'Canadian Officers Blocking U.S. Army Deserters'

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A Vancouver lawyer says Canadian immigration officers are using "gestapo tactics" to stop U.S. military deserters from entering Canada.

John Taylor, a former member of Parliament, said yesterday he has handled about a dozen cases in the past month in which actions by immigration officers conflicted with the stated Canadian federal policy on deserters.

★ ★ ★

Taylor contended deserters are not being treated like any other persons seeking entry to Canada—in direct opposition to a policy established last month by Immigration Minister Allan Maceachen—and said he is convinced his country's immigration officials are assisting their U.S. counterparts in apprehending deserters.

"This gestapo arrangement lessens the respect for Canadian officials," Taylor said.

CASE CITED

Taylor cited the case of a 20-year-old Berkeley, Calif., youth who he said was taken into custody June 8 at a U.S. immigration office at Kingsgate, B.C. He described the youth as a deserter from the U.S. Army.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said the youth was told by the Canadian officer that his application for entry would have to be approved by a senior officer so he would have to return to the American side of the border until the next morning.

But once back on the U.S. side, Taylor said, the youth discovered the Canadian officer had telephoned the U.S. Immigration office to report the youth had been turned back.

Taylor said the young Californian was told to report to the sheriff's office in Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, but did not do so. He said three days later he entered Canada—as a tourist—at Blaine, Wash., 30 miles south of here.

★ ★ ★

Lyall Hawkins, regional director of immigration here, defended the actions of the unidentified Kingsgate immigration official. He said it was entirely up to the officer as to whether he informed the American side that the youth was a deserter.

Thieu Eyes Cong-S. Viet Vote Study

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam reportedly has asked his advisers and cabinet ministers to consider setting up a joint commission of government and Vietcong representatives to study procedures for electing a postwar government.

Informed sources said today that Thieu was trying to get solid governmental and military backing for the proposal before it is put before the Vietcong.

The man mentioned to represent the government on the commission is Duong Van Minh — "Big Minh" — the popular general who led the 1963 overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Minh returned to South Vietnam from political exile last year but has stayed out of the limelight.

Government and American sources would not comment on the report. Usually reliable informants said Thieu was not likely to disclose his plan but was mainly concerned with insuring support from his generals, who are suspicious of any dealings with the Vietcong.

Thieu reportedly told President Nixon during their Midway talks June 8

Related Story, Page A-3

that he would press the Vietcong delegation in Paris to discuss election procedures. His moves in Saigon were seen as a preliminary step.

★ ★ ★

Informants said the South Vietnamese president wants such talks with the Vietcong to be secret and might refuse to discuss the issue at the peace table or in public.

Prior agreement within the South Vietnamese government on a specific proposal would strengthen the government delegation's position in Paris, and Thieu evidently is striving for that.

ENABLES QUICK RESPONSE

It also would enable the delegation to respond quickly if a proposal were to come from the Vietcong.

The sources in Saigon added that the Vietcong's provisional revolutionary government has made no election proposal in Paris and that no change in the current stalemate there is seen for at least two or three months.

In addition to the discussions on election procedures, Thieu is reported considering action on such measures as land reform and some administrative changes to strengthen his government. But reliable informants said no decisions have been taken on those matters.

DEATH SCENE — The body of a 25-year-old White Lake Township woman was found in this room of a two-story home that was gutted by fire early today. She was found just a few feet from a door leading outside from the kitchen. Nobody else was injured in the blaze.

Dismissal of Euler Remains a Mystery

Why Pontiac General Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler was fired remained a mystery today.

Members of the board of directors are silent, and chairman Aleck Capsalis refused to disclose specific reasons for the surprise discharge of Euler from the $26,750-a-year post he held for 11 years.

★ ★ ★

Euler was unanimously fired by board members Thursday night in what they described as "the best interests of the hospital."

The 64-year-old silver-haired administrator said late yesterday afternoon he was still bewildered and shocked by his dismissal.

PRECEDED BY TROUBLES

Pontiac General Hospital had been in trouble before Euler took over. It was seriously in debt for two years, Euler's predecessor had been fired, and national attention centered on the institution when a surgeon was fired.

During his reign, the hospital ended in the black some $50,000 to $100,000 each year, Euler said. That's just better than a break-evenpoint with an annual budget of about $12 million.

Euler, 133 Ottawa, spent much of yesterday at home, answering phone inquiries and trying to get some rest, he said. He stayed away from the hospital.

"I don't have any plans right now," he remarked. "I'll wait and see how this develops. I'm still recovering from the shock."

NO HOSPITAL BACKGROUND

The challenge of the job attracted Euler to the hospital in 1958. He was a successful businessman who didn't have a background in hospital administration.

He says he now "might consider going back into the estate management and tax consultant business in Pontiac which he owned and operated for 20 years before liquidating it and joining the hospital.

Meanwhile, the city-owned hospital continued to operate yesterday amidst talk of Euler's firing and without its No. 2 administrator, whom Euler had fired.

Associate Administrator Donald Carros was fired June 10 for what Euler said was "a lack of communication and normal problems of operating as a team with others." Carros had been at the hospital for more than 12 years.

NO COMMENT

Carros, reached at home yesterday, refused to comment on the situation.

Rec Fund Bill Being Polished

LANSING (AP)— House and Senate leaders were working this weekend on the final details of a revised, $100-million recreation bond measure now in line for consideration in the lower chamber.

The House Conservation Committee voted 10-3 yesterday to recommend adoption of the Senate bill after shuffling some $5 million in the controversial allocation for Natural Resources Department fish and game projects.

★ ★ ★

Object of the revisions, made after consultations involving Gov. William Milliken, Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, is to avoid any delay in action next week on major, department budget bills.

"We hope the Senate will be able to vote immediate acceptance of our amendments," Ryan said yesterday.

ALLOCATIONS PROPOSED

The major revisions by the House Conservation Committee involve state-controlled projects.

State recreation projects in urban areas: $25 (30).

State parks $24.3 (27); fisheries $11.7 (6); wildlife $6.3 (5); forestry $2.7 (2). Total for these projects: $45 (40).

Both versions would give $30 million to six regional areas for distribution to local governments on a per capita basis.

Backers of the House version indicated the compromise would meet most of the 30-40-30 criteria proposed early this spring by Milliken.

At the same time, it was believed Natural Resources Department control over the $25 million earmarked for urban recreation may satisfy many legislators and conservationists who contended the original bond

Summer's Arrival Bathed in Sunlight

Brilliant sunshine greeted summer in the Pontiac area when it arrived at 8:55 this morning. But sunny skies won't last. The U.S. Weather Bureau reports the clouds are coming.

★ ★ ★

TODAY — Increasing cloudiness and cool, high 62 to 70. Tonight cloudy and not so cool, low 45 to 50.

Winds east to northeast under 10 miles per hour becoming southeasterly at five to 15 miles tonight.

★ ★ ★

MONDAY — Little change.

Probabilities of precipitation are 10 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight, 40 per cent tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The mercury touched a low of 44 in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The temperature had climbed to 64 by 12:30 p.m.

Senators Seek Missile Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators trying for a compromise in the antiballistic missile fight hope to strictly limit the number of Safeguard missiles the Pentagon can buy in the coming year.

This is in addition to their primary goal of prohibiting deployment of any ABMs at the two initial Safeguard sites in Montana and North Dakota until Congress later gives the go-ahead, sources said.

In addition, the sources said, the Senate Armed Services Committee is being asked to speak out in favor of a U.S. initiative to convince the Soviet Union to join in mutual cessation of testing and deployment of MIRVs, which would enable a multiwarhead-equipped missile to bear in on several different targets at once.

★ ★ ★

All of these points, including the MIRV issue, were in the conclusions of a majority report of a special research subcommittee forwarded to the full committee earlier in the week.

TO BE SCRUTINIZED

The report will come under scrutiny of the committee when it starts serious work of marking up the $21.9 billion military procurement authorization bill Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Since the bill includes funds to procure, develop and test Spartan and Sprint missiles for ABM use, limits on any one of these activities could be written into the legislation either in the committee or on the Senate floor.

★ ★ ★

The MIRV issue is somewhat different since those who want to halt its testing and deployment pending U.S.-Soviet arms talks are trying for a policy statement rather than restrictive legislation.

House Fire Kills Woman in White Lake Township

Fire of undetermined origin early today ripped through a two-story frame house in White Lake Township, killing a woman.

Dead is Mrs. Russell (Donna) Morey, 25, of 1105 Union Lake. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac Gerneral Hospital after township fire officials pulled her body from the kitchen of the burning home.

★ ★ ★

Her husband escaped injury by leaping from an upstairs bedroom window. There are no children in the family.

★ ★ ★

Morey told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was awakened about 4:40 a.m. by the screaming of his wife who was downstairs. When he tried to go downstairs, flames in the hallway forced him to go out the window, he said.

RAN TO NEIGHBOR'S HOME

After another attempt to reach his wife, he ran to a neighbor's home to call police and fire officials. Minutes later, his wife's body was recovered.

The house was owned by John Windiate of 1121 Union Lake. The inside of the structure was completely gutted, but the frame was still standing this morning.

★ ★ ★

Officials from the Michigan fire marshal's department were called to the scene this morning to investigate the cause of the blaze.

★ ★ ★

An autopsy was scheduled for today on Mrs. Morey. It is believed she died of suffocation or smoke inhalation.

Nixon Viet Policy Hit

PARIS (AP) — Tran Bu Kiem, key figure in the new provisional revolutionary government of South Vietnam, declared today that the Nixon administration intends to maintain "an American military presence" in Vietnam indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Kiem, in an airport statement before leaving for Vietnam, said the decision to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops shows that the objective of President Nixon is to "protect and support the puppet administration" of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Has Designs on Governor's Job

'LSD Kid' Can't Be Dismissed

ROGER CRAIG

Roger Craig cannot be dismissed as what his 10th Michigan Senate District calls him — the "LSD kid" — for the man is sincerely running for the governorship of the state.

Craig, 36, a Dearborn Democrat, is Michigan's most notorious political devil's advocate—a firebrand liberal in a conservative blue-collar district (Dearborn, Melvindale, Allen Park, Lincoln Park and Southgate).

The "LSD kid" tag is a misunderstanding. Three years ago he proposed a bill that would lessen the penalty for marijuana possession.

"We have an absurd penalty of 20 years imprisonment on the charge of marijuana possession. Now, no jury will convict a young man to 20 years' imprisonment. I simply proposed that the penalty be lessened so as to obtain convictions," Craig explained.

This and other viewpoints of Sen. Roger Craig were discussed last night at a free-wheeling address before the Troy Democratic Club.

★ ★ ★

"Dissent is a necessary, desirable and basic activity for the operation of a democratic society. Where there is no struggle, there is no freedom," Craig declared.

Craig adds, however, "... but the dissenters have an obligation to propose a plan for change."

'THE DISSENTER'

Dissent was a likely general topic for Craig, for he is known affectionately by Senate colleagues as "the dissenter."

Craig explains that general dissenting

He Can't Wheel It Without a License

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Ray Lewis was tooling down the street at top speed when the state trooper motioned him to the side of the road.

★ ★ ★

"I just couldn't believe I had to do all that stuff to be able to use my wheelchair," Lewis said. "For almost seven years, I've been going up and down there and never once got pulled over."

Lewis, 24, broke his neck in a swimming pool accident eight years ago and has been confined since then to his six-mile-per-hour motorized wheelchair.

Ray Lewis And His Motorized Wheelchair

REQUIRED BY LAW

Lt. August Hambacher of the Florida Highway Patrol said state law requires anyone who operates a motorized vehicle on state or county roads to have a driver's license and license plates.

Lewis said he drives his $800 wheelchair on the street because uneven surfaces such as sidewalks cause microswitches in the vehicle's electric motor to burn out.

★ ★ ★

"The law states you can't operate a motorized vehicle on the sidewalk, so as it stands, they've got me both ways," Lewis said.

Driving examiner Gilbert Benton said Lewis will have to pass both road and written tests Tuesday before he can be licensed to drive his wheelchair.

'HAS TO BE DONE'

"A little observance of the manipulation of the chair is all we'll require — as ridiculous as it seems," Benton said. "It's the law and has to be done.

"I don't think he could possibly fail the driving test, but he ought to brush up on laws printed in the Florida handbook."

★ ★ ★

Lewis will be spared one driving annoyance. State police said they would not require him to get the wheelchair inspected.

Food Stamp Hike Due Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans to vote next week on a proposal to more than double the food stamp program while its Agriculture Committee continues work on a comprehensive reform measure.

The committee agreed yesterday on a simple resolution to increase authorized spending for the program from $340 million to $750 million in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Leadership sources said it would be brought before the Senate Tuesday with passage assueed.

Then it goes to the House where Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, reportedly agreed to bring it up promptly.

HOUSE HEARINGS

The measure was introduced after it became apparent that Poage would hold lengthy hearings in conjunction with general farm aid proposals, on any comprehensive food stamp reform measure passed by the Senate. His hearings are scheduled to open on July 15.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who has opposed the $750-million figure as too low reportedly agreed to support it on the Senate floor.

In turn, Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, agreed to push passage in the Senate before Poage's hearings start.

In addition, Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Appropriations subcommitee and ranking Democrat on Ellender's group, plans to delay final action on the farm money bill until the Senate raise the food stamp authorization.

FIGHT STILL POSSIBLE

Otherwise, any increase in the food stamp program would have to wait until later in the year when Congress considers supplentary appropriations measures.

While McGovern has agreed not to try to add reform provisions or to raise the authorization level when the resolution comes before the Senate, other senators would be free to do so.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham

Broadcasting, Film Course Starts Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Actor's Workshop will begin a six-week course Tuesday focusing on training for careers in radio television and films.

The group will offer in-session training in radio-television announcing and film acting. Classes will be held in the Birmingham House Tower, 145 S. Hunter.

Two Birmingham certified public accountants have been elected members of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Currier is treasurer for the Currier Lumber Co. in Detroit. Ogden is associated with the Detroit office of Price Waterhouse & Co.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Michael Wright, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wright, 1529 Old Chatham, has been awarded an eight-week scholarship to the National Music Camp in Interlochen.

★ ★ ★

The scholarship for piano study was presented by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

★ ★ ★

He is a student at Lahser High School.

Norbert A. Capoccia of 671 Rolling Rock has been named assistant general agent in the Southfield life division office of Aetna Life & Casualty Co.

★ ★ ★

Capoccia has served in the Southfield office since joining Aetna in 1963 as a sales representative.

He had been a supervisor for the past four years.

Richard A. Schroeter, 1052 Glengarry, has been elected chairman of the board of directors for the Michigan United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Schroeter, who has completed 13 years with the fund, also was presented with the President's Award for his outstanding contributions. The award was made at the fund's recent annual meeting.

Capt. Marvel's Price Is Super

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Shazam! Can this be? The first issue of Captain Marvel, the hero of millions, selling for $150?

'Tis true, faithful followers of the fabulous fighters of yesteryear. Attribute it to nostalgia or inflation, but the adventures of the good captain, along with Batman, Dick Tracy and Captain America, are as valuable in some circles as a grandmother's heirloom.

★ ★ ★

Convention delegates range in age from 12-year-olds to school teachers in their 30s.

INVESTMENT IN GROWING UP

★ ★ ★

But it was an investment in growing up. That one dog-eared issue was good for a whole afternoon under the tree in the backyard or in a secret corner of the attic.

★ ★ ★

It was also the best insurance policy that could be bought, either for rainy days or when forced to stand in the living room corner for an hour or so.

And its trading power with the kid down the block was unlimited.

Sen. Craig Has Eye on Governor's Job

★ ★ ★

What would Craig offer the state if he were elected governor?

"I think I would first utilize a practice that I don't believe any governor ever has. I would take my issues to the people to bypass the Legislature.

SPECIAL INTEREST RULE

"The tremendous powers of the governorship have never adequately been exercised.

★ ★ ★

"For instance, I would endeavor to end a state government of special interests. The barber and construction unions, for instance, are blocking passage of a bill now before the Legislature to train Jackson Prison inmates for trades.

The unions simply don't want the inmates to leave prison and compete in the industrial and commercial markets. Those unions are forcing the prisoners back to prison," Craig declared.

★ ★ ★

DISCOUNTS ALL

Craig discounts all, positively declaring that Cavanagh will declare his candidacy for a third term as Detroit's mayor, that Levin will absolutely not run for governor, that Frank Kelley is completely uninterested in the governorship and is shooting for a 1972 duel with U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin and that Ferency will not run for governor if Craig does.

★ ★ ★

Another Craig philosophy itching to get into executive power is the inclusion of the entire Michigan political spectrum into political participation.

★ ★ ★

"The American Independent Party (AIP) guy ... You know what he is? He's like the guys in my district. He makes $7,000 a year and after taxes it's just above the poverty level. He should be sympathizing with the ADC mother but instead he's taking his wrath out on her.

★ ★ ★

On the black-white racial issue, Craig approves heartily of efforts by the private business sector to provide jobs for undereducated Negroes and the payments of reparations as suggested by James Foreman of the National Black Economic Development Committee.

ANTICIPATED PROBLEMS

"If Detroit had never burned, there would be no New Detroit Committee and Chrysler Corp. would have no program to hire the hard-core unemployed.

★ ★ ★

"Does it always have to be this way? Isn't there a better way? Can't we anticipate these social problems in advance?" Craig questions.

★ ★ ★

Craig, married and the father of four children, is among Lansing's most colorful legislators. His antics include locking himself in his Senate office area when the Republican-dominated chamber threatened to move his office from the Capitol Building; an arrest in Roseville in April of 1968 when he unlawfully participated in an after-curfew march demonstrating against murder of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., martyred civil rights leader; and, of course, the leadership in Michigan of the boycott against California table grapes.

★ ★ ★

Euler's Ouster Still a Mystery

TRUSTEES CLOSEMOUTHED

"It's an accumulation of things," he said, adding "we want to avoid mud-slinging."

TOO MUCH CONTROVERSY

Trustee John W. Emerson said, "You know the old saying, a straw broke the camel's back," he commented. "There'd be too much controversy if too many statements were made."

Emerson made the motion to fire Euler at Thursday's trustee meeting while Elwood G. West seconded it. The entire board individually cast verbal "yes" votes as Euler watched in amazement.

★ ★ ★

Others in the community were just as astounded.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said he was "absolutely surprised."

Mrs. Eugene Connell, hospital director of purchasing, said "everything came so sudden." She said she knew of no reason for the firing.

SOME TIGHT-LIPPED

Others were tight-lipped. "I can't comment; I'm just an employe," said DeCleene. "No comment; it's the hospital board's issue," said Mayor William H. Taylor.

The whole situation is similar to the 1958 firing of hospital administrator Carl I. Flath.

The hospital board then — which contained at least two members of the present board — issued a statement which said little more than the firing of Flath was "necessary in the best interests of the hospital."

Jobs for 450 Needy

Youth-Hiring Plan Is Hailed

The director of personnel at GMC Truck and Coach has high hopes for a new coordinated program to hire 450 disadvantaged Pontiac-area youth for summer jobs.

"I think it's a good thing," Earl A. Maxwell said. "This is something that is really needed."

General Motors divisions in Pontiac have made a commitment for 100 summer jobs under the project, coordinated by the Urban League, Michigan Employment Security Commission, Manpower Inc., and Youthpower Ind., and the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

"We are hoping that by an organized effort, we can get jobs for some of these people who badly need them," Maxwell said.

This is the first year the efforts of all the agencies have been combined and Maxwell thinks they are operating under somewhat of a handicap because of a late start.

"But hopefully, we can set it up and get an earlier start next year," he said.

In addition to 300 summer jobs already filled, mostly by college students, GMC Truck and Coach has 50 more it will fill at the rate of six a day. Pontiac Motor has 30 job openings and Fisher body has 20.

★ ★ ★

"We think we can start showing that some employers can do something," Maxwell said, but added that General Motors cannot do it all. Other businessmen also have to put in some effort.

S. Vietnamese Troops Locked in Biggest Combat Test Yet

SAIGON (AP) — Military spokesmen reported today renewed heavy fighting in the Central Highlands, where South Vietnamese forces are facing their biggest test since the decision was made to shift more battle responsibility to them.

Sixty North Vietnamese soldiers and 31 government troops were killed in four fights Friday that swirled around the Ben Het Special Forces camp and around Dak To, 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

The biggest fight flared two miles northwest of the Green Beret camp at Ben Het, which has been under artillery siege for weeks from North Vietnamese guns firing from inside Cambodia and Laos six miles away.

North Vietnamese regulars slashed into American-led South Vietnamese civilian irregulars and killed 18 and wounded 54. Twenty-six North Vietnamese troops were reported killed.

NO YANKS DEAD

There were no report of any American casualties.

The Ben Het Special Forces camp was one of 33 allied bases and towns shelled overnight. U.S. headquarters said there were no American casualties. Damge was described as light.

North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese forces have been locked in fighting around Dak To and Ben Het since May 1. Nearly 400 South Vietnamese troops have been killed and almost 2,000 wounded. An estimated 40 Americans died defending the artillery and engineer positions in the area still controlled by U.S. units.

The South Vietnamese claim that more than 1,500 North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed.

SO FAR, A DRAW

The outcome of the first real test battle between North and South Vietnamese troops around Dak To might indicate the future outcome of a war in which fewer and fewer Americans participate. But so far, observers on the scene see the fighting as a draw.

Elsewhere, only light and scattered fighting was reported. For the second time this week North Vietnamese troops attacked a base camp of the U.S. 5th Mechanized Infantry Division southwest of the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base near the Laotian border. Twenty-five North Vietnamese soldiers and two Americans were reported killed in the fight and 15 Americans wounded.

One of the overnight shellings hit the headquarters of the U.S. Ninth Marine Regiment about 10 miles south of the demilitarized zone. Some Marines from the regiment, which is being redeployed to Okinawa under President Nixon's 25,000-man troop withdrawl plan, were killed and wounded.

U.S. B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese troops and staging areas two miles south of the demilitarized zone in two raids Friday night.

