HERBERT MARSHALL

Heart Attack Fatal to Actor

Movie, Stage Veteran Is Dead at Age 75

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Herbert Marshall, who lost a leg in World War I, but enjoyed 50 years in show business, died this morning at his Beverly Hills home. He was 75.

The actor died of a heart attack at 12:20 a.m. He had been in the Motion Picture Country Home recently and had returned home shortly before his death.

Marshall made few movie appearances in recent years, but occasionally took roles in television shows.

During an interview in his Beverly Hills home two years ago he explained about the movies:

"They don't seem to make my type of pictures anymore — the type that was termed 'drawing room' for lack of a better name."

CORRECT BRITISHER

And Marshall, indeed, was the "drawing room" type — the immaculate and correct Britisher, speaking in clipped accents and fully at home in elegant surroundings.

The handsome actor led an adventurous life. He lost the leg in World War I when he and Ronald Coleman were in the 14th London Scots Regiment.

This put him in the hospital for 13 months, but in later years he covered his handicap so well that few knew of it.

He was married five times. He worked hard at a career that covered the stage, silent films, sound films, radio and television.

Recent TB Outbreak Spurs County Action

The recent nursery school tuberculosis epidemic in Wayne County has sparked action to exercise some health control over child care centers in the Pontiac area.

Gordon Hobbs, of the Oakland County Department of Public Health, said today heads of several nursery schools in the county have requested the department consult with them and verify their health procedures.

Many child care centers are asking that their staffs have current X rays, and that the children be given skin tests.

Most private child care homes are also asking that the youngsters be immunized for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and whooping cough, as is required in the public schools.

Hobbs said children should also be immunized against measles.

"The Health Department is more than happy to provide guidance and advice to these groups," Hobbs said.

GOOD PRACTICES

"The schools we have visited thus far have been following very good health practices," he continued.

Hobbs also said that the general public has an obligation to have their children examined by their own physician, even to seeing that they have annual chest X rays.

" 'A stitch in time' surely applies to the situation, especially after what happened downstate," Hobbs said.

The nursing division of the Health Department is available to offer advice as well as providing immunization for those who cannot afford to pay for the services privately, he said.

SAD FACT

Hobbs added that "the sad part is that something always has to happen before the public becomes concerned.

"The lives of little children are a terrific responsibility. The parents, in many cases, are lax," he said.

Exams Urged for Children

16th Case Discovered in Wayne County

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Health Department Friday recommended examinations for children at all county nursery schools.

The recommendation followed discovery of the 16th case of tuberculosis reported in two nursery schools in suburban areas.

The latest case was discovered at a preschool nursery in Livonia. The victim, a 4-year-old boy, was admitted to Maybury Hospital in Northville, Mich.

Health officials said the boy had recently transferred to the school from one in Garden City where 15 other cases of TB were discovered in late December and early this month.

Dr. John J. Hanlon, head of the Wayne County Health Department, said he has ordered his department to contact some 30 day care nursery centers in the county, asking them to ask parents of children enrolled in the schools to get TB checkups at county clinics.

NEWCOMB MOTT

Autopsy Slated by Reds After U.S. Demand

Russian Captive Dies Aboard Train During Trip to Siberia Prison

MOSCOW (AP)—The Foreign Ministry informed the United States today the body of Newcomb Mott will be brought to Moscow for an autopsy Monday.

This announcement by the U.S. Embassy followed a U.S. demand for full investigation into Mott's death on a prison train.

Mott, 27, of Sheffield, Mass., had been sentenced in November to 18 months in a labor camp after conviction on a charge of illegally entering the Soviet Union. He was arrested Sept. 4.

The U.S. Embassy said it will be represented at the post mortem in Moscow.

It said First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler "a medical examination, including an autopsy, as required by Soviet law," will be performed.

DEEP SORROW

An embassy spokesman said Kohler read to Kuznetsov a U.S. government statement saying that the death, "under circumstances not yet fully clear, has

Crash Leaves 5 Dead Near Cassopolis

CASSOPOLIS (UPI) — Five persons were killed today when two cars collided at rural intersections east of Cassopolis.

Police said the victims, all riding in one car, were en route to church services when the accident happened.

The dead were identified as James Davdye of Calvin Center and four Vandalia residents—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Straks, Mrs. Maggie Jefferson and Mrs. Cora Patton.

State Police said the Davdye car collided with one driven by Robert Allen Beck, 20, South Bend, Ind.

Beck was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in South Bend. The accident scene was in southwest Michigan north of the Indiana border.

Yank Killed as GI Billet Is Bombed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A terrorist bomb blasted a U.S. servicemen's billet in Saigon early today and killed an American as the lunar New Year truce passed the half-way mark.

The 25-pound bomb, on a bicycle placed against the billet, ripped a two-foot hole in the wall, killing a U.S. sergeant asleep in a nearby room and fatally wounding a Vietnamese woman who was asleep in a house across a narrow alley.

Two other soldiers and several civilians were injured.

It was believed that about 40 men were sleeping in the Signal Corps unit billet a mile from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport at the time.

VC BLAMED

They said it apparently was the work of the Communist Viet Cong or sympathizers, but it was not as serious as a clear-cut military action during combat.

There was mounting evidence that the Viet Cong had been avoiding contact with South Vietnamese troops during the holiday.

In reports from the field a U.S. spokesman said there were numerous minor incidents late Friday and early today but no major violations.

The incidents involved sniper fire or small patrol actions and it was difficult to blame one side or the other, he said.

A Vietnamese military spokesman listed four incidents, however, and said each one was

Federal Authorities Join Hunt for Murder Suspect

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Federal authorities have entered the search for a 22-year-old man charged with first-degree murder in the death of a 2-year-old son of the woman with whom he had been living here.

QUESTION RELATIVES

Toledo police say the boy was beaten to death here last Nov. 29 and his body was wrapped in a blanket and placed in an outhouse on an abandoned farm in Summerfield Township, Mich., north of Toledo.

The body was found by a hunter last Saturday, but was not identified until Thursday.

The first break in the case came Thursday when Mrs. Ramon Barboza of Toledo heard that a Michigan widow was raising funds for a proper burial of the still unidentified, slain boy.

CALLS SHERIFF

She telephoned the Monroe County, Mich., sheriff's office and told them she thought the child was Eddie Montalvo.

Monroe authorities came here and talked with Mrs. Barboza and Mrs. Andres Gonzales, Sanchez' mother.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales and Mrs. Barboza were taken to Monroe Mercy Hospital where the boy's body was identified, principally from a pronounced scar on the lip.

Detectives said they had determined that the boy was beaten to death in the Gonzales home, while Mrs. Gonzales was in a Toledo hospital.

Mrs. Gonzales did not learn Eddie was missing until she returned home Nov. 30.

Sanchez and Miss Montalvo left Toledo soon after that and said they were going to the San Antonio area.

Police said they learned that Sanchez called his mother Thursday asking for money to finance a trip to Mexico.

The boy's body was claimed by Mrs. Marcha Montalvo of Adrian, Mich., the boy's maternal grandmother. It will be taken to Adrian for burial after Toledo police officially release it, in a day or two.

LBJ Tax Bill Finds Few Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee reports it is receiving only scattered opposition to President Johnson's $4.8-billion tax bill.

There are indications both the committee and the full House may act on the measure early next month, giving the Senate more than a month to consider the measure and still reach the President's goal of enactment by March 15. The added tax funds are earmarked to help pay for the war in Viet Nam.

The administration proposal includes cancellation for two years of auto and phone tax cuts which went into effect Jan. 1, a speedup in corporate tax collections and changes in the withholding schedule for middle-income taxpayers.

The House committee heard from Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and other administration witnesses this week.

Nongovernment spokesmen will get their chance starting Thursday.

Segments of the automobile industry may send no witnesses to discuss the proposed increase in the automobile excise tax, but only submit statements for the record.

CHECKING VENTILATION — Oakland County Health Department sanitarian Kazem Shushtari (left) and Oscar Boyea, assistant director of the department's environmental health division, use a velometer to check ventilation effectiveness of a newly installed canopy in the kitchen of a restaurant. The recommended ventilation standard is a flow of 100 cubic feet of air per minute.

Agency Is Watchdog on Food

By JOE MULLEN

Maintaining a clean restaurant once was mainly a plus factor in drawing added business. Today it's a "must" in Oakland County.

An operator of a restaurant or other food-handling establishment now must meet standards of the Oakland County Health Department or face possible closing of his business.

The health department was given broader power in enforcing health standards by a resolution passed in September 1964 by the County Board of Supervisors.

This action placed the power to suspend a firm's operating license with the health department.

Previously, the health department was governed by local ordinances in the municipality in which violations occurred.

EIGHT CLOSED

Last year the division of environmental health of the County Health Department ordered eight food-handling establishments to close for failure to meet standards. Five later reopened.

One closing already has been ordered this year.

"Our basic concern is keeping bacteria out of food and drink," said Robert T. Coleman, director of the environmental health division.

"We have 21 sanitarians who make periodic inspections to food-handling establishments on a countywide basis. Four others cover the City of Pontiac."

Alabama Dem Motto Stirs Controversy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Democratic party policymakers in Alabama face the choice today of dropping their "white supremacy" motto or retaining it in the face of a threatened Negro revolt.

Old-line Democrats led by State Chairman Roy Mayhall promised to seek removal of the 62-year-old slogan from the party emblem when the State Democratic Executive Committee meets today to draw up rules for this year's elections.

Gov. George C. Wallace, in a last-minute change in plans, sent word that he would speak at the committee meeting.

Wallace had kept his hands off the party fight in advance of the meeting. There was no indication that he would abandon a neutral role.

QUALIFYING DEADLINE

Neither was it considered likely that he would tell the party governing body whether his wife, Lurlee, plans to run for governor. He has until March 1, the qualifying deadline for the May 3 democratic primary, to make that decision known.

There was talk that some committeemen might try to put off the decision on preservation of the "white supremacy" motto which has been a part of the official Democratic emblem in Alabama since 1904.

But Mayhall, a Jasper, Ala., attorney and former judge, said he would call another meeting "as soon as the rules permit" if the party leaders sidestepped the issue.

It would take 10 days' notice to call the committee back because a rules change was involved, but Mayhall threatened to keep the 72-member group in session from day to day if necessary to force a showdown.

COULD DO IT

He could do that by posting a new 10-day notice each day. And the party chairman said he just might call each meeting for a different city to scatter the forces of the states rights Democrats fighting to keep the motto intact.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers asked the committee in advance to strike the motto from the party emblem to avoid risking loss of Negro votes in the November general election.

Civil rights leaders in some counties have threatened to form their own party rather than support Democratic candidates running under a "white supremacy" emblem.

The voters this year will elect a governor — Wallace is prohibited by state law from seeking reelection — a U.S. senator, all eight House members, a newly reapportioned state legislature, and scores of lesser state and local officers.

There has been increasing speculation in recent days that Wallace's 39-year-old wife will run for the office he now holds.

naturally caused deep sorrow and shock to the public in the United States and elsewhere."

The spokesman said the phrase that circumstances were "not yet fully clear" meant the U.S. government was neither accepting nor rejecting the Soviet report that Mott killed himself.

The embassy is awaiting details, the spokesman added.

The embassy tried to send two consular officers to Kirov, about 500 miles northeast of Moscow, where the body was held after Mott died.

MISSED PLANE

But they missed a plane and the embassy canceled their trip when the Russians said the body would come here by train, arriving tomorrow.

It was unclear whether embassy officials would have a chance to question the guards with Mott or others with first-hand knowledge of the death.

Mott's mother, Mrs. Howard Mott, said at her home in Sheffield: "I think the Russians killed him. How could he commit suicide if he were on a train surrounded by Russian guards I'm pretty sure they would have searched him thoroughly for any weapons."

She said she "began to get more suspicious" after she had talked to the Soviet Embassy in Washington about returning the body and was told it might not be possible.

She said she had been unable to learn any details of her son's death from the Soviet Embassy.

Mott, a book salesman, was convicted Nov. 24 of illegally crossing the Norwegian-Soviet frontier Sept. 4 and sentenced to 18 months. He would have been eligible for parole next June 4. His parents attended the trial at Murmansk.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said in Washington last night the State Department "has instructed the embassy to insist upon a full investigation of the circumstances of Mott's death and report as soon as possible."

Kirov is about 1,000 miles southeast of Murmansk and about halfway along the main rail line from Moscow to the Ural Mountains that mark the beginning of Siberia.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler said, "I am profoundly shocked by the death of Newcomb Mott and deplore the handling of this matter which has come to such a tragic end."

Voter Session Set Tomorrow by City Group

The Progressive Action Committee for Equality (PACE) will sponsor a second voter education-unity meeting tomorrow at 4 p.m. at McConnell Elementary School.

Tomorrow's meeting will be held for District 7 voters, according to Robert G. Newby, PACE chairman.

The first PACE - sponsored voter education meeting was held last Sunday at the Hayes Jones Community Center.

"The excellent reception of our program by the many groups in the community gives the assurance of knowing that the Negro community will be successful in our drive to have a voice in electing commissioners from predominantly Negro districts," he said.

The PACE chairman has indicated the group seeks strong candidates in district 1 and 7.

"We fully intend to make the most of this election by seeking allies in other districts whose concerns are for the total community," Newby said.

itarians are particularly interested in proper refrigeration, washing of dishes and utensils, ventilation of the building and general cleanliness.

Neither the size nor exterior appearance of a food handling establishment is a basis for judging internal sanitation conditions.

"We find inadequacies in both large and small places, the plain and the elaborate," Coleman said.

"A prime cause of bacteria in meat is use of an improperly cleaned meat grinder to make hamburger," Coleman said.

MANY SURFACES

"Meat collects bacteria on its outside surface and many new surfaces are created when it is ground," he explained.

The health department requires that all employes of food handling establishments have a chest X ray to determine that they are nontubercular.

Food handling investigation, though probably the most time-consuming, is just one of the duties of the environmental health division sanitarians.

Inspection of sewage disposal programs is a significant part of the job as is the constant sampling of drinking water in rural areas of the county.

TIME SPENT

"Our sanitarians actually spend more time on sewage disposal system inspections in the northern part of the county than on food handling inspections," Coleman said.

"This is because septic systems are used in most of this area."

Coleman said he looks forward to the time when sewers will replace septic systems which he considers only adequate on a temporary basis.

Sewage disposal poses little problem in the southern part of the county which generally is served by the City of Detroit sewer system.

OTHER DUTIES

Besides making at least one check a year on some 2,000 county food handling businesses and performing sewage disposal and water inspections, the environmental health division has many other duties.

One that is rapidly increasing in scope is that of testing swimming pool water on a weekly basis during the swimming season.

All testing is done in the usual cause of excessive bacteria," Coleman said.

"If swimming pool water becomes impure, a person's eyes, ears, nose and throat could be affected."

