Explorer Scouts Program Undergoes Sharp Change

By MAX E. SIMON

All dressed up in a new package for high school students, a revolutionary Boy Scout Explorer program is being launched in the Pontiac district of the Clinton Valley Council.

Nationwide in scope, it has been planned with an eye to keeping boys in the movement longer and recruiting new members.

While Exploring is almost as old as the Boy Scout movement itself, the new program represents a drastic revision of past policies.

From uniform to organization, the new Exploring was designed by boys, many of whom have never been Scouts and may never be Explorers.

Faced with the problem of boys leaving the movement when they entered high school, national Boy Scout headquarters hired the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan to survey the interests, concerns and attitudes of adolescent boys.

In addition, Boy Scout executives conducted their own investigation of what Explorers were doing, what terminology should be used in a new program and what young people preferred in uniforms.

Chrysler Strike Over, Output Resumes Today

White Collar Workers Return to Jobs After 34-Hour Session

DETROIT (AP)—The picket lines came down and Chrysler Corp. today swung back into the production of 1959 model cars.

Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union came to terms on new contracts for white-collar workers Sunday night at the end of a grueling bargaining session of almost 34 hours.

Although only 8,000 of Chrysler's 75,000 UAW members were on strike, picket lines kept production and maintenance workers away from their jobs, virtually closing down Chrysler's car-making operations for almost a week.

Going into the weekend, 61,000 workers were idle and 32 plants were closed.

Most of Chrysler's car-making facilities are in Detroit where 50,000 of the workers are employed.

Chrysler said negotiations on the white collar contracts dragged past the others because the union's demands were higher.

The UAW claimed greater inequities existed among those workers and further negotiations were necessary.

UAW President Walter Reuther came out at the end of the marathon bargaining session and said the new agreement "represents very substantial progress, particularly in the area of job security of this group of Chrysler workers."

These improvements in job security provisions cover seniority, job transfer, and protection against displacement of workers by machines, Reuther said.

TO ADJUST WAGES

He also said the agreement provides for adjustment of wage inequities.

Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary said the new agreement would provide an increase of $2.53 a week, three per cent or whichever is larger, in salaries for the workers, would incorporate part of their cost of living benefits into their base salary, and would institute a new severance pay plan.

Under the old contract, the salaries of the white collar workers ranged from $319 a month for messenger boys to $903 a month for project design leaders.

Showers Due Tonight, Tuesday; Low to Be 55

Drizzly weather will continue to prevail in Pontiac, says the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Showers are expected tonight and Tuesday. The low tonight will be near 55 degrees.

Tomorrow's high will be a comfortable 58 degrees, but temperatures are expected to drop tomorrow evening.

Winds at 10 to 18 miles an hour from the south tonight will become westerly at 20 to 30 miles an hour tomorrow.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded before 8 a.m. was 50 degrees. At 2 p.m. the thermometer read 62.

California Doesn't Escape

CARS STALLED — A line of cars stretches nearly three miles on U. S. Highway 99, known as the Ridge Route, near Gorman, Calif., as snow and cold gripped southern California's higher elevations. The road at this point is about 70 miles north of Los Angeles, and nearly a mile above sea level.

Mexican Border States Stunned by Chill, Snow

From Our News Wires

Wintry weather spread into southwestern sections of the country today after the season's first general blizzard pounded the Rocky Mountain region and northern plains over the weekend.

Heavy snow covered wide areas, with falls ranging to several feet in the mountains to four inches at the Mexican border.

Heavy snow warnings continued in effect from New Mexico northward through the Panhandle area and western parts of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Unseasonably mild weather continued in most of the eastern half of the country. It also was wet and many areas reported high humidity.

The cold belt covered areas from the Pacific Ocean eastward across the Rockies through the Dakotas and into northern Minnesota.

Temperatures in most of the northern and central plateaus and Rockies were from 10 to 20 degrees, with below zero readings in the higher Rockies. One of the low marks was 9 below at Evanston, Wyo.

Snow fell in southern border sections of New Mexico and Arizona, with a four-inch covering at Douglas, Ariz., and three inches at Columbus, N.M. Albuquerque reported two inches.

The storm dropped 14 inches of snow at Flagstaff in the North, and left two inches at usually warm Tucson and a thin white blanket over other southern desert areas where snow is a rarity.

Eight to 20 inches of snow were reported in the Utah and Colorado-Wyoming border areas.

3 LOST IN SNOW

Temperatures dropped to 20 degrees in the Santa Rita Mountains near Tucson, Ariz., where three lightly-clad boys, aged 12 to 14, became lost in a lashing snowstorm Saturday.

Soupy Fog Blankets Pontiac Area

Thick fog blanketed Oakland County this morning as the first of the season's deer hunters returned home from Northern Michigan.

Despite the poor visibility and wet pavement, State Police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. reported no major traffic accidents.

Traffic was reported lighter than usual on major roads because of the adverse weather conditions.

Police advised all hunters to drive with care going to and returning from northern areas of the state. Motorists were urged to turn on their headlights on the highways.

The thick fog kept planes from landing at area airports this morning. The traffic control tower in Detroit said about 300 incoming planes — most of them airliners — have been routed around Detroit since a low ceiling developed Saturday night.

Reds Release Milroy, Ease Up on Threats

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist regime seemed today to be pushing the soft sell in an effort to coax recognition from the West. The West wasn't buying.

After belligerently echoing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand that the United States, Britain and France give up their protective occupation of West Berlin, the East Germans made two conciliatory gestures:

1. They unexpectedly freed tourist George S. Milroy of Ann Arbor, Mich., after holding him for four weeks as an apparent pawn to force the United States to negotiate for his release.

In releasing tourist Milroy at the West German border Saturday night, the East Germans dropped their demand that the United States open direct diplomatic bargaining for his freedom.

He was arrested by Russians on Oct. 17 near Neustrelitz, 70 miles north of Berlin, on charges of taking an unauthorized picture of military installations. He was turned over to the East Germans, who hinted he would be tried for spying.

The Russians answered American protests by saying the case should be taken up with "sovereign" East Germany.

Milroy, 30, a salesman traveling on an East German visa, denied taking military pictures. He said he had asked a Soviet sentry for permission to photograph a decorated archway near a Soviet camp and decided not to take the picture when the soldier didn't answer him.

East German party boss Walter Ulbricht announced in a speech that he was prepared to deal reasonably with the Western powers in Berlin if Russia makes good on her threat to withdraw from the present four-power occupation setup.

A Soviet withdrawal presumably would be followed by East German interference with road, rail and barge traffic between West Germany and the Western allied garrisons in West Berlin.

The Western powers assume the Russians will retain control of the air corridors to Berlin and have said they would supply their sectors of the city by air rather than deal with the East German regime.

Traffic between the city and West Germany flowed normally. The only interruption has been the

Three Teenagers Killed Hunting

Oakland County Youths Among State Victims of Deer Season

Three Pontiac area teenagers became victims of Michigan's young deer hunting season this weekend.

MISS COVERT

Killed were Carole Joan Covert, 16, of 1387 Harvey Lake Rd., Milford; Edward A. Kellogg, 16, of 617 Central Ave., and Ronald G. Drinkwine, 15, of 296 W. Princeton Ave.

The pretty Milford High School coed became the state's first deer hunting fatality in a tragic shooting accident near Atlanta, in Montmorency County, Saturday.

Held on an involuntary manslaughter charge at Montmorency County Jail is Samuel Chamberlain, 45, of Clio. Chamberlain told State Police that he spotted "something white about 200 feet away" and fired once.

Police said he must have seen either the girl's face or hands since she was dressed entirely in red.

Kellogg, a Pontiac Central High student, became the fourth fatality of the weekend Sunday.

He was hunting in Presque Isle County when the accident occurred. Police said the boy died from a wound received when he accidentally shot himself.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kellogg.

The Oakland County pair were among five hunters who died of bullet wounds over the weekend. At least 14 others were wounded on the first day of the season alone.

Drinkwine was found dead today in Evart Township, about two miles southwest of Evart, in Osceola County.

State Police at the Reed City Post said they were not able to determine immediately how the youth died. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Drinkwine.

In addition, five others hunters suffered fatal heart attacks. An

Pressure Used by Russians, Claims Milroy

BONN, Germany (AP) — A young American tourist jailed for a month in East Germany on spy charges said today the Communists apparently decided to free him on realizing they could not win any diplomatic advantage by holding him.

George S. Milroy of Ann Arbor, Mich., was released Saturday after being arrested Oct. 17 on charges of taking a photograph of a Soviet headquarters in East Germany.

Milroy said he was not manhandled by his captors but was put under terrific psychological pressure in an unsuccessful attempt to force him to confess.

Milroy told a news conference here that a girl interpreter betrayed the Communist motives when she said: "Through you we will get the United States to recognize the DDR (East Germany)."

In Ann Arbor, Mich., George Milroy's father says his son probably will continue touring Europe following his release.

The father, Claude B. Milroy, a State Highway Department engineer, received a brief cable Saturday night telling the good news.

Milroy said the cable came from his son and read: "Have been released today. Am safe and happy. Will write details."

Milroy was pleased with the way the government handled the case, refusing to bow to East German demands for negotiating his son's release.

Flint Man Injured in Plane Crackup

A heavy weekend fog was listed as the main cause of the crash landing of a single-engine plane on a Brandon Township farm, early Sunday, in which a Flint man was injured.

Described in satisfactory condition in Flint's Hurley Hospital is Charles Mullin, 42, of 62174 Mill St. Mullin, a passenger in the plane suffered a broken back.

The pilot, Ronald L. Chiles, 23, of Flint, was uninjured. He told police that he had taken off from Flint's Bishop Airport at 7:15 a.m. but couldn't locate the airport for a landing because of the dense fog.

In making the forced landing, Chiles barely missed a dairy barn, setting the plane down in a pasture but failing to stop in time to avoid smashing into a bank of trees.

Twisters Rip Texas

IOWA PARK, Tex. (AP)—Tornadoes ripped through west-central and north-central Texas today ahead of a pair of cold fronts that dropped temperatures as much as 30 degrees. Eleven persons suffered injuries. Tornadoes struck near Eastland in west-central Texas and at Wichita Falls area in north-central Texas near the Oklahoma line.

300 Convicts in State Stage Sitdown Strike

JACKSON (AP)—Some 300 convicts went on a short-lived sitdown strike in Southern Michigan Prison's textile mill and stamping plant today. Leaders said they were protesting poor food and failure to receive prison script as compensation.

There was no violence, Warden William H. Bannon said, and guards marched all 300 to their cells a half hour after the sitdown started.

Bannon said that because of two holidays—Veterans Day and Election Day—the prison had fallen behind in issuance of script, with which working prisoners may purchase cigarettes and other items.

The warden said no promises were made as guards rounded up the convicts and marched them back to cells.

The Jackson post of the State Police prepared itself for any outbreak of violence, such as that which occurred in the bloody rioting of 1952.

The post was put into partial mobilization with the calling out of a heavy weapons squadron—teams with tear gas and machine guns—at the post.

They did not go to the prison. State Police said the move was a routine precautionary step.

Lost in Utah Blizzard Three Days

Hope Dims for A F Men

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (AP)—Are two Air Force officers who bailed out of a crippled cargo plane still alive after more than three days in the blizzard ravaged mountains of northeastern Utah?

Hopes for the survival of Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis, Ind., navigator, and Lt. Donald E. Born, 28, Andover, N.Y., pilot, were dim as the frigid dawn broke this morning.

Born, Liggett and six other men parachuted from a C119 Friday night when one of its two engines stopped on a flight over the rugged mountains about 30 miles east of here. The plane was en route to its home base here.

Sgt. Ivan Probasco, 31, Buhl, Idaho, and Sgt. Joseph A. Reagan, Nellis AFB, Nev., died Saturday from exhaustion and exposure as they tried to fight their way through waist deep snow and freezing temperatures to help.

A group of the more than 100 weary rescuers combing the desolate mountain area Saturday found Sgt. Reyno Feltner, 36, Hazard, Ky., Sgt. Walter P. Bigelow, 28, from nearby Ogden, and Cpl. Ray Copeland, 22, Entiatt, Wash. when they stumbled into a sheepherder's camp.

Copeland and Feltner, both Army men and Reagan were hitchhiking a ride on the C119 when the plane commander, Capt. Harry O. Blount, 33, Great Falls, Mont., ordered them to jump. The plane flew 150 miles on automatic pilot and crashed.

Reagan died the next day in Feltner's arms. Feltner said he was quietly preparing his own death bed in the snow when a search party found him.

Blount was found a few hours after the parachute jump. He was wrapped in his chute and huddled under a tree.

Intermittent clouds, snowfalls and haze prevented pilots from scanning much of the terrain Sunday and aerial search operations halted at dusk.

Temperatures dipped below freezing in the 8,000-10,000 foot Wasatch Range section where Born and Liggett were believed to have fallen.

U.S. Tells of Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States charged today that Soviet fighters staged "dangerous and provocative" attacks against American planes 10 days ago over the Baltic Sea and the Sea of Japan.

A formal note demanded that the Soviet government take immediate steps to halt such interference with American aircraft.

The note warned that in the future "commanders of American aircraft will be under instructions to take any defense action which they consider necessary and appropriate."

Michigan Traffic Slaughter Kills 24

Death Mocks 'Safety Sunday'

Multifatality Crashes Give State 2nd-Straight 20-Plus Weekend

By The Associated Press

Multiple-death crashes — one of them taking the lives of six persons — swelled Michigan's weekend traffic death toll to 24.

Ironically, Sunday was "Michigan Traffic Safety Sunday" by proclamation of Gov. Williams. Worshipers in many churches turned their prayers toward hopes for greater highway safety.

But 11 persons died—six in one accident and three in another—in crashes on mist-slicked Michigan highways during the day.

This was the second straight weekend that the Michigan death count exceeded 20. Traffic accidents took 22 lives last week.

The Associated Press count begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Six persons were killed near St. Johns when their car hit a tree while being pursued by a police car.

They were identified as Robert R. Anderson, 29; his brother Jack L. Anderson, 19; another brother Richard Anderson, 34, all of Cincinnati; their aunt, Mrs. Grace Vincent of Lansing and her two daughters, age 5 years and 18 months.

Killed in a triple-death accident in Jackson County were John Murray, 17; Richard Driscoll, 17, and Mike Wallace, 15, all of Albion. Their auto crashed through the wall of a church building in Springport Saturday night.

Another triple-death crash involved two cars.

They collided Sunday on U.S. 23 in Monroe County. Victims were James F. Rank, 36, of Toledo, in one car, and Russell Fred Eighmey, 53, and his wife Helen, 50, of Erie, in the other car.

Nancy Schofield, 16, of St. Ignace was killed Saturday when the truck she was driving overturned near St. Ignace.

Lonnie Johnson of Eau Claire was killed Saturday in a three-car collision near Eau Claire.

Fred L. Jones, 26, Detroit, was killed Saturday when a car in which he was a passenger skidded into a railroad overpass in Detroit.

Charles C. Hainesworth, 74, Brownstown Township near Detroit, was killed Friday when struck by a car as he attempted to cross a highway in a rainstorm near his home.

Mrs. Pearline Morton, 20, Flint, was killed Saturday when her auto rolled over on a gravel road near Flint.

Frank Tisron, 78, Boyne City, was killed Friday in a two-car collision on fog-shrouded M75 near Charlevoix.

John Hayes, 21, West Branch, was killed Friday when a car in which he was riding ran off a road near West Branch.

Arthur W. Reichel, 30, Palmer, was killed Saturday when his truck smashed into a tree stump off a rural road in Forsythe Township.

Gordon Dateman, 22, Onondaga, was killed Saturday when his car struck a parked auto and a tree in Onondaga.

Grover Hall Cook, 74, Lake Odessa, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on M66 in Ionia County.

Clifford J. Chouinard, 34, Escanaba, died Saturday after being injured in a car-train collision in Delta County.

Barbara Johnston, 4, Saranac, was fatally injured Sunday when she fell out of a car being driven by her mother southeast of Belding.

A Blown Tire, Horrible Crash, and 6 Are Dead

ST. JOHNS (AP)—Patrolman Lyle French of the St. Johns Police Department first spotted the speeding car as it approached from the south in the hazy morning light yesterday.

"I estimate it was doing at least 70," he said in telling how he took up the chase.

The car roared through St. Johns, a community of about 5,000, and headed north on U. S. 27. When French swung in behind, the other driver pushed his gas pedal to the floor."

"I was doing 105 and still could not gain," said the officer.

Suddenly the front right tire blew out on the speeding car. With a squealing of rubber, the auto left the four-lane highway. There was a grinding, splintering crash as it hit a two-foot elm. Then there was silence.

Police smashed rear windows to get at the bodies. Inside they found three brothers, their aunt and her two small daughters, aged five years and 18 months. The sole survivor was a teen-aged hitchhiker.

A bloodstained funeral wreath was found in the wreckage. State police said the family was en route to a relative's funeral.

The hitchhiker was James Edward Risch, 17, of Rodney. He is in critical condition with multiple fractures of the lower hip and spine.

FORCED LANDING — This single-engine Cessna Model 140 barely escaped a more disastrous fate Sunday morning as its pilot, Ronald L. Chiles, of Flint, landed it near a Brandon Township farm. The front end of the plane is suspended over a ravine, held there by trees which it smashed into when overshooting a clear strip of land. A Flint man riding in the plane was injured.

Yul Brynner Takes Over Tyrone Power's Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tyrone Power's role in the movie, "Solomon and Sheba," will be taken over by Yul Brynner.

The six-million-dollar production was two-thirds completed when Power died of a heart attack in Madrid Saturday. Executive producer Edward Small said all scenes in which Power appeared will be refilmed with Brynner, who will fly to Madrid later this week.

285 Deer, 4 Bears Cross Mighty Mac 'Heels Up'

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Hunters took 285 deer south over the Straits of Mackinac Bridge in the first 49 hours of Michigan's deer season. They also took four bears south.

The heaviest movement of deer was from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. yesterday when hunters hauled a total kill of 151 deer south over the bridge.

Scant Hope Left for 2 Missing

RCAF Reports Search of 40,000 Square Miles Turns Up Nothing

KAMLOOPS, B. C. (AP)—Official hope has almost vanished for two Michigan men missing since Nov. 6 on a flight over the rugged interior of British Columbia where temperatures have dropped below zero and heavy snow has fallen.

The Royal Canadian Air Force said yesterday that 40,000 square miles had been searched and 250 reports investigated but there still are no definite clues to the whereabouts of the men who took off on what was to have been a three-hour flight from Calgary, Alta., to Kamloops. Aboard the twin-engined Apache were pilot Fred Royce and businessman C. T. Janik, both of Cadillac, Mich.

J. W. Borden, RCAF wing commander, said most of the reports of those seeing or hearing a plane during a storm on the afternoon of the flight came from an area about 60 miles east of here.

Overthrows Pro-West Ruler

Sudanese Army General Pulls Off Military Coup

CAIRO (AP)—The Sudan radio announced today that the Sudanese army commander in chief, Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, had seized power in a coup d'etat.

The government radio in Khartoum, the Sudanese capital, broadcast a declaration in the name of Abboud promising to do his best to achieve good relations with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Abboud also ordered immediate dissolution of all political parties, supervision of all newspapers, and prohibition of any demonstrations or political meetings.

The overthrow of the Khalil regime came as Nasser and the Sudanese government were trying to patch up long-standing differences over division of the Nile waters, their frontiers, and trade matters.

The Cairo press today carried predictions that Khalil would arrive in Cairo Thursday at the head of a delegation for official talks to settle these differences. Both Egyptian and Sudanese sources in Cairo were predicting success for the talks.

Whether Abboud's coup would help or hinder an agreement could not be determined immediately.

The Sudanese Parliament was scheduled to meet later this month and both sides had expressed hope that an agreement would be ready for ratification by that time.

Abboud's military coup upset one of the few parliamentary democracies left in the Middle East. Sudan obtained independence from joint British-Egyptian control Jan. 1, 1956, and since then had maintained a parliamentary system. The government had sided consistently with the West and frequently had been embroiled in disputes with Nasser's regime.

tween Los Angeles and the central valley town of Bakersfield.

