They are registered by UF staff worker Miss Barbara Zietek of 568 California Ave. Mrs. Blackburn said she wants to help repay the fund for aid given her 13-year-old boy who was stricken with polio.

U.S. Girl Beats Irish Player

Superb Play by Mary Lena Faulk Too Much for Miss Garvey

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Defending champion Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., played superb golf to crush Ireland's Philomena Garvey, 5 and 4, today and enter the quarter final round of the women's national Amateur Golf Championship.

Miss Faulk, determined to wipe out her defeat by Miss Garvey in last year's British Women's Championship, shot the front nine of the tight little Allegheny Country Club course in one-under-par 35 to lead by six holes.

Miss Faulk wavered at the start of the back 9, she "came to" on the 14th to close out the match. She finished the round on the 6,034-yard, par 36-36-73 course two over par for 14 holes.

Trim little Mrs. Roslyn (Cookie) Berger of Buffalo, N. Y., upset Miss Stewart one up, and will meet Miss Faulk in the 18-hole quarter final this afternoon.

Royal Oak Tribune Head Dies Suddenly in Hospital

Floyd J. Miller, 68, president and general manager of the Royal Oak Tribune, died today in Providence Hospital in Detroit. He made his home at 805 N. Pemberton Rd., Bloomfield Hills.

Miller had been ill from a heart ailment for several years but was taken to the hospital yesterday for treatment of what he thought was a virus condition.

With his brother, Lynn S., Miller bought the Tribune in 1919 when it was a weekly publication with a circulation of 1,200. Today, the paper has a daily circulation of 32,000.

Miller was born in Oneonta, N. Y., in 1886 and was graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1907. After a year as an instructor at Princeton Preparatory School, Princeton, N. J., he began his newspaper career as a reporter on the Hartford, Conn., Courant.

Later he worked on the Havana, Cuba, Post and the Oneonta Star (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Eden Presses for French OK on Bonn Rearmament

PARIS (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden pressed his efforts further today to sell apprehensive France on his plan for rearming Germany in the cause of Western defense.

Eden's success or failure depended on his final talks this afternoon with Premier Pierre Mendes-France, whose lack of enthusiasm for the six-nation European Defense Community helped the French National Assembly scuttle that keystone of Western policy.

In his search for a substitute for EDC, Eden has won support for his new plan from the leaders of the ill-fated European Army plan—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The British, who backed EDC but would not join it, proposed to link a rearmend West Germany and Italy to the Brussels mutual defense pact signed in 1948 by Britain, France and the Benelux trio.

The alliance presumably would operate under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which has taken over the military phases of the Brussels pact.

The big hurdle was to get France to accept such an arrangement. Eden and Mendes-France spent six hours together yesterday discussing the German rearmament issue without coming to any conclusion.

Today the fast-traveling British diplomat's schedule included: 1. An explanation of his plan to the 14-nation North Atlantic Council under Mendes-France's chairmanship.

2. A British Embassy luncheon for Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO military commander in Europe and a group of top European delegates.

3. The final talks with Mendes-France this afternoon.

Officers Deny Man's Charges

Husband Claims Wife's Relations With Police Were Improper

Charges that they carried on "improper relations" with an estranged housewife were denied yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by five Royal Oak-city policemen.

The charges against the officers were aired in a divorce action instituted by Mrs. Ellen E. Lytle of 918 N. Gainsborough, Royal Oak, against her husband Robert J.

Lytle hired a private detective agency to observe his wife's actions after the couple separated in August 1953.

In April and June of 1954 Lytle approached Royal Oak City Manager E. M. Shafter and Police Chief Ray C. Hayward with charges against the officers.

Both Shafter and Hayward testified yesterday in the case before Judge H. Russell Holland, saying, when questioned by them the officers denied the charges. Hayward said the five had spotted records.

Called to the stand by Mrs. Lytle's attorney, the officers categorically denied the allegations.

Called were four patrolmen, Robert Main, Wallace Smith, Thomas Wilson and Thomas Gorman plus Lt. Dale Williams.

The trial is continuing today with Robert Lytle expected to take the stand.

The couple are disputing custody of their 10-year-old girl and six-year-old boy.

In her bill of complaint, Mrs. Lytle set her husband's yearly income at $250,000. She stated he owns major interest in one construction company, with smaller interests in three others. He said his earnings are $5,000 per year. She asks no specific property settlement.

Lifts Specs to Find Way

HAMILTON, Ont. (UP)—Joseph McShane, 70, comes up for sentence today on charges he stole a $150 pair of reading glasses from a department store counter. At his arraignment Wednesday, McShane explained he merely took the specs "so I could see my way out of the store."

Attorney Urges Downtown Site for Courthouse

Keep Present Location, Says C. K. Patterson, Discussing Issue

Construction of a new Oakland County courthouse on the site of the present courthouse was urged today by Clarence K. Patterson, Pontiac attorney, in an interview with the Pontiac Press.

He opposes construction on a site proposed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. Financing of a new building on this site will be voted on as a special issue at the coming November election.

"The County of Oakland desperately needs a new court house," Mr. Patterson told the Press. "Not only do we need at least one more circuit judge but the quarters furnished for jurors are entirely inadequate. Because a new building is so desperately needed, I hesitate to say anything that might delay the obtaining of one."

"However, it is my opinion that it will be a mistake to place the new county building on the proposed site, that is, in the triangle created by West Boulevard and Telegraph Road."

"In arriving at this conclusion I have tried to disregard any effect that placing the county building out there would have on me personally."

"In fact, I think it would make little difference to me personally. I drive to my office every day and maintain a car downtown each day, so that I personally can furnish my transportation to and from the court house if placed on the proposed site."