Among the other responsibilities of the environmental health division are checking trash and rodent problems and specifying corrective measures.

Jaycees Seek Award Entries

Boss of Year, Service Honors Are at Stake

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations for two of the group's annual awards — the "Boss of the Year" and the "Distinguished Service" plaque.

Terrence A. Tollefson, 3900 Dill, Waterford Township, awards chairman, has asked for letters from the community at large submitting names of candidates for the awards.

Tollefson said the "boss" award should go to a man exemplifying the best of human relations and management development attributes, as well as technical competency in his field.

Letters should be brief, but include reasons for the nomination. Deadline is Jan. 31.

The plaque for distinguished service will go to a young man between the ages of 21 and 35.

The award is made on the basis of civic, religious or cultural contributions to the community.

Plead Innocent in Bank Holdup

Two Pontiac men charged with the $21,000 armed robbery of a Pontiac State Bank branch Dec. 17 pleaded not guilty yesterday at their arraignment in federal District Court in Detroit.

Rentz Nicholson Jr., 31, of 175 Victory, charged with armed bank robbery, was ordered held in the Wayne County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond by presiding Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz.

Darnell L. Colbert, 28, of 460 Nevada, facing a count of aiding and abetting Nicholson in the holdup, was released after furnishing $5,000 bond.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Robert J. Grace said conviction on the charges could carry a 25-year prison sentence for Nicholson and a 10-year term for Colbert.

Nicholson was apprehended within minutes after the bank's office at 970 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township was held up of $21,258.

'Future Bright' for Newspaper

Advertising Execs Hear Glowing Report

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The president of the International Newspaper Advertising Executives Association said today American newspapers were bigger, better, more prosperous and face a brighter future than ever before.

Carl P. Flynn, advertising director of the Tulsa (Okla.) World-Tribune, made the statement in a speech to the opening session of the INAE's 96th annual sales conference.

About 1,000 newspaper advertising executives are attending the conference, which will run through today

Flynn said the delegates represent a "healthy, growing, prosperous, $10-billion business — the most effective, most economical, most productive advertising medium in existence."

He said newspapers deliver information to more than 60 million subscribers and are the major influence in moving more than $250 billion in retail sales and services.

"When the public is to be thoroughly informed, when the freedom of the American citizen is to be protected, when there is merchandise to be moved, when sales quotas are to be met, it's the daily newspaper that carries the ball," Flynn said.

Jewel 'Fence' Gets 10 Years

Sentenced for Part in DeLong Ruby Ransom

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard Duncan Pearson, 35-year-old playboy, was fined $10,000 and sentenced to 10 years in jail Friday for his part in ransoming the DeLong ruby.

Ironically, the three beachboys who stole the jewel — and a bag of other gems — from the New York Museum of Natural History in 1946 were given only three-year terms and probably will get out of jail later this year.

All the jewels except the ruby and a few minor pieces were recovered from a Miami bus station locker a few months later.

The ruby was returned when Palm Beach millionaire John MacArthur paid a $25,000 ransom last September. Pearson was convicted — by a federal court jury in December of "possessing, concealing and disposing of" the stone.

Pearson, who also has been sentenced to five years for possession of $150,000 in jewels stolen from a Miami department store, told the court he was broke.

"My wife paid for the house and the car. I have no money and my wife refuses to give me any," he said.

U.S. Dist. Judge William O. Mehrtens refused to declare Pearson a pauper. He ruled that he must pay the fine by Feb. 21 or remain in jail until it is paid or the debt is settled by legal process.

Current Books

Columbia's Prof. Hohenberg has selected this array of journalistic bull's eyes to demonstrate a valid point — that our journalism has gone through a great change in the past half century.

The collection constitutes an impressive look at history in the making.

As an anthology of our journalists' best efforts, this is an engrossing record of our times.

THE HOTEL DWELLERS. By Ed Lacy (Harper. $4.50).

There is a story here about an obscure, vulnerable man's dilemma in an odd little cosmos — a fleabag hotel, filled with earthy characters and the aroma of failure and deceit.

He has been laid up by a heart attack, and when he attempts a cautious comeback, he feels he is losing his grip; he is afraid that he is becoming a shuffling old man, trying amid his fumbles to run a small business that is bound to go down hill with the deteriorating hotel.

But there is a tempting prospect. If he can raise the money, he can get a stand in a plush new motel, in a better location, catering to a better trade, where there will be a chance to make real profits.

People interested in profound messages or advance guard stylistic tricks need not concern themselves with this story.

Miles A. Smith

PORTRAIT: ADLAI E. STEVENSON, by Alden Whitman & The New York Times. (Harper & Row $5.95:

While to some extent biographical, this is more particularly a study of the ways in which Stevenson brought his special talents and personality to bear on his governorship of Illinois, his two electoral campaigns, his preminently distinguished handling of his ambassadorship at the United Nations, and of the charm and sincerity which drew men to him as lasting friends.

It is also an opportunity to have in book form some of the finest passages from his thoughtful and eloquent speeches.

His was not a personality that could make immediate appeal to the general mass of the voting public, but as perspective on his life and work grows, the true value and purport of his efforts and his comprehension of America's place in the international scene become ever more evident.

Never Gamble on a Stranger; the Risks Are Too Uncertain

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't running a lonely Hearts Club, but I've nothing to lose but a five-cent stamp, so here goes: I'd like you to help me find a wife.

ABBY

I am 50 years old, never been married and I'm in excellent health. I'm a retired S/Sgt. (U.S. Army) get a lifetime pension, have money in the bank and some sure income property.

I own a nice little cabin in 12 acres, deep in the woods near a mountain stream. I love to hunt and fish. My wife must be the outdoor type. If she's never skinned a rabbit or filleted a fish, she should be willing to learn.

Don't send me any widows with kids, or women under 40. I'm too old to start raising a family, and I don't care to finish raising somebody else's. She doesn't have to look like Sophia Loren as long as she's strong and healthy.

Enclosed is my picture. (I look short because I'm standing next to a redwood tree, but I am actually 5 ft. 10 and weigh 180.) I'd appreciate any leads you can give me. By the way, you don't happen to be single, do you?

WILLING TO GAMBLE

DEAR WILLING: Don't gamble on strangers. If you want to take chances, the risk is great enough when you marry someone you know.

No, I don't happen to be single, but I wouldn't qualify anyway because I've never skinned a rabbit and am not willing to learn.

DEAR ABBY: My fiance's mother is going into the hospital for at least a week. She has five children.

Three of them are young and the two eldest are boys so, naturally, they can't be expected to cook and clean and take care of the little ones.

I am in 12B and I hold an after-school job. I offered to stay at my future mother-in-law's home and take charge of things while she is in the hospital. She said she thought it was a wonderful idea, but my own mother says she doesn't like the idea at all.

What's wrong with it? I already asked if I could be let off from my after-school job for about a week, and was told it would be okay. My fiance and I are trustworthy.

He is also in 12B and we could go to school and come back together. Besides, I think the experience would be good for me. I would like your opinion.

ENJOYS RESPONSIBILITY

DEAR ENJOYS: Your motives may be the highest, but I think your "future mother-in-law" had better find her own replacement.

If for no other reason than because your own mother doesn't like your plan.

DEAR ABBY: "X" and I were secretly married by a justice of the peace in a neighboring state during our freshman year at college. That was in 1964.

We never really lived together except for one weekend and a night now and then. It was very unsatisfactory, and we both soon realized it was a mistake, so we just broke off.

Now I have met someone else and I am serious about him, but "X" doesn't want to give me a divorce because he's afraid his parents will find out that he was married and there will be trouble.

He needs their financial help to finish college and doesn't want to anger them. How can this be handled without publicity? We mean nothing to each other.

SHORT MARRIAGE

DEAR SHORT: You need legal advice. Trust a lawyer to help you. There is even a possibility that an annulment is in order instead of a divorce.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for seven months and have put up with about as much crabbing from my husband as I am going to.

Here is the problem: My 27-year-old "baby" wants me to wash his back. He claims his mother washed it for him every day when he was home. We have gotten into several fights over this. I don't need anybody to wash MY back and I don't see why he needs somebody to wash his.

He's just lazy. He claims he has an old back injury and that's why he can't do it himself, but I've seen him put more strain on his back than it takes to wash it. Any suggestions?

NO BACK WASHER

DEAR NO: Give him "the brush," the kind with a nice long handle on it. And don't forget the soap. (Soft.)

Short-Sighted View Stalls Freeway Link

Long handicapped by inadequate east-west arterial routes, Oakland County is now plagued by opposition on the part of four communities to a $150-million Federal freeway that would go far to give the area the cross-county traffic relief it so badly needs.

HILL

At issue is the proposed 17-mile I-696 route stretching from I-94 in St. Clair Shores to Northwestern Highway in Southfield.

In formal protests to the State Highway Department, Oak Park, Southfield and Pleasant Ridge had earlier expressed objection to the passage of the freeway through their confines. Now they have been joined by a fourth obstructionist — Roseville.

It is unthinkable that development of a public facility so urgently needed by the second largest county in the State — in both population and area — should be impeded by narrow, horse-and-buggy self-interest.

That the United States is today the greatest nation on earth is due in large part to continuous growth and expansion of its vast complex of transportation and communication facilities.

But progress in those areas inevitably means change — and change inevitably means temporary inconvenience or dislocation for the few that the many may benefit.

Just as the broadening of the country's rail system pre-empted farm land and the age of air travel claimed private property for air terminals, so has the expansion of America's unmatched pattern of highways made necessary the acquisition of land based on the feasibility and effectiveness of integral routes.

In the person of HOWARD HILL, Michigan has an outstanding Highway Department director intent on giving the State the best highway system in the Nation with related relief of traffic congestion in metropolitan areas.

The proposed I-696 that his department has planned and engineered, for which the Federal government will bear 90 per cent of the cost, fits in uniquely with such a concept.

It would be tragic if such a worthy highway improvement is kept from realization by opposition of a few small municipalities on inconsequential grounds.

We earnestly urge the cities in question to reconsider their negative position and to join wholeheartedly in giving Oakland County an arterial highway that will ultimately prove an enduring boon for them.

Pearson Jury Earns Thanks of Community

One of the mainstays of America's democracy is its system of jurisprudence whereby a citizen charged with crime is entitled to trial by a jury of his peers.

In many cases, the lot of a juror is not an easy one. Determination of a defendant's guilt or innocence is often complicated by interpretation of evidence and legal technicalities.

That justice in the courts of the land has on the whole been fairly administered, with due concern for both society and those accused of assaulting it, is a tribute to the men and women who almost anonymously serve on juries.

So it is that we warmly commend the jury that convicted ALAN ROSS PEARSON JR. of second degree murder in the fatal stabbing of a Waterford Township youth. The court will impose sentence Feb. 10.

In reaching its verdict after five hours' deliberation, the jury had a choice of four findings — from first-degree murder to acquittal.

Since the element on which first-degree murder is based — premeditation — was cloudy in the Pearson case, the conscience of the jury dictated conviction on a lesser degree. To its credit, the much lighter verdict of manslaughter was passed by.

The jurors who sat in the PEARSON trial fully met their responsibility to society and the equitable dispensation of justice.

Viet Holds Key to Tax Program

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — With his $4.8 billion of quickie tax-boosters, President Johnson is trying to buy some time.

Even if Congress approves them by March 15, as he has asked, the maneuver won't rule out any general tax increase. That still could come, in 1967 or 1968.

It all depends on Viet Nam. What happens there—an escalation to full-fledged war, a negotiated peace, or some condition in between—"must be at the center of our concerns," as Johnson told Congress last week.

Even if the fighting does not escalate but merely continues at its present intensity long enough, Johnson eventually will have to ask for a boost in income and corporate tax rates. His three tax measures are only temporary revenue-raisers.

If the hostilities do escalate seriously, a general tax increase would come sooner.

In the happier event that the guns cease firing in Viet Nam, the three revenue measures would simply run their course. They represent no permanent burden on economic growth.

The White House proposals would restore the auto and telephone excise taxes to their pre-New Year's rates until 1968; provide a graduated scale of rates for income tax withholding; and bring large corporations to a pay-as-you-go tax basis in one year instead of five.

If the economy should falter, the excise rates could be cut again, virtually overnight.

The corporate tax speed-up could again be stretched out. Any overwithholding of income tax would flow back to consumers as tax refunds at the end of the year.

But more probably, the three devices would serve a useful antiinflationary purpose in the period when "overheating" is a hazard—the months ahead when federal spending rolls up to a $112.8-billion a year rate.

Johnson thus would be enabled to make good his guns and butter pledge —his promise that the "Great Society" programs of education, health, welfare and manpower development will not be sacrificed to pay for arms or to curb inflation.

The restraining effect of the tax devices would begin to play out, presumably, at approximately the right time — the time when the big surge of defense contracts begins to subside.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Bishop James E. Walsh of Maryknoll marked the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on December 7 in a cell in Red China. The 74-year-old American prelate has been serving a 20-year sentence in Shanghai since March, 1960, when he was tried by a peoples court and found guilty of conspiring with the Vatican against the people of China.

Bishop Walsh has spent 40 of his 50 years of priesthood in China. He could have left when the Communists took over. It was even suggested to him that because of his health and age, it might be wiser to leave. His answer in the form of a question was, "Are the reasons valid and grave enough to set aside the established principle that a priest ignores adversity and remains at his post?" He wanted to stay with the Chinese clergy who could not leave. He said, "They are a key factor in the church situation in China these days. There is some good, I think, in giving them a little help . . ." There is much good—for by witnessing the power and dedication of his faith, Bishop Walsh serves to inspire us all.

Finding the Way:

Church Needs Right Kind of Fire

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Suddenly there is a rash of fires. For years, most of us were content just to be "burned up" as indignant protesters concerning some cause or other. Now there are draft card burners. One citizen burned his library card in protest to a five - cent fine. Some have even burned themselves.

DR. LOEW

I'm concerned today about the pledge card burners. These are people who cancel their church subscriptions because they disagree with a civil rights stand of the denomination, with some particular action by the congregation or with some sermon by the preacher.

This is getting to be a difficult problem. The bishop of the Episcopal Diocese in New York commented recently that his church has lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because of a civil rights stand. In my own community a Presbyterian church has had the cancellation of pledges totaling $20,000 for the budget of the church.

When a committee of the National Council of Churches suggested that the United Nations rethink its policy concerning Red China, local councils of churches found their budgets jeopardized. A local pastor told of pledge cards with the notation that no moneys were to be given to a certain cause in that community upon panalty of cancelation of the entire pledge. The community upon penalty of cancelation of the entire pledge. The tion.

Obviously, the gift of money is a vote of confidence and the best principles of stewardship demand care and concern in the designation of one's gift. The thoughtful giver is going to be concerned about the use of the funds.

However, another major problem confronts us. What is the church meant to be? Are we suggesting that the church reflect the current thought patterns or is it to reflect the will of God as men best understand that moral law?

