Judge Rules City Income Tax Took Effect Jan. 1

By BOB WISLER
and JIM LONG

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer ruled this morning that Pontiac does not have to hold a special election on the city income tax.

Beer said the tax is proper and took effect Jan. 1.

The judge ruled that petitions requesting a referendum election were defective and "a nullity."

The ruling, in effect, upheld a suit started by a Pontiac policeman and a fireman, who held that the city should not set an election due to the invalidity of the petitions.

★ ★ ★

City officials took immediate steps this morning to mail to some 3,000 city businesses and firms materials which will help them begin tax collections.

BEGINNING JAN. 1

The firms are bound to collect income tax money from their employes, beginning Jan. 1. The personal income tax is set at one per cent for city residents and one-half per cent for persons residing out of the city but working in the city.

Attorneys for the groups which circulated the petitions, Robert E. Cunningham and Robert D. Coon, objected to the judge's ruling and said they would take steps next week to attempt to overturn it.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren this morning canceled an expected layoff of 42 city employes and cuts in services totaling an estimated $542,000.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said the City Commission is "real happy that the question (of the election and tax collections) is solved."

He said the ruling would alleviate the immediate fiscal problems of the city.

In announcing his ruling, Judge Beer also ruled against a motion by Cunningham and Coon to allow them to intervene in the case—brought against the city to stop an election form being held.

★ ★ ★

Beer said that since he considered the petitions invalid, it didn't matter whether they entered the case.

ONLY APPEAL

Cunningham said this ruling would be appealed to a higher court since it is the only thing that he can appeal.

But, he said, at the same time he would ask the Court of Appeals to order a "stay of execution" of Beer's decision, which would in effect stop tax collections from being turned over to the city.

If the appeal procedure results in reversing Beer's decision, the city could be obliged to refund any income tax money collected.

Income taxes would bring in about $2.9 million during the fiscal year, officials have estimated.

PROPERTY TAX DROP

When the income tax was first proposed, city commissioners said that, if it went through, it would be accompanied by a property tax decrease of 3 mills ($3 per thousand of assessed valuation as equalized).

The income tax and property tax cut would leave the city with about $1.6 million more in 1968 than it operated with in 1967.

Additional funds are needed this year to continue the same level of services as last because of expected employe pay raises and because a $500,000 surplus carried into 1967 is used up, officials said.

Food Poisoning Victims May Total 150 in Area

By ED BLUNDEN

More than 100 persons in the Oakland County area have contracted food poisoning from a Birmingham restaurant since New Year's Eve. Health authorities fear the number may go as high as 150.

The source of the food poisoning has been traced to cooked corned beef sold at Alban's Bottle and Basket, 190 N. Hunter.

Some 3,000 pounds of it was prepared for the holiday and much of it sold for carry-out, health authorities said.

Some of the meat is probably still in refrigerators in area homes and should be destroyed, authorities warned.

Robert T. Coleman, county director of environmental health, said the outbreak was first reported from Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak on New Year's Eve. Four persons who attended a private party all became ill.

A second outbreak was reported by a Waterford Township family and the two cases were linked to the Birmingham source.

This was immediately investigated by environmental health authorities, Coleman said, and the meat and the meat handlers tested.

In order to establish exactly the source of infection cultures have to be studied, a process which will take another two days, he said. However, all possible sources of contamination have been taken care of, Coleman said.

"Alban's has been completely cooperative with the health department," Coleman said. A spokesman at the store said all questionable food sources have been destroyed. The restaurant remains open today with the health department's sanction.

DISCOMFORT

The disease is labeled "staphylococcal food poisoning" and causes extreme discomfort for seven to eight hours, normally.

★ ★ ★

However, persons with chronic ailments such as heart disease or diabetes may be more greatly affected, Coleman warned.

He said hospitalization has been required for some of those affected and other cases were continuing to report today.

OCC Wins Legal Fight With Subdivision Residents

A two-year legal hassle between Oakland Community College and residents of a subdivision in Bloomfield Hills ended yesterday with Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams upholding the position of the college.

★ ★ ★

Adams ruled that the college was not in violation of deed restrictions in using property in the Hyup Subdivision for its administrative offices.

Some 20 residents in the Opdyke-Hickory Grove area started the suit against the college in December 1965. The suit asked $1 million in damages.

In ruling favorably for the college, Adams also settled another suit brought by the home owners against the former owners of the property, Bee Hive, Inc. The company was accused of violating deed restrictions in selling the property to the college.

