

State House Slates Tax Reform Vote Today

ONE COLOR

LANSING (AP) — Dropping broad hints that a cutback in state services might follow rejection of their income tax package, House Republican leaders scheduled a vote on the fiscal program today.

Rejection, however, appeared likely if the Republican-drafted package is how before the House came to a vote.

Six Republicans oppose the bills —

which would rewrite Michigan's tax structure and impose the first state income tax.

That means six Democratic votes would be needed for passage of the bills — and House Democratic leaders have taken elaborate steps to prevent individual Democrats from voting for it. Majority House Republicans caucused yesterday and decided to have another shot at passage of the GOP program. They also agreed that if it was defeated, they would consider cutting Gov. George Romney's recommended $1.153 billion budget for the year which begins next month.

'NOT A THREAT'

"I'm not inclined to believe this is a threat," said House Speaker Robert

Waldron, the chamber's No. 1 Republican.

But at the same time, Waldron said there was considerable Republican sentiment for budget cuts, and added he would have to "review" his earlier assertions that getting an "austerity" budget through the Legislature was impossible.

Previous GOP efforts to get their own tax program through the House have been stymied by refusal of the six Republican holdouts to support it. Waldron said yesterday he doubted if any of the six would change their minds today.

That left the fate of the Republican tax program in the hands of the Democrats, who have taken four separate caucus positions designed to keep party members from voting for it.

"I hope they won't get any Democrat votes, and I don't think they will," said House Democratic leader William Ryan of Detroit.

The package now before the House would levy income taxes of 2 1/2 per cent on individuals, 5 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions.

City General Budget and Tax Rate Hiked

The City Commission last night approved the second revision of the year in the 1967 general fund budget and authorized a resolution setting the 1967 tax rate at $18.02 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized, up 24 cents per $1,000 over last year.

In discussing the budget, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said that a new tax proposal will soon be presented to Pontiac voters.

He warned that the city is now negotiating with employee groups, demanding for pay raises are expected and voters will have a choice of either a new tax or a reduction in services provided by the city.

The revision in the city's appropriation ordinance allocates $8,290,331 for the general fund budget.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-5

as equalized. The chief difference is that last year the city levied 1.91 mills for sanitation and waste collection and this year will levy 2.21 mills.

SEPARATE LEVY

The sanitation and waste collection tax is levied separately from the general fund levy. Appropriations for the sanitation fund are larger this year because of employee salary increases and because administrative costs which had previously come out of general fund were transferred, Edward R. Gallagher, director of finance, said.

The budget was revised early this year to reflect more than half-million-dollar wage hikes for municipal employees and the transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to Oakland County ownership.

The latest revision—increasing the general fund budget by nearly $266,000—was necessary because of increased equalized valuation, higher gas and weight tax receipts than anticipated and "discovery" of accumulated interest on deferred paving assessments over a period of years.

Appropriations to cover costs of the $12.3 million total budget calls for a $12.71 levy per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

French Leader Accuses Israel

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle accused Israel today of starting the Middle East war June 5.

Speaking to his Cabinet, he said France "condemns the opening of hostilities by Israel."

Up to now France has avoided putting the blame on either the Israelis or the Arabs.

At the same time, de Gaulle declared that the world is threatened by spreading conflicts, and he asserted that peace can only be saved if the United States gets out of Vietnam.

He blamed the war on American intervention.

In his strongest statement yet on the Vietnam war, de Gaulle said: "The spirit and fact of war are spreading again across the world. One conflict contributes to causing another."

"The war started in Vietnam by American intervention," he said, "cannot help but spread trouble, not only there but far away."

"France has taken a position against the war in Vietnam and against foreign intervention which caused it."

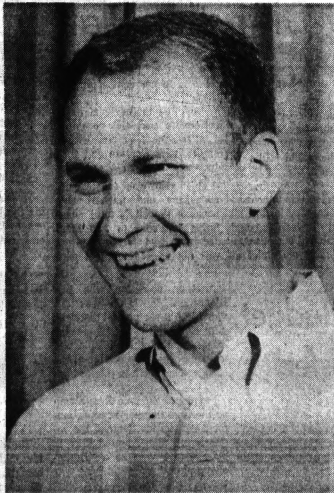

GLOOMY PICTURE

"It has maintained since the start that this conflict can only cease through the pledge that America would make to withdraw her forces within a given time."

De Gaulle's gloomy picture of the world scene was drawn after recent talks with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union and Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain.

WEARING SMILES — Both Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her son-in-law, Patrick J. Nugent, wear a big smile after learning that Pat's wife, Luci, gave birth to an 8 pound, 10 ounce boy.

It's a Boy! Luci's Doing Fine

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent gave birth today to an 8 pound, 10-ounce boy.

The baby is President Johnson's first grandchild.

The father, Patrick J. Nugent, a box of cigars in his hand, made the announcement to reporters in the lobby at Seton Hospital.

"Luci's fine," he said.

Nugent said the baby was born at 6:59 a.m. CDT.

And he had more figures: The child is 21 inches long.

'BEAUTIFUL BABY'

The father, 23, said Luci had already seen the baby and pronounced, "What a beautiful baby I have!"

The mother, 19, was admitted to the hospital at 1 a.m., and the baby was born just under six hours later.

Mrs. Johnson was in the hospital with her daughter. Earlier she had notified the President at the White House that Luci had gone there.

NO WEARINESS

He handed out cigars afterward, smiling and showing no signs of weariness from the hours of waiting.

Asked how his wife was, he said, "Wonderful."

Asked if his father-in-law knew the baby had been born, Pat said "Yes," and explained that Mrs. Johnson had called the President to inform him.

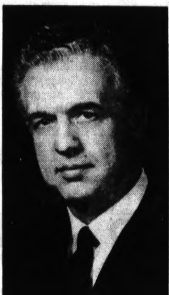

There was no indication of when the President might come to this Texas capital to have a look at his grandchild.

Kelley to Petition for New Grand Juror

FRANK KELLEY

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today that he will ask Oakland County Circuit Court judges to appoint a new grand juror to succeed Judge Philip Pratt who was disqualified by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The new grand juror would only fill the position for the remaining eight weeks of the investigation, according to Kelley.

He will formalize his request in a petition to be filed with the judges tomorrow morning.

"My petition," said Kelley, "will include a request that if a successor is appointed, the court will then join me in asking the Michigan Supreme Court to authorize the turning over of files and records of the Pratt grand jury to the successor."

Pratt's position as grand juror recently was declared illegal by the appellate court on the basis that he had gone beyond the one-year constitutional limit of a grand jury investigation.

YEAR-LONG PROBE

Pratt ended a year-long grand jury probe last June, and began another two months later.

The second, which was initiated by Kelley to investigate alleged criminal actions surrounding the Hazel Park Race Track, was halted, however, by the appeals court ruling last month.

"After a discussion with judges and conference with the county's chief law enforcement officer, Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, and a careful review of the law and the pertinent facts, I believe that the interest of justice compels me to petition for a successor," said Kelley.

Massive Test Is Urged on Diet-Coronary Link

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Heart specialists urged today a go-ahead with a massive test involving 40,000 to 60,000 men to answer a critical health question:

Would changes from typical American food habits really produce some insurance against heart attacks, the nation's leading killer disease?

Many experts believe that such changes — especially cutting down on intake of fats and cholesterol — do help prevent coronary attacks.

It is known that the amount of cholesterol in the blood stream can be reduced this way. The tantalizing question is whether this step then saves lives.

Getting the answer would help for enlisting a small army of volunteers.

WOULD CHANGE HABITS

Half the men would change their food habits somewhat and stick with it for five years. The other half would, for comparison, go on eating as they do now.

If, five years later, men who changed their food habits suffered fewer heart attacks than those who didn't change, it would be clear proof that most Americans have been eating their way toward heart attacks, but should not and need not.

But would many thousands of men, and their wives, agree to give up some old habits for new and stay with it?

The answer to that is yes, the executive committee on diet and heart disease, told the American Medical Association today.

RESULTS OF STUDY

It reported results of a two-year feasibility study preparing the way for the huge experiment.

Some 2,400 middle-aged men took part,

some changing food habits and others not, and only 10 per cent dropped out of the study.

The blood cholesterol of those who ate special diets came down by an overall average of 11 per cent.

LARGER-SCALE STUDY

The committee declared that the longer and larger-scale study should be planned and started as soon as possible in view of the current epidemic of heart attacks.

It would cost perhaps 30 million to 50 million dollars, "but the answer would be cheap at twice the price," said Dr. E. Cowles Andrus of Baltimore, presenting results of the diet-heart study.

The committee report will be given to the National Heart Institute, the financing agency, with the recommendation that the larger study be undertaken. Setting it up would take at least two years.

The feasibility study did not involve enough men, or continue long enough, to determine whether men on special diets really fared better in escaping heart attacks, committee members said.

Summer Arrives at 10:23 Tonight

Although June busted out all over with summertime temperatures—in the 90s last week—summer won't really arrive until 10:23 tonight. This is the longest day of the year.

Summer may receive a damp reception in the Pontiac area as the weatherman forecasts showers and thunderstorms likely late this afternoon and tonight.

Partly cloudy and cooler the high near 86 with chance of showers is the prediction for tomorrow, and chances of showers by evening is the outlook for Friday.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 50, tonight 70, tomorrow 40.

Fifty-eight was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury registered 73 at 2 p.m.

Claims of Egypt Aid Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence information indicates Communist European nations have sent Egypt about 50 MIG jet fighters since the Israelis smashed Egypt's air force in the recent Mideast war.

American sources also said replacement of Egyptian tanks has been relatively slight so far.

They disputed claims of Israeli military sources here that the Soviet Union and other Communist countries have been pouring in equipment and supplies to replace Egypt's staggering losses in the brief Sinai campaign and the lightning Israeli air strikes that preceded it.

Israeli military sources told a reporter the Soviets, Czechs and other Communist European countries have sent 150 to 200 MIGs to Egypt by direct flight or by ship.

But U.S. sources said the re-supply flow was considerably less than pictured by the Israelis.

These sources said it appeared some Communist European MIGs might have been sent to Egypt as a kind of loan to provide security for the country, virtually stripped of its air power in the early hours of the war when the Israeli air force smashed hundreds of Egyptian planes on the ground.

The Americans said there were about 100 MIGs which survived the Israeli air strikes.

COMMUNIST SUPPLIES

Israeli military sources said hundreds of tons of Communist supplies have been landed in Egypt. They said the total included a shipment of tanks from Algeria.

American officers said a check of the reported shipment of tanks resulted in the conclusion there were only five of the armored vehicles delivered by the Algerian vessel to Egypt.

The Americans did not challenge the claim that supplies and equipment were entering the country, but they said the volume was not especially large and could be a carry-over of material en route before the war started June 5.

U.S. officers said in the past that Israeli claims of damage inflicted on the Arabs in the fighting proved quite accurate. They also voiced admiration for Israeli intelligence which permitted Israeli pilots to ignore dummy airplanes standing on the Egyptian air strips and to concentrate their fire on the real MIGs.

451 PLANES DESTROYED

Israel has claimed to have destroyed 451 Arab aircraft, including 357 Egyptian planes.

U.S. officers said they received reports that an entire Algerian MIG squadron landed at Lel Arish air field in northern Sinai after the Israelis had captured the field, and that the Algerian planes were taken intact.

Israeli officers stationed here said their checks of similar reports had shown the information to be untrue.

600 TANKS DESTROYED

The Israelis claimed to have destroyed or captured some 600 of Egypt's 900 tanks, some of which they used when they moved against the Syrians late in the six-day war.

But American experts said the Soviet-built armor may be of limited use to the Israelis because they will not have available to them spare parts for maintenance.

'Mafia Chief' Is Sentenced

DETROIT (UPI) — Alleged Mafia chief Peter J. Vitale was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $500 yesterday for refusing to answer questions asked him by the Wayne County grand jury.

Circuit Court Judge Harry J. Dingeman sentenced Vitale on a contempt citation filed by Grand Juror George E. Bowles.

Bowles charged Vitale with contempt when he continued to invoke the Fifth Amendment in response to questions in an appearance before the grand jury May 5.

Vitale refused to answer the questions despite Bowles' promise he would be granted immunity against prosecution.

Lapeer to Act on Rail Tracks

City Ledger Ready to Complain to State

LAPEER — City Manager Arnold Whitney said yesterday he is ready to take the city's complaint about a railroad grade crossing in the city to the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The tracks belong to the New York Central Railroad. Whitney said they are graded to an elevation at least six inches above the level of the pavement on South Court St.

He said local truckers have complained that the crossing creates a bump in the road that frequently causes damage to contents of their trucks.

The city has been attempting to get the railroad to lower the elevation of the crossing for the past five months.

He said that unless the railroad indicates to him this week that they are ready to cooperate he will try to get action from the Public Services Commission.

'LONG ENOUGH'

"We think they have studied the problem long enough," he said.

The crossing was raised to its present level about two years ago, according to Whitney.

Controversial Zoning, Map Get Support

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A controversial zoning ordinance and map has now been recommended for approval by two official bodies but has not yet been officially adopted by the Township Board.

Last month the planning commission recommended approval and last night the Township Board received a recommendation for approval from the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee.

After hearing objections to the ordinance from about 40 persons attending the Township Board meeting last night, the board set a joint meeting with the planning commission for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Township Hall to go over the proposed ordinance.

"I don't know if we'll adopt it even then," said Township Supervisor James Reid.

The controversy started about three months ago when residents, at a public hearing called by the township planning commission, opposed the ordinance, particularly a section which would have changed the current suburban farms classification to suburban estates.

They claimed suburban farmers would be discriminated against and limited in the use of their property.

The planning commission agreed to leave the suburban farms classification as it is under the existing ordinance.

Last night residents objected to minor points in the proposed ordinance such as a section on permits for alterations and repairs and a section requiring that all nonconforming uses be compiled into a list.

Car Flips in Ditch; Driver Is Injured

A Richmond man was injured last night when a tire blew out on a car in which he was riding, causing the car to roll over into a ditch.

Romeo State Police said the accident happened about 6 p.m. on 32 Mile Road, west of Wilcox in Ray Township.

Thomas E. Dickinson, 22, is in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mount Clemens. Driver of the car, James L. Wilson, 23, of 784 E. Beverly, Pontiac, received minor injuries and was not admitted to the hospital, police said.

Educator Gets Doctorate

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Henry Versnick, superintendent of the Brandon School District, took another step up the academic ladder last night.

He was awarded a doctor of education degree at commencement exercises at Wayne State University in Detroit.

Dr. Versnick is a graduate of WSU with a bachelor of science degree. He received a masters from the University of Michigan.

Dr. Versnick has held the post of superintendent in Brandon Township since last July.

The Orionville Area Jaycees recently honored Dr. Versnick by presenting him with a national award as "outstanding young educator."

He is 33, married and the father of three children.

Walled Lake Schools OK Attempt to Extend Proud Lake Rec Area

WALLED LAKE — In order to preserve its popular outdoor education program, the board of education has authorized an attempt to purchase land adjacent to the Proud Lake Recreation Area for future use.

Schools Supt. George Garver explained that the camping facilities at Proud Lake are becoming overcrowded because of the large number of children participating in the program.

The program was in danger of being discontinued because of the lack of space so the board several months ago organized a committee to study the problem and make recommendations.

The committee has wholeheartedly recommended continuation of the program.

The board also heard a report on development of the site at the Oakley Park Elementary School into a natural science lab.

ANIMAL COVER

The outdoor laboratory would include nature trails, tree identification, and a cover for small animals.

"The idea is to bring the outdoors as close to the building as possible so the children can learn through seeing, touching and watching instead of only out of a book, said Garver.

In other business the board approved a 10-cent-an-hour-across-the-board increase for the hourly rated cafeteria workers.

The board authorized that contracts be given to administrators but no change in salary was made.

Garver explained that administrators' salaries are tied to the teachers' scheduled and that the teachers' salaries have not yet been settled.

Commerce Signs Agreement to Use Dump for 30 Days

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night signed an agreement with Marlowe Disposal Co. for 30-day dumping privileges at a dump on Rose Center Road.

The township will be charged $150 a month to allow its residents to use the dump.

Township Supervisor Robert H. Long said it is a temporary agreement for 30 days with an automatic renewal at the end of that period.

Residents have been without a place to dump their trash for two months.

The board also passed a resolution objecting to a plan submitted by the Oakland County Reapportionment Committee dividing the township.

Under the 27-district plan which would reduce the board of supervisors from 87 members to 27, part of Commerce Township would be in a district with Milford, Highland, Rose, Holly and White Lake townships and part in a district with the cities and villages of Walled Lake, Wixom, Novi and South Lyon.

In other business, the board approved a policy which would require developers of multiple dwellings to submit complete site plans to the planning commission before the commission considers any rezoning requests.

Board Member Is Named

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Peter S. Kloop Jr., 31430 Rocky Crest, has been appointed to the Township Board.

The 46-year-old vice president and treasurer of Kloop Engineering in Livonia replaces Arthur S. Bassette who resigned recently.

Kloop has been on the buildings and grounds committee and on the industrial committee for the township.

Cancer Unit's Program for Students Is Near

The third annual Summer Science Scholarship Program, sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation for research-minded high school students in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties, will start Monday.

Oakland County pupils will study a Marian High School Birmingham, from June 26 conducted daily from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Participants from Oakland County are Ron Foster, 336 Buckhorn, Orion Township; Christina Plaicher, 355 Riviera, Waterford Township; Christine Zabe, 471 Mapleview, West Bloomfield Township; Christine Carron, 1523 Yorkshire, Birmingham; Peggy Clougherty, 1081 Norwich, Troy; and Melinda Zaher, 29300 Medburn, Farmington Township.

Others are Neil Lehto of Pleasant Ridge; Steven Johnson of Huntington Woods; Madeleine Ruessmann, 114 W. Hickory Hickory Grove, Bloomfield Hills; and James Stoepler of Southfield.

Students with outstanding scholastic records and an interest in chemistry and biology are recommended for the project by their high school biology teachers. The Michigan Cancer Foundation selects the final 50 students.

CONDUCT PROJECTS

All are paid a suitable stipend and given the opportunity to conduct a research project under the supervision of a qualified instructor for an eight-week period.

High schools where the program is conducted were selected for the excellence of laboratory facilities and geographical convenience of students.

"We are under no illusions that these scholarship winners are going to find a cure for cancers," said John E. Madole, president of the North Oakland County Unit Board of Trustees, "but we do hope to increase the interest of young people in medical and scientific careers, and make them more keenly aware of the importance of protecting their own general health."

Utica Teacher Is Competing for Republican Title

UTICA — A high school teacher here, Pat Poser, is a participant in competition at the National Young Republican convention in Omaha, Neb., which runs through Saturday.

Miss Poser, a speech and dramatics teacher, will compete for the title of "Miss National Young Republican." She recently was selected as "Miss Michigan Young Republican."

Groveland Man Injured by Horse

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — A 28-year-old township man was injured yesterday afternoon when a horse he was training fell on him.

Listed in satisfactory condition with a hip injury at McLaren Hospital in Flint is Franklin W. Youngs of 5538 Grange Hall.

The mishap occurred about 3 p.m. at Grafton Moore Farms, 151 Barron.

Pontiac State Police said Youngs was riding the horse when it suddenly fell over backwards onto him.

State, Ontario Act on Pollution

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan and Ontario officials have agreed to ban oil and gas exploration in the boundary waters of lower Lake Huron, the St. Clair River, Lake St. Clair, and the Detroit River.

