

City Draft Board 67 Wins Service Award

In recognition of 20 years of patriotic public service in meeting the nation's military manpower needs, Oakland County Draft Board 67 has been awarded a certificate of appreciation and a citation from the State Selective Service headquarters in Lansing.

The local draft board is headed by William B. Hartman, a Pontiac attorney, who has served the selective service office here for the past 20 years.

Serving with him since inception of Board 67 has been its medical adviser, Dr. Edward A. Christie.

A physician in Pontiac, Dr. Christie lives at 6235 Malvera St. Troy. Hartman lives at 3070 Pitt St., Waterford Township.

Both men received individual certificates of appreciation from headquarters.

"In transmitting the individual awards issued in the name of the President, state director Col. Arthur A. Holmes declared, 'With these certificates goes my sincere appreciation for your devotion to duty, your integrity and leadership, and your demonstrated spirit of volunteer public service.'"

Other members of the local board are V. J. Manikoff, secretary; Edward H. Laint, Emmett J. Lebl, and Robert V. Parent.

superintendent, informed the board that "some of our maintenance men already have beards."

"I don't see how you can prohibit them," said Rev. J. Allen Parker, who sports a modified goatee himself.

"It's not going to be a popular decision, either way, but I don't think we should allow the boards," mounted Proulx.

"I don't think we should be too strict. After all, it's our Christian duty. Possibly we should discourage but not prohibit the beards," suggested Glenn H. Griffin.

"Can you imagine a group of graduating seniors with beards?" said Whitmer.

The board decided to take a stand on "discouraging the growing of beards in school until the last 10 days to 2 weeks of the semester, at least."

Soviets Okay Dam Loan

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet parliament Thursday rallied a $10 million loan in the United Arab Republic for completion of the Aswan High Dam on the Nile River.

The Weather

Full U.S. Weather Bureau Report

PONTIAC AND VICINITY — Partly cloudy and cold with a few light snow flurries. High 16. Fair and quite cold again tonight. Low 5 above. Saturday mostly cloudy and not quite so cold. West to northwest winds 8 to 15 miles.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Show storms are expected tonight over the central Appalachians and northern Lakes with light snow over the western part of the northern Plains, central Plains and southern Rockies. Rain and snow mixed is forecast for the Great Basin, New Mexico and Texas with scattered showers for Arizona and California. Colder weather is slated for the North Atlantic states and southern Rockies with mild weather expected from the upper Mississippi to northern Plains.

UNVEIL EXHIBIT — Count Kield Gustav Knuth-Whitefield, Denmark's ambassador to the United States, cut the ribbons marking the opening of the exhibit, "Two Centuries of Danish Deep Sea Research," at the Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills. With the ambassador last night was his wife, Dr. Robert T. Hatt (left), director of the Institute, and Hans P. Madsen, manager of the exhibit. It will be shown through Feb. 25. The institute is open daily 2 to 5 p.m.

Oakland Highway Plans Told in Detail by Mackie

This $9.3 million project will be shared in 1963, Mackie said. "Eventually M20 will be constructed as a freeway into the U.S. area," the commissioner said.

This will provide for a more even flow of traffic on one of the larger east-west arteries out of the city, he added.

To provide an east-west link between Telegraph road on the west side of Pontiac to the new Chrysler freeway on the east, the Highway department will widen three miles of Square Lake road from Telegraph road east to Opdyke road.

Part of this project will be to extend Square Lake road easterly to connect up with the Chrysler. This latter work will be done during the last half of 1962, while Square Lake road will be widened to five lanes in 1964.

Thatcher was pleased to learn that a project assigned No. 1 priority by the road commission of that of improving M218 (Orchard Lake road and Pontiac Trail) from Pontiac to a point near Wixom was included in Mackie's program to be done.

No construction date, however, has been set.

This 17.7-mile project should be particularly pleasing, too, to football-bound motorists headed toward Ann Arbor.

Other projects in the future plans are: Widening four miles of Telegraph road from its six lanes from Eight Mile to connect up with the new 11 1/2 mile road (Interstate 696). This is expected to be placed under contract in 1963.

Improvement of the interchange at the Farmington-Brighton expressway (Interstate 96) and M218 to increase its traffic capacity.

Mackie said $4.6 million has been earmarked for preliminary engineering for the proposed extension of South Oakland County's east-west freeway (Interstate 696) and for preliminary engineering and purchase of right-of-way for Interstate 96 at right-of-way to Farmington.

At the same time, Mackie said money left in the bond issue, originally intended for the construction of the extension of Northwestern Highway, after construction of the Northwestern freeway a mile between Eight Mile road and 11 1/2 mile road (Interstate 696) will be used for preliminary engineering and purchase of right-of-way for the future extension of the freeway northwest to M24.

Mackie said he could not pinpoint when the extension project would be constructed.

Mackie said the $46.5 million to be spent in Oakland County during the 1963-64 program includes the cost of engineering and right-of-way.

The Day in Birmingham

Lights, Camera, Action; Police Dept. at Work

BIRMINGHAM — Starry-eyed or not, there will be some area residents who will soon be in the movies.

However, their appearances "on camera" won't lead to a Hollywood contract or a gold Oscar. More likely they'll wind up with a yellow traffic violation ticket.

The screen test will be given to unsuspecting motorists who will be filmed by a camera-equipped, unmarked police car.

The car will be furnished by General Motors Corp. for a joint traffic study to be undertaken by the Birmingham Police Department and the automobile firm's research laboratories.

While no starting date has been set for the traffic study, the city commission has approved of the program.

The new car, which will be turned over to the city once the study is completed, will be equipped with a 16mm camera capable of taking movies or single frame pictures.

A 16mm camera and other traffic enforcement equipment will also be carried in the vehicle.

Purpose of the study, which is expected to take three months, is to film motorists in various traffic situations that could or do lead to accidents, according to Robert Herman, head of the theoretical physics department of the research laboratories.

In a letter to Police Chief Ralph W. Morley, Herman explained that a representative from his department will accompany a police officer in the car.

The GM employee would be deputized by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to avoid any legal complications, Herman said.

A detailed report of the study will be turned over to the city on its completion.

Fliers Greeted Warmly by Wives of Elmira, N. Y., and the flier's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. C. Brent Oslender of Buffalo, N. Y.

Other newcomers included Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White, and Richard H. Davis, deputy chief of staff of state for European affairs.

President Kennedy, who announced the flier's return, dramatically two days ago, flew out the 15 miles from the White House to Andrews AFB to greet the homecomers. He went by helicopter. And as usual he wore no hat on the field despite the chill.

McKone was the first down the ramp of the Constellation plane which carried the fliers on the last leg of their trip from Gander Bay, Labrador, to Andrews AFB.

McKone saluted, then shook Kennedy's hand.

Glennsted followed right behind McKone. He did not salute, but grasped the President's hand, too.

During World War II he directed engineering developments relating to the A-bomb, gyro compasses, tanks, and anti-aircraft cannons.

Garcia Won't Debate

MANILA (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia today refused to debate with his opponent in the Philippine presidential campaign, Vice President Diosdado Macapagal. The proposal was prompted by the Kennedy-Nixon campaign debates in the United States. A spokesman said a debate with his opponent would not be in keeping with Garcia's position as chief of state.

Confesses Beating Girl, 14, to Death

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A teen-age girl was found beaten to death in a ravine near her home and police said a schoolmate admitted hitting her on the head with a rock.

The battered and tumbled covered body of Janice McKenney, 14, was found Thursday night by her 8-year-old brother who pointed it out to his uncle and a police officer.

An autopsy showed the girl had not been sexually assaulted.

Police Chief Paul Shaver said the youth, also 14, was being driven to the police station when he said: "I did it." Shaver said the youth later told officers that he hit the girl on the head with a rock.

Board of Education Fills 2 Pontiac Posts

The Pontiac Board of Education last night approved the hiring of a new coordinator of secondary education and an assistant principal at Eastern Junior High School.

William J. Lacy, principal of Washington Junior High School, was named as the new coordinator.

He succeeds Dr. Russell W. Currie, who has resigned to accept a position as assistant to the superintendent in the Highland Park School District.

Named to the position of assistant principal was Donald E. DeVoe, a social studies teacher and attendance officer at Eastern.

Lacy, 48, of 194 Chippewa Road, came to Pontiac in 1941 as a teacher at Wiener School. He has been teaching since 1932. After serving four years in the Army during World War II, Lacy returned and took a position teaching business education at Pontiac Central High School.

He became bookkeeper manager at Central in 1962 and chairman of Central's business education department in 1964.

In 1957 he was an administrative assistant and was named principal at Washington Junior High in 1958.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts

Degree from Western Kentucky Teachers College and a Master's Degree in Education from Wayne State University.

In recommending Lacy for the post, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, said, "It is believed he will be able to fill this position with the same success he has demonstrated in other positions which he has held in the school system."

Lacy is married and has two children. He will take over his new position as soon as his successor has been named at Washington.

DeVoe, 33, of 200 Arizona St., Rochester, has been teaching here since 1958. He formerly taught junior high students for four years at Fowler, Colo.

He succeeds the late E. L. Sturdy, who died several weeks ago.

DeVoe is married and has two children. He holds degrees from Albion College and the University of Michigan. He will assume his new position immediately.

Friends and Relatives Remembered by Actor

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—More than $150,000 of the estate of actor Barry Fitzgerald will go to relatives and friends.

The bequests include $15,000 to Sean O'Casey, the Irish playwright.

Una Stott of Hollywood, a niece of Fitzgerald, was left $35,000. Marie Morgenthau of Hollywood, a sister, will get $25,000.

Bear Lake Girl Is State Cherry Pie Champion

GRAND RAPIDS, (UPI)—Bonnie Brunell, 17, a Sunday school teacher in the tiny West Michigan community of Bear Lake, today won the 1961 Michigan Cherry Pie Baking Contest.

The Bear Lake High School senior was crowned the state's cherry pie making champion at a luncheon here attended by 41 other Michigan teen-ager girls who had competed in the two-day contest.

Bonnie was awarded a $300 college scholarship and a trip to Chicago to compete in the National Cherry Pie Baking Contest Feb. 22.

She is charged in the death of Elmer Blunt, 36, also of Detroit who allegedly succumbed from injuries received as a passenger in Sanders car when it crashed into a utility pole along Doie Highway in the township.

A plea of not guilty was entered for Sanders by Justice of the Peace Emmet J. Lein who scheduled an examination of the charge for Feb. 2 and set bond at $300.

Mute at Arraignment in Traffic Fatality

Charged with negligent homicide stemming from a traffic accident Dec. 10, Elmer Sanders, 37, of Detroit stood mute at his arraignment in Springfield Township Justice Court yesterday afternoon.

He is charged in the death of Elmer Blunt, 36, also of Detroit who allegedly succumbed from injuries received as a passenger in Sanders car when it crashed into a utility pole along Doie Highway in the township.

A plea of not guilty was entered for Sanders by Justice of the Peace Emmet J. Lein who scheduled an examination of the charge for Feb. 2 and set bond at $300.

Little Change Expected in New Farm Programs

Farm leaders who met with President Kennedy and Secretary of Agriculture FREEMAN have expressed satisfaction not over any new proposals but with the fact that plans were laid for closer consultation with farm groups on government policy.

Sec. Freeman first of all advised the leaders of the major farm agencies — the American Farm Bureau, the National Farmers Union and the National Grange — to get together and agree on a program. That always has been the main obstacle to any solution.

For eight years Sec. Benson had fought hard to correct the ills besetting farm production. His idea was to let the law of supply and demand take effect gradually. Subsidies and controls were simply to help the farmer in rough times and not to be a permanent fixture. But Congress, under pressure from farm politicians, didn't see it that way.

Mr. Benson did have some success in the soil conservation program and in surplus food disposal to needy countries. There are about 28 million acres in the reserve now and the net Federal saving because of reduced farm price support payments is figured at $300 million a year. "Four-fifths of agriculture is now freed of controls and is in pretty good balance," says the former secretary.

It is thought that any new Democratic farm program will be along similar lines but under a different name. Conservation has helped to create a balanced, stabilized farm economy by putting land not now needed for crops into some other good use. Nevertheless, our Government's investment in surplus and carry-over stocks is over $9 billion as a result of last year's bumper crop on the smallest acreage in 40 years.

Sec. Freeman will have the same problems to deal with as had Mr. Benson, the same pressures and the same Congressmen. Optimistically, the new secretary has outlined a policy to include "programs that will assure the efficient American family farm the opportunity to achieve parity of income without exploiting either consumers or taxpayers."

That's the ideal goal but how to reach it is the problem.

Robert Kennedy Will Attack Top Shysters

Attorney General ROBERT F. KENNEDY apparently intends to "wage an all out war on vice overlords, gangsters and union racketeers."

This word comes from Washington.

To quote the District of Columbia story further: "Young Kennedy will focus on cases of real importance," instead of compiling an "impressive" record of many, many convictions that center around the small fry.

The nation will soundly applaud any move to concentrate on the top shysters. Let the camp followers fall where they may. KENNEDY has shown a genuine hatred for the underworld denizens and early indications suggest he proposes to give them the full treatment.

More power to him.

British Outclass Our Youth in Athletics

Our American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation has a jawbreaking name and its current pronouncement is a bit breath-taking.

It says our young people are getting soft and flabby in comparison with boys and girls of like ages in Great Britain.

That's a bit startling. You'd guess the reverse.

Arms are the only physical attribute in which we're outclassing our British cousins. This all seems a bit startling but statistics are hard to refute.

Judging from the amazing track and field records which our boys are establishing each year, one would be inclined to think we were doing better than the British. We can whip 'em, hands down. By and large, our golfers are superior, too.

Furthermore, our girls can swim circles, squares and oblongs around their compatriots from the British Isles. But apparently our supremacy lies merely in the topmost level. Once you adjudge the general average, we take a back seat.

Boys and girls, away to the gyms, the play fields and the sports of childhood. Perhaps you're too TV addicted. Perhaps you ride too often instead of walking.

Must this continue?

From Royal Oak, written by that perennial booster.

Arthur Plumrose, comes the query: "Why haven't you told the world that Oakland County has within its borders the finest zoo in Michigan, which our state's largest city had to go outside the limits of its own county to establish, the Detroit Zoo, here at Royal Oak?"

In the same vein, a phone call from

Mrs. Beverly Hinchfield of Birmingham points out that her former home city of Flint has been endeavoring for many years to help its Genesee County establish a zoo, with no success, when Oakland County already has within its area one of the world's leading zoos.

"You're always looking for another Oakland County first," writes

"One of This Large Number," who goes on to say: "But here is one you've missed. More fishing through the ice is done every winter on Oakland County lakes than in any other county in Michigan — and perhaps in the entire nation."

An interesting note comes from

Roger Ramole of Milford, who says: "Regarding your story about the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad taking over the Chesapeake and Ohio System which has 35 miles of main line track in Oakland County, you failed to say that if the merger takes place it would make us a part of the first railroad to be opened for traffic in the United States." Just a Bit Out of Place

David Lawrence Says:

Did JFK Make a Deal for Fliers?

WASHINGTON — What ransom price did the United States government pay the Soviet government to effect the release of the two fliers from the RB47 who were kidnapped on the high seas and held for seven months without being permitted to communicate with their own government? Did this country make any concessions to the Soviets, and, if so, just what were they? Some senators are asking these questions.

As one studies the transcript of President Kennedy's first news conference, it is apparent that the administration here has not given to the American people the whole story of just what happened in the exchanges of messages between Moscow and Washington in the last few days.

One of the newsmen asked this question:

"Mr. President, can you tell us something about what your role was, if you had one, in the release of these fliers? Did this come about as a consequence of some action you took?"

Mr. Kennedy did not answer the question. He simply said that by the American Ambassador in Moscow and Soviet authorities.

The reporters asked the President this question:

"In consequence of Mr. Khrushchev's apparent indication last week of a willingness to release the American fliers, have you sent any communication to him through Ambassador Thompson or otherwise?"

Mr. Kennedy's answer was: "We have had several exchanges with the Soviet authorities. I do not believe that we have taken place since the release of the prisoners."

Later in the news conference, there was a further colloquy on this subject.

"Q. Did the Russians ask you any questions or did we make any concessions to them in exchange for the release of these fliers? If not, how do you account for this remarkable turnaround in their relations with us?"

"A. The statement which I have made is a statement which the United States government put forward on this matter, which I read to you earlier in regard to overflights. I would not attempt to make a judgment as to why the Soviet Union chose to release them at this time. I did say in my statement to Mr. Aronowitch (earlier in the press conference) that this had removed a serious obstacle in the way of peaceful relations between the Soviet Union and the United States, and I would judge that they desire to remove that serious obstacle."

The Country Parson

A man's place is right there with his wife when their baby is born.

Home is the best place to have a baby — and the safest.

The hospital to which the reader went after the baby was born is evidently a nineteenth century institution, complete with star chamber, delivery room and show window nursery for the newborn.

This mother didn't mention it, but she should be glad for her baby's sake that the hospital excluded her baby from the nursery — where the baby might easily be

"Q. Does that mean, sir, that they accepted a reassurance of no more overflights as an exchange?"

"A. It is a fact that I have ordered that the flights not be resumed, which is a continuation of the order given by President Eisenhower in May of last year. This leaves unanswered exactly how and why and when the pledge was given to the Soviet Union that no more U-2 overflights would be authorized."

For one thing, Mr. Kennedy made it clear at the news conference that the shooting down of the RB47 was in an entirely different category from the U-2 incident.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Mother Likes the Idea of Having Baby at Home

"I went to one doctor for our first four children and could never get permission for my husband to be in the delivery room," writes a Minnesota reader.

"Our fifth child on the way we decided to have a different doctor."

When I asked him for permission for my husband to be in the delivery room he said, "Sure, he can help if he wants to! Both doctors practice in the same hospital."

"When I knew the baby was coming I was in no hurry to get to the hospital. I wasn't worried. My husband would take care of me."

"Finally we waited too long and the baby was born at home. Didn't my doctor because he had been ill shortly before. Called one that lives close by. He did what was necessary and then arranged for admission to the hospital — this was because of trouble with my legs."

"They wouldn't take the baby in the nursery because the baby was born outside the hospital." (That was, of course, to protect other babies in the nursery from infection.)

"They put the baby in the room with me — rooming-in — and I enjoyed it."

"If we have another baby we'll plan on having it at home."

"This was a wonderful experience. Some of our friends thought it was really something — everyone goes to the hospital to have a baby, they thought I was crazy."

"But what a wonderful feeling to be together when our baby was born. Certainly we'll have the next one, if there is another, at home too."

Sincerely,

A man's place is right there with his wife when their baby is born.

Home is the best place to have a baby — and the safest.

The inference is clear that, whether the commitment not to resume U-2 flights was given in a conversation at Moscow by Ambassador Thompson during the last few days separate from the one about the RB47 fliers, the Soviets themselves took the two to be related and based their action on it.

It may well be argued whether the United States was party to a "deal," but the plain facts are that, simultaneously with the release of the RB47 fliers, a commitment was announced by President Kennedy that there would be no more U-2 overflights.

Conversation Formula Valuable

"The 'H-E-L-P' formula may be of more immediate value to a dating teen-ager than a year of college, as proved below. It takes only 36 minutes of your time to learn the formula, and 'date bait' with that famous formula, so send for it. After memorizing it, then pass it around among your classmates, too."

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE: G-438; Helen H., aged 17, is a pretty college coed.

"But, Dr. Crane," she said, "I am miserable because I am so long-winded when I am on a date."

