K Accuses JFK of Threats on Berlin Proposals

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev tonight accused President Kennedy of meeting Soviet proposals on Germany with threats.

Khrushchev warned that if the United States begins a war the Soviet Union is capable of delivering a destructive blow to America and rendering U.S. allies harmless.

Khrushchev said Kennedy seemed to see only a challenge to the United States in the Soviet Union's proposals.

At turns conciliatory and bold, the Soviet premier at one point said any Communist blockade of West Berlin "is entirely out of the question."

He said it is "cruel lightmindedness" to think that any war in this age of nuclear weapons could be kept within bounds.

Such a spreading war, he declared, would bring war itself to the house of the American people, something that has not happened since the Civil War.

INSISTS ON TREATY

In a major radio-television address, the Soviet premier insisted a German peace treaty must be concluded without delay but added:

"We do not intend to infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western powers.

"Any barring of access to Berlin, any blockade of West Berlin is entirely out of the question."

He warned that the Soviet Union may mobilize reserves and send more troops to its Western frontier.

"Let us all down honestly at a round conference table, let us not fan up war psychosis," he said.

"Let us clear the atmosphere, let us rely on reason and not on the force of thermonuclear weapons."

OTHER COMMON SENSE

But he said common sense is not enough, and warned Western leaders not to "play with the destinies of the people of the world."

He complained that the President in his speech on Berlin last month "did not touch on the essence of our proposals for a peace treaty with Germany."

He said the President wrongly interpreted Russian gestures, "not as a plan to liquidate the past war but to start a new one."

Khrushchev said the American President in his speech last month replied to what he called peaceful Soviet proposals with a "resort to threats."

Among these he listed "the President's proposal for a 217,000-man increase in the armed forces of the United States."

"American senators were shouting for even higher appropriations," he said.

The premier then said "military hysteria is increasing in the United States."

RECALLS JULY NOTES

Recalling last month's American, British and French notes to Moscow on the Berlin question, Khrushchev said:

"Again the Western powers are trying to evade the conclusion of a peace treaty and counterpose to it the idea of the

King, Queen Contest Will Help Open Fair

The traditional king and queen contest and a special added attraction will highlight opening day events at the five-day annual Oakland County 4-H Fair tomorrow.

The fair, which represents the culmination of a year's work for over 1,500 Oakland County boys and girls, will be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

The fair opens for entries at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Judging of the 4-H king and queen will take place in a special program at 7:30 p.m.

The annual freckle contest, another popular feature of the fair, is also scheduled for the same program tomorrow evening following a welcoming address by Keith Middleton, president of the Oakland County 4-H Council.

A new feature this year will be the presentation of an outstanding registered Holstein cow to the boy or girl considered to have done most toward success of 4-H work in the county.

The award will be presented by Joe Hass, columnist for The Pontiac Press, who is inaugurating the project in memory of his late wife Winifred.

The "Man About Town" columnist for The Press said the project will be perpetuated as a foundation to his late wife who was interested in 4-H work during her lifetime.

The first heifer calf produced by the registered Holstein will be

Southfield Man Faces Charges

Plan to Defraud Loan Firm in Ferndale Is Charged in Court

A Southfield man was arraigned in Justice Court today on charges arising from what the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office calls a giant scheme to defraud a Ferndale loan company of more than $100,000.

Also, state police Detective Charles Leaf was holding warrants for the arrest of seven other suspects as the result of a six-months investigation in the case.

Warrants charge all eight men with obtaining money under false pretenses, conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses, and conspiracy to avoid paying the state sales tax.

Batten demanded an examination of the charges which was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 15 in Justice Court. Bond was set at $10,000.

The prosecutor's office said Batten is the leader of the alleged ring, which, according to Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome H. Barry Jr., bilked the General Public Loan Co., 22848 Woodward Ave., out of money between April 1960 and January 1961. The ring, Barry said, sold worthless retail sales contracts for household furniture and appliances.

They did this, said Barry, by setting up three now-defunct furniture companies in Ferndale, Royal Oak and Madison Heights and selling merchandise on contract "for plenty more than it was worth."

MAJ. GHERMAN TITOV

How's It Going? 'Fine-Goodnight'

MOSCOW (UPI) — "Goodby until we meet again before long, dear comrades and friends."

With these words, Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov, 26, stepped into his spacecraft and began the historic journey that would take him further than man had ever gone before.

As he continued to orbit the earth, Communist news sources gave out the following excerpts from his conversations with earth:

After 90 minutes: "Everything goes perfectly. Convey to comrade (Premier Nikita S.) Khrushchev that everything is in order aboard the ship."

After he had passed over Africa, Europe, North and South America, Asia and Australia and eaten a three-course lunch: "I am feeling fine."

Titov said he would sleep for 7½ hours last night. He appeared to be in good humor as he messaged good night while passing over Moscow.

"I WISH TO SAY GOOD NIGHT"

"In fact, everything you could wish yourselves (full comfort). Everything goes extremely well. Now I wish to say good night to you dear Muscovites.

"I am going to bed. Do whatever you may like to do — but I go to bed now," Titov was quoted as saying.

"Everything is in order in the capsule," he reported.

"Pressure is normal, pressure is good, humidity 70 per cent, temperature 18 centigrade (roughly 64 degrees fahrenheit) . . . full comfort . . . full comfort."

"From aboard the ship Vostok II Maj. Titov reported that he had a good sleep, all equipment on the ship functions normally, the predetermined hygienic conditions are maintained in the cabin, he is feeling perfectly well." Tass reported later.

Moscow radio said Titov tuned in and listened to Siberian songs when he was not working.

Premier Khrushchev laughingly told Titov that he sounded so well after his journeys around the earth it seemed as if he had just come back from a party.

Says He 'Feels Splendid' After 435,000-Mile Ride

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov landed safely today after more than 17 circuits of the earth in his space ship Vostok II and reported to Premier Khrushchev "I feel splendid."

The Premier promised a tremendous welcome to Moscow for the 26-year-old major, who traveled more than 700,000 kilometers (about 435,000 miles), roughly far enough to reach the moon and return. He was in the air 25 hours and 18 minutes.

"We shall congratulate and thank your parents at a personal meeting in Moscow," Khrushchev said in a telephone conversation from the Kremlin to Titov somewhere in the interior.

"We shall give you a worthy welcome in Moscow, as a whole people as a whole country."

As the first of the Soviet honors sure to follow, Khrushchev told Titov he was being promoted to full membership in the Communist party. The handsome major has been a candidate member.

Titov, son of a retired school teacher in Siberia, manually controlled this 5-ton space ship for periods up to an hour, slept more than eight hours, and ate three meals while enduring the space phenomenon of weightlessness, Moscow Radio said.

He circled the globe every 88.6 minutes in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 156.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

Moscow Radio said Titov landed in a predetermined area near where the first Soviet spaceman, Yuri Gagarin, touched down after his pioneer flight April 12. Gagarin, who made only one orbit of the earth, is believed to have landed about 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

Gagarin's route was longer, with

Titov Toast of Jubilant Muscovites

MOSCOW (UPI)—Maj. Gherman S. Titov, the first man to demonstrate that a trip to the moon is humanly possible, was the toast today of a jubilant Moscow preparing to give him a tremendous hero's welcome.

Persons on the streets stopped and slapped each other on the back and shouted the praises of the "orbital major."

It was reported the same everywhere else in the Soviet Union.

There was no immediate massing of crowds in Red Square as happened when Maj. Yuri Gagarin completed man's first round trip into space last April. But throughout the capital, shopping crowds and workers listened to loudspeakers pouring out details of the flight and of what Premier Nikita Khrushchev called Titov's "heroic deed."

Moscow radio and the television broadcast a steady stream of news, foreign comment and local reaction to the space flight.

BOOST COMMUNISM

The theme stressed by both media was that Titov's flight proved socialism (communism) better than capitalism.

Announcements on the flight and its successful completion were made at movie houses and other public gathering places and brought stormy applause.

Enthusiastic crowds filled the auditorium of the Moscow Planetarium to listen to lectures on the flights of Gagarin and Titov.

Soviet sources said a demonstration on Red Square would be organized for Titov when he returns to Moscow, probably later this week.

ROUTE OF VOSTOK II — The broken line shows the orbit of one of the flights of Vostok II around the earth as it carried the Soviets' second cosmonaut, Maj. Gherman S. Titov. This is the particular orbit in which the 5-ton spaceship passed over Washington, D.C. Altogether, the satellite circled the globe 17 times in 25 hours and 18 minutes, covering an approximate distance of 435,000 miles.

Millions in America Rise to News of Space First

From Our News Wires

Millions of Americans woke up today to find the Russians had completed another historic first in space.

Many praised Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov's 17 orbits of the earth in a 5-ton spaceship, completed at 2:18 (Pontiac time) while most of the nation was sound asleep. Some doubted the announcement. A few said "so what."

Official Washington took this second Soviet manned spaceship flight in stride. The general attitude was let's get on with our own space program.

Here and there an ominous note was struck—that the Soviet space success possibly portends a military threat to the United States. The consensus was that the Soviets had scored a major accomplishment.

Dr. Edwin D. Harrison, president of Georgia Institute of Technology, described Titov's flight as a "remarkable demonstration of both scientific and engineering capabilities."

Atlanta Civil Defense Director Elliott R. Jackson said, "The Russians' ability to put a man in space circling the earth for this many hours may mean they have greater capabilities in the missile field than we first thought. This feat should make us ponder.

"We must get moving on all fronts," Jackson said. Many Americans agreed.

DOUBTS ANNOUNCEMENT

But Mrs. Frances Doyle, a San Francisco auditor, said she was inclined to doubt the Soviet announcement.

"How do we know how many

Kennedy Discusses Russ Space Feat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew back to the capital today after a Cape Cod weekend during which he charted United Nations strategy with Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and discussed the latest Soviet space achievement with the U.N. envoy.

Afterward Stevenson reported he and the President agreed the feat points up the need for international control of outer space.

Soggy Show in Wisner Lake

Downpour Beats Lions

Jupiter Pluvious won the Lions' dress rehearsal scrimmage Saturday night at Wisner Stadium.

He opened with heavy showers, dropped easily into torrential rains and wound up with a cloud burst that washed out the whole show.

But the Lions may be back next year.

When President Edwin J. Anderson arrived, he said: "Why, we can't even start." Then the Lions' boss walked into the stadium and discovered thousands of fans. "This," said, he, "is incredible."

In the dressing room Anderson and the coaching staff asked the players what they thought. Alex Karras spoke up and said: "With all the people this loyal to us, let's give it a whirl."

The others agreed.

"We'd like to try it again next year," said President Anderson.

A. C. Girard, president of The Community National Bank said he was willing to underwrite the affair again and Co-Chairman Richard M. Fitzgerald of the Jaycees, said he was sure his organization would cooperate.

Those four lovely girls?

Oh, they were here. They had a rousing luncheon with a lot of Jaycees, attended a buffet dinner and were "ready to go" if someone had called their signal.

But J. Pluvious settled that.

Echo Schedule

There'll be an Echo overhead tonight — an Echo satellite, that is. It'll make four passes, appearing first at 9:35 p.m. to the north, 71 degrees above the horizon, moving northeast. The other times: 11:29 p.m., to the north, up 70 degrees, going southeast; 1:44 a.m., south, 66 degrees, southeast; 3:54 a.m., south, 8 degrees, southeast.

State Agencies Told to Tighten Belts

LANSING (AP) — State agency heads were told today to submit tight budget requests for 1962-63 by Sept. 15 and to include all fringe benefits as part of the regular salary budget.

The legislature turned down a lump-sum request for fringe benefits, including health insurance and a pay raise, this year.

Ministers Give Reds Warning on Berlin Issue

From Our News Wires

PARIS—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the allied foreign ministers today there were increasing hopes for peace on the East-West front in Southeast Asia.

The assurances came after the British, French, and U. S. foreign ministers had issued a sharp hands-off warning to Russia on the Berlin issue.

The Western Big Four ministers made clear they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move" to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Rusk and the other foreign ministers said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

Rusk told British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville that the United States feels the situation in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam has eased and there were good chances of an early settlement of the Laos conflict.

The foreign ministers today ended a day ahead of schedule, the conference they opened Saturday on the Berlin crisis and other East-West issues.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, who took part in the Berlin talks, was not present for the wind-up conference on policy for Asia and Africa.

Conference spokesman said Rusk told Home and Couve de Murville the United States "feels better" about Viet Nam following steps taken by the West to bolster the government of anti-Communist Premier Ngo Dien Diem.

Berlin to Assist East Commuters

Will Give Them More of Their Earnings In Western Currency

BERLIN (AP)—The city government of West Berlin decided today to help commuters who live under Communist rule and work in West Berlin by giving them more of their earnings in hard Western currency.

A final decision on the amount was withheld pending a study of just how much heavier the cost of living will be for these commuters under new Communist rules.

The Communists have ruled that these commuters must pay rent and other bills in Western currency. The East German currency is worth only one-fifth that of West Germany's.

On the average, those who live in the East and work in West Berlin get 40 per cent of their pay in Western money and the rest in East German currency.

The city government also decided in cooperation with the Allied occupation authorities to check the 14,000 people who live in West Berlin and work in the Communist East sector. The city's wage compensation fund charges their earnings into Western currency for them at a favorable rate.

The East Germans claimed large numbers of commuters are [illegible] by their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work in the Eastern sector.

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries—especially East Germany.

Perfect Weather Around Country, Few Wet Spots

By The Associated Press

There were some wet spots in the South and West but generally pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Skies were clear in most of the Midwest, the Ohio Valley, wide areas of the Great Lakes and the middle and upper Atlantic coast. Some light rain fell in parts of western New York.

Cloudy and showery weather covered sections across Virginia and North Carolina to extreme northern Georgia and Alabama. Moist air flowing over the Gulf region brought cloudy skies and thunderstorms during the night in the Southeast. Hail hit some areas.

Arab League Force May Help Kuwait

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Arab League force of 2,500 to 5,000 men will be ready to replace British troops in Kuwait late this month or early next, reliable sources reported today.

The informants said the size of the force depends on talks in Kuwait today between an Arab League military mission and the ruler of the oil-rich sheikdom, Sheik Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah.

The mission stopped off in Saudi Arabia Sunday night to discuss the position of Saudi Arabian forces sent to the sheikdom after Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem threatened to annex it.

SPACEMAN AND SPOUSE—This photo of Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov and his wife Tamara Vasilyevna was released today in Moscow following the government announcement of Titov's successful completion of an orbital flight of the earth. Mrs. Titov, 24, waited a "long" 25 hours before learning her husband had landed safely after orbiting the earth more than 17 times. No indication was given when the picture was made.

Reports to K That Space Okay

Titov shortly after the cosmonaut landed successfully.

Khrushchev also spoke with Maj. Yuri Gagarin, the first Soviet spaceman, within minutes after his flight ended last April.

Tass said Khrushchev was receiving the Argentine ambassador at the Kremlin when he was told that Titov had just landed and wanted to talk to him and report personally on the flight.

"I am very pleased," Khrushchev was quoted by Tass as telling the Argentine envoy, and told him: "You, too, can be a witness of our conversation with the spaceman."

'I AM LISTENING'

As Tass reported it, this is what then took place:

Khrushchev picked up the phone and said, "I am listening to you."

TITOV: "Well said, Nikita Sergeivitch. There was a feast—but not a wedding one."

Tass said both laughed at this exchange.

KHRUSHCHEV: "A feast, that is true, but not a wedding feast. For the newly married a wedding feast is the happiest time. But what you have done, this is a happy time for the whole of mankind."

TITOV: "Thank you, Nikita Sergeivitch."

'UNPRECEDENTED VOYAGE'

KHRUSHCHEV: "You have carried out an unprecedented cosmic voyage. How many circuits of the earth did you do?"

TITOV: "Seventeen and a half, Nikita Sergeivitch."

KHRUSHCHEV: "In how many hours?"

TITOV: "In 25 hours and some minutes." (It was officially announced as 25 hours, 18 minutes.)

KHRUSHCHEV: "Twenty-five hours and some minutes! This is a heroic deed. You have fulfilled mankind's dream. Not so long ago the dream of man's cosmic flight was considered not feasible.

"We are proud that you, a Soviet man, a Communist, have done it. You are now no longer a candidate member of the party.

"Consider that your probationary period has already ended, because every moment of your stay in space can be counted as years.

"You have already completed your probationary period for party membership and have shown that you are a real Communist and can hold high the banner of Lenin."

TITOV: "Many thanks, Nikita Sergeivitch, I shall try to justify the confidence of the party and promise to continue to fulfill the lofty duties of a party member as I have fulfilled them today."

KHRUSHCHEV: "Very well. I congratulate you and your parents, your father and mother, for having brought you up as such a brave Soviet man."

VOWS WORTHY WELCOME

KHRUSHCHEV: "We shall congratulate and thank your parents at a personal meeting in Moscow. We shall give you a worthy welcome in Moscow, as a whole people, as a whole country."

TITOV: "I sincerely thank you, Nikita Sergeivitch, and I thank the party and the government."

KHRUSHCHEV: "I wish you success. Go and rest. You have earned your rest."

TITOV: "I am now going to have my rest, Nikita Sergeivitch."

KHRUSHCHEV: "All the best. I wish you good health. We are watching for your return to Moscow. Au revoir."

Cosmonaut Down Safely

Titov told Khrushchev that "after the landing, I drank a little water, and I feel splendid."

Before the telephone call, Khrushchev sent Titov a message of congratulations on his "heroic deed," saying the feat "has shown once again what Soviet man, educated by the Communist party, is able to do."

"Until we meet soon in Moscow," Khrushchev concluded, indicating the government was planning a triumphal welcome to the capital for Titov like the one that greeted Gagarin after his space flight.

The Soviet Cabinet and the Presidium and Central Committee of Parliament, in a message to the peoples and governments of the world, said: "The time is not far away when the way will be paved to the moon, Mars and Venus, and new perspectives will open to mankind in the mastery of the cosmos."

REPEATS MESSAGE

Over and over again Titov kept sending word back to earth that he was in great shape — "Am feeling fine. I feel excellent under conditions of weightlessness. Ship-shape order on board."

The historic flight proved that a man can undergo the rigors of a flight to the moon without excessive ill effect.

The Soviets said the purpose of the flight was to study the effects on a human being of prolonged orbital flight and the descent to the earth's surface.

Many Western observers surmised that the flight had been timed to reinforce Soviet Premier Khrushchev's drive to end the Western allied occupation of West Berlin and particularly the threats to Berlin Khrushchev is expected to make in a major broadcast tonight.

Like Gagarin's flight, Titov's was greeted in both the Western and Communist world with praise for the Soviet scientific achievement. Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, termed it "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

EVIDENCE OF LEAD

Several West European newspapers said the flight was more evidence of the Soviet lead over the United States in the space race. But the news of Titov's flight was accepted calmly in Washington. Space officials and others showed no surprise.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, after talking with President Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., said the flight "sharpens the need for some action to regulate use of outer space and to keep the arms race from spreading to that field." Stevenson is chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

George M. Low, chief of the American manned flight program said it would be "quite some time yet" before the United States can duplicate the Soviet achievement. He said the American program was going as fast as it can and expressed doubt that Titov's epic flight would lead to any change in it.

Throughout his flight, the Soviets said, the handsome, wavy-haired Titov was kept in view from earth by television and while awake he maintained constant two-way radio communication.

He was in a smiling, happy-go-lucky mood throughout the trip, once wisecracking in a message to Muscovites: "I wish you had it so good."

man they sent up that we didn't hear about. I don't think it means that they have any better equipment. I think America still leads them all."

Mark Lovrien, a San Francisco elevator operator, said the United States had sent two astronauts on sub-orbital flights and the Russians "shot up two so everybody ought to be happy." He added: "It didn't change my life either way."

Typical of the let's-be-calm mood in Washington was the remark of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

"We shall do it in due course in equal and even larger degrees. Our space progress has been excellent and will pick up steam as it goes along," Dirksen said.

SEE DARK SIDE

Truck Local Set to Construct Hall

UAW 594 Planning $200,000 Building on East Boulevard

General Motors Truck & Coach Local 594, UAW, is beginning a new $200,000 hall on East Boulevard, a few blocks north of the GMC plant.

Construction should get under way in a few days and be completed in January, according to Andy Wilson, local president.

The building program, financed on a pay-as-you-go basis, will provide a bigger meeting place closer to the plant, said Wilson.

General contractors for the one-story brick building on the east side of East Boulevard between Midway and Wilson Street is Hickman-Costigan Co. of Detroit. Sylvan Plumbing & Heating Co. also is a contractor.