If the wallet is used as a tyrant, will the church only be the mirror of the neighborhood instead of becoming the conscience of society?

Such are the questions that ought to be considered before the pledge card is burned or the subscription canceled. The church ought to be a laboratory where these basic questions are thought through.

On too many occasions these moral pronouncements may only have been given from a pulpit where there was no possibility for retort or announced in the press with no possibility of discussion. We need a new maturity for discussion within our churches, a freedom where men can differ without jeopardy or without loss of personal dignity.

The pledge card burners use a method to express their negative vote but it thwarts lively and provocative thinking. It effectively isolates us into a contemporary mind-set instead of seeking the mind of God.

I'm in favor of the right kind of fire in the church. That's the kind that causes men and women to speak with courage, debate with intelligence and counsel with maturity.

That kind is not a pledge burner. That kind is described in the New Testament where those men of the church were typified as "aflame with the spirit."

Washington Notebook:

'Jim Perkins' Name Is Familiar'

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The recent report that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., was eying James Perkins, Cornell University president, as a possible opponent for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller this fall had a familiar ring in Washington.

In late November 1960, the name of Perkins — at that time a Carnegie Corp. vice president — bobbed up at every discussion of potential federal appointees by the late President John F. Kennedy. No matter what the job, Perkins' name was near the top of everyone's list.

Historian Arthur Schlesinger recalls that Kennedy — appalled at learning that he had to fill some 1,200 administration jobs — cried:

"People! People! I don't know any people! How am I going to fill these 1,200 jobs? All I hear is the name Jim Perkins. Who in hell is Perkins?"

One veteran Washington observer and former government official is getting tired of hearing that 1966 will be a big problem year for President Johnson. Says he:

"That's what we pay him for, to handle the big ones. If you've got a Peeping Tom, you go to your alderman. If you've got a Viet Nam on your hands, you go to the president."

John Doar, chief of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division, appeared recently on a nationally televised news show. When friends mentioned the following morning that they had seen the show, Doar said almost apologetically:

"I must have looked nervous. But it wasn't because of the cameras."

Pausing a second, he explained:

Dr. William Prendergast, research director for the House Republican Conference — policy-making group for GOP congressmen — was a little astonished at the introduction he got from a gathering of party women in Washington.

His chief hostess rattled off a long list of credentials, including university degrees earned and various teaching and research activities engaged in.

When he took the floor, Prendergast said:

"I shuddered a bit when I heard that recital of my past record. It sounds very much as if I couldn't hold a job."

As a publicity stunt, officials dedicating a new Georgia bank

attached a $10,000 bill to the customary ceremonial ribbon.

After calling for a "strong, sound dollar" in his keynote speech, Georgia Rep. Phil Landrum turned to cut the ribbon. Inadvertently, he clipped the $10,000 bill neatly in half.

'Eulogy of GM Executive Sets a Worthy Example'

In many instances we entertain noble thoughts regarding the deeds, contributions, etc., that others make and do to the good of their fellowmen, but too often we leave them unsaid. If spoken, they would have been just compensation.

Your editorial eulogy of Mr. James E. Goodman falls in this category. As a past executive of Pontiac Motor Division, I think your comments regarding Mr. Goodman were fitting and deserving, as well as earned by this great man. You extolled the many attributes of this fine personage who gave so unstintingly to every worthy cause. His record speaks for itself and will continue.

Reader Supports Efforts of Our Teachers

I am not a teacher but I feel I should say something in their behalf. A Mrs. Martin criticizes the use of the pupils for collecting papers and passing out milk. I feel this helps give a child a sense of responsibility. Teachers today earn every cent they get. A teacher is usually working with a group of from 25 to 30 individuals, with every type of personality trait, and it is up to her to make it a compatible group and keep it running smoothly.

If she feels our children are not getting the education they should why doesn't she got to school and volunteer her services and by doing so make it possible for the teacher to do more of what is expected?

'Give Hope to Those Subdued by Misfortune'

God has blessed Americans with abundant substance. Yet in the midst of this affluence we find many poor, neglected people who are constantly reminded of their lot by a few disgruntled taxpayers. Since Democracy is based on the conviction that there are extraordinary potentials in ordinary people, why not bolster these potentials so that the poor become self-sufficient and give hope to those who have too long been subdued by misfortune?

'City Has Come a Long Way in Two Years'

I moved to the Pontiac area two years ago. We were living in Grand Rapids with its beautiful trees and lovely old homes. Pontiac seemed to me a closet for refuse. The downtown area was neglected. We finally picked a suburban area in which to live and I methodically kept out of Pontiac until a few weeks ago. Then I found beautiful new drives around and through the city, trees and bushes planted where rubble used to stand, and long, clear open areas that were once tumbledown stores and shacks.

Pontiac has come a long way in those two years and has removed the scars of years of neglect. There are plenty of parking lots and the meter price is very low. We are building a city to be proud of.

My family is looking for a home within the City. I am glad to be a part of a forward-looking community and hope others will come and see and feel the same way.

Comments on Teen-Agers Frequenting Bars

It is my understanding that recently a teen-ager was killed at a neighborhood bar. Under Michigan law a person cannot go into a bar until the age of twenty-one. Where were the police? Can't they help enforce this law? Surely the owners of the bar can distinguish an adult from a teen-ager. This bar has been a target for teen-agers who go out on weekends. Adults rarely go there because of the increase of its teen-age population.

Someone needs to stand at the door with an iron hand to keep teen-agers out. The majority of teen-agers feel there aren't enough places to go in Pontiac. Surely if there were, teen-agers wouldn't have to spend their leisure time in bars. Adults should set a pattern if they expect us to be up to par according to their standards.

NY Socialite Not on Payroll

Council Didn't Hire Mrs. Lindsay's Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — Katrina Thomas, who was first said to be a city hall photographer on the antipoverty payroll, is now reported as a volunteer and an applicant for a job as a consultant to the antipoverty program.

Woody Klein, press secretary to Mayor John V. Lindsay, said Friday he had been misinformed when he reported that Miss Thomas had been hired by the city's Council Against Poverty.

After talking again with the director of the council Klein said: "She has been and still is a volunteer in this administration. She has never been and is not now on the municipal payroll."

It had been reported that Miss Thomas, a tweedy socialite, Bryn Mawr graduate and close friend of the mayor's wife, would serve as a city hall photographer and receive $9,100 as a consultant to the antipoverty program.

PROBE LAUNCHED

In Washington, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which would have to pay 90 per cent of her salary, launched an immediate investigation. One official noted that even the OEO headquarters doesn't have a photographer.

After some study the OEO said as far as it could determine Miss Thomas was not on the antipoverty payroll.

City officials said they planned to go ahead and hire Miss Thomas as a $35-a-day consultant to the antipoverty program. Apparently any photographic duties she assumed would be strictly voluntary and after office hours.

Mrs. Lindsay, interviewed at a "March of Dimes" ceremony, said she thought the use of Miss Thomas as an official photographer was "a good idea, frankly, a very good arrangement."

Board to Eye Vehicle Bids in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider recommendations of the vehicle committee regarding bids for five pieces of equipment for the water department.

Opened last Monday, the apparent low bids totaled $14,652 or $948 less than the original estimate of $15,600.

In other business, the board will consider an agreement with the Board of Education concerning operation of the Recreation Department and Community School Program.

Responsibility of both programs is slated to be transferred to the school board.

However, they will continue to be financed by the township government and school district on an equal basis.

Also Monday night, the board is scheduled to hear a request by residents for installation of street signs on Arapahoe at Oregon and Muskingum.

U-M Regents Name Law School Dean

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan regents Friday appointed a law school dean, rejected a proposal for a university-owned bookstore and promised to start looking for a new president shortly.

The board named Francis Allen, a University of Chicago law professor, as dean of the U-M law school effective July 1. He is a specialist in criminal law and helped draft the Illinois Criminal Code of 1961.

Rejection of the bookstore proposal came as some 30 students picketed with placards supporting the idea in front of the administration building where the regents were meeting.

Creation of the bookstore was urged in a petition signed by 13,000 students, but the regents adopted a report which said an investigation showed such a store would require the university to rent commercial space at an estimated cost of $45,000 a year.

REASONABLE SERVICE

The report said that Ann Arbor, where the University is located, already has a number of commercial bookstores which "provide reasonable service to students."

"In almost all cases," the report added, "colleges which operate their own stores established them because no such service was available to their students."

The regents agreed that the university should increase its efforts to recruit and support students who qualify for admission but who are discouraged from doing so "because of economic disadvantage."

START PROCESS

In seeking a replacement for U-M President Harlan Hatcher, scheduled to retire Dec. 31, 1967, the regents commented that "it is now time to put in motion the processes of selection," and promised to set forth shortly a complete statement on policy and procedures.

It's Grandma's House Now

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Their daughter and son married, the household of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Meads of Dennison Street, Oxford still rings with childish laughter and fun.

The happy din of teen-agers and their cohorts is replaced by the happy din of six grandchildren and their cohorts.

"We love to have the children home," said Mrs. Meads.

"And to avoid the confusion of little ones living out of suitcases, we designed the dormitory for the four boys.

Jimmy, 4, and Crissie, 3, are the youngsters of the Meades' daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. James Bullock.

Dr. and Mrs. G. Edgar Meads are the parents of Tommy, 7, Stevie, 6, Julie, 4, and Jeffrey, 2.

The families live in London, Ontario, where both men attend medical school.

Antique china and figurines are displayed in the glass enclosed portion of the mahogany breakfront.

Grouped about the Duncan Phyfe coffee table are an amber-velvet armless chair, a pale-pink boucle fanback chair and the pale-green-on-ivory sofa.

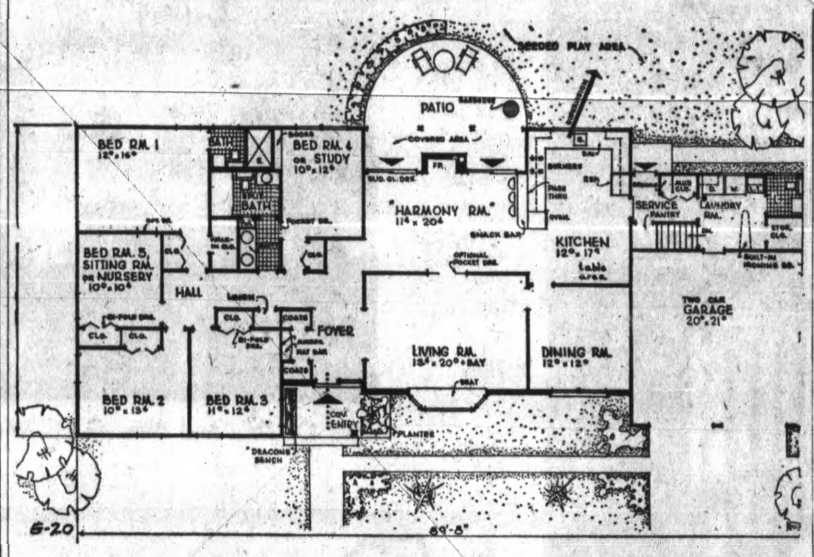
FIVE-BEDROOM RANCH: This long, sleek, one-story house has an imposing exterior appearance, matched by the spacious interior, with five bedrooms, 2½ baths and all the ingredients necessary for comfortable living by a large family.



FLOOR PLANS: Informal living is made easy at the rear of this ranch, with a harmony or family room separated partly from the kitchen by a snack bar, and to the right of the kitchen, an unusually large laundry room and service area.

An apartment now under construction will have across-the-hall parking for residents. The tenant will be able to drive through the building, park on his own floor, and go across the hall to his apartment.

Imposing Ranch for Family

A house with five bedrooms on a single level is not very common — especially when all five bedrooms are incorporated into a one-story or ranch design.

When architect Herman H. York found at two successive housing conferences that there was demand for such a house, he decided to create one specifically for the House of the Week series.

How well he succeeded in turning out a one-story home to serve the needs of a family with several children, you can judge for yourself.

A plan which works well should be so designed as to place formal living areas toward the front, near the entrance foyer, with the informal part toward the rear, readily accessible to private lounging and play areas.

Another prerequisite for good layout is that of proper relationship between the garage, service areas and kitchen.

It should be possible to "drive into the house," so that passengers and packages can be unloaded on the inside.

Note the service section behind the garage. The washer, dryer and laundry tub are not in a closet but in an actual laundry room.

There is space for an ironing board and a window for natural lighting. In addition to the usual mud closet, a larger one for storage is next to the laundry room, plus a broom closet and a large pantry which uses some of the usual "lost space" over the cellar stairway.

In this plan, as in many York houses, the kitchen is the hub of the family living complex.

The kitchen is laid out in an efficient U-shape, with its work triangle centered about the sink and dishwasher.

A pass-through to the snack counter makes for easy serving at breakfast time.

The separate dining room, with an entrance to the kitchen, is convenient for formal dinner parties or buffet entertaining.

There are two bathrooms in the bedroom wing, with a special door arrangement making three lavatories available at the same time.

The architect has provided an optional door plan for the owners' bedroom, making it possible to use bedroom number 5 as a nursery or a sitting room if desired.

This house requires a rather long plot, since the over-all length is 89'8", but if the fortunate owners have another 30' or so available, the garage doors can be placed at the side rather than the front.

A combination of brick and wood shingles is shown, but here again the owners can make a change if they wish.

Presents Citation at Parish Dinner

The church school missionary offering for 1965 of the Episcopal Church throughout the United States centered on our Spanish speaking neighbors.

Exemplifying these neighbors was the Lopez family. Readers of The Spirit of Mission were asked to write letters to a member of the family nearest to their own age.

The letter was to be an invitation for that person to spend a week in the writer's home. The writer was also to relate how he would be made welcome.

Donald's Church School teacher is Mrs. Kenneth Hess.

The annual business meeting was conducted with four new vestrymen elected.

Join in Christian Services

Catholics and Protestants joined in observing the week of Universal Prayer for Christian Unity in services this week.

Dr. Milton H. Bank was host pastor when Protestants were hosts to the Roman Catholic Community Sunday evening at Central Methodist Church Waterford Township. Rev. Robert Sheets was Protestant host at Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

He opened his homily (sermonette) with "These inter-faith services in Pontiac have helped to engender an aura of good feeling, of sympathetic understanding among those who have taken part.

"But now we should go beyond that. The time is ripe, it seems to me, to begin serious theological discussions between ministers and priests, and between laymen of our various congregations.

"Such discussions could now be more fruitful than they would have been even three years ago.

"Now we can meet in an atmosphere of friendship, of growing mutual respect and trust. Now we need not be so defensive, so militantly eager to win an argument, but rather to seek the truth, to explore the other's beliefs and see them in their best light.

"By all means let us continue our interfaith service, for without prayer discussion is sterile. We must continue listening intently to God speaking to us in the Scriptures, and getting to know one another better in Christ."

