Orders N-Testing but Halts Fallout

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
WASHINGTON—Lifting its three-year lid on atomic tests, the United States will set off underground nuclear explosions in the next few weeks to develop more advanced weapons.
"We have no other choice," President Kennedy announced Tuesday after getting word of Russia's third atomic blast in five days.
The American tests will start this month. Authorities indicated the first explosions will be small by atomic standards.
The aim: To improve battlefield arms like those now in the hands of U.S. troops in Europe and (2) to gain know-how for antimissile rockets.
Because they will be below ground and in laboratories—unlike the Soviets'—the atmosphere shows the U.S. tests will not produce fallout.

K Gets Report From Belgrade

Ghana Leader Beats Nehru to Nikita; U.S. to Welcome Envoys
MOSCOW—Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana beat India's Prime Minister Nehru into Moscow by 40 minutes today and presented Soviet Premier Khrushchev the first direct word from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, of the non-aligned summit conference call for peace talks.
In Washington the White House plans a cautious but warm welcome for two Belgrade conference envoys flying here to press for a new Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting.

gin discussion of the conference message calling for a meeting of Khrushchev and President Kennedy.
Nehru landed on Monday later for an official visit to the Soviet Union. It was not clear whether he would join Khrushchev in the appeal, although the Belgrade conference had asked him to.

View Possible U.S. N-Testing in Atmosphere

WASHINGTON—The possibility that the United States will have to resume atmospheric nuclear tests if the Soviets continue such shots was raised today by influential members of Congress.
Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said President Kennedy's order Tuesday for resumption of underground explosions "doesn't mean that we won't have to test in the air later."
Dirksen was one of the congressional leaders of both parties Kennedy informed of his decision before the White House announced it.

McNamara Says General Tried Election Swag

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today the reputation given Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was based in part on a finding that Walker had tried to influence the 1960 congressional election.
Walker was relieved of his command of the 3rd Infantry Division in West Germany last April pending an investigation of a troop education and indoctrination program he supervised.

Area to Receive Breather From Rain Forecasts

WASHINGTON—The weather has decided to skip the Pontiac area for a few days while forecasting rain, that is except for tonight when there's a chance of thunderstorms. The low will be about 58.
Mostly fair and warm, with temperatures averaging about 5 degrees above the normal high of 77 and normal low of 57, is the five-day forecast for the area.

A panel of financial and political experts last night urged an amendment to the Michigan constitution to create a charter township near Lansing.
Superintendent of schools William A. Shunk was moderator. Clarence Johnson, president of the Michigan Education Association, was the main speaker.

Car Firm, Union Yield to Urging by Kennedy

Sides Report Progress as Strike Deadline Is Extended to Monday

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers and General Motors reached a substantial agreement on economic areas of a new contract today but not in time to avert wildcat strikes by thousands of GM workers.
GM and the UAW, under the personal urging of President Kennedy to avert a weekend that would damage the national economy, made a pre-dawn announcement of "significant progress" in their negotiations.

The union then extended its strike deadline from 10 a.m. today to 10 a.m. next Monday and immediately sent telegrams to 19 local unions around the country telling them the weekend had been averted.

At Pittsburgh, 1,400 workers at a Fisher Body plant walked out at 10 a.m. Howard Burkhardt, an official of the suburban West Mifflin, Pa. local, said he had received no word on a strike deadline extension.

Another 3,400 workers walked out at the Chevrolet assembly and Fisher Body plants in Norwood, Ohio, and 1,500 men stayed off their jobs for two hours at South Gate, Calif.

Wildcat walkouts also were reported at Fisher Body and Chevrolet assembly plants in St. Louis. The actual announcement from Detroit came at 3:30 a.m. after 11 hours of marathon negotiations.

The formal statement said only that significant progress had been made during the night and the contract was being extended for five days.

But both sides made it clear that complete agreement was expected before the new deadline Monday.

The new air of optimism was a complete reversal from a week earlier when a deadlock prevailed only a few hours before.

"I'm an optimist," said GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton when he asked about strike possibilities.

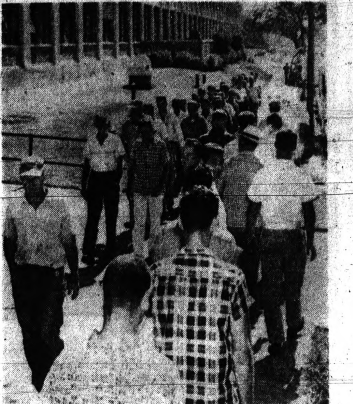

"I'd like to give you the inside story," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

The UAW also said industry the company had given ground to meet the union's economic demands. Pressed for details of the "progress" made, Reuther said, "I'd like to give you all the pleasant details." But he said they would have to wait.

Woman Stops En Route to Give Birth to Twins

MARION, Ind.—Mrs. Klossie Wells, 26, en route to her Detroit home from Mississippi, got as far as a station and a service station on Wednesday when the first of her twins was born.

Two state troopers helped deliver the child, a boy, minutes after Mrs. Wells gave the second twin. She was rushed to Marion General Hospital, where a girl was born. Attendants said both children and the mother were doing well.

GM WORKERS ON STRIKE—More than 6,000 workers went on strike today at Chevrolet and Fisher Body Divisions of General Motors in St. Louis, and some of them are shown here picketing the Fisher Body plant. United Auto Worker officials in St. Louis said the strike was ordered because no official notice was received of a strike deadline extension until Monday, announced by the national union in Detroit.

City Commission Hits Flight Cancellation

City commissioners went on record last night as opposing the cancellation of two North Central Airlines flights at Pontiac Municipal Airport.
Commissioners passed a resolution requesting that NCA reconsider the move. The flights, initiated June 1 on a trial basis, were dropped Sept. 1 because patronage was lower than the Civil Aeronautics Board minimum.

Slate Meeting in School Row

DETROIT (AP)—The Highland Park Board of Education and U.S. District Judge John Feikens met tonight with a citizens group to discuss the group's complaint that a Highland Park school is segregated.
After hearing the complaint Tuesday, Judge Feikens said he would issue an injunction to close the Thomson School. But he held up the actual order pending further discussion.

The school board of the Detroit suburb meanwhile delayed until at least Monday the reopening of all the city's schools, scheduled to resume today.

The Massachusetts Avenue Improvement Association charged a new district policy of the board would force children from an eight block square area to go to the Thomson School. Previously, they had the option of attending Thomson or other HIGHLAND PARK schools.

James Tabin, attorney for the school board, denied any intended segregation.
"No school board records are kept on a racial basis," he said. "This (new policy) is not a racial division nor under the desegregation mandate in any way. The two go equally through mixed areas."

Mrs. Helen Field, a board member, also said there has been no altering of districts in the Highland Park School Board. She said the school lies in a Negro district.

Judge Feikens said, "This court will not permit segregation whether contrived ingeniously or ingeniously."
The board will be inconvenienced by what I will do but I shall grant a temporary restraining order maintaining the status quo of last year.

News Flashes

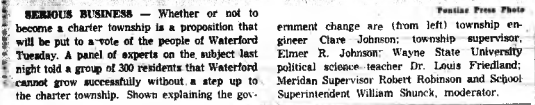

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House today passed a $900 million, two-year extension of two "time-tested" school-aid programs. The action was marked by bitter post-mortem over the death of President Kennedy's original education proposals.

DETROIT—The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit today says: "Radar shows thunderstorms near a line from Gladwin to Lansing to Alhambra. The thunderstorms will move across Macomb, Wayne, Oakland and Monroe counties between 1 and 4 p.m.; heavy rainfall and damaging winds are likely with the line of thunderstorms."

WASHINGTON—House national guard divisions are being put on notice they may be called to active duty, it was learned today.

May Ask Governors to Meet at Mackinac

LANSING — Gov. Swainson said today he may ask the National Governor's Conference to hold its 1963 meeting at Mackinac Island.

Swainson is a member of the conference's seven-man executive committee which will meet Thursday at Concord, N.H. to do some preliminary planning for next year's conference at Hershey, Pa.

"I have already discussed with the Mackinac Island State Park Commission the possibility of holding the 1963 conference there," he said. "It was last held there in 1945."

Afghanistan, Pakistan Clash

Countries Plan to Break Off Relations Because of Border Dispute

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan and Afghanistan, embroiled in a border dispute, apparently will break off diplomatic relations.

The Afghan charge d'affaires in Karachi, Mohammed Koshani, told newsmen Tuesday night he will close the embassy in accordance with an Afghan ultimatum to Pakistan Aug. 30. It warned that Afghanistan would sever relations unless Pakistan withdrew a directive ordering Afghanistan to close its consulate and trade offices.

Clashes between the two nations have been reported along the border. Afghanistan favors setting up an independent state among Pashtun tribesmen on Pakistan's frontier. Last month President Ayub Khan accused Afghanistan of responsibility for sedition and sabotage in Pakistan.

Kennedy Extends Holy Greetings to Jewish People

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has extended his greetings to Americans of Jewish faith who are about to celebrate Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish High Holy Days.

The observance begins at sundown Sunday.

"In every celebration of ending and beginning there is both the remembrance of tribulation and the anticipation of good," Kennedy said Tuesday.

40 Winks Essential, Sleep Study Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army scientists, intensely investigating the effects of sleeplessness, have discovered what many GIs long have known—that a loss of sleep time makes a wreck of a man.

Making public results of the study, the Army said scientists at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Medicine learned that "Under prolonged sleep loss the nervous system begins to behave something like a motor in need of a tune-up. It alternately misfires, runs normally for a while and fails again."

Soviet Mountain Climbers Die in Peril Attempt

MOSCOW (AP) — Three of the Soviet Union's top alpinists have been killed in a mountain accident on the Red Chinese border.

The Tbilisi newspaper Dawn of the East said the three alpinists from the Caucasus were killed while attempting to scale Mount Pobeda on the border between Kirghiz and Sinciang. They were identified as D. A. Medvedevskiy, T. M. Kukhlinidze, and I. N. Gabiani.

Seaman Gets $30,000 for Damages to Back

DETROIT (AP) — A former Great Lakes seaman was awarded $30,000 Tuesday in settlement of his suit for $100,000 damages from the Pittsburgh Steamship division of U.S. Steel Corp.

Thomas C. Artley, 23, of South St. Marie, a former coal passer, had sued charging that the company was negligent in connection with an accident in which he injured his back while working on the freighter Glis on Lake Michigan in 1958.

Small-Bang Missiles Set for Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relatively small-bang warheads for battle field nuclear weapons may be the first tested under President Kennedy's go-ahead orders.

The Defense Department and Atomic Energy Commission were silent on test plans.

But military officials suggested today that tactical nuclear weapons ranging from the explosive equivalent of 10 tons of TNT to 20,000 tons of TNT soon may be tried underground in Nevada.

Among these warheads are bombardment rockets like the Honest John, Little John, Lam

Cross, Corporal and Sergeant; and a nuclear shell for the eight-inch howitzer.

American forces facing the Soviets in Europe are armed with the 15-mile range Corporal and the 12-mile range Honest John among others. Many of the growing family of U.S. battlefield atomic weapons have become operational since the test moratorium went into effect nearly three years ago.

Sources said military experts know what these low-yield weapons can do, profiting from general nuclear experimentation before the suspension got in and relying on proper calculations. U.S. weapons have tested below ground level devices up to 20,000 tons in TNT equivalent.

There was obvious value in actually testing the warheads themselves. Certain quarters in the Pentagon long have contended the United States should resume testing. They argued this was needed for development of new weapons in a time of rapidly changing technology and to stay ahead of the Soviets whom some U.S. military officials believe were testing on the sly.

Military pressure for resumption of U.S. testing has been rising since the Soviets revoked their moratorium last week. The Soviets have made three tests in swift succession.

PUSHING SMALL MISSILES

The conclusion that these Soviet tests were in the low and medium range of power—rather than the superpowerful million-ton bracket—gave support to the belief that the Soviet Union may be pushing to match the United States in mobile, quick-to-trigger solid fuel missiles like the U.S. Minuteman ICBM and the submarine-launched Polaris.

Under terms of Kennedy's order, it would not be possible to test a Nike-Zeus antimissile missile against an intercontinental rocket.

However, such a test could be held if the President should broaden his order to permit nuclear experiments in space.

The Nike-Zeus, which still is being developed, is intended to intercept enemy ICBM in space or the edge of space—perhaps 90 miles up—to minimize the danger of radioactive fallout on areas being protected by the antimissile.

An official close to the Nike-Zeus project said there might be some value to detonating a Nike-Zeus warhead in an underground control test.

Mayor Wagner and Levitt in Bitter Primary Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner faces his biggest political test Thursday in a primary fight with the Democratic organization that elected him twice.

Wagner's fight against the city's regular Democratic leaders and their mayoral candidate, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, has divided all other races in the statewide primary balloting.

The campaign has been one of the most vicious in the city's history, with Wagner accusing the party organization of "bossism" and saying that his re-election would forever free the city of control by Tammany Hall.

Although Levitt is his opponent, Wagner has named most of his critics at Carmine G. DeSapio, leader of Tammany, the Manhattan Democratic organization and New York's Democratic national committee.

At one point, Wagner accused DeSapio of having tried to dictate to him. More recently, he accused DeSapio of planning a campaign against him that would pit racial group against racial group.

That accusation followed charges by Levitt that some of Wagner's campaign workers had spread scurrilous campaign literature designed to fan racial prejudice.

Levitt, saying he did not believe Wagner was responsible for the literature, nevertheless submitted exhibits of it to State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, who appointed an assistant to conduct an investigation.

RELIGIOUS ISSUES

Levitt and Lefkowitz, the Republican candidate for mayor, are Jewish. Wagner is a Roman Catholic.

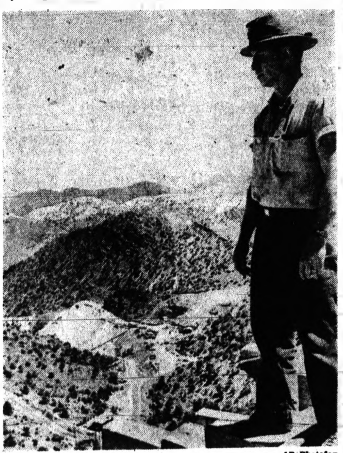

Wagner, 51, son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and other major New Deal legislation, was elected with organization backing in 1953 and 1957.

He is supported this year by a group of insurgent Democrats headed by former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The insurgents are seeking to gain enough district leadership seats to win voting control of Tammany Hall.

Political Fight Grows

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D.R. (UPI)—Opposition political leaders today demanded the dismissal from the army of Lt. Felix A. Hernandez Calcano, who shot and killed two members of the opposition UCN party in Moco Sunday.

About 23,000 Americans will die of cancer during the current year.

Robert Griffin Is Good Gubernatorial Prospect

Washington associates of Michigan's Rep. ROBERT P. GRIFFIN are spawning a Gubernatorial boom for him.

Capitol Hill's newspaper, "Roll Call," says his candidacy "seems likely." This probably means that it "seems likely" if the trial balloon ascends, sails and descends safely.

And why shouldn't it? The man's highly regarded.

Representative GRIFFIN became nationally known as the co-author of the LANDRUM-GRIFFIN Labor Bill. In the Nation's Capitol, this young and assertive Congressman has a host of friends who would willingly support his efforts to become Michigan's next Governor.

PAUL BAGWELL has about eliminated himself by his own resignation after his stirring battle with SWAINSON. Oakland County's GEORGE ROMNEY is probably a possibility and there will be others between now and the days of the succeeding primary. But the entrance of GRIFFIN would probably scare away a host of the self-starters who await general indecision and an absence of strong men.

Washington supporters of Griffin describe him as midway between Rockefeller's liberalism and Barry Goldwater's conservatism. The Traverse City man was urged to run for the Senate against Patrick McNamara and he debated with himself and his associates, but they rejected the idea. Griffin feels Swainson's early days have proved him to be "indecisive and wholly lacking in luster and acclaim." There will be other candidates but this one bears watching.

Law Will Cut Ceiling on Duty Free Articles

The American tourist returning home is in for a shock at air terminals and docks beginning Sept. 9. That is the date when the law goes into effect lowering from $500 to $100 the ceiling on duty free articles brought abroad.

We can easily visualize what a mess this will cause. Luggage will have to be really ransacked and checked carefully. As a result, long lines, with frayed nerves of our returning citizens awaiting the customs inspectors enforcing the new law.

What is now just gamesmanship — trying to get through the customs fast, with a minimum of inconvenience — will become a downright grueling experience.

All of this strikes us as a big step backward in the supposed modernization of customs procedures. Just a short time ago Americans were complaining that every time you traveled across a border in Western Europe, you had to fight your way through red tape.

This is not true now. Today you can go by train or plane from Britain through France and Switzerland to Italy without any rigid customs inspections.

Now we seem to be returning to the antiquated system that most European countries wisely abandoned.

The idea of clamping down on U.S. tourist expenditures is a result of last year's gold crisis. But, actually, this measure is not likely to help our balance of payments appreciably.

As a matter of fact, there are still many duty free goods that can be brought home or shipped back.

But most important of all, we are alienating ourselves with merchants abroad. They don't understand the broad issue and just figure our government is saying "don't shop abroad."

Actually there are very, very few tourists that exceed the $100 limit anyway. But to cut out the less than 5 per cent that do for the puny saving is just another gesture to give us a black eye.

It would be well for the administration to re-examine what it expects to gain from the new law.

It isn't surprising that ultra-conservative Republican Towers defeated equally conservative Democrat BLAKELY in race for the Senatorial seat vacated by Vice President JOHNSON. The majority of Texas Democrats are suspicious of any Democrat who is reputedly ultra-conservative.

David Lawrence Finds Out:

'Neutral' Nations—Anything But...

WASHINGTON — Maybe the 25 so-called "neutralized" nations thought they were building up their prestige by their "summit" conference just held at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, but the truth is they gave the world an example of why double-dealing doesn't pay.

This group of nations can hardly be called "neutral," for they do take a position on issues which they affect them directly.

They cannot truly describe themselves as "neutralized" because they have for the most part sought favors, financial and otherwise, from both sides—the East and the West.

The 25 nations sought to give the impression that they are not only against war but have become the chief opponents of all that is good and virtuous in international relations.

The sad fact is, however, that when the Soviet Union broke faith with the world and abandoned its pledges that it would not resume nuclear tests unless the West did so first, the voices of protest from the "neutralized" group were soft and almost inaudible.

It was indeed proof that they were "aligned" with the Soviets. For they failed to denounce the steps taken by Moscow—three nuclear tests in the air—during the very time the "neutralized" nations were actually in conference at Belgrade.

Former President Truman, who is by no means inarticulate on these matters, put it this way: "The only thing that pleases me is the fact that the neutrals got it. They got what's coming to them. They ought to take sides with the free world if they're going to survive. They're free now because we made them free. The Russians didn't do that. All the satellites they (the Russians) took after World War II are slave states now. You name one that isn't!"

The conference of the "non-aligned" was, however, a useful event in one respect. It exposed the hypocrisy of the "uncommitted" nations. They are "uncommitted" primarily because they want to derive benefits from both sides—the East and the West.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us, thou hast wrought for us all our works.—Psalm 124:8.

Peace does not mean the end of all our striving.

Joy does not mean the drying of our tears.

Peace is the power that comes to us from the light where God Himself appears.

—G. A. Shustart Kennedy

The Country Parson

A newly developed compound, epsilon amino caproic acid (EACA), may prove of great value in the prevention and treatment of the most crippling form of arthritis (rheumatoid) and related diseases.

Unfortunately, the manufacturer of EACA warns that (1) the compound is not available for commercial distribution, so don't ask your doctor to prescribe or obtain it for you; (2) the reported results are based on too few experiments on which to have definite conclusions; and (3) reports issued by investigators, other than those who addressed the meeting, are not hopeful than those presented by the original group.

tions and grants are added up, it will be found that these nations got many times more from the United States and its allies than from the Russians.

The impression made here by the Belgrade conference is a painful one. Officials in Washington were shocked to note that, in the resolutions adopted, there was no denunciation of the Soviets for resuming nuclear tests in the air.

Despite all the talk by Nehru of India about the importance of preserving peace, he himself was restrained in his comments.

The mission of President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Kats of the Mal, in coming to Washington on a special trip to persuade President Kennedy to negotiate with Khrushchev at a "summit" conference, is something of an anti-climax.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Clinic Fails to Discover Weather-Rheumatism Link

The recent meeting of the American Rheumatism Association yielded a number of interesting observations. Unfortunately none that offered more than symptomatic relief to those who are presently afflicted with joint disturbances.

Here are some of the highlights of the meeting: Although many patients with arthritis feel increasing discomfort and pain in bad weather and note improvement when the air becomes hot and dry, efforts to confirm these observations in a scientifically controlled climate chamber proved unavailing.

Ten patients spent a total of 242 days in the chamber. The effects of varying temperatures and barometric conditions were studied. But no single climatic factor could be shown to produce any consistent change in the affected joints.

Nevertheless, the experimenters still believe (as do most arthritides) that weather conditions influence both joint swelling and joint pain.

The child who does not develop a heart complication during the course of an acute attack of rheumatic fever will probably not develop this complication at a later time.

Therefore, the physicians of New York's Irvington House do not recommend a long period of bed rest for the youngster whose heart appears normal during and immediately after the acute attack.

That both parents and parents are relieved of the strain of extended convalescence and of the loss of future disabilities.