2 COPTERS DOWN

The U.S. command also reported two American helicopters were shot down and destroyed Friday and Saturday. There were no fatalities but four crewmen were wounded.

The losses raised to 2,770 the number of American helicopters lost to all causes in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Viet Vet 'Manhandled' by Police in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Vietnam veteran who said he was under enemy gunfire less than two weeks ago charged Friday that he was manhandled by police during disorders near the University of Michigan campus this week.

The ex-serviceman, Robert Galardi, 21, said he had been discharged from the Navy Reserve less than 12 hours when helmeted officers dragged him from an apartment and sent him to jail Wednesday night.

Galardi said he went to the apartment to visit friends about 11 p.m. and had scant knowledge of the street disturbances, in which a mob of youths tried to take over control of South University Ave., on the edge of the campus.

Sheriff's deputies, chasing rock-throwing youths, rushed through the door of the apartment shortly after he got there, Galardi said.

KICKED IN SIDE

Galardi told newsmen he tried to hide in a corner but was kicked in the side as he warded off blows from rifle butts with his hands.

He was jailed overnight but released after relating his experience to Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey, Galardi said.

★ ★ ★

"I'd rather be in jail than in Vietnam," he declared, "but I think the police put themselves on the same level as people who call them pigs when they treat citizens the way they did and call everyone 'hippies'."

Galardi said City Councilman Nicholas Kazardinoff has offered to arrange an appointment with Ann Arbor Mayor Robert Harris to discuss the incident.

'Tough Law Won't Solve Campus Strife'

Congressman Jack McDonald, R-19th district, was among 22 House Republicans who spent a week visiting college campuses last month. They reported to President Nixon that "repressive legislation" is not the answer to student unrest..

The Congressmen said, "any action by the Congress or others which would, for example, penalize innocent and guilty alike by cutting off all aid to any institution which has experienced difficulty would only serve to confirm the cry of revolutionaries."

The 37-page report may further complicate the status of an anti-campus-violence bill pending before the House Education and Labor Committee.

In its present form, the bill would require colleges to file codes of conduct with the U.S. Office of Education or lose all Federal funds. The bill also refines legislation passed last year banning Federal aid to students and others found guilty of serious disruptive acts on campus.

The administration and many influential college presidents oppose the code-of-conduct section as unworkable and unwarranted Federal intrusion into university affairs.

U-M Gives $7,500 to Aid Murder Probe

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A $7,500 allocation to aid in the investigation of a series of six slayings of young girls in the Ann Arbor area has been given a stamp of approval by University of Michigan regents.

Four of the six murder victims were coeds, two from the U-M and two from Eastern Michigan University at nearby Ypsilanti.

The board of regents approved the money grant Friday, with the stipulation that the funds could be used in any way deemed advisable by law enforcement officials. Presumably, this included payments to informants.

How the money, which comes from gifts to the university, is to be used will be determined by Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhey in consultation with Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny and Wilbur Pierpont, U-M vice president and chief financial officer.

CAMPS SECURITY

The regents authorized the $7,500 allocation after hearing a report from Pierpont on security steps that have been taken on the campus recently.

President Robben Fleming said there is no way to guarantee 100 per cent protection for students and faculty but added that with common sense, "there is no reason a person cannot be as secure here as anywhere else."

Pierpont said that two extra city police cars were assigned to patrol the campus area nightly last fall, and two more had been added recently. Their tour starts at 8 p.m., he said.

Brighter lights have been installed on the campus and special bus service inaugurated for students with evening classes, Pierpont added.

ESCORT SYSTEM

Mrs. Barbara Newell, acting vice president for student affairs, told the regents that an escort system is being used by coeds. She said city police officers have given special security instructions to dormitory staffs.

In a statement distributed to the regents, Chief Krasny said that police agencies are "reasonably certain we are dealing with a mental derangement" in the six murders. Some of the victims showed signs of having been sexually abused.

* * *

"There is obviously no practical 100 per cent guarantee of personal security against this sickness," Krasny said. "However, good judgment exhibited by every citizen of this city can contribute to the assurance that other crimes of this nature will not occur."

* * *

CREDIT TO UNIVERSITY

"It's been a credit to yourself and to the university," Lindemer said. "I have been most gratified at the responsible and constructive way in which the students have reacted.

* * *

"It has been obvious to me that there has been a great influx to Ann Arbor of people from external sources. I hope we can maintain peace and quiet."

* * *

Fleming, along with other university officials and civic leaders, mingled with the crowd lining the street and tried to calm the situation.

* * *

In clashes with police, about 70 persons were arrested and several were injured. Some police officers suffered injuries from flying rocks and bottles.

* * *

Newsmen reported that most of those in the crowd appeared to be of high school age, many in "hippy" garb, and some wearing jackets with motorcycle gang designations.

Rhodesia Votes for Republic

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith hinted today that this breakaway British territory might declare itself a republic on Nov. 11—four years to the day since it declared its independence.

Smith addressed a news conference the day after Rhodesia's small and predominantly white electorate approved referendum proposals to switch to a republic and constitutional revisions to entrench white minority rule.

In answer to questions, Smith said he has not decided when to proclaim the republic, but agreed that few dates would be more appropriate than Nov. 11.

Smith termed the referendum a message to the outside world to show "how determined we are to get on with running our country . . ."

Smith denied that Rhodesia's 237,000 whites were concerned with the population gap between themselves and the 4.4 million blacks. "It is a fact of life we have to live with and we have lived with it for a long time . . . A mere counting of heads, of numbers, does not bother us now. It never has in the past."

With scattered returns yet to be counted, unofficial figures showed that Rhodesia's 90,000 registered voters had approved independence by 50,000 to 11,000 and favored the white-rule proposal by 44,000 to 16,000.

Teacher Bargaining Eased by Aid Bill OK

LANSING (AP) — With all major roadblocks down, Michigan school districts now can move ahead with teacher negotiations—for most, the last step in assuring that schools will open on time this fall.

Gov. William Milliken removed the final stumbling block Friday, signing into law the $848.7-million state school aid bill.

* * *

The long embattled bill, bogged down in weeks of legislative hassle, outlines the formulas for doling out state funds to local school districts.

Districts will not know how big their checks will be until state officials compare notes and tally the figures. But authorities say local district experts can calculate approximate sums based on last year's formulas and payments.

ENROLLMENT DATA

The complicated figuring process includes enrollment data from a pupil count made in each school on the first Friday in September, the state equalized valuation and the outlined allowance for each pupil.

Milliken said the $848.7 million should increase the average per pupil allowance from approximately $259 to $280, slightly more than 8 per cent.

* * *

This year's bill signing, held up by interchamber squabbling over how much the state should spend for schools, came nearly two months after the date on which former Gov. George Romney signed the appropriations bill for the current fiscal year.

"The slow decision on state aid hurt" contract talks, said Kai Erickson, the man in charge of teacher bargaining for the Michigan Education Association, which represents teachers in 518 local districts.

MOST STILL TALKING

Erickson said most of the districts are working on new contracts this year and all but about 85 still have not settled with local school boards.

The smaller Michigan Federation of Teachers estimates that 10 of its 18 bargaining units still have to reach contract agreement.

To Undermine Moscow

Peking's Envoys in New Push

TOKYO (AP) — Dressed in their Sun Yat-sen tunics, their little red books of Mao quotations in their briefcases, Peking's diplomats are sallying forth on a mission to undermine Moscow.

The Chinese have indirectly revealed they intend to put more backbone into Peking-oriented Communist parties abroad, most of them splinters from the more solidly entrenched parties which follow Moscow's nominal policy of peaceful coexistence.

* * *

* * *

STAGE CLEARED

Now that a new Chinese power elite has been chosen by the 9th party Congress and the cultural purge has died down, the stage has been cleared for a resumption of a new Maoist foreign policy, carried out by ambassadors who have survived the Mao inquisition.

Peking's New China News Agency reported this week that the newly named ambassadors to Romania and Sweden have left for their posts, two of the new breed of diplomats dedicated to Mao's line of people's war, subversions and unyielding resistance to Moscow and Washington.

* * *

The news agency, in a following article, laid down in a general way the lines they will be called on to follow.

* * *

Quoting Mao, Communist party chairman, it said: "Revolutionary parties and forces, at their very outset, are invariably in the minority but it is they, nevertheless, who have the best prospects."

ADDS LIN QUOTE

Moving to specifics, it added a quote from Mao's designated heir, Defense Minister Lin Piao, made at the recent party Congress: "The genuine Marxist-Leninist parties and organizations of various countries, which are composed of the advanced elements of the proletariat, are a new rising force that has infinitely broad prospects."

Then the news agency made a prediction of its own: "So long as they integrate Marxism-Leninism with revolutionary practice in their own countries, fully rely on the masses, fear no hardships and struggle heroically, the Marxist-Leninist parties and revolutionary forces will certainly grow from small to big, from weak to strong and from immature to highly experienced in struggle, and will win final victory."

* * *

The agency did not detail how the Peking parties were to be built up.

Peking does not expect the splinter parties to start taking over tomorrow. It is prepared to wait.

* * *

"Of course there will be twists and turns and ups and downs in the progress of history," said the news agency. "However, imperialism, (Soviet) revisionism and reaction can under no circumstances determine the destiny of the world. The wheel of history cannot be reversed. It is not they who chart the course of our era."

Theft Taken to Heart

It would be hard to convince 10-year-old DENNIS MCDOWELL that there is no goodness in people nor that nobody is concerned about tragedies in the lives of small boys such as he.

Last week, his bicycle was stolen. The theft meant far more to him than just another stolen bike, for it was specially-equipped to provide essential therapy for the stout-hearted youngster waging an agonizing four-year battle of rehabilitation after suffering horrible burns in a fire that consumed his home and three members of his family.

Dennis' loss was reported in The Press on June 14 with an appeal for return of the bicycle. During the following days, the McDowell home was the center of a heart-warming outpouring of public sympathy and assistance.

The Marauders motorcycle club and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department had separately collected sufficient funds to replace the stolen wheel, and the total was turned over to DENNIS' family to be used for that purpose and the purchase of additional therapeutic equipment.

Individuals donated useful items for DENNIS and The PRESS received many calls offering assistance. One such came from a wealthy Birmingham resident who, requesting anonymity, authorized the newspaper to procure a new bicycle for DENNIS on his account.

Happily, the detestable act of thievery was more than balanced by the fine spirit of community humanitarianism it evoked.

Nixon Urges Postal Reform

President NIXON certainly knew that he was initiating a long and potentially bruising legislative struggle in asking Congress for legislation converting the postal service from a politics-ridden cabinet department to a semiautonomous government corporation.

NIXON

The immediate reaction, as expected, was cool in the power centers on Capitol Hill, with little chance given for approval this year. Congress has a very deep and practical vested interest in the Post Office as is, perhaps the vastest and most politically productive reservoir of patronage in the Government.

★ ★ ★

But the all-important step from discussion and study to action has been taken. And the fact that the new Republican administration's plan is in essence that originally put forward by former Democratic Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien demonstrates that common sense, not politics, is behind the modernization drive.

When and if the reorganization proposals, or modifications thereof, eventually are enacted, Americans won't be spending any less to mail their letters. Further rises in postal rates can be expected. And it is probably too much to expect that a reorganized system will eventually become self-supporting.

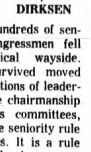
But the least we have a right to expect from our stamp and subsidy dollars is efficient, dependable service, and that is the promise reorganization holds out.

★ ★ ★

It is not likely to be achieved this year, and possibly not next or the year after. But if the long-overdue revamping of the postal system does eventually come about while he is in office, it should rank as one of the landmark achievements of President Nixon's administration.

Sen. Dirksen Defends Seniority Rule

By EVERETT McKINLEY DIRKSEN



DIRKSEN

When Richard Nixon came to serve in the legislative branch of the government 23 years ago, the 80th Congress included many members of the Senate and the House who are serving there now, in the 91st Congress.

During those years, hundreds of senators and congressmen fell by the political wayside. Those who survived moved forward to positions of leadership and to the chairmanship of the various committees, the result of the seniority rule in the Congress. It is a rule that is scrupulously respected.

It is, despite what you may hear sometimes to the contrary, the seniority rule that gives to our government a certain intimacy that probably does not obtain in any other country.

The Congress is the exclusive lawmaking branch under the Constitution, while the executive power to apply and enforce the law is in the hands of the President. When he comes into office, he has a program based upon the representations he made in the campaign. To put that program to work, he must not only submit it formally to Congress, but he must discuss its many phases with the men in both houses of Congress.

The President's principal contact with the Congress is through the leadership. Usually, he meets with the leadership of his own party on Tuesday of every week. When advisable, there is a joint leadership meeting with the leaders of both parties.

When Mr. Nixon meets with his own party's leaders, they will include Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Milton Young of North Dakota, Gerald Ford of Michigan, Leslie Arends of Illinois and myself.

If it should be a joint leadership meeting, the participants will include Richard Russell of Georgia, president pro tempore of the Senate; Mike Mansfield of Montana, majority leader; Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts; Warren Magnuson of Washington; J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas; House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts; Carl Albert of Oaklahoma, House majority leader, and Hale Boggs of Louisiana. All except Kennedy served with the President in either the Senate or the House.

Whenever chairmen of committees are included in the meetings, those in attendance could include John Sparkman of Alabama, Senate Banking; Russell Long of Louisiana, Senate Finance; Allen Ellender of Louisiana, Senate Agriculture; James Eastland of Mississippi, Senate Judiciary; John McClellan of Arkansas, Senate Government Operations; Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, House Ways and Means; George Mahon of Texas, House Appropriations; Wright Patman of Texas, House Banking.

All of those chairmen served with Mr. Nixon in one branch of Congress. Some of them served with him in both branches.

From this it must be quite evident that a meeting of the President and the congressional leaders is not a cold and stilted affair. In fact, it is a meeting of old friends, and the meeting is conducted on a first-name basis.

It is the intimate aspect of our government, nurtured by the seniority system.

The friendly and intimate conduct of public business can have advantages and disadvantages as well. From the President's standpoint, all of the leadership, or some of it, may disagree with his views. Such opposition, however, is not stated in harsh, intemperate or personal terms.

From the viewpoint of the leaders, it is not a happy or pleasant undertaking to disagree with the President with whom they have had a long and friendly relationship. Disagreement is voiced as a matter of public duty.

All of it, though, gives a friendly continuity to our government, such as is not experienced anywhere else in the world.

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 3

Rabbi Mordecai Waxman of Temple Israel, Great Neck, N.Y., was one of two Jews representing Judaism at the Spiritual Summit Conference in Calcutta. The conference was sponsored by the Temple of Understanding, an organization to promote interreligious understanding and communication.

Rabbi Waxman is also visiting professor at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, New York, editor of the magazine, "Conservative Judaism," and secretary of the Rabbinical Assembly of America. He felt the conference of the 11 great religions of the world was a breakthrough in contact between the Eastern and Western religions. He said, ". . . all religions are talking about the same things on pretty much the same terms." The problems of one in this small world of ours are the problems of all. The conference proved that all religions could talk together and search for common goals and a sense of unification.

The problems of violence, war, poverty and prejudice were discussed with frankness and clarity, with each delegate presenting the ideas of his own faith toward such problems. Rabbi Waxman said that the participants of the conference were impressive and dedicated. "There was a great feeling of common concern."

Confident Living:

God Makes All Things Possible

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I read in the news the other day about a man who has just been made a rear admiral. He had been a junior naval officer in World War II, and was discharged from the service in 1945 because he had cancer. Between 1946 and 1950 he survived four terrible bouts with that tragic disease.

DR. PEALE

At one time they told him he had only two weeks to live. In desperation he took X-ray treatments. The treatments worked, and his cancer was cured.

Now this man had worked all his life to be a naval officer, but with a record of cancer, naval regulations forbade his being reinstated. He was told "there wasn't a chance," but he kept on fighting.

He finally learned that it would take an Act of Congress to get him back in the Navy. So he went after the Act of Congress. And, in September 1950, President Truman signed into law a special bill that reinstated him in the Navy.

The man's name is Irwin W. Rosenberg. He is now Rear Admiral Rosenberg of the U.S. Seventh Fleet. Admiral Rosenberg never gave up. He prayed. And he fought. He had a goal and he refused to believe it was impossible to achieve it.

Neither you nor I, nor any human being, can take the great impossibles of life and make them possible by ourselves. But we can join God in making the impossible possible.

★ ★ ★

I remember, as a youngster, a teacher I had at the Williams Avenue School in Cincinnati, Ohio. His name was George Reeves. He was a huge man and he taught me in the fifth grade.

There was no fooling around with George Reeves. One day a boy answered a question by saying, "Mr. Reeves, I can't answer."

Reeves said, "What do you mean 'can't'?" He went over to the blackboard and he wrote "I 'CAN'T" on the blackboard. "Now," he said to the boy, "what would you do with that word to make it more positive?"

The boy said, "Why not take the 'T' off, sir."

And the boy said, "I CAN."

Well, George Reeves may not have been one of the great intellectuals in Cincinnati, but he was wise enough to know that nothing is impossible.

With the strength and the wisdom that is given to all of us we can make triumphs out of defeats, but we sometimes need help.

A couple of weeks ago, I read a magazine article titled, "You Can't Find God in Church Anymore." It was a survey of 1,000 readers of that magazine who were abandoning their churches. Perhaps some of their reasons were valid. No church can be all things to every man. I only hope that if those readers who were surveyed can't find God in church, they can find Him somewhere else.

Because we all need Him.

Rear Admiral Rosenberg knew, and George Reeves knew, that the greatest danger man can face in time of crisis is to retreat within himself — to give up, to say "I can't." Yet that is the very moment when he must turn to God and reach out for the strength and courage he has temporarily lost.

Nothing is impossible. But when our own courage momentarily falters, we must turn to God to help make it possible. And He is always there.

They have a wonderful school, teachers and coaches. They put out a pretty good percentage of good kids. If more people would follow them in sports and otherwise, folks would know how decent they are. Also they would know where a good share of their tax money goes.

Is Communism a Form of Democracy?

My wife recently failed a test paper in philosophy at OU. One question was: Communism is a form of democracy. True or False? She answered negatively and missed.

Are there any opinions on this matter? My daughter in junior high school says, "Yes, the people do vote in Russia—for one party." I personally thought, "What a waste of time — to study communism or have anything to do with it."

Renter Complains of 'Landlordism'

How many times have permanent, registered voters, residents of the Pontiac area, Oakland County, made a deposit on a rental, been allowed to live there a short time—then been told to move or go to court?

As a resident of this State for four years, this has happened to me and my family a total of four times.

Theologian's Stand on Sex Courses Noted

Msgr. Hubert A. Maino commented recently in regard to sex education: "A legitimate objection can be raised against courses if they fail in any of three respects; (1) if they make the mistake of teaching too much too soon; (2) if they destroy the sense of modesty and reticence which is nature's safeguard in this realm of conduct, and, (3) if they impart no moral values or, worse, if they implant false moral standards.

★ ★ ★

"One must reject any sex education that is morally neutral or permissive. Some modern teachers pretend that they refrain from making 'value judgments.' A teacher cannot help making value judgments all the time.

★ ★ ★

How can a teacher tell his students about Hitler without frowning on Nazism? How can a teacher discuss slavery without saying it is wrong? For a teacher to say that there is no moral problem in premarital sex, or postmarital infidelity, is to be a moral degenerate and a corrupter of youth."

Comments on Area Ambulance Service

'Perdue Qualified School Administrator'

A new assistant superintendent is to be appointed by July 1 and the Pontiac Board of Education has not granted John Perdue the courtesy of an interview. Perdue has already performed many of the duties which will be part of the responsibility of the new assistant.

His record certainly merits this promotion. Many whites as well as blacks feel this way, as John Perdue has faithfully served the school district for some 13 years. During his years of dedication, he has brought national fame to Pontiac through his work as a principal.

REPLY

The Superintendent's office tells us they're in the process of preparing a place to display it in the new Board office. They are also checking into its history so that information can be displayed with the bell.

Question and Answer

Some months ago someone asked about senior citizens clubs, and you furnished the writer with the information. Are there any clubs for single, divorced and widowed working people?

VERY INTERESTED

REPLY

As a start, you might try these: Parents Without Partners is for divorced and widowed persons. You can write them at P.O. Box 263, or call Milt King (681-1000 after 4 p.m.) who is in charge of adult activities. YMCA has a Y-Singles club, and most churches have adult programs. If we hear of others, we'll let you know.

CRASH FATAL TO 10 — Ten people, including nine children were killed near Vienna, Ga., yesterday when this car stalled at a rail crossing and was struck broadside by a freight train. Two others were injured in the accident.

10 Killed in Georgia as Train Hits Auto

VIENNA, Ga. (AP) — A car carrying two women and 10 children on a sunny afternoon outing was hit broadside by an eight-car freight train at a crossing near here Friday. Ten died, including nine children.

The crowded sedan, which apparently stalled as it attempted to cross the tracks, was dragged some three-quarters of a mile before the engineer of the Southern Railway train, William A. Thompson of Valdosta, could halt the train.

Dooly County Sheriff H.C. Johnson identified the two survivors as Annie Mae Lowe, 27, of Vienna, the driver; and her 6-year-old daughter, Faye.

Killed were two other Lowe children; a sister of the driver, Eula Mae Pitts, 24, of Miami; Mrs. Pitts' daughter; and six children of another sister of Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Mary Lewis of Vienna. The children ranged in age from 3 to 12.

Thompson told Johnson the car pulled up on the tracks and stopped. He said Mrs. Lowe apparently became excited on hearing the approaching train and stalled the engine of the car.

Thompson said he locked the brakes of the train, but that a light load did not give him enough braking power to stop before the collision. The engineer estimated his speed at about 40 miles per hour.

Junior Editors Quiz on GUITAR

QUESTION: How does the guitar work?

ANSWER: The guitar is said to have evolved from the mandolin of the 1500s, which came from the lute and other stringed instruments reaching back to Biblical times.

The strings of the guitar sound when they are plucked by the fingers of the right hand. Each string is attached at the top to a peg for tuning. At the bottom, it is fastened to the large box or main wooden body of the instrument.

