Legislators Vote to Hike Own Pay

Wife Admits Idea of Killing Mate; Court Exam Set

As she was about to undergo a lie detector test yesterday, Mrs. Edna L. Millican changed her story and admitted she loaded the shotgun because "I thought about killing my husband," according to Oakland County Sheriff's Detective Leo Hazen.

Today, the 34-year-old Brandon Township housewife demanded pre-trial examination on a charge of manslaughter. The date was set for July 7 by Orion Township Justice of the Peace Helmar G. Stanaback, and she was released on 2,500 bond.

MRS. EDNA L. MILLICAN

The warrant had been issued by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

She is charged with the fatal shotgun shooting of her husband, Earnest, a 40-year-old Pontiac factory worker.

At first Mrs. Millican, mother of a 15-year-old son, said she grabbed her husband's 12-gauge automatic shotgun in self-defense, and "suddenly the gun went off."

She said he didn't know the gun was loaded, Mrs. Millican told Hazen, as her husband walked menacingly toward her in the basement of their one-story home, 1570 Perry Lake Rd., after he returned from a night of drinking.

The story changed, however, as Hazen sought to clear up several points while questioning Mrs. Millican at the Redford State Police Post. Hazen had taken her there yesterday morning supposedly to see if she was telling the truth when she said she shot her husband in self-defense after he beat her in a drunken rage.

Asked by Hazen if she loaded the gun, Mrs. Millican said, "I'll tell it just the way it happened." Hazen quoted her as saying:

She said her husband returned home drunk about 2:30 a.m. Monday and beat and kicked her. They had been quarreling for some time, she said.

"Then it was that I thought about killing my husband," Hazen said Mrs. Millican said in her revised story. "So I took the shotgun from the kitchen closet, found a shell, and loaded the gun."

Millican had since stormed out of the house angry. During the 20 minutes or so that he was away Hazen related Mrs. Millican said she suddenly realized she couldn't go through with shooting her husband and decided to hide the loaded shotgun in the basement, fearing he might find it and use it on her.

As she sought a hiding place, Millican returned home to discover her in the basement. Hazen said Mrs. Millican told him that she warned her husband not to come near her after Millican reportedly said, "I'm going to kill you for having that gun."

As Millican advanced, Hazen said, the single blast was fired when he was six feet in front of the gun. Millican died of a wound below the heart.

Steel Accord to Avert Strike Expected Soon

Magazine Sees Pact That Includes Modest Pay, Fringe Boosts

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel industry and labor negotiators are about to sign a wage pact which will head off a July 1 steel strike, Iron Age magazine said today.

Only last-minute "haggling and bumbling" can stymie the signing of an agreement calling for moderate boosts in pay or fringe benefits, the magazine added.

★ ★ ★

"If anything happens at the last moment to cause a ditching of present attitudes on both sides," Iron Age observed, "a long and bitter steel strike with its inevitable harvest of hard feelings will result."

The national metalworking weekly reported demand for steel plates, galvanized sheets and railroad products seems certain to remain strong if there is no strike.

★ ★ ★

But tubular products, with the exception of large linepipe, appear headed for a sharp summer letdown, Iron Age declared.

The outlook for wide-flange beams and bars is questionable, the magazine said. Cold-rolled sheets are sold out for July and August orders are arriving at a brisk rate, it reported. Big sheet users are known to be holding large stocks, Iron Age said.

However, it seems as if the steel talks are in a stalemate. Neither side has made any concessions. But with the strike date rapidly approaching, the Steelworkers Union and industry were beginning to do a bit of quiet horse trading.

Defy State Cash Crisis in Bid for $6,000 Year

LANSING (AP)—Michigan lawmakers, still handcuffed on taxes, cash crisis and budget issues after 106 days in the Capitol, suddenly have sprung a move to raise their pay 50 per cent.

That's what the House voted to do yesterday in a surprise amendment to an appropriations bill to finance general government operations in 1959-60.

"We're not adequately paid for the services we render," said Rep. Joseph I. Jackson (D-Highland Park), who led the move. A tool and die maker, and former official of United Auto Workers Local 157, Jackson added: "I know it's an honor to be here but we can't eat honor and we have to have something to live on."

If the Senate approves, the 144 legislators will collect $6,000 a year starting Jan. 1, 1961. Taxpayers would be hit for another $288,000 a year.

It would be the fourth pay boost lawmakers have voted themselves since 1949 when they drew $3 for every day's work at the Capitol.

The proposal was rejected at first on a 50 to 38 vote, six short of the 56 needed for approval. On a second try, the roll call was 58 to 36.

ONE DEM VOTES NO

Rep. Paul J. Parker (D-Flint) was the only Democrat of 48 recorded who voted "no." Eleven of 49 Republicans cast affirmative votes.

★ ★ ★

There has been talk of a legislative pay raise for the last two years but few thought it would go beyond the conversation stage in the light of the state's dire financial plight.

"This is a very inopportune time for us to do something like this," said Rep. Carroll Newton (R-Delton). "Just because we happen to have been here for a long time doesn't justify a salary increase."

While the debate went on, with a new fiscal year seven days away, tax compromise discussions in the House that looked hopeful last week were stalled.

About $5,400,000 in desperately needed cash was in sight today for the state treasury, now in such anemic shape that payment of the July 2 state payroll was in grave doubt.

★ ★ ★

The news came on heels of refusal of a fuel oil supplier, one of the state's more than 15,000 creditors, to continue doing business with the state until past due bills of $16,662 were paid up.

Stanley J. Bien, state purchasing agent, said the action of the Welfare Bill Is Given OK by Governor

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today put his signature on the first of the big spending bills for 1959-60 as six others carrying appropriations totaling 463 million dollars reached the halfway point in their legislative journey.

★ ★ ★

Williams signed a 70 million-dollar bill to finance welfare programs in the fiscal year starting July 1.

He thus cleared the way for the State Welfare Department to apply immediately for matching welfare funds from the federal government for the first quarter of the new fiscal year.

The welfare bill was hurried through the legislature ahead of other spending measures to make certain no federal funds would be lost.

There was no serious sign yet of boat rocking as the budget for the fiscal year starting in just seven days continued to shape up.

The key to general fund budget size still was all wrapped up in the final decision on school aid, passed Monday by the House and now resting in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The Senate yesterday voted $187,944,875 for higher education, mental health and public health purposes. The three bills moved to the House.

RESTRICTED FUNDS

The House approved $10,193,254 for conservation, recreation and agriculture and $34,547,000 for general government, a total of $55,104,000 chargeable against the badly battered general fund.

The other $219,638,581 bill passed by the House carried restricted funds, mostly anticipated gas and weight tax revenue dedicated for highway purposes.

In the Senate, majority Republicans beat down Democratic attempts to put another $3,232,388 into the bills okayed there, but Senators accepted GOP amendments calling for rises of $1,027,500.

★ ★ ★

The only money change in the higher education bill was addition of $150,000 for Ferris Institute in Big Rapids, raising the school's operating allowance to $1,773,073.

U.S. Leaders Accord Herter Solid Support on Berlin Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's stand against yielding the freedom of West Berlin found overwhelming support in Congress today.

U. S. diplomats hoped the evidence of solid congressional backing in both parties would help impress in Communist minds the need for a change in Moscow's policy if there is ever to be a peaceful solution to the German crisis.

★ ★ ★

Herter spoke grimly Tuesday night in reporting to the American people on the six weeks of deadlock at the Geneva foreign ministers conference on Germany.

The negotiations recessed last Saturday until July 13.

In a 15-minute radio-TV speech the American foreign affairs chief called on the Soviets to abandon their drive "to add more than two million free West Berliners to the captive peoples of Eastern Europe."

"This is the critical question," he said. "If the Soviets do not hold to this annexationist design, we should be able to reach agreements on Berlin consistent with the honor and interest of all our countries."

TOUCHED OFF CRISIS

The Reds touched off the crisis by demanding an end to the post-war Allied occupation of West Berlin.

Britain, France and the United States refused to pull out of the Communist-encircled city without an arrangement for its freedom. The Soviets rejected all Western offers.

Herter linked West Berlin's freedom to America's own. "When their freedom is diminished, our freedom is inevitably diminished," he said.

He pictured Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as uttering threats and "Communist upside-down talk," aided by the "baneful influence" of speechmaking by Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow and elsewhere while the foreign ministers sat at Geneva.

He won widespread backing from congressmen.

★ ★ ★

Herter said "some degree of progress" must be made at Geneva in order to warrant a meeting of heads of state afterwards. "Regretfully," he said, "no such progress has yet been registered at Geneva."

ON PLUS SIDE

On the plus side he reported the negotiations had:

★ ★ ★

1. Produced worldwide approval of the western power's plan for solving the Berlin problem, and the problem of a divided Germany, through a peaceful reunification of Germany with Berlin to be the capital.

2. Demonstrated a high degree of unity among the Allies.

3. Disclosed possible means of specific agreement with the Communists on Berlin.

Crime Paid for Victim

LONDON (UPI) — Jim Scott got his stolen car back yesterday with a new coat of paint, new bumpers, de-dented fenders and a reconditioned engine. Scott's five-year-old car apparently was abandoned in a London square by whoever stole it. A garage man mistook it for the one he had been ordered to pick up in the same square, for the renovation job.

Aid to Youth Plan Launched

Commission OKs 30 Pontiac Area Persons to Serve on Board

The City Commission last night endorsed appointment of 30 Pontiac area citizens to get the proposed Youth Assistance Program under way.

Eighteen of the appointees will serve on a general citizens committee to oversee the program designed as a new instrument to protect children from social and emotional debilitation.

★ ★ ★

Twelve of the appointees will be on what is called the case-work-executive committee, which will operate the program.

The program, first proposed by Oakland County Juvenile Judge Arthur E. Moore, is expected to get under way when the appointments are approved by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The city schools and juvenile agencies are cooperating in the venture.

The appointments were arranged by Judge Moore. Named to the citizens committee were:

★ ★ ★

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools; Dr. Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent of schools; Monroe M. Osmun, school board member; Mrs. Harry King, former school board member; Mrs. William Anderson, president of the Pontiac PTA Council.

Arthur J. Law, state representative from Pontiac; John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press; Maurice Croteau, member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; the Rev. James Sheehand, assistant pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church; Rabbi Nathan Hershfield, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Jacob.

★ ★ ★

William A. Ewart, Pontiac city attorney; Dr. Charles L. Bowers, member of Big Brothers of Oakland County; David R. Ewalt, director of Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department; Walter K. Willman, Pontiac city manager; Mayor Philip E. Rowston; Karl W. Bradley, executive director, Pontiac Area United Fund, and the Rev. Galen Hershey, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Members of the case work committee are all experienced in handling problem children. They are:

The Rev. Virgil W. Nelson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church; the Rev. Francis J. O'Donnell, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church; Estella Martin, executive director of the Oakland County Family Services; Leonard Jagels, executive secretary of the Catholic Family Center; William Clark,

Don't Let Showers Sneak Up on You

Scattered showers and thundershowers have been forecast for late afternoon and tonight in the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tonight's low will be a mild 60. Thursday will be a little warmer, the high near 80.

Fifty-one was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 73 at 2 p.m.

Hotrodders Beware!

Crackdown Is Ordered

City commissioners have called for a crackdown on teenage hotrodders.

They told City Manager Walter K. Willman last night to put police to work in the face of strong public complaints over teenage driving practices, especially around drive-in restaurants.

Residents on W. Huron street called for more law enforcement in a special petition addressed to the Commission last night. They complained of speeding, squealing tires, noisy mufflers and reckless driving.

"Pedestrians and children are endangered," the irate residents said.

"This has got to stop and the police are the ones to stop it," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston. Willman said more patrol cars would be on duty from now on.

Baby Sitter Fights for Life

Beater Demands Hearing

While an 18-year-old baby sitter he has admitted beating continued her fight for life, Bruce M. Taylor, 32-year-old Pontiac butcher, this morning demanded examination in Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set Taylor's examination for July 8. The prisoner was returned to the Oakland County Jail, unable to furnish bond of $20,000.

He admitted beating the girl to police detectives early Monday morning but later refused to make a statement at the Oakland County prosecutor's office. He told detectives he thought the girl was his wife.

The baby sitter, Phyllis Jean Keel, of 58 Wall St., was reported still in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

She suffered two skull fractures and severe neck and chest cuts.

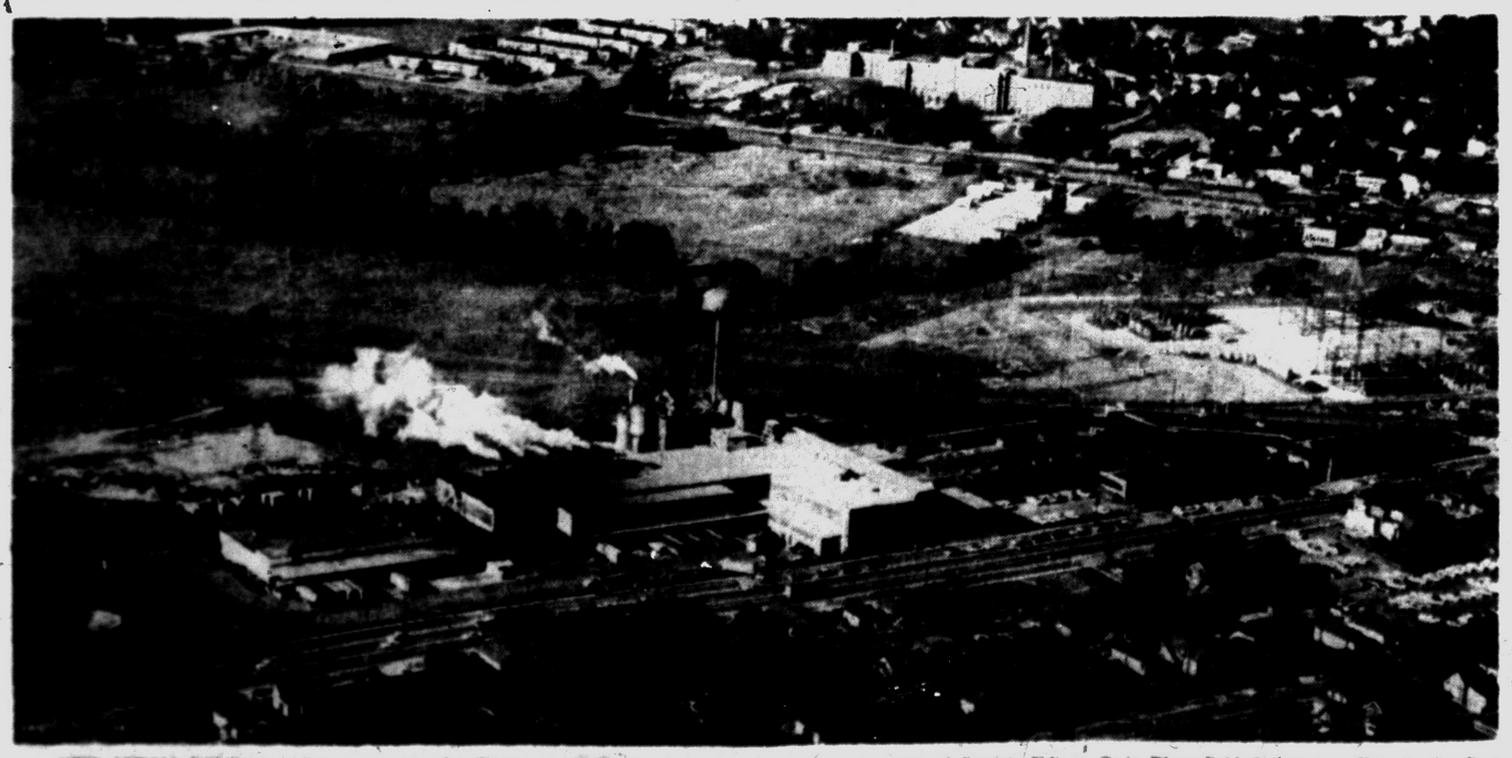

She was sitting with Taylor's three children the night of the beating. His wife, Juanita, was working when the attack occurred.

He also faces trial on an assault and battery charge July 29.

His wife, from whom he is separated, charged in a complaint that Taylor three weeks ago came to the home at 223 W. Rutgers St. and beat her.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed a states rights bill strongly opposed by the Eisenhower administration. Republicans voted heavily for it, along with Southern Democrats. The bill would in effect reverse a series of Supreme Court decisions by providing that federal laws do not automatically take over from state enactments in the same field.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Parents of condemned killer Charles Starkweather today asked Lancaster District Court to set aside his conviction, to order a new trial and to stay the execution scheduled for shortly after midnight tonight.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Hupp Corp.'s new board chairman today turned down a $110,000-a-year bonus and suggested that the company's directors use the money as incentive payments for other executives.

Directors adopted the suggestion made by John O. Ekblom, 64, of Greenwich, Conn., who has been board chairman of Hupp since earlier this year.

Gas, Bulldozer Put End to Prison Hospital Riot

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Sixteen hours of rioting in the federal prison system's big medical center here left a backwash of tin cans marked, "Masks, Gas M-9."

"That gas sure did the trick," said Leonard Appleby, 55.

For 19 years Appleby has been a guard at the big U.S. prison hospital, where 60 per cent of the 1,000 prisoners are insane criminals.

Monday night at 9:55 o'clock Appleby was sitting in a small office censoring the prisoners' mail.

★ ★ ★

"Earl Taylor (a prisoner) charged in with a knife in his hand," Appleby said. "Before I could realize what was up he had that knife under my throat.

"'You make one move and I'll kill you right here,' Taylor said. 'Be quiet.'"

In the next few minutes Taylor and 105 other prisoners in the "10 North" section of the hospital took Appleby and four other guards as hostages.

"All was pretty quiet," Appleby said. "The inmates tore open offices and medical chests and loaded up on tranquilizers and phenobarbitol—that is, about all except the leaders. They did not settle down."

The riot leaders were identified as Taylor, 31, serving 9 years for violating the federal firearms act, assault, escape and theft; Carl Roberts, 19, serving 4½ years for car theft, and Bryan D. Reed, 24, a military prisoner serving life for murder.

★ ★ ★

"We didn't really get scared until after Warden (Russell O.) Settle came over and talked to the men. He asked them what they wanted and no one knew. Taylor had no plan at all. The whole thing was senseless. He never had any real terms.

"They just set out to stretch out the thing as long as they could. It made no difference to them if anybody survived."

The 106 prisoners in the three buildings of the "10 North" unit include homosexuals and "aggressive personalities."

★ ★ ★

They tore up furniture, medical cabinets and anything they could put their hands on to form barricades.

Warden Settle, Warden S. Chet Taylor from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., Myrl E. Alexander, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons from Washington, and Noah Alldredge, captain of guards at the hospital, worked out a plan of attack.

★ ★ ★

They decided, in Alldredge's words, that the hostages "were expendable." In addition to Appleby, they were guards Robert Rosendahl, 38; William L. Fitch, 45; Charles R. Allen, 48, and Melvin C. Jung, 57.

They borrowed 100 gas masks from the Army at Ft. Leonard Wood.

One hundred picked men from hospital and Leavenworth guards put on the masks and armed themselves with clubs made of baseball bats, hammer handles and two-foot lengths of one-inch pipe.

★ ★ ★

At 12:55 Tuesday afternoon they moved into "10 North" in five squads, hurling tear gas grenades. A bulldozer ripped bars from a window as a diversionary move.

Appleby and two other hostages crawled under a bed seeking protection from the gas.

"I thought I would die," said Appleby. "I had to get outside in a hurry. Some old boy grabbed me and helped me out."

★ ★ ★

"The inmates and the guards were really battling. We waded right into that melee and got through all right."

That was the way federal prison guards broke up 16 hours of rioting by 106 psychopathic prisoners.

One hostage, Rosendahl, was cut about the head when homemade knives started flicking as the seige forces moved in.

Many a prisoner went back to his cell with bloody head. An undisclosed number went to the infirmary with injuries.

Friends congratulated Leonard Appleby.

His lips quivered. He blinked his eyes.

"I didn't want to die," he said. "I didn't want to go out in that manner. We all prayed."

Legislators Propose Hike in Own Wages

Enterprise Oil and Gas Co. of Detroit in canceling its contract for fuel to state institutions was the first instance of its kind.

No immediate hardship was expected because of the warm weather, he said.

BOTH EXPECTED

The expected receipts from tax on a large inheritance and through a transfer from the state escheats fund, will be in addition to other regular revenues trickling in. Neither was unexpected.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said the State Administrative Board will meet soon to decide which of the state's creditors will get the money.

Michigan State University and the University of Michigan both need state help to meet month end payrolls and have priority claims.

Brown said a check for $2,908,882 is expected today or tomorrow from tax on the estate of Evelyn Mendlesohn in Wayne County.

Technically, it will go into the state primary school interest fund. However, the Ad Board has some discretion as to the use to be made of the money since no disbursements are due from this fund until fall.

The $1,500,000 transfer from the escheats fund will represent an annual transfer from that source, a repository for unclaimed sums that after a seven-year waiting period revert to the state.

GOP MIGHT EASE UP

For the last week, there have been whispers in the Senate that once budget bills were cleared out of the way majority Republicans might relax their position on the veterans trust fund and allow its resources to be converted to cash and dumped into the treasury.

Estimated cash value of the 50 million dollars in securities recently was put at 45 million dollars by Brown.

Showers Splash South in Wake of Texas Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered showers and thundershowers splashed wide areas of the South today from Texas to Georgia and South Carolina.

The stormy weather was triggered by a collision of cooler air in the North with warm moist air in the South.

★ ★ ★

A few showers continued in storm-plagued Texas where downpours of nearly eight inches Tuesday caused a train wreck, disrupted traffic and damaged crops.

A tornado touched down a mile north of Jacksonville in East Texas damaging a barn and the roof of a house.

An embankment crumbled near Bowie, Tex., and 5 of 12 cars of a Fort Worth & Denver passenger train toppled into the mud. Three passengers were injured.

★ ★ ★

A cloudburst washed out two railroad bridges at Valley View, damaging crops and roads. The region, 10 miles south of Gainesville, had up to 7.82 inches of rain.

Skies were fair in the Southeast and fair to partly cloudy in much of the Midwest.

Temperatures zoomed to 117 degrees Tuesday in the desert regions of Southern California and Arizona. Needles, Calif., had an early morning reading today of 104.

READY FOR WORK — Although it will be for only a term of six months—believed unprecedented in Michigan's judicial history—Oakland County Circuit Judge Theodore F. Hughes (right) is ready to go to work when his term begins July 1. Starting him off with a handful of cases, in his new courtroom in the basement of the Courthouse, is C. Richard Smith, assignment clerk for Circuit Court.

Pontiac Press Photo

Judge-Elect Hughes Set for Unique Short Term

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Little did former state representative Theodore F. Hughes realize when he introduced a bill last year to add a fifth Circuit Court judge for Oakland County that he would be it—for a brief time, at least.

Now the silver-haired Berkley attorney feels like a visiting judge, or "like a pitcher who tries to last nine innings but gets yanked after three."

As far as the history books are concerned, Hughes will undoubtedly go down in the annals of Michigan's judicial history as the only circuit judge to be elected for six months, regular circuit judge terms are for six years.

Hughes doesn't relish this dubious honor. However, he's going into his term with an attitude of learning all he can.

The 51-year-old former Republican state representative sets out upon this strange endeavor at 9 a.m. July 1. He will be forced to step down from the bench Dec. 31 to make room for the fifth Oakland judge elected for the six years, which begins officially the next day.

★ ★ ★

Coincidentally, Hughes himself sponsored the bill in Lansing during his last term to add the new judge. But he is quick to tell you that he had nothing to do with the precedent-setting short-term rider which starts the new jurist six months earlier than usual.

RIDER NEEDED

"This rather peculiar arrangement came about when Democratic Oakland legislators said they could guarantee Gov. Williams' signature on my bill with the short-term amendment added," Hughes recalls.

So it happened. Four Republicans pitched in with the two Democrats to successfully steer the Governor's signature across the bill April 14, 1958. Williams favored putting the new judge to work immediately in a county which has the largest case load per judge.

The year before Williams vetoed a similar bill calling for a fifth judge. Republican legislators claimed he wanted to appoint a Democratic judge, instead of facing the strong possibility that a Republican would be elected in the predominant GOP county.

★ ★ ★

With Hughes donning the robes a week from today this load will be cut by one-fifth, according to C. Richard Smith, who is responsible for assigning the hundreds of cases to circuit judges.

Smith thumbed through 1,139 pending cases, took every fifth one, and came up with 153 to keep Hughes busy.

FINISHING TOUCHES

While Hughes has been briefing some of these cases upstairs in the Law Library of the Courthouse, downstairs county workers are putting the finishing touches on the fifth courtroom. It is located on the south side of the basement near Judge Clark J. Adams' court.

★ ★ ★

Hughes' pink carpeted, air-conditioned court—the only one of its kind in the Courthouse—consists of a 28-seat courtroom, a judge's chambers, and a court stenographer's office for Miss Lorraine Bruzdewicz, formerly with the Prosecutor's Office. Also included is an office for Judge Hughes' secretary, Mrs. Emma Coad, for 13 years secretary to former Circuit Judge Glenn C. Gillespie before he was fatally injured in an auto accident in March.

Scheduled to be Judge Hughes' court clerk is L. Philip Zimmerman, now a clerk in the County Clerk's Office.

Once city attorney and supervisor for Berkley, he said he plans to return to his law practice after he leaves the bench. He said at this time he doesn't plan to run for the bench again in the next judicial election in 1960.

Hughes confided he would "much rather" be a state representative.

After representing the county's Fourth District for four years, he declined to seek a third term last year in favor of being a candidate for county clerk. He gave up this idea when this office was merged with the Register of Deeds Office.

Another unique feature of Hughes' "lame duck" judicial term is that the newly-elected judge who succeeds him—either Stanton G. Dondero or Frederick C. Ziem—will be finishing up whatever cases started by Hughes.

Describing himself as a liberal and believing judgeships should not be "political plums," Hughes looks forward to being judge as affording him an opportunity of completed the three-cycles of good government — executive, legislative and judicial.

He'll begin his new work in a week realizing he can't continue on because he wasn't nominated in the primary for one of the regular six year terms.

★ ★ ★

"He'll just nicely get started when he'll have to quit," said Judge Frank L. Doty who will be leaving the bench the same time as Hughes after 32 years.

Muskegon Woman Hurt in Norway Fire

VOSSESTRAND, Norway (UPI) — A Michigan woman was among the injured in the resort fire which killed 24 persons yesterday.

Red Cross officials said Mrs. Alma Neumeister of Muskegon was not hurt seriously in the tragic fire at the Stalheim Hotel.

Mrs. Neumeister, 64, was on a tour of Norway and other Scandanavian countries. She was the widow of Fritz Neumeister who operated an office supply firm at Muskegon.

A Detroit man and his daughter were scheduled to be at the Hotel yesterday.

H. Ford Moffat and his daughter, Miss Katherine C. Moffat were not listed by the Red Cross as among those dead, injured or missing. Neighbors at their Detroit apartment said they left June 1 on a two-month vacation.

Mrs. Roush, Clarkson and Armstrong Given 4-Year Board Terms

Three members of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees have been reappointed to four-year terms by the City Commission.

Reappointed last night were James Clarkson, board chairman; Mrs. B. B. Roush, board secretary, and Robert A. Armstrong, a trustee. Their new terms begin July 1.

Clarkson, executive vice president of Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn., has been a board member three years and chairman since last August.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roush, a school teacher, has been on the board since it was formed in 1952.

She was secretary in 1952-56 and again since last fall. In 1957-58, Mrs. Roush was vice chairman of the board.

Armstrong, a retired manufacturing executive, was first appointed to the board last fall to fill a vacancy.

He was executive vice president of Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon and once was general parts and service manager at Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

James C. Hagerty Rests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty rested at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center today following removal of an acutely inflamed appendix Monday.

Will Be Ridiculous

ANAMOSA, Iowa (UPI) — Friday and Saturday have been designated "ridiculous days" in Anamosa. The Chamber of Commerce, which named them, said they'll be devoted to "ridiculous" bargains in all stores.

Gets Revolving Kiss

NEW YORK (UPI) — Miss Monserate Roman, 27, told police a man jumped into a revolving door subway turnstile with her last night, and took $6 from her purse, kissed her, and escaped by train.

Archeologists working on the Dead Sea Scrolls have explored 11 scroll-bearing caves near the Qumran ruins in Jordan. Manuscripts and fragments examined to date comprise some 600 different works, including every Old Testament book except Esther.

Queen Meets Ike on Friday

French Quebec Hails Her Majesty

By RELMAN MORIN

QUEBEC (AP)—It was a big, busy, glittering, heart-warming day in Quebec for Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

And Quebec's French-speaking citizens are still thrilled today after the royal couple's visit to the charming old capital of French Canada.

Standing upright in a jeep and holding a guardrail, Elizabeth inspected an infantry regiment of which she is colonel in chief.

Aboard the Britannia the royal couple received over 400 newsmen and photographers who are covering their tour of Canada and then stood chatting easily like a host and hostess at any cocktail party.

The Queen and Philip were guests at a state dinner which will be remembered as one of the most brilliant pageants in the long history of this ancient city.

In a jam-packed program that lasted 13 hours—from morning until nearly midnight—Elizabeth and Philip touched off an explosion of excitement and acclaim that filled the streets with cheering crowds.

★ ★ ★

It was the biggest day so far of their Canadian trip, now nearly one week along.

They sailed along the St. Lawrence today for Trois Rivigres and Montreal. The meeting with President Eisenhower and the formal opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway comes Friday.

At the reception aboard the yacht, Philip candidly discussed stories that he has been rough on photographers.

★ ★ ★

"I have a reputation for being nasty to photographers," he said. "I am bloody nasty to a photographer who pokes a long lens through the keyhole into my private life. I'll never be rude to a photographer who is doing his job, but I will be if my privacy is invaded."

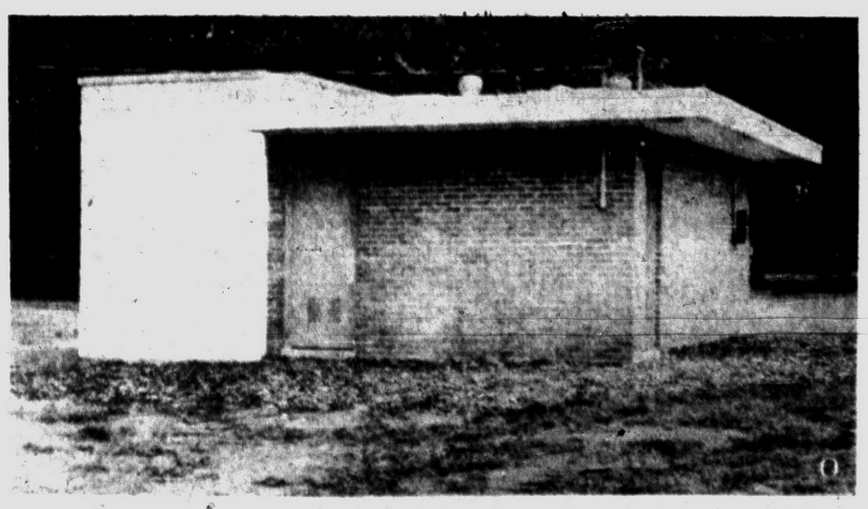

★ ★ ★

The Queen has an electric personality, quite different from her cautiously decorous public appearance. Her blue eyes light up. She is vivacious. She smiles frequently and her speaking voice—which has been criticized in Britain as "schoolgirlish" — becomes crisply incisive.

★ ★ ★

In a word she is charming.

Philip, despite his recent bad press, was completely at ease in a circle of reporters and photographers who asked him for his side of various incidents. His sense of humor is well known, and he was in fine form on the yacht. He talked, laughed, cracked jokes, told stories and seemed to be enjoying himself hugely.