Gov. George Romney, who announced the agreement yesterday said the new policy was needed to prevent pollution of the waters.

NEW CEMETERY SITE — This spot in Springfield Township on Andersonville and Edger will be developed as Hillview Chapel and Memorial Gardens. The developer, Peter G. Buteracos of Flint, plans to build fountains, paved roads an artificial lake and a chapel. Statues in marble and bronze to depict Biblical scenes are also planned.

Pilot School Program Is Under Way in Troy

TROY — A pilot school program that combines continuing education and Head Start techniques is under way here.

If the test proves fruitful, it will set a pattern for future years, according to school officials.

The six-week program at Niles Elementary, 201 W. Square Lake, is two-phased.

In one group, preschoolers, in a Head Start type of curriculum, meet three times a week. The tots participate in story telling, rhythm, games and art.

The classes are designed to prepare youngsters to begin school in the fall.

ENRICHMENT PROGRAM

In the other phase are children in the elementary grades, one to six, taking part in a continuing education-enrichment type of program.

They study science, art and physical education subjects. The children are taking instructional swimming using Oakland University's pool.

Also being studied is weather, nature, modeling, etc., and a full range of athletics. The sessions will end with a field trip.

An enrollment of 206, the maximum allowed, was reached soon after the program was announced.

Soil Formula for Repotting

Houseplants will thrive very well for several months in the pots in which they are originally purchased.

However, the day will come when it will be necessary to repot — if the plant is looking poorly, if the soil is worn out or if the plant has outgrown its container.

Ingredients for successful repotting are: two-thirds peat (or peat moss), one-third sharp builder's sand and one-quarter teaspoon complete fertilizer.

Official Tells Why Raw Sewage Spilled Into Osmun Lake

Because of increased rainfall into Osmun Lake during the past week, an overloaded combined sanitary and storm sewer line spilled raw sewage into the lake, District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said at last night's City Commission meeting.

The city is taking steps to ensure that the sewage does not ferment in the sun and create obnoxious odors.

Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and service, said the sewage should have traveled through sewer lines south along Stanley to the city's treatment plants.

A diversion chamber overloaded with water became plugged and spilled the sewage into the lake, Neippling said. Workmen are pumping water with high oxygen content into the area where the sewage had accumulated, he added.

Commissioners last night also authorized petitioning the Oakland County drain commissioner to establish a storm drainage district in the southwestern section of the city.

Neippling said this would allow construction of relief sewers along West Iroquois from Cherokee to Menominee, then along Chippewa to Voorheis and east on Voorheis to a joining with the Clinton River south of Clinton River Drive.

The second would be constructed from Menominee and Genesee and along Niagara to an existing line along Navajo. Construction costs were estimated at $500,000 by Neippling. Creation of a storm drain district would mean the cost would be assessed against the entire city.

Neippling said construction would cut down on overflow along the existing Navajo collector and provide better drainage for the area. Commissioners also authorized installation of a 16-inch water main on the south side of Auburn from East Boulevard to Clifford to meet demands of expansion on Auburn and to provide water for a three-block area. Cost is expected to be $22,000.

It was agreed also to retain the engineering firm of Giffels-Webster, Inc., as consulting engineers for plans and specifications for improvements in the Industrial Park area, bounded roughly by East Boulevard, Ferry, Bradford and South Boulevard.

Cost for the projects is expected to be in the neighborhood of $350,000, with engineers to receive 6 per cent of the total cost.

Nicholas Santiwani, city personnel director, was named deputy city clerk, to sign documents in the absence of the city clerk, and Alvin J. Fox was appointed to serve as process server for the two municipal judges until March 1.

Commissioners also authorized signing an annual contributions contract with the Federal government for continued participation in the Lakeside public housing project and a planned project on Auburn.

Crackdown on Gambling Called For by Block Club

The City Commission last night received a request from the Crystal Lake Block Club to crack down on illegal gambling in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Paul D. Buckhauser of 183 Crystal Lake, the club president, said the gambling was taking place on a lot on Franklin Road between Hayes and Crystal Lake.

She said groups of men gathered there, gambled, used profane language and drank openly.

She also asked the commission to attempt to enforce more stringently parking prohibitions near a poolroom and to take steps to eliminate the large number of loose dogs.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, District 4, said the request would be turned over to the administration. He added that the city has been unable to draw up a really effective dog control ordinance.

LITTLE SUCCESS

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. said the gambling problems had cropped up last year, and police attempted to make arrests but had little success.

Director of Law Shirwin M. Birakrant said police cannot effect an arrest unless an officer actually sees a wager being made.

He advised that any citizen who sees a violation could help eliminate the problem by going to court, swearing out a complaint and acting as a witness during a trial.

In other business, Rodney Williams, 25, of 377 Prospect protested the shooting of his cousin early yesterday and asked the commission to investigate the incident and to suspend two policemen involved.

TO SEEK REPORT

Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson, who presided over the meeting in the absence of Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., who is on vacation, said the commission would ask for a report from the police department and discuss it at an informal meeting.

Williams, who resides at the house where the shooting took place, claimed that two officers unnecessarily beat Lamont Tucker, 19, of 55 Clove and that Tucker was shot by one officer while the other was holding him.

He also claimed that police used unnecessary force against himself and Tucker's brother, Michael, 24, who were at the house when police arrested Tucker.

Police said Tucker was arrested inside the house after fleeing from police from the scene of an earlier arrest and then resisting arrest outside the Prospect Street house.

Tight Money Ups Remodeling

Tight money and low housing starts have triggered an upsurge in home remodeling.

Even with expected improvements in the situation, the journal predicts that other factors: high interest rates, expensive new house costs, a tight labor market, and a growing interest in do-it-yourself projects, will continue to spur home modernization in 1967.

Safety Belt Figures 'Belt' Autoists

If every car occupant used his seat belt every time he was in a car, 8,000 to 10,000 lives a year could be saved, estimates the National Safety Council.

The Council's statistical department head notes that this projection stems from a previous one of 5,000 lives a year arrived at in 1961.

"Since then," he says, "the number of cars has grown by more than a fourth and the number of traffic deaths by more than a third. Furthermore, additional study suggests the earlier figure was probably too conservative."

Safety authorities are unanimous in the conviction that consistent use of his seat belt is the single most effective step any driver can take for his own safety.

As one of them succinctly put it: "Sitting on your seat belt does nothing but make you uncomfortable."

Culture, Hot Dog Mark Gotham Anniversaries

New York City will celebrate the 50th year of Guggenheim Memorial Concerts in Central Park today, the first day of summer. Appropriately, nickel beer, nickel ice cream and nickel hot dogs will be served.

In a few days, the Coney Island Chamber of Commerce will celebrate what it claims is the 100th anniversary of the birth of the hot dog. The Chamber asserts that in the summer of 1867 a Coney Island pie hawker named CHARLIE FELTMAN put a hot sausage in a toasted wiener roll and sold it for a dime as a frankfurter — after his native Frankfurt, Germany.

The Coney Island celebration will be centered on Nathan's Famous, the boardwalk stand which has sold more than 200 million franks.

Stories of the origin of the hot dog vary. But the naming of the savory is generally attributed to Tad Dorgan, a New York newspaper cartoonist who saw franks being served for the first time in the early 1900s at the Polo Grounds. Dorgan also is responsible for "dumb Dora," "the cat's pajamas," and other nifties.

Tariff Cuts Impose Strain on 'Monetary Fund'

The joint meeting in Paris that began Monday of the Group of Ten industrial powers and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) has taken on added importance since completion of the Kennedy Round of tariff negotiations.

To finance the increased world trade made possible by the Kennedy Round—which saw tariffs reduced by an average of one-third—world monetary reserves will have to grow faster than they have in recent years. How to stimulate this growth is a question that has bedeviled Western countries for almost two years.

The United States and Great Britain on the one hand and the six European Common Market countries on the other represent sharply different approaches to the monetary problem. Washington and London favor creation of a new reserve currency to supplement the gold, dollars and pounds sterling now in use. The Common Market countries, led by France, want only to expand drawing rights from the IMF.

A compromise may be in the offing. This would entail what the Wall Street Journal calls a "blend of the Common Market and British-U.S. positions, leading to creation of something called a drawing right with repayment terms so lavishly liberal that the effect will be the same as creating new money."

It is far from certain that this approach will be adopted at Paris. Regardless of what happens there, however, final action on international monetary reform must await the annual IMF meeting at Rio de Janeiro in September.

U.N. Debate Not Altruistic or Idealistic

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The first sour note in the U.N. debate on the Arab-Israeli war came with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's walkout while Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban was replying to his speech.

It was rude, and the Soviets explained later Kosygin had to MARLOW leave to keep an appointment. But millions saw this on television.

No doubt many concluded Kosygin was expressing contempt for reasonable debate, that he was relying on power politics — the number of nations aligned up on Moscow's side — to win the day for him.

Even if this were not a cynical act, before the first day's discussion was over Monday it was clear this debate was going to be neither altruistic nor idealistic. But nobody ever thought it would be.

Moscow asked for debate in the U.N. General Assembly, wanting Israel condemned as an aggressor, told to give back the land it had captured from the Arabs, and ordered to pay for damage done them in the startlingly short war.

TOOK TO TELEVISION
In order to get in a word ahead of time, one hour before the assembly was due to meet, President Johnson took to television, too, to lay out this country's ideas for restoring peace in the Middle East.

But Eban's was the most brilliant speech of the day, in or out of the United Nations.

It was a classic example of making a case by eliminating literary flourishes, which Johnson almost always tries, and relying entirely upon documentation.

He cited not only all the threats Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser made about demolishing Israel before the war began but listed by number, which must have startled the Soviets, how many weapons they had given Egypt.

While there was little new in hours of discussion, anyone who followed the war controversy closely probably wound up the day just as much impressed by what was left unsaid as by anything Eban and Kosygin did say.

For instance, Kosygin never mentioned the Gulf of Aqaba although from the moment Nasser closed it to Israeli shipping, promising it was closed for good, Israel and the Arabs were on a collision course.

Eban called the blockade the turning point in the crisis.

Yet Eban, despite his impressive documentation against the Soviet Union and Egypt, never mentioned who fired the first shot in the war.

NOT CLEAR

But this is an important point, never yet clearly determined, since the whole basis for the Soviets bringing the case before the United Nations is their charge that Israel was the aggressor.

From the moment Kosygin decided to fly to New York for the debate, the reasons seemed clear enough to mollify the Arabs who felt let down by Moscow's failure to help them in the war after promising it would support them.

If the General Assembly refused to condemn Israel, after Kosygin made his long tirade and big pitch, asking the condemnation, the Soviets could always tell the Arabs they had done all they could to help.

If this is at the root of Soviet thinking about the debate, it, too, might explain Kosygin's indifference while Eban was making his case for Israel.

'Here Comes Another Statistic!'

David Lawrence Says:

Thant Usefulness Is in Doubt

WASHINGTON — The usefulness of U Thant as secretary general of the United Nations has come into question.

Without placing the matter before the U.N. General Assembly, he granted promptly last month President Nasser's LAWRENCE request that the U.N. peace-keeping force be withdrawn from the armistice line on the Israeli border. This led to the outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East.

Two pertinent documents now have been made public. One plainly sets forth the views of the late Dag Hammarskjöld, who, as secretary general in 1956, arranged with President Nasser for the U.N. force to go on duty at the armistice line and stay there "until the task of the force was completed."

The other is the reply just made by U Thant to the Hammarskjöld memorandum.

It is clear that Hammarskjöld knew there was a delicate point involved, and he left for future guidance a carefully written record and analysis of the whole subject.

U Thant now brushes this aside as an interpretation not binding upon him.

But there is a difference between an argument over the right of Egypt to ask for withdrawal of the U.N.'s peace-keeping force and the obligation of the secretary general to submit the whole matter to the General Assembly for its consideration and decision.

The real issue is what Secretary General Thant should have done about Egypt's request.

He consulted on May 17 with the members of the advisory committee of the United Nations emergency force — representatives of India, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Brazil, Yugoslavia and Canada. Some of these envoys warned him that he should take the matter up with the General Assembly.

Unfortunately, however, the secretary general had already advised Egypt that, if it formally requested withdrawal of the peace-keeping force, this would be granted. It was really not too late even then for a special meeting of the General Assembly to be called.

called to deal with the problem, but U Thant took no such steps and said that "it is not within the competence of the General Assembly to act."

He felt that he himself had no choice but to grant the request from Nasser for the withdrawal. This he did on May 18.

The making of vital decisions is the function of the Security Council or of the General Assembly as set forth in the charter itself.

Bob Considine Says:

It's a California Miracle — A Kennedy Half-Dollar

LOS ANGELES — Received a Kennedy half-dollar in my change at a bar here today.

Hadn't realized how far Republican this part of the country had gone. Somebody had to decide not to hoard it, not to put it among his souvenirs, not to make it into a key ring or cement it into a cigarette lighter and sell it for profit. Somebody just had to say, "So it's 50 cents," and shrug.

Last time we checked with the Treasury Department something like 600 million (or was it billion?) of the "Kennedy rounds" had been punched out. It has been the only 50-cent piece minted since shortly after JFK's death.

But how many have you seen? P. S. — Have caught my coin, which someone previously cashed.

The mood among the California pundits, in print and on the air, seems to be that Ronald Reagan can't be all bad. He commands remarkable reverence among apparently millions of voters. Ask the pundits.

Write or speak a piece about his wiving an actor, or Goldwaterite, or what — and get ready to be clobbered by some of the roughest pan mail ever panned.

Some of the same people who will have no part of Nelson Rockefeller, because he and his first wife were divorced, see no wrong in the fact that Reagan, too, had an earlier mate.

A parallel in today's moods is the case of "doves" in the case of the war in Vietnam becoming "hawks" where the Israeli-Arab war is concerned.

Reagan will surely become a national figure if he continues his present manner, his willingness to learn more about his job, and sees a bit more of the world.

There is the sweet smell of success about him, so sadly wanting in, say, Dick Nixon.

It would have been unthinkable last November that the freshly elected Reagan might become a hot prospect for the No. 2 spot on the 1968 GOP ticket. But nobody is hotter today.

Reagan had a harrowing experience with the book published under his name during the 1964 campaign. It was a ghosted job.

The book apparently had not been on social terms with Reagan.

The book went to press dedicated affectionately to Reagan's first wife. The page had to be removed.

Then, later, it was discovered that there was an appealing picture of Reagan and wife No. 1 in the illustrated section. That, too, had to be removed.

Free Expression

Tucson Daily Citizen

It seems incongruous that the American flag is involved in a battle for federal protection.

All 50 states have laws making it illegal to mutilate an American flag. Penalties range from none in New Hampshire to 25 years imprisonment in Texas.

Arizona statutes make mutilation of the American flag a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine up to $2,000 or a jail sentence up to one year.

Many congressmen feel that mutilation of the Stars and Stripes deserves a federal penalty.

Anti-desecration sentiment has been particularly strong since April 14 when peacekeepers in New York City publicly burned an American flag.

Several bills making flag desecration a federal crime have been introduced. Penalties range from fines of $1,000 to $10,000 and prison terms of up to five years.

One congressman, Rep. James H. Quillen (R-Tenn.) goes so far as to say, "Anything short of a firing squad is all right with me."

As might be expected, however, the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) opposes federal legislation protecting

Question and Answer

Who wrote the poem that goes something like, so live that when thy summons comes, you go not like the quarry slave at night but fold your tent like the Arabs and silently steal away?

HAVING AN ARGUMENT

REPLY

You won't solve the argument until you separate the two poems you have mixed up in that line. The first part is from "Thanatopsis" by William Cullen Bryant: "So live, that when thy summons comes to join the innumerable caravan . . . thou goest not, like the quarry-slave at night, scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed . . . approach thy grave, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams." The second part is from "The Day Is Done" by Longfellow: "And the night shall be filled with music, and the cares, that infest the day, shall fold their tents, like the Arabs, and as silently steal away."

the flag from those who would desecrate it.

The ACLU argues that flag burning and other forms of desecration of the flag are "legitimate acts of free expression protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution."

The merits of the ACLU's "freedom of expression to burn the flag" may well have to be decided by the courts, but one question is immediately apparent:

Who would want to burn his country's flag — a flag which, since June 14, 1777, has been symbolic of a nation's joy and sadness, courage and sacrifice and hope, dreams and labors?

have long legislative sessions.

Take, for example, the vandalism bill in the Iowa legislature. It would require parents to pay for property damage done by their children.

The bill is buried in the Senate Judiciary Committee, with Chairman George O'Malley sitting on the lid. Sen. Roger Jepsen is trying to pry it loose.

He and his supporters maintain that such a law would make parents more responsible for their offspring, and decrease vandalism as well.

But, as stated above, there usually is another side. For example, the contention of probation officer Carl Parks of Polk County is (1) that most parents already willingly pay for vandalism damage, (2) that parents of delinquent children are often so poor and disadvantaged themselves as to be incompetent to care for children properly, and (3) that a law making parents pay would give kids a potent weapon to injure or humiliate their parents.

With the pros and cons somewhat in balance, one can understand why legislators (especially in the dying days of a session) like to sweep some tough cases under the rug—or, as the case might be, bury them in committee.

Urges Lesser Penalties for Offenses

Crime Panel Aide Belittles Marijuana Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consultant to the President's crime commission says the danger of using marijuana is not great and has recommended lesser penalties for its use and possession.

Richard H. Blum also maintains that some states trying to educate youngsters concerning the dangers of marijuana use outdated and inaccurate material which results in "ridicule and consequent counterreaction among the now often well-informed youngsters."

He called for educational efforts based on objective appraisal of the significance and risk of use.

Blum, a research director at Stanford University's Institute for the Study of Human Problems, also urged that educational programs on drug use begin in elementary schools. He said there should be a big increase in studies of the effects of marijuana and the mind-expanding drug LSD.

NATIONAL PICTURE

Blum, including everything from coffee to heroin in his study, pictured the United States as a nation of drug users.

Three studies by Blum were contained in a report on narcotics and drug abuse prepared by a task force of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

The report, released today, is the eighth of nine specialized studies to be published by the commission. All the specialized reports were summarized in the commission's over-all report published last February.

In an accompanying statement, Nicholas Katzenbach, commission chairman, undersecretary of state and a former attorney general, called for expanded efforts to reduce the flow of narcotics into the nation's cities.

Katzenbach also urged increased research and treatment of addiction and broadened education programs — directed particularly at young people relating to the dangers of drug abuse.

State, Local Film Censors Fade

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Movie men in Kansas City, Mo., tell the story of how the city censored films in the old days.

The review board was located in Kansas City, Kan., to be near the film distributors, and the only space to be found for showings was in the Fire Department headquarters. Firemen and off-duty police were invited to watch. When their whoops Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts and catcalls reached a certain pitch, board members decided that the scene should be censored.

All that has changed. An Associated Press survey discloses that local and state censorship of movies has all but vanished. Depictions of crime, sex and dope stirred moralists to seek controls over movies. By the mid-1920s, scores of cities and eight states — Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Virginia, Massachusetts, Ohio — had film censorship boards. A major reason film makers formed a producers association was to prevent the proliferation of censor boards.

CENSOR BOARDS

"You have eight state censor boards now; some day you may have 48," warned film czar Will Hays. To help forestall such, he instituted the industry's self-censorship code.

Hays and his successor, Eric Johnston, strove to keep local censorship at a minimum. Then the U.S. Supreme Court came to the rescue.

