

Move Up Deadline for Wisner Lights

New lights for Wisner Stadium are now a near certainty.

The Pontiac Board of Education last night moved up the deadline on installation of the lights, after it was told the Detroit Lions would not play a scrimmage game here unless the lights were installed by Aug. 1.

The board had previously okayed architectural planning which would have made installation possible between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15. Cost has been estimated at $35,000.

The only two hitches which now appear able to hold back installation would be excessively high bids or a sudden drop in the school board's expected revenue.

The request from the Lions was relayed to the board by Jim Huttenlocher, president of the Pontiac Jaycees, cosponsors of the event with Community National Bank.

Renovation of the lighting had been pressed by citizens and the professional football team after the scrimmage game last year when rain shattered many of the lights.

Reports Finding Fossil of a Man-Ape Creature

WASHINGTON (AP)—A British anthropologist has announced discovery of the jawbone of a strange creature—not quite man and not quite ape—believed to have lived in Central Africa 14 million years ago.

The fossil remains fill in one of the major gaps in the fragmentary story of human evolution, Dr. L. S. B. Leakey said yesterday.

He said the discovery, made on an orange farm in Kenya, East Africa, by him and his wife, Mary, lends support to the theory that man made his first appearance on the dark continent.

"I have no doubt that it was in Africa—in fact in Central Africa—that man was born," the scientist told a news conference at the National Geographic Society.

"You might say, with respect to the Garden of Eden, that Africa was the place."

Leakey said the creature "is not man, but he is more man than ape. He is definitely heading toward man. He has more characteristics toward man than apes. But he is not yet man."

Leakey told also of the discovery of the remains of other strange creatures in the area where the new type of primate lived. These were 14-million-year-old graptorhines, the size of monkeys, elephants no bigger than horses, ancestral hippopotamuses, rhinoceroses, antelopes and pigs.

Remains of the newly found primate unearthed by the Leakeys were two pieces of upper jaw containing teeth, and a lower tooth.

Leakey said there was no way of determining its sex. Nor could he say much about its general appearance, other than "I would suspect it was not as heavy or as big as a chimpanzee."

The fossil bones were dug up last July at Fort Terman, about 40 miles west of Kisumu, Kenya, near Lake Victoria. Layers of solidified volcanic ash covered them. The age of the bones was determined by chemical analysis of the ash.

The husband-and-wife team is in Washington to receive medals from the society for their accomplishments in anthropological research and exploration.

French Planes Strafe Secret Army Positions

Troops Encircle Area Housing Some 50,000 Europeans

ALGIERS—French military planes strafed the defiant worker suburb of Bab-el-Oued today and authorities reported "heavy street fighting continues" in the area.

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle today proclaimed his determination to use every means "to smash the insurrections in Algiers and Oran."

armbands fired bullets and tossed grenades on French ground troops below them.

At 5 p.m. (11 a.m. Pontiac time), officials reported at least 10 soldiers killed and 30 wounded in the street fighting.

A French headquarters spokesman said: "Heavy fighting continues" in Bab-el-Oued, where 50,000 European workers make their homes. The entire area is encircled by troops and entrances and exits have been barred by barbed wire.

Civilian authorities described the developing situation in Bab-el-Oued as "extremely alarming."

They said they feared the spread of generalized fighting into other European sections of Algiers in response to the Secret Army's call to oppose Algerian independence. Armored cars and halftracks were in position around Bab-el-Oued.

A right-wing Muslim splinter group warned all Americans in the Algiers area to leave Algeria immediately "or be struck down without pity."

The Algerian Popular Movement (MPA), which opposes the majority Muslim group, the National Liberation Movement (FLN), delivered its ultimatum in a letter to the U.S. consulate general here.

He cited President Kennedy's message of congratulations to FLN Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and implied the Americans hope to replace the French in Algeria after independence.

"This measure is effective as of Friday, March 23, 1962, at 6 o'clock. At that time all Americans, who have not left the city will be struck down without pity," the letter said.

Fighting flared up this morning with attacks by European gunmen on three French army patrols. By mid-afternoon gunfire had spread to all streets ringing Bab-el-Oued. Europeans took to windows and roofs to pour fire down on troop patrols. Many of them were French army uniforms with black arm bands bearing the French initials of the Secret Army—"OAS."

Model for Future Developments

IDEAL SITE PLANNING—This is the way city planners would like to see all of Pontiac's elementary and secondary school sites developed. The new Pontiac General Development Plan clearly specifies site needs for city schools, which play a vital roll in the residential and recreation future of Pontiac. This is an aerial view of Pontiac Northern High School and Madison Junior High School, which the master plan recognizes as a model for future planning.

Peronists Strike Industrial Areas

Argentine Army Hero Who Ousted Dictator Called In to Mediate

From Our News Wires

BUENOS AIRES—Peronists pitted their working masses against President Arturo Frondizi today with a 24-hour protest strike.

In this capital at midday there were signs the followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron had faltered. But in the hard-core Peronist industrial areas outside they showed strength.

The government, called on a national hero, former Lt. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, to step in and mediate the political crisis.

Aramburu was military leader of the forces which overthrew dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955, and became provisional president shortly thereafter.

PERSONAL APPEAL

The appeal for his services came personally from Frondizi. It was Aramburu who turned over the power to Frondizi in the 1958 general elections.

Buses, trains and other forms of transportation buzzed as usual in and around the capital. Residents got their morning milk and newspaper deliveries on time. Store clerks showed up for work and downtown shopping was brisk.

From Rosario, usually a pro-Peronist stronghold, official reports said the strike there was only partial. But nothing had been (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Pontiac General Development Plan

Parks to Aid 'Perfect City'

Editor's Note—This is the second in a three-part series on the Pontiac General Development Plan, adopted by the City Commission in December. The plan will guide all the future development of the city.

Public understanding of it is essential to its proper use and criticism, if any.

BY DICK SAUNDERS

In the "perfect Pontiac" as envisioned by City planners in the General Development Plan, neighborhoods will be units, schools will all have adequate adjacent park and recreational facilities and each quadrant of the city will have a major park.

We have already seen how commercial land use should be condensed, with local shopping centers located between neighborhoods.

The master plan divides residential areas into 30 separate and distinct neighborhoods. Each unit is centered around an elementary school as the heart of the neighborhood, and contains recreational facilities designed to serve the needs of the neighborhood.

Size is decided by need. The boundaries must encompass enough families to support an elementary school, Pontiac elementary area will be dominated by single-family owner-occupied dwellings, in units providing a normal density of close to seven dwelling units per net residential acre, or about 4,000 persons.

SIX DWELLINGS PER ACRE

Most of the city's future residential growth will be in the northeast section. Neighborhoods here will be low density units of about 2,000 persons, or less than six dwelling units per net residential acre.

To offset this, high density public housing projects will be developed and expanded, particularly in the immediate area surrounding the central business district. These units have 4,000 inhabitants and more than eight dwelling units per net residential acre in the plan.

Planners say it is very possible the banks of the Clinton River on the east side will some day become the site of big modern apartment buildings, sprawling parks and a scenic parkway linking downtown Pontiac with the M30 freeway.

HOUSES NEED REPAIR

To attain residential plan goals, the city and its residents must dig in and work. The 1950 U.S. Census of Housing indicates that there are 3,563 houses deteriorating in need of repair in Pontiac.

and another 716 structures that "do not provide safe and adequate shelter" and should be removed.

Schools in this "perfect Pontiac" will also change. Children of the future will have more schools to attend and the schools themselves will be less crowded.

School sites will be larger to accommodate suitable recreational facilities. As the heart of a neighborhood, each elementary school should be on a 10-acre site.

The junior high should serve four or five neighborhoods and be on a site of about 25 acres. The senior high school should serve at least 10 neighborhoods, be on a 35-acre site and on a major street.

Only five of the city's 23 elementary schools have 10 or more acres. Of the secondary schools, only Madison Junior High and Pontiac Northern have adequate sites.

Rusk Charges Blocking Tactics at Arms Talks

Gromyko Denies, Then Tosses Claim Right Back at West

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk accused the Soviet Union today of blocking a nuclear test ban treaty while presumably planning a new series of atomic weapons explosions.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko sharply denied the charge and blamed the United States for the failure to reach agreement on a test ban.

The clash came in the 17-nation disarmament conference, when the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union reported collapse of their efforts to start new negotiations on a test ban treaty.

Gromyko said the United States is to blame for the failure because it has scheduled a new series of atmospheric nuclear tests but does not want a test prohibition.

Rusk said President Kennedy had emphasized the United States would stop all tests if the Soviet Union would sign a treaty with effective controls against cheating. Kennedy has ordered the tests to start in late April unless such a treaty is signed.

HOME MAKES OFFER

British Foreign Secretary Lord Howe said the Western powers are prepared to work out a control system on the most objective scientific basis possible. Home promised minimum controls to Gromyko earlier in the week but Gromyko rejected any kind of international controls which would put foreign observers inside the Soviet Union.

Gromyko renewed the Soviet charge that the West wants to set up an espionage system. He brushed aside Rusk's charge of new Soviet test plans by saying it was a pretext to cover known American test plans.

Rusk said the Russians three to four years ago had approved scientific plans for international inspection to police a test ban. The ban is no less urgent now than it was in 1958, he said. He declared the Soviet cry charge had no rational basis because the proposed inspection system could not be used that way.

"My government is at a loss to understand the Soviet position," Rusk said, "unless it be that the U.S.S.R. has decided that it is still overwhelmingly important for it to be free to continue its nuclear weapon tests. It may be that the U.S.S.R. feels a military need for a new test series."

Rusk spoke from a prepared text. Gromyko replied extemporaneously. An informant said an accused the United States of an aggressive act in deciding to resume tests in the atmosphere. He denied the Soviet Union had broken a moratorium when it started its series of about 30 tests last September. There was no moratorium in existence then, Gromyko said.

Pontiac Merchants Favor Bills to Ban Sunday Sales

A cross section of opinion from Pontiac area merchants today showed almost 100 per cent approval of Legislative bills to stop Sunday retail selling. The bills were passed by a wide margin in the House yesterday in Lansing.

The proposed complicated Sunday closing law passed by an 86-12 vote and is on its way to the state Senate.

The bills would prohibit sale of specified goods, from suits to furniture and appliances, in 13 of Michigan's most populated counties on Saturday or Sunday. The choice of day would be left up to the merchants.

Oakland County is included.

The law wouldn't affect sale of "necessity items" such as food and drugs.

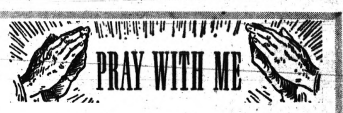

In downtown Pontiac, even the spokesmen for stores that do Sunday business were in favor of the ban.

"We would love to see the bill passed," said Edward Eddy, vice president of Consumers Discount Center. "We don't want to stay open on Sunday, but our competition is open now on Sundays, so we have to stay open."

Gene Evans, assistant manager of Robert Hall Clothes in Pontiac, wondered if the law made any exceptions for the Christmas and Easter sales seasons. It doesn't.

"It's a company policy for our stores to stay open Sundays during these seasons," he said.

Ford Confirms It Is Considering Subcompact Car

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today for the first time confirmed it is considering the introduction of a new smaller-than-compact car this fall.

The information was contained in a prospectus filed by Ford with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington in connection with the proposed public offering of Ford stock by the Ford Foundation.

In the prospectus the company hedged by saying that changes in market conditions or other factors could alter the introduction plans. The car was described only as smaller and lighter than any other car presently manufactured in the United States by Ford or any of its competitors.

Asks Fellow Mayors to Support Detroit Tax

WARREN (AP) — Detroit Mayor George Cavanagh appealed to 20 suburban mayors last night to support his city-county income tax plan, but most stood firm in their opposition.

St. Clair Shores Mayor Eugene Ellison said that although the suburbs are sympathetic with Cavanagh's problems, they are opposed to his tax plan. He asked why Cavanagh did not meet with the mayors before advocating his plan "in headlines."

Cavanagh agreed he should have taken it up with his fellow mayors first, but said he doubted the results would have been any different.

Cavanagh said his city now has a $33-million dollar deficit and must have more revenue.

Cavanagh told the Metropolitan Mayors Association that suburbs in five to 10 years will be facing the very problems Detroit now is facing.

Cavanagh said that if Detroit goes broke, the suburbs will have to pick up the tab. "As Detroit goes, so goes northwestern Michigan," he said.

The Detroit mayor appeared to plug for support for a city-county income tax program which would tax suburbanites working in Detroit as well as Detroit residents.

The Michigan House of Representatives has passed a bill to bar cities from taxing nonresidents and it now awaits Senate action in Lansing.

GROUP TO FIGHT
Most of the Metropolitan Mayors Association members from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties have voiced opposition to Cavanagh's proposed tax plan and have organized themselves into a vigilance tax committee to fight it.

Officer's Nose Nabs Man on Liquor Charge

Patrolman Hal Risner's keen nose caught a peculiar odor yesterday while he and his partner were investigating a possible stolen car report on East Wilson Street.

Risner and officer James Fritz began tracking the scent up the street. When they drew opposite officers said at 316 E. Wilson St., an occupant, Robert Nichols, 33, stepped out the door and asked what they were looking for.

"We're checking a stolen car report," Risner said, his nose still slightly tilted into the wind.

Evidently Nichols didn't believe him. When the police returned with a search warrant, they said they found Nichols pouring moonshine whiskey down the basement drain.

They also confiscated evidence of a still in the basement, officers said.

"Once you get a whiff of moonshine smoke, you never forget the smell," Detective Lt. William F. Nesbitt, head of the vice and narcotics squad, noted.

Nichols, arrested on a charge of manufacturing illegal whiskey, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court.

It was a thrilling welcome like many Mrs. Kennedy has received in other Indian and Pakistani cities since arriving on the subcontinent 12 days ago.

But, this morning the 33-year-old first lady had the experience of riding Sarda (Chief), the bay gelding given her yesterday in Lahore by President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

She rode the horse for 10 minutes on the lawn of the governor's house in Lahore before taking Ayub's personal turban-plant plane to Rawalpindi.

"Oh he's lovely," she said excitedly after the ride.

"No one is going to be allowed to ride him but me," Mrs. Kennedy tried the horse about the time she was in Rawalpindi. But her arrival time was put off three hours so she could catch up on her sleep.

Waterford Unit OKs Recreation Funds

An appropriation of $18,219.13, the same as authorized a year ago, was allocated last night by the Waterford Township School Board to the Waterford Township Recreation Department for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The recreation department had submitted a request last month for $20,000 from the school board. Action on the request was deferred pending the results of Tuesday's election in which a proposed millage boost was soundly defeated.

Action on the recreation appropriation was taken during a special meeting of the board held to canvass the results of the election.

The school district and township have been contributing the same portion of the recreation department's budget on an equal basis.

The township board will consider appropriation of its share when it meets Monday night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big increases in funds for government health and education programs were recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee in a report critical of the Kennedy Administration.

The committee said it was disappointed that the budget submitted by the executive branch "did not rise to the challenge presented by the opportunities for pressing the attack on the dread diseases."

While the budget provided for modest increases, the committee said, it contained "many disturbing deficiencies" such as failure to provide for expansion of important research training programs.

Rockies Get More Snow

From Our News Wire — Snow persisted today in the central and southern Rockies where a spring storm Thursday dumped up to 14 inches of wet snow. The snow belt stretched from western Nevada to Wyoming.

Snows were overcast over much of the nation as showers during the night soaked wide areas along the Pacific Coast and throughout the South. Temperatures were mild in most areas.

The precipitation in southern Idaho raised new flood threats in an area hit by multimillion-dollar damage last month.

The Portland River overflowed at several points south of Pocatello, sending water over farmland and U.S. 30N. The highway remained open.

HEAVY IN MOUNTAINS

The heaviest snowfall was in the mountains. Four to six inches of snow was measured at Cascade-McCall, Idaho and four inches at Salt Lake City and at Ely, Neb.

Spring floods posed a problem to some lower Michigan residents as above freezing temperatures melted snow and filled many rivers and streams to near capacity.

The warmer weather also freed river ice which broke into flows and jammed up at narrow points, causing flood waters to spill onto adjoining lowlands.

The Grand River continued to pose a threat in western Michigan and the Pittabawasse River at Midland climbed near the flood warning stage to 14 1/2 feet. Flood stage is 15 feet and flood charge is waived by the judge.

Sunday-Sales Bill Pleases Merchants

store, said, "I'm all for the law. Our policy has always been to close Sunday unless competition goes too great. We're not open Sunday and four nights a week is enough anyway."

"I don't like government regulation of retail business," said Howard Nelson, manager of Sears Department store, "but I don't see any other way to whip Sunday selling."

"We're 100 per cent for the bill," said N. K. Buch, manager of the J. C. Kresge Co. store. "It will get our full support."

SIX DAYS ENOUGH
Shopping centers also supported the bill. Irving J. Gordon, owner-manager of the Tel-Huron Children's Shop, Inc., and president of the Tel-Huron Merchants' Assn., thought it was "the best idea the legislature has had in 20 years."

"Something must be done to help the small businessman. Six days a week of operation is plenty."

The association had already applied to Lansing for a bill to curtail Sunday selling.

At Miracle Mile Shopping Center, Jack Phillips, assistant manager of the J. C. Penney store, also supported the bill. "Of our 1,700 stores throughout the nation, none is open on Sunday. We don't feel it's right to commercialize Sunday."

Plan 30 Sections in 'Perfect' City

High School site expanding its present boundaries a block west and two blocks north. That's what the master plan proposes.

It also pinpoints sites for 10 new elementary schools and one new junior high. In the "perfect Pontiac," schools will cover 4 per cent of the city's land. They now cover 2 per cent.

Parks and recreation sites will show the largest increase in land area, from 4 now to 16 per cent in the future.

Through expansion, the Wiser Stadium site will become "Pontiac's dominant, active recreation location."

Creation of a major park adjacent to Gateway Lake in the city's northeast quadrant will be a priority item. Areas adjacent to Osburn, Terry and Harris lakes are to be connected and developed with scenic park facilities.

The "new face of Pontiac" may well include an integrated park system extending from Murphy Park to the core of the city.

A COMMUNITY CENTER

A community center for club meetings, banquets, exhibitions, music recitals, lectures and hobby classes should spring up in the civic center near city hall, according to the plan.

It may consist of several buildings, a library, open courts and terraces grouped around a mall.

Also proposed is a huge auditorium and arena for indoor shows and events.

This dream city could never be realized without the industry to support it and public facilities to serve and protect it. These items in the "future Pontiac" will be covered in the third and final article in this series.

Jackie Tries Out Kennedy Flying

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy tried out her new Pakistani mount today in this capital city the biggest welcome it has ever given a foreign visitor.

Almost everyone in Rawalpindi, population 400,000, turned out to greet America's first lady.

Crowds jammed the streets waving thousands of paper flags and placards saying "Long live Mrs. Kennedy."

Drum and bagpipe bands serenaded her at various points along the six-mile flag-covered route from airport to city.

"Oh he's lovely," she said excitedly after the ride.

"No one is going to be allowed to ride him but me," Mrs. Kennedy tried the horse about the time she was in Rawalpindi. But her arrival time was put off three hours so she could catch up on her sleep.

Peronist strength, on the basis of these fragments, reported by the U.S. State Department, was far to the east of the tranquility of the country.

It was the president's 36th birthday. The full effect of the strike was not expected to be felt until later in the day, but officials predicted it would not be paralyzing.

The powerful Transport Workers Union said it would not take part. Other unions also refused to join in, but went on record as opposed to Frondizi.

Heidelberg, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army in Europe has strongly protested to the Russians against the actions of East German police in shooting up a U.S. military car.

The incident occurred Tuesday morning, when a police squad stopped a U.S. military car.

The shooting, the second such case in a month involving Western military and Italian officers stationed at Potsdam, roused Western speculation as to what may be behind the sudden toughening of East German military from Potsdam have been free to travel in East Germany for 17 years. Soviet missions have similar rights in West Germany.

CONTENTS SECRET
Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, made the American protest the Army announced. It was addressed to Marshal Ivan S. Konev, Soviet commander in East Germany, and delivered to the deputy chief of the Soviet military mission at Gen. Charles office Thursday. The contents were not disclosed.

The Army pinpointed the scene of the incident, however, as near Wahlwinkel, 12 miles east of Eisenach and west of Gotha. This strip area near the West German border and about 150 miles south-west of Berlin.

Senators Dislike Two Appointees

Planning to Kill Names of Ingalls and Scholle for Commissioners

LANSING — State senators are sharpening their knives, waiting until Monday night to stab at two of Gov. Romney's appointees to major state commissions.

Chief target appears to be James H. Ingalls, chairman of the State Public Service Commission.

LACK VOTES

There also was a good chance the Republican-dominated Senate might finally kill the appointment of August (Gus) Scholle, state AFL-CIO president to the State Conservation Commission.

Republicans tried for the kill last night but found they didn't have enough votes. They planned to rally support and finish the job Monday night.

Major objection to Ingalls, a Republican spokesman said, was his views on private versus public ownership of utilities.

Republicans have long disliked Scholle because of his Democratic party ties and outspoken advocacy of reappointment of the Senate.

Ingalls was quizzed by the Senate Business Committee for more than 45 minutes yesterday on his views on rate-setting and other matters. The Republican-dominated committee was unhappy with the results.

