JFK Proposes Spending Record $98.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proposed today an $98.8-billion budget—an all-time record—keyed to deficit-cutting tax cuts which he said would spark the nation toward full employment, production and purchasing power.

Kennedy's spending program for the year starting July 1 would top even the highest of wartime budgets, $98.3 billion in 1944-45, and shoot the public debt to a record $315.6 billion.

Nonetheless, he insisted it was shaped to put new life into the economy and insure "efficient and frugal" conduct of the government.

In a message sending his mid-term budget to Congress, Kennedy acknowledged the $13.5-billion, three-year tax cutting plan he unveiled earlier this week would at first add red ink to federal finances. He estimated the deficit would rise from the $8.8 billion now anticipated this year to $11.9 billion.

Recommendations Kennedy sent to Capitol Hill included:

—Over-all defense spending of $55.4 billion, up $2.4 billion from the current year; emphasis on a strong retaliatory force, flexible conventional forces, better air and missile defenses.

—Space programs costing $4.2 billion, an increase of $1.8 billion; manned space flight efforts to get most of the total, with the goal of getting a man to the moon.

—Foreign aid totaling $4,945,000,000 with special attention for countries willing to help themselves.

—Another bid for medical care for the aged financed through Social Security taxes;

Elder Daughter OK, but $35,000 House Ruined in Bloomfield Twp.

By DON FERMOYLE

The wife of a Bloomfield Township electric company executive came within seven feet of escaping from a fire which killed her and critically injured her husband and younger daughter early today.

Mrs. Louise Richardson, 43, died only seven feet from the front door of her $35,000 home at 3370 Franklin Road.

She apparently collapsed in the living room after awakening her elder daughter.

Her husband, Harry H., 48, and 6-year-old daughter Lynn, both were reported in critical condition this afternoon at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Richardson suffered extensive burns over much of her body. Her daughter's condition was complicated by smoke inhalation, hospital authorities said. She also had second-degree burns on both hands.

The Richardsons' other daughter, Kay, 16, was the only member of the family to escape unharmed. She was released after treatment for shock this morning at the same hospital.

Richardson is director of Ohio operations for the Bulldog Electric Products Division of the ITE Circuit Breaker Co. in Detroit.

FOUND NEAR SISTER

Kay, who called the fire department at 3:15 after being awakened by her mother, was found on the snow-covered front lawn of her home, standing over her badly burned sister, when firemen arrived.

Richardson, who had just carried his youngest daughter to safety, also was outside and told firemen his wife was still trapped inside, according to Ronald Burrell, one of the first firemen at the scene.

Burrell said he and other firemen were unable to get into the burning home because of intense heat and smoke.

Blast Budget

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy today sent Congress a record $51-billion military spending plan to expand nuclear missile land, sea and air arms.

WASHINGTON — The administration wants Congress to appropriate $4.9 billion for a "highly selective" foreign aid program in fiscal 1964 with emphasis on Latin America.

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's budget sailed into stormy congressional seas today. There was a clamor that unless some spending was jettisoned, its cargo of tax cuts would never reach port intact.

With related programs, such as atomic energy activities, the defense outlays for the coming fiscal year were estimated at $56 billion, $2.6 billion more than this year and about $10 billion more than in 1960.

President Kennedy appealed to Congress today not to repeat the deep cuts it made this fiscal year in a foreign-aid request of similar size.

Much of a chorus of alarm about the budget's deficit—practically drowning out other comment—came from Democrats, with Republicans adding their denunciations.

"There is no discount price on defense," said Kennedy in his budget message.

He said in his budget message that the funds were "essential to meet our commitments and achieve our purposes."

"Incredible," "Ridiculous," "Entirely too big" were some of the harsher comments of critics. Many argued that the estimated $11.9-billion deficit would badly hurt the President's tax reduction proposals.

"The free world must be prepared at all times to face the perils of global nuclear war, limited conventional conflict, and covert guerrilla activities."

He proposed spending more than $1 billion in Latin America during the fiscal year starting July 1 and doubling the size of the Peace Corps program there.

GOP leaders generally gave the budget a blistering reception.

"The 1964 budget," he added, "carries forward this administration's policies to develop and strengthen the flexible and balanced forces needed to guard against each of these hazards."

The President estimated that actual foreign-aid expenditures for the fiscal year starting July 1 will total $3.75 billion—a drop of $100 million from the current fiscal year.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader, said the $98.8-billion budget "makes a mockery of the administration's brave talk of letting the taxpayer keep more of his own money."

a new request for a Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs. Detailed recommendations will be made later for aid to education, farm and other programs.

For peacetime, the anticipated $11.9-billion deficit would be second only to the $12.4 billion incurred under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958-59. But Kennedy argued a 1963-64 deficit is unavoidable, even at the present level of taxes. The choice, he said, lies between accepting a "chronic deficit of inertia due to inadequate economic growth" and a temporary deficit caused by programs designed to generate the economy, increase revenues and eventually achieve budget surpluses.

"The first type of deficit is a sign of waste and weakness," he argued. "The second is an investment in the future."

Niagara Ice Threatening Riverfront

By United Press International
A massive ice jam built up by tons of ice churning over Niagara Falls threatened lower Niagara River property today while freezing temperatures caused millions of dollars in damage in southern California vegetable crops.

Niagara River men feared the ice bridge might match the destructive jams of 1903, 1909, 1938 and 1955. It already has caused extensive damage to waterfront properties from Tonawanda to Lake Ontario.

The ice, piled 70 feet high and 25 feet thick in some places, knocked out production for about eight hours at the Ontario hydro generating plant yesterday.

However, production at the $720-million Niagara Power Project, the largest in the Western world, remained on schedule.

CHILL CONTINUES

In the West, southern California suffered its fourth straight day of freezing temperatures.

A warming trend was expected to break a brutal, week-long cold spell in the eastern half of the nation that has smashed records set in the 1800s.

The cold snap, worst in 14 years, already has caused more than $3 million damage to southern California's citrus, tomatoes, melons, nursery stock and floral crops.

The low temperature in fruit-producing areas was expected to be about 27 today. Little relief was in sight.

K Pays Visit to Red Wall, Waves to West Berliners

Standing at the point where U.S. and Soviet tanks confronted each other in the Berlin crisis of October 1961, he waved cheerfully to people in West Berlin.

The Premier made his excursion to the wall at midday after hearing Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish Communist chief, hail him as the man who saved the world from nuclear catastrophe during the Cuban crisis.

'SHOW MODESTY'

Gomulka demanded that the Chinese Communists cease their attacks on Soviet policies and

"show greater modesty and moderation" in their dealings with Moscow.

Gomulka went right down the line to make it clear that he was backing Khrushchev without qualification in the argument with Peking. He also urged that this argument be taken out of the world's gaze and be settled by private discussions.

Safecrackers Foiled Near Police Station

UTICA —Thieves chose the wrong spot to steal a safe here this morning — across from the police station.

Two men broke through a window of the Detroit Edison Co.'s office, 7726 Auburn Road, between 4 and 4:30 a.m. today and rolled the safe into the back yard on a dolly.

Just then a police car pulled away from the station.

The two men sped away in a blue and white 1955 Ford, leaving the safe and the $3,000 it contained.

Police chased the speeding car but couldn't catch it.

Brandt, in an interview early this month, suggested that Khrushchev get a first-hand picture of the real conditions in both parts of divided Berlin. But Khrushchev made no move to cross over into the West.

2 FEET FROM LINE
Khrushchev walked to the last barrier on the Communist side, stopping at the first red and white striped pole barring entry into East Berlin. He stood only two feet from the white line across the street marking the border between East and West Berlin.

Lt. Rudd H. Johnson, a military police officer from Highland Park, Ill., in steel helmet and combat equipment stood a few feet from the line. Johnson's expression did not change.

U.S., British and French soldiers at Checkpoint Charlie peered out of their huts.

10-Day Record in Sale of Cars

Production Predicted at 7 Million for 1963

By The Associated Press
New car sales in the United States reached a record 170,138 units during the first 10 days of January, according to the Dow-Jones news service.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department is predicting a seven-million car production year in 1963, surpassing last year's estimated 6.9 million and making it the second highest on record.

Dow-Jones said Wednesday the Jan. 1-10 new car sales represented an increase of 20.4 per cent over the same period last year.

Despite record sales by Ford Division, Ford Motor Co.'s market share slipped from 28.3 per cent last year to 25.3 per cent, and Chrysler's percentage of 10.6 was the same as a year ago, Dow-Jones said.

American Motors Corp.'s percentage was 5.3, up from last year's 4.6 per cent, while Studebaker's percentage fell to 1.2 from 1.5 per cent last year.

Oldsmobile reported 11,678 new car deliveries during the first 10 days of January, representing what it said was an increase of 13 per cent over the same period last year.

MSUO Reveals Building Costs

Construction in '61-'62
Valued at $4.9 Million

Construction at Michigan State University Oakland in the school's third year has been valued at $4.9 million, according to the 1961-62 financial report issued by Michigan State University.

An additional $1.6 million is being spent for the MSUO Intramural Building now nearing completion. It will raise the total investment in buildings on the campus east of Pontiac to $9.2 million.

Initial construction at MSUO was completed in 1960-61 with a $2-million gift for Foundation Hall and $700,000 borrowed to build the Student Services Building.

Added in 1961-62 were the Engineering and Science Building, the Kresge Library, dormitories, power plant and MSUO Oakland Center.

MSUO enrollment totaled 1,069 students during the year which saw junior level courses added and a year-round three semester plan begun.

Oakland County provided 75 per cent of the enrollment and Macomb County 17 per cent. There were 27 students from 14 other states and five from four other countries.

Total income for current operations in 1961-62 amounted to $1,310,568, of which $979,720 came from state appropriations and $328,423 from student fees.

Expenditures for general operations amounted to $1,442,983, as compared with $1,851,378 at the East Lansing campus.

Mayor Cries 'Collusion' in Transit Strike

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Philadelphians scrambled for different transportation today in a three-day-old strike which the mayor charged involved collusion by union and management.

Mayor James H. J. Tate made the charge yesterday against the Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, and the Philadelphia Transportation Co.

Tate said the disputants were using the strike that has stopped buses, trolley and subway-elevated service for more than one million riders as a weapon to force a fare increase.

Both the TWU and PTC President Robert H. Stier denied the charge. Negotiators still were deadlocked.

"I have instructed our attorneys to continue our opposition before the public utility commission and not to give in to back-door deals," Tate said at a news conference.

Woman Driver Off the Track Halts Train

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A woman motorist drove half a mile on a railroad track, then got stuck in a switch and delayed a 100-car freight train.

Mazie Wells of Burbank said she got on the tracks at a crossing Wednesday. A track supervisor saw her car jounce by at 25 miles an hour, followed by a freight train going in the same direction. He threw a switch that flagged down the train.

Police said the woman told them: "I thought this was a road." She was not cited.

Farnum's Report Answered

County Auditors Dispute State

A refusal to submit to state administrative directions regarding county expenditures was sent to State Auditor General Billie S. Farnum today by the Oakland County Board of Auditors.

The letter was in reply to a recent auditor general's report that the auditors here had allowed a misuse of $11,973 in county funds from January 1960 through July 31, 1962.

Farnum directed the auditors to reclaim the sum from county officials to whom it had been overpaid.

The auditors' reply stated: "Many of the matters in the report involve extensive legal interpretation; others are outside the scope of the auditors' jurisdiction."

CAN'T SUBORDINATE

They added that the Board of Auditors is vested with certain responsibilities and discretionary powers, and, "in this area cannot subordinate itself to the 'direction' of any other agency including that of the auditor general."

"In so 'directing' the auditor general has not only clearly over-stepped the prerequisites of his office, but has made it difficult for this board and other county agencies to act expeditiously in adopting any meritorious ideas contained in the report.

The auditors maintained that allegations made in the report "are based on hastily arrived at misinterpretations... which could have been cleared up through prior consultation with county officials."

Farnum was unavailable for immediate comment on the county auditors' reply. His secretary said that no recent correspondence from the county auditors had arrived at the auditor general's office.

Following are the county auditors' replies to some of the specific exceptions contained in the auditor general's report:

RULED LEGAL

1. Regarding alleged overpayments to the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who is paid $25 per diem instead of the same $10 rate paid to others: "The increased per diem of the chairman as voted by the board of supervisors has twice been ruled by (the county's) corporation counsel to be legal.

"In the absence of over-ruling authority this opinion is accepted by the auditors as our authority for reimbursement at this rate."

However, the auditors concurred that the $25 rate couldn't be applied where the chairman is serving as a member of the County Drain Board because that rate has been set at $15 by statute.

The auditors noted that Chairman Delos Hamlin has agreed to make reimbursements accordingly.

2. The auditors disagreed with the auditor general's charge that supervisors here had been paid more than one per diem for any one day, stating "a careful review of schedules disclosed no such instances."

OWN JUDGMENT

3. Concerning payment of John G. Semann, supervisor from Berkley who serves as the county's lobbyist in Lansing, the auditors maintained that the payments were a matter of their own judgment and were made "in the interest of good government and equity."

4. The auditors recognized that they had been reimbursing supervisors excessive mileage payments in paying 10 cents a mile instead of the 7 cents prescribed by statutes.

They said the amount had been reduced accordingly, but added that difficulties in seeking the return of excess payments already ruled out the feasibility of such action.

5. Regarding charges that the auditors had no right to reimburse supervisors for meals incurred during the course of meetings, the auditors insisted that this is their discretionary privilege.

Elsewhere in the reply, auditors here accused Farnum of "arbitrarily designating certain travel expenses (night lunches; tips, miscellaneous, valet and laundry services) to be personal, non-reimbursable expenses."

USURPING CLAIMED

Again, they said he was usurping their right to exercise their own judgment in making these reimbursements which they maintained were for legitimate expenses.

However, in instances where hotel bills submitted included lodging for both the employee and his wife, the auditors said they have been assured that overpayments for the wife's share of the cost will be promptly reimbursed to the county.

The county auditors noted exceptions in expenses paid to Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry where he hadn't used the county's standardized form.

The auditors said the claims were so submitted at their request in order to afford more detail than required by the standard form.

They further stated that improvements in the forms were being considered here so that they could be made applicable, but that their adoption was a matter of local concern and not subject to direction by the auditor general.

The auditors urged Farnum to "return to the former practice" of discussing any differences of opinion with them "before, rather than subsequent to, publication of the auditor general's annual report."

Farnum was criticized at the time for releasing the report to the press just prior to the November election, at the same time it was made to the county Board of Auditors.

He denied that his action was politically motivated.

Bandit Robs Hudson's Detroit Store

DETROIT (UPI)—A brazen bandit yesterday robbed an 11th floor credit office cashier of $1,200 at the J. L. Hudson Co. and made his escape by casually mingling with busy downtown shoppers.

Miss Sharon Lyerla, 19, the cashier, told police the man approached her teller's cage in the cashier's office about 4:30 p.m. and gave her a brown manila envelope and a note.

The note read: "Don't make a sound—Give me the money."

Miss Lyerla said, "Is this a joke?"

Then, she told police, the bandit pulled back his coat and showed her the butt of a gun he had tucked in his belt.

She said she filled the envelope with money from the cash drawer and he told her he wanted the money from beneath the counter, in another cash drawer. She said there wasn't any more money, but he told her, "I know there is."

She said she took the money from the other drawer and put it in the envelope.

The bandit, who was the only nonemployee of the store in the cashier's section at the time, told Miss Lyerla to lie on the floor of the cage and "stay there for five minutes."

As he walked away, she said, she ducked under the counter and notified General Cashier John Klaus of the holdup.

She described the bandit as about 35, 6 feet tall and weighing about 170 pounds.

It'll Discourage 'Em

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—To discourage students from their yearly project of depositing odd objects—ranging from sealing wax to at least one large-size animal per annum—on top of the spires of King's College Chapel, rings of 280 spikes have been inserted and painted to blend with the tower.

$10,000 Fire Halted Before Home Hit

An early morning fire caused an estimated $10,000 to $12,000 damage today to a storage building and workshop at the home of Dr. John Burger, 32055 Telegraph Road, Franklin.

The Franklin Fire Department, assisted by Bloomfield Township firemen, managed to squelch the blaze before it reached the doctor's home. The workshop-storage building is attached to the home by a breezeway.

The fire was under control shortly after firemen reached the scene at 5:45 a.m.

France Regulates Speed by Noise Instruments

PARIS (AP)—Drivers of all countries watch for speed limits, but France has now added a noise limit.

A government-published regulation sets maximum limits of sound for various types of vehicles. These limits will be enforced with instruments which measure vehicle noise.

The regulation also makes it illegal to race the motor of a stationary vehicle. Stipulations are also made that the exhaust system of all cars, trucks and motorbikes must be kept in good repair.

'Amburger, Gov'ner?

LONDON (AP)—Hamburger stands, as American as Yankee Doodle, are becoming increasingly popular in England, where they are known as "Wimpy Bars" after a character in the Popeye comic strip. There now are more than 250 "Wimpy Bars" in England, and they also are moving onto the continent, where the first five opened recently in Paris were quite a success.

A major impetus behind the New York building boom has been the demand for new office space. Since 1945 about 34.8 million square feet has been constructed exclusively for office needs.

Walton May Have Broken Another Election Law

DETROIT (AP)—A House of Representatives committee investigating a Detroit Democrat accused of violating an election law yesterday heard testimony indicating the candidate may be charged with a second election-law violation.

State Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, chairman of the committee, said the election expense voucher of Leonard Walton showed no campaign contributions in contradiction of testimony by his brother and a printer.

Hogan's committee is investigating Walton's qualifications to be seated in the house. The legislative body voted a week ago to refuse to seat Walton pending the investigation.

Walton faces trial next month on a charge of circulating campaign literature urging voters to "re-elect" him when he was running for a first term.

Walton's brother, Walter J. Walton of Detroit, testified his brother had received money from the Teamsters Union. The printer, Arthur Kletzka of Detroit, said the Teamsters Union paid for the campaign literature under scrutiny.

Filing a false campaign expense affidavit is a violation of state election laws.

Walton also testified he ordered the campaign literature, but did not order that the word "re-elect" be used.

Kletzka testified, however, that Walton's sister, Mrs. Louise Roman, ordered the campaign cards.

'Rep.' Walton and Mrs. Roman were expected to testify today.

Hogan and other legislators predicted the case will ultimately go to the Michigan Supreme Court. At issue is the power of the House of Representatives to determine the "records, qualifications and election" of its own members.

Hogan explained it was not the purpose of his committee to pre-judge any crime but to determine Walton's qualifications for office.

His committee will report its findings to the House after it reconvenes Monday.

Boy Identified as Strangler

In other business at the 1963 SAE convention yesterday, two Chrysler Corp. engineers and one from General Motors Corp. presented papers in which they agreed that the best vehicle for roving about the moon probably would be one using wheels.

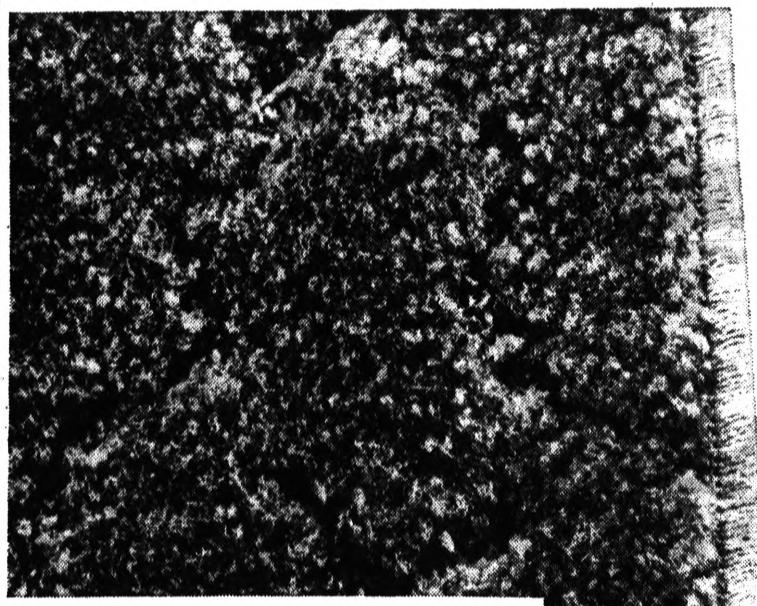

Lovell Lawrence Jr., director of Chrysler defense-space advanced projects, and Dr. Philip W. Lett, Chrysler's chief engineer for defense engineering, proposed a moon vehicle of six wheels, powered by liquid hydrogen and oxygen, which would be able to climb across crevasses and travel effortlessly over the moon's powdery surface.

Seven Drown Off Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Seven fishermen were drowned and 22 others were feared lost in blizzard-swept waters off the northern coast of Japan, the Coast Guard said today. Winds up to 70 miles an hour capsized or wrecked 22 small fishing boats in the area.

Ontario has 74,000 plus miles of highways, mostly paved, some lane-divided.

S. Viet Nam's Lack of Leaders, Drive May Prolong War

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Hesitant leadership by South Vietnamese field officers and lack of aggressiveness by South Vietnamese GIs may prolong the war to crush Communist guerrillas threatening that country's independence.

This assessment emerges from talks with U. S. military officials involved in the massive American effort to help the pro-Western government in Saigon.

In the past, the United States has fed money, military advisers and modern equipment into South Viet Nam and has made significant progress in improving the firepower, mobility, communications and planning of its armed forces.

U.S. experts have been trying

DISAPPOINTING

Results so far have been disappointing, particularly at the field echelon.

There is a feeling among some U.S. military authorities, who declined to be identified, that poor leadership could be the Achilles heel of the South Vietnamese effort to wipe out the persistent and resourceful Communist Viet Cong.

The top U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, took note of criticism voiced by unidentified American military advisers and issued a statement in Saigon.

"I believe that anyone who criticizes the fighting qualities of the armed forces of the republic of Viet Nam is doing a disservice to the thousands of gallant and courageous men who are fighting in the defense of their country," Harkins said.

Harkins said about 10,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in action in the past year and that almost 30,000 dead Viet Cong insurgents "attest to their courage."

U.S. advisers can only go so far—they are barred from issuing any commands in battle. There is little likelihood that this will change.

South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem insists on holding a tight rein on his military forces. Even if he should consent to allowing U.S. officers command authority, there is the strong possibility the Communists would seize on this to picture South Viet Nam as a complete puppet of the United States.

Some of the difficulties of inculcating leadership in the South Vietnamese stem from the past when the French dominated the country and natives never were allowed to rise above junior officer grade.

The best—and best educated—South Vietnamese officers are in the many headquarters which are overstaffed, by U. S. standards.

The battalions and rifle companies—where the fighting is done—are staffed with the less educated officers, mostly of peasant stock. These combat units are understrength in officers.

The result, as U.S. officials see it, is indecisiveness and timidity by small unit commanders in battle.

Because of these shortcomings, top commanders have been drafting detailed operational plans and insisting on rigid adherence. This denies the small unit leader any real initiative—even if he cares to exercise it.

There is another factor which may discourage Vietnamese field officers from sticking their necks out. U. S. authorities report that President Diem, who is his own war minister in practice, has been known to relieve commanders summarily after their units suffered casualties.

DEDICATED LEADERS

In contrast to the South Vietnamese officer corps, U.S. authorities say the Communist Viet Cong have dedicated leaders who are free to exercise considerable initiative.

The regular South Vietnamese soldier is considered tough and capable of great endurance.

However, American experts feel they lack motivation and that there are very real reasons why they may avoid taking chances in battle.

A soldier permanently disabled in action may have to support his family on as little as $9 a month in pension.

Vietnamese soldiers are paid less than some menial workers in Saigon and there is virtually nothing in the way of family help.

dependent housing and survivor benefits. Leaves are few.

The Viet Cong are aware of this and try to subvert the regulars. They have enjoyed some success, as is shown by a relatively high desertion rate in the South Vietnamese army.

U.S. officials realize it is unrealistic to try to achieve Western standards in the South Vietnamese army, but they have tried to prod the Diem government into taking greater measures to ease the lot of its soldiers and their families.

So far improvements have been slight.

Detroit Edison Co. Marks 60th Year

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Edison Co. celebrated its 60th anniversary today with a look at both the past and the future.

The company recalled that 1903—the year of its corporate birth—was highlighted by these events:

—The first automobile trip across the United States. It took 69 days coast to coast.

—Henry Ford, who had been chief engineer of Detroit Edison's parent, the Edison Illuminating Co., formed the Ford Motor Co.

—President Theodore Roosevelt took steps to build the Panama Canal.

—Wilbur and Orville Wright made the first successful airplane flights in an aircraft of their own design.

Back in 1903, Alex Dow was manager of Detroit Edison. Charles Wetmore, a native of Marquette, was the first president of the new corporation. Wetmore went along with Dow's recommendation for immediate expansion.

In the early days, Detroit Edison employed 200 people to serve 22,000 customers in a 25-mile square area which is now central Detroit.

There were four small power plants able to meet a maximum demand of 5,000 kilowatts. There were only 135 stockholders and assets totaled $7.5 million.

Today Detroit Edison has 9,500 employees. It serves 7,060-square-mile southeastern Michigan area. Six large power plants have an aggregate capability of 4 million kilowatts.

There are 106,000 stockholders and the investment totals nearly $1.3 billion.

The company said Walker L. Cislir, president since 1951, has directed a program which doubled power facilities and distribution facilities within a 10-year period.

Pay 4 Persons for Police Aid

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan petroleum industry reports it has paid $650 recently to four persons assisting police in solving or preventing gas station holdups.