Frets, placed across the fingerboard, make it easy for the player to shorten a string by stopping back of a fret with one of his left hand fingers. One may play melodies, chords, or both.

You will have fun trying the three accompaniment chords we illustrate. Place your fingers, behind the first three frets, in the positions shown by the black dots. The white circles show open strings to be played at the same time. Just by using these three chords, you can accompany many melodies and songs.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Army Raps 'Kooks,' Society for Deserters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army says its steadily climbing desertion rate is due to an influx of "kooks" into the service and to a society which trains its young to resist authority.

Nevertheless, the Army's chief of personnel said, morale among American troops in Vietnam is "fabulous."

★ ★ ★

At a March 11 House Appropriations subcommittee hearing, the transcript of which was released yesterday, Lt. Gen. A. O. Connor explained the seeming contradiction.

"We are getting more kooks into the Army, for one thing. We are getting more young men who are coming in undisciplined, the product of a society that trains them to resist authority," he said.

'DESERT EARLY'

"Does your Army training overcome this, it would seem that it should?" asked Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio.

"Most of the desertions take place very early in the man's training," Connor replied. "We do not experience this sort of thing in the trained soldier to any great extent."

★ ★ ★

Data supplied to the subcommittee by the Army showed that the rate of desertions have increased steadily over the past three years.

The latest figures covered the period from July 1, 1968, through Nov. 30, 1968, and revealed that desertions are currently running at the monthly rate of 3.3 for every 1,000 members of the 1.5-million-man Army.

INCREASE MARKED

It marked a 37.5 per cent increase over the rate set during the previous fiscal year when the monthly rate was 2.4 and an increase of 83.3 per cent over the 1.8 rate set the year before that.

Translated to a yearly basis, the figures went from 21.4 to 29.1 to the 39.8 for the current year — if present trends hold up.

Addressing himself only to the 29.1 figure, Connor described it as "much higher than we would like to see it."

Asked to compare the current rates with past wars, Connor said that "at the height of Korea," desertions reached 20 per thousand. He said he thought in World War II it reached about 63.

CONCERNED BY INCREASE

Minshall said he was concerned about the increase in the past year and asked what was being done about it. Connor told him the Army was showing films to young soldiers spelling out "the consequences of desertion."

In the course of the questioning, Connor noted that while more than 500 men had deserted to foreign countries more than 190,000 men had volunteered to serve in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

"That would indicate a high degree of dedication to the country, I would assume," commented Appropriations Committee Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex.

Absolutely, sir," Connor replied. "We do not have to be too concerned about our youth. The vast majority of them are doing their job and doing it beautifully."

In Hospital Bout

Round One Bans Rings

LANSING (AP) — A woman union official has lost the first round in the battle of the rings at the Caro State Home and Training School.

A State Civil Service Commission hearing officer has upheld the firing of Mrs. Gloria Martin, president of the hospital local of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, for wearing a birthstone ring while on duty.

Mrs. Martin was an attendant nurse at the home.

The report by hearing officer David Pence noted she had "about 18 years satisfactory service" at the home.

★ ★ ★

Also fired for wearing rings were William Watkins, vice president of the union local; Miss Karen Craig and Mrs. Esther Scholl.

All were attendant nurses and union members. A dozen other hospital workers were suspended for various periods of time for wearing rings. All are appealing the disciplinary actions.

"We're going to appeal this to the full commission and right through the circuit court, the appeals court and up to the state supreme court, if necessary," said Robert Grosvenor, union president.

"The whole thing is ridiculous," Grosvenor said. "No other institution in the state has such a foolish regulation. Also, the rights of the employes were violated all over the place."

Mrs. Bettye McFarland, then medical superintendent of the hospital, said last January the wearing of rings other than engagement or wedding rings, promoted the spread of infection.

★ ★ ★

She resigned as superintendent last week to take another hospital position in Atlanta, Ga.

The union local made a crusade of the ring issue. They charged it was "a crazy issue, backed by bureaucratic gobbledegook."

The local proclaimed Jan. 17 as "Ring Day" in honor of Benjamin Franklin. Leaflets were circulated through the hospital urging all employes to wear rings on the day.

★ ★ ★

The hearing officer found that if the directive were hazardous to health or clearly or ostensibly malicious or degrading, Mrs. Martin would have had grounds for refusing to comply with the directive.

"These circumstances did not exist in this case, however," the officer said. "Mrs. Martin would have suffered no form of injury by removing her ring and continuing to work.

Young Mother Questions Use of Proper Names

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a 21-year-old mother of a baby girl. Should I call my neighbors and friends (who have children around ten years of age) by their last name out of respect, or would this seem too stuffy and make them feel older?

When a neighbor's child asks me my name I usually give my first. I still feel like a child myself. Should I tell them I'm Mrs. Tucker?—Mrs. M. Tucker

Dear Mrs. Tucker: You would surely be thought "stuffy" if you called a girl so few years older than yourself, "Mrs. Jones."

However, no matter how young you feel, you are a generation removed from your neighbor's children, and you should tell them that your name is Mrs. Tucer, or if you feel it's friendlier, "Mrs. T."

Today, contemporaries (especially young people) resort to first names immediately, but respect for an older generation should be maintained by the use of Mr. and Mrs. by young children.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have two small nephews—ages 5 and 7—whom I would like to include in my wedding party. Would it be proper, and what can they do for their part?—Fran

Dear Fran: Yes, it is proper to include the boys. The problem is to decide what they should do. The 5-year-old could be a ring bearer, but the 7-year-old is too young for a junior usher. Perhaps the best solution, and one sometimes followed for this age level, is to have him be responsible for running ribbons along the ends of the pews before the start of the ceremony.

To Visit Student Volunteers

First Lady Plans Fall Campus Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, home from her first solo tour as First Lady, is planning trips to college campuses this fall to accent the "positive side" of what students are doing.

She said she wants to focus attention on volunteer social work being done by students.

Despite the campus demonstrations, Mrs. Nixon said the present generation of college students is "terrifically idealistic" and "more of them than we know" are working on community projects, helping in needy neighborhoods and tutoring the underprivileged.

"Students really want people to get their ideas, give them recognition and encouragement," said the First Lady.

"That's not only what I'm going to do—it's what Dick's doing," she said, referring to the President's recent discussions on the draft with students whose advice he was seeking.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nixon displayed a keen, warm interest in the efforts of volunteers, young and old, on her trip to ten citizen projects in Oregon and California this week.

She said she "learned a great deal" and wants to continue these travels.

One of her stops was at a Volunteer Bureau in Los Angeles that serves as a clearing house recruiting hundreds of volunteers each month for 400 local agencies.

CONTACT BUREAUS

There are 187 such bureaus in the country, Mrs. Nixon reported. Citizens who want to work in worthwhile causes could start by contacting these bureaus and find out where help is needed in their communities, she suggested.

When she mentioned her plans for campus visits, Mrs. Nixon was asked whether she was afraid she might run into demonstrations there.

She said she didn't think she'd be involved in them, though, because she was not going to colleges "on a political trip."

As for the mild anti-war demonstrations she encountered, staged by a small group of young people at one of her stops in Portland, Mrs. Nixon said she didn't have any reaction to it.

"I was doing what I could and if that was the best they could do—that's sad," she said.

Mrs. Nixon traveled over 5,000 miles in four days on the first such trip she has ever taken on her own in more than 20 years as a political wife.

When asked if she came home exhausted, Mrs. Nixon stoutly maintained: "No, I never get exhausted."

VP's Daughter Will Marry

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew's oldest daughter, Pamela, becomes the bride of Robert DeHaven today. President Nixon and his family plan to attend the wedding.

Only family members and close friends were invited to the 4 p.m. EDT single-ring ceremony in Towson Presbyterian Church.

Miss Agnew chose a silk organza gown with a scoop neck, empire waistline and long, full sleeves. Her veil is from the top of the head, set back, and meets a shoulder train which goes almost to the floor.

Both the bride and bridegroom are 25. They have been engaged for more than two years.

Miss Agnew is a social worker with the Baltimore County Department of Social Services.

DeHaven recently accepted a job as curriculum specialist on special education for four counties on Maryland's Eastern Shore where they plan to reside. They are still house-hunting.

★ ★ ★

The Agnew family has lived in Baltimore County for a number of years. Agnew was county executive for four years prior to becoming governor of Maryland in 1967.

★ ★ ★

President and Mrs. Nixon will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon on their helicopter flight from the White House to the Baltimore suburb. They will leave by helicopter for Camp David, Md., immediately after the ceremony. The President and First Lady will observe their 29th wedding anniversary at the mountaintop retreat.

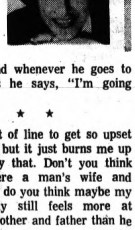
Children Lie When They Lack Courage to Tell Truth



By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old daughter (I'll call her "Linda") is my problem. She is so boy-crazy she worries me half to death. All she thinks about is boys, boys, boys.

When the doorbell rings, she nearly breaks a leg running to talk to any delivery boy who happens to show up.

★ ★ ★

Linda also lies a lot. She is not allowed to go in cars with boys, so she walks to a girl friend's house and the boys pick her up there. (I learned this when I happened to glance at her diary.) When I ask Linda for the truth she tells lies to cover up for her lies. Why does she lie so much and how can I get the truth out of her?

LINDA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Children lie because they haven't the courage to tell the truth. Give Linda that courage by assuring her that no matter what she's done you will "understand" and forgive her.

Perhaps your threats are too frightening and your punishments too severe. Give her plenty of love and expect the best, and she won't let you down. And quit "glancing" at her diary. The way to inspire confidence is to show it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: How long does a person have to live in a place before it's "HOME"?

My husband has been married to me for 16 years, and whenever he goes to see his parents he says, "I'm going home."

★ ★ ★

Maybe I'm out of line to get so upset over this, Abby, but it just burns me up to hear him say that. Don't you think "home" is where a man's wife and children are? Or do you think maybe my husband actually still feels more at home with his mother and father than he does with me?

ALMA

DEAR ALMA: Where one has spent his earlier years is "home" — no matter how long he's been away from it. Many old-timers who have been on this side of the ocean most of their lives still refer to their native lands as "home," so don't take it personally.

Michigan Will Get New Queen

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Misses Riverview and Michigan State University won swimsuit and talent awards Friday night as the annual Miss Michigan Pageant moved into its final hours today.

A new Miss Michigan will be chosen late today to represent the state at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

Blonde, blue-eyed Evelyn Sue Wisenor, Miss Riverview, was selected a swimsuit winner by the judges Friday night. The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lark Wisener, sponsored by the city of Riverview, is 5-foot 8 inches tall.

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Sandra Gillespie, 20, Miss Michigan State University, was named a talent winner for her singing. The MSU junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Gillespie of Hastings, is also 5-foot-8 inches tall.

Fashion Show Set With, Without Rain

Planning outdoor events in the month of June is a risky business. If the rains come — or even threaten to come; prospects for an outdoor luncheon and fashion show become questionable — if not improbable.

The Oakland University Scholarship Committee, faced with a cold and drizzly morning this past Wednesday, the announced day of its Trumbull Terrace luncheon and Bonwit Teller showing of fashions — chose to postpone the event to next Wednesday — June 25. Not to be dampened a second time in a row, the ladies will have the affair on the 25th — Rain or Shine.

If the weather is pleasant, plans will go ahead on Trumbull Terrace. In case of inclement weather, the luncheon and fashion show will be held in the lovely dining room at Vanderberg Hall on the campus.

A duplicate luncheon and fashion showing will be held at 11:30 and 1:30. Because of the postponement, a limited number of tickets are available for each seating and tickets may be reserved by calling Oakland University. 338-7211, ext. 2201.

Productive Test Results

LONDON (UPI) — The new birth control pill had one somewhat serious side effect. Twenty of the 43 women who took it became pregnant.

Scientists in Yugoslavia designed the pill to eliminate a hormone which has caused some side effects.

The Yugoslavs aren't giving up on their new pill despite the test results, the Journal said. They will go ahead with another trial — this time with a triple dose.

OUR DOORS ARE ALWAYS OPEN

Often we have people tell us, "This is the first time I have been in a funeral home and it's nothing like I thought it would be." Where many people expect to find a feeling of coldness and drab colors they are surprised when they first visit a modern funeral home.

State Unit Due Name Change

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State Association of Supervisors may become the Michigan Association of Counties after a statewide meeting set for Tuesday at Lansing.

Association members are to vote on the name change proposed "to bring the organization more in line with today's concept of government," said group executive director A. Barry McGuire.

* * *

"The recent reorganization of county boards of supervisors and the increasing part federal and state government is playing in giving assistance to local units of government has made our association aware that they must keep pace with modern trends," he said.

PhD Degree Plan Authorized at OU

On the recommendation of Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees authorized OU officials to formulate a plan to be submitted to the state board of education for granting doctoral degrees in the fields of engineering and sciencee.

The MSU board of Trustees met on the Oakland campus yesterday.

Varner said that this would help lead the way to making Oakland University a major university.

Facilities are available at the university for both programs, according to studies by the School of Engineering and the College of Arts and Sciences.

IN NEW HALL

The School of Engineering is housed in the new Dodge Hull, which provides ample classroom, office and laboratory space for offering a doctoral program.

The laboratories are well equipped with modern instrumentation and computational facilities are excellent, with large annalog and digital machines currently operating and a new hybrid computer to be installed this month.

* * *

Facilities for offering doctoral degrees in science include a portion of the Dodge Hall of Engineering, the Science Building, and the Computing and Data Processing Center (a centralized facility supporting teaching and research projects utilizing IBM computers).

Also available are the Institute of Biological Sciences which occupies some 6,500 square feet of laboratory space in Dodge Hall, and the Kettering Magnetics Laboratory on campus.

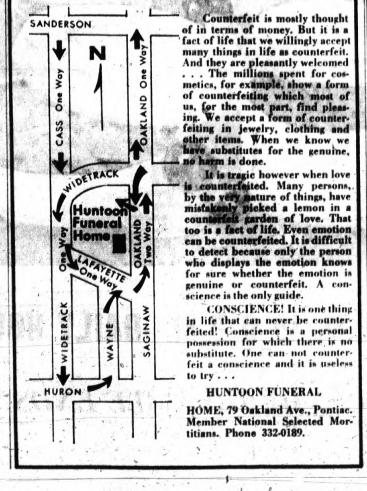
THINK ABOUT IT!



Counterfeit is mostly thought of in terms of money. But it is a fact of life that we willingly accept many things in life as counterfeit. And they are pleasantly welcomed . . . The millions spent for cosmetics, for example, show a form of counterfeiting which most of us, for the most part, find pleasing. We accept a form of counterfeiting in jewelry, clothing and other items. When we know we have substitutes for the genuine, no harm is done.

It is tragic however when love is counterfeited. Many persons, by the very nature of things, have mistakenly picked a lemon in a counterfeit garden of love. That too is a fact of life. Even emotion can be counterfeited. It is difficult to detect because only the person who displays the emotion knows for sure whether the emotion is genuine or counterfeit. A conscience is the only guide.

CONSCIENCE! It is one thing in life that can never be counterfeited! Conscience is a personal possession for which there is no substitute. One can not counterfeit a conscience and it is useless to try . . .

52nd Annual Event Starts Monday

Saddle Up, It's Horse Show Time

By JERE CRAIG

Many outstanding junior riders from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Ontario will be vying for honors starting Monday at the 52nd annual Detroit Horse Show on the Bloomfield Open Hunt grounds.

The BOH itself has been a spawning area for young riders over the years, and one of its most famous will be reappearing, there this year for the first time in several years.

Crys Jones, who rose from the ranks of BOH youngsters to earn a berth on the United States Equestrian Team, will be riding in the preliminary jumper events and is expected to have at least one mount in the prestigious open jumper classes.

If the attractive Bloomfield Hills resident chooses to enter the open jumper wars, she will be competing against some of North America's best riders.

ALL LEVELS

But that type of rivalry exists at all levels in the Detroit Horse Show. This high level of competition is responsible for the parade of champions developed at BOH.

Monday's schedule is strictly dressage classes. That is the mastering of silent commands between horse and rider. There'll be novice, elementary, senior and open classes.

The events will begin at 8 a.m., 1 p.m. and 8 p.m., and there's no admission charged for any of the three sessions.

* * *

The equitation, hunter and jumper events will commence Tuesday. The popular open jumper battles will be waged each evening, and are climaxed by Saturday's big North American Open Jumper Classic for which there is a $2,500 prize fund.

* * *

Admission is charged each night Tuesday-Saturday, all day Saturday and Sunday. General admission is $1 per session, while box seats range from $3-$4 and general admission $2-$3.

* * *

The BOH is located on East Long Lake Road, about a half mile east of Woodward Ave. Ample parking is available on the grounds.

WARM-UP SHOW

Many of the riders and their imposing mounts are vying this weekend in the annual Grosse Pointe Hunt Club show. It traditionally precedes the Detroit Horse Show and sets the stage for its full week of activity.

* * *

The Detroit show is the world's largest outdoor affair for hunters and jumpers. Some 450 horses entered last year's competition and this year's total is expected to set a record in the vicinity of 475.

A change in classification for young jumpers could help produce the new record. Instead of the single green (or inexperienced) jumper class there will be a preliminary and intermediate divisions this year.

* * *

The Detroit Horse Show will rely on experienced judges, familiar to most of the regular show fans. Although a new show manager has been hired, Frank Flynn is a professional in the field and has long served as a steward for the Detroit show.

The judges' ranks include Brig. Gen. Harry Diston, Daniel Lenahan, Victor Hugo-Vidal and the Very Rev. Msgr. Edward Melton. None of them is a Michigan resident but all have officiated in the BOH rings on numerous occasions.

Ted Williams Pleased With Nats' Victory

DETROIT (AP) — "Good game, boy. That was a helluva good game," muttered Washington Manager Ted Williams as he walked toward the shower room.

"I don't know if you guys appreciated it or not, but it was sure a good game," he said to Detroit reporters as he walked by them.

Most of what Detroit Manager Mayo Smith said, hoever, was not quotable as his Tigers took a 2-2 tie into the the 10th inning only to let two relief pitchers give up five runs as the Bengals fell 7-2.

LOLICH TODAY

The teams were scheduled to square off again today with Mickey Lolich going after his eighth win in nine decisions and Jim Shellenback, 1-2, pitching for Washington.

The extra-inning damage was done mainly by a pair of pinch hitters. Hank Allen sent home the first two runs with a bases loaded grounder that was perfect doubleplay ball. But shortstop Mickey Stanley, after getting a force out on Ken McMullen, threw low to first for an error as the runs streaked home.

* * *

Then Brant Alyea unloaded a three-run pinch homer off John Hiller to send the crowd of 27,235 to gates. It was his third pinch hit homer this year and seventh of his career.

"The other two this year helped the ball games but we lost them in extra innings," Alyea said.

* * *

Why was Alyea called on to hit for catcher Jim French after Washington already got two runs in the 10th?

"In this ball park and against these guys you never have enough runs," he said.

"We had a good catcher in the bullpen and besides, I figured why not take advantage of the situation," Williams added.

Tiger ace Denny McLain pitched well for nine innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the ninth. Reliever Don McMahon, 1-4, started the 10th and took the loss as he became the victim of three Senator runs.

Detroit took a 1-0 lead in the third when Stanley homered off starter Joe Coleman. Al Kaline singled home the second Tiger run. McLain was safe on Ken McMullen's throwing error then Stanley was safe on a fielder's choice and took second on a wild pitch to set up the run.

* * *

The Senators tied it 2-2 in the sixth when Frank Howard hit his 20th homer, McMullen singled and Bernie Allen doubled.

Darold Knowles, 3-0, relieved Coleman in the seventh and got the win, striking out five batters in 3⅓ innings.

Oakland University's courts will be the site of the tenth annual Oakland County Tennis Tournament July 18-20 and July 25-27. Eight new courts, at least six of which will be in use during the tournament, have been added to the existing four.

Five events have been scheduled, with a sixth—mixed doubles competiton planned if at least eight duos register. Events include: men's singles and doubles, juniors' singles and doubles, and senior men's singles.

The seniors' class is limited to men 35 or older, while the junior class is restricted to boys 17 and under.

Entry fee for the tourney is 50 cents per individual per event, one dollar per doubles team. The deadline for entering is 4 p.m., Wednesday, July 16.

* * *

Entry forms have been distributed to numerous schools in the county and will be available at various sporting goods stores. In addition, the city recreation department offices and The Press have entry forms.

The tournament is sponsored by The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and The Press with the cooperation of Oakland University.

Last year more than 170 netters competed in the tournament, and even more entries are expected this year. With the expanded facilities at Oakland University, play will be restricted to the weekend dates. It will not be necessary to hold matches during the week.

* * *

Twenty-year-old Rick Watson successfully defended his men's singles title last year. Watson also copped the doubles honors as he teamed up with Ferndale's Jim Hawkins.

10-Run Inning Nets 'B' Victory in City League

Lyle Walters singled twice and drove in two runs in a 10-run first inning as Oakland Community College downed Gardner's All-Stars, 14-4, in the second city men's Class B baseball game of the season Friday night at Jaycee Park.

Walters, who went four-for-four, doubled home a pair of runners in the fourth inning, also. The losers scored four times in the first, two coming on Barry Morey's bases-loaded single, but were blanked after that.

The game was called after four and a half innings by the 10-run lead rule. Two more "B" loop games are slated tomorrow.

Defeats Pontiac, 2-1

Southfield in Legion Lead

Pontiac and Southfield clashed in a battle for first place Friday night and the southerners pulled out a 2-1 win in the final two innings to move in front of the District 18 League, American Legion baseball race.

Greg Main, a standout strikeout artist at Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows High School in the Catholic League's second division, limited the Pontiac nine to one hit and struck out nine.

A first division Catholic League star at Birmingham Brother Rice, Dave Fournier doubled home the tying run for S'field in the sixth, and Jim Manchells followed a walk and John Solberg's single in the seventh with the game-winning single off loser Tom Stafne.

SLIGHT EDGE

The defeat is Pontiac's first in two starts while the winners are now 4-1 and lead Waterford (3-1) by one-half game. It was an 8-4 winner over Walled Lake, Dennis Wooster picking up his third victory of the young season.