The building program is a long-time ambition of the 5,700-member local and of its executive officers. The land was purchased in 1955 and recently rezoned for the use.

For more than 20 years the local has been headquartered at 99 Mt. Clemens St. in downtown Pontiac. Parking facilities there have been limited.

The new hall will seat 450 persons, said Wilson. It will have offices and kitchen facilities for banquets inside and parking space for more than 80 cars, he said.

Wilson said the building costs will be paid out of a building fund accumulated over a period of many years through per capita tax on the membership.

Now all three big United Auto Workers locals in Pontiac will have new headquarters buildings. Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW, got a new building in 1953 and Fisher Body Local 598, UAW, moved into new quarters last year.

Presentation will be made tomorrow night when the 4-H king and queen and freckles champion are chosen.

The big feature on Wednesday will be a gala parade through Pontiac by members of the County 4-H Club at 11:30 p.m.

Activities will get under way at the fairgrounds on Wednesday at 9 a.m. when home economics exhibits, poultry, rabbits and general exhibits are to be judged.

A plowing contest is slated for 9:30 p.m. after which 4-H members will prepare for the parade.

A tractor operating contest and competition in automobile driving will start at 3 p.m.

PROCESSION OF FLOATS

Wednesday's evening program at the fairgrounds will include a procession of floats which took part in the parade through Pontiac.

It also will feature a 4-H talent show, special contest events open to all members and the awarding of trophies to those who won championships during the day's competition.

Judging will begin at 9 a.m. on the other three days the fair is held. The special evening programs will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Day in Birmingham

Traffic Safety Conclave Set for Bloomfield Twp.

BIRMINGHAM—The first of six "governor's conferences" on traffic safety will be held Aug. 18 at Devon Gables in Bloomfield Township.

Birmingham Mayor Florence H. Willett will serve as coordinator of the program which is part of a continuing statewide effort to conduct highway safety discussions and accelerate action on a community level.

State Safety Commission Chairman James M. Hare will be the keynote speaker at most of the regional meetings which also will be held this month at Sturgis, Muskegon, Cadillac, Alpena and Houghton.

"In cooperation with local committees we are planning to bring to citizens the most recent information on techniques and practices for combatting the rising toll of traffic fatalities and crippling accidents," Hare explained.

"Among the subjects to be explored will be the problems we face in the chemical testing program for intoxicated drivers and a review of proposed safety legislation for 1962," the secretary of state added.

"A successful safety program requires grass-roots support in every community. We hope that this year's conferences will help local safety committees put on a spirited community campaign to reduce accidents on their local roads and highways."

Among the safety technicians, civic leaders and public officials who will participate are Gov. Swainson, members of the State Administrative Board Fletcher Platt of the Citizen's Action Committee, and local judges, police chiefs and safety officials.

Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Mosley has been named to the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

Mosley was notified of his appointment by J. Willard Welsh, president of the organization.

A union spokesman said the votes were unanimous in all three Michigan cities. There was no immediate report from 17 other cities across the country in which GM local leaders also held weekend strategy meetings.

self-determination of the German and the reunification of Germany."

Self-determination, Khrushchev said, is a slogan now constantly on the lips of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who interprets it as a swallowing of East Germany.

He accused the Western countries of bad faith in proposing a settlement through a plan permitting self-determination by the German people.

He said the Western powers were interfering in the internal affairs all over the world.

"They tried to strangle the Cuban revolution," he said.

SHOULD AVOID COLLISION

Khrushchev declared East and West are roughly equal in military might.

Then he said the key aim of international policies should be to avoid a collision between the Soviet Union and the United States.

"Such a collision would have the most serious consequences," he warned.

Later in a discussion of the increasing importance of West Germany in the Atlantic Alliance Khrushchev remarked:

He said that only a peace treaty with the two Germanys could prevent these flames from igniting.

Khrushchev accused the West of using the Berlin problem as a pretext—"What they want is to impose their will on the countries of the Socialist camp."

About two million volunteer workers are enrolled in Red Cross activities.

UAW Returns to Table Talk

Hints Strike Deadline Sept. 3 by Increasing Benefits Then

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union went back to bargaining tables at General Motors and Ford today after hinting at its deadline for a settlement by increasing strike benefits effective Sept. 3.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said Saturday that union leaders voted an increase of $3 across the board in benefits to be paid out of the union's strike fund. He said the fund will reach $42 million by Aug. 31, expiration date of the union's contract with GM, Ford and Chrysler.

The benefits, payable the third week of a strike, would be paid with the week beginning Sept. 17 if a strike developed. Present benefits are $15 a week for a single worker, $17 for couples and $22 for families through the seventh week of a strike.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, also bargaining with GM, said its 25,000 members in GM's appliance plants will strike when its contract runs out Sept. 1 unless a settlement is reached or is in sight.

The UAW and Chrysler held the first Saturday session of the 1961 bargaining session over the weekend and then recessed until tomorrow.

Bargaining at American Motors is in recess until Aug. 22. The union is studying a profit-sharing plan offered by AMC.

The plan also calls for the UAW to give up the cost of living escalator clause and the annual improvement factor contained in the present contract.

Also passed and sent to the President was a measure under which the secretary of the Army could give troop command assignment to Medical Corps officers.

Walter A. Newton, 16, of 2762 Hartline Road, Avon Township, suffered multiple bruises and possible fractures when his car rolled over on a dirt road in Pontiac Township Sunday evening.

He told deputies that he didn't know what caused the mishap on Squirrel Road north of Butler Road.

Newton was admitted to Avon Center Hospital. A passenger, Gerald W. Taylor, 19, of 2874 Woodelm Road, Avon Township, was treated for minor injuries and released.

Red Spy Dr. Soblen Given Life in Prison

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Robert Soblen, convicted Soviet spy, was sentenced today to life in prison.

Soblen, ashen faced and seriously ill, groaned as Federal Court Judge William B. Herlands pronounced sentence. Then the physician collapsed in the arms of two deputy marshals.

His sister, Mrs. Anya Chasin, threw her arms above her head and screamed, "Oh, my God! Oh my God! Help me, help me."

Sobbing and with her face hid in a handkerchief, Soblen's wife Dina was assisted to a corridor in the back of the court room where Soblen had been carried seconds before.

Five Detroiters Fined for Conduct on Cass Lake

Five Detroit men arrested by the sheriff's water patrol Friday for being drunk in a motorboat on Cass Lake pleaded guilty before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daly Saturday.

Detroit Youth Shot in Target Practice

An 18-year-old Detroit boy was shot accidentally while target shooting on a Holly Township farm Sunday afternoon.

Kenneth Gentile, 18, of Detroit suffered a superficial back wound when hit by a 22-caliber bullet.

His 17-year-old brother Paul and Bill Conti, 17, of 501 Broad St., Holly, told sheriff's deputies they both fired simultaneously at a target not knowing the victim was standing near it.

Tax Exemption for Foundations Grows 'Unfair'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of tax-exempt foundations in the United States has more than tripled in the last eight years, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the House Patman called the tax exemption of the foundations "unfair and dangerous" and urged a government study of the foundations' influence on the economy.

He said figures furnished by the Treasury Department show the number of foundations filing for tax exemption rose from 12,295 in 1952 to 45,124 last year.

* * *

Many of them have huge stockholdings in major corporations, he said, through which they acquire control of company policies.

Says Press Overrates Jimmy Hoffa Menace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg says Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's "position in America has been somewhat exaggerated by the nation's press."

Goldberg, a former union lawyer said in an interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., taped for television and radio broadcast by New York stations:

"I have great confidence in the membership of American unions, including the membership of the Teamsters Union . . . I think if Mr. Hoffa overreaches himself there will be a corrective from within."

Tunisia Slowly Drifting From West to Red East

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Soberly and without apparent enthusiasm, Tunisia is slowly drifting away from the West toward the Communist East.

Bitterness at lack of Western support in Tunisia's crisis with France over the Bizerte base prompted hither-to pro-Western Tunisia to appeal for Soviet aid. Promptly, the Soviet Union promised all aid that "Tunisia may deem necessary to liberate its territory." As the first step, credits its equivalent to $28 million have been promised for technical assistance.

In big headlines, the government-controlled Tunis press reported the Soviet moves in Tunisia's favor.

PICTURES OF K

Pictures of Soviet Premier Khrushchev were printed on the front pages where several days ago the papers carried photographs of President Kennedy, not long ago the only statesman to whom most Tunisians thought of appealing for help.

Now, government personalities and private citizens were saying: "We could either sink or go to the East for help. You cannot blame us for choosing the latter."

Le Petit Matin, a newspaper closely tied with the ruling Neo-Destour party, carried a lengthy communique of the Tunisian Communist party—hitherto a virtually meaningless political group here.

The communique assailed "the imperialist solidarity" of Western allies and described the United States as the "leader of the world's imperialist forces."

Analyzing the fate of Tunisia in the wake of the Bizerte battle, the influential weekly Afrique Action concluded that for the time being Tunisia and other African nations should refuse cooperation with the West.

Airliner Crashes Near Budapest

All 24 Aboard Killed; Observers Feel Report Delayed for Spaceman

VIENNA (UPI) — A Hungarian airliner crashed in a Budapest suburb Sunday, killing all 24 persons on board, Budapest radio announced today.

Western observers here speculated that the official announcement of the crash, which took place while Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov was aloft, was deliberately delayed until after his successful landing was disclosed.

The victims included 20 passengers and a crew of four.

While the announcement did not say so, the victims were believed to have been aboard a DC3 type aircraft used by the Hungarian Malev Airlines, which conducts Sunday sightseeing tours over Budapest.

The Malev Airlines uses a number of old Soviet-built planes and small Western-built aircraft. For its long runs, Malev uses exclusively Russian-built passenger planes.

The radio broadcast said the Hungarian Ministry for Post and Transportation has ordered an immediate investigation into the cause of the crash.

Chews Up Check When Questioned in Supermarket

She is Phyllis S. Viera, 40, no known address, who is accused of passing worthless checks in Detroit.

She was arrested at Wrigley's, 538 N. Perry St., when she tried to cash a check drawn on the Concord Steel Erection Co. of Detroit for $146.39.

Store employes had received a warning from their Detroit offices that the checks had been forged.

George Washburn, the manager, said the women tore the check up and chewed it when he started to question her.

Number Killed by Guns in Home Increasing

The number of guns in Michigan homes has never been accurately estimated, and probably never will be. But the number of persons killed by them is known, and this figure is climbing tragically.

It isn't enough any more to keep guns unloaded and away from youngsters. Children have seen enough gunplay on television so that they can load most weapons, after a fashion.

The additional precaution of keeping the ammunition out of sight is important. Keeping the two disaster ingredients separated will prevent many of the deaths.

A basic question to be considered is why so many people want or need guns in their homes, particularly revolvers and automatic pistols. Hunting weapons, in this area, are understandable. But are there so many persons living in fear that they need hand guns for their own protection?

More likely, they are insecure people in an insecure world symbolizing their desire to be strong by possessing a powerful weapon.

Reserves' True Worth Shown in Berlin Alert

The true value of the armed forces reserve units is shown in the current alert over Berlin. In a matter of hours, experienced units were ready to shuck off their civilian status and take up their weapons.

These part-time warriors have not let their grim skills gather rust since the last shooting action. Experienced veterans have been keeping pace with the latest developments by attending weekly or monthly training sessions.

Younger men who have put in their obligated period of service join the units when they return to civilian life, bringing new techniques into play.

The Government has spent a generous amount of the taxpayers' funds to keep reserve outfits ready to go, and now we are getting some of the benefits we paid for.

Chicago's Vote Fraud Cases Go Unpunished

Chicago's vote fraud cases end dismally by wholesale dismissals from an imported Judge.

In commenting on the situation, The Chicago Tribune says:

"Judge JOHN MARSHALL KARNS, the Democratic jurist who was imported from East St. Louis to preside over Chicago's vote fraud trials, can go home with the sure knowledge that he has set a record. In the last five weeks, KARNS has managed to dismiss contempt charges against all 677 election officials accused of irregularities in last November's election, without ever permitting the prosecution to present the full evidence against them.

"This means that fraud which conceivably cost Vice President Nixon Illinois' electoral votes—he lost by only 8,858 ballots — will go unpunished. It means that a license to steal elections in Cook county cannot yet be punched 'void.'

"KARNS freed one batch of several hundred because, he said, there was not 'sufficient evidence to show there was fraudulent intent on their part.' He added, 'It's the only thing I can do.'

"Another small army went free when Karns ruled that evidence of any tampering with paper ballots could not be used against them, because the 'sanctity of the ballot' had been violated in the official recheck made by the election commissioners.

"Attorneys pointed out in vain that the recheck was specified by law, and had been made by officials authorized to perform it under the watchful eyes of both political parties.

"In tossing out the last of the vote fraud cases Judge KARNS charged that MORRIS J. WEXLER, special state's attorney in the fraud cases, had 'misused' court processes by issuing grand jury subpoenas for these persons and others who became defendants, and questioning them in the Criminal courts building without taking them before the grand jury.

"Such evidence, the judge said, was derived 'in violation of the legal rights of citizens.'

"Wexler offered to abandon the statements he had taken from the defendants and proceed with other evidence against them, but Karns refused. When Wexler hotly complained that Illinois law held no precedent for dismissing cases without examination of the evidence, Karns snapped: 'You have one now.'"

Tomorrow Is the Coming Out Time for Freckles

This column's fourth annual Freckle Contest takes place Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the Oakland County 4-H Club Fair. A $30 U.S. savings bond is the prize. There is no entry fee, and the contest is open to all boys and girls. All that is necessary is to be present when the contest is announced from the platform, and step forward and take your place in the mottled line.

The judging is to be done by some very competent freckle experts, and that $50 may be yours. Anyway, it costs nothing to try, and you'll meet some other good youngsters, and give your freckles a chance.

The opportunity to win out has been enhanced by the illness of a Pontiac girl who looks like an unbeatable champion, and whose mother phones me that she will be unable to attend.

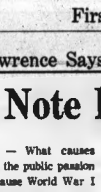
David Lawrence Says:

Russ Note Holds Ferment of War

IN EUROPE — What causes wars? What was the public passion that helped to cause World War I in 1914 and World War II in 1939? Curiously enough, the latest Soviet note to the United States government raises unwittingly the very point that could someday give motivation to World War III.



LAWRENCE

For underlying the public opinion of France in 1914 was a spirit of revenge aroused by the seizure of her Alsace-Lorraine provinces when German armies triumphed in 1870. A vengeful feeling kept building up in France for generations thereafter.

Likewise, in 1929, the same spirit of revenge had festered for 20 years inside Germany over the terms imposed after its defeat in 1918. It was this that gave Hitler his chance to rally an embittered people.

Today the Soviet government apparently is not yet aware of what the spirit of revenge can do inside a defeated nation. For the latest Soviet note uses at least a half-dozen times the French word for revenge — "revanche" — in seeking to bolster an argument that really should be turned around.

For wouldn't a divided Germany give the German people in the next several years a constant reminder of their defeat and keep burning the fires of revenge against Russia?

France, in contrast, does not fear West Germany but is actually forming an economic and political union with the free government at Bonn.

The Soviet note, however, points out that "militarists and revanchists are again growing strong in Western Germany," and then adds:

"Before everybody's eyes, Western Germany is becoming a seat of war danger in Europe . . . the bundeswehr (militia) is being trained as an army being formed and designed to wage a rocket-nuclear war . . ." The work of scientific-technical thought conducted in the quiet of studies and laboratories has been placed at the service of the bundeswehr. But it is general knowledge that in our times some laboratories are much more dangerous than military barracks . . .

"If we multiply the military-material bases of the Federal Republic of Germany by the militarist and revanchist spirit which, like a quarter of a century ago, permeates all spheres of the state and public life, the gravemess of the danger created by the present developments in the Federal Republic of Germany will become self-evident. The population of West Germany lives in an atmosphere of rampant revanchist passions."

But the Soviet Union overlooks entirely the deep-seated feeling which arises within any patriotic people when 17,000,000 persons of the same flesh and blood are kept in bondage by a foreign government.

All the sympathy which the Soviets profess to have for the colonial peoples in Africa and Asia seems hypocritical when the feelings of a civilized and efficient people like those in Germany are disregarded as they yearn for the restoration of their homeland.

Instead, the Soviet note now attempts to justify a perpetuation of the division of the German people by claiming that East and West Germany are already two different nations — one Communist and the other capitalistic. The note says on this point:

"They (the two Germanys) are separated by deep-differences in the internal way of life, in other words, by deep-going social differences. To try and counterpoise the slogah of self-determination to the struggle inside a nation for social progress means to juggle with concepts. If we are to speak of the social system, and this is precisely the matter to be discussed, in connection with the formation of two independent states instead of former Germany, both these states have long since made their choice."

And who made the "choice" for them? The Soviet Union stands convicted before the world of having given in our times the biggest single impetus to "revanchism" — the spirit of revenge against Russia—that modern history can record.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Avoid Daily Use of Drugs That Drop Blood Pressure

Written for NEA

According to estimates published by a prominent manufacturer of blood pressure-reducing drugs (antihsatives), about six million Americans suffer with hypertension, some 95 in each thousand city dwellers and 118 of each thousand who live in rural communities.

And, since the statement is also made that life expectancy is lowered in persons with elevated blood pressures, the "running reader" might be lead to conclude that at least one means for prolonging life is through a steady diet of antitensive pills.

Not being a running reader, I shudder at the prospect of six million fellow citizens swallowing, with more or less regularity, daily doses of any of the presently available drugs capable of effecting a significant and sustained fall in blood pressure.

Here are some of the reasons for my reservations and fears:

Those who rely on statistics for their medical information variously assert that hypertension is evidenced when the blood pressure reading is over 119/73, more than 123/78 or in excess of 140/90 or 160/95.

Not only is there a considerable difference of opinion as to what constitutes high blood pressure, but, also, many variables influence mass statistical studies.

For example, the squat 5 by 5 is apt to have a level that is normally higher than the lanky bean pole. Women run higher than men. And the level rises as we get older, or heavier or both older and heavier.

Then, of course, there are the variables introduced by the circumstances present during the individual reading.

The machine will record a higher level when we're lying flat than when we're standing; when the reading is made in a busy office or clinic than when it's made at home; when it's made by a stranger such as an insurance examiner or an induction officer, than when it's made by the family physician; or when the observation is recorded when we're in a state of excitement rather than relaxed.

Finally, since there is general agreement that in 95 per cent of cases, the cause for the hypertension is unknown ("essential hypertension") and in most of the remaining 5 per cent the cause is hardening of the arteries, it must be concluded that none of the blood pressure-reducing drugs actually influences the cause for the disturbance which remains unchanged whatever the level of the reading.

I'll have more to say on hypertension later.

'Have You Tried to Obtain Shelter Against Fallout?'

My husband and I purchased our fallout shelter last fall because we wanted it then, not some undetermined time in the future, if and when one is developed that doesn't leak. The thought of our little boys dying from radiation burns haunts us day and night.

How many of you have tried to protect your families? It's not pleasant to think about war and its hideous destruction, but don't bury your head in the sand. Are Americans so pleasure-loving and soft they can't face reality? We at least tried to obtain proper shelter. Can you say the same?

'Crane's All Wet About This Issue'

Much as I enjoy Dr. Crane, he's all wet about wives being cold creatures who want nothing more from their husbands than a kind word and a hug and a kiss now and then. He may be interviewing a different generation, but most of the women I know would find that kind of a marriage woefully lacking. I hope husbands don't take his advice.

'Must We Again Forgive Brutes?'

I suppose the "spare the prisoner" club will rush into action and plead for leniency for the airplane hijackers. One was only 16 and the other hadn't even reached 40. I'm sure "they didn't know what they were doing and they should be paroled to some kindly old lady who can teach them right from wrong and instruct them in the errors of their ways." Let's continue to be saps where lawbreakers are concerned.

M. C. A.

One of the hijackers had a long prison record and his latest brought him a five-year-to-life sentence, but he was "out on parole." We usually parole the vicious ones, the killers and the maniacs. You know, the do-gooders feel so sorry for them and their unhappy days in a cruel prison.

'Present Showing Tells the Story'

Does anyone in his right mind wonder why new business refuses to come to Michigan or why businesses move out? One powerful reason is demands and attitude of the UAW demonstrated by its present high-handed contract bargaining with business.

Teamsters' plans to move headquarters to Michigan are surely no invitation to business, either. As a Michigan resident for over 50 years, I could weep for the present condition of this once-proud and prosperous state.

