

The Cold Means Fun Time At Pontiac's Murphy Park

A Roaring Fire Helps To Fight Off The Breeze

Freezing Weather Continues in Area

The weatherman continued to give the Pontiac area the cold shoulder as temperatures again plunged toward the zero mark. A low of 10 above was recorded at 2 a.m. today.

Temperatures are expected to dive to five to 10 above again tonight.

Skies will be partly cloudy with possible snow flurries tonight through Saturday. High temperature will continue in the low 20s.

Because of the weather, 10 school districts in the northern Lower Peninsula plan to extend Christmas and New Year vacations through the weekend instead of resuming classes as scheduled.

KEPT FROM CLASS

School officials said that slippery driving and snow-clogged roads would keep students out of class at Gaylord, Ellsworth, Vanderbilt, Fairview, Wolverine, Johannesburg, Inland Lakes, Mio and Kaleva.

Swirling snow kept a Coast Guard helicopter from returning to Traverse City from Manitou Island in Lake Superior. The helicopter was dispatched there to deliver supplies to a lighthouse.

Another attempt to remove the helicopter, with five crewmen, was planned today.

Detroit Edison Co. reported that about 800 customers in Columbiaville in Lapeer County were without electricity temporarily when winds and ice attacked power lines.

SNOW FLURRIES

The weatherman said Lower Michigan would have snow flurries, mainly along Lake Michigan, that would diminish to occasional flurries today. There's a chance of some light snow in Lower Michigan tonight. The low in Lower Michigan will range from five below zero to seven above.

There's a chance of snow flurries in the Upper Peninsula today, with lows tonight ranging from zero to 12 above.

WORST ROAD CONDITIONS

The worst road conditions due to snow were reported today in western and northern Lower Michigan, and the east

A Solitary Skater Pits His Skill Against Ice And The Law Of Gravity

Detroit Antipoverty Setup Full of Abuses, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

The 82-page report also disclosed that:

- Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.
- Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.
- Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

The weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit."

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty-fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent nonprofit corporation. The other is Chicago.

The GAO report centered on 16 Neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city board of education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. More than half the $15.7 million in federal funds involved went to the first group, headed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Slayer of 4 Kills Himself Czech Reshuffle Results in No Leadership Shift

WESTERNVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Ralph MacLachlan, who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a rampage last night, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

MacLachlan's wife, Anita, 33, was shot as she and members of her family sat in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Turke, in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

Police said MacLachlan then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get the Pepper automobile. Mrs. Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded.

Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded with shots in the head and spine.

2 HIDE IN CLOSET

Two of the Pepper children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

MacLachlan, officers said, stole a Jeep from a service station and began a flight into the rough country of the Adirondack mountains that sit just above Westernville.

Early today the blue Jeep was spotted by state troopers Dominick DePaola Jr., and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.

VOLLEYS EXCHANGED

DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

No motive for the shootings was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks.

MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot-2 outdoorsman. He worked in Oneida, N. Y. as a meatcutter.

Of the five wounded in the shooting spree, Mrs. Pepper and Cynthia Ringrose, 11, were listed in critical condition, Robert Ringrose, 36, and Perry Turke, 68, poor condition, and Turke's 62-year-old wife, Margaret, fair condition.

All of the victims were shot more than once.

LIVED SIDE BY SIDE

The Turkes, the Peppers and the MacLachlans lived side by side in the rolling, snowy hills of Westernville, their homes separated by small fields.

The officers involved in the Remsen shootout said MacLachlan never uttered a word.

James MacLachlan of Rome, N. Y., an older brother of the slayer, said Ralph MacLachlan had once undergone private psychiatric treatment for a few months. That was before he was married, the brother said, and MacLachlan never was a patient at any mental institution.

Diplomatic observers said the new lineup made no basic shift in the balance between progressives and conservatives.

There were two additions to the Cabinet's senior ranks.

Jan Marko, 48, a relatively unknown engineer and economic specialist, was named foreign minister. He succeeds Jiri Hajek, who resigned Sept. 19 under Soviet pressure after denouncing the invasion at the United Nations.

The other new man is Jan Tabacek, also an engineer, named foreign trade minister.

County Shortchanged, Says Commission 'Road Tax Rebate Too Slim'

By JEAN SAILE

Oakland County is being shortchanged under the state's formula for disbursing state gas and weight taxes, according to the Oakland County Road Commission.

The hardest hit of all are the rural local roads which receive the least of all on a per-mile basis — $611.25 in 1966, the most recent comprehensive figure the commission has.

As the second highest contributor in the state, the county as a whole (rural and incorporated) was refunded only 39.9 per cent of the amount its residents paid in state taxes when they bought gas or license plates for their cars.

Under the state formula in effect since 1951, the county should be receiving 54 per cent. The balance is supposed to go to the State Highway Department for maintenance and construction on trunk lines.

ONLY $10.4 MILLION

Instead in 1966 county residents contributed $26.2 million and got back only $10.4 million.

The situation is getting no better.

Why is this particular county taking a shellacking?

"It just works out that way," according to two County Road Commission officials, Sol Lomerson, the newly elected chairman, and Paul Van Roekel, chief highway engineer.

Are our state legislators aware that Oakland County's roads, admittedly in poor condition, are on the short end of the stick as far as road funds are concerned?

"We don't think so."

"It didn't seem politic to bring the matter up last summer when we were asking voters for an extra mill and now we'd rather wait and seek legislative relief through the new County Board of Supervisors," said the commission officials.

Has Oakland County been shortchanged ever since 1951?

GRADUALLY WORSE

"Yes. But the payments have gradually worsened."

Why?

"The formula is based on a people-per-

Congress Reform-Minded Tax Overhaul Is Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-free status of charitable institutions and the exemption from capital gains taxes enjoyed by heirs are due for careful scrutiny in the new Congress, informed sources say.

These two areas are designated for special study as part of a look at tax reforms that sources say Congress will undertake regardless of what Richard M. Nixon does with recommendations of the Johnson administration.

The controversial 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance, however, is not scheduled for review, sources said last night.

President Johnson said Tuesday in San Antonio, Tex., he is making available to Congress and the incoming administration a package of tax reform proposals developed by the Treasury Department.

NO RECOMMENDATIONS

Johnson added, however, he had not examined the proposals and is making no recommendation concerning them.

The initiative, accordingly, is left to the Republican administration that will take over Jan. 20.

Sources close to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee where all tax legislation originates, said Mills avoided receiving any advance information on the Treasury proposals, apparently preferring they go first to the Nixon administration.

Israeli Warplanes Raid Jordan

By The Associated Press

Israeli warplanes struck at Arab positions in Jordan today and on the Suez Canal Israeli and Egyptian troops exchanged small arms fire.

An Israeli army spokesman said the warplanes roared in low over the Jordan River near Beit Yosef, 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee, to silence guns that had fired on an army patrol.

A Jordanian army spokesman said six Israeli Mirage jets attacked the Ziglab Dam in the northern Jordan Valley with napalm, rockets and machine-gun fire but claimed they were turned back by anti-aircraft fire.

The spokesman said Israeli tanks opened fire on plantations in the Men-shia area. There were no casualties in either attack, he added, but a house near the dam and some plantations were damaged.

On the Suez Canal front, an Israeli army spokesman accused the Egyptians of opening fire south of Lake Timsah at Israeli troops on the occupied east bank. The Israelis fired back and there were no casualties in the 30-minute exchange. The lake is about midway in the canal.

The army also said it intercepted and drove back a band of saboteurs who crossed from Jordan near Massada, just south of the Sea of Galilee last night. He reported the Israeli troops found an assault file and a bag of antipersonnel mines.

HELICOPTER ATTACK

Jordan reported earlier that armed Israeli helicopters struck at Jordanian forces in the southern desert yesterday and that a Jordanian soldier was killed.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said that five Israeli helicopters crossed the frontier with a jet fighter escort and machine-gunned Jordanians near the frontier village of Gharandal, 40 miles north of the port of Aqaba. In addition to the soldier killed, two civilians were wounded in the attack, the spokesman said.

Greek Airliner Forced to Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — An Olympic Airways DC6 plane landed at Cairo airport today after being hijacked by a lone Greek gunman following takeoff from Crete for Athens, Egyptian officials said.

Airport authorities said the pilot told them the hijacker fired a warning shot over the airman's head through the cockpit window when he tried to contact Athens airport. Officials gave this account:

The hijacker burst into the cockpit soon after takeoff and told the pilot to fly south to Egypt. When the pilot tried to warn Athens airport, the gunman fired the warning shot.

The hijacker was taken into custody and the plane's 97 passengers and five crew members were provided accommodations by Egyptian authorities until they return. Officials said the passenger list included 27 women and seven children.

OPPOSED GOVERNMENT

Officials did not immediately identify the hijacker, but Cairo Radio said he was George Lamoretz, 29, who had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for opposing the Greek military regime in 1967.

27 Supervisors to Be Sworn In

The new 27-man Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be sworn into office in special ceremonies at 7:30 tonight at the County Courthouse auditorium.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen will administer the oath of office.

The first official meeting of the new board has been called for 10 a.m. Jan. 9. It is expected to be an all-day meeting since members will elect officers and set up new bylaws permitting committee structure changes.

Philip O. Mastin of Hazel Park is the Democratic nominee for chairman of the board and Alexander C. Perinoff of Southfield is its vice chairman nominee.

Republicans so far have failed to nominate any candidates for board offices.

It appears doubtful that any action will be taken the first day on pay for newly elected officials.

What could happen is that Democrats will put through the board their suggestion to appoint a blue-ribbon citizens' advisory committee for that purpose.

Senate Ratification of N-Pact Unlikely Before LBJ Leaves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty is the major task facing the new Senate, but chances for ratification before President Johnson leaves office appear slim.

Failure by the Senate to ratify the treaty, intended to curb the spread of nuclear weapons, before Jan. 20 would be a major disappointment for Johnson.

He repeatedly called for quick Senate action before Congress adjourned last October and as late as early December was still thinking of calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty.

tana the decision on when to bring up the treaty.

Dirksen said in an interview he is willing to take it up as soon as organization matters have been cleared away after tomorrow's convening of Congress. Mansfield has promised Johnson to act quickly.

However, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., have prepared an attack on the Senate's Rule 22 which requires two-thirds approval of those voting to choke off a filibuster.

Dirksen said that his biennial argument over changing the Senate's rules

at the start of each new Congress could consume a week if no agreement is reached.

The Senate will swear in its new members tomorrow. There is doubt that it will reconvene after a joint session of Congress Monday to canvass the presidential election returns. Thus the battle over the rules is not likely to get under way until next Tuesday.

LONG DEBATE POSSIBLE

Beyond that, moreover, lies opposition to the treaty's terms that may spawn lengthy debate which could preclude a ratification vote before President-elect Nixon takes office.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., has asked for additional hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which already has approved the treaty. Aiken says he wants to make sure that the passage of peaceful nuclear information along to nonnuclear countries will not result in subsidizing future operations by oil combines.

The treaty, as hammered out by the Geneva disarmament conference and approved by the U.N. General Assembly last Spring becomes effective when signed by the United States, Russia, and 40 other nations.

By signing, nations who possess nuclear weaponry would agree not to give have-not nations nuclear arms or any help developing them and have-nots would agree not to seek arms or know-how.

McCormack Confident He'll Stay as Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of John W. McCormack claim more than enough votes to assure the Massachusetts congressman of retaining his job of speaker of the House.

McCormack, however, despite stating in advance of today's Democratic House caucus that "I am not worried," apparently was not shrugging off the late-blooming challenge to his seven-year reign by Arizona's Morris K. Udall.

The 77-year-old speaker reportedly made some concessions to the liberal-moderate bloc backing the 46-year-old Udall during a meeting Tuesday with representatives of the Democratic Study Group (DSG).

The DSG, which claims 140 liberal-moderate members, wants a louder voice in shaping party policies and less emphasis on seniority in determining key assignments.

BACKING FROM SOUTH

McCormack counts a solid base of 90 votes from the South. But his lieutenants, busy counting noses since Udall made his challenge last week, claim 180 pledged votes. This is far more than the 122 needed.

Selection of a nominee for speaker by the Democrats virtually assures election by the whole House when the 91st Congress convenes Friday since the Democrats hold a 243-192 majority and voting on the Speaker traditionally follows party lines.

The McCormack-Udall contest matches in interest — and probable outcome — a battle for the No. 2 Democratic spot in the Senate.

Although there is far less at stake immediately in the Senate, a bid by Massachusetts' Edward M. Kennedy to grab the whip job from Louisiana's Russell B. Long is regarded as a first step by Kennedy toward a possible 1972 run for the White House.

and west sections of Upper Michigan, State Police said.

The cold wave which broke out of the northwest early in the week and drove temperatures to their lowest marks of the season throughout the midcontinent completed a cross-country sweep and dropped the mercury near or below zero in the Northeast.

A hard freeze hit Georgia and Alabama and frost nipped northern Florida.

The U.S. Weather Bureau expected temperatures to dip to zero or below in portions of 30 states from the northern Rockies to New England and southward to North Carolina.

Biting winds drove the bitter cold onto the Eastern Seaboard. Heavy squalls along the eastern shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario dumped deep snows into portions of upstate New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

7 Die in Montreal Fire

MONTREAL (AP) — A 36-year-old woman, five of her eight children and a niece perished early today in a fire that swept a three-story wooden tenement building in south-central Montreal.

Dead are Therese Beaudoin; two of her sons, Jacques, 7, and Gilles, 3; three daughters, Sylvie, 6, and Ginette and Renee, 5-year-old twins; and a visiting niece whose identity was being withheld by police pending notification of her next of kin.

The woman's husband, Marcel, 43, and a son, Jean-Claude, escaped.

Two other Beaudoin children were visiting with relatives.

Preliminary reports attributed the cause of the fire, whipped by high winds, to a malfunction in a heating device.

Birmingham

Traffic Light Is Slated at Hunter, Forest

BIRMINGHAM — A traffic light will be installed soon in the southbound lanes of Hunter Boulevard (U.S. 10) at Forest, the State Highway Department has announced.

The stop-and-go signal will operate in connection with a new traffic pattern at the Forest crossover, which has become a hazardous intersection, according to department officials.

By briefly interrupting southbound traffic on Hunter, the light will permit eastbound traffic on Forest to cross four lanes of Hunter and enter a new left-turn lane built in the median strip.

The lane leads to a new crossover about 200 feet south of the former Forest crossover, which has been closed. From the new crossover, traffic will turn north on Hunter to Forest.

NEW PATTERN

The new pattern, department officials said, will permit larger numbers of vehicles to make left turns from Hunter without interfering with through traffic.

H. H. Cooper, department traffic and safety engineer, said the signal was necessary because gaps in the traffic stream on Hunter were too short to let vehicles on Forest cross the boulevard with "adequate safety."

The traffic light will be synchronized with other signals on Hunter. Costs will be shared by the department and the City of Birmingham.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Birmingham Power Squadron will conduct a series of boating classes in this school district beginning Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

The classes, to be held weekly on Wednesday evenings, will take place at East Hills Junior High School, 2800 Kensington, Bloomfield Township, and will continue for 12 weeks.

The Power Squadron course covers all nautical subjects applicable to outboard and inboard boating and sailing, and will include lectures and demonstrations.

There is no charge for the classes, which are open to the public.

December Snowy, Icy

Oakland County residents were treated to a white Christmas, thanks to a two-inch snowfall Dec. 23 followed by below-freezing temperatures.

And the balance of the month challenged the skills of commuters as they made their way through a maze of sleet-and-snow-slicked streets and freeways.

The amount of precipitation for the month, however, fell short in rainfall and exceeded the previous December's snowfall. Rainfall for last month totaled 1.90 inches with the snowfall 8.5 inches as compared to the December 1967 accumulation of 2.90 inches of rain and six inches of snow.

Neither year challenged the record snowfall of December 1966, when 16 inches carpeted the Oakland County area.

GLOOMY SKIES

Skies during the month were mostly gloomy, as only 11 days of sunshine were charted. This was two more days of sunshine than the area received during December 1967.

Rain dampened the spirits of shoppers and partygoers on nine days during the month, much of it turning into sleet by the below freezing temperatures.

Temperatures ran the gamut during December, with a high of 48 reached Dec. 3 and a low of minus-two Dec. 31. This compared to the previous December's high of 60 and low of four below zero.

Mean reading for the month was 25.84 degrees, 4.36 degrees colder than Dec. 1967.

Two Earthquakes Cause Minor Damage in Arkansas, Missouri

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An earthquake rattled buildings, furniture and nerves throughout Arkansas Wednesday, but apparently caused no injuries and no major damage.

State police said the tremor cracked walls and floors, and there were reports that dishes were broken, but authorities found no major damage.

The shock frightened thousands of Arkansans, who swamped police and news media with telephone calls. Estimates of the duration of the tremor ranged from five to 40 seconds.

"It felt like a train running across my house," said Joe Caldwell of Benton.

TREMORS IN MISSOURI

Only portions of south and southwest Arkansas apparently escaped the shock, which extended into southern Missouri. Residents of West Plains, Mo., near the northern Arkansas border reported two shocks—one at 6:38 p.m. EST, and the other about two minutes later.

The Arkansas quake occurred at 6:37 p.m. EST, according to the Rev. William Stauder, geophysics professor at St. Louis University, who placed the tremor at 4.5 to 5 on the Richter scale, enough to cause minor damage. He said the epicenter was 260 miles from St. Louis, which would place it in north-central Arkansas.

The tremor was the second for Arkansas within two months. A shock measured at 5.5 on the Richter scale shook this state and 22 others Nov. 9, but caused no injuries or major damage in Arkansas. By comparison, the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 registered 8.6.

Conway County Sheriff Marlin

Hawkins said "tables were walking across the room in some homes" of the Morrilton area.

"It sounded as though the wind were raising the roof, then we felt the tremor," said Bobbie Forster of Little Rock.

Oscar Christian, lying in bed at his Hot Springs apartment, said, "I thought someone was under the bed shaking it."

"The bed tried to walk across the room, walls were shaking and I thought the windows were going to fall out," said Joyce Shaw of Little Rock.

Swim Trimmed in Frigid Weather

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Carl Dickman trimmed his time in the water to a minute Wednesday in his annual New Year's Day dip in Owasco Lake.

He gave as reasons the five-degree temperature, a 33-mile-an-hour wind and a water temperature of 33 degrees.

Dickman, 61, has been following the ritual for 30 years.

3 New Schools in Utica District About to Open

UTICA — Although construction of three new elementary schools in this district has been delayed by strikes, all three will open this month, according to Schools Supt. Phillip Runkel.

First to open will be the Gibbing Elementary School, 11303 Greendale, Sterling Heights. Classes are scheduled there tomorrow.

The other schools, which will open later in the month, are Magahay Elementary, located at 44700 Oleander, Sterling Heights, and Monfort Elementary, 6700 Montgomery, Shelby Township.

The schools were scheduled to open in September, but construction strikes caused delays and temporary arrangements were made to accommodate the students in other buildings.

FULL-DAY CLASSES

When the schools are open, the superintendent noted, it will be the first time in five years that all children in the district will be able to attend classes for a full day.

The district has experienced severe growing pains in recent years. A year classes in Utica Community High School — a building planned for less than half that number — on a split-shift basis.

Funds for the three new schools were approved by district residents as part of a $15.5-million bond issue in December 1965.

Buildings already constructed under the bond issue include a junior high school, three more elementary schools, a district supply warehouse, seven research centers, and a swimming pool at Adlai E. Stevenson High School.

Yule Tree Pickup Set

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The Auburn Heights Area Jaycees will conduct a curb pickup of residents' Christmas trees tomorrow and Saturday, to be followed by tree-burning ceremonies Saturday night at 8 in a vacant lot north of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 3400 S. Adams.

'State Road Tax Rebate Too Small'

mile ratio. Oakland County, along with Wayne, Macomb, Genesee, Kent, Washtenaw, Ingham and Jackson, is subsidizing less-populated counties," said Van Roekel.

"Wayne gives more, but it gets more back because its population is denser than Oakland's," he said.

FORMULA EXPLAINED

"The formula was set up on the basis that it costs almost as much to maintain a mile of road serving one family as it does to maintain the same road were it serving a hundred families," Van Roekel said.

It doesn't work in Oakland. "Many of our local roads are very old. We have subdivision streets that were constructed in post World War I days. They began as trails for summer cottages which are now permanent homes. "The roads have never been built and they're expensive to maintain. We have unique soil conditions, particularly in the Farmington and Bloomfield area. Our maintenance costs are high."

Can relief be obtained on the basis of federal grants?

'DROP IN THE BUCKET'

"We get about a quarter-million dollars yearly in federal money. It's a drop in the bucket. The money is meted out on a population, mileage and area basis."

Has anyone got any ideas for a more equitable solution?

"No," agreed Lomerson and Van Roekel. "We do think a special study should be initiated by the Legislature. We are in hopes the county will get behind such a move."

Can you get help from other counties?

FEW ARE HURTING

"It doesn't seem so. Only about three are really hurting under the present program and most of the remaining 80 are benefitting."

Did the recent adjustment of the state formula help?

"No," said Van Roekel. "It took another 1 per cent of our money for rural roads away and gave it to cities and villages."

Does that mean there will be even less this year than last?

SUBFREEZING TEMPERATURES — The cold yesterday insured that the ice-coated trees of Lapeer County would remain for at least a while longer. Jeanne Moore, 16, of 1796 Mayfield, Lapeer, inspects some of nature's latest work in downtown Lapeer.

State Unveils Plans for M53 Extension

The State Highway Department has unveiled tentative plans for the extension of M53 north through Washington and Bruce townships in Macomb County and into Lapeer County.

While construction of the proposed extension is not planned until about 1980, department representatives have met with officials from local municipalities to answer questions and discuss the proposal.

The department has mapped out several alternative routes for the freeway extension, depending on whether it is constructed west or east of the villages of Romeo and Almont.

The primary alternate route, preferred at the present time by the department, runs west of Romeo and east of Almont.

This route, the shortest of those proposed, would cross land already purchased for an interchange between 27 and 28 Mile roads near Van Dyke.

A second interchange on Van Dyke, which would help to collect traffic for the freeway, would be located at 37 Mile. At that point the extension would cross Van Dyke and proceed to the east of Almont, which lies almost directly north of Romeo.

Another major alternate route would continue to the northwest from the 37 Mile area, passing west of Almont and running west of the present M53 all the way to Imlay City.

The third major alternate would pass to the east of Romeo with a possible interchange near 33 Mile and Powell and continue east of Almont.

WOULD END AT M21

All of the proposed routes would end at the M21 east-west freeway, some of which is under construction, which is planned to cross M53 just south of Imlay City.

Department officials emphasized that the routes are presently being considered in "corridors" up to a mile wide, and that no precise assignments of any kind have been determined.

At the meeting, individual reports on the proposals were distributed to representatives of each of the municipalities involved, for comment or question. Further public meetings for discussion of the proposed extensions are likely, department officials indicated.

County Committee's Last Session

Numerous Rezoning OK'd

Oakland County's Board of Supervisors coordinating, zoning and planning committee wound up 21 items at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Courthouse. It was the committee members' last day in office.

Among the recommended approvals: a zoning change for 104.3 acres on Walton Boulevard across from Oakland University in Pontiac Township.

The committee recommended approval for 40 acres for commercial development and 59.3 acres for apartments. Plans are to build a shopping complex, motel and apartments. The land previously was zoned agricultural.

For Orion Township, the committee recommended approval to rezone 75.6 acres lying between Bald Mountain and M24 north of Dutton for industrial use.

LAND-FILL PLANNED

The firm of Fons and Fannin had requested the change with the ultimate idea of building an industrial park. Their immediate objective however, is to create a land-fill. The land adjoins the Silver Bell property and the old Silver Bell dump.

Holiday Traffic Takes 161 Lives

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents claimed a record toll of lives for a one-day New Year's observance during the holiday period which ended at midnight Wednesday.

Late reports pushed the count of 161 early today.

The record for a 30-hour New Year's period since World War II had been 160, set in 1957. This also was the most recent time the holiday driving period ran 30 hours.

During a recent nonholiday midweek period of equal length, highway mishaps took the lives of 107 persons. The count was made by The Associated Press for a comparison with the New Year's toll.

BELOW, ESTIMATES

The National Safety Council had estimated that 200 to 260 persons might die in traffic accidents during the period which began at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Bad driving weather was common throughout the Pacific Northwest, over much of the Great Lakes region and in a large part of the Northeast during the holiday.

Beaten Ex-Exec's Condition Better

DETROIT — Condition of Ray R. Eppert, 65, retired board chairman of Burroughs Corp., was reported "very much improved," at Grace Hospital yesterday, where he was taken Monday after he was beaten and robbed by three youths.

Dr. R. W. DeBusk, director of the hospital, said he visited Eppert yesterday and "He knew and talked with me. He has lost some of his left side paralysis and some of his good humor has returned."

The doctor said the prognosis "for recovery is very good."

Eppert of 295 Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills, a longtime area civic leader, said he was beaten by three youths in the lavatory of the Kennedy Square underground garage in downtown Detroit. Police said a gold watch and $70 were taken by the youths.

In Waterford Township, two sizeable parcels were recommended for residential use.

A 62.7 acre parcel at Airport and Hatchery roads was recommended for 10.5 acres of single-family homes and the rest apartments.

Another 50.6 acre parcel on Nelsey Road near Maceday Lake was recommended for about 120 single-family homes, lot sizes at 12,000 square feet.

The group recommended approval for a mobile home park in Independence Township. To be located on Clintonville Road near Pine Knob Road, the parcel consists of 20.5 acres. A minimum lot size of 4,000 square feet is required.

CORNER DEVELOPMENT

In Avon Township, the committee recommended approval for a service station, motel-conference center, stores and apartments on 21 acres at the southeast corner of Adams and Walton Roads.

Dan Holeca of Rochester, developer, may not have the clearance he wishes on motel construction however. Members noted that the B-2 zoning requested does not permit motels. A B-3 designation would be necessary.

The committee noted Holeca has promised to buy up existing vacant lots in Springhill Subdivision for the purpose of constructing single-family homes as a screen to the proposed development.

The committee recommended denial for apartment construction on nearly five acres on Cooley Lake Road near Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road in Waterford Township.

NOT IN PLANNING

The reason given: Apartments there are in conflict with the intent of the comprehensive development plan for the township. The proposed development would be partially in the flood plain of the Clinton River.

Waterford Township Planning Commission had recommended approval with some reservation about the flood plain.

The committee recommended approval of 9.7 acres on Orchard Lake Road north of Maple for a community business center. Planned is a business and office center.

Two proposed zoning ordinance changes in Waterford and Farmington Townships were concurred in by the committee. Both changes were to set specifics for office districts. Waterford also included parking and sign regulations.