He closed his remarks with words of St. Paul "Therefore, welcome one another cordially as Christ has cordially welcomed you to himself, for the glory of God."

SECOND HOMILY

In giving the second homily, the Rev. W. E. Teague of St. John Methodist Church said "The Holy Spirit is the motivating power in the lives of Christian people.

"The Holy Spirit makes us unafraid and gives us courage to do things we ought to do, rather than things we want to do. The church is established to gather together those who are scattered to the four corners of the earth."

L. S. Baring — Gould was right when he wrote "Like a mighty army moves the church of God. Brothers we are treading where the saints have trod. We are not divided, all one body we, one in hope and doctrine, one in charity."

Rev. Edward D. Auchard of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, pointed out "We as Christians know what to expect. Life began in a garden. History ends in a city — the new Jerusalem.

"The way between is a long and rugged way. The garden and the city are not only places but a pattern of the world that God intends. As we face God's will together we find that we are standing shoulder to shoulder with all Christians.

"We wear many uniforms but we are one army because we are His army," he added.

Speaking Tuesday night at Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church, the Rev. Elmer Snyder of Covert Methodist Church said "Too long Christians have looked at each other with questioning and critical eyes.

"Christians of all denominations are the servants of the same Christ, so must unite in the common fight against the forces of evil and unbelief that are present in our modern world.

"These are our enemies, not the Christians of other Communions. United we shall defeat these evils. Divided we cannot hope to do so."

Another Tuesday evening speaker was the Rev. Gus Tsompanas of St. George Greek Orthodox Church.

"Who can deny that we are standing at the threshold of a new era? Who can argue against the signs of the times which point with such clarity to the new epoch?

"Who can shut his eyes or insist that churches are not being led forward and towards reunification?" asked Pastor Tsompanas.

"Prejudices and religious bigotry vanished long ago. Understanding has replaced misjudgment, and genuine respect for one's belief and practiees characterizes our present attitudes.

"Common prayer is recommended now as being in accord with true and genuine Christianity."

PASTOR SAYERS SPEAKS

The Rev. Carl Sayers of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Bloomfield Township, was a speaker Thursday in the Sylvan Lake Church.

"A contribution that the Episcopal Church makes to the Ecumenical Movement sets an example for the rest of Christendom to follow," said Pastor Sayles.

"It consists of union of two families of Christ — Catholic and Protestant. For years the Episcopal Church has had this kind of union within its own fellowship.

"For example, in common with the Catholic church we have stressed the importance of Holy Communion or Mass, stressed the importance of the apostolic ministry of bishops and the sacramental nature of life in both the church and the world.

"In common with the Protestants we have stressed the importance of the Bible, of preaching, and of the ministry of the laity or of all believers.

"Movement for integration between races is essential to a democracy for its survival. Question of unity of the churches is a practical as well as an idealistic concern."

Detroit Directors Change Deadlines

Important revisions in the admissions policy of Detroit Bible College have been made by the board of directors. The changes involve the setting of deadlines for accepting applications, the establishment of new academic standards for entering students, and the gradual requirement of entrance examinations for new enrollees.

Under one phase of the newly introduced system, a series of deadlines will take effect with the fall 1966 semester.

First of all, DBC is setting July 15 as a "Penalty Date" for students seeking entrance to the college. Any applications postmarked later than this date will be charged a late application fee of $5. "Closing Date" for fall semester applications is Aug. 15.

Robert F. Ramey, director of admissions, emphasizes that this means that any application postmarked later than this date will be considered for the following spring semester.

Closing date for the 1967 Spring Semester will be Jan. 15, 1967. Closing date for the 1966 Summer Session will be June 15, 1966.

Inauguration of this deadline system, Ramey explained, will facilitate admissions office procedures. Furthermore, it will enable the College to anticipate and plan more adequately for incoming students.

As another step in its program to up-grade entrance requirements, DBC will ask applicants to take the scholastic aptitude test and writing sample exercise produced by the college entrance examination board.

This procedure would be recommended for the 1966-67 school year and required for the 1967-68 school year.

"We feel that the gradual requirement of entrance exams will begin to align the Admissions policies of the College with those of the vast majority of leading colleges and universities," stated Mr. Ramey.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

Deal three of round eight of the trials proved a trap for several South players when they reached six hearts on bidding similar to that in the box.

JACOBY

At those tables where West opened a club the slam always made. South would take his ace of clubs, ruff a club, return to his hand with the 10 of spades and try to ruff another club. East would overruff dummy's jack of trumps with the queen and lead a second spade, whereupon South would discard one diamond on the third spade and then play ace and another diamond.

South would be careful to ruff this with the nine of trumps and West would not be able to overruff.

When West opened his singleton diamond it would also have been possible to make the contract. The play would be to win with the ace of diamonds, lead a club to the ace, ruff a club, lead two rounds of trumps and then play spades.

Opening lead—♦ 10.

Spades would go around three times so that South would be able to discard his last club on the third spade and his jack of diamonds on the fourth spade.

This play would have worked but everyone chose a different and unsuccessful line of play against the diamond opening. To be exact they all tried to ruff out both losing clubs. This time when East overruffed the club he was able to give his partner a diamond ruff to set the contract.

Which was the better play?

From a result standpoint the play they adopted was inferior. It did not work. The other would have. From the standpoint of play against unknown holdings, the losing play had a very slightly better chance for success.

A—Bid six hearts only. If your partner holds the king of clubs and a heart suit headed by the queen, he will surely bid seven himself. Remember that your five no-trump bid guaranteed all the aces.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A goal of $6 million has been set for this year's Republican campaigns for Congress.

Job Corps Is Changing Management at Major Trouble Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Job Corps is changing management at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., a major trouble spot since it opened last July.

Two weeks ago Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen described the camp as a major example of "boondoggling" in the administration's antipoverty program.

He said the Job Corps and its parent organization, the Office of Economic Opportunity, would be a major issue in the new Congress.

The OEO said Friday its present management contract with Southern Illinois University, which opened the center last summer, would not be renewed when it expires July 1.

INDUSTRIAL FIRM

Instead, an OEO official said, the contract is to be given to an industrial firm, to be selected later. An industrial firm, it is felt, will be better equipped to make necessary changes and operate the large-scale program originally planned at the former Army base.

Current enrollment at Camp Breckinridge is about 400, although this is expected to be expanded at the rate of about 50 per week. The camp has facilities for 2,000.

Besides its enrollment problems, Camp Breckinridge was the scene of a riot last August involving an estimated 50 to 150 youths. Many of the 544 corpsmen there at the time fled and camp officials spent several days rounding them up.

As a result of the disturbance, a number of youths were dismissed and others were transferred. Officials said the disturbance had some racial overtones.

Job Corps officials rate the Camp Breckinridge riot as the most serious incident so far at a Job Corps center.

Dirksen, in an interview Jan. 9, said Southern Illinois had been given a $9-million grant to operate Camp Breckinridge for 2,000 youths. He said the camp, with 250 dropouts and only eight graduates to date, would be "Exhibit No. 1" to be presented to the Senate.

James R. Fornear, acting Camp Breckinridge director, defended the facility. He said the camp had not been in operation long enough to have many graduates and that most of the dropouts occurred after the disturbance last August.

An OEO spokesman said the big problem was that Southern Illinois is a relatively small institution and could not afford to spare enough personnel to provide necessary counseling, direction of the camp's operation and leadership in other areas.

The university will continue to cooperate in the educational program at the camp after July 1, the spokesman said.

Clinic Marks Busiest Year

12 Per Cent Boost in Guidance Talks

Vernon Keye, president of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, said today that more services were provided for Oakland County children with emotional problems in 1965 than in any other year in the clinic's history.

Three clinics — Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak — showed a 12 per cent increase in interviews over the previous year, Keye said.

Total interviews last year were 8,992 compared to 8,004 in 1964.

At the request of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, two day-care centers for severely retarded children were set up in 1965.

The Pontiac center is at the Newman A.M.E. Church, 233 Bagley.

EXPANSION DUE

Keye, now completing his second term as president of the clinic, said plans are being made to expand present services and development of new programs.

"As a result of a developing relationship between the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic and the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, we hope to provide more complete mental health services to Oakland County children," he explained.

Keye also said negotiations are under way for a cooperative contract with the Mental Health Services Board whereby the state would match local funds on a three for one basis.

The clinics are now supported by state and county funds, supplemented by grants from community organizations.

Jazz Concert Slated by OCC Council

Oakland Community College's Inter-Campus Student Council will present a jazz concert Jan. 31 at Southfield High School featuring Stan Getz.

The concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Tickets are available at student activities offices on both the Highland Lakes and Auburn Hills campuses.

India, Pakistan Generals in Accord

OK Kashmir Disentanglement Plan

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India and Pakistan reached agreement today on a plan for the withdrawal of troops from the troubled border area where they fought a three-week war last fall, it was reported here.

Defense Ministry officials said Indian Gen. J. N. Chaudhuri and Pakistani Gen. Mohammad Musa Khan, commanders of their respective armies, agreed on the plan at a two-hour conference here. No details were made public immediately.

The generals were working out details of the agreement on troop withdrawal concluded by the late Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan in Tashkent earlier this month.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said Chaudhuri and Muso probably will meet again in Pakistan next month.

Earlier, it was reported that Premier Indira Gandhi hopes to visit Washington soon but probably will be unable to keep the Feb. 1 date set for a visit by Shastri.

URGENT PROBLEMS

Officials of Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party said such urgent problems as the menacing food shortage in much of India probably will make it necessary for her to remain here for some time.

Food and agriculture organization officials say food shortages are being felt by at least 100 million of India's 480 million people. Food riots have been reported in the southern state of Kerala.

The 48-year-old daughter of the late Jawaharlal Nehru does not formally become premier until Monday, but she already has begun conferences with such officials as Food Minister C. Subramaniam on the crisis.

A National Congress party convention opens Feb. 6 in Jaipur. A three-month session of Parliament starts in mid-February.

VITAL QUESTIONS

Party officials were uncertain whether Mrs. Gandhi would be willing to leave India during the parliamentary session.

India's next five-year plan begins in April, and many vital questions concerning U. S. aid to Indian development must be worked out prior to that time.

Draft Board to Call 76 Michigan Doctors

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards will order 76 physicians into the Army, Navy and Air Force Feb. 15, nearly all of them in the 26-34 age group.

Col. W.J. Myers, deputy director of the State Selective Service, said the call also will take 18 Michigan dentists and three veterinarians.

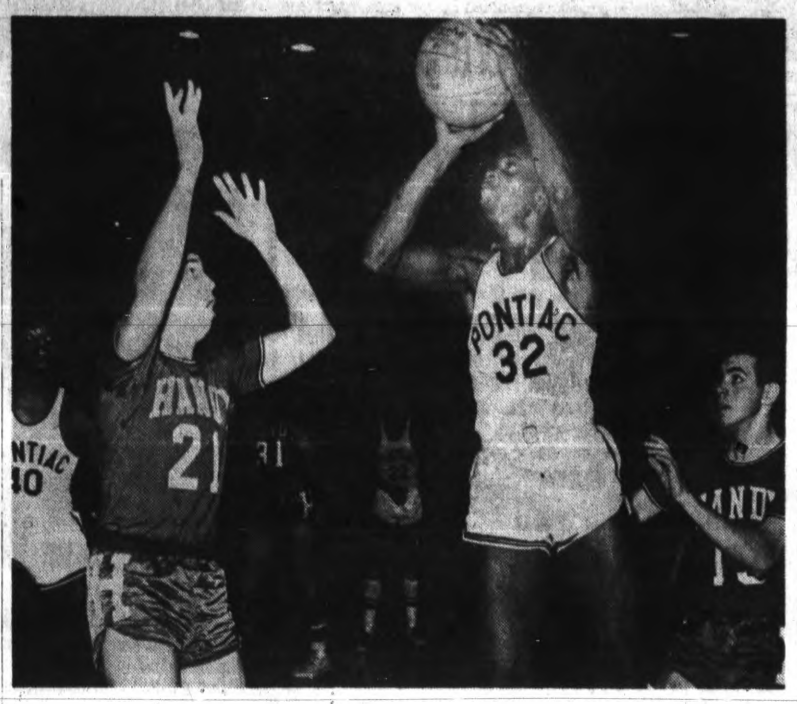
PCH Cagers Play Main Event Tuesday



Pontiac Press Photo

TIP-IN ARTIST—Pontiac Central's Larry Platt (32) turned in one of his best performances of the season last night in scoring 12 points and helping control the backboards in PCH's 92-47 victory over Bay City Handy. Platt had five buckets, all coming on tip-ins, and he added a pair of free throws to the total. In photo above, Platt gets away a shot despite the efforts of Handy's Jerry Wagner (21). At right is Bill Abbey (15).

By FLETCHER SPEARS

With the preliminary bouts out of the way, Pontiac Central's Chiefs are looking forward to the main event — their meeting with Saginaw Tuesday night on the Trojan floor.

The Chiefs warmed up for the big game last night as they smothered a helpless Bay City Handy quintet, 92-47, and took over sole possession of first place in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

And while the Chiefs were winning, Saginaw ventured outside the conference and dropped a 64-60 decision to Flint Northwestern.

In other SVC contests, Bay City Central edged Saginaw Arthur Hill, 53-52, Midland bumped Flint Central, 71-63, and Flint Southwestern displayed a strong ball control game in downing Flint Northern, 47-32.

Playing before the home fans, the chiefs fell behind, 4-2, in the opening minute of play, but quickly gained control of the game and wound up with 19-11 lead after the first quarter and a 44-22 advantage at intermission.

EIGHTH VICTORY

The victory was the eighth in a row for the Chiefs, and gave them a half game lead over Saginaw (5-0).

Handy, still looking for its first victory of the season, was simply no match for the speedy Chiefs.

Central tossed a sticky, pressing defense at Handy for three quarters and it paid off as the visitors managed to take only 56 shots at the bucket.

Five of the Chiefs wound up in double figures and nine players dented the scoring column as coach Fred Zittel made liberal use of his bench strength.

Forward Jessie Evans paced the Chiefs with 20 points, and Zittel's three backcourt performers came through with 42 markers.

GUARDS SCORE

Pruitt collected 16 points, McClendon 14 and Hill added 12.

Larry Platt, with 12 points, and Willie Craft, with eight, teamed with Evans to give the Chiefs control of the backboards. PCH held a 51-26 edge in the rebound department.

Platt was particularly sharp around the boards. He picked up five buckets and all came on tip-ins.

The lone bright note for the losers was the shooting of forward Bill Abbey, who tossed in 20 points to share scoring honors with Evans.

HOT NIGHT

For the evening, PCH connected on 41 of 79 shots for a shooting percentage of 51, while Handy hit the basket 30 per cent of the time with 17 of 56.

The Chiefs will be meeting Saginaw Tuesday in a game that could decide the SVC championship and the mythical state crown.