OPEN NEW PARK SHELTER — Open to the public now at Jaycee Park is this $6,000 comfort station, financed two-thirds by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and one-third by the city. The shelter also has a handball court at the rear and space to store park equipment. In the past five years, Jaycees have spent $10,000 to improve the park on Walton boulevard at Joslyn avenue.

The Day in Birmingham

One Brother Is Arraigned, Charge Studied on Other

BIRMINGHAM — Arraigned yesterday before West Bloomfield Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle was Richard Eastham, 19, one of two brothers accused of last week's holdup of a Pontiac man in Bloomfield Township.

Richard, of 474 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, was arraigned on an armed robbery charge and waived examination. He was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment there June 29.

★ ★ ★

At that time he will plead either guilty or not guilty and will select trial by judge or by jury.

A decision was to be reached this morning by Bloomfield Township and Pontiac Police on the charge to be placed against David Eastham, 24, of the same Oakland avenue address.

Alternative charges are kidnaping, armed robbery or both. It was the opinion of Bloomfield Township Police Chief Norman Dehnke that the double charge would be levied against David Eastham.

The brothers are accused of the abduction and armed holdup of John R. McAlevy, 29, of the Roosevelt Hotel, Pontiac. The robbery occurred during the early morning hours of June 17.

"Michigan's Financial Crisis" will be the topic of debate when Farrell Roberts, Republican, and James Clarkson, Democrat, both members of the Michigan House of Representatives, are guests of the Oakland County Young Republicans Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Republican Headquarters, 351 N. Woodward Ave.

Serving as moderator will be Donald Brown, attorney. Brown is a former Michigan legislator and was Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in the 1958 election.

★ ★ ★

Roberts was first elected state legislator in 1956 and is now serving his second term. In 1952, he was appointed assistant prosecutor of Oakland County, and is chairman of the House Labor Committee.

★ ★ ★

Clarkson is serving his first term in the House. He also serves on the Southfield City Board of Health and on the Child Guidance Committee of Oakland County.

All interested persons are invited.

Youth Assistance Program Launched

executive director of the Big Brothers of Oakland County; and Mrs. Mildred Bennett, executive director of the American Red Cross, Oakland County Chapter.

★ ★ ★

Also Ora Hinkley, supervisor of the Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid; Madeleine Half, director, Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic; Sgt. Henry Hoyt, Pontiac Police juvenile officer; Paul Allison, director of child accounting, Pontiac Public Schools; Mrs. Fern Perrin, director, Pontiac City Visiting Teacher Department and William Wright, director of Special Education, Pontiac Public Schools.

Under the proposed program, the case work team is to investigate any child brought before it, voluntarily, because of physical, mental, emotional or moral reasons.

It will be up to the experts to find a solution, or a partial solution, to the child's problem with the help of the many social agencies represented on the committee.

It was believed that such a committee, operating privately at Pontiac City Hall, would be easily available to anyone worried about the welfare of any Pontiac child.

★ ★ ★

The program should be able to strengthen and improve home, family and community living conditions, said Judge Moore, at the same time assisting in the prevention of delinquency and child neglect.

Henri Nosco, nationally-known orchestral conductor and violinist, will open a summer workshop at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music, 424 Pierce St.

Scheduled to begin early in July, classes will consist of orchestral and chamber music ensembles. Registrations are being accepted at the Conservatory now.

★ ★ ★

Nosco is the conductor of the Scandinavian and South Oakland Symphony orchestras. Formerly he was concert master of the Detroit Symphony and NBC staff conductor under Arturo Toscanini.

DR. WALTER H. OBENAUF

Hospital Gets Medical Head

Dr. Obenauf to Direct Pontiac State Staff Starting July 20

Appointment of Dr. Walter H. Obenauf as new medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital was announced today by Dr. Charles F. Wagg, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Obenauf, 52, is currently assistant superintendent of Ypsilanti State Hospital.

He will take over his new duties July 20, Dr. Wagg said. He replaces Dr. Ivan A. LaCore who resigned last December as superintendent to enter private practice.

Since 1948 Dr. Obenauf has been on the staff of Ypsilanti State Hospital. In March of that year he became a resident of psychiatry there. Two years later he was named director of the hospital's Outpatient Clinic, a position he held until September 1953 when he was named assistant superintendent.

★ ★ ★

A native of Muskegon County, Dr. Obenauf is married and the father of three daughters, two married and one attending Butler University.

★ ★ ★

After his graduation from Michigan State University in 1935, the doctor went on to the Albany Medical College in New York. In May 1947 he received his degree in medicine.

Soon after the graduation, Dr. Obenauf interned for a year at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing.

Dr. Obenauf is a fellow of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, a member of many medical and psychiatric organizations, and in recent years has held important offices in the American Psychiatric Assn.

★ ★ ★

He is currently president of the Michigan Society of Neurology and Psychiatry.

The Signal Corps of the U.S. Army was organized in 1860 and later became a part of the weather bureau. It was reorganized in 1891.

Warren Crash Kills Center Line Man

DETROIT (AP)— Francis Peters, 41, of Center Line was killed last night when two cars collided head-on in suburban Warren.

Peters was riding in a car driven by Mrs. Gimma Meinke, 31, of Warren, who was held later on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Police said Mrs. Meinke's car veered into the opposite lane on 11 Mile road and ran into an auto driven by Frank R. Cohen, 41, of Huntington Woods.

Mrs. Meinke and Cohen suffered minor injuries.

Detroit Schools Name Woman Athletic Director

DETROIT (UPI)—A 36-year-old woman has been appointed athletic director of the Detroit public high schools' City League despite outcries by the city's male coaches and some parents.

Miss Betty J. Smith was made the league's first woman head in history yesterday when the school board approved her appointment in routine fashion at its monthly meeting.

In addition, the board named Harry R. Collins, football coach at Eastern High School, Miss Smith's assistant.

★ ★ ★

Appointment of Miss Smith was opposed by the Eastern Parents Club, which circulated a petition demanding the job be given to Collins, a member of the City League athletic system for 17 years.

Miss Smith's boss the last three years at Mackenzie High School where she was a physical education teacher, Frank Hojnacki, also came out against her appointment.

★ ★ ★

"We feel it's traditionally a man's job," he said.

Miss Smith, who has been in the public school system 13 years, won the job through a point system and a league-wide competitive test.

Twin Moppets Like to Romp as Night Owls

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—Twins Mickey and Rickey Clausen, aged 33 months, were out on the town again Tuesday morning at 3 a. m.

They climbed a hobby horse to unfasten a chain lock their father, Donald, had bolted 5½ feet up on the front door.

★ ★ ★

Their toddling aroused a dog, whose barking woke Catherine Ryal, a neighbor. She snagged one twin crossing her lawn, appeased him with milk and crackers in her kitchen while she called the cops.

As one officer drove up to get him, another appeared in another squad car with the other boy, taken into custody as he stood sucking his thumb at a street corner.

They rang the first bell where the front door was open.

"The minute I heard the bell I knew what it was all about," said their mother, Helen, 23. "They've done it before."

Invasion Force Said Wiped Out

Report 600 Stormed the Dominican Republic Last Week in Vain Try

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Trujillo government claims it has wiped out a Cuban-supported invasion force near the Dominican Republic's north coast and killed its leader.

An announcement said Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, 68, who has ruled this coutry for 29 years, directed land, air and sea operations against the invaders last week in the Constanza area 180 miles northwest of Ciudad Trujillo.

It was the first official confirmation of reports from Dominican exiles in Cuba and Venezuela that an invasion force had landed last week. But the versions of the government and the exiles differed widely.

The government announcement said Capt. Enrique Jimenez Moya, described by the exiles as the expedition leader, was killed as he tried to escape. It identified six other bodies among the rebel dead, but did not list the total casualties or the size of the invasion force.

Reliable informants in the Haitian capital of Port-au-Prince said the landing was made Saturday by a force of about 600. They said Dominican forces apparently gained the upper hand after 48 hours of bloody fighting.

Rebel sources in Havana discounted Dominican reports that Trujillo's forces had killed Jimenez Moya and other rebel leaders. They said that, with the exception of Jimenez Moya, none of those reported dead were in the Constanza area.

Says Woman Lured Him to Theft Site

A 59-year-old Waterford Township barber reported to Pontiac police that a bandit robbed him of his wallet containing $200 after he had been lured to a home on Rapid street by the thief's woman accomplice.

Thomas Toler, 3806 Beech Grove St., Waterford Township, said he and the woman had been drinking in the Rapid street home.

★ ★ ★

As he entered his car to leave, the bandit approached and grabbed him by the collar. "Don't holler or I'll kill you," he told Toler.

Toler gave his wallet to the bandit who fled with the woman.

Covered Wagons Scene of 20th Century Nuptial

KEMMERER, Wyo. (AP)—In a setting reminiscent of 100 years ago, Judith Day Roudebaugh, 18, and Thomes A. Hollaman, 21, both of Drain, Ore., were married Tuesday in a circle of covered wagons.

★ ★ ★

The background was formed by prairie schooners of the Oregon Cavalcade, presently retracing the old Oregon Trail between Independence, Mo., and Independence, Ore., in celebration of Oregon's centennial.

★ ★ ★

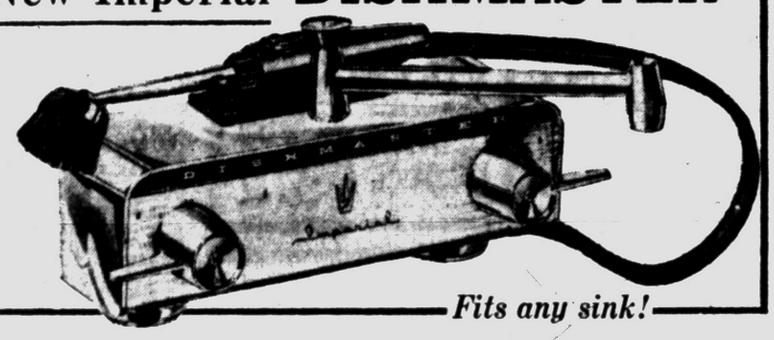

The ceremony, with the principals attired in pioneer clothes, took place at the Oregon Trail monument in Kemmerer's Triangle Park. The Rev. R. F. Meier, pastor of Kemmerer Methodist Church, officiated.

Hal Boyle Says:

Voice of Experience Gives Tips on Tipping

NEW YORK (AP)—Many people who go abroad say their trip is ruined because they don't know how to tip properly.

"I don't want to slight anybody," they often say. "But I do want to come home solvent."

Of course, with an attitude like that they are bound to get off on the wrong foot. Anybody whose primary interest is personal solvency has no business going aboard. He should stay home and hire a small trustworthy Boy Scout to count his money for him.

★ ★ ★

But tipping shouldn't be an ordeal. Once you get the hang of it, it even can become exciting.

The first problem, naturally, is whom to tip. In general the rule is the same in Europe as in the United States—you tip everybody who speaks to you and isn't a close relative.

There are certain exceptions, however, and nothing is more embarrassing than to tip the wrong persons.

Fortunately for the beginning traveler's peace of mind the exceptions are easy to learn.

In Britain you tip everything except museum statues and members of the Buckingham Palace Guard.

In France you tip museum statues but you don't tip Brigitte Bardot, members of the French Academy or gendarmes in the process of making an arrest—as they already have their hands full.

In Switzerland you tip everything that comes near you but doesn't have a bell around its neck or say "moo."

★ ★ ★

In Germany you tip everything that says "ja," which is pronounced "yah.' If someone says "yeh,' don't bother to tip him. He is probably an American soldier in civilian dress.

★ ★ ★

In Italy there are no exceptions. You tip everything that moves.

The safe rule in all countries is to tip every hand you see that is stretched toward you palm upward. Recently in Paris a tourist held his palm out to see if it was raining, and before he could get it back in his pocket other U. S. tourists, mistaking him for a native, had dropped $8.12 in it. His take even included a Canadian dime.

★ ★ ★

The next question is, "How much should you tip" The answer here depends on another question: "How much have you got:"

It is wrong and unfair to think every European is out to rob you, or that he regards every American as a millionaire.

★ ★ ★

He is more likely to regard you as a human slot machine. He is reasonable. He doesn't expect to hit the jackpot every time he plays a slot machine. Half of what he thinks you have will generally satisfy him.

The thing to do is to buy a dozen cheap, shabby wallets and divide among them equally all the tipping money you can afford for that day.

When it becomes necessary to tip anyone, you simply fish out one of the wallets and hand it over to the person you are tipping. He will go through it carefully, take out exactly half, then smile and hand the wallet back to you.

★ ★ ★

If you put a photo of your dear old gray-haired mother in the wallet, he may even only take a fourth.

The tip he gets may be either more or less than he expected, but in any case he will be satisfied. He will think you're a game sport about the whole matter.

★ ★ ★

Starkweather Slated to Die Tomorrow

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Charles Starkweather, 20-year-old confessed slayer of 11 persons, is scheduled to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary Thursday.

His execution will come shortly after midnight tonight—unless it is again stayed for more court action.

The fifth death date for the red-haired killer was set Tuesday by the State Supreme Court after formal notice that the U.S. Supreme Court had declined to review the case was received.

Guy Starkweather, father of Charles, said he would file in District Court in Lincoln today for a writ of coram nobia, alleging illegal detainment, and asking a stay of execution.

Marilyn Fine; Surgery Dubbed as 'Corrective'

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Marilyn Monroe was reported in excellent condition today after an operation. She is expected to leave the hospital Friday.

The nature of the operation was not disclosed. The surgeon was a gynecologist, Dr. Mortimer Rodgers.

He said "there was no evidence of pregnancy. She had not been feeling well for a couple of days prior to coming in here."

Her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, said the surgery was of a corrective nature.

Miller and Marilyn both have expressed a desire to have children. She has had two miscarriages since their marriage.

Old Law Cited, Motel Required to Feed Horse

SEATTLE (UPI) — Jeff Perry was a bit taken aback when Fred K. Polinder, a Lynden, Wash. dairyman, reined up his Clydesdale in front of Perry's motel and demanded free oats for his horse.

Before Perry could protest, Polinder, who had previously registered at the motel, produced the yellowed copy of a city ordinance which said an "innkeeper" was required to supply oats to horses in his keeping.

Perry's mouth was still open when Deputy Sheriff Walter R. Powell appeared on the scene, astride a palomino quarterhorse. The butt of a pistol protruded menacingly from Powell's holster.

"I'm here in behalf of neglected horseflesh," said the deputy.

"Barney," the Clydesdale, got a pailful of oats from Perry a few minutes later when the motel keeper discovered the whole thing was a gag to advertise a milk fund ball. Barney was hitched to an old-fashioned milk wagon.

Some Steelworkers Return at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Open hearth workers continued a strike today at the big Pittsburgh works of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. but removal of picket lines permitted other employes to return to their jobs.

★ ★ ★

Fellow United Steelworkers began going back Tuesday afternoon when picketing ended.

The Pittsburgh works, comprising the South Side and Hazelwood plants, employs a total of 12,000 production workers. About 2,000 of these work in th open hearth department in the South Side plant.

★ ★ ★

Open hearth employes struck Sunday night, claiming the company had reduced incentive pay rates nearly 10 per cent without notifying the union. J. & L. said the work stoppage was a wildcat strike and violated the contract.

Gets Life Sentence for Assault on Girl

CHICAGO (AP)— A 24-year-old Negro has been sentenced to life imprisonment, the maximum permitted under state law, for raping a 19-year-old white girl.

Judge Harold P. O'Connell of Criminal Court formally imposed the sentence Tuesday on Norman Hill, of suburban Evanston. Hill was convicted May 1 by a jury which set the sentence. He will be eligible for parole in about 12 years.

Canadian Imports Up 4.4 Pct. for 1st 3 Months

OTTAWA (AP)— Canadian imports in the first three months of 1959 rose 4.4 per cent in value in the corresponding period last year.

The Bureau of Statistics said today that final figures for the period showed that purchases in the United States increased 4 per cent to $891,400,000.

However, imports from Britain declined 6 per cent to $108,900,000. A sharp increase in imports of automobiles was more than offset by declines in the shipment of iron and steel products, aircraft parts and textiles.

Reveal Escape Quickly

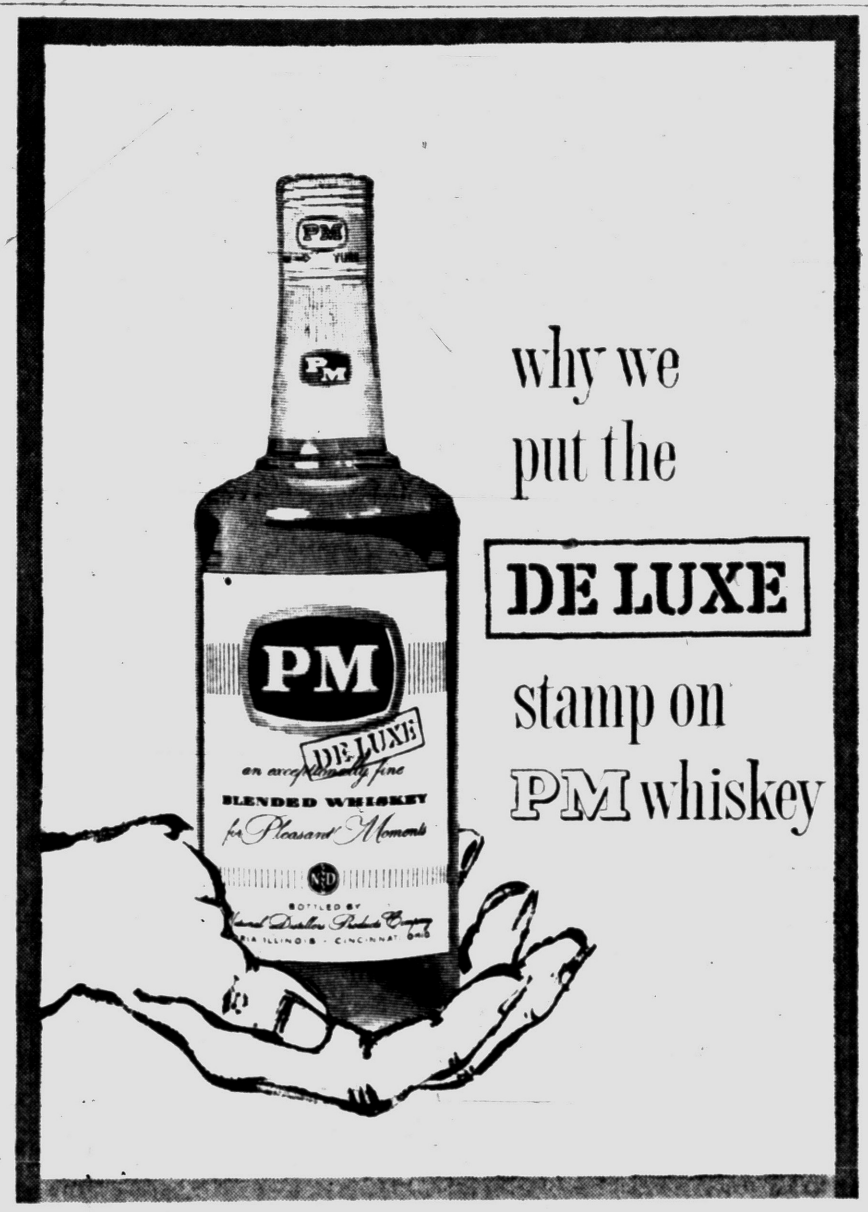

FOX LAKE, Wis. (AP) — It didn't take long to discover that Louis Alvin Johnson had escaped from a state prison farm near here.

There were howls from about 30 hungry prisoners. Johnson was the cook and breakfast wasn't ready.

Finder of Literature That's Obscene Is Paid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — A unique feature of Illinois law pertaining to the possession of obscene literature is that half the fine goes to the person who gives evidence of a violation.

Another section of Illinois law calls for a fine of up to $200 for showing a hanging in a movie.

why we put the DE LUXE stamp on PM whiskey

Due to recent refinements in blending methods, today's PM is now so fine—it's stamped de luxe. "De Luxe" means extra in a luxurious way. Not just smooth, but extra smooth, velvety smooth — not just full flavored—but with an extra pleasant bouquet. Taste how completely today's PM deserves the "de luxe" stamp.

The standard of the world in Value

When you take your first journey in a 1959 Cadillac, you will be amazed at how much more value is received for so little additional investment. For no other motor car returns such generous dividends in luxury . . . convenience . . . and satisfaction. And, as the seasons pass, there is still another wonderful fact: a Cadillac, year after year, returns a higher percentage of its cost on the resale market than any other motor car. Auto Industry Boost Good News for Area

Good news for Michigan and this immediate area comes from Ward's Automotive Reports which shows the auto industry making great strides.

United States new car dealers turned in the finest June opening sales performance since 1955 and the best first 10-day score for any month since April 1956.

Pontiac Motor is well out in front in the medium price field of all manufacturers and is only topped by Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth in the low priced field. This is a splendid tribute to Semon E. Knudsen, General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

Sales of U.S. built new cars from January through May this year have advanced 29.2 per cent beyond corresponding 1958. During the first five months of 1959 dealers sold 2,356,280 units. By the end of May last year the sales had failed to reach the two million mark.

★ ★ ★

Statistics on Pontiac car buyers show the most popular accessories ordered are automatic transmissions and heater defrosters, which are being installed in 98 per cent of all new Pontiacs.

Back-up lamps go into 92 per cent of the cars; radios, 91 per cent, white wall tires, 81 per cent; power steering, 72 per cent, and power brakes, 67 per cent. Figures such as these prove that the public likes luxury in its cars and that it is past the stage of fad.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac plant last week was on a six day operation with production scheduled at 11,000 units, the third highest output of the year.

Evidence of Dictatorship in Argentina Again

ARTURO FRONDIZI'S government is in a peck of trouble. The President has been asked to resign and the armed forces seem to be in control. All of the circumstances and contributing factors have not emerged from the Argentine capital, but there's trouble a-foot.

★ ★ ★

Arturo Frondizi was the head of a country that Peron and Eva had placed on the skids and the rocks. As dictators, they had ruled with iron fists and military supremacy. They gave the people everything in sight and bankrupted the country almost to the point of an economic zero.

★ ★ ★

FRONDIZI went in to replace the dictator and the financial problems he found would have wrecked a Croesus. As he fought to overcome the harm and damage done by the the PERONS, the military became increasingly stronger and increasingly assertive.

★ ★ ★

Frondizi is charged with having let Peron's henchmen creep back into the fold and entrench themselves in governmental affairs. Also, he is charged with lax methods in dealing with known Communists who have been struggling to foment disorder and discontent in Argentina.

★ ★ ★

Surely it looks for the moment as though a dictatorship of sorts were back in the saddle. The outcome is still conjecture.

Egypt Learns Lesson in Soviet Barter Deals

From now on, says the Egyptian Government, cotton will not be bartered but sold on the world market.

Back in 1955 Premier Nasser chose to mortgage cotton crops in barter deals with Communist bloc nations. These, of course, have not turned out to the benefit of Egypt.

★ ★ ★

The Communists callously destroyed Egypt's cotton market by reselling Egyptian long staple cotton at cut rate prices in the same European markets which Egypt long had called her own. There is little demand now for any cotton by which Egypt could get free currencies. More and more Cairo has been forced to trade with the Communists at ruinous prices.

★ ★ ★

In the hope of recapturing traditional markets, President Nasser announces that anyone paying with Western currencies will be given a discount. This way Egypt hopes to build up foreign exchange with which to purchase goods in Western markets, and be less dependent on Communist deals.

That Is What New County Directory Asks Us to Do

Wolf: What some families cannot keep from their door, so they take him in and let him marry her.

The 1959-1960 Oakland County Directory, issued by Clerk-Register

is ready for distribution. Your copy can be obtained without charge by contacting his office.

Besides the list of national, state, county, city, village and township officers comprising several hundred names, it has much valuable local information. The cover shows a typical Oakland County scene.

It predicts that next year's census will show a gain of a quarter million in population over the 396,001 figure of 1950, and that practically all of this will be in the so-called rural districts.

The book asks the people of our county to get a better understanding of the great area in which they live, which surely will cause them to get "braggier" about it.

David Lawrence Says:

Red China Fears Harriman, Truth

WASHINGTON — Why has the government of Red China just refused a visa to former New York Governor Harriman to enter that country as a news correspondent? Certainly a visit by so distinguished a personality would have produced writings that would have attracted world wide attention. The only conclusion that can be reached is that the Communists are afraid of the truth. They cannot afford to have widespread publicity given to their economic failures.

LAWRENCE

Authoritative information on the food situation inside Red China has been leaking out lately. Perhaps the most significant report comes from former Senator Alexander H. Smith of New Jersey, who recently completed a visit to various Asian countries as a special consultant to the secretary of state. He writes in a personal report to the State Department:

"Our stop in Hong Kong en route to Formosa was most fruitful in giving us an objective picture of mainland China. We maintain a consulate general in Hong Kong with a large well-trained staff which acts as a listening post reflecting the internal Chinese situation. When we arrived there our new consul general, Mr. John Steeves, had not yet arrived, but we were well taken care of by Mr. Thomas Dillon, the acting consul general.

"My principal observations from the objective Hong Kong standpoint after talking both to members of our staff and with the governor general are that, so far as our people are concerned, they were unanimous in their feeling that our recognition of Communist China at this time would have an unfortunate impact on free Asia and anti-Communist Chinese.

"Most of the smaller countries in southeast Asia are looking to U.S. leadership with regard to Communist recognition. They are aware that after nine years of recognition the British even today are not permitted to have an ambassador on the China mainland. Furthermore if we recognized Red China, their terms of recognition would include requiring us to get out of Taiwan and out of the Pacific entirely.

"In the judgment of our staff, trade with Red China would really be a myth because the Communists are definitely oriented to trading with other members of the Communist bloc and they only trade with the Western nations when it suits their political purpose to do so. Their program is to increase their own economic potential and this is done at the sacrifice and cost of the individual slaves of the ruthless Communist control.

"Our staff people feel that the claims of the Chinese Communists of a real economic 'leap forward' are very much overrated. The stepped-up economic drive and the establishment of the new drastic commune system are simply attempts to get the people to work harder for the benefit of the Communist objectives, and not to raise living standards. Their claims of increased economic and agricultural production are vastly inflated. They claim a labor shortage but this is due to the fact that they are using the masses by compulsory slave driving.

"Our staff feels that the people are made to work so hard that a backfire may ultimately set in. In spite of these difficulties, however, substantial economic progress may be expected."

Sen. Smith comments also on the sensational effects of the revolution in Tibet on Asian peoples. He adds:

"Certainly the events during the last year have justified the Eisenhower-Dulles policy of non-recognition of Red China and of opposing the entry of Red China in the United Nations. Furthermore, these events have justified the U.S. position in supporting the nationalist government and in making clear our attitude with regard to the defense of Formosa and the offshore islands.

"Our long-range policy looking forward to permanent world peace must be a policy in support of an ultimately free China—the key to a free Asia. As I have stated before, this does not suggest war as a means to accomplish these objectives.

"But with the passing events, the people of the mainland of China are beginning to see the hideous threat of communism and the danger of the domination of Asia and the world by communism."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Type of Sprain Decides Kind of Treatment Needed

A sprain is an injury to a joint resulting from a forcible movement which exceeds the normal range. It may be produced by a misstep which turns or twists the ankle, or by a blow or fall. This results in stretching of tendons and tendon sheaths, pinching or nipping of synovial fringes (joint linings) or rupture or tear of ligaments or tear or dislocation of joint cartilages.

DR. BRADY

In many cases there is separation of small fragments of bone with ruptured ligaments. This makes no particular difference in the treatment.

Army surgeons in Korea learned that immediate injection of local anesthetic into the painful or most tender point or points about the joint, the application of adhesive plaster or a tightly laced shoe to support the ankle and, then, immediate resumption of walking gave the best results.

For a mild sprain it is generally better to walk it off.

For more severe sprain with much swelling and pain, splint the ankle and have X-ray examination for possible fracture.

★ ★ ★

Rupture of ligaments is indicated by abnormal mobility of the ankle in any direction. This calls for retention of the ankle in splints for three weeks.

If disability persists, plunge the ankle in hot water, bake it or apply diathermy for 10 or 15 minutes daily, and apply gentle massage.

QUESTIONS BOX

"I just want to tell you how grateful I am for the super milkshake you recommended for youngsters and grownups in place of "pop." Our children, 6 to 14, go for it every time—they say it beats all the bottled beverages. But more important is their very evident increase in vite since we learned about the super milkshake. —(Mrs. H. L.)"

Ans.—There is a vast difference between the brief spurt of stimulation a growing child gets from "pop" and the real refreshment, energy and better nutrition — the child gets from such a complete food as super hydramin powder, taken in the form of a milk shake. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for instructions.

"I can't thank you enough for the excellent result from use of non-surgical drainage of the gallbladder, as instructed in your booklet.—(Mrs. B.W.L.)"

Ans. — Instructions in booklet So You Have Indigestion? for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Suggests New Tax Law to Solve Major Problems

The major problems confronting us are unemployment and a growing lack of confidence in government. Unemployment causes millions to live in sub-standard conditions and if inflation isn't curbed, millions more living on pensions and set incomes will be added to this list.

★ ★ ★

How many can be added before we reach a crisis remains to be seen. A substantial rise in production will result in only a meager drop in unemployment due to automation and the demand for higher production standards and bigger profits.

★ ★ ★

To remedy this we should change the income tax law to 20 per cent on the first $100,000 and 40 per cent above that amount. Excise and all federal taxes on products should be canceled. A ten per cent tax should be assessed on manufactured or processed costs of all products except food and medicine. There should be a $2,000 exemption in all cases.

★ ★ ★

This tax should be collected at local level by the county treasurer. One-tenth of one per cent should remain in the county for public improvements and welfare. In case of a deficit, bonds of $1,000 denomination paying five per cent interest should be sold by county treasurer. Laws necessary to put these measures into effect should have a definite termination date.

Another Teenager Seeks Activities

I'm another teenager who has nothing to do this summer. I live in a small town and work during the days. After work many of us end up driving seven or eight miles just to have some excitement.

★ ★ ★

We good teens really don't gripe much, but we worked hard in school all winter and we would like to have some activities close to our homes. Drive-in movies are okay but I'm tired of them. We try to be good and stay out of trouble, but how can some of us when there are no dances, teen clubs, etc? Can't our recreational department do something?

★ ★ ★

Thanks for letting a few of us spout off about how bored we are. Someone had to in order to get some action.

Praises Brandon Volunteer Firemen

People should know what a fine volunteer fire department Brandon Township has. Our fire broke out and the Brandon department was there in time to save our buildings right next to the barn. Their thoughtfulness during such an emotional and shocking experience is wonderful. Not one of our flower beds or anything was destroyed.

They were there practically all day and fought it hard and fast. They saved our house and other buildings, equipment, etc., when several times it looked like we were going to lose everything. The wind was terribly strong that day and we're very grateful for such a wonderful volunteer group and they have our respect.

Unwed Mother Gives Her Side

I'm a woman who had an illegitimate baby and I know why I made my mistake. It wasn't lack of knowledge on sex and birth, as I'm a nurse, and who would know more? I also would know how to end the predicament. No one can judge nor crucify nor even comment unless she's worn the shoes. I did wrong, but now I have a fine 1½-year-old son and many people ask how I've raised such a sweet, content, healthy, happy baby. No one knows what I went through to keep my baby.

★ ★ ★

Now my boy has a grand daddy and now we're awaiting a sister for him. I don't condone my mistake, but I can feel I did my best and gave him as much as any parent. My thanks go to those people who had faith in me and didn't run me down, yet didn't condone what I did.