★ ★ ★

Adams found that the building used by the college for offices is not subject to subdivision restrictions, though its use as offices is limited under a variance granted to the previous owners years ago.

CHANGES PERMITTED

Remodeling or replacing the building is also permitted under Adams' ruling as long as the present restrictions are followed.

To comply, the building must be no more than one story high, nor more than 275 feet long by 110 feet wide. It cannot be used by more than 100 persons.

The home used by the college president must remain a single-family residence, according to Adams, and the gate house on the premises must not accommodate more than 15 employes.

★ ★ ★

In mid-November, Clark dismissed a suit brought against the college by Bloomfield Hills. The city had charged that the college was violating zoning restrictions by moving its offices onto the property.

At that time Adams ruled that the city could not regulate a state educational agency.

U.S. Hit in Viet House

SAIGON (UPI) — Rep. Nguyen The Linh today denounced the United States on the floor of the House of Representatives as "the second enemy of the South Vietnamese people after the Communists."

Linh said the United States planned to contact the Vietcong and possibly make a deal with the Communists without the concurrence of the South Vietnamese government.

Girardin's Successor

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh announced yesterday he has found a successor to Police Commissioner Ray Girardin. Cavanagh declined to name the man but said he has accepted the post.

The mayor said he would name the new commissioner soon.

As N. Viet Peace Drive Develops

Bowles Is Named for Cambodian Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Chester Bowles, U.S. envoy to India, will go to Cambodia within a few days to negotiate an end to Cambodian sanctuary for Communist forces fighting in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The Texas White House made the announcement today amid reports of a developing North Vietnamese peace drive.

The mission to Cambodia will put Bowles, 66, in position for contact with North Vietnamese or Vietcong agents though Washington officials said that was not his assignment.

U.S. officials privately expressed great skepticism about the North Vietnamese peace drive, but none excludes the possibility Hanoi may be seriously maneuvering toward negotiations on ending the Vietnam War.

A dispatch from Laos today reported a Communist representative there sounded out the possibility of talks in Vietnam. Similar probings were reported about the capitals of Cambodia and Burma.

State Department officials said they had no indication of such explorations by North Vietnam.

Bowles reportedly was chosen for the Cambodian mission because of his experience in working with India on U.S. efforts to increase effectiveness of the International Control Commission (ICC).

The ICC is supposed to supervise Cambodia's neutrality.

North Vietnamese foreign minister of North Vietnam, Nguyen Duy Trinh asserted last weekend that if the United States stops bombing North Vietnam talks "will" be held.

Romney a Setup for Nixon in N.H.?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, who concedes he trails Richard M. Nixon in popularity polls, "may be a setup" for Nixon in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, says a liberal GOP group.

★ ★ ★

The Ripon Society said in its current newsletter a Nixon-Romney contest in New Hampshire could be similar to the West Virginia Democratic primary of 1960 in which John F. Kennedy defeated Hubert H. Humphrey.

"Romney may be a setup for Nixon just as Humphrey was for Kennedy," the Ripon Society said.

"As John Kennedy demonstrated in 1960, a landslide victory, even over an opponent who never really had a chance, can be made a convincing selling point in the campaign for delegate votes in other states."

Pontiac Div. 1967 Sales a Record

Pontiac Motor Division sold more cars in 1967 than in any other year in the division's history, John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and divisional general manager, said today.

A record 836,937 units were sold in the year compared to 834,843 in the previous year.

DeLorean also pointed out that this marked the sixth consecutive all-time record for Pontiac.

"We're proud to be the only manufacturer in the industry to have increased both our sales and market penetration every year since 1962," he added.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac currently is selling in third place in the industry for the eighth consecutive year.

SALES BREAKDOWN

In 1967 the division sold 441,234 regular-sized Pontiacs; 295,847 Tempests and 99,856 Firebirds.

DeLorean also said that 64,658 cars were sold in December compared to 66,647 the previous year. In the final 10 days of 1967 a total of 20,100 units were sold.

En route to its best year ever, Pontiac established five monthly and 11 ten-day all-time sales records.

Arctic Cold Wave Is Tightening Grip

The frigid forecast in the Pontiac area is part of a national weather picture that has an Arctic cold wave blanketing most of the Midwest.

Snow or snow flurries are expected in most of the state today, with winds and falling temperatures expected to sweep through Michigan late this afternoon.

The low tonight will range from zero to five above in downtown Pontiac, and zero to 10 below in outlying areas.