"My objection is the lack of public transportation to the proposed site. I think this question has been overlooked and I think it cannot be satisfactorily answered. We must agree that a large part of our population must depend upon public transportation, and until the millennium arrives I think that will continue to be true."

"When one realizes it is proposed to place all the county offices in the new building, that is the register of deeds, the treasurer's office, the office of (Continued on Page 20, Col. 1)

Detroit Sets Sterling Example to Other Cities on Way to Integrate Races

Editor's Note: Detroit, scene of a bloody race riot 11 years ago, recently was called "the place where Negroes have the best chance of making good." How did Detroit do it? Here is the story of a northern city's progress in race relations and its current problem, pointed up by the Supreme Court desegregation ruling.

By GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT (AP)—Eleven years ago, in the midst of a global war against oppression, a tragic race riot smudged Detroit's worldwide reputation as the "Arsenal of Democracy."

Now that smudge is wearing off. Racial tensions have eased immeasurably since those sweltering days in June, 1943, when whites and Negroes engaged in pitched battles for blocks around downtown Cadillac Square.

Thirty-four persons — 25 Negroes and 9 whites—died violently, victims of gunfire, clubs and other weapons. Some were killed by police. Many were killed by

Gunman Slain as Hostage Dodges Fire

Barricaded Mental Patient Asks for Death—Is Killed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Shouting "come and get me, I want to die," a crazed carpenter pushed a woman hostage at gun point onto her front porch, then stepped through the door to his death in a hail of bullets from an off-duty policeman's gun.

H. B. Long, 42, an escapee from the Arkansas State Mental Hospital, yesterday held Mrs. A. D. Lynn captive in her home while he deliberated his next move and repeatedly shouted to police:

Link Ex-Labor Aide to Scandal

Probers Hear Junior Truman Official Spent Union Welfare Money

NEW YORK (INS) — Evidence of huge rake-offs from union welfare funds piled up today as the name of a junior cabinet member in the Truman administration was injected into the State Insurance Department probe.

Robert T. Creasey, who resigned as assistant secretary of labor on Dec. 1, 1952, was identified as the lavish spender, who used $7,822 in union welfare funds last year to join and entertain at clubs.

He drew the apparently unlimited expense allowances as the $25,000-a-year administrator for the AFL Seafarers International Union.

Testimony on his free spending was unfolded before State Insurance Superintendent Bohlinger at the hearings in the Criminal Courts Building as Creasey sat in the front row.

Heavy administration expenses for the welfare funds of Local 759, AFL International Hodcarriers Union were revealed by Milton Zipper, a certified public accountant.

He said his audit from July, 1949 to March, 1952 showed fund contributions totaling $100,495, with $28,805 spent for membership in insurance protection and $21,941 for administration expenses.

"You'll have to come get me, I want to die. I don't want to go back to that lie place."

Mrs. Lynn said, "I felt sorry for him and tried to talk him into giving up his gun. I told him that was better than death, but he wouldn't listen."

Long was on his way from his ward to the barbershop when he bolted the line and escaped. During his short-lived freedom he terrorized persons in West Little Rock by brandishing a .33 caliber rifle.

Long found Mrs. Lynn in her backyard and ordered her into the house. He asked if she knew anyone who owned a car. "I need a car to get away," he said.

Mrs. Lynn said she began dialing (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

20-Pound Minnow Lures a Whopper

SEATTLE (AP)—So you think a 20-pound fish is a pretty good catch with rod and reel?

Shucks, Jim Miniken uses those minnows for bait—but not intentionally.

Jim hooked a 20-pound ling cod while fishing in Puget Sound for salmon. He had that fish nearly to his boat when an 87-pounder of the same species gulped it. Then the big cod tried to make off with its lunch, the boat and the three men aboard.

Miniken finally got the big cod close enough so it could be gaffed whereupon it spit out the little bit 20-pounder which Miniken pulled aboard with his line.

Jailed for Giving Diabetic Drink

Boy's Life Endangered by Alcohol; Was Left Unconscious in Field

Charged with furnishing whisky to a 14-year-old diabetic boy who could have died from the drink, Thomas Winegar, 21, of 133 S. Edith St., was sentenced to 60 days in Oakland County Jail after pleading guilty before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum Wednesday.

Winegar, sought in a warrant by Pontiac Police vice squad officials since Sept. 4, was arrested at his home yesterday after several attempts by police to apprehend him.

Yesterday's sentence, also including a 60-day probation period, could be reduced to 30 days in jail if Winegar furnished a $100 fine, said Judge McCallum.

The diabetic youth, according to Lt. Davy Gilpin and Detective Herbert C. Cooley, both of the police vice squad, was confined to the hospital for a week.

The boy was left unconscious in a recreation field near McCarroll School after the drinking spree and staggered seven blocks to his sister's home the following morning, according to police. He was rushed to the hospital after suffering a seizure. Authorities said the youth was fed intravenously the entire week and the whisky could have killed him without proper treatment.

Winegar admitted in court that he knew the boy was a juvenile. Detective Sgt. Raymond Meggitt said that Winegar is still on probation for breaking an entering in the nighttime.

Seeks System to Rearm, Free West Germany

Crucial Meetings With Adenauer Will Decide That Nation's Fate

BONN, Germany (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived here from Washington by plane today for crucial talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on salvaging West German rearmament and sovereignty from the wreckage of the European Defense Community treaty.

Dulles was welcomed at the Bonn airport by the 78-year-old Chancellor.

Adenauer had left a parliamentary debate, in which Socialists were attacking his government, to greet the American.

