Fund Raisers Use Ike's Name Without OK

DAV Continued After Protests by White House

Quiz Shows That Only Small Amount of Profit Went to Charity

NEW YORK (AP)—Witnesses testified today that the names of President Eisenhower and former President Truman were used without authority in a Disabled American Veterans fund raising campaign.

One witness said the DAV Service Foundation raised more than 21 million dollars in the three-year period ending last June 30 and that 18 per cent of this amount was disbursed for welfare purposes.

The testimony was given before a state joint legislative committee investigating charity fund raising methods.

Miles H. Draper, trustee board chairman of the DAV Service Foundation, defended the committee's fund raising methods.

He said puzzle contests and the sending of inscribed fountain pens through the mail were intended to attract public interest and financial support, and he challenged the committee to offer any other method by which the foundation could raise funds at a lower cost.

The committee was told that the names of Gen. Omar Bradley, former chief of staff, and Gen. Carl Gray, head of the Veterans Administration, also were used by the DAV national organization without authority.

The testimony came from George H. Kerner, associated counsel of the joint legislative committee which is inquiring into alleged charity rackets.

Kerner said all four names were used in connection with a 50,000 puzzle contest.

He read a letter from James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, to State Sen. Bernard Tomp-

Council Asks Telecast of Lions-Brown Game

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's City Council asked the Detroit Lions today to remove the local television blackout on the professional football championship game here Dec. 27 with the Cleveland Browns.

The city council requested the change in a resolution addressed to the Detroit Lions Football Co. and the Goebel Brewing Co. TV sponsor. It said that Briggs Stadium has only a capacity of 58,000 whereas TV would have a potential audience of three and a half million in the blacked-out area.

Ike Undecided on Atom Sharing

Hasn't Made Up Mind to Ask Right to Give U.S. Weapon Data to NATO

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today he had not decided whether to ask Congress for permission to share actual atomic weapons with North Atlantic Treaty forces.

The President said at his news conference that the Atomic Energy Act will have to be changed to permit closer atomic cooperation with America's Allies.

The chief executive's discussion of how far this country would go in turning over atomic weapons and information to U. S. Allies stemmed from a report from Paris. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was quoted as saying the Eisenhower administration is prepared to seek legislation permitting this country to share with NATO "pertinent information on nuclear and other weapons."

Eisenhower said it is foolish to think that this country should not share some kind of information with its allies.

He explained, however, that there is no intent to give any other country information on production of atomic weapons.

Reporters attempted to find out specifically whether Eisenhower will ask Congress to authorize the placing of atomic weapons in the hands of U. S. Allies.

That, he said, would depend entirely upon circumstances.

Local C. of C. Elects Five New Directors

New directors who will serve three-year terms are Floyd H. Baker, D. B. Eames, Homer C. Jackson, William H. Knudsen and John P. Niggeman.

At its first meeting of 1954 on Jan. 4, the board will elect officers.

Balky Prisoner Deadline Nears

U. N. Considers Playing Yule Carols in Effort to Influence Pro-Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied campaign to win back balky war prisoners appeared to have collapsed today and an Indian spokesman said 22 Americans and 1 Briton who chose communism are fully aware that time is running out.

Two POW leaders who conferred yesterday with Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya said it made no difference to them that the 90-day period for interviews expires in one week—Dec. 23.

There appeared to be virtually no chance that the Americans and Briton would agree to attend interviews before the deadline.

And the U.N. Command considered other ways of reaching the prisoners — including Christmas carols broadcast over the compound public address system.

One officer said "a number of things" are under consideration, including a request to the Indian command for permission to send explainers right into the compound.

Gen. Thimayya, chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, reiterated today that Indian troops will free unrepatriated Americans, British, Korean and Chinese prisoners or turn them back to their captors Jan. 22.

If the Indians should turn prisoners back to their captors, Allied officials said, 22,300 anti-Red Chinese and North Koreans would be promptly freed.

With the explanations all but finished, it seemed that the only likelihood any of the 22 American prisoners would come home was if they turned themselves in to Indian guards.

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Assistant to the Editor

Pontiac's new model, Star Chief, is being announced by R. M. Critchfield, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division. Beautifully styled, the new series is 11 inches longer in over all length on a two inch longer wheelbase.

Flashing the distinctive 1954 look, the new Pontiacs, featuring the Star Chief, will be unveiled by dealers here and across the country on Friday, Dec. 18.

In Pontiac the new cars will be on display at the Pontiac Retail Store, 63 Mt. Clemens St., at Mill.

"The new line has a two inch longer wheelbase and a more powerful eight cylinder engine," said H. E. Crawford, General Sales Manager of the Division.

The '54 Pontiacs will again feature the dual range hydramatic, which is the most widely used of all automatic transmissions.

The three new lines of Pontiac for 1954 are:

1—The Star Chief series on a 124-inch wheelbase with four models, custom four door sedan, custom Catalina, deluxe four door sedan and deluxe convertible;

Three chrome stars on the rear fender fin will be the mark of distinction for the four models in the Star Chief series. Another feature will be chrome moulding which blends with new and larger tail lights and a special trunk lid moulding.

Mercury to Dip Near 10 Tonight

Last Night's Cold Snap Drops Temperatures to Season's Low

More frigid weather, with a low near 10 degrees, was forecast for the Pontiac area tonight as a cold snap sent the thermometer to 11 degrees here this morning.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts fair skies tonight and partly cloudy weather Thursday, with a high of only 18 to 22 degrees.

The mercury dipped to 11 above at 8 a.m., a full eight degrees under Tuesday's 19 degree low for the season. The thermometer struggled up to 20 at 2 p.m. today, well under Tuesday's high of 30 degrees.

Pontiac's three AAA service stations were swamped with some 200 calls by mid-morning as autos developed frozen radiators and gas lines, and a dozen other cold-weather ailments. Many luckier drivers headed for gas stations to give their cars "booster" shots of anti-freeze to prepare for tonight's chill.

Claims 3 GIs With Reds Really Want to Return

SEOUL (AP)—A South Korean prisoner returned here from the pro-Communist POW camp at Panmunjom today was quoted as saying he had talked with "three Americans who desire repatriation."

Pfc. Kim Mun Du, who bolted the pro-Red camp and asked for repatriation, arrived here in an American ambulance after being turned over to the Allies by the Indian command this afternoon. He told his story to ROK army officers.

Newsmen were not allowed to talk to Kim. But Col. Choi Kak Kyun, who interviewed him, quoted him as saying:

"A few of the 22 Americans who the Reds say do not want repatriation are willing to come home. I talked with three Americans who desire repatriation."

Choi said Kim knew some English.

Kim was quoted as saying most of the 77 South Koreans who, along with 22 Americans and 1 Briton, have not been interviewed, desire repatriation. Choi said Kim told him the Reds apparently did not want to give these prisoners a chance to come home.

Plan to Move Farmers' Mart

New Site After Jan. 1 Will Be the County 4-H Grounds

Oakland County's farmers' market in Pontiac is due to move to the county 4-H grounds at Walton Boulevard and Perry St. shortly after Jan. 1.

Leroy Currin of Milford, chairman of the Oakland County Producers Committee, said his group will meet with directors of the county 4-H unit tonight at 8 p. m. to discuss details of the move. The meeting is scheduled for Oakland County's Agricultural Extension offices at 1260 West Blvd.

"We'll keep having markets Tuesdays and Thursdays as long as we stay at 40 Mill St.," Currin said. "We'll cancel everything but our Saturday markets while we stay at the 4-H grounds."

Using the 4-H grounds is just a stop-gap measure, Currin said, until the county gets a new, permanent market built.

Currin pointed out that Pontiac City, now sole owner of the Mill street market building, asked the county to move the market out by Dec. 31. The city and county used to run the market jointly, the city owning 40 per cent and the county, 60 per cent.

Pontiac bought out the county's interest this fall for $48,890. City commissioners plan to use the building for off-street parking.

Hotel Fire Routes 500

KANSAS CITY (AP) — About 500 persons were routed from their rooms by a minor fire in the Muehleback Hotel in downtown Kansas City early today.

Over 200 Planes Will Pay Tribute to First Flight

KITTY HAWK, N. C. (AP) — The armed services marshalled today the greatest military air tribute ever paid to the Wright brothers and to the place where they flew the world's first powered airplane.

More than 200 airplanes, helicopters and blimps, from a wide range of bases throughout the southern and eastern states, were assigned places in a great air show to commorate the golden anniversary of powered flight.

A Pentagon spokesman said it was easily the most elaborate air event of 1953, "bigger even than the National Aircraft Show at Dayton last fall."

Today was "Defense Day" at the four-day anniversary celebration. The defense motif was stressed also in luncheon addresses by Donald A. Quarles, assistant secretary of defense, and retired Gen. George C. Kenney, who was Douglas MacArthur's air commander during World War II.

FBI Seizes 3 in Truck Theft

Trio Linked to Robbery of $50,000 Shipment of Cigarettes Here

The FBI announced today that it has arrested three men on charges of receiving and possessing stolen property in connection with the theft of a $50,000 shipment of cigarettes from Pontiac in October.

Fred H. McIntire, special agent in charge of the Detroit FBI office, identified those arrested as Mack Dixon, 27, of Belleville; Lawrence Prieur, 21, of Detroit; and William Binder, 36, of Detroit.

He said Dixon was seized by FBI agents yesterday in Cleveland and Prieur was nabbed last night in Detroit. Binder was arrested Nov. 17 in Detroit.

McIntire said the trio has been indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit on charges of receiving and possessing furniture, floor heaters and ironing boards which were stolen while being moved in inter-state commerce from Indiana and Ohio.

The merchandise was loaded on a trailer which contained a $50,000, intra-state cigarette shipment from Detroit to Pontiac. The trailer-truck was stolen from the National Transit Co. loading dock here Oct. 26, and later found abandoned near Flat Rock.

Chester Rudzinski of Detroit was killed near Trenton in a flaming crash Oct. 28 while fleeing from FBI agents. Part of the cigarette shipment was found in his possession.

McIntire said Dixon was arraigned yesterday in Cleveland and is being held on $5,000 bond.

Binder was arraigned Nov. 17 in Detroit and was released on $3,000 bond and Prieur will be arraigned in Detroit today, added McIntire.

Airline Service to Rush Mail to Smaller Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Holiday mail may be delivered faster to smaller cities this year as a result of a Civil Aeronautics Board directive.

The board yesterday authorized 14 local-service airlines throughout the country to carry until Jan. 11 ordinary first-class letters, newspapers and special handling and special delivery parcel post. Such mail normally goes by train or truck.

Senator Nichols Cites 4 Reasons Issue Is Illegal

Over State Debt Limit, Vote of People Needed, Are Two Arguments

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) petitioned the State Supreme Court today to stop the sale of $99,800,000 in revenue bonds to finance the construction of the proposed Mackinac Straits bridge.

Nichols asked the court for a write of prohibition staying the state administrative board from approving the bonds, on which bids are to be opened at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

These, he said, are:

1—That the bonds exceed the $250,000 debt limit imposed in the Constitution which can only be exceeded by vote of the people.

2—That a vote of the people is necessary before the bond issue can be floated.

3—That the legislature's grant of $417,000 for an annual maintenance payment on the bridge is an implied guarantee of the bonds in violation of the Constitution.

4—That the diversion of the funds from highway revenues for the bridge maintenance might impair revenues pledged for expressway and the entire highway program.

Nichols charged that the bond issue "could easily result in a chaotic situation to the entire highway system if said bonds went into default."

He said the state then would be forced to redeem the bonds in such a case.

Nichols also contended that a bond default necessitating state rescue efforts would endanger the highway fund which, by a constitutional amendment, is earmarked for general highway purposes.

He contended the bond issue is an attempt to circumvent the Constitution. He asked the court to take testimony to show that the bond issue is a sound financing method rather than a "little publicized hodge-podge method with one end in view only, validation of said bonds with litle or no thought as to whether said bonds will be paid on maturity. . ."

Another stumbling block to the bridge was the unexpected and strong blast delivered yesterday by State Treasurer D. Hale Brake against the proposed financing plan.

Declaring the financing cost "is out of all reason," Brake charged that the bridge would cost $193,000,000, including interest charges, although the actual construction contracts total less than $81,000,000.

The bonds offered are for 40 years duration, but the authority said it expected to pay them off in 25 years.

Brake argued that the state would save $64,000,000 if if issued full-faith-and-credit bonds backed by a vote of the people, rather than the presently planned revenue bonds.

Local Businessman to Fill Police Trial Board Post

Druggist Stephen J. Cloonan, 48, was appointed last night to the Police Trial Board by Pontiac City Commission.

S. J. CLOONAN

Since graduating from Ferris Institute of Technology in 1926, Cloonan has engaged in the pharmacy business here.

Gump resigned from the five-man board Nov. 19 after establishing residency in Lansing. Board members must live in Pontiac.

Bakers Protest Controls

PARIS (AP)—Bakers in Paris and many other French cities closed shop for 24 hours today to protest against price controls. They claim their take has not been changed since 1951 although expenses have mounted steadily.

Mother of Dead GI Hopes 22 With Reds Will Return

A mother whose oldest son died of Red mistreatment has called for forgiveness of the 22 pro-Communist GIs in Korea if they decide to "escape Communist enslavement."

"They must be a bunch of misguided boys who don't know what they're getting into.

"I would love to see each of them leave the Reds—the people who killed my son as surely as if they had shot him in battle."

The appeal to the pro-Red American soldiers was made in a faltering voice by Mrs. William Larson, 566 Lenox Ave.

She made it yesterday afternoon as she prepared to go to the funeral home to view the body of her son, M. Sgt. Martin A. Strahan.

The 36-year-old sergeant died Sunday in a Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Hospital because his Red captors fed him starvation rations during his 37-month confinement in Korea. He suffered a heart condition caused by beriberi.

"He was home only about three months before he died," said Mrs. Larson. "He scarcely had time to appreciate his return to our free land.

"If only those boys who want communism could realize the advantages and opportunities in this country . . . If only they could realize.

"They must be young—in age or in mind. Otherwise they couldn't have been swayed.

"My Martin wasn't swayed. He told me the Reds said they would break his will if it were the last thing they did. They didn't break his will. They broke his body, instead.

"He told me he suffered. He said they tried to force him to give up freedom.

"But he told me, 'Mother, they didn't succeed. I would make my mind a blank when they talked to me. I didn't want to listen to them.'"

Mrs. Larson said she couldn't explain the 22 GI's insistence to remain Communists.

School Board Discusses Problems in Connection With Growing Enrollment

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Well along on their building program of five additions and two new schools, Board of Education members last night turned to their next step in meeting a swelling student population.

They reported no response from developer Arthur Nechman to their offer of $1,250 per acre for a 22-acre site in the Troy Township triangle bounded by Adams, Buckingham and the Grand Trunk Railroad.

This would be used for an elementary school, and Adams School would be returned to junior high status, instead of its present elementary use.

"We should start thinking of a new junior high and try to finance it without an increase in tax burden," Board President Ernest Seaholm said, adding, "We are ahead on the payment of our 1950 bonds."

Supt. of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland said student population has now hit 6,950 and will soon reach 7,000. "We must start considering additional sites and mapping the location of the school population," he said.

"We need to open a new classroom every three weeks to keep up with the increase in students," the superintendent stated. "Even if we had the money, we could hardly build fast enough."

The Board of Education received a request from Richard Freund, 2555 W. Lone Pine Rd., that certain Christmas carols not be taught or used in school services. The problem was discussed. No action was taken.

City Denies Request for Sewers, Water

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission has turned down a request for sewer and water facilities for a five-acre portion of the Troy Township island within the city limits known as the Porritt property.

Owners, the W. E. Reid Development Co., are presently circulating annexation petitions for the 40 acre Adams road site, which would place the question on Birmingham's April ballot, and bring a special election in Troy.

They sought the facilities to accelerate their building program on the land on which they plan to erect 240 residential units.

The commission offered an arrangement which would terminate the services if the annexation failed, but the owners said this would not allow them to get a needed mortgage.

'Y' to Seek Aid for Building

Birmingham Gets Green Light in Fund Drive for Permanent Home

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham YMCA got the green light last night to seek $1,500,000 for a permanent building.

The Metropolitan YMCA Building Committee approved the local branch's request to ask the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund of the United Foundation to back the expansion.

"Y" Secretary Edwin Kirbert pointed out that the local 'Y' is just one of 150 Detroit-area agencies applying for aid, but the move has the support of the local churches, school board, police department, Recreation Board and many civic and service clubs.

It would contain a large and small gym, swimming pool, social club rooms, handball and squash courts and between 50 and 90 dormitory rooms, Kirbert said. Structural steel and brick construction is envisioned.

Kirbert said the request will come up some time in January.

Military Honors for Sgt. Strahan

GI First to Be Captured by Reds Will Be Buried Here Thursday

Full military service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. for Sgt. Martin A. Strahan, Jr., 36, in Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

The service will be under the auspices of the Oakland County Veterans Bureau. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Sgt. Strahan, who was the first American soldier captured in the Korean War, died Sunday in the U. S. Navy Hospital in Chicago. His death is attributed to a disease contracted while a prisoner of the Reds.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. William Larson of 56 Lenox St., his father, Martin A. Strahan in New Orleans, La., four brothers and two sisters.

Moose Lodge of which he was a member conducted a service in the funeral home last night.

Pontiac Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, 53½ W. Huron St., will close Thursday in honor of Sgt. Stranahan. Recruiting Sgt. Arthur F. Bowen said a chaplain would conduct the service, and a burial detail and bugler from Selfridge Air Force Base will be on hand.

Morse Code Proves Strictly for the Birds

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jack have been improving their Morse code speed by practicig at home. Then Mrs. Jack began hearing the code at odd times when she wasn't practicing. The sound seemed to be coming from outside the house.

It turned out to be a mocking bird which apparently thought it had learned a new song and was peeping out the "dit-dit-dahs" in authentic Morse code rhythm.

Ann Arbor Santa Helper Plays Role for 50 Years

ANN ARBOR (UP)—A 14-year-old boy trudged through snowy streets of this college town one Christmas Eve with a doll cradle under his arm.

He stopped at a rundown house in the poorer section, rapped on the door and went in. There a girl was seriously ill with diphtheria. The boy handed her the cradle, watched her face light up with a smile, then departed.

"Your gift," a doctor said later, "meant more to that girl than any medicine in the world."

That was 50 years ago. That "boy" is now a man of 64.

But Al Warnoff still is bringing happiness to crippled, orphaned and needy children. With his own hands he has made some 23,000 toys in the last half century.

This year some 1,500 piggy banks, rocking horses, miniature chairs and tables, and streamlined boats are stacked in his basement, the closets and in the attic ready to make some child happy.

A carpenter by trade but Santa's helper at night, Warnoff now gets help in buying materials and distributing his toys from the local Kiwanis Club. Until eight years ago, he did it all.

The women also have chipped in. They dress his dolls and decorate his dollhouses.

"That's where I get my kick," he said. "Just one smile and I feel I've been repaid a hundred times."

Warnoff's "Santa" route this year has so far included stops at Jackson, Ypsilanti and Lansing. As he does every year, he delivered gifts to the Michigan School for the Blind on Monday.

It was there a year ago that one of his infrequent roles as "Santa" flopped.

"I was passing out presents when a little blind girl asked to meet Santa. Someone brought her over to where I was. She reached out, touched my hand and then patted my stomach."

That was Warnoff's undoing. He weighs only 126 pounds. The girl felt his lean form and said:

"You can't be Santa, you must be one of his helpers."

Cold Attracts Dust

PITTSBURGH (INS)—A temperature difference of only one degree between the walls of your home and the warmer air in your room will cause dust and dirt to settle on the walls, home planning experts report. Nail heads and plaster laths, presenting cold surfaces, are particularly attractive to dirt.

Kansas State College Razes Last Barracks

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UP)—"Splinterville" is no more.

The last of 16 Army barracks used to house 384 male students at Kansas State College after World War II has been razed.

Use of the barracks enabled Kansas State to accept students who otherwise would have been turned away for lack of housing during record enrollments after the war. The college stopped using the barracks in 1950.

Honey of An Excuse

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UP) — Baseball games have been called on account of darkness or because of inclement weather, but the umpire at a recent game at St. David's public school here came up with "game called on account of bees." When the school's second baseman raced to scoop up a ball, he gathered up a partially constructed beehive instead.

Lard oil was the first cutting lubricant machinists used.

New Kind of Butter

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — The No. 1 problem in Washington these days is "butter," according to U. S. Sen. Stiles Bridges (R-N. H.).

But not the kind you spread on bread. Bridges told a group of farmers. He said he was referring to persons who are "for economy, but . . . er" — so long as it doesn't affect them.

About 240 million people speak English as their primary language.

Stranger Takes Gun

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Mrs. Tom Kinder said a stranger knocked on the door and asked to see "the pistol your husband is going to sell me." Mrs. Kinder told the man that her husband owned a shotgun but not a pistol. The stranger asked if he could see it, Mrs. Kinder handed over the shotgun and the man ran away with it.

Bluegrass State Boasting of Eggnogs at Christmas

LOUSIVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Kentucky, famed for its bourbon, beautiful women and fine horses, also brags at this time of the year about its eggnog.

The Bluegrass State's mixing experts say any good nog is laced up tightly with bourbon, a native of the state. But they differ on the other ingredients. Some use rum as one of the additions; others add a bit of apple brandy or sherry.

Former Vice-President Alben Barkley and his wife, Jane, confess they don't serve eggnog at Christmas—just sherry. But several renowned recipes are available.

Louisville's exclusive Pendennis Club has been using this recipe since 1900.

Mix three cups of sugar with yolks of 12 eggs. Drip a quart of bourbon into the mixture slowly, stirring it constantly as if making mayonnaise dressing. Whip one quart double cream very stiff and after mixture of bourbon, eggs and sugar has completely mingled, stir in the whipped cream. Sprinkle a little nutmeg over the top of the mixture. Add stiffly beaten whites of six eggs to it just before serving, folding in on top.

The late Col. E. R. Bradley, breeder of four Kentucky Derby winners, served a recipe he called "the one-one-for-one" at his Idle Hour Farm in the Bluegrass country. Similar recipes are used at other horse farms. It goes like this:

1 dozen eggs, 1 quart whipping cream, 1 quart bourbon whisky, 1 quart coffee cream, half-cup of rum, and 1 cup sugar.

One old recipe used in the Louisville area calls for both apple brandy and rum along with bourbon.

One pint whisky, ½ pint apple brandy, ¼ pint rum, 60 lumps of sugar (about 1¼ cups), 12 eggs (beaten separately), and 1 quart whipping cream. Pour liquors over sugar and let stand overnight, stirring occasionally. Next morning beat egg whites until they're stiff. Add cream and nutmeg on top of mixture.

Another old Kentucky recipe features sherry:

2 eggs well beaten, 4 teaspoons of sugar, ¼ cup best sherry, 1¾ cups milk (chilled). Then add whipped cream and spinkle with nutmeg. Beat eggs with the sugar. Add wine and milk. Serve garnished with whipped cream and nutmeg.

Cissie Gregg, food editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal provides this recipe, one used by Jennie Benedict, a famous caterer to Louisville society during the latter part of the 19th century.

12 eggs, separated, 12 tablespoons whisky (three-fourths cup), 12 tablespoons Jamaica rum, 1½ pints of whipped cream. Beat eggs until light, add sugar gradually and beat again until light. Then add whisky and rum slowly, continue beating. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and then the whipped cream.

Woman Ran State

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A woman recently ran Connecticut for the first time in its 300-year history. Secretary of State Alice K. Leopold took over when Gov. John Lodge went to an out-of-state conference. The lieutenant-governor and senate president, the usual gubernatorial stand-ins, also were away at the time.

Ike's Long Range Program

When the Eisenhower Administration went into office last January it felt it had a mandate from the people to develop a long range program for more economical and efficient government.

That mandate was given by the voters as a result of campaign pledges to reduce taxes, drive subversives out of Government and re-examine the whole defense setup. Sound progress has been made on this program.

For example, the new Joint Chiefs of Staff have been giving long term defense costs careful study in addition to the substantial spending cuts already made. As a result they believe these costs can be cut from $43 to $30 billion a year.

Also proposed is a changed manpower procurement program under which 500,000 fewer men would be required in the armed services. Under this plan all able bodied young men except ministers, conscientious objectors and sole surviving sons would be given either six months military training or two years in the service.

This change would produce two results, while still providing the Nation with almost unlimited, trained manpower. It would cut costs by reason of the smaller number of men in active service, and it would reduce the number of men required to serve more than the minimum six months except in time of war.

Among other important items on the Administration program is a long range housing plan to provide a million homes a year for moderate income families. Also high on the list is improvement of the Social Security system and extension of coverage to 10,500,000 additional persons.

Excellent progress already has been made by the Administration in clearing subversives out of Government. Up to the end of October under the Eisenhower loyalty program 1,456 persons classed as security risks had been removed from Government payrolls. There'll be no let up in this effort until the cleanup is complate. Administration leaders promise.

Two other important features of the long range program — foreign trade and domestic farm policy — are under intensive study by two specially named commissions. These groups are expected to report in time for action during the coming session of Congress.

Finally, individual and corporate income tax cuts effective January 1, and multibillion dollar economies already made are solid proof of Administration action All this promises still more future tax relief and a start on cutting down the tremendous national debt built up under the New Deal and Fair Deal Administrations.

1953 Polio Toll Lighter

Though polio continues to take its toll in Pontiac and Oakland County, there are some cheering facts in Health Director Monroe's 1953 report on this dread disease.

A highlight is the sharp reduction in the number of fatalities, seven in the county, including one in Pontiac, against 20 last year. Also important is the big decline in the total number of cases.

During this year 239 persons were stricken with polio in the county. Of these 86 were left with some paralysis. This is 97 fewer cases than the 336 reported last year when there was paralysis in 95 cases.

