House Dems Hit Taft-Hartley 14B Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, with virtually a zero batting average on labor legislation last year, have opened a two-pronged attack aimed at repealing the most controversial section of the Taft-Hartley law.

The two bills are among four significant labor law proposals introduced by Democrats since the new Congress convened Jan. 3.

★ ★ ★

One bill would repeal Taft-Hartley's section 14B which allows states to pass so-called "right-to-work" laws barring union membership as a condition of employment.

The other measure would amend section 14B with the ultimate effect of repealing it.

TWO OTHER BILLS

Two other bills would make it easier for farm workers to organize and would remove restrictions on construction workers from staging a type of secondary boycott.

It is too early to predict how much push will be given the labor measures, particularly those attacking 14B. The last battle on that issue opened wounds that have yet to heal.

★ ★ ★

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made repeal of 14B his major goal in 1965, and a bill passed the House. It was killed in the Senate early in 1966 by filibuster.

Meany reportedly agreed not to press President Johnson for another try in the 90th Congress in exchange for help on other measures.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

Less than half the states have laws banning the union shop, but few issues are as emotional in a labor movement with many unions barely holding the line on membership.

The bill to repeal 14B was introduced by Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich. Although he comes from a district in heavily unionized Detroit the fact he does not serve on a key labor committee raises doubts that a serious attempt is now planned to push the bill.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, the measure to amend 14B was introduced by California Democrat Phillip Burton, a member of the Education and Labor Committee and its special subcommittee on labor.

★ ★ ★

Burton also introduced the bill that would extend protection of the National Labor Relations Act of 1935 to farm workers, indicating a serious push for it, too.

★ ★ ★

Without the protection, such workers can be fired for organizing activities and lack the right to have federally supervised elections to choose a union.

ALL THAT IS LEFT — New York firemen look over the charred wreckage of a helicopter that crashed into a Queens apartment yesterday afternoon. The pilot, who was in the midst of radio broadcast on traffic conditions, was killed.

Traffic-Copter Crash Kills Pilot in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A relief helicopter pilot for a radio station was killed yesterday afternoon when his craft crashed into an apartment building while he was in the middle of a live traffic broadcast.

Fire broke out in the three-story Queens building which was hit and spread to an adjacent building. There was only one minor injury.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred only a few seconds after Frank McDermott, 37, went on the air for a one-minute report on rush-hour traffic conditions. The radio station, WOR, said McDermott complained about rough flying weather, then broke off abruptly, saying, "Take it back, John." He was speaking to John Scott in the studio.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials said the helicopter, a two-seat Bell 47G2 in which McDermott was flying alone, went through the roof and into the apartment on the top floor of the building. Police said McDermott jumped or fell from the craft into a yard across the street from the struck building.

★ ★ ★

The crash came on the same day the city was honoring the three Apollo 8 astronauts who circled the moon. In 1962, when the city was honoring astronaut John Glenn, an American Airlines plane crashed at Idlewild Airport, now Kennedy Airport, killing 95 persons.

★ ★ ★

The only injury in yesterday's crash was sustained by Timothy White, 12, who ran out of his nearby apartment just after the accident and tripped, breaking his elbow.

U.S. Sues Big 4, Charges Delay on Clean-Air Devices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department sued the Big Four auto makers yesterday charging they conspired to stifle development of devices to control air pollution by automobiles.

★ ★ ★

The civil suit was filed in Los Angeles against General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp., American Motors Corp. and the Automobile Manufacturers Association, a trade organization.

★ ★ ★

It charged that since 1953 they had engaged in unlawful agreements to restrain trade and eliminate competition, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

★ ★ ★

The companies and the association issued statements denying they had restrained trade. Instead, they said, they have cooperated to speed development of antipollution devices.

CHARGES

The Justice Department charged they agreed:

- To eliminate competition among themselves in the development and installation of pollution control equipment.

★ ★ ★

- To eliminate competition in buying patents and patent rights for such equipment.
- To agree on a date for installing pollution control equipment and install it uniformly.
- To delay the installation of certain equipment which was workable.
- And to restrict publicity about research and development of pollution control devices.

★ ★ ★

The suit said the defendants could have installed positive crankcase ventilation devices on cars sold outside California in 1962, but agreed not to do it until 1963.

★ ★ ★

The suit also charged that in early 1964 the companies agreed to tell California pollution authorities a device to control exhaust pollution could not be installed until 1967, when in fact it could have been used on 1966 models.

LBJ Farewell Talk Tuesday; Budget Later

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will deliver his farewell State of the Union message at a nationally televised joint session of Congress at 9 p.m. EST Tuesday, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary George Christian said that Johnson was putting the finishing touches on his message in his office today.

★ ★ ★

Christian said the budget message will be sent to Congress after Johnson has delivered his State of the Union message, but he gave no date for the budget's submission.

He said an economic message would follow.

NO COMMITMENT

Christian indicated with a gesture of the hand that Johnson had received no commitment from President-elect Nixon about the troublesome question of whether to recommend an extension of the 10 per cent income surtax.

Asked for a yes or no on this matter, Christian merely smiled and held his hands palm up.

★ ★ ★

Christian said Johnson planned to spend a family weekend at Camp David. He added that some friends and staff members may join him.

But he said he does not expect the President to leave the closely guarded area during a visit expected to end tomorrow night.

EARLIER RELUCTANCE

Previously, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had said Johnson was reluctant to deliver his State of the Union message in person. Mansfield said the outgoing President did not want to project himself into the political picture at a time when a new president is about to take over.

However, Mansfield said he and other Democratic leaders had urged Johnson, who served many years in Congress, to say a personal farewell to former colleagues and to the country.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's scheduling of the State of the Union message for Tuesday indicated clearly he has given up hope of getting any commitment from Nixon on the tax issue.

HOW THEY'LL GET THERE—Air Force Col. Edwin Aldrin Jr. holds a model of the lunar module he and Neil Armstrong will ride to the moon's surface during the Apollo 11 mission.

Lunar-Landing Crew Talks About Mission

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Three rocket engines must fire perfectly, one of them several times, for the moon-landing crew to return to earth safely, the Apollo 11 commander told newsmen yesterday.

Neil A. Armstrong, commander of the first American space crew with a chance to land on the moon, said all the rocket engine firings "will have to be completed for us to come back."

Related Story, Page A-7

★ ★ ★

"I recognize that no matter how good things get, there's always something that can malfunction," he said, when asked of the dangers of the flight.

Armstrong, a civilian, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins were named to the Apollo 11 crew by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on Thursday. They held a lengthy news conference yesterday.

Aldrin and Armstrong will make the descent to the lunar surface aboard the lunar module. Collins will stay aboard the command module in lunar orbit.

It hasn't been decided, Armstrong said, who will take the first step onto the moon — he or Aldrin — but that simulations of assigned lunar surface activities will be conducted to make that decision.

Aldrin said the astronauts will carry onto the surface equipment for three experiments. Two devices, a seismograph and a laser light beam reflector, will be left on the moon. A third device, a strip of foil which will measure the solar winds, will be left on the surface a brief time and brought back by the crew.

But, Armstrong said, the most important thing to be learned on the first landing is how well man can work in the airless moon surface where gravity is one-sixth that of earth.

DUST, ROCK SAMPLES

The crew will also bring back a number of samples of lunar dust and rock.

Troy School Vote Monday

Voters in the Troy School District will go to the polls Monday in a special election on renewal of an 8-mill tax levy for operating expenses and approval of a proposed $6.75-million bond issue.

School officials have cited a pressing need for new classrooms as the major reason for the timing of the bond election.

★ ★ ★

Included under the proposed bonding are a new west side elementary school, additions at Hill and Union elementary schools, Troy High School and Baker and Smith junior highs and remodeling at Big Beaver and Poppleton elementary schools.

The issue would also include funds for planning and design for a future high school and a future third junior high school.

★ ★ ★

The millage proposal, if approved, will renew for five years a levy which expired in December.

Milder Weather on the Way

Snow flurries crisscrossed much of Michigan today but the greater Pontiac area was generally clear with some scattered slippery spots on roads.

The weatherman's crystal ball forecasts partly cloudy and continued cold weather with a chance of snow flurries tonight. The low is expected to skid to zero to 6 above.

★ ★ ★

Milder weather is on the way—after Sunday, that is. The prediction for tomorrow is partly cloudy with little change in temperature, the high 20 to 25.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau's official forecast, Monday will be mostly fair and warmer.

★ ★ ★

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was a shivery 11 degrees. By 2 p.m. the temperature had warmed to 24.

Income Tax Hike Asked by Detroit

DETROIT — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh yesterday proposed higher city income taxes for both residents and nonresidents who work in the city.

He also met with Lt. Gov. William Milliken in Lansing to discuss the proposal.

★ ★ ★

"We're not asking any money from want is help so we can help ourselves."

Milliken told newsmen that Cavanagh did not ask for any committments.

The mayor's call came after Common Council president Ed Carey had proposed an increase for nonresidents only.

Both plans would involve increases of one-half per cent, with nonresident taxes doubling to one per cent and resident taxes climbing from 2 to 2½ per cent.

The $25 million which would be raised from the combined levy, or any funds from a single one, would be used primarily to finance 1,690 additional policemen and new police programs.

Last year Cavanagh succeeded in getting the State Legislature's approval of an increase from 1 to 2 per cent in resident income taxes, but the body rejected his plan for an increased tax on suburbanites.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Carey's proposal and the mayor's quick response apparently had obvious political overtones as Carey is considered a possible candidate against Cavanagh in this year's Detroit mayoralty election.

Carey's proposal came after Police Commissioner Johannes F. Spreen asked Common Council yesterday to authorize the 1,690 additional men.

★ ★ ★

Spreen, in seeking a manpower boost of more than 25 per cent, said the city faces "an extremely serious crime situation."

"We are limited by manpower," he told the council. "It is obvious to me that Detroit needs more police as quickly as we can train and equip men and get them on the streets."

Murphy Death Almost Official

Only a death certificate is required now to have former County Clerk John D. Murphy officially declared dead, according to Oakland County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen.

Charlevoix County Probate Judge John Makel already has signed a court order stating that Murphy was the victim of a boating accident, but, said Allen, a death certificate is still needed to clear the case.

★ ★ ★

He said that he has requested the certificate from the coroner in Charlevoix County, but has not received a reply.

Murphy's death had to be determined by Judge Makel since his body has never been found.

Murphy was reported missing July 27, 1968. He had gone fishing three days earlier on Lake Michigan between Charlevoix and Beaver Island, where he owned property.

He was the first Democrat to hold the office and was seeking his second term when the mishap occurred. His son, Shane, replaced him on the November ballot, but was defeated by Lynn D. Allen.

The corporation counsel said that the county will be able to close the books in Murphy's office once the death certificate is received.

Foes of Missiles to Meet Monday

Women Opposed to Missiles and Nuclear Warheads (WOMAN) will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Birmingham Unitarian Church, Woodward and Lone Pine.

The group will be launching a petition drive asking for congressional hearings on the proposed antiballistic missile system, and the proposed sites in Oakland County.

Susan Grossman, acting chairman of the recently organized group, said that the meeting is open to all interested men and woman in the Greater Metropolitan Area.

Nixon Asks Bliss to Stay in Job

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon has settled for the foreseeable future an internal debate over the leadership of the Republican National Committee by asking Ray C. Bliss to remain its chairman.

No specific period was disclosed and Bliss would not discuss the question of how long he might continue. But a key political aide to the president-elect says Nixon's request means Bliss will remain in the party post for "a substantial period" unless he decides to leave.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is known to have considered replacing Bliss with a chairman more talented in public political salesmanship.

Some men among Nixon's circle of advisers had advocated this course.

COMPROMISE CONSIDERED

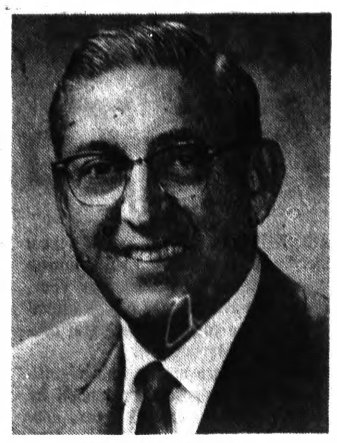

A possible compromise also had been considered, that of assigning a new party spokesman to work with Bliss at the national committee. One man who had been under consideration for that role was Bud Wilkinson, the television sportscaster who has been named a special White House consultant.

But that idea is now said to have been dropped.

★ ★ ★

Bliss, 61, has been chairman since April 1, 1965. His field is organization politics — the technical side — and he shuns the public speaking, banquet circuit approach.

His constituency is among organization Republicans, state and national committeemen, for example, and their support is believed to have been a factor in the decision to have him remain.

SEMON E. KNUDSEN

Auto Magazine Honors Exec

Semon E. Knudsen, president of Ford Motor Co., has been named by Automotive Industries magazine to receive its sixth annual Outstanding Career Achievement Award.

Knudsen of 31500 Bingham, Bingham Farms, is being cited "for his many years of outstanding leadership and achievement in business, engineering and public service."

★ ★ ★

The award is an engraved sterling bowl. It will be presented at a luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club Monday.

Prior to being named to head Ford Motor in February 1968, Knudsen was executive vice president of General Motors Corp. He was a GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division from 1956 to 1961. He headed the Chevrolet division until 1965.

Knudsen is active in Boys' Clubs at the local, state and national levels. He is past president of Michigan United Fund, a trustee of Oakland University Foundation, and a member of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Corp., the American Ordnance Association, the Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Society of Tool Engineers.

Safety Director at OU to Resign

Tom Strong, director of public safety at Oakland University, has announced his intention to resign his position prior to July 1.

No date has been set when his resignation will become effective, and he will work with university Chancellor Durward B. Varner in seeking a replacement.

Strong made this statement in announcing his plans: "I feel my professional career is limited in scope at Oakland University because of the change of philosophy in the program, and the lack of funds necessary to develop an effective security program."

Strong has been with the university since 1966, when he was hired to organize its department of public saftey.

2 State Houses Start Hot War

LANSING (UPI) — The cold war between Michigan's legislature chambers has turned hot, with House Democratic leaders perdicting payless paydays and two years of waste unless the Senate "shapes up."

"If the Senate wants to make the governor look bad, if they don't want their bills passed out of the House, they're going in the right direction," Rep. Stanley Davis of Grand Rapids, speaker pro tempore, said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Budget bills may be held up this year and once again we'll be faced with payless paydays."

The battle lines were drawn when the GOP-dominated Senate refused to allow the Democratic House a two-day recess for organization unless its members agreed to accept a final adjournment date of July 16 on the legislature time schedule.

SCHEDULE TABLED

Under the Constitution, one chamber cannot adjourn for longer than two consecutive days without permission from the other.

In return for the Senate's refusal to cooperate with the House, the lower chamber tabled the whole time schedule and decided to forego the two-week recess.

★ ★ ★

"No one house is going to dictate to the other," said Rep. George F. Montgomery of Detroit, Democratic floor leader, at a news conference yesterday.

The two Democratic leaders accused the Senate of "making a sham out of the whole legislative process."

MONKEY WRENCH?

Adding fuel to the fire is a Senate-adopted resolution which could throw a monkey wrench into plans for a $250,000 addition to the Capitol for house offices.

To take effect, however, the resolution must also be adopted by the House — something that Montgomery said will never happen.

Montgomery said House members will request a legal opinion on what the resolution and go ahead with the building plan.

Israeli Jets Attack Farms, Jordan Says

By United Press International

Four Israeli jets attacked Jordanian farms in the northern Jordan Valley with napalm and machine gun fire today, a military spokesman said in Amman.

The 55-minute Israeli raid south of the Sea of Galilee caused "some" damage but there were no casualties, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

In Jerusalem, Israeli military spokesmen reported an exchange of fire along the ceasefire line between Jordan and Israel but made no mention of air strikes. Israeli spokesmen recently have made a practice of not announcing air raids.

But Israeli residents of the Gesher settlement in the northern Beisan Valley said they saw Israeli aircraft pass overhead after an Israeli army patrol was fired upon from Jordan near the settlement.

'U.N. AIDE TO WAIT'

In Cairo today, the newspaper Al Ahram said United Nations envoy Gunnar Jarring will wait for the results of a Soviet drive for a Middle East peace settlement before resuming his mission in the region.

The semiofficial Egyptian publication said the Swedish diplomat would postpone making a new round of Middle East capitals for at least one week. He had been scheduled to start the tour the middle of January.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets have advanced a five-point plan for implementing the U.N. Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, calling for a Middle East settlement. Al Ahram said the points call for Israeli withdrawal from the territories its armies overran in the 1967 war, termination of a state of belligerence, settlement of navigation and refugee problems, and stationing of U.N. troops on frontiers.

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad of Egypt returned to Cairo from Belgrade yesterday and said Yugoslav President Tito had told him of Yugoslavia's "favorable reaction" to the Soviet plan. Yugoslav officials would not comment on Riad's statement. Riad's trip was seen as an attempt to obtain support of nonaligned countries for the proposed settlement.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Madrigal Choir of Pontiac Central High School will perform under the direction of Gilbert Jackson.

Tickets at $7 each are available at the chamber office in the Riker Building, 33 W. Huron.

Kidnap Suspect to Stand Trial

MIAMI (AP) — A U.S. commissioner was told of a girl being buried alive with instructions on how to bail out her coffin, then ruled there was probable cause to believe Gary Krist kidnaped Barbara Mackle and put her in the living grave.

★ ★ ★

Krist, 23, an escaped convict, sat slumped over during yesterday's hearing, his bearded chin on his chest and his eyes averted from witnesses as they told how Barbara was buried on a Georgia hillside after being kidnaped Dec. 17.

★ ★ ★

FBI agent Joseph St. Pierre said Miss Mackle described the ordeal from her hospital bed after being freed from the box where she spent 83 hours.

★ ★ ★

"They told her there was a pump operated on a battery that would bail out her capsule if water seeped in, "St. Pierre testified at the hearing in the chapel of Dade County Jail.

TESTED CAPSULE

"Barbara said the kidnaper she knew as George told her he'd tested the capsule himself in the same spot and it worked perfectly," the agent said. When shown pictures of Krist, St. Pierre testified, Barbara said, "That's him! That's the man!"

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Edward Swan also read the typewritten, three-page ransom note buried in the back yard of the Coral Gables, Fla., home of Robert Mackle before his 20-year-old daughter was taken from a motel outside Atlanta.

Swan set permanent bond of $500,000 for Krist and bound him over to the grand jury on charges of extortion by mail, extortion by telephone and interstate travel in aid of racketeering. Federal kidnap charges were dismissed because the Emory University coed never was taken across a state line.

Court Upholds Conviction of 20 in Steren Club Case

The Michigan Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the conviction of 20 men for gambling in the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights over five years ago.

Assistant Prosecutor Dennis Donohue, the prosecutor's appelate expert who defended the convictions in arguments to the review court, said he will file a motion within 20 days to cancel their bonds.

All have been free on $1,000 bond each since being sentenced in September 1965. Sixteen of the defendants received prison terms ranging from one to five years. The others were placed on five years probation, with the first 90 days to be spent in the county jail.

The 20 were among nearly 50 persons arrested by Michigan State Police in a gambling raid on the club on Oct. 11,1963. Charge of loitering were later dismissed against the others.

Three of the 20 were convicted on two counts of conspiracy and two counts of violating state gambling laws, while the others were found guilty of one count on each of the offenses.

★ ★ ★

Their convictions had been appealed by defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac on the basis that widespread new coverage had prevented a fair trial.

★ ★ ★

The trial was held in Manistee before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem after Roeser asked for a change of venue. He said that his clients could not be impartially tried locally because of publicity.

Donohue said it is likely that Roeser will now apply to the Michigan Supreme Court for a second review of the case. The high court does not have to accept the case.

An Oakland County Circuit Court judge will preside at the trial of a Detroit policeman charged with murder during the 1967 riot in that city.

Judge William J. Beer has been selected to preside at the trial of Ronald August, charged with first-degree murder in the death of Aubrey Pollard, 18. The trial will begin Jan. 29 in Mason. The slaying occurred at the Algiers Motel.

State court administrator Austin Doyle named Beer to preside at the trial. Beer earlier granted a change of venue request on the grounds that August could not receive a fair trial in Detroit.

McCarthy Committee Pick Is Puzzler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ah, the mysterious McCarthy! Knowing full well that he had his choice of any committee in the U. S. Senate, the senior senator from Minnesota predictably chose the unpredictable.

Eugene J. McCarthy's bewildered colleagues were still buzzing about his astonishing decision on Thursday to relinquish his seat on the prestigious foreign relations committee, when the senator selected his new committee Friday.

★ ★ ★

To the astonishment of his fellows, Democrat McCarthy announced that he had chosen the government operations committee, a panel distinctly of the second rank when compared to the status symbols of senatorial power — appropriations, finance or armed services.

After giving up the foreign relations post, McCarthy told newsmen, by way of explanation, that he now could have his choice of any committee assignment. "I agree," commented Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

'OPERATIONS IS POLICY'

Pressed Friday to explain why he bypassed committees avidly pursued by senators seeking to enhance their influence and power, McCarthy noted that government operations spends its time investigating the Executive Branch. His decision, he said, was an "application of McLuhan's theory that operations is policy."

Still, it seemed a curious choice for a leading critic of the Vietnam war. The chairman of government operations, John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has demonstrated considerably less interest in that conflict than in the war on poverty, which he examined in detail last year at the head of a special investigating subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

After McCarthy lost the Democratic presidential nomination to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, he assured his followers that he would continue to oppose the war, using his seat on foreign relations as a forum for the views that had attracted them to his banner.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy not only gave up this prized place, but handed it to Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., a staunch and outspoken defender of the war. He did so after the committee membership was cut from 19 to 15, which would have prevented the junior McGee from claiming the seat he had lost in 1966 when Republican elections gains gave them an added spot on the committee.

Saturday Evening Post Printing Its Final Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—Printing presses are humming a requiem for the Saturday Evening Post, a magazine that remained unsophisticated in an increasingly sophisticated age.

The issue dated Feb. 8, now being printed, is the last in a series that began in 1821. It had always been a folksy publication.

★ ★ ★

The Post's demise was announced Friday by Martin S. Ackerman, president of the Post and its parent company, Curtis Publishing Co.

"Apparently there is just not the need for our product in today's scheme of living," he said.

Long a financial drag on Curtis, the Post had a deficit of about $5 million in 1968 and faced the prospect of another $3 million loss in 1969, Ackerman said. He blamed the Post's difficulties on the fact television has attracted an increasing share of the advertising dollar in recent years.

Negotiations are being conducted with Life, Time, Sports Illustrated, Look, McCall's, True, Mechanix Illustrated and other publications, said the Curtis president, to fulfill the unexpired subscriptions of approximately 3.5 million subscribers.

Ackerman said that with the elimination of the Post, Curtis would approach the point of breaking even.

In a separate action, the Saturday Evening Post Co. paid $3.5 million for about 80,000 shares of Lin Broadcasting Co. of Nashville, Tenn., representing an interest of 4 per cent. The shares were sold by F. C. Gregg Jr., chairman of Lin.

Ackerman was elected president and chief executive officer of Lin. Before Friday's announcement, there had been reports of a possible merger, but Ackerman said there are no present plans for merging the Post Co. and Lin.

Hospital Hunts Patient Killer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A two-man police detail was placed Friday on a round-the-clock schedule in a 300-bed wing of Chronic Hospital following the death of a patient from burns.

Dr. Herbert R. Domke, acting St. Louis director of health and hospitals, said burns from a "corrosive substance" caused the death early in the day of John Fortner, 55, who was transferred Tuesday from Chronic Hospital to City Hospital.

Domke said two elderly patients of Chronic Hospital died earlier after they were treated for burns but that there is no evidence to link the deaths with the burns.

Hospital authorities said they know of five patients who were burned at the hospital since last Aug. 14, beginning with a 92-year-old woman. Two of the patients are living.

Police began questioning employes at the hospital Friday in an attempt to turn up a lead on the burnings. One employe was quoted as saying other employes were "afraid to come to work."

Brink's Guard Killed; One Suspect Is Held

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Virtually without clues, police sought three—possibly four—men for the execution-type killing of a Brink's armored car guard Friday. One man was apprehended.

The slain guard was Joseph W. Martin, 49, of San Leandro.

* * *

Perhaps scores of bullets were fired in a two-mile chase by the armored truck driver, Barry D. Godwin, 25, of Richmond, before the robbers abandoned their car.

They fled on foot, leaving a 9mm submachine gun, a 45-caliber pistol and a bag containing the $6,000 they stole in a crowded parking lot across the street from the University of California.

Police in North Oakland soon picked up a man identified by the FBI as Willie Smith, 26.

The FBI said Smith had no police record, but that his fingerprints were on file because he had been in military service. He was held in the Berkeley jail.

* * *

Police declined to speculate which of the robbers killed Martin, but Police Lt. Tom Johnson said the guard was "literally executed."

Johnson said the slayer grabbed Martin as the guard was entering the Consumers Co-op Store with the bag of cash, dragged him 70 feet, threw him to the ground and "fired four shots point-bland, standing right over him."

CARRYING MONEY

Martin was hit in the head, chest and both arms. He was carrying cash into the store and was to pick up its bank deposit.

As the killer fled to a waiting car, a fire-bomb was thrown into the parking lot but failed to explode.

* * *

Scores of persons in the store and on the lot saw a portion of the tragedy, but none was hurt.

Neither was anyone in the ensuing chase by Godwin, the truck's red light flashing and siren screaming.

SPRAYED BULLETS

The thugs fired frequently at Godwin's truck. They hit it and a number of parked automobiles and sprayed several bullets into houses along the route from Berkeley into Oakland.

* * *

An unidentified witness thought one of the fleeing men was limping as he left the abandoned getaway car, presumably hit by one of four bullets from Godwin's .38.

* * *

Police had virtually no clues. Witnesses couldn't agree whether there were four or five men in the getaway car.

Johnson said the only clue police have is that one man was wearing a red shirt, plaid coat and red cap and had a moustache.

Death Dancer Found Dead

Chilean Ballet Star Found in New Jersey

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (AP)—Maximiliano Zomosa was a young medical student at the National University of Chile when he saw his first ballet. It was a dance of Death, and it enthralled him.

The ballet was "The Green Table," choreographed by Kurt Jooss.

* * *

Though his parents objected, Zomoso gave up medicine to study music and the dance. His goal was to portray Jooss' grisly specter.

He made his debut with the Chilean National Ballet in 1959 and three years later he had become a soloist. He was Death in "The Green Table."

VISIT TO U.S.

The National Ballet visited the United States for the first time in 1964. In New York, Zomosa danced his special role again.

He studied with the Joffrey Ballet School in New York the following year and joined the Joffrey company in 1966.

* * *

He performed "The Green Table" many times with the Joffrey Ballet. A critic reported that his performance was "a fully justified triumph as Death — a performance of fantastic power."

On Thursday Zomosa's body was found in his car near here, a stab wound through the heart.

'POSSIBLE SUICIDE'

Dr. William Wilentz, medical examiner of Middlesex County, said "It is possible that this is a case of suicide, but no ruling has been made. It is under thorough investigation by the police."

The dancer was 31. He is survived by his wife and two children.

* * *

Death was not Zomosa's only role. He was the principal dancer when the Joffrey Ballet in 1967 presented the world premiere of "Astarte," an avant-garde ballet utilizing rock music, light patterns and films.

Water Line Break Wreaks Havoc

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — A 24-inch water main broke Friday, sending an estimated 10 million gallons of water cascading into the Hudson River. Traffic was tied up for hours and some downtown businesses had flooded basements.

One shirt manufacturing plant, employer of 2,000, was closed for a time before water service was restored.

Concern for Child Brings Yank Deserter Back

SOLEMN HOMECOMING — Willis Jessie is ringed by FBI agents as he carries his daughter, Patricia Sue, along a Miami International Airport concourse. After deserting his Army post last summer, he hijacked a private plane and forced the pilot to fly him and his daughter to Cuba. They returned voluntarily yesterday.

MIAMI (AP) - "I know I will have to go to jail. But my only hope now is to insure my daughter's future."

Willis Jessie, 27, an Army deserter and hijacker of a private plane said that's why he returned voluntarily to American soil Friday night after five months in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

"We had no future in Cuba," he told newsmen.

Jessie carried blonde, blue-eyed Patricia Sue, 2, as he stepped off an airliner from Mexico City. He was arrested immediately by three FBI agents who whisked him quickly through customs.

TEARFUL REUNION

Jessie's former wife, Mary Jane, was at the airport for a tearful reunion with Patricia Sue, whom she had not seen since Jessie took her from her home in Holden, W.Va., last July. The Jessies were divorced in 1967.

The girl's mother reported that at first the girl did not recognize her, but that they became reacquainted in a Miami hotel. In the closet hung a new green dress which Mrs. Jessie had bought for her daughter.

★ ★ ★

She reported that Patricia Sue spoke a "kind of babyish Spanish" after living most of the time in Havana with a Cuban family.

Mrs. Jessie said her former husband lived in a prison camp in Havana.

SAW HER EACH DAY

"The Cuban family brought the baby to him at the prison camp and they let him see her every day," she reported.

Jessie kissed the girl several times before surrendering her to the mother.

★ ★ ★

The FBI said Jessie, an Army sergeant and Vietnam veteran, deserted from his post at Ft. Benning, Ga. last July 19. Last Wednesday, a federal grand jury in Miami indicted Jessie on a charge of air piracy in connection with the hijacking of a private sight-seeing plane over Naples, Fla., last Aug. 4.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said Jessie paid the pilot, James Vach, $5 for a sight-seeing tour for him and Patricia Sue over the southwest Florida Gulf Coast city. He used the name Sewart Orth of Miami.