"Boys often ask me to go with them to a movie or a sports event, but after I mention the weather and our basketball team's last game, I am unable to carry on any more conversation."

"Why, last night I caught myself mentioning the weather for the last time within an hour! It is all so embarrassing that I am almost afraid to go out anymore."

"It is possible to become a good conversationalist in a hurry, for I have a very special date next week."

"Help, help," is the feeling of Helen and millions of other young folks in the same boat.

So use that very word, "H-E-L-P," as a means of handling your conversational problems.

After you have run short of conversation, following your discussion of the weather and the school team's last game, then turn on "H" in your magic formula.

Voice of the People:

'Each American Liable for Self and Neighbor'

This is your country and it will only be as good as you make it. As an American you are responsible for yourself and your neighbors. It is your responsibility to see that your home and your family are the best. Get your neighbors to help each other better your community. God gave us the best rules for this game of life. Let's put them into use. Peace cannot be conquered, it must be created.

Compliments Flow for New First Lady

I wanted Pat Nixon to be our new First Lady, but I'll have to admit Jackie Kennedy has added a lot of sparkle to the national scene. Her youth, beauty and intelligence will make Washington function much easier, and a baby in the White House will be great fun, too. I hope she has a couple more while she's there.

When my husband saw this letter, he said, "Better include one lambasting Jack Kennedy. We don't want to get too carried away." But that can wait until later.

Appeals for Prayer for Administrators

Rulers, presidents and governors are not a terror to good works but to the evil. Can we truly believe that this will also be true of Kennedy and Swanson? I appeal to every Christian to pray to God, to speak to both the president and governor and bring them nearer to God to do God's will.

'People Should Live by God's Laws'

Most of us hope to live to be a hundred years old, but this is a short time compared to eternity. Most of us know what is going to happen then.

God has laid down a few simple laws for us to live by. If we live by these laws we will be in a better shape to meet our future and if it develops that there is no future life we will have been happier while here on earth.

If enough people lived by God's laws we could make a pause right here on earth and there would not be the utter confusion that exists today. Why don't you give it a trial and be happy?

Says Many Schools Want Federal Aid

The editorial criticizing Sen. McNamara's proposed bill to informally saying "Michigan doesn't want this bill" covers a lot of territory.

There are thousands of teachers, school board members and parents who have been working for federal aid. Many Michigan schools receive federal aid in some form and have been. Pontiac schools receive federal aid now. They welcomed it.

Sen. McNamara knows a good deal about the needs of education. Michigan receives children from all over the United States. Often they come from areas where educational opportunity is far below ours.

Four Soviet range ships patrolling the Pacific ocean for the last week in the target area used for some of the Soviet missile firings indicate Moscow is on the verge of trying another space shoot. There is much speculation this might be a spacecraft carrying a man, rather than a collection of animals.

The possibility the Soviets might send up two men at once is reasonable speculation, a U.S. space official said informally.

The Soviet have the capability of a big booster rocket and large capsule, he said. And "solving the problems of re-entry and life support is no harder for two men than for one."

Many space and rocket experts think the race to put a man in space is almost sure to go to the Soviets. The Soviets long have had much more powerful booster rockets.

Smoke Suffocates Girl in Warren Home

DETROIT UP—An 11-year-old girl suffocated today from smoke in a bedroom closet fire at a girl friend's Warren home where she was an overnight guest.

The girl, Janet Jauris, apparently became confused in the strange bedroom and could not find her way, friends said.

Others in the household, including Janet's friend Nancy Flagg, 12, escaped.

Janet, trapped in the bedroom, was dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital in Warren.

Living Costs Up Tenth of Per Cent in December

WASHINGTON UP—Living costs edged to another record high in December. It was the 10th increase in 11 months.

The Labor Department reported today its consumers price index rose one-tenth of one per cent between November and December. This put the index at 127.5. The 1947-48 average level is the base of 100 used in the index.

Higher food prices and shelter costs contributed most to the increase between November and December.

The December index was 1.5 per cent above the level a year earlier.

Junk Office Slayings Suspect Is Charged

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit police today announced they have charged William Delk, 23, Highland Park, with first degree murder in the slaying of junk dealer Abraham Siegel, 78, and his secretary, Mrs. Dolores Pfeister, 22.

Police said Delk's accomplice in the robbery-slaying had given them a full statement detailing how Delk had killed Siegel and the woman last Nov. 15 in Siegel's office.

They did not reveal the name of the accomplice who will be a state's witness against Delk.

Both Delk and the accomplice have been held in the Wayne County Jail for some time on other charges and the accomplice told of the Siegel-Pfeister slayings Thursday, police said.

Old Classmates Reunited by Head-On Crash

Two area doctors who attended medical school together in 30 meet again for the first time yesterday in a head-on auto crash on Adams Road in Avon Township.

Both were rushed by ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where they were treated by another former classmate, Dr. Robert Poole, staff surgeon.

One victim, Dr. Merle Childers, 41, of 1337 Sherandoan St., Rochester was reported in satisfactory condition today with facial injuries. The other, Dr. Lawrence Koltunow, 36 of 1313 Leslie St., Oak Park, was released from the hospital following treatment.

Neither Dr. Childers nor Dr. Koltunow had yet made a statement to sheriff's deputies as to how the accident occurred. Both were on their way home at the time of the crash.

They and Dr. Poole attended medical school at Wayne State University in Detroit from 1949 to '53.

Henry Withdraws Protest to Jury

Attorney Milton R. Henry today withdrew his motion requesting Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland to dismiss the present 75-member jury panel on grounds it is not representative of the country's total population.

Henry gave no reason. Because of the delay in acting on the pending motion, the prosecutor's office said that Henry's client, accused bad check passer Frank M. Zietek, 38, of 20 S. Padlock St., would not stand trial until the March jury term.

It was at the start of Zietek's trial for passing a $123 check that Henry made his motion.

New York Herald Tribune

Salinger Praises Paper for Holding Flier Scoop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune has received a White House commendation for not using a 19-hour world scoop it had on the release by the Soviet Union of two American fliers.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said he had told the Herald Tribune reporter Tuesday night that publishing the news would be "harmful to the national interest and inimical to the welfare of the fliers."

He said the reporter, David Wise, agreed to hold off publication. "In doing this," Salinger said, "the Herald Tribune prevented the violation of an agreement between the United States and the U.S.S.R. which might have had regrettable repercussions. The Herald Tribune's example in this case is to be highly commended."

President Kennedy disclosed the news of the fliers' release at his news conference, after the fliers were on their way home. Salinger sent his commendation by telegram to Herald Tribune publisher John Hay Whitney. The newspaper said its Washington bureau got wind of the story about 10 p.m. Tuesday, and within an hour had the essential facts. Wise called Salinger about midnight for comment, and Salinger asked him to withhold the story.

The Herald Tribune added, "In anticipation of the story the Herald Tribune had slowed down the run of its 'late city edition' in New York so that the news might be carried in the maximum number of copies," the paper said. "Nevertheless, in view of the nature of the White House request, the Herald Tribune decided not to break the announcement."

Accused Thief
Flees Arrest

Makes Good Escape
When Policeman's Gun
Misfires at Home

One of six persons accused of a $3,000 drugstore burglary in December escaped from custody yesterday when a detective's pistol misfired.

Eugene F. Douglas, 30, broke away from Sgt. John Williams who was taking him into custody at his home, 494 Bloomfield Ave.

When Williams' pistol misfired, Douglas fled down the streets. Police believe that Douglas, who made good a similar escape last year in the Public Safety Building, is still in Pontiac.

He is accused of participating in the Dec. 21 burglary of Lou's drugstore, 801 E. Sanford St., in which $3,000 in merchandise and cash was stolen.

Eugene Llewellyn, 19, 211 E. Wilson Ave., demanded examination before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum on a charge that he was involved in the burglary.

The pretrial hearing was set for Feb. 2. Lt. Raymond E. Megitt said that two men and a woman named in the warrant are believed under arrest in Milwaukee for shoplifting.

Detroit Holding 15 on Arson Charge

DETROIT (AP)—Fifteen persons were held and seven others sought in connection with a fire that police said set fires to collect insurance money.

Leonard Zisk, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, described the persons as belonging to "Arson, Inc." He said they had collected some $150,000 in insurance on property which had been deliberately set afire since December, 1959.

Zisk said Burrell Mangrum, 34, of Detroit, was the leader of the group. Mangrum and the others were named in warrants charging conspiracy to burn insured property. The warrants charge eight specific cases of arson.

The others arrested included Mrs. Lois Chapman, 39, of Oak Park.

Allege Czech Espionage

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—Switzerland has lodged a "sharp protest" with Czechoslovakia against alleged Czech espionage in the Swiss territory, the government announced today.

Cash Dividend
Payments in '60
Set New Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Commerce Department said Wednesday corporations issuing public reports paid stockholders a record $13,700,000 in cash dividends in 1960.

This was a gain of 4 1/2 per cent from the previous record of $13,114,000 set in 1959.

Manufacturing dividends rose 2 1/2 per cent with all industries except refining and transportation equipment reporting gains.

Rates State High in School Spending

LANSING (AP)—The Citizens Research Council said today that an analysis of expenditures for higher education shows Michigan has a greater per capita spending rate than other industrial states no matter what basis is used for comparison.

The council's report was issued in answer to a charge by a Michigan Council of State College Presidents (MCCSP) last week that the research group was doing "great damage" by using unrepresentative figures.

The MCCSP, which represents the presidents of all nine of Michigan's public colleges and universities, contended that Michigan ranks only moderately higher than neighboring states in appropriations per capita to state-supported institutions.

Name Daniel T. Murphy to Education Division

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., clerk-register of deeds for Oakland County, has been named to the education division of the recently consolidated Michigan State Association of Supervisors and Michigan Institute of Local Government.

The two organizations merged at the convention of the association, which closed yesterday in Lansing.

The education division is responsible for information and publications on state government.

Plotter in Hospital

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Richard Pavlick, Belmont, N.H. resident, accused of plotting to blow up President Kennedy at Palm Beach last December, was ordered committed to a mental hospital today.

The facio-scapulo-humeral form of muscular dystrophy commences in early adulthood and affects the facial muscles, shoulders and upper arms.

Soviets Like Jack;
He's Much Calmer

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio gave a report on President Kennedy's first news conference. The new President was calm and spoke in a businesslike manner, which was in strong contrast to his predecessor, who often used to lose self control, it said.

The arriba, a Latin American measure of weight, is worth 25.32 pounds in Argentina and 35.32 pounds in neighboring Brazil.

In 2nd State Police District

Must Give Details on Accidents

For the next three months, and death for thousands on the state Police troopers at the Pontiac Post are going to have a lot more paperwork on their hands. Throughout the 2nd State Police District—Oakland, Lapeer, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair, Washtenaw, and Wayne Counties—troopers will be taking part in an intensive research program beginning Feb. 1.

Out of the piles of paperwork, it is hoped, will come the answers to questions, such as: Are compact cars more dangerous than the standard model? Would a different car design have prevented a death or lessened injuries to passengers? What causes a motorist to be mangled in a collision?

The order of the day will be detail in injury accident reports. Details, details and details. More than 60 command officers met Wednesday and Thursday to plan the operation.

Assisting in the local project is William D. Coleman, field representative of Cornell's automotive crash injury research. Capt. Fred E. Davis, district commander, said the troopers' accident reports will be only a beginning.

The injuries and dead will be followed through hospitals and morgues. Perhaps the information gathered will enable experts to learn what causes certain injuries—and to recommend measures which would prevent them.

The cause of the accidents isn't the first concern of the investigators. They want to know what happens while a person is hurtled about inside a car.

Once they know, they can look ahead to reducing the danger to accident victims of the future.

Nevertheless, all officers will receive instructions in preparation of detailed accident reports and the photographing of accident scenes.

Off-Cuff Session Takes Courage

Kennedy Shows Astonishingly Wide Grasp

By BOB CONFINI

NEW YORK — President Kennedy's first White House press conference was the best unheated television show since the final game of the 1960 World Series. It takes courage for any man to face a room filled with 400 jumping-jack questioners. It calls for an orderly mind to give answers to those questions. It requires an astonishing grasp of U.S. and world conditions and, finally, it is a pro-live that the answers in no way aggravate or worsen relations abroad as stimuli at home.

Mr. Kennedy came to the lectern looking like a good young man playing the old Jimmy Stewart role in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," but when he opened his mouth, a whole nation (and since then the people of many countries including the U.S.S.R., knew they were in the presence of a man in absolute command of himself, positive in his thinking (right, Dr. Peale?), and superbly well-informed.

EXTRA INNINGS
In the space of 37 minutes — like the aforementioned World Series game, this one ran into extra innings — Mr. Kennedy touched these bases:

Geneva atomic testing deliberations, food for the Congo, release of the two survivors of the RB47, relations with the Soviet Union, further has on US flights, a meeting with Khrushchev, the aramex plans, civil rights, the risk of appearing on live TV, Cuba, Latin America, infiltration of alien ideologies there, the House Ways and Means Committee, rights and sovereignty of Congress, impending legislation affecting housing, education and farmers; and the Navy's position in respect to the Portuguese liner Santa Maria.

In addition, he gave the first full reading on the exact whereabouts of that ship, then turned to reciprocal trade agreements, import-export balances, leakage of dollars and gold, a return of servicemen's families from overseas, the New York Democratic party's SNAFU, unemployment, release of secret reports on loss of American prestige overseas, censorship, summit, traditional diplomatic channels, the budget (he ducked this), food for Red China, why he ignored domestic matters in his inaugural address, Laos, U2 pilot Francis Powers, the 11 fliers shot down over Armenia, why Khrushchev released the RB47 fliers at just this time, Electoral College reforms, and the question of "succession" in case he is physically or mentally incapacitated.

It was the performance of a political virtuoso, articulate, informative, rewarding. But it must have exasperated millions who seemed to see and hear certain points developed.

Ed Morgan of ABC was the only questioner who asked two consecutive questions in succession. The others came there—as always—intent on asking some carefully memorized question and, come hell or high water, they asked it no matter what was asked and answered just before that.

Suggests New Degree
NEW YORK (AP)—A new degree, doctor of arts in mathematics, has been recommended in an effort to obtain better teachers in the field of mathematics. The recommendation was made Thursday by the Mathematical Association of America and the American Mathematical Society.

AP Photo by Charles Swidler, 54, of Nashville, Tenn., will be named chairman of the Federal Power Commission, the White House announced Thursday.

Stricter Labeling Due on Drug Chloromycetin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) announced Thursday that it will permit continued marketing of the drug chloromycetin under new and stricter labeling requirements.

FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick said that a panel of scientists appointed by the National Research Council had determined that chloromycetin "is a valuable drug that should remain on the market." It is produced by Parke, Davis & Co.

But he said that the scientists had recommended a revision of the drug label "to give added emphasis to the warnings against its use in minor infections."

The International Postal Union was established by the Treaty of Bern in 1874.

Lenz is a river 3,000 miles long in Siberia. It empties into the Arctic Ocean.

Building to Start Soon

Award Contracts for Lapeer Jail

LAPEER — Construction of a $300,000 Lapeer County Jail will get under way in about two months now that building contracts for the 36-prisoner facility have been awarded by the County Board of Supervisors.

County Clerk Lyle Stewart reported that work should be started on the jail April 1, but he said poor weather could delay the project beyond that date.

The project received two setbacks last year because of high costs. The supervisors originally hoped to have the jail built for $200,000 but they later decided a facility large enough to serve the county could not be constructed for much less than $400,000.

The board finally accepted the $300,000 bid of the Perrow Construction Co., 2101 Myers Road, Oak Park, for the general construction work.

Two Flint firms, the Weinstein Electrical Co. and the Davenny Plumbing and Heating Co., were awarded contracts for the balance of the job.

The mechanical work on the jail will cost $90,200 and the electrical installation will total $28,410.

Besides the jail facilities, a sheriff's department office, license bureau and a five-car garage also will be included in the cost of the building.

12-ACRE SITE — The one-story concrete block and brick structure will be erected on a 12-acre site at the west end of the city on M21.

It will replace the present county jail, a century-old lockup condemned in 1954 which holds only 18 prisoners.

A one-mill tax, levied for five years to pay for construction of the jail and a new county office building, still has another year before it expires, according to Stewart.

When the jail is paid for, the county will have approximately $150,000 left over to spend on the proposed office building, Stewart said.

School Levy Vote March 6

Armada Voters Given 2nd Change to Replace Expired Millage

ARMADA — Voters in the Armada Area School District will be asked to vote March 6 on a proposal to levy four mills for operations for a two-year period, Supt. Kenneth Stanley announced today.

This will be the second attempt by the school board to get public support for a millage levy to replace the three mills that expired with the 1960 tax apportionment.

A similar proposal seeking six mills for five years was turned down by school district voters Dec. 5 by the overwhelming margin of 10 to 1.

The additional millage would have allowed the school system to operate a 40-week year for the first time in 12 years, provided for a broader educational program and permitted an adjustment in teachers' salaries.

It also would have made possible the replacement of more than half of the 15 school buses with new vehicles, according to school officials.

"The school board has determined that four mills are absolutely necessary to continue the present level of education in Armada area schools," the superintendent said today.

The added tax board members feel that the requested millage will enable them just to "get by" for the next couple of years.

Stanley reminded voters that by approving the four mills they will only be paying one mill over the expiring tax levy.

Illegal Chiropractic Practice Stopped

SUBLEY TOWNSHIP — A 43-year-old woman, arrested by state police for practicing chiropractic without a license, was to be arraigned today in Macomb County Justice Court in Mount Clemens.

State trooper James Niedermeier of the Center Line Post went to Mrs. Frieda H. Rebert's office at 7020 23-Mile Road and completed a raid on the right side of his back.

Mrs. Rebert diagnosed the ailment as a pinched nerve. After massaging his back, she said the policeman was cured but advised Mrs. Rebert to come back for another treatment next week.

Niedermeier, who said he actually had nothing wrong with his back when he went to the woman's office, paid the woman $2 in marked bills and then arrested her.

The state trooper reported the woman had no license to operate except a plaque on the wall which was a certification of spiritual ministry of the White Brotherhood of Truth. It was dated April 6, 1918.

PERFECT TIMING—William McCracken, retiring today after 30 years as a school custodian, inspects his favorite chair which fell apart just about the time he announced his plans for taking it easy. McCracken, 65, of 3038 Portman St., Kearsy Harbor, says the chair has been around nearly as long as he has, first at the Roosevelt Elementary School where he was employed 25 years and 5 years at the West Bloomfield where he is chief custodian. He said he had planned to use the chair for ice fishing before it collapsed.

New Junior High to End Half Days in Oak Park

OAK PARK — Half-day sessions will end Monday for more than 2,000 junior and senior high school students here with the opening of a $1.9 million junior high school building.

The new facility is an addition to the Clinton Elementary School. It will be known as the Oak Park Junior High School.

Some 800 seventh and eighth grade students will transfer Monday from the Oak Park High School where they have been sharing classrooms with upper level pupils the last year and a half.

There are 1,300 high school students enrolled at the Oak Park High School.

The senior high students have been attending classes in the morning and the younger pupils have been using the high school facilities in the afternoon.

The addition to the Clinton School contains 20 regular classrooms, three science rooms, three homeroom rooms, three art rooms and three workshops.

There is also a library, cafeteria, three instrumental and vocal rooms, offices, counseling room, special education, receiving and teachers rooms, kitchen, boiler room and expanded locker facilities.

The junior high school addition was under construction a year.

The city office is the first unit in a proposed city center development. It is on the south side of Pontiac Trail, just east of Wixom Road.

