HOT TIME IN OLD TOWN . . . — Herman Clark Jr. and his father sail a toy schooner on the Lincoln Memorial reflecting pool in Washington yesterday as the afternoon temperature hit a summery 70 degrees. It was the warmest Dec. 31 on record in the nation's capital.

Goldberg Flies to London For Wilson Talks

2nd Peace Emissary Discusses Viet Stand With President Tito

LONDON (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg, President Johnson's special envoy, flies in from Paris today to meet with Prime Minister Harold Wilson on Viet Nam.

Another Johnson Emissary, W. Averell Harrison, met with President Tito of Yugoslavia at Brdo Castle in the northern part of the Balkan Communist country.

Their trips have been described by the White House as part of a widespread series of peace-seeking missions.

He was accompanied by C. Burke Elbrick, the U.S. ambassador to Yugoslavia. Yugoslav Foreign Minister Marko Nikezic also attended the meeting.

PREVIOUS MEETINGS

Harrison had already talked with Polish leaders in Warsaw and is to fly to India after his talks with Tito.

He was to see Tito yesterday, but fog kept his presidential jet from landing at Ljubljana Airport after it took off from Belgrade.

Goldberg met with President Charles de Gaulle of France yesterday and with Pope Paul VI on Wednesday.

Goldberg hoped to return home yesterday for New Year's Eve celebrations but surprise orders from Washington sent him on to London. This came as a surprise also to the American Embassy in London and to Wilson.

★ ★ ★

The prime minister was holidaying in the Sciliy Isles off southwest England and hoped to celebrate his 26th wedding anniversary today quietly with his wife and their son, Giles.

ARRANGMENTS

Within an hour of Goldberg's announcement, emergency arrangements were made to get Wilson back to London.

He meets Goldberg tonight at No. 1 Downing Street, the prime minister's official London residence.

NY Transit Strike Begins

TAILGATE TALK — General Motors' Pontiac Plant City Committee Chairman Thomas F. Wiethorn (center), manager of the Fisher Body plant, discusses a Pontiac station wagon body with John Z. DeLorean (left), general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, and Calvin J. Werner, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division. GM officials look to 1966 as a big year for the two local divisions.

Crash Fatal to City Teen; Five Injured

A Pontiac youth was fatally injured and four of his five companions hurt critically when their car rammed a sign post in Bloomfield Township last night.

Dead is Bruce Griffin, 19, of 24 Clovese, driver of a car which struck the large steel post in the center island on Telegraph near Quarton.

Griffin died about 3:10 a.m. at Pontiac General Hospital.

Termed critical at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Helen Robinson, 21 of 302 Ditmar; Ronald Watkins, 16, of 12 Beaudette; Charles Herron, 16, of 600 Montana; and Lucretia Dowell, 20, of 389 E. Wilson.

All suffered head and facial injuries.

IN FAIR CONDITION

Ruth Griffin, 21, fifth passenger in the car and the victim's sister, is listed in fair condition with lacerations.

In addition, two other persons are listed in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after early-morning accidents.

John Brookins, 21, of Lapeer, suffered a fractured skull when struck by a car as he walked across Opdyke Road near the intersection of Mt. Clemens Street about 3:30 a.m.

Darrell K. Gregg, 28 of Mount Clemens, driver of the car, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies Brookins staggered in front of him from the darkened roadside.

NOT HELD

Gregg was not held.

Twenty-one-year-old Mrs. Wayne L. Yeargin is reported critical after a two-car collision about 1:30 a.m. in Avon Township.

She was injured when a car driven by her husband collided head-on with an automobile driven by Douglas R. Copp, 18, 1578 Avon Circle, Avon Township.

Yeargin and Copp were uninjured in the accident.

Mayor Lindsay Works to Ease Walkout Effect

Union Chief Storms Out of Negotiations, Defies Injunction

NEW YORK (AP) — Subway and bus service in the nation's largest city was halted by a strike on this first day of the new year, and a newly sworn mayor spent his first hours in office feverishly working to minimize the effects.

Only a few homebound revelers were on the streets and trains when the strike went into effect at 5 a.m.

Less than 90 minutes later, the trains had completed their runs and were headed for the yards where pickets had begun to appear.

Some celebrants straggled into the subway stations and expressed disbelief that a strike often threatened had materialized. Tears were visible in the eyes of some teen-agers who told police they didn't know how they would reach home.

★ ★ ★

Commuter railroad and bus service from points outside the city was not immediately affected by the strike.

GIVES WARNING

Mayor John V. Lindsay appealed for cooperation from the metropolitan area's millions and warned that, should the strike continue until Monday, "only 25 per cent of those who normally travel in Manhattan will be able to do so."

Peppery Michael J. Quill, president of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, had stormed out of a meeting with city negotiators and Lindsay at 12:05 a.m., delclaring: "The strike is on."

Lindsay, who took over as chief executive of this city of eight million at midnight, prepared to spend a sleepless first full day in his new office "running the city, which is a struck city."

★ ★ ★

He said he would be available at City Hall "around the clock" until the dispute is settled.

Quill ordered the strike for 5 a.m. despite a State Supreme

Local Girl Is Leader in 'First Baby' Race

Beverly Annette Berry missed being a 1965 tax deduction by three seconds but won the distinction of being the first baby born at a Pontiac hospital in 1966.

The daughter of Fred and Elizabeth Berry, 804 St. Clair, her arrival at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital just seconds after midnight made her the likeiest winner of the first-baby contest.

The contest is sponsored by The Pontiac Press in cooperation with the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Unless an earlier arrival is reported, the baby and her 18-year-old mother will receive gifts from 25 area merchants and businessmen.

The five pounds, 14 ounce baby is the first for the Berrys.

Berry is employed at the Fisher Body Division.

Beverly was delivered by Dr. Paul Mitros.

Another girl, born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital ran a close second to the Berry baby.

At 12:07 a.m. Mrs. Donald Richardson, 5377 Burgandy, Independence Township, gave birth to her fourth child.

The first baby to arrive at Pontiac General Hospital was born to Mrs. John Sheck, 5139 Reymont, Waterford Township at 5:07 a.m.

Instead of snow flurries and freezing temperatures, the New Year greeted Pontiac area residents with a mild 42 at midnight.

Cloudy with a chance of some light rain is the forecast for tonight and tomorrow morning.

Temperatures will become somewhat colder, lows falling to 30 to 38 tonight and highs registering 38 to 44 tomorrow.

Partly cloudy with little temperature change is the outlook for Monday.

Light west to northwesterly winds at 5 to 15 miles will become variable tonight.

Thirty-two was the recording at 7 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. At 10 a.m. the mercury had slipped up to 37.

GM Execs See Big Year Ahead

A "great" economic climate for cars, trucks and buses is visualized for 1966 by the heads of Pontiac's two General Motors Corp. divisions.

★ ★ ★

Calvin J. Werner, a General Motors vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, today said the achievements of the past year "enable us to look ahead to 1966 with great optimism."

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, predicted "1966 is going to be another great year for the industry in general and for Pontiac in particular.

"In forecasting another record year for Pontiac Motor Division, we must remember that sensational 1965 was not the result of a pent-up demand from a poor previous year," DeLorean said.

"It was the fourth consecutive good year. We regard this as an indication of an economic level and not an isolated peak.

"The underlying factors that brought about our record 860,000-unit production this year are still operative."

★ ★ ★

DeLorean pointed to "new family formations, population growth, rising incomes and the mass exodus to the suburbs as factors which make more cars and multiple car ownership not only possible but a necessity.

8-YEAR-LOW

"Unemployment is at an eight-year low and, perhaps most important of all, our government is dedicated to maintaining a high level of economic growth.

"The success of the income tax and excise tax cuts have given our national economists confidence in this tool," DeLorean noted.

"Here at Pontiac, our employment has topped the 20,000 mark.

"This is nearly double what it was five years ago and 2,000 more than a year ago at this time.

NEW HIGHS

"Payrolls, likewise, are at new highs," he concluded.

Werner was equally enthusiastic about truck and coach prospects.

"Widespread acceptance of our new truck and bus models in a favorable economic climate promises GMC Truck & Coach Division and its dealers another year of vigorous business activity," said Werner.

"Broadened model coverage teamed with greater product values during the past 12 months to make 1965 our best year on record.

18 PER CENT

"Our sales were up approximately 18 per cent over 1964—4 per cent higher than the industrywide gain:

"New models unveiled by GMC Truck & Coach in 1965 included a '66 line of trucks consisting of 116 basic models and an intercity bus featuring high-level seating for peak passenger visibility and maximum under-floor baggage space.

★ ★ ★

"Demand for the new trucks and buses has been most encouraging.

★ ★ ★

"Since the new line of trucks was introduced in October, sales have climbed steadily. In fact, a

County Road Toll Falls in '65

Oakland County traffic deaths — which soared to a record 201 in 1964 — dropped sharply during the past year. An unofficial tally by The Pontiac Press shows 161 fatalities, 17 of them in Pontiac.

Official figures, compiled by the Michigan State Police and released early in February, may push the figure for 1965 higher with the addition of previously unreported or delayed deaths in the south end of the county.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, whose department handles investigation of most of the county road deaths, cited aggressive traffic law enforcement and careful driving as two reasons for the decline in the fatality count.

"I think a lot of people were just plain scared about the terrible number of traffic deaths in this county last year," Irons said.

★ ★ ★

"People became more careful behind the wheel and— in our department, anyway— officers cracked down on speeders and reckless drivers."

FEW MULTIPLES

Notably scarce in the traffic picture for 1965 were multiple-death accidents — the tragedies which claim six or seven at once and annually swell the nation's death count.

The county's worst single accident came on Jan. 16:

A two-car, head-on collision on Maple Road in Birmingham took the lives of four young persons, ranging in age from 16 to 22.

Three of the four were students at Birmingham Seaholm High School. Two other students in the same car were critically injured.

River Subsides After 'Bender'

Arizona Floodwaters Crush New Freeway

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A dry desert river that went on a bender New Year's Eve subsided slowly today after its floodwaters had crushed a new interstate freeway and cut a city in half.

The raging Salt River, flooded by the emergency release of water from brimful reservoirs, raced through central Arizona at a rate unseen in this century.

Nearly 8,000 persons whose homes had been threatened were herded into churches, school buildings and National Guard armories.

By late last night, all but about 1,700 were back home.

★ ★ ★

Major natural gas lines ruptured at two places in the river, and pleas went out to home owners throughout the Salt River Valley to use gas sparingly.

DAMAGE ESTIMATES

The estimates of damage began at $1.2 million, mostly to private property.

Panicky Crowd Tramples Four to Death at Dance

NUNEATON, England (UPI) — A girl and three young men were trampled to death during a stampede at a New Year's Eve dance here late last night.

★ ★ ★

Five other persons were taken to hospital when panic spread through crowds pushing their way downstairs from a balcony to a dance floor jammed with an estimated 900 youngsters.

★ ★ ★

The panic was believed to have been started by a man fainting in the crush on the stairs. He was trampled on and other people fell as the crowd pushed forward.

"There appears to be no question of any trouble or fighting," a police spokesman said. "It seems to have been purely sheer weight of numbers."

Drowning Toll of 22 Above 1964 Total

Eight drownings in a 33-day span early last summer helped boost Oakland County's 1965 drowning toll to 22, four more than recorded for 1964.

★ ★ ★

The unofficial count is based on figures compiled by The Pontiac Press and the water safety division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The eight-death span began with the drowning of a 16-year-old youth in Lake Orion May 26 and continued until June 27, when a lone swimmer perished in White Lake.

Included in the water tragedies was the freak drowning of an 18-month-old infant who fell from a boat ride at a Walled Lake amusement park.

★ ★ ★

Another child, aged 2, was found dead June 23 after apparently falling into Soft Water Lake in Springfield Township.

POOR SWIMMERS

The summer was marked by five more deaths in July and August attributed by authorities to lack of swimming ability by the victims.

The range of drowning deaths in 1965 — beginning with a youth who fell through thin ice Jan. 25 and ending with a 66-year-old man found at Oxbow Lake Nov. 15 — contrasts with the 1964 picture.

In that year, all 18 deaths occurred between March 31 and Aug. 4.

The Pontiac Press Wishes All Its Readers a Happy New Year

Cong Said in Hiding

Curious Lull Settles Over S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong battalions, darting out of the jungles in a dozen areas over the past week, sneaked into hiding New Year's Day and a curious lull in ground fighting settled over South Viet Nam.

Only one fairly big action was reported during the day and that was a continuation of a Vietnamese multibattalion search that began Friday in Hau Nghia Province about 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

Units lifted into the zones by helicopter flushed a sizeable concentration of Viet Cong in two significant contacts and claimed 125 killed, 63 captured and 26 weapons seized. The weapons included two mortars and two machineguns.

★ ★ ★

Illustrative of the quiet was the experience of the U.S. Marines in their big 1st Corps area in the northeast, where 290 patrols and ambush missions made little or no contact with the enemy.

AIR ATTACKS

Air attacks still were withheld from North Viet Nam and an Air Force spokesman said "none are contemplated for the moment." The lull began with the start of a 30-hour cease-fire Dec. 24.

Air Force Secretary Harold Brown arrived today for a week's tour of installations in Southeast Asia and within an hour saw action. He flew 37 miles north of Saigon to watch an attack by B52's from Guam on suspected Viet Cong hideouts in the jungles.

★ ★ ★

Air attacks against the Viet Cong also were on a diminished scale over the past 24 hours. U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots flew 267 sorties against river shipping, camps, supply and storage areas. Pilots recorded destroying 308 Viet Cong buildings, 11 sampans and some gun emplacements and bunkers.

Navy planes from carriers flew only 39 sorties over South Viet Nam but dense foliage prevented damage assessment.

TAKE COVER

The Communist bands seemed under some kind of orders to keep out of sight almost over the entire country, for the moment at least.

Some allied strategists calculated that the Viet Cong were resting and regrouping to seize some new kind of initiative.

★ ★ ★

The din of battle around Quang Ngai, the hottest spot of the past two days, also had died down. The twin-pronged attack by the Viet Cong against outposts at Minh Long and Son Ha was broken off.

★ ★ ★

Government survivors straggled into other outposts during the day, their units battered and beaten. Reports from the scene said casualties apparently were heavy.

NO INDICATION

There was no sign, however, that the Viet Cong intended to push closer to Quang Ngai City, 330 miles north of Saigon.

In fact, having thrown a big punch at Hill 66, the Son Ha outpost, the Viet Cong coolly quit it and allowed government troops to have it back. The Minh Long post was gone, however, and the South Vietnamese started to set up another post 1½ miles to the north.

The U.S. Air Force counted up its year in action here and listed 50,000 strike sorties in support of the government forces. Over North Viet Nam, the Air Force logged 10,570 tactical strikes and the B52 strategic bombers flew more than 1,000 sorties against the Viet Cong. The bomb drops totalled 23,610 tons over the north, 56,670 in the south.

Snow Is Exception in Wet December

The nicest thing about December in the way of weather was the fact that it snowed on Christmas.

The weatherman had predicted snow, but the idea was hard to accept as rain poured down on the Pontiac area most of Christmas Eve.

More than 2½ inches of rain fell during the day and evening, bringing the total rainfall for the month to about five inches.

The Christmas snow measured two to three inches and, though it didn't stay long, gave winter sports enthusiasts their first taste of what can be expected during the coming months.

It rained on Christmas a year ago.

PROVED DREARY

December proved to be dreary more than half its 31 days, but comfortably warm compared to the same month a year ago.

The temperature never fell below the 18 degree mark last month while a year ago the mercury registered around 10 degrees on several occasions, dropping to a low of five once.

The biggest recorded reading in December occurred yesterday when the temperature rose to 58 degrees, bettering by four degrees the warmest day in December 1964.

★ ★ ★

The low of 18 degrees came on two occasions last month, on the 7 and 18th.

ON SAME PATH

December took much the same path as November, but a little colder, a bit wetter and about equally as windy.

November's high, however, was almost summer like, 73 degrees on the third of the month.

Snow fell on two other days before the Christmas surprise: Dec. 16 and 20.

NY Transit Strike Is On

Court injunction obtained by the city four hours before talks collapsed.

The union leader, who repeatedly had said he would not obey such an injunction, tore up what he said might have been a copy of the court order.

"I don't know what they'll do to me and I don't give a damn," he shouted in his Irish brogue as he ascended to his top floor room in the 50-story Hotel Americana, site of the talks.

★ ★ ★

Public agencies and private firms planned for the workday movement of 15 million people in the congested metropolitan area without public transportation.

SUBWAY SYSTEM

The 236-mile subway system carries an average of nearly three million peoople daily, and its 600 separate trains serve about 9,500 persons every minute of the two rush hours.

More than a million others depend daily on the 533 miles of bus transportation. Very few New Yorkers live close enough to walk to work.

The transit talks collapsed after 12 hours of intermittent negotiations between Lindsay, Quill and union negotiators, Transit Authority Chairman Joseph O'Grady and his negotiators, and a three-man mediation panel.

O'Grady told newsmen the only offer made by the authority was a $25 million package over two years, compared to their estimated $680 million cost of the union demands over the same period.

Quill, 60, has asked for a reduction in the work week from 40 to 32 hours, and a 30 per cent pay boost. This, the city says, would boost the 15-cent fare it is trying desperately to preserve to 47 cents.

The authority faces an estimated $43 million deficit in fiscal 1965-66 without increased labor costs.

Gun Misfires; Woman Hurt

A 39-year-old Pontiac woman who accidentally shot herself in the stomach early today is reported in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Pontiac police said Mrs. Donna Barrett, 138 S. Merrimac, suffered a gunshot wound when a .765-millimeter revolver discharged as she placed the gun in her car.

The mishap occurred about 3 a.m. in front of her home.

FLOOD PANORAMA — The normally dry Salt River spilled over a wide section of south Phoenix and neighboring Tempe in Arizona yesterday as surplus water poured over two large storage dams. Water here inundated a business area and farmland, washing into a stockyard a short distance away. Some cattle stood flank deep in water as huge trucks backed up to the gates to evacuate the livestock if necessary.

Districting Efforts End in Deadlock

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Apportionment Commission admitted deadlock 66 minutes before the New Year, sending controversial Senate and House districting back to the State Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

After nearly two months of discussions and 22 fruitless ballots Thursday and Friday, the bipartisan commission conceded it could not draft a plan which met Democratic standards of population equality and Republican criteria of district unity and regularity.

Moments after adjournment, Republican commissioners issued a six-page report on the deadlock.

Democrat Robert Kleiner called the action "a clear lack of good faith on the part of Republicans in the attempt to reach agreement."

★ ★ ★

PLAN AUTHORS

Austin and Kleiner, a commission member, were the authors of the legislative apportionment plan under which Michigan has been operating for the past year. The plan was turned back to the legislature by the State Supreme Court.

The prepared GOP statement said Democrats had only one purpose — to "preserve the Austin-Kleiner alternate plan with only those changes which will further advantage their party."

The final day's negotiations centered on Senate Districts 34 and 35 in the Saginaw-Bay City-Midland area.

Republicans argued Saginaw and Bay City should be split. At present, they are in one district represented by Democrat Jerome Hart. Republican Robert Richard represents surrounding territory.

NOT ACCEPTED

Kleiner offered a plan separating the two but linking Saginaw with Midland. Republicans would not accept it.

★ ★ ★

The Senate, controlled 23-15 by Democrats, was seen as the key to redistricting. In a final bid for agreement, the four Republicans agreed to accept existing House districting in exchange for switches in six of 38 existing Senate districts.

This the four Democrats rejected.

Reduction Due GM '66 Model Prices

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. will reduce suggested prices for its 1966 models to reflect a one per cent cut effective today in the federal excise tax.

Ford, Chrysler and American Motors previously announced such plans.

General Motors said Friday the reductions will range from $14 to $65 per car.

It added the reduction also would apply to factory installed equipment.

New Dispute Smoulders in Steel Price Hike Wake

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new business - government dispute over prices greeted the New Year following Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s decision to charge more for some of its products.

President Johnson called for a meeting between company officials and his own council of economic advisers, but there was no immediate word on whether one would occur.

Bethlehem spokesmen weren't available, and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the council, declined all comment.

Earlier, Ackley said on the basis of information available, the Bethlehem action "must be characterized as inflationary and not in the public interest."

LBJ COMMENT

Johnson, spending the holidays at his Texas ranch, asserted: "This is certainly no time for unwarranted price increases which can lead to inflation."

Twice during 1965, the Johnson administration forced major industries — aluminum and copper — to rescind announced price hikes.

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy blocked an across-the-board price increase by most of the steel industry. Those attempted raises were attributed to labor costs. Bethlehem made no such statement in its announcement Friday.

The Bethlehem boosts amount to $5 a ton on structural steel shapes and piling, the basic frameworks for big buildings, bridges, highways and some heavy equipment. These products represent 7 per cent of the total steel market.

CITES DEMAND

Edward D. Bickford, Bethlehem's vice president for sales, said the increases were being made "in the light of growing industry acceptance and demand for more economical and lightweight, higher - strength structural steels and the substantially increased mill time required to produce them on a tonnage basis."

He added: "Even with the base structure revision, the cost of equivalent steel framing for structures will be less than five years ago."

Bethlehem said it had no plans to raise other prices.

At the same time, it said it was reducing prices on jumbo sections of steel used in unusually large structures.

It couldn't be determined whether other steel companies would follow the Bethlehem lead.

Viet Policy Earns LBJ a Summons

VALPARAISO, Ind. (UPI)—President Johnson has been ordered to appear in court to answer the demands of a soldier's mother that Johnson stop sending troops to Viet Nam.

Mrs. Cassie Orr, 57, petitioned the court to bar Johnson from issuing orders that would increase the war effort. She said the President was violating the Constitution and usurping the power of Congress.

Judge Alfred Pivarnik yesterday ordered Sheriff William Sidel to issue the summons for the President, but Sidel said he didn't know the proper procedure for carrying out the order.