Falcons Rip PNH; Skippers Triumph

INTER-LAKES LEAGUE

	League W	League L	Over-All W	Over-All L
Farmington	2	1	6	4
Waterford	2	1	4	5
Pontiac Northern	2	1	3	5
Walled Lake	0	3	1	9

Farmington dumped Pontiac Northern's normally firmly entrenched Huskies from sole possession of the lead with a 63-43 whipping last night.

The results left three of the four I-L quintets with 2-1 logs after the first round of competition. Walled Lake's ninth loss in a row left it with an 0-3 league mark.

Northern is gunning for at least a share of its sixth I-L crown in seven seasons, but this was the fifth disappointing trip to Farmington for coach Dick Hall.

WORSE LOSS

The Falcons — who in December 1961 handed PNH its worst league loss, 67-41 — beat the Huskies for the fifth time in their 13 meetings. They are the only squad to beat PNH more than twice in I-L action.

Using a 2-3 zone, Farmington gained control of the backboards against the Huskies who couldn't take advantage of the weakened outside defenses of the home team.

All-league guard Mike Wilson pumped in 22 points for the winners. They had three players outscore PNH's top man, forward Dana Coin. Farmington led at intermission, 25-16.

A 21-11 third-quarter output decided the issue.

Walled Lake stayed with Waterford until the second quarter when Carl Arrington hit 10 points and helped the visitors to a 33-22 bulge at the break. The host Vikings hit only 9 of 32 field goal tries in the opening half, and missed 6 of 8 free throws in the second quarter.

Bruce Bookout's rebounding — especially during the opening two sessions — also was a big factor. Walled Lake managed to trim the gap to six in the third period.

In the last session, the Skippers' lead was only 49-47 with three minutes to play; but they stalled and converted free throws to pad the final margin.

Arrington's 18 points took game honors by one over the Vikings' John Huebler. Mike Harland had 11 and was the losers' main threat on the backboards.

Groves, Kettering Win Again

Falcons, 9-0 Set 2 Records in 95-55 Win

The Birmingham Groves' express steamed on last night in the Northwest Suburban AA hoop league.

The Falcons blasted Wayne John Glenn for 34 first-period tallies and 94 total to set two school point records in a 94-55 win, their ninth in a row.

Oak Park defeated North Farmington in the battle for fourth place, 78-69, as Ed Holloman set a scoring record with 38 points for the winners.

Detroit Thurston won the second-place showdown by taking Livonia Franklin, 76-63.

Two Mikes, Rafferty and Forrestor, sparkled shooting and rebounding for Groves — the Associated Press' ninth-ranked class A state prep team.

FAST START

Forrestor had 12 of his 18 points and Rafferty 10 of his 20 in the big first quarter. All of their game points came on field goals: Rafferty made 10 of 15 and Forrestor 9 of 12. Each grabbed 10 rebounds. Teammate Mark Harris had 11 retrieves and 12 points.

Holloman's 17 field goals and four free throws for Oak Park broke Al Ruby's school mark of 34 points in 1963. The Redskins gained the verdict with a 27-17 final period.

Rick Schultz hit 30 points for North Farmington.

Captains Beat L'Anse, 60-43 for 8 in Row

Waterford Kettering's unbeaten Captains made a shambles of their supposed showdown at Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse Friday night, tipping their host, 60-43.

The Captains dropped L'Anse into third place in the Tri-County circuit by compiling a 34-20 halftime edge and coasting to their eighth straight win overall.

The other league game saw Lapeer rally for an 86-65 win at Romeo to assume second place in the race.

RESPITE

The win concludes Kettering's Tri-County action this month. They could virtually sew up the title Feb. 4 when they'll resume at Lapeer.

The Panthers were down, 42-40, at intermission last night, but outscored Romeo, 40-19, after a 46-46 tie. They hit 17 of 26 field goal attempts in the last half, and 53 per cent for the game.

Romeo, following a good first half (18 for 38), finished with 40 per cent from the field. Pat McKenna (32 points) and Al Whitney (22) gave Lapeer a potent one-two punch.

Dale Craft led Romeo (3-6) with 22, and brother Donnell had 16.

It was 33-24 at halftime for Hazel Park and the Maples finally took a 58-56 lead. After the Parkers made it 60-58, Ron Bogert hit a bucket to tie it 60-60 and he was fouled. He missed the free throw and in the overtime Hazel Park netted 9 points.

W-O Race Jumbled; Rochester in Upset

Lakers, Northville Fall; Wolves, Hills Join Race

By JERE CRAIG

Two things seem apparent about the Wayne-Oakland hoop fight if last night's games are any indication: the Class A teams have become aroused and foul shooting has a place in the race.

Co-leaders Northville and West Bloomfield now have a third partner after being upset last night. Clarkston reached the top by pounding Brighton, 87-74.

Arch-rival Bloomfield Hills dropped West Bloomfield, 64-54; while Holly staged a brilliant comeback to upend Northville's Mustangs, 75-67.

Clarenceville even showed signs of life by defeating Milford, 63-60, for the Trojans' initial victory.

The three-team tie won't remain long, though, since West Bloomfield visits Northville tonight and Clarkston calls on Milford.

OWN WAY

Until last night, class B schools West Bloomfield and Northville had their own way in the standings.

But a poised, aggressive "A" Bloomfield Hills squad took the play away from the Lakers, getting the lead in the first period and holding it the remainder of the tilt.

Fine offensive rebounding and driving by Bret Griffin (six points) and Dave Robillard (7) in the first stanza accounted for 13 of 17 Hills' opening markers. Griffin added six more tallies and Bruce Hall tossed in six as the lead reached 37-31 at the half.

Ted LaPratt and Tim Moller (10 each) were the Lakers prime movers; and Moller led all the rebounders in the early going.

The Barons hit a dry spell in the third session and saw their edge slip to 39-37. Free throws enabled them to expand it, again, and Paul Augusten came off the bench to fuel the attack after Robillard fouled out in the third quarter.

Moller left early in the final period. The losing Lakers matched the Bloomfield Hills' field goal totals, stayed even in the rebounding and field goal attempts, but hurt themselves by losing the ball without taking a shot.

Hills canned 20 of 36 free throws to spell the difference on the scoreboard. It is only a half game off the lead.

The situation at Holly also revolved around the free throw line. The Broncos made 20 more charity tosses than Northville, including 23 of 26 in the fourth period.

This offset 10-0 and 23-9 first-half leads by the Mustangs. Early in the second quarter, Holly went on a tear of 22 points in a row to take charge of the contest.

Jerry Imsland led a late Northville drive that twice closed the deficit to three points.

Clarkston's Dugan (Dan) Fife surpassed 30 for the fifth time in six games as the class A Wolves trimmed Brighton. Fife made 15 of the winners' 27 free throws. Brighton had 53 attempts and hit 30.

Clarenceville and Milford took turns missing charity tosses but the host Trojans pulled out the decision by making 17 to Milford's 14.

Rams Dumped Mikemen Win

Waterford Our Lady Rolls, 94-44

Point-happy Waterford Our Lady climbed into second place in the Macomb Catholic League basketball chase Friday night aided by a St. Frederick upset loss.

Marine City Holy Cross ambushed St. Frederick's Rams, 65-63, permitting Waterford OLL to advance from third place to second on a 94-44 rout of winless New Baltimore St. Mary.

League-leading St. Michael also had a scare but did get by Richmond St. Augustine, 60-56, for the Mikemen's sixth consecutive conquest.

WOLL only won three of seven starts before this month while hitting at a 62-points-per-game clip. The Lakers have won four in a row this month, are 7-2 in the league, and have averaged 90 ppg since the holiday break.

A 59-point first half last night surpassed the game total of 56 in their win over St. Mary last month. Doug Springer's 18 points, Randy Wise's 12 and Carl Matzelle's 12 led the opening onslaught Friday. Springer took game honors with 22.

LATE SPURT

St. Augustine trailed St. Mike until the last four minutes, then forced the Shamrocks to rally for their 10th victory. Tom Patch stole the ball and scored the final go-ahead bucket for the Mikemen.

Teammate Bill French led all sharpshooters with 21 points and Ray Lavoie had 18.

St. Frederick lost its shooting touch and dropped the decision to Marine City Holy Cross.

The Rams hit on only 12 of 56 shots in the first half and wound up with 30 of 96 for the game.

The Rams' biggest problem, however, was at the free throw line where they hit on only one of 16, while the winners, outscored from the field, 30-16, hit on 31 of 48.

Barnhill Rips Former Team for Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — John Barnhill turned on his former teammates with four baskets in the last period Friday night to pace the Detroit Pistons to a 117-108 victory over the St. Louis Hawks in a National Basketball Association game.

Barnhill, who recently came to Detroit in a trade with the Hawks, provided the spark for the Pistons after they had seen a 21-point second period lead evaporate to 95-94 in the fourth quarter.

Three quick baskets by Barnhill helped push the Pistons to a 109-101 edge in less than three minutes. He added another two-pointer as Detroit broke the game open.

Scott of Detroit led all scorers with 32 points. Miles added 31. Len Wilkens had 23 points and Mullins 21 for the Hawks.

OLSM Keeps Rolling With 82-61 Victory

High flying Orchard Lake St. Mary with St. Benedict in close pursuit, won its 10th game in 11 starts and stood 9-1 in the Northwest Parochial League after whipping Detroit St. Rita, 82-61 last night.

St. Ben, meanwhile trimmed Farmington Our Lady, 68-44.

The Eagles pulled away to a 42-26 halftime lead and padded its lead the rest of the way.

Closest margin was 49-40 as St. Rita hit a few key buckets in the third quarter.

John Stepien and Joe Wojtys each had 10 points in the first quarter and Stepien finished with 24 and Wojtys with 15 for the night.

Connie Krogulecki added 18 for St. Mary while Tom McDonald hit for 25 for St. Rita.

OLSM managed 28 of 74 shots for 38 per cent compared to 36 per cent for the losers with 23 of 64. The bid advantage on the board for the winners was 44 to 24.

Ex-Canadiens Defeat Wings

MONTREAL (AP) — Kenny Mosdell's goal with little over one minute to play gave a team comprised of several former Montreal Canadiens stars a 6-5 victory over their Detroit Red Wings counterparts Friday night in the first game of a two-game oldtimers set between the National Hockey League rivals.

Ex-Montreal greats Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Elmer Lach and Toe Blake opposed Detroit's famed Gordie Howe-Sid Abel-Ted Lindsay line in the charity game, which drew a crowd of 15,653. The teams will play again at Detroit next Friday night.

Mosdell, Richard and Detroit's Jimmy Peters scored two goals apiece. Other scorers were Lindsay, Jimmy Orlando and Marty Pavelich for the Red Wings; Ken Reardon and Floyd Curry for the Canadiens, offically billed as the Quebec Old-Timers.

Former NHL referee Red Storey officiated in the spirited game, which also brought back such favorites as Montreal's Dickie Moore and Detroit goalie Harry Lumley, a former Vezina Trophy winner.

Mantle Plans for Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle told New York Yankee officials Friday he has a bone chip in the joint of his right shoulder and he will have to undergo surgery next Tuesday.

Mantle telephoned Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., where he has been this week for tests on the previously mysterious ailment.

Mantle said he hopes to be ready to play when spring training starts March 1. That would give him five weeks in which to recover.

Skier Suffers Injury

KITZBUEHEL, Austria (AP) — Former world and Olympic ski champion Toni Sailer of Austria suffered severe leg injuries Friday when he took a spill while making a run for a film company.

Almont Downs Dryden; Capac Increases Lead

Almont gave highly ranked Capac a boost and at the same time improved its chances in the Southern Thumb cage race Friday night by surprising neighboring Dryden, 76-66.

The Raiders' win, coupled with Capac's 70-60 triumph at Memphis, gave the sixth-rated team in this week's Associated Press prep Class C poll a two-game lead in the title race.

Anchor Bay tied Dryden and Almont for second place by whipping winless Armada, 89-64, New Haven won its third and took over fifth place by trimming Brown City, 57-28.

Almont couldn't prevent Ken Kitchenmaster (22 points) and Dennis Hilliker (17) — the area's fifth and 11th best scorers, respectively — from upping their averages. Fast-developing Ken White added 18 to the home team's attack.

But the upset-primed Raiders restricted the other Dryden cagers and displayed a well-balanced attack of their own, putting five in double figures.

John Schulte topped all marksmen with 24 points, including 10 field goals, for his best night. Dick Jimenez also had his high with 13; Dick McEwan (18) and Harry Hoffner (10) hit their second-best totals.

Almont set its season high mark with the 76 points. Dryden, the ninth rated class D team, was down by five at intermission, and by four after three periods.

The Cardinals will visit Capac (8-1) Friday.

PCH Tankers Rescue Coach

Coach Jerry Beckner of Pontiac Central insisted he was to blame for his swimming team's 55-49 loss to Bay City Handy, but members of the squad saw otherwise and came to his rescue.

"The boys didn't lose this one. I did," said Beckner, who had written the statement for the Press on the back side of the scoring sheet.

Members of the team spotted the note, carefully crossed out Beckner's 'I did' and substituted, 'We did,' and then added their signatures below the change.

Beckner was blaming himself for the loss because he forfeited to Handy in the diving competition. The forfeit gave Handy eight points and the victory.

"As it was," Beckner explained, "We were still in first and second after the fourth round of dives, but we felt the diving was being judged so poorly that it was beginning to kill the sportsmanship of the boys.

STOPPED IT

"Rather than hear the crowd boo the officials, I called a halt to it. The boys didn't lose this one. I did."

The Chiefs' John Mason cracked the PCH pool record in the 160-yard individual medley with a time of 1:42.7, and he returned later to win the 100-yard butterfly in a time of 1:00.4.

Steve Wagg picked up a couple of firsts for the Chiefs. He won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:04.7 and the 400-yard freestyle in 4:37.1.

Early Deficit for Ortonville

Ortonville spotted arch-rival Goodrich a 24-10 first period advantage and never overcame the deficit in losing, 59-56, last night.

The visiting Blackhawks drew within one point late in the final quarter; but they missed their final three free throws and never drew even.

Goodrich hit 12 field goals in its productive first quarter. Dominating the early action were John Joslin (eight points), Mike Green and Jim Alexander (six each). Alexander also hit nine of the final quarter, while Joslin had 16 at halftime.

Barrie Hawley had 10 of his 22 markers in Brandon's second period. The Blackhawks now are 6-3.

Shrine Adds 78-70 Victory

Streaking Royal Oak Shrine had four starters in double figures and gunned down Dearborn Divine Child, Friday, 78-70.

Rick Chudy's 25 points — 10 in the final period — paced the Knights' fourth straight win (6-4 over-all). The winners hit five more field goals than Divine Child.

Dave Yeager had 12 of his 18 in the final half and Mickey Brzesinski 12 of his 18 in the opening half for Shrine. Bob Turner added 12 to the cause.

Corrall Golf Leader After Second Round

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — While thousands watched others, Texan Don Massengale slipped into the lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament Friday with a four-under-par 67 and a 36-hole total of 137.