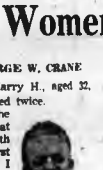
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Lists Women's Basic 'Hungers'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-461: Harry H., aged 32, has been divorced twice.

"Dr. Crane," he protested, "what is wrong with me? In my first marriage, I thought my wife was largely to blame.



DR. CRANE

"But after my second divorce, I am wondering if maybe it is my fault.

"How can a man be sure his marriage will be a permanent affair?"

5 HUNGERS

There are five basic hungers of a wife that must be fairly well satisfied if a husband is to be sure he will have a permanently happy home.

Before I mention them, however, I'd like to suggest that if more of you men would seek the help of our Scientific Marriage Foundation, you would meet better matrimonial prospects.

The divorce batting average of the Scientific Marriage Foundation is less than one per cent against a national average of about 20 per cent.

Therein we introduce couples of the same religion, educational background, ideals, hobbies, etc., so most of the basic patterns are alike.

If they then fall in love, they need not fret about serious feuds AFTER the wedding because of difference in race, religion, hobbies, etc.

Now for the five basic hungers of a wife; first, she craves daily compliments to keep her ego properly inflated.

Compliments may be verbal, as when you tell her in words that you appreciate her cooking, or the non-verbal type wherein you smile happily when you reach home and give her a movie type of kiss.

A man who praises his wife seldom will lose her, even if he fails to satisfy the remaining four hungers adequately, for women want words!

WOMEN WANT WORDS

"Dr. Crane," thousands of wives thus have protested, "I feel as if I shall go berserk if my husband doesn't quit being a Sphinx.

"He doesn't talk enough. He slumps in front of TV or reads the paper and his entire evening vocabulary is 'huh' and 'uhhuh.' I could scream!"

Men, your wives want words, especially saccharine, complimentary ones. It's also much cheaper to pay a daily bit of praise than a monthly alimony check!

The second hunger of wives is for affection. But they are not passionate creatures as measured by the masculine standard.

A kiss and hug are usually all they crave, so here is where the big sex difference exists between the sexes.

Those evidences of affection are the "end" of a pleasant movie date in the mind of the average wife, but are regarded as just the "appetizer" for the husband.

Woman's third basic hunger is for "mother" something. This is preferably a child of her own, or youngsters in a Sunday School class or Scout Troop.

You see it extended to cats, dogs, canaries and even the spinster's flowers, for women have an innate craving to be caretakers and coddlers.

WOMEN ARE IDEALISTS

Their fourth hunger is for religion. Women are the real backbone of all churches, for they are naturally altruistic.

When husbands stifle their wives' desire to work in a church, they are choking one of her basic feminine urges. That's dangerous.

A final hunger of women is for social acceptance. They like friends and conversation. Women are more inclined to verbalize or talk than are men. So they relish belonging to social groups and mingling with people.

(See tomorrow's follow-up.)

U. of M. Radio Relayed Voice of Red in Orbit

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A wire strung between two towers gave the University of Michigan radio station a nationwide splash Sunday as it broadcast the voice of orbiting Soviet spaceman, Gherman Titov.

Station WUOM recorded a Moscow radio broadcast and relayed Titov's message from outer space to its listeners. And, as word of this spread over the Associated Press news wires, WUOM was swamped with requests from radio stations across the country which wanted a telephone recording of the Titov pickup.

Titov, sounding as though he were calling long distance on the telephone, said: "Everything is okay . . . aboard the ship okay."

WUOM's listeners heard this report as well as the cosmonaut's pledge to "definitely carry out the assignment of the Soviet Communist party and the government in line with the flight program."

Titov also asked that his message be passed on to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. He expressed gratitude to Khurshchev for being able to make the historic flight.

Titov's words were translated by a Moscow radio announcer, and both voices — Titov's and the translator's — were recorded at WUOM.

"It must have been a freak bounce of the signal that enabled us to hear it," said Bill Stegath, WUOM production director.

"Usually," he said, "We can't pick up Moscow in the morning but these broadcasts apparently came through Moscow radio's Southeast Asian service."

MONITOR MOSCOW

In the afternoon, the station monitored Radio Moscow for three hours and reported the Soviet station gave full time to news of the astronaut, plus background on Titov.

News of the space adventurer was broken, however, for a musical tribute to Russian space science. Now rated No. 1 and No. 2 on the Soviet hit parade, WUOM reported, are the songs "The Stars Are Calling" and "We Enter the Cosmos."

The station here uses a special type of wire to monitor overseas broadcasts. The wire is stretched between two towers on the roof of the U. of M.'s administration building.

The shortwave set paid big dividends last spring when the University of Michigan Band made a concert tour of the Soviet Union. "We recorded Moscow radio when it interviewed Michigan band members and used the tapes on our news programs," Stegath said.

About 7 a.m. Sunday, newsman Dick Lutz began monitoring Moscow radio. Twenty minutes later he recorded Titov's voice from the satellite. But the broadcast quality was poor, so Lutz kept his ear cocked until the spaceman sent his next message at 10:20 a.m.

That one came in loud and clear, albeit in Russian.

The Moscow pickups were pieced together for a special 15-minute program Sunday afternoon.

Stegath said the shortwave monitoring system, which he credits in large part to newsman Fred Hindley, enables the station to broadcast a 15-minute show, "World Communique," once a week. It is made up of recorded broadcasts from around the world.

Report Brief Race Flare-Up

Police Disperse Crowd of Negroes, Whites at Park Near Chicago

CALUMET CITY, Ill. (AP) — Racial unrest ignited briefly among 800 Negroes and white persons at a picnic grounds Sunday after several Negroes reportedly beat a white youth.

Some 50 Cook County sheriff's deputies, state troopers and Calumet City police sped to the Green Lake picnic grounds, dispersed the milling crowd and arrested four Negro youths. The teen-agers all of Chicago, were charged with disturbing the peace. Police also seized seven juveniles, all Negroes, but they were released.

The injured man, James Beech, 20, of nearby East Chicago, Ind., told police several Negroes jumped him as he walked to a public washroom.

In Chicago, some 30 Negroes and white persons held a four-hour-long "wade-in" at Rainbow Beach, scene of racial flare-ups last month. The "wade-in" went off without incident, police at the beach said, for the second straight weekend.

GAGARIN'S CRAFT—This view of Vostok I, spaceship of Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin, was released in Moscow July 29 by Tass, Soviet news agency. Tass said the scene shows technicians making final tests before Gagarin's 108-minute orbital flight last April. Painted on the side of the spacecraft is: "U.S.S.R. Vostok."

U.S. Goes Ahead Despite Red Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, abashed though it may be at the Soviet Union's newest manned satellite triumph, is moving ahead with a program that could place a Mercury astronaut in orbit by next December or January.

The NASA plans to attempt within a month to launch an unmanned Mercury spacecraft into orbit, and then bring it back to earth again.

Officials said the Mercury program—which has sent astronauts Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom on 15-minute suborbital rocket flights — is moving forward as rapidly as possible.

* * *

George M. Low, chief of NASA's manned flight program, said Sunday the Soviet feat had been anticipated by U.S. space officials, but probably could not be duplicated by this country for "quite some time."

WOULD USE ATLAS

The attempt expected this month to orbit an unmanned Mercury capsule would employ an Atlas rocket more than four times as powerful as the Redstone used in the Shepard and Grissom flights.

* * *

If the craft is launched successfully and recovered after one or more orbits, the next Mercury-Atlas shot—according to present plans—would have a chimpanzee aboard.

* * *

Only after the effects on the animal have been observed does NASA plan to risk a human life. The manned orbital flight is still on the agency's calendar for late this year, but officials privately have been dubious that it could be achieved before early 1962.

Five Killed in Ambush by Algerian Nationalists

ALGIERS (AP)—Three civilian automobiles were ambushed by nationalist rebels in eastern Algeria and five occupants were killed and another severely wounded, it was reported Sunday.

In Constantine, the largest city in eastern Algeria, a rebel terrorist tossed a grenade into a cafe, injuring 18 persons.

Motto for Money Taking a While to Get On Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you think the government is taking a long time to inscribe "In God we trust" on all the paper money, you have company.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., author of the 1956 law providing for the motto to be placed on bills as well as coins, said today that within about a year all new $1 bills, at least, will bear the inscription.

Bennett said he received many letters inquiring why some dollar bills bore the "In God we trust" motto and others did not. He asked the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which reported that about half of the 1.6 billion notes produced in the year ending June 30 were inscribed. About three billion notes produced since 1957 bear the words.

The authorizing law, in the interest of economy, provided that the change be made as plates for printing the currency wore out.

Spectators Describe Spaceship

Satellite Like 'Bright Star'

By The Associated Press

"A very bright star" and "a marble."

These were among the ways earthbound spectators described the manned space satellite carrying Soviet spaceman Gherman Stepanovich Titov as it whizzed over this section of the globe.

A Moonwatch team at Allegheny Observatory in Pittsburgh sighted the satellite twice and reported it looked like "a very bright star."

In Charleston, S.C., radio newsman Bob Townsend stepped out of the WTMA newsroom and sighted Vostok II through patchy clouds. It "looked about the size of a marble," he said.

In Arlington, Va., M.Sgt. James A. Duffy tuned his radio to one of the frequencies given for the spaceship "just for the heck of it."

Duffy got a message which he recorded on tape. Translated by a Soviet Embassy attache and broadcast over local station WTOP, the message said:

"Attention, attention. Flying over North American continent. Sending my friendly greeting to the people of North America from the Soviet spaceship Vostok II. Cosmonaut Titov."

DETROIT — By 1965 it is estimated there will be 87 million passenger cars and 14 million trucks and buses using the nation's highways.

Seaman Gets Scuttled in Try to Reach Altar

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (AP) — The combined efforts of the Pentagon, the Red Cross and the offices of Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Agriculture Secretary Freeman weren't enough to get Seaman Roger L. Putnam to church on time.

He was still cooling his lyels at Las Vegas, Nev., at last report Saturday morning.

Jo Anne Colberg, 17, the bridetelect, hadn't been told yet by mid-morning that things had fouled up again.

Mrs. Victor Lowe, Jo Anne's mother, was waiting in Minneapolis to pick up Roger and whisk him 180 miles to Grand Rapids for a 2 p.m. wedding.

"Something happened in Las Vegas so he didn't get a plane. If we can just get him to Denver — we might have to charter a plane — maybe the wedding can still be held later today."

NO ORDERS

Things were going along fine until last Tuesday. Putnam, 19, from Peregilly, Minn., had completed Navy basic training at San Diego and was awaiting leave orders to return to Grand Rapids for the wedding. They didn't come.

A friend of the family, Bert W. Heaton, South St. Paul, Minn., came to their aid by calling friend Orville Freeman, former Minnesota governor who now heads the Agriculture Department, in Washington.

Freeman, Sen. Humphrey's office and the Pentagon all got into the act and Roger received special permission to come home. A Red Cross worker arranged for him to arrive on a flight to land in Minneapolis this morning.

He didn't.

Well, Half a Mayor Is Better Than None

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—The Republican mayoral candidate, H. Clay Johnson, says the city fine bisects his bedroom and that when he sleeps his feet are in Port Chester and his head is in Rye.

His Democratic opponent, John Carey, said Sunday that assessment rolls indicated that Johnson paid Rye taxes on only $2,000 worth of unimproved property while Port Chester taxed him for his entire home.

Johnson replied that a copy of a recent survey made at his own expense had been given to the assessor and that the matter should soon be cleared up.

South Seas Comes to 'Safari' in Birmingham

Pontiac Press Photos

Globetrotters from near and far who belong to the Circumnavigators Club met for a South Seas Safari Sunday. Setting was the pool and grounds of the J. D. Richardson Jr. home in Birmingham.

The safari was stationary and with no discomfort. A party not soon to be forgotten, the affair brought together many of Michigan's 80 circumnavigators and a host of out-of-towners. The international club which has its headquarters in New York requires that a man must have circled the world continuously in one direction and that he have more than a superficial interest in foreign affairs.

Authentic grass shacks, shells, outrigger canoes, fishnets and yucca poles were lavishly distributed about the premises. Exotic foods including cocoanut chicken, Javanese sweet and sour ribs, potatoes Pago Pago and tropical ambrosia were served.

In addition to a poolside fashion show of furs, entertainment included a trampoline exhibition by Dianne and Donna Richardson and motion pictures of his Pacific travels shown and narrated by Raymond M. Dinsmore of New York.

'Horses' Must Be Fed—Abby

Picks Losing Oat-Burner

ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who is so broke he has even considered selling his body to a medical school when he dies for a little cash today.

He earns (believe it or not) $18,000 a year, but we can't break even because he has to support three families!

He was married twice before, and has six children. So he has to throw his money away on wives and children he never sees.

It is like buying oats for dead horses. I don't believe in letting ex-wives and children starve to death, but both his ex-wives are staying single and bleeding him for everything he has just to be spiteful.

Is there any way my husband can get his alimony and support money reduced? Don't suggest a lawyer. We are broke because of them.

THIRD WIFE

DEAR THIRD: Sorry, but when you want legal advice, a lawyer is still the best buy. The "horses" for whom your husband must buy "oats" are very much alive.

And when a man chooses to change horses (three times yet!) in the middle of the stream, he had better have enough oats to stock Churchill Downs. You picked a losing oat-burner, sister.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost twelve years old. When I was younger, my mother clobbered me. Now that I am older, I get restricted. I would much rather get clobbered. What is your solution?

RAT

DEAR RAT: Rats can't choose their poison. Behave yourself.

DEAR ABBY: I want to know what is so good about having a marriage license? I am sick of married women turning up their noses at me.

I have been a mistress for 12 years, have two children by the man, and he hasn't left me yet. He lives with his folks, and I rent a house.

He comes to see me every chance he gets. He can't take me or the children out in public on account of his folks and friends, but a lot of married people don't go out together either.

I am just as good a mother as any married woman, so what's the difference?

NOT MARRIED

DEAR NOT: If you don't care whether your children are legitimate and have a normal home life, and if social acceptance and respectability mean nothing to you, then there is nothing the matter with your arrangement.

Some 400 Guests Hear Hayslett-MacNutt Vows

Some 400 guests were present for the Saturday evening marriage of Leah Mae MacNutt and James Roy Hayslett at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Theodore Allebach officiated.

Parents of the couple are the Omar E. MacNutts of Neome Drive and the James G. Hayletts of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride chose a silk organza over taffeta gown featuring short sleeves and modified Sabrina neckline with re-embroidered satin trim. A Juliet cap trimmed in seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

All the attendants were gowned alike in chiffon apricot with matching bow headpieces, matching accessories and semi-cascades of tangerine carnations.

Marilyn J. Anderson of Hartford, Conn., former college roommate of the bride, attended as maid of honor with Mrs. LaMar A. MacNutt, sister-in-law of the bride of Clearwater, Fla., Sue Alcorn of Bay City, and Delta Lee Mahan, cousin of the bride of Clearwater, Fla., as bridesmaids.

Jerry Lee Hayslett was his brother's best man. Ushers included William Skinner of Indianapolis, Ind.; the bride's brother, Dr. LaMar A. MacNutt of Clearwater, Fla., Rolly Clark of Grosse Pointe, the bride's cousin Gerard Barnhart of Pontiac. Serving as ringbearer was Charles Sweet, cousin of the bride of Rochester.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. MacNutt chose a beige embroidered silk organza dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of willow green satin and matching accessories. Both wore Mary Jo rose corsages.

MRS. JAMES R. HAYSLETT

The bride attended Albion College, and University of Michigan with a Dental Hygiene degree from the latter in 1959, where she also was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She also has a teaching certificate and will instruct next year. A U. of M. Physical Education graduate, the bridegroom will be a sophomore in Indiana University's Dental School. He is an Alpha Tau Omega fraternity member.

Mold Crisp Vegetables and Corned Beef in Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's queer how often we think of molding seafood in gelatine for salad, yet do it rarely with meat. That is why we're pleased to have today's recipe for a Corned Beef Mold. This is an excellent salad to serve at a buffet. Men like it.

Mrs. Donald Johnson who shares the recipe with us is the mother of five. She works in the women's association of her church and is interested in photography and music.

CORNED BEEF MOLD
By Mrs. Donald Johnson

Married in Candlelight Before Gathering of 300

Karen Louise TerMarsch became Mrs. Rodger L. Bridger Saturday evening at Christian Temple in the presence of some 300 guests. Rev. Lola P. Marion performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums, and palms.

The couple's parents are the Edgar A. TerMarsches of Joslyn Avenue and the Ack L. Bridgers of Taylor Road.

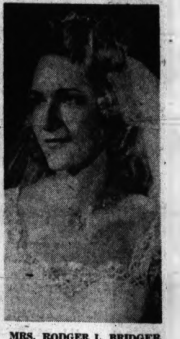
A fingertip veil of imported silk illusion secured her tiara of lace, seed pearls, and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade of white roses, white carnations, lillies-of-the-valley, and lace tuffs.

GOWNED ALIKE

All of the attendants were gowned alike in bouffant ballerina-skirted dresses of taffeta, featuring scooped necklines, cap sleeves, fitted cummerbunds and matching headpieces. Maid of honor in iridescent green was the bride's sister, Gail TerMarsch, and bridesmaids in pale pink, yellow, and pale blue respectively, were Brenda Bridger, the bridegroom's sister, Karol Clark, and Mrs. Thomas Hoisington. Each carried colonial bouquets of assorted roses and white carnations. Serving her cousin as flower girl was Cindy Staton.



MRS. RODGER L. BRIDGER

Attending the bridegroom were his brother Phillip as best man and another brother, Arthur; the bride's cousin, David TerMarsch; and Wesley Seabrook of Lake Orion, as ushers. Michael Millmine, the bride's cousin, served as ring bearer.

A reception immediately followed in the church parlors for, which Mrs. TerMarsch chose a pink sheath. Mrs. Bridger wore a powder blue dress and both mothers wore corsages of roses and carnations.

Pin Is a Standout

Drop Her Earring?

(UPI) — Interest is up in drop earrings — the kind visible below the ear lobe and reaching sometimes to the collar-bone. Short hair-dos, exposing the ears, have helped to push the drop earring. For fall, dropped earrings are okay at all times — not just for night glitter.

It's Not Too Early to Start

Time to Cut Pounds for Fall

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Before we know it frost will be nipping at our heels and the fall season will be well launched. It may seem a little early to begin thinking about that but, actually, it isn't.

Perhaps you have been promising yourself to get your figure in shape so that you can enjoy some new clothes this fall, or so you can wear some old ones you like but had to discard because of a gain in weight. There is just time between now and the end of September to lose from 15 to 20 pounds and many inches.

Most of you know that I offer you my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon each January, and in August print a few letters from Marathon winners — those women who have benefited dramatically by following the suggestions outlined in my Marathon.

The Marathon booklet gives you lots of essential information so that you can begin, with confidence, the adventure of seeing how much you can improve your appearance in eight weeks. The following is a letter from a Marathon winner.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"God bless you! When I wrote to you requesting the Marathon booklet, I weighed 155 pounds, but that wasn't the worst part. The worst part was bust 39, waist 33, hips 41½ inches.

"I am 21 years old and the mother of a beautiful 1-year-old child. I have a wonderful husband and love both dearly and now, thanks to Marathon, I like myself again.

"My new weight is 139 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 25 and hips 37. That's a loss of 16 pounds, 8 inches from my waist, and 4½ from my hips! I also lost 4 inches from my thighs, and 5½ inches from abdomen. I am thrilled to death. My dress size is 13. It was 16.

"I never exceeded 1,200 calories a day and sometimes held it to 1,000. I did every exercise you recommended in the booklet 35 times a day.

That shows what you can do in just eight short weeks. Actually, this reader did it in six weeks. If you missed Marathon last January and would like to follow the routine it outlined, as thousands of women did, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Lake Orion Twin Picnic Draws 100

One hundred picnickers met at the annual gathering of the Twins' Mothers Club Sunday at the Youth Center in Lake Orion.

Gwen and Glen Pankey were named the most similar in the boy-girl division. They are the children of the Gordon Pankeys. Named least look-alikes in this division were Cindy and Craig Julien of Oxford, children of the Harry Juliens.

Among girl twins, Carol and Cheryl Voll of Rochester were named most identical. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Voll. Least identical honors went to Laurie and Peggy Stelt, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Stelt.

David and Daniel Littlefield were judged the most identical boy twins present. Their parents are the Richard Littlefields of Livonia. David and Paul Cleary of Lake Orion, sons of the James Clearys were judged least look-alikes.