Pivarnik, Sidel, and other county officials planned to meet Monday to discuss the legality of the issue, how the summons should be handled, and procedures.

Mrs. Orr, a former restaurant owner who was involved in a long dispute with government tax collectors, contends that her son, William, 21, who was drafted in August, 1964, should be released from the army. William is not serving in Viet Nam.

Some of the legal issues which must be settled at Monday's meeting include: whether the summons will be served through the attorney general in Washington, whether the matter applies only if President Johnson arrives in Porter County (Indiana), and whether the President has to answer summonses according to federal law.

Coup Topples President of African Republic

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (UPI) — President David Dacko of the Central African Republic was toppled from power by a military coup in the capital, Bangui, last night, Bangui radio said today.

Dacko was being held under house arrest, according to the army chief of staff, a Col. Bokassa, who led the apparently bloodless coup and took personal control of the sprawling, part-desert nation.

95 Classes, Activities Slated for Adult Program

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills School District's adult education program has come a long way since classes were first offered four years ago.

★ ★ ★

Ninety-five classes and activities are planned for the winter term that will start the week of Jan. 24, six times the number offered during the first year of the program.

Supervised by the school district's recreation department, a number of the activities are now aimed at preschoolers and young people and not just limited to adults.

The winter term will include several new courses. Among these are judo for men and women, home movies, water colors, millinery, flower arranging, horseback riding, French, tap dance and volleyball.

★ ★ ★

Old favorites returning include creative activities in art, drama and dance, bridge, oil painting, sewing, cooking for the connoisseur, antiquing and dog obedience.

RANGE OF FEES

Fees range from $3.50 to $36, while classes and activities are offered from five to 12 weeks.

Brochures describing all the courses in detail have been mailed to residents in the school district.

Patrons may register by mail as soon as the bulletins are received or may register in person at the new recreation office, located in the high school building, 4200 Andover, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

BIRMINGHAM—William Coit Allee, 420 Bonnie Brier, has resigned from the Birmingham Recreation Board.

Allee had been a member since the board's inception in 1947.

He had been instrumental in the city's acquisition of park lands and the adoption of the ordinance establishing the recreation board.

new fourth-quarter domestic sales record was established in October, November and December," Werner noted.

$20 MILLION

"As for the new 'Luxury Liner" intercity bus, orders and commitments representing more than $20 million have been received since the vehicle was announced in September," he added.

"A trucking milestone was reached in November when GMC Truck & Coach delivered its 10,000th Toro-Flow diesel truck.

"In volume production less than two years, these four-cycle Toro-Flow models accounted for approximately 50 per cent of industrywide diesel truck sales in the under five-ton weight class in 1965.

"With U.S. domestic truck sales expected to exceed 1.5 million units this year and equal or surpass this figure next year, GMC Truck & Coach will make further progress in the coming months," concluded Werner.

SOLVING A PROBLEM — Robert Good, U. S. ambassador to Zambia, and his wife, Nancy, are affected by the current gasoline rationing in the capital city of Lusaka. When the tank of his official car got down to four gallons, he said, "Something has to be done." So, yesterday, he and his wife joined Zambians in conserving fuel by using bicycles.

rate accidents in February, July and October.

INTO TREE

Then on Oct. 14 a speeding car carrying six teen-agers went off a Pontiac Township road and smashed into a tree.

Two seniors at Pontiac Northern High School were killed in the crash and a third victim died two days later.

One of 1965's most tragic accidents involved the hit-run death of a 13-year-old Waterford Township girl on her way to a Friday night dance.

★ ★ ★

An 18-year-old high school student surrendered to township police some five hours after the girl had been struck and killed.

NOT ALL BAD

The traffic picture in Oakland County for 1965 was not composed entirely of the grim statistics which make up accident reports.

The Oakland County Traffic Safety Committee, a group of officials and citizens, made a detailed study of county traffic problems.

Late this year the committee drew up a tentative list of 92 specific recommendations designed to save lives and improve traffic conditions throughout Oakland County.

Consideration and implementation of the safety proposals is scheduled to be taken up with police and public officials early in 1966.

Highway Fatalities Below Yule Count

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths in the New Year weekend today appeared running about the same as for a nonholiday period and far below last week's Christmas toll.

Since the start of the 78-hour holiday period at 6 p.m. local time Thursday 186 persons have been killed in traffic accidents. In the comparable period of the Christmas weekend last week the count was more than 280.

Michigan's traffic toll rose to 19 in the early hours today.

Arizona River Subsides After Going on Bender

Carl Pastorino, 23, of Scottsdale disappeared in the swirling water and was feared drowned.

Power to a wide area of northeast Phoenix was cut off for two hours when water hit six substations of the Salt River Project.

WILD CURIOSITY

The shock to the 750,000 people in the Phoenix area, unused to seeing water in any river, was followed by wild curiosity as they raced to see it.

Then, as the roily brown waters swept on, a half-mile wide in places, destruction came.

Riverbed homes by the dozens were flooded.

A 100-foot section of the new Interstate 10 freeway crumbled and fell into the water, leaving only two undamaged eastbound lanes. The highway suffered an estimated $350,000 damage.

TRAFFIC HALTED

The water washed across dozens of streets and highways, halting travel throughout the day on all but two north-south thoroughfares. Occasionally, it was impossible to use those either.

Food Is Target of India Reds

Fear Program Success May Ruin Key Themes

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Indian Communists are trying to sabotage a government plan to ease critical food shortages in eastern sections of the nation.

The Reds apparently fear government success would destroy two themes they have used for years to stir agitation — food and farmer grievances.

The government plan calls for direct government purchase of rice from farmers and distribution through government - controlled ration shops.

The plan is aimed at distributing India's food shortages more evenly throughout its 480 million population, preventing isolated pockets of famine from developing next to comparatively well-fed areas.

A Red - inspired whisper campaign has been started in eastern India. The theme: the government is trying to snatch food away from the farmers to feed the city dwellers who dominate India.

RED SLOGAN

"Do not starve to feed the townsfolk," is one Red slogan.

Farmers have been asked to refuse to sell their rice to government buyers. Some farmers, unlettered in such political infighting, are withholding stocks.

Rice prices have been rising daily. In the neighborhood of Calcutta, it is being sold at 50 cents per kilogram in the open market. In ration shops a kilo costs about 15 cents. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Even at high prices rice is not always available, and cases of acute hunger are reported from many areas.

Government officials in West Bengal State, of which Calcutta is the capital, are touring the state's 37,000 villages to explain to the farmers the benefits of selling food grains to the government.

Queer Way to Get Rich

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)— Policeman Frank Gunter was driving home from work this week when he came into half a million dollars.

It was all bad money, however — counterfeit bills blowing on the winds at a street underpass.

He stopped and gathered up the bills. Meanwhile, his dispatcher was called by an unidentified man who said he found the money earlier, was afraid to keep it and stasched it at the underpass.

The $20 bills filled six grocery sacks in Gunter's auto.

10 Cedarville Crewmen Died

Freighter Tragedy Michigan's No. 1 News Story

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

A dramatic Great Lakes tragedy was voted Michigan's No. 1 news story of 1965 by Associated Press member newspapers and radio-television stations.

It was the sinking of the freighter Cedarville, which carried 10 crewmen with it to the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac last May 7 after a fog-shrouded collision with the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord.

Palm Sunday tornadoes which killed 49, injured 524 and caused an estimated $31 million damage April 11 were rated Michigan's No. 2 story of the year.

Ranked No. 3 was a Michigan story that didn't happen here. It was the killing of Detroiter Viola Liuzzo by Alabama nightriders after her participation in the Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights march on March 25.

SPLIT 1ST PLACE

News editors and directors—those closest to the news—split their first place votes evenly between the Cedarville sinking and the tornadoes. They did the same on second place votes. While tornadoes picked up more third and fourth place ballots, Cedarville scored heavily in fifth and sixth places, where tornadoes got no votes.

Giving first place votes 10 points, second, 9; third, 8, etc., the Cedarville tragedy was first by 10 points, 221 to 211. Mrs. Liuzzo's slaying, which received only half as many first place ballots as the other two, garnered 193 points.

A sports story, linking New Year's Days of 1965 and 1966, placed No. 4. It was the combination of Michigan's representing the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl a year ago and the appearance there Jan. 1, 1966, of Michigan State's undefeated Spartans, ranked the nation's No. 1 football team.

State government, which provided No. 1 stories of both 1963 and 1964, could do no better than 5th in 1965. Two others involving state government, however, were rated eighth and ninth.

REAPPORTIONMENT

No. 5 was the State Supreme Court's delayed reopening of legislative reapportionment, sending it back to an equally divided Republican-Democratic commission which couldn't agree on a Democratic plan the court adopted.

No. 8 was Democratic domination of the Legislature for the first time in decades, and No. 9 was reorganization of state government under the new constitution and problems it created.

The top Ten Stories of 1965, with first place votes in paren theses:

	Points
1. Cedarville sinking (10)	221
2. Palm Sunday tornadoes (10)	211
3. Mrs. Liuzzo slain (5)	103
4. U-M and MSU to the Rose Bowl	146
5. Apportionment reopened	142
6. Blizzard cripples southern Michigan (1)	139
7. Auto boom continues (2) —. Democrats control legislature (1)	131 124
9. Government reorganization (3)	98
10. Michigan astronauts revisit	86

FIRST-PLACE VOTE

Two stories which finished outside the Top Ten got one first-place vote each. They were anti-Viet Nam demonstrations at University of Michigan, which finished 11th with 79 votes, and investigation of faculty - administration differences at Central Michigan University, which got no other votes.

Ticket fixing in the Wayne County Sheriff's department finished 12th with 66 votes. There was a tie for 13th between the battle of northern counties to retain railway service and finding bodies of three slain women in the Benton Harbor area. Each of the latter picked up 48 votes.

Some of the other stories and votes they got:

Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula get natural gas, 6; University of Michigan basketball team captures No. 1 ranking, 23; Anaesthetic kills three at Pontiac hospital, 23; Sleeping Bear Dunes argument continues, 12; Rep. Daniel West's unmasking and disappearance, 8; Revolt at Southern Michigan Prison, 8; Monroe's monster, 7; Government to close Air Force base in Michigan, 7; Gunfire kills 15 in Michigan deer season, 5.

There was a scattering of other votes, all in low-point categories.

The No. 1 story of 1958 also was a Great Lakes tragedy, the plunge of the freighter Bradley to the bottom of Lake Michigan in November with loss of 33 of its 35 crewmen. The sinking of the British vessel Montrose in the Detroit River in 1962 was a

Foreign News Commentary

'New Look' French Policy Just Illusion

PARIS (UPI) — Gaullist officials are talking a lot about a "new look" in French policy at the beginning of President Charles de Gaulle's second term.

But any "new look" seems likely to be more optical than real.

With national parliamentary elections in the offing less than 18 months from now, de Gaulle will have to give at least an impression of paying more attention to the things that appeal directly and personally to the average French voter—housing, wages, living costs, highways, social security, pensions, hospitals and schools.

Failure to keep a close eye on these could result in a massacre at the polls of the ruling Gaullist union for the New Republic (UNR), leaving de Gaulle in the unenviable position of a president faced by a hostile parliament.

★ ★ ★

But in the foreign policy field the supposed "new look" is likely to be practically invisible.

SEE NO CHANGE

In fact, aside from unregenerate Gaullist propagandists, French officials say there will be really no change at all.

De Gaulle's attention is expected to be focused on three main foreign policy fields — French "independence," Europe and the Viet Nam war.

By "independence" Gaullist officials mean elbow room to operate without interference from other countries — specifically the United States.

In the French "independence" sector de Gaulle is expected in the first three months of 1966 to spell out in detail his demands for top-to-bottom revision of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) command structure, so as to end by 1969 what he regards as the objectionable peacetime "subordination" of French forces in NATO to an American supreme commander.

De Gaulle does not expect listing of these demands to touch off an immediate crisis. He hopes rather they will be the signal for starting negotiations—not under the gun, though always with his 1969 deadline in sight.

HANDY SUBJECT — "Snoopy," a family pet, was a perfect subject for testing the new Graphic XL assemble-it-yourself camera. With a rangefinder body, an 80mm f/2.8 lens and a 120 roll film back, the pooch was snapped with flash from a three-foot distance on the first roll of film.

A New Accessory Line

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Several gadgets in the photo accessory line have just appeared, items that some camera fans are probably inventing — mentally — to make picture taking or picture viewing a bit easier.

★ ★ ★

First there's the Flashcube Adapter. This device by Yashica fits on the shoe of any camera, enabling it to use the new rotating flashcubes to get four successive flash pictures.

The adapter, just a bit larger than the cube itself, has a 15-volt battery and is plugged into the camera's flash socket.

A knurled wheel rotates the cube to bring each of the four flashbulbs into firing position.

★ ★ ★

The idea of changing any flash camera into a four-in-one flash-shooter is clever and the simple snap-on device makes it convenient and practical.

TELE-CONVERTER

Another item that works on the principle of extending the use of present equipment is the Soligor Tele-Converter.

This is a low-priced attachment which increases the focal length of many popular 35mm single-lens reflex cameras up to three times.

For instance, with a 3X Tele-Converter, a 50mm lens becomes a 150mm telephoto lens; a 105mm telephoto lens triples its reaching power to 315mm.

★ ★ ★

The tele - converters fit between the camera body and the lens like an extension tube. Actually, it's an extension tube with its own optics.

LENGTH SIZES

They are available in 1.5X, 2X or 3X focal length sizes. Since light must pass through additional lens surfaces, exposure compensation is required by opening the lens 1½, 2 or 3 stops, respectively.

In this case, the advantage of converting any lens inexpensively into a telephoto lens is balanced by the nuisance of screwing in the attachment ment and the loss of light.

Slide shows have undergone a great change in recent years as the use of tape recorders has increased and the two mediums have found they have a lot in common.

★ ★ ★

To make sight and sound go together automatically without distracting audible slide-changing signals, Kodak has come out with a small, inexpensive, easy - to - operate synchronizing unit, the Carousel Sound Synchronizer.

STANDARD SET

It assumes that the camera fan has a standard stereo tape recorder and a Carousel projector (except models 550 and 600, which will not work with the unit).

The nine - ounce synchronizer unit is plugged into both projector and tape recorder when the voice and musical background are to be recorded and synchronized.

In the recording session, when the slide is changed by pressing the 'forward' button, a slide-change signal is recorded on a second track of the tape.

★ ★ ★

On the playback, as the commentary and music is heard, the second-track slide-change signal is not heard but it activates the slide advance at the predetermined time.

Fortunately, camera fans need not be electronic engineers to follow directions to put the unit into operation.

But with the device, the average color slide maker will find it easier to come out with a home slide show with sound accompaniment that he was able to put together himself.

More Marriages, Fewer Births Are Noted in Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — More people got married, but Canada's total births in 1965 were about 7 per cent less than last year.

Officials suspect that birth control pills were a factor, but lack enough evidence to be sure.

Marriages have been rising year by year in every province.

They reached a peak of 479,285 in 1959. There has been a steady dropoff since then, with the 1964 year's total at 452,915.

There has been a decline since 1957 in the United States.

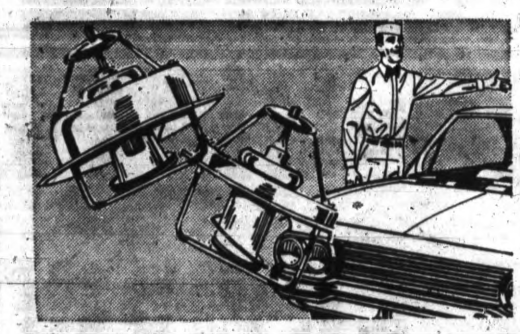

★ ★ ★

One scientist who specializes in population questions connects the decrease in births to heavy shifts in population from rural to urban areas. In the past, birth control methods caught on first with city dwellers.

Liquefied petroleum gas, used in greenhouses in Belgium to supply warmth and carbon dioxide, makes it possible to raise three crops a year intead of just two.

Recalling Past:

New Year Rouses Memories of Elder Citizen of Pontiac

(Editor's Note: In keeping with our policy of running guest editorials from time to time, our New Year's Day message has been written by Harry O. Whitfield.)

By HARRY O. WHITFIELD

There is nothing very new about New Year's Day. In the fifth century, I'm told, it was established as a holy day in the Christian Church.

WHITFIELD

I don't go back quite that far, but it has been my lot to observe the birth of 96 new years — notably the blockbuster that brought in the Twentieth Century.

★ ★ ★

In the past, as now, sociality and celebration mixed with sober assessment of the year past and contemplation of the one ahead have remained the order of the day.

The highlight of New Year's Eve high jinks, in my youth, was the hay ride to the accompaniment of singing, winding up with dancing. The two are mankind's oldest forms of rhythmic outlet.

The square dance of my early days gave way to the schottische, two-step and waltz — in turn superseded by the tango, bunny hug and turkey trot. Now, my great-grandchildren dance the watusi, frug and jerk. Folks have always found a way to dance, one way or another.

Turn-of-the-century songs were "Bird in a Gilded Cage," "In the Good Old Summertime" and "Sweet Adeline." A generation later "Making Whoopee," "I Got Rhythm" and "Dancing in the Dark" were exercising our vocal chords, while 1960 brought out "Hey, Look Me Over," "Hello Dolly" and "Fly Me to the Moon."

It seems to me that of all our holidays, except the ecclesiastic, New Year's Day is given meaning by those who observe it. Other national holidays memorialize events or personalities that in the past have importantly affected the flow of American history.

New Year's Day is made a holiday by living people and is — or should be—the occasion along with merriment for constructive thought on the course of our personal lives and community welfare.

Needless to say, we can strongly influence the trend of national life by the effectiveness with which we order our personal lives. And our will to better both should not begin and end with New Year resolutions.

Indeed, a simple principle for development of individual character is to so live each day that no year-end resolutions suggest themselves.

Scientific Sleuths Sift Stellar Shrinkage

Don't look now, but 90 per cent of the universe is missing. That's the discrepancy, say astronomers, between the amount of matter so far observed in the stars and galaxies and how much there should be, according to their mathematical computations.

To help find the "missing" matter, which may be in the form of intergalactic gas or electron clouds, NASA has given a $100,000 grant to the University of Michigan to develop the largest satellite by far—one nearly as wide as Ann Arbor itself.

It won't be a solid satellite, of course, but a weblike radio antenna consisting of a central satellite and four satellite satellites connected by nylon filaments. Distance across the web will be about six miles.

★ ★ ★

The affair will spin around its hub once an hour. The effect will be like a searchlight sweeping the sky but picking up incoming radio waves instead of sending out light waves.

Castro Seeking Lost Prestige

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Fidel Castro begins 1966, and the eighth year of his revolution, with an anti-Yankee extravaganza, probably in hopes of regaining some of the prestige he has lost since the missile crisis of 1962.

A "tricontinental anti-imperialist conference" opens in the Cuban capital Monday. It may not have been Castro's idea originally, but he seized on it when he was broached and offered Havana as host city.

"Only pedigreed "anti-imperialists"—which means these days, in Communist parlance, anti-Americans — have been invited from Asia, Africa and Latin America to speak their pieces and pass resolutions condemning Uncle Sam.

Communists of various stripes, from pro-Moscow to pro-Peking, have been converging on Cuba for the show. The conference is of "anti-imperialist organization" rather than of nations as such.

★ ★ ★

Castro, however, seems likely to run into the same problem which plagued the abortive Asian-African conference, scheduled first for last June and then for November in Algeria. That project shattered on the rocks of the Soviet-Chinese dispute. The Chinese said the Russians were not Asians and should "not be allowed to crash the gate."

RUSSIAN ASIANS

The preparatory committee for the Havana meeting decided that the Russians should be invited as Asians. The Chinese have let Castro know they didn't like that.

If the world Communist quarrel breaks out in Havana, Castro may be embarrassed. Already he is being prodded by two forks of a dilemma: The Russians on one side nagging him to rationalize his economy and his revolution, and the violence-minded pro-Peking Communists annoyed with his inability to export revolution in sufficient quantities to the rest of Latin America.

The advertised purpose of the tricontinental conference is to help "the struggle for complete national liberation" in the underdeveloped world.

★ ★ ★

Both Russian and Chinese endorse this, but the Russians would like to call the shots. They show no inclination to pursue such an aim in a way which could produce a new showdown with the United States.

QUIET STRUGGLE

Quiet subversion, parliamentary struggle, popular fronts and the like will do, if other methods are unsafe. The Russians seem in less of a hurry than the Chinese.

Castro probably wants to regain his position as the man who annoys Uncle Sam the most. The "anti-imperialist conference" could be regarded as an instrument for repolishing his prestige. But the conference is likely to be much more sound than substance.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Throughout the land, church bells ring out the old year and ring in the new. They also ring out a call to reaffirm our faith. And whatever our faith may be let us resolve that the power of that faith gives us tolerance, understanding and love for our fellow man. Resolved: that tolerance begins with each of us. With such resolutions and God's help then the day can come when the bells will ring out PEACE ON EARTH AND GOOD WILL TO ALL MEN.

Finding the Way:

Have Faith for Happy New Year

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

A Happy New Year to you! Can we wish that honestly and realistically? It ought to be a happiness that is more than just whistling in the dark or expressed as an empty optimism. There is a contentment that is implied in a "Happy New Year." It is the courage to believe there is a moral purpose to life.

DR. LOEW

There's so much unhappiness at the beginning of this year, because this moral certainty has slipped from us. There is a meaninglessness and an anxiety. With the late Paul Tillich, men ask:

"Can faith resist meaninglessness? Is there a kind of faith that can exist together with doubt and meaninglessness?"

It's that quality of faith and that sturdiness of courage that enables a man to wish with integrity, "A Happy New Year."