The one-story city hall will house the police and fire departments, the department of public works, the justice of the peace court, it has a large City Council meeting room.

The new building is about three blocks from the present city hall, located at 131 N. Wixom Road in a remodeled home.

The new city hall was constructed by Frank Stewart and Son, Inc., of Pontiac, and designed by Kaimstra, McMillan and Associates of Ann Arbor.

The city of New Orleans was founded on its present site in 1718 by a French captain named Jean de Bienville, who was born in Canada.

Won't Improve Rochester Road

No Funds Available for M150 Says State; May Give It to Oakland

AVON TOWNSHIP — The State Highway Department has advised the Township Board that its present plans do not include improvement or resurfacing of Rochester Road (M150) north of Rochester.

A highway department official reported that no funds are available for improvement of the road and that it is not included in a current five-year plan for resurfacing of state trunklines.

A petition complaining about the condition of the road, signed by about 100 commuters who travel on it daily, was turned in to township officials last month, according to Township Clerk Mrs. Frances Covert.

She said the petition was forwarded to the state highway department.

In answer to the petition, R. A. Trebilcock, director of programming for the planning office of the state highway department, indicated the township may be turned over to Oakland County.

Trebilcock stated his department now is considering the possibility of giving local authorities jurisdiction over the state trunkline.

Mrs. Covert said the petition received here was signed mainly by persons who live outside the township but who use the road traveling to and from work.

However, complaints about the "poor condition" of the trunkline were voiced by township residents who attended a special forum on roads held Sept. 15 in Rochester.

Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, told residents that his department could do nothing about improving Rochester Road because it was under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department.

Highway Dept. Is Studying M59 Intersections

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The State Highway Department is studying three intersections on M59 here to determine what can be done to prevent accidents.

The Oxford Lake, Porter and Hill road intersections are under study.

The three junctions were determined to be dangerous after a tour was made by representatives of the highway department, the sheriff's department and the state police.

The most dangerous intersection among the three being studied is Feb. 9.

Machin-Tate Nuptials

Speak Evening Vows

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Protestant Church, Pontiac, was the setting for the wedding of Muriel Joyce Tate and David George Machin of Macomb County.

The Rev. William H. March performed the evening rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Tate of 765 Greenfield Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David E. Machin of 3100 Martel Road, Avon Township.

After her wedding the bride chose a multi-length gown of white tulle with lace over tulle. Her accessories included a white veil, a white necklace and a white bracelet.

A tuxedo held her full, circular veil which was fingertip length. White carnations and miniature red roses with ivy streamers adorned the white bride she carried.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Arthur Heckman of Lake Orion, sister of the bride.

Serving as best man was Dennis E. Carroll of Pontiac. David Mayers and Stanley Carey were ushers.

Following the nuptials a reception was held in the church parlor. Then the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Atlanta after dinner at 721 Chandler St., Pontiac Township.

Hospital Unit Plans Fashion Show

The St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Blood Group has completed plans for a spring fashion show and luncheon March 17 at the Elks Club.

The entire proceeds will be applied directly to the purchase of a blood machine to serve the public at the hospital. Communities including Royal Oak, Birmingham, Rochester, Waterford and environs will benefit.

Bridge Crowd Goes Tripping Around

By MARY ELLEN MEAD
BIRMINGHAM — Cocktails, buffet dinner and bridge will combine to make Saturday night festive for 12 Birmingham couples who have been meeting on this basis, monthly, for a number of years.

Changing the routine a bit, the Leon Harris of Puritan Road suggested that they be hosts for the cocktail hour, after which everyone will troop over to the Robert Baxters on Pilgrim Road for the remainder of the evening.

Group includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dentyl, Mr. and Mrs. Francis McMath, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McMath, Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, the Kingsley Browns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meek, the Richard Baldwins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartley.

The latter couple obviously has two loves when it comes to recreation — one bridge, the other skiing. And at this point they are best on a combination which should satisfy to the hilt.

Come Feb. 10, they'll take off from their home in Foxcroft to join members of their duplicate bridge group for a weekend at Crystal Mountain ski resort near Benning, N.H. Another winter sport, it's a sort of miniature-skiing combination. Boyne Mountain, but we know it because it's small and uncluttered.

Driving up from Birmingham for the weekend will be Mr.

CAROL THRESSA WEBB

The Irving M. Webbs of Waterford Township announce the engagement of their daughter Carol Thressa to Gerald L. Haney, son of the Fred Haneys of Keego Harbor.

Commentator for fashions by Franklin Simon Co. of Detroit, Northland and New York will be Mrs. Alan Phil of Detroit, coordinator of fashion shows in New York, Chicago and California.

Callers will be designed by Mad Marquand of The Blue Wig in the Bloomfield Plaza, with make-up by Lois Bergan, beauty equipment of Birmingham and Pontiac.

Working on the committee for the 12 o'clock luncheon are Mrs. F. O. Rorabaugh, president; Mrs. Peter Davidson, honorary president; Mrs. Robert C. Tricker, vice president; Mrs. Verne Drew, luncheon chairman; Mrs. Fred Cocker, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Clifford Dick, prior chairman; Mrs. Joseph Spadafore, prize chairman; Mrs. Carleton Wright, finance; and Mrs. Austin Sansone, publicity.

The couple plans a June 24 wedding.

Garnered for You

The Joseph J. Hartigans of MacIntosh Lane, Bloomfield Hills, will be hosts at a Saturday evening buffet honoring the third wedding anniversary of their daughter and son-in-law, the Richard O'Connors.

Some 75 young friends of the O'Connors and family friends of the Hartigans have been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Weyhing (June D. Bush) of Adamson Road, Drayton Plains, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Mistal Lisa, Jan. 1 at Pontiac General Hospital.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Poltin and the R. J. Weyhings, all of Detroit.

The Lucky 13 Birthday Club, meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Ralph Deem on Stirling Avenue, honored the birthday of Mrs. Johnnie Bee and elected her as president.

Prizes were taken home by Mrs. Bee, Mrs. Anderson Bee and Mrs. Steve Sapalak. Secret pals will be disclosed at the February meeting with Mrs. Roy Deem.

The Daniel W. Greenwalds (Barbara McReynolds) are parents of twin sons, Kelly Jay and Kevin Ray, born Jan. 19 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents are the Emil Greenwalds of Whittemore Street and Mr. and Mrs. H. Durelle McReynolds of Alberta Street, Pontiac Township.

Michigan weather seems mild to the Hubert Heintzelmans of Madison, Maine, who left home at 26 below zero. Joining them Wednesday at the Howard Heintzelmans of Milford where they are house-guests, were other cold-weather dinner guests, the Jack McDonalds of Calgary, Alberta and Mrs. Heintzelman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers of Detroit.

A daughter, Belinda Mae, was born Dec. 26 to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Randall (Betty Jo Rose) of Evee Road, Clarkston, in Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are the William B. Presswoods of Clarkston and the Benjamin Oxburns of Hudson Avenue.

Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Joseph Rose of Columbus, Ohio and the W. O. Haddock of Norfolk, Va. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crouch of Davisburg.

Dior Look Swings Hips

PARIS — Designer Marc Bohan stripped the spinach from fashion Thursday morning in a ladylike collection for Dior that may well prove the biggest style hit since the "new look."

What Bohan names the "slim look" is a silhouette with a long waistline bodice to the top of the hip, with lightly flared skirts often showing a bit of the knee-cap.

BOHAN'S A SMASH
Enthusiastic applause throughout the show made it clear that Bohan has a smash hit for his debut as a replacement for Yves Mattheu Saint-Laurent.

If the bosom and the waist are bypassed in the "slim look," hips are hugged and legs emphasized. The most astonishing thing about the show was that it contained not a single eccentricity.

The long-waisted, short-skirted general outline naturally recalls the flapper era, but murmuring favorable comparisons with Molyneux at the top of his form.

Bohan's interpretation is fresh as a daisy. His pure and simple elegance had the audience

Jackie's Other Self

Pretty Pamela Turnure, 23, press secretary whose resemblance to her boss, First Lady Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, is astonishing, poses at the White House. The first press secretary to be employed by a First Lady, she will act as "an intermediary" between Mrs. Kennedy, Pierre Salinger, the President's secretary and reporters.

The influence of the 20s is strongest in evening wear, for Bohan makes downs of waistless beaded sheaths, all with hip belts of tight fitting at the hip.

Lady Diana Duff Cooper and the Duchess of Windsor were at the dress opening, and Lady Diana, peering at the mannequins through tinted, plastic-framed glasses, saw a printed chiffon formal with fringing train named "Diana" for her.

Whatever happens to Saint-Laurent, who suffered a nervous breakdown during a brief spell of military service, Marc Bohan made his name in fashion Thursday morning. Nobody believes Dior will willingly let him go now.

Women should love his youthful, easy to wear, easy to walk in clothes, which for once are as pretty as they are elegant. A fairly slim pair of hips is the only thing they require.

When the 34-year-old designer forgot his ladylike look to cut just three necklines that plunged right to the waist, the audience took it as a joke and laughed.

Hormones for Hair

Scared by Thinning Scalp

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "About 15 years ago, when in my late 20s, I had a complete hysterectomy. I have had no side effects but now, at mid-40s, I find my hair becoming alarming thin."

"My general health is excellent so far as I know. Could this condition be due to lack of hormones? Would it be beneficial for me to consider taking hormones? My hair looks lifeless. There are no actual bald spots but just general thinness and it's steadily becoming thinner all the time."

"I would visit my doctor but now live in a different city and seems easy to put off a visit to a strange physician when I am in good health."

A. Nobody knows just what causes thinning hair although there are certain factors which have been pinpointed. Heredity, a low thyroid, nervous stress and certain illnesses are some.

Hormones are sometimes prescribed for this condition. Naturally you must not take these without a physician's advice and supervision.

I suggest you locate a well-qualified doctor in your new place of residence. You should do this anyway. Call your local county medical society or a local hospital for the name of a competent doctor on their staff.

Q. "I am wondering if I should gain weight or stay at the weight I now am. I am 25 years old. I am 5 feet and weigh 104 pounds. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 24 and hips 34. I have a very small bone structure. My husband keeps telling me to lose weight."

A. Your weight is correct. Your husband is a difficult man to please.

Q. "How long will it take before I begin to see some improvement when I take waist-slimming exercises?"

A. If you do them regularly every day, gradually increasing the number of times you do each exercise daily, you will begin to see a difference in two weeks or a little more.

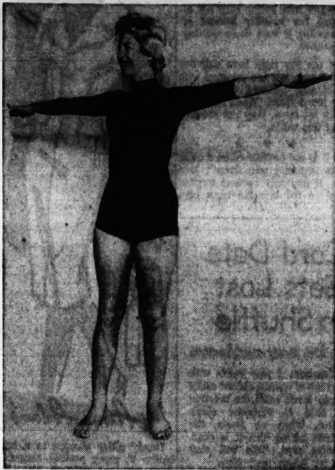

Q. "Can a woman of 37 improve her figure with exercise or is she too old?"

A. I have seen women of 70 improve their figures with exercises.

Q. "Is there anything that can be done about the small on-the-surface, little broken veins?"

A. They can be removed by a dermatologist but this usually is temporary. Why not use a water-proof make-up to cover them?

The Suez canal runs almost due north and south for 104.5 miles of routing through marshy lakes and desert areas.

If you do your waist exercises every day, gradually increasing the number of times you do each exercise daily, you will begin to see a difference in your figure in about two weeks.

Your Clubs a Bore?
Put 'Em to This Test

By RUTH MILLETT

Do you suffer from frequent attacks of clubitis? That is, do you sometimes think that if you have to go to one more meeting, serve on one more committee, or call one more list of names you'll blow your top?

If so, it is high time to put every organization to which you belong to a test. Ask yourself these questions about each one.

Am I still as interested in this group as I was when I joined and as convinced as I was then that it serves a useful purpose?

Do I enjoy anything about being a member of this organization, or do I simply belong because I feel I should?

Would I quit this organization tomorrow if I weren't afraid of what "they" (meaning the other members) would say about my quitting?

Have I really contributed enough to this organization to justify the time I have spent at meetings?

Are most of the members

"working" members or "talk-lag" members?

If this organization were disbanded would it really matter to anyone but the members?

Are there any ways in which I could better spend the time I give to this organization?

Try those questions on each organization and you may be shocked at how many of them stunk the test outright.

Don't Shield the Children From Hostility

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
Last year my little boy enjoyed kindergarten very much. But this year every other morning he'll say "I don't want to go to school today."

He says that his first grade teacher is always "yelling" at him. My problem is whether or not to have a little talk with her about this.

Other mothers tell me that she's been abusive toward their youngsters too.

Answer: Do you really believe that a "little talk" with this teacher can change her from an irritable woman into a self-possessed one? Let's depart Fairyland and come down to earth. If you don't, your small boy may continue to believe in magic that can transform his yelling first grade teacher into his nice kindergarten one.

And when she remains what she is, he may start imagining himself to be a bad boy.

Actually, it is not fine for children to be constantly associated with kindly, patient, interested people.

For the world isn't entirely composed of them. That we resist this fact is our problem. We just like to believe that hostile people exist in the world and want children to share out view of it as unfeeling, benevolent.

ALARMED AT VIRTUE

Someone we've got the impression that everyone will love us if we are just good enough ourselves. So we are alarmed for the virtue of a child who says, "My teacher is mean," just as the tawling conifers in the fairy tale were shocked when the little boy said, "But the emperor you say is wearing such kindly robes is naked!"

Because we are afraid of hostility ourselves, we don't want children to register it as truth but instead tell them cruel lies about how the world is. When we leave, the person whose turn it is next, always says, "We will play at my house next week."

Last week nothing was said and so I took it for granted that we would not be playing cards and so on the night we usually play I washed my hair as I was going to be home. About nine o'clock, the person at whose house we were supposed to play called me and asked what was delaying me and said that all the others were waiting.

I told her that as nothing was said the previous week I took it for granted that we weren't playing and that I had washed my hair and couldn't go out with a wet head.

She was very perturbed and said that I knew it was her turn and should have taken it for granted that we were playing at her house. I would like to know who was right in this instance.

Answer: If in the past when the hostess for the next week had said nothing about playing at her house that meant you would not play, you were right. It does, however, seem to me that you, or one of the others should have said as you left the last meeting, "Are we playing next week?"

Question: If you're a guest in someone's house and break a piece of the hostess' best china, or glassware, or if you prefer to offer to pay for the item that was broken, or is saying that you are sorry, sufficient?

Answer: After saying how sorry you are, you make every effort to find a duplicate piece. If you are successful and find one, you buy it and send it to your hostess, unless it is so expensive that you simply cannot afford it.

Question: How soon is it necessary to reply to a formal wedding reception invitation.

Answer: As early as possible so that the family of the bride can make arrangements for the number of guests expected.

The first dikes to protect Holland houses from rising canal waters were high mounds about which rude huts were built. Then these mounds were connected to form dikes keeping rising waters in the canals under control.

The Feb. 13 meeting of Birmingham Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, will be a ten in Birmingham Community House. Mrs. G. H. Willett, Birmingham's mayor, will talk briefly on "Civic Improvement in Birmingham."

Main speaker will be Donald J. Richards, education consultant with the Michigan Department of Conservation. He will speak on general conservation with emphasis on wild flowers and will show slides.

Make, Bake and Freeze Large Batch of Bread

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Homemade bread freezes well. When you are in the mood to bake, it is no harder to make four loaves than one. And the family will love having a fresh loaf every few days. Try Mrs. V. K. Hill's recipe which makes 4 loaves and a pan of rolls.

Mrs. Hill has a full-time job outside her home. In her leisure hours she likes gardening, both the indoor and the outdoor kind. The hill lot has a big garden and fruit and berries on it.

HOMEMADE BREAD

By Mrs. V. K. Hill

3 cups yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1 cup instant mashed potatoes
1 cup instant oatmeal
1 cup instant rice
1 1/2 cups sifted flour

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Soak milk, add sugar, salt and shortening and let cool to lukewarm. Add yeast mixture and enough flour to make a dough you can handle.

Turn out on floured board and knead, using more flour as needed. When dough is springy, place in greased bowl. Grease top of dough so it will not dry out. Let rise 2 hours or until double.

Punch down and cut into 5 parts. Let rest 10 minutes. Form into 4 loaves and 12 rolls. Place in greased pans and let loaves rise 1 1/2 hours. Let rolls rise until almost double. Bake bread at 400 degrees for 45 minutes. Bake rolls for 15 minutes.

Makes 4 loaves of 1 1/2 pounds each and about a dozen pan rolls.

She's Working to Cure World's Troubles

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Beatrice H. Hill is one of those women who unselfishly take on the world's troubles as their own, and work tirelessly to cure them. Ever since her teen years, she has been what she calls a "real busybody," poking into problems, and the list of her accomplishments is long.

Now, at 46, Mrs. Hill is walking into another volunteer assignment, as head of Comeback, Inc., a new national organization for the social rehabilitation of all handicapped, aged and chronically ill people.

Says the energetic Mrs. Hill, "Great strides have been taken in the last 20 years toward medical and vocational rehabilitation. But little attention has been paid to the social and recreational needs of the handicapped."

"That, she said, is where Comeback will come in — in education, research and advising communities on setting up recreation programs for the handicapped, the aged, and chronically ill.

CITES FIGURES

Mrs. Hill cited these statistics: There are 250,000 persons confined to nursing homes, yet only one nursing home in 725 has a recreation program. One in seven persons, or about 24 million, is handicapped in some way.

The disabled cost the public more than half a billion dollars yearly.

Only three per cent of the nation's municipal recreation departments have any program for the handicapped. Seventy per cent of our hospitals have no recreational therapy departments. Mrs. Hill, a slim brunette, known first hand what it is like to be confined and have nothing to do "but look at four walls all day."

She contracted tuberculosis while her first husband was at Saranac Lake, N.Y., undergoing treatment for the same disease. He did not recover, but two years of hospitalization in Arizona cured her.

Before she became ill, however, she had initiated a recreation program for the Saranac Sanatorium patients, with volunteers from Saranac Lake and surrounding communities helping.

Mrs. Hill was born to the means for doing good—"I was in the position of not having to work for a living," she smiled.

Her father, who like his daughter, was active in causes, was the late Charles Hirsman, president of the General Cigar Co.

"When I came back to New York from Arizona in 1941," she said, "I looked around for a place where I was needed. I didn't want to get involved with the mink coat and luncheon set at the Colony."

She found it at Goldwater Memorial Hospital for Chronic Diseases, on New York's Welfare Island. She volunteered to start a recreation program in one ward, and it wasn't long until she was directing a full scale program for the entire hospital. Here became the pilot for hundreds of similar programs in hospitals around the country.

HAS MANY JOBS

Since she has served as recreation consultant to Dr. Howard Rusk, director of the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, to New York City's Department of Hospitals, director of consulting services on recreation for ill and handicapped for the National Recreation Association, and director of several study projects underwritten by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The recreation expert has been married for the last 15 years to a financial advertising executive.

Test Women for Space

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—

A series of research tests designed to find out if women are suitable for space travel is being conducted at Lovelace Foundation.

A group of 20 women, all seasoned fliers, have been selected. Their ages range from 23 to 38. Five have completed the rigorous mental and physical tests, Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, foundation director, said.

He said no results of the tests will be revealed until all have finished the training. He said the latest graduate had completed the tests last week.

Lovelace emphasized the program is purely a research program and has no connection with the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, the Air Force or the Navy.

He said the tests are to compare women with men for some possible future role as crew members on space flights.