The total paid out is now $7,850, according to spokesmen.

The largest recent reward, $500, went to James Tugman of Detroit for information leading to the arrest of a robber who slugged him and attempted to run him down with a car.

Institute Acquires Land

FLINT—General Motors Institute has obtained title to land which it has earmarked for future expansion of the educational facility. The property, which borders the present institute campus was left to GMI by the late Margaret Hasselbring, who died Jan. 7, 1962.

W. Berlin Dog to Aid Boston in Murders

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin Chief of Detectives Wolfram Angmeister said today a police dog and his handler will leave for Boston by air Friday night to help in the "phantom stranger" case.

He said the 7-year-old German shepherd, "Harro von Urstamm," helped solve two homicide cases in the past two years.

It is probably the most successful police dog on the West Berlin detective force, he said.

Angmeister added however that he was not sure the black shepherd will match Boston requirements.

"According to what I have read about the Boston murders in the press, I am not too optimistic. But I would be happy if Harro can do the job."

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan symphony band will present eight concerts in six states in its annual spring tour, April 3-10. The band will perform in New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Plan Session on Constitution

A meeting of the Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution (CNC) to lay plans for public forums sponsored by the group will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Birmingham Community House.

Any person or group interested in supporting the proposed new constitution is invited to attend the meeting, according to CNC Chairman Henry S. Booth, who today announced the meeting.

Booth also announced an 8 p.m. public meeting Jan. 30 at Birmingham Community House, the second of the groups public forums.

Two constitutional convention delegates, Mrs. Edward Cushman of Dearborn, a Democrat, and Henry L. Woolfenden, 1575 Kensington Road, Bloomfield Hills, a Republican, will speak at the Jan. 30 meeting.

Church Editor Dies

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (UPI)—Rev. Dr. Andrew V. McCracken, 65, editor of the United Church Herald, official organ of the United Church of Christ, died yesterday following a heart attack.

U.S., Brazil Communicate Via 'Relay'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States and Brazil talked to each other today via the orbiting American "relay," in the first public use of a satellite for communications between North and South America.

A special 12-minute radio program prepared by the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) was sent at 3:26 a.m. (Pontiac time) from Nutley, N. J., via the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) satellite to a mobile ground station at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

A return program was broadcast from Rio to Nutley on the same pass of the satellite.

The Nutley and Rio stations are operated by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. (ITT).

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk used the historic radio transmission to urge the people of Latin America to dedicate the alliance for progress to achieving a golden age rich in cultural attainments and material development.

'Flying's for the Birds'

LONDON (UPI)—Aviation pioneer Oswald Short marked his 80th birthday yesterday and remarked to a guest, "I prefer to travel by boat."

Budget Projection Sounds OK but How Realistic Is It?

An all-time, record-high budget was proposed today by President JOHN F. KENNEDY. Under his formula, our spending will total $98.8 billion with an estimated deficit of $11.9 billion.

He insists that this deficit is not to be viewed with alarm and explains that it is a means of putting new life into the economy, which eventually will increase tax revenues. The latter, in turn, will reduce our deficit.

This all sounds fine if the mathematics work out that way. Whether this can be accomplished by KENNEDY and his "brain trusters" is something probably no one can answer.

The theory is that with more money in circulation for individual spending, plus industry expansion, this hitherto unknown concept will work. It would be far easier to comprehend if it were coupled with a general cut in other government spending.

But this is not the case.

The Pontiac Press has recommended for years a reduction and complete revision of our Federal income tax. Our position has not changed, but the program outlined by the Chief Executive is hard for us to understand.

In his budget message, the President made it relatively clear that other spending would not be curtailed appreciably. Our defense costs, which amount to 55 cents of every tax dollar, will be slightly raised.

This expenditure is probably hard to lower, and as the President has said: "There is no discount price on defense." We'll have to buy this.

But it seems reasonable to believe that appropriations for all other functions of the Government might be somewhat reduced. We realize this is not the tendency of government today. Yet, in outlining a new budget containing tax revisions which will cut revenues with no guarantees of new sources of income seems like a utopian solution.

Apparently, there is no end to where our national debt may go. Last year, Congress raised the limit to $308 billion, and under the proposed budget it will climb to $315.8 billion.

It is difficult for most businessmen to understand the logical processes behind an increasing and never-ending national debt. We wonder if a day of reckoning will ever come.

In the meantime, we go on our merry way, and for all practical purposes the country continues to prosper. And, oddly enough, this budget deficit which many will scream about is slightly less than the $12.4 billion under Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958 and 1959.

The opponents are already at work, and we are relatively certain that Congress will do some paring before buying the program.

The "New Frontier" has spoken. To us it sounds like pie in the sky, but we'll be only too happy to take the tax cut and hope that JFK's masterful juggling of figures works out.

The Man About Town Gain Since 1845 We've Sped a Long Way—Pursued by Our Taxes

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

The MAT modestly disclaims knowledge as to who first dreamed up the nightmare of taxation and when the first bite of same was taken.

But it has had a long and, according to some, dishonorable life. Currently there is much whooping over the possibility of relief for us taxpayers grown round-shouldered from the burden.

All of which sort of backs us into a recent visit with

Mr. and Mrs. Ford R. Paddock of 234 Draper, who thought we'd be interested in an 1845 White Oaks Township, Ingham County tax assessment roll kept by the father of the husband when he was government assessor.

Total assessed valuation of the whole township was $9,796.88. Holy Toledo! An individual example of what the '45ers doubtless called confiscatory taxation is that of an 80-acre farm. Assessed at $130, the personal tax amounted to a believe-it-or-not 30 cents; and the state, county and township levy a whopping $2.47.

All this is really a tax on the imagination—and if this observer mistakes not the trend of the times, we'll soon be paying it!

There recently came a warm letter from Carey E. Terry of Inlay City, with a bit of reminiscence that provided enjoyment for the reader as I'm sure it did for the writer.

An old newspaperman, he published The Inlay City Times from 1924 to 1949. Still has a C & P press in his basement with 34 fonts of type. Stamp and coin collecting are other hobbies.

He and his wife recently celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary—and have been Pontiac Press subscribers for 40 years.

The MAT's congratulations on his correspondent's full and rewarding life, and best wishes for many, many more years of contentment and good health.

Deficit Underestimated Again?

WASHINGTON — When President Kennedy delivered his State of the Union message just a year ago, he told the American people he was "submitting for fiscal 1963 a balanced federal budget."

A few days later he sent Congress a budget showing there would be a surplus of $500 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1962, and ending June 30, 1963.

Actually the figure officially indicated now for that same year is a deficit of $8.8 billion. This is a mistake of $9.3 billion.

What assurance does the country have that another mistake isn't in the offing? The President in his State of the Union message earlier this week frankly predicted in general terms that there would be a deficit for the two fiscal years 1963 and 1964.

How are the people to know the extent of the deficit if such a gross error as was made in January a year ago doesn't get corrected for many months thereafter?

It so happens that economists were quite sure early in 1962 that the President's prediction about fiscal year 1963 was wrong, but not until after the congressional elections in November were the official figures revising the January estimate given out.

The excuse for the delay was that Congress was still in session and might change the appropriations. But there was no reason why the government couldn't have issued revised figures as early as August 1962, when it could have conceded the possibility of a slight increase in the deficit.

The people at least would have been told that the $500-million surplus was a "myth."

'HIGHER DEFICIT'

Persons who have followed budget figures for years now say that the President's estimate of a deficit of around $12 billion for the fiscal year ahead is too rosy a prediction. They think the deficit will go much higher.

Plainly, the new device of spreading the tax cuts over three years will not tend to clarify the picture. Individuals will not know when or whether they will get the promised tax cuts.

Congress has a way of changing its mind from session to session about legislation projected for the future.

Thus, for nine straight years Congress has declined to permit certain taxes to expire at the time set under the laws previously written. Instead, these taxes have been regularly retained.

Many members of Congress are by no means convinced that the President's new formula will ever be applied as he outlines it. For if economic conditions get worse instead of better, there may have to be changes in the formula.

Also, if business does boom and big deficits still continue, the demand will be for a cut in the deficits by postponing some of the tax cuts.

'POLITICAL MOTIVE?'

The whole picture is, of course, political. The administration apparently feels that, by promising cuts in three separate years, the voter will look forward to them and will reward the Democrats in the 1964 election.

But there is also the possibility that the tax cuts will not spur the economy because of the presence of other factors, such as the insistence of labor union leaders on higher wage rates as their share of the savings from a lowering of corporate taxes.

Naturally, the employers will then want to increase prices.

If the increased wage costs cannot be offset by higher prices, more "profit squeezes" will develop and the Treasury will get less tax receipts than it has anticipated.

An inflationary price wave seems certain to cut down the purchasing power of the dollar to the lowest point in 50 years. This is because the idea of cutting non-defense expenditures has been scorned by the administration.

Hal Boyle Says:

Beautiful Girl Loses Out in Husband Competition

NEW YORK (AP)—The young man was in a quandary.

"I am tired of being a bachelor and want to settle down," he told me. "But I'm in love with two girls."

"They have the same physical measurements, uh, 37-23-35, I think. Both have the same amount of money—none. Each has a steady job that holds promises of advancement."

"But one is beautiful. Every one comes up and wants to meet her when I take her out. She is wonderful to look at."

"The other one is homely. Nobody bothers us when I'm with her. But she is so much fun to listen to!"

"Tell me, which one should I MARRY?"

"Well, the next morning I put the question to five married male philosophers gathered around the office water cooler. The vote might surprise the average woman. It came out four-to-one in favor of recommending that the young man wed the homely girl."

"A beautiful dame is always holding the mirror up to herself," said the first. "A husband to her is only landscaping. He just serves as backdrop while she holds the center of the stage."

Said the second man: "It boils down to a matter of expense. Give me a homely girl every time. It's the beautiful women who are never satisfied with how they look."

"A homely woman is better because she doesn't mind giving a real belly laugh if something strikes her as funny, and a fellow likes a gal who can let go with a real belly laugh and enjoy herself," said the third man. "A beautiful woman is afraid to let go with a real good laugh. She thinks it ruins her dignity."

"That's true," broke in the fourth man. "But that's only part of it. There are other arguments. 'If you marry a beautiful woman, you wind up jealous of her. But if you marry a homely woman, she always worries about where your eye is wandering.'"

"Also, a beautiful woman never gets more beautiful, but marriage makes a homely woman prettier every year."

"Also, nine out of ten homely women can sew on a button quicker and cook a better meal than nine out of ten ex-beauty queens—and what do you want a wife for anyway?"

Indignantly the fifth man broke in:

"I must disagree with every crass word you fellows have uttered. Why, I married the most beautiful girl in the world, and I'd like to say—"

"How long you been married, son?" interrupted the first man.

"Three months, sir."

"Oh, hell," said the third man. "I thought this was a serious discussion. Do we have to listen to amateurs?"

Danger Remains

The Chicago Sun-Times

Cuba is no less a problem now than it was last summer. It is still a beachhead for communism and the White House concern with the upcoming congressional battles over domestic issues must not be accompanied by a relaxation of attitude over Cuba.

Our Washington correspondent says that Mr. Kennedy regards the development of Latin America as the most serious long-range problem. And the Wall Street Journal reports that a new toughness toward Fidel Castro will come — after a calculated pause.

Very good. But what of Mr. Kennedy's demand—concurrent in by Nikita Khrushchev at the time of the Cuban crisis — that there should be on-the-ground inspection to assure that all offensive Russian weapons were removed and that no new ones were shipped in? What of America's plans discussed before the crisis for putting the economic squeeze on Castro by constraining shipping to Cuba?

There seems to have been a relaxation on the part of Washington toward Castro during the past few weeks while the negotiations to ransom the Bay of Pigs prisoners were under way.

Castro hasn't relaxed his attitude toward the United States nor abandoned his plans to export communism from Cuba to other Latin nations. Castro paraded new Soviet ground-to-air missiles that may be capable of shooting down a U2 plane.

Ole Miss Episode Still Controversial

I agree that Ole Miss is a disgrace. In this day, when youth needs enlightening, this university not only allows but encourages its students to 'march backward.'

This was no Communist inspired riot, but was the action of loutish young men and ill-bred, ill-mannered young women. They deserve to be presented as such and not as innocent victims of Mr. Meredith's fault.

Car of Future—Home Away From Home

DETROIT (AP)—The family car of the future, says a design consultant, will be "a living room on wheels."

"Seats may be designed with couch or davenport luxuriousness," Brooks Stevens of Milwaukee, a design consultant for Studebaker Corp., told the 1963 convention of the Society of Automotive Engineers in a prepared speech.

"It is possible that programmed highway driving from major city to major city may be part of our driving life, enabling the driver of the car to request clearance from Detroit to Boston and then join his family or guests at a game of gin rummy," Stevens said.

But, then he added: "I believe that for the most part the driver will steer and guide his own automobile, particularly for business and within his suburban living."

Turning to power plants and other aspects, Stevens told the SAE:

"The assumption must be made that a decade hence the power plant and driving line will be simplified to one or another of three procedures—a front engine front drive, a rear engine rear drive, or a turbine or fuel cell all-wheel drive."

"The power source will be compact and will not absorb a large cubic area within the vehicle. There will be no drive-shaft hump or transmission mountain . . .

"I believe that highway development will produce surface smoothness to the degree that suspension systems will be less called upon and may be entirely eliminated through tire design . . .

"Air conditioning will be universal, and the problem of window noise and window seals will have vanished.

TRAVELING ROOM

"The interior may not have a transportation look as we know it now, but the look of a colorful, comfortable, well-decorated room that is going somewhere—a room that can be a living room by day with dinette facilities and the ability to be converted into a bedroom-boudoir at night . . .

"Behind the rear seat backs, in a space just ahead of the rear wheel housing, will be a bank of drawers for clothing, blankets, linens, tableware, etc. There will probably be two trunks—one between the front wheels and one between the rear wheels. The power plant would be flat and below trunk level either front or rear . . .

"A sealed cartridge-type power plant good for 'X' hundred hours and removable in a matter of minutes will be a part of your purchase and warranty arrangements."

"On the passenger side, a diminutive panel will have a lighted window for radio and TV selection—TV for the backseat passengers only. The screen will swing down from the roof section.

"The ability to plug in beverage warmers and light-dish hot plates will provide a refreshment center through the vehicle's electrical system for camping out, etc. In this regard, the family car of tomorrow may well be the counterpart of today's buslike transporter but without its high silhouette and its cab-over-engine trucklike driving attitude."

Area Senior a Math Whiz

Among Top 4 Pct. in State After Contest

A Bloomfield Hills High School senior was rated among the top 4 per cent of the state's high school mathematics students today as the result of the sixth annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

Thomas Hoopengardner, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hoopengardner, 1414 Lenox Road, Bloomfield Township, received one of the 23 top cash awards in the competition, worth $50.

Judging was based on the students' work in answering such math problems as this:

"Each row in a five-by-five checkerboard consists of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 in some order. The order of the numbers down the first column is the same as the order from left to right across the first row, and similarly for any other column and the corresponding row. Prove that the diagonal squares running from the upper left to the lower right contain the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 in some order."

"If you can prove the problem, you're in an elite group," according to math professor James H. McKay of Michigan State University, Oakland.

Only three of the 12,000 high school math contestants solved this particular problem, he said.

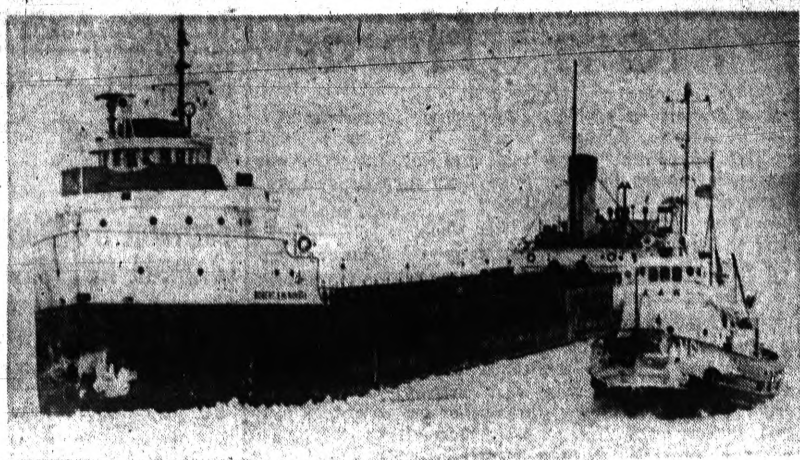

Prof. McKay is chairman of the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of America, which sponsors the competition.

In case you gave up, the proof of the above problem is:

"The pattern of numbers so produced is symmetrical; therefore each number appears off the main diagonal (from upper left to lower right) an even number of times. Since each number appears five times in the table, each number must appear at least once, and hence exactly once, on the diagonal."

JFK Relative Troubleshoots for Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee is taking on the unpaid services of Stephen E. Smith, brother-in-law of President Kennedy, as a party trouble shooter.

Announcing this yesterday, National Chairman John M. Bailey said Smith will devote his efforts to trying to patch together party unity in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio.

Republican governors were elected in all of these states last November. The defeat of Democratic candidates in these races has left local party matters in a disorganized state.

"I believe Steve will be very helpful in helping us iron out some of our problems before the 1964 elections," Bailey said in an interview. "I am very happy to have him get into this field." Asked if there was any thought that Smith might be in line to succeed him as party chairman, Bailey replied that he sees no such prospect.

It would seem that liquor is now America's favorite luxury.

If you don't drink, you're some kind of a nut.

I received an invitation to the annual meeting of a social organization the other day. Dinner at 8, but first, from 6 to 6:30, "cordiality hour." In the past, I have attended some of the annual meetings of the organization, and the cordiality evinced by some of the members made me sick. So now I do myself a favor, by staying away from such meetings.

The cocktail habit, I think, is doing America an incalculable amount of harm, particularly among young Americans and especially teen-agers whose introduction to drinking is the cocktail pressed upon them by their elders.

In that fine book, "Prodigal Shepherd," by Father Ralph Pfau and Al Hirschberg (J.B. Lippincott Co., Philadelphia, $3.95), with a foreword by Karl Menninger, M.D., Father Pfau tells how, although he had never touched alcohol as a young man, he took his first drink not long after ordination, when he was a guest at a dinner party where all the other guests seemed to enjoy their cocktails or highballs.

The young priest finally mixed himself a kind of a highball and his host, an attorney, asked how he liked it. "For a moment, I didn't answer," said Father Pfau. "I felt a gradual, and pleasant, sensation of warmth in my stomach. I looked around the room, then smiled self-consciously. 'Not bad,' I said. 'Not bad at all.'"

The first highball of his life was shortly followed by a second. Thereafter the young priest drank more and more, smuggled bottles into his room at the rectory, eventually became a confirmed alcoholic. He kept telling himself he wasn't an alcoholic because he didn't drink in the forenoon.

He would prepare his highball or whatever some time before noon, and pace the floor waiting for the clock to strike twelve, and then he would pounce on the drink and down it. Even after he had joined Alcoholics Anonymous, he couldn't bring himself to say, "I am an alcoholic," as all members of AA do when they speak in a meeting, even if they have not had a drink in years.

Father Pfau has done and is doing a lot of good by telling his experience in AA meetings everywhere.

Whether you read "Prodigal Shepherd" or not, I ask you, if a clergyman who has never before indulged in the narcotic succumbs to such temptation, is it quite fair to children for parents to say, as one mother did in reply to the query in my column (Would you want your child or children to take the pledge?), "It would be their decision?"

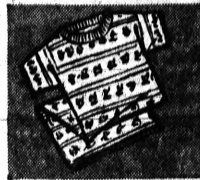

I have never flown. I have never been in such a hurry to get anywhere. Aside from mechanical failure and pilot error — I am not unmindful of train wrecks and fatal automobile accidents — there is always the thought that the pilot may have had one too many just before take-off.

The alcohol in just one drink may slow reaction time a fraction of a second, which might make the difference between tragedy and safety. A passenger's peace of mind would be assured by knowledge that the man in the cockpit is a teetotal abstainer. But Americans who like a little nip — and most do — dismiss this suggestion with a little sneer as they down their

Rep. Would End Sec. of State Duty

Asks Change in Car Tag Sale

Eliminating secretary of state branch offices and putting the issuance of automobile license plates in the hands of city and township halls or police stations has been proposed by State Rep. Bill S. Huffman, D-Madison Heights.

Huffman said today he has sent a letter to Gov. George Romney suggesting a legislative committee study the feasibility of such a plan.

Huffman, who is mayor of Madison Heights, claimed the plan, if feasible, could save the state thousands of dollars, give the public better service and get rid of the political patronage on which the branch office system works.

Similar proposals have been introduced into the State Legislature in the past but have never received much support, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Hare has tried several times to have his some 250 branch offices put under civil service, he said, in order "to get them out of politics."

Huffman said his proposal is "just an outline" and may not be feasible, but seems to offer many advantages.

Using existing facilities and personnel at municipal halls or police stations where driver's licenses are issued, would reduce costs, he claimed.

LOCAL REVENUE

"Municipalities would welcome" receipt of some of the revenue that now goes to the managers of branch offices, Huffman said.

He cited a new Madison Heights substation of the Berkley branch office as an example of poor service to the public.

"It took them a year after deciding there was a need, to decide on a manager for it," Huffman said.

Branch offices receive $30 for each sale of a license plate or tab, according to Hare. Gross income for branch offices ranges from $300 to $20,000 a year, he indicated.

Most branch office managers barely break even after paying expenses, he said, and many actually lose money.

They could not afford to operate a branch office except in connection with another business, he said.

Branch office managers are almost impossible to get in some parts of the state, he added, because of the small chances of profit.

Offices grossing $20,000 a year are rare, he pointed out, and they have large overhead.

An office with a net income of $6,000 to $7,000 a year would be doing very well. This would mean the manager was working full time in the office, he said.

Some of the branch offices operate only temporarily—when the new licenses become available until the deadline.

Mistaken Identity Cost Hunter His Big Buck

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Alan Britton of Hot Springs was hunting deer near here when he thought he saw another hunter aiming a gun at him.

"Don't shoot!" Britton yelled, jumping from his brushy cover into a clearing.

"He looked at me strangely," Britton said. "The finest buck I've ever seen. Then he charged into a thicket and was gone."

Only 10,000 or so helicopters have been built in the United States.

Police Chiefs Urge Required Drinking Tests

GRAND RAPIDS, (AP)—More than 100 Michigan police chiefs urged last night that the state require applicants for drivers licenses to sign statements that they would take chemical tests if ever suspected of drunken driving.

The Michigan Association of Police Chiefs called for repeal of the present law which gives drivers, suspected of drunken driving, a choice of whether they want to take tests which would determine the amount of their drinking.

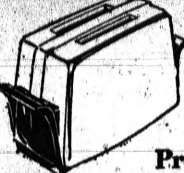

The chiefs also urged addition of 150 more state troopers to the present state police force and backed a recommendation by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees calling for establishment of a state highway traffic safety center.

Sales Tax Deduction Tables Available

R. I. Nixon, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, today reminded taxpayers that tables showing the amount you may claim as a deduction for Michigan sales tax are available at local Internal Revenue offices.

The table may be used as a guide to deductions in the absence of proof of payment.

The director added that the law requires taxpayers to substantiate any deduction and, if requested, they must be prepared to do so.

Ordinarily, however, sales tax deduction will not be questioned unless it exceeds the amount shown in the table, he added.

It was further pointed out by the director that the sales tax table takes into account taxes paid on large household items and automobiles as well as payment of compensatory general use tax on out-of-state purchases of taxable commodities.

Therefore, taxpayers who wish to determine their total general sales tax payments by adding taxes paid on their major expenditures to taxes paid on their ordinary purchases should not use the amount shown in the table.

Nixon advised taxpayers to telephone their local internal revenue office if they have additional questions.

Won't Raise Pay;
'Children Don't Value Money'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Millionaire shoe manufacturer Harry Karl says he's opposed to doubling support payments for his three children because "they don't know the value of a dollar."

His ex-wife, actress Marie McDonald, wants the payments raised from $750 to $1,500 a month.

Karl testified in Superior Court Wednesday that their adopted 12-year-old daughter Denise once bought $2,500 worth of clothes even though she wears uniforms at boarding school. He said their adopted son Harrison, 12, once signed for a $57 golfing fee.

Karl, now married to actress Debbie Reynolds, was twice married to Miss McDonald. Their last divorce was in 1956.

DeGaulle Puts Quick End to Allies' 'Happy New Year'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—It was almost like a return to normal, after being away for a while, when French President Charles de Gaulle rebuffed both the United States and Britain this week.

The year 1963 had been going along much too quietly to give anybody an easy feeling. It wasn't natural.

Besides, while the Allies were just doing their usual mulling and muddling around with themselves, their two big antagonists, Russia and Red China, were abusing each other so hard it looked like a split.

This was a switch and, for the Allies, a wonderful way to start the new year. They were sitting back and enjoying it, most of them seemed relaxed.

BACK IN BALANCE

But de Gaulle put everything back into balance at his news conference Monday. Even his timing was excellent for causing the most discomfort to anyone inclined to mention how nice things were, like President Kennedy.

He sounded off just a few hours before Kennedy was to deliver his State of the Union message to Congress.

It was a heart-warming Kennedy message, too, for those who longed for Allied brotherliness and would have been content to let the Communists monopolize both harshness and disunity.

The message had been written and distributed, although not delivered, before de Gaulle messed things up.