Mostly cloudy and cold with a chance of scattered snow flurries is tomorrow's prediction. Partly cloudy with possible snow flurries is Saturday's outlook.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight and tomorrow 10.

A low of 9 above was the recording in downtown Pontiac at 8 a.m. The mercury had edged up to 14 by 2 p.m.

Legislature to Get Crime Issue?

LANSING (AP) — The problem of crime and riots may be added to the already heavy agenda of controversial issues facing the Michigan Legislature in 1968.

The lawmakers already have before them bills on open housing—defeated by the House of Representatives in a special session in December—and lower court reorganization.

★ ★ ★

Now the governor's commission on crime has asked that its recommendations in a 40-page report issued Wednesday be submitted to the Legislature for action.

Acting Gov. William Milliken, who accepted the report for Gov. George Romney on the eve of his return from his world tour, declined to predict what action the governor would take.

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES

At least three of the recommendations made by the 57-member citizens group would be certain to generate considerable heat if they emerged in the legislative session which begins Jan. 10.

The group, appointed by Romney in July 1966 as "another weapon in this armory of defenses" against crime, Wednesday called for new laws which would:

● Permit police, with circuit court permission, to use electronic eavesdropping devices in probing cases involving organized crime or corruption of public officals.

● Allow a county prosecutor, again by petitioning a circuit court, to grant immunity to witness in criminal cases and compel them to testify about self-incriminating matters.

● Revive the system under which all judicial vacancies in courts of record would be filled by appointment of the governor.

Missing from the list of 25 commission recommendations were "stop and frisk" and subpoena powers for prosecutors.

TO STUDY PROPOSALS

Milliken stopped short of saying the Romney administration would recommend exactly the legislation the 40-page document proposed.

"Both the governor and I will study the commission's recommendations thoroughly before submitting this administration's proposals to the Legislature," he said.

The commission predicted its eavesdropping proposal, which would include limited authority for law officers to listen in on telephone conservations, would be held constitutional under recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

The commission proposal would require a prosecutor to certify to the judge that electronic eavesdropping is the only reasonable way of getting the needed evidence. The request would have to spell out the type of conservation sought and the telephone line or place to be "bugged."

IMMUNITY POWER

Immunity-granting power for prosecutors was approved by the state House of Representatives last year, but didn't emerge from committee in the Senate.

A companion bill, also advocated by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, to allow prosecutors to subpoena witnesses, still is in committee.

Designed to skirt the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination, the immunity grant could require a person to testify about a crime in which he was involved but would make it impossible to prosecute the person using evidence he revealed against himself.

The commission also suggested amending the state constitution to allow the governor to fill all vacant judgeships and to appoint persons to all new judicial posts—including the proposed new district court system.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS

Under the 1908 constitution the governor filled judicial vacancies. Since the 1963 constitution was adopted, vacancies are filled in special elections.

Likely to win legislative approval without too stormy a battle are other commission recommendations dealing with racial riots.

Those included outlawing possession of incendiaries, making it a crime to interfere with an on-duty fireman, and granting to mayors, sheriffs and the state police director authority to declare states of emergency.

The commission also called for a vigorous attempt by police to recruit Negro and other minority officers, coupled with "a greater effort by minority group community leadership to bring forth police recruits from among their own youth."

Realtor Tickets Still Available

Tickets still are available for Wednesday's 47th annual Pontiac Board of Realtors banquet at the Elks Lodge, 114 Orchard Lake.

Main speaker for the 6:30 p.m. dinner will be Dr. Thomas Stephens Haggai, noted lecturer and radio personality.

Dr. Haggai, a former Baptist minister, has averaged a speech a day for the last five years. He ran his own syndicated daily program, "Values for Living."

Banquet tickets are $6.50. Contact any Pontiac realtor or Warren Newton at First Federal Savings of Oakland, 761 W. Huron, for additional information or tickets.

The realtor of the year award will be given that evening, and new officers will be installed.

$33.3 Million to State Roads

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The state of Michigan will receive $33.3 million in federal funds for highway construction during the next three months, the Transportation Department announced yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The money is the state's share of $1.1 billion allocated by the department for projects across the country.

Board Under Fire Again on Teacher Negotiations

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education has again drawn fire from district residents on teacher negotiations.

James Norris, 1278 Lakeside, rose, after regular business had been transacted, to ask if the board were "presiding over the destruction of the school system."

Board President Pell Hollingshead said he felt that the board was doing all in its power to prevent harm to the system and pointed to situations developing in other area school districts due to millage losses and cutbacks, such as Troy and Waterford Township.