★ ★ ★

What we have to understand this year is that this does not mean that we are always going to have pleasant days or perfect moments. It simply means that in this world of the seemingly meaningless events, there is also the presence of a grace of God. We are not in the middle of these events alone.

One of my most trusted friends lived through years of physical wastage, times that drained his energy but never his faith.

He could calmly say, "You can take your choice.

"Do you believe that at the heart of things is ugliness, tragedy, and evil — that truth, beauty, goodness are only incidental — or do you believe that these are at the center, and that ugliness, tragedy and evil are the violations? Do you believe that the ultimate power of things conspires against a good man or cooperates with him?

"I believe that there is a power which enables a man to overcome tragedy, works on his side in his search of the good life . . Such a man is not dependent upon shifting public opinion or external controls of any kind; he is moved, motivated by and laid hold on by Him who is the way, the truth and the life."

Since I knew and loved that man, I read these words and try to translate them into the reality of the world I know.

There is a reality here. It doesn't try to pretend or deny. It confronts this year, looks at the tragedy of war, is angry at the prejudice, hatred and the meanness of so much of life. But it refuses to accept the fact that we have to accede to these realities and be helpless.

To wish one another "A Happy New Year" is to walk into this year with a sense of hopefulness and the determined integrity that comes to those who are sure of God's eternity and therefore are facing contemporary events with a security that breeds boldness.

It was said of Jesus, "Having loved his own, He loved them to the end." What that "end" is, can be variously interpreted. I am sure that when Jesus loves to the end the word does not have as much finality about it as when some of us say, "I'll put an end to it." It is an introduction to another sentence, another chapter, another experience.

Hope is based on something which has actually happened and is willing to push ahead.

America needs men and women of courage who can reach down through the surface of these passing events to the rich subsoil of this accrued experience with the life of God and then sink new roots until we grow the strength that enables ourselves and others to stand happily in the battering winds of this present world. I wish you all — "A Happy New Year."

The Better Half

"After the warm welcome I gave it, how can 1966 treat me as shabbily as this?"

Voice of the People:

Loafing College Students Should Go to Viet Nam

I see in the papers that college students who aren't doing their work very well may be subject to draft at once and they should be. If a well and healthy boy is held out of military service because he is going to college and then he loafs and only half does his work, the place for him is Viet Nam. We have no place for young men who avoid serving their country on a flimsy excuse, while others face the call and do their duty.

MOTHER OF TWO IN SERVICE

Agrees With Comments on License Bureau

Three cheers for Mrs. C. Adams for her comments on the driver's license bureau. I was the fourth from a family of seven to obtain my license in Pontiac and similar incidents had occurred.

Says Small Businessman Is 'Man of the Year'

May I compliment you on your excellent editorial "Man of the Year — the Unsung Hope of America." Some people may think this type of man is nonexistent but I have the pleasure of calling on several men of this caliber each day. You have described to a "T" the average small businessman of America. You might add that the officers of most civic clubs across the United States are this type individual.

★ ★ ★

Yes, he is opposed to communism, socialism and any other ism except Americanism. 99 per cent of those I talk to are opposed to the Great Society's give-away program, which is the reason most of this type legislation went down the gutter this year.

★ ★ ★

Several years ago Nicoli Lenin said "Comrades, the small businessman is the only obstacle in the path of communism in the United States." God bless him. I hope he will be the obstacle in the path of socialism in these United States.

'County Citizens Lost a Devoted Friend'

It is with deep regret and sorrow that I learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Mary Pipe, Probate Register of Oakland County. Mrs. Pipe was a most intricate and efficient person in our probate judicial system. She not only was a tremendous administrator, but a gracious, kind and helpful lady—a person who was never too busy to assist another in the complexity of her responsibilities. Mrs. Pipe will be missed not only by the courthouse personnel but by all the lawyers and all the people of Oakland County who have indeed lost a true, devoted public servant and friend.

Expresses Views of Socialist Labor Party

The words socialism and communism are being bandied around with more recklessness than truth. We are told that we are waging war against communism. This correspondent, expressing the views of the Socialist Labor Party of America, categorically denies that communism exists in North Viet Nam, China or Soviet Russia.

★ ★ ★

Socialism is a society under which goods would be produced for use instead of profit, the means of wealth production would be collectively owned by all of the people, and it would be a classless society without economic conflicting classes.

★ ★ ★

In North Viet Nam, China and Soviet Russia a political bureaucracy owns and controls the industries and determines the distribution of the product which are produced. The State owns the industries—not the workers. International capitalism and the political state despotisms of China and Soviet Russia are competing for the world's markets, raw materials, "spheres of influence," and continued exploitation of the world's workers. There can be no peace until the workers internationally get together and establish a Social Industrial Union administered society as formulated by Daniel De Leon, America's foremost Socialist.

Finger Jab Vs. Hacking Hand

By Washington Staff

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If Richard M. Nixon and Michigan Gov. George Romney should tangle for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, it may prove to be a contest between a finger-jabber and a hand-cleaver.

Nixon's finger-jabbing first came to public notice when he kept stabbing Nikita Khrushchev's chest in their famous 1959 debate in a model U.S. kitchen at a Moscow exhibition.

More recently, Arthur Schlesinger Jr. notes in his book, "A Thousand Days," that Nixon suddenly started jabbing his finger at the late John F. Kennedy when cameras began whirring as the two were chatting quietly in a studio after one of their 1960 television debates.

Romney, on the other hand, seems to favor the meat cleaver technique. As he argues with someone, the governor keeps one palm outstretched while he hacks the air with the other hand — as if he were slicing roast beef on a platter.

★ ★ ★

The latest in the long line of children's toys suitable for adult amusement is the Superball. The gimmick behind the hard rubber, hand-ball-sized sphere is that nobody can predict what kind of hop, skip or bounce it will take.

As a visitor was leaving the White House office of staffer Lee White recently, he noticed a familiar object resting in an ashtray. Pointing to it, he asked:

"That's not . . ?"

Answered White quickly:

"Yes, it is. It's Superball."

Picking it up, White casually threw it against the wall. Watching it bounce crazily around the room, he remarked:

"Somebody gave me that. They thought it would relax me or something."

In an appearance at the National Press Club, Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien said politicians as a breed had a hard time getting decent status in American life.

"The politician finally has been accepted into our society," he said, "with somewhat the same grace shown by a young husband who looks for a new home with an extra room for his mother-in-law."

Now that Harold Howe II has replaced him as commissioner of education, Francis Keppel is free to concentrate on the task of co-ordinating the $8 billion federal education effort as assistant secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

This means that most of the burden of convincing educators that federal aid to schools does not necessarily mean federal control of schools falls on Howe's shoulders. Keppel points out that this is becoming an increasingly tougher problem.

"Today educators almost everywhere," he says, "chorus to one another: 'Tell those fellows in Washington we won't stand for federal interference. And, as long as you're up there, get me a grant.'"

President Johnson Chosen Newsmaker of the Year

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

As the Great Society bills passed Congress, the President — keeping his finger on the pulse of a war and writing prescriptions for it, getting most legislation passed the fastest since the New Deal, turning up often on TV and undergoing an operation — has been chosen newsmaker of the year for 1965.

President Lyndon B. Johnson dramatized their signing.

Johnson was chosen by editors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and television stations.

He was inaugurated president Jan. 20 with his hand on a family Bible held by his wife and launched his program which he named the Great Society — designed to create a better quality of life for Americans.

He was in the first school he ever attended to sign the Aid to Education bill, at his alma mater, Southwest Texas State College, to sign the Higher Education Bill; at the base of the Statute of Liberty for the Immigration Bill.

★ ★ ★

He signed the Health Research Bill at the National Institutes of Health in Maryland, Medicare in Harry Truman's library in Independence, Mo., and the Voting Rights Bill in the Capitol on an Abraham Lincoln desk.

GOLDBERG APPOINTMENT

He appointed — keeping it secret until speculation was high — Arthur Goldberg as U.N. ambassador; Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam; Thurgood Marshall, solicitor general; John Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Abe Fortas to the Supreme Court, and set up task forces and conferences to study everything from water to crime.

The President talked union leaders out of a railway strike, sent steel negotiators his own proposed settlement and announced the end of the 75-day Gulf-East Coast shipping strike.

He pressured industry to roll back aluminum and copper price increases but lost a round to the Federal Reserve Board when it raised its interest rates.

He entered the hospital twice — for "executive flu" soon after the inauguration and to have his gallbladder removed Oct. 8.

He borrowed money to pay his income taxes, dedicated the first park in his home town of Johnson City, Tex., on his 57th birthday and gave a White House party for Britain's Princess Margaret and Lord Snowden on his 31st wedding anniversary.

LBJ also was selected by the AP editors as newsmaker of the year in foreign affairs.

He sent U.S. troops to the Dominican Republic; said the U.S. would "contribute anything we can" to solve the Indonesia-Malaysia dispute and supported U.N. efforts for a Pakistan-India cease-fire; announced the U.S. and Panama had agreed to write a new treaty on the canal and criticized Rhodesia's declaration of independence from Britain.

★ ★ ★

But much of his news was made — and much of his time spent — on the fighting in Viet Nam. Johnson kept day-to-day account of attacks and casualties and made many of the strike decisions.

SENT MARINES

He sent Marines to protect the Da Nang Air Base March 8, said on April 7 the U.S. was willing to enter Viet Nam peace talks (disclosure was made in November that at least one approach for talks was rejected as lacking in sincerity), asked Congress for and got $700 million to run the war in May and another $1.7 billion in August, on Nov. 11 called for more troops to augment the 160,000 there.

Other newsmakers selected in the Associated Press poll were: Air Force Lt. Col. Edward White II, science; Frederic C. Donner, business; Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, labor; Pope Paul VI, religion; Sandy Koufax sports; the Beatles, entertainment; Mikhail Sholokhove, literature; Lady Bird Johnson, woman newsmaker.

Astronaut White left James A. McDivitt in spaceship Gemini 4 on June 3 to spend 21 minutes walking in space. White was the second man and first American to do so.

★ ★ ★

Frederic G. Donner, chairman of the board of General Motors since 1958, led GM to its biggest production and sales year in history, setting an earnings and profits record for American industry.

FINANCIAL WIZARD

Donner, a financial wizard who joined GM in 1926 as an accountant, also sparked a $2.6-billion program of plant expansion for 1965 and '66, himself earned $800,000.

Everett M. Dirksen foiled labor's No. 1 goal for the 1965 Congress; repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

This is the section which permits states (19 have done so) to make it illegal to require union membership. Dirksen promised "extended discussion" and started a filibuster Oct. 4. The bill was shelved Oct. 12.

★ ★ ★

Pope Paul VI Jan. 25 appointed 27 cardinals, the first of his 20-month reign, to make a record high of 103 cardinals from a record 47 nations.

He spoke in English from Rome on American television May 3 via the Early Bird satellite, and on Oct. 4 he made the first visit by a reigning Pope to the United States.

FINAL SESSION

When the final session of the Ecumenical Council came in December, he had promulgated 16 church documents approved during the four annual Council sessions.

The Los Angeles Dodgers were hurled to World Series victory over the Minnesota Twins on the fastballing left arm of pitcher Sanford (Sandy) Koufax.

In the Series, Koufax won the fifth and seventh games and fanned 29 in 24 innings.

During the season, he pitched a perfect no-hitter Sept. 9 against the Chicago Cubs, becoming the first Major League pitcher to throw four no-hit games, broke Bob Feller's Major-League season strikeout record of 348 by fanning 382, and won 26 and lost 8.

BEATLES HONORED

The entertainment newsmakers, the Beatles, were honored as members of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth, and several indignant MBEs mailed their medals back.

A June tour of Europe played to less than full houses but an August tour of 10 American cities saw the Beatles at second base in gigantic baseball stadiums crowded with screaming and fainting girls.

Spectators were injured and a guard was knocked cold in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

The Beatles traveled by unscheduled planes, helicopters, armored trucks, limousines that got dented in the crush of loving fans, and they raced down fire escapes, all in the style of their new movie, "Help!"

BEATLE BABY

The engagement of Paul McCartney was announced and Ringo Starr married and fathered the second Beatle baby boy, Zack.

Russian Communist writer Mikhail Sholokhov, who denounced the Royal Swedish Academy for awarding the 1958 Nobel Prize for Literature to Boris Pasternak, won this year's prize for his "And Quiet Flows the Don," completed 25 years ago.

Sholokhov accepted the $55,000 prize in Stockholm Dec. 10. He said he rejoiced in its contribution to the glorification of the U.S.S.R. and Communism.

★ ★ ★

The First Lady, Lady Bird Johnson, chose the war on poverty and beautification of America as "her projects." She made speeches, took Cabinet wives on a landscapes and landmarks bus trip, and appeared on a TV tour of Washington on Thanksgiving.

★ ★ ★

She planted a cherry tree in the spring and a red oak on Arbor Day. She planned the opening of LBJ's boyhood home as a Texas Historical Landmark and announced his library would be at the University of Texas.

She hosted the first White House Festival of the Arts, 13 hours long, and she demanded back from a prospective seller — and got — a letter written to her by Jacqueline Kennedy.

Reflections
HAPPY NEW YEAR

J. L. VOORHEES

On the screen of 1966 we see many auspicious signs for great financial prosperity an excellent regime of bubbling good health with the plus of enjoying all of it.

On the Home Front we see Labor moving up to new positions in politics, we see the farmer with greater gains for his produce, Service men with new techniques and greater opportunity, business men are edging up to new levels of merchandising, banks are easing credit and borrowers are taking advantage of it to enjoy some of the luxuries they have dreamed about but couldn't bring to realization.

1966 should give us new horizons to explore, new roads to pursue, big fish to catch and forest trails to follow; it will be a holiday for the Nature lover, and that's all of us.

1966 will give us everything we are big enough to imagine and with enough energy to grasp — and keep. Stretch, grab big things and enjoy big rewards. Happy New Year.

Trace Illness to Material Used at Job

By Science Service

MADISON, Wis. — Industrial workers handling certain materials may think they have a cold, when in fact they may have been breathing newly developed kinds of resinous compounds that can cause severe respiratory problems.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John Rankin, professor of medicine at the University of Wisconsin Medical School, and Dr. Louis W. Chosy, instructor of medicine at the school, have for the past three years been studying cases from various Wisconsin industries of persons who became ill after contact with the new compounds.

The resinous compounds have been developed by adding different chemical ingredients to a basic polymer molecule under varying conditions.

When first used, they are very reactive, but after they dry they are no longer reactive and cause no trouble.

The substances are suited for many industrial uses, such as in adhesives which can encase electrical circuits or bind metal to metal, to cite just one example.

SEVERE DEFECTS

Drs. Rankin and Chosy found that those working with the compounds can develop congestion of the nose or throat and burning eyes, and the effects may become more severe.

In most of the cases they studied, the afflicted person's trouble was originally diagnosed as asthma, sinus trouble, pneumonia or chronic bronchitis, any of which can be side effects of prolonged exposure to the compounds.

The doctors also found that if exposure is continued, the affliction may become more severe, and can result in sinus inflammation, ear infections or bronchial pneumonia.

According to the doctors, the best treatment for respiratory ailments caused by such exposure is to stay away from the compounds.

This, of course, can cause problems for persons who must be in contact with them on their jobs, but complete recovery may require a long absence from exposure. The doctors added that reexposure after recovery can start the affliction all over again.

Wants Stronger Program

Hare Viewing Traffic Safety for '66

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare looks toward the 1966 legislative session — one that promises to deal with a multitude of traffic safety legislation.

Hare has hopes that legislators will enact legislation making periodic motor vehicle inspection mandatory; providing for state control of driver licensing; giving the secretary of state the authority to deal with problem drivers on the basis of accident involvement, and without regard to points; the complete mechanization of the department of state's driver license central file; and creating a medical evaluation board.

In addition to the traffic safety measures, Hare is also optimistic that lawmakers will pass measures providing for better reporting of election expenditures by public officials.

Hare noted that much of the momentum for action in the traffic safety area is the direct result of the increased numbers of personal injury and fatality accidents.

★ ★ ★

Hare noted that, currently, Michigan is "losing the war against traffic accidents but hasn't lost yet."

TIME TO BATTLE

"However, our time to effectively battle this horde of mechanized humanity is now. Any undue delay could result in failure," he added.

"And, if Michigan doesn't take affirmative steps to adopt a strong traffic safety program, the federal government will do the job for us.

"National traffic experts predict the Ribicoff bill and other legislation will be propelled into the traffic safety movement," the secretary of state said.

★ ★ ★

Hare noted that the legislation he believes will be enacted in 1966 will be a continuation of a traffic safety drive begun in 1965 when the legislature created the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, placed 16-year-old drivers under the point system and provided funds for more State Police troopers.

HALT BLOODSHED

"Lawmakers have been made aware of the problems Michigan faces if something is not done to curtail the bloodshed on state highways.

"Much needed and important legislation is in the introductory and advance stages. The majority party has made traffic legislation its No. 1 priority when the legislature convenes Jan. 12," Hare said.

The secretary of state believes "legislators should consider enactment of a vehicle inspection law similar to that embodied in H.B. 2025, one that would require drivers to have their motor vehicles inspected at least once year."

★ ★ ★

The bill Hare favors is one being promoted by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce. It sets up state-owned inspection stations in the more heavily-populated southern portion of the Lower Peninsula . . . a line from Bay City to Muskegon.

PRIVATELY OWNED

North of that, including all of the Upper Peninsula, the stations would be privately owned but state supervised.

The program would be administered by the Michigan State Police.

"State control of driver licensing is also badly needed. Michigan's current system is difficult to administer. The state's examining prodecures need complete revamping.

★ ★ ★

"Michigan is one of three states which retain local examining conducted by sheriffs and local police. This vestigal system has been discarded by virtually every other state. Lack of uniformity and quality in Michigan's driver examining program has long been a subject of criticism," Hare added.

VOICE CRITICISM

"The Michigan State University Traffic Safety Center recently reported that 'lack of uniformity and quality in Michigan's driver examining program has long been a subject of criticism.

"The variation of examiners, examination techniques and test procedures have been cited as reasons for the licensing of drivers having poor skills and attitudes.

"In many instances, the skills and sense of responsibility of many drivers fall below levels which should be met.'"

★ ★ ★

Hare also feels the establishment of a medical evaluation board composed of several physicians, one of whom must be an opthamologist, to evaluate doctors' statements received in connection with driver licensing would also strengthen the basic licensing area.

LOGICAL MOVE

"Adoption of the computer into our complex traffic problems seems both logical and necessary.

"If the legislative appropriation is provided, all information germane to the state's nine million individual drivers and vehicles would be put into data processing, available at a moment's notice," Hare said.

"Aside from the natural benefits of having all driver records mechanized and being able to search the files within a few seconds, the other benefits of mechanization stagger the imagination," Hare said.

"In 1966, a new vista in accident protection opens in Michigan. Our state's new Motor Vehicle Accidents Claims Act goes into effect.

SETS UP FUND

"The act sets up a fund for the purpose of protecting innocent victims of accidents with negligent uninsured drivers.

"This includes only accidents with negligent uninsured drivers. This includes only accidents which take place on or after Jan. 1 . . . not before.

"This new fund is no panacea for all our problems in the uninsured motorist area. Like all new and untried legislation, it is not foolproof.

★ ★ ★

"Changes have already been made. Others will undoubtedly take place as we administer the law. But it marks a beginning . . . a good one," Hare said.

Congregations Build New Churches, Remodel in '65

MOVING IN—Rev. Alger T. Lewis helps the movers by carrying chairs and other furniture into the new parsonage of the Avondale Baptist Church, 1591 Auburn, Avon Township this week. An open house for friends, neighbors and members of the congregation is being held from 2 to 5 this afternoon.

Members Move In

Church Construction Climbs

The Drayton congregation of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints moved into the new church, Crescent Lake at Tubbs, Waterford Township in June.

★ ★ ★

The Drayton Mission was organized Jan. 8, 1956 with 78 charter members. The group was composed of people who attended the Pontiac church but live in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Services were held in the Williams Lake School for 11 months. For the past seven years members met in the McVittie School for worship. Men of the Church gave generously of their time to work on the building.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Dale C. Fishwild is pastor.

★ ★ ★

The building of the Oakland Park Methodist Church was started in the spring. Located on Kennett, across from the Louise Alcott Elementary School, it will be known as St. James Methodist Chuch when the congregation moves in.

According to Pastor James W. Deeg the total cost of the building will be approximately $300,000.

The present building and parsonage were sold to Pontiac Motor Division to assist the division with expansion plans.

EVANGELIST ARRIVES

During the month of August Evangelist Kathryn Sanders came to Pontiac to hold revival meetings at 128 W. Pike.

A congregation was organized to be known as the Guiding Light Temple. Services are currently being held at the same address.

★ ★ ★

When the congregation of the Church of God, Pike and Anderson move into their new church on East Walton, members of the Messiah Baptist Church will take over the present building.

★ ★ ★

The Hillcrest Baptist Church under the leadership of Pastor Clarence Jackson moved into the new building on Doris just off Opdyke in the spring.

★ ★ ★

The Hillcrest Church was founded as a mission of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church and first known as the Herrington Hills Baptist Chapel. Services were first held in Herrington Elementary School.

The mission became a self governing church April 12, 1964.

★ ★ ★

Pilgrim Holiness Church on Fairmont has nearly completed the new educational unit, an addition to the present structure.

Pastor William Miller expects to announce the dedication date soon.

★ ★ ★

Several congregations are presently earning money toward a building fund for new buildings but no plans or drawings are as yet in the hands of an architect.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Community Church has started a fund raising campaign for a new addition, according to Pastor Robert Winne.

★ ★ ★

The new building costing about $150,000 will house 30 Sunday School classrooms and a multi-purpose room about the size of a basketball court.

★ ★ ★

Covert Methodists are working on plans for a new church building.