"The utilities are afraid of him, afraid he will lower rates," said Sen. Raymond D. Drendzel, D-Detroit.

The commission just yesterday ordered the Michigan Gas and Electric Co. to show cause why its gas and electric rates should not be reduced.

A spokesman for the commission said the company was making a 9.02 per cent rate of return, although the commission has never limited an order allowing a rate of more than seven per cent.

Photographer Claims 'Kookie' Threatened Him

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPD)—Actor Ed Byrnes, television's "Kookie" of the "77 Sunset Strip" series, cursed and threatened a newspaper photographer yesterday when he and his fiancée, actress Ann Maynor, applied for a marriage license.

Santa Monica Evening Outlook photographer Dan Thompson said Byrnes threatened to hit him, but that no punches were thrown.

Two marshals were summoned to maintain order but Byrnes and Miss Maynor left the courthouse.

U. of M. Sociologist Makes Survey

'Protestant Churches Concerned With Successful'

By JULES LOH
NEW YORK (AP) — "Are the Protestant churches today more concerned with the healthy, the wealthy and the successful than with the sick, the poor and the needy?"

A University of Michigan sociologist asked himself this question after a 10-year study of the religious and social attitudes of Americans.

His research seems to indicate he says, that the answer is yes.

LOOKS AT CHURCH
Dr. Gerhard Lenski Jr., son of a Lutheran clergyman and grandson of a theology professor, focused on members of his own church in a two-part article which appears this week and next in "The Lutheran," a journal of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Lenski last year wrote a book titled "The Religious Factor" in which he analyzed the extent to which religion influences Protestants, Catholics and Jews in nearly every area from political affiliation to installment buying. He based his conclusions on a scientifically selected group in the Detroit area which, he said, represented a true cross section of the nation.

'DISTURBING FINDINGS'
The author cautioned in a preface to the book that his findings likely would be "disturbing to men of every faith."

The same could be said of his current article which projects Lutheranism against the background of the larger work. He discovered, for example, that:

Nearly one-third of the Lutherans questioned seldom, if ever, attend church; and another 15 per cent attend only once a month. Forty per cent never read the Bible and only 10 per cent read it frequently or every day.

Churchgoing Lutherans were as unfamiliar with Biblical characters as those who stay home. Forty per cent of both categories couldn't identify Peter. "A sad commentary," said Lenski, "on either the content or techniques of present-day Lutheran preaching."

But Lenski said the churchgoing habits of Lutherans compared favorably with other Protestant denominations. Lutherans, he said, "are less likely to attend every Sunday, but they also are less likely never to attend at all."

He also said that Protestant churches in general, including the Lutheran church, "have a much stronger appeal to the more prosperous and successful members of the community than to members of the working class."

"Those who feel they have experienced unusual difficulties with respect to sickness, death, or finances show a marked drop in church attendance. This contrasts with the Catholic pattern where, at least those related to sickness and death, are linked with increased church attendance."

There were, however, some bright spots for Lutherans in Lenski's report.

Lutheran men, for example, attend church more regularly than most Protestant men; converts to Lutheranism are nearly twice as numerous as those who reported abandoning the Lutheran church for some other; and Lutherans appear to be a good deal more tolerant than others regarding race.

Supplies Piling Up in Shipping Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The West Coast shipping strike, now a week old, has cut food supplies to dangerously low levels in Hawaii, where more than 40 ships and half the flow of 50,000 tons of strategic military cargo to the Far East.

The outlook for an immediate solution to the crippling walkout remained bleak.

But striking unions, under pressure from the Military Sea Transportation Service (MSTS) and the U.S. District Court, were expected today to meet demands to move the military supplies.

"The military will get what it wants," said John P. Jennings, a union attorney, after a session with military officials last night.

Rep. Handy Released From Lansing Hospital

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Gail Handy, R-Au Claire, who suffered a heart attack on the House floor three weeks ago, has been released from a Lansing hospital.

House Speaker Dan R. Peary R-Buchanan, said Handy, 64, will spend two weeks resting at his Berrien County home before returning to Lansing for a medical examination.

Handy, who has served four terms in the House, has indicated he plans to run for office again.

To Discuss Vet Legislation

DETROIT (AP) — Veterans' legislation pending in Congress will be the topic of a speech here Saturday by John Baughman Sr., of Baltimore, national commander of the veterans of World War I. He will speak before members of Detroit Baruch 213.

POLITICAL ASPECTS

This was reflected in his finding that regular churchgoers are strongly Republican and those who stay at home tend to be Democrats. This in turn, he said, suggests Protestant churches he surveyed "unwittingly alienate those who do not share the dominant Republican commitment and outlook."

Poll Tax Fight Now in 8th Day

Lukewarm Senators
Start Sessions Early Working Toward Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate scrap over abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections moves into its eighth day today. But neither side was making it as tough for the other as it might.

For the third day in a row, the Senate was called into session at 9 a.m., three hours earlier than usual, in hopes of speeding up day of decision.

Unanimous consent was obtained Thursday night, at the request of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, for Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to be recognized to carry on for Southern states of the anti poll tax measure.

Although Mansfield had served notice that the Senate might be kept in session until midnight, a recess was taken at 7:35 p.m.

Thursday, the Senate's marathon speech champion, hung up a record of over 24 hours in a 1951 battle over civil rights legislation. Mansfield told newsmen that how long the Senate is kept in session today and whether he calls a Saturday session will depend on how much progress is made toward bringing the issue to a vote.

Stole Ad Gives Gunman Great Savings Idea

CHICAGO (AP)—A college student and his wife advertised a milk coat and stole for sale. A customer with a gun picked them up Thursday without paying. Barry Bowers, 22, the student, said the man also took a sapphire ring worth $700 and a $1,000 coin collection. Bowers valued the coats at $5,400.

The holdup occurred in the flower North Side home. The couple said the gunman, identifying himself as Mr. Cohen, came to the dwelling Tuesday to inspect the merchandise.

Gas Believed the Cause of Coal Mine Explosion

HAMPTON, England (AP)—Gas is believed responsible for the explosion in the Happy Valley Coal Mine that killed 16 miners and injured about 37 others yesterday. Some 120 other miners escaped unhurt through clouds of choking fumes and flying dust after the blast in a coalface a mile and a half from the pithead.

We Must Inform Public of Proposed Issues

In furthering the public's knowledge of the governments which serve it, newspapers all over this nation take pains to present important matters which village, township and city councils are about to discuss or act upon.

The newspapers make the point that if residents learn of an action after it has happened, it's a little late to present an opinion, or attend the meeting and oppose or support the action.

Certainly, residents who disapprove of their government's action can protest at the next meeting, or take it up with the manager or council members. But it's rather difficult to change policy after it has been started, or rescind actions taken previously.

The Pontiac Press is among the newspapers which strive to give their readers an idea of what is coming while they can still do something about it.

We run advance stories on the meetings of area governmental units—and most of them cooperate. After all, it is a service to the taxpayers of these units.

The advance stories are carefully phrased in the future tense so that readers will realize that the action has not been taken, but it is contemplated and will be discussed.

Recently The Press ran an advance story on a proposed budget for Sylvan Lake which the manager was submitting to the council at a regular meeting. The information was handled the same way a proposed budget in Pontiac, Waterford Township or any other area community would be handled.

Both the news story and the headline made it clear that the budget was a proposed one and had not been passed.

Since then the Sylvan Lake City Council has passed a resolution which would prevent publication of proposals to the council before they are "released" by that body.

Is this an attempt to cut residents off from information about what council members will take up during their meeting? Is it an invitation to Sylvan Lake residents to "stay home and let the officials run the city"? Such restrictive resolutions and policies make it look as if there were something to hide.

A few people who saw the advance story, which concerned a proposed budget hike and tax increase, called to question a council member. Certainly, persons who are elected to government positions go into their jobs knowing they are going to have telephone calls and questions.

We submit that a second thought on this resolution might be in order.

Red Project Illustrates Misuse of Foreign Aid

The news report that American foreign aid supplies have been used for a Russian project in Cambodia is not startling.

But it is infuriating and is further evidence of the careless way this Nation is throwing its funds away.

We probably would have a better chance of helping the people of the foreign aid countries if one of our planes just flew over and dumped the money out, like a leaflet-dropping mission. At least some of it might get to the right people and projects.

To compound the inefficiency, the foreign aid employee who discovered and reported the fiasco was disciplined for his alert work. Later, after being kept on odd jobs for a time, he was fired.

How and why the materials got into the Russian project is easily understandable. Those administering the aid probably found they hadn't given the money away fast enough and wouldn't get any more until they had used up the first batch.

Baseball Contest

Opens Today With Prize of $250 in U.S. Bonds

By JOE HAAAS

This column's 1962 baseball contest gets under way today, with $250 in U.S. bonds as the prize. It costs nothing to participate, and every member of your family can compete. Everybody is eligible, except employees of this paper or the immediate members of their family. Judging by the failures of the "experts" in former years, everybody has an equal chance. The prize will be awarded to the best answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 10, and what will be his batting average?

All that is necessary to compete is to write down the player's name, estimate his batting average. Then sign your name and address, and send it to this paper. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all from your family can be enclosed in the same envelope.

All entries must be received in this office by noon on Monday, April 9.

The ladies have far outnumbered the men in winning the $3,500 awarded in our baseball contests during the past 14 years. However, last year the prize was divided between two men:

Charles C. Laswell Jr., of 996 Lakeview St., Pontiac; and Robert J. Goff, of 854 North 9th St., Mt. Clemens.

Talk Won't Put Reds in Their Place

WASHINGTON—The Soviets still insist on the right to cheat. This is the net result of more than three years of palaver about a ban on nuclear tests.

Seventeen nations have sent representatives to Geneva to negotiate an agreement to abolish nuclear tests. The conference has proved fruitless.

The United States can force a reduction in the size of the staffs of the Soviet embassies and consulates in this country if the Soviets insist on a continuance of their harassing tactics.

Instead, Russia proposes its own "national inspection," which means that each nation would be free to cheat. The idea that some neutral agency should be established to see that the agreement is adhered to has been suggested, but Russia balks at it.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev is willing to enter discussions of cooperation in outer space because he knows this is a vague subject that is certain to bring almost interminable debate. Even here, he makes as a condition for any agreement the acceptance by the United States of his type of disarmament treaty — which, of course, includes the right to cheat.

Where does this leave the whole problem of disarmament? It means that there will be nothing of substance accomplished, despite all the official gabble about "reduction" or "limitation" of armaments.

The Soviets take the position that, if any system of international inspection is provided, this amounts to espionage or "spying." Yet the Moscow regime maintains that their all-out efforts to spy on the world have ever known.

Moscow continues to propose all sorts of international meetings and "summit" conferences, and gives the impression, through her propaganda, that only peace is sought.

AGENCIES 'MUZZLED' The other countries do not do a good job of rebutting this falsehood. The information agencies of most of the western governments are "muzzled" as their broadcasts are softened by their foreign offices. So the Soviet Union constantly gets away with her double-talk.

It is possible that Nikita Khrushchev has come to the conclusion that "the West" is really a weak and wavering alliance and that President Kennedy is so obsessed with a fear of war that he has become too frightened to use any leverage to restrain the Communists in the "cold war."

There are, of course, alternative courses available to the United States Government. It can threaten to sever diplomatic relations unless harassment by the Soviets in the Berlin area is stopped.

It can cut off commercial intercourse with the Soviet bloc if Communist subversive activities continue in Cuba and Latin America generally and in this country.

The flow of Russian rubles to Communist stooges and agents all over the world can be materially cut down, if not altogether stopped.

What all this means in general terms is the working out of a program by you of what you can afford, just as if your income was reduced and you found you had to cut out luxuries so as to have enough money with which to buy necessities.

If you take your restrictions with good grace, you may learn a pair of secrets no one has ever known. The whole episode, however, emphasizes the Soviet Government's confidence that the United States is not going to go beyond the writing of diplomatic protests.

Sooner or later, the West will have to take a united stand and cut off economic intercourse with the Communist bloc as a first step toward staving off a nuclear war.

This policy, when fully explained in advance by radio to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, would do more to bring the Moscow Government to its senses than anything that could be done by international conferences and "summit" meetings.

When a right guy goes wrong a lot of wrong guys are always ready to go right along with him.

You're entitled to your own opinions and sometimes it's better to keep them.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Mild Heart Attack Can Put Life in Its True Perspective

In a preceding column, I explained the difference between attacks of angina pectoris, coronary insufficiency and coronary occlusion. If you followed the discussion, you probably thought that it was only natural for these attacks to occur in sequence, that is to say, from the mildest (angina pectoris) to the intermediate (coronary insufficiency) to the most severe (coronary occlusion).

Happily, that's not so. Or perhaps it's more correct to state that it need not be so if you have the wisdom to prevent a severe occlusion, if not a fatal thrombosis, by making of the mild or intermediate attack an example of a "successful calamity."

Here are suggestions by which you may profit by your experience:

—Reduce your circulatory load by temporarily limiting your activities to the necessities of life such as wage-earning.

—Alter the pace of what you do by shifting into a lower gear.

—Refuse to increase the circulatory load by letting your muscles become soft and flabby. Avoid developing a "lead" heart.

WEIGHT REDUCTION —Get rid of surplus blubber by a gentle weight reduction diet.

—Stop smoking. No ifs and buts. No tapering off. No switch to different brands. Just make up your mind to quit.

Don't indulge yourself in an anxious state. Emotional stress won't lessen the load on your circulatory system just as much as a mile run.

Don't place too much reliance on that nitroglycerin pill your doctor gives you. The drug merely masks the effect. The only way to get rid of an oxygen debt is by using a portable tank. And if you use oxygen inhalations to be able to do things you shouldn't do, you're asking for trouble at a later time.

What all this means in general terms is the working out of a program by you of what you can afford, just as if your income was reduced and you found you had to cut out luxuries so as to have enough money with which to buy necessities.

Voice of the People:

'We Need Required Course in American Democracy'

I am extremely alarmed when Governor Swainson says: "Michigan schools are giving students the fundamentals of government, and showing the opportunities under a democratic system. I do not agree. What is his objection to making it a required course in our public high schools? In Florida, where a similar law was enacted, they did not have a single textbook and could not comply with the law for eight months. What are they using in Michigan?"

Swainson further says we should not dictate to school boards. If a school principal wants this subject ignored or even wants to teach the merits of communism, it is no concern to those outside that district? What about college students from Wayne and Michigan State who picketed the White House in protest against our President's decision in the interest of national security?

Marx and Lenin were emphatic that the minds of the young must be cultivated if the Communist revolution is to become an accomplished fact. If we are to safeguard our children and colleges against the influence of Communism who are inflicting our colleges and spreading the party line, then we must be sure that they are taught to recognize these characters and their technique before they go.

Readers Concerned About Educators

Parents should stop worrying about a few questionable passages from the "CLASSICS" in the school libraries and become concerned with more important issues.

In recent months four teachers and one school official have been charged with gross indecency. How can these sick, neurotic minds be allowed to guide our children? Who can be expected to influence a student in his formative years?

If these conditions continue a great number of our children cannot help but be emotionally and mentally warped. I shudder to think this could happen to my son or daughter.

The current school incident is disgraceful behavior for a person who is supposed to teach boys and girls the facts of life. A teacher should be able to live well and be a good teacher. Students should be able to look up to their teachers and respect them. I have four grandchildren who are attending schools in Pontiac. Should their parents take them out of the schools and send them elsewhere?

Only a couple of weeks ago one high school teacher was shot and killed and another tried to commit suicide.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Make Other People Feel Important

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-465: Lois L., aged 19, was a Northwestern University coed in one of my psychology classes.

"Dr. Crane," she confessed after class; "I guess I am just a one-date girl."

"I dress well and you may recall I was even entered in my campus beauty contest, so I can get a first date with a new boy."

"But he seldom comes back for a second. So what is wrong with me?"

ONE-DATE GIRLS

The usual coed wants to make a good impression on her date so he will come back again.

So she keeps thinking, "How am I doing? Am I showing off to good advantage in my new frock?"

"Am I using the right fork or spoon at the dinner table? Or is my slip showing or is my rouge too thick or my perfume too evident, etc."

Please notice that such thoughts show that her focus is on SELF, for the pronouns used are not "you," but "I" and "my."

The secret of winning friends, popularity and SECOND dates with your escort, consists of visualizing this motto tattooed across HIS chest:

"I want to feel important."

"My, what muscular hands you have," she said, admiringly. "I'll bet you can throw a football as easily as a baseball."

POPULARITY SECRETS The boy will immediately swell up with self-esteem. For Lois has started making him feel more important than when he first arrived.

Even if he modestly disclaims being a football player, Lois can then add:

"Well, you really should have played. I know you would have been a star!"

And by this simple strategy of keeping the spotlight on HIM instead of on herself, Lois keeps his ego glowing.

He is so proud of himself when he finally bids her good night, that he wants to see her again.

And when a girl keeps serving as the re-charger of a man's ego, he ultimately decides he can't get along without her.

"I always feel so good when I am with Lois," is his attitude. "No other girls make me so happy and comfortable."

It is any wonder, therefore, why such a boy will keep coming back for second and third and fourth dates, and finally propose marriage?

CHARM VS. BEAUTY

"But, Dr. Crane," many girls will protest, "I am not a ravishing beauty. How can I get a husband?"

Well, it is charm, not sheer beauty that wins most husbands. If you don't believe it, just spend an hour at the marriage license window of your local courtroom and critically inspect the girls who are soon to become brides.

Most of them are just average American young women. They aren't Hollywood beauties. Some are hardly average in looks. Yet their prospective bridegrooms think they are wonderful.

For these girls have CHARM.

which runs circles around mere beauty.

So send for my "Compliment Club" book. It has put wedding rings on thousands of girls.

Raymond Slater, Chairman
Divorce Decree Enforcers, Inc.

I agree with "Disgusted With Michigan Divorce Laws." If a man marries, he should take care of the children. My husband adopted my five children and we've had it rough. His ex-wife has one child and has been married for the third time. A man should pay support when the woman is alone, but if she remarries it should be dropped. My ex-husband never pays anything and my husband has a big job taking care of my five.

Mother Who Agrees Divorce Laws
Should Be Changed

If Michigan had stricter divorce laws there wouldn't be so many. When another woman lures a man away, a divorce follows with alimony for his wife and children.

The man remarries, skips out and leaves the family to starve or go on welfare. Let's enact a law to give ten years at hard labor and the alimony dodger twenty years at hard labor, with his wages going to the wife.

There soon would be less hardships and heartbreaks.

CHEVROLET, FORD AND PLYMOUTH.

U. S. Testing Company recently tested the 1962 Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth in 10 competitive events at the Riverside course in California. Here, for anyone who might buy a car soon, are official results of this "Showdown at Riverside."

Plymouth recently asked the U. S. Testing Company—an independent organization—to conduct a decathlon to measure the 1962 Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth for all-around performance.

U. S. Testing Company bought the three test cars—Chevrolet Impala V-8, Ford Galaxie "500" V-8 and Plymouth Fury V-8, comparably equipped. They hired the professional drivers. They supplied all the officials. They made the rules. And they also enforced the rules.

You see the Official Results shown here in the box. Plymouth won eight events. Ford won one. And Chevrolet won one. Drive a 1962 Plymouth yourself. It's the Greatest Plymouth Ever Built.

Books for Third Graders Written by City Teachers

By REBA HEENTZELMAN
More than 12,000 copies of resource books, that were written "out of desperation" by two Pontiac school teachers, are now being used in schools all the way from here down into the heart of Africa.

The authors are Mrs. Mary Green who wrote "About Apples," and Mrs. Irma Johnson, another helping teacher, who joined Mrs. Green in writing "Three Feathers—The Story of Pontiac."

The spark for both of the veterans of 25 years of teaching experience was the lack of informational elementary-level material for third graders on various subjects, and on the history of their own city of Pontiac.

"It was most frustrating," said Mrs. Johnson. "We were hired by the Pontiac Board of Education to help teachers in instructing their pupils and we didn't have anything to work with on many of their subjects."

That's when Mrs. Green, mother of three boys, sat down and wrote about how apples developed. From the time they were planted as seeds, their tree-formation and their care, right on down to the harvesting and marketing. All this is in the easy-to-read book.

4,000 COPIES OUT.

Some 4,000 copies used in social studies have been placed in schools in Illinois, California, Indiana, Germany and Sweden. African missionaries visiting in America last year took many volumes of both "Apples" and "Feathers" back for school use in their countries.

It was easy for Mrs. Green to create her book on apples. She wrote about how her husband's forefathers received a land grant of 200 acres on 14 Mile Road near Walled Lake, planted apple seeds and carried on the tradition of raising apples for four generations.

Two years ago, the Green-Johnson team got together to compile an accurate history of the City of Pontiac. It wasn't easy, as the last historical records on Pontiac were dated 1912. So, with the help of many organizations and interested residents, the two women went to work. Their deadline for "Feathers" was set for the centennial celebration last June, and they made it!

Educators Slate Conference on Political Teaching

WASHINGTON (AP)—A conference of educators here next week will consider what the nation's educational institutions should teach about American democracy, communism, and the non-Communist world.

Announcing this yesterday, U. S. Commissioner of Education Sterling M. McMurrin said he called the meeting because a number of educators during the past year had indicated to him the need for such a conference.