New York State censors had banned "The Miracle" because it was "sacrilegious." In 1952, the Supreme Court unanimously overturned the ban and issued a sweeping decree that motion pictures are "included within the free speech and free press guaranty of the First and Fourteenth Amendments."

In case after case, the courts have since nullified censorship boards. This month a federal court struck down the board in Fort Worth, Tex. Here is a survey of other cities and states, as reported by Associated Press bureaus:

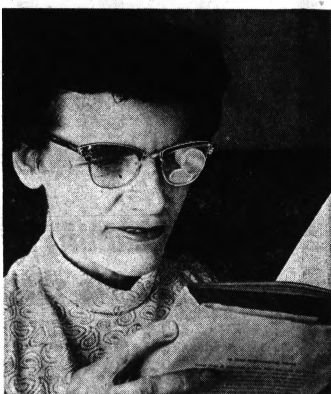

MILWAUKEE — Mayor-appointed Motion Picture Commission screens films and recommends cuts. The commission has no enforcement powers but exhibitors tend to comply.

CINCINNATI — No official procedure, but police occasionally raid sensational films such as the recent "Mondo Topless."

BOSTON — The haven of censorship retains a censor in the chief of licensing division. Action isn't taken until a complaint is received.

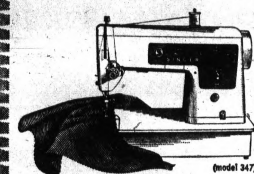

MEMPHIS — There has been no censorship since the city's long-time censor board was abolished by the courts.

'NEW EYE' — Modern optical aids have made it possible for legally blind persons like Mrs. Edward Lange (above) of 3387 Shales, Waterford Township, to do things they couldn't in the past. Since she obtained this triptic unit, Mrs. Lange has been able to read and watch television. Whereas optical aids often can help the partially blind, they are of no benefit to the totally blind. Mrs. Lange has been legally blind since birth.

To Ford Skilled Tradesmen

UAW Gives Separate Vote

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen in manufacturing and assembly plants of Ford Motor Co. have received approval from the United Auto Workers Union to vote separately on ratification of any new contract.

This, in effect, gives them power to veto any new pact, even if a majority of Ford workers as a whole may approve the terms.

Ken Bannon, UAW Ford department director, disclosed Tuesday International Executive Board approval for the separate vote by Ford skilled tradesmen in all operations other than parts depots.

Bannon said in a letter to regional directors and international representatives servicing Ford local unions that the board's action was unanimous and came last week at its Toronto meeting.

DOUBLE VOTING

He said parts depots were excepted from double voting because staffs in most of them are small and few tradesmen involved.

Under the board's action, Ford tradesmen will "vote separately on contractual matters common to all and, in the same vote, on those matters which relate exclusively to their group."

The approval is the first given by the 26-member ruling board since the UAW amended its constitution in 1966 to permit any segment of the union's membership—skilled, production or white-collar—to veto any new contracts.

Advance board approval is required for separate ratification balloting.

Current three-year contracts at Ford, General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. run out at midnight Sept. 5. Bargaining on new ones is slated to begin July 10.

UAW tradesmen have been insisting for months their pay scales lag behind those of others with similar skills, especially among such as electricians, millwrights and others employed by outside contractors. Pressure from tradesmen caused the UAW last summer to propose early reopening of current contracts to gain an immediate increase of at least 50 cents hourly for the skilled. This was rejected by the companies.

Dear Friend,

It was on a day, not at all unlike today, that a person much the same as you and I became aware that there is more to life than waking-up in the morning, doing what he had to do all day and going to bed at night. Let's call this fellow John because he's about like all of us put together. John didn't feel this awareness all at once but experienced it growing within him for about a year or more — or less. John became increasingly dissatisfied with his goals, his actions, and most surprisingly with John himself. John felt that everything he attempted was done with the wrong attitude and he began to feel that his purposeless life was led entirely by selfishness. Don't think John didn't try to ignore it, after all, he didn't enjoy not having any respect for himself or anything that he had ever done or hoped to do. It was as John said, "I'm just not sure." All this didn't make John cry, he never once threatened to commit suicide, he didn't really lose much sleep over it, he may have slept a little uneasily but when he woke in the morning he never knew the difference. However unlike all such stories

John's wasn't one with a happy ending. I suppose that surprises you for you probably expected John made day to see the light and obey his Lord's commandments and live happily ever after. No, John was like many of us shall be for John lived his life with those same unsatisfied feelings that he awoke to on that day much the same as today. You see, John was a victim of society. Without ever trying it John labeled Christianity as "kid's stuff" — a disunified assortment of silly beliefs that hold no value in today's world. John couldn't believe that Christ would bring to his disorganized life meaning and purpose and most of all happiness. John lived his life and never robbed a bank, killed a person, committed adultery or even drank. John made enough money to live comfortably — but still he was never happy. To John, Christ was a man that nobody knew. John died on a day much like today, an unsatisfied man. Will you?

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
Reno Davis, an ex-pugilist trying to be a writer in Paris, needed the money offered as tutor and bodyguard to a young aristocrat, the Viscountess. The American widow, Mrs. de Villomont, had been married to a French aristocrat. Davis did not regard the advice of a French friend, Louis de Buisson, who had served the Viscountess in the past. Davis met Claude and Gabrielle de Gonde and Edmund and Madame de Gonde, the sisters and brother-in-law of the late colonel, and Bernard de Gonde, a general, and the young lady, Anne de Villomont, gave Davis a revolver to protect Paul declaring his love to her.

CHAPTER 9
LATE one Sunday morning, Paul de Villomont and I were driven to the St. Louis. Paul was tense and unhappy as he was every Sunday when faced with the imminent prospect of meeting his grandmother.

When the car pulled up to the door of Madame Cesira's home I saw we were on the Quai d'Anjou, where Sydney Reno had come to his end, and looking around at the sedate graystone and brownstone buildings along one side of the street, the embankment wall along the other, the trees freshly green, their leaves shimmering in a warm breeze, the river flowing beneath the lovely arches of the Pont-Marie, I had the feeling that this simply wasn't the right setting for death by violence.

But of course, Scott had died in February. It would have been different then, especially at the midnight hour. And again the thought rose in my mind as it had so many times during the past two days—that was Madame de Villomont doing with the man on the Quai d'Anjou at midnight?

I thought she had made a mad leap up a flight of stairs to Madame Cesira's living room.

"Grandmother, this is Monsieur Reno. And this," he said to me, suddenly rattling it off as if he had learned it by rote, "is my grandmother, Madame Cesira. Maria Montecattolani de Villomont."

And what about your grandfather?" demanded Madame, which gave me quite a start until I saw Paul point to a framed photograph on the mantelpiece of a handsome, gray-mustached man in ornate military uniform.

"Yes, and that was my grandfather, General Sebastian de Villomont," he said to me, "a great general of the Army of the Republic of France."

"A very great general," said Madame. Her French, I observed, was flavored with a strong Italian accent.

I had a bad time of it talking to her until lunch, when Paul joined us at the table. I was grateful he remained at the table after lunch instead of leaving me alone to his grandmother again.

"Will you tell Reno's fortune with the cards, Grandmother?" he asked hopefully.

"There are some people who don't believe in fortunes," Madame Cesira said with malice. "But Reno would believe in it, Grandmother. He believes in magic."

"White magic," I said. "Sympathetic magic."

Madame Cesira's lip curled. "How fortunate my magic is only that kind."

"The cards never lie," Paul said with a shrug of resignation. "My card is the nine of cups, and it means I'm going to Saint-Germain and to learn to be a soldier no matter what Mama thinks."

Madame Cesira's eyes narrowed. "Persuasive magic, madame?"

"Don't be too clever, young man," she said coldly.

She rose and went to her escritoire and from it drew a beautifully done marquetrie box. When she removed the worn deck of cards from the box and spread them face up on the table I guessed what they were.

I looked at an inquiring eye. "The cards never lie," Paul said with a shrug of resignation. "My card is the nine of cups, and it means I'm going to Saint-Germain and to learn to be a soldier no matter what Mama thinks."

"Stop behaving like that," she ordered in a hard voice. "What a weakling, to faint away at the sight of a card. A fine soldier you'll make."

Paul squared himself on his chair and took a deep breath. "I'm not fainting away, Grandmother. But the Tower is a bad card, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Madame Cesira. "It warns of disaster and ruin. But that's the advantage of the Tower. It warns what may be coming so one can take measures in time. Now let's see what 'success' the Tower says that we know what measures must be taken. Above it is the two of pentacles. She raised both eyes to mine. "This tells us that matters which trouble the inquirer are only in his mind. They do not exist at all, but by letting himself think they do, he is being drawn into danger."

I was jolted by that myself. It sounded as if she knew I was at work digging up her family skeletons.

Madame Cesira pointed a wrinkled finger. "And here below 'The Tower' she said to me, 'is the king of cups. There is a powerful man who may become either your good friend or your deadly enemy. This is now being weighed in the balance, so take care not to weight the balance against yourself.'"

Suddenly it struck me that I was playing right into Madame Cesira's hands by thinking these thoughts. Simply watching my expression as I reacted to her nonsense, she knew she was hitting some target. There was every chance that my indifference to la methode when we discussed Charles Leschenhaut had determined her to win me over as his follower with the help of the Tower.

I smiled at Madame. "The cards don't give names, I suppose," I said lightly.

"No, young man. Nor addresses and telephone numbers."

She swept the cards together with an impatient gesture and replaced them in their box.

"But there was more to tell, wasn't there, Grandmother?" Paul protested.

Madame Cesira said shortly, "Besides, the cards change each time they're dealt. The next time they're dealt for Reno, everything may be changed for the better."

I sincerely hoped so, no matter what she was trying to tell me with her mumbo-jumbo.

Or was I only imagining there was a message in it? I might be.

She had seemed really stricken when she had turned over 'The Tower, that gaudy card promising disaster to come.'

China's Most Powerful Woman

Wife Defends the Maoist Faith

TOKYO (AP) — She stepped from the wings into the glare of the footlights a year ago. Despite the jeers and envy of her critics, Chiang Ching remains the most powerful woman in her husband's China. A few years ago, she apparently was a self-effacing housewife, content to remain in the enormous shadow of her eminent husband, Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

She shrugged off this role publicly in 1966 and took on a new one: defender of the Maoist faith.

Peering primly from behind steel-rimmed glasses, she has gained a wide reputation on the mainland for her razor-tongued criticisms of the Peking Opera, literature, art and theater.

PURGE ADVISOR

Her work in this field has brought her one important job at the moment, as advisor to the army's cultural purge, deputy chief of the party's purge committee and the Red emperor of deadly enemy, Chinese art.

Her preeminence in the world of Chinese women today is unchallenged.

Nor is Chiang Ching far from the top in the tough, swiftly changing world of Red China's men. She ranks somewhere among the first seven or eight closest politically to her 73-year-old husband.

Once she took over the job of cleansing the "revisionists" and "anti-Maoists," she worked havoc among some of the most powerful men in the party. She is said to have had a hand in cutting down Marshal Hu Hsiang-chien, once chairman of the army purge committee; Deputy Premier Tao Chu, the party propaganda chief; and Marshal Yeh Chien-ling.

In one way or another, they dared to cross her; their seniority and fame failed to save them.

SHINING BUTTERFLY

What transformed this once-obscure moth into the shining butterfly of Maoism?

The answer most generally accepted is that beginning in 1959 she saw Mao slipping, opposed, ignored and privately derided by President Liu Shao-chi and his followers.

Once an actress of some ability, she fought back in the area she knew best: the stage and screen. Stubbornness and a gift for expression — her speeches have been not only sharp but lively and well-organized — helped her along.

She knew what needed to be done, what Mao wanted and what was lacking.

PLAY CRITICIZED
Mao began his comeback in 1965 with massive criticism of a play called "Hai Jui Dismissed from Office," written by Peking's deputy mayor, Wu Han. Mao charged it assailed him, and his 1959 dismissal of Defense Minister Lin Biao's predecessor, Marshal Peng Teh-hai.

It was Chiang Ching who put Mao onto the subversive thread running through the play. Maoists now date the beginning of the purge from the criticism of the play.

WOMEN'S SECTION

He Says 'No, Air Conditioning'

This Wife Prefers to Cool It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We live in Huntsville, Ala., where it's very hot and humid. My husband makes over $20,000 a year. I live in a $35,000 home, have no debts, our children are gone and on their own, and we have money in the bank. My complaint? My husband refuses to put air conditioning in the house.

ABBY: He works in air-conditioned comfort all day while I slave over cleaning, cooking, ironing, and nearly die of the heat. He says cheap air conditioning is too noisy, and good air conditioning is too expensive. How can I change his mind?

BURNING UP IN HUNTSVILLE: DEAR BURNING: The price of the finest air conditioning system available will look like peanuts compared to what your husband would have to lay out in doctor bills should you collapse from heat exhaustion.

Make a little noise on your own, Sister, and chill that man of yours until he thinks a North Dakota blizzard has gripped Huntsville. So air conditioning is too expensive? It's a lot cheaper than allmonny.

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his lovely wife of 16 years were divorced recently. It was my brother's fault. He "fell in love" with a twice-divorced tramp, so you know there was plenty of talk.

Birmingham Pair Will Wed Tonight

Mrs. June Matthews, executive secretary of the Scholarship Committee, Oakland University, and Clyde C. Bennett Jr. will be married this evening.

Following the family ceremony in St. Dunstan's Chapel, Christ Church Cranbrook, the two Birminghamites will be honored at a dinner in Bloomfield Hills Country Club hosted by her parents, the William R. Tracys.

Parents of the bridegroom, the senior Bennetts of Deland, Fla., are here for the wedding. After a northern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will reside on Amberley Road in Birmingham.

My brother had the nerve to bring this tramp to my home one evening to see how I "liked her." The next day I told him I didn't like her at all, and I didn't want her in my home again.

Last night while I was entertaining, my brother and this woman rang my bell. He said he saw the lights on and cars outside so he knew we were home. I politely told them that they were not welcome in my home, so they left.

My brother thinks I owe him an apology. Do you?

"FUSSY" DEAR FUSSY: No. Now he stands. Outside.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

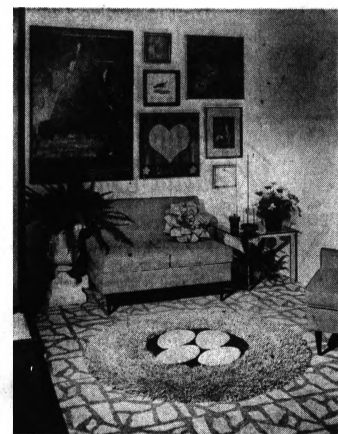

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

'Face Up' Is Program

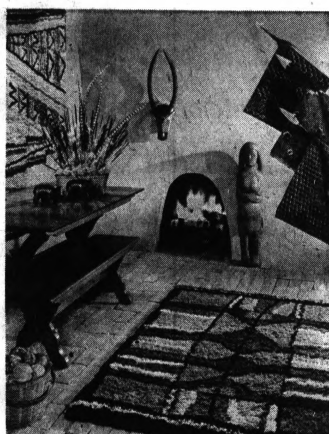

There will be a meeting of the Fashion Your Figure Club of Pontiac Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Adah Shelly Library. The program will be a cosmetic demonstration.

Rogers' Have Guests

Lt. and Mrs. Edwin L. Hoffman with their daughter, Cynthia are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Miami Road.

New and different rugs are being shown at the furniture exhibitions in Chicago this week. They will be in stores this fall. At the left is a disposable rug called "Bird's Nest" and used in an indoor patio. Regal makes rugs of paper in a technique that combines both tufting and quilting. Bigelow's "Tapa" area rugs in shaggy wool capture the essence of the news-making primitive look. Similar wall coverings are part of the approach.

OU Violin Course for Private Pupils During Summer

Violin and viola students will have an opportunity this summer to take private lessons at Oakland University from Mrs. Mischa Mischakoff, wife of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's concertmaster.

Hortense Mischakoff will accept children and adults for noncredit lessons from June 25 through Aug. 6, while her husband instructs advanced violin students at the Meadow Brook School of Music.

Her lessons are under the auspices of the School of Music and the University's Division of Continuing Education. Besides her private lesson schedule, Mrs. Mischakoff has served on the faculty of the School of Music at the Chautauqua Institution in Chautauqua, New York, and has taught at Cranbrook School and Kingswood School Cranbrook.

A teacher for 36 years, she also has appeared as a soloist with her husband in double concerto performances at the University of Colorado, with the Chautauqua Symphony and in Michigan City, Indiana, where she had been director of the School of Fine Arts before her marriage.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Dr. Walter S. Collins, dean, Meadow Brook School of Music, Oakland University.

Luncheon Marks End of Season for the Pontiac Woman's Club

A cooperative luncheon marked the close of activities this year for the Pontiac Woman's Club.

Mrs. A. D. Stimer of Sylvan Village was hostess for the Monday festivity.

DONATIONS

The projects committee announced that they would finance club donations to Girltown in Belleville, Oakland County.

ty Girl's Ranch, Indian Boys Scholarship, Pontiac Creative Art Center and the Pontiac Symphony.

Mrs. Earle Hoskins announced a card party and fashion show planned at Devon Gables in the fall.

New club members were presented with corsages by the membership chairman, Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite, Mrs. George Gray was welcomed into the club.

Mrs. Verna Nelson was a guest for the day.

Woman Is Appointed as Director of Teaching

Dr. Ann T. Galbraith (Mrs. Stuart) of South Hammond Lake Drive has been made a full professor in her capacity of director of student teaching at the Dearborn Center of University of Michigan.

Dr. Galbraith was formerly a principal in the Pontiac school system. She is presently directing summer workshops for both Central and Michigan State Universities.

Visitors Are Needed

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau says that men or women who can offer a small portion of their free time once a week are needed as Friendly Visitors to ill or aged people who are confined to private or nursing homes. No special training is required.

The Bureau's office is at 231 South Woodward, Room 220, Birmingham.

This Helplessness Is Cry for Recognition

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: You recently wrote about the "probable" mental illness of a young woman who has lost weight, is "too nervous" to work, makes her apartment mate support her and "creates situations which insist on her helplessness."
You exactly described my mother's behavior. She is in her middle 70s. Is this behavior in my mother the result of old age or is it symptomatic of mental illness?

ANSWER: I don't know. As I'm not a psychiatrist, I'm not qualified to diagnose mental illness in anyone. That's why I spoke of its "probable" existence in the young woman of that column, and why I urged her friend to get her to a physician who would take over and make the proper referrals.

However, it's my feeling that the insistent helplessness which may indicate mental illness in a young person may not indicate it in an old lady approaching 80. Old people whose physical powers have waned have realistic reasons, not concocted ones for depending on younger people's strength.

Nevertheless, we cannot describe a 75-year-old parent who creates situations which insist on her incompetence to be abounding in mental health.

If she were, she'd use words to declare her need for our help instead of using helpless behavior to demand it.
But then I don't know anybody who is abounding in mental health. Do you? In this society we live in, it's just about anybody who is abounding in mental health that would enable your aged mother to say:

"I am old. I am tired. My muscular organization is failing. My insides don't hum along with their former efficiency; and for these reasons, I have to sometimes depend on your younger efficiency."

In America nobody dares to so admit weakness, moral or physical. For in America we must all be independent, self-sufficient, captains in perfect charge of our fate. And if we're not these commanding captains of our fate, we cannot tell anyone how it is with us.

We know that we'll be patronized and resented by the people we bother with open need of their bigger strength. So it, like your mother, we're an old lady weakened by age we have to use weak behavior to make our demand on a child's younger strength.