"How fares the grand alliance?" asked Kennedy rhetorically, blissfully unaware when he wrote the lines of what De Gaulle had in mind. "Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

He said: "A new phase of interdependence and unity is taking shape."

"Defying the old prophecies of Marx, consenting to what no conqueror could ever compel, the free nations of Europe are moving toward a unity of purpose and power and policy in every sphere of activity."

Besides, if de Gaulle hadn't butted in before Kennedy could make his speech, the President would have had almost exclusive attention around the world. Nothing much else was happening that day, or so it seemed.

De Gaulle did two things by making his jarring pronouncements just a few hours before Kennedy spoke:

1. He forced the President to share the headlines with him and in some places, no doubt, took them away from him completely.

2. He put some of the Kennedy statements—particularly the business about unity—way out of focus.

W. C. Fields never stole a scene better

REBUFFS BRITISH

The British have been trying to work out arrangements to get into the European Common Market with France and other allies. But for the British to endure.

de Gaulle said the British didn't fit the bill for getting into the market—yet.

He indicated that if they're nice boys and make concessions to the threat of a blackball from de Gaulle against the British.

And Tuesday five of the other European nations in the trading bloc rallied behind Britain against the threat of a blackball from de Gaulle against the British.

The five were West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and little Luxembourg.

This wasn't all de Gaulle did. He said France will not join the British-American agreement made at Nassau late last year to establish a multinational Polaris missile force.

He said France would build its own atomic force. But here it was learned Kennedy intends to push ahead toward an Allied atomic force. De Gaulle has been a haughty problem before. He's worse one now.

Testing Device for Forecasting Flood Rains

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The weather bureau announced that it is testing a new rain detection device which could improve river and flood forecasting.

The bureau said the new radar instrument can measure rainfall as far as 100 miles away.

"From a single, convenient location, it will provide instantaneous measurements of precipitation at many points over a broad area," the bureau said in a statement.

It said the new device converts the intensity of radar echoes from 150 points over a river basin into a pattern which can be displayed on a map at a river forecast center.

The agency said the new device would be tested at its radar research laboratory in Norman, Okla.

'Constitution Aids Local Authority'

Romney Boosts New Document

Urges Township Assn. to Favor Change

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney says that adoption of Michigan's proposed new constitution would "stop the flow of power and influence and tax dollars to Washington."

In a speech to the Michigan Township Association last night, Romney said the new constitution would permit local governmental units—including townships and especially counties and the state—to handle their problems at home.

Romney, who was a delegate to and vice president of the constitutional convention, urged the association to support the proposed constitution, which goes before the voters April 1.

The group's board of directors has recommended that it oppose adoption. The association is scheduled to vote tomorrow on the issue.

"The measure of your consideration should be whether the new constitution is better than what we now have," Romney declared. "It should not be whether the new constitution does everything that everybody would like it to do."

Romney warned that local and state government officials must step up to their responsibilities in meeting the needs of the people.

If they don't, he said, "we will lose our self-government and see it drift away to a less satisfying and more expensive handling in Washington."

CITIZENS DANGER

"Our very system of state and local government as we know it is in very real danger of passing out of the picture—unless we do something about it," Romney declared.

An all-out campaign against adoption of the new constitution has been launched by Democratic leaders, with some suggesting that the good points of the new document could be adopted piecemeal by the amendment process if it fails.

But Romney said it would take the next 10 years, voting on one amendment every general state election, to adopt "a significant number of the improvements contained in the new constitution."

Proceeds will be used for PTSA programs and to augment the organization's scholarship fund.

DePuy-Kisby Rites Held

ROCHESTER — A gown of silk-faced peau de soie adorned with re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls was chosen by Kathleen Karen Kisby, 146 W. Albertson St., for her recent marriage to William Mahin DePuy.

Rev. R. Vincent Myrick performed the nuptials in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion.

The bride is the daughter of the Elwood L. Kisbys of Mount Pleasant. With her gown she wore a pearl crown which held an elbow-length veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses and chrysanthemums.

Parents of the bridegroom, who lived at 116 W. Griggs St., are Mr. and Mrs. George F. DePuy of Mount Pleasant.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene DePuy of Lapeer, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Joseph Stahavec of New Baltimore. Ushers were Spencer M. Kisby, brother of the bride, and Eugene DePuy, brother of the bridegroom. The reception was held at the Villa Inn, Lake Orion. Following their honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside at 146 W. Albertson St.

MRS. WILLIAM M. DEPUY

"HOW ABOUT THIS ONE?" — Mrs. Robert Cavanaugh, 940 Hummer Lake Road, Oxford Township, has almost decided to buy the book her daughter Sharon is trying to sell her. However, William Offer, another eighth grader at St. Joseph Catholic School, wants to ring up the sale for himself. The children's books are on sale at the school, 703 N. Lapeer Road, Orion Township, until Jan. 25. Proceeds will be used to buy books for a school library.

To Discuss Forming of Metropolitan Unit

UTICA — The possible formation of a metropolitan district including the city of Utica and neighboring Sterling and Shelby townships will be discussed at a luncheon here tomorrow.

Invited to attend are Utica Mayor Fred H. Beck, Shelby Supervisor Loren E. Evans and Sterling Supervisor Anthony Dobry.

But Mayor Beck isn't going. "I feel that if Dobry thinks that I'm a property thief, I wouldn't want to hurt his reputation by someone seeing me having lunch with him," Beck said today.

Greater Utica Chamber of Commerce President Roy B. Church invited the officials to the luncheon for discussion of the metropolitan district issue.

It will be more or less an "informal chat," he said, "for preliminary and exploratory discussion of proposals by the chamber asking them to cooperate in forming a metropolitan district."

Suggestions of such a district have been in the air for about eight months, Dobry said today. "This metropolitan deal is a very serious thing and an important one," he added.

Dobry was not aware that Beck had been invited to the lunch-thing and we don't intend to."

He was referring to Utica's recent annexation of a portion of Shelby Township and its current attempt to annex a piece of Sterling Township.

"Whenever Dobry met me, most of the time he called me a land grabber. Once in a while this is funny, but not after many times."

"So far we haven't stolen any-

Sewage Funds OK'd by State

UTICA — This city's request to borrow $150,000 for its proposed sewage treatment has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The request was made as a result of the State Health Department's demand that the city take action to correct its inadequate sewage treatment facilities.

City engineers Hubbell, Roth and Clark, Inc., of Birmingham have presented plans for a plant with an estimated cost of $343,000, which the State Health Department has approved.

In November a federal grant of $171,000 was given for the plant under the government's Accelerated Public Works program.

Construction of the treatment facilities must be completed by November, according to Mayor Fred H. Beck, because of a stipulation in the federal grant.

Firm Given W. Bloomfield Planning Job

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Vilcan-Leman & Associates of Southfield last night was named as the firm which will develop a master plan for West Bloomfield Township.

The Southfield firm of professional planning consultants was appointed last night by the Township Board.

The board's approval of Vilcan-Leman had been expected since it was the company recommended for the job by the Township Planning Commission Jan. 8.

The township received word Jan. 7 that the federal government had approved a $21,176 grant for development of the master plan. The township will pay 25 per cent of the cost.

Target Date Ahead for Bids on Area Water System

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — March 1 is the target date for awarding bids on construction of a $2.66-million water system here, according to Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

The water system, which will serve areas in the southern portion of Farmington Township, will be built and maintained under the authority of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Hall said the internal system of water lines will be financed by special assessment, and the main transmission lines will be paid for by issuing revenue bonds.

Detroit will supply water to users of the new system. One of the transmission lines will be built along the southern boundary of the township on Eight-Mile Road. Another main line will follow 11-Mile Road west to Middlebelt Road. The third will be extended along Inkster Road between Eight-Mile and 11-Mile roads.

No date has been set for completion of the project.

Residents in the northern half of the township currently receive water through private and community wells, said Hall.

The supervisor also noted that an annexation request submitted by the city of Farmington will be studied by the township zoning board at its Jan. 24 meeting.

The Farmington Economic Development Committee, a city council-appointed organization, has proposed that the city annex 20 acres of land south of Nine-Mile Road and east of the city limits from the township.

Hall said the zoning board will study the request thoroughly before it is voted on by the Farmington Township Board.

The committee has said that annexation would help to "square off" the city boundaries and speed development of the now-vacant property for industrial and residential use.

Courses Set for Adults at Avondale

The Avondale School District will offer 12 courses in the winter term of its adult education program, Program Director William H. Saville announced today.

Registration for the courses may be completed at the high school Tuesday, or by contacting the program director any time at the high school.

Ten weekly sessions will be offered in each of the following subjects — bookkeeping, sculpturing, wood carving and driver education for adults.

Advanced and beginning classes will be given in typing, shorthand, dressmaking and cake decorating.

The day and time of classes will be scheduled to accommodate those enrolling. Each course, other than driver training, requires a minimum of 12 persons.

Arraignment Friday in Area Road Death

SOUTHFIELD — A 21-year-old here tomorrow on a charge of negligent homicide in connection with Oakland County's first 1963 traffic fatality.

Bernard Wilson will appear before Municipal Court Judge Clarence A. Reed Jr. as a result of the Jan. 7 death of Mrs. Dorothy Brundage, 35, of Flint.

Mrs. Brundage died from injuries she received New Year's Day when the car in which she was a passenger was struck by an auto driven by Wilson at the Telegraph Road - Northwestern Highway intersection.

MARGARET A. HODGE

The engagement of Margaret Ann Hodge, 114 College St., Holly, to Daniel J. Currie is announced by her father, Clyde T. Hodge of Flint. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Currie of Whittemore. No date has been set for the wedding.

HOLLACE ANN HAMEL

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamel of 6160 Upper Straits Blvd., West Bloomfield Township, have announced the engagement of their daughter Hollace Ann to Paul Smolinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smolinski of Detroit. No wedding date has been set.

Quiet Fears Project Would Crimp Sales

UNION LAKE—Fears of local businessmen that a County Road Commission project on Union Lake Road would destroy their peak season business this coming summer were allayed yesterday.

County Road Commission Chairman Sol D. Lomerson told some 40 businessmen that the road rebuilding project would not close Union Lake Road completely, but would provide for access to businesses along the road.

Lomerson explained plans to install new 24-foot-wide concrete roadways in stages. Only one side of the road will be done at a time in some sections of the route, he said.

He added that the work will begin as soon as possible, probably in April. It may be completed in July so that the peak business season is not entirely consumed by the project.

A schedule will be arranged so that only portions of the road will be closed at any one time, Lomerson said, and signs detouring only through traffic will be used.

Some signs will indicate the road is open to business traffic, he explained.

The road commission office was bombarded last month by petitions and form letters demanding assurance that Union Lake Road from Commerce Lake Road to Cooley Lake Road would not be closed during construction.

Although members of the Union Lake Area Business Association still await further details on the project, they are satisfied that road commissioners are doing everything possible to alleviate the problem, according to attorney Christian F. Powell, secretary of the business association.

Both Lomerson and Powell described yesterday's meeting as "successful."

The new roadway will replace 21-foot-wide blacktop.

Crimping Has Hair-Raising Background

By PHYLLIS BATTIELLE

NEW YORK — There is scarcely anything less permanent than a "permanent wave" (My home-brewed variety has about the life span of a snagged nylon), but so far no congressional subcommittee has labeled the word "permanent" as misleading advertising.

Guess when it PHYLLIS comes to such a BATTIELLE female subject, they don't want to split hairs.

The first permanents split plenty of hairs, however. That was back in the days of 1905, when millionaires were millionaires after taxes, and their ladies were women with time on their hands.

HELPED SPEND

The first permanents helped the men spend their excess money (cost about $1,000 the baking), and it killed time (up to 20 hours) for the ladies.

It also may have killed a few ladies, but hairdressers even today don't like to think about that.

It was the German named Charles Nestle who discovered how to crimp ladies' hair.

His process was a boiling and baking procedure, picked up from the old Egyptians who used to shave their heads and wear curly black wigs.

To curl those wigs, the Cleopatra clan wrapped swatches of their shorn hair around sticks and boiled them. Then they packed the boiled corkscrews in clay and baked them over hot fires.

Nestle decided to copy the idea, with modifications, only he didn't think it was necessary to shave the hair off.

So he wrapped long hair, often floor length, around a series of gas-heated coils that weighed nearly two pounds each.

Then he baked them for "less than one day."

The process was introduced in London and went over big. London women didn't mind having their scalps burned a bit for the sake of vanity, and Nestle didn't mind having his hands burned for the sake of money either.

CAUTION IN U.S.

But in the United States, there was caution. The New World ladies didn't want to get burned, and (at those prices) neither did the men.

But this machine was greatly improved when electricity was introduced, in 1909, except for an incident or two when ceilings fell in due to the weight of the curlers.

Yet he still couldn't sell Americans on the "permanent" process until he held a free demonstration.

Considering the price, it was a bold move. But it did the job. Seeing what the permanent wave could do for their crowning glory, women flocked to his salon and a great business was born.

Nestle, who made about $3 million for discovering how to crimp ladies' hair, died broke in 1951.

He crimped. But obviously never scrimped.

A Montana State College study turns up the evidence that the "average woman" in America eats 160 pounds of meat, 353 eggs and 25,000 inches of spaghetti a year.

She smokes 146 packs of cigarettes and dumps 400 pounds of edible food in the garbage. Her TV set stays on five hours a day, and she speaks 4,800 words daily.

She is on the phone a total of one year out of her life.

White House Guidebook to Be Sold in Hard Cover

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House guidebook, now in its third printing, is going to be issued in a hard cover at $2.50 for those who want a more permanent volume.

The paperback guide book has sold more than 350,000 copies at $1 and a spokesman for the White House Historical Association, its publisher, said Tuesday the hard cover edition is in response to public demand.

GIs Are Santa's Helpers

BERLIN (AP) — American soldiers have set up workshops in Berlin to repair children's toys in their spare time.

The U. S. garrison has appealed for donations of old toys which can be renovated as gifts for orphans and poor children.

Spruce Up Addis Ababa for African Meeting

By WEBB MCKINLEY
ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Workmen are sprucing up Addis Ababa for a big meeting of African chiefs of state this spring. They are chipping away at streets and pounding away at buildings, and government officials are hoping that the face of the city will be well lifted by the time the African notables arrive. No matter how much they do, they can't essentially change one of the world's most colorful cities. Addis Ababa means "new flow" and the descriptions is partially true. In terms of Ethiopia's

3,000 years of independence, it is an infant. Emperor Menelik II made this his capital 76 years ago. He liked the scenery.

The city sprawls on a strange and beautiful plateau 8,000 feet above sea level, only 600 miles north of the equator. It has "little rains" in February or March and "big rains" in summer; but the climate is practically perfect. In the coldest month (December) the temperature averages 58 degrees and in the hottest month (May) 65 degrees. It is always springlike.

The capital has many new and imposing buildings, including glass and marble Africa Hall, the $2.5-million home of the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa.

PRIVATE HOUSING

Most of the 450,000 people live in white-washed cabins made of mud and wood. The cabins sprawl up and down the hills amid lovely groves of eucalyptus trees, and straggle in clusters on the main streets.

Bars seem to sprout up every four doors. No one knows how many prostitutes there are. Their cabins are as numerous as the bars. One row stretches impudently for a block, across the street from the British and Soviet embassies.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS

New and old Africa come together with a bang in Addis. A tall tribesman walks proudly along Churchill Street, past the French Academy, wearing a cloth hat, white shawl on his left shoulder and absolutely nothing else. A barefoot vendor rests for a moment on a newly installed parking meter, offering leopard skins to passersby.

Ethiopian women, fine-featured and thin-legged, are famous for their good looks. City sophisticates wear tight European clothes. Most of the Addis women cling to the traditional costume — a white shawl over a long white robe fringed at the base with brilliant colors. Many carry parasols to protect their complexions, ranging from golden to darker shades. A fly whisk of long-haired fur is optional equipment.

Old-timers among the men wear straggling bush jackets, jodhpurs and the pith helmets made famous by Emperor Haile Selassie when he fought the Italians. Most now also wear shoes. There is a great deal of hand-shaking and low bowing on the streets. When the emperor rides through town in his Rolls-Royce, diplomats are supposed to pull their cars to the side, hop out and bow as he passes.

Junior Editors Quiz on AIR

QUESTION: Why is air cool when you blow and warm when you open your mouth and breathe out?

ANSWER: One of the first things our bodies do with the air we breathe in is to warm it so it will fit our inside temperature. When Jane (A) opens her mouth wide and gently breathes out air on the back of her hand, it feels warm because her body has warmed it up.

But Billy (B) is blowing air out and this means a lot more is coming out of his mouth than out of Jane's. Billy blows this large amount of air on the back of his hand.

Our skin is covered with sweat glands whose purpose is to cool us off when necessary. This is done by perspiration forming on the skin. The air "evaporates" this perspiration, meaning, turns it into a vapor. It takes heat to make this change.

Billy has blown so much air on his hand that it is evaporating the perspiration on it. The heat needed to do the evaporating is coming from Billy's hand, and that's why it feels cooler.

FOR YOU TO DO: Go outside and wet your forefinger then hold it above you head. If there is the slightest breeze blowing, your finger will feel cool on the side facing the wind. The wind is working much the way Billy's breath does in the picture.

Regime Depends on Soviet Troops

Reich's Ulbricht Secure in Job... Now

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Whatever Nikita Khrushchev may think about East German Communist boss' Walter Ulbricht privately, publicly the goateed Ulbricht scarcely could have asked for more.

"Ulbricht is the carpenter and I am the joiner," said Khrushchev. "His friends are my friends."

So, for the moment at least, Khrushchev, arriving for the sixth congress of the East German Communist party, set to rest speculation about the future of the man who has been rumored NEWSOM ready for the Kremlin as more often than any other satellite leader yet who has outlived them all.

As the Kremlin's overseer for East Germany, Ulbricht has been somewhat less than successful either in restoring the East German economy or in winning friends for the Soviet Union.

His regime depends upon the presence of Soviet armed forces.

The Berlin wall, of which Ulbricht reportedly was a chief architect and which was designed to halt the mass outflow of refugees threatening the East German economy, also proved less than a success.

In the last year more than 12,000 East Germans risked Communist bullets to escape across it, and the economy nose-dived to even greater depths.

The potato harvest fell 43 per cent lower than in 1961, sugar beets 32 per cent, maize 37 per cent and wheat 24 per cent.

There were 46,000 fewer head of cattle and 1.3-million fewer pigs.

HAS OTHER PROBLEMS

Yet for now Ulbricht is the best that Khrushchev has, and, besides, Khrushchev had other fish to fry.

And, as he keynoted the opening of the party congress in East Berlin, Ulbricht obediently picked up his cue.

China, he said, violated the doctrine of coexistence when it attacked India without consulting or even informing its Communist allies.

China and Albania are oriented toward war, which "has become unrealistic in the settlement of any disputes... disputes must be settled through negotiation."

Berlin tensions can only be settled through the West Berlin city government, not by Bonn.

Direct negotiations must take place for creation of normal relations between East and West Germany.

There probably is not a more hated man in the whole of Germany than Ulbricht. And he scarcely would seem to be the man to carry on successful negotiations.

But it also may be that Khrushchev is playing a waiting game. West Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, an adamant foe of any settlement short of German reunification, now is a lame-duck chancellor due to retire in less than a year. Khrushchev may hope Adenauer's successor will be easier to deal with.

Or he may hope to use Cuba as a springboard for a direct settlement with the United States, bypassing not only Germany but the other Western allies as well. For the present, Ulbricht seems secure.

Persistent Doctor Gets OK to Fly Supplies Into Jungle

DETROIT (AP)—A persistent doctor, assisted by an equally determined Selfridge Air Force Base reserve unit, cut through government red tape today and got an okay to fly eight tons of medical supplies to an isolated jungle mission in Honduras.

Both the State Department and the Air Force gave their approval of the plan to help Dr. Filemon Cabansag transport the sorely needed drugs, medicines and medical equipment to his mission.

Philippine-born Dr. Cabansag, 37, was an intern and resident physician at Detroit Memorial Hospital before he founded his jungle mission over a year ago. Since then, he treated more than 10,000 natives, most of them without charge.

But, the doctor said, he found he lacked the proper materials for a fight against disease and malnutrition.

He returned to Detroit where those in the field of medicine donated surplus medicines and equipment to him. He accumulated nearly eight tons.

Then came the big problem... how to get it to the Cuya-

War Crash Victims to Be Buried in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The remains of a Muskegon, Mich., man and 10 other men who died when their B25 bomber hit a mountain in New Guinea in World War II are on the way here for burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Army said yesterday that services for Capt. Rudolph W. Johnson Jr. and his fellow crew members will be held here Feb. 27.

Capt. Johnson was the son of Rudolph W. Johnson of Muskegon. The B25 was on a ferry mission from Dabolura to Port Moresby, New Guinea, when it disappeared in February 1944.

The wreckage and remains of the crewmen were discovered in 1961 in the Owen Stanley mountain range.

Freight Train Slams Into Car, Woman Flees

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A freight train slammed into an automobile and carried it along for 60 yards before the woman driver leaped to safety Wednesday.

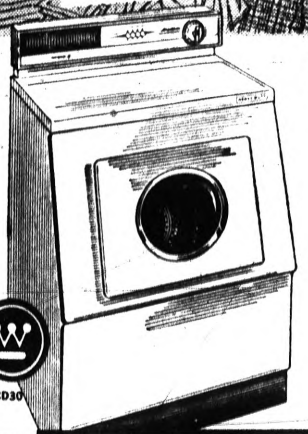

The woman, Mrs. Ronald Scooby, 20, suffered a split lip. "It's funny about that lip," she said later. "I was so shook up I think I bit it after the wreck."

Publishers Walk Out During Caucus

NY Newspaper Talks Fizzle Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stalemate between striking printers and the publishers of the city's nine major dailies sent New York's newspaper blackout into its 41st day today.

Amory H. Bradford, vice president of the New York Times and chief negotiator for the Publishers Association of New York City said as he quit the meeting: "WE'RE READY"

"We are ready to resume meetings when the union is ready to negotiate. We are always ready to meet at the call of the mediators."

In a statement issued later, the Publishers Association expressed "determination to resolve the dispute through the processes of collective bargaining."

The publishers expressed hope that Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner would intensify their efforts for a settlement.

SHOWED CONTEMPT

Bertram A. Powers, head of 3,000 striking members of Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said the publishers' walkout "defied the mediators, showed contempt for the union and a refusal to negotiate."

Powers told newsmen:

"If the union walked out at this stage, you fellows would report it as an irresponsible act and an act of defiance. I call on you to treat the publishers the same way."

Federal Mediator Stephen I. Schlossberg made no comment on the walkout, saying only that he would try to set up another joint meeting.

In Cleveland, a strike of the AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild and the independent Teamsters Union sent the city's newspaper blackout into its 49th day today. Shutdown are the Plain Dealer and the Press & News.

Representatives of the Guild and management met for 2½ hours Wednesday night in joint and separate sessions. Both sides declined to discuss whether any progress was made.

Claims Hollywood Is Out of Touch

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Helen Hayes says motion pictures are in "an era of terrible trouble" because Hollywood has lost touch with public taste.

"If Hollywood is still in the Tennessee Williams era, the rest of the country isn't," the famed stage star said Wednesday.

"Hollywood went all arty and then went into the grim, Italian phase," she said. "Now it's simply in an era of terrible trouble."

Miss Hayes is here to appear in a play.

Foiled by Car Thief

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Jessie R. Roberts almost didn't make it to impaneling ceremonies yesterday for the 1963 county grand jury, of which she is a new member. Her car was stolen.

OK Firm Plan for $100-Million New York Arena

NEW YORK (AP) — The city planning commission granted permission yesterday to Madison Square Garden, Inc., to construct a new $100-million arena on the ground level site of Pennsylvania Station.

The board of estimate also must approve the final plans and project, under the city charter.

It would be located on an 8-1-acre site, bounded by Seventh and Eighth Avenues and 31st and 33rd streets.

Part of the site would include a 35-story, twin-tower office building.

The new arena would have four levels and three promenades, including a 22,000 seat arena, a 4,000-seat amphitheater, bowling alleys and clubs.

NOW COMES THE GREATEST MONEY SAVING SALE IN OUR HISTORY!

HERE ARE REAL BARGAINS!

It's Quality as well as Low Price That Makes a Good Value!

It is well to consider just what comprises a good value and a bargain. We believe a bargain to be an unusual offering caused by an unusual event or condition in price, but not forces a reduction in quality. Because we are forced to dispose of our Winter merchandise stock during the next 15 days, you can buy quality at a sacrifice. If you are looking for money-saving bargains you will be here Friday morning at 9:30 when the doors open.

THE REASON FOR THIS BIG SALE!

Our Policy is not to carry goods over from one year to the next. Like all businessmen we are optimistic. We must buy goods in anticipation of all your needs. This fall, Christmas and winter we bought the finest nationally advertised goods for you . . . But, unforeseen record warm weather in September, October, November and December did not allow us to move sufficient amounts of warm, Winter clothing. This bitter cold weather in December actually kept buyers away from our store. Since our policy is not to carry goods over from one season to the next, we must clear out our heavy inventory in the next 15 days.

Budget Takes Three Forms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a break with tradition, President Kennedy today presented the massive and complex national budget in three different forms, each with different figures.

He emphasized for the first time the "consolidated cash budget." A more comprehensive form including a net $23.7 billion in government trust fund outlays that don't show up in the "old" budget.