In response to questions from residents on the possibility of a millage election to raise additional funds for salaries and supplementary pay, one board member replied that the first requirement for such action would be an agreement with the Birmingham Education Association (BEA), so that the board could give specific information to the community on millage needs.

★ ★ ★

During the regular meeting, the board heard a curriculum report from Mrs. Louise Couture, coordinator of the foreign language department.

AVAILABLE IN 4TH GRADE

Since September 1964, Birmingham has joined other districts in making foreign language instruction available at the fourth grade level.

Mrs. Couture's presentation showed that in French, the most popular language, the new program has resulted in increased participation at the high school level.

French is the only language which is offered as an elective in the fourth grade. Spanish is offered in seventh grade, and German and Latin in 10th grade.

★ ★ ★

The board scheduled a special meeting for Monday night at 8 to receive and discuss a report on high school facilities. The meeting will take place in the Baldwin School gymnasium, at Chester and Martin.

★ ★ ★

According to officials, the board has received a partial proposition from the BEA, and is presently awaiting the remainder, which may be given at a negotiating session slated for tonight.

Yule Tree Burning Is Hazardous

Pontiac fire officials warned area residents today to use care burning Christmas trees.

Fire Marshal Charles Metz cautioned that most trees are too large to burn whole in fireplaces and such practice could create a heat hazard.

"Igniting the entire tree at once gets a pretty hot blaze going," he said, "and since the tree is probably too big to fit in the fireplace completely, the burning area can't be screened in to prevent sparks from escaping."

Sawing the tree into small parts and burning it slowly would be best, he said.

★ ★ ★

Metz pointed out that a city ordinance requires burning outside to be done in containers large enough to hold the entire material being burned.

"Also," he said, "Pontiac residents can simply put their trees out at their front curbs for trash pick-ups."

Royal Oak Twp. JP Gets Jail for Perjury

Royal Oak Township Justice of the Peace Lonnie C. Cash was sentenced today to five to 15 years in the state prison at Jackson for committing perjury when he appeared before the Pratt grand jury.

Cash, who was suspended from performing his judicial duteis following his indictment in May 1966, will appeal his conviction, according to his attorney, Thomas Howard.

After sentencing Cash, Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn agreed to the posting of $10,000 bond pending the outcome of the appeal.

The 43-year-old Cash, an ordained minister, was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury after a six-week trial of lying under oath on three occasions when he testified before Grand Juror Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

★ ★ ★

Pratt charged Cash with five counts of perjury. One charge was dismissed at the outset of the trial by Judge Thorburn. The jury found him innocent of another.

★ ★ ★

The jury convicted him of falsely swearing when he said that money had never been set aside for him by numbers men; that he had never kicked back traffic fines to the then police and fire coordinator; and that he had seen a state policeman assigned to the investigationg consorting with a prostitute.

★ ★ ★

Another charge of obstructing justice in the grand jury probe of Royal Oak Township is still pending against Cash, a justice of the peace since 1959.

Area Man Hit by Car, Killed

A 72-year-old pedestrian died after being struck by a car last night on Cora Street east of Nine Mile in Farmington Township.

James W. McCracken, 72, of 22415 Haynes, Farmington Township, was believed to be walking home from work at Quigley Industries, 30966 Grand River, when the accident occurred at about 9:45 p.m. township police said.

GETTING READY FOR SUNDAY — A roll of freshly printed six-cent Franklin D. Roosevelt postage stamps is examined by Chester Harucki, superintendent of the postage stamp division of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. The Post Office Department has about four million of these stamps on hand, as well as some 1.4 billion penny stamps, to meet the higher postal rates. Starting Sunday, it will cost six cents for domestic first class mail.

Waterford Woman Saves Boy, 3, From Drowning

A Waterford Township woman rescued a 3-year-old boy from a canal yesterday afternoon after the child apparently had slipped into the water while trying to feed ducks.

The boy, Thomas C. Chester III, son of Thomas C. Chester Jr. of 3388 Coseyburn, Waterford Township, was kept overnight at Pontiac General Hospital, but was discharged today.

Thomas fell into the canal, which flows into Loon Lake, and the current carried him underneath a bridge, according to witnesses.

Mrs. Joyce Horton of 3383 Coseyburn, who was summoned by the boy's playmates, pulled Thomas from the water after sighting his coat.