Supervisors Assn. Opposes Con-Con

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan State Association of Supervisors went on record Thursday opposing a constitutional convention but indicated how it wanted delegates chosen if the people call a con-con.

The organization defeated a resolution recommending a recommendation which would have put it in support of nonpartisan selection of delegates.

A motion to oppose the call of a convention, which will be on the April 3 ballot, received heavy support.

Castro Cuts Off Cuban Cash for Students at LSU

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Some 38 Cuban students at Louisiana State university today faced the spring term without funds for tuition, books, room or board. The 38—nearly half of LSU's 80 Cuban students—are victims of a clamp-down by Premier Fidel Castro that has prevented transfer of funds from the Caribbean island.

A citizens committee, formed to help the Cubans, has asked for federal assistance. A state official has been named to investigate the situation.

Seniors Hold Mock Vote at Waterford

Along with the end of the semester at Waterford Township High School, came the announcement of results of a recent mock election in the senior class.

Awarded the honors of these positions were Ray McMorris and Mike Kaines, most valuable; Joel Prout and Clark Letungue, most likely to succeed, and Linda Larson and Don Wemmen, most talented.

Other "award" winners were Jean Honhart and Tom McArthur, most all-around; Diane Ghouse and Ed Silgers, most ablest; Carolyn Klender and Jack Craven, class flirt, and Sue Mabey and Joe Stodgel, witliest.

Sue Elliott and Dennis Klender were voted most dependable and Heidi Volberg and Bob Nestor, friendliest.

Elected most courteous were Sue Beaver and Tom Goddard. Also selected were the senior class motto, song colors, and flower. The motto of the class of 1961 is "We follow today; tomorrow we lead."

The class song is "Exodus" and lavender and white are the class colors.

Chosen as the class flower was the orchid.

Tuesday of next week 6 students of Mrs. Mary Aegerter's Journalism I class will attend an all-day conference at Birmingham Southern High School.

Representing Waterford will be Sue Tyrrell, editor of the school newspaper, Barb Beca, co-editor; Nikki Herard, advertising manager; Mike Aperauch, photographer; Glean Leuhman, sports writer, and Janice Haddis, reporter.

Some of the highlights of the program are guest speakers from noted news papers and group discussions concerning the problems of a high school newspaper.

Tomorrow night the annual donkey basketball game will be played in the W.T.H.S. gymnasium between the Waterford faculty and the combined Pierce and Cray Junior High faculties.

Halls at St. Fred's Quiet; Exams Over

By MARY EILEEN DETMER
The halls at St. Frederick's High School were deserted today for students tested for a short holiday after tedious exams.

The students were bent on recollecting a full semester's work and putting it to effect. For the seniors this was a specially trying period.

Anticipating visions of diplomats in the near future, good marks are mandatory.

Today at 3 p.m. the marks were tabulated and reported. Both the students and the teachers will be displaying varied countenances next week when, on Parents Day, the parents get the results.

Last Friday the seniors launched their long-planned candy sale. The money received will go towards producing the Senior play this year.

With the seniors working as hard as they are their goal should be easily reached. Monday will mark the end of the sale.

Earlier this week at a short but important assembly Father Fennino, director of Teen Club, addressed the group.

He laid down the rules for attendance at the Teen Club dances plainly but sternly. Father felt this was necessary because a few students seemed to be abusing privileges at the dances.

Semester Closes With Exams

By DIANE M. WALTER

Students were caught in a whirlpool of activities this week at Pontiac Northern High School as the semester came to a close.

Everyone was busy cramming for exams this week and had little time for anything else.

But there's at least one exception at Northern that still will see side time to school spirit. That's the PNH Pep Club.

Its 65 hardworking members are always busy taking part in school assemblies, sponsoring dances and painting posters, among many other activities.

President of the pep club this year is Lynda Hogg, a 17-year-old senior.

Other officers are Sue Jones, vice president; Barb Berryman, treasurer; and Pam Huntly, secretary.

The club recently took part in a fund raising project. Members sold homemade candy after school.

Mr. William Ruse is their sponsor.

SENIORS HONORED
Two seniors at Northern have been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Through the halls of St. Mike's, the language was heard fluently as students taking the course found themselves tape recording the romantic language this week.

A fully equipped language laboratory with individual booths and console cabinet is the ardent wish of their teacher, Sister Franca Hargis.

Last year, she received a scholarship which distinguished her as the only Michigan participant attending the 1960 Summer Language Institute held at Rosary College, River Forest, Illinois.

The Institute was sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

We are fortunate in having such an experienced and excellent language teacher.

Classrooms were empty today as the end of the first half of the school year brought the annual semester holiday.

To offset the strain of final exams the Athletic Association is sponsoring the annual, "Sweater Swing."

The dance will be held tonight in the school gym from 8:30 to 11:30.

Admission is 50c per person and the dance is open to the public. A guest disc jockey will spin the records.

Newcomers will greet the students next week as they begin their new schedule on Monday and receive report cards Tuesday.

The cards will be distributed individually by Father Hayes.

Twenty students from St. Mike's will be representative delegates to the Training School of Social Action (TSSA) to be held on Saturday, Feb. 4, at the University of Detroit.

Small discussion groups, with representatives from all parts of the state, will be scheduled from 9:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The theme of the convention is "Leadership for Life."

debate were explained and illuminated to the student body and faculty.

Pam Dunsm, senior, and Bill Basinger, sophomore, participated on the negative team.

George Kovach, sophomore, and Bill Ramsey, senior, were of the affirmative side. Beatrice Stevens acted as time keeper.

Each student today sighs with the relief at the end of final exams, and is ready and waiting to start out on a clean slate for better term, a new report card.

Tom received first place and Ted, second. Their drafting teacher is Esar West.

Mr. Kaiser stressed in his talk the need for qualified men in the field of engineering and designing.

He emphasized the importance of industry and contests such as these that stimulate the interests of young men and present them with a challenge.

A mock debate was also presented to the student body at a recent assembly.

Judging, techniques of debate, rules, and elements of a typical Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring.

Each student who is endorsed by his school, receives a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Bill Ramsey and Danny Magan were announced this week as the commended students.

According to John M. Sialaneker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, "Letters of Commendation are being awarded to 25,000 students throughout the United States in recognition of their excellent performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test."

"These students," he continues, "are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention."

The semifinalists and commended students together constitute less than three per cent of all high school seniors, and this certainly signifies noteworthy achievement," he explained.

The merit scholarship competition is open to all high schools in the United States.

Scholarship awards are made

Plan Band Concert at Clarkston High

By JANET TISCH

Weeks of preparation will finally end in a variety of musical numbers to be played at the Clarkston High School Winter Band Concert Feb. 1, at 8:15 p.m.

The program is especially designed to present as many different types of selections as possible.

The traditional "Star-Spangled Banner" will begin the program and the musical will continue through such numbers as "Glory of the Sea," overture to "The Merchant of Venice," "The Merry Widow," "The Nutcracker," and "The Swan Lake."

Other selections include "The Typewriter," "Ballet Egyptian," "Sound of Music" and a march called "The Nutcracker."

An enjoyable evening should be in store for those in attendance. Tickets will be on sale the night of the performance or from any band member. The price is just 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

The tense excitement of tryouts ended and happy winners have received notice of their admission to the Wayne-Oakland County League Band.

Clarkston High School will be well represented.

The following were chosen as members: Richard Boetel, clarinet; Gary Haler, snare drum; Tim Jocky, cornet; and Pat Jordan, sousaphone.

Also chosen were Tom Kreger, baritone; Fred Lissner, bass clarinet; Sue Staley, bassoon; Dennis Ulrich, clarinet; and Julia Wood, alto clarinet.

Congratulations are certainly in order for these outstanding band members.

Kids Kept Him Young for 30 Years; Give Him a Warm Farewell

By CAROLYN MAYES

Last Friday was a big day for William F. McCracken.

He was retiring after many years of service as head custodian at West Bloomfield Township High School and the school and its administrators honored him with a unique award.

Mr. McCracken was presented the first Lifetime Athletic Pass ever awarded in the West Bloomfield Township School District during a pep session.

This pass, presented by Donald A. Bradford, athletic director at West Bloomfield High School, was in recognition of McCracken's 30 years of service in the school system.

It was presented on behalf of the Board of Education, faculty, administration and student body.

At the pep session McCracken was photographed receiving the pass and then with the cheerleaders clustered around him.

A great cheer was heard as he walked to receive the pass and the attitude of everyone was that of sadness.

Mr. McCracken, a maintenance man who sees that the school keeps running smoothly, is officially retiring today. He plans to take a well-earned vacation with his wife and travel to California.

When asked what he would miss most, Mr. McCracken replied, "The kids, they keep me young."

PCH Students Will End Semester Tonight Dancing

By BARB GRIFFIN

With semester exams over and report cards marked, many Pontiac Central students will celebrate by attending the "Varsity Drag" tonight.

This dance, sponsored by the Pep Club, will be held in the boys' gym from 10 to 12 immediately following the Central-Arthur Hill basketball game.

Marilyn Coffing, music chairman, has engaged Jerry Libby's band to provide the music for the dance. Tickets are 75 cents drag and 50 cents stag.

Linda Brooks is tickets and publicity chairman.

Refreshments will be provided by Sharon Guenther. The V-Teen Club will assist by checking coats at this affair.

Members of the Ski Club are looking forward to their annual ski retreat up north, tentatively scheduled for the last weekend of February.

To be in good form for this weekend of skiing, members take to the slopes Wednesday night at the school at either Mt. Granipian or Mt. Holly at reduced rates.

Club members are also planning to attend a movie on skiing Feb. 10, sponsored by the American Field Service Committee at Birmingham High School.

Officers of the Ski Club are Darlene Woodhull, president; Mary Shadley, vice president; Ann Hodges, secretary, and Sue Lee, treasurer.

Physical education instructor Marjorie Jackson, advises the group.

Last night the Central PTA met in the newly remodeled swimming pool room. Representatives from various clubs spoke to members about their activities.

Clubs represented were the Math Club, Biology Club, Future Teachers, Varsity Club and the Tomahawk and Quiver.

Students learn much faster by being able to hear their own mistakes. This is where tape recorders play such an important role. 'Martha' at the Met
Matilda Steals the Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The revival at the Metropolitan Opera Thursday night was "Martha," but it was four-footed Matilda that galloped away with the show. Friedrich Von Flotow's frilly period piece was given here for the first time in 30 years. It's a sentimental, lilting work, but it takes more than sentiments and lilt to make an opera, and this production had it.

Her handler, in the costume of a 19th century farmer, kept a tight hold on the glossy black mare but even so, once in the wagon shafts and ready to drive off with the four principals, she pranced, she kicked, and for a second it looked as though a quartet of stars would topple over the footlights and into the orchestra pit.

The horseplay, coming right at the end of Act I, stirred the audience to an enthusiasm which Von Flotow, despite the singing of Victoria de Los Angeles, Rosalind Elias, Richard Tucker and Giorgio Tozzi, could not all by himself arouse.

By WILLIAM N. OATTS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has warned that the big powers might be drawn into "open and active involvement" in the Congo if the smaller nations pull their troops out of the U.N. command.

The secretary general said these nations must bear the responsibility if the weakening of the U.N. force brought "a disintegration within the country provoking ac-

Harlem Folk
'Guilty of Favoritism'

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice says some Negro leaders in Harlem are fomenting racial discrimination against white men "and this is as unlawful as it is for white people to discriminate against Negroes."

Justice Irving H. Saypol made the declaration in a criminal contempt conviction of the leader of a Harlem group seeking to force white store owners to buy supplies from Negro salesmen.

Saypol said in a written opinion Thursday:

"There smolders among us an unlawful condition both distressing and disgraceful.

In Harlem, Negro leaders, civic, political and clerical, and the local branch of an association dedicated to promoting the lot of these fellows, including elimination of racial discrimination, are fomenting a racial discrimination against white men."

The opinion added: "As Negroes they know fully what racial discrimination is. And yet, as men of dark skin, they agitate by word and action—speech, print, boycott and picketing—to deprive white men of their livelihoods solely because they are white-skinned, so as to replace these victims with their selected Negroes."

Mexican Jet Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — A grand jury will be asked to investigate last week's crash of a Mexican jetliner at Idlewild Airport.

It will be the first time in 10 years an air crash has been referred to a grand jury.

A spokesman for the Queens County District Attorney's Office said Thursday the incidence of crashes in the New York area during the past year made it necessary to turn over evidence on the latest crash to a grand jury.

Editors Face Challenge of Rallying Enthusiasm

EAST LANSING (U)—The newspapers of America face the greatest challenge of their history, says the president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The scope of this challenge was described today in a speech prepared for noon delivery by Arthur H. (Red) Motley, also president and publisher of Parade Publications, Inc.

Motley was kickoff speaker at the third annual convention of the Michigan Press Association (MPA). Newspapers, Motley added, have the first responsibility in closing the nation's most pressing "information gap" in modern times.

"The States obviously will be full of challenge for the newspapers," Motley said. "Not merely the challenge of meeting increased costs and competition from other types of media, but of meeting the challenge of this decade."

"The challenge of the decade, both domestic and international, will be political," he predicted. "The real test will be the ability of our government and its allies to adequately handle both domestic and international problems."

"In this area," he said, "responsible newspapers have their greatest obligation. Because newspapers can spark public interest and enthusiasm, provide local leadership and rally the energies of the citizens, they must once again return to the role of a crusader."

Newspapers, Motley said, have

Shirley Jones Is a Surprise

Day of Soiled Doves in Movies

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Unless an actress is willing to play a fallen woman she might as well hang up her paint box and forget it.

This is a movie era of soiled doves, ladies of the night, call girls and prostitutes. All the plum roles are falling to glamour girls who are not above playing tramps. Even screen wives specialize in infidelity.

A quick glance at top performances during the past year reveals Elizabeth Taylor playing a call girl in "Butterfield 8"; Shirley MacLaine, a soiled dove in "The Apartment"; Melinda Mercuri, a prostitute in "Never on Sunday"; Gina Lollobrigida, a call girl in "Go Naked in the World"; Nancy

Kwan, a prostitute in "The World of Suzie Wong."

Serious and most surprising of a girl-gone-wrong was turned in by sweet-faced, wholesome Shirley Jones in "Elmer Gantry."

After her milkmaid roles in such as "Oklahoma," it was almost as if movie-goers were watching their kid sister throw virtue to the winds. There was Shirley running around in nothing more than a pretentious playing a trollop to the hilt.

Though she may have raised eyebrows among audiences Shirley also raised her price, stature and sights in Hollywood.

Until "Gantry," the blonde beauty had played a series of insipid cuties that required as much talent as playing outfield for the Kansas City Athletics.

Playing Lulu Platter in the picture has been the best thing to happen to my career," Shirley said. "It opened the eyes of people who saw me only as an innocent ingenue."

"At last, I'm untamed."

What's more, the Jones girl is a top favorite to win an Academy Award nomination as the best supporting actress of the year. Shirley gives all the credit to Burt Lancaster, who starred in the title role.

BURT REMEMBERED

"Burt remembered seeing me play a drunk in a 'Playhouse 90' with Red Skelton four years ago," she explained. "He asked me if I thought I could play the part, and I couldn't answer 'yes' fast enough."

Many a group has cried "foul," charging the motion picture industry with irresponsibility in glamorizing the lives of prostitutes and the like.

Some critics have said such films might entice young girls into a life of vice because it looks so attractive. Shirley disagrees.

"I think this trend to fallen women is marvelous," she said. "It gives audiences a broader outlook on why girls go wrong. People can find out that there are some excuses for women in this situation."

"It's not morally wrong for movies to show this side of life. The public should be able to see all the aspects of life around them and to accept the facts for what they are."

"So far I haven't seen any pictures that depict the lives of prostitutes as desirable. Usually they are pitiful creatures."

Her principal reservation about the plethora of scarlet women is that audiences will soon tire of the trend, as it has in the past with musical comedies, westerns, gun-drama and science-fiction.

"One thing I want to make clear," Shirley concluded. "If an older bad girl role is offered me I'll take it in a minute."

Glass Beads Make Road Strip Shine

LANSING (UPI) — About 700,000 pounds of tiny glass beads were spread along Michigan's state highways last year.

They were sprinkled on freshly painted center strips.

The beads, not much larger than grains of salt, are what make the center lines glow when the beams from car headlights strike them at night.

A good deal of testing went into development of the reflecting method.

"It was found that little round beads are best for reflecting because a glass sphere catches a beam of light from any direction and reflects it back along a line exactly parallel," said Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

"Thus, the lights from a motorist's car are certain to be bounced back to his eyes."

The Highway Department specifies that only a small percentage of the beads, costing 10 cents a pound, can be of irregular shape. Department inspectors use a microscope to make sure that enough of them are spherical.

Heart Research Costly

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Heart Association has announced it spent $24.37 million during the 1959-60 fiscal year to combat heart disease—including a record $9.65 million for research.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.
WOW! WHO MINDS LOGGING A SCENT IF YOU CAN PICK UP ANOTHER LIKE THE ONE THAT JUST PASSED

Q. Can you tell me if male hunting dogs are more disobedient and stubborn than females?
Z. E. B. Toledo, Ohio.

A. Whether a pet or hunting dog, the male is more independent, masterful and determined. The female is more docile, tractable and except for her twice yearly heat periods is not easily distracted from her task.

The male dog's motto could be "cher cher is femme." He would rather follow a female than do anything his master wants him to do. For this reason, the male dog requires a greater degree of training to be as useful a hunter as the female.

However, there are many who feel that this disadvantage is more than offset by his greater aggressiveness.

Chrysler Offers Varied Line of Air-Conditioners

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. today introduced a diversified line of 20 new room air-conditioners featuring such things as a built-in Weather Seal, a decorator panel, a directional air door and, in most cases, a do-it-yourself window mounting kit.

The firm's airtemp division offered capacities ranging from 6,000 to 28,000 British thermal units per hour.

The largest units can cool up to 1,800 square feet, which is an area a little more than 42 by 42 feet. Chrysler's largest unit last year was rated at 23,000 BTU's per hour.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Walter Hyry has been in competitive skiing for 26 years and he admits that he doesn't even own a pair of downhill skis.

This seems to be the case with many skiers who concentrate on jumping alone.

"I've used jumpers since I was five years old," said the 36-year-old Berkley tool and die maker who won the Veteran's Class of the 8th annual Kandahar Ski Jump for the third time last weekend.

"The reason there has been so much interest in ski jumping because where I was from in Upper Michigan all the kids had one goal—to conquer 'Suicide Hill,'" said Hyry.

Raised in the Ishpeming area, Hyry accomplished that goal at the age of 15 when he conquered "Suicide." He went 180 feet, and later pushed it to 225 feet.

"It's a matter of opinion for ski jumpers, but 'Suicide Hill' is the toughest in my book," he said, "and I look forward to jumping the hill against my old friends up there every year."

What makes it "Suicide Hill?"

"I guess it's the tremendous speed you reach on the hill to edge of the takeoff," said Hyry. "We were clocked at 53 and 54 miles an hour one day."

When Walt came off the Kandahar jump after a distance of 107 feet, he hobbled to the club house.

"I sprained my ankle in Chicago last week in a ski jump," he said, "and I've got it taped up pretty tight."

Even with the ankle his effort was good enough to edge his brother Alden on points.

"Fall? Oh, yes I've had plenty of them. Torn ligaments, sprained ankles, twisted knees, but fortunately nothing serious," he said.

Hyry made good use of his skiing abilities. He got his first pair of slalom skis when in the army while with the 10th Mountain Division in Colorado.