They may be more confusing than enlightening at first reading but each budget form was developed to meet different needs, to present in varying degree the impact of federal activities on the economy.

Members of Congress who appropriate the money may ignore all of them. They will use still a fourth budget reflecting "new obligatory authority," or the money which must be appropriated this year.

The President's presentation this year, with its three separate budget forms, answers critics who have contended for years that the traditional federal budget was outmoded and often misleading.

Orchestrated to pay a different accounting tune, the government's activities for the next fiscal year starting July 1 come out like this: Traditional or "administrative" budget — income, $86.9 billion; outgo, $98.8 billion; deficit, $11.9 billion.

"Consolidated cash" budget — income, $112.2 billion; outgo, $122.5 billion; deficit, $10.3 billion.

"National income accounts" budget — income, $111.4 billion; outgo, $119.0 billion; deficit, $7.6 billion.

The administrative budget over the years has been the principal financial blueprint for the government. It reflects the receipts and expenditures of most of the government. But it does not include billions of dollars that pass through special trust funds.

CONSIDERS FUNDS

The consolidated cash budget, which many feel is more accurate, covers trust fund transactions for social security, the huge highway building program, unemployment benefit payments, veterans life insurance and a few other programs.

None of these trust fund transactions, although they have grown in magnitude and importance in recent years, appear in the historic administrative budget.

They are excluded from the "old" budget on the theory they are designated by law as trust funds, which are earmarked for specific purposes and financed by specific taxes (employment tax, highway taxes) which do not go through the general budget.

The consolidated budget shows a net of $25.3 billion more in income and an extra $23.7 billion in spending that is not listed in the administrative budget. Hence, it also shows $1.6 billion (B) less in red ink for next fiscal year.

COMMERCE FIGURES

The national income accounts budget measures still a third area and comes up with only a $7.6 billion deficit. Developed and prepared by the Commerce Department, it measures the direct impact fiscal activity on the nation's economy.

It is a method of estimating the current productive activity of American citizens and businesses. As such, it presents statistical aggregates, rather than accounting totals.

It records taxes as they accrue, and records purchases of goods and services by the federal government when delivery is made. In contrast, the administrative and consolidated budgets count tax receipts when collected, and count expenditures at the time of payment.

When the Commerce Department adds the outgo side of the national income accounts budget with state and local governments and all goods and services produced by the private economy, it comes up with the gross national product (GNP).

Kennedy based all of his budgets on the conservative estimate that the GNP would rise during calendar year 1963 from $554 to $578 billion — a 4 per cent national economic growth.

$9.3 Million Sought for State Rivers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today recommended a $9.3-million budget for the Army Corps of Engineers to plan, build, and operate river and harbor works in Michigan during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The funds, part of the $1,086,916,000 proposed for the engineers in fiscal 1964, include some money to be shared with other states.

One of the 28 new planning starts recommended in the budget was for Michigan — $18,000 for Muskegon Harbor, which also was earmarked to receive $30,000 in repairs.

The state also was cut in for one of the 13 new comprehensive river basin studies planned by the engineers, $100,000 study of the St. Joseph Basin in Michigan and Indiana, plus $19,000 for navigational investigation of the river.

Other projects included:

Construction: Detroit River, Trenton Channel enlargement, $1,485,000; Great Lakes connecting channels, $800,000; Ludington Harbor, $150,000; Manistee Harbor, $300,000; Menominee Harbor and River, Michigan and Wisconsin, $400,000; New Poe Lock, St. Marys River, $242,000; Saginaw River, $600,000.

Advance engineering and design: Charlevoix Harbor, $30,000; Muskegon Harbor, $48,000; River Rouge, $200,000.

General investigations: Clinton River, $25,000; Detroit River, Trenton Channel, $10,000; Grand River, $200,000; Great Lakes water levels, (Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin), $40,000; Huron River $35,000; Lake Erie coast, Mich., $35,000; Lake Erie coast, Mich., and Ohio, $20,300; Les Cheneaux Channel, $8,500; Manistique and Indian rivers, $30,000; Lake Huron shore, $25,000; Tittabawassee River, $5,000.

The budget also included $4,528,000 for maintenance of present works, ranging from $2,450,000 for St. Marys river to $20,000 for Charlevoix Harbor.

3 East Germans Escape Through Barbed Wire

BERLIN (AP) — Three East Germans escaped into West Berlin early today through the triple row of barbed wire on the city's western border.

West Berlin police said they were not noticed by Communist guards and therefore no details of their escape were revealed.

BUDGET DOLLAR — This chart shows where the budget dollar will come from and how it will be spent under President Kennedy's budget for the fiscal year 1964, beginning July 1. The President proposed an unprecedented $98.8-billion budget.

JFK Aims for July 1 as Date for Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Next July 1 is President Kennedy's new target for personal income tax cuts starting his three-year, $13.5-billion tax reduction program, his budget message indicated today.

The retreat from Kennedy's original hope of cuts retroactive to Jan. 1 apparently was forced by the go slow reaction of key members of Congress. They dislike the towering deficit that goes along with Kennedy's record $98.8-billion spending schedule.

The legislators' caution, combined with the sheer work load of writing perhaps the most sweeping tax overhaul in history, could result in an even later starting date. Some members of Congress want to wait until Jan. 1, 1964.

That is the date on which Kennedy proposes to begin the second stage of his program — corporation rate cuts, further individual rate reductions, and some of the "reforms" which are supposed to recoup $3.5 billion of the lost revenues.

Such a six-month delay would reduce the near-record deficit of $11.9 billion which the President foresees for fiscal 1964, the government year which starts next July 1.

But some government economists fear that, in the meantime, the slow advance of the economy may stall. Kennedy hinted at this possibility; he gave warning that a business slowdown would mean shrinking revenues.

Nowhere in the message did he state that July 1 is now his target for tax relief. But it was clearly implied in the projected budget estimates, as well as in the omission of any reference to the old Jan. 1 date. Kennedy said merely that some cuts "would start in the calendar year 1963." The budget assumed very modest business gains this year. Its forecast of $86.9 billion of tax collections was based on an estimated national output of $578 billion. This would be only a $24-billion increase from 1962, smaller than the disappointing gains of the past year.

Personal income will increase $19 billion from last year to a 1963 total of $459 billion, the message predicted, and corporation profits will advance by $2.1 billion to $53 billion.

The production, income and profits estimates are all potential records. But the rate of advance would hardly be sufficient, according to government economists, to prevent further increases in unemployment. They would fall far short of generating enough revenues to balance the budget in any year of the near future.

Kennedy blamed the nation's slow economic growth in part on "the restraining effects of the tax system." Tax reduction now will bring budget surpluses in the future, he argued.

"This issue must be faced squarely," the President went on. "Our present choice is not between a tax cut and a balanced budget."

"The choice, rather, is between chronic deficits arising out of a slow rate of economic growth, and temporary deficits stemming from a tax program designed to promote fuller use of our resources and more rapid economic growth."

$4.2 Billion Sought for Space Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A big boost in spending for the U.S. space agency was recommended today by President Kennedy to blaze a trail for American landing on the moon by this decade's end and put more hustle in the space race.

He asked Congress to approve $4.2 billion for fiscal 1964 — $1.8 billion more than in 1963 and more than triple the amount spent in 1962.

Said Kennedy: "The space programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will continue to expand as this nation strives to maintain a position of world leadership in the exploration and utilization of space."

In addition, the administration sought Congress' okay for $184,880,000 spending by the Atomic Energy Commission for space projects — an increase of some $40.4 million over this year. This would cover a stepped-up effort to develop nuclear powered rockets and advanced devices for supplying communications and other satellites with auxiliary nuclear power.

Thus, for all space projects by the two agencies, the administration sought approval for spending $4,384,880,000 in the coming fiscal year, compared with $2,544,449,000 in the current one.

In his budget message to Congress, Kennedy noted that defense, spending and the growth in the space program had accounted for the major part of the increase in the budget since his administration took office. Of space program, he said:

"The accelerated programs for the exploration and use of outer space moved ahead vigorously during the past year, and further significant advances are anticipated in the year ahead."

This budget provides for an increase of $2 billion in appropriations for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to proceed with the top priority manned lunar landing program and with its side range of programs of scientific investigation and development of useful applications such as communication and meteorological satellites."

The President added that efforts are being concentrated on the continued development of the complex Apollo spacecraft — the vehicle slated for the lunar mission — and the giant advanced Saturn rocket needed to boost the Apollo to the moon.

LOOKS AHEAD
He also said the budget provides for strong research efforts aimed at developing the technology needed for advanced space missions "including future manned space flight and unmanned explorations of Venus and Mars."

Declaring the recent Mariner fly-by of the planet Venus proves U.S. progress in unmanned space investigations, the President said that during the coming fiscal year, the development of geophysical, astronomical, meteorological and communications satellites would also continue.

Kennedy recommended spending $2,713,000,000 for manned space flight, compared with an estimated $1,376,000,000 for the current year, and $547 million in fiscal 1962.

For unmanned investigations of space spending of $593 million is asked, compared with $441 million this year.

Kennedy gave top priority to "the vast effort required for a manned lunar landing."

"Funds during the current and coming years," the budget explanation added, "provide for experiments with Gemini flights — the two-man spacecraft for earth orbital flights which is the next step after the Mercury program — for continuing development of the Apollo spacecraft, and for beginning the development of the lunar excursion module."

The module is the craft which is being designed to carry the explorers from the Apollo to the moon's surface.

JFK Wants Expansion of Health Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy told Congress today that he has broadened his program of health insurance for persons over 65 to cover those ineligible for Social Security benefits.

His original "medicare" plan — stalled in Congress for the past two years — was to have been financed entirely by higher Social Security and Railroad Retirement taxes. Benefits would have been limited to persons covered by those programs.

Kennedy said in his budget message that he now wants to tap the Treasury to finance benefits for other persons 65 and older.

Although the President's $10-billion tax-cut program is his No. 1 legislative goal, the health insurance program has high priority. The White House has high hopes it will be enacted by 1964.

Kennedy gave no estimate of the cost to the Treasury of his new approach. Even if enacted this year, the program would not start until Jan. 1, 1965. Thus, it could not affect his new budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The new program was modeled after the Javits-Anderson compromise which the administration supported and the Senate rejected 52 to 48 last year.

The defeated plan would have covered all but 400,000 of the estimated 18 million persons who will be 65 or older on Jan. 1, 1964.

Its sponsors estimated at $250 million the first-year cost to the Treasury of "blanketing in" some 2,500,000 of the persons not eligible under Kennedy's original plan.

Asks $70 Million for Cuban Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for $70 million to help Cuban refugees who have settled in the United States and those who may flee Cuba in the future.

The refugees include the men taken prisoners in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion and released by Fidel Castro in exchange for medical goods at Christmas.

Although many of the refugees have settled in all parts of the country, the majority remain concentrated in the Miami, Fla., area.

The money requested by the President was $100,000 less than granted by Congress for fiscal 1963.

Alarm Shows Through Speech by Khrushchev

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
BERLIN—The world Communist movement is in trouble and its leaders are alarmed. The current congress of Communist leaders in East Berlin can only widen the rift between Peking and Moscow.

The alarm showed through Premier Khrushchev's major speech Wednesday. His bombast, his brandishing of nuclear might, his boasts of coming Soviet superiority, all seemed just to be window dressing.

What frightens the Communists? It is the prospect of polarization

Announce Hearings on Insurance Rates

LANSING (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn announced public hearings on proposed new rate increases for Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Feb. 8 in Grand Rapids.

Colburn said the hearings will be open to "all interested groups and individuals," and asked that persons wishing to be heard contact his office in advance.

The Blue plans asked Monday for permission to increase their rates an average of 27 per cent, a move that would bring in some $70 million over the next two years.

of authority — two Communist seats of power instead of one, that course might bring the world movement ripped apart.

Even Fidel Castro, the newest addition to the ranks of Red leaders, seems to be leaning in the direction of the Chinese deviation these days. He could influence many a Latin-American Communist to do likewise.

Castro, annoyed since Khrushchev suddenly yanked away his hope for nuclear weapons in October, chose the day of Khrushchev's big speech to denounce the Communist division and issue a fiery call to revolution all over Latin America. His attitude had a Chinese sound.

Castro likely is not alone in his impatience. Khrushchev's cautious policy, while it may be good for the Soviet Union, leaves many a Communist party out on a limb, looking forward to long years of serving Soviet interests without concrete rewards. The more reckless, belligerent Chinese policy likely would suit many in the world movement much better.

But Premier Khrushchev told the Chinese Communists Wednesday that if they will not listen to his logic, they will have to go their own way. From the looks on the faces of the Red Chinese delegation, Peking might consider doing just that.

Khrushchev rejected Peking's idea of a meeting of world Red leaders on Chinese terms. If the Chinese want to talk about ending the dispute, says Khrushchev, they first must stop the name-calling in public. It has been going on for a long time now and is rising in violence.

Khrushchev accused the Chinese of wanting to spread communism by war, without regard for the widespread destruction are other ways, says the Soviet leader, and there should not be a resort to arms even in a revolutionary movement if the seizure of power can be achieved less riskily.

The Chinese don't agree that both sides will suffer catastrophe in nuclear war. There are three quarters of a billion Chinese; Mao Tze-tung contends plenty of them will be left after the United States and the U.S.S.R. toss bombs back and forth.

K PLEADS, THREATENS

Khrushchev was both pleading and threatening.

The Soviet leader does not want to see world communism weakened by an irreparable schism. If it is possible, he undoubtedly would like to see the argument patched up. But perhaps the Red Chinese want too much.

One of the things Mao seems to want is Khrushchev's head. The Chinese leader appears to have made up his mind that it is impossible for him to live with Khrushchev, that the rift will continue until an aggressive-minded Communist takes the Soviet reins.

Mao has been annoyed with Khrushchev's regime for some years. There has been irritation in Peking at the ingenuity of Soviet economic help for Red China and Soviet reluctance to sponsor Peking's membership in the nuclear club, to say nothing of Soviet aid to India and other governments the Chinese consider "reactionary."

This is primarily a rift between Rehabilitation Required When You Kick 'the Habit'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anyone who quits smoking must go through a readjustment period that is likely to present certain difficulties.

With me, these took the form of dart throwing and an abortive attempt to grow a beard.

But by and large I have had it easy compared to the experience of a young lady in Pensacola, Fla., with whom I have been in correspondence.

Miss Wireless writes that until a few months ago she not only was a confirmed cigarette smoker but also had a habit of chewing her fingernails.

This is a dangerous combination, owing to the fact that a smoker who sticks a finger in his or her mouth is apt to put a match to it by mistake.

Recognizing that she was a potential fire hazard, Miss Wireless resolved to kick the nicotine habit, which led to rather unexpected results.

"When I quit smoking," Miss Wireless reports, "I became befuddled, confused, dim-witted. At first, it was difficult to remember what I had stopped. So, by accident, I stopped biting my nails at the same time."

One might think that congratulations were in order for ridding herself of two bad habits, but Miss Wireless views it as a mixed blessing.

"I now have long, unshapely claws that constantly require attention. I rip my hose, I hit the wrong letters on the typewriter and I go around tapping on tables all day.

"I never had any trouble picking up pins when I had no nails. Now I'm having to be rehabilitated and learn how to use the instruments."

"I wake up scratched and bleeding every morning, and I've developed the dreadful habit of blowing on my nails and shining them on my collar."

Miss Wireless certainly has a problem there and, as a fellow ex-smoker, I would like to help if I can. My suggestion is that since she doesn't use cigarettes any more she should bite the filters off and impale them on the ends of her nails.

This would make her the only girl in Pensacola with filtered fingertips.

Judge Rules Against Cuban

Decides U.N. Delegate Must Stand Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge ruled yesterday that a member of the Cuban United Nations mission does not automatically have diplomatic immunity and must stand trial for conspiring to commit sabotage in the United States.

In a decision with possible far-reaching implications, Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld said diplomatic status with the United Nations does not automatically confer diplomatic status with the government of the United States.

The ruling came in the case of Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 28, charged along with two others with conspiracy to commit sabotage and with conspiring to violate the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

Santiesteban, confined to the Federal House of Detention in lieu of $50,000 bail, has not yet pleaded to the indictment. He contended he gained diplomatic immunity on entering the United States to take up duties as a member of the Cuban U.N. mission.

Santiesteban entered this country last Oct. 3 and was arrested with two other men on the sabotage charges Nov. 16.

Weinfeld ruled that in granting Santiesteban a visa and landing permit, the U.S. government did not agree that on entering this country to assume duties with the Cuban U.N. mission he was thereby entitled to diplomatic immunity.

Asks New Department to Study Urban Affairs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today renewed his request for a new Cabinet department to work on the problems of city dwellers.

The President urged creation of a Department of Urban Affairs in his budget message, along with requests for a $500-million, three-year program of assistance to mass transit systems.

January 17th Is Detroit Edison's Sixtieth Birthday

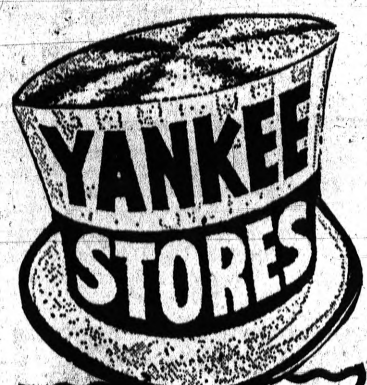

Ever since 1903 . . . for all of the sixty years of our company's corporate life . . . people like those pictured here have enjoyed the responsibility of serving people like you.

You can find your Edison man (or, in one case, a woman) on this map near the place where you live. He is one of the managers of the 10 districts and 51 customer offices outside of Detroit. And, of course, he's only one of many Edison men—and women—who serve you. Also essential are the linemen, the power plant and substation operators, the meter men, the appliance servicemen, the engineers, the builders and planners and clerks and record-keepers—each and every one of the 9,500 men and women of Detroit Edison.

Like the neighborhood people shown here, all of Edison's people throughout the communities of Southeastern Michigan are doing their best to help you to live better and better . . . electrically.

JFK to Name Dem as Board Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced yesterday his intention to appoint former Rep. Frank Kowalski, a Connecticut Democrat, as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Kowalski, 56, was elected congressman-at-large from Connecticut in 1958 and re-elected in 1960. Last year, he sought the Democratic nomination for the Senate but the party convention chose Abraham Ribicoff who won the Senate seat in the election.

Kowalski would succeed Thomas J. Donegan, whose term on the Subversive Activities Control Board has expired. The position pays $20,000 a year. Kowalski's term would end April 9, 1967.

CHAMPS — "The Curbstone Serenaders" representing the Pontiac Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., (SPEBSQA), are the newly crowned

Singers to Appear at PNH Feb. 16

Barbershoppers Headed Here

A select group of talented people will travel an estimated 5,700 miles Feb. 16 just so they can sing some barbershop ballads at Pontiac Northern High School.

Singing groups will come from throughout the Midwest to appear at the 20th annual Holiday of Harmony show, sponsored by the Pontiac Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (SPEBSQA).

The program is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

This year's show holds a special significance for local members.

Among the headline attractions will be "The Curbstone Serenaders," of the Pontiac Chapter, who are currently Michigan district champions.

The state's top quartet is made up of Clifford Douglas of 479 Omar St., bass; Thomas Rafferty of 1967 Alpha St., Union Lake Village, baritone; Edward Lilly of 1291 N. Bywood St., Clawson, lead; and Robert Marshall of 1728 Cresthill St., Royal Oak, tenor.

Also to be featured are the "Club House Four," from Louisville, Ky., the Indiana-Kentucky district champs.

Others include the 1961 Michigan titlists, "The Aire-Males," from Dearborn; "The Cracker

Jills," former international champion women's quartette from Farmington; "The Village from the Pontiac chapter the "Resonaires" and a barbershop chorus "The Revelaires."

Claim Sophia Loren Violated Canon Law

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Vicariat of Rome said yesterday Church canon law was violated by Sophia Loren appearing as godmother at the christening of her sister's daughter.

The actress' sister, Maria, is the wife of Romano Mussolini, popular jazz pianist son of the late dictator Benito Mussolini.

Bigamy charges are pending against Miss Loren for her marriage to movie producer Carlo Ponti. They were wed by proxy in Mexico in 1957 after Ponti obtained a Mexican divorce from his first wife. The divorce is not recognized in Italy.

The whale has a gestation period of 10 months.

U. of M. Behavior Expert Delegate to U.N. Parley

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dr. Hollis W. Peter, director of the Foundation for Research on Human Behavior, housed at the University of Michigan, has been named a U.S. delegate to the United Nations Conference on the Application of Science and Technology for the Benefit of Less Developed Areas. The conference will be held Feb. 4-20 in Geneva.

JFK May Expand Italian Trip

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats speculated today that President Kennedy's trip to Italy might be expanded to include some other European countries.

The White House announced Wednesday that Kennedy had accepted an invitation from Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani to visit Italy this year. The date is yet to be determined.

Administration officials said that the President plans to go only to Italy and there is no plan for him to visit anywhere else.

However, Western diplomats said it would be surprising if disclosure of the visit to Rome did not bring feelers from other European capitals for a Kennedy stop while he is in Europe.

2 POSSIBILITIES

Principal interest in diplomatic quarters focused on two possibilities:

1. That Kennedy might see French President Charles de Gaulle for a discussion of the split between France and the United States as well as other North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations over the formation of an allied nuclear striking force.

2. That a meeting might be arranged between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev for an informal talk on East-West problems. It has been about a year and a half since Kennedy and Khrushchev met.

Kennedy went to Europe in May 1961, a few months after taking office, primarily for talks with De Gaulle. His trip was extended to Vienna for a meeting with Khrushchev and on the way home in early June he stopped over in London.

The last president to visit Rome was Dwight D. Eisenhower who called at the Italian capital in December 1959, at the outset of an 11-nation tour of Europe, Asia and Africa. On that occasion Eisenhower had a 27-minute audience with Pope John XXIII. Vatican sources speculated that Kennedy would also have an audience with the Pope while in Rome.

All details of the Kennedy trip to Italy remain to be worked out. The invitation by Fanfani was extended on behalf of himself and Italian President Antonio Segni. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the date for the trip will be decided in further consultation between the U.S. and Italian governments.

Calls Constitution a 'Grand Mistake'

DETROIT (AP) — John J. (Joe) Collins, Democratic state chairman, assailed Michigan's proposed new constitution last night as a "grand mistake."

Collins called for voters to reject the proposed document at the April election.

He said it "had been hacked up so thoroughly for purely partisan reasons by the Republicans that it would be almost impossible to operate under it."

Collins told the first district convention: "The more of that proposed document you read, the more inherently dangerous to Democratic government it proves to be."

New Regime Sets Up Togo Government

LOME, Togo (AP) — Premier Nicolas Grunitsky presented a six-man provisional government to the Togo National Assembly today.

The provisional cabinet, named to replace the regime overthrown in Sunday's coup d'etat, will rule Togo until new elections are held. No election date was set, but Grunitsky said it would be soon.

The provisional government, a coalition, was installed at the request of the nine-man that which took power after the coup in year.

which President Sylvanus Olympio was slain.

Sgt. Emmanuel Bodjolle, leader of the junta of former colonial noncommissioned officers, declined the post of defense minister in the cabinet, saying his "insurrectional committee" had decided to remain out of politics.

Bodjolle said he would remain associated with the government to reorganize Togo's army. He said he planned to increase the 200-man army to full battalion strength of some 800 men.

Bob Kennedy to Argue 1st Case in Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert E. Kennedy starts his courtroom career today—at the top.

In his first argument in any court, the 37-year-old brother of the President asks the nation's highest tribunal to declare unconstitutional Georgia's county unit system for Democratic primaries.

The case is the first of its kind to go before the high court since it held last March in a far-reaching opinion that federal courts have the power to decide complaints about arbitrary apportionment of state legislatures.

The attorney general has been granted 30 minutes to explain the government's contention that Georgia's system "systematically and grossly discriminates" against voters in metropolitan areas and favors those in rural counties.

HAS BEEN SPECTATOR

Admitted to practice before the Supreme Court in 1955, Kennedy has been in its marble chamber several times as a spectator. But he never argued a case before a justice or a judge of any other court.

At the start of today's session he is sponsoring the swearing in of his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, as he is admitted to practice before the high court. A large gallery of Kennedy relatives planned to be on hand, including their mother, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy; the attorney general's wife, Ethel, and four of their children, and two Kennedy sisters, Mrs. Sargent Shriver and Mrs. Stephen Smith.

It has been traditional for attorneys general to argue at least one case before the Supreme Court during their term of office. It also has been traditional that Supreme Court justices show their respect for the government's chief law officer by not interrupting his presentation too much.

To be decided by the nine justices is an appeal by the Democratic party of Georgia from an April 28 decision by a three-judge federal court in Atlanta. The decision was that the existing county unit system caused "invidious discrimination" against urban voters.

ENJOINED PARTY

The Atlanta court enjoined the party from using the system. As a result, nominations for state-wide offices in the party primary of last Sept. 12 were by popular vote.

In its decision last March in a landmark Tennessee case, the Supreme Court did not touch the matter of standards to apply for proper apportionment. The Georgia case thus gives the justices their first chance to consider that question, but if Justice Department advice is followed the trial will not now lay down broad standards to be observed by all states.

B. D. Murphy and E. Freeman Leverett, deputy assistant attorneys general of Georgia, prepared to argue that there is no constitutional basis for asserting that voting equality must exist in a general election, "much less in a party primary."