City cases this year numbered 37, with only one death and paralysis reported in 11. In 1952 Pontiac had 50 cases with five deaths and paralysis in 12.

While the report did not say so, the use of gamma globulin may have been a factor in reducing the number of cases. Unfortunately the supply was limited and it could be given only to members of households where polio had appeared. One can hope, however, that gamma globulin will be more plentiful next year and that more detailed knowledge of its value will be available.

★ ★ ★

It is good to know that fewer of our friends and neighbors have suffered from this scourge in 1953. It is even better to realize that science may be nearer than anyone now dares hope to the day when it can announce the conquest of poliomyelitis.

Downtown Bright and Gay

But this is no ordinary time and traditionalists at least welcomed the white stuff as the one needed touch to complete downtown Pontiac's Yuletide decorations.

Snow, of course, doesn't stay long in the business area. But after the storm had passed just enough of it remained on the Christmas greenery, bells and lights festooning Saginaw Street to remind everyone that most people in this latitude like white Christmases.

We don't know what Christmas weather will be like. But we do know the merchants individually and through their division of the Chamber of Commerce have done a fine job of decorating the stores and downtown area.

Pontiac never looked in a cheerier mood.

Man has never been able to read the handwriting on the wall when history did the writing.

Migrating Birds on the Increase in This Area

Innocence: Part of that familiar quotation, "When innocence is bliss 'tis folly to make eyes."

It is conservatively estimated that over 5,000 wild geese and 10,000 wild ducks have been stopping over on Oakland County lakes on their southern migration. At Kent Lake alone, 600 geese and 2,500 ducks were counted in one day. Cass, Pontiac, Orchard and other lakes also have had big numbers. Many of the birds are staying over until ice closes the lakes. Park attendants say the number shows a big increase each year.

says the chances are four out of five that we will have a white Christmas. In the 40 years he has been keeping tab, 32 have been white.

"Nobody could be more entitled to it," says

In the 50 years ago items I note that a baby named

Mortimer Allen Neff

was born in Pontiac on Dec. 5. That marked the start of

"Mr. Michigan Outdoors,"

now a resident of Grosse Pointe Park.

I like that traffic sign near an Oakland County school:

"Use your eyes; save pupils."

In case you're interested, a technique has been patented that preserves the head on a glass of beer up to a half hour or more.

Paper now is being used for all sorts of things, including snow fences. Under the direction of its Superintendent, the Oakland County Road Commission is trying it out. It consists of two strips of heavy paper, weather-proofed and each about a foot wide and stretched between posts, and is intended to supplant the old fashioned wooden picket kind.

Oscar Loomis,

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Now in the Christmas season, I wonder how many stop to think of the less fortunate ones, who have nothing to make their Christmas merry.

Some of these people are bed ridden invalids who have no known relatives to share their happiness. Many had homes, and lost them through taxes, sickness, foreclosures, etc.

If we could step into some of these homes it would open our eyes to this critical problem. Something should be done. America owes these people a better pension.

Pensions for these people are small. They would not be used to buy luxuries such as a Christmas dinner, but necessities such as medicine.

Let's hope and pray that these people will be better taken care of during the holiday season and always.

Hillman Says Slowdown Will Stir Red Action

I don't wholly agree with "Navy Officer" regarding our boys overseas.

There are two ways to look at this situation. Can we, the so-called West, stop an attack by Russia? We know that England, France and Italy are 90 per cent pro Commie.

Second by sending our troops all over the world are we not endangering our own home defense?

My fear is this, should there be a slump in production and major layoffs, the agents of Russia would start to take over. May I remind you of the answer Joe Stallin gave our American reporter at Potsdam in 1938? No need to repeat it. This is my answer to "Navy Officer." For God and Country.

944 GIs Still Held Prisoners in Korea Example of Today's Moral Cowardice

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This is an age of cruel indifference toward some of those human beings who go forth to make the maximum sacrifice for their country.

The story of the forgotten 944 Americans who the Chinese Communists have refused to return is a tragic example of how officialdom shrugs its shoulders and, fearful of offending Allies, does nothing about the American boys who were supposed to have been returned when the Korean truce was signed.

There are 944 of them—separate and distinct from the 22 who have been "brain washed" at the repatriation camp.

These 944 Americans were spirited away to hiding places behind the Iron Curtain because they are technicians valuable to the Communists. This happened just before the truce came.

The Korean truce agreement pledged that all prisoners should be returned. The American government knew about the 944 and still kept on talking at Panmunjom.

Now the talks are lagging and the "political conference," which was hailed as the great sequel to the armistice, is apparently not to be held—no time or place for it has been fixed, and there is no sign that such a conference will ever be called.

Meanwhile, the United States government—which once upon a time would take drastic measures to secure respect for its troops—now says nothing and does nothing about the 944 Americans still held by the Communists in flagrant violation of the armistice terms.

Dispatches from Panmunjom show that out of the 944 Americans, there are about 312 from the U.S. Air Force, 19 Marines and three Navy men and about 610 ground troops.

The government here knows a lot about them, and so do the officials of the U.N. Command in the Far East. But the whole thing has been soft-pedaled.

It is as if the American government were afraid to let the people in this country know the facts because some might demand that action be taken.

The facts concerning the prisoners have been gathered from fellow prisoners who have been returned in recent months and from other sources. Many of the missing Americans are technicians, who, under compulsion, can be forced to help the Communists on the instruments of modern war such as are involved in airborne and ground operations.

The Americans who were returned at Panmunjom have been intensively questioned, and the data gathered in a comprehensive manner. Most of the missing now have been identified. It is known they wanted to come home.

Except for an army communique last September, there has been no official protest or anything said publicly about the matter. Military men in the Far East refer to the missing men now as a "diplomatic problem."

State department officials say the missing men are not yet under their jurisdiction, and will not be until it is known whether there is to be a "political conference" to attempt to settle the Korean questions. It's a buck-passing fiasco.

The Communists doubtless expect to use the missing prisoners as pawns—as a means of forcing admission of Red China into the U.N., or the withdrawal of United Nations troops from Korea.

This humiliating story is well known in official circles. But there is a callousness nowadays about such things. The Dulles statement not long ago, confessing that it is difficult to do the right thing for America nowadays because our Allies might be offended, was made apropos of criticism that the European Allies were continuing to trade with the Communists.

One wonders how long it is going to be before boys who are drafted are going to ask if they are to be sent to battle in "local wars" and then abandoned.

For the troops that went to Korea were not permitted to use maximum power to win the victory, as recommended by Gen. MacArthur. This was because our Allies did not approve.

With all the enthusiasm manifested by so many Americans for the U.N., that organization doesn't seem to care a bit, either, about the 944 Americans held captive and forced into slavery while fighting under the United Nations banner.

The families of the missing Americans do care, however, and maybe some other Americans do, too.

The problem of the 944 Americans cannot be suppressed. It is an example of the moral cowardice of present-day diplomacy in alliances that work only one way—the sending of money and supplies to Allies without any reciprocal agreement to defend the rights of American citizens who went to war in Korea in their behalf.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Bachelor, 41, Finds He Played Field Too Long

Ivan's case shows that a man mustn't play the field too long in picking a wife. In the teens, it is desirable to date many members of the opposite sex. But after 21, begin to narrow your range, or you'll never be able to make up your mind.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I wish you had your Scientific Dating Bureau in action," he said with a rueful smile.

"For I think it is time I got married. I've drifted along until now I suddenly realize I am beginning to grow old, and I have no wife.

"Oh, I've never lacked girl friends or dates. In fact, I was elected the most popular man at the university.

"And I'm always being invited by my friends to escort their visiting unmarried relatives. But somehow I could never make up my mind.

"Do you suppose it is possible to have too many dates and too many girl friends?"

he is not only handsome, but is cultured, athletic and wealthy, too.

But he has had so many girls at his beck and call that he couldn't decide.

In sales psychology we stress the danger of offering too many choices to a customer.

Oh, we let the shopper view a number of hats or bolts of cloth, but when she shows a tendency to shift between two, we usually eliminate the others and focus on those two.

So Ivan is quite correct in suggesting that he was too popular. You teen-agers should date several members of the opposite sex during high school years, and also till you pass the age of 21.

But after 21, begin to narrow your range of selection and date one person fairly regularly. For you can learn to love an individual if you go out with him (or her) steadily and enjoy movies, parties, dances and other good times together.

"Mother doesn't mind my dating a different boy every night," a coed recently informed me, "but she doesn't like for me to date the same boy very often."

That strategy is common among parents who realize there is much truth in the old adage that "There's safety in numbers."

For as long as a person is dating many eligibles, he is not likely to elope or marry unwisely.

On the other hand, you can dawdle along too many years as a social butterfly. So don't go beyond the age of 30, gloating over your great popularity.

That was Ivan's error. He failed to narrow his choices down to two or three girls and then give one of them an extensive "rush."

Picking a wife is something like selecting a new automobile. If you try a different car each day, you don't become sufficiently attached to any make or model to become prejudiced in its favor.

So I introduced Ivan to one of my secretaries who had the qualities needed to make him an excellent wife.

However, I told her that she was taking a risk, for Ivan was already so set in his ways that he was quite "old bachelorish".

As a rule, if you girls marry a man past 35, it is better to choose a widower than a bachelor.

For the widower has already been house broken by his previous wife, so he'll have more consideration for you and be less selfish.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Often wondered what became of Young Scopes who dared teach the Darwin Theory in Dayton, Tennessee. Doesn't seem almost 30 years since Darrow and Bryan tangled up with forks and spaghetti.

I covered that trial for the out-of-town papers. Although it wasn't a murder trial I got away with it.

Young Scopes was about the only sincere citizen at the sorcerer's jamboree. I hear he is now a geologist down south living as quietly as a fellow making trout flies.

Here's some of the gags I wrote at the time the fundamentalists were fleeing from Mr. Darwin's Theory on all-fours.

That line was one of them. Bill Bryan asked me what particular ape I was descended from. I told him the ape wasn't particular.

Bryan insisted the Darwin Theory was no mammy song to him. It looked like the trial might be postponed because the jury wouldn't eat in captivity.

The very fair judge announced that applause would be forbidden either with the hands or the feet. Bryan claimed that Darrow's face was leading the witness.

'We suggested to Darrow it might be a good idea to bring his client into court. Bryan opened his speech by saying to Darrow, "If my distinguished colleague is an ape I am not his esteemed contemporary."

Darrow hubbed up and rebutted, "Let he who is without ancestors cast the first coconut."

Darrow insinuated that Bryan had four thumbs. He said Bryan's repudiation of the Darwin Theory merely meant he had bolted another party. Dudley Field Malone walked in carrying a gold-headed banana stalk. Darrow suggested to Bryan that they climb a tree and talk the thing over.

Bryan asked Darrow, "Where were you trapped?" Darrow answers, "When did you escape?"

Dr. Brady Asks More Family Doctors, Fewer Clinics and Trick Specialists

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Several physicians, a few real specialits and many laymen have written to approve pieces printed here about two evils of the business of medicine, namely trick specialists and clinic racketeers.

These two evils, I think, signalize the conversion of the profession of medicine to business.

Only bona fide clinics and real specialists were recognized when medicine was a profession.

It is not encouraging to note that nearly all of these applause letters virtually cry "Hit him again, Brady, he's Irish."

I'd have you know, ladies and gentlemen, I'm fighting the trick specialists and clinic racketeers, not just cause I like to fight, but because I believe that you credulous folk must know the truth about these evils if we are to get the family doctor back in American life.

Throughout the country, the last census of physicians showed, one out of every three doctors was a specialist. This is absurd.

But what else can we expect from the present standard of medical education — it takes at least 10 years after high school to get into practice.

Here I must explain to new readers that a real specialist knows no more than a general practitioner does, except in his limited branch of practice.

His knowledge or skill in that field is recognized by the doctors of the community, who seek the specialist's counsel in difficult cases or refer patients to the specialist for advice or treatment.

There are only a few real specialists. They do not compete with the general practioners for public patronage. They are doctors' doctors.

People nowadays complain of the high cost of medical care but are themselves largely responsible for it.

They not only fall for the clinic racket but when they need a doctor, except in an emergency or in the middle of the night, they scorn the "ordinary" doctor and go to a specialist.

If the specialist accepts them as patients he is a trick specialist; a real specialist would refer them to their family physician.

And what if they have no family physician? That's the trouble with so many today — they mess around with their pet trick specialists from year to year, until eventually they need a regular doctor and haven't one.

And that is the trouble with medical education today — it takes at least 10 years to make a doctor, and that, I contend, is an excessive levy on the doctor's productive professional life.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Aviation Sees Amazing Future

Fully Automatic Flight at Supersonic Speeds 'Distinct Possibility'

WASHINGTON—In 25 years, perhaps sooner, an airlines passenger will leave New York by jet at noon and arrive in Los Angeles—also at noon.

His plane will be flown by robot electronic brains. On arrival, a multi-engined helicopter will take him to a downtown heliport.

United States aviation, fifty years after Kitty Hawk, is about to enter this era, Emory S. Land, president of the Air Transport Association of America, writes in the December National Geographic Magazine. He predicts such a trip and gives details.

Today's scientific progress in the air foresees much more radical developments — passengers and freight traveling "several thousand miles per hour"—Hugh L. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, says in the same issue.

"I believe 1956 will see a jet transport introduced in domestic operation and another placed in service by a United States transatlantic carrier," Admiral Land writes. He adds that Boeing will probably test-fly a jet transport in 1954.

"In 10 to 15 years jetliners of American manufacture may replace most piston-driven aircraft on transcontinental routes. . . and big multi-engined 50-passenger helicopters will replace fixed-wing aircraft on many routes of less than 300 miles."

Electronic advances in the last five years have made jet operation feasible, the ATA president reports. One airline already dispatches hypothetical "paper jets" cross-country daily as training for real jet flights.

Completely automatic flight is a "distinct probability" in aviation's second half century, Admiral Land predicts. Electronic brains will take airliners off, fly them to their destinations, and land them safely and smoothly. Human pilots will ride only as monitors for the robots.

Dr. Dryden cites the amazing speed records of recent months, which have now surpassed twice sound's speed, as evidence of the growing store of aeronautical knowledge. NACA guided missles have already traveled over four times the speed of sound, he reveals.

Ancient Motorist Setting Many Driving Records

He has been driving 35 years, without an accident.

His car is 25 years old.

He recently passed his test for renewal of his driver's license.

His comment on modern conditions:

Need Protection for Transition

Still Behind Policies of GOP Administration Despite Attacks

By H. G. ARRIS & L. O. WARNER
Providence Journal-Bulletin

(Fourth and last of a series on a survey of trends in the nation's farm belt. A subsequent article will present views of Oakland County farmers and cattlemen.)

"You are in the richest farmland of the United States."

In actuality, though, the rich blackland of the central Middle West goes beyond Iowa's borders. It spreads over into Nebraska on the west, lower South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin on the North, and through north-central Illinois and western Indiana.

Consider these gigures:

IOWA—First state in the production of hogs, fed cattle, poultry and eggs. Second state in corn and soybeans. Third in oats and fifth in dairying.

ILLINOIS—First state in corn and soybeans. Second in hogs, fed cattle and oats. Fourth in poultry, eggs, and dairying.

INDIANA—Third state in hogs, poultry and eggs. Fourth in corn, sixth in oats.

NEBRASKA—First state in combined range and fed cattle. Third in corn. Fourth in winter wheat. Sixth in hogs, seventh in oats.

MINNESOTA—First state in oats, second in dairying, poultry and eggs. Third in fed cattle; fourth in hogs, fifth in corn.

WISCONSIN—First in dairying. Fifth in fed cattle and oats. Sixth in poultry and eggs, seventh in hogs.

Consider also, that out of $17,225,000,000 total farm income earned last year in the 20-state farm belt, six of the above states (leaving out South Dakota) accounted for $8,908,000,000, or 51.7 per cent of the total.

It is not surprising, therefore, that when farm income trends shift, as they did in 1951 and 1952, the impact comes solidly home to these black soil states.

By states, though, farm income in '52 stacked up this way:

IOWA—Total farm income down 6.3 per cent from 1951, although crop income was up 25.8 per cent.

INDIANA — Total income 1 per cent lower; crop income up 16.3 per cen.

ILLINOIS—Total income down .04 per cent; crop income up 7.7 per cent.

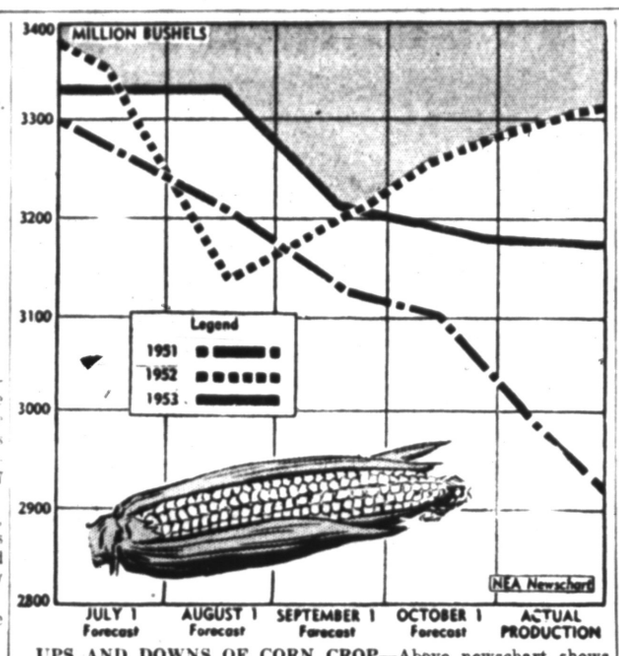

NEBRASKA—Total income down 2 per cent; crop income up 9.2 per cent.

MINNESOTA, WISCONSIN — total income stood about one per cent higher, even though livestock income was down 3.7 per cent in Minnesota and 0.1 per cent in Wisconsin, higher crop incomes making up the difference.

These spreads have broadened this year, as cattle prices continued to decline until recent weeks and despite higher hog prices throughout the year.

Against this checkerboarded background of plentiful, although shrinking dollars, we found certain basic farm program principles which the majority of farmers cling to. These were:

(1) Eventually we want to get back to free marketing and "normalcy" (freedom from government dictation).

UPS AND DOWNS OF CORN CROP—Above newschart shows corn crop forecast during the growing season and the actual amount harvested in millionb ushels from 1951 through 1953. Production was lowest in 1951, with about 2,940 million bushels produced. Highest was 1952, with over 3,300 million bushels.

(2) The transition, if we're not to go broke, will take several years, at best.

(3) We want a disaster floor under prices, during the transition which would protect us but force marginal producers out of the marketplace.

These were the principles.

Storage Recalls Plan Gone Askew

Surpluses here are very real. Thousands of aluminum bins pinpointing the countryside like miniature silos, hold millions of bushels of surplus corn acquired under the support program by CCC. They are constant reminders to farmers and to in-town businessmen as well of a farm program gone askew. They have become spectral but tangible reminders, too, of a huge supply threat overhanging prices.

So, even though farmers fundamentally are opposed to high fixed supports and allied controls, they probably would vote for marketing quotas on corn, as did wheat growers, so as to assure themselves of 90 per cent of parity support.

Even so, farmers are at the same time mortally afraid that if corn acreage were restricted in this fertile crop area, the land would be planted to soybeans; beans would flood the countryside; it would be the same old surplus problem all over again with consequent slump in prices. Soybean raising has been profitable this year.

The rich central states area, pivoting on Iowa, looks favorably upon Benson and the Eisenhower administration. As in many parts of the Middle West, the Republican team is the symbol of long-term solution of the farm quandary. But lack of communication from Washington and some uncertainty as to where Benson is heading qualifies the area's political thinking.

Majority opinion, ranging from the calmer, conservative expressions to others distinctly radical, line up behind Benson this way:

"I'd sure vote for Ike again. Benson is the best secretary of agriculture we have had in a long time. If he can take this abuse for a while he will put a lot of sound principles into effect."

Tack this down with an O'Brien County, Iowa, cattle breeder's blast:

"That guy Truman ought to go into a gopher hole and pull the hoe in after him."

We came across sober minority expressions, though, like this:

"I got along pretty well under the Democrats, and I didn't want a change. I don't think Benson is too familiar with the farm problems. I'd take Brannan (former agriculture secretary) any time over him."

Illinois and Iowa in GOP Column

All in all, Illinois and Iowa seemed to us to be safely in the Republican column, at least at this point. This opinion throws doubt on re-election possibilities of Democratic Senators Douglas, of Illinois, and Gillette, of Iowa. Douglas appears to us to be in real trouble.

We looked closely at the dairying sections of Minnesota and Wisconsin for the reason that we expected to find political shifts. Dairying has been a losing business.

Dairying has been declining steadily for five years, principally as a result of support programs and surpluses. Farmers have become discouraged. As one said:

"There's no future in this business."

Under the government's high support program, butter surpluses have been mounting since the end of the war. High prices have forced consumers away from butter and toward substitutes, such as margarine. In the past year even margarine consumption has dwindled so that markets for fats have shrunk.

Change in Dairy Emphasis Costly

Through the years of butter oversupply, farmers have tried to get out of the milk products business and into production of fluid milk. The transition hasn't been easy. It has been costly.

Despite these drab dairying developments, total farm income from all sources was higher last year in both Minnesota and Wisconsin than it was in the preceding year. The further drop in prices during 1953, however, indicates this year's income will fall short of '52.

In Minnesota the political atmosphere is clearer than in Wisconsin because for every dollar earned in dairying, two more were received for livestock and crops.

Southern Minnesota is a hog and cattle feeding center. In this part of the state farmers get strongly behind Benson—as strongly as in neighboring Iowa.

We found this attitude general. We sounded out Democrats and in the majority of instances unearthed such comment as:

"I'm not enough of a Democrat to critcise the man (Benson) now. He has a tough job. Let's give him time." This from a 39-year-old veteran who, with his brother-in-law, is bucking the economic pressures in dairying.

We sized up the prevailing political attitude in both Wisconsin and Minnesota as Republican, despite cross currents fairly strong at times.

Johnson's election in Wisconsin has to be put down as meaningless as a political barometer.

The state balances on the side of Republicans, although Republican sentiment is not nearly so strong as in Illinois, Iowa and Kansas.

Grass roots sentiment in Minnesota definitely is in favor of Republicans. There's little doubt of this. It may be, then, that Democratic Senator Humphrey will have a tough battle for re-election next year.

GOP Administration Still Favored

Looking across these 20 farm belt states as a whole we come back to the carefully weighed conclusion that the Eisenhower administration could win an election right now, although it has lost some ground as a result of political attacks.

Another year of deterioration in the farm economy conceivably could alter farmer sentiment. Many farm economists, though, think the worst is over, even though parity at 90 per cent on Nov. 15 reached another new low since 1941. They believe that the imbalance in cattle prices, which was responsible to a major degree for the over-all two-year slump in prices might well stabilize somewhere around these levels.

The question uppermost in the farm belt, though, is whether prices farmers pay for the goods they use will stabilize as well, or whether they will continue to decline more slowly than prices received with consequent depressing effect on the parity ratio.

It has to be borne in mind that one of the farmer's major gripes this year, as it is likely to be next year, was not so much the slump in farm prices and income as the failure of prices of other things to come down equally.

More than anything else, farm attitude toward Benson and the Eisenhower administration will hinge on what the agriculture secretary does to hasten the coming of a free farm marketing economy —or, at least, the degree to which Benson makes clear his plans toward this end. Time is shortening.

"I think Benson is an honest man and he is trying to do a good job. But he is moving much too slow. He is stalling off too long."

Those were a Wisconsin dairy farmer's words.

Has Clipped Hair for 62 Years; 'Miserable Job'

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—For 62 years, Mort Havens has clipped his fellow man. He's a barber and here is what he thinks of it:

"It's the most miserable business in the world, barbering. You stand up all day if you want to make any money, and you can't even get loose to grab a sandwich."

Havens, son of a barber, began cropping craniums when he was 13 and is believed to have cut more than 250,000 heads of hair. He made his remarks on the eve of his retirement.

Mort's first customer was a local saloonkeeper who asked for the then 10-cent shave.

"He told me, 'Don't be nervous, kid,' and I was doing all right until I got down around the chin," Havens recalled. "He had bristles on him like a broom, but I got them all off all right."

Havens credits his success as a barber to the ability to keep quiet.

"I never believed in this ear-bending barbering," he said, "If a guy wanted to talk, I talked. But I never opened up until I got my cue. Some just want their hair cut."

Although Havens is putting the clippers and comb away for fishing, loafing and baseball duty, he said he'll probably see the top of a few more heads, at least one being that of a fellow barber whose hair he has been cutting for 16 years.

Miss U.S.A. of '52 Sues for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Guy Mitchell has been sued for divorce by Jacqueline Loughery, the "Miss U. S. A." of 1952, who complained that he told her other women were better lovers.

Miss Loughery's suit asserted Mitchell boasted of affairs with other women and even had more affection for his horse Scotch, than he did for her.

The beauty also complained that Mitchell drank to excess and had "severely beaten her upon occasion."

Miss Loughery asked for all of their community property, which She values at $100,000, alimony of $2,500 a month and legal costs.

'Mama' Is Honored

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (UP)—Lake Erie College for Women, at its 94th commencement, presented an honorary doctor of fine arts degree to Peggy Wood, star of TV's "Mama" program, for her work as "a mother, a teacher and one who has always found time and energy to help others."

Senator Limits Gifts to $2.50, Others Returned

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) says he has adopted "a $2.50 rule" concerning gifts sent to him.

"It is suicide for elected officials to reject all gifts," Douglas told the Junior Assn. of Commerce and Industry yesterday. "People would think you were weaned on a pickle and lack the human juices, so I have a $2.50 rule."

Douglas said any gift that appears to be worth more than $2.50 is sent back. The others, he said, generally are sent to the Walter Reed (Army) or Bethesda (Navy) hospitals.