From there he was on U.S. Ski Divisions in Italy, so in his 30 years on slats there was no interruption.

"I'll just keep on skiing until I feel I've had it, but one think I know, I will never quit and then try to come back after a couple years. This is the toughest thing to do. I guess we get leery with age," he said.

Hyry's 7-year-old son and 10-year-old daughter are strong ski enthusiasts. "I'm not pushing them to be jumpers, if they want to stick with downhill skiing that's fine, but I'm not a parent who would jump with fear, as many do, if they should decide on ski jumping."

Before parents allow their children to try ski jumping however, Hyry strongly advises they get good basic instructions.

"It's tremendous fun, but it's dangerous for a person who doesn't know what he's doing on a jump," he concluded.

Olympic Decathlon Champion Honored by AP

Johnson Is 'Athlete of Year'

By The Associated Press

Ruler Lewis Johnson, Olympic opening ceremony—an indication of the high regard in which his country and the world esteem him. Johnson is the athlete of the year, proved an unusually severe test for 1960.

Johnson, who beat out his rival, the 200-pound Johnson, seemed test at the Rome Olympics, was in two more quickly than his rival proclaimed the world's greatest, and after six events he was all-around athlete after that leading Yang, his teammate at the U.S. Olympic team, but he rallied his strength to finish second in the closing events to beat Yang by 58 points.

Johnson was named today as the Male Athlete of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll by the vote of 226 sports writers and editors throughout the United States. He won out over Arnold Palmer, whose 1960 performance ranked him as the world's outstanding golfer, by a slim margin of 19 points in the balloting.

Johnson will receive the F. W. Woolbright Trophy at a civic luncheon in Milwaukee Feb. 27. It is the first American athlete to receive the trophy in three years. It was won last year by Sweden's heavyweight champion, the year before it was Herb Elliott, the Australian miler.

Johnson was named first on 93 of the 226 ballots. Palmer, winner of the U.S. Open golf championship and the Masters and second in the British Open, received 73 first place votes. On a point basis, with three awarded for a first place vote, two for second and one for third, it was Johnson 398 and Palmer 379.

Floyd Patterson, the first boxer ever to lose the heavyweight championship and regain it, placed third in the voting with 29 first and 164 points. Norm Van Brocklin, who quarterbacked the Philadelphia Eagles to the National Football League championship, was fourth with 10 first and 141 points.

Johnson, a powerful 6-foot-2 Negro from Kingsburg, Calif., went into the Olympics as an outstanding favorite. Two months before he had secured the United States record of Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov by more than 200 points. He had been chosen as the flag bearer for the American team in the fifth round and regained the world crown he had lost the year before.

Vikings Continue Convincing Middletons to Play

Mikita's Goal Gives Hawks Tie

Wings Continue Home Slump

DETROIT (AP)—Stan Mikita, the far side of the net. His was the only goal of the first period.

Eric Nesterenko scored Chicago's other goal after only 37 seconds of play. His 25-foot blast got through Sawchuk's pads.

Gordie Howe scored his first goal in 11 games and tied the score six minutes later. Both Detroit goals were scored when Chicago was short-handed.

Howe punched in his own rebound, and Parker Macdonald gave the Red Wings the lead when he tipped in Pete Goggin's long blast early in the second period.

Sparked by some of the players engaged in recent trades, the last-place Boston Bruins seem to be making themselves a factor in the National Hockey League race.

Mikita's tying goal, coming about half way through the period, kept the fourth-place Red Wings in their Olympia Stadium slump. The Red Wings have won only one game in their last dozen home starts.

Both goal tenders were superb. Glenn Hall of Chicago stopping 40 shots and Detroit's Terry Sawchuk kicking out 31.

Mikita took a pass from defenseman Al Arbour at the Detroit blue line, tore down right wing and put a 20-foot shot into the net.

Lions Lose Two Other Players to New Team

Minnesota Also Picks Whittell, Alderman; Accent on Youth

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three players were shipped from the Detroit Lions yesterday as the new Minnesota Vikings reached into the National Football League grab-bag in search of a representative team for next autumn's season.

Veteran end Dave Middleton, defensive halfback Dave Whittell and rookie guard Grady Alderman were matched from the Lions in a special draft at the annual NFL meeting here.

The Vikings, who recently signed all-pro quarterback Norm Van Brocklin to coach them through their maiden season, emphasized youth in most of their choices.

In selecting Middleton, the Minnesota club is gambling on the former Auburn All-American changing his mind about retirement.

Middleton recently announced that he planned to withdraw from pro football to pursue his medical career. Viking officials hope to persuade Middleton to continue his studies at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Whittell, a former Indiana star, was unable to nail down a first-string job with the Lions, but he is considered an excellent prospect.

Alderman, who gained his collegiate experience at the University of Detroit, played sparingly for coach George Wilson's club last season.

Of the 36 "senior" taken yesterday from the 13 "old" teams (Dallas excepted) 13 were first year men and eight had only two years of pro experience. Only six had played in the league for more than four years. The average experience was 1.4 years.

Van Brocklin said he got "about as much experience" as he could get in his last season. He said the offensive line was the strongest point of his club.

"We didn't get as many pass defenders as we wanted," he said. "But that is something that every team in the league is looking for. With George Shaw quarterbacked by Dan Fouts (New York in a trade) and Frank Tarleton (Georgia quarterback who was picked by the Vikings to the draft) we are in pretty good shape."

The Vikings, who still don't know whether they will play in the east or western division or operate with Dallas as a "swing team," didn't release the names of all the men they took.

Big Keg Tourney Slate Set

A big bowling tournament week-end involving five area key establishments gets under way tomorrow.

The Lodge 810 alloys and Huron Bowl will host the 1st of nine week-ends of competition in the Elks State event for men. The Knights of Columbus has a one-day meet Saturday at Motor Inn, Huron Valley from play has its 2nd round at Millford Fairgrounds and a General Motors tourney for girls is set for Sylvan Lakes.

Eight of the 45 cities with entries in the Elks battle will be represented here. Saturday and Sunday, besides Pontiac, registers from Farmington, Saginaw, Lansing, Midland, Ann Arbor, Jackson and Muskegon will be taking part.

All team play is at the Elks with doubles and singles at Huron. Ralph Ware of Pontiac, president of the Michigan State Elks Bowling Association, will preside over the affair.

Tonight is the deadline for entering the 2nd K. of C. tourney. Prizes will be awarded following the bowling. Huron Valley has full schedules for the next five week-ends.

Pontiac Boys Club and the Dryden Spades fell by the wayside and North Woodward Heating and Pontiac Optimists reached for seminals last night at Northside Park in the City Junior Hockey League's National Division tournament.

The Optimists spotted Davina a 2-0 first-period lead, then came roaring back to defeat the Spades in overtime, 4-2. Ken Pirochka, who scored twice for the Optimists, tallied the winning goal in the 3rd minute of overtime. The winner's other two goals were made by Nick Schlicht.

Boys Club charged to a 1-0 edge until the 2nd period when the Woodward skaters exploded for all five of their counters to chalk up a 5-1 victory.

Three semifinal games are scheduled Saturday on Northside park, two in the National loop and one in the American, as part of the city's annual Winter Carnival program.

Standard Forge plays the Mount View Rangers at 9:30 a.m. in an AL semi with the winner going against the Pontiac Central Raiders for the title. In NL semis, Heating faces the Optimists at 11 o'clock and the Rangers meet Fire at 2:30 p.m.

No games are slated today in the double-elimination tourney.

Hawaii Halts Grid Slate for Mainland

HONOLULU (AP)—The University of Hawaii has canceled this season's football schedule with mainland colleges, blaming finances and a lack of community support. It ends about half a century of intercollegiate competition.

But University regents, in Thursday's meeting, indicated an attempt will be made to have other Hawaiian colleges field teams to compete with.

PCH Matmen Star in Loss

Pontiac Northern kept rolling along. Walied Lake wallowed before and Pontiac Central was impressive in defeat in an action-packed wrestling program Thursday night.

The Huskies trailed early but then took complete charge to slam Waterford 33-8 featuring the 13th straight win by Dave Fox and Winfred Miracle. Miracle and Toby Connor had quick falls, the latter pinning a man 40 pounds heavier. Hawk earned decisions for Don Trest of PCH and Skipper Jim Cook were other highlights.

Central gave unbeaten Waterford a scare before losing 7-13. The Chieftains were in front 15-0 but dropped the last five matches showing a lack of balance. A 13-0 verdict by sophomore Charles Bevers over

Hayes Jones to Compete for Pontiac Track Club

Hayes Jones, the most famous athlete in this city's history, heads a star-studded array of local track athletes who will compete for the newly-formed Pontiac Track Club in future amateur events.

The club is under the supervision and guidance of Dean Wilson, Pontiac Central's head track coach, and the organization's membership pool like a

"who's who" in high school track circles.

Jones, the Pontiac Central and Eastern Michigan hurdler who won a bronze medal in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome, will compete for the club in his specialty, the hurdles.

Other members of the club at this time, all former PCI athletes who helped the Chiefs win five state Class A track titles in a six-year span, includes:

Joe Anderson, 1958 Michigan cross country champion and Central's record holder in the mile run.

Jim Nelson, 880 and mile.
Ed Drayton, broad jump and hurdles.

Joe McCauley, dashes and broad jump.
Andy Terry, hurdles.

Jerry Rush, shot putter whose best prep effort with the 15-pound ball was a toss of 88-5.

Bill Douglas, state 880 champion in 1955 and 1956.

Ken Byrd, 440 and 880.
Julius Harper, hurdles and high jump.

Danny Sowell, broad jumper and hurdler who owns a 25-foot leap and a 14.3 clocking in the high jumps while serving in the U.S. Army.

Charles Kemtrel, high jumper.

Bob Manning, 1958 Michigan champion in the 100 and 220 dashes who ran 100 meters in 16.3 last spring while on a U.S. Department tour of South Africa.

Wilson expects the membership to increase and the new group will get its first taste of competition on Saturday, Feb. 11, in the conference with owner Bob Carpenter and general manager John Quinn before he agreed to terms.

Despite his 12-18 record with the best place Philadelphia, Roberts said "I thought I did well and hope to do better this year. No, I don't plan anything new. I'll just work a little harder at it."

Roberts Signs for 14th Year

Pay Remains Same

Work Harder

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts, one of the first major league bonus players to make good, said today he's "in good shape, quite happy and looking forward" to his 14th season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Roberts signed with the Phils Thursday "for the same salary I got last year" to complete the two days the signing of the three still active players most dominant in baseball throughout the whole last decade.

Stan Musial signed with the St. Louis Cardinals and southpaw Warren Spahn with Milwaukee, both for an estimated $75,000 on Wednesday. Roberts and the Phils declined to state his salary, believed to be $45,000.

The 34-year-old right-hander said it took only a couple brief conferences with owner Bob Carpenter and general manager John Quinn before he agreed to terms.

Despite his 12-18 record with the best place Philadelphia, Roberts said "I thought I did well and hope to do better this year. No, I don't plan anything new. I'll just work a little harder at it."

City Table Netmen to Meet Royal Oak

The Pontiac Table Tennis Association will meet Royal Oak paddlers in an inter-city match tonight at 7:30 in the Pontiac Central girls' gym.

The top six players of each city will play a round robin series.

Jerry Kruskie, Howard Heckman, Adolph Magnus, Vic Corran, Manfred Herschbacher and Merv Barnhart will play for the PTTA.

In last night's matches, Senman's took over first place in the PTTA with a 4-1 win over Kuhn. Other matches saw Jim's defeat Pontiac Rec, 6-3, Superior over Nutrilite, 4-1, Dorris over Detroit Ice, 4-3, Capitol over Frostop, 3-1 and Aluminum over AEW, 3-0.

No. 23—Baseball's Unforgettable Games

Hank Greenberg's Grand Slam Homer Wins Pennant for the Tigers in 1945

By JOE REICHLER and BEN OLAN

It was a dark, dreary day. A misty rain was falling—hardly an ideal setting for the most brilliant moment in the career of one of baseball's greatest sluggers.

Hank Greenberg, at 34, had come back from the war. Four years had been gouged out of his playing career.

He had served his country with distinction, and as the war drew to a close, he returned to the Detroit Tigers, the team with which he had risen to glory.

He joined the club on July 1, 1945, and he celebrated his return by hitting a home run. By the second week of July, the Tigers were leading the American League race.

But from here right down to the wire, the Tigers were dogged by Washington, the surprise club of the year.

Then, by freak schedule-making, the Senators finished their season a week early. Their record was 86 won and 67 lost.

Detroit's record was 86-44 with four games to play. They split a mid-week doubleheader. All they had to do was win one of the two remaining games and they would be the new champions.

Now it was the last day of the season. Sunday, September 30, 1945—at St. Louis. The Tigers were one game in front with two to play. They had to win one game. A double victory by the Browns would throw the race into a tie.

THE RAIN BE DAMNED

Rain threatened to wash out the doubleheader. The two teams waited for an hour beyond game time. Then they decided to play, despite a field so muddy the players did more wading than walking.

Virgil Trucks was the Detroit starter. Nelson Potter was the St. Louis hurler.

The Browns showed they meant business by banging Trucks for a run in the first inning—a double by Don Gutteridge and a single by Lou Finney.

The Tigers cleared back for a run in the fifth on a walk to Trucks and singles by Skeeter Webb and Eddie Mayo.

They pulled ahead in the sixth on a pair of walks and Paul Richards' single. Trucks weakened in the St. Louis sixth. Potter hit him for a double and Gutteridge walked.

That brought in Hal Newhouse, the Tigers' 34-game winner. The superb southpaw spoiled the impending rally in short order. In the seventh, however, the Browns nailed him for the tying run, when Gene Moore doubled and Vern Stephens singled.

Then in the last of the eighth, Finney singled and George McQuinn doubled to put the Browns in front, 3-2.

Detroit's hopes were as dark as the weather when the Tigers came up for their final turn at bat. Manager Steve O'Neill sent Hub Walker up to bat for Newhouse. Hub singled. Webb bunted and both runners were safe when McQuinn threw too late to second.

Mayo moved the runners along with a sacrifice. Strategy called for an intentional pass to Doc Crumier, filling the bases, and setting up a double-play situation on Greenberg.

LUCKY THIRTEENTH

Tension hung as low as the fogs while Greenberg took his familiar stance at the plate. The first pitch was outside. Ball one.

Potter looked over the runners, and then fired a fast ball to the plate. Greenberg swung. The ball sailed on a line to left field, close to the foul line.

All eyes followed the flight of the ball until it landed in the left field bleachers. The third-base umpire, Cal Hubbard, ran out for a better look and signaled "fair ball." Some in the gathering of 5,582 shouted the decision, but it stood as called by Hubbard.

Not only were three base runs waiting for Greenberg at home plate, but all the other Tigers were there too, waiting to pound his back and shake his hand. The strain of the pennant race was over. It was a happy moment of them all was Hank Greenberg.

It was an easy chore for Al Benton to retire the Browns in the bottom of the ninth and preserve Newhouse's 25th victory.

Greenberg's blow was the final touch. It was too dark and too damp to complete the second game. The umpires called it in less than an inning. The grand slam that won the pennant on the last day of the season was Greenberg's 15th homer since joining the Tigers in 1945. It couldn't have come at a more propitious time.

LANCER SEETER—Rugged Jim Dennis will be in the starting lineup tonight as Emmanuel Christian tries to halt a losing streak at Whitmore Lake. He has 44 points in seven games.

ARMINGTON'S runner hopes in the 14, face the most serious threat tonight when the Yellow Jackets travel to Pontiac Northern. Waterford, tied for second, plays host to Berkley, and the third runnerup, Walled Lake, journeys to Southfield.

Should all three second place teams lose, then Berkley would be alone in second.

It will be Bloomfield Hills' Art Tregeza and Brice Billings against Clarkson's 1-2 punch of Ed Wilson and Bill Powell. Both teams have started to come on strong after slow starts.

The winner of this contest will be in a good position to end the season in second place, and the Bears have been out of action for 10 days.

Ed Stigers, Waterford's fine forward, could make the difference.

The Vikings of Walled Lake could be walking into a basketful of trouble at Southfield. The Blue Jays have been gaining experience with each game and they also have the law of averages on their side after nine straight losses.

Lake Orion's Dragons have a good chance to advance in the Oakland B League. Tom Reed and his teammates travel to face Madison. Clawson, in fifth place, a half game ahead of Orion, goes to strong Fitzgerald. Avondale is at Troy in the game.

Oxford, winless in seven games, could do Orionville a big favor when the Wildcats entertain Imlay City for a South Central game.

An upset victory by Oxford would all but eliminate the Spartans from the title picture providing, Orionville takes North Branch at the end of the season.

Royal Oak Kimball will try to gain the 500 mark in Eastern Michigan League play at injury-riddled Birmingham Seaholm.

Maples-Kimball Renew Swimming Pool Rivalry

Birmingham and Royal Oak Kimball, fighting for the prep swimming supremacy in Oakland County, meet for the second time this season.

The Maple-Related Kimball in their third meet in the Birmingham pool and since then each team has lost only to powerful Ann Arbor.

Fordville will meet Mt. Clemens in an Eastern Michigan League meet and Pontiac Central swims against the power of the Saginaw Valley. Arthur Hill, Hazel Park, wins in a first, goes to Warren for a meet.

In last night's swimming action, Madison evaded its season record to 4-4 by defeating Harper Woods, 61-54. Madison took all but one individual first, losing both team relays.

Wings Reinstall McNeill for Farm

DETROIT (AP)—Billy McNeill, who retired from hockey rather than accept a trade to the New York Rangers, Thursday was reinstated by the Detroit Red Wings and will play part-time for their Edmonton farm club.

McNeill balked at a trade last February in which he and Red Kelly were sent to New York. Kelly also refused to report and the trade was canceled. He later was dealt to the Toronto Maple Leafs and ended a short-lived retirement.

General Manager Jack Adams of the National Hockey League said McNeill would play in all the Edmonton (Alta.) Flyers—Western Hockey League home games plus those at Calgary, Alta.

Three-Way Ties in Two Leagues Will Be Broken

Bloomfield Hills Plays Clarkson; Waterford Home for Berkley

While Pontiac Northern and Holly continue their drives for almost certain championships in the Inter-Lakes and Wayne-Oakland Leagues, a dog-fight for second place has developed in each loop.

There is a three-way tie in both leagues. One team is certain to drop lower in the W-O tonight when Clarkson travels to Bloomfield Hills. Milford will be hoping to stay tied with the winner of this game when the Redskins entertain Northville.

Farmingington's runner hopes in the 14, face the most serious threat tonight when the Yellow Jackets travel to Pontiac Northern. Waterford, tied for second, plays host to Berkley, and the third runnerup, Walled Lake, journeys to Southfield.

Three-Way Ties in Two Leagues Will Be Broken

Bloomfield Hills Plays Clarkson; Waterford Home for Berkley

While Pontiac Northern and Holly continue their drives for almost certain championships in the Inter-Lakes and Wayne-Oakland Leagues, a dog-fight for second place has developed in each loop.

There is a three-way tie in both leagues. One team is certain to drop lower in the W-O tonight when Clarkson travels to Bloomfield Hills. Milford will be hoping to stay tied with the winner of this game when the Redskins entertain Northville.

Farmingington's runner hopes in the 14, face the most serious threat tonight when the Yellow Jackets travel to Pontiac Northern. Waterford, tied for second, plays host to Berkley, and the third runnerup, Walled Lake, journeys to Southfield.

Should all three second place teams lose, then Berkley would be alone in second.