PULLED A PISTOL

Vach reported that 15 minutes after they were airborne, Jessie pulled a pistol from a shaving kit and ordered him to go to Cuba or "fly until we run out of gas."

★ ★ ★

Vach said Jessie told him he only had his daughter for the weekend and that he wanted to take her out of the country.

"He apologized for putting me in the position, but he said he had to do it," Vach recalled.

Vach said he sought to stall, telling Jessie he didn't have enough fuel for the trip nor a map. But the gunman ordered him to fly south anyway and they reached Cuba with a quarter tank of fuel.

Jessie flew from Havana to Mexico City Friday morning. Mexican immigration authorities took him into custody and placed him aboard a flight to Miami.

He arrived here wearing slacks and a dark blue pullover sweater. Patricia Sue wore light blue shorts and a blue and white striped blouse. She played with a paper cup and seemed bewildered by the popping of photographers' flashbulbs.

Follows Dog, Finds Bodies

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Lawrence Leggett followed his dog Missie into the swampy area near here, hoping to find a squirrel in a tree. Instead the 63-year-old hunter found the wreckage of a small plane and the bodies of five persons missing since Dec. 30.

★ ★ ★

"At first I thought it was a pile of trash hauled in from town," said Leggett, a millworker now on strike. "Then I saw a body, and waded across a slough to get to it."

★ ★ ★

In the debris were the bodies of L. E. Stuart Jr., 37, his wife and three children, Eugene III, 15, Neva Ann, 15 and Kyle Lee, 12, of San Antonio, Tex.

County Needs a Financial Expert

Last fall the Oakland County Board of Supervisors made available $15,000 to hire a County Road Commission coordinator.

This party, if and when he is hired, is supposed to act as a sort of public relations-liaison official between the road commission on one hand and the supervisors and general public on the other.

We suggest the $15,000 might better be spent looking for a coordinator who is equally adept at financial matters. The commission says it is getting shortchanged on the present disbursement formula for state gas and weight tax revenues.

It contends that legislation sought through the supervisors' legislative committee is the only solution. State Highway Department officials disagree. Apart from the initial breakdown which allows percentages for the state, counties and incorporated units, the formula rests in the hands of the participating agencies, state highway officials claim.

★ ★ ★

"It's up to Oakland County to come up with a formula which it can sell to other participating units of government," says HENRIK STAFSETH, chief deputy commissioner of the State Highway Department.

What STAFSETH is saying is simply that if Oakland is being shortchanged and proposes to push for legislation to change the formula, the road commission and County must first come up with a sound plan to place before state legislators which will be acceptable to a majority of the other cities and counties in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

That such a job would be difficult is admitted. Oakland's position is in a small minority among other counties of the State.

The road commission contends that much of the state gas and weight taxes which residents of this County pay is used to subsidize road programs in other areas of the state. The problem appears to be gradually worsening due to population shifts and new subdivision road construction.

Since the present disbursement formula is based partly on population of governmental units, it is possible Oakland will get some relief when the 1970 census is taken.

★ ★ ★

One thing is certain. The problem is not going to solve itself. It needs the attention of an expert. So, why not make that $15,000 really count and look for a coordinator who can double as a financial expert? We already have enough experts at identifying problems. What we need are a few who can solve them.

Let's Support Astronauts' Right to Pray

Probably the greatest single event we have ever witnessed on TV was our astronauts as they circled the moon and described the creation of the world, as written in the book of Genesis.

The recognition that only these three men could express seemed to us a union of science—man and his Creator. It was beautiful beyond anything that mankind has ever seen.

★ ★ ★

And yet a Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair thumbed it down and said it should not have been allowed. Just who is Mrs. O'Hair anyway? How can she tell these men or anyone else how to worship? Our Nation gives us all the right to worship as we please.

It is an established fact that in the United States those who do not believe in prayer are in the minority. In our democracy the minority has a right to be heard, but not to dictate.

For the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to pay any attention to Mrs. O'HAIR would be just plain silly. By our apathy we let this O'HAIR woman initiate the movement against the use of prayers in public schools, calling it an infringement on her children's rights.

She does not deserve the time of day in her latest crusade.

Why not start a positive campaign in support of prayer in space.

Let us flood the mails with our praises of these astronauts and the union of science—man and God.

Decisions Plague Inaugural Plans

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

As chairman of the Joint Inaugural Committee I can advise you that we have had our problems, on just about every step, from the moment on Jan. 20 when President Johnson and President-elect Nixon start for the Capitol, to the last musical notes at the various inaugural balls. We of the committee danced careful steps in order to make everybody happy. I trust and I think that nobody will be unhappy on the morning after—Jan. 21.

DIRKSEN

Inaugurals have their great moments and their puzzling, exciting and abrasive problems.

There will be a whole flock of glistening cars in the procession, and the first car, of course, will carry the President and his successor. I will be sitting there with them.

The second car will carry Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson and Mrs. Pat Nixon, and accompanying the two gracious ladies will be Speaker of the House John McCormack. Car Number Three will carry Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Vice President-elect Spiro Agnew, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and House Minority Leader Gerald Ford. I think the two daughters of Mr. Johnson will be in the next vehicle. Somewhere down the line of course, will be the car carrying Tricia Nixon and her sister and brother-in-law, Julie and David Eisenhower.

Who would be chosen to deliver the invocation? For inaugurals in other years, the practice usually was to call upon a Protestant minister, a Catholic priest and a rabbi. Since Mr. Agnew is of Greek extraction, should a Greek Orthodox priest be included in the invocation? The final decision places Billy Graham and the Bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church — Charles Eubank Tucker — as the principals at the moments of invocation.

The committee wondered for a time what to decide on for the official garb for the inaugural principals and their escorts, companions and well-wishers. Should the attire be formal morning wear, with silk hats for the gentlemen, or semiformal? It will be semiformal, with club coats — those jackets without tails — and striped pants. Only Mr. Nixon has elected to go hatless. The others will wear the distinguished-appearing Homburg.

It was easy to decide on the singing group. We selected the Mormon Choir. It is a large group, so the stand had to be rebuilt to accommodate them.

Rumor had it that the hippies were coming to the inaugural. And it proved to be more than a rumor. We had to decide whether or not to make room for them..

★ ★ ★

On the inaugural platform itself, where would the committee place the members of the diplomatic corps, the governors and others, in addition to the senators and congressmen? Well, we have found ample space for them, and nobody is expected to be unhappy.

Tickets to the inaugural will be issued to 26,000 persons for standing room only. Where shall they stand? The two ovals in front of the Capitol steps are the sites selected.

★ ★ ★

Then came the decisions on the parade. How long would it be? That was settled with arrangements for one marching unit and one musical unit from each of the 50 states, the units to be selected by the respective governors.

Then came the question of overall security. Should a cordon of marines or soldiers be placed around the Capitol as insurance against violence or misbehavior? The marines got the job. Although they can formally arrest nobody, the marines can detain a miscreant and turn him over to members of the metropolitan or Capitol police, who will be on hand in large numbers.

At first it was planned to have only one official luncheon after the inaugular, but accommodations for a simple affair could be arranged for only 175 dignitaries. Arrangements for other inaugural luncheons were studied. The decision now is to have two luncheons with guests to include members of the Nixon Cabinet, among the many others who have been issued invitations.

I think it will be a pretty good inaugural.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

Edward V. Bonnemere is, to many audiences around New York night clubs, a fine jazz pianist and leader of jazz groups. To others he is a public school teacher and to still others he is in the vanguard of those composers who have set their minds and talents to hymns and melodies in praise of the Lord. With two masters degrees, in music education and music composition, he is deeply involved in composing in the modern idiom to make church music provide more personal communication and involvement.

His Missa Hodierna or Contemporary Mass was first held May 8, 1966 in St. Charles Barromea Roman Catholic Church in New York. It is composed in the mixed musical media of old and new for he integrated jazz, calypso, bossa nova and Gregorian chant. His most recent project has been to compose the Lutheran liturgical service in the contemporary idiom.

Eddie Bonnemere is a simple man with great understanding. "Faith," he says, "is an unselfish thing where you think of and care for other people above yourself." He adds, "It is so difficult to be simple and so easy to be complex." Eddie's simplicity and caring is typified in his words and lilting music of "Prayer in Song."

Help me, Jesus, to love my neighbor as myself
Help me, Jesus, to love my neighbor as myself
He doesn't care about the color of your skin
Or what religion you've been in
Help me, Jesus, to love my neighbor as myself.

Confident Living:

Faith Will Take You Through

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Flying in a two-motor prop plane I was invited through the stewardess to visit the captain in the cockpit. I did so and we had an interesting chat. The complexity of an instrument board always appalls me, "How in the world can you know what to do with that many dials and buttons and what have you?"

DR. PEALE

"Well," he said, in an amused way, "you have to know if you're going to fly the plane!"

The weather was hazy that day, visibility poor. I remarked, "It beats me how you ever manage to come down out of this immense sky and land on an airstrip when you can't even see it. You must have an awful lot of confidence in those instruments."

"There are three things you have to have confidence in," replied the pilot. "One is the instrument panel; you have to trust it. Second, the man in the control tower; you must trust him absolutely. And then you must also trust the Man Upstairs. If you can't trust these you had better stop flying."

★ ★ ★

Let me tell you about a boy by the name of Sam Reeve who grew up on an Indiana farm 40 years ago when farm prices were low and most farmers were impoverished. This boy's folks were so poor that the first time he ever wore a suit was for his graduation from high school. And a neighbor supplied that. His one idea was to get away from the farm into something offering more security.

He had one job in the mines, but in his eagerness to earn money fast got fired for taking foolish risks. He then went to Detroit, arriving there with exactly $1.50 to his name, and got a job in an automobile factory. The pay was so good — by his modest standards — that he was able to save a big chunk of it. He wanted security and soon had $400 stashed away. But he still did not feel secure.

★ ★ ★

Sam's thinking had been profoundly affected by something he chanced to read. He had been rasied in a home where there was daily Bible reading. He had kept this practice up. One day he came across the passage that says, "Give to others, and God will give to you . . . all that you can hold. The measure you use for others is the one God will use for you." Which means, of course, that how you treat others is how life will treat you.

Well, to Sam Reeve's great good fortune he thought about this proposition long and earnestly and decided that he had complete faith in it — he believed it was true. He further reflected that when you are always thinking about what you want for yourself you naturally worry about your future; but if your mind is on giving, you tend to do the best you can today and let tomorrow take care of itself. And this, he reasoned sagely, is the only real security.

★ ★ ★

With his savings he bought half-interest in a run-down filling station. And instead of merely getting the place shipshape and then just waiting for people to stop for gasoline, he started finding ways of being helpful to his neighbors.

★ ★ ★

And at his gas station it was service plus. The moment you drove up three men would simultaneously attack your car — wiping the windshield, diving under the hood asking how much gas.

Do you wonder Sam Reeve was eventually invited to a White House conference along with other outstandingly successful small businessmen? By that time his station (in a highly competitive area) had 12 pumps and was pumping around 1,200,000 gallons of gas per year, as compared with a national average of 20,000 gallons for all filling stations big and small.

The President asked him how he had achieved all that Reeve's answer was, "I just tried to give away more than my competitors."

But to do that and keep doing it you must truly believe in it. It takes faith.

If your life or job is not what you want it to be, tell you what. Get a new angle on things. Have more faith in your instruments and give more. Those are dynamic spiritual and practical principles that work.

Voice of the People:

'Release of Pueblo Crew Raises Many Questions'

Anyone with a spark of compassion can understand the happiness and relief of the 82 members of the Pueblo crew and their families upon being reunited. Nevertheless, the Nation and society have paid a terrible price to gain their release. Our Nation's leaders contend that they signed a false confession for this purpose. If so, as the leading nation of the world we have officially and publicly proclaimed that "the end justifies the means." Now that this is government policy, where do we draw the line as to what is right and what is wrong? Why shouldn't any serviceman become a deserter to save his own skin when his government has officially lied to save the skin of others like him?

★ ★ ★

How do we expect other nations or individual citizens to be true to each other when, as a nation, we aren't true to ourselves? The North Vietnam and Vietcong representatives in Paris must have been greatly inspired by our actions. They now know for sure that they'll get all they are after if they hold out long enough.

★ ★ ★

If we were willing to prostitute ourselves in December to free these men, why didn't we do it nearly a year ago? Essentially we ended up doing what North Korea demanded, so the anguish and suffering of 82 men and their families, endured for nearly a year, went for naught. If the freedom of 82 men justifies a policy of national dishonesty, let's at least be impartial about it. Let's sell our country the rest of the way down the river and gain the freedom of the hundreds of thousands of our other boys in service. As individuals and citizens they are each as important as any of the 82 men of the Pueblo.

Letter Asks Questions on Disposition of Dog

Since when is a dog put to sleep for being part shepherd? That's the most ridiculous statement I have ever heard. Could it be he was promised as good experimental material to a laboratory, or did someone just get his wires crossed? I think an explanation is needed. I can think of more embarrassing questions to ask. I want an answer.

'Boys Fight for Rights They Can't Exercise'

It puzzles me why the government of the United States can draft young men to fight for rights they don't even have. The draftees in the majority of states can't vote for the people that make the laws that say either fight or go to jail. I wish I were a citizen, but I'm only 19 and 1-A. If war were declared I would join before I got drafted. I'm not a member of any radical group but I think all politicians and their relatives should be sent to the front lines in Vietnam and maybe then they would think twice about any laws they vote for. I was a Pontiac Press carrier for four and one-half years.

DOUGLAS E. STEPHENSON
2375 FAIRBANKS

What a shame that only young men and boys must serve in the Armed Forces. Perhaps if some of the pompous old men had to go, they would have more consideration and feeling for the boys that come home for Christmas before leaving for Vietnam. It's only natural that the boys would want to visit with a few favorite teachers and all their classmates, but instead of being welcomed, the principal told them to leave.

Additional Information on Zoning Requests

An article in The Press on Jan. 2, referred to the disposition of rezoning requests by the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee on Dec. 31. The Avon Township Planning Commission points out that a more thorough examination of our ordinance No. 36 would have revealed that the B-2 zoning requested by Dan Holefca is proper since the principal uses of the O-1 zoning district are also permitted in the B-2 district, including the "motel" type of use. This discrepancy tends to leave a poor impression of the proceedings of our planning commission, not only with the people of our Township but with others reading the article who are not conversant with our ordinance.

MAURICE WILLITS, CHAIRMAN
AVON TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION

Question and Answer

A few weeks ago you said Pontiac Motor would not be purchasing homes on Fourth Street in the near future. Does that answer apply to us on Second Street and our neighbors on First Street? We're under the impression they purchased two lots across the street from us two or three years ago.
SECOND STREET RESIDENTS

REPLY

Mr. Phinney at Pontiac Motor Division says this answer applies to all residents in that vicinity: if property happens to be for sale, Pontiac Motor might take a look at it and may possibly buy it, but there are no plans for expansion there, and Pontiac Motor will not be going into that area with offers to buy up property.

Question and Answer

Can you tell me what company manufactured the Shirley Temple dolls and if they're available for collectors' items?
MRS. C.R.E.

REPLY

Mrs. Kay Parish of the "Doll Hospital" in Berkley tells us Ideal was the manufacturer, though they're no longer being made. A few are available for sale every now and then, with prices ranging from $15 to $50, depending on size and condition. Cost of any repairs would be in addition. Mrs. Parish happened to have one for sale the day we called, but you didn't include your unlisted phone number, so we couldn't let you know about it. Her home phone is MI 6-3170, in case you want more information.

New York Dinner for Astronauts Turns Into 'Love-In'

NEW YORK (AP) — A formal state dinner turned into a "love-in" Friday night as New Yorkers poured affection on the nation's most heroic voyagers — astronauts Borman, Lovell and Anders.

Security guards in the Waldorf-Astoria grand ballroom were powerless to hold back the swell of hundreds of formally attired guests seeking autographs from the men who were first to circle the moon.

★ ★ ★

For nearly an hour, the guests took pictures, and handed dinner menus up over the dais to the astronauts who obliged their admirerers as rapidly as they could. Each time the guards thought all had been signed, more were passed over their heads.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pleaded with his guests:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this started out as a state dinner and is ending up a love-in. Will you please take your seats!"

Astronaut James A Lovell Jr., a Navy captain, later told the guests he would leave the dinner "slightly incapacitated. With my left hand I will not be able to write. With my right hand I will not be able to shake hands."

The rapport in the ballroom broadened as the astronauts answered questions posed by the guests at the invitation of the governor.

★ ★ ★

"General Borman," led off one guest, "do you believe the moon is worth investing in?"

To be sure, Air Force Col. Frank Borman did. "In the quest for knowledge, using the moon as a goal, I feel it is like life insurance— it's mandatory."

'GO WELL TOGETHER'

On the subject of how the astronauts kept from floating around their spaceship like their toothbrushes, Air Force Lt. Col. William A. Anders told the crowd how "man and zero gravity seemed to go well together.

His teammate, Lovell, was more down to earth. "We hung on," he said.

Lovell promised that "somehow, somewhere, some way," women too would soar into space—"and we're going to Mars for more than 440 days."

★ ★ ★

The women who waited on earth for their men as they orbited the moon on Christmas Eve scarcely took their eyes off them during the evening.

ROCKY'S SURPRISE

For their "courage, determination, and love an inspiration to all of us," Gov. Rockefeller had a little surprise.

Susan Borman's eyes grew large and her hand rose to her mouth as the governor presented her, Marilyn Lovell and Valerie Anders each with a stunning Steuben crystal semicircular disc, depicting the heavens and earth as seen from the moon's surface.

"That is so beautiful!" she said, shaking her head.

For everyone, it had been an emotion-packed and poignant evening, capping a day of tribute by the city and state to the astronauts — including a big ticker tape parade and a United Nations' welcome.

Mrs. Lovell offered her thanks, "Please understand when I say, this is a small, warm town. This is not a big city."

Far-Out Job Spot

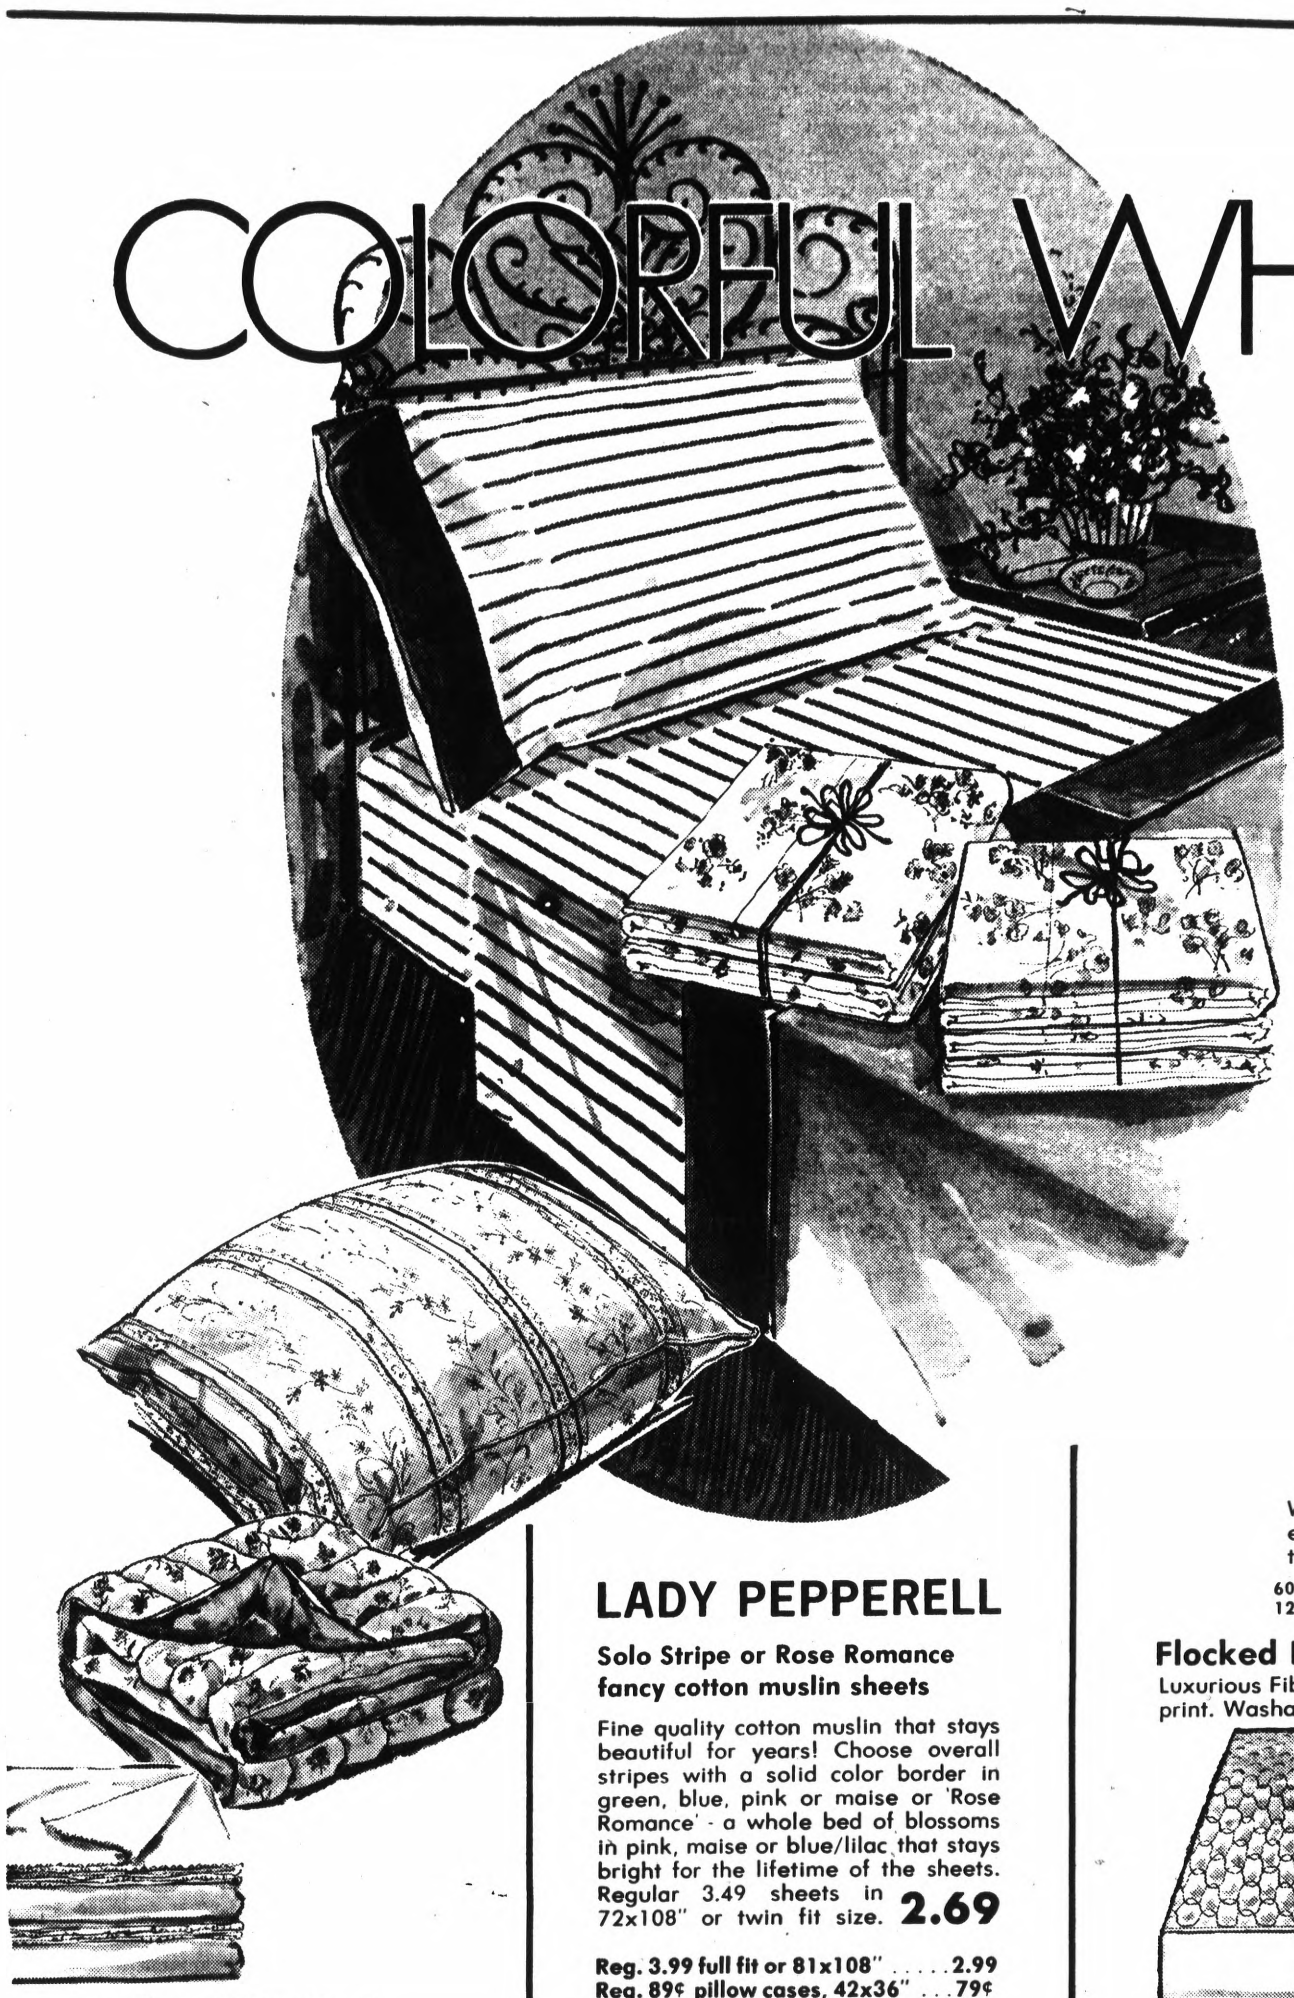

MIAMI (AP) — Joseph Ruiz, 60, a 28-year veteran U.S. Customs man assigned to Miami, has applied to be the first member of the Customs service assigned to moon duty.

Truce Offered by North Irish Rebel Area

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Bogside People's Republic, unique product of Northern Ireland's political feuding, completed a week of independence today and held out an offer of truce.

The underground radio kept broadcasting but the ban on police entering Bogside was lifted.

★ ★ ★

Bogside is the Roman Catholic area of divided Londonderry, which claims it got the worst of police retribution in last weekend's riots that left nearly 200 people injured.

Since Sunday no policeman has passed its barricades.

Vigilantes kept the area picketed day and night and held their own courts to deal with three alleged looters. On the wall of a house at the entrance of the area was painted the sign "You are now entering free Derry."

But after a meeting this morning, the Londonderry Citizens' Action Committee, leaders in the civil rights campaign, announced they would call off the vigilante patrols later in the day.

★ ★ ★

They said the barricades would come down and police would be allowed back into the area so long as they maintained the law impartially.

"We warn the constabulary that we shall never allow a repetition of last Sunday morning," the statement said.

The underground radio pushed a 10-point program for civil disobedience. It included plans to hold unofficial elections in the city and set up a Citizens' Council to rival the Protestant-dominated City Council. It urged people not to pay local taxes to the official council but to withhold them until the Citizens Council is formed.

Allies' Topic: Deadlock in Paris Talks

PARIS (UPI)—American and South Vietnamese negotiators held an urgent meeting today to study the possibility of a new attempt to break the procedural deadlock blocking broadened talks on Vietnam.

Cyrus R. Vance, No. 2 American delegate, and Pham Dang Lam, the South Vietnamese delegation chief, reviewed Vietnamese developments in Paris and Saigon during an American embassy meeting.

There was no indication the Allies planned to make new procedural offers to the Communists. Ha Van Lau, the North Vietnamese delegate involved in the secret procedural talks with Vance, was in Strasbourg, the Alsatian capital, today to address a local peace movement meeting.

It was the first meeting between Vance and Lam since Tuesday, when both agreed it was now up to the Communists to make fresh bargaining offers. Hanoi officials, however, insisted they would not budge from their demand the conference must be a meeting of four equals, in defiance of the Allies' refusal to grant the Vietcong full equality with Saigon.

Girl Robbed of $18 in Downtown Alley

A 17-year-old Pontiac girl, Patricia Barnett of 631 E. Mansfield, was robbed of $18 in a downtown alley shortly after noon yesterday, according to Pontiac police.

Miss Barnett told police she had just parked her car near Pike and Saginaw and was walking north through an alley when confronted by the lone bandit.

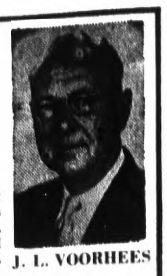

The girl said the robber demanded her purse and said he had a gun in his pocket, police reported. She added that the bandit kept both hands in his pockets.

Reflections

THE CORONER'S POSITION

J. L. VOORHEES

Many people do not understand the role played by the Coroner. The Coroner is a public official, elected by the people, and is responsible for the control and establishing the cause of death in cases under his jurisdiction.

M. E. SIPLE

He is in complete charge of any homicide, suicide, accident, or when the deceased has not been attended within a certain specified period of time.

He is not the "Character" depicted in the movies and on TV. Many hours of painstaking scientific research are spend finding and establishing the true cause of death. Most Coroners today are highly educated and many are medical doctors. They are devoted men who strive to fulfill their oath of office to you.

THINK ABOUT IT!

THEY'RE HUMAN!

You probably have noticed some people at times have peculiar ideas about clergymen. No minister, priest or rabbi is supernatural. They are human beings. The inner voice which beckoned them to their calling usually provides them with patience, tolerance and benevolence. But they are still human and have the same traits of curiosity and anxiety as other people.