"I will admit that occasionally I will take home a few Florida grapefruit or something of the sort," Douglas said. "Thus far, this has kept me out of trouble. I don't think there is much chance of a senator being corrupted by $2.50."

Julius La Rosa Will Get Paramount Screen Test

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Julius La Rosa, the singer who was fired by Arthur Godfrey in the middle of a television show, was signed yesterday by Paramount pictures for a screen test. The studio announced that if the test is satisfactory La Rosa will be offered a long-term contract.

Still Optimistic on Peace Talks

Envoy Dean Heads for Capital, Hopeful That Parley Will Be Called

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean headed for Washington today, hopeful that a Korean peace conference will be called despite seven weeks of no progress preliminary negotiations.

As he boarded a Pan American airliner for a nonstop flight to Honolulu, Dean told newsmen it is "distinctly possible" that talks to set up a peace conference will be resumed although it might take some time.

Dean, spokesman for 17 Allied nations which fought in Korea, broke off the talks Saturday and demanded that the Communists apologize for accusing the United States of conniving with South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Red prisoners last June.

* * *

The Reds have not apologized and today Peiping radio repeated the charge and accused Dean of wrecking plans for a peace conference.

Moscow radio also declared that suspension of the preliminary negotiations was part of "the long-term maneuvers of the United States for wrecking the armistice in Korea."

Dean will make a full report to the State Department on his return to Washington, where he is due tomorrow.

* * *

The U.S. envoy's chief adviser, Kenneth Young, returns to Korea tomorrow to await possible Communist retraction of the perfidy charge against the United States.

Although the outlook for a Korean peace conference was doubtful, South Korea's President Syngman Rhee told a news conference in Seoul that he would give the conference 90 days to make progress toward unification of his country.

Rhee stressed, however, that he would wait only a "certain time" for the conference to get underway.

* * *

In the past Rhee and other South Korean government leaders have threatened to drive northward against the Communists unless the war-torn peninsula were unified by late Jauary—90 days after the conference was scheduled to open under terms of the armistice.

Allied diplomats here viewed Rhee's statement as a major policy shift which goes a long way toward easing the danger of a new outbreak of warfare in Korea.

Ex-Governor of Ohio Dies

James White Dies at 81; Led Cox Presidential Bid Against Harding

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—George White, the genial, cigar-smoking former governor of Ohio, died here late last night at 81.

He had been a patient at Good Samaritan Hospital since Dec. 10.

The name of the Elmira, N. Y., boy who struck it rich panning for gold in the Klondike was a familiar one on the national political scene.

He led the unsuccessful presidential campaign for Ohio's Gov. James M. Cox of Dayton the year Cox was defeated by another Ohioan—Sen. Warren G. Harding of Marion. Franklin D. Roosevelt ran for vice president on the ticket with Cox that year. White tried unsuccessfully for the presidenial nomination himself in 1932 as a favorite son candidate from Ohio.

He defeated the Republican incumbent, Myers Y. Cooper, to become governor of Ohio in 1930. Two years later he defeated David S. Ingalls of Cleveland for a second term.

* * *

He previously had served three terms in Congress as representative from the Marietta, Ohio, district. He made unsuccessful bids for the U.S. Senate in 1928, 1934 and ran again for governor in 1940 only to be defeated in the primaries.

A staunch New Dealer during the 1930s, White supported Republican Wendell L. Willkie in his campaign against Roosevelt in 1940.

A heavy-shouldered, six-footer, White took the long way around to enter politics.

He was born in Elmira, Aug. 21, 1872, son of a small retail businessman who went broke in the panic of 1873.

White's father started over again in Titusville, Pa. There George helped out, selling newspapers and working in stores. He entered Princeton University in 1891. The ruggedly-built lad spent summer vacations working in lumber camps and on farms to help pay his tuition.

* * *

After Princeton, his career included stints as school teacher, tool dresser in the Pennsylvania and Ohio oil fields, gold prospector in the Klondike during the gold rush of 1898, and independent oil producer at Woodsfield, Ohio.

He took his first political post in 1905 when he became a member of the State Legislature. He was elected to the U.S. Congress in 1910, 1912 and 1916.

In private life, White was a vice president of the Peoples Banking & Trust Co. of Marietta, where he moved in 1903, three years after he was married. His wife later died, leaving him four children. His second wife, Agnes, was at his bedside when he died last night.

Funeral services have not been announced.

Gen. Dean Calls Korea Blueprint for U. S. Attack

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—While extending Christmas greetings to servicemen in Korea and to the wounded in hospitals in this country, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean said he was "haunted by the fear that war is man's great sickness and that the epidemic will break out again and again."

Gen. Dean, a guest of Bob Hope on his television program last night, said he feared that those who "have not been called upon to suffer have not yet realized that Korea on the planning table of the aggressors is a blueprint for America."

The hero of Taejon said he hoped that the "principle set forth by the man whose birthday we observe on Christmas will someday be the universal pattern of human behavior."

Although many insects count their lives in hours rather than years, some queen ants may live for 16 years.

Thieves Steal Chickens Fed Radioactive Feed

SASKATOON, Sask. (UP)—Geiger counters would be as useful as bloodhounds in tracking thieves who stole some chickens Sunday from the University of Saskatchewan.

The thieves got radioactive hens being used in an experiment in the university's poultry department. They had been given feed containing radioactive elements.

University officials said the hens were considered dangerous for human consumption.

Bald Eagle Is Carrying Balding Envoy to U. S.

The name: Bald Eagle.

Cloudburst Creates a Wrong-Way River

MARQUETTE, Kan. (UP)—For a few minutes the Smoky Hill River flowed uphill—so they say.

A cloudburst dumped three inches of rain in 45 minutes at one point and five inches at another in slightly under an hour along the watershed of a small creek. The rain-choked creek sent its burden into the river so forcefully, swears Attorney Charles Johnson of McPherson, that the Smoky Hill ran backward for a time.

Rhee Will Promote Daily Newspapers

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today he will use force if necessary to reorganize and enhance the quality of Korean newspapers.

Rhee appealed to interviewing South Korean newsmen to do "your own best" to establish really good newspapers whose standards could be as high as those of the United States.

Rhee said he regretted there are too many small newspapers in South Korea whose quality is low. "We must have a few big newspapers which could be quoted by foreign newspapers," he said. "I seldom see the foreign press quoting our newspapers."

There are about 45 daily newspapers in South Korea, and none has more than 10,000 circulation.

Rhee said he would ask the people what papers they considered the best and then would promote "three or four."

Non-Musical Possum

SOUTHPORT, Conn. (UP)—The organist in the Trinity Episcopal Church ran into trouble just before a service was to begin. Sour notes began issuing from his console and investigation disclosed an oppossum nesting in its vitals.

Bob Considine Says:

American Male Will Fight British Short-Trouser Fad

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

The newest British tailoring edict, which would have all American well-dressed men waking around looking like Carl Hubbell or Ted Williams, will be opposed as vigorously as a tea-tax the same nation once attempted to impose on us crude colonials, according to Fifth Avenue tailor Pat Caruso.

The newest Bond Street style in men's clothes, according to the fashion foundation of America, will have trouser cuffs a full four inches above the shoetop.

Caruso says flatly this will leave the American male completely cold. Especially this winter.

Here is an exclusive understatement from Caruso:

"The new style will meet resentment among American men who remember the days of their youth when they had to wear trousers much too short for them while waiting for their younger brothers to grow old enough to take over their suit so they could get a new one.

"Any American who remembers the famous battle cry of his youth, 'Hey, Stinky, pull up your shoes, your pants are too short,' will fight the new style."

* * *

You can never tell about fashions, however, especially those that come from abroad. Billy Reed, a saloon-keeping friend, tells us about a push-cart peddler who was born on the East Side and never got six blocks away from his birthplace until he retired at 85 and took a cattleboat to England.

Walking down old Bond Street one day our shabby hero dropped into a tailoring establishment and ordered a suit.

The tailor, who looked like an especially well-groomed Anthony Eden, was quite upset but reluctantly took the order. There were a number of fittings, done with great disdain, but at last the day arrived when our man looked at himself, in the finished suit, in a mirror that may have reflected the younger Pitt, Disraeli, George Arliss and other great British statesmen.

Our man burst into tears. He was sharply chided by the tailor, who reminded him that he had been warned in advance that the price would be steep.

"I'm not crying about the price," our man said, blubbering.

"Well, then what are you crying about?"

"We lost India," our East Sider said with simple dignity.

* * *

Nearly 60 working newspapermen, flying home from the Bermuda conference Tuesday a week ago, were not given an advance text of President Eisenhower's great U. N. speech—to work on en route. Wasn't ready, Jim Hagerty said.

Advance copies were given to Time Magazine and Newsweek the previous day or two before, and to Molotov, too.

Shows Gratitude for Night in Jail 22 Years Ago

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—It was cold on Feb. 6, 1931, and there was lots of snow on the ground.

C. T. Trott of Houston, Tex., rode into Tucumcari on a freight and stayed at the jail overnight. After breakfast next morning he went his way.

Trott was back in Tucumcari this week for the first time since 1931. He pressed a $5 check on Police Chief E. R. Batten for the police emergency fund.

"I've done pretty well since then," Trott said, "and I want to show my appreciation for that favor."

She's Proficient in 3 Mediums

Brunette Star Is 25, Sings, Plays Piano and Violin Professionally

NEW YORK — For Gisele MacKenzie, striking brunette singing star of Your Hit Parade on TV, it "was always music," for as long as she can remember. At age three, the lass was discovered picking out tunes on the piano by her mother.

Gisele's mother, an erstwhile concert singer and pianist who had toured her native Canada as Mme. Marietta Monseau, promptly started coaching her little girl.

When she was seven, Gisele started studying the violin seriously, since it was the favorite instrument of her physician-surgeon father.

So proficient did she become that at age 12, she gave her first public recital at the Royal Alexandra Hotel in her native city of Winnipeg, Canada. Two years later, her father sent her to Toronto to study at the Royal Conservatory of Music, where she specialized in violin under the noted teacher, Kathleen Parlow.

She continued the pursuit of the musical muse assiduously for the next six years, during which she was awarded a scholarship in the graduate school.

While in her last year at the conservatory, she entertained at many service shows for troops. At one of these, she met Lt. Bob Shuttleworth, a bandleader in the Royal Canadian Navy, who was greatly impressed with her talent.

After the war, Shuttleworth remembered Gisele when she contacted him for an interview. He forthwith hired her in a triple-threat capacity — as violinist-pianist-vocalist — for an engagement with his own band at the Glenmount Hotel on the Lake of Bays in Ontario.

Shuttleworth took especial note of Gisele's rich contralto singing voice, which she had never actually trained, even though she had studied music in all its aspects.

He became her personal manager and suggested that she give serious thought to concentrating on the vocal side of her multi-faceted musical talents.

In time, her delivery of ballads, rhythm tunes, novelty selections, "blues" and folk airs in English and impeccable French crossed the border to win praise on U. S. networks.

She was the featured singer, in turn, on Bob Crosby's "Club 15" and the "Mario Lanza Show." Guest appearances have included a "joint recital" with the noted American violinist, Jack Benny, and also a couple of visits on the "Eddie Fisher Show."

Supper Club audiences have cheered her smart performing at New York's swank Cotillion Room. She is also a recording star. Most of Gisele's workaday world is presently concerned, however, with rehearsals and performances on "Your Hit Parade."

Gisele is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George MacKenzie LaFleche of Winnipeg. She has two sisters and two brothers. She possesses that rare singer's phenomenon, absolute pitch.

Gisele was born on Jan. 20, 1927. She has dark brown hair, brown eyes and weighs 120 pounds.

Fur Trapping Big Business in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — Fur trapping, California's pioneer industry, has not only managed to hold its own against 150 years of advancing civilization, but continues to provide a $1,000,000-a-year business, according to the Department of Fish and Game.

The department's annual trapping report showed that pelts sold from the 1952-53 seasonal catch brought the state's 517 active licensed hunters a total of $104,500.

The figure is for raw fur only and does not include processing or merchandising values.

Associate Game Manager George Seymour estimated that another $15,000 to $20,000 worth of pelts were taken during the four-month season by youths and farm boys under the age of 18 who do not make an annual report nor require trapping licenses.

Lower prices this year pulled total sales down $9,400 from the previous season's $113,900. The number of pelts taken, however, set a post-war record of 91,300, largely because of the continuing upsurge in muskrats.

Fewer trapping licenses were sold—only 901, against 1,636 for 1951-52—but almost 10 per cent more of the license buyers did active trapping.

Average prices this year ranged from $14.50 for north coast county minks to 5 cents for Sacramento County opossums.

There are no Indian reservations in Texas, although at one time or another 10 different tribes lived within the state's present boundaries.

Woman Bosses Defense Plant and Hubby, Too

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Defense is a woman's work in one factory here where a 29-year-old matron bosses a chrome-plating and processing operation important to rubber and other industries.

She is Mrs. Pearl Vachon, daughter of Peter ("Dad") Tapar, who founded the business on knowledge brought over from his native Lithuania. He died in 1949 and Mrs. Vachon took over.

Her mother, Mrs. Theresa Tapar, 61, is the firm's secretary and her husband, Raymond, is vice president.

Among the products turned out are molds for tire manufacture, forms or "mandrels" for rubber hoses, and highly secret items for the Rock Island Atomic Project in Washington state.

"Besides knowing how to bake metal in those big hot ovens, she also knows how to bake cake at home for me," he said.

Asks University to Curb Drinking

President Pearson at Miami Tries to Make Custom Unfashionable

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—The University of Miami, surrounded by plush bars and night clubs, has opened a drive against liquor consumption among its 10,000 students.

Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of the university, maintains that the institution's campus is no "wetter" than most situated near large cities.

But he admits there are a great many "temptations" in this popular resort area, with its legalized horse and dog racing and many other forms of entertainment.

The university has called on students, fraternities and sororities, as well as alumni members, to cooperate in a "dry" movement.

"We've had no mass or overt cases of drinking," Pearson said, "but there's no question but that our young people drink more nowadays than those of past generations."

Pearson said he didn't wish to assume the role of an ax-swinging prohibitionist.

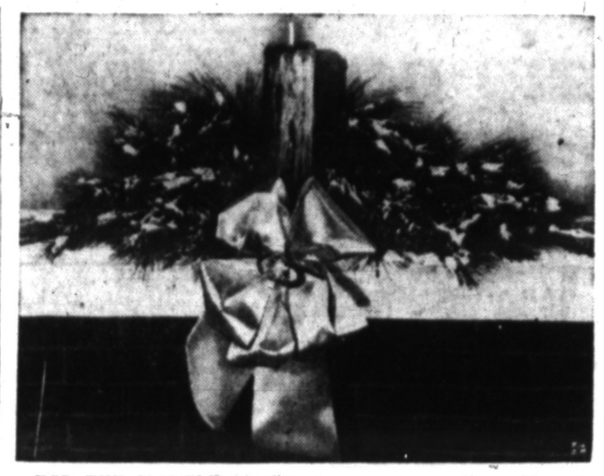

"We're not going to put undue pressure on our students about the situation," he explained. "We prefer to accomplish the objective through cooperation. We want to make it unfashionable to do a lot of drinking."

Pearson pointed out that the university has always banned possession and drinking of alcoholic beverages on the campus.

So far, his campaign is meeting with success. Many fraternities are holding "dry" rush parties for the first time.

They point out, among other things, that it's more expensive to serve liquor at the frat functions.

"Now we'll have guys at the parties who are more interested in the fraternity than in freeloading," said David Kopenhaver, former president of the freshman class.

FOR THE MANTLE—A tall slow burning candle, a big satin bow and evergreens decorated with soap-flake snow. You can make the snow by mixing soap flakes with water to the consistency of heavy cream. Spread it by hand. It will last as long as the greens.

Prisoners Overpower and Lock Up Sheriff

BUENA VISTA, Ga. (UP)—Three prisoners, including one 75 years old, overpowered Sheriff W. E. Henson last night, locked him in a cell, took his gun and keys, and fled on foot.

C. C. Henson, the sheriff's son, had to use a blow torch and a chisel to free his father from the cell. The sheriff was uninjured.

Bull, Shot 4 Times, Runs Loose in Street

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Shot four times at a slaughter house yesterday a bull broke loose and ran several yards into the street. Policeman H. J. Tebrinke said the tough animal dropped dead either from exhaustion or loss of blood.

Two-Headed Baby Given Two Names

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—A two-headed, four-armed baby has been given two names and doctors report he is making the progress of a normal newborn.

The 3-day-old boy was taken off the "critical" list yesterday and his chances of survival were reported as good. Doctors at the Indiana University Medical Center said he is taking nourishment in both mouths and the intestinal track is responding normally.

The 44-year-old father said he gave the name Donald Ray to "the best one" and the name Daniel Kaye to the other head and arms. There was no explanation to the reference to "the best one."

There are two spinal cords joined at about the waistline. As far as doctors have been able to determine, there are no duplications of internal organs.

Dr. John D. Van Nuys, dean of the medical center, said no surgery is contemplated now.

Eloquent License

GIs Will Host German Needy

Big Plans Under Way for Christmas Parties on Army Posts

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) — It's going to be a whale of a Christmas for Germany's needy if GIs stationed here have their way.

For more than a month, U. S. soldiers have been buying new toys, repairing old ones, organizing Christmas parties, ordering turkeys, candy, nuts and fruits, and collecting tons of clothing and shoes.

On Christmas, they'll give their annual yule parties at orphanages, on Army posts and elsewhere for their German friends.

* * *

American soldiers have been staging Christmas parties in Germany ever since 1945. Every year the parties get bigger and better. This year promises to be the best yet.

At Plieningen the U. S. 7th Army's flight detachment, which has "adopted" 100 orphans there, will fly Santa Claus in for a personal visit with the children. There will be a Christmas dinner and gifts.

U. S. ordnance men at Ludwigsburg are arranging a big Christmas party, including turkey dinner and gifts, for the children in St. Joseph's Kinderheim (childrens home), which they help support the year round.

* * *

At Waiblingen, near Suttgart, U. S. troops will stage a Christmas celebration for more than 300 children in a Kinderheim they sponsor there.

Fifty children at an orphanage at Kornwestheim will have a GI Christmas arranged by engineer field maintenance troops stationed nearby.

At Bremerhaven, the American Forces Network is cooperating in a fund-raising Christmas project. For a pledge of $1 a listener may hear selected music played. Dollars are pouring in and needy Germans there will benefit at Christmas time.

German families show their appreciation by inviting American soldiers for Christmas dinner in their homes. Soldiers in turn invite German friends to eat turkey and the trimmings with them in Army mess halls.

Nothing's Safe

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — The following burglaries were reported in one day here: an outboard motor from one residence, a suit and electric fan from another, and a 44-foot extension ladder from still another. Burglars also took $25 and an undetermined amount of clothing from the Wash-O-Mat and $136.50 worth of hair clippers from Lee's Salon of Beauty.

Experiments have shown when a dairy cow is not allowed to have a dry period, her production is reduced by about 1,650 pounds of milk.

Sites Selected by Commission

Precinct 4 Transferred to Emmanuel Christian School

Pontiac City Commission last night designated eight schools as polling places to accommodate the nine new voting precincts established by a recent ordinance amendment.

Polling sires for new precincts are:

Precincts 36 and 37, Jefferson Junior High; 38, Bagley; 39 and 40 Washington Junior High; 41, Webster; 42, Owen; 43, Malkim; and 44, Baldwin.

Commissioners also designated Emanuel Christian School as new polling place for precinct 4.

City Attorney William A. Ewart reported a suit has been brought in United States District Court by Noble Floyd and Rosalie Benning against the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and Pontiac.

The two contend a former ruling by the LCC was incorrect in rejecting their request for a Class C liquor license at 87 Bagley St.

No formal court action has been taken on the case as yet, said Ewart.

The commission approved a request from Charles Topalian for a license to sell beer and wine for off premises consumption at 239 Ferry Ave.

A request was approved to drop the A. J. Archambeau estate and add Lillian Archambeau as partner in a Class C liquor by the glass license at 924-26 Joslyn Rd.

Commissioners okayed a request to add Marian Dobski Natkinec as partner in a Class C license at 568-70 S. Sanford St.

The commission agreed to include a vacuum transitube service in the new city hall at cost of $5,286.

Public hearings were held and special assessment rolls authorized for presentation Dec. 22 for proposed two-inch blacktop on the following city streets:

Argyle from Avon to Roland, Branch from Gillespie to 180 feet south, Gillespie from Branch to east line of the subdivision, Ditmar from Franklin to Highland, Ditmar from Franklin to Motor, Hazel from Telegraph to Peggy, Hughes from Bagley to Franklin, Josephine from Voorheis to James K. Iroquois, Erie from Wenonah to Menominee, Oneida from Algonquin to Menominee and Ontario from Wenonah to Menominee.

A resolution was tabled until Dec. 22 to remove from the market commercial lots 1, 2, 3, 5, 11 to 28, both inclusive, and 30, 31 and 32 in Robert Herndon Pontiac Apartment Subdivision.

Also tabled until Dec. 22 was a resolution rejecting a bid submitted by Russell and Emma Sherman for purchase of lots 11, 12 and 13 of Robert Herndon subdivision.

A request from the Jefferson Junior High PTA for traffic lights at California and Franklin and at Luther and Franklin was referred to the city manager.

A request by Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck that "no parking" signs be posted on Third and Fourth avenues from Joslyn to highwood was referred to the city manager for a report Dec. 22.

Other commission action included:

Lack of Postage Causing Delays

Some Are Not Aware That Foreign Mail Rates Increased Nov. 1

Insufficient postage is causing delay in transmission of some letters sent to foreign countries by local persons, Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said today.

The rate on first class letters to other countries except Canada and Mexico was raised to eight cents for the first ounce and four cents for each additional ounce on Nov. 1, said Dean.

"Some persons are still sending letters with only five cents postage," Dean explained. "In this case they must either be returned to the sender or forwarded with postage due."

Christmas greetings with writing other than a signature require three cents postage and sealed envelopes, Dean stated. If only the signature is written, two cents is sufficient if the envelope is sent unsealed.

Dean also asked local residents to clean ice and snow off sidewalks and steps to make surefooting for mail carriers. The mailmen would also be helped, he said, if persons mailing letters would put them in corner boxes or bring them to the post office, rather than leaving them for mailmen to pick up.

Dean advised individuals expecting many Christmas cards to put an extra receptacle outside for holiday mail so letters won't be damaged by being stuffed into the mailbox.

Prop Glitters Like Gold and Pulls In the Jack

By BILLY ROSE

Back in 1937 when the Fort Worth Exposition closed down, the City Fathers presented me with a going-away gift—a .45 calibre revolver with a gold-plated barrel and a mother-of-pearl handle which was shaped like the head of a Texas steer.

BILLY ROSE

Two years later, this unusual memento was worth a lot to me—$65,000 to be exact.

Here's how it happened . . .

In 1939 I took a chunk of the money I had made at the Aquacade and bought a house on Beekman Place in New York. When I was furnishing it, since Marilyn Monroe calendars weren't on the market, I decided to buy oil paintings to fancy up my walls.

The first art gallery I visited was a posh layout in the East 50s run by three affable Roumanians.

The dealers showed me four paintings which they assured me were priceless — a Tintoretto (old man with beard), a Rubens (Queen Isabella), a Fra Lippo Lippi (Madonna and Child), and a David (half-nude lady snoozing). The price was $65,000.

I bought them.

A few months later, Tom Benton, the celebrated painter and art historian, dropped in to see me, and I proudly showed him my collection.

"Where'd you get this junk?" he said.

"Junk?" I said. "You call Tintoretto and Rubens junk?"

"Before you call this junk Tintoretto and Rubens," said Benton, "better have it X-rayed."

I did just that, and found to my dismay there was enough fresh paint on my "old masters" to redo a fair-sized bedroom. The Tintoretto beard was mostly Sherman Williams, the lace on Queen Isabella's dress wasn't quite dry, etc.

When I confronted the affable Roumanians with the X-ray plates, their affable comeback was, in effect, "are you going to believe us or your eyes?"

One of them suggested helpfully that I could always sue—knowing, of course, that the average judge doesn't know a painting from a decalcomania, and that art suits usually drag on for years.

What to do? Well, I figured out a plot and it was a honey . . .

A few days later, an old chum of mine—an aristocratic-looking stumblebum—walked into the gallery, got to talking to the proprietors, and somehow managed to bring my name up.

"We know Rose well," said one of the Roumanians. "He recently bought several paintings from us."

"I'm amazed you do business with a gangster," said my friend. "Rose was a bootlegger in the '20s, and it's generally known that he murdered several men in his time."

The following Monday I phoned one of the dealers. "I ain't satisfied with my pictures," I said, clipping off the words like Jimmy Cagney. "If you gentlemen are smart, you'll come to my house at midnight and talk it over."

"But of course," said the somewhat less affable Roumanian.

When the bleak-faced trio arrived at 11:55, an out-of-work actor who looked like Bela Lugosi opened the door and showed them up a dimly-lit staircase to my even more dimly lit living room—a high-ceilinged, pine-paneled job that Alfred Hitchcock would have loved.

"Boys," I said quietly, "I ain't happy about our deal. I'd suggest you send a truck around tomorrow for the pictures. In the meantime, here's a blank check. I'll give you five minutes to fill it in."

When I came back, the three bleak faces had taken on a greenish tint.

"What's your pleasure, gentlemen?" I said.

"Your good will is worth more to us than a million dollars," said No. 3 . . .

Well, since that night in '39, two of the swindlers have died, and swindler No. 3 figures to drop dead when he reads this piece.

My souvenir revolver, although it held real bullets, had a fake trigger and couldn't even shoot a spitball.

Prospects Dim at Booster Well

Drillers, Down 320 Feet, Fail to Find Satisfactory City Water Supply

Prospects of bolstering Pontiac's water supply by constructing a well near the Hawthorne School were termed "discouraging" today by Acting City Water Superintendent Joseph Gable.