★ ★ ★

Thomas's father then applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and revived the boy. A rescue squad from the Waterford Township Fire Department also gave oxygen to the boy for five minutes.

The mishap occurred at about 2:30.

Petition Filed for Inquest in Teen's Death

A petition requesting an inquest into the death of Jimmie King was filed yesterday with the Oakland County Health director, Dr. Bernard D. Berman, by Julian Cook, a local attorney.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Berman said he will have to have advice from the county's corporation counsel before deciding on his next move since King's body was sent to Oklahoma for burial shortly after his death.

King, 17, was shot early Dec. 7 by two Pontiac police officers after a chase. Officers said King was driving a stolen car when they spotted him.

The youth tried to escape in the car, then on foot, and was shot after being warned to halt, the police said.

★ ★ ★

State statutes allow the county medical examiner to order a coroner's inquest into any violent death.

ONE INTERPRETATION

But, according to at least one interpretation, the inquest must be held in view of the body. Since King has been buried, his body presumably would have to be exhumed for an inquest ordered by the county medical authorities.

Robert P. Allen, corporation counsel, said he was not able to say today just what legal steps wuld be necessary to conduct an inquest.

The Circuit Court suit was filed ostensibly in behalf of Herbert L. Hay and R. Kenneth Davidson, a fireman and police officer, respectively.

Winston L. Livingston, attorney for the plaintiffs, is also an attorney for the Pontiac Police Officers Association.

Both police and firemen were were in favor of the income tax. The PPOA and the local firefighters union are bargaining with the city for pay increases.

The fire department was to lay off 12 firemen due to the need for cuts ordered by the City Commission.

Strike Papers Okay Pacts

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union drivers who have shut down Detroit's two major daily newspapers for seven weeks, today signed contracts with two of three interim strike newspapers.

The union put a midnight strike deadline on the third interim paper, the Detroit Dispatch, to come to terms.

In signing the contract, The Detroit Daily Press and Detroit's Daily Express agreed to hire any of the 1,000 Teamsters who had been working for the afternoon Detroit News and the morning Free Press.

Lawmen Elected

EAST LANSING (AP) — Sgt. State Police Sgt. Edward Haven of East Lansing has been named first vice president and Ionia County Sheriff O. Gary Newton has been elected second vice president.

TB Skin Tests Offered to 11,000 Pontiac Pupils

About 11,000 Pontiac public and parochial school children are eligible to participate in the tuberculosis skin testing program to be held Monday through Feb. 2.

Parents must sign consent cards and return them to school in order for tests to be given to students in grades one, five, nine through 12 and special education, according to Miss Josephine Bulla, coordinator of school health services.

"The tuberculin skin test is a safe and reliable method of detecting exposure to tuberculosis," says Miss Bulla.

"A positive reaction does not necessarily mean that a person has tuberculosis but only that some germs have entered the body at some time."

The local health department will arrange for all positive reactors and members of their families to have a free chest X ray.

Pontiac's program is sponsored by the Pontiac Schools Health Services, Oakland County Health Department and Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project.

Heart Recipient 'Fine;' NBC Fights for Photos

CAPE TOWN (AP) — South Africa's second man to get a transplanted heart was reported getting along fine today. Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to Court in an attempt to protect a contract for exclusive television coverage of the historic medical event.

McKENZIE

In a morning bulletin, Groote Schuur Hospital said the condition of Dr. Philip Blaiberg, in whose chest the heart of a young factory worker was grafted Tuesday, "is very good."

★ ★ ★

"He is making satisfactory progress," the bulletin said. "He is fully conscious. He has had no solid foods yet, but generally he is in very good spirits."

The bulletin gave no other details, but Dr. Jacobus Burger, medical superintendent of the hospital, said chances that Blaiberg' body would reject the alien heart were "very remote."

TAKING FLUIDS

A hospital spokesman said the 58-year-old retired dentist began taking fluids by mouth Wednesday, less than 24 hours after the five-hour operation. The spokesman said he might be given some soft-boiled egg today.

Blaiberg is expected to remain in an oxygen tent for another three or four days. He was under constant observation, with checks being made on his pulse rate and blood pressure at least every half hour. His blood gases are analyzed twice daily, and the chemical content of the blood is tested every four hours.

CAN'T SEE WIFE

The hospital spokesman said to guard against infection and too much emotion, Blaiberg would not be allowed to see his wife for several days.