It will be Bloomfield Hills' Art Tregeza and Brice Billings against Clarkson's 1-2 punch of Ed Wilson and Bill Powell. Both teams have started to come on strong after slow starts.

The winner of this contest will be in a good position to end the season in second place, and the Bears have been out of action for 10 days.

Ed Stigers, Waterford's fine forward, could make the difference.

The Vikings of Walled Lake could be walking into a basketful of trouble at Southfield. The Blue Jays have been gaining experience with each game and they also have the law of averages on their side after nine straight losses.

Lake Orion's Dragons have a good chance to advance in the Oakland B League. Tom Reed and his teammates travel to face Madison. Clawson, in fifth place, a half game ahead of Orion, goes to strong Fitzgerald. Avondale is at Troy in the game.

Oxford, winless in seven games, could do Orionville a big favor when the Wildcats entertain Imlay City for a South Central game.

An upset victory by Oxford would all but eliminate the Spartans from the title picture providing, Orionville takes North Branch at the end of the season.

Royal Oak Kimball will try to gain the 500 mark in Eastern Michigan League play at injury-riddled Birmingham Seaholm.

Maples-Kimball Renew Swimming Pool Rivalry

Birmingham and Royal Oak Kimball, fighting for the prep swimming supremacy in Oakland County, meet for the second time this season.

The Maple-Related Kimball in their third meet in the Birmingham pool and since then each team has lost only to powerful Ann Arbor.

Fordville will meet Mt. Clemens in an Eastern Michigan League meet and Pontiac Central swims against the power of the Saginaw Valley. Arthur Hill, Hazel Park, wins in a first, goes to Warren for a meet.

In last night's swimming action, Madison evaded its season record to 4-4 by defeating Harper Woods, 61-54. Madison took all but one individual first, losing both team relays.

MADISON-HARPER WOODS: Madison—Birmingham (44), Time: 2:00.5; Freestyle—Madison (44), Time: 1:00.5; Butterfly—Canton (44), Time: 1:00.5; Backstroke—Blanton (44), Time: 1:00.5; Breaststroke—Kelling (44), Time: 1:00.5; Freestyle—Anderson (44), Time: 1:00.5; Freestyle—Perry (44), Time: 1:00.5; Freestyle—Gavett (44), Time: 1:00.5; Freestyle—Harper Woods (44), Time: 1:00.5; Freestyle—Perry (44), Time: 1:00.5.

Crane Skaters Win, 3-1

Cranbrook scored a 3-1 hockey victory over Cadillac Central yesterday with goals by John Bledin, Jim Anderson and Jack McCarthy.

Burgess Scores 52

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Frank Burgess scored 52 points to lead the Gonzaga Bulldogs to a 123-79 victory over the California Aggies Thursday night.

Wings Reinstall McNeill for Farm

DETROIT (AP)—Billy McNeill, who retired from hockey rather than accept a trade to the New York Rangers, Thursday was reinstated by the Detroit Red Wings and will play part-time for their Edmonton farm club.

McNeill balked at a trade last February in which he and Red Kelly were sent to New York. Kelly also refused to report and the trade was canceled. He later was dealt to the Toronto Maple Leafs and ended a short-lived retirement.

General Manager Jack Adams of the National Hockey League said McNeill would play in all the Edmonton (Alta.) Flyers—Western Hockey League home games plus those at Calgary, Alta.

PCH Gets 2nd Crack at Arthur Hill

By BILL CORNWELL
The Chiefs of Pontiac Central fervently hope that tonight's Saginaw Valley Conference basketball duel with Arthur Hill at PCH is not a repeat of their previous meeting.

Art Van Rykel's capers would just as soon forget their earlier scrap with the policy Hillites. The defending Valley champs traveled to Arthur Hill Dec. 9 for their league opener and dropped a 30-24 decision.

The Chiefs staged a tremendous rally in that contest, but it was too little and too late. They scored only five points in the last quarter, fell 20 behind late in the 2nd period, then suffered a slim four-point defeat.

It was perhaps the key game in Central's bid for a 3rd straight SVC title and 4th in the last five years. It got the Chiefs off on the wrong foot and they have never really settled down since.

The Hillites are always troublesome for the PCH quietest and tonight's encounter should be no exception to the rule, especially since Chuck Fowler's outfit still has a chance to win or share the SVC crown.

Central's championship dreams were practically stamped out by the 31-22 loss to league-leading Saginaw High and the Chiefs trail the unbeaten Trojans by two full games as the conference schedule enters its 2nd and final round.

Van Rykel has juggled his personnel for the return bout. Two juniors, 6-6 center Otto Kennedy and 5-7 guard Roy Cusser, have returned to the varsity unit and forward Willie Radloff has been sent back to the reserves. Andy Roach was suspended from school for disciplinary reasons.

Only three PCH players are definite starters — George Fed,

Clarence Douglas, the club's lead scorer, or Dennis Dietrich. Fowler is expected to start Kurt Schultz and Jerry Collins at forwards, Craig Dill at center and Dennis Schumacher and Tom Hill at guards. Arthur Hill has a tall front line with Dill measuring 6-8, Schultz 6-4 and Collins 6-2. Schumacher and Hill both score well from outside.

The Chiefs can grab a share of 2nd place and help soothe their wounded pride by topping the Hillites in a 2nd round match, which begins at 8 o'clock. Both teams have 4-3 overall records.

Saginaw's Trojans are setting the Valley pace with a 5-0 mark. Arthur Hill comes next at 4-1 and PCH is 3rd at 3-2.

In other Valley contests this evening, Flint Northern invades Saginaw and Flint Central plays host to Bay City Central.

Tennessee State Retains Small School Hoop Lead

By The Associated Press
Tennessee State continues to rule as the top small college basketball team in the country. The Nashville, Tenn., institution, famed for its production of Olympic women track and field stars, retained its No. 1 position today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Joelstra of Hempstead, N. Y., with a 12-2 record, held second place, ahead of unbeaten Prairie View, which has won 16 in a row.

Completing the Top Ten are Southern Illinois, No. 4; Mississippi Southern, No. 5; Grambling No. 6; American University, No. 7; Westminster Pa., No. 8; Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 9; and Maine, No. 10.

Labine 8th Pittsburgh Player to Sign Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Relief pitcher Clem Labine has signed his 1961 contract, the Pittsburgh Pirates announced today.

Labine, 34, came to the Pirates last August as a free agent after service with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Detroit Tigers.

The veteran right-hander appeared in 15 games with the Pirates, and had a 3-0 record. His overall season mark was 3-4.

Labine is the eighth Pirate to sign a 1961 contract.

The Crusher in Action

At Thomas, local wrestling official who was threatened by "The Crusher" Cortez on a TV match last weekend, will officiate the tag bout between Cortez and Percy Pringle against Lesping Larry and The Terrible Turk at the Pontiac Armory.

Red Donovan versus Mr. X and Ivan Russell and Dick Campbell wrestle in the other bouts tonight.

Ex-Champions Clash in Women's Meet

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Two former championship teams will meet each other today in the second 18-hole round of the International Women's Four-Ball golf tournament.

Marlene Strett, Toronto, and Ann Casey Johnstone, Mason City, Iowa, the 1959 winners, oppose Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, and Marge Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., 1957 champions.

The Strett-Johnstone duo, favored to win, scored a 6-over-par 2 and 1 elimination victory over Marlene Burns, Greensboro, N.C., and Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, Thursday.

Donney-Lindsay won over Joan Toski Burke, West Orange, N.J., and Connie Malla, Sharon, Mass., 4 and 3.

The defending champions, Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., and Doris Phillips of Belleville, Ill., were upset 1 up by Mrs. H.S. Temple of Sewickley, Pa., and Maureen Crum of Plant City, Fla.

Ferris Downs Tech

Houghton, Mich. (AP)—Ferris Institute, with four of its starting five shooting in double figures, vaulted to its 11th basketball victory in 14 games last night — a 72-42 triumph over Michigan Tech. The loss was Tech's ninth in 12 starts.

Celtics Riding High in NBA

Hold 4 1/2-Game Margin by Topping Warriors, 129-121

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Boston Celtics were riding high today in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association with a 4 1/2-game lead, their biggest margin of the year, after defeating second-place Philadelphia, 129-121.

"We've got a good chance to win it," said coach Red Auerbach of the Celtics after his club had come from behind to defeat the Warriors, 129-121, in the only game Thursday night. It was Philadelphia's third straight loss.

At this same time a year ago, Boston had a 4 1/2-game lead over Philadelphia and went on to win the Eastern crown by 10.

Kennedy Now Will Seek Release of 5 in China

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the release of two American airmen by the Soviet Union now accomplished, the United States is planning to press Communist China, again for the release of five Americans still held in Chinese jails.

U2 Spy Pilot's Dad Hopeful

ROANOKE, Va. — The father of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers said Thursday, he was "optimistic" that his son "will be released from a Russian prison soon."

"My boy," said Oliver Powers, "thinks he'll be released soon. So do I. But I haven't talked to any Russian authorities since last summer in Moscow."

Oliver Powers, a shoemaker in the rural Southwest Virginia community of Norton, was asked about his imprisoned boy in view of the release of two other American fliers by the Russians.

President Kennedy announced Wednesday night at his news conference that the Soviets had released Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., and John B. McKone of Topeka, Kan., after almost seven months in prison.

Their RB47 reconnaissance plane was shot down by a Russian fighter last July.

IN DIFFERENT CATEGORY

Kennedy was asked about Powers at his news conference. The President said "we have not discussed him at this time because he is in a different category than the fliers that were released. One was an over-flight, and the other was flight of a different nature."

The gray-haired Powers, in a cheerful mood today, has fought long and hard for the release of his son, whose plane came down deep inside Russia last May.

Oliver Powers and his wife attended the Moscow trial of their son who was given a 30-year sentence.

Powers' hopes soared with the release of McKone and Olmstead. He said he had heard from Francis Powers just two weeks ago.

The farm organization conference was called in hopes of getting general agreement on goals for American agriculture. Some 150 leaders of large and small farm groups turned out. They did agree on some things, including that:

- Surpluses ought to be reduced.
- Some present farm programs are in trouble.
- Farm income ought to be higher.
- Farmers should get more bargaining power in the market place.
- There was one thing they couldn't agree on: That was on how to get any of those things done.

Meeting Kept District 7 Unit From City Hall

District 7 Commissioner Robert A. Landry and his Civic Improvement Advisory Committee members had a meeting Wednesday night, but not at City Hall.

Landry said something that he and leaders of his community were attending a District 2 meeting, scheduled previous to the anniversary of first session of the newly reorganized 70-member advisory group.

"We considered the subject of our local meeting too important to call it off," said Landry.

"We're sorry to have missed the big meeting, but assure the rest of the advisory group of our keen interest in its activities. We plan to participate fully from now on," Landry and the 10-member District 7 delegation were the subject of criticism when news showed up at the City Hall meeting.

Chrysler to Close 2 Plants for a Week

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. said today that it will shut its Hamtramck and Imperial assembly plants here for all of next week.

The shutdowns will idle 5,000 workers.

Plants closed this week at New Ark, Del. St. Louis, Mo. and Los Angeles will report Monday, the company said.

The Hamtramck plant assembles Valiants, Dodge Darts and Lancias.

Gives Them Example

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Richard L. Mahan, 53, of New York City, was held in $10,000 bail here Thursday on charges of forging two checks in the name of a publishing firm which he said had published his magazine story, "How I became a check artist."

But the cool reception given to President Kennedy in the Chinese Communist Press is far from encouraging.

The President noted at his news conference this week when he spoke of the somewhat belligerent attitude of the Chinese Communist regime toward his new administration.

Nevertheless, U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam will be instructed to again seek the liberation of the imprisoned Americans when he next meets Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Ping-nan at Warsaw, officials said.

The five Americans are John Thomas Downey, New Britain, Conn.; Richard George Fecteau, Lynn, Mass.; Robert Ezra McCann, Pasadena, Calif.; Hugh Francis Redmond Jr., Yonkers, N.Y., and Bishop James Edward Walsh of the Roman Catholic Maryknoll order.

He cited the Soviet release of the fliers and asked what the United States would do in return.

Asked if the Chinese Communists would join in fresh attempts to solve outstanding problems, Menchikov said "this also depends on both sides."

Pontiac General Hails Its New Recovery Room

Pontiac General Hospital authorities said today that they are pleased with the first four weeks of the new recovery room for obstetrical patients.

In operation since the first of the year, the six-bed unit with complete medical emergency equipment by each bedside has been used by 180 mothers so far, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

The service is designed to bring instant medical care in event of any mishap following delivery, he said.

"Mother and father see the new baby together after the mother leaves the delivery room," said Euler in explaining the new routine. "Then the mother goes to the recovery room while the father goes to the nursery where he watches the weighing of the baby."

"The mother is usually only in the recovery room a couple hours. The father is able to visit her there before she returns to her hospital room."

"Patients and their husbands have expressed appreciation of the new service. We feel that it offers better patient care."

Ex-Communist Warns Senators

Don't Trust Russians Who Murdered Others Aboard RB 47

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An expert on Communist affairs told Senate investigators Thursday that Americans should have no "illusions" about peace overtures from Russia, including Wednesday's release of two RB47 fliers.

The expert was Jay Lovestone, an official with the international department of the AFL-CIO. Lovestone was once general secretary of the U. S. Communist party and a member of the executive committee of the Communist International before he broke with the Reds some 30 years ago.

He told the Senate internal security subcommittee that the Soviets were making no real concession in releasing the two pilots because they were shot down in blatant violation of international law in the first place.

Lovestone said the Russians, in downing the plane, "murdered" the other four men on board the U. S. military aircraft and then "didn't even express regrets."

Lovestone appeared before the subcommittee at hearing to analyze results of the international Communist summit conference held last November and December.

Red Relations Still Strained

Kennedy Worries That Public Will Expect Fast Easing of Tension

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy was reported today to be somewhat concerned lest the American people in particular and the world in general expect too much in the way of improved relations with the Soviet Union.

They do not believe such a view would be realistic.

A leading Republican senator has demanded to know whether there was "any deal" between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on release of the two flies.

Sen. Styles Bridges, N.H., chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said Thursday that the President should give full accounting of negotiations that led up to release of Capt. Eugene Bruce Olmstead and John R. Francis after seven months in Soviet captivity.

Bridges said in a Senate speech that Kennedy "didn't make it clear whether there was anything, an agreed Russia — or promised in return." He said "the secrecy should be torn off."

Kennedy and his aides sought today to write a preface for the nation's economic life.

The President invited Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark, of the House Ways and Means Committee to lunch at the White House.

The announced purpose of the meeting was "to discuss the economic and possible measures to stimulate it."

Holla Inspects Records in Case Against Himself

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Tommye Holla, President James Holla's brother, has joined his lawyers in going over records in the government's mail fraud case against him and two other defendants.

"I think I know something about this case, so I thought I would sit down and take a look at the records for myself," Holla said.

Urges Congress to Establish 'Peace Corps'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Henry S. Reuss urged Congress today to establish a $10 million "peace corps" of young Americans who would help underdeveloped peoples abroad.

Writing in the progressive magazine, the Wisconsin Democrat said 2,000 young men and women should be sent overseas to teach and give technical assistance in backward areas — and build good will for America.

They should be paid about $30 a month plus expenses after signing up for at least three years, he suggested.

He said a "peace corps" during the election campaign and regular time to establish it has been introduced in Congress.

'Ham' Operators Near 3,000 Mark in State

LANSING (UPI)—The addition of 80 new special licenses for amateur radio operators brings the total to 2,900 in Michigan.

The increase was the largest on record because of the inclusion of radio technicians under the license act, the department said.

Four Killed as Irish AF Plane Crashes

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—An Irish air force plane crashed at Shannon Airport today while giving radar training to ground crew.

The survivors, Capt. James Lidy, 42, the pilot, staggered off the wreckage with severe burns.

Homer Man Is Injured in Albion Oil Well Blast

Wall Street 30 of 100 was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Stephen's Memorial Hospital here with minor abrasions.

WOULD BE CANADIAN

Robert Thomas Morse III, president and general manager of Canadian Furriers, Inc., has been granted citizenship and petitioned Parliament to make him a Canadian citizen by special act.

Special Shows Coming Along

TV Schedule Lean but Watch for Mitch at 9 This Evening

NEW YORK (AP)—A few special shows and some especially interesting ones that help fill out a comparatively lean schedule in television during this week.

Tonight there is the premiere of the "Sing Along with Mitch" series on NBC (9:30) Eastern Standard Time.

Chet Hanley will describe the situation in the Cuban refugee in Miami in his Sunday afternoon NBC news show (5:30-6) while CBS will explore Ireland on its "The American Scene" series (6:30-7).

In addition, there will be an "American Scene" special, "Swingin' at the Summit" that night (9-10) with stars as Tony Bennett, Kay Starr, Louis Armstrong and Harpo Marx.

June Allyson's Monday night program will be a Civil War drama starring Lee J. Cobb (10:30-11, CBS), Bobby Darin stars in a special on NBC Tuesday (8-9 p.m.), assisted by Bob Hope and singer Joanne Summers. And after that comes "The Square World of Jack Paar," in which Jack will comment on his own travel films.

Harry Belafonte will be Perry Como's guest Wednesday evening (NBC, 9-10) and CBS's Circle Theater will take a look at espionage in the United States in "The Spy Next Door" (10-11). On Thursday, Danny Thomas and daughter, Maria, appear together in CBS Zane Grey Theatre (8:30-9).

David S. DuVal has been elected president of the Pontiac State Hospital Employees Credit Union.

Leon G. Reese was elected vice president, Earl W. Hudnell was re-elected clerk, and George Williker re-elected treasurer.

Charles R. Dowling was elected to the board of directors, while Richard Arthaud and Wilbur E. Rubin were re-elected to the credit committee, and Mrs. Paul Geer was re-elected to the supervisory committee.

Representing more than 800 employees at the hospital, the credit union has assets of $972,000.

Two doctors from Pontiac attended the 5th annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association this week in Miami Beach, Fla. They are Dr. Bernard Horowitz, 3801 Elizabeth Lake Road, and I. B. Posner, 247 James K. Blvd.

Jack Carson marries. "I don't want any publicity about it," Carson said. "No Las Vegas stuff."

The couple was married in a swank motel suite.

Stretch of Detroit, in an active participant in Pontiac area's life insurance affairs. He has been an agent for 14 years. He recently earned the Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU) award, having completed successfully a five year intensive study course in advanced underwriting.

The 12-week training program is designed to aid career life and health insurance agents in keeping up with the latest techniques and developments in all areas of accident and sickness insurance. Nationally recognized authorities have helped prepare textbooks and supplementary study material to be used in each 2½-hour class period.

Frank Sinatra—a cake filled with hackneyed blarney.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack Douglas' tale of the actress who hired an agent, press agent, manager, lawyer and hairdresser. "She has everything," says Jack, "except a job."

That's all, brother.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

A London paper reported that Sophia Loren's expecting. She'd here shortly to plug her film "The Millionaire."

Jack Lemmon wants to attend the opening of the new El Morocco. When Old Knick's Music Hall was on that site, he was a nobody working there for "chicken-in-a-basket."

Kennedy gave from Les and Les Carpenter: White House guard yards. "Hey, you kids get off the lawn! Oh, excuse me, Mr. President!"

Paulette Goddard, with homes in Paris and Switzerland, just got a third in Rome. She says, "I feel like a road company."