We Americans are the most powerful people in the world, you know. So old people, unmarried mothers, relief clients and not-so-powerful people have an awful time surviving among us.

Newlyweds Leave on Trip
After vows and reception Saturday at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, the newlywed Mark G. Hornungs left for a honeymoon.

A lace bodice highlighted the former Jean Marie Smith's gown and train. Her illusion veil fell from a pearl crown and she carried a cascade of white daisies and Stephanotis.

Joan Mary Smith was her twin's maid of honor with bridesmaids, Marcia Sheehan, and Patricia Mullen.
Attending the bridegroom whose parents are the Thomas Hornungs of Clio, was best man, Michael Meschen. Ushering were Dean Hurd and Thomas Martus.
The bride is the daughter of the Foster Smiths of Rohr Road, Pontiac Township.

Ticket Sales Booming
Season ticket orders for 1967-68 reached 500 at Meadow Brook Theatre of Oakland University today, just 15 days after the close of the new theatre's premiere season, announced treasurer Donald R. Britton.

The 1967-68 season opens Oct. 6. Britton termed the advance sale "phenomenal this early, in view of the fact that promotional efforts for the coming season are not yet under way."

The John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre, professional repertory company in residence at Oakland University, presented five plays for 21 weeks, from Jan. 4 to May 28, 1967, and received wide critical acclaim for its first season as Michigan's newest professional repertory organization.

The enthusiastic response to the initial season has encouraged the company to schedule seven productions for 35 weeks, from Oct. 6, 1967 to June 2, 1968 for its second season.

NEW SEASON
The new season includes "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde; "John Gabriel Borkman" by Henrik Ibsen; "Charley's Aunt" by Brandon Thomas; "And People All Around," a new American play by George Sklar; Shakespeare's "King Lear"; "No Exit" by Jean-Paul Sartre and "The Firebugs" by Max Frisch, presented as a double bill; and Anton Chekhov's "The Sea-gull."

Britton said reservations for season tickets are now being accepted. Actual tickets will be mailed after Sept. 15. For Brook Theatre, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan 48063.

Bride-Elect, Miss Johnson Honored

Mrs. Robert Jack and daughter, Marilyn of Marie Circle were hostess at a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Sue Johnson. Miss Johnson will wed John Kimball in the Orchard Lake Community Church June 24.

Another shower hostess was Mrs. James Johnson of Ferndale.

Mrs. Victor Sutt honored the bride-to-be with a miscellaneous shower in her East Hammond Lake Road home. Assisting here were Mrs. Wayne McKelvey and Mrs. Leonard Pahalok.

Mrs. Donald Neal of Windcroft Drive was hostess for a personal shower.

was given by Mrs.-Louise Baldauf and Mrs. Lena Moyer.

Parents of the couple who will exchange vows soon are the Clair L. Johnsons of St. Joseph Street and the Clarke R. Kimballs of Ogemaw Road.

Nursery Wastebaskets

Colored plastic pails that may be bought in the dime store make good wastebaskets for a child's room. Children love their gay colors and enjoy filling them as well as emptying them.

Thieves Put
Minks, Sable
in Trash Can

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thousands of dollars worth of furs were hauled away in a garbage can from a store here.

Two men wearing white smocks entered the store and told the clerk they were there to "service the rest room."

They asked a saleslady for some wrapping paper. She left the fur vault for about 30 seconds to get the paper.

While she was away, the pair stuffed a $3,400 Russian sable jacket and two $2,600 mink coats in a garbage can and fled.

Lee J. Lerner's
Repeat Vows

Recent vows were exchanged in Detroit's St. Valentine's Catholic Church by Rosemary Martin and Lee James Lerner. Their parents are the Frank Martins of Detroit and Mrs. Samuel Lerner of Scott Lake Road, and the late Mr. Lerner.

Saki cloth, highlighted with French knotted Venice lace, fashioned an Empire gown for the bride whose floor-length veil fell from a cluster of matching lace.

She carried white roses.

Standing as her sister's matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Van Dragt with bridesmaids, Jacqueline Rucht, Mrs. William Zabriskie, Mrs. Joseph LaBeau and flower girl, Beth Mannix.

On the esquire side were best man, Herbert Anderson, with ushers, James Oliver, Kirk Evans and Paul Koenig.

Following a reception in Kingsley Inn, the couple left for a Canadian honeymoon and will return to East Lansing where both are in Michigan State University's graduate school.

MRS. THOMAS V. MARSH

In a nuptial high mass Saturday afternoon in St. Michael's Catholic Church, Martha G. Jetter became the bride of Thomas V. Marsh. Their parents are the Charles J. Jettors of Oil City, Pa. and Mrs. Katherine Marsh, East Pike Street, and Harry Marsh of Sioux City, Iowa.

Married on Saturday

St. Michael's Catholic Church was the setting Saturday for the vows of Martha G. Jetter of Rochester and Thomas V. Marsh, son of Mrs. Katherine Marsh of East Pike Street, and Harry Marsh of Sioux City, Iowa.

The bride was gowned in floor length peau de soie with A-line skirt and removable chapel train. The jacket bodice was of Chantilly lace.

She wore a veil of silk illusion with a Dior bow, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and daisies.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Gerald S. Crane of Berkeley, served as honor attendant with the bridegroom's brother, Robert Marsh of Brunswick, Maine.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters Peggy of Grand Blanc and Jayne of Indianapolis, Ind.

Gary Chesney and Jack Colby, both of Chicago, were ushers.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Jetter of Oil City, Pa.

The Jackson Chorale and

St. Michael's choir provided music during the double ring rite.

A reception in the Elks Club in Rochester followed the wedding.

The couple will honeymoon in New Mexico and Colorado. They will reside in Rochester upon their return.

MRS. J. H. CAULEY JR.

Flint Golf Club Setting for Post Nuptial Gala

A late evening reception in the Flint Golf Club followed the wedding Friday of the Gary Clifford Gammages.

The couple repeated their vows in the St. John Vianney Catholic Church, Flint.

The former Pennie Marie Sutton wore floor length linen gown with Empire waist and A-line skirt. A bishop coat fell into a chapel train and her gown featured Venice lace sleeves.

LACE HEADPIECE

A matching lace headpiece held her floor length veil of English illusion with tiny lace appliques.

A spherical arrangement of Stephanotis, snowdrift roses and white Sim carnations was carried.

Ann Richardson was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Sutton, Martha Sutton, Vicki Westall and Ann LeMire.

Richard Gammage was best man. Ushers were James Absher, Richard Hamm, Gerald Kellar, Harvey Gammage, William Coleman and Ned Weller.

Parents of the couple are the Roy E. Suttons of Flint and the S. Royal Gammages of Holly.

MRS. C. R. STRAHAN

Bay Village Is Setting for Cauley Vows

Michigan State University students, Anne M. Osborne and John H. Cauley Jr. were wed Saturday in St. Raphael Catholic Church, Bay Village, Ohio.

Parents of the couple are the John H. Osbornes of Bay Village and the John H. Cauleys of Highwood Drive.

The bride's silk organza gown was fashioned with a lace coat and her illusion veil fell from a large organza bow. Her flowers were white roses, ivy and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Michael Griffin was maid of honor with bridesmaids Anne Meade, Jean Cauley, Peggy Vance and Judy Aaron.

Lance Cpl. George O. Cauley was his brother's best man. Ushers were Jerome Kemp, Peter Osborne, Ralph Faust and William Lukens.

The Avon Oaks Country Club in Bay Village was the setting for a reception from which the newlyweds left for a honeymoon on the east coast and Virginia Beach.

Money Tree for Sick Child

When a small child is sick in the hospital or convalescing at home, take him a money tree as a gift.

Cut off a small branch of a tree or shrub and anchor it securely in a flower pot with adhesive tape.

Practical Joke on Newlyweds

GOLETA, Calif. (AP) — Gas Station Attendant Edward Facundus found a note stuffed in the gas tank of a car which had pulled into his station. It read: "Help! I'm being kidnapped and forced to pose as his wife! Please call police!"

The car sped away, but Facundus called the police who radioed an all-points bulletin. Before long, Patrolman Paul Whiting spotted the car and forced the driver out of the car with hands over his head. The driver asked what it was all about. Officer Whiting explained.

The man produced a brand-new wedding license. It then was found the note was the work of a practical joker friend of the newlyweds.

Pocket First Aid for Hand Blisters

Golf and tennis interest more women each summer, and most first-timers invariably wind up with burns and blisters that can mar hand beauty.

A golf glove is one helpful precaution against such skin irritations. Also carry a little cream and a few adhesive strips in your pocket.

Sharlene Taylor Recent Bride

A nuptial high mass in St. Rita's Catholic Church, Holly, was the setting recently for the vows of Sharlene Ann Taylor and Ronald Leo Peter.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Taylor of Holly and the Andrew Peters of Quincy, Ill.

The bride was gowned in a floor length silk organza sheath with sabrina neckline. Alencon lace bodice and d sleeves and full chapel train.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured with a rose and seed pearl headpiece. She carried a cascade of white carnations, daisies, Stephanotis and lamplighter roses.

A reception in the VFW Hall preceded the departure of the couple for a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Mix Solvent for Cleaning

For cleaning lampshades made of parchment or metallic paper, use a mixture of one part of turpentine to ten parts of mineral oil. Apply with a soft cloth, wiping the shade gently but firmly as you apply.

Grater Cleaning

After grating soft cheese, rub a crust of hard bread over the grater to remove the cheese that still clings. This saves cheese and helps to clean the grater. A stiff brush is also good to use in cleaning a grater.

Junior Editors Quiz on WHALERS

QUESTION: Why did whalemans do scrimshaw work?

ANSWER: To scrimshaw meant to carve or engrave bone from the whales which were hunted in the old days with sailing vessels, whale oil being in demand for lighting purposes. Two kinds of whales were hunted: the whalebone or right whales, and the sperm whales, one of which is shown in the picture.

Look closely and you will see a row of teeth in this whale's lower jaw. It was these teeth that the whalemans particularly liked to take out and decorate with engraved designs of ships and pretty girls (lower left).

No doubt our artist has exaggerated by showing a whalemans thinking about scrimshawing while being tossed by a whale in the air; but the general scene of wreckage of the whaleboat is quite accurate, for this happened many times.

Beside the teeth of the sperm whale, whalemans used jawbone from the right whale for scrimshaw work. The pie-crimper (lower right) would have been made from this.

Scrimshaw work was done to pass the time while at sea and have gifts to bring back to wives and sweethearts.

Thinness Carries Weight in Interviews for College

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chubb, the high school teacher would probably tend to think of him as tolerated in high school may have trouble entering college, according to the Nutrition Foundation.

The foundation, a nonprofit organization supported by the food and allied industries, cited a report on obesity and college entrance by two investigators from the Department of Nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health Boston.

The report, by Helen Canning and Dr. Jean Mayer, found that officials who interview applicants for college entrance appear to have an "unconscious prejudice" against obese boys and girls that is not shared by the same students' high school teachers.

The Harvard team, which in an earlier survey had found that obese college applicants were rejected at a higher rate than nonobese applicants, based its new report on a study of the 1966 graduates of the high school in a large middle-class suburban community near Boston.

Obesity is defined medically as excessive accumulation of fat. In distinction, overweight is weight in excess of the normal range.

NO CORRELATION

Football linemen, for example, are generally overweight but not obese. Sedentary people can be obese without being markedly overweight.

The team found that obesity and intelligence, as measured by IQ test scores, were not correlated.

There was little difference between obese and nonobese high school students in grades.

The team reported:

"It is unlikely that high school teachers exhibit prejudice toward obese students in writing college recommendations, since they do not discriminate in grading and since they would be aware of the other aspects of high school performance which indicate no differences between the obese and nonobese."

"Because the obese student is no different in these aspects,

Hopes Rise for Continuation of Local Teacher Corps Program

By DICK ROBINSON
Pontiac's National Teachers Corps — a bold, new program fighting poverty — is breathing a little easier today in its national fight for survival, but the big test is yet to come.

A small band of corpsmen throughout the country, including 13 in Pontiac, struggled through the last school year on limited federal funds.

For months corpsmen and school officials have been kept in the dark by Congress as to whether funds will be allocated at all for the coming school year.

But the supervisor of Pontiac's corpsmen announced earlier this week that there is some hope for the beleaguered corps members getting on the job training while going into the city's slums and rural poverty belts.

B. C. Van Koughnett, director of Pontiac's Community Action Programs, said a $155,000 trouble-ridden Teachers Corps program has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee for three years.

It is a part of a $1.1 billion package for recruitment and training of educational personnel that is now expected to go before the House and Senate for a vote this month.

Current authority for the corps expires this June 30.

ONLY DISTRICTS
Pontiac, Detroit and Oak Park were the only school districts in Michigan to receive corpsmen last school year in the program's first year of operation.

LET THE CHILDREN TEACH — An unconventional teaching method of letting junior high school students tutor elementary children is used in Pontiac's National Teachers Corps program. The corps is awaiting action by Congress on whether funds should be given the program for its second year, and if so, how much. Here Bagley School sixth-grader Jacqueline Brooks, 225 Fisher, teaches first-grader Brenda Chism, 196 Crystal Lake, the "wh" sound.

Jefferson Junior High School last year. The school district operated its NTC program on $87,000 in federal funds.

VanKoughnett has applied for 72 corpsmen in seven South Side schools this fall with $375,372 in federal money.

The NTC is the nation's newest, boldest, most controversial branch of the continuing war on poverty, many educators say. It is a two-year work-study program. Part of a corp member's time is spent in the schools, part in the community where deprived, low-income children live and part in study at a nearby university (Wayne State) toward a master's degree and state teacher certification.

A fresh approach to reading problems has been developed at Pontiac's Bagley School.

Mrs. Harriette Brooks, team leader, explains a unique program where older students teach younger ones:

"The very obvious fact, as any child knows, is that the most effective teachers of children are often other children."

Another unconventional approach used in Pontiac is to encourage self-expression. When two elementary pupils were asked how they feel about themselves, this is what they wrote:

"Oh! I go to Bagley School. I have plenty of friends. I live with my parents. I make good grades in school. I'm somebody."

"I go to Bagley School, too," said another. "I live with my mother. My father left last year. My mother sometimes leaves me with my big sister. She beats me and many times there is no food in the house. I make poor grades in school. I'm nobody."

An important part of the corpsmen's duties is to go out into the community.

In Pontiac, teacher interns knock on doors in the community, discuss problems with parents and organize parent discussion groups, among other community projects.

These slum teachers, the theory goes, can stimulate a dramatic upgrading in the achievements of their students by involving the whole neighborhood in the process of education.

"Because we are not assigned to a classroom we have time to work with pupils individually," Mrs. Brooks says. "We convince Jimmy that maybe another word could take the place of the vulgar word he has used before."

"Sue finds that after eating a piece of toast and drinking a glass of milk the tummy ache goes away."

Bobby discovers that after he has taken a bath and put on clean clothes the children don't mind sitting next to him anymore.

Local reaction toward the program has been enthusiastic, although Congress has balked at handing out appropriations.

"When we see with drawing his mouth quickly because indeed must be steps in the Sammy jumping up gleefully to that 'ugly' word slipped out right direction."

Take Fund Protest to Romney

Collegians Seek Tax Reform

LANSING (AP) — About 25 manner which is consistent with leaders of the state's largest college students — button-holed the best interests of the State of Michigan and its educational system.

The committee bill for education appropriations of $240.1 million falls $17.5 million short of the governor's recommendation. Appropriations Committee Chairman Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said the committee had agreed that the state's colleges and universities could pick up $15 million more by boosting tuition, particularly for out-of-state students.

"We've driven from four universities to protest," the student leaders told Romney.

They included Bruce Kahn, student body president at the University of Michigan; Chuck Larson, chairman of the student-faculty council at Wayne State University; James A. Raphael, president of the Eastern Michigan University student governing body; and Hall Lashlee, a member of the Michigan State University student council.

"The problem is to get 56 votes in the House," the governor replied, referring to the number of house votes necessary to pass the Republican-sponsored fiscal reform program before members.

"We have to get tax reform," Romney continued. "Go after the legislators."

The students talked with several legislators and presented a statement which outlined their stand.

"The Legislature is, at this moment, close to dealing higher education a blow from which it may not recover," the statement read.

"If the Legislature of this state is to continue to provide for the current and future needs of the state's educational institutions, it must not act according to partisan party politics but rather, it must act in a

California's Auto Antitheft Bill Killed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A legislative committee yesterday killed a measure that would have required new cars sold in California to carry anti-theft devices starting in 1970.

The Senate Finance Committee refused to give the bill a "do pass" recommendation after listening to objections from

The bill would have the effect of encouraging the automobile manufacturing industry "to come up with a foolproof anti-theft device."

Shoshone GI Fights Draft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Do American Indians whose tribal ancestors signed treaties with the United States government have to serve in the armed forces?

This question may be tested in federal court June 30.

U.S. District Judge Alphonse Zirpoli Tuesday ordered the Army to show cause on that date why it should not release a Shoshone GI from Battle Mountain, Nevada.

ASKED WRIT

Richard D. Williams, drafted in Nevada, inducted at Salt Lake City, trained at Ft. Polk, La., and now awaiting shipment to Vietnam at the Oakland Army Terminal, had asked for a writ of habeas corpus.

His petition argued that Shoshone treaties signed with Washington in 1863 and 1869 in Utah Territory mean that "a treaty Indian is neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident alien within the meaning of a Universal Military Training and Service Act."

Rug Pulled to Cut Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Defense official literally pulled the rug out from under himself as the Pentagon canceled projects which would have cost $20,003,200.

The $20-million saving came from cancellation of a week-long summer military maneuver involving 70,000 men in North Carolina.

The $3,200 saving came when Asst. Secretary of Defense Phil G. Goulding scrapped plans to recarpet his suite of offices at the Pentagon.

Goulding, press spokesman for the Pentagon, said Tuesday he would stick with his 363 yards of 10-year-old carpeting in seven offices and a hallway. He announced his decision after publication of an AP story about the purchase but he gave no reason for his move.

Exercise Kitty Hawk was canceled to cut spending, said the Pentagon. It was to begin Aug. 22 near Ft. Bragg, N.C., with regular Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force troops, National Guardsmen and Air Guardsmen involved.

Heavy Rains May Bring It to Ground

China H-Bomb Debris to Float Over U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—said, however, that fallout so Weather experts expect radioactive debris from Red China's H-bomb to start floating high over the U.S. West Coast today.

But the first traces may not be detectable on the ground until heavy rains forecast for the Midwest and Great Plains begin falling tomorrow, they said.

Rain brings down radioactive particles drifting in the atmospheric layers through which the droplets pass.

Most of the debris from Saturday's explosion in Western China is expected to drift around the northern hemisphere for about a year before settling to earth, its radioactivity greatly diminished.

Government officials and health physicists generally said yesterday they saw no measurable menace to human beings from such small amounts of radioactive material as may come down before a year has passed.

Meanwhile, high-flying U.S. laboratory planes were reported already collecting dust samples over the Pacific. Analysis of the samples will tell what materials the Chinese used in their first hydrogen bomb.

Japanese scientists reported yesterday that atmospheric radioactivity had risen sharply as a result of the H-bomb test. Scientists and official spokesmen

The fallout rate over the United States will depend, meteorologists said, on how much of the weather-making regions.