He left the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course unaware he was ahead by two strokes for the $11,000 first prize.

Finally corralled at Pebble Beach, where he plays his third round Saturday, Massengale told of his five birdies and only one bogey and of big breaking putts of 35 and 25 feet which dropped into holes.

Massengale and Yancey each played the same course where most of the crowd of about 20,000 congregated to watch Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema, Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus.

Palmer, Lema and Casper all faded in the stretch. After being five-under-par at one point, Palmer had to settle for a one-under-par 70 and a 140 total. Lema double-bogeyed for the final hole and took a 72 for 142, while Casper lost five strokes to par on the final four holes and carded a 74 for a 145 total.

Palmer, Lema and Casper started early when the greens were frozen. Nicklaus was in the final group off the tee on a sunny day and came in with even par 71 for a 144.

Another Texas pro, Billy Martindale, and his amateur partner, Bob Roos of San Francisco, took over the pro-am division lead with a best-ball 62 and 125 net.

Antlerless Deer Bill Introduced

LANSING (AP) — A bill to make it illegal to hunt does and fawns in Michigan was filed for introduction in the House Friday.

The proposal, offered by Rep. E.D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Committee on Economic Development, would take control of the deer herd away from the Conservation Department.

Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, previously had introduced a bill to ban hunting of antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula.

And the same goes for four other ranked high school basketball teams after last night's action.

In a game which nearly ended in a free-for-all, Flint Northwestern shocked No. 3 Class A Saginaw, 64-60, on the losers' court in a nonleague contest.

River Rouge, the No. 1 "B" quintet fell before Willow Run, 51-48. It was the first loss for Saginaw and the second for River Rouge.

Fourth-ranked Kalamazoo Central (Class A) was dumped by Ann Arbor, 75-70; Buchanon, ranked ninth in Class B, was stunned by Cassopolis, 64-59; Burr Oak, second in Class C, fell to White Pigeon, 70-62; and Almont clipped Class D's ninth-rated Dryden, 76-66.

A 22-point fourth quarter earned Northwestern its upset of Saginaw. The Flint quintet was aided when Saginaw's sparkplug guard, Charlie Kelley, fouled out. He led the Trojans with 12 points.

ONLY LOSS

Both teams are 7-1. Northwestern's only loss was to Saginaw, 72-65.

Willow Run, one of two teams which beat River Rouge last year, went into the fourth quarter with a 42-35 edge.

The Flyers played it a bit too cozy, however, and River Rouge tied the score at 48-48 with 18 seconds remaining.

Don Stewart's free throw put Willow Run ahead again and his for Morley-Stanwood in a 77-51 drubbing of Hesperia.

LBJ Bombing Decision Expected Next Week

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is expected to decide next week whether to resume bombing of targets in North Viet Nam, now that his peace offensive apparently has failed to open any doors to negotiation.

The belief in official quarters, based on his handling of past situations, is that Johnson will put off his decision as long as possible next week.

Some military authorities reportedly had proposals prepared for a revival of air strikes by midweek and some of these at least were said to favor direct attacks against the area around the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi and its port, Haiphong.

The two centers have been spared in past bombing raids.

OPPOSED TO RENEWAL

Some State Department officials were reported opposed to any renewal of the bombing at all at this time. Others were said to favor a more limited and selective approach than the military planners.

In the previous attacks which began last Feb. 7 the United States hit North Vietnamese centers of troop and supply infiltration into the south, bombed ammunition depots, and battered communication lines. Some power generating centers also were hit.

Such targets are understood to be covered in various groupings prepared for presidential study.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk signaled the possible conclusion of the current U. S. peace drive at a news conference Friday with this statement:

"I regret that I cannot report to you any positive and encouraging response (from North Viet Nam) to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind. These past 29 days, against the background of all that has gone before, have provided every opportunity for the authorities in Hanoi to make some serious response."

The bombing of North Viet Nam stopped just before Christmas and Johnson's public peace drive started immediately after Christmas. The whole operation is thus just a month old and Rusk said it has won "an overwhelmingly favorable response" among other governments over the world "except from those who could in fact sit down and make peace."

Rusk also said under questioning that he looks for expanding violence — rather than any scaling down of the war — after the Vietnamese lunar New Year ends Sunday. The New Year holiday is known as "Tet" and this is the way Rusk punctured speculation that Tet might introduce a new period of lull and diminishing conflict:

"There is every indication that the other side is going to intensify its activity after this Tet period."

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said the bombing pause has given North Viet Nam a chance to rebuild bombed out bridges, roads and communications.

But McNamara said this was a small cost to pay for the advantage of showing the world "our desire for peace and desire for negotiations."

McNamara talked to newsmen during a break in the second day of his testimony before members of the Senate Armed Service Committee and Defense Appropriations subcommittee. He was supporting the administration's request for an additional $12.76 billion for the Vietnamese war. McNamara will return for more questioning Monday.

New Premier Hunted in Italy

Moro Asked to Stay Until Decision Made

ROME (AP) — Italian President Giuseppe Saragat was searching today for a premier to succeed Aldo Moro, who resigned after a defeat in Parliament brought on by defections in his own Christian Democrat party.

Saragat arranged a busy weekend of political consultations after asking Moro to stay on as caretaker premier.

It was considered possible that Saragat might ask Moro to form another government after he had finished consulting with political leaders inside and outside the four-party coalition.

PARTIES MEET

Internal differences were expected to arise at a Christian Democrat directorate meeting today. Two days ago Moro and his party secretary, Mariano Rumor, had postponed a meeting of the party's National Council from January to February to allow time for working out problems.

The crisis arose when Parliament voted 250-231 Thursday against a key bill of the Moro coalition government, a proposed law for creating state nursery schools.

Avanti, the Italian Socialist party organ, said in an editorial today that the Moro downfall could be traced to "the eternal and paralyzing internal divisions of the Christian Democrat party."

NO POSITION

Avanti also criticized the Italian Communists, saying they have no other policy than to wreck the positions acquired by other parties.

It praised "the unity of all Socialists," a reference to consultations now going on between the Socialist and Democratic Socialist parties as they near reunification.

Saragat's schedule for Sunday includes a talk with Amintore Fanfani, the Christian Democrat former foreign minister who quit as foreign minister 25 days ago and called for a full-scale government reshuffle.

Woman Dies After Getting Last Wish

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — "I just can't die now. I've got to keep on living because I can't leave you," Alta Talamantes, a cancer victim, cried to her sons when they arrived from Mexico.

Mrs. Talamantes, 37, died Friday. Her last wish — to see her two sons before she died — had been granted. They were at her side when she succumbed.

Mrs. Talamantes, a housekeeper, hadn't seen her sons in three years. When her illness was diagnosed, she said she wanted to be sent to Mexico. But she was too ill to be moved, and the boys didn't have enough money to come here.

The story of Mrs. Talamantes' wish appeared in the Santa Ana Register, and readers responded with donations.

IDEAS

J. L. VOORHEES

Some people behave as if they will only have one or two good ideas in a lifetime and they must be careful or they will be stolen. Often this is a realistic fear; but you know you can write your idea down, put your name on it and circulate it so that sufficient people will know about it and ultimately give you credit.

M. E. SIPLE

Creative people know that one good idea often provokes a whole chain of ideas and that they are not bound to some predetermined number of good ideas. They behave as if the supply is endless and it is for them. Others spend more energy protecting one idea than they do in having more. If you are one of these people, then throw your ideas away, give them away, but don't smother them to death by overprotection.

Nigeria Ruler's Body Is Found

British Await Details on Killing of Premier

LONDON (AP) — The British government has received information from Nigeria that the body of Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa has been found, authoritiative sources said today.

The British government is reported to be awaiting precise details of Balewa's killing and where the body was found.

Fear was expressed that discovery of the respected prime minister's body and news of other killings could set off a chain of events that might have grave consequences for military authorities now in control in Nigeria.

The army has a force of 8,000. London is waiting to see how the news of the killing will affect the Nigerian police force, a para-military body with 50,000 members. The police still have some British officers.

AFTER SEIZURE

The assumption among British government authorities here is that Balewa was assassinated by his captors some time after he was seized during a coup a week ago today.

In Lagos Thursday, officials of self-appointed President Johnson Aguiyi Ironsi's administration denied French and Soviet news agency reports that the killing of the Nigerian ex-premier had been officially confirmed.

"Every effort is still being made to find Sir Abubakar," one Nigerian official was quoted as saying at the time.

Sir Abubakar was arrested with his finance minister, Chief Festus Okotie-Eboh, and the two were taken by the rebels to an unknown destination. The finance minister was killed.

Britain's high commission in Lagos has virtually unrestricted lines of communication with the Commonwealth Relations Office in London and has been reporting fully on all developments in the confused and changing situation.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Ted Skerritt, a reporter for the Albany Times-Union, couldn't hear the woman who telephoned the newspaper Friday night and whispered a question.

The woman finally managed to make him understand she wanted to know: "How do you spell 'laryngitis'"

Detroit Crime Unit Files Are Seized by Grand Jury

DETROIT (AP)—The Piggins grand jury, created to investigate alleged traffic ticket fixing in Wayne County, today subpoenaed files of the Detroit Police Criminal Investigation Bureau.

The records of the CIB, which investigates Detroit rackets, were surrendered by Detroit police officials. Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins also ordered all CIB agents to stand by to testify as grand jury witnesses.

Piggins' action came within 90 minutes of the arrest of two men, who were named as Detroit Mafia leaders in a 1963 U.S. Senate rackets hearing by then Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards.

Arrested were Costa Colacasides, 67, of Grosse Pointe, owner of the Grecian Gardens restuarant in Detroit's Greektown section, and his night manager, Peter Vitale, 51, of Mount Clemens.

WARRANTS ISSUED

The two were arrested on warrants issued by Piggins, who is serving as a one-man grand jury. They were charged with attempt to bribe and with actual bribery of a Detroit police officer, Sgt. Billy J. Starks.

Both were arraigned before Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald. Vitale was held under $7,500 bond, and Colacasides under $5,000.

In seizing the CIB files, Piggins also requested Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin to assign two former CIB members, Detective Inspector Earl C. Miller and Detective Lt. Howard Gladue, to the grand jury to aid its investigation.

Miller also testified before the U.S. Senate rackets hearing in October 1963 on operations of the Detroit Mafia.

WAS TRANSFERRED

Miller, who then headed the CIB, was transferred last May by Commissioner Girardin to the Crime Control Center. Glaudue had been transferred to the auto recovery squad.

The CIB was created in 1960 and was formerly headed by Vincent W. Piersante, now chief of detectives. Piersante led the 14-man raiding party which arrested Colacasides and Vitale at the Grecian Gardens at 2 a.m.

The CIB was set up to gather and keep watch on organized crime, notably the Mafia, police said.

Piggins told reporters directives given to him when the grand jury was created last Aug. 31, gave him jurisdiction over the new case because it covers "corruption, crime, vice and gambling in connection with public officials anywhere within our jurisdiction."

MOVE UNKNOWN

Detroit Police Comissioner Girardin, informed of the developments, said he had "no idea why the Grand Jury subpoenaed the files of the criminal intelligence bureau and wants to use some of its former personnel.

Junior Editors Quiz on DIKES

QUESTION: Are dikes used in other places besides the Mississippi River?

ANSWER: A dike or levee is a bank of earth or other material built up to hold back water. Dikes are used where the land is so low that water might flood in.

As most land is higher than the water level, dikes are only needed in special circumstances, such as to prevent flooding along the lower Mississippi.

Yet dikes have had an extremely important part in history. It was by building them that the ancient Egyptians managed to control the River Nile.

It is said that the effort, which had to be made by so many people, led to the development of cities along this and certain other river banks, from which civilization developed.

A remarkable use of dikes is that practiced by the Netherlands, two-fifths of which lies below the level of the sea.

By building dikes, the courageous Dutch have held back the sea for centuries, using dikes also to prevent rivers from flooding over the land.

In recent years, the Dutch have been reclaiming land from the shallow Zuider Zee by building dikes and then pumping out the water on the land side.

In this way they got new land areas called polders. Our young Dutch friend is pointing to one.

Officials Are Mum About N-Weapon

ALMERIA, Spain (AP) — U.S. and Spanish officials remained tight-lipped today as the search for classified material from the wreckage of a U.S. nuclear bomber went into its sixth day.

U.S. Air Force officials working with Spanish military units within a cordoned-off area in which the bomber and a jet tanker plunged last Monday after a refueling collision referred all inquiries to the 16th Air Force headquarters near Madrid.

Information officers there said they were limited to confirming that the bomber carried "unarmed nuclear armament," and that its presence in the dunelands northeast of Almeria was "no threat to public health or safety."

A spokesman at the civil governor's office here said medical teams checking police and others who had handled pieces of the bomber wreckage had been ordered to report their findings daily, and had reported the discovery of "very, very faint traces of radioactivity regarded as of no importance" in the urine of about 15 Spanish civil guards.

WASH CLOTHING

"The men were all instructed to wash all their clothing and lay it out in the sun for as long as possible," said this source, "and to report back to the doctors today for a further check."

(U.S. officials quoted the Spanish Nuclear Energy Board as denying this report but Spanish sources here including the governor's office, doctors, and officials of the civil guard, continued to confirm it.)

Single Vote Saves College

CANTON, Mo. (AP)—The American adage that one vote can change history is well known to the people here, and especially to those involved with Culver-Stockton College.

Twelve years ago the college was floundering and enrollment had dropped to an all-time low. The board of trustees met to decide whether to close the school or not. The decision to remain open was determined by the influence of one vote.

Enrollment is now at a record high. Many faculty members are Ph.Ds. A more than $5 million development program is rolling ahead.

'Che' Killed, Claims Yank

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's one-time right-hand man, was killed and buried in the Dominican Republic last year, according to an American architect who spent four years in a Cuban prison.

Architect Ralph Algiers Rivera, speaking on a Spanish language television program here, claimed last night he knows where Guevara's body is buried.

Rivera, who failed to say who killed Guevara, said the body was in a grave on a farm near the Dominican city of La Veha.

Stanley Ross, editor of El Tiempo, the New York City Spanish language daily newspaper and moderator of the program said the paper would send Rivera to the Dominican Republic to unearth Guevara's body.

State Hiring Bias Exists ---Official

LANSING (AP)—Charges that Negroes are discriminated against in state employment are basically true, says John Feikens, cochairman of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

"But this is not a deliberate thing," he said. "It is not a question of turning qualified Negroes away. It's just a lot of decent, concerned people actually discriminate without knowing it.

"They wouldn't turn them away, but they never think in terms of hiring Negroes . . . of going out aggressively and recruiting them," Feikens added.

Calling for a civil rights commission investigation Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, has charged the Civil Service Commission with discrimination. The fact that 9.6 per cent of state employes are nonwhite, while 9.4 per cent of the total state population falls in that class, does not affect his charge, Bradley added in a letter to Feikens Friday.