Hugh O'Brien showed up at the new Crystal Room with four girls. . . . Floyd Patterson's autobiography will be titled "I Never Pray to Win." . . . Benny Goodman says he's still seeking an OK to tour Russia with his band. . . . Burt Lancaster, who plays a convict in "Birdman of Alcatraz," got a gift from Frank Sinatra—a cake filled with hackneyed blarney.

Underwater Catches Few for Lady Diver

NEW YORK — Judy Joye, a glamorous frogdly whom you'll see on TV, invited me to have dinner with her—underwater.

I declined her brilliant idea of getting into divers' gear and sitting at a table anchored at the bottom of a pool. I can just about swim across the kiddies' end of the pool—when I'm in training.

"I know," nodded Judy understandingly and wearily.

"Twice I had to pull my male partners out. It's ego-deflating to men. One had a bolt on his neck, and he blacked out . . ."

So girl divers have a dark mailroom of the Hugh Downs, who are also underwater.

"I can understand a husband getting embarrassed if he had to explain his wife was working—any, out on a salvage job under a sunken coal scow," Judy said.

One underwater nary wanted Judy (who's also a shapely model and actress, in her 20s, born in Liberty, N.Y.) to join him in a Florida shark-appearing expedition.

"He thought," Judy said, "we should get a raw steak and trail it behind us and wait for the shark . . ."

Judy at least has found a profession which isn't over-crowded with females. She's been waiting to get into the Hard Hats Union. "I stay friendly with those boys," she says, "even though it would be hard to picket underwater."

TV News and Reviews

Let's Hope the Succeeding 'Face the Nations' as Good

NEW YORK (UPI)—As a place of the previously scheduled bonus to my loyal readers, I'd like to pass along a stock market tip: lecturers are bullish.

Thanks to TV's infatuation with these wooden stands must be making a strong comeback. Lecturers were made for the "Great Debates." NBC-TV's debate series called, "The Nation's Future," and President Kennedy's news conference Wednesday night.

And now comes the newest addition, the "Face the Nations" series that began its alternate Thursday airer on CBS-TV last night.

The debate opened with a natural — one-hour for a debate between Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Arizona Republican described as "the conservative's best hope for 1964" by moderator Howard K. Smith, and Eugene McCarthy, the Minnesota Democrat who seems to be replacing Adlai Stevenson in the affections of liberals.

I thought it ironic that, as we faced the TV screen, it was Goldwater on the left, McCarthy on the right. Ah, those playful CBS producers.

The question before us was, "Does a big federal government have a role in our freedom?" My scorecard showed the chamber getting to talk 18 times.

Their philosophic textures were exposed to the abrasives of opening statements, rebuttals, cross-examinations and summations and while it was a tame, cool, chamber, looking spark and passion, the hour did move at a nice pace and interest was sustained.

Perhaps it was the sharp differences that evolved out of every topic the debaters touched.

If succeeding debates in this series can match the premiere with such "stars" and comparatively lively topics, we'll be in for some stimulating TV.

The debate took place in the historic old Senate and Supreme Court chamber in the U.S. Capitol, an inspiring selection. The antiquated qualities of the chamber were not permitted to overwhelm the debaters, who remained the main attraction for the directors' cameras.

DIVING GASP "The Witness" went to CBS-TV's execution chamber following last night's session on the career of "Shoelace Joe" Jackson. The series elected to lower his standards in a front pursuit for great popularity and got what it deserved — failure.

The network and producers who participated in the compromising demonstrated that while it may be possible to make a now's ear out of a silk purse, the tangle awaits you nothing.

Before closing the book on "The Witness," I'd like to say that I thought "The Witness" was a travesty of ABC's on the Dec. 27 episode was the series' "highlight." The CHANNEL 8WIM: "Report on Hong Kong," an hour tour of the British crown colony next door to Communist China, is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 2 on CBS-TV.

Romney Defines 'Imperialism'

Tells Canadians That Domination of Economy by Foreigners Bad

TORONTO — A company which builds worldwide operations and retains dominating control in one country is an economic imperialist, George Romney, president of American Motors Corporation, said Thursday in an address to a joint meeting of the Empire and Canadian clubs.

A minority among American companies favored the "central control" and ownership philosophy, but if such a policy were applied broadly, it would jeopardize United States relations with many countries.

Romney, here for Thursday's opening of the new plant at nearby Brampton, of American Motors Canada Ltd., said he welcomes Canada's current debate about the effects of American economic penetration.

In his first week in office he began work on disarmament, had a hand in settling a strike, acted to help depressed areas and the Congo, moved in other directions, and may have helped in getting Russia to release two captured U.S. fliers.

During the campaign, Oct. 11, he said, "We must let Mr. Khrushchev know we are permitting no expansion of his foothold in our hemisphere."

He let Khrushchev know it Jan. 30, the day he became President, in his inaugural address: "Let all know we shall join with them to oppose aggression or subversion anywhere in the Americas."

But during the campaign, Oct. 7, he also said: "In my judgment we should follow the advice of Theodore Roosevelt: Be strong and speak softly."

Although he stiff-armed Khrushchev in the inaugural talk, he didn't rough him up, talked of cooperation and beginning "anew." This was fairly soft talk.

NIKITA RESPONDED
James, the mother of three, with a brass hair and stealing her watch, both of which he threw away as he fled between buildings. Mrs. James died of her injuries the day after the beating.

In turn, Kennedy said he was continuing the ban on U.S. exports (flight over Russia). Kennedy said Oct. 12: "We must use our surplus and our technology to meet the critical African need for food."

He followed through at his first news conference, Jan. 26, with this: "The United States government has decided to increase substantially its contribution toward relieving famine in the Congo."

On Sept. 19 Kennedy, critical of the Taft-Hartley Act's labor strike injunction, its main strike-settling instrument, said:

"Why should we be armed only with the power to enjoin labor when there is a whole arsenal of other weapons available . . . including mediation."

On Jan. 21, the day after being sworn in, Kennedy agreed to have his new secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg, go to New York to try to settle a two-week old damaging harbor strike. It was settled over the weekend.

On Oct. 5, Kennedy said: "We must get moving on the problem of depressed areas."

PLANS MORE FOOD
On Jan. 21, the day after becoming President, Kennedy in his first executive order started carrying out this campaign pledge by directing increased distribution of free food to needy families in depressed areas.

During the campaign Kennedy promised a code of ethics for government employees. Two days after taking office he appointed three law professors to advise him on ethics and conflict of interests in government.

On Sept. 10 he said peace "requires an America that is planning, preparing and striving for disarmament."

Tuesday, Jan. 24, he began his administration's study of disarmament with his top advisors on that subject.

In his speech accepting the Democratic presidential nomination last July 15, Kennedy promised to do something about the Cooking School or Torture Lesson?

But Ladies, the Food Is to Eat!

Editor's Note: Take a quick peek at the menu for the cooking school. It's not as bad as it looks. It's a chance to eat lunch, and here's the menu:

By BRUNO NEARNS
Sports Editor, The Pontiac Press

Fellow men, hear this most exasperating tale!

We are living in a world with creatures, known as women, who are heartless and without doubt, stomachless.

Do you know what they did yesterday at The Pontiac Press cooking school?

You'll never believe it!

They had a class in glamorous food. Imagine that!

Yep, that pretty little cook named Janice Plager came out and said, "Ladies, today is party day. We will show you how to dress up and glamorize foods."

And men, it was simply horrible, sitting there with that tantalizing aroma of broiling prime ribs, that exotic smell of barbecued spare ribs, that luscious fragrance of roasting Hamburg Steaks and that sweet scent of beef hash.

Some party day, I say. Not even a little bit was I offered.

But, oh no, that wasn't all. Then Miss Plager brought out this gorgeous, fantastic, sublime whipped cream pie, just the thing for this poor calorie-hungry stomach.

What did those women do? They went ooh and aah, but not once did I hear, "Care for a piece of this pie?"

But that wasn't the end, by no means.

Then these lovely women paraded around the stage with trays of beautiful, colored vegetable, hors d'oeuvres, casseroles, hot rolls and cool cake.

And men, do you know what these women, 1,000 of them did? They cheered while all these magnificent trays of food were being glamorized with parsley leaves, napkins, flowers, all kinds of gadgets.

Here I was starving, without lunch and just dying to grab a little morsel of that huge rib roast, and there they were cheering.

After parading this fantasy of foods, they wrapped the entire tray of cake in foil and drew lots to see which woman would be lucky enough to take home.

Now, I tell you men, if your heart was hooked through your stomachs as they say, and that woman of yours is attending The Press Cooking School, then lay down the law for this Sunday's dinner.

Be sure you get to eat the food after all that glamorizing!

Attempt to Keep Municipal Tax Hike to 33 Cents

City Commission Aims at Rate of $13.60 Per $1,000 Valuation

Bel-tightening City commissioners have slashed proposed tax levies by $115,000 in an effort to hold down the 1961 municipal tax increase to 33 cents.

If the strategy they plotted last night at an informal meeting works out, the tax rate will hit $13.60 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

For an average home assessed at $5,000, this would mean a tax bill of $68, or a 15¢ increase over last year.

The tax rate won't be officially until after the Board of Review hearings this spring. The commission is counting on a total assessed valuation of at least $200 million for a tax base, a rise of about $5 million over last year. The 1960 rate was about $14 million.

Anticipating a slack year for neighborhood improvements, commissioners aimed the slash at capital improvement funds.

Instead of raising about $1,015,000 through a full $3.50 capital improvement levy, they plan on around $800,000 under a partial $3.10 levy.

The $115,000 slash is to be offset by adding another $50,000 to the budget from the unappropriated surplus—the money the city depends on to get through the six-month period from the end of the fiscal year in December to tax collection time in July.

The cut in City Manager Walter K. Williams' proposed budget rounds out at about $65,000.

This leaves the budget to be adopted Tuesday night at around $6.5 million, about $400,000 over last year. A 1961 tax levy of $13.60 on a tax base of $200 million would bring in about $3.4 million in taxes, about $200,000 more than last year.

The $13.60 rate also includes mileage for operational costs, debt retirement and waste collection.

The rate has been $13.27 since 1959. In 1957 it was $13.70, or 18 cents above the rate proposed for this year.

The cut in capital improvement funds won't hurt street or sidewalk work.

$46.5 Millions to Be Spent Next 5 Years

Three Projects Will Be Chrysler Freeway and MS9, Plus City Loop

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Oakland County can look forward to $46.5 million worth of state highway improvements between 1962 and 1967, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced today.

Mackie traveled to Pontiac yesterday to unveil his second five-year program for the county since taking office in 1957.

The highway department committed an estimated $25.5 million during the first five-year program—1957 to 1962—for construction and modernization of 133 miles of highway in Oakland County, including 60 miles of freeway.

Much of this first program is yet to be done.

Three major projects stand out in Mackie's future program. They are:

—Completion of 49 miles of the $14.2 million Walter P. Chrysler divided four-lane, limited access freeway, Oakland's link in the freeway which will eventually connect Detroit with Sault Ste. Marie.

—Completion of the so-called "Pontiac loop" highway which will divert heavy traffic from the downtown area.

—Widening of 5.6 miles of MS9 (Highland Road) in Waterford Township from two to five lanes between Elizabeth Lake and Williams Lake roads.

This will greatly facilitate a smoother flow of traffic from Pontiac using the rapidly growing Pontiac Municipal Airport situated on Highland road.

Before he released details of his new program to the Pontiac Press yesterday, Mackie and other state and county road officials broke ground for the Chrysler freeway—designated Interstate 75—at a spot of Lapeer Road (M24) north of Walton Boulevard.

This first 12.5 mile leg from M24 to M15 north of Clarkston is expected to be completed in the fall of 1962.

The freeway, cutting Oakland County diagonally in half in a northwesterly direction, and "skirting" the city on the east, is designed to take the through traffic now using U.S. 10 (Woodward avenue).

Mackie's future program was hailed by Iland M. Thatcher, chairman of the board of county road commissioners, as an "excellent program."

"This gives us what we were looking for and also means our county is getting the second largest amount in the state," Thatcher boasted.

Most of the work on the Chrysler freeway has been programed in the 1957-62 program. Included in the future work is the final leg, that four-mile segment from Eight Mile road north to the south city limits of Madison Heights.

This project, which will cost an estimated $22 million, will be placed under contract in 1963.

Contracts are expected to be let for the MS9 widening project the same year.

Mackie said another project in the next five-year scheduling is the construction of 8.3 miles of MS9 (Auburn road) as a freeway stretching from the Grand Trunk Railroad on Pontiac's east side to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Mystery Deaths Riddle Closed

Tests Show Waterford Mother and Son Died From Sleeping Pills

Waterford Township police have closed their books in the "mystery" deaths of a young mother and her 3-year-old son last December.

The father, who was a tax collector, was found dead in his home, 24, 108 Elmwood Road, and her son, Raymond, both died from overdoses of sleeping pills.

Det. J. William Stokes and Det. Ernest Mann, who have been working on the case, said the child apparently had gotten into a mother's tablet box.

"We believe the mother, finding the boy dead, decided to take his life," Mann said.

The tragedy was discovered that afternoon by Mrs. Denham's mother, Mrs. Nell Adler, 1310 Hillside Drive. She found the child dead in his crib and Mrs. Denham in a coma.

Mrs. Denham died Dec. 19 at Pontiac General Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Police were baffled when they found a phone ripped from the wall of the home, but no other signs of violence. A 3½-year-old child in another room was unharmed.

Autopsies performed on both bodies by Pontiac area pathologists were inconclusive.

The father, who was working that day, said his wife had suffered previously from a nervous disorder, police said.

Kennedy on Hand Await Returning Fliers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force Capt. John R. McKone and Freeman B. Olmstead arrived at nearby Andrews AFB at 11:18 a.m. (Pontiac time) from Moscow, Labrador.

President Kennedy decided to make the 15-mile trip to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and personally greet the two men.

WASHINGTON — The United States was ready today to give a joyous welcome to the two American airmen returning home from Soviet captivity.

But a ban was clamped on any news about their seven-month prison experience and their present condition.

East and South Crippled by Snow, Sleet and Cold

A vast snow and ice storm dealt crippling blows to the South and East today as winter's longest stretch of severe weather held fast over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The wide belt of snow extended from Northern North Carolina into New England and westward into Illinois and the Great Lakes region.

The storm broke out in Texas and Oklahoma earlier this week and spread east, west and north across most of the Southland before speeding northward along the Atlantic Coast. Only Florida escaped the cold, wet weather.

The violent weather, which closed highways and air travel and disrupted electric service, was blamed for at least 41 deaths.

Most of the fatalities were in traffic accidents on ice-slicked highways, exposure and heart attacks.

Texas alone counted 17 storm-related deaths. There were 12 in West Virginia; 6 in Indiana; 3 in Louisiana; 3 in Georgia; 2 in South Carolina and 1 each in Tennessee, Oklahoma and Washington, D.C.

SIX INCHES DEEP

Snow depth up to a half foot fell in Maryland, and nearly that amount piled up on top of last week's heavy snow in many areas. The falls, however, were not as heavy as last week's storm which dumped more than 1½ feet of snow in parts of Pennsylvania.

The snow diminished considerably during the night from Pennsylvania northward into New England after an earlier forecast of up to 8 inches in Southern New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

KNOWN UNDER AT CAPITAL — A Washington motorist tries to sweep the snow from his car in the parking area of the Senate wing of the Capitol as a new storm blanketed the area. Government employees were sent home early after the snow started falling along noon Thursday.

Boys ... Warning! Keep Chin Clean

A word of warning to teachers and students in Pontiac: Shave that hair off your chinny-chin-chin, the school board wants just nice clean skin.

What may have been a mark of distinction 100 years ago, is a bone of contention among school officials today.

In an "informal" session last night, the Pontiac School Board wrestled with the problem of Central boards.

Board members parted a little to the left.

Several principals have brought to my attention the fact that these boards do not look very respectable in our high schools, whether on teachers or students," said Dr. Dana F. Whitmer, superintendent.

With that, the battle was on.

"Just how much beard can a student grow?" asked William H. Anderson. "It can't amount to much."

"You'd be surprised at the beard-growing capacity of some of the boys—even junior high boys," asserted Dr. Philip J. Prood, assistant superintendent.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with beards," said Maurice M. Osmun, vice president of the board.

"I've been thinking of growing one on top of my head," he quipped. "You can have a beard and still be clean, can't you?"

"No!" belted board President Louis H. Schimmel.

"Well, I still think it's alright for anyone to grow a beard," Dr. Whitmer said.

"If that agreeable to you will have U.S. Navy ship meet you off port to assist in transfer of passengers if necessary."

Snubs Pleas to Release Passengers

From Our News Wire

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — The hijacked liner Santa Maria sailed steadily on its course for Africa today, apparently ignoring a U.S. Navy request to disembark the 620 captive passengers at the Port of Belem, Brazil, or at sea.

The Navy appealed again Thursday night to the rebel commander of the Santa Maria, to free the passengers on this side of the Atlantic and even offered to remove them at sea off Belem.

Adm. Robert L. Denham, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, broadcast his appeal as the cruise ship commanded by Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, captain of Portugal's dictator, cruised de Oliveira Salazar, still sped toward West Africa, but along a southeasterly course paralleling the northeast coast of Brazil.

The Navy said the last report it had on the Santa Maria at 3 a.m. (Pontiac time) put the ship about 600 miles north of the "bulge" of Brazil, and about an equal distance between the ports of Belem and Recife.

Denham called on the rebel leader, Henrique M. Galvao, to change his course and proceed toward Belem, at the mouth of the Amazon River, to discharge the liner's passengers. Among them are 42 Americans.

"Am sure you agree it best to accomplish transfer of passengers as soon as possible on this side of Atlantic," Denham said. "If that agreeable to you will have U.S. Navy ship meet you off port to assist in transfer of passengers if necessary."

Just Hang On a Little Longer; Warm Trend Due

It's going to be warmer—but not until a gradual warming trend begins Monday. Temperatures will hit a low of 3 above tonight.

The weatherman said temperatures will continue about 12 degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 19 through Sunday.

Precipitation will total about half an inch in snow Sunday and again about Monday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. was 3 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 15 at 1 p.m.

City Draft Board 67 Wins Service Award

WILLIAM B. HARTMAN

In recognition of 20 years of patriotic public service in the nation's military manpower needs, Oakland County Draft Board 67 has been awarded a certificate of appreciation and a citation from the State Selective Service headquarters in Lansing.

The local draft board is headed by William B. Hartman, a Pontiac attorney, who has served the selective service office here for the past 20 years.

Serving with him since inception of Board 67 has been its medical adviser, Dr. Edward A. Christie.

A physician in Pontiac, Dr. Christie lives at 6238 Malvern St. Troy. Hartman lives at 3970 Pitt St., Waterford Township.

Both men received individual certificates of appreciation from headquarters.

"In transmitting the award, the President, state director Col. Arthur A. Holmes declared, 'With these certificates go my sincere appreciation for your devotion to duty, your integrity and leadership, and your demonstrated spirit of volunteer public service.'"

Other members of the local board are V. J. Manfokoff, secretary; Edward H. Laird, Emmett J. Leib, and Robert V. Parenti.

Try to Hold Down Municipal Tax Hike

Walk improvement programs, since the city finances its share of these out of state gas and weight tax funds.

Storm and sanitary sewer construction might be affected, but the commission did not look upon 1961 as a year in which special assessment programs for sewers would be in high demand.

The city has already allocated two big slices out of the 1961 capital improvement funds—$147,000 to pay off tax satisfaction notes to complete the Pontiac General Hospital expansion and $150,000 in long-term bonds for the $750,000 headquarters fire station.