Draft Law Extension Bill Is Sent to President

SNARLING BRIDE — A female snow leopard, as yet unnamed, snarls from her isolation cage after her arrival at the Philadelphia Zoo where zoo officials said yesterday that she would be mated with the zoo's male leopard. The newcomer, which cost $3,500, will be introduced to her groom later.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A draft law extension bill that guarantees deferments for most college students, targets 19-year-olds for earliest induction and bars a lottery selection system awaits only President Johnson's signature to become law.

The final version of the bill, hammered into shape by House-Senate conferees, was sent to the President Tuesday by a 377-29 House vote. The Senate accepted the compromise version last week.

In its final form, the legislation more closely resembles recommendations of a panel headed by retired Gen. Mark Clark, which reported to the House Armed Services Committee, than those from a presidential commission under Burke Marshall, a former assistant attorney general.

Existing authority for the military draft expires June 30. The new legislation continues most provisions of the present law in effect, with some changes, until 1971.

FOLLOW-THROUGH
The proposal permits Johnson to follow through on his announced intention of putting an emphasis on induction of 19-year-olds. In the past, older men in the 19-26 age group were drafted first but this bill has dwindled to the point that younger eligibles now are meeting most monthly quotas. This provision for drafting younger men first is not written into the law but Congress made its favorable position clear in reports and Johnson can take the action by executive regulation.

But the bill specifically prohibits Johnson from changing the present selection method by using a national lottery system. Congress would be required before such a change could be made. The Marshall commission had supported the switch while Clark's panel opposed a lottery in any form.

Under the new proposal, any requesting undergraduate college student would be entitled to a deferment to continue his courses so long as he met scholastic and other standards of his school. Student deferments now are granted by local draft boards but the pending legislation makes it a matter of law. The student no longer would have to stay in the upper half of his class, a requirement often stipulated by local boards.

Heads Art Unit

— George Nocito, a well known sculptor of Huntington, N.Y., has been named chairman of the Division of Creative Arts at the Creative Art Center of West Virginia University. He is an associate professor of fine arts at New York Institute of Technology at Old Westbury, N.Y.

boards but the pending legislation makes it a matter of law. The student no longer would have to stay in the upper half of his class, a requirement often stipulated by local boards.

The deferments would be effective until the student finishes his undergraduate work, reaches age 24 or leaves school, whichever comes first. He then would revert to the top of the age group most vulnerable to induction.

This was the course recommended by Clark's panel while the Marshall commission suggested termination of deferments at the end of the sophomore year except for those now in a degree program.

Graduate students wouldn't get a legal deferment under the bill but it would allow the President to defer them by regulation if he feels their studies are in the national interest. The Marshall commission wanted no graduate deferments while Clark supported those for persons in critical professions.

Johnson said he intends to defer medical and dental students. Occupational deferments could be asked by presidential regulation but they would not be mandatory on local boards.

The new proposal also contains a prohibition against consolidation of local draft boards and elimination of state headquarters. The Marshall commission had proposed the realignment while Clark's panel wanted to preserve the existing organization.

Summer School Sign-Up Near

89 Classes, Activities Offered in Waterford

Registration for the Waterford Township School District's 1967 summer school program will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow and Friday in the adult education office at Township High School, 1415 Cent Lake.

Eighty-nine classes and activities are being offered on the adult, senior high school and junior high school levels.

The program will begin Monday and continue for six weeks through Aug. 4. Most classes will be held at Kettering High School, 2800 Bendler.

The adult courses, all credit, will be held nights. Classes offered are algebra, American government, art workshop, auto mechanics, English, speech, typing and welding.

Classes for senior high school students will be provided in the following categories: art, commercial, English, homemaking, industrial arts, mathematics, instrumental music, physical education, science, social studies, speech, and drive education.

JUNIOR HIGH CATEGORIES

Junior high categories are art, commercial, English, social studies, homemaking, mathematics, instrumental music, physical education and speech correction.

For college sophomores and juniors, a six-week course entitled "College and University Trips" is being offered. The activity will be held Thursdays.

Students entered in the course will tour several college campuses in Michigan, including Central Michigan, University of Detroit, Eastern Michigan, Michigan State, University of Michigan, Wayne State and Western Michigan.

Several courses also are available this summer on the elementary school level. Categories are reading, mathematics, ceramics, creative dramatics, dramatics, enrichment, instrumental music, music, language arts, science, physical education and camping.

According to Donald Arsen, over-all program is geared to explore in depth areas of special interest, make up credits lost during past years, enrich students' educational background by taking a course they didn't have time for during the regular year and to help develop a salable skill.

Two Negroes on Council in Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Two Negro women, the first of their race to sit on the Jacksonville City Council since Reconstruction days, were elected Tuesday in an election that left only one incumbent in office. The two women, both widowed former schoolteachers, were the first women elected to the council in this northeastern Florida city.

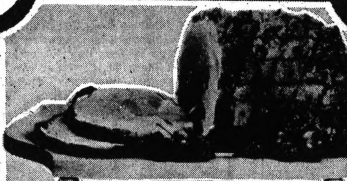

Sallye B. Mathis won her seat by almost 5,000 votes. Mary B. Singleton ran unopposed in the general election Tuesday. Mrs. Mathis polled 19,416 votes to 14,528 for C. Ted Forsythe Jr.

The women were swept into office in a clean-sweep Democratic victory in all seven contested races.

The election left only one incumbent councilman, Lavern Reynolds, in office. He ran unopposed.

Jacksonville voters tossed out the other incumbents in the primaries. The shake-up came after a grand jury last year indicted eight city officials. Reynolds publicly denounced three fellow councilmen who kept their jobs after being indicted.

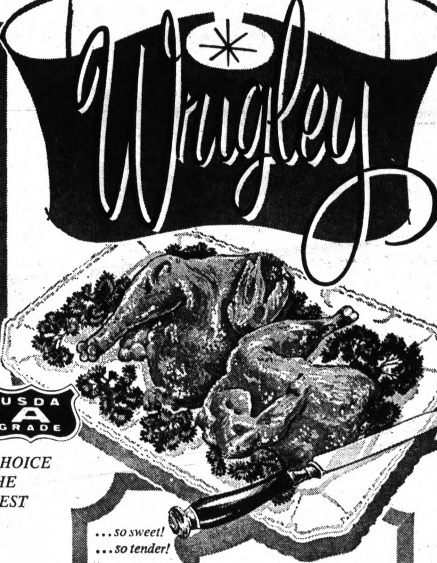

In the mayor's race, Hans Tandler Jr., who resigned as Duval County criminal court judge to run, defeated Dr. William Hembree, a dentist, 27,742 to 8,263, according to the unofficial vote totals.

Serving People Is a Way of Life for AFL-CIO Leader

By JOE MULLEN

Serving the people — lots of people — seems to be the vocational destiny of Jack Douglas, and he relishes the challenge.

For more than 18 years, Douglas was a member of the Pontiac Fire Department, serving the city's 85,000 residents.

Last February he was elected president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council comprising 111 union locals. Membership in these locals is 37,500, and the families of the union members number about a quarter-million persons, some 30 per cent of the county's 850,000 population.

As president of the council, Douglas is essentially a public relations spokesman for labor in Oakland County as he works in behalf of attaining union goals.

Though most of his time is aimed at bettering the situation for the working person, Douglas has a special concern for the retiree who is dependent on Social Security benefits.

INCREASE NEEDED

"Social Security benefits must be increased far beyond the 8 per cent boost now being discussed," the 45-year-old labor leader said.

"These benefits now average $84 monthly for a retired person and $114 for a retired couple," Douglas pointed out. "I feel that this compensation is very inadequate and that benefits should be raised 50 per cent."

An energetic man who likes to be where the action is, Douglas is in full agreement with UAW President Walter Reuther's contention that the national AFL-CIO has become too complacent.

"I like his progressive attitude," Douglas said. "We cannot be dragging our feet."

As for an evaluation of labor organizations at the grass-roots level, Douglas said that locals are as strong as the people in them and he encourages initiative to bolster local strength.

He is past president of the Pontiac Firefighters Association, Local 376.

The council comprises 64 UAW locals and 47 non-UAW units. It does not include the Teamsters or building trades.

A native of Decatur, Ill., Douglas came to Pontiac after graduating from high school. He was told by two uncles living here that Pontiac was a good place to work.

He was employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division for two years and then went in the Army for 42 months, including 32 months of overseas service during World War II.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Back to civilian life in 1946, Douglas returned to GMC for two more years and joined the fire department in October 1948.

He rose to the rank of captain last year and now is on leave of absence from the department while serving a two-year term as president of the labor council.

As a labor leader representing a vast number of people, Douglas has a busy schedule and many affiliations.

He recently was named a vice president of the Michigan United Fund and locally is on the board of the Pontiac Area United Fund and a member of its capital funds committee.

HOUSING COMMITTEE

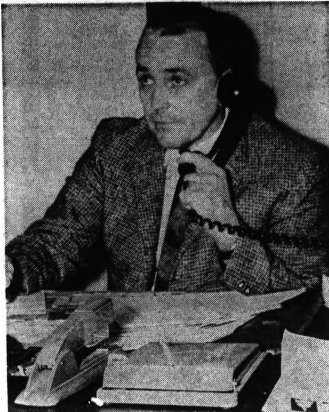

Other current activities include membership on a housing committee of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, the Citizens Tax Committee of Pontiac, the Manpower Development Training Act board and a trusteeship on the pension board of the city police and fire departments.

Douglas, who lives at 1644 Charleston with his wife, Wilma, and 17-year-old daughter, Kathleen, is chairman of the Christian education board of Marimont Baptist Church and serves on the church's board of ushers.

During his years as an active fire fighter, he was one of the key promoters of the Toys for Tots program at Christmas time, the wheelchair acquisition program for the needy and two annual outings for crippled children sponsored by the firemen.

Formerly in softball and basketball leagues and a counselor in the Owen School camping program, Douglas now limits his outdoor recreation to an occasional fishing jaunt and a pheasant hunting.

ing and an hour in the early morning sun.
Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Tuesday followed the dictates of U.P. residents who did not want to observe Eastern Daylight Saving Time. They said they are withdrawing a petition requesting the Interstate Commerce Commission to include the U.P. in the Eastern Time Zone.

Their action removes all legal blocks from the path of that early sunlight hour and, in effect, puts the U.P. in the Central Time Zone.

"When this petition was filed in March, the Legislature had just acted to exempt Michigan from Daylight Saving Time," Romney and Kelley said. "However, now that petitions for a referendum have suspended the law, a new situation exists with our clocks being placed one hour ahead."

NEW CIRCUMSTANCES
"In these new circumstances many citizens and interests in the Upper Peninsula agree that Central Time would be more beneficial. Therefore, we are withdrawing our petition."

The action followed by three days an official ruling by Transportation Department Secretary Alan S. Boyd, whose office has taken over the time regulatory powers of the ICC.

Boyd had declared that the Upper Peninsula "is officially located in the Central Time Zone." U.S. Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., had requested the ruling.

"During the period of advanced time," Boyd ruled, "the time in the Upper Peninsula, under provisions of the uniform time act, will be Central Daylight Time."

OBSERVE PETITION
Boyd added, however, that his department would not enforce Central Time in the U.P. until it had acted on the Romney-Kelley petition.

Now that the stumbling block has been removed, the U.P. will go on Central Daylight Saving Time as of 1:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time (12:01 a.m. CDT) this Thursday.

"At that time," Kelley and Romney declared, "all of the Upper Peninsula will be on Central Daylight Saving Time."

In Washington Tuesday, Ruppe expressed delight that "the governor and the attorney general have joined in agreeing that CDT is the proper time in the U.P."

Man Charged Military Issues New Order on Hazing in Poisoning

Pickles, Onion Hide in 'Burger

On the mound for today's luncheon line-up are Pitchers' Burgers. This sandwich, which sports a middle of tangy toothsome dill hamburger slices and tender crisp onions, stands tall on toasted buns. A flavor assist is given by thick, rich tomato ketchup.

Pitchers' Burgers

1½ pounds ground beef chuck
Salt and pepper
6 large onion slices, ¼-inch thick cup dill-hamburger slices or fresh cucumber pickles ½ cup tomato ketchup
2 tablespoons water
6 sandwich buns, split, toasted

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Shape meat into 12 thin patties; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place an onion slice on half of a dash of onion slices evenly over onion slices.

Top with remaining patties, pressing edges together to seal. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake 10 minutes or until browned.

Combine ketchup and water; spoon over patties. Bake 10-15 minutes or until done. Serve in toasted sandwich buns. Makes 6 sandwiches.

It's a Salad Treat

Mold Slaw in Gelatin

Cool, refreshing, deliciously different, and attractive. That describes this coleslaw soufflé salad.

It is especially suited for warm weather meals, but you are likely to find yourself serving it year around when you want to please your family and friends.

Try this fancy molded salad with the built-in dressing the next time you want to have something different on the menu.

Coleslaw Soufflé Salad

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups finely shredded cabbage
½ cup radish slices
½ cup diced celery
2 to 4 tablespoons diced green pepper, according to taste preference

1 tablespoon diced onion
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Blend in mayonnaise, cold water, vinegar, and salt. Chill till partially set. Beat till fluffy. Add finely shredded cabbage, radish slices, diced celery, diced green pepper, and diced onion.

Pour into individual molds or 1-quart mold. Chill till set. To serve, unmold on lettuce and garnish with radish slices. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Appeal to Young

To make toast appealing to the children, cut the slice of bread into an animal shape with a large cookie cutter, before toasting it. This animal-shaped toast appeals to them and you won't have to urge them to eat their toast.

And it is not a waste, for the rest of the slice of bread is saved and used in dishes that require bread crumbs.

TOFFEE STRAWBERRIES CONTINENTAL—Combine ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup whipping cream, ¼ cup light corn syrup and two tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil one minute. Remove from heat; stir in ½ cup chopped chocolate-covered English toffee bars. Cool, stirring occasionally. Serve fresh strawberries topped with sour cream (one cup for one quart berries) and toffee sauce. Makes 6-8 servings.

Rice and Salmon Salads Are Tempting

Rice has been an essential part of man's food long before the birth of Christ. So, too, has salmon, and with the turn of the centuries both rice and salmon have continued to rise in popularity.

There are many reasons for this: rice is economical, easy to cook and combines well with most other foods.

Salmon is nutritionally valuable, adds flavor and color as well as protein to any dish, and a pound can with no waste or shrinkage will serve from four to six persons.

Both are available as pantry shelf items in every state, country and village from coast to coast.

Few natural protein foods fit into hot weather menus as successfully as canned salmon. It may be served directly from the can with a little freshly ground pepper from the mill and a dash of wine vinegar or lemon juice, or it may be quickly and easily forked into good-size chunks, mixed with a little chopped onion and bound with mayonnaise or sour cream for sandwich fillings or salads.

A salad with more lasting qualities combines the colorful canned salmon chunks with cooked rice. Hard-cooked eggs add to the value of such a salad, and minced onion tops and celery give that crisp texture so necessary in a good salad.

A can of soup, some hot biscuits or crackers or buttered thin slices of dark bread are all that are needed to make this salad add up to a perfect summer meal.

Salmon Rice Salad

3 cups cooked rice
1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
½ cup minced parsley
2 tablespoons minced chives or green onion tops

½ cup finely chopped celery
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
Freshly ground black pepper
½ cup French dressing
Combine rice, salmon, parsley, chives, celery and eggs. Sprinkle with pepper. Add French dressing and toss lightly. Garnish with lemon slices and chill until ready to serve. Serves 6.

Another equally delicious summer salad doubles as a luscious sandwich filling.

Salmon Egg Salad

¾-ounce can salmon
½ cup finely chopped celery

½ cup chopped green onion
¼ cup chopped cucumber
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Flake salmon. Combine flaked salmon, celery, onion, cucumber and eggs.

Combine mayonnaise with 1 tablespoon of the reserved salmon liquid, salt, pepper and parsley. Add to salmon mixture and mix lightly. Chill. Serves 3 to 4.

Parfait, Cake or Pie

Start Blueberry Time With Desserts

Hail the return of an old friend! The fresh blueberry is back to spend another season with us.

For the next couple of months, this most versatile of American berries will be making the produce sections of the markets beautifully blue and especially inviting.

Of course bring out the favorite recipes from yesterday, but celebrate a new season by adding some new and original ideas. Most appetites for fresh blueberries are never satisfied, so it's fun to build an exciting collection of blueberry recipes.

Start this year with these.

Blueberry Coconut Parfait
2 cups (1-pt.) sour cream
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon ground mace
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
½ cup flaked coconut
4 cups fresh blueberries

Mix sour cream, sugar, vanilla, mace, orange rind and coconut. Spoon alternating layers of blueberries and sour cream mixture into parfait glasses, beginning and ending with blueberries. Yield: 6 servings.

Blueberry Banana Pie

1 baked 10-inch pie shell with a high fluted edge
2 packages instant banana pudding
1½ cups evaporated milk
1½ cups water
2 cups fresh blueberries
1 cup (½-pt.) heavy cream, whipped
Miniature marshmallows

Cool pie shell thoroughly. Prepare pudding according to package directions, using evaporated milk and water. Fold in blueberries and whipped cream. Pour mixture into pie shell and freeze until firm. Put miniature marshmallows over the top covering it completely.

Four mixture into pie shell and freeze until firm. Put miniature marshmallows over the top covering it completely. Yield: 1-10-inch pie.

Fruity Filling

Chop the fruit in orangemarmalade and chop some raisins, too. Mix the combination with cream cheese and use as a filling for nut-bread sandwiches.

FRESH BLUEBERRIES—Celebrate the start of the new fresh blueberry season by making a special parfait or a surprise pie with a marshmallow topping. If the family can't wait even that long for the first blueberry dessert, whip up some cream, mix in the big blues and put it between and on top of sponge layers.

Zesty Crumbs Coat Halibut for Baking

Of the many methods of cooking sea-foods, baking is surely the easiest and neatest.

Deviled Halibut Steaks

1½ pounds halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup minced onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
¾ teaspoon Tabasco
¾ teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup butter
2 cups fine bread crumbs (4 slices)

Combine green pepper, onion, mustard, Worcestershire, Tabasco and lemon juice. Melt butter, stir in bread crumbs, and turn this into vegetable mixture, blending well.

Season one side of halibut steaks with salt and pepper. Spread with half the crumb mixture. Place crumb side down in a greased baking dish or platter. Repeat seasoning and spreading on the top.

Bake at 325 degrees (moderate oven) 25 to 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork. Top steaks with grated Parmesan cheese and place under broiler about four minutes or long enough to brown. Makes four servings.

Glaze Onions in Skillet

Golden brown Glazed onions are tasty served with a roast or a grilled-to-perfection steak. Honey and oregano team deliciously with the onions which are slowly browned in butter and chicken bouquet, the bottled

½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet (bottled browning sauce)
½ teaspoon oregano, crushed
Cook peeled onions in boiling salted water until tender, about 20 to 30 minutes depending on the size. Drain. In a large skillet, over low heat, melt butter and blend in honey, kitchen bouquet and oregano.

Add onions and cook, turning frequently, until onions are golden brown and glazed, about 15 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

New Revenue Sources Tapped, Rates Hiked

State Legislatures Taking Bigger Tax Bites

CHICAGO (AP)—State legislatures are taking bigger and bigger tax bites, either through tapping new sources of funds or by increasing rates, a survey showed today.

The survey was made by Commerce Clearing House, a private agency that reports to its subscribers on tax and business law. It summarized major tax changes enacted so far in 1967 thus:

Nebraska has levied both a corporate and personal income tax, effective for income earned or received on or after Jan. 1, 1968, with rates to be set annually by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

West Virginia will begin levying a 6 per cent corporate net income tax, effective July 1, 1967.