We imagine most men of the cloth wonder at times about their adequacy—or inadequacies. Hours of preparation and prayer precede a worship service. Even so, no clergymen can strike a responsive chord to or for every one on every occasion. This is just as impossible as it is for a ballplayer to hit a home run every time at bat.

But, when a responsive chord is struck, wouldn't it be a good idea—at least once in a while—to write a note and say so? Remember—they're human, too.

Dr. Oaks Says:

Emergency Room Physicians Form New Unit

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in a weekly series of articles issued by the Oakland County Medical Society. Dr. Oaks is the collective voice of the society.)

A recent news story announced that a group of emergency room physicians had decided to form a national organization of those engaged in that speciality. The decision points up the current importance of the hospital emergency room.

In the normal course of events, this new organization would end up a college, the term used by the medical community to designate organized groups of certain types of physicians. The various colleges tend to encourage continuing education of its membership and even set certain standards.

But, what of the story within the story?

★ ★ ★

The new organization points out the changing concept of an "emergency." Hospitals provide the facilities, while physicians provide the care. Neither can function very well alone.

A while back emergency rooms were nonexistent. This was no problem when the community was small and the doctor-patient ratio adequate. Later the emergency room was serviced by a doctor in residence or a patient's personal physician.

Growth came to the community. The number of patients appearing for treatment increased. Two things had happened:

- There were more emergencies because of the increased population.
- Patients went there because medical aid was more immediate.

There were problems. Each community sought its own solution. In Oakland County, a unique plan was formulated whereby the medical profession — by the voluntary efforts of its members — organized itself into an emergency room service group.

The group promised to provide doctors for the emergency room on a 24-hour basis. The doctors continued their private practices, but were assigned periodic duty in the emergency room.

FEES FOR SERVICES

The plan provides for fees to be charged for the services rendered and hence the physician is paid. The plan was called the Pontiac plan and has been used most effectively here and at numerous points around the country.

★ ★ ★

Was it necessary? Did the growth justify such a plan? It seems yes. Some 46,000 patient visits annual to the emergency room indicate the size of emergency service.

★ ★ ★

The growth of "emergencies" indicates the special nature of emergency room work.

The need to be prepared, steadiness in action, rapid decision-making, and the ability to withstand long hours in time of crisis.

Junior Editors Quiz on KANGAROO RAT

QUESTION: Why don't kangaroo rats need water?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The interesting little kangaroo rat is a dweller in the parched, arid deserts of the American Southwest.

Like certain other animals — such as kangaroos, bullfrogs and grasshoppers — it has developed jumping as a way of escaping from animals like the fox and rattlesnake. Hence the powerful hind legs, the very long tail, which stretches out behind, acting as a balance.

During the day, kangaroo rats remain in their burrows underground, protected from the heat. With evening, like many other desert creatures, the little hoppers come out and go about their business of searching for juicy, edible plants.

The desert plants survive because they manage to store the water they can absorb in the rare times when it rains.

Kangaroo rats, like other animals, DO need water, but they get what they need from their diet of plants. Although not the same species, the pretty little kangaroo mice look like smaller kangaroo rats and have much the same habits.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Green Thumb Companions Travel Similar Garden Paths

By JUNE ELERT

Dorothy Trickey is used to having people call her "Doris," and Doris Stefansky answers without hesitation when addressed as "Dorothy." Both women live in Bloomfield Township, are members of Osage branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and the Orchard Lake Flower and Garden Club, a unit of the Federated Garden Clubs of America.

ELERT

Both are graduate judges of the WNFGA Flower Show school, give demonstrations and workshops, hold and have held local and state offices, etc.

The ultimate coincidence is that each calls her husband, "Fred."

WINNERS

Drawerfuls of exhibitor's ribbons is another thing they have in common. Mrs. Stefansky of Dowling Road, is presently state chairman for the Flower Show and School, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. She has also recently been appointed National Flower Show School chairman.

Mrs. Trickey of Orchard Hill Drive is an early member of Osage branch and charter member of the Orchard Lake club; is a past president of Osage and is presently serving as president of the Orchard Lake group.

She is a graduate flower show judge for both Federated and WNFGA associations and served as general chairman for the December "Winter Green" exhibition at Belle Isle which is sponsored each year by the Michigan Horticultural Society and the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stefansky wrote the schedule for the "Winter Green" show, basing her class titles upon a poem of her own, written for the occasion, "Portrait of Winter."

★ ★ ★

The two friends graduated from the WNFGA Judges School and started out together giving workshops and demonstrations, each leaning on the other for moral support. Now they go their separate ways, since, as Mrs. Stefansky says, "as you study and grow, you increase in confidence."

LOVE FLOWERS

The devotion of these women to garden club work is rooted in a love of flowers and a desire to promote and extend aesthetic appreciation and expression among others.

Mrs. Trickey says, "Women enjoy our garden groups because of an interest in gardening first. Then they find out the clubs have other goals and uses.

"They promote international understanding through the International Farm Youth exchange (IFYE). They work for conservation of natural resources.

"They provide scholarships for teachers to attend the State's Higgins Lake Conservation facility."

Mrs. Trickey believes that garden club members exerted wide influence upon the passage of the bond issue for the cure of water pollution in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

I was curious about differences in the WNFGA and Federated groups.

Doris pointed out that Federated groups score flower show entries on a standard system which requires 90 to 100 points for a blue ribbon, only one of which may be given in a class.

WNFGA shows are scored on a merit system in which blue ribbons may be awarded to any entry judged worthy of 92 to 100 points in any class.

Dorothy added that Federated groups include male members. The Federation also has special horticultural units such as the Michigan Iris Society.

Spring and fall are busy for these women when demands upon their time come from many areas.

Doris is advisor to the committee for The Pontiac Mall Flower Show, the Wright Kay Flower Show, which takes place in the spring, and chapter flower shows. She conducts a workshop in fresh flower arrangement at The Mall in the spring and another in dried arrangement in the fall.

She exhibits frequently and won the Award of Distinction at the Winter Green Show last month. Doris also does free lance teaching during the summer months when club meetings are suspended.

★ ★ ★

Dorothy holds membership in the Federated Judges' Association, is treasurer of the Judges' Association of WNFGA, serves on Doris's flower show committee for the Michigan Division, WNFGA, and is usually involved in The Pontiac Mall show, the Wright Kay show, the Warren Jewelers show, Michigan Horticultural Society activities, etc.

★ ★ ★

She spends the summer working in her yard and at the Trickey summer home up north. She works with papier mâche and would like to take some courses in ceramics so she colud make original containers for her arrangements.

Her calendar is always well-sprinkled with upcoming dates for meetings, workshops, demonstrations and programs.

★ ★ ★

A graduate nurse who has kept up her qualifications, Dorothy feels that if she ever should go back to earning her living, she would turn to something in the horticulture field.

Doris also works in papier mache but "likes teaching flower arrangement best." She says, "I get my greatest satisfaction out of sharing my enthusiasm for this art."

And it is an art. To become a judge, one must complete six courses of study and pass tests on design, balance and stability, proportion to scale, plant structure, function and growth, flower show procedure, botany, pesticides, etc.

The principles are related to all art forms and, Doris says, "the knowledge gained encourages appreciation of other art forms."

Israeli Violinist Slates Benefit Show Tuesday

Nineteen-year-old Israeli violinist Pinchas Zuckerman will be soloist at a special Detroit Symphony Orchestra concert Tuesday sponsored by the Akiva Hebrew Day School of Detroit.

Sixten Ehrling will conduct the performance, which begins at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

Zuckerman, a 1967 Leventritt award winner, will play Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto on a program that also includes Bender's "Israeli Suite" and Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 4 in A major ("Italian").

★ ★ ★

Since winning the award Zuckerman has appeared with orchestras in Pittsburgh, Toronto, Montreal, Denver, and Seattle. He was soloist with the Detroit Symphony in 1967. He has been assisted in his career by Isaac Stern and Pablo Casals, who, after hearing him at the 1961 Israeli Music Festival, arranged for him to continue studies at the Juilliard School of Music with Ivan Galamian.

Zuckerman was awarded the America-Israel Cultural Foundation scholarship at age nine, a grant that he still holds. He holds other scholarships from Juilliard and the Helena Rubinstein Foundation.

The co-winner, with Zuckerman, of the 1967 Leventritt award, Korean violinist Kyung Wha Chung, appeared with the Detroit Symphony in December, and this concert will allow Detroit audiences to hear both young artists in close succession.

Proceeds benefit the Akiva School. Tickets are $3 and are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office and the Akiva Concert Office. Patron tickets are also available.

Parent's Prayer Reprinted at Request of Letter Writer

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You once printed "A PARENT'S PRAYER" which had some wonderful advice in it for parents. I kept it for about five years and now I can't locate it, and I am just sick. If you know the piece I'm referring too, I beg you to print it again. Thank you. LUCY ANN

DEAR LUCY: Thanks to a competent secretary I was able to dig it out. And here it is:

A PARENT'S PRAYER

Oh heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me. Oh Lord, to hold my tongue.

May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decisions.

★ ★ ★

Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm.

Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that mothers are so much stricter with their daughters than they are with their sons? My mother watches us girls like hawks, but she lets my brothers do just about anything they want. My friends tell me it's the same at their house. I think this is very unfair. CINDY

DEAR CINDY: It all averages out. The fathers are usually stricter with the boys.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: There is a young couple in our church who have been married almost a year. Some of the folks are getting disgusted by the way they act in church.

She nibbles on his ear and he kisses her neck. They aren't teen-agers. He is 33 and she is 24.

I am also newly married, but my husband and I show our affection in private. Maybe if you say a word in your column it will help.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Love is beautiful. But in church—no contact sports.

Quiz Yourself on Shipboard Rules, Manners

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

You may not be going on a cruise this year, but you may hope to soon, or you may be wishing a friend a "Bon Voyage." In any case, this quiz may answer some questions you have now, or might have in the future.

★ ★ ★

Q. Must you have a large cabin to ask friends to come to a bon voyage party on the ship?

A. Not necessary at all. If your cabin is tiny, or you are sharing it with strangers, you may have your party in one of the bars or lounges.

★ ★ ★

Q. Is it necessary to provide food and drinks for your bon voyage party?

A. If you wish to serve liquor before the boat sails, you must provide it. The steward will supply you with mixes, soft drinks, and hors d'oeuvres if you wish.

Q. Is it necessary to take evening clothes on a cruise?

A. Not essential but recommended. The majority of cruise ship lines prefer that you wear black tie and dinner dresses in the evening. Check with your line before you leave.

★ ★ ★

Q. When a husband and wife go on a cruise together, do they sit at a table by themselves?

A. They may if they request it, but they will meet people more quickly and have more fun if they join a larger table.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As most of you know, I am currently bringing you my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short). Thousands of women are following this program to see how much they can improve their appearance in this period of time. I think women often put off losing overweight because they do not know how much they can lose in a given length of time. It is all so vague, and they need guidance and encouragement.

★ ★ ★

In eight weeks you can lose from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your complexion and posture, mold your figure into lovelier proportions and zoom your energy. You can create a new you.

If you have been following BIP this week, you now know how many calories you should have and what your ideal weight is. I hope you also have a couple of the reducing menus I am publishing under your belt by now. Today, let us see how you measure up, in inches, that is. There would be no need to bother about weight at all if measurements were perfect.

MEASUREMENTS

It is possible for the measurements of an overweight woman to be in ratio, although this is not usually true. Even so, these are all too large. Women vary so greatly in the distribution of their pounds! One woman may have a protruding abdomen while another may fight the roll over the girdle and still another may have a shelf-like back hipline or bulging thighs. During the next eight weeks zero in on your main figure defects with the exercises especially designed to banish them. Concentrate on the ones you need most. Measure today and record the results. This is how you do it.

★ ★ ★

When measuring the bust, pass the tape around the fullest part. Either wear the same brassiere each time you measure or do not wear one at all. A bra can make a difference of inches.

Measure around your natural waistline, or the smallest part.
Abdomen — around the fullest part, usually at navel.
Hips—around the fullest part.
Thighs — over the bulge.
Calf — around the fullest part.
Ankles — around the smallest part.

It is essential that the tape does not dip up or down but goes straight around. Also try to put it to the same tautness each time you measure.

★ ★ ★

The generally accepted standard for perfection is that the bust and the hips measure the same and the waist be 10 inches smaller. However, do not be discouraged if you cannot measure up or down to this. Just come as close as you can. Bones and muscles play a part, too.

Here are today's menus.

BREAKFAST

3 ounces of corned beef hash with medium size egg on top
1 slice protein bread with 1 teaspoon marmalade
1 teaspoon butter or margarine on toast and egg
Black coffee if desired

LUNCH

Salad on lettuce, made of one medium quartered tomato, topped with 3 tablespoons cottage cheese, and with low-calorie salad dressing
1 slice whole wheat bread
1 teaspoon butter or margarine
8 ounces skim milk

DINNER

7 ounces fish, broiled, basted with 2 teaspoons butter
½ cup brown rice with chopped chives or parsley
1 cup greens (mustard, collard, spinach, turnip, etc.) with tarragon vinegar for seasoning
½ cup gelatin
At bedtime 8 ounces of tomato juice

Total for the day—1180 Calories

Tomorrow we will talk about calories.

You might like to have my "Bip Kit" for reference. This includes a booklet with complete directions for following this course, additional reducing menus for 15 days, a weight and height chart, a calorie chart, 12 champion exercises, and a chart on which you can plot your progress and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops.

If you would like to have the kit send 25 cents, plus 15 cents postage and handling and your printed name and address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Case No. H-581

Remarriage Not Disloyal

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-581: Thelma P., aged 28, lost her husband in Vietnam.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "it was a terrible shock, for I loved him with all my heart.

"We had two babies, the oldest not yet in kindergarten.

"A year has passed and I am growing adjusted to my role as the sole parent.

DR. CRANE

"A few weeks ago I joined Mrs. Harriet Pierce's splendid group of 'Solo Parents,' which she organized at the Chicago Temple.

"It is composed of fathers and mothers who have lost their mates and are left to rear their children alone.

"I have now met a very attractive business executive, who lost his wife two years ago, leaving him with a little boy.

"It is possible that our romance might develop into a wedding. But would that be disloyal to my former husband?"

SECOND MARRIAGES

When a widow or widower remarries, that is definitely not an evidence of disloyalty to the former mate.

Instead, it is a definite compliment of a supreme sort!

For it shows that the former marriage was so happy, that the lone survivor would like to try to duplicate such joy by means of a second wedding.

★ ★ ★

Remember, it is no credit to your former mate for you to go around as a living zombie or sorrowful 2-legged tombstone to the memory of your first wedding.

Besides, if you have youngsters, they will benefit far more from a two-parent family life than to grow up motherless or fatherless, as half orphans.

A school principal in Illinois lost his wife when she was 32, due to early cancer.

They had two little girls, in the first and third grades.

So he wrote to our interfaith Scientific Marriage Foundation, asking if we could introduce him to a congenial young widow or single girl.

Fortunately, we had received a similar request from a very charming young mother of two girls, who were in the second and fourth grades.

Their daddy had been killed in a truck wreck when they were so small they couldn't even remember him.

★ ★ ★

There mother, now 34, had been an excellent parent, but realized the need for a husband and father for her youngsters.

Since these lone parents matched each other on all 10 counts that we use on the electronic computer, we introduced them at once.

Miss Becker Weds M. R. Bell

Christine Elaine Becker and Pvt. Murney Russell Bell, USA, were married recently in Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

★ ★ ★

For the evening ceremony, the bride chose a floor-length white satin gown with appliques of Chantilly lace. A petal cluster, decorated with seed pearls, held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of orchids and white roses.

★ ★ ★

Joan Stocking was maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren J. Becker of Orchard Lake. Sandra Bunkelman, Mrs. David Korte and Mrs. Lawrence Hopp were bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

Best man was Duaine Arvidson. Murray Becker, Glen Major and David Wiskochel ushered.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in Bloomfield Centre Hall.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murney F. Bell of Milford, has returned to duty at Fort Polk, La.

Rid Jars of Odor With Dry Mustard

To get rid of disagreeable odors in jars, fill them with a solution of dry mustard and water and allow them to soak overnight.

★ ★ ★

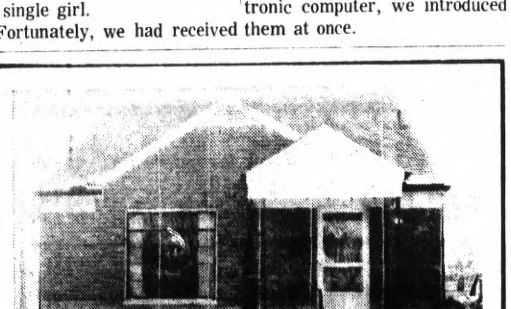

The next morning, wash in hot suds and rinse well. Use one teaspoon of mustard seed to every quart of water used.

First use of nitroglycerin as an explosive was in boring the Hoosac (Mass.) tunnel, started in 1855 and completed in 1873.

'Help Wanted' Sign Out After Topping Flint Five

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Coach Ralph Grubb may be ready to hang out a 'Help Wanted' sign at Pontiac Central.

Oh, he and the Chiefs need no help as far as their personal contests are concerned, but they'd like to put a Saginaw Valley Conference trophy in their collection but it won't come to pass unless they get a little outside help.

ONE GAME BACK

The Chiefs helped themselves at home last night by handing Flint Northern (3-1) its first league loss of the campaign, 83-69, but PCH is still a game behind league-leading Flint Central, which ran its record to 4-0 by downing Saginaw Arthur Hill (3-2), 75-67.

★ ★ ★

"We had to win this one and we did," said Grubb, who has guided the Chiefs to five straight wins and an over-all record of 6-1. The lone loss was to Flint Central (89-75).

ONE MEETING

The loss to Flint Central is why Grubb may hang out that 'Help Wanted' sign. He and the Chiefs don't play the Indians again this season, so they can't do a thing about how their rival will fare in the league competition. Help could come from Midland and Flint Northern. Those two play Flint Central twice each.

Flint Northern came to PCH highly regarded, with only a loss to powerful Ypsilanti marring their over-all record, but the Chiefs hit them quick and hard and held the upper hand all the way.

How'd they do it? Grubb was asked.

"It may sound corny," Grubb said, "but it was strictly a team effort. They ran their offense perfectly. In other words they ran it wide open (full speed)."

PLAN OF ATTACK

Before the game Grubb had some thoughts on what the Chiefs would have to do to stop the Vikings. "We have to beat them on the inside and get the rebound. We've worked all week on positioning on this inside (near the basket)."

★ ★ ★

In this case, it was a well-laid plan that worked. While the Chiefs gained only a 45-44 rebounding edge for the game, they controlled the boards when it counted, with 6-5 center Campy Russell along with forwards Jerry Ratliff (6-2) and Monte Hearring (6-2) sharing the bulk of the load.

BALANCED SCORING

Along with their rebounding that threesome combined for 55 points and sophomore guard Anthony Styles added 17 more which indicates what Grubb meant by team effort. Herring, a junior, led the way with 21, Ratliff, also a junior, followed with 19 and sophomore Russell added 15.

★ ★ ★

PCH bolted to an 8-0 lead and had a 14-4 margin before Ambus Harper gave the Vikings their first field goal at 2:18 of the first stanza.

But the Chiefs made it 22-12 after one period, 46-36 at intermission and held a 66-53 edge after three. Their biggest margin came late in the third at 62-44.

★ ★ ★

Eight turnovers in the first contributed to Flint Northern's difficulty, and in the second frame when the squad made a bid to catch up by sinking its first six shots, the Chiefs countered by matching them shot-for-shot.

HOT QUARTER

In that hot second quarter, both teams tossed in 24 points, with the Vikings hitting on 12 of 19 shots and PCH canning 12 of 21. For the evening, Flint hit 28 of 65 while PCH managed 38 of 86.

★ ★ ★

Dave Frost led Northern with 20 points. Larry Banks tossed in 18 and Joe Walsh added 13.

LIKES CHIEFS

In a pre-game assessment of the Chiefs, Northern coach Richard Dennis said he saw them (PCH) in the Flint Central games. "They've improved," said Dennis. "This isn't the same team that played then. They aren't likely to lose many games in the next few years."

★ ★ ★

Grubb had also seen Flint Northern play and he was impressed by their size and speed. "They're a good ball club," said Grubb. "They just had some cold spells tonight."

In other SVC games last night, Midland romped past Flint Southwestern, 80-45, Saginaw routed Bay City Handy, 77-49, and Alpena downed Bay City Central in a nonleaguer, 57-50.

Kimball, Ferndale Maintain Lead in SEMA Race

The race in the Southeast Michigan League is temporarily narrowed to Ferndale and Kimball as both emerged victorious last night.

Kimball blasted contender Southfield, 69-56, while Ferndale took advantage of 28 Seaholm fouls to defeat the Maples, 49-46.

Hazel Park overcame a 24-20 halftime deficit to defeat Berkley, 49-45.

BALANCED SCORING

Balanced scoring paid off for Kimball as four players hit 16, 15, 14 and 13 paced by Rick Campbell. Roger Ovink had 22 for Southfield. Jay Brown's 17 rebounds and 16 points were big factors for Kimball.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm outscored Ferndale from the floor 18 field goals to 11, but the Eagles hit on 27 of 46 charity tosses as the Maples fouled away.

Ferndale failed to get a bucket in the second half while scoring all 26 points on free throws. Gordon Dalziel had 20 rebounds for the winners.

★ ★ ★

Trailing at halftime, Hazel Park finally took the lead after three minutes of the third period and even though both teams managed 20 buckets from the floor, the Parkers advantage of four points was at the free throw line.

Jim Merchel led the winners with 23.

The Knights raced to a 38-21 lead at intermission and coasted through the second half.

★ ★ ★

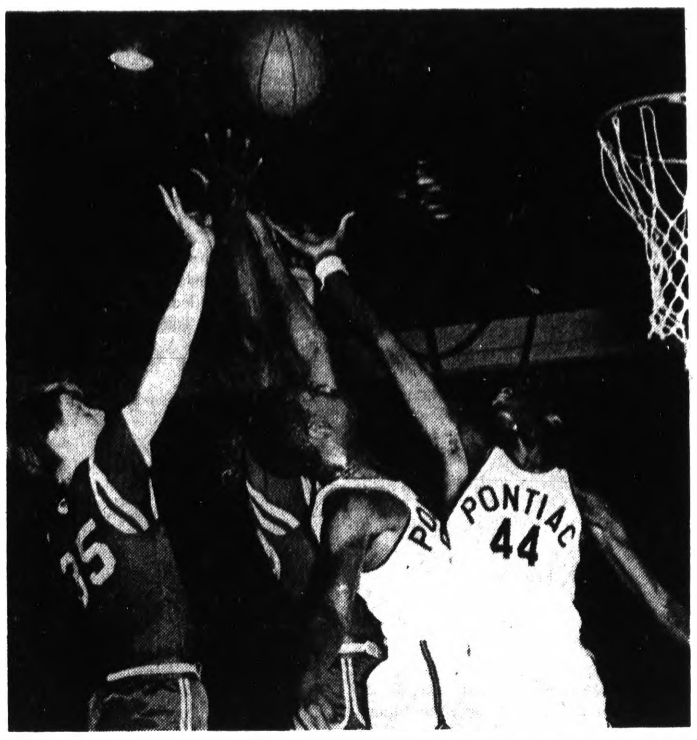

Bill West dominated the backboards for the Knights and led all scorers with 27 points. Teammates Tim Graham and Rob Roehrig collected 10 apiece.

Les Hunt picked up 10 markers for the Corsairs who suffered their fifth loss in six starts.

Walled Lake's Bob Serra Hits 39 in Losing Cause

By JERE CRAIG

The Northern wind that howled through the PNH Huskies' gym Friday night was anything but a cold one.

In fact, the Huskies' lair for one evening at least must have been the hottest spot in town. Pontiac Northern certainly didn't notice any chill as it blitzed through, around and over the defenseless Vikings of Walled Lake, 110-83.

The effort set a new PNH team scoring record and raised its present log to 4-1 with a showdown against Waterford's Skippers (6-1) looming next Friday for the Inter-Lakes League lead.

Dave Parker's two free throws enabled Northern to tie the old 107-point mark, set last season at Farmington, and Joe Bradley put in a driving layup that broke it a minute later.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake, while doing little to prevent the Huskies' point parade, had a hot hand of its own. Junior guard Bob Serra drilled in 39 points in leading the Vikings to their highest team total in four seasons.

The losers' 33-point fourth-quarter outburst undoubtedly is their best period since the 1965 team's 92-64 Class A district tournament victory over Detroit Thurston.

JAYVEES HOT

Even the two junior varsity squads contributed to last night's "gym warming." They needed three overtime sessions before the young Huskies finally pulled out a 77-70 victory.

★ ★ ★

It was a close contest most of the way with clutch free throws forcing each of the overtime periods, then PNH's depleted reserves spurted to a 10-point lead at the beginning of the third overtime and remains unbeaten at home for the past two seasons.

In the varsity contest, Northern dominated the backboards, forced numerous Walled Lake mistakes and held the visitors to four field goals in each of the first three quarters.

During the same span, the Huskies were hitting the nets on better than 55 per cent of their shots — many from within four feet of the basket.

After moving into a 26-16 lead after one period, and a 55-30 margin by the intermission, Northern took advantage of a complete Viking defensive collapse in the third quarter to hit 17 field goals.

"HANDS OFF"

With Walled Lake managing only three rebounds and committing just one personal foul during the quarter, the Huskies easily tallied 34 points by hitting 17 of 26 tries and taking their biggest lead at 81-40.

Marcus Cummings, promoted to the varsity for the first time, hit six straight shots in the onslaught. Charlie Moncrief made 4 of 6 tries and Dave Chapman had 3 of 3.

Coach Dick Hall of PNH substituted frequently, using nine players and they all had at least seven points as the winners moved the ball very well on the attack.

★ ★ ★

Rugged Ernie Crawford hit five straight shots — all of them follow-ups of his teammates' misses — in scoring 14 of his 17 points in the first half. Mike Clancy had all 10 of his tallies in the opening half.

The fourth quarter for the Huskies featured the shooting of reserves Barry Webb and Bradley, while Parker — like Crawford — missed only one shot from the floor all night.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake's Serra warmed up considerably after a good first half. Making 4 of 6 shots and 13 points in the opening 16 minutes, the stocky backliner sank eight straight free throws and 10 points in the third period, then added 16 points (hitting 6 of 8 from the field) in the final quarter as he fell four points shy of John Huebler's school-record 43 points set three years ago.

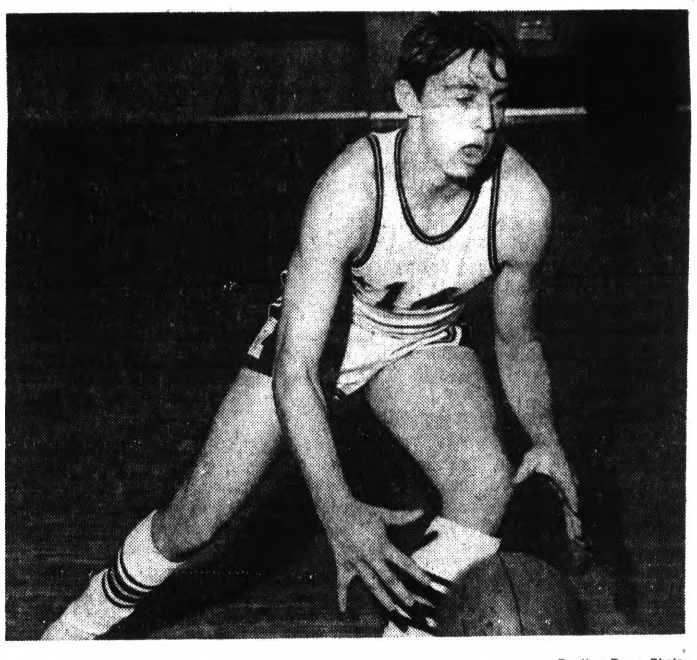

Now 1-6 for the season and winless in I-L play, Walled Lake will entertain winless Southfield Lathrup next Friday.

Waterford Sails Past Falcons

Pontiac Press Photo

PRODUCTIVE NIGHT — Walled Lake's scoring ace Bob Serra had his biggest varsity night Friday at Pontiac Northern, making 11 of 19 from the field and 17 straight at the foulline for a 39-point spree that is one of the best in the Vikings' basketball history. Serra is a junior guard.

Skippers Hike Record to 6-1

Those upstart Skippers of Waterford are on the verge of making a nuisance of themselves in the Inter-Lakes League basketball race.

When basketball season rolls around it's almost a safe bet that Pontiac Northern will be at the top when the curtain falls on the season. Until someone proves it wrong, that outlook is the same this season, but the Skippers of Waterford are trying to shake things up a bit.

SKIPPERS WIN

The Skippers knocked off highly-regarded Farmington last night, 73-69, to set the stage for their showdown on their home court against Pontiac Northern next Friday.

★ ★ ★

The victory gave Waterford a 3-0 record in league play and left the Skippers tied with PNH for the lead.

LIVONIA ROLLS

In another I-L game, Livonia Stevenson (2-1) handed Southfield Lathrup (0-3) its seventh loss of the season, 78-38.

Waterford trailed at halftime, 29-27, but found the range for 46 points in the second half to pull it out.

GOOD BALANCE

Balance was the key to the Skipper victory. Bill Filey checked in with 18 points, Bruce Carlson and Bob Finkle picked up 15 each and Mike Sheldon contributed 12.

★ ★ ★

Along with his scoring, Foley hauled down 19 rebounds for his finest effort of the season. Carlson, who had the task of guarding the Falcons' ace Mark Lynott, picked up 12 rebounds.

TOP SCORER

Lynott led all scorers with 25 points and he picked up 10 rebounds.