The storm whistled across the length of the Rocky Mountains, plunging temperatures to 10 and 20 degrees.

A flow of mild southerly air across the central states slowed the cold advance in Minnesota and forced the snow front southward to the Mexican border in Eastern New Mexico.

Border temperatures were near 30 and two to four inches of snow were reported from New Mexico and Arizona.

Four to six inches of snow collected in Western Nebraska.

LOST ON HIKE

The three missing Tucson youngsters were believed lost near the 9,000-foot level of Mount Baldy in the Santa Rita Mountains, where they became separated from three young companions on a hike Saturday.

Searchers on snowshoes found no trace of the youngsters through the night. Searchers were nearing the area on horseback today and a helicopter was to join the search.

The boys are Michael Lunew, David Greenberg and Mike Early Jr., whose father had taken the youngsters into the mountains Saturday.

The cold air was expected to move slowly east today, through the Texas Panhandle, Western Kansas and Nebraska.

detention of a three-truck U. S. military convoy Friday.

Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, in a calming speech Sunday night, said he did not believe the Communists were ready to attempt a new blockade.

"I do not believe that the American transport planes which are standing by will have to be used," he said, referring to the airlift that broke the 1948 blockade.

Brandt said the Communists started their new tactic for two reasons—to choke off the stream of East German refugees into West Berlin and to injure West Berlin's economy.

Khrushchev's get-out-of Berlin declaration a week ago gave the East German Communists a late campaign talking point in yesterday's election of a new rubber-stamp Parliament. With only the Communist-approved slate presented, the only question was how many of the 11 million voters the Reds could get to the polls to vote yes. In 1950 and 1954 elections, the Communists claimed more than 99 per cent endorsed their ticket.

New York Surgeon to Talk at St. Joseph

Dr. C. D. Haagensen, director of surgery at the Frances Delafield Hospital, New York City, will be the evening speaker at the third annual clinic sponsored Wednesday by the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital medical staff.

Dr. Haagensen, who is a professor of surgery at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, will give the Dr. C. B. Tolle memorial lecture at 7 p.m. dinner at Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

His subject will be cancer of the breast.

More than 500 Oakland County physicians have been invited to the clinic, conducted to give doctors an opportunity to hear lectures on the latest developments in the medical world.

The afternoon program will be held in the auditorium of the hospital's nurses home, with Dr. Robert J. Mason, hospital chief of staff, presiding.

Dr. Rutzky, director of the St. Joseph clinical laboratory, and Dr. Stulberg, a consultant at the laboratory and a member of the Child Research Center in Detroit, are both associated with Wayne State University College of Medicine.

Dr. Weiss is superintendent and medical director of the Glenn Dale Hospital in Washington, D.C. and an assistant professor at the Georgetown University School of Medicine.

Dr. Rutzky's talk is scheduled for 1 p.m.; Dr. Stulberg's at 2 p.m. and Dr. Weiss' at 3:15 p.m.

Seeking Dem Convention

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Local officials will offer Paul Butler, chairman of the National Democratic Party, a new 15,000-seat auditorium, 34,000 hotel rooms and as much as $350,000 tomorrow when he comes here in search of a proper site for the 1960 Democratic Convention.

Tom F. Smith, convention bureau manager, said he hoped Republican Party Chairman Meade Alcorn would visit also.

A delegation from Florida and Miami Beach will go to Washington Dec. 4 to make their convention bids to both parties. But Miami Beach is expected to get tough competition from New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Atlantic City, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Smith said Florida was aiming first at the Democratic Party but officials felt that if they got one, they would get both.

Smith said Butler has specified a need for 14,000 hotel rooms. Miami Beach is the world's largest concentration of modern, air-conditioned hotel rooms—34,000 in all, he said.

He said that the parties had not specified exactly how much money would be required but that the last convention cost $250,000 and expenses have gone up. So he said Florida is planning for the possible $350,000 figure.

A special committee of prominent Floridians named by Gov. Leroy Collins has guaranteed both parties the necessary $300,000 to $350,000 to stage the convention.

Explorer Program Sharply Changed

million young men between the ages of 14 and 16 and turned up advice on what was wanted and needed.

The result of these two separate studies is the new Exploring which, according to guessing at national BSA headquarters, will swell the program from its present 460,000 to well over a million in a year.

POTENTIAL IS HIGH

Van Braidwood, Pontiac representative of the Clinton Valley Council, reports that there are 221 Explorers in the Pontiac district out of a potential 2,739.

In the Clinton Valley Council, there are only 825 Explorers, although there are 10,000 youths of Explorer age.

Exploring will now open its doors to all boys, whether or not they have been Scouts in the past, who are in the ninth grade and 14 years old. Those 15, 16, or 17, may join regardless of grade.

Missing from the new Exploring is the required system of merit badge advancement (although it is available to boys who want it, because the surveys revealed that high school boys no longer need these signs of achievement as they become older.

Instead, the new program will offer the opportunity for Explorers to specialize in any one of many subjects ranging from agriculture, chemistry, hi-fi and publishing to zoology.

SPECIALTIES POPULAR

This ties in with the surveys' findings that programs which direct the energies of young men into one specialized field are popular.

Local posts will write their own codes to add to the general rules from national BSA headquarters. Local posts will be governed by a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and quartermaster, who will keep in touch with other posts throughout the country.

In addition to vocational exploring, five other areas will form the backbone of the new Explorer program. These include social, outdoor, personal fitness, service and citizenship activities.

Along with these changes has come another new look. Although the forest green uniform will still be worn to official functions, an optional outfit of blue sport coat, white shirt, maroon tie and gray slacks has been added for informal affairs.

To help the local posts, the BSA has turned out a 317-page handbook that provides all the information on how to organize and set up a continuing program.

3 Hurt in Collision at Dixie, Sashabaw

Three Southfield Township residents were injured slightly in a two-car smashup on Dixie Highway at Sashabaw Rd., Waterford Township, Sunday night, according to Pontiac State Police.

One driver, Stanley W. Pikulinski, 42, of 22580 W. 11 Mile Rd., and his daughters, Anne, 18, and Linda, 10, were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. All were treated and released.

The driver of the other auto, John Barxell, 48, of Farmington, was uninjured, said police.

The Day in Birmingham

Hopes to Mount Fire Bell as Tribute to Volunteers

BIRMINGHAM — The old Maple avenue fire station bell, which for many years was used to call out volunteer firemen in Birmingham, will be mounted on a concrete base in front of the Adams Fire Station in commemoration of those who served the Volunteer Fire Department, according to plans by Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning.

City commissioners at their meeting tonight are expected to put their stamp of approval on the project. Mounted along with the bell will be a plaque honoring the old volunteers.

Among the other items of business on the agenda, commissioners will review a complaint from Henrietta street residents between Brown and Frank streets against all-day parking on the street.

Mrs. Carolyn A. Shattuck of 590 Henrietta St., spokesman for the group, said congestion caused by parked autos creates a hazard and makes it difficult for residents to enter and leave their driveways.

City Manager L. R. Gare will recommend denial of water service to Louis E. Riccardi, of 1219 Quarton Rd., Bloomfield Hills. Gare pointed out that such a permit cannot be granted by the city without violation of its contract with the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority.

Caught in the act, Robert Tuchinski, 17, and Arthur R. Williams, 19, both of Detroit, are being held by Birmingham Police today for breaking and entering in the night time.

The pair was apprehended last night when police noticed a broken front door at Russell's service station at the corner of Haynes street and Adams road.

A small cabinet containing a safe had been forced open and papers from desks and files strewn about the office, police said.

Robert Fenton, County Democratic Committee treasurer, will address the Birmingham Democratic Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Community House. He will discuss fund raising to finance the next election campaign.

The Child Study Club of the Birmingham Congregational Church will hold its monthly meeting at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Vibbert, 16996 Beverly Rd. Dr. Alfred E. Gray, interim pastor at the church, will speak on "The Sunday Church School." Luncheon reservations may be made with Mrs. Ray Marlin.

Russell J. Martin Jr.

Service for Russell J. Martin Jr., 37, of 2614 Comfort Dr., Birmingham, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Christ Church Cranbrook. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Martin died yesterday at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness. His body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. through Tuesday evening.

A graduate of Michigan State University, he was a manufacturer's representative for the Lander's Corp. of Toledo. He was a member of the Episcopal Church of the Advent, Bloomfield Township.

Surviving are his wife, June; two sons, Russell James and Raymond; two daughters, Linda and JoAnne, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Martin of Prescott, and a brother.

Mrs. Jacob L. Crawford

Service for Mrs. Jacob L. (Blanch) Crawford, 85, of 6521 Ann St., Birmingham, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Connelly Funeral Home in Stanton, Mich., with burial in Langston Cemetery.

The body will be taken to Stanton today from Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham.

Mrs. Crawford died Saturday at her home following a brief illness.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Louis Brungeraber of Birmingham; three brothers, three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

JACK W. BARNES

To Take New Post With Milk Producers

The Michigan Milk Producers' Assn. has named Jack W. Barnes of Royal Oak as secretary-manager to succeed Howard F. Simmons of Pontiac, who is retiring Jan. 1 after 34 years with the association.

Barnes, 38, of 2039 Vermont Ave., was appointed to the new position by the association's board of directors. The appointee had been assistant secretary-manager. He joined the MMPA as a fieldman in 1946.

Besides naming Barnes, the board unanimously re-elected Glenn Lake, of North Branch, president of the association for the coming year, and again named Ted Laursen, of Marlette, vice president, and Walter Christenson, of Muskegon, treasurer.

Dem Women in Area to Fete Mrs. Philip Hart

A membership tea for the Waterford Township Democratic Women's Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clark J. Adams of 2755 Walton Blvd.

The public has been invited to attend the tea.

The common cold is limited to humans and monkeys.

FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS

AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the 59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal for styling elegance by the Comité Français de l'Elégance.

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the great styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition.

What makes the 59 Ford such an immediate success? One prime reason, heard in showrooms from coast to coast, is "good taste." There is the classic simplicity of the Thunderbird-inspired design—the clear-cut clean lines that are pure automobile.

There is a kind of beautiful good sense, too, in the design of the new Ford that goes far beyond just good looks. Ford cars are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort. And a Ford is to enjoy, with smooth quiet power always on demand.

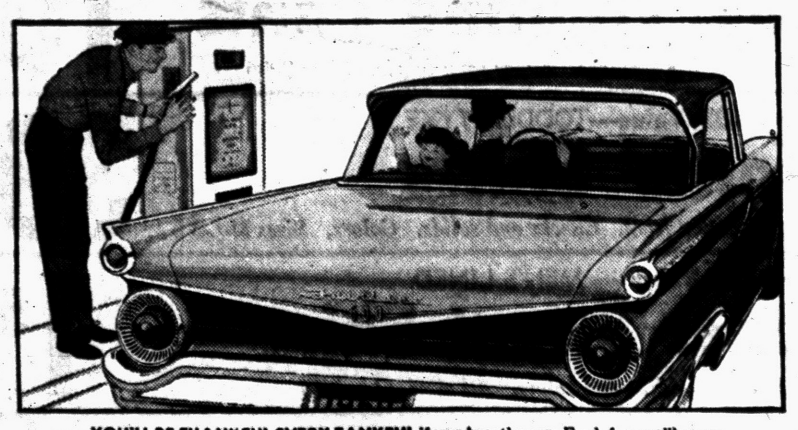

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands on thousands of customers have already bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird.) All six passengers in a 59 Ford get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers in a Ford don't feel they're riding with their feet in a bucket. And the man in the middle has the same deep, soft cushioning beneath him as the other passengers.

Cars are supposed to be made to get in and out of. Well, Ford makes it real easy for you. Compare for yourself in any showroom. Just get in and out of a Ford with its bigger, wider-opening doors.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with new engines that run superbly on regular gas.

The No.1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas . . . a dollar on every tankful! No wonder everyone welcomes the big news that all standard Ford engines, Six and Thunderbird V-8, are engineered to give you powerhouse performance on low-cost regular gas.

But that's not all—Ford saves you hard cash on oil, too. Every 59 Ford has a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Result: You can drive a full 4000 miles without an oil change. And Ford has ended the old problem of waxing your car. New Diamond Lustre Finish will stay gleaming bright without waxing—ever! This is another Ford First, of the kind your bank account likes.

THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices!

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. This is a simple fact, if you'll take the time and trouble to shop and compare. All you have to do is look for yourself, and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And, if you want an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85.

All this means that if you want a car with Thunderbird-inspired styling, really roomy comfort, the firmest, safest ride in its field, great trunk space, and that famous Thunderbird V-8 performance (or the most modern Six in the industry)—all this with hard-cash economy—then the car to buy is the 59 Ford.

Cutting Torch Sets Fire

Industrial and Military Families Lead; Current Trek Is Farm to City

WASHINGTON — The Conestoga has given way to the station wagon, but Americans continue to go west.

And north, and south, and east. Each year, one out of every five Americans moves. Most take the family chattels and pets to another house in the same city or county. But about 10 million Americans—more than the entire population of Belgium—pull up roots and move to another state.

Every state has received at least 10 per cent of its population from another state. In seven western states, and Florida and the District of Columbia, more than half the residents are migrants.

American industry, in recent years, has tended to transfer its most promising young executives regularly. Moving companies find the bulk of their business coming from industrial and military families. But the peripatetic groups are accompanied, in their treks from state to state, by citizens seeking better jobs, a better climate, or a more appealing place to live.

The Census Bureau reports that several states have increased more than 30 per cent since 1950. These include Nevada, Arizona, Florida, Delaware and California.

Nine states are expected to get larger delegations in Congress after the 1960 census: notably California, in addition to Florida, Michigan, Texas, Arizona, Indiana, Maryland, Ohio, and Oregon.

FOLLOW OLD TRAILS

Americans seemed to have been seized by an aggravated itchiness of feet since World War II, but they have followed well-worn trails.

The main current of migration has long flowed westward, ending in California. Since gold-rush days, California's majestic size, sunny climate, and variety have given it the aura of a promised land.

Swat Proud of Schools, Hospitals

Tiny Moslem State Bars Lawyers; Halts Confusion

WASHINGTON—In parts of the Moslem East, wars of long past centuries sometimes seem closer to the traveler than the headlined struggles of today.

Supreme Court Associate Justice William O. Douglas tells in a magazine article, "West from the Khyber Pass," how he and his party crossed and recrossed the path of Alexander the Great.

The Justice—with his wife Mercedes and their friend, Mary Watkins—took to Asia's rugged backwoods roads. In their hard-pressed station wagon, they pushed through high mountain canyons that had once rumbled to the tramp of Greek, Persian, Mongol and Moslem armies.

Justice Douglas, however, was not tracking ancient history in his wanderings. He was revisiting Asian lands and friends with the hope of learning more of their ways and cultures, and thus bettering understanding between West and East.

The journey started in Pakistan's bazaar city of Peshawar near the mouth of the narrow Khyber Pass of Kipling romance.

The party first made a short side trip to the little state of Swat. Its ruling Wali, who speaks fluent English, gave an informal dinner.

NO LAWYERS

The Wali was proud of his state's free schools and medical care, its college, and six hospitals; but the Justice was professionally interested to learn that Swat has no lawyers.

Cases are settled by local authorities under Koran law, or—in more serious circumstances — by decision of the Wali himself. A lawyer, it was explained, "only makes a lawsuit complicated and confusing."

As the travelers drove through north Afghanistan's cultivated valleys, they met migrant farm families who exchanged friendly calls with their chauffeur guide. Istala mashi, "May you never be tired," was the greeting; Kwar mashi, "May you never be poor," the reply.

In the black wool tents of nomads, the Douglases listened to plaintive guitar music. When the car bogged down on a dark hillside, they feared the swarming tribesmen were bandits — but learned they had come to help.

ANCIENT IRRIGATION

Along the way, the party visited with officials, merchants, rug makers and tenant farmers. They saw ancient but effective irrigation works, and modern resorts and ports on the Caspian Sea. In the garden city of Tehran, they called on the Shah of Iran. In Baghdad, where a violent revolt would soon overthrow the government, they found a reminder of home in the air-conditioned American Embassy patterned after the White House.

One of the most interesting experiences of the trip occurred in the Afghan capital, Kabul, where a building and development program is under way with Russia's technical and financial assistance.

Seeing two men and a woman who looked like Americans, Justice Douglas asked the way to the American Embassy. One man gave directions in perfect English.

"Thanks a lot," said the Justice. "You folks here with the Point 4 aid program?"

"Point 4?" the speaker gasped. "We are Soviet citizens."

Bad Drivers, Vehicles Ohio 'Pike Targets

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three two-man teams made up of a highway patrolman and toll collector today begin spot-checking Ohio's 241-mile turnpike looking for drunk drivers and unsafe vehicles.

Checks will be made during the week at each of the toll road's 17 plazas, and the program will be repeated next week, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the turnpike said. If results warrant, the tests will be prolonged indefinitely, he said.

The fitness checks are the aftermath of a head-on crash that killed seven persons Nov. 7 near the Norwalk interchange.

Pope to Appoint New Cardinals

Calls a Pre-Christmas Consistory for Creation of 23 High Prelates

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today called a pre-Christmas consistory for Dec. 15 to create 10 non-Italian and 13 Italian cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

Two cardinals — designate were named from the United States — Msgr. Richard James Cushing, 63, archbishop of Boston; and Msgr. John F. O'Hara, 70, archbishop of Philadelphia.

The Vatican said the present members of the College of Cardinals would meet in secret consistory Dec. 15 to confirm the Pope's nominations. The pontiff will present the red hats of their rank to the new cardinals in a private ceremony Dec. 17, and a public consistory honoring them will be held Dec. 18.

Pope John's call of a consistory so soon after his coronation on Nov. 4 came as no surprise. The vigorous new pontiff had been expected to act quickly to strengthen his administration.

However, his call for the cardinals to gather this soon after the conclave put a heavy strain on the elderly and the ailing in the ranks of the college.

Almost all of them have returned to their homes — some of them thousands of miles away — since they elected the pontiff. They now face the trip back to Rome in less than a month.

Robbed of $400 in Home

DETROIT (AP) — Theodore Weinbaum, 53, one of the owners of a Detroit brush manufacturing firm, told police he was robbed of $400 Sunday by a gunman who broke into his West Side home and pistol whipped him. Weinbaum said the man threatened to kill him if he did not give him money. He said he tried to grapple with the man, but was beaten over the head with the bandit's pistol.

DETROIT (AP) —A Redford Township supermarket was robbed of $2,000 Sunday by a gunman who trapped the assistant manager on the store parking lot and forced him to open the store. He said the gunman threatened to kill all of them unless he opened the store safe and handed over the money.

City Welcomes Services of Osteopathic Hospital

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is to be congratulated for the splendid services it is rendering the citizens of the Pontiac area.

In the short space of two and a half years the hospital facilities have grown from the original 25 beds to a 121 bed institution. The foresight and planning for this growth is largely due to the work of the original incorporators.

Members of the group that envisioned the great need for the expanded Osteopathic services include Dr. Donald Fraser, Dr. M. C. Wooster, Dr. Leroy C. Johnson and Dr. William Capron.

This modern institution, with its 121 beds, is a definite contribution to the already overcrowded conditions in this area. The hospital's equipment is up to date and offers all regular services.

Certainly one of the most unique accomplishments of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is the fact that there was no public solicitation for funds. The hospital is a private non-profit institution open to the public.

The staff, both administrative and medical, have the best wishes of the community for continued success.

Bipartisanship Shown in Johnson Appointment

The choice of Senate Majority Leader LYNDON B. JOHNSON to speak for this country at the United Nations General Assembly on behalf of the U. S. resolution calling for outer space control, is an appropriate one.

As the leading Democrat in Congres, Sen. JOHNSON was chosen by the Republican Administration partly for his keen interest in this matter and partly, as Sec. DULLES said, "to emphasize the basic unity of our country on this issue." The Texan has done effective work in the Senate study of outer space problems and has been warmly welcomed by U.N. Ambassador Lodge.

