING BY RULES

Westmoreland is abiding by the rules as laid down; to make him the scapegoat of the growing uneasiness that his filled the country since the Vietcong attacks on the cities of South Vietnam would be grossly unfair.

He's a damned good soldier, as any man who has served under him can tell you.

One wire service story out of Washington which told of grumblings against Westmoreland in Congress, criticized him for his so-called "search and destroy" tactics as opposed to a "clear and hold" approach.

The freshman or freshwoman Republican congresswoman from Massachusetts, Rep. Margaret M. Heckler — superbly named, incidentally — went on TV to charge that the general is "engaging in the vain art of self-delusion."

"The general is certainly deluding members of the Congress," she added.

As for the relative merits of "search and destroy" and "clear and hold," that's six of one and half a dozen of another. If Westmoreland's troops search out and clean out the enemy—as they have been doing—that's certainly as commendable as "clear and hold."

★ ★ ★

As I understand "clear and hold," it means clearing the Vietcong out of a hamlet and then leaving enough troops there to hold the conquered place.

PROGRESS

We've been doing that for a couple of years. In the past six months the U.S.-trained teams of South Vietnamese civilians have gone beyond that.

They have moved into cleared hamlets, being held militarily by South Vietnam troops, built schools, hospitals, roads, instituted social services and encouraged democratic processes.

It will take a lot more than a fleeting terroristic raid by the Vietcong to eradicate that sort of progress.

Discusses Referendum on Troy Zoning Change

As the retiring Mayor of Troy I present my thinking on the current dispute regarding the rezoning approval granted Somerset Park. There is danger of dissention in Troy. I refer to the attempt to challenge the decision of the commission by seeking a referendum vote on the rezoning approved for Somerset Park.

★ ★ ★

To the claim that the zoning change violates our land usage plan—such plans are adopted by all communities as simple guidelines. A master plan is subject to revision and re-evaluation. It is not easy to lay out guidelines which cannot be erased if they prove unwieldy or unnecessary in years to come. Decision is a responsibility of those elected to public office.

Reader Comments on Killing of Policeman

Recently a police officer was killed by a bank robber. Where are all the bleeding heart societies? They were very vocal when a man was shot while running from a stolen car and the police in Pontiac. They claim to be interested in law and order yet they remain silent when a police officer is killed.

Where are the sob sisters and the politicians now when they are needed? Now is the time when they should be screaming, trying to stir this lethargic society of ours into action.

★ ★ ★

It is time to clean up our streets. I urge everyone to write Lansing and demand a law making mandatory a prison term for all felons convicted of a crime against a person. By "prison term" I mean a period of time no less than 20 years.

With all the talk about fighting crime, there's little said of who is to blame. If parents would do more to raise children in the house of God, we would see the crime rate drop. Dial Emergency

The National Observer

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is making plans to install a nationwide emergency telephone number for police, fire, and ambulance services. The number it will use is 911.

Establishment of such a system has been under discussion for some time.

★ ★ ★

The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice last year recommended use of a single nationwide reporting number, and U.S. Rep. J. Edward Roush, Indiana Democrat, has been urging congressional action on the proposal.

Much of the support for the system has come from those who have studied the uniform reporting service in Great Britain, which has used a single emergency number, 999, for more than 20 years.

★ ★ ★

When the system is completed, a caller anywhere in the AT&T system will be connected directly with local emergency-aid agencies by dialing 911.

The company said it planned to modify pay telephones to allow a caller to dial the emergency number without using a coin.

Junket . . .

Spokane Spokesman Review

A junketing four-member House subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank M. Clark, D-Pa., is setting a poor example by a trip to Tahiti, Australia, Singapore, South Vietnam, Hong Kong and Japan.

★ ★ ★

The committee started the trip less than a week after President Johnson ordered government employes to curtail foreign travel as a step toward plugging the dollar drain.

Committee members said their trip would not contribute to the balance of payments deficit. A Treasury Department official, however, disputed this.

★ ★ ★

Regardless, a question exists as to why a subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee feels it is necessary to take such a junket primarily to attend a highway conference in Australia.

