Major Crime in Pontiac Up 15 Pct. in '66

By DAVID J. COOK

Major crime in the City of Pontiac is up nearly 15 per cent from last year, according to 10-month figures released by the Pontiac Police Department.

In addition, police records show the number of reported major offenses in Pontiac has already passed the 5,000 mark in 1966.

On the basis of a monthly average of 476 offenses through October, the projected year-end figure will be about 5,712.

The city's previous recorded high for a single year was last year, when the total was 4,038.

The sharp increase this year continues an upward swing which has leveled off only twice since 1959.

Police Chief William K. Hanger, who admitted he is "frankly puzzled" by the crime rise, nevertheless pinpointed four areas he believes are contributing to the increase:

- Social attitudes which make it "unduly easy" to commit crimes;
- Public apathy and unwillingness to provide funds for adequate law enforcement;
- Low bonds for criminal offenders after their arrest;
- Supreme Court decisions making convictions difficult along with "soft sentences" for those who are found guilty.

'BIGGEST OBSTACLE'

Hanger singled out police manpower as the "biggest obstacle" to combating crime in Pontiac.

Even in the face of a doubling of major offenses in the last decade, the number of police personnel has remained constant.

Manpower presently stands at 117, having gone as low as 110 and as high as 122 in the past 10 years.

Hanger requested an additional 30 men along with the 1967 budget request for the police department.

The preliminary budget drawn together by the city, however, includes no provision for an increase in police personnel.

"Theoretically," Hanger explained, "every police officer should spend 50 per cent of his time on patrol — simply being seen and making his presence felt in the community.

PATROLS SUFFER

"Our men are so busy most of the time taking reports of crimes already committed they spend virtually no time fulfilling this patrol function," he said.

Principal court decisions affecting police work, according to Hanger, have been the much-publicized Escobedo and Miranda opinions.

In Illinois vs. Escobedo (1964), the Supreme Court ruled a criminal suspect was entitled to have legal counsel present during interrogation.

RIGHT TO REFUSE

In the Arizona vs. Miranda decision rendered this year, the court held that a suspect had the right to refuse to answer any questions put to him by police.

"Both of these cases drastically limit the ability of the police to interrogate suspects," he said.

"Some crimes, however, could never be solved without confessions.

"I don't in any way advocate the third degree. As far as I'm concerned, interrogation is mainly a matter of wits — a police officer versus a suspect.

'CONCERN FOR ACCUSED'

"I don't think it's too much to ask a man to account for his activities when circumstances point to him as a likely suspect.

"Court decisions and public comment seem to reflect a great concern for the accused —apparently no one is too worried about the victims of crime."

Public attitudes were also described by Hanger as "apathetic" toward crime.

"This is shown in the past by the reluctance of the citizenry to finance either raises in police pay or increased manpower," he said.

ATTITUDES CHANGING

The chief cited, however, "growing evidence" that attitudes toward crime are changing.

"I think people are beginning to react to what they

47 Rescued From Stormy Aegean Sea

Ferryboat Goes Down Halfway Between Crete, Greek Coast

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A Greek passenger ship sank today in a raging storm in the Aegean Sea and more than 200 persons may have drowned.

Of the 281 persons aboard, only 47 had been snatched from the stormy seas hours after the ship went down.

The 8,900-ton Heraklion sank halfway between the Island of Crete and the Greek mainland, in its regular 10-hour crossing from Crete to Piraeus, the port of Athens.

The first survivors sighted were floating in the sea 19 miles northeast of the Island of Milos, where the Venus de Milo statue was discovered in 1820.

Shipping officials said the Heraklion carried 206 passengers, including one foreigner, and a crew of 75 commanded by Capt. E. Vernikos.

★ ★ ★

SERIES OF DISASTERS

The sinking of the ferryboat was one of a series of postwar disasters to Greek ships.

Europe's worst postwar maritime disaster was the sinking of the Himera, which went down off Athens in 1947 with a loss of 392 lives.

In the first hours after the disaster, the Merchant Marine Ministry said there appeared to be no hope of survivors. But as ships and planes converged on the disaster site, wreckage and people were seen in the water.

Particulars on School Presented

Education specifications for a new — and highly flexible — high school were presented last night to the Pontiac Board of Education.

Developed by Pontiac Central High School faculty members, the report will keynote board consideration of school building needs.

School administrators estimate that a high school incorporating all of the facilities sought by educators would cost $6.5 to $7 million.

The proposed school, based on a 2,400-student capacity, would have some 275,430 square feet of classroom space. The present PCH has 177,778 square feet of floor space, including classrooms and corridors.

★ ★ ★

Said to have a "reasonable capacity" for 1,875 students, the 52-year-old building has an enrollment of 2,141.

REPORT DELAYED

Prepared during the 1964-65 school year, the report was delayed in central administrative offices for a year because of demands on staff time for labor negotiations, intergroup relations and federally funded programs, Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said.

Notable throughout the proposal are plans for movable partitions in various kinds of rooms. These would allow for both large- and small-group

In Sullenberger Murder

Memphis Man Charged

A 21-year-old Memphis, Tenn., man was charged yesterday with the murder of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, former Pontiac surgeon.

Memphis police charged Clyde E. Triplett with first-degree murder, following his statement to them concerning the slaying of the 51-year-old doctor.

Sullenberger's body was found in a water-filled sand pit in Memphis Sunday.

Sullenberger, director of a Memphis hospital emergency room, drew national attention in 1958 when he was dismissed from Pontiac General Hospital for personal misconduct.

Details of the slaying and Triplett's statement were withheld by authorities who said that further information would not be revealed until Triplett is tried on the charge.

LED POLICE

Four youths arrested Tuesday because they had been in possession of Sullenberger's car led police to Triplett, according to Memphis Police Commissioner Claude Armour.

He would not say how the car came into the hands of the four youths.

The car was recovered Monday on a farm outside of Memphis. The owner of the farm said the four had left it there Nov. 29 after telling him it had broken down.

★ ★ ★

Sullenberger had been missing since Nov. 17, when he was last seen leaving the hospital.

BEATEN, SHOT

An autopsy revealed that Sullenberger had been beaten about the head and shot twice.

He had been practicing in Texas prior to arriving in Memphis Nov. 1 to take a job as a supervisor at the John Gaston Hospital.

Education Board to Study Medical School Facilities

The entire field of new medical education facilities, including Pontiac's projected osteopathic college, is to be studied by the State Board of Education before there is approval for expansion of Michigan State University's two-year medical school.

This was the outcome of a public hearing yesterday in Lansing before the state board.

The osteopathic college is slated for a site at Auburn and Opdyke.

MSU opened a two-year medical college last fall and a citizens' committee recently recommended that it be expanded without delay to a full four-year degree granting operation.

"I don't intend to act on a four-year school for MSU until we come to grips with the question of an osteopathic college," said Thomas Brennan, board president.

★ ★ ★

At the board meeting were several officials of the new Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine, which hopes to admit its first class in 1970.

'NEED IS THERE'

The osteopaths said they do not oppose MSU's plans because "the need is there," but they said the osteopathic college also is needed.

The House last June defeated a bill to create a state osteopathic college authority, which had passed the Senate.

But Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled informally that the state board must give its approval before the legislature creates a new institution of higher learning.

★ ★ ★

Osteopathic college officials met earlier yesterday with education department staff members and with Supreme Court Justice Otis Smith, who is chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Education for Health Care.

Romney Says Great Society Only a Cover

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. George Romney today said the government's Great Society programs "just paper over the great big cracks in our social and economic structure."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the National Association of Manufacturers, Romney proposed a four-dimensional attack on the nation's problems.

Saying that the Great Society programs "do not provide basic solutions," Romney suggested that the nation hearken back to what he said was a four-pronged approach of the founding fathers.

These four approaches, he said, were: voluntary associations that provided cooperative action centers; private enterprises that provided independent competitive action centers; state and local governments which created locally oriented action centers, and a federal government that provided an action center to cope with tasks requiring unified national effort.

Romney was in New York for a series of public appearances and private calls to take what political observers considered soundings of his chances for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Space N-Device Treaty Is Near

Agreement Drawn Up by U. N. Committee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries have reached agreement on a treaty that would bar nuclear weapons from outer space.

Johnson, in a statement read to newsmen at White House press headquarters here, said the draft treaty prepared by the outer space committee of the United Nations represents an "important step toward peace."

Announcing he would forward the treaty to the Senate early next year for ratification action, the chief executive said:

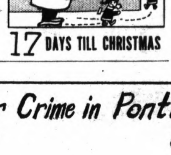
"It is the most important arms control development since the limited test ban treaty of 1963."

★ ★ ★

The 1963 treaty, since ratified by most of the world's nations but not by France and Red China, forebade nuclear testing in the atmosphere. Underground testing is still permitted.

BAR WEAPONS

Terms of the new treaty would bar weapons from outer space and would guarantee free access by all nations to all parts of the moon and other celestial bodies —including access to any installation that man might erect there.



17 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Guess What? More Rain Due

Ground in the Pontiac area, already soggy from heavy rains and melting snow, will get another drenching today, tonight and tomorrow.

Rainfall yesterday measured approximately one inch.

The weatherman forecasts rain, occasional thundershowers and unseasonably warmer temperatures, the low 50 to 55 tonight, and the high near 60 tomorrow.

Street flooding today was reported in two areas — Woodward just north of Square Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, and Dixie Highway, southeast of Williams Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

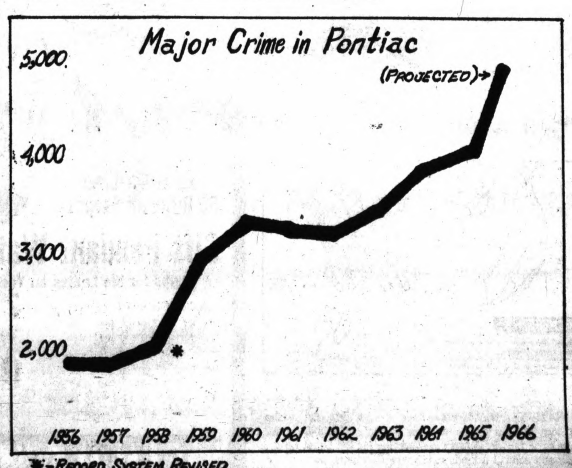
There were few problems getting through, however.

COLDER FORECAST

Saturday's outlook is cloudy and colder with showers possible.

Variable morning winds will become southwest at 5 to 15 miles per hour this afternoon and tonight.

The low in downtown Pontiac was 56 prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 63 by 2 p.m.



Teddy: Limit Draft Law

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says he will ask Congress next year to limit the extension of the present draft laws to six months or a year — unless it is able to agree on a proposed reform before the legislation expires June 30.

The Massachusetts Democrat expressed doubt, however, that the complex issue of the Selective Service System and the myriad of suggestions for altering — and abolishing — it could be digested in the half-year left before the deadline.

★ ★ ★

"I'm hoping for something before the end of the expiration," he told a newsman Wednesday night, "but it isn't realistic."

"If we have a delay," he added, "we have to keep the present laws in effect a minimum amount of time." He set this at not more than one year.

NORMAL EXTENSION

The draft laws normally would be extended for four years.

Kennedy's comments came shortly after he and other participants in a just-concluded national draft conference spelled out their findings in a public panel session.

More than 100 educators, government specialists, congressmen and students spent four days discussing the draft and some alternatives. The meeting, an outgrowth of the growing public debate over the fairness of the draft, was arranged by the University of Chicago.

Specifications for School Told sessions as well as independent study.

A 1,200-seat auditorium would be divisible into four smaller units.

★ ★ ★

The construction would permit flexibility in scheduling so that students would not be held to a rigid timetable.

COMMUNITY USE

Emphasis is placed on community use of the facility after school hours and is particularly evident in the physical education complex, accounting for 78,526 square feet of floor space in two buildings.

A community center would house a swimming pool with locker and shower areas, gymnasium with locker and shower areas, three handball courts, a laundry and equipment area, a Swedish gymnastics and therapeutic exercise room and a weight lifting room.

These would be used by adults and students. However, there also would be a fieldhouse with areas for basketball, track, volleyball, tennis, golf and other sports; locker and shower area; a wrestling room; and varsity team locker and shower areas.

★ ★ ★

Some 8,100 square feet would be alloted for a library, with educators recommending that consideration be given to a two-floor facility.

SEMINAR ROOMS

It would contain a main reading room equipped with individual study carrels and listening stations. Also included in the area would be eight small seminar rooms particularly adaptable for English and social studies classes.

feel are gross miscarriages of justice. In addition, greater numbers of citizens are becoming victims of crime.

"Another sign is the frequency with which businessmen want to hire off-duty police personnel for protection of their stores.

★ ★ ★

"Some store owners who feel they can't afford special protection are putting in requests for concealed weapons permits."

LEAD INCREASE

Counted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as major offenses are murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft.

Robbery and auto theft have been the leaders in the current rise, with increases over last year of 38.4 and 28.2 per cent, respectively.

Burglaries, too, have contributed, with an average of almost three a day through October of this year.

★ ★ ★

Of equal concern to police, if for no other reason than sheer volume, is the number of so-called lesser offenses.

MINOR OFFENSES RISE

Over a seven-year period, minor crimes have shot from 3,828 in 1959 to a total of 7,764 last year. This year the rate is running about the same as 1965.

Combining with the lesser offenses, from a standpoint of police workload, has been a similar rise in miscellaneous noncriminal calls.

These calls — which range from rescue runs and personal assistance to lost and found — presently are 20 per cent ahead of last year, when the 10-month total was 1,167.

★ ★ ★

Murder — or more properly, criminal homicide — nearly doubled in the first nine months. Seven persons have met death violently this year, as against four in 1965.

SINGLE DECREASE

The single category to show a decrease so far this year over 1965 is rape, with seven verified offenses through October as against 13 a year ago.

Significantly, arrest figures show juveniles — persons under 18 — to be responsible for much of the increase in burglaries and auto thefts.

Through the first 10 months of this year, nearly half, or 43.1 per cent, of auto thefts in Pontiac had been solved with the arrest of juveniles.

Similarly, about one of six break-ins — 16.8 per cent — was traced to a person under 18.

The number of armed robberies accounted for by juveniles has nearly doubled, with 7.1 per cent recorded through October as against 3.6 per cent last year.

Arms Found in County Jail Shakedown

A shakedown, ordered last night after rumors of a planned breakout at the Oakland County Jail, turned up a trayful of weapons, including an imitation pistol, according to Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

Irons said the search of "F" cellblock on the jail's fourth floor resulted in transfer of two of the 25 prisoners to second-floor cells.

★ ★ ★

Among the confiscated items was a realistic gun, its handle carved from a bar of laundry soap, a barrel made of a plastic toothbrush case and a trigger bent from a spoon handle.

Weapons taken by turnkeys also included small knives crudely fashioned from spoon and fork handles.

Prosecution Witness Tells of Probe Ploy in Cheyz Trial

By JIM LONG

A prosecution witness testified yesterday that a grand jury investigator had once given her $500 to flash before White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz, but that she was never asked to make a direct bribe.

"If he (Cheyz) asked for it, I was supposed to give it to him," said Mrs. Estella Dawson during her cross-examination by Cheyz, attorney, Joseph Louisell.

"If I had offered it to him it would have been a bribe, and I knew Mr. Cheyz wouldn't go along with it," said Mrs. Dawson.

The testimony came late in the third day of the trial in which Cheyz is charged with conspiracy to bribe and bribery involving a parcel of property which Mrs. Dawson wanted rezoned for an apartment project.

The trial had come to a halt earlier in the day when Mrs. Dawson, a 67-year-old widow, began to cry while being questioned by Louisell.

SORRY

"I'm sorry that I ever got into this mess," she said.

The trial resumed after she conferred with her attorney, Howard Bond.

Mrs. Dawson said that she was contacted by State Police detective Edward Seath after returning to the area from a trip in early February.

Prior to that, she said she had gone to another attorney, Anthony Renne, and told him about a proposal made by Cheyz to promote the development.

Cheyz is accused by the grand jury with conspiracy with Richard Hanson, a public relations man with the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson. Cheyz allegedly was to receive $1,000 of the $3,000 Hanson was going to charge Mrs. Dawson for his services.

Hanson, 34, of 2771 North Lake, Waterford Township, is not on trial. He was granted immunity from charges by Grand Juror Philip Pratt.

Mrs. Dawson said that Renne called it a "shakedown," and apparently went to the grand jury with the story while she was out of town.

"Did he (Renne) ever tell you about his difficulties with Cheyz?" asked Louisell.

"No, I didn't know he had any," replied Mrs. Dawson.

After she returned to Pontiac, Mrs. Dawson said she gave Seath permission to record a phone conversation she had with Hanson, but that Seath did not give her any instructions as to what to say.

Two days later, according to Mrs. Dawson, she went to see Cheyz at the township hall to discuss the rezoning matter.

It was at this meeting, she said, that she took the $500 given to her by police. She said police had equipped her with a microphone that recorded the conversation in a truck outside.

RETURNED MONEY

She said she returned the money to Seath when she arrived back at the Pontiac State Police post.

Hanson was arrested the next day at the Pontiac Mall shopping Center following a meeting with Mrs. Dawson, at which time she paid him $500 cash and a $1,000 check.

The trial resumed this morning with Mrs. Dawson returning to the stand for further questioning by Louisell.

Dr. Sam Tells of Pistol Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard said today he plotted to force police to shoot him dead in the courtroom if he had been convicted a second time of killing his first wife.

★ ★ ★

The Ohio osteopath disclosed that he carried a pistol into the Cleveland courtroom, hiding it in an athletic supporter he wore.

If the jurors had found him guilty, he said, he had planned to take the gun from its hiding place and wave it.

At that point, Sheppard said, he expected to be cut down by bullets from the guns of courtroom guards.

★ ★ ★

Sheppard made the statements at a news conference marking the publication day of his book "Endure and Conquer." It is about his case.

Husband-Wife Scientists Get Cranbrook Award

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A husband and wife team of scientists yesterday were given the Mary Soper Pope Medal by Cranbrook Institute of Science "for distinguished accomplishment in the field of plant sciences."

They are Drs. Karl and Hally Jolivette Sax who are currently residing at Cranbrook where Karl Sax is the first appointee to the Institute's Distinguished Scholar Chair.

The Saxes are engaged in a study of the effects on chromosomes of the use of various beverages, drugs and pesticides.

After he retired as director of the Arnold Arboretum at Harvard University in 1954 and as professor of botany at Harvard in 1959, Dr. Sax accepted many visiting professorships.

Waterford Police Firing Upheld

By a 6-0 vote last night, the Waterford Township Board by resolution upheld the dismissal of Patrolman Ronald Freeman from the township police department because of "official misconduct."

The decision culminated a hearing, held under the Veterans' Preference Act, in the Waterford Township High School cafeteria.

Freeman, a seven-year veteran of the force, disobeyed a direct order to sweep the police station floor Nov. 7 and was discharged three days later.

Freeman then appealed the dismissal and was granted a hearing before the Waterford Township Fire and Police Civil Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Service Commission, likewise, ruled the dismissal justified following a lengthy hearing last Saturday.

The appeal next could be taken to Circuit Court.

One Man's Delicacy Is Another's Shudder

WASHINGTON — A survey of the world's foods reveals that one man's epicurean delicacy is often another man's stomachache.

Eskimos like to eat the palms of polar bears, the National Geographic says. Chinese relish sharks' fins. Africans delight in crocodile tails.

Fat black caterpillars are a gustatory treat in the Congo. Australian aborigines nibble ants like peanuts after pinching off the heads. A tribe in southern Nigeria dines on porcupines, rats, and palm weevils.

In the Arabian desert, Bedouin eat fried locusts. Locust-control officers must pay the local residents for the privilege of poisoning the delicious grasshopper before it flies off to damage crops in other lands.

* * *

A village in India may be overjoyed at the arrival of a flight of ants, which are quickly popped into the pot. Yet the same Indians might become physically sick if they had to eat an egg or piece of chicken.

The Polynesians long considered rats a delicacy and the Aztecs fattened small dogs for their banquets. The French esteem frogs' legs and snails.

A little decay improves flavor, many peoples find. Just as Europeans like their cheese aged, natives of Brunei on the island of Borneo prefer their eggs rotten.

Australian aborigines like their meat putrescent, and some north Europeans want their fowl "hung until high."

Many Chinese, Japanese, and Southeast Asians abhor milk. Hindus refuse to eat beef, because cows are holy. Mongols and Guiana Indians dislike fowl. Chinese and Kaffirs in southern Africa are repelled by rabbit.

JELLIED EEL

Many Europeans like jellied eel, but Americans generally find it too "snakelike." Some British fishermen refuse to touch mackerel, which is believed to feed on the corpses of seamen.

Most food tastes are acquired in childhood. A child brought up on seal blubber or termites will likely relish them the rest of his life.

Powell Affronts American Decency

Seldom has there been greater affront to the dignity of Congress and the respectability of the American people than that offered by the Congressional scofflaw ADAM CLAYTON POWELL, New York's Democratic Representative from the 18th District.

Re-elected in November for a 12th term "without even sending out a post card," POWELL has proved an irresponsible legislator and an unmitigated demagogue scornful of the very constitutional processes he is sworn to uphold.

Currently, Powell is in default on a $164,000 libel judgment and stands under sentence of a year and 60 days on four contempt of court charges stemming from his evasion of satisfying the court judgment, although he has reportedly agreed to a long-term liquidation of it.

So disgraceful has POWELL's personal and legislative conduct become, that a fellow Democrat, Rep. LIONEL VAN DEERLIN of California, declared that he will initiate a move to block the seating of his New York colleague when Congress convenes January 10.

This is VAN DEERLIN's epitome of the case against POWELL: "It would be a monstrous perversion of patriotism and morality if a man who would be barred from serving his country in uniform because of unlawful acts should be a voice in policies which affect the lives of men who do serve."

★ ★ ★

Whether the Californian can muster enough support to deny Powell his seat in Congress (it would be the first such act since 1900) remains to be seen. But we wish him luck in the attempt.

Observer Points to Built-in Twist of Mankind

ERNEST G. SWIGERT, the highly articulate head of a large heavy equipment company, has a way of discussing questions or principles with a penetration that is all too sadly lacking in many public utterances.

Recently he observed: "I don't know why every generation will accept accumulated knowledge in medicine and science, but when it comes to economics they have to learn the hard way. There is always some professor or politician who has a new scheme to repeal the laws of economics — but I suspect the laws of economics are just as immutable as the laws of physics."

Implied, if not expressed, is the sound idea that authorities, like shoemakers, would do well to stick to their lasts.

State Court Rules on 'Confession' Ruling

Few recent decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court, not excluding that on school prayer, have generated as much controversy, agitation and misconception as those dealing with criminal confessions.

In the wake of the ESCOBEDO case especially, in which the high court ruled that a suspect must be advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent, law enforcement agencies and officers have been bending over backward to conform. Some policemen complain that it is they, not the lawbreakers, who wear the handcuffs.

Comes now the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to contend that the states have misinterpreted the rulings and bent much too far, at least in instances where courts have thrown out voluntary confessions because they were made before the police had a chance to inform the confessor of his right not to talk.

In a decision overruling a lower court, which had suppressed a woman's voluntary confession in the death of two boys, Pennsylvania Justice MICHAEL A. MUSMANNO wrote:

"There is nothing in the Federal or Pennsylvania decisions which requires police, upon hearing a volunteered statement by anyone, to order the volunteer to cease talking."

It would appear, said MUSMANNO, that many judges around the Country have been enforcing "supposed rules" the U.S. Supreme Court never intended to lay down.

"Police are not compelled to plug their ears when conscience bursts into the doors and the conscience-bearer bares red hands of guilt."

★ ★ ★

This begins to make sense, but so far the high tribunal has done nothing to clarify the misunderstanding, if misunderstanding there is, engendered by its landmark "confession" ruling.

Congress Shy Good Actors

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Maybe the whole thing's wrong.

Maybe Congress is too stuffy, too stiff, too cramped, too much in a rut and out of date. Maybe it needs to move outdoors, on a mountain or near one, in a field, in the woods, near a stream, or under a tent.

MARLOW

Perhaps a little music, or singing, or a few horsemen dashing up the grassy aisle at the last minute to break a tie vote would liven things up a bit, just to break the sameness and get the public interested.

In recent years, there have been only three good actors in the Senate: Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Texas Democrat; and two Republican senators: George Murphy of California and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Johnson moved on to the White House. Murphy has hardly performed in his old professional way. Only Dirksen has never stopped acting.

★ ★ ★

He has just come out with a hit album of dramatic readings, "The Gallant Men," recorded in his voice which is one of the most fascinating in America since it starts out sounding like, "Oh, boy" and suddenly sounds like, "Oh, Lord."

It's beginning to sink in on politicians that they've lost their magic.

All year, people by the hundreds of thousands troop into the Capitol to watch the House and Senate, where it's all free, and probably not one in a thousand sits through one whole day to watch and listen.

But, for that matter, it's a rare senator or representative who sits in his chamber one whole day to listen to his colleagues, either.

★ ★ ★

Yet, around the country, people pay out money by the bushels to sit for hours to see a show or hear a concert. And everywhere in America, millions from supper to midnight sit entranced before television.

NO SMALL WONDER

No wonder in California the Republicans picked Ronald Reagan to be their gubernatorial candidate or that the people elected him. And no wonder that now the defeated Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown, is suggesting actor Gregory Peck would be a good bet to run for the Senate.

Chuck Conners, one-time ballplayer and television Western star, and John Wayne, the strong silent type of movies and television, have been mentioned as fine political candidates.

A few musicians like Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, for instance, would liven up Senate sessions. When the Southerners put on a filibuster to block a civil rights bill, they usually play to pretty thin galleries.

Will It Come To This?

David Lawrence Says:

President Faces Tough Choice

WASHINGTON — President Johnson faces an almost impossible choice.

He has been hinting at a tax increase, but he knows it may be unpopular. The budget is going to be way out of balance, and the President realizes the need for substantial cuts in spending. But he doesn't relish the prospect of criticism that would come from all the different groups and organizations which are anxious to keep federal money flowing in their own direction.

LAWRENCE

Mr. Johnson's difficulty arises largely from the fact that he cannot control the national economy just by government action.

The remedy doesn't lie in reckless cuts in the budget that would hurt the economy.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps a solution may be developed by a plan to achieve a five-year program of stability, during which wages would be held at their present levels and prices would be kept down too.

LACKS POWER

The President doesn't have at present any power under law to fix wages and prices, and up to now has relied upon unofficial persuasion. This has not proved successful.

An alternative would be the announcement of a program of stabilization to which both labor and management would be requested to agree in advance.

This would offer hope for a few years of stability during which other remedial measures might be taken by deferring some expenditures and spreading them out over more years.

★ ★ ★

It is a kind of slowing-up process that would at least avoid precipitating any sudden or drastic change in the economic situation.

DISADVANTAGES

As for a tax increase, there are more disadvantages than advantages to the idea.

The President cannot be sure that the psychological impact of a tax increase would not be harmful and might even prove discouraging to businesses depending upon the buying power of the consumer.

As the President ponders the various maneuvers that he can make in the future, he is mostly concerned with the political effects of any move he undertakes. But there is the danger that a wrong policy applied in 1967 might plague the whole economic system and stir up a nationwide discontent which could be fatal to the Democratic party in the next presidential election.

This is why Mr. Johnson faces an almost impossible dilemma.

He ultimately may discover that it is better all around to achieve stability, even at the risk of engendering some discontent now, than to let wages and prices continue their upward spiral and lead eventually to an economic downturn of serious proportions.

Bob Considine Says:

Sukarno Has 2 Ploys That Keep Him Alive

JAKARTA — Why doesn't the new order in Indonesia knock off Sukarno? There are extenuating circumstances and involvements galore.

CONSIDINE

Sukarno had most of the rug pulled out from under him last March 10 but that which remains under foot gives him a fine base for obstruction of many of the reforms sought by the new crowd led by a timid lion named Suharto.

Sukarno still has two big ploys in Indonesia's absorbing game of one-upmanship.

The new group did not take away his presidential title nor object strongly enough when he appropriated the title of prime minister in the course of his hambone speech in which he acknowledged that he was generously yielding his title of "president for life."

★ ★ ★

The other strength that Sukarno carries in his holster as his foes attempt to make an unperson of him, as Kosygin and Brezhnev have made of Krushchev, is that he is undisputed George Washington of Indonesia.

'ETERNALLY GRATEFUL'

When Stanley Karnow, able Southeast Asia correspondent for the Washington Post asked an Indonesian intellectual why his countrymen still tolerated Sukarno, the scholar replied, "Twenty years ago there would have been no chance that you, a white man, would have sat down with me, a brown man, and asked me questions as an equal human being about what is happening in this part of the world. The Bung (Sukarno) made this possible and to him I am eternally grateful."