About 150 education officials and other interested persons are expected to attend the sessions, their book to the Pontiac Board of Education, the two local au-

"Our Legs Don't Get Cold Anymore!"

"With electric heat, there are no drafts or cold spots—even the floors are nice and warm," says Mrs. William Albert. "We saved $300 on installation when we converted from the old system. Electric heat saved us space, too—now we have an extra closet where our chimney used to be. There's nothing to worry about or take care of. My draperies stay a whole lot cleaner. For all the electric appliances we have—range, water heater, clothes dryer, air conditioner—we think our $35 per month electric bill is a real bargain. Believe me, once you have electric heat, you won't want anything else."

Meet the Arnold F. Raglin family of White Lake, Michigan.

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet, "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home—electrically.

Electric panels or forced air units go in the walls.

Heat pumps, for one room or the entire home, heat and air-condition, too.

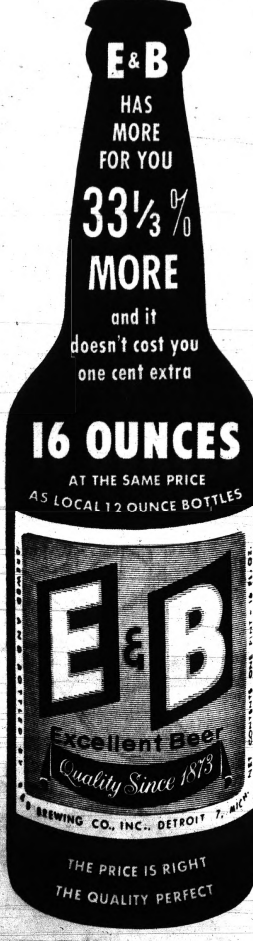

Electric heating units can replace baseboards.

Red Chinese Realities Difficult to Grasp

By FERNAND GIRON

NEW YORK (NEA) — When a Chinese meets a foreigner he is in him either a possible future agent of his propaganda or an enemy of the people.

The Chinese cannot shake off this dual vision. He therefore tries to win him over or to convince him, but usually he ends up irritating him.

There are in present-day China only a few hundred Westerners—diplomats, engineers, businessmen, professors.

These men find it incredibly difficult to get hold of Chinese reality. For, reality in China is as fluid as water. One thinks he understands and holds it, but each time he finds himself empty-handed with multiple contradictions dashing his original beliefs.

How do ambassadors and mission chiefs live in Peking? I found, during my extended visit to Red China in recent months that they do not meet their Communist counterparts except on national holidays. And then, around a glass of vodka or a cup of wine, the most intimate confidential talk does not go beyond discussing the weather.

Westerners are forced, as a result, to meet among themselves. Thus, rounds of diplomatic dinners are held for the same men, the same women, around the same tables. Even the food is monotonous in this closed circuit society.

But, Westerners more easily tolerate the monotony of the menu than the monotony of the conversation. Nine times out of 10, information comes to an embassy via translated Chinese newspapers and magazines.

The diplomats try to discover under the flood of Chinese writing a parcel of Chinese reality. This is a staggering task. When, by chance, a piece of information crops up in the closed circuit of the embassies, it sits all foreign diplomats, who dissect it and feed it into their reports. This produces a half-truth which floats in the minds for some weeks and finally becomes truth. These truths exist though they have little to do with real China.

STRICT CONTROL. Other sources of information for foreigners are servants, drivers, cooks, helpers and messenger boys, lured through the Chinese ministry.

For instance, if the wife of an embassy secretary needs a nurse for her children, the ministry sends her one. Wages and hours are set in advance by Chinese officials. This employee is forbidden to eat meals with the foreigners.

A young Scandinavian couple insisted that their Chinese nurse should eat dinner with the children she was taking care of. The nurse refused.

However, one day she had to take the children to a hotel, and dined with them. On the following day, she left her post. During the night, a local official had called on her and punished her disobedience with dismissal.

The information game works both ways. Chinese servants of foreign residents frequently appear before their officials to relate in minute detail, hour by hour, the activities of their employers. Thus, each foreigner is always accompanied by an eye and an ear.

A microphone was once found in the bedroom of a foreign embassy, with the loudspeaker set up among the pans of the cook.

China's foreign guests now play the game. They have learned how to be silent and to hide their actions. The Chinese meet this game with similar skill.

Foreigners are not permitted to go past the city limits of Peking, unless they go to the beautiful valley of the Ming tombs or take a visiting friend to the Chinese wall via a specified route.

But 20 miles outside the city they run into a sign posted on each highway which tells them: forbidden zone for foreigners except for those carrying special passes. The text is in three languages — Chinese, English and Russian.

DISCOURAGE TRAVEL. Today the Chinese government uses all its skill to refuse politely but without compromise, any kind of travel permit. They have achieved their goal by discouraging foreign initiative. No one demands permits anymore. Chinese reality is the one presented by the government and by no one else.

If, by chance, a tourist pays his way in China and wishes to travel the "railman's route" from Canton to Peking via Shanghai and Hong Kong, he is accompanied by a guide-interpreter who never loses him from sight.

The only exception is mealtime, since he is not entitled to eat with his client.

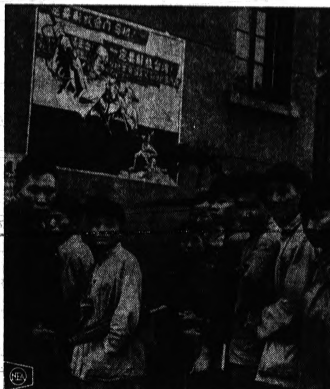

The travel authorities finally authorized one guide to take one meal a day with a foreigner who protested about eating alone. The Chinese guide emptied the dishes to the last grain of rice on the first day. At the end of the third day, the foreigner noticed an expression of excitement on the face of his guide.

When the meal was finished, a large amount of food had been left. He saw his interpreter pull out of his pocket a cellophane bag, look around carefully, and with the skill of a juggler sweep in the remnants of a chicken, rice, cooked bread and fruit.

I remembered this story of the desperately hungry Chinese guide on the day that three girls invaded our hotel dining room. They came from East Germany on an athletic team. Their blonde hair was clipped close, and their shorts revealed sturdy legs.

They talked and laughed with animation. They were burning with health. And although they were from the eastern section of Germany, they still were Westerners deep inside a strange Oriental land.

SCRUTABLE CHINESE—Angry expressions are collected by a Western cameraman photographing a group of Chinese workers. Propaganda poster adorns wall.

"NOW HEAR THIS"—Regular lectures are delivered to workers. This girl spells out the party line to note-taking audience.

Adolf's Lawyer Asks Clemency

Tells Israeli Supreme Court Eichmann Aced on Hitler's Orders

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's lawyer appealed to the Israeli supreme court today for mercy for the condemned former Nazi official and claimed Eichmann was entangled against his will in Hitler's plot against the Jews.

Dr. Robert Servatius, Eichmann's West German defense counsel, completed his initial argument appealing against the death sentence given Eichmann for complicity in the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews.

Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner immediately began his statement opposing the appeal.

Servatius asked the five-judge supreme court to "see its way clear to lift the sentence of death passed on the accused."

"Only the state can be responsible for its organizations and its subordinates," Servatius declared in summing up.

"For the accused to have obeyed orders of the state would have meant that he would have been put to death. The accused sees the guilt in which he became entangled, but there is a conflict here because he was entangled against his will."

The Cologne lawyer declared that Eichmann "always has been at grips with his feelings of guilt, but he was an instrument of a state bound by orders to obey."

Hit-Run Suspect Claims Someone Changed Bumper

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Patrolman Jack Billingsley thought he had a solid case yesterday against a hit and run suspect. The motorist, a 70-year-old woman, allegedly backed her car from a driveway, struck a parked auto and drove off without stopping. Billingsley traced the incident to her. He said she denied the allegation.

"Well," said Billingsley pointing to a mark on the woman's bumper, "how do you explain that?"

He said she stared momentarily, then replied: "That's not my bumper. Someone has taken my bumper and put that one on."

The case continues under investigation.

U. S. Drops Search for Plane in Pacific

CLARK AIR FORCE BASE, Philippines (UPI) — The United States today called off a massive but futile search for a Flying Tiger line transport plane that disappeared eight days ago with 107 persons aboard.

Maj. Gen. Theodore R. Milton, commander of the 13th Air Force at Clark Air Base, said the search had been ended with "no trace" found of the airliner or its passengers and crew.

Aboard the plane were 93 U.S. Army Rangers, 3 Vietnamese soldiers and 11 crewmen. The four-engine Super Constellation disappeared March 15 on a six-hour flight from Guam to Manila. The flight was headed for South Vietnam.

Appeals Conviction of Drunken Driving

The driver of a car involved in an accident which necessitated amputating the leg of a Waterford Township man appealed his conviction yesterday of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Dale L. Neelands, 36, of 545 Hendricks St., Chatham, appealed the ruling of Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Allice Gilbert. An April 2 circuit court hearing was set.

Neelands was fined $100 and sentenced to 45 days in jail. He was released on $500 bond pending the appeal.

Ernest L. Hart, 39, of 3805 Breakers St., was injured when he was pinned between the bumpers of two cars after Neelands rammed one from the rear.

The accident occurred March 11 on Square Lake Road, west of Woodward Avenue.

JK's Children Are Paying Visit to Grandparents

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy's children, Caroline, 4, and John Jr., 1, were visiting today with their grandparents.

The children will stay with their grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is convalescing from a stroke suffered last Dec. 19, and grandmother, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, recovering from a successful pelvic hernia operation.

The children are expected to return to Washington early next week, in time for their mother's homecoming from her Asian travels next Thursday.

Await Bulk of Fallout From Red N-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bulk of the fallout from last fall's Soviet nuclear test series should begin to come down from the stratosphere any time now.

But the Public Health Service says it's highly unlikely there will be any need to take protective measures to reduce human intake of radioactive strontium 90, the fallout material of greatest potential concern from the health standpoint.

Strontium 90 is chemically akin to calcium and concentrates in the bones, where it is capable of causing bone cancer or leukemia. The radioactive material can be on vegetables or grains eaten directly by man or can pass along indirectly through grass eaten by cows, then into the milk or meat.

While the settling of the fallout is expected to last for several months—reaching its maximum in the rains of late April or early May—the bulk of the debris in the stratosphere may come down in two steps, part this spring and the rest in the spring of 1963.

And, some of the debris may fall gradually over seven or eight successive springs.

This was the situation as obtained in interviews with Public Health Service and Weather Bureau officials. The views are a followup to the forecasts of last fall and winter that most of the

If you want a lawn to be proud of, spend five minutes reading this message.

"Give me one Saturday morning of honest effort and I will guarantee you a better lawn—no matter how much crabgrass there is around"

says your Scott's Dealer

DURING the past four years millions of lawn owners have won the battle against crabgrass. They have used a remarkable new lawn aid called HALTS and now enjoy the reward of a better lawn.

Crabgrass, one of nature's most prolific weeds, is an annual that starts from seed each year. These seeds may be in the soil from last year's plants or carried over from previous years. Or they may have been blown in or washed in from the neighborhood.

Your lawn need not be infested with crabgrass this year

These crabgrass seeds need not come up this year. You can stop them by putting down an invisible barrier of HALTS—the sooner the better, in any event before the third or fourth spring mowing. Halts is a clean, granular material. Applying it is a simple matter. With the Scott's Spreader you quickly blanket the entire lawn. Each tiny particle of Halts is more than a match for the wildest crabgrass plant. It lies in wait, then strikes as crabgrass sprouts.

What you need to know

1. Realize if you or your neighbors had crabgrass last year, you will have it this year.
2. Realize you can stop it before it comes up.
3. Realize you can plant new grass the same day.
4. Realize you can fertilize at the same time — on the same day.
5. Realize you can do the whole job in 90 minutes on a 50 x 100 ft. lawn.

sturdiness to your lawn and gives your new grass the strong start it needs.

Scott's guarantees your success

Your Scott's Dealer is ready to help you grow a better lawn with the research, advice and products of O M Scott & Sons — a firm that has offered this guarantee throughout its 90 year history: You must be satisfied or your money back. This can so easily be your year to have a better lawn. It's time to give it that Saturday morning now!

There's Nothing Mysterious

By PHILIP RATTALL
NEW YORK—Some people are trying to make a great mystery out of the news that Monaco's princess is going back to her old job for awhile. They are hinting that Her Serene Highness Grace Kelly is serene in title only. There are rumors that she is: (A) No longer happy with Prince Rainier, (B) financially needy and (C) frustrated to be back in the spotlight and the headlines.

"Come on, already," remarked one of her closest business acquaintances. "I can tell you very simply why Grace is going to make a movie. She's an actress, and I don't think you ever got that out of your system."

"She never said she was quitting her career forever. Grace is the kind of person who doesn't believe in the words 'never' or 'always.' She simply said it was 'unlikely' she'd make another movie."

"Well, now she has been offered the perfect part—have you read the book, 'Mardi'—and actress could resist it. And the Prince has said he doesn't mind if she takes the role."

"As for their needing money, we should all have the kind of money problems they have. As for their being bored with each other, I guarantee you those two could be put on a desert island together and they'd be happy. I say, good for her. Good for him. Good for them."

"And absolutely wonderful for Hollywood."

I hear that Mortimer Caplin, commissioner of Internal Revenue, is asking for $4,000,000 to launch up the offices of the tax inspectors.

There's talk of making them more "comfortable," and perhaps even providing soft background music to soothe the taxpayer being questioned.

I submit this is the wrong approach. The taxpayer going in to face an audit is not in a mood to look kindly upon county furnishings and yellow music purchased with tax monies the like of which he is doomed to cough up.

Better the money should be spent to send tax inspectors to charm schools.

People who blast American women for being too ambitious in their drives are perhaps quite wrong. The latest figures in the business world show that women are moving ahead at snail's pace. In fact, they've done little better than standing still.

ONLY 5 PER CENT
Only five per cent of U.S. business executives today are women.

That marks a gain of only one percentage point in the last allegedly female-dominated decade.

Adding to this picture of male top-beatness—half of the women executives are in that position only because they own their own business.

Usually a shop or other small enterprise. Which means that actually, only 25 per cent of company-employed executives are female.

Woman may be ambitious. But national discrimination against them is greater than their personal drive. And the ironic part of it is, the discrimination is not necessarily predominantly male.

All surveys show that it is women, themselves, who can't bear the idea of working for women!

There is a bicycle for every two people in Sweden.

Is U.S. Resorting to 'Doublethink' Method?

Risk Red Chinese Intervention in Viet Nam

By CHARLES W. CONNERY
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A war under way in South Viet Nam, and every day the United States is getting more deeply involved. It conceivably could bring on a major confrontation with Communist China.

But the fact remains that the Kennedy administration has weighed all the risks and decided that South Viet Nam must be held against the attacks of Communist guerrillas.

One question the administration had to ask before it made the commitment was this: Will Red China become involved?

The decision has been that the answer is no. The administration has decided that Communist China is not likely to move in openly and actively.

The result has been that U.S. involvement has been carried out in secrecy. It is the first big test of the administration's strategy of counterinsurgency operations in the peripheral areas of the free world where the Communists hope to take over by indirect aggression and subversion.

In the administration view, the Communists have resorted to this tactic out of fear that even Korea-type conventional war could grow into a nuclear holocaust.

COULD START CONFLICT

One reason the United States does not think Communist China will intervene is said to be the certainty — conveyed to Peking through neutral channels — that active intervention would bring decisive Western reaction. This in turn could precipitate a major conflict.

This theory has its opponents.

one of whom is Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. In an interview last week with William B. Franke, United Nations correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, Nehru said there was danger of "large scale intervention" in response to U.S. aid in South Viet Nam.

In its effort to avoid this, the United States is steering a cautious course of all-out aid but no outright employment of combat forces.

There is confidence this will work and that the United States can avoid the next dilemma of either all-out conflict with U.S. forces, or the abandonment of South Viet Nam. It is held that this loss could mean the collapse of all Southeast Asia.

No official will acknowledge how many U.S. soldiers, sailors and airmen are in South Viet Nam to aid a native army that is expanding to 200,000 men.

But the current accepted figure is more than 4,000. This apparently means that there is one American for every five or six Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

'DOUBLETHINK' METHOD

Sometimes it almost seems that U.S. spokesmen explaining the American position resort to the "doublethink" practiced in George Orwell's novel, "1984."

This requires someone to accept two contradictory ideas at once—such as that Americans are not engaging in combat, but do go on combat missions with Vietnamese troops and shoot if they are shot at.

The Americans are providing the Vietnamese with as realistic on-the-job training as probably ever has been given soldiers.

Hearing Is Expected in Socialite's Death

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (U-P)—A coroner's jury hearing is expected to be convened next week in the honeymoon death of Mrs. Lucille Rogers von Linde, wealthy New York and Kansas City socialite.

Government Commissioner Max Duplessy said Haitian authorities are investigating fully the circumstances surrounding the woman's death on the basis of a second autopsy and "public rumor."

Mrs. Von Linde's relatives requested the investigation after the woman was found dead in her hotel room at Cap-Haitien, 200 miles north of here, last Wednesday, 13 days after her marriage to handsome Dr. Manfred von Linde.

Titov Denies Suffering from Radiation Sickness

MOSCOW (U-P)—Gherman Titov yesterday denied reports he was suffering from radiation sickness from his 25-hour orbit around the earth.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the astronaut lectured students of an extension university under the state scientific-economic council.

A university professor says students have the impression they've been $800 tax deduction for a wife—but deny should be paid to go to doing that all the time... We obviously he must have been a college. Some parents we know aren't certain who thought up that bachelor—Earl Wilson.

U.N. to 'Refuse' Cuba's Demand

Diplomats See Defeat for High Court Hearing on OAS Rejection

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Diplomats predicted an overwhelming rejection by the Security Council today of Cuba's demand for an International Court review of its expulsion from the Organization of American States (OAS).

The council scheduled a windup of the 10-day debate this morning with statements by Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Mironov and U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

The crux of Cuba's action was in a request to have the council set aside the OAS expulsion decision pending the world court's advisory opinion.

It was not certain that a vote would be taken. Cuba, which is not a member of the 11-nation council, submitted a formal resolution earlier this week. But the rules require that proposals may be put to a vote only at the request of a council member.

The United Arab Republic offered to request a vote, if Cuba insisted, but it had not done so up to the start of this morning's meeting.

The OAS voted at Punta Del Este, Uruguay, earlier this year to exclude Cuba from hemisphere affairs on the ground that Premier Fidel Castro's Marxist-Leninist regime is incompatible with the American system. Cuba contends the action was contrary to the U. N. Charter.

Say Playboy Bar Can't Advertise as Private Club

LANSING (AP) — You won't need to pay $25 for a key to go in and buy a drink and look at those gorgeous girls called "bunnies" in a so-called key club being organized in Detroit.

That's the word from the State Liquor Commission, which warned organizers of the proposed Playboy Club in Detroit to stop advertising it as a private club.

Brochures showing the busy "bunnies" have been sent to a wide mailing list in Michigan. They invite them to become charter key holders to the new club in Detroit for $25.

Actually, said George J. Burke, commission business manager, the club has only a Class C license. This means anyone can walk into the establishment on East Jefferson in Detroit, order a drink and take a look around.

Bids to Revive Bills Fail in State House

LANSING (UPI) — Three attempts to revive bills which were killed on votes earlier in the week failed in the House of Representatives yesterday.

One proposal would have allowed school districts to hire non-certified teachers under special circumstances and the second would extend by 10 feet the present 55-foot limitation on the length of auto haulway trucks.

Both measures failed to gain the 56 votes necessary when they were first considered Wednesday and went down for the final count during yesterday's session.

The third proposal died on a 53-48 vote early this month and missed by one vote of passage last night. It would provide uniform two-year voter registration throughout the state.

A Bear for Punishment

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Yogi Bear made it big on television and Smokey made the grade in fire prevention circles, but an unidentified bear threatened to eclipse both yesterday. He balled out of a supersonic B58 Hustler at 35,000 feet.

A stand-in for a test jumper, the bear was ejected from the B58 in an escape capsule. It marked the first time a live animal was ejected from the plane at supersonic speeds.

An Air Force spokesman said the bear was used because his weight more nearly equalled that of man than the chimpanzees used in previous tests.

The test was reported a success as the bear floated to earth seven minutes and 48 seconds after ejection.

MRS. GARY L. MELTON

Brother, Sister Hold Double Wedding

Milford Presbyterian Church was the setting recently for the double wedding of Susan Perry Young to Glenn E. Marble and Norma Jean Marble to Gary L. Melton. Officiating at the candlelight, double-ring ceremony was Rev. Frank C. Williams.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. David W. Young of 353 W. Commerce St., Milford; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Marble of 2185 Hill Road, White Lake Township; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melton of 245 Stratford St., Ferndale.

Both brides chose for their wedding floor-length gowns of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta, which featured long, tapered basque waistlines.

Susan's bouffant skirt was accented with a wide band of scalloped lace over the tulle, and Norma's skirt featured a fitted lace pleat over tulle in the front and tiered lace ruffles down the back.

Susan's colonial bouquet was comprised of yellow roses, white carnations and lilies of the valley, while Norma carried a Bible topped with pink roses, white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Serving as Susan's maid of honor was Penny McGill of Milford. Her bridesmaid was Joyce Martin, also of Milford.