The talks with Dulles will be decisive for Germany's fate, the 78-year-old Chancellor had told deputies before departing for the airport. In the debate, Socialists were attacking his government for what they called its "system of secret decisions."

Dulles made it clear in a statement at the airport that he was interested perhaps more in what Adenauer has to say than in any idea he may be bringing with him. Dulles commented, for example, that Adenauer's government "has consistently followed such enlightened policies that its views must now command great respect."

The French vote against EDC was taken two weeks ago when Dulles was deeply involved in arrangements for the Manila conference. Thus his mission to Europe provides the first opportunity he has had for active personal participation in the search for a new solution to the German problem.

In a statement here last night he said he was interested in the development of "steps" to restore German sovereignty and to enable her to contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security.

In his broadcast on the Manila meeting, Dulles stressed the role to be played by U. S. forces but said the treaty would not require any substantial change in American military plans.

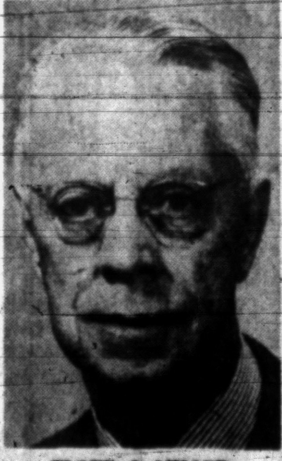

He said he had told representatives of the other seven nations at Manila that the United States has responsibilities, "so vast and so far flung" that it could best serve the cause of security "by developing the deterrent of mobile striking power, plus strategically placed reserves."

American military plans, he said, "already call for our maintaining at all times powerful naval and air forces in the Western Pacific capable of striking at any aggressor by means and at places of our own choosing."

Adams Village Model Home to Be on Display Next Week

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Coincidental with National Home Week, Sept. 19-26, the first completed model in the Adams Village 106-duplex home development will be on display daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The 36-acre tract of land, on the east side of Adams road between East Maple and Lincoln, is being developed by Reid-Paterson Inc. Single units in the duplexes may be purchased from $13,495 up. Complete buildings with two single-family units are available at $26,990 up.

Sites of the homes vary in size but are at least 137 feet in depth. Set-back lines will also be varied, and a number of floor plans will be used. A variety of exterior styles, brick and frame colonial type homes.

Each home will contain more than 1,000 square feet of floor space, and will come equipped with aluminum—storm doors and screens, disposal units, incinerators and other features. Front and side yards will be sodded.

Later on, 16 single-family homes will be constructed at the northern end of the property as part of the $15 million project, with business frontage on Adams.

To eliminate at-day parking, signs were placed on Park street between Hamilton and Oakland on Tuesday, restricting the east side of the street to two-hour parking.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said the move was made so that emergency vehicles can travel the street. Because a similar problem exists on Ann street between Frank and Purdy, Moxley said signs will be placed on the east side of Ann within a few days.

At initiation ceremonies held by OES, Ch. 220, last night, Maude Masterton assumed the office of worthy matron and Robert Dench became worthy patron. Also advanced were Bessie York, associate matron, and Elsie Ekerson, conductress.

Agnes Puls, former worthy matron, assumed the station of associate conductress for the evening.

Autumn field expeditions for junior members of Cranbrook Institute of Science will begin this Saturday. Walter P. Nickell, institute naturalist, said registration for the five trips will be held from 9 to 11 a. m.

The group, limited to junior members over 11 years old, will explore sites in Michigan, neighboring states and Canada for the study of animals, wildflowers, rocks, minerals and fossils.

Membership in the institute is open to the public at a nominal fee. Further information may be obtained through Nickell.

Members of Circle 2 of the Congregational Church will hold a pie sale at the church tomorrow.

An all-church dinner is planned for 6:30 tonight at the church. A congregational meeting will follow the dinner and group singing.

The City Commission will continue in its endeavor to have 14 mile road extended between Southfield and Cranbrook roads. Commissioners this week authorized the city manager or attorney to take the proposal to the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Lawmakers are concerned over what will happen when the new home development on the former Mercer Farms property is opened, since Lahar road is now the only opening to the west.

Unit VI of the League of Women Voters will meet at the home of its secretary, Mrs. E. H. Olson of Winthrop Lane, from 8 to 10 tonight. Chairman of the group, under the new unit system, is Mrs. R. F. Knudsen.

3 Birmingham Youths Fined for Stealing Beer

BIRMINGHAM — Pleading guilty to a charge of larceny, three Birmingham youths were fined a total of $60 plus $15 costs by Justice John J. Gaffill yesterday.

Philip M. Reilly, 19, of 983 Kennewas, John Clarke, 18, of 792 Willets, and Robin Mitchell, 18, of 1128 W. Maple, admitted stealing a case of beer from Thurston's Market, 1056 S. Woodward, on Tuesday. They dropped the case when a clerk spotted them and gave chase.

Railroad Employs TV to Check Freight Yard

LOS ANGELES — The Southern Pacific is testing use of television as an aid to railroad freight yard operations.

Two TV cameras have been installed atop the general yardmaster's tower 60 feet above the yard, along San Fernando Road. One has a wide lens; the other a telescopic lens.

A viewer at the desk of terminal superintendent G. J. Matt gives him a wide picture of car movement, make-up of trains and switching operations in the 40-track yard. At the press of a button he can get a close-up of operations 2,000 feet away.

Members Night to Attract 1,500 to Science Institute

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — It will be "Members Night" at Cranbrook Institute of Science tomorrow, the once-a-year program for more than 1,500 enthusiasts in the field of natural science.

Fascinating new exhibits will be on display, a trading post will be open to collectors and junior members, and a television-inspired identification game will test the knowledge of participants.