A newly developed compound, epsilon amino caproic acid (EACA), may prove of great value in the prevention and treatment of the most crippling form of arthritis (rheumatoid) and related diseases.

Unfortunately, the manufacturer of EACA warns that (1) the compound is not available for commercial distribution, so don't ask your doctor to prescribe or obtain it for you; (2) the reported results are based on too few experiments on which to have definite conclusions; and (3) reports issued by investigators, other than those who addressed the meeting, are not hopeful than those presented by the original group.

So, if you come across any

Here was a group of nations which profess to be against war and especially against colonialism. Yet they fail to stand up to the biggest practitioner of colonialism in the modern world—the Soviet Union.

The "neutralized" may have thought they would gain prestige by the Belgrade conference. In truth, they have lost the respect of many other governments.

For most of the group of "non-aligned" now are considered "aligned" with the position of Moscow, though professing not to accept its doctrine.

The Belgrade group seems to be willing to equate the evils of aggression—as evidenced in the Berlin issue—with the heroic efforts of the West to preserve peace and save the "neutralized" nations themselves from being enslaved.

This is a good example of what is wrong with most papers today. They are controlled by men who either state the news the way they believe or hide it in the back of the paper.

I have noticed also that whenever a union or an official union does something wrong that it is front page material but when it is someone from big business the article is always in the back pages. It is the same when it involved the Democrat and Republican parties. Bad Democrats are front page material, but bad Republicans are buried somewhere in the back of the paper or the story is not printed at all.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Make Colleges Use 'Horse Sense'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.
Case J-487: George G., aged 45, is a member of the Nebraska state legislature.

"Dr. Crane," he asked me recently, "We are constantly being urged to appropriate more money for new buildings at our various state universities and teacher's colleges."

"I am very much in favor of education, and as much free schooling as we can offer, but we can't go on forever increasing aid tax rates, even for such a public welfare."

"So what is the solution?"

"HORSE SENSE IN COLLEGE."

More "horse sense" on the part of our colleges! Despite the widespread clamor that we shall have twice as many college teachers by 1975, and that many educators are sending up "trial balloons" to get legislative favor, let's face facts.

Our legislators (and college boards of trustees) should just demand more American ingenuity efficiency on the part of the colleges before you grant them any more funds.

Our colleges can handle their present enrollments and without an extra cent of appropriations, either for new classrooms or for any new teachers.

Read that sentence again for it is gospel truth!

Reader Offers Suggestion Concerning Berlin Crisis

In connection with the Berlin crisis, only one way of "saving face" all around suggests itself. Seat both Germans in the U.N. and remove U.N. headquarters to West Berlin creating a free city under U.N. mandate.

This may attract West Germany, but Germany's arbitrary conduct in punishing her interests is well large in past history.

In view of the broader interest of human survival it seems wiser to afford a country that provokes a power like Russia commanding potential to initiate the nuclear destruction of our planet.

Not-Consensus

'Is Our Constitution Being Violated?'

(Editor's Note: Below is an open letter to Senators Kefauver and Gore.)

Every employee in this mill, in a personal handwritten note, begged you to protect them by voting against foreign aid.

As expected, you answered these sincere petitions in the customary rule, arrogant manner of a master, instead of a servant, and then proceeded to vote down the employees down the river, as usual.

Now this question. You both swore a sacred oath to support the Constitution of the U.S.A.

Unless you can outline the action of the constitution that permits you to vote American jobs, American savings, and American payrolls into the laps of foreigners across the sea, are you not guilty of violating your oath of office?

Is that not treason?

It would appear that over 100 years ago that Tom Canning gave the proper prescription for handling characters such as yourselves. He said:

"Because with a Congressman? Such a Congressman is a hawk. The only remaining he understands is when you club him on the snout."

Perhaps we had better change our tactics.

Says Story, Apology Deserve Same Spot

When Soapy Williams was hit on the chin it was from page material, but when a Southern Rhodesian official apologized for the incident, the article got on page 18. I think that if it was true page material, the same he was hit should be the same when he received the apology.

This is a good example of what is wrong with most papers today. They are controlled by men who either state the news the way they believe or hide it in the back of the paper.

Make Colleges Use 'Horse Sense'

All we need to do is schedule a 2nd shift "shift," just as if it were a 2nd shift. College students are not different from other people. They can run on double shifts of workers.

Our present classrooms, microscopes and other lab equipment would be used during the 2nd shift. The present school enrollment, but if we need it, we could run a 2nd shift and handle the number.

College students are adults in physical and mental age, so they don't need to be limited to grade school hours of 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Let the 2nd shift start at 3 or 4 p.m. and run through 8 or 10 p.m.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "But what about the extra faculty members needed to handle that doubled enrollment?"

Again, use "horse sense" which has been obviously lacking on our college campuses for 300 years in America.

The typical college professor today handles an average of only 12 students, whereas each high school teacher handles 24.

Why shouldn't college professors as hard as high school professors and thus raise that Student-Teacher ratio from 12:1 up to 24:1, where it is easily could be?

Then the present college professors would be handling twice the present college enrollment, without adding to their number at all! And that added number of millions per prof would permit a 50 per cent jump all the way along the line in salaries—add without one cent of new appropriations from our state legislatures!

The only new buildings needed to accommodate double our present college enrollments would be been carried in the same location as the original. That's been our policy for 119 years. The other charges are too silly to discuss.

Officers Must Know About Communism

While Khrushchev threatens us with hundred million ton TNT bombs our Washington eggheads wish to silence armed forces of officers in teaching troops horrors of communism. $50, Salami May Get You Over to Europe in Future

NEW YORK (UPI) — You probably haven't heard much about it lately, but H. B. Cantor is still plugging away at making a $50 ship fare to Europe a reality.

Cantor's theme could well be "Nobody knows the trouble I've seen," And he could add, "Nobody knows the money I've seen go out."

Cantor, whose name rocketed into headlines a few years back when he announced he was going to build 20 90,000-ton super liners capable of carrying 6,000 passengers at fares ranging from $50 to $125, says he's already put three-quarters of a million dollars into his idea. As yet, the liners still are only on paper.

But Cantor isn't discouraged or planning to abandon his idea for the liners Peace and Good Will.

"I know it — I will see them sail," he emphasized. "You think I'm a sucker to put this time and money in."

Cantor, a successful New York hotelman, leaves no doubt he feels he was sabotaged in Washington every time he tried for federal assistance and guarantees to build his $30-million-a-ship liners. Several times congressional bills to open the way to building the liners either died or were killed by opposition.

OVERSEAS FINANCING — Frustrated by official Washington, Cantor turned toward overseas financing and construction.

Preliminary construction contracts were signed in 1959 with the Deutsche Werft Shipyard in Hamburg, Germany — subject to his securing financing. And that's where the project stands today.

Cantor still is searching for the financing.

Cantor says he'll reserve 20 per cent of the space on his ships for the $50 passenger. He feels he'll make his money from the "higher priced room and the big spender."

Aid Father of 8 Whose Home Was Destroyed

A Pontiac city employee and father of eight, whose home burned to the ground Labor Day, is in desperate need of help—and his fellow workers are doing something about it.

Department of Public Works employees are pitching in with contributions of clothing, food, linens, bedding and furniture for the destitute family.

Robert A. Nichols, his wife and children were at a drive-in theater when their home at 3119 Buckner Road, Orion Township, was destroyed by fire.

"Fortunately no one was injured, but they lost just about everything they owned," said Clyde Christian, DPW superintendent.

"Anything people can donate will be greatly appreciated. Items may be brought to the DPW of 805 in City Hall or the Lake Street Yard," Christian explained.

"If items are too bulky, we would be happy to pick them up," he added.

The Nichols have four boys, ages 8 months, 2, 4 and 8 years; and four girls, ages 4, 5, 7, and 10.

U.S. Misses Teach Reds New Tactics

South Rises Again--at Berlin Border

By HARRY FERGUSON

BERLIN (UPI)—A task force of four pretty American school teachers has won a decisive battle against the government and armed forces of Communist East Germany.

Under escort of the United States army, they swept triumphantly past the bayonets of the East German Communist police into East Berlin.

It was a hard fight for Susan Watkins of San Francisco, Mollie Magill of Riverside, Calif., Ann Moore of Burbank, Calif., and Miss Catherine Ozmon of Portsmouth, Va.

At one point Miss Ozmon who has a sorghum molasses accent, fled from the East Communist police faster than the "damn Yankees" ran at Bull Run.

The four girls arrived in Germany two weeks ago to teach in the U.S. Armed Forces school at Pirbright, and decided to spend their Labor Day holiday in Berlin.

On Sunday they went to the check point. In the American sector where foreigners with the proper credentials can cross into East Berlin.

Their handicap was that they did not have any credentials, but they began digging close enough to the border line to attract the attention of a Communist policeman.

Then they took one step too many and technically were over the border. The Communist police started running toward them with a fixed bayonet. He and the American line wavered, then broke.

As Miss Ozmon explained it: "Ah ain't much of a one for guts and glory. That Commie yadder munterin' to 'em. He was comin' hold on, and he was running his mouth inhuman. Ah says to the girls we better get outta here, but ah didn't wait for an ansuh. Ah just took off for the rear."

American military police came to the assistance of the other three girls and arrived at a compromise by moving them slightly back toward the American sector. An orange chalk line was drawn on the pavement for the future guidance of the girls.

The U.S. task force returned to the border Monday but still without credentials. Their arrival lifted the morale of the American soldiers on duty, but the girls were reminded of the of the orange chalk line.

A "music duel" was under way between sound trucks on each side of the border. In honor of Miss Ozmon the western sound truck was playing a Southern spiritual with this refrain, "I'm going to lay down my sword and shield down by the riverside. I ain't gonna study war no more." The Communist truck retaliated with "Never on Sunday."

NO TIME, NO HOW
"Never on any day," said Miss Ozmon when asked if she planned to go up to the orange line and take some pictures. "Ah know where mah place is and ahm keepin' it."

An American staff car containing a driver and Capt. Wayne Spilker, bound on a tour of East Berlin, stopped at the check point. The captain stood up the situation and invited the four girls to go with him. Credentials or no credentials. All of them except Miss Ozmon accepted and climbed into the car.

Miss Ozmon was urged to have courage. The names of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson were invoked. The cause appeared to be lost when this correspondent suddenly said: "Capt. Spilker is a Southerner, too. From Miami, Fla."

"Well don't say," exclaimed Miss Ozmon. "Under those circumstances, ah'll be glad to go."

She climbed boldly into the front seat and began giving the driver an earful of molasses as the American car slowly went past the barrier and picked up speed into East Berlin.

To Drown Cars in Safety Study

Sponsors Working on Project for Life-Saving Under Water

WILLIAMSTON (U)—The hand brake was released today and a unique car-dunking safety project gained momentum at a water-filled gravel pit in this central Michigan community.

OPERATION SPLASH
The project—"Operation Splash"—involves the dropping of automobiles into the pit in what has been described as the first intensive study of the most practical means of escape and rescue after a car plunges into water.

The American Red Cross, Eastern University and the Michigan State Police are cooperating in the series of tests, lasting through Sept. 16, in which seven cars will be submerged seven times at times.

Three trial runs were made Tuesday, said Bernard Kuhn, technical director for the project. Kuhn, an Indiana University graduate student, said it was too early to draw conclusions from the information gathered.

It took three minutes and 10 seconds for a car to sink in 12 feet of water Tuesday, he said.

At the start of the tests state police skin divers will watch results from outside the submerged cars. If the project's director is convinced there is no danger, the skin divers later may ride the cars down as passengers.

Instruments will measure the amount of air trapped in each vehicle and how long it takes to escape. The autos will be dropped from launching platforms into the pit and retrieved by a Highway Department crane.

CARS DONATED
A Lansing auto salvage firm donated six old cars and General Motors Corp. gave the researchers a new one.

The agencies conducting the tests said more than 400 motorists a year lose their lives when their cars plunge into water.

Gibson Airlifts 5,000 to Sales Convention

DETROIT (U)—What is reported to be the largest commercial jet airlift in history got under way Tuesday when the first of 35 flights carrying over 5,000 representatives of the Gibson Refrigerator Division of the Hupp Corp. left Metropolitan Airport here bound for Jamaica and Panama.

The airlift is the firm's fourth annual overseas sales convention. Gibson dealers from all over the United States will be flown by chartered Braniff International Airways Boeing 707s to the Republic of Panama to attend business seminars and preview Gibson's 1962 product line.

C. J. Gibson Jr., president of the company which is headquartered in Greenville and F. S. Gibson Jr., board chairman, were hosts to today's first group of 147 passengers.

Russians to Kill Group Attacking Police Station

MOSCOW (U) — Four men convicted of attacking police headquarters in the town of Aleksandrov have been sentenced to die before a firing squad, the newspaper Evening Moscow reported. Five accomplices received 15-year prison terms.

The report said the men were attacked the police station in Aleksandrov, about 30 miles northeast of Moscow, after "interfering with policemen in the performance of their duties."

It was the second group sentenced to death in three weeks for raiding a police station. On Aug. 17 three men were sentenced to be shot for taking part in an attack on the station in Mironov, 170 miles east of Moscow.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essential for normal regularity. As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon will also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrink that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulk and motioners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and grip the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAL gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAL moistens dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAL's unsualled rubbing action helps restore flabby colon muscles. Threaten to Close Laundry; Health Ruling Not Met

By DON FERMOYLE
WALLED LAKE — A Waller Lake laundry, where a unique filtering unit was installed only eight months ago to prevent lake pollution, will be closed down unless it meets city and state health requirements.

City councilmen warned last night that the Lake Automatic Laundry, 132 W. Waller Lake Drive, must meet health standards immediately if it is to remain open.

The action resulted from an investigation of the laundry by Larry Lamont, city health officer, who said water passing through the filtering unit was again polluting Waller Lake.

The filtering unit was installed following a warning of closure issued by the council last winter. The closure warning was lifted when the filtered drain water met with city health requirements after the machine was put into operation Jan. 16.

DETERGENT CONTENT
Lamont told the council that the laundry water pouring into the lake contains a high detergent content. He produced a sample of the water at the meeting.

The pollution was caused by lack of filter maintenance, according to Lamont. He said the owners did not take care of the pollution problem when they felt "there was no pressure on them."

The health officer reported that polluted water was escaping into the lake through a broken filter in the unit, the first of its kind installed in Michigan.

The unit is manually operated and requires maintenance to prevent breakdowns, Lamont said. It was installed by the MacBride Design and Manufacturing Corp. of Hialeah, Fla.

Lamont and a spokesman for the company that installed the machine said a new one installed, requiring less maintenance, may be purchased by the owners of the laundry.

The council indicated that the present machine should be repaired or a new one installed in order to meet health requirements.

ALSO ON AGENDA
In other action, the council agreed to extend the eviction deadline on three homes in the Tri-A Subdivision.

Eviction notices were served by the city because of a health hazard which, city officials said, resulted from poor drainage in the subdivision.

Lamont and City Manager Harold Millspaugh said the firm which built the subdivision had offered to donate $500 and a vacant lot to be used as a drainage field for the three homes.

The Tri-A Subdivision Association, which has retained an attorney to represent the homeowners in the eviction case, was meeting at the same time the council was in session last night to decide if the company's offer would be accepted.

Millspaugh estimated total cost of the drainage project at $1,500.

Miss State Fair to Be Crowned

Swanson to Do Honors Today; Also Schedule Livestock Auction

DETROIT (UPI) — The Michigan State Fair today will be highlighted by the crowning of a Miss Michigan State Fair of 1961 by Gov. John B. Swanson.

Today is Agriculture Day at the fair and the Governor is also expected to attend the grand champion livestock auction in the coliseum.

Tomorrow will be Old Times Day with the day's festivities being devoted to selection of the bestest head, nimblest at counting, oldest woman, oldest man, prettiest hair, longest mustache and the longest married couple.

Friday is Family Day, with the program planned with special emphasis on events interesting to the family.

The fair includes many exhibits and a large carnival midway. Included are continuous parades and band concerts.

Teachers' Day will be Saturday, when 30 outstanding educators will be honored at a special luncheon.

EVERY NATIONALITY
International Day, Sunday, will feature groups from every nationality in the Detroit area performing in the music shell stage.

Again this year, following the free grandstand show staged twice daily for the first 100 days of the fair, the 550-mile stock car race will be held on the closed Sunday.

The farm and horse show will continue at the Coliseum tonight and tomorrow night. Highlighting these programs will be the appearance of the Detroit police mounted drill team and a parade of champions from the junior livestock and senior division judging.

Kitchen hands, made up of senior citizens from cities and towns throughout the state, will compete for the first time as one of the highlights of Old Times Day tomorrow.

Eight barbershop quartets and four choral groups will perform for the first time at the fair Saturday afternoon and evening. The 10-day fair closes Sunday.

Nancy Wickman Bride

Honeymoon in North

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thure Wickman of 3763 Walden Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duval of 4573 Rochester Road, Troy.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess line gown of Chantilly lace and crystal tulle, featuring a lavishly beaded neckline with Venetian lace.

Clusters of jeweled petals formed the hairpiece which, secured by veil of silk tulle, her bridal bouquet was a semicircular arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and lily.

Mary Louise Liebert of Lake Orion served as maid of honor while Thelma Teamer of Pontiac and Gretchen Clark of Lake Orion were bridesmaids.

Best man was Fred Alessandri of Detroit. Allen Wickman of Clawson, a brother of the bride, and William Duval of Battle Creek,

WED 80 YEARS—The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Zach C. Boerhertz, 125 Griggs St., Rochester, will be celebrated at an open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The affair will be held at the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Boerhertz, 347 Northwood St., Rochester. Besides John, the couple has another son, Frank, and a daughter Lucille, both of Rochester.

New Defense Group Will Meet Saturday

The newly formed Northeast Oakland County Civil Defense Council, which includes representatives from nine area municipalities, will hold its first regular meeting at 9 a.m. Saturday in Rochester.

The council, which was organized to coordinate efforts of member communities in civil defense, include the city of Troy, the villages of Rochester, Lake Orion and Oxford and the townships of Avon, Oakland, Orion, Addison and Oxford.

Clarence F. Long, Troy civil defense director, will report on the program in his city, and a discussion of radiological warfare will be held at Saturday's session.

The council, which was formed at two organizational meetings held late last month, plans 11 meetings during the next 24 months to investigate present facilities, needs and problems of civil defense in each participating community.

Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., of 412 Woodward St., Rochester, is chairman of the new group.

ADDITION TO COUNCIL
Besides local civil defense directors and their deputies as permanent members, Dr. Geist said the council also will have representatives from Michigan State University, Oakland, Michigan Junior Christian College, a local school district and a clergyman from each community.

One of the major purposes of the council will be to instruct residents of the Northeastern Oakland County area of the preparations which should be made and the facilities which will be available to them in case of a disaster.

Some of the topics to be covered during the next 24 months are home shelters, martial law, medical facilities, communication, fire protection, welfare, engineering and schools in civil defense.

The final meeting of the series, slated for Nov. 13, will cover the discussion of population response to thermobaric war protection.

The meeting Saturday will be held in the Rochester Municipal Building, 400 Sixth St., Rochester.

14 Million Kids Given Lunches

U.S. Furnishes More Money to Aid Schools in Depressed Areas

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department today announced a record number of children would be served lunches this school year under the national school lunch program.

The department estimated the program, which began in 1946, would provide lunches for more than 14 million of the 46 million children in schools.

Last year some 13.6 million youngsters ate a complete lunch daily in school through this program, which is operated cooperatively with state and local agencies.

Some of the increase this year will come as the result of a special $2.5-million fund authorized by Congress to furnish commodity assistance to schools in some depressed areas.

The department said federal contributions this year in the school lunch program will reach $208 million. In fiscal 1961, federal contributions totaled $225 million in cash and commodities.

The 1962 outlay for the school feeding program will include cash grants of $88.6 million, supplemental purchases of food in plentiful supply worth $63.4 million and about $100 million worth of commodities donated out of stocks acquired in price-support and surplus-disposal operations.

In 1961, more than $1 billion worth of food, equipment and services were required to provide the 2.3 billion lunches consumed by school children participating in the program.

Payment of this billion-dollar lunch check comes from three basic sources. Roughly 60 per cent of the cost is paid by the children. The remaining cost is about equally divided between state and local sources and the federal government.

Award 2 Area Girls Nursing Degrees

Two area girls will receive bachelors' degrees tomorrow evening from the Harper Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit.

They are Jacqueline R. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Moore, 57 Brabb Road, Oxford Township, and Barbara L. Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Teague, 1409 Livernia Road, Avon Township.

Graduation exercises will be held in the Packham Memorial Building, Detroit.

22,942 Drivers 'Hit'

LANSHING UP—The secretary of state's office reports 22,942 drivers have had their licenses canceled, revoked or suspended during the first six months of the year through activities of its Driver Improvement Bureau. The total through last August was 18,062. The total probably is going up because more repeaters are being interviewed, the bureau said.

To Relocate M82 Area

LANSHING UP—Land surveys have been started for the relocation of about 15 miles of M82 in Oceana County from southeast of Shelby east to Hesperia, the State Highway Department reports. Surveys also are being started for modernization of 1.5 miles of U.S. 131 in Cadillac.

Residents to Meet Con-Con Candidate

ROCHESTER — More than 20 Avon residents will have the opportunity to meet 3rd Legislative District con-con candidate Asher N. Titcher at a coffee hour tomorrow evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Coyle, 203 South St.