All committee recommendations are sent to township boards for final action.

A BUSY YEAR

The committee, chaired by Elbert M. Wilmot of Pontiac, noted it had processed 206 applications in the past year, over 60 per cent in regard to residential construction of some type.

Parks-Rec Commission Staff Moves to New Office Space

Oakland County's Parks and Recreation Commission staff has moved into new quarters in a converted home at 2800 Watkins Lake Road.

The building is on part of the Waterford Oaks Park acquisition which lies adjacent to county Service Center property.

The 19½ acres on which the new office, two other residences, a former church, dining hall and 20-room motel are located was purchased at a cost of $150,000 earlier this year.

It is part of a 110-acre parcel which the county hopes to develop as a high use recreation area.

MILLAGE PAYS COST

The total cost of the acquisition, $375,000, is being paid from the 1966-approved quarter mill, which was collected for the first time in 1968.

The new commission quarters, decorated in browns, greens and yellows, houses a staff of five.

It is being converted at a cost of about $23,500, according to Kenneth VanNatta, director of the commission.

The department was formerly housed in a section of the Welfare Building on Service Center grounds.

CONVERSION PLANS

Plans for the area include conversion of the 12,000 square foot church to an activities center, which has scheduled the Pontiac Kennel Club's annual winners' show as its opening feature Jan. 19. The dining hall is to be converted to a club house and one of the residences will be occupied by the park director.

The motel is marked for use as a storage facility, Van Natta said.

He envisions a full golf course on the property, a lighted par three course, the permanent soap box derby hill and supervised winter activities including skating and sledding.

Work on the golf course is to start in the spring, Van Natta said.

Snowmobile Victim Is in Fair Condition

LAPEER — An Elba Township man is in fair condition this morning at Hurley Hospital, Flint, following a snowmobile accident yesterday morning. He suffered severe burns and compound fractures of both legs in the mishap.

Richard Artress, 34, of 44 S. Elba, driving a snowmobile on Cranberry Lake, ran off the lake and hit a tree.

The snowmobile caught fire while he was trapped in it, according to the Lapeer County Sheriff's office.

Purse Snatcher Guns Down Dad of 4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Raymond Sansoucie, 30, stopped his car and gave chase to a purse snatcher after witnessing an attack on a woman.

Moments later, a shot was heard. Sansoucie fell in an alley. His wife, Ruth, 24, who was in the car with three of their four children, hurried to the scene.

Witnesses said Mrs. Sansoucie arrived only to hear her husband say: "I love you." He was pronounced dead a short time later.

The thief got away with the purse of Mrs. Maude Robinson, a widow. It contained $6.

TRUST FUND DRIVE

The incident occurred New Year's Eve and the Grand Jury Association of St. Louis announced Wednesday a drive to set up a trust fund for Mrs. Sansoucie and her four children.

'National Guard a Haven for Draft Dodgers, Racism'

DETROIT (UPI) — A Wayne State University study has described the Michigan National Guard as a haven for white draft dodgers and a "conservative if not retrogressive force in the struggle of blacks for participation and equality."

It recommended abolishment of the guard.

The recently-concluded study, directed by Dr. Paul Lowinger, a WSU psychiatry professor, focused on a Michigan National Guard battalion that served in Detroit during the 1967 riot. Permission to conduct it came from Lt. Gov. William Milliken, who was acting governor.

Among Lowinger's conclusions was a claim that the guard has a "white tradition" with "elements of a social club," and that "training in urban racial problems, while desirable, will not bring meaningful reform."

ONLY 2 BLACKS

It pointed out that 79 per cent of the guardsmen in the study were Detroit area natives and just two out of the 295 men were Negroes. About 98 per cent were high school graduates and George Wallace was listed as the presidential candidate favored by 22 per cent — a greater percentage than any other candidate.

Eighty-six per cent of the guardsmen said they joined the guard to "beat the draft" while three per cent had seen active military service.

Despite the fact that most observers had said the U.S. Army was most effective in controlling the riot, guardsmen credited the Detroit police first and the guard second, the study said.

When asked if they felt they had become more hardened against Negroes after the riot, 43 per cent said they had, while 31 per cent reported no racial changes and 25 per cent said they now had a more favorable attitude toward Negroes.

Lowinger summarized the average guardsmen as a 25-year-old white Detroit "with a year or two of college, employed in an office or a skilled factory job. Often his father has a better job than he does."

Elmer Rosenthal, president of the Grand Jury Association, said, "This man made the ultimate sacrifice for society. I think society owes his family something."

Sansoucie, a Ford Motor Co.

employee lived with his family at Cadet, Mo., a rural community about 60 miles southeast of St. Louis.

Built-In Expenses Control Budget

Officially, RICHARD M. NIXON assumes office as president on Jan. 20. In one profoundly important area, however, it will be a year to a year and a half before the new administration can really begin to take over from the old.

President JOHNSON's last major constitutional duty will be to present the new Congress with a budget under which the Government will be asked to operate from July 1, 1969 to June 30, 1970.

Although Congress has the final say on spending and although the new president will not be without influence on Capitol Hill, the basic Johnson budget for fiscal 1970 is something the Nixon administration will have to live with—and accept responsibility for—for a full quarter of its term in office.

It is estimated that out of every Federal dollar now scheduled for spending, the president has control over less than 30 cents. The balance has already been committed by previous acts of Congress or, like the interest on the national debt, is automatically provided for.

Rep. WILBUR MILLS, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has pointed out that because there are so many of these built-in growth factors, Federal spending next year would go up by $7-$10 billion over this year's $185.1 billion without a single new appropriation bill being enacted.

Even the most economy-minded president can't get around that fact.

Airport Ground Congestion Fed by Employees

Airports in nearly every city are growing bigger and busier, and the bigger they get, the more people work there. Some airports have actually reached the point where their employees outnumber passengers and have begun contributing heavily to surface congestion in terminal areas.

A survey of 18 major airports in the United States, England and France by American Aviation magazine found this problem common to all of them.

John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York employs 42,500 persons, and at any given time as many as 30,000 of them may be on duty at the terminal. During a peak ground traffic hour, as many as 6,000 vehicles come and go at JFK, and most of these are occupied by airport-based employees.

London's Heathrow employs 42,200; Orly in Paris has a work force of 22,000. At all three of these airports, employees outnumber the daily average of passengers.

Many of the airports surveyed have plans for some sort of public rapid transit system to serve the terminal and relieve pressure on highways and parking facilities.

Unfortunately, notes the magazine, there would seem to be few employee groups in the world less inclined to use public transportation than airport employees. Even where such transportation is available, the survey found that the overwhelming percentage prefer to drive their own cars.

New Jobs Aplenty Seen in New Industries

Tens of thousands of Americans are working at jobs that didn't exist, in industries that were unheard of, making products that were unknown 10, 20 or 30 years ago. The electronics, computer and space fields are prime examples.

There is no reason to believe that tens of thousands will not be working at jobs a few years from now that do not exist today, although no one can predict what they might be.

We do, however, have some good ideas about what fields will expand tremendously in the near future.

High school and college career counselors attending a recent panel discussion in Chicago, sponsored by the Water and Wastewater Equipment Manufacturers Association, were told that "the best of tomorrow's brains will be needed in the water-supply and pollution-control industries if the Nation's economic life is going to survive, let alone grow."

The Federal Water Pollution Control Administration estimates that some 111,000 more professionals, technicians and operators will be needed in the next five years in water pollution control alone.

Fortunately for the Nation, young people today are searching more for personal satisfaction than monetary reward and seem to gravitate toward public service careers. But fortunately for young people, there is good pay and chance for advancement in Government as well as industry.

Americans will drink deeply of the talents that flow in this direction in coming years.

Marking Time!

Bob Considine Says:

Predictions, Resolutions for '69

NEW YORK — There must have been times during Anno Domini 1968 when Domini wanted no part of the Anno. But the Year of Our Lord 1969 will be better (it says here.) Here are some positively fallible predictions:

The next CONSIDINE test of still another Red Chinese H-bomb will hasten accord at the revolving peace table in Paris truce talks, what with China becoming an increasing menace to everybody at the table. We could even wind up pledging North Vietnam our aid if Peking threatens it.

We may set foot on the moon earlier than anticipated. Apollo 10's mission, scheduled for next spring, is to go into moon orbit and then drop its two-man lunar module until it is only 10 miles above the moon's surface, at which time the astronauts aboard the strange craft will ignite their ascent rocket and climb back to the orbiting command module. But if all looks good, they may go for broke.

President Nixon's "honeymoon" will last at least as long as President Kennedy's did and almost as long as President Johnson's.

The law-abiding majority of the American Negro establishment will rally behind a successor (or successors) in the inspirational mold of Martin Luther King and openly condemn the raucous, treasonous and larcenous minority.

Charles de Gaulle will decide to let Britain enter the Common Market.

FRIENDS FOR LBJ

Ex-President Lyndon Johnson, reading, writing and ruminating along the Perdenales, will begin finding out that the people really like him.

Chief Justice Earl Warren will be succeeded by a surprising choice, much younger and just as liberal.

Secretary of State Bill Rogers will throw the whole realm of diplomacy into a tizzy by telling some crackpot ambassador with ostrich feathers imbedded in his nose to go to hell, even under the dire threat that Albania and Upper Volta might walk out of U.N.

Verbal Orchids

Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Rhodes of Daytona Beach, Fla., formerly of Rochester; 51st wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wilson of Farmington, formerly of Auburn Heights; 57th wedding anniversary. Mark Comfort of 3359 Lexington Dr., 88th birthday.

The new baseball commissioner will make a solemn declaration of independence, liken himself to Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, promise to restore baseball as the national pastime, then go back to his regular job as Walter O'Malley's butler.

PLANS FOR TED

Sen. Ted Kennedy will begin mapping plans to speak at increasingly expensive Democratic dinners in 1971 in behalf of congressional and gubernatorial candidates — just as Dick Nixon did in 1966, restoring his image.

There will be less trouble between the Israelis and the Arab world when Israel gets its F4 Phantoms.

The world will be saddened by the deaths of four international figures.

Mickey Mantle will call it quits, and there will be the greatest going-away ceremony since Sir Harry Lauder's last last farewell. Moreover, Arthur Ashe will turn pro for $500,000, almost as much money as Bill Tilden, Paavo Nurmi and Sonja Henie made as amateurs, and, of course, the San Francisco Giants will win the pennant for Willie Mays. (I've been predicting this for years, come to think of it.)

FINAL PREDICTION

Now my final, positive prediction: You will repeatedly violate the following New Year's resolutions:

You'll cut down on smoking because you know it's no good for you.

You'll say "no thanks," to the guy who says at the end of a long hard day's work when he offers you a cold beer or a sparkling, icy, bone-dry martini.

You'll do 20 minutes of push-ups the first thing every morning.

You'll say "so what's wrong with that?" when you learn that the house next door has been sold to a Negro, Puerto Rican or Mexican-American family.

You'll attend the PTA meetings and take control of them away from the gas bag who runs them, even if it means missing a good night ball game.

YOU WON'T FAIL TO VOTE

You'll let your mayor, governor, representative and senator know you're alive by calling, writing or wiring them when you feel they've done something right (or wrong), or if you feel you have a good idea for the city, state or nation.

You'll never fail to vote.

You'll stop searching for loopholes in your income tax returns.

You'll stop cheating at solitaire.

You'll swallow the temptation to tell a joke reflecting on any minority group.

You'll stop name-dropping in the hope of impressing your superiors.

You'll surprise your wife with a flower now and then and tell her she's the best dame in the world, and be sure to pick her up when she faints.

You'll overjoy your husband some morning by appearing at breakfast without your hair curlers.

You'll congratulate the person at the next desk in the office who gets a pay raise, instead of blasting him at the coffee break.

ONE MORE CHANCE

You'll go to your house of worship regularly, tell God that deep down you're probably a louse, and ask Him to give you one more chance to become truly in His image and likeness.

You'll not gripe when the kid grows a beard and gets himself a git-tar, provided he's passing in school.

You'll agree, if you're in school, that your teachers are a great deal smarter than you are.

You'll never repeat malicious gossip unless you promise to inform the victim of it that you have.

You'll promptly burn all chain letters.

You'll never again be uselessly profane, envious or covetous.

You'll listen intently to the bloke who has different points of view than you have, then present your own thoughts without rancor.

You'll breathe a little prayer of thanksgiving each day that you were lucky enough to be born in America, or fought your way here.

Okay, folks? Good! Now just one more little pledge: Leave me out of all this.

'Fun' Resolutions for the New Year

By DICK SAUNDERS

'Tis the time to be a bit giddy.

Once a year, we all get a chance to make a batch of resolutions, most of which are eventually discarded like forgotten dreams.

So, let's make up some resolutions and try them on for size. If the shoe fits a little tightly, remember it's all in good, clean, holiday fun.

Freedom on High Seas Discussed by Reader

I commend The Press for your strong stand for freedom on the high seas. However, your condemnation of the Soviets' feelings towards U.S. destroyers in the Black Sea is most extraordinary. I shudder to think of the hue and cry your newspaper would raise, if Russian destroyers decided to spend some time cruising in the Gulf of Mexico.

Why should Soviet destroyers cruise in the Gulf of Mexico? Why should American destroyers go to the Black Sea? One would think that the Pueblo incident would have diminished the arrogance of the American military establishment.

'Can See No Humor in Recent Press Joke'

In a Press editorial was a joke that was not funny at all. It said: "Teacher: 'And what did God do on that seventh day?' Student: 'He watched football on TV.'" I am a Seventh-Day Adventist and this "joke" was very sickening to me. God rested on the seventh day. It is irreverent and blasphemous to make jokes about Him.

Comments Continue on Incident at OU

A recent letter signed "Secretary at Oakland University" criticized Senator Huber's request for a discussion of the growing number of sexually oriented abuses reported on the campus. The challenge was against the administration rather than the student body, as the earlier writer implied.

Sure there is much on campus that is good. But only the fuzzy-minded would use this as an argument against ferreting out the bad as it may appear. I understand Elbinger's nude scene was but the latest in a series of questionable events. Only after it was given tacit acceptance via administrative silence did the Senator ask why. Rather than being critical of his interest, one might better ask why it took him so long.

More power to the Senator. May his investigation strengthen the "improvement of life" we seek from our universities. And may more of our citizens uphold, by action if necessary, those standards in life which we maturely believe to be worth fighting for.

How can I get in touch with the American Civil Liberties Union?

DEFENSELESS

REPLY

The Detroit office of ACLU handles all cases in this area. It's located at 808 Washington Boulevard Building, Detroit 48226, phone 961-4662. They tell us limited resources make it necessary for them to be very selective with cases they handle, but anyone requesting it and sending name and address will be mailed information about the organization.

Question and Answer

I have a beautiful singing canary. Several months ago he moulted and didn't sing as usual. At that time I got him a new cage and he hasn't resumed his singing. I've bought everything I find at the pet counter to encourage it, but it's been more than six months. Will he ever sing again?

MRS. E. T. S.

REPLY

It's hard to say, because we talked with several bird dealers, and they all said there could be any number of reasons why he isn't singing. However, a dealer in Royal Oak suggested a remedy which seems to work with many birds, even though he can't tell you any good reason why it should. First, if the bird is a year or older, put it on a strict diet with no fruits. If he's too fat or out of condition, he won't sing. Then cover his cage a couple of hours each day and keep doing that until he starts to sing again. If that doesn't work, cover his cage well with a blanket so he won't catch cold and take him to a bird dealer for an examination. Several are listed in the yellow pages. Let us know what happens.

Mao Fears U.S.-Soviet Deal

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Communist China's insistence on restarting the Warsaw meetings with U.S. diplomats may turn out to be as significant in its own way as Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

CROMLEY

No one this far away knows, of course, what is going on in the minds of the men who rule Peking. But having once known these men on a day-to-day basis for eight months in the caves of Yenan 24 years ago, it is possible to come to some tentative conclusions as to their thinking.

It is known that Mao's people are deeply disturbed over the possibility of an alliance or deal between the United States and the Soviet Union (as the Soviet Union is disturbed over the possibility of an alliance between the United States and Communist China).

Peking knows that Washington and Moscow seemed to work as a team when Mao's troops invaded India. Peking knows, too, that Washington received some assurances from Moscow in its attempts to get the Paris talks going.

Peking noted that Washington talked but did not act when the Soviet Union moved into Czechoslovakia.

Mao's men at Warsaw will want to explore how much of a working understanding is developing between Washington and Moscow. They will want to break up any such American-Soviet arrangements. They will possibly want to develop some agreements of their own with the United States.

This last may sound improbable in view of U.S.-Red Chinese relations in the past dozen years. But it is not to be discounted.

One basic Mao theory is never to let yourself become involved in a fight with two major opponents at the same time. Make a deal with one to offset the other.

At this particular moment in history, the Soviet Union is more of a threat to Red China's ambitions than is the United States.

Russia is Communist China's next-door neighbor. The United States is several thousand miles away.

Russia, in Czechoslovakia, has shown that it will not hesitate to use its force massively and recklessly to achieve its ends. The United States in Vietnam has shown a determination to move cautiously.

Russian aid carries political strings, as the Chinese have learned to their chagrin. But a relaxation of the U.S. stand vis-a-vis Peking could lead to opening the doors for profitable deals between Red China and Western Europe and Japan that would beef up Communist China's foundering agriculture and industry.

It is important to remember that Mao is a pragmatist. If orthodoxy interferes with what he wants, he will shift tactics to achieve his ends.

Blaiberg Plans Party on Heart Transplant Anniversary

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the longest surviving heart transplant patient, planned a dinner party tonight to celebrate the first anniversary of his operation.

"I feel even better than I did years before the operation," said the chubby, mustached 59-year-old dentist who received a new lease on life when Dr. Christiaan Barnard's transplant team gave him a new heart at Groote Schuur Hospital last Jan. 2.

Barnard was invited to the anniversary dinner.

Blaiberg said he took a glass of wine Wednesday, his first since the operation.

"On that score you're behind me," Blaiberg was told by the Rev. Charles Boulogne, the French Dominican monk who is No. 2 in length of survival for heart transplant patients. "I've been drinking for a long time now."

TALKED BY PHONE

The two men talked briefly in a Paris-Cape Town telephone hookup arranged by a French radio station. Boulogne received his new heart last May 12.

Except for a crisis that almost required a second heart transplant and kept him in the hospital 118 days last summer, Blaiberg has led a fairly normal life.

He drives his own car, goes swimming, attends shows, receives visiting celebrities and several times a week has friends to tea at his apartment.

However, he still walks with a slight limp and has to follow a strict regimen, including 10 minutes taking medicines four times a day. He has a medical checkup twice a week.

LIVER COMPLICATION

Blaiberg was given the heart of Clive Haupt, a 24-year-old mulatto factory worker who had died of a brain hemorrhage. Blaiberg went home from the hospital on March 16, 74 days after the operation. He was back in the hospital May 24 with a liver complaint that was diagnosed as hepatitis.

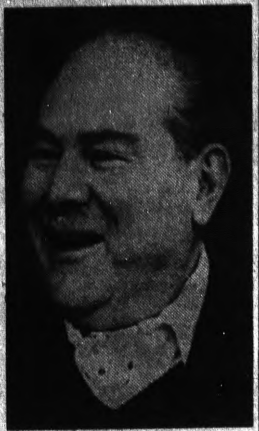

Lung complications set in, and by July 6 Barnard had decided to perform a second heart transplant. On that day, Blaiberg recalls in his book "Looking at My Heart," he told his wife Eileen: "You know as well as I do that this is the end of the road."

Then he was given injections of antilymphocyte serum and by the next day was on the way to recovery. He was released from the hospital Sept. 26.

Thieves Thwart Return to Italy

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Anthony Uliana, 72, hid the plane ticket he planned to use to fly to his native Italy and $1,800 in cash in an American flag in his bureau drawer, then left his apartment to celebrate New Year's Eve with his son.

He returned to find the ticket and the money stolen, as well as a necklace which belonged to his late wife, police said.

Steel Ball Flung at Hirohito

TOKYO (UPI) — An ex-con vict rose in a crowd of 14,000 persons shouting "banzai" today and fired a steel ball from a slingshot at Emperor Hirohito.

No one was hurt but it was the first time in 46 years any Japanese acted violently toward the man they once worshiped as a god.

Police arrested Kenzo Okuzaki, 48, and identified him as a convicted murderer who once told a prison guard he would die gladly if he could kill the emperor. He blamed Hirohito for World War II, police said.

Shortly after police hustled Okuzaki from the crowd below the emperor's balcony, a second man set off a smoke bomb and snaked away into the mass humanity, leaving behind a trail of pamphlets urging the abolition of the monarchy. He was not caught.

LAST ATTEMPT

The last attempt on Hirohito's life was in 1923. A would-be assassin was arrested and executed for the attempt on the then crown prince.

Today's incident took place during one of Hirohito's rare public appearances.

The emperor, forbidden to the view of Japanese until post-World War II reforms directed by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, had stepped onto a balcony of his new $36-million palace to renew the New Year's appearances he halted five years ago when work on the palace was started.

Standing with the 67-year-old monarch were Empress Nagako, Crown Prince Akihito, Crown Princess Michiko who is expecting her third child in the spring, Prince Hitachi, younger son of the emperor, and Hirohito's daughter, Princess Hitachi.

18 YARDS AWAY

The crowd and Okuzaki were 18 yards away.

The man was quoted as telling police he resorted to a "rash act" because he had grievances against them. He said he was questioned Christmas Day for a traffic violation.

Okuzaki said he fired the steel ball, similar to those used in Japanese pinball machines.

It did not reach the balcony. Okuzaki told police no one around him appeared to notice his act. They were shouting the traditional cry of loyalty to the emperor who was waving back.

DREW NOTICES

Okuzaki decided, he said, to do more. So he shouted, "Yamazaki, why don't you fire a pistol at the emperor?" This time the crowd around him noticed. Police came running.

On the balcony Hirohito gave the incident no notice. He and his family also ignored the smoke bomb.

The steel ball incident came when Hirohito made the first of eight appearances on the balcony during the day. Seven more times he came back to receive the adulation of the crowd.

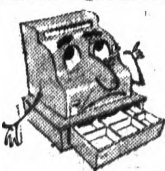

Palace spokesmen said 197,870 persons came to the palace to cheer the emperor.

Police said the smoke bomb consisted of two smoke candles designed to billow up when lit.

Police said Okuzaki was on their list of "dangerous persons" because of his feelings against the monarchy.

They said that during his imprisonment he six times filed lawsuits for abolition of the monarchy.

Not Even a Married Man Could Write This Alone

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the traditional year-end features on television is a program of reviews, forecasts and analyses by a team of network correspondents who have key assignments at home and abroad.

Most readers probably aren't aware of this, but a lot of teamwork also goes into the production of this column.

A column as broad, deep, encompassing and comprehensive as this one is never the work of a single man. Not even a married man can do it alone.

I have a team of field observers who supply me with background information, keen insights and penetrating analyses. All I do is weave it together into a rich tapestry of enlightenment.

Once a year I bring the team in from key posts around the world for a brainstorming session. At such times we try to anticipate some of the trends and developments that will take shape in the coming year.

In case you missed the aforementioned television program, you might find our discussion a worthy substitute:

"Let's hear first from Randall Plimsoll, who has been observing President-elect Nixon. Randy, based on what you have seen of the incoming administration thus far, what do you believe the new president's first act will be?"

"I believe his first act will be to get warm. It's usually pretty cold at that outdoor inauguration ceremony."

"Thanks, Randy. That's a very interesting observation, and it seems to tie in with the general feeling that Nixon will take a pragmatic approach to the presidency."

NOT HALF-FROZEN

"Yes. He is pragmatic enough to realize he can't run the country half-frozen."

"A good point, Randy. Now let's hear from Gregory Piltown, who has been observing the Paris peace talks. How does the situation look to you, Greg?"

"More trouble ahead, I'm afraid. After the negotiators finally agree on the shape of the conference table, they may have trouble finding the table. There aren't many square tables with only two sides."

* * *

"You've given us something to think about, Greg. Also standing by is Fletcher Mishmash, our economic observer. What's the outlook for 1969, Fletch?"

FRANC ANSWER

"Internationally, the big question is whether De Gaulle will devalue the franc or whether France will devalue De Gaulle."

"Good thinking, Fletch. This should be enough stuff to keep the column going for the next six months."

Youngstown Schools Reopen; Shut 5 Weeks

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UPI) — Classrooms reopened today for Youngstown's 28,020 public school students for the first time since Nov. 27, when the school system shut down, because it ran out of money.

Voters in this industrial city of 177,000 have rejected six tax levies in the last two years. The Board of Education closed the schools after a 12-mill additional levy was turned down in the Nov. 5 election and again in a special election Dec. 10.

Administrators plan to borrow funds on anticipated spring real estate taxes to meet the teachers' payroll.

Eight per cent of the teachers are to be paid their December salaries immediately. The others will receive their back pay before the end of the current school year.

NO DATE SET

No new date has been set for an election to resubmit the levy because school officials remain cautious about voter reaction. But it was reported some school board members wish to bring the issue to a vote in February.

School Supt. Woodrow Zinser met Monday with the school board to discuss its campaign strategy and research.

Besides the 12 mill additional levy, the administrators also are concerned this year about the renewal of a 7-mill operating levy, now in effect.

The operating levy whose funds have kept the schools open for the last two years comes up for another vote in November.

Europe Cautious of Revamp Despite Money Mart Crises

LONDON (AP) — After the most threatening year of financial upheaval since those dark postwar times when cigarettes were worth more than money, Western Europe is still moving with extreme caution toward reforming the international monetary system.

A U.S. congressional subcommittee headed by Rep. Henry Reuss, a Wisconsin Democrat, has urged the U.S. government to take the lead in changing the system. But the innovative conservatism of some European monetary officials, coupled with their governments' stolid defense of their own interests, could block reform.

The Reuss committee favored more flexible exchange rates, which might avoid confrontations of the type played out between France and Germany at the November finance ministers' meeting in Bonn. Paul McCracken, president-elect Nixon's choice as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, is also reported to lean toward this solution, if necessary.

But an Associated Press survey found no support in Europe for flexible rates, although officials said this idea and others are under study. With all its faults, the Europeans generally agree the present system has worked better than any other.

REDUCED FIGURE

French policy still backs an increase in the price of gold and a return to the 19th century gold standard. But since the hemorrhage of some $3 billion of gold from French reserves last year, the French have cut a much reduced figure on the world monetary stage and won no major adherents. In at least three countries—Belgium, Italy and Britain—officials said they do not expect Charles de Gaulle to renew his attack on the U.S. dollar by boosting gold.

Once Nixon is settled in the White House, Western Europe may be ready to join in a general realignment that would change the relative values of the dollar, the German mark, the French franc and other currencies to ease the strains of the system. Officials are keeping their fingers crossed that the system won't be blown apart by another crisis in the meantime.