One of the main attractions will be the first demonstration of the institute's newly acquired Spitz planetarium, only such instrument that has the new planet projector. Eventually it will be housed in its own building there.

Live parakeets of various sizes and strains will be one of the exhibits.

Perhaps the most interesting display is entitled, "Life in a Beehive." This is an original exhibition, three times life size. It depicts a colony of wild bees living in a tree hollow.

One of the things it will show is the specialization of labor, at which bees are so efficient.

Preparator James Carmel says one of the best collections of Moro brass in existence may be seen, along with a small showing of Kachina, doll-like figures representative of the Hopi Indian gods. Films will be shown in the auditorium.

The unnamed owner of the car told police he and his wife had stopped at the station for gas on the way home from visiting friends in Royal Oak.

The young man said he asked for the time, and Howe replied that it was about 2 a. m. They then drove to Keego Harbor to pick up their baby, who had been left with a brother-in-law.

The family there said the couple arrived at between 2:10 and 2:30 a. m.

Holmquist said no new clues had been uncovered, in talks with close friends of the victim.

Crazed Runaway Seeks, Finds Death

the telephone but Long suddenly jerked the receiver from her hand. "I've changed my mind," he told her.

A neighbor, A. Lewis, had heard the commotion in the yard and called police.

A dozen officers surrounded the house and called to the man to surrender. When Long refused a policeman asked if he would free Mrs. Lynn.

Long then began marching Mrs. Lynn through the house and onto the front porch. Mrs. Lynn walked calmly — "as if she were on her way shopping," one officer said — although Long was behind her with a gun at her back.

Mrs. Lynn said as she walked into the yard, "not daring to think," she sensed a swift movement behind her and fell to the ground. She fell only a few feet in front of Long as Gene Smith, an off-duty policeman, opened fire.

Long fell under a fusillade of six shots—only one missed the target.

As he rolled to the ground, he groaned.

"Thanks fellows... That's good enough. It's just what I wanted."

A moment later he was dead.

Europe No Market for Dairy Surplus

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (U-P)—Two of the nation's dairy leaders say Europe presents a very poor market for surplus U. S. dairy products. Prof. Paul Weaver, of the Michigan State College dairy department and Dr. W. H. Weaver, research director for the Michigan Dairy Assn., said they found on a tour of France, Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark, Switzerland and England that these countries have their own dairy surplus problems—and are looking for markets themselves.

Tax Collector Parleys Penny Refund Into $20

GREEN BAY, Wis. (U-P)—Gus Ernst's laugh on the federal tax department turned into a sour-grapes frown. Ernst figured the government owed him one cent when he filed his income tax. He put in a claim for a refund, planning to have a chuckle or two showing a one-cent check to friends. "Your application for a refund has been received. However, on checking your return, we find that the mileage allowance was computed erroneously. Please remit an additional $20."

Woman Pins Tax Plea on Household Problems

MIAMI, Fla. (U-P)—So you think you have troubles? Asking for a tax reduction on her house, a young woman who described herself as a family breadwinner gave the tax equalization board these reasons: The house is falling down. The furniture is coming apart. Noisy trucks drive past at all hours. Noisy airplanes fly over the house. Nobody will buy the house under any conditions.

Body Declines After 30

LINCOLN, Neb. (U-P)—Life may begin at 40, but Helen Becker, extension health specialist at the University of Nebraska says, "our body begins to grow old at 30."

Miss Becker said she got her information from an "old-age expert" at the national heart institute. Regardless of the statement, people are living longer all the time, she said. The average age at death is now 69.8 years, compared with 63 years just a decade ago.

PORTABLE HOUSE—Two women demonstrate portability of a 300-pound German folding house which can be folded on trailer and taken to camping and weekend sites.

Sudan Steps Up Housing With Dirt—Cement Blocks

KHARTOUM (UP) — The Carls-tein block press—a South African invention that compresses earth into house-building blocks—is being tried out by the Sudanese government with a view to stepping up the country's lagging housing program.

The blocks, containing only nine per cent cement are being used in this house-building experiment at Omdurman. The project is relatively small but rather ambitious.

Each of the 24 houses, designed by the Sudanese public works department and being built from the earthen blocks, will have two rooms of 15x12 feet, a third room 15 x 9-6, a kitchen, shower bath and a simple septic tank latrine.

The total cost of each house is expected to be about $1,120,—some $560 lower than the nearest contractor's price.

The Sudanese government had found it necessary to find means to provide adequate but cheaply built homes to keep their housing program abreast of the steady drift of people from country areas to the towns.

In this vast country of scattered communities struggling against the natural poverty of a land, many parts of which are desert or swamp, the fundamentals of any building program—speed, simple erection and costs—have jostled each other toward an impasse which only the government's present action can help to overcome.

Manufacturers of the Carls-tein block press claimed that their machine could double the Sudan's building rate and reduce costs.

A number of the presses, manufactured in the Kimberly factory of the South African engineer of Swedish origin who invented the machine, J. B. Carls-tein, have been used successfully in South Africa for about three years. The Sudan was the first country outside the Union to use it.

The press is of simple design and the motivating power is compressed air. The daily seven-hour output of a Sudanese operator averages 800 blocks. An automatic reloading system enables the machine to maintain continual production.

Cat Out 5 Nights Has Good 'Alibi'

PERU, Ill. (U)—Wandering "Ratzy," a pure white cat owned by Mrs. William Janz, is back home after five nights out with a reasonable reason.