The Coyle's will host the West Bloomfield lawyer-businessman at their home at 8:30 p.m. Titcher is a Democratic candidate for Constitutional convention delegate in Monday's election.

Coyle pointed out that anyone in the Avon area interested in meeting Titcher and hearing his views on convention issues is welcome to "drop in and share coffee and conversation with the candidate."

OK Request to Borrow

OAK PARK—The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved Oak Park's request to borrow $61,000 in special improvement bonds for street improvements.

In Lady of Lakes Church Couple Weds in Noon Rite

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Our Lady of the Lakes Church in Waterford was the setting for the noon wedding Saturday of Sharon Rose Herald and John Thomas Jidas. Rev. Frederick Delaney performed the service.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Herald of 5795 Pine Knob Road, wore a gown of silk organza for her wedding.

It was styled with long sleeves, a Sabrina neckline of rosepointe lace edged with seed pearls, and a full skirt ending in a chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from seed pearl and crystal crown, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Lawrence Hollerbach. Joy Trammel and Judy Cohoon were bridesmaids while Cathy Halsey, cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

Assisting his brother as best man was Forrest Jidas. Other brothers, Donald and James Jidas, were ushers. All are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jidas of 3111 Indianwood Road, Orion Township.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Pontiac. After a honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the newlyweds will live at Lake Orion.

Pushes President of UAW Local but Is Released

DETROIT (UPI) — Eugene Hanatyk, 43, of 2124 31-Mile Road, Ray Township, was free today following an incident in which he pushed the president of an UAW local and injured him seriously.

Detroit police said they freed Hanatyk after he admitted pushing Plymouth auto plant UAW Local 961 President William J. Kelly, 66, during an argument Monday night. Hanatyk was released pending a formal complaint.

Kelly, who lives in Detroit, struck his head on the floor and suffered a possible fractured skull. Hanatyk had been president of the local before Kelly.

Expect Battle in Southfield Mayor to Challenge the Legality of Contract Signed by Council Head

SOUTHFIELD — A fight is expected at next Monday's council meeting in Southfield when Mayor James Clarkson challenges the legality of a contract signed by Council President C. Hugh Dobany.

Dobany, the city's mayor pro tem, signed a contract, giving Gerald Eastlick the post as assessing consultant while Clarkson was on vacation last week.

Clarkson said today he will seek the opinion of City Attorney James C. Allen on the matter. According to the city charter, Clarkson said, the acting mayor has authority to sign a contract if the mayor is unable to perform his duties.

Dobany and Clarkson disagree on the interpretation of that section of the charter.

FIRING AS ASSESSOR
Clarkson fired Eastlick from his former position as city assessor in June 1960 and later named Myron Greenfield to replace him. However, the council refused to confirm Greenfield's appointment.

Council members then appointed Eastlick to the newly created position of assessing consultant, an action which the mayor vetoed.

The council overruled the mayor's veto and Clarkson in turn refused to sign Eastlick's contract for the consulting post. Dobany signed the contract at last week's council meeting.

M. G. Dunlaps Celebrate Golden Anniversary

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Dunlap will be celebrated 2 to 5 p.m. at an open house Sunday at their home, 338 Tanview Drive.

The Dunlaps, who were married Sept. 12, 1911, at Thomas, have two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Spaul, Davison, and Mrs. Dale McFarland, Oxford Township; and four grandchildren.

Expect Battle in Southfield Mayor to Challenge the Legality of Contract Signed by Council Head

SOUTHFIELD — A fight is expected at next Monday's council meeting in Southfield when Mayor James Clarkson challenges the legality of a contract signed by Council President C. Hugh Dobany.

Dobany, the city's mayor pro tem, signed a contract, giving Gerald Eastlick the post as assessing consultant while Clarkson was on vacation last week.

Clarkson said today he will seek the opinion of City Attorney James C. Allen on the matter. According to the city charter, Clarkson said, the acting mayor has authority to sign a contract if the mayor is unable to perform his duties.

Dobany and Clarkson disagree on the interpretation of that section of the charter.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thure Wickman of 3763 Walden Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duval of 4573 Rochester Road, Troy.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess line gown of Chantilly lace and crystal tulle, featuring a lavishly beaded neckline with Venetian lace.

Clusters of jeweled petals formed the hairpiece which, secured by veil of silk tulle, her bridal bouquet was a semicircular arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and lily.

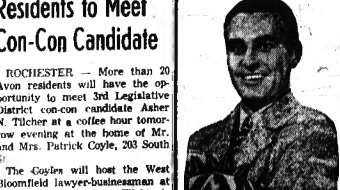

Mary Louise Liebert of Lake Orion served as maid of honor while Thelma Teamer of Pontiac and Gretchen Clark of Lake Orion were bridesmaids.

Best man was Fred Alessandri of Detroit. Allen Wickman of Clawson, a brother of the bride, and William Duval of Battle Creek,

Residents to Meet Con-Con Candidate

ROCHESTER — More than 20 Avon residents will have the opportunity to meet 3rd Legislative District con-con candidate Asher N. Titcher at a coffee hour tomorrow evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Coyle, 203 South St.

The Coyle's will host the West Bloomfield lawyer-businessman at their home at 8:30 p.m. Titcher is a Democratic candidate for Constitutional convention delegate in Monday's election.

Coyle pointed out that anyone in the Avon area interested in meeting Titcher and hearing his views on convention issues is welcome to "drop in and share coffee and conversation with the candidate."

STOWAWAY RETURNS—Marion Swaab, 19, who likes to stow away on ships, is escorted by pier security officer John Moran on leaving Dutch motorship Sloterdijk after arriving in Hoboken. The New York girl stowed away on the Dutch liner Rotterdam when the ship left New York Aug. 18. She had to work in the galley of the Sloterdijk to pay her passage when her father, Henry Swaab, an export-import businessman, refused her cable request for round-trip fare. Last year Marion stowed away on the French liner Liberte.

Hypocrisy Mixed With Weakness

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—The meeting of the 25 so-called neutral nations they call themselves nonaligned—was more than just nonsensical. It was a mixture of power, lack of power, and hypocrisy.

These 25 nations represented at the Belgrade meeting have a total population of 740 million people. So they do represent to some extent a broad section of world opinion when they denounce the West for colonialism or the remnants of it.

In this sense they have moral force. DIDN'T DENOUNCE RUSSIA But it was hypocritical for them not to denounce Russia and Red China for the same offense. They spent no time complaining about the bondage in which Russia holds the European satellites or China the Tibetans.

Speaker after speaker expressed shock at the Russian decision to resume nuclear testing. But this was where their basic ineffectiveness as a group showed through—their fear of war between the United States and Russia and their inability to do anything about it except urge both sides not to start it.

They had a wretched time even trying to agree on a final resolution expressing the wishes of the 25. In short, at this time the 25 have a tough time agreeing among themselves.

This group, anti-colonial, is all they'll have more in common for self-determination of peoples than they do now, and that they at its worst when kings and their present selfishness.

princes sat shoulder to shoulder with revolutionaries.

DICTATORS THERE

In this group were leaders who in dealing with their own people at home, used dictatorship or worse. For instance: Ethiopia, Ghana, Saudi Arabia, Yugoslavia.

In Yugoslavia, of course, it is the Communist party, under President Tito, which dominates and permits no opposition.

But the kingdoms of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia are so far from permitting freedom or self-determination for their own people that they are truly medieval in their special brands of tyranny. Ghana, under President Nkrumah, uses police-state methods to keep the people in line.

MORAL STRENGTH It was India's Prime Minister Nehru who acknowledged the inability of the nonaligned to do more than urge. He said "we cannot order about great countries, or even small ones. But let us use our moral strength right!" The Belgrade meeting was all for disarmament. But if that is ever achieved it will hardly be the result of pressure from the 25 nations which got together this week.

It will be the result of a decision by the United States and Russia that if they don't disarm they'll wind up annihilating each other. It is possible that in years to come the ranks of the 25 non-aligned nations will grow, that they all they'll have more in common for self-determination of peoples than they do now, and that they at its worst when kings and their present selfishness.

But at this moment such a meeting is hardly more than a convenient forum for some individual leaders to sound a little nobler in theory than they are in practice.

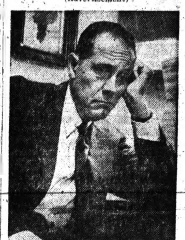

Will in all this conference wasn't much more than a fashion show where some of the small big-shot with all expenses paid, could wear their fancy costumes. More than half of them wore their national dress.

Khrushchev Receives Cuban Commie Official

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev received Blas Roca, secretary general of the Cuban Communist party Tuesday. The Soviet news agency Tass said the two had a cordial conversation in which they "exchanged opinions on international problems and on other questions of interest to the Soviet Union and the republic of Cuba."

Scientists estimate there are about 70 million pounds of nitrogen in the air which surrounds the earth.

OK 1st Major Urban Clearance Pact

Final approval of Pontiac's first major urban renewal clearance contract came at last night's City Commission meeting.

Commissioners authorized Mayor Philip E. Rowston to sign the contract with Dore, Krawinkel and Associates, which was awarded two weeks ago.

Final approval was necessary before demolition could get started.

The contract was approved with the understanding that necessary insurance policies, as yet unassigned, would be completed before the contract is executed.

Demolition work in the first renewal area should start today. The company has been moving demolition equipment into the area for a week.

The contract calls for tearing down and removing some 300 structures, most of them houses. Work is estimated to be completed in 18 to 24 months.

There was low among seven bidders for the job with a bid of $48,887.

SIDEWALK HEARING
A hearing on intention to construct a sidewalk on Omar Street, Cages to Harper, was held last night. The proposed project tabled indefinitely due to objections from property owners who would be affected.

City Engineer James Carlisle reported that owners of 60 parcels of land along the proposed sidewalk had been contacted and only five had approved the work.

The hearing had been continued for about three weeks so that property owners could be polled. Commissioner John A. Dugan moved that the matter be tabled in view of the poor response of property owners.

No objections were heard at a public hearing on intention to construct a water main in Home Street from an existing main to another water main in Poplar Street. The city assessor was authorized to prepare special assessment rolls for the $1,314 project which eliminates two dead end mains.

Rolls were confirmed in one payment for a recently finished water main on the east side of Woodward Avenue across from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and curb and gutters in three payments on First Street, Arlene to Fuller.

Commissioners also accepted the special assessment roll for construction of a sidewalk on Seward Street, Whittemore to Auburn.

NO OBJECTIONS
There were three public hearings held on special assessment rolls with no objections voiced. These covered the lowering of a sidewalk on the south side of Mechanic Street, Paddock to Roselawn; construction of a sanitary sewer on Dixon Street, Bagley to Palford subdivision; and curbs and gutters on Foster Street, Howard to Forest.

Commissioners approved several beer, wine and liquor license transfers and deferred action one week on a fourth.

A request from owners of J.V. Pharmacy, Inc., to transfer their SDD license from 89, 91 and 93 S. Saginaw St. to 10 N. Saginaw was given tentative approval. The pharmacy is moving because it is now in the urban renewal area to be cleared.

Approval was granted the

Armored Car Guard Gags Partner, Flees

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—"This is it—no get in the back of the truck," an armored car guard told his partner at gunpoint, Tuesday.

Then he drove to his apartment, police said, and gaged the partner, and fled with $42,550. Police are hunting Jerry R. Peacock, 25.

The partner, Kenneth Grisinger, 20, loosened a gag and called officers. They found the truck still at the apartment, and theorized that Peacock was picked up by an accomplice.

Jealousy Hurts, but Love Heals All Wounds

SELB, Germany (AP)—Angelika Neison, 20, got jealous because Spiridon Sakas, 24, and also Greek, stole a few glances at other girls.

Angelika slashed Spiridon's cheeks and arms with a razor. He walked out nursing his wounds. Afraid that she had lost him, the girl jumped from her third-floor apartment window, breaking both legs. Spiridon rushed to the hospital and asked Angelika to marry him. They were wed in the hospital.

Arraigned on Charge of Gross Indecency

Stanley R. Allen, 41, Clarkston, stood mute yesterday when arraigned before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holladay on a charge of gross indecency.

Judge Holland entered a plea of innocent for Allen, 27 S. Main St., and continued his $1,000 bond. He was released pending trial. No date was set.

A hardware salesman, Allen was nabbed last month by police when he allegedly attempted to film lewd movies in a Waterford Township motel with a woman who was working for the state police vic squad.

Tourist Business Way Low in Upper Peninsula

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Tourist business in Michigan's Upper Peninsula dropped off this summer, reports from the Mackinac Straits Bridge and Sault Ste. Marie Locks indicate.

At St. Ignace, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said Labor Day weekend traffic on the bridge was down 4,300 from last year and bridge traffic for the whole summer dropped $1,000 from 1960.

At the locks officials reported about 46,000 fewer tourist visitors this year than last.

At the Sault Ste. Marie Ferry

Docks, however, traffic was reported up because of tourists taking the new Lake Superior circle route through Ontonagon.

Shot to Death on Porch of His Flint Home

FLINT (AP)—Gentry White, 38, was shot to death Tuesday on the front porch of his Flint home and Adolphus Miller, 21, of Flint, was held for questioning.

Witnesses told police White was standing on his front porch when he was struck by a shotgun blast fired by someone from within a group of men standing nearby. Police said the same group of men had visited White earlier in the day, they had argued, then left.

Held in Theft of Car Grilles

Jackson Man Charged With Swiping, Reselling Falcon Parts

JACKSON (AP)—John McCluskey, 38, of Jackson, was held today on a charge he had stolen more than $5,000 worth of replacement grilles for Ford Falcons automobiles from his employer and sold them for his own profit.

Police said McCluskey sold the stolen grilles between March 1 and July 1 and was able to hide their sale because the company did not maintain production records.

pieces of replacement grilles, was charged with grand larceny in a warrant obtained by the firm.

Police said a complaint by the Ford Motor Co. that the grilles were being sold below cost to unfranchised dealers led to McCluskey's arrest.

They said the grilles were traced to a Royal Oak scrap dealer who said he thought he was buying scrap grilles from McCluskey.

He said he paid McCluskey 30 cents each for 5,000 grilles and sold them for $1.60 each. Police said the company has been selling grilles to Ford for $2.04 each.

Pioneer Printer Murphy Dies in New Hampshire

RYE BEACH, N. H. (AP)—Fredrick Duncanson Murphy, 71, of Montclair, N.J., president of the Art Gravure Corp. of New York, died Monday. Art Gravure prints Sunday supplements for several newspapers.

Murphy was a pioneer in the introduction of the rotogravure printing process from Europe early in the century.

Junker Had Great Year as Lion Rookie

By RICHARD L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
When Steve Junker boarded the plane from the Chicago College All-Star game in 1957, bound for the Detroit Lions' training camp, he made one vow. "I'm gonna make this league," he said. "I plan on staying in pro football a long time."

That year as an NFL freshman, the Redhead from Xavier University left no doubts in anyone's mind he would establish himself as a great pro end.

The Lions went on to beat San Francisco in a Western Division playoff and then whip Cleveland, 59-14 for the World Championship.

These two games were Junker's "greatest moments" in the NFL. He caught eight passes for 88 yards and a TD against the Browns and added five more for 105 yards and two TD's against the Browns.

Coach George Wilson who had assumed the reins from Buddy Parker that year saw a great future for Junker. A few months later the big end decided to play in the Xavier alumni game and there he hurt his knee.

He re-injured it in the Lions' 1958 exhibition season and an operation cost him the entire year. In 1959 another operation failed to bring him back to par as he played in six games only sparingly. Last year he caught 6 passes for 55 yards.

With pass receivers like Gail Cogdill and Jim Gibbons, Junker became expendable and yesterday he was on route to Washington as a result of a trade which brings Johnny "O" Olszewski to the Lions.

In 1950 and the Rose Bowl of 1951, collegiate fans across the country couldn't pronounce his last name, but they all marveled about the great California back called Johnny "O".

He became the number one draft choice of the Cardinals in 1953. The Redskins obtained him in 1958 and that season he was the team's top ground-gainer. In 1959 he led the NFL in average per carry with 6.5 per try and set a Redskins record for most yards in one game with 190 in 18 carries against the Browns.

At 30 years of age, the Lions feel he will be a capable understudy for fullback Nick Pietrosante as result of the injury to Ken Webb last week. Webb was placed on waivers yesterday.

"O" will get his first assignment in a Lions' uniform Saturday night when they meet the Browns in Cleveland. The Browns have been red hot since losing to Detroit in-the exhibition opener at Tiger stadium, 35-7. They have won 3 straight.

The regular season starts September 17th against Green Bay's Western Division champions in Milwaukee. The Lions will have to drop two more players by this in-

Along the Outdoor Trail

Contest Deadline Sept. 13

By DON VOGEL, Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

There is only one week left for Oakland County anglers to dislodge the leaders in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Contest.

The deadline for receiving entries is 7 a.m. Sept. 13. All fish must have been brought to The Press sports department by that time.

The leaders are a one-pound, two-ounce bluegill caught by Frank Dennis of Pontiac in Lake Angelus, a 15-pound, 14-ounce northern pike taken from Deep Lake by Jack Vagstad of Drayton Woods, a six-pound, four-ounce largemouth black bass caught at Union Lake by 15-year-old Dennis Wheeler of Union Lake, and a three-pound, four-ounce rainbow taken from Schoolhouse Lake by John Adams of Clarkston.

Winners in the pike and black bass divisions will receive $50 U.S. savings bonds each and the bluegill and rainbow winners will be awarded with $25 bonds.

The fish must be caught in Oakland County.

TROUT CLOSE

The general season on trout closes in Michigan on Sunday. Only a handful of streams will remain open after this date.

But a large list of lakes will be open to the taking of rainbow trout until Nov. 30 and again in January and February with some limited legal, too.

All Oakland County lakes stocked with rainbows will be open for the trout during the fall and again for ice fishing early next year.

Stream fishing for trout this year was not up to par. Low water early in the season and a major cutback in trout plantings were the main causes.

There were some good catches, however, particularly during the prime breeding grounds for waterfowl.

Convicts and rednecks were put on the protective list for the first time that year — and hunters were mourning because the limit was cut from 15 to 10 ducks daily.

All it takes on the prairies is one good wet year to give the duck population a big boost. The reason for the alic in seasons this year is to protect the brood stock needed to produce more quackers in the future.

U.S. Announces Import Limits on Ducks, Birds

WASHINGTON — Import limits on ducks and other migratory game birds killed in other countries by hunters from the United States were announced yesterday.

The Interior Department said imports from Canada will coincide with the exports allowed by that nation.

That means that imports of ducks and geese killed in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan may not exceed 15 of each for the entire season beginning Sept. 1. In all cases imports are restricted to birds legally taken.

Last year, 20 ducks and 10 geese could be imported during the season from those three provinces and also from British Columbia.

The new limitations on birds killed in British Columbia and imported into this country are 15 ducks and 10 geese per calendar week.

Imports from Mexico or any other country or subdivision thereof, except Canada, may not exceed 10 ducks and 5 geese per calendar week.

Sketches Available

Revised copies of "Michigan Wildlife Sketches," a popular publication on the native mammals of the state's forests, fields and marshes, are now available through the Conservation Department's publications room in Lansing.

There were some good catches, however, particularly during the

Guarantee Game Sighting While Hunting Preserves

LANSING (UPI) — Every hunter would like a guarantee that he would at least get a fleeting glance at the game he stalks.

Michigan's 47 shooting preserves licensed by the State Conservation Department come as close as possible to providing this guarantee.

The six-month season of shooting preserves starts Sept. 16 in Michigan.

Conservation Department Game Chief Harry D. Ruhl said five of the 47 licensed by the end of August were new ones this year.

"We provide nearly everything except the gun and the ability you need to shoot one of the birds," said Mrs. Alex T. Strang, whose husband operates a preserve north of Clare. "That you have to bring with you."

Hunting licenses are required of sportsmen who want to pay to hunt at Michigan preserves, although Ruhl said several states do not have this law.

Many preserve operators release birds each day so they fly over a wooded area to a pond—providing an excellent opportunity for the armed sportsman.

Bag limits, if any, are set by the operators of the preserve. Because the game released in preserves are pen-raised, they are not included in state surveys of available targets and do not affect regular hunting regulations.

Many of the preserves in Michigan provide the services of a gun, dog and guide, Ruhl said.

"We provide nearly everything except the gun and the ability you need to shoot one of the birds," said Mrs. Alex T. Strang, whose husband operates a preserve north of Clare. "That you have to bring with you."

Obedience Acts Set by SMOTC

2 Dog Demonstrations Arranged at Waterford, Pontiac Sites

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club has scheduled two demonstrations as a prelude to the fall opening of classes.

Dogs will be sent through their paces Sept. 14 at Whitfield school in Pontiac and Sept. 20 at the CAI building in Waterford. Both programs will start at 8 p.m.

SMOTC members will take registrations for classes after each demonstration. Classes begin a week later.

The club trained over 700 dog and handler combinations last year at 11 different schools. The training period covers 10 weeks and concludes with a graduation night.

The trainees receive instructions that will allow the dog to be entered in regular obedience shows. The obedience training follows American Kennel Club standards.

Further information can be obtained by phoning Reg Armstrong, FE 3-7765, or Charles Barnes, FE 4-6083.