In accepting the appointment Sen. Johnson said "I am happy to accept the invitation in the hope that I can make some contribution toward making outer space an avenue to peace instead of an arena of war."

This unity of the American people in the bipartisan conduct of world affairs should impress those who thought, and perhaps hoped, that the results of the recent election would cause chaos in our approach to international affairs. It is a hopeful omen that the next session of Congress will maintain bipartisanship beyond our shores.

Quite Enjoyable; Also Quite Profitable

Most of us have greatly enjoyed this summer weather in autumn.

And here in the Pontiac area a financial profit has been added to that enjoyment.

With no killing frost damage for many days later than the average year, every growing crop was allowed to reach its full maturity.

And the garnering of these crops was made much easier than it would have been with the usual blustery fall winds and lower mercury.

In addition to all this, the 1959 wheat crop has had every opportunity to get a satisfactory start. With the exception of moisture conditions in some isolated sections, which somewhat retard it, the new wheat now blankets the ground and has the rooted foundation and stooling to go through a hard winter.

And the hay and forage crops that mean so much to our dairy industry also have had a fall growth to mean a current abundant pasturage, but also are set to continue through the coming year.

The soil content of this area is such that an autumn like this means much to its production, both currentwise and futurewise.

This weather thus has more than the passing enjoyable physical feeling that it engenders.

It finds reflection in our farmers' bank balances, both this year and in years to come.

Biggest Turkey Farm Gets Rid of the Voracious Bird

Over 14,000 turkeys have been grown this year at

The Travis Farms

at 1400 Mack Road in Addison Township, Oakland County's largest raisers of the Thanksgiving bird. This is 2,000 more than last year, and owner of the farm, states that it is the largest number in his 20 years in the business, 13 of which have been at the present location.

The turkeys are all killed on the farm and individually wrapped and kept in refrigeration until sold. Most of them already have been taken over by the Detroit and other city markets. The price is somewhat higher than last year, being 59c a pound for the hens and 49c for the gobblers.

According to the Travis Farm Manager, who has been there several years,

Robert L. Smith,

the principal trouble in raising this year's turkey crop came from the depredations of one owl. It raided the roosts every night when the birds were small, taking away a turkey each night, besides raising havoc in the lives of the 14,000 highly temperamental birds, setting back their growth. The owl finally was killed, and peace, tranquility—and growth returned.

"We're Losing Altitude"

David Lawrence Says:

Under 2 Per Cent Decide U.S. Vote

WASHINGTON — Less than 2 per cent of the eligible voters in the United States decided the congressional election this year—about 1,600,000 out of 100,000,000.

LAWRENCE

These facts emerge from an examination of the statistics of the voting outside the solid South and the border states, nearly all of whose congressional districts usually vote under the Democratic Party label.

Approximately 52 per cent of the voters in the North voted Democratic this time and 48 per cent Republican. This is a spread of four percentage points, and out of the approximately 41,000,000 votes cast in the congressional elections in the West, North and East, this means that about 1,600,000 voters swung the election.

These are the "switch voters." Sometimes they are called "independents," though this word implies that they carefully weigh the merits of the argument and come to a judicial conclusion.

Actually, they are the people who vote "against" the party in power no matter what its name. They don't vote in favor of a particular set of policies or programs—they simply record their disapproval of things as they are.

Dr. George Gallup, the eminent director of public opinion surveys, discussing this very point in an article last week, said:

"It is important in describing what happened to note that a great deal of the gain in the Democratic vote since 1954 occurred among farmers, business and professional people, and white-collar workers—or the 'forgotten salaried man.' Among manual workers and union members, the division of the vote this year was virtually the same as four years ago."

The economic "recession" affected, on the whole, a relatively small group, since unemployment itself was geographically "spotty." Yet it doesn't take many voters in the so-called "discontented" group to swing an election.

By spreading 1,600,000 votes over a relatively few congressional districts, it is possible for a sizable majority of seats to be attained.

Subtracting the 129 Democrats elected — hardly any of them "modernists" — in the districts in the South and border states which usually go Democratic and where there are rarely any contesting candidates offered by the Republican Party, the score in the November election in the North, East and West this year was 154 Democrats to 141 Republicans.

This is a margin of 13. Not included in the 141 Republican total are the 11 Republicans elected in the border states and in the South, nearly every one of whom opposed "integration."

Actually, it seems plausible to estimate that far fewer than 1,600,000 votes swung the election. This is because in many districts in the northern cities usually Democratic, the total was simply increased beyond the normal figure.

Why, it may be asked, was it possible for such a small percentage of the total eligible vote to be so influential in the result? One answer is that the "contented" citizens for the most part didn't go to the polls, nor did all the protesting individuals inside the Republican Party.

Will 1960's presidential election be any different? Unfortunately, under the present system, the majority party in control of both houses of Congress will not be held responsible for what happens in the next two years.

The vote in 1960 will be "against" the present Republican regime in the White House unless there's a boom in employment and some of the emotional issues are cleared up.

It will not matter much who the candidates are in either party—how personable or glamorous the nominee on one side or how unspectacular and inadequate a personality on the other side. If the mood of the voters is negative again, the Democrats will have another victory, and it will not be close either.

The only chance of a close election may come if the South bolts the Democratic Party. This could throw the presidential election into the House of Representatives for decision. It might result from use of a "write-in" vote for presidential electors.

Dr. William Brady Says:

3 Vitamins, 3 Minerals Top 'Most Needed' List

A three-page essay asks me to consider the formulas of two multiple vitamin-mineral capsules, and if either or both should not meet the requirements, please indicate how much iron, calcium, etc. etc. etc.

DR. BRADY

In my judgment it is silly to take pills or capsules containing a dozen or more vitamins and a dozen or more minerals.

On examining the label from a package of one such multiple vitamin-mineral mixtures with a powerful lens, I find this statement: "The need for these substances in human nutrition has not been established."

If so, why are the substances included in the mixture? And just which substances might they be?

I suspect one large pharmaceutical house eyes the multiple vitamin-mineral pills or capsules put out by the other large pharmaceutical house and says: "By gravy, anything you can do we can do better" and tosses in a few ingredients that the competition has not yet thought of — stuff ordinarily used only for placebos.

If you think this is funny you don't know the business. The more numerous the ingredients named on the label, the more valuable the capsules or tablets in the estimation of the customer.

Lest I leave the correspondent entirely disappointed and maybe squawking about it, I sent him a copy of my FREE pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks — available to any one who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope — and told him that to the best of my knowledge the three vitamins (B1, B2, and D) and the three minerals (calcium, phosphorus, iodine) mentioned therein are all that most people need to supplement their everyday diet.

There is little evidence that any vitamin or combination of vitamins, or any mineral or combination of minerals, will give one "pep" or increase one's vigor or renew the characteristics of youth, unless the trouble or complaint is the manifestation of prolonged deficiency or lack of the vitamin or mineral in question, such as the conditions described in the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks.

Thus, no amount of vitamin A or vitamin B-12 or vitamin E or vitamin B-1 — even large "doses" given by injection ("shots")—will do any good if the individual's trouble or complaint is due to vitamin B-2 (riboflavin) deficiency or to calcium deficiency.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, of treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Three More Debate Right-to-Work Law

I'm another that thinks the right-to-work law should be voted again in all states where it isn't in effect. A working man should have the right to do his own thinking and not have it done for him by a union if that is the way he'd rather live. I'd never vote unions out but a man should decide for himself whether he wants to join or remain free.

Five-Year Member

I see we have a man that wants to see the right-to-work law passed in this state. Six states tried to get it through in this election and only Kansas made the grade. That law is named wrong. It should be called the right to break unions. That's what it will do.

Republicans used the right-to-work law to get elected, but it did not work. They got their fingers burned so badly they'll never try that again and everyone that blasted Reuther out in the open got beaten except for Goldwater and his state has few industries.

Yes, we have many people that don't believe in a union, but they always hold out their hand for everything the union gets for them.

Thomas Thrower

Sure a right-to-work law would be nice for some individuals who play poker with the boss and go home broke, and furnish the boss with hams and other refreshments at Christmas. These so-called victims would get more overtime, more promotions, and get to work during layoffs, when higher seniority employes were entitled to it.

That is, they would if they continued to be yes men to the boss. Just how democratic can you get, when 85 per cent of the people involved vote in favor of a closed shop contract. Smile, victim, smile.

2 Answer Letter Written by Jubilee

Jubilee wrote and said the cat on Friday's page one looked like the Republican party. Well, so O.K., and the rat looked like the Democrats. In fact, it was a very good likeness.

Observer

In answer to Jubilee, the Republican party has never been or never will be scared. They feel with regret and bowed heads that there are such a few people who appreciate Eisenhower's efforts to keep up out of war so we could have our sons and daughters alive and not dead on foreign soil or so badly wounded in hospitals they never come home again. Some people think while others just vote as they're told and suffer afterwards. The people should have given Eisenhower a Republican Congress and this would have told him we did appreciate what he's done for us. We hope those elected to office will think of these things and forget which party they represent because it took both sides to elect them.

Discusses Psychology of Music

Why did Mitch Miller's arrangement of "Little Sandy Sleighfoot" outrank Bing Crosby's "White Christmas" and "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer?" What makes a song "hit"? And why do some tunes make you cry while others stimulate patriotism or romance? Scrapbook this case and the follow-up tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 373: Ellen M., aged 27, is a music teacher in the Chicago public schools.

"Dr. Crane, what makes music popular?" she asked at a teachers' meeting which I recently addressed.

DR. CRANE

"For example, some new songs will become 'hits' almost over night and then disappear from memory in a few months.

"Others may carry on for generations. And it apparently isn't due to the intricate melody or arrangements so what do you think a composer should keep in mind if he wants to have a permanent song hit?"

MUSIC PSYCHOLOGY

For example, Bing Crosby's "White Christmas" is slanted toward adults who have nostalgia for their childhood.

That beautiful song thus carries them backward through the years to their youth. It is comparable in this respect to the song "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Both of the latter are slanted toward children. And they contain dramatic conflict. For Sandy Sleighfoot is a handicapped youngster with such excessively long feet that the other children ridicule him.

Rudolph, too, was also mocked and ostracized. So when Sandy and Rudolph both meet a crisis successfully, they zoom from the under dog role to that of the winning hero.

CALENDAR "HOOKS"

All three of these songs are also "hooked" upon a definite calendar event, such as Christmas, and that helps produce longer popularity for any song, since it brings it back at periodic intervals.

Sandy Sleighfoot, moreover, is superior to the other two in the fact that it retains the basic religious theme of Christmas, whereas the others are purely secular. They don't refer to Christ or Bethlehem or the true Christmas spirit.

Some songs also have a patriotic "hook" often combined with a geographical "hook."

Thus, "Deep in the Heart of Texas," "On the Banks of the Wabash," "Beautiful Ohio," "Dixie," and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" create nostalgia for one's birthplace, if he comes from any of those regions.

The French Marseillaise, and our "Battle Hymn of the Republic," plus "America, the Beautiful" are hooked to emotional situations like military parades, war and Memorial Day.

Music usually gains its primary emotional value depending on how we were feeling when we first heard it. If certain tunes are encountered at funerals, they may finally create a sad, tearful mood.

If they were first contacted at dances, parties and romantic periods of our youth, then they rearouse these same emotions, even when we are 60.

In similar fashion, carnations used to be employed so routinely at funerals that people finally refused to use them in party corsages. For the past 25 years, they were almost out of style except for funeral wreaths.

Music likewise can become "conditioned" to social customs. Some of the famous religious tunes were originally barroom ballads which were taken by church leaders and set to Christian lyrics. Now our present generations link them solely with the church.

See tomorrow's follow-up and consult my college textbook "Psychology Applied" at your local library, for it contains an entire chapter on the "Psychology of Music."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Susan Hayward Leaves Farm for Visit

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Mrs. F. Eaton Chalkey of Carrollton, Ga., (nee Susan Hayward of Hollywood) checked into a Manhattan hotel wearing a lower-mid-calf-length skirt. To say that it shocked the natives, who are wearing their skirts almost where grandma wore garters, would be exaggerating.

But it was interesting, to one and all.

It proved one of two things: Either that Susan has lived on a farm too long to know what's going on; or, more likely, that she's known what's going on too long to care.

"It will be two years next February," she said, "since I moved to a farm, and I'm happier than I've ever been. It's the husband, naturally—not the place. I'm kind of scared of cows, as a matter of fact. They have such big eyes, and you never can tell which side they might clobber you from."

She smiled beatifically, as a good actress should, when asked if she misses the big city life.

"Good heavens, no," she cried. "It's something I've always wanted. It's a perpetual vacation. But don't ask me to describe what I do. It's so dull. Not to me, you understand. What I mean is it sounds dull to everybody else.

"People seem to think that now I've moved to a farm, I have to be in the women's committee for the betterment of something. I'm not. I just live."

Miss Hayward, whose hair once was described as "titian" but must now more aptly be called yam-colored, is in town to publicize her first film in two years, a grisly and gripping real life drama called "I Want to Live." It's about Barbara Graham, a girl who died in the gas chamber. It is a proper type of role for Susan who has been nominated for Academy Awards for four "lost woman" roles.

"Yes," she concedes, grinning, "I am once again a woman with a pr-r-r-roblem. People seem to like me better that way. I did one comedy with Kirk Douglas and it was a bomb."

Since raw emotion is her forte, she is asked whether she is a "method" actress, of the Marlon Brando-etc. school.

"You mean do I imagine I'm a broomstock? No," she replied.

"No motion picture company is going to stand around and wait for you to get 'in the mood' to be dismal. If you get up in the morning feeling brilliantly beautiful and gay, you simply use the energy that made you feel good—you use that same energy to turn you into a despairing woman."

The Brooklyn-born actress said, in spite of her long hibernation, she is still under contract to 20th Century-Fox for six films. Doubtless, they will be tear jerkers. But she is in a position, apparently, to turn down scripts she doesn't like without being suspended by the studio.

"Maybe they like me, is how she explains this fortuitous circumstance.

"At any rate they've kept sending me scripts I didn't like. They sent me 'Peyton Place' and 'The Big Country' and I didn't care for them at all. They sent me that 'Three Faces of Eve' and I thought it wasn't much . . ."

Does that answer the question about why Susan Hayward wears long skirts?

Reds Pepper Quemoy Isles

Predawn Firing Sees 236 Communist Shells Lobbed This Morning

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Communists peppered the Quemoy Islands with light, harassing gunfire today.

The Red guns, silent throughout Sunday, were credited with firing 236 shells at Quemoy, Little Quemoy and the Tan Islets between midnight and 11 a.m. Most of the shooting came before dawn.

He said it was no longer necessary to keep up air patrols at their recent tempo and that some U.S. 7th Fleet units had been sent to nearby bases for maintenance.

In an effort to squelch rumors of peace talks circulating in Hong Kong and Manila, Vice President-Premier Chen Cheng in a statement reaffirmed the Nationalist government's refusal to negotiate with the Communist regime.

He quoted Red China leader Mao Tze-tung as once having said, "When the struggle reaches a certain stage, take the initiative to appeal to the opponent in the name of the internal solidarity and to conclude a peace agreement with him."

The situation, Chen Cheng declared, calls for the Nationalists to heighten their vigilance, reaffirm their determination not to negotiate with the Reds, build up the armed forces and "be prepared to deal the enemy a severe blow whatever his next move may be."

Ancient Ballistic Missile Rids AF of 2 Bobcats

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force used an unusual ballistic missile to get rid of two bobcats on a jet fuel tank at Edwards Air Force Base.

Airman James R. Moore, an amateur archer, was called in because rifle shots might have killed the bobcats — but could also have touched off the fuel tank.

Moore's first arrow, launched from 25 yards, killed one bobcat. The other was nicked by the second arrow and bounded off into the desert.

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Tornadoes and strong winds skipped through southern Illinois Sunday night but only minor damage and no injuries were reported.

Hardest hit were Centralia and nearby Sandoval. Police reported the storm zoomed through towns in minutes, blowing down trees, television aerials and ripping parts off roofs.

At Sandoval, winds turned over a house trailer, demolished a small three-room house and a garage.

Some homes were reported damaged in Elkville and some small farm buildings near Ava.

A tornado also struck 10 miles west of Maryville, Mo. No one was injured but farm buildings were damaged.

Nuclear Test Talks Locked

Must Be Broken Soon if Conferences Are to Accomplish Anything

GENEVA (AP) — Two international conferences related to disarmament—nuclear tests and prevention of surprise attacks — appeared at the make-or-break stage today.

To observers outside the conference rooms it seemed there was little hope of agreement. It was obvious the twin deadlocks must be broken soon if the talks are to accomplish anything.

Western sources said if there is any budging in the three-power talks on suspending nuclear tests, it will have to come from the Russians. The Russians are not noted for concessions.

The U.S. State Department Saturday charged that the Soviet Union was trying to sell Britain and the United States a "pig in a poke"—an agreement to ban nuclear tests for all time before there is any certainty Russia would accept an international control system to police the ban.

Western sources said the United States and Britain would stick to their demands for effective controls before agreeing to ban tests.

U.S. Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby disclosed in a radio-TV interview from Washington last night that the United States is making plans for future nuclear weapons tests in case the Geneva talks break down. He denied a Russian charge that the United States is stalling to gain time to prepare for another series of tests.

The United States and Britain have suspended their tests since Oct. 31, while the talks are on, and urged the Soviet Union to do likewise. But detection apparatus showed the Soviets set off two shots on Nov. 1 and Nov. 3.

The technical conference on prevention of surprise attack is just as tightly deadlocked.

Can't Blame Him for Giving Up Do-It-Yourself

LONDON (AP)—As from now, you can count Alf Smith out of the do-it-yourself brigade.

Alf, 32, a pipefitter, started to paper the kitchen of his suburban home Sunday. First he had to strip the walls.

Then the chimney toppled into the back yard.

The roof fell in.

The door dropped off.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as *Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Answers on Social Security

Retirement Average Is 67

By RAY HENRY
AP Press Writer

From N.R. of Newark, N.J.: "What is the average age at which people are now retiring?"

Labor Department and Social Security figures show that it's 67.

From Mrs. S.G.S. of Schnectady, N.Y.: "I'm 68 and have been getting Social Security for the last three years. Now I've been offered a part-time job which will not interfere with my present Social Security payments. I've been told Social Security tax will be deducted from what I earn. Do I have to pay this tax even though I'm already getting payments?"

Yes. All persons covered by Social Security on a job must pay the tax, no matter what their age or whether they're drawing payments.

From J.M. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "I've been collecting Social Security disability payments since October 1957. Now I understand it's also possible for me to get additional payments because I have a wife and two children to support. Is this right?"

Yes. This results from a change just made in Social Security. You should apply for this additional money immediately. You were eligible for it as of Sept. 1, and can claim payments back to that date.

From Miss L.G.C. of Rock Hill, S.C.: "I'm 61 and have been paying Social Security since 1937. If I should never become eligible for payments, could I name my niece as my beneficiary for the money?"

No. Monthly Social Security payments may only be paid to a surviving widow, widower, child or parent. It isn't possible to name a beneficiary. Your niece would be eligible for a lump sum death payment up to $255 after your death if she paid your funeral expenses.

From W.S. of College Park, Md.: "Several months ago you outlined certain rules which apply to the earnings a person may have if he's getting Social Security. Suppose a person goes beyond the limits and doesn't tell the Social Security office. How can the office find out?"

The Social Security Administration has ways of cross checking a person's earning statements with his income tax reports and the reports an employer must file with the government.

From W.E.M. of Pittsburgh, Pa.: "I've just completed 23 years with the railroad. If I should die of a heart attack before I retire, what kind of payments will my wife receive from Railroad Retirement?"

Your wife will be eligible for a lump sum payment providing you leave no survivors who are eligible for monthly Railroad Retirement payments in the month you die. She also may be eligible for monthly payments when she reaches 60 if she hasn't remarried or she is under 60, has not remarried and is caring for your children who qualify for monthly payments.