To kill Sukarno now would be to visit upon Indonesia repetition of the factional blood purge which last year and earlier this year resulted in the slaughter of 300,000 Indonesians, to use the figure agreed upon in American diplomatic dispatches from this place.

Adam Malik, former radical newsman now foreign minister, is considered to be hardest-nosed against Sukarno.

★ ★ ★

But when we asked why his group continues to tolerate the obstructionist, he smiled fondly and said, "If we keep him the nation will seem more united. We need him for the time being. He is still a father image to the common people. Besides, one must respect every old man."

'The Middle-Aged Lions' Enjoyed by Former G.I.

I enjoyed reading "Middle-Aged Lions." As a former WW II G.I., it made me proud of these men who were brave in spite of their very human fears. We can be just as proud of the men in Viet Nam who have a much less clearly defined war to fight. Thanks again, and keep up your good work.

'Buses Should Not Run When Roads Bad'

When our roads were so bad the other day, I was surprised that Holly buses were sent out with so many lives at stake. It seems the person or persons responsible for this had better check the roads next time.

Says Mr. Bob Swem Victim of Injustice

Mr. Bob Swem was sentenced to life imprisonment for murder at the age of 16. After he had spent 17 years behind bars, his case was heard before the United States Supreme Court. This body of nine judges completely exonerated Mr. Swem. The record of a 16-year-old, Mr. Swem, was released for political reasons.

I say to Mr. Swem "Hold your head high and have faith in the Lord," for people responsible for this great injustice perpetrated upon you will have to stand and be judged before the Almighty someday.

Questions Description of Bar's Proximity

Your account of the slaying of a Pontiac citizen November 23rd stated that the victim's car was parked "in front of 16 Beaudette, around the corner from the bar."

★ ★ ★

Anyone familiar with the area must be aware that 16 Beaudette is some distance from the Orchard Lake Tavern which is the bar to which you referred.

★ ★ ★

One wonders why the victim chose to park on Beaudette when there are many places to park much closer to the bar.

Exhorts Voters to Remember 'Giveaways'

Belated open letter to Soapy Williams, Carl W. O'Brien and other "losers":

★ ★ ★

M.E.S.C. is open for business as usual! If they can't help you, there are always the "plums" for your "loyalty." The trouble is, it's apparent that Soapy has just about run out of "plums."

★ ★ ★

I congratulate the majority of Michigan voters for using their intelligence on November 8. For the next two years, read your paper completely, every day. Know what LBJ gives away from now until November 1968, and don't forget.

'Students Look Forward to Report Cards'

I also do not like to see parent-teacher conferences replacing the report card. To a child in danger of failing, a parent-teacher conference can be very fruitful.

★ ★ ★

However, I have talked with students who no longer receive report cards and the majority felt they should have something in black and white to show for their efforts.

★ ★ ★

Although I was not an all-A student, I always looked forward to "report card day" and my children do also.

Comments on Letter About Shop Workers

I disagree with the person who termed factory workers "illiterate." Perhaps the writer's parents were factory workers at one time. Policemen could have jobs making the same money as we shop workers.

Encourages Humane Treatment of Pets

Once again the frigid weather is upon us and again the inhumane treatment of some animals takes place. Why do the guilty parties continue to forget their pets in extremely cold or hot weather? To tie an animal to a post with inadequate shelter, food and water is sheer cruelty. Why can't something be done to offer protection from such treatment?

★ ★ ★

If you do not want to be bothered with doing the humane things for your pet, please do him one kindness and give him to someone who will appreciate him.

'All Races Must Accept Responsibility'

In response to a statement by a David Moore, I apprise him of the following: Negroes only represent 11 per cent of the U.S. population, but approximately 20 per cent of the servicemen in Viet Nam are Negro. And if he pays as much attention to other articles as he does to those on Stokely Carmichael he must have noticed many antiwar demonstrators, draft card burners and persons preferring to go to prison rather than into the service who were white.

★ ★ ★

Stokely Carmichael, a man with as much right as anyone to dissent, was specifically credited with having made the statement, not "Negroes." Therefore, we are accepting our responsibility in this area, and you, Mr. Moore, should accept yours and keep issues in their proper perspective.

Question and Answer

To whom do I appeal for gates at the two railroad crossings that enclose Drayton Woods? Boxcars block the view of Hatchery Road and the lights and bell are not enough. Two people have been killed here already.

PATRICIA CADWALLADER
DRAYTON PLAINS

REPLY

This is done through the Michigan Public Service Commission. Any citizen may ask his Township to petition the Commission, or he may appeal directly. If you choose to make the request yourself, write to Otto Sonefeld, Director of Railroad Division, Michigan Public Service Commission, Lansing 48913. If a recent investigation of those crossings has not been made, the Commission will conduct one and make recommendations accordingly.

INSTANT KNITTING NEEDLES — Based on the same principle as a larger kit, this new junior version offers the smaller sized needles — sizes 2 through 5. The compact white and gold vinyl case contains enough parts to make over 16 combinations of circular or flexible jumper knitting needles, and stitch holders. All parts snap easily in and out of specially designed grooves. Kit also contains useful combination of stitch measure, six-inch ruler, and knitting needle gauge.

SPARKLING LEGS — The Glimmer Girl is the "in girl" on the holiday fashion scene. The perfect complement to the dazzle of costumes, shoes and hair ornaments is the subtle glint of Jewelites, stockings made of shimmering Antron yarn in a multifacet knit which achieves an extraordinary flattering sparkle effect.

Go-Go Girls Love Glamour of New Hose

For any gift-hunting Santa, the hosiery counters provide prime inspiration this Yule season.

An exhilarating new gift idea, for example, for the go-go girls who like swinging fashion, are neon colors in Crepe Leglites, a sheer-to-the-waist panty-hose style, suggested Mrs. Kathleen Bremond, director of styling for a leading hosiery maker.

The high voltage impact of Shockingly Citrus and Shockingly Fuchsia qualifies for the season's most spectacular leg fashion.

Another new concept in leg fashions is to glitter by day. Flicker, a sweater crochet style with a hint of silver to spark black and a hint of gold to spark white, is a glamor favorite for wear with tweeds or metallic knits or shiny vinyl.

Or, pack a gift box with Rickochet, a versatile new crochet stocking that has a chameleon way of changing color.

For the evening scene, Jewelites, a sparkling Antron style, is a gift that is sure to bring delighted applause from any belle who adores festive occasions.

Says Mrs. Bremond, Hanes styling director, "For mini-skirt enthusiasts, there are a variety of happy solutions for insuring an elegant display of leg as the hemlines edge thighward.

VAN VAN CUA

Saigon Mayor Rests After His Arrest by Yank MPs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Saigon's mayor entered a hospital for a checkup and a rest today less than 12 hours after American military police arrested and handcuffed him on the Saigon riverfront shortly before 2 a.m.

Friends of Mayor Van Van Cua, who is also a doctor and a paratrooper colonel, said they expected he would be asked to take time off from City Hall for an extended rest.

* * *

Cua was disarmed and handcuffed by U. S. military police after he brandished a Thompson submachine gun at them, U. S. officials said.

* * *

They said the MPs were summoned to the riverfront near the My Canh floating restaurant after reports that a man was firing a gun. A U. S. spokesman said the MPs "detected an odor of alcohol" on the man, who later proved to be the mayor.

* * *

The Americans, apparently unaware or unsure of the mayor's identity, searched him and took a 38-caliber revolver from him. He was wearing a sport shirt and slacks.

In the meantime, Vietnamese police arrived on the scene and with the Americans took the mayor — enraged and shouting — to a police station. He was released after high U. S. Embassy officials and the American provost marshal intervened.

U. S. officials disclosed the mayor had been involved in at least one previous incident recently when he stopped a military convoy moving through Saigon. Other sources said that on one occasion during the last week the mayor halted traffic on a main street late at night and on another occasion he fired shots in the air on another busy street.

Beer brewing techniques were perfected in the monasteries in the early days of the Christian era.

'Only 2 in Race for A-Smasher'

Contest Said Between California and Illinois

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California's lieutenant governor-elect said yesterday that only California and Illinois were still in the running as sites for a $375-million atom smasher planned by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Robert H. Finch also said he had been assured by Commission Chairman Glen Seaborg that a decision on a site for the huge accelerator would be reached this month.

He said that his belief the AEC had narrowed the potential site to two was based on information from congressional and other sources rather than from Seaborg.

Finch said he had assured Seaborg that the Republican administration of Gov. - elect Ronald Reagan would live up to all commitments made by the outgoing administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown in an effort to win the accelerator for the West Coast state.

The AEC has announced that six sites, including Sacramento, Calif., and Chicago were still in the running for the project.

The other proposed locations include sites near Denver, Colo.; Madison, Wis.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; and Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, N.Y.

New Transit Chief Urges Cooperation

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Alan S. Boyd, soon to become the nation's first secretary of transportation, served notice today that the new department will expect all phases of transportation — ground, water and air — to cooperate in solving the problems of movement of people and goods.

In his first major talk in connection with the position he will assume next month, Boyd told an aviation forum of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. he is confident all branches of transportation will learn to work more closely together.

He said this is true because:

1. It will be obviously in the basic interest of each individual type of transportation — in terms of marketing, profits, and dollars — to promote coordination. An airline may sell a ticket for flight, but it must also be concerned with the passenger's total trip, including ground transportation.

2. Pressure from shippers will increase to make sure that unrelated services are of quality and that coordination is improved.

3. Increasing pressure of competing demands for financial support will cause the federal government to take a positive interest in policies and actions that promote efficiency and economy.

Stroke Paralyzes Rights Foe Connor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Eugene (Bull) Connor who as Birmingham police commissioner a few years ago strongly opposed civil rights demonstrations, has suffered "a serious stroke."

Doctors said Connor, 68, president of the Alabama Public Service Commission is paralyzed on his left side. "He is withstanding it very well," a spokesman added. "He is conscious, alert and rational. His condition is stabilizing."

The veteran politician collapsed at the Jefferson County Courthouse.

A CHRISTMAS PLAYHOUSE —by Janet Henry and John Lane

Endurance Mark for Drastic Dieting Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is a new record for voluntarily staying on the "acaloric" diet.

It is 35 weeks and 4 days — more than 8 months. The old record was a mere 16 weeks and 5 days or not quite 4 months.

It's an awesome record. An "acaloric" diet contains no calories at all. The dieter can have water or tea or coffee without cream or sugar or synthetically sweetened drinks without limit but nothing else.

It would be called total starving if the dieting wasn't done in a hospital under day-to-day and almost hour-to-hour medical supervision, to detect any harmful result the instant they appear.

★ ★ ★

But none appeared in the new record-holder or in 12 other "acaloric" dieters, two of whom also broke the old record. They stayed with it 34 weeks and 20 weeks.

The dieting times of the others ranged from 25 to 50 days. All could have dieted longer if the doctors had so ordered.

They were Scots, 10 of them women. The scientific supervisors were three Scot physicians led by Dr. T. J. Thomson. The old record-holder was an American whose achievement was reported to the American Medical Association in 1964 by Dr. E. J. Drenick.

"The most surprising aspect of this study was the ease with which the prolonged fast was tolerated," Thomson and his associates reported to the medical journal, "The Lancet."

★ ★ ★

To be sure, they added, "hunger was a recurrent sensation, most notable in the first few days." But, thereafter, it mostly disappeared.

The new record-holder weighed 281 pounds and surgeons couldn't correct the same kind of hernia President Johnson had until she shed weight.

She lost 97 pounds and became surgically acceptable. The two other record breakers lost 75 and 70 pounds. Their goal was to improve their figures.

But all the dieters were well-motivated, and that was essential, the doctors said. In their opinion, this is just as essential for less all-out dieting or for dieting of any kind.

Star Watchers Due for Treat

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — Some 10 times during the next year, the earth will sweep through the space debris orbiting the sun, and the count of shooting stars will climb.

They certainly won't match the splendor of the recent Leonids. But for the star watchers, they can be high-point of the year.

The Geminid meteors, visible at the rate of some 43 an hour on the morning of Dec. 13 when they will be at the peak of their six-day display, are one of the year's two most reliable showers.

The Geminids rank with the August Perseids as the best of the regular annual events for amateur meteor observers to count or photograph.

This year, moonlight will not interfere with the Geminids, as it will in 1967.

Although the 1967 Leonid meteor display in mid-November is not expected to match the brilliant spectacle of the shower seen from the southwest last month, which peaked at 40 per second, it should still be above the average Leonid strength of 18 per hour.

One of the lesser meteor showers, the Ursids, will provide about eight "shooting stars" an hour on the night of Dec. 22-23, but observations will be hampered until about two in the morning.

Movies Finally Remember Ray Bradbury

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The movie world has finally come to grips with Ray Bradbury, thus correcting a grievous omission.

THOMAS

Universal is now bringing to the nation's theaters "Fahrenheit 451," the company's first big venture into international film making. It was directed by the new wave French man Francois Truffaut in his first English language film; it stars Oskar Werner and Julie Christie, she in a dual role.

* * *

The film is a futuristic horror tale of a cowardly new world in which zombie-like citizens stare at television and are forbidden to read books, which are destroyed by fire crews — burning point 451F. It is a thinking man's movie, but it may also be enjoyed on a purely science-fiction level.

That is the nature of Ray Bradbury's work, which may help explain why he was long the most unproduced of major writers.

ONE RESERVATION

The author was talking about his checkered history in Hollywood after attending his sixth screening of "Fahrenheit 451." "I like it," he said glowingly. "I have only one reservation. I wired Truffaut: 'Give me three more minutes of chase.' But he didn't do it."

Bradbury wrote a memorable science-fiction film, "It Came From Outer Space," and adapted "Moby Dick" for the John Huston-Gregory Peck movie. Most of his other screen work has been in transforming his books into scripts that never were filmed.

"Fahrenheit 451' was optioned by three or four producers before Truffaut got it," said Bradbury, who resembles an owlish accountant despite his position as pharaoh of the far-out. "It took Truffaut four years to put the deal together.

"The Martian Chronicles' has been in the hands of such producers as Kirk Douglas, MGM, Pakula-Mulligan and David Susskind, who wanted to put it on Broadway as a musical comedy.

PLANNED FOR STAGE

"Finally it is going to be produced on the stage in Paris by Jean Louis Barrault next Jan. 15. It will be a full-scale production employing film, ballet and puppets, who will play the Martians."

Why have film producers neglected Bradbury all these years?

* * *

"I think Hollywood producers have had a resistance to fantasy," he explained, "although there have been some great films in that line — 'Here Comes Mr. Jordan,' 'Things to Come,' 'The Thief of Bagdad,' (1940), 'The Man Who Could Work Miracles' and even the Dracula - Frankenstein - mummy pictures of Universal.

* * *

"Also, I believe American producers shy away from science-fiction films because we suffer from science-fiction objects such as the automobile."

FOE OF AUTO

It should be explained that Bradbury is a non-driver and such a foe of the automobile as to make Ralph Nader seem like a Detroit public relations man.

* * *

"The automobile," says Bradbury, "is strangling our cities, polluting our air, killing 50,000 people a year and causing nine billion dollars worth of damage. Los Angeles and New York City have been virtually destroyed by the automobile."

* * *

Bradbury, who has written about space travel as if it were a subway trip, doesn't believe in flying, either.

* * *

"They almost got me to fly to Paris for the making of 'Fahrenheit 451,'" he remarked, "but I changed my mind at the last minute. I figured the day I went up in a plane, all the aircraft in the world would fall out of the sky."

SCIENCE-FICTION KING — This is science-fiction writer Ray Bradbury, looking over a picture that was part of a school project to illustrate characters in one of his dramas. The movie world has finally come to grips with Bradbury, now that Universal is bringing "Fahrenheit 450" to the nation's theaters.

No Suspects in Store Killing

DETROIT (AP)—Police put 17 suspects before witnesses of a downtown department store slaying but witnesses were unable to identify any of the suspects Wednesday.

There are no prime suspects in the slaying, Inspector Albert Schwaller said.

* * *

William Frederick, 30, of Royal Oak was stabbed to death Nov. 30 when he tried to wrest an expensive coat from a shoplifter in the J. L. Hudson Co. downtown store.

Hudson has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of the killer.

Set Pattern for Children Quite Early

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like you to settle an argument for me. I've been trying to teach our children table manners. I've told them to chew with their mouths closed.

My husband, his family and some friends think this is silly for me to teach them. We both agreed we would follow your advice. Mrs. Whitney

Dear Mrs. Whitney: Hooray for you! Don't let your husband and friends talk you out of teaching your children good table manners. They may be small now, but they'll have to go out in public sooner or later and children who chew with their mouths open, spill, wriggle, etc. don't win much applause either for themselves or their parents.

If they have gradually absorbed good manners from the time they are babies, they'll have no problems at mealtime later on.

SEATING

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the accepted practice today in handling the problem of the divorced and remarried parents of the bridegroom at a wedding?

If the groom's mother and her second husband attend the church ceremony should they be seated together in the first pew with the groom's father and his second wife in the third pew? And how is seating at the reception handled? Miss Gannon.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Gannon: You're right about the seating arrangements in the church, but I would modify "third pew" to read family of the groom's father

As far as the reception goes, if the divorced parents are still friends, they could both be invited to sit at the main table with the new wife and husband; but if there is any ill will, better keep a safe distance between them.

In that case, ask the one with whom the groom has been living, or is closest to, to sit at the bride's table and arrange a second table for the other parent and members of his family — aunts and uncles, brothers, sisters, etc.

Husband's a Collector---Tell Him to Discard

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a saver! He saves old magazines, newspapers, sports equipment, clothes, and all kinds of worthless junk. Our basement is loaded with it and so is our guest room. I am at my wits end. If I so much as ask him when he is going to get around to sorting that stuff, he blows up.

ABBY

★ ★ ★

A year ago his aunt died, and she never threw anything away either, so he had all her junk sent over here, and we have it in our garage. Don't tell me to send him to a psychiatrist. YOU should be so crazy.

SICK OF JUNK

DEAR SICK: Your husband is a pack rat. This is fine if you have the storage space for it and it isn't a fire hazard, but that's rarely the case. Give the old hoarder one week in which to clean house, and tell him if he doesn't do it, you'll call the Salvation Army, Good Will, or some church auxiliary to pick up the junk and put it to good use. Then do it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Recently we were invited to a wedding. For a gift we sent a sterling silver candle snuffer. I just received a note from the bride, thanking us for the "darling little gravy dipper!"

I was stunned when I read it. Should I call the bride and tell her? I'm sure she'd be very much embarrassed if she had guests for dinner and used a candle snuffer for a gravy ladle.

STUNNED

DEAR STUNNED: If you really fear that she will use the candle snuffer as a gravy ladle, call her and tell her nicely.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am planning my wedding for next spring. My fiance and I both wanted a large wedding. The problem is his new stepmother. After his mom died his dad remarried. We were all real happy until we met her.

She never combs her hair, refuses to wear her false teeth, and she is a mess in general.

I would be embarrassed to death to have this woman in front of all my friends. My fiance doesn't care for her at all.

Abby, are we going to have to let all our plans go up in smoke and have a small wedding because of this woman? We would appreciate your advice.

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: It is unfortunate that your future mother-in-law isn't more presentable, but she is married to your fiance's father, and you can't hide her in a closet. Proceed with your original wedding plans.

Perhaps her husband can persuade her to get a hair-do, put her teeth in, and spruce up a bit for the occasion. In any case, it is your day, and this woman will not be as conspicuous as you imagine.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THINKING IT OVER": Yes, two can live as cheaply as one — if they both have good jobs.

Do Best You Can for This Young Couple

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My daughter is married to a serviceman presently stationed in Viet Nam, with one year to serve before returning to the U.S. She has come home to live with us for that time and is expecting a child this month.

MARY FEELEY

She has her own room, which is large enough to accommodate both her and the baby. She has never paid board or contributed money to the house. We would like to be generous and not take anything from her, but our circumstances make this impossible.

I expect her to pay for all the baby's needs — food, formula, special items. Her present allotment is $90 a month, but she will receive an increase after the birth of the child. She will be using all our facilities and eating her meals with us.

We need an impartial person to tell us what would be a fair amount to charge her.

Mrs. V. L., Huntington, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. L.: I guess I'm not really impartial in this case. Your daughter and her serviceman are having it pretty tough right now. And I'm not thinking just about money. However, I do see your point. You can't feed a family on good will alone.

★ ★ ★

So how about suggesting that she pay one-third of her income —one-third of that $90 a month —for room and board? Seems to me that's about as much as she could manage.

Even though her allotment will be a little bigger after the baby comes, there's not likely to be any surplus. In addition to taking care of the baby's needs, she should be encouraged to put aside as much as she can in savings, against the day her husband comes back and must begin shaping up a new life.

So be as generous as you can, as your own very real contribution to the war effort. A marriage that gets off to a wartime start can use a little help.

Dear Mary Feeley: My son entered college this fall, and since we're in a tight spot for money at this point, he is waiting on tables in order to earn his room and board. I was told recently that this could be counted as "income."

★ ★ ★

Does this mean he will have to figure up the cost in dollars and cents for the school year, and file an income tax return?

Mrs. F. G., Birmingham, Ala.

Dear Mrs. G.: The Internal Revenue Service ruling is that room and board should be estimated at the "fair market price." Therefore this maintenance is counted as taxable income.

However, if your son's expenses for room and board — plus any other income he may receive — amount to less than $600 for the year, he doesn't have to file a report or pay any tax. Even if the total amounts to as much as $900, he won't have to pay an income tax since he is entitled to a $300 minimum standard deduction over and above his $600 exemption.

But if he "earns" $900 or more during the year, he will have to file a federal income tax return.

★ ★ ★

(For Mary Feeley's leaflet on Basic Finance for Newlyweds, send 10 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to her in care of The Pontiac Press).

Help for the Chairman

If you are suddenly appointed to the post of chairman of the membership committee of your local club or organization, will you know your job?

Annually, thousands of men and women take on this important task, either voluntarily or through appointment, and find that they have much to learn in order to perform effectively.

A 24-page handbook for membership chairmen has been published by the Consumer Relations Department of The Sperry and Hutchinson Company. The handbook, outlining procedures which may be adaptable for virtually any type of social or professional organization, may be obtained by membership chairmen free-of-charge.

Written requests should be mailed to Consumer Relations, The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, 3003 East Kemper Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45241.

The Membership Handbook gives step-by-step instructions to help membership chairmen provide leadership in two ways: (1) To recruit desirable new members through effectively staged campaigns; (2) To stimulate active participation and cooperation on the part of existing members.

The Membership Handbook is one of three handbooks available to club leaders through the Cincinnati address. The other two are for publicity and fund-raising chairmen. The publicity handbook has had a distribution of 475,000 copies to date and the fund-raising 175,000.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It is true that folks need fewer calories from middle age on and even less food in the later years. However, this does not mean that older people do not need adequate amounts of nourishment.

In fact some older folks have been starved for the essentials of a good diet because it seemed too much trouble to prepare the necessary foods when a person was living alone.

* * *

The mature person needs a well-balanced diet just as everyone at every age does. He or she just needs fewer calories.

Like every good diet the older person's menus should include items from the four Basic food groups — group one: meat, fish, eggs, fowl, seafood; group two: bread, cereal, macaroni, cakes, etc.; group three: cottage cheese, milk, cheese, ice cream; group four; fruits and vegetables.

NEED FOODS

The older person needs some foods now more than in younger years. Proteins are important (group one) and two servings a day should be included. More fruits and vegetables are needed than most mature people eat. Menus should include two servings of each daily. Fruit juice can be counted as one of the servings of fruit. Two glasses of milk a day promote good nutrition. Smaller helpings and emphasis on the carbohydrates which build health rather than those extremely high in "empty" calories are indicated.

Few older folks drink enough water. They should have six glasses a day, including other liquids such as milk and fruit juice. Many in this age group find that five or even six small meals a day rather than three are more satisfactory.

* * *

Everyone needs some fat in the diet, but the middle-aged and older individual would probably be wise to cut down on the amount of fat eaten. They should substitute some of the vegetable fats for animal fats.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamins in the Diet" send a stamped, self-addressed envelop with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Jaycee Women in Whirlwind of Activities

Pre-holiday activities are keeping Waterford Jaycee Auxiliary members busy. First on the list is a luncheon and stage decorations for the Waterford Junior Miss Contest slated at Mason Junior High School Saturday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ted McCullough Jr. is chairman of this event with Norman Wood representing the Jaycees.

Mrs. Michael Powell and Mrs. Kenneth Wright are co-chairmen of the Christmas shopping tour for members' children. Gary Krieftedt of the Jaycees will be working with them.

* * *

Other plans include a children's party on Dec. 18 and a Christmas auction on Dec. 19.

Hefty hams or shallow pie tins can be accommodated with equal ease in either section of vertically arranged refrigerator-Freezer combination. Adjustable shelves—one in the freezer, three in the refrigerator—provide wide variety of convenient storage arrangements in Frigidaire unit shown. Uncovered foods can be stored safely without drying out in this new model.

Parents Reveal Her Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mullinix of LeGrande Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Jill Ann, to Cecil L. Powell, son of the Cecil Powells of Stanley Avenue.

A March wedding is being planned.

The Charles M. Petersons of East Newland Drive, West Bloomfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Ruth Anne, to Pvt. Winston Carroll Pfahlert, son of Mrs. William C. Pfahlert of Sylvan Village and the late Mr. Pfahlert. The bride-elect is a junior at University of Michigan. Her fiance who attended Ferris Institute and Oakland Community College is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Treat Pillows to Reworking

If your pillow ticking is loosely woven, treat it to keep the feathers from working through.

Do this by removing the feathers from the ticking, turn the ticking to the wrong side, and iron the surface with an iron that has been rubbed over a piece of wax.

Return the feathers to the ticking and you will have no more trouble losing feathers.

Recharges Bulb

A flashlight for purse or pocket can be recharged from any 120-volt AC outlet. It is four and one-half inches long and weighs only three and one-half ounces.

Olympics Challenging for Student Designers

Youth designing for youth!

That's the fashion challenge being put to our college student designers in a national competition to develop the fashions that America's leading athletes will wear in the 1968 Olympic Games.

The contest, sponsored by the United States Olympic Apparel Committee which is officially responsible for coordinating the outfitting of the U.S. Teams, aims at enlisting the nation's young design talent to help make the American Team the world's most fashionable.

"We hope to demonstrate American fashion know-how . . . and to discover designing excellence in our young college people in the same way that Olympic Teams are selected among amateurs gifted with athletic excellence," said John B. Russell, chairman of the Olympic Apparel Committee.

The competition, open to all students of apparel design at qualified colleges, universities and professional schools, will involve the design of men's and women's parade costumes for the X Winter Olympic Games to be held in Grenoble, France, in February '68 and the Games of the XIX Olympiad (The Summer Olympics), to be held in Mexico City in October '68.

Winning students and their schools will receive full credit for the designs chosen, which will be executed for the U.S. Team by leading American ready-to-wear makers. Students will also receive all-expense paid trips to the Olympic Games in which their designs are worn before the world.

Mr. Russell, who is vice president of Burlington Industries which is spearheading the textile-apparel industry voluntary work of the Olympic Apparel Committee, noted that final designs will be judged on how well each has met the challenges of the parade outfit requirements. One important challenge is the problem of creating a uniform style that is both attractive and adaptable to fit the wide variations in sizes and body types of athletes representing a cross section of young America. Female Olympians, for example, might range from a petite size five for a girl swimmer to a well-developed size 44 for one of our women discus throwers.

Novel Gift Idea

The man or boy who dreams of sleeping under the stars next summer ought to ask Santa for a new featherlight, waterproof blanket made of insulation materials originally developed for spacecraft.

It folds to fit into a jacket pocket.

The blanket has corner grommets for tying it in place on a boat or tent.

Cook in Variety

To keep your cooking from becoming boring, prepare at least one new dish each week. It will make your work far more enjoyable and you will receive praise from the members of your family.

Concert Tonight

Northern area instrumental concert will be performed tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of Kennedy Junior High School. The concert is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has approved a resolution opposing the establishment of labor unions for teachers, the National Education Association reports in its journal.

Sunday Chosen for Tradition

The annual "Hanging of the Greens" for the Pontiac YWCA on West Huron Street, originally planned for Monday evening, has been rescheduled for Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Adult members, Y-teens and their families will meet to decorate the YWCA building and share Christmas stories, carols and refreshments.

All area families are invited to join the festivities.

Full Schedule for Auxiliary

A combination dinner meeting and Christmas program was on the agenda recently for members of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary.

Some 18 members were present at the event which took place in the Waldron Hotel.

Teens Protest the World We Give Them

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

All this past year a youthful male neighbor of ours has been parading shoulder-length tresses in and out of our apartment elevator. Yesterday he visited the barber and had them cut off.