Ratzy was let out on a hot night and failed to wake up the family with its usual meows the following morning. A town-wide search failed to locate the cat. A passer-by noticed a white cat on a roof a block away from Ratzy's home. It was Ratzy. The cat had climbed a pole about two feet from a building, jumped onto the roof but had been unable to make it back the same way.

Anyone who kills a horned toad in New Mexico, sells it or transports it out of the state is subject to a fine of $100 or a 60 day jail sentence.

Your Guess Is Good Why Call It Texas?

TEXAS, N. J. (U)—No oil, no cotton, and no great big wide open spaces. Just a little community of 100 people or so living in rural part of Madison Township—that's Texas, N. J.

You'll find it on some maps. It's in Middlesex county, about 30 miles southwest of New York City. Nobody hereabouts knows exactly how the hamlet, or the road by the same name running through it, got their names.

Oysters Lead Perilous Lives

Many Come to Table, but More Are Caught by Natural Foes

WASHINGTON — The oyster, despite its sedentary habits, leads a perilous life, from spawning to harvest.

With September, the first "r" month, the succulent mollusks are again in season. But the oysters found in raw bars, stews, Oysters Rockefeller, and scalloped, panned and fried dishes account for only a tiny minority of the enormous potential supply.

For every oyster that lives to maturity, a million or more are lost, the National Geographic Society says.

Natural enemies gobble up the larvae as they swim about for a brief period of freedom before attaching themselves to some solid object at the bottom of a bay or estuary. After the "settling," predators get to the soft body even behind its armor of shell.

The oyster drill, a small snail bores through the hard outer covering. Drumsfish, skates and other rays crush the shells between grinding teeth. Conchs chip away at the oyster's bill (opposite the hinge), to make an entrance.

Starfish pry the shells apart with arms equipped with suctionlike cups, then turn their digestive mechanism inside out to absorb the flesh.

Yet the prolific oyster has survived from the earliest times. That it has long provided food for man is proved by huge mounds of shells left near prehistoric settlements along European and American shores.

The Chinese cultivated oysters in the pre-Christian era, and the early Romans regarded them as a great delicacy.

Today, scores of oyster species grow in natural or cultivated beds from China and Japan to northern Europe and South Africa.

The United States is by far the world's leading producer and consumer, although output has dropped sharply from the 19th Century high mark—the result of over-harvesting, pests, pollution and wasteful operations.

Bob Considine Says:

Even in Day of Socrates Juveniles Were Problem

NEW YORK (INS)—Of all the mail received during a recent plunge into the matter of juvenile delinquency, the most encouraging letter came from a student at Ohio State University, name of Robert T. Henkel.

In a concise note suggesting that perhaps the picture isn't as dark as it has been painted, Henkel plucked two lively quotes out of the files:

"Our earth is degenerate in these latter days. There are signs that the world is coming to an end. Children no longer obey their parents. Everybody wants to write a book. The end of the world is near."

And: "The children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority, they show disrespect for elders, and love chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants, not slaves."

"They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, cross their legs and tyrannize over their teachers."

The first quote is from an Egyptian priest, circa 400 B. C. The second is from Socrates.

Our thinking in respect to the use of atomic weapons appears to have undergone a positive change in a very recent period.

The Air Force Association's statement of policy, as spelled out at the association's meeting in Omaha, says, "Our national policy must clearly define nuclear weapons as legitimate and conventional instruments for resisting aggression, or the free world's temporary advantage in weapons technology will continue to be seriously compromised."

This policy was the work of a committee which included Generals Carl A. Spaatz, George E. Kenney, Jimmy Doolittle and C. R. Smith. The statement had hardly penetrated the surface of our national thinking when Walter Bedell Smith swung into line and asked:

"Are free men, in their defense, to be prevented from using the instrumentalities brought forward out of this technical inventiveness because of the brooding misgivings and distortion of purpose?"

We have gone beyond timidity based on moral considerations, as Dr. Teller swept past the hesitant Professor Oppenheimer in the historic matter of whether or not to go ahead with the H-bomb.

Atomic warfare in the field and in the air is now so thoroughly a part of our military planning that some of the more readable text books are reaching the civilian surface.

Of these the most digestible seems to be "Atomic Weapons in Land Combat," by Colonel G. C. Reinhardt and Lt. Col. W. R. Kintner, (Military Service Publishing Co., Harrisburg, Pa.).

Batteries of atomic cannons loom as a dam against the Red Army in Europe. A handful of them would make Formosa virtually impregnable.

Sheppard Willed Wife's $9,100 Estate

CLEVELAND — Marilyn Sheppard bequeathed all of her possessions to her husband, the handsome Bay Village osteopath who is charged with murdering her. This was disclosed yesterday when her father-in-law, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, filed her will in probate court. The will was dated last Feb. 28, which was 132 days before she was bludgeoned to death in her bed the morning of July 4.

Her husband, Dr. Samuel H.

Dodge Mansion Becomes Court

Family Matriarch, 81, Defends Her Handling of Auto Fortune

DETROIT — Mrs. Anna Thompson Dodge yesterday defended the administration of a $7 million dollar fortune left by her husband in the midst of palatial splendor created by the fortune. In deference to the age of the 81-year old matriarch of the automotive family, Probate Judge Patrick O'Brien moved his courtroom to a parlor in the 30-room Dodge estate overlooking Lake St. Clair. Mrs. Dodge's granddaughter, Mrs. Christine Cromwell Asserson, has challenged the joint trusteeship of Mrs. Dodge and the Detroit Trust Co. over the fortune of the late automobile pioneer Horace E. Dodge Sr. The suit began last May but was suspended when Mrs. Dodge's attorney contended she was too ill to appear before Judge O'Brien — himself an octogenarian. Accompanied by court aides and attorneys, Judge O'Brien yesterday took the hearings on the Asserson suit to the Dodge mansion. Mrs. Dodge whooped gleefully when lawyers for Mrs. Asserson charged she had received a tax-free income of 75 million from the estate over the years she has served as a trustee. Judge O'Brien upheld her refusal to produce records of her income from the estate. Mrs. Dodge was asked mainly about her private finances. Once she lost her patience. She raised her voice at attorney Victor Levine of New York — one of the four lawyers who spoke for the absent granddaughter. Mrs. Asserson, 31, a resident of the Virgin Islands, contends the estate has been administered too conservatively. She already has borrowed three million on the strength of the one-fourth of the trust she will receive on the death of her grandmother. Judge O'Brien adjourned the hearings until Friday.