From Mrs. H.L. of Green Bay, Wis.: "I'm drawing Social Security as a widow. I need money very badly to pay medical expenses. Could I borrow on my Social Security to pay these expenses?"

"No, but you may be able to get some help from your state public welfare agency.

This man needs help...

If you are like this man, over the years you have probably purchased a variety of Life insurance policies for varying amounts, with different beneficiaries and varying methods of settlement.

At the time you bought each policy, its purpose was clear. However, looked at today, in the light of changing conditions, do these policies still do the job you intended them to do? The answer to that question calls for a study of your program.

The Metropolitan has a brochure available which will help you get your program under control and up to date, so that it will always be easy to review and understand.

Called "MY LIFE INSURANCE PROGRAM," it is a loose-leaf booklet, custom-made to your needs by the man especially trained to do the job—your Metropolitan Representative. Here is what it contains:

1. A calendar showing the premium due dates on all your policies.
2. Basic data on your policies and how their benefits are to be paid.
3. A detailed estimate of what you and your family can expect from Social Security and what retirement benefits you can expect from both your Social Security and your Life insurance.
4. A detailed description with charts showing exactly what your dependents will have from insurance and Social Security in the event of your death.

In other words, this brochure organizes all the necessary information about your Life insurance program in one readily available source.

It will tell you what your situation is now and where you will stand at any given time in the future.

Bagwell Backs L. B. Lindemer

GOP State Chairman Making Bid to Retain Place at Helm

DETROIT (AP)—Lawrence B. Lindemer has the backing of Paul D. Bagwell for re-election as Republican state party chairman.

"Credit for the surging Republican gains in outstate Michigan goes to Lindemer and boosters like him," said Bagwell. "Those people never let me down for a minute and I am standing with them now."

Although Bagwell failed to turn back Democratic Gov. Williams' bid for a sixth straight term, many Republicans have expressed satisfaction with the campaign he waged. He is regarded by many as the titular head of the GOP in Michigan.

Bagwell's statement followed the appearance of Ralph Willis in meetings with Wayne County Republican district chairmen last week.

Willis, a close friend of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, touched off fears among Bagwell backers that Summerfield is planning another bid for control of the Michigan GOP.

The party's state committee will meet in Lansing, Dec. 13 to set the date for the spring party convention which will pick the new party organization.

The top prize of the party the next two years is leadership of the delegation to the 1960 GOP National Convention.

There have been reports Summerfield wants to head the delegation.

'Drowned' Man Swims 8 Miles to West Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — They thought he was dead. But Don Cooper was watching from a buoy as Coast Guardmen gave up a search for him and returned to their base.

Cooper, 26, was one of four men aboard a small boat swamped by heavy seas off Los Angeles harbor Saturday. He gave his life jacket to a companion and swam for shore, eight miles away.

Tiring, he climbed on a buoy off the harbor and waited. Searchers picked up his three companions but didn't see Cooper.

So Cooper swam to shore Sunday, hours after being reported missing and presumed drowned.

Bob Hope Presented Award by AFL-CIO

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) Bob Hope was presented the 1958 Murray-Green award of the AFL-CIO Sunday night at a banquet in Beverly Hills.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the award was given to Hope for his contributions to "hundreds of worthy causes and benefits" and for entertaining U.S. servicemen.

Hope said the $5,000 presented with the award will be used to establish a scholarship.

Child Less Likely to Become Orphan Now

Pianist Ruth Slenczynska Starts U.S. Tour

Child Prodigy Returns After 25 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — You may remember Ruth Slenczynska from the headlines of another era.

She was the fat little girl who at eight made a spectacular American debut as a pianist, who was hailed by some critics as "another Mozart," and who went on to earn as much as $3,500 for a single appearance and more than a million dollars in her brief career.

She was the child whose father, a frustrated musician, claimed he "willed her to be a genius," and who, she claimed, ran her life with a tyrannical sternness and pocketed all the proceeds from her sell-out American and European tours.

She was the girl who knew 200 musical compositoins from memory, studied with Sergei Rachmaninoff and Artur Schnabel, and once filled in when a Paderewski concert was canceled.

That was Ruth Slenczynska, child prodigy, whose career ended with the start of World War II, in 1940, when she was 14.

'NOT A CURIOSITY'

Well, the prodigy is back—"as a musician, not a curiosity," she said, in an interview today. Tonight she appears at Town Hall, 25 years to the day after her American debut. Then begins a tour which will take her to 56 cities in 20 states.

Today, she is an attractive, dark-haired woman of 33. She's just under 5 feet in height, weighs 103 pounds — "five pounds less than when I last played at Town Hall," she laughed. "At eight, I weighed 108; at 14, I wore a size 16 dress; now I buy fives and sevens."

"I was fat because my father believed that fat was healthy."

"Now," she said, "I'm a firm believer in cottage cheese." She added that it was not so much diet but "abject poverty" which slimmed her down. "I had a choice of teaching music and eating," she said, "or practicing and not eating."

What of the years in between?

The pianist said that in 1940, she returned to her native Sacramento, Calif., determined to live a life without her father's dominance. She was accepted as a freshman at the University of California, but her father refused to pay her tuition.

She worked her way through school, as a psychology major, with jobs as junior librarian, gymnasium assistant, and pianist for a post-graduate music course.

In 1944, she eloped to Reno with a fellow student, and apparently this was the final break with her father. She said he ordered her out of the house and apparently never forgave her—when he died seven years later, his will left nothing to her.

She returned to work when her husband went into the Army—teaching piano at Mercy College of Music, Carmel, Calif. The marriage ended in 1951, and it was then she resumed her piano studies.

The pianist said there no longer is any bitterness toward her father—"I figure he would be proud of me," she said, "but if he were alive I would not have the courage to do what I'm doing."

Other parents can learn a lesson from her case history, she said. "If a child is gifted, in any direction — music or mathematics—don't push him. Just encourage him. And give a child music for the love of it . . . don't get off the road as my father did."

She's convinced that prodigies are born, not procured. "You can't make a thistle bear peaches," she laughed. "But peaches cultivated will produce better."

Notes Do Demand Answers

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I gave a tea at my house to introduce my new daughter-in-law to my friends. The invitations were informal, personal notes. Because to my mind a request for a reply is almost as insulting as asking people to behave correctly, I omitted any such request and later had reason to regret it.

"While a great many of the guests did reply, there were quite a few who did not. I heard later that those who sent no reply did not think it was necessary because I did not ask for one. Am I wrong in thinking that any invitation deserves the courtesy of a reply whether one is asked for or not? Just to clear up this point in my mind, will you be good enough to enlighten me?"

Answer: If your personal notes began, "Will you come . . ." they required answers just as surely as any invitation with R.s.v.p. Invitations on which your name is engraved to a reception, afternoon tea or a cocktail party, without an R.s.v.p. need not be answered.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I have recently had an argument on the correct use of Jr. He said that if the first name is the same as that of the father, the child is Jr. I have always thought that the full name had to be the same before he was Jr. Does the difference in the middle name have any bearing on the situation?"

Answer: Yes it does. Junior means an exact replica of senior, and the suffix is the only way by which one can be distinguished from the other.

Beginning of the End of 'Teenage Rebel' Era?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The egghead has reached the teenagers' mecca—popularity.

Not so long ago, a high-schooler who was smart and studious suffered a fate worse than death. He, or she, was labeled a "brain." But the era of the intellectual has changed all that.

"Eggheads are popular now. A good student is a Good Joe," said three teenaged girls, winners of the eighth annual Christmas doll contests, sponsored by a national magazine.

"It's harder to get into college, and everybody wants an education. So you have to work harder. It's not intelligent NOT to study," said Gay Scott of Los Angeles, a bandbox-neat and fashionable 19-year-old who is majoring in journalism at Northwestern University.

ALL IN NEW YORK

She and the other winners, Candy Anderson, 15, of Salt Lake City, who received the grand prize, and Marlene Kerin, 19, of Ripon, Calif., spent a week in Manhattan with their mothers.

Candy will go to Europe to help distribute some of the 45,000 dolls to underprivileged youngsters. Children in the Middle East and Korea also will receive dolls.

An hour's talk with the winners restores one's faith in the younger generation. The girls reported that teenagers are more active than ever in wholesome projects, and love doing things for other persons.

"We haven't got time to be delinquent," said pretty Marlene, who hasn't let polio and a wheelchair curtail her activities. A junior college student, she also sings in the church choir, is on the student council, in the art club, and does professional commercial art.

Church is a top activity for both high school and college students, the girls said.

'ANTI' IS OUT

"It used to be smart not to go to church or to believe in anything. Now, it's not smart to be 'anti,'" said Gay.

Going steady has declined in fashion among the "older set."

"But some of my friends' little 12-year-old sisters go steady, and boys take them out in cars. I think it's shocking," Gay said.

The custom to trade dances also is returning—to the mothers' delight.

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: You asked teenagers to write in and tell you why they don't bring their friends home. I don't bring my friends home because my parents forbid me to have company in the house unless one of them is home."

ANOTHER TEENAGER

"DEAR ABBY: I quit bringing kids over because there is so much stuff in our house that can get broke nobody can even turn around. A friend of mine once accidentally turned over an end table and broke a lamp and I never heard the last of it. The gang would rather go to somebody's house where nobody will chew us out in case something gets wrecked."

KINDA FRISKY

"DEAR ABBY: If you never knew when you were going to walk into your house and find your mother and father roaring drunk, would you be dumb enough to bring somebody home with you?"

KNOWS BETTER

"DEAR ABBY: I am not quite 13 but if you want to know why I don't have kids to my house it is because we don't have anything to entertain them with. My parents don't believe in Rock 'n' Roll so I can't have any records except classicals. I can't turn on the TV unless they know what I am going to look at.

"They examine all the magazines my friends carry and if there are any comics that have bad language or indecent pictures, they make them leave them outside. Now what kid is going to be so foolish as to want to come to MY house?"

IN PRISON

"DEAR ABBY: I don't bring my friends home because I have a little sister who is always following me around and listening to what we say and, then she blabs everything. My mother doesn't even lift a finger to keep her out of our way, so I go to my girl friend's house right after school and stay there until dinner time."

LITTLE SISTER TROUBLE

"DEAR ABBY: I will tell you why I don't invite my friends to come to my house. It's because my father works the night shift and sleeps days and if anyone makes a sound my mother is always shushing us."

TIRED OF BEING SHUSHED

"DEAR ABBY: If you could hear the language my father uses you would not wonder why I don't bring my friends home."

A BOY

"DEAR ABBY: I don't like to bring any kids over to my house because we live in a dump."

A "J. D."

"DEAR ABBY: I don't bring my friends home because there is never anything to eat in this house. I have a couple of friends whose mothers make real good things like cookies and cakes and pies so we naturally like to go over there."

HUNGRY

DEAR ABBY: I used to bring my friends home but now nobody wants to come over because of the way my mother acts towards them. She is always asking them personal questions like, 'What does your father do?' and 'Which church do you go to?' She looks them up and down and gives them the feeling they are up for inspection. A couple of my real good girl friends told me this, so I am not imagining things."

Child Can Enjoy Skill, Yet Not Be a Genius

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She's Viennese—the widow of a distinguished portrait painter. Last summer, closing the studio where she designs commercial displays, she directed arts and crafts at a children's camp.

She recently dined at our house with some other people. One, a young mother, was describing her 6-year-old's pleasure in improvising on the piano. With half-embarrassed, half-defiant earnestness, she said, "I guess we've got a second Van Cliburn on our hands."

One Viennese friend stopped eating. "So your son is a genius, is he?" she asked. "He's discovered that he can make pleasing sounds on your piano—and now he's en route to Carnegie Hall."

Then turning to face the young mother, she asked, "Do you know, Madame, what it takes to become a concert artist? Or a painter who sells his paintings? Or an actor who can find a theater?

"To become a concert artist you teach music for years until you've saved the money to hire your hall, pay for your posters, your publicity. Then you must fill your hall.

"Many, many do not. So the empty seats break many hearts. They say to you 'You are skillful, my friend—but you are not Horowitz.' And this, you see, you have dreamed you were."

There was quite a pause. Our Viennese friend broke it by addressing me. "I cannot apologize for so speaking at your table. I am angry at parents who must make geniuses out of children. I have met too many this summer.

"On my desk right now is a letter from a woman whose child made a nice ceramic ashtray for me. She wants to know if Rome is the place for him to study professional sculpture.

"My little student must not just have fun with clay. He must be Epstein. I do not understand. So I am angry for him."

I don't understand either.

Just as every little boy will not become president of the United States, every artistically skilled child will not become a Picasso, a Van Cliburn or a Judith Anderson. In a lifetime, only 16 little boys will become president. The rest of them will have to put up with other jobs.

Like our Viennese friend, I think it sad that many parents' own frustrated dreams of glory so often deprive children of joy in their skills.

All Saints Guild 6 Hears Jessie Brewer

Hostesses were Novello Davies and Ida Atkins.

Basic and suitable for most every occasion is this fur and wool blend dress with an elevator belt that can be worn under the bust for the Empire look at the natural waistline or hipline. The dress comes in pink, gold, blue and black and may be purchased locally.

Most of German composer Richard Strauss' music has a story he wrote to accompany the songs.

She Scales Fashions to Full Figure

Designer Advises Women to Avoid Too-Small Clothes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One of the troubles with the American woman is that she never wants to admit her true size, says an astute California designer, Edith Martin.

"The result is that she bulges above and below the belt, strains the seams and generally manages to look much bigger than if she wore a dress big enough to fit her."

In recognition of this universal problem, Miss Martin has been designing for some time a collection of "half-size" dresses, planned specifically for the woman who prefers her chocolate sodas to a streamlined figure. Her showing was among the final ones of a crowded week of resort and spring previews staged for the nation's fashion press.

Her designs included most of the current trends in junior and misses' sizes, scaled on a slightly more ample scale, with adroit placement of seams, belts and drapery to conceal waistline and hipline bulges.

Others in today's lineup of designers included: Addie Masters, showing a wearable feminine group of clothes for holiday, resort and spring wear; Pat Premo, who put the accent on individuality—or every woman for herself; Jeannette Alexander, with a budget-priced collection of ladylike clothes; Elaine Terry and Marjorie Montgomery, both versed in the California theory of dress—simplicity, color and no distortion of the feminine figure.

Church Unit Meets

September - October Group of First Presbyterian Church met Thursday at the church. Fourteen members and one guest were present. Mrs. R. H. Fraser read the study of Luke's parable.

It may be inconsistent, but the next war will probably be fought over disarmament.

Clean Skin for Teen Make-Up

An occasional touch of pale lipstick and other cosmetics can brighten a very young teenager's life and do her complexion no great harm—that is, if she is taught how to wash her face properly and often.

This includes learning how to work soap and water into a thick lather between the palms of her hands, and how to massage it into the skin—cleansing neck and ears along with her face. She should learn to rinse her skin thoroughly with warm water, then to repeat the sudsing and warm rinse, followed by a dash of cool or cold water. Last comes thorough drying with a turkish towel to prevent chapping.

If she sticks to this formula every day in the year, she'll be a prettier girl and will have a minimum of worries about teenage skin eruptions. What's more, she'll begin the sort of suds - and - water complexion care that will keep her skin at its glowing best from sixteen to sixty.

Decorate Walls in Vinyl Fabric

To give a sumptuous treatment to the walls of any room in the house, decorate them with vinyl-impregnated fabrics.

Despite their magnificence, these new wall coverings require only a wipe with a sudsy cloth to remove dust or stains.

PERSONALIZED STYLING
by Rowena Wilson

As long as the lifted look of the coiffure has been launched, why not give the spirits a lift with it? At one time the remedy for curing the blues was a new hat, but a new coif with a brand new styling will do the trick. You hear so much of the Empire influence. Every woman cannot adopt it successfully in its broadest interpretation. However, you can have a personalized version of the high fashion style.

To give your new hair styling the necessary foundation, we suggest a good permanent. It takes a good wave to do the trick. Mothers Need It

One Day Off Charges Her Battery

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In discussing modern woman, Actor Kenneth More said, "She is supposed to be a cross between a saint and a drayborse, a diplomat and an automatic washing machine, a psychiatrist and a bulldozer, a sanitary engineer and a mannequin."

I am sure that you women know what he meant! It is true that it is often expected that a woman be charming and tolerant while putting in a 15 hour day; that she smooth the waters around and about the home; that she teach her children some discipline without breaking their spirits; that she take care of the health of the family, get things done, and at the same time, look beautiful.

That is quite an order and the amazing thing is that thousands of women accomplish just that! It is true that we do have many aids which our feminine forebears did not have. We have frozen foods for instance. We also have machines and gadgets of all sorts. However, most of us would settle for a good helper.

Machines do not plan meals, get up the laundry, bandage a skinned toe, answer the telephone, hang up clothes, mend socks, change the sheets on beds, defrost the icebox, nor do they accomplish myriad other tasks.

I have not even mentioned the more important tasks and privileges such as reading the bedtime story, acting as hostess for friends of children and husband, writing thank you notes, giving encouragement and solace when it is needed by a member of the family, participating in important civic affairs.

I have been leading up to this: Mother needs a day off regularly. Do you find yourself tired and irritable a lot of the time? Have you had an overdose of children and household responsibilities?

A lot is expected of Mother. And through it all, she is expected to maintain her beauty.

No matter how devoted you are to your children and the career of creating a happy and comfortable home, you deserve a change of pace, some time to be yourself and to invest in some completely personal interests. Your husband and children, as well as you, will profit by the new and refreshed viewpoint which a little time away from home and responsibilities would give you.

Many of the YWCAs have wonderful programs called "A Day Out For Mother" or something similar. In most cases there is a nursery so that you can bring your children and leave them there while you indulge in activities which interest you; such as handcrafts, ing lessons, swimming, exercise sewing lessons, swimming, exercise classes, art lessons or any number of others.

You have the companionship at lunch of many other young mothers like yourself and later in the afternoon you gather up your young fry and go home. The children have lunch in the nursery.

If you feel the need of something like this, and what young homemaker doesn't, get in touch with your local YWCA. If they do not have such a program they probably will be glad to cooperate with a group of mothers in starting one.

If your community does not have a YWCA and you wish to have suggestions concerning organizing such a group, you can write to the National Board of the YWCA. Their address is 600 Lexington Ave., New York City 22, New York.

Wives Need Audience Same as Husbands

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men: Could your wife have written this letter?

"Please tell me what to do about a husband who comes home every night with the same line — what a busy day he's had and how tired he is.

"I always listen sympathetically. But when I start to tell him about my day or what I've done he walks over and starts to read the mail or switches on the TV set, without even pretending to listen to what I have to say.

"It's true, my days aren't too exciting; but I do sometimes have news I think he ought to be interested in. And, anyway, I feel he ought to listen when I talk just out of common courtesy.

"If we are driving in the car and I start to tell him something that I think is worth talking about, he interrupts to talk about the mileage, or turns the car radio up full blast.

"This may sound like a small complaint. But it really hurts to be made to feel so stupid and unimportant.

"Don't tell me to try not talking for an evening. If I do that he accuses me of being mad. What's the matter with my husband, anyhow?"

It sounds as though you are married to a man who thinks nothing a woman has to say is important enough to bother listening to.

GET ATTENTION

You may not be able to change his attitude. But here is one thing you might try. Next time you have something to tell him that you consider important preface it with:

"Now sit down and listen to me for five minutes. I have something to tell you and I don't want to compete with the evening paper, the mail, or TV.

"For just a few minutes I'd like to have your whole attention."

Maybe you'll get it that way. And maybe you'll wake him up to the fact that you are tired of being a woman without an audience.

Good luck to you. It may help if your husband just happens to read this column. It might even help some other husbands who have fallen into the same rude habit of never listening to anything their wives say.

Hatchet Wielding Mate Slays Oakland Mother at Bus Stop

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—A 38-year-old Royal Oak Township mother of nine children was savagely bludgeoned to death by her husband as she waited for a bus yesterday afternoon at a north-end Detroit bus stop.

The victim, Mrs. Louise Register of 10517 Fanwood St., died from a rain of blows from a hatchet, wielded by her husband, Cliff, 40, an unemployed factory worker.