Under the unit system, the winner of the popular vote in each Georgia county gets its unit vote. The candidate with the most units wins the primary. James O'Hear Sanders, chairman of an Atlanta organization called "Active Voters," and others complain that the units are assigned so that urban areas get less than their population weight.

Highway Land to Be Auctioned

County Parcels to Be Sold on Jan. 31

Eight parcels of State Highway Department surplus land in Oakland County, valued at $29,925, will be offered for sale at a public auction in Mount Clemens Jan. 31.

Minimum prices ranging from $225 to $15,000 have been set for the county properties.

Four other parcels—three in Macomb County and one in St. Clair County—with minimum prices totaling $37,300 also will be sold.

The sale will be held at 2 p.m. at the County Service Center, Health Department Building Auditorium, Elizabeth Road and M97, Mount Clemens.

Appointments to inspect any of the parcels may be made with J. J. Holcica, State Highway Department, 926 Featherstone Road, Pontiac.

PARCELS, PRICES

The Oakland County parcels and their minimum prices are: A ½-acre lot, zoned commercial, on Orchard Lake Road between old and new Telegraph roads, $15,000.

Four vacant lots, zoned commercial and light manufacturing, on Eight Mile Road in Southfield, $3,000 each; two at Poinciana Avenue, one each at Seminole and Negaunee avenues.

A 1½-acre parcel at the intersection of M24 and new M24 about a mile north of Lake Orion, $1,800.

A vacant, landlocked, one-acre parcel on the Michigan Central Railroad just north of Grandview Street in Lake Orion, $225.

Charges Tear GOP Party in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Factional strife in California's Republican party erupted again Wednesday night with charges that the state central committee chairman, Caspar Weinberger, is rigging the state for a liberal push in 1964.

Weinberger denied the charges, made in Arcadia, Calif., a Los Angeles suburb, by Bruce Reagan, a former State Assemblyman.

California GOP leaders, including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, are setting up now to back New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as the GOP presidential standard bearer in 1964.

The liberal wing of the GOP controls the party in California, and conservative leaders are being removed from party posts. Reagan charged adding Weinberger is responsible for this blacklisting.

Weinberger called the charges "absolutely false." "It is too early now to back anyone for 1964," he said. "We are not blacklisting anyone. We need more people in the party. We have got to get bigger if we are going to win."

Everybody's Coming Back

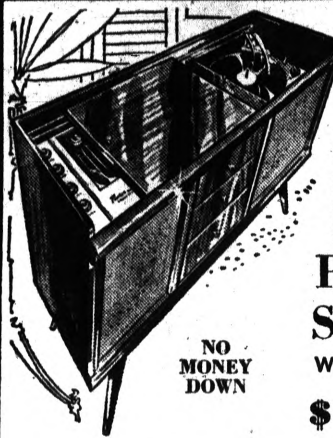

Motorist Is Little Late

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—City officials have recently reversed the one-way traffic flow on Ninth Street, and one motorist recently turned in the wrong way at the start of rush hour.

"Where do you think you're going?" a policeman asked. "Wherever it was, I'm late," said the motorist. "It looks like everybody is coming back."

Curried Pot Roast Is Variation on Old Theme

More of the same — with a difference! Sometimes that is the puzzling problem a homemaker faces when she wants to give her family their favorite meat dishes often, yet avoid monotony in her menus.

For instance, there is the excellent standby, beef pot-roast. A pot-roast is a wise choice from the standpoint of economy and of the food value it contains. And it is easy to give this meat dish variety through the diversity of vegetables, herbs and spices cooked with it.

Among the cuts suitable for pot-roasts are those from the chuck — the blade and arm cuts — as well as some of the boneless ones. The blade contains portions of the rib and blade bones. The arm pot-roast is distinguished by the round bone and cross section of 3 to 5 ribs.

Seasoning a pot-roast with curry powder gives a subtly different flavor. Combine 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon curry powder.

Dredge the pot-roast with seasoned flour and brown in 3 tablespoons lard or drippings. Pour off drippings.

Add ½ cup water, cover tightly and simmer 2½ hours. Add 2 stalks celery, cut in 1-inch pieces, 12 small onions and 1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans. Cover and continue cooking until the meat is tender and the vegetables done, about 45 minutes.

Remove the meat and vegetables to a serving platter. Measure cooking liquid and add enough water to make 2 cups. Thicken the liquid with ¼ cup flour for gravy.

Sweet Crisp Cookies Never See An Oven

Crisp, delicious no-bake cookies are a snap to make, the newest fad for teen parties. To make Butterchocs, combine and melt over hot (not boiling) water one 6-ounce package (1 cup) each of semi-sweet chocolate morsels and butterscotch morsels. Stir in one 3-ounce can chow mein noodles and 1 cup peanuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on waxed paper-lined cookie sheet and chill. Yield: 3½ dozen.

Spicy Apples Serve as Relish, Dessert

Serve these apples with a meat course, or offer them as dessert with a custard sauce. Either way they're delicious.

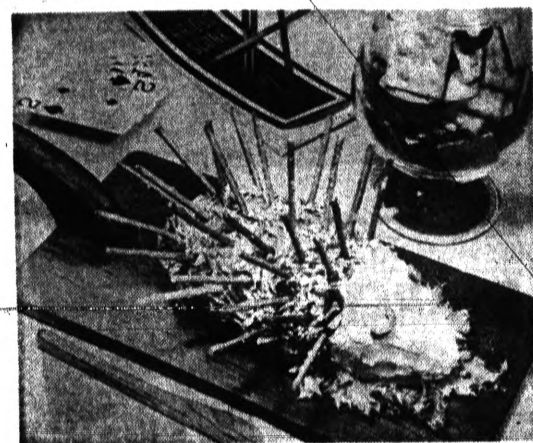

Clove Apples
2 pounds medium-sized cooking apples
8 whole cloves
1 cup light corn syrup

Core, pare and quarter apples; slice each quarter into thirds. In a saucepan, bring the apples, cloves and corn syrup to a boil. Simmer, uncovered, until apples lose their opaque look and are tender—15 to 20 minutes.

Some of the slices will retain their shape. Remove cloves, if you like, before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Shrimp Topped Eggs

Special deviled eggs: chop cooked shrimp and add to the mashed and seasoned yolk mixture. Garnish each egg half with a whole shrimp.

SNACK TIME — A devilicious porcupine spread is spiny and spicy with deviled ham, cream cheese and caraway seeds molded and stuck with crisp pretzel sticks for an unusual looking, savory tasting party dish.

Cheese Porcupine Is Amusing and Flavorful

Ever seen a devilicious porcupine — or, better yet, TASTED one? Well, you can serve this "spiny" spicy spread right on your own party table! Simply combine a mixture of deviled minced onion and caraway seeds. Mold into an oval shape and coat with cream cheese.

The "body" is then sprinkled with crushed pretzels and crisp pretzel sticks are stuck in to make the "spines." Olive slices are cut in half to make the "eyes" and the edible little fellow lies in a bed of fresh chichory.

Teen-agers will think it looks real wild — and the grownups will love its unusual caraway seed flavor. Try it next time you're planning a party. It's fun and different — easy to do, too!

Devilicious Porcupine Spread
1 8-oz. package cream cheese

2 4½-oz. cans deviled ham
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 3-oz. package cream cheese
½ cup crushed pretzel sticks
Thin pretzel sticks

Combine 8-oz. package cream cheese, deviled ham, onion and caraway seeds. Chill.

To form porcupine, mold mixture into oval shape about 8 inches long, one end being pointed to form "head." Soften 3-oz. package cream cheese with milk and spread over entire porcupine. Beginning at round end, cover ¼ porcupine with crushed pretzels. Chill.

Just before serving insert pretzel sticks in crumb covered portion. For eyes use olive slices cut in half. Serve with assorted crackers.

Odd Combination Is Sandwich Spread

An open-face luncheon sandwich, made with sardines, that has good flavor and appearance.

Openface Sardine Sandwiches
1 can (3½ ounces) brisling sardines
2 small carrots
½ cup minced parsley
1 teaspoon minced onion
1-3 cup mayonnaise
6 slices bread

With a fork, lift the sardines from the oil into a bowl; mash fine. Pare the carrots and cut off tops and root ends; finely grate one of the carrots over the sardines; grate the other onto waxed paper and reserve. Mash the sardine-carrot mixture with ¼ cup of the parsley, the onion and mayonnaise.

Toast the bread and spread one side of each slice with the sardine mixture; sprinkle with the reserved grated carrot and the remaining ¼ cup minced parsley. Cut each slice into 2 triangles. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Wee Nut Pastry Will Keep in Closed Tin

A dessert that has an interesting flavor reminiscent of the Armenian cuisine.

Walnut Pastries
2 cups finely knife-chopped walnuts
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
¼ cup honey
2 tablespoons butter or margarine (soft)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Rich pie dough

Mix together the walnuts, sugar, honey, butter and cinnamon. Roll out pie dough ¼-inch thick and cut into 14 four-inch squares with a pastry wheel.

Divide the filling among the pastry squares—about 2 tablespoons placed in the center of each. Brush edges of pastry with cold water. Turn up points of each square so they meet in center; lightly press edges together.

Bake on a cookie sheet in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 10 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool.

Makes 14 pastries; any leftover may be stored in a tightly covered container at room temperature.

Baked Pears Can Conclude Breakfast

Turn the menu about! Serve fruit at the end of this brunch instead of at the beginning.

Breakfast Pears
1 cup canned blended orange and grapefruit juice (unsweetened)
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
6 pears

Membrane-free sections from 1 or more large oranges

In a shallow 2-quart baking dish (about 12 by 8 by 2 inches) stir together the fruit juice, sugar and orange rind until sugar dissolves. Pare pears; halve; remove seeds with ball cutter or ¼ teaspoon measuring spoon; cut away stem structure.

Prepare one pear at a time and as you do so, place in fruit juice mixture in baking dish, spooning juice over pears to keep from discoloring. Cover dish tightly with foil.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes, until pears are tender. Garnish by arranging orange sections in pear cavities.

Eating at School

They Need Warm Food for Lunch

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

What are you sending to school in the lunch box these chilly days? We hope there is something hot in a vacuum bottle if your child can't get soup or a warm meal at school.

Wide-mouth vacuum bottles — unbreakable vacuum bottles — short stubby ones, or the conventional taller ones; they're all meant to help you send tempting hot foods with your scholar.

If you have had soup for a meal at home, heat some the next morning and include it in your youngsters' lunch. The following recipe for Vegetable Chowder is a good one to try.

Vegetable Chowder

3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup chopped onion
1 cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Fruit Cabbage Salad
Bright With Berries

Here's a colorful salad that makes the most of the in-season crisp fresh red apples and cranberries. Combine 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup chopped raw cranberries and 1 cup chopped red Delicious apple.

Combine ½ cup mayonnaise, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons lemon juice in small bowl. Pour over apple-cranberry-cabbage mixture and toss lightly with two forks until well mixed. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

2½ cups milk
1 package (10 ounce) frozen lima beans, cooked (1½ cups cooked)
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained
1 can (1 pound) cream style corn
Melt butter. Add onion and celery; saute until onion is soft.

but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add beans, tomatoes and corn; heat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Instead of soup you might send Spiced Hot Chocolate Milk in your child's lunch box. Made with nonfat dry milk, it will be a welcome change from just plain milk.

Spiced Hot Chocolate Milk

2 cups reliquefied instant nonfat dry milk crystals (according to package directions)
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate

3 tablespoons sugar
Dash cloves
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Combine reliquefied instant crystals, chocolate, and sugar in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate melts. Add cloves and vanilla; beat until well blended. Pour into 2-cup vacuum bottle.

For that sweet treat you usually include in a school lunch you might try Hermits. Most of the recipes for this spicy, old-fashioned cookie direct you to drop the cookie batter by spoonful. Below is a quicker version to be made in a long pan and cut into squares after baking.

Hermits, incidentally, used to go to sea with New England fishermen. Because they kept so well they were packed in sea chests.

Hermits

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
½ cup unsulphured molasses

2 eggs
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
¾ cup raisins
½ cup chopped nuts
Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add molasses and eggs; beat well. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda, baking powder and spices; stir in raisins and nuts. Add to molasses mixture; blend well. Spread evenly in greased 12x8x2 inch baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. If desired, spread with thin frosting while warm. Cool; cut into squares. Yield: 2 dozen Hermits.

Oatmeal Cookie Made Without a Bit of Flour

Crisp texture and delicate flavor distinguish a favorite oatmeal cookie.

Martha's Oatmeal Cookies

2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
¾ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup salad oil
1 egg
½ cup chopped pecans (medium fine)

In a mixing bowl stir together the rolled oats, sugar, lemon rind and salt. Add oil; mix well; cover tightly; refrigerate overnight.

The next day, beat egg until thick and ivory-colored; fold into oats mixture with pecans. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls, 1 inch apart onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 15 minutes.

Remove at once with wide spatula to wire rack; cool. If any cookies are hard to remove, return them on cookie sheet to oven for a few seconds and then take off cookie sheet right away. Makes about 4 dozen.

Count on having about 1½ cups of sauce from a pound of apples.

Meat Thermometer

Necessary With Pork

Attention to time and temperature is more important in cooking pork than for any other meat. According to Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, fresh pork is one when all traces of pink color have disappeared.

If you use a meat thermometer or an automatic meat probe, insert it in the middle of the thickest part of the roast and cook until the thermometer registers 185 degrees F. The GAMA consultant recommends an oven temperature of 325 degrees.

Gets U. of M. Pact for Research Ship

ESCANABA (U) — The Great Lakes Research Division of the Institute of Science and Technology of the University of Michigan has awarded a $75,000 contract to the T. D. Vinette Co. for construction of a Great Lakes laboratory research vessel.

The ship, to be ready in early summer, will be 50 feet long with a 15-foot 8-inch beam.

It will be specially equipped with electronic gear for the taking of water samples for chemical, physical, biological and meteorological observation.

The vessel will be used in the research division's continuing study of Great Lakes problems.

Tommy Sands Back in U.S. With TV Pilot

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD — "Nobody ever had a faster rise and a faster drop in show business," said Tommy Sands, looking back from the wisdom of his 25 years.

The good-looking singer is back on these shores after a two-year absence. He came to make a television film called "All Ashore," which will be an Alcoa Theater spinoff — that's a trade talk for a series segment that is used as a prospect for a future series.

If the pilot sells, and Revue has high hopes that it will, Sands and his wife, the former Nancy Sinatra, will be moving back to Hollywood. If not, they'll stay on in New York.

As he finished making the film, Tommy reflected on his past glories and future hopes.

"Did I make any mistakes? Sure, lots of them. Boy, how I would have done things differently!"

THOMAS

"But who knows? — everything might have turned out exactly the same. I might have gone up and gone right down again. Maybe that's the way it was meant to be."

TOP TO BOTTOM

"I quit school and came out here when I was 18. What I really wanted to do was to go New York and study. But suddenly I fell into things and before I knew it, I was a big name. I hit it big for 5½ years, then the bottom fell out."

Sands' fame was based on an enormous but fickle teen-age following. When that disappeared, he was faced with the problem of stable foundation. After his marriage to Nancy, he abandoned his Hollywood haunts and went to New York. He figures he earned $300,000 a year at his peak, collected no more than $5,000 in 1962.

"But you know something — we live very well on it," he said. "We've got a one-room apartment on 55th Street that we fixed up real nice. It's under rent control, so we aren't paying a fortune for it. We do a lot of traveling and that's not expensive — not the way we do it. We go to the out-of-the-way hotels and restaurants in Europe, which are more fun, anyway."

"I'm happier now than I have ever been. I'm doing the things I want to do, and that's important. I've been studying acting with Lee Strasberg for two years, so I could get to know what I can do: I know now, and I'm ready to work."

If the series sells, he'll have his work cut out for him. He would play a restless young man who travels the world by freighter with buddy Chris Robinson; it's kind of a wet "Route 66."

Part of Tommy's declaration of independence two years ago was to turn his back on his recording contract — "I got tired of doing songs I didn't like." The deal has now expired and he starts recording soon with ABC-Paramount.

Wife Nancy has recorded for father Frank's firm, Reprise (Tommy declined any such nepotism). Asked if she intends to do some work, he said: "I don't know; I haven't asked her. If she wants to and it makes her happy, fine. We only do what we want to do."

High Court Judge Rejects Party Aid

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Supreme Court Justice Eugene Black yesterday declared he will be a candidate for re-election to another eight-year term in April and vowed he will campaign without party support or funds.

Black, long a critic of the system by which nonpartisan candidates for the Supreme Court are nominated by party conventions, called on both parties and the state bar of Michigan to keep the campaign "free of partisanship." Black is expected to be nominated at the Democratic party convention Feb. 2 in Grand Rapids to fill his own court post. A second candidate will be nominated for the seat of retiring Chief Justice Leland W. Carr.

Members of the Cincinnati Red Stockings baseball team of 1869 were kept busy during games. The team consisted of nine regular players and one all-purpose substitute.

'Space Flight Will Equal Intercity Kind'

DETROIT (U)—Maj. Gen. E. B. Cassidy predicted yesterday that pilots within 10 years will climb into ships for flights into space just as they do today in their airplanes for intercity flights.

Cassidy, commander of the Mobile Air Materiel Area, also told a news conference he isn't certain what shape the space vehicle 10 years hence may take, but added, "It might even be square."

The biggest problem in space flights now, he said, is breaking loose from the earth.

Very little power is required in space, and the general said that someday a system to use the magnetism of the earth for push or pull might be worked out. Cassidy was in Detroit to address a luncheon session of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

State-Supported Schools Popular in Michigan

ANN ARBOR (U)—Eight out of 10 Michigan college students are attending state-supported schools, says Merritt M. Chambers, visiting professor of higher education at the University of Michigan.

This compares with about 70 per cent in Wisconsin, 60 per cent in Indiana, 50 per cent in Illinois and about 48 per cent in Ohio, he said.

Sale of License Tabs Lags Behind Last Year

LANSING (U) — Secretary of State James M. Hare says a check of vehicle license tab sales during the past 10 weeks shows the state running nearly 179,000 behind last year.

Some 491,000 1963 license tabs have been sold since Nov. 1, 1962, compared to 669,000 at this point last year, Hare said.

Almonds Star in Desserts

California, which produces about 1/4 of the world's supply of almonds, is a good place to find almond-using recipes.

Almond Dream Whip
1 1/4 cups toasted slivered blanched almonds
1 cup fresh dates, sliced
1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs
1/2 teaspoon rum or rum flavoring
1 cup whipping cream
Whipped cream

Combine 1 cup almonds, dates and crumbs. Add rum or non-alcoholic rum flavoring to cream and whip until stiff. Fold in almond mixture. Garnish with additional whipped cream and remaining almonds. Makes 4-6 servings.

You'll like this hot Peach and Mincemeat Sundae.

Hot Peach and Mincemeat Sundae

1 can (1-pound) cling peach slices
1 to 2 cups mincemeat
1/4 cup chopped nuts
1 to 2 tablespoons sherry, rum or brandy (optional)
Vanilla, egg nog or ice cream
Drain peaches. Combine peaches with mincemeat and chopped nuts. Heat carefully. Add 1 or 2 tablespoons of syrup drained from peaches, or sherry, rum or brandy. Spoon hot over vanilla or any preferred ice cream. Serve at once. Makes 6-10 servings. Note: Sauce will keep indefinitely in the refrigerator and can be reheated.

When you are heating canned hominy, do so in its own liquid; drain and add butter.

Spiced Wine and Sugar Coat Walnut Halves

You can make Sherryed Walnuts weeks in advance and store them for serving or giving at the proper time.

Spicy Sherryed Walnuts
1/4 cup sherry wine
1 1/2 cups light brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
3 cups walnut halves or large pieces
Granulated sugar

Combine wine, brown sugar, spice, salt and corn syrup. Stir in nuts and mix until well coated. Drop nuts into granulated sugar and roll or mix gently until they have absorbed as much as possible of the sugar. Spread out on cookie sheets to dry.

A pair of long wooden chopsticks are a great kitchen tool! Use them for stirring beverages and some foods.

Slate Opening of Clinic for Planned Parenthood

Planned Parenthood League, Inc., will hold formal opening of its new Elizabeth Duffield Memorial Clinic on Daines Street in Birmingham, Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The new clinic is the only one in Oakland County. Named in honor of a long-time supporter of the program, the clinic will be open every day.

A speakers' bureau for lay and professional groups will be available through the clinic. Other services offered include medical referral for childless couples, practical guidance for those about to be married, and support of research for child spacing methods.

It will also provide community educational programs and cooperate with social agencies in family planning.

Patients will be charged a fee according to income and number of children. No one will be turned away for lack of funds.

The planned parenthood movement began in Oakland County in the early 1930s. In 1960 the Detroit and Oakland County boards merged. Mrs. Thatcher W. Rea is chairman of the board.

Three board members of the Planned Parenthood League, Inc., have a preopening tour of the new Elizabeth Duffield Memorial Clinic in Birmingham. The formal opening takes place

Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. At the back is Mrs. Verne C. Hampton, Brookside Drive. Mrs. Loren C. Sheffield, Motorway Drive, stands in the center behind Mrs. Arthur E. Moore of Royal Oak.

Will Discuss Style Show at Luncheon

A luncheon to "kick-off" plans for the annual fashion show-tea sponsored by the Birmingham unit of the American Association of University Women is set for Jan. 30. Hostess for the affair is Mrs. Howard H. Kehrl of South Millway.

This year's show will be held at Cranbrook Auditorium, March 20. Styles will be by Margi.

Proceeds from the event are used for educational fellowships for women all over the world.

Formulating style show plans are Mrs. A. S. Thornbury, Mrs. Marvin R. Marsh, Mrs. Henry L. Setz, Mrs. George N. Bliss, Mrs. Charles I. Tittle, Mrs. George Horton Howell and Mrs. Judge Wesley Bearden.

Auxiliary Hears Reports About Hospital Work

Reports on rehabilitation and hospital work were made by Mrs. Ayers Miller when Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary No. 1008 met recently at the American Legion Home.

Plans were made for the forthcoming card party at the Church Street home of Evelyn Davidson in Clarkston Jan. 29.

Anyone wishing to join the auxiliary may contact the membership chairman Mrs. Otto Zander.

Accept Hand-Me-Down Violin Since Owner Did Not Value It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I suppose I should be the happiest boy in the world today but I am not. Here is what happened: I started taking violin lessons at school from a teacher who is hired by the school to teach whole classes.

I used a violin owned by the school because my father hasn't been able to work much lately and we couldn't afford to buy one.

Well, this morning the violin teacher GAVE me a wonderful violin. He said the father of a student who refused to practice called him and told him to give the violin to anyone who would use and appreciate it.

He chose me. I love the violin but I know whose it was, and I feel terrible taking it. What should I do?

FEELS BAD
DEAR FEELS: Don't feel bad. If the boy who first owned the violin valued it, his father would not have given it away. Master the second-hand fiddle and one day you might make concert master.

DEAR ABBY: Is it wrong to send a single girl (age 19) a wedding invitation and write on the bottom of it, "Bring Mac"? (Mac is her boy friend.)

My future mother-in-law said it was wrong and I should have sent Mac a separate invitation. What is your opinion?

GETTING MARRIED
DEAR GETTING: To be proper, one should send a separate invitation to each unmarried guest. Handwritten notes on formal wedding invitations are out of place. These include, "No gifts, please," "No children under 12," and "Bring Mac."

DEAR ABBY: Our son has been in the Army for a year. At first he saved almost all his pay. He'd bank it where he was stationed and send home his bank book to prove it.

Lately he hasn't been sending home his bank book. We are afraid he is spending his money on his buddies to become popular, and in no time he will be bled dry.

He is very immature and has no sense of responsibility. Can we get the government to send us his pay so we can save it for him?

We will, in turn, send him an allowance to live on. He doesn't need much as the Army is housing and feeding him.

SOLDIER'S PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: In only very rare and exceptional cases will Uncle Sam step in and protect the loot from a man who's protecting his country. Impress upon your son the importance of saving, and pray he does.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. D.: A spoiled child never loves its mother. You had better get some professional counseling before it is too late.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY in care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Pillar Club Gathers for Co-op Dinner

Members of the Pillar Club gathered for a cooperative dinner Wednesday in the home of Mrs. George Wasserberger on Illinois Avenue. Cohostesses were Mrs. W. H. Knudsen, Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Karl Kutz and Mrs. W. A. Gordon.

Mrs. John Morrison and Beulah Phillips presented a humorous skit and Mrs. Kutz spoke on Guy Murchie's "Song of the Sky." His book deals with snow formations and other phenomena developed by weather in northern climes.

The meeting closed with a devotional service by Mrs. Allen.

Don't Create Set Auditions for Music Awards Obligation With a Gift

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: One of my neighbors has gone out of her way on several occasions to do favors for me. I have just learned that she is having a birthday next week and I would like to buy her a birthday present.

My husband has advised against this; not because he doesn't want me to give her a present but because he feels that I will be placing her under obligation to give me a present on my birthday. What would you advise my doing?

A: I am inclined to agree with your husband and think it would be much better to give her a present at some other time rather than on her birthday, explaining that it is a small token of your appreciation for all the kind things she has done for you.

Q: A boy I know has invited me to a party at his house. He lives in the suburbs and I live in the city. Because of the distance he has asked me to spend the night at his house as the party will be over quite late.

He will drive me back home the next day. My mother objects to my staying at his house overnight. She says it is not the proper thing to do.

He lives with his parents and we will be perfectly chaperoned. May I please have your opinion?