A test well being drilled on the site at Telegraph Rd. and W. Walton Blvd. by the Layne-Northern Co. of Lansing is now down more than 320 feet.

"We hit water between 70 and 100 feet," Gable explained, "but that's the supply drawn on by private wells and we don't like to tap it unless we have to."

Test drilling will continue until shale or bed rock is hit. Below that the water is too hard for use in the city system, Gable explained.

If shale or bed rock is struck, the well will be filled in to the 70-100 foot level and further research done to determine amount of water obtainable there.

"If we can get 300 to 500 gallons per minute from that level, we'll probably put in a pump," said Gable.

Officials Leave School, Move to New City Hall

TRAVERSE CITY (UP)—"School" soon will be over for city officials and employes.

For almost a year Elmwood Avenue School has served as quarters for them while the City Hall was being remodeled. The City Hall project will be completed this week.

'Hope I'm in Blighty'

Jittery Hong Kong Waits Push by Neighboring Reds

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG (NEA) — Noted while riding a rickshaw:

British Tommy white - washes barbed wire fence ringing dugout facing Red China, General Mao's Korean trained regiments are only a trolley ride away and Her Majesty's forces know they'll be swamped pronto if the Reds push. So when Tommy says: "Hope I'm in Blighty before the rice diet," he means, "Hope I've gone home before you're all prisoners of war."

There are three price scales in this town, reading from bottom to top: Chinese, British, American. This is big leave center for U. S. forces in the Orient and easy-spending sailors average $30-a-day on a holiday howl.

Women scull small sampans around the vast harbor with tiny babies strapped to their backs, Indian papoose style. And husky coolies will carry you to the highest peak for a few cents. You sit in a cushioned chair set on poles—with a fancy canopy for rainy days.

Often you hear what sounds like a burst of burp gun fire and in nervous Asia you duck. It's an old Chinese custom — celebrating the opening of a new store or signing a new contract.

Along the Bamboo Curtain: The British, who can walk diplomatically on hot coals without wearing, have pulled combta troops back from a strip alongside Red China. British and Chinese "Colonial Police," stiff as Buckingham Palace guards in pleated shorts, guard the border zone.

Explained a proper border policeman: "If there were soldiers here who served in Korea they might peg a few at the Chinese and things would get sticky, don't you agree?"

A Chinese soldier on the international bridge snapped my picture. (The last Chinese soldier I saw was in front of a Marine dugout Korea—and he was very dead.)

One of these Red Border Guards came dashing over to this side the other day cursing communism. He chose freedom.

Colonial Police check travelers to and from Red China and comb their luggage. Many try to sneak gold through inside live chickens. Strangely enough, you can open a chicken, insert a gold bar, sew him up—and he'll still flap around for hours.

Children to Get Gifts From Santa at DAV Party

Santa Claus will arrive in Pontiac from the North Pole early this year to pass out gifts to children at the annual childrens' Christmas party Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the Disabled American Veteran Chapter 16 home, 199 Auburn Ave.

Mrs. Lyle Smith, president of the DAV Auxiliary, is chairman of the committee which will serve a turkey dinner prior to Santa's arrival.

Gifts will be presented to veterans at the Pontiac State Hospital and the Tuberculosis Sanitorium, and to children confined at the Contagious Hospital by a DAV auxiliary committee headed by Mrs. Iola Walter.

The Oakland County Society for Crippled Children will also be remembered with a donation from the DAV, according to Ray C. Jewell, publicity chairman.

FAITH Celebrates Its First Birthday

FAITH marked its first birthday Tuesday night with a program featuring William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools. Emerson discussed the Wayne-Oakland proposal for better educational facilities for the handicapped child.

The group, sponsored "For the Aid and Instruction of The Handicapped" by Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, was organized one year ago.

Next meeting of FAITH will be Jan. 5 at the crippled children society's headquarters, 152 W. Lawrence St.

Ethier has been acting police chief.

Purdy began police work in Sylvan Lake in 1948 as a sergeant and was promoted to lieutenant in December, 1951.

A World War II veteran, his perience includes work with Saginaw, Northville, Farmington and Orchard Lake police departments.

Carman is also a World War II veteran. A graduate of Pontiac High School, he was employed as a patrolman by Sylvan Lake in July, 1950.

U. S. Attorneys Warned Again

Judge Says There Is Need of More Evidence in Smith Act Trial

DETROIT (UP) — Federal Judge Frank A. Picard has again warned government attorneys that they will need more than present evidence in their Smith Act prosecution of six Michigan Communists.

Judge Picard cautioned the government yesterday that it would have to do more than bring out testimony that "certain people attended a convention or that "certain subjects such as 'revisionism' and 'Marxist-Leninist theory were discussed.'

The government sprang a fifth surprise witness, 38-year-old Milton J. Santwire, who testified that he had worked for the FBI as an undercover Communist since 1944.

He told the jury that Communists had infiltrated positions of authority in Local 600 CIO United Auto Workers, the worlds' largest union local.

Santwire identified three of the defendants charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government as Communists he had seen at Communist functions.

A member of the party's "Section 10" and "Plastic Club," Santwire said he had been approached by Philip Schatz, one of the defendants, to start another club, but never did.

A Communist, identified as James Jackson, party education director, Santwire said, told all Communists to make the Ford Motor Co. the "number one area of concentration."

Progress of Soviet Fleet Rivals Western Buildup

WASHINGTON (UP)—Swift, highly maneuverable cruisers, destroyers, submarines and troop - carrying merchantmen are going into the new fleet Russia is creating for use if she gambles on a conquest of Europe.

* * *

Authorities here estimated today that in cruiser construction alone Soviet building during the last few years has exceeded the total built by the United States and its North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

Currently, Russia is believed to have more than 30 cruisers built or building, including an ultramodern, swift, highly maneuverable type designated as the Sverdlov class.

Only one of the class has been seen by the Western world, when it appeared for Britain's coronation ceremonies last summer. Presumably it and others are based at White Sea ports, like Murmansk, toward which the Sverdlov was seen heading after it sailed from England. Cruisers like this are especially useful as raiders against combatant and merchant ships of other nations and in support of amphibious landing operations.

* * *

The Sverdlov, listed by the Russians as a 12,000-ton ship, but seeming much heavier, maneuvered swiftly and easily as Western naval experts watched it on its visit last summer.

Equipment of the Sverdlov class compares favorably with that of the best American and British combatant craft. Fire control radar equipment for the main armament (apparently about six-inch weapons) and antiaircraft weapons were noted.

Naval men still estimate the size of the Soviet submarine force at about 300 craft, a figure used as far back as 1948. But since then modern craft, presumably including the Type XXVI submersibles designed by Germany's submarine experts, are rapidly replacing the conglomeration of older subs which the Soviets had or inherited by capture at the end of World War II. The Type XXVI is powered by a closed cycle engine which requires no oxygen for combustion, permitting prolonged operation at great depths and high speed. Underwater speed up to 25 knots is probable, a speed which approaches that expected for the United States' atomic - powered subs now being built.

* * *

A major use for Russian submarines would be to attack Allied supply and troop ships bringing help to Europe if the Soviets launched war.

However, on the basis of their own progress in that field, American naval authorities also now reckon with the probability that Russia is building or converting submarines for launching of guided missiles.

The Red fleet has displayed little or no interest in aircraft carriers. But there is believed to exist a sizable naval air arm of land-based aircraft.

'For the Record'

Soviet Trembles With Pain and Protest as West Builds Confidence

By UPTON SINCLAIR

Upton Sinclair, author of the recently published novel "The Return of Lanny Budd," believes through the Point Four Program and the Marshall Plan mankind has made a practical start toward what he calls a "brotherhood of free peoples."

Each morning when I wake up, my mind goes off to the man who sits at a desk in the White House in Washington.

SINCLAIR

I feel the weight of responsibility which rests on his shoulders, in this hour of perilous decisions. I say to myself that the weight is on my shoulders, too, for I am going to pay, with everyone else, the price of his decision. An exacting price, too, whether he decides wisely or foolishly.

The great decision he must make, and make over and over, in every smaller decision, is what to do or not do, to prevent a third world war.

The tragedy is, that he never can make a final decision, for the nature of the world situation is such that neither he, nor anyone else in the free world can decide what the men in the Kremlin will do. It takes two to keep the peace, and only one to make war.

As citizens of the free world, we all carry this responsibility, along with the man in the White House in Washington. Every citizen of every democracy on earth is now standing on the battle line, facing the most dreadful enemy the free world has ever known.

He is armed with the most devastating weapons ever imagined, and is determined to seize and rule the earth. He is implacable.

It pleases me to say here that I am not afraid of him. Fearful as he is, and in spite of our danger, I know that we of the free world who must remain on the battle line, tense and alert, have one weapon which the enemy has not, and history has proven it to be the supreme weapon.

We who have built our nation on the courage and inspiration given us in 1776 and during the years immediately after, have the and his ever lasting willingness to give everything he has to its preservation.

The enemy does not have this weapon. He has built his present great strength on the promise of freedom to his slaves.

But while growing strong on the hope which this promise gave his people, he has contrived secretly to tighten the bonds of enslavement, until now his vast empire trembles with pain and protest and begins to rebel against the great betrayal.

Some of these betrayed have just paid for their rebellion on the gallows. Others, many thousands of them, have paid the same price but without benefit of publicity. They have simply been done to death in the dark. Others still are now paying in the living-death of concentration camps.

This rebellion is evidence of the ardor with which all men love freedom. But this desperate rebellion is too tragic to rejoice in, nor is its enough to sustain the hope that we may leave the slaves to free themselves.

So strong are the bonds which bind them, so tight the Iron Curtain which encircles them, that these slaves must die in vain until help comes from outside.

I do not mean help in the form of war. I mean that the strength of the free world, both moral and physical, will have become so great and so inclusive, that the tyrants will know that men will not be held longer in bondage.

They will know this only when they stand in the presence of an outside world of greater force, which will include a brotherhood of the free peoples everywhere, a brotherhood of black and white and brown men who know each other as equals.

I believe that this brotherhood is now coming into being. And President Eisenhower must have had this conviction when he addressed his Atomic message to the U. N.

It has taken nearly two thousand years and the atom bomb to bring this about since it was preached by One whose vision was greater than men could then comprehend. Maybe He foresaw the atom bomb weapon of man's love of freedom, when He said, "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now."

Well, we must bear it now, and I think we shall. I believe that we have made a practical start toward the realization of that insistent commandment, "that ye love one another."

There has been the Four Point Program, and the Marshall Plan, and there are many enlightened and influential men who know that the time has now come for "trade, not aid."

I have just heard one of these influential and enlightened men, Henry Ford II has declared in favor of this program of trade. When we can buy Japanese tuna which bears the label "union made," and all the other goods of our brother nations with tariff barriers, we shall be well on the way to our own, as well as to their salvation from either atomic or economic extinction.

I believe that when we thus love one another, the enemy will know that he is in the presence of the invincible weapon.

Ex-Convict Admits Killing 11-Year-Old

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — Detectives say an ex-convict with a police record of attacks on girls has admitted he strangled an 11-year-old girl a week ago tonight.

An AWOL soldier had "confessed" the same crime only hours before, but his story was discredited later.

Detective Lt. William H. Sullivan identified the prison parolee as Robert Nelson Malm, a gaunt 30-year-old man who has served a jail term for attacks on young girls and a prison term for robbery with violence.

Sullivan said Malm signed a statement, and then was taken out to re-enact the crime in the southwest section of Hartford, where the girl lived.

* * *

Malm broke down late last night after four days of constant interrogation. He was arrested after he was picked out of a police lineup by a 19-year-old girl who said he attacked her on Nov. 22.

Irene's body was found last Thursday by a policeman in his own back yard. Her scarf, knotted three times, cut into flesh about her neck. An autopsy showed she had been killed 10 to 12 hours before.

Judges Trying Docket Scheme

Will Devote 2 Weeks in January Only to Major Criminal Jury Trials

An experiment designed to clear Oakland County Circuit Courts criminal docket of all major cases will be undertaken soon, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

For two weeks starting Jan. 12 all three circuit judges will hear nothing but criminal jury trials, Ziem said.

"In this way we hope to keep our criminal cases current and guarantee each defendant an expedient trial. This will mean also that witnesses will be testifying about recent happenings rather than "Rusty" events, which is in favor of the defendant.'

Common procedure now is for the presiding judge of each term to hear criminal trials while civil suits and other matters are decided before remaining jurists.

"After the two weeks are up, the judges will resume regular procedure," Ziem declared, "and if the experiment is a success it may be repeated each term.

"Before we decide that though, I'll have to confer with each of the judges to obtain his opinion on the procedure," Ziem added.

Los Angeles Police Get Ion Chambers

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz has announced that 35 of his radio cars will be equipped with ion chambers to detect radioactivity.

Biscailuz had a possible atom bomb attack in mind when the chambers were ordered.

"But our atomic age is growing so fast that we now have many dangerous radioactive materials in use every day in Los Angeles County industries," he said yesterday. "These ion chambers will be placed in radio cars for use 24 hours a day."

The chambers detect gamma-type radiation which might be injurious to persons nearby. They weigh about five pounds each.

Conservation Officer Saves Life of Fawn

LANSING (UP) — A young fawn owes its life to a quick-thinking conservation officer who acted as a midwife at its birth, the Michigan Conservation Department says.

When Dan Traynor was notified recently that a deer had been struck by a car and critically injured, he rushed to the scene. He found it necessary to kill the deer but was able to save one of the two fawns she was carrying.

The spotted youngster is doing fine on a milk diet.

I WAS DOOMED FOR A WHEEL CHAIR BEFORE DISCOVERING O-JIB-WA

Arthritis caused my knees to swell like balloons. Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely better now, says Mrs. Jennie Gates, 2376 N. Cedar, Holt, Michigan.

"I am most happy to tell others of what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me. I was told that nothing would ever help my arthritis and that I was doomed for a wheel chair for the rest of my life. I am entirely better now and walking perfectly again thanks to O-JIB-WA. I suffered from arthritis and sciatica for over 10 years, and had it mostly in my hips, legs and knees. Most of the time my knees were swelled like balloons and so big that you couldn't tell I had any. The only way I could move around at all was to grasp a chair or by sheer strength of my arms on a cane or crutch. I tried everything I ever heard of without success, but was determined not to give up, even though at times it was all I could do to drag my legs.

Mrs. J. Gates

Many times the pain was so bad that I actually fell down. My ankles were so sore I couldn't stand on my feet, and it was a task just to get out of a chair. My husband read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in our paper and told me he would get a bottle for me to try. I took the medicine about a month before I could see any benefit, but from then on, I continually improved, and now I am all better. It's wonderful to be free of pain and stiffness again, especially after suffering for so long. I can't find words to express my gratitude for what O-JIB-WA has done for me. I want to boost it to the highest extent. I have told many people about O-JIB-WA BITTERS and know that it has helped them. My druggist started taking O-JIB-WA because of what it has done for me, and now he personally recommends O-JIB-WA BITTERS to his other customers."

Millpond Algae Help California Farmers

University of California scientists at the Riverside campus use the simple cells in their preliminary tests and thus bypass the old-fashioned method of chopping up leaves to obtain plant cells.

Gift Wrappings Artistic for '53

Americans Will Spend $150,000,000 to Satisfy Creative Urges

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — Americans will use enough ribbon on gift packages this Christmas to tie the earth to the moon with a six-strand ribbon rope and have about 238,000 miles left over for a celestial bow.

To go with the ribbon, they'll buy enough gift wrapping paper to wrap up the island of Nantucket, Mass. — paper that if cut in a strip two feet wide would encircle the world five times with a rainbow band.

Trade sources estimate that Mr. and Mrs. America, along with Junior and Susie, will spend t least $150,000,000, perhaps as much as $200,000,000, to wrap and decorate the packages beneath Christmas trees.

What will they get for their money? Plenty, if they choose wisely.

Artists and technical experts began 24 months ago on this year's paper, ornaments, seals, and gift enclosure cards. They've had the help and advice of some of the world's finest artistic talent.

A single manufacturer (Hall Brothers of Kansas City) has more than 100 new designs in its 1953 wrappings.

And many of the most popular patterns of other years are carried over. Actually it's in the wrapping of gifts that the giver gets the best chance to be creative.

Grandma used to make a rag doll for Mary's Christmas. Today she buys a doll — much better than her fingers could construct. But she still wants to give Mary something from her hands. She does so with the package she creates.

Like most everything in the decorating field, the trappings of Christmas have gone modern.

The nationally famous artist Sol Steinberg, has drawn a Christmas paper entitled "Man of Distinction," in which the whimsical subject of numerous portraits is the new Santa Claus.

35 More Establishments Receive AAA Approval

DETROIT (UP)—The American Automobile Association has approved 53 additional establishements in Michigan and noted a marked improvement in tourist accommodations over the state.

There are now 402 motels, hotels and restaurants on the association's list. An association spokesman said that the number of new recommendations is high, showing a general improvement.

Florida Prison Needs Official Executioner

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP) — Florida has a job going begging. The work's simple, the pay good.

The prison needs an executioner. The former one resigned.

The job consists of pulling the switch on the electric chair when criminals are put to death. It pays $50 per execution.

The name of the executioner is kept a secret. He's known as "John Doe" on the payroll.

Hike Uranium Programs

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (INS) —South Africa's uranium production is being rapidly boosted by new development programs costing hundreds of millions of dollars. Minister of Mines J. H. Viljoen reported that the plans involve the expenditure of more than $500,000,000 over the next ten years.

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: The secret of flying, Santa tells Willie the pup, lies in being able to do an unselfish deed. So Willie takes bones, carrot tops and fruit skins from Santa's garbage can and puts them in front of Patrick Tweedleknees' doorway instead of eating them himself. That, thinks Willie, is truly an unselfish deed.

He gazed in astonishment at the furor he had created.

Chapter 12
THE DRAGONS

Patrick Tweedleknees was in a rage.

"This — this — this dog!" he screamed to Santa. "This dog has put garbage all over my front porch."

Santa was disturbed. He said, "Willie, why would you do such a thing to Patrick Tweedleknees?"

"I did it so that I could fly," said Willie eagerly. "Watch!" He gave a running leap into the air but instead of soaring away he flopped back to earth with a whack.

"I don't understand," whimpered Willie. "I gave all that stuff away and never kept a taste for myself. That was a great and unselfish deed. Why can't I fly?"

Santa couldn't help laughing. "Tweedleknees doesn't want the garbage, Willie. You didn't do anything for him."

"I should say not!" chimed in Tweedleknees, "and you'll please to clean away that mess at once."

Poor Willie. He was left in disgrace to clean up Tweedleknees' porch. It wasn't so hard a job because he simply ate most of it. But his pride had been hurt. He felt that perhaps he was not good enough even to stay in Santa Land much less learn to fly.

Just then his friends, Mr. Not Much and Mr. Very Little, scurried up.

"A dragon like a snake!" added Mr. Very Litle. "Breathing smoke and sparks!"

"He rattles his shell!" puffed Mr. Not Much.

"And there is no one in the building to stop him," they both screamed. "Come, we must run away as fast as we can!"

* * *

Willie was frightened. He turned to run. But right away he stopped. "If I can stop that dragon, it will surely be a glorious and unselfish deed," he thought. "Then I could fly! Everyone will agree that I deserve to fly for such an act!"

Bravely he turned back to the building the Dreamlins had fled. On the door was a sign saying "Train Shop" but Willie didn't stop to read. He was terrified by the hissing and puffing and rattling of some strange creature in the shop.

Quivering, Willie crept inside. There was no worker to be seen. But there were hundreds of snakes. The snakes were on tracks which circled the whole building. The tracks wound in and out of tunnels, over bridges and under mountains.

But of all the gleaming snakes lined up on the tracks, only one was alive.

Willie's eyes rolled with fright. Nevertheless he leaped toward the fearful creature.

He landed in the center of the ring of tracks — directly on top of the main switch box of the Train Shop. Alas! instead of halting one snake Willie had brought all the others to life!

* * *

He gazed in astonishment at the furor he had created. Hundreds of dragons hurled themselves round and round the shop covering Willie with sparks, blinding him with smoke, deafening him with whistles and the rattling of tracks.

"The whole of Santa Land will be destroyed!" thought Willie in a panic.

At this moment he noticed a draw bridge on the tracks. Quickly he raised the bridge with his mouth and jumped out of the way.

The first snake tore down the track, leaped into the open space and dashed to the floor. The second snake followed. And the third.

Motorist Uses Ruse to Get Free Repairs

Garageman E. R. Maddux complained that the man, in a blue 1951 auto, had some transmission work done on the car. The bill came to $20, but before he paid the motorist wanted to "ride around the block to see if everything was OK."

Police said the day before another garage owner reported the same man, in the same car, had $40 in repairs done to his car then drove off for a "test" run around the block, never to return.

Pickets Halting Express Delivery

Workers Here Not On Strike, but Observe Detroit Protest

Pontiac was affected for the first time today by a strike of Detroit Railway Express Agency workers when three pickets from Detroit stopped deliveries by parading in front of the local office.

Pontiac Manager A. P. Johlfs said his workers are not involved in the strike but are respecting the picket line thrown up by the Detroiters.

The Detroit strike started Oct. 20 over demands. Mediation talks are going on now in New York City.

Robert Miller, a Detroit Agency official, said today pickets have also thrown up lines at Birmingham, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Mt. Clemens.

"If our deliveries are tied up for any length of time we may find it necessary to ask persons to pick up their own packages," Miller declared.

Officer, Bandit Die in Gun Fight

Two Killed in Florida Recapture of Georgia Jailbreakers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A patrolman and a bank bandit died in a moonlight gun battle early today outside a bar on the western edge of the city.

Two hostages the pair grabbed to shield them when they found they were cornered escaped during the exchange of bullets.

The robber pair was identified by Gene Griffin, chief criminal investigator for the Duval County Sheriff's Office, as Myron Peter Goldman, 32, and Samuel Joseph Hornbeck, 34, both of Louisville, Ky.

Both had fled a Savannah, Ga., jail Sunday night by forcing jailers at gunpoint to free them.

Goldman was the one slain.

The Duval County road patrolman who was shot to death was T. A. Robinson Jr., 27.

Goldman and Hornbeck faced 25-year prison terms for robbing a branch of the Citizens & Southern National Bank at Savannah of $83,359 in April.

They also were charged with robbing a Birmingham bank of $52,000 in January.

Doyle Long, bartender at the Worth Club, was locking up the front door of his bar and saying goodnight to his last customer, a sailor, at 2 a.m. when the robber pair drove up.

Long and the sailor were forced back into the club and were being robbed when officers—who had been on the lookout for the fugitives—spotted their car.

Police disabled the auto and were just surrounding the little building when the robbers saw the officers.

The two jammed guns in the backs of Long and the sailor, using them as shields, and came out.

The battle resulted.

Odd Formula Spells Success to Manufacturer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Here's one man who benefited from the depression, having a "dough-head" as a chief engineer, and a 100-year-old idea.

D. H. Prutton now happily recalls that odd combination which started him on the way nearly 20 years ago "when the bankers took over the factory I was working in and put up a 'dough-head' as chief engineer."

Prutton quit and went into business for himself and now operates the D. H. Prutton Machinery Co. here, which turns out machines for threading screws and bolts at least 10 times faster than any other type.

The father and his two sons, Edward, 20, and Howard, 25, drew on a century-old idea of Edward Croft of Waterbury, Conn., who "thought of building a rotary machine like ours, but was ahead of his time," Prutton explained.

Not only did the Pruttons manage to build the "impossible machine, but they operate their neat factory with 20 employes in an unorthodox fashion.

Beside a profit-sharing scheme, Prutton operates on a democratic basis. Whenever a problem arises, boss and workers meet.

Teacher Is No Match for Agile Little Truant

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—The forst day of school is never very 7sy teachers, but Rosemary Boren believes she had more than the usual trouble with one first grade pupil.

The little boy climbed out the classroom window and started to rub. The teacher caught him and returned to class.

Again it happened—four times in fact. On the fifth try, a winded Miss Boren let the lad go.

FOR THE SPORTSMAN—A new quiet outboard motor that lets you listen to your favorite ball game, converse in normal tones and hear the slap of waves against the bow of the boat is a fine gift. The motor rates 5½ horsepower.

Start Out Young on Diet to Insure a Longer Life

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — If you plan to diet in an effort to assure long life, you have to start when you're young, according to Agnes Fay Morgan, professor of home economics and biochemist at the University of California.

The time to start eating right, Mrs. Morgan said, is when you are still a young adult. Or better, when still a child.

"Nutrition to prevent degenerative diseases of old age must be begun early in life," she said. "For example, obesity, which results from consuming too many calories, cannot be cured by a late start in dieting."

Elderly people require fewer calories, she said, because they have a slower metabolic rate and they don't do as much work as younger ones, generally speaking.

Mrs. Morgan's findings were based on a study of 777 men and women over 50 in San Mateo County, Calif. After seven-day diets, they were given thorough physical examinations, including blood and other biochemical analyses.

Hemoglobin has the function of xen in the bloodstreamtothedob carrying oxygen in the blood stream to the body tissues. Old people have less of it than young, hence need more protein and minerals, Vitamin C is also important for the elderly, Mrs. Morgan said.

Sportsmen Discover Kindliness Is Lousy

DILLWYN, Va. (UP) — Ernest Garrett and Frank Duty were casting for bass in Bear Creek Lake when Garrett's plug fell in a willow thicket. He reeled in an found an egret fluttering at the end of the line.

The fishermen found the bird was infested with vermin, so they dusted it with insect powder before letting it go. That was a mistake. The kice stayed behind when the bird winged away. Garrett and Duty had to change clothes and use the insect powder on themselves.