Hunting License Time

Michigan's 1961 hunting licenses and game law digests are now being mailed to dealers, the Conservation Department announces.

State Park Revenues Not Up to Estimate

LANSING — Gilly weather and the newly initiated entrance fee are combining to hold down attendance at Michigan's state parks this year.

At the same time, the number of campers keeps going up and up. Even the addition of nearly 800 new camping sites since last summer has failed to accommodate the growing hordes of tent-and-trailer vacationers.

Camping permits are up nearly 18 per cent over last year when a record was set. Turn-aways have increased about the same, and more than about 15,000 camping groups have had to back elsewhere.

Latest figures show the number of park visitors is running about 23 per cent behind last year when some 18 million visitors crowded the 62 parks and recreation areas.

The record—18 million—was set in 1959 when temperatures generally were warmer.

State parks officials speculate that part of the decline in attendance is the result of a more accurate count of visitors, attributable to the park admission fee of $2 a year or 50 cents daily. In prior years, park managers submitted estimates, and these probably ran a little high.

Arthur C. Elmer, state park chief, figured that attendance probably would drop about 20 per cent when the entrance charge went into operation Jan. 1. Ironically, nevertheless, is running below expectations.

Refuses to Spoil David

Alan Ladd 'Handles' Actor Son

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alan Ladd says he knows how to deal with child actors—because he learned the hard way.

It's important because Alan is the father of David Ladd, one of the hottest of the juvenile stars. "He could be working all the time," says his father, "but he only works in the summer vacation. I'll keep him normal or else. He doesn't know how much money he makes — and I'm really training him to be an Olympic diver."

BEING COACHED
In Alan's youth, he was one of the top divers in Southern California. An injury prevented him from trying out for the 1932 Olympics team. "That was the greatest disappointment of my life. Now I find that David is an exceptional diver — and I've got three ex-Olympic stars coaching him."

Alan and Mrs. Ladd, the former actress Sue Carol, are trying to give the 14-year-old star of "Misty" and "Dog of Flanders" as near normal a school and home life as possible.

Admittedly, that's hard to do when your father is a star, your mother was one and the family has homes in Holmby Hills, Palm Springs and Lake Arrowhead.

"But there are two things in my favor," says Alan. "First I started out in this business very poor—even hungry. Second, I worked with Brandon De Wilde, now grown up, was a child stage star who came to hell — and there were no more Hollywood for 'Shane,' the Western many believe one of the finest ever. In the movie, Ladd played a gunslinging Sir Galahad who rode out of nowhere to help a dirt farming family fight off ruthless cattlemen.

"Possibly the most dramatic scene in the picture comes when my job done, I leave the family to ride off again. I even cried in the scene—something I seldom, if ever, have done."

"The scene was tough enough, but everytime I spoke my farewell to Brandon, he crossed his eyes and stuck his tongue out at me."

Ladd, who had scared off all the heavies in the picture, said he couldn't scare Brandon. "So I called on his dad, I said, 'Make that kid stop or I'll beat him over the head with a brick.' Brandon's father started booting Brandon across the set like a foot-

Identify Last of Air Victims

Cause of TWA Crash Which Killed 78 Still a Mystery, However

CHICAGO (UPI)—The last of the victims of history's worst single plane commercial airlines disaster have been identified but the cause of the crash which claimed 78 lives remained a mystery.

The grisly job of matching names with final 20 torn, fire-blackened bodies was completed Tuesday at the Cook County Morgue and the remains taken to a temporary morgue at the Suburban Westmont, Ill., fire station for viewing by a six-member coroner's jury.

Meanwhile, Civil Aeronautics Board crash investigators turned their attention to the engines of the Trans World Airlines Constellation which crashed into a corn and soybean field near Clarendon Hills last Friday morning.

The four engines from the wrecked plane were sent to a laboratory at Kansas City, Mo., for analysis.

HOPE FOR ANSWER
Crash investigators hoped the laboratory might be able to determine from throttle and propeller settings the type of emergency faced by Capt. James H. Sanders in the 30 seconds before the impact.

The crash investigation also was looking into the possibility that metal fatigue in the tail section might have caused the crash. There was some indication that the triple tail fin section separated from the fuselage a second or two before the impact.

If the cause of the crash proved to be metal fatigue, crash investigators said, it would be the first time such a failure has ever been associated with a Constellation.

The giant plane which plunged to earth three minutes after takeoff from Chicago's Midway Airport had been in service for 15 years and was among the first Constellation builds in 1946.

Associated Press accounts of Waters' exploit brought him letters from strangers as far away as Maine and Florida. Most expressed amazement at his survival and praise for his courage and will to live.

A Fairbanks bakery gave him the birthday cake Saturday. His birthday was Aug. 24, two days before his rescue. He didn't know what day it was then, because he had lost track of time.

The rose hip jelly was made for him by a lady who had read that during his ordeal he lived on berries and rose hips—the pods of where the two hunters dragged him into their lair.

Waters is up to 139 pounds now—40 more than he weighed when rescued. He has been walking a little about his hospital room. He was played on a high protein diet Tuesday.

Capital Betting 'Mr. Sam' Will Come Back

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The betting odds are on the return of "Mr. Sam" Rayburn to the House speakership, despite the current spate of speculation on his possible successor.

If Speaker Rayburn does how out, after 21 years as the undisputed Democratic leader of the House, it will be his own doing, and not because of a revolt.

The latter course was the one followed by insurgent Republicans, who after many years of party leadership finally deposed former Speaker Joseph W. Martin in future.

favor of his own assistant majority leader, Charles Halleck. Bachelor Joe Martin took that blow hard, but so did his long-time friend Sam Rayburn. For two men on opposite sides of the political fence, Rayburn and Martin have genuine affection and respect for each other.

Their lives had paralleled for so many years that Mr. Sam took the Martin downfall almost as a slap at himself. It was as if the septuagenarian sensed that this cruel blow to one old man's pride could conceivably mirror his own future.

Rayburn minced no words in the 80th Congress, when Republican capture of control for the first time since the Hoover era. He heartily dislikes Halleck, but is devoted to Martin, with whom he twice swapped the speakership.

Seventy-nine-year-old Rayburn was first elected Democratic leader by the 75th Congress in 1937. Seventy-six-year-old Martin was first elected Republican leader by the 75th Congress two years later.

SWAP BACK
Rayburn became speaker in the 77th Congress. Martin took the speaker's gavel away from him

SWAP BACK
Rayburn became speaker in the 77th Congress. Martin took the speaker's gavel away from him unitarily—but temporarily—handed over the reins to majority leader John W. McCormack.

He has lost his appetite and has consequently lost so much weight that his face is drawn, and his clothes have a drape shape unintended by the tailor.

MAY RETURN
Should Rayburn step down, which is currently considered unlikely, McCormack might have a tough time succeeding to the speakership, because he is chronically at odds with President Kennedy, his fellow politician from Massachusetts. The battle lines may never be drawn, however.

McCormack himself is nearing 70, and Rep. Albert Thomas of Texas says of the current under-cover rivalry:

"We have 50 outstanding members who would make fine speakers, but I'll bet you a horse that the speaker will be back here before the next session. He'll be around for at least another 10 years."

The farm at Bonham has always acted as a tonic for "Mr. Sam."

Benefit Antique Show at Cranbrook Sept. 14-16

A handsome German shepherd typifies the animals who will benefit from the proceeds of the annual Antique Fair of the Michigan Animal Rescue League. Sept. 14 through 16 at Cranbrook Auditorium. Active in committee work with the league are Elaine Appel of Commerce Road (at left) and Virginia Ward of Ottawa Drive. With exhibits from 17 dealers, the event promises to be of interest to antique lovers as well as animal lovers.

The ninth annual Antique Show sponsored by the Michigan Animal Rescue League will be held Sept. 14 through 16 at Cranbrook Auditorium, 550 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Proceeds will go toward the upkeep and much-needed expansion of the shelter, maintained at 790 Featherstone Road.

"In slightly over three years almost 1,300 animals have been placed from the shelter into new homes, and many hundreds of cruelty complaints investigated. It is the first and only shelter in the history of Oakland County owned and operated by a humane society," said Elaine Appel, one of the directors.

Seventeen dealers will have exhibits at the show, including antique furniture both elegant and primitive, old books, an unusual collection of glassware and other decorative items. There also will be a collection of rare stamps.

And once again there will be baked goods by Bowman, hot coffee for refreshment and the informal enjoyable atmosphere as in the past, Miss Appel said.

PATRONS LISTED

Pontiac patrons of the annual show include Mrs. Frank Lambert, Mrs. Carl O. Anderson, Mrs. George Innan, Miss Mabel Craft, Mrs. Robert C. Lake, Mrs. Gelston V. Poole, Mrs. Ford Paddock, Mrs. Beecher Connell and Mrs. Dorothy Gould.

Also serving from Pontiac are Mrs. Frank Peeples, Mrs. Arthur Robertson, Mrs. Clara Scriven, Mrs. Arthur Schutt, Mrs. Cramer Smith, Mrs. Harlan Smith, Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr., Miss Leish Thorpe, Miss Virginia Ward, Mrs. Arthur Warwick, Mrs. Frederic Ward, Mrs. Lewis M. Wrenn, Mrs. Florence Wallace and Mrs. L. B. Young.

Patrons from the Bloomfield-Oakland Lake area include Mrs. Walter Appel, Mrs. James A. Beresford, Mrs. Dexter Craig, Mrs. Graham J. Graham, Miss Jeannette Hubbard, Mrs. Rogers L. Marquis, Mrs. Clark D. Matthews and Mrs. Clarence K. Patterson.

Others assisting are Mrs. Donald S. Patterson, Mrs. John Parrott, Mrs. Edward E. Rothman, Mrs. Aaron Riker, Mrs. Robert H. Skillman, Mrs. Robert C. Traub and Mrs. Clifford West.

Rochester area patrons are Mrs. Frances Covert, Mrs. Mabel Dillman, Mrs. Alex Duffield and Mrs. F. A. Weihe Jr. Those from Walled Lake are Mrs. Max Colter and Mrs. H. R. Turner.

Birmingham patrons include Mrs. Irving A. Duffy, Mrs. Summer L. Goss, Mrs. Sidney Norwood, Mrs. Graham Shinnick and Mrs. Daniel Watts.

"The Michigan Animal Rescue League shelter looks bright and sunny with its fresh coat of yellow paint. Thanks go to Keith Carter of Pontiac who obtained a pet from us, and in admiration for our work, offered us his services during his entire two-week vacation."

"Each year sees new improvements in our shelter. A new row of outdoor runways has been built this summer which may be paved shortly," said Miss Appel.

NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION

The Michigan Animal Rescue League is a private, nonprofit organization dedicated to furthering the humane treatment of all animals. The work is dependent upon membership, donations and funds raised at the antique fair.

Services include the return of lost pets to their owners, the care of homeless animals, the providing of an adoption service for pets and the investigation of complaints of abuse and neglect.

"For example," Miss Appel said, "on a cold day last winter a little ragdoll of a dog was found in front of a shopping center, being kicked by some children. She had been there all day. We took her to the shelter, sick, hungry and forlorn."

"A day or so later she had puppies, all born dead. We nursed her back to health — a cute friendly little dog. No one inquired about her. Eventually she was adopted and now has a good home."

"The Michigan Animal Rescue League receives no city, township, county or state funds nor help from the United Fund Foundation," Miss Appel added.

Don't Give Diamond at Party

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My parents are going to announce my engagement shortly at a party. My mother thinks that my fiancé should present the ring to me at the party in the presence of the guests.

A: I think making a production of this is in very bad taste and that it should be given to me privately before the party. I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: You are entirely right. The ring should be given to you privately, and to make a presentation of it at the party would be in very bad taste.

Q: One of the girls with whom I work has asked my husband to sing at her wedding. My husband does not sing professionally, but he has a beautiful voice and does on occasion sing at weddings. The wedding will take place on a Saturday morning necessitating my husband's losing half a day's pay in order to be present. Under the circumstances, would it be proper for him to send a bill for his services?

A: When the bride asked your husband to sing, he should have answered that he would be delighted to do so but could not afford to lose a half day's pay. She would then have known that she would have to pay for his singing and decide if she could afford to do so. As things are, she thinks his singing is gratis and he really must not send her a bill.

Speaks Vows at Noon

The Italian-American Club was the setting for the family dinner and reception for the Charles F. Tefend who spoke vows in a noon ceremony Saturday in St. Benedict Church. Rev. George E. Gling of St. James Church, Ferndale, officiated.

Daughter of the Eugene F. Mazzas of Lounsbury Avenue, the former Agnes Mazzas appeared in white Chantilly lace styled with pearl-pearl bodice and tiered skirt. Finger tip veil was fitted to a pillbox hat and gardenias rested on her white missal.

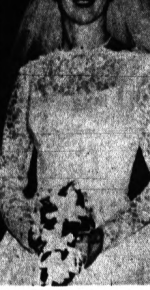

Mrs. Eugene Nickman was matron of honor with bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Wernet, Mrs. Ralph Mazza, Mrs. Norman Chalout of Royal Oak and Mrs. Joseph Bonfiglio. They wore turquoise pastel de sole peplum sheath dresses with pillbox hats and carried missal topped with gardenias.

Flower-girl Gena Beth Nickman, wore pale aqua organza and a floral headpiece.

Clifford F. Tefend of Columbus, Ohio, was best man for his brother, Benjamin Tefend Jr. and William Tefend ushered. They are the sons of the Benjamin Tefends of Lake Orion. Also seating guests were Norman Chalout and the bride's brother Gerald.

The couple is honeymooning in Northern Michigan before leaving for their home in Sanford, Fla.

Pink accessories accented Mrs. Mazza's beige lace jacket dress. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in beige brocade.

Sisterhood Has Yearly Silver Tea

Mrs. Irving Schylfesta opened her home on West Irons Road Tuesday afternoon for the annual silver tea of Sisterhood Congregation B'nai Israel.

The opening prayer was read by Mrs. Murray Levine. Mrs. Irwin Posner, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Sidney Czeizler. Mrs. Harry Kaufman, who has sung with the Ada Shalom and B'nai Brith choirs, presented Jewish and Israeli numbers. Her accompanist, Mrs. Jack Mash, is choral director for the Bagley School Mother Singers and is past president of the Detroit Music Study Group.

Cochairmen for the afternoon were Mrs. Belmont Kershbaum and Mrs. Edward Avadenka. The hostess gave the closing devotions.

The annual Sitchas Torah dinner Oct. 8 at the synagogue was announced.

Invited to Dance

The Pontiac Vasa Lodge 510 invites all Scandinavians and their friends to the opening dance of the season following the seven o'clock meeting Saturday at the Pythian Hall on Voorhis Road.

Japanese Exchange Student Finds Life in U.S. to Her Liking

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Pretty little Yasuko Yamamoto, an exchange student from Nishinomiya - City, Japan, thinks the United States is just wonderful and loves the people with whom she is living. She is just 5 feet 1.

Yaiko, as she is affectionately called, will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard and daughter Joanne of Orchard Lake while she attends West Bloomfield High School for her senior year.

"We're having lots of fun," said Mrs. Auchard. "Every one is grabbing a Japanese or English dictionary trying to find the right word to convey his meaning. We all love Yaiko."

One of the first things she wanted on a shopping tour was tennis shoes like the other girls wear. She has already been to a party and the Auchards celebrated her 18th birthday last week with presents and a birthday cake. This is also a Japanese custom, Mrs. Auchard said.

STUDIED ENGLISH

Yaiko attended the Presbyterian Mission School in Jishigakuin and Junior High School in Tokyo where she studied English. Conversational English was taken at night school in preparation for her coming here.

Yaiko's father is an overseer in an industrial plant in Nishinomiya - City. She also has her mother, a brother, 15, and a sister, 10.

"Our little Japanese guest likes everything we have to eat, especially rice. She is going to teach us how to use chopsticks. About half of the people in Japan are now using silverware," said Mrs. Auchard.

BUDDHIST BACKGROUND

Although Yaiko attends the Presbyterian Church her background is Buddhist.

Yaiko said she is not interested in studying music but she likes to sing. Sketching and ping pong are her hobbies and she is learning to play badminton. Presently she is sketching Rev. Mr. Auchard and Joanne.

Anxious to learn to swim and go to a football game, she is still frightened when out in a boat.

Yaiko is in this country sponsored by the American Field Service.

Ann Linda to Rolf

Gordhamer, son of the Wallace

Gordhamers, also of Orchard Lake.

Both attend Michigan State University.

Janice Lynn Smith Wed in All Saints Church

A reception in the Rose Knave Room of All Saints Episcopal Church followed the candlelight vows of Janice Lynn Smith to Charles R. Green, spoken Saturday evening before Rev. C. George Widdfield.

MRS. CHARLES R. GREEN

are the L. K. Smiths, Lotus Lake, Waterford, and the Charles F. Greens, Middle Belt Road.

Bouffant silk illusion veiling caught by a pearl and crystal tiara complemented the white silk organza bridal gown embellished with Alencon lace and styled with chapel train. White Eucharist lilies and stephanotis comprised the bridal cascade.

Maid of honor Lucretia Crighton, Waterford, wearing mint green tulle with bouffant overskirt, carried a cascade of pink carnations. Attendants Jeanette Turner, Waterford, with Gail Pearce and Kristine Hartman, held colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

BEST MAN

Best man was Lawrence Leach, Lake Orion. Usherling were Robert Hayward, the bride's cousin; Dale Green, brother of the bridegroom and Rudolph Narver.

Returning from a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, the couple will live in Big Rapids while completing their studies at Ferris Institute. The new Mrs. Green is a member of Theta Tau Omega Sorority.

Triple-Ring Rite Used by Howard R. Josephs

Before a background of palms and white gladioli, Karen Lee Kiler exchanged vows with P.O.C. Howard R. Joseph of Union Lake Saturday evening in the Central Christian Church, Rev. G. W. Gibson performed the triple-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of

MRS. HOWARD R. JOSEPH

Mrs. Fred Carpenter of Charest Drive, Waterford Township, and Dawsey Kiler of Flint. The Everett Josephs of Union Lake are the bridegroom's parents.

The bridal gown of white rose point lace over Italian tulle featured a basque waistline and bouffant skirt with chapel train. Silk illusion veiling was fitted to a fluted tulle coronet, touched with seed pearls and iridescents.

The bride held a semicascade of white roses and stephanotis and wore the bridegroom's gift, an opal pendant.

Mrs. Jerry Sigler, her sister's matron of honor, and Mrs. Vincent Bucher, bridesmaid, appeared in satin-faced peacock blue jeans de soie with matching velvet hats. Each held pink roses mounted on a fan.

P.O.C. Harold Joseph of Grosse Ile stood as best man for his brother and P.O.C. Robert Pierce of Lincoln Park was groomsmen. Everett Smith ushered for his cousin with Robert Robertson.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple will live at Grosse Ile where the bridegroom is stationed at the naval air base.

Yellow-tipped carnations complemented Mrs. Carpenter's dress of yellow eyelid and the Dior blue decron gown worn by the mother of the bridegroom.

Taking time out for a brief rest while playing badminton are (at right) Joanne Auchard and Yasuko Yamamoto, an exchange student from Japan. Joanne's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard keep score. Yasuko will live with the Auchards at the parsonage of the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian on Commerce Road while attending West Bloomfield High School.

Rice and rubber are Thailand's main export crops. Sugar cane is 12 to 15 per cent sugar by weight.

Pair to Live in Clarkston. Loraine Coon Married

Clarkston will be the home of Robert A. Joss and his bride, the former Marlene Elizabeth Shell who exchanged vows before Rev. Walter J. Tonnieson Jr. Friday evening in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

After joining their parents, the Carl Shells of Drayton Plains and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Joss of Waterford Township at organza held yellow and bronze daisy chrysanthemums with yellow roses designating honor maid Marjory Neubeck, Drayton Plains. Coon's Shell, Drayton Plains, attended her cousin as bridesmaid with the bride's sisters Mrs. Ronald M. Holland, Drayton Plains and Mrs. J. Robert Turnbull, Lord Jean Holland, as flower girl, appeared in pale yellow silk organza.

William J. Joss, Drayton Plains, was best man for his brother, Ushers were Paul L. Emerson, Drayton Plains, Willis J. Swenson, Kenneth A. Scott, Gary L. Petty and Loren Schuba. David De Clerck, Drayton Plains, was ring bearer.

Yellow carnations accented Mrs. Shell's Dior blue silk dress and a yellow print chiffon over taffeta was worn by the mother of the bridegroom.

Devon Gables was the setting for the luncheon reception following the Saturday afternoon vows of Loraine Mary Coon to Thomas W. Hall II in the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Galen E. Hershey performed the small family ceremony.

The James J. Coon, Bedford Road, are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Philip W. Hall, Washington Street, formerly of Fairfield, N. J., and the late Mr. Hall.

Maid of honor, Grace Anne Purdy, wearing emerald green peau satin, carried yellow carnations.

The bridegroom had Stanley Soules, Washington, D. C., for his best man.

For motoring along Lake Michigan north to Mackinac Island, the bride chose a royal blue brocade silk costume suit.

ATTENDED WSU

She is a graduate of the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing and attended Wayne State University. Her husband, an alumnus of Yale University, was elected to Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Xi fraternities. They will live in Pontiac.

White delphinium and tea roses accented Mrs. Coon's sheath dress of rose silk lace. The mother of the bridegroom chose a brown satin suit and wore gardenias.