A: It will be entirely proper to stay overnight in his family's house only if you are personally invited by his mother.

Q: I received a diamond wrist watch from my parents for Christmas. Would it be proper and in good taste to wear this watch to business, or is it correctly worn only on "dress up" occasions?

A: If the diamonds are small and there are not too many of them, it would be quite all right to wear your watch to business, but if it is very ornate and conspicuously studded, it would be very unsuitable in a business office.

The correct wording and addressing of wedding invitations and announcements are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Pontiac Tuesday Musicals scholarship committee will conduct auditions for awards Sunday March 20 at 3 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

The scholarship committee is composed of Tuesday Musicals' past presidents with the immediate past president serving as chairman of the group.

Applications for auditions may be secured from Mrs. J. B. Forman of Chippewa Road, and must be mailed back to her not later than Feb. 15.

Pontiac Tuesday Musicals has granted partial awards for music study for two weeks at Interlochen National Music Camp for many years. The past two years three awards amounting to $360 each have been granted.

THROUGH TICKET SALES
These awards have been made possible through the selling of tickets to the public for an evening scholarship concert.

Last year's winners were Joan Grahek, pianist, of Wagonah Drive. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Grahek, she was a junior at Pontiac Central High School at that time.

Deanna Relyea, pianist, of Washington Street was the other winner. The daughter of the Wellington Relyeas, she is a student in the school of music at the University of Michigan.

Joan used her award for a summer of study at Interlochen. Deanna applied her award to her sophomore term at the University of Michigan.

College News Notes About Area Students

Susan Lee, daughter of the Ralph Lees of Mary Day Avenue, and Marcia Strong, daughter of the James Strongs of South Ardmore Street, are among 90 Kalamazoo College students who have been named to the dean's list for scholastic achievements during the fall quarter. Both are freshmen.

At Albion College, James Baker has been elected corresponding secretary to Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. He is the son of Mrs. H. T. Baker of Navajo Drive.

Robert D. Stolorow of Shore View Drive plans to enroll in the University of Michigan medical school in September. A graduate of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, he is presently enrolled at Harvard University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Stolorow.

Groups Hold Joint Public Installation

Joint public installation of officers of the Knights of Pythias No. 19 and the Pythian Sisters was held Tuesday at the Pythian Hall on West Huron Street.

Acting grand chief was Mrs. Hugh Endries with Mrs. Claude Wiley as acting grand senior and Mrs. Randall Wilson as acting grand manager.

Guests were present from Mizpah Temple No. 7 in Oxford.

Committee for the evening included Phyllis Wilson, Ethel Winkley and Alic Endries.

Plans Made for Group's 'Boss' Night

The Insurance Women of Pontiac completed plans for the annual Bosses' Night at a luncheon meeting Wednesday in Antos Dining Room. Mrs. John Kleiner, Mrs. Garland G. Hale and Mrs. Keith Gray comprise the committee.

Mrs. Burl McGoldrick, Mrs. Salmer Engebretson and Mrs. Thomas Wood were appointed to the nominating committee for the election of officers.

Delegate to the regional convention in Cincinnati will be Mrs. Mildred Sage.

Neighbors Welcome Member at Meeting

The Loyal Neighbors of Going Street met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Albert Brewster. Mrs. Archie Bollman was cohostess.

Mrs. Tonie Miller attended as a new member, bringing her sister Mrs. Sadie Bond of Cincinnati, Ohio, as a guest.

Beta Sig Chapters Plan Style Show

Members of Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday evening discussed

plans for the sorority's forthcoming style show and card party in the home of Mrs.

Martin O'Leary on West Huron Street.

The City Council of Beta Sigma Phi will sponsor the March 20 affair in the 300 Lounge. Peggy's Women's Apparel Shop at Miracle Mile Shopping Center will present the fashions.

Mrs. J. C. Pickering and Mrs. Richard C. Paschke reported on assistance given to needy families during the holidays.

The Zeta Eta Chapter held a business meeting at the Edgefield Drive home of Mrs. Richard Templeton Tuesday evening.

Included in the program was Mrs. Eugene Bulgozdy who spoke on "The History of Dress."

Xi Pi Chapter met Tuesday evening at the South Hill Drive home of Mrs. Harold Cousins. Mrs. Enar West was cohostess.

The evening's program was presented by Mrs. Carl Leedy, Mrs. William Thomas and Mrs. Cousins.

Plans were discussed for the Beta Sigma Phi City Council card party and fashion show.

DR. AND MRS. HENRY H. SAVAGE

Dr. and Mrs. Henry H. Savage celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Christmas Day with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broun in Plano, Tex. The couple also has two sons, Robert, of Quito, Ecuador, and James, a missionary in Lima, Peru. Dr. Savage is the former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac.

One of the features of the Waterford Civic Chorus concert Friday night at Kettering High School will be the group's rendition of "The Caravan." Rehearsing the lively Latin number are (from left) Margaret Ann Beattie; John B. Walker; chorus director, Arden Sears;

Mrs. Marty Johnson and Dave Cliffe. The theme, "Let There Be Peace" will set the mood of concert, to include songs from around the world. Chorus president Andre DeWilde will narrate the 8:15 p.m. program.

To Perform at Recital in Church

Fine arts students of Emmanuel Christian High School and Midwestern Baptist College will present a piano, organ and voice recital Sunday at 4:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Emmanuel Baptist Church. Mrs. Phyllis Gehman, instructor, of voice and piano, is in charge of the program, and Kenneth Brown, piano and organ teacher, and seminary student, will play.

Advanced music students of Mrs. Gehman will perform before Emmanuel Christian School Parent-Teachers' Fellowship at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Tom Malone, head of the music department, invites the public to attend.

According to Dr. Ken Frederick, dean of the college, all students of both Emmanuel Christian School and Midwestern Baptist College are required to be present.

Local Area Students Busy at MSU

BY SUE DORMAN

Winter quarter at Michigan State University found Pontiac area students occupied with new class enrollments, Greek rushing and other activities.

Fraternities held open rush, limiting rushees to those attaining a 2.0 average or above. Sophomore Ron Jackson, a Theta Chi, of James K. Boulevard aided his brothers in introducing Greek life to rushees.

Ned MacDonald, junior, of Oriole Road, represented Delta Upsilon during rush week.

Senior student Gary Sabourin, an Evans scholar, helped plan fraternity schedules for men interested in rushing mens' 'co-ops.' Cooperative houses and fraternity houses will announce their pledge classes on Jan. 20.

The sorority system deferred rush consisted of four stages of parties with different themes, decorations, entertainment, and refreshments. Sororities also required a 2.0 average of their rushees.

ASSISTS MEMBERS

Sophomore Patricia Burns of Ogema Road, assisted other

Delta Delta Delta members in elaborating on their rush party plans. Pat has acted as the Tri-Delt social chairman during the past term.

Athletic activities still occupy much of MSU area students' time. Don Glowaz was recently chosen as a member of the MSU baseball team. Don, a freshman, resides on Third Avenue.

Junior Chris Olsen has been selected to lead the intramural swimming team. Chris lives at Shoals Drive.

HOLDS AUDITION

Union Board held its annual musical comedy audition. The show, "Stop Wonderful World," was based on a satire of college life.

Union Board show representatives include Sue Somerville, Sue Steinbaugh, Senior Ron Newman of Lakewood Drive and Bruce Cobb. Bruce, a senior of Eason Road, aided in the cast selection.

Freshman Nancy Bain of Oakland Avenue, and Marilyn Jack, a freshman of Marie Circle, recently gave Pontiac Central High applicants for MSU admission a student-to-student discussion.

Known as Spartan Ambassadors, their duties will continue throughout their college careers. They will orient new and prospective students to the many phases of a productive college life.

Slate Event for Women of 22 Clubs

Members of some 22 Business and Professional Women's clubs in Oakland and Wayne counties will attend the winter meeting of District 10, Michigan Federation of BPW Clubs, Sunday at Hazel Park High School.

Following a 1 p.m. family-style roast beef dinner, Walter C. Shamie, president of International Village, Inc., will speak on the proposed Detroit project.

Mrs. Roberta Bigelow and Mrs. Laura Wetzel are accepting reservations through this evening.

Wrap Bottles to Prevent a Break or Spill

When you have to include bottles of medicine or other similar breakables in your luggage, be smart and wrap them in cellulose sponge cloth after you have taped the caps in place. The cloth will cushion them against breakage, and it will also absorb any unavoidable spills. Or, even if you carry your breakables in a bottle case, banking them with cellulose sponges will help avoid accidents.

When you arrive at your destination, the sponges can "double in brass" for many jobs from shoe-shining to lint removal. Before the return trip, squeeze them out in sudsy water, rinse, let dry, and your packing cushions are perfect again.

Scarves Long for Spring

Scarves for spring dresses and suits go to great length. The colorful accents seen in previews of spring togs range in length from six to six feet.

Committee chairmen appointed included Mrs. Martin Hanson, Mrs. J. T. Reynolds, Mrs. Hugh Remley and Mrs. Charles Meier.

Mrs. Frederick Root was awarded the club trophy for losing the most weight.

Club members were asked to bring white elephants to the meeting next week.

Bethel Plans 'Big Deal'

Pontiac Bethel No. 5, International Order of Job's Daughters, will sponsor a card party 8 p.m. Saturday at the First Federal Savings of Oakland building. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

CAROLYN HARRINGTON

The Joseph D. Harringtons of Ruth Street announce the engagement of their daughter Carolyn Rose to Arthur G. Atkinson, an Army recruit, son of the Charles Atkinsons of Hi-Lux Drive. Her fiancé is stationed in Minot, N. D. Summer vows are planned.

SUE IRENE MATTESON

The William Mattesons of Elizabeth Lake Road announce the engagement of their daughter Sue Irene to Airman 2. C. E. Lee Collier, son of the Eldon Colliers of Berkley. She attended Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y. Her fiancé is stationed in Minot, N. D. Summer vows are planned.

Altar Unit Picks Officers

St. Therese Unit of St. Michael's Church Altar Society opened its annual meeting Tuesday evening with a co-operative dinner, followed by election of officers.

Mrs. Joseph F. Emmerth was named chairman, Mrs. Roy Wiegandt, cochairman; Mrs. H. N. Watson, recording secretary and Mrs. George McCormick, treasurer.

As plans were outlined for the 1963 program, committees were appointed. They will be headed by: Mrs. Joseph Schneider, Mrs. Ann Williams, Mrs. Harry Stahovec, Mrs. Daniel McInnis, Susan Koehl, Rita Turner and Mrs. Williams.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Gayle Coulson, Mrs. Emmerth, Mrs. Schneider and Miss Koehl.

Teen-Agers Prove Realistic

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

It looks as if future families in America will still be set up along traditional lines.

Although sociologists predict continued merging of the roles played by mothers and fathers, today's teen-agers, especially the girls, have pretty rigid ideas about which household jobs are whose responsibility.

family life emerges from our latest nation-wide survey of teen-age opinions.

Of the 1,259 young people questioned, 33 per cent of boys say they expect to help wash the dishes; 43 per cent want to have their hand in on shopping trips; 26 per cent think they will prepare meals; but only 12 per cent are willing to do the cleaning, and 11 per cent, the laundry.

Teen-agers seem to be in close agreement on the subject of caring for the children they hope to have.

Some 60 per cent of girls and 71 per cent of boys feel fathers should take an active part in minding the baby.

CLOSER TOGETHER

"It's just as much his child as mine," says Sue Orcutt, 16, of Pensacola, Fla., "and I feel this would bring the family closer together."

Dan Vokits, 15, of Muskegon, Mich., registers his "yes" vote on taking care of the children with "That should be one big joy of any parent."

While the boys are reasonably willing to undertake their share of household jobs, the girls have fixed ideas about what is "woman's work."

Some 90 per cent of girls say men shouldn't have to do the wash; 81 per cent feel cleaning is out of the man's realm; 73 per cent say getting meals is definitely a woman's responsibility; and 37 per cent say they don't expect their husbands to wash dishes.

However, only 31 per cent of the girls feel shopping should be solely a woman's work.

There is a significant number of "maybes" in answer to these questions. For instance, about 40 per cent of both girls and boys feel men should help with the dishes under certain circumstances.

"If the wife works, I think the husband should help," states Jewel Smith, 17, of Nashville.

Ned Timmons, an Arlington, Ohio, 16-year-old, says "Maybe I'd do the dishes in an emergency or if my wife wants or needs help."

The girls jump in horror at the prospect of men doing the laundry.

"No. Never! I'd lose respect for a man who washed clothes," declares Fran Price, 17, of South Bend, Ind.

But James Dmytrow, 17, of Rahway, N.J. feels "I'd help my wife do the wash too. It's a lot more fun to work together."

Cleaning should be a woman's chore, say the majority of girls and boys, except for heavy jobs such as washing walls or windows.

On the topic of men doing the shopping, the girls who say "Yes" generally say the husband's food tastes should be considered.

The boys say they'd help out with shopping if the wife needs help, and some state they'd like to help keep track of their money.

There seems to be a wide division of opinion on boys preparing meals.

While 50 per cent of the boys say they would like to do it or would be willing to do it depending on circumstances, some 73 per cent of the girls declare the kitchen is "off limits" to the boys.

But there's one girl who is going to have it easy. The wife of Mike Lahrer, 16, of Boone, Iowa, who says he'll do the cooking because "I can only stomach my own food."

Polly's Pointers

Insignia Sewing Hint

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Here is a hint for all gals who have to sew insignia on military or other uniforms.

Secure the area for the insignia in a small embroidery hoop, then pin on the insignia. Sewing it on is then a breeze and the frustration disappears with the old method.

MRS. D. L. B.

DEAR POLLY—My husband and I devised a handy and inexpensive idea for ash trays. We take empty coffee cans and spray them inside and out with paint, then cut a small round hole in the lid.

They can be decorated with decals or initials to make wonderful outdoor ash trays. We have ours on the patio and now we never worry about ashes blowing about or cigarettes being thrown on the lawn.

Lids lift off for emptying and they look tidy even when almost full.

MRS. P. H.

DEAR POLLY—Have the man around your house put four casters on a board big enough to hold your pail and scrub brush.

This saves lifting and moving a heavy pail around as you do floors.

And when you are moving heavy furniture, slip waxed paper under the legs. The furniture will glide along easily and will not mark the floor.

MRS. C. L.

DEAR POLLY—For spanking white gloves, try starch. Starched gloves stay clean longer and the starch protects them from ground-in soil.

For perfectly laundered gloves, wash them on your hands in farm or hot sudsy water. Go over very soiled areas with a brush dipped in detergent.

Rinse, then roll in a clean towel to remove excess moisture. Dip in a starch solution made from mixing two tablespoons instant starch in one quart cold water.

Dip gloves in and out of starch several times. Dry. If the gloves need a light pressing, press with a steam iron.

MRS. G. Mack.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Music Study
Is Growing
Among Teens

In 1950 there were approximately 19 million amateur musicians in the United States, according to the American Music Conference. Total participation by the end of 1962 is expected to exceed 34 million, including more than 10 million school-age youngsters receiving instrumental instruction.

AMC lists three primary reasons for musical growth: more leisure time; greater need and desire for self-expressions through the arts; and realization among school officials of the educational benefits of music study.

Essential Husband Traits

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE O-434: Doris H., aged 17, is a high school senior.
"Dr. Crane," she began,
"how should a girl decide whether a boy is the sort who would make a good husband?"

"I don't plan to marry till I am through college, but I expect to date a great deal."

"So what are the essential traits to look for in a possible husband?"

BOY FRIEND TEST

While I was teaching at Northwestern University, I made a survey of 1,187 unmarried girls and women between the ages of 16 and 42.
They were asked privately to list the chief merits and demerits regarding their boy friends. Here are some of the merits:

The boy is neat in appearance—shoes shined, hair cut, shaved, suit pressed, etc.
He is fond of children.
He is a careful auto driver —not a show-off speedster.
He attends church and encourages his girl friend to do likewise.

Uses good English with a minimum of slang.

Has high ideals and firm convictions about right vs.
wrong.

Shows respect and consideration for other women besides his girl friend.

Mixes well with people.
Usually good humored and jolly.

Compliments his girl on her looks, clothes, cooking, etc. Not a "clam" who takes things for granted.

AMBITIOUS, TOO

Ambitious! He works or studies for future advancement.

He is healthy and athletic.
He is prompt for appointments. Or telephones if he is unavoidably detained.

He is generous with his money but not a splurger or show-off.

True to his girl friend while going steady. Not a "twotimer."

Comes from a happy family. Has brothers and sisters who show that they like him, too.

Industrious. He can hold a job.

He is well read on various things besides sports and hot rod cars.

Not a finicky eater. Eats a wide range of foods.

Shows some executive ability. He can make a talk in public or lead the singing to get people to cooperate.

He is artistic in his love making and not a glutton for "Roman" hands.

He is polite and courteous to a girl's parents and her friends.

He was a Boy Scout and also earned his own money.
(A former newspaper carrier rates double attention, too.)

He has confidence in his girl friend and is not insanely jealous or possessive.

If he quarrels, he talks out the problem instead of sulking or pouting for days afterward.

Tomorrow I shall list the demerits cited by these 1,187 women so please scrapbook these cases and use your head more than your heart when you pick the future father of your children.

You girls cast the "proxy" votes of your future unborn children so be shrewd shoppers on the matrimonial market. Then you will insure a much happier home for yourself and your babies.

Meanwhile, send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Watch Fat Melt Away

Make New Year Count

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here we are with another year just hanging around, waiting for us to do something with it. It won't hang around very long. Before we know it, it will be gone and we will be sitting here wondering what happened to it and to us.

Will we handicap it and ourselves with the same old procrastinations, with the good intentions that never materialize, with chronic fatigue, with overweight and self-consciousness?

As those of you who have been reading my column this week know, I am presenting my new 8-Week Beauty Improvement Plan. This is a "Do It Yourself" job.

I am giving you the necessary information in my columns this week to help you look and feel 10 years younger eight weeks from now. After that, it is up to you (but I will still be here to help.)

In previous columns I have told you how to determine your ideal weight and how to measure yourself. Today I am going to talk with you about calories.

Salaries DO count, and in a BIG way, as many women have discovered to their dismay.

It is very simple. If you eat more than your body needs for heat, maintenance and its activities, the extra calories are stored as fat — usually where you want the extra pounds least.

No matter what you eat, you can reduce if you count your calories. You can reduce on pie a la mode IF you count the calories.

Once a woman wrote to me asking if she could reduce on beer. She could do so if she counted the calories but it gives me goose

DON'T GIVE UP!

If the scales don't recognize your effort at weight reduction in the first couple of days, don't be impatient. It takes a few days for dieting to show. Keep up the good work!

pimples to think what the beer and pie a la mode candidates would look or feel like at the end of such a diet. The "end" might not be long in coming.

If you are overweight you will have to lower your calorie intake. When you do this it is especially important that you spend your fewer calories wisely on those foods which are essential to good nutrition and good health.

The average woman who has quite a bit of weight to lose should count her calories and hold her daily intake to 1,200 a day. If she is very active she may lose successfully and consume 1,400 calories a day.

Fur Now a Symbol for the Men

Fur coats derived from a variety of animals are becoming as important to men as status symbols as they are to women.

For the definitely outgoing personalities are cat skin coats usually in ¾ length versions. Also just short of the knees are sleek double-breasted. For the man on the way up, are sheared Alaskan seal coats with notched collars.

Type of coat for the man at the top is a black full length persian lamb chesterfield with seal skin collar.

To Banish Stains

Milk stains will come out easily if the garment is soaked in cold water before washing.

Talks on Herbs Set by Alumni

"Are You Interested in Herbs?" will be discussed by Mrs. Mabel Schultz Monday evening before members of the Birmingham Chapter, Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae. Stewart's Garden Shop on Walnut Lake Road will host the group at 8 p.m.

Cohostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Thomas Oates and Mrs. W. J. Caldwell.

Keep Color in Pastel Curtains

Pastel curtains dry without losing delicate color if washed and rinsed, and then placed in a large pillow case pinned to the clothesline to dry.

Quick Frosting

For a quick cake frosting, dot the top of the cake with white or colored marshmallows and place under the broiler for a few minutes.

Agriculture Request Down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today asked Congress for a spending budget of nearly $6.6 billion for the Agriculture Department in fiscal 1964.

This would be down $28.1 million from the current fiscal year.

The reduction in spending of taxpayers' money would be due largely to expected sales of surplus, government-owned cotton.

Other reductions would come from greater use of private money to finance price support loans, lower storage costs, and legislation to insure farmers home administration loans which then could be obtained from private lenders.

Agriculture officials said that despite the reduction in the department budget, there was no hint or intention that government service to farmers would be impaired in anyway.

In addition to anticipated legislation for cotton, Kennedy said new programs were needed for dairy products and feed grains "to enable us to utilize more effectively the benefits of increasing productive efficiency in agriculture and to reduce budgetary expenditures for farm programs."

The President said he would present to Congress specific legislation for cotton, dairy products, and feed grains.

The anticipated cotton legislation is expected to save $700 million or more. Domestic and foreign mills presently are buying little cotton, pending adoption of the new legislation.

Considerable savings are expected from a move to encourage private banks and institutions to finance more of the price support program.

While this anticipated reduction could show up in fiscal 1964, there is a possibility that it could be reflected more in the 1965 and later budgets.

The President called for a continued and further improvement of feed grain programs which will "supplement farm income and reduce storage costs by achieving reductions of our excess stocks of these grains." He made no specific recommendation for dairy legislation. He observed, however, that at the current mandatory minimum dairy support level of 75 percent of parity, "it now appears that dairy farmers, in the absence of a program to adjust production, will continue to produce substantially more dairy products than can be sold through regular commercial channels at that price level."

The present dairy program has been estimated to cost about $530 million annually.

Briton Leader Stays in Grave Condition

LONDON (AP)—Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell was reported today to have shown some response to treatment for a mysterious virus ailment but his condition remains very grave.

A midmorning bulletin from Middlesex Hospital, where Gaitskell, 56, has been under treatment since Jan. 4, said:

"Mr Gaitskell slept for long periods. He has shown slight response to treatment. But the renal (kidney) and abdominal complications still give rise to anxiety. His condition remains very grave."

Zoo Puts Polar Bears Back on Arctic Diet

ROME (AP)—Rome zoo officials said today their Polar bears had to be given a special diet because of the unusual cold here the past two days. Temperatures dropped to 19 degrees.

Whole cups of cod liver oil were mixed into the Polar bears' usual foods. Zoo attendants said this increased oil content made the food more like the fatty diet that keeps the bears warm in the arctic.

2 More Redlegs Sign two more Cincinnati baseball players—shortstop Leo Cardenas and relief pitcher Bill Henry—manager Bill DeWitt said today have signed contracts for 1963.

Chiefs Must Now Watch Letdown

It is too early to speak of complacency when talking about Pontiac Central's basketball fortunes this season, but the Chiefs could be in for a letdown when they travel to Bay City Friday for a Saginaw Valley Conference clash.

PCH finally appears to be clicking on the hardwood court. It has won its last two starts; scored 59 and 61 points in the last three games; and prior to that, pushed league-leading Saginaw Arthur Hill hard before dropping an eight-point decision.

Bay City Handy has only a 14 loop mark (15 overall) and lost a 69-58 home game to Flint Northern which was, in turn, beaten 61-40 at PCH last week.

However, two of the four SVC losses for the Wildcats have been to Arthur Hill and Saginaw high schools which are ranked third and tenth respectively in the AP weekly state Class A poll.

TALENTED
Coach Jim Reinebold has two talented performers in 6-4 letterman Clay Wilhite, the top player on the BC Handy team last year and an All-State football end, and 6-foot guard Bob Willecke, a transfer student. In addition, 6-2 Russ Lane, 6-3 Jim Wilhite, 6-1 Joe Winters and 5-7 Jim Nesbitt have played a lot this season.

The Chiefs cannot afford to take Handy lightly. They are just beginning to move up in the conference standings. The fourth place PCH squad could move within a half game of the runnerup slot by winning.

A major concern to Coach Art Van Ryzin is the fact that the Orange and Black have never played on the Handy court. The veteran mentor has announced he will stick with the same starting lineup that defeated Midland and Flint Northern.

Other SVC games Friday include last-place Bay City Central at undefeated Arthur Hill, Flint Southwestern at Flint Northern in a big inter-city clash, and seventh ranked Flint Central at Midland.

More Trouble Looms for Holly's Broncos

There is no respite for Hollyville and Brighton goes to Northville in other league action.

The Broncos will find themselves in a first place battle Friday for the third straight game when Bloomfield Hills have turned in the best shooting performances.

COACH BOB PENCE is going to have to straighten out Holly's rebounding if the Broncos are to continue as contenders.

The Broncos managed to win at West Bloomfield with very little strength under the boards, but this shortcoming was the primary reason for the loss to Clarkson.

West Bloomfield has had trouble penetrating a zone defense and the Lakers can expect to go against Milford's version.

YOU MAY NOT FACE THIS HAZARD, BUT—

As a homeowner you may not face the same hazards as an Eskimo, but there are a great many perils that do threaten your home: wind, fire, theft, vandalism and personal liability, to name only a few. Protect yourself against financial loss with a modern Homeowners Policy.

Jo-Jo's Continues Unbeaten

Jo-Jo's ran up its third consecutive win in the Class D division of the city recreational basketball program last night with a 94-56 victory over the Chiefs.

Other city action saw the Southwest Community Club climb with in a half game of unbeaten West-side Recreation in the Class A division by whipping the Bachelors' Club, 78-61, and Local No. 653 defeated Colonial Lumber for its first win, 76-64.