Corporate income taxes have been boosted in three states—in Maryland from 5 per cent to 5½ per cent, in Montana from 8½ per cent to 5½ per cent, and in Tennessee from 4 per cent to 5 per cent.

Minnesota has hiked the basic income tax rates on corporations from 7½ per cent to 8½ per cent, and on banks from 8½ per cent to 10½ per cent. North Dakota also boosted the tax on banks from 4 per cent to 5 per cent.

Minnesota has hiked the basic income tax rates on corporations from 7½ per cent to 8½ per cent, and on banks from 8½ per cent to 10½ per cent. North Dakota also boosted the tax on banks from 4 per cent to 5 per cent.

North Carolina cut income taxes by increasing exemptions.

While Kansas has lowered its personal income tax on the first $2,000 of taxable income, from 4 to 2 per cent, Minnesota has extended its boosted individual income tax rates presently in effect as well as the additional taxes and surtaxes on banks and corporations.

With enactment of two new sales and use taxes so far this year, 44 states and the District of Columbia now levy these revenue producers.

Nebraska's 2½ per cent tax became effective June 1. Minnesota will begin imposing a 3 per cent tax to replace the existed 2½ per cent sales tax and former 2½ per cent use tax.

Sales and use tax increases were enacted in Rhode Island—4 per cent to 5 per cent; Washington—4½ per cent to 4½ per cent; and in Wyoming—2½ per cent to 3 per cent.

LOCAL, USE TAXES

Texas has authorized local sales and use taxes of 1 per cent which would apply to the same property and allow the same exemptions as the 2 per cent state tax. Nevada has also imposed a mandatory 1 per cent county sales and use tax similar to the 2 per cent tax.

Minnesota and New Mexico have increased their gasoline tax rates from six cents to seven cents.

The same increase is awaiting the governor's approval in Oregon.

Montana has raised its tax a half-penny to 6½ cents. Washington increased its rate from 7½ cents to 9 cents, an Wyoming's rate went up a penny to 6 cents a gallon.

Tennessee and Wyoming both increased their cigarette tax rates to 8 cents a pack this year. The Tennessee rate marked a penny increase, while Wyoming doubled its old rate. New Hampshire hiked its tobacco products tax from 21 per cent to 30 per cent of retail value.

Two U.P. Men Rescued From Crippled Sloop

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Coast Guard has rescued two Michigan businessmen from a crippled sloop taking part in the Annapolis, Md., to Newport, R.I., yacht race in storm-tossed Chesapeake Bay.

A Northeast storm packing 40-knot winds kicked up angry seas, dismasted six boats, and sank the Vignette which was carrying Roger Williams, publisher of the Menominee Herald Leader.

The Coast Guard reported that Williams and Harold Derusha, president of the Marinette Marine Corp. in Menominee were pulled from the sinking Vignette, Monday night along with Stephen McAleer, 16, of Alexandria, Va.

The 35-foot Vignette eventually broke up and sank off Fisherman's Island near Cape Charles on Tuesday.

Roger McAleer, 45, owner of the Vignette; his brother, John McAleer, 56; and Christian Fine, 48, were rescued from a life raft to which they had clung for 4 hours after the Vignette sank, the Coast Guard reported.

Soviet News Reports of Crisis One-Sided

MOSCOW (UPI) — Fifty years after the revolution, the Soviet press is still what founding father Vladimir I. Lenin once called it: "The sharpest weapon of our party."

The Soviet reporter, as well as the editor, writer and broadcaster, is expected on any story to ask himself, "Is this good for my country? Is it good for communism?"

An illustration of the management of news as an instrument of national policy has been afforded most recently by the journalistic treatment of the Middle East crisis.

The unsophisticated Soviet reader who relies entirely on the national communications media must unavoidably draw the following conclusions:

• The war was started by a group of Israeli extremists, inspired, goaded and equipped by American and British imperialists.

• The Arabs are a peace-loving people mercilessly victimized by brutal Israeli aggressors.

• The goal of Israeli and American policy is to restore colonial rule in the Arab world.

• Without American intervention, Israel could not have defeated the Arabs.

• The Israelis are no better than the Nazis and are prac-

Culture Gives Longer Life to Japan Ladies

By Science Service
GENEVA — In 1945 a Japanese baby girl could be expected to live 37 years. Today's female infant has a life expectancy of 73.

Similar dramatic changes will occur all over the emerging world when women enjoy cultural development. Japan's leading health statistician said here.

He theorizes that men are no longer killing their women by making them breast-feed, rear children, keep house and work the farm as well.

Dr. Takemune Soda, a graduate student at Johns Hopkins University 30 years ago, is now director of the Institute of Public Health in Tokyo, and a World Health Organization expert on health statistics.

Japanese men have done well, too. Since 1945, their life expectancy has risen to 68. But the women's experience has been phenomenal.

The U.S. is currently shipping about $300 million worth of fertilizers abroad each year through foreign aid and commercial channels.

ting mass slaughter against the Arabs.

What the Soviet press has not reported is even more revealing. No ordinary Soviet reader, for example, would know that:

• The Arab countries declared war against Israel in 1947 and have since then refused to recognize its existence and vowed its annihilation.

• Infiltrators from Syria, Jordan, Lebanon, and at one time the U.A.R., for years have been harassing Israel.

• The United States and other Western countries have given incomparably more economic and military aid to the Arab countries than to Israel.

SEVERE CRITICISM

The Soviet communications media have been severely criticized not only privately by Soviet intellectuals but at the highest level of the party and government leadership.

Speakers at the 23rd Party Congress in 1966 expressed displeasure at the fact that Soviet people often hear news about themselves first from the Western broadcasting stations.

And, of course, there is much that Soviet listeners learn about themselves and the outer world from the popular newscasts of the British Broadcasting Corp. and the Voice of America.

The Western broadcasting institutions will continue to enjoy huge audiences here as long as they supply information and views which are ignored by Soviet press and radio.

KRAUT AND FRANKFURTERS

Skillet Meals Are Cool Cooking

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Although last week's heat has moderated and we're back to normal summer weather, no one wants to spend lots of time over a hot stove.

This is the time of year when a skillet meal is welcome. It can simmer by itself and you don't need to light the oven.

The first recipe calls for the ever popular frankfurters and sauerkraut. By adding potatoes, you have an entire main course. Cooking time is only 20 minutes.

KRAUT-BOLOGNA SKILLET
1/4 cup all-vegetable shortening
2 medium potatoes, pared and thinly sliced

1 small onion chopped
1/4 pound bologna, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 1/2 cups undrained sauerkraut
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
Dash each: pepper, paprika

Heat shortening in large skillet. Add potatoes and saute 1 minute. Stir in onion and saute until potatoes are lightly brown.

Mix in cubed bologna, kraut, sugar, celery seed, pepper and paprika. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Canned corned beef is another useful meat for skillet dish.

Incidentally, any of these recipes can be used if you're camping. Then, definitely, you

CORNEBEEF AND MACARONI CREOLE

3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 cup sliced celery
1 green pepper, sliced
1 small can (8-oz.) tomatoes
1 can 10 1/2-oz. condensed tomato soup
1/2 cup water

1 can (12-oz.) corned beef, unchilled and coarsely flaked
3 cups cooked elbow or shell macaroni
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Grated Parmesan cheese, optional

Heat olive oil in large skillet; add onion, celery and green pepper and cook until tender but not browned. Add tomatoes, soup and water; simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Add corned beef and drained macaroni; cook over low heat 10 minutes more, stirring occasionally.

Garnish with parsley just before serving and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, if you wish. Makes 6 servings.

Tuna, another convenience food is the base of the last dish. This recipe was inspired by Japanese cooking.

SKILLET-STYLE TUNA AND VEGETABLES

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup thinly sliced carrots (cut in 2 inch lengths)
1 cup diagonally sliced scallions
1 cup diagonally sliced celery
2 cans (each 7 ounces) solid white meat tuna, drained and broken into chunks
1 can (5 ounces) sliced bamboo shoots, drained
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 cup dry sherry
1 vegetable bouillon cube dissolved in 1/2 cup hot water
1/4 pound spinach, knife-shredded coarsely
Hot cooked rice
Soy sauce

In a large skillet over moderately low heat, melt the butter; add carrots, scallions and celery; cook until crisp-tender.

Add tuna, bamboo shoots, seasonings, sherry and bouillon; simmer, uncovered, for about 3 minutes; add spinach and simmer, covered, for about 2 minutes.

Serve with hot rice and soy sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Vitamin Rich Juice Flavors Bread

Around the clock, frozen orange juice concentrate can add its fine, fresh-tasting flavor and valuable nutrients to daily diets.

Because it provides one of our best natural sources for vitamin C (plus vitamin A, B complex vitamins, minerals and quick food energy), it makes nutritional common sense to serve it often.

Everyone from month-old babies to the elderly needs vitamin C every day as an aid to health and beauty. Unlike other essential nutrients, it cannot be stored in the body from day to day.

Since there is no nutritional reserve to fall back on, it is important that our diets provide an adequate supply each day.

More specifically, vitamin C is essential to: help resist infections and colds; build and maintain healthy teeth, gums, skin, muscles, blood vessels and body tissues; form healthy red blood corpuscles; help normal growth; assist in utilization of calcium and other nutrients.

Besides serving frozen orange juice as a breakfast beverage, rely upon it as a healthful between-meal refresher. Some times reconstitute it with sparkling soda or ginger ale rather than water.

Occasionally float a scoop of orange sherbet or vanilla ice cream on it. Or, make a thick whip by blending together a cup of vanilla ice cream and four tablespoons of undiluted frozen concentrate.

Thawed but undiluted, frozen orange juice concentrate makes a speedy and superb topping for ice cream. It also adds delicious orange flavor to mixed fruit salads and fruit compotes.

For a quick ham glaze, mix together four tablespoons each of undiluted orange concentrate, prepared mustard and brown sugar.

An excellent topping for waffles or pancakes requires heating together just two ingredients: a 6-ounce can of frozen orange juice concentrate and 1 1/2 cups light corn syrup.

Reconstituted, frozen orange juice concentrate can be used as the liquid ingredient in many recipes including breads, cakes, molds. This recipe for Orange Pecan Muffins is just one example.

Orange Pecan Muffins
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese

3 cups packaged biscuit mix
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 1/4 cups reconstituted frozen orange juice
1/2 cup pecan halves, chopped

Let cream cheese soften at room temperature in mixing bowl. Add biscuit mix, sugar, egg and orange juice. Beat with a wooden spoon until blended (about 1 minute). Stir in chopped pecans.

Spoon batter into lightly-greased 2 1/2-inch muffin-pans, filling each about 3/4 full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 12.

Dates and Nuts Are in Topping of Bar Cookie

Dark brown sugar is the secret of the color and flavor in this cookie. Dates are available the year 'round.

Nut-Brown Date Bars
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup cut-up pitted dates
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup medium-fine chopped walnuts

Cream butter and granulated sugar with a spoon work in 1 cup of the sifted flour. Pack into buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake this base in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 25 minutes.

Meanwhile sift together the remaining 1/2 cup flour with the baking powder and salt; set aside. Just before base has finished baking, beat eggs until thick and ivory color; gradually beat in brown sugar, then vanilla; fold in the sifted flour mixture, dates, orange rind and walnuts.

Spread over hot baked base and return to 350-degree oven until firm and brown — about 30 minutes.

Store in tightly covered tin and the base of these bars will stay delightfully crisp for a couple of days.

Hollow Tomatoes for Baked Eggs

It's an ingenious way of baking eggs!

Tomato Eggs
2 large tomatoes (1/2 to 1 pound)
2 large eggs
Salt and white pepper
Grated Parmesan cheese

Choose tomatoes that stand straight. Cut a thin slice from stem ends. Cut out insides in plug shape; with fingers, remove wall sections and seeds. Use tomato plug in some other dish. Turn tomatoes upside down to drain thoroughly.

Drop a whole egg into each tomato shell; sprinkle with salt, pepper and Parmesan. Place each tomato in a well-buttered round heatproof glass individual pie dish (6 by 1 inch).

Bake in a 350-degree oven until eggs are set and partly firm — 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 2 servings.

Former Champ Leads

Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianapolis, who dominated medal play in the Women's District Golf Association as Sally Sharp a few years back, held a one-stroke lead in the 54-hole medal tournament going into today's second round at Orchard Lake Country Club.

She fashioned a 49-39-81 yesterday over the 6,392-yard, par-77 layout in launching her bid for a fourth medal play championship.

Mrs. Werner won the crown for the first time in 1958. She repeated the following year, and after losing out to Mrs. John Hume of Birmingham in 1960, she took it again in 1961.

A shot back at 82 is Mrs. Hume who is also looking for her fourth crown in the tourney.

Mrs. Werner picked up a bird-le on each side in her 81. Defending champion Mrs. Keith LeClair of Barton Hills is in England where her husband is on special assignment for the Ford Motor Company.

Nebraska Cager Inked
LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Nate Branch, the second highest scorer in Nebraska history, Tuesday signed with the Oakland-Americans of the new American Basketball League.

Softball Leader Still Unbeaten in Waterford

Day's Sanitary (12-1) shut out Clyde's Wheel & Frame (7-6), 4-0, in Waterford softball last night.

Jerry Thomas hurled the shut-out for Day's. Tom Studt and Jim Attard each had two hits for the winners.

In the second game, Spencer Floor Covering continued its winning ways by downing Midget Bar (5-8) by a score of 10-3.

Jim Patterson had two singles and a double to pace Spencer to its 13th win. Jim McClellan pitched a three-hitter for Spencer but yielded a solo homer to Bill Goulet.

Boxers Will Tour U.S.
NEW YORK (UPI)—A team of West German amateur boxing champions will begin a tour of the United States on Aug. 24, thus making it the first European boxing team to visit the U.S. since World War II.

Miss Shook in Semifinals

SPRING LAKE (UPI) — Patricia Shook, a Saginaw school teacher, takes on Mrs. P. E. Evered of Grand Rapids and Cynthia Claus of Grand Rapids in the semifinals of the 46th annual Spring Lake Women's Open Tournament today at the Spring Lake Country Club.

The Saginaw woman, who at the age of 16 won the tournament championship in 1959 and repeated the next year, entered the semifinals by defeating Mrs. Jack Scripps, the 1958 champion, from Grand Rapids, in match play Tuesday, 4 and 3.

In other match play: Mrs. Eversdyke overcame Mrs. Edgar Reynolds of Lansing, a three-time tournament winner, 2-up.

Miss Claus won over Mrs. Herb Zorhoff of Grand Rapids, 1-up on the 20th hole. Miss Claus was the 1963 champion.

Mrs. Windatt won over Judy Zylstra of Grand Rapids, 4 and 3. The finals will be played Thursday.

Race Tightens in City League

Ron's Roost pulled within a half game of the lead in the Pontiac American League softball race by knocking off Local No. 594 last night, 11-8. The triumph boosted Ron's to 7-2, just a shade behind idle Town & Country (8-2). In another scheduled AL game, Bob's Bar (4-5) took a forfeit decision from Orchard Lanes (2-8).

In National League action, Timberlanes No. 2 upped its pacesetter record to 6-1 with a 7-2 nod over L. & S. Standard (1-7), and Timberlanes No. 2 (4-4) turned back J. A. Fredman (6-3), 6-4.

A seven-run uprising in the first inning helped Ron's Roost to victory. Big blows in the frame were a two-run double by Del Chavez and a two-run trip checked in with two hits apiece for the winners, while Cy Green picked up three safeties for the losers.

PITCHES, HITS
Jim Fields scattered four hits and picked up a pair of hits in sparking the Timberlanes No. 1. John Fowler had two of the losers' hits.

Aden, S. Arabia Plan Periled by Mutiny

LONDON (AP) — The British government's plans to leave Aden and the South Arabian Federation in January were threatened today by a mutiny in the South Arabian army which resulted in the death of 18 British and sheikdoms, strung along the Arabian Peninsula.

Twenty-three Britons also were wounded before calm was reported Tuesday night to the Aden area in the south-west corner of the Arabian Peninsula.

The belief was widespread in London that British government would have to take a new look at its plans, announced Monday, to give independence about Jan. 9 to the federation made up of Aden State and 16 sultanates and sheikdoms strung along the southwest coast of Arabia.

Foreign Secretary George Brown told the House of Commons Monday that Britain would keep a strong naval force in South Arabian waters and a force of bombers within easy reach for six months after independence to guard the federation against aggression. But the government counted on the native army it is training and equipping to preserve order within the federation.

The Foreign Office attributed the mutiny to disputes in the 8,500-man army over "conditions of service and internal rivalries." The discontent apparently was brought to a head by the suspension four days ago of four colonels for unexplained "disciplinary reasons."

Although the Foreign Office refused to amplify its statement, it believed the rivalry stemmed from the recent merger of the former federal army trained by Britain since 1961, in which British officers have been steadily replaced by Arab officers who worked their way up, and the federal guard made up of former police units and personal troops of the various sheikhs.

Trouble broke out first at the Lake Leno barracks in the Sheikh Othman district, where young apprentice soldiers, set free to some buildings, freed prisoners and prevented Arab officers from entering the camp.

Arab officers broke up that mob, but the trouble spread to the Champion Lines camp in the same area. There rebellious soldiers sacked the army and seized its weapons.

Hyde sent along with his letter a mediator, showed by Western Union, that several major offices are meeting the standards less than 90 per cent of the time. The FCC said 90 per cent is barely satisfactory.

Ann Arbor Students Win Repair Contest

DETROIT (AP) — Two boys from Ann Arbor, Mich., High School uncovered a dozen planted malfunctions in a record 33 minutes Tuesday, taking first place in the Vocational National Trouble Shooting Contest.

Teams from Seattle, Wash., and Ithaca, N.Y., turned in identical times of 53 minutes each to tie for first in the Industrial Class.

The six boys, narrowed from a field of 184 who won trips to Detroit for the competition, each earned a $1,000 scholarship and training aids, valued at $2,000, for their schools.

Vocational winners were Tom Hehner and Don Johnston of Ann Arbor, who plan careers in mechanics and aviation respectively.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission says Western Union Corp. must improve performance to give the public "efficient telephone service for which it pays and which they are obligated by law to furnish."

FCC Chairman Rosel H. Hyde, in a letter to Western Union, said, "The Commission has been steadily replaced by Arab officers who worked their way up, and the federal guard made up of former police units and personal troops of the various sheikhs."

Mart Makes Cautious Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The day, the fourth largest in history, the market made a cautious advance early Wednesday afternoon in active trading.

Selected issues were strong. There was no group leadership. Gains outnumbered losses by a fairly narrow margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The margin to the upside was not much better on the American Stock Exchange which was having another big day after its 6.28 million share total of Tuesday.

An underlying uncertainty was created by the continued presence in the United States of Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin. The feeling in Wall Street was that as long as Kosygin remains in the country there is the possibility of major diplomatic developments under the surface of the news.

This tended to counteract the good news that in May new factory orders for durable goods were their sharpest gain since September.

Volume on the Big Board was running somewhat below Tuesday's ten-million-share total.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.18 at 880.43.

British Pullout Is Threatened

AP Business Analyst

CUNIFF

LONDON (AP) — The British government's plans to leave Aden and the South Arabian Federation in January were threatened today by a mutiny in the South Arabian army which resulted in the death of 18 British and sheikdoms, strung along the Arabian Peninsula.