★ ★ ★

Madison Heights grabbbed third place by scoring four times in the seventh inning for a 7-6 triumph at Farmington. Berkley scored five times in the fourth inning in a 5-2 conquest of Clarkston.

Troy's Tom Morgan twirled two-hit ball and whiffed 13 in a 5-0 blanking of Milford under the lights.

Keystoners Mike Sheldon and Larry Hemmerly each had solo home runs and first sacker Mike Murphy cracked two hits for two runs batted in to lead Waterford.

Two doubles and Bill Simpson's circuit clout, then a walk and a home run by John Parker brough Berkley all the runs Scott Dedenbach needed. He gave Clarkston four hits and and fanned nine.

A makeup twin bill between Berkley and Mott is on today's schedule, and only Berkley won't see action tomorrow when five double-headers are on the legion's slate.

Souchak Is Set to Defend Title

If the host pro is correct, Mike Souchak can start spending the first-prize money he'll collect Monday in the 49th Michigan PGA Section championship at Davison Country Club.

"I've gotta go with Mike," says Davison CC head pro John Chester, a former aide to Ray Maguire at Birmingham.

CHAMP'S READY

Souchak, 42, collected $996 for his 294 in the U.S. Open over the tough Champions Golf Club in Houston, Texas, and his play there indicates he's ready to defend the state PGA crown he won by two shots at Davison last year.

★ ★ ★

"Mike's just the best player," offers Chester.

How about Pontiac's Gene Bone? "Oh, he always hits it well." Bill Mattson of Sheandoah? "Hey, he can hit it, too," says Chester.

PRO-AM SUNDAY

The PGA activity opens Sunday with a pro-am over the trim, 6,863-yard layout, and the pros will have it all to themselves on Monday when they battle over 36 holes to decide who's best and for $5,000 in prize money.

What's Bone say? "I have to go with Souchak," says Bone, "He's a good one. If I'm close to him I'll be tickled."

RULES CHAIRMAN

Bone, chairman of the rules committee for the event, and Mattson toured the course Wednesday. "We didn't keep score," said Gene. "We were just checking the course."

While Souchak figures to be the kingpin at this point, his peers aren't on the verge of conceding. "Let me sink a couple of putts and I'll be in there," vows Bone.

Bone and Souchak are two of seven winners of the event who will be on hand Monday. Other champions set to go are Brien Charter (1965) Kalamazoo, Ted Kroll (1964) of Franklin Hills, Ben Lula (1962) of Mount Clemens, John Barnum (1957, 1958, 1961) and Walter Burkemo (1955).

★ ★ ★

Also on hand is the present Michigan Open champion John Molenda, assistant pro at Khollwood in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Some of the other strong threats to Souchak's continuance as king are Glenn Stuart of Grand Rapids, Bill Bisdorf of Grosse Ile and Jim Picard, an assistant at Tam O'Shanter who has been on the pro circuit.

Byrne-Brisson Lose Finals Today at Red Run

Chuck Byrne, Birmingham Country Club and a member of the Country Club of Miami, Fla., is losing his Invitational Golf crowns as fast as he won them last year.

Byrne and his partner Joe Brisson were eliminated in the second round of the Red Run Invitational yesterday, but it took John Atalean and Bob Zinn 23 holes to do it.

In the other key championship match, Mike Jackson and Bud Badger were easy 6-5 victors over Don and Randy DeArment.

It was expected that the Jackson-Badger team would face Byrne-Brisson in this morning semifinals in a "vengeance" match, but it just didn't materialize that way.

Past champion Tom Draper and partner Frank Burdette entered the semifinals today with a 1-up triumph over Mandella-Dawson while Howard Hamilton and Harry Hibbard were 3-1 winners over Geo. Linklater and Randall Ahern.

★ ★ ★

The finals were slated for 1:30 today in all flights.

In the second flight, Leach-Youngblood met O'Dell-Vernietti, while Ripmaster-Kieppe met Len Orr-Blaine Eynon, with the winners in each bracket going into the finals.

As it appears, the championship flight may very well be a Red Run finale. Last year Byrne and Glenn Johnson were the first non-Red Run duo to win the title in 13 years.

3 'Wheelchair' Records Fall in Lift Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Three records were shattered in weightlifting as the 13th annual National Wheelchair Games opened here Friday.

Lou Rosini of the Easter Seal Paranauts of Philadelphia, competing in the heavyweight division, lifted 400 pounds to erase his own mark of 355 set last year.

Greg Jensen, assistant district attorney from Menlo Park, Calif., set a standard of 330 pounds in the light-heavyweight division, which was introduced for the first time. Last year, he won the middleweight title at 320.

The Central Penn Wheelers of Elizabethtown, Pa., produced a pair of winners, including John Patton, who set the lightweight record of 285 pounds.

The University of Illinois Gizz Kids are strong favorites to repeat as team champions in both the men's and women's divisions. The games end Sunday with track and field finals.

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Stock car driver Ray Nece has posted five victories and one second-place finish in the first third of the season at Mount Clemens Race Track.

If he continues his hot pace he could become the first driver to win three season superstock championships at the track. He previously won seasons honors in 1966 and 1967.

Jackson Trips, Herrmann Chokes

Embarrassing Plays Fail to Halt A's, Chisox

If Reggie Jackson thought his play was embarrassing, he should have seen what happened to Ed Herrmann.

Jackson fell down rounding third Friday night and instead of scoring what would have been Oakland's tying run against Minnesota, he was tagged out.

Herrmann wasn't even moving when he ran into trouble. The Chicago catcher was behind the plate in the fourth inning of the second game of a doubleheader and a foul ball off the bat of Bill Voss struck him.

★ ★ ★

Herrmann swallowed his chewing tobacco and collapsed, falling backward to the ground. It was several minutes before he could get up and be helped off the field and out of the game.

Fortunately for the Athletics, Jackson's unexpected trip didn't put them out of the game. They came back to edge Minnesota 3-2 in 14 innings and take a one-game lead in the American League's West Division.

OTHER GAMES

In other American League games, the White Sox defeated California 9-1 after losing 2-1 in 12 innings, Baltimore downed Cleveland 5-1 after losing 7-2, Washington whipped Detroit 7-2 in 10 innings and Seattle trimmed Kansas City 5-3 before losing 6-2. Rain washed out New York at Boston.

★ ★ ★

Jackson's trouble came in the eighth with Minnesota leading 2-1. He walked with two out, went to second on Sal Bando's single and raced for home as Danny Cater singled. But as he rounded third, he fell and was out, left fielder Cesar Tovar to catcher John Roseboro to shortstop Leo Cardenas.

★ ★ ★

The A's finally tied it in the ninth on Dick Green's run-scoring single and won in the 14th in a wierd finish.

With none out and the bases loaded, Ted Kubiak grounded what appeared to be a single to right field. Jim Hunter scored the winning run, but Kubiak was deprived of a single when Bert Campaneris, who was on first, failed to touch second and was thrown out on a force play.

California won the opener of its doubleheader on Sandy Alomar's two-out, run-scoring single in the 12th, but the White Sox recovered in the nightcap behind the two-hit pitching of Paul Edmondson in his major league debut.

The White Sox erupted for four runs in the third inning and again in the ninth. Edmondson triggered the first outburst with a single and singled home a run in the second, while Luis Aparicio knocked in two runs in each inning.

Big Test Due Slowpitch Loop Leader

Streaking J. A. Fredman prepped for its biggest test of the season Sunday evening with a lopsided 21-3 frolic last evening over Local 594 in the men's "A" League slowpitch softball program.

Breaking open a 4-3 game with seven runs in the third inning and nine in the fourth, Fredman's recorded its ninth consecutive win after an opening game loss.

★ ★ ★

Ray Hedding and Tom Davis led its 20-hit offense last night with three safeties each. Davis had a solo home run, and Gary Acker connected with one on while driving in four runs. Ralph Lippert and Ivan Martinez also homered.

★ ★ ★

Fredman's has a first-place shodown with American Division leader Conn's Clothes (10-0), the city's only undefeated team, 7 p.m. tomorrow at Beaudette Park, then tangles with The Congregation (5-3), the National Loop leader, at 8:30 p.m.

LOSES GROUND

MGM Cleaners (6-5) slipped back in its pursuit of the Congregation, losing a 12-9 verdict to Local 596 Friday as Willie Williams and Jerry Orr cracked doubles in a decisive three-run sixth inning.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Moore's lead-off home run in the last of the seventh gave Huron Gulf (3-7) an 11-10 verdict over Designers Cabinets (1-9) in the other "A" contest last night.

★ ★ ★

In the "B" League, National League pacesetter Peterson's Beauty Shop won its ninth in ten outings by slipping past Grubb's Kennels, 4-2, with Randy Davies getting three singles and two RBI's; and Local 653 (6-4) moved within one game of second place by virtue of an 18-3 romp past First Christian Church (1-9).

Momentum Carries Class 'A' Pacesetter

It's hard to stop momentum. Just ask Teamsters 614 manager Bob Rabaja and veteran Class A City League pitcher Don Sackett.

Sackett and his Teamsters teammates tried to stop unbeaten M. G. Collision last night by tossing a no-hitter at the men's league leader, but the collision crew hurler Bill Collins tossed a shutout and gained a 2-0 victory.

M. G. thus climbed to 8-0 and the unionmen slumped to 3-5. Runner-up Talbott Lumber scored twice in the seventh inning for a 3-1 decision over the R. T. Clippers to stay 2½ games behind M. G.

★ ★ ★

Sackett, a former most valuable player in the days when the Teamsters squad was a perennial league contender, was unusually wild and it cost him. He walked the first two M. G. hitters in the game and they came in when John Fleser misplayed Darrell Lovell's drive.

★ ★ ★

After that it was all Sackett and Collins. The M. G. lefty yielded three hits and one walk, but allowed only one runner to reach second base. He is 3-0 for the campaign.

The defending city champion R. T. Clippers continue to fight a run-making slump. They tallied an unearned run off Gary Richardson (3-1) when Willie Holloman singled home Joe Agee in the first inning last night.

★ ★ ★

But the Talbott hurler blanked them for the next five innings and Rob Clancy stopped them in the seventh and now the Clippers (3-5) have scored just three runs in their last 28 innings.

Dodgers Win, Stay Game Back

By the Associated Press

Three little smashes kept Atlanta riding high, but seven singles in one inning didn't do a thing for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Braves used Bob Tillman's one-out homer in the 12th inning to turn back San Francisco 4-3 Friday night, after consecutive bases empty homers by Rico Carty and Bob Aspromonte had tied it for Atlanta in the ninth.

The Pirates, meanwhile, paraded 12 men to the plate—and seven of them singled—in a seven-run third inning, but Philadelphia rallied for an 8-7 victory.

In other National League action, Los Angeles remained a game behind the Braves in the West Division with a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati; New York edged St. Louis 4-3; Chicago snapped a five-game losing streak by beating Montreal 2-0 and Houston swept a doubleheader from San Diego 6-1 and 3-1.

Bill Hands, 6-6, hurled a five-hitter for his first shutout of the season in stopping the Expos.

Chicago grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly—the 1,527th RBI of his career, putting him into a tie for 15th place with Joe DiMaggio on the all-time list.

The Cubs added another in the fifth when Hands singled and scored when loser Jerry Robertson walked Paul Popovich, billy Williams and Ron Santo in succession.

STOPPER

Larry Dierker stopped San Diego on four hits for his ninth victory in the opener, then the Astros' Curt Blefary doubled to touch off a three-run rally in the seventh of the nightcap to complete the sweep.

Tommie Sisk had blanked Houston on two hits until Denis Menke had a on-out single in the seventh. John Edwards walked and Blefary then doubled Menke home with the tying run. Sisk walked Gary Geiger intentionally and Gary Ross relieved and walked Doug Rader, forcing home another run. Marty Martinez' sacrifice fly produced an insurance marker.

★ ★ ★

Edwards knocked in two Astro runs with a triple and scored a third in the opener.

San Francisco's Mike McCormick had checked the Braves on four hits until Carty hit his third homer of the season with one out in the ninth and Aspromonte followed with his first of the year.

EARLY EXPLOSION

Gene Stone's run-scoring triple in the seventh gave Philadelphia its victory after the Pirates' early explosion.

The Pirates' big inning gave them a 7-3 lead, but John Briggs' two-run homer chopped it to 7-5 in the bottom of the third.

★ ★ ★

Larry Hisle's RBI triple in the fourth and Cookie Rojas' run-scoring single in the sixth tied it, before Stone went to work.

★ ★ ★

Drysdale, 3-2, sidelined from late April until last Sunday with a sore shoulder, gave up only three hits in six innings before leaving with a 3-0 lead.

"He pitched real well for a second outing after being away so long," said Manager Walt Alston. "He told me he was a little tired and I decided six innings were enough."

Drysdale said his arm felt "stronger than it did Sunday. It has reached the point where I got to keep throwing and work up to a full game."

Lead Brings No Cheer for Lefty Pro Charles

By BOB GREEN

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Bob Charles, the golfing world's greatest left-hander, was subdued, certainly not cheerful, practically mournful, after establishing the second-round lead in the $150,000 Kemper Open.

"I'm really not playing that well," the lean New Zealander complained Friday after shooting a two-under-par 70 for a 36-hole total of 138.

★ ★ ★

"This course is too long for me," he said of the 7,250-yard Quail Hollow Country Club layout. "It's a bit of a struggle.

"The shots are not coming easy to me."

It may sound a little strange for a man leading in the chase for a $30,000 prize, but there could be a very good reason for Charles' lack of enthusiasm.

Looming over his shoulder just one shot back at 139, are eight others, including dangerous Dan Sikes, Lee Trevino and ancient Sam Snead.

Five others are at 140 and seven more at 141, putting 21 players within three shots of each other going into the final two rounds of play.

The long-hitting Sikes had the day's best round, 67, while Trevino and the 57-year-old Snead each had 69. They were tied with rookie Bob Payne, 70; Australian Bruce Devlin, 70; England's Tony Jacklin, 69; Mason Rudolph, 70, and Dale Douglas, 70.

BIG THRILL IN GOLF — Joyce Ann Jackson, 22, Birmingham, Ala., playing in her first professional golf tournament, gives a wink and holds the ball she used to score an ace on the 17th hole yesterday in the LPGA tournament in Columbus, Ohio. It was her first hole-in-one and the first in LPGA competition this year. She used a three iron on the 185-yard 17th.

Powerful Jayhawks in Track Spotlight

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Kansas, banking on the endurance of distance ace Jim Ryun, appeared a sure bet to end an eight-year domination by West Coast teams in the NCAA Track and Field Championships today.

By the time the last of 13 final events—some of them nationally televised. (ABC)—are over tonight, the Jayhawks hope for 60 points.

That's what they figure it will take to win, double what they had after seven events were completed Friday.

Ryun, the world record-holder in the mile with a clocking of 3:51.1, set his sights on an unprecedented double victory in the mile and three-mile, a feat made even more difficult by the schedule. After the mile, there's just a little more than an hour's rest before the three-mile.

Kansas' top challenger was speed-laden San Jose State, paced by jaunty John Carlos and a host of other sprinters.

Carlos, who says he won't be satisfied until he runs the 100-yard dash in less than nine seconds, unseated defending champion Lennox Miller of Southern California Friday with a 9.2 in the finals.

ADDED ATTRACTIONS

"The 100 is just an extra added attraction for me," Carlos said after the race. "I'm a 220 man and nobody's going to beat me in it. The hard part (the 100) is over now. I want to get 25 or 30 points for my school."

* * *

Villanova's Erv Hall defeated three-year rival Richmond Flowers of Tennessee by turning in a 13.3 in the 120 high hurdles. But it was Flowers' teammate, freshman Bill High, who put the pressure on Hall and finished second. Flowers was third.

* * *

Oregon State got victories from Steve Deutremont in the hammer throw and Jim Barkley in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and was 10 points behind Kansas after Friday's action.

Villanova was third with 17, followed by San Jose State with State with 14 each and UCLA 16, Tennessee and Washington with 13.

Karl Salb heaved the shot 64 feet, 9 inches and Steve Wilhelm was close behind at 63-6¼ to give Kansas a 1-2 finish in that event. Both qualified for the finals in the discus.

* * *

The Jayhawks also got needed points from Steve Whitley, who finished second in the long jump with a leap of 26-7. The surprise of the day, though, was Jerry Proctor of Redlands, who soared 26-11¾ for first. The mark exceeded the NCAA record but was disallowed because of a following wind.

Arizona State Triumphs

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Billy Cotton and John Dolinsek slammed home runs in an Arizona State power display which crushed Tulsa, 10-1, and brought the Sun Devils their third NCAA baseball championship within five years Friday night.

The resounding Arizona State triumph eliminated the possibility a decision might have to be awaited in August to confirm the NCAA champion. Tulsa went into the finals with the cloud of an ineligible player used in the district playoff hanging over its head.

With pitching ace Larry Gura stifling Hurricane hopes with his six-hit pitching and Cotton, Dolinsek, Ralph Dick and Paul Ray Powell smashing the hurling of Tulsa aces Steve Rogers and Cliff Butcher, Arizona State made easy work of the title match.

Cotton put the game on ice with a three-run home run in the fifth inning for a 7-1 lead following a single by Dolinsek and a hit batsman.

Dolinsek then cracked his homer with Dick aboard on a single in the sixth for the 10-1 margin. Dolinsek, Dick and Powell each collected three hits.

Dolinsek wound up the 23rd College World Series' leading hitter with a .476 average and six runs batted in. Powell hit .367 in the tourney.

It was the Sun Devils' third title, the others coming in 1965 and 1967, all under Coach Bobby Winkles. ASU finished with a 55-11 season record this year.

Nightmare in Rec Play

Surging Timberlanes Lounge (6-4) rolled to its fourth win in a row last night by pinning a 1-0 loss on previously unbeaten Day's Sanitary (9-1) in Waterford Township recreation softball.

The set back also knocked Day's out of first place. Spencer Floor (10-1) moved a half game in front in the second game with a 9-1 verdict over Midget Bar (5-5).

Roger Reynolds scattered four hits and fanned three batters in twirling the shutout for Timberlanes. The lone run came in the top of the sixth when Al Smith tripled and race home on a wild pitch.

Day's missed a scoring chance in the fourth when John Parks led off with a triple, but he was out at the plate trying to score after an overthrow at third by a Timberlane outfielder.

Bud Hayward picked up two hits for Timberlanes, while Paul Atkins had two of the four safeties off Reynolds.

Jim Long lashed a two-run single in the second to trigger a four-run uprising by Spencer Floor. Long finished with three singles to set the pace.

No Girls Softball Loop

There'll be no girls softball (age 12-15) in Waterford Township this summer, recreation officials said today. Officials said the decision was made because of a lack of managers.

Alfi Ad Answered

Dog Was Rover in Right Spot

It seems that the poodle, which belongs to the Donald Root family, jumped out of the car while the Roots were visiting relatives in Illinois a few weeks ago. The car was going about 60 miles an hour at the time.

The discovery was not made until the family had traveled more than 100 miles down the highway.

When the Roots returned home, they placed a lost-and-found want ad in the Carbondale, Ill., newspaper. A farmer called the next day and said his daughter had found the dog wandering in a field several miles from the highway.

Alfi was picked up by Mrs. Root's mother, Mrs. C. H. Whitcomb of Marion, Ill., to hold until the Roots pay a visit over the July 4th holiday.

"It was just a shot in the dark," said Mrs. Root of the want ad. "We didn't think we would ever find her — or that she was even alive."

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

We are turning today's column over to Jacoby Senior to tell the actual story about yesterday's hand. Here it is.

★ ★ ★

This hand was played in the semifinals of the 1936 Grand National. I was South at table 1 and since my team, the Four Aces, used point count I had no problem putting my partner, the late David Bruce, in seven.

★ ★ ★

He played the hand against the best defense as described yesterday but it did our opponents no good. Dave was always a good guesser and he picked up the queen of spades and made the grand slam.

★ ★ ★

At the other table the late Jimmy Maier sat West. There is no telling how good Jimmy would have been if he had lived past 30. He was the toughest opponent I ever faced and a mighty good man to have on the other half of my team. The late Sherman Stearns who sat East was also one of the best.

★ ★ ★

Sherman got rid of a spade on the 4th diamond and so did Jimmy. From then on they followed suit but Jimmy played his clubs in rather peculiar fashion. He dropped the six and eight and carefully hung onto the nine.

★ ★ ★

South noticed this and knew that Jimmy was deliberately giving him the information that he held the last club and had started with three spades to his partner's four.

★ ★ ★

"Why this help" mused South. "Does he want me to play him for the queen of spades or doesn't he?"

South would have been well-advised to toss a coin and at least have an even chance to make his grand slam. But South had too much pride for that. He tried to outguess Jimmy, played him for the queen and went down.

Planned Jetport Threatens Everglades Tribe

FROG CITY STATION, Fla. (AP) — Miccosukee Indians stomped the Green Corn Dance, but this time there was little reason for happiness during the traditionally joyous life celebration.

The Miccosukees know their primitive way of life may be forever buried in the tons of concrete poured to mold the runways of a giant jetport 50 miles west of Miami.

One runway would be but 200 yards from the ground where the Miccosukee have danced and gathered for tribal councils since they first slogged into the Everglades during the Seminole wars of the early 1800s.

* * *

"We don't think we have any chance of stopping the jetport from being put there, but we do think the federal government should do something for us Miccosukees," tribal leader Buffalo Tiger said Thursday.

CHEATING BIRTHRIGHT

"Everybody talks about progress—but progress is ruining the Indian. It's just another example of the white man cheating the Indians of their birthright."

Conservation groups protested recently to a U.S. Senate committee that construction of the jetport, financed in part with federal funds, would destroy the Everglades National Park with water and noise pollution.

* * *

For the Miccosukees, whose major concession to the white man's progress is a service station and restaurant on the busy Tamiami Trail, the threat is greater.

"We have 486 Miccosukees in this area," Tiger said. "The Miccosukees like to fish and hunt. We have villages along the Tamiami Trail where we make our living."