OPPOSED BY BLOC

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the Paris-based 21-nation group composed of the non-Communist world's major trading countries, has come out against major changes in the monetary system.

The OECD economists who write its surveys said in December that more cooperation among governments under the old rules is the real need. That means more squeeze for deficit countries like Britain and the United States to get back into trading balance by exporting more. It also means that surplus countries such as Germany must cooperate by buying more.

But the OECD unwittingly put its finger on the trouble with the present system. In order to shift it back into balance, British and U.S. squeeze measures will cut down world trade—slowing down its growth by one-third in 1969, the OECD experts estimated. Thus, a system designed to promote trade is being held together by measures which do exactly the opposite.

A plan to combat huge flows of money which endanger currencies, put forward by Guido Carli, governor of the Italian National Bank, is the only idea that seems to be catching on in Europe. It is more an extension of the old swap system than anything new.

SPECIAL AGREEMENT

In the 1960s, Western governments arranged a network of credit lines to protect each other's currency from "hot money" flows. As speculators pulled out money, central bankers swapped it back—but only by special agreement among countries. The new network, still under study, would be automatic and would work out of a central pool of about $5 billion.

The British feel the United States, has wasted energy worrying about De Gaulle when Washington could have used its political leverage on West Germany to upvalue its strong currency. That could have avoided last November's crisis, caused partly by the refusal of both France and Germany to change currency values.

The British, having suffered a devaluation, feel that other countries should be more willing to do the same when the situation demands it.

As the world's heaviest debtor, Britain is in no position to force its monetary ideas on anyone. But officials feel that the most immediately stabilizing factor would be a speedy activation of the new special drawing rights to expand monetary reserves by creating credits as good as gold.

SOME WANT MORE

Some officials want as much as $5 billion worth of these credits to be created each year—more than twice the amount envisaged. They are due to be activated in the middle of 1969.

Most outspoken of all have been the West Germans who hold the trumps in Europe's largest reserves and trading surplus.

It appeared from German statements that if anyone pays the price for change it could be the franc, the dollar, the pound—but not the West German mark.

Sales can be sad.

They can be downright heartbreaking.
Especially when the prices are wonderful and the selection is terrible.

What good is it to find a $125 cashmere topcoat for $99.90 if you can't find it in your size? That's the difference between a sale and an Osmun's sale.

Everything that's sale-tagged on our racks now is part of the

So if you find a $110.00 suit on sale for $89.90, there's a better chance you'll find one in your size.

Baby Is Star of Christening Celebration

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Mary Elizabeth, the firstborn child of State Rep. and Mrs. William P. Hampton, was christened recently at a Sunday ceremony in Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church.

Mary Elizabeth's mother is the former Betsy Bradley. The baby, born Sept. 17, sailed through the formalities with nary a squall, her mother reports.

Both sets of grandparents were there, of course — Mr. and Mrs. James Bradley of Crest Drive and the Verne C. Hamptons of Brookside Drive, Bloomfield Township. Also there were two great-grandmothers, both on young Mrs. Hampton's side — Mrs. Allyne Kimmins of Florence Street and Mrs. Charles Bradley of East Iroquois Road.

Among the close friends who joined the Hamptons at their Bloomfield Hills home for brunch after the christening were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zacks and their daughters, Connie and Mary, and Carol Savage, all of Birmingham.

OTHER GUESTS

There from out of town were Rep. Hampton's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Kuehn, of Ann Arbor.

The Hamptons are planning to slip away for a couple of days of relaxing up north, while Mary Elizabeth stays home for some grandmotherly spoiling.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Boyer of Bloomfield Hills had a houseful of friends over to help welcome in the New Year.

One of the first parties of 1969 is being planned by the Fred Richardsons of Bloomfield Hills — set for Saturday.

Author to Play Lead for Stage Premiere

"The Second Coming of Bert" which has its world premiere this evening at Meadow Brook Theatre will feature author-actor Ronald Chudley in the title role. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Chudley's new tragedy-comedy deals with a man who stumbles on an isolated community of religious fanatics who decide that the newly arrived stranger is the reincarnation of their late prophet.

ROLES

Leading roles in the cast will be played by Marshall Borden, Bonnie Hurren, Douglas Seale, Victor Holchak, Max Howard, Richard Curnock, Elisabeth Orion, J. Michael Bloom, Diane Stapley and Jeremy Rowe.

Others in the cast of the new play include James Sutorius, Kenneth Wilson, Roy Frady, Andrea Stonorov, Neana Davidoff, Deborah Ardery, Rhonda Rose, Rob Collins, Pat Freni, Jeffrey Winner, Ric Zank, Dorothy Mallam, Len Auclair and John Buck.

Wright at Workshop

Attending the University of Pacific's Holiday-In-Mexico Painting Workshop is Maxwell Wright of Scotch Lake.

The class, an annual event during the Christmas-New Year's period, was held this year in Guaymas.

Abby Gets the Picture-- You Could Get the Frame

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 77. I live in the same apartment building with a very fine gentleman, and we've become very good friends. He is married but he has a legal separation from his wife.

He pays her a big alimony, but she won't give him a divorce unless he gives her a very large settlement, which he doesn't want to do as he figures he may outlive her. (She's 81 and he's 84.)

I am not ever entirely at ease with this man as I am afraid his wife might sue me and I have a pretty nice savings myself. She's very clever and I have heard that she still watches him very close.

He takes me out to dinner, and I have him in for meals, and maybe we watch a little television. We both enjoy the companionship. I think you get the picture, but I'm not looking for trouble.

CAREFUL

DEAR CAREFUL: Ask your lawyer how much "companionship" the law allows a man in your neighbor's circumstances. I think I get the picture, but if you aren't careful, you could get the frame.

DEAR ABBY: As a Chaplain in Vietnam, I would like to say something to wives and girl friends who have men over here:

If you have a "DEAR JOHN" type of letter to write, please DON'T. Yesterday I saw two men who received "Dear Johns" and I can tell you it wasn't a very pretty sight.

One man had been crying hysterically for an hour before I found him at his machine gun post after a buddy had brought him a Dear John letter. He could have endangered the whole post.

Another man who was responsible for a whole detachment told me that because of a "Dear John" letter he was so hopelessly depressed he was in a fog and couldn't think straight.

You may think your man is in a safe area, but there is no "safe area" when a man receives a letter that destroys his dreams of going home. Sincerely,

BATTALION CHAPLAIN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who is a very fine person. His wife, unfortunately, is something else again. When the men are together, watching a sports event on TV, she and I will sit in another room, where she tells one fantastic story after another. I have never heard such outrageous lies.

For instance, she tells of her, close friendships with influential people. (They call HER to ask her for advice.) She talks about her "collection" of priceless antiques, which she keeps stored in a warehouse. She speaks of her blueblood family background (in a distant state) and talks about her rich relatives whom nobody has met.

I just smile and say nothing, but it has gotten to the point where I feel like a blooming idiot, pretending to believe all that stuff.

My husband has been a loner all his life, and this woman's husband is the first really close friend he has ever had, and I hate to disturb the relationship.

The husband has heard his wife tell some of these outlandish tales, and he doesn't say a word. What should I do?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: If the husband is a "fine" person, and he listens silently while his wife spins these yarns, he is obviously aware of her problem and is handling it as best he can. People who lie consistently in the manner you describe are "sick."

You are generous to consider your husband's friendship with the husband. Continue to "smile" and keep mum. You'd gain nothing by letting this pathetic woman know you're wise.

Holiday Eve Nuptials for Actress, Director

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—Lila Kedrova, 50, who won an Oscar as the best supporting actress in the movie "Zorba The Greek," and theater director Richard Howard, 35, of Sarnia, Ont., were married New Year's Eve at Sault Ste. Marie.

Howard is artistic director of a Belleville, Ont., little theater group. He won awards for direction at several Ontario festivals and recently completed a year studying English repertory theater on an Ontario government grant.

The David Eisenhowers End Stay at Secluded Honeymoon Cottage

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ending their housekeeping honeymoon at a secluded and well-guarded cottage on the grounds of an exclusive club near here, David and Julie Eisenhower flew to Pennsylvania Tuesday to celebrate the new year with his parents.

On at least one occasion the honeymooners ate dinner at the Lost Tree Club, said William Robinson, "but mostly they did their own housekeeping."

Robinson, former publisher of the New York Herald Tribune, said he arranged the wedding trip to the club.

"They wanted it to be very quiet," he said. "They didn't want any publicity or ceremony."

Robinson said Secret Service agents whisked the young couple away from New York shortly after their Dec. 22 wedding and had them flown here. They left to spend New Year's Day with his parents in Phoenixville, Pa.

"I've known the Eisenhower family for many years and some months ago I happened to see David and I told him about the club," Robinson said.

The cottage has two bedrooms, a living room and a kitchen where Robinson said Julie cooked their meals.

Robinson said Secret Service agents assigned to members of President-elect Nixon's family set up housekeeping in a garage adjacent to the cottage.

"I don't know how many there were," he said, "but they were here all the time."

During the 10-day stay, Robinson said the couple "swam and walked the beach and played golf."

Robinson said the newlyweds left the cottage for Christmas dinner at Nixon's new Key Biscayne, Fla., home, a trip to the Bahamas the following day and to attend church Sunday in West Palm Beach.

He is the grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and she is the daughter of President-elect Nixon.

Have Wedding at Home

Adrienne Edith Hicks and Officer Candidate Edward Welling Errickson III, USA, spoke vows Saturday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Hicks of West 14 Mile Road, West Bloomfield Township.

The bride chose a pink wool A-line dress for the early afternoon ceremony. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zalac Jr. were honor attendants. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Errickson of Phoenix, Ariz.

Pianist Changes Concert Program

Eugene Istomin will perform the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4 with the Detroit Symphony tonight and Saturday rather than the originally programmed Brahms Second Piano Concerto.

Also, the Sibelius Symphony No. 1 will be played in place of the Beethoven Symphony No. 4, which has been rescheduled for performances on February 20 and 21.

Istomin requested the change in the concerto.

Multiple Births Around the World

GRAND RAPIDS — Edward Kenneth Sayles was born in 1968 and his twin brother, Kenneth Edward, was born eight minutes and — for income tax deduction purposes — one year later.

Eighteen-year-old Mrs. Delbert Sayles of Grand Rapids gave birth to the twins at 11:55 p.m. Tuesday and 12:03 a.m. Wednesday, at a Grand Rapids hospital.

"I'm awfully proud," the 21-year-old father said. "I get a tax exemption for one and for the second, I guess I just got the thrill of having a New Year's baby."

Taxpayers are entitled to a $600 exemption on federal income taxes for children born during a calendar year.

The father, who works in a Grand Rapids factory, admitted, "I wasn't really prepared for it."

"When they brought out one I was really happy. When they said 'This is Number Two,' it kind of knocked me over," he said.

"So far, I need everything double. I have a bassinet and diapers and things for one baby," he said.

The first child weighed five pounds, four ounces and the second four pounds, nine ounces. The twins and their mother were reported in good condition.

The couple has one other child, Shawn Allen, who will be two years old in March.

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN

A Swedish woman gave birth Wednesday to quadruplets, three boys and a girl. The condition of the children deteriorated during the night, and they were put into incubators.

The mother, Mrs. Ulla Britt

Jansson, 32, had been given hormone treatments for infertility by Prof. Carl Gemzell of Uppsala. The treatment frequently results in multiple births.

The Janssons have no other children.

MAZAMBIQUE

One of the quadruplets born to Clara Matanguane on Dec. 13 died on New Year's Eve, it was reported today.

The baby boy was believed to have died of septicemia, a type of blood poisoning. Another boy was reported in serious condition, but the remaining girl and boy were said to be in satisfactory condition at Lourenco Marques General Hospital.

Mrs. Matanguane is a 32-year-old African housewife.

Mom Loses Her Influence

Mom is a bigger influence in a boys' clothing selection than she thinks since about three out of every four purchases of boys' apparel are made either directly by the mother or with the mother's being present at the time the purchase is made.

This fact comes from a nationwide study by the Boys' and Young Men's Apparel Manufacturers Association. Sons researched said mothers held sway 69 per cent of the time in ages six to 12, 39 per cent from ages 13 to 15, and 18 per cent for 16 and 17-year-olds.

OUTSIDE

Other influences, in order of significance: Friends and older boys, advertising and store displays, their own ideas, influence of idols such as television, movie or other entertainment or sports personalities.

Lone Survivor of Mass Murder Will Wed

SAN LUIS, Philippines (AP) — Corazon Amurao, lone survivor of the 1966 Chicago massacre of eight student nurses, may return to the United States after she marries her childhood sweetheart.

Her fiancé, Alberto Atienza, 22, said today he will take the bar examination in Manila late next year and then may go to the United States for postgraduate study. He said his wife might apply for a job in a U.S. hospital, preferably in Washington, D. C.

"But we haven't made any definite decisions," Atienza said. "All these are plans."

The couple will marry Sunday in a local Roman Catholic church, 80 miles south of Manila. "I'm not sure, I don't know," said the 25-year-old bride-to-be when asked if she was nervous or how she felt with her wedding approaching.

FORGETTING ORDEAL

"She is beginning to forget," said Atienza, referring to Miss Amurao's ordeal two years ago in a dormitory near the South Chicago Community Hospital.

On July 14, 1966, she hid under a bed while Richard Speck choked and stabbed to death her eight roommates, all student nurses. She later identified him in court and he was convicted and sentenced to death.

After the trial, Miss Amurao returned home, worked as a nurse at Manila's Far Eastern University, then was elected a member of the San Luis Town Council for a four-year term. She said she would pursue both her professional and political careers after marriage.

Allow Free Swish

When washing delicate items, such as swimsuits, elasticized lace or crocheted articles, always use a full tub of water for both wash and rinse even for the smallest load. This will minimize pulling, wrinkling and stretching.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tatu of Kenilworth Street, announce the betrothal of their daughter, Leon-da Raye, to Roger L. Cox. He is the son of Mrs. Ruth Davidson of Dayton, Ohio, and the late Hugh Cox. The pair are students at Olivet Nazarene College.

Corazon Amurao, 25, lone living witness to the 1966 massacre of eight fellow nurses in Chicago by Richard Speck, will wed a childhood friend, Alberto Atienza, 22, shown with her in her home at San Luis, Batangas, The Philippines. The wedding will take place Sunday in San Luis. The couple has been engaged 14 months.

Use Custody Account for What You Desire

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I've heard that Trust departments of banks will take care of an individual's affairs, even to doing the bookkeeping. Since I am a widow with a fairly substantial amount in stocks and bonds, would some kind of trust account be the best way to have them handled?

I will appreciate your comments on this.

Mrs. T.W.E., Wilmington, Del.

Dear Mrs. E.:

What you probably have in mind is a Custody Account, which is quite different from a Trust, even though it is handled in a bank's Trust department. A Custody account, which usually involves assets of from $150,000 up, will clip coupons, collect dividends, handle stock splits and exchanges, and dispose of securities at the advantageous moment — whether you're at home, traveling, hospitalized or wherever.

You can give the bank any necessary instructions at any time via mail, phone or cable.

One big difference between a Custody account and a Trust is that a Trust ties up your properties for a specified period of time in order to give you estate tax advantages, whereas a Custody Account lets you remain in control of your finances for your own use.

When you set up a Trust, you are making arrangements to give some or all of your holdings to someone else, with the bank or Trust Company serving as trustee.

In a sense, a Custody Account is comparable to a regular checking account. The bank accepts responsibility for the safety of your securities, and for the keeping of proper records of deposits and withdrawals.

You can open such an account easily enough — with just a letter of instructions. Naturally, this custodian service is not for free. Some banks charge a minimum fee of $150 a year, plus "activity charges."

Special services rendered at additional cost include providing statements for income tax purposes and preparation of tax returns, and investment counseling.

Unquestionably a Custody Account can save you a lot of time and trouble, even if you don't plan to be away or aren't incapacitated by illness. You don't have to go to your safe deposit box at the bank in order to get out securities which are to be sold or redeemed, or to deposit stock dividends or newly purchased securities.

And if you've never had to handle your financial affairs by yourself, you'll probably feel more comfortable relying on the broad sources of financial information which the bank has access to.

However, you'd be wise to discuss such an account with your lawyer and your tax accountant before taking any final step.

BLOOMFIELD MIRACLE MILE

For Cabaret Series

List Concert Soloists

Four young Detroit musicians will be soloists at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's night-club-style 1969 Cabaret "Pops" Concerts.

The four are Beth Rhodes, 18-year-old pianist; Arthur Krehbiel, principal French horn player with the Detroit Symphony; Linda Snedden Smith, violinist with the Symphony; and Cynthia Raim, 17-year-old pianist.

Arthur Fiedler, America's "Mr. Pops," will conduct the "Pops" for the third consecutive year. The series again will feature the magic Fiedler blend of classical and pop music against a background of candlelight and wine. The concerts will be at 8:30 p.m. April 16-26 at the Detroit Light Guard Armory, East Eight Mile Road, Detroit.

Miss Rhodes, now a freshman at the University of Arizona, will perform Saint-Saens Piano Concerto No. 2 in G minor on April 16 and 17.

She has appeared as soloist with the Center Symphony and the Music Study Club of Detroit and was soloist with the University of Arizona Orchestra in October. She is national winner of the Baldwin Keyboard Award.

SOLOIST

Krehbiel will be appearing for the third time as featured soloist with the Detroit

Symphony. He joined the Symphony in 1963, coming from the Chicago Symphony, where he played under Fritz Reiner.

Krehbiel, a Royal Oak resident, most recently appeared as soloist at the 1967 Meadow Brook Music Festival.

He will play Mozart's Concerto No. 2 for French Horn and Orchestra at the "Pops" April 18 and 19.

Miss Smith, also of Royal Oak, has been with the Detroit Symphony two years. She was heard as soloist in Chausson's "Poeme" with the Symphony in October of this year.

Previously she had made solo appearances with the Eastman Rochester Symphony, the Shaker Heights Symphony, and the Cleveland Women's Symphony. She will perform Wienlawski's Violin Concerto No. 2 in D minor on April 23 and 24.

Cynthia Raim, who will be appearing with the Symphony for the sixth time will play Rachmaninoff's "Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini" for Piano and Orchestra" at the April 25 and 26 concerts.

Miss Raim, now a senior at Cass Technical High School, was, at age nine, the youngest winner on record of the Interlochen Arts Academy's concerto competition.

Special arrangements for large groups attending the "Pops" are being made now through the Symphony Office. Tickets for individual concerts will go on sale in March.

The versatile bookstand is beautifully crafted by Ethan Allen. It features a ratchet operated top which can be raised to support a large dictionary, Bible or atlas, and an adjustable bookshelf underneath. It makes an ideal accent piece for foyer, bedroom or living room. The dentil molding and fluted pilasters are typical Ethan Allen "Classic Manor" touches. The stand is mounted on concealed swivel casters for easy mobility; it is 26 inches high and priced at $120.

Egg Carton Ceiling Decor

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Because the plaster on the kitchen ceiling was flaking off, Mrs. T. G. Knappenberger decided that if she couldn't have a smooth surface she'd have an interestingly textured one — created with egg carton fillers.

"It looks like hundreds of lemons are hanging from the ceiling," she says of the decorations which she spray-painted lemon yellow. She used about 90 egg carton fillers, the kind made of pressed paper with egg-shaped depressions.

Concert Date Is Postponed

A concert under the direction of James Frazier scheduled to be given in Ford Auditorium Sunday evening, has been postponed. It was to have featured a requiem honoring the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

The symphony and the concert sponsor organization, the Second Baptist Church of Detroit, hope to reschedule the performance for later in the season, which date will be announced as soon as known.

It was decided to postpone the concert because many of the participants, particularly members of school and church choruses, had the flu or severe colds.

Depends on Eater

"Soul" Food Has Many Meanings

By JUNE ELERT

"Soul" has reached a zenith in popular usage in late years, having acquired a special significance associated with common events — like the "soul brother" signs Negro businessmen hang in their windows during riots.

It seems to imply kinship or brotherhood. In her new cookbook, "Soul Food Cookery," Inez Yeagan Kaiser says, "There is a SPIRIT connected with the dishes that calls up a feeling of nostalgia, pleasure and anticipation."

JUNE

Then there are recipes for neckbones, okra, pig tails, ox tails, chitterlings, tripe, pig backbone, hog jowl, pigs' feet and catfish stew, to name most of them.

This reminds me of a dish my mother used to make. She called it "stovies." Potatoes were sliced and laid in a shallow roasting pan. Water was added and salt and pepper.

It cooked for hours on top of the wood stove in the kitchen, filling the downstairs flat with warmth and a tantalizing aroma.

Our enjoyment was unspoiled by the absence of meat, milk, vegetables, salad, dessert, or any other of the vitamin-rich essentials of today. Our stomachs were full. That's soul food to me.

Nostalgia is there. There was pleasure and anticipation, seasoning and savor. Kinship is with large brotherhood who struggled through the depression by this and other means.

CHANGED NOW

At our house we don't make a meal of potatoes any more. Instead we eat meat, milk, vegetables, salad, dessert and, for good measure a vitamin pill once a day.

Mrs. Kaiser's recipes, in large part, are not too unfamiliar. Some have a more ethnic quality and a few are particularly Negro in their association. The ingredients are Southern, but no longer exclusively so: turnip, mustard and collard greens, salt pork, yams, chard, kale, hominy, grits, blackeye peas, bacon drippings, corn meal, ham hocks, pigs' knuckles, are some.

A few of these items I haven't tasted. I made ox tail soup once. Bacon drippings were a staple shortening in my kitchen not so long ago — make excellent pie crust.

Beet tops we always use — they cook up just like spinach and are most interesting to look at with their little red veins all through the dark green of the leaves.

I don't know anyone who doesn't like corn bread, including my own three northern kids.

I'm going to try cooking vegetables with salt pork and bacon drippings. Maybe the meat flavoring will increase the potato-chip generation's willingness to eat these in greater variety. Corn, green beans and spinach can get pretty monotonous.

I wonder, when my kids are grown, what will soul food be to them? I think I'll go home and try to fix some of those "stovies" for dinner tonight.

I can hear them now. "Yeah, Mom, but what are we gonna have to eat?"

Skiers: Be Prepared

January is National Ski Month, time to get out parkas, ski pants and boots once again. But in addition to clothing and equipment, don't overlook caring for your skin properly during this active outdoor season.

While skiing is fun, over-exposure to wintry weather can cause windburn, sunburn and chapped skin just as painful as the summer varieties. An excellent preventive is a good first aid cream, rubbed liberally on exposed parts of face and hands. For continued protection, apply again before retiring.

The antiseptic cream soothes pads, antiseptic cream and and heals the tiny network of adhesive bandages — to treat skin breaks that make up minor mishaps that may occur.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I was told never to use soap in a fish aquarium. What do you use to clean away the water line from goldfish bowls and to clean the whole bowl? — MRS. J. T.

DEAR POLLY and Bernice — I have had good results removing unpleasant odors from suitcases by putting moth flakes inside and keeping the bag closed up for about 10 days. Air it outside later. This has worked for mildew odor. — ANNE I.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Bernice who has a smoke smell in her luggage to try spraying the lining with deodorant and then leave the bag closed for a few days. I had a musty smell in a leather grip and tried a number of things before discovering this idea, which worked for me.

Afterwards I put a small piece of perfumed soap in each pocket and left it there. — LOIS

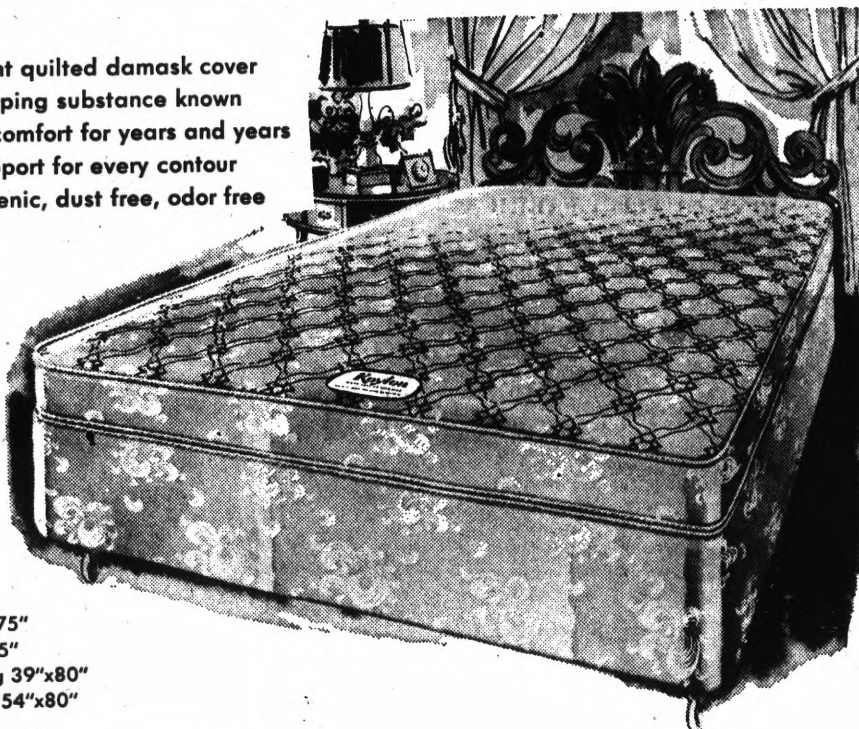

DEAR POLLY — Nothing will help Judy's buckling zipper in her knit top but to remove it and replace it. Be careful not to stretch the knit. The best result is obtained by doing this by hand, the way it is done in many expensive garments. — MRS. C. F. H.

DEAR POLLY — To comb or set your wig or hairpiece, you will find the handle to a regular, short-handled sink plunger fits nicely in the hole of the wig form. Moisten the rim of the plunger and put on a flat surface where the suction holds it tightly. Fasten the wig on the form loosely and you can turn it around as you work. — MYRTLE

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:
My husband bought me a beautiful new sewing machine for Christmas and gave it to me a month ago so I have had time to use it a little. I could cry. I just don't like it as well as the one I traded in, what would you suggest I do in order to be at ease with it as I was with my old one?

Mrs. B. K.

Dear Mrs. B. K.:
This is often what happens when we replace anything we have used for years and become completely familiar with. I would suggest that anyone with a new machine practice as much as possible on straight sewing before making a garment with it. In other words, make some quick project such as new curtains, bed spreads, or anything you have thought of that would require straight sewing.

When you become used to handling the speed, simple mechanisms, etc., it will be much easier to adjust to the detailed stitching you use for making clothes. Unfortunately, a new sewing machine will not automatically make you a better seamstress. My own machine which I wouldn't part with for anything, is about 20 years old. Even more interesting might be the fact that many of the work rooms in the top designer houses in Europe still use the old fashioned treadle machines.