ATTEND BRIDES

Mrs. Robert Evans of White Lake Township, attended Norma as maid of honor, and Sharon Barber, also of White Lake Township, was her bridesmaid.

Edward Vanderhoof and Lewis Irvin, both of White Lake Township, served as Marble and Melton as best men, respectively.

Seating the 250 guests were George H. Barber, David E. Young of both Milford, Dennis Arvidson of White Lake Township and Alfred Monetta of Union Lake.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The Meltons are living in Northville and the Marbles in Milford.

Set Great Books Training Course

Program Starts Monday at Detroit Library to Teach New Leaders

A tuition-free Great Books Leadership Training Course will be offered to all area adult residents beginning Monday at the Detroit Main Public Library.

The nine-week course is being sponsored by all local libraries in southeastern Michigan in association with the Adult Education Department of the Detroit Public Library.

Registrations can be made and information obtained at any area library, or by contacting Mrs. Jane Worley of 2452 Ferndale St., Royal Oak, coordinator of the Great Books program.

She said that interest in the Great Books Program has grown to such an extent that new leaders or moderators must be trained so that new discussion groups may be formed.

SET ON MONDAYS

The two-hour classes will be conducted by staff members of the Great Books Foundation in Chicago and will be held in the library auditorium every Monday beginning at 8 p.m.

The Main Library is at 5201 Woodward Ave.

These sessions are to train individuals in the theory and technique of leading a group of neighbors, friends and coworkers in a discussion study of great books, Mrs. Worley explained.

The classes will include demonstrations and practice discussions of works selected from the Great Books reading lists.

These include The Declaration of Independence, Aristotle's Politics, Plato's Apology and Shakespeare's MacBeth.

Lawyers, Wives to Tour

DETROIT — Some 39 Michigan lawyers and their wives leave June 11 for a 35-day tour of Europe, which will include study trips to courts in Warsaw, Poland, and Russia.

teachers and $4,500 to $6,800 for master's. Increments varied with the number of years served.

The new budget of $756,000 is $12,000 more than what is expected from anticipated revenue.

Superintendent Bartlett explained that the new budget will be balanced, however, by a carry over of surplus funds from this year.

The budget, in addition to providing salary increases, will allow the hiring of four additional staff members, including a special education instructor and a full-time librarian at the junior high school.

CUT BUDGET

Bartlett said he was able to cut his proposed budget of $787,000 by not requesting that the board hire three more teachers and by making miscellaneous reductions in services and supplies.

The superintendent said he believes that the 6.5 mills that were levied until they expired in December will be adequate to meet the needs of the budget.

Of the millage, however, only four were designated for operational purposes. The remaining 2.5 mills were levied for building and sites.

It will be necessary, Bartlett said, that when voters are asked to renew the millage, the 2.5 mills be converted into operational funds rather than what originally had been intended.

While the board is certain that the 6.5 mills will be all that is needed, a meeting to discuss the tax has been scheduled for March 28 with the finance subcommittee of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

It is expected that the school board will schedule an election date at the time for the millage continuation proposal.

Last year the school district operated with a total school tax of 37.7 mills, of which $3.7 mills were allocated by the county.

Millage for operating next year would be 14.62 if the county allocation remains the same and the 2.5 mills used for buildings and sites is converted.

Voters to Decide Whether Gas Co. Can Lay Lines

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Authority to allow Consumers Power Co. to operate in the township will be asked of voters here in a special election Wednesday.

The utility company is asking permission to lay, maintain, and operate gas lines in the township for the next 30 years.

The cost of the franchise election is being paid by the company.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from the township clerk's office until 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Voters in precinct 1 and 2 will cast ballots at the Township Hall and Township Fire Hall, respectively.

Fashions will be modeled by local high school girls, club members and professional models, with Mrs. Betty Lou Shaw acting as moderator.

The high school girl who sells the most tickets to the show will be named "Teen Fashion Queen." Fifteen girls are competing.

The queen will be crowned by last year's winner, Joan Esenberger, 13-year-old dancer, Priscilla Terio, and the Marilyn

Schedule Recount on Absentee Votes

NOVI—A recount of 19 absentee ballots, petitioned for by a defeated council candidate in the March 12 election, has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today.

Herbert Kooser, 36, of 4230 W. Eight Mile Road, demanded the recalculation after losing a seat on the Village Council by 21 votes.

The recount will begin in the Village Fire Hall and then move to precinct 2 in the Novi Community Building on Novi Road.

Wants Recount on 'Liquor Vote'

Milford Tavern Owner Asks Absent Ballot Tally After Close Defeat

MILFORD — A tavern owner here has petitioned for a recount on the liquor-by-the-glass proposal that was defeated by a two-vote margin in the March 12 village election.

Conrad Lewak of 333 E. Liberty St., owner of the Milford Tavern, has requested a recount on the 23 absentee ballots cast in the election.

Of the 1,010 ballots on the liquor proposal, 306 voters opposed the sale of spirits in the village's three taverns and 304 voters favored it.

The proposition has been defeated in numerous past elections but the outcome has never been so close.

From the time petitions were submitted in January to have the proposal placed before voters, a two-sided campaign was waged.

Support of the issue came from individuals while strong opposition was voiced by the Huron Valley Ministerial Association.

The date for the recount has not been scheduled.

House OKs Tax Bill Exempting Textbooks

LANSING (UPI) — All school textbooks would be exempted from the state sales tax under a bill approved by the House yesterday and sent to the Senate.

The measure, which would cut an estimated $125,000 in revenue a year, was introduced by Rep. Russell H. Strange, R-Clare.

In previous years he attempted to remove the present tax exemption given to college-owned bookstores but each try failed.

They Recall Their Peron in 'Good' Old Days

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—When Juan Domingo Peron was president, the Argentine working man flourished. After a day's work, he came home to a full dinner table and wine cake. On weekends, he had the workers' clubs with swimming pools and golf courses.

All this is nostalgically recalled in these days of austerity, high prices and crises. A big steak with two eggs on top is more expensive now. So are a lot of other things and a man finds it hard to make ends meet.

"We were better off with Peron," many Argentines say.

BECAME DICTATOR
But in the course of making things better for the working man, Juan Peron became a brutal dictator—Argentina's first in 100 years—and spent South America's richest country broke.

An election sweep by Peron followers last Sunday indicates that millions of Argentines still trouble. They want him back from exile in Madrid, Spain.

Peron was elected president of Argentina in 1946 in the most honest and democratic election the nation had ever had. Championing the worker with a social justice program and building his strength by labor unions, Peron made it so only he could be elected president in the next election.

He removed the constitutional prohibition on a president succeeding himself. He imposed restrictions on opposing political parties so that the only thing they could campaign for was Peronism. He closed newspapers. He alienated those who spoke out with prison terms. All the while, he poured out Argentina's wealth to keep the masses happy.

GIFTS FOR FRIENDS

By one account, he doled out $3 billion in favors and gifts for political friends by the time he was ousted in September 1955.

The money he spent was earned by neutralizing Argentina during World War II from exports, especially of beef. When Peron took office, Argentina's peso was one of the soundest currencies in the world.

Juan Peron always had a great feeling for the Jewish. His cheeks were arranged Thursday on a fevered while skiing in the Andes. He loved horses and lived in plush palaces in Buenos Aires. At 66, he is still burly and healthy-looking.

Peron was popular, almost a living god, but his second wife, Eva Peron, perhaps was more so. An attractive blonde former ac-

Alleged Threat to JFK Earns Mental Exam

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A man charged with sending a threatening letter to President Kennedy has been ordered to spend 90 days under observation at a federal medical center.

Audrey Chappell of Lanett, Ala., was arraigned Thursday on a charge that he used U.S. mails to threaten the life of the President. U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. ordered him sent to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo.

Many say that Eva's death in July 1952 of leukemia was the beginning of the end of the Peron dynasty. Some say she really ran things.

On Study Tour for McNamara

Bloomfield Twp. Man Inspecting Efficiency in Defense Installations

A Bloomfield Township man, C. Allen Harlan, founder of Harlan Electric Co., of Detroit, and an adviser to U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, has been assigned to tour defense arsenals and installations as an efficiency expert.

Harlan of 3535 N. Adams Road began his 10-day tour with a study of production and material handling methods at the Detroit Tank Arsenal, according to Thomas D. Morris, assistant defense secretary for installations and logistics.

Working without salary, Harlan is currently studying other military production problems in an effort to work out needless expenses.

He was appointed as a roving efficiency expert when some of his ideas were brought to McNamara's attention.

Harlan was publicly cited by the Navy in 1953 when he saved $500,000 with on-the-job inventions which cut the cost of wiring the new jet engine plant being built for the Navy in Warren by the Chrysler Corp.

Tobacco Co. Head Says Cancer Link Still Not Proved

LONDON (AP). — The head of the British-American Tobacco Co. says "further research is essential before final conclusions can be reached" on whether cigarette smoking causes lung cancer.

Sir Duncan Oppenheim, in a report Thursday to his stockholders, criticized the Royal College of Physicians for condemning smoking.

"The accusation against the cigarette is still based almost entirely on the interpretation of statistical evidence, about which doubts have been expressed," he said.

A study group of the royal college held that cigarette smoking is the most likely cause in the increase of lung cancer deaths. Pipe and cigar smoking was considered

Trick-Treaters Raised $2 Million for UNICEF

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP). — U. S. children raised more than $2 million last fall in their Halloween trick-or-treat collections for the U. N. children's fund (UNICEF). This exceeded the previous high by $250,000, the U. S. committee for UNICEF announced.

The sale of UNICEF greeting cards in the United States also rose sharply, bringing in an additional $1.25 million to aid the world's needy children.

Gentle Art of Quilting Old but Not Forgotten

By MARGARET BROWN
Executive Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Yesterday's necessity has become today's art — the "fine art" of quilting.

Colorful homespun counterpanes which graced our colonial mothers' four-poster beds or were packed neatly into "dower chests" in that self-reliant, less frantic era, today attract droves at exhibits and antique shows throughout the nation.

Little did these retiring pioneer quilters realize they were contributing countless descendants' cherished heirlooms and a nation's historical heritage as they carefully salvaged scraps, planned their quilting bees and eagerly designed and sought new patterns.

Indigenous to America, the "pieced" quilt had its beginnings among history's three major groups of colonists: the domestic-minded Dutch, religious-minded New Englanders and pleasure-minded Virginians, who needed bulky coverlets for protection against biting Atlantic coastal winters.

PIONEER INFLUENCE

Colonial quilt patterns, often named for the seasons, occupations and the political or religious tides of the day, were used with little variation until after the Revolution (1783) when the new nation's pioneering spirit prompted a move "west" to the central states, including Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio. This population shift afforded new inspiration and opportunity for exchange of designs.

Some of the patterns emerging from that adventurous period were "Ben Hur's Chair-of-Wheel," "Princess Feather," "Saw Tooth," "Rose of Sharon" and the "Keepsake" — made of fabrics from friends' and family members' dresses.

Applied quilts — requiring more delicate needlework and permitting greater artistic freedom — became popular in the mid-19th Century and were prized above the homely pieced variety.

Nonetheless, the humble patchwork pieced quilt is treasured for its keepsake value, as succeeding generations fondly bring out bits of great Aunt Sarah's dress and Grandmother's wedding gown in the montage of color and fabric.

In pioneer days quilting bees — reserved for the spring — were all-day, gala affairs involving entire "neighborhoods."

Planned throughout the long winter months, the joyous social function began as quilters gathered for early breakfast, then immediately set to work on the blocks — sharing the latest area news and favorite recipes as flashing fingers deftly shaped intricate geometric designs.

Generally, the quilt was completed before the evening meal when the meekfolk arrived on the scene to partake of an uncommon array of delicacies. Country dancing concluded the occasion and also inspired the quilt patterns "Swing in the Center" and "Hounds All Around."

CREATIVE SATISFACTION

Today, not content merely to admire an art of the past, scores of American women find creative satisfaction in quilting, including Mrs. Tom Robertson of Thorndale Street, Commerce, and a women's group from Central Christian Church.

Mrs. Robertson, who was taught quilting at age 8 by her grandmother, recently helped her own 14-year-old granddaughter piece her first coverlet using materials from the teenager's dresses.

Three-armed embroidered or cross-stitch spreads have been given to close relatives by Mrs. Robertson whose quilting frames are well over 100 years old.

Currently making a daintily embroidered "State Bird" quilt, the grandmother of six has made a "Friendship Quilt" from scraps of neighbors' dresses, "The Rocky Road of Fortune" and "State Flowers," to name only a few patterns.

At Central Christian Church a number of enthusiastic quilters have been meeting for the past 25 years.

As many as 18 to 25 women gather each Wednesday for the project, making pieced quilts or any variety area purchases may request. Funds are given to the church.

Mrs. George Collison, the group's leader, said the women also make lap robes for the Oakland County Medical Care Facility, sew dresses for the American Cancer Society and provide for needy families.

"We always have a center, where someone is working," said Mrs. Collison.

Stitching together on a large frame, the women generally average one quilt a month.

Central Christian parishioners keep the group well supplied with fabric scraps.

THROUGH MANY HANDS

A quilt with significant historical interest in this area is owned by Mrs. Standish Sibley of Oriole Road.

Sewn by the Young Women's Guild of Zion Church (the present All Saints Episcopal Church) in 1898, the striking quilt bears names of many old Pontiac families which were written on white blocks for a small sum. Upon completion, it was raffled at a church social and won by Rev. Lawrence Stone Stevens (in whose honor Stevens Hall was named) who promised that the quilt's next member to marry should have the quilt.

Anna Eddington received the quilt, and at her death it was given to her brother John T. Eddington, former North Saginaw Street jeweler. With Mr. Eddington's passing, his wife gave the precious coverlet to Anna Eddington's niece, Mrs. Sibley, an active member of All Saints Church.

Perhaps a stanza from Carrie A. Hall's "The Patchwork Quilt" best describes every woman's tender regard for this gentle art and laughter seen into its patches.

I see beyond the shadows, dream and aim.

Deftly stitching her latest patchwork quilt is Mrs. Tom Robertson who has been quilting since she was eight years old. She is adding finishing touches to a "Friendship Quilt" made from scraps of her neighbors' dresses.

Quit Pushing Your Son

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How can I get our son to do a certain job whom he has never met and says he doesn't care to? Our son is 22 and his social life is limited to a "bunch of guys" and a few girls of so little consequence that he's never mentioned their names.

ABBY brought them home for us to meet.

The girl we have in mind for him is well-bred, charming, has a wonderful personality and would be just right for our son.

I have been after him for over a year to call her, but he says he isn't interested. How can I get him interested?

YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you want to kill the possibility of any romance between your son and the girl you have in mind, just keep pestering him to call her. Why not arrange an "accidental" meeting between the two and let him "discover" her himself?

DEAR ABBY: I have refused to accompany my husband to the home of his parents or any of his relatives because, every time I do, I come home with a splitting headache. They are nice people and I have nothing against them, but they all want to talk at once. Nobody gets to finish a sentence. When one starts talking, somebody butts in, and then somebody else butts in on them and before you know it, five or six people are all hollering at once. I have given up trying to get a word in edgewise. My husband is mad at me. Am I unreasonable for refusing to put up with this?

DON'T HOLLER

DEAR DON'T: I don't blame you. Stay home. Keep up a friendly relationship with his relatives by having them come to your home. One at a time.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry a very handsome middle-aged man. The only thing I don't like about him is the way he always comes what a big success he has been with the women all his life. I've told him I didn't care to hear stories like that, but he always gets back to it. It's his favorite topic. Do you think this is a serious fault or should I just overlook it?

LEONA

DEAR LEONA: Overlook it if you love him, but remember — when a man overalls a product, prepare for a big disappointment.

Phonic Method Best for Teaching Reading

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After graduating from a public elementary school two years ago, a bright young friend of ours won a scholarship from a private secondary school—a respected, long-established one which requires Latin among its other subjects.

During his first term, our bright young friend was so upset by the drills involved with his Latin homework that his mother had to sit beside him every night to listen to him put nouns into declensions, verbs into conjugation.

This term it's been French and history homework that has sometimes driven him almost to the point of tears. So, night after night, his father sits beside him checking him on the French Wars' dates and battles and on his French vocabulary lessons.

The boy just doesn't know how to study. His elementary school taught him to read by the "whole word" recognition method, denying him the experience in drill which is the basis of the phonic system. (It incidentally took three years to accomplish this end—one I myself have achieved with a child in two weeks.)

So he lacks that trust of his own power to discover for himself, which is the special dividend of the phonic method and the foundation of the ability to study.

Without drill in the methods of consonants and the varieties of sounds imposed on its vowels by the English language, he never has felt the excitement of assembling them into meaningful words and so cannot comprehend the fact that drill and study are rewarded.

Now as a taxpaying citizen I have made up my mind on what I want from our elementary schools. I have come to my decision after reading books, books, books, after talks with psychiatrists, after psychologists, with workers in remedial reading programs and with professors of English language arts in teachers' colleges.

I want the phonic method restored to second and third grade children in our public schools who can use it.

And for those who cannot use it, I want an honest acknowledgment of their difference and the application of other, different and appropriate methods for the teaching of reading.

That some of our boys and girls cannot learn to read by the phonic method seems to be so. There are youngsters who suffer from an organic disability that cannot connect word sounds to their printed symbols.

SOME CANNOT

There are children so preoccupied by anger and other disturbing feelings that they cannot concentrate on phonic drill.

And there are others who can find no joy in building words up, letter by letter, because words are used so monotonously and hurriedly by parents of limited vocabulary. For these children with special problems, I want special teaching methods.

But for those without these problems, I want drill in phonics restored. I want it restored not only to teach them to read quickly instead of wasting their time but also to ground them in the practice of study.

Veronica Lake Living Old Parts

By WILLIAM E. TANGNEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Veronica Lake, whose peek-a-boo hair style made her a favorite pin-up to thousands of lonely GI's in World War II, now is living a life that vaguely resembles many of the roles she once portrayed on movie screens.

The 42-year-old blonde, somewhat faded but still beautiful, has been discovered working for meals and tips in the bar and restaurant of a modest, women's hotel on Manhattan's East Side.

Ever since word leaked out this week that the former glamour queen was waiting on tables, offers have poured in from the entertainment world urging her to try a comeback.

There were telephone calls offering her a $15,000 engagement in Las Vegas, a part in an off-Broadway play, a role in a 20th Century Fox movie and a chance to appear on television in "Naked City."

All of them were refused. The sudden rush of renewed publicity yesterday caught Veronica off guard. She had, it seems, become accustomed to the obscurity that had fallen upon her in recent years.

Reporters were asked to leave with the promise that they could interview her "in a couple of days" and she firmly insisted that there be "no pictures."

But as the evening wore on, she relaxed and began to talk about everything from her old movies to the effect of St. Patrick on the Irish.

Sipping Rob Roy's, she propped up her aching left leg at a booth in the Colonnade Room of the Martha Washington Hotel, where she works and talks to the customers, many of whom are old fans.

Beside her were crutches to support an ankle set 14 times in two years since a fellow she was dating fell on it. Last night her leg hurt too much to work. So she just sat and talked instead, although she was reluctant to discuss the possibility of a comeback in show business.

"I'll take the right part when it comes," she said, affecting the voice and manner of a prima donna. Then, with a touch of sadness, she added: "I don't know."

The famous looks of hair which hung flirtatiously across her face, covering one eye, now are nothing more than a fading memory. Most of the time she wears her hair pulled tightly back. She also is a little overweight and her features have begun to change.

BRING BACK MEMORIES

But her wide blue eyes and warm smile still bring back memories of the sultry star who soared to fame in the early 1940's when she played opposite Alan Ladd in "This Gun for Hire." It was in this movie that the peek-a-boo hair style first was exposed to the world.

In many of her films, which now often are shown on television, Veronica played women who are down on their luck. And that is an apt description of her own life today. Divorced three times, the former actress readily admits she has her "difficulties."

But "I'm not destitute," she said firmly. "You must pay in advance here." Veronica lives in a $7 a day room in the 14-story hotel where she works.

'PRETTY HELPFUL'

Her boss said Veronica makes $20 to $25 a day in tips as a part-time waitress and hostess.

She "started to be pretty helpful around the place, serving customers three weeks after she moved in last November," said the restaurant owner, Joe Rauti. "She loves this. She never felt happier. She's not hounded, she speaks her mind, nobody bothers her."

"I like people," was Veronica's simple explanation.

A woman friend said Veronica just "doesn't give a hoot," but she added there is a good chance she might try an acting comeback.

"Who has ever been down who does not want to come up?" the woman said.

Plant a permanent lawn not a nine-day's wonder

There are two kinds of grasses — annual and perennial. The two are often mixed. The annual seeds come up fast, looks fine; but soon die out. Perennial seeds come up more slowly, grow into permanent turf you can enjoy for years. There are many kinds of perennial grasses too — some desirable, some undesirable. We'll be happy to explain.

Blue Grass Makes the Finest Lawns

Everything considered Blue Grass is the best for lawns in this vicinity. It is handsome, spreads well, mows easily, and recovers from drought quickly.

'Stop Wrinkling That Brow'

Exercise Reduces Calves

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "My figure is all right except for my calves. How do I reduce the calves?"

A. Here is a good exercise for calf reduction. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor and your legs straight. Raise the left leg up as far as comfortable, keeping the knee stiff. Bend the left toe back toward your head. Lower leg to floor. Do the same thing with your right leg and continue, alternating left and right.