The congregation has purchased property adjacent to the present church site, 2775 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

The first unit of St. Paul's Methodist Church, 165 E. Square Lake, Bloomfield Township, was completed during the summer.

In September the congregation moved into the building and the sanctuary was consecrated. Over-all cost of the new buildings will be approximately $400,000. The first unit consisting of the sanctuary, fellowship hall and offices cost near $225,000.

Originally a chapel of First Methodist Church and known as the Wilson Avenue Methodist, the church celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1964.

★ ★ ★

The new auditorium of Liberty General Baptist Church, 3545 Joslyn, was dedicated Nov. 14. The building with white aluminum siding costing about $50,000 was constructed almost entirely by men of the congregation.

New Groups Organized

Christian Training Units Completed

New congregations were organized, new churches constructed, older churches remodeled and property purchased for further expansion in the Pontiac area during 1965.

★ ★ ★

With 55 charter members the congregation of Covenant Baptist Church was organized in June with Carl Sanders, chairman of the congregation.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Richard Soucey is pastor.

In April members of the First Church of God moved to their new building and 16-acre recreational site at 1333 Mt. Clemens, in front of Galloway Lake.

The congregation worshiped in Madison Junior High School after selling the church on East Boulevard to Springfield Missionary Baptist Church.

NEW ADDITION

The new Christian education building to be constructed by Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will be known as Creswell Memorial in memory of the late Dr. Andrew S. Creswell, founder and pastor of the congregation for 34 years.

The building of three floors will cost approximately $200,000, Pastor Theodore R. Allebach said.

★ ★ ★

The new building combined with the present structure will provide more than 100 Sunday School teaching stations.

★ ★ ★

Facilities for Sunday School classrooms from nursery through senior high school are available in the new educational unit of Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Waterford Township.

The new addition was dedicated in March. Construction costs amounted to around $65,000, Pastor G. J. Bersche said.

Men of Four Towns Methodist Church, Waterford Township gave generously of their time to renovate the interior of the sanctuary.

CELEBRATE CENTURY

The 99-year-old church building will celebrate its 100th birthday in May.

The new nave of The Episcopal Church of the Advent, West Bloomfield Township, was dedicated in June.

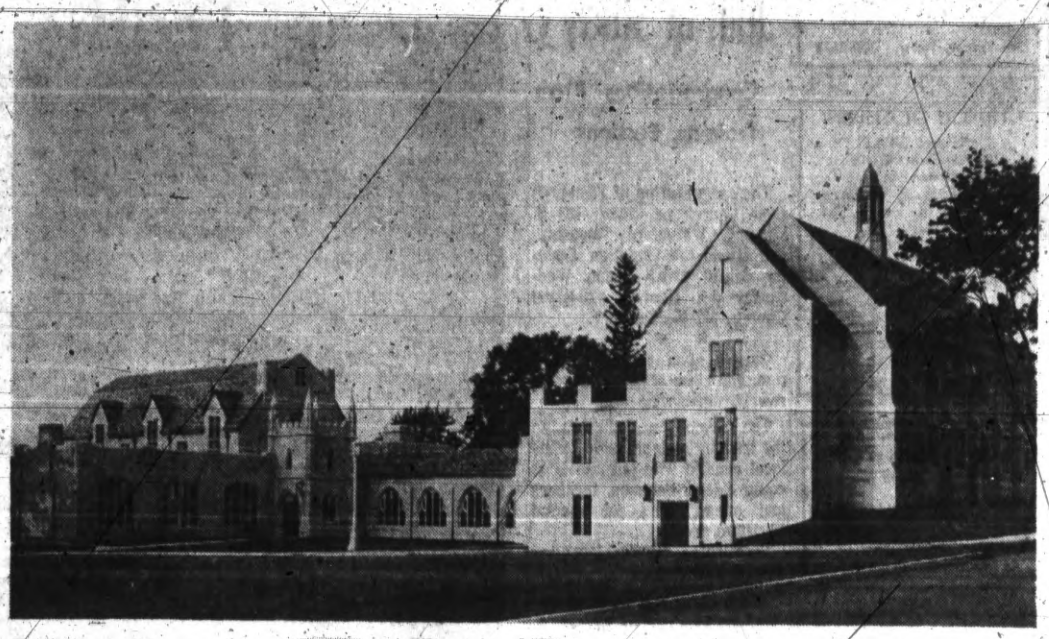

★ ★ ★

Founded in December 1955, the congregation first worshiped in the old Pine Lake School on Long Lake at Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township.

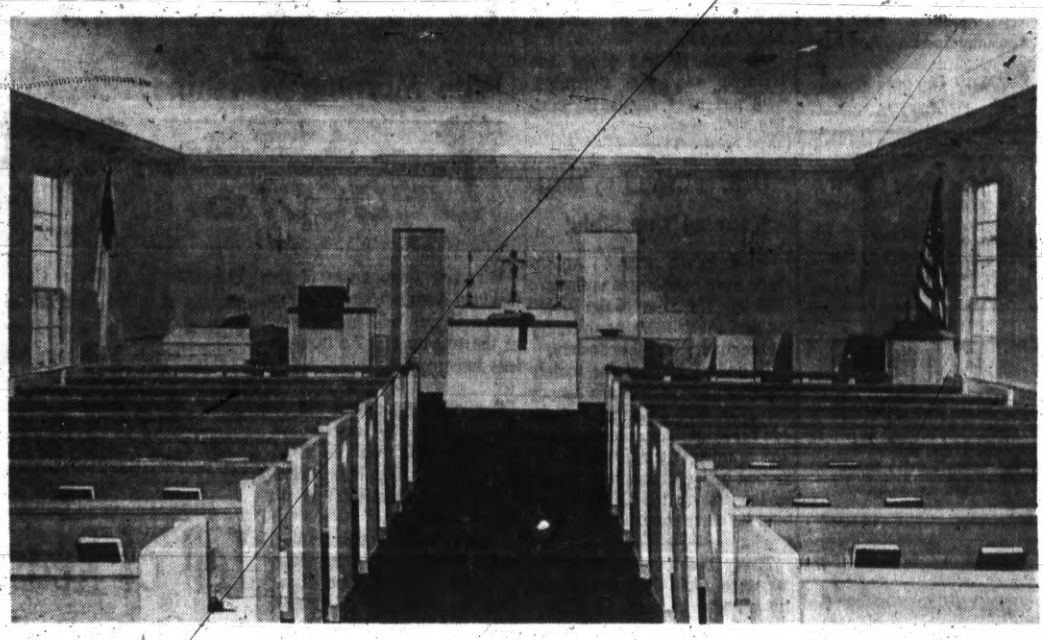

★ ★ ★

The first unit of the building program was completed in February 1958.

Ground was broken for the permanent worship unit Oct. 11, 1964. Total cost of the project including furnishings was $155,000.

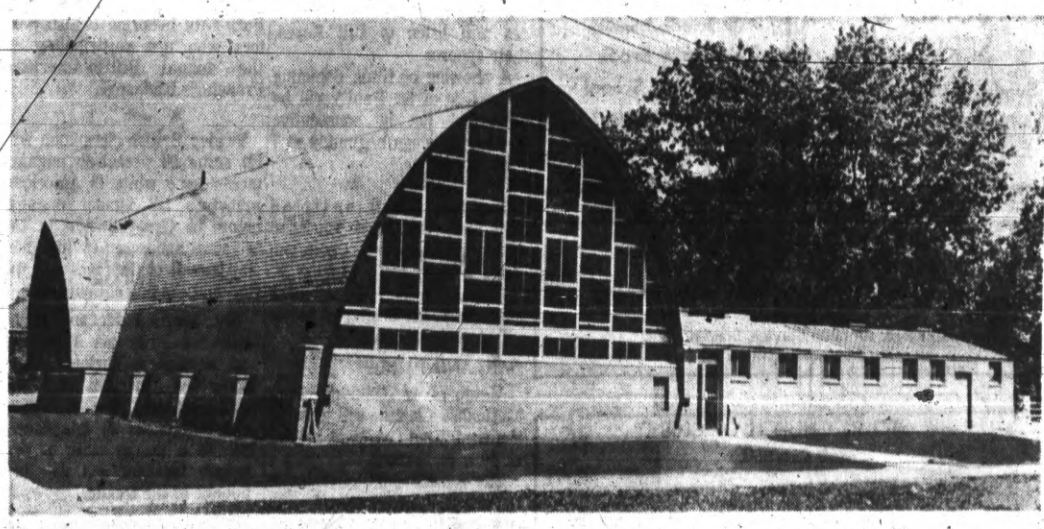

KIRK IN THE HILLS—The congregation of Kirk in the Hills dedicated its new Abbey with services of consecration Sept. 12. The new building houses the Christian training of boys and girls and provides fellowship needs for the entire congregation. The Kirk Abbey is situated to the west of the Kirk House and linked to it by an indoor passage built of Gothic design with Indian limestone facade and sloping slate roof. The wing harmonizes with the Kirk dedicated in 1959.

FOUR TOWNS METHODIST—A colonial theme was followed in renovating the chapel of Four Towns Methodist Church, Waterford Township. Walls and ceiling are off-white. Wall panels are enhanced by brass candelabra centered in the main windows of the nave. Wall-to-wall carpeting is in deep red. The chapel was consecrated Dec. 5.

Pontiac Press Photo

ST. JAMES MISSIONARY BAPTIST—The new addition to St. James Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley, was dedicated June 27. Walls of the new sanctuary are of oak paneling. Floors are of beige tile. Aisles and chancel area are carpeted in turquoise flecked with brown. The large windows are in various shades of red, gold, blue and green. The nave will seat 375 persons with space for 27 in the choir loft.

Pilgrim Holiness Has Guest Speaker

Rev. Harry Dickerson, executive vice president of the Detroit College of Applied Science, will speak at the 11 a.m. worship service in Pilgrim Holiness Church tomorrow.

He will represent the Michigan Temperance Foundation.

★ ★ ★

The Foundation's program has traditionally emphasized the prevention of alcohol — related problems through education, legislation and community action.

More than 500 Michigan high schools regularly benefit from the MTF program, Pastor William Miller said.

Speakers present assembly programs as well as classroom discussions on teen-age drinking problems.

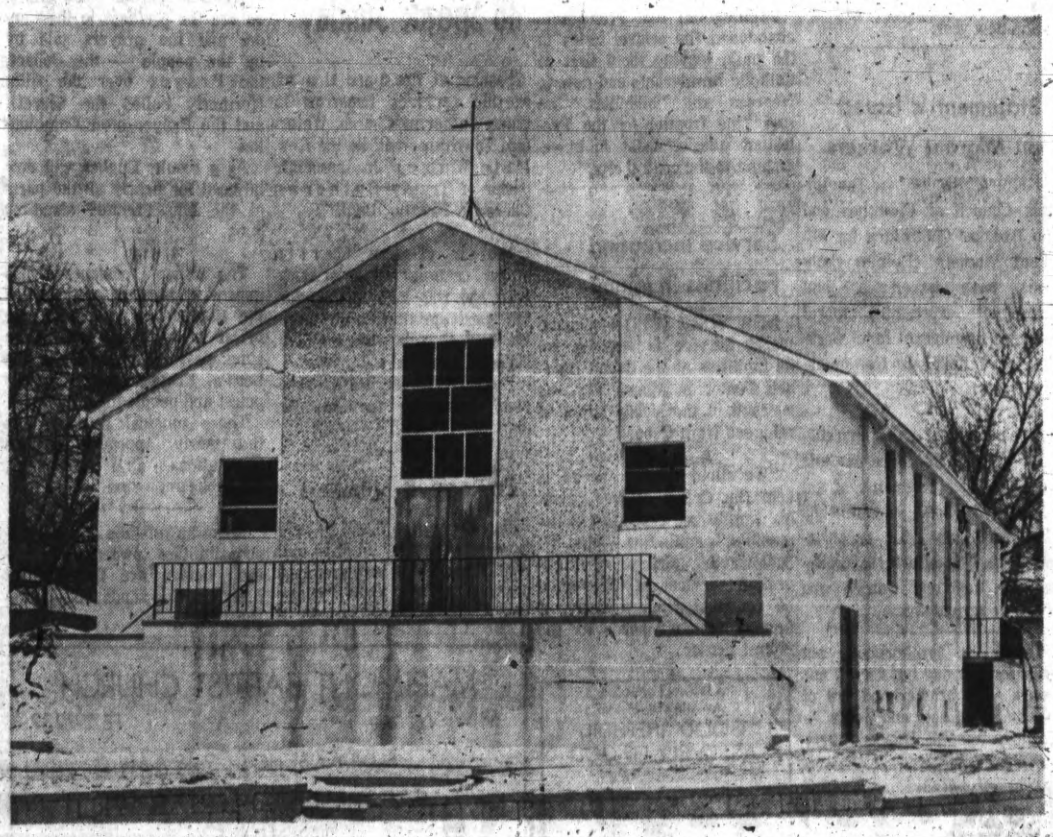

Literature is provided for both students and teachers.

★ ★ ★

Work is currently being pushed to keep a state lottery out of Michigan and prohibit alcohol advertising in drive-in movie theaters.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Press Photo

LIBERTY BAPTIST—The first service in the new Liberty Baptist Church, 250 Fisher, was held Feb. 28. The sanctuary of the white concrete building will seat 450 persons with additional seating for a choir of 50 voices. Walls are off-white with wood paneling on the front and back walls, and vestibule. The floor is laid in shaded beige tile. Fellowship Hall with its mint green walls is in the basement.

Congregations Plan Training Sessions

The congregation of Elizabeth Lake Church of Christ, 183 S. Winding, Waterford Township, will attend the Christian Training School which begins Wednesday in Central Christian Church, 347 N. Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Classes start promptly at 7 p.m. and close at 9 p.m. Tomorrow is registration day.

The school is dedicated to the training of leadership in the local church. The purpose is to equip elders, deacons, teachers and members for special Christian service.

Certificates of achievement will be awarded.

Each class will meet every Wednesday evening for seven weeks. Chapel services will be conducted between class sessions.

Teaching courses will be Rev. Merritt Baker of Central Christian Church, Amie Baker, Darla Lemmons and James Lemmons, minister of the Elizabeth Lake Church.

All primary and junior age children will see filmstrips, sing and have handicraft classes each week.

U. S. Is Urged to Mark 'Year of the Bible'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans have been urged to observe 1966 as "The Year of the Bible" as part of the 150th Anniversary of the American Bible Society.

In its long history, the society has been the missionary agency for more than 65 denominations with 60 million communicants for printing, translating, distributing and encouraging the use of the Bible in the United States and 130 other countries.

★ ★ ★

Serving Communion will be Don Alexander, Gary Bowes, William Bowes, Charles Bradsher, William Cox, R. G. Crites, Lowell Good, Dale Harvey, and Ernest Johnston.

Others assisting will be Roy Koch, Ernal Lloyd, Omar MacNutt, Orval Robb, Don Shaw, Thomas Simpson, Howard Webb and Roland Williams.

A special offering will be received for the work of deacons.

Youth groups will meet at 5:45 p.m. with the Pioneers discussing "True to Thee." Builders will listen to Bill Keyes, their sponsor.

A showing of films depicting "The Life of St. Paul" will be presented for 12 consecutive Sunday evenings beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The first film is entitled "Stephen, the First Christian Martyr." The Carol Choir will sing.

Pastor Theodore R. Allebach said the public is invited to see all 12 of these films.

OAKLAND PARK

Members of Oakland Park Methodist Church will observe the traditional Covenant service at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The service calls upon people to renew their covenant with God and to reaffirm their faith by partaking of the Sacrament.

★ ★ ★

The Covenant service was first instituted by John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, in 1755. It is observed in Oakland Park Church the first Sunday of the new year.

The City Wide Choir Union will hold the first program of the New Year at New Hope Baptist Church, 392 Bloomfield, at 3 p.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Lee A. Gragg, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, will give a sermonette.

Rev. Lenworth R. Miner of Macedonia Baptist church will preside at the installation of new officers. Rev. Jesse A. Long is pastor of the New Hope Church.

FIRST METHODIST

Pastor Clyde Smith will preach on "Our Time Is Now" at First Methodist Church tomorrow.

Midweek Bible study at 7:30 Wednesday evening will be the continued study of "The Will of God."

Methodist Men will get together for a dinner program at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Statement Is Issued on Migrant Workers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Illinois Council of Churches and the Bishops' Committee for Migrant Workers (Roman Catholic) have issued a joint statement expressing moral concern for migrant farm workers, says Religious Newsweekly.

★ ★ ★

The statement calls on religious groups to increase and broaden their programs of aid to migrants and recommends that American labor organizations step up efforts to organize the men and women who work in agriculture.

Grant us brotherhood, not only for this day but for all our years — a brotherhood not of words but of acts and deeds. — Stephen Vincent Benet, American author.

Tell of Reassessment in Church Life

Reassessment and renewal are being stressed in both British and American church life, according to religious leaders of the two nations who addressed a luncheon recently at the Interchurch Center in New York City honoring British pastors who are participating in the annual British-American Preachers Exchange.

★ ★ ★

Twelve British clergymen will fill some 90 preaching engagements here while 13 American ministers fill similar engagements in Great Britain in the program sponsored by the British Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, attributed the distinctly American cast of U.S. churches, few of which are indigenous to this country, to a strong sense of religious freedom and the influence of the frontier.

Today, American church life is marked by a recognition of religious pluralism, he said, a realization that Roman Catholics, Jews and secularists all have a place in American society.

Pointing out that Protestants abandoned the central cities in the past, leaving them first to Catholic immigrants and now to Negroes and "hillbillies," he said "the frontier for the Protestant mission today in in returning to the central city."

Describing trends in British church life, the Rev. W. D. R. Cattanach, pastor of St. George's West Church (Church of Scotland), Edinburgh, pointed to a current reassessment of Biblical theology designed to discover how the Gospel can be experienced in 20th Century life.

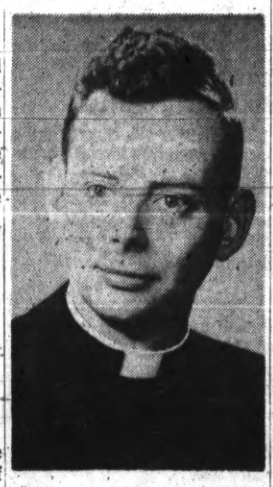

Reassessment is also a driving force at the local church level where congregations are not so likely today to go in for "gimmicks" or "flashiness," he added.

Service Increasing Facilities in Miami

NEW YORK (UPI) — Church World Service is stepping up its facilities at the Cuban Refugee Center in Miami, Fla., as a result of the steady influx of refugees from Cuba.

★ ★ ★

"We stand able and ready to help the Cuban refugee rejoin his family as expeditiously as possible," said Rev. John W. Schauer Jr., director of immigration services of CWS when he returned from a study of immediate staff needs at the Miami center.

REV. MARTIN WAGER JR.

Former Member to Speak Sunday

Speaking at the 8 and 11 a. m. worship services tomorrow in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township, will be the Rev. Martin Wager Jr., associate pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Fresno, Calif.

★ ★ ★

The son of Mrs. Martin Wager, organist at Christ Lutheran and the late Mr. Wager, the guest speaker, grew up in the local church when the Rev. Philip A. Jordan was pastor.

Presently he serves as associate pastor for the Rev. Mr. Jordan.

To Receive Members

Holy Communion will be celebrated tomorrow at Newman AME Church and new members received into the church fellowship during morning service.

More English Scheduled for Catholic Mass

ROME — Increased use of English at Mass will begin in the United States next Passion Sunday, Mar. 27, according to a formal decision by the U. S. bishops' conference here.

★ ★ ★

To avoid confusion, a single date was chosen for the entire country to inaugurate all the new langauge premissions for the Mass, a commission spokesman said. The delay until March is needed to get new liturgical books ready.

★ ★ ★

This marks the second stage in permissions to use the local langauge at Mass in the United States.

The principal texts now affected are the prefaces to the Canon, and the prayers said by by the people — the Collect, the Prayer over the Gifts (formerly called the Secret), and the Prayer after Communion.

As a result, English will now be used for nearly all the parts of the Mass recited aloud or sung.

★ ★ ★

The bishop's conference also approved musical settings for the English prayers of the priest when these are to be sung, as well as music for the Lord's Prayer, sung by the priest and people together.

These musical settings, like the newly approved English translations, are provisional, the spokesman siad.

40-Year-Old Shawl Worn at Bar Mitzvah

When Jeff Rosner celebrated his Bar Mitzvah Dec. 24 at Congregation B'nai Israel by reading from the Torah and chanting the Haftorah he wore the traditional prayer shawl that was worn over 40 years before by his maternal grandfather, Henry Willner of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Following the service Jeff and his family were hosts at a luncheon for relatives and friends in the synagogue.

★ ★ ★

Besides the Bar Mitzvah training, Jeff received additional religious study from Rabbi Israel Goodman.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Rosner of 2638 Pine Ridge, West Bloomfield Township, are Jeff's parents.

UNITED FAITH GENERAL BAPTIST — The newly organized United Faith General Baptist Church was dedicated July 11. Members purchased the Pontiac Junior Academy, former Seventh-day Adventist School for children, at 81 E. Howard. Men of the church painted and renovated the interior for services. Rev. Edward Donavant is pastor.

College Students Speak on Their Faith

When the congregation asks for copies of the message just heard that's a good sign that the message "hit home." And that is precisely what happened at Bethany Baptist Church Sunday.

Only there happen to be three speakers—all college students of the church.

★ ★

The occasion was the annual observance of Student at Home Sunday when Pastor Emil Kontz invited three students to provide the sermon for the day with the general theme, "The Christian Student Today."

Cheryl Hight who attends the University of Michigan opened the subejct by dealing with "The Christian Student and His Faith."

She affirmed that contrary to popular opinion Christian students do not lose their faith when they go away to school. Many find their faith enlarged, enriched and deepened. Others find their faith modified but none the less real, she said.