I'm sure you'll love your new sewing machine, but you will have to get used to it and all its gadgets first!

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Lewis Dorries, Breese, Ill., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for sending this suggestion.

If you suddenly find the neckline of your dress was cut too low and you don't have enough fabric for a roll collar (this could also be for ready made dresses), use a small 22-inch square nylon neckline scarf in either a matching or contrasting color as a fill-in.

Fold scarf in half, forming a triangle. The center fold is then folded over again to a depth of five inches, making four thicknesses of material. The small triangle of double material below this strip of bias is cut off.

Pin and baste the strip in several places to hold it together. Pin the center of the scarf to the center front of the dress (the two cut edges and the one folded edge) on the wrong side of the dress. Continue to pin in place until you come to within one inch of the center back on both sides. The scarf will stretch as you pin and will form a lovely roll collar. The finished ends of the scarf that are left over at the back can be tied in a double knot over the top of the zipper to add back interest. The softness of the material makes it very comfortable and it is so economical that it can be replaced when it shows signs of wear or soil.

This is a great way to change the entire effect on any dress and works so much better than trying to keep a loose scarf in place.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I made a coat this fall, using very thick loosely woven fabric. It was so irritating when I tried to pin anything because the pins would slip into the fabric or simply fall out before I could replace them with stitching. How in the world does one pin fabrics of this type?

Mrs. T. M. B.

Dear Mrs. T. M. B.:

I am familiar with this problem since many of our students have used this type of fabric and I know exactly what you mean. We have suggested, and incidentally, it does work beautifully, that you buy some of the long pins with large heads on the ends. I don't know what they are actually used for except for decorative purposes.

They are at least 2 to 2½ inches long and I think this will solve your problem. Keep a small box of them handy for times when you are working with heavier fabrics.

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I made some slacks out of the wonderful polyester knit that doesn't require pressing but they look like a sack on me. I have pressed the front crease in at least a dozen times and every time I wear them, there is no sign of a crease at all. I can't imagine that ready-made slacks of this fabric would be so popular if they always look so baggy. Have you an answer?

Mrs. H. C. C.

Dear Mrs. H. C. C.:

I have checked on some of the more expensive slacks made of heavy polyester knit and found that the front crease is machine stitched in place. In other words, fold and baste your slacks where you desire the crease. Next, machine stitch about one-eighth of an inch from the fold, carefully hold the slacks firmly in place so that this stitching doesn't stretch the crease. This stitching will give the effect of a pressed crease and I think you will be happier with your slacks.

Investigations Put TV News Coverage in the Spotlight

NEW YORK (AP)—Until recently at the first sign of a crisis the television networks usually retreated behind the prestige and respectability of their news divisions. But now it is the news divisions that are at the center of conflict.

At least eight investigations of television news coverage are either under way or planned. Most are a direct result of television's coverage of the Democratic National Convention and the tumultuous demonstrations in Chicago last August.

The clamor raised by the public, members of Congress and the Federal Communications Commission is seen by the industry as threatening in a subtle way to put the freedom of broadcast journalism in jeopardy.

How serious is the threat?

NEW LAW UNLIKELY
Few people in the industry really believe that Congress will pass any new law restricting broadcasting's freedom of the press, or that the Federal Communications Commission is likely to impose any new regulations. "I doubt that any restrictions will be enacted," said Elmer Lower, president of ABC News.

The threat is more subtle than that, stemming from the fact that broadcasting is a licensed industry.

"There is a psychological intimidation if they (newsmen) know in advance they will be called to answer," said Robert MacNeil, a former NBC newsmen and now a correspondent for the British Broadcasting Corp. He was in this country to produce a program for the Public Broadcast Laboratory on bias in television network news. He also is the author of "The People Machine," an examination of television news.

One result of television defense against these attacks, said MacNeil, is that "it tends to throw up a bit of a smokescreen to hide its well-documented shortcomings."

TV EXECS GRILLED

The President's Commission on Crime and Violence, impeded after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has been questioning television executives about violence in both news and entertainment programs.

The House Investigations subcommittee is collecting material on television's coverage of the Democratic convention in preparation for hearings next year. One committee member, Rep.

John Dingell, D-Mich., was quoted in Broadcasting magazine as saying, "The most charitable thing I can say about the convention coverage is that it was handled very poorly. Either it was biased or it was handled with such extraordinary incompetence to give that impression."

The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, in whose province broadcasting falls, is said to be preparing a report on the convention coverage.

The Senate Communications subcommittee is planning hearings on the fairness doctrine and on the relationship between television and crime and violence in American life. It seems certain that news coverage will be taken up.

HUNDREDS OF COMPLAINTS

The FCC, noting that it had received "hundreds of complaints," asked the networks in September to explain their coverage.

In addition, a federal grand jury in Chicago and the attorney general of Illinois are conducting investigations.

Another investigation is that of the agricultural subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee. It is looking into the CBS documentary "Hunger in America." FBI agents on loan and the subcommittee questioned sources of the documentary and reportedly probed the "motive" of CBS in airing the film. When it was first shown May 21, Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman denounced it as a distortion.

Many in television argue that the public is not dissatisfied with television but with what television reports.

'VIEWER IS SHAKEN'

Reuben Frank, president of NBC News, writing in TV Guide, says what the viewer "has seen on television has shaken him physically and morally, made him fear for his safety, his sayings, his children, his status. The world as reported by television threatens him. It is a short and understandable step for him to conclude that television threatens him. Television has become the object of what psychoanalysts call transference."

A. William Bleum, a professor of broadcast journalism at its way toward the U.S. Syracuse University and a former editor of the quarterly of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, suggested that broadcasting we're in such a nervous state in our society is that we've been exposed to too much reality for too long too intensively.

Television is partly responsible for that. It's overloaded with the problems of our society.

The outcome of the public disaffection and government intervention is impossible to forecast. However, one possible, and partial, solution is working of fairness doctrine rules are unconstitutional. The decision also suggested that broadcasting have the same constitutional rights to freedom of the press as newspapers and magazines. Suggests MacNeil: "This industry is so powerful that if it would simply gird up its loins and ignore some of the critics and establish a reputation for not being amenable to pressure, it would deserve the huge role it now has in journalism."

"If the reaction to Chicago tends to make television more timid than bold, that would be the pity."

The famous cliff dwellings at Mesa Verde National Park, Colo., were occupied by Indians from about A.D. 1 to the 13th century.

Romney Adviser Gets Court Post

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney found a spot for another member of his outgoing administration today, naming his legal adviser, Robert J. Danhof, to a vacancy on the 12-member State Court of Appeals. Danhof, 43, a west Michigan native and a Romney aide for six years, succeeds Judge Thomas Giles Kavanagh in the $32,500-a-year Appeals Court post. Kavanagh was elected to the State Supreme Court Nov. 5,

The Biafran leader said that despite the 18-month-old civil war, there is still a wide area of "great mutual advantage" between Nigerians and Biafrans. Peace talks, he said, could cover many subjects including economic relations "and even the possibility of a commonwealth arrangement."

Okujwu said the federal forces have gained no territory since September.

Biafra Asks Nigerians for Limited Truce

UMUAHIA, Biafra (AP)—The leader of secessionist Biafra, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Okujwu, has called for a limited truce in the Nigerian civil war to allow delivery of relief supplies and possibly open the way for peace. Okujwu proposed in a New Year's Eve broadcast that federal Nigeria and the breakaway eastern region join in a cease-fire and negotiations without preconditions.

Car Owner Had Better Idea...

ATLANTA (UPI) — Virlyn Motes decided he'd had enough troubles with his 1967 Ford so he buried it in his front lawn New Year's Day while several grim Ford representatives looked on.

"Now I ask you, where is Mr. Ford's better idea?" said the suburban Atlanta cosmetics salesman in a formal note announcing the burial.

Motes, 40, decided to bury the car just after he had a new motor installed at a cost of $688 last November. It was the last straw, he said, when the company refused to guarantee the new motor indefinitely.

So, shortly after 2 p.m. Wednesday, up rolled a bulldozer rented at $25 an hour which gulped out an 8 foot wide, 20 foot long, "car deep" hole in Motes' lawn.

MANY SMILES

The Motes opened the door of the dark green Galaxie for the last time, solemnly seated himself behind the wheel while at least two area Ford representatives stared.

Motes pushed the gear lever into reverse and carefully backed the car down a dirt embankment into the hole, stopping it in the gravesite and slipping out. He placed a large plastic drop cloth on the vehicle and taped on its windshield the car's bill of sale.

Some 50 spectators looked on in the freezing weather, many smiling.

From the grave he told a television crew: "I did this for safety. The Ford Motor Co. won't guarantee me that this new engine I've had put in the car won't lock up. It's a hazard and I don't think the car should be on the road."

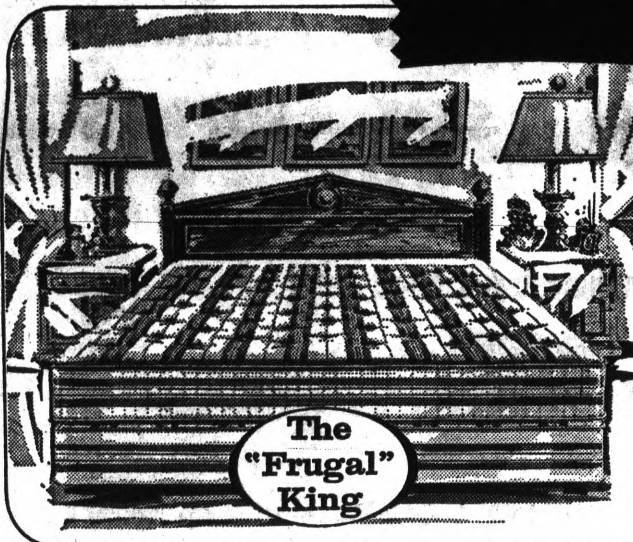

John Schamerhorn, regional public relations representative for Ford, said Motes had not maintained the car according to its warranty when the first engine locked and that it would be impossible to guarantee any piece of equipment under unknown future use.

Legislative Inertia Keeps N-Pact on Sidelines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When President Johnson sent the nuclear nonproliferation treaty to the Senate last July, heralding it as the greatest disarmament step in history, few had any reason to believe ratification would be anything but prompt and routine.

There was practically no controversy. Only marginal opposition had developed, mostly from a small group of rigorous anti-Communists — and even that was not as noisy as usual. Only two years before, the Senate had passed a resolution 84 to 0 urging Johnson to negotiate the treaty he was now submitting.

But somewhere along the way the treaty, designed to discourage more countries from acquiring the bomb, has become trapped in a whirlpool of legislative inertia caused by the presidential election and the transfer of power to a new administration.

Almost no one opposes it. But it has not been ratified and no one can say for certain when it will be.

EMBARRASSING

The Senate is in the embarrassing position of holding up for six months a treaty it requested. And the administration is trying to explain the delay to the allies whose arms had been twisted for support at Geneva.

Foreign signatories to the pact may have difficulty understanding why.

When hearings were conducted last summer, few members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee lodged any major objection. There was some grumbling that the treaty was worth less than the paper it was written on because of the untried inspection functions of the infant IAEA others contended it would perpetuate and expand the unwanted U.S. role of the free world's protector. And some questioned whether the treaty's requirement of peaceful nuclear sharing would force the nation to provide an unlimited subsidy to industry abroad.

ONLY 3 OPPONENTS

But only three senators indicated they would vote against the treaty on its merits. They contended the Soviet attitude toward such treaties in the past has been to disregard them whenever the Kremlin's self-interest dictates.

Compared to the intense controversy over the 1963 nuclear test ban treaty, which barred atmospheric nuclear explosions, the nonproliferation treaty has virtually escaped concerted opposition.

Why, then, hasn't it been ratified?

For one thing, it was sent to Capitol Hill in midsummer to an adjournment-minded Congress which was having difficulty keeping its members in town because of the coming election.

LACKED THRUST

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was in Arkansas battling for his political life. No one else seemed able to give it the necessary thrust and the treaty foundered in committee until the Senate recessed for the August political conventions.

Then came the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, frosting East West relations and causing many treaty supporters to call for a delay in ratification until the crisis had passed.

Among these was Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon. Senate leaders decided not to risk defeat of the pact by embroiling it in partisan politics, so the Senate adjourned in October without acting.

Johnson threatened to call the Senate back in special session but abandoned hopes of ratification before Nixon is inaugurated Jan. 20 because of session-opening problems that clog the legislative machinery almost as badly as at adjournment.

Now, Senate leaders have all but abandoned hopes of

U.S. Combat Toll Hits 10-Week Low

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat forces were the highest in 13 weeks. The two commands reported 1,335 Vietcong and North Vietnamese killed, an average claim.

Nixon to Undergo Routine Checkup

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Nixon gets his first thorough physical examination in 14 months today. A spokesman described it as a routine checkup.

Nixon is seeing Dr. John Lungren of Long Beach, his long-time personal physician, for an examination expected to last about 3½ hours. Lungren traveled with the president-elect during the campaign and said then the candidate's health was excellent.

Press assistant Ronald L. Ziegler said the visit to Lungren was routine. He said Nixon has such a checkup about once a year.

Nixon was to drop in later at a luncheon honoring Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch of California, who is to be his secretary of health, education and welfare.

WELCOME HOME

Tonight, the president-elect and his wife will go to Anaheim for what is billed as a welcome home to his native Orange County. That is being held at the arena of the Anaheim Convention Center, and it apparently will amount to a testimonial rally.

Football fan Nixon went to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena Wednesday, watched Ohio State University defeat the University of Southern California, and said both were great teams.

"A great game," Nixon said.

He said USC mistakes—a rash of second-half fumbles and interceptions—made the difference.

The score: Ohio State 27, USC 16. "They were a little better, just a little, a little stronger in the line," Nixon said of Ohio State's Buckeyes.

MAINTAINS NEUTRALITY

But Nixon maintained his neutrality. "I'm happy because Ohio State is happy," he said. "I'm sad because Southern California is sad."

Nixon had a football analyst at his side, former Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, a friend and political ally. Their wives sat beside them.

At halftime, as Nixon and his party walked across the field from the Ohio State to the Southern California stands, Mrs. Nixon posed for photographs with the Rose Bowl queen.

"Two queens," Nixon said, smiling.

He traveled to and from the Rose Bowl by Marine helicopter, landing on a golf course beside the stadium. Back at the Century Plaza Hotel, he stopped to chat about the game with firemen on duty for his landing, and said an 80-yard touchdown run by Southern California's O.J. Simpson was a classic.

Later, the Nixons, the Wilkinsons and Finch had dinner at a Japanese restaurant in the hotel.

The weekly casualty report covered Christmas cease-fires proclaimed by the allies and the Vietcong.

U.S. headquarters said the American toll last week was the lowest since the week of Oct. 20-26 when 109 died.

MORE WOUNDED

The number of wounded last week increased over the previous week, however. Spokesmen said 1,021 Americans were wounded last week, with 429 of them hospitalized, while in the previous week the total was 838.

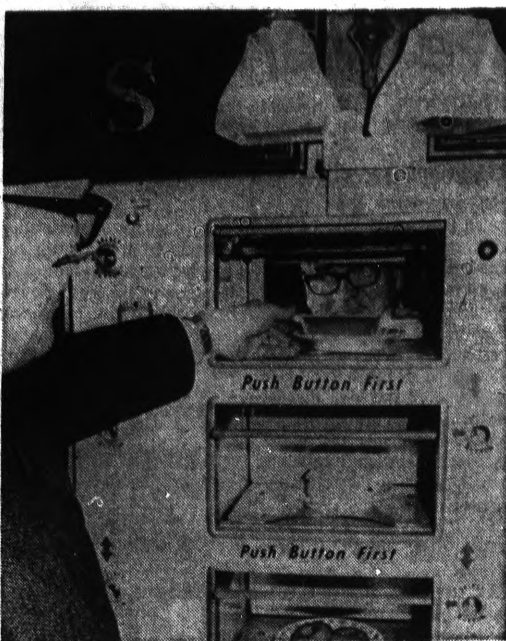

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that 279 government military personnel were killed last week, a sharp rise over the 202 reported for in the previous seven-day period. The toll was the highest since the week ending Oct. 5 when 322 South Vietnamese were reported killed in action.

Another 901 South Vietnamese were wounded last week, and 37 were listed as missing.

The figure of 2,135 enemy killed was certain to rise as it does every week when more reports are received. The summary today said the total of 2,118 enemy killed, which was previously reported for the week of Dec. 15-21 had now increased to 2,236.

The report raised to 30,543 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, U.S. headquarters reported. It said the American wounded in that period total 192,327, and 429,848 enemy have been killed.

Texas is the only state recognized as an independent republic by Congress before its admission to the Union.

END OF AN ERA — Serving one of the last slices of pie to go through the window in the nation's first Automat restaurant in Philadelphia, is Ralph MacNeil, an official of Horn & Hardart, which closed the restaurant this week. The closing was blamed on its present-day inefficiency and slowness.

Filipino Questions Need of U.S. Defense Bases

MANILA (AP) — The new Philippine foreign secretary, Carlos R. Romulo, said today it might be necessary some day to do away with the mutual defense treaties under which the United States maintains bases in the islands.

"In the face of changing needs," Romulo said, the presence of U.S. military bases in the country and the existence of mutual defense treaties might be found to be "inflexible."

"It may then be found necessary to shorten the life of these agreements or do away with them as expeditiously as we can," he declared.

A veteran diplomat who is heading the foreign office for the second time, Romulo also has served as president of the U.N. General Assembly and as ambassador to Washington. He succeeded Narciso Ramos, who retired.

Romulo spoke at a ceremony marking his return to the foreign office.

He called for the Philippines to abandon its "small nation thinking" and said relations with allies—including the United States, Britain and Australia—

Fire Kills Man

TAWAS CITY (AP) — A New Year's Eve fire destroyed a house in nearby Alabaster Township, killing Duncan McDonald. Police said McDonald was in his 70s or 80s and lived alone.

'Model T Efficiency'

1st Automat Closes Its Doors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — America's first Automat, which has served breakfast, lunch, dinner and a mess of nickel coffee breaks to some 50 million customers in 66 years, is a victim of modern times.

Horn and Hardart Baking Co. opened the original coin-operated restaurant in 1902 to provide clean and efficient food service. It folded last weekend because it was a museum piece, inefficient and slow, in a computerized world.

"We took this step most reluctantly from the standpoint of nostalgia," said Nelson G. Harris, the new H&H president. "We have to be realistic. The Automat in its existing form meets the requirements of this space age about as well as a Model T alongside the Apollo 8."

At the peak of its popularity, before and after World War II, the business founded in 1888 by Joseph V. Horn and Frank Hardart operated 32 Automats. Now there are two left in Philadelphia, and eight in New York City.

'UNECONOMICAL'

"They are not really automatic," said Harris. "And definitely uneconomical to maintain and staff."

Fresh food must be placed into the slotted compartments by people behind the equipment.

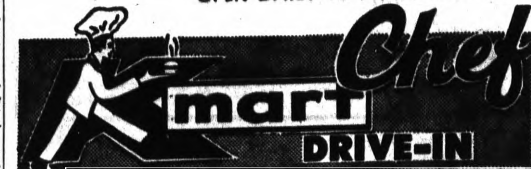

Customers open the glass display doors to get at the items they want by dropping in coins and twisting knobs.

It was used years ago as a setting for movies. Songs were written about it, and it was the butt of many jokes.

The original Automat, its mechanical equipment imported from Germany, was a tourist attraction, situated two blocks from historic Independence Hall.

Comedian Jimmy Durante got big laughs when he said, "I put a slug in a slot at the Automat and what do you think came out?—the manager."

Michigan Man Devises a New Calendar

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Any holidays fall in the middle of the week. With all due respects to Julius Caesar, whose Julian calendar was instituted in 46 B.C., and millions of Americans — when named after Pope Gregory XIII, Charles H. Single of Ann Arbor thinks it is time for a change.

Single, a computer engineer, has come up with a calendar —

AP Wirephoto

SURPRISED PARENTS — Helen and Stanley Miller get acquainted with their new daughter in a Queens, N.Y., hospital yesterday after the child was delivered shortly after midnight. The birth was a complete surprise to the Bronx couple, who said they didn't even know Mrs. Miller was pregnant.

Mrs. Miller left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well — a gall bladder attack, she thought. "Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made. "Especially my husband." The Millers have been married for years and have no other children.

aided by his computer — which has all holidays falling on the last day or the first day of the week.

Single calls it the "13 by 28 plus 1 calendar." The calendar has 13 months, each with 28 days, with an extra day in the normal year and two extra days on leap year. The calendar is universal for each month, starting on Tuesdays.

Surprisingly, the Single calendar would cause little change in traditional holidays celebrated. Good Friday and Easter would be on their same day and date with the new calendar.

Because the Single calendar has only 364 days, the computer engineer has added a "wild card day," called New Year's Day. It is not a regular day nor does it have a date. It is a 24 hour respite between Dec. 28 and Jan. 1. In Leap Year there would be two such days, designated like "X" instead of a regular date.

Under the Single calendar, every legal holiday would result in a three day weekend.

Because of the improved business efficiency achieved by the new calendar, an additional holiday, "New Year's Eve," Dec. 28, is proposed. This gives it a minimum of five days off between Christmas and Jan. 1, on Leap Year it would be six days.

REMINGTON REMEMBERED

Artist Frederic Remington lived through, observed and recorded, in paintings, drawings and sculptures, the last stages of the "Old West."

He was born in Canton, New York, in 1861. By the time he died in 1909, he had shared first-hand the adventures and life of action of soldiers, Indians and cowpokes—"the wild riders and the vacant lands." His representations of this world and era are prized today not only for their superb craftsmanship but also because they show a unique historical record of outstanding liveliness, accuracy and sympathy.

Few artists have equalled Remington in his self-taught ability to document on canvas, or in bronze, the mood and action of the west's horse and rider. And his goal was a fusion of fine art and documentary representation.

His work is now more sought after by museums and collectors than that of any other American artist. Out in Cody, Wyoming, the Whitney Gallery of Western Art, a wing of the Buffalo Bill Historical Center, displays a magnificent collection of his works and personal possessions, including the entire contents of his studio at the time of Remington's death. Other museums such as the Amon Carter Museum in Fort Worth and the Thomas Gilcrease Museum in Tulsa, Okla., feature Remington's efforts.

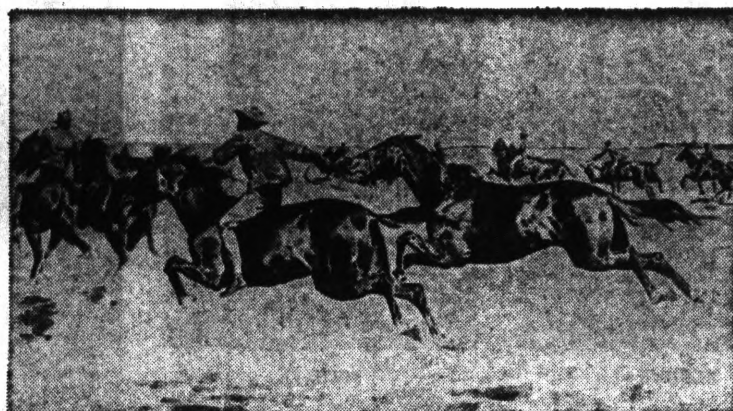

Another valuable collection of Remington's art graces the walls of the famous "21" restaurant in mid-town Manhattan. Originally collected by the late Jack Kriendler, the Remington documentaries are now the devoted interest of his brother, "21" host-owner Peter Kriendler, himself a trustee of the Buffalo Bill Historical Center. Shown on this page are some of Remington's works from the collection.

"At the Bloody Ford of San Juan"—1898

"21" restaurateur Peter Kriendler explains a point about Remington's "The Cheyenne," a bronze done in 1901. The portrait is of the late Jack Kriendler, originator of the art collection.

"With the Regulars at Fort Tampa, Florida"—1898

"The Romantic Adventure of Old Sun's Wife"—1891

"Self-Portrait: Fishing Through the Ice with Guide"—1890

Remington's own favorite sculpture—"The Rattlesnake"

"Dismounted: The Fourth Troopers Moving"—1898

It's Back to Packing Lunch Boxes for Hungry Scholars

By JANET ODELL

Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

If the children aren't back in school today, they will be by Monday. And while that means that mothers can get back into their normal routine, it also means packing lunches.

This kind of weather definitely calls for hot food. It can be soup, stew, chili, baked beans or spaghetti. It can be food prepared just for lunch boxes or leftovers from dinner.

New thermos bottles with polypropylene jackets will keep the youngsters' food hot and cut down on breakage. These new, rust-proof, dent-proof bottles come in three designs and three sizes. All are made by Alladin Industries, Inc.

You might fill one of these new thermos containers with Turkey Rice Soup.

TURKEY RICE SOUP

2 cups cooked, cubed turkey
 1/4 cup diced onions
 1/4 cup minced parsley
 1/2 cup diced celery
 1/2 cup diced carrots

1 1/2 quarts chicken bouillon
 Pinch of white pepper
 1/4 teaspoon ground marjoram
 1/4 teaspoon ground rosemary
 Grated parmesan cheese

Combine all the ingredients except the cheese. Heat to boiling. Cover soup and simmer for 25 minutes or until rice and vegetables are tender. Serve soup sprinkled with cheese. Yield: About 7 cups.

If you can wean the small fry away from the daily peanut butter and jelly sandwich, they might get to like one of the following combinations.

Do you vary the kind of bread you use for sandwiches? Ever try two different kinds in one sandwich?

CHICKEN SALAD SANDWICHES

1 cup chopped cooked chicken
 1/2 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles

1/4 cup chopped celery
 2 tablespoons chopped nuts
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 Salt and pepper to taste
 Crisp lettuce
 6 slices white bread, buttered

Mix together chicken, pickles, celery, nuts, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Assemble sandwiches with chicken filling, lettuce and bread. For lunch box, wrap in foil or plastic wrap. Makes 3 sandwiches.

Variation: Add two slices of spread for sandwiches. Makes crisp bacon to each sandwich.

CREAM CHEESE OLIVE AND NUT SPREAD

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
 3 tablespoons milk
 1/2 cup chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Combine all ingredients and stir until well blended. Use spread for sandwiches. Makes 1 1/2 cups spread.

SPANISH OLIVE BOLOGNA SPREAD

1/2 pound bologna, finely chopped
 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 1/4 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/2 teaspoon celery seed

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Use as a spread to make sandwiches. Makes 1 1/2 cups spread.

shortening, sugar and egg. Blend in molasses. Blend in flour resifted with soda, salt and spices. Mix in raisins. Chill dough.