Noting his changed appearance, I cried, "Oh, Bill, how really handsome you look with your hair short!" I succeeded in conveying my admiration so sincerely that I was allowed in on the long-hair philosophy of the teen-aged American youth.

"We let our hair grow," Bill said, "because we don't like the world you grownups have made."

"We're not so madly in love with it either," I said. "The point is, why you people don't tell us how you feel about it. I mean, instead of growing long hair. Then we could discover we agree about the world and you could all get your hair cut."

"But you grownups don't agree, Bill said. "That's the problem. You want us to like it. You're at us all the time to think about what job we're going to do in it, how to make good in it and put up with all the bad things in it the way you do. That's why we grow our hair so long. It's a protest movement against adjustment to things we know are wrong."

So, if you're the parent of a long-tressed teen-age son who refuses to visit the barber shop, you may have to stop pretending that you think the world is wonderful in order to get him there.

* * *

Granting that Bill is right, this flowing tresses passion among our teen-aged sons seems to be just another one of those breakdowns in communication circuits between them and us.

Just as we can't afford to pose as personal paragons of virtue to adolescent children, we can't afford to insist that the society they're getting to know is flawless, either. For while we preach the necessity of their "making good" in it, its shortcomings are hitting their ingenuous souls with an impact those shortcomings have lost for us.

And our failures to appreciate what sociologists call the "cultural shocks" they are experiencing can produce, not merely shoulder - length tresses, straggly beards and aversion to showers and laundered chinos but far more serious forms of protest and resentment.

We're used to the broken promises of politicians. They are not. We have lived for many years with the American ardor for freedom that at the same time maintains the Negro in second-class citizenship. They have not. We are accustomed to pictures of war's brutalities in our newspapers but they are not.

As freshly feeling people, they seem to need a better sympathy with their disillusions than they are receiving from us.

Fight Started Decades of Bliss

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Shellito started with a cat-and-dog fight, but so far it has lasted nearly seven decades.

* * *

Celebrating their 69th wedding anniversary at the nursing home where they live, 91-year-old Shellito and his 87-year-old wife, Sara, recalled their wedding day in 1897.

The preacher's wife played the piano softly and the vows were just starting when, says Shellito: "right in the middle, pell-mell, came the preacher's dog after the cat." The wedding was temporarily suspended while the preacher separated the two animals.

Mrs. Ronald Miller of Union Lake, an English teacher at Pontiac Northern High School, has been chosen to appear in the 1966 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America." This is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 4,000 women between the ages of 21 and 36. Mrs. Miller was nominated by Epsilon Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Invention Closes the Dusty Trail

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — Once upon a time school children vied for the freedom from the classroom to take blackboard erasers outside to dust them.

Now, a gadget invented by Raymond Weil has made scientific the process of cleaning off the chalk dust. But no wonder Weil's inventiveness. As an employe of the physical plant of Kansas State University, he was responsible for cleaning 3,000 erasers each week.

Weil's invention vents chalk dust to the outside of the building. A 10-inch square wooden shaft six feet long and open at both ends is equipped with a nozzle attached to a compressed air pipe. The air stream blows out chalk dust particles which otherwise would turn Weil's clothing, hair, face and hands a ghostly white.

* * *

Weil now cleans erasers by the basket-full, in lots carried to his "office," in a congested storeroom beneath a stairway, where he has set up his cleaning equipment.

Announce Dates for Overture VI

The most elaborate and extensive opera education program ever undertaken by the Detroit Grand Opera Association, "Overture to Opera VI," has been announced as a forerunner to the 1967 visit of the Metropolitan Opera Company to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the program was made jointly by Mrs. William M. Walker Jr., general chairman of the 1967 Metropolitan Opera Season, Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, general co-chairman, and Dr. David DiChiera, assistant dean for continuing education in the arts at Oakland University.

Dr. DiChiera serves as chairman of the education committee of the Detroit Grand Opera Association as well as producer and musical director of "Overture."

THE PROGRAM

Included in "Overture" will be Act III, Scene 1, of "The Masked Ball" by Verdi; Act II, Scene 2, of "The Consul" by Menotti; and a complete one-act opera, "The Portuguese Inn", by Cherubini.

"The Masked Ball" will be the opening night attraction at Masonic Temple May 22, when the Metropolitan begins its week-long Detroit visit.

In addition to the operatic performances, commentary and interpretation will be offered by Dr. DiChiera or Donald M. Reid, his executive assistant in "Overture," at each presentation.

The cast of "Overture" will be the largest in the six-year history of the program and will be recruited from leading operatic voices in this section of the country.

The cast will consist of 19 singers and two understudies and will include several voices from past "Overtures," in the persons of Roma Riddell, Ernestine Nimmons, Faye Turner, Doralene Davis, Carolyn Grimes, and Edward Kingins.

Newcomers include Robert Taylor and Phillip Zaugg, both of whom were finalists in the Grinnell Scholarship auditions in 1966; Sue Young; Jane Purdy; Michael Bloom; Dan Jackson; Leslie Eitzen, Joseph Ryan; Kenneth Young; Pepple; Phylis Gaide; and Russell Skitch.

James Davis and Mack Perry are understudies.

PERFORMANCES

In all, 20 performances and a dress rehearsal will be offered in 16 different areas. Of these, nine are performances for student audiences, to be held during daytime hours in school auditoriums.

The remaining 12 performances will be open to the public. A minimal admission charge will be made for the public performances.

All Pontiac performances will be held at Pontiac Northern High School. Curtain time on March 2 is 10:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. March 3 performances will be held at 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Roger Shipley of Cleveland, Ohio; chairman of the Christmas sale of art works by Cranbrook Academy students, admires this oil by Catherine Kluge of East Princeton Avenue. The sale opens Friday at 8 p.m. Part of the proceeds will be used for student sponsored scholarships.

Arrest Watchers, Not Nudists

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) —Sheriff's deputies in San Mateo County who have refused to arrest nudists at San Gregorio beach recently arrested 19 persons all fully clothed.

The 19, ranging in age from 18 to 58, were arrested on charges of trespassing as they stood on a bluff overlooking the beach.

Property owners in the area had complained of cut fences and trampled vegetation caused by the 'peeping Toms.'

Polly's Pointers

Easy Reflectors

DEAR POLLY—The prettiest reflectors we have ever had for our Christmas tree were very simply and inexpensively made at home. We cut the ends from some tin cans, made a hole with an ice pick in each and then let these can ends dangle on strings behind our light bulbs.

This idea can be adapted to decorations either indoors or out. When there is a slight breeze, they make reflections similar to twinkling stars. — WILDA

DEAR POLLY — Several of my old and cherished Christmas tree ornaments had broken necks and the loops of the hangers could not be inserted as the holes were too large to hold the prongs.

I made bags of nylon net, inserted an ornament in each bag, drew the net closed at the top and inserted the hangers in the net. This also gives the ornaments an old-fashioned look.—DORIS

DEAR POLLY — This is my problem. Is there an easy way to put a whole new pocket in a man's trousers?—MRS. L.W.W.

DEAR POLLY — During past recovery periods in the hospital, I found myself digging endlessly through drawers stuffed with get-well cards, facial tissues and the usual clutter from my purse as I tried to find a pen or stamp.

* * *

Recently I made a catch-all doll from a detergent bottle and the idea occurred to me that such dolls would make delightful gifts for sick friends.

I used the detergent bottle as the body for the doll and replaced the cap with a small styrofoam ball for the head.

I dressed her in an apron with straps over the shoulders, ties at the back and large pockets encircling the skirt. Since I used the pockets to hold sewing needs, I added a ruffled hat with a pincushion inside. Outfits can vary as much as your imagination allows. Sequins can make the mouth and eyes.

These dolls will hold and display anything from cosmetics to crayons and are adorable anywhere. By adding a slit in the back, a child's catch-all can also be a savings bank.—SHERRILL

Someone's Attic Has Forgotten Art Treasure

ORANGEBURG, N. Y. (UPI) — The Historical Society of Rockland County (N. Y.) is trying to trace an historical painting and thinks someone in the United States probably knows where it is.

The canvas is entitled "Interview Between Andre and Arnold," was painted by Junius B. Stearns and was last exhibited in 1849.

Small in size—only 26 inches by 20 — it depicts the meeting between British spy Major Andre and Revolutionary War traitor Maj. Gen. Benedict Arnold at a house in what is now West Haverstraw, N. Y.

"Its historical significance, particularly to Rockland County, is tremendous," says society president John R. Zehner who is directing the search.

Inquiries through most normal art information channels already have been made without success, Zehner said.

The painting is not to be confused with another Stearns' work, titled "Trial of Major Andre." This is in a private collection.

Zehner asks that anyone having any information about the "Interview" painting contact him or the society as soon as possible. It is the society's hope, he said, to acquire it either through purchase or donation.

For any sharp-eyed readers: the society's address is Kings Highway, Orangeburg, N. Y. 10962.

Burn Therapy Outlined During LPN Visiting Day

ANN ARBOR — Licensed practical nurses throughout southeastern Michigan will receive first-hand reports on care of the burned patient and radiation therapy treatment during L.P.N. Visiting Day at The University of Michigan Medical Center, Saturday.

Doctors and nurses from University Hospital will present a morning session on radiation therapy and the nursing care of patients.

In the afternoon, staff members of the U-M burn unit will describe their experiences on nursing and medical care of the burned patient.

LUNCHEON, TOUR

Hospitality during the day will include a luncheon and tours of radiation therapy and physical medicine units, and an equipment exhibit of circoelectric beds, cardiac monitors and other specialized patient care equipment.

* * *

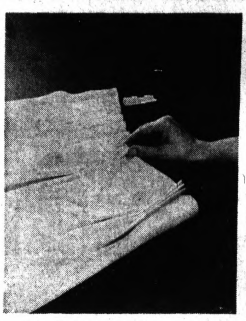
Attendance will be limited to 250 licensed practical nurses and students.

* * *

Although there is no registration fee, advance reservations are necessary and are being handled by the Nurse Visiting Day office at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Apples Will Absorb

Apples absorb odors. Store them away from potatoes and onions.



Graber's new "Perfect Pleat" pleating tape eliminates the measuring, spacing, and forming for professional-looking pinch pleats. With "Perfect Pleat," the drapery heading is simply folded along the pre-creased pleating tape and the folds are held firmly in place by snap-in metal clips. Tape is sold by the yard in department stores and drapery specialty shops, also in kit form.

Party Fabric for Children

Velveteen is the most popular fabric for toddlers' dress-up occasions this season — and party treats are no hazard to this regal-looking, yet sturdily washable pile fabric.

* * *

It is best to wash pint-size velveteens by hand, and to keep deep colors separate from other clothes.

* * *

Use warm soap or detergent suds and rinses, and allow to drip-dry without wringing. Then use a steam iron or a dry iron over a damp press cloth for touch-ups. Hold the iron just above but never touching the fabric, as the steam alone will coax the pile to stand up.

Toys Tell a Nation's Real Story

PRINCETON, N.J. — A nation's drive and inventiveness could be effected by the type of toys its children play within their early years, contends Frank Caplan, vice president and general manager of Creative Playthings Inc., noted educational toy company.

"Would someone like to research this intriguing idea?" he asks in the company's new free Fall catalogue released today.

"The life-size preschool toys of Denmark and the United States give their children a manageable toy world which they can direct and experiment with. Can this be the reason for these nations' creativity and driving spirit? Do the miniature toys of German kindergartens build up feelings of world mastery?

* * *

"The hand-crafted toys of Mexico are for adoring on shelves, not for creating or directing. Does this build insecurity feelings? In Russia, early childhood play and play materials are coming of age and so is a resurgence of drive and inventiveness.

"In most deprived nations," he continued, "there are no toys. The absence of good toys in Indian or Arabic cultures has given their children poor self-images and a hesitancy about affecting their environment. India is taking seriously the idea of a massive early childhood education program. In Israel, the introduction of play and nursery education of Yemenite children has brought about greater drive and academic achievement among a heretofore depressed sector of the population.

* * *

"Perhaps our government should include toys in the foreign aid program to encourage creativity, drive and will power among deprived people of underdeveloped nations."

Mr. Caplan feels that if we can "keep play and the desire to learn alive throughout childhood and adulthood, we can release a force more powerful for good than any physical force that scientists have yet discovered."

Spartans' Jones, Smith, Webster Named

MSU, Irish Each Gain 3 Berths on AP All-America

NEW YORK (AP) —Notre Dame, the national champion, and Michigan State, the runner-up, each placed three men on the Associated Press All-America football team announced today.

They are Tom Regner, offensive guard, Nick Eddy, offensive back, and Jim Lynch, linebacker, from Notre Dame; and Clint Jones, offensive back, Bubba Smith, defensive end, and George Webster, defensive back from Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

Steve Spurrier of Florida, the Heisman Award winner, heads up the offensive backfield as quarterback and Mel Farr, UCLA, rounds it out.

BOARD ELECTS

The team was based on recommendations of the AP football board of sports writers and sportscasters, who also voted weekly on the Top Ten teams.

The 1966 team is a mammoth one, with Smith at 268 the largest, but it also includes Frank Loria of Virginia Tech, 175-pound junior defensive back.

Next smallest is Ray Perkins, Alabama's 184-pound offensive end. Alabama placed a second man on the team in the person of Cecil Dowdy, offensive tackle. Nebraska also had two on the first team: LaVerne Allers, offensive guard, and Wayne Meylan, defensive middle guard.

★ ★ ★

Webster, termed by Coach Duffy Daugherty "the finest defensive player we've ever had," is one of three repeaters from 1965 on the first team, the others being Loyd Phillips of Arkansas and George Patton of Georgia, defensive tackles.

Spurrier, widely sought after in professional football because of his size — 6-foot-2 and 208 pounds — and skill, completed 179 out of 291 passes for 2,012 yards and 16 touchdowns and an average of 61.5 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The Florida coach, Ray Graves, declared he "is not only the best quarterback I ever coached, he's the best I've ever seen."

★ ★ ★

Eddy, at 195 the smallest member of the offensive backfield, had an amazing average of 7.1 yards a carry, but his total of 553 reflected the fact he lost some playing time due to injuries and was taken out of games when Notre Dame built a commanding lead.

USED AS BLOCKER

Farr gained 809 yards during the season for an average of 5.9, Jones 784 for a 4.3 average. In Michigan State's 10-10 tie with Notre Dame, Jones was used principally as a blocker.

Webster drew unusual praise not only from his own coach but from opponents. Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame pointed to his "unusual height" — 6-4 and 218 pounds—and said this "with his speed enables him to drop back and cover on passes."

★ ★ ★

Daugherty declared "Alex Agase of Northwestern told me they called all their plays at the line of scrimmage after they saw where Webster was playing, and tried to run away from him. But Alex said he still was the greatest defensive player he's seen."

SPORTS

W-O Scorers in Duel

Clarkston Five Entertains Hills in Loop Outing

Wolves' Dan Fife, Barons' Bruce Hall in Cage Spotlight

The high scoring players will be in the spotlight tomorrow night when Bloomfield Hills plays an important Wayne-Oakland League basketball game at Clarkston.

Dan Fife, Clarkston's top scorer, has poured in 32 and 34 points in his two outings. Bloomfield's 6-6 center, Bruce Hall, has 16 and 39 to his credit.

★ ★ ★

Both teams are unbeaten for the two games and are 1-0 in league play.

West Bloomfield goes to Holly, Northville is at Milford and Brighton plays at Clarenceville.

Clarkston is favored in the W-0 race because defending co-champions Hills and Northville were hit by graduation. But the Wolves have shown a couple of old weaknesses while the Barons are indicating a strong desire to stay champion.

Although four starters return, including some good shooters other than Fife, the Wolves still seem inclined to rely a little too much on plays designed to get the ball to the talented 6-2 senior.

Last season the Wolves did this and when Fife was stopped or had a rare off night, Clarkston was in deep trouble. The same could hold true this season.

GOOD TEST

Defense is another area in which the Wolves could improve. And Hall should prove to be a good test. The tall senior has displayed good moves around the pivot in wins over Oak Park and Milford.

West Bloomfield and Holly are building. But the Broncos appear to have a little more scoring punch. Greg Averyhardt hasn't found the range yet. When he does, it will take some of the pressure off Mike Beelby.

Milford stayed close to Hills and Waterford before bowing late and could hand Northville a major setback in its quest for another championship.

Northville has been impressive while taking the measure of South Lyon and Clarenceville, but the Mustangs are banking heavily on newcomers and this could be a liability early in league play.

Central Hits Road for Loop Encounter

Pontiac Central will have one thing in common with its Saginaw Valley Conference basketball foe when the Chiefs go on the road for the first time tomorrow night.

Both PCH and Bay City Central are working toward steadier team efforts.

★ ★ ★

Although they won their first two games at home, the Chiefs were guilty of erratic play. This can be attributed to all but two members of the team having been moved up from the junior varsity.

As the season progresses the Chiefs should become smoother. One thing they do have in their favor is hustle.

Bay City Central is in the process of rebuilding. The Wolves are 1-2 after losing a nonleague game to Arthur Hill, 67-61, Tuesday night. Dry spells have been the big problem.

In the loss to Saginaw last Friday, the Wolves went 8½ minutes in one stretch without scoring. There have been several shorter durations without points.

EIGHT PLAYERS

Top scorer for BCC in the first three games has been 5-11 forward Richard Glish. He is averaging 10.4 per tilt. No others are in double figures as coach Bob Meeth has been utilizing eight players in an attempt to come up with a set starting quintet.

Tom Mehnert (6-3) and Jack Gruber (5-9), two veteran holdovers who started against Arthur Hill, may not be in the lineup when BCC and Chiefs tipoff around 8 p.m.

Meeth has indicated that he may call on Tom Huiskins (6-2) and Dave Maxim (5-10). Harry Cowan (6-2) and Kennon Murphy (6-0) are expected to be the other starters.

Mike Smith (6-2), who was expected to be a leading scorer, hasn't scored in the last two games after hitting 14 in the opening win over Fenton.

Lettermen Prentice Hill and Alton Wilson have been carrying the scoring load for PCH although Walter Causey and Gordon Hamilton have shown they are capable of reaching double figures.

★ ★ ★

Hill, a senior, has dropped in 43 points for a 21.5 average. Wilson is hitting at a 15.5 clip.

The Chiefs are rated slight underdogs because BCC has the home court advantage.

No one has to remind the PCH players that the Chiefs lost by a point at Bay City Central last season and it cost the outright Saginaw Valley Conference basketball championship.

Detroit Titans Nip ND, 74-73

SOUTH BEND, Ind (AP)—Unbeaten Detroit, trailing until the last minute and 15 seconds, edged Notre Dame 74-73 in college basketball Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Larry Salci scored the winning basket with seven seconds to play after Detroit rallied from a 71-64 deficit by scoring eight straight points to take its first lead, 72-71.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Brisker, who paced Detroit with 21 points, scored the go-ahead goal. Salci finished with 18 points for the Titans.

Notre Dame, ahead 44-33 at the half, scored four more goals than Detroit, 32 of 64 for 49 per cent to 28 of 71 for 39 per cent. But it trailed 18-9 at the free throw line. Both teams had 23 attempts.

Bob Whitmore of the Irish tied Brisker for scoring honors.

Detroit won its third straight game. Notre Dame is 1-2.

Keglers Get Last Chance in City Open

Time is running out and a big pot of Christmas money is at hand for area bowlers.

★ ★ ★

Sunday is the final chance for qualifying in the Pontiac Open Bowling Tournament and all four sites will have squads throughout the day.

★ ★ ★

Qualifying will start at 9:00 a.m. at Huron Bowl and at 10:00 a.m. at Airway, 300 Bowl and Cooley Lanes.

Bowlers will be shooting for the target qualifying score of 600 and the advantage of bowling early is that if they fail to make it they will have the opportunity to try again.

A total of 182 have already qualified in the first two Sundays and it appears more than 300 will go into the Pontiac Open semifinals Sunday morning, December 18th at Huron Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Bowlers should try to get their entries in tonight. However, if openings are available on given squads, bowlers can fill those spots by checking with the establishments.

★ ★ ★

The prize list starts with $800 for first place, $500 for runnerup, followed by $300, $200, $150 and a continued breakdown until at least 12½ per cent of the bowlers share the prize fund.

Vikings Battle Lions

Detroit in Cellar Tilt

DETROIT (AP) — Two troubled National Football League clubs meet here Sunday, with both Detroit and Minnesota trying to stay out of the cellar.

The Lions are 4-8-1 and lead only the Vikings, 3-8-1, in the Western Division of the NFL.

This is the Lions' last game, because they drew a bye for the last weekend. Minnesota has one more to play.

The first game between the two teams saw Detroit come from behind for a 32-31 victory. Diminutive Garo Yepremian kicked six field goals for an NFL record.

BIG EFFORT

That game saw Mike Lucci intercept three Viking passes and run one back for a touchdown. He made Defensive Player of the Week for his tremendous effort at middle linebacker.

Pat Studstill caught nine passes that day but needs an even more fantastic game Sunday to break Elroy Hirsch's record for total yardage. The flanker has caught 67 passes for 1,266 yards and needs 230 more yards to break the NFL record. He already holds both the club records.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota Coach Norm Van Brocklin has indicated that he'll return to using Fran Tarkenton at quarterback. Second-year quarterback Bob Berry played against Atlanta last week and lost.

★ ★ ★

Both teams have been troubled by mistakes and both have extensive injury lists.

Karl Sweetan, the Lion quarterback, got his chance when Milt Plum was injured against Baltimore Oct. 16 and since has shown himself a competent man at the helm.

★ ★ ★

"He has convinced me," said Sammy Baugh, Lion assistant coach. "I felt for a while that as a rookie he was too good to be real. But he's got it. He'll be around the league a long time."

If the Lions, win, they keep the Vikings in the Western cellar. It could enable the Lions to finish ahead of Chicago if the Bears lose their last two games.

Japan Favored in Asia Games

BANGKOK (UPI) — Amidst protests over asphalt tracks, snubbed teams and sub-par tennis courts, the fifth Asian Games get underway Friday with nore than 2,200 athletes from 16 countries competing.

Japan is favored to win the Games, with Korea, China and Malaysia expected to battle it out for the runner-up spot.

★ ★ ★

Other countries fielding teams are Thailland, Afghanistan, Burma, Ceylon, Iran, Israel, Pakistan, the Phillippines, Nepal, India, Indonesia and South Viet Nam. Teams from Singapore and Hong Kong will also compete in the games.

Kenji Kimihara and Morio Shigematsu, Japan's hopes for a one-two win of the medals in the marathon race, appeared exhausted after running about a third of the course Wednesday.

Phillies Deal Culp to Cubs for Ellsworth

CHICAGO (AP) — They call southpaw Dick Ellsworth the unlucky pitcher, a tag that may vanish when he changes from a Chicago Cubs to a Philadelphia Phillies' baseball uniform next season.

★ ★ ★

The Cubs traded their one-time $50,000 bonus baby from Fresno, Calif., to the Phils Wednesday for right - hander Ray Culp and a substantial sum of cash.

In seven seasons with the Cubs, the tall, stoop-shouldered Ellsworth was often left dangling because of errors or shabby hitting. He seemed always to be scratching to win with very few, if any, runs.

★ ★ ★

His record was 84-110, the high-point being when he was 22-10 in 1963 to become the first lefty to win 20 games for the Cubs since Hippo Vaughn in 1920.

Culp was 7-4 last season and had a winning record in each of his four campaigns with the Phils. He was voted Rookie-of-the-Year in 1963 after a 14-11 showing.

Maroon Trio Becomes Gray

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Mississippi State's fast little flankerback, Marcus Rhoden, and two teammates were added today to the South squad for the annual Blue-Gray football game Dec. 24.

★ ★ ★

In the Gray line-up with Rhoden will be fellow Maroons Harland Reed and George (Bubba) Hampton. Reed is a 6 foot 2½ tight end weighing in at 216 pounds. Hampton is a 6-1, 220-pound guard.

Rhoden led the nation in kick-off returns this year and set a new Southeastern Conference record by picking up 572 yards on 26 runbacks.

Upset by Bowling Green

'M' Five Skids on Road

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—An old sports adage says that a sign of a great team is its ability to win on the road.

It's holding true in reverse for Michigan's faltering basketball squad. Michigan has only one victory—an upset at home against fifth-ranked Houston—to go with three road defeats this season.

Last spring, with All-America Cazzie Russell, John Clawson and Oliver Darden in the lineup, Michigan gained the Big Ten title and a national ranking.

Bowling Green, trounced by Michigan 108-70 last year, came back Wednesday night to whip the Wolverines 90-83. The Falcons overcame an 11-point deficit in winning the game, a thriller down to the wire.

Big Walt Piatkowski canned 16 of 29 field goal efforts and added a free throw for 33 points to pace the Falcons to their third straight success of the young season.

Craig Dill, Michigan's 6-foot-10 center, bucketed 25 points and pulled down 19 rebounds. Teammate Dennis Stewart added 20 while Bowling Green's Rich Hendrix also scored 20.

Michigan bolted out to a 36-25 lead in the first half and held a 53-44 advantage at intermission.

Tigers Playing 29 Spring Tilts

Detroiters Will Play All Games in Florida

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers will confine their spring exhibition games to Florida next year for the first time since 1962.

Jim Campbell, executive vice president and general manager, announced the 29-game exhibition baseball schedule Wednesday.

The Tigers, who finished third in the American League last season, will play 15 of the games at Lakeland, their training base since 1934.

The other games will be at Orlando, Bradenton, Winter Haven, West Palm Beach, St. Petersburg, Cocoa, Sarasota, Fort Lauderdale, Pompano Beach, Clearwater and Tampa.

The exhibition schedule begins March 10 and runs through April 9.

Bonus Money Spurs Rangers

Those pretty young things whose husbands play hockey for the New York Rangers are wearing happy grins as the holiday season approaches.

New York's lofty standing in the National Hockey League race, enhanced Wednesday night by a 4-2 victory over the Boston Bruins, is part of the reason for the joy. And then there's that little matter of bonus.

"Just two points to go for the Bonus," Gilbert said after his two goals helped erase an early Boston lead and lifted the Rangers into a tie for second place with idle Chicago.

In the only other NHL game played Henri Richard scored the 250th goal of his career as Montreal downed first place Toronto 6-3.

New York, Gilbert told newsmen, has an incentive bonus for the team. If the club has 26 points after 25 games, there will be a little extra in the pay envelope. With 24 points in 22 games, the Rangers look ready to collect.

* * *

Richard, playing his 12th NHL season, scored his seventh goal and No. 250 midway through the first period against Toronto. It triggered a three-goal Montreal spurt that started the Canadiens to their biggest scoring night of the year.

Claude Larose scored twice and Bobby Rousseau, Yvan Cournoyer and Jean Beliveau scored the other Montreal goals. Jim Pappin, Tim Horton and George Armstrong hit for the Maple Leafs, who lost only their second game in the last nine and their first this season to Montreal.

Negro Gridiron Star Says He's Remaining at SMU

DALLAS (AP) —Jerry Levias, first Negro to get an athletic scholarship in the Southwest Conference, says he anticipates finishing his athletics and education at SMU despite reports that racial slurs are causing him to consider withdrawing.

The 20-year-old Beaumont, Tex., player who was the conference's sensation with his performance at SMU as a sophomore this season, declared, "I have no plans for leaving Southern Methodist but my father has been concerned and I will talk to him about it.

"I think I can convince him that I should continue at Southern Methodist."

Levias has been subjected to letters and telephone calls and, according to his coach, Hayden Fry, players on two opposing teams sent racial barbs his way.

Also, it was reported that special police were on hand Nov. 26 at Fort Worth, during the SMU-Texas Christian game, because of the threat of bodily harm.

Fry said the boy had told him he didn't know if it was worth it —going through such an experience — but that Levias never had said he was going to quit.

Dryden Quintet Evens Record

Dryden squared its basketball record at 1-1 by downing Richmond St. Augustine, 53-41, last night in a make-up contest.

The Cardinals held slim leads through the first half, but were tied by St. Augustine midway through the third period.

Dryden opened a five - point spread by the quarter's end and pulled away in the last session. Richmond star Mike Fix led the scoring with 25 points.

He and Dryden's John Malinich (18 points) also dueled for control of the backboards. The host Cardinals missed 22 free throws but had a 21-16 field goal advantage.

Red Wing Farm Clubs Engaging in 3-Way Swap

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League announced Wednesday they are exchanging three players with two other Detroit Red Wing farm clubs.

The Hornets said goalie Joe Daley, defenseman Bart Crashley and forward Craig Cameron will go to Memphis of the Central League. Crashley has scored three goals and has been credited with two assists in 15 games.

In return, the Hornets will receive goalie George Gardner and forward Gary Marsh from Memphis and defenseman Jim Eagle from San Diego of the Western League.