Ted Exarhos tossed in 16 points in leading the Stevenson attack. Teammate Jerry Detter added 12. Stevenson enjoyed a 38-19 lead at intermission.

Oxford Wildcats Find Cold Hoop in 65-51 Defeat

It's cold up north in Oakland County and in Oxford it was especially cold last night when the town's high school Wildcats took a 65-51 lacing at the hands of Lutheran East.

Oxford had a frigid first half while the winners were hitting the hoop for 32 points to only 13 for the Wildcats.

Lutheran hit four straight buckets and 11 of 13 free throws in the first period to outscore Oxford 19-5.

The winners had 10 players who scored led by Larry Loomis' 21 points, 10 of which came in the third quarter.

Dan Valentine led Oxford with 13 while Dennis Wait had 12.

East Jackson Coach Bewildered by Win

JACKSON (UPI) — Coach Leon Hunt of East Jackson was still bewildered two hours after his Trojans had defeated Jackson Western Friday night, 64-48. But maybe you would be too if your high school hadn't won a game in 57 outings.

Hunt, who had coached East Jackson the last 32 of its games, took the traditional trip to the showers in a state of full dress and more than a little happiness reigned in East Jackson.

SURROUNDED — Troy's Rod Losey (with ball) finds himself surrounded as he heads for the basket against Rochester last night. Rochester players are Craig Campbell (42), Dave Ludwick (32), Fred Harrison (44) and J. R. Nowels (foreground). No. 41 in background is Troy's Brad Faber. Rochester won, 51-49.

Rochester Nips Troy; Orion Halts Romeo

Somehow, this game of basketball has a way of not adding up. That is, games don't always turn out the way figures indicate they should.

Like this for instance. A few weeks back, Lake Orion beat Rochester, 64-48. Just a short while later, Lake Orion was battered by Troy, 72-36. From those figures, one would surmise that Rochester would be better off not playing Troy. Right?

ROCHESTER WINS

Those two locked horns last night in the top Oakland A League game and Rochester emerged with a 51-49 triumph on a tip-in by Fred Harrison with 16 seconds left in the game.

★ ★ ★

In winning, Rochester marred a fine Troy record and threw the O-A into a three-way tie. Both Rochester and Troy are now 4-1 in league play along with Lake Orion, which pinned a 72-58 setback on Romeo (3-2) last night.

AVON FALLS

In the other game, Utica (1-4) pushed Avondale (0-5) into the cellar by taking a 54-52 decision.

Rochester was ahead at halftime, 27-24, and maintained a four-point lead for most of second half. But with 30 seconds left in the game, Troy tied the score at 49 on a basket by Fred Billings. The Falcons moved down with the ball. J. R. Nowels tried a shot, missed and Harrison was Johnny-on-the-spot to tap in the rebound for the clincher.

TOP SCORER

Gary Sovey led the Falcons with 17 points, Harrison finished with 16 and Gregg Campbell added 15. Brad Faber led Troy with 22. The loss was the first of the season for Troy (7-1).

★ ★ ★

Gary Mize, Lake Orion's towering 6-8 center, had his finest game of the season as he scored 32 points and helped the Dragons control the backboards against tall Romeo.

EARLY LEAD

Romeo grabbed an early lead, 12-11, but Orion forged ahead at halftime, 29-25, and opened the game up with a 20-14 edge in the third. Paul Bailey tallied 12 points and Garyl Roberts added 11 to help Mize with the scoring. Dan Burzynski tossed in 14 for Romeo.

Robin Dilday's 22 points and 18 by Garu Pokley spurred Utica to the decision over Avondale. Avon held a 26-22 lead at intermission but Utica jumped in front with a 20-11 outburst in the third.

Randy Polasek led Avondale with 22 points and Todd Holmes contributed 17.

Lakers' Record 5-0; Kettering Falls, 63-51

The race for second place continues to stir the most interest in the Wayne-Oakland League.

West Bloomfield just keeps going merrily on its way as the league leader in the W-O, while the others have nothing more than the runner-up spot to do battle for.

The Lakers of West Bloomfield, ranked eighth in the Class B Associated Press poll, played without one of their starters, guard Steve Westjohn who is nursing an injured ankle, and came away with a 64-44 victory over Brighton last night.

Elsewhere, Northville (3-1) gained a share of second by bouncing Clarkston (0-4), 64-56, and Milford (3-1) matched that mark by handing Waterford Kettering (2-2) a 63-51 loss. In the other game, Bloomfield Hills Andover (2-2) downed Clarenceville (1-3), 60-54.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield raised its record to 4-0 in league play and to 5-0 over-all. Sophomore Don Johnston led the Lakers with 12 points. Bob Musch matched that total for Brighton (1-3).

PACES CLARKSTON

Chuck Granger's 15 points led the attack for Clarkston which suffered its fifth loss in six starts. Coach Bud McGrath used a lot of players in the game and 10 dented the scoring column.

★ ★ ★

Ron Hubbard paced Northville with 21 markers. Terry Mills and Jeff Taylor added 13 apiece.

LATE SURGE

Kettering's Captains battled Milford to a near standoff for three quarters but the host Redskins pulled away in the fourth frame. It was 25-22 at halftime with Milford ahead.

★ ★ ★

Both teams showed a lot of balance. Four of the Redskins wound up in double figures with Mark Geigler leading the way with 17. Doug Powers had 15, while Bob Clinard and Tom Newcomb picked up 10 apiece.

TOP REBOUNDER

Baker also took rebounding honors with 16. Kettering's Dave Powell, who scored 15 markers, picked up 13 rebounds. Joe Beseau also picked up 15 points for the Captains, who now have an over-all record of 2-3.

★ ★ ★

Dick Souther came off the bench in the fourth and sparked the Andover victory. Andover trailed, 48-45, with six minutes left when Souther came on. He hit two quick buckets and teammate Tony May flipped in one as Andover went ahead for good, 54-52.

Souther wound up with 23 points to lead all scorers, while Scott Roley and May tossed in nine each. Dave Brandemihl picked up 12 for Clarenceville.

OLSM's Megge Held to Seven

Eaglets Win, 46-33; Waterford OLL Falls

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows came up with a moral victory of sorts last night, but, of course, it's one of those that won't shop up in the standings.

The Lancers did something no other team had been able to do this season: They put a lid on high-scoring All-Stater Tim Megge of Orchard Lake St. Mary and held him to only seven points.

OLSM WINS

But in stopping Megge, the Lancers left themselves open in some other areas and wound up losing to league-leading OLSM (8-0), 46-33.

★ ★ ★

In other Northwest Catholic games, Pontiac Catholic (7-1) stayed a game behind OLSM by downing St. Francis de Sales, 74-68, while Ferndale St. James rolled past Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 82-57.

SLOWS GAME

Sorrows slowed the game down for the high-scoring Eaglets and put defensive ace Terry Doyle on a man-to-man battle with Megge. Doyle did an excellent job, since Megge went into the game averaging 31 points a game, but a couple of the other Eaglets picked up the slack to spark the victory.

SPURS TITANS

Sam Brady flipped in 33 markers and Herb Larson added 20 to trigger Pontiac Catholic's win over de Sales.

Pontiac Catholic, Titans built a 35-28 lead at intermisson, but de Sales came back to tie it in the third before the host Titans pulled away again.

Jim Moss picked up 21 points and Gene LaFave 20 for de Sales.

STAY CLOSE

The Lakers of Waterford Our Lady stayed close for a half, trailing 34-29, but St. James gained a 23-15 edge in the third to break it open.

Two Quintets Share First in Southern Thumb Loop

The crowd at the top in the Southern Thumb League was thinned a little last night and there'll be less congestion there after Tuesday night's contests.

Activity last night left Armada and Anchor Bay sharing the top spot in the loop with 4-0 records and those two will square off on the Anchor Bay floor Tuesday evening.

Armada kept going with a 77-65 win over Dryden, while Anchor Bay pinned an 81-70 setback on Almont.

SLIGHT SURPRISE

In a slight surprise, New Haven (3-1) turned back visiting Capac (3-1) and knocked the Chiefs out of a piece of the lead, and in the other, Memphis (1-3) surprised Richmond (0-4), 74-71.

★ ★ ★

Bill Duynsalger's 22 points triggered Armada's nod over Dryden (0-4).

POINT-GETTERS

Jim Seidell picked up 26 points and Brad Robinson added 22 for Capac but it wasn't enough to offset a balanced New Haven unit. Jim Walainis led the Rockets with 20 markers. New Haven ran its over-all record to 7-1.

★ ★ ★

After gaining a 36-31 lead at intermission, Anchor Bay came up with a 45-point second half to hand Almont its (1-3) third loss in league play.

Jerry Genzo collected 24 markers and Jerry Martin added 21 to pace Anchor Bay. John Bacholzky picked up 23 for Almont.

A basket as the buzzer sounded last night gave Delta College a 73-71 victory over Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College.

Highland Lakes, now 3-10, had battled back from a 48-34 deficit at halftime to tie the score, but Dave Sanders' bucket wiped out their impressive rally.

WHICH WAY? — Aquinas' John Chronowski appears to be trying to decide his next move while 6-8 teammate Mark Simon establishes a screen on Oakland's 6-0 Glenn Beier last night at OU. Tom Allan of Oakland awaits Chronowski's decision. OU won, 83-78.

Missing Ingredient Found

Third Straight for OU

By DON VOGEL

The missing basketball ingredient at Oakland University has been found.

John Eley, a 6-4 freshman from Detroit Murray-Wright, became eligible three games ago after sitting out a term under the transfer rule. The 210-pound forward has yet to be a loser in an OU uniform.

★ ★ ★

He tossed in 26 points and was the dominant Pioneer under the backboards last night as Oakland upset Aquinas, 83-78.

It was the third straight win for the Pioneers — the last two at home — and evened their record at 4-4. The victory string is the longest since OU moved to varsity basketball competition last season. OU travels to winless Adrian tonight and is favored to go above the .500 mark.

Eley and 6-6 center Tom Allan sparked a comeback in the second half that enabled the Pioneers to erase an 11-point deficit and eventually pull away in the final two minutes. Allan finished with 23 points and 6-5 forward Greg Ranney contributed 20.

THIRD MAN

Until Eley became eligible, the Pioneers were lacking the needed third man on the front line to supply both scoring and rebounding. He has done both. Against Aquinas he hauled down 16 rebounds to lead the Pioneers in that department for the second straight game.

After taking a 40-39 halftime lead on a layup by Ranney with two seconds to play, the Pioneers were hard-pressed to stay within striking range of Aquinas in the opening five minutes of the second period.

★ ★ ★

The Grand Rapids school, led by 6-7 center Mark Simons and guard John Chronowski, shredded OU's defenses, controlled the backboards and forced the Pioneers into five turnovers while building a 54-43 lead.

OU coach Gene Boldon inserted Conrad Krogulecki into the lineup and this settled the offense. At the same time, Aquinas switched from a man-to-man defense into a zone. This proved to be the Warriors undoing.

LEAD EVAPORATES

Sharp passing by guard Gordon Tebo and Krogulecki setup Allan for three one-handers from the baseline. Eley led a comeback under the boards and the Aquinas lead started to evaporate.

★ ★ ★

A jumper by Ranney with 10:12 to play knotted the score at 61 and 30 seconds later Allan connected on a follow shot to put OU ahead. The lead changed hands a couple of times and then Allan and Ranney again connected and the Pioneers were ahead, 69-66, with 4:02 remaining.

★ ★ ★

Eley, who was a tower of strength rebounding in the final 10 minutes, hit three fielders and OU increased its margin to 80-74 with 1:59 remaining. The Warriors, headed for their fifth loss against six wins, started fouling and the Pioneers were able to complete the victory without much trouble.

The OU front line had its problems at times in the first half with the tall Warriors. In addition to Simons, Aquinas started Dave Page, 6-5, and Dennis Zavesky, 6-8.

★ ★ ★

Oakland moved to 6-1 and 13-6 leads, but Aquinas caught up and the remainder of the first half was nip and tuck. The score was tied four times and the lead changed hands on 15 occasions.

★ ★ ★

The Pioneers finished with a 53-48 edge in rebounding. They hit 31 of 72 field goal attempts for 43 per cent. Aquinas came up with the same mark on 32 of 74.

Jack Zwemer Registers 47 in Upset Win

Rugged Jack Zwemer, All-State Class C quarterback last fall, is making a bid for state basketball honors, also.

GOES ON SCORING SPREE — Country Day forward Jack Zwemer erupted last night for 21 field goals and a school-record 47 points as the Yellow Jackets surprised a tough Maumee Valley quintet from Ohio, 77-69. The squarely built Zwemer set the old mark with 40 points when he was the county scoring runner-up last year with a 25-point average.

Preps Adopt 2-Point Conversion After TD

Other Changes Also Adopted

Coach Can Challenge Rule Interpretation

ATLANTA (AP)—To kick for one point or run or pass for two points after a touchdown will be a decision high school football coaches will start making in the 1969 season.

This was a major rule change approved at the annual meeting of the National Alliance Football rules committee which ended Friday.

The two-point conversion rule was adopted after successful experiments in Ohio and Oklahoma last season.

In making the change from the previous rule, which permitted only one point on conversion, the rules committee decided that the ball will be put in play for the conversion try on the 3-yard line.

In addition, the committee voted to require the use of wider goal posts at 23 feet, 4 inches apart with the start of the 1971 season.

This requirement will be optional for 1969 and 1970.

A proposal to move the goal posts to the goal line was defeated.

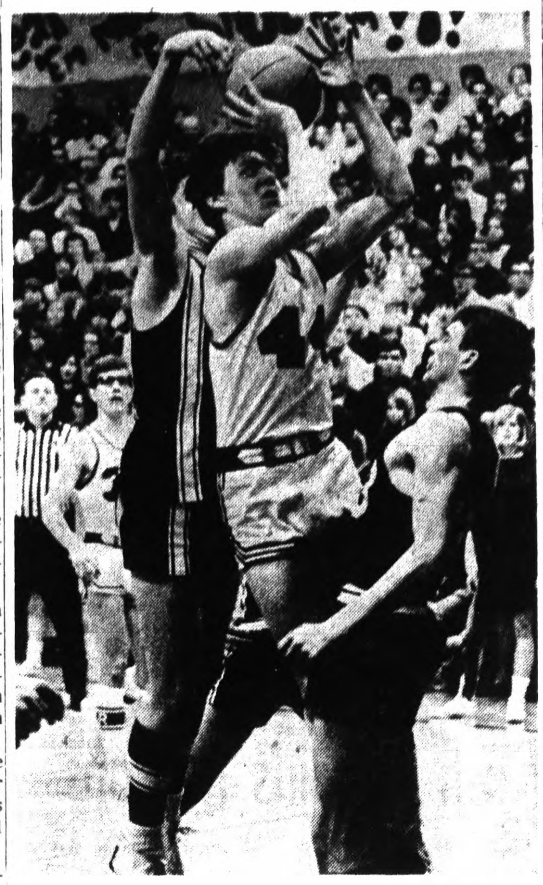

Several changes were made in game administration, including one that now gives a coach a voice when he believes there has been a misapplication or misinterpretation of a rule.

The coach may call this to the attention of the officials through a player. If a mistake is discovered, it shall be corrected and the time-out will be considered an official's time out.

But if there is not an error, then the team will be charged with the time-out.

The committee also decreed a 15-yard penalty for intentionally throwing or kicking the ball out of the playing area after a touchdown. The penalty would be for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Mandatory with the 1971 season will be a requirement that shoe cleats be no longer than half an inch.

SQUEEZE PLAY — Rochester's Fred Harrison (44) is caught between Troy's Brad Faber (left) and Kerry Brown (43) during third-quarter action last night. Harrison was fouled on the play, later sank the winning basket in Rochester's 51-49 decision.

February 4 Meeting for Baseball Loops

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized baseball will try again to select a commissioner to replace William D. Eckert when the two big leagues meet jointly in Bal Harbour just outside Miami Beach, Fla., on Tuesday, Feb. 4.

The first meeting to pick a commissioner, held in Chicago Dec. 20, ended in a deadlock. Eckert resigned under pressure Dec. 6.

IN FOREFRONT

Three baseball men are in the forefront of speculation over the job. They are John McHale of the new Montreal club—although he has said he intended to stay in Montreal—as well as Lee MacPhail, general manager of the New York Yankees, and Charles (Chub) Feeney, general manager of the San Francisco Giants.

★ ★ ★

Mike Burke of the Yankees, one of the contenders at the Chicago meeting, has said he is no longer a candidate.

Other prominent men mentioned for the post include Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Vince Lombardi of football fame.

★ ★ ★

Feeney led the balloting at Chicago with 17 votes. However, under baseball's rules three quarters of the clubs in each league must approve the new commissioner.

With both leagues now having 12 clubs, this means nine in each must unite on one man.

EMU Cager Gets Reprieve

Earl Higgins Given New Condition

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—An Eastern Michigan University basketball star banned from the sport last August by a Washtenaw County circuit judge will be back in uniform soon.

Earl Higgins, a 21-year-old junior who has been forbidden by judge James R. Breakey to play for five years as a condition of his probation after a felony conviction, was granted the reprieve Friday after university president Harold Sponberg wrote the judge describing improvement in Higgin's conduct in recent months.

Higgins led EMU to last year's NAIA championship quarterfinals.

Miracle Fails to Materialize

By United Press International

Paul Seymour called for the start of a miracle Friday and we guess Somebody Up There didn't like him.

The Detroit coach watched his Pistons stage a last-ditch effort with Eddie Miles hitting six points in the last minutes but Bill Bridges' looping hook shot with 10 seconds left gave the Atlanta Hawks a 104-101 squeeze win.

The loss leaves Detroit a full nine games behind the fourth place National Basketball Association Cincinnati Royals who will meet the Pistons in Detroit tonight. Seymour said earlier that it would "take a miracle" for the Pistons to beat the Royals out of fourth place and win a berth in the NBA East Division playoffs.

Rival Super Bowl Coaches Comment

NFL-AFL Teams Finish Preparations for Game

MIAMI (AP)—Members of the Baltimore Colts and the New York Jets and their head coaches wound up serious preparations Friday for Sunday's super bowl—the players on the practice field and the coaches on the lecture platform.

Here are some of the quotes gleaned at separate press conferences held by Weeb Ewbank of the Jets and Don Shula of the Colts:

WEEB EWBANK

WEATHER—"We have played some of our best games this year on weather damaged fields and in the rain. But we prefer a fast field."

INJURIES—"Everybody is ready, including Don Maynard, who has been running well the last two days. But if something should happen to Don we have a replacement in Bake Turner, who would be No. 1 on many teams. Matt Snell had his knee drained Thursday but that has been regular procedure all season. We also have done it with Joe Namath"

★ ★ ★

COMPARISON—"I know the Colts are a great team and I think we are. We're green and improving. Both teams have strong, fast front defense lines. Speed is the big difference in the current edition of the Colts front four and the four I had at Baltimore when we won the NFL title in 1958-59. I can't see where I have any advantage over Shula, although I also coached a number of the Colts when I was at Baltimore. Football is pretty much the same these days and we have exchanged movies of each other's games.

QUARTERBACKING — "We call very few plays from the bench. Joe Namath is an excellent signal caller and a master at reading the defense. Only when we spot something that Joe may have missed do we send in instructions.

STRATEGY — "Unless it comes up a hurricane, we definitely will take the ball at the start of game should we win the toss. If we didn't my players would throw me off the field.

Don Shula

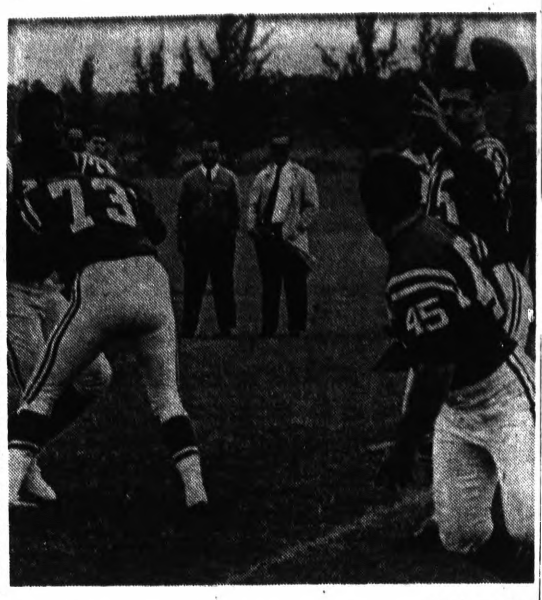

WEATHER—"We have played on all kinds of fields the last few games, especially the championship game against Cleveland. But I kinda liked the Cleveland field. Perhaps it was the 34-0 score that made me feel that way"

INJURIES — "Lenny Lyles (defensive back bothered by sore throat earlies in the week) was hit hard in Thursday's practice and came up with a leg problem. Don Shinnick (linebacker involved in the collision) received a bruised thigh while Timmy Brown (punt and kickoff returner) pulled up slightly lame. Bubba Smith (defensive end) has all but recovered from his sprained left ankle. But I expect all to be ready Sunday.

QUARTERBACKING — "Namath's comments in deriding our team has helped to build interest in the game. He is a great athlete. We still send in plays or formations, but it has been less and less since Earl Morrall got acquainted with our team after the first few games."

STRATEGY—"We would like to get the ball on the opening kickoff, regardless of weather conditions"

COMPARISON—"The jets are capable of scoring with the bomb. They have a great offensive trio in Namath and those two outside ends—George Sauer and Don Maynard. Their defense also makes them better. I'll be happy if we win convincingly and satisfied if we win."

Sifford Retains Lead in LA at Midpoint

Los Angeles (AP)—Veteran Charlie Sifford's torrid golf returned to a more normal par 71 Friday but it was good enough to retain the lead in the $100,000 Los Angeles Open with a 36-hole score of 134, two shots in front of the pack.

The 46-year-old Sifford set things on fire with a eight-under par 63 Thursday but the likeable "old man of the field" reminded golf writers:

"You can't expect to shoot a 63 every day."

THREE AHEAD

Sifford began the round in pleasant weather at the 6,827-yard, par 36-35—71 Rancho Park Golf Club three strokes ahead, but when the firing ceased the lead had been reduced by one. His round included two birdies and two bogeys, and was eight under par after 36 holes.

New tormentors replaced those of Thursday as lean, lanky George Archer reached the midway mark with a 67 for 136, and younger pros, Tommy Shaw, from Golf, Ill., by way of Portland, Ore., and Mac McLendon, Birmingham, Ala., each shot a 68 for 137.

★ ★ ★

Late in the day, Robert E. Payne of Mt. Vernon, Ill., the last player to finish, posted a 67 to join the 137 bracket.

Defending champion Billy Casper shot his second consecutive 69 for 138. Casper made a big run at the leader but said, "I putted extremely well on the first nine but the back nine I'd just as soon forget. He scored 32-37—69.

The people's choice, Arnold Palmer, playing competitively for the first time since last November, improved from 72 to 68.

Merger of Pro Teams Aired

Schedule Alignment Set for 1970

MIAMI (AP)—Pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle said Friday that the merger of the National and American Football Leagues, set for 1970, is in effect now.

Rozelle told a news conference, "We are in effect merged now. All that remains is a new schedule alignment which will take place in 1970."

The commissioner also disclosed he hoped to have the Playoff Bowl game between runnerup teams of the NFL one more year in Miami. He said it was hoped, however, that a more meaningful game could be arranged starting next year.

★ ★ ★

Among other subjects, Rozelle repeated that there was a possibility of pro football telecasts on Monday nights. He added that the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company had the right of first refusal on such a program. CBS and NBC currently telecast games of the two leagues.

★ ★ ★

Rozelle predicted that within 10 years, maybe five, all pro football fields would have artificial playing surfaces. He said medical research by his office indicated there was a possibility the synthetic turf lowered the rate of key injuries such as damaged knees.

★ ★ ★

In the wide range of subjects covered by Rozelle he discussed the possibility of mixing the NFL and AFL teams in divisions or conferences for the 1970 season.

A weak start and finish added up to the fourth setback of the season last night for the Cranes of Cranbrook who dropped a 68-45 decision to strong Grosse Pointe University School.

The Cranes were outscored in the opening frame 19-8, and in the finale, 18-6. In the middle periods, they battled the winners to a 31-standoff.

Kush Explains Reasons

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Frank Kush said Friday he has found his real home and job—coaching football at Arizona State.

Kush was referring to his decision not to accept the coaching job at the University of Pittsburgh five days after accepting it. "I could have been near my home town (Windber, Pa.) but I've decided this is my home town. This is where my future is."

Kush made the comments at a press conference. It was his first public appearance since announcement Thursday that he had backed out of the Pitt job.

He said he had been fishing.

"My main reason for staying at Arizona State is a personal one, my family," Kush said. "My wife loves it here and I've got three boys who didn't want to leave."

★ ★ ★

He said plans to increase Sun Devil Stadium seating capacity from 41,000 to 50,500 also was an influence.

"Pitt has a fine football program, but I think I'm in a better position at ASU. My interests are in Arizona," he said.

★ ★ ★

Kush said a weekend telephone call from ASU president G. Homer Durham helped him in his decision to return. Durham reportedly phoned Kush after he announced he was leaving and told him the door still was open for further talks.

★ ★ ★

Kush was asked why he apparently didn't consider the Pitt offer fully before accepting it. "It wasn't until I made the decision that I felt the emotions of my family," he explained.

Immigrant Founds Schools

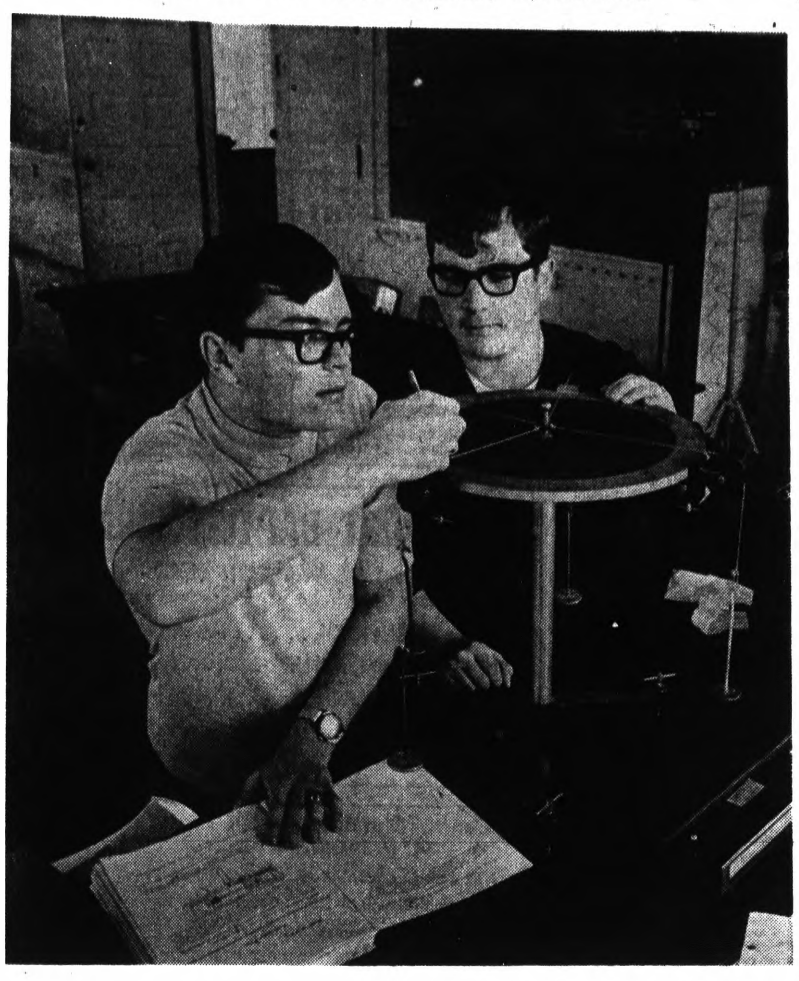

Train Students for Priesthood

What are the Orchard Lake Schools?

Saints Cyril and Methodius Seminary and Saint Mary's College are part of a unique educational institution commonly known as The Orchard Lake Schools.

★ ★ ★

They were founded in Detroit by an immigrant priest, the Rev. Joseph Dabrowski, in order to meet a need which existed in the latter part of the 19th century — the education of the large number of Polish immigrants who had settled in the United States.

Physics Experiments Fascinate Mike And Pat Ross Of Detroit

The Rev. Leonard Chrobot, dean of Saint Mary's College, oversees a curriculum which includes majors in such fields as philosophy, theology, Polish, English and communication.

Students who graduate from Saint Mary's earn a bachelor's degree.

SEMINARY

The dean of Saints Cyril and Methodius Seminary is the Rev. Anthony Kosnik.

The seminary is currently undergoing cirriculum changes in order to better serve the Polish-American community and to implement the recommendations made by the Vatican Council and Committee of Bishops.

★ ★ ★

An extensive pastoral program is carried on by the faculty and students. Plans are being made to establish a center for the training of permanent deacons.

The chief administrator of the Orchard Lake Schools is the Very Rev. Walter J. Ziemba. He succeeded the late Msgr. Wallace Filipowicz in January 1968.

LIBRARY

The library of Saint Mary's College houses the most extensive collection of Polish books and periodicals in the United States.

Included in the archives are historical documents of the Polish-American community as well as a comlpete collection of all Polish stamps ever issued and a collection of Polish coins.

The art gallery, which features works by Polish and Polish-American artists, is also a repository for memorabilia of the Polish Millenium of Christianity celebrated in 1966.

Included in the collection is the oldest Bible printed in Polish now in existence in the United States. The date on the cover page is 1599.

In addition to their studies, the seminarians at Orchard Lake take part in such pastoral activities as the Pontiac Night Ministry and pay regular visits to Northville State Hospital and Pontiac State Prison Farm.