The spokesman also said that radioactive cobalt treatment to counteract the body's natural tendency to reject a foreign object—the transplanted heart—would begin within a few days.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team for the transplant on Blaiberg and for medical history's first recorded heart transplant Dec. 3 on Louis Washkansky, had indicated that Blaiberg would be given less antirejection treatment than Washkansky. The treatment was believed a factor conducive to the pneumonia which killed Washkansky 18 days after the operation.

Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to court in an attempt to block a South African photographer who it said threatened to infringe on its contract with Blaiberg and his wife for exclusive photo coverage and interviews before, during and after the operation.

PAYMENTS

NBC said it contracted with Dr. and Mrs. Blaiberg last Friday to pay them $9,000 for exclusive films and interviews before the operation, $25,000 for "publication of the first exclusive film or pictures of the operation," and $16,000 for exlusive coverage afterward.

Dr. Barnard refused to permit NBC to photograph the operation, and court sources said this apparently would reduce the Blaibergs' take $25,000. But NBC in an affidavit to the Supreme Court said photographer Don McKenzie slipped into the gallery of the operating theater and made photographs of the operation before Dr. M.C. Botha, a member of the surgical team, ejected him.

Justice Basil F.J. Banks issued an order temporarily restraining McKenzie from selling or disposing of photographs relating to the operation. He was ordered to appear for a hearing Jan. 17 to determine whether the restraining order should be made permanent.

NBC said McKenzie flew to Johannesburg Wednesday, and the court order was sent after him. The Cape Times said he was a fashion photographer well known in social circles.

Lucy Jarvis, the NBC producer preparing a documentary on heart transplants, said in New York Dr. Barnard had given the network full cooperation until he returned from the United States, then "we found ourselves completely shut out, and we were not able to do our coverage."

"We went to the Blaibergs to protect ourselves, and they agreed," Mrs. Jarvis said.

"They needed the money—the costly illness had cut into their savings—if they did not sell it to us, they would have sold it to someone else."

There was no indication whether the Blaibergs planned to pass along any of the NBC money to the widow of Clive Haupt, the 24-year-old factory worker whose heart was transplanted to Blaiberg. He died of a stroke several hours before the operation.

AVON TOWNSHIP FIRE — Firemen from the Avondale and Brooklands departments worked three hours yesterday to douse a blaze which reportedly did $10,000 damage to the home of Rev. L. A. Parent, 210 Auburn. A 66-year-old woman alone in the home escaped without injury, according to Avondale Chief William Richards. The cause of the blaze is under investigation.

Annexation Election Jan. 16

Officials Busy as Vote Nears

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

The full calendars of the chief administrators of Wolverine Lake, Walled Lake and Commerce Township attest that a vote which may change the boundaries of their areas is drawing near.

The schedules of Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey and City Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. show they'll be presenting their side of the annexation issue to groups of area residents almost every day until the vote Jan. 16.

Street banners in the city business district and large "YES!" buttons stress their campaign promoting the annexation of parts of Wolverine Lake Village and Commerce Township into the city.

The schedule for Wolverine Lake Village Manager Clifford Cottrell is lighter with only several meetings now set.

★ ★ ★

The officials of Commerce Township, whose areas east and west of the city are up for annexation are less active than leaders of the other municipalities. One public meeting is set for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Township Hall.

ADVANTAGES

A prime reason for a yes vote on annexation, according to Downey in his talk before the Walled Lake Civic Welfare Club yesterday noon, is to provide for the area's proper growth with the proper zoning and low taxes.

Cottrell opposes the boundary change on grounds that the village can provide the services the city promises and at no higher cost.

The village manager assures residents, "If you want a shopping center or senior citizens' home as Walled Lake is planning, I'll get it for you."

★ ★ ★

Both Downey and Cottrell emphasize that their areas have something to offer residents. The city manager cites public sewers and water, more police and fire protection, and efficiency of one government for the areas.

COTTRELL'S CHARGE

The village manager charges that the city wants the added land to help pay the bills for city services. "Wolverine Lake is a plum, something to pull the city out of hot water," said Cottrell.

Downey answers that no one will be paying for something they won't get. As one example, he explained that sewers would be financed by usage charges assessed by districts.

The present city would be one district and the areas considered for annexation would be other districts. The manager added that services would not be forced on anyone.

★ ★ ★

Yet, Nantucket Subdivision residents who heard Cottrell last night said some of them had paid for sewers several years before they received the services.

The advantages for the township, especially the nearly 20 industries east of the city, are sewer and water services, said Downey.

Consolidation Effort Nixed

FARMINGTON — The City Council has expressed a second "no" to a proposal to work for an election on the consolidation of the Farmington area.