★ ★ ★

If you have a young daughter or one dear to you who may slip, don't make excuses and don't tear her down. Just give her a strong hand but let her use the elbow grease. Kindness and discipline do wonders and remember, "To err is human, to forgive divine."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Women, Avoid Masculine Traits

Girls, beware of the serious mistake Alice is making. Because her father gloats over her masculine prowess, she is likely to alienate her chances of a good husband later on. For men want girls to remain feminine. They don't wish to kiss a half-male. Get hep. Send for the tests below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B - 469: Alice G., aged 12, is a pal of her daddy.

"I take her fishing with me," he proudly boasted, "and she is good at it, too.

DR. CRANE

"And during the about it ever season last year, I taught her to shoot.

"She killed three squirrels the first day and has been boasting since.

"What do you think of that, Dr. Crane?"

Well, I think Alice is probably handicapping herself in her chance for a husband.

★ ★ ★

For men do NOT relish masculine women. And the killing innocent creatures, whether rabbits and squirrels or deer, is regarded as a male characteristic.

Men expect the fair sex to be tender-hearted and sympathetic. They want their women to show a protective interest in babies, kittens and other infant creatures.

By the same token, they vaguely veer away from any woman who begins to affect mannish airs or adopt harsh male customs.

★ ★ ★

Oh, they don't object greatly to a girl's catching fish, for those cold blooded creatures don't elicit much sympathy and thus are not associated with feminine tenderness.

And they don't mind women archers or sharpshooters with a rifle, as long as the girls are shooting at inanimate objects such as a straw archery target or even a clay pigeon at a skeet contest.

But men vaguely feel a false note is struck when women relish or boast about shooting squirrels, quail or other small game. It makes them seem coarse and masculine.

"FEELING TONE"

In the realm of advertising, we talk about "feeling tone."

★ ★ ★

Thus, it is all right to speak of a "slender maiden" but to say "skinny maiden" violates "feeling tone." It strikes a false note.

For "maiden" is an elegant or poetical usage, whereas the adjective "skinny" suggests a sandlot baseball team of dirty kids.

It thus creates a false note with a jarring effect. It is bad "feeling tone" to mix sandlot slang with a poetical term and say "skinny maiden."

A lot of modern girls also need a good course in social "feeling tone" for women tend to follow any new fashion quite blindly.

★ ★ ★

And some of our fashions are decidedly masculine or coarse.

Furthermore, recent tests show that the average male in America does NOT like his sweetheart or wife to use profanity or vulgarity.

He himself may indulge, in such and even try to deprecate her superior speech and abhorrence of vulgarity, but he really doesn't want his woman to relinquish her superior ideals and social behavior.

Men tell risque stories and often shock their wives with a repetition thereof when they get home later at night, but they do not want their wives to repeat such lustful tales.

The modern man affects unconcern about whether women in general smoke or drink or adopt other masculine customs.

But he usually changes his tune about his own wife or sweetheart! Men seldom grow romantic about masculinized girls, and coarse speech, vulgarity, liquor and even cigarets, strike false notes.

If you think I am spoofing you, send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c (non-profit).

★ ★ ★

They are derived from thousands of engaged couples who were asked their frank opinions of their fiances, not of the opposite sex in general.

Big TV Comic Joey Bishop Had Small Start

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Joey Bishop was he smallest baby ever born in ordham Hospital, Bronx. Three ounds, fully diapered. But he's ery big now.

In fact Joey is so big, with fans f the "Jack Paar Show" and Keep Talking," that he can afford o sit down over scrambled eggs nd conduct a nice amiable press nterview without tossing in eight okes. This is the sign of a comic Who's arrived: He doesn't have to tell a guy he's funny; the guy tells him.

So here he sits, beyond the eggs, and tells how he came to be the nation's "brightest young comedain" (Jack Benny's words, not his), instead of a bicycle salesman in Philadelphia like his father.

"I tried it, but I didn't like selling bicycles. So I went to New York to live with an uncle. He got me into an amateur contest, and I lost. He then got me a job in a hat factory at $5 a week, and I left. Then I teamed up with two other guys to form a comedy act called the Bishop Brothers Trio.

★ ★ ★

"My real name was Gottlieb, and theirs were Reisman and Spector. We took the name Bishop because there was a kid in the neighborhood named Bishop who had a car, and he said he'd drive us to auditions if we'd use his name."

WENT INTO ARMY

From 1938 until the war, Joey and the other Bishops toured the burlesque circuit. Then Reisman became ill, and Spector was drafted, and Joey progressed to a club in Cleveland called "Ed Dumpo," where his droll, vaguely sad, humor charmed the customers for more than a year. Then the Army invited him to come in, and Joey accepted.

Some men didn't like the Army. But, to Joey, "it was the most security I ever had felt. I was stationed in San Antone, and I wanted to be a permanent Army man.

"I kept thinkin'—what am I looking for in life? And I kept answerin'—security, a good income for my wife, a school for my kids. The Army offered all this. Show business was such a struggle."

But when the time for discharge and decision came, Joey's wife was seriously ill. "She was dying—oh don't worry, she's healthy now—but she had three operations, and I couldn't pay for them on Army pay. So I got out and began to struggle again."

★ ★ ★

It took more than 10 years of night clubs and limited audiences before television discovered Joey Bishop.

He's grateful to an orchestra leader named Bob Lee, who caught his act in San Antonio and recommended him to a talent agency in New York; and to Frank Sinatra, whose respect for Joey raised him from little clubs to "class" clubs; and to Jack Benny, who often tells his own fans that Joey's the best young talent in the business; and, of course, to Jack Paar who's given him exposure on the hottest show in TV.

Today Joey lives in a nice house in Englewood, N.J., with his attractive wife and a son who was not only valedictorian of his class—6B—but is third baseman of his Little League team.

He is not exactly rolling in money. ("I don't think any performer can be a good businessman—his ego gets in the way. Somebody says, 'I wish I could pay you $5,000, you're so great!'—and he's so flattered, he goes for $2,500.")

SCORNS 'SICK HUMOR'

But Joey does have that sense of security he's always wanted. He can eat his eggs without being a jokester.

He can avoid using "sick" or "offbeat" routines in his comedy—the new form of shock humor which he considers sacrilegious, offensive and "devoid of sensitivity."

Joey isn't even worried about that current concern, the decline of the American male.

"I see evidence of women's power all over," he says. "Fifteen years ago if someone told me I'd drive around in a pink car, I'd have said ridiculous. My wife fixed me up an office at home, and it's a nice room but I can't wear shoes in it 'cause the rug might get dirty. She makes all the decisions.

"But if I've declined, it's been my own choosing. She's fabulous!"

Bob Considine Says:

John Wayne Will Finally Get His Bridge

NEW YORK — John Wayne, the all-male Hollywood star, was telling us that he finally gets his chance to blow up a bridge in United Artists' "The Horse Soldiers," the John Ford production in which he co-stars with Bill Holden, another all-male. Between them, they've just about cornered the male hormone market in film land.

"Holden blew one in 'The Bridge on the River Kwai,'" Wayne was saying at Shor's place, whose fading hours he was sharing to his fine-looking son, Pat, a pre-med student at Loyola University on the coast. "In the new picture he lets me blow it. Holden probably feared typecasting. He's enough of a student of human nature to know that Gary Cooper never blew up other bridges after 'The Bridge on the Bell Tots.'"

★ ★ ★

Before Wayne arrived, Mort Nathanson, UA Douglas south all Freeman explained that the bridge in question is the target of Caesar's raid on Natchitoches, La., in the waning years of the War. Its natural location, a vital Confederate artery, is the plays Col. Caesar Holden, a non-conformist leader who goes along for the ride. Duke, not to be a real tough ride.

The cost, guess, plenty of the $3,000,000 each reserved for making the picture.

Wayne likes the picture, which is a good enough recommendation for me. I've been following the guy since "Stagecoach," and he's never wrong in his choice of vehicle. We asked him how it was, working with equally virile Bill Holden.

"Bill's a shy fellow in a crowd, but just about the best guy you ever met when he's with people he knows," Wayne said. "He's good for our business; appreciative of what it's done for him. In return he does more for it than almost anybody else, with more appearances and things like that."

WAYNE TAUGHT BY FORD

In "The Horse Soldiers," Wayne took his instructions from the man who has meant so much to him through the years — John Ford.

"I've lost count how many pictures of his I've worked in," he said of his friend. "Somewhere around fifteen. When Jack makes a picture he makes everybody look right, talk right. He got a lot of vitality out of a pretty thin script. It's a beautiful thing, he's done. Everything is a Brady."

★ ★ ★

"The Horse Soldiers" has been out grossing even that "colossal success," "Some Like It Hot," in the limited places where it has been shown to date. It opens in New York and 350 other places Friday. Wayne is in town to say a few words in its behalf. Among the few will be those he says on radio Thursday night, between rounds of the Patterson-Johansson fight.

United Artists paid ABC $100,000 for the rights, and before and has deputized Wayne and Holden to help Howard Cosell with the color, while the gladiators are having their wounds closed.

"I'm pretty nervous about doing this," Wayne said, surprisingly. "I could use somebody to hand me some notes describing the action like an expert. But that's out. All I'll be sure about is what I would have done in the same spot. If they'd put it out on the pavement, I'd know more about it."

The next big film project in Wayne's life is "The Alamo." This has been an obsession since 1946. For the past two years, the San Antonio of those days has been rising, in carefully reproduced form, on a ranch outside Brackettsville, Tex., between Uvalde and Del Rio — about 100 miles west of San Antonio. Like the aforementioned bridges, the mission is being built to be gutted, as were its immortal defenders, including Davy Crockett.

"We're building a lot of the stuff complete, not just a front," Wayne told us. "We've been building the set for the past two years, and we don't start shooting before next September. I want the vegetation to look right, not like something out of props, so we're growing it. We transplanted an oak tree the other day as big as Toots' fireplace. (Ed. Note: The fireplace is only slightly smaller than Toots himself.)

"It has to cost six million," said the big fellow who worked his way up from peanuts. "He won't have much trouble raising it. Texas associates chipped in $2,000,000 to get things started. Wayne named a few. They've got enough to buy off Gen. Antonio Lopez De Santa Anna, who will kill all the actors in the film, if the script adheres to history.

Teacher Shortage Acute, Says Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shortage of good college teachers is worst in the fields the nation is most concerned about — engineering, chemistry, physics and mathematics, a study showed today.

For six years the situation has been getting worse. It apocears to have stopped at the 1958-59 level. However, most institutions expect a further decline in the next 10 years.

Those are conclusions of the research division of the National Educational Assn., which made public the study report.

It estimated that 70,000 new full time teachers will be needed next September. By 1960-70, about 1 will be needed. They aren't in sight.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Ellis C. Mault who conducted the study, said under present conditions colleges will have no alternative but to choose between an insufficient number and an inferior quality of teachers.

The report noted that 9 out 10 history majors enter educational work, but only 3 out of 10 in chemistry and 1 out of 5 engineering.

Conservation Committee Sends Park Bill to Floor

LANSING (AP)—The $2 state parks admission fee bill cleared an important hurdle in the house today.

The conservation committee voted 8 to 4 to send the Senate-approved measure to the floor. The bill authorizes issuance of five million dollars in bonds for park system improvements.

In committee, it attracted the bare requirement for approval by the 15-member conservation group. Three committee members were absent.

No changes were recommended in the bill, which if promptly passed and signed by the governor could be placed in effect in late July or early August.

A 50 cent daily fee is provided for casual park visitors. The $2 season long admission charge would be collected through sale of automobile windshield stickers good for entry of all car occupants.

All Because of a Bird

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — When a Del Mar woman goes out, she entrusts her parakeet to only one person, a teen-age girl she hires to stay home with the bird. But the girl's mother won't allow her daughter to be out alone. And that's why a baby sitter is hired to sit with the bird-sitter while she sits with the bird.

Crash Program Urged on Smog

Air Pollution Group Wants Auto Industry to Find Control Device

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Adoption of a strong resolution to urge the automobile industry to start a "crash program" for development of a device to curb smog was proposed Monday to the nation's air pollution experts.

County Supervisor Warren M. Dorn told some 1,000 delegates at the meeting that smog and costs for its elimination were "penalties of living in an industrial area."

He said costs of removing pollution would continue to rise and noted Los Angeles had spent 17 million dollars in the smog fight since 1947. In addition, he said, industry has spent between 70 and 100 million dollars in control devices.

"It costs money to breathe clean air," Dorn told the Air Pollution Control Assn.

Dorn blasted the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. for attending the meeting only as "observers" rather than reporting its progress on the problem.

"It seems that this vast industry, which has an annual income of some 20 billion dollars apparently does not want the people of this area to know how little it has accomplished," Dorn said.

Comedian Jimmy Durante was a photographic engraver before entering show business.

Swallowed Up by Iron Curtain

Fuchs Bears No Grudge

BERLIN (AP) — Klaus Fuchs disappeared behind the Iron Curtain Tuesday night saying he bears no grudge against the British for his nine years in prison as an atom spy.

The German-born scientist was hustled out of England after his release from a 14-year sentence for handing secrets of the atomic bomb to the Soviet Union.

He had been stripped of his naturalized British citizenship upon his conviction, and the British government did not try to prevent him from joining his father in Communist East Germany.

Newsmen were barred from speaking to Fuchs during his last hours in England. But several booked seats aboard the Polish airliner that flew him to Germany and reported their interviews with him today.

★ ★ ★

"I wish to say that I bear no resentment whatever against Britain or any of the Western countries for what has happened," the 47-year-old physicist said.

"I would also say that I am pleased to be going to the East German Democratic Republic. But about my future plans I have made no definite arrangements."

Asked if he had worked out any nuclear problems, Fuchs smiled and told the newsmen: "Where would you expect me to make calculations? On the back of my prison laundry slips?"

Fuchs worked with British and American scientists on the development of the atomic bomb and at the time of his arrest was chief of theoretical physics at Britain's Harwell research establishment.

★ ★ ★

Asked what he thought about East-West political conflicts, Fuch said? "The trouble arises when people begin to believe lies of their own making."

Newsmen pressed him to elaborate but he declined.

Boys' Rebellion at Female Dominance Erupts Into Violence, Gangsterism

(How the young American male grows to maturity in a society where woman is increasingly dominant — and what this can do to the child — is told in this third article on the problems of American men today.)

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
Special to the Pontiac Press

A mid-20th Century male child enveloped in the traditional diapers and naivete, is given a tender picture of woman.

Through barely open eyes he sees his mother as a soft creature, smelling of sweet confusions of baby powders. Through little ears, the behinds of which are still wet, he hears a gentle coo. Like other babies in other times, he finds her form is lovely — her mashed turnips divine.

Unless he lives in a quite "backward area" of America, this likely is where his similarity to babies of other times ends.

For today's mother, and the allegedly female-dominated man she is married to, are almost totally different from their grandparents.

The "master of the household," who came home to the "little woman" and the kiddies demanding his pipe and filial respect and an unruffled set of newspapers, is no more. The father of whom the mother said, "He'll give you a licking when he comes home" no longer exists.

A MILD FELLOW

In his place is a mild-mannered fellow who is pictured, by hordes of modern thinkers and researchers, as little more than a bruised and bowing jester in the court of the great American queen. He is a man who works hard all day to give his wife money (women spend 85 cents of each U.S. dollar) and then comes home to help with the dishes.

★ ★ ★

He also diapers the baby, walks the dog, carries out the garbage and mixes the martinis.

Sociologist Helen Hacker labels this type of father "a mother-substitute or nursery assistant."

The mid-20th Century baby, finds himself with two moms and not a he-man in sight. By the time he is old enough to watch television, he tunes in on westerns — "Look, mom, a man!" — and at the same time he becomes more and more like his father: Dependent upon the woman in the family.

The enormous popularity of TV westerns cannot be explained away with a shrug and a smug "They've always been popular."

They've been popular, yes. But never with the same appeal for people of both sexes, all ages and every social status, and the reason could be this simple:

★ ★ ★

In a "western," Americans are given the vicarious security of watching real manly men and real feminine women in the days when there was a clear-cut distinction between the two.

★ ★ ★

Men and women today, muddled in an increasingly neuter society, find it comforting to identify with the past. Because, as Dr. Theodor Reik has put it, "Men today are afraid they will not be men enough, and women are afraid they might be considered only women."

CAUGHT IN MIDDLE

Children are simply confused.

Not only is our mid-20th Century child cared for by a father who often is far more gentle than the domineering mother, he frequently must face the added bewilderment of living in a household where both parents leave him to go to the office.

★ ★ ★

"The simple division of labor so clear in the eyes of children, that father went out, and mother stayed in, (has) disappeared," says anthropologist Dr. Margaret Mead.

"The single clear sign that a man was really a man — the pay envelope — was clouded over."

So what does he do — this child of confusion?

According to psychiatrist Dr. Cornelius Beukenkamp Jr., and many other authorities, he consciously or subconsciously strikes back at the new order of society which babies him, and which gives him no male identification.

The youngster is placed on a see saw, swinging between physical violence against one or both parents, and overt homosexuality, the psychiatrist believes. This homosexuality is induced through the reversal of the role of the father, and the boy's close identification with the mother; he may observe his father as a sibling rival, or he may see him through his mother's eyes . . .

He either submits to the dominance of his mother and becomes a cowed or effeminate personality.

Or he joins a gang of other boys who find themselves, physically or intellectually, in an ambivalent situation which they find intolerable. He leans on the gang for dependence, rather than upon his too-strong mother or too-weak father. And he fights the current culture with emotional violence, or with angry young words of disillusionment.

The result is a big increase in homosexuality in the past decade, and a big rise in juvenile delinquency.

Not all male children of course, become violent or angry or homosexual. In fact the great majority are "good kids," who honor the Bible's advice to "honor thy father and thy mother."

But even a "good kid" will find it difficult to fight a world in which the female of the species is quickly taking over America's identity. Consider his future.

By the time he has become a young man, the good kid is ready and eager for his role as a lover. But he is also respectful and a touch fearful of women. His first date is a small, soft variation of his mother and she helps him out of the odious decisions like which movie to go to.

His subsequent loves are variations of nurse, girl next door, grandma and teacher. Ocassionally, he'll get kicks out of dating a sexy dish with bleached hair, but he will feel guilty about it. "The more matriarchy," said a psychiatrist, "the deeper the puritanism."

The girl he marries more likely will be a young lady whose stocking seams are straight like his mother's, who thinks for him like his mother, and who works in an office like his mother — or his best friend's mother — did.

Then, because woman has taught him to be sensible and uncomplicated (women claim the divine right of complexity), he will forget his former passions and settle down to being the male partner, the docile American husband, the secondary half of togetherness.

MONEY IS GOAL

Inspired by his intelligent, sensible wife, he will set out to make a million dollars, which is the dream of every American grown up good boy. With public opinion and his wife's urging him on he will earn his first dishwasher, his first mink stole, his first ranch style house.

Immediately preceding the house, he will earn a child. The child is the impetus to work harder. He will come home at night weary and a little worried about where his next television set is coming from — the Browns just got a color set — and he will hide his feelings inside, where the potential ulsers lie, so as not to trouble his wife.

For it is commonly conceded that the woman in America today must be satisfied financially, and the man in America must provide her with satisfaction or face an emotional or legal separation.

"Personal relations between husband and wife," said Dr. Ernest Dichter, president of the Institute for Motivational Research, "are deeply influenced today by the amount of money he makes or will be able to make, and the things he is able to afford or will be able to afford."

★ ★ ★

The "good boy" of today's culture has watched his father pitching in to provide the best for his wife. The "good boy" has not rebelled. Thus, he is following a set of footsteps that have walked falteringly into a new life of subservience to little women and big business. . . .

Ex-Bad-Boy Tully

Educator Handles Problem Kids

NEW YORK (AP) — The art of handling troublesome children is the art of remembering how you felt when you were a child.

That's the philosophy of John H. Tully, and it works.

★ ★ ★

In 47 years as a teacher, 33 of them as principal of Public School 68 in the Bronx, he has had remarkable success with problem children. His formula is simple.

"It takes a bad boy to straighten out a bad boy, and I was a bad boy at school," he said. "I know all the ways and tricks because I tried them myself when I was young."

As a principal, he has had plenty of opportunity to test his ideas, and he never had to get tough. He believes in being firm but he has never used corporal punishment. He says "no child is really bad or vicious if handled properly."

★ ★ ★

Tully's secret lies in what he means by handling children properly. It means liking them — enough not to miss a single day at school in 33 years as principal, enough to spend weekends walking around the neighborhood seeing that his pupils stay out of trouble, and even taking them home with him when they do get in trouble.

★ ★ ★

It also means finding time to work with a half dozen community youth groups — which, with his school work, has brought him as many awards from different organizations.

The gray-haired widower, who will be 70 next month when he retires, received an unusual award Monday — the Insignis Medal of Fordham University for "extraordinary distinction in the service of God through excellent professional performance."

With it came a compliment from Fordham's president, the Very Rev. Laurence J. McGinley, S.J., who said of Tully that "in his long years of service he never thought of children as statistics."

Retirement holds no gloom for Tully. He smiled as he said it will give him more time to work with youth groups. After all, he grinned, "I'm still a boy myself."

Measles Tally Down In Pontiac This Year

There were more than 10 times the number of measle cases in Pontiac last year at this time than have been reported here this week, according to Dr. John D. Morrow, Oakland County director of public health.

The city health department reports that 101 measle cases were recorded during this same week in 1958 as compared with nine this year.

Following is a similar comparison of other communicable diseases reported to the department last week.

Records Show Xways Up to 73 Per Cent Safer

(This article deals with the four-point program of the Traffic Safety Committee of the Michigan Press Association and how Michigan highway safety experts in many fields are working to reduce the toll of fatalities and injuries on State highways and streets.)

By AL HAUGNER
Editorial Writer
Port Huron Times Herald

Safety is one of the prime prerequisites which researchers, draftsmen and engineers seek to incorporate in the highway construction program today.

How well are they succeeding?

The Michigan State Highway Department reported recently in a brochure, "These Highways Are For You," a startling 73 per cent reduction in accidents, and a 62 per cent reduction in personal injuries on 58 miles of Michigan expressways in the first six months of 1958, compared to a like period in 1957 on old roads that were replaced.

That is a strong endorsement for modern express highways on which access is controlled strictly. With this controlled access, hundreds of lives may be saved each year.

Another argument for these super highways is that costs of motor vehicle operation are materially reduced. Also the public investment in the highway is protected.

* * *

The Highway Department said that experience in Michigan, as elsewhere, shows most conclusively that fatal accidents on controlled-access highways are only one-third to one-sixth as numerous as on roads with uncontrolled access.

* * *

More than that, the number of injuries is far less, and the number of accidents per million miles of travel is much lower when the hazards of random access are eliminated.

Michigan currently is in the midst of a five-year road building program which seeks to keep trend with the State's rapidly growing population.

Right now, the State has 9,400 miles of State trunklines, 8,300 miles of county roads, and 11,000 miles of city and village streets.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the immediate needs for improvements, modernization, and entirely new streets and highways are far greater than the State's capacity to finance them.

By 1980, it predicted the State's population will be about 12,000,000. By that time, the surveys show, there will be close to 5½ million vehicles owned by Michigan residents. Also, by that time it is expected the annual vehicle miles traveled by that 12 million population will be in excess of 60 billions a year.

The Automotive Safety Foundation, in connection with the 1954 Michigan highway needs study, estimated the economic loss on Michigan roads to be in excess of $270 million per year from accidents, wasted time and extra operating costs of travel on an inadequate highway system.

The economic loss of not having a modern highway system is greater, per year, than the money we spend each year to improve the system.

METHODS EXPENSIVE

What then are the methods of meeting the increasing needs in the years between now and 1975? All the methods of increasing highway capacity are expensive.

One approach is building new roads, such as the expressways.

The State can add lanes to existing routes. The Highway Department already is doing this, adding two lanes with a median divider strip to separate the new roadway from the old.

Where the full expressway standards are not required, this method provides additional capacity at fairly reasonable cost in highly urbanized areas.

Another approach is widening older, narrow highways, modifying sharp turns, and reducing excessive grades on hills.

Channeling traffic at intersections sometimes helps to increase the traffic flow. One-way street systems add greatly to the capacity of city routes, where the one-way operation is feasible.

Thus, it is not difficult to see that these improvements which need to be made greatly exceed revenues. Still, the expenditures for streets and roads in Michigan represent a smaller percentage of the total cost of government today than was true prior to World War II.

In 1920, highway expenditures were 22 per cent of the total cost of government in Michigan. In 1925 the percentage reached a high of 32 per cent; by 1940, the cost dropped to 24 per cent.

Since 1946, all expenditures for streets and roads in Michigan have averaged about 15 per cent of all government costs.

What are the future costs?

Expected costs for needed construction, on the basis of the report prepared by the Highway Department and given the U. S. Bureau of Roads in 1957 show the expected costs of Interstate highways in the State to be $1,457,322,000. Cost of primary roads is paced at $1,690,413,000, and for non-federal aid roads at $2,684,000.

That adds up to a whopping $5,167,023,000!

Property taxes do not go into road construction. Motorists provide the funds, along with Federal aid, to build and maintain roads. The Federal Aid Highway Bill, passed in 1956, provides considerable aid.

Currently, continuance of this Federal Aid is perilled by indecision on the part of the Congress in raising the Federal gas tax from 3 to 4½ cents.

In the final analysis it is fair to assume much—if not all—of the State's ambitious highway program will attain fruition in the years between now and 1975.

Would Be Hard-Driving President

Book Probes Nixon's Potential

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new biography of Vice President Richard M. Nixon asks what kind of a president he would make and gives this answer:

". . . He would be perhaps the hardest-driving chief executive and the most controversial since Theodore Roosevelt. There would be nothing haphazard, nothing bland about his administration, nor any doubt about its political identity. There would be holdovers from the Eisenhower regime, but under Nixon they would move more energetically."

The author of the book, "Richard Nixon, a Political and Personal Portrait," is Earl Mazo, Washington political writer for the New York Herald Tribune. Mazo took a six-month leave in 1957 to write the book but found he needed 15 months for the project.

In those months, he interviewed his subject more than 20 times and talked to upwards of 300 other persons, whose words were transcribed whenever the person interviewed was willing. The result was compressed into 300 pages which can be described as neither an unfriendly book nor a campaign document.

★ ★ ★

Parts of it could serve as a handbook for those opposing Nixon as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Mazo gives a play-by-play account of events leading to the vice president's renomination in 1956 and of Harold E. Stassen's campaign to knock him off the ticket.

The book reports that President Eisenhower reminded his junior partner that no vice president had been elected to the White House for more than a century. The President offered a Cabinet job and indicated, according to Mazo, that Nixon could have his choice, except for the State Department.

NIXON FATALISTIC

Mazo also reports that Nixon actually decided in March 1956 to get out of politics and accept a job in private business but was persuaded to defer his announcement. Nixon himself is quoted as saying that the Stassen drive and the reaction to it were probably decisive in changing his mind.

Mazo depicts Nixon, the politician, as a sort of fatalist who believes he was elected to the House, the Senate and the vice presidency because he "was in the right place at the right time."

"This can change," Nixon is quoted. "The only thing that I will do so far as the future is concerned is to continue to do the most effective job I can for the country and, of course, for the party. And then, what should happen, will happen."

Nixon is described as ambitious but less so than many people believe.

"In fact," Mazo writes, "if he is not thoroughly satisfied that he is wanted, if he feels that he would have to strong-arm his way to the nomination, he will not run."

Eisenhower is reported to have told him that the President believes it would be improper to endorse him or anyone else for the presidential nomination.

The vice president is said to view the economic issue as the big one in 1960 and to believe that the GOP must stick by its basically conservative position regardless of the consequences.

LESS CONSERVATIVE

But in his speculation about a Nixon administration, Mazo writes that the vice president's "innate tendencies are much less conservative than Eisenhower's." At the same time, he says a Nixon administration would not differ radically from the Eisenhower administration because "it would maintain the familiar image of being conservative on domestic matters and internationalist in foreign affairs."

"An administration headed by Nixon would differ from Eisenhower's both in its approach to problems and in its makeup," Mazo writes. "It would have businessmen in some important positions but would never be a 'businessman's administration.' It would also have braintrusters."

Other Nixon viewpoints outlined by Mazo:

Labor legislation—Nixon sees a need for corrective labor legislation stronger than that proposed by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) but he firmly opposes right-to-work laws because he believes they are ineffective and inflammatory to labor.

★ ★ ★

Tax reform—Nixon favors lowering income taxes in the higher brackets because they have reached the point of "diminishing returns." He also would reduce corporate taxes and revise excise taxes.

★ ★ ★

Civil rights—Nixon is sincerely interested in the welfare of minorities and civil rights as the result of his Quaker heritage. He favors gradual desegregation and opposes as unworkable the idea of a federal law to end segregation by force because he believes civil rights are a moral issue rather than a legal question.

Sociologist Speaks

Retirement Is 'Tragic'

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The chairman of the University of Chicago's departmment of sociology has termed compulsory retirement "a huge and tragic waste of manpower."

Philip M. Hauser delivered the keynote address last night at the 12th Annual Conference on Aging at the University of Michigan and told 1,000 experts "it is difficult to conceive of an institutional practice better designed to force waste of manpower and loss of production."

He said the nation can expect its 65 and over population to double between 1950 and 1980 and the expected period of retirement for a man more than doubled between 1900 and 1955.

Hauser pointed out that workers now need more income for later life but compulsory retirement blocks the major source of individual earnings.

"Stated baldly, compulsory retirement at an arbitrarily fixed age represents, in effect, a decision on the part of society to force older persons—many of them are capable and desirous of self-support—to be supported by the productivity of the young," he said.

The conference awarded citations for distinguished service to elderly persons to Alexander G. Ruthven, president emeritus of the University of Michigan; Beth Moser of Jackson, secretary of the Senior Citizens Service Center, and Lucia G. Bing of Cleveland, coordinator of volunteers of the Golden Age Center.

Biography Reveals Troubles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, like many an ordinary citizen, lives from pay check to pay check, it was disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

In a new biography, "Richard Nixon, a Political and Personal Portrait," by Earl Mazo, Washington political writer for the New York Herald Tribune, Nixon gives this account of his finances:

"I came to Washington 12 years ago with $10,000 in government bonds, My GI life insurance, a 1946 Ford, furniture and $14,000 worth of life insurance.

"I own no stocks or bonds. The only real property I have an interest in is the house in which we live in Washington. The purchase price was $75,000, and I have a $50,000 mortgage on it with interest at 5 per cent.

"We have only that amount of money in the bank which is necessary for current expenses. The only other things I have are a 1955 Oldsmobile, our furniture and what one columnist likes to refer to as 'the fabulous gifts' I have received on my trips around the world.

★ ★ ★

"My wife owns nothing. We actually spend everything we get in. That is the way it has to be, if I am to do my job properly."

Nixon makes $35,000 a year and receives a $10,000 annual expense account. Both it and his salary are fully taxable.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Tranquilizer Pellets Used Against Rabies

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A gun that shoots tranquilizer pellets instead of bullets is being used in this city's anti-rabies drive against wild and stray dogs.

Fourteen dogs have been knocked out so far with the hypodermic-like pellets by four hunters. The dogs were turned over to the dog pound, which estimates the city has about 40,000 unvaccinated dogs.

One and one-half ounces of coal contains enough energy to pull one ton of rail freight one mile.

Oklahoma Thief Leaves Pitfall for Motorists

TULSA Okla. (AP)—Driving has its pitfalls in an industrial area here due to a thief's penchant for profitable scrap-iron.

Deputy Sheriff Gene Maxey said 40 iron covers for storm sewers had been filched from streets in the sparsely-traveled area, leaving gaping holes in the street.