Q. "My wife is very attractive, but for the last few months she has been wrinkling her forehead continuously. In another year she will look like 60 instead of 40. Will you discuss this wrinkling and its results? I'll make sure my wife reads the column."

A. When you say "wrinkling her forehead" I do not know whether you mean that your wife lifts her eyebrows, or frowns, pulling her eyebrows toward one another, either affects the forehead. The former etches horizontal lines on the forehead while the latter creates a deep line between the brows, extending up into the forehead.

It is true that mannerisms can have a damaging effect on the youthfulness of a face. The important thing is for her to realize that she is doing this because such mannerisms are done unconsciously. She is probably not aware that she is indulging in such facial gymnastics.

Perhaps her life is a bit more complex or hurried than it once was. These habits slip up on us. Eye strain could play some part, too. I do not think you will have any trouble! It is handy stuff for any woman to know that her husband is so aware of her that he notices such things, and that he thinks she is too attractive to spoil her pretty forehead with unnecessary lines. Call her attention to what she is doing and I bet she never raises an eyebrow or frown again.

Q. "Why have a few dark hairs appeared on my chin? I never had these before. I eat the same way and think the same way and live the same way. Why this embarrassment now? I am 46 years old."

A. You have this condition because you never have been, 46 years old before. The hairs are evidence of a change in your glandular setup. Nothing to worry about. It is perfectly natural. Remove the hairs with tweezers and forget them until they appear again. Then repeat.

Now Horatio Algers Aim at Credit Cards

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
In Texas a 10-year-old with a motor-powered cart has arranged for his own credit card — so that he'll never be without gas and money at the same moment.

It seems this modern young Horatio Alger, understanding the buy-now, pay-later world he lives in, wrote a letter to one of the big oil companies requesting a credit card.

He explained about owning a cart and gave a brief financial statement — an income of $1 a week to support his claim of solvency.

Back from the personnel office of the oil company came this reply: "I am impressed by your self-reliance in wanting to do things on your own . . . And then the solution to the young driver's request was outlined.

He would have a special credit card with the service station nearest his house.

It looks as though young Gary (for that's the name of the go-getter with the cart) has a head start on most 10-year-olds.

For he has already caught on to the economic age he is living in. In this world it's not how much money you have — but how good your credit is.

CASH DEGRADING
Furthermore, it's not only necessary to pay cash today — it's downright degrading.

It's not the man with the big bills in his wallet who impresses others as a big spender and a big time operator — it's the man with a wallet full of credit cards who never pays cash for anything, who commands respect.

Waterford-Kettering Girls Treat 'L'il Abners' to Dance

By SHERYL LEHIGH

The tide turned today at Waterford-Kettering High School as the girls took advantage of their opportunity to capture the fellow of their dreams.

In connection with the first Sadie Hawkins Day of the year, girls went after their guys with eager anticipation and a gleam in their eyes!

Boys were treated as royalty to day as their female pursuers went to all ends to secure their happiness and attention.

The WKHS "Daisy Maes" walked the boys to classes, carried their books, and performed any other wishes that appeared pleasing to their present "L'il Abners."

TO COMPLETE SCENE

Completing the pleasant "girl-treat-boy" atmosphere of the day will be the Sadie Hawkins dance tonight from 8 to 11 in the gymnasium.

Creating the setting for "Holiday in Dogpatch" will be window decorations characterizing the well-known L'il Abner and Daisy Mae, a large-sized old fashioned cabin, boy-girl silhouettes, and tape recorded music.

Tickets have been on sale since Wednesday and will be sold at the door. Proper dress for the dance is good school clothes.

JUNIORS SPONSORS

Sponsoring the event is the junior class of WKHS. Receiving recognition for the organization and presentation of "Holiday in Dogpatch" is Joanna Lovett, dance chairman; Ray Steehler and Wendy Tomlinson, as co-chairmen of decorations; Nancy Redmond, entertainment chairman; Marilyn Slade, ticket chairman; Claudia Wagner, refreshments chairman; and Dick Olive as chairman of the clean up committee.

College entertainment boosted many students' appreciation for music Tuesday afternoon as they were exposed to the impressive music of the Michigan State University choir.

The State choir and orchestra which consists of 90 members, visited WKHS while making their annual spring tour.

Such folk songs as "Alarm Bells," "If I Had a Ribbon Bow," and "Oh Savior So Fair, Oh Savior So Kind," were sung by the choir.

Arrangements for the MSU choir program were made by the Student Council and Mrs. Janice Hendin, WKHS choir director, who was previously a member of the State choir for six years.

tickets, John Thorndycraft, and in charge of the ushers is Dave Patterson, class president.

Tickets for the show will be sold at the door.

While juniors were worrying about Showboat, the other students at Waterford were worrying or rejoicing about their report cards as the grades for the fourth marking period were given out Wednesday. The honor roll will come out some time this week.

As 'Inherit the Wind' Drama Unfolds

Northern Players Raise Stage Curtain Tonight

BY PAMELA MORRIS

The Pontiac Northern curtain will rise at eight this evening for the premiere of Lee and Lawrence's "Inherit the Wind."

Although many words have been printed about the famous "Scopes Monkey Trial," none can compete with the dynamic "Inherit the Wind."

Where else could one find such delightful tidbits as an ear-picking farmer, a wild school teacher, a civilized ape, a lapel-tugging minister, and a nose-talking cynic?

Lee and Lawrence summarize the dramatic occasion into a delightful package, filled with humor, tragedy and pathos.

TAKE THE LEAD

Lead roles will be taken by George Kovach, Henry Drummond; Jack Brownell, Counsel Matthew Harrison Brady; Jim Hunt, E. K. Hornbeck; and Ruth Vallins as Rachel Brown.

Supporting roles will be portrayed by Bill Bainger, Vaughn Wagner, Bob Russell, Linda Muller, Gary Carpenter, and Ronald McDermott.

In charge of set design and construction is Allan Dittmer, Edward Pickell, Paula Dalby and Sue Monroe.

STAGE LIGHTING

Lighting technicians are David Minthorn, Sidney Borders and Jack Brownell.

Publicity and ticket sales committee heads are Elgin Peterson, Spencer McCall, Robert Smith, Michael Dion, Elaine Hertel, Earl Englesman and Pamela Morris.

During the intermission the audience is invited to view a pictorial history of the Northern Players on exhibit in the main lounge.

The entire production of "Inherit the Wind" is directed by Anthony L. Chiarilli. Student Director is Scarlett Rutherford.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for the play which closes tomorrow.

W. Bloomfield Picks Delegate

Youth Will Go Abroad as U.S. Representative and Exchange Student

By BONNIE DISTEL
Dave Helmreich has been chosen by the New York American Field Service office to go abroad this summer as an American representative from West Bloomfield High School.

Dave was selected from a group of three other students, who in turn were chosen from a number of applicants.

A number of special qualities were required to become a contender for WBHS's annual AFS trip. Among these requirements were leadership, adaptability, two years of a language and, of course, good grades. The three competitors were Luella Ely, Jim Lawson and Linda Goodrum.

When asked about his feelings regarding his being chosen, and about his exciting summer coming up Dave replied, "I feel I am very fortunate to have been given the opportunity to represent West Bloomfield High, and the United States, as an American Field Service Exchange Student."

Dave is a junior this year, and a very busy one too. Upon the moving away of former president Tony Quinlan, Dave stepped into the position of Student Council president. He has also been active in a great many extra curricular events including football and basketball.

It is not known where Dave will go this summer, but all of West Bloomfield High is with him.

PONTIAC WATER SHOW — Among the water-lubbers of Pontiac Central High School, these Dolphins swim club members paused Wednesday during the first of the water show performances which extends through Saturday. Featuring the "Shores of Ta'Aroa," the Hawaiian based theme being produced nightly, Sherri Dudley of East Iroquois Road, Ruth Hoffman of Miller Street, and Micki King (left to right) of Norton Street combine their "finning" talents with the other members to the tunes "Tradedwind," "Little Hula Gal," and "Yellow Bird," among others.

These "behind the scenes" efforts are an off-forgotten part of show production and the dry land Dolphins should be praised for their accomplishments.

Central's Dolphins Synchronize Fins

By WADE WILKINSON

Months of planning, practice and work by the advisors, swimmers, and dry land Dolphins has preceded the actual shows. The result of all this effort is a well organized and enjoyable show well worth the admission.

DOLPHINS HELP

The dry land Dolphins are doing their part in making the performance smooth as they serve as stage crews, makeup experts, ticket collectors and show narrators.

Janice Prieto, Carol Bisaná, Gerda Jergensen, Barb Brannack, Nancy Lee, Diane Olson, Diana Dickie, Joan Grahek, Barbara Coran, Nancy Jack, Cindy Wasik, and Marilyn Fahlak also will entertain.

Pam Griffin, Sherri Dudley, Pam Pell, Vicki Landsparger, Cheryl White, Ruth Ann Hoffman, Sue Hill, and Corleen Corpron will perform.

Anti-Red Courses Bill Goes to State Senate

LANSING, Mich. — Bills to require every public high school and college in Michigan to offer comparative government courses pointing up the evils to communism moved into the Senate today after rolling through the House.

They joined other bills to outlaw the Communist party in Michigan and require employees of all organizations and institutions receiving financial aid from the state to take a loyalty oath.

The whole package is designed to clamp an ever-tighter lid on the spread of communism in the state.

The proposal would require courses "emphasizing both the constitutional system of limited government and absolute individual rights of the United States of America in contrast with the doctrines, objectives and techniques of international communism." Students also would receive instruction free enterprise economics as opposed to state socialism.

Lively debate preceded 66-30 and 67-27 votes approving the measures.

"We are in a battle for survival against communism," declared Rep. Robert E. Waldron, R-Crosse Pointe. "We may have to help our kids understand the terrible enemy we are fighting and this course, really an extension of civics courses, is one way of doing it."

As the bills are written, Waldron said, students would be compelled to take comparative government courses in both high school and college to get a degree, starting in the fall of 1963.

Rep. Joseph A. Gillis, D-Detroit, led the opposition with support from more than two dozen other Democrats and Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley, R-Ann Arbor.

"This is an attempt by the legislature to write the curriculum for schools a job that should be done by local school districts," he said. The law now requires pupils to receive instruction in "justice to animals, the evils of alcohol" and other matters, he said, but they are not generally observed.

Bursley said the study of communist is so complicated that he doubted whether most high schools have the materials or the instructors to handle it properly.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-Port Huron, agreed the law "might be dangerous" by permitting slanted instruction courses, but he voted for the bill.

Florida has a similar law but it is not working out because of a shortage of competent teachers and adequate textbooks, said Rep. Alexander Petri, D-Corse.

Bursley said the study of com-

Union Delays Strike at Request of U. S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Flight engineers held off their threatened strike of Pan American World Airways today at the request of the U. S. government.

Intervention by Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg yesterday headed off — for an indefinite time — a strike called for 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) against the nation's largest international airline.

Goldberg succeeded in persuading the Flight Engineers International Association (FEIA), the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) and Pan Am to meet here today with Labor Undersecretary W. Willard Wirtz and Francis O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board.

Bottle Sails the Sea

UPPER MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — On Sept. 1, 1959, Stephen Holzel pitched a champagne bottle into New York Harbor from the rail of the Nieuw Amsterdam.

Inside the bottle, Holzel, 19, an Upsala College freshman, put a note suggesting the finder contact him.

The reply arrived this week from Jean Bourdon of Maisons-Laffitte, a town near Paris. Bourdon said the bottle was found Feb. 13 on the French coast at Constanville, near Cherbourg—some 3,000 miles from its starting point.

Stockpile Probe to Open Soon

Sen. Symington Hails Removal of Secrecy From 12 Items

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators, their path cleared to new information by presidential order, today pushed plans for an investigation of the nation's $7.7-billion strategic stockpile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said he might have a statement today regarding the investigation by his subcommittee, expected to open soon.

Symington praised President Kennedy for his action yesterday removing secrecy from 12 major items in the stockpile. The information would include the amount by which supplies in the stockpile exceed actual wartime needs.

Kennedy's action was taken at Symington's request, and the senator intends to take up the 12 items first in its hearings.

The President asked Symington to make the investigation after telling a Jan. 31 news conference that he found the size of the stockpile astonishingly large. Kennedy said the stores of such things as aluminum and nickel were a potential source of unconquerable profits.

The materials which will be stripped of secrecy are aluminum, metallurgical grade chromium, cobalt, copper, lead, metallurgical grade manganese, molybdenum, nickel, rubber, tin, tungsten and zinc.

The information to be made public will include the current maximum and minimum goals, the present stock and the excess amount of each, to be given in dollars and units.

Symington said the 12 products represented three-fourths of the stockpile both in quantity and value.

Expect Ferrari to Win Seeburg 12-Hour Event

SEBRING, Fla. —Barring upsets, Ferrari should take home all the marbles in Saturday's 12-hour Grand Prix of Endurance automobile race.

Ferrari has the most cars, the fastest cars, and the fastest drivers on a track where one competitor said stepping on the gas is the key to victory.

There are 11 red Ferraris running in several categories. Their drivers are the who's who of sports car racing. Stirling Moss of London, world champion Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., Olivier Gendebien of Belgium, who won in a Ferrari with Hill as co-driver last year; Pedro and Ricardo Rodriguez of Mexico; and Ernie Ireland of England, winner of the U.S. Grand Prix.

HELD IN THEFT — Joel Alexander Greene, 26, a New York art dealer, was arrested yesterday by the FBI in New York on a charge of stealing a $50,000 painting by Paul Klee from the University of Los Angeles in 1959. The FBI said Greene sold the painting for $3,000 to a Munich, Germany, gallery.

Dutch-Indonesian Talks Recessed Near Capital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secret talks between the Dutch and Indonesians over New Guinea have been recessed.

A brief communique said the talks, held near here, were recessed to allow the representatives to consult their governments.

Parks Dept. Offers Programs in Church

The Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation today announced a "first" in its recent history. The department will offer recreational programs in a church.

All Saints Episcopal Church, at 171 W. Pike St., has offered the use of its gymnasium, auditorium, meeting room and kitchen facilities in a cooperative gesture to the city.

Activities and programs for youths and adults will get under way at the church next week, sponsored by the parks and recreation department, according to Leonard T. Buzz, supervisor of recreation.

Gym programs will begin Monday. The schedule calls for adult men's gym program each Monday, junior high school age boys each Thursday and high school age boys each Friday.

MEETINGS SET

All gym programs run from 7:30 p.m. Starting March 22 the department's Sunset Club for men and women 60 years of age and over will begin meeting in the auditorium from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Sunset Club will have available for their use the auditorium, library and kitchen and will meet every Thursday in activities specially designed for this age group. A pot luck luncheon is one of the highlights of their weekly meetings.

All youth and adults who will be participating in the evening gym programs should use the Exchange Street entrance to the gym and must wear tennis shoes. These programs are open to all citizens of Pontiac who are interested in participating.

"The use of these facilities and participation in the programs that are sponsored by the parks and recreation department are in no way connected with the church or the religious services conducted there and are open to people of all races and creeds, in keeping with the philosophy of the department," said Buzz.

Line Watched by Vietnamese

Ten Companies, Which Have Been Trained by GIs, to Patrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten companies of American-trained South Vietnamese rangers are being sent to patrol the heavily jungled Laotian border to cut down the flow of Communist guerrillas from North Viet Nam.

This is the first major effort to plug the 150-mile border, which has been a main avenue of penetration for the Communist Viet Cong, who move into South Viet Nam across Laotian country controlled by the pro-Communist Path Lao.

ADVISERS ALONG

American military advisers often operate in the bush with the South Vietnamese rangers and presumably some of them will be with the 10 companies being detailed to border patrol work. South Vietnamese ranger companies number about 120 men each, U.S. experts said each company could patrol as much as 25 miles of territory.

Increased patrol activity also was reported along the border with profoundly neutral Cambodia, to the south of Laos.

The South Vietnamese and some U.S. officers have contended the Viet Cong guerrillas have used Cambodia as a haven, although Cambodian officials have denied this.

This information became available in the wake of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's latest trip to Honolulu for a briefing on the progress of the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese war. Officials, buoyed by reports of significant progress with U.S. aid last December, feel there is no need for U.S. combat troops in South Viet Nam where the United States has nearly 5,000 military men advising and training the pro-Western forces.

To Help Link Hemisphere

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States yesterday made a $2 million contribution to a project to provide a highway to join southern Panama to Colombia, thus making it possible to drive from Alaska to the southern tip of South America.

Seeking Negroes for State Dept., Williams Reports

NEW YORK — Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams says the State Department is actively seeking young Negroes for career diplomats.

At present, only a handful of Negroes hold high posts in the far-flung American diplomatic corps. Among them are two ambassadors and Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary for public affairs. Clifton Wharton is ambassador to Norway and Mercer Cook to the Republic of Niger.

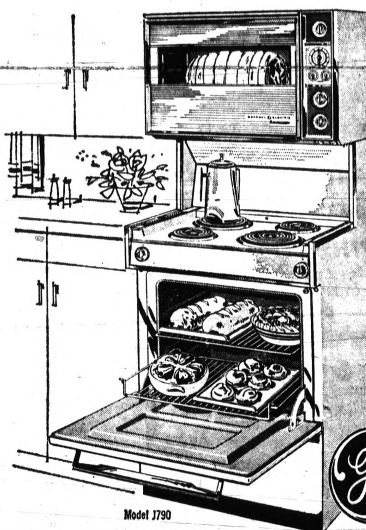

The former Michigan governor who now handles African affairs at the State Department, told an Urban League dinner his particular interest was in the importance of race relations.

He said "a fresh breeze is blowing away many of the ancient prejudices and barriers" in the United States.

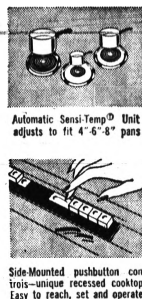

Vote for Aid to Indians.

WASHINGTON — The Senate passed and sent to the White House yesterday a bill to authorize $1,068,000 in financial aid to the Menominee Indians of Wisconsin.

He's Enthused About Picture
'Ugly American' Next for Brando

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Now that the Bounty has finally heached, no ugly American is setting sail. Marlon Brando started acting this week in "The Ugly American" several months after he was supposed to. The delay was "Mutiny on the Bounty," the granddaddy of sea epics that went overboard on schedule and budget. It is no secret that Marlon is vastly more enthused about "Ugly," which will cost a mere $4.5 million, than "Mutiny," with a tab upwards of $20 million.

It's really exciting to watch Marlon get his juices up," says the actor's longtime friend and now producer-director, George Englund.

DIFFERENT ROLE
"The role is really a departure for Marlon. He plays an American ambassador, and that means wearing suits and all that. He's even growing his own mustache for the part. I think we're going to see him at his best in this one."

Englund could be slightly prejudiced, maybe even brainwashed by his long association with "The Ugly American." He has been working on the project since 1959, sweating out the long months of preparing the script, tilting with politicians and waiting for Marlon to terminate his long careers with "One-Eyed Jacks" and "Mutiny."

"It's hard to believe that we're really at the starting gate," said the handsome young film creator.

Minuteman Notches 7th Successful Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman intercontinental range missile was launched from an underground pit Thursday night on a successful test flight of more than 4,000 miles.

The success was the seventh in a row for the Minuteman and advanced it another notch toward an operational goal of late this year. Once ready, hundreds of the solid-fuel missiles will be stationed in protected silos, ready for instant retaliation in case of attack.

TV Witnesses Warn Against Regulations

CHICAGO (UPI) — Spokesmen for the Chicago Bar Association and the Illinois Retail Merchants Association yesterday warned the Federal Communications Commission against too much regulation of local television.

Joseph F. Meek, a 1954 Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate from Illinois and representative of the retail merchants, and Perry L. Fuller, bar association spokesman, were among the witnesses at the FCC's first-in-history inquiry into local television programming.

Meek, who said he had been asked to testify by a television station executive, told Commissioner Robert E. Lee, who is presiding at the hearings, that he would prefer to see more programs of cultural interest on local television.

Seven Oaks House, Winnipeg, is the oldest habitable home in Manitoba. It is furnished with original effects and is open as a public museum.

Man Executed After 12 Stays

Former Chicago Grocer
Was Convicted in Son's
Death in 1955

CHICAGO (AP) — Vincent Cuccini, who received 12 stays of execution while confined for eight years in a Cook County (Chicago) jail cell, died at 12:09 a. m. today in the electric chair.

He showed no emotion as he walked the 15 steps from his death row cell to the electric chair.

Cuccini's only loss of composure in several years of waiting occurred yesterday when Warden Jack Johnson told him the U. S. Supreme Court has refused to grant a 13th stay of execution.

'BEARS NO ILL WILL'

"I told them the truth and they have denied me the privilege to prove it," he told the warden as he wept openly. "Well, it's a rat race on the outside. I hear no one ill will."

The condemned man left a letter with Johnson with a request that he read it after the execution. The letter stated Cuccini's contention that he shot his wife in a fit of rage after she had killed their children.

Until the last Cuccini had hope for another stay because of a last hours appeal to Gov. Otto Kerner, a foe of capital punishment. A telephone line to the state capitol at Springfield was kept open.

"Did you get any word from the governor?" he asked Johnson when the warden arrived to lead him to the death chamber.

"No," Johnson replied. "This is it."