Shape dough into small balls and roll in additional sugar, if desired. Place on lightly greased baking sheet.

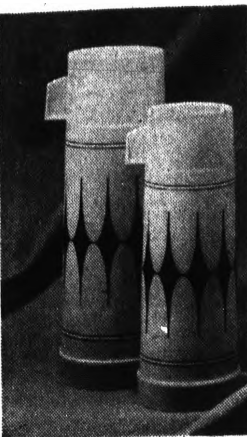

Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Remove to cooling rack. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Little packets of raisins are always good to put into lunch boxes. But save a few raisins for these spicy molasses cookies.

COUNTRY RAISIN GINGERSNAPS

1 1/2 cups seedless raisins
 3/4 cup shortening
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1/4 cup molasses
 2 1/4 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons soda
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ginger
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon cloves

Chop raisins. Beat together

MARKET BASKET

FOR THE LUNCH BOX — A green pickle-shaped lunch kit would advertise to the world you are a pickle lover. But you can't eat the kit — try instead a chicken salad sandwich made delightfully spicy by the addition of sweet fresh cucumber pickles.

Bit of Lemon Is Nice in Cake

Unlike many apple sauce cakes, this one is flavorful with cinnamon but not spicy. It is crusty, crunchy and with the texture of a colonial poundcake.

ALL AMERICAN APPLE SAUCE CAKE

1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1 cup sugar
 1 egg
 2 cups sifted all purpose flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 cup apple sauce
 1/4 cup chopped walnuts
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cream butter or margarine and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients. Add to batter alternately with the apple sauce. Stir in walnuts, lemon juice and rind.

Spoon mixture evenly into a greased and floured 1 1/2 quart loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until a cake tester comes out dry. Turn out on a cake rack.

Sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar or glaze with confectioners sugar frosting, made by stirring 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice into 1/4 cup confectioners sugar.

How Many? One 5th bottle of dinner wine will give a generous portion for 6 guests... more for 4. Store any unused portion in the refrigerator.

Nobody, But Nobody Serves Just Plain Hamburger

Hamburgers rate more American votes than any other food. In fact the young often are accused of liking little else. Actually every age group enjoys hamburgers — with good reason — and reasons.

Meat ground from tough cuts offers exceptional flavor. The fat adds juiciness. And after grinding, the beef may be broiled, fried, or baked—speedy preparation methods that are easy on the cook.

Depending upon family preference (and the scores in the slimming contests), meat with very little fat may be chosen. Butcher-prepared ground beef contains the most; flank steak (sometimes called London broil), the least.

To avoid dryness, if you choose flank steak, have a bit of flavorful fat — kidney or beef marrow — ground with it. Shoulder beef (chuck), striking a happy medium, offers good flavor and a judicious quantity of fat.

Although hamburgers are not as haute cuisine as Faisan sous Cloche, they have been given the culinary accolade — French acceptance — as evidenced by the hamburger heavens that have sprung up all over Paris.

GO HIGH CLASS

Just as a diamond necklace makes an inexpensive dress look like a million, so do deluxe accompaniments elevate the status of le petit pate de boeuf. If it is served with a knife and fork — the British manner of tackling a hamburger — it can certainly be considered baronial.

Modern Way With Cheese, Wine Told

Cheese and wine are perfect partners for entertaining in the modern mode as described in Kraft Foods' new booklet and dramatically depicted in a series of party room settings.

The cover of the booklet is a colorful cheese and wine wheel which describes a variety of cheese types and matches them with complementary wines.

The booklet, a 4-page guide to serving cheese and wine, is designed in tent-fashion so that the wheel might be used as a centerpiece of a party table. It is handsomely printed in wine and cheese colors — burgundy and orange.

HELPS PLANNING

The back page of the booklet gives detailed plans for staging a cheese and wine tasting gala where a variety of cheese is paired with a sampling of wines.

A handy chart takes the mystery out of serving cheese with wine, offering a guide to temperature (cheese should always be served at room temperature), tips on serving delicately flavored cheese with lighter wines, and quantities required per person.

The booklet also contains suggestions for cheese boards for all occasions. There is a guide to the selection of cheese for party service, as well as a buying guide for the amount of cheese required for various trays.

For a cheese board there should be a variety of shapes, textures and flavors. Tips on cutting and serving are also offered.

To guide the selection of wines to serve with cheese, there is a short guide and description of American wines, classifying them into six general categories.

Readers may obtain a copy of Kraft's Cheese & Wine booklet by writing The Kraft Kitchens, Room 334, 410 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60611.

Many Eat Fish on Christmas Eve

Fish, an ancient symbol of Christianity, plays an important role on Christmas Eve when the long Christian fast of Advent is traditionally climaxed with a splendid seafood dinner.

After attending midnight mass, Parisians start their holiday celebration with the "Reveillon"—a light supper of beautifully mounted, cold salmon, turbot, fish mousses and oysters, accompanied by the driest, chilled champagne.

Our good beef is royal indeed, and its excellence means no complicated sauces are needed for embellishment. Nor do we in our meat-rich land have to pad the beef with bread crumbs or rice, or extend it with pasta.

But luxury accessories can be made for the diamond necklace for the relatively inexpensive hamburger. There's chutney for one. For a change, try the delectable variety that contains nuts, or the new, from-England, onion chutney. Specialty food shops and delicacy departments of fine stores offer an impressive array of superb accompaniments that will make hamburgers for dinner an experience in distinctive dining. • For intriguing color and flavor contrast, investigate the plump Calamata olives from Greece, shining in their bath of virgin olive oil. • Hot pickled pepper rings. • Just a little work produces a delectable hamburger accompaniment. Simply rob the bar of its jar of cocktail onions. Crush and marinate for about 15 minutes in French dressing with imported French freeze-dried mushroom slices. Serve drained. To make the world's most distinguished hamburger (call circle each, a la filet mignon, it Hachis de Boeuf au Truffles with smoked southern bacon. Blanc), combine with a pound Secure bacon strips with wood of ground beef, the liquid from en picks and broil until a 1-ounce can of white truffles. browned. Turn and sprinkle top Season with salt and freshly of each patty with a teaspoon ground black pepper. of truffles, chopped fine. Continue broiling until done.

Movie 'Bad Guy' Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Veteran character actor Barton MacLane, the "bad guy" in more than 150 movies and dozens of television shows, died of double pneumonia Wednesday at St. John's hospital here.

MacLane, 66, was admitted to the hospital two weeks ago after completing a role in the television comedy series "I Dream of Jeannie," in which he played an Air Force general.

During his 35-year acting career he appeared in such films as "Treasure of Sierra Madre," "San Quentin," "The Prince and the Showgirl," "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye," "Bugles in the Afternoon," "Sea of Lost Ships," and "Thunderbirds."

He was born on Christmas Day, 1902, in Columbia, S.C., and was graduated from Wesleyan University. He later attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and began his film career in 1933 with a role as a football player in "Quarterback."

MacLane is survived by his widow, former actress Charlotte Wynters; a son, William; a daughter, Martha; two sisters, Mrs. Ann Yost and Mrs. Rebecca Robbins and two brothers, Oscar and Andrew. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Detroit Sets New Record for Homicides

DETROIT (AP) — Homicides in Detroit reached a record 423 last year, and police experts said they were convinced the increase was due in part to the expanding gun purchases by residents since the 1967 riot.

Last year, more than 12,000 handguns were registered by police, compared with 6,028 in 1966.

After the July 1967 riots, the gun registrations began increasing and by the end of the year totaled 9,988, a 66 per cent increase over 1966.

Inspector Jark Shoemaker, head of the police record bureau, said there are an estimated 320,000 handguns in Detroit and residents have at least one million firearms.

HOMICIDE FIGURES

The number of homicides was almost twice as much as the 235 deaths Detroit had from traffic accidents last year.

Eighty per cent of the homicides last year were committed by people who knew their victims, police records show.

Most were committed during moments of anger, and most were committed in homes or bars.

The most recent figures show that about 60 per cent of Detroit homicides were committed by Negroes against Negroes. About 11 per cent were committed by blacks against whites.

Multiple-Death Fires Start '69

5 Killed in Alabama; Four Die in Kentucky

By the Associated Press
New Year's Day fires claimed a number of lives around the nation including five persons in one Alabama blaze and a father and three daughters in Kentucky.

Eli Clayton, 32, a service station employee and four of his children died when their home in York, Ala., burned. Mrs. Clayton and three other children escaped.

The fire also consumed another house but its occupants all escaped unharmed.

At Somerset, Ky., Paul D. Smith fled his home after coals popped from a fireplace and started a blaze but he learned three of his daughters were inside and returned. Smith and the three girls died.

An early morning fire claimed the lives of three small children in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Whitebody at Minot, N.D. The couple saved one son when the mother tossed the boy to the father from a second story window.

At Winfield, Kan., Delores Elston returned early New Year's morning from her hospital job and found her mother, Leona Palmer, 72, and her 6-year-old daughter, Loretta, dead of fumes from an unvented gas heating stove. Six other children overcome by the fumes were revived.

Teachers Vow to Stay on Job

GIBRALTAR (UPI) — Gibraltar teachers, who sparked the longest school strike in Michigan history by walking out of the classroom Nov. 13 and returning the day after Christmas, now contend they won't be budged from their teaching duties.

A court order reopened the schools during the Christmas holiday in order to qualify them for state aid. A 180-day period of instruction from the holidays through June 30 was a requirement for the state funds.

Although the court order did not extend beyond the holiday, "the teachers will report to work as usual Jan. 6 unless locked out by the board," said John Sczew, president of the Gibraltar Federation of Teachers.

Metro Airport on Schedule

Other Unions Cross Hotel Workers' Lines

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Metropolitan Airport maintained its flight schedules for all eight airlines Wednesday, despite a strike by 550 hotel and restaurant employees.

An official close to the negotiations said other union members crossed the picket lines rather than shut down the major airport serving the Detroit metropolitan area.

Members of Local 705 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union struck at midnight Tuesday after they failed to reach agreement with Host International on a new contract.

Negotiations broke off Wednesday, but Thomas Tupner, president of the Wayne County AFL-CIO Council, said he planned to meet today with the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates Metro, to try to renew talks.

INTERVENTION SEEN

Mort Furray, president of Local 705, said "I don't think the road commission is going to allow this dilly-dally much longer."

All snack bars, liquor bars and dining rooms were closed by the strike. Supervisory personnel were keeping open the 200-room International Inn, which Host operates, and were seeing that the regular in-flight meals were provided airlines.

The hotel and restaurant union also noted that an expired contract with Detroit's nine hotels would be extended from midnight Tuesday on a day-to-day basis. About 2,000 union members are employed at the hotels.

Officials Search for Mexican DC3

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — A search is under way for a chartered Mexican DC3 missing since Tuesday with 22 passengers and four crew members aboard.

Airport authorities at Tampico said the plane was carrying employees of the Mexican government oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos, from Reynosa to a New Year's holiday in Tampico. Radio communication with the aircraft was lost shortly after it took off from Reynosa, on the U.S. border opposite McAllen, Tex.

U.S. Cuts U-D Legal Aid Program Funds

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit Urban Law program, a pioneer in providing free legal aid to the poor has had its federal funds cut off.

"We're frankly pretty disgusted," said Donald Murch, the program's executive director.

"We're not going to go down easily. We think they have been vague and flippant about this," he said in reference to federal officials.

"When we asked them if our good performance didn't count, they said, 'Not at all.'"

PROGRAMS DOOMED

The sudden withdrawal of funds could close the Urban Law Clinic run through the program, leave 300 court cases hanging and force the cancellation in midyear of the school's clinic studies course, in which law students get credit for working at the clinic.

Among the accomplishments of the program are passage by the State Legislature last summer of five tenants' rights bills which were researched, drawn up and lobbied for by the program.

In 1967, the program brought suit against utilities companies, forcing them to eliminate or reduce deposits required of low-income customers.

The program is now involved in mapping out proposed reforms in state welfare laws.

VARIED AID

In addition, the law clinic represents the poor in cases involving tenants' rights, employee grievances, consumer fraud, extradition, welfare rights and juvenile offenses.

"The only thing that bothered us," said Murch, "is that it being funded. It happened out of a clear blue sky, just when we've made a major accomplishment with the something's wrong someplace," tenants' rights legislation and he added.

Clean Water Bond Issue Gets Study on Spending

LANSING (UPI) — A special House Committee studying promises," he said, "the committee has been considering water pollution bond issue legislation which would give assistance only to communities which have an existing problem of water pollution that could be solved by building sewers and

Under consideration is a measure that would give $285 million of the state funds to local communities to finance 50 per cent of the cost of building sewage treatment plants.

The second measure would provide $50 million to local units for assistance in construction of lateral sewers.

Rep. Raymond J. Smit, R-Ann Arbor, committee chairman, said earlier this week the $50 million is not enough to finance all lateral sewers needed by 1980 so a system of priorities must be worked out.

Smit said two approaches for giving out the money are under study. The first would provide low interest loans to local units. The other would give grants to communities with high construction costs but a low tax base.

Smit said final recommendations will be submitted to the legislature following a final committee meeting Jan. 7.

Pork Gives Protein to Daily Diet

The nutrients that pork provides give homemakers ample reason for including it in the diet.

A three ounce serving gives a moderately active man about 33 per cent of his daily protein needs plus 50 per cent of his thiamine needs, U.S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists report.

Pork and pork products are highly perishable. Tight store wrappings keep air out.

Consequently, it should be re-wrapped loosely with waxed paper for home storage so that air will slightly dry the surface and retard growth of spoilage organisms. It can be stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator if scheduled for use within 1 or 2 days.

When freezing, use within 3 to 6 months considering that the smaller pieces like ground pork are in best condition after a short storage time.

Ground pork can give a lift to weary menus, especially with a hint of herbs or spices such as nutmeg, fennel or oregano. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service suggests:

PORK BALLS WITH RAISIN NOODLES

Combine 1½ pounds ground pork with 1½ cups bread cubes, ¼ cup minced onion; 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon nutmeg and ½ teaspoon each salt and pepper. Form into 1-inch balls, roll in flour and brown slowly in hot fat.

Remove pork balls from fat and make a gravy from drippings using bouillon for liquid and Worcestershire sauce and onion salt for seasoning. Simmer pork balls in thickened gravy about 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, cook spinach noodles in salted water until tender. Drain and add plumped raisins. Serve pork balls and gravy over raisin noodles.

Jelly Peeks Through Hole

Cream cheese pastry tarts are pretty to look at and so good!

JELLY TARTS

½ cup (¼ pound stick) butter, at room temperature
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, at room temperature
½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups sifted regular flour
½ cup (about) red currant jelly
1½ teaspoons sugar mixed with ½ teaspoon cinnamon

In a medium mixing bowl cream together the butter, cream cheese and vanilla. Gradually stir in the flour, working it in to form a smooth dough. Cover and chill.

Divide into 2 equal portions. On a prepared pastry cloth with a prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one portion to a thin 12-inch round. (Keep other portion of dough refrigerated.)

Using a 2½-inch doughnut cutter (with center removed), cut out rounds; reroll leavings of dough and cut out; there should be 12 rounds altogether. Spread a little less than 1 teaspoon of jelly over each of these rounds, but do not spread to edge.

Roll out remaining portion of dough the same way, but this time use the doughnut cutter with the center in to make 12 doughnut shape rounds. Place these on top of the jelly-spread rounds, adding the leftover jelly to the centers.

Sprinkle with sugar-cinnamon mixture, but not over jelly centers. Bake in a 400-degree oven until lightly browned — 15 to 20 minutes. (Cinnamon tops will look very brown.) Makes 2 dozen.

Let Fruit Chill in Wine for Hour

Marinate cubed fresh and canned fruit, for example, in Rhine Wine, Sauterne or Tawny Port for one hour in a refrigerator. (Three cups of fruit in ½-cup wine will serve six.) Another trick is to add a little Solera Sherry to each dish of pineapple chunks.

Or you can soak prunes, which have been washed thoroughly, overnight in Burgundy. Then cook till tender in this wine. Add sugar just before removing from the fire.

Sour cream left over? You can add it, instead of water or other liquid, to a confectioners' sugar frosting.

Everyone makes mistakes in bidding and play. One test of a good player is his ability to recover from them.

East's ace of diamonds took the first trick. South falsecarded with the eight. He had nothing to lose by this since the eight and five were equals. East played the nine of diamonds at trick two and South played the jack. West was in with the queen and started to think.

While West was thinking, South noticed that he had made a serious mistake. He could have ensured his contract by rising with his king of diamonds at trick two and going after hearts. He could lose the heart finesse and relax.

If East held a third diamond then West could not hold more than two more and three diamond tricks and a heart would not beat him. If West had started with five diamonds East would not have another diamond to lead.

Eventually West led the queen of spades. By this time South had worked out a line of play to make up for his carelessness at trick two. He let the queen hold. West continued with the jack and South let that card old also. At this point a club shift by West would have defeated the contract but West played a third spade and South was able to make the hand with a Vienna coup.

He cashed three spades and the king of diamonds and discarded four hearts from dummy. East had to make three discards. The first was a club, the second a heart, the third impossible. He could not afford to throw another club and so let a heart go.

Now South led a heart to dummy's ace, dropping East's king. He returned to his hand with the ace of clubs in order to cash his 10 of hearts. Dummy's king and queen of clubs were then good for the last two tricks.

Today is Thursday, Jan. 2, the second day of 1968 with 363 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1776 Continental soldiers raised the first flag of forces under George Washington at Cambridge, Mass.

In 1882 fashion writers noted that Parisian Designer Worth said the flair for spring would be "stuffed birds, worn on the left shoulder."

In 1905 Russian forces landed at Port Arthur, Manchuria, surrendered to the Japanese and ended the last major military engagement in the Russo-Japanese war.

In 1959 Moscow Radio announced a cosmic rocket had been launched toward the moon.

First Detroit Baby of '69 Is Early Bird

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. James Thomas of Detroit gave birth to the first baby of 1969 in the Detroit area at 12:02 a.m. Wednesday in Providence Hospital.

The infant, an eight-pound, 10-ounce boy, and mother were reported doing fine.

The father is an employee of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

MANDARIN ORANGE FRITTERS—Any homemaker who wants to "fritter" away some time in the kitchen can do just that—prepare some temptingly delicious, bite-size Japanese Mandarin Orange Fritters, a tasty companion to a whole variety of meat dishes. This wonderful recipe can end the traditional Side-Dish-Dilemma that plagues so many cooks.

Mandarin Oranges In Fritter Batter

If you've ever enjoyed fritters in a restaurant, you already know how they complement meats. Ham, Canadian bacon, veal roasts, assorted poultry entrees are greatly enhanced by a fruited side dish.

And a fritter is a much more inventive accompaniment than a mere mound of mashed potatoes, a serving of rice, or a helping of noodles.

The making of a fritter is simplicity itself — particularly Japanese Mandarin Orange Fritters — because the canned Mandarin orange segments are already peeled, seedless, and just the right size.

For a delicious topping to the fritters and the meat, try your hand at Mandarin Orange Sauce — a tasty blending of ingredients that will become one of your favorite meat-topping recipes.

JAPANESE MANDARIN ORANGE FRITTERS

1 11-oz. can Japanese Mandarin Oranges
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1 cup pancake mix
Oil

Drain Mandarin orange segments, then cut them. Blend egg and milk, stir in pancake mix and Mandarin oranges. Beat lightly. Drop by teaspoonfuls into the hot oil (about one inch deep). Cook until golden brown, about four minutes. Makes about 20 fritters.

Mandarin Orange Sauce
1 11-oz. can Japanese Mandarin Oranges and Syrup
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 cup wine vinegar
1/4 teaspoon Japanese soy sauce

Drain Mandarin orange segments, reserving syrup. Melt butter in skillet and saute celery. Add Mandarin orange syrup and cornstarch, stirring until transparent. Add vinegar, soy sauce and Mandarin segments. Heat. Serve in separate bowl as sauce for fritters.

Cheese, Nuts in Sauce Top for Spinach

"King's Spinach" is so named because it's "fit-for-a-king" food.

If you can't win over non-spinach eaters with this recipe, you might as well give up. One word of caution: Don't overcook the spinach. It should be just tender. Cook it tightly covered over not-too-high heat so that you won't need to add water and so the spinach won't scorch.

The cheese sauce, zipped with mustard and lemon juice, is simply delicious; and the crunchy slivered almonds in the sauce lift this dish to culinary splendor.

King's Spinach

1/2 cup blanched slivered almonds
1/2 teaspoon salad oil
1 lb. fresh spinach
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated process American cheese

Few drops Worcestershire
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Roast almonds in oil in 300-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Wash spinach well and cook in covered saucepan with only the water that clings to leaves.

Meanwhile, melt butter and blend in flour, salt and mustard. Add milk and cook, stirring until sauce is thickened and comes to boil. Add cheese, Worcestershire and lemon juice; cook, stirring over low heat until cheese is melted. Stir in almonds.

Serve this sauce over the hot, drained spinach.

Biscuits Are Base for Little Fish Pizzas

The team won! You'll be a winner, too, if you serve King Crab Pronto Pizzas when the game stops by after the game.

These tasty little pull-off pizzas that don't require cutting can be put together in a jiffy. If you wish, do this before the game and refrigerate them to bake later. Then, while the crowd is gathering, just pop the pizzas in a hot oven.

The pizza crust is made with refrigerated biscuits flattened on a cookie sheet into a rectangle. Over the top goes tomato sauce, a hint of garlic, onion and oregano and two kinds of cheese. The scoring points come, though, in the luscious Alaska King crab that goes over all.

Choose either canned or frozen Alaska King Crab for these tasty snacks. Both are completely cooked and tendon-free. You'll always be on the winning side when you keep a good supply of this colorful seafood on hand for appetizers, salads and casseroles.

KING CRAB PRONTO PIZZA
1 (7 1/2 oz.) can Alaska King crab or 1/2 pound frozen Alaska King crab
2 (8-oz.) packages refrigerated biscuits

1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with bits
1 1/2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
2 slices (3 oz.) Mozzarella cheese, diced

Drain and slice canned crab. Or, defrost, drain and slice frozen crab. With palms of hands, flatten biscuits into 4x3-inch ovals.

On greased baking sheet, arrange 10 biscuits at slight angles to each other in two adjoining rows. Press adjoining edges of biscuits together securely. On another baking sheet, repeat with remaining 10 biscuits.

MAKE SAUCE

Combine tomato sauce, onion, oregano and garlic salt. Spread evenly over pizzas to within 1/2 inch of edges. Sprinkle with 1/4 cup grated sharp cheese and top with Mozzarella cheese.

Arrange sliced Alaska King crab evenly over pizzas. Top with remaining 1/2 cup sharp cheese. Bake in 450-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes, or until edges are golden brown. Makes 2 large pizzas or 20 pull-off pizzas.

Smart Moms Figure Way to Feed Teens

A reason frequently given by teenagers for not eating breakfast is that they do not have time. Often this means that their mothers have been frustrated by a sleepy-head son who gets out of bed just in time to beat the tardy bell — or a daughter who has plenty of time to apply her make-up and fix her hair but not to eat breakfast.

Other mothers have tried the tactic, "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em." They no longer try to have their teenagers sit down with the family for a traditional morning meal. Instead, they have learned to prepare well-balanced breakfasts that can be eaten on the run.

They take comfort from a finding of the Iowa Breakfast Studies that the content of a breakfast is not important so long as it is nutritionally adequate.

A breakfast that will replenish the body's supply of nutrients after the overnight fast and also supply the energy needed to prevent fatigue before the morning is over should contain at least one food from each of the four recommended food groups: fruits and vegetables; meat (including eggs); bread and cereals; and milk.

For a quickie breakfast that meets these requirements try: orange juice; a scrambled or fried egg sandwich in toast or a hamburger bun; and a glass of milk. The orange and milk can be downed very quickly and the egg sandwich, being finger food can even be eaten around the edges of other getting-ready-for-school activities.

Ohio State Earns National Championship

Woody Hayes Calls Win in Rose Bowl 'Greatest'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes heads for Vietnam on Friday with the National Collegiate football championship firmly entrenched in his capable hands.

It will be the fourth goodwill jaunt for the veteran Buckeye mentor who scored his third Rose Bowl victory New Year's Day—an impressive 27-16 decision over Southern California.

The outcome left little doubt that the No. 1-ranked Buckeyes were as good as their press clippings. But Hayes heralded the victory as his most precious in a Rose Bowl clash.

GREATEST WIN

"This is my greatest bowl victory," the jubilant Hayes said afterwards. "After all, both teams were unbeaten."

The dean of Big Ten coaches wasn't ready to call his sophomore-laden club his best ever in an illustrious 18-year career.

"I still consider my 1954 team my greatest," he said. "We had four great backs that year."

Aspiring Southern California, the nation's second-ranked team, stunned the Bucks by opening a 10-0 lead in the second quarter.

Brilliant O. J. Simpson led the first Trojan thrust by gathering in three passes from Steve Sogge for 53 yards. A stout Buckeye defense stiffened on the three and Ron Ayala booted a 21-yard field goal.

Minutes later, Simpson, two-time All-American and Heisman Trophy winner, electrified the 102,063 fans by breaking off left tackle and cutting back to the right on a spectacular 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The faithful Buckeye followers didn't have long to wait for an Ohio comeback.

Quarterback Rex Kern, a superb field general, directed the Bucks on a 13-play, 69-yard march with fullback Jim Otis cracking the final yard for the score.

FALL BEHIND

"After we fell behind 10-0, I told the guys in the huddle that we better get rolling and quit messing around," Kern said.

With only 72 seconds remaining in the half, Kern completed three passes for 38 yards and set up the first of two field goals by Jim Roman.

The 26-yard three-pointer with three seconds left evened the count at intermission.

"Getting that field goal was a big psychological advantage for us," Hayes said. "I felt we would win even after we got behind. I knew we would move the ball better."

The veteran coach singled out his defensive unit as the big factor in the victory.

"Our defense in the second half was fabulous. It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0," Simpson, who ripped through the Bucks for 137 yards in 18 first half trips, was limited to only 34 in 10 carries in the second period.

"O. J. broke the big one in the first half but we did a good job stopping him later. He is a tremendous player," Hayes said.

The alert Ohio defense, which has been the key many times in a perfect 10-0 season, recovered two fumbles that led to touchdowns and picked off two of Sogge's aeriels.

POOR PUNT

A poor punt of only 28 yards by John Young gave Ohio good field position late in the third quarter. In a typical Hayes' grinding drive, the Bucks marched 54 yards in 11 plays without benefit of a single pass.

When the drive stalled on the Trojans' eight, Roman kicked a 25-yard field goal for a 13-10 lead. On the second play after the ensuing kickoff, Sogge fumbled after being belted by Bill Urbanik and middle guard Vic Stottmeyer recovered on the 21. Five plays later, Kern hit Lee Hayden with a four-yard touchdown pass.