Visits are also made to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac, Mercywood and St. Joseph's Nursing Home in Hamtramck.

HISTORY OF SCHOOLS

From 1885 to 1909 the schools started by Father Dabrowski were located in the City of Detroit.

When the property of the former Michigan Military Academy became available, the Rev. Witold Buchazkovski, rector of the schools, purchased the site on the shores of Orchard Lake and transferred the schools to Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

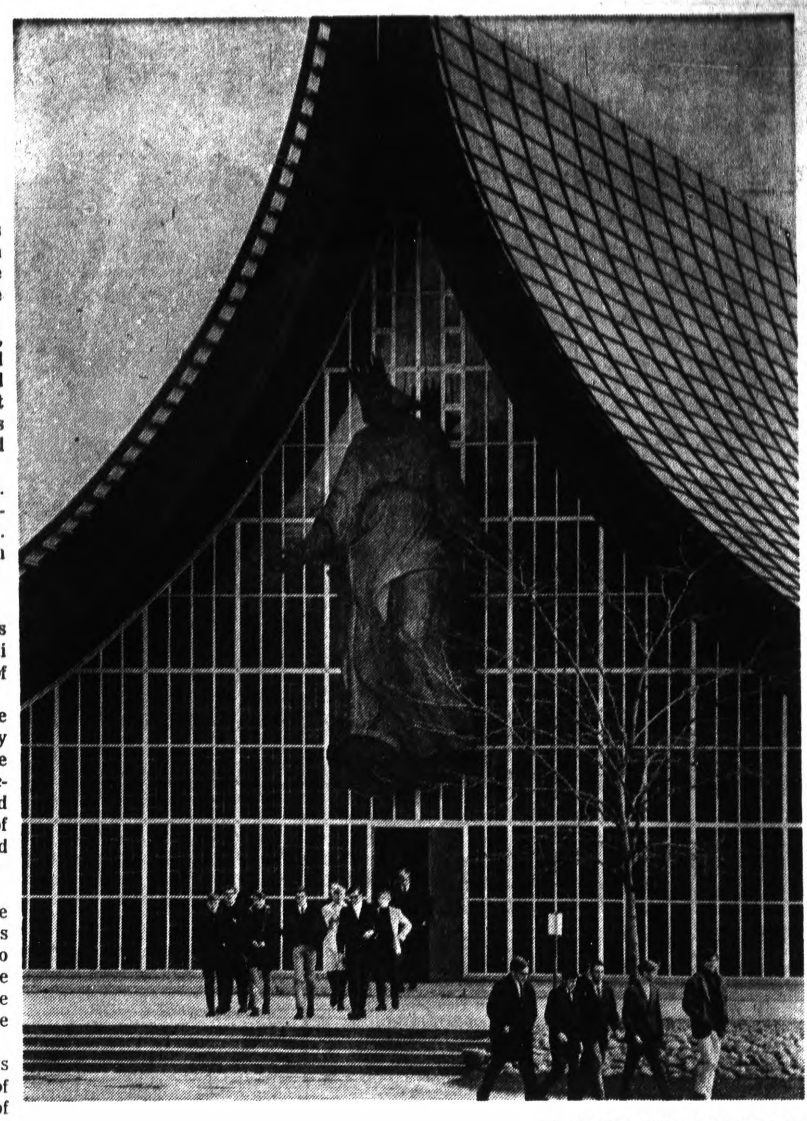

At one time students were admitted to Saint Mary's College who did not intend to continue studies for the priesthood. Presently all of the 118 young men enrolled are divinity students.

Saints Cyril and Methodius Seminary, a graduate school of theology, has an enrollment of 40 students.

★ ★ ★

Each young man has been sent to Orchard Lake by bishops in the United States to prepare for a ministry among the Polish-American communities.

There are 32 students enrolled from Michigan communities — Bay City, Dearborn, Detroit, Farmington, Hamtramck, Lincoln Park, Livonia, Melvindale, Muskegon, Orchard Lake, Oxford, Romulus, St. Clair Shores and Southfield.

The new pastor arrived here in December from Charleston, W. Va. where he was pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He had also served St. Martin Lutheran Church in Webster, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Mr. MacLean received his education from Capital University in Columbus, Ohio and Princeton Theological Seminary.

★ ★ ★

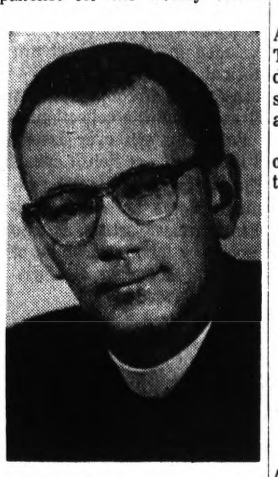

He served as a member of the committee for Inter-Church relations of the American Lutheran Church, as president of Lutheran Pastors' Association in Rochester, N.Y., chairman of West Virginia Council of Churches Commission for Social Action, member of Religious Advisory Council of Morris Harvey College, and of the executive committee of the Greater Charleston Ministerial Association.

For the past two years Pastor MacLean served as a panelist for the weekly television talk show entitled "Facing Life."

★ ★ ★

He is married to the former Ann Soller of Youngstown, Ohio. The MacLeans have three children, Cindi, a high school senior; Doug in the 8th grade, and Jeff, a second grader.

Tryouts Set for Production

'Were You There' Theme of Drama

Mrs. Paul Closson, director of the Chancel Players, announces the group will present "Were You There" by Harold H. Lytle for the Easter production.

★ ★ ★

Tryouts for the cast will be held in Fellowship Hall of Central United Methodist Church, 3882 Highland, Waterford Township, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday; and on Jan. 18 from 1 to 3 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A large reading choir of mixed voices will be needed as well as individual roles for both men and women. Since the players perform for both daytime and evening groups, a double cast will be needed, Mrs. Closson said.

"Were You There" is a drama of the Crucifixion in choralogue form.

COURT OF CONSCIENCE

The scene is set in the Court of Universal Conscience.

This impelling work will be presented in Reader's Theater style, the participants holding the script for reference. The interrogator questions an array of witneses who were involved with the death of Jesus Christ, thus laying bare their aspirations, prejudices and mistakes.

Successively, the reader sets up the scene or situation by citing pointed passages from the Scriptures.

★ ★ ★

The Chancel Players is composed of people from various churches who like to participate in religious drama.

To Present Recital

Linda Schultz, a senior at Muskingum College, will present her senior voice recital at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. She is the winner of the Presser Music Scholarship for 1969.

Recital accompanist will be Virginia Watkins, a piano major, also studying at Muskingum.

The program will consist of classical numbers including an aria by Mozart, a group of selections by Wolf, and "Die Junge Nunne" by Schubert.

From the opera "Louise" she will sing "Depuis le Jeur" and a trilogy by Faure.

Majoring in music Miss Lindsay plans for a future as a music teacher. An offering will be received toward Linda's eight-week study tour in Switzerland in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lindsay of Davisburg are Linda's parents.

The annual meeting of the Oakland Avenue Church will be at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Judge Frederick C. Ziem will preside over the business session.

Reports will be given and the budget presented.

The business meeting will be preceded by a family cooperative dinner at 6:30 p.m.

The Rev. John Hunter, pastor of Silvercrest Baptist Church, is designating the New Year as "The Year of Revival."

"The crying need of the hour is for Christians to rise to the high standards set forth in the Word of God. Christians cannot expect people outside the church to set standards of conduct and morality," Pastor Hunter said.

"The revival in missionary effort must begin at home among members of local churches," he added.

God has put something noble and good into every heart which his hand created. — Mark Twain, American humorist.

REV. ROBERT CRANSTON

NAOMI LINDSAY

The Rev. Robert Cranston, seminary teacher in Butuan City, the Philippines, will be guest speaker at the Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Cranston has just returned to the United States after spending four years in the Philippines as a missionary with the Free Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

He is an older brother of the Rev. Harold Cranston, pastor of the church.

During the past year the guest speaker served as principal of the Light and Life Bible Seminary located in Butuan City on the northern coast of the island of Mindanoo.

★ ★ ★

As choir director of the seminary, Cranston with young people often penetrated the nearby jungle and mountains to visit churches in the interior of the island.

In 1967 he was elected chairman of the Philippine Sunday School Publication Board, an organization of eight to 10 evangelical denominations to prepare Sunday School materials in Filipino dialects.

Publications in four dialects are now being prepared — Cebuana, Ilocano, Ilango and Tagalog.

★ ★ ★

Before going to the Philippines, Rev. Mr. Cranston was for five years superintendent of Florida Spanish Missions for the General Missionary Board of the Free Methodist Church. He was also principal of a day school and pastor of the church.

During his furlough the Rev. Mr. Cranston is attending Asbury Seminary in Wilmore, Ky.

AUBURN HEIGHTS FREE METHODIST

Naomi Lindsay, missionary to Egypt for the past 17 years, will show slides and speak of her work at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Auburn Heights Free Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Miss Lindsay established a program of Bible quizzing for teen-age girls and each week met for Bible study with groups of women university students in the city of Assiut.

Egyptian children attended Bible school enthusiastically, Miss Lindsay said. About 9,500 children were enrolled in 1966 just before the Arab-Israeli War.

When the Mideast War broke out in June 1967, Miss Lindsay and her fellow missionaries went to the island of Cyprus. Unable to return to Egypt, she transferred to Haiti. For the past year she has served as Bible School librarian for the Free Methodist school in Port-au Prince.

Miss Lindsay is planning to return to Egypt soon.

Professor Speaks at Annual Dinner

Dr. C. Elton Trueblood, professor emeritus of Earlham College, will be speaker for the annual dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in First Baptist Church, Birmingham.

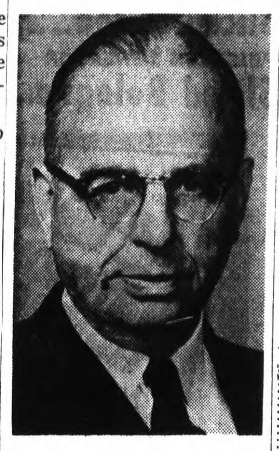

★ ★ ★

During the brief business session, officers will be elected for the coming year.

Author, teacher and lecturer, Dr. Trueblood is known for his many books, printed articles and lectures. His recent books include "The Company of the Committed."

★ ★ ★

His "The Incendiary Fellowship" is a book which concerns the mission of the church to witness in the world.

Tunnel Between Britain and France Draws Closer to Reality

LONDON (UPI) — Napoleon Bonaparte looked across the English Channel early in the 19th century and said, in effect, "Why can't we build a tunnel to England?"

His intentions at that moment were peaceful and the remark stirred great interest, but soon the countries were at war and the English argued that a tunnel would give some future enemy a highway into their country.

★ ★ ★

All the way to the 1950s the English Channel remained a protective moat in the eyes of most Britons. The idea of a channel tunnel or "chunnel" began to gain favor again and today, although France and Britain still have their differences, the project is closer to reality than ever before.

The British and French governments are awaiting final bids from three groups of international financial interests.

PRELIMINARY WORK

"If all goes well," said a government source, "a group might be selected early next year so that detailed engineering design work and new traffic and revenue studies could be carried out."

British experts commenting on this statement said: "On this basis, construction work might begin in 1971 and be completed during 1976."

★ ★ ★

The French are even more optimistic and believe that by 1975 "it should be possible to take a train in Paris and be in London without a stop four hours later."

Under present conditions it takes about seven hours by train and almost 10 hours by automobile, including the ferry journey. And a tunnel would not suffer from bad weather as ferries do.

ESTIMATES DIFFER

There is some divergence in estimates of the cost of the tunnel. The British are talking in terms of about $500 million. The French are inclined to think it will be closer to $700 million.

Since only private capital is involved, the project will not be affected by recent government austerity measures in both countries.

★ ★ ★

The first official go-ahead for the channel came in July 1966 — more than 150 years after Napoleon's suggestion — from prime ministers of both countries. Three months later, the British and French transport ministers agreed that the project should be privately financed.

At present there are three groups in competition: The so-called Channel Tunnel Study Group, which has British, French and American backing; a second combine representing interests from the three countries and a third group consisting of British, French and American firms and banks cooperating with the Italian Banca Nazionale del Lavoro.

Two of the groups may eventually link up.

As envisaged at present the complete new link would have a length of some 40 miles including about 30 miles of tunnel, 20 of which would be under the water. The terminals would be near Folkestone in Britain and Calais in France.

The tunnel would provide two basic types of service. The first would be for private cars and trucks which would simply be carried through it on flat cars. The second basic service would be a through rail link for use by passenger trains, freight trains and car-carrying trains between railway centers in Britain and the continent.

Telepathy With Mother

Retarded Teen Has ESP

LONDON (UPI) — The boy was mentally retarded, but the specialist noticed that his intelligence picked up remarkably when his mother was in the room.

When asked to identify the letters of the alphabet, he would make guesses. But when his mother was present, his guesses were too accurate to be explained by pure chance.

The doctor drew the conclusion that it was possible the boy was in telephatic communication with his mother.

He brought the case to the attention of scientists at Cambridge University and in a report published in the December issue of the Journal of the Society for Psychical Research, researcher R. A. Peters said he felt "This is a case of true telepathy."

The boy was 17 when the tests were conducted.

At first, tests were conducted by having the mother look at a word; the boy was asked to guess the word. They were separated by a screen.

★ ★ ★

Then the tests were conducted over the telephone.

Peters said the results were so far beyond what might have been expected by chance that he reached the conclusion there either was a code between mother and son or they were actually telepathic.

★ ★ ★

Accordingly, the tapes of the sessions were submitted to Ian Fletcher, a surgeon and an amateur magician.

Fletcher said he failed to detect any of the known voice codes used by magicians.

Real Milestone Is Reached by Blue Cross Firm

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Blue Cross of Oregon has really passed a Milestone.

The health insurance firm recently tried to honor its 400,000th enrolled customer, so its computer was programmed to seek out the name of No. 400,000.

It turned out to be Mary L. Milestone, a secretary for the Portland schools.

"My husband and I are used to puns on our name," Mrs. Milestone said. They have five children, each a little milestone.

Lack of Funds Threatens Negro Braille Magazine

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. E. R. Merrick has been the unpaid editor, publisher and columnist for 18 years of what may be the nation's only braille magazine for blind Negroes.

But unless funds can be found to keep the publication going, December may be the final issue.

Mrs. Merrick, 72, says she can no longer afford to publish the magazine because the demands are too great on her time, energy and personal finances.

The monthly magazine, with a circulation of between 10,000 and 15,000, has readers in Europe, Africa and India. It was established 18 years ago by Mrs. Merrik with a $500 yearly contribution from the North Carolina Federation of Negro Women's Clubs.

MAGAZINE EXCERPTS

The maazine, called The Braille Magazine, specializes in bringing to the blind excerpts from national magazines.

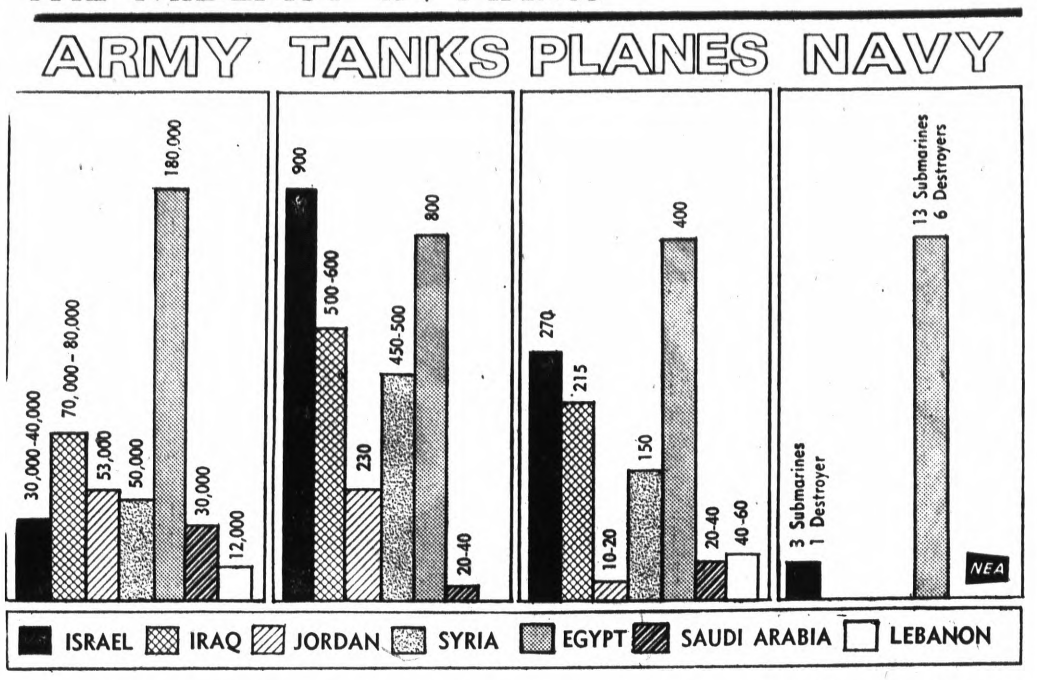

Mrs. Merrick's column informed readers of entertainment trends and of news developments that might be overlooked by other publications.

"The Negro blind person lives in a world all his own," she says. "Some had to drop out of school early and others, because they are poor, can't afford regular publications."

Mrs. Merrick's magazine has been mailed without charge to any person who requests it.

She became interested in publishing such a magazine through a blind friend who urged her to do something about the isolation of blind persons.

THE MIDEAST IN ARMS

COMPARISON OF STRENGTH — Latest reliable estimates of Mideast military strength give the Arab nations a strong numerical advantage over Israel in standing forces. But Israel has a secret weapon in its well-trained reserves which can be mobilized on 48-to-72-hours notice to bring its total strength to about 275,000. Egypt and Israel have the only major warships. Other navies consist primarily of torpedo and patrol boats.

Christians in India State Set to Confront Red-Led Regime

TRIVANDRUM, Kerala (AP) — Kerala's Christians are preparing for a confrontation with the Communist-led government of this tropical state in India. The issue is a Communist threat to the continued existence of the Christian and other private universities.

The 4 million Kerala Christians represent one-fifth of the state's population. They are mostly Catholic, many owing allegiance to several ancient Middle Eastern rites and claiming conversion at the hands of the apostle Thomas.

★ ★ ★

A tiny, sprightly bearded man is the spiritual leader of one of Kerala's smallest Catholic groups, the 150,000-member West Syrian community. His Grace Mar Benedict Gregorios, the Krala-born archbishop of Trivandrum, is also the Christians' most effective anti-Communist cleric.

In 1959 another Communist government tried, among other things, to move against the denominational schools.

DEPOSED GOVERNMENT

"We got together and the government was thrown out," says the 52 - year - old prelate, condensing the history of the "liberation struggle" the church and the opposition political parties waged then—and in which the archbishop played a not inconsiderable role.

★ ★ ★

The issue today centers on a bill in the Kerala legislature that would permit the government to take over any university that it deemed "mismanaged."

★ ★ ★

"This time it will not be as easy as last time," said the archbishop. "The Communists can surely go through the physical process of passing the bill.

"But we will surely oppose them if they try to implement it."

RECALLS RIOTING

"Nonviolent opposition?" the archbishop was asked.

"Oh no," he responded with a smile, perhaps recalling the Catholic-led rioting and burning of the successful 1959 struggle. "The Communists have no respect for nonviolence."

★ ★ ★

The legislative move against the denominational schools is, "Communists here admit, an attempt to secure the political allegiance of often underpaid teachers. One top Communist privately confesses that it would be risky indeed to try to take over any private institutions.

"If the conservative elements here combine, that can be very difficult for us," he noted.

UNITED OPPOSITION

The Kerala Universities Bill has succeeded in uniting not only Christians but also sections of two important Hindu groups, the Nairs and the Ezhavas.

The Nairs are high-casts Hindus who have their own schools. The Ezhavas are low-caste, and usually pro-Communist; but some prosperous Ezhava groups have, like the Nairs, established their own schools.

★ ★ ★

Along with the Christians, the Nairs and the Ezhavas are loath to allow their government even theoretical leverage over their institutions.

"We are confident in any case," said the archbishop, "that the bill will not stand in the courts. The constitution of India permits minorities the right to 'establish and administer' schools. . .We will go straight to the Supreme Court."

JUSTICE IS SLOW

But the wheels of the law, especially in India, grind slowly —and as they grind the archbishop is prepared for another struggle.

Trained as an economist, he turns instinctively and with perceptible interest to the material, economic heart of his state's problems.

★ ★ ★

"We have a very intelligent and energetic people and bountiful resources," he said, indicating with a sweep of his hand rows and rows of deep-green rice paddies fringed by high-arching coconut palm.

"But because their energies are not used, politics has become a disease here."

PLANT INTEREST

The archbishop, who has visited plant-research institutions around the world, seems happiest bounding through the 200 acres of rich cropland his church maintains on the outskirts of Trivandrum district," the cleric noted as he incongruously balanced his way along the narrow raised-dirt band that separates his paddy fields.

"This is the one here," he pointed. "Using the Filipino IR8 seed we grew 3,650 kilograms of rice an acre. The usual yield is about 500."

★ ★ ★

Kerala is chronically short of rice—and annually clamors for imports from other states rather than striving for self- sufficiency.

The archbishop is a good friend of the government's agriculture minister, who is a member of the pro-Moscow Right Communist party. Kerala is run principally by the more radical left or Marxist Communists in coalition with six other parties.

HATCHERY CHAIRMAN

"We work together for many things," said the archbishop of his right Communist friend. "He is a good man, but what can he do?

"I am chairman of the state's hatchery committee," he added, elaborating on his own extracurricular activities. "I also supply rice seeds to the government.

★ ★ ★

"I am sure with these new high-yielding seeds we can supply all the rice the state needs."

And birth control? Kerala has the highest population density in India—1,127 persons per square mile, more than three times the national average.

"Oh no, we are against that. We can support many more people on the earth," said the archbishop.

LBJ, Messengers Pose for Pictures

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson posed for pictures in the White House Fish Room Friday with 47 messengers in another of his series of farewells to employes who have worked under him.

★ ★ ★

It was a rare occasion for the President. He didn't make a speech. The talking was done by Yoichi Okamoto, his official photographer, who repeatedly asked the group, some of whom were sitting, to "stand tall" and keep their "heads up."

★ ★ ★

In the group was Charles D. McCloud, who first came to the White House with Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933.

Dead Miners' Kin Threaten Uproar Over Disaster Relief Fund

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — As 78 men lay entombed in the nearby Mannington No. 9 mine, silenced forever by a series of underground explosions and fires on Nov. 20, an uproar threatens to develop over more than $145,000 collected by donations in a disaster relief fund.

The $145,000 is being administered by the Citizens Mine Disaster Committee, headed by Phillip Gango, a grocer here.

★ ★ ★

The fund, representing donations from all over the country, including a $100,000 gift from the Cleveland Plain Dealer, is separate from other benefits the survivors have or will receive over the years from union and governmental services.

It also does not include $68,000 collected by Pittsburgh Pa. television station WIIC, but not yet distributed, or a planned $20,000 collection by radio station, WWVA, Wheeling, W. Va.

WIDOWS OBJECT

A group of widows this month petitioned Gango's committee, objecting to reported plans to put some of the donated fund into trust for the education of the 121 children left fatherless by the Consolidation Coal Co. mine disaster.

The petition from 46 of the widows said, "We do not feel the way that it (the fund) is set up is exactly the way it should be.

★ ★ ★

"We understand it is to be used for the college education of dependent children," the petition added. "What about the people with grown children or no children at all? The money is meant to be used for all families equally and we feel that this way it could not possibly be equal."

Gango, who has operated a grocery here for 37 years, said the protesting women had implied his committee members might be dishonest.

PROTEST UNFAIR'

"It is unfair to our committee which couldn't be composed of finer men," Gango said. "I'm not worried because I have proof of all the money we received. I even kept all the envelopes the money came in. Maybe I'm trying to be too perfect. I told the women they have already done the damage."

Gango said the money was being handled "in the best possible way" and that several of the contributors had stipulated that a portion of their gifts be set in a trust fund for education.

★ ★ ★

He said some contributors were still trickling in and the fund could not be divided until all the gifts were received.

Mrs. John Gouzd, a mother of three children and one of 74 women widowed by the tragedy, denied they were questioning the honesty of the committee.

"We know they're perfectly honest," she said. "The problem was that we were not invited to their meetings. We were not told what they were planning.

"Also we here in Farming know Mr. Gango, but some of the widows live as far away as 70 miles. They don't know what kind of people are handling the money."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Franke Tate Jr. of Shinneton, mother of four children, said she did not care how the money was divided.

"This arguing is making us look money hungry," she said. "Nobody is going to get rich. If it is meant for us, then we should get it but why fight? Somebody had to take care of that fund.

"There is no amount of money in the world that could bring my husband back," she added.

Lonely Patient Is Remembered . . . After Death

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — When 90-year-old Annie Lee W. died at Central State Hospital, she had not had a visitor in her 71 years in the mental institution.

Newspaper accounts told of her lonely death. This week, a handsome black granite marker was set at her grave.

★ ★ ★

"Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal," says the inscription.

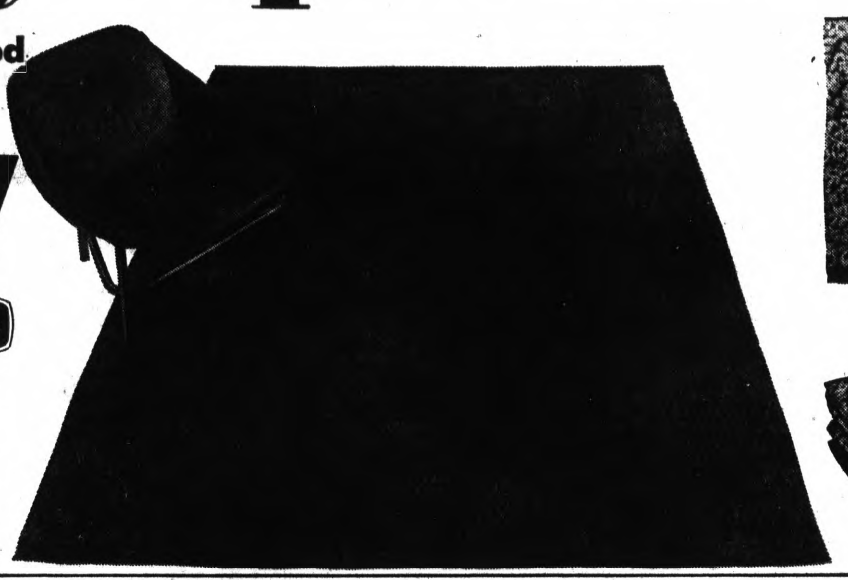

The marker was given by Mrs. Leonard Lambert of Decatur, Ga., who said, 'To me, if I can add just a little dignity to her death that she did not have in her life, I will be happy."

Brick-Faced Ranch Of The Ron Gardner Family Found On Thornaby Drive In Waterford Township

Husband Decorates Home With a Bold Color Theme

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Should the color theme be red, white, black? Should the furniture lean to Contemporary, Mediterranean, Provincial? What about draperies, carpeting, fabrics? Decisions, decisions and though Mrs. Ron Gardner may make her preference known, the final action hinges on her husband's approval.

Decorating his own home was somewhat of a busman's holiday for Ron Gardner who spends his days guiding discerning clients at the Thomas Furniture company in Waterford Township into furniture choices that they will be happy to live with for years to come.

★ ★ ★

To create the effect of spaciousness in the moderately-sized living room, Gardner selected white walls and white plush wall-to-wall carpeting. Fond of bold colors, he used scarlet and black to complete the room's color theme.

The dominant piece in the living room is the walnut-based sofa with its companion tables maintaining a constant line. The black plush cushion and its half-ellipse back are highlighted by scarlet wool pillows. Lighting the piece is a black-chained hanging fixture with a textured black-on-white shade.

Above the sofa hangs an oil depicting a night in New York City. The painting is balanced by black Japanese characters which impart an oriental feeling to the room. Repeating the scarlet of the back pillows is the plush round before the sofa.

Walnut cubes serve as versatile cigarette tables. Accent pieces in the arrangement include a crystal ashtray, artificial fruit in a pedestal container and red-glass grapes with green leaves.

★ ★ ★

Scarlet antique satin draperies blend with the twin red wool chairs serving the room's low black-lacquered table. As a light source, Gardner chose a black and red ceramic lamp with a white shade banded in scarlet velvet.