★ ★ ★

The second session of the 90th Congress just got started and there certainly must be enough problems in Washington, D.C., to keep members busy. What they hope to learn on this junket—except possibly that it is warm and sunny in Tahiti—is difficult to understand.

PEANUT COOKIES

... old fashioned flavor for today's good eating.

Peanuts and peanut products have long been a flavor favorite for cookies. Be they home made or commercially baked, peanut cookies today seem to represent the best in old fashioned American baking traditions.

Here we've collected five choice cooky recipies, each distinctively different, yet carrying that good peanut flavor. Salted peanuts, peanut butter, peanut candy and peanut oil bring their unique taste and texture characteristics to these cookies.

In spite of the old fashioned heritage, today's peanuts are as modern and up-to-date as the United States peanut industry can make them. And new products appear frequently to add to your eating and cooking pleasure. For example, do you recall that it was only a few years ago when you ate your first salted in the shell peanut? And did you know that a peanut with fewer calories has been developed recently... one from which about half the natural oil has been removed?

Peanut butter has had some changes too. First came the homogenized (non-separating) product, today's creamy peanut butter. Then peanut chunks were added to make a companion product which appeals to many. Now peanut butter blended with crisp bacon-flavored bits or with jelly is available.

A real boon to good cooks is the more bland peanut oil now on the market. It's so versatile it is equally usable for salads, baking and especially deep-frying, where its high smoke point makes it particularly desirable.

You can bring some of the up-to-date, old fashioned flavor into your home today, with the cooky recipes below. So, start baking!

These man-sized cookies are hearty enough for the lunch box, yet elegant, too, with their slightly chewy texture chock full of salted peanuts and moist coconut.

PEANUT COCONUT COOKIES

1-1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine, soft
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped peanuts
1 cup flaked coconut

Sift together dry ingredients. Stir in sugars. Add butter or margarine, egg and vanilla and stir until well mixed. Blend in peanuts and coconut. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cooky sheets. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Fancied-up cereal cookies delicately flavored with peanut butter and frosted with chocolate—the quickest ever to make since they require no baking.

FROSTED PEANUT BUTTER CRISPIES

5 cups chocolate-flavored crisp rice cereal
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup peanut butter
1/4 pound marshmallows (18 to 20)
5 one-ounce milk chocolate bars

Pour cereal into large bowl. Melt butter or margarine, peanut butter and marshmallows in top of double boiler over boiling water. Stir until well blended. Pour peanut butter mixture over cereal and stir with spoon or mix with greased hands until cereal is evenly coated. Pack firmly into greased 9-inch square pan. Lay chocolate bars over top in single layer. Place in moderate oven about 2 minutes until chocolate is melted. Remove from oven and spread to form frosting. Cool at room temperature or in refrigerator until chocolate is set. Cut into squares.

Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Crisp midget meringues studded with bits of chocolate and peanuts are pretty enough for company, but the family may get there first. Surprisingly low calorie, too!

CHOCO-NUT CLOUDS

4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped chocolate-covered peanuts

Place egg whites, vinegar, vanilla and salt in bowl. Beat until soft peaks or mounds can be formed. Add sugar very gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture is glossy and stiff peaks can be formed. Lightly fold in chopped chocolate covered peanuts. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto paper-lined baking sheets. Bake in a very slow oven (275°F.) about 30 minutes, or until crisp, dry and lightly browned. Cool a few minutes, then remove from paper. (Since these cookies are really "dried out" as much as baked, you may place them in a preheated oven, turn off the heat, and leave the cookies to "bake" overnight, if you wish.)

Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Miniature cupcakes, marbled with peanut brittle and sporting cherry toppers to brighten your tea table or dessert service.