Students who maintain an active fellowship with a campus religious group can broaden and strengthen their faith, she added.

William Macfield of Oakland University carried the subject further by talking on "The Christian Student and the Church." He recognized that there are some students who allow their academic and social activities to crowd church out of their lives.

But he insisted that this need not necessarily be so.

"Young people make a big mistake when they stay away from church just because they are away from home. The church near the college can provide friendly fellowship to the student, away from family and regular friends, said the Oakland University student.

"Worship and Bible study will aid him in clarifying his faith and enlarge his religious insights. Besides, churches have worthy projects which can provide useful outlets in Christian service. This always gives faith a practical aspect," he added.

"The Christian Student and His World" was the subject dealt with by Charles Sickels, of Michigan State University.

He reminded the congregation that only a couple of generations ago people were complaining that modern students were "people without a cause."

"Students today," he said, "are definitely and deeply involved in a wide variety of causes as civil rights, freedom of speech, and others."

Holding up his draft card he pointed out that it was a symbol of life commitment, and was to be dealt with not only with freedom but also with responsibility.

"Students don't all react to the same problems and opportunities alike, but we must recognize their right to make their own decisions. Christian students must demonstrate their faith by speaking up when necessary, and by bearing witness to their convictions on current issues."

He went on to say "Christian students have an obligation to get involved in modern society in a meaningful way, to practice their faith."

★ ★ ★

Other studetns of Bethany participating in the service were Cheryl Wilton, Dale Quinn and Don Crawford, University of Michigan; James Hsu, Stanford University; Kathy Kennaday, Oakland Community College; and Karen Shirley, Oakland University.

Betty Guiacsik was chairman of the student coordinating committee.

Dr. Robert C. Howes, a member of the faculty of Oakland University, will address the public forum at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Bethany Baptist Church.

His subject will be "The Crisis in Vietnam."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Howes will review circumstances leading to the present critical situation and the U.S. Government's present policy described with possible alternatives indicated.

There will be ample time for questions and discussion.

Dr. Howe's specialty is current history and political affairs.

At the 11 a.m. worship hour Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor, will adminster the ordinance of Communion. His message will be "The Need to Remember — and Forget."

★ ★ ★

During the service newly elected officers of the church will be installed.

★ ★ ★

The orientation and organization of church boards is planned for 6 p.m. Boards will first meet as a group, then get together separately to make plans for the year.

The public forum will follow board meetings.

Overseas Disasters Bring Appeals for Aid

Destitution and hunger, resulting from recent disasters in Korea and East Pakistan and from the war in Viet Nam have resulted in desperate appeals to the churches for assistance.

★ ★ ★

Victims of the Han River flood in Korea now total 221,933, while in East Pakistan, where the rice crop was washed out by cyclones and a tidal wave, thousands are starving.

In responding to the appeals, Church World Service was able to make 10 large tents from the disaster stockpile in Korea available as temporary shelters.

Other emergency supplies distributed by Korea Church World Service included more than one million pounds of Share Our Substance commodities and 449 bales of clothing.

However, with no bedding of any kind on hand in Korea and only a few bales left in its centers in this country, CWS had to send $2,500 to KCWS to purchase Korean quilts.

BLANKETS

The shipment of 500 blankets and 20,000 pounds of clothing en route by ocean freighter and due to arrive there this week, further depleted U. S. stockpiles, CWS reports.

Rice and wheat rushed to East Pakistan—450,000 pounds provided by CROP, the CWS Christian Rural Overseas Program — arrived the end of July and a portion was distributed to the needy in the Barisal district.

The balance, says CROP, will be used for food-for-work projects in payment to those repairing homes and schools in the flooded area.

Through the first joint program of its kind, between the churches in the U. S. and Denmark, large quantities of Danish pork — an initial 2,000-3,000 tons — are going to CWS representatives in Congo, Burundi, Haiti and Hong Kong.

To funds given by both Protestant and Catholic churches in Denmark, CROP has added $10,000 to cover processing and shipping the Danish surplus pork.

MRS. HECTOR McMILLAN

Elmwood Church to Hear Missionary

Mrs. Hector McMillan, of Waterford Township, a former missionary to the Congo, will speak at the 7 p.m. service in Elmwood Methodist Church, Avon Township Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. McMillan and her six sons were with her husband, Rev. Hector McMillan in Stanleyville, Congo, when he was shot by rebels. Two of the boys were wounded.

Mrs. McMillan and her husband had given 23 years of missionary service in the Congo working under the Unevangelized Fields Mission, an interdenominational mission board.

Mrs. McMillan received her early education in Pontiac schools. Missionary work was taken at Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and Wheaton College.

Singspiration Scheduled in Oakland Ave. Church

The Youth for Christ Singspiration is scheduled for 9 p.m. tomorrow in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Special music will be presented by Phyllis Gehman. Terry Walker will lead group singing.

★ ★ ★

"The Tony Fontane Story," an 80-minute color film, will be shown at 7:30 tonight in Pontiac Northern High School. The public is invited.

Volunteers Are Your Neighbors

Women's Section

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

We can't all go off and join the Peace Corps. If we have family or job responsibilities, we can't become a full-time worker in the war on poverty.

But for every individual who wants to contribute volunteer service, there is opportunity.

★ ★ ★

There are so many jobs that need doing —jobs for which no one is paid — that it would be impossible to list them all.

★ ★ ★

By and large, we think people deplore crime, war, poverty, sickness and despair. We think most individuals are concerned about their fellowmen, despite the selfish philosophy promulgated by Ayn Rand in her books.

★ ★ ★

It would be a monumental task to list the volunteer services performed by Pontiac area women and to total the hours they give annually.

When you consider the fact the Pontiac State Hospital alone has a corps of 1,000 volunteers, you begin to see what we mean.

★ ★ ★

Women take on volunteer jobs for many reasons.

- They may get interested in a project through their church or school.
- They may carry out an interest they have always had, one that was perhaps expressed through a job at one time.
- They may see a need and create a new job.
- They may be talked into volunteering by a friend.
- They may use the volunteer job as a means of achieving social prominence and or helping their husbands.

We will not go into motives. We know the less worthy ones exist, but in the long run, getting the job done is the important thing.

Pontiac once had a Volunteer Service Bureau in connection with Pontiac Area United Fund. This no longer exists.

But the UF does have some volunteer jobs for the Fund itself and for some of its agencies. They have turned over the task of recruiting needed workers to most of the individual agencies themselves.

★ ★ ★

Part of the new Continuum Center at Oakland University is a Volunteer Placement Bureau. But only the women who are enrolled in the Continuum Center may take advantage of this service. Agencies can ask for help.

LOCAL VOLUNTEERS

On this page which inaugurates a new year we are picturing a number of different volunteer jobs.

The public is aware of the more obvious ones — the American Red Cross and Salvation Army workers busy in time of disaster — the United Fund solicitor — the group leader in youth activities — boards of directors.

But how many individuals know about the group of women interested in American Field Service exchange students who knit hundreds of sweaters to raise funds?

How many know about women who report regularly to the Michigan Cancer Foundation office to do secretarial work and to get materials ready for the thousands of cancer pads sewn by other unsung volunteers?

★ ★ ★

The woman who spends several hours a week with an underprivileged child, helping him with his schoolwork, taking him on trips and just being his friend goes unheralded.

The patient women who spend hours on the telephone recruiting volunteers for any given project are not always rewarded.

★ ★ ★

Money cannot buy every necessity. And most mature people have to have some contact with others.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

They like working on projects (it's the great American custom of forming a committee to do anything); they get a sense of achievement and a glow of self righteousness out of helping others.

★ ★ ★

Your time may be limited. Your extra funds be nil. Your talents may be meager, according to your estimate.

★ ★ ★

But the world needs every pair of willing hands and every concerned mind. You have only to choose your agency.

SHE DRIVES

If you like to drive and have a car at your disposal, you might want to follow the example of Mrs. William T. Billings of Riverside Drive.

★ ★ ★

A volunteer driver for the United Fund, she takes individuals to hospitals for treatment on a regular schedule. UF drivers take the blind to classes and meetings. A number of other organization also can use drivers.

★ ★ ★

Women like Mrs. L. Keith Crissman of Rochester who love children find an outlet for their excess energies in working for the Michigan Children's Aid.

★ ★ ★

A member of the auxiliary, Mrs. Crissman takes babies to foster homes, to the doctor or wherever the small charges need taxing.

NEW JOB

A brand new volunteer job is held by two American Red Cross Gray Ladies at Pontiac State Hospital. Mrs. John G. Whiting of Franklin and Mrs. Randall Crabb of Wing Lake are working in the intensive care program as companionship therapists.

Each woman has been assigned two patients with whom to work. The volunteers give them special attention and try to achieve a warm personal relationship.

Patients will sometimes speak more freely with volunteers than with staff members. Mrs. Whiting and Mrs. Crabb confer often about their charges with both the head nurse and the psychiatrist in charge.

SALESWOMAN

Mrs. Carl Bolton meets the public in a different way from many volunteers. She has charge of all the women who staff the Scholarshop at Oakland University.

Proceeds from the shop go to the scholarship fund.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bolton's job is to have saleswomen on hand every week day from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. This not only means a great deal of telephoning, but filling in herself if all others let her down.

★ ★ ★

During the Meadow Brook Music Festival the Scholarshop moves to Trumbull Terrace and volunteers are needed for both afternoon and evening hours.

★ ★ ★

Since World War II, the blood bank has become a familiar sight. Those who go in to donate blood are aware of the Red Cross volunteer who takes his history, checks his blood pressure and after his "blood-letting," hovers over him as he drinks his orange juice.

ESSENTIAL TASK

But few know about the quiet volunteers who sit for hours putting the blood vials into plastic bags for shipment and attaching the correct tag to each. There must be absolute accuracy on this job.

★ ★ ★

Take the group of some 100 women who bake cookies for the monthly parties at Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

There are dozens of groups who go in with home baked cookies each month to give parties in the wards. These, too, are dedicated volunteers.

★ ★ ★

But the 100 we mean, bake for an organization headed by the Arthur Heatons who sponsor a party once a month at the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Women like Mrs. Charles Branson call a list of bakers, bake cookies themselves and sometimes pick up half a dozen offerings.

Any cookies left at the end of the party go to wards where patients are unable to attend outside events.

SOMEONE CARES

It's funny that anything as small as a few cookies will show a mental patient that someone on the outside cares. But it's true.

★ ★ ★

Another homebound group is Group III of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital. All young mothers in the Herrington Hills section of town, these women meet monthly at night to make tray favors for the patients.

★ ★ ★

This is a group that saw a need and met it within the limits of their lives.

Pontiac area women are generous with their time. But the need grows greater every day.

Keeping the stock in order is just part of Mrs. Carl Bolton's job in the Scholarshop at Oakland University. She is responsible for seeing that the shop is staffed at all times and spends many hours on the telephone in her Wormer Drive home.

Each month Mrs. Douglas Yale, Neafie Avenue (left) and Mrs. Donald Kemp, Dudley Street, work with Group III of the Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital. The organization makes tray favors for patients. Mrs. Yale is president and Mrs. Kemp "thinks up the ideas."

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. Randall Crabb (left) of Wing Lake and Mrs. John G. Whiting of Franklin are pioneers in a new volunteer program at Pontiac State Hospital. They are working in companionship therapy. Both women are enthusiastic about the progress their patients have shown. They have been American Red Cross Gray Ladies for a number of years.

Mrs. Hervey A. Lavoie of Home Street rolls her wheelchair down the ramp as Mrs. William T. Billings, Riverside Drive, waits with a car. Mrs. Billings who takes Mrs. Lavoie to the hospital regularly for treatment is a Pontiac Area United Fund volunteer.

While they place vials of blood in plastic bags and make out tags to accompany them, these three workers at a recent Red Cross blood bank enjoy each other's company. From the left are Mrs. William Guthrie, Sylvan Village; Mrs. J. W. Sheets, Lanman Drive; and Mrs. William Schmidt, Orchard Lake.

Mrs. L. Keith Crissman, Apple Hill Lane, Avon Township, likes cuddly babies. As a member of the Women's Auxiliary, Oakland County branch, Michigan Children's Aid, she transports the society's young charges whenever necessary.

Mrs. Charles Branson of Hillcliff Street bakes cookies once a month for a patients' party at Pontiac State Hospital. She also is responsible for reminding a group of other bakers who participate in this home volunteer job.

August vows are planned by Barbara Alice Olds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Olds of Pioneer Drive, and David Bruce Colando of Mohawk Road. Both are juniors at Eastern Michigan University.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerald R. Gohl of Shaw Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Edward William Rowland, son of the Claude E. Rowlands of Port Huron. Her fiance is attending Port Huron Junior College preparatory to entering Wayne State University.

Greet Older Person First Is Advice

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I have been asked to write you on behalf of our etiquette class here at school on the following question which came up for discussion.

The question is: When a young man or woman meets an older person of his, or her, acquaintance, is it up to the younger person to greet the older one, or vice versa?

A: It is very rude for young people not to greet an older person of their acquaintance whom they meet away from home, especially a host or hostess to whose house thay have often gone.

It is not at all necessary for either young women or young men to linger and enter into a long conversation, unless the older person detains them, which the latter should not do beyond the briefest minute.

The one excuse for passing by as quickly as possible is when the older person is a clinging questioner who won't let any approach of friendliness end without asking for a complete report on the health and occupation of every relative or friend of one who merely wished to bid a polite "Good afternoon" to one of the family friends.

Q: I am a young widow and plan to remarry this winter. Invitations will be sent out in my parents' names. We are not at at all sure, however, how they should be worded. Will you please advise us?

A: The invitations are worded exactly the same as for a first marriage except that your name, instead of being simply "Caroline," would be engraved, "Caroline Huntington Jones," as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Huntington request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Caroline Huntington Jones, etc.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Every Recipe Doesn't Call for Food

Recipe For a Happy New Year:

Take 12 fine, full grown months, see that these are thoroughly free from all old memories of bitterness, rancor, hate and jealousy. Cleanse them completely from every clinging spite; pick off all specks of pettiness.

★ ★ ★

Cut these months into 30 or 31 equal parts. Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time, but prepare one day at a time, as follows:

Into each day put equal parts of faith, patience, courage, work, hope, fidelity, liberality, kindness, rest, prayer, meditation.

★ ★ ★

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Most folks take their breathing for granted much as they do sunrise and sunset. Since we do not have to think about it and it continues day after day without any effort on our part, we may do a poor job of it and fail to recognize its importance.

★ ★ ★

Our breathing continues when we are asleep and even when we are unconscious. The WAY we breathe can have a happy influence on our health and appearance.

POOR POSTURE

Because of poor posture and shallow breathing many humans are oxygen-poor. Most people use only a small portion of their lungs in their regular breathing, and receive far too little oxygen for best health and most beauty. Deep breathing exercises have been used with success in the treatment of insomnia. Tense and nervous persons also benefit by these.

Of course breath control and deep breathing have always been an important part of Yoga. The things the Hindus learned about posture and breathing and relaxation are the result of centuries of experimentation and self-discipline. The Yogis believe that deep breathing can give an actual glow to the body. They also think that youth emits a greater glow than age and that deep breathing plays an important part in beauty.

YOGA

Many Yoga exercises require years of practice, but others can be used by the woman and man who are amateurs. Deep breathing can have almost magical effects on the body.

★ ★ ★

Try these. All nature is rhythmic and so is this exercise. Inhale deeply for five counts. Retain the air in your lungs for five counts and exhale for five counts. Give equal time to each and be sure that your spine is straight and your chest elevated throughout. At first you may have to inhale, hold and exhale for three counts only. Later you may work up to eight or 10 counts. When doing this exercise try to clear your mind of all thoughts and close your eyes. You will find it refreshing.

★ ★ ★

Some of the simpler Hindu postures will give you a wonderful sense of relaxation, right from the first. The following one is called, "The Dragon." Kneel on both knees. Place your hands flat on your thighs, one hand on each thigh. Straighten your spine and hold your head up.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my deep breathing exercises send a stamped, seff - addressed envelope with your request for "The Fountain of Youth." Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

You're Certainly in Trouble If There's No Difference

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me the difference between a maid and a housewife? My husband says there is no difference. Thank you.

WACO HOUSEWIFE

DEAR HOUSEWIFE: If you have a maid, you'd better keep your eye on your husband.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a working housewife. I get up every morning at 5 and cook my husband a good breakfast I don't consider it a chore, Abby. I love to do it.

ABBY

But I am not very talkative in the morning. In all my 41 years of life, I have never liked to talk to anyone right after I get up. It takes a couple of hours before I feel like talking. This has caused a lot of arguments with my husband. He says if I don't feel like being sociable in the morning I should stay in bed.

But I like to get up and cook him a nice breakfast as a wife should. I don't care if anyone talks to me or not in the morning, so why should he be so stubborn on this one point?

A GOOD WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No matter how good the breakfast is, it's apparently not as important to your husband as the "sociability" he's missing. Not all husbands are alike. Some would rather have less gab and more grub.

But yours is the one you have to live with; so either make an effort to be more cheerful and communicative in the morning or stay in the sack.

DEAR ABBY: I would like a little advice on how to handle a situation that concerns my daughter and myself. She is 16, and has a rather steady boy friend.

Because I am a divorcee and have to work, I cannot be home until 6 in the evening. I have made a rule that she should not have her boy friend come into our apartment until I get home.

She says she should be able to invite him in after school, even though I am not there. I might add that her younger sister and brother (ages 8 and 11) are usually home. Also my daughter's word is good, I trust her, the boy is a nice boy, but I don't want her talked about, and we live in an apartment with many nosey people.

WORKING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you have made an ironclad "rule" with only your nosey, gossipy neighbors in mind, you are being unfair to your daughter. Tell her she may let her beau come in after school for no more than an hour, occasionally, but not every evening.

Give her a chance to use her own judgment, expect the best of her and I'll bet she won't let you down.

Troubled? Write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

'Auto' Provide Storage Space

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI) — Surveys show women want more storage space in automobiles, the Mississippi Automobile Dealers Association was told.

★ ★ ★

Henry C. Watkins, of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., did the telling. He also said women want built-in litter receptacles, purse holders, coin holders near the driver seat, defrosters on all windows and wipers on the rear window.

To New Lengths

(UPI) — They're talking of a new coat length for spring, about two inches shorter than the daytime dress it covers.

Bake Apple Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

The next time you plan an oven dinner, bake your dessert too. During the winter months a warm dessert is especially appealing. This one comes from Mrs. Russell Grinnell.

She suggests that you make three or four times the recipe for the topping and store it in jars for later use.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Grinnell who works part-time has a number of civic and cultural interests.

APPLES WITH CRUNCHY TOPPING

By Mrs. Russell Grinnell

3-6 medium apples, sliced thin
¾ cup quick cooking oatmeal
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup flour
½ cup margarine

Cream together margarine, brown sugar and flour. Work in oatmeal. Topping will be crumbly.

Slice apples into buttered baking dish, using whatever amount you will need for your family. Cover with topping.

Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes, or until apples can be pierced easily with a fork. Makes 3-6 servings.

FACTS ABOUT PHARMACY
by HOWARD L. DELL
Your Neighborhood Pharmacist

FILLING PRESCRIPTIONS Isn't a skill learned easily. Your pharmacist must spend at least five years in college—six in some states—to earn his B.S. degree in pharmacy. He's passed a grueling exam for his state license. And his education never stops. He must keep up-to-date on some 400 new drugs that are introduced on the market every year.

"Profit potential? You bet! MICHIGAN'S electronic industry growth has quadrupled since '51"

"Right! Industrial, military or consumer markets... MICHIGAN offers more of everything."

"The booming growth of Michigan's electronics industry is one of the most spectacular features of the state's [illegible] expansion. Employment increased nearly 400% since 1950, and sales now top $335 million annually. Of these [illegible] 30,000 employed in electronics, 2000 are engineers or [illegible] — 75% of them [illegible] and developmental programs totalling over $75 million."

"Michigan [illegible] second [illegible] and scientific employment. Michigan [illegible] ranks [illegible] 15th [illegible] in engineering employment. Within a 500 mile radius [illegible] 25 universities grant 10% of all the Ph.D's in engineering each year [illegible] U.S. ... over 1,000 graduate degrees granted in 1964. ...working to sell MICHIGAN 365 days each year ! In the next five years, Michigan will need about 100,000 new jobs each year, just to sustain population growth. The key to creating these new jobs is industrial expansion. And Consumers Power Company's Area Development department is working constantly to help existing industry and bring new industry to this area. One phase of this effort is to advertise regularly for new industry in national publications like The Wall Street Journal and Business Week. These topical advertisements, shown above, reach over 1 million readers. Helping provide the jobs we'll be needing tomorrow is part of our obligation to serve the people of Michigan. Christmas Excitement Lingers On

Return Now to Routine Living

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

At the John (Red) Dorans on Worchester Drive, West Bloomfield Township, the return to family routine is still marked by the warm, friendly aura of Christmas excitement and camaraderie.

★ ★ ★

Opening off the entrance foyer which reflects the home's Early Americana decoration theme is the family room-kitchen combination.

Paneled in fruitwood-finished birch, the family room features a fireplace wall of red brick with a raised hearth.

On the beamed mantle are mementoes of Mr. Doran's hockey career which included a year as defenseman with the Red Wings.

★ ★ ★

A collection of medals mounted on black velvet and framed stands next to the mantle clock.

STASHED AWAY

"The whole collection, marking Red's progress in hockey from childhood," said Mrs. Doran, "was stashed away in a cupboard in my mother-in-law's kitchen shelf.

"One year, I asked for them, had them framed and gave them to Red for Christmas."

Doran is presently vice president of the Red Wings' Alumni Association.

Insignias of the 13 original colonies hang from the beam dividing the kitchen and family room ceilings.

Nasturtiums in new clay pots spill over the planter shelf adding an interesting splash of color to the back of the cupboard peninsula.

At the back of the house overlooking the landscaped yard is the formal living room.