Another Class D contest saw Victor Paint, also, capture its first victory in a close contest, 48-43, against New Hope. In the Waterford Township Class B league, O'Neil Realty defeated Tim's Barger Shop, 61-60; and Reeves Service pinned a 72-55 loss on Woodcum Drilling.

Jo-Jo's had three players with 20 points or better as it hit over the 90 mark for the second time this week. Willie Harsten had 29 and Milford Hillie 24 for the winners and Pete Beevers scored 11 field goals for 22 in a losing cause.

Southwest CC had a 45-30 half-time lead as it boosted its record to 3-1 this year.

Local No. 653 jumped to a nine-point advantage in the first quarter and rode it to a 76-64 triumph over winless Colonial Lumber as Clarence Douglas had 18 and Dennis Diehm 16 for the winners. Bill Dunstan hit 20 for the lumbermen.

Athletic Dispute Gets 22 Advisors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. Track and Field Federation has named a 22-man national advisory committee to help look for a solution to the jurisdictional dispute over administration of amateur athletics.

William W. Russell, president of the Federation, said Mason W. Gross, president of Rutgers University, and William B. Aycock, Chancellor of the University of North Carolina, will serve as co-chairmen of the committee.

Gross is one of the delegates who will meet with representatives of the rival Amateur Athletic Union and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in New York Friday.

New Hope rallied but couldn't overcome Victor Paint's big first half advantage in the other Class D contest. Ron Broadnax's 18 points were high in the low-scoring contest.

Two free throws by Rodger Asbury in the final minute of play iced O'Neil Realty's fourth win in five starts this season in the Class B division of the Waterford recreation basketball play. Team manager Dave Struble was high with 24 points for the winners, although Jim Poteet's 29 for the losers took the game high.

Jim Hurren scored 22 markers but it wasn't enough to prevent Woodcum Drilling from losing its fifth straight without a win as Reeves Service picked up a 72-55 decision last night.

Tonight's play will find the Pontiac Police meeting Michigan Bell at 7:00 and UAW No. 594 risking its perfect log against Columbia Avenue Baptist in the 8:30 nightcap at Madison Junior High School. Waterford action will pair Don Nichol Insurance against undefeated Spencer Floors at 7:15 p.m. and A&W Root Beer will meet Drayton Inn at 8:30 p.m. in the Cray JHS gymnasium.

PNH Tankers Win 4th Meet

Paced by Carl Cascadden and Alex Hiller, Pontiac Northern's swimming team won its 4th meet of the season in defeating Hazel Park, 71-34.

In another meet Warren Fitzgerald defeated Birmingham Groves in a North Suburban Swim meet, 64-41.

For Reynolds it was his 25th straight dual victory.

Crane Wrestlers Win 5th

Cranbrook won its 5th wrestling match of the season yesterday by defeating Waterford Kettering, 30-13.

The Cranes won nine classes high lighted by John Thinstad's pin of McGregor in the 165 pound class. Campbell of Kettering scored a pin in the heavyweight division.

Berry was timed in 59 seconds flat, four-tenths of a second lower than his own world record set in Melbourne in the Commonwealth games last October.

Top-Ranked Bearcats Enter Lions' Den

By The Associated Press
Cincinnati moves into the lion's den tonight. The lion is worried. The top-ranked Bearcats, unbeaten in 31 basketball games dating back to the last time they stepped into Bradley's lair at Peoria, Ill., will be out to clip the lion's tail tonight and snap a five-year losing string at the Bradley home court.

Commenting on Bradley's chances of maintaining its superiority over Cincinnati at Peoria, Braves' Coach Chuck Orsborne cast a vote for himself as Realist of the Year when he figured out his team's chances this way: "For us to win, it would take our best shooting of the year, we would have to be close to breaking even on the boards, give our best defensive performance and have some good luck."

It'll be a tough Missouri Valley

Conference test for Cincinnati, 13-0 this season and all-conquering since a 70-68 overtime loss to Bradley at Peoria, Jan. 10, last year. In five games over the last five years, the Bearcats have been unable to beat the Braves' on their home floor.

One home court string went by the boards Wednesday night when Furman knocked off Virginia Tech 66-61 in a Southern Conference game, ending the Gobblers' 41game home victory streak dating back to Feb. 7, 1958.

In other conference activity, North Carolina edged North Carolina State 67-65 in an Atlantic Coast game on Larry Brown's jump shot with 4 seconds left in overtime, Harvard defeated Dartmouth 59-55 in an Ivy League clash and Morehead beat Western Kentucky 87-71 in the Ohio Valley.

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked West Virginia whipped Penn State 89-73 as Mike Wolfe scored 28 points, sophomore Fred Hetzel tallied 35 in Davidson's 66-56 triumph over Wofford, Wittenberg upset Dayton 48-45, DePaul belted Notre Dame 83-69 and Louisville defeated Xavier, Ohio 75-66.

Nick Werkman, the nation's top scorer, hit for 40 points in Seton Hall's 93-91 squeaker over Fairfield, Holy Cross thumped Amherst 76-59, Oklahoma City whipped Hardin Simmons 75-59 and Georgetown downed Navy 83-71 as Jim Barry scored 41 points.

The Mountaineers, meanwhile, brought their record to 11-3 after leading almost all the way against Penn State. Rod Thorn supported Wolfe with 18 points while Earl Hoffman collected 22 for the Nittany Lions.

Bruins Win 2nd in Row Over Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—The last-place Boston Bruins must have the whammy sign on the Chicago Black Hawks, National Hockey League leaders.

The Bruins scored twice in a last period rally Wednesday night to win 5-4 and beat the Hawks for the second time in a row.

Warren Godfrey and Guy Gendron each scored in the finale to overcome a 4-3 Chicago lead and give Boston its eighth victory of the season.

Chicago remains two points ahead of the Toronto Maple Leafs, who are at Montreal tonight while Boston is at Detroit.

Gendron scored a pair of goals, duplicating his feat in the Bruins' 5-4 triumph last week in Boston.

Murray Oliver's goal put Boston ahead early in the first period but the Hawks surged ahead 2-1 on shots by Elmer Vasko and Stan Mikita.

The Bruins tied it on Jerry Toppazzini's 10-foot rebound shot and they went ahead 3-2 early in the second frame. But a long shot from the point by Wayne Hillman again dadlocked it.

Dryden Set for Annual Ski Meet

Watch Correct Length of Skis

Skiing Tips by Toni Sailer

By TONI SAILER

Now that I have won you over to the idea of skiing, the next step is to get the right kind of equipment.

Apart from a complete set of clothes and winter underwear, you'll need ski boots, pants, parka and, of course, skis.

Altogether your bill will run to about $250 for skis and equipment bought in America. In Europe, it would cost about $120.

As a beginner, you don't have to have flashy skis and super-stretch pants. On the other hand, those lowest-priced skis won't live long enough to carry you as a champion.

Therefore I suggest you pick a medium-price ski, of laminated wood, or, if you have the cash, a fiber or metal ski.

One important thing is weight. Your skis shouldn't be too heavy because your legs at first won't be accustomed to such a weight. Metal and fiber skis, although about twice as expensive as laminated wooden skis, are easier to maneuver, especially in deep snow.

On hard-packed snow the difference between wood and metal or fiber is almost nil — for the beginner.

CHECK LENGTH

The other important thing is length. Normally, the ski tips should just nestle inside your wrist when your arm is raised.

However, people with little athletic aptitude should start out with shorter skis, which are easier to handle. A beginner's skis should be as long as he (or she) is tall.

One thing about short skis: Get rid of them once you are beyond the beginner's stage. Why? Because the better you ski, the faster you want to go.

Short skis have a tendency to start fluttering at a certain speed, giving you trouble in maneuvers, while long skis rest firmly on the ground even at high speed.

The brakes on your skis are knife-sharp steel bands mounted along the borders of the sole. They are called "edges."

SAFETY

The most important safety device, besides braking edges is the binding which holds the skis to your feet.

There are hundreds of various types in use, each with its advantages and disadvantages. Your binding shouldn't be too complicated because you don't want to waste your time fiddling around with screws and levers and locks.

But it should have a good safety spring which opens easily to prevent injury the moment your foot is twisted in a fall.

Your poles, light metal or bamboo, should just come up to your armpit.

Your boots should be high enough to come well above your ankles. This gives your feet support and protects sensitive tendons. Therefore the boots shouldn't be of too soft leather, while soft enough to avoid chafing.

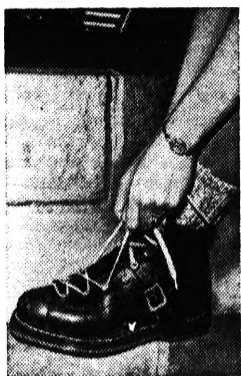

Remember, your boots are one of the most important parts of your equipment. At first, you'll move like a diver in his lead boots on dry ground.

Here's a piece of advice: Before you go out skiing for the first time in a season, put your boots on and walk around for a while. You need this "walk-in" period to give your feet and circulation time to get accustomed to the weight and pressure.

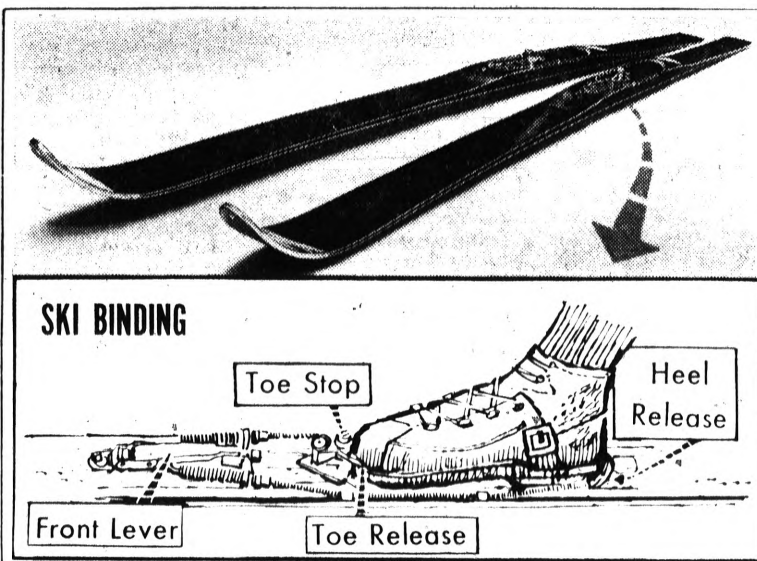

This is an old recipe of mine. I never failed to follow it before my medal-winning races.

The rest of your equipment is a matter of personal taste. Stretch pants are all right as long as they are made of water-repellent fabric. In cold weather you should wear a loose-fitting sweater under your parka.

Boots should be high enough and tough enough for full support.

Skis should reach the wrist of your extended arm.

Common Market Faces Collapse

Common Market Faces Collapse

Showdown on Britain Is Forced by France

BRUSSELS (UPI)—France forced a showdown today on Britain's bid for membership in the Common Market, bringing the economic union close to a possible collapse.

France called a secret meeting of the six member nations which went into session at 4:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. Pontiac time).

A French spokesman said the closed session would consider whether "there is any future in the negotiations and the possibility of continuing them."

"We think the six are wasting their time," he added, underscoring President Charles de Gaulle's adamant stand that Britain cannot be admitted under any set of special conditions to protect its own agriculture and its commonwealth trade relations.

SITUATION GRAVE

The situation was grave for, although conference sources said there were no plans for breaking off the 17-month-old talks on Britain's entry, there is talk of adjourning them. Observers said this would amount to a breakdown.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan met in extraordinary session with his cabinet in London, where a spokesman said for the second time in four days that "as far as we are concerned, we shall press on with the negotiations."

West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, whose government supports Britain's bid, flew here posthaste in a special military plane.

Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns, whose government also is pro-British, said: "This is the fateful day. It is all very convincing."

French Agricultural Minister Edgar Pisani added: "This is the day of decision."

Soybeans Suffer 1st Loss in 7 Days

CHICAGO (UPI)—The first setback in seven trading days knocked soybean futures down major fractions of a cent today in early transactions on the board of trade.

The grains held mostly about steady although a few contracts ranged from firm to easier.

Brokers said the strong demand that had characterized the soybean trade diminished somewhat during the first several minutes and that profit cashing showed signs of broadening.

Turks Proud of Freedom

28 Million Are Willing to Fight for Country

WASHINGTON — Turkey's last frontier station in the Caucasus foothills facing Soviet Russia displays this sign: "We Turks are proud of our freedom, and we are ready to die for our freedom."

Geographically, what Turkey's 28.6-million people are willing to die for is a westernized republic slightly larger than Texas. Theirs is a land of big sky and wide open spaces, of isolated villages and farms.

The vast central plateau, though exposed to extremes of heat and cold and drought, is one of the world's great wheat granaries. The storage elevators stand as tall as those in Kansas.

There are only two sizable cities in Turkey. Istanbul, overlooking the pale-blue Bosphorus, has a metropolitan-area population of almost two million.

Ankara, made to order as capital of the republic formed in 1923, has mushroomed from a dusty hilltop town—which was said to be as dark at night as the inside of a camel—into a neon-bright city with more than 1.3-million area residents.

The Arabian Nights atmosphere has all but vanished from Turkey, yet a distinctive flavor lingers. In Istanbul, some 450 mosques point their minarets at the sky.

And where else could one expect to find a confection so titillating to the palate as is called "The Iman Fainted"?

Though the fez has been outlawed since 1923, many men wear Western-style caps turned to the back so they can touch forehead to ground while praying to Mecca five times a day. Most Turks are Moslems.

The Turks are noted for their physical toughness and tenacity. They have withstood various threats from Russian soil for 400 years, says the National Geographic Society.

When war broke out in Korea, 30,000 Turks volunteered for the first contingent of 1,800 destined for service with United Nations forces there. General MacArthur called Turkish U.N. fighters "the bravest of the brave."

Powers Divorced, Wife to Get $5,000

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. — A jury granted former U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers a divorce but awarded his wife a lump sum payment of $5,000, plus $500 in attorneys fees.

Powers, 33, spent 21 months in a Russian prison after he was downed while on a reconnaissance mission over the Soviet Union in May 1960.

He accused his 28-year-old wife Barbara of habitual drunkenness and said she cursed and abused him without cause. Mrs. Powers filed a countersuit demanding alimony. She said Powers was a changed man after his return from Russia and "took all his bitterness out on me."

The jury delivered an hour before returning its verdict yesterday.

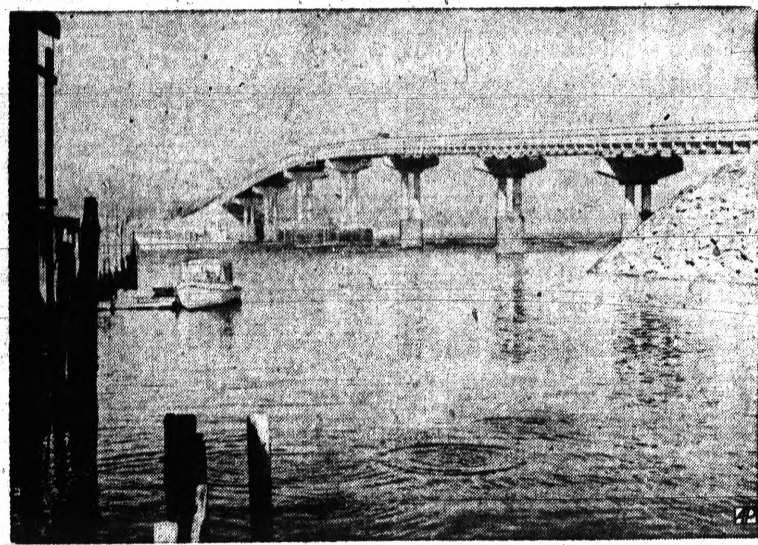

Organizations for Safe Driving Most Confusing

LONDON — Letters to the editor of the London Times complain that the list of safe-driving organizations in England has grown to traffic-jam proportions.

It includes such organizations as the Institute of Advanced Motorists; the Order of the Road; the League of Safe Drivers; CAMDA (Car and Motorcycle Drivers Association); the Company of Veteran Motorists; the High Performance Club run by the British School of Motoring; the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents; and the Silver Wheel Club, each with a membership ranging from 2,200 to 90,000.

Complaints state that different sets of rules, varying qualities of driving tests, and a multiplicity of badges could well result in confusion.

The words "In God We Trust" were made the official motto of the United States in 1956.

INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE — This is the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Bridge which connects Lubec in eastern Maine with Campbellobello Island. The New Brunswick island in the Bay of Fundy was the site of the late President's summer home.

Surviving are his wife Dorothy, two daughters, Christine and Kathleen, both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Palmer of Milford; a sister and a brother.

ALFRED SMITH

ROCHESTER — Alfred Smith, 70, of 320 Romeo St. died today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a brief illness.

His body was to be taken today from Potere Funeral Home to Cincinnati, Ohio, for service and burial.

Mr. Smith was a retired head trainer of horses at Meadow Brook Farms, Avon Township. Surviving are his wife Lillian and a brother.

Youth Apparently Dies Working on Vehicle

DETROIT — Robert C. Rider Jr., 13, of Nankin Township, apparently suffocated last night while working in a garage at the rear of his home, police said.

Wayne County road patrol deputies said the boy was working on an old jeep in the garage which was heated by a fuel oil fed stove.

They said the stove apparently used up all the oxygen and he collapsed. An autopsy was ordered to determine cause of death.

Birds do not usually begin incubating their eggs until the full complement has been laid. Otherwise the resulting young would be of different ages and sizes, and the larger ones would get all the food.

Race-Religion Session Near Adjournment

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Conference on Religion and Race moved toward adjournment today with conferees preparing to adopt "an appeal to the conscience of the American people."

The appeal will wind up four days of deliberation by 650 Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic leaders centering on the failure of religion to aid racial integration.

It appeared that the preliminary draft would be adopted substantially as submitted, but it was open for amendment.

"MOST SERIOUS"

The preliminary draft termed racism the nation's most serious domestic problem.

It called upon Americans to work for justice in voting rights, equal protection of the law, access to public facilities and private ones serving a public purpose and in education and cultural opportunities, hiring and promotion, medical and hospital care and housing opportunities.

Citizens also were called upon to work toward a reign of love in which past injustices would not be used as excuses for new ones and racial barriers would be eliminated.

The conferees also were to act upon a report outlining specific ways in which synagogues and churches might implement the appeal.

Expect Fanfani to Fall In Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy is expected to endorse the Nassau agreement between President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan when he concludes his White House talks today.

And the joint communique to be issued after the second conference between the U. S. and Italian leaders will likely voice Fanfani's conviction that Britain should not be stopped in her efforts to join the European community.

Fanfani did not come here with the predetermination to bless publicly the Nassau pact—North Atlantic Treaty Organization aimed at establishing a nuclear striking force—without asking for additional information.

The Italian leader arrived with a list of questions concerning points the Nassau agreement did not clarify—and the answers he got this time have satisfied him, informants said.

NY Is Suddenly 'Square'; Singer Forgets Invitation

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Strange things are happening to our strike-bound city that, years from now, will seem incredible.

Mary Martin—invited weeks ago to a big tribute dinner to Dick Rodgers the other night—didn't go. She was sitting home alone, too, unaware she'd been invited.

Last fall, when the invitation arrived, Mary's secretary decided she couldn't go as she'd be in Brazil, on a freighter trip, first time in four years, seeing her estate.

Time passed. A dock strike started. Nobody was going anywhere. Papers weren't telling anybody anything. Dick Halliday, Mary's husband, leaped in to take advantage of the leisurely situation and finish up plans for their show, "Jennifer," set for next fall.

"Maybe it's just as well for us," Halliday says. "We'll fly next week if we have to..." Some of their friends found it hard to understand that they, of all people who knew Dick Rodgers, were not there. What they can't understand is that in this city of non-communication, nobody really knows anything that's going on. We're all squares.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Myrna Loy and Glenda Farrell met, of all places, at Asti's, where everybody sings—customers, bartenders, doormen: even the singers. . . . Dolores Hart's relaxing here after the end of her engagement to Californian Don Robinson. Dolores, who dated Stephen Boyd when they made a film in Holland, heard the stories about Doris Day falling for him when they made "Jumbo." And says Dolores: "I know nothing about it, but I can see how a girl could flip for him." . . . Anna Sosenko, who brought Hildegard along to fame, has taken over management of singer Felicia Sanders, who will open very elegantly, at the Plaza Persian Room Jan. 23. Miss Sosenko figures Felicia has "got to become the female Goulet."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A French woman reading a paper said to her husband, 'In New York, one man has an auto accident every half hour.' Her husband replied, 'That fellow's just unlucky. In his place, I would never leave the house!'" (France-Amérique).

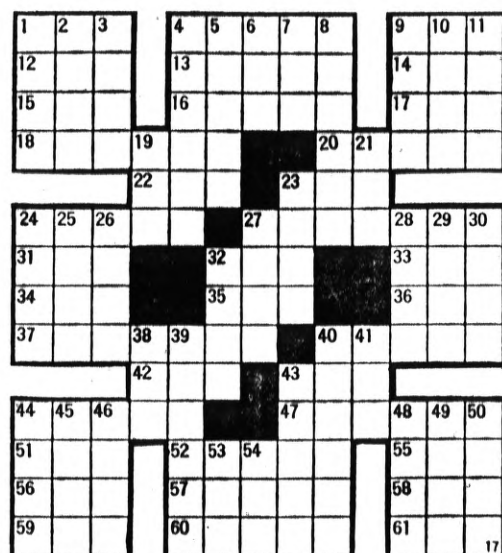

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The best time for parents to put the children to bed is while they still have the strength."

EARL'S PEARLS: Those electric blankets scare Bertha Shore, who says, "I'm afraid I'll get a short in my sheet."

"With the divorce rate so high," says the Scandal Sheet, "some dress manufacturers are planning a line of wash and wear wedding gowns" . . . That's earl, brother.

Solos at Sweet 16; Grand, She Says

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — You couldn't blame Rosalind Miller for being up in the clouds on her 16th birthday. That's exactly where she wanted to be.

The pretty high school senior, whose father is a veteran pilot and airport operator at nearby North Benton, was making her first solo airplane flight.

Rosalind, who has taken lessons for about two years, commented on landing: "It was a wonderful feeling, knowing that you were alone and had to make the decisions yourself."

CMU to Confer Degree on Congressman Griffin

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree Sunday from Central Michigan University at the school's midyear commencement. Griffin is a 1947 graduate of CMU. He received his law degree from University of Michigan and practiced law at Traverse City from 1950 until his election to Congress.

Liquor, Wine Sales Up During Week of Jan. 4

LANSING (UP) — The Michigan Liquor Control Commission reported 40,269 cases of whisky were sold in the state for the week ending Jan. 4, an increase of 4,000 from the same period a year ago.

Wine sales for the week totaled 11,796 cases, an increase of 1,300 from the same period in 1962.

3 Villages Startled by Plant Explosion

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — A series of explosions blew a magazine plant into bits and shook three Long Island villages today.

People were thrown out of bed, and lights suddenly flashed on in homes in this New York City suburban area with a population of about 80,000.

Hempstead and Mineola, the Nassau County seat, were shaken in addition to Garden City.

Ninety families were evacuated from two apartment houses temporarily. No one was believed to have been in the magazine plant, and no injuries were reported.

New York City had a population of 49,491 when the first census was taken in 1790.

Strikers Vote Today at Trenton Refinery

DETROIT (P) — Striking employees of the Mobil Oil Co.'s refinery in Trenton were to vote today on ratification of an agreement reached Tuesday by company and union officials.

Joseph Henson, president of Local 7-456 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said 240 refinery workers would be eligible to vote.

The strike, which lasted seven months, erupted last June 27 over job security and other issues after the old contract had expired. Supervisory and technical employees have kept the refinery in operation since then.

There are 59 life insurance companies in Canada.

8 Students OK as Bus Struck on Icy Highway

ROCKFORD (P) — Eight students escaped injury yesterday when a Rockford Junior High School bus was struck in the rear on ice-slicked U.S. 131 while unloading passengers north of Rockford.

The bus driver, Jeanne Gordon, 43, also escaped unhurt. But the driver of the car, Gary M. Clocum, 19, of Edmore was slightly injured.

JFK Proposes Spending Record $98.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proposed today an $98.8-billion budget—an all-time record—keyed to deficit-cutting tax cuts which he said would spark the nation toward full employment, production and purchasing power.

Kennedy's spending program for the year starting July 1

would top even the highest of wartime budgets, $98.3 billion in 1944-45, and shoot the public debt to a record $315.6 billion.

Nonetheless, he insisted it was shaped to put new life into the economy and insure "efficient and frugal" conduct of the government.

In a message sending his mid-term budget to Congress, Kennedy acknowledged the $13.5-billion, three-year tax cutting plan he unveiled earlier this week would at first add red ink to federal finances. He estimated the deficit would rise from the $8.8 billion now anticipated this year to $11.9 billion.

Recommendations Kennedy sent to Capitol Hill included:

—Over-all defense spending of $55.4 billion, up $2.4 billion from the current year; emphasis on a strong retaliatory force, flexible conventional forces, better air and missile defenses.

—Space programs costing $4.2 billion, an increase of $1.3 billion; manned space flight efforts to get most of the total, with the goal of getting a man to the moon.

—Foreign aid totaling $4,945,000,000 with special attention for countries willing to help themselves.