Youngest twins present were Michelle and Michael Deavey, children of the Kenneth Deaveys of Rochester. Ann and Jan Redding were the oldest twins present. Thier parents are the Richard Reddings.

Sizes May Vary

A size translator produced by a New York store reports that American sizes are measured in inches, European and Latin American sizes in centimeters. One example: a women's size 32 in America rates a size 40 tag in Europe and South America.

Queen Aspirants to Rehearse for Contest in Romeo

ROMEO — The nine area girls who will be competing for the coveted Peach Queen crown Saturday night will be in Romeo this evening for a dress rehearsal of the event.

They will go through acts they will put on to display their talent and walk through the two other phases of the contest in which they will appear in street dress and formal attire.

The competition will be staged in the auditorium of Romeo Junior High School at 8 p.m. Saturday with William F. Dorn acting as master of ceremonies.

The event is open to the public.

A panel of out-of-town judges will score each candidate on the basis of poise, personality, beauty, grooming and public speaking ability in addition to talent.

They will pick a queen and two maids of honor to reign over the 29th annual Peach Festival in Romeo over Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2-4.

The rest of the contestants will form the queen's court, and all nine girls will be guests in Romeo homes during the holiday celebration.

WILL RECEIVE GOWNS

For being in the contest, each candidate will receive the formal gown she will wear in the coronation ceremony, one of the most colorful events of the Festival.

The first phase of the contest is the appearance of the girls in street dress before the audience and the judges. They will return later to put on their specialty acts.

The climax of the contest will be when the girls appear on stage in formal gowns to draw questions from a bowl which they must answer extemporaneously.

Names of peaches will be used to identify the aspirants for the crown during the competition. Only after the judges have reached their decision will the girls be introduced by their proper names.

The communities to be represented by local queens in the annual state competition are East Detroit, Utica, Lake Orion, Oxford, Waterford Township, Flint, Almont, Armada and Romeo.

Contest chairman is Mrs. Lester W. Poesch, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Parks and Mrs. H. O. Evans Jr.

Ask 6.5 Mills in Avondale

Vote on School Levy Today; Would Mean Hike of Only 2.6

The outcome of a request to levy 6.5 mills for school operational expenses was being decided in a special election today in the Avondale School District.

Voting began at 7 a.m. and the school district's two polling places were to remain open until 8 p.m.

Persons living west of Adams Road in the district are to cast their ballots at the Auburn Heights Fire Station, 3486 Auburn Road. Those who live east of Adams Road are to vote at the Southwest Avon Community Center, 3171 W. Auburn Road.

There are two propositions on today's ballot.

Proposal No. 1 asks that 3.9 mills be levied for five years to finance school operation. Proposal No. 2 seeks permission to levy a 2.6-mill operational tax for two years.

Officials say approval of the first proposition would not increase voted taxes in the district over last year's total since the 3.9 mills requested would replace millage which expired in June.

Passage of the second proposal would allow the district to meet current financial obligations and to improve several areas of instruction, according to school officials.

Rochester Loan Second Largest

$240,000 From SBA Tops Those Granted to Four Area Firms

The second largest of 18 loans approved in the state last month by the Small Business Administration was a $240,500 loan for the Rochester Area Development Corp.

Other borrowings approved for area firms by the SBA office in Detroit included Mount Holly Ski Club, Inc., of Groveland Township, $150,000; Material Industries, Inc., of 530 Woodward St., Rochester, $25,000; and Klein Industries, Inc., of Ferndale, $150,000.

Approval of the loan for the Rochester Area Development Corp. (RADCO) allows the community-supported Rochester Aerosol Corp. plant to be built by Nov. 1.

The new plant will be constructed on the 3½-acre site of the old Oakland Foundry and Machine Co. at 607 Woodward St. in Rochester.

The new firm, which will employ about 25 persons, will serve as a packaging and distribution center for canned products such as hair sprays, shaving creams and insecticides.

The start of the canning plant marks the first major success for RADCO, a nonprofit development group of local businessmen organized by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce to draw new business into the area.

Largest loan approved last month by the SBA was for $350,000 to the MacDonald Manufacturing Co. of New Baltimore.

Kroger Negotiators Schedule Meeting

DETROIT (UPI) — Negotiators for the Kroger Co. and Local 876 of the Retail Store Employes Union were scheduled to meet today to consider a settlement offered by Kroger Friday, on the eve of a threatened strike.

Local 876 represents over 2,000 workers in 99 Kroger stores between Detroit and Alpena.

Negotiators will meet with federal and state mediators to discuss the tentative new contract agreement. The old contract expired April 16 and both sides have been meeting with mediators since June 1.

Herschel Womack, secretary-treasurer of Local 876, said the union's demand for a health and welfare plan is one of the major issues involved.

Double-Ring Rite

Wed in Rochester

MRS. F. J. BEAUCHAMP JR.

ROCHESTER — Joanne Marie Stanley became the bride of Francis J. Beauchamp Jr. in an 11 a.m. ceremony Saturday at St. Andrew Catholic Church.

Rev. Edward Popielarz performed the double-ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Stanley of 826 Seventh St. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Beauchamp of 3240 West Road, Washington.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk organza featuring a bandeau neckline and chapel train. A crown of wax orange blossoms and buds held her fingertip veil of French silk illusion.

Maid of honor for her sister was Gwen Stanley. Bridesmaids were her other sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Barry and Virginia Stanley, and Josette Beauchamp, sister of the bridegroom.

After a reception held in the American Legion Hall, the newlyweds left for a three-week honeymoon in California. Upon their return they will reside on Mill Street in Rochester.

More than 100 parking tickets were issued during a 24-hour period against motorists parking on the left side of the street, against the flow of traffic.

Sgt. William Garden said the police department has always enforced the 20-year-old law but a crackdown on the illegal parking came just last week.

"Many persons have parked this way for years and have gotten away with it. Now they're complaining because they received one ticket. They've been lucky," he explained.

He said the directive for strict enforcement of the parking law came from Police Chief Joseph G. DeVreindt.

Eichmann's Trial to Resume Tuesday

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The trial of Adolph Eichmann, which was postponed last week because of the illness of Judge Benjamin Halevi, will resume Tuesday morning.

Halevi was reported improved today and officials said the trial of the former SS officer, charged with the mass murder of millions of Jews, will reopen when Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner begins his summation.

Titov's Name Popular in Russ Farm Regions

"Gherman," Russian experts say, is the Soviet equivalent of the German "Herman" although it does not have a Germanic derivation.

The Russian alphabet has no "H" and a literal spelling of Titov's first name would be "German." Language experts said the anglicizing of the name makes it "Gherman."

The nearest to a Russian pronouncation that can be given the cosmonaut's name in English is Gair'mon (hard "G")

Hits Pope's Limousine

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An Italian policeman's motorcycle accidentally crashed into the limousine of Pope John XXIII early today as the pontiff was being driven to the Vatican. Neither the Pope nor the policeman was injured.

Liberty Bell's Double Will Toll No More

CHICAGO (AP)—There will be no more ringing of the copy of the Liberty Bell at the International Trade Fair at McCormick Place.

S. D. Delove, president and founder of the Independence Hall of Chicago, a patriotic group, withdrew the bell and other exhibits, after a dispute with fair officials.

Fair officials said they had asked Delove to muffle the bell or tell attendants not to encourage fair visitors to ring it so often.

Ralph Bergsten, general manager of the fair, which has exhibits from 28 foreign countries and ends a 17-day run on Thursday, said the bell made too much noise. "You could hear it banging all over the hall," he said.

Medicine Report Sends Ad Men for FAST Relief

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — There is nothing really new and startling under the sun (unless you're in the process of falling in love again).

At least, that's the way you'll feel after reading a cynical encyclopedia about drugs, cosmetics and gullible hypochondriacs, called "The Medicine Show."

Compiled by the publishers of the magazine "Consumer Reports" — an outfit from which Madison Avenue agencies would doubtless like to find fast, fast, FAST relief — this little book is aimed at keeping the TV viewer from rushing to the pharmacy every time he sees a commercial which promises a "miraculous cure" for his aches, allergies or aging skin.

The book does not go all out to debunk all the wonder products that make many of us feel so much better psychologically, if not physically; but it delineates, through test results and doctors' opinions, exactly what they can and cannot do for a customer.

It explains precisely what the fancy-name ingredients consist of. It puts you in a category of enlightened skepticism whereby you are capable of resisting the urge to buy a bottle of pills for $5.95 just because an earnest, physician-ly-type TV actor claims they will suppress, depress, or repress whatever excess distress is bothering you.

Above all, the book warns about over-dosage of everything from vitamins and hormones, to hair dyes and skin medications. Most Americans, when they spend money for new products, use them indiscriminately — if only to get their money's worth.

The book concludes with a chapter on what to stock in your medicine chest. It is here that you realize most clearly that since great-grandma's time there is very little that is new under the sun, at least in the treatment of such "nuisance" medical problems as the book deals with — such as colds, coughs, headaches, insomnia, poor complexions, overweight, allergies, nerve ailments, etc.

What should your "modern" medicine chest contain?

The most inexpensive aspirin you can find. Bicarbonate of soda. Zinc oxide paste. White petrolatum. A mild laxative, like milk of magnesia or cascara. Ipecac syrup. Gauze, roll bandages, adhesive tape, tongue depressors, tweezers, thermometers, an ice bag and a hot-water bottle.

Anything these drugs and devices cannot handle calls for professional medical help.

HOW TO SPOT QUACKS

The American Medical Association adds a note to "the medicine chest." After 50 years of service as a clearing house for information about quacks and quackery, it offers some "rules of thumb for spotting a quack."

"Beware," the AMA warns, "if a self-styled medical expert uses a special or secret machine or formula he claims can cure disease.

"Beware if he guarantees a quick cure.

"Beware if he advertises or uses case histories and testimonials to promote his cure.

"Beware if he clamors constantly for medical investigation and recognition.

"Beware if he claims medical men are persecuting him or are afraid of his competition.

"Beware if he tells you that surgery, X rays or drugs will cause more harm than good."

Lions Learn One Thing From Scrimmage—Local Fans Loyal

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Sometime during the forthcoming football season, the Detroit Lions may have to play under rainy conditions, because as the saying goes, the game will be played "rain or shine."

If anything, the Lions may not have gained very much out of Saturday night's Blue-White intrasquad scrimmage at Wisner Stadium, except the experience of playing under the poorest and wettest conditions possible.

The light showers which prevailed when they left their busses at 7:15 p.m. turned to cloudburst proportions when the scrimmage got started a half hour later.

The Lions did learn one other thing however. They found out that football fans are a hardy lot and that they have a great number of loyal rooters in the Pontiac area.

Despite the rain, there was a long line of ticket buyers at the windows at 6:30 p.m. When the scrimmage started there were nearly 4,000 fans in the stands. In as much as there were 4,000 advance tickets sold, and about 1,500 of those present were ticket buyers at the gate, the game would have drawn at least 8,000 with better weather conditions.

The first phase of the pre-game contest was completed when Sammy Williams, former Michigan State star, won the place-kicking event by booting five field goals in eight tries.

Surprisingly, Jim Martin, the Lions' veteran field goal specialist was eliminated in the first series of tries when he made only one out of three from the 35-yard line.

Wayne Walker and Williams each booted three straight, while rookie Earl Linden made one of three.

Walker and Williams then moved back to the 40 and each was able to kick one of three. Walker missed on the 4th try from the 40 while Williams split the uprights. He earned $30 for winning and Walker got $20.

As the rain started coming down harder, coach George Wilson decided to call off the remaining competitive pre-game activities and get the scrimmage underway.

The offensive blues, with Earl Morrall quarterbacking, started on their own 20, and for 30 minutes the two units battled with the defensive Whites scoring a 15-0 victory by virtue of the unique scoring system set up for the contest.

Thunder and lightning joined the downpour to make it miserable for the offense to get any kind of a drive going. The offense fumbled six times and the defense recovered five of them to gain points in their column.

A 27-yard pass from Morrall to Jim Gibbons was the only completion of nine passes thrown by the three Lions' quarterbacks. Morrall hit on one for five, Jim Ninowski threw one and Warren Raab threw three without hitting.

Ken Webb with 23 yards in six carries, Jim Stephen with 21 yards in two tries, Nick Pietrosante's 15 yards in five attempts and rookie Charles Bowers 5 yards in one try accounted for all the yardage.

When Wilson waved to end the scrimmage after 30 minutes, about 300 of the 4,000 were still in the stands. Had the contest gone any further, there may not have been a light left in Wisner Stadium.

The heavy rains pelted the lights and when things were called there were only 37 of the 54 lights on the standards still burning.

One by one the lights were exploding and dropping shattered glass on the fans and the players.

Because the abbreviated scrimmage failed to give Wilson any indication of the team's shortcomings or what the rookies could do, the Lions' coach said he would have to continue with some heavy head bumping today and tomorrow at Cranbrook to get ready for Friday's game against the Browns in Tiger Stadium.

Veteran sportswriters and Lions' officials in the Wisner Stadium press box highly praised the area fans for turning out in such numbers in such impossible conditions.

Tiger Firemen Sprayed Again

TRAPPED — Cleveland Indian first baseman Vic Power (10) is caught in a rundown between third and home by Tigers' catcher Mike Roarke (12) and third baseman Reno Bertoia in the second inning of the second game yesterday. Power was chased back to third and the putout was made by Roarke. The Tigers won the first game 2-1 and lost the nightcap, 9-5.

Bullpen Fails to Hold Tribe in 2nd Contest

Mossi's Sharp Hurling Leads Detroit to 2-1 First Game Win

DETROIT (AP)—In a baseball season that will soon span four months, Bob Scheffing's thoughts about the Detroit Tiger bullpen have ranged from hope, to disappointment and now to futility.

"There's no sense kidding ourselves, our guys out there just don't get anybody out," said Scheffing after the Tiger bullpen stumbled again Sunday in a vital spot and cost the Tigers a decision to the Cleveland Indians.

The Tigers won the opener of the doubleheader 2-1 behind Don Mossi's three-hit pitching before Scheffing paraded five pitchers to the mound in a 9-5 beating.

"I've tried not to say too many optimistic things about this club of ours and I never publicly pop off about any individual player," Scheffing said after the split, witnessed by nearly 50,000 spectators in Tiger Stadium.

"I know this — we're in second place right behind the New York Yankees and all season long we've had only one guy who came in from the bullpen and consistently got the batters out. Where would we be with a good bullpen? That's difficult to say, but I feel certain we'd be better off than we are."

The split dropped Detroit to 2½ games behind the American League-leading New York Yankees.

OUT OF ACTION

The one guy who gets them out is Terry Fox, and the Tigers don't know when he'll be able to pitch again. Fox has been out for several weeks with a sore elbow. One doctor suggested that Fox rest for the remainder of the season. Another says he will be able to start throwing in a few days.

"I wish we could pitch Frank Lary, Don Mossi and Jim Bunning all the time," was Scheffing's wishful thinking after the doubleheader.

The Tigers needed no bullpen in the opener. Mossi pitched no-hit ball for six and two-thirds innings until Bubba Phillips lined a 1-1 pitch into left field. Chuck Essegian followed with a soft line drive that fell behind shortstop and Willie Kirkland provided Cleveland's third hit, and lone run, with his 22nd home run leading off the eighth inning.

The Tigers won it on five hits. Two of them, by Billy Bruton and Al Kaline in the first inning, provided the first run. Bruton's single in the seventh drove in Frank House, who had singled, with the other.

ON THE ROAD

Decent pitching somewhere along the line could have meant a double triumph for the Tigers, who now must go on the road for a week and expose their tired bullpen to the Chicago White Sox and Minnesota Twins' hitters.

Paul Foytack started, was bombed for first inning home runs by Tito Francona and Don Dillard, and gave way to Bob Bruce. The Tigers tied it for Bruce with some help from Cleveland fielders — who committed nine errors in the four-game series — but Bruce faltered.

Reno Bertoia, back at third base for the Tigers, committed a one-out error in the fourth inning. Then with two out, Bruce yielded three straight singles and the Indians led 4-2. Bruton's triple closed the gap to one run in the fifth.

Cuban Manuel Montejo stalled the Indians for two innings, but Hank Aguirre opened the flood gates in the seventh. Francona and Kirkland doubled and Aguirre let Phillips' bunt dribble through his legs.

Scheffing hastily summoned Fred Gladding, but before the beefy rookie could get the side out the Indians had scored four runs. The Indians scored one more in the eighth and the Tigers got single runs in the seventh and ninth.

Pontiac Press Photos

DRIPPY NIGHT — Nearly 4,000 football fans moved into Wisner Stadium during the rain to watch the Detroit Lions' scrimmage Saturday night and many sat bravely in a heavy downpour as the Lions went through a half hour of football. On a dry night it was anticipated that the crowd would have gone well over 8,000. The Whites, the defensive unit scored a 15-0 victory over the offensive Blues in the scoring system designed for the scrimmage. The rain made it almost impossible for the offensive unit to get its attack moving. The defense scored most of its points by stopping offensive first down attempts and by recovering five of six fumbles.

Elbow Fracture Discovered Sunday

Fullmer Split Victor

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer, his fractured elbow in an arm length cast, started an enforced layoff of at least a month today, time to reflect on the growing dangers to the crown on his head.

Fullmer kept his National Boxing Association middleweight title with a 15-round split decision Saturday night over Cuba's Florentino Fernandez, then spent a sleepless night with a piercing pain in his arm.

His doctor was summoned at 7 o'clock Sunday morning and an X-day showed a bone fracture at the right elbow, an injury sustained in the 14th round when Fernandez was winging to knock him out.

"My whole arm went numb in that round," Fullmer said. "But I thought I'd just hit the crazy bone or hurt my hand. Then the elbow got so sore during the night I couldn't touch it."

The doctor said Fullmer may have cracked the bone against Floro's head and that he will have to wear the cast about a month, but that this type of fracture usually heals quickly with no bad effects.

The plaster cast joins an ugly eye and swollen knuckles as mementos of the champion's sixth defense of his title.

It was a rugged struggle and in the hectic 14th it seemed Fullmer might not make it.

But he came through on the strength of points piled up in the early going.

Ten of 12 reporters polled at the ringside had Fullmer the winner, but there were many among the fans who thought otherwise.

Either way it appeared clear that Fullmer at 30 has reached a critical point in his career. Against Fernandez, even before the fracture that ruined his defense, he got hit more often than usual, didn't get the mileage from his body-busting rights, and finished in trouble.

It wasn't one of his better fights.

BROKEN WING — Gene Fullmer, the NBA middleweight champion, relaxes after being patched up following his fight against Cuba's Florentino Fernandez at Ogden Stadium in Utah, Saturday night. Fullmer, who fought the last two wild rounds with a broken arm, did not know it until after the 15-round fight had ended with a split decision in his favor. He wears a cast from his wrist to the middle of the upper arm.

Trans-Miss. Tourney Under Way Today

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—A field of 142 entrants teed off today in the qualifying round of the 31st annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Association Tournament at Eugene, Ore.

Two top women amateurs, however, were absent from the list of contenders for the 64 match play positions.

Mrs. Anne Quast Decker, who last Saturday edged Barbara McIntire for the Western Women's Golf Association Tournament at Pasadena, Calif., decided to go home to Seattle, Wash.

Carol Sorenson, medalist in the Pasadena tourney, also passed up the Trans-Miss. competition.

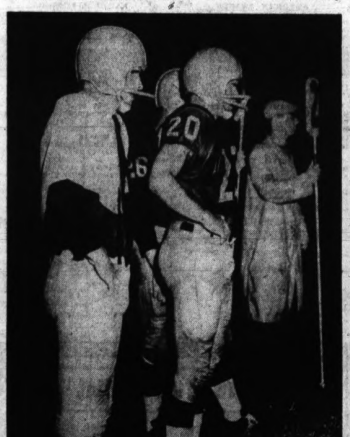
Soggy Hole-in-One

Joseph E. Ray of Pontiac looked through the rain at the No. 5 green at Silver Lake Country Club Sunday, grabbed a driver and teed off. The ball rolled in the cup 200 yards away for an ace and a 47 for the round.



WHITEWASHED OFFENSE — Earl Morral (left) and halfback Jim Steffen (20) don't appear to be bothered by the heavy downpour which ruined the Saturday night Lions scrimmage at Wisner Stadium. Morrall started at quarterback for the Blues and Steffen rolled up the best yardage, but the offense was whitewashed by the Whites by the score as well as the rain, 15-0.

Gaines Top Qualifier in City Medal Tourney

Police Sgt. Bob Gaines wielded a mean club over the weekend. And it wasn't the billy variety.