200 More Allied Bodies Returned by Communists

SEOUL — Two hundred more Allied dead were returned to-day from Communist soil in the 16th day of the armistice body exchange. The 200 included 15 American and 185 Allied bodies unidentified as to nationality. The U.N. Command delivered 400 Communist remains. The exchange is past the halfway mark, with 3,300 Allied bodies and 7,600 Communist bodies returned.

Audrey Joyce Geasler Wed

First Methodist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Audrey Joyce Geasler and Richard LaVerne Zumbrennen.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Levi Geasler of Holbrook avenue and he is the son of Daniel Zumbrennen of West Walton boulevard.

For the 8 o'clock ceremony the bride wore a gown of white tulle over taffeta. The skirt was waltz length and the bodice was fashioned of Chantilly lace.

Antique Fair Will Open Sept. 23

It's antique fair time again. Sharing this general opinion about one of the favorite activities of the autumn is the Michigan Animal Rescue League, Inc. of Pontiac.

Members of the league have planned a benefit Antique Fair for September 23, 24 and 25 at Will-O-Way Playhouse, the summer theater on West Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills.

Antique furniture along with glassware, old books and many decorative items will be featured in the show.

Patrons for the event are Mrs. Carl O. Anderson, Mrs. Walter D. Appel of Orchard Lake, Mrs. William Armstrong Browne of Rochester, Mrs. LeRoy Braisted of Birmingham, Mrs. Max Colter of Bloomfield Township and Mrs. Frances Covert of Rochester and Mrs. O. L. Beaudette.

Others are Mrs. Dexter M. Craig of Birmingham, Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald of Birmingham, Mrs. William R. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Graham John Graham of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Campbell Harvey of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Laura Butler Higbie of Metamora, Jeannette Hubbard of Birmingham and Mrs. Albert J. Kimball.

The patrons list also includes Mrs. Frank Lambert of Clarkston, Mrs. Henry Ledyard of Metamora, Mrs. John D. Millis, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. McCornac of Rochester, Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, Mrs. Clarence Patterson of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Donald S. Patterson of Birmingham and Mrs. John Patterson.

Continuing on the list are Mrs. John C. Plassey of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Parker of Metamora, Mrs. Aaron D. Riker of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Clare Scriven, Mrs. Graham Shinnick of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maxon Smith of Romeo, Mrs. Harlan S. Smith and Mrs. Cramer Smith of Rochester.

According to members of the league, last year's show was a success and they hope to exceed their goal again this year so that construction of the proposed new shelter can begin soon.

Officials say that although the league has no centrally located headquarters, the home finding committee has had exceptionally good results in placing animals. Committee members wish to emphasize that a shelter, run by a humane society, is needed in this fast growing area.

The league has many unique ideas to put into effect when the shelter is completed. Among them is a new method of tracing lost pets.

A fireside tea will be a special attraction of the show. Baked goods will be a part of the show for the first time this year. The hours are from 11 a. m. through 10 p. m.

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald of Birmingham, Mrs. C. K. Patterson of Dow Ridge and Mrs. Harlan S. Smith of Cherokee road, (left to right) begin a check of the list of those who will serve tea at the Antique Fair sponsored by the Michigan Animal Rescue League. The fair will be held at Will-O-Way Playhouse Sept. 23, 24 and 25 from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Shoe Profiles Change in Conforming to New Lightweight Trend

Don't Use Vinegar in Plaster

Other Hints for the Handyman Found Here, Too

By HUBBARD COBB

While it's possible to slow up the time it takes Plaster of Paris to set by adding a little vinegar, this does not produce the best kind of plaster. Better to either use patching plaster or not mix more Plaster of Paris than you can use in ten minutes.

Putty does not stick well to raw wood. If you can't, for some reason or another, prime the wood then use a wood filler such as plastic wood that will bond to raw wood.

When it comes to painting galvanized iron, your best bet is first to apply a single coat of zinc dust primer. This will bond to the zinc coating on the steel far better than ordinary types of metal primers. It can also serve as a finish coat.

Kitchen drawers are easier to clean if the bottom and sides are lined with linoleum.

Cracks that can't be filled with caulking compound from a caulking gun or caulking tube can be filled with bulk caulking compound applied with a putty knife.

Small scratches in a lacquer finish can be concealed by running lacquer thinner along the scratch. This will soften up the lacquer on each side and allow it to run back together. You need only a small amount of thinner—nail polish remover will do.

If you break your glasses, you don't need a prescription to get a new pair. Any eyewear shop can duplicate the lens if a major portion or even fragments of the broken glasses are available.

Town shoes follow the clothing trend to trim lines, simpler designs and darker tones. This fall and winter the outstanding shoe models for town and business spotlight the conservative straight tip in smooth leather (A), new low upper with two eyelet tie (B), popular grain leather (C), classic wing tip model (D), unusual scallop wing tip (E), popular moccasin type blucher (F).