State Golf Pro in Tourney Win

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Glenn Stuart, club professional at Cascade Hills, Grand Rapids, Mich., fired a 36-hole total of 138 Wednesday to take individual honors in the 14th Goodwill Golf Tournament. The Cascade Hills team finished third, three strokes off the winning pace set by both the defending champion St. Louis Country Club and Olympic Country Club of San Francisco.

Retains Position

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The National Baseball Congress has announced reappointment of Robert Sullivan, Grand Rapids, as the 1967 Michigan commissioner of nonprofessional baseball. The 32nd annual Michigan State Tournament tentatively is scheduled at Grand Rapids starting Aug. 3.

Nicklaus, Palmer Lead Pro Golf Team Tourney

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—The dynamic duo of pro golf, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, take a one-stroke lead into the second round of the richest-ever $275,000 PGA team championship today.

* * *

Proving again that the best cure for a bogey is a birdie, the Nicklaus-Palmer team carded a best-ball 63 Wednesday on the "monster" 6,896 - yard east course of the PGA national golf club.

* * *

They bogeyed the 380-yard fourth hole in rain Wednesday but came back with 10 birdies between them to grab the lead in a field of 120 teams aiming at the $50,000 winner's purse. After tomorrow's round, only the top 60 teams will remain in contention.

ONE STROKE BACK

One stroke back at 64 were the partnerships of Jay and Lionel Hebert, Bert Weaver and Wes Ellis, Chris Blocker and Howie Johnson, Tom Shaw and Joe Carr.

Seven teams were tied at 65 after the opening round and 15 were three strokes off the pace with 66.

For Palmer and Nicklaus, who finished seventh in the inaugural of the 72-hole tournament last year, it was the best round they had ever fired as a team and just one stroke off the course record.

* * *

"We teamed well," said Palmer, who took note of the wet weather by proclaiming his 12-foot putt on the 13th hole "a duckie" instead of a birdie.

The Heberts, who teamed last year and placed second, carded their best round to date in the championships. Playing the 6,418-yard west course, the brothers collected nine birdies including a 25-footer each.

Eastern Group Raps Grid Rule

Asks NCAA to Return to Limited Substitution

NEW YORK (AP)—College football's unlimited substitution rule is under fire again.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association voted at its annual meeting to ask the NCAA rules committee to readopt limited substitution rules, outlawing the two-platoon system.

The motion was introduced by Frank Carver of Pittsburgh and 19 eastern schools favored it with 13 opposed. Syracuse, Penn State, Boston College, Boston University, Buffalo, Villanova and Yale were among the larger colleges favoring return to limited substitution rules.

Colgate and Dartmouth were reported opposed to the change.

Northern Visits Farmington

I-L Loop Favorites in Early Showdown

The first night of basketball action in the Inter-Lakes League could very well decide the championship.

Pontiac Northern goes to Farmington tomorrow night and the winner will take a giant stride toward the throne room. These two teams are rated well above the others in the five-school circuit.

* * *

Walled Lake plays at Livonia Stevenson in the other league game. Waterford also is on the road for a nonleague engagement at Mount Clemens.

But the spotlight will be on Farmington where the Falcons open defense of the championship they took away from PNH last season.

A 44-43 loser to Livonia Bentley in its first game, the Falcons were more impressive while downing North Farmington and will be favored. PNH has taken the measure of two nonleague foes, but the Huskies always have trouble on the Farmington court.

* * *

The outcome probably will be determined by the rebounding. Both teams have tall, husky front liners.

Northern probably will start Don Hayward (6-3), Dana Coin (6-2) and Bob Travlor (6-3).

Farmington is expected to counter with Mike Ames (6-4), Mike Thompson (6-3) and Greg Dorow (6-1).

TOP SCORER

Guard Jack Brown has been the top scorer for PNH. The senior sharpshooter has pumped in 27 and 21 points in the victories over Flint Southwestern and Highland.

This will be Northern's first game away from home.

Waterford's small team will find the going much more difficult at Mount Clemens. Although the Bathers haven't set the basketball world on fire this season they are expected to take the measure of the Skippers.

Milford used a pressing defense effectively against Waterford for three quarters and Mount Clemens probably will waste little time seeing if the Skippers are still vulnerable.

Waterford finally broke the press in the fourth quarter and went on to down the Redskins.

Karl Arrington is expected to be one of the leading scorers for Waterford and the 24 he hit in the opener seems to back up this prediction.

Stevenson will be making its basketball debut in the Inter-Lakes League. And this could well be Walled Lake's best chance for an early victory.

* * *

However, if the Vikings lose, this could turn out to be an even longer season than the last one when they posted a 2-16 mark. Stevenson will be using mostly juniors.

Chippewa Five Registers 2nd

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Undefeated Central Michigan jumped to a quick 4-0 lead and went on to wallop Ferris State 86-43 Tuesday night in a nonconference basketball game.

* * *

Steve Johnson topped the Chippewa attack with 12 points. Teammate Greg Vossekuil added 11.

* * *

Major O-A Tests Face Rochester, Avondale 5s

There is no better way of finding out if a team is going to be a championship contender than to send it against a top - rated quintet early in the season.

Rochester and Avondale are being placed in this situation tomorrow night. Both have title aspirations but standing in the way are Warren Fitzgerald and Cousino, the Oakland A favorites.

Rochester will play at Fitzgerald and Avondale will be home against Cousino. Clawson will journey to Lake Orion and Madison will visit Troy in the other O-A encounters.

Two games are scheduled in the Tri-County League.

Oxford, its title hopes buoyed by an upset of Avondale will open league play at Romeo. Lapeer will travel to L'Anse Creuse. Kettering is not scheduled this week.

Fitzgerald has rolled over Hazel Park and Clawson with ease and is expected to hand Rochester its first league setback against one win. The Falcons are 1-1 overall.

Rochester's 1-2 scoring punch of Don Golding and Jim Burton will need help if the Falcons are to upset the powerful Spartans.

Cousino has brushed aside three straight foes on the way to its meeting with Avondale. The Yellow Jackets are faced with the almost insurmountable task of trying to stop Cousino's Paul and Bob Papak.

Avon, however, looked much improved while handily downing Lake Orion Tuesday and will have the advantage of playing on its small court.

Clawson has lost two straight since beating Lamphere in its opener, but is favored to even its record against Orion.

Oxford apparently has found some scoring and rebounding help for Roger Miller and this spells bad news for any Wildcat opponent. However, Romeo may be better than its 0-2 record shows.

Failure to make the many easy shots that have presented themselves has hurt the Bulldogs. One of these games, the shots may start dropping.

Mat Coaches Go Searching for Small Fry

You can't blame Waterford wrestling coaches Dave Daniels (Township High School) or Doug Spicer (Kettering) if they're seen scouring the physical education classes for a diminutive boy.

Neither school has dressed a varsity wrestling prospect able to make the 95-pound class limit. It's hurt the Skippers already and Kettering could suffer if the situation isn't remedied.

WTHS had to forfeit the five points to Madison in the 95-pound event Tuesday night and the Eagles won the match, 25-20. In their opener, both Utica and Township were missing an entrant at 95 and the Chieftains won the match by one point.

If the Skippers could've suited up any boy under the limit they would have earned the five forfeit points and the match victory.

The Captains' opening match victory was over Utica by eight points with both teams forefeiting the little event. It could pay both Spicer and Daniels to find a 95-pound student manager who could be suited up for an appearance at such moments.

PNH Tank Team Posts 2nd Victory

Pontiac Northern won its second dual swim meet of the season with little competition from the new Livonia Stevenson, 65-39 in the Livonia pool last night.

The Huskies used a variety of swimmers and received double wins from Dave Pennybacker.

Stevenson took the diving and final 200 freestyle relay events.

Highlander '5' Works Overtime for Conquest

Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College rolled to its third straight victory last night, downing Detroit Business College's junior varsity, 105-103, in overtime.

* * *

The two wound up tied at 98 in regulation play and OCC pushed in seven points in overtime to take the decision. The triumph evened Highland Lakes' record at 3-3.

* * *

Ed Pruitt and Willie Craft flipped in 25 points apiece to spark the winners. John Olander picked up 22 and Bob Adsit added 13. Roger Mormon took scoring honors with 40 points for the losers.

Ohio U. Nips Indiana

College Upsets in Cage Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maryland, Southern Illinois, Ohio University, Wyoming, Georgia and Bowling Green grabbed the headlines in college basketball Wednesday night with unexpected victories.

★ ★

Maryland beat North Carolina State 54-38, Southern Illinois whipped St. Louis 69-59, Ohio U. edged Indiana 91-90 in overtime, Wyoming upset Nebraska 102-98, Georgia downed Georgia Tech 89-87 and Bowling Green humbled Michigan 90-83.

These surprises overshadowed New Mexico's 77-59 conquest of Los Angeles Loyola, Arkansas' 51-46 victory over Oklahoma State and Detroit's 74-73 squeaker over Notre Dame.

★

Maryland came from behind with a 10-point spree to go ahead 37-34 in the second half in its victory over the Wolfpack at Raleigh. N.C. State went scoreless from the field for the last 10 minutes, 45 seconds. Jay McMillan led the Terps with 14 points in the low scoring game.

SURPRISE ST. LOUIS

Southern Illinois, one of the country's top minor teams, whipped the Billikens at St. Louis behind 18 points by Dick Garrett and 14 by Walt Frazier. John Schroeder's 10-foot hook shot with one second left in the overtime gave Ohio U. its victory over Indiana at Bloomington.

★ ★ ★

Sixth-ranked New Mexico, the only team in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action, rolled up a 61-34 lead to rout Loyola at Albuquerque. Mel Daniels, with 22, and Ben Monroe, with 18, combined for 40 points for the Lobs.

★ ★ ★

In other games LaSalle defeated the Miami Hurricanes 99-82 at Philadelphia, Providence whipped Brown 76-62 on the Friars' home court, Fordham beat Yale 80-70 at New York and Boston College trimmed Fairfield 93-76 at New Haven.

Southern Mississippi upset Alabama 77-65 and Mississippi State beat Texas A&M 62-49 in the first round of the Hattiesburg, Miss. invitational tourney.

Bradley defeated Murray 108-85 at Peoria, Oregon drubbed Idaho State 107-68 at Eugene, West Virginia routed Virginia Military 99-75 at Morgantown and Florida beat Florida State 50-30 in a ball control game at Gainesville.

Soccer Loop Set to Open Play in April

CHICAGO (AP) —The new National Professional Soccer League has announced it is ready to open a 34-match schedule for each of its 10 teams in April 16 and has a 10-year, multi-million dollar television agreement with the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS).

Directors and alternate directors of the league met in Chicago Wednesday. President Robert S. Hermann of St. Louis said the exact amount of the TV contract would be announced by CBS prior to the season opening.

He said that divisional playoffs and the championship game will all be televised nationally and will be held after a 19-week season ending Sept. 3. During the regular season, CBS will televise a Game of the Week each Sunday.

Th NPSL will open a year ahead of the North American Soccer League, which claims sole sanction of the United States and International Federation Soccer Associations.

The league includes Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago and Toronto in the Western Division and Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New York, Atlanta and Baltimore in the Eastern Division.

Amigo's Club in Cage Win

The Amigo's Club National League entry ripped 97 points through the hoop in smashing the Unbeatables, 97-42, last night in city men's recreation basketball.

Emmett Elliot dumped in 31 markers and Danny Thomas had 20 as five of the winners hit twin figures. Archie Phillips scored 17 for the Unbeatables. The halftime score was 48-19.

In an International League opener, Country Chef built an early lead and held off Lee's Lawn & Garden Center, 66-54. Jim Hudson's 15 points led all the scorers.

Country Chef outscored Lee's in each of the first three periods for a 51-33 advantage.

Mohawk Skaters Slump in IHL

By the Associated Press

The Muskegon Mohawks, once the scourge of the International Hockey League, have fallen to fifth place.

The Mohawks were beaten 5-4 in sudden death overtime by Fort Wayne Wednesday night, breaking a tie for fourth place.

In the only other IHL game, Des Moines whipped Dayton 4-2.

PERMIT ME, COACH — An obviously happy Tom Beier, defensive back at University of Miami, holds the light for coach Charlie Tate's cigar as the coach relaxes in his office in Miami, Fla. Beier, former University of Detroit player who went to Miami when U. of D. dropped football, was named to the Associated Press All America team yesterday.

Knicks Nip Pistons in Wild NBA Clash

DETROIT (AP) — New York Coach Dick McGuire was fined $25 and his best ballplayer, Willis Reed, suffered a seven-seven-stitch head gash, but the Knicks had enough left to whip Detroit 118-116 Wednesday night.

The loss was the second in a row for Detroit and ended the Knicks three-game losing streak.

In other National Basketball Association games, Boston whipped Cincinnati 119-91, Baltimore upended San Francisco 116-106, Philadelphia topped Chicago 117-103, and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 130-128 in overtime.

Reed hit a short jump shot in the final 34 seconds and Walt Bellamy followed with a pair of free throws to provide the Knicks with their margin of victory.

★ ★ ★

The wild contest was marred by a fist fight between Detroit's Ray Scott and New York's Dave Stallworth. Scott was ejected from the game for threatening referee Earl Strom.

★ ★ ★

Reed, who was injured in the first half, returned to the game and ended up with 23 points.

McGuire was called for a technical foul, protesting an official's decision too strenuously, an automatic $25 fine under NBA rules.

Dick Barnett and Bellamy each netted 26 points for New York. Eddie Miles topped Detroit with 26 points. Dave Bing had 24.

John Havlicek came off the bench to spark Boston's victory over the Royals. He scored 32 points in the relief role and ignited a third period rally which put the Celtics ahead to stay. Oscar Robertson scored 22 for Cincinnati.

The Bullets outscored San San Francisco 12-2 early in the fourth quarter in new coach Gene Shue's debut. Rick Barry, the NBA's leading scorer, was held to 21 points by the Baltimore defense. Gus Johnson scored 34 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to lead the Bullets. Nate Thurmond topped the Warriors with 30 points.

Unranked Boxer Takes Coast Title

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Having knocked out Philadelphian Percy Manning for the world welterweight boxing championship of California, mustachioed Charley Shipes stands anxious to add more territory to his domain.

Manning is rated the No. 2 contender by WBA which doesn't have Shipes in the top 10. Manning, 24, went down twice in the 10th round of a scheduled 15 and had no complaints when referee Vern Bybee stopped the bout, awarding a kayo victory to Shipes, 25, and from Oakland, Calif.

Few Areas Operating

State's Skiing Sparse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steady rains left only a handful of slopes open. Skiing ranged from fair to good as of Wednesday night, according to the West Michigan Tourist Association, and some areas said they would be open this weekend, weather permitting.

WESTERN MICHIGAN

The association's report:

Big M, Manistee: 6-10 inch base; fair; open Saturday. Boyne Mountain, Boyne Falls: 18 inch base; skiing good Caberfae, Cadillac: 12-20 inch base; fair. Crystal Mountain, Thompsonville: 4-6 inch base; fair. Shanty Creek Lodge, Bellaire; 4 inch base; fair. Thunder Mountain, Boyne Falls: 6 inch base; fair, open Saturday. Walloon Hills, Walloon Lake: 6 inch base; fair, open Saturday.

EASTERN MICHIGAN

Rain washed out the excellent conditions that existed last weekend in most areas. The East Michigan Tourist Association said, as of Wednesday night, that some areas would be open.

The association's report: Otsego Ski Club, Gaylord: 5-6 inch base; excellent.

PONTIAC AREA

All resorts rained out.

Detroit Quintet Wins

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Business College held off a late rally to upend Aquinas 97-90 in basketball Wednesday night.

Caberfae Open, Reveals Plans of Racing Camp

Caberfae Ski Area at Cadillac opened for the season last week and despite the recent thaw is still operating with a 12-20 inch base and fair skiing this week.

New manager Merle Trepp, formerly at Pine Knob, reports the slopes haven't received any new snow and none is being made presently.

Trepp also advises that applications are being accepted for Caberfae's annual sixth Junior Racing Camp Dec. 26-31.

Run by the area's ski school director Bob Meyer, the camp will cover downhill, slalom and giant slalom racing techniques. Conditioning, racing theory and care of equipment are other important factors that will be discussed.

Details regarding the camp are available by writing Caberfae, Box 424, Cadillac.

Benefit Show Monday to Aid Big Brothers

The Schussmeisters Culb and Mount Holly Resort are cosponsoring the second annual Big Brothers' Ski Benefit Show 7 p.m. Monday at the IMA Auditorium in Flint.

A highlight of the show will be Warren Miller in person narrating his new film, "Ski on the Wild Side."

★ ★ ★

The film lasts 90 minutes. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Proceeds will be used to support the Big Brothers of Greater Flint winter sports program.

Snow Can Harm Eyes

Experienced skiers have the foresight to protect themselves from the cold, but how about from the snow?

The unknowing skier can be struck with "snow blindness" if the eyes aren't properly shielded.

"Snow is a highly reflective surface, just like beach sand," says Dr. Albert Ruedemann, a Wayne State University School of Medicine professor.

"The ultraviolet rays reflected from it can cause temporary and painful corneal damage to the unprotected eye, even on cloudy days," adds Dr. Ruedemann, who will soon retire as chairman of WSU's department of ophthalmology.

The ultraviolet rays reflecting off the snow can cause sunburn of the cornea. This painful affliction is characterized by tears and a swelling of the eyelids.

Unfortunately, the danger from the glare sometimes isn't apparent while the victim is skiing since, according to Dr. Ruedemann, the reaction of the eyes is often delayed several hours.

WINTER SPORTS

Continual 'New Look'

Local Ski Sites Are Changing

By JERE CRAIG

The face of winter skiing in the Pontiac area changes from year to year, and from a weather standpoint, now it is differing from weekend to weekend.

Although there was some limited slope activity the first weekend of November, the season began last weekend for most local resorts.

Thousands journeyed to the Oakland County resort areas Saturday and Sunday, exhilarated by the onslaught of natural snow and cold air.

This snowy "windfall" already has put the resort owners well ahead of last season's slow revenue reapings. But all the much-needed base they developed during the freeze now has melted with this week's thawing rain.

Still, the operators are anticipating a big season. With this in mind, they made improvements and changes at their areas.

Perhaps the most noticeable changes are at Mount Grampian. Owner Vern Pilsworth's facilities were damaged extensively by a fire late last season and much work has been done to repair and replace the destroyed buildings.

New rental equipment was purchased, a new beginners' slope has been made and improvements were made on one advanced run.

Nearby Mount Christie has converted its former ski shop into a private club house for members, visiting groups and the families of the staff members.

Manager Ron Hutchings indicated the club house is also available to individuals for private parties.

Pine Knob near Clarkston has promoted Oldrich Vavrous, former head ski patrolman, to the manager's position. He has already remodeled the rental and ski school areas, and new trails have been opened off the advanced slopes.

There has been a lengthening of one advanced run at Mount Holly, and owner Mort Graddis is in the process of expanding the cafeteria area for better service.

Alpine Valley's changes include additions to northern end of the lodge to permit a lounge upstairs and a new rental area downstairs. The food service now has spread into the old ski shop facilities.

Brighton has two new slopes, one on each side of the existing runs. They are a new beginners' hill and a new advanced slope.

★ ★ ★

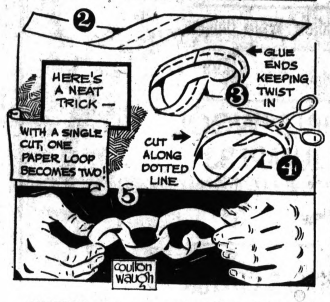
Junior Editors Quiz on MOBIUS STRIP



QUESTION: How many surfaces does a Mobius strip have?

ANSWER: Cut a piece of paper 10" by 1" and draw a dotted line down the center (1). Then twist the strip one-half a turn, so dotted line shows on one end and plain paper on the other.

Now, being careful to keep the half twist in the strip, bring the ends together and glue them by overlapping one slightly. You will have a Mobius strip, a curious structure invented by Mobius, a German mathematician.

Mobius was working on a kind of geometry called topology, the study of figures twisted out of shape in different ways. The ring will have only one surface with one edge and one side.

To prove this, follow the dotted line in one direction. When you get to the blank part, follow this too, and you will come to the dotted line again. You have been following around on just one surface!

If, instead of giving a half twist to the paper strip in the first place, you give it one full twist (2) and glue the ends (3), you can do something remarkable. Cut along the dotted line (4) and see what you get (5).

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn to make both the Mobius strip we first described and the full twist one we illustrate. Baffle your friends and have fun!

Diseases Curbed

India Controlling Death

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India, struggling urgently to achieve birth control, is succeeding as well in death control.

Thirty years ago, malaria chilled and fevered and weakened 100 million persons each year, and one to two million died.

Now, malaria hits less than 100,000 a year and a death due to malaria has become a matter of curiosity, health officials say.

But there are fires of other diseases to put out or dampen, including a curious, unexplained killer that for nine years has been snuffing out lives of children of Nagpur, a city in central India.

The Health Ministry lists the current death rate at 16 per 1,000 persons, down from 27.4 in 1951. That means eight million deaths a year, many or even the bulk occurring among the 21 million babies born each year.

This gives India a net gain of 12 million-plus per year, and family planning, it is hoped, will reduce the birth rate from its present 40-plus per 1,000 to 18.

Disease control is credited with boosting average life expectancy at birth toward 50 years now, compared with 32 in the decade 1941-51.

One sharp lance aimed at a host of other killer diseases is the National Institute of Communicable Diseases, modeled after the Communicable Disease Center, U.S. Public Health Service, in Atlanta, Ga. It is directed by a skilled physician-scientist, Dr. J. B. Shrivastava.

He ticks off smallpox, cholera, typhoid fever, dysenteries, filaria, hookworm, trachoma, viral hepatitis, tuberculosis, virus infections, and tetanus as main challenges. Plague is no longer a real problem, although there are sporadic outbreaks.

The center sends teams of experts, when word is received of epidemic outbreaks, to pinpoint causes and help limit the spread. It does basic research on diseases, checks purity of drugs and heads up training of medical and supporting personnel.

But the mystery disease in Nagpur, 450 miles east of Bombay, has experts baffled. Since 1958, between March and August each year, it has struck down children under age 15 with fever, diarrhea, vomiting and convulsions, with 90 to 99 per cent dying.

Letters From Santa's Dream Mailbox

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The postman would be a true Santa Claus if he brought this kind of holiday dream mail:

BOYLE

"Harry, this is just a hasty note to let you know that your Christmas bonus this year will be $1,000. I'd appreciate it if you'd keep the amount secret, as the rest of the staff are only getting $500 each. But your work this last year has been so outstanding that we—"

"Dear Dad, I don't want you to faint from the shock, but my college roommate and I are doing so well with that cleaning shop we opened just off the campus that we're rolling in loot. From now on I won't be needing that $75 a month you've been sending me. The way we're going now, I'll be able to handle my own tuition and room and board bills for the next semester. I am enclosing my check to you for $50 to buy yourself something nice for Christmas. Don't spend it all on bubble gum. Your son, Joe."

"Dear Brother Slurch, as chief totem of our lodge, it gives me heartfelt pleasure to inform you that you held the winning ticket in our annual lodge raffle to raise scholarship funds for underprivileged Bedouins. The first prize, you will remember, is a brand new four-door automobile. Would you care to drive it home yourself, or have us send it gift-wrapped as surprise to the other members of your family?"

"Dear sir: Although it is not our usual custom to lure executive talent from one of our competitors, the sudden retirement of one of our key vice presidents leaves vacant a post which we feel only one with your proved talents can fill suitably. In strict confidence, it pays roughly double what we estimate to be your present salary, plus use of the company yacht, paid membership in the country club of your choice, a liberal petty cash fund and—"

"Dear Mr. Slurch: As manager of the Jamboree Night Club, I am answering your wife's letter for two reservations at our annual New Year's Eve party at $75 a head, drinks extra. Unfortunately, our reservations list has already been filled for that evening, so—"

SECTION 900-A. PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED:

In an OR-1 District, no building or premises shall be used and no building or structure shall be erected except for one or more of the following uses, unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance:

1. Any uses first permitted as a principal use in the O-1 Office Building District as detailed in SECTION 900 of this Ordinance.
2. Any uses which are charged with the principal function of education, research, or technical training.
3. Banks, credit unions, savings and loan associations and similar uses.
4. Other uses similar to the above uses.
5. Accessory structures and uses customarily incident to the above permitted uses.

SECTION 901-A. USES PERMISSIBLE ON SPECIAL APPROVAL:

The following uses shall be permitted subject to the conditions hereinafter imposed for each use and subject to the review and approval of the site plan by the Planning Commission as set forth in SECTION 1412 of Ordinance No. 132:

1. Clubs and their ancillary uses, when conducted in an enclosed building and whose activity is not carried on as a business.
2. Restaurants, except those having the character of an "open front" store, "drive-in", or "fast-food" restaurant.
3. Retail and personal service uses shall be permitted on the first floor of a multiple story office building when such retail uses are limited to the following nature of uses:
   (a) Personal service establishments which perform services on the premises including: barber shops, beauty parlors, tailor shops and photographic studios, or an establishment whose activity is, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, similar.
   (b) Retail businesses which supply commodities on the premises including, millinery shops, clothing shops, drugs, interior decorating shops, shoe shops, flower shops, notions, gift shops, or a business whose activity is, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, similar.

SECTION 902-A. REQUIRED CONDITIONS:

1. Building permits shall not be issued separately for any of the uses permitted under the above SECTION 901-A, USES PERMISSIBLE ON SPECIAL APPROVAL. It is the intent of this District that these Special Approval uses be included in the office use structure and not be permitted as free standing structures.
2. All uses permitted in this District shall be fully enclosed. Outdoor storage or display shall be prohibited.
3. Existing residential structures shall not qualify for use as personal service or retail business uses. They are permitted only in new structures so designed as to service these uses.

SECTION 903-A. AREA AND BULK REQUIREMENTS:

See ARTICLE XIII, "SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS" limiting the height and bulk of buildings and minimum size of lot by permitted land use.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that a Public Hearing will be held by the Planning Commission of the Township of Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan, on Tuesday, January 3, 1967, at 8:00 p.m., at the Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, in said Township for the purpose of considering the following amendment to Ordinance No. 67, being the Zoning Ordinance:

To add a new sub-section to said Ordinance No. 67, to be known as Article IXA - OR-1 - Office-Retail District, reading as follows:

ARTICLE IX-A — OR-1 OFFICE-RETAIL DISTRICT

PREAMBLE:

The OR-1 OFFICE-RETAIL DISTRICTS are designed to accommodate large office buildings, restricted retail, research and educational facilities which serve large numbers of people. A major purpose of this District is to provide attractive settings so that these areas of the Township will basically create an office environment and permit related uses similar in development to the office character.

The following amendment should be made to ARTICLE XIII, SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS:

USE DISTRICT	Maximum Size Lot Per Unit		Max. Height of Building		Minimum Yard Setback (Per Lot in Feet)			Minimum Floor Area	Maximum Percentage of Lot Coverage
	Area	Width	In Stories	In Feet	Front	Each Side	Rear
OR-1 Office-Retail	—	—	3 (q)	30 (q)	30	30 (1)	(1) 30 (1)	—	—

NOTES: (To Section 1300)

(q) The height of a structure may exceed three (3) stories or thirty (30) feet when the land parcel can meet the following standards:

A minimum initial wall setback of twenty (20) feet shall be provided at the fourth (4) story level and provided further, that for each additional foot of building height above thirty (30) feet said wall shall be set back from the initial building setback line (thirty feet on all sides) a minimum of one-half (½) foot.

The text of said proposed amendment or change and accompanying maps are available for public inspection at the office of the Township Clerk during regular business hours.

U. S. to Boost B52s on Guam

Some Bombers May Be Moved to Thailand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will expand its B52 bomber force on Guam early next year and may move some of the huge jets into Thailand so they can strike more swiftly at Communist targets in Viet Nam.

Detailed proposals for Thailand operations have been prepared for study by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

He long has wanted to base some of the B52s closer to the enemy forces they have been pounding with widely acclaimed results.

A single eight-engine B52 can carry as powerful load of conventional bombs as a dozen or more of the fighter - bombers now based in South Viet Nam and Thailand.

★ ★ ★

Operating on 4,300-mile round trips from Guam, the B52s have been described by U.S. military officials as the weapon most feared by enemy forces.

In February, 20 of the $8-million aircraft will be added to the present force of 50 on Guam.

No decision to shift some of these to Thailand has been made yet and there has been no public sign that diplomatic arrangements have been worked out with Bangkok.

There would be weighty political considerations involved in moving such powerful weapons into that country.

★ ★ ★

The United States already has more than 30,000 military men in Thailand, however, and operates more than 250 Thai-based fighter-bombers and reconnaissance planes over North Viet Nam and the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos to South Viet Nam.