★ ★ ★

Twin wing-back chairs in a bright crewel-like print of shades of blue, gold and olive green are grouped together in front of the living room's fireplace.

AMERICAN BLUE

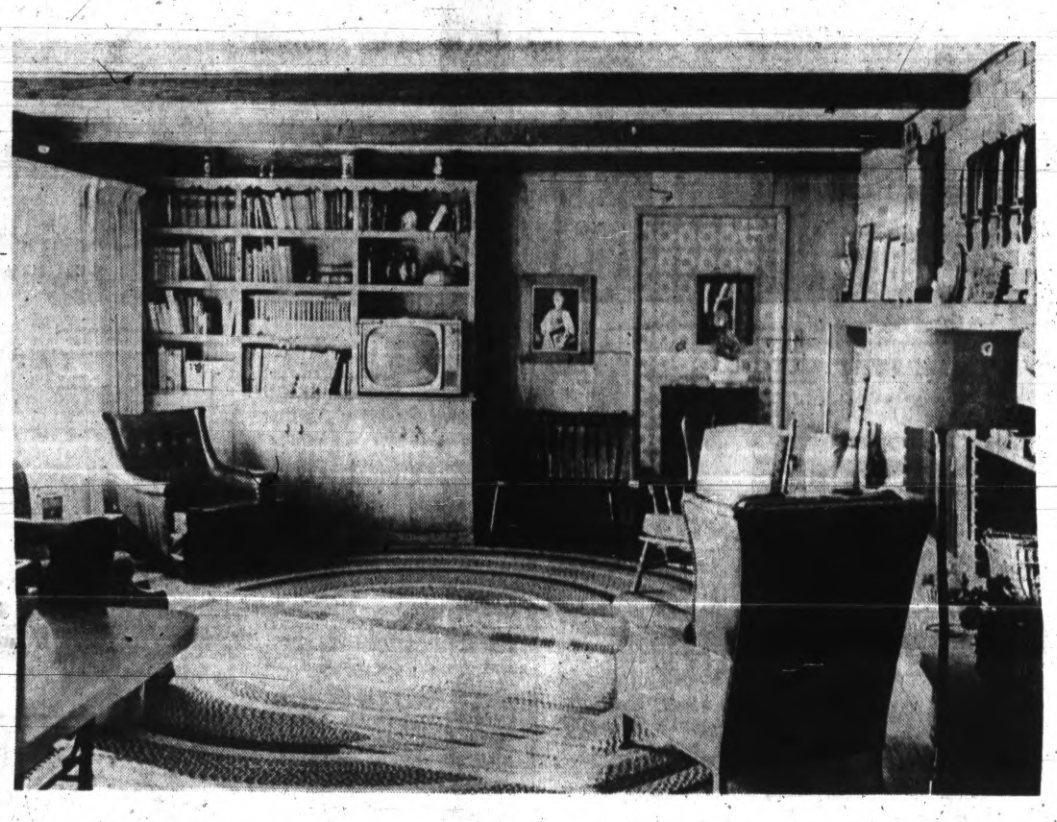

An oak table cut down to coffee table height serves the right angle arrangement of the room's two loveseats covered in an American blue.

Folding louvered doors allow the fruitwood-paneled dining room to be closed off completely.

Landlords Cater to Dallas 'Swingers'

"Swingers" make up a sizable segment of the Dallas housing market, according to a national home management magazine.

The group is characterized as unmarried, fun-loving party-goers, and landlords are attracting them with low rents, community pools, meeting rooms, barbecue pits, and apartment units with built-in bars.

ATTRACTIVE TERRACE: Placement of the front terrace between the bedroom and garage wings adds 234 square feet to the livable area of the house. Diamond-paned windows, partial room, flagstoned floor and arched columns make it pleasing to the eye, as well.

Terrace Highlights U-Shape Floor Plan

Effective use of all available space is the chief concern of the conscientious and competent architect in designing a house of modest proportions.

★ ★ ★

In a large house on a large plot, there can be one or more areas which serve no functional purpose.

In a house the size of the newest House of the Week — with dimensions of 62' by 39'4", including the garage— it is important that every inch of space be used well.

Architect Lester Cohen has done an excellent job of giving a three-bedroom family 1,590 square feet of living area.

★ ★ ★

But he has done even more than that.

ATTRACTIVE TERRACE

Through an interesting U-plan, which places an attractive front terrace between the opening in the U, he has provided 234 additional square feet of habitability.

By covering half of the terrace to form a porch, he has insured both the usefulness and privacy of the area.

The terrace, with its flagstoned floor and arched columns, blends well with the natural stone veneer on the front of the bedroom and garage wings, giving a kind of colonial flavor to what is essentially a ranch house.

The result is a pleasant exterior, in good taste and suitable for any neighborhood.

SPACE-SAVERS

It's at the side of the porch, leading immediately into a center hall which serves a triple purpose.

It is a foyer, a bedroom hallway and a buffer zone between the sleeping wing and the living area.

The main bathroom serves two bedrooms as well as the living area, being convenient to both.

The master bedroom has its own bath and unusually spacious closets.

★ ★ ★

There are entrances from the living room to the dining room and the combined kitchen-family room, which is 23' long.

GLASS DOORS

Sliding glass doors lead from the family room portion to a rear patio.

Double windows over the kitchen sink provide good supervision of the backyard.

★ ★ ★

There are two entrances into the mud room and laundry, which are adjacent to the kitchen.

One is from the side of the house, the other from the garage.

The latter arrangement will be appreciated by the housewife who has to carry packages from the auto into the house.

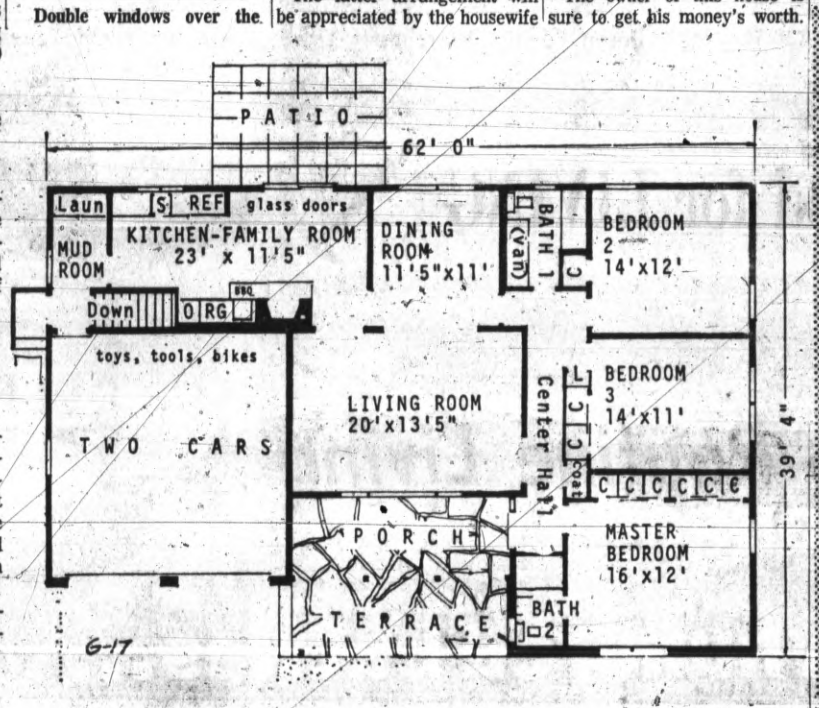

GARAGE STORAGE

The two-car garage is large enough to permit the storage of toys and tools.

There is a full basement, with the stairway to it at the entrance to the mud room.

A glance at the floor plan of Design G-17 shows how well architect Cohen has succeeded in making use of all the space at his disposal.

The owner of this house is sure to get his money's worth.

FLOOR PLANS: Long open areas between the kitchen and family room, and the living room and dining room, create illusion of spaciousness in modest-sized home. Note how single hallway serves as a center hall and a bedroom hall.

AP's Peter Arnett in Viet Nam

Peter Arnett went to Viet Nam in July, 1962, to cover "a dirty little war." It's bigger and deadlier now. In October, 1965, it took the lives of two photographers serving Associated Press members, Bernard Kolenberg and Huynh Thanh My.

In a thousand days, Peter Arnett personally has gone through a hundred battles. From the ambush-ridden delta to isolated outposts in the highlands.

His datelines? Song Be and Duc Co, Zone D and An Khe, Bien Hoa, Chu Lai and Ia Drang Valley. And many more.

Peter Arnett, like other AP men serving this newspaper in Viet Nam, believes the place to get the story and the picture is with the fighting troops. In doing this he has displayed courage and shown initiative and reporting skill in the highest tradition of his profession.

Peter Arnett is not alone. The sixteen AP men reporting and photographing the Vietnamese war are all working with a dedication that, perhaps, only the troops they travel with can fully understand.

But they know you and millions of other Americans want the story and the picture.

They report for you in . . .

Year's Local News Stories Summarized

Violent death, the weather, politics and the area's unequalled prosperity were the principal Pontiac Press headline makers in 1965.

★ ★ ★

The two biggest local stories of the year in terms of number of people affected and reader interest were the blizzard of Feb. 25 and the tragic accidental deaths of three patients at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The snowstorm paralyzed business, industry and schools throughout the county and set weather prophets searching through the record books.

The Osteopathic Hospital tragedy, caused by injections of ether mistaken for another anesthetic, resulted in the resignation of two anesthesiologists and made national headlines.

★ ★ ★

The past year's news was sprinkled liberally with highway tragedies and numerous murders, none of which went unsolved.

GOP REGIME

A Republican regime which had survived three decades in the county was broken when Democrats were sworn in as prosecutor and clerk-register and a third Democrat became county treasurer last month after the death of Charles A. Sparks.

Local General Motors Plants hummed night and day throughout the year as the country continued to ride a history-making wave of prosperity, and Pontiac sales records were set with regularity.

Following is a summary of major local news stories which appeared in The Pontiac Press in 1965, listed under the month and date of publication:

January

1 — The scythe of death cut a wide swath down Oakland County highways last year, claiming at least 177 lives, according to an unofficial Press tally.

2 — GMC Truck & Coach Division has chalked up its highest peacetime production figure in history, with 110,450 trucks and buses, it was announced by Calvin J. Werner, GM vice president and divisional general manager.

6 — In a year-end report, General Motors Corp. announced that GM payrolls in Pontiac totaled $240 million last year—$10 million over 1963 . . . Pontiac Motor Division announced a record 1964 production of 693,634 units.

SELLS SANATORIUM

12 — The Oakland County Board of Supervisors approved the sale of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the Oakland Community College for the appraisal price of $927,000.

14 — The Pontiac School Board adopted a policy governing, among other concerns, salary negotiations with teachers, designating that the board would only recognize the association which had the majority of teachers as members.

15 — William G. Gravlin, admitted slayer of all seven members of his family, was committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

3 DIE IN FIRE

22 — Two children and their young uncle were killed in a fire which devastated their Commerce Township home.

February

3 — A self-appointed Citizens Committee on Taxation announced opposition to Pontiac's proposed income tax, slated to go before voters in mid March.

4 — A Ferndale man was charged with first degree murder in the deaths of his wife and six children who perished in a fire in their home.

KILLED IN HOLDUP

9 — A 47-year-old Independence Township store owner was shot and killed during an apparent holdup of Rochon's Country Shoppe, 6450 Dixie.

10 — An inch of rain and a 20-degree temperature rise flooded basements, streets and highways throughout Pontiac and Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

12 — Two brothers were killed when their single engine plane crashed at Pontiac Municipal Airport moments after a takeoff in thick fog.

16 — A house fire in Waterford Township claimed the life of a 4-year-old boy and resulted in serious burns for his mother and hospitalization of three sisters.

18 — Organized by the City Commission, a 71-member citizens Committee for Tax Reform was formed to present the "pro" side in the city income tax fight.

19 — A four-year $7-million tax loss for Pontiac over the next four years was disclosed. The tax loss stems from a new state law exempting certain types of machinery.

20 — John E. Madole was appointed administrator for the county's Community Mental Health Services program.

25 — The worst blizzard in many years swirled into Oakland County, snarling traffic and nearly paralyzing business, industry and schools.

1965 SPORTS CHAMPS

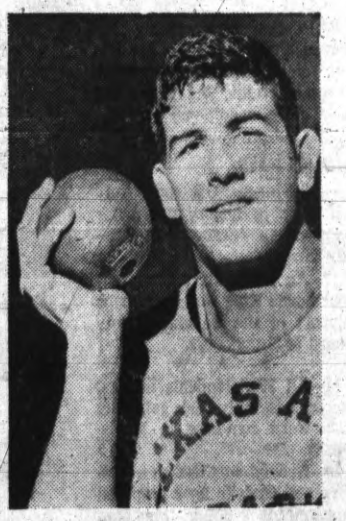

SANDY KOUFAX, Dodger left-hander, became the first man in major league history to pitch four no-hitters. His two victories, after a defeat carried Los Angeles to a 4-3 triumph over the dazzled Minnesota Twins in a seesaw 1965 World Series.

GRAND OLD MAN of baseball, Casey Stengel, handed in his N.Y. Mets' uniform. The 75-year-old champ retired to California after a fall in which he broke his hip.

SAND SCORCHER Craig Breedlove tooled his jet-powered "Spirit of America" over Bonneville's salt flats at an amazing 600.06 miles an hour to become the fastest human on land. The near-the-sped-of-sound record came only a few days after Art Arfons of Akron had cracked Breedlove's earlier mark with a run of 576.66 m.p.h. in his "Green Monster" racer.

SHOT PUT record toppler was Randy Matson, 20, of Texas A&M, a 240-pounder who was the first man to heave the weight beyond 70 feet.

TOP COLLEGE football player of 1965: Halfback Mike Garrett of USC, chosen as Heisman Trophy winner.

SECOND GREEN coat for Jack Nicklaus, Masters champion and golfs' top purse winner, $138,000 plus.

SUPERB: Rampaging Jimmy Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback. The former Syracuse star, now in his 9th year of bruising pro football action, again exceeded 1,000 yards gained this fall, the 7th season he has done it.

MAN AGAINST the sea: Robert Manry of Cleveland, Ohio, who sailed 3,200 miles solo from the United States to England, in 77 days aboard his 13½-ft. boat, "Tinkerbelle."

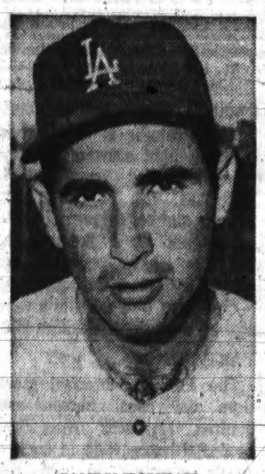

CASSIUS (Ali Something-or-other) Clay still reigns as heavyweight champ after disposing of perennial contenders Liston and Patterson.

M-MSU Bright Spots of '65 State Sports

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan sports teams lost no time getting on the winning track in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Michigan started it all with a 34-7 Rose Bowl victory over Oregon State on New Year's Day.

Fullback Mel Anthony was named the player of the game after scoring three touchdowns, one on a record-setting 84-yard run.

★ ★ ★

Following the Wolverines' success, were these big stories:

—Michigan's basketball team was top-ranked and, led by All-America Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, advanced to the NCAA tourney finals before losing to UCLA.

DRESSEN

—Detroit Tigers' Manager Charlie Dressen suffered a mild heart attack during spring training and the team entered the season in the hands of Bob Swift.

—The Detroit Red Wings pulled one of the biggest surprises when they won 12 of their last 15 games and captured the National Hockey League's regular season championship. It was the first title by a Detroit pro team since the Lions won in 1957.

—Michigan State not only wrapped up the Big Ten football title and a 10-0 record but entered the Rose Bowl encounter with UCLA as the nation's No. 1 team.

—MSU quarterback Steve Juday and defensive back George Webster were named to the All-America first team.

WATTRICK

Wattrick, whose biggest dream was to bring a National Basketball Association title to Detroit, died of a heart attack soon after signing player-coach Dave DeBusschere to a three-year contract.

★ ★ ★

The Pistons finished last in their division in the 1964-65 season and made Buntin their top draft choice.

The Red Wings' success was aided by the comeback of Ted Lindsay. The 39-year-old Lindsay scored 14 goals, assisted on 14 others and was given much credit for the development of a couple of the younger Red Wings.

The Tigers, under Swift's command for the first seven weeks of the regular season, turned in one of their most consistent performances in years.

SWIFT

Willie Horton and McAuliffe were named to the American League All-Star team, the latter being the first Tiger in history to be named at shortstop.

The Tigers lost no time in preparing for the 1966 season. Pitcher Bill Monbouquette was acquired from Boston in exchange for utility men George Thomas and George Smith. Dick Tracewski, a handyman from the Los Angeles Dodgers, came to the Tigers in a trade for pitcher Phil Regan.

Coach Harry Gilmer's first year as head coach of the Lions was less than a happy one.

Gilmer traded quarterback Earl Morrall to New York before the regular season started, leaving Milt Plum as the only experienced signal-caller on the team. George Izo was acquired later in the season.

Joe Don Looney, after a brilliant preseason showing, was injured midway through the season and did not give the team the expected added strength in the running game.

LOONEY

The annual March Madness known as the high school basketball tournament attracted record crowds and when it was all over Benton Harbor ruled as the Class A king, River Rouge repeated in Class B, Muskegon Christian won in Class C and Covert in Class D.

★ ★ ★

Tony Lema captured his second straight Buick Open title at Flint in the only major golf tournament tour stop in the state.

Tom Draper won the North and South amateur golf championship; Melvin Bud Stevens of Detroit won the state amateur golf title and Gene Bone took the Michigan Open.

The Spirit of Detroit hydroplane race on the Detroit River was won by Tahoe Miss.

★ ★ ★

Bay City Central was named the state's best Class A football team, while Jackson St. John topped the poll in Class B. Middleville came out on top in the Class C-D poll for the second straight year.

F. L. "Frosty" Ferzacca of Northern Michigan was named Michigan Small College coach of the year after his Wildcats finished with a 7-3 mark.

Packers Favored by 2 Points Against Browns

SECOND TITLE GAME—Pontiac's Walter Beach, in his second "varsity year" with the Cleveland Browns will be playing in his second NFL title game when the Browns meet the Packers in Green Bay Sunday. Beach is in the defensive backfield for the Browns.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Tide Turns for Pontiac Gridder

2nd 'Varsity' Year for Beach

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Sticks and stones may break his bones, ulcers may damage his stomach, statistics may not be impressive and the Green Bay Packers may appear frightening for Sunday's NFL championship game with the Cleveland Browns.

But, for Pontiac's Walter Beach, in his second "varsity" year with the Browns, both times as Eastern Division champions, it's a matter of weighing the facts.

NFL statistics show the Browns to be the poorest defensive team in the league with a defensive secondary which has had 32 touchdowns thrown against it.

★ ★ ★

Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi points to this and he doesn't keep it a secret that his quarterbacks will be out to follow this pattern of scoring against the Browns.

"They said the same thing last year when we came up against the best quarterback said Beach in recalling how the Baltimore Colts were expected to chew up the Browns.

"Our defense has come up when the chips have gone down. I think the 27-0 championship game last year and two Eastern titles are facts which should speak for themselves," Beach commented.

OUT WITH ULCER

The 1965 season hasn't been exactly a healthy one for Beach who missed five weeks in the middle campaign due to the ulcer which hampered his quest for a pro career before joining Cleveland.

Just three years ago, Beach was in Pontiac recovering from an ulcer attack, jobless and somewhat demoralized at what the future held for him.

He had left Pontiac Central, spent three years in the service, took Little All-American football honors at Central Michigan and sought to pursue a pro career.

He was drafted by the New York Giants in 1960 as the 15th choice, but instead went to Hamilton of the Canadian League. When he left the squad to join the College All-Stars for the annual game, he was told not to come back by Hamilton.

He then went to the Giants' camp, was released and went to Boston of the AFL. He was a regular halfback with the Patriots in 1960, was shifted to defense in 1961 and then the ulcer acted up.

It affected his playing and he came back to Pontiac, stayed in a hospital and spent the rest of 1962 recuperating.

One July day in 1963, Beach came into The Press sports department. "Do you think the Lions would give me a trial?" he asked.

"It's worth a try," we replied.

We mentioned his request to the coaching staff and Beach himself went to see Bob Nussbaumer, then player personnel director.

"They gave me a physical, declared I was physically fit, but I never heard from them afterward," Beach noted.

GOES TO BROWNS

At this time, another Pontiac native, Jimmy Shorter, was with the Browns and he suggested Beach try the Cleveland camp.

At the age of 28, he became a rookie with the Browns. They kept him on the taxi-squad for the 1963 season, and activated him in the fina lgames of the season.

Ironically, after a wave of injuries, Shorter was traded and Beach won the starting job in the defensive backfield.

"That No. 49 was a big difference in the Browns' defense," Detroit Lions' assistant coach Aldo Forte commented once after watching Cleveland go on to the Eastern title last year.

For Beach the title game and championship meant an $8,000 share last year, and win or lose Sunday each player will earn an additional $6,000 at least.

Beach was lauded after the 1964 game for his coverage against Ray Berry, one of the great pass receivers in the NFL.

Weakened by his recent ulcer reaction, Beach will be back wearing his No. 49, ending his second "varsity" year at the age of 30.

Snow Expected for Title Tilt in Green Bay

Bart Starr is Doubtful to Go Against Browns for NFL Crown

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — The battered Green Bay Packers, despite injury problems, are two - point favorites to defeat the well-rested Cleveland Browns Sunday for the National Football League championship.

Temperatures in the 20s and possible light snow is forecast for the 33rd annual NFL showcase. The Browns have been in eight of the previous title games and the Packers seven, but they have never before played each other for the crown.

Cleveland won the title a year ago by defeating Baltimore 27-0.