Twenty-three Britons also were wounded before calm was reported Tuesday night to the Aden area in the south-west corner of the Arabian Peninsula.

The belief was widespread in London that British government would have to take a new look at its plans, announced Monday, to give independence about Jan. 9 to the federation made up of Aden State and 16 sultanates and sheikdoms strung along the southwest coast of Arabia.

Foreign Secretary George Brown told the House of Commons Monday that Britain would keep a strong naval force in South Arabian waters and a force of bombers within easy reach for six months after independence to guard the federation against aggression. But the government counted on the native army it is training and equipping to preserve order within the federation.

The Foreign Office attributed the mutiny to disputes in the 8,500-man army over "conditions of service and internal rivalries." The discontent apparently was brought to a head by the suspension four days ago of four colonels for unexplained "disciplinary reasons."

Although the Foreign Office refused to amplify its statement, it believed the rivalry stemmed from the recent merger of the former federal army trained by Britain since 1961, in which British officers have been steadily replaced by Arab officers who worked their way up, and the federal guard made up of former police units and personal troops of the various sheikhs.

Trouble broke out first at the Lake Leno barracks in the Sheikh Othman district, where young apprentice soldiers, set free to some buildings, freed prisoners and prevented Arab officers from entering the camp.

In Aired Criticism of Garrison Probe

Star Witness Denies NBC Statements

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's presidential assassination investigation found itself in more controversy today after a star witness provided a denial to statements aired by the National Broadcasting Co.

Perry Russo told newsmen Tuesday members of an NBC news team sought his help "to wreck the Garrison investigation."

He said that the NBC team alternated promises and threats in repeated efforts to enlist his cooperation.

In New York, the network denied Russo's detailed accusations.

FAILED TEST

In its Monday night televised program NBC said Garrison placed Russo on the witness stand during the preliminary hearing for Clay L. Shaw knowing that the witness had failed a lie detector test relevant to his testimony.

"Russo's answers to a series of questions indicate, in the language of the polygraph operator, 'deception criteria'," NBC said.

Leonard Gurvich, a private investigator who supervised the test, denied Russo flunked and said the polygraph operator was unable to get specific readings because Russo was "highly nervous."

Shaw, 54, a wealthy retired New Orleans businessman, has been indicted on charges of conspiracy to murder President John F. Kennedy who was assassinated in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963. The indictment was based largely on Russo's grand jury testimony.

Russo, 25, a Baton Rouge insurance salesman, told the grand jury he attended a party in September 1963, at the home of David W. Ferrie. Russo said it was there he heard Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and Ferrie plot to kill the president.

The Warren Commission found no credible evidence that Oswald was aided in the assassination of Kennedy.

Garrison appeared briefly at the start of Russo's news conference in his office.

THE BIG LIE

Earlier, the prosecutor accused NBC of using "the big lie" in an attempt to wreck his investigation.

"I think that lie could have been used much more effectively by the Justice Department," Garrison said. "But, of course, there is more experience there."

Russo told newsmen that Walter Sheridan of the NBC news staff had offered "to set me up in California, protect my job and guarantee Garrison would never get me extradited back to Louisiana" if he cooperated.

Russo said Sheridan made the promise if he would "side with NBC and the defense."

Russo identified two other persons he said had contacted him on behalf of NBC as Richard Townley of WDSU-TV, an NBC affiliate here, and writer James Phelan of the Saturday Evening Post.

Russo said Townley threatened to wreck his personal reputation unless he cooperated.

NBC DENIAL

In New York, an NBC spokesman said Townley had talked with Russo on several occasions, but "denied telling him he was working closely with the defense or threatening to ruin Russo's reputation."

The NBC spokesman said Russo expressed doubts to Townley, Sheridan and Phelan on separate occasions that his pretrial testimony was entirely true. He said Russo asked the NBC team "to find a way out" for him.

Russo said he was told by members of the NBC team that both the network and the Central Intelligence Agency were out to "wreck the Garrison investigation."

Garrison claims Kennedy was killed by anti-Castro Latin Americans who once worked for the CIA.

COMPLAINT FILED

In Washington, the Federal Communications Commission said it had received a letter from Garrison charging NBC with trying to destroy his assassination probe and referred it to the commission's complaints and compliance division.

Postman Gets Return of Spray

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Robert Robles, a postman here, has filed a $8,000 damage suit against the owner of a dog on his mail route. Robles charges that she stepped him on his rounds and sprayed a poisonous substance at him.

He said the incident occurred after he had sprayed the woman's dog with a repellent that the post office had given to men to use as a defense against overly aggressive canines.

There were 47,836 families in the United States in 1965.

Dems to Fight Fund Cut

LANSTING 08 — HOUSE Democrats apparently plan to make this year's proposed appropriation for the State Civil Rights Commission a political issue.

Party leaders said Tuesday they would try to restore the $640,706 which the Republican-dominated House Appropriations Committee chopped from Gov. George Romney's recommendation of $2,032,282.

The State Civil Rights Department was appropriated

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 10 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do...and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge...small, easy-to-swallow tablets...special size for children and adults.

Sunday Liquor, Road Toll Tied

LANSTING (AP) — Sunday liquor sale could result in the loss of 57 more lives on Michigan highways next year, says the Michigan Temperance Foundation.

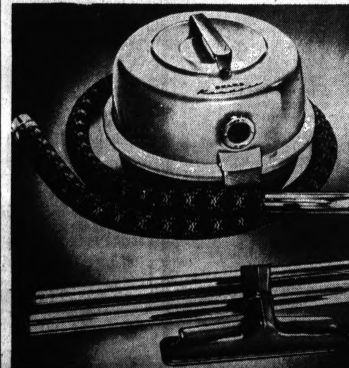

"This is our conclusion after comparing records of traffic fatalities in Michigan with those in neighboring Wisconsin, which now permits Sunday liquor sales," the foundation said in a letter to members of the House of Representatives.

The foundation urged legislators to vote against a bill which would allow the sale of liquor on Sundays.

"Our opposition to Sunday liquor sales stems from a concern for highway safety rather than any moral judgment against drinking per se," the foundation said.

"In Wisconsin, 18 per cent of the total traffic accidents occurring between noon and midnight were recorded on Sunday," they continued. "In Michigan, only 13 per cent of the fatal accidents between noon and midnight came on Sunday."

The foundation based its study on State Police reports for 1965.

House Tax Reform Vote Set Today

ONE COLOR MAKE OVER PAGES

LANSING (AP) — Dropping broad hints that a cutback in state services might follow rejection of their income tax package, House Republican leaders scheduled a vote on the fiscal program today.

Rejection, however, appeared likely if the Republican-drafted package now before the House came to a vote.

Six Republicans oppose the bills —

which would rewrite Michigan's tax structure and impose the first state income tax.

That means six Democratic votes would be needed for passage of the bills — and House Democratic leaders have taken elaborate steps to prevent individual Democrats from voting for it.

Majority House Republicans caucused yesterday and decided to have another shot at passage of the GOP program. They also agreed that if it was defeated, they would consider cutting Gov. George Romney's recommended $1.13 billion budget for the year which begins next month.

"NOT A THREAT"

"I'm not inclined to believe this is a threat," said House Speaker Robert

Waldron, the chamber's No. 1 Republican.

But at the same time, Waldron said there was considerable Republican sentiment for budget cuts, and added he would have to "review" his earlier assertions that getting an "austerity" budget through the Legislature was impossible.

Previous GOP efforts to get their own

tax program through the House have been stymied by refusal of the six Republican holdouts to support it. Waldron said yesterday he doubted if any of the six would change their minds today.

That left the fate of the Republican tax program in the hands of the Democrats, who have taken four separate caucus positions designed to keep party members from voting for it.

"I hope they won't get any Democrat votes, and I don't think they will," said House Democratic leader William Ryan of Detroit.

The package now before the House would levy income taxes of 2 1/2 per cent on individuals, 5 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions.

City General Budget and Tax Rate Hiked

The City Commission last night approved the second revision of the year in the 1967 general fund budget and authorized a resolution setting the 1967 tax rate at $18.02 per $1,000 assessed valuation as equalized, up 24 cents per $1,000 over last year.

In discussing the budget, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said that a new tax proposal will soon be presented to Pontiac voters.

He warned that the city is now negotiating with employee groups, demands for pay raises are expected and voters will have a choice of either a new tax or a reduction in services provided by the city.

The revision in the city's appropriation ordinance allocates $8,290,331 for the general fund budget.

The tax rate is up from last year's $17.78 per $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized. The chief difference is that last year the city levied 1.91 mills for sanitation and waste collection and this year will levy 2.21 mills.

SEPARATE LEVY

The sanitation and waste collection tax is levied separately from the general fund levy. Appropriations for the sanitation fund are larger this year because of employee salary increases and because administrative costs which had previously come out of general fund were transferred, Edward R. Gallagher, director of finance, said.

The budget was revised early this year to reflect more than half-million-dollar wage hikes for municipal employees and the transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to Oakland County ownership.

The latest revision—increasing the general fund budget by nearly $266,000—was necessary because of increased equalized valuation, higher gas and weight tax receipts than anticipated and "discovery" of accumulated interest on deferred paving assessments over a period of years.

Appropriations to cover costs of the $12.3 million total budget calls for a $12.71 levy per $1,000 of assessed valuation. (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 1)

Luci Has a Boy; She's Doing Fine

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent gave birth today to an 8 pound, 10-ounce boy.

The baby is President Johnson's first grandchild.

The father, Patrick J. Nugent, a box of cigars in his hand, made the announcement to reporters in the lobby at St. Joseph Hospital.

"Luci's fine," he said. Nugent said the baby was born at 6:59 a.m. CDT.

"BEAUTIFUL BABY"

The father, 23, said Luci had already seen the baby and pronounced, "What a beautiful baby I have!"

The mother, 19, was admitted to the hospital at 1 a.m., and the baby was born just under six hours later.

Mrs. Johnson was in the hospital with her daughter. Earlier she had notified the President at the White House that Luci had gone there.

NO WEARINESS

He handed out cigars afterward, smiling and showing no signs of weariness from the hours of waiting.

Asked how his wife was, he said, "Wonderful."

Asked if his father-in-law knew the baby had been born, Pat said "Yes," and explained that Mrs. Johnson had called the President to inform him.

There was no indication when the President might come to this Texas capital to have a look at his grandchild.

BILLBOARD BETROTHAL — John A. Garcia II of Albuquerque, N.M., began his unique proposal to Carolyn Higginbotham with a "ransom note" leading her to a bus depot locker, a tape recording and finally a 12-by-25-foot billboard on a busy street, where he was waiting with an engagement ring. She said, "yes."

Israel Started War—De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle accused Israel today of starting the Middle East war June 5.

Speaking to his Cabinet, he said France "condemns the opening of hostilities by Israel."

Up to now France has avoided putting the blame on either the Israelis or the Arabs.

At the same time, de Gaulle declared that the world is threatened by spreading conflicts, and he asserted that peace can only be saved if the United States gets out of Vietnam.

He blamed the war on American intervention.

In his strongest statement yet on the Vietnam war, de Gaulle said:

"The spirit and fact of war are spreading again across the world. One conflict contributes to causing another."

"The war started in Vietnam by American intervention," he said, "cannot help but spread trouble, not only there but far away."

"France has taken a position against the war in Vietnam and against foreign intervention which caused it."

"It has maintained since the start that this conflict can only cease through the pledge that America would make to withdraw her forces within a given time."

De Gaulle's gloomy picture of the world scene was drawn after recent talks with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union and Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain.

"France considers that there is no chance of arriving at a peaceful settlement in the present world situation unless a new world element appears," he said.

"This element could and should be the end of the war in Vietnam, by the termination of foreign intervention."

'SPREADING TROUBLE'

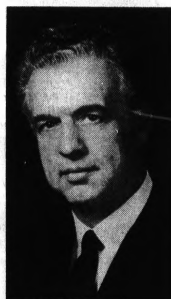

De Gaulle described the Vietnam war in these terms:

"The war started in Vietnam by American intervention — the destruction of lives and property that it brought about, the fundamental sterility which characterizes it, however powerful are the means employed and however terrible are its effects — cannot help but spread trouble, not only there but far away."

De Gaulle added that from this state of affairs "comes the attitude of Communist China and the speedup in its armament."

This was an obvious reference to China's H-bomb test Saturday.

FRANK KELLEY

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today that he will ask Oakland County Circuit Court judges to appoint a new grand juror to succeed Judge Philip Pratt who was disqualified by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The new grand juror would only fill the position for the remaining eight weeks of the investigation, according to Kelley.

He will formalize his request in a petition to be filed with the judges tomorrow morning.

"My petition," said Kelley, "will include a request that if a successor is appointed, the court will then join me in asking the Michigan Supreme Court to authorize the turning over of files and records of the Pratt grand jury to the successor."

Pratt's position as grand juror recently was declared illegal by the appellate court on the basis that he had gone beyond the one-year constitutional limit of a grand jury investigation.

YEAR-LONG PROBE

Pratt ended a year-long grand jury probe last June, and began another two months later.

The second, which was initiated by Kelley to investigate alleged criminal actions surrounding the Hazel Park Race Track, was halted, however, by the appeals court ruling last month.

"After a discussion with judges and conference with the county's chief law enforcement officer, S. Jerome Bronson, and a careful review of the law and the pertinent facts, I believe that the interest of justice compels me to petition for a successor," said Kelley.

"I'd write my congressman, except I can't write . . . and I don't know who he is, and don't have a stamp."

Massive Test Is Urged on Diet-Coronary Link

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Heart specialists urged today a go-ahead with a massive test involving 40,000 to 60,000 men to answer a critical health question:

Would changes from typical American food habits really produce some insurance against heart attacks, the nation's leading killer disease?

Many experts believe that such changes — especially cutting down on intake of fats and cholesterol — do help prevent coronary attacks.

It is known that the amount of cholesterol in the blood stream can be reduced this way. The tantalizing question is whether this step then saves lives.

Getting the answer would call for enlisting a small army of volunteers.

WOULD CHANGE HABITS

Half the men would change their food habits somewhat and stick with it for five years. The other half would, for comparison, go on eating as they do now.

If, five years later, men who changed their food habits suffered fewer heart attacks than those who didn't change, it would be clear proof that most Americans have been eating their way toward heart attacks, but should not and need not.

But would many thousands of men, and their wives, agree to give up some old habits for new and stay with it?

The answer to that is yes, the executive committee on diet and heart disease, told the American Medical Association today.

RESULTS OF STUDY

It reported results of a two-year feasibility study preparing the way for the huge experiment.

Some 2,400 middle-aged men took part,

some changing food habits and others not, and only 10 per cent dropped out of the study.

The blood cholesterol of those who ate special diets came down by an overall average of 11 per cent.

Cholesterol is a body material involved in the narrowing and blocking of heart arteries.

LARGER-SCALE STUDY

The committee declared that the longer and larger-scale study should be planned and started as soon as possible in view of the current epidemic of heart attacks.

Summer Arrives at 10:23 Tonight

Although June busted out all over with summertime temperatures—in the 90s last week—summer won't really arrive until 10:23 tonight. This is the longest day of the year.

Summer may receive a damp reception in the Pontiac area as the weatherman forecasts showers and thunderstorms likely late this afternoon and tonight.

Partly cloudy and cooler the high near 80 with chance of showers is the prediction for tomorrow, and chance of showers by evening is the outlook for Friday.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 30, tonight 70, tomorrow 40.

Fifty-eight was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury registered 80 at 1 p.m.

City Commission Accepts Study on Johnson Overpass

City commissioners last night accepted an engineering feasibility study recommending a 1,200-foot overpass to carry east- and westbound Johnson traffic over Cass and the Grand Trunk Western Railway tracks.

Commissioners indicated that the $3-million plus estimated cost made the project too expensive for consideration at this time.

In other action, the commission approved a $100,000 contract for rebuilding the intersections of Franklin Road and South Boulevard and Paddock and Osburn streets.

Commissioners deferred for two weeks taking action on a request to continue paying the rent on the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity's office quarters at 7 W. Lawrence and voted to hold a public hearing on changing the name of University Avenue to Price Street.

The feasibility study was begun last year after the city met with railroad officials in an attempt to eliminate blockings at Johnson and railroad tracks. The city and railroad shared in the cost of the study, each paying 50 per cent.

The engineering firm of Har-vey, Ellington, Cowin and Stur-ton, Inc., considered seven different methods for eliminating the problem, determined that an overpass was most feasible and the best method.

An underground route below the tracks was ruled out because of Pontiac Creek, which, said Joseph A. Niepling, director of public works and service, would put the road under water during storms and heavy rain.

The proposed overpass would extend from Oakland to State and Elizabeth Lake roads. Construction time was estimated at about a year and traffic along Johnson would have to be re-routed during that time.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the railroad could be expected, under state law, to contribute 15 per cent of the total construction cost.

'WANTS TO DEFECT' — A woman who identified herself as Ellen Lake Dantes, 50, is led away from the vicinity of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations in New York yesterday. The mission is in the background, over policeman's right shoulder. The woman said she told officials in the mission she wanted to defect to the Soviet Union. American security men were summoned to take her away.

'CAN'T AFFORD PROJECT' — District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said the city could not afford the project, and requested that state representatives and senators from the area be requested to consider "earmarking gas and weight tax refunds to provide funds" for the project.

The commissioners voted to table for two weeks the rental decision on the OCCO's Action Center because of the absence of Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and District 7 Commissioner James H. Marshall.

Marshall is in Honolulu attending the U.N. Conference of Mayors and Taylor is out of town on vacation.

The other members indicated that the full commission should be able to vote on the issue.

LOW BID ACCEPTED — The city has been paying $800 per month for the second floor of the building at 7 W. Lawrence. At issue was whether to continue a six-month lease with owners which will expire July 1.

The commission accepted a low bid of $108,700 for construction of the two intersections plus a paving of one block along Central.

The bid was about $20,000 higher than original engineering estimates for the job. Niepling said this was due to a rapid increase in construction costs.

Hudson proposed that the city change University Avenue to Price Street in honor of a former resident, Jasper Price of 86 Colgate, who died recently.

ACTIVE IN PROJECTS — Hudson said Price, who lived at the corner of Colgate and University for 25 years as active in neighborhood projects and senior citizen activities.

The name change of University Avenue was necessitated when the commission authorized changing the name of Mount Clemens State to University Avenue.

The administration at Oakland University had requested the name change to make the road more identifiable with the university and the school easier to get to for those unfamiliar with the area.

The director of public works said street signs giving the new designation of University Drive and underneath the designation, University Drive, and underneath the designation, "formerly Mount Clemens Drive," will be installed the length of the street once the signs are made.

Donald H. Frayer, president of the CCPPP, said the meeting was arranged to discuss the formal protest the committee submitted to HUD Feb. 23 concerning the city's agreement with developer A. Alfred Taubman.

The agreement gives Taubman exclusive option to purchase downtown urban renewal property for commercial development provided that he is able to obtain lease agreements from at least two major firms. The agreement runs out Sept. 27.

Asked DELAY — Out of town on vacation until July 5, Taylor asked Swartzel to postpone the meeting until he returns.

Discussing the invitation to attend, three city commissioners last night criticized the CCPPP's method of arranging the con-

Spotlight at the U.N. Is on British, Egypt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — British and Egypt took over the U.N. debate on the Middle East today as Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny journeyed to Cairo and a meeting between President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin appeared less and less likely.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown headed the morning speakers' list before the 122-nation General Assembly. He was expected to urge appointment of a U.N. mediator to get peace talks started at once with Israel and the Arab side.