Good to the taste—smooth, mellow, satisfying. Good to the pocket, too. It costs only $4.80 and it's really worth much more. And, if you're skeptical about a value like that, here's how McMaster's does it. McMaster's is made and aged in barrels in Canada. It's bottled only after it reaches this country. That means solid savings on taxes, shipping, handling, etc.

Price is only one reason for trying McMaster's Canadian, a taste or two of its goodness will tell you the rest of the story.

KEYED TO LIFE-LONG PLEASURE — The piano provides pleasure for the whole family and should be purchased wisely. "It is a perfect way in which to start the youngsters' music education, something for which they will always be grateful," says John Steinway of the famous piano family.

Is Piano in Santa's Sleighs?

A large gift that will find itself on some Christmas lists this year is a piano.

Since this is, obviously, a major investment for the person who is playing Santa, we are forwarding some shopping advice from an expert, John Steinway, of the famous piano-making family.

The first preshopping decision to be made concerns the model. Should it be a grand or upright? In a reputable make, both are fine instruments and the choice may rest on the space, or lack of it, that is available.

The next things to decide on are the finish and design of the case. Piano manufacturers have kept up with modern trends in home decorating, says the expert, and both uprights and grands are now available in a variety of finishes from blond to ebonized mahogany.

Styles range from Louis XV to contemporary and personal taste is the dictator here.

The next question, and probably the most important, is "where to buy it?" Consultants urge that you go to a reputable music store or a department store that has a good music department. Such a store is not looking for a quick sale, but rather is seeking a lifetime, repeat customer.

In many fine stores, the salesman will come to the home to help the customer. During such a visit, he will suggest where the piano should go for better acoustics, and will give advice on size, type of wood and finish.

When it comes to choosing the make of piano, we are advised by our expert to ask for the best in its price bracket.

There are excellent makes in the lower-price range as well as in the more expensive range and a good piano salesman is in a position to put them out.

A salesman in a reputable establishment will welcome as many questions as you can toss at him and will explain some of the technological changes that have been made in pianos to keep pace with the times.

Sauna Helps Complexion

What greater gift to a woman or discriminating teen-ager than the wherewithal for true complexion beauty?

The new Saunda Facial Sauna, the world's first beauty appliance, permits the complexion to enjoy all the benefits of the Scandinavian Sauna bath, right in the home.

The unit is a small, compact electric appliance that within seconds produces billows of warm, moist mist for deep-pore facial cleansing and underskin stimulation and nourishment.

The appliance when used in combination with four Saunda beauty preparations — a facial scrub, a freshener, a moisturizer and an emollient — provides a complete home facial in 10 to 20 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Unlike the old-fashioned tea kettle or vaporizer whose searing steam could cause injury to delicate facial tissues, the relaxing mist is scientifically controlled to remain a constant, comfortable 118 degrees F.

FOR MOTHERS, DAUGHTERS

The new Facial Sauna is really a Mother-Daughter appliance, but for best results and even tempers, perhaps each should have one of her own.

★ ★ ★

The appliance is nationally available at cosmetic counters and appliance sections at under thirty dollars, including an introductory kit of the four beauty preparations. It is UL-approved with a one-year warranty, and produced by Health Products, Inc. of Chicago.

Pollution destroys large areas of fish and game habitat annually.

Romney Status Hazy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Questions are popping up around the country about whether Gov. George Romney of Michigan is eligible for the presidency because he was born in Mexico.

No firm answer has ever been given to these questions about whether U. S. citizens born abroad of American parents are eligible.

Some Washington legal authorities doubt that the questions ever can be answered by the federal courts and believe that Romney, if nominated and elected, would serve in the White House.

The same questions have been heard before about such men as Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Christian A. Herter when they were viewed as possibilities for the presidency or vice presidency.

The junior Roosevelt was born on Canadian soil on Campobello Island, where his parents maintained a summer home. Herter's parents were living in Paris when he was born.

NOT DEFINED

All the questions have been based on the Constitutional provision that only a "natural-born citizen" of the United States is eligible for the presidency. The Constitution does not define the term.

George Romney was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, July 8, 1907. His Mormon grandfather and family had moved to Mexico and helped found a Mormon colony there after polygamy was outlawed in the United States in 1882.

The future governor was 5 years old when his parents, both U.S. citizens, fled from Mexican bandits and returned to Utah.

* * *

He would be a "natural-born citizen" of the United States if the Constitution used the language of the Nationality Act of 1790, passed by the first Congress.

That law said that "children of citizens of the United States that may be born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States shall be considered as natural-born citizens."

The language did not remain in subsequent laws governing citizenship.

One authority on the presidency, however, is confident that the principle survives. In the 1957 edition of his book, "The Presidency," Edward S. Corwin of Princeton University wrote that "the general sense of the provision (of the 1790 act) has been continued in force to this day."

"Should, then, the American people ever choose for president a person born abroad of American parents, it is highly improbable that any other constitutional agency would venture to challenge their decision," Corwin said.

NO CASE

Some Washington legal authorities believe there would be no case that could be taken into the federal courts until after Romney actually had been elected. They doubt that the courts would do anything then because the voters already would have passed on the issue.

Federal law now says that "nationals and citizens of the United States at birth" include:

". . . A person born outside of the United States and its outlying possessions of parents, both of whom are citizens of the United States and one of whom has had a residence in the United States or one of its outlying possessions, prior to the birth of such person."

* * *

Current statutes do not refer to "natural-born citizens."

The annotated Constitution, prepared by the Library of Congress, cites only one authority on this question in its most recent issue, published in 1963.

It refers to a 1950 analysis written for the Cornell Law Quarterly by Warren Freeman of the Rutgers University Law School faculty.

Freeman argued that "a foreign-born child of American parents can rightly aspire to the position of president and hold such high office in accord with the eligibility requirements laid down both under common law principles and the entire body of statutory law."

Books Please Devoted Cooks

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Let's talk a bit today about some of the newer cookbooks. Perhaps there is someone on your list who would enjoy one that's new or you may want to file your request with Santa.

★ ★ ★

The Meredith Publishing Company which puts out Better Homes and Gardens has a whole array of cookbooks and books about the home ready for Christmas.

★ ★ ★

First of all is there Christmas Ideas book which offers suggestions for decorating, gifts, food and wrappings.

Among their other special books are Stitchery and Crafts ($5.95); 1967 Home Furnishings Ideas Annual ($1.35); a story book ($2.95); and Pies and Cakes Cookbook ($1.95).

Companion to "The New York Times Cook Book" is "The New York Times Menu Cook Book" by the same author, Craig Claiborne. (Harper & Row, New York, $8.95).

As food editor of the New York Times, his job requires him to sample restaurants five days a week. On weekends, he spends time in his home kitchen cooking gourmet meals.

★ ★ ★

In the book there are 1,000 recipes, none duplicating those in the first book.

Avocados are in season. You might use them in this salad from Claiborne's book.

MEXICAN AVOCADO SALAD

2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
⅛ teaspoon salt
dash of freshly ground pepper
3 medium avocados
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 medium orange, peeled and sliced
1 small onion, thinly sliced
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives salad greens

★ ★ ★

Combine oilive oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Blend well. Cut avocados into halves and peel them. Brush all over with lemon juice.

Arrange avocados on salad greens. Top with orange, onion and olive slices. Pour dressing over salad. Makes six servings.

"The Savor of the Sea" (MacMillan, New York $6.95) is a book devoted entirely to fish and seafood.

★ ★ ★

Dan Morris is a writer on fishing, fish lore and outdoor cooking. He goes into detail about the latter in the cook book.

★ ★ ★

There is a great deal of other important information about buying, caring for and preparing fish. There are even some new tuna fish casseroles.

Here is one of the simple tested recipes:

STEAKS 'N' SHERRY

6 large fish steaks
2 cloves garlic, chopped juice of 2 lemons
1 cup sherry
¼ cup salad oil
salt and pepper

Place steaks in a deep greased baking pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Combine garlic, lemon juice, sherry and oil and pour over fish.

Bake in 400-degree oven 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

From "The Tea Cookbook" by William I. Kaufman (Doubleday, Garden City $3.95) comes this interesting dessert recipe.

QUICK BAVARIAN CREAM

1 package lemon-lime gelatin
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons instant tea
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

★ ★ ★

Dissolve gelatin dessertin boiling water. Stir in instant tea and chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in whipped cream and pour into four-cup mold.

★ ★ ★

Chill until firm. Garnish with fruit for serving. Makes six servings.

A little fun book is Holly Cantus' "The Lady of the House Almanac." It is described as "A sparkling collection and tidbits to delight every lady of the house."

MOCHA CLOUD CAKE — Chill 1½-quart bowl and beaters of electric mixer for 15 minutes. Mix in cold bowl 1½ cups non dairy dry "creamer," ⅔ cup cold milk, ¼ cup powdered sugar and one tablespoon instant coffee. Whip at highest speed until soft peaks form, three to five minutes. Stir in one cup cut-up toasted almonds. Cut one loaf angel food into three layers. Spread whip between layers and on top of cake. Makes eight servings.

Favorite Sandwich Given Variety

It's a new twist for an old favorite.

Western Sandwiches

¼ cup salad oil
1 medium onion, finely chopped (¾ cup)
½ large green pepper, finely chopped (¾ cup)
4 frankfurters, thinly sliced into rounds
4 large eggs, slightly beaten with salt and pepper to taste
8 thin slices bread, toasted and buttered

★ ★ ★

In a 10-inch skillet heat the oil; add onion and green pepper and cook gently until softened; add frankfurters and heat. Pour in egg mixture; as egg sets, lift edges and tilt pan so soft portion runs to bottom.

While top is still slightly soft, cut in 4 wedges and turn each wedge to brown lightly. Use as filling for toast to make 4 sandwiches. Serve with chili sauce. Makes 4 servings.

GINGER RIBS—Succulent spareribs are first parboiled, then baked. A honey fruit sauce glazes them beautifully. Base of it all is a mixture of rice, green onions and diced celery.

Put Glazed Spareribs on Top of Tasty Rice

You'll be glad that you baked the meat on a bed of rice when you prepare Ginger Ribs with Rice Dressing for the rice absorbs all of the meat drippings as well as the spicy honey and lemon sauce as the meat cooks.

Tender cooked rice not only absorbs the flavor of the meat and sauce but of the apricots, onions, and seasonings with which it is mixed before being spread into the baking pan.

Any kind of American grown rice — brown, regular milled white, parboiled or precooked can be used for this recipe. And tender fluffy rice is guaranteed if the easy cooking directions on the rice package are followed to the letter.

To complete the meal featuring Ginger Ribs with Rice Dressing, serve green beans with slivered almonds, crisp relishes and baked custard for dessert.

Ginger Ribs with Rice Dressing

4 pounds spareribs, cut into serving-size portions
½ cup sliced green onions with tops
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups cooked rice
⅔ cup diced dried apricots
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup broth from cooking spareribs
½ cup gingersnap crumbs
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cu vinegar or lemon juice
⅓ cup honey

Parboil spareribs 1 hour or until tender. Cook onions and celery in butter until soft but not brown. Add rice, apricots, pepper and broth. Turn into baking dish. Arrange ribs, meaty side up, on rice mixture.

★ ★ ★

Mix remaining ingredients and boil 8-10 minutes or until thick. Brush on ribs. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes, brushing with honey mixture every ten minutes. Serve with any remaining sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Thump a yeast loaf on top when you are testing to see whether it is done. No need to turn the loaf out of the pan for this test!

Cook Potatoes in Hot Sugar

Brunede kartofler — Danish-style sugar-browned potatoes — are easy to make from the Copenhagen restaurant's recipe.

★ ★ ★

Boil 24 little new potatoes, unpeeled, in salted water until done. Drain, peel and let dry in colander or strainer. While potatoes cook, melt 6 tablespoons of granulated sugar in heavy skillet over low heat, stirring constantly until sugar melts and browns.

★ ★ ★

Add ¼ cup of butter to caramelized sugar and mix well. Turn potatoes in sugar mixture over low heat until they are shiny, brown and at serving temperature. Serve with roast goose, duck, pork or game.

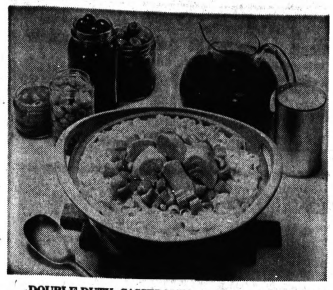
Cook Two: Eat One, Freeze the Other



DOUBLE-DUTY CASSEROLES — Here's a dandy dish to cook on the double. The recipe provides for two casseroles . . . one to serve and one to save in the freezer for future use. Several variations are given, too, so the dish can be different every time it's made.

Considered by many as standby foods for emergency meals, egg noodles and canned tuna are the main ingredients for one of the most popular of casseroles in America. Not only does the dish continue as a favorite for unplanned meals, it deserves a place in the planned meal as well.

That's just what this two-casserole recipe is all about. It's a way to cook for now and later . . . at the same time.

The recipe provides for two casseroles; one is to serve immediately, the other to stash away in the freezer to use within the next month.

Double-Duty Casseroles

2 tablespoons salt
4 to 6 quarts boiling water
1 pound medium egg noodles (about 8 cups)
¾ cup chopped onion
1 cup sliced celery
⅔ cup butter or margarine
⅔ cup flour
2½ teaspoons salt*
1 teaspoon thyme leaves
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 cups milk
4 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, drained
2 teaspoons Worcestershire
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Paprika

Add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook onion and celery in butter until crisp-tender. Quickly mix in flour, 2½ teaspoons salt, thyme and pepper. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring constantly until sauce boils 1 minute. Add tuna, Worcestershire and lemon juice. Makes 2 casseroles, 4 servings each.

For immediate use: Mix half of sauce with half of noodles in 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven 20 minutes.

To freeze for future use: Mix together remaining sauce and noodles and cool quickly. Turn into 2-quart casserole lined with heavy duty foil (allowing extra foil for fold). Seal with double fold. Freeze; remove casserole.

★ ★ ★

When ready to use, remove foil; replace in casserole. Cover; bake unthawed in 350 degree (moderate) oven 1 hour. Uncover; sprinkle with paprika. Continue baking, uncovered, 30 minutes or until bubbling hot.

*Salt loses flavor on freezing; increase salt to taste for freezer casserole.

VARIATIONS:

1. Add ½ cup chopped or sliced pimiento - stuffed olives to tuna sauce.
2. Add ½ cup chopped or sliced ripe olives to tuna sauce.
3. Add 1 can or jar (7 ounces) pimientos, drained and diced, to tuna sauce.
4. Add 1 can or jar (6 ounces) mushrooms, drained, to tuna sauce.
5. Substitute tomato juice for milk, when making the sauce.
6. Reduce amount of butter to ¼ cup; omit ⅔ cup flour; reduce amount of milk to 3½ cups. After cooking onion and celery in butter, mix with the milk and 2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed cream of mushroom soup to make sauce. Continue as in original recipe.

Low Calorie Topping Used in Fluffy Salad Dressing

Life becomes easier for the weight watcher when meals can include a smooth, creamy topping at only seven calories per tablespoon — about one-third the calories of whipped cream.

Low calorie whipped topping mix comes two envelopes to the package, and each envelope makes 2 cups of topping. The mix is beaten with cold water and vanilla to make a rich tasting topping for puddings, pies, cakes, and shortcakes.

A refreshing fruit salad is made still more tempting when served with a fluffy dressing made by combining the prepared topping with low calorie mayonnaise. The package of low calorie topping mix can be stored on the food shelf.

Once prepared, the topping mix stores in the refrigerator. Before serving, beat until fluffy, adding one tablespoon of water if the topping seems a little stiff.

Fruit Salad

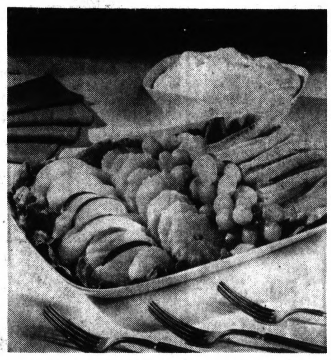
2 grapefruits, peeled and sectioned
2 oranges, peeled and sliced
2 apples, cored and sliced
2 bananas, sliced
Seedless grapes
Salad greens (optional)
Fluffy Low Calorie Dressing

On a chilled serving platter, arrange fruits in an attractive pattern over greens. Serve with Fluffy Low Calorie Dressing. Makes about 4 servings.

Fluffy Low Calorie Dressing

1 envelope low calorie whipped topping mix
½ cup water
½ cup low calorie mayonnaise

Combine topping mix and water in deep narrow-bottom bowl. Whip with rotary beater or at high speed of electric mixer until topping is thick and fluffy—about 2 or 3 minutes. Blend in mayonnaise. Serve with fruit salads. Makes about 2 cups.



FLUFFY DRESSING — New low calorie whipped topping mix is used to make a fluffy rich tasting dressing for fruit salad. The artificially sweetened topping mix is prepared with cold water.

Present Callers With Goodies

Welcome holiday callers with a basket of individually packaged homemade goodies placed conveniently on the hall table.

Carolers, neighborhood children, the newsboy, the mailman and all who cross your threshold during this happy holiday season well be delighted to choose from inviting gift packets of cookies, candy or fruit cake slices, all wrapped in sparkling saran film for freshness and easy selection.

Top Quick-Thaw Fruits With Cream

Choice fruits, picked at their prime, and frozen in plastic pouches which keep them in tip-top condition, describe the new fruit line.

The new frozen fruits and fruit combinations are strawberries; red raspberries; Bing cherries; sliced peaches and strawberries; and mixed fruit.

All are packed in sugar syrup, which keeps the fruits plump and makes them ideal for dessert use, right from the pouch.

This plastic pouch, incidentally, has another use besides insuring quality fruit, and that's convenience of thawing. Put the pouch in a bowl of warm water, and the fruit is ready to eat in 7 to 14 minutes, depending on size of the fruit.

Dainty red raspberries thaw in 7 minutes; sliced peaches and strawberries take 14 minutes.

Try the Peach Combination or the mixed fruits in Ambassador Tarts when you need a company-worthy dessert.

Ambassador Tarts

Egg white
4 tablespoons sugar
½ cup heavy cream
½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups (about) flaked coconut
1 package (10 oz.) quick-thaw frozen mixed fruit or peaches and strawberries, thawed
5 baked 3½-inch tart shells

Beat egg white until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Continue beating until egg white will form stiff, shiny peaks.

Combine cream and vanilla. Whip just until cream will form soft peaks. Fold into beaten egg white. Fold in 1 cup coconut.

Spoon fruit into tart shells. Top with cream mixture. Sprinkle with ½ cup coconut. Makes 5 servings.

Make frozen lollipops in your home freezer for the youngsters. Freeze fruit juices or chocolate milk in the ice cube tray, placing a stick in each cube.

How Much Comes in Can?

Often you read recipes that call for canned products, but the measurements are given usually in cup measurement.

Ever wonder what size can you are supposed to buy? Home economists have provided the following list for you to clip and save.

Corn Fritters Are Excellent

Corn fritters get extra flavor from cornmeal. Good for brunch or dinner.

Hearty Corn Fritters

1¼ cups sifted regular flour
½ cup yellow cornmeal
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 can (12 ounces) vacuum-packed yellow whole-kernel corn
2 eggs
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can (8½ ounces) yellow cream-style corn

Sift together flour, cornmeal, baking powder, salt and sugar. Drain the whole-kernel corn reserving ⅓ cup of the liquid.

★ ★ ★

To reserved liquid, add the eggs and salad oil; beat until thoroughly combined. Stir in the cream-style corn. Gradually stir in the sifted dry ingredients and drained whole-kernel corn.

Heat oil (at least 2 inches deep) to 365 degrees on deep-frying thermometer. Drop batter by tablespoonfuls into hot fat. Fry about 5 minutes, turning once, or until golden brown.

Drain on brown paper; serve hot. Makes 24 fritters or 8 servings.

Different Salad

Blend ready-to-use mince meat with Sherry wine or orange juice to saucy consistency. Spoon onto cross-wise slices of western Iceberg lettuce. Garnish with twisted orange slices and maraschino cherries.

Car Thief Busy in Waterford Twp.

Waterford Township police caution motorists that a car thief is on the loose in Huron Gardens Subdivision.

* * *

Three cars have been stolen from the subdivision this week — two which were parked at the Huron Bowl, 2525 Elizabeth Lake, and one from the 99 Club, 86 S. Telegraph.

* * *

The thefts occurred at nighttime, according to police, who said the cars have been recovered.

Jurisdiction Issue

Board Decision Delayed

Tomorrow's meeting of the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board has been canceled and tentatively rescheduled for Dec. 16.

Paul N. Averill, board chairman, ordered the postponement to allow more time for board members to receive information partment to a decision on whether the board should agree to release some of its jurisdiction area to Pontiac State Hospital.

The board had indicated that a decision on the agreement, needed by the hospital to claim $250,000 in federal funds, would be reached tomorrow.

Several persons had planned to attend tomorrow's meeting to urge that the board agree to give the hospital mental health jurisdiction over 14 sparsely populated townships in the northern part of the county.

* * *

This area would represent about one-fifth of the county population. The mental health board presently has jurisdiction over the entire county.

TO LEAD DELEGATION

Phillip O. Mastin Jr., a member of the County Board of Supervisors, had planned to lead a delegation of supervisors to the meeting to plea for the agreement so the federal funds would be assured for Oakland County.

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, feels there is a strong possibility the quarter million dollar grant will be lost if the board fails to sign the agreement by Jan. 1.

Since the mental health board delayed a decision at its Nov. 18 meeting, it has been seeking a clarification of the relationship between the board and the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

Efforts have been made to schedule a meeting with Gov. Romney on this matter.

Suspect Is Sane

WINDSOR (AP) — A young housewife accused of suffocating her 2-year-old cousin was found mentally fit Wednesday to stand trial. A psychiatrist said 18-year-old Mrs. Carol Ann Findlay was aware of court proceedings and legally able to Dec. 14 to enter a plea.

All Items on Agenda Backed by Planners

All items on the planning commission agenda last night were granted favorable recommendations, including site plans for a new church building at 1361 Giddings and an apartment building at 624 Orchard Lake.

Final approval rests with the City Commission.

City planners recommended approval for the release of easements in an area bounded by First, Joslyn, Madison and Highwood, and also for the vacating of alleys in an area bounded by Kennett, Joslyn, Montcalm and Glenwood.

The easements and alley vacations had previously been approved, but new approval was required for a more complete legal description of the property involved.

Approval was recommended last night for a parking district for the north side of South Boulevard, between Telegraph and Canterbury, and lots between 1109 and 1121 Dover.

The parking area is for a church there.

City planners recommended a change in zoning, R3 to R4, for a 30-acre site on the south side of Auburn, west of the Belt Line railroad. The change would permit high-rise apartments there.

A series of alleys and streets were recommended vacated in conjunction with the city's urban renewal plan.

These include the west alley, Pike to the Clinton River; the east alley, Auburn to the river; Wessen, East Wide Track to West Wide Track; Parke, Judson to Auburn; and on Osmun and O'Riley, part of the alley north of Osmun between O'Riley and Perkins.

A three-block area along the east side of Stanley, Ann Arbor to Princeton, was recommended rezoned commercial, residential-1, resident-2 and parking in accordance with existing development there.

A public hearing was ordered for Jan. 4 for the vacating of an alley, east of and parallel to Stanley, Ann Arbor to Sheffield.

A hearing on proposed commercial rezoning for 629 W. Huron was adjourned 30 days.

Man Kills Self

A Detroit man took his own life yesterday in the garage of an Orion Township home he was buying, according to Oakland County sheriff's investigators.

Alex Alongi, 48, was found about 4:45 p.m. inside a pickup truck in a garage at 2658 S. Lapeer. Deputies said a hose had been attached to the tailpipe of the truck and run into the cab, where Alongi was found.

DEBONAIR — Winter sunglasses for the man who has almost everything. Called "Hints of Tints," these sunglasses are unusual in that they are not meant to shade the eyes from the sun or snow glare. They are strictly a fashion accessory for the man who likes the way he looks in sunglasses and wants to keep on wearing them even after the summer sun has disappeared.

Sunglasses Not Seasonal

Sunglasses are for summer, right? Wrong! Sunglasses have become such a popular fashion accessory that they are being worn all year long.

For the man who likes the way he looks in sunglasses, the perfect gift is a pair of winter "shades" shown in the stores.

Called "Hints of Tints," these sunglasses were made with the fashion-conscious man in mind. They will make him look as debonair as he did in his regular sunglasses, but "Hints of Tints" have lenses that are only lightly tinted, for wear during the darker months of the year.

The fun of wearing "Hints of Tints" is that although the eyes are not hidden from view, the wearer still has the feeling of wearing sunglasses as he looks out on a pleasantly tinted world.

* * *

Set in handsome black frames and available in lens colors of Blush Pink, Sky Blue, Cool Tan and Apple Green, these sunglasses are just the thing for the man who has almost everything.

Carving Hints to Remember

The first rule of carving to remember is that all meat has grain. Meat grain may be best visualized as bunches of tiny, closely-grouped tubes, each brimming with savory juices.

* * *

When the meat is cut with the grain, the slices will consist of these tubes, side by side — in other words, chewy or tough.

* * *

When meat is cut across the grain, the slices are made up of short lengths of these tubes standing end on end — tender and holding all their natural juices.

* * *

To carve a rib or standing roast, you will need a roast slicer such as the knife with "finger-grip" notched handle and a blade guaranteed sharp.

This Gift Idea Is a Guaranteed Crowd Pleaser

Do you have a family of 10 on your Christmas list? Or someone who is impossible to buy for? Or a favorite nephew? Or just anyone? Well, here is the answer to your problem, and it's a guaranteed crowd pleaser.

Run to your nearest five and dime store and start buying, but keep the items small and inexpensive. First, heaps and heaps of all sizes, shapes, colors and flavors of penny candy.

Be sure to buy one of those long strings of lollipops. Then yo-yos, balls, tops, crayons, anything for the kids. Perhaps a fancy hair bow for mother or a new lipstick or some beads. Father might like a couple of cigars or mittens for snow shoveling.

Next, zip around the corner to the florist's and get a large long-stemmed rose box.

* * *

When you get home, wrap each gift and line the florist's box in colorful tissue paper. Then pour in the candies and the gifts. Cover, wrap and use the string of lollipops for a ribbon. Your gift is sure to be the biggest hit on Christmas morning.

Linen Inspection

If you're hostessing a big Christmas dinner, inspect your company-best linens in plenty of time for the holiday.

Tablecloths and napkins may need freshening up — just dunk them in hot, soapy water, spiked with a few tablespoons of pine cleaner. Rinse the linens, iron them, wrap them up in plastic and your table's set for the big day.

Plant Care Tips

The gift plant in your home should have as much light as is possible, preferably a sunny window. It should be kept away from drafts and heating elements. The plant likes a 65 to 70 degree day temperature and 55 to 60 degrees at night.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Billy the Giant Fighter travels to Santa Land to slay the wicked giant who has captured the Fairy Queen and plans to capture Santa Claus.

CHAPTER FOUR

PATRICK TWEEDLEKNEES

Billy the Giant Fighter burst through the door of Santa's house. He didn't even knock.

"Good gracious!" cried Santa. He had been pacing up and down in front of the fireplace. He stared at Billy in astonishment. "Who are you?"

"I'm ready to fight!" announced Billy loudly. He swung his sword back and forth a few times but he felt a little silly because there did not seem to be any giants around.

"Throw him out!" shouted a furious voice from the corner. "Look what he's done to my papers!" A short bowlegged dwarf was jumping up and down and pointing angrily to a sea of papers which the breeze from the open door had flung all over the room.

"I—I'm sorry," stammered Billy putting his sword back in his belt. "I thought — I thought —"

DIDN'T THINK

"You didn't think at all!" bellowed the dwarf. "Let me tell you things are bad enough without —"

"Quiet, Tweedleknees!" Santa turned to the boy and said gently, "You must not mind Patrick Tweedleknees. He is old and grumpy and he has much on his mind. A wicked giant named Goko has captured the Fairy Queen. He has taken the moon from the sky and promises to take me, too, when I ride on Christmas Eve. Then he will marry the Queen, gain possession of all her magic, and he himself will rule the world.

"Tweedleknees has been playing with all the letters of the alphabet to discover the magic words that will free the moon. But it's all useless, I'm afraid, because the Queen has said that only a real live boy who believes in giants can save us all."

"Billy, you are our one chance!" said Santa.

"I'm the boy!" cried Billy eagerly. "I'm Billy the Giant Fighter. An elfite sent me here."

GOLDFISH FIGHTER

"Giant fighter!" sneered Patrick Tweedleknees. "You look like a goldfish fighter. How many giants have you fought?"

"Not many. Not any, really, I guess. But I can! I know I can!"

Santa took the boy's hands in his. "Do you truly believe in giants?"

"Oh, yes!"