"If I had to pick the biggest single play of the game, Sogge's fumble was it," Hayes said.

Moments later, Ohio iced it when linebacker Mark Stier jarred Simpson loose from the ball after O. J. had caught a Sogge pass. This time halfback Mike Polaski was in the right spot covering the ball on the Trojan 16. On the next play, Kern found halfback Roy Gillian all alone over the middle on a 16-yard TD strike and Ohio stormed out to a 27-10 advantage.

The losers scored their final touchdown in the final minute in the game's only controversial play.

Sogge hit end Sam Dickerson in the end zone on a 19-yard pitch. Both Dickerson and Polaski battled for the ball, and it looked like a possible interception.

"I still don't know what happened on that one. That's the first time I ever saw a touchdown called with the ball on the ground," Hayes said.

Southern Cal actually outgained Ohio in total offense with 366 yards to the Bucks' 361. Simpson's 171 net fell 24 yards short of eclipsing the Rose Bowl record of 194 set by Iowa's Bob Jeter against California in 1959.

But Otis and Hayden, a pair of workhorses, gained 101 and 90 yards, respectively, for the victors and Kern, who ran for 35, completed nine of 15 for 101.

Pistons Get Gambee

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons Wednesday announced they had traded rookie center Rich Niemann to the Milwaukee Bucks for veteran forward Dave Gambee. Gambee, an 11 year veteran of National Basketball Association play, had averaged 11.1 points in his career.

FLIPPING A BUCKEYE — Linebacker Jim Snow (55) and middle guard Bill Redding (56) of Southern California send Ohio State fullback Jim Otis tumbling toward the turf to end a four-yard gain for the OSU junior ball carrier during the first half of Wednesday's Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif. Otis later plunged a yard for the winner's initial touchdown in a decisive conquest of the Trojans that should clinch the nation's No. 1 college grid rankings for the Buckeyes.

Southern Cal Coach Blames Fumbles

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "You can't fumble the ball and expect to be in the game," said a weary Coach John McKay after his Southern California Trojans had been ripped 27-16 by Ohio State in the Rose Bowl Wednesday.

"We gave them the ball and they capitalized on it, that's all," added McKay. "If we hadn't given up the ball deep in our territory, I don't think we would have given up more than two or three touchdowns and I think we would have won."

Two key fumble recoveries helped the Buckeyes to 14 points in the final quarter after they had led just 13-10.

"I wasn't surprised by anything that Ohio State did," said McKay. "They're a fine football team. They moved the ball on everyone else and they moved the ball on us."

Asked if one of his game plans was to throw passes to Heisman Trophy star O. J. Simpson more than in the past, McKay answered, "Yes," and then added, "Looking back, maybe we should have thrown to him a lot more."

Kansas' Extra Man Saves Penn State

MIAMI (AP) — A 12th man on the field gave Penn State a second chance for a winning two point conversion with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions made it for a 15-14 victory over Kansas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Halfback Bob Campbell ripped into the end zone for the deciding conversion which preserved Penn State's unbeaten season and left a shell-shocked Kansas team in his wake.

An hour after the frantic finish, the 12th man, junior linebacker Rick Abernathy sat in the Kansas dressing room, his head cupped in his hands and tears streaking his face.

SURE DEFEAT

Third-ranked Penn State appeared beaten when a pass for the two points fell incomplete, leaving Kansas with a 14-13 lead. A red flag, however, lay on the goal line as players streamed off the field. An official had counted 12 Jayhawks in the lineup on the play.

Penn State wasn't about to stare a gift horse in the mouth. Given a second chance, this time from the one-yard line, the Nittany Lions made it good for their 11th victory in a perfect season.

The finish stunned a crowd of 77,719, which had begun to file out thinking the game was over and Kansas had won. Even the Nittany Lions' tying touchdown was something out of fiction. It came on a broken play.

Penn State trailed 14-7 with 1:28 remaining. Kansas, with a fourth down and 23 at its 25-yard line, was forced to punt. Penn State put on a 10-man rush and defensive halfback Neal Smith partially blocked the ball which was covered at the Kansas 49.

On first down, Penn State ran what Coach Joe Paterno called a "go pattern" with quarterback Chuck Burkhardt passing to Campbell, who grabbed the ball over the head of Kansas defender Tommy Anderson and fell at the Jayhawks' three-yard line.

Two smashes by fullback Tom Cherry netted absolutely nothing against the stubborn Kansas defense. Then, Burkhardt, the unsung quarterback of the third-ranked Nittany Lions, rolled to his right and raced three yards for a touchdown.

Actually, Burkhardt was supposed to hand off the ball to halfback Charley Pittman, but a Kansas defender got between them and Burkhardt had no choice but to run for his life into the corner. He scored standing up, setting up the most dramatic finish in the 35-year history of the Orange Bowl.

Jayhawk Mentor Accepts Blame for Bowl Loss

By the Associated Press

Kansas Coach Pepper Rodgers took the blame for the 12th man penalty which gave Penn State a 15-14 victory in the Orange Bowl. "It was my fault," he said.

"When I send a player into the game, it's my responsibility to see that he comes back out."

Rodgers said he didn't realize he had 12 men on the field until the official's flag was thrown. Until then, he thought his game kids had withstood State's late assault.

NO GAIN

Rodgers also defended his decision not to go for a field goal in the fourth period which could have put the game out of reach. Kansas had fourth and one at the State five and went for it. John Higgins was held for no gain.

"When I need less than one or two yards for a first down, I am not afraid to go for it," Rodgers said. "I thought we had a good chance to make it. We have a fine fullback (Higgins) and if he did not make it, we would still be in a very good defensive position."

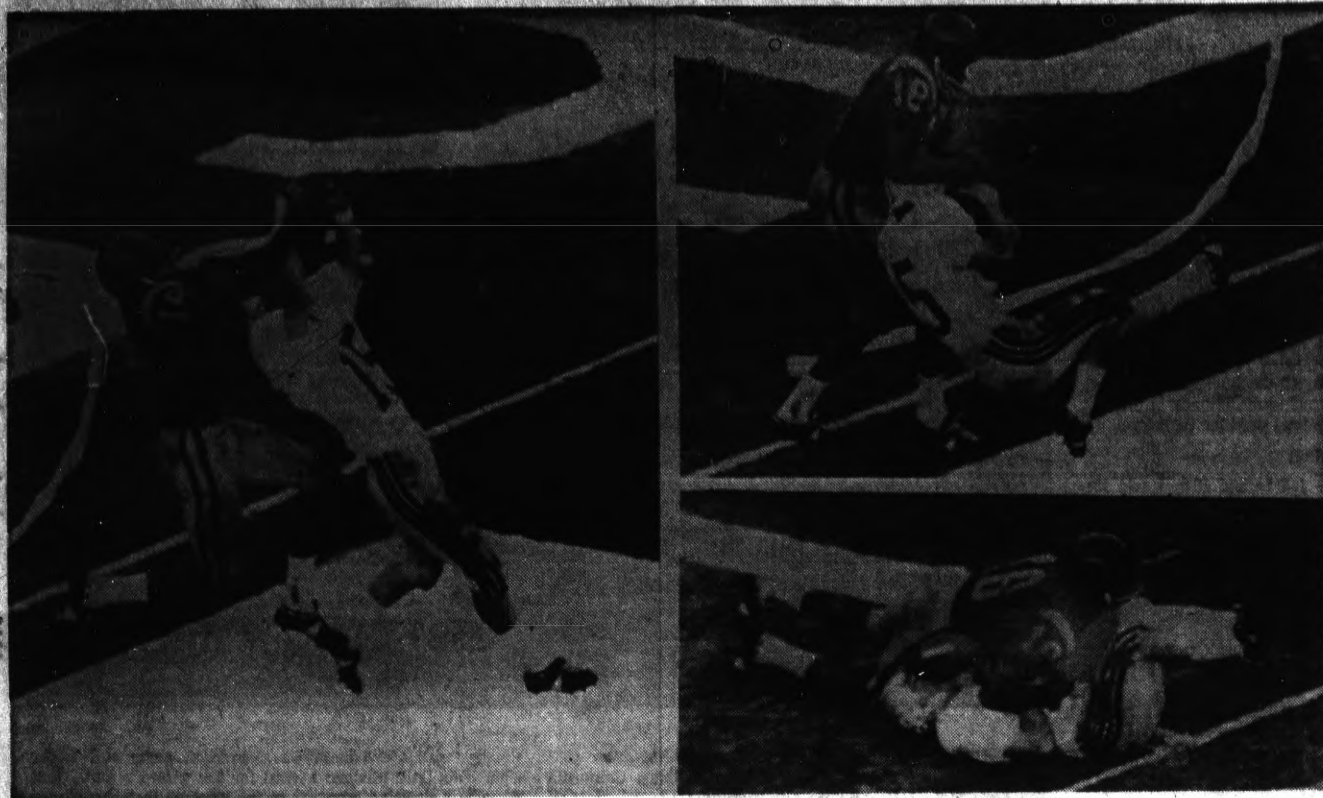

Kansas built its 14-7 lead with a first period touchdown scored by Mike Reeves at the end of a nine-play, 45-yard drive. Penn State tied it in the second quarter on a 47-yard drive climaxed by Charlie Pittman's 13-yard run into the end zone. In the fourth period, Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46-yards to the State 8. Higgins gained seven and then dove the final yard.

In the winning dressing room, Coach Paterno said he never gave a thought to playing for a tie after State's touchdown with 15 seconds left.

"After last year's tie with Florida State in the Gator Bowl," said Paterno, "I made up my mind you come to a bowl to win. I never thought of anything but two points."

Asked who called the winning touchdown play, Paterno smiled and said, "Burkhardt called it." Burkhardt disagreed. "Coach Paterno called the play. You got to believe me. He's too modest to take credit for it."

Sharp Texans Execute Volunteers, 36-13, With Devastating Versatility

CONTROVERSIAL SCORE — Southern California was credited with a touchdown on this play late in the Rose Bowl game yesterday, a decision that was hotly disputed by OSU coach Woody Hayes. At left, Southern Cal's Sam Dickerson (18) and OSU halfback Mike Polaski (15) go up together for an end zone pass intended for Dickerson. Polaski appears to have the ball (top right), but officials ruled Dickerson had possession and gave the Californians a touchdown. Hayes' opinion, after viewing these pictures, was that it was an incomplete pass. The play did not affect the outcome. OSU won, 27-16.

Power, Passes of Longhorns Rip Tennessee

Fifth-Ranked Texas Amasses 513 Yards in Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas used the lance and the sledgehammer with equal deadliness in executing bewildered Tennessee 36-13 Wednesday in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl classic.

The "lance" was an especially concocted aerial from quarterback James Street to swift and elusive Charles "Cotton" Speyrer. The first strike went for a 78-yard touchdown. The second bomb—also Street to Speyrer—and run covered 79 yards for a score.

The "sledgehammer" was the brutal, ground-trembling runs of Texas' flying foursome.

Street, All-American Chris Gilbert, Ted Koy and Steve Worster galloped for 250 yards and three touchdowns through the physically whipped Volunteer line.

VOLS AWED

Tennessee was rather awed by the devastation.

"I have never seen a backfield as balanced as theirs," said Vol All-America guard Charles Rosenfield. "Texas is one of the better, if not the best team I have played against in my three varsity seasons."

Tennessee Capt. Dick Williams said, "Their execution killed us. You couldn't tell what was happening. (Street) did a great job. He knew what to do."

Street, whose only claim to fame at Texas until this season was that he was a good baseball pitcher, literally picked the heralded Vol defense apart.

Without once calling a pass, Street directed Texas 80 yards in 13 plays in the first period with Worster, a sophomore, bulging across from 14 yards out.

STINGS TENNESSEE

Then Street stung the Vols with a totally unexpected play from the Texas 22.

Operating from the Longhorns' unique "Wishbone-T" or "Y" formation, Street faked beautifully drawing the Tennessee secondary in a step. He lofted a shot to sophomore Speyrer, a 168-pound gadfly split end who caught the ball, faked defensive back Jimmy Weatherford out of position and roared home.

Speyrer was the only receiver out on the play. It was the first time Texas had used it off the triple-option.

"I kinda thought we might hit that bomb," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

In the third quarter, Street and Speyrer teamed up on almost the exact carbon copy—only one yard longer.

Street, named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer snared five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash.

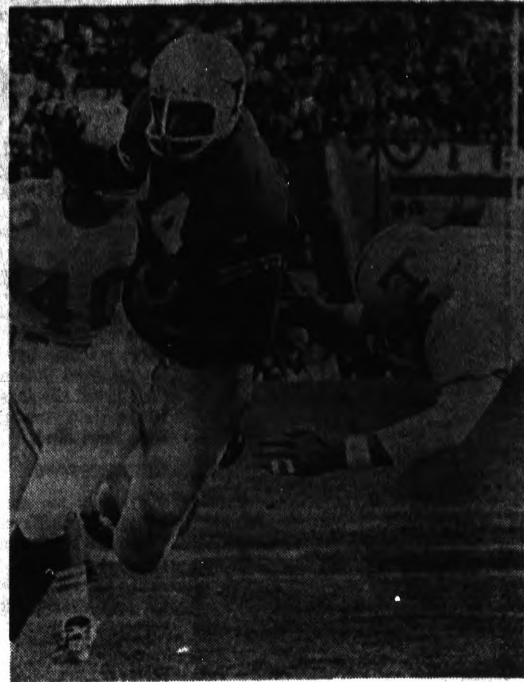

Gilbert, only major college player ever to gain 1,000 yards in each of his varsity seasons, finished the day with 82 yards in 13 carries—three yards less than Worster.

Texas linebacker Tom Campbell, who intercepted two Vol passes, was named the outstanding defensive player.

COTTON BOWL INDIVIDUAL SUMMARY
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Individual leaders in the Cotton Bowl football game: Rushing—Tennessee, Scott 11-4-139 yards, Wyche 11-4-25 yards, Street 13-7-200 yards. Passing—Tennessee, McClinton 3-27-134 yards, Speyrer 5-161 yards, Bradley 1-34 yards.

SIX POINTS FOR TEXAS — Halfback Ted Koy (24) of Texas darts past Tennessee's Bill Young (right) after outrunning the Volunteers' Mike Jones (40) Wednesday for a 10-yard scoring run in the Cotton Bowl's second quarter. The favored Longhorns blasted Tennessee, 36-13.

'White Jersey' Curse Stays With Volunteers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "I thought we needed something to pick us up and he might be it," Dickey said. But it didn't work. "They got those two bombs and that's what killed us."

The curse was more in the form of orange jersey No. 88 worn by Charles Speyrer, who snagged touchdown passes of 78 and 79 yards to inspire the Longhorns to their runaway victory.

"On that first pass, they just sucked us in," Young said. "We were in zone coverage and they just kept running, running, running. So we started moving up." on them and that's when they hit us."

Tennessee has worn white jerseys three times in post World War II games and lost every time.

Speyrer's first touchdown bomb came in the first quarter and gave the Longhorns a two-touchdown lead.

Then in the third quarter, Speyrer broke loose again, this time beating defensive back Jim Weatherford in a man-to-man coverage. "They just got behind us on that one," he said.

"We may have been placing a little too much pressure on Jim," said Volunteer offensive coach Jimmy Dunn. "He'd been sick with the flu and I'm not sure he was completely recovered."

Falling behind 20-0 early in the second quarter, Tennessee coach Doug Dickey felt he needed something to shake up his team. His method was to pull starting quarterback Bubba Wyche and insert Bobby Scott, a sophomore who had seen only spare action all season.

On sidelining Wyche, Dunn said: "Bubba wasn't playing bad. He hadn't thrown any interceptions, but we weren't doing anything. Their touchdowns weren't flukes. They were driving it down our throats. We had to do something."

Seals' Chief Scout Dies

TORONTO (UPI) — Bob Wilson, 66, Oakland Seals' chief scout and director of player development, died Wednesday at his Havelock, Ont., home following a lengthy illness.

DECIDING POINTS—Given a second chance when Kansas used 12 men to stop their first conversion attempt, Penn State's Nittany Lions pulled out a 15-14 Orange Bowl victory and an undefeated season last night on Bob Campbell's (23) slashing plunge for two points. Guard Charlie Zapiec (60) thwarted the defensive charge of the Jayhawks' John Zook long enough for Campbell to make his cut into the end zone.

Razorbacks Upset Georgia

Coach Lauds Arkansas Defense

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Arkansas's disparaged defenders stole the show in the Sugar Bowl, which had hoped for an explosive offensive duel between the Razorbacks and Georgia.

"All 11 defensive men played a great game," Coach Frank Broyles said. "Our defense was something else."

The defenders, criticized all fall while the offensive team drew the plaudits, swept the Razorbacks to a 16-2 conquest of Georgia in the Sugar Bowl Wednesday.

"They stopped us every time we had an opportunity to do something," said Coach Vince Dooley, who said he was surprised at the way the Arkansas defenders played. "How did they give up that many points during the season?"

DEFENSE TIGHTENS

The Razorbacks yielded 187 points last fall but the defense didn't allow anything out of Georgia, which kept from being blanked by scoring on a safety when Arkansas' Bill Burnett was tackled in the end zone.

Arkansas recovered five Georgia fumbles and picked off three passes, and Dooley credited the Razorbacks with causing the Bulldog bobbles.

"Arkansas gave us a good, sound licking," Dooley said. "They evidently wanted the game worse than we did."

The loss was the first of the season for Georgia, ranked fourth nationally, and the Bulldogs' point total was their smallest ever in five campaigns under Dooley.

Arkansas' offense didn't exactly tear up the place, either, with Bill Montgomery tossing a 27-yard touchdown pass to Chuck Dicus for the only touchdown in the 35th annual football classic watched by 82,113.

The Razorbacks, finishing the season with a 10-1 record and hoping to advance above their ninth place nationally ranking, got their other points out of kicker Bob White.

White hit on field goals of 34, 24 and 31 yards to clinch the victory for Arkansas.

"This was one of the real great national victories in the 11 years I've been at Arkansas," Broyles said. "It was the greatest team effort I've been associated with."

Dicus, a sticky-fingered sophomore, was named the most valuable player for his catches. He grabbed 12 passes for 169 yards to keep the Razorbacks' rolling.

Dooley said the whipping suffered by his Southeastern Conference champions—plus thrashings handed to Alabama and Tennessee in other bowls—may be a sign that the SEC is losing its reputation as one of the country's toughest leagues.

"Maybe we better take a hard look at ourselves in the conference," he said. "Something may be happening that we ought to know about — maybe it's a trend."

Dooley said that SEC schools are limited to 40 football grants a year, while Southwest Conference teams give out 50. Arkansas tied for the Southwest title.

However, Broyles said he thinks the fact that none of the Arkansas players had been to a bowl may have helped fire up the Razorbacks.

"We had the psychological advantage," Broyles said. "Georgia had been to three straight bowl games, and we didn't have a bowl game before."

The coaches also took a different approach to the game, with Dooley bringing his team to New Orleans a week ago and allowing the Bulldogs to mix pleasure with practice. Arkansas didn't arrive in town until Sunday, making their final preparations at home.

"Obviously, everything we did was wrong because we lost," Dooley said. "If we had won it would have been right."

"We had the psychological advantage," Broyles said. "Georgia had been to three straight bowl games, and we didn't have a bowl game before."

The coaches also took a different approach to the game, with Dooley bringing his team to New Orleans a week ago and allowing the Bulldogs to mix pleasure with practice. Arkansas didn't arrive in town until Sunday, making their final preparations at home.

"Obviously, everything we did was wrong because we lost," Dooley said. "If we had won it would have been right."

Dooley said that SEC schools are limited to 40 football grants a year, while Southwest Conference teams give out 50. Arkansas tied for the Southwest title.

However, Broyles said he thinks the fact that none of the Arkansas players had been to a bowl may have helped fire up the Razorbacks.

WING CLIPPED — Detroit Red Wings' Pete Stelmowski (19) is halted by Chicago defenseman Gilles Marotte (2) after getting away a shot (puck lower right) in the first period of their game in Chicago last night. No. 20 is Blaw Hawks' Doug Jarrett, who has moved behind his goalie, Denis DeJordy, to lend a hand. Chicago won, 4-1.

Detroiters Fall, 4-1

Hawks' Hull Catches Howe

By the Associated Press

In the showdown at the top of the National Hockey League's scoring race, Bobby Hull, broken jaw and all, drew even with Gordie Howe.

Hull scored his 24th goal of the season Wednesday night and Chicago defeated Detroit 4-1. Howe, who had taken over the scoring lead the night before, was shut out and Hull's goal enabled him to tie the Detroit star for the scoring lead. Each has 50 points.

In other games Wednesday, Toronto battered Oakland 7-3 and Los Angeles battled St. Louis' West Division leaders to a 0-0 draw.

On New Year's Eve, Detroit dropped Minnesota 6-3 and Montreal slipped by Pittsburgh 4-3.

Hull suffered his cracked jaw the last time the Black Hawks faced the Red Wings and aggravated it against Toronto. He missed one game and then came back with a helmet and cross bar protecting his jaw and has scored in both games since returning.

Pit Martin had two goals for the Hawks, including the tie-breaker with 30 seconds left in the second period.

Norm Ullman scored a pair of goals for Toronto, and the Leafs ripped Oakland, scoring three goals in each of the last two periods.

Ullman's 17th of the season broke a tie in the second period and he added No. 18 in the third. Larry Mickey had a goal and two assists for the Leafs, who remained tied with Chicago. Both clubs moved past idle New York into third place in the NHL's East Division.

The St. Louis-Los Angeles match featured outstanding goal tending by veteran Blues goalie Jacques Plante, who turned away 31 shots, and Kings goalie Gerry Desjardins, who had 26 saves.

It was the second time Plante had blanked the Kings this season and it was his fifth shutout of the campaign, giving the former Montreal star the league lead in that department.

Celtics Rally to Dim Suns

Boston Wins, 93-87; Warriors Halt Royals

By the Associated Press
The Boston Celtics waited an extra day to bring in the New Year with one of their typical bangs, and it left the Phoenix Suns with a headache.

The Celtics, famous for their explosions that led them to many a National Basketball Association title in recent years, erupted for 11 of the first 12 points in the fourth quarter and beat the Suns, 93-87, Wednesday night.

In the only other game, San Francisco rode by Cincinnati 106-101 in Cleveland behind Nate Thurmond and Rudy LaRusso.

In the American Basketball Association's only contest, Los Angeles stopped Houston 123-94 in Los Angeles.

Phoenix, playing at home, was leading the Celtics by three points after three quarters when Boston made its big noise. John Havlicek was the loudest with three baskets in the spurt, and then Emmette Bryant hit several long jump shots to keep the sound resounding in the Suns' ears.

Havlicek and teammate Bailey Howell finished with 17 points each in the defensive struggle, while Dick Van Arsdale had 22 for the Suns.

the nation's Top Ten basketball teams.

The unbeaten Broncos celebrated their new No. 6 ranking by dropping Oklahoma City 92-82 on the West Coast on a light night in college basketball.

The only other major teams in action were Utah and Connecticut and Utah carried off a 105-85 victory over the visiting Huskies.

11th VICTIM
Santa Clara, fresh from a victory over Columbia in the Rainbow Classic title game Monday night in Hawaii, made Oklahoma City its 11th victim and boosted its chances to move even higher in the rankings.

While Davidson protected its No. 2 spot with a 94-82 triumph over Michigan Tuesday night, third-rated Kentucky lost to unranked Wisconsin 69-65 and appeared all but certain to fall.

In the only major games New Year's Eve, Duke beat Iowa 85-82 for the Sugar Bowl Classic crown, Houston won third place from Western Kentucky 87-66, Dayton stopped St. Louis U. 67-56, Loyola of Chicago whipped Wichita State 101-89 and Memphis State tripped Brown 70-52.

Among the rest of the Top Ten, only 10th-ranked Cincinnati starts the New Year before Saturday, playing at Tulsa tonight and at Wichita State Saturday.

The rest play Saturday night with UCLA, No. 1, hosting Tulane; Davidson entertaining 17th-ranked St. John's; Kentucky at Mississippi; North Carolina, No. 4, home to Duke; Kansas, No. 5, at Nebraska; Detroit, No. 7, at Marquette; Minnesota at Illinois, No. 8, and Villanova, No. 9, at St. Bonaventure, No. 20.

Santa Clara, which entertains San Francisco Saturday night, had trouble shaking loose of Oklahoma City before scoring five straight points behind Dennis Awtry, Terry O'Brien and Bud Ogden to break a 72-all deadlock with six minutes remaining.

Ogden finished with 29 points, 20 of them when the Broncos took a 47-41 halftime lead. Awtry had 18 of his 27 after intermission. Rich Travis led the Chiefs with 32.

Utah handed Connecticut its ninth consecutive loss as Joe English had 22 points to bring the Redskins' record to 4-7.

Titans Ready for League Foe

Full Slate on Tap in Area Loop

Pontiac Catholic's well-rested Titans mark an end to the holiday break tomorrow night when they entertain Ferndale St. James in a Northwest Catholic League contest.

The game is one of three on the Northwest slate, and it's one of a handful on a slim high school schedule.

A full round of play is on tap in the Southeastern Michigan Association, the Saginaw Valley conference moves back on the floor and there are several games of the non-league variety to spice the schedule.

WOLL ON ROAD

While the Titans (4-1) are playing host to St. James (3-2), Waterford Our Lady of Lakes (1-4) journeys to Royal Oak St. Mary (3-2) and Detroit St. Rita (0-5) visits Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (1-4).

League-leading Orchard Lake St. Mary (6-0) is idle until Tuesday when the Eagles entertain Waterford OLL.

TOUGH TEST

Southfield (6-1), winner of the Northwest Suburban Christmas tournament, gets its stiffest test of the young season in a home encounter against defending Ferndale (3-0).

Ferndale, Southfield and Royal Oak Kimball shared the championship last season, but the present campaign doesn't shape up as another deadlock.

Kimball (4-0) has been impressive in reeling off four wins in a row and the Knights will entertain Berkley (2-4) tomorrow. The other SEMA game finds Hazel Park (4-1) at Birmingham Seaholm (2-1).

In a quick rematch, Farmington (3-4) has a date at North Farmington (5-1). The two met in the Northwest Suburban tournament and North Farmington emerged with an 88-80 decision.

In Saginaw Valley Conference games, Saginaw is at Flint Northern, Flint Central is at Bay City Central and Flint Southwestern is at Saginaw Arthur Hill. A non-leaguer finds Alpena at Bay City Handy. Pontiac Central returns to the court Tuesday at Midland.

MOTT WINLESS

Waterford Mott, 0-4 in the old year, will be hoping to get something going in the New Year in a home encounter against Livonia Churchill.