Tricky Motions in Bridge for 2

Honeymoon Type Best When Four Hands Are Dealt Out

By OSWALD JACOBY

Last week we began a discussion of the game of honeymoon bridge. We began by describing how to go through the motions of bidding and playing.

The game is played in many different ways, but at this moment we are discussing only the game in which you deal out four hands, with seven of the 13 cards in each dummy exposed after the bidding has ended.

Six of the exposed cards in each dummy are used to "cover" cards that are face down. After you have played a card from your dummy, you may turn up the card that was underneath it.

As we mentioned last week, auction bridge bidding is better in this game than contract bridge bidding. The scoring, however, should be the familiar contract bridge scoring.

What do you need for a bid in this game? That depends on how well you play, how well your opponent plays, and (naturally) on the nature of your hand.

You can afford to bid aggressively if you are a better player than your opponent. If you're modest enough to consider your opponent a better player, be modest in your bidding also.

Remember, however, that your opponent will be reluctant to double you at two-or-three-of-a-suit contract for the very good reason that you're usually both guessing at what will turn up in the two dummy hands.

So don't sell out too cheap if you have a long suit and some sort of favorable distribution.

You can afford to be optimistic if you have strength in three suits because you will probably be able to make good use of whatever high cards turn up in your dummy. If your strength is concentrated in one suit, however, your dummy's high cards will not be supported by high cards in your hand.

For this reason the concentrated type of hand is less valuable then the diffused type of hand.

In the play of the cards, keep an eye on your opponent's dummy as well as on your own.

In addition to the plays of normal bridge, you have the plays that depend on what happens to be face up at the moment in each dummy.

If your opponent's dummy has a singleton queen or king, capture it before he has a chance to turn up a low car to guard it.

If your dummy has a void side suit, hasten to ruff that suit in dummy before you turn up possible losing cards in the suit on other plays.

Mother to Face Court Dec. 28

Royal Oak Township Woman Is Accused of Shooting Two

A 22-year-old Royal Oak Township woman who is accused of shooting her husband and another woman Saturday waived examination on a felonious assault charge and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to appear Dec. 28.

Mrs. Wanda Williams, mother of three children who is expecting a fourth soon, was released from Oakland County Jail on $1,000 personal bond by Royal Oak Township Justice Richard V. Broder.

She and Mrs. Williams hsuband, R. B. Williams, 22, were each shot three times at the Williams home after being held at gunpoint for two hours by Mrs. Williams, who suspected them of having an affair.

Taunted by Williams to "go head and shoot," his wife opened fire with a .22 caliber target pistol, police said. Williams is reported in good condition today at the hospital.

Master TV Antenna New Type Utility

CHICAGO (UP) — The American Municipal Association says television has given rise to a new type of public utility.

It is the community television antenna service.

The association says that 163 communities, mostly in areas where reception is poor, have antenna service supplied by a local company.

The antenna company must be franchised by the city just as light and power firms are, the association says.

Fees for television owners generally are $125 for the initial hookup. Monthly charges for three-channel service run $3.50, the association reports. Seven channel service is expected to cost $5.

The community antenna is popular where the TV signals are impeded by mountains or other natural barriers and require an extensive system to capture them.

In Pennsylvania, a new law grants the antenna companies protection from wire-tapping and bootlegging of the TV impulses.

Islanders Use Horses, Buggies

Old - Fashioned Ways Still Prevail in Family Community

NAUSHON ISLAND, Mass. (UP) —This 6,200-acre island, a little world by itself, is one of the few spots in the nation still in the horse and buggy era.

It's owned and populated entirely by members of the Forbes family of Boston, now headed by W. Cameron Forbes, millionaire former U. S. ambassador to Japan.

The five trustees who handle the affairs of the island will allow no motor vehicles with the exception of a few farm machines. So members of the 15 Forbes households travel on horseback or in elegant carriages and buggies.

Since no one manufactures buggies, keeping up the island's rolling stock has become a problem. The trustees have to keep an eye out for vehicles stored in barns for many years.

When a "new" buggy is acquired, it often is dried up from lack of use. A Naushon remedy is to drop it into Mary's Lake, a smal fresh water pond, until it has soaked up enough water to moisten the wood again.

One of the most intriguing denizens of the island, however, is the "ghost" of Massachusetts Gov. James Bowdoin, Revolutinary War hero who once owned the property. The "ghost" is reputed to wander at night in one of the rooms of the Forbes mansions, where he died.

DO PROTECT HER—This wonderful reversible trench coat of imported gray worsted, lined luxurious Norwegian blue fox, will keep those wintry blasts away. It's a perfect complement to the oxford gray wool flannel dress.

Resistance of Flies Studied in California

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UP) — University of California scientists are raising flies at the rate of 10,000 a week to determine how the insects develop resistance to different sprays and insecticides.

So far, there have been indications that resistance may weaken sufficiently in succeeding generations to make possible a rotating or combination control program.

Locarno Spirit Needed Again

Swiss Village Brought New Era of Good Will After World War I

WASHINGTON — Nestled along the sunny southern slopes of the Swiss Alps lies the pleasant little town of Locarno, whose name once echoed around the world as a symbol of conciliation and peace among nations.

Locarno was front-page news for years after 1925, says the National Geographic Society. That was when delegates from Germany and the Allies of World War I met there to solve the trouble-making issues left in the wake of the war.

So amicable was the gathering that for a time it was believed that the "spirit of Locarno" had ushered in a new era of good will in diplomatic relations.

Today, the old hopeful term is again in the headlines, following suggestions from British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, that the "master thought which animated Locarno" might play its part in the minds of current peace seekers.

The 1925 meeting, held in Locarno's "Palace of Justice" between October 5th and 16th, was attended by the high-ranking statesmen of seven countries — Great Britian, France, Belgim, Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The agreements provided that all disputes should be settled by peaceful means.

One of the results of the Locarno pact was that Germany joined the League of Nations the following year. It also was understood by the treaty powers that the then occupied Rhineland would be evacuated and demilitarized.

But the spirit of conciliation born in the Swiss "peace city" was soon lost in conflicting national interests and expansionist ambitions.

Germany defied the Locarno pact and sent armed forces into the Rhineland in 1936. This was the first of a series of acts by the Hitler government (includng the absorption of Austria and the dismemberment and occupation of Czechoslovakia) that led finally to World War II.

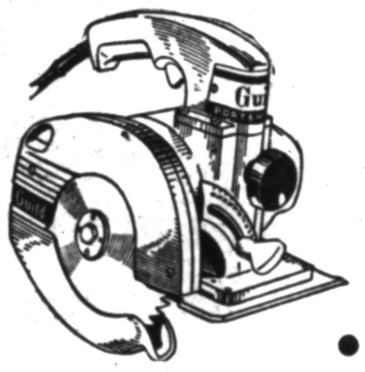

Early-day drinking glasses were made with pointed or rounded bottoms so that they had to be held in the hand until the last of the liquid was consumed.

Antique Smock Will Please Her

Whether she collects old glass and china, arranges flowers or makes jewelry, the new "antique print" smock will please and help her. Old clocks, books, china, flowers, tapestries are all shown in the colorful print on sanforized broadcloth which is as gay as it is washable.

Not new but extremely popular is the Old Master's smock, another sanforized print, showing against a white, black, gray or green background reproductions of fine paintings by Van Gogh, Lautrec and Tintorella.

Good Pillow Vital

A good pillow is a necessary item of sleeping equipment, for without it one's head will not receive the support it needs and the neck muscles will be stretched or cramped during sleep.

Less Waistline for More Life

Obesity—America's No. 1 public health problem—stems largely from overeating. It affects more people than any other impairment and is the root of many of the degenerative diseases prevalent today.

The overweight person who trims a few inches from his waistline not only will live longer, but will feel more zest for living. He will have fewer illnesses, a more pleasing appearance, and much more pep.

For his own well-being, anyone more than 10 per cent above his ideal weight should consider the merits of going on a reducing diet.

All dieting, however, should be done under the guidance of a physician to insure that no food elements essential to good health will be lacking.

Regardless of the fact that the body burns fewer calories during sleep, adequate rest is particularly important to the dieter, for dieting is a strain.

The person who wakens refreshed from a good night's sleep will be less easily irritated by the taboo placed on some of his favorite foods and will be more apt to maintain the willpower to stick

Terry Cloth Luxury Note in Bathroom

The shower curtain will, of course, need a plastic lining curtain. You can tie in the same colors with towels, bathmat, and seat cover.

They will live in LaJolla, Calif.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth will give a theater party for their daughter, Melinda, and a group of her friends Monday evening.

Other members of the family who live in this vicinity are Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Craig Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leonard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miner, who are here from East Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig. There will be a sleigh ride before the family dinner at 5 o'clock.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Raeder have invited Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scripps and Mr. and Mrs. John Bugas to attend the opening of "His and Hers" at the Cass Theater Monday evening and will entertain at supper afterwards honoring the star of the show, Celeste Holm.

The Readers' daughter, Barbara, will entertain a group of young people at supper Friday evening in their home on Quarton road.

Guests of the William Scripps' at dinner Christmas Eve will be Mrs. William E. Scripps, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scripps of Lake Orion, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spitzley of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spitzley, the Carl Spitzleys Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Caniff.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray Muzzy will have Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lerchen of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., as their houseguests over Christmas.

At Christmas dinner guests will include the Edward H. Lerchen family (Mrs. Ed Lerchen is the former Joan Muzzy), Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lerchen Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson.

Dining Room Making Big Comeback

Gets New Function as Center for Many Activities

Interiors designer Lloyd Bell of New York notes that, by adopting functions other than those of a dining center only, the separate dining room is staging a comeback, with more and more families demanding it in the homes being built for them.

"The old-fashioned, stately dining room was hard to keep clean and was used only once a day or so," said Mr. Bell. "As such, it was almost wasted space the home could ill afford. But the new dining room, with a trend toward easily cleaned floors and the addition of comfortable lounge furniture and a desk, is a multi-purpose room for the whole family to enjoy."

The dining room, adapted to relaxed and informal living, also can solve the "where TV?" problem. It may accommodate the extra television set, or offer a spot for the family's one TV, away from the living room where a party may be in progress or people are reading and don't care to be viewers at the moment.

Homemakers abandoned the dining room a few years ago because it was unhandy and a dustcatcher, Mr. Bell explained, but since it has been redesignated it is definitely coming back into favor. One feature, a pass-through between the eating area and the kitchen serving center, has done a great deal, by saving steps at mealtime, to make the dining room a spot convenient to the kitchen.

The dining room promises to adopt many of the functions of the so-called "recreation room" and have the advantage of being on the same floor with the other living areas of the home instead of in the basement. Among features suggested for the reborn dining room are a desk for the homemaker, a handsome sofa bed to accommodate overnight guests, and lamps for reading and studying.

The affair will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. in Nancy's home.*

Revolve Yule Gift Around Card Play

A boon to all Christmas shoppers, especially those hard-pressed for suggestions for their Christmas gift lists, is the fact that more than 80 per cent of adult Americans play cards. And this doesn't necessarily mean giving only cards as gifts, either!

There are hundreds of card games which provide material each year for dozens of books on cards or on a particular card game.

Try Out Perfumes

Wondering which kind of perfume you should wear? Test perfume at the counter and find out how different types strike you. The perfume for you is the one you like, the one that makes you feel happier, gayer, younger, more charming.

Club Hears About Yule in Holy Land

Child Study Group Gathers Tuesday at Hathaway Home

Frieda Huggett, visiting teacher of Waterford Township Schools who spent some time in the Holy Land last year, was guest speaker Tuesday afternoon before Child Study Club Group Three.

She gave a realistic picture of her Christmas Eve visit to the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem and described in detail the countryside surrounding that city.

Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway was hostess to the group at her home on East Iroquois road as members gathered for the annual sandwich luncheon.

Mrs. Donald Fraser was elected to membership in the group and Mrs James Whitely was the guest of the day. Mrs. Roy Jones was program chairman.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. William Janecek, Mrs. L. Jerome Fink, Mrs. Russell Anderson and Mrs. Quentin Waddell. Members brought gaily decorated packages of Christmas cookies to be distributed at the Oakland County Infirmary.

Group Holds Yule Party

Mrs. William Kreklow held the traditional Christmas party of the January- March Group of the First Presbyterian Church in her home on O'Riley street Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. William D. Thomas Jr. was elected chairman.

Committee chairmen named by Mrs. Thomas include Mrs. D. R. Lazelle, publicity; Mrs. Charles Thompkins, telephone; Mrs. T. C. McFetridge, spiritual life; Mrs. Lawrence McCann, house; Mrs. D. E. Rightmire, cards and flowers; Mrs. Avery Shearer, thank offering, and Mrs. W. J. Baumgartner, mission study.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Chester Sloan, Mrs. George Cram and Mrs. Rightmire. Mrs. Russell Hoyt gave devotions, using "Let's Keep Christmas" by Peter Marshall as her topic.

Carol singing was led by Mrs. K. L. Hoyt. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs. Smith Falconer, retiring chairman, was presented with a gift.

Fellowship Class Plans Chili Supper

Mrs. Joe Carter is chairman of the supper, assisted by Mrs. Jack Storm, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. Thomas Marsh and Mrs. Merlin Sanderson.

The group also made plans to provide a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Clown Pajamas Will Delight Girl

If there is a little clown on your Christmas list, she will love the new pajamas styled as clown suits.

In one and two-piece versions, they are made in a gay, bright circus print on sanforized cotton flannel, which is as warm as it is washable.

One style has fluffy giant pompons spaced down the front. More exciting is the two-piece suit with a huge patch pocket designed as a clown's face, complete with embroidery ruff and dunce cap.

Basic Home Needs

When house-hunting, don't forget these basic needs: plentiful storage, maximum family living area, ample bathroom facilities, good insulation, durable, fireproof material in kitchen and bathrooms.

Playthings Provide Practical Training for Future While Amusing Youngsters

Toys that teach as well as entertain have gained popularity rapidly in recent years. This Christmas they will be taking the lead.

The current interest in conquering space will be reflected in rocket guns, space helmets and space ports. Space ship designs are even influencing toddlers' push and pull toys.

Many toys are being designed to give the small fry practical training for careers. There are toys for example, that explore maintenance, gardening and shoe shine and beauty shop operation.

A fiberboard supermarket equipped with shelves, minature packages and display material will please the junior grocer.

And future architects will delight in prefabricated parts that permit exact reproduction of suburban and city building developments.

For the would-be housewife there will be a minature shopping cart stocked with dozens of tiny replicas of famous food packages.

New in housecleaning cabinets is one that features a roll of linoleum in addition to pail, mop, scrubbing brush and detergents.

Cowboys' and girls' accessories will continue popular, of course, as will dolls, which also will reflect this year's how-to trend.

Jokers Shouldn't Carry Deadpan Effect Too Far

A comedian named Jimmy Lyons told me once that the reason professional funnymen go round looking funereal is because "if you laugh at your own story, no one else will."

There aren't many professional comedians in my circle, so that's all right with me, but I'd like to lodge a protest against parlor jokesters who carry the deadpan effect so far that their audiences never do catch on that it's a joke.

MISS McBRIDE

I'm ashamed to say I was once guilty of this myself. On a house party, a group of us deftly hoaxed an unsuspecting friend into believing that she was seeing an amazing demonstration of extra-sensory perception or mind-reading.

It was easy to do—the rest of us had arranged a series of signals and then started a game. Somebody was chosen to leave the room and those remaining picked an object that were to concentrate on until the person who was "it" guessed right. It was easy with the pre-arranged signals, and our victim believed it all.

Cruelly we let her go on for weeks marveling to everybody. When she finally found out the truth, Ellen was so hurt she didn't want to see any of us for a long time.

She said it wasn't fair because we never gave a hint that we were joking, and I think she was right. There ought to be some clue that it's all in fun.

Plenty of people don't agree with me, though. Benjamin Franklin wrote to a friend in London more than 200 years ago that one of the great New World sights was whales leaping up Niagara Falls. Now how in the world could the London friend clear across the ocean know that it was impossible for a whale to be leaping around Niagara Falls?

H. Allen Smith, who writes very funny stuff but like the rest of us isn't so amused when the joke is turned on himself, told me once about his initiations into newspaper work.

The foreman of the composing room sent him to a print shop some distance away for a nonpareil space band. Back and forth three or four times the poor young man trudged, trundling wheelbarrows full of junk, only to find at last that everybody was laughing uproariously and that a nonpareil space band doesn't exist.

No great harm was done, you may say, but no great good either that I can see, to make a newcomer to a job feel more nervous about it than he already did.

Almost as bad as the reporter who, in the days before communications were what they are now, convinced the whole of New York City that wild animals were loose in the streets, are the pranksters who sit in a company and soberly amuse themselves by carrying on conversations that are sheer invention.

"I wouldn't find it funny if you had done it," confessed one of the offenders later. "I only think it's funny when I do it."

Which just about winds up the whole subject, except that it starts you wondering what is a joke anyway?

Join Twin Beds With Headboard

Twin beds with a single headboard that gives them a double bed look are extremely popular among today's young marrieds, for they provide proximity and individual sleeping comfort at the same time.

A couple who must keep close tab on their budget can outfit their bedroom with such an ensemble inexpensively by constructing their own headboard and attaching two mattresses and springs-on-legs combinations.

To insure sleeping comfort, the mattress and bedspring combinations should be selected with care. They should be level and resilient and of the best quality construction the budget will allow.

The headboard can be made easily by mounting a wide plank or thin plywood on one side of a light wooden frame and covering it with bright-colored cloth or plastic.

Missionaries Speak

Foreign Yules Described

Mrs. George Kennedy spoke before members and guests of the Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening on how Christmas was spent by missionaries in the Belgian Congo.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy spoke about their first Christmas away from home, telling of Christmas in Belgium where chocolate shoes and decorated candy and cakes are a part of the tradition.

He explained that St. Nicholas Day arrives there Dec. 6, and varied events take place before the holiday season closes on New Year's Day.

Charlene and Joanne Kennedy sang "Silent Night" in an African dialect used where they were stationed in the Congo for five years.

Other contributions to the program were accordion solos by Marilyn Scarborough and readings by Kathie Yeager. Mrs. Wayne Brien, Mrs. Gordon Shelton and Phyllis Flemington sang several trio numbers.

Kenneth Hempstead used the Annunciation to Mary as subject for his devotions. Plans for visiting the Oakland County Infirmary with gifts were made for next week and a smorgasbord style cooperative dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown and their committees.

Beauty Clinic

By Edythe McCulloch

8 A. M.

Here are a few suggestions for a simple program which takes only a very few minutes night and morning.

Wash your face at night with superfatted soap and massage in night cream. Remove every bit of cream with tissue. In the morning all you need is cold water before applying makeup. Apply little dabs of foundation all over the face and spread quickly with fingertips.

Now give your face a light going over with tissue to even foundation and remove surplus. Apply lipstick with fingertips, take a little lipstick from lips and apply to cheeks. (Repeated exerience with this practice has proven it is not harmful.) Blend with fingers then use tissue to blend edges completely. Now apply powder to the nose. Never powder a wrinkle.

Phone Edythe McCulloch Beauty Shop, FE 2-7431, 608 Pontiac Bank Bldg.

Keep Up Beauty of White Leather

This season, the perennial "little white touch" is important in leather. Maybe it's a jeweled white leather collar on a black flannel dress, or men's cuffs in white leather buttoned on with rhinestones, or a rhinestoned-buckled white leather belt. Remember that your winter white must look as immaculate as your warm weather touch-ups!

Don't be afraid to keep it clean with soap and water as leather is washable. Just whip up some very stiff "dry" suds, using as little water as possible and lots of soap. Then, with a sponge or soft brush, go over the leather to remove soil and smudges. Wipe it promptly with a rinse sponge or cloth, and blot dry with a towel.

Children Entertained

Camp Fire Unit Has Fete

Cikipi Group of Camp Fire Girls held a Christmas party at the home of their leader, Mrs. William Graves, on Draper avenue Tuesday evening.

The members had made corsages and presented them to their guests as they arrived. Christmas carols and games highlighted the evening, and an impromptu talent program was given by the visitors.

Gifts were presented to each of the guests. A buffet supper was served from a lace-covered table centered with a large Christmas tree surrounded by a number of miniature Christmas trees.

Plans were made to entertain the guests in the future. Mrs. Edmund Hadden, co-leader, assisted with the entertainment.

Be Prepared to Prepare for Rush Date

You can keep your office supply of beauty aids to an unobtrusive minimum and still put your best face forward after five. And without stealing away from your desk for a half hour.

One portion of a side drawer should hold these nine essentials: Cleanser, tissues, foundation (in small plastic bottle), powder, hair dressing, small hair brush, clothes brush, suede brush and an extra pair of white gloves in a plastic protector.

These items plus the beauty aids in your purse kit can be used effectively in 15 minutes.

Of course, you will need to organize the procedure so that no time is lost between steps.

First, pin your hair back out of the way; then cleanse your face thoroughly, wiping it with facial tissues. Foundation and liquid rouge will go on in seconds. And lipstick, eyebrow pencil and mascara require about two minutes.

Perk up your hair with a good brushing after applying a bit of hair dressing, one that has a petroleum jelly base. This step requires three to five minutes.

You'll need just a few minutes to dab on perfume and to brush suede shoes, dress, hat and coat. Then slip on your spotlessly white gloves and step forth refreshed and well-groomed.

Movies Are Taken of St. Joseph Staff

Movies of business staff members of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were taken Monday evening when members met at the home of Mrs. Leon Wolverton on Ivy street.

Taking the movies were Mrs. Flossie Coleman and Mrs. Ida Wilson. The group also had a Christmas dinner party and an evening of entertainment.

There's No Fur Like Humble Bunny

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Be it ever so humble, there's no fur like rabbit.

Once rabbits were forced to hide behind fancier names, such as lapin, to get by as fur coats. Now that candor is in fashion in the fur industry, the humble rabbit is billed frankly, even flamboyantly, as rabbit.

So we come to a new line of rabbit coats that just arrived in a store on 57th street, a few doors down from Tiffany's. There is one, for instance, that's all rabbit and several yards wide at the hem—$500. It is navy, red and green plaid.

Plaid rabbit fur? Most customers, except for a very few who still believe in the Easter Bunny, are astonished. A few have recovered from the shock quickly enough to buy coats or jackets, especially the bright red-dyed furs.

The Technicolor furs came first from Technicolor movies, designed by 10 different Hollywood designers for movie stars. Recently the designers decided to try selling the colored furs here. With the help of a number of Australian rabbit pelts, they went into business.

Edith Head contributed a red rabbit reversible. It is beige cashmere wool on one side. A woman must decide for herself which side she considers more elegant. Cashmere has a certain snob appeal, but on the other hand, red rabbit is something you don't see every day.

The loud plaid coat and another plaid jacket are the work of designer Eloise Jenssen. The jacket is done in beige and brown in contrast to the bright colors of some of the other rabbit dyes.

It is even possible, while you're sitting around the living room waiting for color television, to wear a colored rabbit hostess gown. One of pale blue rabbit with deeper blue fox cuffs is in this new group, designed by Helen Rose of MGM. There also is a beige fur hostess coat with a faille midriff embroidered in pearls.

Or you just might throw a red rabbit stole with black lace edges around your shoulders to shut out the winter drafts. Red seems to be the favorite rabbit color, perhaps because of the Christmas season.

With rabbit entering the leisure class, it is reassuring to note that mink is getting more utilitarian. The latest lame-lined mink stole has a hood for warmth and can be worn half a dozen different ways.

Experimenting With New Hair Hues Turns Out Disastrously for Two Girls

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Before some girls get really used to seeing themselves as they are, they get wild yens to improve on nature. The dye-pot holds an irresistible lure.

They're quite sure that changing the color of their hair will give them a brand new personality. It's such fun to confuse everybody by switching from carrot-top to demure blonde.

But look what happens sometimes!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I tried to dye my hair red, then later I peroxided my bangs blonde, and still later made it blonde all over.

"After a couple of weeks of that I decided I didn't want to be a blonde any more so I got some dark brown tint—that made my hair look gray. Frankly, I look awful!

"My hair is all broken off and is coming out. I can hardly stand it. Sometimes I think I'll cut it all off!

"I've tried trimming the ends, but it doesn't do any good, neither do the two or three shampoos I give it each week. What do you suggest that I do to get back to my natural reddish brown hair in the quickest possible time?"

Sounds as though you've really done yourself in the eye this time. And what you need is the professional help of a hair specialist—someone who can examine the condition of your hair and recommend treatments to bring it back to health and life.

It may be inconsistent, but it's usually the square who runs around in circles.

Were my crowning glory dimmed as yours is, I'd be strongly tempted to cut the offending stuff off. Maybe a very short hairdo might be becoming. At least there wouldn't be so much of it around to remind you of your folly.

It would take much less time for a short crop to look all one color—your natural reddish brown. While your hair is growing back, let the specialist keep trimming off the discolored ends and treating your scalp to repair the damage you've done to yourself.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I used to be a blonde, so I decided recently to tint my dishwatery-looking locks blonde again. It's perfectly harmless—you can wash it right out. But Jim doesn't like it!

"He had perfect fits when he saw me. And he hasn't been around, hasn't called me, and he didn't take me to the big dance we were supposed to go to together.

"The day after the dance he told me he'd have taken me if it weren't for my hair! What am I going to do to get him back again?"

Get back to natural quick, then humbly confess to him that you played a foolish trick on yourself for which you're sorry. Maybe when he has no reason to feel ashamed of being seen with you, he'll start coming around again.

One in Ten Has Tree

This year's consumption of Christmas trees in the United States will average about one tree per 10 persons. The most popular trees are balsam, fir and spruce, but the red cedar, Douglas fir and white fir also are in demand.

Clean Aluminum With Acid Foods

Boiling acid foods such as tomatoes and rhubarb in aluminum pots is the easiest way to keep the utensils spotless.

Flatters Wide Foot

The V-shaped vamp is most flattering to the broad foot. Square toes and rounded vamps, on the other hand, should be avoided by the woman whose foot is wide. Ankle straps and large bows also are bad. Shoes in one color and fabric are best.