* * *

"Thank goodness!" cried Santa smiling. For a minute he looked cheery and pink the way Billy had always imagined he would look. Then he turned sad again and said, "Billy, you're the one chance we have to save the Fairy Queen and Santa Land. But Goko is strong and his power is great and you must be very, very brave."

COULDN'T SPEAK

Billy nodded. He was so scared he couldn't speak. He put his hand on the wooden sword in his belt. It gave him courage. He found his voice and said, "This is my sword. I made it myself. I expect it doesn't look like much to you but it is better than you might think."

Santa studied the sword and nodded solemnly. "The blade is straight and the point is good." He put his arm around Billy and drew him nearer to the fire because the boy was shivering so. Then he told Billy that more than a sword was needed to destroy the giant.

"You must have some magic as strong as Goko's or he will destroy you before you have a chance to strike him with your sword."

* * *

"But where will I get such magic?" asked Billy.

"From the Harp Witch. She is Goko's enemy. We will visit her and she will tell us what you must do."

READY TO GO

Billy said he was ready to go but Santa said they could not go until Patrick Tweedleknees had found the magic words to free the moon.

"For, you see," said Santa. "The giant can be destroyed only while the moon is in the sky. That is why Goko took it out of the sky and that is why we must put it back."

Tomorrow: Breakfast in Santa Land.

Tax Deadline Nearing

Stock Portfolio Review Wise

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a two-part series on how to save money on your income tax before the year has ended.)

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Investors who had gains or losses — either actual or paper — in 1966's turbulent stock market may find it profitable to review their portfolio this month.

Trades made within the next three weeks will be completed before the end of the year, making it possible for investors to take full advantage of any tax savings.

The best way to plan your maneuvers is to make a complete record of all your transactions for the year in the same fashion you follow in preparing your tax return.

Separate your operations into short-term (held six months or less) and long-term transactions (those held longer than six months before a sale).

Combine all your short-term gains and losses first.

ENTER CARRY-OVER

Do you arrive at a net short-term gain or a loss? Did you have a short-term carry-over from last year? If so, enter this carry-over into your tabulation.

Repeat the same operation for your long-term transactions, arriving finally at a net gain or loss.

If you had a long-term loss carry-over from last year, it should be figured in.

Now commingle your net short-term transactions and your net long-term transactions.

CORRECT PICTURE

This will present the picture you will have at tax filing time should you make no further trades the balance of this year.

If a net loss results, you may use up to $1,000 of it in offsetting ordinary income for the year and the balance, if any, must be carried forward.

If your net result is a short-term gain, it is added to other income.

Should a long-term gain be your end product, one-half of it will be treated as ordinary income.

Last Call On '66 Stock Transactions

NOW IS TIME

Now is the time for you to make your decision as to what trades you might want to make to correct any imbalance or avoid paying a hefty tax on gain when you have paper losses you might realize.

While tax advantages should not be the only consideration in taking a loss, investors might well consider the possibility of using this means to offset gains for the year.

Beware of this hazard, however. Should you take a loss in an effort to cancel a previous gain, you might want to buy right back into the market, convinced that prices are depressed and there is a chance of a future gain.

* * *

Don't sell 100 shares of ABC Co. to take a loss and then, within 30 days before or after the sale, buy another 100 shares of ABC Co. for its long-term profit potential.

'WASH SALE'

If you do this, you will create a "wash sale" and Internal Revenue will not allow the loss.

Internal Revenue laws refer to the purchase of "substantially identical" stock after a loss transaction as a "wash sale."

Most brokers have lists of stock switches that can be used to avoid the loss sale trap. For example, it is possible to sell stock of one automotive manufacturer and buy (within 30 days) the stock of another car maker. Or you can sell AT&T and buy IT&T.

Your broker, of course, is the best source of information on such stock switches.

Naval Vessel to Be Named USS Detroit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fast combat support ship now under construction will be named the USS Detroit in recognition of the city's new role as a seaport, the Navy notified Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., today.

The vessel, being built at the Puget Sound Navy Shipyard, Washington, is scheduled for launching in July 1968.

The 52,000-ton ship will have an over-all length of 793 feet and a beam of 107 feet. It will be capable of a sustained speed of 26 knots, and will accommodate a crew of 21 officers and 487 enlisted men.

The vessel will supply a carrier strike force with fuel oil for the ships, aircraft fuel for the planes, and ammunition, the Navy said.

It is estimated these services will enable the strike force to stay at sea twice as long as now is possible and remain in combat for a 40 per cent longer time.

Lake Michigan Issue Before High Court Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court was to receive recommendations today for a solution to the 60-year tug-of-war between the city of Chicago and six Great Lakes states over Lake Michigan water.

Under normal procedure, the court would order the report — by Special Master Albert B. Maris — filed and set dates for the filing of objections from interested parties.

The roots of the dispute lie in the remarkable engineering feat which reversed the flow of the Chicago River so that it ran out of — instead of into —Lake Michigan.

Sanitary canals then were built and the city's sewage flushed down the Illinois waterway into the Mississippi River.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin was the first to complain back in 1922. Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York later joined in the charge that the diversion had lowered by at least 6 inches the water levels of Lakes Michigan, Huron, Erie and Ontario, their connecting waterways and the St. Lawrence River.

FORMULA PRESCRIBED

The Supreme Court in a 1920 order prescribed a formula, based in part on population, by which Chicago might continue to divert water from the Great Lakes system and directed the city to build adequate sewage treatment plants.

★ ★ ★

In 1958 the complaining states once more appealed to the Supreme Court for help.

They said the population of metropolitan Chicago had mushroomed to such a degree that the allowed diversion threatened to become disastrous to their interests.

NATO Likely to Give N-Unit Full Status

PARIS (AP) — The nuclear planning committee which has been functioning within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is expected to be given permanent status during the meeting next week of the NATO ministerial council.

The committee, which has had several meetings in Paris, Washington and Rome, was proposed on May 31, 1965, by U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. McNamara said then that the United States was prepared to share nuclear responsibility within the alliance and suggested a select committee of four or five defense ministers to study the problem.

Syria Seizes Oil Firm Assets

Company Is Owned by Western Interests

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's Socialist regime announced today it has seized all assets of the western-owned Iraq Petroleum Co. in Syria, including the pipeline that carries Iraq's oil to the Mediterranean.

A communique broadcast by Damascus Radio said the pipeline and other company property was taken over for payment of transit royalties due for this year.

IPC officials will be allowed to continue running the pipeline under supervision of four committees set up by Syria's ministry of finance, the communique said.

The seizure followed the collapse of negotiations between Syria and the IPC which ran from Sept. 10 to Nov. 16.

BROKE OFF TALKS

Syria broke off the talks then and threatened to take action against the company, which is owned by British, French, Dutch and American interests.

Syria had demanded that its transit royalties for allowing the oil to be pumped across its territory be doubled. In announcing the seizure, it said back royalties for this year totaled more than $8.4 million.

Rescuers Know Their Lines

By LOIS MANDIBERG

The lineman gripped the electric pole tightly with his feet, threw one end of the fall line over the crossbar and tied it under his unconscious partner's arms and carefully lowered him 20 feet to the ground.

Before the rescuer could begin mouth - to - mouth resuscitation and cardiac massage, the victim stood up to ready himself for a repeat performance.

The scene was a semiannual review of pole rescue and revival techniques for cardiac arrests.

Participating at a warehouse in the Oakland County division of Detroit Edison Co. were eight linemen.

The men had watched a film and discussed techniques. Now they were practicing.

'MAIN INTEREST'

Instructor Arthur Watts explained that "safety was the main interest."

He then demonstrated mouth-mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and cardiac massage on "Resuci Anne," a flesh-colored, blondehaired, rubber doll in a blue jump suit.

The men took turns, placing one hand on her forehead and the other on the back of her neck for a tight grip, taking two quick mouth-to-mouth air exchanges.

★ ★ ★

Alternately, another man pushed his hands heavily against her rib cage and released, 15 times to stimulate her heart.

SPECIAL TIMING

To the timing of 2, 15, 2, 15, they gave "Anne" artificial respiration and massage until they did the procedure automatically.

The linemen, all of whom have taken Red Cross first aid and review it yearly, have also rehearsed taking pulses, checking for dilated eyes and other signs of a cardiac arrest.

They have a knowledge which may have to be used on the job, at home, on the beach or anywhere.

★ ★ ★

Yearly, there are some 620 accidents nationally where workers come in contact with energized conductors and are knocked out. The last fatal accident in the Oakland County division was in 1959.

Germans Put Curbs on Cigarette Ads

BONN (UPI) — Men of distinction will no longer figure in German cigarette advertising.

★ ★ ★

The decision was the most important of the advertising guidelines agreed on by West Germany's 17 leading cigarette manufacturers. They acted at the suggestion of the Federal Ministry for Health, and to avoid parliamentary moves to legally restrict their advertising.

The cigarette makers agreed not to advertise in magazines for minors, not to use athletes in word or picture advertising and not to show anyone under 25 years of age smoking.

School Spending Hike Urged

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education decided Wednesday to recommend a $250-million increase next year in state spending on secondary and elementary schools, and said some needs still would be unmet.

Biggest increase under the board's plan would be a $147.8 million boost in basic state school aid. The 1966 Legislature granted a $57.1-million increase for the current fiscal year.

Other major additions would be $14.5 million for special education, $10 million for free textbooks, $25 million for construction, $39.1 million for teachers' retirement and $12 million for a special program for children "locked in poverty."

The total package would raise state spending on public elementary and secondary education from $619.5 million this year to $870.1 million in fiscal 1967-68.

In recommending a $12-million program for better education in low-income neighborhoods, Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, said a much higher figure had been considered.

He called the proposed $39.1-million boost in teachers' retirement funds "a significant step in completely funding the (retirement) systems." The state and Detroit retirement systems have been described as not actually sound, although no immediate crisis has arisen.

★ ★ ★

The proposed school aid increase, Polley said, would provide for raises in teachers' salaries averaging 8 per cent, raises in other salaries averaging 5 per cent and a 4 per cent increase in other costs.

He said 40,000 new pupils are expected, in addition to the current statewide enrollment of slightly more than 2 million, and $22.8 million was recommended to hire 2,000 new teachers and pay other new costs.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

The special $12-million program would reach neighborhoods where "whole families are educationally starved. school dropouts are high, and gifted children are hidden," said Polley.

The program would include an urban school service corps to help in inner-city schools, special projects to reduce dropouts and general improvements.

★ ★ ★

The board's recommendatin said the state should help build schools in districts which have reached their limit in levying property taxes.

Contributing a one-third share to such districts, Polley estimated, would cost about $25 million.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Other recommendations to the Legislature included:

● A program of establishing vocational education centers to serve all areas of the state. Community colleges or groups of secondary schools would operate the centers. "All who can profit should have equal opportunity to enroll in vocational education programs of their choice, no matter where they live," the board said.

★ ★ ★

● Regulation of private trade schools to protect students against schools which quickly go out of business.

★ ★ ★

● A $495,000 appropriation for a crash program to improve community college libraries.

★ ★ ★

● Incentive awards of up to $800 a year for 400 needy high school students who otherwise might not be able to go on to college.

★ ★ ★

● An appropriation of up to $1.8 million to defray increasing school lunch prices.

★ ★ ★

● A change to permit noncitizens of the United States to hold temporary teaching certificates. Many of these people, the board said, make excellent teachers of foreign languages, and some of Spanish origin could fill migrant teaching situations.

★ ★ ★

● A change to allow school districts to join with other districts in operating school buses for any federally supported educational or recreational programs, and to authorize districts to provide buses for emergency uses.

★ ★ ★

● Authorization for the state superintendent of public instruction to rule on adequacy and location of the site and educational usefulness of any proposed new school buildings in the state.

The board also discussed a legislative bill that would have required the consent of parents for any psychological tests of school pupils. Members argued that a policy statement by the board would be better.

A law, they said, would be too restrictive since schools depend on such tests to learn how to help pupils. But, they added, the state needs safeguards against misuse of information obtained in the tests.

Chicago Probing Plunge of Elevated Railway Cars

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Transit Authority officials continued today to look into the causes of the derailment and subsequent plunge to the ground Wednesday of two elevated railway cars.

One person was killed and 25 were injured. Four of the injured remained in hospitals. The dead man was William McCullough, 49.

★ ★ ★

George De Ment, chairman of the CTA, said some kind of "foreign material" on the track may have derailed the last two cars after six 43,000-pound steel cars passed the obstruction.

Other officials theorized the two cars may have been derailed earlier and that contact with the intersection of a switch may have caused the cars to drop 25 feet over the side of the elevated structure.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. as the southbound Jackson Park express approached the Indiana Avenue station at 41st Street on the city's South Side. There were 50 persons aboard the train.

★ ★ ★

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said, "It was a good thing the derailed cars were southbound. There would have been hundreds aboard the train had it been going the other way (toward the Loop) at that hour."

★ ★ ★

The train's motorman, Samuel Jones, 38, a 15-year veteran, said the train was traveling at 10 miles an hour when the derailment occurred. De Ment said he believed Jones acted competently.

★ ★ ★

CIA officials said it was 53 years — Jan. 18, 1913 — since any part of "L" train had plunged to the street.

Gift She'll Enjoy Before Christmas

A festive Christmas starts in the kitchen. Before the tree is up or presents wrapped, mom is as busy as Santa cooking Christmas treats.

One of the best helpers she can have at such a hectic time is a large-capacity, no-frost refrigerator-freezer. She can start preparing food well in advance and store everything from cranberry relish to mince pie in the freezer compartment.

When the big day arrives, or holiday guests drop in, all she needs to do is defrost the food and heat it. It will be as fresh and tasty as the day she made it.

If the lady of your house doesn't yet have a modern no-frost refrigerator-freezer, don't let her wait another year.

★ ★ ★

Get her one this Christmas, and have it delivered before the holidays.

STYLISH, STREAMLINED

Today's models are stylish, streamlined and chock-full of conveniences. New thin-wall insulation lets you fit even jumbo-capacity 19-22 cubic foot model in the space formerly occupied by thick-walled, smaller-capacity older models.

Some manufacturers are now showing side-by-side models with full-length vertical refrigerator and freezer compartments.

There are also handy top or bottom freezer compartments, some with roll-out drawers which put frozen food at your fingertips.

★ ★ ★

Most models come in festive colors as well as white, and many have interesting wood-grained or textured finishes.

NO-FROST FEATURE

One of the biggest conveniences available in new models is the no-frost feature. Since frost cannot build up in either the refrigerator or freezer compartments, there's never a need for messy, time-consuming defrosting. Mom will thank you for this gift all year long.

MOTHER'S HOLIDAY HELPER — Mom will have a merrier holiday if she has a large-capacity no-frost refrigerator-freezer to help out. She can prepare festive specialties ahead of time and store them in the freezer compartment until the big day arrives. And there's no danger of running out of food for unexpected guests with the large capacity, special food compartments and precise cold zone temperatures of new refrigerator-freezers.

Wider door shelves in new models now hold half-gallon bottles and containers, and most refrigerator shelves are adjustable or cantilevered so you can easily store gallon jugs and platters or bowls of food.

Automatic ice makers, available with most models, give you a continuous supply of cubes which is especially handy for the holidays.

With more precise temperature controls, food keeps fresher longer. Milk and other dairy products store for a week without flavor loss, and a special meat chest in some models keeps unfrozen meat fresh for up to seven days.

CRISPER DRAWERS

There are also crisper drawers for fruit, vegetables, and butter and cheese keepers which protect their consistency and taste.

The extra food supplies needed during the happy-eating holiday season require a miniature at-home supermarket — a large-capacity refrigerator-freezer serves this purpose.

With staples on hand, and specialties safely stored in the freezer compartment, mom can take time out for last-minute gift shopping, to help decorate the tree, or join the festivities with her family and friends.

★ ★ ★

Without modern kitchen appliances, the Christmas season may be about as welcome to mom as it was to Scrooge. But the gift of a new no-frost refrigerator-freezer can change humbug to happy day not just at Christmas, but all through the year.

Favorite Golf Items Bring Warm Thanks

A dozen favorite golf balls, a pair of golf gloves, a golf cart if the giver is in a generous mood, or perhaps a golf bag is guaranteed to bring warm thanks on Christmas morning.

It's best to stay away from golf clubs, unless they can be exchanged, because they're as personal as a custom tailored suit.

And if you're thinking about a golf bag select one that suits the clubs it will carry as well as the person who will carry it.

There is as much variety and style today in golf bags as there is in golf clothes, says Milton Goldberg, president of Richard Milton, a California manufacturer, whose golf bags are used on the world's most famous courses as well as on pitch-and-putt greens.

★ ★ ★

The choice of bags, says this expert, ranges from the shapes of the tops and bottoms, to their colors, their weights and their materials.

KEYSTONE SHAPE

Some golfers prefer what is known as a Keystone shaped top, others an oval or rectangular top. Bottoms are round and oval.

Be sure, says the manufacturer, that the bag is well balanced and will stand without toppling. This makes for easier carrying, less possible club-damage and longer wear.

A padded carrying strap, available in most price ranges, is a must for comfort. Test the zippers to be sure they slide easily and are securely stitched to the openings.

And if it's for a traveling man who looks forward to a relaxing round after a heavy day, there is a lightweight bag especially designed for air travel or for fitting into a car trunk loaded with business paraphernalia.

Useful Murals

New in the shops this year are panoramic prints, suitable for Christmas gift wrapping or decorating.

The enchanting images of a child's Christmas are beautifully translated in these delicately colored murals that tell well-loved Christmas stories on a single sheet. Subjects include "Santa's Workshop" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas," by Norcross.

Try Your Creativity on Festive Board Centerpiece

A "collage" for Christmas, easy to make and costing under two dollars, presents an attractive centerpiece for the festive board.

Following the family holiday dinner it can be mounted on a wall or placed on a sideboard as an added decoration during the 12 days of Christmas.

A holiday creation of the arts and crafts department of the O'Brien Corporation, paint manufacturers, the centerpiece can be made with inexpensive materials that are usually found around the house.

It can be completed in an hour or two and stored away for next year too.

Household glue, paint, paper doilies, drinking cups, 3 sizes of tree decorations and, believe it or not, drinking straws are the magic supplies for an artistic effort.

Easy-to-follow directions require simply covering a 15-inch square of smooth masonite or beaver board with flat white paint.

When it dries, glue on three straws in each of the four corners, 6 inches for the long and 4½ inches for the short lengths. Glue 6-inch doilies to the four outer sections, between the straws.

Then, spray the entire board with a desired color of aerosol paint or enamel. Vary the tones of the coating by making the edges of the board darker. Allow enough time to dry.

★ ★ ★

Glue eight 2-inch star decorated paper cups in a circle and place small ornaments in the spaces between. Place four cups on the second tier and secure one upright in the center.

ORNAMENT SIZES

Glue medium sized ornaments in all the cups but the upright which should have one twice as large. Two small ornaments may then be glued together between the cups on the second tier.

Variations in the theme may be created by the imaginative do-it-yourselfer. Pine cones may be substituted for ornaments, for example. Figures of elves or angels may also become part of the design that will give the Yule board a new look.

State-Owned Car Use OK'd for Senators

LANSING (UPI) — The State Senate yesterday added a fringe benefit — the use of state-owned cars — to the higher salaries state senators will receive upon taking office in January.

★ ★ ★

House members, who joined with their Senate colleagues last June in boosting salaries of legislators to $15,000, including $2,500 in expenses, are expected to seek a higher mileage allowance from the state to make up for the newly won Senate privilege.

The resolution on use of state-owned cars whipped past the Senate with only mild protest from lawmakers, mostly Republican, who later screamed the plan was a "giveaway."

Republican Senate leader Emil Lockwood of St. Louis was quick to say he would ask new GOP lawmakers who will control the Senate during the next four years not to take advantage of the use of the state cars.

★ ★ ★

Veteran Republican lawmaker Sen. Frank Beadle, St. Clair, said after the resolution passed the action could "open up too many avenues for use of state autos."

CHRISTMAS PRESENT

Another Republican, Sen. Charles Zollar of Benton Harbor, called the move a Christmas present by the Democrats.

★ ★ ★

"I feel there will be uses of the privilege that cannot be controlled by any rules which might be promulgated, and I voted against the resolution in view that I feel that this Christmas present is not in the best public interest," he said.

★ ★ ★

A major condition for use of state cars is that state senators must waive their usual 10-cents-per-mile travel allowance, which included air, rail and bus transportation to Lansing.

Humans breathe in oxygen and breathe out carbon dioxide; plants take in carbon dioxide and give off oxygen.

Board Looks to Mott Foundation

OEO to Halt Education Program Aid

Pontiac School Board members, already plagued by an oft-rejected winter Head Start proposal, learned last night that the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) will stop funding School Community Action Programs (SCAP) next month.

Halting of federal outlays through the OEO will affect the community school programs at Jefferson Junior High School and Bagley, Bethune, Franklin and Whittier elementary schools.

The board approved an allocation of up to $14,156 to keep the programs running to June 16 on a minimal basis.

School administrators said they were hopeful the sum would be bolstered by a $12,000 contribution from the Mott Foundation in Flint.

★ ★ ★

They said the item will be included in the budget request to be submitted Saturday by Dr. David Doherty, assistant director of the Mott Center for Community Affairs at Oakland University.

SKELETON PROGRAMS

If Mott Foundation help is forthcoming, the school system will be able to maintain skeleton programs at the elementary schools.

Without it, only Jefferson will continue as a SCAP center.

Administrators had estimated it would cost the district $57,600 to continue operating the programs at their present level, which provides for a $2,400 expenditure each week.

★ ★ ★

"I don't believe we can expect any further support for community schools from the OEO," Assistant Schools Supt. William J. Lacy said.

SPENDING HALTED

With its budget slashed by Congress, the OEO has ceased spending on educational programs of this nature, he noted.

The board is sharing the cost of the community school program at McConnell Elementary School with the Mott Foundation and is operating similar programs at Wilson Elementary School with federal funds through the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and at Eastern Junior High School with local money.

In other action, the board passed a resolution urging the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) to approve the school district's latest proposal for child development centers.

★ ★

Since June, the commission has rejected six Pontiac School District plans to operate the centers as the winter counterpart of the Head Start program.

Carrying an unfavorable recommendation from the OCCEO's education committee, the seventh proposal is to be considered by the commission next Wednesday.

The revised plan considered by the education committee Monday calls for busing youngsters to provide racially integrated classes.

It provides that classes be held in three Pontiac schools and at Central Methodist Church, Church of the Advent and All Saints Episcopal Church.

★ ★ ★

The education committee Monday night objected to the lack of any classes in predominantly Negro schools, according to B. C. VanKoughnett, director of community action programs for the school district.

VanKoughnett said this was a new requirement which had not been discussed previously.

The education committee proposed that the school district submit another revised plan by Jan. 9 to be considered by the committee Jan. 16 and by the full commission Jan. 25, he said.

He noted that five of the 25 education committee members attended Monday's meeting and that three of those present voted on the resolutions concerning Pontiac's proposal.

★ ★ ★

The resolution adopted by the school board last night was proposed by Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer to seek prompt OCCEO action "so that preschool programs for children may begin operation immediately following the holidays."

School Trustee James L. Howlett, also an OCCEO member, received no support for his suggestion that the resolution include a paragraph reiterating the board's willingness to cooperate on future programs and to meet further qualifications.

"We have made this clear in the past," Board President Monroe M. Osmun said.

★ ★ ★

School board member Dr. Robert R. Turpin expressed puzzlement at the attitude of education committee members.

"They apparently have some feeling against the school system and I'm at a loss to figure out what it is," he said.

SEARCH CAR FOR CLUES — Keith Young and Ray H. Thompson Jr. (right), members of the Indiana State Police Investigation Division, search for fingerprints in an automobile that belonged to a girl found slain near South Bend, Ind., Nov. 18. The car had been the object of a nationwide search since the body of Eileen Marie Alex, 19, Allen Park, Mich., was found. Indiana police recovered the auto Tuesday in Indianapolis.

Job Training Plan at Hospital Okayed

The Pontiac Board of Education last night approved an agreement for use of three Pontiac State Hospital buildings for a vocational training program.

The $1,041,964 program will be operated with federal funds under provisions of the Manpower Development Training Act (MDTA).

Cost for use of the three state hospital buildings is not to exceed $49,620.

Covering an 18-month period, the agreement has yet to be approved by the State Department of Mental Health and Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Under the agreement, approximately 87,000 square feet of space would be provided in the Sawyer Cottage, the Stevens Cottage and the former dairy barn.

NOT SUITABLE

The buildings are no longer considered suitable for hospital use and have been scheduled for deactivation.

The hospital will provide utilities and services for heat, water, electricity and trash pickup.

Purpose of the Basic Education, Multioccupation Training Program to be established by the school district will be to train disadvantaged youths and adults.

★ ★ ★

Courses will be offered in auto body repair, food services, nursing aide, building maintenance, service station mechanics, clerk-stenography and domestic skills.

NURSING PROGRAM MOVES

The practical nursing program, now housed in the Hubbard Building on Perry Street, would be moved to the hospital site.

Also approved by the board last night was a two-year labor contract covering 178 school district groundsmen, auto mechanics and operational personnel.

The agreement with Local 719 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees' Union will be considered by union membership Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Included in the package is a 6 per cent wage increase for 1966-67, retroactive to July 1, and a 5.5 per cent raise in 1967-68.

AVERAGE $350

Raises this year will average $350 per employe.

New fringe benefits include a life insurance policy, increased health insurance payments by the board, added sick days and holidays and a larger uniform allowance.

★ ★ ★

Cost to the board, excluding additional holidays and sick pay, will be $78,377 in 1966-67 and another $82,114 in the 1967-68 school year, according to Assistant Schools Supt. Richard C. Fell.

Airport Fee May Become Necessary

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Francis T. Fox, general manager of the Los Angeles Department of Airports, said today it may become necessary eventually to charge air travelers a fee for the use of airports.

In a paper prepared for an aviation forum sponsored by the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Fox took issue with a recent suggestion by Knut Hammarskjold of Sweden, director general of the International Air Transport Association.

Fox said Hammarskjold implied, as a spokesman for the major international airlines, that the airports should pass on the benefits of their improved financial position to the airlines.

"I propose that an exact opposite course would be a major step toward solution of the financial crisis facing the airport operators," Fox said.

UAW Facing AFL-CIO Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO said yesterday its largest constituent union, the United Auto Workers, is behind in its financial payments and faces automatic suspension if it does not meet next week's deadline.

★ ★ ★

An AFL-CIO spokesman said the UAW has failed to pay its $90,000-a-month per capita tax since September.

The third payment is due Dec. 15, at which time federation rules provide for automatic suspension for nonpayment without just cause.

Disclosure of the problem followed a statement by UAW President Walter Reuther to newsmen less than 48 hours ago that his differences with AFL-CIO President George Meany were "fundamental."

DIAMOND DREAMS — For all lovely ladies this Christmas, dreams can come true in the precious star-fire of diamond jewelry which the most cost-conscious of Santas can afford. The dainty diamond pendant shown here — a sparkling brilliant on a delicate chain — is one of many lovely and loving gifts which will enchant her through a lifetime of Christmases.

Resolve Dissolves: Waistlines Grow

On Christmas Day, many Americans will push away from the dinner table feeling more stuffed than the turkey they just ate.

Resolve dissolves and common sense evaporates under the Yuletide onslaught of turkeys and hams, mashed potatoes and candied yams, rolls and butter, gravies and pies.

Countless diets are wrecked by holiday fare: at one sitting, a hearty eater can put away 2,000 or more calories, the calorie requirement for a whole day.

And that doesn't include second helpings. Indulgence takes its toll in extra pounds, blooming waistlines and creeping regret.

As you sit lazy and heavy in an armchair listening to the cacophony of indigestion, think of the ways you could have had your cake and a diet, too.

● You could have passed over the fudge brownies and settled for an apple or a handful of carrot or celery sticks when you decorated the Christmas tree.

● You knew dinner was going to be big, so why the big breakfast? For instance you could have had eggnog Metrecal — only 225 calories, and quite in the holiday spirit.

● Had you watched all those calories before dinner, you could have asked for a second helping of turkey or ham and taken a bigger than usual slab of pie or cake without a nagging conscience.

● Instead of gobbling up Christmas cookies and leftovers for a late dinner, you could have munched on Metrecal cookies to satisfy your hunger and spare the calories.

Holiday diets don't have to be a gastronomical bore. Dietary food and drink can balance those big, calorie-crammed meals

S-T-R-I-K-E, YER OUT! — Hit 'n' Run Baseball adds exciting new realism to table-top versions of a favorite game. Innovations include a ball bearing baseball which the pitcher delivers down a metal ramp and across the plate in a realistic manner. The batter slams the ball into play with a lever-action bat. The offensive player now turns a crank to run his players around the bases. He must reach base safely before the ball finds its way back to home plate from an outfield baffle maze.