WANTS PROBE

Negroes, he said, "are concentrated without exception in the lower levels of state employment."

"Basically, the complaint has been before us for some time," Feikens said. "We have taken it up with the Civil Service Commission, and our staff feels real progress already has been made.

"We want to find out how the departments of government have drifted into this pattern, and Franklin DeWald (state personnel director) wants to help," Feikens added.

Feikens said the lack of Negroes in higher-ecehelon positions most frequently is due to a lack of applications by Negroes for these positions.

"But Negroes have for years felt there was no use in applying for these jobs; they've been plagued with a sense of frustration and a feeling they wouldn't get anywhere," he said adding:

"We have to go out and urge them to try; convince them that their race will not be a barrier. And this can be done without lowering civil service standards. In some cases, this might have to involve job retraining."

10,000 Left Homeless by Blaze in Bangkok

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — About 10,000 persons were made homeless Friday when a five-hour blaze destroyed about 1,000 slum huts near the Bangkok waterfront.

Officials estimated damage at $1.5 million.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: A solar still.

NEEDED: An empty rectangular gallon can, tin snips, a sheet of window glass, two clothes pins, clay, kitchen metal foil and water.

DO THIS: Slice the can open with the tin snips as shown. Put clay around the edge to act as a seal; attach the clothes pins to the top of the glass so that it will not slide; bend the foil into a trough—and you have a solar still.

HOW IT WORKS: When water is placed in the still and bright sunlight is directed into it, the water evaporates and much of it condenses again in the undersurface of the glass. It runs down the undersurface of the glass, dripping into the trough and then into a container.

The still will work in bright sunlight or under a strong lamp. It is usually necessary to paint the inside of the still black; this will change more of the energy entering into heat and so evaporate more water.

This small still is not practical for producing useable amounts of distilled water, but the principle is shown, and several ounces of distilled water may be obtained in this manner. It is better to start it with hot water.

NEXT WEEK: The Skating Glasses.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is on sale in bookstores, or may be ordered from Bob Brown, the author, in care of The Pontiac Press.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF RUTH June Pennell, who passed away one year ago today, January 22, 1965.
God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what He thought best:
He came and stood beside you,
And whispered come to rest.
You wished no one a last farewell,
Not even to say good-bye;
You had gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.

IN MEMORY OF FLOYD SURLES, who passed away January 23, 1963.
When the ties of love are broken,
And loved ones have to part,
It leaves a wound that never heals,
And an ever eching heart,
God alone knows how much I miss him,
Since he was called away,
But to me who loved him,
It seems like yesterday,
Sadly missed by his wife Clara.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ANNA Pavlinac, who passed away, Jan. 23, 1965.
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee, dear Ma.

62-Year-Old NY Hotel to Be Razed in 1967

NEW YORK (AP) — When the last guest checks out at the end of the year the Astor Hotel will close down after 62 years and be razed to make way for a 40-story office building.

The hotel, one of Times Square's last ties to its elegant past, was sold Friday to Sam Minskoff & Sons for about $10.5-million.

Jackie Gleason to Go Off TV

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Comedian Jackie Gleason, annoucing abruptly that he will not have a regular television show next year, says he has "done to death" his current series and wants time off to develop new ideas.

Gleason, who has been off television only one season since 1952, told a news conference Friday:

"I would like to be doing better than I'm doing now, even though we won the rating battle. Any ham with ego wants to do his best, and then there's the moral question of taking money without earning it. I've done to death the American scene magazine."

A joint announcement from Gleason and CBS said the portly 49-year-old comedian wanted time off to develop new concepts for future network shows.

THE HONEYMOONERS

Gleason also said he would like to go back to the "Honeymooners," the show that shot him to fame as a bus driver, with Audrey Meadows and Art Carney. But he said both have other commitments.

Busty Movie Star Diets Away Her Stock in Trade

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Christiane Schmidtmer, the beautifully oversized "Chermun" sexpot whose voluptuosity has caused somebody to call her "Berlin's largest export," was seen on Broadway recently looking so reduced in the bodice that one fan said "You're too skinny!"

WILSON

A fine thing to say to the bouncy blonde who was heralded as being the bust champion of Hollywood with a 44 measurement when she made "Ship of Fools" in scenes with Jose Ferrer chasing her.

She reduced mostly for her love.

Her fiance, Michel Thomas, a European intellectual whom she "trapped" — she admits it—into coming to a party where she was the only guest besides him, thought she was too big in the upstairs.

"I used to wear a size 14 dress, and when I would shop for bikinis, I would always buy two bikinis," Christiane confessed.

"Because downstairs I was size 12, and upstairs I was size 14 or 16.

"But I decided I was too big for American films, and I took 30 shots and went from 140 to 120 in four weeks.

"And our love gets more and more! He likes me not so round. He thinks I changed better. And, anyway I chust lost on places where I was too big."

Christiane, who is about to become an American TV star, playing Robert Goulet's girlfriend in the ABC spy series, "Blue Light," says that due to her weight reduction (via broiled everything) "I am also now much cheaper. Now I only have to buy one bikini, which I can wear both downstairs and upstairs."

HERBERT MARSHALL

Movie, Stage Veteran Is Dead at Age 75

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Herbert Marshall, who lost a leg in World War I, but enjoyed 50 years in show business, died this morning at his Beverly Hills home. He was 75.

The actor died of a heart attack at 12:20 a.m. He had been in the Motion Picture Country Home recently and had returned home shortly before his death.

"They don't seem to make my type of pictures anymore — the type that was termed 'drawing room' for lack of a better name."

CORRECT BRITISHER

And Marshall, indeed, was the "drawing room" type — the immaculate and correct Britisher, speaking in clipped accents and fully at home in elegant surroundings.

The handsome actor led an adventurous life. He lost the leg in World War I when he and Ronald Coleman were in the 14th London Scots Regiment.

This put him in the hospital for 13 months, but in later years he covered his handicap so well that few knew of it.

He was married five times. He worked hard at a career that covered the stage, silent films, sound films, radio and television.

Recent TB Outbreak Spurs County Action

The recent nursery school tuberculosis epidemic in Wayne County has sparked action to exercise some health control over child care centers in the Pontiac area.

Gordon Hobbs, of the Oakland County Department of Public Health, said today heads of several nursery schools in the county have requested the department consult with them and verify their health procedures.

Many child care centers are asking that their staffs have current X rays, and that the children be given skin tests.

Most private child care homes are also asking that the youngsters be immunized for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and whooping cough, as is required in the public schools.

Hobbs said children should also be immunized against measles.

"The Health Department is more than happy to provide guidance and advice to these groups," Hobbs said.

GOOD PRACTICES

Hobbs also said that the general public has an obligation to have their children examined by their own physician, even to seeing that they have annual chest X rays.

"'A stitch in time' surely applies to the situation, especially after what happened downstate," Hobbs said.

The nursing division of the Health Department is available to offer advice as well as providing immunization for those who cannot afford to pay for the services privately, he said.

SAD FACT

Hobbs added that "the sad part is that something always has to happen before the public becomes concerned.

"The lives of little children are a terrific responsibility. The parents, in many cases, are lax," he said.

Exams Urged for Children

16th Case Discovered in Wayne County

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Health Department Friday recommended examinations for children at all county nursery schools.

The recommendation followed discovery of the 16th case of tuberculosis reported in two nursery schools in suburban areas.

The latest case was discovered at a preschool nursery in Livonia. The victim, a 4-year-old boy, was admitted to Maybury Hospital in Northville, Mich.

Health officials said the boy had recently transferred to the school from one in Garden City where 15 other cases of TB were discovered in late December and early this month.

Dr. John J. Hanlon, head of the Wayne County Health Department, said he has ordered his department to contact some 30 day care nursery centers in the county, asking them to ask parents of children enrolled in the schools to get TB checkups at county clinics.

NEWCOMB MOTT

Jewel Theft Victim Dines; Police Wait

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Frederica Emert returned to her ocean front villa from the races at Hialeah Friday, discovered a small leather box containing jewels valued at a half million dollars had been stolen — and sat down to eat dinner.

Mrs. Emert, 56, a wealthy New York socialite, would not let detectives and FBI agents question her until she had finished eating.

Officials estimated her wealth in jewels at close to $1.5 million. She wore $150,000 in jewels to the track. Other gems are reported in a New York City bank vault.

Inside the box were the rest of her jewels. Capt. Dick Shelton of the sheriff's burglary squad said the thieves cut a screen and broke through a door in the back of the villa.

Mrs. Emert told police she couldn't produce a complete list of jewels taken until she checks to see what she brought to Florida. The $500,000 estimate was hers.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Foreign Ministry informed the United States today the body of Newcomb Mott will be brought to Moscow for an autopsy Monday.

Mott, 27, of Sheffield, Mass., had been sentenced in November to 18 months in a labor camp after conviction on a charge of illegally entering the Soviet Union. He was arrested Sept. 4.

The U.S. Embassy said it will be represented at the post mortem in Moscow.

It said First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler "a medical examination, including an autopsy, as required by Soviet law," will be performed.

SEARCHING RUBBLE — A U.S. soldier patrols explosion-littered alley while Vietnamese probe the ruins of a billet where a Cong bomb killed an American serviceman in Saigon yesterday. The bomb was placed on a bicycle and exploded against the building. In addition, a woman in the adjacent house was killed and several others injured.

Yank Killed as GI Billet Is Bombed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)— A terrorist bomb blasted a U.S. servicemen's billet in Saigon early today and killed an American as the lunar New Year truce passed the half-way mark.

The 25-pound bomb, on a bicycle placed against the billet, ripped a two-foot hole in the wall, killing a U.S. sergeant asleep in a nearby room and fatally wounding a Vietnamese woman who was asleep in a house across a narrow alley.

Two other soldiers and several civilians were injured.

It was believed that about 40 men were sleeping in the Signal Corps unit billet a mile from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport at the time.

VC BLAMED

They said it apparently was the work of the Communist Viet Cong or sympathizers, but it was not as serious as a clear-cut military action during combat.

There was mounting evidence that the Viet Cong had been avoiding contact with South Vietnamese troops during the holiday.

In reports from the field a U.S. spokesman said there were numerous minor incidents late Friday and early today but no major violations.

The incidents involved sniper fire or small patrol actions and it was difficult to blame one side or the other, he said.

Federal Authorities Join Hunt for Murder Suspect

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Federal authorities have entered the search for a 22-year-old man charged with first-degree murder in the death of a 2-year-old son of the woman with whom he had been living here.

ALBERTO SANCHEZ

EDDIE MONTALVO

QUESTION RELATIVES

Police at McAllen, Tex., were questioning Sanchez' relatives in an effort to learn his whereabouts.

Toledo police say the boy was beaten to death here last Nov. 29 and his body was wrapped in a blanket and placed in an outhouse on an abandoned farm in Summerfield Township, Mich., north of Toledo.

The body was found by a hunter last Saturday, but was not identified until Thursday.

The first break in the case came Thursday when Mrs. Ramon Barboza of Toledo heard that a Michigan widow was raising funds for a proper burial of the still unidentified, slain boy.

CALLS SHERIFF

She telephoned the Monroe County, Mich., sheriff's office and told them she thought the child was Eddie Montalvo.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales and Mrs. Barboza were taken to Monroe Mercy Hospital where the boy's body was identified, principally from a pronounced scar on the lip.

Detectives said they had determined that the boy was beaten to death in the Gonzales home, while Mrs. Gonzales was in a Toledo hospital.

Mrs. Gonzales did not learn Eddie was missing until she returned home Nov. 30.

Sanchez and Miss Montalvo left Toledo soon after that and said they were going to the San Antonio area.

Police said they learned that Sanchez called his mother Thursday asking for money to finance a trip to Mexico.

The boy's body was claimed by Mrs. Marcha Montalvo of Adrian, Mich., the boy's maternal grandmother. It will be taken to Adrian for burial after Toledo police officially release it, in a day or two.

LBJ Tax Bill Finds Few Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee reports it is receiving only scattered opposition to President Johnson's $4.8-billion tax bill.

There are indications both the committee and the full House may act on the measure early next month, giving the Senate more than a month to consider the measure and still reach the President's goal of enactment by March 15. The added tax funds are earmarked to help pay for the war in Viet Nam.

The administration proposal includes cancelation for two years of auto and phone tax cuts which went into effect Jan. 1, a speedup in corporate tax collections and changes in the withholding schedule for middle-income taxpayers.

The House committee heard from Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and other administration witnesses this week.

Segments of the automobile industry may send no witnesses to discuss the proposed increase in the automobile excise tax, but only submit statements for the record.

CHECKING VENTILATION — Oakland County Health Department sanitarian Kazem Shushtari (left) and Oscar Boyea, assistant director of the department's environmental health division, use a velometer to check ventilation effectiveness of a newly installed canopy in the kitchen of a restaurant. The recommended ventilation standard is a flow of 100 cubic feet of air per minute.

Agency Is Watchdog on Food

By JOE MULLEN

Maintaining a clean restaurant once was mainly a plus factor in drawing added business. Today it's a "must" in Oakland County.

An operator of a restaurant or other food-handling establishment now must meet standards of the Oakland County Health Department or face possible closing of his business.

The health department was given broader power in enforcing health standards by a resolution passed in September 1964 by the County Board of Supervisors.

This action placed the power to suspend a firm's operating license with the health department.

Previously, the health department was governed by local ordinances in the municipality in which violations occurred.

EIGHT CLOSED

Last year the division of environmental health of the County Health Department ordered eight food-handling establishments to close for failure to meet standards. Five later rreopened.

One closing already has been ordered this year.

Alabama Dem Motto Stirs Controversy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Democratic party policymakers in Alabama face the choice today of dropping their "white supremacy" motto or retaining it in the face of a threatened Negro revolt.

Old-line Democrats led by State Chairman Roy Mayhall promised to seek removal of the 62-year-old slogan from the party emblem when the State Democratic Executive Committee meets today to draw up rules for this year's elections.

Gov. George C. Wallace, in a last-minute change in plans, sent word that he would speak at the committee meeting.

Wallace had kept his hands off the party fight in advance of the meeting. There was no indication that he would abandon a neutral role.

QUALIFYING DEADLINE

Neither was it considered likely that he would tell the party governing body whether his wife, Lurlee, plans to run for governor. He has until March 1, the qualifying deadline for the May 3 democratic primary, to make that decision known.

There was talk that some committeemen might try to put off the decision on preservation of the "white supremacy" motto which has been a part of the official Democratic emblem in Alabama since 1904.

But Mayhall, a Jasper, Ala., attorney and former judge, said he would call another meeting "as soon as the rules permit" if the party leaders sidestepped the issue.

It would take 10 days' notice to call the committee back because a rules change was involved, but Mayhall threatened to keep the 72-member group in session from day to day if necessary to force a showdown.