MRS. ROBERT A. JOSS

the church reception the newlyweds left for the Thousand Islands in Ontario.

Fashioned of imported white silk organza and Alencon lace touched with seed pearls and sequins, the bride's gown swept into a lace-edged chapel train. A silk organza bow caught her illusion veiling. She carried white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Attendants in moss green silk

Barnard-Haviland Vows Repeated in Waterford

Crescents of gold grapes and bronze pompons complemented polished cotton frocks for Marlene Kay Haviland's attendants when she exchanged nuptial vows with Roland D. Barnard Monday afternoon in the Waterford Community Church.

Following the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Winne, the Paul C. Havilands, Drayton

Plains, were hosts at their daughter's church reception. The William Barnards, Waterford, are the bridegroom's parents.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lawrence Toth, Auburn Heights, wore a rust colored gown while the bridesmaids, Mrs. William J. Barnard, Waterford, Mrs. Albert Taylor and Linda Groves, chose gold tones. Mona Haviland, her sister's junior attendant, wore yellow.

Brothers of the bridal couple comprised the esquire corps with Robert Barnard best man and William Barnard ushering with William Charles and James Haviland.

To begin the Canadian honeymoon, the bride chose a blouse-on sheath of taupe Italian knit, with bone accessories. The couple will live in Pontiac.

BEIGE ORCHIDS

Beige cymbidium orchids complemented Mrs. Haviland's moss green lace over champagne silk. The mother of the bridegroom, attired in a champagne-silk organza and lace sheath dress wore green cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at the Hawaiian Gardens near Holly.

Teen Dances in Mother's Footsteps

GLASGOW, Scotland (U. — Pretty Sharon Magnuson 17, of Detroit, is following in her mother's footsteps — and dancing most of the way.

The American girl, whose mother liked Scottish dancing, is returning to the United States Wednesday after winning 24 prizes at Scottish dancing contests.

Three included the Overseas Trophy at the Edinburgh Festival.

Also she almost won the world championship for Scottish dancing — coming second in the junior division.

"I just live for Highland dancing," said Sharon in an interview. "and it was wonderful being in Scotland where people really know how to dance."

The girl's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, are also of Detroit. Their daughter, Pearl — Sharon's mother — was born in Glasgow, but emigrated to America with her parents.

Sharon's mother, a dancing teacher in Detroit, made a tour of the Highland games, taking part in the dancing competitions.

Sharon's father, of Swedish ancestry, is a foreman at a Detroit factory.

Sharon said she has one more year at Detroit's Grosse Pointe High School before going to Wayne University to major in drama, arts and dancing.

Abby Explains Child's Resemblance

By ARNOLD VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: When you read this you will know why you are the only person I can turn to for advice. My husband and I were married for six years, and had no children. Last year we adopted the illegitimate child of my youngest sister, who was only 17. She never admitted who the baby's father was. My husband was very eager to adopt this child. Abby, the older boy gets the more he resembles my husband. The thought that my husband might have fathered this child is making me sick. I worship my husband, and love that baby. I feel so mixed up. What should I do?

CANT SIGN MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: More often than not, an adopted child will resemble one of his adoptive parents. Put it down as a coincidence, and go right on worshipping your husband and loving your son.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of teen-agers sleeping on the porch on a hot night if they sleep in sportswear, not night clothes? This is important. Thanks.

C AND K.

DEAR C AND K: There is no point in sleeping in warm sportswear on a cool porch. Better sleep in cool nightwear in a warm house. Besides, it's best to sleep behind locked doors.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and engaged to a man who is 26. He says he loves me and wants to marry me soon, but I am afraid to marry him for the following reason: He hits me. Sometimes he hits me hard, and leaves bruises. He has hit me out of a clear blue sky for no reason at all. When I ask him why he does this, he gets very sorry and says he hits me because he "loves me." I think this is a very funny way to show a girl you love her; don't you? I am very confused about what to do, Abby. I hate to take a chance on marrying him, and ending up a punching bag. My parents like him fine, but they don't know about his big fault.

"AFRAID" DEAR ABBY: You have good reason to be "afraid." An emotionally normal person does not hit someone he "loves." He needs help. And if you marry him, knowing his "fault," you will need help, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOOD OLD MOM": When you've finished telling her about the birds and the bees... tell her about the wolves.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to The Pontiac Press.

Tired, Mother? You're Not Alone, Says Doctor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—A Cleveland doctor says a new disease—the tired mother syndrome—is sweeping the country because mothers "get no union protection."

Dr. Leonard Lovahn, head of the internal medicine department at Cleveland Clinic, said today's mothers simply have too many things to do. They work 16 hours a day, seven days a week, he said.

Lovahn said her busy schedule includes what he called "terrible vacations" where mother works harder on camping trips than at home.

The number of children a woman has is not necessarily a cause for fatigue, he said. "A woman with one child worries four times as much as a woman with four children, so it all comes out even."

He said that a few extra pounds will not affect the mother's illness.

"Asking a tired mother to reduce simply changes her from a fat tired mother to a slim tired mother," Lovahn said.

The cure? Lovahn's suggested treatment includes:

—Buying a new hat.

—Learning to say "no."

Think Before Pushing Junior Into Hobby

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Last June 11-year-old Ted came up with his reason for resisting all work in the family's suburban vegetable garden.

"It's not MINE!" he said accusingly. "If I had a garden of my own, it would be different. Then you'd see how I'd weed!"
Touched, his credulous parents sliced off a patch of lawn for him. They bought him gardening tools, seeds, plants. His father set up poles for Ted's climbing beans to grow on, gave him formal access to the hose and spray gun.
Did Ted's garden turn into an Eden of flourishing vegetables?
No. It was a mess. His carrots died a-borning. His tomato plants smothered in weeds and his un-sprayed cabbage leaves were lacy with the ravages of moth larvae. Unlike those noble story-book children who never fail to use every opportunity kindly grownups give them, Ted clearly missed his up.

His negligence so disappointed his parents they couldn't stop talking about it. Nightly his father wondered whether he should pull up Ted's sticky vegetables and re-sow the patch to grass. Shaking his head at his ruined carrots, his mother said sadly, "Someday you will have to learn perseverance."
Why the disappointment? Why

the expectation that his own garden would turn Ted into a lover of gardening?
A child who is genuinely interested in making carrots and tomatoes grow helps with their growing even when they belong to us. A child who is really interested in the garden, old wood, masts and needles that lie around. If it's there, let's support it with private equipment. If it isn't, let's think twice before we produce it.
Otherwise, like Ted's garden it hangs about, a reproached monument to children's undeveloped interests. And becomes a cause of irritation to us and humiliation to them.

Not Easy to Get Right Ones

Buying School Shoes Rough

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's that time of year—S Day, the time to take your child to buy school shoes. This can be an irritating experience for the child and a wearing and aging one for the mother, unless she plans. Actually, it should be fun to take your child to buy school equipment, but shoe purchasing can be harrowing.

Here are a few suggestions to help you. Either shop for shoes early, or if you have other shopping to do, look at the shoes first. You and your child want to be fresh and rested. If you wait until the end of a long shopping day, moods may be rough and impatient.

Since a child's feet grow rapidly, have his feet measured every time you buy shoes for him. Allow a good three-fourths-of-an-inch from the big toe to the end of the shoe, and be sure that the sole at the widest part conforms to the shape of the foot. Ask the child if he can wiggle his toes in his shoes. If shoes are too tight, they restrict circulation and cause blisters and calluses.

Be sure to have your child try on both shoes because frequently, one foot is larger than the other. If the largest foot and have the child walk in the shoes.

Foot specialists recommend leather soles and uppers for children. These give firm but gentle support. Also, air can get to the feet. This is particularly important for school wear, when students go from overheated classrooms to the cold outdoors, because perspiration evaporates and the feet stay warmer in cold weather and cooler when it is hot.

If you would like to have your leaflet, "Take Care of Your Feet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Lists Attendants for Her Wedding

Judith Wagner named attendants for her Sept. 23 vows to Donald Robertson at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. James Robertson on Williams Lake Road, Drayton Plains.

Mrs. Gary Petty will be her sister's matron of honor with Peggy Robertson and Mrs. James Robertson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, elect, serving as bridesmaids. Sharon Verno will be flower girl for her cousin.

Mrs. Alfred Wagner of Mt. Clemens Street attended her daughter's party with Mrs. William Robertson and daughter Peggy of Oliver Street. Mrs. Ronald Robertson, Mrs. William Shelton, Mrs. Ronald Stottlemeyer, Mrs. Ledger LaBerge, Mrs. Kenneth Clark and Mrs. Louise Weakalines.

Other guests were Mrs. Richard Barnett, Mrs. Frank Macade, Mrs. Gary Petty, Mrs. James Nicholson, Mrs. Thomas Vradenburg, Mrs. Edward Stottlemeyer, Mrs. John Mulholland, Mrs. Philip Blevi, Joyce Blevi and Mrs. Donald Stillingland.

Shopping for your youngster's shoes? Be sure to get a good fit—and be sure that you both are fresh and rested when buying the shoes.

Tones Your Skin

It may be allergy. If skin unaccountably shows problems the cause may be an allergy. Cleanse the face with mild, pure soap and water. As a skin freshener use a chemical-free product like good quality witch hazel.

Butler County, Mo., was named for William O. Butler of Kentucky, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1888.

Future of State Income Tax Will Be Up to Con-Con

(Editor's Note: The convention to revise Michigan's 1958 constitution meets in Lansing Oct. 5. This is the first in a series of articles dealing with possible changes in the state's basic law.)

By DON MEERS

LANSING (UPI) — A host of taxation experts have testified today in a series of hearings before the Michigan Legislature that the state's revenue needs to be solved by the state's revenue.

The constitutional convention which meets in Lansing Oct. 5 could block any chance for an income tax by writing a clear-cut prohibition against it into the version of a basic law they will offer to the people for approval.

Or the con-con could eliminate the uniform taxation provision that some say already prohibits a graduated income tax.

Income taxes will be just one of the problems in connection with state revenue which the 144 delegates will face. Probably the thorniest—even more volatile than the income tax question—is whether to perpetuate or repeal the so-called 15-mill limitation on property taxes.

In fact, the tax problems of local units of government are likely to be as vital as statewide revenue needs to con-con delegates.

Voters, in adopting the 15-mill limitation amendment in 1921, said they did not want the legislature to have power to permit cities to tax beyond the specified figure.

LEGISLATIVE MODIFICATION

The people refused to modify the 15-mill property tax limitation in 1940 and 1948, and refused simply to raise the limitation in 1945.

Income taxes is another area where the people have been heard.

Plans to amend the constitution and permit income taxes were turned down by voters in 1922, 1924 and 1934. Those who say the constitution already allows an income tax admit that court rulings on constitutionality might nullify an income tax if the legislature passed one.

If the legislature is not to be given the power to determine how taxes are to be levied, then such power must be written into the constitution.

Almost everyone agrees that total tax reform in Michigan is necessary.

But practically no one thinks the con-con could or should try to write specific laws on taxation into the new constitution. Any suggested changes will likely be aimed at providing taxation guidelines for the legislature.

POSSIBLE CHANGES

Among the major things that might be done on taxes by the con-con are:

—The 15-mill limitation on local property taxes might be repeated or modified, with or without specific instructions to local governments as to what kinds of taxes they could enact.

—Writing that would permit the legislature to determine state and local tax structures might be put in the new constitution.

Income taxes, or other kinds of levies for that matter, might be permitted under the new constitution only after a vote of the people, thus making the power to determine the kind of taxes completely away from the legislature.

—The uniformity rule might be modified or eliminated.

—The existing provision that property must be assessed for taxation purposes at its cash value might be taken out of the document which will go before the people for approval following the con-con.

Taxation issues are, of course, closely tied to problems of spending.

The delegates might decide to solve both problems with an integrated program of controls on taxing and spending that would mean sweeping changes in Michigan's fiscal structure.

Gets 5 to 15 Years in Death of Boy, 11

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Johnnie Jones, 22, was sentenced to 5 to 15 years in prison by Superior Court Judge Claude Vanderploeg in the tragic death of an 11-year-old Grand Rapids boy.

Jones pleaded guilty Aug. 16 to a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the Aug. 11 death of Andy Wobben.

Police said Jones drove a car that careened off another auto at an intersection and struck the bicyclist boy. Jones fled the scene on foot and was captured the following day.

Mrs. Roosevelt Enters Med Center for Checkup

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, 76, has entered Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for a general checkup that should take several days, her secretary says.

The secretary, Miss Maureen Corr, said the former first lady went to her doctor Tuesday morning and he ordered an immediate checkup.

Check Your Family's Score on 'Good Breakfast'

Does your family eat a good breakfast every morning? Breakfast is the most important meal of the day. It gives you the energy you need to get through the day. A good breakfast should be healthy, tasty, and easy to make. Here are some ideas for a good breakfast:

- Lightweight: fruit or juice, cereal with milk or cream, one, soft-boiled egg, milk to drink, toast or roll with butter, and coffee. (Not at all bad.)
- Well-served: fruit or juice, cereal with milk or cream, two eggs as desired, or one egg with bacon or ham, milk to drink, toast or roll with butter, and coffee. (Getting a bit heavy for most people.)
- Heavyweight: fruit or juice, cereal with milk or cream, two eggs with ham or a three egg omelet with trimmings, hash browned potatoes, toast or rolls with butter, and coffee. (This is for the person engaged in heavy physical labor.)

To add a little variety to your breakfast menu, here are a few recipes for something just a little different to serve your family to help them start the day right. To complete the menu, follow one of the examples above.

Egg and Cheese Scramble
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup (1 1/2 ounce carton) creamed cottage cheese
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
Mix together eggs, salt, pepper and cottage cheese. Melt butter in skillet; cook green pepper until crisp. Add egg mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Add diced ham and hard-boiled eggs cut in eighths. Season to taste and heat thoroughly. Serve on crisp waffles. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Deluxe Waffles
1/2 cup eggs, stiffly beaten
1/2 cup cream, whipping powder
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup white sugar
Cut butter into sifted dry ingredients. Combine beaten egg yolks and milk and add to flour gradually. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry, fold into batter. Pour into hot waffle iron, cook until steam no longer escapes and waffles are golden brown. Makes 4 waffles.

Minted Milk Shake
Snack a shake when you need a late afternoon pick-up. Mix one-third cup chocolate milk and one-third cup peppermint ice cream in bottom of glass. Fill glass two-thirds full with milk; stir until blended. Top with 2 scoops ice cream.

Hearty Chicken Dish Uses Economy Foods
Chicken casseroles are multi-course dishes that are real crowd pleasers. Serve them with a salad, buttered rolls, and a light dessert for a truly satisfying meal. One of the most delightful casseroles combines chicken, lima beans, and noodles. Prepare it like this:
Put cubed, cooked chicken in the center of a wide, shallow casserole. Surround it with cooked lima beans, arrange wide egg noodles around the edge, and sprinkle flour on top. To prepare the sauce, blend equal amounts of chicken broth and light cream or milk. Season with parsley, salt, pepper and shredded carrots. Bake in a 350 degree oven until cheese melts and browns lightly, about 20 minutes.

Corn Cooked in Cream Is Summer's Specialty
NEW YORK (UPI) — Summer dining calls for fresh corn, country style. Saute 5 small chopped green onions, tops included, (1 1/2 cups) in 3 tablespoons of bacon fat. Add 3 cups of fresh corn, cut off the cob, and cook over low heat 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender. Stir in 1/2 cup of light cream or top milk, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1/2 teaspoon of ground black pepper and 1/2 teaspoon of sugar. Cook only until hot. Serves 5 to 6.

Two Fruit Mold Cool and Tasty

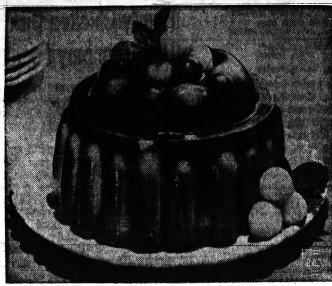

From torrid and fertile San Joaquin Valley in California now come great shipments of cooling and fragrant cantaloupe.

Though sweet, an average half serving of these melons contains only from 35 to 40 calories. Also vitamin A, some C and some B vitamins. So let's make the most of this melon harvest, using them "on the half-shell" in salads, as balls, and in desserts.

Cantaloupe-Bing Mold

1 medium-sized California cantaloupe
1 (10-ounce) package black cherry gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 (8-ounce) bottle lemon-lime carbonated beverage
1 cup sliced, seeded Bing cherries
1 cup cantaloupe balls, 3/4 inch diameter

Cut cantaloupe in halves and remove seeds. Cut melon into balls with French ball cutter or teaspoon measure. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Cool slightly. Add carbonated beverage and lime juice; chill until thick. Fold in 1 1/4 cups cantaloupe balls and halved cherries.
Turn into 1-quart mold and chill day.

MELON - CHERRY MOLD — Beautiful and sweet, cantaloupe and Bing cherry mold is a cool idea from warm California for summer eating.

until firm. Unmold and garnish with remaining cantaloupe balls, whole Bing cherries and mint sprigs if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Melons and strawberries — as well as citrus fruit and tomatoes — are fine sources of vitamin C — the vitamin we need every day.

Scallions Add Mild Flavor to Cottage Cheese Buffet

Choose small scallions and chop fine, including most of the green top; add to cream-style cottage cheese. Serve this savory combination, restaurant-style, on a platter tray that includes pickles, carrot sticks, apple butter and marinated mushrooms. Nice for a company buffet supper.

Scandinavian Sandwich Has Eye Appeal

If you visited a Scandinavian country recently, no doubt you came back with enthusiasm for those picture-book sandwich plates arranged to look as cheerful as a miniature flower garden. One of the secrets of their eye appeal is the use of cooked vegetables for gay color touches.

Italian salad eyes, it has that that name to Scandinavia is an example. And what is Italian salad? Simply a combination of cooked peas and carrots dressed with mayonnaise. A tiny mound on a miniature lettuce leaf is decorative as well as delicious with the sandwiches.

Another color idea from Scandinavia is a small mound of frozen cooked spinach on an open-face ham sandwich. The hot spinach is touched up with a bit of butter and nutmeg and bears a sautéed mushroom slice on its top. The opposite corner of the ham slice gets a thin half-slice of tomato that has been sautéed in butter.

These are not hot sandwiches, although the vegetables with them can be just-cooked when they are served. The true, ungrayed color of perfectly cooked from vegetables is liked for the flower-garden effect. Do make use of the variety of colorful frozen vegetables for a Scandinavian luncheon. Besides the color, of course, you give your sandwich luscious good balance, including nutritional value, using frozen vegetables.

The bread that underlies these picture — pretty open-face sandwiches is always thickly spread with mayonnaise or softened butter or margarine. It should be thin-sliced, firm-texture bread, light or dark.

Here is a very special cold roast beef sandwich made the Danish way with the one-inch-thick round steak roasted at high heat especially for the purpose. Frozen French fried onion rings are perfect with it.

Danish Roast Beef Sandwich
Purchase approximately 1 1/2 pounds of top round steak cut 1/2 to 1 inch thick. Preheat oven to 500 deg. F. (hot). Rub meat with cut clove of garlic. Spread on both sides with softened butter or margarine, then sprinkle thickly on both sides with pepper. Place on rack in pan and roast just 25 minutes in hot oven. Immediately sprinkle thickly on both sides with salt; then cool an hour.

Meanwhile, spread thin slices of dark rye bread thickly with butter or margarine. Slice the roast beef in 1/2 to 1-inch-wide strips. Lay strips on bread slices to cover. Mix equal parts of mayonnaise and chopped pickle (drained). Just before serving, heat two packages frozen French fried onion rings in hot oven as directed on package. Top each sandwich with an onion ring at one end and a small mound of the pickle-mayonnaise on the other.

Fillet of Seafood Sandwich
Heat frozen fried fish fillets in oven by directions on package. Place on thin-sliced, white bread which has been spread thickly with mayonnaise. Trim to fit fish fillet. Top each hot fish fillet with a teaspoon of this fluffy sauce to melt over it and bring out its flavor.

While together 1/4 cup softened butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. This makes enough stuffy when for night from fish fillets (two 8-ounce packages).

Baked Accompaniments
Crab Meat and Asparagus: Defrost a 5-oz. package of frozen Alaska King crab meat by placing still in its inner wrapping, under running cold water for approximately 20 minutes. Meanwhile, cook a 10-oz. package of frozen asparagus in salted water by directions on package until just tender. Chill asparagus and crab meat separately, just before serving, cut both in cubes and mix lightly with mayonnaise. Serve small portions on curly-lettuce leaves on sandwich plate.

Cucumber Cured: Slice cucumbers very thin (do not peel). Place in layers on plate with salt sprinkled over each layer. Let stand in refrigerator one hour, then place in bowl. Cover with mixture of 2 parts vinegar, 1 part water, and 1 part sugar. Let stand in refrigerator another hour. Drain and serve (or keep chilled until ready to serve). Cut each slice once to center and curl by standing on cut edge. Place a cluster of these cured cucumbers on sandwiches or on sandwich plate.

Long Loaf Holds Salmon Mixture

A sandwich and a salad all chopped into one... that's our Salmon Boat. Piping hot and fragrant when it comes from the oven, this is one canned salmon treat that's a real taste-treater.