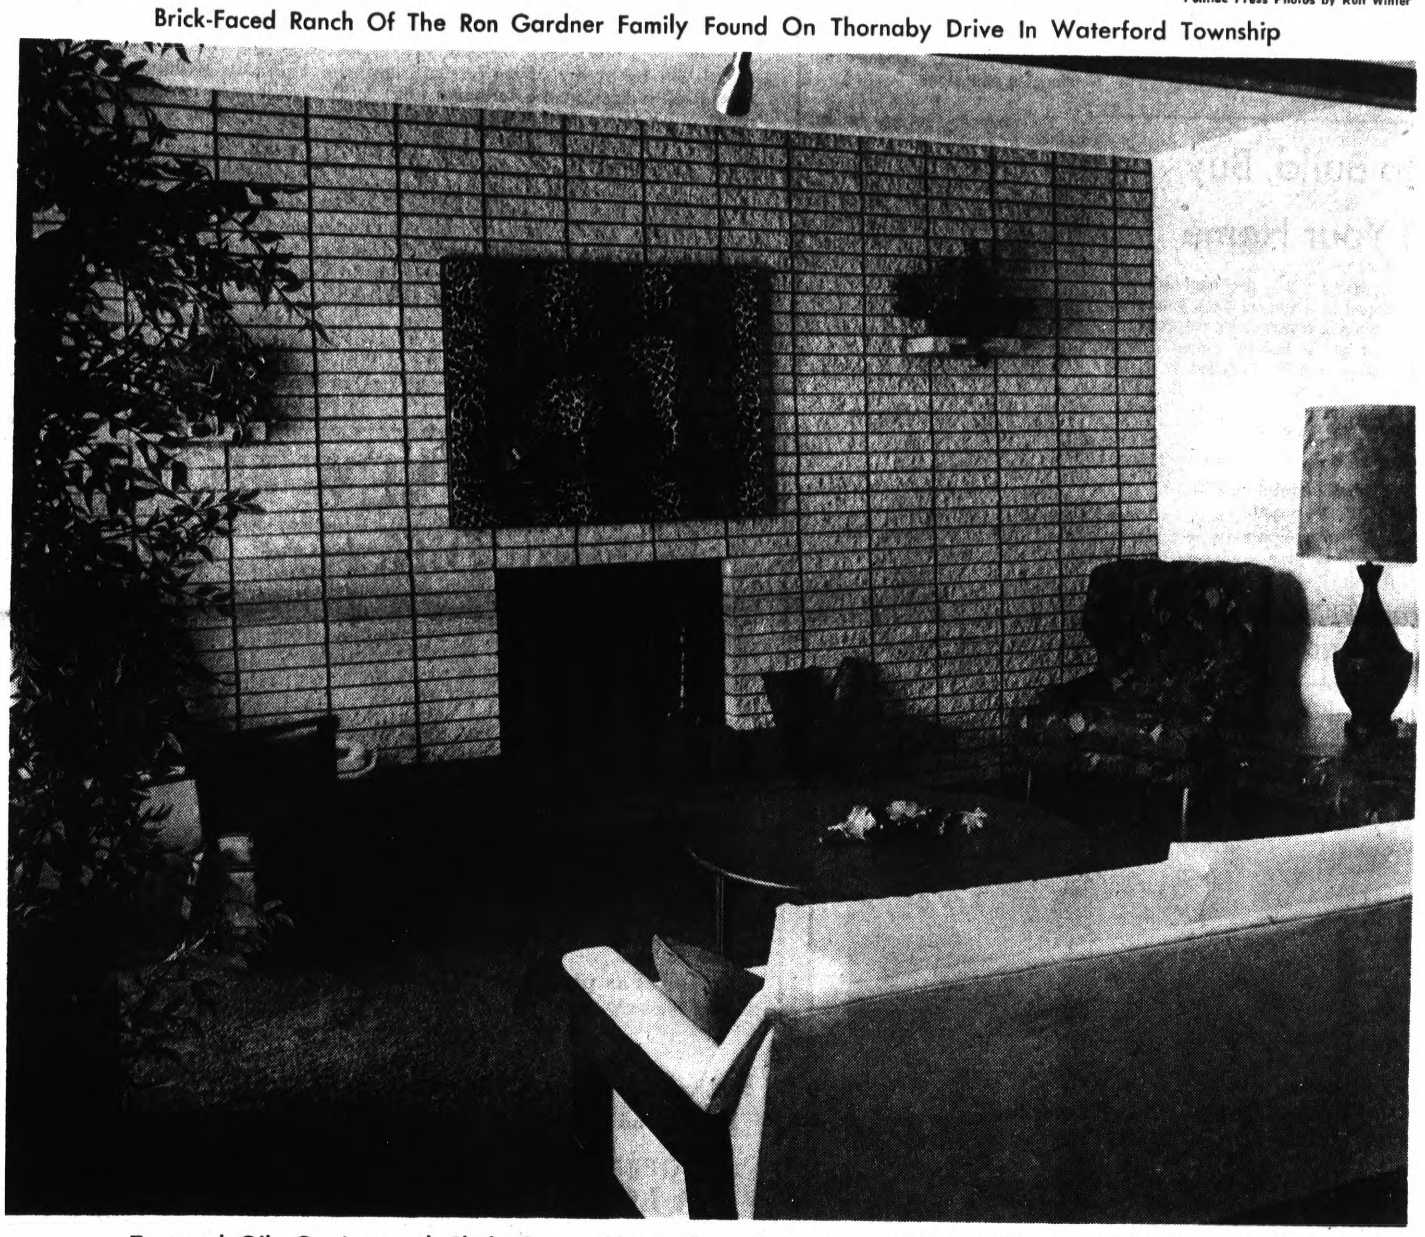

Continuing the contemporary mood with a hint of the exotic is the adjoining family room carpeted in red plush. The hearth of the white brick fireplace is also carpeted in the same material.

Walls of the room are white, again to put the emphasis on space. Color interest is introduced in a pair of matching wing backs flanking a walnut end table. The bold print stresses red, shades of purple and black.

Serving the white sofa, is a round walnut cocktail table adorned by a cluster of red glass grapes with green leaves.

★ ★ ★

Old World Theme in Bavarian Styling

Z-75 STATISTICS

Design Z-75 has a living-room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms, a bath, laundry area and foyer on the first floor, with a total habitable area of 1208 square feet. Also on this level are covered porch, a terrace and a one-car garage with storage space. Upstairs are two bedrooms and an extra large bath, totaling 549 square feet. Over-all dimensions are 53'5" by 54'.

Families looking for something different in a modest house — but not one that is too "far out" —will find much to admire in this latest House of the Week.

With a charming traditional exterior in the Bavarian mold, it carries the Old World theme inside, especially in the living room directly to the right of the entrance foyer.

The ceiling is the cathedral type and laced with beams. The window on the far wall, across from the entrance arch, is a full story-and-a-half in height.

★ ★ ★

There is a bank of three tall front windows with leaded diamond panes and a long window seat.

To the rear is the log-burning fireplace and, alongside, a French door access to the porch.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern has placed above the entrance arch a balcony that overhangs 16 inches into the living room.

★ ★ ★

Framed by the beams of the cathedral ceiling, the balcony, with balustered rail, overlooks the room from the master bedroom above.

★ ★ ★

Because of the balcony's height, privacy in the inner part of the bedroom is not sacrificed.

The in-line kitchen and dining room are open-planned to give more flexibility to the space.

The dining room might even be finished as a continuation of the kitchen and used as both a family room and for dining. But if a separate room is preferred, a partition can be constructed between the rooms.

PORCH

Outdoor living is well provided with the 12-by-22-foot side porch with access from the living room and the kitchen for serving outdoor meals.

The front porch, 26' long, can be used for sitting and also provides a weather-protected entrance for the front door.

★ ★ ★

A service entrance on the right side near the garage enters a vestibule which contains all the ncessary ingredients for good traffic control and the prevention of dirt tracking — basement entrance, wash-up bath and laundry.

Two bedrooms are on the first floor, with easy and private access to the bath.

The second floor has two bedrooms and a split bath.

MASTER BEDROOM

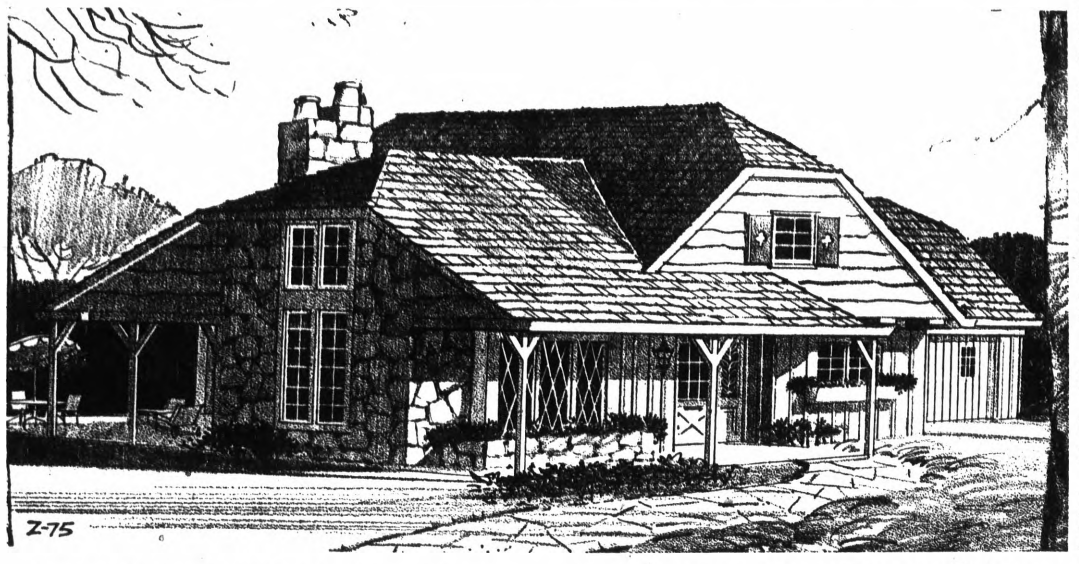

The master bedroom has the balcony which overlooks the living room below. The balcony is 13' wide.

Exterior materials are steel casement windows, rough sawn boards and battens, a special type of siding, wooden roof shingles and stone.

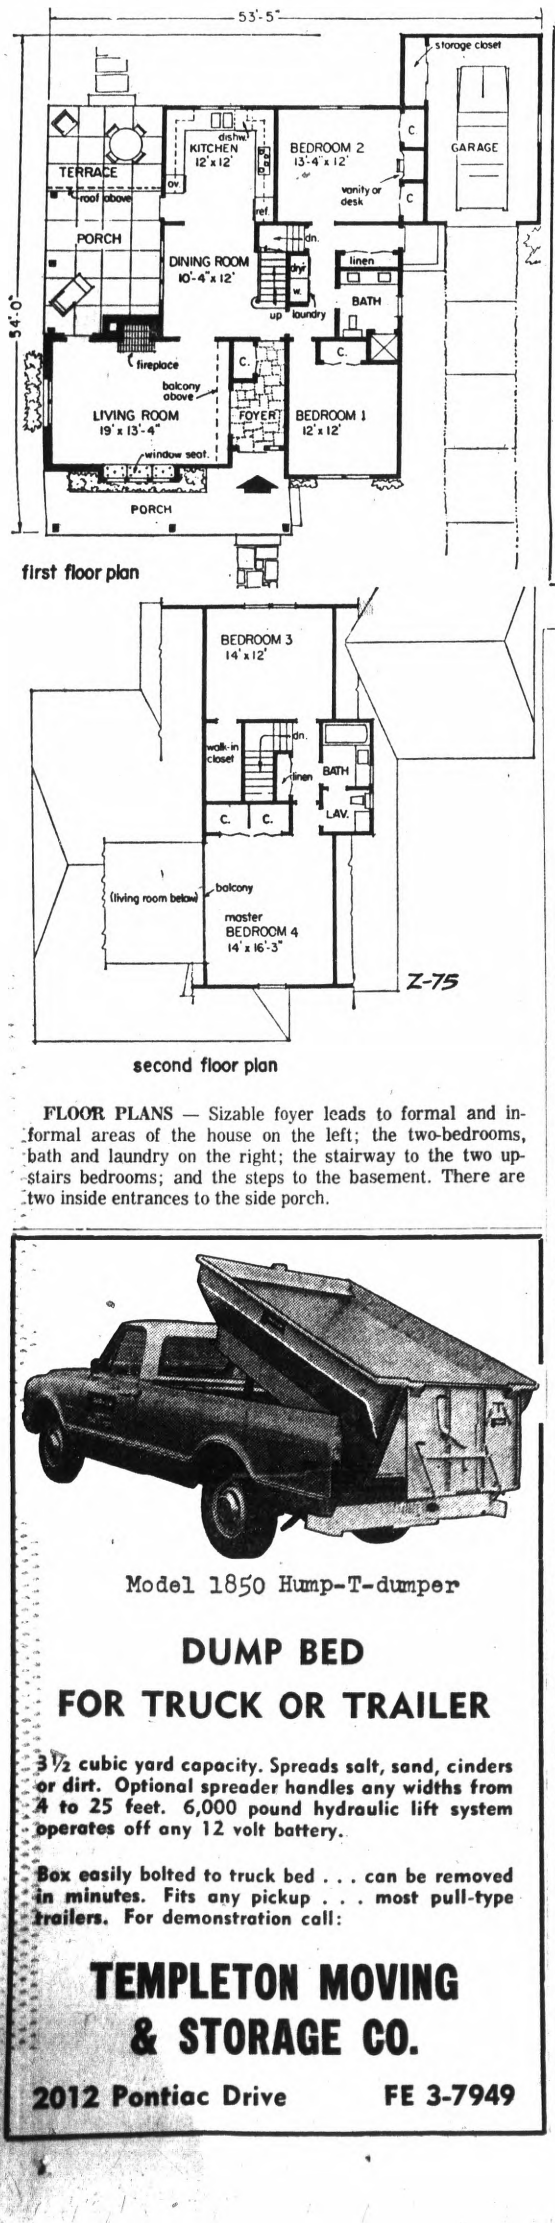

★ ★ ★

The one-car garage is set back a considerable distance from the front of the house and has a large storage area.

Withe the Bavarian-styled roof giving the over-all structure a distinctive appearance, its traditional lines enable it to fit nicely into the architectural pattern of any neighborhood.

TOUCHES OF OLD WORLD architecture are evident in this four-bedroom, one-and-a-half-story house, with special emphasis on the Bavarian-type roof. Large covered porch at rear left can be entered from the living room, dining room and kitchen.

FLOOR PLANS — Sizable foyer leads to formal and informal areas of the house on the left; the two-bedrooms, bath and laundry on the right; the stairway to the two upstairs bedrooms; and the steps to the basement. There are two inside entrances to the side porch.

Garden Path Leads to Bath

Memories of movie stars luxuriating in stage-set milk baths may have inspired the builders of a California development to show glamorous "garden" baths in their model homes.

The sultry bathroom decor features sunken tubs, exotic fixtures, mirrored walls, and romantic views of secluded patio gardens through floor-to-ceiling windows.

Your clothes dryer should be properly vented.

Avoid Damage

Vent Clothes Dryer

Aside from the connection that provides its source of heat (gas or electric) every clothes dryer involves one other bit of installation work. It must be vented to the outside.

Without venting, warm, moist air will fill the home every time a load of clothes is dried. Remember that all the water in those wet clothes is pouring out of the dryer in the form of steam.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the discomfort involved there also is the damage that can occur — mildew, peeling paint, rotting. In addition to the moisture there also is the accumulated lint that will blow around.

Venting directly to the outside is done by connecting a duct — either flexible or rigid — to the opening on the back of the dryer. This opening will accommodate a three- or four-inch pipe.

SHORTEST ROUTE

Arrange the venting so that you are taking the shortest route to the outside with the fewest possible bends and turns. This will make your dryer work more efficiently.

You can cut a hole in the wall and cover the outside opening with a special vent hood made for the purpose.

If there is a window nearby you can go through this. Remove one pane of glass and replace it with a piece of aluminum or plywood.

★ ★ ★

There are special kits made up for this purpose. You can purchase one that contains either aluminum pipe or flexible duct and a vent hood.

Pipe requires adjustable elbows. Flexible ducts are fastened with hose clamps.

PLATE

For the window, there generally is a special aluminum plate with a hole through which you run the pipe. The other side has a vent hood. You will have to trim the plate to fit the window opening.

Fasten he plate in the frame as though it were glass, using glazier points and putty.

You can make your own plate from sheet aluminum. Or you can use plywood, cutting a hole for the pipe with a jigsaw. If you use plywood, choose exterior grade plywood.

The pipe or duct is easily fastened to the back of the dryer. The elbow, in the case of rigid pipe, or the duct is slipped over the lip that surrounds the opening.

The duct is held in place with a clamp. While rigid pipe may fit snugly enough by itself, you can make the connection more secure with a sheet metal screw or two.

SUPPORT

If the pipe cannot go straight up from the dryer but must angle off for part of its run, support it with a bit of wire or heavy cord looped from a joist above.

If you have gone through a wall, seal the edges of the vent cover plate on the outside with caulking compound.

Roof Over Patio Extends Outdoor Living Season

If you want to extend your outdoor living season, both summer and winter, the simplest way to do it is to put a roof over your patio.

★ ★ ★

An aluminum patio cover will do the following:

- Make the patio usable on rainy days as well as sunny ones. In many sections of the country, Laine says, it is rain rather than cold which forces a family indoors.
- If protected from the wind, the covered patio will provide a comfortable place for children to play on sunny winter days. The patio roof can be built to permit the low-angled winter rays of the sun to enter, while fending off the higher-angled summer rays.
- The roofed patio is also a place to keep plants on sunny winter days or hang clothes. It can serve as a rain and snow shelter for outdoor furniture so that you can use the patio for meals or relaxing when the first balmy spring days arrive.

An Award Winner

East Combines With West

"Barefeet Only" is the provocative title given to this inviting Oriental-inspired fun-and-games room designed by Miss Jackie Mahi (Erickson) of Honolulu, one of five winners in Uniroyal's "Action Room" Competition 1968.

★ ★ ★

The raised platform permits an ingenious storage idea — pull-out drawers conceal game sets, snacking utensils, and other recreational needs. Vinyl covers the padded platform and drawer faces. Adding to the charm of this snack-lounge area is the hibachi, set in the sunken fieldstone fire pit.

★ ★ ★

Tansu chests conceal a stereo unit and a television that swings out and rotates for easy viewing.

Naugahyde grass cloth pattern covers the wall. Underfoot, it's vinyl tiles. The plumbly upholstered chair and ottoman sport another of the news-making vinyl colors.

COMBINATION

Easy-to-care-for Naugahyde on floors, walls, chests, checkerboard side of table and upholstered pieces dramatizes the graciousness of the Eastern mood, the practicality of the Western manner.

Build Patio Cover to Cool House

Is your house too warm during the summer months? A major cause could be a paved patio built directly adjoining house walls.

★ ★ ★

Paving not only absorbs and transfers heat through walls and windows, but can also reflect sun glare unpleasantly.

For an existing patio, the best solution is a shade roof which can be built economically using 4x4-inch Douglas fir posts, 2x8-inch beams and spaced 1x2s for slat roofing.

★ ★ ★

The sunshade should cover at least an eight-foot width next to the house, but it's even better to cover the entire patio.

Homeowners who have done so claim it reduced indoor temperatures by ten degrees.

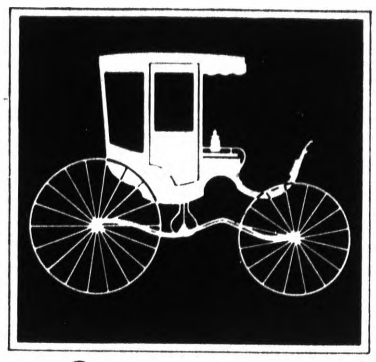

When building a new patio, a sunshade should be included. But it will also help if a four-foot-wide strip is left unpaved next to the house.

Planted with evergreens, this area provides breathing space that helps prevent heat build-up.

Yard Privacy: Is It Illegal? Steps Told for Fence Permit

Is privacy illegal in your neighborhood?

A "yes" answer wouldn't be surprising. Many residential areas effectively ban privacy by not permitting a fence of more than four-foot height at the property line or by restricting fencing to the back yard. In some instances, no fencing at all is allowed, and there you are — not only exposed to view but also to the neighbors' dogs.

Restrictions against fencing literally limit use of your own property, a costly waste in this age of high-priced land, for they control location of outdoor living space, tool storage and other yard structures.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, homeowners nationwide are rising in protest against antifence rulings with the result that, as often as not, they are winning variances to local building regulations.

VARIANCE

How can you obtain a variance? If building in a new neighborhood, your home builder or architect can take care of the matter, but be sure permission is obtained in writing.

For an existing home in an established neighborhood, success in obtaining a variance depends on a well prepared presentation to local building officials, the people from whom a building permit is obtained.

The presentation's purpose is to make sure the officials understand your case thoroughly enough to judge it.

They will want to know your neighbors' reactions to your proposal and how it will affect adjoining property and the neighborhood generally, as well as its effect on your home.

After preliminary plans have been drawn by a landscape architect, the homeowner's first step should be to discuss the motter with neighbors and obtain their approval.

Their approval should be expressed in writing for presentation to building officials.

★ ★ ★

In the case of fencing, neighbors often are enthusiastic, for a well designed fence is a credit to both properties and provides privacy in both directions.

Next step is to take snapshots of the yard showing views and outlooks from your home and garden and from neighboring yards.

ILLUSTRATION

These will illustjate to the planning officials precisely what presently exists and how fencing will correct or beautify conditions.

Snapshots, the "befores," should be accompanied by "afters," sketches showing how the fence and other yard structures will look in the yard.

The sketches are provided by the landscape architect.

★ ★ ★

Finally, have the landscape designer accompany you in presenting the case to the building officials for a variance.

His knowledge of building codes and technical language will be of great assistance.

Check New Home for Excessive Noise

If you're shopping for a house or apartment this year, after you've inquired about taxes, zoning, the local school system and closing charges, be sure to check on "sones."

Sones can be either a source of comfort or an annoyance.

★ ★ ★

You don't know what a sone is? Briefly, it's a measurement of sound. An example: the noise caused by air being moved rapidly in kitchen or bath or wherever else there is an exhaust fan or blower for ventilating purposes.

It's worthwhile to check on possible sources of noise in a home. It may seem a small thing, but the experts know that excess noise can be a cause of irritation and annoyance, even though it is an often unrecognized source.

COMFORT LEVEL

For instance according to Charles Kenney, manager of ventilation products for Nu-Tone-Scovill, in the building industry the generally accepted maximum "comfort levels" of fan and motor sound are these: for hood and exhaust fans it is 6.9 sones; for bathroom ventilating fans it is 5.0 sones. Equipment which makes more noise than that becomes disturbing; creates discomfort for most people, Kenney said.

★ ★ ★

He said that, while architects and builders generally determine the minimum amount of air, measured in cubic feet per minute, needed to vent the odors of cooking and food preparation and to ventilate adequately bath and other home areas, unfortunately that too often is their sole concern.

★ ★ ★

No matter what number of CFM's are needed to ventilate a home or apartment, the movement of air need not be noisy.

Technical improvements, Kenny said, have made it possible to achieve a lower level of sound or noise.

NOISE-REDUCERS

Among the most effective noise-reducing improvements in ventilating fans, he said are developments such as in-plant electronic balancing of blades, rubber-mounted motors and, particularly, exterior mounting.

★ ★ ★

Keeping the noise, whatever level, on the outside of the house is the best guarantee of a minimal sone level inside. Kenney said top-quality exhaust fans today should have control switches that allow customers to regulate speed and sound with a single control. Mounting blower fans on sound-absorbing cushions further contributes to noise elimination.

★ ★ ★

Kenney suggests, too, that you can further soundproof your home by eliminating hidden pipelines of "Remember," he said, "sound waves ricochet off ceilings, walls and floors into the air with the same geometry that sends a well-executed pool shot into the corner pocket." Airborne sound travels:

★ ★ ★

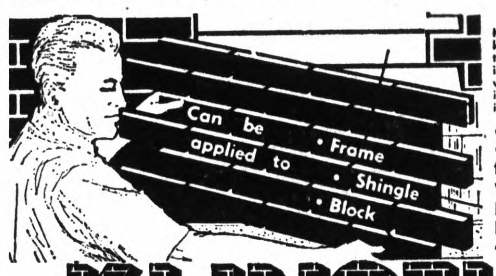

- Through air passages left open by faulty closing of walls at floor and ceiling;
- Through "air leaks" where electrical outlets are mounted back-to-back without caulking;
- Through imperfections in wall, floor or ceiling panels that aren't tight, mortar joints that aren't solid;
- Through pipe openings that aren't sealed.

★ ★ ★

You probably couldn't — and really wouldn't want — to eliminate many of the sounds in a home, even blaring transistors and record players, the children's play, hubby's workshop, parties, but attention to sound-deadening construction practices and the noise potential of household equipment can help to muffle the ordinary sounds and keep from adding unnecessary noise.

ELEGANT APPROACH — Frosted velvet sofa from Johnson-Carper illustrates staff designer Thomas V. Fields' "the more curves the better" theory. "Like a woman, furniture has to be curvy and have class," says designer Fields, proving it here with arms which round into the sofa back in a continuous flow to cradle the semi-attached curved pillow back. Johnson-Carper's correlating champagne damask chair constructed on a typical Fields parabolic curve has sewn half-diamond tufted back and epaulet detail on the skirt.

With Attachments

Electric Drill Useful

The ¼-inch electric drill is probably the first power tool the home handyman will buy. It is easily the one most popular power tool around. It isn't just the ability to drill a few holes that accounts for that popularity.

With the mulitude of inexpensive attachments and accessories available for the ¼-inch drill the tool becomes more versatile, more useful. If you like you can almost turn it into the power unit for a small home work shop.

★ ★ ★

The basic idea is that the drill provides the power for a number of other tools instead of having each one powered separately.

One inexpensive attachment which will get great use is one for polishing. All you need is a rubber disk which it fitted with a metal shaft that fits into the drill's chuck. A lamb's wool bonnet is fitted over the disk and tied in place.

POLISHER

Once you've applied wax to your car, for example, you can use the polishing attachment to finish the job instead of rubbing by hand.

Polishing attachments are available with a long handle which will permit you to polish a floor without stooping.

★ ★ ★

Next is the sanding attachment. Simplest is the same rubber disk again to which are attached sanding disks which are available in a variety of grits.

This type is useful for removing paint or rust. As with all sanding, start with the coarse grit and use successively finer paper.

TROUBLE

One trouble with this sort of sanding is that it leaves swirling marks. More closely resembling hand sanding is the vibrating sanding attachment.

Simple and inexpensive is a paint-stirring attachment. When you use it, remember to pour off some of the paint first if the can is full and insert the mixer all the way to the bottom of the can. Turn off the power before removing the mixer from the can.

★ ★ ★

Screw-driving attachments take screwdriver bits, make a hard job faster and easier.

However, if you are buying a new drill investigate the new variable speed models and those that can be reversed. With these it isn't necessary to have an attachment to cut down on power since the drill does it for you.

SAW

There are circular-saw attachments that will turn your drill into a small power saw. These come complete with blade guards and adjustments for angle and depth of cut.

There also is a saber saw attachment which turns the unit into a portable jigsaw.

A grinding-wheel attachment makes the drill an electric sharpener for knives and other tools. But before you use one, get yourself a bench-mounting attachment for your electric drill. This holds the drill in a stationary position on your work bench, leaves your hands free to hold the work.

★ ★ ★

Keep the drill in the stand when using a flexible shaft. With drill bits or other accessories fitted into the end of the shaft you can manipulate them with greater control.

TIGHT SPOTS

A right-angle drive is just what it seems to be. The unit consists of a housing containing a set of gears so that you can drill and sand at an angle, great for tight spots.

★ ★ ★

But there's another advantage. It will change the speed of the drill, either doubling it or cutting it in half. At a slower speed the drill is more powerful and you can drill large holes in hard materials.

Use Stain Finish

Like the look of wood grain and texture? Like color? You can have your cake and eat it, too, when siding is finished with a penetrating semi-transparent stain.

Burgundy: a Leader in Fashions

Want to be a home fashion leader this season? Just add some generous splashes of burgundy to your bath — as color accents, that is.

The full-bodied color of fine burgundy wine is making fashion headlines in bathroom decor, according to latest reports from the bustling bath accessories field. Best described as a deep, rich red, it is compatible with many pastels as well as with the various off-white and beige tones so often seen in tiled bathroom walls and floors.

★ ★ ★

Burgundy now ranks just below fern green as today's bathroom favorite, and the gap is narrowing.

★ ★ ★

"Though these two lead in nationwide polls, there are significant regional preferences for other colors," a decorating adviser noted.

CALIFORNIANS

"Californians, for example, seem to agree with homemakers in Florida and Texas on the decorative impact of sun yellow, dark spring violet, and hot pink tones," she said.

★ ★ ★

"And while New England's current favorite is bittersweet orange, Boston shoppers prefer bath accents in sophisticated black or white."

★ ★ ★

The latest Midwestern poll shows a marked preference for deep jewel tones such as fern green, burgundy, antique gold, or royal blue. Most of the pastel shades are "also rans" in this territory.

Opening lead—♥5

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Here is one of the silliest hands of 1968. The game was a match point team and at the first table North nd South were playing a convention in which the double of a weak two bid showed a no-trump type of hand with a guaranteed stopper in the suit doubled. West opened a weak two spades, the first table North and South North doubled and South jumped to three no-trump.

North looked at his 20 high card points including three aces. He could have doubled with a lot less and North decided that his cards warranted a jump to five no-trump.

Needless to say, South passed. West opened a low heart and South ran off 10 tricks but there was no chance to gather an 11th.

North was very critical and all South could do was to apologize and hope that his bad bid (two no-trump would have been plenty if he did want to play no-trump) had not cost too much.

Strangely enough, South finished up like the man who fell in the lake and swam out with a trout in his mouth.

★ ★ ★

At the other table West opened the same weak two bid and North made the same double, but they were playing the double for takeout. South responded three diamonds. North went to three no-trump and East was on lead.

Had East just opened the queen of spades North would have made at least 10 tricks, but East did not have much confidence in his partner's two-spade opening.

He pulled out the queen of spades, pushed it back, hemmed and hawed awhile and finally placed the eight of clubs on the table. West clattered up with his ace and returned the suit, whereupon three no-trump wound up down two tricks.

More Grim History for Dachau

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Dachau is living up to its reputation, according to U.S. Army court-martial testimony.

Adolf Hitler erected his first concentration camp in the Munich suburb. It took its place in a devil's dictionary along with Andersonville, Stalinist Siberia, Sodom and Gomorrah.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Army ended the Gestapo camp in 1945. But Friday's testimony described the beating of prisoners in the U.S. Army stockade built on the site of the concentration camp.

"When I first entered the Army I was instructed to obey orders . . . when I came to Dachau I was told I didn't have to take any kind of stuff from the prisoners," testified Sgt. Wesley A. Williams, one of three guards accused of beating U.S. Army stockade inmates.