Register told Detroit Police detectives he killed her because "she was running out all the time" instead of taking care of their children.

Mrs. Register was beaten with the blunt side of the hatchet as she clung to a bus stop at Conant and Nevada.

Among the witnesses was a Marine master sergeant and judo expert, 41-year-old Antonio Iacovacci, who was cut on his thumb as he vainly tried to subdue Register.

A woman who was called to her apartment window by one of her children managed to distract Register by shouting, "You stop that or I'll shoot." Officers in a passing patrol car then disarmed the hatchet wielder.

Register told detectives his wife had been "running out" for the past two or three years despite his protests that she stay at home with the children.

When she left to visit her sister yesterday, Register went along with her. At the bus stop he again tried to persuade her to give up her plans and when she refused, he whipped out the hatchet and beat her.

Pontiac Police Hunt Frightened, Lootless Thief

A bandit who received two fists in the face from a 73-year-old Pontiac man instead of cash loot is being sought today by Pontiac police.

His intended victim, Dan Holeman, 100 Jackson St., told police that he was stopped and grabbed by the robber Friday evening on Jackson street while trying to obtain change for the F & W Market, 62 Jackson St. where he is employed.

Breaking the robber's grip, Holeman ripped both fists into the thief's face and knocked him down.

As he reached into his pocket for a flashlight, the bandit fled down the street yelling "Don't shoot me," Holeman told police.

Early Saturday morning the bandit entered the market, but fled when Holeman recognized him.

15 Vie for 6 School Board Posts

Little Rock to Vote Dec. 6

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—In three weeks Little Rock voters will have another opportunity to express sentiment on school integration. They will choose among 15 candidates seeking school board membership, a somewhat dubious honor here.

In recent balloting, Little Rock voters have preferred segregation and closed public schools, to integration and open schools, and a staunch segregationist as congressman, to a veteran lawmaker with moderate racial views.

There is no indication that any candidate for the six non-salaried school board jobs will run on an integration platform. The issues probably will be segregation at any cost versus maintenance of public schools even at the cost of integration.

Last week, a dramatic mass resignation opened all six school board positions to the regular Dec. 6 school election. Five members walked out. The sixth, Dr. Dale Alford, will leave to enter Congress as a general election write-in victor over Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark).

In pulling free of the federal-state vise in which the school board has been caught since September 1957, the resigning members noted that their successors still would be faced with federal court rulings commanding integration.

The new board also will have to try to reconcile the federal courts' uncompromising attitude and Gov. Orval E. Faubus' unyielding anti-integration stand, which led to the closing of Little Rock's four public high schools.

U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith, Ark., said Sunday he would "proceed in an orderly fashion" in carrying out the latest directive of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The court last Monday forbid the leasing of the empty high school buildings for use as private, segregated schools and directed the district judge and the Little Rock School Board to take positive steps toward integration.

The appellate court did not say what steps should be taken or how they should be carried out.

The incoming school board will be selected from such diverse candidates as an insurance man who once called Gov. Faubus a "skunk," and a housewife who recently took a Negro woman to a white church to embarrass a minister.

Until the final hours before the filing deadline Saturday midnight, it had appeared that the only candidate might be James T. Karam, a clothier and close personal friend of Gov. Faubus.

But Karam withdrew, saying that he had been advised to do so by a "close personal friend . . . who has an uncanny ability of placing his many friends in places where they are best needed. . . ."

Well-Known Writer, Samuel Adams Dies

BEAUFORT, S.C. (AP) — One of America's great social reform writers, Samuel Hopkins Adams, author of such best sellers as "Flaming Youth" and "Revelry," died Sunday at the age of 87 after an illness.

He was one of the "muckrakers," famous in American literature for their turn-of-the-century crusades for reforms in business and industry.

He wrote a series of health articles in Collier's magazine given much credit for bringing on federal pure food and drug laws.

At least 17 of his books, including "Flaming Youth," were made into movies. That one, and some others, he wrote under the psuedonym of Werner Fabian.

A native of Dunkirk, N.Y., born Jan. 26, 1871, he was educated at Hamilton College. He deserted the substantial upper middle class life of his family to live in New York City's rough Tenderloin district. There he got much material for his writings.

Braden was ticketed for improper passing.

Red Germany Fuchs' Goal After Release From Prison

(Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the atomic spy, will be released from prison in Britain next year. In the following interview, the scientist who gave Russia atomic secrets tells of his beliefs now and his plans for a future behind the Iron Curtain.)

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the atomic scientist who gave Russia the key to the atomic bomb, said in a prison cell interview released Friday that he will go to Communist East Germany as a "convinced Marxist" on his release sometime next year.

The scientist-turned-spy refused to say whether he would commit espionage for the Soviets if he had it to do all over again.

"This is a terribly difficult question," he said at Wakefield Prison. "No, I don't hold exactly the same views now."

He did not elaborate. But from the tenor of his words it appeared that Fuchs has mellowed somewhat in his ardent devotion to the Communist cause.

At 48, Fuchs appeared in good health. His brown hair has grayed and receded since the arrest and trial that shocked the western world in 1950. He wore steel-framed glasses, a navy-blue prison uniform with matching tie and a white shirt.

He was sentenced to 14 years imprisonment for espionage, but probably will be released within the next year.

Despite prison bars, he was well abreast of current affairs. He said he was anxious to read "Dr. Zhivago," the anti-Communist novel by Russian author Boris Pasternak.

"I have read all about the stir it has created and am very interested in this and I want to read it to make up my own mind about it," he said.

Asked whether he still was a convinced Communist, he replied:

"I am still a convinced Marxist. But I can't now accept everything they do and say."

The Hungarian revolution of 1956 seemed to have affected him deeply.

"For the Russians to do what they did was power politics, it is a necessity of them," he said.

"But I cannot accept the glossing over . . . that what they (the Hungarian Freedom Fighters) did was a counter-revolution. It was put down, wasn't it, with the bayonets of the Red army."

Q. "Where would you like to go when you are free?"

A. "I shall go to Germany, to East Germany to my father." (His father is Emil Fuchs, 84, a theologian who lives in Leipzig.)

Q. "What would you like to do in East Germany?"

A. "That I have not decided yet, either. I really don't know."

Fuchs said he had no bitterness about his trial and sentence. "It had to be done. It was bound to happen," he said.

He said he knew he could stay in Britain. But he realized that others had suffered because of him.

His one concern, he said was "about anyone stirring people up against me, about people who run persecution campaigns against me."

Fuchs said flatly he "could never get a worthwhile job here."

Q. "And in East Germany?"

A. "Oh, yes, there I could.

Q. "Apart from the job, would you stay here?"

A. "Apart from that . . . well, a worthwhile job is life, isn't it? And then there is another reason why I could not stay in Britain. I am a rebel. I always want to rebel, to speak out against anything I think is not right."

The victim, the mother of four children, also suffered from epilepsy, her husband said.

Hagerty Admits News 'Leaks'

Prefers Using Term 'Background Stories' to Label His Releases

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Hagerty, White House press secretary, says he sometimes "leaks" news to the press but prefers to call it something else.

In a filmed television program Sunday, Hagerty said he used the term "background stories" for the information he sometimes gave segments of the press.

He had been asked by British Journalist Malcolm Muggeridge: "Can you say with your hand on your heart that you never deliberately arranged a leak?"

"Of course I can't, and I wouldn't," Hagerty replied.

"Now, it's your definition of what you call a leak, and I think we might be arguing over the words here," Hagerty said.

Then Hagerty said leaks by certain members of the government, whom he did not name, had added "some more gray hairs to my head." Other disclosures of information, he said, actually were background stories.

"In other words, when you leak, it's a brackground story," Muggeridge said, "and when someone else does it, it's a leak."

On the intercontinental program, Hagerty spoke from Washington while Muggeridge spoke from London. Also on the program was Jacques Soustelle, French minister of information, who spoke from Paris.

To Devote Last 2 Years to Budget

Ike Renews Cost Battle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has had good intentions about holding down government spending. Despite this, spending has risen.

Now he will try again.

At his Nov. 5 news conference, Eisenhower said that during his final two years in the White House he intends to fight against any excessive spending, which he called dangerous to the nation.

Ever since last summer — as happens every year—agency and department heads have been working on the budget: the Prsident's estimate of what it will cost to run the government in the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1959. He will submit this budget to Congress in January.

While Eisenhower has steadily preached economy, expenses have been steadily getting bigger. Biggest spender of all is the Defense Department, thanks especially to inflation and new weapons.

Of the almost 80 billion dollars which the government is expected to spend this year, more than half will be for national defense.

In one economy move, the Pentagon expects to trim 30,000 men from the Army and 25,000 from the Marines.

In World War II the government was never able to pay its expenses from the revenue it collected, mainly from personal income and corporation taxes.

So the government had to borrow money. It may never be able to pay that debt in full, but it will have to pay interest on it, with the interest coming from revenue.

The goal of each administration is to meet each year's expenses out of current revenue and have a surplus left over to pay on the debt. When expenses total more than revenue there is a deficit.

Law Off the Record(s)

Soap Makes Blackjack

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Cleanliness may take a backseat to safety in the El Paso jail, at least for a time. A prisoner slugged a guard with a blackjack made from a bar of soap and a sock, and eight men took over one floor of the jail briefly before being subdued.

There are about 319,000 blind Americans. About 75 lose their sight each day.

More Seats for Church

SAN MATEO, Cal. — A church in San Mateo hit on an unusual way to increase its seating capacity from 222 people to 392. The original building was cut in half. After the front half was moved two feet forward, two sections were inserted in the middle, thus lengthening the building.

A REPORT TO DETROIT EDISON OWNERS, CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC

Today Detroit Edison is host once again to its stockholders at the Annual Informational Meeting held at the Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium in Detroit. The company's management reports to its owners what progress has been made, what plans it has, and how it is continuing to help everyone in Southeastern Michigan to live better electrically. Here is part of the story:

Walker L. Cisler, President
The Detroit Edison Company

"The continued prosperity of our communities, our State and our Nation depends upon productivity of all kinds resulting from the investment of money, the judicious use of natural resources and the application of the intelligence and skills of people. These have brought to our Nation the greatest industrial capacity and the highest standard of living in the world. We in Detroit Edison will always endeavor to do our part to bring an even brighter future to Southeastern Michigan."

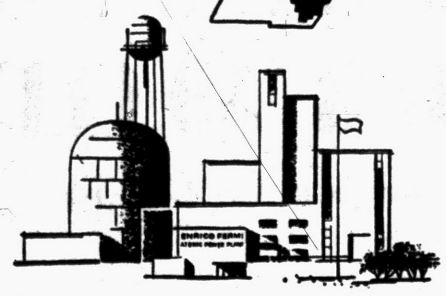

Detroit Edison builds for the future—To meet the demands for more and more electricity, Edison is continually expanding and improving its facilities. On October 20 the third steam turbine-generator at the River Rouge Power Plant went into operation. This new 321,500-kilowatt unit brings the capacity of Edison's electrical system to nearly 3½ million kilowatts. Further, two new 325,000-kw. turbine-generators are being added to the St. Clair Power Plant—one in 1959 and the other in 1961. Both are forward-looking projects to permit Edison to supply power in any amount, large or small, to any of its one and a quarter million customers anywhere in its service area.

GOLD MEDALLION HOME — LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

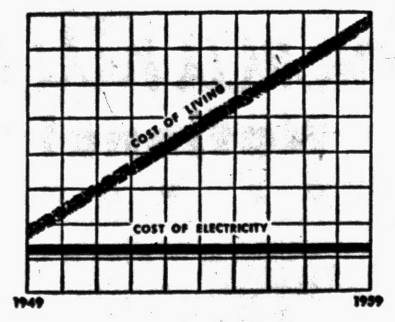

Modern living is electric living—Those things which make yesterday's dream home today's reality are electric. New comforts, conveniences, work savers are built right in when homes go up. For instance, the Gold Medallion homes—the ultimate in electric living—include electric space heating, the most significant advance in home comfort. Every day in many new ways electricity is proving more and more versatile in the home, in agriculture, in business and industry.

Area development—Detroit Edison will continue to promote broader recognition of our State's exceptional industrial advantages. By working closely with communities in its territory and through a national advertising program, new industry is being attracted to Southeastern Michigan. This means new jobs and increased commerce of all kinds.

Atoms for peace—Detroit Edison is a member of the Power Reactor Development Company which is building the reactor portion of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant. The 91-ton reactor vessel, heart of the project, was set into place during April and assembly of related equipment is progressing as planned. Each day the target date for nuclear operation, late in 1960, comes closer—the date when private industry will have made another big contribution to the nation's atomic leadership.

Electric dollars work hard—We will continue to plan for the future to provide even better service at the lowest possible cost. The rates for our service have not changed since January, 1949, except for metal melting and steam service. With continued increases in the cost of equipment, supplies and fuel, in payrolls, and in all other expenses, there may be limitations on our ability to offset rising costs with internal economies indefinitely. We will, however, endeavor to make every dollar work hard for the Company's owners, customers and employes.

Customer-Owners

Of the nearly 100,000 stockholders, 70% live in Michigan and 60% are customers of Edison service. Service is a big word at Edison; for in addition to adequate electric power, it means a complete electric service. Appliance repair, light bulb exchange, advice on industrial and commercial lighting, a new fast recovery hot water supply, tips for homemakers—these are only a few of the special services offered to Edison customers.

Dems Divided on Civil Rights

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic state chairmen are nearly equally divided on whether the party should adopt a strong civil rights plank in 1960 or compromise with the South.

This division of sentiment was apparent in replies received from Democratic leaders in 43 states to an Associated Press inquiry.

The survey disclosed some strong support outside the South for dealing with civil rights on a basis which would not drive Dixie members out of the party in a presidential year.

On the other hand, chairmen of 18 states representing 596 of the 1,372 votes cast in the 1956 national convention took a no-compromise stand. They declared for a strong plank even if it means a Southern walkout.

These 18 states included: New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island in the East; Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri in the Midwest; Colorado, Washington, Oregon and California in the West.

Eleven Southern chairmen were solidly against the party taking any stronger position than it did two years ago, particularly on school integration.

Chairmen of 11 other states, mostly in the Midwest, said the views of Southern delegates should be taken into consideration.

Arizona Chairman Joseph Walton, Maryland's T. Barton Harrington and Nevada's Fred Strosnider declined comment. Strosnider said National Chairman Paul M. Butler had instructed party officials not to answer such questions.

Butler expects to find himself involved with the issue at a national committee meeting here Dec. 6. He has said his remaining as chairman may depend on reaction to his demand for a stronger civil rights plank than that of 1956.

Two years ago, the Democrats committed themselves to "continued efforts to eliminate illegal discrimination of any kind," including that in public education.

'Couple of the Year' Works Dairy Farm

Robert J. Gluck, 31, and his wife, Delores, who operate a 760-acre dairy farm in Plainfield Township near New London, Conn., were named last night in award ceremonies as part of the Grange's 92nd annual convention.

They are parents of four children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gluck were selected from among candidates submitted by about 7,000 subordinate Granges in 37 member states.

Gluck is in his third year as master of his local grange. The award was based not only on the Glucks' modern dairy farm, which the owners describe as "almost completely mechanized," but also on work in community and agricultural organizations.

'Jinx' Labrador Retriever Champ

He won the title yesterday, i the finals of the four-day trials.

The dog, nicknamed "Jinx," got off to a mediocre start, seeimngly bothered by warm, dry weather and dusty fields at the first trial.

We Talked With Russians Near North Pole

NEW YORK — If you've been watching network TV or listening to the radio interviews lately you've probably seen or heard a remarkable Jesuit named Thomas E. Cunningham, pastor of the Catholic Mission Church at Point Barrow, Alaska.

Father Cunningham is a major in the Air Force Reserve and was wearing that uniform, rather than the one of Ignatius Loyola or Francis Xavier, when he was kind enough to drop by. Not long before, he and 20 of his buddies had been lifted off Drift Station Alpha, which had cracked into a number of pieces not far from the North Pole.

Cunningham volunteered for Alaskan work in 1935, after study in his native New Zealand and a lot of other places that lead up to the University of Louvain in Belgium.

He is a trim, bone-weary, nonchalant man of 52 who speaks with a clipped understatement that tends to leave one filled with both envy and unfulfillment. He will be reading this in the Seattle Post Intelligencer, Point Barrow's favorite imported newspaper, and I hope it does not embarrass him unduly.

This man chose Alpha after low-level sweeps over the Arctic, landed with the first party, stayed on the ice an astonishing 336 days and nights — as scientist, chaplain, friend and movie operator of the Air Force-civilian team put there to further the work of the International Geophysical Year.

The big ice cube, seven feet thick and originally 12,000 by 11,000 feet in length and breadth, moved about 3,000 miles during the time brave men rode it more or less bareback.

Temperatures dropped to 56 below zero, never got higher than 38 above in mid-summer. It was a constant battle, and no man could have been more prepared for whatever came, from the looks of him, than Father Cunningham.

"I chose it because it was drifting northwest at the time," he recalled, "and there was thin ice around it. That meant it could get through. There were also nearby floes on which we could escape, in case.

"The Russians liked a floe about 40 miles away. We'd talk sometimes on our ham stations. They'd talk of the two dogs they had with them, on the ice.

"We knew a year in advance just what we'd do if the ice broke. The useful life of one of these floes is eight months, but this one persevered quite nobly.

"We were adequately supplied all the time by air drop. We had the best food in the Air Force. Our only food problem was the reverse of one here in New York, let's say. We had to get our drops to warm storage as fast as possible, to keep such perishables as eggs, tomatoes and fresh fruits from freezing.

"When the end came, it was my duty to destroy the movies which had been dropped to us. There is something in the regulations, something about 'patented by,' or some such, that requires such destruction.

"It was with great joy that I first burned an epic named 'Be-bop Girl Goes Calypso.' There followed 'Calypso Joe.' But I was sorry to see Judy Holliday's 'Full of Life' go, and I mourned as I touched match to 'Gun Fight at the O.K. Corral.' A good movie.

"I still think I knocked twenty years off my time in Purgatory by serving as the standing operator of the machine that showed 'Be-bop Girl Goes Calypso.'"

The priest is, of course, an expert on his parishioners — the Eskimos. "I don't think they came from Mongolia," he said. "There are no Mongolian legends, myths, songs, tools among them. They feel they originated somewhere in your Great Lakes region and were forced to flee here by your early Indians.

"There is no such word as 'Eskimo' in their language — which has certain Latin and Greek aspects. 'Eskimo' is a word found in the language of New England's Abnaki tribe. It means 'People who eat their food uncooked.'

"The most difficult facet of an Eskimo's character, so far as the missionary is concerned, it not his polygamous attitude toward sex but his fear of God. Overcoming his fear of God is hard.

"Also, he is not necessarily always childlike and happy, as pictured. And despite the temperatures and dampness which surround him, he has no word in his language meaning 'the common cold,' for the simple reason that he never had a cold until we brought one to him from the warm zones."

Slump Hits Moonshine

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The business recession seems to have hit the illegal whisky industry. The state control board notes that only 910 stills were destroyed in the last fiscal year compared with 958 the year before and the production units were smaller. Liquor seized also dropped 27 per cent in volume.

Making his first deer-hunting trip Roger Cole, 16-year-old Pontiac Northern High pupil bagged a 110-pound spike buck, Saturday morning near Alpena. Roger was hunting with his older brothers, Donald and Larry. He was the only successful hunter in the party, which returned home Sunday. The party reported comparatively few deer taken in the Alpena area, opening day of the state season.

Nineteen Michigan prep football coaches were honored for 25 years of service at halftime ceremonies of the Indiana-Michigan game Saturday.

Rote, Gedman Praised; Laurels Go to Gibbons

Praises were heaped all over the place by coach George Wilson and the assistant coaches of the Detroit Lions yesterday. "Tobin Rote and Gene Gedman were tremendous," said Wilson. "The defensive line looked like itself again," said Buster Ramsey.

But it was rookie end Jim Gibbons who was heaped with many of the laurels.