The city police officer used a putter to sink a birdie deuce on Municipal course's tenth hole Sunday to win low qualifying honors in the City Men's Medal Play Tournament.

The putt enabled Gaines to break up his playoff match with Bill Myers after the pair had deadlocked at the end of nine with 38s. Gaines, Myers and Babe Allen each fired a 76 in Saturday's 18-hole qualifying round.

Allen could not compete in the playoff because of other commitments. But he will join Gaines, Myers and 20 others who fired 74s or lower in the 36-hole championship this weekend.

A total of 85 golfers assaulted Municipal's par 69 layout Saturday. The rain held off until all but the last ten players had three more holes or less to complete.

The 74 cutoff point was two less than last year. Former medal play champions were exempt from qualifying.

THE PALMER METHOD

by Arnold Palmer

HOW TO DETERMINE BALL POSITION

2. THE CLUBFACE OF A LONG IRON IS MUCH CLOSER THAN THAT OF THE DRIVER TO THE CENTER OF THE SHAFT. IN FACT, IT'S ABOUT EVEN. THUS IF A LONG IRON SHOT WERE PLAYED AS FAR FORWARD AS A DRIVE, THE GOLFER WOULD HAVE TO MOVE HIS BODY MORE TOWARD THE TARGET IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE THE SAME IMPACT POSITION, PLAYING THE LONG IRON A LITTLE FARTHER BACK THAN THE DRIVER ELIMINATES THIS PROBLEM.

3. THE CENTER OF THE WEDGE CLUBHEAD FACE IS ACTUALLY BEHIND A LINE DRAWN STRAIGHT DOWN THE SHAFT, FOR THE SAME REASONS AS MENTIONED. THEN, A NORMAL, FULL WEDGE SHOT SHOULD BE PLAYED MORE TOWARD STANCE-CENTER. SINCE THE STANCE IS NARROWER (FEET CLOSER TOGETHER WITH THE LEFT DRAWN BACK FROM THE INTENDED LINE OF FLIGHT), THE BALL WILL APPEAR QUITE CLOSE TO THE RIGHT FOOT.

HOWEVER, USE THE CENTER OF YOUR BODY AS A GUIDE POINT IN KNOWING WHERE TO PLAY THE BALL.

Mantle Belts 3 Home Runs in Sweep of Doubleheader by New York

DETROIT BOAT FALTERS — Miss Spokane passes up faltering Detroit boat Gale V'ist more than 100 miles an hour in the first heat of the Hydroplane regatta feature billed as the World's Championship Speedboat Race on Seattle's Lake Washington. The Gale developed mechanical troubles and was forced out of the race. Miss Spokane later faltered and finished fourth as Miss Bardahl of Seattle came in to score a victory.

World Hydro Crown to Miss Bardahl

SEATTLE (UPI)—By 10 points, the Miss Bardahl was the "world's champion" hydroplane today and her owner, Ole Bardahl, a millionaire, was $10,000 richer.

Under the deft handling of Ron Musson, a lead-footed water jockey from Akron, Ohio, the "green dragon" won the world championship event yesterday in Seattle's three-race regatta for unlimited class speedboats.

An estimated 200,000 persons on the Lake Washington shore and in boats moored along the course watched the show.

Musson, 34, zipped the 6,820-pound thunderboat over the three-mile course for 15 laps in three heats, and when the spray had cleared Miss Bardahl had won the first two five-lap heats and had coasted to fourth in the final. This was enough to edge out Miss Century 21, which won the final, by 10 points.

Miss Century 21's speed of 111.111 m.p.h. averaged in the final heat was the best of the day while Miss Bardahl's 106.027 m.p.h. for the entire 45 miles was the best average of the day.

The competition was narrowed to four boats when two of the starters, Gale V and Miss U.S. I, both of Detroit, went dead on the backstretch in the second lap. The two Detroit craft were only about 100 feet apart when they conked out.

Gale V blew a supercharger while Miss U.S. I broke a gear. Neither driver, Wild Bill Cantrell of the Gale, nor Don Wilson of the U.S., was injured.

LUCKY BATH — Driver Ron Musson of Akron, Ohio, who drove Miss Bardahl, a Seattle boat to victory in the $20,000 World's Championship race Sunday is given his victory bath in Lake Washington by his crew. Mickey Goes Ahead of Ruth by 19 Games

Infield Out and Boyer's Hit Produce 7-6, 3-2 Wins; Chisox Take 2

By The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle can match Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in a season if he hits as many home runs in the next seven weeks as the Babe hit in the final four of his record breaking year of 1927.

Mantle, in a murderous hitting mood Sunday, smashed three home runs as the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Minnesota, 7-6 in 15 innings and 3-2. They boosted his season total to 43, the same number Ruth had on Aug. 31, 1927. The Babe finished with a flourish, socking 17 in September to break his own record of 59, set in 1921.

Mantle currently is 19 games ahead of Ruth's pace. This does not include the extra eight games for Mantle because of the schedule increase from 154 to 162 games.

New York's two victories, coupled with Detroit's split against Cleveland, boosted its first place lead over the Tigers to 2½ games. Detroit won the first game 2-1 but the Indians took the second 9-5. Chicago took two from Washington 5-4 and 3-2. Boston split with Kansas City, winning the first game 4-2 but dropping a 1-0 decision in the nightcap. Baltimore led Los Angeles 3-1 in the third inning when rain forced a postponement, switching the game to Los Angeles later in the season.

The Yankees socked four home runs but it took an infield out to drive in the final run in the opener and a single in the ninth to win the second game. Bobby Richardson scored the winning run in the 15th inning of the first game, Bobby singled off Ray Moore, moved to second on a hard single by Clete Boyer, to third on Roger Maris' long fly and scored when Yogi Berra hit into a force play at second base.

The Twins had gone ahead 6-3 on Bill Tuttle's 10th inning homer off Whitey Ford but the Yankees tied the score in their half when John Blanchard homered off Bill Pleis. Ford went out for a pinch hitter in the 10th, failing for the second time in his bid for 20 victories.

Boyer singled home Mantle with the winning run in the ninth of the finale. Mickey had drawn a pass from starter and loser Al Schroll, moved to second on Elie Howard's single, and to third on a force play. Roland Sheldon went all the way for his eighth victory.

Washington rallied in the ninth inning of both games to draw even but errors gave the White Sox both victories. After ninth inning homers by Gene Woodling and Dale Long tied the first game, 4-4, Washington third baseman Danny O'Connell fumbled a grounder to allow Nellie Fox to score the winning run for the White Sox. Long homered again in the ninth of the second game to tie the Sox at 2-2, but shortstop Coot Veal's bad throw gave the Sox the winning run in their half of the inning.

Jim Archer pitched a three-hit shutout to give the A's a split with Boston. Boston won the opener on the fine relief pitching of Chet Nichols and a 12-hit Red Sox attack.

MICKEY MOVES UP — Mickey Mantle (left) slugger of the New York Yankees, poses with another former Yankee hitting star Jo DiMaggio. Mantle hit three home runs in yesterday's double bill against the Twins to give him a career total of 362 to pass up DiMaggio who hit 361 during his years with the club. Mantle moved up to 9th in all-time homer hitters. He has 43 for the year and is 19 games ahead of Babe Ruth's pace.

Each Club Has an Edge

Dodgers Take Single, Reds Split

By The Associated Press

Los Angeles may beat out Cincinnati for the National League pennant as a majority of the experts have been so freely predicting but the Reds are showing no signs of folding.

The Dodgers inched to the top Sunday by one percentage defeating the Chicago Cubs 11-4 but the Reds managed to cling to a half game lead, earning a split with Pittsburgh. After losing the first game 9-4 and trailing late in the second game, the Reds fought back to win 3-2 on Vada Pinson's 10th inning home run.

A week ago, the Reds dropped into second place, a full game behind the Dodgers, whom they once led by six games. It was thought then that the Reds had had it. Instead of continuing their tailspin, Cincinnati won six of the next eight.

In other National League games, St. Louis swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 3-1 and 3-2 while San Francisco edged out Milwaukee 4-3.

Pittsburgh pounded Cincinnati's Joey Jay and Jim Maloney for 10 hits in the opener, including home runs by Roberto Clemente and Don Hoak and bases loaded singles by Dick Groat and Bill Virdon. The Pirates led 2-1 in the eighth of the second game when Pinson singled, stole second and scored on Gordy Coleman's single. Pinson's game winning homer in the 10th came off reliever Elroy Face.

Big Frank Howard and little Maury Wills paced the Dodgers' 12-hit attack against three Chicago pitchers. Howard had a homer, triple and double and drove in four runs. Wills had three hits including the first homer of his three-year career in the majors and scored four times. Johnny Podres won his 14th against three defeats.

Matty Alou drove in two runs with a single and a home run as the Giants regained third place from Milwaukee. Juan Marichal won his third straight despite 14 Braves' hits and needed help from Stu Miller, The Giants' ace reliever struck out Frank Bolling in the ninth with the tying and winning runs on base.

Ray Sadecki, St. Louis' 20-year-old southpaw, pitched a four-hitter in the Cards' first game victory over Philadelphia and hit a three-run bases-loaded double. Catcher Carl Sawatski was the batting star of the second game. He hit a pinch homer in the seventh with one on to tie the score and singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to give the Cards a double triumph.

Colavito Still Helping Despite Troubles at Bat

DETROIT (AP) — Rocky Colavito, fighting a batting slump, nevertheless drove in three of Detroit's seven runs in a Sunday doubleheader against Cleveland.

The big left fielder was hitless in four trips in the opener, but drove in the Tigers' first run with an infield tap. He had one single in four trips in the nightcap, but drove in two runs—one with a sacrifice fly and another with a ninth inning single.

Colavito has had only five hits in his last 36 at-bats.

Norm Cash is in a home run slump. The first baseman has hit only three home runs in his last 40 games. But he has hit safely in 15 of his last 17 games and has picked up about 10 points in his batting average.

Cash's six-game hitting streak was stopped in the first game of the doubleheader, but he had only one real opportunity to hit. The Cleveland pitchers walked him three times, twice purposely.

Don Mossi's hitless pitching for 6 2-3 innings in the opening game was the crafty southpaw's second "no-hit threat" of the campaign. Mossi had two out in the seventh inning at Washington on May 4 when Gene Green laced a clean single to center. Willie Tasby added a single in the ninth inning to make Mossi's effort a two-hitter.

Reports have been circulating for about two weeks now that Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians, is about to give the heave-ho to Jimmie Dykes, who took over as Cleveland manager last August in that weird managerial swap that brought Joe Gordon to Detroit.

The jovial Dykes apparently isn't worrying.

When friends inquire "How are you, Jimmie?" Dykes replies:

"Well, I'm still here. And there's something to be said for that."

Jake Wood has come out of his hitting slump with a strong showing in the last few games. The rookie second baseman, who went 2-for 17 not long ago, now has hit safely 10 times in his last 23 appearances.

Foyt Defeats Jones in 30-Lap Car Event

SALEM, Ind. (AP)—A. J. Foyt of Houston, leading sprint car driver on the 1961 circuit, beat his leading challenger Sunday in taking the 30-lap feature at the Salem Speedway.

Foyt's victory in the United States Auto Club race stopped a five-race winning streak for Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., who finished second.

Jones, runnerup in USAC standings, came in ahead of Elmer George of Indianapolis, the third-ranking driver.

Wright Gains Title Despite Bad Finish

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP)—Mickey Wright collapsed "because there wasn't any pressure" but a big lead prevented anyone else from winning the Waterloo Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright, 26-year-old professional from Dallas, Tex., skidded to a 77 in the final round Sunday but finished with a 2-under-par 286 for the 72-hole tournament.

Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., made a strong bid to overtake Miss Wright but was able to trim only four strokes from the nine-stroke lead Miss Wright carried into the final round. Miss Whitworth shot a 73 for a total of 291.

Miss Wright, who had putting troubles and dubbed several iron shots, said "when there's no pressure I just can't play good." She collected $1,347 for her first place finish.

Marilynn Smith of Frech Lick, Ind., came in third at 293 and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., was fourth at 295.

He gave him two new baseballs for the home run ball. Los Angeles Dodger public address announcer asked the fan who got the home run ball to come to the dugout for the trade.

Vikki Gilbert of Oak Park Tennis Champ

12-Year-Old Rochester Netter Upsets Junior Defending Champion

Little Vikki Gilbert, a 11-year-old 6th grade student at Pepper Elementary School in Oak Park, was supposed to get a tennis lesson from her older brother, Maurice, in the novice division of the Oakland County Tennis Tournament which got under way over the weekend.

Vikki, who had never beaten her 14-year-old brother on the tennis court, took advantage of Maurice's over-confidence and scored a 6-2, 3-6 and 6-4 victory and then went on to win the novice title by whipping 17-year-old Pontiac High School senior Byron Temple in the finals, 6-0, 5-7 and 7-5.

Playing tennis for only two years, Vikki had only one game scored against her in three other rounds of the tournament.

Watson, an 8th grader in Rochester, who was a semifinalist in the state junior boys tournament for 13-year-olds this year, defeated Smith surprisingly easy, 6-1 and 6-0.

In the other bracket, pitted against Watson in the finals today, Dale Andrews of Pontiac scored a 7-5, 6-2 semi-final victory over Sherwin Gilbert, the oldest of the Gilbert youngsters in the tourney.

The tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac Press and the Pontiac Recreation Department continues this weekend with action in the men's singles and doubles.

Deadline for entries in three divisions is Thursday evening.

Entry forms can be picked up at the Pontiac Central courts or registration can be made by calling the Recreation department at city hall.

CLIMBS IN MONEY RANKS — Doug Sanders, winner of the Eastern Open Golf Tournament which was worth $5,300 in first place money, holds his trophies as new champion. The victory puts Sanders close on the trail of Gary Player and Arnold Palmer as the top money winners in pro ranks this season. He finished with a 13-under par 275 total. His money total is $49,016.

Earns $5,300 at Eastern

Sanders Defeats Venturi

BALTIMORE (AP) — Doug Sanders, who drives a golf ball with the appearance of a wood chopper, was another giant step up the money ladder today.

The $5,300 from winning Sunday's Eastern Open bolstered his third position in the standings by giving him total earnings of $49,-016. He is only about $7,500 behind Arnold Palmer and $11,500 shy of the golf winnings of Gary Player.

The Eastern was the fourth tournament victory this year for the 28-year-old Georgian. He has been second in three events, including the U.S. Open.

Sanders took the Eastern by knocking a total of 13 strokes off par for the 6,820-yard Pine Ridge course. His score was 275.

He won by a stroke when Ken Venturi failed to make a 5-foot putt for a birdie four on the last hole after coming out of a sand trap.

Sanders and Venturi, who hasn't won a tournament in a year, began the last 18 holes of the 12th Eastern Open all even. Venturi gained a two-stroke lead through 10 holes.

Sanders rallied and pulled even again with birdies at the 12th and 13th. He reached the 507-yard 12th in two shots and was down in the regulation two putts. At the 400-yard 13th, he hit the ball to within two feet of the cup with a five iron.

Sanders and Venturi then took turns carding bogeys. Sanders birdied the 16th in the only departure from par by either on the last three holes. He scored the decisive birdie by chipping to within two feet of the hole.

Detroit Craft Crippled in Harmsworth Loss

PICTON, Ont. (AP) — A three-quarter-inch piece of threaded metal that costs a dime had the United States facing a formidable task today in its quest to recapture the Harmsworth Trophy.

The little bit of steel cost the U.S. challenger Miss Detroit a chance to stay with Canada's Miss Supertest III in Saturday's opener of the best-of-three race for international powerboating supremacy. The screw-type oil fitting sheered off and was crushed to uselessness.

Supertest, by winning the second race late today would become the first boat to win three Harmsworths since the race was inaugurated in 1903. Because of past performances the power-packed Canadian is heavily favored to do just that.

The casualty that forced Miss Detroit to quit in the final lap of the 45-mile first race was repaired in feverish activity by Chuck Thompson's crew Sunday. Thompson dropped out after Supertest had finished a three-mile lap ahead of the sputtering American entry.

Even if Miss Detroit had operated perfectly, it's doubtful that she could have combated the water-skimming Supertest. Bob Hayward shot Supertest ahead at the start and thundered away. When Miss Detroit started coughing on the second lap, the race was settled.

"It probably was vibration that jarred the oil fitting off the gear box," said Thompson.

"Oil spewed all over my boat and all over me. There must have been 20 gallons inside the boat. When Supertest went across the finish line, I just stopped my engine. There was no sense going on."

Miss Detroit was clocked at 111 m.p.h. for one lap, two miles better than Supertest's fastest lap speed Saturday.

"It was the easiest Harmsworth heat I ever had," said Hayward. If he fails to win today's heat, the deciding one will be held Tuesday.

No-Hitter Starts New Playoffs

Pittman of Continental Fires Softball Gem; IL Also in Action

A no-hitter by Bill Pittman of Sarko Investment stole the show as the Continental and International League softball playoffs began yesterday.

The scheduled afternoon Class D final between 300 Lounge and Huron was postponed until Thursday at 7 at Northside due to wet grounds. A doubleheader would result if Huron won.

Pittman beat St. Joseph Hospital in a CL upper bracket game 6-1 allowing the tally on a walk, passed ball and error. He had two singles. Big Bear took the other division tilt 4-3 over Harry's Hideaway although its hit total was doubled. Sub Jim Cunningham singled across the equalizer and later scored himself on a passed ball to win it in the 7th.

The North End Rockets bombed St. Paul Lutheran 10-2 as Ted Fultz gave up just two safeties and banged three himself in the lower bracket.

In IL action, 300 Lounge nipped Motorcar Transport 4-3 and Dixie Bar walloped State Hospital 11-4 in the upper bracket, Pontiac Boys Club blanked Langdon's 6-0 in the lower group. 300 won with two in the 7th on four of its five hits. Dixie had no trouble although outhit sparked by Ray White's two run homer. F. W. Schneider had a solo blast in defeat. Jerry Roerink scattered seven Langdon singles.

Today's schedule:
4:30 — Auburn Bar vs. Boys Club Alumni, 6 — Lounge vs. Dixie, 8:30 — Motor Car vs. State Hospital. All at Northside.

Pontiac swimmers took 6th place in the Michigan Recreation Association meet held at Detroit's Brennan Pools over the weekend with victories turned in by diver Micki King, Hugh Wilder and Bruce Norvell.

Wilder took first in the 100 yard freestyle and be was second in the 50 yard backstroke.

Flint won the team title of the 21 communities entered.

Ex-PCH ace Sue Donaldson managed only a third place in the 50 yard freestyle, but would have certainly won the 200-free-style his favorite event had he competed.

Lorraine King of Pontiac took a pair of third places in 50 yard backstroke and freestyle events.

Next weekend, the local swimmers will compete in the Water Wonderland meet to be held at the same site.

Miss Sharnweber emerged from the river near Russell Island at Algonac slightly less than nine hours after she started at the Blue Water bridge at Port Huron. She swam with a brisk current.

Pair of Aces Fired

Two aces were recorded on county golf courses over the weekend.

Robert E. Meshew of Birmingham fired a hole-in-one on the par 3 eighth hole at Pontiac Country Club. He used a seven iron on the 135-yard hole and posted an 88 for the 18 holes.

Sees Victory for Long-Range Aid

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn, said today the Kennedy administration has the votes to defeat a coalition effort to require yearly congressional approval of long-range foreign aid lending.

"We are very optimistic about Senate passage of this provision," Humphrey said, "We are not going to compromise on it. We don't have to, since we have the votes."

After time out for argument over the nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr., of Houston, to the Federal Power Commission, the Senate will plunge back into debate on its $4,326,500,000 version of a foreign aid authorization bill.

The House, engaged in routine matters, may reach by midweek a showdown vote on the Senate's action in adding $95 million to a money bill to finance an electric power producing installation at the Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant.

'CAN BEAT PROPOSAL'

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he is confident administration forces can scuttle a proposal by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require annual congressional appropriations for a proposed $9.5 billion development loan fund.

President Kennedy asked for five-year authority to finance such loans through Treasury borrowing, a method which would bypass congressional control of the purse strings in future years. Loan authority of $1,187,000,000 for the first year is included in the pending bill.

Byrd made no victory claims in a separate interview. He said only that he believes the critical vote will be close and he has a chance of winning it.

Byrd said he had been informed that 32 of the Senate's 36 Republicans would support his amendment, which is backed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Byrd said Southern and some Western Democrats had promised backing.

HELP FROM GOP

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he fears at least six Republicans will vote against the Byrd proposal. He said he hasn't too much hope that it will be adopted.