PEANUT BRITTLE CUPS

Topping:
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup crushed peanut brittle
12 maraschino cherries, quartered

Batter:
1-1/4 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup peanut oil
1/2 cup water
2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup finely crushed peanut brittle

Prepare tiny (1-inch diameter) cupcake pans with topping before making batter. Measure small dab (about 1/4 teaspoon) butter or margarine into each cup and place pans in oven a few seconds to melt butter. Remove from oven and place in each cup 1/4 teaspoon peanut brittle and 1/4 maraschino cherry. For batter, sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in center of dry ingredients and add oil, then water, egg yolks and vanilla. Beat with spoon until smooth. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff and glossy. Fold into batter. Fold in peanut brittle. Spoon into prepared pans. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) about 18 to 20 minutes, or until delicately browned. Remove from pans at once by loosening edges with sharp knife then inverting pan quickly over wire rack.

Makes 4 dozen cookies.

These delicate little cooky roll-ups are definitely in the party class: rich, with an almost candy-like crispness, and intriguing to the eye.

PEANUT LACE ROLL-UPS

1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup finely chopped, salted peanuts

Sift together dry ingredients. Add remaining ingredients and stir until well mixed. Drop by small teaspoonfuls onto greased and floured cooky sheets, at least 3-inches apart and no more than six cookies to a sheet. Bake one sheet at a time in a moderate oven (375°F.) 6 to 8 minutes, or until bubbly in center and brown around edge. Remove from oven and cool about 1 minute on cooky sheet. Then working very quickly, remove one cooky at a time and roll top side out around a wooden spoon handle or similar implement. Cool on handle until set, then remove to wire rack. If cookies get too firm to roll up easily, return cooky sheet to oven for about 30 seconds.

Makes about 2-1/2 dozen cookies.

Richey Tennis Indoor Champ

Young Netter Given Huge Ovation

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Even Cliff Richey's detractors had to give him a backhanded compliment for winning the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championship.

The ovation from the crowd of 4,000 in the Civic Center was genuine after the controversial 21-year-old routinely polished off Clark Graebner 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 Sunday—and so was Richey's smashing backhand passing shot.

★ ★ ★

From the baseline, the nation's No. 3 player from San Angelo, Tex., time and again passed Graebner as he rushed the net. It accounted for vital points in each of the four service breaks suffered by Graebner.

After Richey sent three consecutive backhands into the net in the third game of the opening set, he got the stroke under control and it became more effective than his forehand.

PASSING SHOTS

He climaxed the spectacular performance with three straight passing shots from the baseline to score the final service break in the third set.

When he was presented the winner's silver bowl in courtside ceremonies, Richey held it aloft but didn't approach the microphone. Asked why, he said, "I talked to them the other day."

★ ★ ★

He referred to his comments Friday after beating Jan Leschley of Denmark, the top foreign seed. Richey complained that the crowd rooted for Leschley, saying. "This is the only country in the world where they cheer against the home man."

Exam Is Feb. 27 in Hit-and-Run

A 26-year-old suspect in a hit-and-run accident awaits examination after his arraignment Saturday.

John H. Savers of Detroit, charged with leaving the scene of an injury accident, is in Oakland County Jail after failing to post $5,000 bond.

He was arraigned before Wixom Justice Elwood Grubb. Examination is set for Feb. 27 at 1 p.m. before Grubb.

The victim of the Friday afternoon accident, Felix J. Droz, is in critical condition at Botsford Hospital.

The 17-year-old, who lives at 28474 Alycekay, reportedly was struck while walking along the I-96 exit ramp to Wixom, said police.

The car left the scene and was found later in the Lincoln plant parking lot in Wixom where Savers was arrested, police said.

The United States has more than 97.5 million registered motor vehicles.

Pontiac Div. Local Voting on New Pact

Members of Local 658 at Pontiac Motor Division today are voting on the ratification of its local contract covering working conditions at the plant.

Balloting began at 5 a.m. and will continue to 9 a.m. tomorrow, according to local President Wayne Anable.

The results of the vote should be known by 11 a.m. tomorrow, he said.

Nearly 800 members attended a meeting yesterday at the union hall to hear an explanation of what had been accomplished by the pact. The contract covers such areas as work relief time, protective clothing and wage rules. A national contract was settled in January.

★ ★ ★

Anable said that voting is taking place in trailers set up behind the union hall, 984 Joslyn.