'PART OF TRAINING'

Of beating prisoners, he said, "It was part of my on-the-job training . . . the sergeant supervisors showed me how."

The testimony said a 3-foot-hose was used on prisoners who had been transferred to Dachau after rioting at a Nuernberg stockade.

★ ★ ★

"The aim was to scare them so they wouldn't repeat at Dachau what they did at Nuernberg. I hit them with the hose two to four times," said Williams, 24, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

A prisoner, Pfc. Herbert H. Clark, said, "I was grabbed from behind and kicked. Then I got up and was beaten on the forehead with a hose by Sgt. Williams.

DEFENSE ARGUMENT

Williams' civilian lawyer argued the sergeant was only obeying "lawful orders" in using the hose.

The court found Williams innocent. Following military practice, it gave no reason for its judgment.

The prosecutor, Capt. Larry G. Berry of Huntington, W. Va., however said he would press charges against the two other defendants whose case had been delayed by their lawyers' illness. They were Spec. 4 Rickey L. Bodle, 19, of Portland, Ore., and Pfc. Manuel A. Rivera, 21, of New York City.

★ ★ ★

Maj. William B. Moore of Caldwell, Idaho, Dachau stockade commander, said the investigation of brutality at the jail has had unfortunate results at Dachau. He said stockade discipline has suffered since the mistreatment charges were aired.

CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE
COUNTY OF OAKLAND

The City of Sylvan Lake Ordains:

Section 1—Permission is hereby granted to THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY, incorporated under the laws of the States of Michigan and New York, its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate in the public streets, highways, alleys and other public places in the City of Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, all needful and proper poles, towers, mains, wires, pipes, conduits and other apparatus requisite for the transmission, transforming and distribution of electricity for public and private use, and to transact a local electric business within said City, subject, however, to all conditions and restrictions hereinafter contained.

Section 2—The conditions of the foregoing grant are as follows:

A—The grantee shall do no injury to any street, highway, alley or other public place, or to any shade trees, or in any manner disturb or interfere with any water or gas pipes, or with any public or private sewer, now or hereafter laid or constructed by any authorized person or corporation.

B—The City may, in its discretion, grant permission for the trimming of trees when necessary to make the lines safe and accessible, such trimming to be done under its supervision.

C—The construction of the said lines shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successor.

D—The said grantee, before entering upon any street, highway, alley or other public place for the purpose of erecting and constructing any poles, mains, wires, pipes, conduits, or other apparatus, shall in writing notify the City or its representatives of the proposed construction, and shall, if the City so requires, file with them a sufficient plan and specification, showing the nature and extent of the proposed erection and construction.

E—No street, highway, alley or public place shall be allowed to remain open or encumbered by the construction work of the said grantee for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the said work, and the grantee shall at all times conform to all ordinances of the City, now or hereafter in force, relative to the fencing and lighting of obstructions and excavations.

F—The grantee shall save the City harmless from any judgment that may be recovered against the City by reason of the wrongdoing or negligence of the said grantee in the erection and maintenance of said poles, mains, wires and other apparatus or construction.

G—Said grantee shall make due provision upon forty-eight hours' notice in writing by raising its wires or otherwise, for the passage of any barn, building or other structure or over any street, highway, or public place occupied by the mains, wires, poles and apparatus of said grantee.

H—This franchise is not exclusive.

Section 3—In consideration of the granting of this franchise, grantee agrees that its rates and charges for electric service in the City of Sylvan Lake shall not exceed its rates and charges for like service elsewhere in its service area, evidenced by its uniform rate schedules at the time on file with and approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission. It is understood that the grantee is subject to regulation by the Michigan Public Service Commission and that any order, rule, or regulation by that Commission, or its successor, will prevail over any regulation herein contained or provided for in case of conflict.

Section 4—This grant shall take effect if said grantee shall, within fifteen days from the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk its written acceptance of the terms of the same, and upon the confirmation of this grant, by the affirmative vote of three-fifths of the electors of said City, voting thereon at a special election to be held on Tuesday, the 25th day of February, 1969, as provided for by the Statutes and the State Constitution.

If not confirmed by the electors voting at said election, this ordinance shall be null and void.

Section 5—This Franchise and Ordinance shall be and remain in force for thirty (30) years from and after the date of its confirmation by the electors of the City of Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan.

Section 6—Nothing in this grant shall be construed to alienate the title of the public in and to any street, highway, alley or public place or any portion thereof, neither shall anything herein be construed in any manner as a surrender by the CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE of its legislative power with respect to the subject matter hereof, or with respect to any other matter whatsoever; nor as in any manner limiting the right of the said CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE to lawfully regulate the use of any street, avenue, highway or public place within its jurisdiction.

Dated this 8th day of January, 1969.

Principals Join the Teamsters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Principals Association of Philadelphia representing more than 300 principals and vice principals, voted Friday to affiliate with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"It is a rather surprising turn of events when professional educators of long standing — men and women — make such a decision," said Daniel McGinley, president of the group.

★ ★ ★

The vote came on the heels of a letter from Richardson Dilworth, school board president, in reply to request for bargaining rights for principals.

"The letter did not address itself to the issue," McGinley said, labeling it "vague and not specific."

McGinley said he believes the principals acted out of a feeling of inability to "open up lines of communication with the administration.

30-DAY OCCUPANCY

That's what one young swinger said when he first glimpsed an Oakland Valley Apartment! Modestly, we agree. We've put all the latest luxuries into these 1 and 2 bedroom apartments . . . sunken living rooms, terrace dining rooms, even private balconies. We've carpeted them, draped them, installed air conditioning, and sound-condition them so as not to inhibit parties. And just to show we're serious about the Playboy bit, we've built the great new Oakland Valley Club for Oakland Valley Apartment residents and their guests. It has a pool, card and game rooms, exercise room, sauna baths, and a very free-wheeling atmosphere. All yours for as little as $175 a month. P.S.—Bunnies Welcome.

House Dems Bills Hit Taft-Hartley 14B

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, with virtually a zero batting average on labor legislation last year, have opened a two-pronged attack aimed at repealing the most controversial section of the Taft-Hartley law.

The two bills are among four significant labor law proposals introduced by Democrats since the new Congress convened Jan. 3.

★ ★ ★

One bill would repeal Taft-Hartley's section 14B which allows states to pass so-called "right-to-work" laws barring union membership as a condition of employment.

The other measure would amend section 14B with the ultimate effect of repealing it.

TWO OTHER BILLS

Two other bills would make it easier for farm workers to organize and would remove restrictions on construction workers from staging a type of secondary boycott.

It is too early to predict how much push will be given the labor measures, particularly those attacking 14B. The last battle on that issue opened wounds that have yet to heal.

★ ★ ★

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made repeal of 14B his major goal in 1965, and a bill passed the House. It was killed in the Senate early in 1966 by filibuster.

Meany reportedly agreed not to press President Johnson for another try in the 90th Congress in exchange for help on other measures.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

Less than half the states have laws banning the union shop, but few issues are as emotional in a labor movement with many unions barely holding the line on membership.

The bill to repeal 14B was introduced by Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich. Although he comes from a district in heavily unionized Detroit the fact he does not serve on a key labor committee raises doubts that a serious attempt is now planned to push the bill.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, the measure to amend 14B was introduced by California Democrat Phillip Burton, a member of the Education and Labor Committee and its special subcommittee on labor.

★ ★ ★

Burton also introduced the bill that would extend protection of the National Labor Relations Act of 1935 to farm workers, indicating a serious push for it, too.

★ ★ ★

Without the protection, such workers can be fired for organizing activities and lack the right to have federally supervised elections to choose a union.

ALL THAT IS LEFT — New York firemen look over the charred wreckage of a helicopter that crashed into a Queens apartment yesterday afternoon. The pilot, who was in the midst of radio broadcast on traffic conditions, was killed.

Traffic-Copter Crash Kills Pilot in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A relief helicopter pilot for a radio station was killed yesterday afternoon when his craft crashed into an apartment building while he was in the middle of a live traffic broadcast.

Fire broke out in the three-story Queens building which was hit and spread to an adjacent building. There was only one minor injury.

★ ★ ★

The accident occured only a few seconds after Frank McDermott, 37, went on the air for a one-minute report on rush-hour traffic conditions. The radio station, WOR, said McDermott complained about rough flying weather, then broke off abruptly, saying, "Take it back, John." He was speaking to John Scott in the studio.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials said the helocpter, a two-seat Bell 47G2 in which McDermott was flying alone, went through the roof and into the apartment on the top floor of the building. Police said McDermott jumped or fell from the craft into a yard across the street from the struck building.

★ ★ ★

The crash came on the same day the city was honoring the three Apollo 8 astronauts who circled the moon. In 1962, when the city was honoring astronaut John Glenn, an American Airlines plane crashed at Idlewild Airport, now Kennedy Airport, killing 95 persons.

★ ★ ★

The only injury in Friday's crash was sustained by Timothy White, 12, who ran out of his nearby apartment just after the accident and tripped, breaking his elbow.

Big 4 Sued by Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department sued the Big Four auto makers yesterday charging they conspired to stifle development of devices to control air pollution by automobiles.

The civil suit was filed in Los Angeles against General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp., American Motors Corp. and the Automobile Manufacturers Association, a trade organization.

★ ★ ★

It charged that since 1953 they had engaged in unlawful agreements to restrain trade and eliminate competition, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

★ ★ ★

The companies and the association issued statements denying they had restrained trade. Instead, they said, they have cooperated to speed development of antipollution devices.

CHARGES

The Justice Department charged they agreed:

- To eliminate competition among themselves in the development and installation of pollution control equipment.
- To eliminate competition in buying patents and patent rights for such equipment.
- To agree on a date for installing pollution control equipment and install it uniformly.
- To delay the installation of certain equipment which was workable.
- And to restrict publicity about research and development of pollution control devices.

The suit said the defendants could have installed positive crankcase ventilation devices on cars sold outside California in 1962, but agreed not to do it until 1963.

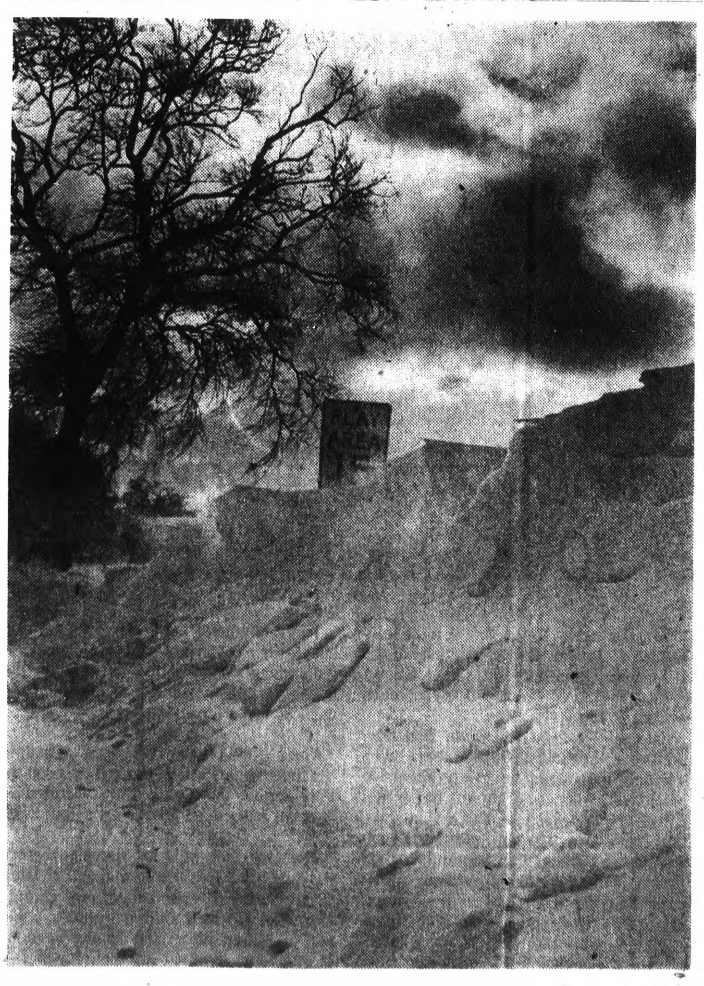

The suit also charged that in early 1964 the companies agreed to tell California pollution authorities a device to control exhaust pollution could not be installed until 1967, when in fact it could have been used on 1966 models.

RFK Death Site Models

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scale models of the scene of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination were displayed by police yesterday and may be used at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, charged with his murder.

Sirhan's trial began Tuesday and is in recess until Monday, when Jury selection is expected to start.

Budget in Limbo as LBJ, Nixon Ponder Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of the Budget was to present advance copies of President Johnson's final federal budget to the press today, but instead the figures languish unprintable while Johnson agonizes and Richard M. Nixon ponders the question:

"Will the income surtax be extended and, if so, who will ask Congress to do it? Johnson, Nixon or both of them?"

★ ★ ★

The inability of the President and the president-elect to resolve this question forced the Budget Bureau to stop printing the new budget for fiscal 1970 yesterday. The budget was to be submitted to Congress next Tuesday, but that schedule also has been set back.

Aides of President Johnson reported last night that he still has not decided what fate he will recommend for the 10 per cent surtax, which will expire June 30 unless Congress extends it.

'NECESSARY CHECK'

Johnson fought for the tax as a necessary check to an inflationary economy, and won reluctant agreement from Congress willing to go along for only one year.

Johnson believes the surtax should be continued to further cool down the economy, but because he won't have to live with the budget he's now drawing up, he doesn't think he should make such a decision without Nixon's concurrence. While he is mindful of disparaging remarks Nixon made about the tax during the campaign, he is hoping that the president-elect wants the $13 billion in revenue which the tax will yield, and will say so.

★ ★ ★

White House insiders say that there's no political pussyfooting on either side, but others in the Johnson administration are muttering that Nixon is "playing it cute" by not saying what he wants.

More is at stake in the delay than figures in fine print. Without a budget, the economic message can't be delivered, and the State of the Union message lies in limbo.

A SMALL SURPLUS

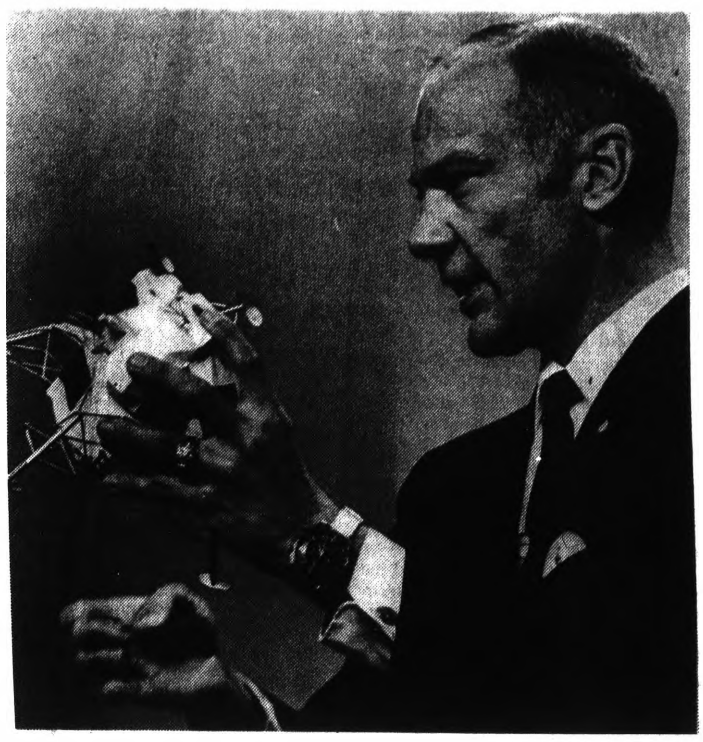

Johnson has promised that the fiscal 1969 budget will show a small surplus, and he is reported to want a 1970 budget that is at least balanced.

To do this he has only two options: Include the surtax, or cut federal spending by $13 billion.

★ ★ ★

The President's aides are reported to be against the latter alternatives on the ground that cuts can be made only in programs that Congress is almost certain to restore — for example, the $3 billion federal pay raise authorized for this year.

Johnson's aides, while saying they do not know which way the President will move, say they doubt he'll resort to making cuts that are patently fictional.

Armstrong, a civilian, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins were named to the Apollo 11 crew by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on Thursday. They held a lengthy news conference yesterday.

Aldrin and Armstrong will make the descent to the lunar surface aboard the lunar module. Collins will stay aboard the command module in lunar orbit.

It hasn't been decided, Armstrong said, who will take the first step onto the moon — he or Aldrin — but that simulations of assigned lunar surface activities will be conducted to make that decision.

Aldrin said the astronauts will carry onto the surface equipment for three experiments. Two devices, a seismograph and a laser light beam reflector, will be left on the moon. A third device, a strip of foil which will measure the solar winds, will be left on the surface a brief time and brought back by the crew.

But, Armstrong said, the most important thing to be learned on the first landing is how well man can work in the airless moon surface where gravity is one-sixth that of earth.

DUST, ROCK SAMPLES

The crew will also bring back a number of samples of lunar dust and rock.

Troy School Vote Monday

Voters in the Troy School District will go to the polls Monday in a special election on renewal of an 8-mill tax levy for operating expenses and approval of a proposed $6.75-million bond issue.

School officials have cited a pressing need for new classrooms as the major reason for the timing of the bond election.

★ ★ ★

Included under the proposed bonding are a new west side elementary school, additions at Hill and Union elementary schools, Troy High School and Baker and Smith junior highs and remodeling at Big Beaver and Poppleton elementary schools.

The issue would also include funds for planning and design for a future high school and a future third junior high school.

★ ★ ★

The millage proposal, if approved, will renew for five years a levy which expired in December.

Milder Weather on the Way

Snow flurries crisscrossed much of Michigan today but the greater Pontiac area was generally clear with some scattered slippery spots on roads.

The weatherman's crystal ball forecasts partly cloudy and continued cold weather with a chance of snow flurries tonight. The low is expected to skid to zero to 6 above.

★ ★ ★

Milder weather is on the way—after Sunday, that is. The prediction for tomorrow is partly cloudy with little change in temperature, the high 20 to 25.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau's official forecast, Monday will be mostly fair and warmer.

★ ★ ★

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was a shivery 11 degrees. By 12:30 p.m. the temperature had warmed to 19.

Income Tax Hike Asked by Detroit

DETROIT — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh yesterday proposed higher city income taxes for both residents and nonresidents who work in the city.

He also met with Lt. Gov. William Milliken in Lansing to discuss the proposal.

★ ★ ★

"We're not asking any money from want is help so we can help ourselves."

Milliken told newsmen that Cavanagh did not ask for any committments.

The mayor's call came after Common Council president Ed Carey had proposed an increase for nonresidents only.

Both plans would involve increases of one-half per cent, with nonresident taxes doubling to one per cent and resident taxes climbing from 2 to 2½ per cent.

The $25 million which would be raised from the combined levy, or any funds from a single one, would be used primarily to finance 1,690 additional policemen and new police programs.

Last year Cavanagh succeeded in getting the State Legislature's approval of an increase from 1 to 2 per cent in resident income taxes, but the body rejected his plan for an increased tax on suburbanites.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Carey's proposal and the mayor's quick response apparently had obvious political overtones as Carey is considered a possible candidate against Cavanagh in this year's Detroit mayoralty election.

Carey's proposal came after Police Commissioner Johannes F. Spreen asked Common Council yesterday to authorize the 1,690 additional men.

★ ★ ★

Spreen, in seeking a manpower boost of more than 25 per cent, said the city faces "an extremely serious crime situation."

"We are limited by manpower," he told the council. "It is obvious to me that Detroit needs more police as quickly as we can train and equip men and get them on the streets."

Murphy Death Almost Official

Only a death certificate is required now to have former County Clerk John D. Murphy officially declared dead, according to Oakland County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen.

Charlevoix County Probate Judge John Makel already has signed a court order stating that Murphy was the victim of a boating accident, but, said Allen, a death certificate is still needed to clear the case.

★ ★ ★

He said that he has requested the certificate from the coroner in Charlevoix County, but has not received a reply.

Murphy's death had to be determined by Judge Makel since his body has never been found.

Murphy was reported missing July 27, 1968. He had gone fishing three days earlier on Lake Michigan between Charlevoix and Beaver Island, where he owned property.

He was the first Democrat to hold the office and was seeking his second term when the mishap occurred. His son, Shane, replaced him on the November ballot, but was defeated by Lynn D. Allen.

The corporation counsel said that the county will be able to close the books in Murphy's office once the death certificate is received.

Foes of Missiles to Meet Monday

The group will be launching a petition drive asking for congressional hearings on the proposed antiballistic missile system, and the proposed sites in Oakland Coutny.

Susan Grossman, acting chairman of the recently organized group, said that the meeting is open to all interested men and woman in the Greater Metropolitan Area.

Nixon Asks Bliss to Stay in Job

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon has settled for the foreseeable future an internal debate over the leadership of the Republican National Committee by asking Ray C. Bliss to remain its chairman.

No specific period was disclosed and Bliss would not discuss the question of how long he might continue. But a key political aide to the president-elect says Nixon's request means Bliss will remain in the party post for "a substantial period" unless he decides to leave.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is known to have considered replacing Bliss with a chairman more talented in public political salesmanship.

Some men among Nixon's circle of advisers had advocated this course.

COMPROMISE CONSIDERED

A possible compromise also had been considered, that of assigning a new party spokesman to work with Bliss at the national committee. One man who had been under consideration for that role was Bud Wilkinson, the television sportscaster who has been named a special White House consultant.

But that idea is now said to have been dropped.

★ ★ ★

Bliss, 61, has been chairman since April 1, 1965. His field is organization politics — the technical side — and he shuns the public speaking, banquet circuit approach.

His constituency is among organization Republicans, state and national committeemen, for example, and their support is believed to have been a factor in the decision to have him remain.

SEMON E. KNUDSEN

Auto Magazine Honors Exec

Semon E. Knudsen, president of Ford Motor Co., has been named by Automotive Industries magazine to receive its sixth annual Outstanding Career Achievement Award.

Knudsen of 31500 Bingham, Bingham Farms, is being cited "for his many years of outstanding leadership and achievement in business, engineering and public service."

★ ★ ★

The award is an engraved sterling bowl. It will be presented at a luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club Monday.

Prior to being named to head Ford Motor in February 1968, Knudsen was executive vice president of General Motors Corp. He was a GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division from 1956 to 1961. He headed the Chevrolet division until 1965.

★ ★ ★

Knudsen is active in Boys' Clubs at the local, state and national levels. He is past president of Michigan United Fund, a trustee of Oakland University Foundation, and a member of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Corp., the American Ordnance Association, the Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Society of Tool Engineers.

Safety Director at OU to Resign

Tom Strong, director of Public Safety at Oakland University, has announced his intention to resign his position prior to July 1.

No date has been set when his resignation will become effective, and he will work with University Chancellor Durward B. Varner in seeking a replacement.

★ ★ ★

Strong made this statement in announcing his plans: "I feel my professional career is limited in scope at Oakland University because of the change of philosophy in the program, and the lack of funds necessary to develop an effective security program."

Strong has been with the university since 1966, when he was hired to organize its department of public safety.

OU Benefactor's Will Challenged

The three children of the late Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, benefactoress of Oakland University, are contesting a $15-million charitable trust fund set up in their mother's will.

In a suit filed in Oakland County Probate Court, the three children, Mrs. Francis Dodge Van Lennep of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Thomas Eccles of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Richard Wilson of Bloomfield Hills, ask that the fund be dissolved and the money divided among them.

★ ★ ★

Probate Judge Donald E. Adams said that he will probably rule on the case by Feb. 20. The will was uncontested when it was admitted for probate before Judge Adams in October 1967.

The will, dated March 9, 1967, seven months before Mrs. Wilson's death during a visit to Brussels, Belgium, bequeathed a number of personal items to Mrs. Van Lenneps, and $10,000 to each of the other children.

Mrs. Wilson noted in her will that financial provisions had already been made for the children.

After the distribution of specific property and cash to persons and organizations named in the will, including $300,000 for a professorship at Oakland University and $200,000 in trust for each of her two grandchildren, the remainder was to be placed in the existing Matilda R. Wilson Fund to be used for charitable purposes.

★ ★ ★

The lawsuit charges that two officers in the fund are in conflict of interest because they were instrumental in preparing the will. They are Nelson L. Meridith, a tax consultant who is president of the fund, and Frederick Nash, a Detroit attorney.

The children also contend in the suit that the paragraph in the will setting up the fund is invalid under state law because it grants lifetime annuities to three men named in the will. This does not fit in with the purpose of the fund, they said.

Israeli Jets Attack Farms, Jordan Says

By United Press International

Four Israeli jets attacked Jordanian farms in the northern Jordan Valley with napalm and machine gun fire today, a military spokesman said in Amman.

The 55-minute Israeli raid south of the Sea of Galilee caused "some" damage but there were no casualties, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

In Jerusalem, Israeli military spokesmen reported an exchange of fire along the ceasefire line between Jordan and Israel but made no mention of air strikes. Israeli spokesmen recently have made a practice of not announcing air raids.

But Israeli residents of the Gesher settlement in the northern Beisan Valley said they saw Israeli aircraft pass overhead after an Israeli army patrol was fired upon from Jordan near the settlement.

'U.N. AIDE TO WAIT'

In Cairo today, the newspaper Al Ahram said United Nations envoy Gunnar Jarring will wait for the results of a Soviet drive for a Middle East peace settlement before resuming his mission in the region.

The semiofficial Egyptian publication said the Swedish diplomat would postpone making a new round of Middle East capitals for at least one week. He had been scheduled to start the tour the middle of January.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets have advanced a five-point plan for implementing the U.N. Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, calling for a Middle East settlement. Al Ahram said the points call for Israeli withdrawal from the territories its armies overran in the 1967 war, termination of a state of belligerence, settlement of navigation and refugee problems, and stationing of U.N. troops on frontiers.

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad of Egypt returned to Cairo from Belgrade yesterday and said Yugoslav President Tito had told him of Yugoslavia's "favorable reaction" to the Soviet plan. Yugoslav officials would not comment on Riad's statement. Riad's trip was seen as an attempt to obtain support of nonaligned countries for the proposed settlement.

Kidnap Suspect to Stand Trial

MIAMI (AP) — A U.S. commissioner was told of a girl being buried alive with instructions on how to bail out her coffin, then ruled there was probable cause to believe Gary Krist kidnaped Barbara Mackle and put her in the living grave.

★ ★ ★

Krist, 23, an escaped convict, sat slumped over during yesterday's hearing, his bearded chin on his chest and his eyes averted from witnesses as they told how Barbara was buried on a Georgia hillside after being kidnaped Dec. 17.

★ ★ ★

FBI agent Joseph St. Pierre said Miss Mackle described the ordeal from her hospital bed after being freed from the box where she spent 83 hours.

★ ★ ★

"They told her there was a pump operated on a battery that would bail out her capsule if water seeped in, "St. Pierre testified at the hearing in the chapel of Dade County Jail.

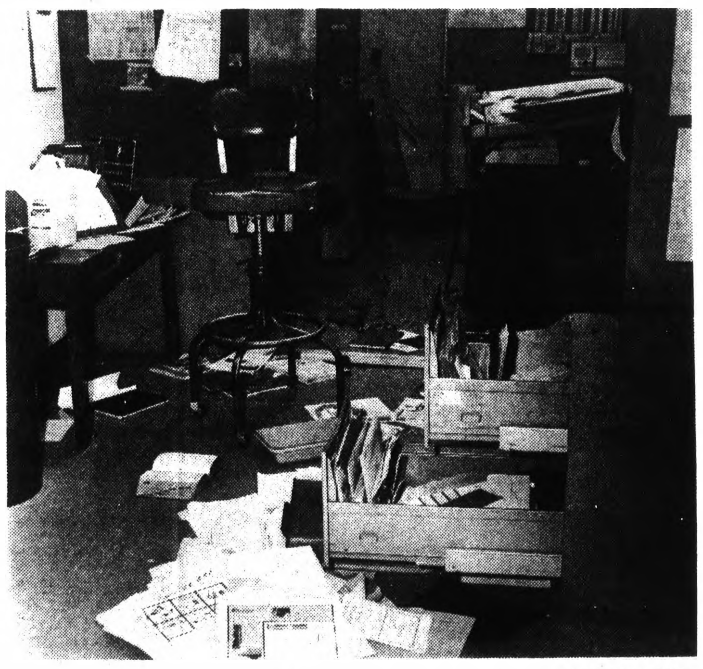

TESTED CAPSULE

"Barbara said the kidnaper she knew as George told her he'd tested the capsule himself in the same spot and it worked perfectly," the agent said. When shown pictures of Krist, St. Pierre testified, Barbara said, "That's him! That's the man!"

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Edward Swan also read the typewritten, three-page ransom note buried in the back yard of the Coral Gables, Fla., home of Robert Mackle before his 20-year-old daughter was taken from a motel outside Atlanta.

Swan set permanent bond of $500,000 for Krist and bound him over to the grand jury on charges of extortion by mail, extortion by telephone and interstate travel in aid of racketeering. Federal kidnap charges were dismissed because the Emory University coed never was taken across a state line.

Court Upholds Conviction of 20 in Steren Club Case

The Michigan Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the conviction of 20 men for gambling in the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights over five years ago.

Assistant Prosecutor Dennis Donohue, the prosecutor's appelate expert who defended the convictions in arguments to the review court, said he will file a motion within 20 days to cancel their bonds.

All have been free on $1,000 bond each since being sentenced in September 1965. Sixteen of the defendants received prison terms ranging from one to five years. The others were placed on five years probation, with the first 90 days to be spent in the county jail.