Arkansas has been called the most heavily-wooded of the states. It is estimated the present stand of marketable timber today is somewhat in excess of 30 million board feet.

Two Heads Can Save

NEW YORK (UPI) — The average American couple would spend 69 per cent more if the man of the house shopped alone, according to a consumer study by Pacific Outdoor Advertising Co. On the other hand, the report said, the couple would spend 29 per cent more if the women did all the shopping alone.

The population of all the Latin-American countries combined is now almost as large as the population of the continental United States.

Who Parks the Autos?

BOSTON (UPI) — A survey conducted by the Automobile Legal Association in Boston revealed that 22 per cent of all cars are parked by shoppers; 26 per cent by workers; 36 per cent by those on business errands; 11 per cent by those on trips to medical offices, schools and restaurants, and 5 per cent by those on pleasure trips.

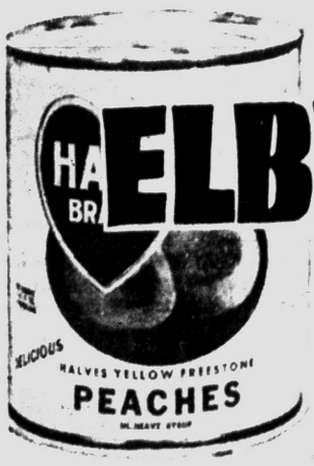

About 75 gallons of water are used to make one pound of rayon.

After 28 Years, Wife Divorces Film Maker

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Movie producer Pandro S. Berman's wife obtained a divorce Tuesday on testimony that he deserted her after 28 years and 10 months of marriage.

Viola Newman Berman said her husband left in 1956 and has since returned only occasionally to see their three children.

She sought no alimony. He is to pay child support. She was granted custody of their two daughters, Susan, 18, and Cynthia, 16. The other child is Harry Michael, 22.

School Awards Missing

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP)—Everything was going along fine at graduation ceremonies at Van Rensselaer High School. Then, school officials went to get awards to be presented. A red-faced official announced that someone had tampered with the combination of the school safe. The prize-winning graduates will get their awards after the school gets a locksmith.

That average tides of the Great Lakes are only about one inch but spring tides sometimes extend to three inches in some of the lakes. In Lake Superior they may reach eight inches.

Survives 80-Foot Fall

HART'S LOCATION, N.H. (AP)—Fred Arnold, 14, of Malden, Mass., fell 80 feet from Jacob's Ladder at Crawford Notch State Park Tuesday and suffered only a scratched knee and a bump on the head. Park officials said Arnold was near the top of the sheer cliff on Webster Mountain when he lost his grip and fell.

Transplanted Cretan vines started the wine industry on Madeira five centuries ago. Now Portugal's subtropical island off the African coast annually exports nearly 3 million quarts of rich, sweet dessert wines, chiefly to Scandinavia.

Prescribes Hard Work

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, famed heart specialist, says "hard work, whether physical or mental, never killed a healthy man." He also told a meeting at Boston University Tuesday night that vigorous exercise and no weight gain after the age of 25 "will save many of our middle aged men."

The Turkish city of Istanbul is included as a major stop in the flight schedules of 16 international airlines, making it only 26 flying hours from New York and eight hours from Paris.

Inconvenience to Depositors Minimized Too

Financial Insurance Rarely Loses

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance of bank deposits and savings and loan shares is now a 25-year-old commonplace of financial life.

And — so far — neither agency that takes over for deceased institutions has suffered much loss. Nor have depositors or shareholders—so far—had to wait for their money longer than local laws dictated.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. celebrated its silver anniversary last year. The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. observes its birthday June 27.

Each agency insures accounts up to $10,000 each.

Both agencies can pay off accounts in defunct institutions in cash or move the accounts to other insured institutions.

The FDIC has more than 13,000 banks insured and they have built its resources up to nearly two billion dollars. So far it has had 436 cases to deal with and its losses have come to about 29 million dollars, or about 1½ per cent of its cumulative gross income.

The FSLIC insures 3,900 savings and loan associations. It has had 38 insurance cases with a total loss of 5¼ million dollars, or less than 2 per cent of its cumulative gross income of 321 million dollars.

The associations, like the banks, pay for the insurance—just as you pay for any insurance you may have.

Although set up by the federal government and supervised by federal agencies, the two corporations are owned by their members. The insurance payments after a failure come from funds the members have paid in—and not from the U. S. Treasury.

★ ★ ★

When a bank fails those who get paid off are depositors—whether they have checking accounts or savings accounts.

When a savings and loan group fails, those who get payments are shareholders, not depositors. They actually own a part of the business, and it is their share of ownership that is insured.

How long do you have to wait for your money if a bank or a savings and loan association fails and the FDIC or the FSLIC steps in?

The American Bankers' Assn says bank depositors will get theirs almost immediately. FDIC says in most cases the delay has been just a few days.

The longest delay—so far—has been three months in the case of three Chicago banks folding in 1933. FDIC explains that this was because Illinois law at that time, since changed, allowed the state superintendent of banking to close banks for investigation, and FDIC's hands were tied.

The U. S. Savings and Loan League says no shareholder has been delayed in getting insurance payments.

★ ★ ★

Both the Home Loan Bank Board, which rides herd on FSLIC, and the National League of Insurance Savings Assns, say that—so far — shareholders have never had to wait longer than over a weekend.

The U. S. Savings and Loan League points with pride to speed in the most publicized default, that of the Commonwealth Building & Loan Assn. of Norfolk, Va., in 1956.

Its trouble arose when it found that a big-hearted spinster employe, Minnie Mangum, had embezzled nearly three million dollars over the years to lavish on friends.

★ ★ ★

On a Friday when the stricken association was still meeting withdrawal requests, the FSLIC moved in, transferred all accounts to another association, so that shareholders were able to get their money on Monday morning if they wished. The League says most didn't withdraw funds.

But what would, or could, happen if there were a rush of failures—although nothing seems less likely at the moment?

In some states banking supervisors have the power to impose a waiting period before savings accounts as apart from checking accounts can be withdrawn. If they did so, many depositors might have to wait.

Shareholders can be required to give 30 days notice of intention to withdraw from savings and loan associations. They haven't had to wait—so far—but they might have to some time.

And it could be possible for a faltering association to number all withdrawal requests and honor them on a wait-your-turn basis, paying off no more than $1,000 to any shareholder each time around. This could push final payment far into the future.

Both the bank and association insurance agencies insist that long before any of their members got in that bad a fix they would have moved in to protect depositors or shareholders.

Panama Jam Delays Ships

Some Wait 36 Hours to Pass; No Letup Seen in Heavy Traffic

PANAMA (AP) — The biggest peacetime traffic jam in the history of the Panama Canal is holding up ships from 24 to 36 hours and no immediate letup is in sight.

Monday 27 vessels were delayed. Another 24 were expected to be held up Tuesday, despite a schedule of 36 transits each way.

★ ★ ★

Officials said there has been an unprecedented flow of traffic.

Another factor is a large number of big ships—mostly supertankers and ore carriers.

The big ships usually must go through the Gaillard Cut alone, which means vessels going in the opposite direction must wait for them to pass. Some of the big ships also must go through the canal during daylight, and such special transits reduce the waterway's capacity.

★ ★ ★

W. E. Potter, governor of the Canal Zone, said the canal now is handling traffic in numbers that had not been expected for another decade.

One shipping representative said the delay is costing the industry millions of dollars.

Newsman Fights Senate Payroll Record Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vance Trimble, Scripps - Howard staff writer, intends to continue his legal fight against Senate payroll secrecy.

A story in Scripps-Howard newspapers Tuesday quoted Trimble as saying the case will be taken to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Notice of appeal was filed from U. S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff's dismissal June 2 of Trimble's suit for access to Senate payroll records.

"There can be no turning back on this vital issue—the right of the people to know how their money is spent," Trimble said.

Holtzoff dismissed the suit with a ruling that the payrolls are not public records and that newspapermen have no legal standing to challenge congressional secrecy.

★ ★ ★

Trimble brought the suit as an individual. He also has filed a suit seeking access to records of office expenses and payrolls of House members. Motions on this suit are to be heard next October.

Space Brain Thinks Fast

LANSING (UPI)—Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) said today he is a test pilot.

That was the way Phillips explained comments made to newsmen last night by Rep. Joseph Gillis (D-Detroit) about where Phillips gets his airplanes.

Gillis said Continental Motors Muskegon, provided a plane for Phillips.

"That's right," Phillips, 54-year-old veteran pilot, said. "I love to fly. I have an arrangement with Continental. They want to have their planes tested by an ordinary citizen.

"There's nothing wrong with it. As a matter of fact I told Gov. Williams about it a few years ago and he said he saw nothing wrong with it."

Phillips said Gillis was "put out because I wouldn't let him fly the plane."

★ ★ ★

The Port Huron Republican said he has a single-engine Cessna 182. He flys back and forth to Lansing in the four-place craft.

Phillips said he "understood" he was one of 12 "ordinary citizens" who have such arrangements.

Phillips said he pays for his own gas and maintenance costs.

Phillips said Continental has been interested in the test program since the late Gov. Kim Sigler crashed in his private plane.

"They've never tried to lobby me on anything," Phillips said.

The dispute between the two pilot-lawmakers stemmed from attempts by Gillis to cut an aeronautics appropriation sought by Phillips.

Gillis said he thought he could outfly Phillips if the two were to engage in an aerial duel.

Military Orders Lag; Hart Seeks Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three thousand Michigan firms are being surveyed by Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) in an effort to learn why the state is lagging in military procurement orders.

Michigan, the Senator said today, currently is getting only 3.2 per cent of military prime contract awards compared to 25.8 per cent for California and 11.3 per cent for New York.

A summary prepared by Hart's staff shows that Michigan has sagged from third rank among states in prime contract awards in the 1950-56 period when it got 6.3 per cent of all awards to eighth place with the current 3.2 per cent. The state's share was 17.2 per cent during the height of the Korean War in 1952.

Hart said the current figure for Michigan represents the largest decrease for any state except Illinois which declined 55 per cent to Michigan's 40 per cent.

Curry on the Toast

Curry butter toast sticks go well with chicken soup. Blend ¼ cup butter or margarine with ¼ to ½ teaspoon curry powder. Trim crusts from bread slices, cut each into 3 strips and toast in broiler until slightly browned. Spread untoasted side with seasoned butter and toast until edges are crisp and browned.

Gary Teamsters Indicted in Fix

Station Owners Group Also Charged in Price Setting Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal grand jury at Hammond, Ind., indicted a Teamsters' union local and an association of filling station operators on charges of conspiring to fix retail gasoline prices in Lake County, Ind., and Calumet City, Ill.

Attorney General William P. Rogers, who announced the action, said the indictment named:

The Drivers, Warehousemen and Helpers Union No. 14, of the Teamsters; Michael Sawochka of Gary, Ind., the local's secretary-treasurer; and Russell Bassett, of Munster, Ind., its business representative.

Also the Gasoline Retailers Assn., of Gary, composed of station operators; Harry Gold, of Whiting, Ind., director of the association, and James G. Terry, of Hammond, Association business representative.

The indictment charged that since about 1954 the defendants maintained an agreement under which retail gasoline prices would not be cut and no station would give trading stamps.

The grand jury charged the Teamsters Union policed the agreement by picketing, threatening to picket, and cutting off gasoline deliveries.

Put Safety on List of Picnic Essentials

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here we go again! It's open season on picnics. Let's make them safe. That is the tune we sing every year, but we don't want anyone to suffer from food poisoning.

Let's review the troublemakers. Milk and egg mixtures, meat and cream fillings are the demons. That includes custards, mayonnaise mixtures and lunch meats. All these are excellent foods. They just need taking care of by the person planning the picnic.

The rules are simple. Don't add mayonnaise to any mixture unless you have means to refrigerate it from preparation to serving time. It's that half-warm temperature that does the damage.

Get your potato salad all ready at home except for the mayonnaise. Cut up vegetables won't spoil. Put ice cubes around the dressing and mix the two at the picnic site. Do the same for sandwich fillings. Ground meat has more surfaces exposed to air borne bacteria.

HOT OR COLD

Don't keep any meat mixture just lukewarm. If you are making chili or spaghetti sauce, keep them piping hot or ice cold. Ham can spoil if it is not refrigerated properly.

Either buy meat and prepare your hamburger patties just before leaving home or have them frozen ahead of time. Incidentally, these frozen items will help chill other food in your picnic basket.

Stay away from cream puffs, eclairs and cream filled cakes. Fill and frost your cakes with powdered sugar or fluffy frosting. Or bake a cake with the frosting right on it. Try putting chocolate mint patties on a cake as soon as it comes from the oven. It will delight your taste.

Peanut butter and jelly are always safe for sandwiches. Treat egg salad the same as you do potato salad. Hard cooked eggs are fine. Cans of sandwich spread will not spoil if they're left unopened until they're used.

A few sticks of chewing gum tucked into the picnic basket ward off hunger and keeps the mouth cool and moist. But do encourage your little darlings to put the gum in the trash basket after they've chewed it. No one likes to take it home on the sole of his shoe!

Here's a recipe for an interesting sandwich to take on a picnic. Prepare it and keep it refrigerated as suggested, or make it from scratch at the picnic site. You can put frankfurters into a vacuum bottle of boiling water and carry them to the park if you like.

Have a nice safe picnic-ful summer.

Portable Submarines

4 frankfurters
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 loaf French bread
4 slices American cheese
2 tomatoes sliced
4 slices Swiss cheese

Heat frankfurters in water just below boiling point 5 to 8 minutes. Blend together softened butter and mustard. Cut bread into 4 to 6-inch pieces; cut each of these in half, lengthwise. Spread with mustard butter.

On the lower half arrange alternate slices of American cheese, tomato and Swiss cheese. Cut cooked frankfurters in half, lengthwise. Place on top of cheese and tomato slices. Spread with additional mustard, if desired.

Cover with top half of bread. Wrap each sandwich in foil and REFRIGERATE until picnic time. At picnic area, heat on grill over charcoal, turning once. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 large sandwiches.

A suggested menu for the outdoor party might be:

Portable Submarines
Carrot and Celery Strips Pickles
Cake-in-the-Pan
Cold Drinks

The cold drinks can be carried to the picnic area in an ice chest and the foil-wrapped sandwiches and relishes can be tucked in as well to keep cold. The cake can be baked in a rectangular pan, frosted in the pan and taken to the picnic "as is."

Simple Banana Dessert Calls for Lemon Juice

Here's an idea for a spring dessert "just like grandma used to make." The sweet-sour combination enhances the blandness of the banana to produce a delicious flavor.

★ ★ ★

Allow one banana to a person. Peel and split the banana lengthwise and lay it open on the plate. Sprinkle it with lemon juice, then with sugar, then with cinnamon. Serve slightly chilled for a delightful luncheon or dinner dessert.

Convenience Foods Team Up in Warm Cake Dessert

Three-Con Cake will be a real fooler to your family and guests. They'll never suspect that you had it in the oven in less than 15 minutes and that your only labor since then was to take the dish out of the oven and carry it to the table. How so? This tasty layer cake is made of three convenience foods — yellow cake mix, canned sliced apples, and bite-size shredded rice biscuits.

Use a half box of your favorite yellow cake mix and prepare according to directions on the package. Place half the batter in the bottom of a greased pan. Top with apple slices and cover with a crumb mixture of shredded rice cereal, cinnamon, and sugar. Pour the remainder of the batter into the pan and top with more crumb mixture.

You'll like the delicate, rather illusive flavor of the crumb mixture. You see, the bite-size shredded rice biscuits are toasted and have a slightly caramelized flavor and extra crisp texture.

As long as the oven is heated, you might just as well make cupcakes from the other half package of cake mix. They'll be grand to use in lunch boxes or as after-school snacks. You can freeze them if you don't need them tomorrow, but you'll save time if you do all of your baking at one time.

THREE-CON CAKE — Tasty Three-Con Cake is made with three convenience foods—bite-size shredded rice biscuits, canned apples, and yellow cake mix. You can get it in the oven in less than 15 minutes.

Three-Con Cake

3 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1½ cups
⅓ cup brown sugar firmly packed
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
1¼ cups canned apple slices, sliced thin (½ 20-oz. can)
½ package yellow cake mix

Grease bottom of 8x8x2" cake pan. Preheat over for cake. Combine cereal crumbs, sugar, and cinnamon. Remove 1 cup of crumbs.

Blend margarine with remaining crumbs. Add lemon juice to apples. Prepare cake as directed on label.

Pour half the batter into pan. Arrange apple slices on top. Sprinkle with 1 cup of crumbs. Add remaining batter. Top with cereal-margarine mixture.

Bake 45 minutes, or until inserted pick comes out clean.

★ ★ ★

For a larger cake, use a full package of cake mix. Pour all but 1½ cups of batter in 9½x6½x2½" baking dish as directed above. Use remaining batter for cupcakes.

Casserole From Cans Tempts Hearty Eaters

For the hearty eaters in your family a satisfying main dish is Midwestern Casserole. Mix 1½ cups undiluted evaporated milk with a can of tomato paste until smooth; season with chili powder to taste. Add 2 cups cooked rice and a can of luncheon meat, cut into strips. Mix and put into a casserole.

★ ★ ★

Bake in a moderate oven about 25 minutes. Sprinkle canned French fried onions over the casserole and return to the oven for 5 minutes.

Bela Kovacs Died a Hero Despite Communist Ties

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

This is the story of a conservative political leader who hated first fascism and then communism, yet who died under the cloud of collaboration.

It's a strange story, and a sad one, about what can happen to a strong believer in liberty, caught behind the Iron Curtain and bereft of hope.

★ ★ ★

Bela Kovacs emerged from the anti-Nazi underground of World War II as leader of the Hungarian peasant Smallholders party which beat the Communists in a free election in 1945. But the Soviet army was there, and the Communists soon took over through a coup.

In 1947 Kovacs was arrested, and spent years in jail in occupied Austria, Hungary and Siberia. Finally permitted to return to Hungary in 1955, his friends described him as a broken man.

★ ★ ★

But he remained a hero to the peasants even though living in the obscurity of his native village. In the last stages of the 1956 anti-Communist revolution, he was appointed by the revolutionary leader Imre Nagy as minister of state and minister of agriculture, perhaps without prior consultation. He returned to Budapest in the last stages of the revolution and was persuaded to serve. But the Soviet army crushed the revolt.

★ ★ ★

At the U.S. Embassy, the dispirited Kovacs said the revolution had been a mistake, and that his acceptance of Nagy's urgings had been a mistake.

He was disillusioned because the revolt had received no help from the West. The peasants, he said, must now make the best of the Communist way prescribed from Moscow.

"What else can the West expect?" he asked.

He had seen the Russian peasants making at least some progress through their Kolkhozes while the Hungarian Smallholders remained in their old economic thralldom.

He was persuaded that there was no longer any point in stubbornness.

He would not, however, join the government of puppet Premier Janos Kadar, despite repeated urgings. Kovacs again sought obscurity.

★ ★ ★

But last fall the world was surprised and saddened by his election to Parliament on the one-party ticket of the puppeteers. And more so by a statement apologizing for his previous anti-Communist stand.

The world put it down to intense Communist pressure, but his friends say no.

★ ★ ★

A broken man, still trying to help his peasant supporters, devoid of hope of liberation, was just trying to do, with his last feeble spark, what he could do from the inside, instead of living in futility on the outside.

The spark of liberty had been crushed in Bela Kovacs.

Brown Tells Dems: California Is Mine

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is going to be a favorite son Democratic presidential candidate, has hung a figurative "keep out" sign on next year's California primary.

Does he expect other Democratic presidential aspirants to file in California?

"I hope they won't," he said at a news conference Tuesday.

He plans to head the California delegation to the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles and hopes the state delegation will be united behind him.

Is he thinking of a serious try for the presidential nomination?

"I am only going to be a favorite son candidate," Brown declared. "How serious that is we'll wait and see."

STAGE MOCK DISASTER ALERT — Members of the Northeastern Oakland County Firemen's Assn. last night assembled all of their emergency equipment in Hadley for a practice disaster drill. Units taking part in the demonstration were from Addison, Brandon, Oxford, Metamora, Clarkston, Gingellville, Orion and Hadley. They were joined by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and other emergency units in the area. A similar drill is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday in Metamora.

Policeman's Car Injures 2 Men Standing in Road

Two Waterford Township men, Henry Fast, 6045 Hatchery Rd., and Anthony Gallardo, 5658 Crescent Blvd., were injured last night when they were hit by a car driven by Harold Mercer, a Pontiac policeman, who was on duty.

★ ★ ★

Fast, 35, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with fractures of both legs and facial cuts. He was reported in fair condition today.

Gallardo, 27, was treated for cuts on both legs at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and later released.

Mercer, 102 E. Brooklyn Ave., told police he was going 25 m.p.h. and could not avoid the two men who were standing in the middle of Baldwin avenue.

★ ★ ★

Fast and Gallardo were returning to work at the Fisher Body Plant.

5 Killed as B52 Crashes on Test

BURNS, Ore. (UP)—A B52 jet bomber on an experimental low-level flight for the Strategic Air Command crashed in flames Tuesday. The five men aboard were killed.

Witnesses said the eight-jet plane caught fire and was enveloped in flames when it crashed in a remote area 35 miles east of this central Oregon town.

★ ★ ★

The plane exploded and scattered wreckage and bodies over a mile area.

Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle built the plane and was conducting the tests for the Air Force.

★ ★ ★

A Boeing spokesman said these civilian employes were aboard the plane; pilot Lewis Moore, 44, Kirkland, Wash.; co-pilot Joseph Keller, Bellevue, Wash.; navigator Gerald Green, 37, Kent, Wash.; and flight engineers Charles McDaniel, 29, and Neil Johnson, 29, both of Seattle.

School Board Will Act on Wage Increases

The Pontiac Board of Education tomorrow night will act on wage scale increases for secretaries, maintenance and operation workers in the city's public school system.

★ ★ ★

The establishment of a safety committee and a work policy agreement will also be voted on by the Board in its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. at 1275 N. Perry St.

Board members will meet in closed executive session to discuss changes in the administrative salary schedule.

★ ★ ★

Also slated for executive session discussion is the Board policy to govern the operation of the instrumental music program.

Pontiac City Affairs

Charge City Dust Control Inadequate

Three city commissioners last night spoke out for more dust control on unpaved Pontiac streets but no move was made to upset the present dust control program.

Commissioners Floyd P. Miles, John A. Dugan and Wesley J. Wood said streets in their districts were dusty, despite the chloriding treatment given by the city this spring.

City Manager Walter K. Williman said a second chloriding treatment is due "early next month and a third later in the summer.

The manager favors double chloriding at a minimum, although several commissioners have said that more chloriding is necessary than the present three treatments a year.

★ ★ ★

Williman's position has been that chloriding is an extra expense that could be avoided if streets were paved.

He said that dry weather occurring earlier this year has resulted in more dust than usual.

OTHER BUSINESS

Commissioners on other business conducted publicly, because of 11 neighborhood improvements.

One, proposed curbs and gutters on Howard street, Johnson to Adelaide, was dropped on motion of Commissioner Miles, who said many residents there were already faced with special assessments for other improvements this year.

There were no objections raised against the city's intention to proceed with five new projects, including sidewalks on both sides of Harvey avenue, South boulevard to Dilman; both sides of Highland avenue, California to Dilman; west side of Sanford street, Irwin to Central; west side of Drexel avenue, South boulevard to east of Paddock; both sides of California avenue, Howland to Franklin; and grading and graveling of the alley north of Walton boulevard, University to east of Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

Special assessment rolls on five projects won approval at hearings, including grading and graveling of Arlene street, Perry to Madison; a sidewalk in front of six houses on Bartlett street; and sidewalks on the west side of Going street, Ferry to Central, and South boulevard to Irwin, and on the east side of Stanley avenue, Kennett to Beverly.

ROLES CONFIRMED

Two assessment rolls were confirmed, one covering a sanitary sewer on Court drive, Mt. Clemens street north, and the other a sidewalk on the north side of Madison avenue, Perry to Arlene.

An agreement with GMC Truck & Coach Division covering the company's installation of steam lines between two plants on Franklin road was approved. The lines will run under the sidewalk on the east side of the street between Fisher and Hughes avenues.

Commissioner William W. Donaldson asked the city administration to study the possibility of a stop sign at Ottawa and Menominee roads for the protection of school children.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was asked to prepare a memorial resolution to Royal Oak Mayor Howard H. Kelley, who died Friday.

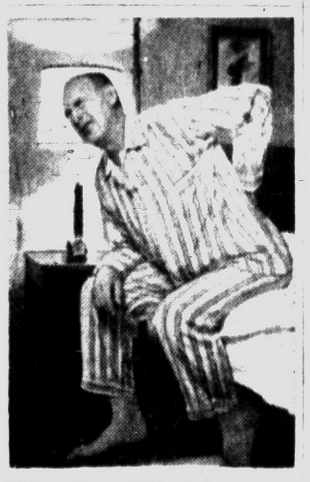

Formal contracts for assessors employed in the urban renewal project were approved and sent to the Urban Renewal Administration in Washington for an okay. The assessing work, paid out of federal funds, is already under way.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep with nagging backache
Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain — you want relief — want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild, bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.
Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.
Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. New, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Many Reasons for Rerun of TV Commercial Pitches

NEW YORK (AP) — Ask almost any television viewer his pet gripe about his favorite pastime and he'll complain about exposure to the same commercials over and over and over.

★ ★ ★

Some commercials, he'll concede, were entertaining at first—but repetition of even a funny one loses its charm.

But filmed commercials are deliberately rerun, say the experts, for a variety of reasons. One theory of successful television selling is based on heavy hammering on the viewer's consciousness. The viewer may not like it but the message has sunk in—like a harpoon.

One major advertising agency, in fact, is dedicated to the proposition that all the key words should be repeated three times during each commercial message.

Another reason commercials are repeated is to catch viewers who missed it the first or second time around.

But, undoubtedly, the most popular reason for frequent repeats is economic: filmed commercials are expensive to make. They range in time from 6 seconds to 2½ minutes and cost from $3,500 to $30,000 each.

Time was when every outfit with a movie camera and studio facilities was ready and eager to make commercials. As TV developed, however, companies have come to specialize. There are now a number of companies who do nothing else. One of the largest, MPO, last year turned out about five-million-dollars worth of sponsors' messages. Marvin Rothenstein, a company vice president who directs many of the short films, says most sponsors are currently interested in upgrading and de-irritating their commercials.

"Very few sponsors today are trying to get viewers to rush out of the house and buy their product," says Rothenstein. "Mostly they are interested in getting the identity of the product so firmly in the viewer's mind that the next time he's buying cigarettes or she's buying food at the supermarkets, they'll ask for or reach for the sponsor's brand."

Teen Gang Gets Loot

STREETER, N. D. (UPI)—Authorities broke up a juvenile crime wave here when they nabbed six boys aged 10 to 13 who had been looting business places over a six-month period. Sheriff Pete Butzwiller told one of the boys they had hit every place in town except the Streeter bank.

"We got that too," the youngster answered, producing two rolls of coins to prove it.

Chapter XXIV

To Kathie's dismay, Sam continued to address himself solely to her, chiding her for running away from Honolulu before he had had a chance to show her the city.

And she was edgily aware that from the other side Alex was unashamedly eavesdropping, while Leilani was being ungallantly neglected.

"Grandfather was delighted with you," Sam told her. "Do you know what the old duffer said? That if I didn't 'court' you he would!"

"He's sweet," Kathie said. She had been more awed by his grandfather than attracted.

When the evening was over, Kathie sighed with relief, aching all over from the tension she had been under.

Sam was driving Leilani's car, but it was Alex who put it in the garage after the girls and Sam got out at the front door. It was only too obvious that Alex was a frequent visitor at the Powerses' in Hilo.

When the two girls had retired to their room, Leilani turned to Kathie with a troubled face and said, "Kathie, I can't understand Mother's rushing off like that."

"It was probably business," Kathie tried to soothe her.

"But she must have been terribly upset," Leilani said, and her lips quivered a little. "If she hadn't been, she would never have left us in the house with Sam and Alex with nobody but the servants around."

* * *

Bea was afraid she would have to explain her trip, Kathie thought involuntarily.

It was hard for Kathie to keep still. Leilani had forgotten her earlier annoyance. Only her promise to Bea kept Kathie from confiding in her daughter.

* * *

"She'll have the simplest explanation in the world, you'll see," Kathie scoffed lightly. And then to change the subject, she said, "I was surprised to see Sam tonight! You didn't tell me he was coming over."

Leilani shrugged. "Oh, I thought Mums had told you. She was so pleased that Sam wanted to come." She had a complacent little smile, and Kathie suddenly knew why she had lost her sulky annoyance.

'MARRY SAM?'

Kathie asked carefully, "Are you going to marry Sam, Leilani?"

Leilani lifted golden eyebrows. "Let's wait until he proposes, at least!"

Kathie sighed. "It's too complex for me," she said. "I think you want both Alex and Sam."

Leilani laughed in genuine amusement. "You've got something there," she said.

Sunday morning was lazy and golden and sheer magic. The four of them had breakfast out on the lanai, the girls in shorts.

* * *

Leilani was in gay spirits. "Sue is packing a lunch for us," she announced over the coffee cups. "We're going to put on our swim suits and drive out to Black Sands Beach for a picnic and swim."

But Leilani's high spirits collapsed like a punctured balloon when they started. Alex had backed the car out of the garage and she suggested that he drive it since he knew the rough spots in the narrow road.

SITS WITH KATHIE

"Be glad to," Alex said.

"I'll sit with Kathie," Sam said, suddenly said, and took her arm to help her in.

Leilani turned around with so surprised a look that Kathie realized she had expected Sam to make that suggestion to her. But if Sam saw her surprise, he gave no sign, and Leilani quietly climbed in front beside Alex.

The drive to the beach was over a winding highway, banked with green and lined with speared clumps of yellow and white ginger in full bloom.

They climbed steadily, and occasionally the clouds hanging over the volcano, Mauna Loa, lifted enough so that they could glimpse the sloping summit.

The spot they chose for picnicking was the most picturesque Kathie had ever seen. A semi-circular beach, ringed with a flowing curve of coconut palms, stretched down to blue water capped with white surf. And the sand was as black as night.

* * *

Alex told her the sand was pulverized black lava from an early eruption of Mauna Loa that had rolled all the way to the sea.

It was not yet dark when they drove up the Powerses' driveway, tired and almost hoarse from singing all the way back.

Suki met them at the door with the news that Honolulu had been trying all afternoon to reach Leilani.

"Call Operator One," she said, and Leilani went straight to the telephone.

"Shall I mix a drink, Leilani?" Alex said.

"Please do," Leilani said, from the telephone. "We've just about time for one before we dress. What time does your 'plane leave?"

"We're both booked on the eight o'clock," Sam said.

"Hello?" Leilani said into the instrument. "Hello? This is Leilani Powers speaking. Who—?" She was silent a long moment.

Then in a voice suddenly taut with strain, the others heard her say, "I'm her daughter."

Alex leaped for the telephone, but before he could reach it, Leilani said faintly, "May I call you back later?" and put down the receiver. She was milk pale, her pretty face almost stupidly blank with shock.

"Darling, what is it?" Alex said urgently.

"There's been an accident," Leilani said stiffly.

"Is Bea hurt?"

"They said she was—dead," Leilani whispered.

And it was Alex who took her in his arms.

Georgia Boy Keeps One-Eyed 'Gator as Pet

NASHVILLE, Ga. (UPI)—"Come on, Boy!" snapped Arnold Ray as he waved a piece of bacon rind tied to the end of a long stick.

"Boy" is anything but a boy. In fact, he's a mean-looking, one-eyed alligator eight feet long owned by Lonnie Lewis, who found him by the side of the road three years ago and keeps him as a pet.