There are more than 81 million automobiles registered in the United States.

Trading Is Active

Market Makes a Small Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market made a small gain in active trading early today.

Gains outnumbered losses by more than 125 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 1.27 to 837.61.

The list moved upwards cautiously, with some of the higher-priced glamor stocks advancing and selected blue chips showing strength.

3-POINT GAIN

McDonnell Douglas gained about 3 points, Polaroid nearly 2 and IBM 1.

Gains of a point or more were posted for Alcoa, U.S. Smelting, Xerox and United Air Lines.

★ ★ ★

Down a point or so were Control Data and Boeing.

Steels, motors, rubbers and retails were narrowly mixed.

OPENS UNCHANGED

American Motors opened unchanged at 12¾ on 12,000 shares.

American Tobacco lost ¼ at 32 on 5,800 shares.

★ ★ ★

A steadier performance by the market last week and its ability to weather shocks of disturbing news from abroad made for a growing feeling of confidence that the list might be establishing a base from which it would rally eventually.

Gains in steel orders and housing starts encouraged Wall Street.

Doctor to Retire

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Morley B. Beckett, 66, director of the University of Michigan's Student Health Service, will retire March 31. Beckett, a native of Canada who is a naturalized U.S. citizen, joined the University of Michigan in 1946 as assistant director of University Hospital. Beckett served as assistant city health officer in Saginaw in 1928 and Isabella County health officer at Mount Pleasant in 1931.

Town Facing Plant Closing

Relocation Mentioned as Result of Strike

CHILDERSBURG, Ala. (AP) — Civic leaders are desperately seeking a solution to the impending shutdown of a strike-bound textile plant which threatens economic disaster for this town of 6,000.

The plant's closing would be "so big a blow to Childersburg that I hate to even think about it," Mayor Robert Limbaugh said. "It would be a terrible economic blow."

★ ★ ★

The Beaunit Fibers Plant, which employes more than 1,000 persons with an annual payroll of about $7 million, "is definitely closing," Gene Boykin, production supervisor, said Sunday.

"The staff is being relocated," he said. Boykin said he would not discuss the matter further pending a full statement from management.

WENT ON STRIKE

The textile workers at the $50-million facility went on strike Jan. 21 seeking a wage increase. They reportedly made about $2.25 an hour under the old contract.

Sources said the company offered an increase of about 25 cents an hour in wages and benefits, over a two-year period, which was turned down. It was not determined what the United Textile Workers Union was asking.

Pickets Sunday surrounded the plant, located in central Alabama near Birmingham. Other craft unions have members working at the plant, but there have been no reported attempts to cross picket lines.

Limbaugh said Sunday he hoped a solution could still be worked out. Charles O'Bryant, plant manager, was expected back from New York today.

Limbaugh said the Beaunit plant, together with the Kimberly-Clark newsprint mill, comprise most of the Childersburg economic base. Workers also come from several surrounding towns.

The Beaunit plant manufactures nylon cores of truck and automobile tires.

Britain Goes on Daylight Saving Time

LONDON (AP) — The government forced the British out of bed an hour early today, and a lot of them didn't like it.

It was a day of triumph for William Willett, a Surrey house builder who died 53 years ago and the inventor of daylight saving time. Britain has decided to go on daylight saving time permanently.

★ ★ ★

Technically this was T-Day-plus-one, but in practice it was T-Day.

The clocks went ahead an hour at 2 a.m. Sunday. But on Sunday morning a man could sleep late. Today he had to be at work an hour before the winter norm.

★ ★ ★

First to protest were England's 185,000 farmers. The change means an extra hour of darkness at morning chore time. Their union said it was prepared to try the new time—known as British Standard Time—as a year's experiment. But members had expressed so many objections it must oppose the plan to make it permanent, the union added.

Taxes' Share Grows

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — An amount equal to 31.6 per cent of the value of the nation's net output of goods and services will be collected in taxes this year to support local, state and federal government projects.

CUNNIFF

This percentage, highest in modern history, is an estimate by the Tax Foundation, a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization engaged in research and education.