—Another bid for medical care for the aged financed through Social Security taxes;

Blast Budget

From Our News Wires
Washington — President Kennedy today sent Congress a record $51-billion military spending plan to expand nuclear missile land, sea and air arms.

With related programs, such as atomic energy activities, the defense outlays for the coming fiscal year were estimated at $56 billion, $2 billion more than this year and about $10 billion more than in 1960.

"There is no discount price on budget message."

"The free world must be prepared at all times to face the perils of global nuclear war, limited conventional conflict, and covert guerrilla activities."

American military strength, the president said, is "the free

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — The administration wants Congress to appropriate $4.9 billion for a "highly selective" foreign air-program in fiscal 1964 with emphasis on Latin America.

President Kennedy appealed to Congress today not to repeat the deep cuts it made this fiscal year in a foreign-aid request of similar size.

He said in his budget message that the funds were "essential to meet our commitments and achieve our purposes."

He proposed spending more than $1 billion in Latin America during the fiscal year starting July 1 and doubling the size of the Peace Corps program there.

The President estimated that actual foreign-aid expenditures for the fiscal year starting July 1 will total $3.75 billion—a drop of $100 million from the current fiscal year.

The remaining $1.25 billion would be kept in reserve for aid

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's budget sailed into stormy congressional seas today. There was a clamor that unless some spending was jettisoned, its cargo of tax cuts would never reach port intact.

Much of a chorus of alarm about the budget's deficit—practically drowning out other comment—came from Democrats, with Republicans adding their denunciations.

"Incredible," "Ridiculous," "Entirely too big" were some of the harsher comments of critics. Many argued that the estimated $11.9-billion deficit would badly hurt the President's tax reduction proposals.

GOP leaders generally gave the budget a blistering reception.

a new request for a Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs. Detailed recommendations will be made later for aid to education, farm and other programs.

For peacetime, the anticipated $11.9-billion deficit would be second only to the $12.4 billion incurred under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958-59. But Kennedy argued a 1963-64 deficit is unavoidable, even at the present level of taxes. The choice, he said, lies between accepting a "chronic deficit of inertia due to inadequate economic growth" and a temporary deficit caused by programs designed to generate the economy, increase revenues and eventually achieve budget surpluses.

"The first type of deficit is a sign of waste and weakness," he argued. "The second is an investment in the future."

Niagara Ice Threatening Riverfront

By United Press International
A massive ice jam built up by tons of ice churning over Niagara Falls threatened lower Niagara River property today while freezing temperatures caused millions of dollars in damage in southern California vegetable crops.

Niagara River men feared the ice bridge might match the destructive jams of 1903, 1909, 1938 and 1955. It already has caused extensive damage to waterfront properties from Tonawanda to Lake Ontario.

The ice, piled 70 feet high and 25 feet thick in some places, knocked out production for about eight hours at the Ontario hydro generating plant yesterday.

However, production at the $720-million Niagara Power Project, the largest in the Western world, remained on schedule.

CHILL CONTINUES

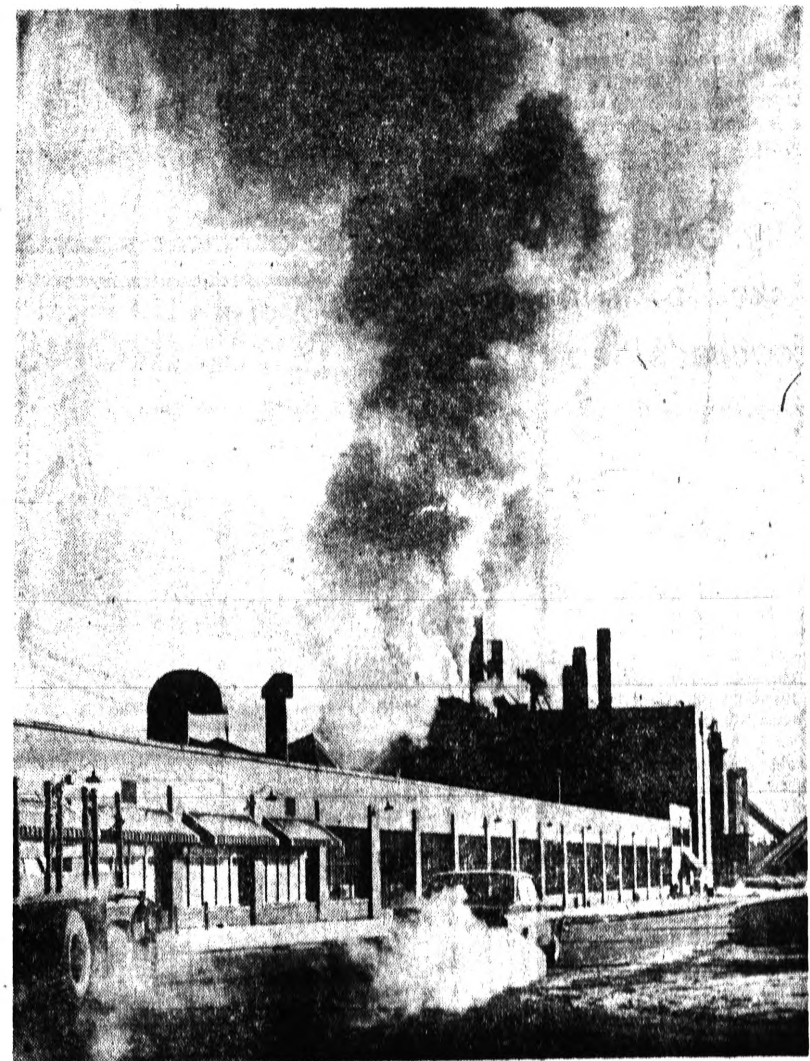

In the West, southern California suffered its fourth straight day of freezing temperatures.

A warming trend was expected to break a brutal, week-long cold spell in the eastern half of the nation that has smashed records set in the 1800s.

The cold snap, worst in 14 years, already has caused more than $3 million damage to southern California's citrus, tomatoes, melons, nursery stock and floral crops.

The low temperature in fruit-producing areas was expected to be about 27 today. Little relief was in sight.

The subzero air was confined mostly early today to the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin—in sharp contrast to last weekend when the mercury slumped in 48 states.

Michigan got a little respite today from its bitter cold, but it may not last long.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures probably would drop again for the weekend. Temperatures in the Pontiac area are expected to be a warmer 14 tonight and rise to near 20 tomorrow.

A light snow forecast for tonight will change to a few flurries tomorrow.

More snow fell in northern sections. Driving, however, was reported generally good on state highways.

Telephone service was cut off for several hours yesterday to 1,500 people in the Detroit suburb of Allen Park when a broken water line flooded a cable.

The cold weather was blamed.

Stays on His Side, Waves

K Visits Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today visited communism's bleak and hated wall dividing Berlin and gazed thoughtfully for a moment at the American flag fluttering over nearby Checkpoint Charlie.

Standing at the point where U.S. and Soviet tanks confronted each other in the Berlin crisis of October 1961, he waved cheerfully to people in West Berlin.

The Premier made his excursion to the wall at midday after hearing Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish Communist chief, hail him as the man who saved the world from nuclear catastrophe during the Cuban crisis.

Khrushchev spent the morning at the East German Communist party conference where the argument between Moscow and Peking occupies the attention of 2,500 delegates and guests.

SHOW MODESTY

Gomulka demanded that the Chinese Communists cease their attacks on Soviet policies and "show greater modesty and moderation" in their dealings with Moscow.

Gomulka went right down the line to make it clear that he was backing Khrushchev without qualification in the argument with Peking. He also urged that this argument be taken out of the world's gaze and be settled by private discussions.

With East German party chief Walter Ulbricht at his side, Khrushchev then went to the wall.

He showed no inclination to accept West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's suggestion that he look at the wall from West Berlin.

He approached the border at the U.S. sector's Friedrichstrasse crossing point.

Brandt, in an interview early this month, suggested that Khrushchev get a first-hand picture of the real conditions in both parts of divided Berlin. But Khrushchev made no move to cross over into the West.

2 FEET FROM LINE

Khrushchev walked to the last barrier on the Communist side, stopping at the first red and white striped pole barring entry into East Berlin. He stood only two feet from the white line across the street marking the border between East and West Berlin.

Lt. Rudd H. Johnson, a military police officer from Highland Park, Ill., in steel helmet and combat equipment stood a few feet from the line. Johnson's expression did not change.

Car Sales Jan. 1-10 Top Record

By The Associated Press
New car sales in the United States reached a record 170,138 units during the first 10 days of January, according to the Dow-Jones news service.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department is predicting a seven-million car production year in 1963, surpassing last year's estimated 6.9 million and making it the second highest on record.

Dow-Jones said Wednesday the Jan. 1-10 new car sales represented an increase of 20.4 per cent over the same period last year.

Despite record sales by Ford Division, Ford Motor Co.'s market share slipped from 28.3 per cent last year to 25.3 per cent, and Chrysler's percentage of 10.6 was the same as a year ago, Dow-Jones said.

American Motors Corp.'s percentage was 5.3, up from last year's 4.6 per cent, while Studebaker's percentage fell to 1.2 from 1.5 per cent last year.

Oldsmobile reported 11,678 new car deliveries during the first 10 days of January, representing what it said was an increase of 13 per cent over the same period last year.

General Motors Buick Division reported a record-breaking 10-day delivery total of 12,468 new cars.

Buick said the Jan. 1-10 deliveries represented an increase of 58 per cent over the same period last year.

In making its rosy predictions for U.S. auto production in 1963, the Commerce Department said Wednesday that if the estimate holds up, this will be the first time in more than a decade that the auto industry has enjoyed two outstanding production years in succession.

Production last year was the second highest on record, an increase of almost a fourth over 1961. The record year was 1955 with an output of 7,920,186 vehicles.

Fails to Escape Home Blaze; 2 Badly Burned

Electronics Executive and Daughter Both in Critical Condition

By DON FERMOYLE

The wife of a Bloomfield Township electric company executive came within seven feet of escaping from a fire which killed her and critically injured her husband and youngest daughter early today.

Mrs. Louise Richardson, 43, died only seven feet from the front door of her $35,000 home at 3370 Franklin Road.

She apparently collapsed in the living room after awakening her eldest daughter.

Her husband, Harry H., 43, and 6-year-old daughter Lynn, both were reported in critical condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The Richardsons' other daughter, Kay, 16, was the only member of the family to escape unharmed. She was released after treatment for shock this morning at the same hospital.

Richardson is director of Ohio operations for the Bulldog Electric Products Division of the ITE Circuit Breaker Co. in Detroit.

FOUND NEAR SISTER

Kay, who called the fire department at 3:15 after being awakened by her mother, was found on the snow-covered front lawn of her home, standing over her badly burned sister, when firemen arrived.

Richardson, who had just carried his youngest daughter to safety, also was outside and told firemen his wife was still trapped inside, according to Ronald Burrell, one of the first firemen at the scene.

Burrell said he and other firemen were unable to get into the burning home because of intense heat and smoke.

All equipment and every available man from the Bloomfield Township Fire Department's three stations were at the scene within minutes.

When the blaze was brought under control shortly before 4:30 a.m., firemen recovered Mrs. Richardson's body from the charred interior of the living room.

PRONOUNCED DEAD

Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac C. Prevette pronounced Mrs. Richardson dead of smoke inhalation and second- and third-degree burns, which covered 75 per cent of her body.

Kay Richardson told Bloomfield (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Make Last-Ditch Effort to End Dock Strike

Kennedy Prepared to Act if Talks Fail

NEW YORK (AP)—A board of labor relations experts appointed by President Kennedy goes into emergency session here today in a last-ditch effort to settle the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts dock strike.

Kennedy said in appointing the board that the 26-day-old strike is "doing intolerable injury to the national welfare" and disrupting vital commerce in the Free World.

Kennedy indicated that if the board's efforts failed, he would ask Congress to force an end to the strike of 60,000 longshoremen that has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

The head of the board, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told newsmen:

READY TO MEET

Thomas Gleason, executive vice president and chief negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, said union representatives were ready to meet with the board today.

Alexander Chopin, chief industrial negotiator, said he had "nothing to say at this time."

Chopin is head of the New York Shipping Association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies. Contract terms reached here between the ILA and the association traditionally set a pattern for settlements in other ports on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Kennedy appointed the emergency board Wednesday shortly after Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reported collapse of the negotiations.

Named as mediators along with Morse were James J. Healy, associated professor of industrial relations at Harvard University, and Theodore W. Kheel, New York City lawyer and veteran labor dispute arbitrator and impartial chairman of management-labor relations in various industries. Morse served on the War Labor Board during World War II.

Kennedy asked Morse to report back to him no later than next Monday.

'MILLIONS A DAY'

The President said the strike, which has tied up more than 550 ships and idled nearly 100,000 waterfront and seagoing workers, is inflicting economic losses on the nation "at a rate of millions of dollars a day."

Total losses to date are estimated at one-half billion dollars.

Safecrackers Foiled Near Police Station

UTICA —Thieves chose the wrong spot to steal a safe here this morning — across from the police station.

Two men broke through a window of the Detroit Edison Co.'s office, 7726 Auburn Road, between 4 and 4:30 a.m. today and rolled the safe into the back yard on a dolly.

Just then a police car pulled away from the station.

The two men sped away in a blue and white 1955 Ford, leaving the safe and the $3,000 it contained.

Freeway Crash Fatal to Two

GM Executive From Bloomfield Twp. Dies

A General Motors divisional executive from Bloomfield Township and a Detroit woman were killed early this morning in a head-on crash on the John Lodge Freeway.

The victims are Robert H. Jones, 39, of 4616 Coachmaker Road, assistant sales manager of GM Ternstedt Division, and Betty Lawler, 49, a passenger in the other car.

Detroit police said Jones was driving the wrong way on the expressway near an interchange when he collided with a car driven by Mrs. Jeanette Boraerts, 43, of Detroit. She was critically injured.

Jones, father of three children, was transferred here from Syracuse, N. Y. last year when GM merged a division in that city with Ternstedt.

A truck driver, Carl Arnold, 33, of Detroit, told police that the cars came together with "a terrible bang" and then "bounced about 50 feet apart."

Jones, who was driving alone, was returning home from the Society of Automotive Engineers Convention in Detroit when the accident occurred at 2:45 a.m.

Combing University for Stolen Pictures

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Troops and police began a building-to-building search today of the Communist-infested Central University for five French Impressionist masterpieces stolen by gun-waving young terrorists who invaded a Caracas art museum.

Authorities believed students from the university made off with the paintings, on loan from France and insured for an estimated half-million dollars. Central University is a hotbed of Castro sympathizers.

The paintings were seized Wednesday in a daylight raid by a band of about 15 including two teen-age girls. One of the girls shot and seriously wounded was a high school student who defied the raiders.

The gang shouted that they were taking the paintings to let France know that they opposed the Venezuelan government of President Romulo Betancourt. They said they would return the art works, but officials feared the paintings might be damaged.

The stolen paintings were identified as "Lilies in a Copper Vase" by Van Gogh, painted in 1886; a 1929 still life by Picasso; an 1889 still life by Gauguin; "Still Life With Pears" 1925 by Braque, and "The Bathers" 1890 by Cezanne.

The paintings were in a collection of 147 sent by the French government's Louvre Museum and Paris for an exhibit titled "100 Years of French Painting."

James Clarkson was re-elected president of the association. All other officers were re-elected.

In his annual report to shareholders, Clarkson announced that as of Dec. 31, 1962, assets totaled $42,572,886.71 — highest in the association's 28 years of operation.

This was 26.16 per cent, or $8,829,950.71 above total assets at the end of 1961.

Total savings capital also reached an all-time high of $37,763,276.64, some 29.6 per cent above 1961.

There were 6,477 new savings accounts opened in 1962 bringing the total to 20,826 by the end of the year, Clarkson said.

Dividends paid to shareholders last year totaled $1,283,365.79 compared to $881,204.61 the year before — an increase of $402,161.18.

On the basis of current business trends, Clarkson predicted the association will have assets in excess of $51 million by the end of this year.

Mayor Willett Won't Run for Re-Election

BIRMINGHAM—Mrs. Florence H. Willett, first woman to become mayor of Birmingham, has decided against seeking re-election when her term expires in April.

Mrs. Willett said, however, that she is not through with politics. She added that she wants to take an objective look at the community without making any of the decisions.

She said she feels the need of a "sabbatical leave" from city government, but still wants to serve especially in the area of community improvements.

Mrs. Willett was referring primarily to the proposed Central Business District Development Plan which will be discussed at a meeting of the City Commission and nine civic organizations Feb. 14.

The mayor was elected to a two-year term on the commission in April 1955. She was re-elected to three-year terms in 1957 and 1960.

Fellow commissioners elected her mayor pro tem in 1959 and the following year they named her mayor.

Besides Mrs. Willett's term, the terms of Commissioners William H. Burgum and William E. Roberts are expiring.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Feb. 18.

Jack L. Fawcett, Birmingham parking meter superintendent, is president of the Birmingham Kiwanis Club for 1963.

Serving with him are architect Bernard F. Reese, first vice president; city planner William R. Brownfield, second vice president.

"Because these programs are often addressed to complex problems in distant lands," Kennedy said, "their contribution to our security objectives is not always directly apparent, but it is nonetheless vital."

EXPLAINS CUTBACK

The reason for the $100 million drop: A $200 million boost in economic assistance will be more than offset by a $300 million cutback in overseas arms deliveries, which hit a peak this year.

Focusing on selective aid to self-helping, developing countries which can make the most use of it, Kennedy said bigger outlays for economic development loans and $1 billion for the Alliance for Progress program for Latin America will be accompanied by a decline in outright grants, or gifts.

The President said Red China's attack on India and the Communist guerrilla war in South Viet Nam were "current reminders" of the importance of aid, and that military aid was being directed more and more to the less developed free world countries.

world's principal bulwark against aggression. Our military forces are mighty but they must be further strengthened and modernized if we are to be able to resist any opponent, whatever his choice of weapons."

With 2,695,000 men in uniform, major elements of military might will be 19 Army and Marine Divisions, 873 combatant and supporting ships and more than 30,600 aircraft.

The eventual missile force will comprise about 1,850 Atlas, Titan, Minuteman and Polaris rockets, 1,600 of these to be operational by early 1966.

The new fiscal year will mark the first time in history, save three World War II years, that military spending has topped the $50 billion level.

WHAT IT'LL BUY

What will the huge military package buy? Kennedy ticked off these items:

—Additional land-based Minuteman ICBMs to be placed in dispersed sites, capable of withstanding a surprise attack and hitting back.

A defense spokesman said

150 additional Minutemen will be provided by the fiscal 1964 budget, to lift the planned total of the minuteman arsenal to 950.

—The financing for the last six of a total of 41 Polaris submarines. By the end of next fiscal year, 24 of these submarines with 384 missiles in their tubes will be in operation. The present Polaris fleet numbers 10.

—Improved air and missile defense forces. "High levels of effort will continue on developing a defense against missiles, including further testing of the Nike Zeus antimissile missile and initial development of the more advanced Nike-X surface-to-air missile," said Kennedy.

—A Civil Defense fallout shelter program which the President said would improve the chances that a large portion of the U.S. population would survive a nuclear attack.

Strengthened counter insurgency forces to help American allies deal with Communist subversion and covert aggression within their frontiers.

JFK to Name Dem as Board Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced yesterday his intention to appoint former Rep. Frank Kowalski, a Connecticut Democrat, as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Kowalski, 56, was elected congressman-at-large from Connecticut in 1958 and re-elected in 1960. Last year, he sought the Democratic nomination for the Senate but the party convention chose Abraham Ribicoff who won the Senate seat in the election.

Kowalski would succeed Thomas J. Donegan, whose term on the Subversive Activities Control Board has expired. The position pays $20,000 a year. Kowalski's term would end April 9, 1967.

Watch Correct Length of Skis

Skiing Tips by Tony Sailer

By TONY SAILER
Now that I have won you over to the idea of skiing, the next step is to get the right kind of equipment.

Apart from a complete set of clothes and winter underwear, you'll need ski boots, pants, parka and, of course, skis.

Altogether your bill will run to about $250 for skis and equipment bought in America. In Europe, it would cost about $120.

As a beginner, you don't have to have flashy skis and super-stretch pants. On the other hand, those lowest-priced skis won't live long enough to carry you as a champion.

Therefore I suggest you pick a medium-price ski, of laminated wood, or, if you have the cash, a fiber or metal ski.

One important thing is weight. Your skis shouldn't be too heavy because your legs at first won't be accustomed to such a weight. Metal and fiber skis, although about twice as expensive as laminated wooden skis, are easier to maneuver, especially in deep snow.

On hard-packed snow the difference between wood and metal or fiber is almost nil — for the beginner.

CHECK LENGTH

The other important thing is length. Normally, the ski tips should just nestle inside your wrist when your arm is raised.

However, people with little athletic aptitude should start out with shorter skis, which are easier to handle. A beginner's skis should be as long as he (or she) is tall.

One thing about short skis: Get rid of them once you are beyond the beginner's stage. Why? Because the better you ski, the faster you want to go.

Short skis have a tendency to start fluttering at a certain speed, giving you trouble in maneuvers, while long skis rest firmly on the ground even at high speed.

The brakes on your skis are knife-sharp steel bands mounted along the borders of the sole. They are called "edges."

The edges give the skis a grip on the snow and ice to prevent them from slipping out of control on a hard-packed surface.

SAFETY

The most important safety device, besides braking edges is the binding which holds the skis to your feet.

There are hundreds of various types in use, each with its advantages and disadvantages. Your binding shouldn't be too complicated because you don't want to waste your time fiddling around with screws and levers and locks.

But it should have a good safety spring which opens easily to prevent injury the moment your foot is twisted in a fall.

Your poles, light metal or bamboo, should just come up to your armpit.

Your boots should be high enough to come well above your ankles. This gives your feet support and protects sensitive tendons. Therefore the boots shouldn't be of too soft leather, while soft enough to avoid chafing.

Remember, your boots are one of the most important parts of your equipment. At first, you'll move like a diver in his lead boots on dry ground.

Here's a piece of advice: Before you go out skiing for the first time in a season, put your boots on and walk around for a while. You need this "walk-in" period to give your feet and circulation time to get accustomed to the weight and pressure.

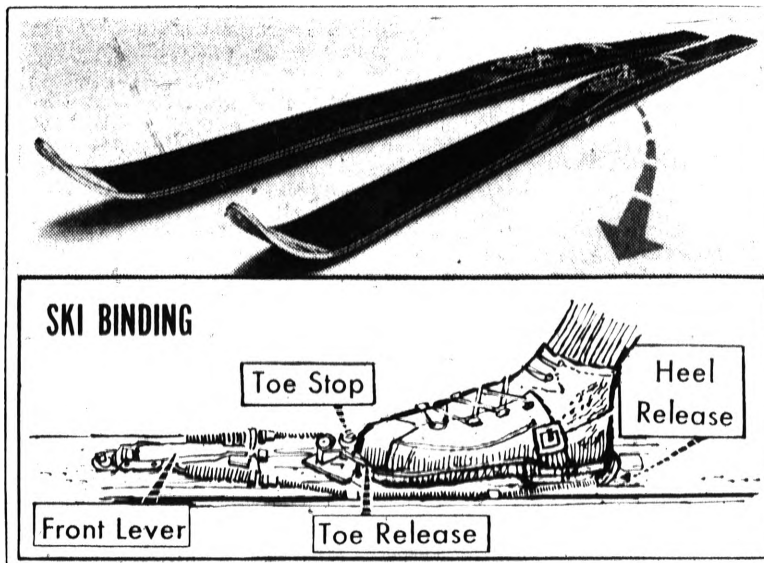

This is an old recipe of mine. I never failed to follow it before my medal-winning races.

The rest of your equipment is a matter of personal taste. Stretch pants are all right as long as they are made of water-repellent fabric. In cold weather you should wear a loose-fitting sweater under your parka.

Nylon parkas are common equipment now and indispensable.

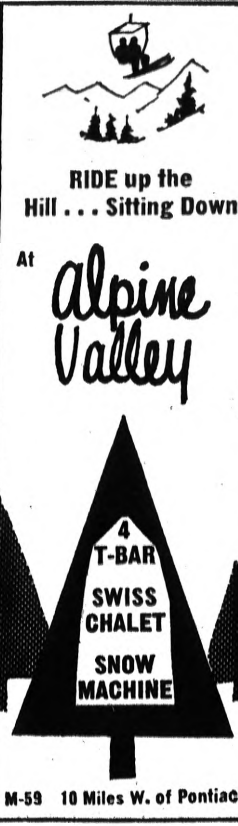

Boots should be high enough and tough enough for full support.

Skis should reach the wrist of your extended arm.

Slalom Event Saturday in Five Classes

Downhill Competition to Be Held on Sunday Starting 10:00 A.M.

The first local ski meet of the season will be held Saturday and Sunday when the 4th annual slalom and downhill meets will take place at Dryden Ski Area.

Events will be held in five classes and plaques will be presented to the top three places in each class.

Competition will begin at 10:00 a.m. each day. On Saturday, the slalom meet will take place for those 11 and under; 12 to 14; 15 to 17, 18 and over and 40 and over.

The races will be held on the slope behind the lodge, with freshly made snow covering the thick base atop the plastic snow which was covered during summer.

Sunday races will be for the same age groups in downhill and starting time is also 10:00 a.m.

Registration is $1.00 and advance registrations can be made by calling Dryden ski area at SW 63311. Entries will also be accepted up to the starting time of the event.