DOOM FORETOLD

"All this will go. The game in the Everglades will be chased away by the screaming of the jet engines. There will be no fish in the canals and streams. And soon there will be no business for us on the Tamiami Trail."

Tiger said the jetport has occupied the Miccosukee elders during the weeklong Green Corn Dance, during which tribal matters and family and business disputes are usually settled.

Some of the giant tortoises on the Galapagos Islands weigh as much as 500 pounds and are thought to be 200 years old.

State Police System

Suspects Tabbed by Wire

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have started operation of facsimile wire transmission of fingerprints and photographs to speed up identification of suspects in criminal investigation.

The pilot system, now operating between three points, will be studied to determine if it should be expanded to serve more of the state, particularly the larger cities.

The Detroit post has a transmitter and the crime laboratory at Plymouth has a receiver.

Capt. Glenn Dafoe, commander of the records section, said that, under the network transmission system, a criminal suspect can be identified or cleared in between 15 minutes to an hour.

Dafoe said this compares with a wait of up to six days if the fingerprints or photographs are sent by mail.

New York State, he said, has been using such a network for several years and at last report had 29 points linked to the system.

Newspapers' Right to Check Wills Upheld

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has upheld the right of newspapers to inspect wills which are under control of probate courts.

The Supreme Court refused to review a Court of Appeals decision in which the Muskegon Chronicle sued Probate Judge Robert A. Cavanaugh in a case that attracted national interest.

The Chronicle Thursday described its victory as "a major victory for the rights of a free press."

The Court of Appeals upheld a Muskegon County Circuit Court decision growing out of Cavanagh's refusal in September of 1967 to permit a reporter to inspect the will of the late Muskegon civic leader, John C. Beukema.

Cavanagh had ruled that only people with special interests could inspect a will and that newspapers has no such special interest.

The Court of Appeals ruled "plaintiff newspaper possess the necessary special interest not possessed by citizens generally, and this yermits access to records."

4 Women Inmates Ready to Take Jobs

PLYMOUTH (AP)—Four more women graduates of the Detroit House of Corrections are ready for a fresh start as key-punch operators, possibly working for the state.

The State Highway Department reports the four, identified only as short-term inmates, have successfully passed a course in key punch operation.

They have been listed on the State Civil Service roster as eligible for jobs with the state.

The department said since 1920 it has trained about 20 young women in the House of Corrections as key punch operators.

One More State Needed to Call Convention

Constitution-Confab Key: Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The key to whether the nation will have its first constitutional convention since the Founding Fathers met in the "Grand Convention" of 1787 appears to be in the hands of the Wisconsin legislature.

Legislatures of 33 states already have adopted resolutions petitioning Congress to call a convention aimed at overturning a 1964 Supreme Court decision requiring a one-man, one-vote basis for apportioning state legislatures.

* * *

Action by only one more state would invoke Article V of the Constitution, which provides that upon application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states Congress shall call a convention for the purpose of proposing amendments.

An Associated Press survey spotlights the Wisconsin legislature as the one where the chances of putting the move over are best, although the resolution faces an uphill fight.

MEASURE DIES

Two years ago the Wisconsin Senate passed a resolution asking for a constitutional convention on the reapportionment issue, but the measure died in the Assembly.

This year, in a shift in strategy, the resolution is starting out in the Assembly. If it can be passed there, and hearings are expected shortly, supporters of the move are confident it will clear the Senate again.

* * *

If Wisconsin—or some other state—becomes the 34th to petition for a convention, Congress will be plunged into a momentous debate and, in the opinion of some members, a constitutional crisis of major proportions.

Basically, despite some differences in wording, the petitions to Congress ask for a constitutional convention for proposing on amendment that would permit factors other than population to be taken into account in apportionment of one branch of a state legislature. Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has tried twice to win Senate approval of such an amendment.

Each time Dirksen got a majority but not the necessary two-thirds margin. Since then, without fanfare, he has been pushing the drive in state legislatures for a constitutional convention.

Under the Constitution, amendments can be proposed in two ways: Congress can submit them to the states, after approval by a two-thirds majority in both the Senate and the House, or amendmnets can be submitted by a convention.

* * *

In either case, amendments have to be ratified by three-fourths of the states before becoming effective.

The convention route never has been used.

Dirksen apparently hopes Congress will submit his reapportionment amendment to the states if it is confronted with a choice of doing that or calling a constitutional convention.

An Associated Press survey of the 13 states in which the legislatures have taken no action on the issue indicates Dirksen's chief hope lies in Wisconsin.

* * *

The other states from which reports were received are Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Michigan, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Vermont and West Virginia.

In none of these states does there appear to be any prospect at this time that a resolution petitioning for a convention will be passed.

STATES LISTED

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington and Wyoming.

* * *

In addition, three other states—Alaska, California, and Rhode Island—have petitioned Congress to initiate a reapportionment amendment but have not asked for the calling of a constitutional convention.

Efforts have been made to rescind some of the resolutions calling for a convention, but none have succeeded.

Some 5.3 million U.S. families live in poverty or with less than $3,000 income a year.

Three Detroit Firms Charged With Bias

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission has charged three Detroit firms with racial discrimination in employment and dismissed the complaint against a fourth employer, the city of Detroit.

The three companies are Tel-Service Co., Approved Answering Service and Approved Auto Driving School.

* * *

The commission found Tel-Service discharged a switchboard operator only because she is a Negro. It also charged the company with "coercing" its employes into joining a "plan of elimination" against black employes.

The other two companies were charged with refusing to hire applicants only because of their race.

Congress-Court Rift: Massive or Passive?

BY DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There has been a lot of talk this week about the possibility of a confrontation between Congress and the Supreme Court.

The court's ruling that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was unconstitutionally denied his seat in 1967 may have put it on a collision course with the House of Representatives.

Some of the more militant congressmen have threatened defiance should a lower court now rule that Powell is entitled to collect the pay he lost while in limbo and Bimini.

"There is a lot more to this than just the Powell case," one of the militants told me. "We congressmen feel alienated from the mainstream of Supreme Court decisions, and we are demanding that congressmen be given a bigger voice in running Congress."

WEST

It is believed the militants speak for only a small portion of the legislative body. The overwhelming majority of today's House members are on the side of law and order.

But we all know that militants usually prevail over the moderates when the situation gets down to the nitty-gritty.

In that event, the justices and the lawmakers would be eyeball to eyeball. Or, as the case might be, bifocal to bifocal.

In my mind's eye, I am already getting some vivid mental pictures of what the confrontation would be like.

OCCUPY OFFICE

It would begin, I imagine, with a group of congressional militants occupying the House Disbursing Office to prevent execution of the court order regarding Powell's back pay.

★ ★ ★

The law-givers obviously would have numerical superiority. They outnumber the justices 435 to 9 when both are at full strength.

A vacancy caused by the resignation of Abe Fortas has further weakened the bench, and some of the justices are near the doddering age.

But in seeking to enforce the order, the court would have at its disposal a sizable force of U.S. marshals, some of whom have been battle-tested on college campuses.

HOUSE RESERVES

Moreover, the court presumably would have the support of Powell himself, and it is likely that several other lawmakers would defect.

The House has reserves of its own, however. It could call out the congressional police force, which has gained valuable experience ejecting peace demonstrators from the Capitol steps this spring.

★ ★

And, as a last resort, it could throw up a defense line composed of "Fishbait" Miller and his fearsome corps of House doorkeepers.

I wouldn't venture to predict the outcome of such a confrontation, but if it does take place, I hope I'm here to see it.

Pillared Porch Allows View Of Patio-Pool At Norman Mays In Avon Township

Time Doesn't Dim Home's Effective Plan

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Built 36 years ago, the four-bedroom one story of the Norman Mays in Avon Township is ageless — its rich paneling and rambling design as much in vogue and in demand now as it was then.

Part of the former William McCullough estate, the main body of the house was originally built to serve as a recreation center with dressing rooms for the nearby swimming pool.

When the younger McCullough (Jack) married, he transformed the building into a home for his bride. Following World War II the formal living room (fondly called "the old-fashioned parlor" by Mrs. May) was added.

"Almost all the wood in the house," said Mrs. May, "was harvested from timber on the property and kiln-dried in Romeo."

Rich cherry panels and solid beams highlight the present family room which was part of the original structure.

"You will note," added Mrs. May, "there are very few curtains in the entire house. The McCulloughs had custom-made shutters installed on most of the windows."

All detail work on the copper-hooded stone fireplace is hand-crafted, furniture-finished cherry.

An authentic oxen yoke of pine has been electrified as a light fixture and hangs from the room's center beam. "It's very pretty," nodded Mrs. May, "but not too practical. It doesn't give much light."

AUTOMOTIVE BUFF

Revealing May's interest in the automobile industry are authentic scaled replicas of General Motors' cars, a 1910 Cadillac, 1920 Buick and a 1903 Oldsmobile.

"The models are not too easy to find anymore," said Mrs. May. "And since they are made of plaster of paris, they are quite fragile. When I dust, I don't even pick them up, I just slide them gently to keep from breaking pieces off of them."

* * *

Grouped about the room's blue, green, brick red and gray braided rug are a black and brown tweed wing-back sofa, matching blue wing-back chairs and a cane-backed Boston Rocker.

In the adjoining formal living room, the cherry ceiling and paneling are accented by antiqued white beams which serve to coordinate the room with the white brick fireplace.

EASY MAINTENANCE

"You can't beat these oak floors," said Mrs. May. "They can take it. Our son Mike would invite his friends in to dance. When the party was over, a quick buffing and the floors were like new."

Leading the way through the family room to the bedroom wing, Mrs. May passed a copper-countered entertainment buffet, complete with running water.

"Many different woods were used in the finishing work," she said. "For instance, the basement stairwell and recreation room is finished in pecky cypress. That, of course, was not grown on the property. It was shipped in.

"The guest bedrooms are in knotty pine and our son's room and the master bedroom are ash. Each closet in the house is lined in aromatic cedar.

"And each of the home's doors is finished to match the surface it faces . . . be it cedar, ash, knotty pine or cherry."

DIAMOND-PANED WINDOWS are one of the chief characteristics of the Tudor style, which goes back to the reign of the English House of Tudor. All houses of this type have a definite appearance of solidity, as though built to last hundreds of years, which many have.

Tudor Atmosphere in a Modern Home

Although modified somewhat over the years, Tudor home styling has retained its manner of combining an informal country atmosphere with an air of stately permanence.

In the United States, some of the most fashionable and exclusive homes built 40 or 50 years ago were of Tudor design.

With home buyers again becoming style conscious, it is beginning to regain its popularity in many sections of the country.

The latest House of the Week is up-to-date in every respect, yet architect Samuel Paul has packed it with many of the charms and nuances typical of Tudor homes.

WOOD RAIL

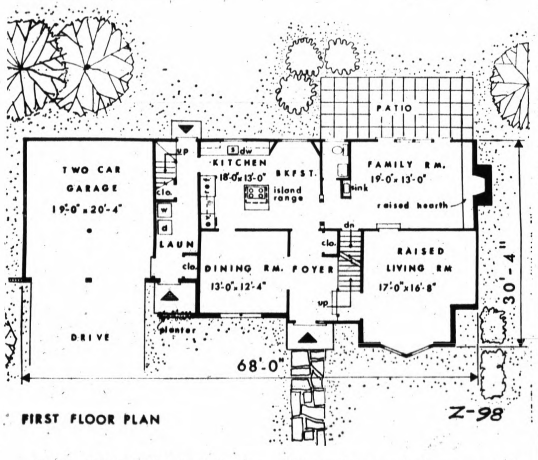
SECOND FLOOR PLAN



FIRST FLOOR PLAN

FLOOR PLANS: Well laid-out floor arrangement has many "extras," including front service door which leads to the rear of the house and a rear service staircase that permits access to the space over the garage, suitable for playroom, study or extra bedroom.

* * *

SPLAYED WALLS

Splayed walls in the dinette section create a bay effect without the cost of a bay.

A curved arch, flanked by turned posts, leads from the kitchen to the family room, which has a brick fireplace wall.

A built-in bar sink in the family room adds to its value as an entertainment center.

There is access from the living room to the family room, permitting both areas to be combined for large gatherings.

POWDER ROOM

The powder room, centrally located, serves all parts of the first floor.

A spacious laundry-mud room permits easy secondary and service access to the home from the front as well as the rear.

Thus, a car can be parked in the driveway, and the groceries carried into the home and kitchen via the front service door, shielded from view by a low brick wall, which also serves to camouflage space for trash cans.

A rear service staircase — a throwback to the days of elegance — permits direct access between the kitchen and laundry and the optional second-floor playroom.

* * *

The second floor has four bedrooms, two full baths and an abundance of closets.

The playroom, which could be either a study or extra bedroom, is located over the garage, making it a kind of bonus space.

* * *

As for the master bedroom suite, it has a true luxury setup.

* * *

It is spread across two levels, with the bedroom area separated by a wooden rail and up two steps from the dressing area, which includes a vanity, private bath, stall shower and plenty of closet space.

There is a two-car garage and a partial basement.

While the exterior is shown as a combination of brick veneer and vertical board-and-batten siding, other materials might be chosen by home owners without destroying the Tudor look.

Z-98 STATISTICS

Design Z-98 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, powder room, foyer and laundry-mudroom on the first floor, totaling 1,550 square feet. There are four bedrooms and two baths upstairs, with a habitable area of 1,100 square feet, in addition to 285 square feet over the garage. There is a two-car garage and a partial basement. Over-all dimensions, including the garage, are 68' by 30' 4".

Long Life Spans for Oak Flooring

Oak floors will last 50 years or longer, a U.S. Government study has found.

In fact, the Palace of Versailles, built in the 17th century by Louis XIV, still has some of its original hardwood floors.

Lumber Prices Are Increasing in Country

Recent price increases shared by plywood, lumber and federal timber through competitive bidding in the marketplace "have been blown out of perspective by panic reaction," a major forest industry spokesman declared today.

"The largest part of the industry's plywood production still is selling at mill prices slightly below the level of 20 years ago," it was pointed out by R. B. Pamplin, chairman and president of Georgia-Pacifi Corp., "But the recent recovery from near-record lows, caused by the 1966-67 housing recession, has been too rapid for builders' construction programming.

In a supplemental statement to a just-published annual report, he said "much of the current imbalance between supply and demand, despite full plywood and lumber production to the limit of raw material supply, has been caused by temporary conditions.

"But a worse and more permanent shortage faces us in the future if remedial action is not taken now.

"An increase in the allowable harvest of over-ripe federal timber is urgently needed, but it must be done within long-term sustained yield timber growing programs to assure a continuous supply of raw material," Pamplin declared.

STUDIES

U. S. forest service studies indicate demand for timber will double during the next 30 years.

Two temporary factors are blamed for much of the current timber shortage and the resulting shortage of plywood and lumber.

They are the worst winter logging weather in over half a century, coupled with log exports from federal lands.

★ ★ ★

"However," Pamplin added, "with the long-range demand for forest products expected to increase sharply, a permanent supply-and-demand squeeze will develop soon if federal timberlands are not brought up to their full growth and harvest potential.

GROWING

"We also must not lock up too much timber growing land in single-use, wilderness type withdrawals."

★ ★ ★

Federal lands are the industry's basic raw material supply since they comprise some 65 per cent of all commercial timberlands in the nation, it was pointed out.

Industry owns only 15 per cent of the total. The remainder is in farm woodlots, watersheds and other scattered holdings.

"As the basic supplier, the federal government must assume basic responsibility. This means Congress should reinvest more federal timber sale revenues to grow more and better trees, and to provide access roads into over-ripe timber stands.

PLYWOOD

Plywood sheathing, the industry's basic product accounting for approximately 62 per cent of total 1968 softwood plywood production, also is the basic construction material for walls, floors and roofs.

Sanded plywood for cabinetwork and some other interior uses, plus lumber for framing and boards, are approaching 50 per cent above the 20-years-ago mill price index. Many manufacturing costs, including wage rates, are up more than 100 per cent.

"We feel sanded plywood and lumber have risen too high too fast for the good of our industry or the construction industry, even though these products remain a bargain compared with vastly greater increases in almost every other construction area," Pamplin said.

REPORT

In early December a plywood price freeze, was instigated and rescinded early this year after the abrupt price climb slowed.

"The next 20 years will see much more pressure on raw material supplies to meet the nation's needs. Unless all federal timberlands not vitally needed for other purposes are geared to growing more and better trees faster, as modern timber management can do, we face much more serious supply-demand-price problems," Pamplin declared.

"The private industry tree farms already are helping boost production of needed building products."

Clean Air Conditioner for Results

If your summer cool depends upon a room air conditioner, you'd better include it on the cleaning schedule.

Each has a filter that traps dust, dirt, pollen, and other impurities.

If the filter is clogged and dirt-laden, it will hinder the air flow and trap impurities very inefficiently.

★ ★ ★

Begin your cleaning by removing the front panel of the air conditioner. Use a vacuum cleaner attachment to clean the inside walls, the louvers in the front panel, and the inlet louvers in the rear panel.

INSIDE

The inside may also need damp wiping with water and detergent or a liquid cleaner.

Next — the filter. If it's made of aluminum, it can be washed and used for many years.

★ ★ ★

Filters of non-washable materials, however, must be replaced when dirty.

★ ★ ★

If you need a new one, visit a hardware or department store and find a washable aluminum mesh filter that can be trimmed to the correct size with a scissors.

RECOAT

When it's dirty, it can be cleaned in warm soapy water and air dried.

After each washing it should be recoated with a water-soluble coating that restores its original efficiency.

The spray-on coating is usually available along with filters in most stores.

Paint Screens Now Before Heat Arrives

With summer here today, and especially if you don't have air-conditioning in your home, you're going to have the windows open most of the time with the drapes drawn back.

Now, how do the screens look? Not so hot? Why not revitalize them with a coat of paint?

* * *

There are two excellent reasons for painting screens.

First, they are protected against rust and corrosion. What will happen without this protection? Well, steel screens will eventually rust and holes will develop, providing a superhighway for an invasion of insects.

Copper or brass screening won't rust, but it will corrode. The corrosion products are washed down by rain and can stain masonry and woodwork below. Even the white oxide that forms on aluminum can cause similar staining.

SECONDLY

The best kind of paint to use on screens is a thin type known as screen enamel which will coat the mesh but not clog it. Or, you can also use an exterior enamel thinned with mineral spirits or turpentine.

* * *

Whichever is used, be sure that it is a quality product so that you will be assured of long-lasting protection.

There are several methods for painting the screens. One is to use a roller. Another good way is to use a paint sprayer. A third way is to use a screen painter, which can be purchased from your dealer, or which you can make yourself by tacking a piece of carpet to a wooden block.

Before painting, be sure that the surface is clean. This is most important since paint will not adhere to dirt, oil, grease or rust.

CLEANING

You can clean the screens with a cloth saturated with paint thinner or turpentine. Remove loose rust by rubbing gently with steel wool.

Prime any bare spots with exterior metal primer. Galvanized steel screening requires its own special primer known as metallic zinc paint or zinc dust-zinc oxide paint.

* * *

If you wish to keep the original color of copper, brass or aluminum, use spar varnish or a clean exterior lacquer.

HINTS

Some additional hints: You'll find it easier to work on screens if you lay them across a pair of saw horses or boxes of equal height.

However, if you're using a paint sprayer, it will be simpler to have the screens standing instead of lying on the saw horses. Stack several screens at a time, and the paint that passes through the first screen will land on the ones behind it.

Don't worry if paint fills some of the mesh. When the enamel has dried, simply turn the screen over and rub with a scrub brush. This will open clogged spots.

Kickbacks Involved in Building Loans

By JAMES L. SRODES
UPI Reporter

Add a new term to your homebuilding, dictionary — "Equity Kicker."

The term is easily definable by looking at its two words.

★ ★ ★

"Equity" means an interest or ownership.

"Kicker" is a corruption of the good old fashioned kickback.

Put it all together and it spells out a demand by a lender to a builder that he pay not only interest on a building loan but also a piece of the profits from the project.

BANKER'S JOY

Today they are a fact of life confronting every builder faced with the scramble for investment money.

★ ★ ★

In recent months, big lenders, including insurance companies and major investment houses, have been turning more and more to equity kickers to earn the extra profits they feel they should get during an inflationary squeeze on the money supply.

Naturally, the only builder who can even get in the door to ask for such a loan is the apartment or condominium builder.

AVERAGE KICKER

Right now, homebuilding industry spokesmen estimate the average "kicker" is running 3 to 4 per cent of gross earnings.

Add this to a standard 8 per cent loan on an apartment project and you get some idea of the cost of money these days.

★ ★ ★

Housing industry spokesmen are growing increasingly concerned about the dangers the equity kicker presents but some show a willingness to accept it as a fact of inflationary times.

"You have virtually no single family homes being built right now because there is no money available for them," said one building industry economist.

"But the declining rate of housing starts — now around 1,540,000 units per year — would really nosedive if equity kickers weren't keeping apartment building up. How long it will last, I don't know."

MEET DEMANDS

Eugene A. Gulledge, president of the National Association of Homebuilders, is concerned the lenders may step up their demands for more of the action.

"They may ask only 3 per cent of a builder's equity today, but it might be 10 per cent tomorrow, or 20 per cent, or finally, the lender could be building and owning the property," he warned in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Use Natural Means While Fixing Lights

Is your home light-poor?

No matter how sumptuously or sparsely your home or apartment is furnished, you can do a lot for its appearance and for your frame of mind by making the most out of natural lighting opportunities.

According to Eleanor Kandel, a light control specialist, adjusting venetian blinds during different times of the day can produce interesting and rewarding lighting effects without additional cost.

For example, when the sun shines on a window, do not close the venetians completely, but adjust them so that they deflect the light into interesting shadow patterns that play on floor and walls. As the angle of the sun changes, so do the shadow patterns.

★ ★ ★

A new development, the Venette with one-inch louvers achieves a lighter, airier effect that creates new possibilities for interior natural lighting.

VENETTE

Termed the greatest single advance in window treatments in 20 years, the Venette also offers nearly invisible polyester slat supports and cables, a tilt-tube head mechanism, crash proof cord lock and many other features never before found in window blind hardware.