Postpone Auctioning at Da Vinci Drawing

LONDON (AP) — The British Royal Academy decided Thursday night to postpone from June to October the auctioning of its chief art treasure, a drawing by Leonardo da Vinci.

Detroit Judges Complain of Law-Book Thefts

DETROIT (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Benjamin C. Stanczyk complained about law book thefts in a letter to the Wayne County Board of Auditors Thursday and asked something be done to stop it.

Judge Stanczyk said he is missing 32 law volumes from his in-court library in the City County Building and that Common Pleas Judge David C. Vokes has 25 volumes missing.

Other judges also have complained of shrinking libraries. Not all of them located in inner corridors.

U.N. Has History of Ideological Conflict

By BRUCE W. MUNN
 United Press International
 UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — "Each member of the United Nations undertakes to respect the exclusively international character of the responsibilities of the secretary general and the staff and not to seek to influence them in the discharge of their responsibilities."

That is from article 100 of the U. N. charter.
 "I would rather see that office break on strict adherence to the principle of independence, impartiality and objectivity than drift on the basis of compromise . . . I believe that all those whose interests are safeguarded by the United Nations will realize that."

To Be Reinstalled as Head of City Employees' Group

The Pontiac Municipal Employees Association (PMEA) will install James G. Johnson, a city accountant, to his third consecutive term as association president at the group's annual banquet Saturday at Pontiac Elks Temple.

Johnson, 340 Red Mill Drive, Pontiac Township, was re-elected earlier this year.

Other officers to be installed are Arthur Hilliker, department of public works office manager, first vice president; William Eneigh, city accountant, second vice president; John Waldo, deputy city treasurer; treasurer; and Kay Baggett, city health department employee, secretary.

The association's board of trustees will consist of John Gusman, Clayton McCoy, Jean Winter and Rose Selbert. Gusman and McCoy were re-elected, the others are new.

Some 100 members and guests are expected at the 6 p.m. dinner. Clyde G. Townsend, general manager of the Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union and honorary life member of the PMEA, will be installing officer.

U.S. Says 'No' on Red Trade

Seattle Firm Refused OK on Grain for China and North Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Seattle trading firm's request for permission to ship $400 million of grain to Communist China and North Korea was rejected today by the government.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced the denial of export license applications from the International Trading Corp., Seattle, for sales of wheat and barley to the two Communist nations in Asia.

A two-sentence announcement said "there was no evidence that the order held by ITC was based upon a request from the governments concerned."

Officials indicated this was a roundabout way of saying that the proposed grain shipment had been subject to discussions between the Commerce Department and the International Trading Corp. and did not involve any talks with the governments of Red China and North Korea.

ORDER CONSIDERED
 There is a complete embargo on shipments of American goods and produce to the two countries. However, the Commerce Department at least considered making an exception to the rule in this case. Officials said they could not say why this had been done.

President Kennedy was asked about reports that a grain deal with Communist China, which has been suffering from agricultural failures, was being considered. He confirmed then that the Seattle firm had applied for a license.

The proposed shipments would have extended over three years. Communist China had wanted six million tons of grain while North Korea had put in an order for 4.5 million tons.

From its foundation at San Francisco in 1945, the United Nations has faced the question of whether it could be an independent force in world affairs.

TALE OF CONFLICT
 Its history is a tale of ideological conflict — from those who envisaged it as a "one world" super-government to those who have sat on both sides of the table who advocate that their countries withdraw when the world organization goes against them.

Its independent force was circumscribed by the drafters who wrote charter principles creating the organization as a place for countries to "unite our strength," to "employ international machinery," to "take collective measures," to "achieve international cooperation" and to "be a center for harmonizing the actions of nations."

The charter underlined recognition of the conflict by investing the veto power in the five permanent members of the Security Council, so that enforcement action could not be ordered without their consent.

It also made provision for an international army to carry out the decisions of the Security Council, acting as an independent force for the collective good of the world.

Because Russia and the West cannot agree on the composition of such a force, the standing international army has never been created. But the military staff committee designed to control it meets religiously once a month and adjourns with no business in an average of nine minutes.

Attacks against the independence of the United Nations in action have been numerous.

Until recently, outnumbered Russia and its sympathizers charged that the United States systematically wrecked independent U. N. action through its "mechanical majority" — the combined voting strength of the Western and Latin American countries which usually see things alike.

But the rapid growth of the organization to 104 members has made the "mechanical majority" complaint somewhat specious.

Mustangs Battle Powerful Rouge in 'B' Tonight

Upset-Minded Pershing Semifinal Opponent of Favored Saginaw High

By BILL CORNWELL.

LANSING—Northville, Oakland County's sole remaining hope in the 1962 Michigan high school basketball tournament, faces its greatest challenge of the season tonight.

It probably would be more accurate to claim that the Mustangs are facing the challenge of a lifetime.

Boasting a perfect 10-0 record, the proud Mustangs collide with powerful Pershing tonight in the semifinals of the state Class B tournament.

Northville and Rouge will square off at 7 p. m. on the Lansing-Saginaw court.

Locally speaking, the Northville-Rouge clash highlights tonight's eight-game semifinal program at six sites in the Lansing area.

A Class A doubleheader is scheduled at Michigan State University's Jenson Fieldhouse.

Unbeaten Saginaw, king of the Saginaw Valley for the last two years, tangles with upstart Detroit Pershing in the 8:30 night cap. Detroit Northwestern, 46-43 conqueror of Pontiac Central, meets Benton Harbor at 7 o'clock.

A Class C twin bill is slated at Lansing's Civic Center.

CHAMP BATTLE
Defending "C" champion Grose Pointe St. Paul battles Kalamazoo Christian, a tournament-hardened quintet, at 8:30. Houghton, one of two Upper Peninsula clubs still in the running, meets Muskegon Christian in the opener at 7 p. m.

On the Class D front, Brimley from the U.P. a two-time "D" champ, challenges Suttons Bay at MSU's Intramural Sports Building. Lawrence and Flint St. Matthew square off at East Lansing High School. Both "D" games start at 7 p. m.

In the other half of the Class B semifinal bracket, East Grand Rapids and Lodi, two unranked teams during the regular season, tangle at 7 on the Lansing Everett floor.

Rouge, gunning for its 2nd consecutive state Class B crown, is heavily favored to ruin Northville's spotless record.

The Panthers of Lodi Green, who have lost only once in 22 games this season, will take the East Grand Rapids club that has won four state titles in five trips to the finals.

They possess their customary speed, quickness, agility and aggressiveness to go along with great backboard strength, scoring power and defensive ability.

Rouge's lone setback came at the hands of Michigan Central in the consolation game. Ken Wilburn, Willie Betts and Nap Hudson spearheaded the Panthers' versatile attack.

Northville's Dave Longridge, Oakland County Coach-of-the-Year, will need an all-out effort to upset Rouge. Suffice it to say, it also will have to be their best one.

Don Brown, Mustangs' 6-foot-5 All-Country star whose 25 points featured their quarter-final victory over Elkton-Pigeon Bay Port, will have the busiest evening of his prep career in a rebounding and scoring capacity. Rouge makes a habit of assaulting the boards in force.

JUDAY PLAYMAKER
Steve Juday, the Mustangs' ace guard and playmaker, is certain to have his hands full fighting off Rouge's pressing defense, which has rattled many a foe over the years. Outside shooting success would aid Northville's cause and Craig Bell may help a lot in this respect.

Nighty Saginaw, possessing Michigan's No. 1 all-school career in 6-3 Ernie Thompson, is favored to win the Class A diamond. Thompson, who does everything except sweep the floor, has carried the Trojans past 25 foes without a single loss this season.

In Pershing the Valley kings are meeting the tourney's Cinderella outfit. Pershing upset Detroit city champion Eatsen in the quarter-finals to spotlight the Motor City's first tourney appearance by its public schools in 30 years.

State championships will be decided Saturday at Jenson Fieldhouse.

The Class B final is set for 11:30 a. m., followed by Class D at 3 p. m., Class C at 4:30 and Class A at 8:30.

15 Faces Greatest Challenge

In NIT Championship Game Saturday

Dayton, St. John's Clash

NEW YORK (AP)—St. John's of New York and Dayton, two thoroughly tested in the pressure of tournament competition, climax stirring campaigns Saturday afternoon in the championship final of the 25th National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The showdown with sharply contrasting records in past NITs, St. John's has won three titles under its current coach, Joe Lapchick.

The showdown with sharply contrasting records in past NITs, St. John's has won three titles under its current coach, Joe Lapchick.

Dayton has had five second-place finishes under Tom Blackburn.

Both the Redmen and the Flyers from Ohio bounced into the title game with overpowering second-half comebacks Tuesday night. St. John's trimmed its opponent in a bruising battle, 75-65, after Dayton had rocked Loyola of Chicago 86-82.

Blackburn and Lapchick face Saturday's climax with apprehension. Each is quick to cast his white Dayton has had five second-place finishes under Tom Blackburn.

Blackburn: "I said St. John's was the team to beat before this tourney started. I still say it."

Lapchick: "I've picked Dayton to win it all along."

The opposing coaches also were pessimistic about the matchup of their big men—Dayton's burly 6-10 sophomore, Bill Chmielewski, and St. John's smooth 6-10 senior, Leroy Ellis.

Blackburn: "Ellis is too fast for Chmielewski."

Lapchick: "Chmielewski is too strong for Leroy."

EXPECT CLOSE ONE
But those who have seen these two teams look for a close, exciting final and for an aggressive personal duel between the two towering centers.

Chmielewski, held to one field goal in 11 tries as the swift Loyola Ramblers raced to a 44-11 lead, at intermission, combined with sophomore Gordy Hutton to spearhead Dayton's explosive 57-point second half. The 235-pound pivot finished with 27 points and 19 rebounds while Hutton, the tourney's classiest all-around performer so far, netted 33 points and contributed nine assists.

St. John's, down by nine points at the half, rallied behind the sweeping, soft hooks and accurate foul shooting of Ellis, then gradually broke away from Duquesne on the scoring of Kevin Loughery, Willie Hall and sub Bill O'Sullivan. Ellis had 29 points, Loughery added 18 and Hall 16.

Willie Somerset, the heavily-muscle 5-10 sophomore jumping jack, paced the spirited Dukes with 22 points.

A short but bitter brawl spoiled the St. John's-Duquesne game. Donnie Burks of the Redmen and Mike Rice of the Dukes triggered it when they tangled with about three minutes to play, and before order was restored most of the players and several spectators became embroiled.

The championship game will be nationally televised (NBC) at 4 p. m., EST, following the consolation game for third between Loyola and Duquesne.

By VAN RYZIN, completing his 16th year as head coach mentor at PCI, personally congratulated his players for their fine efforts after the loss to Northwestern.

"I think you boys did a wonderful job this season and we're proud of you," Van Ryzin said. "You worked hard enough, hustled enough and did well enough to be ranked 8th in the final AP Class A poll of the year."

The Chiefs received stalwart performances from their first six players—Rudy Ransom, Ed Kennedy, Paul Brown, Roy Cramer, Ed Williams and Clarence Douglas. Ransom was their key man. He did everything well on the floor and sparked their offensive efforts with 248 points in 15 regular season games for a 16.5 average, 4th in the Valley point race. All-Valley and All-Country honors climaxed Ransom's prep career.

Douglas, hampered by illness and injury most of February, still scored 182 points, 2nd high on the board. Kennedy tallied 146 points, Williams 91, Brown 90 and Cramer 39.

Brown and Ransom combined with Kennedy to make PCI an excellent rebounding team. The 6-foot-6 Kennedy was No. 1 on the boards, grabbing 246 rebounds for an average of 16.4 per contest.

NCAA Semifinals Indicate Advance of OSU-Bearcats

LOUISVILLE (AP). — Packed, powerful Ohio State plays Wake Forest and cool crafty Cincinnati meets UCLA tonight in the climax of their drive toward a second straight showdown for the National Collegiate (NCAA) Basketball Championship.

The Buckeyes, No. 1 in the nation, and the second-ranked Bearcats are all odds-on to win the semifinals with ease and set up another all-Ohio championship.

If they make it to Saturday's final, it will be the first time the same two schools have played for the championship two years in a row. Last year, Cincinnati won the first NCAA title, snapping Ohio State's 32-game winning streak and dethroning the 1960 champs, 70-65 in overtime.

The Bucks in the Los Angeles of Cincinnati and Fred Taylor of Ohio State—admit their teams might be better than a year ago. "We're better in some ways," said Taylor. "For one thing, we have more depth. For another, Lucas has continued to improve—particularly on defense. This team certainly has worked harder, is more relaxed and there is much more enthusiasm in our workouts."

"We're somewhat different, not quite as consistent, but potentially better on a given night," said Jucker. "Our sophomores (Ron Bonham and George Wilson) have worked their way into the team and have come along nicely."

Along with Lucas, starters John Havelock and Mel Nowell are back from last season for the Buckeyes. Doug McDonald and John Resabek are the other regulars for Taylor, who won 23 to 24 regular season games.

Bonham and Wilson are joined by three acres from the 1961 championship Bearcats — 6-9, 240-pound Paul Hogue, jumping Jack Tom Thacker and playmaker Tony Yates. The Bearcats have won 27 of 28 games and have clamped a 46-point defense on their last three foes.

PALMER SENDS — A spray of sand almost hides Arnold Palmer as he sends ball flying from a trap at the 15th hole yesterday in the opening round of the Miami Open. He totaled 70.

Nichols, Nicklaus Tied With 69s

Youngsters Lead at Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP). — Two strong youngsters with similar sounding names and identical desires to grab some of the big paychecks on the pro golf circuit—were off and running neck and neck in the $50,000 Doral Country Club Tournament.

They're Bobby Nichols, a brawny, 25-year-old who is one of golf's longest hitters, and Jack Nicklaus, 22, a two-time U.S. amateur champion just beginning to make his mark in the professional ranks.

Coldest into today's second 18-hole round, the two young men were tied for the lead with 3-under-par scores of 69. Strung out behind them were 167 other golfers, including virtually every top pro in action.

Nichols, in his third year of the tour, won over $20,000 last year, but first prizes always had eluded him until he finally won the St. Petersburg Open Monday.

Nicklaus, a competitor in only nine pro tournaments and winner of none, was just as ambitious and matched Nichols shot for shot.

These lead was precarious going into the second round. Only a stroke behind at 70 were Arnold Palmer, the year's third biggest money winner and the champion at Palm Springs and Phoenix; Tommy Jacobs, who won at San Diego; Bob Goalby, No. 10 in the money ranks; Billy Casper Jr.; Mason Rudolph and Jimmy Powell.

At 71, were Phil Rodgers, another youthful corner who could go to the top of the 1962 money winning list with a good score here; Sam Snead, Tommy Bolt, Peter Mazur, Paul Bonelson and Bob Vervey.

Ben Hogan, making one of his now-rare tournament appearances, took a 74 and Gary Player, last year's big money winner, a 76.

Commercial Fishing for Lakers May Stop

LANSING 25—Lake Superior will be virtually closed to lake trout fishing starting June 1 under a plan tentatively approved today by the State Conservation Commission.

The commission put its seal of tentative approval on recommendations of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission. Final decision will be made next month after a public hearing on the matter, conservation spokesmen said.

Deep Snow Means Trouble for Michigan Whitetails

Cold weather and deep snow are starting to show their effect on deer in northern Michigan, latest Conservation Department field reports reveal.

The department's Baraga district reported its first confirmed cases of fawn starvation. The warning for fawn starvation was also noted in four deer yards of the Escanaba district.

Similar conditions were reflected in the Gaylord district of the northern Lower Peninsula where weakened and dead deer were found. Whitetails were also reported to be in poor shape in some parts of Lake County.

Whitetails in the Upper Peninsula were said to be up against one of their roughest wintering periods in several years. Heavy snows which fell during the week left deer tightly confined to their yards throughout this region.

With minimum snow depths doubling from one foot to two feet during the week in the Upper Peninsula, deer were even closely yarded along the Lake Michigan area where they are normally less restricted in their movements.

CUTTING SLOWED

Last week's barrage of new snow also slowed down commercial timber-cutting operations above the Straits which provide important local sources of food (tree tops and limbs) for deer during this bottleneck period of the winter.

Department districts in the northern Lower Peninsula reported their greatest snow depths of the winter: As much as 18 inches of new snow piled up during the week in the Gaylord area.

Confirm Sign Stealing in 1951 Thomson Homer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP). — A story that a clubhouse spy stole Brooklyn Dodgers' signs and helped Bobby Thomson hit the home run that won the 1951 National League pennant for the New York Giants was confirmed at the Giants' spring training camp today.

A source close to the team, who declined use of his name, said, "It was perfectly legal to steal signs in 1951 and before any way you could."

He said the practice was outlawed last year by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

"In 1951 most of the clubs in the league had been attempting hoists of our pitching signals by devious practices," he continued.

"When the Dodgers came into San Francisco late in the season the Giants were two up on second place Los Angeles. Since there were only eight games left the Giants knew they had to win any way possible—including stealing signals."

"The Giants in charge caught Seal Stadium for the most likely spy vantage points, including hilltops and even roofs of houses in the vicinity. They settled on the scoreboard."

"But the plan was never used. This deeply religious Giants pitcher, and go ahead and guess his name, found out about the scheme and his protests killed it."

There was no denial from the first source about the Thomson incident.

Lakeland Wins Class A Playoff

Lakeland Pharmacy won the Waterford Class A basketball championship last night with a 77-67 overtime victory over regular season kingpin Spencer Floor Center.

O'Neill Really copped the "B" playoff title by dumping Nesbitt of the second straight night, 62-57.

Tom Nickman's three baskets in the final minute enabled Lakeland to catch Spencer 67-67 before the final buzzer. The winners then posted a 14-0 overtime edge to make off with the crown, Spencer led at the half, 40-32.

Shu Thorell and Nickman each scored 24 points for Lakeland. Chuck Gillis topper Spencer with 25. The loss was the second for Spencer in three playoff meetings with Lakeland.

O'Neill had to win its final three games after suffering a setback early in the double elimination playoff.

Dave Struble scored 17 and Bill Crow hit 16 for O'Neill. Nesbitt was led by Dennis Horrigan's 16.

Ice Fishing Pressure Down Across Michigan

Fishing pressure dropped slightly from last winter on nine major lakes in the Northern Lower Peninsula surveyed by the State Conservation Department.

The department reported 2,147 fishing shanties were counted on the lakes during an aerial survey in February. The count last year was 2,226 shanties.

The largest count was 556 shanties reported on Houghton Lake.

Set Purchases for Dunes Area at $17 Million

WASHINGTON 25 — The National Park Service estimates that it would pay Michigan owners $17 million in acquiring lands for the proposed Sleeping Bear dunes recreational area along Lake Michigan in Leelanau and Benzie Counties.

The proposed $2,000-acre park would include about 22,000 acres now held by private owners. Most of the remainder is owned by the state.

The service's estimates coincide with President Kennedy's March 1 message to Congress in which he proposed an eight-year land purchase program for outdoor recreational purposes.

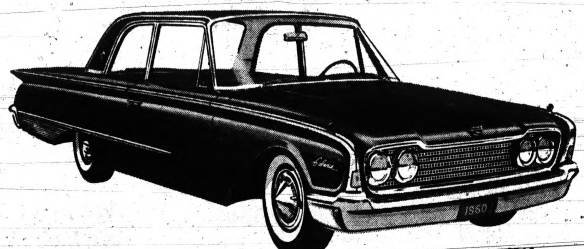

Total acquisition cost of the 10 park projects recommended by the President was estimated by the park service at $63 million.

Kennedy urged Congress to authorize the Sleeping Bear dunes development along with nine others.

Campbell Arrives From Lakeland

Tigers-DeBusschere in Confab

DETROIT (U) — The Detroit Tigers sent Vice President Jim Campbell into action yesterday in an attempt to sign a much sought after University of Detroit pitcher.

Campbell, his pockets full of money, flew into town from the Lakeland, Fla. training base to take charge of negotiations with Dave DeBusschere, star University of Detroit athlete.

Tiger scout Lou D'Annunzio has shadowed DeBusschere since 1955, but said it was "up to the front office now."

The rascally right-hander said, "I'll sign next Wednesday or Thursday," but added that he hasn't made up his mind who with.

It was learned that the Tigers have offered DeBusschere a bonus of $60,000 if he doesn't play basketball. The All-America cager has stated that he definitely is going to play pro basketball.

The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball League will make him their No. 1 choice next Monday in the annual NBA draft. The Tigers' bonus offer will be cut in half if DeBusschere plays basketball.

Twelve major league teams have contacted DeBusschere since the close of U-D's basketball season last week. The best offers have come from the Braves, Cardinals and Yankees.

Swainson Requests Sale of Parks Bonds

Governor Swainson has asked the legislature to approve the second half of a $10 million permit-bonding program to expand and improve Michigan's state parks system and urged a $225,000 appropriation to step up development of other state recreation lands administered by the Conservation Department.

In his park bonding request, the governor specified that $3 million would be spent for capital improvements with the remaining $2 million to go for new land acquisition.

SPRING SPEEDUP — Spring gets a nudge in snow removal operations at the Minnesota Twins park where baseball is only 23 days away. Groundskeepers will get to work as soon as the field is cleared with hopes of warm weather.