Ray's job is to feed Boy, of whom he says: "He's about as tame as alligators can get, which isn't quite tame enough to get too close. He knows when it's feeding time, and he knows my call."

Ray said the critter will come from as far away as he can hear me" to be fed. Just then, two mas sive jaws clamped on the food, the gator slowly slipped into the cool water of the lake.

Flying Solon Tests Planes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The electronic brain used to track space satellites has made more than five billion rapid-fire calculations since Explorer I was launched in 1957, it was announced today.

* * *

Bruce G. Oldfield, manager of the IBM Vanguard Computing Center here, said it would take a mathematician working a 40-hour week more than 50,000 years to perform the same task.

Oldfield said that without the high speed electronic digital computer it is doubtful that the United States would have gotten its first rocket off the ground, much less put satellites into orbit.

Computers had played an important part in every significant engineering development of the past decade he said, adding that without them, many scientific breakthroughs would have taken longer and some might not have happened "in our time."

* * *

Oldfield said that at present the computer can calculate and predict the orbits of 10 to 20 satellites at once.

Meanwhile, he said, the center is installing larger and faster computers that will enable it to track even more objects in space with a higher degree of accuracy.

Soviet Union to Publish New Pasternak Book

MOSCOW (UP) — Boris Pasternak has a new book ready and it will be published in the Soviet Union, a well-placed Russian literary source said today.

"In contrast to his controversial novel, 'Doctor Zhivago,' Pasternak's new book of poems will be published," the source said.

Pasternak's novel on the Russian revolution was not published here although it was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature. It contained many passages unfavorable to the Communists.

Hollywood Headlines

Busy Janis Paige Rushes to Sign for 'Daisies' Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Redhead Janis Paige flew to the coast to sign for the important role next to Doris Day and David Niven in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," her first movie on the MGM lot in five years.

But before she reports to Joe Pasternak Aug. 8, Janis is going to be busier than a one-armed bus driver.

She's due in New York July 8 for a TV show, then on to Dallas for the stage revival of "High Button Shoes" July 23.

"I'm awfully excited about 'Please Don't Eat the Daisies,'" she long-distanced, "Chuck Walters is going to direct Jean Kerr's comedy and I haven't worked at MGM since 'Silk Stockings.'"

★ ★ ★

Caught the Dore Schary play, "A Majority of One," and went backstage to see Sir Cedrick Hardwicke who gives a very fine performance as a Chinese gentleman. It's a very amusing play and it was nice meeting Gertrude Berg whom I admired so long on TV.

Tallulah Bankhead telephoned me to say she is home from the hospital and has had literally hundreds of phone calls and messages from all over the country since I mentioned in my column that she is ill.

"It's true, I have been a sick girl," said Tallulah, "but thank God I am very much improved." I promised to try to run in and see her if I had time.

Snapshots of New York and Hollywood collected at random:

Took everyone five minutes to recognize Gloria De Haven at the Harwyn — her formerly blonde hair is very dark and very becoming. She's in New York for TV appearances accompanied by her wealthy Miami mate, Dick Fincher.

Love was really in bloom at the Stork Club with Rod Stieger and Claire Bloome holding hands.

Ditto Scott Brady and Anne Bancroft.

Benny Goffstein, recuperating in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital phoned to say that Red Skelton opens at the Riviera in Las Vegas June 29.

Mr. Laykin decorated his jewelry display windows with the "jools" Lana Turner wore in "Imitation of Life" — and who came in and bought the fabulous pearls? Lana Turner.

Talk is that Shawun Plunket, brother of Lord Plunket, grandson of the late Fanny Ward, has discovered Linda Christian or vice versa.

For her first nightclub date since the birth of the baby Mary Kaye and the trio open at the Cloister on July 10.

Spanish Actor Weds

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Spanish actor Gustavo Rojo, 32, and German actress Erika Remberg, 24, who met a year ago while making a film in Madrid, were married Tuesday.

Superior Court Judge Edward R. Brand performed the double ring ceremony in his chambers.

They will honeymoon in Mexico City after Rojo completes a television drama next week.

Pick Duke Ellington for NAACP Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — Composer-pianist Duke Ellington has been chosen to receive this year's Spingarn Medal, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, announced today.

The gold medal is awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement in his field. Presentation is scheduled during the NAACP's annual convention here July 13-19.

The medal was instituted in 1914 by the late J. E. Spingarn, then chairman of the NAACP board of directors.

An estimated 93 per cent of Canada's forests are publicly-owned.

Sen. Fitzpatrick Added to Legislative Sick Roll

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's legislative session drags on into its fifth month and another lawmaker is on the sick list.

Rep. E. A. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit) was confined to a Lansing hospital today, recovering from a shortness of breath first noticed last Friday.

Fitzpatrick was expected to be hospitalized the rest of this week. He was in an oxygen tent during the weekend but was removed from it yesterday. The lengthy session has seen two legislators die and five others hospitalized. Three of the five are still unable to attend sessions.

Gripping Experience for House Science Group

Army Tests Paralysis 'Weapon'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of the House Science and Space Committee went through a "gripping experience" watching animals being paralyzed by new secret weapons developed by the Army, it was disclosed today.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) said the "actual demonstration" made it easy to imagine what would happen if such weapons were used against Americans in battle or in air attacks at home.

Brooks said the weapons used were "new experimental incapaciting agents" but he did not identify them further. The Army said recently it was working on a nerve gas which would have similar effects.

"To relieve the minds of the public," he said, "the animal subjects used before the committee were in no way permanently harmed even though they suffered almost immediate temporary body paralysis."

However, Brooks warned that "the consequences for the nation . . . if we let down our defenses would be something else again."

He voiced concern that only one-thousandth of this country's defense budget is earmarked for chemical and germ warfare weapons. It's not enough, Brooks said.

* * *

The congressman did not reveal how much money actually was being spent but he called it "pitifully small."

"Unless research efforts to understand these new weapons are stepped up," he declared, "we could readily succumb to a Soviet attack of this nature."

As it stands now, Brooks said, the amount being spent was not "likely . . . to protect the free world against the effects of their use, or to create a deterrent capability to discourage Soviet use of such agents in any unsought future conflict."

"Even a tripling of funds for chemical, biological and radiological warfare research would be a very modest investment . . . and only for 20 years would be well worth the cost . . .," he said.

Brooks issued his statement following closed-door testimony that the Russians would resort to germ warfare in any future war "if it is to their advantage."

* * *

The report came from Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, chief Army chemical officer, who said the Soviets already have "openly stated" that the next war would see the use of such weapons.

Has 243 Heart Attacks

LEXINGTON, Mass. (UPI) — It's not always the end if you have a heart attack. Mrs. Louis C. Lerner has survived 243 of them. Before surgery corrected her condition six years ago, Mrs. Lerner had heart seizures repeatedly for 20 years.

A 1,572 foot television tower in time as the world's tallest Oklahoma City was claimed at the structure.

Tour Shows Women's Influence on Cars

Press Gets GM 'Inside View'

By LEE WINBORN

Woman is playing an increasingly more important role in every phase of the automobile industry, from the drawing board to the actual purchase of the new family car.

William L. Mitchell, General Motors Corp. vice president in charge of styling, traced the evolution of feminine influence on car manufacture at a special news conference yesterday. He was speaking to 33 women of the press from all parts of the United States.

TREATED ROYALLY

Meeting at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, the feminine members of the fourth estate were literally given the red carpet treatment.

They toured the grounds, visited the styling center and even were encouraged to express their own personal ideas about future car and household design.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell said that there are probably many reasons for the rapid growth in influence of women upon automobiles. One of the most important has been the general upsurge of feminine participation in every area of life in addition to homemaking—in politics, the arts, culture and business, he said.

★ ★ ★

Another is the "big move to the suburbs and the population increase in the Western states where distances are greater," the chief stylist said. This factor alone creates a greater demand by women for cars to meet their individual transportation needs.

Perhaps the most important single reason for the upswing of feminine influence, Mitchell explained, is that the auto industry has been able to provide a variety of devices which have turned driving a car from "a chore to a delightful experience."

He said feminine enthusiasm gave the greatest sales push to such options as automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows, air conditioning, tinted glass and other features.

WOMEN DESIGN

Mitchell cited another area of feminine influence in the automotive field. That is the addition of skilled women designers to the styling staff. Seven "Damsels of Design" are now employed at the Technical Center.

★ ★ ★

The styling executive said the car designing as a career is comparatively new to women, but one which offers unlimited opportunity for any girl with artistic talent.

General Motors hired its first woman designer in 1943.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell also emphasized that young women who enter the car styling field make the same salary as their male counterparts and are promoted as fast as their individual capabilities merit.

Luncheon for the "Ladies of the Press" was served in the plush styling cafeteria which had, as its last important visitor, King Baudouin of Belgium.

★ ★ ★

Following the afternoon spent behind the scenes at GM Styling where the writers became "designers for a day", the group was taken by bus to the Hotel Statler Hilton in Detroit. There they were guests of honor at a dinner-dance in the Terrace Room.

Included among their hosts at the day-long session were other GM styling executives, representing Frigidaire, Chevrolet, Pontiac, Fisher Body, Cadillac and Oldsmobile divisions, and public relations directors.

Chairman of the Zeta Zeta Omega sorority dance to be held Saturday is Mrs. Gary Hetherington, left. With her is Mrs. Russell Gee, publicity chairman. The two are cutting out decorations for the charity affair which will be held at the Rochester Golf and Country Club.

Designer Chides Queen for Dressing Her Age

By EDDIE GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—American dress designer Don Loper said today that Queen Elizabeth II is a well-dressed woman but dresses too much her age.

"It's probably not her fault," he added. "It's the fault of those who dress her. Why at times, she looks 33."

A reporter said that Her Majesty was 33.

"That's my point," he snapped.

Asked about Princess Margaret's clothes, Loper replied: "The princess is not an easy one to dress, this is because of her size."

Margaret is short with plenty of curves.

Loper said he had deep sympathy for the royal ladies and their clothes.

"Everyone's looking at them all the time and they look with a critical eye."

★ ★ ★

"They're on stage from the minute they wake until they go to bed. And don't forget—because of their great activities—standing around at ceremonies and walking through factories and such—they've got to be comfortable, too."

Here with four Hollywood models and what he claimed was a million dollars worth of dress, Loper was invited to put on a show for the glittering Anglo-American Ball.

★ ★ ★

Somebody asked how he thought Princess Grace Kelly of Monaco looks in her clothes.

Her Serene Highness looks dreadful now that those Paris dressmakers have got at her," he said.

"I used to make her look like a princess—now she looks like just plain Grace Kelly."

Asked if he didn't like French and Italian dressmakers, Loper snorted. "Some of them are just a bunch of juvenile delinquents. It's taken one certain young Frenchman several years to learn that a woman's bosom is in front."

Pine Lake Unit Will Fete Mates

Shish Kabob Set by Local Farm, Garden Group

Members of the Pine Lake Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. will entertain their husbands Thursday evening at a shish kabob cookout at the home of Mrs. Edna Keller on Pine View drive.

Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Carl Geise, Mrs. Kenneth Snoblin, Mrs. John Foster and Mrs. Donald Wolf will be hostesses for the final meeting of the season.

★ ★ ★

Four members of the Pine Lake Branch attended the 45th National Annual Council Meeting of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. held earlier this month at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island. The group here received an award of merit for extension sponsors during the year of 1958-59.

Those attending the convention were Mrs. Russell Kock, Mrs. Carl Geise, Mrs. Harold Schnieder and Mrs. Edna Keller.

★ ★ ★

The Pine Lake Branch are sponsors for the newly organized Sylvan Manor Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn.

Try Terry Cloth

Try reserving several small-size terrycloth towels for general cleaning use — scrubbing, polishing, dusting. They're serviceable, handy in size, easy to launder and inexpensive.

Busy making decorations for the Zeta Zeta Omega dance Saturday night are Mrs. Lynn Wyckoff, left, and Mrs. Gerald DeWees. The dance is being held to benefit the Community Health and Welfare Fund. Dancing begins at 9 p.m. at the Rochester Golf and Country Club.

Speakers Club Picks Officers

Using as a theme the emblem of the International Toastmistress Clubs, a beacon light challenging women to join in a self-development program, the Pontiac Toastmistress Club installed its new officers in a special ceremony at the Hotel Waldron Tuesday evening.

Gwen Polk will lead the club as president during the coming year. Acting as installing officer was a past president Mrs. Howard Wheatley.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Robert Sutton, vice president; Mrs. John Eddy, recording secretary and Gertrude Foley, corresponding secretary.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harley Group is the new treasurer and Mrs. Ivan Wilcox will be official representative to state and national affairs with Helen Lapisch as alternate.

Mrs. Clayton Rule was presented with a past president's pin.

Mrs. Robert Bunce was chairman of arrangements for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. George Gaches.

Miss Polk named the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Sutton, educational and program; Mrs. Rule, hostess; Mrs. Eddy, membership; Mrs. Group, press and publicity and Mrs. Wilcox, community service.

Plans were completed for attending Northeast Council No. 1 meeting to be held in Detroit Friday.

Family Reunion Set This Sunday

The 28th Symons family reunion will be held Sunday at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Braun of Covert road, Drayton Plains.

Approximately 65 members of the family and guests from Maryland and Indiana, and from as far north as St. Ignace in Michigan will be present for the 1 o'clock cooperative dinner. The day's activities will include games and swimming.

Daniel W. Symons, eldest member and acting president of the family recently celebrated his 91st birthday.

Dry Silver Fast

Silver and stainless spoons will air-dry in jig time if you place them upside down to drain after hot sudsing and a hot water rinse.

Members of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club admired the clever centerpiece at ceremonies to install officers for the coming year. From left to right are Mrs. Charles Stark, Mrs. John H. Eddy, Mrs. George Gaches and Mrs. Harley Group. Mrs. Eddy is recording secretary, Mrs. Gaches assisted in making arrangements for the meeting, and Mrs. Group is the new treasurer and publicity chairman.

Sorority Charity Dance Is Saturday

"The World Around Us" will be the theme for Zeta Zeta Omega Sorority's dance to be held Saturday evening at the Rochester Golf and Country Club. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Mrs. Gary L. Hetherington is general chairman for the affair which will benefit the Community Health and Welfare Fund. Music will be provided by the Wayne Francisco Combo.

★ ★ ★

Committee heads and their assistants include Mrs. Clinton Barrett, tickets, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Rathbun; Mrs. Edward Konzer, decorations, with Mrs. Lynn Wyckoff; Mrs. Gerald DeWees, Mrs. Dean Hetherington and Mrs. Dean Parmenter; and Mrs. Russell Gee, publicity chairman, whose assistants are Mrs. Gordon Booker, Mrs. Harold Nicholson, Mrs. Kenneth Squires and Mrs. Robert Young.

Patrons chairman is Mrs. Robert Lussier, working with Mrs. Joseph A. Ullom Jr. and Mrs. Robert Jolly. Others helping are Mrs. Robert Barnard, post dance chairman, assisted by Mrs. George Mattinson; Mrs. James O. Smith, refreshments chairman, aided by Mrs. Jack Selberg and Mrs. Sam Savas; and Mrs. Bernard Toutant, orchestra chairman, assisted by Mrs. William DeQuis.

Patrons for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stoppert, Mr. and Mrs. James Seeterlin, Dr. and Mrs. John F. Naz, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Segula, Dr. and Mrs. Alan L. Cline, Dr. and Mrs. Carl M. Bolten and Dr. and Mrs. James St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Reports on the state convention June 12-13 at Bay City were heard when the Ladies Auxiliary of World War I, Oakland County Barracks No. 49, met Sunday at the VFW Hall. A cooperative dinner was held.

★ ★ ★

Members of the group attending the convention were Mrs. George Ault of Milford, Mrs. Paul Boelter, and Mrs. Alfred Pace.

Announcement was made of the national convention to be held Sept. 20-24 at Louisville, Ky.

The group will meet again in September.

'What Did You Bring Me' Natural for Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One weekend when Ted was about 3, he suddenly became aware of visitors.

His Uncle Bob arrived, and after greeting the grownups, sat down on the davenport in his overcoat. Feeling in its pockets, he said as though to himself, "Now what's all this stuff in here?"

Shrieking with delight, Ted's sister flung herself on Uncle Bob's right overcoat pocket and emerged with a toy watch, soap in the form of a black kitten, some peppermints and a little vial of perfume.

Ted had started shrieking, too, because it seemed the thing to do.

But when he discovered a whale for his bathtub in Uncle Bob's left pocket, he stopped yelling. As the pocket disgorged a whistle, his own bag of peppermints and a clockwork bus, he was too gratefully astounded to even say "Thank you." Right then and there, visitors and presents became mixed up in his mind.

So he's became something of a problem to his parents. Whenever a friend or a relative comes to visit, Ted shouts with happy expectation, "What did you bring me?"

Many of the visitors resent this greeting. They want to be loved for themselves alone and feel uneasy when Ted demands presents from them, especially when they haven't brought him any. His Aunt Mabel, for instance, is convinced that he's being trained to rudeness and materialism.

I think shes' mistaken.

A child's "What did you bring me?" is his innocent certainty that all grownups love him and are interested in giving him pleasure.

Usually, like Uncle Bob, some visitor has demonstrated this interest so impressively that the child expects it from all subsequent visitors just as we expect water from faucets because the first one we ever turned on delivered it.

We need not use the word "rude" when we tell Ted that Aunt Mable is not Uncle Bob and feels unhappy when he yells "What did you bring me?"

* * *

As children grow, they may begin to welcome our friends and relatives for their beautiful souls. Right now they are fascinated by Uncle Bob's capacity to turn his coat pockets into a source of wonder and delight.

Too Many Corsages to Handle

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much appreciate hearing from you on the proper way to handle the following situation: My mother recently left by plane on a very important trip. She arrived at the airport wearing a corsage. A group of her friends had gone down to the airport to see her off and presented her with another corsage.

"She certainly could not wear both of them and it presented an awkward situation for my mother. Will you please tell me what was the proper thing to do about this second corsage?"

Answer: She could have told her friends that she would keep their lovely corsage fresh and wear it on her arrival.

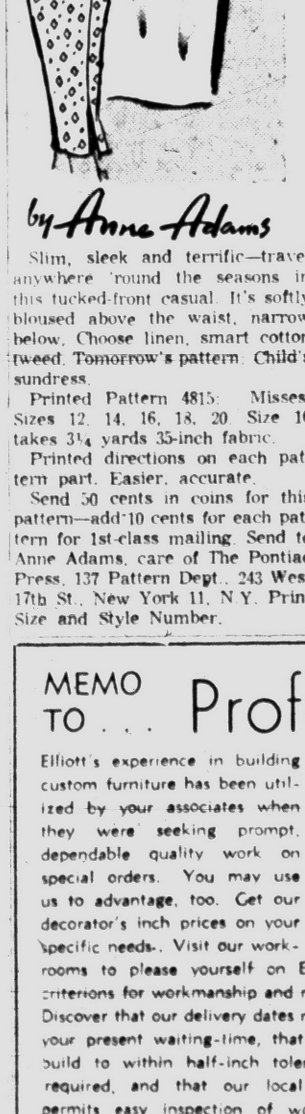

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your help in naming my second child who is due shortly. My son is named John McGregor Jones, my father's name being John McGregor. I would like to name my expected child Annie Laurie McGregor Jones for my father's mother or James McGregor Jones for my father's brother.

"The name McGregor means so very much to me because I am the only living one. I am proud of our tartan crest and motto and would like for the name to be carried on. In some countries the mother's name is given to each child but would it be in poor taste in our country?"

Answer: If your husband does not object to your wish to give your family name to each of your children, you may quite properly do so.

Handkerchief Hint

A clean handkerchief placed in the pockets of shirts and dresses on ironing day will do away with the hunting of handkerchiefs in the morning.

Schramm-Kemp Vows Spoken in Church Rite

MRS. LOUIS SCHRAMM

A silk organza gown with Alencon lace appliques was worn by Margaret Ann Kemp for her marriage to Louis Jay Schramm Saturday evening. The Rev. H. H. Savage officiated at the ceremony which was held at First Baptist Church in the presence of some 350 guests. Baskets of gladioli, delphinium, and candelabra decorated the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kemp of Scott Lake road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Schramm of Romeo.

A Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves, and a bouffant skirt with chapel train were outstanding designs of the bride's gown. She wore a crown of lace, seed pearls, and sequins with a hand-rolled imported French illusion fingertip veil and carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, pink Sweetheart roses, and stephanotis.

* * *

Mrs. William Duane Casey attended as matron of honor, gowned in white dotted Swiss over wood rose taffeta with a wide bow and streamers of matching rose grosgrain ribbon at the back. The dress featured a scoop neckline, cap sleeves, and full skirt in a short formal length. She held a white fan with Virginia pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Corean Jantz of West Plains, Mo., Ruth Forstner of Kalamazoo, and Shirley Ream of Indianapolis, Ind. wore gowns styled identically to that of the honor matron in tea rose, clover pink, and blush pink respectively. All wore gauntlets of dotted Swiss, headbands with nose veils, and held white fans with pink carnations.

* * *

The bridegroom's brother, Dewey Ray Schramm of Romeo, was best man. Ushers were Myron M. Miller of Niles, Ralph Pelletier of St. Anne, Ill., James Davis and Frederick Wagner Jr., both of Romeo, and Ethan Allen Rogers.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Kemp wore an ice blue lace sheath with bone accessories and a corsage of Carol Amyling Sweetheart Roses for her daughter's wedding. A beige lace ensemble with flared skirt and white accessories was the choice of Mrs. Schramm. She wore a corsage of rose pink Sweetheart roses.

For traveling through northern Michigan the new Mrs. Schramm changed to a multicolored silk shantung sheath dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage from the bridal bouquet.

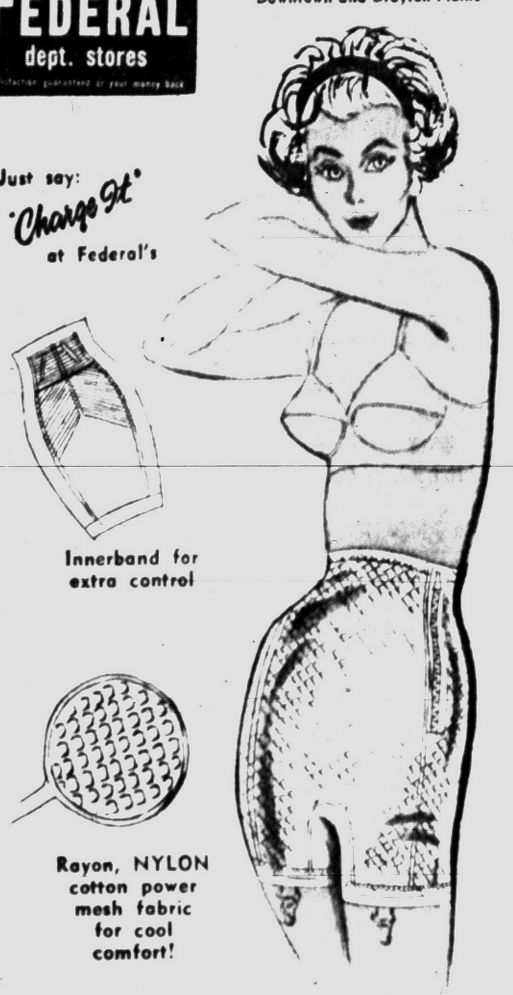

The couple will reside in Chicago, Ill. Both are recent graduates of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Preserve Home Front — Abby

Better Call Point of Order, Then Revise the 'Buy-Laws'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If answered in the paper, my problem could help many other married men with the same trouble. My wife is a convention hound. National, State, Regional or District. It doesn't make any difference. She joins organizations for the sole purpose of going out of town to conventions.

ABBY

She spends money on clothes to keep up with the national officers, and I have to stay home and make the money for her to spend. I eat out alone and have to come back to any empty house. How can I put a stop to this?

CONVENTION WIDOWER

DEAR "WIDOWER": appoint yourself Chairman of the "Committee to Preserve the Home Front." Rule that charity begins at home (yours) and tell her you can't spare her but once a year. Then, revise the "buy-laws."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and think I should have something to say about this matter. My parents are forcing me to go to summer camp again this year.

I went last year and hated it. I didn't have one friend. My parents tell me there are plenty of kids my age who would give anything to go to summer camp. I told them they could go in my place.

They said if I thought I was going to sit around all summer and watch television I was sadly mistaken. What's wrong with staying home and watching television? I think my parents are just trying to get rid of me. What can I do.

CAMP HATER

DEAR HATER: Change your attitude. You are being offered a healthy, constructive summer in a wholesome out-of-doors atmosphere. Here is an opportunity to gain valuable experience in learning to get along with others. Determine to make friends and enjoy camp—and you will. Your parents know what they are doing.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have been in love with this guy for six years. He has talked about marriage in a round-about way, but he never comes right out and asks me to marry him. He is no schoolboy, Abby. He is 41 years old. I am 33. He keeps telling me he needs time to think. How much time is enough to "think in"?

THE LONELY ONE.

DEAR LONELY: It depends on what he is thinking about. If he has been thinking about marriage, six years is ample time in which to come to a decision. Give him until the Fourth of July. If you have to put a firecracker under him —look elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: Can any of your readers help me? I am in my 20's and my hair is coming out by the handfuls. I had a baby five months ago and everyone says that's why it is coming out. Everytime I comb my hair so much hair comes out that I get scared to death. If I don't do something about it I won't have any hair left at all. I have had two other children and my hair never came out like this before so I'm afraid that isn't the answer. Please help me.

IN MY 20'S

DEAR IN: Go to your doctor and let him examine your scalp. Don't guess! In all probability something can be done for this condition. I recommend professional medical advice immediately.

★ ★ ★

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Methodist Church Members Fete Pastor and Wife

Members and friends of Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church surprised their pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. C. Warren Wilson, with an informal reception Sunday evening.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Wilson is beginning his fifth year as minister of the church.

Following greetings from each department of the church a gift was presented the couple. The Women's Society of Christian Service then served refreshments.

During Rev. Wilson's four-year pastorate, the church has added a new building, designed as an education unit featuring an upper-floor sanctuary with a seating capacity of 200.

The converted farm house which had been used as a church for many years recently was razed to provide parking facilities.

Tot's Place Mat

Smooth a piece of transparent plastic film under each child's dinner plate. It gives a nearly invisible prootection to the tablecloth, and can be washed afterward with a whisk of a well-sudsed cloth or sponge.

Store plant bulbs in old nylons. Hang the plants from the basement ceiling or any dry place. Put the same type of bulbs into one stocking and label.

teen-age ACNE
(VULGARIS)

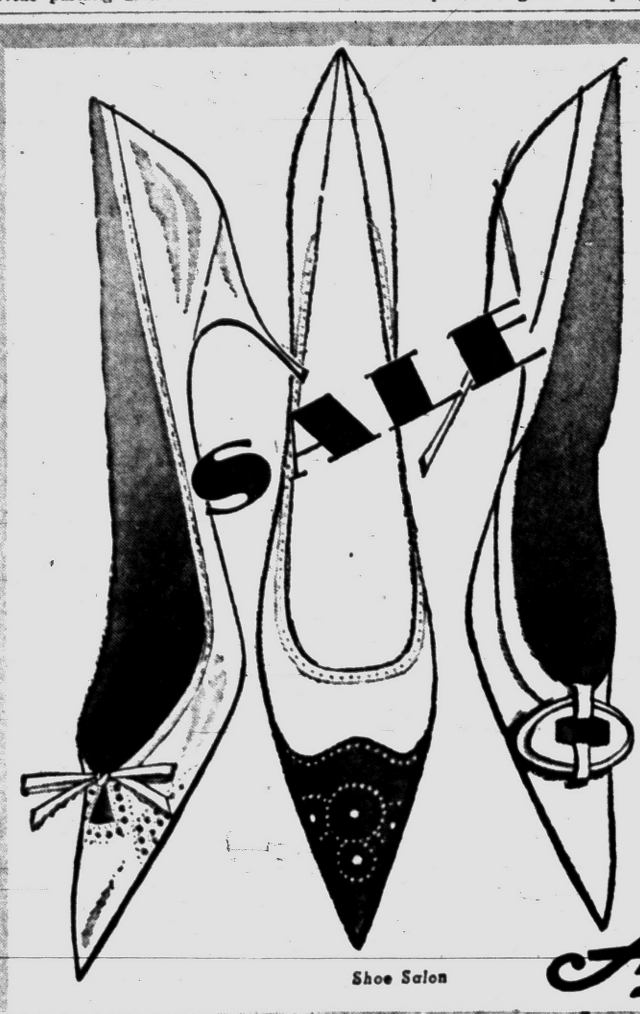

Acne can ruin life for the teen-ager. Young people with acne often develop an inferiority complex. And sympathetic parents become emotionally involved. Teen-age acne usually ends with maturity, but ugly pockmarks can be an embarrassment through life.

Now, doctors report "excellent results"—"dramatic improvement"—in as high as 88% of acne cases with a combination of large amounts of vitamin A, vitamin C, and citrus bioflavonoids from oranges.

CLYR Tablets, a dietary food supplement, contain vitamins A and C—with citrus bioflavonoids—the same nutrients recommended by those doctors who have used them so successfully in correcting juvenile acne. Teen-agers (and their parents) can be thankful for this new discovery.

Start working on that unattractive complexion today. Ask for CLYR Tablets. One month's supply—$7.50.

Mighty Handy Weapon Against Attack

Urges Women Carry Canes—and Use Them

By LOUIS McKEE

DETROIT (UPI) — Women need no longer be afraid of "muggers" attacking them on Detroit streets, or in any other city for that matter.

Councilwoman Mary V. Beck recently suggested that women in the city should carry canes to protect themselves from surprise attacks on the street. She suggested the city organize classes to teach women in the use of canes as weapons against attack.

★ ★ ★

And Brooks Mendell, described as the nation's greatest expert in hand-to-hand combat and the art of self-protection, agreed that women should know how to defend themselves against assailants.

Mendell, here to speak with city and state officials about physical fitness, conferred with Miss Beck about her suggestions.

SHOWS TECHNIQUES

He took time out to show this UPI reporter how a cane might be used as a "lethal weapon" for protection.

When Mendell "attacked" the throat he advised against raising the cane above the head to strike. He said an assailant could protect himself from the blow by raising his arms to meet the cane, just as a boxer protects his face in a fight by raising his arms.

The proper use of the cane to ward off a frontal attack, Mendell said, would be to jab the "weapon" at the attacker in the midsection, or solar plexus. Other vulnerable points, he added, would be the eyes, "Adam's apple" or throat.

And it works. Try poking your husband, or even yourself in the solar plexus with a pencil—gently though, it's very effective.

★ ★ ★

When attacked from the rear, Mendell said, the best means of protection would be to thrust the cane upwards over the shoulder striking the attacker in the neck or under the jaw.

He also suggested directing the cane around the body to strike the attacker in the rib.

WEAPON UNNECESSARY

But Mendell said he was not in favor of using canes, umbrellas, or other weapons for self-protection. He is of the school which prefers the simple use of the body.

Mendell, 54, New York, recently returned to the United States from a tour of Europe and Asia in an effort to determine the source of physical fitness among children there.

★ ★ ★

He said he would confer with government officials here to discuss programs which would prepare American children in the same manner. Mendell cited recent comments about European and Russian children passing physical fitness tests which American children were unable to pass.

★ ★ ★

Mendell has been working with the armed forces since around 1942 when he developed a physical fitness program which has been described in a book he wrote for use by the government in training troops.

He also works with security and narcotics agents in the use of hand-to-hand combat against weapons, judo and boxing.

During his conference with Miss Beck he described how women, as well as men, could use their physical abilities to ward off any would-be attacker. He said if people realized that "their bodies are mechanisms for self-protection" they would fare much better.