Correct Signature Etiquette for Your Greeting Cards

Whose name comes first if you use a card with your names printed or engraved on it?

Here the wife's name is courteously used first: "Mary and Tom" (or "Mary and Tom Green").

If a Christmas card is engraved with the sender's names, with "Mr. and Mrs.," should these be at the top or bottom of the card?

Always at the top. Otherwise, they might seem like a signature.

When signing the card, whose name is written first — the husband's or wife's?

It is courteous for the person signing the card to write the other's name first. For example, if you sign the card for you and your husband, it should read: "Tom and Mary."

When swimming, an electric eel emits a series of 50-volt discharges about 50 times a second.

Preschoolers' Toys Are Tools for Learning and Discovering

For parents, grandparents, uncles and aunts who play Santa Claus for preschool youngsters, the selection of toys for Christmas is often a confusing and frustrating experience.

Solving the "toy dilemma," not just at Christmas, but all year around, is simplified when parents realize that a preschooler's toys are his tools for learning and discovering, not just idle amusements.

To aid parents — and other family Santas — in making the right decisions in this important area, Playskool Research suggests several guides to toy selection.

Toys should be correct for the child's particular stage of development. They should match his state of physical and mental growth — not just his calendar age. Toys should challenge — but not frustrate — his growing skills.

* * *

The pre-school child's toy should be well-constructed, and wooden toys should be close-grained, with rounded corners and sanded surfaces to prevent splinters. All removable parts should be oversized — too large to be swallowed.

NONTOXIC PAINT

Make certain that paint on the toys is nontoxic, safe for the youngster who "tastes" everything.

Youngsters give toys a workout, so playtools should be sturdy enough to withstand pre-school energy.

Research consultants suggest this list of DON'TS if you're shopping for Christmas toys for preschoolers:

DON'T run out to the toy stores in search of the "latest gimmicks." They usually hold only fleeting interest for the child, and then wind up broken or on his toy shelf — permanently.

DON'T buy toys just because they are "perfect miniatures" of the adult world. Remember that young children love to use their imagination with a toy and bring it into their world of make believe.

DON'T buy electrical toys for young preschoolers. He prefers to "make the toy work" by himself — and it's safer, too.

DON'T put all your Christmas toys in one stocking! Spread your toy budget throughout the year. Children's interests and skills change and develop quickly, and they love having "Christmas" several times a year.

DON'T buy toys because they appeal to you. Think of the child's interests and needs first.

With the proper selection of the "right toys for every age," parents can help a child become an adult for whom learning will always be fun.

Thieves Steal Telephone Lines

MELBOURNE (AP) — Thieves have been busy on the telephone line between Guildford and Daylesford in Central Victoria — stealing it.

In recent weeks nearly three miles of the copper line has been snipped from the poles. Police say the high price of copper is the reason for the continuing thefts.

Ring for Mother

Did you know there is a ring created especially to honor Mother?

A ring containing her birthstone, that of Dad and each of the children makes a most appropriate and sentimental gift this Christmas.

CHILD-SIZED SILVER GIFTS — Children and parents alike will love this lustrous silver rattle and teething ring merrily a-jingle with a shiny silver bell. Particularly lovely and useful are the silver handled child's toothbrush with removable brush and feeding spoon which lets Mother test the food temperature at the handle end. By Towle Co.

Can't Put Castle Under Tree? Romantic Robe Next Best Idea

Husbands with romantic ideas about gift buying for Christmas will find the fashions this year support their fondest dreams.

In seasons past, conservative-minded wives have tended to look askance at long, flowing at-home wear.

In elegant turnabout, women are baring their knees by day and covering their ankles after five in the most romantic wrap-up of all this Christmas.

On the home front, the ladies have decided it's high time they played as dramatic a role as any star on stage.

* * *

Most of the new loungewear, no matter how filmy it may look can be put in the washing machine, so there's no extra care price on home-scene glamour.

HOLIDAY COVER-UPS

Designers for Gossard-Artemis, who have master-minded a large and handsome collection of holiday season cover-ups, say husbands will be revealing facets of their own personality by the styles they select.

The man who fancies his wife in an empire robe may yearn for luxury, simplicity and ease of the Napoleonic era.

If his eye falls on a velvet coachman coat with glittering buttons, he's probably spent at least a moment ot two in his life dreaming about the stately life of an English lord.

If he wraps up a full-length robe with flowing back, he may have a secret desire to visit Camelot and chat with Guinivere.

VIVID COLORS

In keeping with the richness of these private life fashions are the soft, quilted fabrics, and the vivid colors which include violet, cherry, avocado, marigold, ruby red, and gold along with basic blue, turquoise and pink.

Even linings are a color delight, with surprising contrast of violet outside and deb blue inside, or avocado with pink.

Gowns come long, supple, and flowing to match these robes, an old-fashioned touch that never looked more up-to-date.

Doing away with the must-be heavy-to-be-warm idea, designers combine layers of nylon tricot for warmth with a light, almost floating look.

BARE ALL?

Why are women baring all during the day, and covering all in the evening?

Designers say it's the romantic side revolting against the excessive trimness of the daytime look.

A woman's palace is her home, and in it she still likes to play the queen with grace and ease in something long, flowing.

Gentlemen, if you can't put a castle under your tree, wrap up the queenly robes!

Some People Better Off Fat

By Science Service

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Some fat people are better off than skinny. They might thin down physically, but emotionally, they cannot tolerate the demands placed on thin people.

★ ★ ★

To a "psychologically fat" man, obesity is one way of avoiding upleasant mental or physical challenges, Dr. Howard D. Kurland reported to the Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine meeting here. Until he loses weight, such a man has no significant psychiatric disturbance.

By strict dieting, men can thin down, but many of them shoot right back to butterball status, said Dr. Kurland.

One patient, he found, after losing 50 pounds, discovered he was expected to be more ambitious at work and more physically and sexually active at home. He stood these "psychologic hardships for little more than a week" and then "overate massively," said Dr. Kurland.

Uniform Traffic Ticket Eyed

Sometime in the next few months, a joint decision will be made by state officials on adoption of a uniform traffic violation ticket.

Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, who attended a recent conference on proposed ticket forms, expressed yesterday strong sentiments in favor of a "simplified" version presently used by city police.

McCallum, who helped implement the present city ticket form in 1959 when Municipal Court assumed control of the violations bureau, branded some of the proposed new tickets as "a lot of nonsense."

The judge cited as an example of "overcomplication" a ticket presently used by a South Oakland County suburb.

The form is 10 inches long and over four inches wide, contains 61 blanks for noting road conditions and driving behavior and is limited strictly to traffic violators.

SAMPLE TICKET

"Look at our form," McCallum said, holding up a sample ticket used by Pontiac police.

The Pontiac form, besides identifying the defendant, makes only four other basic notations: location of the alleged violation, and weather, pavement, and traffic conditions.

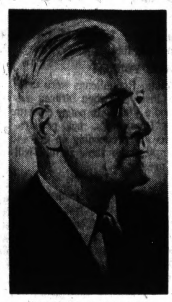
In addition, the ticket is designed so that it may be used to cite other city ordinance misdemeanor offenses, such as disturbing the peace, etc.

"One strong ground for objection to the 'comprehensive' ticket is that it tends to prejudge a defendant," McCallum declared.

NOTATIONS

"Indications as to 'just missed an accident' and other notations on the ticket put two strikes against a defendant right off the bat.

"I say skip all the paperwork needed in filling out an involved ticket and let the officer testify in court.



CECIL B. McCALLUM

"Not only that, it's unfair to a motorist to hold him up at night or in bad weather while the officer takes 10 minutes to fill out a ticket."

Final decision on the form of the uniform ticket will be reached jointly by the State Legislature, the Michigan Bar Association, the Michigan Supreme Court and the state attorney general's office, McCallum said.

Football Spectators Also Have Injuries

CHICAGO — Injuries at football games are not confined to players. At the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, for example, heart attacks endanger one and sometimes two spectators during the home games, which bring 65,000 cheering fans to the stadium.

So far in 1966, three fatalities have been prevented by the quick action of physicians, nurses, technicians and volunteers manning a specially set-up room.

★ ★ ★

The resuscitation unit, equipped with an electrocardiograph, defibrillator and oscilloscope, is believed to be the only one of its kind in the U.S., Dr. Kenneth D. Rose, chief, medical research, University Health Services, reports in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Detergent Aids Are Patented

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — A new class of chemicals, useful for detergents, was disclosed in three patents granted here by the U. S. Patent Office.

The chemicals are made starting with dimethyl sulfoxide, or DMSO, a by-product produced in the manufacture of wood pulp and a widely used commercial solvent.

DMSO in purified form was touted as a cure-all drug beneficial in treating a wide variety of ills, from arthritis and bursitis to headaches and burns. Clinical experiments with DMSO are now virtually suspended pending an investigation by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

Commercial DMSO is a colorless liquid with a faint odor that has been described as resembling garlic.

It is treated with such strong alkalis as sodium and potassium forming sodium and potassium methanesulfenates that are then reacted with alkyl bromides to form sulfoxides, which make good detergents.

The three patents, 3,288,858 through 3,288,860, were issued to Drs. Warren I. Lyness, David E. O'Connor and Jim S. Berry, who assigned rights to Procter and Gamble Company, Cincinnati.

Getting in College a Matter of Degree

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — As everyone knows, it is becoming increasingly difficult for high school graduates to get into the colleges of their choice.

By "choice," I mean colleges their parents can afford. And by "afford," I mean the amount their parents can borrow from the friendly neighborhood usurer.

WEST

I was talking with a friend who has two daughters, one in high school and the other in elementary school. During the conversation, I asked where he had spent his summer vacation.

"We don't take vacations any more," he said. "We spend the summers trying to find a college for Susan."

"What's the big hurry?" I said. "She is only a sophomore."

★ ★ ★

"That's Mary," he said. "Susan is a fifth grader."

Since I happen to have a daughter who is a high school junior, my friend's remark left me in a state of mild alarm.

Last week I went for an interview with the director of admissions.

"I am interested in having one of my children enroll here," I said. "What are the prospects?"

"That depends," the director replied. "Is your wife pregnant?"

"Not that I know of."

"Good," he said. "That will help your chances."

I said, "What has my wife not being pregnant got to do with it?"

★ ★ ★

"Some people foolishly wait until their children already have been conceived before trying to get them into college."

I said, "I was thinking in terms of a college for my daughter in high school."

"You are much too late."

"How about the one in the sixth grade?"

"It's too late for her, too."

"My son in kindergarten?"

"I can't offer you much hope. At the moment we are only accepting unborn children."

HUNTS ENEMY DEAD — An 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment sergeant wades through man-high elephant grass searching for the bodies of Viet Cong who ambushed a cavalry supply convoy on South Viet Nam's Highway One about 50 miles from Saigon. House GOP Chiefs Map '67 Domestic Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders are mapping their 1967 domestic legislative program in a series of meetings with defense and economic experts, legislators and governors.

★ ★ ★

One session has been held, and four more are planned in the next two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The finished product will be unveiled by GOP leader Gerald R. Ford in the Republican evaluation of the "State of the Union," expected to take place about a week after President Johnson's "State of the Union" Message. Congress reconvenes Jan. 10. No dates have been set for the President's major messages.

★ ★ ★

As was the case last year, Ford is expected to discuss domestic issues, such as inflation, the draft, taxes and government spending, while Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen analyzes foreign policy.

SAME FORMAT

Some Republicans were critical last year when Dirksen outlined a Viet Nam policy close to the President's, but preparations are proceeding on the assumption the same format will be used.

★ ★ ★

The Republican leaders held one session here last week on federal-state relations. The GOP position in this area has already been detailed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House GOP Conference.

★ ★ ★

This is a tax-sharing plan under which a fixed percentage of tax revenues would be returned to the states, with an added amount going to poorer states.

On Friday, Ford plans to meet in Colorado Springs, Colo., with the members of the Republican Governors Association — 32 GOP governors or governors-elect. The Michigan Republican hopes for strong endorsement of the tax-sharing measure.

Two sessions are planned next week, one on defense policy and the other on crime and law enforcement.

The first, on Dec. 14, will bring together senior GOP members of the armed services and appropriations committees with a number of retired military leaders, including Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations.

In Dem Caucus

Income Tax Chances Die

LANSING (AP)—The last dim chance for a state income tax this year flickered and died Wednesday in the House Democratic caucus.

Meanwhile, the Democrat-dominated committee on House policy tried to write the Democrats' proposals for equal leadership of next year's equally divided chamber into the rules of this year's House.

★ ★ ★

A motion by outgoing Rep. H. James Starr of Lansing that the majority caucus endorse passage of fiscal reform, probably including an income tax, in the postelection rump session that began Wednesday was discussed and voted down, Democrats said.

"There wasn't much support for it," said Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, who was presiding over the caucus at the time.

'WASN'T CLOSE'

"The feeling was that we, as a lame-duck legislator, shouldn't try to impose our will on the people in something like this," he said. "We took a vote, but it wasn't very close."

Democrats on the House Policy Committee approved an amendment to House Rule No. 1 providing that when the House is evenly split between the parties, as it apparently will be next year, it must elect cospeakers, one from each party.

★ ★ ★

Democratic leaders have urged that this be done next year, but Republican leaders have opposed the idea. Wednesday, the House Republican caucus formally turned the proposal down.

Slayer Tripped by Phone Call?

Woman Overhears Confession in Mix-Up

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Somewhere in the United States a three-time killer may read this story and feel a gnawing fear.

He perhaps made that one mistake police say many criminals eventually make — the need to share the terrible secret with another.

This killer — who shot and stabbed to death Robert W. Sims, 42, his wife, Helen, 37, and their daughter, Joy, 12, last Oct. 22 at Tallahassee — apparently was compelled to call his mother by long-distance telephone.

A mistake in line connections brought in a third party who overheard the confessions, police revealed yesterday.

★ ★ ★

A woman, whose identity was being kept secret for obvious reasons, said she was making a long-distance call when she was unintentionally connected with another call.

INSIDE INFORMATION

She reported she heard a man say: "Mother, I have just done a horrible thing. I have killed three persons."

She also heard other information on the Sims' slayings that police believe only the killer could have known.

Authorities have not said where the woman was when she heard the confession or when the call occurred. But telephone company officials narrowed the destination of the call to about 200 telephones in Brevard County.

A thorough investigation is under way, but so far has failed to produce the recipient of the call.

There are approximately 75 million automobiles on the nation's highways.

West Virginia Poverty War Firm Closes

COWEN, W. Va. (AP) — A cabinet making plant, staked to $631,236 in loans from federal, state and private sources, is closing down after 10 months in business as an antipoverty project.

Its president partially blames the failure on inadequate financing.

"We're out of money and failed to make a profit," said Clyde Leslie, president of the Wood Turning Co. "If you don't have enough money to start with you are in trouble."

Leslie announced Wednesday that the plant in this small central West Virginia community was shutting its doors after filling a few remaining orders. Its 60 employes had made television cabinets, kitchen cabinets, chairs and other wood products.

OPENED LAST FEBRUARY

The firm opened last February after receiving loans of $267,000 from the Economic Development Administration, $75,000 through a Small Business Administration guarantee, $129,236 from the West Virginia Industrial Development Authority and $160,000 from private sources.

"When you start a new business," Leslie said, "you have troubles," adding that he felt a buyer could be found for the plant and its equipment.

★ ★ ★

The failure was the second in West Virginia involving a business created as an antipoverty project.

The National Seating and Dimension Co. near Williamson in the southern part of the state went bankrupt two years ago despite receiving federal loans totaling $1.5 million. The plant also produced wood products.

Modern Electric Ranges Ease Chores of Christmas Cook

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without holiday cookies, a festive fruit cake, or tasty-tempting home-made candies.

But much as the family enjoys these holiday specialties, they do mean a lot of extra work for mom.

A modern electric range, which simplifies all cooking, is a perfect Christmas gift for a homemaker who likes to cook and bake, especially if she has it in time for her heavy holiday schedule.

Modern electric ranges have precise temperature controls which maintain an even heat to assure the best cooking results.

* * *

Most models have at least one thermostatic surface unit which automatically stays at pre-set temperature all through the cooking process. No time or steps are wasted on heat readjustment.

NO BURNING OR BOILING OVER

Even delicacies like sauces and custards cook to perfection without burning or boiling over. Instant-heat elements cook food faster to preserve their taste and nutritional value, and water boils more quickly. The range monitors the food while the cook is free to wrap presents or entertain her guests.

For banquet-sized holiday meals, double ovens available with all new model electric ranges are especially convenient.

Because of the extra capacity and separate temperature controls, an entire Christmas dinner — turkey, vegetables and dessert can be cooked simultaneously. The smaller oven is handy for warming hot breads, rolls and muffins.

* * *

The easy-clean features of electric ovens are important all year around, but especially at Christmas when there's little time for clean-ups. Ovens have disposable foil liners, teflon-coated or chrome walls or pull-out drawer.

SELF-CLEANING OVENS

Some new models have self-cleaning ovens with a high-heat cycle that automatically burns off all grease and grime. Oven doors lift off, and racks and shelves are removable for quick cleaning at the sink.

Cleaning ease has come to the range top, too. All models have stain-resistant finishes that sponge clean. Heating elements tilt up or lift off, control dials can be pulled out, and drip rims are recessed to catch spilled liquids. Food fragments can't accumulate or harden, because they burn right off the electric coils.

There are a variety of electric ranges to choose from: free-standing, drop-ins which slide onto a low base, built-ins which have surface elements set into a countertop, and ranges with eye-level ovens that save stooping and bending.

* * *

Wall ovens have the same advantage and can be placed in any convenient area.

Marine Hero Has Trouble After Telling of Viet Battle

GROSSE ILE (AP) — The hero of the battle of A Shau in Viet Nam faces mandatory retirement. He also has drawn a reprimand for telling a newsman about the battle in which he won the Navy Cross.

Lt. Col. Charles A. House, 45, a 25-year veteran of the Marine Corps, said the retirement will be mandatory because he has been passed over twice for promotion to colonel.

★ ★ ★

He also confirmed reports of the reprimand.

"There is no way of knowing whether reprimand had anything to do with my being passed over," he said in an interview Wednesday. "This is a very competitive promotion. There are a lot of lieutenant colonels but not many colonels."

IT IS CLASSIFIED

House, a native of Burlington, Iowa, refused to say anything more about the reprimand because it is "classified."

"I've done well and I'm not bitter," he said. "But I just can't talk about all this beyond that."

★ ★ ★

"And," he added, "I could lose my pension."

Last March, when his helicopter was shot down, House took command of about 70 American Special Forces and Vietnamese troops under attack at A Shau by the Viet Cong.

LED TROOPS

For five days, House led the troops on a retreat into the jungles, eventually finding a clearing where helicopters could drop in to rescue them.

As the helicopters arrived, the Vietnamese panicked, overloading one helicopter and hanging on the outside of it. Wounded men were left behind.

★ ★ ★

House tried to restore order, but was ignored, and finally he ordered his men to shoot. Seven Vietnamese were killed and others wounded before the rescue operation could proceed.

The Marine Corps said House did what had to be done. The Vietnamese government agreed, awarding him the Cross of Gallantry.

POOR JUDGMENT

But later the Marine Corps said House used poor judgment in telling of the incident to CBS television newsman Jack Lawrence. The reprimand stemmed from this discussion.

★ ★ ★

House was recommended for the Navy Cross by the corps after the battle, but the Navy Department decided instead to award him the Silver Star, the third highest award.

★ ★ ★

"Last Sunday, I got word that it was the Navy Cross after all," House said. "I am very pleased, of course." The Navy Cross is the second highest award.

House has been stationed since Sept. 23 at Gorsse Ile Naval Air Station as executive officer of the Marine Air Reserve training operation.

ENLISTED IN NAVY

He enlisted in the Navy, was chosen for the flight cadet program and, when his training was completed, chose the Marine Corps. He said he had planned to make it a career.

House said he expects to leave the service next July 1. He plans to settle in Macomb, Ill., where he has relatives, and is considering a civilian career in real estate or insurance.

Veep Urges Clergy: Press Social Reform

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today concluded a round of talks with American church leaders after summoning them "to the barricades" to press ahead with social reform in America.

★ ★ ★

"We need your help," he said.

Here on a swift overnight visit at the biennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches, Humphrey said the recent national surge toward greater social justice now faced a mood of reaction.

'MUST NOT RUN'

"We must not run from the struggle," he told an estimated 5,000 people who packed the Fontainebleau Hotel ballroom and gallery Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

He said the churches have been the vanguard in stimulating a "rebirth of American idealism and an outpouring of action for civil rights, equal opportunities, and to end slums and poverty.

★ ★ ★

"I have been walking along side you and I hope most of the time with you," he said. But he said other forces of "reaction and disillusion" have brought in question whether the forward movement will go on."

School Lunch Prices Up, May Go Higher Next Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Millions of children across the nation are paying more for their school lunches this term — and some may have to pay still more in early 1967.

★ ★ ★

School lunch prices are set locally, and federal authorities have no direct power over changes.

But an official of the federal school lunch program today told of reports that in many areas youngsters were meeting the sharpest price increases in several years.

A preliminary report from an Agriculture Department survey of price changes in school lunchrooms showed that, of 831 schools in five states, 308 had raised their prices. In most cases, the increase amounted to 5 cents per lunch.

★ ★ ★

Local officials cited three major factors behind the increases: rising labor costs, rising food costs, and a drop in donations of food from the Agriculture Department during the early part of the school year.

MORE FOOD

The department expects to be donating more food to the school lunch program in the months ahead, but labor costs probably will continue to rise, according to officials.

Howard Davis, head of the department's Food Distribution Division, foresees the possibility of some further increases in school lunch prices during the last half of the school year.

He said the increase might come in some rural and small city schools and might result from the new federal minimum wage legislation, which goes into effect Jan. 1.

Extend Lulls Into Armistice, Pope Urges

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI urged today that the Christmas truce in Viet Nam be extended into an armistice that would allow negotiations for peace.

The Pope said the prospect for an end to the fighting in Southeast Asia appeared to be brighter.

"The idea of an end to hostilities is becoming stronger and more confident," the pontiff said in a speech in St. Peter's Basilica during a Mass marking the Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

"If, as it has been announced, a further cessation of hostilities is to follow shortly on the Christmas truce, why do not both parties to the conflict join the two separate truces into a single, continuous period of time, so that new ways may be explored of bringing about an honorable understanding putting an end to the conflict?"

Pope Paul said he had planned to invite the combatants in Viet Nam today to lay down their arms during Christmas.

Tornado Hits Missouri Town

ROLLA, Mo. (AP) — A small tornado touched down briefly in downtown Rolla early today, police said.

Four or five buildings were damaged and a roof was blown off a church. Power lines were reported downed.

★ ★ ★

No injuries were reported. An estimate of the amount of damage was expected to be moderate, police said.

Winds gusted at 60 miles per hour at both Columbia and Springfield, Mo. Heavy rain and hail also was reported.

DAMAGED THEATER

In Springfield, the wind blew out plate glass windows in the downtown area and damaged a drive-in theater on the south edge of the city.

★ ★ ★

A tornado watch was in effect for southwest and central portions of Missouri, and portions of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas at the time.

Pay Phone in Jail Tapped

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Police Department said Wednesday, in response to newsmen's questions, that it had installed a wiretap on a public pay telephone used by prisoners in a police headquarters cell block.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Ray Girardin said a "monitoring device" had been installed legally with the consent of one of the parties who used the line. He said the man was working with the department on a case.

★ ★ ★

The wiretap is in the 9th floor cell block at headquarters. Officers assigned to the internal security commissioner's squad monitored the wiretap from their offices on the floor below the cell block.

CONSIDERING A NEWSPAPER CAREER?

The newspaper is no place for someone who likes it soft. Newspaper work is hard and challenging, intellectually and physically.

But there are rewards—good financial rewards and other rewards, too.

The newspaperman knows he contributes to keeping people informed, and no society can remain free without information.

He helps his newspaper mirror the community's thinking, and a society must exchange its best thoughts to motivate its highest achievements.

He and his newspaper provide businessmen with an unparalleled way for telling the community about their products and services, and a free marketplace cannot exist without news of the marketplace.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Al Morehead was Culbertson's right hand man for many years. In "Morehead on Bidding" he quotes Ely as saying: "The biggest invisible losses come when the opponents are defeated three tricks undoubled."

JACOBY

We hold no brief for South's bidding. He should have passed at two spades or three diamonds but he didn't. West recognized the signs of a misfit and while he didn't have much of a hand he felt that a double would pay dividends.

It did. West opened the four of spades. The deuce was played from North and East won the trick with the king. He returned the ten of hearts. South went up with the ace and led the deuce of diamonds. West played the three, dummy the queen and East was in again with the diamond ace.

East led the nine of hearts. South's queen lost to West's king and West led the jack of diamonds. It was allowed to hold and West continued with the ten. This was won in dummy and South led a spade to his queen.

South's next play was the deuce of hearts. He hoped this would force the jack but West won with the seven and cashed his nine of diamonds. Eventually West had to give South two club tricks but West's double had produced a 700-point penalty.

An interesting feature of the double is that if West had held a better hand in high cards for his double the penalty would never have reached the 700-point figure. Just move the ace of diamonds over to his hand and North's king and queen of diamonds would have both made tricks.

Detroit Bandit Cuts Woman in Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — A knife-wielding bandit slashed a woman patient at Grace Hospital-Northwest late Tuesday when she told him she had no money in her room.

★ ★ ★

The patient, 41-year-old Mrs. Betty McIntosh, was not seriously hurt.

Mrs. McIntosh told police a man woke her by leaning over her bed and pressing a knife to her throat. She said the man ordered her to be quiet "or I'll cut you."

CUTS THROAT

She said the man cut her throat and right forearm when she denied having money. The man finally fled, she said.

Associate Hospital Director Dr. Frederick W. Hyde said the hospital had hired private guards two years ago.

"But," he said, "it appears that no matter how tight the security, someone who knows his way around can get in."

Arizona Burglars Uncharitable

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Burglars made off Wednesday with 400 pounds of meat and 25 dozen eggs from St. Vincent de Paul Society's charity dining room.

The food was for hundreds of hungry poor and destitute people at Christmas.

State Viet Victim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Wednesday that Marine Pfc. John E. Cantion J., of East Lansing, Mich., was killed in action in Viet Nam.

Winter Shutdown of the Soo Locks Is Under Way

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Coast Guard Wednesday began preparing the Soo Locks for their winter shutdown, emptying the Davis Lock of water and thus closing it to traffic.

The Sabin Lock is expected to be closed next Tuesday. Closing of the MacArthur, the largest, will depend upon when the final downbound ship from Lake Superior clears, likely sometime next week.

★ ★ ★

Normally the locks shut down around Dec. 15.

★ ★ ★

The Poe Lock, now in the process of being replaced, has not operated during the past shipping season.

Clarkston Area Homes to Vie for Yule Prize

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Area Jaycees announced plans today for their fourth annual outdoor Christmas decorating contest.

Decorations will be judged Dec. 20, according to Gordon Spelbring, chairman of the contest.

To the winner will go a $25 gift certificate and the Jaycees' "Traveling Santa Trophy." The runner-up and third-place finisher will receive $15 and $10, respectively.

All residents of the immediate Clarkston area are eligible to compete in the contest, according to Spelbring.

★ ★ ★

"The contest is not only to encourage residents to decorate their homes and yards," said Spelbring, "but to recognize and reward those who have put such time and effort into attractive decorations for others to view."

The response to past contests has been outstanding, said Spelbring, who remarked that more than 500 homes were judged last year.

'I'M THIS OLD' — Mary Anne Roumayah answers one of Santa's questions before starting the serious business of telling him what she wants for Christmas. Her sister, Michele, waits patiently on St. Nick's lap for her turn.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Roumayah, 115 Arvida, Walled Lake, are visiting Santa in his fantasy land in Walled Lake.

Detroit Water Vote Planned in Imlay City

IMLAY CITY — Residents of this Thumb area community will have an opportunity to state their wishes for Detroit water in an advisory vote set for the general spring election.

The council ordered the vote at its recent meeting. Imlay City now has a municipal well system, but Harvey Weatherwax, village manager, says the quality of water is poor.

Detroit water, due to arrive in the area on the Port Huron arm of the system, would cost the community about $250,000, according to Weatherwax.

Once it is determined whether the people want Detroit water, then, Weatherwax said, we'll decide how to pay for it.

★ ★ ★

Imlay City has a choice of handling the costs alone on special assessment or tap-in fees, or of joining the new Lapeer County Utilities Authority.

Metropolitan Parks Offer Winter Fun

Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority reports that with the coming of winter, the area's parks are ideal locations for winter sports fun.

The Authority says Kensington Metropolitan Park southeast of Brighton is ideal for tobogganing, skating, ice fishing, hiking and picture taking.

Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mount Clemens offers perch ice fishing and area for ice skating.