Slip-on shoes place particular emphasis upon comfort. Models are varied for casual wear and in the suburbs and for active and spectator sports. The leading slip-on models are shown in a variety of leathers. These include smooth black calf (G); luxurious alligator (H), and smooth glove-like leather (I), classic moccasin (J), slip-on variations in smooth and grain leather, (K,L,M).

Darker Tones, Lighter Weight Take Over Season's Shoes

The lightweight shoe in a darker tone is the big style trend in shoes for fall '54. Styles give emphasis to less bulkiness as found in shoes of past seasons.

The profile of shoes is also changing drastically to conform to this new trend. Uppers are low cut this accentuating the new, lighter weights. Sales of flexible construction are gaining steadily in popularity.

Cashmere soft grain leathers in colors ranging from natural camel color down through dark wine or burgundy and black are an important aspect of fall '54 shoes. Soft leathers provide greater comfort in town and casual models.

For business, black, dark shades of wine and deep mahogany harmonize with fall clothing.

In addition to black, dark shades of wine or burgundy and deep mahogany make handsome companions to the new fall suit tones. Style-wise, the refinement that is apparent in fall clothing has resulted in greater simplicity in shoe design.

There is a tendency for businessmen to dress more in leisure types of shoes. For them shoe designers have modified many of their casual shoe styles, giving them neater and trimmer lines, so they can also be worn for business, in suburban areas especially. The moccasin eyelet blucher model with moccasin toe is an example of the more casual business shoe.

Still later she went to work for the telephone company to recoup the loss of a summer's allowance spent in one month on clothes.

With that employment record behind her it is not surprising that one of the capital's most eligible young women is carving a niche in television for herself—and raking in some of those valuable bills that bear her mom's signature.

Pat appears on a local TV disc jockey program a total of 2½ hours a day. She chats with the "jockey," sings a recorded song in pantomime and plugs the virtues of a fingernail polish.

Pat, petite and with blonde hair cropped short in a severe Italian cut, likes television so much she may discard ideas of going to Marjorie Webster Junior College next fall.

Aside from trying to stretch her wardrobe to cover all the functions she is invited to, Pat's main problem is keeping her beaux happy.

Apology Is All That's Necessary

Accidents Happen, the Solution Is to Forget

By EMILY POST

A daughter writes: "For my mother's birthday, father bought an extremely beautiful and expensive vase made out of antique china which she had admired very much. Several days later a neighbor came in for a chat and accidentally brushed against it, breaking it into thousands of tiny pieces so that it was beyond repair.

The next night this same neighbor came in and brought mother a cake she had baked, explaining again how sorry she was for the damage done. Evidently she meant this cake as payment for the vase, and does not intend to replace it.

I think she is definitely under obligation to do so. My father thinks that as it was an accident there is absolutely nothing to do but forget it. What is your opinion?"

I agree with your father.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to offer congratulations to the parents of the bride and groom at a wedding? I hear wedding guests say this very often and to me it does not seem right. Will you please tell me if such a greeting is proper, and if not, what is the correct thing to say to the parents of the bride and groom?

You don't congratulate them. You say, "How lovely Mary looks." "What a handsome couple they are." "How lovely your daughter-in-law is!"—in other words something appreciative about the bride and groom.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have just received a printed announcement of the opening of a medical office by my niece's husband. Will you please tell me if this requires any acknowledgment? My husband thinks we should send flowers of good luck.

It is not necessary to send flowers. The point of his sending you a notice is that he hopes you will send for him when you are ill!

Teens Like Big Wallets That Double as Handbags

ALL OVER the country, teenagers are in favor of oversized wallets which actually hold as much as a handbag. Tucked in a pocket notebook or knitting box, they are stuffed with everything from photographs to jewelry.

One wallet we've seen has a pass-case which contains an accordion-style arrangement for pictures instead of the customary windows—open the snap, and a long stream of pictures unfolds something like the short-sleeved bills carried by our servicemen.

Another favorite resembles an elongated French purse with two pockets—one for currency, the other for cosmetics. A zipper section holds keys, money, pictures and identification.

A third is made of soft leather, shaped like a small paper bag. It can be folded in half, or used like a poke. An outside coin purse eliminates fumbling.

A feature most convenient is the expendable tab holding one wallet together; no matter how jam-packed, the billfold never pops open because hidden elastic adjusts to the proper size.

Bright colors seem to be most popular for both school and dress-up occasions. Often gold embossing or jewelry trims are used, such as seed pearls, colored stones, even seashells.

For fall and back-to-school time, there's news in patent leather, black suede, kid leather, "antique" and luster-toned calfskins, and dark, glossy shades which correlate with gray flannel skirts and tweed suits.

A simple thing like changing the part in your hair may be all you need to give your spirits a lift. Next time you shampoo your hair, experiment. The suds will help you to mold the hair.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The mother who turns a young child loose to handle the merchandise in a store while she shops is saying in effect: "It's all right for you to make a nuisance of yourself."

In spite of the well-known slogan, the customer isn't always right.

The Great Lakes have an estimated 55,000 square miles of deep water.

Mom Is U.S. Treasurer, but Pat Earns Her Money

WASHINGTON (INS) — Having your mother treasurer of the rich United States isn't as much of an asset as you might think. Patricia Ann Priest, daughter of Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, gets as broke as any other 17-year-old, and when this happens she goes without or goes to work.

Currently she is working — and buying all the clothes necessary for a pretty popular debutante in Washington.

Pat's resourcefulness was displayed at the age of 10 when she donned blue jeans and baggy shirts to join her friends in berry and bean picking on farms around her home near Salt Lake City, Utah.