TAKE BUMPS

The Packers absorbed more than the usual bumps and bruises last week when they beat Baltimore 13-10 in sudden death overtime to win the Western Division title, and they may get little, if any, service from quarterback Bart Starr and fullback Jim Taylor.

Starr, who suffered a badly bruised back against the Colts, has showed progress in drills this week.

But coach Vince Lombardi said after Thursday's practice that "he's got to do better if he wants to play Sunday."

Zeke Bratkowski, 10 - year veteran who completed 22 of 39 passes after Starr was hurt on the first scrimmage play, has been working as the lead quarterback with Starr the backup man.

Taylor, plagued by an assortment of injuries all year, was withheld from Thursday's drill "as more of a precautionary measure than anything," Lombardi said. "He's had this pulled muscle and this wasn't the kind of field on which we could take a chance on further injury."

The Browns, who clinched their division title early and were idle last weekend, have been pronounced in excellent shape by coach Blanton Collier.

MISSES DRILL

Quarterback Frank Ryan missed Wednesday's drill with a touch of virus and tackle Dick Schafrath had a pulled back muscle, but both worked out Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland won in the East with an 11-3 record, to the Packers 11-3-1 in the West, despite playing most of the season without its brilliant rookie receiver of last year, Paul Warfield.

The former Ohio State star was injured in the College All-Star game, and will make his first start of the season against the Packers.

The game will mark another rematch of the NFL's premier fullbacks, Jim Brown of the league's all-time rushing leader, ground out 1,544 yards this season for a 5.3 per carry average and 17 touchdowns.

Taylor, despite injuries, gained 734 yards and scored four touchdowns.

Donny Anderson Picks NFL

Packers Give Star Halfback Richest Pact

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) —Halfback Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, signed by the Green Bay packers for a reported $600,000, looms as a future replacement for Golden Boy Paul Hornung.

"You can't have too many good running backs," said Joe Peppler, Green Bay's director of player personnel. "The stock runs out mighty fast.

"Donny is a wonderful athlete. He is a strong runner and a great pass catcher. We intend to use him as offensive halfback and expect he will see a lot of action next year."

RICHEST EVER

Peppler represented General Manager-Head Coach Vince Lombardi in signing Anderson to a contract that is said to be the richest ever given a college player.

★ ★ ★

The terms are not officially announced but there were guesses the figure exceeds the half-million mark with a bonus of about $200,000, a three-year contract and benefits after Anderson is through with competition.

The signing was the third telling blow struck by the National Football League in its dollar war with the younger American League.

Green Bay also signed Jim Grabowski of Illinois for a reported $475,000. The new NFL entry, Atlanta, grabbed off the No. 1 draft choice, linebacker Tommy Nobis of Texas for a reported $250,000.

The AFL, however, recouped somewhat when Kansas City signed Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California for a reported $300,000 during Friday's East-West All-Star game.

TOP CHOICE

Anderson, two time All-America who has been the leading all-purpose performer in the country for the last two years, was the No. 1 pick of the Packers and the Houston Oilers of the AFL a year ago as a future choice.

★ ★ ★

Bud Adams, owner of the Oilers said he had offered the Texas Tech star a $887,000 package, which included a $200,000 home in Houston, $16,000 worth of furniture and a $36,000 swimming pool.

"Our offer was at least $200,000 better than that of Green Bay," Adams said, "but Anderson apparently made up his mind two days ago."

Anderson, 215-pound, 6-foot-3, athlete with Herculean shoulders and tapering waist and hips, agreed that he had made up his mind earlier.

"I want to play the best — and right now I think the best is in the National League," he said at formal signing ceremonies about two hours after the Gator Bowl, won by Georgia Tech 31-21 over Texas Tech.

"Money wasn't the main factor."

Loyola Trims Minnesota

Indiana Quintet Surprises Bradley

By The Associated Press

If all New Year's Eve celebrations are going to be like the latest one, Joe Stowell would just as soon stay home and go to sleep early.

He went to Chicago Stadium Friday night with the intention of maintaining his perfect record as a college basketball coach. Instead, he had a nightmare and left the party with his first loss.

Indiana was the party-pooper, trouncing Bradley 104-87. The loss for the nation's third-ranked team was the first after 10 victories this season.

FIRST SEASON

Those 10 victories represented Stowell's college career. He is in his first season as a head coach, having succeeded the veteran Chuck Orsborn, who retired to become athletic director at the Illinois school.

The Braves had been one of three remaining unbeaten teams in the country. Now the only two are fifth-ranked Kentucky and Texas Western.

Leading the Indiana attack against the Braves were Harry Joyner and Gary Grieger. The pair carried the Hoosiers to their fourth victory against four defeats, starting the upset with 14 and 13 points, respectively, in the first half.

The Hoosiers made 58 per cent of their field goal tries in the first half and 55 per cent over-all. Bradley, meanwhile, had a 35 per cent figure.

The Braves cut their deficit to seven points, 72-65, with six minutes to play. But that's as close as they could get as Indiana pulled away once again. Joyner finished with 28 points while Grieger had 24.

In the first game of that doubleheader, Loyola of Chicago dumped ninth-ranked Minnesota 82-69. It was the Ramblers' seventh straight triumph and ninth in 10 games and it came over a team that was playing its fourth game in five nights.

Reserves Frank Perez and Eddie Manzke sparked a spurt that broke open a close contest in the last six minutes. Manzke put the Ramblers ahead to stay 60-59 with a 40-foot jump shot, and Perez followed with two straight field goals.

DUKE WINS

Duke, the nation's No. 1 team, increased its record to 8-1 by whipping Notre Dame 95-73. Jack Marin led the Blue Devils' attack with 24 points, 15 in the first half when Duke shot away from the Irish.

★ ★ ★

Ron Sepic, who was married the day before, and Bill Hosket each scored 21 points as Ohio State crushed West Texas State 78-53, and in a doubleheader at Raleigh, N.C., West Virginia defeated North Carolina 102-97 and Utah downed North Carolina State 85-72.

West Virginia held high-scoring Bob Lewis to 12 points, far under his average of 34 a game. At the same time four Mountaineers scored in double figures, led by the 25 each of Carl Head and Ron Williams.

KC Chiefs Ink So. Cal. Ace; Shift Rumored

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) The signing of All America halfback Mike Garrett to a professional contract with the Kansas City Chiefs has triggered a rumor that the franchise will shift to the Los Angeles area and a quick denial from the American Football League club's owner.

The 1965 Heisman Trophy winner put his name on a Kansas City contract Friday during halftime of the Shrine East-West game in San Francisco.

A source said the contract called for $300,000 spread over a few years, the assurance he would be used as a running back and a shift of the Chiefs' franchise in two or three years to either Los Angeles or Anaheim, Calif.

'Lil' Alabama Bowl Favorite

Nebraska Eleven Bigger but Slower

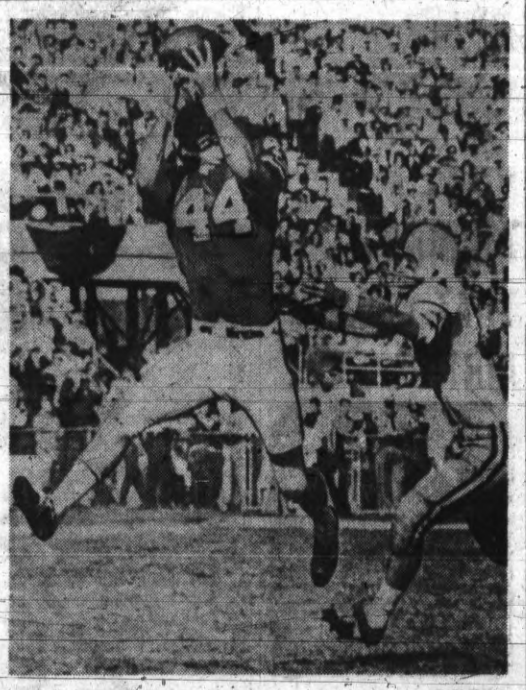

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Alabama Coach Paul Bryant says the team he sends against Nebraska tonight in the Orange Bowl is the smallest he has ever been associated with, including high school.

That may be a bit of coachly gamesmanship, but there's no doubt it's smaller than Nebraska's massive Cornhuskers and the smallest in a bowl.

Alabama also has a quick-striking passing game directed by Steve Sloan, who has thrown 91 completions without an interception, and shored up by a handful of agile receivers.

Red Wings Downed, 4-1 by Chicago

DETROIT (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks entered the new year with a couple of insurance points on first place in the National Hockey League, and Bobby Hull only had to have his skate in the puck's way to score his 28th goal of the season.

The Hawks administered the sixth drubbing in seven Chicago-Detroit meetings when they defeated the Red Wings 4-1 Friday night in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Second-place Montreal will try to narrow the gap when it plays host to New York tonight. Boston plays the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

HUGE SCORES

Hull returned the compliment when he set up Jarrett's third goal of the season at 7:57 of the second period.

★ ★ ★

The other Chicago goals were scored by Phil Esposito and Eric Nesterenko early in the final stanza. Alex Delvecchio got the Wings only tally midway in the second.

The Hawks' Dave Dryden, who made only his second start of the season, showed some brilliant goaltending, stopping seven shots from Red Wings' sharpshooter Gordie Howe.

2 Wolverines Comprise U.S. Trampoline Squad

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two University of Michigan gymnasts will represent the United States in a world trampoline meet April 30 in Lafayette, La.

They are sophomores Dave Jacobs, from Amarillo, Tex., and Wayne Miller, from Lafayette, La.

Some 14 nations will send two-man teams to the meet. The selection of Jacobs and Miller marks the first time in the meet's three year history that both team members were picked from the same college, the U-M spokesman said.

Elements Help Ga. Tech Win

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Georgia Tech won the toss in the Gator Bowl and decided to take the elements and let Texas Tech have the ball.

"There was a strong wind and the sun was very bright," said Tech Coach Bobby Dodd.

"I didn't know his reason, but we were glad to have the ball first," said Coach J.T. King of Texas Tech. His players' proved it by jumping to a 7-0 lead on a 63-yard drive.

But in the fourth quarter, with the wind at Georgia Tech's back and the sun was in Texas Tech's eyes, the Yellow Jackets scored two touchdowns, coming from behind to win 31-21.

Quarterback Tom Wilson missed three long passes in that final period and Texas Tech was gone.

"The sun may have been in his eyes there," said Coach King. Dodd, he said, has "played in this stadium enough to know those things." But elements weren't the whole story.

Georgia Tech's ability to keep the football for long drives — piling up 368 yards rushing — curtailed the explosive Texas Tech offense. Two interceptions by Tommy Bleick finished it off.

A pair of flashy sophomores, quarterback Kim King and halfback Lenny Snow, led the offense and overshadowed Texas Tech's halfback Donny Anderson, who signed a pro contract with Green Bay of the National Football League after the game for a reported $600,000.

Snow, a sophomore from Daytona Beach, Fla., carried the ball 35 times, a Gator Bowl record, for 136 yards and was named the most valuable player on the winning team.

Anderson was the outstanding player for the Red Raiders. He caught nine passes for 138 yards and ran for 85.

CLOSING THE GAP — Oklahoma State fullback Walt Garrison (32) found a little daylight for the West before East defenders Frank Emanuel (left) of Tennessee and tackle Bill Yearby (75) of Michigan moved in to bring him down in first period action of the East-West classic yesterday at San Francisco. Backing up Garrison is Oregon tackle Pat Matson (74).

Pros Overlook West 11 Star

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Professional football clubs paid out more than a million dollars to the cream of the 1965 college football crop only to see a fellow they ignored become the star of the 41st East-West Shrine game.

Tod Hullin, a 190-pound quarterback from the University of Washington, fired three touchdown passes to equal a game record as the West whipped the favored East 22-7 and held All America Jim Grabowski to 16 yards net on 10 carries.

Hullin wasn't even drafted by a team in the National or American Football League and isn't unhappy to be skipping pro football since he plans a career in law.

★ ★ ★

"I'm a roll-out quarterback and they don't use that style too much in the pros," said Hullin after newsmen had voted him the Coffman Trophy as the outstanding offensive player in the East-West battle.

"I didn't have a bad year, but I wouldn't call it a standout," Hullin added.

LEADS CONFERENCE

He led the Pacific Athletic Conference in touchdown passes with 14 while hitting 90 of 168 for 1,318 yards and a .536 percentage.

Minnesota's John Hankinson, a signee of the Minnesota Vikings, opened the scoring with a 32-yard pass to Aaron Brown, also a Minnesota collegian who has signed with the Kansas City Chiefs of the rival American Football League. That was the East's tally.

★ ★ ★

From the first quarter touchdown on, the West held command with a defense spearheaded by Oklahoma's linebacker Carl McAdams, a New York Jets property.

McAdams and Brown, who performed as well on defense as on offense, were voted the co-winner of the best defense award.

Yet it was the play of Hullin that made the difference. His Washington teammate Rod Medved booted a 34-yard field goal to break the scoring ice for the West before 56,121 on a sunny but chilly and windy afternoon.

Then with 1:40 left in the half, Hullin hit Arizona State's Ben Hawkins with a 42-yard scoring play as Hawkins gathered in the pass at the seven and raced the rest of the way.

Texas Western Nips TCU, 13-12

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Texas Western's football team has learned how to score.

"They didn't know how to score," said coach Bobby Dobbs about the team he took over at the start of the 1965 season.

The team he inherited had finished the 1964 season with a 0-8-2 record and a season total of 64 points.

Dobbs molded a pro-T offense around sophomore quarterback Billy Stevens, fast receivers and a stout defense that brought the Miners an 8-3 record including Friday's 13-12 victory against Texas Christian in the Sun Bowl.

DRAW PRAISE

Stevens and Hughes, who caught six Stevens passes for 115 yards, drew praise from the Texas Christian dressing room.

"Hughes compares with the best we've faced," said the Horned Frogs' defensive back Dan Jones. "I think Freeman White of Nebraska is better, but only because White is 6-5 and weighs 230 pounds."

Hughes is a rangy 167 pounds.

Jones also was impressed by Stevens.

Just how much Texas Western banks on Stevens' passing was indicated in the statistics. Western set a record Sun Bowl low of 12 yards net rushing.

Western's other scoring came off the toe of Joe Cook who had field goals of 18 and 20 yards and one extra point.

Texas Christian scored in the first half on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Kent Nix to wingback David Smith, and a 35-yard field goal by Bruce Alford who also added an extra point conversion.

★ ★ ★

Western's Stevens gave the visitors their other two points. Teammate Curt Parsons intercepted a Nix pass on the Western one-yard line with 93 seconds remaining. When three line plunges failed, Stevens ran the next snap back into the end zone for a Texas Christian safety and the chance to kick the ball out of easy scoring range.

Horse Racing Prospers

Tracks Finish Good Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Horse racing winds up a most profitable year today with attendance at the thoroughbred and harness racing tracks close to the 600,000 mark, betting not far from $4.5 billion and the states richer by $355,206,380.

A survey by The Associated Press of 24 states in which parimutuel betting on thoroughbreds is legalized and of 16 in which wagering trotters and pacers is permitted showed:

Wagering — $4,464,482,455

States revenue—$355,206,380.

In 1964, with 27 states reporting on runners and 15 on harness racers, the total attendance was 58,272,814, the betting $4,273,781,221 and the states' share of the handle $342,548,458.

CLOSE GAP

The thoroughbreds far outstripped the trotters and pacers, although the harness performers closed the gap in pacesetting New York, where they outdrew the runners at the gate.

Broken down the over-all figures showed that the runners drew 38,865,689 to 20,406,800 by the trotters and pacers.

The wagering was $3,129,722,482 on the thoroughbreds and $1,334,759,973 on harness racing. The states received $252,329,428 from the amount wagered on the runners and $102,376,952 from the trotters and pacers.

New York, with Aqueduct the dominant running track and Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways topping the harness tracks, headed the list in all categories. The trotters and pacers drew 9,015,471 and the runners 7,867,401. But the runners led in wagering $693,970,354 to $672,376,761.

California ranked second in both attendance and amount bet on the runners with 5,363,819 and $475,591,242. Illinois was third in attendance with 3,637,461 and fourth in wagering with $283,638,361.

New Rersey trailed Illinois in turnstile count with 2,981,000 but ranked third in betting with $286,300,000.

Maryland and Michigan exceeded two million in attendance with 2,070,000 and 2,058,834, respectively. States which also drew in excess of one million were West Virginia, 1,927,823; Ohio, 1,675,546; Florida, 1,511,830; Rhode Island, 1,347,600; Kentucky, 1,230,767, and Massachusetts, 1,156,191.

Recreation Swimming Gets Dates

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department announces its winter swimming program will begin Monday Jan. 17th and Wednesday Jan. 19th at the Pontiac Central High School Pool.

There are two phases to the program. Open swimming will be 6:30 p.m.-9 p.m. each Monday through Mar. 7. Junior and senior life saving will be 6:30 p.m.-9:30 p.m. each Wednesday through Mar. 9.

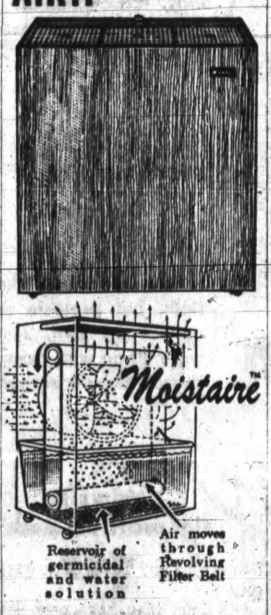

The program is open to both adults and children. The minimum height for nonswimmers is 50 inches.

Junior life saving is open to those 12-years-old or older and able to swim 220 yards. Senior life saving is for 16-year-olds and up who can swim 440 yards.

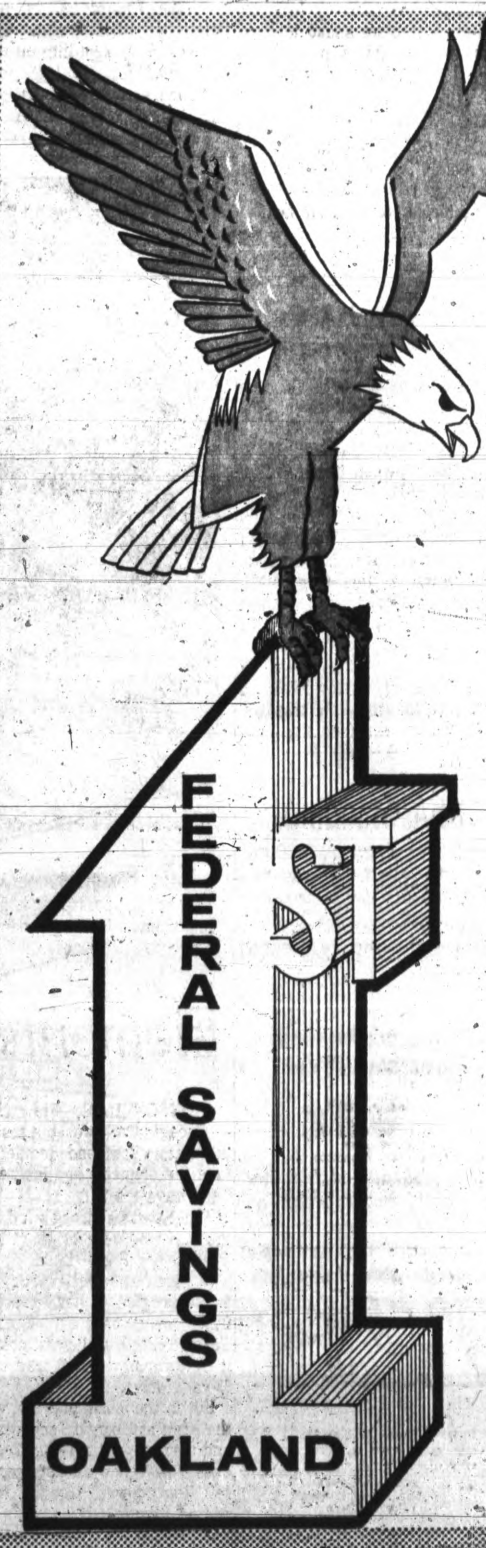

The registration fees are $1 for the life saving course, 25 cents for open swimmers under 18, and 50 cents for open swimmers 18 and older.

College Student Must File Early for Loan

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My son is a sophomore in college. Since he is planning to become a teacher, he was sure that he would be eligible for a governement loan. Despite your optimism in this regard, when he applied, he was told that the funds were exhausted.

★ ★ ★

It seems unfair to build up a young man's hopes in this regard and then dash them so abruptly.

★ ★ ★

What is your explanation of this procedure?

S. P., Philadelphia, Pa.

The early birds get the loans. Congress makes limited appropriations for student loan funds. Colleges apply for and receive definite amounts based upon anticipated demands. Their best estimate is based somewhat upon applications on file.

★ ★ ★

Other students who waited until the last minute to make application have been as disappointed as was your son. For certain results he should discuss his financial problem with a college financial counselor well in advance. In this manner, his request will be on file and an aid to the college in requesting the right amount of money from the federal government.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am an adult with three years of college work. I graduated from a state teachers college in 1930 and taught school for the next four years. I would like to return to teaching, but find that to be accepted I need a degree in primary education.

I have tried to get appointments at two different colleges, asking them to sit down with me and go over my credits and give me an exact outline of the additional courses required for a credential. I have had no success. Why is this so—when they need teachers so badly?

Evaluation of credits is an expensive operation. Although colleges charge a nominal fee in most cases, it is not sufficient to cover the cost.

An admissions officer cannot afford the time to carry out this function during an interview. Neither can the college provide the service unless you are interested in attending.

In each case you must consult the college catalog for specific procedures. Fill out an application blank and have your transcript sent to the college and include the fee for an evaluation. Your request for an interview will then be granted.