Several proposed compromises for keeping congressional strings on the loan fund may be offered. The consensus was the battle would be won or lost on the Byrd amendment.

Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., have proposed that Congress be given a veto over all loans of $10 million or more.

They would require that all loans above this minimum be reported to Congress, with either house permitted to reject them by majority vote within 30 days.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he couldn't predict when the Senate will reach a vote on the Byrd amendments. He said he hopes that action on the bill can be completed this week.

Cheers, Fears Greet Spaceman in West

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe today cheered the scientific accomplishment of Maj. Gherman Titov's space flight. Some voiced fears the Soviet Union will use it as a military weapon. Others considered it a normal development that should cause no undue alarm.

The flight only hours before Premier Khrushchev was to make a major radio speech was widely assumed to have been timed to bolster the threats to West Berlin expected from the Soviet premier.

The political implications did not detract from the fulsome praise for Soviet scientific genius and a widespread feeling that the Soviet Union is well ahead of the United States in the race to the moon.

Britain's top space watcher, Sir Bernard Lovell, warned: "I am far from being pro-Russian in the political sense—on the contrary. But I think one of the greatest dangers in the world today is to doubt their strength in science and technology."

Lovell, director of the giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank in northern England, called Titov's flight "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

Britain's most widely read columnist, Cassandra of the Daily Mirror, noted Khrushchev is speaking tonight and summed up what many feared:

"The tragedy of this magnificent feat, with the Russians peering down in orbit over London and Washington and riding the heavens as no living being has ever done before, is that the wonder and greatness of it is deliberately timed to intimidate the West and to hearten and encourage the Communist world to new acts of aggression."

Titov's flight came with Britain and most of Europe enjoying an August holiday. Millions kept their ears tuned to their radios for news of the space man's progress.

One British Nobel Prize-winning physicist, Sir George Thomson, took the new Soviet achievement calmly. "This thing has been done once," he said, "and to do it several times is not all that difficult if you have done it once. We should thank the Russians for arranging it on a holiday."

MILITARY OVERTONE

Norway's Socialist government organ, Arbeiderbladet, posed this question:

"What the whole world asks about is not only how fast the conquest of space will take place, but if this fantastic development will be used in the military power struggle for the good of all. Today the Russians are ahead. Will they use this lead for increased military pressure?"

In West Germany, the conservative Frankfurter Allgemeine said: "The Russian feat is astounding but it need not terrify the fascinated spectators in the West, although that is just what it is supposed to do."

The independent Frankfurter Randschau emphasized the lucky return of Titov will provide the appropriate background for Khrushchev's speech tonight and declared: "The flight of the Vostok is not only a technological physiological event. It is also a political and military one. Because Khrushchev was able to shoot a man 17 times around the earth, he is also able to shoot around the earth anything he wants."

2nd Spaceship Soviet's 13th Earth Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vostok II was the 13th earth satellite successfully launched by the Soviet union and was her second manned spaceship.

The United States has sent up 45 unmanned satellites. Twenty-eight of them are still orbiting the earth.

Two of the Soviet earth satellites are still aloft. So are two Soviet satellites sent into orbit around the sun.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — And now the summing up.

Five weeks of roaming film locations in Europe has been an enlightening process. As Tony Quinn remarked: "Hollywood isn't a place any more. It's the movie business everywhere."

THOMAS

1. The influence of American films had dropped in Europe.

You feel it everywhere you go. People tell you the Hollywood product isn't as important as it used to be. When you see some of the new American films that are playing abroad, you can see why. They are slapdash productions with neither the vitality nor the fun that our movies once had.

2. European theaters seem to be playing more reruns than summer TV in America. It's depressing to see so many old pictures being played, some dating back to the war.

3. The vigor of Europe's local film industries is amazing. Studios in England, France and Italy are humming with activity. Part of this is due to the luring of American companies by cost savings. However, new union regulations in England are making production there less attractive.

EUROPEANS THRIVING

Mostly, the European film industries are thriving because of a burst of creativity—a new crop of directors who are taking up where the Hollywood masters left off.

4. Censorship is nagging the European film makers almost as much as those in Hollywood. When I was in Milan, a meeting of Italian directors petitioned for an end to all government controls on film content. This was turned down by officials, who are increasingly alarmed by sex emphasis of Italian films.

There appear to be few controls in France but much government concern. Some films are banned for export. And more and more English movies are getting Britain's X rating — banned for children.

ALARMING PICTURE

5. Hollywood's picture of American life is alarming. Our good friends in Europe are dismayed by the recent American films. Perhaps the sophisticated Europeans realize that sex, sadism and crime are not the norm in the United States. But this constant film diet must be making an impression on the masses.

* * *

What can they think when they see Academy winner Burt Lancaster battling senseless delinquents in "The Young Savages"? They have been exposed to many such films and few, if any, present contemporary America as it is.

6. The picture is not entirely black. When Hollywood films are good, they are very, very good, as evidenced by the long runs for "Gone With the Wind" and "Ben-Hur."

India Reveals 3rd 5-Year Plan

Nehru Hopes to Raise Per Capita Income to $80.85 a Year

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government today set forth its third five-year plan, designed to boost the per capita income in this poverty-plagued nation from the present $69.30 a year to $80.85 by 1966.

The 774-page plan presented to Parliament contains the most sober analysis Prime Minister Nehru's government has yet presented of successes and failures under its two previous development plans.

It scaled down some goals, such as the previous hope that the per capita income for India's 438 million people would reach $83.16.

The plan also postponed the target date when India expects to stand on its own feet in economic development. It said that by the end of the fifth five-year plan in 1976, India will be able to progress without foreign aid. The government had once expressed hope it would reach this goal in 1966. Later it moved the date to 1971.

Pinpointing the rapidly expanding population as a factor seriously retarding the rise in the standard of living, Nehru's government said "special efforts should be made to reduce the rate at which the population is increasing."

Crippled Dad Drowns With His Two Children

The victims were Charlie Moore, 56; his son, Stephen, 7, and daughter Lila, 5.

Police said Moore was fishing on the river bank five miles north of here when he saw the children wade into deep water. Moore dropped his crutches and tried to swim after them.

Mart Registers Slight Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rested after its recent labors early this afternoon and the result was a moderate decline all along the line. Trading slowed to a leisurely pace after a fairly active opening.

The decline was attributed to normal profit-taking after last week's advances, especially among the blue chip issues which paced that advance.

Although some observers thought Russia's latest space success might stimulate further U. S. defense spending, others reported little or no reaction along Wall Street. More interest was expressed in what Soviet Premier Khrushchev might have to say about it and about Berlin.

Aircraft-missile and electronic shares were higher, but gains were held to slight fractions for most. The list as a whole showed a preponderance of losers with both ups and downs generally fractional.

Blue chip chemicals were weak with Du Pont off more than and Union Carbide down a couple of points or so.

Motors, steels, rubbers and nonferrous metals backed off from recent advances. Rails looked a little weaker than in the morning with B&O and Illinois Central down nearly a point, but New York Central and the Pennsy clung to small advances.

U. S. Steel's drop widened to more than a point, as did that of Jones & Laughlin, while Bethlehem was down nearly a point. A morning block of 14,400 Bethlehem shares was down ½.

Mead Johnson was higher on published reports of its weight control wafers and Anken Chemical rose more than 2 in light trading.

Corn, Oats Ease Off on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat, rye and soybean futures were firm to strong today in rather slow early dealings on the board of trade, while corn and oats eased.

Brokers said there appeared to be a little better commercial demand for wheat and that the support apparently also included a moderate volume of investment buying.

Rye moved up two cents or more a bushel during the first several minutes and soybeans small fractions. September corn which sold at its lowest level of the season last Friday held about steady, but other deliveries lost about a cent in spots.

OKs Life Term for Hijackers

Subcommittee Passes Bill, Spurred by Jet Take-Over in El Paso

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Aviation subcommittee today approved unanimously a bill to make airplane hijacking punishable by mandatory life sentence in prison.

The subcommittee was spurred by the hijacking last Thursday of a Continental Airlines jet at El Paso, Tex., by two gunmen who tried to force the pilot to fly them to Cuba.

Sen. A.S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., the subcommittee chairman, said the group would seek a vote Sunday by its parent body, Senate Commerce Committee.

With the Kennedy administration urging prompt action, a House commerce subcommittee, headed by Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., was starting hearings on similar legislation.

The Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., is designed to make hijacking of aircraft the legal equivalent of piracy on the high seas, and provide federal jurisdiction over other crimes in the sky.

One action makes murder, manslaughter, assaults, robbery, rape, and other violent crimes committed on board aircraft in flight offenses under federal law.

Another section provides for a $10,000 fine or imprisonment for 20 years, or both, for any one who assaults, intimidates, threatens or interferes with crew members while an airplane is in flight.

Explains Blasts Heard in Holly, Clarkston Areas

A series of explosions which may have disturbed residents in the Clarkston and Holly areas about noon today were explained by an official of Michigan Gas Storage Co., a subsidiary of Consumers Power Co.

Charles F. Brown, Pontiac district manager of the company, said the noises resulted from a "blowing down" process in the company's east transmission line.

Brown said work on the line was started at 11 a.m. and continued for two hours on Farley Road in Springfield Township, about 1½-miles west of Clarkston, and approximately two miles south of Holly in Rose Township.

A loud noise results when workers open valves on the line and gas is released into the atmosphere, Brown said.

Says Auto Talks to Be Ended in Peace by Big 3

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The big three automakers — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — will read a peaceful settlement in their bargaining with the United Auto Workers, Steel Magazine has predicted.

The national weekly forecast that there will be no company-wide strikes and that the firms will sign two-year contracts.

The big three package will cost 7 to 10 cents an hour per man for each year of the contract, the magazine said.

In addition, Steel predicted that pensions will be liberalized slightly, supplemental unemployment benefits substantially modified and cost of living and annual improvement provisions kept, but cost of living will receive a ceiling, perhaps tying it to insurance costs as in the steel industry.

Dies of Crash Injuries

HARTFORD (AP)—Michael Freudenburg, 16, of route 1, Watervliet, died early today of injuries suffered late Sunday when a car in which he was a passenger failed to make a curve 1 mile north of this Van Buren County community and struck a bridge railing.

Three of four traffic crashes involve passenger cars.

Nightmare About Berlin Could Become Reality

By HARRY FERGUSON

PARIS (UPI)—This is a nightmare about a man in a brown suit who is carrying a rubber stamp. He is about to start World War III.

He is sitting behind a small window in a wooden hut near the town of Helmstedt, on the border between East and West Germany. His brown suit is a uniform and the markings on his shoulders show he is a lieutenant in the East German Communist Police Force.

He shuffles papers back and forth and frowns. Then he slowly fades out of the nightmare and is replaced by big, black newspaper headlines:

Khrushchev Signs Peace Treaty With East Germany; German Communists now control roads to West Berlin.

Joint Western Note Protests to Khrushchev; Demands He Guarantees Access to West Berlin.

Khrushchev Rejects Protest Note on West Berlin; Says Allies Must Deal With Sovereign State of East Germany.

The man in the brown suit comes back into the nightmare. He is arguing with an American Sergeant who commands a convoy of 12 trucks carrying food, medicine and ammunition to the U.S., British and French garrisons in West Berlin.

WANTS OK

The Sergeant wants the man in the brown suit to put his rubber stamp on the manifest of the cargo in the trucks and to allow him to proceed to West Berlin.

The man in the brown suit refuses. He says he has orders to check every article in the trucks. How long will that take, asks the Sergeant. Who knows? Maybe a week, maybe a month. Orders are orders.

Another American Sergeant comes up with another convoy. The Western Trucks are piling up at Helmstedt and nothing is getting through to West Berlin.

Now it has become apparent that the man in the brown suit has blockaded Berlin.

ARMORED ARRIVES

Up to the wooden hut rolls an Allied armored column. The American Colonel in command tells the man in the brown suit he has orders to escort the trucks through the barrier and on into Berlin.

The man in the brown suit tells him it will not be permitted and whistles for reinforcements.

And then what happens?

And then, as in all nightmares, we are left in suspense, hanging by our finger nails on the edge of a cliff, whirling through endless space, plagued by perils we can never resolve.

DOMINICAN RAID — Club-wielding Dominican Republic police rush a fleeing civilian Saturday in downtown Ciudad Trujillo as police raided the headquarters of two opposition factions. Clubs, knives, machetes and gasoline bombs were seized and 150 persons were arrested, warned and released.

One of the things the four Western Foreign Ministers who are meeting here are trying to decide is what to do if this nightmare should become a reality. There is no certainty that it will, but it would be criminal negligence not to assume that it could.

Here we have the essence of the Berlin crisis, the final showdown, the moment of truth for both sides.

To shoot or not to shoot, that is the question.

That is why there are furrows in the brows of the foreign ministers — Dean Rusk of the United States, Maurice Couve de Murville of France, Lord Tome of Britain and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany, as they sit around a green table on which the future of the human race is piled up like stakes in a card game.

They have to keep looking over their shoulders to see whether a fifth man is attending their deliberations — the man in the brown suit.

12 Die on Roads, 3 Persons Drown

By The Associated Press

A car headed the wrong way on an Interstate 75 Expressway lane resulted in a head-on collision that claimed three lives late Sunday.

The triple fatality raised the Michigan weekend traffic toll to 12. Three other persons drowned in state waters over the weekend.

Dead in the I75 crash, which occurred some 4 miles north of Bridgeport, were Richard Miller, 78, of Saginaw, his wife, Minnie, 78, and Mrs. Mildred Labeau, 56, of Detroit. Mrs. Labeau's husband, William, 63, was reported in critical condition at St. Lukes Hospital, Saginaw.

State Police said Miller was driving north in the South lane of the expressway. Officers said he had stopped to ask a Trooper from Bridgeport post for directions only minutes before the collision.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Sunday night.

Also near Saginaw Saturday a truck carrying 15 migrant farm workers collided with another truck, killing two of the workers and seriously injuring five others.

Killed in the truck crash were Macias A. Gonzales, 21, and Agueiro A. Neave, 23, both of Mexico.

Saginaw County Sheriff's officers said the workers' truck collided on M13 with one driven by James H. Linn, 43, of Saginaw. Linn and his two passengers suffered minor injuries.

Three of the injured farm workers were in critical condition at a Saginaw hospital. They were identified as Jose M. Corral, 22, Guadulupe M. Rosales, 40, and Jesus B. Ibarra, 40, all of Mexico.

Linda York, 6, of Clio was killed and her mother, Sophie, 30, was injured critically in a two-car crash at an intersection of two Northwestern Genesee County roads late Sunday. The driver of the other car, Harold Bliss, 21, of Mount Morris, was held for investigation of negligent homicide by county sheriff's men.

MISSED CURVE

Another collision, this one involving a motorcycle and a car, Saturday claimed the lives of Roger Daniels, 15, and Glenn Federspiel, 21, both of Sterling. Their motorcycle missed a curve and hit the auto on M70 about 2¼ miles north of Sterling in Arenac County.

State Police said Andrew Hafman, 69, of Battle Creek, was killed Sunday when his car left a road and struck a tree in Pennfield Township of Calhoun County.

Frank J. Gashaw, 37, of Kalamazoo, was injured fatally Saturday when his car collided with a freight train near Kalamazoo.

John Teller, 17, of Reading, died Saturday when the car in which he was a passenger overturned and hit a tree in Reading, Hillsdale County.

Leonard Schreur, 7 months, of Byron Center, was killed Saturday when his father's car collided with a truck near Hudsonville in Ottawa County.

Drowning:

Ronald Foss, 10, of Bridgeport, drowned Sunday in Lake Huron. Police said he had been swimming from the beach at a state park on Tawas Bay. His family was staying at the park.

Ricky Lanzillotti, 17, of Detroit, drowned in Lake St. Clair Saturday. Police said Lanzillotti jumped into the water from a 25-foot cabin cruiser en route to Marysville, Ont.

Daniel Vanderweide, 4, of Grand Rapids drowned Saturday in Pretty Lake near Kalamazoo after he fell off a dock while watching his father throw out a fishing line.

Miscellaneous:

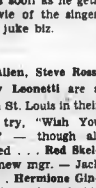
Randy R. Vincent, 3, was killed Sunday when he was run over by a truck on the farm of his father, Robert, near Swartz Creek. Genesee County Sheriff's men said the boy had been riding on the truck and fell under the wheels.

Garland-Luft Divorce is Again Up in the Air

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Judy Garland has talked to lawyers about divorcing Sid Luft.

Judy's been parted for weeks from Luft, the ex-test pilot credited with masterminding her movie comeback in 1954 when she made "A Star Is Born." He's visited her occasionally and briefly to see their children, Lorna and Joseph. But he's been busy and absent from her most recent professional triumphs.



WILSON

And the plan for Luft's close friend, Fred F. Finkelhoffe, to write her life story, is stalled. Her new managers are seeking a new biographer, they are also seeking a new residence for her — sans Luft. Judy's going slow about announcing divorce or legal separation steps . . . because she started divorce action against Luft in 1956 — and went back to him next day.

Fidel Will Lift Ban on Travel

All Cuban Currency Must Be Exchanged Before Tonight

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — A travel ban that went into effect over the weekend as a preliminary to a currency changeover by the Cuban government was scheduled to be lifted tonight.

The government halted all ship and plane travel in and out of Cuba over the weekend to prevent refugees from taking money out of the country.

All plane flights were cancelled and the port of Havana was closed, with three ships waiting outside the harbor entrance.

The currency changeover means that all bills now in circulation must be traded in for new ones by today.

The move was ordered in a council ministers decree issued Saturday morning. It provided that old bills will be turned in between 8 a.m. Sunday and 8 p.m. today. The old bills have no legal value now and will be considered null and of no value at all after today.

The decree specified that not more than 200 pesos may be exchanged immediately by any member of a household. Any funds above that figure must be deposited in a special account by the persons holding them and converted to new bills a week later.

Persons exchanging currency were required to give their names, addresses, ages, occupations and names and ages of their dependents.

Violators were subject to prison terms of from six months to five years and seizure of all assets.

The new issues of bills will carry pictures of Premier Fidel Castro and events of his revolution.

Pair Lost for Two Days Escape Ontario Wilds

CALABOGIE, Ont. (AP) — Two men wandered out of dense bush Sunday after being lost for two days. They were none the worse for the experience.

Percy Guest, 66, of Renfrew, Ont., and Walter Solderland, 60, of Bay City, Mich., were wet and tired but uninjured.

They walked out at Flower Station, near here, missing the 20-odd searchers combing the bush in the Fish Lakes area where they had become lost Friday while fishing.

Calls Grand Jury to Hear Charges on Hijackers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge R.E. Thomason has called a special session of the federal grand jury this morning to hear testimony for possible indictment and trial against the Arizona father and son who hijacked a Continental Airlines jet over El Paso last Thursday.

Judge Thomason said if an indictment should be returned, Leon Bearden, 50, and his son, Cody, 16, would probably be arraigned in U.S. District Court either Thursday or Friday.

The two are being held in lieu of $100,000 bond each. They are charged with kidnaping and interstate transportation of a stolen aircraft.

The Beardens pulled guns on the crew of the Boeing 707 jet and forced the pilot to land at El Paso to take on additional fuel to fly to Cuba with 10 hostages from the 85 passengers aboard the plane.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Red Cosmonaut Jaunty Throughout Trip

MOSCOW (UPI) — "Goodby until we meet again before long, dear comrades and friends."

With these words, Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov, 26, stepped into his spacecraft and began the historic journey that would take him further than man had ever gone before.

As he continued to orbit the earth, Communist news sources gave out the following excerpts from his conversations with earth:

After 90 minutes: "Everything goes perfectly. Convey to comrade (Premier Nikita S.) Khrushchev that everything is in order aboard the ship."

After he had passed over Africa, Europe, North and South America, Asia and Australia and eaten a three-course lunch: "I am feeling fine."

Titov said he would sleep for 7½ hours last night. He appeared to be in good humor as he massaged good night while passing over Moscow.

'I WISH TO SAY GOODNIGHT'

"In fact, everything you could wish yourselves (full comfort). Everything goes extremely well. Now I wish to say goodnight to you dear Muscovites.

"I am going to bed. Do whatever you may like to do — but I go to bed now," Titov was quoted as saying.

"Everything is in order in the capsule," he reported.

"Pressure is normal, pressure is good, humidity 70 per cent, temperature 18 centigrade (roughly 64 degrees fahrenheit) . . . full comfort . . . full comfort."