Gibbons started his second straight game for Detroit, last week against Cleveland and in yesterday's win over the 49ers, and he distinguished himself like a veteran in both instances.

"We got a steal when we got Gibbons from the Browns," said assistant Aldo Forte, "and for only a 5th draft choice."

The Lions got Gibbons when Steve Junker and Jerry Reichow were put on the disabled list before the regular season started because of knee operations.

Lions' coaches feel they stung coach Paul Brown in the deal. It was Brown who decided to trade off Gibbons.

"The right end position is a tough spot, because that's the end that does most of our blocking and he still has to be fast enough to get downfield," said coach Bob Dove, "and for a rookie, Gibbons is filling the spot very well."

The Lions do not expect to get the blocking from Dave Middleton or Hopalong Cassady and when they are on the flanker posts, Jim Doran takes over the task of blocking.

"We should be in good shape next year at end with Gibbons, Reichow and Junker," said Forte, "this definitely hurt us early in the season."

Yesterday, Gibbons made some beautiful catches and threw a couple blocks for Tobin Rote as Rote ran the option numerously.

The former Iowa end who stands 6-3 at 215 pounds, grabbed four passes for 86 yards including a 35 yard touchdown play, of which he went the last 25 yards like a bull-dozing fullback.

BLEAK DAY—It was a bleak day Saturday for Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan. The day before he resigned and Saturday Indiana added to his woes by winning 8-6 in game in driving rain.

Jim Pace Sees Little Action in 'Homecoming'

DETROIT — Jim Pace, an All-America halfback for Michigan last year, hardly got a chance in his homecoming with the San Francisco 49ers.

Pace spent most of yesterday afternoon on the Briggs Stadium bench while his teammates took a 35-21 drubbing from the Detroit Lions.

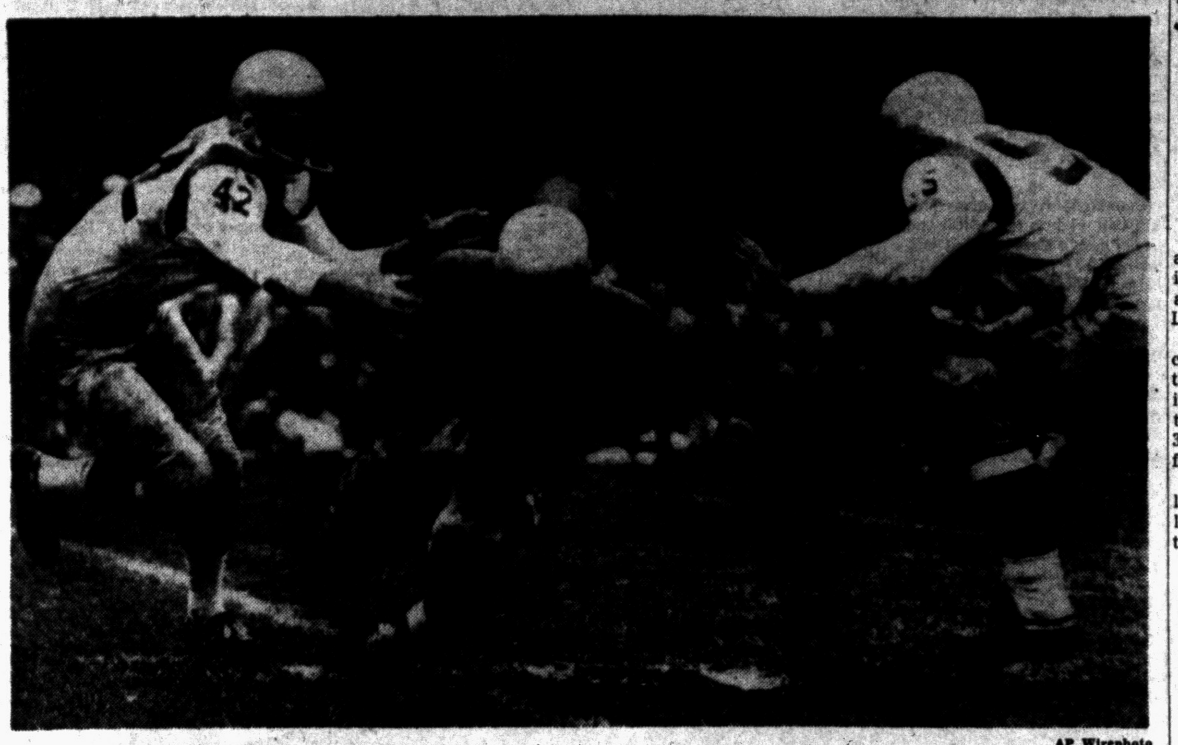

He's going to be a fine pro," said his new coach, Frankie Albert. "but he's off to a slow start. I think he's about a year away from being a top player in this league."

Pace was used only when the 49ers kicked off until the dying moments of the game. Then he replaced Hugh McElhenny on offense. The ex-Wolverine carried only once and netted no yardage. Two weeks ago when the 49ers beat the Lions in San Francisco, McElhenny played end and Pace made several good runs from left halfback.

Pace held a brief reunion after the game with the Lions' Terry Barr, his running mate at Michigan two years ago. Barr played one of his best games with the Lions yesterday.

THROUGH THE MIDDLE — Detroit Lions' end Jim Doran tries to elude halfback Jim Ridlon (42) and Matt Hazeltine (55) of the 49ers after taking a pass from Tobin Rote. Doran's evasive play was good for 11 yards and a first down. The Lions won the game, 35-21, at Briggs Stadium for their third victory in the last four games.

Detroit Still Clings to Slight Mathematical Chance for Title

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The good old days are back for the Detroit Lions but it may be just a little too late as far as the National Football League title goes.

Clinging only to a mathematical chance of recapturing the title, the Lions won their third game in the last four starts by spanking the hapless San Francisco 49ers, 35-21, before 54,523 fans in a California fog at Briggs Stadium.

The Lions would have to win the last four and the Baltimore Colts lose all four which is a remote title opportunity.

"We looked like the team that started the season in the first couple minutes," said assistant coach Aldo Forte referring to the fumble which enabled the 49ers to score first. "But this looked like the championship team the rest of the way," he added.

The fumble came on the opening kickoff when the ball squirted out of Danny Lewis' arms. It was recovered by Matt Hazeltine on the Detroit 28 and after seven plays Joe Perry went over from the one.

The Lions' defensive line held on the one for three downs before Perry rolled in for the score. Gordy Soltau converted.

It took only 42 seconds after the 49er TD for the Lions to get it back. On the first play from scrimmage Tobin Rote handed off to Gene Gedman who went to his left and passed perfectly to Hopalong Cassady on the Frisco 45. Hoppy went all the way for an 81 yard scoring play and Jim Martin tied it 7-7.

The first quarter of the game was jammed with football action as well as five different boxing matches.

After a 49er punt, the Lions marched 65 yards in seven plays, climaxed by a 35-yard pass play from Rote to end Jim Gibbons. Gibbons outmanuevered the 49er secondary after taking the pass on the 25, Martin converted.

San Francisco came back to the Detroit 24 when R.C. Owens and Terry Barr battled for control of a pass. The officials ruled dual possession and gave the ball to the offensive team.

Another Alley-Oop pass for Owens was intercepted by Jack Christiansen in the end zone and the Lions took over on the 20 as the quarter ended.

Martin missed a 23-yard field goal early in the second quarter, but the Lions started another march a few minutes later and in 10 plays they went 59 yards to score.

Rote picked up big yardage by running himself. He got to the two on a 13 yard gain and then Gedman smashed over to make it 21-7 with Martin's point.

With only 52 seconds to play in the half, Detroit scored again by going 76 yards in 10 plays. Rote's sharp passing to Cassady, Ken Webb and Dave Middleton were the big gainers.

Middleton made a fine catch for a 11 yard touchdown and it was 28-7 at the half as Martin kicked the point.

With Joe Perry doing most of ball toting, the 49ers scored early in the 4th quarter going 57 yards in eight plays. Perry went the last two yards and Soltau booted the point.

Rote's passing stayed in pin point form and Gedman's running was at its best in the Lions' last touchdown march of 75 yards in nine plays. Rote fired to Gedman on the six and the ex-Indiana University back carried a tackler with him into the end zone.

Rift Reported With MSU Coach Daugherty

Munn Sees 'Empire' Crumble

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State athletic director Biggie Munn said today he sees no need for any changes in the coaching staff despite the Spartans' worst season since entering the Big Ten in 1953.

"We'll have to put our shoulders to the wheel in order to come back. This job of rejuvenation will depend on an all-out team effort," he said.

"It's a terrible thing to see an empire come down like that. You scratch and claw your way to the top, then see what happens."

He said maybe, though, the whole thing was part of a cycle.

"I like to win as well as anybody in the world but I just guess you can't win them all. We've reached the top before and we'll reach it again."

The Spartans opened the conference season with a tie and then lost every other game. Their five losses in a row made it the worst season since 1917 when the Spartans lost nine in a row.

Munn made his comments early today when he arrived by train from Minneapolis where the Spartans closed the season with a 39-12 loss to Minnesota Saturday. He also was interviewed in Chicago last night.

Munn said he "naturally" was "sticking behind" all Spartan personnel, including head coach Duffy Daugherty, who succeeded Munn at the football helm in 1954.

"I don't see why any changes in the coaches should be made," he said.

"But we really lost that Minnesota game," he said. "It was sad."

"I really wanted to see State defeat Minnesota—this game especially more than any other because I am an alumnus of Minnesota."

Asked what steps he would take to get the team rolling, he replied: "We'll have to wait and see but something will have to be done to bring life back to the Spartans."

Munn pointed out, however, that Michigan State has only 29 freshmen on football scholarships "compared to one Big Ten team that has 70."

Munn, while coach, chalked up a 23-game win streak, ending with a 6-0 victory by Purdue in 1953. The following season, Munn stepped up to the athletic directorship.

He said he felt "awfully bad" watching the Spartans recent campaign.

But he said he could think of no particular reason for the failure.

"Perhaps it isn't a sudden thing," he said. "Maybe these things happen gradually. Maybe the only thing sudden is the way they become evident."

He said joining the Big Ten has nothing to do with the Spartans' current downslide.

"The Big Ten is not a dynasty killer. It's a conference. Each team is as good as each team can be," he said.

Munn said that so far as he was concerned, the Spartans would ride this out."

The Michigan State student newspaper printed its account of the game with a black border today and suggested in an editorial that "some changes will have to be made" in the athletic department. But the paper mentioned no names.

MSU President John Hannah had "no comment at this time. I want to wait until I talk to Biggie."

Daugherty had nothing to say about Munn's remarks.

"I will make no comment for the good of the team, the school and the recruiting program," he said. "Next week we start a new season."

Duffy said he plans to split the squad into a senior team and the other composed of those who will be around next year.

He pointed out that Minnesota got all the breaks in Saturday's game. The Gophers carried the ball only 23 yards for three touchdowns while the Spartans fumbled and had passes intercepted.

Duffy also noted that last year MSU had the best offense in the Big Ten but this year the team was slow to take to the fundamental plays and he was unable to use a multiple offense.

Starr Keesler, director of alumni relations, said that in the past week he traveled through three states and nowhere did he find MSU alumni "bickering about football."

"Duffy is still popular," Keesler said.

An MSU athletic council member said, however, "it's common knowledge there is a rift" between Daughterty and Munn.

Hawks Rally to Defeat Wings at Chicago, 3-2

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings failed in a bid to move into second place in the closely-packed National Hockey League race last night.

The Chicago Black Hawks rallied for two second-period goals to edge the Wings, 3-2, and move into a tie for fourth place with Detroit.

A victory would have boosted the Wings to a tie for second place with Boston and to within two points of the leading Montreal Canadiens who were defeated last night, 2-1, by New York.

The victory was only the third on home ice for the Black Hawks this season.

Litzenberger bagged his eighth goal of the season in the first period to offset an earlier tally for Detroit by Nick Mickoski.

Marcel Pronovost put the Red Wings in front with 42 seconds remaining in the session, netting the puck without an assist in what proved to be the last Detroit goal of the game.

Sloan opened the Chicago rally in the second period by stealing the puck from Mickoski in center ice and skated in for an unassisted score at 1:57 with 13 seconds left in the period, Hull, with help from Eric Nesterenko and Ron Murphy fooled Detroit net minder Terry Sawchuk on a short hook shot.

Chicago goalie Glenn Hall almost single-handedly turned back a desperate Red Wing rally in the final period. The Wings pulled Sawchuk out of the nets in the last minutes and wing Gordie Howe was forced to come in and make a save.

Brown Sets Rushing Mark in Cleveland Win

Colts Blank Bears to Bolster Lead

By United Press International

The Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns appear headed for a National Football League title showdown that would pit Jimmy Brown against Alan Ameche in a classic battle of fullbacks.

Brown erased one of professional football's proudest records Sunday with a 152-yard surge that helped Cleveland regain a one-game Eastern Division lead with a 20-10 victory over the Washington Redskins.

He boosted his 1958 rushing total to 1,163 yards, smashed Steve Van Buren's old season mark of 1,146 and still has four games to produce the most fantastic rushing total in N.F.L. history.

Ameche, a 220-pound battering ram, gained 142 yards as Baltimore invaded Wrigley Field and boosted its Western Division lead back to two games by blanking the Chicago Bears, 17-0. The Bears, almost unbeatable at home, could have tied the Colts for first by winning but suffered their first shutout since 1946 before a sellout crowd of 48,664.

The Pittsburgh Steelers would almost prefer a victory over Cleveland to a capacity crowd but gave the Brownies a vital assist by walloping the New York Giants, 31-10. It was a familiar chore for the Steelers. They've ruined New York's Eastern title hopes four times in the past eight years.

The Los Angeles Rams moved into a second-place tie with the Bears by defeating the Packers at Green Bay, 20-7. Clarence Peaks scored four times to spark the Philadelphia Eagles to a 49-21 victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

Each team has four more games but Baltimore, paced by Ameche, George Shaw and a brilliant defense, may have vaulted its biggest hurdle at Chicago.

John Unitas, Baltimore's No. 1 quarterback, is sidelined with cracked ribs but Shaw proved an excellent replacement. He completed six of six passes during Baltimore's first scoring drive in the second quarter, climaxing the 93-yard march with a seven-yard scoring toss to Ray Berry.

Ameche lunged four for Baltimore's other second period touchdown and Steve Myhra added a 12-yard field goal in the final period.

The Giants appeared headed for their fourth straight victory when they took a 10-0 lead but quarterback Bobby Layne plunged a yard for Pittsburgh's first touchdown just before the first half ended.

The Steelers took charge in the second half. Layne threw a 10-yard scoring pass to Tom Tracy and sneaked a yard for another touchdown after Gary Glick recovered Frank Gifford's fumble and raced 36 yards to score.

Dales Muster 7-2 Mark

Poor Finish for State 11's

By United Press International

Hillsdale overcame the loss of 18 players including MIAA passing king Chuck Redding due to training infractions and still wound up the season on a high note by upsetting Northern Michigan, 9-7.

The Dales' triumph was one of the few bright spots in Michigan college football over the weekend. The misfortunes of Michigan and Michigan State stretched all the way through the ranks. Central Michigan lost its chance for the IIAC title and Kent State blasted Western Michigan.

The only state school to win against non-Michigan competition was Hope which whipped Beloit, Wis., 26-6, to finish with an 8-1 record.

Eastern Michigan and Wayne State also took their lumps from non-Michigan teams. The Hurons were dropped 3-0 by St. Joseph's of Indiana and Valparaiso walloped Wayne 27-6.

Going into the weekend, the Dales seemed to be the prime underdog of all the state's schools. Twelve players turned in their uniforms Thursday for violating the club's rule against drinking. Then six more went to coach Frank (Muddy) Waters on Saturday and cut themselves from the team.

The Dales looked anything but decimated against the Wildcats who had won four straight games by shutouts. Don Eugenio capped a first period drive by going into the end zone from the one and Jim Dilbone converted. Then end Jim Reynolds blocked a third-period Wildcat punt out of the end zone for a safety and 9-0 lead before NMC could score.

The victory gave the Dales a 7-2 season record and Northern finished with a 5-5 mark.

Central Michigan ran into a buzz saw at Macomb, Ill., in the form of halfback Larry Garron who raced 62 and 39 yards for touchdowns in the last 10 minutes to give Western Illinois a 38-23 victory and the interstate conference title—first held by an Illinois member since Central and Eastern Michigan joined the loop.

Walt Beach dashed 42 yards in the first period for a 7-0 Chippewa lead that held until the third period when the game broke open. Western chalked up 22 points in the third period with Garron passing for one touchdown but Central Michigan rallied for 16 points and a brief 23-22 lead before Garron gave the Leathernecks the decision.

Grand Rapids JC blasted Olivet, 34-12.

Rangers Take 4th Straight

Outbrawl Montreal 2-1; Boston and Leafs Play to 4-4 Tie in NHL

By The Associated Press

The New York Rangers have suddenly found new life from the dismal start they had in the National Hockey League, when they were winless in their first six games.

The New Yorkers have won four games in a row — longest winning streak this year in the NHL —and the life they showed last night outbrawling and defeating the Montreal Canadiens 2-1 is proof positive.

The Rangers, who knocked off Boston 4-2 Saturday night, crept to within three points of league-leading Montreal, which also won Saturday, 3-1 over the Chicago Black Hawks.

Boston played a 4-4 tie with Toronto in the other Sunday encounter, with Toronto on the short end of a 4-1 score against Detroit Saturday.

There were 19 penalties called against the Rangers and Montreal last night, with Canadiens flashing forward Dickie Moore getting five. Thirteen infractions came in the first period when both teams scored once. Montreal's goal was the 599th by Maurice Richard. Andy Bathgate's tie breaker in the second period iced it for New York.

Benefit Skating Party Tonight at Rolladium

All proceeds will go toward sending the North American championship skating team to New Zealand to compete in the world championship skating meet Jan. 2 through Jan. 7, 1959.

Eligible representatives to the world tournament qualified by placing either 1st or 2nd in the Senior events at the North American championships last July in Cleveland, O.

Out of a total of 19 eligible skaters from the United States, the state of Michigan has five representatives. Two of the five Michigan skaters are Rolladium members—Mary Alice Clouse and Louis Parker, who will take part in tonight's floor show.

More Grid Woes for Michigan

Wolverines End Season Against Bucks Saturday

Only 31,000 See 8-6 Loss to Hoosiers in Bennie's Farewell

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — It was gloomy Saturday in cavernous Michigan Stadium and today, two days later, it's even darker for the Wolverines who have to face powerful Ohio State at Columbus in six more days.

The Wolverines vowed to "win it for Bennie" but they couldn't cope with Indiana's single wing, Vic Jones and the supposedly sore-legged Teddy Smith.

So Oosterbaan's farewell in the 101,001 seat stadium—with only a little more than 31,000 persons sitting in—turned into an 8-6 Hoosier victory.

The Buckeyes will be prohibitive favorites this week to cap the worst hour in Michigan gridiron history since 1936 and Oosterbaan's only losing year as head coach in 11 seasons.

Smith cut inside right end for the Hoosier touchdown in the third period and then ran outside end for the winning two points. He was a doubtful starter because of a Charley-horse.

Jones ripped almost at will through the Wolverine line for 133 yards. His 34 carries were just four short of the conference record and six more than the entire Michigan crew of backs.

Michigan had the ball for only 28 rushing plays while Indiana had 64. The Hoosiers completely dominated the game despite the low score. There were no bright spots for the Wolverines who scored late in the third period on Stan Noskin's pass to Harry Newman Jr.

Michigan went into the game as the worst defensive unit in the Big Ten and Indiana as the poorest offensive club. Only Indiana bettered itself as the Hoosiers bulled for 232 yards on the ground.

The drenching rain ruined the Wolverines' passing game while helping the Hoosiers who threw only two passes all day and didn't complete either one.

—First time lost three straight conference games since 1937.

—First time lost three straight overall since 1951.