This estimate does not mean that close to 32 per cent of everything somehow will go to pay government bills or that it will seep down the drain. But it does mean that this percentage of output will be taken for spending and redistribution by government rather than individuals or corporations.

★ ★ ★

Tentative estimates arrived at recently by the Tax Foundation and so far unpublicized indicate that federal taxes this year will rise to 22 per cent of the net national product, a record, while local-state taxes will remain at 9.6 per cent.

TAXPAYER AMMUNITION

These figures include sales, Social Security and excise taxes and assume a 10 per cent income tax surtax. They undoubtedly will supply added ammunition to many thousands of disgruntled taxpayers who, in the heat of recent debate, have forged their gripes into missiles aimed at Congress.

This taxpayer restlessness already has had a negative effect on President Johnson's attempts to impose a temporary surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes, and has also forced reductions in domestic programs.

★ ★ ★

The federal government's big bills result from an almost indescribable complex of responsibilities. Tax money goes not just for government administration, but for national defense, international affairs, commerce and finance, health, sanitation, civilian safety, transportation, education, highways, veterans benefits, welfare, agriculture and interest on debt.

Stated in terms perhaps more meaningful to the average person, the Tax Foundation estimates that Americans will work two hours and 26 minutes each eight-hour day to pay 1968 taxes. To own and operate their homes will take only 61 minutes.

TREND NOT NEW

Disturbing as this might be to most Americans, it is nothing new, for the percentages have been in their current areas for several years now. Although this year's estimate is the highest ever, it is larger only by a small percentage.

In 1966 the percentage of national product collected as taxes was a bit under 30, made up of 9.4 per cent local and state taxes and 20.9 in federal taxes. Last year it was 20.9 and 9.6, for a total of 30.5.

★ ★ ★

The entire rise this year, the Tax Foundation estimates, will be in federal taxes. The percentage of 22 exceeds any year in recent history, including the World War II and Korean War years.

The 1968 estimate compares with an extreme low of 2.9 per cent in 1931, when the federal government was less extensively involved in welfare or warfare, and when the country was undergoing a depression.

RISE AFTER STABILITY

The spurt in the federal percentage marks a significant rise after several years of stability, and even of shrinkage after the 1964 income tax cut.

But the dramatic rise in taxation in recent years has come not from the federal government but from state and local administrations, whose percentage has grown from 5.9 in 1948 to more than 9 since 1961, or better than 60 per cent.

Much of this state-local increase represents the demand for roads and schools that had been postponed during war years, after that to accomodate the crop of postwar babies, and still later for rising welfare costs.

Dr. George A. Bishop of the Tax Foundation feels that the percentage for state and local taxes might be leveling off. Military and defense needs and the degree of social problems may dictate the size of federal spending.

90 Arrested From Frisco's Hippie Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police hurled tear gas and marched into crowds in massed formations Sunday to clear streets of pedestrians who were blocking traffic in the Haight-Ashbury hippie district.

More than 90 persons were arrested.

★ ★ ★

Cars were backed up for blocks around, police said, and the crowds refused to get off the streets.

Police gave this account:

Two squad cars from Park Station answered the original trouble call but quickly summoned reinforcements.

20 SQUAD CARS

Some 20 squad cars arrived, along with five tactical command units and 15 motorcycle officers.

The police formed columns and used three-foot long batons to clear the Haight-Ashbury intersection.

★ ★ ★

Bottles were thrown from rooftops as the officers made their march.

After the arrests, clusters of people remained along the sidewalk, holding handkerchiefs over their noses as a heavy fog cover kept the tear gas fumes in the area. One youth donned a gas mask over his shoulder-length hair.

CROWDS SWELL

Police said crowds in the area had increased during a balmy summer-like afternoon. There was an unusual influx of young people and other visitors.

The disturbance continued from midafternoon until 8:30 p.m., when the police radio called in tear-gas equipment.

★ ★ ★

Officers at City Prison said charges against those arrested were mostly for failure to disperse, but included assault, resisting arrest and inciting a riot.