Elsewhere, Novi is at Dearborn Annapolis, Roper is on a swing north to play Leland tomorrow and St. Mary of Lake Leelanau Saturday. Chelsea is at South Lyon, Milford is at Fenton and De LaSalle visits Birmingham Brother Rice.

Rec Officials Needed

Volleyball officials are needed to work men's and women's games for the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Interested persons should contact the recreation office at 674-0376.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Los Angeles Dodger pitching ace Sandy Koufax, long considered one of the city's most eligible bachelors, has been taken out of circulation by the 23-year-old daughter of actor Richard Widmark.

Koufax, 32, and Ann Widmark were married New Year's Day at the Widmarks' home in West Los Angeles. Judge Lester Roth conducted the private ceremony.

Koufax was forced to retire from baseball in 1966 because of an arthritic left elbow. The southpaw pitcher set major league records by pitching four no-hit, no-run games during his career.

Miss Widmark is a graduate of Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, N.Y., and has been living with her parents.

By the Associated Press

The Apollo 8 moon shot was voted the top story of 1968 in a Christmas Eve repolling of AP member editors.

A previous poll completed before the dramatic flight around the moon had selected the assassinations of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. as the No. 1 and No. 2 stories of the year.

The new balloting dropped the two assassination stories down a notch to second and third place, as well as suggesting a high place for the release of the crewmen of the USS Pueblo.

As with the Apollo 8 story, the release of the Pueblo crewmen occurred after the first poll. Originally, the capture of the ship and its crew by the North Koreans had placed seventh in the list of the 10 top stories.

Sen. Kennedy, 42, was trying for the presidency this year.

On June 4 he won the California Democratic primary. After a victory statement, shortly past midnight, he and his wife, Ethel, pregnant with their 11th child, walked through a back passageway in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles to meet newsmen.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Kennedy was shot, a 22-caliber bullet piercing his brain, and died 25 hours later in Good Samaritan Hospital, where he had been operated on for three and a half hours.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, brought to America from Jordan at 13, was grabbed at the scene and later charged with murder. His trial, postponed twice, is set for Jan. 7.

The world was sickened and

The Top 10 Stories of the Year and Top 10 Newsmakers of the Year selections are made in strict accordance with ballots returned by editors of Associated Press member newspaper and radio and TV stations. Editors annually are asked to vote for the new stories of greatest impact, import and use during the year and to name 10 top news-making personalities. Selections do not necessarily indicate support for policies carried out in stories chosen or support of the actions of persons chosen. They merely identify 1968's top news stories and individuals who made the most news in their respective fields.

grieved along with the Kennedy family as they once again appeared, self-controlled, through days of public grief.

Sen. Kennedy's body lay in state at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, then went by slow train to Washington for burial in Arlington Cemetery, near the grave of his brother.

KING SLAYING

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., 39, Nobel Prize winner for peace and American architect of nonviolence in the fight for civil rights, was shot and killed in Memphis on April 4. He was in Memphis to lead a march in support of striking sanitation workers, 90 per cent of whom are Negroes.

King had stepped onto the balcony of his room at the Lorraine Hotel and was shot in the neck, presumably with a high-powered rifle from a flophouse across the street. He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and died within the hour.

Before King became the nation's civil rights leader in mid-1950s, most efforts on behalf of Negro rights were being made in the courts.

King founded the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, made equal treatment his goal and nonviolent protest his method. He led the boycott of the segregated Montgomery buses, civil disobedience of what he considered unfair laws, marches and sit-ins, made "We Shall Overcome" the theme song of his people.

LOSS MOURNED

Both whites and blacks, who had looked to him for reconciliation between the races, mourned his loss. Immediate anger led to violence in 40 cities across the country on the night of his death, with 4,000 National Guardsmen called into the nation's capitol, where the riot was largest.

James Earl Ray, 40, was found in England, using a false Canadian passport, brought back to Memphis, charged with King's murder and will be tried on March 3.

Other big stories of the year and the way they were ranked: 3. LBJ announces that he won't run for re-election; 4. Presidential election, campaign; 5. Czechoslovakia occupied by Russia; 6. Vietnam War continues, peace talks start; 7. USS Pueblo and crew captured by North Korea; 8. Heart transplant operations; 9. Riots in Negro areas, black militancy; 10. President Lyndon B. Johnson had announced a major policy statement on Vietnam for TV and radio March 31. He reviewed administration policy and offered to meet North Vietnam at the bargaining table. Then, having given no prior clue of what he was about to say, he added a major surprise — the statement that he would not run for reelection as President.

Sen. Robert Kennedy Lies Mortally Wounded

Johnson said he did not want "an aura of political campaigning" around his domestic and foreign moves during the coming months. He said he wanted to spend time only on his duties as President, not on partisan politics.

Hats were flying in and out of the ring during the election year, until Richard M. Nixon — who kept his cool throughout — won, in a presidential contest nearly as close as the one he lost to John F. Kennedy eight years ago.

Michigan Gov. George Romney withdrew two weeks before the first primary, becoming the first candidate to withdraw on the basis of popularity-measuring polls.

HHH CANDIDACY

After LBJ's withdrawal as his party's certain standard bearer, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey declared his candidacy. Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota was already in, as a dove, and getting backing from young people.

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said repeatedly he'd answer a draft, felt the draft April 30 and declared.

New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who won his party's primary in California, was shot and killed. Massachusetts Sen. Ted Kennedy said at that time and again during the Democratic convention that family responsibilities prevented him from running in his brother's stead.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California tossed his hat into the ring at the GOP convention. But the nod went to Nixon, who chose as his running mate Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, who said "It came as a bolt out of the blue."

LATE-ANNOUNCERS

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, with backing from some one-time Kennedy supporters, and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia were late-announcers on the Democratic side. The Democrats picked Humphrey and he chose Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine as vice presidential candidate.

Meanwhile, George C. Wallace, former governor of Alabama, had formed a third party, the American Independent Party, and as impressive-size crowds gathered to hear him, all over the country, people who at first had considered him merely regional began to take him seriously as a contender.

When the votes were counted, Wallace carried five states, all Southern.

Main issue of the campaign was Vietnam. Cause celebre of the campaign was what a presidential commission later termed a "police riot" in the streets of Chicago during the Democratic convention and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut at the time called Gestapo tactics. Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley angrily shouted back at Ribicoff.

TRAILED IN POLLS

Humphrey trailed far behind Nixon in polls until just before the election, when he pulled dramatically close to Nixon's lead. Nixon carried 32 states, for 302 electoral votes; HHH carried 13 states, got 191 electoral votes.

In Czechoslovakia, for 229 days there had been an experiment without precedent — democracy within Communism — free press, public discussion, travel abroad.

The Czechs had basked in it but the Warsaw Pact countries had feared their citizens would want it too. Warsaw Pact maneuvers began in Czechoslovakia June 20 as a show of muscle.

Talks July 29 seemed to leave Czech liberalization with a green light. But then came rumors of Soviet troop movements near the Polish-Czech border and on Aug. 20, 100,000 Soviet troops and 1,000 tanks invaded Czechoslovakia. It was liberalization n yet; "normalization" da.

CZECHS RESIST

Czechs showed a spirit of resistance. For five days, young people fought with Molotov cocktails. In October anti-Soviet demonstrators clashed with police. On Nov. 7 Soviet flags were burned by crowds in Prague.

A "normalization" agreement was signed by Czech leaders Aug. 21 and censorship was back. The country's Communist Party head, Alexander Dubcek, who had initiated the reforms, and who tried to officiate their rescinding as painlessly as possible for his people was "neutralized" of power by a trivariate placed above him, in late November.

The Vietnam War, placed No. 1 in the AP's top 10 stories since 1965, in 1968 was ranked sixth. Soon after the year began the Vietcong attacked Saigon.

The Tet (lunar new year) offensive Jan. 30-March 5 was the Vietcong's biggest of the war. In the four weeks ending Feb. 24, 1,829 American servicemen were killed, more than the 1,636 killed during the first five years of U.S. involvement in the war.

RECORD FOR DEAD

Two weeks in May set another record, for the highest toll of American dead in any two weeks since the war began. There was a lull in fighting in July and August and another lull in October. President Johnson announced a complete bombing halt of North Vietnam on Oct. 31.

Peace talks started May 10 between the United States and North Vietnam but nothing much happened. After much palaver and a South Vietnam boycott, expanded talks, adding South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front, started in December.

Problems included North Vietnam not talking to South Vietnam and South Vietnam not recognizing the NLF.

The USS Pueblo, a Navy intelligence ship off the coast of North Korea, was boarded by four North Korea patrol boats on Jan. 22 and taken into the port of Wonsan. The Defense Department said the ship was outside the 12-mile limit.

DETAILS UNCLEAR

Details of the capture were unclear.

Russia turned down a U.S. request for help in getting the Pueblo and its 82 crewmen back. The capture came after more than a year of stepped-up pressure by North Korea against South Korea and two days after an attempt to assassinate South Korea's President.

Speculation ranged from North Korea's testing U.S. readiness to resist an offensive or attempting to divert the U.S. and South Korea from Vietnam to a desire to study the latest in electronic surveillance hardware.

After 1967, with its one human heart transplant, in 1968 there have been some 100 such amazing operations.

There has been criticism of the idea and there have not been as many donors as patients who could have used a heart transplant. The heart of a man was put into a man in Houston in June when no human donor was available; the man died during the operation.

Of the first 99 heart transplants, nine are alive more than three months after the operation. Dr. Denton Cooley of Baylor University has done more heart transplants than anybody else. Dr. Christiaan Barnard of South Africa did the first one, in 1967, and his second patient of last Jan. 2, is still alive.

During 1968, the civil rights movement, which turned from nonviolence toward violence four years ago, shifted again.

There were riots, including one in Cleveland in July which was believed to be the first organized Negro ambush against police, and part of the tumult on college campuses was black. But it was a year of fewer deaths and less property damage than previous years.

WHAT WAS HAPPENING?

What was happening? Some thought the cities had bettered slum conditions from which the riots had sprung. Others saw more of an answer in a change in emphasis among Negroes — a drawing together, a spirit of community to get things done for Negroes by Negroes.

It was a year of increasing expressions of militancy, the militant Black Panthers lost most of their leaders but membership grew; a year of rejection of white help; African hair styles, and the word black in place of Negro.

Burglar Takes Firearms, Supplies From Area Home

A burglar who broke into a Pontiac Township home yesterday took a small arsenal of guns and ammunition and enough food and drink to celebrate long into the new year.

More than $1,800 of goods, including eight guns, 1,000 rounds of ammunition, 70 bottles of liquor and assorted foods from a freezer, were reported stolen from the ransacked house of Harry Anderson, 3131 N. Squirrel.

68th Anniversary of Marriage for Mormon Leader

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Today is the 68th wedding anniversary of Mormon Church President David O. McKay and his wife.

McKay, 96-year-old president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, married Emma Ray Riggs in the Salt Lake Mormon Temple in 1901.

The couple has six living children, four sons and two daughters, and close to 50 descendants. They expected visits today from family members and close associates.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the glass portion of a door was broken to gain entry, and that the bedrooms were ransacked.

Anderson reported that the thief emptied his freezer of steaks, bacon, roast, pies, juice and vegetables.

LIQUOR, FIREARMS

The liquor, he said, bore labels from the Virgin Islands, Bahamas and Florida.

Various types of pistols and rifles were among the guns reported missing.

Also reported missing were a television, stereo, typewriter, sewing machine, watch, drill and 14 silver dollars.

Holiday in Town Proves a Washout

POINT ARENA, Calif. (AP) — This coastal town of 3,000 got 1969 off to a wet start. Its water works collapsed and 150,000 gallons of water coursed down the main street at 1:50 a.m. Wednesday.

A spokesman for the privately owned system said the 230-year-old wooden tank burst under 15 million pounds pressure after the lowest metal hoop parted. Damage from wetting and silting was minor.

Youth Given Prison Term

A Waterford Township youth has been sentenced to 5 to 10 years in the state prison at Jackson in connection with the abduction and assault of a 15-year-old girl at gunpoint in October.

The prison term was ordered for Michael B. Lemon, 19, of 3864 Iris, by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem on Tuesday.

Lemon, who is married, was arrested Oct. 8 and charged with kidnaping, rape and gross indecency. He was permitted to enter a guilty plea on Nov. 26 to one lesser offense of assault with intent to rape.

A conviction on either the kidnaping or rape charge could have led to a sentence of life imprisonment.

DESCRIBED BY GIRL

Lemon was taken into custody by Waterford Township police after the junior high school girl gave them a description of her abductor, his car and two letters of his license plate number.

She told police she had been threatened with a gun and then driven to a field near her home and raped.

Lemon was questioned about several other attempted abductions in the area, but no charges were brought against him other than those involving the teen-ager.

Blind Spaniel Object of Hunt in Waterford

Duchess, a blind cocker spaniel apparently wandered away from home early New Year's Day, according to her owners, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grinnell of 6716 Hatchery Road, Waterford Township.

Grinnell suspects the dog got out when a guest at the couple's New Year's Eve party left a gate slightly ajar.

"She stumbles into everything and we're afraid she'll walk into a moving car without seeing it," Mrs. Grinnell said. The dog has no tags on since it never leaves the home except on a leash.

Neighbors, who aided in the search, found no trace of Duchess. They suspect someone picked her up and took her home.

Anyone with information concerning the blonde-colored, fairly straight-haired dog, is urged to contact the Grinnells.

Pontiac Man Held in Reported Rape

A 20-year-old Pontiac man was arrested early this morning on charges of statutory rape and gross indecency, city police reported.

Perry Kingsley, 98 E. Howard, reportedly enticed a 14-year-old Pontiac girl off the street into his apartment where an alleged attack occurred.

The victim told police the suspect approached her on the street while she was walking home, put his arm around her and told her some people upstairs would like to see her. The girl told police she knew the suspect.

Press Freedom Eroded More, International Report Contends

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) —1968, the International Press Union said in a year-end report, the world was further eroded during bership of more than 1,500 publishers, editors and journalists on five continents, said in a survey signed by acting director Anthony Brock:

"Ironically in human rights year, the people's right to information, which is what press freedom means, has again suffered losses."

"Apart from more dramatic encroachments on liberty of the press such as arrest of journalists, expulsion of correspondents and closure of newspapers—and there have been many—there has been a widespread whittling away of the press' ability to fulfill its role, springing largely from lack of appreciation of what the function of the free press should be."

Czechoslovakia proved "how vital press freedom is to other human freedoms," the survey said.

LATIN AMERICA CITED

But virtually no area of the world escapes criticism. "In no less than 14 out of 27 South American countries and islands south of the United States-Mexico border, press freedom is either nonexistent, subject to restrictions which make it difficult for journalists to fulfill their role, or limited by the use of pressures."

The effects of violence on the press, and vice versa, are studied in several countries.

In the United States the survey referred to what it called "a disquieting development . . . Despite disproof of any direct connection, it has been felt that the media, by publicizing violence and (particularly in the case of television) by being present during it, in some measure incite the violence they report."

It added that following the Chicago Democratic convention-time riots, during which 34 newsmen were injured, "public opinion polls found wide support for the police action and little for the newsmen, who it was apparently felt were as much to blame for what happened as those who struck them."

READERS DON'T TRUST

Surveys made it appear that newspapers were no longer trusted by their readers "who felt that they lie, manufacture news and sensationalize what they do report."

The report said a similar reaction has been noted in West Germany following charges that "certain papers manipulate the news to achieve the effect the publishers wish."

Apart from the United States, in Germany, France, Britain and Brazil "the media have found themselves both blamed as the real instigators of violence and, sometimes in clashes with police, the object of it."

In Britain the press suffers from the low priority accorded to it in the minds of legislators, the report said.

REPORTING RESTRICTED

It criticized the Criminal Justice Act, which restricts the reporting of court evidence in some circumstances.

"The press which represents the public is still at a disadvantage compared with the institutions representing the state."

The survey said there are some hopeful signs in Portugal. "Articles, criticism and cartoons have recently appeared which would have been unthinkable earlier last year."

But it said the situation in Spain "is just the opposite." It called Greece "the saddest case among European countries with a free press tradition."

ONE OF THE IRONIES

On the situation in the developing nations, it commented: "One of the ironies of our time is that it is precisely in the Third World where good communication is most necessary that conditions for the press are often at their worst."

The survey called upon countries to adopt a draft convention for protection of journalists, prepared by the International Federation of Editors and the International Commission of Jurists.

But it admitted that it is debatable what protection it could give in such a case as that of Anthony Grey, the Reuters correspondent held by the Communist Chinese in Peking since July 21, 1967. The survey deplored "this heartless use of a journalist as a pawn in a political game."

Congress to Ponder Bills to Aid GIs, Vets

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—With the new Congress firing up for business, it won't take long for the members to introduce stacks of bills on behalf of veterans, of men and women in service and their families. And some will seek to change the draft system. As usual, few will become laws.

The big proposals to be considered for active-duty people include an overhaul of their pay system, dental care for dependents and extension of medical care for dependents of men killed in Vietnam for one year after their deaths.

There won't be as much legislation for veterans as in the past year, but an important proposal would increase the dependency and indemnity compensation for dependents of men who die of service-connected causes. They got no raise when Congress upped DIC rates for servicemen and most pensions.

No raise is in sight for those who are staying under the old pre-1960 VA pension plan and haven't shifted to the new plan.

NEW LOOK AT GI LOANS

Since the temporary authority for guaranteeing veterans' home loans at 6% per cent expires next October, Congress will have to take a look. There is talk of raising it to a more realistic 7 per cent. Another proposal in this area would raise the present limit on direct loans—in areas where conventional loans are not available—from the present $17,500 to about $20,000 or $22,000 in view of the increase in housing costs.

Congress will try to wrap up the legislation for turning over to the Veterans Administration all—or almost all—veterans and national cemeteries. A plan will be offered to untangle the complicated laws that permit men going to school under the GI bill to also accept education grants and loans under some federal programs but not others.

There will be an effort to expand the VA's contact service—people who advise veterans at the hometown level. This is limited now to one or two offices in each state.

And a fight will be made to get the long-range rehabilitation of aging hospitals—now at midpoint—back on track after a drastic budget-pinch cutback this year. This is designed to provide newer facilities and to make more beds available in this biggest program run by the VA.

PENTAGON PROPOSALS

The Pentagon is expected to push for broad help to survivors of active duty and retired military men, including these proposals:

- Raise survivor annuities to match those paid civil servants.
- Increase Servicemen's Group Life Insurance coverage from the present $10,000 limit to $20,000 to those who want it regardless of rank (a $30,000 proposal got nowhere last year).
- Revise servicemen's protection plan so the government will pay more of the costs.
- Have the government offer life insurance to retirees.

The plan to continue medical care for dependents of military men killed in Vietnam is sponsored by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services committee, so it should have a chance to get approval. Families of men killed in action are now left out in the cold medically, including hospitalized wives or children and expectant mothers.

Another pet of Rivers' is the bill to extend dental care to dependents, but that could get snagged on protests that it costs too much.

The most momentous change on tap for active duty people is the overhaul of their pay system, based on the Hubbell report for having a straight salary system rather than pay and allowances. It may take weeks or months for this to get wrapped up for Congress to consider. It would mean a raise for all, but again costs will be the big question mark.

DOWN THE DRAIN

About two dozen bills for servicemen and veterans went down the drain when the 90th Congress adjourned, but many will be reintroduced.

Rep. Thaddeus Dulski, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Post Office Committee, already has said he will try again to get free mail service for all servicemen instead of just those in combat areas. The House passed this last year but the Senate killed it.

One bill introduced late in the session by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., may come up again. It would give the civilian husbands of women in service the same status as the wives of men in service.

Unless her husband is in fact a dependent the woman in service can't get him free medical care or PX privileges and she doesn't get the added housing allowance or separation and dislocation allowances.

The retired people will try again to get their pay changes based on current military pay scales—as it once was—rather than on rises in the cost of living index. President-elect Nixon has endorsed this.

There will be may proposals affecting Reservists and National Guardsmen. Two would pay dependent allowances to reservists on six-months active duty, and permit those who qualify for retired pay to draw it at age 55 instead of having to wait until 60.

SEPARATION ALLOWANCE

And Congress probably will get around to restoring the $35 a month separation allowance to wives who lose it if they go to live with relatives when their husbands are sent to such places as Vietnam.

Odd Bits and Pieces

Should there be job training for officers about to leave service who feel their combat-oriented careers did not prepare them for the civilian world?

That's one of several questions on which the Defense Department is asking service comment in a re-study of Project Transition, which so far has been limited to enlisted men without civilian skills.

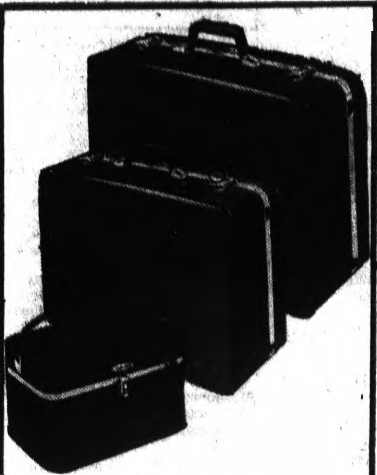

After deciding to have soldiers with special medical problems wear extra dog tags calling attention to their problems the Army ran into a dilemma.

In the combat area they jangle and give away ambush or patrol positions. Now the soldiers will get plastic cases to enclose and silence the tags.

The Cold Means Fun Time At Pontiac's Murphy Park

A Roaring Fire Helps To Fight Off The Breeze

Freezing Weather Continues in Area

The weatherman continued to give the Pontiac area the cold shoulder as temperatures again plunged toward the zero mark. A low of 10 above was recorded at 2 a.m. today.

Temperatures are expected to dive to five to 10 above again tonight.

Skies will be partly cloudy with possible snow flurries tonight through Saturday. High temperature will continue in the low 20s.

Because of the weather, 10 school districts in the northern Lower Peninsula plan to extend Christmas and New Year vacations through the weekend instead of resuming classes as scheduled.

KEPT FROM CLASS

School officials said that slippery driving and snow-clogged roads would keep students out of class at Gaylord, Ellsworth, Vanderbilt, Fairview, Wolverine, Johannesburg, Inland Lakes, Mio and Kaleva.

Swirling snow kept a Coast Guard helicopter from returning to Traverse City from Manitou Island in Lake Superior. The helicopter was dispatched there to deliver supplies to a lighthouse.

Another attempt to remove the helicopter, with five crewmen, was planned today.

Detroit Edison Co. reported that about 800 customers in Columbiaville in Lapeer County were without electricity temporarily when winds and ice attacked power lines.

SNOW FLURRIES

The weatherman said Lower Michigan would have snow flurries, mainly along Lake Michigan, that would diminish to occasional flurries today. There's a chance of some light snow in Lower Michigan tonight. The low in Lower Michigan will range from five below zero to seven above.

There's a chance of snow flurries in the Upper Peninsula today, with lows tonight ranging from zero to 12 above.

WORST ROAD CONDITIONS

The worst road conditions due to snow were reported today in western and northern Lower Michigan, and the east

Detroit Antipoverty Setup Full of Abuses, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

The 82-page report also disclosed that:

- Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.
- Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.
- Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

- The "weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit."

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent nonprofit corporation. The other is Chicago.

The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city board of education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. More than half the $15.7 million in federal funds involved went to the first group, headed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Slayer of 4 Kills Himself Czech Reshuffle Results in No Leadership Shift

WESTERNVILLE, N. Y. — Ralph MacLachlan, a former mental patient, who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a rampage last night, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

MacLachlan's wife Anita, 33, was shot as she and members of her family sat in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Turke, in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

Police said MacLachlan then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get the Pepper automobile. Mrs. Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded. Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded.

2 HIDE IN CLOSET

Two of the Pepper children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

MacLachlan, officers said, stole a Jeep from a service station and began a flight into the rough country of the Adirondack mountains that sit just above Westernville.

Early today the blue Jeep was spotted by state troopers Dominick DePaola Jr., and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.

VOLLEYS EXCHANGED

DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

No motive was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks. MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot-2 outdoorsman. He worked in Oneida, N. Y.

The wounded: Cynthia Ringrose, 11, Robert Ringrose, 36, and Perry Turke, 68, were in critical condition.

Turke's 62-year-old wife, like the rest of the injured, was shot more than once. She, however, was not listed as critical.

The Turkes, the Peppers and the MacLachlans lived side by side in the rolling, snowy hills of Westernville, their homes separated by small fields.

The officers involved in the Remsen shootout said MacLachlan never uttered a word.

County Shortchanged, Says Commission

'Road Tax Rebate Too Slim'

By JEAN SAILE

Oakland County is being shortchanged under the state's formula for disbursing state gas and weight taxes, according to the Oakland County Road Commission.

The hardest hit of all are the rural local roads which receive the least of all on a per-mile basis — $611.25 in 1966, the most recent comprehensive figure the commission has.

As the second highest contributor in the state, the county as a whole (rural and incorporated) was refunded only 39.9 per cent of the amount its residents paid in state taxes when they bought gas or license plates for their cars.

Under the state formula in effect since 1951, the county should be receiving 54 per cent. The balance is supposed to go to the State Highway Department for maintenance and construction on trunk lines.

ONLY $10.4 MILLION

Instead in 1966 county residents contributed $26.2 million and got back only $10.4 million.

The situation is getting no better.

Why is this particular county taking a shellacking?

"It just works out that way," according to two County Road Commission officials, Sol Lomerson, the newly elected chairman, and Paul Van Roekel, chief highway engineer.

Are our state legislators aware that Oakland County's roads, admittedly in poor condition, are on the short end of the stick as far as road funds are concerned?

"We don't think so."

"It didn't seem politic to bring the matter up last summer when we were asking voters for an extra mill and now we'd rather wait and seek legislative relief through the new County Board of Supervisors," said the commission officials.

Has Oakland County been shortchanged ever since 1951?

GRADUALLY WORSE

"Yes. But the payments have gradually worsened."

Why?

"The formula is based on a people-per-

Israeli Planes Raid Jordan

By the Associated Press
Israeli warplanes attacked Arab positions in Jordan today to silence guns which had fired on an army patrol, an Israeli army spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the planes roared in low over the Jordan River near Beit Yosef, 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

No further details of the attack were available immediately.

The army also said it intercepted and drove back a band of saboteurs who had crossed from Jordan into Israel near Massada, just south of Galilee last night. The spokesman said Israeli troops found an assault rifle and a bag of anti-personnel mines in a search of the area. A Jordanian army spokesman said six Israeli Mirage jets attacked the Ziglab dam in the northern Jordan Valley with napalm, rockets and machine gun fire today, but, he said, the raiders were turned back by anti-aircraft fire. The spokesman also said Israeli tanks opened fire on plantations in the Menshia area this morning.