Bending fingers, twisting wrists, and other painful if not bone-breaking techniques are useful tricks to know, he said.

OVERCOME FEAR

Mendell said another step toward success in the art of self-protection could be accomplished if people could overcome fear. He said a great amount of fear can be overcome if some of the methods of self-protection are familiar.

★ ★ ★

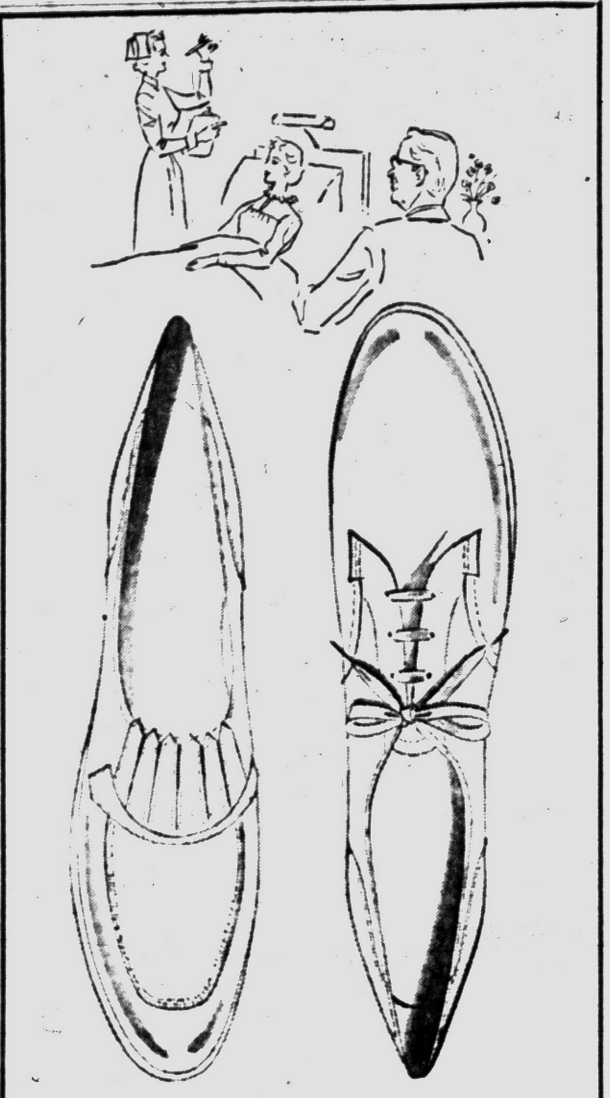

Miss Beck asked the 5-foot, 7-inch, 170-pound graduate of Yale and St. John's University to give instruction to Detroiters on methods of protection. But he said he was planning a national tour to discuss physical fitness programs with other governmental officials.

★ ★ ★

He said he planned to confer with officials in Washington on his findings during his tour abroad. But he hinted that if he were to start classes of this type, Detroit might be his first stop.

While he's on his tour, women in Detroit might well practice self-protection with canes and have it mastered on his return.

Legs Pass Test of Summer?

This is for fat knees: Bend the knee back as far as you can, return leg to floor. Continue, alternating, left and right.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Legs are always an important part of the feminine figure ensemble, but this is especially true when fashion dictates the short skirt. Also, in summer, leg defects which blushed unseen during winter months come into full view with swimsuits and playclothes.

Some of these hidden saboteurs are the flabby inner thigh line, pads on the outer thighs, and bony or fat knees. Special exercises will greatly improve the first two conditions. I do not know what you can do about bony knees except to gain weight if you are underweight. Fat knees can be improved some.

Naturally if you are overweight a loss in poundage will reduce the fat on the knees. You also can benefit by the following exercise.

This is one of the very best exercises for beautifying the thighs. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Raise both legs JUST OFF OF THE FLOOR. Swing the legs apart as far as comfortable. Swing the legs toward one another, crossing the right leg over the left. Again swing the legs apart and then toward each other, this time crossing the left leg over the right. Continue, alternating right and left.

While the shape of the leg has the greatest influence on its appearance, yet the kind of stockings you wear also has much influence. For instance the woman who has very thin legs should wear seamless stockings since the up and down line is slimming. By the same token the woman with large legs will profit by the back seam and should not wear seamless hose.

Seams should be avoided like poison if you are even slightly bowlegged. Also remember that dark colors are slimming while the lighter shades will make your legs look larger.

The shape of the heel also has an effect. A pointed or tapered heel is slimming while the squarer ones make the ankle and leg appear thicker.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my routine of exercise for lovely legs, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "If the 'Eyes Have It' — Lines, Puffs, Circles, Here's help."

'Know Thyself'

Knowing your own type is one of several essential keys to good dressing. A large woman should never wear frills nor flowery hats. Neither should she stick to strictly tailored suits. Her best bet is a quiet femininity.

When all around you are wilting under summer heat and humidity you can give the appearance of being cool, calm and collected. It takes a little effort but the results are worth while. Use a cooling cologne after frequent showers. Use make up lightly, add frosty touches of white in gloves or summer jewelry. Avoid necklaces and leather lined belts. Dedication Slated Sunday for New Hospital Addition

18-Bed Facility South of Almont

Many Area Churchmen and Business Persons Will Participate

ALMONT—The recently-completed 18-bed addition to the new Community Hospital, located on M53 just south of here, will be formally dedicated at 3 p.m. Sunday.

James T. Ligon, treasurer of the Community Hospital Foundation Board, will act as master of ceremonies. He will be introduced by Thomas K. Richards, hospital board president.

Mrs. Fred Schoenmann, Jr., of Romeo will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner," after which the Rev. Donald Vanderwerp of the First Congregational Church, Armada, will give the invocation.

* * *

Ligon then will introduce the area hospital leaders and special guests.

Dr. G. Clare Bishop, chief of staff, will speak briefly on the medical needs of the area which necessitated the building of the new addition.

Prof. [illegible] Dean of the Lawrence Institute of Technology, Detroit, who is president of the High Land Park Industries, Inc., will describe briefly, the population growth in outstate areas and the facilities being constructed to provide the health needs of residents of their families.

* * *

Concluding the dedication will be the Rev. Peter Vos of the First Congregational Church, Pontiac.

Mrs. Robert Paton of Armada, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital, will cut the ribbon, formally opening the new addition.

The Rev. Father Joseph Merrick, Oxford, will give the benediction.

Hospital officials invite visitors to tour the new wing and other parts of the hospital, except the rooms occupied by patients. Members of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary and Red Cross Gray Ladies will act as guide.

BLESSES WORKERS — A hundred devout parish workers receive the solemn blessing of their pastor, the Rev. Lester J. Ellis, at St. Patrick Catholic Church, White Lake Township. The benediction was administered last night at the opening of a food dinner to build a new St. Patrick's Church. Workers in the campaign have already solicitated $82,896, which is approximately 40 per cent of the parish's total needs of $218,000. The first general report for all campaign workers will be made tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the church hall.

2nd Zoning Suit Hits Southfield

Legality of Ordinance Challenged by Detroiter Seeking to Build Clinic

SOUTHFIELD — The legality of this city's zoning law is being challenged by a second suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by a Detroit man who wants to build a medical clinic in Southfield.

The City Council has refused to rezone Samuel Wenner's property on 10 Mile road at Rutland road from residential to commercial.

What has to be decided is whether the city had an effective zoning law when Wenner asked for a building permit.

The old township law was adopted in March. Because of a technical error in the adoption procedure, which was discovered early in May, the city had to readopt the zoning law which became effective last Thursday.

The other suit filed involves five acres of land on Southfield road north of 12 Mile road upon which the Southfield Shopping Center Building Co. wants to erect a $1½ million shopping center.

City Attorney James S. Allen has been ordered by the City Council to defend both suits.

IT'S REALLY NO BOTHER — Freda, a circus elephant, calmly emerges from a truck that overturned yesterday near Rensselaer, N. Y. Her elephant companions, Liz and Terry, followed her out. Then they set the truck back up on its wheels so they could continue en route to their next performance.

State Farmers Will Vote on Wheat Quotas July 23

LANSING (UPI) — A wheat marketing quota referendum will be held July 23 so Michigan farmers can vote on approval of the marketing quotas.

* * *

A two-thirds vote is required for approval, the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced. If quotas are approved, it will be the seventh straight year they have been used for wheat.

It was a dispute with the government over wheat quotas that prompted Dowagiac farmer Stanley Yankus to move to Australia.

To be eligible to vote, a farmer must have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain next year. Polling places throughout the state will be set up by the ASC county committees with locations announced at county offices.

* * *

If quotas are approved, farmers will be eligible to market all their alloted quota wheat without restriction. If not, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketings.

* * *

The Agriculture Department estimated that farmers would produce 1,181,306,000 bushels of wheat this year, about 19 per cent below 1958's whopping record crop but still well above average.

The department's estimate, based on June 1 crop conditions, included 941,236,000 bushels of winter wheat and 240,360,000 bushels of spring wheat. This compared with a 1958 winter crop of 1,179,924,000 bushels and a spring yield of 282,294,000 bushels.

The 1959 winter wheat crop was expected to be the fifth largest on record, with yields per acre second only to last year's phenomenal record.

President Eisenhower has warned Congress that unless Congress passes legislation to curb wheat production, the whole wheat price support program will collapse. The taxpayers already have three billion dollars invested in wheat surpluses.

Honeymooning in North After Davisburg Wedding

CAROL SUE SOMERVILLE

DAVISBURG — Honeymooning in Northern Michigan following their wedding Saturday at Davisburg Methodist Church are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Dahl.

* * *

The bride is the former Lorraine Anne Rioux and the daughter of Mr. and Mr. Harold E. Rioux of 9997 Davisburg Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Dahl of Union Grove, Wis.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Zack Clayton before an altar decorated with palms and white flowers.

For her wedding the bride chose organza and chantilly lace over taffeta. The bodice was sprinkled with iridescent sequins and pearls.

Her gown featured a scoop neckline, brief sleeves and a princess skirt which swept to a circular chapel train.

A matching lace and jeweled crown held her fingertip veil of imported illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with two cymbidiums in the center.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Miss Barbara Ann Walker of Detroit. Carol A. Eisel of Lombard, Ill., and Mrs. Lance E. Beeby of Clarkston, Becky Weiser of Davisburg were bridesmaids.

* * *

John Dahl of Union Grove, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Attendants were John Nelson of Kokomo, Ind., the bridegroom's brother-in-law; Donald Dillon, Jr., of Sturgis, and Wes and Tom Mealy of Waterford, Wis.

Ushers were Louis Brugger of Evanston, Ill., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the bride's brother, Robert. A nephew of the bridegroom, Howard Dahl of Union Grove, served as ringbearer.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside in Waterford, Wis.

MRS. JAMES H. DAHL

Newlyweds Will Reside in Pontiac Upon Return

LAKE ORION — A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

MRS. BRUCE V. SPENCER

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Collingwood chose a ballerina length gown of imported Italian silk over white satin. Her fingertip veil was secured by a pearl tiara.

She carried a colonial bouquet of classic red sheba carnations that were a second of pearls which were a gift of the bridegroom.

Attending the bride was Barbara Ann Burke of Pontiac. Paul Oliver of Oxford was best man.

Work to Assure Comfort for All on 4th at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Kiwanis Club, sponsoring the 4-mile "Run-O-Rama" celebration, Fri. at the Rochester Senior High School athletic field, has a Facilities Committee busy arranging for the comfort and convenience of all spectators and program participants, a club spokesman announced today.

* * *

Frank Bogart and Henry Mitzel said are arranging for off-street parking of 725 cars.

Volunteers will be trained to assist in directing the flow of traffic and parking of cars. Park area is zoned for over 1,000 cars.

* * *

A public address system will permit the entire audience to hear the program and also to permit communication throughout the grounds.

Wed in Birmingham

In Monday's county news page, the headline on the Bourdo-Oakley wedding story erred in stating that the ceremony was performed at Clarkston. Barbara Sue Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Oakley of 73 N. Holcomb St., Clarkston, was married to Barry J. Bourdo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bourdo of Northport, at the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham.

LAID UP BY BROKEN LEG; COLLECTS $50 WEEKLY, MONEY FOR MEDICAL BILLS

A fall from a ladder which occurred while putting up window screens at his home sent Mr. F. T. to the hospital with a broken leg. He lost 10 weeks pay while laid up but his Hartford Personal Accident Insurance paid him $50 a week to help make up for this and, in addition, paid his doctor and hospital bills of $556.85.

Farmers Despair, Housewives Happy

Egg Surplus Wobbling on Brink

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Many Michigan farmers have been and are in the grip of an economic cycle which has put producers in producers throughout the country and pleased Mrs. Housewife.

* * *

The trouble or pleasure depending on which end of the situation you are, "runs from overproduction and sweeps from New Jersey to California.

Eggs have sold for 19 cents a dozen, making it easy on the housewife's budget but crippling on the economics of many egg raisers.

John Ferris, extension specialist in agricultural economics at Michigan State University, said some farmers were getting out of the egg business.

PLACEMENT DROPS

Placement by hatcheries of egg type chicks had dropped 30 per cent in recent weeks, he said.

The trouble, of course, was too many eggs for the demand. This was caused by too many chickens laying too many eggs which in turn resulted in too many chickens.

Some reports indicated government grade supports were partly to blame. Farmers getting egg-poked grants had to put more than they thought they could produce it too expensive to produce the cheap eggs.

* * *

Lawrence E. Dawson, assistant professor in poultry science at MSU, said these things were factors but that they might help to provide a stable egg industry rather than having the fluctuations which cause farmers trouble every two years or so.

Dawson said chickens can be made to hatch anytime of the year and eventually the early summer increase of eggs might be avoided by a leveling off of the egg cycle.

He said the cycle has been leveling off in recent years and one of the eventual aims is to achieve this stability.

GOVERNMENT BUYING UP

The government, in order to ease the price situation, has stepped up purchase of eggs for school lunch programs and welfare purposes.

There isn't a lot the average farmer can do, Dawson said. He can wait out the low point in the price cycle and that's about it because egg prices are largely set in larger urban areas of the country, on almost a national level.

* * *

Dawson wouldn't predict the future too closely except to say prices would improve for the farmer in perhaps two months.

"The last half of the year is always better than the first half," he said, "because flock replacements cause the supply to be low er."

* * *

Another MSU expert on eggs Henry Lazelere, an agricultural economist, was meeting in Chicago this week with other experts from other states in an attempt to find out what can be done, if anything, to hurry along the improvement.

Mexican Consul Probes Shooting

Knife-Brandishing Man Killed by Policeman Wasn't U.S. Citizen

The fatal shooting of a Mexican citizen by a Pontiac police detective was investigated yesterday afternoon by the Mexican Consul in Detroit, Alberto Becerra.

* * *

The Mexican, Manuel Gomez, 58, of 58 W. Wilson Ave., was killed by Det. August R. Martinez Monday in a scuffle with Martinez and Patrolman Gerald Navarre.

The officers had gone into the building after Gomez had brandished a knife through the windows, threatening anyone who approached and yelling that he was going to commit suicide.

Gomez, who had lived in Pontiac several years, had never become an American citizen. He was employed at the Rotary Electric Co.

INTERVIEWS WITNESSES

Becerra interviewed neighbors of Gomez and police officers who were at the scene of the shooting.

The findings of his investigation are as yet unknown.

Maurice Public Safety Director George D. Eastman announced that Martinez and Navarre were both to be commended for their handling of the situation.

Police work at the case was reviewed at two staff meetings of Police Department command personnel.

The two officers entered the home after tear gas failed to force Gomez outside.

Gomez was shot when he lunged at the officers with the knife.

Quads Born— Worried Dad 'Glad It's Over'

NEW YORK (AP)—Quadruplets—three boys and a girl—were born today to a 26-year-old Brooklyn woman in the Public Health Service Hospital at Clifton, Staten Island.

The children are the first for Alex, 30, and Bessie Kajouras, of Brooklyn.

The father, a Columbia College graduate, class of 1958, has just completed his first year at Columbia Law School. During the school year he drives a taxi cab at night. During this summer vacation he is driving a truck.

The babies, immediately placed in an incubator, were born between 8:45 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. Only the largest, a boy, was weighed. He weighed 4 pounds 2½ ounces. They were described as normal.

Mrs. Kajouras had been in the hospital since June 1 under the care of Dr. Robert S. Dawson, chief of the obstetrical section. It was known she would give birth to four.

The hospital is operated by the federal government for certain federal employes but other patients are admitted for special study. Mrs. Kajouras was admitted because of the special medical aspects of her case.

"Oh, gosh," exclaimed the new father. "I've been sweating this out so long. I'm so glad its over, that my wife is fine and the babies healthy."

Kajouras said he believed the babies would be named Leon Paul, Michael and Anthea Mary.

Until she became pregnant Mrs. Kajouras had been attending the Columbia School of General Studies. Kajouras said he doubted if she would continue with her studies now.

Kajouras said he has a five-room apartment but the rooms are very small.

"We'll manage, though," he said.

Pontiac Offers Throttle Control for Pike Travel

A new throttle control accessory called Magi-Cruise has just been introduced in Pontiac to add more comfort and pleasure to driving, it was announced by S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Specifically intended for turnpike driving, the unit, when set, retains a constant accelerator position after the driver removes his foot from the pedal. With Magi-Cruise in operation, the driver's foot is relieved of constant accelerator pressure.

Magi-Cruise is simple to operate and low in cost. When desired cruising speed is reached, a light tap on the brake pedal with the left foot engages the control, then the right foot can be removed from the accelerator. The system is disengaged just as easily by tapping the brake pedal with the left foot.

Any application of brakes will release Magi-Cruise and any setting can be overridden by depression of the accelerator pedal. The entire unit may be disengaged at any time by merely turning the control knob to the "off" position.

Magi-Cruise can be a fuel saver as well as a foot saver since it eliminates unnecessary throttle movement.

Local Tot Injured in Auto Accident

A 3-year-old Pontiac boy was injured slightly yesterday afternoon when he ran into a car at the corner of E. Pike street and Division avenue.

Gerald Johnson of 7 N. Shirley Ave. was treated for cuts of the right elbow at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and later released.

Driver of the car, Ronald McDonough of Detroit, told police that the boy was playing in the street and ran into the right front fender of the car. McDonough was traveling slowly when the accident occurred, police reported.

Vernon M. Page, of 199 Rockwell St., has been reappointed to a five-year term on the five-member Pontiac Housing Commission.

Page's reappointment was recommended by City Manager Wallace E. Wilkinson and approved by the City Council last night.

* * *

Wilkinson said he will make a recommendation soon to fill the vacancy created when the term of Otis Lawrence of 150 Perry St. expired a year ago.

The commission has been operating with only four members since then.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa arrives here today for a tour of the Air Force missile test center and a probable drive for new union members in this area.

Hoffa checked in at adjacent Cocoa Beach late last night and aides indicated he might disclose today the primary reason for his visit.

Searching Cliff for Fire Victims

Tourists Fleeing Blaze in Norway Hotel May Have Plunged to Death

VOSSESTRAND, Norway (UPI)—Some of the American tourists missing in the fire which destroyed the Stalheim Hotel yesterday may have plunged over a cliff to their death while fleeing in panic, police said today.

Norwegian authorities called in experienced mountain climbers to check the steep and rugged cliff area immediately behind the burned-out hotel where 21 to 41 persons were feared killed.

Rescuers have recovered the bodies of 10 victims from the wreckage. Police said a dozen or more still were believed missing. Twenty-two were hospitalized.

At the same time police questioned a Norwegian travel guide leader in belief a party in his room may have caused the fire which roared through the 50-year-old four-story wooden hotel in a matter of minutes.

Police said the Norwegian, who was not named—claimed he was not in his room when the blaze started. But he admitted having a party in his second floor room several hours before the fire.

A deep precipice forms a canyon like back yard for the hotel, and investigators summoned Western Norway's top mountain climbers for the search. Authorities said many of the guests arrived only a few hours before the fire and did not know of the cliff's existence.

American Embassy officials at Oslo refused to make public a list of American casualties. Police said this probably was the only accurate listing of American victims.

The hotel contained 147 tourists at the time of the fire — 130 Americans, 13 Britons, 2 Swedes and 2 Dutch citizens.

Police Commissioner Johannes Haugland, heading an investigation, said the condition of the recovered bodies prevented positive identification. Dr. Georg Wasder of Bergen University, top Norwegian pathologist, was summoned to aid in the work.

British officials at Bergen said unofficial casualty lists published in Sweden were incorrect. They said a Mr. and Mrs. A. Parry reported American were New Zealanders and others. They also reported a Mrs. E. Armer of Toronto, Ont., listed as a U.S. citizen, was injured.

Doctors kept 32 survivors in the hospital at nearby Voss. Only one, Mimi Mulder of Holland, was reported in critical condition.

Madison Heights Home Blazes

2 Infants Critically Burned

Trapped in their bedroom by flames, two young Madison Heights children were burned critically this morning.

They are Frank Styber, 9 months, and his 2-year-old sister, Carol, children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Styber of 26592 Brettonwoods Rd.

Doctors at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak said they were burned over 75 per cent of their bodies.

The children were asleep when the fire broke out in the kitchen shortly before 8:50 a.m. Their bedroom, located just off the kitchen, was quickly enveloped with dense smoke and intensive heat, firemen said. Flames barred escape through the door into the kitchen.

* * *

Mrs. Styber was sleeping in another room when the fire broke out. She said she awoke at the smell of smoke and tried to rescue her youngsters, but was unable to get through the flames in the kitchen. She ran out on the street crying for help.

A Madison Heights fireman, Milton Cunningham, who happened to be passing the house at the time, reached into the bedroom window and rescued the boy.

The Madison Heights Fire Dept. arrived at the scene within minutes and another member donned a mask to bring Carol out of the bedroom.

* * *

Fire Chief J. R. Sloan said the blaze apparently was caused by something igniting on top of the stove. He estimated the damage to the home at about $2,000.

Mr. Styber was at work at the time. He is employed by the Standard Electric Co., Royal Oak. Neither Mrs. Styber nor their other two children were burned.

Drivers' Bill in Senate Today

Would Curb Scooters; Up License Fees; Ask Education Charge

LANSING (AP)—Proposed changes in motor scooter regulation, driver license fees and driver education financing all were wrapped up in one legislative package that hit the Senate floor today.

The most explosive ingredient was a recommended $10 per student charge for driver education courses in high school — now free.

The State Affairs Committee endorsed it yesterday in jiggering with a House-approved bill that started out to put stricter curbs on motor scootering.

Apprised of the amendment, Secretary of State James M. Hare, who doubles as chairman of the State Traffic Safety Commission, obviously was taken aback. He said he wanted to think over the implications.

Hare said he thought charging the fee would cut down driver education course enrollment, which zoomed to an estimated 105,000 this school year. It was 70,000 two years ago in the first full year of the program.

* * *

The committee recommended a 50 cents increase in rates both for an original drivers license, now $2, and for renewals now $2. Revenue from these changes would come to about $750,000 a year.

As things stand, driver education financing is all but kaput. Instead of the maximum of $25 per pupil the state undertook to pay as a subsidy, only between $16 and $18 is in sight for 1957-58.

Money for the $1,800,000 payment to local school districts, handled on a reimbursement basis in July, is nowhere in sight. The Legislature earlier rejected a $600,000 supplemental appropriation for this purpose.

A few districts have discontinued driver training because of financing headaches in recent months.

$800 Bid Accepted on City-Owned Land

City commissioners last night accepted a bid of $800 for purchase of a 37-foot parcel on the south side of Hollister street west of Emery street.

The bid was submitted by Harold F. Finn of 480 Fourth St. who wants to build new houses there, according to Commissioner Floyd F. Miles.

* * *

Finn's bid was $50 above any other offer made last week by Belaire Home Builders, Inc., of Detroit.

Finn had offered $200 last week, then raised his price after sale of the land was thrown open to competitive bidding. Finn's bid was the only one opened last night.

Area Man Rescued in St. Clair River

A West Bloomfield Township man was rescued by three fishermen early this morning from the St. Clair River near Marine City after his 14-foot outboard capsized.

Robert Campbell, 50, of 7411 Hardisty St. was pulled from the water when the fishermen saw him clinging to his boat.

* * *

Campbell told Marine City police he drifted downstream for 15 minutes.

The rescuers included a Pontiac man, William Head of 45 E. Colgate St.

Ike Wants Arms Aid in Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for permanent authorization for arms aid to America's allies, with actual funds to be included hereafter in the regular U.S. defense budget.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa), chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Relations committees, promptly made clear Congress would not grant Eisenhower's request.

Eisenhower's proposal would split the legislation which Congress hitherto has always passed in a single yearly military and economic aid package.

Asked how long the huge heads of Mount Rushmore would last, sculptor Gutzon Borglum replied, "When I learned that this granite erodes perhaps an inch in 100,000 years, I added a foot to Washington's nose. Nobody could tell the difference, and it will give him another million years!"

New York Traffic Waits as Chicken Ponders Crossing

NEW YORK (UPI)—A chicken which couldn't make up its mind which way to cross the road held up traffic for minutes yesterday at the busy corner of Fifth Avenue and 34th street.

* * *

The traffic patrolman on duty halted all cars as the flustered escapee from a poultry truck squawked and fluttered about the intersection.

Cab driver Joaquen Perlata jumped from his seat, corralled the chicken and tried to hand it to the patrolman. He wouldn't take it.

Perlata jumped back in the cab, set the chicken down beside him, and drove off.

Pleading Dates Put Off for Beck and Fruehauf

NEW YORK (AP) — Pleading of Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president, to charges of accepting $200,000 from two trucking company executives was postponed today until July 1.

Federal District Judge Edward J. Dimock postponed until July 2 pleading by the executives who allegedly made the payment—Roy Fruehauf, president of Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, and Burge Seymour, president of Associated Transport, Inc., of New York.

The government has not specified the purpose of the alleged payment.

Low Bid Takes City by Surprise

Firm Would Insure Cars for Only Third of Usual Cost

Pontiac is having trouble again with insurance covering city-owned automobiles. This time the trouble may turn out all for the good.

City Commissioners last night heard three companies bid for the annual insurance covering liability and property damage.

* * *

Two familiar companies entered bids in a price range familiar to the city. The Michigan Mutual Liability Insurance Co. bid $11,989 and the Wilkinson Insurance Agency bid $13,059.

But a new concern, the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. entered a low bid of $4,312.

"I've never heard of the company and I seriously wonder how they can enter such a low bid," said Finance Director Marvin Alward.

Action was delayed a week to let Alward talk with the Nationwide representative.

* * *

Last year the city had trouble finding a low enough bidder, until the Wilkinson Agency came through with a bid slightly under $30,000. The agency represents the Western Casualty Insurance Co.

Accepted was a bid by Michigan Mutual for renewal of the policy covering workmen's compensation for employes of the sanitation department. The new policy costs 3.43 cents for every $1 paid to garbage haulers and 2.67 cents for other workers.

Soybean Farmers Get Tips on Weeding

EAST LANSING (AP) — Farmers should go over their soybean field with a rotary hoe as soon as weeds start appearing, a farm crops specialist at Michigan State University advises.

This effectively kills young weeds just coming through the surface and should be continued until soybean plants are six inches high, says S. C. Hildebrand.

He urges farmers who don't have a rotary hoe to cultivate early, but not too deep as this may prune weed roots without killing them.

Girls to Carry Clubs

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill. (UPI) — The Sunset Valley Golf Course opened today with girl caddies as well as the more usual boy caddies. They also set some rules: the caddiettes may not wear short shorts or halters; no girl may caddy for a lone male golfer.

Tennessee Calls Off Raiders, Says Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Mich) said today he has heard that Tennessee's "industrial raiders" have decided to soft-pedal their activities for fear of endangering TVA legislation.

Broomfield complained last week that Tennessee was trying to lure Michigan industries with the cheaper electric power produced by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He said he was "reliably informed that his and other complaints have led Tennessee authorities to decide against emphasizing their efforts to attract industry with TVA power.

Tigers Welcomed Home With Boos and Defeat

'Don't Count Me Out' Says 41-Year-Old Ted

DETROIT (AP)—"They'd better not count me out yet," insists Ted Williams. "They might be counting too soon."

★ ★ ★

The Boston slugger, nearing 41, admits he is a trifle worried about the worst batting slump of his long and brilliant career.

"But if I didn't think I'd come out of it," he snapped, "I'd quit right now. Better yet, I'd have packed it in last month."

★ ★ ★

The big fellow has bounced back before. He has had his share of injuries and there were a couple of interruptions for marine duty.

★ ★ ★

He got a rousing ovation from a Briggs Stadium crowd of 40,085 last night when he slammed an eighth inning home run against the second deck facing in right field. It helped the sox to a 10-4 victory. Williams also had a ground single in three trips, boosting his average to an anemic .202.

"I know a lot of people are saying the old guy is washed up, but it just isn't true," said Williams. "I've been around longer than anyone except Enos Slaughter. Now, I ask you — shouldn't I know myself pretty well?

"Sure — better than anyone. And I know damn well I'm not through as a hitter. I can't run and my arm isn't very strong, but I can still hit. And I'll prove it.

If I had hit .260 last year I'd know my time had come. But I hit pretty well, especially in the last two months of the season. No one in the majors hit any better over that span."

Williams, who led the American League with a .328 mark in 1958, says he knows why he hasn't been hitting.

"I don't want it to sound like an alibi," he emphasized, "but look at it this way. Seven days after I got to spring training my neck started to pain me. Finally I couldn't move and I went to Boston — missed practically all of spring training.

"Then I spent 40 days in traction and a collar. Ten days later I was in the lineup. I just hurried myself, that's all. My neck and the muscles in my back still give me trouble. Once I get that straightened around, I'll be all right. Just you wait and see."

★ ★ ★

Williams explained that he cannot turn his head to get a good look at the pitcher. Because of the pain, he is altering his stance and not getting a full, normal cut at the ball.

Red Sox trainer Jack Fadden still spends plenty of time applying heat on the famed slugger trying to ease the discomfort caused by the muscle inflammation.

Softball Leaders Upset at Drayton

Nonne's Restaurant scored twice in the 3rd inning for a 2-1 victory over front running Spencer Floor Covering in a Waterford American League softball game last night at Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

Jim Christie pitched a three-hitter to nose out Dick Shell, who allowed six, and Dean Parmenter's single plus an infield throwing error with runners on 2nd and 3rd furnished the winner's runs.

★ ★ ★

In National League action Jerry Redmond's stellar relief pitching featured the Eagles' 10-7 conquest of the Arrows. The Schoolcraft Lakers trounced Don's Pure Oil team, 8-3, in a Little League contest.

Foytack Lasts 11 Minutes on Pitching Hill

Bengals Now Have Lost Five of Last 7 Games of Slump

DETROIT (AP) — An 11-minute pitching job by Paul Foytack and some gopher-ball stunts by one of his successors has tumbled the Detroit Tigers into fifth place in the club's worst slump since Jimmie Dykes took over as manager.

Foytack lasted less than one inning last night and the Boston Red Sox went on to clobber the Tigers 10-4 behind home runs by Ted Williams, Frank Malzone and Jackie Jensen.

So tight is the American League race that the Tigers dropped from a third place tie to fifth, and the Red Sox leaped from eighth to sixth on the single triumph.

Foytack's fifth straight failure against the Red Sox started the Tigers toward their third straight loss and their fifth in seven games. Still, they are only 2½ games out of the lead and sought to make up lost ground today as southpaw Don Mossi went against Boston's newly-acquired Jack Harshman.

★ ★ ★

A welcome-home crowd of 40,085 booed the Tigers in the very first inning when Foytack walked Williams and Pete Runnels, then gave up three run-producing hits before Dykes summoned Tom Morgan from the bullpen.

Morgan stopped the Red Sox on one run for the next six innings and the Tigers stayed close at 5-4.