News in Brief

Four guns were among items reported taken in the break-in of a residence in West Bloomfield Township yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Larry Hayden of 2500 Horseshoe told Oakland County sheriff's deputies two shotguns, two rifles and about $30 in cash were taken. Some vandalism was also reported in the break-in, deputies said.

Injuries Fatal

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Abraham Jr., 15, of Dearborn Heights died in Wayne County General Hospital Sunday from injuries he suffered in an auto accident last weekend. The youth was the fourth teen-ager to die as a result of the accident.

Firm and Exec Sued by U. S.

Airports Service Lines Said in Pay Violation

The U.S. Department of Labor has filed suit in Federal District Court, Detroit, charging Airports Service Lines, Inc., Pontiac, and Louis Linteau, an officer of the corporation, with failing to comply with the minimum wage law.

★ ★ ★

The firm, at 431 E. Wilson, furnished airport limousine service for passengers, baggage and freight.

The complaint alleges that the corporation and Linteau failed to pay many employes the applicable minimum wage, and also violated the record-keeping provisions of the law since Oct. 2, 1965.

A judgment is being sought to permanently enjoin and restrain the defendants from future violations of the law.

★ ★ ★

Legal action followed an investigation of the corporation by the Detroit East Office of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Division.

The minimum wage became $1.60 an hour effective Feb. 1, 1968 for workers protected by the law since 1961 or earlier — those employed in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, and in certain large retail and service enterprises.

GMC Process Aids in Control of Pollution

A metal-plating process pioneered by GMC Truck & Coach Division has added a new dimension to pollution control through the use of a nontoxic solution in chemical baths.

Donald G. Hamaker, supervisor of production engineering laboratories, said sodium zincate replaces cyanide solutions in coating steel parts with a smooth silvery zinc finish.

He said the changeover gives the division the largest sodium-zincate plating installation in the nation. It has been operative six months.

"Our new installation gives us an excellent metal finish and also results in major equipment and labor savings through reduced water treatment requirements," he said. Although sodium zincate requires treatment before disposal, cyanide solutions must be specially treated before being discharged as waste.

★ ★ ★

This is the latest step in GMC Truck & Coach Division's continuing program to use nontoxic chemicals wherever possible. In 1961, it did away with cyanide in chrome-plating areas.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Just recently I received an unexpected $300. I want to invest this money with the idea of increasing it as much as possible over the next five years. After that time my son will be in college and will need help. I plan to add to this investment as soon as I can. Can you advise me as to a good investment? I know nothing about stocks. Would you advise a mutual fund?—V.M.

A—For your particular purpose I do not advise a mutual fund. There are a great many of these, mostly good but some quite frankly speculative. I believe you would do better to invest in a stock that has shown high gains in earnings and price over a period of years — a trend that should continue.

For your purpose, I suggest Avon Products which has had one of the best growth records of any stock on the Big Board. I advise you to put your $300 into that issue, and when you have additional funds, move into the Baxter Laboratories. Because of the vagaries of the market, I would buy no stock for your purpose unless you can hold for approximately five years — time enough for your investment to work out.

★ ★ ★

Q — I have never seen you comment on Keystone Custodian Funds. I own 500 shares of Keystone K-2. Is this a good enough growth stock for me to continue monthly investments? — G. B.

A — There are a number of Keystone Funds, all, in my opinion, well managed. Your Keystone K-2 aims for growth through common stock investment, and its performance in recent years has been about average. You have not told me your objective. If it is fast growth, you might do better by switching to Keystone S-3, another growth stock fund with better record in recent years.

Pontiac residents who have not yet returned civil defense questionaires received in the mail have been requested to do so by City Manager Joseph A. Warren, director of civil defense for the city.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac is one of 72 cities involved in a mail survey to evaluate homes for fallout protection. The questionaires are to be evaluated by computers.

A confidential report on the fallout protection of each home and information for improving protection will be sent to the homes, Warren said.

★ ★ ★

Stalin's Son Begged to Die

U.S. Reveals Details of Death in Nazi Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department documents show that Josef Stalin's oldest son, Yakov, was shot to death in a German prison camp in the spring of 1943 after pleading: "Guard, shoot me!"