The louvers of the Venette are barely visible, from inside or out, when in open position, and this permits an unobstructed view of the outside without having to pull the lift cord.

YOUR LEAFLEE GARDEN— will take on a new interest with the Patron Saint of wild creatures presiding over a bird feeder. The figure is cut out of wood with details painted in dark brown. It also is one of four patterns in the Bird House and Feeder Packet No. 32—all for $1.50. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Box 50, New Windsor, N. Y. 12550.

Finishing a floor? After you have removed the old finish, you should work quickly and thoroughly to complete your project.

Moisture vapor may cause grain lifting and dirt or stains are difficult to remove from the bare wood.

It's also advisable to work in your stocking feet since this will reduce the chance of scuff marks or dirt damaging the floor.

On Lake Gulick

Pioneer Girls on Weekend Campout

Rain or shine girls of Five Points Community Church were ready to leave yesterday for a weekend at Camp Oweki on Lake Gulick.

Under the leadership of guides, Mrs. William L. Harsch and Marion Corey, the Pioneer Girls were up at dawn to see what the weather would be.

★ ★ ★

It was raining but hopefully and prayerfully they packed boxes of equipment and food. They met at the church before 9 a.m. and as they set up camp the sun burst forth to dry the camp site.

★ ★ ★

While at camp the girls will earn badges for nature study, outdoor craft, outdoor cookery and outpost work.

The purpose of Pioneer Girls is to develop girls in Christian growth and services such as home and family, personal development, arts, nature, outdoor life and hobbies.

COOK, SING

The schedule for the weekend includes setting up camp, cooking lunch, swimming, cooking dinner, singing around the campfire, popping corn and roasting marshmallows.

This morning the girls cooked breakfast, even if it was a little cool outdoors, and went for a nature hike. This includes looking for and identifying flowers and birds.

Today they will also play games, weave baskets and do other handcraft.

★ ★ ★

After breakfast tomorrow the girls and counselors will break camp, pack up and return home. No meetings are scheduled until Sept. 8.

Handbell Choir to Play Church Concert

One of the country's outstanding handbell choirs, now enroute to the National Festival of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers, will make a stop in Rochester for a concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow in University Presbyterian Church, 1385 Adams.

★ ★ ★

The concert is open to the public.

The group of 10 young people is from the First United Methodist Church of Lake Charles, La. The director, Donald E. Allured, is a brother of Robert Allured of Rochester.

The choir members are all students in Lake Charles high schools. They use 50 bells. Thirteen new bells arrived last month from the White Chapel Bell Foundry in London, England.

BELLS OF BRASS

The bells are solid brass, cast in a mold. Each bell has a felt covered clapper and a leather strap handle. They are handled with gloves to prevent tarnishing.

The largest bell weighs 12 pounds and is 11 inches in diameter. Most people need two hands to lift it but the young choir members ring it with no effort at all.

TO WORK

Homer and Ann Nye will lead 10 young pople on a two-week National Missions work project in rural Southeastern Missouri June 28 to July 12.

The team will paint inside and out a rural Presbyterian Church encamping in the church during their stay. The church membership will introduce them to rural living and large scale farming.

The work team consists of Janis Lemke, Coralie Richards, Sue Wagner, Doug Jenkins, Nick Stallard, Kent Rolfe, Mark Myers, Robbie Snyder, Allan Perr and Scott Schlegel.

Th Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Davies of University Church will be advisors to a team or 11 young people to the Philippine Islands and Hong Kong. Two young people of the pastor's congregation, Debbie Durkee and Glen Kerns, will be among the group.

★ ★ ★

Silvercrest Baptist Plans Mystery Day

Only a small group of people know what to expect during services tomorrow at Silvercrest Baptist Church, 2562 Dixie as Pastor John Hunter and Sunday School leaders designate the day as Mystery Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The mystery will begin with the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School. Teachers and officers of the school are in the dark as to the coming program, Pastor Hunter said.

★ ★ ★

All of the material for handcraft was brought in by members in order to keep expenses to a minimum. The craft work will be useful in the home at the close of the school, Miss Pond said.

In Madison Square Garden

Thousands at Billy Graham Crusade

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 156,000 persons have flocked to Billy Graham's New York Crusade since it opened on week ago.

They come to Madison Square Garden in an average of 200 chartered buses each night, and by car, subway and the trains which rumble into Penn Station in the basement of the Garden.

Although 95 per cent come from the metropolitan area, there have been delegations from 10 states. One group came from London.

Thursday night's crowd, which spilled into the Felt Forum, on the floor beneath the Garden's main auditorium, and into another auditorium a block away, was the largest to date—more than 25,000.

Why do they come? Most pause and reflect before answering.

"To refresh my spiritual life," said Raymond Hildebrand, 19, a high school pupil from Milforn, Conn. "It's sort of a spiritual restaurant."

"It gives me a good feeling to be where the Lord is working," said a companion, Mike Roland, 19, of Wellingford, Conn.

★

Don McDonald, 50, a Manhattan salesman said he had attended every night but one. "I believe God is with Billy Graham," he said.

The services have been broadcast live in cities on the Eastern Seaboard at a cost of $50,000 a night.

OPERATION ANDREW

A crusade spokesman said between 10,000 and 15,000 of the main auditorium's 20,000 seats were filled each night by church groups, many operating on the principles of "Operation Andrew." Each churchgoer brings a non-Christian. The name comes from the Biblical story of Andrew, who rushed to tell his brother of his conversion to Christianity.

★ ★ ★

The crusade budget is $824,000, exclusive of television costs. Advance contributions totaled $525,000, nightly offerings were expected to average between $10,000 and $12,000, and the rest must come from other contributions. To help with the nightly offering, blank checks are attached to the programs.

★ ★

More than 6,500 persons who come forward in response to Graham's nightly invitation to make a "decision for Christ."

The crusade closes Sunday.

REV. W. E. TEAGUE

Troy Church Plans Identical Worship

Beginning Wednesday the First United Methodist Church of Troy will hold a worship service for families who spend each weekend on vacation.

The Rev. Alfred T. Ramsey, pastor of the church, said he wanted to provide worship for those groups away for long weekends with a service at 8 p.m. each Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The service will be identical to the worship hour the previous Sunday. Next week's sermon will be "On Being a Work Alcoholic."

Residents of the community are invited to all Sunday services and to the mid week worship, the pastor said.

Detroit Minister Is Guest Speaker

The Rev. W. E. Teague of the Mitchell United Methodist Church in Detroit will be guest speaker at the 3 p.m. program tomorrow in Providence Missionary Baptist Church when the Senior Ushers Board marks its 21st anniversary.

★ ★ ★

Singing groups of Providence Church will present musical selections.

At 7:30 p.m. the congregation will be host to the Rev. Ed McDonald and members of Friendship Baptist Church.

Sharron Mickens will be heard in a reading. Young people of the church under the direction of Moses Mickens are in charge of the program.

Annual Spring Concert Set for Sunday

The City Wide Choir Union of Pontiac will present its annual spring concert under the direction of Levi Eubanks at 5 p.m. tomorrow in New Bethel Baptist Church.

The program includes "The Hallelujah Chorus," "Go Ye Not Far From Me," "The Creation," "God Is Moving," "I'm Going to Sing," and "The Lord Is Blessing Me Right Now."

★ ★ ★

Guest soloists are Brenda Owens and Mrs. Anna B. Walker. Mrs. Robert Burns and Albert Rhodes will serve as organists; and Mrs. Albert Manning and Mrs. Wallace Flanders, pianists.

The Choir Union was founded in April 1946 by Jimmie Keel to promote better understanding and closer fellowship between the churches.

At St. Stephen's

'The Home—As Others See It,' Subject

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will inaugurate its summer series of adult education lecture-discussions Tuesday.

"The Home — as Others See It" is the topic of the three-part program.

The Christian home in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, its strengths and its weaknesses, will be observed from three different angles by professionals who work with the product of these homes — the children of the community.

* * *

The first program will be held at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Archie J. Coran, 2600 Oxford, Troy, and will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a pot-luck dinner. The lecture will be followed by a discussion and question and answer period.

* * *

The public is invited to attend, and an interested person should contact Mrs. Coran prior to the dinner and meeting.

SERIES OPENS

Dr. Richard B. Traitel, Royal Oak psychologists, will open the series with a view of the home as it is reflected in the juvenile division of the Oakland County courts.

* * *

In court, Dr. Traitel's work is primarily with adolescents. He is also currently co-administrator of a training program for clinical psychologists under the auspices of the National Mental Health Institute.

He received his Ph.D. degree in clinical psychology from Wayne State University.

The second summer program will feature the Rev. Lowell D. Schlanbusch, viewing the home from the church's angle, as it deals with young people. This will be held July 8.

The final discussion will take place Aug. 12. It will be a look at home life in this community as seen by three school counselors: Mrs. Robert Cratch, Oakland Community College; Mr. William Waun, Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School; and Mrs. R. Gilliam Eveland of Avondale Junior High School.

All three are parishioners of St. Stephen's.

* * *

The Young Adult Choir of Trinity Baptist Church will present a musical program at 4 p.m. Refreshments will follow in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Margaret Woods is chairman.

Pontiac Press Carriers Graduating In The Class of '69

It is with great pride and satisfaction that The Pontiac Press takes this means to express our best wishes to these newspaperboys who have graduated from high school and The Pontiac Press with the Class of '69.
These young men represent many years of business experience on Pontiac Press routes. Each has operated a business of his own, profitably, efficiently, completely. Each one of the five graduates has also recognized the importance of education in his life and in attaining his future objectives. Good luck, Grads, as you continue on the road to success.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten major California table grape growers say they won't ratify a pact with an AFL-CIO farm workers union in a three-year strike and boycott unless the workers themselves agree to its terms.

And they want proof that Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee represents their workers.

Both sides met formally for the first time Friday in efforts to settle the three-year "grape war" and international California table grape boycott instituted last summer. They plan to meet again Monday with federal mediators.

"We are satisfied with the progress and we agree with a statement by the employers that any agreement reached should be ratified by the workers," said Dolres Huerta, a union negotiator and Chavez aide. Chavez wasn't present.

CLOSED DOORS

The closed-door session was initiated by the growers, who say they represent vineyards producing 12 per cent of the state's $140 million table grape harvest. Many other growers call the meetings "a sellout."

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., says the Federal Mediation Service should investigate the possibility of collusion between the 10 growers and the union.

The union and a spokesman for the growers, Al Caplan, said no deals were made in advance of the sessions.

ANYTHING FOR A BEER — Uniformed New York City policemen coax a man identified as Ulysses Allen down from skylight above a 10-story Manhattan building in New York yesterday. There was a possibility the man would jump, but police lured him down with a cold can of beer.

But a Cold Beer Changed His Mind

He Wanted to Take Own Life

NEW YORK (AP) — While hundreds watched in the humid 90-degree heat below, a bare-chested man paced the parapet of a 10-story warehouse on Union Square for two hours Friday afternoon threatening to end his life.

The cast in the drama included policemen, a U.S. Navy chaplain and a rabbi but it was the offer of a can of cold beer by a casual acquaintance that finally lured the man close enough to be hauled to safety.

It was not immediately determined why he threatened to jump. At one point he told spectators, "I don't have any freedom" and later he blamed his despondency on his wife.

"Just give me your gun with one bullet in it," he pleaded to patrolman Jim Roberts. Police offered him a pistol with all the cartridges removed but he refused to take it unless it was tossed to him.

It is estimated that there are one million new cases of gonorrhea in the nation this year.

GMC Truck Holds Fire Brigade Contest

Records were set in the 18th annual GMC Truck and Coach Division Fire Brigade contest recently at the plant's recreation field.

Nineteen 8 to 12-member teams battled in seven areas of fire-fighting efficiency.

Judges were Dwight Sluiter of the standards department in Plant 2; Bud Goff, chief of the Waterford Township Fire Department, and Harold Nye, chief of the Pontiac Fire Department.

Winners were determined on the basis of correct handling of the fire extinguisher, putting out the fire correctly and speed in returning to the starting line.

Kenneth E. Goodell, fire chief of GMC Truck and Coach, and creater of the contest, said the winning team of Plant 1, second shift, earned 36 points. The second-place team of Plant 5, first shift, collected 34.

First place in each division receives 10 points, second receives eight points, third receives six points, fourth receives four points, and fifth receives two points.

Trial Ordered in Shooting of Policeman

CASSOPOLIS (UPI) — An Elkhart, Ind., man charged with seriously wounding a Cass County police officer who had stopped him for a traffic violation, was bound over Friday for trial in Circuit Court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Ben Phillips, 46, who was arrested June 12 within hours of the shooting of Sgt. Wilfred "Mike" Schantz, appeared in district court before Judge Steg Lignell. He was ordered held in lieu of $25,000 bond in the Cass County Jail.

★ ★ ★

Schantz, who was shot four times, remains in serious condition in an Elkhart Hospital, suffering from internal wounds. The quick action by witnesses was credited with the quick apprehension of Phillips and also with probably saving Schantz' life.

★ ★ ★

Randall Price, a radio station engineer for an Elkhart station, testified he was driving past the scene on U.S. 12 about one mile west of the small community of Union at the exact moment when Schantz was shot. He said he turned around and was able to get a good description of both the officer's assailant and his car.

Your Dry Cleaner Isn't A Magician

We alert the public to its responsibilities to the dry cleaner. Too many people expect the dry cleaner to look at a bundle of soiled clothes and tell the cause of each stain and treat the stains accordingly. Good cleaners know what to do with a stain when you tell them what it is. However, different stains require different treatment.

If damage should occur through the fault of the cleaners, the value in dollars and cents is determined proportionately. There is a nationally accepted guide of standards and life expectancy for consumer textile products which is used to determine the amount of the adjustment.

We suggest that you be fair with your dry cleaner. Tell him about the stains. Do not remove labels with dry cleaning instructions . . . AND DON'T THINK OF HIM AS A MAGICIAN.

Controversial Firm Late With GI Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the two new suppliers of M16 rifles for the Vietnam war is scrambling to catch up with the Army's delivery schedule and stay in the running for huge new rifle contracts to be awarded this summer.

As of May 31, Harrington & Richardson Inc. had supplied 12,210 of the lightweight, rapid-firing weapons used by combat troops in Vietnam. The delivery schedule on the controversial contract the Worcester, Mass., firm received last spring called for supply of 19,000 rifles by that date.

★ ★ ★

The Army stirred a wave of congressional criticism a year ago when it awarded M16 contracts to H&R and to General Motors' Hydramatic Division. The House and Senate Armed The House and Senate Armed Services Committee launched investigations after the Associated Press disclosed that the Army would be paying the new suppliers far more than it had to buy M16s from Colt's Inc. of Hartford, Conn.

It also was disclosed then that two other companies which had sought the contracts were prepared to supply the rifles at a lower price than either GM or H&R.

The Army told Congress it had not considered price. Army officials said they chose GM and H&R on grounds they were best qualified to supply quality weapons under an accelerated production schedule.

An Army spokesman said Thursday that H&R had fallen short of the contract delivery schedule for three of the first four months of production. He added that the company has corrected its problems and expects to be on schedule by July 31.

In July, the Army is scheduled to award two new M16 contracts for a total of 687,652 rifles at a rate of 60,000 a month starting next spring.

Unless the Army's requirements for M16s increase, one of the three current suppliers—GM, H&R or Colt's—will be dropped.

An Army spokesman said the proposals for the new contracts were submitted June 12. He said the contracts will be awarded primarily on the basis of lowest price. But, he added, other factors could be decisive.

GM has been turning out M16s ahead of the contract schedule. As of May 31, it had supplied 29,676. Its contract also had called for delivery of 19,000 by that date.

You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed and loved by wife Edith and children.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Shirley Temple Black, former child movie star, is being considered for a high-level post in the State Department, it was learned yesterday.

A White House spokesman would not confirm that Mrs. Black is under consideration for a position as deputy assistant secretary of state for education and cultural affairs. But the spokesman added, "It wouldn't surprise me if she were—she certainly has the qualifications."

MISS BLACK

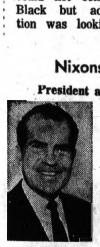
Mrs. Black was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in California last year.

Herb Klein, the president' communications director, said in San Francisco that he could not comment specifically on Mrs. Black but added that the administration was looking for women eligible for top positions.

Nixons Go Boating on the Potomac

President and Mrs. Nixon went boating on the Potomac last night on the government yacht Patricia.



NIXON

Dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. David Eisenhower, Dr. Walter Tkach, the presidential physician, and C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, a friend and neighbor from Key Biscayne, Fla.

Actor Calhoun Denies Wife's Adultery Charges

"Calhoun barely knows Miss Grable or any of these 79 or so unidentified 'Jane Does' named as corespondents Calhoun's attorney said in Superior Court in Santa Monica, Calif., yesterday.

★ ★ ★

After the 46-year-old actor sued for divorce in January his wife, Lita Baron, filed a countersuit charging adultery. Neither was in court yesterday.

Acting SF State Head Reprimands Himself

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, received a letter of reprimand yesterday from himself.

The tongue-in-cheek letter said he was guilty of "hasty and unprofessional conduct" for accepting the post shortly after the college was hit by a student strike.

★ ★ ★

A grievance and disciplinary panel suggested the letter as penance after finding Hayakawa guilty of taking the job before consulting with the presidential selection committee of which he was a member.

HAYAKAWA

"Why, you didn't even consult your wife," the letter charges.

It was signed, "Reproachfully, S. I. Hayawaka, acting president."

He reread it and said with a poker-face sigh, "I feel terribly put down."

West German Leader Honors Gen. Lemnitzer

In a ceremony in Bonn, yesterday, Luebke pinned the medal to the American's uniform. Lemnitzer, who will be succeeded by. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster next month, wound up a two-day farewell visit with West German leaders.

Moscow TV Skit

New Blast at U.S. 'Life'

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW — To the driving beat of a jazz combo, Moscow television has delivered a new hour-long blast at the American way of life.

The main skit of the acid, documentary-style program, broadcast in prime time Friday night, told of the Statue of Liberty coming to life and deciding to run for president.

★ ★ ★

Evil forces in America are swept by panic and they hire a gangster to machinegun her.

"Okay, but money in advance," the gangster demands, and he is handed a few piles of dollar bills.

FAMILIAR THEME

American gangsterism, violence, racial suppression and the power of money are drummed into the minds of the Soviet people with numbing frequency.

★ ★ ★

This latest program, entitled "How Are You Getting Along, America?" was an ambitious production that included film clips from Harlem, the Vietnam war and American political conventions.

The convention shots, which showed a brief glimpse of a Nixon poster, were interspersed with views of a Roman orgy, complete with girls and grapes.

One film segment, apparently designed to show how American children are raised on violence, showed two 4-year-olds wearing outsized boxing gloves slugging each other as a crowd of adults looks on with glee.

★ ★ ★

And alternating with scenes of Vietnam bombing and fighting were closeups of professional wrestlers grimacing and throwing each other to the canvas.

Dogs Put Bite on Employes of Post Office

Mention has been made of taking politics out of the Post Office, but a greater achievement might be to take the teeth of this country's 14,000,000 dogs out of the legs of our 206,000 letter-carriers.

In the Pontiac area, at least two mail carriers a month learn personally about the dog bite problem. Gas and water meter readers have the same experience.

★ ★ ★

Few dog owners realize that threats or assaults on postal employees are federal offenses. This includes attack on female letter-carriers by "wolves" too, say post office officials.

Now, almost every Pontiac area mail carrier totes a can of animal repellent in his or her mail pouch. Each carrier knows how to use this aerosal, labeled "Halt."

SERVICES STOPPED

William Donaldson, Pontiac postmaster, says postal services "are being discontinued in persistent dog troubled areas. This can at times include entire neighborhoods."

Donaldson went on to suggest that dog owners, as a precaution, have some type of insurance to cover the actions of their pets. If a carrier is injured due to dog bites etc, the owner is liable.

In one incident approximately $900 was paid to a carrier, bitten by a "friendly" dog. Also, postal service was delayed for some time. This happened because it's required that letter carriers injured on the job report immediately to the area post office and to a doctor for treatment.

City JCs Start Project To Aid in Emergencies

The Pontiac area Jaycees have organized a new project — Jaycee Searchpower — to back up local police departments in emergency situations.

Tim Reetz, the project director said the entire membership of the Pontiac Jaycee chapter (approximately 150) could be used in the event of a missing child or similar emergency situation in the greater Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

The unit will be available to local police departments or an instant call-up basis, he said.

Reetz contacted several local police chiefs and reportedly received favorable comments and their expression of gratitude for community support in backing up the police departments.

SDS Factions Clash Over Blacks, Labor

CHICAGO (AP) — The Friday night session of the Students for a Democratic Society's annual convention erupted in a bitter wrangle after a Black Panther declared his group would "deal with" a SDS faction which advocates the organization of labor and the promotion of class struggle.

Angry shouting matches were touched off when the Black Panther spokesman, Phil Jewell, called on SDS to disassociate itself from the struggle-advocating Progressive Labor (PL) faction.

★ ★ ★

Jewell told the convention SDS must support black nationalism or risk being classed as "revisionist."

"The PLs do more damage to the revolution than pigs (police)," Jewell said.

"It would be best not to forget you're in Chicago," he said adding that Panthers would "deal with" those who continued to adhere to the PL line.

PANTHER SUPPORT

★ ★ ★

National officers succeeded in turning back the group, promising they would be given an opportunity to be heard.

★ ★ ★

The Progressive Labor group was believed to have the support of about half of the 1,500 persons attending the convention in the Coliseum on the Sooqouth Side.

$9.6-Million Building Pact OK'd by MSU

PONTIAC (AP) — The Michigan State University board of trustees, meeting Friday at Oakland University, approved a $9.6-million contract for a Life Science Building on the MSU campus.

Main contract went to Christman Co. of Lansing, the low bidder at $7.77 million.