'The General' in ABC Hall of Fame

DES MOINES (UPI) — John (The General) Crimmins, Detroit, became the 24th member of the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame last night.

Crimmins, a member of the File Electric team of Detroit which won the 1939 ABC title, is a veteran of 38 ABC tournaments.

Crimmins, 67, will compete with the ABC's Sport Shop Club of Detroit tonight and will see action in singles and doubles tomorrow. He has a 196 average in his 33 years of tournament play.

Crimmins won the All-Star bowling title in 1941, and was voted Bowler of the Year in 1942. He was a member of the Detroit Stroh's that won the International bowling championship in 1936 at Berlin.

He set a record in winning the Elks National tournament all events title in 1937 with a 2,139 nine-game total.

Ten of the 14 other living members of the Hall of Fame were present for Crimmins' induction. They were Frank Benkovic, Milwaukee; Alvin Brandt, Lockport, N. Y.; Adolph Carlson, Chicago; Herb Lange, Watertown, Wis.; Hank Marino, Milwaukee; Joe Norris, Chicago; Billy Sixty, Milwaukee; Walter Ward, Cleveland, and Joe Wilman, Chicago.

Earlier yesterday, the ABC board of directors awarded St. Paul, Minn., the 1965 tournament. The board voted 55-18 in favor of St. Paul over the other bidder, Fort Wayne, Ind.

It will mark the third time St. Paul has played host to the ABC tourney.

Suspend Ohio Prep Power

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Canton McKinley High School, an Ohio scholastic grid power since 1894, will have no football team next fall.

The Bulldogs, months ago, were suspended for a year by the Ohio High School Athletic Association for using undue influence in the transfer of two players from distant Portsmouth, Ohio.

The school carried a protest to the State Supreme Court, but the tribunal voted unanimously Wednesday that the edict must stand.

The suspension wipes out McKinley's grid profits—$43,000 last year—and will hamper the spring sport programs of Lehman, Timken and Lincoln High Schools. All Canton sports receipts go into a common fund, and the other three are not self-supporting.

The court's action was a heavy blow to others, too. Local sports equipment stores, which fill all school orders, will get none. Concessions, which furnish funds for the school band, will be closed. Printing firms will lose all programs and ticket business, and restaurants and motels will miss the big crowds.

Massillon, 8 miles away, which has played the Bulldogs all but two of the last 68 years, figures to lose about $22,000 in gate receipts if the season finale with the Bulldogs isn't staged.

The 1963 tournament has been awarded to Buffalo, N. Y., and the 1964 meet to Oakland, Calif. There were no changes among the leaders in the tournament action.

Trees Give Tex Somethin' New to Crow About

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Texas now can claim possession of the largest trees in the nation of four different species.

The discoveries result from a National Big Tree campaign being conducted by the American Forestry Association.

Four Texas trees which have proved to be the nation's largest are the American holly, a honey mesquite, a water oak and a recently discovered redbay.

All the trees are apparently in good shape except for the newest one, the redbay or Persimmon.

Buttrick has taken over the 4-foot giant, leaving its typical mark, a hollow center. Official said a large limb has also been broken from the body.

Stock Market Sees Slow Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to see a slow pace today, with trading at the slowest pace in weeks. The market was mixed, with a few gains and a few losses. The Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 1,000.15, up 1.15 points from the previous day. The S&P 500 closed at 34.12, up 0.12 points. The Nasdaq closed at 1,000.15, up 1.15 points. The market was characterized by a lack of direction, with investors waiting for more news from the government and the Federal Reserve. The volume of trading was also down, with only about 1.5 billion shares traded today.

Auto Industry Hit in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted to cut $10 million from the auto industry's research and development account. The committee's action was part of a broader effort to reduce federal spending. The auto industry has been a major beneficiary of federal research and development funds in the past, but the committee's decision could have a significant impact on the industry's ability to develop new technologies. The industry has expressed its concern about the decision, but the committee's action is expected to stand.

No Progress Indicated as Steel Talks Resume

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The second round of contract negotiations between the United Steel Workers and the steel industry today showed no progress. The two sides were still far apart on many key issues, including wages, benefits, and working conditions. The negotiations have been ongoing for several weeks, but no agreement has been reached. The industry is concerned that the negotiations will break down, which could lead to a strike. The union is also concerned about the possibility of a strike, which would have a major impact on the steel industry and the economy.

Industry Wants U.S. Budget Cut

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Association of Manufacturers has urged Congress to cut the federal budget by 10 percent. The association's argument is that a budget cut would reduce the government's role in the economy, which would be beneficial to the private sector. The association also argues that a budget cut would help to reduce the federal deficit, which is a major concern for many Americans. The government has rejected the association's proposal, arguing that a budget cut would have a negative impact on the economy.

Government Bonds Sag

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bond prices turned down today, with the 10-year Treasury note falling 1/8 of a cent. The market was generally bearish, with investors concerned about the government's fiscal policies. The Treasury Department has been criticized for its handling of the budget, and investors are looking for more information from the government. The bond market is also being affected by the Federal Reserve's actions, which have been aimed at controlling inflation. The Fed's actions have led to a rise in interest rates, which has put downward pressure on bond prices.

Auto Industry Unit Says Car Makers Doing Too Little About Reducing Exhaust Fumes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted to cut $10 million from the auto industry's research and development account. The committee's action was part of a broader effort to reduce federal spending. The auto industry has been a major beneficiary of federal research and development funds in the past, but the committee's decision could have a significant impact on the industry's ability to develop new technologies. The industry has expressed its concern about the decision, but the committee's action is expected to stand.

Lockheed's Luck Changes; Tells of Record Returns

NEW YORK (AP) — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. today announced that it had reversed 1961 losses and in 1962 set records for earnings and sales. The company's earnings were up 10 percent from the previous year, and its sales were up 15 percent. Lockheed's success is attributed to a combination of factors, including strong demand for its aircraft and improved cost control. The company's stock price has risen significantly since the announcement, and investors are optimistic about its future prospects.

General Telephone Talks Halted After 2 Hours

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Negotiations on a new contract between General Telephone Co. and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) today broke down after two hours. The two sides were unable to reach an agreement on key issues, including wages and benefits. The IBEW has threatened a strike, which would have a major impact on the telephone service in Grand Rapids. General Telephone has also threatened to hire non-union workers, which has further fueled the dispute.

Full-Scale Battle Breaks Out in Algiers Streets

French Soldiers Fight Secret Army as OAS Gets Brief Control

ALGIER (UPI)—Full-scale street fighting today pitted Frenchmen against Frenchmen in Algiers. French soldiers battled commands of the outlawed European Secret Army Organization (OAS) and the OAS briefly seized control of various sections of the city.

Heaviest fighting broke out in the OAS stronghold of Bab-el-Oued, after OAS gunmen attacked a French army patrol, killing six French army soldiers and wounding 20 others.

A right-wing Moslem splinter group warned all Americans in the Algiers area to leave Algeria immediately "or be struck down without pity."

The Algerian Popular Movement (MPA), which opposes the majority Moslem group, the National Liberation Movement (FLN), delivered its ultimatum in a letter to the U.S. consulate general here.

It cited President Kennedy's message of congratulations to FLN Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and implied the Americans hope to replace the French in Algeria after independence.

"This measure is effective as of Friday, March 23, 1962, at 5 o'clock. At that time all Americans who have not left the city across streets of the Bab-el-Oued," the letter said.

OAS commandos, battling to keep Algeria French and wreck the newly proclaimed cease fire, this afternoon opened fire on soldiers stringing barbed wire rolls across streets of the Bab-el-Oued, a European working class section of Algiers.

BEGIN FIRING BACK
The French troops, who had been ordered to "keep out" of the area by the OAS Wednesday, immediately took shelter and began firing back.

The OAS commandos—armed with submachine guns, bazookas and grenade launching rifles—took up battle positions at key intersections and started an all-out onslaught on the soldiers.

It was not immediately known how high casualties were running in the street fighting.

But reports of violence throughout the country sent the Algerian government into a state of alarm, with reports of 300 dead and at least 264 wounded. The total since Jan. 1 went up to 2,000 killed and 8,831 wounded.

At about the same time as street fighting broke out in Bab-el-Oued, other OAS commandos shot up an adjoining Moslem suburb and several shacks were set ablaze.

Model for Future Developments

IDEAL SITE PLANNING—This is the way city planners would like to see all of Pontiac's elementary and secondary school sites developed. The new Pontiac General Development Plan clearly specifies site needs for city schools, which they will use in the residential and recreation layout of Pontiac. This is an aerial view of Pontiac Northern High School, which the master plan recognizes as a model for future planning.

Pontiac General Development Plan

Parks to Aid 'Perfect City'

(Editor's Note—This is the second in a three-part series on the Pontiac General Development Plan, adopted by the City Commission in December. The plan will guide all the future development of the city. Public understanding of it is essential to its proper use and criticism, if any.)

BY DICK SAUNDERS

In the "perfect Pontiac" as envisioned by City planners in their General Development Plan, neighborhoods will be units, schools will all have adequate adjacent park and recreational facilities and each quadrant of the city will have a major park.

We have already seen how commercial land use should be condensed, with local shopping centers located between neighborhood units.

The master plan divides residential areas into 20 separate and distinct neighborhood units. Each unit is centered around an elementary school as the heart of the neighborhood, and contains recreational facilities designed to serve the needs of the neighborhood.

Size is decided by need. The boundaries must encompass enough families to support an elementary school. Pontiac residential area will be dominated by single-family owner-occupied dwellings, in units providing a normal density of close to seven dwelling units per net residential acre, or about 4,000 persons.

SIX DWELLINGS PER ACRE

Most of the city's future residential growth will be in the northeast section. Neighborhoods here will be low density units of about 2,000 persons, or less than six dwelling units per net residential acre.

To offset this, high density public housing projects will be developed and expanded, particularly in the immediate area surrounding the central business district. These units will have 6,000 inhabitants and more than eight dwelling units per net residential acre in the plan.

Planners say it is very possible the banks of the Clinton River on the east side will some day become the site of big modern apartment buildings, sprawling parks and a scenic parkway linking downtown Pontiac with the M30 freeway.

HOUSES NEED REPAIR

To attain residential plan goals, the city and its residents must dig in and work. The 1960 U.S. Census of Housing indicates that there are 2,563 houses deteriorating in and in need of repair in Pontiac and another 716 structures.

that "do not provide safe and adequate shelter" and should be removed.

Schools in this "perfect Pontiac" will also change. Children of the future will have more schools to attend and the schools themselves will be less crowded.

School sites will be larger to accommodate suitable recreational facilities. As the heart of a neighborhood, each elementary school should be on a 10-acre site.

The junior high should serve four or five neighborhoods and be on a site of about 25 acres. The senior high school should serve at least 10 neighborhoods, be on a 25-acre site and on a major street.

Only five of the city's 23 elementary schools have 10 or more acres. Of the secondary schools, only Madison Junior High and Pontiac Northern have adequate sites. Imagine the Pontiac Center (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

No Sunday-Selling Bill Pleases Area Merchants

A cross section of opinion from Pontiac area merchants today showed almost 100 per cent approval of bills to stop most Sunday retail selling, passed by a wide margin in the Lansing House yesterday.

The proposed complicated Sunday closing law passed by an 86-12 vote and is on its way to the state Senate.

The bills would prohibit sale of specified goods, from suits to furniture and appliances, in 13 of Michigan's most populated counties on Saturday or Sunday. The choice of day would be left up to the merchants.

Oakland County is included.
The law wouldn't affect sale of "necessity items" such as food and drugs.

In downtown Pontiac, even the spokesmen for stores that do Sunday business were in favor of the ban.

"We would love to see the bill passed," said Edward Edley, vice president of Consumers Discount Center. "We don't want to stay open on Sunday, but our competition is open on Sundays, so we have to stay open."

Gene Evans, assistant manager of Robert Hall Clothes in Pontiac, wondered if the law made any exceptions for the Christmas and Easter sales seasons. It doesn't. "It's a company policy for our stores to stay open Sundays during these seasons."

Gromyko Denies Rusk's Claims at Arms Talks

East, West Each Say the Other's Upcoming Blasts Prevailing

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk accused the Soviet Union today of blocking a nuclear test ban treaty while presumably planning a new series of atomic weapons explosions.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko sharply denied the charge and blamed the United States for the failure to reach agreement on a test ban.

The clash came in the 17-nation disarmament conference when the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union reported collapse of their efforts to start new negotiations on a test ban treaty.

Gromyko said the United States is to blame for the failure because it has scheduled a new series of atmospheric nuclear tests and does not want a test prohibition.

Rusk said President Kennedy had emphasized the United States would stop all tests if the Soviet Union would sign a treaty with effective controls against cheating. Kennedy has ordered the tests to start in late April unless such a treaty is signed.

HOME MAKES OFFER

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home said the Western powers are prepared to work out a control system on the most objective scientific basis possible. Home proposed minimum controls to Gromyko earlier in the week but Gromyko rejected any kind of international controls which would put foreign observers inside the Soviet Union.

Gromyko renewed the Soviet charge that the West wants to set up an espionage system. He brushed aside Rusk's charge of new Soviet test plans by saying it was a pretext to cover known American test plans.

Rusk said the Russians three to four years ago had approved scientific plans for international inspection to police a test ban. The ban is no less urgent now than it was in 1958, he said. He declared the Soviet say charge had no rational basis because the proposed inspection system "could not be used that way."

"My government is at a loss to understand the Soviet position," Rusk said, "unless it be that the U.S.S.R. has decided that it is still overwhelmingly important for it to be free to continue its nuclear weapon tests. It may be that the U.S.S.R. feels a military need for a new test series."

Rusk spoke from a prepared text. Gromyko replied extemporaneously. An informant said he accused the United States of an aggressive act in declining to resume testing in the atmosphere. He denied the Soviet Union had broken a moratorium when it started its series of about 50 tests last September. There was no moratorium in existence then, Gromyko said.

STORES FUNCTIONING
In downtown Buenos Aires stores functioned normally. Buses and other forms of transportation were running. Milk and newspaper deliveries were made without interruption.

There were no reports, however, from the factory city of Cordoba, where U.S. automobile plants operate, and other industrial centers where workers promised to adhere to the strike call.

Move Up Deadline for Wisner Lights

New lights for Wisner Stadium are now a near certainty.

The Pontiac Board of Education last night moved up the deadline on installation of the lights, after it was told the Detroit Lions would not play scrimmage game here unless the lights were installed by Aug. 1.

The board had previously okayed architectural planning which would have made installation possible between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15. Cost has been estimated at $35,000.

The only two hitches which now appear able to hold back installation would be excessively high bids or a sudden drop in the school board's expected revenue.

The request from the Lions was relayed to the board by Jim Huttenlocher, president of the Pontiac Jaycees, cosponsors of the event with Community National Bank.

Renovation of the lighting had been pressed by citizens and the professional football team after the scrimmage game last year when rain shattered many of the lights.

Reports Finding Fossil of a Man-Ape Creature

WASHINGTON (AP)—A British anthropologist has announced discovery of the jawbone of a strange creature—not quite man and not quite ape—believed to have lived in Central Africa 14 million years ago.

The fossil remains fill in one of the major gaps in the fragmentary story of human evolution, Dr. L. S. B. Leakey said yesterday.

He said the discovery, made on an orange farm in Kenya, East Africa, by him and his wife, Mary, lends support to the theory that man made his first appearance on the dark continent.

"I have no doubt that it was in Africa—in fact in Central Africa—that man was born," the scientist told a news conference at the National Geographic Society.

"You might say, with respect to the Garden of Eden, that Africa was the place."

'NOT YET MAN'
Leakey said the creature "is not man, but he is more man than ape. He is definitely heading toward man. He has more characteristics toward man than ape. But he is not yet man."

Leakey told also of the discovery of the remains of other strange creatures in the area where the new type of primate was found. These were 14-million-year-old graptorhines, a type of donkeys, elephants no bigger than horses, ancestral hippopotamuses, rhinoceroses, antelopes and pigs.

Remains of the newly found animal unearthed by the Leakeys were two pieces of upper jaw, containing teeth, and a lower tooth.

Leakey said there was no way yet of determining its sex. Nor could he say much about its general appearance, other than "it would suggest it was 14 million years old or as big as a chimpanzee."

The fossil bones were dug up last July at Fort Ternan, about 40 miles west of Kisumu, Kenya, Lake Victoria. Layers of solidified volcanic ash covered them. The age of the bones was determined by chemical analysis of the ash.

The husband-and-wife team is in Washington to receive medals from the society for their accomplishments in anthropological research and exploration. The society has financed the Leakeys' African expeditions.

Weatherman Revises Forecast to Cloudy

The weatherman can't make up his mind. First he said tomorrow will be fair, now he predicts the day will be mostly cloudy. He said skies will be cloudy and the low near 34 tonight.

Temperatures are gradually creeping upward. The forecast calls for a high of 44 to 35 and low of 23 to 31 for the next five days.

Precipitation will be less than .50 of an inch of rain Sunday and again Tuesday or Wednesday. Morning winds northeasterly at 2 to 10 m.p.h. tonight and Saturday. Thirty-three was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 41 at 1 p.m.

Highway Toll Increases
EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic crashes have claimed 22 lives in Michigan, so far, under provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll on the same date a year ago was 287.

Asks Fellow Mayors to Support Detroit Tax

WARREN — Detroit Mayor James Cavanaugh appealed to 25 suburban mayors last night to support his city-county income tax plan, but most stood firm in their opposition.

Clair Shores Mayor Eugene Ellison said that although the suburbs are sympathetic with Cavanaugh's problem, they are opposed to his tax plan. He asked why Cavanaugh did not meet with the mayors before advocating his plan in headlines.

Cavanaugh agreed he should have taken it up with his fellow mayors first, but said he doubted the results would have been any different.

Cavanaugh said his city now has a $55-million dollar deficit and must have more revenue.

Cavanaugh told the Metropolitan Mayors Association that suburbs in five to 10 years will be facing the very problems Detroit now is facing.

Cavanaugh said that if Detroit goes broke, the suburbs will go down the drain, too, adding: "The Detroiters, as you guys suburban Michigan."

The Detroit mayor appeared to plug for support for a city-county income tax program which would tax suburbanites working in Detroit as well as Detroit residents.

The Michigan House of Representatives has passed a bill to bar cities from taxing nonresidents and it now awaits Senate action in Lansing.

GROUP TO FIGHT
Most of the Metropolitan Mayors Association members from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties have voiced opposition to Cavanaugh's proposed tax plan and have organized themselves into a vigilance tax committee to fight it.

Cavanaugh's proposed plan would tax income of Detroiters one percent and incomes of nonresidents working in the Motor City one-half of one percent.

Suburbs similarly could tax persons living in Detroit and working in their areas, Cavanaugh said.

He insisted a city could tax nonresidents legally. Referring to claims of some suburban mayors that this would be "taxation without representation," Cavanaugh cited state taxes as an example of levies made by a legislature that does not afford equal representation to all.

Cavanaugh said Detroit and the suburbs are interdependent and that suburbanites "have a moral if not legal obligation to help the central city."

Truthfully, he continued, "if that the suburbs of one city in the metropolitan area could be isolated from any state by any geographic boundary like Eight Mile Road."

He said there are some suburbanites in sympathy with Detroit's plight and that he recently had received a $200 check from a Berkeley resident who said he considered it his "obligation" to Detroit.

Berkeley's Mayor George Kuhn is one of those out of sympathy with Cavanaugh's income tax proposal and a leader in the fight against it.

Nichols arrested on a charge of manufacturing illegal whiskey, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court.

Officer's Nose Nabs Man on Liquor Charge

Patrolman Hal Risner's keen nose caught a peculiar odor yesterday while he and his partner were investigating a possible stolen car report on East Wilson Street.

Risner and officer James Fritz began tracking the scent up the street. When they drew opposite a house at 316 E. Wilson St., an occupant, Robert Nichols, 33, stopped the door and asked what they were looking for.

"We're checking a stolen car report," Risner said, his nose slightly tilted into the wind.

Evidently Nichols didn't believe him. When the police returned with a search warrant, they said they found Nichols pouring moonshine whiskey down the basement drain.

They also confiscated evidence of a still in the basement, the officers said.

"Once you get a whiff of moonshine smoke, you never forget the smell," Detroit Detective William Nesbitt, head of the vice and narcotics squad, noted.

Nichols arrested on a charge of manufacturing illegal whiskey, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court.

Rains in Much of Nation

From Our News Wires
Snow flurries persisted today in the central and northern Rockies where a spring storm Thursday dumped up to 14 inches of wet snow. The snow belt stretched from western Nevada to Wyoming.

Flurries were overcast over much of the nation as showers during the night soaked wide areas along the Pacific Coast and throughout the South. Temperatures were mild in most areas.

Rockies Get More Snow

The precipitation in southern Idaho raised new flood threats today as a hit by multistage rain clouds last night.

The Portneuf River overflowed at several points south of Pocatello, sending water over farmland and U.S. 30N. The highway remained open.

HEAVY IN MOUNTAINS
The heaviest snowfall was in the mountains. Four to six inches of snow was measured at Cascade-McCall, Idaho and four inches at Snake Lake City and at Elly, Neb.

Spring floods posed a problem to the Portneuf River residents as above freezing temperatures melted snow and filled many rivers and streams to near capacity.

The warmer weather also freed river ice which broke into flows and jammed up at narrow points, causing flood waters to spill onto adjoining lowlands.