If their proposed program does not interest you, you are not committed to go through with registration.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am a 16-year-old girl, a junior in high school, very interested in studying medicine. I read the first in your series of articles concerning colleges, and am wondering if you know of any small colleges that do have a premedical major. I know of no place where I can find this information.

B. Y., Van Nuys, Calif.

The directions for obtaining information such as you need were included in the series of articles. You can still get the information by purchasing a copy of the booklet, "How to Get Into College," from which the articles were taken. Send $1 to College Book in care of the Pontiac Press.

(You can write to Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of general interest will be included in his column.)

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

Our old friend "Hard Luck Joe" ruffed the second spade and promptly laid down his ace of clubs. Then he entered dummy with a diamond and finessed successfully against East's queen of clubs. Unfortunately for Joe, West showed out and Joe had to go down one trick.

JACOBY

"My usual hard luck," groaned Joe. "I play perfectly and still can't win a rubber."

If you readers remember our old friend, he does have plenty of hard luck but invariably he is responsible for it.

Joe should have made the hand by the simple expedient of going to dummy at trick two and leading the eight of clubs for a first-round finesse. This play would have cost him the contract if West held the singleton queen but it was still the correct play.

3 ♠	4 ♣	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ K.

Do you see why?

Joe's play would have succeeded against the singleton queen in the West hand and the correct play would have lost. On the other hand, Joe's play failed against the singleton five-spot in the West hand and would also have failed against the singleton seven, four or deuce while the correct play would succeed in each of these four situations.

If dummy had happened to hold a third club and Joe only five, the play of the ace on the first round would have been correct.

The reason for this is that Joe would still have been able to handle four trumps to the queen in the East hand because he would have still had two trumps in dummy, but with the actual six-two holding he could not afford to try for that singleton queen.

Goldfish Test Offers Clues on Memory

By Science Service

BERKELEY, Calif. — The student who crams facts and figures into his brain before a test is probably learning just what he thinks he is—not much.

★ ★ ★

Observations of human learning have for some time indicated a difference between long-term and short-term memory. Now research on goldfish has gone a long way toward explaining what that difference is.

Dr. Bernard W. Agranoff, professor of biological chemistry at the University of Michigan's Mental Health Research Institute, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science that memory is not fixed immediately but at a specific interval following training.

With goldfish he found that by using a drug he could block the establishment of permanent but not temporary memory.

★ ★ ★

The drug used was puromycin, a naturally occurring antibiotic somewhat poisonous to humans. Training consisted of teaching the goldfish to swim over a hurdle upon a light signal to avoid an electric shock.

INJECTED DRUG

When Dr. Agranoff injected puromycin before training, the fish remembered the trick for a couple of days but forgot it on the third. Normally they would remember their electric lesson for months.

If puromycin was injected from one to 30 minutes after training, the same long-term memory loss was seen. But, if the drug was injected an hour after training, there was no effect on memory whatsoever, Dr. Agranoff reported.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Agranoff suggested that short-term memory might be bio-electrical and long - term memory chemical.

THE DUCHESS SAYS NO. By Frank O'Rourke. (Morrow, $3.95).

On a small California island, Katherine Porokin is the last descendant of an old Russian line, daughter of an expatriate duke and mad mechanical genius who years ago built a handmade automobile of great perfection.

Since it is the only one of its kind, it has a great attraction for the avid collectors of classic automobiles — men who will let no question of price or chicanery stand in the way of acquisition.

Once each year, on March 17, Katherine drives the venerable automotive miracle around the island in memory of her father's genius. She refuses to sell it. So scheming agents of great collectors — American, Russian, Chinese, Cuban, South American — are prompted to organize great plots for getting it away from her.

Which of the schemers will get the prize? Can Katherine and her gigantic friend and neighbor Arne outwit them? This fanciful yarn is one of those whoops-my-dear comedies that contain a lot of fun.

THE GREAT MUTINY, by James Dugan (Putnam $6.95): England in 1797 teetered on the lip of disaster. The armies of the French Revolution had swept over most of Western Europe and were poised for a cross-Channel invasion.

Crops failed, the treasury was almost bankrupt, the king insane. Then at Spithead and Nore, England's two great naval bases, 50,000 seamen mutinied against their officers, shattering the country's last line of defense.

Against this ominous backdrop Dugan etches a biting historical cartoon of late 18th century England. A high-living aristocracy owns most of the land, while commoners suffer under the sternest legal code in Europe.

Sailors are recruited for the Royal Navy by cudgel-wielding "press gangs," and have received no pay raise in more than a century.

THE DAY KHRUSHCHEV FELL, by Martin Page (Hawthorn, $4.95): Page relates the mounting discontent over Khrushchev's failure to solve national problems, and official and popular distaste over the vulgarity of shoe-banging diplomacy.

From various sources, he has reconstructed the scene of Khrushchev's final confrontation with his rebellious party leaders.

He says it ended with this laughter - provoking question from the deposed chief: "Couldn't I just stay on as minister of agriculture?"

Page describes the new Breshnev-Kosygin collective leadership as having "all the deliberate impersonality of a large industrial corporation." He records "private assurances that the functions of the first secretary of the Communist party and the prime minister of state will never again be combined in one person."

PONTIAC PAPOOSE — Five years of Tempests are shown alongside John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, at the body drop in the final assembly plant during a brief Tempest birthday celebration.

Birthday Next Week

Million Tempests in 5 Years

There'll be a double celebration at Pontiac Motor Division next week.

- The Pontiac Tempest will be five years old.
- The millionth Tempest will roll off the assembly line.

This is really the sixth model Tempest —the first being introduced with the 1961 model year.

But how do you count birthdays? When you're 1 - year - old you're actually celebrating your second birthday —aren't you?

The 1961 Tempest, unveiled to the public on Nov. 3, 1960, was built on a 112-inch wheelbase and had a basic 110-horsepower, four-cylinder engine.

In addition it had a revolutionary transaxle drive train.

An immediate success, in its first year 113,543 Tempests were sold. Demand for the Tempest remained fairly steady in the ensuing two years, with 143,193 being built in 1962 and 131,490 in 1963.

★ ★ ★

"From its distinctive grille to the many other outstanding styling features, the Tempest must be considered our success car," Pontiac General Manager John Z. DeLorean asserts.

"This has been especially true since the GTO was added to the lineup."

PLANNED 12,000

DeLorean, a General Motors Corp. vice president, said when the GTO was introduced three years ago, company planners estimated annual sales at about 12,000.

First-year sales, exceeded expectations and more than 30,000 were sold. This year the division has its sights set on 100,000 GTO sales.

The Tempest has "a rosy future," according to DeLorean.

OVERHEAD CAMSHAFT

"The entire line has been redesigned, expanded by the addition of five new models, and for the first time in an American passenger car, an overhead camshaft six-cylinder engine is offered as standard equipment on all Tempest models except the GTO."

★ ★ ★

Pontiac officials feel that the Tempest is a true reflection of the division's policy of continuous and evolutionary progress in automotive design.

MOST OUTSTANDING

Offered is a 165-horsepower, one-barrel version as well as a 207 horsepower, four-barrel option.

★ ★ ★

Unique in both engineering concept and design, the overhead cam engine is smoother, has larger output capabilities, increased fuel economy and provides greatly improved ease of servicing.

In the Tempest's introductory month 6,006 units were sold. By comparison, in April 1965, the best sales month, more than 32,000 were sold.

Planet's Rotation Rate Is Confirmed

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The rotation rate of the planet Mercury, smallest member of the sun's system, has been confirmed as 58.6 days.

★ ★ ★

Drs. Han-Shou Liu and John A. O'Keefe of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., checked up mathematically on the rotation time of Mercury, closest planet to the sun.

They reported here in the journal Science that Mercury turns about its own axis in exactly two-thirds of the time it takes to make one revolution around the sun.

Their computations were made following radar observations reported last April that Mercury has a rotation period of about 59 days.

Aching Journeys Now Routine on Patrol

By TOM TIEDE

CHINH TAMS, Viet Nam (NEA) — By midafternoon the temperature had boiled to more than 100 degrees and a man could not touch the barrel of his rifle without wincing.

Faces were pink and stinging. Eyes squinted into slits under the pyrotechnic sun. Insects landing on bare arms would be washed away in sweat.

But nobody complained, out loud anyway. This was routine by now. Another mission. Another patrol. Another aching journey in the jungle.

How many had there been for Bravo Company now?

★ ★ ★

Who counts any more?

PURPLE HEARTS

One hundred and fifty or sixty Purple Hearts in six months' combat. Scores dead, dozens wounded. Lt. Zen, Pfc. Olive, Harry the Hooker, Sgt. Howard . . .

Who counts any more?

"Damn!" somebody grimaced.

"What is it?"

"Ants."

"Red ants?"

★ ★ ★

"Yeah, a slug of 'em in the tree. I walked right into it."

"Tough."

"Need any help?"

"Forget it."

HOWL WITH ANTS

It used to be a man would howl with the ants on him. No more. They bite but so what? At least they take the mind off the headache or the thirst or the relentless, inflammatory heat.

Ants and spiders with three-inch legs and ground crabs. Trees with two-inch, nail-sharp spines. Unseen things scurrying through the black jungle floor. Muck, grime and heat.

All, by now, only routine for B Company, Second Bn., the 503rd.

★ ★ ★

"Whenever there's a dirty job to do," a guy mumbles.

"What'd you say, Mac?"

"Never mind."

ON THE MOVE

Three hours on the move already today. Tripping, slashing through the maze.

How many hours altogether after seven months of combat? How many pounds of flesh melted? How many bullets fired and hand grenades thrown? How many times feeling sick and not sleeping?

"Look out!" somebody yelled.

A clump of bushes trembled and a squealing grunt split the silence.

"V.C.," a man said and hit the ground.

★ ★ ★

HEARTS STOPPED

Rifles swung around, men moved to cover and hearts stopped.

"Fer cripes sakes," sighed a sergeant.

"What is it?"

"A deer."

"A deer?"

"It nearly knocked me over."

★ ★ ★

"Well, I'll be damned."

The patrol smiled, then chuckled and then laughed aloud. It would be a good story to tell back at camp. A stinking deer. Ha!

THEY'D JOKE

They'd joke about how the Sarge refrained from shooting it and would probably receive a merit badge from the Boy Scouts.

Nobody, of course, would admit being frightened himself.

Castor Oil Memory Still Not Eliminated

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The General Services Administration recently announced that it was offering for sale about 5,689,800 pounds of castor oil from the national stockpile.

WEST

In this case, however, the action had nothing to do with President Johnson's campaign to hold down prices.

Apparently, the GSA simply decided that it had more castor oil on hand than the national interest required. Which isn't too astonishing.

A little castor oil can go a long way, depending on what you are using it for.

The GSA said castor oil "is used in the manufacture of all purpose greases, hydraulic fluid, artificial leather, printing ink, soap and cosmetics."

Maybe so, but that isn't what it was used for when I was a lad. In those days, virtually every bathroom medicine cabinet in America had its own castor oil stockpile.

★ ★ ★

This provided a mighty incentive for staying healthy. Particularly among small boys.

SUDDEN CURE

Castor oil had psychological restorative powers that even exceeded its vaunted potency. The very thought of taking it could cure almost anything.

Some mothers administer it not only for medicinal purposes but also to maintain law and order. The threat of being sentenced to swallow a spoonful of castor oil was a highly effective crime deterrent in the younger generation.

In fact, I have a theory that the rise in juvenile delinquency stems in part from the development of nostrums that are easily swallowed and fairly pleasant to taste.

★ ★ ★

If the childhood memories of the nation's industrialists are as vivid as my own, President Johnson could use the castor oil stockpile as a powerful ecohomic lever.

MOUNTING PRICES

Let us suppose that the kewpie doll industry announces a 5 per cent price increase. This exceeds the President's anti-inflation formula. He summons industry leaders to the White House.

"Roll back the price, boys, or I'm going to the stockpile."

"You're planning to sell government-owned kewpie dolls on the open market?"

★ ★ ★

"No, I'm planning to release 10,000,000 gallons of castor oil."

★ ★ ★

The memory of castor oil congealing in the gullet brings the room to the brink of panic. They quickly accede to the President's wishes.

Trap Traces of Polar Lead Pollution

By Science Service

Berkeley, Calif — Traces of lead pollution are being trapped in increasing quantities in ice and snow layers of our polar and near polar regions, Dr. Laurence M. Gould of the University of Arizona, told the American ment of Science here, speaking as its retiring president.

Studies in Greenland have indicated an alarming increase of atmospheric lead in the last decade as a result of the precipitation of decomposed lead alkyls that come from burning of leaded gasolines, Dr. Gould reported.

Antarctica's ice and snow, undisturbed by civilization, provide a layer-by-layer record of centuries of natural and man-made pollutants. Such a record would include cosmic dust, nuclear explosion fallout and materials from man's first major lead smelting and use of leaded gasoline.

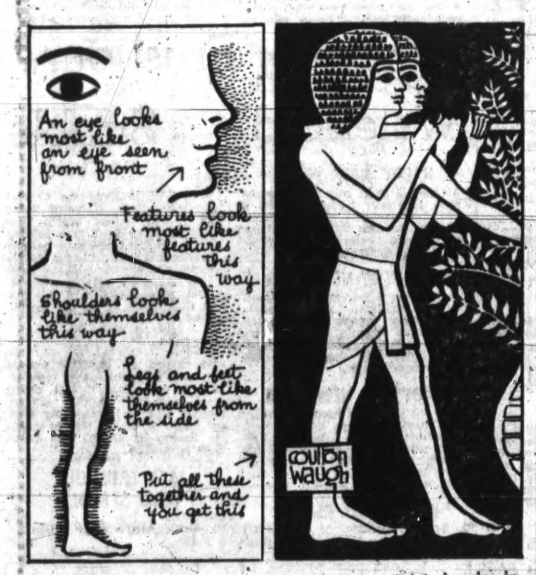

Dr. Gould described the antarctic continent as a great international scientific laboratory where men of all nations are learning more about the geological evolution of major southern land masses, the protein-rich waters surrounding the wind-swept continent, and potential supplies of fresh water locked in its icy masses.

Archaeology Institute Awards Gold Medal

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Dr. Carl William Blegen, excavator of Troy and the Palace of Nestor at Pylos has won the Archaeological Institute of America's first gold medal for distinguished archaeological achievement.

Dr. Blegen, now residing in Athens, Greece, is professor emeritus of classical archaeology at the University of Cincinnati. Between 1932 and 1938 he directed excavations for the university at the site of Troy and later headed excavations at Pylos in southwestern Greece.

Junior Editors Quiz on EGYPTIAN DRAWINGS

QUESTION: Why did the Egyptians paint heads in profile, but with eyes looking straight at you?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: There have been several explanations given. One is suggested in our picture. The history of Egypt goes very far back — into the prehistoric period.

These ancient artists were probably trying to draw people to look as much like people as they were able to do. Study upper left.

Doesn't an eye look more like an eye if seen from the front? A nose, however, is very difficult to draw front view — the Egyptians didn't know how to use realistic shadows, as was discovered later.

Nose, mouth and chin looked most like themselves when drawn from the side, so the Egyptians drew them this way. In the same way, shoulders were drawn from the front, where they look wider.

But since legs and feet look more natural drawn from the side, the Egyptians used this view in drawing them. Put these most favorable views of parts of the figure together and you get the Egyptian look in figure drawing.

There is, of course, more to the Egyptian style than this. Egyptian art was meant to emphasize the belief in life after death, and these figures with their curious flatness look as if they would last forever.

This is just what the patrons of the Egyptian artists wanted them to express.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Draw two profiles, with noses, lips and chins as in our picture. In one, put an Egyptian eye, looking as if seen from the front. Then look at a real person's profile and see how different the real eye, in profile, is from the Egyptian one. Draw this second eye in the second profile as close to its real appearance as you can.

Neutrality Difficult for S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Many South Africans wonder how long their white supremacist government can remain neutral as Britain tightens the economic squeeze on Rhodesia.

The South African government insists it is staying out of the British struggle with the white minority government in Rhodesia. But South Africa has been quietly building its military muscle and observers say it may feel forced to help its northern neighbor in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Premier Hendrik Verwoerd vowed Friday to keep South Africa neutral in the British-Rhodesian clash.

In a New Year's message to the nation, Verwoerd said he would not let South Africa be pressured into joining the Britrica neutral in the British-Rhodesia.

OIL EMBARGO

The boycott, including an oil embargo, was slapped against Rhodesia in an effort to undermine the rebellious white minority government.

★ ★ ★

Verwoerd denied press reports that his government made a secret deal with Britain to support measures against Rhodesia. He said he is keeping South Africa out of what he termed a "domestic confrontation between Britain and Rhodesia."

★ ★ ★

At the same time, he made it clear South Africa opposes Britain's demands that the 4 million African majority in Rhodesia receive eventual political control. There are about 220,000 whites.

"It would be idle to hide," Verwoerd said, "that most South Africans are convinced that it would be neither just, advantageous or wise to white or black in Rhodesia to seek to hasten a black government."

'BLOOD RELATIONS'

Verwoerd also noted that "we have blood relations over the border." He warned that any move to establish "black supremacy" in Rhodesia "would ultimately damage peace and harmony in this part of Africa."

★ ★ ★

Some observers wonder whether one day South Africa may not feel forced to lend a hand to the Rhodesian regime or even fight on its side. The same question arises over possible aid to the white-ruled Portuguese colonies of Angola and Mozambique.

★ ★ ★

Verwoerd's government has beefed up its military might over the last three years, building it into what is considered the most powerful fighting force south of the Sahara.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Rev. Van Allen, and members of the First Nazarene Church, and Pastor Watkins, and members of Joslyn Ave. Presbyterian Church for their comforting words and to Huntoon Funeral Home. Mrs. Alford Compton and family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF RAYmond E. Berwager, who passed away January 1, 1962.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by wife, Georgene and daughter, Lynda.

IN MEMORY OF HELEN FANCHER who passed away Jan. 1, 1965.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.

IN MEMORY OF LUTHER F. WALlace, who passed away January 1, 1964.
Many a silent tear;
Yet always a precious memory,
Of one we loved so dear.
Daughter, Marge and Bob Hicks.

Lake Mud Records Happenings of Past

By Science Service

BERKELEY, Calif.—A "weekly bulletin" of events for the past 20 million years could be written from mud layers which have been settling for eons at the bottom of lakes.

In a lump of mud the size of a pea for instance, scientists can find millions of fossilized pieces of tiny diatoms, algae, sponges and fern spores that lived on earth millions of years ago, Dr. D. A. Livingstone, Duke University, Durham, N.C., told the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting here.

$3 Billion for Planes

NEW YORK (AP) — More than $3 billion worth of airliners have been ordered by U.S. airlines for delivery in 1966, the Air Transport Association says. The amount is three times that of 1965 and includes 240 jets.

Harmony Might Help

LEICESTER, England (UPI) — Raymond Thorpe, senior music adviser to the Derbyshire County council is "appalled by the sheer noise of pop music" so he has decided to give lessons in harmony to beat groups.

Second-Rate Stockings Irk Soviet Girls

MOSCOW (AP) — Pity the Russian working girl who spends a day's wages to buy a pair of stockings, wears them one day and finds a hole in a heel, all the toes out and lots of runs.

"Where is the working conscience of those factory workers who produced this defective stuff?" angrily demanded Miss Krylova.

She was mad about a pair of stockings from the Krtsanisi factory in Soviet Georgia that had cost 2.40 rubles — $2.64 — the average daily earning of a woman clerk here. So she wrote to Pravda, the Communist party organ.

The paper got together with a Moscow department store and summoned a meeting to put people on the spot.

To discuss stockings in the Communist system, it took people from five different government ministries, plus the factories, plus Moscow shops. They seemed to Pravda to have agreed that the stocking business has problems.

The Krtsanisi factory in Georgia was the main scapegoat.

Pravda said it sent 16,000 pairs of stockings to Moscow's central department store this year and all of them were defective. They are sitting in a warehouse while the factory refuses to accept responsibility.

Pravda concluded on the usual cheery note of such public admissions that problems have existed in the Soviet Union. In 1966 better yarn will be supplied, some factories will be reequipped and production will increase 11 per cent.

Research May Head New Jersey Industry

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Research may become New Jersey's biggest industry next year, the State Council for Research and Development says.

The council said research and development totaled $2.03 billion in 1965, up from $1.8 billion last year. It estimated the 1966 total at $2.3 billion. The resort and travel industry was tops in the state in 1965 with $2.2 billion in business.

It is believed that present map distances between points on the U.S. West Coast and Japan may be in error by 500 feet.

Britain's Murder Toll Highest Ever Last Year

LONDON (AP) — The number of murders in Britain during 1965 is expected to exceed 200 — the highest figure since records were kept. This has been an extremely violent Christmas season in Britain, with a dozen murders in eight days — four of them in London.

Abolition of the hanging penalty is blamed by some critics for the increase, but others attribute the rise mainly to an over-all increase in crimes of violence.

The U.S. Constitution went into effect on March 4, 1789.

Tipsy at the Gallop

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Roland Fleming, 24, was fined $110 in Traffic Court on drunken driving charges after testimony that Fleming, driving a horse and wagon in downtown Baltimore, lost control of the animal and it jumped on the trunk of an automobile.

Plan Culture Center in Honor of Author

BRIDGEWATER, Conn. (AP) — Plans to build a cultural center in memory of author Van Wyck Brooks have been announced by Wendell Davis, chairman of a national committee sponsoring the memorial. The center would be an addition to the public library in this community where Brooks lived for many years. He died in 1963.

The parliament of Israel, known as the Knesset, contains 120 seats because tradition says that more than 2,000 years ago the leadership of Israel was vested in a 120-member body.

Diet of Golf Balls

HEADINGLEY, England (UPI) — Duffers at Headingley Golf Course now know what happened to those golf balls they lost. An autopsy on Bertie the Bull, who grazed on a field adjoining the course, showed that he had swallowed 56 golf balls.