★ ★ ★

A groundbreaking ceremony will be held on the campus Monday. The building, scheduled for completion in 1971, will enable Michigan State to expand its entering class of medical students from the present 30 to 64 students.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John Cantlon, 47, an environmental scientist and MSU faculty member for 15 years, was named provost, chief academic officer. He succeeds Dr. Neville, who is resigning to become president of Claremont, Calif., Men's College.

APPOINTMENTS

Other major appointments included:

★ ★ ★

Hijacker of Jetliner Is Ex-Black Panther

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The FBI has identified the tall Negro who hijacked an Oakland-New York jetliner to Havana last Tuesday as Willie Lee Brent, a former Black Panther captain who would have gone on trial here Monday on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

The Black Panthers have branded Brent as an infiltrator and agent provocateur.

★ ★ ★

FBI special agent-in-charge Charles W. Bates announced Friday two warrants had been sworn out in Las Vegas, Nev., for Brent on charges of air piracy and carrying a weapon aboard an aircraft.

★ ★ ★

The hijacking of the Trans World Airlines plane occurred over Nevada. A man forced the airliner, carrying 80 passengers and a crew of seven, to fly to Havana on the longest hijack flight reported thus far.

The plane and all aboard, except Brent, reached New York safely the same day.

DESCRIPTIONS MATCH

Bates said descriptions of the hijacker by his victims match those of Brent, a 39-year-old native of Franklin, La., who was involved in a Panther gun battle with police here last Nov. 19.

Charged with armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon, he was free on $50,000 bail.

Brent was among several Negroes arrested after a San Francisco filling station holdup and a gun battle with police near the Hall of Justice. Three policemen were wounded.

Bates said Brent had served in the Army and has a police record in Oakland dating back to 1953, when he was convicted of robbery and was sent to San Quentin Prison.

Eldridge Cleaver, the fugitive Panther minister of information, has been reported in Havana. He has been wanted here since last November when he failed to surrender, as a parole violator, to complete a 13-year assault sentence.

'Canadian Officers Blocking U.S. Army Desertes'

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A Vancouver lawyer says Canadian immigration officers are using "gestapo tactics" to stop U.S. military deserters from entering Canada.

★ ★ ★

John Taylor, a former member of Parliament, said yesterday he has handled about a dozen cases in the past month in which actions by immigration officers conflicted with the stated Canadian federal policy on deserters.

★ ★ ★

Taylor contended deserters are not being treated like any other persons seeking entry to Canada—in direct opposition to a policy established last month by Immigration Minister Allan Maceachen—and said he is convinced his country's immigration officials are assisting their U.S. counterparts in apprehending deserters.

"This gestapo arrangement lessens the respect for Canadian officials," Taylor said.

CASE CITED

Taylor cited the case of a 20-year-old Berkeley, Calif., youth who he said was taken into custody June 8 at a U.S. immigration office at Kingsgate, B.C. He described the youth as a deserter from the U.S. Army.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said the youth was told by the Canadian officer that his application for entry would have to be approved by a senior officer so he would have to return to the American side of the border until the next morning.

But once back on the U.S. side, Taylor said, the youth discovered the Canadian officer had telephoned the U.S. Immigration office to report the youth had been turned back.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said the young Californian was told to report to the sheriff's office in Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, but did not do so. He said three days later he entered Canada—as a tourist—at Blaine, Wash., 30 miles south of here.

★ ★ ★

Lyall Hawkins, regional director of immigration here, defended the actions of the unidentified Kingsgate immigration official. He said it was entirely up to the officer as to whether he informed the American side that the youth was a deserter.

Thieu Eyes Cong-S. Viet Vote Study

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam reportedly has asked his advisers and cabinet ministers to consider setting up a joint commission of government and Vietcong representatives to study procedures for electing a postwar government.

Informed sources said today that Thieu was trying to get solid governmental and military backing for the proposal before it is put before the Vietcong.

The man mentioned to represent the government on the commission is Duong Van Minh — "Big Minh" — the popular general who led the 1963 overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Minh returned to South Vietnam from political exile last year but has stayed out of the limelight.

Government and American sources would not comment on the report.

Usually reliable informants said Thieu was not likely to disclose his plan but was mainly concerned with insuring support from his generals, who are suspicious of any dealings with the Vietcong.

Related Story, Page A-3

that he would press the Vietcong delegation in Paris to discuss election procedures. His moves in Saigon were seen as a preliminary step.

★ ★ ★

Informants said the South Vietnamese president wants such talks with the Vietcong to be secret and might refuse to discuss the issue at the peace table or in public.

Prior agreement within the South Vietnamese government on a specific proposal would strengthen the government delegation's position in Paris, and Thieu evidently is striving for that.

ENABLES QUICK RESPONSE

It also would enable the delegation to respond quickly if a proposal were to come from the Vietcong.

The sources in Saigon added that the Vietcong's provisional revolutionary government has made no election proposal in Paris and that no change in the current stalemate there is seen for at least two or three months.

In addition to the discussions on election procedures, Thieu is reported considering action on such measures as land reform and some administrative changes to strengthen his government. But reliable informants said no decisions have been taken on those matters.

DEATH SCENE — The body of a 25-year-old White Lake Township woman was found in this room of a two-story home that was gutted by fire early today. She was found just a few feet from a door leading from the kitchen to the outdoors. Nobody else was injured in the blaze.

Senators Seek Missile Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators trying for a compromise in the antiballistic missile fight hope to strictly limit the number of Safeguard missiles the Pentagon can buy in the coming year.

This is in addition to their primary goal of prohibiting deployment of any ABMs at the two initial Safeguard sites in Montana and North Dakota until Congress later gives the go-ahead, sources said.

In addition, the sources said, the Senate Armed Services Committee is being asked to speak out in favor of a U.S. initiative to convince the Soviet Union to join in mutual cessation of testing and deployment of MIRVs, which would enable a multiwarhead-equipped missile to bear in on several different targets at once.

★ ★ ★

All of these points, including the MIRV issue, were in the conclusions of a majority report of a special research subcommittee forwarded to the full committee earlier in the week.

TO BE SCRUTINIZED

The report will come under scrutiny of the committee when it starts serious work of marking up the $21.9 billion military procurement authorization bill Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Since the bill includes funds to procure, develop and test Spartan and Sprint missiles for ABM use, limits on any one of these activities could be written into the legislation either in the committee or on the Senate floor.

★ ★ ★

The MIRV issue is somewhat different since those who want to halt its testing and deployment pending U.S.-Soviet arms talks are trying for a policy statement rather than restrictive legislation.

House Fire Kills Woman in White Lake Township

Dead is Mrs. Russell (Donna) Morey, 25, of 1105 Union Lake. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after township fire officials pulled her body from the kitchen of the burning home.

★ ★ ★

Her husband escaped injury by leaping from an upstairs bedroom window. There were no children in the family.

★ ★ ★

Morey told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was awakened about 4:40 a.m. by the screaming of his wife who was downstairs. When he tried to go downstairs, flames in the hallway forced him to go out the window, he said.

RAN TO NEIGHBOR'S HOME

After another attempt to reach his wife, he ran to a neighbor's home to call police and fire officials. Minutes later, his wife's body was recovered.

The house was owned by John Windiate of 1121 Union Lake. The inside of the structure was completely gutted, but the frame was still standing this morning.

★ ★ ★

Officials from the Michigan fire marshal's department were called to the scene this morning to investigate the cause of the blaze.

★ ★ ★

An autopsy was scheduled for today on Mrs. Morey. It is believed she died of suffocation or smoke inhalation.

Nixon Viet Policy Hit

PARIS (AP) — Tran Bu Kiem, key figure in the new provisional revolutionary government of South Vietnam, declared today that the Nixon administration intends to maintain "an American military presence" in Vietnam indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Kiem, in an airport statement before leaving for Vietnam, said the decision to withdraw 25,000 U.S. troops shows that the objective of President Nixon is to "protect and support the puppet administration" of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Dismissal of Euler Remains a Mystery

Why Pontiac General Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler was fired remained a mystery today.

Members of the board of directors are silent, and chairman Aleck Capsalis refused to disclose specific reasons for the surprise discharge of Euler from the $26,750-a-year post he held for 11 years.

★ ★ ★

Euler was unanimously fired by board members Thursday night in what they described as "the best interests of the hospital."

The 64-year-old silver-haired administrator said late yesterday afternoon he was still bewildered and shocked by his dismissal.

PRECEDED BY TROUBLES

Pontiac General Hospital had been in trouble before Euler took over. It was seriously in debt for two years, Euler's predecessor had been fired, and national attention centered on the institution when a surgeon was fired.

During Euler's reign, the hospital ended in the black some $50,000 to $100,000 each year, he said. That's just better than a break-even point with a annual budget of about $12 million.

Euler, 133 Ottawa, spent much of yesterday at home, answering phone inquiries and trying to get some rest, he said. He stayed away from the hospital.

"I don't have any plans right now," he remarked. "I'll wait and see how this develops. I'm still recovering from the shock."

NO HOSPITAL BACKGROUND

The challenge of the job attracted Euler to the hospital in 1958. He was a successful businessman who didn't have a background in hospital administration.

He says he now "might consider going back into the estate management and tax consultant business in Pontiac which he owned and operated for 20 years before liquidating it and joining the hospital.

Associate Administrator Donald Carros was fired June 10 for what Euler said was "a lack of communication and normal problems of operating as a team with others." Carros had been at the hospital for more than 12 years.

NO COMMENT

Carros, reached at home yesterday, refused to comment on the situation.

Rec Fund Bill Being Polished

LANSING (AP)— House and Senate leaders were working this weekend on the final details of a revised, $100 million recreation bond measure now in line for consideration in the lower chamber.

The House Conservation Committee voted 10-3 yesterday to recommend adoption of the Senate bill after shuffling some $5 million in the controversial allocation for Natural Resources Department fish and game projects.

Object of the revisions, made after consultations involving Gov. William Milliken, Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, is to avoid any delay in action next week on major, department budget bills.

"We hope the Senate will be able to vote immediate acceptance of our amendments," Ryan said yesterday.

ALLOCATIONS PROPOSED

State recreation projects in urban areas: $25 (30).

State parks $24.3 (27); fisheries $11.7 (6); wildlife $6.3 (5); forestry $2.7 (2). Total for these projects: $45 (40).

Both versions would give $30 million to six regional areas for distribution to local governments on a per capita basis.

Backers of the House version indicated the compromise would meet most of the 30-40-30 criteria proposed early this spring by Milliken.

At the same time, it was believed Natural Resources Department control over the $25 million earmarked for urban recreation may satisfy many legislators and conservationists who contended the original bond.

Has Designs on Governor's Job

'LSD Kid' Can't Be Dismissed

ROGER CRAIG

Roger Craig cannot be dismissed as what his 10th Michigan Senate District calls him — the "LSD kid" — for the man is sincerely running for the governorship of the state.

Craig, 36, a Dearborn Democrat, is Michigan's most notorious political devil's advocate — a firebrand liberal in a conservative blue-collar district (Dearborn, Melvindale, Allen Park, Lincoln Park and Southgate).

"We have an absurd penalty of 20 years imprisonment on the charge of marijuana possession. Now, no jury will convict a young man to 20 years' imprisonment. I simply proposed that the penalty be lessened to as to obtain convictions," Craig explained.

This and other viewpoints of Sen. Roger Craig were discussed last night at a free-wheeling address before the Troy Democratic Club.

"Dissent is a necessary, desirable and basic activity for the provisional operation of a democratic society. Where there is no struggle, there is no freedom," Craig declared.

Craig adds, however, "... but the dissenters have an obligation to propose a plan for change."

'THE DISSENTER'

Dissent was a likely general topic for Craig, for he is known affectionately by Senate colleagues as "the dissenter."

Craig explains that general dissenting

He Can't Wheel It Without a License

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Ray Lewis was tooling down the street at top speed when the state trooper motioned him to the side of the road.

"I just couldn't believe I had to do all that stuff to be able to use my wheelchair," Lewis said. "For almost seven years, I've been going up and down there and never once got pulled over."

Lewis, 24, broke his neck in a swimming pool accident eight years ago and has been confined since then to his six-mile-per-hour motorized wheelchair.

AP Wirephoto

REQUIRED BY LAW

Lt. August Hambacher of the Florida Highway Patrol said state law requires anyone who operates a motorized vehicle on state or county roads to have a driver's license and license plates.

Lewis said he drives his $800 wheelchair on the street because uneven surfaces such as sidewalks cause microswitches in the vehicle's electric motor to burn out.

"The law states you can't operate a motorized vehicle on the sidewalk, so as it stands, they've got me both ways," Lewis said.

Driving examiner Gilbert Benton said Lewis will have to pass both road and written tests Tuesday before he can be licensed to drive his wheelchair.

HAS TO BE DONE

"A little observance of the manipulation of the chair is all we'll require — as ridiculous as it seems," Benton said. "It's the law and has to be done.

"I don't think he could possibly fail the driving test, but he ought to brush up on laws printed in the Florida handbook."

Lewis will be spared one driving annoyance. State police said they would not require him to get the wheelchair inspected.

Food Stamp Hike Due Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans to vote next week on a proposal to more than double the food stamp program while its Agriculture Committee continues work on a comprehensive reform measure.

The committee agreed yesterday on a simple resolution to increase authorized spending for the program from $340 million to $750 million in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Leadership sources said it would be brought before the Senate Tuesday with passage assueed.

Then it goes to the House where Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, reportedly agreed to bring it up promptly.

HOUSE HEARINGS

The measure was introduced after it became apparent that Poage would hold lengthy hearings in conjunction with general farm aid proposals, on any comprehensive food stamp reform measure passed by the Senate. His hearings are scheduled to open on July 15.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who has opposed the $750-million figure as too low reportedly agreed to support it on the Senate floor.

★ ★ ★

In addition, Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Appropriations subcommitee and ranking Democrat on Ellender's group, plans to delay final action on the farm money bill until the Senate raise the food stamp authorization.

FIGHT STILL POSSIBLE

Otherwise, any increase in the food stamp program would have to wait until later in the year when Congress considers supplentary appropriations measures.

While McGovern has agreed not to try to add reform provisions or to raise the authorization level when the resolution comes before the Senate, other senators would be free to do so.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham

Broadcasting, Film Course Starts Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Actor's Workshop will begin a six-week course Tuesday focusing on training for careers in radio television and films.

The group will offer in-session training in radio-television announcing and film acting. Classes will be held in the Birmingham House Tower, 145 S. Hunter.

★ ★ ★

Two Birmingham certified public accountants have been elected members of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Currier is treasurer for the Currier Lumber Co. in Detroit. Ogden is associated with the Detroit office of Price Waterhouse & Co.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Michael Wright, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wright, 1529 Old Chatham, has been awarded an eight-week scholarship to the National Music Camp in Interlochen.

★ ★ ★

The scholarship for piano study was presented by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Norbert A. Capoccia of 671 Rolling Rock has been named assistant general agent in the Southfield life division office of Aetna Life & Casualty Co.

★ ★ ★

Capoccia has served in the Southfield office since joining Aetna in 1963 as a sales representative.

He had been a supervisor for the past four years.

Richard A. Schroeter, 1052 Glengarry, has been elected chairman of the board of directors for the Michigan United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Schroeter, who has completed 13 years with the fund, also was presented with the President's Award for his outstanding contributions. The award was made at the fund's recent annual meeting.

Capt. Marvel's Price Is Super

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Shazam! Can this be? The first issue of Captain Marvel, the hero of millions, selling for $150?

'Tis true, faithful followers of the fabulous fighters of yesteryear. Attribute it to nostalgia or inflation, but the adventures of the good captain, along with Batman, Dick Tracy and Captain America, are as valuable in some circles as a grandmother's heirloom.

★ ★ ★

Convention delegates range in age from 12-year-olds to school teachers in their 30s.

INVESTMENT IN GROWING UP

★ ★ ★

But it was an investment in growing up. That one dog-eared issue was good for a whole afternoon under the tree in the backyard or in a secret corner of the attic.

★ ★ ★

It was also the best insurance policy that could be bought, either for rainy days or when forced to stand in the living room corner for an hour or so.

And its trading power with the kid down the block was unlimited.

Sen. Craig Has Eye on Governor's Job

★ ★ ★

What would Craig offer the state if he were elected governor?

"I think I would first utilize a practice that I don't believe any governor ever has. I would take my issues to the people to bypass the Legislature.

SPECIAL INTEREST RULE

"The tremendous powers of the governorship have never adequately been exercised.

★ ★ ★

"For instance, I would endeavor to end a state government of special interests. The barber and construction unions, for instance, are blocking passage of a bill now before the Legislature to train Jackson Prison inmates for trades.

The unions simply don't want the inmates to leave prison and compete in the industrial and commercial markets. Those unions are forcing the prisoners back to prison," Craig declared.

★ ★ ★

DISCOUNTS ALL

Craig discounts all, positively declaring that Cavanagh will declare his candidacy for a third term as Detroit's mayor, that Levin will absolutely not run for governor, that Frank Kelley is completely uninterested in the governorship and is shooting for a 1972 duel with U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin and that Ferency will not run for governor if Craig does.

★ ★ ★

Another Craig philosophy itching to get into executive power is the inclusion of the entire Michigan political spectrum into political participation.

★ ★ ★

"The American Independent Party (AIP) guy . . . You know what he is? He's like the guys in my district. He makes $7,000 a year and after taxes it's just above the poverty level. He should be sympathizing with the ADC mother but instead he's taking his wrath out on her.

★ ★ ★

On the black-white racial issue, Craig approves heartily of efforts by the private business sector to provide jobs for undereducated Negroes and the payments of reparations as suggested by James Foreman of the National Black Economic Development Committee.

ANTICIPATED PROBLEMS

"If Detroit had never burned, there would be no New Detroit Committee and Chrysler Corp. would have no program to hire the hard-core unemployed.

★ ★ ★

"Does it always have to be this way? Isn't there a better way? Can't we anticipate these social problems in advance?" Craig questions.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Craig, married and the father of four children, is among Lansing's most colorful legislators. His antics include locking himself in his senate office area when the Republican-dominated chamber threatened to move his office from the Capitol Building; an arrest in Roseville in April of 1968 when he unlawfully participated in an after-curfew march demonstrating against murder of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., martyred civil rights leader; and, of course, the leadership in Michigan of the boycott against California table grapes.

★ ★ ★

Euler's Ouster Still a Mystery

TRUSTEES CLOSEMOUTHED

"It's an accumulation of things," he said, adding "we want to avoid mud-slinging."

TOO MUCH CONTROVERSY

Trustee John W. Emerson said, "You know the old saying, a straw broke the camel's back," he commented. "There'd be too much controversy if too many statements were made."

Emerson made the motion to fire Euler at Thursday's trustee meeting while Elwood G. West seconded it. The entire board individually cast verbal "yes" votes as Euler watched in amazement.

★ ★ ★

Others in the community were just as astounded.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said he was "absolutely surprised."

Mrs. Eugene Connell, hospital director of purchasing, said "everything came so sudden." She said she knew of no reason for the firing.

SOME TIGHT-LIPPED

Others were tight-lipped. "I can't comment; I'm just an employe," said DeCleene. "No comment; it's the hospital board's issue," said Mayor William H. Taylor.

The whole situation is similar to the 1958 firing of hospital administrator Carl I. Flath.

★ ★ ★

The hospital board then — which contained at least two members of the present board — issued a statement which said little more than the firing of Flath was "necessary in the best interests of the hospital."

Jobs for 450 Needy

Youth-Hiring Plan Is Hailed

The director of personnel at GMC Truck and Coach has high hopes for a new coordinated program to hire 450 disadvantaged Pontiac-area youth for summer jobs.

"I think it's a good thing," Earl A. Maxwell said. "This is something that is really needed."

★ ★ ★

General Motors divisions in Pontiac have made a commitment for 100 summer jobs under the project, coordinated by the Urban League, Michigan Employment Security Commission, Manpower Inc., and Youthpower Ind., and the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

"We are hoping that by an organized effort, we can get jobs for some of these people who badly need them," Maxwell said.

This is the first year the efforts of all the agencies have been combined and Maxwell thinks they are operating under somewhat of a handicap because of a late start.

"But hopefully, we can set it up and get an earlier start next year," he said.

In addition to 300 summer jobs already filled, mostly by college students, GMC Truck and Coach has 50 more it will fill at the rate of six a day. Pontiac Motor has 30 job openings and Fisher body has 20.

★ ★ ★

"We think we can start showing that some employers can do something," Maxwell said, but added that General Motors cannot do it all. Other businessmen have also got to put in some effort.

U-M Gives $7,500 to Aid Murder Probe

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A $7,500 allocation to aid in the investigation of a series of six slayings of young girls in the Ann Arbor area has been given a stamp of approval by University of Michigan regents.

Four of the six murder victims were coeds, two from the U-M and two from Eastern Michigan University at nearby Ypsilanti.

The board of regents approved the money grant Friday, with the stipulation that the funds could be used in any way deemed advisable by law enforcement officials. Presumably, this included payments to informants.

How the money, which comes from gifts to the university, is to be used will be determined by Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhey in consultation with Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny and Wilbur Pierpont, U-M vice president and chief financial officer.

CAMPS SECURITY

The regents authorized the $7,500 allocation after hearing a report from Pierpont on security steps that have been taken on the campus recently.

President Robben Fleming said there is no way to guarantee 100 per cent protection for students and faculty but added that with common sense, "there is no reason a person cannot be as secure here as anywhere else."

Pierpont said that two extra city police cars were assigned to patrol the campus area nightly last fall, and two more had been added recently. Their tour starts at 8 p.m., he said.

Brighter lights have been installed on the campus and special bus service inaugurated for students with evening classes, Pierpont added.

ESCORT SYSTEM

Mrs. Barbara Newell, acting vice president for student affairs, told the regents that an escort system is being used by coeds. She said city police officers have given special security instructions to dormitory staffs.

In a statement distributed to the regents, Chief Krasny said that police agencies are "reasonably certain we are dealing with a mental derangement" in the six murders. Some of the victims showed signs of having been sexually abused.

* * *

"There is obviously no practical 100 per cent guarantee of personal security against this sickness," Krasny said. "However, good judgment exhibited by every citizen of this city can contribute to the assurance that other crimes of this nature will not occur."