Salmon Boat
1 half-pound can salmon
1 cup finely dried celery
1/2 cup finely chopped green onions
2 tablespoons chopped dill pickles
1 hard-boiled egg, chopped
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup brown bread, toasted
1/2 cup butter

Combine drained salmon with celery, green onion, dill pickle, eggs, mustard, salt and lemon juice. Cut slice lengthwise from top of loaf and hollow out, leaving 1-inch shell. Butter lightly. Combine 1 cup bread crumbs from loaf with filling ingredients. Spoon lightly into loaf; replace top. Wrap loaf in foil. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Cut into 12 thick slices to serve.

When you are turning cake batter into a baking pan, make sure that you spread the batter to the corners and level the surface.

City Fathers Defer Issue of Police Trial Board

Two old police department matters were raised at the City Commission meeting last night, and five years each from the date of decision on both were deferred for more study.

A resolution was placed before the commission by City Attorney William A. Ewart, reappointing the present Police Trial Board.

The trial board was reconstituted when voters approved adoption of a charter amendment restoring the board in the April 1960 election. However, appointment of trial board members was held up pending the outcome of an appeal to the State Supreme Court questioning the legality of wording on the ballot.

The terms of three trial board members, H. Malcolm Kahn, T. Warren Fowler and Cecil C. Mullin, are still in effect.

Those of John Dean, L. J. Davis, Rabbi Israel Goodman and Daniel Mattingly have expired.

The resolution offered last night confirms appointment of Kahn, Fowler and Mullin for the remainder of their terms, and reappoints the other four to terms of five years each from the date of decision on both were deferred for more study.

Also before the commission is a claim that the city owes former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley 48 days of vacation pay, accumulated before he was ousted from his position.

City Manager Walter K. Willman reported to the commission a year ago that the city didn't owe Straley the vacation pay. The commission has never formally acted on the matter.

It is scheduled to be discussed at an informal meeting Sept. 21. The claim was filed by Clarence Smith, Straley's attorney.

There are about 300 recognized, or registered breeds of domestic dogs.

Hopes to Hear of Russ Feeling

JFK Waiting on Word From Two Sources for Clue to Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy hoped today to hear from two widely expected sources in the next few days how the Kremlin feels about Berlin negotiations.

In New York White House disarmament adviser John J. McCloy was to begin meetings today with Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin. Though the talks are on disarmament, they may provide important clues on Berlin as well.

In Moscow U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who returned to his post last weekend, was taking diplomatic soundings on the Soviet foreign ministry's Berlin plans.

The McCloy-Zorin talks will be the highest-level confrontation between American and Russian officials since Russia raised tension in the Berlin crisis Friday by resuming nuclear tests.

McCloy is as close to Kennedy as Zorin is to Khrushchev, and both men, if so inclined, are in a position to sound each other out on East-West issues far beyond their immediate assignment.

Formally their talks are a continuation of June and July meetings to arrange for future disarmament talks.

Both Kennedy and Khrushchev have said there should be Berlin negotiations before Russia signs a threatened peace treaty with East Germany. So far neither has taken the step of formally requesting diplomatic talks.

Air Hijacking Bill Signed by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has signed into law a bill making aircraft hijacking an act of piracy with penalties up to death.

The measure—which also includes penalties of 20 years to life in prison—was enacted by Congress in reaction to gunpoint seizures of commercial airliners. The law also carries penalties of up to five years and a $5,000 fine for giving false information about plane hijackings, and up to a year in jail and $1,000 fine for illegally carrying concealed weapons aboard an aircraft.

'Greatest Story Ever Told' to Be Filmed in 1962

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Producer-director George Stevens will film "The Greatest Story Ever Told" the story of Christ.

He told a news conference he had acquired ownership of the story's movie rights from 20th Century Fox.

Stevens said the picture will go into production, probably here, by Jan. 1.

He said the Fox management had expressed lack of confidence in the subject matter of the story.

Ship Fire Damage Estimated at $26,000

SARNIA, Ont. (UPI)—The Imperial Oil Co. Ltd., today estimated damages to its tanker Imperial Hamilton and a loading dock caused by an explosion and fire Monday at $26,000.

Officials of the firm said damage to the tanker amounted to $10,000 and to the dock $16,000.

Six men were injured in the blast which occurred while the vessel was being loaded with 800,000 gallons of gasoline at a St. Clair River dock here.

Colorful Fruits in Picture Salad

A favorite refreshing fruit plate starts with fresh, sweet peaches which arrive with strawberries in May, and still provide their golden color for fresh desserts in September.

Next to eating peaches out of hand, ripe, dripping with sweet cool juice, we like them halved and generous looking for the center attraction of our picture lunch or salad plate. Not peeled. The National Peach Council tells us that most peaches are dehusked these days, so leave the peachy, vitamin-packed skins on.

Skins, lengthwise slices of yellow peaches, fanned at one edge of the plate give a nice blending of colors. Then for an exclamatory point of color, try waxy red plums nestled next to the peaches. A cool, crisp bed of green lettuce makes a perfect background for your artistic venture.

Partly-like, creamy cheese balls rolled in chopped nuts team up well with the natural fruit flavors and make a well balanced lunch—pretty as a picture.

When you are making up a gelatin dish, make sure that the gelatin is completely dissolved.

FRESH FRUIT PLATE — Fruit counters, roadside stands, home orchards offer a palette of colors for your choosing by the bountiful basketful. Globes of golden peaches, porcelain-like yellow pears, deep red cherries, royal purple plums, delicate green grapes—all of these plus a wonderful array of berries add to the tapestry of color. Now is the time to let your urge to be an artist come forth. Concise, arrange, create the most mouth watering fresh fruit plates you can think of.

Hot Dessert Has Place in Summer Meal

A cold soup and main course with a hot dessert makes a refreshingly different summer menu.

Leann Light Souffle
 1 tablespoon each butter and flour
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 egg (separated)
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
 Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Stir in milk and sugar; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened; do not boil. Stir in lemon rind and juice; remove from heat.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; stir in a little of the hot mixture; return to saucepan, blending. Beat egg whites until foamy; sprinkle with cream of tartar; continue beating until stiff. Blend about 1/4 of the beaten egg whites into other mixture; fold in remaining egg whites.

Bake in ungreased 1 1/2 quart souffle dish in slow (325 degrees) oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Serve with thawed frozen raspberries or whipped cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Duck Bavarian First Marinated in Beer Mixture

More savory than baked duckling is duckling marinated overnight in a spicy liquid, then baked and served with a thickened sauce made from the flavorful marinade. The rich combination of flavors from start to finish assure good eating.

Men are fond of duck and the increasingly popular fowl are plentiful and attractively priced this season.

The sweet and sour marinade is made with beer, vinegar, sugar, salt, spices, onions, carrots and celery leaves. Good with Duck Bavarian would be mashed potatoes, a mixed salad and crusty bread.

Duckling Bavarian
 1 large duckling (4 to 6 pounds), quartered
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 cup beer
 1/2 cup onion, sliced
 1/2 cup carrot, sliced
 1/2 cup celery, sliced
 1/2 cup salt
 1/2 cup pepper
 1/2 cup mustard
 1/2 cup ground ginger
 1/2 cup ground cloves
 1/2 cup (bottle or can) beer
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/2 cup onion, sliced
 1/2 cup carrot, sliced
 1/2 cup celery, sliced
 1/2 cup salt
 1/2 cup pepper
 1/2 cup mustard
 1/2 cup ground ginger
 1/2 cup ground cloves
 1/2 cup (bottle or can) beer

Have duckling split into quarters; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Make marinade by mixing sugar, salt, spices, beer, vinegar, onions, 2 of the carrots and celery leaves. Pour over quartered duckling. Let stand 4 hours or overnight, turning and basting occasionally.

Drain duckling, reserving marinade liquid, and place skin side up in baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours, until duckling is almost tender.

Remove duckling and drain fat except 4 tablespoons. Heat fat and gradually blend in flour; add marinade liquid and remaining 4 carrots and continue stirring over medium heat until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Reduce heat and checking to sauce; cover with foil and return to oven.

Set at low heat (325 degrees) and bake 30 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

PLUM SEASON — Rice Imperial with bits of fresh purple plums throughout is a regal dessert whether served with whipped cream and a garnish of quartered plums or with poached plums which grenadine, a favorite liqueur, or brandy has been added. Good now while purple plums are in our markets, it may become a Yuletide dessert if you quick-like stow away some of the fruit in your freezer and on your canning cupboard shelves.

Purple Plum Season All Too Short

"Come over for Dessert" is a pleasant way to entertain and most impressive when the dessert is an elegant one with a fancy name — "Rice Imperial." Even its translation sounds sophisticated — "Rice Imperial," a beautiful rice cream mold.

This is a slightly different version of the traditional French and Viennese recipes inasmuch as coarsely-crushed purple plums have been used in the mold instead of glazed fruit, and purple plums become the garnishment in two suggested ways, both good.

Since plump personable purple plums with their regal coloring are here in our markets from Idaho, now is the time to enjoy this unusual dessert. But by stowing away some of this delicious sour, seasoned fruit in your freezer and on canning shelves, Rice Imperial can also grace the Christmas scene and many another occasion.

Rice Imperial with Purple Plums
 1/2 cup rice
 4 cups boiling water
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup salt
 1/2 cup vanilla
 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind

Add rice to boiling water. Bring to boil again and drain. Return rice to saucepan (a heavy one) add milk, salt, vanilla, rind. Cover and simmer for half an hour or until rice is very tender and liquid is absorbed. Set aside.

In double boiler, top, beat egg yolks or whole eggs until blended, add sugar. Mix well. Stir in milk. Cook over hot water until mixture covers the spoon, making a soft custard. Add vanilla, remove from heat. Soften gelatin in cold water, stir into hot custard mixture until dissolved. Add to the rice. Cool to room temperature.

Allow the set purple plums, plums about the size of the end of your little finger and beat out with scissors rather than chopped, to marinate in the orange juice or to blend, a delightful liqueur. This can be done at the beginning. Add to the pudding. Fold 1/4 of the whipped cream sweetened with 1/4 cup sugar into the pudding and turn into a 2 quart mold. Chill well for at least 4 hours.

To serve, turn out on chilled plate, your prettiest. Use remainder of whipped cream to garnish top of mold or around the sides, along with thin-sliced purple plums over which melted purple plums or currant jelly has been poured. Return to refrigerator a few minutes for jelly to set. Or serve with.

Purple Plums Poached in Syrup
 Remove seeds from 12 or more fresh purple plums, easy to stone this is a free liqueur. Add to gether 1 cup granulated sugar and 1 cup water in shallow wide saucepan. Add 1/4 cup white corn syrup. Bring to the boiling point. Add 2 quartered orange slices if desired. Boil 5 minutes. Add just enough of the purple plum halves to cover the bottom of the pan. Cook slowly, basting with the syrup, until plums are tender.

Carefully lift into serving dish. Cook remainder of plums, adding to the others. Four syrup over all after adding, if desired, 2 or 3 tablespoons Cointreau or Curacao (fine liqueurs with distinct orange flavors), or Kirsch or Cherry Brandy, or brandy, or grenadine — a syrup from pones. Chill very well. Serve a spoon over each serving of the Rice Mold.

P.S. These plums are good served over ice cream or eaten alone topped with slightly sweetened whipped cream, both always well-chilled of course.

Oatmeal Muffins High in Appeal

Oatmeal is a versatile, energy-giving food, which is one reason why it is included among the foods recommended to needy families by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In addition to its role as a traditional breakfast food, oatmeal can be worked into menus for each meal of the day.

One of the recipes developed by nutrition experts of the U.S.D.A. is for oatmeal muffins that is certain to appeal to the entire family. In addition to making a delicious hot bread, this recipe is especially valuable to low-income families as it includes several delectable foods.

For about one dozen medium-sized muffins you'll need 1 cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup quick-cooking oats, 1 egg, beaten (or 2 1/2 tablespoons sifted dried egg mixed with 2 1/2 tablespoons water), 1 cup milk (or 1/2 cup dry milk plus 1 cup water) and 1/2 cup melted fat or oil.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; add oats. Combine egg, milk and fat. Add to dry ingredients all at once, stirring only enough to moisten. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake at 400 degrees F. (third oven) about 20 minutes.

Grilled Lamburgers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ground lamb makes delicious burgers. Sprinkle them with seasoned salt and grill about 10 minutes, turning once. Top with thinly sliced tomato or cheese before serving.

This does not mean you can't cut down on calories. Dr. Jullitte points out. But full daily requirements for proteins, vitamins and other essential nutrients are a must. Contrary to widespread opinion, the only vitamin you can get from exposure to the sun is Vitamin D.

Dr. Jullitte has these tips on good hot weather fare:

1. Cold cuts can be just as high in protein as a roast of beef. Enjoy these as good protein sources, along with cottage cheese and skim milk for a meal that's "light" but good for you.
2. Stay on a regular meal schedule. Even though hot weather of ten dulls the appetite, your body still needs a consistent fuel supply.

3. Eating itself generates some body heat. Have your biggest meal in the evening when outside temperatures are lower.

4. People have a tendency to eat less of everything in hot weather, which cuts down their essential vitamin intake. Vitamin supplements are important "health insurance" additions to your hot weather diet.

5. Don't ignore those refreshing salads and leafy green vegetables that make summer cooking — and eating — such a joy; just be sure you balance them with the other nutrients you need.

Mart Perks Up at Auto News

NEW YORK (U)—The stock market celebrated the rosier outlook for peace in the auto industry by advancing in moderately active trading at the opening today.

Motor stocks were bought fairly heavily as they and steel paced a general advance by industrials. Ford, jumping about 2 points, touched a new high.

Chrysler rose more than a point. General Motors was fractionally higher as the United Auto Workers called off the strike after this morning after a new offer by the company appeared to have cleared the way for a settlement of the union's key benefit plans.

The top steelmakers were mostly higher by fractions, although Jones & Laughlin bounced back from Tuesday's sharp loss, rising more than a point.

Among aircraft, Boeing spurred more than a point on a published report of defense contracts coming its way.

Magna rose more than a point in a generally higher copper section.

International Business Machines advanced more than 3.

Prices on the American stock exchange were mixed. Aiken chemical picked up about 2 points. Hardeman and Aerojet-General were fractionally higher. Losers included Universal Controls, Cathlin and Insurance Co. of North America.

Eyes of Texas on Dallas Today

Negroes Now Admitted to White Schools After Public Relations Talks

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Dallas today admits Negroes to the city's largest segregated public school system following an 18-month public education program designed to insure peaceful integration.

Officials predicted no trouble and turned out specially-trained police details to head off any possible violence.

Negro parents were told to bring their children to all first graders in eight selected schools without escort and to use the front doors, as the white pupils do.

The Texas Coast city of Galveston also integrates today, with 23 Negroes assigned to previously all-white public schools.

Galveston Roman Catholic parochial schools were integrated Tuesday. In Houston, integration entered its second year and was extended from the first to the second grade in public schools.

But the eyes of Texas were on Dallas, where a of the 101 all-white elementary public schools were desegregated on the first grade level under a "stair-step" program that will add a grade a year for 13 years.

Officials operated under a minutely detailed plan designed to keep troublemakers away.

Names of the eight schools were not being made public until 90 minutes before school bells ring.

U.N. Head in Congo Dies in Plane Crash

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations has received word of the death of Brig. Joseph E. Michel of Ghana, recently appointed chief of staff of U.N. operations in the Congo.

Michel was killed in a plane crash in Ghana Sunday. He had just been appointed to the U.N. post only last week.

Steamer's Final Told—61

BUENAVENTURA, Colombia (UPI)—Miguel Sanchez Ramirez, commander of the naval kitchen craft in front of the U.S. base here, said today 61 persons appear to have drowned in the sinking Sunday of the tourist-loaded steamer El Venecol.

They make friends with German soldiers, on a Sunday outing, make friends with toddlers they encountered with their mothers in Pembroke, Wales. The soldiers are members of Germany's 8th Panzer Battalion. In Wales for a month of

Judge Sends Youths to Southfield Court

Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland yesterday agreed to remand to Southfield Justice Court three Royal Oak Township youths accused of the 1958 armed holdup at an Oak Park store last month.

Standing mute at their arraignment were William F. Kelly, 18; Leslie Cotttingham, 18; and Harold Johnson, 17.

The manager of the store, 13300 W. Eight Mile Road, said the trio, along with two other juveniles, most of whom were carrying guns, surprised him and a clerk in his store and ordered the money from the cash register.

Floping after firing two shots, the five youths were nabbed in a parked car about five minutes later near the store.

No date for the lower court examination was set.

Royal Oak Fireman Jailed in Assault

Arrested for the alleged knifing of his cousin's wife, Royal Oak fireman William G. Gravin, 27, yesterday stood mute to the charge of felonious assault.

Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland ordered a plea of innocent for Gravin, 2545 Hawthorne Road, and reduced his bond from $10,000 to $5,000.

Gravin allegedly attacked Mrs. Robert Gravin, 26, with a five-inch knife, and she was injured.

The Dutch tug Noord Holland base here, said today 61 persons appear to have drowned in the sinking Sunday of the tourist-loaded steamer El Venecol.

Will Try Youth for Girls' Death

James Scott Stephen Charged With Murder of 2; Sept. 18 Date Set

ALLEGAN—James Scott Stephen, 15, of rural Holland, was tried for murder Sept. 18 in the fatal shootings of two young girls.

The date was set Tuesday in calling the calendar of the September session before, Allegan Circuit Court Judge Raymond L. Smith.

Stephen is charged specifically in the April 25 death of 11-year-old Carol Gee. The girl and a playmate, Margaret Chambers, 12, were killed by a dozen 22-caliber bullets in a Lake Michigan dunes area near their homes just west of Holland.

Stephen, a Saugatuck high school sophomore, was arrested later in Kadoka, S. D. He has claimed the shootings were an accident.

Stephen's attorney entered a plea of innocent for the youth last May 22. Stephen is held at Ottawa County Jail in Grand Haven.

The defense has filed intent to base its case on a claim of temporary insanity on the part of Stephen at the time of the shooting.

GM Makes New Offer

Delay Strike to Monday

Highland Park School Fracas to Be Discussed

Board, Judge, Citizens Unit to Meet on Bias Charge Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—The Highland Park Board of Education and U.S. District Judge John Feikens meet tonight with a citizens group to discuss the group's complaint that a Highland Park school is segregated.

After hearing the complaint Tuesday, Judge Feikens said he would issue an injunction to close the Thomson School. But he held up the actual order pending further discussion.

The school board of the Detroit suburb meanwhile delayed until all Monday morning meeting of all the city's schools, scheduled to reopen today.

The Massachusetts Avenue Improvement Association charged a new district policy of the board would force children from an eight-block square area to go to the Thomson School. Previously, they had the option of attending Thomson or other Highland Park schools.

DEBIES SEGREGATION
James Tobin, attorney for the school board, denied any intended segregation.

"No school board records are kept on a racial basis," he said. "This (new policy) is not a racial division nor under the district's jurisdiction in any way. The lines go equally through colored areas."

Mrs. Helen Field, a board member, also said there has been "no altering of districts by the Highland Park School Board." She said the school lines in a Negro district.

Judge Feikens said, "This court will not permit segregation whether contrived ingeniously or innocently."

"The board will be inconvenienced by what I will do but I shall grant a temporary restraining order maintaining the status quo of last year."

Women Stops En Route to Give Birth to Twins

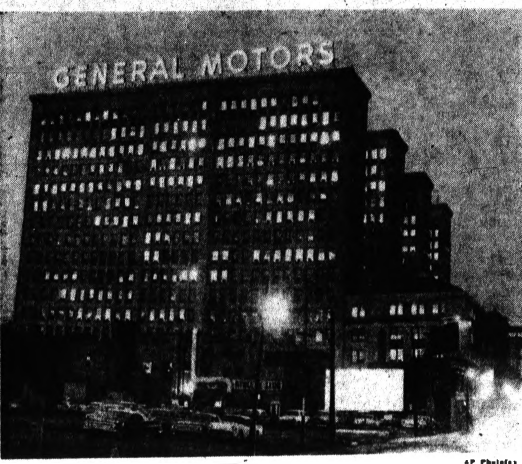

MARION, Ind.—Mrs. Florence Wells, 25, en route to her Detroit home from Mississippi, got as far as a Marion, Ind., service station yesterday when she gave birth to her twins.

Two state troopers helped deliver the child, a boy, minutes after Mrs. Wells drove into the service station. She was rushed to Marion General Hospital, where a girl was born. Attendants said the mother and mother were doing well.

BURNING THE MIDNIGHT OIL— Lights burned brightly in the executive offices of the General Motors Building in Detroit Tuesday night as General Motors and United Auto Workers negotiators tried to reach a contract agreement before the scheduled 10 A.M. strike deadline today. Negotiators continued their talks through the night in the huge building. Both sides assured President Kennedy they would try to beat the strike deadline. After substantial progress was made early this morning, UAW's Walter Reuther joined GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton in the announcement that the strike deadline had now been extended to 10 A.M. Monday.

City commissioners went on record last night as opposing the cancellation of two North Central Airlines flights at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Commissioners passed a resolution requesting that NCA reconsider the move.

Chrysler Sticks to Same Names

Variety Within Lines Stressed; Sport New Series of Preview

BY JOHN J. CROWLEY
City Editor, The Pontiac Press
A greater variety within existing lines was the picture of 1962 Chrysler Corp. cars drawn by Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler for newsmen in Detroit this morning.