There were no casualties in either of the attacks, he said, but a house near the dam and some plantations were damaged.

HELICOPTER ATTACK

Jordan reported earlier that armed Israeli helicopters struck at Jordanian forces in the southern desert yesterday and that a Jordanian soldier was killed. A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said that five Israeli helicopters crossed the frontier with a jet fighter escort and machine-gunned Jordanians near the frontier village of Gharandal, 40 miles north of the port of Aqaba. In addition to the soldier killed, two civilians were wounded in the attack, the spokesman said.

The attack was reported less than 12 hours after the U.N. Security Council condemned Israel for a commando raid Saturday.

Greek Airliner Forced to Cairo

ATHENS (AP) — A Greek government spokesman said a lone Greek gunman hijacked an Olympic Airways DC6 plane en route to Athens from Crete today and forced it to land in Cairo.

Earlier, an Athens airport source said the pilot of the plane had reported two Arab gunmen were forcing him to fly to Cairo.

But a government spokesman said an unidentified Greek had entered the plane's cockpit brandishing a pistol and ordered the pilot to fly to the Egyptian capital.

The plane carried 102 persons. Ioannis Georgakis, chairman of the airline, took a Boeing 707 jet to Cairo to bring the passengers back to Athens.

ONASSIS OWNER

The airline is owned by Aristotle Onassis, who interrupted a New Year's holiday with his wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, and her children on the island of Skorpios to fly to Athens.

This was the second time an Olympic Airways airliner had been hijacked and the second such incident in the Mediterranean in recent months.

27 Supervisors to Be Sworn In

The new 27-man Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be sworn into office in special ceremonies at 7:30 tonight at the County Courthouse auditorium.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen will administer the oath of office.

The first official meeting of the new board has been called for 10 a.m. Jan. 9. It is expected to be an all-day meeting since members will elect officers and set up new bylaws permitting committee structure changes.

Philip O. Mastin of Hazel Park is the Democratic nominee for chairman of the board and Alexander C. Perinoff of Southfield is its vice chairman nominee.

Republicans so far have failed to nominate any candidates for board offices.

It appears doubtful that any action will be taken the first day on pay for newly elected officials.

What could happen is that Democrats will put through the board their suggestion to appoint a blue-ribbon citizens' advisory committee for that purpose.

Senate Ratification of N-Pact Unlikely Before LBJ Leaves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty is the major task facing the new Senate, but chances for ratification before President Johnson leaves office appear slim.

Failure by the Senate to ratify the treaty, intended to curb the spread of nuclear weapons, before Jan. 20 would be a major disappointment for Johnson.

He repeatedly called for quick Senate action before Congress adjourned last October and as late as early December was still thinking of calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois has left up to Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana the decision on when to bring up the treaty.

Dirksen said in an interview he is willing to take it up as soon as organization matters have been cleared away after tomorrow's convening of Congress. Mansfield has promised Johnson to act quickly.

However, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., have prepared an attack on the Senate's Rule 22 which requires two-thirds approval of those voting to choke off a filibuster.

Dirksen said that his biennial argument over changing the Senate's rules

at the start of each new Congress could consume a week if no agreement is reached.

The Senate will swear in its new members tomorrow. There is doubt that it will reconvene after a joint session of Congress Monday to canvass the presidential election returns. Thus the battle over the rules is not likely to get under way until next Tuesday.

LONG DEBATE POSSIBLE

Beyond that, moreover, lies opposition to the treaty's terms that may spawn lengthy debate which could preclude a ratification vote before President-elect Nixon takes office.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., has asked for additional hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which already has approved the treaty. Aiken says he wants to make sure that the passage of peaceful nuclear information along to nonnuclear countries will not result in subsidizing future operations by oil combines.

The treaty, as hammered out by the Geneva disarmament conference and approved by the U.N. General Assembly last Spring becomes effective when signed by the United States, Russia and 40 other nations.

By signing, nations who possess nuclear weaponry would agree not to give have-not nations nuclear arms or any help developing them and have-nots would agree not to seek arms or know-how.

Birmingham

Traffic Light Is Slated at Hunter, Forest

BIRMINGHAM — A traffic light will be installed soon in the southbound lanes of Hunter Boulevard (U.S. 10) at Forest, the State Highway Department has announced.

The stop-and-go signal will operate in connection with a new traffic pattern at the Forest crossover, which has become a hazardous intersection, according to department officials.

By briefly interrupting southbound traffic on Hunter, the light will permit eastbound traffic on Forest to cross four lanes of Hunter and enter a new left-turn lane built in the median strip.

The lane leads to a new crossover about 200 feet south of the former Forest crossover, which has been closed. From the new crossover, traffic will turn north on Hunter to Forest.

NEW PATTERN

The new pattern, department officials said, will permit larger numbers of vehicles to make left turns from Hunter without interfering with through traffic.

H. H. Cooper, department traffic and safety engineer, said the signal was necessary because gaps in the traffic stream on Hunter were too short to let vehicles on Forest cross the boulevard with "adequate safety."

The traffic light will be synchronized with other signals on Hunter. Costs will be shared by the department and the City of Birmingham.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Birmingham Power Squadron will conduct a series of boating classes in this school district beginning Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

The classes, to be held weekly on Wednesday evenings, will take place at East Hills Junior High School, 2800 Kensington, Bloomfield Township, and will continue for 12 weeks.

The Power Squadron course covers all nautical subjects applicable to outboard and inboard boating and sailing, and will include lectures and demonstrations.

There is no charge for the classes, which are open to the public.

A Chilling End to '68

December Snowy, Icy

Oakland County residents were treated to a white Christmas, thanks to a two-inch snowfall Dec. 23 followed by below-freezing temperatures.

And the balance of the month challenged the skills of commuters as they made their way through a maze of sleet-and-snow-slicked streets and freeways.

The amount of precipitation for the month, however, fell short in rainfall and exceeded the previous December's snowfall. Rainfall for last month totaled 1.90 inches with the snowfall 8.5 inches as compared to the December 1967 accumulation of 2.90 inches of rain and six inches of snow.

Neither year challenged the record snowfall of December 1966, when 16 inches carpeted the Oakland County area.

GLOOMY SKIES
Skies during the month were mostly gloomy, as only 11 days of sunshine were charted. This was two more days of sunshine than the area received during December 1967.

Rain dampened the spirits of shoppers and partygoers on nine days during the month, much of it turning into sleet by the below freezing temperatures.

Temperatures ran the gamut during December, with a high of 48 reached Dec. 3 and a low of minus-two Dec. 31. This compared to the previous December's high of 60 and low of four below zero.

Mean reading for the month was 25.84 degrees, 4.36 degrees colder than Dec. 1967.

and west sections of Upper Michigan, State Police said.

The cold wave which broke out of the northwest early in the week and drove temperatures to their lowest marks of the season throughout the midcontinent completed a cross-country sweep and dropped the mercury near or below zero in the Northeast.

A hard freeze hit Georgia and Alabama and frost nipped northern Florida.

The U.S. Weather Bureau expected temperatures to dip to zero or below in portions of 30 states from the northern Rockies to New England and southward to North Carolina.

Biting winds drove the bitter cold onto the Eastern Seaboard. Heavy squalls along the eastern shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario dumped deep snows into portions of upstate New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

Escapes Death

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — An Acme man was reported in good condition Wednesday after narrowly escaping being decapitated. Police said William Mosher was riding a snowmobile along a snowmobile trail in Acme Tuesday night when he ran into a string of barbed wire which had been placed across the trail. Mosher suffered severe cuts on the head and neck and was hospitalized at Traverse City. An investigation was ordered.

Steel Ball Flung at Hirohito

TOKYO (UPI) — An ex-convict rose in a crowd of 14,000 persons shouting "banzai" today and fired a steel ball from a slingshot at Emperor Hirohito.

No one was hurt but it was the first time in 46 years any Japanese acted violently toward the man they once worshiped as a god.

Police arrested Kenzo Okuzaki, 48, and identified him as a convicted murderer who once told a prison guard he would die gladly if he could kill the emperor. He blamed Hirohito for World War II, police said.

Shortly after police hustled Okuzaki from the crowd below the emperor's balcony, a second man set off a smoke bomb and snaked away into the mass humanity, leaving behind a trail of pamphlets urging the abolition of the monarchy. He was not caught.

LAST ATTEMPT

1923. A would-be assassin was arrested and executed for the attempt on the then crown prince.

Today's incident took place during one of Hirohito's rare public appearances.

The emperor, forbidden to the view of Japanese until post-World War II reforms directed by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, had stepped onto a balcony of his new $36-million palace to renew the New Year's appearances he halted five years ago when work on the palace was started.

Standing with the 67-year-old monarch were Empress Nagako, Crown Prince Akihito, Crown Princess Michiko who is expecting her third child in the spring, Prince Hitachi, younger son of the emperor, and Hirohito's daughter, Princess Hitachi.

18 YARDS AWAY

The crowd and Okuzaki were 18 yards away.

The man was quoted as telling police he resorted to a "rash act" because he had grievances against them. He said he was questioned Christmas Day for a traffic violation.

Okuzaki said he fired the steel ball, similar to those used in Japanese pinball machines.

It did not reach the balcony. Okuzaki told police no one around him appeared to notice his act. They were shouting the traditional cry of loyalty to the emperor who was waving back.

DREW NOTICES

Okuzaki decided, he said, to do more. So he shouted, "Yamazaki, why don't you fire a pistol at the emperor?" This time the crowd around him noticed. Police came running.

On the balcony Hirohito gave the incident no notice. He and his family also ignored the smoke bomb.

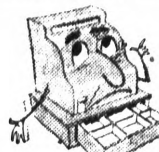

The steel ball incident came when Hirohito made the first of eight appearances on the balcony during the day. Seven more times he came back to receive the adulation of the crowd.

Palace spokesmen said 197,870 persons came to the palace to cheer the emperor.

Police said the smoke bomb consisted of two smoke candles designed to billow up when lit.

Police said Okuzaki was on their list of "dangerous persons" because of his feelings against the monarchy. They said that during his imprisonment he six times filed lawsuits for abolition of the monarchy.

Pianist Changes Concert Program

Eugene Istomin will perform the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4 with the Detroit Symphony tonight and Saturday rather than the originally programmed Brahms Second Piano Concerto.

Also, the Sibelius Symphony No. 1 will be played in place of the Beethoven Symphony No. 4, which has been rescheduled for performances on February 20 and 21.

Istomin requested the change in the concerto.

Cut Kraut Quickly

Mom Loses Her Influence

Mom is a bigger influence in a boy's clothing selection than she thinks since about three out of every four purchases of boys' apparel are made either directly by the mother or with the mother's being present at the time the purchase is made.

This fact comes from a nationwide study by the Boys' and Young Men's Apparel Manufacturers Association. Sons researched said mothers held sway 69 per cent of the time in ages six to 12, 39 per cent from ages 13 to 15, and 18 per cent for 16 and 17-year-olds.

OUTSIDE

Other influences, in order of significance: Friends and older boys, advertising and store displays, their own ideas, influence of idols such as television, movie or other entertainment or sports personalities.

Hunt on Skiers: Be Prepared

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hunt of Voorhels Road announce the birth of a son, Paul Veith, on Dec. 12. Grandparents of the infant are Mrs. Charles P. Hunt of Chippewa Road and the late Mr. Hunt.

Mrs. Percy Hunt of Onelda Road is the great grandmother.

January is National Ski Month, time to get out parkas, ski pants and boots once again. But in addition to clothing and equipment, don't overlook caring for your skin properly during this active outdoor season.

While skiing is fun, over-exposure to wintry weather can cause windburn, sunburn and chapped skin just as painful as the summer varieties. An excellent preventive is a good first aid cream, rubbed liberally on exposed parts of face and hands. For continued protection, apply again before retiring.

The antiseptic cream soothes and heals the tiny network of skin breaks that make up chapped and windburned skin. Bring a small tube from home, which you can keep in parka pocket or purse — to use as needed. The tube is unbreakable, and the cream doesn't stain, should you accidentally get some on your clothing.

It is also a good idea to take along a first aid mini-kit before setting out on a ski weekend. The kits are small enough to pop into the side pocket of your weekend case, and although miniature, contain all the basics — adhesive tape, sterile gauze pads, antiseptic cream and adhesive bandages — to treat minor mishaps that may occur.

MRS. JOHN R. GIBBENS JR.

Marica A. Olds, John Gibbens Jr. Wed in Japan

The Holy Catholic Church in Hakata, Japan, was the setting for Christmas Eve vows of Marica Ann Olds and Spec. 5 John Robert Gibbens Jr., USA.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Olds of Pioneer Street and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gibbens of Woodbine Drive.

The bride selected a white satin gown with puffed sleeves, scoop neck and high-rise waist encircled with a satin ribbon.

Her shoulder-length illusion veil was capped with a petal cluster, accented with seed pearls.

Reports on Courts for Sixty Years

JACKSON, Miss. (P) — After six decades, Mrs. Clara Sims has finally put down her stenographer's pad and retired. "Miss Clara," as she is fondly known by everyone in the Hinds County courthouse, served for 60 years as court reporter in the courts of Hinds county and Mississippi. For the past 17 years she worked for Circuit Judge M. M. McGowan.

DEAR POLLY — We have a good use for men's worn-out T-shirts. Place them upside down in your round wash basket, pull the bottom edge of the shirt around the top of the basket and you have a perfect basket liner. — T. K.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I was told never to use soap in a fish aquarium. What do you use to clean away the water line from goldfish bowls and to clean the whole bowl? — MRS. J. T.

DEAR POLLY and Bernice — I have had good results removing unpleasant odors from suitcases by putting moth flakes inside and keeping the bag closed up for about 10 days. Air it outside later. This has worked for mildew odor. — ANNE I.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Bernice who has a smoke smell in her luggage to try spraying the lining with deodorant and then leave the bag closed for a few days. I had a musty smell in a leather grip and tried a number of things before discovering this idea, which it occasionally with a sudsy sponge.

Afterwards I put a small piece of perfumed soap in each pocket and left it there. — LOIS

DEAR POLLY — Nothing will help Judy's buckling zipper in her knit top but to remove it and replace it. Be careful not to stretch the knit. The best result is obtained by doing this by hand, the way it is done in many expensive garments. — MRS. C. F. H.

DEAR POLLY — To comb or set your wig or hairpiece, you will find the handle to a regular, short-handled sink plunger fits nicely in the hole of the wig form. Moisten the rim of the plunger and put on a flat surface where the suction holds it tightly. Fasten the wig on the form loosely and you can turn it around as you work. — MYRTLE

If the children in your family forget to wash their hands before using the globe for geography assignments, wash it occasionally with a sudsy sponge.

Legislative Inertia Keeps N-Pact on Sidelines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When President Johnson sent the nuclear nonproliferation treaty to the Senate last July, heralding it as the greatest disarmament step in history, few had any reason to believe ratification would be anything but prompt and routine.

There was practically no controversy. Only marginal opposition had developed, mostly from a small group of rigorous anti-Communists — and even that was not as noisy as usual. Only two years before, the Senate had passed a resolution 84 to 0 urging Johnson to negotiate the treaty he was now submitting.

But somewhere along the way the treaty, designed to discourage more countries from acquiring the bomb, has become trapped in a whirlpool of legislative inertia caused by the presidential election and the transfer of power to a new administration.

Almost no one opposes it. But it has not been ratified and no one can say for certain when it will be.

EMBARRASSING

The Senate is in the embarrassing position of holding up for six months a treaty it requested. And the administration is trying to explain the delay to the allies whose arms had been twisted for support at Geneva.

Foreign signatories to the pact may have difficulty understanding why.

When hearings were conducted last summer, few members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee lodged any major objection. There was some grumbling that the treaty was worth less than the paper it was written on because of the untried inspection functions of the infant IAEA others contended it would perpetuate and expand the unwanted U.S. role of the free world's protector. And some questioned whether the treaty's requirement of peaceful nuclear sharing would force the nation to provide an unlimited subsidy to industry abroad.

ONLY 3 OPPONENTS

But only three senators indicated they would vote against the treaty on its merits. They contended the Soviet attitude toward such treaties in the past has been to disregard them whenever the Kremlin's self-interest dictates.

Compared to the intense controversy over the 1963 nuclear test ban treaty, which barred atmospheric nuclear explosions, the nonproliferation treaty has virtually escaped concerted opposition.

Why, then, hasn't it been ratified?

For one thing, it was sent to Capitol Hill in midsummer to an adjournment-minded Congress which was having difficulty keeping its members in town because of the coming election.

LACKED THRUST

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was in Arkansas battling for his political life. No one else seemed able to give it the necessary thrust and the treaty foundered in committee until the Senate recessed for the August political conventions.

Then came the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, frosting East West relations and causing many treaty supporters to call for a delay in ratification until the crisis had passed. Among these was Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon. Senate leaders decided not to risk defeat of the pact by embroiling it in partisan politics, so the Senate adjourned in October without acting. Johnson threatened to call the Senate back in special session but never did. Senate ratification before Nixon is inaugurated Jan. 20 because of session-opening problems that clog the legislative machinery almost as badly as at adjournment.

Now, Senate leaders have all but abandoned hopes of

Is Wall Street Trying Public's Confidence?

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Underlying many of the moves by both government and stock market officials to clear up the paper mess on Wall Street is a fear that the confidence of the public is being sorely, dangerously tried.

Should this confidence be lost the results would be disastrous for the exchange community and severely damaging to business, the dollar, the balance of payments and to American prestige in international finance.

The money that pours into the market from independent and institutional investors is offered with faith that their business will be transacted safely, efficiently and accurately. Much of this money comes from abroad.

However, the inability to handle commitments has resulted in a bookkeeping snafu at some brokerage houses that might be considered scandalous if it occurred in a related enterprise, such as commercial banking.

TOUGH COMMITMENT That commitment is a tough one. As Robert Haack, New York Stock Exchange president, commented in a year-end meeting with newsmen, no other business promises five-day delivery on orders of such magnitude.

W. Averell Harriman, the head of the U.S. delegation, expressed hope that the deadlock will be broken by the time President-elect Nixon takes office Jan. 20 "we can at least leave the new administration with talks that have started."

In a New Year's interview, Harriman said the Johnson administration's effort in 1968 "started on the road toward peace" and presents an opportunity to its successor.

Although he warned of tough negotiations ahead and would predict no timetable for the outcome, Harriman voiced hope that the Paris sessions would bring an end of the fighting in 1969.

"If there is good will—and I am inclined to think there is the necessary setting here in Paris to make progress in the coming months—I for one would hope that the fighting could stop during the year," he said.

NO PROJECTION "I am not making that as a projection," he added. "It is a hope that all of us have that a substantial number of American troops can be withdrawn early in the year and during the course of the year, as a result of the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from the South."

VC FIRE The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 60 miles north of Saigon was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Vietcong gunners also opened up on U.S. Navy river boats moving South Vietnamese troops along a Mekong Delta canal. Ten Navy men were wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were described as "light." Enemy casualties were not known.

North of Saigon at the U.S. 24th Evacuation Hospital, three 21-year-old American soldiers freed by the Viet Cong on New Year's Day were eating heartily and preparing for a quick return home.

A spokesman said the three would complete their preliminary debriefings today and would probably be aboard an evacuation flight to the United States early Friday.

They are Spec. 4 James W. Brigham, Ocala, Fla.; Spec. 4 Thomas N. Jones, Lynnville, Ind.; and Pfc. Donald G. Smith, Akron, Pa.

They were preceded by Maj. James Rowe, of McAllen, Tex., the Special Forces officer who escaped Tuesday from five years of imprisonment. He left early today.

Because of antiquated work methods, a shortage of skilled clerical help and a desire to take on as much business as possible regardless of ability to handle it, some brokers have failed to deliver in five days.

Several have been forced to curtail business, some have been forced to close offices and dismiss workers, others have found it necessary to merge, and some are refusing the unprofitable orders of small investors.

On top of all these troubles have come serious problems with regulatory agencies of the government, particularly regarding the use and misuse of "inside" information.

A PRIME EXAMPLE The predicament of the Mates Mutual Fund, considered by some measures to be among the most successful of the past year, has helped undermine confidence. Mates has been forced to suspend redemptions of its shares.

Earlier in the year this fund's record was so good that it became buried in orders and was forced to decline new business. But now it is caught in a situation where it cannot assess the value of its own shares.

The stock exchange, seriously concerned about the paper jam, has taken an almost dictatorial stance in order to bring about remedies. Potentially one of its most successful moves has been the Central Certificate Service.

This service places in central depositories most of the stock held by member firms for their customers. Whereas once these certificates were raced about town by messengers whenever a sale was made, now they remain in vaults. Ownership changes are recorded by automated bookkeeping.

NOTICEABLE MOVE The most noticeable of what the exchange says are 25 moves to correct the paper jam has been the elimination of Wednesday trading so as to give clerical help time to catch up on back work.

However, the exchange now feels that the value of Wednesday closings has become eroded and that the midweek break has come to be accepted as another holiday.

With the return to the five-day week, even though the daily gong will sound 90 minutes earlier than the old 3:30 p.m. closing, there are misgivings among securities men, including the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The big question is whether or not the brokerage firms have made enough headway in the past year, both in eliminating old work and in upgrading their facilities to handle larger volume, to resume a five-day week.

INCREASING IMPACT In a year-end statement, Haack concedes that record volume "will be felt in increasing measure on the New York Stock Exchange and other securities markets."

But Haack, who has devoted most of his first year in office to innovations and modernizing, also states that a solution to the problem of volume remains the primary task of the industry.

Whether or not the industry is up to the task may be answered in the next few weeks. The exchange is confident that it will be.

SAGINAW (AP) — Sheriff's deputies searched today for a gunman who reportedly wounded six persons at a New Year's Eve party early Wednesday and then fled.

The shooting caused chaos among the 700 to 800 persons in the Roost Party Hall, deputies said.

All six persons were reported in good condition. In addition, one other person was struck in the head with a bottle.

Deputies were investigating reports that the shooting was part of a fight involving other persons in the southwest corner of the building. Deputies found several broken bottles, broken chairs, and a knife with a seven-inch blade.

Authorities reported the persons wounded by gunshots were Anastacia Teneyrieu, 30; Ramon Yrias, 28; Carlos Roses, 23; Raymond DeLeon, 35; Daniel Carmo, 22, and Fred Teneyrieu, 30, all of Saginaw.

A — The crux of this situation lies in the amount you are willing to pay for growth.

Gross revenues have moved up consistently since 1958, but earnings have been somewhat erratic. In 1967 Inter-Island earned 46 cents a share on $9.1 million gross revenues. Results for 1968 could reach 55 cents to 60 cents on over $10 million gross. Plans call for construction to begin this spring on a fourth resort hotel to be completed in the summer of 1970 at a cost of $8 million.

Shares are traded on the Honolulu Exchange and command a multiple of 60 times estimated 1968 results.

Your firsthand observations should be of value in deciding whether you are willing to pay that kind of premium for the shares.

Q — About two and a half years ago I put $250,000 into 38 issues. Often I read advice from you and others that a portfolio should be confined to considerably fewer issues for adequate watching. Now I don't think of Inter-Island Resorts, Ltd. as an investment? Aloha.

A — The crux of this situation lies in the amount you are willing to pay for growth.

Gross revenues have moved up consistently since 1958, but earnings have been somewhat erratic. In 1967 Inter-Island earned 46 cents a share on $9.1 million gross revenues. Results for 1968 could reach 55 cents to 60 cents on over $10 million gross. Plans call for construction to begin this spring on a fourth resort hotel to be completed in the summer of 1970 at a cost of $8 million.

Shares are traded on the Honolulu Exchange and command a multiple of 60 times estimated 1968 results.

Your firsthand observations should be of value in deciding whether you are willing to pay that kind of premium for the shares.

Table Shape, Other Issues at a Standstill

PARIS (AP) — The long lull in negotiations to get the Vietnam peace talks going again persisted into the new year with Hanoi standing fast on its last proposal and the United States and South Vietnam debating whether to accept it.

It has been two weeks since U.S. negotiator Cyrus R. Vance last bargained with Col. Ha Van Lau of North Vietnam over the shape of the conference table and other issues delaying the parley.

U.S. officials said the main diplomatic activity on their side at the moment is in Saigon, where U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker has been talking with President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The Americans are anxious to get on with the four-party conference proposed by President Johnson and are less concerned than their South Vietnamese partners about prestige items. But Saigon is vigorously opposed to anything that looks like recognition of the Vietcong's National Liberation Front as anything more than a subordinate of North Vietnam.

HOPE EXPRESSED W. Averell Harriman, the head of the U.S. delegation, expressed hope that the deadlock will be broken by the time President-elect Nixon takes office Jan. 20 "we can at least leave the new administration with talks that have started."

In a New Year's interview, Harriman said the Johnson administration's effort in 1968 "started on the road toward peace" and presents an opportunity to its successor.

Although he warned of tough negotiations ahead and would predict no timetable for the outcome, Harriman voiced hope that the Paris sessions would bring an end of the fighting in 1969.

"If there is good will—and I am inclined to think there is the necessary setting here in Paris to make progress in the coming months—I for one would hope that the fighting could stop during the year," he said.

NO PROJECTION "I am not making that as a projection," he added. "It is a hope that all of us have that a substantial number of American troops can be withdrawn early in the year and during the course of the year, as a result of the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from the South."

VC FIRE The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 60 miles north of Saigon was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Vietcong gunners also opened up on U.S. Navy river boats moving South Vietnamese troops along a Mekong Delta canal. Ten Navy men were wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were described as "light." Enemy casualties were not known.

North of Saigon at the U.S. 24th Evacuation Hospital, three 21-year-old American soldiers freed by the Viet Cong on New Year's Day were eating heartily and preparing for a quick return home.

They are Spec. 4 James W. Brigham, Ocala, Fla.; Spec. 4 Thomas N. Jones, Lynnville, Ind.; and Pfc. Donald G. Smith, Akron, Pa.

They were preceded by Maj. James Rowe, of McAllen, Tex., the Special Forces officer who escaped Tuesday from five years of imprisonment. He left early today.

Authorities reported the persons wounded by gunshots were Anastacia Teneyrieu, 30; Ramon Yrias, 28; Carlos Roses, 23; Raymond DeLeon, 35; Daniel Carmo, 22, and Fred Teneyrieu, 30, all of Saginaw.

VC End Cease-Fire With Minor Clashes

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietcong's 72-hour cease-fire for the New Year ended early today, and two American bases were shelled shortly afterward. The barrages did little damage but caused some casualties, U.S. headquarters said.

No significant ground action was reported although American and South Vietnamese troops were patrolling up and down the country.

Since the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands did not declare a New Year's truce this year, there was no question of any violations. A U.S. spokesman said the war "went on at about the same level—it wasn't as bad as it has been and it wasn't as good as it could be."