But an ex-Boston hurler, Dave Sisler, tossed three home run balls in the last two innings to put the ball game out of reach. Williams hit his third leadnig off in the eighth, and a moment later Malzone followed with his 10th.

Jensen clubbed his 14th with two mates aboard in the ninth after Sisler issued two passes with two men out.

Ike Delock picked up where another Detroiter, Milt Pappas, left off in haunting the hometowners. Delock was victimized by shoddy infield support but hung on grimly for his sixth victory. He yielded but five hits.

Four errors were committed in the Red Sox infield, three of them coming in the third inning when Detroit scored three runs. The other run came in the first on a walk, Harvey Kuenn's single and Charlie Maxwell's double. Except for cautious baserunning the Tigers might have made a stronger showing in the first, but coach Billy Hitchcock held up Kuenn at third on Maxwell's booming hit off the right field screen.

Delock slammed the door on the Tigers after the shaky third, allowing only two hits the rest of the way. At one stage he retired 12 straight batters and wound up his performance with eight strikeouts.

It will be Jim Bunning against Boston's Tom Brewer in Thursday's windup.

Geiger Twirls 2-Hit Shutout

A two-hit pitching performance and a come-from-behind victory featured last night's City League softball program at Beaudette and Northside parks.

John Geiger twirled a two-hit shutout as Harrison's Grill drubbed Big Bear Construction, 12-0. Harrison's pounded out 15 safeties, three each by Ron Geiger and Bob Wilson.

The Pontiac Police spotted Rogers Electric a 4-0 first-inning advantage, then came storming back for a 7-6 triumph. A walk to Bob Emery and back-to-back singles by Bill Foster and Ken Davidson tallied the eventual winning run in the 5th inning.

Completing Tuesday's four-game card, Huron Bowl handed Wright's Upholstery an 8-3 setback and the Sport Shop trimmed Langdon's Boat Livery, 7-2.

Pitching Keeps Bucs in NL Race

Law Beats Giants on 6-Hitter

By The Associated Press

What's kept Pittsburgh's Pirates so close to the National League lead? The answer is the pitching of Vern Law and Roy Face, a starter-reliever pair who have put away more than half of the Bucs' victories.

Law and Face were the only winners when the Pirates lost seven of their first nine games and jumped off on their hoped for run to the pennant by plunging to the cellar. Now Law, ace of the starters with an 8-4 record, and Face, the majors' top winner at 11-0, have won 19 between them and the Bucs hold fourth place with a 37-33 record.

Law, 29, a right-hander who's been around since 1950, put away his third in a row last night, keeping the Pirates within 3½ games of first place with a six-hit, 5-1 victory over San Francisco. That made Law the first NL pitcher to beat every other club this season, and it's the first time he's pulled it off in his nine-year career.

The defeat once again dropped the second place Giants two games behind the league leading Milwaukee Braves, who whipped St. Louis 9-5. Third place Los Angeles stayed a half-game ahead of Pittsburgh by beating Philadelphia 4-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated Cincinnati 3-1.

★ ★ ★

Law, who had a 7-5 record at this time while running up his best one-year record (14-12) last season, missed a second consecutive shutout when a walk and Jackie Brandt's double gave the Giants a fourth-inning run. The big right-hander batted in two of the Bucs' first three runs. Dick Stuart hit his 14th homer and had four of the Pirates' 15 hits.

Sam Jones (8-7) was the loser, giving up 10 hits and three runs in his first start since pitching the Giants into their short stay in first place last Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Del Crandall drove in four runs for the Braves, breaking a 3-3 tie with a one-on homer, his 12th, in the fifth inning against loser Hal Jeffcoat. West Covington, who drove in a pair of runs, followed Crandall's shot with his fifth homer in the fifth inning. Carl Willey (3-1) was the winner, giving up 10 hits but gaining a complete game in his first start since May 29. Ken Boyer hit a two-run homer for the Cards, who lost starter Alex Kellner when he hurt his elbow while pitching in the first inning.

Home runs by Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges and Don Demeter got the job done for the Dodgers, who had two other hits off loser Gene Conley (4-4). Danny McDevitt (6-6) was the winner, giving up seven hits, one a two-run homer by Dave Philley.

Demeter and Hodges homered in a deciding, three-run fourth, with Hodges' tying Hank Greenberg for 11th place on the all-time major league list at 331. It was his 11th of the season and followed a double by Wally Moon, who now has hit in 16 consecutive games.

★ ★ ★

Lee Walls doubled home a run in the first inning, then added an rbi single in a two-run, wrap-up fifth for the Cubs against loser Joe Nuxhall (3-6). Glen Hobbie (7-6) was the winner, giving up eight hits, but blanking the Reds after they scored in the first inning for his first complete game in seven starts since May 13—when he shut out Cincinnati.

Defense Is Answer for Pale Hose

What Keeps Chisox in Flag Race?

CHICAGO (AP)—If anyone is wondering what keeps the Chicago White Sox, a bunch of pitty-pat hitters, in the thick of the American League race — the answer is defense.

And it was never more exemplified than last night's 4-1 victory over Washington which pulled the second place Sox within one game of Cleveland, a 5-1 loser to Baltimore.

"I'll admit we haven't been hitting," said Manager Al Lopez, "but something has to happen soon."

Lopez is still looking for stickwork to help his Sox to a pennant.

But the Sox last night played defense and more defense to whip Washington behind Early Wynn who scored his 10th victory against 5 losses to become the American League's winningest pitcher.

Wynn was in trouble in the second inning when Hal Naragon doubled with two out and Ron Samford singled. Naragon, however, was thrown out at the plate on a play from center fielder Jim Landis to catcher Sherm Lollar.

In the third, Wynn had more troubles. With one out Ken Aspromonte walked and Faye Throneberry doubled but Aspromonte was thrown out at the plate on a relay by shortstop Luis Aparicio from left fielder Jim Rivera.

Washington's Harmon Killebrew then singled by Throneberry was out at the plate on a perfect throw from Rivera.

This series of plays settled down Wynn who gave up eight hits but only one from the fifth inning on.

The New York Yankees took fourth, belting Kansas City again, 10-2, and moving within two games of first place Cleveland. The Indians lost 5-1 to Baltimore.

Young Milt Pappas (7-3), winning three of his last four decisions, handed the Indians their fourth defeat in six games with a five-hitter. The third place Orioles had 10 hits, beating Gary Bell (6-7), two runs in the third on a pair of walks and two-out singles by Bob Nieman and Gus Triandos.

The Injuns scored on Woody Held's 12th home run in the eighth, ending Pappas' shutout string at 17 innings.

The Yankees, shrugging off Sunday's double defeat by Cleveland, made it seven out of nine with an 18-hit barrage that included three two-run homers — by Mickey Mantle (18), Hank Bauer (4) and Gil McDougald (2). Southpaw Whitey Ford (7-4), who sprained an ankle in his last start, was the winner with a five-hitter. He retired the last 19 men in a row after four hits gave the A's two runs in the third.

Rip Coleman (2-6) was the loser, giving way when Bill Skowron's liner hit him on the arm after Mantle's homer in the first inning.

Houston Leads NCAA Golfers

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Bob Pratt and Jack Cupit led a record breaking Houston University team into match play in the National Collegiate golf tournament today.

Both Pratt and Cupit tied the National Collegiate Athletic Assn record for qualifying play yesterday as they wound up two days of play on the Eugene Country Club course with 136 strokes each, 6 under par on the par 37-34—71 course.

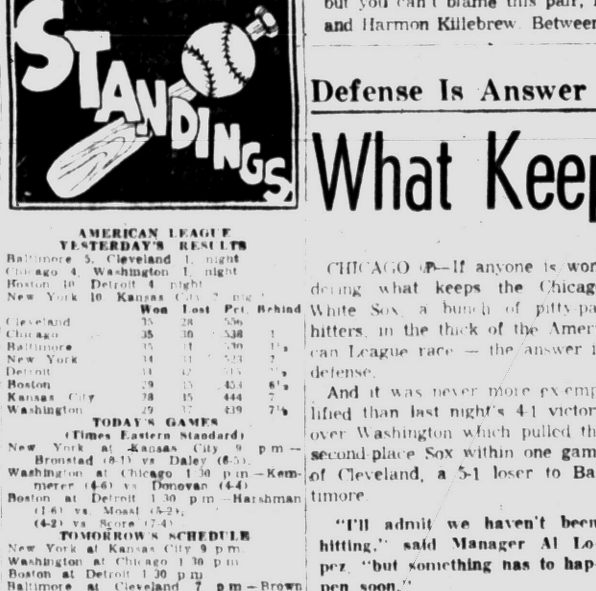

Pratt had rounds of 66 and 70. Cupit 69 and 67. The record is shared with Don Albert of Purdue, who set it in 1954, and John Pott, of Louisiana State, who equaled it in 1955.

Houston smashed the team record in carrying off the team title a fourth consecutive year. The record was 570 strokes by four players set by Houston last year. Now the mark is 561.

Tiger pitcher Paul Foytack has yet to last six innings in any of his four starts this year against Boston.

Mound Battle in Jr. League

Lamphere's 1-0 Victory Over McLarty Features City Youth Play

A brilliant mound duel between Dick Lamphere of Don Nicholie and Dick McLarty of Lake Orion Recreation ended in a 1-0 triumph for Lamphere to highlight Tuesday's City Junior League baseball activity.

Lamphere hurled a dazzling one-hit shutout and McLarty was nearly as good with a two-hitter. Ron Josephe's 5th-inning single delivered the game-winning run in the Class D contest.

In other Class D games, Union Lake defeated St. Michaels, 6-2, and Ritter's Market edged West Bloomfield, 3-2. Ritter hurler Phil Bieri struck out 14.

Class E play was headed by Clarkston's 15-3 rout of the Pontiac Boys Club with Pete Vasquez clouting a three-run homer for the losers. The Eagles beat Arnold Drug, 7-5, and Welden's gained a forfeit victory over Phillip's.

B & B Sewer trounced the Northside All-Stars, 13-1; Pontiac Boys Club shut out Auburn Heights Boys Club, 11-0, behind John Jones' two-hit hurling; Perry Drug outscored the Eastside Dodgers, 12-9; the Orioles trounced Malkin, 9-3; the Willis Wonders defeated the Falcons, 11-8; American Leaguers drubbed Don Nicholie, 24-4, and Tel-Huron whipped Our Lady of Refuge, 9-6, all in the Class F division.

In the Widget circuit, Ultra-Stone blanked the Little Senators, 12-0; Moose whitewashed the Hudson Hornets, 3-0, with pitcher Phil Poponea and Ron Coleman slugging home runs; the Blue Racers nosed out Webfoot, 2-1, and the 69ers forfeited to Wild Dog.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Poor iron shots.

DIAGNOSIS: Misuse of the hands.

TREATMENT: Many golfers seem to feel that they they have to "help" get the ball up in the air on iron shots with a sort of lifting motion with the hands. This is the ruination of many a golf swing.

The principle of hitting good iron shots is to hit DOWN AND THROUGH the ball. Never try to scoop the ball up and away. Let the loft of the clubface take care of getting the ball up to its proper height. Your clubs are built to handle this job as it should be handled.

If you use the stroke I'm advocating for iron shots you'll let the clubface contact the ball first and then move on down and through to take out a bit of turf IN FRONT OF THE BALL.

Get the picture in your mind of hitting ball first and turf second. This will help in every way—more distance, better control, and the proper amount of underspin on the ball.

Mike Dietz Top PGA Qualifier

Bone Also Gets National Berth on 1st Attempt

Back-to-Back Eagles, Playoff Birdie Earn Spot for Gene

By BILL CORNWELL

"I've never played well on this course," was the comment of Mike Dietz after taking 146 strokes in Monday's 36-hole Michigan PGA golf championship at Lakepointe Country Club.

For one day, at least, Mike had to eat his words.

The former Indianwood pro, currently registering from Paw Paw, Mich., whittled 10 strokes off that figure Tuesday over the same Lakepointe links to win the medal in the 36-hole sectional qualifiers for the National PGA.

Dietz collected eight birdies on his way to a 66-70—136 scorecard, four below regulation over Lakepointe's par 35-35—70 layout, to lead four other Michigan pros who also qualified for the national tourney.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's remaining qualifiers were Paul Segerlund of the Country Club of Detroit, Saginaw's Bill Markham and Tom Talkington of Washtenaw, all at 138, and Pontiac's Gene Bone, who shot 139 and performed the unusual feat of making back-to-back eagles during his morning round.

Bone fired rounds of 69 and 70, but despite his one-under-par finish, the young Warwick Hills pro had to defeat two other veteran pros in a sudden-death playoff to gain his berth in the national event.

Lenawee's Don White and Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids also posted 139's and Bone went three holes to earn a qualifying spot in his first year of eligibility for the tournament.

Barfield fell by the wayside on the 1st hole with a bogey five as Bone and White each birdied. Both players took bogey fives on the 2nd hole, then Bone won the playoff on the 163-yard 3rd with a 15-foot putt for a birdie deuce.

It was a peculiar day for Bone, whose scorecard listed only three birdies. Two magnificent iron shots gave him successive eagles and one of Lakepointe's many small, well-trapped greens caused him trouble on another occasion.

He made an eagle two on the 394-yard 16th hole by knocking a 140-yard 8-iron shot into the cup, then chipped 18 feet into the cup with the same club on the 568-yard 17th hole for an eagle three.

At No. 10 in his afternoon round, he needed three blows from two different sand traps and holed out with a triple bogey seven.

Of the five golfers who passed yesterday's sectional trials, only Dietz and Talkington have succeeded before.

Newly-crowned State PGA champion Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook, Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Bob Gajda of Forest Lake and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, all exempt from qualifying, complete Michigan's delegation to the national medal test.

Heavy Support for Champion

Odds Favor Floyd

NEW YORK (UPI) — Champion Floyd Patterson and Swedish Ingemar Johansson broke camp today and came to New York for their World Heavyweight title fight tomorrow night—with Patterson now favored at 4-1.

★ ★ ★

Because of the early 11 a.m. (EDT) weigh-in tomorrow, both fighters decided to spend tonight in the city.

Heavy support for champion Patterson caused the odds to jump from 7-2 to 4-1. A few "sportsmen" quoted longer prices and there were indications Floyd would go into the ring at 5-1 or 6-1.

Workmen were putting the finishing touches on the ring, erected over second base in Yankee Stadium, and on the eight-row working-press section and the 9,000 playing-field seats.

★ ★ ★

Promoter Bill Rosensohn reported that the stepped-up ticket sale was boosting the advance well beyond the $450,000 mark and indicating a gate of more than $600,000. That would mean about 40,000 spectators.

★ ★ ★

Although European champion Johansson is unbeaten and although he knocked out top-rated Eddie Machen in the first round of his last bout, a poll of 64 sports writers, here for the fight, showed 52 picking Patterson and only 12 selecting Ingemar. Fifteen Swedish writers in the poll were almost split. Eight favored handsome Ingemar and seven for the champion.

The two rival promoters from London, Jack Solomons and Harry Levene, were still rivals in picking a winner. Solomons forecast a Johansson knockout victory in "five or six rounds." Levene picked Floyd on a kayo within 15.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, an executive session of the New York State Athletic Commission was resumed today to try to unearth terms in contracts between "the Floyd Patterson Enterprises" and the Teleprompter Corporation concerning receipts from theater-TV, radio and movies. The commission wants this information for tax purposes.

★ ★ ★

Irving B. Kahn, president of Teleprompter, announced he will have nine movie cameras and four television cameras (for theater-TV) working the fight. He said he'll have 1,200 men working. They apparently include some of the technicians at some of the 170 "locations" in 135 cities where 550,000 seats will be available for theater-TV.

Patterson and Johansson are scheduled to square off at 10:30 p.m. (EDT) tomorrow night. There will be no television to homes. However, it will be radio-broadcast to homes by ABC

★ ★ ★

Should there be rain tomorrow night, the fight could be postponed to Friday night and, if necessary, to Saturday night.

Knights Wallop Jewelers, 11-2

Fr. Rakoczy Hits Big 3-Hun Homer for K.C.; Talbott Beats PBI

The Knights of Columbus increased their lead in the Class A City League baseball race Tuesday by routing Shaw's Jewelers, 11-2, at Wisner Field. It was the 8th defeat without a victory for the Jewelers.

★ ★ ★

Two Shaw pitchers were assaulted for 10 hits, including a three-run homer in the 3rd inning by Fr. John Rakoczy of Orchard Lake St. Mary. Fr. Rakoczy, Hal Trott and winning pitcher Tom McCormick each made two safeties.

★ ★ ★

The Jewelers mustered only two hits off McCormick and none against Terry Hoy, who relieved McCormick in the 6th frame. John Dickson was the starting and losing hurler for Shaw's with Ted Wharry relieving in the 3rd.

★ ★ ★

In Class B activity yesterday at Jaycee Park, Talbott Lumber came from behind with three runs in the 6th stanza to defeat Pontiac Business Institute, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

John Warner worked the distance on the mound for Talbott and permitted six hits, three by Gilbert Trevino and two by Nevis Trevino. Frank Johnson made two of Talbott's eight safeties off Howard Pearl and Jim Conway with Pearl the starter and loser.

Oyster Bay Sloop Is Winner at Annapolis

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—H. Irving Pratt's Caper, 56-foot sloop out of Oyster Bay, N.Y., won in Class A division honors in the Annapolis to Newport yacht race and may have won overall.

★ ★ ★

However, the ultimate winner will not be known until every one of the 70 boats which started the 468 mile cruise down Chesapeake Bay and up the East Coast either have finished, withdrawn or ruled too late.

U.S. Gains Win in Pro-Am Meet

TORONTO (AP)—Ed Meister, Willoughby, Ohio, amateur sank a 12-foot birdie putt on the first hole of sudden death playoff Tuesday to give the United States its first victory in the three-year International Canada—U. S. Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament here.

★ ★ ★

The 16 players in the 18-hole best-ball tournament, four pros and four amateurs from each country, were tied 6-6 after regulation play. Meister wrapped it up for the Americans with his pressure putt.

In the fourth match, Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N. C., and amateur Chuck Kocsis of Detroit scored a 2-1 point victory over Calgary pro Bud Loftus and Eric Hanson, Toronto amateur. The Canadians were two up after nine but lost the margin and the match on the final nine holes.

185 Netters Entered in Michigan Tourney

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Top seeded Ray Senkowski punched out two easy victories yesterday as the Michigan closed tennis tournament got underway.

Senkowski, playing in the boys under-18 singles division, beat Pat Welch of Grand Rapids, 6-0, 6-1, and then conquered Mike Rosenow of Petoskey, 6-0, 6-1.

A total of 185 players were entered in the three-day tournament. Quarter-final singles and opening doubles matches were played in the boys' division today. Girls' singles and doubles play began today.

Fielding Gem Kayos Martin Indefinitely

CLEVELAND (AP)—Billy Martin, Cleveland second baseman, suffered an injury to his right shoulder in last night's game with Baltimore when he fell while making a spectacular play to retire Al Pilarcik on a bunt in the seventh inning.

★ ★ ★

Martin will be out indefinitely, Manager Joe Gordon said.

★ ★ ★

"I can't lift the arm," Martin said in the dressing room. "I'm supposed to have an X-ray. The doctor said it might be a torn tendon or muscle.

Mike Eyes 4th Straight Publinx Title

Andonian 'on Spot'

The "Stop Mike Andonian Society" holds its annual convention this weekend at Rochester Golf and Country Club and the organization has hopes of disbanding in successful style on or before Sunday night.

This society is composed of public links golfers throughout the state who have been trying without success to "Stop Andonian" for the last three years in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's state tournament.

Andonian, the Pontiac Central mathematics teacher, won the state crown three years ago at Rolling Green Golf Club in the MPGA's last medal play championship and his rivals have been attempting to dethrone him ever since.

Even the switch to match play in 1957 didn't stop him. He repeated at Rolling Green that year in the 1st match play event by defeating Pontiac's Roy Iceberg, then last year he took the crown for the 3rd straight year by whipping another Pontiac product, Paul Bada, at Pontiac Country Club.

The annual MPGA state tourney begins its four-day run tomorrow over the par 36-36—72 Rochester course and "Stop Andonian" will be the theme of the event.

A large field will wade into 18-hole qualifying rounds Thursday with the low 63 shooters joining Andonian, exempt from the trials, in match play starting Friday.

Two 18-hole matches are scheduled daily, including the championship battle, with the title being decided Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Andonian is the first golfer in Michigan Publinx history to win the state crown three years in a row. Jay Law of Detroit has also won the title three times, but there was a span of one year between each success.

Law, who missed the event last summer in order to compete in the British Amateur in Scotland, will return to the scene this year and must be tabbed as Andonian's biggest threat.

Illinois Gridder Agrees to Play With Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rich Kreitling, University of Illinois end and the No. 1 draft choice of the Cleveland Browns, passed up another year of college eligibility and Tuesday agreed to play professional football this fall.

★ ★ ★

Kreitling, a 6-foot-2, 205 pounder who was rated one of the nation's outstanding pass receivers, insisted the decision to sign with the Browns was made by himself and his parents.

"After careful consideration, my parents and I decided I should enter pro football this fall," Kreitling said. "I've had my normal four years of college and we feel it is to my best interest to join the Browns."

Southerner Leader for Lefty Golfers

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — Ed Sweetman of Greensboro, N. C., held a two-stroke lead going into today's second round of the national tournament for left-handed golfers.

Sweetman led a field of 130 yesterday with a two-under par 69 over the 6,300-yard Songetha Country Club course. He had a 38 over the first nine and came in with a 31—one stroke off the course record for the back nine.

Gordon Malstrom of Galesburg was second with a 37-34—71 and Robert Johnson, Charleston, W. Va., and Ken Matters, Resaca, Ga., were tied for third with identical 36-36—72s.

Harry Shoemaker, the defending champion from Chattanooga, Tenn., who is aiming for a fourth straight title, had a 77.

NCAA 'Seeds' Move Along

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The eight top-seeded players in the NCAA tennis tournament were expected to run into a little more than they have previously encountered when action moves into the fourth round today.

Whitney Reed of San Jose State yesterday led the select eight to another sweep over non-seeded opponents.

Reed, seeded No. 1, winged past Bill Hingle of Texas, 10-8, 6-0, while second-seeded Ron Holmberg of Tulane defeated Harry Doyle of Washington, 6-2, 6-1.

Other seeded winners were Jerry Moss, Miami (Fla.) No. 4, over Richard Keeton, Texas, 6-2, 6-1; Crawford Henry, Tulane, No. 5, over Jack Kennedy, New Mexico, 6-2, 6-1; Ned Neely, Georgia Tech, No. 6, over Bob Hill, San Jose State, 6-2, 6-1; Jon Erickson, Michigan, No. 7, over Bill Heinbecker, Notre Dame, 6-4, 5-7, 6-1; and Max Brown, Notre Dame, No. 8 over John Clark, Yale, 6-0, 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Although none of the seeded players face each other in the fourth round, a fine battle could develop between Erickson, the Big Ten champion, and Iowa's Art Andrews, an NCAA semi-finalist last year.

Braves Recall Pizarro

Opening Events Feature Junior Teams, Tuesday

Wolverines, Sparks in Top Spots; 'Big Show' Now Under Way

Junior riders yesterday began the week-long series of riding and jumping competition for the 42nd annual Detroit Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt club. These youthful enthusiasts engaged in team riding which resulted in a dominance of the events by Northville quartets.

★ ★ ★

The "big show" was under way today, with the program devoted entirely to dressage, a demonstration of precise riding with mounts trained to respond to almost imperceptible commands.

Today's highlights include the BOH open elementary class, the AHSA medal class and USET combined test, the Prix Caprilli, the beginning of the "3-day event," a grueling test for both horses and riders, and the Prix St. George as the concluding feature of the evening session.

★ ★ ★

Thursday's activities will be marked by the first of hunter and jumper events, including the Michigan Hunt's challenge trophy, the Coulson Memorial for working hunters, knock down and out, and at night the Blackthorn Memorial, and the featured BOH big jumping event for FEI jumpers.

★ ★ ★

In yesterday's junior team tests, winners were:

★ ★ ★

Class A—Wallace Wolverines of Northville (Peter Sauer, George Priggen, Sandra Movold, Judy Robinson) and Class B—Toledo Sparks (Trudy Stranahan, Rollie Narenberg, Patty Klagg, Sharon Walter). Wolverines collected four points, Sparks five.

★ ★ ★

This was the first of the summer series of junior matches, the next being at Jackson in July.

Other team standings:

Class A—Northville: Top Notchers, 3 pts. (Sue Wallace, Sally Sample, Stephanie Altenburg, Bob Sample); Toledo Jets, 2 pts.; Toledo Bombers, 1 pt.

Class B—BOH Hunters, 4 pts. (Bob Matheson, Carol Gurney, Mag Woodington, Lucy Bates); Highlanders (Northville), 3 pts. (Barney Weiss, Rog Wasserman, Bruce Baughman, Mike Caledorn); Mad Hatters, 2 pts. (Sue Sauer, Sue Eastland, Ellen Taylor, Nancy Talbot); Bonnie Lassies, 1 pt. (Pixie Lilley 10, Linda Rice, Ann Woodbridge, Cookie Sefansky 10).

6-Pounder Tops List

They get bigger and bigger in short order, during these annual Press big fish derbies. That rule was proved again today when the 4-pound, 2-ounce first leader in the bass division gave way to a 6-pounder.

★ ★ ★

Newest leader was taken by Ortonville's Arden Beckett (400 Barron Rd.) at Lake Louise, Monday night. It was 21½ inches long and was one of two lunkers landed on spinning tackle by Beckett.

★ ★ ★

Fishing alone, Beckett lured the big bronzeback with an old, battle-scarred "lucky 13" plug, a model long since discontinued by its makers.

★ ★ ★

"I heaved the plug into a weed-bed," Beckett explained.

★ ★ ★

"It didn't even have time to settle before the fish hit. That bass gave me a 15-minute battle."

★ ★ ★

The 6-pounder wasn't Beckett's biggest black bass, by a long ways. "Two years ago I caught an 8-pound, 7-ounce bass, but I never even thought of getting into the contest. It just slipped my mind, I guess." That one would have been the all-time record for The Press' derby, and one of the biggest ever taken from Michigan waters.

The entire Beckett family is fishing-minded, says Arden. His four youngsters also enjoy the sport every chance they get.

New leader displaced the 4-pound, 2-ounce fish entered by Mrs. Melvin Womack of Pontiac, on opening day of the season.

★ ★ ★

Derby also includes bluegill and northern pike, and final winners will receive $50 U. S. Savings Bonds.

★ ★ ★

Art Twork, operator of a boat livery on Pine Lake reported several good bass strings during the weekend, including a 4-pound 8-ounce fish taken by a Detroiter. He figures the fishing for the opener was 3 times better this year than a year ago. "Most of our fishermen had good luck," Art says, including Pontiac's Tom Fairbrother. Fairbrother got a 13½-inch calico, fishing alone Monday night.

Kids' Dog Show Set for July 6

Plans have been completed for a novel "kid's" dog show on July 6, at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center. This will be strictly an amateur event in which every young (up to 12 years) exhibitor wins a prize.

★ ★ ★

Contest is open to any youngster and his, or her, dog which doesn't have to possess a pedigree. It is sponsored by Wrigley's Super Market in cooperation with Ken-L-Ration division of Quaker Oats Co.

★ ★ ★

There will be winners determined by the dog with most spots, dog with longest tail, best groomed dog and shaggiest dog. Prizes will include loving cups, ribbons and other articles. Each dog will get a leash and a can of food. Entry blanks are available at Wrigley's.

★ ★ ★

Judges will be Mayor Phil Rowston, Capt. Oliver Lemeaux of the police department, and H. Guy Moats, Pontiac Press.

Neff Selected MOWA President

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Mort Neff, of Birmingham, television personality, was elected president of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Assn. at its three day convention here.

★ ★ ★

Gordon Charles, Traverse City, is vice president; secretary-treasurer, Clifford Ketcham of the State Conservation Department.

★ ★ ★

Jim McKenna, outdoor editor of Grand Rapids got an 'oscar' for editorial leadership in helping stop the federal government from leasing part of the Swan Creek refuge for oil drilling.

Points Need for Common Sense Afloat

Safe Boating Week Set

By The Press Outdoors Editor

Michigan, generally, and Oakland County in particular, are vitally interested in water safety. Their vast boating facilities make the matter one of tremendous importance to all who use the myriad waters of the commonwealths. Hence, both should take full cognizance of the implications in National Safe Boating Week, starting Saturday, June 27, running through July 5—including the big July 4-5 weekend.

★ ★ ★

BOATING IS SAFE SPORT: KEEP IT THAT WAY

There are many angles for "common sense afloat," the spotlighted theme for the week's observance. They involve handling craft in the water, and also on the highways, getting them water-borne.

★ ★ ★

The some 27 million outboarders of the nation have been urged to cooperate fully with the 3rd annual NSBW observance, as proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

Like Guy W. Hughes, Outboard Boating Club of America director, points out, boating has been a safe sport. He strongly urges all boatmen to go along with the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary-sponsored event to "keep it that way."

★ ★ ★

SPORT BOOMS, FATALITY LEVEL STATIC

National vital statistics show the level of 1,200 boating fatalities (1949 rate) annually has not increased in the face of a skyrocketing boom for the sport.

"Common sense afloat" booklets, posters and other boating safety material may be had free, by writing the OBC, N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill.

BIG YEAR AHEAD FOR STATE PARKS

Michigan's state park officials are strongly inclined to believe this summer will be one in which all park facilities will be jammed, as they were during the 1958 season. In recent years the 58 parks and recreation areas have reported attendances between 17 and 18 million. Considerable of those figures applied to the numerous areas in Oakland County.

Marked increase in interest for camping is expected to create a record use of areas where camping is permitted. There are several such park areas in the vicinity of Pontiac. The 1958 camping total was a record 132,770.

Business Session, Film at OCSC Meet

Following a business session at 8 p.m. today in the clubhouse at Waterford, Oakland County Sportsmen's club members will see a fine color film about Canadian fishing, entitled "Ontario Safari."

OCSC has planned its annual picnic at the club on Aug. 2.

★ ★ ★

Crackshot rifleman George Forstrom from OCSC was winner of two events in the recent high power matches at Camp Perry, O. He won the 200-300 yard rapid fire (99-14v) and 600 yard event (99-17v).

14th Annual All-Western Event

Rangers' Show June 28

Oakland county probably has more saddle and riding clubs than any similar area in the state. Most of these groups interested in riding or show competition stage their early summer shows just about this time of year. Among the area shows is that of the veteran Michigan Rangers Saddle club, set for Sunday, June 28.

★ ★ ★

This will be the club's 14th annual western horse show which takes place at the field two miles west of Davisburg, on Davisburg road. Action gets under way at 9 a.m. with a day-long program, including the usual contests and many new features.

★ ★ ★

Judged events include tiny tots, western pleasure classes, costume and favorite gaits.

It is expected that 100 horses and riders will take part in the cavalcade. Program has 28 events, with classes for all ages. Trophies and ribbons go to winners.

★ ★ ★

Fans can take their own lunches or buy food and refreshments on the grounds. A 50 cent donation is required of adults, children under five free. For further information, call Duke Brunson, FE 2-4032.

World Record Is Claimed for 266½-Pound Tuna

HONOLULU (AP)—Brooks M. Kelley, Chicago, claimed Tuesday a world record catch of a 266½ pound yellowfin tuna.

★ ★ ★

The catch was made off the Kona Coast of the island of Hawaii Monday. The claim will be submitted to the International Big Game Fishing Assn.

★ ★ ★

James W. Harvey of Honolulu is listed in record books as holder of the record for yellwfin tuna, a 265-pound fish caught in 1937 in Hawaii waters.