★ ★ ★

The council has received and filed a letter from Township Trustee Earl Opperthauser requesting the city's support for a consolidation move.

In early December the council voted against a resolution calling for consolidation of the 36-square-mile area of the city, township and villages of Wood Creek Farms and Quakertown.

There is nothing new in Opperthauser's recent letter, and the council had already reviewed the matter, said City Manager John Dinan.

★ ★ ★

The council also feels that its previously approved resolution setting up a moratorium on annexation or incorporation activities of the area is sufficient to insure the status quo, Dinan said.

★ ★ ★

Also at the council meeting, the manager reported that the county department of public works, the township and the city will meet late this week to finalize the draft of the sewer and water contract.

★ ★ ★

The facilities will serve the some 3,500 people on the 437 acres in the recently annexed west side of the city. Cost of the systems is not yet available, said Dinan.

Panel Recommends Cityhood for Oxford

OXFORD — A move which could take more than half of Oxford Township's assessed valuation is under way here.

The Village Council will shortly be asked to take the necessary steps leading to the incorporation of the present village plus 4.25 square miles of township land, more than tripling the present village size.

Such a move has been unanimously recommended by the City Incorporation Study Committee, formed last May to investigate the future of the area.

If the council moves to go ahead with the suggested plan, it would necessitate County Board of Supervisors approval and then a vote of current village residents plus those living in the affected area. The remainder of the township would not vote, according to village spokesmen.

★ ★ ★

The proposed T-shaped boundaries include four subdivisions plus the three major gravel industries of the area and the Sea Ray Corp., the area's largest local employer.

VALUATION

Some $11 million of assessed valuation out of the total township valuation of $19 million is involved in the proposal.

Suggested boundaries for the proposed six square mile city are as follows: Drahner Road on the south, north a mile to Seymour Lake Road on the west, west another mile and three-quarters along Seymour Lake Road, north a mile to Granger Road, east on Granger extended to Ray and Oxford Roads a total of about four miles, south a mile to Lakeville Road, west a half mile along Lakeville and south to Drahner.

Eight points were cited by the committee for its recommendation. They were:

★ ★ ★

- A city has identification as a municipal unit within the county.
- The city provides for its own representation on the board of supervisors dealing with city problems.

- City residents would register at city hall for all elections.
- City property owners would have one valuation on their property with one assessor, one board of review and one place to pay taxes.

★ ★ ★

- The present village taxpayers would eliminate the cost of township taxes.
- A broader tax base would make possible a lower tax rate for the same services.

★ ★ ★

- A wider population area would offer opportunity for more qualified people to serve in city offices, on the council and committees.
- A city would provide a municipal court with qualified elected judges.

Deciding votes of the incorporation committee were cast by chairman Wendell Hansinger and Rel Ambrose, Dr. Harold Brown, Gerald Griffin and Willard Green. Three members, Dr. V. L. Peterson, Addison Woodbeck and Ellsworth Sage, were reportedly absent from the meeting.

Move Dismays Supervisor

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Lee Valentine was less than happy today with the recently announced decision of the Oxford City Incorporation Study Committee.

VALENTINE

Faced with the possible loss of more than half his township's assessed valuation plus the loss of a yearly tax revenue of about $100,000, Valentine today issued a statement in regard to the proposal.

"I fail to see where the advantages of expansion to cityhood will offset the disadvantages. There will be added taxes needed to supply police protection, water and road maintenance over a great area of vacant land.

"The timing might also be wrong and upset the joint sewer plans. The loss of about half the township tax base jeopardizes township governmental operation.

"More sensibly, I feel, is for the village government to remain compact and more easily administered while the township should move from general law to charter township for more flexible administration with less burden on the residential taxpayer."

The township recently appointed a committee to investigate the procedure for entering a charter township form of government.

Police Copter on Traffic Beat Crashes in L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A police helicopter observing traffic over a busy freeway exchange suddenly fell Wednesday, crashing onto Sunset Boulevard in downtown Los Angeles.

The police pilot, Ed Coulter, 43, escaped with a scratched left hand. The other occupant, Sgt. Ken Carlsted, 40, suffered a minor back injury.

★ ★ ★

A tail rotor which came off the copter, causing the crash, fell onto the center divider between crowded lanes of the Hollywood freeway.

None of the passing cars was hit.

Springfield Township Appoints Supervisor

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night appointed Dr. Ozman J. Fusilier, 8970 Dixie Highway, as supervisor, replacing Buell E. Starr.