Iowa, Sooners 'In' to Narrow Field

Bowl Guessing Starts

By The Associated Press

The annual—and rarely successful—guessing game on what teams will play in the big bowl games New Year's Day begin in earnest today.

Two, Iowa and Oklahoma, already have clinched their berths, so that narrows the field some.

Iowa, which clinched the Big 10 title more than a week ago, goes to the Rose Bowl, and Oklahoma will make another trip to the Orange Bowl although it still must take care of the formalities of wrapping up its 11th straight Big 8 crown.

But even in the unlikely (Oklahoma hasn't lost a league game in its last 70 tries) event that Nebraska beats the Sooners, they still head for the Orange Bowl. This is because they have beaten Missouri, the only team that can possibly tie them for the championship.

Cotton — Texas Christian vs. Mississippi or Syracuse.

California has won 7 of its 9 games so far and only has to get past much-beaten Stanford to wrap up the Pacific Coast Conference title and the automatic Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

The Big 8 sends a team yearly to play in the Orange Bowl. The opposition could be the Air Force Academy, which hasn't even graduated its first class yet. But AFA is heading for the big time and so far has been tied once by Iowa) in 8 games.

Louisiana State needs only to defeat Tulane this week to win the Southeastern Conference championship. That one, although not by edict, takes in the Sugar Bowl, too.

With Pitt's 14-6 loss to Nebraska, Syracuse appears to be about the top eligible in the east and that could earn the Orange a Cotton Bowl bid. Syracuse has lost only once and winds up operations against West Virginia Saturday. Mississippi, although twice-beaten, also is a strong possibility.

Three conference champions were crowned last Saturday. West Virginia became the Southern Conference kingpin by crushing William and Mary, 56-6; Clemson sewed up the Atlantic Coast Conference by whipping North Carolina State, 13-6, and Connecticut won the Yankee Conference by thrashing Rhode Island, 36-8.

Knicks Win 6th in Row

By The Associated Press

The National Basketball Assn. eason is streaking right along. The New York Knickerbockers have a streak of six victories. Minneapolis has lost six in a row. Cincinnati has lost seven straight.

The Knicks, a surprise under new Coach Fuzzy Levane, have their longest string in five years and are within range of their record run of nine straight back in 1946-47 after yesterday's sloppy 98-90 job against Minneapolis in the day's only game.

Saturday night the Knicks knocked over Syracuse, the runner-up in the Eastern Division, 96-92, while Philadelphia spilled the Lakers 106-101, St. Louis defeated Detroit 102-91 and Boston rapped Cincinnati 130-105.

It's All Schlegelmilch!

DETROIT — What's in a name? A sophomore quarterback with the unlikely moniker of Noel Schlegelmilch made Wayne State's name mud and showed the Tartars there was nothing unlikely about his passing as he led Valparaiso to a mud-spattered 27-6 win over the Detroiters Saturday.

Some 450 fans braved a steady downpour to watch the game. The mud was so bad that on the last play of the game WSU quarterback Mike Soluk threw a perfect pass — right into the arms of a Valpo player who was covered with mud everywhere but on his gold helmet. The Tartars were also wearing gold headpieces.

Schlegelmilch disregarded the dangers of tossing a wet football and completed eight of 12 passes, including two for touchdowns. His aerial work also set up two ground TDs.

Redford St. Mary Wins Catholic Title

DETROIT (UPI) — Redford St. Mary exploded for 20 points in the first quarter yesterday and went on to defeat the University of Detroit High, 33-7, for the Catholic League city championship.

St. Mary will meet Redford High Friday night in the Goodfellow game for the Detroit schoolboy football title. It will be St. Mary's eighth appearance in 11 years in the football classic.

Golfer Gets 2 Aces on Same Hole, 1 Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack O'Shea of Levittown, Pa., scored the sixth ace of his golfing career Sunday when he used a nine iron to bounce his tee shot 110 yards into the second hole of the Holmesburg Golf Club.

The shot gave him such a lift he decided to take a second turn around the course. On his second try at the second hole, using that same nine iron, O'Shea lofted another shot into the cup—this time on the fly.

P.S.: He had witnesses.

Ott's Condition Is 'Unchanged'

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—The condition of Mel Ott, of baseball's Hall of Fame, and his wife was unchanged today.

Both were injured critically last Friday night in a two - vehicle highway crash at Bay St. Louis, west of here. The collision killed the driver of the other car, Leslie C. Curry of Bay St. Louis.

Spokesmen at a local hospital said Ott was "holding his own." He underwent surgery Saturday. Physicians plan surgery for his wife later.

Mother's Death to Involve Son

Her Body Discovered in Petoskey Apartment After 6 Months

PETOSKEY (AP)—Formal charges were scheduled to be filed today against a socially prominent insurance broker who a coroner's jury ruled was "in some manner responsible" for the death of his mother.

The decomposed body of Mrs. Clara Achenbach, 78, was found Saturday in her apartment, where police said it had lain for six months.

Held in Emmet County Jail for investigation was 46-year-old Paul Achenbach. The jury linked him to the death by written messages carrying his signature. One of them, dated May 5, 1958, read:

"I am sorry this had to happen, but I was drunk and I think I have been out of my mind for some time."

Prosecutor Howard Campbell said he would file charges against Achenbach today.

Police said Achenbach's wife, Gretchen, and their 19-year-old son, Bill, were told that the woman had broken a leg and the doctors didn't want her to have visitors.

When Mrs. Achenbach became suspicious and insisted on seeing her mother-in-law Saturday, police said, Achenbach grabbed a loaded revolver and ran to the home of a friend. There he shouted:

"I killed my mother and I'm going to kill myself and anybody that tries to stop me."

Over 2,000 Attend Hospital Dedication

More than 2,000 persons attended the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital dedication and open house yesterday.

Simple ceremonies marked the completion of a $200,000 remodeling project at the hospital's building, 50 N. Perry St. The hospital moved into the building, which once was the Pontiac Hotel, in March 1956.

Dedicating the hospital "to the people of Oakland County" were Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, and Fr. James Sheehan, assistant pastor of St. Vincent de Paul parish.

Hollywood Headlines

Richard Arlen Criticizes Ways of Modern Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Richard Arlen, looking scarcely a day older than when he played for the Paramount varsity, has some sharp words to say about today's stars, such as:

They're pricing the movies out of business.

Okay, so Dick has an affection for the days when he, Clara Bow, Gary Cooper, Jack Oakie and others were making collegiate movies at Paramount. ("They haven't won a game since we left the studio," cracks Oakie.) He's not the only one who esteems that era.

"In those days, a movie star always looked like a movie star," Dick remarked. "When you're in public life, you should dress accordingly. You wouldn't expect the governor to go to work in a sweat shirt. Nor should movie stars.

"Yet I see these young kids come to the studio in pegged trousers or blue jeans and T shirts. Their hair is uncombed and their faces are dirty. They're a mess.

"At Christmas time, you go to a fine store in Beverly Hills and see stars like Irene Dunne and Joan Crawford shopping in beautiful clothes. But you see some of the younger names wearing ballet shoes, those tight toreador pants and a man's shirt and dragging a mink coat."

Of the prices that many stars are demanding for their services, Arlen said:

"These figures of $750,000 for a picture are ridiculous," he said. "Many a producer can't hope to make a profit by the time he has paid the stars.

"The stars can ruin the picture business with their demands. When the business is in trouble, they should be cutting their prices, not asking for the moon.

"We did that at Paramount one year. When the studio was in danger of bankruptcy, we worked a whole year for nothing. We managed to live all right; we had been overpaid for a long time. When times got better, we were paid back."

Unbeaten List Reduced to 15

Quantico Is 'Spoiler' for Rutgers; LSU Only Major Team Left

By The Associated Press

With Rutgers' 13-12 defeat by the Quantico Marines, the nation's list of unbeaten, untied college football teams is down to 15. Louisiana State is the only major college in the list.

Willamette, beaten 7-0 by unbeaten Arizona State, Flagstaff, and Coe, beaten 21-6 by Grinnell, also were rubbed out last weekend.

Only four of the perfect-record teams have games remaining—LSU, Arizona State, Mississippi Southern and Florida A&M.

The list

Beats Wife to Death, Takes His Own Life

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A former mental patient beat his wife to death, then cut his throat and fell dead over her body in their Grand Rapids home Saturday.

The bodies of Donald C. Nelson, 46, and his wife, Edith, about 40, were found in the blood-spattered and wrecked living room of their two-story frame house.

Dr. Henry J. Kreulen, medical examiner, said Nelson had clubbed the woman with two frying pans and bludgeoned her with a hatchet, then cut his throat with a kitchen knife.

Police said neighbors described Nelson, a tool and die shop foreman, as quiet and well-liked.

They said he spent four weeks undergoing psychiatric treatment in a Grand Rapids hospital and was released two weeks ago.

Heavy Rain Slows Deer Hunting

Pontiac Men Score Early Successes

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

CURRAN — Oakland County hunters, hampered by wind-swept showers, had only fair success during the opening weekend of the deer season, but several exceptionally heavy antlered were among those killed.

Occasional showers that turned into downpours Saturday morning kept deer movement to a minimum. Unlike opening days of the past, only an occasional flurry of shots could be heard in this section.

One of the largest deer killed in this area was a 7-point buck with a rack that brought back memories of the "good old days." This trophy was bagged by Emil Nielsen of Sylvan Lake. He brought it down with one shot Saturday morning while hunting at Crow-Bar Ranch.

Pontiac insurance agent Ralph T. Norvell shot a 10-point buck opening day, one of two deer taken at Camp 24. The other, a heavy 8-pointer, was taken by a very proud J. R. Jenkins, Pontiac certified public accountant. He was hunting with Glenn Griffin, Pontiac (Ogemaw) mortician, when he scored.

John Napley, Pontiac, said he pulled one of the longest shots of his life Saturday afternoon. He brought down a 7-pointer by shooting an estimated 110 yards through thick woods. He was hunting at the Coweboys camp.

To the north at the Ten Buck camp, James Clarke of the Clarke Oil Co. of Waterford was the only successful hunter. Clarke shot a fine 8-point buck opening day.

Making his first kill on deer in Michigan Sunday was Dr. James L. Miller of Birmingham. A spike buck running across an opening in the woods fell before Dr. Miller's 155-yard shot.

Bloomfield Hills contractor Larry Reinardy also scored with a nice buck Sunday. He and Dr. Miller were hunting at the Ivan James ranch north of Curran. Six deer were taken here in the first two days.

Many Pontiac area hunters were limited to just a weekend of hunting and had to return home last night. Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark Adams was one of these. Judge Adams said he saw many does but no legal bucks.

Grey was hunting with Mal Banfield of Franklin, another successful hunter in this area. Banfield shot a 6-pointer whose interest in a doe overcame his natural cautiousness. A 3-pointer was downed by Harvie Little of Pontiac at 10:30 a.m. yesterday. According to Little, several does were looking back at the buck —pointing to it in the timber as a dog would point a game bird. It was a fatal mistake for the buck.

Among unsuccessful area hunters during the weekend were (at Ten-Buck club) Louis H. Cole, Dr. B. M. Mitchell, retired doctor; Floyd Blakeslee, Pontiac attorney; his brother, Victor R. of Farmington, retired auto dealer; David Edstron of Pontiac; R. B. Oliver, Pontiac auto dealer, and Dr. George N. Petroff, Pontiac.

Can't Do It in Michigan

Ontario Officer Hunts Deer With Aid of Dogs

ALL OUTDOORS (UPI)—If you used a dog to hunt deer in Michigan you would not only be fined by the state but shunned by other Michigan hunters as a dirty skunk.

However, travel across the border to Ontario and practically the reverse is true! Odd?

Bruce Turner is a conservation officer with the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. He is a clean-cut young man with high ideals and a healthy dislike for road hunters, violators and the like.

But Turner will be using his favorite hounds this fall to hunt deer in Ontario.

"Why, it's just plain murder," Turner said, "for a guy to go out and shoot down a deer by still hunting. I can go out just about any morning at 8 a.m. and have my deer hanging up by dark if I didn't use my dogs."

His remarks stings the ears of the Michigan sportsman who thinks there is no greater hunting thrill than matching one's self against a whitetail.

"Nothing beats the sound of those hounds racing through the forest after a deer that is just about belly-high off the ground, and scooting along like a tan blur," he sighed. "Ever try shooting one of those racing deer in front of dogs?"

What about sportsmanship? Won't dogs run a deer to death?

Turner replied: "Here in Ontario, we limit the hunter to certain kinds of dogs. Large greyhounds, German shepherds and that kind are prohibited. A black and tan is my favorite."

Turner, who came to inspect this writer's moose hunting camp in the Gogama district of Ontario, was surprised that dogs are prohibited in Michigan deer hunting.

In some southern states, using dogs to hunt deer is readily accepted as the only practical way to hunt deer due to the extremely thick cover — but is there anything practical about hunting?

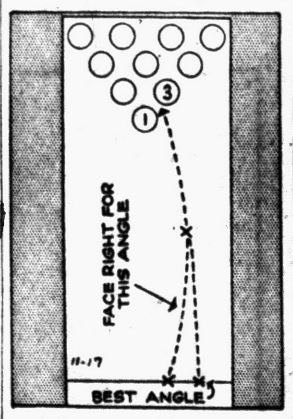

The way you bag your game is, after all, the important thing.

MSU Harriers Favored

NEW YORK (UPI) — Crawford Kennedy of Michigan State was an overwhelming favorite to win the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. varsity cross country championship today for the second straight year.

Kennedy's Michigan State teammates, were almost as solid a choice to take the team title in competition with 44 other schools.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

The sketch today shows two different strike angles for a hook ball bowler.

If your hook is only slight, the angle closer to the right corner is probably best. The ball will roll down the alley about two-thirds of the way before breaking in toward the 1-3 pocket.

A bowler with a stronger hook should use the angle nearer the center of the alley. His ball, because of its greater hooking action, needs more room to roll out to the right before it begins moving back toward the pocket. A wide hook like this is also called a looper.

These are just two of the more more typical strike angles. If you bowl with more or less hook, move the angle more to the left or right, respectively.

But note: once a bowler has found his best angle for strikes on an alley, he should stick with it. The best angle for strikes is hte one from which you can roll a ball into the 1-3 pocket most easily and most consistently. Once you have found it, never let it go.

Tyrone Power's Life Viewed in Flashbacks

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tyrone Power created dozens of memorable screen roles, but none was more romantic and adventurous than his own life.

How many of them come to mind. . . . The eager songwriter of "Alexander's Ragtime band" . . . the swashbuckler of "Mark of Zorro" . . . the bullfighter in "Blood and Sand" . . . "Jesse James" . . . the soul-seeker of "The Razor's Edge" . . . the conquistador of "Captain From Castile". . . .

He was Johnny Apollo, a Yank in the R.A.F., Prince of Foxes, an American guerrilla in the Philippines, diplomatic courier, Mississippi gambler, king of the Khyber Rifles and Eddy Duchin. Each time he was believable. He never won an Academy award, but to a whole generation he was the perfect picture of an adventurous hero.

His own life bore that out. This was no pose. He had scant regard for publicity, did little more than tolerate it. He merely led the kind of life he liked. It took him all over the world in search of new experiences and challenges.

He seemed destined for a restless life. His father was a stage star in the era when an actor's life meant constant travel. As a young actor, Tyrone played at the Chicago World's Fair and toured with Katharine Cornell's troupe.

Only in the formative stage of his Hollywood career did he stay put. That was when Darryl Zanuck was putting him in one big picture after another, spreading his fame to all parts of the world. The war gave him an escape. His service overseas as a Marine pilot rekindled the wanderlust.

When he returned to films he seemed uneasy tied down in Hollywood. As soon as he finished a picture he would hop in a company plane with two or three aides and pilot them on a goodwill tour of South America, Africa or some other far-off land.

He explained: "In my travels, I've seen too many old people sitting around on the decks of boats trying to enjoy trips they waited too long to take."

After 16 years at 20th Century-Fox he was chafing under his contract. He took a suspension for refusing "Lydia Bailey." He said he had done five costume pictures in a row and wanted a film in which "people talk normally, not in stilted dialogue."

He added: "There's no thrill left in the movie business. There's no more glory, and you can't add to your bank account; it all goes to taxes. So I figure it's better to do something I like to do."

Tyrone turned his back on Hollywood to tour the United States for a year in a dramatic reading of "John Brown's Body." He was delighted when critics and audiences discovered this Hollywood idol could really act.

He realized that younger stars were pressing his position. He said realistically: "When you're through in this business, you've got to have established that you can do something else."

Tyrone never had to worry about being through. He was a top star to the end. It was perhaps fitting that the end came while he was filming a lavish spectacle in a distant land.

Owner Should Study Manual to Avoid Trouble

Intricacy of New Car Baffles Mechanic

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Only 10 per cent of the nation's automobile mechanics are qualified to cope with the intricacies of the modern car."

This comes from a veteran in the automobile business — Martin H. Bury, a car dealer for 38 years. And Bury, who runs a dealership in Philadelphia, told UPI in an interview that there's no improvement in sight because:

1. Only one out of 10 mechanics can service such things as automatic transmissions, power steering, complicated carburetor systems, involved electrical equipment and other newer developments.

2. Development of dealer facilities has failed to keep pace with the increasing number of cars on the road.

3. Most dealers lack adequate supervisory personnel.

4. Apprentice mechanics are not being trained as replacements.

5. Except for "far-sighted exceptions," dealers have very little incentive to correct these situations under present industry conditions.

WHAT TO DO

Can't something be done about the situation?

"How could there be?" Bury countered. "Car dealers who attempt to sell new cars at sufficient gross profit to permit maintenance of proper service facilities and manpower soon find themselves without sufficient sales volume to stay in business."

Bury concedes that articles about phony engine repairs and deliberate cheating are true in part—but "they would have you believe such things are the rule instead of the exception."

"Most dealers are honest, although their service departments may be inept, unqualified and unable to keep a promise," Bury said. "Admittedly, some of them make the wrong diagnosis or in their ignorance perform major repairs where only minor adjustments are necessary.

Actually, the unscrupulous segment of the industry is no larger than in any other industry servicing consumer products, such as TV sets. But it seems to be larger in the auto business because there are so many car owners needing service for a product that takes more abuse than any other."

TIP TO OWNER

To the motorist, Bury offers this advice:

1. Start studying the instruction manual that comes with every new car and defines how to avoid or prevent serious failures; not more than one of 10 new-car buyers, he says, does more than glance through it casually.

2. The motorist who understands what goes on beneath the hood and floorboards is better able to explain to a mechanic just what he wants corrected.

3. In shopping for a new car, check whether the dealer offering you the lowest price is also offering the least service.

Trip Across Pole Harder by Sea

Reporter Says Nautilus Journey Easier Than Fighting Through Ice

By CHARLES R. MOORE

In addition to their military significance, the trips opened up interesting possibilities of year-round contact with scientific bases on the edge of the vast Antarctic continent. These now are isolated during the long months of winter darkness.

I've never gone under the ice in a sub, but I made two trips through it, to and from the Antarctic aboard the icebreaker USS Glacier, and made many flights above it.

The Glacier does it the hard way. South from New Zealand through turbulent seas, then battering through the ice.

The passage of the Glacier through the ice has been described accurately as "like riding a hay wagon over a frozen cornfield." Rough, hard going for ship and crew.

Last season the Glacier lost a propeller blade to the ice. The resulting vibration brought part of a mast, loaded with electronic gear, crashing to the deck.

Later a tough floe jabbed a hole in her bow. It was necessary to "beach" her on the 15-foot ice of the McMurdo Sound for repairs.

The open areas in the ice reported by the Nautilus and Skate exist also in the Antarctic during the summer season. Some are many miles wide.

Whether means can be found for a sub to break through the solid ice sheet in winter is a question. But in most places it is only a few feet thick and it seems likely this problem can be solved.

Killer whales already have suggested a possible method. Where the ice is not too thick, these submarines of nature sometimes smash it from below to reach a tasty seal or penguin.

The submarine voyages under the ice are only the beginning of polar atomics—but a comfortable beginning for those who have done it the hard way.