The same familiar names of Dodge, Chrysler, Imperial, Plymouth and Valiant will be revamped by the car-buying public.

New in the Dodge line will be the Dodge Polara 300, designed to catch the eye of the sports car enthusiast. A new 200 series has been added to Chrysler Newport and New Yorker models.

Both the Valiant and Lancer at the economy end of the scale have been expanded to three series each.

Wage Package All Wrapped Up but Needs Ties

After Long, Busy Night, Reuther and Seaton Tell of Closer Agreement

Two wildcat auto strikes have been reported today despite the bargaining-table extension of the deadline. In St. Louis, 6,200 employees at Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants struck. In Pittsburgh, 1,450 walked off their jobs at a Fisher Body plant.

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers called off a strike set for 10 A.M. today at General Motors plants after a new offer by the company.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced nearly seven hours before the strike deadline that it had been extended until 10 A.M. Monday.

He said substantial progress was made during the night on broad economic issues.

Kennedy told Reuther and Seaton "our affairs are all shrouded in this important segment of our economy."

Seaton said the extension until Monday was not requested by Washington but "was agreed upon in the bargaining room."

WIRE HAD EFFECT
Reuther said the President's message "was a very strong one. We had been working very hard before we received it. We were a little more conscious of our responsibilities after we received it."

Reuther declared the night session made "real progress toward meeting the needs of UAW workers."

U.S. Drops Rice Socks

BANARAS, Thailand (AP)—U.S. Air Force transport dropped 10 tons of rice Tuesday to villages in a remote northwestern section of Thailand isolated by floods.

You will get the details later Reuther told newsmen.

Some sources close to the bargaining table said agreement in principle had been reached on this year economic contract with many problems at the local level yet to be settled.

But Reuther said it isn't "wrapped up fully."

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock in charge of the union's bargaining with GM, was quoted in his comment.

Our union source, who asked not to be identified, said: "We believe there is now enough momentum in the national economic package to permit us to wrap it up by Sept. 11. But we must analyze it and the package is not yet wrapped and tied."

U.S. to Do N-Tests but 'Underground'

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON (AP)—Lifting its three-year lid on atomic tests, the United States will set off underground nuclear explosions in the next few weeks to develop more advanced weapons.

"We have no other choice," President Kennedy announced Tuesday after getting word of Russia's third atomic blast in five days.

The American tests will start this month. Authorities indicated the first explosions will be small by atomic standards.

The aim: To improve battlefield arms like those now in the hands of U. S. troops in Europe and (U) to gain know-how for testable rockets.

Because they will be below ground and in laboratories—unlike the Soviets' in the atmosphere shots—the U. S. tests will not produce fallout.

WASHINGTON—The House Appropriations Committee today decided to resume nuclear testing today by voting $10 million to finance the work.

In a last-minute change the sum was earmarked for "explosions testing" as the committee approved a $3,862,500 money bill carrying funds for the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and the government's so-called "public works" functions.

Reuther said the President's message "was a very strong one. We had been working very hard before we received it. We were a little more conscious of our responsibilities after we received it."

Reuther declared the night session made "real progress toward meeting the needs of UAW workers."

CONGRESS APPLAUDS
Kennedy's announcement drew some sources said he was recharged by Congress, where many members of both parties have been calling for a resumption of U. S. tests, and dismay from Soviet leaders.

John J. McCloy, the U. S. disarmament administrator, arranged to meet in New York today with Vladimir Zorin, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, to resume talks on setting up a multinational disarmament conference.

Many also had been planned for more than two months and were being held in secret.

Shortly before the afternoon hour, retired workers hurried around taking down Indian flags and portraits of Nehru which had been put up to welcome the Indian leader.

CONVICTION REBORN
Nehru's decision to return here, at which the Russians were advised only Tuesday night, threw the airport into confusion.

They substituted flags of Ghana and pictures of Nehru. As soon as Nehru and Khrushchev went inside, the workers were back to take down the Ghana decorations and put the Indian ones back up.

It was expected that Nehru personally would accept the U.S. proposal for a moratorium on nuclear weapons tests above ground. But the Moscow had scintillated the Western proposal.

Denunciation of the Western proposal was accompanied by continuing press attacks against the United States, Britain, France and West Germany unparalleled in the last few years.

Khrushchev Gets Report on Belgrade Conclave

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Khrushchev got a report from Moscow by 40 minutes today and presented Soviet Premier Khrushchev the first direct word from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, of the nonaligned summit conference call for peace talks.

In Washington the White House plans a courteous but cautious welcome for two Belgrade conference envoys flying here to press for a new Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting.

Khrushchev embraced the African leader at the foot of the gangplank of his Soviet-built Ghana Airways Airliner.

The two went immediately to a private room at the airport to be

Area to Receive Rain Forecasts

The weatherman has decided to skip the Pontiac area for a few days while forecasting rain. That is, except for tonight when there's a chance of thunder showers. The low will be about 64.

Nearly clear and warm, with temperatures averaging about 5 degrees above the normal high of 77 and normal low of 57, is the five-day forecast for the area.

Precipitation will total near three-quarters of an inch as showers or thunderstorms mostly on Saturday.

Sixty-five was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac, preceding 8 A.M. The reading was 64 at 1 p.m. Winds will continue easterly at 10 to 12 miles per hour.

with big foot emerging, Henry's almost free; and lower right: on fourth day after hatching, Henry pecks a bit of shell. Zoo keepers say the baby ostrich is growing fast on a diet of boiled eggs and dog food.

$50, Salami May Get You Over to Europe in Future

NEW YORK (UPI) — You probably haven't heard much about it lately, but H. B. Cantor is still plugging away at making a $50 ship fare to Europe a reality.

Cantor's theme could well be "Nobody knows the trouble I've seen." And he could add, "Nobody knows the money I've seen go out."

Cantor, whose name rocketed into headlines a few years back when he announced he was going to build two 50,000-ton super liners capable of carrying 5,000 passengers at fares ranging from $50 to $125, says he's already put three-quarters of a million dollars into his idea. As yet, the liners still are only on paper.

But Cantor isn't discouraged or planning to abandon his idea for the liners Peace and Good Will.

"I know it — I will see them sail," he emphasized. "You think I'm a sucker to put this time and money in."

Cantor, a successful New York hotelman, leaves no doubt he feels he was sabotaged in Washington every time he tried for federal assistance and guarantees to build his $80 million-each liners. Several times congressional bills to open the way to building the liners either died or were killed by opposition.

OVERSEAS FINANCING

Frustrated by official Washington, Cantor turned toward overseas financing and construction. Preliminary construction contracts were signed in 1958 with the Deutsche Werft Shipyards in Hamburg, Germany — subject to his securing financing. And that's where the project stands today.

Cantor still is searching for the financing. Cantor says he'll reserve 20 per cent of the space on his ships for the $50 passenger. He feels he'll make his money from "the higher priced room and the big spender."

Unlike conventional liners, the price of the ticket on one of Cantor's ships won't include meals, and there won't be any room service. The traveler will buy his meals in one of the cafeterias or restaurants on board.

As Cantor envisions his liners, they'll be one of his hotels set on a hull. The plans call for 2,750 passenger cabins on five of the 11 decks. All the rooms would have private shower and toilet facilities. The ships would travel at 34 knots and carry 1,350 crew members. The crossing to Europe would take four days.

Clearance Signs Due for Freeway Bridges

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department plans to post signs giving the underclearance of more than 600 bridges over state highways.

More than 200 bridges over freeways have the first priority and will be signed by the first of the year. Clearance for the other bridges will be posted when the work on freeway structures is completed.

The project is being started because several low bridges have been hit by large trucks and other high vehicles trying to squeeze through, the department said.

Van Zandt Wheeler Dies at 75; Was Newsman

SHARON, Conn. (AP)—Van Zandt Wheeler, 75, former newspaperman, author and insurance expert, died Monday.

Wheeler worked for the old New York Sunday Herald and later the New York World, wrote a number of magazine stories and also published a novel. He was born in Wichita, Kan.

Aid Father of 8 Whose Home Was Destroyed

A Pontiac city employee and father of eight, whose home burned on the ground Labor Day, is in at the Price Funeral Home, Troy, and his fellow workers are doing something about it.

Department of Public Works employees are picking up 11th contributions of clothing, food, linen, bedding and furniture for the destitute family.

Robert A. Nicholas, his wife and children were at a drive-in theater when their home at 3119 Buckner Road, Orion Township, was destroyed by fire.

"Fortunately no one was injured, but they lost just about everything they owned," said Clyde Christian, DFW superintendent.

"Anything people can donate will be greatly appreciated. Items may be brought to the DFW office in City Hall or the Lake Street yards," Christian explained.

"If items are too bulky, we would be happy to pick them up," he added.

The Nicholas have four boys, ages 6 months, 2, 8 and 9 years; and four girls, ages 4, 5, 7, and 10.

Report State of Treasury LANSING (AP)—State treasury income during the month of August was $184.4 million and outgo $197 million, the treasurer's office reports. The balance in all treasury funds at the end of the month was $76.3 million.

U.S. Misses Teach Reds New Tactics

By HARRY FERGUSON
BERLIN (UPI)—A task force of four pretty American school teachers has won a decisive battle against the government and armed forces of Communist East Germany.

Under escort of the United States army, they swept triumphantly past the bayonets of the East German Communist police into East Berlin.

It was a hard fight for Sandra Watkins of San Francisco, Mollie Magrill of Riverside, Calif., Ann Moore of Burbank, Calif., and Miss Catherine Ozmon of Portsmouth, Va.

At one point Miss Ozmon who has a sargum molasses accent, fled from the East Communist police faster than the "damn Yankees" ran at Bull Run.

The four girls arrived in Germany two weeks ago to teach in the U.S. Armed Forces school at Pirnassau, and decided to spend their Labor Day holiday in Berlin.

On Sunday they went to the check point in the American sector where foreigners with the proper credentials can cross into East Berlin.

Their handicap was that they did not have any credentials, but they began edging close enough to the border line to attract the attention of a Communist policeman.

Then they took one step too many and technically were over the border. The Communist police started running toward them with a fixed bayonet, and the American line wavered, then broke.

As Miss Ozmon explained it: "Ah ain't much of a one for guns and glory. That Communist wasn't samterin' to'd us. He was comin' haid on, and he was running 'his mouth inhuman. Ah says to the girls we bettah get outta hesh, but ah didn't wait for an ansuh. Ah just took off for the reah."

American military police came to the assistance of the other three girls and arrived at a compromise by moving them slightly back toward the American sector. An orange chalk line was drawn on the pavement for the future guidance of the girls.

The U.S. task force returned to the border Monday but still without credentials. Their arrival lifted the morale of the American Soldiers on duty, but the girls were reminded of the of the orange chalk line.

A "music duel" was under way between sound trucks on each side of the border. In honor of Miss Ozmon the western song and glory. That Communist was playing a Southern spiritual with this refrain, "I'm going to lay down my sword and shield down by the river side. I ain't gonna study war no more." The Communist truck retaliated with "Never on Sunday."

NO TIME, NO HOW

"Never on any day," said Miss Ozmon when asked if she planned to go up to the orange line and take some pictures. "Ah know weah mah place is and ahm keepin' it."

An American staff car containing a driver and Capt. Wayne Spitzer, bound on a tour of East Berlin, stopped at the check point. The captain used up the situation and invited the four girls to go with him. Credentials or no credentials. All of them except Miss Ozmon accepted and climbed into the car.

Miss Ozmon was urged to have courage. The names of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson were invoked. The cause appeared to be lost when this correspondent suddenly said: "Capt. Spitzer is a Southerner, too. From Miami, Fla."

"Yead don't say," exclaimed Miss Ozmon. "Undah those circumstances, ah'll be glad to go."

She climbed boldly into the front seat and began giving the driver an earful of molasses as the American car slowly went past the barrier and picked up speed into East Berlin.

Peace Corps Accord Replaced in Malaysia

To Drown Cars in Safety Study

Sponsors Working on Project for Life-Saving Under Water

WILLIAMSTON (U)—The hand brake was released today and a unique car-dunking safety project gained momentum at a water-filled gravel pit in this central Michigan community.

OPERATION SPLASH
The project—"Operation Splash"—involves the dropping of automobiles into the pit in what has been described as the first intensive study of the most practical means of escape and rescue after a car plunges into water.

The American Red Cross, Indiana University and the Michigan State Police are cooperating in the series of tests, lasting through Sept. 16, in which seven cars will be submerged more than 30 times.

Three trial runs were made Tuesday, said Bernard Kuhn, technical director for the project. Kuhn, an Indiana University graduate student, said it was too early to draw conclusions from the information gathered.

It took three minutes and 10 seconds for a car to sink in 12 feet of water Tuesday, he said.

At the start of the tests state police skin divers will watch results from outside the submerged car. If the project's director is convinced there is no danger, the skin divers later may ride the cars down as passengers.

Instruments will measure the amount of air trapped in each vehicle and how long it takes to escape. The autos will be dropped from launching platforms into the pit and retrieved by a Highway Department crane.

CARS DONATED
A Lansing auto salvage firm donated six old cars and General Motors Corp. gave the researchers a new one.

The agencies conducting the tests said more than 400 motorists a year lose their lives when their cars plunge into water.

Gibson Airlifts 5,000 to Sales Convention

DETROIT (U)—What is reported to be the largest commercial jet airlift in history got under way Tuesday when the first of 35 flights carrying over 5,000 representatives of the Gibson Refrigerator Division of the Hupp Corp. left Metropolitan Airport here bound for Jamaica and Panama.

The airlift is the firm's fourth annual overseas sales convention. Gibson dealers from all over the United States will be flown by chartered Braniff International Airways Boeing 707s to the Republic of Panama to attend business seminars and preview Gibson's 1962 product line.

C. J. Gibson Jr., president of the company which is headquartered in Greenville and F. S. Gibson Jr., board chairman, were hosts to today's first group of 147 passengers.

Tigers May Need Yank Aid to Keep 2nd

SPORTS

Rookie Gets 9 Hits in Row to Tie Mark

By The Associated Press
That American League is so dominated by the New York Yankees that even youngsters they've traded away are muscling into the record book.

While Mickey Mantle belted his 31st home run and New York eight RBI, all in the second inning, he had a 50 lead going into the bottom of the ninth, when the Cards broke up Bob Purkey's three-hit shutout with a single by Ken Boyer and doubles by Charlie Jensen and pinch hitter Carl Sawatski. Purkey (15-10) had lost his fourth straight game back to back on July 27. Cincinnati wrapped it up with two runs in the sixth off Bob Gibson (10-11) on a walk. Frank Robinson's single, a double by Jerry Lynch and a sacrifice fly, gave the Reds a 5-0 lead.

TWIN KILLING—Detroit shortstop Chico Fernandez throws to first to complete a second inning double play last night against the Baltimore Orioles. Dick Williams of the Orioles grounded to Fernandez who stepped on second forcing Brooks Robinson and then threw out Williams. The Tigers lost 1-0.

Orioles Trail Detroit by 4½ Following Sweep

Baltimore has 6 Games to Play With Yankees; Bengals 7½ Behind

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Detroit Tigers may wind up losing for the New York Yankees to whip the Baltimore Orioles in the closing days of the American League season.

Just five days ago the Tigers were counting heavily on Baltimore to save New York around in the final six meetings between the two teams, giving Detroit a chance to edge closer to first place.

That was when the red-hot Tigers were clawing close to the top of the American League standings, a mere 1½ games behind the Yankees.

But a six-game losing streak has sent the suddenly-lamed Tigers reeling. 7½ games behind the Yankees, enabling Baltimore to pose a new threat from behind.

After sweeping a three-game series with Detroit, the Orioles now trail the Tigers by 4½ games. So, with their pennant chances all but gone, Detroit may need help from the Yanks to save second-place money.

RUN SLUMP
Detroit has fallen just 11 runs during its longest losing streak of the season, seven runs in the three losses to New York and four runs in three setbacks at the hands of the Orioles.

Detroit manager Bob Schefling is unimpressed by a schedule which finds the Tigers playing second division teams from the end of the week except for a four-game set with New York.

"That doesn't mean a damn," Schefling said after Baltimore won a 4½ suspended game and a 1-0 regular game last night. "We keep losing," he said. "They've got to lose, too, and I don't think they will."

PRAINED PLAYERS
While disappointed by the schedule, Schefling praised his players.

"If we had played badly during this stretch, I'd be griping," he said. "But we haven't played badly. I just don't know what we have to do to win."

In the regulation contest it was again Don Mossi against the Orioles and the Tigers. His teammates gave him almost no support, helping winner Chuck Fiedora score three hits as the youthful Oriole struck out 11 Tigers on his way to win number 12 against eight losses.

Dodgers Stay Close in NL Race

Curfew Doesn't Stop Giants' Loss

By The Associated Press
Curfew or no curfew, the Giants shoulda stood in bed.

After getting the bed-check lifted for one night—following a reported $1,500 fine spread over 12 players by Manager Al Dark for curfew violations—once hot San Francisco stumbled to a 10th defeat in 12 games Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Giants 4-0.

It was the sixth success in eight games for the second place Dodgers, who stayed within two games of front-running Cincinnati in the National League race, after the Reds beat St. Louis 5-2.

Bob Hunter, Los Angeles Examiner baseball writer, reported that Dark socked 13 of his players, including three veterans, with fines ranging from $250 down to $100. Hunter added that Dark then lifted the curfew—normally two hours after a night game on the road—for one night after the Giants lost 4-0 at Los Angeles Monday.

Dark, a devout family man who neither drinks nor smokes, termed the $1,500 figure excessive. He

Sawchuk Signs New Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Terry Sawchuk, the 34-year-old Detroit Red Wings goalie, today signed a two-year pact with the Detroit Red Wings.

He signed for his 12th NHL, his 1981-82 contract with the Detroit Red Wings.

Sawchuk again is expected to play in the Detroit nets until 1982-83 when he was with Hank Bassen. The two goalies helped Detroit into the finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs the following season and returned last spring before the Wings were taken by Chicago.

There was considerable speculation

The Rockies outfielder did it with three home runs, one a grand slam, a double and five singles other ex-Yank, but a three-run in 11 at-bats. But it wasn't enough, wrapped up the opener. The Angels lost the two-night game against the Yankees 4-1, 1-0, who was involved in the Thomas deal at Kansas City 7-3 and 13-12.

Chicago and Minnesota played that sent Bob Cerv and Tex Clev. a 3-3 tie in a game called after New York, Jerry Walker (7-11) and Bob Shaw (10-12) were the winners.

Asks Psychiatrists for Shooter of Four

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — The prosecution at the arraignment of a woman who shot four of her neighbors Tuesday asked the court to appoint two psychiatrists to examine the woman.

Mrs. Florence Rathjen, 70, went on a shooting spree last Aug. 14, and at her arraignment Tuesday she stood mute. The court entered a plea of not guilty for her.

The court also granted the request of the prosecution and appointed two psychiatrists. She was being held on $40,000 bond.

Over 300 residents and guests took part in the Lotus Lake Boatarama held recently at Mountain View Beach.

A boat parade, water ski exhibition, numerous kids games and an appearance by Ricky the Clown featured the afternoon part of the program. A steak roast and dancing followed at night.

Competition was divided into three classes in selecting the best looking boats. Dot and Bill Graves won the pontoon class, Jo Anne and Bob Lancaster took motor boat honors and Wayne Snyder's craft was selected the most attractive "little boat." Each won

Commie Troops Wipe Out Spy Gang

LONDON (AP) — Communist troops have wiped out a gang of bandits operating along Albania's frontier with Greece under the leadership of a spy for the United States, Tirana radio claimed Tuesday night.

The Communist broadcast said the operation took place Aug. 16 and added: "The ringleader of the bandits is I. Guskova, a notorious spy in the service of Greece and the United States."

The radio did not say if Guskova had been captured or killed.

Mirani Turns Down Bid to English Peace Confab

COVENTRY, England (UPI) — Officials here were disappointed today because Detroit Mayor Louis Mirani turned down an invitation to a "man-in-the-street" peace conference in the city because of the U.S. State Department.

Lord Mayor William Callow said Mirani was one of the leaders of 26 cities from 14 countries invited to the conference. The meeting, due to open later this month, was designed to draw attention to the desire of the "man-in-the-street" for peace and international understanding.

Paris Clamps Down on Rebel Suspects

PARIS (AP) — Police made a sweep through North African quarters of Paris Tuesday night and rounded up 643 persons suspected of Algerian rebel activity.

Police Chief Maurice Papon announced several days ago that Algerians in Paris with no permanent residence or employment and those who appeared to be collecting funds for the rebels would be expelled to Algeria. The clampdown was ordered following an increase in Algerian terrorist activity.

City Fathers Fight Move to Set Up National Park

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The Traverse City Commission Tuesday night unanimously approved a resolution opposing a pending Senate bill that would make 82,300 acres of Benzie and Leelanau counties into a national recreation area.

The commission said the action would hurt the area's economy. It added that if such legislation were approved, against the overwhelming opposition of the area's residents, no private land in the United States would be safe from possible government seizure.

Installing Meters on Huron Street Near Saginaw

More metered street parking will be opened this week on W. Huron Street between N. Saginaw and Wayne streets, City Manager Walter K. Willman announced today.

City employees began installing eight new parking meters in the block this morning.