No Trouble to Bake This 1-Egg Cake

Mrs. Huntoon Has Recipe Frosted With Caramel, Coconut

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here's a recipe for an easily made cake with a quick frosting. Mrs. Orrin P. Huntoon Jr. is today's contributor with Coconut Caramel Cake.

Mrs. Huntoon's main interest is her family. Any lesisure time at home is spent reading or sewing. She is a member of the Opti-Mrs. Club and the Jimmy Dey Post Auxiliary.

COCONUT CARAMEL CAKE

By Mrs. Orrin P. Huntoon Jr.

1 2-3 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup vegetable shortening
2-3 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon almond extract

Sift dry ingredients together into a bowl. Add remaining ingredients and mix for 4 minutes or until batter is smooth.

Pour into greased 11x7 oblong pan and bake in a moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool and cover with coconut caramel frosting.

Caramel Frosting

3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
5 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons cream
⅓ cup coconut

Mix and spread over top of baked cake. Place under broiler until top is bubbly and lightly toasted.

Poor Widow Can't Afford Nuptial Gift

By EMILY POST

The mother of a bride-to-be writes me: "I have a friend whom I would like very much to invite to my daughter's wedding. This woman is a widow and has very little money, but I know that if she is invited to the wedding, she will send my daughter a wedding present even though she cannot afford it.

"How can I tell her that she will be most welcome at Mary's wedding, but not to send a present? Could this be done without embarrassing her?"

Answer: She shouldn't be embarrassed if you say to her, "I really mean it seriously, Sara, I don't want you to buy Mary a wedding present! She has more presents than she knows what to do with now. But we do want you with us on that day."

Dear Mrs. Post: I received a necklace of blue sapphires from my fiance for a wedding present.

I had planned on wearing this as the "something blue" on my wedding day, but my sister insists that a string of pearls is the only proper jewelry worn with a white bridal dress. Will you please tell me if she is right?

Answer: Because a bride usually wears pearls does not mean that that is the only thing she is permitted to wear, and the fact that the blue sapphire necklace is a present from the bridegroom makes it doubly correct.

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct name for a wife to use when she and her husband are separated, but not divorced?

Answer: Usually she keeps his name. The fact that they have different addresses shows that they have separated. The further fact that neither can remarry avoids the complication of ex-wife and wife No. 2 having duplicate names.

Plastic Purse Calls for Good Scrubbing

With see-through plastic purses sweeping the country, it's high time to think about handbag housekeeping.

If you have a transparent purse, keep it clean with a soapy cloth or sponge. Fingermarks and smudges will be conspicuous enough to mar its appearance.

French Mark Yule

The French probably were the first to celebrate Christmas in what is now the United States. Sixteen years before the Mayflower, a French settlement was founded on St. Croix island, off the coast of Maine. On December 25, 1604, service was held in the chapel, followed by sports and feasting after the custom of the homeland.

Trend-Setter Chanel Going Back to Dressmaking

PARIS (AP)—All that excitement last summer over Dior's shorter skirts is nothing compared to the stir today in the Paris fashion world created by a simple business announcement:

Now nearing 70, Chanel has been quietly refurbishing her establishment which for 15 years has sold only the famous perfume that bears her name.

This week she let it be known officially that she will reopen her dressmaking salon for the next big round of fashion shows.

It's still a mystery why "Coco" Chanel has decided to re-enter the field she dominated in the 20s and 30s and then abandoned at the start of the war in 1939, leaving only the internationally famed "No. 5" perfume to keep her name before the public.

Does she need the money? Or is she simply bored in retirement?

Whatever her motive, Chanel's reopening is a real bombshell for the fashion folk because of her reputation for startling stunts that stick.

Chanel was the first designer to go into the perfume business in a big way.

The costume or "junk" jewelry trade developed from her use on herself and her mannequins of flashy but worthless ornaments.

Before Chanel, no really fashionable woman wore anything by genuine jewels.

She specialized in casual clothes and used a lot of wool and tweed, to the satisfaction of the wool mills.

She was convinced—and apparently still is—that five was her lucky number. That's how the perfume got its name. And that is why she chose Feb. 5 for her reopening.

Eviction Jury Is Nearly Filled

To Hear Case Against Four Men Involved in Lapeer Hassle

LAPEER (UP)—Only one more juror was needed today to complete the panel which will hear the trial of three farmers and a Detroiter charged with conspiring to obstruct justice in the Elizabeth Stevens eviction case.

Eleven jurors were selected Tuesday from a panel of 63 veniremen. The 52 others either withdrew voluntarily or were dismissed after challenging.

The four defendants are accused of conspiring to prevent Sheriff Clark W. Gregory from evicting Mrs. Stevens from her farm home June 2, 1952. The farm was sold when Mrs. Stevens refused to pay an assessment levied by the receiver for the defunct Lapeer County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association.

On trial are Clayton C. Gilliland, Detroit; Floyd Schriber, Almont; Howard Jarvis, Lapeer, and Howard Abbott, Columbiaville.

Schriber already has been convicted of the actual assault on Gregory and a deputy when they were mauled while trying to evict Mrs. Stevens, who now is dead.

Sales in New York Drop 10 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP)—Sales volume in New York City's department stores dropped 10 per cent last week, compared with the comparable week a year ago, according to preliminary figures issued yesterday by the federal reserve bank of New York.

The report also showed that sales for the fou rweeks ended Dec. 12 were off 6 per cent from the corresponding period a year ago.

With no advertising available on Sunday, Dec. 6, merchants reported that business was off Monday from a year earlier, and for most stores the percentage decrease in sales that day was the sharpest experienced on any day last week, compared with a year ago.

Business improved later in the week, as newspapers resumed publication.

3 Boys, Woman Stir Lost Plane Search

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Take three excited little boys. Mix gently with one excited woman. Season with imagination and concern and what do you have?

Pressed into the false rescue operation were:

Two Coast Guard planes, an Air Force helicopter, Three Coast Guard boats, a naval crash boat and two sheriff's cars.

The woman telephoned the Air National Guard the boys said the plane knocked off the tops of phone poles and crashed into San Francisco Bay. They were so excited, she said, she just had to believe them. But she neglected to give her name and address. And the boys, too, remained anonymous.

No missing plane was found.

Leukemia Victims May Live for Years

CHICAGO (UP) — Two research workers say there is room for more optimism about the life expectancy of chronic leukemia victims.

Dr. Arthur A. Marlow and Grant R. Barlett of La Jolla, Calif., point to a patient who lived for 29 years with the disease as an example.

But the researchers wrote in the Journal of the American Medical Association that the statistics do not mean any particular patient is doomed.

"It is felt that an optimistic viewpoint is desirable in chronic leukemia, as the life expectancy of certain patients far exceeds that reported to be the average in large series of patients," they said.

"Many individual patients can often be kept in happy, productive states for long periods of time by careful management."

Hears All Phone Conversations on His Clock Radio

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—Folks in the Ringgold section of Pittsylvania County are careful how they talk on the telephone these days.

John Kuykendall, a resident of the area, has been complaining for three months now that his clock radio picks up all the telephone conversations—from the opening ring to the final goodby.

Telephone company technicians so far have been unable to help much, but the company has assured Kuykendall that "higher level" technicians will be brought in to assist.

Mother, Son Injured on Newly Waxed Floor

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—After his mother waxed the kitchen floor to a high gloss, Dennis Badger, 3, promptly skidded, fell and injured his nose. He was taken to the hospital. A few hours later in came Mrs. Badger for treatment of a cut over her eye. She had also slipped on the floor and hit her head on a table.

Santa Doesn't Keep Word—Gets Haymaker

PORTLAND, Me. (UP) — Paul Gill said "No thanks' when asked to play Santa Claus this year.

He remembered what happened when he impersonated St. Nick in a Bangor department store.

"Ho, ho," he said, bouncing a boy on his knee. "What can I bring you for Christmas?"

Give Outside Yule Display Professional Appeal by Outlining Ahead on Paper

Have you ever suspected that the man next door or the neighbor across the street achieved just a little more of a professional result with his outdoor holiday decorations than you have? If so, maybe the answer lies in the fact that he planned his display on paper, not as you did, as you went along putting up your outdoor lights.

One of the best ways I know to arrive at an effective display is to make a rough sketch of your house and indicate how you are going to decorate it.

Then check your equipment to see if you have everything you need and that what you do have is in good condition.

There are many ways this plan on paper can help you. If your house has interesting architectural features, it will remind you to emphasize them with lights.

Once you've decided on your basic design, you may find it helpful to install ordinary brass cup hooks which can't rust and hang your strings of outdoor lights on them. Leave the hooks in year 'round to speed up next year's lighting job. Remember too that the neater you string your wires, the more professional your results will be. Dangling wires detract from the design.

Notice in the photograph above how lights can emphasize the interesting line of a roof. Placing the lights close together can outline the roof in almost a continuous band of light. Although you can't see it in the black and white photograph, using only one or two colors will give your display a more unified appearance.

For contrast, for instance, you can use cool colors to outline the house and warm colors around your door. Warm colors will give a feeling of welcome at entrances.

In addition to your strings of outdoor colored lights, plan your holiday decorations so the whole effect will present a pleasing picture. The home pictured above shows good use of ready-made ready-to-hang lighted devices that can add variety to your exterior decorating.

Notice how a lighted star on one side of the house is balanced with a lighted Santa mask on the opposite side of the house. The indoor tree in the picture window which is framed with strings of colored lights, becomes an important part of the overall holiday theme.

Traverse City Politician to Run for State Senate

TRAVERSE CITY (UP)—John Minnema, local Republican and businessman, has announced that he will run for state senator to fill the vacant post created by the death of Sen. Felix H. H. Glynn last week in Lansing.

He said that he would file candidacy if Gov. Williams orders a special election. He is a former mayor of Traverse City, and county road director.

FLECKED DESIGN—This weskit and skirt ensemble adds tweed to wardrobe. The skirt has a kick pleat in back. Collar is removable.

Cat Travels 140 Miles, Beats Mistress Home

DURHAM, N. C. (UP)—A cat owned by Mrs. W. G. Martin of Durham disappeared in Gastonia, N. C., on a recent visit there by Mrs. Martin. She gave the cat up for lost, but when she returned here the cat was waiting in the front yard.

"There was no doubt about it," she said. "Somehow my cat got home, over the more than 140 miles. It seems impossible to me."

New Hatt Girl

DANBURY, Conn. (UP) — This hat center of the world has another "Hatt"—a girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Hatt.

Family Getting Home for Yule

Friends and Neighbors Replacing House Razed by Fire Monday

A fire destroyed their home in nearby Edison Monday.

Herb Ott says it's hard to keep up with everything that's happened since then.

* * *

Dozens of friends, neighbors, well-wishers and community merchants chipped in to help the destitute family. Builders, contractors and various manufacturers are building a new Ott home on the site of the old one.

Waiting for the family to move in are:

A new baby coach for 8-month-old Susan, nursery furniture, three bedroom suites, bed clothing for the whole family, a new electric refrigerator, a television set and plenty of toys to put under the Christmas tree.

* * *

Ott, an attendant at the Bucks County poor farm, was out with a son, Lowell, 17, when the fire—blamed on a heater—started. His wife Anna barely had time to grab up Susan and Anna, 2, and lead to safety the other children—Joel, 16; Sylvia, 13; George, 12; Donald, 10; and Linda, 4.

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Meat Institute predicts meat production will reach 23½ billion pounds this year, 4 per cent over last year and 7 per cent over 1951.

The increase probably will be concentrated in beef and veal, the AMI said, which will more than offset an expected 5 per cent drop in pork production. The supply of meat per person may reach 145 pounds.

Trabert, Washer Are Paired in 1st Davis Test

Top-Ranking Players on U.S. and Belgian Teams Tangle Thursday

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Top ranking aces of the two countries —U.S. champion Tony Trabert and veteran Philippe Washer of Belgium—will meet tomorrow in the opening singles match of the Davis Cup interzone tennis final.

Washer, 29-year-old steel executive who has been Belgium's hope of making a good fight, said he definitely would play despite a sprained muscle in his right shoulder.

The match goes on at 1:15 p.m. Brisbane time (10:15 p.m., EST) followed by a second singles joust involving America's Wimbledon titleholder Vic Seixas and Belgium's 23-year-old Jacques Brichant.

Washer's untimely injury made the United States an even heavier favorite to score a 5-0 sweep into the challenge round against Australia Dec. 20-30 at Melbourne.

• • •

The interzone matches here were given a bizarre twist today when officials announced an armed guard would keep an around-the-clock vigil on the previous center court of the Hilton Tennis Club throughout the weekend.

Officials said measures were being taken to prevent vandals from injuring the delicately nurtured playing surface.

C. A. Edwards, prominent Brisbane druggist who is president of the Milton Club, said he would supply hundreds of salt tablets to help contestants battle intense heat.

• • •

Humidity has been almost unbearable as temperatures approached 100 degrees. Official tennis balls are kept in an icebox at courtside.

Bantam Titlist Gets 4 Battles

Carruthers Signs for Tilts in Japan, the Phillipines, Bangkok

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — World bantamweight champion Jimmy Carruthers has agreed to a 21,000 pounds (Australian) (approximately $43,200) offer of three non-title fights in Japan and Manila and a title fight in Bangkok, his manager, Dr. J. J. McGirr, announced today.

McGirr said the title fight would be in the 1st week in May against Chemren Sngkitrat who is rated the No. 6 bantamweight in world rankings.

The non-title fights will be in Manila and Osaka, Japan, in March and in Tokyo in April.

Carruthers also will have two non-title fights in Sydney before leaving about the middle of February, McGirr said.

Howe Sets Pace in Defeat for Spartans

EAST LANSING (UP) — Gordie Howe, who scored four goals, Tuesday night led the Detroit Red Wings to a 13-4 hockey exhibition victory over Michigan State College before a capacity crowd of 1,900 spectators at the Campus Ice arena.

Illini '53 'Surprise Team'

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—If you see a man walking around with a strange light in his eyes, clutching a typewriter and looking as if he had mislaid his overcoat (which he probably has) don't call the cops. He's just a football expert who hasn't recovered from the surprises and upsets of the 1953 season.

• • •

The nation's sports writers and broadcasters, asked to name the Surprise Team of the Year in the Associated Press postseason poll, came up with 54 different names. And they listed 42 separate games under the heading of Outstanding Upsets.

• • •

The final count of ballots gave Illinois the call as the No. 1 surprise team with Stanford, Iowa, Auburn and Army close behind. The greatest upset, by a considerable margin, was Purdue's 6-0 decision over the 1952 national champion, Michigan State, late in October.

Very little had been expected of the untried Illinois team before the season started. But a couple of sophomores, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates, came along to turn it into one of the nation's outstanding teams and co-champion of the Big Ten.

Sixty of 279 voters listed Illinois as the No. 1 surprise team, 39 more put the Illini second and 20 third.

• • •

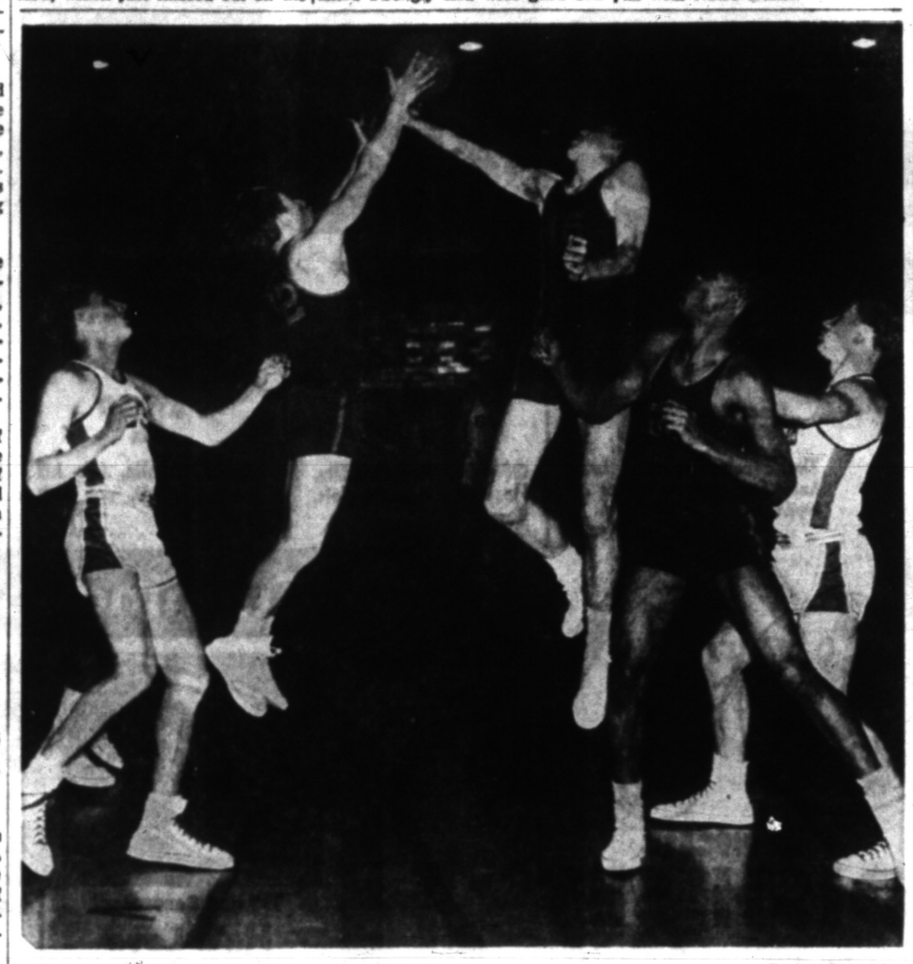

On the usual 3-2-1 scoring basis, that counted up to 278 points. Stanford, which just missed out on the Pacific Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl assignment after beating the eventual winner, UCLA collected 38 first-place votes and 163 points for second place. Then came Iowa with 154 points, Auburn with 148 and Army with 105.

• • •

All these were teams which finished strongly and with good season records after being overlooked in the preseason calculations.

• • •

In addition to Purdue's victory over Michigan State, other notable upsets were picked in this order: Mississippi Southern's 25-19 victory over Alabama, Houston's 37-7 beating of Baylor and Iowa's 14-14 tie with Notre Dame.

Uclans' Passing Not Up to Par

Sanders Says Bruins in Fair Shape; 2 Miss Scrimmage

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Coach Henry (Red) Sanders, whose UCLA Bruins meet Michigan State in the Rose Bowl, was highly critical of his team's passing and pass receiving today and termed the condition of his squad "just fair."

Bruins went through a 40-minute scrimmage Tuesday with only two players, blocking quarterback Don Foster, suffering from a slightly pulled muscle, and fullback Bob Davenport, out with a twisted knee, missing the body contact drill.

The squad also worked against the Spartan's T-formation, one of several used by the Big Ten club, on defense. The rest of the drill was spent brushing up on fundamentals to improve the team's blocking and tackling.

Dallas Owner Sees Franchise in Minnesota

DALLAS (UP)—Owner Dick Burnett of the Dallas Eagles believes this city could have a major league team next season if it had a big enough stadium, but predicts the St. Paul-Minneapolis area would benefit from the next major league franchise move.

He said it was Frick's idea to expand the major league circuits "one way or another," within the next three years.

The independent baseball man said, in addition to Dallas, St. Paul and Minneapolis, cities which may be able to land major league teams included Houston, Tex., Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Montreal and Toronto.

Ontario Five Falls Before Titan Drive

DETROIT (AP)—University of Detroit's basketball squad coasted to a 92-54 win over Western Ontario last night for their 4th victory in six attempts.

Never behind, Titans led 48-27 at halftime. Guard Ralph Goldstein of the Titans was high scorer with 19 points. Titan guard Dan Halling and forward Guy Sparrow each had 17.

Spartan Followers Hope for 'Dream Game' Jan. 1

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Rose Bowl bid has inspired some real rosy dreams among Michigan State supporters.

Rosiest of these is the theory that Michigan State might perhaps play a "dream game"—comparable to its 35-0 defeat of Notre Dame in 1951—in its debut in the big Pasadena stadium.

Looking over the past season, they tab as the best two Spartan victories the 21-0 shutout of Minnesota and the 28-13 triumph over Ohio State.

All season, they've been figuring Michigan State must have one razzle-dazzle super-dooper in its system. They hope this one is it.

Pressure this year has been especially rough for Michigan State what with the start of the Big Ten season and the psychological setback of the Western Conference suspension.

Now Michigan State has the rest of the Big Ten behind it with every other team in the circuit rooting for the baby.

For the first time during the season, the squad will be at a physical peak and mentally its spirit is high.

This is all from the look-on-the-brighter-side boys—the hometowners. UCLA supporters will have an entirely different version. All of which makes for football games, fights and horse races.

Must Return From N-S Game to Stand Trial for Assault, Battery

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan tackle Jim Balog, signed to play in the North-South game Dec. 26, will have to hurry back to Ann Arbor to stand trial for assault and battery.

The Wheaton, Ill., senior stood mute on arraignment in municipal court yesterday. He was released on $100 bond and ordered to appear Dec. 28 for a hearing.

Ann Arbor police arrested the foot ball player on complaint by Guy V. Foster of Davison, Mich., university freshmen.

Foster charged Balog hit him in the face last Wednesday night after the two collided while walking on an Ann Arbor street. Foster said he received multiple fractures of the jaw from the blow.

U.S. May Not Participate in Skating Test in Japan

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (UP)—The world speed skating championships in Japan are only a month away but the outlook today was that the United States may not even participate.

At best, the U. S. will take only two skaters to the Far East in competition against more than a dozen countries, including Russia and Czechoslovakia.

U. S. star, Ken Henry of Chicago, now stationed in Germany with the Army, definitely will not compete this year. And finally, the expensive transportation item has not been solved.

Such was the plight of the amateur speed skater as outlined by Richard P. Shearman of Jamestown, president of the Amateur Skating Union of the U. S. Japan, Shearman said, is very anxious to have the United States team enter the short distance competitions.

One commercial airline has offered to provide free transportation to the two skaters and Shearman but the civil Aeronautics board must approve all gratis trips to foreign countries and it has failed to do so thus far.

Most lop-sided football score in Big Ten conference history was Michigan's 107-0 triumph over the University of Iowa in the season of 1902.

Erratic Play, Poor Shooting Plague PHS 5

Pontiac Drops Early Lead, Regains It, but Finally Bows, 55-39

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's disappointing basketball team absorbed its 2nd straight defeat here Tuesday night, bowing to Port Huron 55-39 in a ragged, foul-ridden contest.

First quarter was nip-and-tuck, with the PHS club taking a 14-11 lead. Chiefs extended their advantage to eight points, 20-12, in the 2nd quarter and then just came apart at the seams.

Pontiac regained the lead at the start of the 3rd period on a layup by Dave Ballard, but Dick McDonald sank a charity toss to again knot the score. Daly followed up with a quick field goal, and the Big Reds moved ahead to stay. Starting the final stanza with a 35-30 edge, Port Huron dunked eight of 14 shots to outscore the Chiefs 20-9 and win easily.

Referees Frank Connolly and William Hayes were kept busy tooting a total of 49 personal fouls. Three Port Huron players — forwards Dick Daly and Marvin Schott and guard John Thomas — fouled out in the final quarter.

Daly led the Big Reds with 17 points, while reserve guard Dick McDonald added 12. John James and Walt Poe paced Pontiac with 10 and nine points, respectively.

Williams, Snead Join Forces in Fishing Business

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Baseball star Ted Williams and golfer Sam Snead have teamed up in the fishing business.

Williams announced yesterday that Snead has bought a "substantial interest" in Ted Williams, Inc., a fishing tackle manufacturing firm.

Both athletes plan to continue their sports careers. Williams said he expects to continue playing baseball with the Boston Red Sox "as long as I feel I can help the team."

Snead said he would continue as a professional golfer "as long as I am able to make a good showing."

Small College Cagers Set to Start Tourney

Southwest Missouri Is Choice of Good Field in NAIA Test

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Potpourri of basketball games in the NAIA tip-off tournament here tomorrow should give a broad hint about the small college teams that may carry off honors as the season ages.

List of teams entered in the tourney, under the authorship of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, reads like a who's who of small college basketball.

Established stars are there. Players like Findlay's Herk Wolfe, among the nation's top scorers in 1952 with a 31.2 per game average and Mississippi Southern's Nick (The Cat) Revon, who averaged 29.8 and generally is regarded as one of the best little men in basketball.

The list of win-producing teams is headed by Southwest Missouri State at Springfield, defending NAIA champion, which hasn't been tripped in its six games this season. Favored Springfield will be after an unprecedented three-crowns-in-a-row at the main NAIA tourney here toward the end of the season.

There isn't a pushover in the rest of the eight-team field. NAIA executive secretary, A. O. Duer, says the field is the strongest ever assembled in the tourney and, on paper, the most balanced.

Strong Mississippi Southern, ranked second in the tournament, has a 7-0 record this season and in the four years under Coach Lee Floyd has won 98 while losing only 38.

Southerners lead off tomorrow against Illinois Wesleyan, runner-up in the Illinois conference last year. Wesleyan still has eight lettermen from that squad.

Springfield plays Nebraska Wesleyan, whose 1952 Nebraska championship squad has been thinned down to two starters.

Satterfield Flattens Augustus in 8th Round

Graham, Perry Win Individual Crowns in NFL

Browns' Quarterback Has Completion Mark of 64.7

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns and Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers won the passing and ground gaining titles respectively during the 1953 National Football League season.

Final league statistical report released today showed Graham won the aerial crown with an average of 10.55 yards per pass. He threw 258, completed 167 for 2,722 yards and 11 touchdowns. Only nine of his tosses were intercepted.

Brilliant Browns' quarterback turned in a completion percentage of 64.7, second only to Sammy Baugh's incredible 70.3 per cent mark in 1945.