Rain Weakens Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Reports of good rain and snowfall over much of the great plains region weakened wheat futures prices today on the board of trade but other grains were narrowly irregular in light early dealings.

Brokers said some advices indicated the moisture was sufficient to sustain wheat development for two or three weeks of cool weather in most areas and that it may encourage producers to become more liberal sellers of the 1958 crop.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, December $1.96⅝; corn unchanged to ¾ higher, December old type contract $1.13½; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 65⅝; rye ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, December $1.31¾; soybeans ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, November $2.13½.

Has Scissors, Likes to Travel

Unique Artistic Ability, Friendly Smile, Carry Baggi Into 40 Lands

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A pair of scissors, artistic ability, a warm smile and wanderlust . . . that adds up to world travel for Guiseppe Baggi, a native of Faenza, Italy, who presently, and temporarily, lives here.

Baggi, 44, is an artist who has perfected an unusual style of modern art with a pair of scissors and any available scrap of paper, cloth, wire, aluminum foil, plastic or what have you.

The scissors artist has used his unique ability to finance nearly one-half million miles of travel through 40 countries in the past 12 years.

Baggi started moving shortly after World War II and has taught and practiced his handiwork in most of the major countries of the world.

By using scissors to cut the materials, then bending and twisting to desired shapes, he can make a chess set from a roll of wire . . . animals from paper . . . caricatures complete with glasses.

Using only metal strips, some plastic or colored paper, he can bring to life an historical tabloid or any group scene. Hand him some old rags . . . He'll make you a puppet.

Baggi has had many night club jobs. He travels from table to table charming the patrons, snipping with his scissors and making friends. He'll create a tin foil ballet dancer in a matter of seconds . . . and a paper figurine with just scissors and a cocktail napkin.

Baggi is a wanderer who stays in one place just long enough to reap the financial and artistic rewards available. He won't say how long he plans to remain here . . . but admits he'd like to teach the new art form to Philadelphians.

German Navy Harries Soviets

Speedy, Versatile Craft in Command of Experts Operate in Baltic Sea

KIEL, Germany (UPI) — Germany's navy, whose battleships and cruisers once ranked among the world's most powerful, has made a comeback.

Apparently outmatched hopelessly in its home waters — the Baltic Sea — by some 380 Soviet warships, West Germany's fleet commanders still think their 60-odd ships have the Russians worried more than they admit.

And the Germans who amazed the world more than two decades ago when they built their pocket battleships apparently are out to repeat the trick.

Designed especially to operate in the Baltic and North Seas, the small ships of 160 tons displacement — smaller than a river barge — pose a serious threat to Soviet naval power.

Carrying four big torpedo tubes — later versions may even have six — the tiny warships can speed as fast as 45 knots, about as fast as an express train.

Adm. Rolf Johanneson, commander of the German fleet, said the small craft, powered by four Mercedes diesel engines totaling 12,000 horsepower, are capable of mining Russia's Baltic ports in one night.

The highly decorated admiral, who is rarely seen wearing his several rows of medals, said he plans to keep his ships out at sea as frequently as possible.

"Seamanship is not learned in port," he said.

Like Johanneson, whose wartime experience included commanding German destroyers which mined the Thames Estuary under the eyes of the British fleet, most except the enlisted sailors in the new German fleet are naval oldtimers.

Handsome, popular Adm. Bernhard Rogge, known by Germans as the "admiral with the bowler hat," commands NATO forces in northern Germany.

Rogge, captain of a lone-wolf German surface raider during the war, successfully mocked the Allied navies for months by changing his ship's appearance from a Russian freighter to a Dutch steamer or a Norwegian trader.

As the navy's ships moved slowly out of this Baltic Sea port for their maneuvers, a black limousine carrying the sign of the Soviet military mission accredited to Allied forces in West Germany drew up on a shore drive.

No Letup Seen for Baby Boom

First Wartime Wave Now in High Schools; Birthrate Still Climbs

The first wave of the wartime baby boom hit the high schools last fall. An even bigger wave is now in the grade schools and will hit the 9th grade in about three years.

And no ebbing of this floodtide of children is in sight, to the complete astonishment of the experts.

CONTINUOUS CLIMB

People who figure such things can draw you stacks of charts and graphs to prove why the birthrate in this country should —MUST—go down. Then they run head-on into the statistics which shows the birthrate keeps right on climbing.

In 1940 there were 2½ million children born in this country. In 1943 the number exceeded three million. The experts can explain that jump—the United States was at war and young people were hurrying to get married before they were separated.

In 1944 and 1945 the number of live births tapered off just a bit, and fell below three million. Then, in 1946, when most of the boys had come marching home again, it spurted to nearly 3½ million.

The next year the figure went to more than 3¼ million. Right about here, say the experts, there should have been a sharp decline. But there wasn't. The number of births held fairly steady for three years and then started climbing again. In 1951, 1952 and 1953 it nudged the four million mark, in 1954 it passed four million and continued to climb.

MORE TO COME

Last year there were more than 4,300,000 births in this country. Six years hence there will be the greatest first grade school enrollmen this country has ever known.

The tidal wave of babies born in 1946 hit elementary schools in 1952 and is now in the sixth grade. In three years those children will be entering high schools all across the nation.

NEW SERIES — A new series in the 1959 Ford line — the Galaxie — captures more of the taste and styling flavor of the Thunderbird than any other Ford model. Compared here, the Galaxie Town Victoria in the foreground bears a strong resemblance to the 1959 four-passenger Thunderbird — especially in the roof area. It is priced to sell only $48 above comparable models in the Ford Fairlane 500 series.

Ford Premieres 'Galaxie' Series

New Line Scheduled for December Debut Resembles T-Bird

Ford Motor Co.'s new Galaxie series went into production today at most Ford Division plants.

The car, borrowing much of its styling concept from the Thunderbird model, is scheduled for dealer introduction early in December. Ford said suggested list prices will start at $2,303 for a two-door sedan.

The newest addition to the Ford line has the Thunderbird roofline, quilted and pleated fabrics over tailored seats, new twin headlight molding, different fender ornaments, a modified instrument panel, a two-tone steering wheel and added chrome interior trim inserts.

The new series will be offered in a two-door sedan, a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, convertible and a retractable hardtop. The latter, available only in an 8-cylinder model, carries top suggested list price of $3,063.

1959 Sales Forecast: 10 Million Used Cars

CHICAGO (AP) — A loan firm executive says 10 million used cars will be sold next year in the United States.

The prediction was made in a speech yesterday by E. F. Wonderlic, president of General Finance Corp., Evanston, Ill., at a convention of the National Independent Automobile Dealers Assn.

The forecast, which would be a sales total about two million higher than this year, was predicted, Wonderlic said, on an estimate that sales of new cars will reach about five million units, an increase of about one million over 1958.

"In the past, almost two used cars have been sold for every new car sold, which points to an increase of two million in used car sales in 1959," Wonderlic said.

Cart Before Horse

FULTON, Ky. (AP) — All was dry when the new swimming pool was dedicated. Not enough money was left after the pool was built to fence the area. Officials didn't want anyone falling into the pool — so the pool remained dry until a fence was built.

Nationalists Call It 'Trick'

Red China Bids for Peace

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Vice President Chen Cheng said today Communist China has sent peace feelers to Nationalist officials but that the Nationalists have ignored them.

Chen, who is also premier, made the statement to the official Central News Agency in confirming Manila and Hong Kong reports the Peiping government has tried to open peace talks.

"Neither the Chinese government nor any individuals in it have paid any attention to this kind of Communist trick," Chen said.

"This is not the first time the Chinese Communists have done so," Chen said. "During the last few years they often have written letters or directed radio broadcasts to officials in the Chinese government or sent emissaries to Hong Kong and other places to spread rumors or to engage in other nefarious activities."

Car Stockpile at 4-Year Low

Dealers Short on '59s but Most Anticipating Good Sales Year

DETROIT (AP)—Stocks of new cars in dealer hands on Nov. 1 hit a four-year low at 264,760 units, Automotive News said today.

On Oct. 1, dealers held 312,897 cars. The Nov. 1, 1957, total was 449,040.

The trade paper said: "Stocks fell slightly below 200,000 in mid-October. A gradual buildup of '59 models began then and is continuing, but normalcy in hte supply situation is unlikely to return before the first of the year, at least.

"Meanwhile, dealers in every corner of the land are long on customers and short on cars. The Nov. 1 float of '59s included in dealer inventories was approximately 110,000, less than a week's supply at the selling rate indicated by the rate of '59 orders."

The November stockpile was held back by the post-contract settlement strikes at General Motors plants over local issues, Automotive News added.

"Optimism for a high-selling and profitable year in the auto business remains strong among dealers, in spite of the inventory drought," it said. "Four-fifths of the dealers surveyed anticipated increased sales. The pessimistic minority represented makes whose design changes for 1959 were minimal."

The collapsible metal tube, such as used to contain toothpaste, was first used commercially in about 1892.

No Show Dog, but Taffy Had What It Takes!

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Taffy, 8-year-old canine, would never win a dog show. He has only three legs, is partly blind and something happened to his tail long ago.

He was on the sidewalk Saturday when milkman James A. Kirkpatrick, 59, stopped to make a delivery. Kirkpatrick entered the refrigerated truck and the back door slammed shut, locking him in.

The milkman beat on the door and yelled. Taffy set up a commotion.

Mrs. Lamar Parish, the dog's owner, looked out to see what was bothering him. She walked to the truck and heard Kirkpatrick's calls.

"Lady, I'm sure glad you were home," the driver gasped when he stumbled out.

3 Generations Bag Deer

HOLLAND (AP) — Three generations of a Holland family found success Saturday on a joint deer hunting trip to the Houghton Lake area. Brian Ned Wenzel, 14, downed an eight-point buck. His father, Ranford, 46, claimed a seven-pointer. Brian's grandfather, Lee Wenzel, 71, shot a three-point buck. Ranford Wenzel said it was the 18th consecutive year he has shot a deer at the same Houghton Lake site.

His Jail Freedom Brief

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Freedom was brief for a 22-year-old Grand Rapids man who slugged a turnkey and fled police headquarters jail Saturday morning. Robert VanWoerkom was returned to his cellblock Sunday. Originally arrested early Saturday for investigation of being drunk and disorderly, VanWoerkom fled after slugging turnkey Henry VandenBelt who had let him out of the cellblock to use a telephone.

Video Jackpot Piling Up Fast

Many Takers but Few Makers Actually Able to Slug Through Sack

NEW YORK — Herb Landon, the man who proved that a mountain could be made out of a molehill, is hard at work on another project. He's out to show that very few people can punch their way out of a paper bag.

"I don't say it's impossible," says Landon, who is associate producer of "County Fair" (NBC-TV network, Monday through Friday, 4:30-5 p. m.). "In fact, I've seen it done a couple of times. I will say, though, that it's very, very difficult."

Landon has tested, among others, ex-heavyweight champion James Braddock, welterweight Tony Di Biase, New York Giants halfback Frank Gifford, and movie star Jaques Bergerac. All have tried to punch their way out of a paper bag on "County Fair," and all have failed.

The bags, made of multi-ply paper of the kind used for bagging cement, are about eight feet high and two and a half feet wide. The contestant puts on boxing gloves and eases into the bag lying down. He is then put upright and told to slug away.

"There's no trick, no gimmick," says Landon. "It's just that it's hard to get a solid blow. I hope somebody punches out pretty soon. The jackpot of prizes is piling up so fast that we can hardly get around the studio."

Landon discovered the paper bag stunt when he was a publicity man for a radio show back in 1945. His other achievements of that era included changing the name of Molehill, W. Va., to Mountain, W. Va., and flying some relatives of Elsie the Cow to Athens, Greece.

The bag stunt ran for 29 weeks on the radio show and defied the best efforts of boxing champs Gus Lesnevich, Benny Leonard and Barney Ross, among others. In a live pickup from the carrier Midway, five of the Navy's toughest fighting men failed to punch their way out.

"Bob Feller tried it on the air but didn't make a dent in the bag," Landon says. "He got so interested that he asked to try again after the show. We put him in the bag and he flailed away for 15 minutes and still couldn't do it."

On the 29th show, a young honeymoon couple from Worcester, Mass., offered to try their strength, much to the amusement of the studio audience. They were helped into the bag, there was a momentary flurry inside and then, to the astonishment of the audience, they burst through.

"I still don't know how they did it," Landon says. "I've seen it done only once since then — during a practice run-through on 'County Fair.' A young fellow stepped out of the audience, got into the bag, punched his way out, and walked out of the studio before I could even get his name."

TV Union Holds Off Strike for 72 Hours

NEW YORK (AP)—Live performances on four major television and radio networks go on as scheduled today and Tuesday under the terms of a temporary agreement in the dispute between the networks and a performers' union.

The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists agreed Sunday to extend a strike deadline 72 hours past Saturday midnight and to extend the old contract, which expired then, for the same period.

The union, representing 12,000 radio and TV performers, is involved in contract negotiations with the American Broadcasting Co., Mutual Broadcasting System, Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Co.

The union wants wage increases and other concessions. The most controversial item is its demand for a rate schedule for union members whose performances are reproduced on the new video tape. The schedule would set up a sliding scale of payments for each time the tape is televised.

Present wage scales have not been made public.

Red Carpet Treatment

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The red carpet was out for three youths—and they took it. They rolled up a red carpet in front of a carpet store, tied it to the top of their car and drove off. The rug was valued at $300.

Of the 40 million tons of sugar produced annually, about 65 per cent comes from sugar cane and the other 35 per cent for sugar beets.

Will Eddie Fisher Ride Out Recent Criticism?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Is Eddie Fisher—for his love o' Liz—really going to "blow his career" as Debbie Reynolds says?

He's "in a lot-of trouble" for there's a TV panic on. Many shows are to be axed. An official at the cigaret company sponsoring him tells me there's to be a "re-evaluation" of Eddie's popularity due to the new stories he and Liz Taylor are marrying.

WILSON

"We hire people in the hope they'll be extremely popular," this man said. "When things like this happen, we have to take another look."

But, he added, "NBC's disposition is to do nothing about this"—and so Eddie may well ride out the criticism. "Who you going to replace him with?" one Madison Avenuer said. "'Twenty-one' or 'Dotto?' TV's so panicky it'll soon present 'spectacular spectaculars.'"

The pan mail hasn't hurt Eddie much because it's so strange. Threats "not to buy any of your product while you're hiring Eddie Fisher" have even been received by Coco-Cola . . . which hasn't used him for two years.

Frank Sinatra ordered a 20-karat diamond solitaire here. (Now who does he know 20-karats worth?) . . .

Slugger and I have struck terror into the hearts of Tin Pan Alley with our song-writing.

Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn are pretending not to be scared, but Harry Ruby, composer of "Who's Sorry Now?" whimpers to me in a letter:

"How come that you, who have made such a success in your own line of work, suddenly decide to take bread out of the mouths of Irving Berlin, Cole Porter, Oscar Hemmerstein and Richard Rodgers?"

ANNA MARIA

Ruby—the one man who can make Groucho Marx laugh, or, for that matter, shut up—is sure that I, too, will be a "Tin Pan Alley Cinderella story."

"Bert Kalmar and I once wrote a song, 'Snoops the Lawyer,' which, to this day, 34 years later, is still not selling;" he says, and adds — inspirationally — "It is what they call a slow starter."

Sen. Johnson Speaks at U.N.

Explains That Both U.S. Parties Seek Peaceful Use of Outer Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Sen. Lyndon Johnson speaks to the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee today to demonstrate that both U.S. political parties want outer space used only for peaceful purposes.

"The entire subject of space and the treatment it has received in Congress has always been nonpartisan," said the Texas leader of the Democratic majority in the U.S. Senate on his arrival in New York Sunday night. "Every action we've taken thus far has been nonpartisan, and I trust it always will be."

Johnson's aim in speaking to the world organization was to show that the trouncing the Democrats gave President Eisenhower's Republicans in the Nov. 4 election had no effect on the bipartisan backing for the U.S. proposal on outer space.

Before Johnson's speech, White Russian Foreign Minister Kuzma V. Kiselev was to address the committee in support of a rival Soviet resolution.

The American resolution, which 19 other nations are also sponsoring, would set up a committee to determine what could be done under U.N. auspices to promote international cooperation in the peaceful uses of outer space, and what legal problems might arise.

The Soviet resolution would have the 81-nation Assembly call for a ban on military space rockets, elimination of foreign bases, and a U.N. agency for space research.

Johnson in a speech last Jan. 14 proposed that the United States invite all U.N. members to join in a cooperative exploration of outer space. Secretary of State Dulles elaborated on this in his policy speech to the General Assembly Sept. 18.

New 'Chef' Groundhog the Cousin of 'Prophet'

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Consider the groundhog.

This western Pennsylvania mountain town has spread its odd name around the world in a legend that the local woodchuck is a prophet. Called The Seer, his prediction is awaited each Feb. 2 on whether spring is just around the corner.

A cousin of The Seer turned up today adorned with a chef's hat and a checked gingham apron. Ladies of the Adrian Hospital Auxiliary identified him as an obvious gourmet type and the author of their new recipe volume entitled "Cooking With the Groundhog."

Intended to raise funds for the hospital, the book lists a cosmopolitan collection from "almonds, Castilian, fried," through "rhubarb and veal loaf" to "vegetables, orientale" and "zucchini, fritters, melange, and tomatoes."

An oddity is an apparently cannibalistic piece de resistance. The opening page, signed The Seer, tells "How to Cook a Groundhog." It recommends boiling, searing, roasting, in adequate time and with appropriate condiments.

The preface extols local culinary art and history. Included is the fact that the hard-to-spell name means town of sandflies. Delaware Indians who camped here about 1740 were plagued by black bugs. They dubbed the place Ponk-Sad-Uteny.

The name has been misspelled about as many ways as you would expect. Local folks say proudly there is no other Punxsutawney in all the world.

Newspaperman Clymer Freas is credited with development of the weather prophet legend and the silk-hatted Feb. 2 trek to nearby Gobblers Knob. No questions are raised about accuracy of the weather prediction.

10 Persons Are Killed in Head-On Crash

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. (AP) — A head-on collision of an auto and a pickup truck just north of here in a light drizzle early today killed 10 persons and injured two more.

Percy Garner of Percy Garner & Sons Funeral Home here said four of the dead were children and seven were members of the same family.

Want Earth Sattelite Launched by NATO

By JOHN RODERICK

PARIS (AP) — A committee of legislators proposed today that NATO launch an earth satellite for peaceful outer space research by 1960.

The satellite, which would bear the emblem of the North Atlantic Alliance, is the first point in a proposed program of "peaceful scientific and technical cooperation in upper atmosphere and outer space research, development and exploration."

The program was recommended by the Scientific and Technical Committee of the fourth NATO Parliamentarians' Conference, which opened a week-long session in Paris.

The committee chairman, U.S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, suggested in a speech prepared for delivery to the conference that scientists from the 15 NATO nations be invited to meet at an early date to draft a cooperative research effort.

It costs one-twentieth as much to arm a South Korean soldier to defend South Korea is it would to keep an American soldier there, says Eric Johnston, chairman of the Committee for International Economic Growth.

Poet Frost to Receive $5,000 Cash Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Poet Robert Frost will receive the $5,000 Huntington Hartford Foundation award for 1958, it was announced today.

The cash award is presented annually to an artist, composer or writer considered by the judges to have made contributions of unusual significance to the arts during his career.

Missiles Recorders Recovered in Ocean

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Three times in recent months tiny tape recorders sent aloft in missile nose cones have been recovered from the Atlantic Ocean.

They brought back information about conditions in the upper atmosphere which science had been unable to get because of a radio blackout.

Heat and pressure built up around the nose cones as they plunged back to earth at speeds of more than 10,000 miles an hour created a sheath of ionized air which blocked radio signals intended for ground receiving stations.

To get around this, the Air Force said Sunday, tape recorders were enclosed with the radio transmitters. The radio signals blocked by the ionized sheath were recorded on tape, recovered later from the ocean.

Manatees, popularly known as sea cows, created the ancient illusion that there are such things as mermaids. They are found around the West Indies and weigh as much as a ton.