Egyptian Vice President Mahmoud Fawzi was certain to echo Arab demands for unconditional Israeli withdrawal from territory it seized during the lightning war.

Also scheduled to speak were Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag, who has been urging that Johnson and Kosygin meet; Italian Premier Aldo Moro, and Yugoslav Premier Mika Spiljak, whose government strongly supports Egypt.

Podgorny's visit to Cairo for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser was seen as another Soviet move to restore Moscow's fallen prestige in the Arab world. So were reports in Egypt of new arms shipments from the Soviet Union.

The Egyptian press has been assailing Moscow for lack of support during the war and Soviet failure to back up Arab charges that Israel won because of armed support by the United States and Britain. The anti-Soviet comments disappeared, however, as a word spread in the Egyptian capital that arms shipments from the Soviet Union had resumed.

Cairo's semiofficial newspaper Al-Ahram said Marshal Abdel Nasser, chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces, arrived in the Egyptian capital Tuesday ahead of Podgorny. The Soviet president stopped overnight in Yugoslavia to confer with President Tito.

At U.N. headquarters, hope was fading among diplomats that Johnson would meet Kosygin. Indications were that both leaders were willing, but Johnson did not want to come to New York and Kosygin would not go to Washington.

U.S. officials said Monday Johnson had invited the premier to visit him but Kosygin declined, saying he had come to New York to attend the assembly and not to visit U.S. authorities.

Youth Facing Jail Term, Fine

Guilty of Concealing, Harboring Escapee

A 20-year-old Waterford Township youth, one of five area residents who allegedly helped three escaped convicts from the Michigan State Reformatory last month, was found guilty yesterday on a charge of concealing and harboring an escaped prisoner on felon.

Jerry L. Harrison of 3748 Oakview will be sentenced July 19 by Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead who conducted yesterday's trial.

Maximum penalty for the misdemeanor is 90 days in jail or a $100 fine or both.

The trials of three other suspects — Michael D. Taylor, 19, of 1551 Petrolia, West Bloomfield Township; and John J. Larson, 22, and Gerald L. Taylor, 21, both of 8831 Big Lake, Springfield Township — will be continued July 19 in Hempstead's court.

A fifth suspect — William H. Dye, 20, of 662 Cameron, Pontiac — has demanded a jury trial. No date has been set.

SAME CHARGE — All five suspects are accused of concealing and harboring the convicts prior to their capture May 29 by Pontiac State Police.

The Ionia fugitives were Allen Smith, 30, of Jackson; Dennis C. Hyde, 22, of White Lake Township; and Gerald Van Doornbeke, 20, of Grafton.

They were captured at Harrison's house, according to police.

Bloomfield Hills Gets New School Boundaries

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The school board last night approved new school boundaries. The group is seeking participation of school boards and other governmental agencies in a metropolitan area group which will facilitate planning and development.

Dr. Eugene Johnson, schools superintendent, said a computer firm was employed to "provide a scientific approach and to minimize transfers."

Figures from the school census were fed into machines along with boundary data, he explained.

The new Lahser High School will have a 600 enrollment next fall in comparison to about 1,200 at the present Bloomfield Hills High.

UP TO EQUAL SIZE — An addition is to be started this year at the new high school to bring it up to an equal size.

The schools will issue a bulletin to parents in a few weeks which will contain diagrams for attendance at schools.

Board member Henry Haberkorn was named to attend a meeting with Southfield school officials on joining the Committee of One Hundred.

Also to be finished in about three weeks is a similar project on Forest between Woodward and Hunter.

Other programs are parts of ring road construction, meant to help traffic move through and around the downtown district.

Man Is Held in Area Death — Pontiac police are holding a 25-year-old man in the Oakland County Jail in connection with the fatal shooting of an Imlay City man early today.

Lapeer State Police said the shooting took place about 1:45 a.m. in the parking lot of the Imlay City Lounge, 280 S. Cedar, Imlay City.

Held is Bryon R. Dawson, 25, of 15707 Norman Road, Capac.

Pontiac police said Dawson was arrested after he was involved in a minor traffic accident at the corner of Telegraph and Huron about 3 a.m. today.

Police said a 38-caliber revolver was found in his car.

HELD IN IMLAY CITY JAIL — Dawson is being held in the Oakland County Jail pending arrival of Imlay City police who will transfer him to the Lapeer County Jail.

Brown was reportedly found on Cedar Street in Imlay City several blocks from the scene of the shooting.

He was taken by an as yet unidentified woman to a nearby filling station where an ambulance was called.

An autopsy was to be performed today at the Lapeer County General Hospital.

Sullenberger's Killer Gets Life

From UPI Wire Story — A 22-year-old Memphis, Tenn., man has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of former Pontiac surgeon Dr. Neil Sullenberger.

The man, Clude E. Triplett, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder in the shooting when he appeared before Memphis Criminal Court Judge Preston W. Battle Monday.

Triplett had been held on $50,000 bond since he was charged Dec. 7, 1966, with the murder of Sullenberger.

The doctor's body was found Dec. 4 in a water-filled pit in North Memphis. He had been beaten on the head and shot twice.

One charge was that he had left a sponge in a patient who later died.

Man Is Held in Area Death

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's police force appeared back to normal strength today after the city's policemen and the city administration declared a cease-fire in their battle over wages.

Only six officers reported sick at the start of today's midnight shift. Police officers said that is about the normal number.

Detroit Police Are Back to Normal After Truce

The truce was declared late Tuesday night, after Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh had cut short his participation in the U.S. Conference of Mayors in Honolulu and returned to the city to take up negotiations with the Detroit Police Officers Association.

After day-long negotiations, Cavanagh and Carl Parsell, president of the unaffiliated policemen's union, issued a joint statement that the association would urge its members to return to work on a regular basis immediately.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT — Both sides agreed to the following:

- Return to normal police operations immediately, and the lifting of all suspensions relating to the labor dispute.
- All policemen will return to duty promptly, and during the next 10 days consideration and attention will be given to the resumption of regular police assignments.
- All policemen will carry out their assignments, including normal enforcement of traffic laws.

Before the negotiations opened, Cavanagh had termed "impossible" police demands to boost salaries from the present top of $8,335 after five years to $10,000.

Both sides later agreed to continue negotiations for 10 days, and to hold off legal proceedings against each other for that time.

If after 10 days the issues were still unresolved, they agreed to submit them to a panel acceptable to both sides.

Hearing Set on Challenge to County Districting Plan

An Aug. 1 hearing in Lansing has been scheduled on the petition filed June 12 by Joseph R. Farnham, chairman of the Oakland County Republican party, challenging the county redistricting plan.

The hearing will be conducted by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

In a brief filed by Farnham in support of the petition calling for a review of the 27-district plan prepared by the Oakland County Reapportionment Committee, 15 objections were cited.

One of these was that Bloomfield Township was combined with part of the City of Troy and with Bloomfield Hills to form one district.

Farnham called this unreasonable and unnecessary in that all of Bloomfield Township could have been combined with Bloomfield Hills to form a district at a population figure of 24,900 which is 98 per cent of an ideal district.

Also cited in the brief as objectionable was the combining of a fragment of the City of Pontiac with Pontiac and Orion townships to form a district.

This also was termed unnecessary and unreasonable because the city's total population is equal to 3.09 ideal districts and fragmentation was not needed to meet population standards.

Another objection was that Bloomfield Township was divided into three partial districts, and Farnham's charge in the brief was that this division was unnecessary and violative of the standard set forth in the law.

Farnham, the lone Republican on the five-member reapportionment committee, termed the redistricting plan adopted May 12 by a 4 to 1 vote as a "Democratic plan."

ation as equalized for general fund operations, $2.21 for sanitation and waste collection, $1.80 for capital improvements, 71 cents for retirement of sewage disposal bonds and 49 cents for retirement of hospital construction bonds.

STARTING BALANCE — The city began the fiscal year with a $678,385 balance, accumulated during the past three years.

Operating under what is termed a $202,639 deficit for 1967, the city will wind up with a cash balance of $176,346 at the end of the year.

The Pontiac Finance Study Committee appointed last year is expected to make recommendations at the end of this month on a method to alleviate the city's financial problems.

Two possible means of raising additional revenue are being considered—an income tax or an increase in the property tax.

School Unit OKs Bonds for Building

Oakland Schools Board of Education yesterday passed a bonding resolution for financing a new administration building by levying a one-quarter mill tax.

The new tax to pay off $1 million of bonds to be sold for the new center will not increase the current one-quarter-mill tax already being levied to pay off $2½-million of bonds previously sold.

In other business, the board hired Herman Bick of Ypsilanti as consultant of the secondary mentally handicapped program and asked a 18-member citizens advisory committee on special education which attended to be more active.

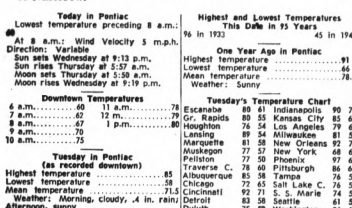

DEFICIT FORECAST — Hudson said that "if employee raises are granted—and I don't see how they can be granted with the amount of money available — the city could have a deficit of $1 million by the end of the year."

LBJ Gives Up on Antistrike Plan

Congress Inherits Rail Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventeen months after pledging to create a new committee to study legislation dealing with labor disputes in national emergencies, President Johnson has confessed failure and thrown the ball back to Congress—where it likely will remain indefinitely.

In his 1966 State of the Union message, Johnson said he would submit proposals "which will enable us effectively to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage in the national interest."

But Tuesday the President advised Congress, through Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield that this administration has been unable to come up with the recommendations on the subject.

Mansfield, after a White House meeting with Johnson, said the President "would be very pleased if the labor community of both houses would take up the question."

But a check with key Democrats on these committees showed no enthusiasm for tackling such an explosive subject.

Chairman Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., of the Senate Labor subcommittee which would handle any such bill, told a reporter: "Any legislation passed on this subject in this time of war and other emergency is certain to be antilabor."

"This definitely is not the time to try to act in this field," Yarborough said. "The Capitol with a clever tactical move in Tuesday's announcement."

OFF HIS BACK — "This gets the monkey off his back and puts it on ours," one senator commented.

The announcement came amid a Senate-House impasse over legislation Johnson had offered to guarantee settlement of a threatened nationwide rail strike by shopcraft workers.

The Senate passed the measure, which calls for compulsory settlement if the unions and management don't reach agreement during a 90-day no strike no lockout period. But the House chopped the compulsory settlement feature out of the measure and Senate-House conferees now must attempt a compromise.

Yarborough said these talks probably will begin early next week.

He pointed to speculate about the form a permanent emergency labor bill would take.

But other Democrats said privately any permanent legislation would have to rely on one of two forms of compulsion—mandatory arbitration or seizure of

Urges Lesser Penalties for Offenses

Crime Panel Aide Belittles Marijuana Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consultant to the President's crime commission says the danger of using marijuana is not great and has recommended lesser penalties for its use and possession.

Richard H. Blum also maintains that some states trying to educate youngsters concerning the dangers of marijuana use outdated and inaccurate material which results in "ridicule and consequent counterreaction among the now often well-informed youngsters."

He called for educational efforts based on objective appraisal of the significance and risk of use.

Blum, a research director at Stanford University's Institute for the Study of Human Problems, also urged that educational programs on drug use begin in elementary schools. He said there should be a big increase in studies of the effects of marijuana and the mind-expanding drug LSD.

Blum, including everything from coffee to heroin in his study, pictured the United States as a nation of drug users.

Three studies by Blum were contained in a report on narcotics and drug abuse prepared by a task force of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

The report, released today, is the eighth of nine specialized studies to be published by the commission. All the specialized reports were summarized in the commission's over-all report published last February.

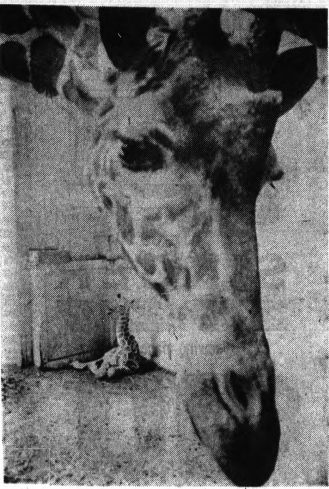

In an accompanying statement, Nicholas Katzenbach, commission chairman, undersecretary of state and a former attorney general, called for expanded efforts to reduce the flow of narcotics into the nation's cities.

Katzenbach also urged increased research and treatment of addiction and broadened education programs — directed particularly at young people — relating to the dangers of drug abuse.

OU Piano Course for Private Pupils During Summer

Violin and viola students will have an opportunity this summer to take private lessons at Oakland University from Mrs. Mischa Mischakoff, wife of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's concertmaster.

Horstense Mischakoff will accept children and adults for noncredit lessons from June 25 through Aug. 6, while her husband instructs advanced violin students at the Meadow Brook School of Music.

Her lessons are under the auspices of the School of music and the University's Division of Continuing Education.

Besides her private lesson schedule, Mrs. Mischakoff has served on the faculty of the School of Music at the Chautauqua Institution in Chautauqua, New York, and has taught at Cranbrook School and Kingswood School Cranbrook.

A teacher for 36 years, she also has appeared as a soloist with her husband in double concerto performances at the University of Colorado, with the Chautauqua Symphony and in Michigan City, Indiana, where she has been director of the School of Fine Arts before her marriage.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Dr. Walter S. Collins, dean, Meadow Brook School of Music, Oakland University.

HARRIET CHAMBERLAIN ERVIN

The engagement of Harriet Chamberlain Ervin and Robert John Stevenson was announced at a recent tea by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ervin Jr. of Birmingham. His parents are the John K. Stevensons, also of Birmingham. The couple are students at Denison University.

Luncheon Marks End of Season for the Pontiac Woman's Club

A cooperative luncheon marked the close of activities this year for the Pontiac Woman's Club.

Mrs. A. D. Stimer of Sylvan Village was hostess for the Monday festivity.

DONATIONS

The projects committee announced that they would finance club donations to Girlstown in Belleville, Oakland County.

Girl's Ranch, Indian Boys Scholarship, Pontiac Creative Art Center and the Pontiac Symphony.

Mrs. Earle Hoskins announced a card party and fashion show planned at Devon Gables in the fall.

New club members were presented with corsages by the membership chairman, Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite. Mrs. George Gray was welcomed into the club.

Mrs. Verna Nelson was a guest for the day.

Woman Is Appointed as Director of Teaching

Dr. Ann T. Galbraith (Mrs. Stuart) of South Hammond Lake Drive has been made a full professor in her capacity of director of student teaching at the Dearborn Center of University of Michigan.

Dr. Galbraith was formerly a principal in the Pontiac school system.

She is presently directing summer workshops for both Central and Michigan State Universities.

Visitors Are Needed

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau says that men or women who can offer a small portion of their free time once a week are needed as Friendly Visitors to ill or aged people who are confined to private or nursing homes. No special training is required.

The Bureau's office is at 231 South Woodward, Room 220, Birmingham.

WOMEN'S SECTION

He Says 'No Air Conditioning'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We live in Huntsville, Ala., where it's very hot and humid. My husband makes over $20,000 a year, live in a $35,000 home, have no debts, our children are gone and on their own, and we have money in the bank. My complaint? My husband refuses to put air conditioning in the house.

He works in air-conditioned comfort all day while I slave over cleaning, cooking, ironing, and nearly die of the heat. He says cheap air conditioning is too noisy, and good air conditioning is too expensive. How can I change his mind?

BURNING UP IN HUNTSVILLE DEAR BURNING: The price of the finest air conditioning system available will look like peanuts compared to what your husband would have to lay out in doctor bills should you collapse from heat exhaustion.

Rogers' Have Guests

Lt. and Mrs. Edwin L. Hoffman with their daughter, Cynthia are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Miami Road.

Make a little noise on your own, Sister, and chill that man of yours until he thinks a North Dakota blizzard has gripped Huntsville. So air conditioning is too expensive? It's a lot cheaper than alimony.

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his lovely wife of 16 years were divorced recently. It was my brother's fault. He "fell in love" with a twice-divorced tramp, so you know there was plenty of talk.

Birmingham Pair Will Wed Tonight

Mrs. June Matthews, executive secretary of the Scholarship Committee, Oakland University, and Clyde C. Bennett Jr. will be married this evening.

Following the family ceremony in St. Dunstan's Chapel, Christ Church Cranbrook, the two Birminghamites will be honored at a dinner in Bloomfield Hills Country Club hosted by her parents, the William R. Tracys.

Parents of the bridegroom, the senior Bennetts of Deland, Fla. are here for the wedding. After a northern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will reside on Amberley Road in Birmingham.

My brother had the nerve to bring this tramp to my home one evening to see how I "liked her." The next day I told him I didn't like her at all, and I didn't want her in my home again.

Last night while I was entertaining, my brother and this woman rang my bell. He said he saw the lights on and cars outside so he knew we were home. I politely told them that they were not welcome in my home, so they left. My brother thinks I owe him an apology. Do you?

"FUSSY" DEAR FUSSY: No. Now he knows where he (and she) stands. Outside.

New and different rugs are being shown at the furniture exhibitions in Chicago this week. They will be in stores this fall. At the left is a disposable rug called "Bird's Nest" and used in an indoor patio. Regal makes rugs of paper in a technique that combines both tufting and quilting. Bigelow's "Tapa" area rugs in shaggy wool capture the essence of the news-making primitive look. Similar wall coverings are part of the approach.

Bride-Elect, Miss Johnson Honored

Mrs. Robert Jack and daughter, Marilyn of Marie Circle were hostess at a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Sue Johnson. Miss Johnson will wed John Kimball in the Orchard Lake Community Church June 24.

Another shower hostess was Mrs. James Johnson of Ferndale.

Mrs. Victor Sutt honored the bride-to-be with a miscellaneous shower in her East Hammond Lake Road home. Assisting here were Mrs. Wayne McKelvey and Mrs. Leonard Paholuk.

Mrs. Donald Neal of Windcroft Drive was hostess for a personal shower.

was given by Mrs. Louise Baldauf and Mrs. Lena Moyer.

Parents of the couple who will exchange vows soon are the Clair L. Johnsons of St. Joseph Street and the Clarke R. Kimballs of Ogemaw Road.

Nursery Wastebaskets

Colored plastic pails that may be bought in the dime store make good wastebaskets for a child's room. Children love their gay colors and enjoy filling them as well as emptying them.

Thieves Put
Minks, Sable
in Trash Can

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Thousands of dollars worth of furs were hauled away in a garbage can from a store here.

Two men wearing white smocks entered the store and told the clerk they were there to "service the rest room." They asked a saleslady for some wrapping paper. She left the fur vault for about 30 seconds to get the paper.

While she was away, the pair stuffed a $3,400 Russian sable jacket and two $2,600 mink coats in a garbage can and fled.

Lee J. Lerner's

Recent vows were exchanged in Detroit's St. Valentine's Catholic Church by Rosemary Martin and Lee James Lerner. Their parents are the Frank Martins of Detroit and Mrs. Samuel Lerner of Scott Lake Road, and the late Mr. Lerner.

Saki cloth, highlighted with French knotted Venice lace, fashioned an Empire gown for the bride whose floor-length veil fell from a cluster of matching lace.

She carried white roses.

Standing as her sister's matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Van Dragt with bridesmaids, Jacqueline Ruchti, Mrs. William Zabriskie, Mrs. Joseph LaBeau and flower girl, Beth Mannix.

On the esquire side were best man, Herbert Anderson, with ushers, James Oliver, Kirk Evans and Paul Koenig.