Norman Van Brocklin of Los Angeles, finished 2nd in passing with an 8.37 yard average. Van Brocklin completed 156 of 286 for 2,393 yards and 19 tds. Y. A. Tittle, San Francisco, was 3rd with 149 completions of 259 thrown for 2,121 yards and 21 tds. Philadelphia's Bobby Thomason was a close 4th, tossing the most passes, 304, completing 162 for 2,462 yards and 21 tds.

Perry gained more yardage in winning his title than any other back in NFL history except Steve Van Buren, former Philadelphia Eagles great. San Francisco jet rushed for 1,018 yards on 192 attempts and an average of 5.3 yards per carry. Van Buren gained 1,146 yards in 1949.

Dan Towler of Los Angeles was 2nd with 879 yards on 152 attempts for a 5.8 average, while Volney Quinlan also of the Rams, was 3rd with 704 yards on 97 attempts and the high average of 7.3 yards per try.

Other individual champions are Pete Pihos, Philadelphia End as the top pass receiver with 62 caught for 1,049 yards and 10 tds; Gordon Soltau in scoring with 114 points—21 in his last game—to edge Lou Groza of Cleveland by six; Pat Brady of Pittsburgh in punting on a 46.9 average; Charley Trippi of the Chicago Cards in punt returns with an average of 11.4 yards; Joe Arenas of San Francisco in kickoff returns on an average of 34.4, and Jack Christiansen of Detroit in pass interception with 12.

Official of AAU Says Whitfield Record All Right

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A regional secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union says that in his opinion the brilliant Olympic track star Mal Whitfield is innocent of any charges that he might have violated his amateur standing.

After interviewing Whitfield yesterday the AAU official, Larry Houston, said:

"It is my opinion that Whitfield is not guilty of such charges and I believe he has conducted himself completely in accordance with the rules and regulations of the AAU.

Whitfield has emphatically denied that he has committed any breaches of his amateur standing.

Monday night in New York Dan Ferris, secretary of the AAU, said the AAU is investigating possible violations by Whitfield and Wes Santee, America's fastest miler.

Maryland's All-America, Jones, Rates Faloney Better Than Scarbath, Cites Team's Speed, Drive

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—There was one vital factor that whipped every team Maryland faced this season—and that may well upset fast and powerful Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

This is the speed and skill of Bernie Faloney, the brilliant quarterback, and the speed and drive of Chet Hanulak and the other backs.

• • •

Experts who have seen many teams this season, rate Maryland backfield the fastest they have looked at. I was talking a few days ago with big Stan Jones, the All-America lineman.

• • •

Stan is only 6 feet 3 and weighs a mere 248 pounds. He is a gigantic man who also happens to be quick, which is more important than being fast.

"I'll tell you about Faloney," he said.

"Bernie is one of the best quarterbacks I ever saw. Last year he was a defensive back for we had Jack Scarbath. Scarbath, now with the Washington Redskins, is a fine passer and all-around performer. But he isn't a Faloney.

"Bernie is a great passer and a fine runner. He is also a fine field general as he has run our team brilliantly all year. He is a fine influence on our team as we have complete faith in him from every angle.

• • •

"Speed and drive are the two words that describe our backfield. We have several good backs. I understand Oklahoma has plenty of speed on its side. We know we have to meet some of the fastest backs of the year."

• • •

"How is your line?" I asked Jones.

"We played 10 games," Stan said, "and had 32 points scored against us. That's just over three points a game. Alabama and Mississippi were counted strong bowl material and we beat them 59-0.

• • •

"In a way I think our defensive strength is even better than our offensive power. Oklahoma is the team we wanted for the Orange Bowl as we figured this would make the best game of the year. We'll have to be up for this one—at our peak."

Title Game Ducat Demand Swamps Lions

That would give them an additional 40,000 seats . . . but it still probably wouldn't be enough.

There are only 52,000 seats in the place.

Lions opened . . . and temporarily closed . . . their general public ticket sale yesterday. When the 8-hour over-the-counter session was ended everybody's nerves were frazzled—fans, Lion's front office, and even the newspapers.

Many fans—some who stood in line since 6 o'clock in the morning—were peeved at the selection of seats. They felt they deserved a better share than the 3,000 lower deck end zone seats and the 7,000 bleacher seats which were sold to them.

Some refused to buy, even though they had shivered in cutting winds and icy 25-degree temperature. Many phoned newspapers, complaining of the situation.

Others meanwhile went away happy, knowing they had obtained seats, any kind of seats. There will be no local television. Each person was limited to four tickets.

Lions front office said, in effect, "this is the best we can do under the conditions."

Not counting the bleacher seats, there are 45,373 reserved seats. Of this total 21,606 seats are being offered to regular season ticket holders. Being regular patrons, they of course are given the best locations.

This leaves roughly 23,000 tickets. Browns get 4,800 of these for sale in Cleveland. Now the figure is 19,000. Out of this tickets are sent to the other 10 clubs in the league, commissioners office, players and other official committments.

The pass list is suspended for this game, but each pass holder is allowed to buy four tickets. Lion owners and stockholders are given extra tickets.

That leaves between five and six thousand tickets still to be sold. Where are they? Why weren't they put up for sale yesterday?

"We haven't had time to put those on sale," said Maurie Schubot, Lions ticket manager. "It's a tedious job stripping them. For example six seats in one row may be held by a season ticket purchaser. Next two seats are not. The next six are."

Season ticket holders have until Saturday night to pick up their tickets. If they don't they'll be put up for public sale Monday along with the other five or six thousand tickets.

It's a very confusing situation for those concerned. Even newspaper men who are accustomed to low rate tax tickets for friends and relatives will have to pay the full price this time.

Death Takes Barrow

PORT CHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Ed Barrow, the man who discovered Honus Wagner, changed Babe Ruth into an outfielder and developed the New York Yankees into the most feared team in baseball, died of cancer last night. He was 85.

* * *

In July he entered Port Chester United Hospital and his close friends knew his death was only a question of time.

* * *

He remained cheerful. His mind was clear and he continued to receive visitors. His physical condition continued to decline and early in November he lapsed into a coma for 36 hours. Then he rallied, began eating again and seemed improved until a relapse Sunday.

Twenty-four hours before his death, his personal physician, Dr. Curlin Craven, said: "He has put up a marvelous battle. He is going to die. It might be tomorrow or next week. Then again, it may be much longer."

* * *

Barrow retired in 1947, selling his stock in the Yankees for $300,000. He had been with the club for 26 years.

* * *

Born Edward Grant Barrow in Springfield, Ill., May 10, 1868, he was city editor of the Des Moines Leader when he first got into baseball as a semipro manager. He moved into organized ball at Wheeling, W. Va., in the old Interstate League, and then to Paterson, N. J., Detroit, Indianapolis and Toronto.

He quit baseball in 1908 to run a Toronto hotel but came back to the sport in 1910 as a manager at Montreal. He was president of the International League for seven years before moving to Boston as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

* * *

Ruth was sold to the Yankees in 1920 and Barrow soon followed as business manager and secretary of the club. Col. Jake Ruppert was the president but everybody knew it was "Cousin Ed" who ran the club. Barrow took over as president when Ruppert died. In 1946 he became chairman of the Board of Directors when a syndicate headed by Larry McPhail bought the team.

CASE — Holding The Spot

With Quick Ball Release — My experience in bowling and golf has been that nothing succeeds like a full follow-through. It means control, accuracy. Comes a Syracuse query as to whether a long swing-through is necessary in spot bowling.

Easterner has had success without it, apparently, by hitting the spot with a snappy ball release. As the old saying goes, all is well that works well. But I suggest the Syracuse bowler get rid of the jerky finish; work on reaching out the arm. Too often have I seen the sad results of the quick-thrust release.

Usually, as the sketch shows, the sliding foot is turned broadside to the foul line, the right shoulder is dropped far out of place, and the right arm is pulled out of the groove to send the ball high on the head pin. Take this friendly tip: Without a follow-through in bowling, you're not going very far!

Western Kentucky Handed Scare but Wins 7th Game

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — Western Kentucky, perennially one of the top collegiate basketball teams, got a scare from Cincinnati last night, but Ed Diddle's boys managed to chalk up their 7th straight victory.

Led by Tom Marshall and Forest Able, Hilltoppers edged the Bearcats 74-71 and headed East in a jovial mood. They play in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday against St. Francis of Brooklyn, then jump to Buffalo to meet St. Bonaventure on Saturday.

Western, ranked 10th nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, had to share the limelight with Butler's 67-65 victory over Purdue and Duquesne's 72-70 squeak over Ft. Belvoir.

It took a corner basket by Si Green with only 15 seconds left to give Duquesne its victory. Game was billed as an exhibition for the Dukes, ranked 3rd in the AP poll. Dick Groat, formerly of Duke, and the O'Brien twins, Johnny and Eddie at Seattle, played for St. Belvoir.

Jim Lee Howell to Coach Giants

Takes Over Job From Man Who Taught Him Pro Grid Game

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who learned all he knows about football from Steve Owen today holds the coaching reins of the New York Giants professional football team.

The appointment of Jim Lee Howell a Giant head man filled the gap when Owen retired from the coaching position he had held since 1928 to head the organization's scouting system.

Howell, an end for the University of Arkansas, served at that position for the New Yorkers from 1937 through 1947 with the exception of three years in the Marines. He had been an end coach and assistant to Owen since that time.

Howell said after he was named to succeed Owen, "Steve taught me everything I know about the game."

Finally Connected

Billy Wells, Michigan State veteran back of three years, had not thrown a touchdown pass until he connected for one in the current season.

Loss by Purdue Leaves 6 Big 10 Teams Unbeaten

CHICAGO (AP)—Still another Big Ten basketball team dropped from the undefeated ranks Tuesday night, Purdue being edged 67-65 by Butler, a much-abused foe in previous appearances against conference teams.

Butler was trounced four times earlier this season by Big Ten squads but licked the Boilermakers with phenomenal 4th-quarter accuracy.

The Indianapolis team took only eight shots from the field in the last period and hit six of them. Throughout the game, Butler hit on 22 of 53 shots—a solid average.

Only six Big Ten teams now have undefeated records. Northwestern, Iowa and Wisconsin also have been beaten once.

Iowa, which lost to Nebraska last time out, returned to the winning side last night with a handy 72-55 victory over Colorado A & M. Sophomores Carl Cain and Bob George led the Hawkeye attack with 21 and 16 points respectively.

Iowa and Purdue were the only Big Ten teams in action last night. DePaul's 98-68 victory over Illinois Normal featured Midwest independent play.

Wayne Five Coasts to 4th Straight Win

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne University battled through a close 1st half and then coasted to its 4th straight win, defeating Michigan Normal 73-54 last night at Detroit Pershing High School.

Score was tied six times in the 1st half by the tough Normal team but they tired in the 2nd half and Tartars, undefeated this season, rapidly built up their 33-28 lead.

Maryland's 11 Receives Title Trophy Today

O'Donnell Award Goes to National Champions at Luncheon

As a touch of irony, the trophy will be presented by an official of Notre Dame, at No. 2 the only serious challenger to Maryland in national rankings.

The trophy, given in honor of the late Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, former president of Notre Dame, is given each year to the team which finishes first in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

* * *

* * *

Presentation will be made at a luncheon sponsored jointly by the Washington Board of Trade and Touchdown Club, Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland will accept the trophy from Bill Early, Notre Dame backfield coach and secretary of the Notre Dame Monogram Club.

Rockets Bump Louisville

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Grand Rapids slammed out an 8-2 victory over Louisville here last night to strengthen its grip on 4th place in the International Hockey League.

* * *

Ty Cobb won 12 American League batting championships, nine of them in a row (1907-1915). He finished his career with a lifetime mark of .367, highest in the history of the majors.

Wallace Tests Ezzard's Hopes for Title Shot

Tonight's Heavyweight Scrap on TV From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Heavyweight title contenders Ezzard Charles and Coley Wallace battle it out here tonight in a 10-round fight, the outcome of which carries important implications.

Former champion Charles can strengthen his claims for another crack at the crown he won in 1949 and lost in 1951 to Jersey Joe Walcott. He failed to regain it from Walcott and has been on the challenge-fringe since. If he doesn't win tonight he's "dundee," in the parlance of the fight mob.

"Our man realizes what this fight means to him," Mintz said. "Ezzard doesn't even expect a title shot if he beats Wallace. He wants to wipe out that loss to Nino Valdes first. And if Harold Johnson wants another go, he will be accomodated. We admit Valdes beat Charles last August but we're hollering plenty about that decision they gave to Johnson a month later in Philadelphia."

The two defeats jolted Charles out of the No. 1 contenders' position. In his only two bouts this year, Wallace decisioned Sandy McPherson and stopped Bill Gilliam, neither ranked among the first 10.

Hope Downs Hillsdale

HILLSDALE (UP)—Hope College's defending MIAA basketball champions scored their 3rd straight win last night defeating Hillsdale 91-53.

Stone Leads Rochester to 4th Straight Victory; Walled Lake Streak Ends at 3

By JACK SAYLOR

Rochester leaned heavily on the broad shoulders of Arlan Stone again Tuesday night and the big center came through as the Falcons extended their winning streak to four games.

TRIPLE PLAY!—A trio of players go high for a rebound in the fourth quarter of Tuesday night's basketball game between Birmingham and Walled Lake at Birmingham, but Dick Muller (30) of the Maples produced the best reach. Walled Lake's number three is guard Bedo Aughenbaugh. Third player is unidentified. Birmingham ended Walled Lake's three-game winning streak, 45-29.

Rochester downed Grand Blanc, 40-32, with Stone pitching in 12 baskets and a pair of free throws for 26 points. Stone's pivot work dominated the game as Gene Konley's club built up a 36-21 three-quarter lead. He has 91 points in four games.

Center Dick Muller and guard Don Dorough led Birmingham's 45-29 win over the Vikings. Muller tipped in 14 points and Dorough added 11. Walled Lake's Don Williams paced his team with 11.

In other games, Southfield experienced a poor-shooting night and bowed to Redford Union, 47-43. Doug Edwards connected for only seven points, as Don Bradley was high for the Bluejays with 10.

Troy's southpaw sharpshooter Mike DeKane gunned in 26 points as the Colts took their 2nd triumph in three games, 64-46 over Lakeview. DeKane was expecially accurate on jump shots and drive-ins. Fred Burnard added eight points.

Ed Nash tallied 12 points as Northville had an easy time with South Lyon, 36-25, and Farmington toyed with Clarenceville, 70-41. Bob Griffin's 13 points directed Romeo to a 54-43 victory over Cranbrook, the Cranes' 4th straight loss.

Ferndale drubbed Berkley, 64-41, and East Detroit surprised Van Dyke, 60-46. Jim Davis meshed 25 points as Clawson downed Center Line, 45-36. Roseville won its 2nd straight over Eastland, 59-37.

Junior Quints Open Schedule

SJH League Campaign Starts Thursday With 3-Game Card

Suburban Junior High League basketball campaign gets under way Thursday afternoon, with all teams in action in a 3-game card.

Defending champion Washington will seek to extend a 2-year 20-game winning streak in a non-conference game with Walled Lake. Game is set for 4 p.m. in the Washington gym, and will be preceded by an 8th-grade contest between Washington and Wever at 3 p.m.

Coach Em Ghianni's champs appear well prepared to defend their 1952-53 crown. Returning lettermen include guard Art Poe, forward Jim Albright and alternate centers Charles Spann and Freeman Watkins, both 6 foot 2 performers.

Thursday's league curtain raisers send Lincoln to Eastern and Waterford to Jefferson. Both contests are at 4 p.m.

MSC Coaches Happy to Leave Snow, Cold of Michigan

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State football team was Rose Bowl bound today in a day-long flight from snow to sunshine.

After fretting during the past few days over wintry weather that curtailed practice, MSC coaches were happy to be pointed westward with the 44-man traveling squad.

Last night, there was a swirling snow storm up until just before practice time. But there was a brief letup, so Coach Biggie Munn led his squad outdoors for a brief, limbering-up session.

The team is due at the Burbank, Calif., airport shortly before 5 p.m. (8 p.m. Michigan time) and from there will bus to the Pasadena headquarters at the Huntington Hotel.

Three bands were lined up to furnish music, students and townspeople were urged to swell the turnout and Gov. Williams headed the list of official speakers. Munn, other coaches, top college officials, MSC captain Don Dohoney and former football star George Guerre were others taking part in the program.

Spartans will drill in Pasadena's Brookside Park for their clash with the UCLA Bruins.

Southern California's weather has been balmy for weeks and if it continues the Spartans will relish it in contrast to the snow and cold.

Michigan State's 1st real workout will be Friday morning. Munn said he would work his squad twice a day, each one for 1½ to 2 hours.

UCLA's workouts will continue on its practice field. Coach Henry (Red) Sanders said he hopes to have all his regulars available. Right now tackle Chuck Doud and fullback Bob Davenport are sidelined with leg injuries. There is doubt that either will be up to normal playing capacity.

Public sale of the 3,500 tickets open to the public started this morning. Rest of the 100,000 pasteboards go to alumni of the two schools, students and to other schools in the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference.

Rose Bowl Contest Officials Announced

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — Officials for the Rose Bowl football game between Michigan State and UCLA were announced jointly Tuesday night by commissioners Kenneth L. Wilson of the Big Ten and Victor O. Schmidt of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Selected were referee Goerge Rennix, Northbrook, Ill.; umpire William Corbus, Menlo Park, Calif.; head linesman Archie Morrow, Madison, Wis.; field judge Cleo Diehl, Hammond, Ind.; back judge James Mitchell, Orinda, Calif.

Three officials were chosen by the Big Ten this year. The PCC picked three and the Big Ten selected two last year.

In 59 games between 1908 and 1916, University of Washington football teams allowed their opponents only 110 points.

NBA Head Warns Moore of Possible Loss of Crown

CLEVELAND, O., (UP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore faced suspension and possible loss of his title today for failing to sign for a bout against No. 1 challenger Harold Johnson.

President Andrew C. Putka of the National Boxing Association said Moore's agreement to meet Joey Maxim next month in Miami, Fla., could cost him his title. Moore signed Tuesday to meet former title-holder Maxim Jan. 27.

Putka said if Moore does not sign to meet Johnson before Dec. 24, he will be automatically suspended from boxing under association auspices. Putka also said the NBA would vote on vacating the title he won from Maxim in case Moore does not sign for the Johnson bout on time.

The decision to suspend Moore if he did not meet Johnson was made at an executive board meeting in November, Putka said. "The NBA won't recognize the result of the fight between Moore and Maxim unless Moore signs first to meet Johnson," he said.

Thus, if Moore does not sign, Maxim will be fighting with the knowledge that even if he wins, he will still remain only the No. 2 challenger for perhaps an empty light heavyweight throne.

Chief Tankers Set Sights on 2nd Win

Coach Des Boyce's Chiefs, on the other hand, looked impressive in defeating Mt. Clemens 53-31 last Friday. Pontiac swept all but one individual 1st in that test.

Today's meet starts at 4 p.m. in the PHS pool.

'Dead' Wrestling Appears Lively Corpse; Hockey Players Pay More for Pensions

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (UP)—If wrestling is a dead sport, as some claim, it must be about the liveliest corpse kicking around these days. Fred Kohler, the big Chicago promoter has grossed over $350,000 this year at his two arenas, not counting the TV money from sponsors who sent his shows into 30 states.

* * *

The National Hockey League has a pension plan, now six years old, which provides that each ex-player after reaching 45 shall receive $90 per year for each year he was in active service. The fund now has assets over one million dollars.

To make this possible, each player has $900 deducted annually from his salary, to which management ads approximately $600 per man, plus receipts from all-star games. The hockey players, in other words, though paid less on an average, kicks in considerably more to make his plan workable than our big league baseball players do.

* * *

Baseball men with whom we have talked feel without exception that Washington got all the better of the deal through which Jackie Jensen went to the Boston Red Sox for pitcher Mickey McDermott and outfielder Tom Umphlett.

They say that Jensen, the former football hero, will not give the Sox the right-handed power they were seeking to go with their extra-short left-field fence. Such power as Jackie has, they say, is to dead center.

Tips Offered on Gifts for Sportsmen

Search for New Presents Reveals Ingeniously-Made, Modestly-Priced Bird Call

By JACK PATTERSON

The closing of major blood-letting seasons hereabouts leaves local hunters sort of high and dry. There's still rabbit hunting, of course. We can't go because our sling shot's busted, but hunters with armament in a less advanced state of debilitation will be heartened and no doubt aided by recent snowfalls. There's also wildcat hunting for those to whom being dragged through interminable snow covered windfalls by a pair of inexhaustible hounds sounds like the makings of an exhilarating holiday.

Of ice fishing there is none, ice being a more or less indispensable ingredient of the sport. That's all right with us too, our feet not having yet warmed from last year's sessions.

* * *

So, for the most part, we are spared the horrors of getting up early in the morning, going out and missing something so we'll have a reasonable excuse for getting up early the next morning.

* * *

PATTERSON

The other evening, bemused by some of the above weighty considerations, and at the same time leafing through the "Theory of the Leisure Class" in the hope of finding information useful to joining that organization, it occured to us that a hint to shoppers buying Christmas presents for sportsmen might be seasonal.

In the first place, never neglect giving the hunter or fisherman an object merely because he has one. Doesn't make a bit of difference that he never uses the one he has. He'll welcome another. That's the way these guys are.

In the rare event that a sportsman receives a duplicate of an item, one of which would be more than plenty, local sporting goods dealers hasten to advise: Always return the one that came from out of town.

A search for new items turns up a bird call, of rather ingenious design, and modest price. In addition to performing its original purpose of netting the inventor a lot of money, it also attracts birds. If you know anyone who regards this sort of thing as a worthwhile activity, one of these calls should be just the ticket.

* * *

One cynic of our acquaintance has suggested that he'd be more interested in a device to keep birds away, particularly in the morning.. A collateral virtue of the birds call is that it can be used effectively to drive the family cat nuts, thus repaying it in part for its general insolence.

* * *

By way of a personal Christmas present to fly fishermen we'll divulge a secret weapon which we've never seen fail on brook trout. Tie a peacock herl body on a long shank hook, size not important. Attach a white polar bear or deer tail wing. That's all. Fish it dry from late afternoon on. We call it the Evening Abbott after the doctor who introduced it to us. (Dr. Abbott, that is, not Dr. Evening). It works when other flies work. Much more important, it works when other flies won't.

Grouse Seen in Leelanau County Area

Sighting Is Indication That Species Continue to Spread

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Evidence that sharptail grouse have spread into Leelanau county has been reported to conservation department men here.

Robert Kroupa and Arvid Tesaker of the soil conservation service reported sighting four of the birds four miles south of Leland and 25 miles from the nearest recorded planting of the species in Benzie county.

First sharptails were planted in the Lower Peninsula by the conservation department in Cheboygan county in 1937. Since then at least 20 other plantings have been made in both peninsulas. The birds are now hunted throughout the Upper Peninsula and in 11 northern Lower Peninsula counties.

Doe Shot by Hunter Had Lived 10 Years

LANSING (AP)—Conservation department records revealed today that a doe shot by an Ohio hunter Dec. 1 was 10½-years old.

George S. Jaques of Toledo brought down the doe south of Grayling during the special one-day any deer season. The doe's ear tag showed she had been captured as a fawn in February, 1942, in the Hanson refuge, a few miles from where she was shot.

Michigan deer rarely live beyond 10 years, although 15-year-olds have been recorded.

Blue Man in Comeback

MIAMI (AP)—Hialeah clockers are impressed with the early training of Blue Man who is making a comeback try this winter. The $100,000 Widener is his target. The horse hasn't raced since July, 1953 but his legs show no signs of the "bowed tendon" which forced him to the sidelines at his peak as a sophomore.

Hunter Gets Band

FALIS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Ed Poteet of this city, hunting from a blind on the Missouri River, killed four of a flock of blue geese. Three of the birds were tagged with bands by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

This is an uncommon occurrence since many hunters will not kill a single banded fowl in a lifetime.

State's Resort Owners Meet With Governor

Williams Asks Winter Sports Boosters to Satisfy Customers

Tourist and resort operators were called on by Gov. Williams to give patrons a thorough and honest appraisal of sports in their areas.

"Let's be honest in our advertising of Michigan winter sports," he said. "If ice fishing isn't good, let the people know, since disappointed customers are poor advertisers for the area.

"Let's make our winter sports customers satisfied. . ."

Williams also approved of plans for "package" winter tours into Northern Michigan which were presented by bus and airline representatives at the annual governor's winter sports conference.

Road and weather reports were emphasized at the meeting by Harry Rogan of the Automobile Club from Detroit, Ralph Swan of the state highway department from Lansing and B. G. Brown of the Grand Rapids Press.

George E. Bishop of Marquette, secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau claimed that week-ending in the north country was becoming increasingly popular.

"This means Northern Michigan communities will be getting more winter money," he said.

Conference also heard reports on how buses equipped with radio were keeping radio reports on roads up to date.

One plan, now operating in Iron Mountain, has high school students participating in winter sports within the framework of school athletics. Dr. J. L. Clement of Iron Mountain, president of the Upper Peninsula Winter Sports Council, said that Lower Michigan schools—14 of them—had also begun to participate in the winter sports scheme.

Tropical Park Event Draws Top Sprinters

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A return engagment involving three speedy sprinters is scheduled today when Algasir, Hi Billee and Hyphasis meet in the $5,000 Alligator Purse, mid-week feature on Tropical Park's racing program.

Duntreath Farm's Hi Billee, carrying 115 and apprentice jockey Johnny Rotz, scored a nose victory in the Hurricane Handicap a week ago, just beating the fast-closing Algasir, owned by H. A. Kimball and ridden by Dony DeSpirito.

Art Hoult, president of the Pocatello, Idaho, Bowling Association, bowled in five leagues last season. His averages were 170, 171, 172, 173 and 174.