One of the meters will go on the north side of Huron across from the old county court house. Others, all on the south side, will be installed in front of the prosecutor's old office and two alongside the old courthouse.

These spaces previously had been held for courthouse traffic.

Level Arson Charge for Burning House

A second person was arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday charged with arson in the burning of an Addison Township farmhouse to collect insurance.

Standing mute on the charge was Marvin B. Lee, 25, of 2345 Dexter Road, Addison Township.

Judge H. Russell Holland entered a plea of innocent for Lee but did not set a trial date.

Lee and an employee of his face trial for the burning of Lee's eight-room farmhouse while the Lee family was vacationing. The second man, James L. Spencer, 20, of 1405 Main St., Lakeville, accuses Lee of offering him $600 for the arson.

der, 2624 Allerton St., Pontiac; and Russell Hubbard, 7980 Oakhill St., Clarkston. The school is held in cooperation with the Oakland County Sportsman's Club at the club's indoor range in Waterford. Three more sessions—Sept. 12, 19, 27—are scheduled. Eighty persons attended the opening session.

Contest Deadline Sept. 13

By DON VOGLER
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

There is only one week left for Oakland County anglers to dislodge the leaders in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Contest.

The deadline for receiving entries is 7 a.m. Sept. 13. All fish must have been brought to The Press sports department by that time.

The leaders are a one-pound, two-ounce bluegill caught by Frank Doucette of Pontiac in Lake Angelus, a 13-pound, 14-ounce northern pike taken from Deer Lake by Jack Viegstra of Drayton Woods, a 4-pound, four-ounce largemouth black bass caught at Union Lake by 15-year-old Dennis Shearer of Union Lake, and a three-pound, four-ounce rainbow taken from Schoonhouse Lake by John Adams of Clarkston.

Winners in the pike and black bass divisions will receive $50 U.S. savings bonds each and the bluegill and rainbow leaders will be awarded with $25 bonds.

The fish must be caught in Oakland County.

TROUT CLOSE
The general season on trout closes in Michigan on Sunday. Only a handful of streams will remain open after this date.

But a large list of lakes will be open to the taking of rainbow trout until Nov. 30 and again in January and February with some brown trout, too.

All Oakland County lakes stocked with rainbows will be open for the trout during the fall and again for ice fishing early next year.

Stream fishing for trout this year was not up to par. Low water early in the season and a major cutback in trout plantings were the main causes.

There were some good catches, however, particularly during the big May fly hatches. But the taking of these big trout was a more difficult task than in the past.

Rainbow fishing in Oakland lakes has slowed slightly. Anglers are still taking limit catches on many area lakes, but it is taking longer.

Bass are picking up with good catches reported from Lakeville Lake.

Fish should begin biting after the summer slack period. The latter part of this month and most of October are prime time to fish. Few anglers take advantage of this because most of them are hunting.

RANGES OPEN
The Oakland County Sportsman's Club has opened its trap and shoot fields to the public on Wednesday evenings at reduced rates. The game birds will stay open until Oct. 1.

The OCSO Broadhead League for bow and arrow hunters gets under way Thursday at 6 p.m. Hunting arrows are used and the league will meet Thursdays until Oct. 1.

A good many hunters are mulling about the cutback in the duck season and bag limits.

Many feel that "they should have closed the season rather than allow a limit of only two ducks. It hardly seems worth while to go out."

These sportsmen fail to realize that the situation was much worse in 1957, the last year of the great drought in the Canadian and U.S. prairie areas. These areas are prime breeding grounds for waterfowl.

Canvasbacks and redheads were put on the protective list for the first time that year — and hunters were mulling because the limit was cut from 15 to 10 ducks daily.

All it takes on the prairies is one good wet year to give the duck population a big boost. The reason for the limit in seasons this year is to protect the brood stock needed to produce more quackens in the future.

U.S. Announces Import Limits on Ducks, Birds

WASHINGTON — Import limits on ducks and other migratory birds killed in other countries by hunters from the United States were announced yesterday.

The Interior Department said imports from Canada will coincide with the exports allowed by that nation.

That means that imports of ducks and geese killed in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan may not exceed 10 of each for the entire season beginning Sept. 1. In all cases importations are restricted to birds legally taken.

Last year, 20 ducks and 10 geese could be imported during the season from the three provinces and also from British Columbia.

The new limitations on birds killed in British Columbia and imported into this country are 12 ducks and 10 geese for the season.

Otherwise, for any other province of Canada the restrictions are the same as last year — 12 ducks and 10 geese per calendar week.

Imports from Mexico or any other country or subdivision thereof, except Canada, may not exceed 10 ducks and 5 geese per calendar week.

Guarantee Game Sighting While Hunting Preserves

LANSING (UPI) — Every hunter would like a guarantee that he would at least get a fleeting glance at the game he stalks.

Michigan's 41 shooting preserves licensed by the State Conservation Department come as close as possible to providing this guarantee.

The six-month season at shooting preserves starts Sept. 16 in Michigan.

Conservation Department Game Chief Harry D. Ruhl said five of the 47 licenses by the end of August were new ones this year.

The principle of shooting preserves is to provide good cover, plenty of game, fine dogs and all-around fun and good sport within easy reach in both distance and cost.

Most of Michigan's preserves, concentrated generally in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula, offer pheasant, Mallard and Chinook in near plentiful supply. Some also are stocked with partridge, quail, deer and fish.

At nearly all locations hunters pay by the bird, with the general price range from $5 to $16, Ruhl said.

Hunting licenses are required of sportsmen who want to pay to hunt at Michigan preserves, although Ruhl said several states do not have this law.

Many preserve operators release birds each day so they fly over a wooded area to a pond—providing an excellent opportunity for the armed sportsman.

Bag limits, if any, are set by the operators of the preserve. Because the game released in preserves are pen-raised, they are not included in state surveys of available targets and do not affect regular hunting regulations.

Many of the preserves in Michigan provide the services of a gun dog and guide, Ruhl said.

"We provide nearly everything except the gun and the ability you need to shoot one of the birds," said Mrs. Alex T. Strange, whose husband operates a preserve north of Clare. "That you have to bring with you."

Obedience Acts Set by SMOTC State Park Revenues Not Up to Estimate

2 Dog Demonstrations Arranged at Waterford, Pontiac Sites

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club has scheduled two demonstrations as a prelude to the fall opening of classes.

Dogs will be sent through their paces Sept. 14 at Whitfield school in Pontiac and Sept. 26 at the CAI building in Waterford. Both programs will start at 8 p.m.

SMOTC members will take registrations for classes after each demonstration. Classes begin a week later.

The club trained over 700 dogs and handler combinations last year at 11 different schools. The training period covers 10 weeks and concludes with a graduation night.

The trainees receive instructions that will allow the dog to be entered in regular obedience shows. The obedience training follows American Kennel Club standards.

Further information can be obtained by phoning Reg Armstrong, FE 2-7469, or Charles Barnes, FE 4-6023.

Hunting License Time

Michigan's 1961 hunting licenses and game law digests are now being mailed to dealers. The Conservation Department announces.

LANSING (UPI) — Chilly weather and the newly initiated entrance fee are combining to hold down attendance at Michigan's state parks this year.

At the same time, the number of campers keeps going up and up. Even the addition of nearly 600 new camping sites since last summer has failed to accommodate the growing hordes of tent-and-trailer vacationers.

Camping permits are up nearly 10 per cent over last year when a record was set. Turn-aways have increased about the same, and more than about 15,000 camping groups have had to look elsewhere.

Latest figures show the number of park visitors is running about 23 per cent behind last year when some 18 million visitors crowded the 62 parks and recreation areas.

The record—39 million—was set in 1959 when temperatures generally were warmer.

State parks officials speculate that part of the decline in attendance is the result of a more accurate count of visitors, attributable to the park admission fee of $2 a year or 50 cents daily. In prior years, park managers submitted estimates, and these probably ran a little high.

Arthur C. Elmer, state parks chief, figured that attendance probably would drop about 20 per cent when the entrance charge went into operation Jan. 1. Income, nevertheless, is running below expectations.

"We had anticipated about $1 million a year, but it looks now as if we'll only collect about $750,000," said Harold B. Gellman, assistant chief of field operations.

"It's enough, however, to pay off our bond issue for improvements and land acquisition," he added.

Erection of collection booths at more entrances next year should increase income slightly.

The State Conservation Commission has sold $1 million of $10 million in revenue bond authorized by the legislature. Another $3 million is scheduled for sale next year.

Actual work on park improvements will begin in early September, but parks planners say most of them to be financed under the first bond issue won't be ready at the start of the camping season next year.

Devon Gables was the setting for the luncheon-reception following the Saturday afternoon vows of Loraine Mary Coon to Thomas W. Hall II in the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Gale E. Harshy performed the small family ceremony.

The James J. Coons, Bedford Road, are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Philip W. Hall, Washington Street, formerly of Pleasantfield, N. J., and the late Mr. Hall.

Maid of honor, Grace Anne Pur-

Barnard-Haviland Vows Reported in Waterford

Crescents of gold grapes and bronze pompons complemented polished cotton frocks for Marlene Kay Haviland's attendants when she exchanged nuptial vows with Roland D. Barnard Monday afternoon in the Waterford Community Church.

Following the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert Winne, the Paul C. Havilands, Drayton

Plains, were hosts at their daughter's church reception. The William Barnards, Waterford, are the bridegroom's parents.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lawrence Toth, Auburn Heights, wore a rust colored gown while the bridesmaids, Mrs. William J. Barnard, Waterford, Mrs. Albert Taylor and Linda Groves, chose gold tones. Mona Haviland, her sister's junior attendant, wore yellow.

Brothers of the bridal couple comprised the ushers, with Robert Barnard best man and William Barnard ushering with William, Charles and James Haviland.

To begin the Canadian honeymoon, the bride chose a blouse-on-sleeve of taupe Italian knit, with bone accessories. The couple will live in Pontiac.

BEGING ORCHIDS

Beige cymbidium orchids complemented Mrs. Haviland's moss green lace over champagne silk. The mother of the bridegroom, attired in a champagne silk organza and lace sheath dress wore green cymbidium orchids.

Teen Dances in Mother's Footsteps

GLASGOW, Scotland — Pretty Sharon Magnuson 17, of Detroit, is following in her mother's footsteps — and dancing most of the way.

The American girl, whose mother lived Scottish dancing, is returning to the United States Wednesday after winning 24 prizes at Scottish dancing contests.

These included the Overman Trophy at the Edinburgh Festival.

Also she almost won the world championship for Scottish dancing — coming second in the junior division.

"I just live for Highland dancing," said Sharon in an interview. "And it was wonderful being in Scotland where people really know how to dance."

The girl's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, are also of Detroit.

Their daughter, Pearl — Sharon's mother — was born in Glasgow, but emigrated to America with her parents.

Sharon's mother, a dancing teacher in Detroit, made a tour of the Highland games, taking part in the dancing competitions.

Sharon's father, of Swedish ancestry, is a foreman at a Detroit factory.

Sharon said she has one more year at Detroit's Osborn High School before going to Wayne University to major in drama, arts and dancing.

Abby Explains Child's Resemblance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: When you read this you will know why you are the only person I can turn to for advice. My husband and I were married for six years and had no children. Last year we adopted the illegitimate child of my youngest sister, who was only 17. She never admitted who the baby's father was. My husband was very eager to adopt this child. Abby, the older the boy gets the more he resembles my husband. The thought that my husband might have fathered this child is making me sick. I worship my husband, and love that baby. I feel so mixed up. What should I do?

CAN'T SIGN MY NAME

DEAR CANT: More often than not, an adopted child will resemble one of his adoptive parents. Put it down as a coincidence, and go right on worshipping your husband and loving your son.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of teen-agers girls sleeping on the porch on a hot night if they sleep in sportswear, not night clothes? This is important. Thanks.

C. AND K.

DEAR C. AND K.: There is no point in sleeping in warm sportswear on a cool porch. Better sleep in cool nightwear in a warm house. Besides, it's best to sleep behind locked doors.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and engaged to a man who is 26. He says, he loves me and wants to marry me soon, but I am afraid to marry him for the following reason: He hits me. Sometimes he hits me hard, and leaves bruises. He has hit me out of a clear blue sky for no reason at all. When I ask him why he does this, he gets very sorry and says he hits me because he "loves me." I think this is a very funny way to show a girl you love her, don't you? I am very confused about what to do, Abby. I hate to take a chance on marrying him, and ending up a punching bag. My parents like him fine, but they don't know about his big fault.

AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: You have good reason to be "afraid." An emotionally normal person does not hit someone he "loves." He needs help. And if you marry him, knowing his "fault," you will need help, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOOD OLD MOM:" When you've finished telling her about the birds and the bees... tell her about the wolves.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to The Pontiac Press.

Tired, Mother? You're Not Alone, Says Doctor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—A Cleveland doctor says a new disease—the tired mother syndrome—is sweeping the country because mothers "get no union protection."

Dr. Leonard Lovshin, head of the internal medicine department at Cleveland Clinic, said today's mothers simply have too many things to do. They work 16 hours a day, seven days a week, he said.

Lovshin said her busy schedule includes what he called "togetherness vacations" where mother works harder on camping trips than at home.

The number of children a woman has is not necessarily a cause for fatigue, he said. "A woman with one child worries four times as much as a woman with four children, so it all comes out even."

He said that a few extra pounds will not affect the mother's illness. "Asking a tired mother to reduce simply changes her from a fat tired mother to a slim tired mother," Lovshin said.

The cure? Lovshin's suggested treatment includes:

- Buying a new hat.
- Getting a good report card from the kids.
- Learning to say "no."
- Getting away from the family.
- Translating, to be given to the husband, children and family dog.

all work in the family's suburban vegetable garden.
"It's not MINE!" he said accusingly. "If I had a garden of my own, it would be different. Then you'd see how I'd weed!"
Touched, his credulous parents sliced off a patch of lawn for him. They bought him gardening tools, seeds, plants. His father set up poles for Ted's climbing beans to grow on, gave him formal access to the hose and spray gun.
Did Ted's garden turn into an Eden of flourishing vegetables?
No. It was a mess. His carrots died a horrid. His tomato plants smothered in weeds and his un-sprayed cabbage leaves were lacy with the ravages of moth larvae. Unlike those noble story-book children who never fail to use every opportunity kindly grownups give them, Ted clearly passed his up.

His negligence so disappointed his parents they couldn't stop talking about it. Nightly his father wondered whether he should pull up Ted's sickly vegetables and re-sow the patch to grass. Shaking her head at his ruined carrots, his mother said sadly, "Someday you will have to learn perseverance."
Why the disappointment? Why

the expectation that his own garden would turn Ted into a lover of gardening?
A child who is genuinely interested in making carrots and tomatoes grow helps with their growing even when they belong to us. A child who is really interested in sewing will snatch every scrap of cloth she can get her hands on to turn into doll's dresses. A child who is truly interested in carpentry will put pieces of wood together. For that is what human interest is like. It acts on what is available and makes out of it clear and unmistakable satisfaction.

So before we rush to cut up lawns, buy carpentry benches and sewing machines for the young, it is generally wise to take note of what interest has already been shown in the garden, old wood, nails and needles that lie around. If there, let's support it with private equipment. If it isn't, let's think twice before we produce it.
Otherwise, like Ted's garden it hangs about, a reproachful monument to children's unfelt interests. And becomes a cause of irritation to us and humiliation to them.

Russian Women to Finally Get Paris Perfumes

By ROBERT J. KORENGOLD
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI)—Russian women have reviled. They have demanded — and are finally getting — Parisian perfumes.
An official of the famed fashion house of Dior Tuesday confirmed that an agreement has been signed to bring 3 million bottles of Dior perfume — as well as lipstick tubes — into the Soviet Union.
Delivery is expected to be in time for the yuletide season. The agreement was signed during the current French exhibition here. The Dior official estimated the value of the contract at about $2 or $3 million.
The contract was set up as part of a Franco-Soviet trade deal that will send Russian phonographs to France in exchange for the Parisian perfumes.
The Dior spokesman said the lipsticks will come in a wide variety of still-to-be-determined shades.
The news of the agreement was expected to bring smiles to Soviet housewives. Many Russian women have been standing in line for an hour to get a squirt of perfume at the Dior exhibition. French officials said they expect a brisk business when the full bottles arrive here.
But the major problem for the Soviet women is expected to be one of economics—not choice. Imported cosmetics in Moscow usually sell for at least several times the price that home brands do.

Greeks Had Their Peace Corps

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Those ancient and remarkable Greeks thought of many things. They even had their own version of a Peace Corps.

Dr. John F. Latimer, professor of classics and associate dean of the George Washington University, said today a more similar idea was first thought of five centuries before Christ.

"And, my soul," Latimer said, "it worked."

None of these old Greeks ever went to Harvard. He decided, just as President Kennedy was to decide 2,400 years later, that young men should perform an act of service for the public good.

Naturally, they had a word for it. They called this institution "Leitourgia," which means a public service, and a derivation of this word is still with us in "liturgy," a rite prescribed for public worship.

Or he could train competitors for the gymnasium contests. Or, if artistically inclined, he could find a chorus for musical competitions for the great public festivals.

Or he could superintend the sacred embassy to the four great national festivals, or to Delos and the other holy places, an operation, Latimer believes, that closely parallels the spirit of the Peace Corps.

Incidentally, classical languages have no more ancient public relations man than Latimer, who for years has been insisting that the position U.S. education should adopt is not science vs. the classics, but science plus the classics.

As president of the American Classical League, he's pleased to report: "Latin in high school and classics in college have been holding their own in the past 10 years by a little more than their own in the past four or five years."

Latimer can't reassure dubious congressmen that the Peace Corps will work. But, he can say, it worked fine with the Greeks.

"These young men did perform needed public services, at home and abroad," he said. "And, my soul, they set a good example for all citizens to follow."

No more the job to be done exclusively for peace. Indeed, one chore was the exact opposite. A wealthy young man could equip a ship for war.

The Greeks thought services should mean that the young men would contribute not only their time and talents but also their money. This little Leitourgia to the wealthy.

Nor did the Greeks have eager young ladies racing out to do their bit. With all their pleasant ways, a young woman might as well be killed.

Latimer said that the Peace Corps has little room for women in their great plans.

Nor were the job to be done exclusively for peace. Indeed, one chore was the exact opposite. A wealthy young man could equip a ship for war.

The official, who asked that his name not be used, said a committee of government and advertising representatives is expected to consider what, if any, billboard advertising will be permitted.

There are many, many problems that have been overlooked so far," he said. "For instance, tourists, who make up a large part of the travelers on our highways, like to know what motels and restaurants are on the road ahead of them.

"How will they know, if the motels and restaurants are not allowed to place advertisements on the roads?"

Campbell Outdoor Advertising Co., with about 400 billboards, has been charged with violating the law. A trial is due later this month.

The province is considering legislation to close the loophole. Some cities have limited advertising to more or less rural areas, and many of those areas have a lot of billboards. The cities rather than the province are in charge there.

Billboard Removal Stirs Up Hassle

QUEBEC (AP) — Thousands of any highway under provincial sign and billboards have been taken down in Quebec Province in the last six weeks, due to government prodding.

The province started in mid-July to enforce a 28-year-old law to bar billboards within 1,000 feet of any highway.

Bernard Pinard, minister of roads, has attacked billboards as a traffic hazard and as frequently in bad taste. He said complaints about them had come from all parts of this province.

Some signs or billboards have been taken down by owners. Others have been removed by government employees, and the owners have been fined.

AGENCIES OBJECT
Advertising firms, with thousands of dollars at stake, object to the action.

"We are just as anxious as any citizen to make sure that billboard advertising is in good taste and does not present any danger to traffic," said one official of a large outdoor advertising firm here.

The official, who asked that his name not be used, said a committee of government and advertising representatives is expected to consider what, if any, billboard advertising will be permitted.

There are many, many problems that have been overlooked so far," he said. "For instance, tourists, who make up a large part of the travelers on our highways, like to know what motels and restaurants are on the road ahead of them.

Crossing Parking Lot

A Bloomfield man struck by a car as he walked through a parking lot Tuesday night was in critical condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police are holding the driver, Robert L. Hackney, 20, of 469 Orchard Lake Ave., for investigation of felonious driving.

He admitted being the driver of a car which struck Mark A. Lightfoot, 45, of 2669 McClintock St., as he was crossing the lot of the Motorcar Transport Co., at 1280 Joslyn Ave.

Lightfoot suffered multiple fractures of both arms and legs and possible internal injuries.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert P. Condit said Hackney would be charged "at least" with leaving

He was questioning witnesses' to the accident today.

Police arrested Hackney later at Cass and Johnson avenues.

He told Condit he had left the home of Mrs. Evelyn Putnay, 1260 Joslyn Ave., after a quarrel and turned into the parking lot when he saw a man "jump into the way" of his car.

He thought he had swerved in time to avoid hitting the man until he later examined his car, and found a headlight broken.

He told arresting police he was walking to the Oakland County sheriff's department to report the accident.

Interest in Milk Punch

Milk drinks are as refreshing as they are nourishing. Pine-Co Punch proves it. Blend 1 cup milk and 1 cup shredded coconut at high speed for 1 minute in electric blender. Add 1 cup frozen pineapple juice concentrate.

thawed, 2 cups milk and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup confectioners sugar. Blend about 1 minute. Serve in 4-6 tall, frosted glasses with pineapple spear or chunks for garnish.