"We worked all day for 60 cents," she laughed. "Sometimes, on an especially good day we would make as much as $1.50."

Later the blue-eyed miss with freckles hired herself out as a fountain girl at a Salt Lake ice cream parlor.

On Psychiatrist's Couch

Writer Imagines Dramatic Solutions to His Problems

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—It is, of course, the sign of an immature mind. Don't you agree, doctor?

But then my mind has always run in that direction. Every time—just a second, I want to turn and get more comfortable on this couch—every time some problem comes up, I immediately begin imagining the most dramatic solution possible.

An inability to face reality, to accept the world the way it is? Yes, I quite agree. That's been my trouble. For example, what other grown man would have the same reaction to the day's news?

I read that Louis Wolfson is getting ready to battle Sewell Avery for the control of Montgomery Ward. My eye looks up from the paper and out the window.

A fight for control of a billion-dollar corporation. Both men battle for the stockholders' votes. Each fails to get a decisive majority. The tension rises. How do you settle this?

Outside, silhouetted against a harvest moon, a lonely farm boy plays a haunting tune of his own making on a mail-order saxophone. And inside, Avery and Wolfson deal out a game of two-handed showdown. The first ace wins Montgomery Ward.

See what I mean, doctor? Totally unrealistic.

The last time the auto workers in Detroit demanded a pay raise, I immediately saw a titanic struggle in the making. Collective bargaining failed. The strike deadline came closer. The spectre of closed factories, stilled assembly lines and more than 1,000,000 jobless men dipping into the cookie jar for grocery money became stronger and stronger.

Federal conciliators step in. They fail, too. Each side refuses to budge. What to do? Only one thing to do. In some neutral area, the corner of a desk top is cleared, and Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, and Walter Reuther, president of the CIO Auto Workers, sit down to an Indian wrestling match.

As their muscles tighten, as drops of perspiration began to glide down their foreheads, as their locked forearms sway first to the left and then to the right, a lonely night watchman in a darkened factory begins to beat drumsticks in a slow, sad rhythm on the fish-tail of a half-finished Cadillac.

Irrational? I know. I know, doctor. But that's not the worst of it. The picture I've been visualizing lately is really insane. Anybody who knows anything knows it can't happen.

After being more than eight games out, the Milwaukee Braves begin to pull up. On the last game of the regular season, they tie the Giants for the National League pennant. Comes the playoff, best two out of three.

The Giants win the first. The Braves win the second. It is now third game and the bottom of the ninth, the Giants leading 4 to 2. Johnny Antonelli, whom the Giants got in a trade with Milwaukee for Bobby Thomson, is pitching.

There's one out. The Braves get a man on first and third. The winning run is at the plate. And who comes to bat? Doctor, I'm so excited, I'll roll off this couch. Who comes to bat?

Bobby Thomson! That's who comes to bat. Yep, the same man who hit the homer that won the pennant under the same conditions.

for the Giants in 1951. That's who comes to bat. Isn't it utterly insane?

We're both in bad shape.

Organized Industrial Districts Urged

CHICAGO (UP)—Communities and industries alike can benefit from establishment of organized industrial districts, according to the American Society of Planning Officials.

Such districts should be subdivided and developed according to a comprehensive plan for buildings, rail and street transportation and utilities, the society said.

A district such as this can be a major tool in orderly community development. It offers many inducements to industries.

The society said industrial districts require a "reasonable" tax situation, good transportation and marketing facilities, an adequate supply of soft water, good storm drainage facilities for disposal of industrial wastes, and adequate gas and electricity with capacity for expansion.

Young Man Writes to Old Time School

CLINTON, Mo., (AP)—Lee Klutz of the local post office staff lifted an eyebrow when a letter arrived the other day, addressed to Baird College, Clinton, requesting a catalogue.

Answering, Klutz took it on himself to enlighten Harold Erinholtz of Ada, Okla., about the girl's school.

For one thing, the rules were strict—girls were not permitted to correspond with young gentlemen without parental authorization. And man callers at the campus called forth at least one chap-eron.

There were additional details, including the fact the school closed 50 years ago.

It would cost $100,000 to fire all the guns of the battleship Missouri for one minute.

Farmer Freed in Eviction Case

Judge Directs Acquittal of Lawrence Weston for Insufficient Evidence

CHARLOTTE (UP) — One of seven farmers accused of obstructing justice during an eviction attempt in Lapeer County two years ago was acquitted Wednesday at the direction of Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

Quinn directed the jury to acquit Lawrence Weston, 65, North Branch, because he saw no evidence to warrant continued charges against him.

The six defendants still faced with the charges were Harold Jarvis, 38, North Branch; William Howard, 76, Clifford; Ray Warner, 71, Inlay City; Howard Abbott, 46, Columbiaville; Henry Trainor, 76, Brown City; and William Lee Mathews, 60, Brown City.

They were charged with roughing up Lapeer County Sheriff Clark Gregory when he attempted to serve an eviction notice on the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens June 2, 1952.

The defendants admit fighting with the sheriff but claimed they were trapped into it. They said the battle was arranged by Gregory to gain publicity.

The principal defense witness Wednesday was Edwin C. Russell, who now is serving a sentence at Jackson prison on a similar charge.

Russell testified that Gregory had told him the fight was "all arranged" on the morning of the attempted eviction. He also said prosecuting attorney George Lutz told him he would have a better chance for parole if he would change his testimony.

Both Gregory and Lutz denied Russell's testimony.

ROCHESTER — More than 400 Rotarians from southern Michigan and Ontario gathered last night in the Rochester High School gym to welcome a new club to the Rotary International, and take part in the Charter Night rites for the new Rochester Rotary Club.