Archers Find Rabbits Provide Good Sport

By MORT NEFF

Between 30,000 and 40,000 bowhunters in Michigan are probably on the verge of a mass discovery of new sport in their field. While they've gone all out for big game — deer and bear — they're swinging their sights downward a little these days in an effort to extend their hunting season — and their target is the fleet-footed cottontail rabbit! Archers gathered recently at the Ferris Farm near Perry for a test of their skill — and the results prove conclusively that Michigan bunnies are in for a lot more exercise, and a slight decrease in population at the hands of these amazingly accurate sportsmen.

NEFF

First step in the organization of such a hunt is the selection of an area where rabbits are reasonably plentiful.

Next, get together with a Beagle club. The Beagle hound is very, very popular in Michigan, and owners are generally affiliated with a club group. Always anxious to display the prowess of these colorful hunting dogs, owners will be found co-operative.

Procedure when properly handled calls for a group of as many as a couple of hundred archers to surround the small swamp or swale — and then release the Beagles. Soon those hounds will give tongue and rabbits will start bounding around the swale ahead of their pursuers. Archers spotted along the edge will get plenty of shooting as the cottontails zig-zag past—and it takes some shooting to hit them on the run!

In a demonstration of the sport at the Ferris Farm about 100 bowmen were in the field. More than half of them got shooting — and plenty of excitement was evident.

Officer Vigorously Bucks State Deer Season Policy

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

There are still conservation officers who make no bones about their disagreement with the policies of the conservation commission.

The situation got so bad more than a year ago that conservation director G. E. Eddy had to write two general letters instructing all field personnel to either back commission policies or keep quiet in their official capacities.

This was especially necessary when the commission was trying to put across the any-deer season for the first time to reduce overpopulated deer.

Even this fall, however, at least one officer was still vigorously bucking the any-deer season. He will remain unidentified except that he is in charge of law enforcement in a northern Lower Peninsula county.

He went up and down his county proclaiming that all the deer had been shot last year in the any deer season.

The hunters confounded him, however, by bringing out at least as many deer as last year during the buck season.

Speaking of deer, the stories of this year's season are still coming in.

This one concerns the jokester who caused consternation in Grayling the day before thee deer season opened by driving into the middle of town and parking with a buck jauntily tied to the fender of his car.

His examination revealed that the deer had been shot in Ontario, where the season opened early, and had been legally imported.

Speedy Sailfish Clocked at 70 Miles Per Hour

Somebody with a scientific bent is clocking the speed fish can attain by measuring the time it takes them to peel 100 yards of fishing line off a reel.

So far, the fastest fish clocked was the sailfish, which practically burned off the 100 yards in three seconds. That's about 70 miles an hour.

The slowest so far clocked was the lowly bluegill, which sped off at the something less than breathless pace of one and a quarter miles an hour.

Shocking to Fish

Fish census takers render fish unconscious with an underwater electrical device. They float to the surface to be counted and in a few minutes are all right again.

Canadian Graduates Cannot Use English

VANCOUVER (AP) — Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, says complaints that Canadian university graduates cannot use their mother tongue either in writing or speech are "too widespread to be treated lightly."

In his annual report on UBC activities, Dr. MacKenzie says, "departments of English have the major responsibility for the study of English literature as a body of knowledge but should have no more responsibility than other departments for the study of English as the language of instruction."

Let All Beware of 'Radio Quiz' Touch Game

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UP) — Answering a $64 question' cost a housewife here exactly that much — plus a certain amount of faith in people.

Mrs. Barbara M. Farrell, 65, told police she answered her phone and a man identified himself as "Bill Wilson, a master of ceremonies for a quiz show sponsored by the Ford Foundation."

"The Ford Motor company recently celebrated an anniversary," he said. "Which one was it? If you answer correctly, you win twice the amount of cash you now have in your house."

"The fiftieth," Mrs. Farrell answered.

"Then that's exactly half of what you have won," he said. "We'll send it to you by messenger right away."

The messenger appeared shortly afterward with checks for $128 and $64. He gave her the $128 check, explaining that was the prize, and then asked for the $64 cash in exchange for the other check "to prove to the studio how much you had."

Mrs. Farrell became suspicious later and called the studio, which said it had no "Bill Wilson" nor any such program.

'Do-It-Yourself' Era May Boost Mishaps

BOSTON (UP) — An insurance company says the "do-it-yourself" trend sweeping the country has one painful drawback. It may cause a sharp increase in home accidents.

The company says an average of 630,000 persons annually suffer everything from broken fingernails to broken legs while doing home repairs and construction.

More than 180,000 annually get hurt making their own furniture. Other activities accounting for large numbers of accidents include replacing broken window panes, exterior and interior painting, putting up or taking down storm windiws, repairing or painting chimneys, putting up television aerials and pruning trees.

The company said general carpentry accounts for 72,000 accidents annually.

"Home repair is a satisfying spare time pursuit and helps keep expenses down," the company says. "But before you tackle each job, make sure you have the right equipment and enough know-how to handle it safely."

Frank Fay Has Reconciliation With Harvey

By BOB THOMAS

Fay and the pooka—that's a six-foot rabbit, you know—are friends from 'way back. They started out together in the Mary Chase play in 1945 and developed a fast friendship. They remained pals for five years—a record run for any star and play. Then they went their separate ways.

"I don't believe I'll ever play the show again," he told me at the time. "I think it's a mistake to become too identified with one particular role. It can hurt your career."

• • •

But actors change their minds. Fay has signed up for yet another tour with "Harvey." Part of the reason is the miserable condition of the legitimate road.

This season is shaping up as one of the worst in the history of the American theater. The legit outlook hasn't been as black since the 1936-37 season when the road was devoid of shows, except for Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington.

Showmen have been putting their heads together for ideas on how to revitalize the road. They came up with the notion of sending Fay around in "Harvey" again. It is considered a sure - fire property.

• • •

"They convinced me," said the bland Fay. "So did the money.

"But it isn't only commercial. I get letters every week from people who have seen the show and would love to see it again. Also from people who missed it and say they would give anything to see 'Harvey.' It's wonderful.

"Another thing that convinced me was the fact that we hadn't drained the possibilities of the show. When I closed in New York, I took it out on the road. Mind you, this was after other companies had already toured all over with it. Yet I made $1,200,000 on the tour.

Michigan Locale for First Novel

Fenton Residents Tell of City-Bred Couple's Venture Into Farming

"BALL FOUR"—PAGEANT PRESS
By INEZ AND LOYS COWLES

An overdose of humor—this tale of Detroit-bred newlyweds who are attacked by life in the form of a farm in the wilds of Northern Michigan, has a blowsy, slapstick type of comedy that would be more effective if it weren't a bit overdone.

This first full-length novel by a Michigan couple would have gained immeasurably in reader-interest if it had said one quarter as much in twice as many pages.

The acquisition of a goat, sheep (bill—$1 each) and a litter of Dachshunds on one of his auction-sale forays points a need for larger quarters.

Following Dick's unerringly bad judgment, Kitty finds herself rapidly conveyed to their "beautiful" farm—which proves to be a tarpaper shanty minus windows and ceiling. A remodeling job is just about to pay dividends when the roof blows off, and the well-dampened Pooles are forced to solve the problem in their own unique fashion—by erecting a tent in the center of the living room.

The billygoat eats the laundry; the water pump freezes and a thawing job starts a fire; while auction sales, mosquitoes, rain, a cow, the acquisition of an air field, twins and bandits bring further complications.

The characterization is the best part of this novel. Anyone who has traveled the off-route rural areas of northern Michigan will recognize the authenticity of some of the individuals with whom the Peebles "meet up."

And there is nothing spurious about the background locale. The authors have made good use of their knowledge of their home state. (Both are from pioneer Michigan families. They now live in Fenton, where Mr. Cowles is employed in the Grand Blanc plant of General Motors Corp.)

But the humor gets completely out of bounds. Situation follows upon situation with unnatural rapidity. This improbable succession leaves the reader in a state of exhaustion rather than hysteries.

As a pick-up book, to be read a few pages at a time and set aside, it will appeal most to the extrovert who likes his humor realistic and obvious.

Chemical Drunk Tests Observed in Greater Use

CHICAGO (UP)—Chemical test evidence in drunken driven cases is being used by a growing number of cities and states, according to the International City Managers' Association. The tests result in a much higher percentage of convictions.

According to figures complied by the National Safety Council, 369 cities in 42 states used chemical tests as evidence last year, a 52 per cent increase in the number of cities over 10,000 population which reported using the tests in 1951.

Sixteen states have enacted laws patterned after the Uniform Motor Vehicle Code, which sets forth the percentage of alcohol the blood must contain to justify a drunk charge.

These states are Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin.

Under the standards, less than .05 of alcohol in the suspect's blood means he is not drunk. But if the blood has more than 15 per cent alcohol, the suspect is considered definitely intoxicated.

In the "doubtful" range between .05 and .15 per cent, the suspect may or may not be too drunk to drive, depending on other evidence.

Grains Higher on Dull Board

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains tilted a little higher in another session of characteristic Yuletide dullness on the board of trade today.

Prices were mixed at the opening, wheat showing the most strength. After it became apparent there would be no immediate follow through on yesterday's late sell off in soybeans the entire market slowly worked its way higher.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅞ cent higher, December $2.03, corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, December $1.53, oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 77½, soybeans ¼ lower to ½ higher, January $3.03½ and lard 35 cents lower to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher, December 16.60.

Proposed FHA Plan Is Praised

Committee Urges Less Direct Federal Housing as President's Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advisory committee's recommendation that the government continue public housing aids and liberalize other federal housing programs won praise from some members of Congress today.

And Emanuel M. Spiegel, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, hailed the committee's 52-point program as "bold, progressive, visionary, practical."

The committee's report was handed to President Eisenhower yesterday by his housing administrator, Albert M. Cole, who told reporters he personally disagrees with some of the recommendations.

The committee was formed to guide the President in formulating a housing policy he is due to send to Congress after the first of the year.

The report pointed up the theme that the government should spur private industry to supply housing for low income and minority groups, eventually eliminating the need for direct federal housing subsidies.

One recommendation aimed in this direction calls for liberalization of Federal Housing Administration FHA mortgage insurance so low income Americans can buy modestly priced homes with practically no down payment, financing them with 40-year mortgages.

Along this same line, the 23-member committee proposed a lease and purchase plan under which tenants could buy their homes when their incomes rose sufficiently to swing it.

Series F-G Bonds Due for Exchange

The United States Treasury Department has invited holders of series F and G savings bonds which will begin maturing in January to exchange them at maturity for other series of savings bonds.

The Treasury statement, issued through Federal Reserve banks, said:

"Individual owners of the series F and G bonds maturing beginning next month may make reinvestment in series E and H bonds up to the $20,000 annual limits on each of these series.

"Not only individuals, but any other holders of these maturing bonds may reinvest in series J and K bonds, which have a combined annual limitation of $200,000 issue price.

"These transactions will be handled at Federal Reserve Banks and branches and at the office of the treasurer of the United States in Washington.

"Holders of the maturing bonds may submit them, for either exchange or cash payment, direct or through their banks after having the request for payment certified, which can be done at any bank or post office.

"In the case of series G bonds, the final interest due on the maturity date will be paid with the principal. No interest will accrue on bonds of either series F or G after maturity.

"In order to avoid loss of interest on their investment, holders should submit the bonds from 20 to 30 days in advance of their maturity date, whether for cash redemption or for new bonds."

Market Brisk With Optimism

NEW YOR (UP)—The stock market swept ahead today in a general forward movement.

Gains ran to around 2 points at the best with the buoyancy well distributed throughout the list.

Bursiness was brisk with the pace nearing the two million mark for the day. Yesterday's total came to 1,450,000 shares.

There were many points of individual strength with the best showing being made by electronic shares, aircrafts, oils, steels, railroads, as well as motion pictures, coppers, motors, rubbers, and tobaccos.

Today's improvement follows a series of six declines in eight sessions. A generally higher trend was shown at the opening, and as the betterment spread there was a concerted rush to buy.

Kerner also read a leter, dated Feb. 26, 1953, from Bernard M. Shanley, special counsl toe Eisenhower, ordering the DAV Service Foundation to stop using a photograph of the President and from using an unauthorized statement purportedly endorsing the fund raising campaign.

Yesterday, George Bieler, a professional fund raiser, told the committee he impersonated a priest and a police representative in soliciting funds for other organizations.

* * *

The committee, which continues its public hearings today, heard witnesses testify yesterday about their "boiler rooms"—batteries of telephone solicitors—with the promoters reaping much of the harvest.

The probers also were told that the names of prominent people had been used without their sanction in fund solicitations.

* * *

Committee Counsel Sidney Paymet said examples of this are U.S. Senators Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY) and Irving M. Ives (R-NY) and New York Mayor-elect Robert F. Wagner Jr.

The committee is investigating legitimate charity fund-raising activities, as well as rackets, with a view to proposing legislation.

Bieler admitted to the committee yesterday that he had been convicted and fined $250 in 1951 for soliciting funds without a license for the Bronx chapter of the Disabled American Veterans.

The witness said he sometimes got as much as 60 per cent of the collections in various fund solicitations.

Paymer asked Bieler how he approached prospects on the telephone in asking donations for Sts. Peter and Paul Church House in Manhattan.

* * *

"I told them I was a priest calling," the witness replied.

Bieler told the probe committee he had solicited advertising over the telephone for the Superior Police Officers News, a publication of the New Jersey Superior Police Officers Assn.

The witness said he told prospects: "I am speaking for Lt. Michael Hanley of the association."

Hoffman Relates Mail-Tampering

Wants to Know Who Pilfered Sack of Data for Use in Labor Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department is investigating a complaint by Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich) that somebody opened a mail sack addressed to him and virtually emptied it of material bearing on his probe of alleged labor racketeering in Detroit.

Hoffman announced yesterday he had written the department that he "certainly would like to know what is behind this pilfering."

Chief Postal Inspector D. H. Stephens said he had received Hoffman's complaint and had started an investigation.

The Michigan congressman, chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, said he mailed over two weeks ago a securely closed sack from his Allegan, Mich., home to his office here.

The sack itself hasn't arrived yet, Hoffman said, only some big envelopes that were in it. He estimated that about 80 per cent of the data is unaccounted for.

He said further progress in his investigation may be hampered if he doesn't get the matieral back.

Hoffman hinted that perhaps this was the intention of the person or persons who may have rifled the sack.

"I can," he said, "perhaps unsuccessfully contend with political efforts to suppress hearings, but I just cannot effectively fight postal employees who may, or who may not, be engaged in the same effort."

Air Conditioner Uses No Water, Burns No Fuel

The heat pump unit, which burns no fuel and uses no water, performs year-round service—cooling the house in the summer and heating it in the winter.

It is most adaptable to areas of the country where the low temperature range is not of long duration.

The unit provides continuous circulation and filtering of the air. It automatically dehumidifies the air in the summer. Winter dehumidification may be added to the system.

In most central-unit air conditioners, natural gas (or sometimes oil) provides fuel for the heat while electricity utilizes water to cool the air for summertime comfort.

About two thirds of the rubber used in the United States during 1952 was synthetic.

Ford Eying Plans to Top Chevrolet

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II has completed his job as an alternate United States delegate to the United Nations and is concentrating on the task of displacing Chevrolet Motors as the nation's No. 1 auto maker.

In an interview yesterday Ford said he was not under-estimating the task of displacing Chevrolet from the top position. He noted, however, that Ford has been steadily increasing its production capacity.

So far this year Ford's Ford Division has built slightly more than 1,140,000 cars and 300,000 trucks. Chevrolet, on top for most of the last two decades, has built 1,400,000 cars and 342,000 trucks.

Ford has spent a billion dollars in plant expansion since World War II, and has committed another half billion for expansion in the future. Three new assembly plants and an additional engine plant are scheduled to be completed early in 1955.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tombstone All That's Left of Sin-Filled Office Party

This is indeed a worthy campaign, and I am glad to enlist in the cause. It will be remembered I was among the first to point out last year it was high time we got rid of the growing menace of the bustle and also contributed heavily to a fund to wipe out the dinosaur and the sabre-tooth tiger.

And what about the woolly rhinocerous in America? Is nobody going to attack him?

* * *

The trouble with our current crusade against the wild office Christmas party is that one afflicts many drives against other forms of sin. By the time we get our dander up about it, we find it already quietly has expired, and the only way we can show our virtue is to go out and kick the tombstone.

* * *

It seems to be it's about that way with the annual Christmas office orgy. A recent Sunday magazine article claimed they are getting rowdier each year. But, frankly I no longer would know where to look to find one, in order to denounce it. And nothing takes the fun out of any campaign against sin like the inability to find it.

Wives and other bosses began toning down office parties some years back. The first thing they did was throw them out of the office and start holding them in restaurants and rented halls.

The year the first wife showed up at an office Christmas party spelled the downfall of its mad revelry. Who wants to play that merry old game, "Let's chase the stenographer around the water cooler," with a wife looking on? That cooled down the office bargain basement satyrs—but quick. Sure ruined Christmas for many a homely stenographer, too.

* * *

The average office party today is about as sinful as an Easter egg rolling or an old-fashioned lawn social. It has no more of an antic note than a high school spring prom. Mama leads papa to the frolic like a tame bear on a leash, and his ears echo with her stern ultimatum, "Take one trip too many to that punch bowl, Buster, and home you go."

They search you at the door to make sure you haven't hidden any mistletoe in your pocket. There is a dance band to play civilized music, and the office quartet sings a sedate number from the floor instead of leading college cheers from the top of a desk. As a matter of fact, they don't even have a desk in the joint a fellow can fall from and break a leg, and get a well-deserved rest on full pay.

The other evening I looked in a restaurant room and saw a group of bank employes wearing paper hats and looking glumly at one another. One old-timer was crying softly, and I asked him respectfully:

* * *

"No," he said, as the tears rolled down his cheeks, "this is our annual office Christmas party."

A friend, who formerly enjoyed joining in the annual chase to catch the boss's secretary, said his office had given up parties altogether.

"You mean you finally got common sense?" I asked.

"No," he replied. "The secretary just got so middle-aged it no longer was much fun to catch her—even to the boss himself."

* * *

Perhaps somewhere there still will be a real rowdy office Christmas party this season, one that looks like the hanging gardens of Babylon swept by a hurricane. If I locate it, I intend to join in the fun for ten full minutes for old times' sake—and then denounce it in the strongest possible terms.

Joyeux Noel has departed from the office, leaving behind it a sign saying: "Gone home." And, of course, that's where it belongs.

$20,000 Pot Collection Given Tennessee Town

TRENTON, Tenn. (UP) — This town has a valuable "museum" of beautiful and rare teapots donated by a former resident.

Dr. Frederick C. Freed of New York presented the $20,000 collection to his home town and the 125 pots are on display at Peabody High School.

Nearly all the teapots are of foreign manufacture and were collected by Freed in Europe. Some have detachable bases that contain tiny oil lamps.

Tops of the teapots are fitted so cleverly that many would never be recognized for what they really are. One teapot is built in the figure of a woman, who wears a flaring cape and skirt. A gentle turn separates shoulders and head and there's the teapot.

World production of wood in 1948 was about a billion tons.

Finds Little Hostility to Wage Hikes for Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of a federal commission investigating congressional and judicial salaries said today all letters received from the public so far have been favorable to a pay boost.

The commission was set up this year by Congress to make the study and report by Jan. 15. Then Congress has 60 days to accept or reject any proposal for a salary raise.

The opponent, however, was a member of Congress, Rep. William A. Dawson (R-Utah), who insisted that senators and House members should be able to get along on the $15,000 annual compensation they now receive.

Pontiac Escapes Measles Cases

Dr. Monroe Says Six Weeks Free Period Sets Record for City

Pontiac marked its sixth straight week without a single reported case of measles as the disease struck 88 times in the rest of Oakland County last week.

And Dr. John D. Monroe, director of Oakland County Health Department, said Pontiac's unmarred measles record is just that —a record.

"This is the longest stretch I ever remember," he said, "that Pontiac City Health Department didn't report a single case of measles.

Dr. Monroe said Pontiac had a high measles rate earlier this year which possibly left many city folks immune. He said it was possible an occasional case of measles has occurred in the last five weeks and has not been reported.

Oakland County Health Department found about 88 new measles cases last week—seven more than the previous week's total. Only about half as many cases of chicken pox and mumps were reported last week as the week before, according to the county department's weekly report which reads as follows:

| | Past Week | Dec. 5, '53 | Dec. 13, '52 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chicken pox | 31 | 69 | 118 |
| Measles | 88 | 81 | 11 |
| Pneumonia (all forms) | 3 | 0 | 0 |
| Poliomyelitis | 2 | 2 | 2 |
| Scarlet fever | 21 | 11 | 14 |
| Tuberculosis (all forms) | 2 | 3 | 3 |
| Whooping cough | 4 | 8 | 1 |
| Mumps | 21 | 60 | 30 |
| Rubella | 3 | 2 | 3 |

| Amoebic dysentery | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Rabies (in animals) | 1 | 2 | 0 |
| Rheumatic fever | 1 | 5 | 1 |

Pontiac City Health Department listed only a few cases of any disease except chicken pox on its report for last week.

The report, released by Dr. Monroe, showed 11 new chicken pox victims last week, a couple more than the week before. The report follows in full:

| | Past Week | Dec. 5, '53 | Dec. 13, '52 |
|---|---|---|---|

Northville Patients to Hear Girls Sing

WALLED LAKE — The high school girls chorus will present a special program for patients of the Northville State Hospital tomorrow.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Lamontagne, the chorus will sing selections including "Carol of the Bells," "Angels O'er the Fields" and "Winter Wonderland."

They will invite the patients to join them in singing several traditional Christmas carols.

Teachers Hear Talks at Metamora Meeting

METAMORA—Teachers of Zone 2 heard R. A. Grettenberger, Lapeer County school superintendent, report on activities of his office at their meeting last week.

The Dryden Glee Club sang several Christmas selections and the group heard separate talks on the use of puppets in classrooms, and arithmetic procedure.

The Metamora teachers entertained the group at tea, with Mrs. Elsa Parrott and Mrs. Jacqueline Walker of the PTA pouring. Mrs. Ola Roe also assisted.

Report Malone's Drive-In Looted for Second Time

Thieves broke into the Malone's Drive-In, 735 Baldwin Ave., and stole an undetermined amount of money and articles Tuesday night, according to Pontiac Police.

Police said that cigarette and candy machines were looted of unknown amounts of money after entry was gained through a rear window. Philip Maloney of Detroit is owner of the restaurant, which was also broken into Dec. 7.

'Owl Proofing' Seems Necessary to Farmer

Woody heard a disturbance one night recently in his chicken house. Investigating, he found an owl perched on one of the beams. Woody obtained his rifle and took six potshots at the owl which had to be pried loose from his perch, were smothered.

Berkley to OK Troy Membership in Authority

TROY TOWNSHIP—Berkley has voted to approve the Troy Township application to join the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish authority, with approval from 10 more communities needed and expected in the near future.

The human nose is equipped to distinguish about 16,000,000 different odors. People can learn to recognize at least 10,000 distinct odors and can detect fantastically tenuous smells, but are quite poor at distinguishing a strong odor from a slightly weaker one of the same kind.

Pro-Commie GI's Mother Will Be Winner Eventually

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

It's a sad Christmas season for Mrs. Portia Howe.

Mrs. Howe sits in Tokyo, holding a letter from her soldier-son, one of 22 Americans held by the Reds who have gone over to communism, rejecting repatriation home.

"I know that you want to take me home with you, but I have made up my mind and I am not going," her son wrote.

And Mrs. Howe says:

In the end, Mrs. Howe must win and the Communists must lose. For the Communist philosophy attempts to erase one of the oldest things in man — his spiritualism.

And more than 30 years of relentless but unsuccessful persecution of the church are proof that the Communist idolaters of the machine recognize man's spiritualism as one of the greatest threats against them.

Mrs. Howe is caught in a web which is both human and political.

The 22 Americans who so far refuse to come home are men their fellow prisoners referred to contemptuously as "progressives."

They are men who for one reason or another accepted the Communist party line while thousands of other men in the prison camps refused to do so.

They were among the "informers" who for an extra ration of cigarettes or food gave testimony which sent other, stronger men to the "hole," a four-by-four solitary cell where victims often were confined for weeks at a time, unable either to stretch out or stand up.

Yet it has been characteristic of the "capitalistic" West, which also leans strongly on the spiritual, that the reaction has been more of wonder and pity than anger.

Word comes that the pro-Communist prisoners wished to celebrate Thanksgiving.

And visualizing them there behind the Iron Curtain from which some or all may never return. We wonder, Thanksgiving for what?

And we wonder how long the Communists will permit this greatest of all Christian celebrations. Until these 22 no longer are of use in the Communist show window?

The Americans at Panmunjom are convinced that many of these kids — Mrs. Howe's son is 20 — would like to change their minds and come home but can see no way of escaping the entanglement of their own making.

That now, after their original mistake, they live in prisons of fear — fear of the Communists, fear of the Americans, fear of their treatment at home and, finally, fear of violence at the hands of their own Red comrades at any sign of weakness.

These are questions that we may never have answered.

Along with the human side is the political side. Except for the Communist-inspired hot and cold wars, these boys might have been eating a Christmas dinner at home.

Instead they are in the grip of a political machine which gives up individuals no more easily than it does nations.

New Building to Combine Features of Hotel, Motel

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — A new hotel—combining the better features of the roadside motel and the luxurious city hotel—will be erected here at a cost of $1,500,000.

Harper Sibley Jr., 26-year-old sponsor of the project, said the building will be only two stories high but will have 140 rooms on a 2½ acre plot. The rooms will accommodate two or three persons. Escalators will go to the second floor.

In a separate building there will be a restaurant for 130 persons and a cocktail lounge for 70.