The 20 were among nearly 50 persons arrested by Michigan State Police in a gambling raid on the club on Oct. 11,1963. Charge of loitering were later dismissed against the others.

Three of the 20 were convicted on two counts of conspiracy and two counts of violating state gambling laws, while the others were found guilty of one count on each of the offenses.

★ ★ ★

Their convictions had been appealed by defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac on the basis that wiedspread new coverage had prevented a fair trial.

★ ★ ★

The trial was held in Manistee before Oakland County Circuit Judge Fredrick C. Ziem after Roeser asked for a change of venue. He said that his clients could not be impartially tried locally because of publicity.

Donohue said it is likely that Roeser will now apply to the Michigan Supreme Court for a second review of the case. The high court does not have to accept the case.

Truce Offered by North Irish Rebel Area

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Bogside People's Republic, unique product of Northern Ireland's political feuding, completed a week of independence today and held out an offer of truce.

The underground radio kept broadcasting but the ban on police entering Bogside was lifted.

Bogside is the Roman Catholic area of divided Londonderry, which claims it got the worst of police retribution in last weekend's riots that left nearly 200 people injured.

Since Sunday no policeman has passed its barricades.

AREA PICKETED

Vigilantes kept the area picketed day and night and held their own courts to deal with three alleged looters. On the wall of a house at the entrance of the area was painted the sign "You are now entering free Derry."

But after a meeting this morning, the Londonderry Citizens' Action Committee, leaders in the civil rights campaign, announced they would call off the vigilante patrols later in the day.

★ ★ ★

They said the barricades would come down and police would be allowed back into the area so long as they maintained the law impartially.

"We warn the constabulary that we shall never allow a repetition of last Sunday morning," the statement said.

The underground radio pushed a 10-point program for civil disobedience. It included plans to hold unofficial elections in the city and set up a Citizens' Council to rival the Protestant-dominated City Council. It urged people not to pay local taxes to the official council but to withhold them until the Citizens Council is formed.

Allies' Topic: Deadlock in Paris Talks

PARIS (UPI)—American and South Vietnamese negotiators held an urgent meeting today to study the possibility of a new attempt to break the procedural deadlock blocking broadened talks on Vietnam.

Cyrus R. Vance, No. 2 American delegate, and Pham Dang Lam, the South Vietnamese delegation chief, reviewed Vietnamese developments in Paris and Saigon during an American embassy meeting.

★ ★ ★

There was no indication the Allies planned to make new procedural offers to the Communists. Ha Van Lau, the North Vietnamese delegate involved in the secret procedural talks with Vance, was in Strasbourg, the Alsatian capital, today to address a local peace movement meeting.

It was the first meeting between Vance and Lam since Tuesday, when both agreed it was now up to the Communists to make fresh bargaining offers. Hanoi officials, however, insisted they would not budge from their demand the conference must be a meeting of four equals, in defiance of the Allies' refusal to grant the Vietcong full equality with Saigon.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Asian diplomatic sources reported Communist China was showing increasing interest in the Paris talks, and planned to discuss it with the Americans at the two countries' ambassadorial meeting in Warsaw Feb. 20.

Girl Robbed of $18 in Downtown Alley

A 17-year-old Pontiac girl, Patricia Barnett of 631 E. Mansfield, was robbed of $18 in a downtown alley shortly after noon yesterday, according to Pontiac police.

Miss Barnett told police she had just parked her car near Pike and Saginaw and was walking north through an alley when confronted by the lone bandit.

The girl said the robber demanded her purse and said he had a gun in his pocket, police reported. She added that the bandit kept both hands in his pockets.

Reflections

THE CORONER'S POSITION

J. L. VOORHEES

Many people do not understand the role played by the Coroner. The Coroner is a public official, elected by the people, and is responsible for the control and establishing the cause of death in cases under his jurisdiction.

M. E. SIPLE

He is in complete charge of any homicide, suicide, accident, or when the deceased has not been attended within a certain specified period of time.

He is not the "Character" depicted in the movies and on TV. Many hours of painstaking scientific research are spend finding and establishing the true cause of death. Most Coroners today are highly educated and many are medical doctors. They are devoted men who strive to fulfill their oath of office to you.

THINK ABOUT IT!

THEY'RE HUMAN!

You probably have noticed some people at times have peculiar ideas about clergymen. No minister, priest or rabbi is supernatural. They are human beings. The inner voice which beckoned them to their calling usually provides them with patience, tolerance and benevolence. But they are still human and have the same traits of curiosity and anxiety as other people.

We imagine most men of the cloth wonder at times about their adequacy—or inadequacies. Hours of preparation and prayer precede a worship service. Even so, no clergymen can strike a responsive chord to or for every one on every occasion. This is just as impossible as it is for a ballplayer to hit a home run every time at bat.

But, when a responsive chord is struck, wouldn't it be a good idea—at least once in a while—to write a note and say so? Remember—they're human, too.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As most of you know, I am currently bringing you my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short). Thousands of women are following this program to see how much they can improve their appearance in this period of time. I think women often put off losing overweight because they do not know how much they can lose in a given length of time. It is all so vague, and they need guidance and encouragement.

* * *

In eight weeks you can lose from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your complexion and posture, mold your figure into lovelier proportions and zoom your energy. You can create a new you.

If you have been following BIP this week, you now know how many calories you should have and what your ideal weight is. I hope you also have a couple of the reducing menus I am publishing under your belt by now. Today, let us see how you measure up, in inches, that is. There would be no need to bother about weight at all if measurements were perfect.

MEASUREMENTS

It is possible for the measurements of an overweight woman to be in ratio, although this is not usually true. Even so, these are all too large. Women vary so greatly in the distribution of their pounds! One woman may have a protruding abdomen while another may fight the roll over the girdle and still another may have a shelf-like back hipline or bulging thighs. During the next eight weeks zero in on your main figure defects with the exercises especially designed to banish them. Concentrate on the ones you need most. Measure today and record the results. This is how you do it.

* * *

When measuring the bust, pass the tape around the fullest part. Either wear the same brassiere each time you measure or do not wear one at all. A bra can make a difference of inches.

Measure around your natural waistline, or the smallest part.

Abdomen — around the fullest part, usually at navel.

Hips—around the fullest part.

Thighs — over the bulge.

Calf — around the fullest part.

Ankles — around the smallest part.

It is essential that the tape does not dip up or down but goes straight around. Also try to put it to the same tautness each time you measure.

* * *

The generally accepted standard for perfection is that the bust and the hips measure the same and the waist be 10 inches smaller. However, do not be discouraged if you cannot measure up or down to this. Just come as close as you can. Bones and muscles play a part, too.

Here are today's menus.

BREAKFAST

3 ounces of corned beef hash with medium size egg on top
1 slice protein bread with 1 teaspoon marmalade
1 teaspoon butter or margarine on toast and egg
Black coffee if desired

LUNCH

Salad on lettuce, made of one medium quartered tomato, topped with 3 tablespoons cottage cheese, and with low-calorie salad dressing
1 slice whole wheat bread
1 teaspoon butter or margarine
8 ounces skim milk

DINNER

7 ounces fish, broiled, basted with 2 teaspoons butter
½ cup brown rice with chopped chives or parsley
1 cup greens (mustard, collard, spinach, turnip, etc.) with tarragon vinegar for seasoning
½ cup gelatin
At bedtime 8 ounces of tomato juice

Total for the day—1180 Calories

Tomorrow we will talk about calories.

You might like to have my "Bip Kit" for reference. This includes a booklet with complete directions for following this course, additional reducing menus for 15 days, a weight and height chart, a calorie chart, 12 champion exercises, and a chart on which you can plot your progress and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops.

If you would like to have the kit send 25 cents, plus 15 cents postage and handling and your printed name and address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Case No. H-581

Remarriage Not Disloyal

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-581: Thelma P., aged 28, lost her husband in Vietnam.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "it was a terrible shock, for I loved him with all my heart.

"We had two babies, the oldest not yet in kindergarten.

"A year has passed and I am growing adjusted to my role as the sole parent.

DR. CRANE

"A few weeks ago I joined Mrs. Harriet Pierce's splendid group of 'Solo Parents,' which she organized at the Chicago Temple.

"It is composed of fathers and mothers who have lost their mates and are left to rear their children alone.

* * *

"I have now met a very attractive business executive, who lost his wife two years ago, leaving him with a little boy.

"It is possible that our romance might develop into a wedding. But would that be disloyal to my former husband?"

SECOND MARRIAGES

When a widow or widower remarries, that is definitely not an evidence of disloyalty to the former mate.

Instead, it is a definite compliment of a supreme sort!

For it shows that the former marriage was so happy, that the lone survivor would like to try to duplicate such joy by means of a second wedding.

* * *

Remember, it is no credit to your former mate for you to go around as a living zombie or sorrowful 2-legged tombstone to the memory of your first wedding.

Besides, if you have youngsters, they will benefit far more from a two-parent family life than to grow up motherless or fatherless, as half orphans.

A school principal in Illinois lost his wife when she was 32, due to early cancer.

They had two little girls, in the first and third grades.

So he wrote to our interfaith Scientific Marriage Foundation, asking if we could introduce him to a congenial young widow or single girl.

Fortunately, we had received a similar request from a very charming young mother of two girls, who were in the second and fourth grades.

Their daddy had been killed in a truck wreck when they were so small they couldn't even remember him.

* * *

There mother, now 34, had been an excellent parent, but realized the need for a husband and father for her youngsters.

Since these lone parents matched each other on all 10 counts that we use on the electronic computer, we introduced them at once.

Miss Becker Weds M. R. Bell

Christine Elaine Becker and Pvt. Murney Russell Bell, USA, were married recently in Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

* * *

For the evening ceremony, the bride chose a floor-length white satin gown with appliques of Chantilly lace. A petal cluster, decorated with seed pearls, held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of orchids and white roses.

* * *

Joan Stocking was maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren J. Becker of Orchard Lake. Sandra Bunkelman, Mrs. David Korte and Mrs. Lawrence Hopp were bridesmaids.

* * *

Best man was Duaine Arvidson. Murray Becker, Glen Major and David Wiskochel ushered.

* * *

The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in Bloomfield Centre Hall.

* * *

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murney F. Bell of Milford, has returned to duty at Fort Polk, La.

Rid Jars of Odor With Dry Mustard

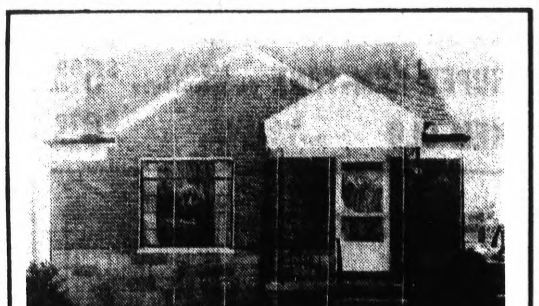

To get rid of disagreeable odors in jars, fill them with a solution of dry mustard and water and allow them to soak overnight.

The next morning, wash in hot suds and rinse well. Use one teaspoon of mustard seed to every quart of water used.

Jack Zwemer Registers 47 in Upset Win

Rugged Jack Zwemer, All-State Class C quarterback last fall, is making a bid for state basketball honors, also.

The 6-2 Zwemer poured in a school record 47 points last night to lead Detroit Country Day (4-2) to a 77-69 upset over Maumee Valley (6-3).

★ ★ ★

Zwemer's big outburst broke his own record of 40 set last season. He picked up 21 field goals and made five of nine shots at the charity stripe. Along with the scoring, he hauled down 11 rebounds.

GOES ON SCORING SPREE — Country Day forward Jack Zwemer erupted last night for 21 field goals and a school-record 47 points as the Yellow Jackets surprised a tough Maumee Valley quintet from Ohio, 77-69. The squarely built Zwemer set the old mark with 40 points when he was the county scoring runner-up last year with a 25-point average.

Preps Adopt 2-Point Conversion After TD

Other Changes Also Adopted

Coach Can Challenge Rule Interpretation

ATLANTA (AP) To kick for one point or run or pass for two points after a touchdown will be a decision high school football coaches will start making in the 1969 season.

This was a major rule change approved at the annual meeting of the National Alliance Football rules committee which ended Friday.

The two-point conversion rule was adopted after successful experiments in Ohio and Oklahoma last season.

In making the change from the previous rule, which permitted only one point on conversion, the rules committee decided that the ball will be put in play for the conversion try on the 3-yard line.

In addition, the committee voted to require the use of wider goal posts at 23 feet, 4 inches apart with the start of the 1971 season.

This requirement will be optional for 1969 and 1970.

A proposal to move the goal posts to the goal line was defeated.

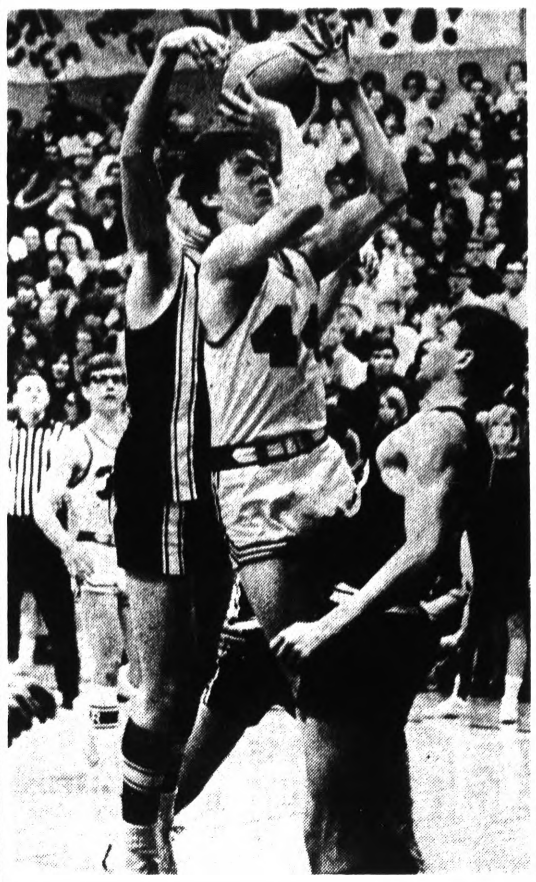

Several changes were made in game administration, including one that now gives a coach a voice when he believes there has been a misapplication or misinterpretation of a rule.

The coach may call this to the attention of the officials through a player. If a mistake is discovered, it shall be corrected and the time-out will be considered an official's time out.

But if there is not an error, then the team will be charged with the time-out.

The committee also decreed a 15-yard penalty for intentionally throwing or kicking the ball out of the playing area after a touchdown. The penalty would be for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Mandatory with the 1971 season will be a requirement that shoe cleats be no longer than half an inch.

SQUEEZE PLAY — Rochester's Fred Harrison (44) is caught between Troy's Brad Faber (left) and Kerry Brown (43) during third-quarter action last night. Harrison was fouled on the play, later sank the winning basket in Rochester's 51-49 decision.

February 4 Meeting for Baseball Loops

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized baseball will try again to select a commissioner to replace William D. Eckert when the two big leagues meet jointly in Bal Harbour just outside Miami Beach, Fla., on Tuesday, Feb. 4.

The first meeting to pick a commissioner, held in Chicago Dec. 20, ended in a deadlock. Eckert resigned under pressure Dec. 6.

The Florida meeting was called by the Executive Council headed by Walter O'Malley of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Gabe Paul of the Cleveland Indians.

IN FOREFRONT

Three baseball men are in the forefront of speculation over the job. They are John McHale of the new Montreal club–although he has said he intended to stay in Montreal--as well as Lee MacPhail, general manager of the New York Yankees, and Charles (Chub) Feeney, general manager of the San Francisco Giants.

★ ★ ★

Mike Burke of the Yankees, one of the contenders at the Chicago meeting, has said he is no longer a candidate.

Other prominent men mentioned for the post include Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Vince Lombardi of football fame.

★ ★ ★

Feeney led the balloting at Chicago with 17 votes. However, under baseball's rules three quarters of the clubs in each league must approve the new commissioner.

With both leagues now having 12 clubs, this means nine in each must unite on one man.

EMU Cager Gets Reprieve

Earl Higgins Given New Condition

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—An Eastern Michigan University basketball star banned from the sport last August by a Washtenaw County circuit judge will be back in uniform soon.

Earl Higgins, a 21-year-old junior who has been forbidden by judge James R. Breakey to play for five years as a condition of his probation after a felony conviction, was granted the reprieve Friday after university president Harold Sponberg wrote the judge describing improvement in Higgin's conduct in recent months.

Higgins led EMU to last year's NAIA championship quarterfinals.

N. Farmington in Lead

Raiders Down Oak Park '5'

John Glenn Topples Birmingham Groves

North Farmington's Raiders took a giant stride toward the Northwest Suburban basketball championship by knocking off previously unbeaten Oak Park, 81-65.

That triumph gave the Raiders a 3-0 record in league play, while Oak Park (2-1) fell into second place.

OTHER GAMES

In other league games, Westland Glenn (1-2) whipped Birmingham Groves (1-2), and Detroit Thurston (1-2) surprised Livonia Franklin (1-2), 73-70.

★ ★ ★

A hot first half sent the Raiders on the way to victory. They owned a 21-6 lead after one frame and took a 39-22 advantage into the locker room at intermission.

SPUR ATTACK

Joel Comstock flipped in 18 points and Dave Kubitskey added 13 to pace North Farmington. Larry Sherman led all scorers with 33 for Oak Park.

Sophomore Scott Love had his finest night of the season but it wasn't enough to bring victory for Groves.

Love flipped in 30 points, making eight of 10 at the free throw line. Paul Chaveriat led Glenn with 27 markers.

South Lyon Upsets Conference Leader

South Lyon shook off its court woes Friday night and ambushed previously unbeaten Southeastern Conference leader Milan, 60-43, behind the scoring of Dave Brandon who notched 25 points.

Ending a four-game losing slump, the Lions pulled comfortably in front with a 21-9 second quarter spurt. Brandon had scoring help from Ed Canfield (15) and Glenn Wiseman (10) whose combined total matched the high-scoring guard's.

Jerry Markham notched 15 for Milan, now 4-1. South Lyon is 2-4 in the circuit and 3-5 overall.

Miracle Fails to Materialize

By United Press International

Paul Seymour called for the start of a miracle Friday and we guess Somebody Up There didn't like him.

The Detroit coach watched his Pistons stage a last-ditch effort with Eddie Miles hitting six points in the last minutes but Bill Bridges' looping hook shot with 10 seconds left gave the Atlanta Hawks a 104-101 squeeze win.

The loss leaves Detroit a full nine games behind the fourth place National Basketball Association Cincinnati Royals who will meet the Pistons in Detroit tonight. Seymour said earlier that it would "take a miracle" for the Pistons to beat the Royals out of fourth place and win a berth in the NBA East Division playoffs.

Dead Miners' Kin Threaten Uproar Over Disaster Relief Fund

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — As 78 men lay entombed in the nearby Mannington No. 9 mine, silenced forever by a series of underground explosions and fires on Nov. 20, an uproar threatens to develop over more than $145,000 collected by donations in a disaster relief fund.

The $145,000 is being administered by the Citizens Mine Disaster Committee, headed by Phillip Gango, a grocer here.

★ ★ ★

The fund, representing donations from all over the country, including a $100,000 gift from the Cleveland Plain Dealer, is separate from other benefits the survivors have or will receive over the years from union and governmental services.

It also does not include $68,000 collected by Pittsburgh Pa. television station WIIC, but not yet distributed, or a planned $20,000 collection by radio station, WWVA, Wheeling, W. Va.

WIDOWS OBJECT

A group of widows this month petitioned Gango's committee, objecting to reported plans to put some of the donated fund into trust for the education of the 121 children left fatherless by the Consolidation Coal Co. mine disaster.

The petition from 46 of the widows said, "We do not feel the way that it (the fund) is set up is exactly the way it should be.

★ ★ ★

"We understand it is to be used for the college education of dependent children," the petition added. "What about the people with grown children or no children at all? The money is meant to be used for all families equally and we feel that this way it could not possibly be equal."

Gango, who has operated a grocery here for 37 years, said the protesting women had implied his committee members might be dishonest.

PROTEST UNFAIR'

"It is unfair to our committee which couldn't be composed of finer men," Gango said. "I'm not worried because I have proof of all the money we received. I even kept all the envelopes the money came in. Maybe I'm trying to be too perfect. I told the women they have already done the damage."

Gango said the money was being handled "in the best possible way" and that several of the contributors had stipulated that a portion of their gifts be set in a trust fund for education.

★ ★ ★

He said some contributors were still trickling in and the fund could not be divided until all the gifts were received.

Mrs. John Gouzd, a mother of three children and one of 74 women widowed by the tragedy, denied they were questioning the honesty of the committee.

"We know they're perfectly honest," she said. "The problem was that we were not invited to their meetings. We were not told what they were planning.

"Also we here in Farming know Mr. Gango, but some of the widows live as far away as 70 miles. They don't know what kind of people are handling the money."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Franke Tate Jr. of Shinneton, mother of four children, said she did not care how the money was divided.

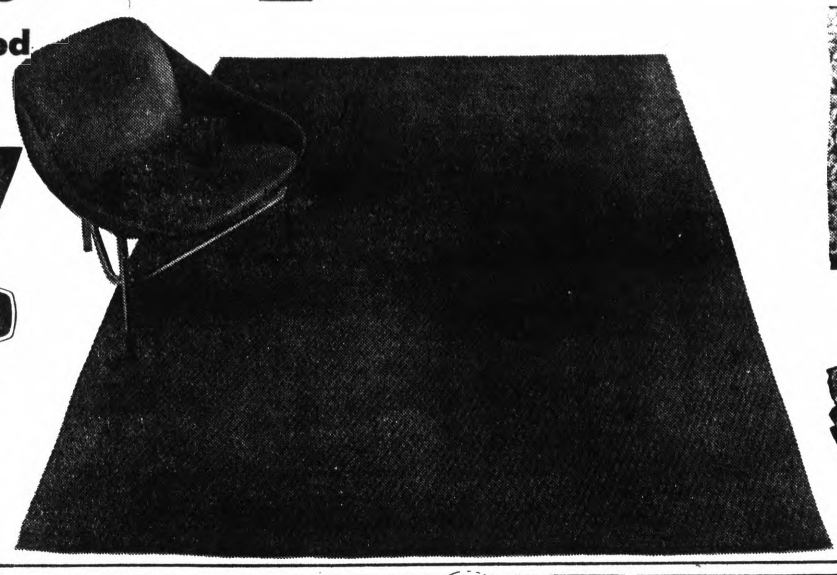

"This arguing is making us look money hungry," she said. "Nobody is going to get rich. If it is meant for us, then we should get it but why fight? Somebody had to take care of that fund.

"There is no amount of money in the world that could bring my husband back," she added.

Lonely Patient Is Remembered . . . After Death

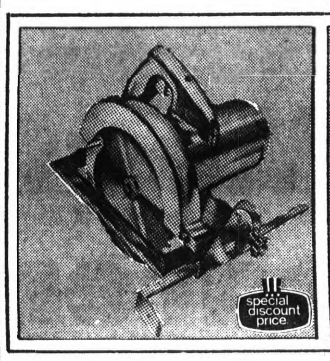

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — When 90-year-old Annie Lee W. died at Central State Hospital, she had not had a visitor in her 71 years in the mental institution.

Newspaper accounts told of her lonely death. This week, a handsome black granite marker was set at her grave.

★ ★ ★

"Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal," says the inscription.

The marker was given by Mrs. Leonard Lambert of Decatur, Ga., who said, "To me, if I can add just a little dignity to her death that she did not have in her life, I will be happy."

More Grim History for Dachau

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Dachau is living up to its reputation, according to U.S. Army court-martial testimony.

Adolf Hitler erected his first concentration camp in the Munich suburb. It took its place in a devil's dictionary along with Andersonville, Stalinist Siberia, Sodom and Gomorrah.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Army ended the Gestapo camp in 1945. But Friday's testimony described the beating of prisoners in the U.S. Army stockade built on the site of the concentration camp.

"When I first entered the Army I was instructed to obey orders . . . when I came to Dachau I was told I didn't have to take any kind of stuff from the prisoners," testified Sgt. Wesley A. Williams, one of three guards accused of beating U.S. Army stockade inmates.

'PART OF TRAINING'

Of beating prisoners, he said, "It was part of my on-the-job training . . . the sergeant supervisors showed me how."

The testimony said a 3-foot-hose was used on prisoners who had been transferred to Dachau after rioting at a Nuernberg stockade.

★ ★ ★

"The aim was to scare them so they wouldn't repeat at Dachau what they did at Nuernberg. I hit them with the hose two to four times," said Williams, 24, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

A prisoner, Pfc. Herbert H. Clark, said, "I was grabbed from behind and kicked. Then I got up and was beaten on the forehead with a hose by Sgt. Williams.

DEFENSE ARGUMENT

Williams' civilian lawyer argued the sergeant was only obeying "lawful orders" in using the hose.

The court found Williams innocent. Following military practice, it gave no reason for its judgment.

The prosecutor, Capt. Larry G. Berry of Huntington, W. Va., however said he would press charges against the two other defendants whose case had been delayed by their lawyers' illness. They were Spec. 4 Rickey L. Bodle, 19, of Portland, Ore., and Pfc. Manuel A. Rivera, 21, of New York City.

★ ★ ★

Maj. William B. Moore of Caldwell, Idaho, Dachau stockade commander, said the investigation of brutality at the jail has had unfortunate results at Dachau. He said stockade discipline has suffered since the mistreatment charges were aired.

CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE

The City of Sylvan Lake Ordains:

Section 1—Permission is hereby granted to THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY, incorporated under the laws of the States of Michigan and New York, its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate in the public streets, highways, alleys and other public places in the City of Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, all needful and proper poles, towers, mains, wires, pipes, conduits and other apparatus requisite for the transmission, transforming and distribution of electricity for public and private use, and to transact a local electric business within said City, subject, however, to all conditions and restrictions hereinafter contained.

Section 2—The conditions of the foregoing grant are as follows:

A—The grantee shall do no injury to any street, highway, alley or other public place, or to any shade trees, or in any manner disturb or interfere with any water or gas pipes, or with any public or private sewer, now or hereafter laid or constructed by any authorized person or corporation.

B—The City may, in its discretion, grant permission for the trimming of trees when necessary to make the lines safe and accessible, such trimming to be done under its supervision.

C—The construction of the said lines shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successor.

D—The said grantee, before entering upon any street, highway, alley or other public place for the purpose of erecting and constructing any poles, mains, wires, pipes, conduits, or other apparatus, shall in writing notify the City or its representatives of the proposed construction, and shall, if the City so requires, file with them a sufficient plan and specification, showing the nature and extent of the proposed erection and construction.

E—No street, highway, alley or public place shall be allowed to remain open or encumbered by the construction work of the said grantee for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the said work, and the grantee shall at all times conform to all ordinances of the City, now or hereafter in force, relative to the fencing and lighting of obstructions and excavations.

F—The grantee shall save the City harmless from any judgment that may be recovered against the City by reason of the wrongdoing or negligence of the said grantee in the erection and maintenance of said poles, mains, wires and other apparatus or construction.

G—Said grantee shall make due provision upon forty-eight hours' notice in writing by raising its wires or otherwise, for the passage of any barn, building or other structure on or over any street, highway, or public place occupied by the mains, wires, poles and apparatus of said grantee.

H—This franchise is not exclusive.

Section 3—In consideration of the granting of this franchise, grantee agrees that its rates and charges for electric service in the City of Sylvan Lake shall not exceed its rates and charges for like service elsewhere in its service area, evidenced by its uniform rate schedules at the time on file with and approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission. It is understood that the grantee is subject to regulation by the Michigan Public Service Commission and that any order, rule, or regulation by that Commission, or its successor, will prevail over any regulation herein contained or provided for in case of conflict.

Section 4—This grant shall take effect if said grantee shall, within fifteen days from the date of the passage of this ordinance, file with the City Clerk its written acceptance of the terms of the same, and upon the confirmation of this grant, by the affirmative vote of three-fifths of the electors of said City, voting thereon at a special election to be held on Tuesday, the 25th day of February, 1969, as provided for by the Statutes and the State Constitution.

If not confirmed by the electors voting at said election, this ordinance shall be null and void.

Section 5—This Franchise and Ordinance shall be and remain in force for thirty (30) years from and after the date of its confirmation by the electors of the City of Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan.

Section 6—Nothing in this grant shall be construed to alienate the title of the public in and to any street, highway, alley or public place or any portion thereof, neither shall anything herein be construed in any manner as a surrender by the CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE of its legislative power with respect to the subject matter hereof, or with respect to any other matter whatsoever; nor as in any manner limiting the right of the said CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE to lawfully regulate the use of any street, avenue, highway or public place within its jurisdiction.

Dated this 8th day of January, 1969.

JOHN F. ROEPER,
Mayor
ROSALIND WILDGEN,

Resolved, that the proposition and franchise of THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY, as read, be adopted, subject, however, to confirmation by a vote of the electors of the CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE, Oakland County, Michigan.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of a franchise granted to THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY, at a regular meeting of the City Council of the CITY OF SYLVAN LAKE, Oakland County, Michigan held on Wednesday, the 8th day of January, 1969, said franchise to take effect upon its confirmation by the electors of said City as provided for in Section 4 thereof.

Principals Join the Teamsters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Principals Association of Philadelphia representing more than 300 principals and vice principals, voted Friday to affiliate with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"It is a rather surprising turn of events when professional educators of long standing — men and women — make such a decision," said Daniel McGinley, president of the group.

★ ★ ★

The vote came on the heels of a letter from Richardson Dilworth, school board president, in reply to request for bargaining rights for principals.

"The letter did not address itself to the issue," McGinley said, labeling it "vague and not specific."

McGinley said he believes the principals acted out of a feeling of inability to "open up lines of communication with the administration.