"From aboard the ship Vostok II Maj. Titov reported that he had a good sleep, all equipment on the ship functions normally, the predetermined hygenic conditions are maintained in the cabin, he is feeling perfectly well." Tass reported later.

Moscow radio said Titov tuned in and listened to Siberian songs when he was not working.

Premier Khrushchev laughlingly told Titov that he sounded so well after his journeys around the earth it seemed as if he had just come back from a party.

TELEPHONE CHAT

Tass said Khrushchev was receiving the Argentine ambassador at the Kremlin when he was told that Titov had just landed and wanted to talk to him and report personally on the flight.

"I am very pleased," Khrushchev was quoted by Tass as telling the Argentine envoy, and told him: "You, too, can be a witness of your conversation with the spaceman."

'I AM LISTENING'

As Tass reported it, this is what then took place:

Khrushchev picked up the phone and said, "I am listening to you, comrade Gherman Stepanovich, and cordial congratulations."

TITOV: "Comrade first secretary of the CSPU (Communist Party of the Soviet Union) Central Committee, I report that the task set by the party and the government has been fulfilled.

"All the systems and equipment of the ship worked excellently. The landing was made in the predetermined region. My comrades gave me a good reception and I feel very well."

TITOV: "Well said, Nikita Sergeivitch. There was a feast—but not a wedding one."

Tass said both laughed at this exchange.

KHRUSHCHEV: "A feast, that is true, but not a wedding feast. For the newly married a wedding feast is the happiest time. But what you have done, this is a happy time for the whole of mankind."

TITOV: "Thank you, Nikita Sergeitlitch."

'UNPRECEDENTED VOYAGE'

KHRUSHCHEV: "You have carried out an unprecedented cosmic voyage. How many circuits of the earth did you do?"

TITOV: "Seventeen and a half, Nikita Sergeivitch."

KHRUSHCHEV: "In how many hours?"

TITOV: "In 25 hours and some minutes." (It was officially announced as 25 hours, 18 minutes.)

KHRUSHCHEV: "Twenty-five hours and some minutes! This is a heroic deed. You have fulfilled mankind's dream. Not so long ago the dream of man's cosmic flight was considered not feasible.

"We are proud that you, a Soviet man, a Communist, have done it. You are now no longer a candidate member of the party.

"Consider that your probationary period has already ended, because every moment of your stay in space can be counted as years.

"You have already completed your probationary period for party membership and have shown that you are a real Communist and can hold high the banner of Lenin."

TITOV: "Many thanks, Nikita Sergeivitch. I shall try to justify the confidences of the party and promise to continue to fulfill the lofty duties of a party member as I have fulfilled them today."

KHRUSHCHEV: "Very well. I congratulate you and your parents, your father and mother, for having brought up as such a brave Soviet man."

TITOV: "Thank you, Nikita Sergeivitch."

VOWS WORTHY WELCOME

KHRUSHCHEV: "We shall congratulate and thank your parents

Soviet Spaceman Lands Safely

Triumphant K Expected to Get Tough in Speech

Buoyed by Space Feat, Will Likely Reply to Call-up in Hard Terms

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, exhilerated by another spectacular Soviet achievement, goes on radio and television today to give what is expected to be a strong reply to President Kennedy's call for a U.S. military build-up in the Berlin crisis.

The Premier's talk to the nation was announced last Saturday but he obviously knew at the time that his scientists planned to send Gherman Titov into a prolonged orbit around the earth and bring him back today.

Because of the space flight, Khurshchev undoubtedly will speak from a strengthened position, in the opinion of diplomatic observers here.

In addition, he has the full backing of the Warsaw Pact powers which have just ended a top level meeting on Berlin.

Khrushchev already had announced a halt to demobilization plans and said the Soviet military budget would be increased by a third.

It was considered likely he would announce today new Communist world measures for dealing with what he considers American "aggressive actions."

The premier's speech — his second within three months — was expected to be stronger in tone than were his notes on Berlin handed to the West earlier this week.

MUST AVOID ALARM

The Soviet premier was expected to phrase his speech, however, so as not to alarm his own people unduly.

He was certain to express willingness to negotiate but Western observers expected to see no change in the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with the East Germans separately if an accommodation with the West cannot be reached.

Although Berlin was expected to be the main topic, it also was anticipated Khrushchev would range over other subjects, including the space flight and perhaps problems on Bizerte, Laos and disarmament.

Circles Earth 17 Times in Second Manned Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov landed safely today after more than 17 circuits of the earth in his space ship Vostok II and reported to Premier Khrushchev "I feel splendid."

The Premier promised a tremendous welcome to Moscow for the 26-year-old major, who traveled more than 700,000 kilometers (about 435,000 miles), roughly far enough to reach the moon and return. He was in the air 25 hours and 18 minutes.

Titov Toast of Jubilant Muscovites

MOSCOW (UPI)—Maj. Gherman S. Titov, the first man to demonstrate that a trip to the moon is humanly possible, was the toast today of a jubilant Moscow preparing to give him a tremendous hero's welcome.

Persons on the streets stopped and slapped each other on the back and shouted the praises of the "orbital major."

It was reported the same everywhere else in the Soviet Union.

There was no immediate massing of crowds in Red Square as happened when Maj. Yuri Gagarin completed man's first round trip into space last April. But throughout the capital, shopping crowds and workers listened to loudspeakers pouring out details of the flight and of what Premier Nikita Khrushchev called Titov's "heroic deed."

Moscow radio and the television broadcast a steady stream of news, foreign comment and local reaction to the space flight.

BOOST COMMUNISM

The theme stressed by both media was that Titov's flight proved socialism (communism) better than capitalism.

Announcements on the flight and its successful completion were made at movie houses and other public gathering places and brought stormy applause.

Enthusiastic crowds filled the auditorium of the Moscow Planetarium to listen to lectures on the flights of Gagarin and Titov.

Soviet sources said a demonstration on Red Square would be organized for Titov when he returns to Moscow, probably later this week.

He circled the globe every 88.6 minutes in an orbit that reached a maximum altitude of 159.59 miles and a minimum of 110.5 miles.

Moscow Radio said Titov landed in a predetermined area near where the first Soviet spaceman, Yuri Gagarin, touched down after his pioneer flight April 12. Gagarin, who made only one orbit of the earth, is believed to have landed about 450 miles southeast of Moscow.

U.S. Millions Arise to Another Red First

From Our News Wires

Millions of Americans woke up today to find the Russians had completed another historic first in space.

Many praised Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov's 17 orbits of the earth in a 5-ton spaceship, completed at 2:18 (Pontiac time) while most of the nation was sound asleep. Some doubted the announcement. A few said "so what."

Here and there an ominous note was struck—that the Soviet space success possibly portends a military threat to the United States. The consensus was that the Soviets had scored a major accomplishment.

Atlanta Civil Defense Director Elliott R. Jackson said, "The Russians' ability to put a man in space circling the earth for this many hours may mean they have greater capabilities in the missile field than we first thought. This feat should make us ponder.

"We must get moving on all

Kennedy Discusses Russ Space Feat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew back to the capital today after a Cape Cod weekend during which he charted United Nations strategy with Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and discussed the latest Soviet space achievement with the U.N. envoy.

King and Queen Contest to Highlight Fair's 1st Day

The traditional king and queen contest and a special added attraction will highlight opening day events at the 5-day annual Oakland County 4-H Fair tomorrow.

The fair, which represents the culmination of a year's work for over 1,500 Oakland County boys and girls, will be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

The fair opens for entries at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Judging of the 4-H king and queen will take place in a special program at 7:30 p.m.

The annual freckle contest, another popular feature of the fair, is also scheduled for the same program tomorrow evening following a welcoming address by Keith Middleton, president of the Oakland County 4-H Council.

A new feature this year will be the presentation of an outstanding registered Holstein cow to the boy or girl considered to have done most toward success of 4-H work in the county.

The award will be presented by Joe Haas, columnist for The Pontiac Press, who is inaugurating the project in memory of his late wife Winifred.

The "Man About Town" columnist for The Press said the project will be perpetuated as a foundation to his late wife who was interested in 4-H work during her lifetime.

Soggy Show in Wisner Lake

Downpour Beats Lions

Jupiter Pluvious won the Lions' dress rehearsal scrimmage Saturday night at Wisner Stadium.

He opened with heavy showers, dropped easily into torrential rains and wound up with a cloud burst that washed out the whole show.

But the Lions may be back next year.

When President Edwin J. Anderson arrived, he said: "Why, we can't even start." Then the Lions' boss walked into the stadium and discovered thousands of fans. "This," said, he, "is incredible."

In the dressing room Anderson and the coaching staff asked the players what they thought. Alex Karras spoke up and said: "With all the people this loyal to us, let's give it a whirl."

The others agreed.

"We'd like to try it again next year," said President Anderson.

A. C. Girard, president of The Community National Bank said he was willing to underwrite the affair again and Co-Chairman Richard M. Fitzgerald of the Jaycees, said he was sure his organization would cooperate.

Oh, they were here. They had a rousing luncheon with a lot of Jaycees, attended a buffet dinner and were "ready to go" if someone had called their signal.

But J. Pluvious settled that.

Ministers Give Reds Warning on Berlin Issue

From Our News Wires

PARIS—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the allied foreign ministers today there were increasing hopes for peace on the East-West front in Southeast Asia.

The assurances came after the British, French, and U. S. foreign ministers had issued a sharp hands-off warning to Russia on the Berlin issue.

The Western Big Four ministers made clear they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Rusk and the other foreign ministers said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

Rusk told British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville that the United States feels the situation in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam has eased and there were good chances of an early settlement of the Laos conflict.

The foreign ministers today ended, a day ahead of schedule, the conference they opened Saturday on the Berlin crisis and other East-West issues.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, who took part in the Berlin talks, was not present for the wind-up conference on policy for Asia and Africa.

Conference spokesman said Rusk told Home and Couve de Murville the United States "feels better" about Viet Nam following steps taken by the West to bolster the government of anti-Communist Premier Ngo Dien Diem.

East Germans Claim Victory

Commuters Giving Up Jobs in West Berlin, Communists Report

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists claimed today large numbers of commuters are giving up their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work under Red rule.

The Communists have been putting commuters under heavy pressure. People who live in Communist areas and work in West Berlin now have to pay rent and many other bills in Western currency, instead of Communist-coined money worth only one-fifth as much.

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries—especially East Germany.

Neues Deutschland, the official Communist daily, told of a woman sentenced to four months in prison for failing to tell Red authorities that she was working in West Berlin. She was arrested, the paper said, trying to smuggle food.

Refugees are still coming in large numbers from Communist East Germany, though the flow ebbed in comparison with last weekend. Between 8 a.m. Saturday and Monday at the same time, there were 2,740 who registered in West Berlin.

The figure was 3,158 for the same period last week. Additional hundreds are flown out to West Germany every day without registration.

Camp authorities said many of the refugees are commuters and their families.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday night not to let East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht push him into taking drastic action on Berlin.

Perfect Weather Around Country, Few Wet Spots

There were some wet spots in the South and West but generally pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Skies were clear in most of the Midwest, the Ohio Valley, wide areas of the Great Lakes and the middle and upper Atlantic coast. Some light rain fell in parts of western New York.

Cloudy and showery weather covered sections across Virginia and North Carolina to extreme northern Georgia and Alabama. Moist air flowing over the Gulf region brought cloudy skies and thunderstorms during the night in the Southeast. Hail hit some areas.

Arab League Force May Help Kuwait

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Arab League force of 2,500 to 5,000 men will be ready to replace British troops in Kuwait late this month or early next, reliable sources reported today.

The informants said the size of the force depends on talks in Kuwait today between an Arab League military mission and the ruler of the oil-rich sheikdom, Sheik Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah.

The mission stopped off in Saudi Arabia Sunday night to discuss the position of Saudi Arabian forces sent to the sheikdom after Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem threatened to annex it.

SPACEMAN AND SPOUSE—This photo of Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov and his wife Tamara Vasilyevna was released today in Moscow following the government announcement of Titov's successful completion of an orbital flight of the earth. Mrs. Titov, 24, waited a "long" 25 hours before learning her husband had landed safely after orbiting the earth more than 17 times. No indication was given when the picture was made.

Mrs. Gagarin Helped in Ordeal

Titov's Wife Waited 'Eternity'

MOSCOW (UPI)—This was the longest 25 hours in Tamara Titov's young life. It was almost an eternity.

Minute by minute she lived a little and died a little as she anxiously awaited news of her husband, Maj. Gherman S. Titov, who was whizzing around earth in a Soviet spaceship at the fantastic speed of nearly 18,000 miles an hour.

The 24-year-old woman sobbed with joy when she learned her husband had landed safely after orbiting the earth more than 17 times in a little over 25 hours.

Mrs. Valentina Gagarin, wife of the world's first spaceman, was by Mrs. Titov's side throughout her ordeal. Both women were reported in a high state of tension and Mrs. Titov was red-eyed and near the point of exhaustion from lack of sleep for more than 24 hours.

The cosmonaut's wife barely ate anything at all and had scarcely moved from the radio and television set in her room from the moment the announcement was made Sunday morning that her husband had been rocketed into his epic journey.

BRACES WIFE

Her friends said Mrs. Gagarin was "a mountain of strength" as she braced Mrs. Titov during the biggest crisis in her life. Valentina, herself, had gone through a similar ordeal of waiting last April 12, but her trial lasted only 108 minutes.

* * *

It was ironic that while his wife waited anxiously on earth, too nervous to eat or sleep properly, Titov was riding through space — according to official reports — eating heartily and sleeping well and long.

Titov, in fact, overslept by 37 minutes the time he was scheduled to have napped.

Titov told Khrushchev that "after the landing, I drank a little water, and I feel splendid."

Before the telephone call, Khrushchev sent Titov a message of congratulations on his "heroic deed," saying the feat "has shown once again what Soviet man, educated by the Communist party, is able to do."

"Until we meet soon in Moscow," Khrushchev concluded, indicating the government was planning a triumphal welcome to the capital for Titov like the one that greeted Gagarin after his space flight.

The Soviet Cabinet and the Presidium and Central Committee of Parliament, in a message to the peoples and governments of the world, said: "The time is not far away when the way will be paved to the moon, Mars and Venus, and new perspectives will open to mankind in the mastery of the cosmos."

REPEATS MESSAGE

Over and over again Titov kept sending word back to earth that he was in great shape — "Am feeling fine. I feel excellent under conditions of weightlessness. Ship-shape order on board."

The historic flight proved that a man can undergo the rigors of a flight to the moon without excessive ill effect.

The Soviets said the purpose of the flight was to study the effects on a human being of prolonged orbital flight and the descent to the earth's surface.

Many Western observers sur-

missed that the flight had been timed to reinforce Soviet Premier Khrushchev's drive to end the Western allied occupation of West Berlin and particularly the threats to Berlin Khrushchev is expected to make in a major broadcast tonight.

* * *

Like Gagarin's flight, Titov's was greeted in both the Western and Communist world with praise for the Soviet scientific achievement. Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, termed it "another important step in the Russian plan to populate the solar system beginning with the invasion of the moon in a few years' time."

EVIDENCE OF LEAD

Several West European newspapers said the flight was more evidence of the Soviet lead over the United States in the space race. But the news of Titov's flight was accepted calmly in Washington. Space officials and others showed no surprise.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, after talking with President Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., said the flight "sharpens the need for some action to regulate use of outer space and to keep the arms race from spreading to that field." Stevenson is chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

George M. Low, chief of the American manned flight program said it would be "quite some time yet" before the United States can duplicate the Soviet achievement. He said the American program was going as fast as it can and expressed doubt that Titov's epic flight would lead to any change in it.

Throughout his flight, the Soviets said, the handsome, wavy-haired Titov was kept in view from earth by television and while awake he maintained constant two-way radio communication.

He was in a smiling, happy-go-lucky mood throughout the trip, once wisecracking in a message to Muscovites: "I wish you had it so good."

fronts," Jackson said. Many Americans agreed.

DOUBTS ANNOUNCEMENT

But Mrs. Frances Doyle, a San Francisco auditor, said she was inclined to doubt the Soviet announcement.

"How do we know how many men they sent up that we didn't hear about. I don't think it means that they have any better equipment. I think America still leads them all."

Mark Lovrim, a San Francisco elevator operator, said the United States had sent two astronauts on sub-orbital flights and the Russians "shot up two so everybody ought to be happy." He added: "It didn't change my life either way."

Typical of the let's-be-calm mood in Washington was the remark of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Kirksen of Illinois.

"We shall do it in due course in equal and even larger degrees. Our space progress has been excellent and will pick up steam as it goes along," Dirksen said.

SEE DARK SIDE

Truck Local Set to Construct Hall

UAW 594 Planning $200,000 Building on East Boulevard

General Motors Truck & Coach Local 594, UAW, is beginning a new $200,000 hall on East Boulevard, a few blocks north of the GMC plant.

Construction should get under way in a few days and be completed in January, according to Andy Wilson, local president.

The building program, financed on a pay-as-you-go basis, will provide a bigger meeting place closer to the plant, said Wilson.

General contractors for the one-story brick building on the east side of East Boulevard between Midway and Wilson Street is Hickman-Costigan Co. of Detroit. Sylvan Plumbing & Heating Co. also is a contractor.

The building program is a long-time ambition of the 5,700-member local and of its executive officers. The land was purchased in 1956 and recently rezoned for the local.

For more than 20 years the local has been headquartered at 30 Mt. Clemens St. in downtown Pontiac. Parking facilities there have been limited.

The new hall will seat 450 persons, said Wilson. It will have offices and kitchen facilities for banquets inside and parking space for more than 80 cars, he said.

Wilson said the building costs will be paid out of a building fund accumulated over a period of many years through per capita tax on the membership.

Now all three big United Auto Workers locals in Pontiac will have new headquarters buildings. Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW, got a new building in 1953 and Fisher Body Local 596, UAW, moved into new quarters last year.

Calls Grand Jury to Hear Charges on Hijackers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge R.E. Thomason has called a special session of the federal grand jury this morning to hear testimony for possible indictment and trial against the Arizona father and son who hijacked a Continental Airlines jet over El Paso last Thursday.

Judge Thomason said if an indictment should be returned, Leon Bearden, 50, and his son, Cody, 16, would probably be arraigned in U.S. District Court either Thursday or Friday.

The Day in Birmingham

Traffic Safety Conclave Set for Bloomfield Twp.

BIRMINGHAM—The first of six "governor's conferences" on traffic safety will be held Aug. 16 at Devon Gables in Bloomfield Township.

Birmingham Mayor Florence H. Willett will serve as coordinator of the program which is part of a continuing statewide effort to conduct highway safety discussions and accelerate action on a community level.

State Safety Commission Chairman James M. Hare will be the keynote speaker at most of the regional meetings which also will be held this month at Sturgis, Muskegon, Cadillac, Alpena and Houghton.

"In cooperation with local committees we are planning to bring to citizens the most recent information on techniques and practices for combatting the rising toll of traffic fatalities and crippling accidents," Hare explained.

"Among the subjects to be explored will be the problems we face in the chemical testing program for intoxicated drivers and a review of proposed safety legislation for 1962," the secretary of state added.

"A successful safety program requires grass-roots support in every community. We hope that this year's conferences will help local safety committees put on a spirited community campaign to reduce accidents on their local roads and highways."

Among the safety technicians, civic leaders and public officials who will participate are Gov. Swainson, members of the State Administrative Board Fletcher Platt of the Citizen's Action Committee, and local judges, police chiefs and safety officials.

Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has been named to the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

Top UAW Board to be Petitioned for Strike Vote

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' 24-man executive board will be asked next Sunday to authorize a strike vote against General Motors Corp. to support demands wanted in a new contract to replace the current three-year one expiring Aug. 31.

Leaders of GM locals in Detroit, Flint and Saginaw voted Sunday to ask the executive board to take a strike vote among GM's 300,000 UAW-represented production workers.

A union spokesman said the votes were unanimous in all three Michigan cities. There was no immediate report from 17 other cities across the country in which GM local leaders also held weekend strategy meetings.

Latin Parley to Hear Cuba

Guevara Expected to Blast Kennedy's Plan for Progress Alliance

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI)—Cuba was expected to open its offensive today against President Kennedy's "alliance for progress" at the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference here.

Guevara refused to endorse Peruvian Prime Minister Pedro Beltran's praise for Kennedy's "alliance for progress." Official Havana radio has repeatedly denounced the alliance and urged Latin American countries to follow Cuba's example in achieving higher living standards and social justice.

The bearded Cuban delegation chief apparently was trying to gain support in Cuba's efforts to sabotage the alliance.