* * *

CREDIT TO UNIVERSITY

"It's been a credit to yourself and to the university," Lindemer said. "I have been most gratified at the responsible and constructive way in which the students have reacted.

* * *

"It has been obvious to me that there has been a great influx to Ann Arbor of people from external sources. I hope we can maintain peace and quiet."

* * *

Fleming, along with other university officials and civic leaders, mingled with the crowd lining the street and tried to calm the situation.

* * *

In clashes with police, about 70 persons were arrested and several were injured. Some police officers suffered injuries from flying rocks and bottles.

* * *

Newsmen reported that most of those in the crowd appeared to be of high school age, many in "hippy" garb, and some wearing jackets with motorcycle gang designations.

Rhodesia Votes for Republic

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith hinted today that this breakaway British territory might declare itself a republic on Nov. 11—four years to the day since it declared its independence.

Smith addressed a news conference the day after Rhodesia's small and predominantly white electorate approved referendum proposals to switch to a republic and constitutional revisions to entrench white minority rule.

In answer to questions, Smith said he has not decided when to proclaim the republic, but agreed that few dates would be more appropriate than Nov. 11.

Smith termed the referendum a message to the outside world to show "how determined we are to get on with running our country . . ."

Smith denied that Rhodesia's 237,000 whites were concerned with the population gap between themselves and the 4.4 million blacks. "It is a fact of life we have to live with and we have lived with it for a long time . . . A mere counting of heads, of numbers, does not bother us now. It never has in the past."

With scattered returns yet to be counted, unofficial figures showed that Rhodesia's 90,000 registered voters had approved independence by 50,000 to 11,000 and favored the white-rule proposal by 44,000 to 16,000.

Teacher Bargaining Eased by Aid Bill OK

LANSING (AP) — With all major roadblocks down, Michigan school districts now can move ahead with teacher negotiations—for most, the last step in assuring that schools will open on time this fall.

Gov. William Milliken removed the final stumbling block Friday, signing into law the $848.7-million state school aid bill.

* * *

The long embattled bill, bogged down in weeks of legislative hassle, outlines the formulas for doling out state funds to local school districts.

Districts will not know how big their checks will be until state officials compare notes and tally the figures. But authorities say local district experts can calculate approximate sums based on last year's formulas and payments.

ENROLLMENT DATA

The complicated figuring process includes enrollment data from a pupil count made in each school on the first Friday in September, the state equalized valuation and the outlined allowance for each pupil.

Milliken said the $848.7 million should increase the average per pupil allowance from approximately $250 to $280, slightly more than 8 per cent.

* * *

This year's bill signing, held up by interchamber squabbling over how much the state should spend for schools, came nearly two months after the date on which former Gov. George Romney signed the appropriations bill for the current fiscal year.

"The slow decision on state aid hurt" contract talks, said Kai Erickson, the man in charge of teacher bargaining for the Michigan Education Association, which represents teachers in 518 local districts.

MOST STILL TALKING

Erickson said most of the districts are working on new contracts this year and all but about 85 still have not settled with local school boards.

The smaller Michigan Federation of Teachers estimates that 10 of its 18 bargaining units still have to reach contract agreement.

Theft Taken to Heart

It would be hard to convince 10-year-old DENNIS McDOWELL that there is no goodness in people nor that nobody is concerned about tragedies in the lives of small boys such as he.

Last week, his bicycle was stolen. The theft meant far more to him than just another stolen bike, for it was specially-equipped to provide essential therapy for the stout-hearted youngster waging an agonizing four-year battle of rehabilitation after suffering horrible burns in a fire that consumed his home and three members of his family.

Dennis' loss was reported in The Press on June 14 with an appeal for return of the bicycle. During the following days, the McDowell home was the center of a heart-warming outpouring of public sympathy and assistance.

The "Hell's Angels" motorcycle club and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department had separately collected sufficient funds to replace the stolen wheel, and the total was turned over to DENNIS' family to be used for that purpose and the purchase of additional therapeutic equipment.

Individuals donated useful items for DENNIS and The PRESS received many calls offering assistance. One such came from a wealthy Birmingham resident who, requesting anonymity, authorized the newspaper to procure a new bicycle for DENNIS on his account.

Happily, the detestable act of thievery was more than balanced by the fine spirit of community humanitarianism it evoked.

Nixon Urges Postal Reform

President NIXON certainly knew that he was initiating a long and potentially bruising legislative struggle in asking Congress for legislation converting the postal service from a politics-ridden cabinet department to a semiautonomous government corporation.

NIXON

The immediate reaction, as expected, was cool in the power centers on Capitol Hill, with little chance given for approval this year. Congress has a very deep and practical vested interest in the Post Office as is, perhaps the vastest and most politically productive reservoir of patronage in the Government.

★ ★ ★

But the all-important step from discussion and study to action has been taken. And the fact that the new Republican administration's plan is in essence that originally put forward by former Democratic Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien demonstrates that common sense, not politics, is behind the modernization drive.

When and if the reorganization proposals, or modifications thereof, eventually are enacted, Americans won't be spending any less to mail their letters. Further rises in postal rates can be expected. And it is probably too much to expect that a reorganized system will eventually become self-supporting.

But the least we have a right to expect from our stamp and subsidy dollars is efficient, dependable service, and that is the promise reorganization holds out.

★ ★ ★

It is not likely to be achieved this year, and possibly not next or the year after. But if the long-overdue revamping of the postal system does eventually come about while he is in office, it should rank as one of the landmark achievements of President Nixon's administration.

Sen. Dirksen Defends Seniority Rule

By EVERETT McKINLEY DIRKSEN

When Richard Nixon came to serve in the legislative branch of the government 23 years ago, the 80th Congress included many members of the Senate and the House who are serving there now, in the 91st Congress.

DIRKSEN

During those years, hundreds of senators and congressmen fell by the political wayside. Those who survived moved forward to positions of leadership and to the chairmanship of the various committees, the result of the seniority rule in the Congress. It is a rule that is scrupulously respected.

★ ★ ★

It is, despite what you may hear sometimes to the contrary, the seniority rule that gives to our government a certain intimacy that probably does not obtain in any other country.

The Congress is the exclusive lawmaking branch under the Constitution, while the executive power to apply and enforce the law is in the hands of the President. When he comes into office, he has a program based upon the representations he made in the campaign. To put that program to work, he must not only submit it formally to Congress, but he must discuss its many phases with the men in both houses of Congress.

The President's principal contact with the Congress is through the leadership. Usually, he meets with the leadership of his own party on Tuesday of every week. When advisable, there is a joint leadership meeting with the leaders of both parties.

When Mr. Nixon meets with his own party's leaders, they will include Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Milton Young of North Dakota, Gerald Ford of Michigan, Leslie Arends of Illinois and myself.

If it should be a joint leadership meeting, the participants will include Richard Russell of Georgia, president pro tempore of the Senate; Mike Mansfield of Montana, majority leader; Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts; Warren Magnuson of Washington; J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas; House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts; Carl Albert of Oaklahoma, House majority leader, and Hale Boggs of Louisiana. All except Kennedy served with the President in either the Senate or the House.

Whenever chairmen of committees are included in the meetings, those in attendance could include John Sparkman of Alabama, Senate Banking; Russell Long of Louisiana, Senate Finance; Allen Ellender of Louisiana, Senate Agriculture; James Eastland of Mississippi, Senate Judiciary; John McClellan of Arkansas, Senate Government Operations; Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, House Ways and Means; George Mahon of Texas, House Appropriations; Wright Patman of Texas, House Banking.

All of those chairmen served with Mr. Nixon in one branch of Congress. Some of them served with him in both branches.

From this it must be quite evident that a meeting of the President and the congressional leaders is not a cold and stilted affair. In fact, it is a meeting of old friends, and the meeting is conducted on a first-name basis.

It is the intimate aspect of our government, nurtured by the seniority system.

The friendly and intimate conduct of public business can have advantages and disadvantages as well. From the President's standpoint, all of the leadership, or some of it, may disagree with his views. Such opposition, however, is not stated in harsh, intemperate or personal terms.

From the viewpoint of the leaders, it is not a happy or pleasant undertaking to disagree with the President with whom they have had a long and friendly relationship. Disagreement is voiced as a matter of public duty.

All of it, though, gives a friendly continuity to our government, such as is not experienced anywhere else in the world.

The POWER of FAITH

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 3

Rabbi Mordecai Waxman of Temple Israel, Great Neck, N.Y., was one of two Jews representing Judaism at the Spiritual Summit Conference in Calcutta. The conference was sponsored by the Temple of Understanding, an organization to promote interreligious understanding and communication.

Rabbi Waxman is also visiting professor at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, New York, editor of the magazine, "Conservative Judaism," and secretary of the Rabbinical Assembly of America. He felt the conference of the 11 great religions of the world was a breakthrough in contact between the Eastern and Western religions. He said, ". . . all religions are talking about the same things on pretty much the same terms." The problems of one in this small world of ours are the problems of all. The conference proved that all religions could talk together and search for common goals and a sense of unification.

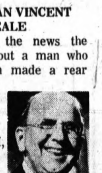
The problems of violence, war, poverty and prejudice were discussed with frankness and clarity, with each delegate presenting the ideas of his own faith toward such problems. Rabbi Waxman said that the participants of the conference were impressive and dedicated. "There was a great feeling of common concern."

Confident Living:

God Makes All Things Possible

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I read in the news the other day about a man who has just been made a rear admiral. He had been a junior naval officer in World War II, and was discharged from the service in 1945 because he had cancer. Between 1946 and 1950 he survived four terrible bouts with that tragic disease.



DR. PEALE

At one time they told him he had only two weeks to live. In desperation he took X-ray treatments. The treatments worked, and his cancer was cured.

Now this man had worked all his life to be a naval officer, but with a record of cancer, naval regulations forbade his being reinstated. He was told "there wasn't a chance," but he kept on fighting.

He finally learned that it would take an Act of Congress to get him back in the Navy. So he went after the Act of Congress. And, in September 1950, President Truman signed into law a special bill that reinstated him in the Navy.

The man's name is Irwin W. Rosenberg. He is now Rear Admiral Rosenberg of the U.S. Seventh Fleet. Admiral Rosenberg never gave up. He prayed. And he fought. He had a goal and he refused to believe it was impossible to achieve it.

Neither you nor I, nor any human being, can take the great impossibles of life and make them possible by ourselves. But we can join God in making the impossible possible.

★ ★ ★

I remember, as a youngster, a teacher I had at the Williams Avenue School in Cincinnati, Ohio. His name was George Reeves. He was a huge man and he taught me in the fifth grade.

There was no fooling around with George Reeves. One day a boy answered a question by saying, "Mr. Reeves, I can't answer."

Reeves said, "What do you mean 'can't'?" He went over to the blackboard and he wrote "I 'CAN'T" on the blackboard. "Now," he said to the boy, "what would you do with that word to make it more positive?"

The boy said, "Why not take the 'T' off, sir."

And the boy said, "I CAN."

Well, George Reeves may not have been one of the great intellectuals in Cincinnati, but he was wise enough to know that nothing is impossible.

With the strength and the wisdom that is given to all of us we can make triumphs out of defeats, but we sometimes need help.

A couple of weeks ago, I read a magazine article titled, "You Can't Find God in Church Anymore." It was a survey of 1,000 readers of that magazine who were abandoning their churches. Perhaps some of their reasons were valid. No church can be all things to every man. I only hope that if those readers who were surveyed can't find God in church, they can find Him somewhere else.

Because we all need Him.

Rear Admiral Rosenberg knew, and George Reeves knew, that the greatest danger man can face in time of crisis is to retreat within himself — to give up, to say "I can't." Yet that is the very moment when he must turn to God and reach out for the strength and courage he has temporarily lost.

Nothing is impossible. But when our own courage momentarily falters, we must turn to God to help make it possible. And He is always there.

In answer to Mrs. Singer's comments, how come Kettering for the last years has put out so many valedictorians, salutatorians, national honor society students, etc. Most of them are boys.

★ ★ ★

They have a wonderful school, teachers and coaches. They put out a pretty good percentage of good kids. If more people would follow them in sports and otherwise, folks would know how decent they are. Also they would know where a good share of their tax money goes.

They also have a wonderful principal, Mr. Fry.

Is Communism a Form of Democracy?

My wife recently failed a test paper in philosophy at OU. One question was: Communism is a form of democracy. True or False? She answered negatively and missed.

★ ★ ★

Are there any opinions on this matter? My daughter in junior high school says, "Yes, the people do vote in Russia—for one party." I personally thought, "What a waste of time — to study communism or have anything to do with it."

STUDENT'S HUSBAND

Renter Complains of 'Landlordism'

How many times have permanent, registered voters, residents of the Pontiac area, Oakland County, made a deposit on a rental, been allowed to live there a short time—then been told to move or go to court?

As a resident of this State for four years, this has happened to me and my family a total of four times.

★ ★ ★

Theologian's Stand on Sex Courses Noted

Msgr. Hubert A. Maino commented recently in regard to sex education: "A legitimate objection can be raised against courses if they fail in any of three respects; (1) if they make the mistake of teaching too much too soon; (2) if they destroy the sense of modesty and reticence which is nature's safeguard in this realm of conduct, and, (3) if they impart no moral values or, worse, if they implant false moral standards.

★ ★ ★

"One must reject any sex education that is morally neutral or permissive. Some modern teachers pretend that they refrain from making 'value judgments.' A teacher cannot help making value judgments all the time.

★ ★ ★

How can a teacher tell his students about Hitler without frowning on Naziism? How can a teacher discuss slavery without saying it is wrong? For a teacher to say that there is no moral problem in premarital sex, or postmarital infidelity, is to be a moral degenerate and a corrupter of youth."

Comments on Area Ambulance Service

After reading about the faults of local emergency ambulance service, I wish to state it is "tops" in my book. I have used it a number of times on 20-mile runs, and have wakened later under oxygen. The cost was reasonable.

★ ★ ★

I can only say the plan the State or County is trying to put over is another snow job—to get more taxes out of the people.

'Perdue Qualified School Administrator'

A new assistant superintendent is to be appointed by July 1 and the Pontiac Board of Education has not granted John Perdue the courtesy of an interview. Perdue has already performed many of the duties which will be part of the responsibility of the new assistant.

★ ★ ★

His record certainly merits this promotion. Many whites as well as blacks feel this way, as John Perdue has faithfully served the school district for some 13 years. During his years of dedication, he has brought national fame to Pontiac through his work as a principal.

AN INTERESTED CITIZEN

Question and Answer

Recently the Waterford Board of Education moved from the Walton and Clintonville location. The old school bell was relocated at the same time. Where is the bell now?

WATERFORD RESIDENT

REPLY

The Superintendent's office tells us they're in the process of preparing a place to display it in the new Board office. They are also checking into its history so that information can be displayed with the bell.

Question and Answer

Some months ago someone asked about senior citizens clubs, and you furnished the writer with the information. Are there any clubs for single, divorced and widowed working people?

VERY INTERESTED

REPLY

As a start, you might try these: Parents Without Partners is for divorced and widowed persons. You can write them at P.O. Box 263, or call Milt King (681-1000 after 4 p.m.) who is in charge of adult activities. YMCA has a Y-Singles club, and most churches have adult programs. If we hear of others, we'll let you know.

OUR DOORS ARE ALWAYS OPEN

Often we have people tell us, "This is the first time I have been in a funeral home and it's nothing like I thought it would be." Where many people expect to find a feeling of coldness and drab colors they are surprised when they first visit a modern funeral home.

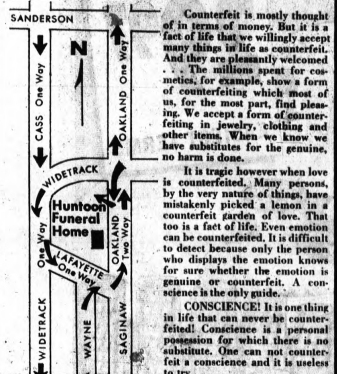
THINK ABOUT IT!



Counterfeit is mostly thought of in terms of money. But it is a fact of life that we willingly accept many things in life as counterfeit. And they are pleasantly welcomed . . . The millions spent for cosmetics, for example, show a form of counterfeiting which most of us, for the most part, find pleasing. We accept a form of counterfeiting in jewelry, clothing and other items. When we know we have substitutes for the genuine, no harm is done.

It is tragic however when love is counterfeited. Many persons, by the very nature of things, have mistakenly picked a lemon in a counterfeit garden of love. That too is a fact of life. Even emotion can be counterfeited. It is difficult to detect because only the person who displays the emotion knows for sure whether the emotion is genuine or counterfeit. A conscience is the only guide.

CONSCIENCE! It is one thing in life that can never be counterfeited. Conscience is a personal possession for which there is no substitute. One can not counterfeit a conscience and it is useless to try . . .

"The recent reorganization of county boards of supervisors and the increasing part federal and state government is playing in giving assistance to local units of government has made our association aware that they must keep pace with modern trends," he said.

Defeat Pontiaa, 2-1

Southfield in Legion Lead

Pontiac and Southfield clashed in a battle for first place Friday night and the southerners pulled out a 2-1 win in the final two innings to move in front of the District 18 League, American Legion baseball race.

Greg Main, a standout strikeout artist at Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows High School in the Catholic League's second division, limited the Pontiac nine to one hit and struck out nine.

A first division Catholic League star at Birmingham Brother Rice, Dave Fournier doubled home the tying run for S'field in the sixth, and Jim Manchella followed a walk and John Solberg's single in the seventh with the game-winning single off loser Tom Stafne.

SLIGHT EDGE

The defeat is Pontiac's first in two starts while the winners are now 4-1 and lead Waterford (3-1) by one-half game. It was an 8-4 winner over Walled Lake, Dennis Wooster picking up his third victory of the young season.

★ ★ ★

Madison Heights grabbbed third place by scoring four times in the seventh inning for a 7-6 triumph at Farmington. Berkley scored five times in the fourth inning in a 5-2 conquest of Clarkston.

Troy's Tom Morgan twirled two-hit ball and whiffed 13 in a 5-0 blanking of Milford under the lights.

Keystoners Mike Sheldon and Larry Hemmerly each had solo home runs and first sacker Mike Murphy cracked two hits for two runs batted in to lead Waterford.

Two doubles and Bill Simpson's circuit clout, then a walk and a home run by John Parker brought Berkley all the runs Scott Dedenbach needed. He gave Clarkston four hits and and fanned nine.

Souchak Is Set to Defend Title

If the host pro is correct, Mike Souchak can start spending the first-prize money he'll collect Monday in the 49th Michigan PGA Section championship at Davison Country Club.

CHAMP'S READY

Souchak, 42, collected $995 for his 294 in the U.S. Open over the tough Champions Golf Club in Houston, Texas, and his play there indicates he's ready to defend the state PGA crown he won by two shots at Davison last year.

★ ★ ★

"Mike's just the best player," offers Chester.

How about Pontiac's Gene Bone? "Oh, he always hits it well." Bill Mattson of Sheandoah? "Hey, he can hit it, too," says Chester.

PRO-AM SUNDAY

The PGA activity opens Sunday with a pro-am over the trim, 6,863-yard layout, and the pros will have it all to themselves on Monday when they battle over 36 holes to decide who's best and for $5,000 in prize money.

★ ★ ★

What's Bone say? "I have to go with Souchak," says Bone, "He's a good one. If I'm close to him I'll be tickled."

RULES CHAIRMAN

Bone, chairman of the rules committee for the event, and Mattson toured the course Wednesday. "We didn't keep score," said Gene. "We were just checking the course."

While Souchak figures to be the kingpin at this point, his peers aren't on the verge of conceding. "Let me sink a couple of putts and I'll be in there," vows Bone.

Bone and Souchak are two of seven winners of the event who will be on hand Monday. Other champions set to go are Brien Charter (1965) Kalamazoo, Ted Kroll (1964) of Franklin Hills, Ben Lula (1962) of Mount Clemens, John Barnum (1957, 1958, 1961) and Walter Burkemo (1955).

★ ★ ★

Also on hand is the present Michigan Open champion John Molenda, assistant pro at Knollwood in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Some of the other strong threats to Souchak's continuance as king are Glenn Stuart of Grand Rapids, Bill Bisdorf of Grosse Ile and Jim Picard, an assistant at Tam O'Shanter who has been on the pro circuit.

3 'Wheelchair' Records Fall in Lift Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Three records were shattered in weightlifting as the 13th annual National Wheelchair Games opened here Friday.

Greg Jensen, assistant district attorney from Menlo Park, Calif., set a standard of 330 pounds in the light-heavyweight division, which was introduced for the first time. Last year, he won the middleweight title at 320.

The University of Illinois Gizz Kids are strong favorites to repeat as team champions in both the men's and women's divisions. The games end Sunday with track and field finals.

Driver Burns-Up Mt. Clemens Track

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Stock car driver Ray Nece has posted five victories and one second-place finish in the first third of the season at Mount Clemens Race Track.

If he continues his hot pace he could become the first driver to win three season superstock championships at the track. He previously won season honors in 1966 and 1967.

Byrne-Brisson Lose Finals Today at Red Run

Chuck Byrne, Birmingham Country Club and a member of the Country Club of Miami, Fla., is losing his Invitational Golf Crowns as fast as he won them last year.

Byrne and his partner Joe Brisson were eliminated in the second round of the Red Run Invitational yesterday, but it took John Atalean and Bob Zinn 23 holes to do it.

In the other key championship match, Mike Jackson and Bud Badger were easy 6-5 victors over Don and Randy DeArment.

It was expected that the Jackson-Badger team would face Byrne-Brisson in the morning semifinals in a "vengeance" match, but it just didn't materialize that way.

Past champion Tom Draper and partner Frank Burdette entered the semifinals today with a 1-up triumph over Mandella-Dawson while Howard Hamilton and Harry Hibbard were 3-1 winners over Geo. Linklater and Randall Ahern.

The finals were slated for 1:30 today in all flights.

As it appears, the championship flight may very well be a Red Run finale. Last year Byrne and Glenn Johnson were the first non-Red Run duo to win the title in 13 years.