★ ★ ★

Details of Yakov Stalin's death, an act bordering on suicide, were captured by allied forces in Germany in 1945, but were kept secret—even from Stalin, to spare him pain.

According to the documents from the State Department's historial office, Yakov surrendered to the Nazis on July 18, 1941, near the surrounded Soviet city of Smolensk.

In a concentration camp for important prisoners, he quarreled with his fellow captives and, despondent after one bitter dispute on the night of April 14, 1943, touched the wire of an electrically charged fence and pleaded with a guard to shoot him.

"Guard, shoot me!" he said at one point.

"Shoot! shoot!" he called out later.

"Guard, don't be cowardly," he yelled, his hands on the charged wire. He was shot through the head.

The documents were first made public in a story in yesterday's Washington Star and confirmed by the State Department.

★ ★ ★

American and British officials had documentation of Yakov's death shortly after the war, but they decided to keep it secret to spare Stalin grief, the Star reported in its story.

Stalin went to his grave in 1953 still ignorant of how his son had died, although it was generally assumed in Russia Nazi prison camp.

After the war, Stallin offered a that he had met his death in a $250,000 reward through an East German Communist newspaper for information about his son's fate.

FAST FOTWORK — These Marines, engaged in house-to-house fighting against heavily entrenched Communist positions in Hue, South Vietnam, find that fast footwork keeps a guy alive.

Major Bills— Their Status in Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Status of major legislation in brief:

TAXES — President Johnson asked for a temporary 10 per cent income tax increase. House Ways and Means Committee shelved proposal for third time, but said hearings may be reopened in March.

GOLD — Johnson asked for removal of requirement that gold be held in reserve for 25 per cent of paper currency. House Banking Committee approved it. Floor action planned this week. Senate Banking Committee also approved it.

RIGHTS — President asked again for bars on housing and federal jury discrimination, tough penalties for intimidation of rights workers. House passed intimidation bill, and Senate currently debating it. Senate passed jury discrimination bill which has been approved by House Judiciary Committee.

RIOTS —Administration supports bill outlawing travel between states to incite riots. House passed its own version. Senate Judiciary Committee considering House bill.

CITIES — Congress last year gave Johnson $312 million of the $662 million he asked for model cities program. This year he wants $1 billion. No action yet.

More Laws Eye Cleanup, Quiet

CHICAGO (AP) — The various tates in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air polution control, noise control and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearning House said well over 100 laws related o such proglems were passed across the country as compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the Mid-Atlantic States Air Pact which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Commerce Twp. Burglary Probed

Oakland County sheriff's deputies are investigatig the burglary of a plastics firm at 3331 Oakley in Commerce Township in which considerable vandalism was reported.

In addition to taking checks totaling $52, the burglars broke into coin machines, destroyed typewriters and spilled dye around the premises, deputies said. It was reportedly the fourth time the building was burglarized in recent months.

Return of Dog Has Some Jarring Consequences

POCA, W. Va. (AP) — The mutt hasn't come home this time. He may have been frightened off by the results of his first return.

The dog came back to the home of James Goodwin after Goodwin had given his faithful companion to Archie Moore. Both men live on Rout 1 Poca. Poca.

★ ★ ★

Goodwin started driving the dog back to Moore's home and, at the top of a hill, Goodwin's car met head-on one carrying Moore and his nephew.

Goodwin suffered a fractured skull. Moore and his nephew suffered facial lacerations. The dog ran away.

Crane Tips in Lift of Death Derrick

DETROIT (UPI) — A tragedy which claimed one life last week was nearly repeated yesterday when a 37-ton crane tipped over on a barge in the Rouge River.

★ ★ ★

The crane was being used in an attempt to pull, from he river bottom, another crane which plunged into the water Wednesday, carrying one workman to his death.

★ ★ ★

No one was injured in the Second mishap, but workers had to temporarily abandon their efforts to retrieve the body of Joseph Piksa, 57, of subrban Grosse Ile, from th submerged crane.