U. S. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, chief of the 87-man U.S. delegation, was scheduled to speak late today or early Tuesday.

He was expected to urge Latin America to match with good will and effort a 10-year multibillion-dollar U.S. spending program to combat hunger, illiteracy and economic inequality in the Western Hemisphere.

* * *

Jubilant Spaceman Cries, 'I'm an Eagle'

MOSCOW (AP) — "I am an eagle."

That's how Soviet spaceman Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov described himself as he whirled in orbit around the globe.

Son of a retired Siberian school teacher, Titov 26, is a year younger than his "great friend" Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who made the first space flight.

His father, Stepan Pavolovich Titov, described his son as "obedient and industrious" with an enthusiasm for anything aeronautical since childhood.

"He liked to make things, especially to build model aircraft and to launch gliders," the elder Titov said. "Gherman used to read a lot, and like all boys of his age was keen on adventure stories.

BECOMES PILOT

"We wanted him to go to a university, but he decided to become a pilot and his dream came true."

The youthful spaceman was born in the village of Verkhneye Zhilino, in western Siberia.

He went to Stalingrad flying school in 1955, won his wings in 1957 with top-flight grades and then signed up for the air force. Friends described him as an athletic type with a fondness for gymnastics and a bicycle champion.

Like Gagarin, Titov is married but the biography released by the Soviet news agency Tass made no mention of his having any children. Gagarin has two.

Both Titov and Gagarin are dedicated Communists. Gagarin is a full-fledged member of the party. Titov joined the Young Communist League at the age of 14 and is a candidate member of the party.

One of Titov's first messages from outer space was to dedicate his flight "to the 22nd congress of our Communist party," which will be held in October.

Queen's Brother Plays Without Black Gloves

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Don Jaime de Moray Aragon, brother of Queen Fabiola of Belgium, made his Italian debut over the weekend as pianist and pop singer in a summer resort nightclub.

The Spanish nobleman, turned actor - entertainer, disappointed the big turnout in one minor detail. He did not wear the black gloves he usually puts on when he plays the piano.

Third Cardinal Dies in Week

Belgian Prelate Dies on Sunday After Long Illness

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Joseph Ernest Cardinal Van Roey, 87, the third prince of the Roman Catholic Church to die within a week.

Cardinal Van Roey was known as "the rhinoceros of Malines"—the name of his archepiscopal palace—because of his strong personality and forthright stand he took on political questions.

Before World War II he openly opposed Belgian fascist leader Leon Degrelle. During the German occupation he criticized Nazi occupation policies and objected to allied bombings of Belgium. In postwar years he fought socialist movements and frequently came under fire from the left-wing press.

Saturn Making Slow Start to Moon by Barge

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — "We're making a slow start to the moon."

This statement, made in jest by an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had a touch of irony in it today.

While three of the four major components of this nation's moon-shot rocket — the Saturn — were slowly floating down the Mississippi River in a barge, the world was congratulating the Soviet Union on its manned second orbital flight.

The Saturn booster aboard the barge was developed at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala. Its size—82 feet high and 22 feet in diameter—prohibited transportation except by water.

While the rocket in flight will reach speeds up to five times the speed of sound, it is being carried to a rendevous with missile testers in Cape Canaveral, Fla., at the painfully slow pace of around 10 miles an hour.

Noisy Muffler Gives Away His 2nd Profession

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. (AP)—Bill Hunting's car has a noisy muffler, and when he comes to call just about everybody knows it.

That's a handy thing for a handyman—which Bill is. But it's mighty embarrassing for a burglar—which police say Bill also is.

One of four victims whose homes was burglarised Sunday listened to the burglar's car pulling away, picked up the phone and told police: "Bill the handyman was here and robbed us."

Biggest Tests With Congress Few Weeks Off for Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's biggest tests in dealing with Congress come in the next few weeks.

So far he has relied heavily on avoiding temper tantrums on either side. He has done pretty well.

But his programs which Congress approved have been fairly conservative and, in the main, noncontroversial.

The real tough ones — foreign aid, federal aid to education and medical care for the aged — are in serious trouble. The medical care bill is in such distress it looks dead for 1961.

MORE DETERMINED?

Kennedy has given the impression of more determined follow-through than Eisenhower, although whether this is true will be shown in the way he handles himself with Congress from now on.

* * *

Eisenhower from the beginning acted as though his White House leadership job were to keep down conflict, not only abroad but at home.

This may be considered in the end his greatest contribution. When he took over the country was split by McCarthyism and all that implied: harshness and suspicion.

But this business of staying above the strife in dealing with Congress — when important legislation runs into serious opposition — could be and was at times fatal.

WORKS HARD

Kennedy has worked hard in two directions to get Congress to go along with him:

1. Through his staff members who maintain constant and personal contact with the senators and representatives.

2. Through his own direct contacts with them — White House conferences, White House breakfasts, telephone calls.

Always, however, he has avoided even minor personal unpleasantries with members of Congress, at least in public.

He has obtained approval for one piece of legislation after another although, as mentioned, almost none of it was of the kind to bring on filibusters or frenzies.

Airliner Crashes Near Budapest

All 24 Aboard Killed; Observers Feel Report Delayed for Spaceman

VIENNA (UPI) — A Hungarian airliner crashed in a Budapest suburb Sunday, killing all 24 persons on board, Budapest radio announced today.

Western observers here speculated that the official announcement of the crash, which took place while Soviet spaceman Gherman Titov was aloft, was deliberately delayed until after his successful landing was disclosed.

The victims included 20 passengers and a crew of four.

While the announcement did not say so, the victims were believed to have been aboard a IL3 type aircraft used by the Hungarian Malev Airlines, which conducts Sunday sightseeing tours over Budapest.

The Malev Airlines uses a number of old Soviet-built planes and small Western-built aircraft. For its long runs, Malev uses exclusively Russian-built passenger planes.

The radio broadcast said the Hungarian Ministry for Post and Transportation has ordered an immediate investigation into the cause of the crash.

It Took a Little While, but He Paid His Debt

McRAE, Ark. (AP) — The man who borrowed $5 from Herschel V. Bruce 17 or 18 years ago has paid his debt.

"Here is the $5 that I owed your son," the unidentified man wrote Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bruce. "I wish I could give it to him in person but I can't."

Herschel V. Bruce was killed in World War II action in France July 11, 1944.

Ed Kennedy in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Edward Kennedy, younger brother of President Kennedy, arrived Sunday for an unofficial visit, and was greeted at the airport by members of the U.S. Embassy and Chilean officials.

South Seas Comes to 'Safari' in Birmingham

AP Photofax

Globetrotters from near and far who belong to the Circumnavigators Club for a South Seas Safari Sunday. Setting was the pool and grounds of the J. D. Richardson Jr. home in Birmingham.

The safari was stationary and with no discomfort. A party not soon to be forgotten, the affair brought together many of Michigan's 80 circumnavigators and a host of out-of-towners. The international club which has its headquarters in New York requires that a man must have circled the world continuously in one direction and that he have more than a superficial interest in foreign affairs.

Authentic grass shacks, shells, outrigger canoes, fishnets and yucca poles were lavishly distributed about the premises. Exotic foods including cocoanut chicken, Javanese sweet and sour ribs, potatoes Pago Pago and tropical ambrosia were served.

In addition to a poolside fashion show of furs, entertainment included a trampoline exhibition by Dianne and Donna Richardson and motion pictures of his Pacific travels shown and narrated by Raymond M. Dinsmore of New York.

Some 400 Guests Hear Hayslett-MacNutt Vows

Some 400 guests were present for the Saturday evening marriage of Leah Mae MacNutt and James Roy Hayslett at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Theodore Allebach officiated.

Parents of the couple are the Omar E. MacNutts of Neome Drive and the James G. Hayslets of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride chose a silk organza over taffeta gown featuring short sleeves and modified Sabrina neckline with re-embroidered satin trim. A Juliet cap trimmed in seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

All the attendants were gowned alike in chiffon apricot with matching bow headpieces, matching accessories and semi-cascades of tangerine carnations.

Marilyn J. Anderson of Hartford, Conn., former college roommate of the bride, attended as maid of honor with Mrs. LaMar A. MacNutt, sister-in-law of the bride of Clearwater, Fla., Sue Alcorn of Bay City, and Delta Lee Mahan, cousin of the bride of Clearwater, Fla., as bridesmaids.

Jerry Lee Hayslett was his brother's best man. Ushers included William Skinner of Indianapolis, Ind.; the bride's brother, Dr. LaMar A. MacNutt of Clearwater, Fla., Rolly Clark of Grosse Pointe, the bride's cousin Gerard Barnhart of Pontiac. Serving as ringbearer was Charles Sweet, cousin of the bride of Rochester.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. MacNutt chose a beige embroidered silk organza dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of willow green satin and matching accessories. Both wore Mary Jo rose corsages.

'Horses' Must Be Fed—Abby

Picks Losing Oat-Burner

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who is so broke he has even considered selling his body to a medical school when he dies for a little cash today.

He earns (believe it or not) $18,000 a year, but we can't break even because he has to support three families!

ABBY

He was married twice before, and has six children. So he has to throw his money away on wives and children he never sees.

It is like buying oats for dead horses. I don't believe in letting ex-wives and children starve to death, but both his ex-wives are staying single and bleeding him for everything he has just to be spiteful.

Is there any way my husband can get his alimony and support money reduced? Don't suggest a lawyer. We are broke because of them.

THIRD WIFE

DEAR THIRD: Sorry, but when you want legal advice, a lawyer is still the best buy. The "horses" for whom your husband must buy "oats" are very much alive.

And when a man chooses to change horses (three times yet!) in the middle of the stream, he had better have enough oats to stock Churchill Downs. You picked a losing oat-burner, sister.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost twelve years old. When I was younger, my mother clobbered me. Now that I am older, I get restricted. I would much rather get clobbered. What is your solution?

RAT

DEAR RAT: Rats can't choose their poison. Behave yourself.

DEAR ABBY: I want to know what is so good about having a marriage license? I am sick of married women turning up their noses at me.

I have been a mistress for 12 years, have two children by the man, and he hasn't left me yet. He lives with his folks, and I rent a house.

He comes to see me every chance he gets. He can't take me or the children out in public on account of his folks and friends, but a lot of married people don't go out together either.

I am just as good a mother as any married woman, so what's the difference?

NOT MARRIED

DEAR NOT: If you don't care whether your children are legitimate and have a normal home life, and if social acceptance and respectability mean nothing to you, then there is nothing the matter with your arrangement.

Married in Candlelight Before Gathering of 300

Karen Louise TerMarsch became Mrs. Rodger L. Bridger Saturday evening at Christian Temple in the presence of some 300 guests. Rev. Lola P. Marion performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums, and palms.

The couple's parents are the Edgar A. TerMarsches of Joslyn Avenue and the Ack L. Bridgers of Taylor Road.

GOWNED ALIKE

All of the attendants were gowned alike in bouffant ballerina-skirted dresses of taffeta, featuring scooped necklines, cap sleeves, fitted cummerbunds and matching headpieces. Maid of honor in iridescent green was the bride's sister, Gail TerMarsch, and bridesmaids in pale pink, yellow, and pale blue respectively, were Brenda Bridger, the bridegroom's sister, Karol Clark, and Mrs. Thomas Hoisington. Each carried colonial bouquets of assorted roses and white carnations. Serving her cousin as flower girl was Cindy Staton.

MRS. RODGER L. BRIDGER

Attending the bridegroom were his brother Phillip as best man and another brother, Arthur; the bride's cousin, David TerMarsch; and Wesley Seabrook of Lake Orion, as ushers. Michael Millmine, the bride's cousin, served as ring bearer.

A reception immediately followed in the church parlors for which Mrs. TerMarsch chose a pink sheath. Mrs. Bridger wore a powder blue dress and both moters wore corsages of roses and carnations.

Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's queer how often we think of molding seafood in gelatine for salad, yet do it rarely with meat. That is why we're pleased to have today's recipe for a Corned Beef Mold. This is an excellent salad to serve at a buffet. Men like it.

Market Turns to Mixed Trade

Aircraft-missile and electronic stocks were mostly higher, apparently reflecting belief the U.S. space program might be stepped up because of Russia's latest space success.

Douglas was ahead nearly a point and Boeing a fraction, although General Dynamics lost its small opening advance. Sperry Rand, 1¼ at the start, later added to that and Radio Corp. also was higher.

Motors and steels, which led the market to record levels on average last week, fell back. Ford opened unchanged, but soon slipped lower and GM and Chrysler also were off.

Similarly, Bethlehem Steel opened unchanged but later was off ⅛ at 42¼ on a block of 14,400 shares. U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin were down around a point.

Chemicals, another bulwark last week, were mixed as Eastman Kodak, Air Reduction and American Cynamid advanced while Allied and DuPont were retreating. DuPont's loss was nearly 2 points.

With the market at record heights, Wall Street analysts were watching the volume trends for a possible clue to the next major movement.

Utilities were mixed, while rails continued to show some of the strength exhibited Friday and nonferrous metals generally were lower. Santa Fe, New York Central and Pennsylvania were up among rails. Southern Railway and Southern Pacific were lower.

AMEX WEAKER

American Stock Exchange prices were weaker. Kolybdenum Corp., Cenco, Louisiana Lad and Hollinger retreated. Up ⅛ were Creole Petroleum, Draper and North Canadian Oils. Hazeltine, Hycon and Vorando were unchanged.

Expect Clashes at Bar Confab

Lawyers Have Varied Views on High Court Antibias Decision

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Fireworks over the U.S. Supreme Court's antisegregation decisions were a possibility as the American Bar Association opened its 84th annual convention today.

Before the House of Delegates, policy-making body of the association, was a resolution calling in effect upon Southern states to cease their fight to preserve color lines.

Prepared by a seven-man committee on the Bill of Rights, headed by attorney Rush H. Limbaugh of Cape Girardeau, Mo., the report said the constitutional issue has been settled. It said racial differentiation in public treatment offends the Constitution.

State officials who "disregard the constitutional rights of our people," it added, damage the United States at home and abroad.

One member of the Bill of Rights committee took issue with the report, Alfred J. Schweppe, constitutional law specialist from Seattle, Wash., called the Supreme Court decision against school segregation unconstitutional. He accused the court of making a "social revolution" without legal warranty.

St. Louis hotels were strained to the limit as lawyers poured in for the convention. Counting them and their families, an estimated 10,000 were here. The ABA has about 100,000 members.

President Kennedy had been invited to attend but sent regrets, along with a message stressing "the importance of the lawyer in maintaining those freedoms which distinguish us from the Communist world."

Explains Blasts Heard in Holly, Clarkston Areas

A series of explosions which may have disturbed residents in the Clarkston and Holly areas about noon today were explained by an official of Michigan Gas Storage Co., a subsidiary of Consumers Power Co.

Charles F. Brown, Pontiac district manager of the company, said the noises resulted from a "blowing down" process in the company's east transmission line.

Brown said work on the line was started at 11 a.m. and continued for two hours on Farley Road in Springfield Township, about 1¼-miles west of Clarkston, and approximately two miles south of Holly in Rose Township.

A loud noise results when work gas open valves on the line and gas is released into the atmosphere, Brown said.

State Police Probing Drugstore Safe Job

Pontiac state police detectives continued to investigate today Friday night's burglary of the Wonder Drug store in Independence Township, in which $2,293 was stolen from the safe.

The thieves also took 50 cartons of cigarettes, eight radios, a box of cigars and 200 blank money order forms from the store located at M-15 and U.S. 10, state police said.

The safe was pried open after the burglars broke into the store by sawing through the latch on a rear door.

UAW Returns to Table Talk

Hints Strike Deadline Sept. 3 by Increasing Benefits Then

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union went back to bargaining tables at General Motors and Ford today after hinting at its deadline for a settlement by increasing strike benefits effective Sept. 3.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, said Saturday than union leaders voted an increase of $3 across the board in benefits to be paid out of the union's strike fund. He said the fund will reach $42 million by Aug. 31, expiration date of the union's contract with GM, Ford and Chrysler.

The benefits, payable the third week of a strike, would be paid with the week beginning Sept. 17 if a strike developed. Present benefits are $12 a week for a single worker, $17 for couples and $22 for families through the seventh week of a strike.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, also bargaining with GM, said its 25,000 members in GM's appliance plants will strike when its contract runs out Sept. 1 unless a settlement is reached or is in sight.

The UAW and Chrysler held the first Saturday session of the 1961 bargaining session over the weekend and then recessed until tomorrow.

Bargaining at American Motors is in recess until Aug. 22. The union is studying a profit-sharing plan offered by AMC.

The plan also calls for the UAW to give up the cost of living escalator clause and the annual improvement factor contained in the present contract.

Waterford Crash Injures Woman Saturday Night

A Waterford Township woman is in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after an accident Saturday night on Elizabeth Lake Road near Scott Lake Road.

Township police said that Mrs. Richard Rollison, 38, of 465 Riviera St., was driving east on Elizabeth Lake Road with her son Daniel, 15, when she collided head-on with a car driven by Nicholas D. Manzella, 32, of 4163 Woodstock Avenue Waterford Township.

Manzella was arrested on a charge of driving while drunk. He will appear before Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daly tomorrow.

FINAL WORKOUTS—Modern driver education means modern automobiles and Pontiac students don't have to go far for either. The summer driver education class in Pontiac schools offers both top-notch teaching and Pontiac Tempests. Dean Wilson, driver education instructor, is teaching his students some of the finer points of angle parking at the Pontiac Northern High School track. Although behind-the-wheel training concluded Friday, classroom sessions will continue for several weeks.

Summer Driving Course Uses Pontiac Tempest

Not all aspects of study in Pontiac Public Schools ended with the graduation of 102 seniors in the summer school class of 1961 Friday night.

Some 450 students signed up for Pontiac's summer driver education course and got plenty of experience in one of the auto industry's most advanced products — the Pontiac Tempest.

The course began June 19. All driving range work was completed Friday, and classroom study ends Aug. 18.

Each student gets 35 hours of classroom instruction and 10 hours of actual driving. Eight hours are spent behind the wheel on the range at PNH and two are put in on the road.

During the regular school year, driver education programs operate at both senior high schools.

Then She'll Say Wedding Vows

Fulfills Education Vow

ST. CLAIR SHORES (UPI) — A former St. Clair Shores woman has fulfilled a promise she made to herself six years ago, before stepping to the altar to make another vow.

"Replacing the scholarship which made college possible for me, is the last act of my single life," 28-year-old Mary Judith Cantrell said.

Before marrying Jerome Tarutani of Honolulu, Hawaii, Tuesday, Miss Cantrell is making certain that some other worthy student will have the same opportunity which opened the door to a career and romance for her.

In June 1951, the St. Clair Shores branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association gave Miss Cantrell, a Lake Shore High School graduate, a $200 scholarship which was renewable for four years.

To a young girl from a family of eight children, six of them younger than herself, the scholarship made the difference between going to college and not.

Now 10 years and two degrees later, Miss Cantrell has presented the club with $500 which the women have appreciatively turned into the Judy Cantrell scholarship.

FIRST SUCH RESPONSE

According to Mrs. Leslie Van Warner, president of the St. Clair Shores branch of the Farm and Garden Club, the young woman's generous gift will be used to give some deserving student aid next June.

Miss Cantrell is the first person receiving the scholarship to express her gratitude in kind.

"Ever since I graduated, I had the feeling that I had a moral obligation to help someone the way I was helped," she said.

Even with the scholarship, Miss Cantrell had to work to put herself through four years at Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti.

"The first year I worked in a private home for my room and board and the last three years I was a long distance telephone operator," she said.

During her college days she kept close contact with the women who not only gave her financial aid but plenty of moral support as well.

Still undaunted by four years of hard work in and out of class, Miss Cantrell went on to get a master's degree in art and education at Eastern to add to her BA and teaching certificate.

Miss Cantrell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cantrell, taught for two years in Romulus, three years in Dearborn and last year in California.

In 1957, while on vacation in Hawaii, Miss Cantrell met her husband-to-be, who is freight traffic coordinator for Castle-Cooke, Inc., an agency which completes freight arrangements for the Matson Line.

Two years later when she returned to Hawaii to tutor in a private home for the summer, the spark of interest was fanned into love.

BRINGS NATIVE FLOWERS

St. Margaret Catholic Church in St. Clair Shores, where she will be married, will be decorated with Hawaiian flowers her fiance is bringing with him.

Sept. 1 the couple will return to Honolulu where the future Mrs. Tarutani will teach.

Keeping in mind the needs of her own family, Miss Cantrell has also established a trust fund for her younger sisters and brothers which will help when they become college age.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.