The Grand River continued to pose a threat in western Michigan and the Tittabawassee River at Midland climbed near the flood warning stage to 114 ft. Flood warning stage is 15 feet and flood stage 18 feet.

Hit-Run Suspect Claims Someone Changed Bumper

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A patrolman Jack Billingsley thought he had a solid case yesterday against a hit and run suspect.

The motorist, a 70-year-old woman, allegedly backed her car from her driveway, struck a parked auto and drove off without stopping. Billingsley traced the incident to her. He said she denied the allegation.

"Well," said Billingsley pointing to a mark on the woman's bumper, "how do you explain that?"

He said she stared momentarily, then replied:

"That's not my bumper. Someone has taken one on."

The case continues under investigation.

Recreation Dept. Says Income Down at Rink

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Recreation Department said today that revenue from the operation of the municipal ice rink dropped $1,200 from last year and that expenditures were increased by $3,700.

During the 1961-62 season at the Elton Park rink, revenue was $14,829 and expenditures were $21,229.

Donald Martin, recreation director, said a preliminary report also shows a drop in attendance from last year by about 3,000.

Most of the attendance drop was in the open skating periods and due primarily to the number of weekend sessions that had to be canceled because of inclement weather conditions, he said.

Even though this year's operation did not compare as favorably with last season the ice rink activities drew a total attendance of 31,881.

This figure is higher than the attendance recorded in any other activity by the recreation department, according to Martin.

"What Roger Means to Us" will be topic discussed by Rev. John A. Root at the 8 p.m. general meeting of the women of St. Andrew Lutheran Church, Bloomfield Township.

The United Lutheran Church of America which includes St. Andrew, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Saint Synod and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church bodies, will merge into one group, the Lutheran Church in America, this summer.

The merger will take place during a convention at Detroit's Cobb Hotel.

Pastor Root will discuss the effects of the merger and explain the decisions reached by the Joint Commission on Lutheran Unity.

There is a complete embargo on shipments of American goods and products to the two countries. However, the Commerce Department at least considered making an exception to the rule in this case. Officials said they could not say why this had been done.

President Kennedy was asked about reports that a grain deal with Communist China, which has been hovering over agricultural failures, was being considered. He confirmed that the Seattle firm had applied for a license.

The proposed shipments would have extended over three years. Communist China had wanted six million tons of grain while North Vietnam had put in an order for 4.5 million tons.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South Africa announced today a 30-year project for harnessing the Orange River to change a semi-desert into an agricultural and industrial paradise.

U.S. Says 'No' on Red Trade
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Seattle trading firm's request for permission to ship $400 million of grain to Communist China and North Korea was rejected today by the government.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced the denial of export license applications from the International Trading Corp., Seattle, for sales of wheat and other foodstuffs to the two Communist nations in Asia.

A two-sentence announcement said "there was no evidence that the order held by ITC was based upon a request from the governments of Red China and North Korea."

Officials indicated this was a roundabout way of saying that the proposed grain shipment had been subject to discussions between the Commerce Department and the International Trading Corp. and did not involve any talks with the governments of Red China and North Korea.

ORDER CONSIDERED

Jackie Tries Out Her Thoroughbred

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy tried out her new Pakistani horse today and then received in this capital city the biggest welcome it has ever given a foreign visitor.

Almost everyone in Rawalpindi, population 400,000, turned out to greet America's first lady.

Crowds jammed the streets waving thousands of paper flags and placards saying "Long live Mrs. Kennedy."

THRILLING WELCOME
It was a thrilling welcome like many Mrs. Kennedy has received in other Indian and Pakistani cities since arriving on the subcontinent 12 days ago.

But this morning the 32-year-old first lady had the experience of riding Sardar (Chief), the bay gelding given her yesterday in Lahore by President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

She rode the horse for 10 minutes on the lawn of the governor's house in Lahore before taking Ayub's personal turboprop plane to Rawalpindi.

"Oh he's lovely!" she said excitedly after the ride.

"No one is going to be allowed to ride him but me."

Mrs. Kennedy tried the horse about the time she was due in Rawalpindi. But her arrival time was put off three hours so she could catch up on her sleep.

French Army Moslems, Rebels Clash; 100 Die
PARIS (AP) — More than 100 Moslems were killed in a battle in Western Algeria Wednesday between Algerian rebel forces and Moslem auxiliaries in the French army, the French News Agency reported today.

The battle took place at Belizane, about 60 miles east of Oran, the agency said.

The report, attributed to official sources, said:

It was the second time this month the East Germans have fired on an automobile belonging to a Western Allied liaison mission attached to Soviet headquarters at Potsdam.

Kennedy Flying to California

Accompanied by Bob Kennedy, Kennedy's brother, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy flew to the West Coast today for an important speech in California and possibly his first close viewing of a major missile launch.

The Chief Executive's big Air Force jet took off from nearby Andrews Air Force Base at 8:40 a.m. (Pacific time) for the Naval Air Station on San Francisco Bay. The flight to California was expected to take about five hours, 15 minutes.

The attorney general hitched a ride with the President today for a state conference on crime prevention in Los Angeles tomorrow.

The President's trip was billed as strictly nonpolitical. But it is no secret that he is eager to do everything possible to help California Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown win re-election. Brown probably will be opposed by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy's opponent in the 1960 presidential election.

His speech, before an expected audience of 45,000 persons in the University of California stadium at Berkeley, was set for shortly after 5 p.m. (Pacific Time).

Kennedy will tour Vandenberg Air Force Base and there's a possibility he'll see an Atlas missile fired.

There's a likelihood that while in the Palm Springs area Kennedy will have a meeting with his predecessor, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Pennsylvanians to Help Coast Dig Out of Sand

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "No body asked for help. This is just old fashioned neighbor-to-neighbor friendship."

That's the way Charley Zaines, news director of WSN and co-chairman of Operation Help, described the promises of 1,000 volunteers from Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley to work Sunday to help New Jersey shore communities dig out from the sand left by the severe storm two weeks ago.

Zaines said a motorcade of buses and autos will leave Allentown at 5 a.m. Sunday for Ocean City, Stratford and White Beach and Sea Isle City.

Zaines said one man contributed $5 to help. He quoted him as saying: "I'm too old to go. I'm 74. But I can send my dollars."

High School site expanding its present boundaries to the west and two blocks north. That's what the master plan proposes.

It also pinpoints sites for 10 new elementary schools and one new junior high. In the "perfect Pontiac," schools will cover 4 percent of the city's land. They now cover 2 percent.

Parks and recreation sites will show the largest increase in land area, from 4 now to 10 percent in the future.

Through expansion, the "Wiscer Stadium site will become "Pontiac's dominant, active recreation location."

Creation of a major park adjacent to Galloway Lake in the city's northeast quadrant will be a priority item. Areas adjacent to Osburn, Terry and Harris lakes are to be connected and developed with scenic park facilities.

The "new face of Pontiac" may well include an integrated park system extending from Murphy Park to the core of the city.

A COMMUNITY CENTER
A community center for club meetings, banquets, exhibitions, music recitals, lectures and hobby classes should spring up in the civic center near city hall, according to the plan.

It may consist of several buildings, a library, open courts and terraces grouped around a mall.

Also proposed is a huge auditorium and arena for indoor shows and events.

This dream city could never become a reality without industry and commerce. The plan calls for a new industrial area to serve and protect it. These items in the "future Pontiac" will be covered in the third and final article in this series.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Assemblyman Charles E. Chapel of Los Angeles was formally charged Thursday with falsely reporting a bomb aboard an airliner.

Police Judge Elvin F. Sheehy, called for the lawmaker's arrest. Legislative immunity does not apply in cases of felony.

The Republican legislator, 58, had said he was only joking when he told a stewardess he had a gun and nitroglycerine in his briefcase on March 15.

Police Chief James V. Hicks said he had been informed by Chapel's attorney that the legislator would surrender Friday.

JFK's Children Are Paying Visit to Grandparents

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—President Kennedy's children, Caroline, 4, and John Jr., 1, were visiting today with their grandparents.

The children will stay with their grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is convalescing from a stroke suffered last Dec. 19, and grandmother, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, recovering from a successful pelvic hernia operation.

The children are expected to return to Washington early next week, in time for their mother's homecoming from her Asian travels next Thursday.

Laotians May Print Money to Pay Army

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Royal Lao government, hard-pressed for cash after being deprived of American aid, today was reported planning to print new money to keep the domestic economy going.

Informants conceded the scheme—if carried out—would eventually produce inflation.

Premier Boua Oum's right-wing government needs money to pay the 60,000-man army and civil servants. The payroll normally is underwritten by the United States to bolster the anti-Communist government.

The United States suspended its monthly $3 million grant to the Vientiane government two months ago in an attempt to force Boua Oum to join with neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souvanavong in forming a coalition regime.

WSU Governors Ask for More State Aid

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne State University Board of Governors has approved a plan to ask the legislature to increase state appropriations by $120 per student and has voted to increase tuition by $30 per year.

The plan would give Wayne $300,000 a year additional in tuition and $2.4 million in state income.

The board agreed to increase nonresident fees from $580 to $750 a year in two steps "to reduce some of the hardship of state students now enrolled."

If you want a lawn to be proud of, spend five minutes reading this message.

"Give me one Saturday morning of honest effort and I will guarantee you a better lawn—no matter how much crabgrass there is around"

says your Scotts Dealer

DURING the past four years millions of lawn owners have won the battle against crabgrass. They have used a remarkable new lawn aid called HALTS and now enjoy the reward of a better lawn.

Crabgrass, one of nature's most prolific weeds, is an annual that starts from seed each year. These seeds may be in the soil from last year's plants or carried over from previous years. Or they may have been blown in or washed in from the neighborhood.

Your lawn need not be infested with crabgrass this year

These crabgrass seeds need not come up this year. You can stop them by putting down an invisible barrier of HALTS—the sooner the better, in any event before the third or fourth spring mowing. Halts is a clean, granular material. Applying it is a simple matter: With the Scotts Spreader you quickly blanket the entire lawn. Each tiny particle of Halts is more than a match for the wildest crabgrass plant. It lies in wait, then strikes as crabgrass sprouts.

What you need to know

1. Realize if you or your neighbors had crabgrass last year, you will have it this year.
2. Realize you can stop it before it comes up.
3. Realize you can plant new grass the same day.
4. Realize you can fertilize at the same time—on the same day.
5. Realize you can do the whole job in 90 minutes on a 50 x 100 ft lawn.

sturdiness to your lawn and gives your new grass the strong start it needs.

Scotts guarantees your success

Your Scotts Dealer is ready to help you grow a better lawn with the research, advice and products of O M Scott & Sons—a firm that has offered this guarantee throughout its 90 year history: You must be satisfied or your money back. This can so easily be your year to have a better lawn. It's time to give it that Saturday morning now!

Stockpile Probe to Open Soon

Sen. Symington Hails Removal of Secrecy From 12 Items

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators, their path cleared now by new information by presidential order, today pushed plans for an investigation of the nation's $7.7 billion strategic stockpile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said he might have a statement today regarding the investigation by his subcommittee, expected to open soon.

Symington praised President Kennedy for his action yesterday removing secrecy from 12 major items in the stockpile. The information would include the amount by which supplies in the stockpile exceed actual wartime needs.

Kennedy's action was taken at Symington's request, and the senator intends to take up the 12 items first in his hearings.

The President asked Symington to make the investigation after telling a Jan. 31 news conference that he found the size of the stockpile astonishingly large. Kennedy said the stores of such things as aluminum and nickel were potential source of unconscionable profits.

The materials which will be stripped of secrecy are aluminum, metallurgical grade chromium, cobalt, copper, lead, metallurgical grade manganese, molybdenum, nickel, rubber, tin, tungsten and zinc.

The information to be made public will include the current maximum and minimum goals, the present stock and the excess amount of each, to be given in dollars and units.

Symington said the 12 products represented three-fourth of the stockpile both in quantity and value.

Expect Ferrari to Win Sebring 12-Hour Event

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Barring upsets, Ferrari should take home all the marbles in Saturday's 12-hour Grand Prix of Endurance automobile race.

Ferrari has the most cars, the fastest cars, and the fastest drivers on a track where one competitor said stepping on the gas is the key to victory.

There are 11 red Ferraris running in several categories. Their drivers are the who's who of sports car racing. Stirling Moss of London, world champion Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif.; Olivier Gendebien of Belgium, who won in a Ferrari with Hill as co-driver last year; Pedro Rodriguez of Rodriguez of Mexico; and Ernie Ireland of England, winner of the U.S. Grand Prix.

HELD IN THEFT — Joel Alexander Greene, 26, a New York art dealer, was arrested yesterday by the FBI in New York on a charge of stealing a $50,000 painting by Paul Klee from the University of Los Angeles in 1959. The FBI said Greene sold the painting for $3,000 to a Munich, Germany, gallery.

Parks Dept. Offers Programs in Church

The Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation today announced a "first" in its recent history. The department will offer recreational programs in a church.

All Saints Episcopal Church, at 171 W. Pike St., has offered the use of its gymnasium, auditorium, meeting room and kitchen facilities in a cooperative gesture to the city.

Activities and programs for youths and adults will get under way at the church next week, sponsored by the parks and recreation department, according to Leonard T. Buzz, supervisor of recreation.

Gym programs will begin Monday. The schedule calls for adult men's gym program each Monday, junior high school age boys each Thursday and high school age boys each Friday.

MEETINGS SET — All gym programs run from 7-9 p.m. Starting March 25 the department's Sunset Club for men and women 60 years of age and over will begin meeting in the auditorium from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Sunset Club will have available for their use the auditorium, library and kitchen and will meet every Thursday in activities specially designed for this age group. A pot luck luncheon is one of the highlights of their weekly meetings.

All youth and adults who will be participating in the evening gym programs should use the Exchange Street entrance to the gym and must wear tennis shoes. These programs are open to all citizens of Pontiac who are interested in participating.

"The use of these facilities and participation in the programs that are sponsored by the parks and recreation department are in no way connected with the church or the religious services conducted there and are open to people of all races and creeds—in keeping with the philosophy of the department," said Buzz.

Line Watched by Vietnamese

Ten Companies, Which Have Been Trained by GIs, to Patrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten companies of American-trained South Vietnamese rangers are being sent to patrol the heavily jungled Laotian border to cut down the flow of Communist guerrillas from North Viet Nam.

This is the first major effort to plug the 150-mile border, which has been a main avenue of penetration for the Communist Viet Cong, who move into South Viet Nam across Laotian country controlled by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

ADVISERS ALONG — American military advisers of ten operate in the bush with the South Vietnamese rangers and presumably some of them will be with the 10 companies being detailed to border patrol work. South Vietnamese ranger companies number about 120 men each, U.S. experts said each company could patrol as much as 25 miles of territory.

Increased patrol activity also was reported along the border with supposedly neutral Cambodia to the south of Laos.

The South Vietnamese and some U.S. officers have contended the U.S. Cong guerrillas have used Cambodia as a haven, although Cambodian officials have denied this.

This information became available in the wake of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's latest trip to Honolulu for a briefing on the progress of U.S.-supported South Vietnamese war.

Officials, buoyed by reports of significant progress with U.S. aid since December, feel there is no need for U.S. combat troops in South Viet Nam where the United States has nearly 5,000 military men advising and training the pro-Western forces.

Seeking Negroes for State Dept., Williams Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams says the State Department is actively seeking young Negroes for career diplomats.

At present, only a handful of Negroes hold high posts in the fast-flung American diplomatic corps. Among them are two ambassadors and Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary for public affairs, Clifton Wharton is ambassador to Norway and Mercer Cook to the Republic of Niger.

The former Michigan governor who now handles African affairs at the State Department, told an Urban League dinner his is particularly aware of the importance of race relations.

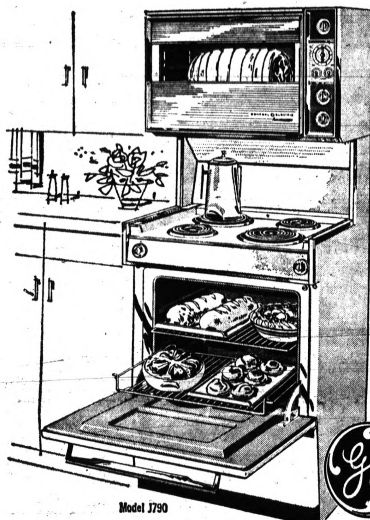

He said "a fresh breeze is blowing away many of the ancient prejudices and barriers" in the United States.

Vote for Aid to Indians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the White House yesterday a bill to authorize $1,098,000 in financial aid to the Menominee Indians of Wisconsin.

Should It Be an Independent Power?

U.N. Has History of Ideological Conflict

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)
"Each member of the United Nations undertakes to respect the exclusively international character of the responsibilities of the secretary general and the staff and not to seek to influence them in the discharge of their responsibilities."

That is from article 100 of the U. N. charter.
"I would rather see that office break on strict adherence to the principle of independence, impartiality and objectivity than drift on the basis of compromise . . . I believe that all those of the United Nations will realize that

'Liberty Bell' Ceremony Falls to Sound Off

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A group of business, civic and political leaders gathered in the rotunda of the State Capitol Thursday to ring the state's replica of the Liberty Bell in honor of Patriot's Day. But they got neither a ding nor a clang.

To their embarrassment, they found that the bell's clapper was securely tied down.
Capitol officials said the clapper had to be fixed to the side of the bell to keep visiting school children from disrupting the capital staff with unannounced bangs.

U. S. Drops Search for Plane in Pacific

CLARK AIR FORCE BASE, Philippines (UPI) — The United States today called off a massive but futile search for a flying Tiger line transport plane that disappeared eight days ago with 107 persons aboard.

Maj. Gen. Theodore R. Milton, commander of the 13th Air Force at Clark Air Base, said the search had been ended with "no trace" found of the airliner or its passengers and crew.

Aboard the plane were 93 U.S. Army Rangers, 3 Vietnamese soldiers and 11 crewmen. The four-engine Super Constellation disappeared March 15 on a six-hour flight from Guam to Manila. The flight was headed for South Vietnam.

the choice is not one of the consequences of the moment but one which is decisive for the future of the world."

That was the late Dag Hammarskjöld's reply to Soviet criticism of his conduct of the office of secretary general and therefore the symbol of the United Nations — at the height of the Congo crisis.

PSC Will Probe Deduction Code

Liberal Depreciation Formula Allows Firms to Pile Up Tax Reserves

LANSING — Thirteen Michigan utilities have some $12 million put away to pay income taxes they might owe some day, the State Public Service Commission (PSC) says.

The commission yesterday ordered an investigation into the system that brought about these cash reserves and its effect on the utility rate payer.

The funds started to accumulate in 1954 when the commission authorized utilities to take advantage of a so-called accelerated or liberalized depreciation formula permitted by the Internal Revenue Code.

The system has been a center of controversy since the commission put it into operation.
ORIGINAL FORMULA
With this formula, a utility could deduct large amounts of depreciation the first year, and progressively smaller amounts in succeeding years.

This would mean, in theory, that expenses would be extremely high the first year — with taxes proportionately low. As the expenses tapered off under the formula, taxes would rise.

It never has worked out that way, said Norman Berkowitz, secretary of the PSC. Now purchases usually offset the loss of depreciation deductions, he said.

Under the standard straight-line method, equal amounts of depreciation are deducted each year.

Hit, Killed by Truck

ITHACA (AP)—Clare Reed, 47, of nearby Pompeii, was hit and fatally injured by a pickup truck yesterday while walking along a road a mile south of Ithaca. The driver was not held.

From its foundation at San Francisco in 1945, the United Nations has faced the question of whether it could be an independent force in world affairs.

Its history is a tale of ideological conflict from those who envisaged it as a "one world" super-government to those who have set on both sides of the table who advocate that their countries withdraw when the world organization goes against them.

Its independent force was circumscribed by the drafters who wrote charter principles creating the organization as a place for countries to "unite our strength," to "employ international machinery," to "take collective measures," to "achieve international cooperation" and to "be a center for harmonizing the actions of nations."

The charter underlined recognition of the conflict by investing the veto power in the five permanent members of the Security Council, so that enforcement action could not be ordered without their consent.

It also made provision for an international army to carry out the decisions of the Security Council, acting as an independent force for the collective good of the world.

TABLE OF CONFLICT

Because Russia and the West cannot agree on the composition of such a force, the standing international army has never been created. But the military staff committee designed to control it meets religiously once a month and adjourns with no business in an average of nine minutes.

Attacks against the independence of the United Nations in action have been numerous.

Until recently, outnumbered Russia and its sympathizers charged that the United States systematically wrecked independent U. N. action through its "mechanical majority" — the combined voting strength of the Western and Latin American countries which usually see things alike.

But the rapid growth of the organization to 104 members has made the "mechanical majority" complaint somewhat specious.

NEW YORK (AP)—Some activity in oil and selected issues highlighted another irregular stock market session early today. Trading was moderate.

Korvette, up more than a point, continued its recent strength and among the oil stocks, Phillips Petroleum picked up about a point and a half.

Guessing Game for Merchants

Consumers' Tastes Erratic

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK—One of the biggest guessing games today is how consumers will spend their money. Total incomes are higher. Some businesses and services are growing. But some of the things they are being passed by. And this is no time to be passed by because today the consumer, even more than government, is calling the tune on the economy.