Airport improvements would be expected on capital improvement funds. At the moment the State Aeronautics Commission envisions a $200,000 federally aided improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport this year, in which the city's share would be approximately $20,000.

A total $550,000 is now allotted to the budget out of unappropriated surplus, $300,000 more than allocated in 1960, budget and $115,000 more than in 1959.

William said the increased strain might result for the first time in years in the city being forced to borrow operating funds in 1962 in anticipation of the 1962 tax collections.

This is a fairly common practice in municipal financing, he said.

The east county line at Dequindre road.

This $3.3 million project will be started in 1963, Mackie said. "Eventually this will be connected as a freeway into the U.S. area," the commissioner said.

This will provide for a more even flow of traffic on one of the larger east-west arteries out of the city, he added.

To provide an east-west link between Telegraph road on the west side of Pontiac to the new Chrysler freeway on the east, the highway department will widen three miles of Square Lake road from Telegraph road east to Opdyke road.

Part of this project will be to extend Square Lake road easterly to connect up with the Chrysler. This latter work will be done during the last half of 1962, while Square Lake road will be widened to five lanes in 1964.

That's what was planned to be a project assigned to No. 1 priority by the road commission—that of improving M218 (Orchard Lake road and Pontiac Trail) from Pontiac to a point near Wisconsin.

But construction date, however, has been set.

This 17.5-mile project should be particularly pleasing, too, to football-bound motorists headed toward Ann Arbor.

Other projects in the future plans are widening four miles of Telegraph road from four to six lanes from Eight Mile road to connect up with the new 1 1/4 Mile road in 1965.

This is expected to be placed under contract in 1965.

Improvement of the interchange at the Farmington - Brighton expressway (Interstate 56) and M218 freeway (Interstate 56) will be used to increase its traffic capacity.

Mackie said $4.8 million has been earmarked for preliminary engineering for the eventual extension of south Oakland County's east-west freeway (Interstate 56) and for preliminary engineering and purchase of right-of-way for Interstate 56 from Eight Mile road to Farmington.

At the same time, Mackie said, money left in the bond issue, originally intended for the controversial extension of Northwestern Highway, after construction of the Northwestern freeway between Eight Mile road and 1 1/4 Mile road state route 400, will be used for preliminary engineering and purchase of right-of-way for the future extension of the freeway northwest to M59.

Mackie said he could not pinpoint when the extension project would be constructed.

Mackie said the $4.8 million to be spent in Oakland County in 1961 was returned by the State and included the cost of engineering and right-of-way.

Most of the state projects are constructed on a 50-50 matching basis, with the federal government providing 50 per cent of the project's cost and the state the balance.

After he appeared in Pontiac, Mackie moved over to Mount Clemens and told officials there his department planned to spend $18 million for widening and reconstruction of roads in Macomb County, including the extension of I-580 into a freeway.

So far, projects totaling $18.3 million have been completed during the first five-year program, or are under construction, while projects totaling $64.5 million, mostly on Interstate 56 and Interstate 58 freeways, remain to be awarded between now and June 30, 1962, Mackie said.

The Day in Birmingham

Lights, Camera, Action; Police Dept. at Work

BIRMINGHAM — Starry-eyed or not, there will be some area residents who will soon be in the movies.

However, their appearances "on camera" won't lead to a Hollywood contract or a gold chain. More likely they'll wind up with a yellow traffic violation ticket.

The screen test will be given to motorists who will be filmed by a camera-equipped, unmarked police car.

The car will be furnished by General Motors Corp. for a job traffic study to be undertaken by the Birmingham Police Department and the automobile firm's research laboratories.

While no starting date has been set for the traffic study, the city commission has approved of the program.

The new car, which will be turned over to the city once the study is complete, will be equipped with a 16mm camera capable of taking movies at single frame pictures.

A 16mm camera and other traffic enforcement equipment will also be carried in the vehicle.

Purpose of the study, which is expected to take three months, is to film motorists in various traffic situations that could or do lead to accidents, according to Robert Herman, head of the theoretical physics department of the research laboratories.

In a letter to Police Chief Ralph W. Massey, Herman explained that a representative from his department will accompany a police officer in the car.

The GM employee would be deputized by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to avoid any legal complications, Herman said.

A detailed report of the study will be turned over to the city on its completion.

Estimate City's Highway Costs

Pontiac Share Around $500,000 for 1962-67 Construction Period

Pontiac's share in the cost of State Highway construction programmed within the city limits in 1962-67 has been estimated at $450,000 to $500,000.

This includes the downtown loop highway construction scheduled by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in his new five-year highway plan.

It embraces also the cost of an improved 1938 on the city's east side.

Mackie did not break the cost figures down.

Mackie said there has been "extensive cooperation" between Pontiac officials and the State Highway Department's planning division in the development of plans to meet the area's mounting traffic problems. He said the loop "will provide better distribution of traffic in the downtown area."

The one-way street plan, which calls for five lanes from Saginaw to Mt. Clemens and then extended on a new alignment north from Mt. Clemens along School Street and around to East Avenue.

Class is to be extended south from Orchard Lake to the intersection of Saginaw and Parke. The entire project will cost an estimated $2.8 million, Mackie said.

Wives, President Wait to Greet Fliers

When the two men had been freed by the Soviets, the White House banned any interviews with the two reconnaissance plane crew members and the world had to wait for their return to the incident in which they were shot down with four fellow airmen.

The body of their plane commander, Maj. William G. Smith, was returned by the Russians and buried in Arlington National Cemetery. The other three men were never accounted for.

The last hearing press interviews was not that the men needed rest and seclusion but that, in the words of White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, it was "in the best interests" of U.S. Soviet relations.

The documents were referred to frequently in the 1960 campaign argument over U.S. prestige abroad.

Kennedy said American prestige had plunged under Eisenhower's rule. Vice President Richard M. Nixon said U.S. prestige had hit a new high.

Kennedy demanded that the USA documents be made public, but the Eisenhower administration refused.

Officials connected with the studies felt that—and many still feel—that the reports should be kept secret. They contend that the studies are the internal working tool for the agency, needed to help draw an accurate picture of how others see the United States.

James C. Zeder

James C. Zeder, 60, retired director and vice president of Chrysler Corp., has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan.

Zeder, who lives at 1940 Orchard Ridge Road, Bloomfield Hills, is a director of the University of Michigan Development Committee, chairman of the board of governors of the university's Memorial Phoenix Project, a trustee of the University of Detroit, and vice president of the Michigan State University Oakland Foundation.

A candidate for regent will be selected at the Republican state convention in Detroit Feb. 24.

Before his retirement in 1959, Zeder was vice president in charge of engineering for Chrysler.

He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1922 with a degree in mechanical engineering.

During World War II he directed engineering development relating to the A-bomb, jet engines, tanks, and anti-aircraft cannon.

At the same time he directed war engineering board committee of 800 of the nation's top scientists.

He holds honorary degrees from the University of Michigan, Lawrence Institute of Technology, and the University of Dayton.

U.S. Prestige Opinion Polls Are Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two government polls held last year by the State Department, one of which was made public today on orders from President Kennedy.

The studies released by the U.S. Information Agency had figured in the 1960 election campaign. Much of the two foreign opinion surveys had been published by several newspapers before the November election.

Secrecy labels were left on the studies conducted in the past.

One of the studies, dated Oct. 10, 1959, says that people in most parts of the free world believe that the Soviet Union is ahead of America in space achievements and will lead in space 10 years from now.

L. LOREN FLORES

The other, dated June 1960, states that after the collapse of the Paris summit conference last May public opinion toward the United States declined in Britain.

They say that the value of many of the studies would be seriously breached, and opinions would be less candidly expressed if the results were opened to public scrutiny.

A third report which figured in the campaign was "The United States was downgraded" to the press was dated Aug. 25, 1960, under the heading "Free World Views of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Power Balance." The secrecy remains on that document.

The USA acted after Kennedy told a questioner at his Wednesday night news conference:

"I do think that it would be helpful to release the polls which were discussed last fall." Kennedy also said he had no objection at all to releasing the polls, or the results of the polls.

A USA spokesman said the Aug. 29 document, still withheld, was not a poll but rather a broad-ranging study which includes analysis.

Garcia Won't Debate

MANILA (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia today refused to debate with his opponent in the Philippines' presidential campaign. Vice President Diosdado Macapagal. The program was prompted by the Kennedy-Nixon campaign debates in the United States. A spokesman said a debate with his opponent would not be in keeping with Garcia's position as chief of state.

Past national president of the organization Mrs. Frederick Kemp of Birmingham was the installing officer.

The club will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Peterson of 1239 Cedar Drive.

John K. Stevenson, general chairman of the 1961 Community House Fund Drive March 6-10, announced today that S. Tenney McGraw of 529 Kimbark Road would serve as chairman of business solicitations.

Mrs. Robert J. Mason of 564 Overhill Road, Mrs. Raymond F. Gillette of 929 Glenary Road were named co-chairmen of women's participation.

Thoburn H. Wiant of 4431 Karen Lane, Bloomfield Hills, was named public relations chairman.

Pro-Western Troops Capture Laos Village

PHA TANG, Laos (AP)—A battalion of government troops captured Muong Kasay village Thursday night, reducing the sector of the Vietnamese-Lao border still held by pro-Communist rebel forces to about 30 miles.

Forward elements of Col. Oudone Sanankone's column, which is moving north along the road, occupied Muong Kasay after three 76 government fighters made a late afternoon strafing raid.

Reports to Sanankone's headquarters here, 29 miles south of Muong Kasay, said the government force had no casualties.

The rebels apparently are continuing to retreat north, putting up relatively little resistance, to the rebel-held junction of Pou Khoun, Pou Khoun, 35 miles north of Muong Kasay, was seized by another rebel column that came at it from the rebel-held Plain Des Jarres on the east.

Yvonne Dionne Enters Convent to Become Nun

BAIE ST. PAUL, Que. (AP)—Yvonne Dionne, of the Dionne quintuplets, is entering a convent here to become a postulant of the Little Franciscan Sisters.

The announcement was made Thursday by the superior of the order's Mother House, Rev. Mother Marie de Lorette. These sisters operate schools and hospitals in Quebec and New England.

She will be known as Sister Dionne until Aug. 12 when she passes from postulant to novice, second step along the road to becoming a nun. Final vows are taken after the two-year novitiate.

Yvonne has been a nurse in Montreal. Her sister Emilie was a postulant at the time of her death in 1954. The other three quintuplets are married.

Air Officers Review U. S. Defense Setup

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—About 70 high ranking officers of the Air Defense Command are conducting a detailed review of the nation's $3 billion defense setup during a three-day meeting here.

The system is expected to be in full operation this year, Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, commander of the ADC headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., told a news conference.

It includes the latest in electronic eyes and ears to warn of enemy attack, 50 squadrons of late model jets from the Air Force and National Guard, and the Bomarc missile, he said.

OLD MAN WINTER IN TOWN—A U. S. Army ferry plows through ice-jammed New York Harbor to the lower tip of Manhattan from Governor's Island Thursday as frigid temperatures continue in the eastern part of the nation. In the background is the skyline of lower Manhattan.

New York Herald Tribune
Salinger Praises Paper for Holding Flier Scoop
WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune has received a commendation for not using a 19-hour world scoop it had on the release by the Soviet Union of two American fliers. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said he had told the Herald Tribune reporter Tuesday night that publishing the news would be "harmful to the national interest and inimical to the welfare of the fliers."
He said the reporter, David Wise, agreed to hold off publication. "In doing this," Salinger said, "the Herald Tribune prevented the violation of an agreement between the United States and the U.S.S.R. which might have had regrettable repercussions. The Herald Tribune's example in this case is to be highly commended."
President Kennedy disclosed this news of the fliers' release at his news conference, after the airmen were on their way home.
Salinger sent his commendation by telegram to Herald Tribune publisher John Hay Whitney.
The newspaper said its Washington bureau got wind of the story about 10 p.m. Tuesday, and within an hour had the essential facts. Wise called Salinger about midnight for comment, and Salinger asked him to withhold the story.
The Herald Tribune added: "In anticipation of the story the Herald Tribune had slowed down the run of its 'late city edition' in New York so that the news might be carried in the maximum number of copies," the paper said.
"Nevertheless, in view of the nature of the White House request, the Herald Tribune decided not to break the announcement."

Soviets Like Jack; He's Much Calmer
LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio gave a report on President Kennedy's first news conference.
"The new President was calm and spoke in a businesslike manner, which was in strong contrast to his predecessor, who often used to lose self control," it said.
The article, a Latin American measure of weight, is worth 25.32 pounds in Argentina and 32.32 pounds in neighboring Brazil.

'Martha' at the Met Matilda Steals the Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The revival of the Metropolitan Opera Thursday night was "Martha," but it light hold on the glossy black mare but even so, once in the wagon shafts and ready to drive off with the four principals, she pruned, she kicked, and for a second it looked as though a quartet of stars would topple over the footlights and into the orchestra pit.

Little Nations Asked to Stand Pat in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has warned that the big powers might be drawn into "open and active involvement" in the Congo if the smaller nations pull their troops out of the U.N. command.

The secretary general said three nations must bear the responsibility if the weakening of the U.N. force brought "a disintegration within the country provoking active involvement of major powers."

Harlem Folk 'Guilty of Favoritism'

NEW YORK (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice says some Negro leaders in Harlem are fomenting racial discrimination against white men and this is as unlawful as it is for white people to discriminate against Negroes. Justice Irving H. Saypol made the declaration in a criminal contempt conviction of the leader of a Harlem group seeking to force white store owners to buy supplies from Negro salesmen.

Saypol said in a written opinion Thursday: "There smolders among us an unlawful condition both distressing and disgraceful. It is Harlem, Negro leaders, civic, political and clerical, and the local branch of an association dedicated to promoting the lot of their fellows, including elimination of racial discrimination, are fomenting racial discrimination against white men."

The opinion added: "As Negroes they know fully what racial discrimination is. And yet, as men of dark skin, they agitate by word and action — speech, print, boycott and picketing — to deprive white men of their livelihoods solely because they are white-skinned, so as to replace these victims with their selected Negroes."

Grand Jury to Probe Mexican Jet Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — A grand jury will be asked to investigate last week's crash of a Mexican jetliner at Idlewild Airport.

It will be the first time in 10 years an air crash has been referred to a grand jury.

A spokesman for the Queens County District Attorney's Office said Thursday the incidence of crashes in the New York area during the past year made it necessary to turn over evidence on the latest crash to a grand jury.

FDR Jr. Won't Rome

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats said Thursday they understood Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. had declined an opportunity to become President Kennedy's ambassador to Rome. White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said, in response to a query, that he knew nothing about the report.

Editors Face Challenge of Rallying Enthusiasm

EAST LANSING (AP)—The newspapers of America face the greatest challenge of their history, says the president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The scope of this challenge was described today in a speech prepared for noon delivery by Arthur H. (Red) Moley, also president and publisher of Parade Publications, Inc.

Moley was kickoff speaker at the 33rd annual convention of the Michigan Press Association (MPA). Newspapers, Moley added, have the first responsibility in closing the nation's most pressing "information gap" in modern times.

"The States obviously will be full of challenge for the newspapers," Moley said. "It's merely the challenge of meeting increased costs and competition from other types of media, but of meeting the challenge of this decade."

"The challenge of the decade, both domestic and international, will be political," he predicted. "The real test will be the ability of our government and its allies to adequately handle both domestic and international problems."

"In this area," he said, "responsible newspapers have their greatest obligation. Because newspapers can spark public interest and enthusiasm, provide local leadership and rally the energies of the citizenry, they must once again return to the role of a crusader."

Newspapers, Moley said, have

Hayes Jones to Compete for Pontiac Track Club

Hayes Jones, the most famous athlete in this city's history, heads a star-studded array of local track athletes who will compete for the newly-formed Pontiac Track Club in future amateur events.

The club is under the supervision and guidance of Dean Wilson, Pontiac Central's head track coach, and the organization's membership read like a

"who's who" in high school track circles.

Jones, the Pontiac Central and Eastern Michigan hurdler who won a bronze medal in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome, will compete for the club in his specialty, the hurdles.

Other members of the club at this time, all former PCH athletes who helped the Chiefs win five state Class A track titles in a six-year span, includes:

Joe Anderson, 1959 Michigan cross country champion and Central's record holder in the mile run.

Jim Nelson, 880 and mile.

Ed Drayton, broad jump and hurdles.

Joe McCauley, dashes and broad jump.

Andy Terry, hurdles.

Jerry Rush, shot putter whose best prep effort with the 13-pound ball was a toss of 99-4.

Bill Douglas, state 880 champion in 1955 and 1956.

Ken Byrd, 440 and 880.

Julius Harper, hurdles and high jump.

Danny Sowell, broad jumper and hurdler who owns a 25-foot leap and a 14.3 clocking in the high jumps while serving in the U.S. Army.

Charles Kentrell, high jumper.

Rob Manning, 1959 Michigan champion in the 100 and 220 dashes who ran 100 meters in 18.5 last spring while on a U.S. Department tour of South Africa.

Wilson expects the membership to increase and the new group will get its first taste of competition on Saturday, Feb. 11, in the Michigan AAU meet at the University of Michigan.

The club is looking for ways to finance the purchase of white T-shirts and Wilson hopes that the boys will be able to wear them at the State AAU meet.

Wilson said that the words "Pontiac Track Club" would be spelled across the front of the shirts.

Roberts Signs for 14th Year

Pay Remains Same
at About $45,000; Will
Work Harder

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts, one of the first major league bonus players to make good, said today he's "in good shape, quite happy and looking forward to his 14th season with the Philadelphia Phillies."

Roberts signed with the Phils Thursday "for the same salary I got last year" to complete two days of the signing of the three still active players most dominant in baseball throughout the whole last decade.

Stan Musial signed with the St. Louis Cardinals and outfielder Warren Spahn with Milwaukee, both for an estimated $75,000 on Wednesday. Roberts and the Phils declined to state his salary, believed to be $45,000.

The 34-year-old right-hander said it took only a couple brief conferences with owner Bob Caruth and general manager John Quinn before he agreed to terms.

Despite his 12-16 record with the last place Philadelphians, Roberts said "I thought I did well and hope to do better this year. No I don't plan anything new. I'll just work a little harder at it."

City Table Netmen to Meet Royal Oak

The Pontiac Table Tennis Association will meet Royal Oak paddlers in an inter-city match tonight at 7:30 in the Pontiac Central girls gym.

The top six players of each city will play a round robin series. Jerry Kruskie, Howard Heckenman, Adolph Magnus, Vic Corbin, Manfred Hershberger and Mary Barnhart will play for the PTTA.

In last night's matches, Seaman took over first place in the PTTA with a 4-1 win over Kahn. Other matches saw Jim's defeat Pontiac Rec. 6-3, Superior over Nutrilite, 4-1, Dorris over Detroit Ice, 4-3, Capitol over Frostop, 3-1 and Aluminum over A&W, 3-0.

DETROIT — Former Chrysler Corp. executive Jack W. Minor said today that he is joining a Los Angeles television production firm operated by his brother-in-law.

Minor, 40, of 1536 Dorchester Road, Birmingham, said he will be vice president in charge of sales and development for Don Feddersen Productions. Feddersen's firm has produced several shows for Chrysler in the past.

Minor resigned last Sept. 30 as marketing director for the former Plymouth-De Soto-Valliant Division. Chrysler said he had been asked to resign because of his interests in advertising firms dealing with the corporation.

Minor filed a suit Monday asking $300,000 in damages which he charged he suffered because of his ouster. He also is suing Chrysler for $25,000 he said he invested in a company stock fund.