★ ★ ★

Kelley's catch took four hours and two minutes. The tuna measured 6 feet, 11 inches in length and 51¼ inches in girth.

Twin Cities Site for State Shoot

Oakland County's many trap shooting experts will be well represented at the July 10-11-12 Michigan Trap Championships at the Berrien County Sportsmen's club, comprising Benton Harbor and St. Joseph followers of the sport.

Shooters from OCSC, Multi-Lakes, Birmingham, Lake Orion, Oxford gun clubs and others are expected to participate in the shooting that starts at 9 a.m. July 10. Practice traps will be open July 9 at 1 p.m. It is expected 600 to 700 shotgunners will contend for the $600 worth of trophies and $2,300 in cash awards.

Tourist Body Backs Park Bond Measure

BAY CITY (AP) — The East Michigan Tourist Assn. has thrown its support behind a senate-approved bill calling for issuance of five million dollars worth of revenue bonds for improvement of state parks. The bonds would be retired by a $2 annual fee or a trip fee of up to 50 cents for cars entering state parks. The measure now is pending in the house at Lansing.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

A few simple, routine checks throughout the season will keep your outboard motor in first-class running condition and maintain the reliability that was built into it.

If you will make certain that every drop of fuel that enters the tank of your engine is absolutely clean, you will eliminate just about all of the trouble.

I have found that the best practice is to use a copper funnel fitted with a felt strainer for keeping dirt and moisture out of the fuel mixture. I strain the gas into a mixing tank, put in the proper amount of oil, then strain the mixed fuel into the outboard tank as I need it.

This makes for easy starting and perfect performance throughout the season.

★ ★ ★

If you happen to foul your plugs from cranking too long with the choke on, first try cranking with the gas shut off and the throttle about three-quarters open. Usually the motor will start, skipping and smoking.

★ ★ ★

When it starts to smooth out, you can keep it running if you turn the gas on quickly before the carburetor bowl goes dry. Adjust needle valve for best performance.

★ ★ ★

But if the motor won't fire, remove the plugs, dump the excess fuel out of them, wipe clean, and allow them to dry thoroughly before trying to use them again.

It's handier to put in those spare plugs and go ahead with your boating without interruption. You can wait until you get ashore to clean the fouled plugs thoroughly with carbon tetrachloride and dry them with compressed air. Never clean outboard plugs with a sand blast.

Whenever you remove plugs from your motor, inspect the insulators to make sure no tiny tips are beginning to form on the porcelain. These are caused by moisture in the gasoline, and if they are present, the plugs should be replaced.

CONFIDENCE — Not a man in sight, yet these ladies feel confident their outboard motorboat will take them there and back as reliably as an automobile, because the engine is maintained in top condition.

Now Below 20 Billion . . . Why?

U.S. Gold Cache Getting Smaller

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam's stock of gold is dropping below 20 billion dollars for the first time since 1940. Its high mark was in 1949 when it was nearly 25 billion.

At the same time, total payments by the United States to other nations continue to exceed receipts from them. Latest figures show exports slipping while imports hold high.

★ ★ ★

These things react on each other. The record loss of gold last year—nearly 2½ billion dollars worth—was due in large measure to the fact that some nations were getting more dollars through sale of their goods here than they were paying out for American goods. So they had dollars they could change into gold to build up their reserves.

To some Americans the situation is alarming—that is, they fear the condition is a continuing one that could drain the gold stock to an embarrassingly low level.

★ ★ ★

To others it seems healthy—that is, it's a good thing that Uncle Sam's friends are improving their reserves and getting their currencies back on sound ground.

WILL WORK OUT

In between lies a body of opinion that thinks the international balance of payments will work out in time along normal lines.

Even with a trifle less than 20 billion dollars in gold, the United States will still have more than half of the metal this side of the Iron Curtain.

★ ★ ★

The immediate cause for the slip below 20 billion is a payment of 344 million dollars in gold to the International Monetary Fund as part of the United States' increased subscription to the fund. The U.S. Treasury also will be making some three billion dollars more available on call—not in cash—to the World Bank.

Actually the giant share of the gold we've been losing hasn't left the country. It has been transferred to the bank vaults where it is earmarked for the country paying for it in dollars. The vaults now hold around nine billion dollars of such gold.

★ ★ ★

The central banks of other nations can buy gold from the U.S. Treasury with their dollars. American citizens, or private citizens of other lands, cannot.

Last year, when interest rates on U.S. securities were lower, other countries tended to turn their spare dollars into gold to improve their reserve standings. This year, with security yields higher, more of the dollars are being invested in them and buying of gold has slipped from its former pace. Gold doesn't pay interest—securities do.

★ ★ ★

Many reasons are given for the drop in exports. One is the higher price of some American goods. Another is the rising industrial strength of other and competing nations. Still a third is that Americans have tended in recent years to build plants abroad to make goods for world trade rather than to make them here for export.

And some hold that foreign competitors have been scoring in world markets by offering more tempting credit terms and better servicing.

Army 'Temporaries' Eyesores, Says Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harry R. Sheppard (D-Calif.) is not pleased with the "temporary" housing quarters built on Army bases during World War II and still standing.

"Many of them are eyesores and there is no sense in spending another nickel on them," he said at a recent hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

"Get a bulldozer, do something get them out. Have a first-class fire."

The hearing concerned the temporary buildings on the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. Army witnesses assured Sheppard the structures would be demolished to make way for a new bachelor officers quarters.

Recesses Traffic Court to Wed Officer, Fiance

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — After hearing testimony of John L. Adams Jr., a police accident investigator, Municipal Judge Ronald Abernathy declared a recess in the trial.

He took Adams and Margaret Roush, who had been among court spectators, into his office and married them. Adams had arranged for this double day in court.

Near Double Trouble

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Daniel W. Dough Jr. is glad he has an honest double. Dough was arrested for attempted bank robbery. He was released when the man sought surrendered and said he, not Dough, had committed the crime. Police said the two were "amazingly similar" in appearance.

Market Brisk, Key Stocks Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied in active trading early today.

Key stocks rose from fractions to about a point. Scattered losers appeared in various groups.

The market was brisk at the opening. The parade of opening blocks was bigger than usual. The ticker tape was late for a five-minute period.

The late rise of specially-situated issues in yesterday's dull market apparently whetted the appetite of some traders for a summer rally. In addition, opposition by House Democrats to the proposal for removing the interest rate ceiling on government bonds eased some of the tight money fears.

★ ★ ★

Aluminums continued to rise, with Alcoa, Aluminium Ltd. and Reynolds Metals adding fractions to about a point. Motors were solidly on the upside. Chrysler and American Motors were up about a point each.

Pacific Telephone, which soared 15½ late yesterday in advance of news that it planned a 7-for-1 stock split, advanced another half dozen points.

American Cyanamid eased more than 2 in profit taking on late yesterday's upsurge.

U.S. Is Urged to Halt Mergers in Food Field

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Farmers Union official says "the farmer will be at the complete mercy of those who buy his food products," if the government doesn't stop mergers in the food industry.

"I suggest that if action is not taken, soon, small-business men will disappear and that the consumer will pay monopoly prices for his food," Angus McDonald, coordinator in the group's legislative service told the House Small Business Committee.

Utica Mayor Fined in Assault

Only $25 Court Costs Assessed for Beating of Former Son-in-Law

UTICA — Mayor Edward Church paid $25 in court costs today in Macomb County Justice Court after entering a plea of "nolo contendere" (no contest) in the case involving the assault of his former son-in-law May 31.

Justice Francis A. Castellucci entered a plea of guilty for the mayor and ordered him to pay the costs.

The mayor and his father-in-law, Harry Kollmorgen, were arrested on assault and battery charges brought by Church's former son-in-law, Fred Riebel, 21, of 454 Gateway St., Pontiac.

Riebel accused the two older men of beating him up at Kollmorgen's gas station in Utica after he had gone to the Church home to visit his son, Stephen, 15-months-old. His wife, Barbara, had obtained a divorce from him in March on grounds of mental cruelty.

★ ★ ★

Kollmorgen pleaded guilty to the assault charge at his arraignment and paid a $25 fine. Mayor Church demanded examination on a similar charge and was released on $100 bond with the trial date set for today.

Industrial Design Center Being Built

SOUTHFIELD — Construction of a $300,000 integrated industrial design center for Sundberg-Ferar, Inc., on the firm's eight-acre site at 10½-Mile and Telegraph roads was begun yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Main architectural feature of the new center will be a two-story steel, glass and concrete building designed by one of the company owners, Montgomery Ferar. His partner in business is Carl Sundberg.

The new center also will contain a guest house for out-of-town clients.

The name Vermont is from the French and means "green mountain."

Reedy to Head Field Relations

GM Also Announces Hagler Will Be Detroit Regional Director

Appointment of John Reedy as manager of the field relations section of the General Motors public relations staff with headquarters in Detroit was announced today by Anthony G. De Lorenzo, GM vice president in charge of public relations.

REEDY

Reedy has been Detroit regional manager since June 1, 1955. Succeeding him will be Charles V. Hagler, who was assistant Detroit regional manager.

In his new position Reedy will have supervision over the General Motors management clubs, GM community relations activities, Previews of Progress high school science show, and various special projects.

Hagler's territory includes 23 General Motors plants in Southeastern Michigan, Northwestern Ohio and Canada.

Reedy joined General Motors in 1939 as a member of the Parade of Progress. During World War II he was on the faculty of General Motors Institute in Flint. In 1946 he returned to public relations and helped reactivate the Previews of Progress traveling show. He was named assistant general regional manager of public relations in Los Angeles in 1954, a position he held until returning to Detroit in 1955.

HAGLER

Hagler, a native of Harrisburg, Ill., joined General Motors in 1954 as an advance man for the Parade of Progress. He was named Detroit representative in 1956 and assistant regional manager in 1958.

Gear Manufacturing Co. Gets Oxford Go-Ahead

The action followed a public hearing on the request.

Watson Cited for Service to Boys Clubs

George Watson, 1550 Groton Rd., Bloomfield Township, was awarded a bronze medallion yesterday for his outstanding service to Boys Clubs at a downtown Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Waldron Hotel. The award can be given to only one man each year in the state.

S. E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, presented the medallion to Watson, personnel manager for the Pontiac Motor Division.

A citation read by Knudsen declared: "His leadership and interest in the Boys Club have provided hundreds of boys with opportunity."

★ ★ ★

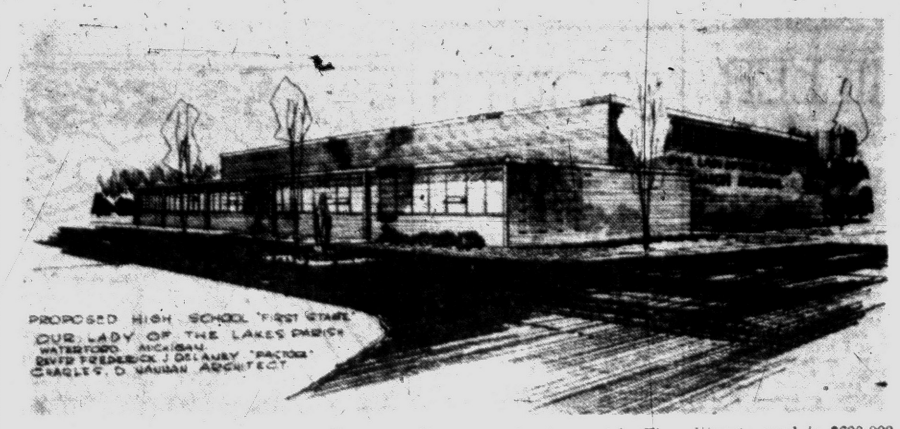

Watson has been a member of the board of directors of the Pontiac Boys Club since 1950, and was president in 1955.

He was chairman of the Boys Club finance committee from 1953 to 1957, chairman of the personnel committee in 1954, and served on the building committee for the past nine years.

HONORS BOYS CLUB WORKER — George Watson (left), personnel director at the Pontiac Motor Division, receives a large bronze medallion symbolizing outstanding and extraordinary service to the Boys Clubs of Michigan from S. E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division. The presentation was made in behalf of the Downtown Kiwanis Club at the Waldron Hotel.

PROPOSED HIGH SCHOOL — This is architect's sketch of the proposed Our Lady of the Lakes High School in Waterford Township. A building fund-raising campaign is now under way in the parish. The ultimate goal is $600,000 for completion of an elementary school and the high school.

Our Lady of the Lakes Goal Is $600,000

Drive Aims to Complete School

A campaign to raise as much as possible toward a goal of $600,000 for completion of a Catholic elementary and high school is under way in Waterford Township's Our Lady of the Lakes parish.

Primary aim of the drive is to complete the church's high school facilities by 1960, with additional classrooms and a gymnasium-auditorium, according to Joseph Kunec, campaign director.

Proposed plans include four immediate classrooms, four tentative classrooms within the shell of the building, two science laboratories, offices and kitchen space. Total cost would be $400,000.

At the present time, there are 245 pupils in the fifth through ninth grades. If the fund-raising campaign is successful, approximately 800 elementary and 400 high school pupils will be accommodated at the school, Kunec said.

A secondary plan calls for an addition to the present school to accommodate grades one through eight, plus an addition to the new convent. This would cost some $200,000, Kunec said.

There are four sisters, one lay teacher and an assistant priest at the school at the present time. The proposed school facilities would require from 25 to 30 sisters and lay teachers to instruct the children, Kunec explained.

Pastor of the church, The Rev. Frederick J. Delaney, explained that in order to accommodate parochial pupils now, it is essential to begin with pupils in the fifth through the eighth grades, adding grades as the pupils moved to the upper levels. Fourth, third, second and first grades would follow in that order.

Records show that there are 1,275 Catholic preschool children in Waterford Township, Kunec said. When the church can finance bus transportation these children will also be able to enroll in the new school, he said.

Court Hearing Set Friday

Gov. Long May Have Won as Wife Leaves for Rest

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — take over as governor, was among Mrs. Earl Long's decision to leave those subpoenaed.
Louisiana for an extended rest today skyrocketed Gov. Long's hopes for victory Friday in his court battle for freedom from a state mental hospital.

★ ★ ★

Lon's chief attorney, Joe Arthur Sims, said the latest development made the governor's release certain.

★ ★ ★

Sims broke the news of Mrs. Long's departure Tuesday night. He said he didn't know her destination, but she had been planning to go away since Sunday.

★ ★ ★

She had not disclosed any plans to oppose the habeas corpus proceedings, scheduled for 10 a. m. Friday at Covington. And, there has been no word of opposition from Sen. Russell Long (D-La) or administration leaders.

★ ★ ★

At Sims' request, court authorities issued subpoenas Tuesday for Mrs. Long and 15 others wanted as witnesses. Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, who has been reluctant to Mrs. Long has been a key figure in the case from the start. She signed the request for her husband's confinement earlier to a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex. Last Thursday, she asked for his commitment to the Southeast Louisiana (mental) Hospital at Mandeville.

★ ★ ★

Dist. Atty. James T. Burns of Covington, said so far as he knew, the hearing will be held as scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion who was in Shreveport on other business, said whether Mrs. Long is at the hearing should not have any bearing on the outcome.

Gremillion added: "The hearing is concerned with only two things. First, was the commitment justified? Second, if the judge rules the commitment was justified, is the governor now well even through he was not well at the time of the commitment?"

★ ★ ★

Sims said earlier in an interview if the court does not free the governor after the hearing, the next step would be to have Long examined by a sanity commission.

One of Sims' chief contentions in the application for the hearing Friday was that Long was not given the type examination required by state law before being confined to the hospital at Mandeville.

★ ★ ★

Hospital bulletins continued to describe the 63-year-old governor's condition as satisfactory.

Texas Oilman Acquires Daisy

Former Michigan Firm Now in Arkansas Goes to Clint Murchison

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Control of Daisy Manufacturing Co., which pulled up stakes last November after 70 years in Michigan and moved to Rogers, Ark., has pass to the industrial empire of Texas oilman Clint Murchison.

Cass S. Hough, president of Daisy, announced last night that Murchison interests had acquired more than 85 per cent of the stock of the world's largest manufacturer of air rifles.

Hough declined to disclose details of the transaction, but said he would remain as president and chief executive officer of Daisy.

Rogers leased to daisy a one million-dollar plant, assessed at only $100,000 for tax purposes, with an option to purchase it over 15 years and apply rent payments toward the purchase price.

Hough, who blamed the move partly to "Michigan's unhealthy economic climate," had said his firm expected to save approximately $1 an hour per worker in wages by moving. Daisy employed some 600 hourly rated workers at its Plymouth, Mich., plant, outside Detroit.

Buick Convertibles Far Ahead of 1958

Buick Motor Division has sold more convertibles to date this year than it did during all of 1958, Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, reported today.

Sales of 1959 convertibles up to June 10 amounted to 11,164 units, compared to 5,764 units during all of the 1958 model year.

Convertible sales currently are running slightly more than 11 per cent of the total, Rollert said.

State Abandons X-Rays for TB

Adopts Tuberculin Skin Tests Instead, Thereby Cutting Risks

LANSING (AP)—Mass tuberculosis X-ray tests for school children have been abandoned in Michigan, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said today.

The X-ray program virtually ended yesterday with the announcement by the Ingham County Health Department yesterday that X-ray tests would be replaced next fall with tuberculin skin tests.

Heustis said he advised health officers more than a year ago to discontinue X rays among school children.

"We had reached a point where we felt that X rays were accomplishing too little good to justify the potential damage that might be done by radiation," he said. "The tuberculin tests, on the other hand, have the advantage of revealing whether the child has been exposed to tuberculosis, not merely whether he is afflicted as the X rays do."

Heustis said health authorities hope to maintain "public respect and confidence" in the X ray.

The State Health Department operates five mobile chest X-ray units and so do about 10 other organizations, he said.

"We find them valuable in surveys of areas where the TB rate has been high or in confirming suspected cases," he said.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Sgt. Don J. Nichols, my dear husband who passed away one year ago June 24.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps him near.
Sadly missed by wife Betty Nichols and stepchildren Carol & Tommy.

Seen as Call to Arms in Argentina

Admiral Demands Frondizi Quit

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, a hero of the revolt that toppled Juan Peron, issued a defiant call early today for the resignation of President Arturo Frondizi. The government shot back that Frondizi will not quit.

Rojas sounded a virtual call to arms to the country's increasingly rebellious armed forces.

★ ★ ★

Branding the 14-month-old Frondizi administration "tarnished and illegitimate," Rojas warned the president he faces a military ouster if he fails to heed the ultimatum to resign.

Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo, the president's staunchest defender in the week-old crisis, retorted that the government would meet the threat of revolt with all its power.

The sudden development clearly drew the lines between the government and rebellious factions in the armed forces. Rojas' denunciation was the boldest open defiance to Frondizi's harried regime.

★ ★ ★

Vitolo's sharp answer made it clear that Frondizi is determined to cling to the presidency even if it means a showdown with the armed forces.

It appeared extremely doubtful Frondizi would be able to work out a compromise with the militant rebels. The only question seemed to be whether the military leaders have enough strength to force the president out.

Rojas' ultimatum was delivered to a late news conference after a hectic day of conferences between Frondizi and political leaders. The president sought to piece together a new cabinet in hopes of appeasing the military men who have accused him of ineffective economic policies and of coddling the Communists and Peronists who helped elect him.

Frondizi's entire cabinet resigned Monday under pressure from the military, who demanded sweeping changes in the regime.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday night Frondizi offered the key post of economics minister to Alvaro Alsogaray, 46-year-old president of the minor Civic Independent party and leading advocate of a free enterprise system.

Alsogaray accepted conditionally but reportedly insisted he must have complete control of the nation's economy.

If the outspoken Alsogaray is given a free hand, he will become the most powerful man in the cabinet with the virtual powers of a prime minister.

Observers expressed doubt, however, that Alsogaray's entry into the government would appease Frondizi's military critics.

Rojas' ultimatum solidified his position as one of the two top figures in the forces arrayed against Frondizi. The other is retired Rear Adm. Arturo Rial, one of the chief architects of the revolt against Peron.

Rial was arrested last week on suspicion of being a ringleader in the latest crisis menacing the government. He was set free Tuesday after a navy court cleared him.

Rojas was vice president of the provisional military government which ruled Argentina between Peron's ouster in September 1955 and Frondizi's inauguration in May 1958.

13 TV Stations Lose Seals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB) announced this week the television code seals of 13 stations have been revoked recently because of their advertising policies.

The action brought to 21 the number of television stations which have lost their code seals for broadcasting hemorrhoidal remedy advertising.

Seventeen other TV stations carrying such ads have resigned as subscribers to the code. The NAB did not reveal what stations were affected by the action.

Donald H. McGannon, president of Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., and chairman of the Television Code Review Board, said 84 code subscribers at one time were known to be carrying such advertising.

★ ★ ★

Besides the revocations and resignations, 45 stations dropped the advertising and one station has been cited by the Code Review Board for continuing to carry it.

The Code Review Board declared such advertising unacceptable June 7, 1956.

McGannon said "the effect was to determine that advertising pertaining to hemorrhoidal remedies and feminine hygiene as classes of products are not acceptble."

★ ★ ★

McGannon noted that subscription to the code was entirely voluntary by television stations and they have the right to quit if they disagree with its provisions.

Deadly Flood Perils Canton, South China

TOKYO (AP) — Flood waters converged today on the South China metropolis of Canton. The floods in Kwangtung province already had caused the death of at least 187 persons and made 200,000 homeless.

Flood crests of the North and West rivers were expected to strike Canton—a city of a million and a half people—with devastating force sometime today, Peiping news reports said.

The danger was heightened by new torrential rains which lashed the North River Tuesday. Two million men worked with picks, shovels, bales and sandbags to save Canton.

"Stations and docks in Canton are packed with trains, lorries and ships carrying flood prevention and other material to the areas menaced by the floods," Peiping radio said.

Transfer of Docks at Mackinac Nears

LANSING (AP)—Only House agreement to Senate amendment was needed today to complete legislative approval of a proposal for turning the Mackinac Straits ferry docks over to the State Waterways Commission.

The amendment would give the commission control over a small craft harbor on Mackinac Island. Jurisdiction now is in the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

★ ★ ★

Under the bill okayed by the Senate yesterday, the Waterways Commission would assume supervision over docks at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City now exercised by the State Highway Department.

It would lease out facilities to boat lines and other interested parties, and be charged with dock maintenance responsibilities. The docks were rendered surplus with opening of the Mackinac Bridge in 1957 and discontinuance of ferry operations run by the Highway Department.

Texas Woman, 109, Dies

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Prajades Castillo died at her El Paso home Tuesday. She was 109.

Mrs. Castillo is survived by four children, 24 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren.

Another Frankie Wins Hearts of Young Fans

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Frankie Avalon gets 1,000 letters a week telling him he has the greatest tonsils since Frank Sinatra — and though he's only 18, many female fans say they're deeply in love with him.

WILSON

"Dear Frankie," said one letter he just received. "I'm madly in love with you. It's not only for today. It's for always. People say it's just infatuation, but it's a sincere lasting love. I think of you all the time. I am 10 years old."

Frankie laughed, telling this:

"You know how old the fans are today?" he asked. "Seven, eight, nine years old. They're little kids, they say 'Mommy, buy me this record.' When I get a haircut in Philadelphia they may make my barber so nervous I'm afraid he'll cut my ear off. They run in and grab my hair as it falls off his scissors!"

★ ★ ★

Frankie's already toured Australia, made a movie co-starring with Alan Ladd, and makes his third appearance June 28 with Ed Sullivan with Tina Robins — and he has a Thunderbird.

"White?" I asked him quickly as the young man finished off his second ham-and-cheese sandwich.

"Red! Bright red. The kids wrecked it. They took off the license plate, the rear view mirror, all hub caps. They write on the car with lipstick. My father gets sick when he sees a little scratch, and he said 'This ear's in the shop more than it's out due to those kids.'"

FRANKIE & TINA

Frankie had a bad experience with some old fans in Milwaukee.

Three girls waited outside his hotel room about midnight. He and his manager finally asked them in. They said they were 17. Frankie suggested they go home.

★ ★ ★

"Pretty son about eight detectives came in," Frankie said. "They said 'How old are you?' to the girls. They admitted they were 15. Milwaukee has a curfew and they were violating it. I was terribly worried about that.

"Next morning at the theater, there were the three girls down in front, waving at me."

Instant Wisdom Leaves Show in Wretched Shape

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — A. L. Alexander's Court of Human Relations, a daytime daily which made its debut on NBC-TV Monday, is, of course, a wretched show. But it performs, I think, a couple of services:

1. It serves to bare counselors who give snap advice on the program—as slicksters who deal in a formula approach to life, who wad their blanks with platitudes and shoot from the hip, who honey-mouth pious banalities with the awesome assurance of a carnival pitchman who has been dipped in instant wisdom.

2. It injects some genuine first-hand agony into a medium in which the agony is usually second-hand—that is, it is usually the viewer who writhes in pain.

Court of Human Relations is the real mint goods—suffering and anguish, sin and semi-sin are dished up in neat half-hour packages for all the nosy old biddies who wish to sit and watch and sun themselves in their own respectability.

Aside from these dubious contributions, the merits of the show are non-existent. Monday's opener centered around a girl who had a child by a boyfriend, had married and had another child, and then had fled to live with another man. She wanted a divorce so she could marry the third fellow and her husband didn't want to grant it.

AD-GLIBS

Alexander and his panel of popular-priced solomons listened to the problem briefly and then unleashed their ad-glibs: the lady had a spiteful husband who should give her a divorce, said one counselor; she should consult a marriage counselor, said a second; she should worry about achieving her immortal soul, said another, adding: "She's not happy, well, that doesn't impress me at all . . ." The couple looked understandably confused.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall Of Fame drama series will do a live repeat of "Cradle Song" on April 10, 1960 —Hallmark last tackled the play in May, 1956.

An attempt will be made to round up the original cast which included Siobhan McKenna and Judith Anderson.

The NBC-TV Opera Company will present a two-hour version of Beethoven's "Fidelio" on Nov. 8 with Irene Jordan and John Alexander heading the cast. Jan Crockett, Tony Reynolds, Louise O'Brien, Jimmy Thompson and Dori Gray have been set as replacements for Judy Lynn on CBS-TV's The Big Payoff—Miss Lynn is leaving the daytime show June 29th to await the arrival of a baby.

TV Superman Leaves Mystery

Was He Murdered? Is There a 2nd Will? Who Made Calls?

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor George Reeves, who solved mysteries as Superman on television with unearthly strength and skill, continues to leave them in death.

Why did he complain to the city attorney's office that the woman to whom he left most of his estate—a movie executive's wife—was harassing him with phone calls?

Was the June 16 gunshot death of Reeves, 45, really a suicide? His mother has hired an attorney to investigate.

★ ★ ★

Where is the second will that his fiancee, Leonore Lemmon, 35, says she believes he made, naming her as chief beneficiary?

Miss Lemmon, New York cafe socialite, was not mentioned in the will filed for probate in Santa Monica Superior Court. The document named as chief recipient Toni Mannix, wife of Eddie J. Mannix, vice president of Loew's, Inc., and former manager of MGM Studio.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mannix issued a statement Tuesday saying she and her husband had been friends of Reeves for years. It said she supported his work for ill children and: "I intend to continue this work."

A complete autopsy, performed Tuesday, was ordered by Coroner Theodore Curphey "to satisfy the mother" of Reeves. Helen Lescher Bessolo said in Galesburg, Ill., she doesn't think the actor killed himself.

After the autopsy Curphey confirmed the police finding that Reeves shot himself to death at his home.

Meanwhile, Deputy City Atty. Noel R. Slipsager said Reeves came to his West Los Angeles office the week of March 27 and complained he had been receiving "round-the-clock telephone calls from someone who hung up when he answered. Reeves said he had reason to believe the calls were coming from Mrs. Mannix.

Because of Reeves' suspicions, Slipsager wrote Mrs. Mannix a letter that said in part: "Kindly be advised that Mr. George Reeves has complained to this office about telephone calls by you to his place of residence.

★ ★ ★

"In the event you pursue a course of conduct which harasses, annoys and disturbs him, this office must consider a criminal complaint based on such action."

Mrs. Mannix never replied to the letter, Slipsager said. Later investigation, he added, convinced him the calls were not coming from her home.

Miss Lemmon, Reeves' fiancee, contended there was a second will and said: "There's something very peculiar about this whole thing." But her attorney, Leon Kaplan, expressed doubt there was a second will.

★ ★ ★

Arthur Weissman, Reeves' personal manager and executor, said neither he nor Reeves' attorneys knew of a later will.

Math Expert Learns Judge Can Figure, Too

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—William S. Wunch Ph.D. in mathematics, miscalculated the odds in a jury trial.

Wunch, 34, an associate professor in math and physics at Arizona State University, recently was fined $15 for driving 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone.

He appealed to Superior Court. Acting as his own counsel Wunch used a time-distance formula to show why he couldn't have been doing 80. The jury disagreed.

Judge Renz L. Jennings did some quick figuring. His answer: a $50 fine.

Rebels Battle French in Algerian Port City

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—A strong rebel unit smashed into the outskirts of the east Algerian port city of Bone today in a pitched battle with thousands of French soldiers. It was the first rebel military assault on a major Algerian city.

★ ★ ★

The rebel attack began at 4 a.m. The rebels took positions in orchards and homes between the airport and the Mediterranean. Shortly after, the blast of grenades and gun fire wakened the city of 80,000.

At 10 a.m. French headquarters in Algiers said the battle was continuing. All communications with Bone were under tight military control.

★ ★ ★

Planes from a nearby base strafed rebel positions.

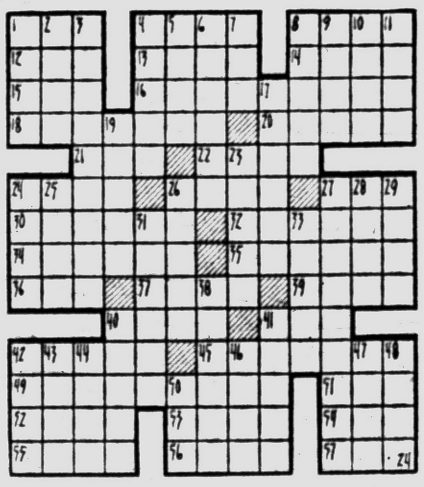

A soaring fountain and flower-decked quays welcome visitors to Geneva, scene of many international conferences. Famed for its watches, the 2,000-year-old city is one of Switzerland's favorite resorts. Excursion steamers ply the blue Lake of Geneva between Switzerland and France.

Proposes State Allocate $1 Million for Cancer

LANSING (UPI) — Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) today called for a one million dollar state appropriation to finance research into the cause of cancer.

Ryan said Michigan's safety record and advances against polio, mental illness, tuberculosis and other diseases indicate what could be done with an all-out effort against cancer.

★ ★ ★

"Cancer is no respecter of persons, social standing, race or creed," Ryan said. "There is every reason why Michigan should take a leading role in finding the causes and cure for cancer."

Under Ryan's plan, the money would go to the State Health Department and to public and private agencies now doing cancer research or equipped to do it.

Coast Guard Accuses Officers of Negligence

NEW YORK (UP)— Negligence charges were announced by the Coast Guard today against the masters and second officers of the liner Santa Rosa and the tanker Valchem. The vessels collided March 26 with a loss of four lives on the tanker.

If adjudged guilty of negligence in hearings to be held here late next month the officers could lose their mariners' licenses.

Those named are Capt. Frank Siwik and second officer Walt Welles of the Santa Rosa, and Capt. Louis L. Murphy and second officer Clyde St. Clair Lupton of the Valchem.

★ ★ ★

Other hearings already have been held concerning the handling of the two vessels before their collision off Atlantic City, N. J.