At Stoney Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester, panfish and pike are reported caught.

★ ★ ★

Ice skating is available at the Winter Cove picnic area.

First Methodist Church Slates Musical Drama

CLARKSTON — The 12th Century musical drama, "The Play of Daniel," will be presented by the ministry of music of First Methodist Church at its 10 a.m. Sunday worship service.

The church choirs will be assisted by guest soloists and instrumentalists.

Playing the lead role of Daniel will be David Lemelin, a baritone from Detroit.

Lois Smith, Spenceley Butters, Philip Smith, Daniel Addis and Jackson Byers will sing other leading roles. Acting as narrator will be Rev. Lewis C. Sutton, pastor of the church.

The presentation will be conducted under the direction of Adele Thomas, director of the ministry of music.

Costumes were designed by Mrs. Joel Smith.

I-75 Extended

LANSING (AP) — A 1.4-mile, $4-million section of I-75 in Oakland County opened to traffic yesterday, the State Highway Commission said. It extends from Bernard Street north to Manatee Street in Hazel Park.

Santa at Home in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE—Santa Claus has come to town and, from now until Christmas, he will preside in a fantasy land created in part by pupils at Walled Lake Junior High School.

The pupils, under the direction of the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce, have transformed the empty Professional Building at 1050 W. Maple into a North Pole scene.

The children are enrolled in the art classes of Mrs. Carol Davidson and Ronald Menegehel.

Area merchants, local service clubs and city officials also helped with construction and decorations.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Santa's house and workshop, there are false store fronts depicting a pet store, book store, toy store, bakery and candy store.

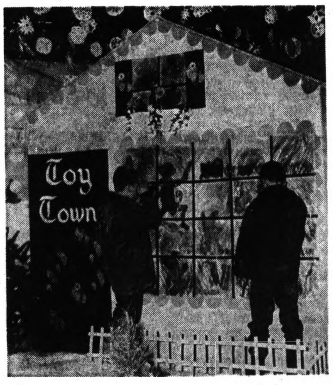
SANTA'S HOURS

Santa will be in his fantasy land from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. each Saturday until Christmas.

Walled Lake merchants are also sponsoring free cartoon shows for children at the Lake Theatre at 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Dec. 13 to 15 and 20 to 22.

★ ★ ★

Tickets can be obtained from most Walled Lake stores.



TIME FOR DREAMING — A real toy store would be even better but Todd and Scott Coe, 1548 Beverly, Walled Lake, use their imaginations as they peer into Toy Town which helps decorate Santa's fantasy land in Walled Lake.

Farmington Water, Sewer Services

Fees Case to Court

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The township is going into court to insure that residents of an area recently annexed to the city of Farmington continue to pay their fair share of water and sewer service.

Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan has filed for a declaratory judgment in Oakland County Circuit Court seeking a declaration of the rights of both the township and the city in the matter.

He is also seeking an injunction to stop the city from extending its own water and sewer lines to the area and bypassing the systems presently there.

In the Nov. 8 general election, 457 acres of the township were annexed to the city.

The area, like the rest of the township, is served by two sewer districts, for which residents pay a total tap-in fee of $500, and one water district at a cost of $95.

Property owners in the interceptor sewer district must pay a $350 connection charge toward the liquidation of the township's portion of the debt of the interceptor on Middle-belt Road.

The interceptor was built by the Oakland County Department of Public Works to be used by several communities.

In addition, persons tapping into this interceptor through the Taribusi arm must pay a $150 tap-in fee.

To tap into the water line, residents must pay $75 plus a debt service charge of $5 a quarter until the debt is paid off.

NO COMPETITION

All contracts require the township not to build any competing systems, according to Brennan. He said all sanitary sewage is to be channeled to the interceptor.

A competing water system would mean there would not be enough revenues from tap-in fees to pay for the present system.

Now, Brennan said, the city claims it won't use the present systems and that it will extend its own lines.

The city contends that it is only required to pay a percentage of the assessed valuation of that part of the township which it annexed.

EQUIVALENT REVENUE

"Our theory is," he said, "that because this is a revenue financed system, the city must collect from the residents revenue equivalent to what people in other parts of the township are paying."

If the township looses the connection fees, it will lose $800,000 in revenue, Brennan said. This would mean that fees in other sections of the township would have to be increased.

Residents in the area in question petitioned the City Council Monday night to extend water and sewer lines to their area.

City officials are now working on engineering plans and cost estimates for such a project.

Library Service Pact Signed

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Services formerly provided to the township library by the North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS) will now be furnished by the Wayne County Public Library.

The Township Board has entered into a contract with the Wayne County facility in an effort to maintain adequate library services for township residents.

NOLCS, a cooperative effort among several northern Oakland County communities, was thrown into confusion this fall with the withdrawal of Pontiac, the main cog in the system.

In other business, township residents Marie Brendle and John Lynch have been named to represent the township on a committee assigned to find a suitable place for a new landfill site.

★ ★ ★

Residents of Groveland and Brandon townships also are serving on the committee.

GRANTED SDM LICENSE

The Township Board recently granted an SDM license to Jean Pierre at 5748 Clarkston.

2 More Dogs Found Dead

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — More dead animals turned up Wednesday on the streets of Southfield.

Police held out the possibility that the new finds — two dogs — may have been accidentally hit and killed by a passing automobile.

Last week 39 dead dogs and cats were found scattered along residential streets. All were female. Cause of their deaths have not been determined, police said.

"If the animals were poisoned we will be interested to know how and where because of a possible public health hazard," said Dr. Theodore M. Barr, Oakland County Public Health Department veterinarian.

OES Bazaar Saturday

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Thomas Order of the Eastern Star at Oakwood will hold a bazaar and family-style ham dinner at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The public is invited.

New Controversy Over Romeo Chief

AREA NEWS

ROMEO — The position of police chief has again become what is alleged to be a "hotbed of political disagreement."

Lyle Jewell, who said he was asked to resign as police chief last week after nearly three years in office, has now withdrawn that resignation.

In a letter to Byron Nichols, village president, Jewell said, "Because of the many phone calls, personal visitations and continued pressure from citizens of the village of Romeo, I have decided to withdraw my resignation, formerly submitted under your suggestion and pressure on Tuesday, Nov. 29, 1966."

Jewell also requested a hearing at the council meeting next Monday night.

The appointment of a police chief is the prerogative of the village president as set down in Romeo statutes.

TERMINATION DATE

The chief is appointed for a one-year-term. Jewell's term would have been over on April 1 after the spring elections, he said.

Jewell said this is at least the fourth time and possibly the fifth that such a controversy has changed the police chief position in Romeo.

When Jewell was appointed almost three years ago, he assumed command from the then-chief, now Sgt. Charles Meeker.

★ ★ ★

Meeker is once again acting as chief since Jewell presented his resignation on the order of the village president.

Jewell had served in the department three years prior to being named chief. He is 51 years old and lives at 74303 Burk in Armada.

Shelby Board to Set Deadline on Course

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Deadline for completion of a golf course at Mt. Vernon Golf and Country Club, Mt. Vernon Road, was expected to be fixed at the next township board meeting Dec. 20.

The board recently reviewed new stockholders in accordance with liquor license provisions.

Spokesmen said the golf course should be ready in two years.

Petitions for two county drains were forwarded to the Macomb County Drain Commission.

Orders were given to establish special assessment districts for the Gravel Ridge Drain, servicing the Maeder Subdivision at Shelby and 23 Mile, and for the Shelbydale Drain between Van Dyke and Mound, north of 24 Mile.

The board voted to pay $1,500 of a cost of $6,000 for the Lewis Drain crossing on 22 Mile. The Macomb County Road Commission will pay the remainder.

Steps were taken to halt dispersal of trash along Hamlin at Ryan on property owned by E. J. Brane. Brane was asked to help the township in a cleanup campaign in the area. He does not live on the property.

A new ordinance controling construction of culverts, swales and driveways was ordered prepared and another dealing with trespassing was passed.

Township residents may now register at the township office for protection against trespassing. Registration will make levying of a fine possible in proven cases.

The township attorney was instructed to start suit against the Sandy Ridge Rifle Range on 23 Mile where safety precautions have been thought inadequate.

Christmas Concert

AVON TOWNSHIP — Heart of the Hills Church of Christ will present the Great Lakes Bible College Choir of Lansing in a concert of Christmas music at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church. Elmer Nicholson is choir director.

Contracts Let for Plant and Sewers

WIXOM — Contracts for construction of the city's new sewer system and treatment plant were awarded yesterday to two low bidders.

The construction contract was awarded to Holloway Construction Co. of Wixom in the amount of $3,923,887.

The treatment plant contract went to Gay Brothers Construction Co. of Pontiac for $404,061.

An Oakland County Department of Public Works spokesman said the contracts were awarded subject to the approval of general obligation bonds which will be used to finance the project.

★ ★ ★

Construction is expected to start soon after the bond sale on Jan. 11, and be completed by December 1967.

City officials had hoped for a federal grant to cover a portion of the cost but it did not come through.

Guild Will Hear Prof

Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Guild of Auburn Heights will meet at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the parish hall. Sister Mary Solanus IHM, professor of psychology at Marygrove College, Detroit, will speak.

Headquarters of Firm Ready

Complex Completed in Pontiac Township

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Nine weeks ago there was only brush and weeds where the new $350,000 headquarters of the Utley-James Co. now stands at 1100 Opdyke.

Consisting of a modern all-brick two-story colonial office building and three huge metal warehouses, the firm employs 64 people.

The buildings are situated on 7½ acres of ground.

The company, which is one of the five largest building contractors in the state, is the product of a recent merger between the 50-year-old Utley Co. of Detroit and the newer James and Savage Co., in business in Detroit since 1962.

★ ★ ★

Fred B. Walsh, president, who lives at 1265 Bielby, Waterford Township, called the new Pontiac Township location ideal with its access to expressways.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Much of the company's business, he said, is done in Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Lansing.

He cited the Lansing Oldsmobile administration building, the Chevrolet V8 engine plant in Flint and the new addition to Saginaw Steering Gear as part of its accomplishments.

Walsh said the newly merged company expects to do an annual $30- to $35-million business.

Tentative Rate Set for Walled Lake Water

WALLED LAKE — The City Council has set a tentative water rate schedule for the city's proposed expanded water system.

The basic minimum rate was set at $3 per month per one-family residence. Anything above this rate will be charged at a rate of 25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

City Manager Royce Downey said the cost would be spread over the entire community with the exception of those areas with a community water system such as the Carroll Lake and Tri-A subdivisions.

The $1,334,000 expansion will tie together the two existing systems.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the council has approved the zoning ordinance as set up in the future land use plan.

As stated in the land use plan, the ordinance will be most effective in preventing the scattering and mixing of land use types.

It is designed to protect existing development and, where possible, provide the desired future use of land.

White potatoes contain 78.3 per cent water.

List Weathers Profit Taking

Market Rally Rolling Along

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally rolled along in active trading early this afternoon.

The list weathered some profit taking, taking some losses among some of the recent strong gainers, but managed to stay well ahead on balance.

Airlines were up at the start as the market carried through on yesterday's rally but profits were taken soon and most of these issues converted gains into losses.

Some fairly sharp losses were shown among aerospace issues. Oils became spotty. The tone remained generally higher among autos, steels, utilities, rails, building materials and drugs.

AVERAGES UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.8 at 296.9 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .4 and utilities up 1.1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.18 at 813.19.

The near-term objective of the Dow industrials, analysts said, was the Nov. 16 recovery high of 820.87. A decisive breakthrough at that level would throw open the chance for a continued recovery, they said.

Ike Entering Hospital Today

'I Have Many Rocks in Me,' Quips General

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to enter Walter Reed Army Hospital at midday to prepare for removal of his gallbladder.

"Apparently I have many, many rocks (gallstones) in me," the 76-year-old, five-star general quipped Wednesday. "I have asked the doctors to save me a few."

Eisenhower is to come here from his Gettysburg, Pa., home by car or helicopter.

Date of his surgery has not been announced, but Eisenhower said he expects to be hospitalized for 12 days — leaving him time to get home for Christmas.

TESTS FIRST

Doctors have indicated they'll schedule the operation after Eisenhower has undergone presurgery tests, which may take three or four days.

The original announcement Monday that Eisenhower would have his gallbladder removed did not specify that he had gallstones — but the general confirmed the presence of the stones.

He also told newsmen Wednesday at Gettysburg that he and his wife, Mamie, now plan to leave for Palm Desert, Calf., Jan. 4 instead of Dec. 28 as previously scheduled. They traditionally winter in that Southern California desert community.

Eisenhower appeared jovial and relaxed at the informal news conference.

NO DETAILS

Doctors have offered no details on the nature of tests they will administer. Usual preoperative tests include blood-chemistry studies, a chest X ray, electrocardiogram of the heart and X rays of the gallbladder.

Eisenhower, however, was hospitalized at Walter Reed about two weeks ago for what was described at the time as a routine physical examination. He may have undergone his gallbladder X rays then.

Doctors not associated with the case say that while presurgery tests for a gallbladder operation — aside from the gallbladder X ray itself — can be completed in a single day, Eisenhower's doctors might want to keep him under observation for a day or two more to make sure he is rested.

They say this is not unusual in nonemergency surgery — particularly for older patients.

The hospitalization is his fifth for a major illness in 11 years. The surgery will be his second in 10 years.

The previous surgery, in June 1956, was an emergency abdominal operation after he was stricken with regional ileitis, a constriction of part of his small intestine.

Especially for Youngsters

Stock Gifts Boosted

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The New York Stock Exchange has just completed mailing to its members some information on how to promote shares of stock as Christmas gifts, especially to youngsters.

CUNNIFF

The exchange described such gifts as "both different and practical," as "more personal than cash," as "combining sentiment with good sense," and as adding "excitement and involvement to life."

★ ★ ★

Immediately, some wags contended that at today's depressed stock prices certain shares might substitute for the Christmas card but hardly for the gift itself.

The exchange, thinking otherwise, explained its conviction in a letter to executives of brokerage houses. Such gifts, it is said, "create good will and help educate a whole new generation of investors."

STUDIES SHOW

As proof of the potential market, exchange officials noted that studies show "a promising area for growth in our business over the years ahead lies among youngsters under 21."

As proof of the existing market it noted that: "An estimated 1,300,000 minors now own stock —a figure which has tripled in the past three years and increased more than 500 per cent in the past decade."

This increase in stock ownership by youngsters is one of the most fundamental changes in stock ownership of recent years. It is no accident. Once it was difficult to give stock. Legislation now has made it routine.

As the exchange notes, and many people have discovered, there are distinct advantages to the recipient: growth, dividends and the educational value of having a personal key to the American economic system.

DISADVANTAGES

There are disadvantages: the possibilities that dividends won't be paid or that the value of the shares will decline. With caution and wisdom, however, there is a good chance of picking growth stocks that might some day help finance a college education.

For the donor there are tax advantages. Each year a couple can give gifts totaling $6,000 and still be exempt from federal gift taxes.

★ ★ ★

In addition, by shifting the money from parental ownership to the child's account, the donor shifts income from a higher to a lower tax bracket-perhaps even out of reach of taxes.

Few people are going to give $6,000 away at Christmas, even to their children. But the example shows how liberal the laws are.

Parents who give stock to children still may claim the $600 federal income tax exemption for each child regardless of the child's income from the gift.

ONE-HALF SUPPORT

The usual provision exists, however, that the parent must pay at least one-half the child's support and that he is under 19 or a full-time student.

The donor, or a custodian he appoints, may buy, sell, collect dividends and reinvest for the minor's account. No Indian-giving though—the stock may not be reclaimed by the donor.

A gift of stock can be purchased or transferred in the usual manner, simply by walking into a brokerage office and asking for the information. Most brokers have or can quickly obtain the forms needed.

Air Disaster in Nebraska Laid to Storm

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Testimony of crash witnesses, meteorologists and contents of a tape recording of cockpit conversations indicated that turbulent weather caused the crash Aug. 6 of a Braniff Airlines plane near Falls City, Neb.

Thirty-eight passengers and the crew of four died in the flaming crash.

★ ★ ★

The testimony of the witnesses to the plane's fall, the meteorologists, and the release of the tape recording came Wednesday at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing.

The taped voices were identifiable and tended to confirm that the plane broke up in severely turbulent weather on a flight from Kansas City, Mo., to Omaha.

TIME PINPOINTED

CAB investigators have pinpointed the time of the accident at 11:12 p.m. The tape picked up much of the cockpit conversation during the last 9½ minutes of the flight.

The first indication of weather trouble came at 11:02 when either the pilot, Capt. Donald G. Pauley, or the first officer, James A. Hikkiker, commented: "It's getting a little rough."

The crew asked Kansas City and Chicago for authorization to change course and reduce altitude from 20,000 to 5,000 feet.

There was some indication that the pilots may have been considering an emergency landing.

LANDING GEAR DOWN?

That came from the tape recording indicating that the horn warning that landing gear was down had sounded.

Final comment 35 seconds before time of impact with the ground was followed by a sound similar to that of rushing air. Eight seconds later the first loud sounds, described as indicative of structural break-up, occurred. They were followed by air noises, more unintelligible speaker transmissions and warning horns.

Dingell: Widen Ship Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP — Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., said Wednesday he has asked the Coast Guard to expand its investigation of the sinking of the ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell and report on safety standards for all Great Lakes ships.

Dingell — a member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee — said stricter safety standards "are probably needed" to prevent disasters such as the Morrell sinking.

★ ★ ★

The 60-year-old Morrell broke apart and sank off Harbor Beach, Mich., during a Lake Huron storm Nov. 29. One of the 29 crew members survived.

Dingell said he planned to introduce legislation in Congress next year to help modernize the Great Lakes fleet, possibly by providing federal assistance.

LAKERS AGING

The fresh water of the Great Lakes tends to lengthen the lives of ships, he said.

But, he added:

"There must be a limit, and I cannot help but wonder whether we are watching the aging of our lakers closely enough. Many other carriers operating on the lakes are similarly aged and are rapidly becoming obsolete."

Burglars Take $100 in Lincoln School Break-In

Burglars broke into Lincoln Junior High School at 131 Hillside early yesterday, using two heavy hammers to break into the school's walk-in safe, according to Pontiac police.

Missing from the vault, officials indicated, was approximately $100.

★ ★ ★

Police said a 10-by-20-inch hole had been smashed in the wall at one side of the safe.

The hammers were found in the office where the vault was located. Desks were also ransacked, police said.

Veteran GM Exec to Retire Dec. 31

Stanford Landell, general director of manufacturing engineering for Ternstedt Division, General Motors Corp., will retire Dec. 31.

Landell of 1420 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township, joined General Motors as an engineer with GM styling in 1936.

★ ★ ★

In 1943, he was transferred to the Oldsmobile Division in Lansing; in 1953, he was promoted to director of product engineering and sales for the Brown-Lipe-Chapin Division, Syracuse, N.Y.; and in 1957, he became works manager.

In 1962, he took his present job.

Service Station Robbed of $110

A service station attendant told Pontiac police he was robbed of $110 early today by several men, one of whom leveled a sawed-off shotgun from a car window.

Wade Jones, 27, an employe of the Clark Gas Station at 382 Orchard Lake, said the car came into the station about 5:45 a.m.

★ ★ ★

"Give me all your money," Jones quoted the gun-waving bandit as saying.

After taking the money, Jones said, the men fled the station in the car.

Officer Quits: Pay Too Low

A Pontiac policeman submitted his resignation today, citing "low pay" as the principal factor in his decision to accept an outside position.

Patrolman Stephen J. Georgeff, 30, joined the department last January. He had worked in the patrol and traffic bureaus as a uniformed officer.

The resignation will be effective Dec. 17.

$1,881 in Wallets Taken From Trucks

A reported 46 dozen women's and and girls' wallets were taken from two semitrailer trucks on the city's near east side, Pontiac police said today.

The billfolds were valued at a total of $1,881, according to officials at Mid-American Truck Lines Inc., 212 Osmun.

★ ★ ★

Police said a few of the wallets were recovered not far from where the trucks had been looted at the company's parking lot.

GRADUATION CAKE—Chancellor D. B. Varner of Oakland University (right) and Martin J. Caserio, a General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, prepare to cut the cake marking the first graduating class of a 90-hour basic management program cosponsored by the university. Among the 52 graduates feted in ceremonies last night at OU were George W. Holmes (left) of 139 Riviera, Waterford Township, and James H. Burgin of 2365 Pontiac, Pontiac Township.

52 GM Supervisors Graduate

Diplomas were handed out last night to 52 supervisors from GMC Truck and Coach Division in ceremonies at Oakland University.

Recipients were the first graduates of a three-semester industrial management program cosponsored by the university's division of continuing education.

The course offered 90 hours of instruction in basic management principles, written and oral communications and economics.

OU Chancellor D. B. Varner, who presided over the ceremonies with Martin J. Caserio, a General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, described the program as "a pioneering concept tailored to the needs of industry."

He said the training would enable the supervisors to contribute even more importantly to the industrial posture of the community.

MEETING CHALLENGE

Caserio complimented the graduates for their initiative in volunteering for the program and said they had "taken steps to meet the challenge of leadership." He termed their participation evidence of developing "the questioning attitudes."

He said that this management philosophy consists of asking oneself five key questions: "What am I doing? Why am I doing it? Is it absolutely necessary? If necessary, how can it be improved? If not, can it be eliminated?

"With these questions," he added, "an individual or a manager can measure the importance and effectiveness of virtually any area of endeavor."

★ ★ ★

The supervisors, mostly engaged in manufacturing operations at GMC Truck and Coach, enrolled in the program in February after it was organized by S. C. Barker, divisional education and training supervisor, and Dr. Russell E. Elliott, assistant dean for professional development programs under the division of continuing education.

★ ★ ★

Classes were held Wednesday evenings and Saturday mornings to permit the supervisors attendance following their work shifts.

Buying a Pet for Yule? Use Your Common Sense

With Christmas fast approaching, many families are considering a pet as the ideal gift. Whether it be a frisky puppy or furry kitten, there is a pet to fit any taste.

According to the Oakland County Veterinary Medical Association, common sense rather than sentiment should prevail in making your selection.

Suit the pet to your environment, the age and number of people in your family, and your way of life. Large dogs are fine if you have the space, while small dogs or cats are more suited to apartment living.

Before you bring the pet into your home, it should be weaned from its mother and thus 6 to 8 weeks old. Otherwise, age is not particularly important if you keep in mind that the older the pet, the more difficult it is for it to transfer loyalty from one person to another.

★ ★ ★

Choose a healthy pet by careful selection, but to make sure your final choice is "in the pink" have it examined by your veterinarian.

MAY SUGGEST TEST

The veterinarian can also advise you at that time which vaccinations are necessary to protect your pet against the appropriate canine or feline diseases.

He may also suggest a routine test to determine whether or not your dog or cat is bothered with worms or other internal parasites.

To housebreak a dog completely may take a minimum of a few weeks and possibly a few months. Patience and time combines with a realistic approach are the key factors to success.

★ ★ ★

Establishing a routine and following it no matter what the personal inconvenience, is vital to accomplishing your aim.

'PAPER TRAINING'

"Paper Training" is one of the popular methods of housebreaking a puppy. Keep the puppy confined at first on a thick layer of newspapers. His own instincts will compel him to use this area and return to it.

Gradually remove most of the papers so that the idea of using one particular becomes rooted in the dog.

When replacing soiled papers with clean ones, always leave a scrap of the former, to serve as a scent to guide him.

Take your pup outdoors at frequent intervals and, if you wish, carry some of the soiled paper with you to help the dog know what is expected of him.

Housebreaking a cat is relatively easy. Provide him with a litter box and put him in it at regular intervals.

Coast Guard Team Will Examine Ship

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two Coast Guard officers will go to the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Friday to examine the E. Y. Townsend, sister ship of the ill-fated Daniel J. Morrell.

★ ★ ★

The sinking of the Morrell last week in Lake Huron, in which 28 crewmen died, is the subject of a Coast Guard Board of Inquiry investigation which opened Monday in Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

The investigation was recessed until further notice Wednesday by Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, who heads the board, after testimony from Roy F. Dobson, chief dispatcher for the Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s fleet. Bethlehem operated the Morrell.

Toilet Music Stopped Up as Illegal Move

GLENROTHES, Scotland (AP) — This town's musical toilets weer silenced today.

The new public toilets in the towncenter were opened a few weeks ago. To provide soft music, a tape recorder was installed.

★ ★ ★

The charge for using the toilets was increased from one penny to three pennies.

Then the Performing Rights Society, which protects composers and musicians from exploitation, advised the council that playing of the taped music came under the heading of a public performance. It demanded a license fee.

★ ★ ★

The issue will be debated in Town Council shortly.

The gardenia was named after Alexander Garden, an 18th-century physician who lived in Charleston, S. C.

ATS Satellite Drifting West Above Pacific

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's new ATS multi-purpose satellite drifted slowly westward above the Pacific Ocean today, aiming for a stationary orbit 22,300 miles above Christmas Island.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that in about 12 days control jets would jockey the satellite into the desired location.

★ ★ ★

While it hovers over one point on earth, ATS, for Applications Technology Satellite, will test new space communications and weather forecasting techniques.

Included will be continuous weather photos of one-third of the globe, the relay of color television and other communications between the United States and the Far East, and evaluation of aircraft communications via satellite.

FIRST OF FIVE

ATS, the first of five such satellites made by Hughes Aircraft Co., was launched from Cape Kennedy Tuesday night.

The state capitol at Austin, Tex., is the largest in the United States.

'Smart' Injured in Fight Scene

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Shooting at Paramount Studios of the NBC-TV "Get Smart" series has been suspended for several days while star Don Adams recovers from a broken nose.

Adams, who portrays the bumbling hero Maxwell Smart, suffered the injury last night while rehearsing a fight scene with actor Steve Gravers.

After a doctor had stopped the bleeding, Adams was asked how he felt.

"I feel like I got hit in the nose and it hurts," he replied.

New Degree Set

YPSILANTI (AP)—A seventh bachelor's degree—in fine arts—was established Wednesday by the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents. Other bachelor degrees at EMU are in arts, science, art education, business education, business administration and music education.

First world's fair was held in New York City in 1853.

Shucks His Maryland Farm and Returns to Hollywood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Robert Mitchum, who's given up his farm in Maryland and returned to Hollywood—despite all the things he said about not wanting to live in Hollywood—gave a party in his new place in Pacific Palisades for 200 people, with his wife Dorothy and son Jim. Lee Marvin was there, but there were no fights.

WILSON

We hear Bennett Cerf hit the ceiling about distributing a book called "The Leader," a thinly veiled story about his friend Frank Sinatra, and refused to do so, but that Bernard Geis got publishing backing elsewhere for it. (Frank and Mia hosted a dinner party at Trader Vic's—including the Salvador Dalis—then watched the frugging at Arthur) . . . Jack Warner dined at Voisin with Christiane Schmidtmer; she's joined the Bob Taplinger-Serge Semenenko bicycle set, the Wheeler-Dealers.

Hey, did anybody in St. Louis find my contact lens?

No, huh?

I'd just driven to the St. Louis airport from the University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale. I went straight to the men's room to see if the lens wasn't stuck, or something—and it wasn't even there. That's what the men's room attendant, and also a barber next door, assured me, and was I embarrassed! I wasn't going to look over the whole floor of the St. Louis airport, as you can understand.

An experience like that shakes you up. A valuable contact lens gone down the drain—literally. Man, I need a drink, I said. Ah, the Kitty Hawk Bar! I rushed right in and exclaimed to the bartender: "A double martini!"

He looked at me pityingly.

"We only have beer," he said. "Local option county. Beer county, you know . . ."

I was so mad I almost drank a Milwaukee beer. Didn't, though, of course. I found St. Louis beer quite adequate for drowning your troubles in.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mamie Van Doren's last Latin ¼ show was dedicated to her husband, baseballer Lee Meyers—he was celebrating his 20th birthday . . . Red Buttons showed up at Gallaghers' wearing a paper tuxedo (and telling the waiter, "Don't spill water on it!")

Edie Adams, who claims her ancient Rolls Royce has got to the stage where it "was $500-ing her to death," is suing a garage which she says seems to have been responsible for defects in the car which she never understood. She says maybe the garage's drivers were taking it out when she was absent. It's a matter of principle, says Edie. She no longer needs the old car, picturesque as it is.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Shelby Friedman says he was raised in a small town that was so slow the 10 o'clock news didn't come on till 11.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Social climbing has been defined as the art of stepping on the right people."

EARL'S PEARLS: When you marry (says Joan Rivers) you promise to love, honor and obey. If, after a year, you're one for three, it's working out.

Marty Allen and Steve Rossi have in their gag interviews a "conversation" with Sandy Koufax: "Sandy, now that you've retired, will you get a pension from the Dodgers." . . . "No, from the Giants." That's earl, brother.