COULD DO IT

He could do that by posting a new 10-day notice each day. And the party chairman said he just might call each meeting for a different city to scatter the forces of the states rights Democrats fighting to keep the motto intact.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers asked the committee in advance to strike the motto from the party emblem to avoid risking loss of Negro votes in the November general election.

Civil rights leaders in some counties have threatened to form their own party rather than support Democratic candidates running under a "white supremacy" emblem.

The voters this year will elect a governor — Wallace is prohibited by state law from seeking reelection — a U.S. senator, all eight House members, a newly reapportioned state legislature, and scores of lesser state and local officers.

There has been increasing speculation in recent days that Wallace's 39-year-old wife will run for the office he now holds.

naturally caused deep sorrow and shock to the public in the United States and elsewhere."

The spokesman said the phrase that circumstances were "not yet fully clear" meant the U.S. government was neither accepting nor rejecting the Soviet report that Mott killed himself.

The embassy is awaiting details, the spokesman added.

The embassy tried to send two consular officers to Kirov, about 500 miles northeast of Moscow, where the body was held after Mott died.

MISSED PLANE

But they missed a plane and the embassy canceled their trip when the Russians said the body would come here by train, arriving tomorrow.

It was unclear whether embassy officials would have a chance to question the guards with Mott or others with first-hand knowledge of the death.

Mott's mother, Mrs. Howard Mott, said at her home in Sheffield: "I think the Russians killed him. How could he commit suicide if he were on a train surrounded by Russian guards I'm pretty sure they would have searched him thoroughly for any weapons."

She said she "began to get more suspicious" after she had talked to the Soviet Embassy in Washington about returning the body and was told it might not be possible.

She said she had been unable to learn any details of her son's death from the Soviet Embassy.

Mott, a book salesman, was convicted Nov. 24 of illegally crossing the Norwegian-Soviet frontier Sept. 4 and sentenced to 18 months. He would have been eligible for parole next June 4. His parents attended the trial at Murmansk.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said in Washington last night the State Department "has instructed the embassy to insist upon a full investigation of the circumstances of Mott's death and report as soon as possible."

Kirov is about 1,000 miles southeast of Murmansk and about halfway along the main rail line from Moscow to the Ural Mountains that mark the beginning of Siberia.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler said, "I am profoundly shocked by the death of Newcomb Mott and deplore the handling of this matter which has come to such a tragic end."

Jaycees Seek Award Entries

Boss of Year, Service Honors Are at Stake

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations for two of the group's annual awards — the "Boss of the Year" and the "Distinguished Service" plaque.

Terrence A. Tollefson, 3900 Dill, Waterford Township, awards chairman, has asked for letters from the community at large submitting names of candidates for the awards.

Tollefson said the "boss" award should go to a man exemplifying the best of human relations and management development attributes, as well as technical competency in his field.

Letters should be brief, but include reasons for the nomination. Deadline is Jan. 31.

The plaque for distinguished service will go to a young man between the ages of 21 and 35.

The award is made on the basis of civic, religious or cultural contributions to the community.

Plead Innocent in Bank Holdup

Two Pontiac men charged with the $21,000 armed robbery of a Pontiac State Bank branch Dec. 17 pleaded not guilty yesterday at their arraignment in federal District Court in Detroit.

Rentz Nicholson Jr., 31, of 175 Victory, charged with armed bank robbery, was ordered held in the Wayne County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond by presiding Judge Thaddeus M. Nachrowicz.

Darnell L. Colbert, 28, of 460 Nevada, facing a count of aiding and abetting Nicholson in the holdup, was released after furnishing $5,000 bond.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Robert J. Grace said conviction on the charges could carry a 25-year prison sentence for Nicholson and a 10-year term for Colbert.

Nicholson was apprehended within minutes after the bank's office at 970 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Township was held up of $21,258.

itarians are particularly interested in proper refrigeration, washing of dishes and utensils, ventilation of the building and general cleanliness.

Neither the size nor exterior appearance of a food handling establishment is a basis for judging internal sanitation conditions.

"We find inadequacies in both large and small places, the plain and the elaborate," Coleman said.

"A prime cause of bacteria in meat is use of an improperly cleaned meat grinder to make hamburger," Coleman said.

MANY SURFACES

"Meat collects bacteria on its outside surface and many new surfaces are created when it is ground," he explained.

The health department requires that all employes of food handling establishments have a chest X ray to determine that they are nontubercular.

Food handling investigation, though probably the most time-consuming, is just one of the duties of the environmental health division sanitarians.

Inspection of sewage disposal programs is a significant part of the job as is the constant sampling of drinking water in rural areas of the county.

TIME SPENT

"Our sanitarians actually spend more time on sewage disposal system inspections in the northern part of the county than on food handling inspections," Coleman said.

"This is because septic systems are used in most of this area."

Coleman said he looks forward to the time when sewers will replace septic systems which he considers only adequate on a temporary basis.

OTHER DUTIES

Besides making at least one check a year on some 2,000 county food handling businesses and performing sewage disposal and water inspections, the environmental health division has many other duties.

One that is rapidly increasing in scope is that of testing swimming pool water on a weekly basis during the swimming season.

All testing is done in the usual cause of excessive bacteria," Coleman said.

Among the other responsibilities of the environmental health division are checking trash and rodent problems and specifying corrective measures.

'Future Bright' for Newspaper

OCC President, Exec Elected Bank Directors

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The president of the International Newspaper Advertising Executives Association said today American newspapers were bigger, better, more prosperous and face a brighter future than ever before.

Carl P. Flynn, advertising director of the Tulsa (Okla.) World-Tribune, made the statement in a speech to the opening session of the INAE's 96th annual sales conference.

About 1,000 newspaper advertising executives are attending the conference, which will run through today

Flynn said the delegates represent a "healthy, growing, prosperous, $10-billion business — the most effective, most economical, most productive advertising medium in existence."

He said newspapers deliver information to more than 60 million subscribers and are the major influence in moving more than $250 billion in retail sales and services.

"When the public is to be thoroughly informed, when the freedom of the American citizen is to be protected, when there is merchandise to be moved, when sales quotas are to be met, it's the daily newspaper that carries the ball," Flynn said.

U-M Regents Name Law School Dean

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan regents Friday appointed a law school dean, rejected a proposal for a university-owned bookstore and promised to start looking for a new president shortly.

The board named Francis Allen, a University of Chicago law professor, as dean of the U-M law school effective July 1. He is a specialist in criminal law and helped draft the Illinois Criminal Code of 1961.

Rejection of the bookstore proposal came as some 30 students picketed with placards supporting the idea in front of the administration building where the regents were meeting.

Creation of the bookstore was urged in a petition signed by 13,000 students, but the regents adopted a report which said an investigation showed such a store would require the university to rent commercial space at an estimated cost of $45,000 a year.

REASONABLE SERVICE

The report said that Ann Arbor, where the University is located, already has a number of commercial bookstores which "provide reasonable service to students."

"In almost all cases," the report added, "colleges which operate their own stores established them because no such service was available to their students."

The regents agreed that the university should increase its efforts to recruit and support students who qualify for admission but who are discouraged from doing so "because of economic disadvantage."

START PROCESS

In seeking a replacement for U-M President Harlan Hatcher, scheduled to retire Dec. 31, 1967, the regents commented that "it is now time to put in motion the processes of selection," and promised to set forth shortly a complete statement on policy and procedures.

CORRECTION

The prices appearing in Poole Hardware Ad Thursday, Jan. 20 on humidifiers were incorrect. They should have read $12.95-$59.95.

Nigeria Ruler's Body Is Found

British Await Details on Killing of Premier

LONDON (AP) — The British government has received information from Nigeria that the body of Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa has been found, authoritiative sources said today.

The British government is reported to be awaiting precise details of Balewa's killing and where the body was found.

Fear was expressed that discovery of the respected prime minister's body and news of other killings could set off a chain of events that might have grave consequences for military authorities now in control in Nigeria.

The army has a force of 8,000. London is waiting to see how the news of the killing will affect the Nigerian police force, a para-military body with 50,000 members. The police still have some British officers.

AFTER SEIZURE

The assumption among British government authorities here is that Balewa was assassinated by his captors some time after he was seized during a coup a week ago today.

In Lagos Thursday, officials of self-appointed President Johnson Aguiyi Ironsi's administration denied French and Soviet news agency reports that the killing of the Nigerian ex-premier had been officially confirmed.

"Every effort is still being made to find Sir Abubakar," one Nigerian official was quoted as saying at the time.

Sir Abubakar was arrested with his finance minister, Chief Festus Okotie-Eboh, and the two were taken by the rebels to an unknown destination. The finance minister was killed.

Britain's high commission in Lagos has virtually unrestricted lines of communication with the Commonwealth Relations Office in London and has been reporting fully on all developments in the confused and changing situation.

Authorities Silent in Spain During A-Weapon Hunt

ALMERIA, Spain (AP) — U.S. and Spanish officials remained tight-lipped today as the search for classified material from the wreckage of a U.S. nuclear bomber went into its sixth day.

U.S. Air Force officials working with Spanish military units within a cordoned-off area in which the bomber and a jet tanker plunged last Monday after a refueling collision referred all inquiries to the 16th Air Force headquarters near Madrid.

Information officers there said they were limited to confirming that the bomber carried "unarmed nuclear armament," and that its presence in the dunelands northeast of Almeria was "no threat to public health or safety."

A spokesman at the civil governor's office here said medical teams checking police and others who had handled pieces of the bomber wreckage had been ordered to report their findings daily, and had reported the discovery of "very, very faint traces of radioactivity regarded as of no importance" in the urine of about 15 Spanish civil guards.

WASH CLOTHING

"The men were all instructed to wash all their clothing and lay it out in the sun for as long as possible," said this source, "and to report back to the doctors today for a further check."

(U.S. officials quoted the Spanish Nuclear Energy Board as denying this report but Spanish sources here including the governor's office, doctors, and officials of the civil guard, continued to confirm it.)

Detroit Holds Two Alleged Mafia Men

DETROIT (UPI) — Two alleged members of the notorious Mafia were arrested in a raid at a night spot here early today.

The raid was carried out on the orders of Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward Piggins, who issued the warrants for Peter Vitalia and Costa Colacasides, both identified in police records as allegedly being members of the Mafia.

The two were immediately arraigned on charges of conspiring to bribe and attempted bribery of a police officer and held pending bond.

Piggins, who has been acting as a one-man grand jury investigating ticket-fixing in Wayne County, has refused to say why the investigation was broadened, but it is noted he is authorized to investigate crime and corruption throughout the county.

Piggins immediately subpenaed the confidential records of both men in the files of the Criminal Intelligence Bureau (CIB) of the Detroit Police Department. He also asked Police Commissioner Ray Girardin to assign two inspectors as his aides in the investigation.

The inspectors are Earl Miller and Howard Gladiu. Gladiu is an inspector in the CIB, and Miller was an inspector there until a short time ago.

He was reassigned to communications after it was revealed that he had loaned a confidential file on Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, the civil rights worker who was slain near Selma, Ala. last March 25.

Vitalia was held pending $7,500 bond while bond on Colacasides was fixed at $5,000.

Single Vote Saves College

CANTON, Mo. (AP)—The American adage that one vote can change history is well known to the people here, and especially to those involved with Culver-Stockton College.

Twelve years ago the college was floundering and enrollment had dropped to an all-time low. The board of trustees met to decide whether to close the school or not. The decision to remain open was determined by the influence of one vote.

Enrollment is now at a record high. Many faculty members are Ph.Ds. A more than $5 million development program is rolling ahead.

State Hiring Bias Exists ---Official

LANSING (AP)—Charges that Negroes are discriminated against in state employment are basically true, says John Feikens, cochairman of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

"But this is not a deliberate thing," he said. "It is not a question of turning qualified Negroes away. It's just a lot of decent, concerned people actually discriminate without knowing it.

"They wouldn't turn them away, but they never think in terms of hiring Negroes . . . of going out aggressively and recruiting them," Feikens added.

Calling for a civil rights commission investigation Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, has charged the Civil Service Commission with discrimination. The fact that 9.6 per cent of state employes are nonwhite, while 9.4 per cent of the total state population falls in that class, does not affect his charge, Bradley added in a letter to Feikens Friday.

WANTS PROBE

Bradley, a Negro, wants the investigation to start in Gov. George Romney's office and work its way down.

Negroes, he said, "are concentrated without exception in the lower levels of state employment."

"Basically, the complaint has been before us for some time," Feikens said. "We have taken it up with the Civil Service Commission, and our staff feels real progress already has been made.

"We want to find out how the departments of government have drifted into this pattern, and Franklin DeWald (state personnel director) wants to help," Feikens added.

Feikens said the lack of Negroes in higher-ecehelon positions most frequently is due to a lack of applications by Negroes for these positions.

"But Negroes have for years felt there was no use in applying for these jobs; they've been plagued with a sense of frustration and a feeling they wouldn't get anywhere," he said adding:

"We have to go out and urge them to try; convince them that their race will not be a barrier. And this can be done without lowering civil service standards. In some cases, this might have to involve job retraining."

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: A solar still.

NEEDED: An empty rectangular gallon can, tin snips, a sheet of window glass, two clothes pins, clay, kitchen metal foil and water.

DO THIS: Slice the can open with the tin snips as shown. Put clay around the edge to act as a seal; attach the clothes pins to the top of the glass so that it will not slide; bend the foil into a trough—and you have a solar still.

HOW IT WORKS: When water is placed in the still and bright sunlight is directed into it, the water evaporates and much of it condenses again in the undersurface of the glass. It runs down the undersurface of the glass, dripping into the trough and then into a container.

The still will work in bright sunlight or under a strong lamp. It is usually necessary to paint the inside of the still black; this will change more of the energy entering into heat and so evaporate more water.

This small still is not practical for producing useable amounts of distilled water, but the principle is shown, and several ounces of distilled water may be obtained in this manner. It is better to start it with hot water.

NEXT WEEK: The Skating Glasses.

A collection of the "Science For You" experiments is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is on sale in bookstores, or may be ordered from Bob Brown, the author, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Junior Editors Quiz on DIKES

QUESTION: Are dikes used in other places besides the Mississippi River?

ANSWER: A dike or levee is a bank of earth or other material built up to hold back water. Dikes are used where the land is so low that water might flood in.

As most land is higher than the water level, dikes are only needed in special circumstances, such as to prevent flooding along the lower Mississippi.

Yet dikes have had an extremely important part in history. It was by building them that the ancient Egyptians managed to control the River Nile.

It is said that the effort, which had to be made by so many people, led to the development of cities along this and certain other river banks, from which civilization developed.

By building dikes, the courageous Dutch have held back the sea for centuries, using dikes also to prevent rivers from flooding over the land.

In recent years, the Dutch have been reclaiming land from the shallow Zuider Zee by building dikes and then pumping out the water on the land side.

In this way they got new land areas called polders. Our young Dutch friend is pointing to one.