★ ★ ★

Starr, who recently resigned due to illness, was appointed last April to fill the unexpired term of retiring Supervisor John L. Casey, 77.

★ ★ ★

Starr was retired works manager of Pontiac Motor Division, a former township trustee and president of the Holly School Board.

Auburn Heights JCs to Pick Up Yule Trees

Auburn Heights area Jaycees will conduct their annual Christmas tree pickup tomorrow and Saturday. Residents wishing to discard their trees should have them at the curb early tomorrow evening. The area covered extends from Opdyke to Adams and from M59 to South Boulevard.

★ ★ ★

The discarded trees will be burned at a public bondfire at 7:30 p.m. Saturday across from the Auburn Heights Boys Club on Squirrel Road.

Annexation Confusing

'Togetherness' Weighed

News Analysis

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

The merits of "togetherness" will be weighed soon at the ballot box in two widely separated areas of the county.

Difficult decisions face voters in the Walled Lake and Avon Township areas.

In the former area, the issue is the annexation of portions of Commerce Township and the Village of Wolverine Lake to the City of Walled Lake. The election is Jan. 16.

A day earlier Avon Township residents will decide whether incorporation is appropriate for the township. A favorable vote on this question would presumably lead to the eventual establishment of a "City of Avon."

★ ★ ★

Buckets of sympathy should be extended the voters in both instances.

NO EASY TASK

If one's vote is not to be cast lightly, a most thoughtful consideration must be given the ballot propositions. This is not an easy task.

At both ends of the county, the air is polluted by the political propaganda let loose to influence voters.

Walled Lake politicos appear to be "running hard" to add valuable real estate to that city. Meantime, Wolverine Lake village officials appear more confident about the outcome. Perhaps, the village has already told its story and found receptive ears.

Pending the Jan. 16 results, the village has petitions in the wings to incorporate as a city.

Across the county in Avon Township, a variety of groups have issued statements urging the public to vote one way or the other.

The main opposition to the Avon incorporation stems from Rochester, a former village that incorporated a year ago.

Rochester city officials, of course, would like to annex the township but preferably one part at a time. The township, meanwhile, would rather become an equal and then consolidate with the city into a single governmental unit.

However, petitions are currently filed with Oakland County that would annex the whole township if the January 15 vote rejects incorporation.

To the voter, it would not be too unusual if he were confused as to the wisest course. In determining whether to vote yes or no, the voter must look not at this year but next year.

He must look ahead and decide which form of government will cost the least, provide the most service and generally best fill the municipal shoes.

Buckets of sympathy should be extended . . . .

Groveland Board Clears Way for Land Developers

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — The Board of Trustees has given the final stamp of approval to rezoning for an estimated $7.5 million in resort and residential developments here.

The principal rezoning request came from a Flint development group, which sought a change in the zoning of six parcels of land totaling 365 acres at Grange Hall and Wildwood.

The group reportedly plans to invest $6 million in a combination ski resort, golf course and 118-lane bowling alley.

The parcels, previously zoned agricultural, are now commercial - recreation and residential.

★ ★ ★

A group of Detroit investors received approval for their request for residential zoning of several parcels at Dixie Highway south of Tripp, in the Mount Holly area.

GOLF COURSE SITE

The new residential districts border on a 150-acre site for a proposed golf course. Total investment in the area is estimated at $1 million.

★ ★ ★

The third request came from Dr. Albert H. Rosten of Birmingham and involved a 50-acre parcel at Dixie Highway and Oakhill. Dr. Rosten plans to spend approximately $500,000 on a park for mobile homes.

Groveland Building Inspector

At 80-Plus, He's No 'Senior Citizen'

By JEAN SAILE

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — It takes more than age to fit a man into the "senior citizen" bracket.

And for Albert E. Smith, 4350 Perryville, who is "80 and past," the days of inactivity are still far away.

The township's first building inspector, appointed to his job in 1955, noted his biggest year yet in 1967.

"They're moving out here to get away from the cities," said the blue-eyed, white-haired Smith. "We had about 25 new home permits last year plus quite a lot of work in the camps here."

★ ★ ★

Groveland Township, scenic with its rolling, lake-dotted countryside, is largely a recreation area. The state owns a vast share of the township, and several private camps have been built in the area.

PAINT EXPERT

It was the fishing and hunting available in such a spot that lured the former automobile paint expert here.

"I've got a lake right in my yard," he noted, "and there's every kind of fish there you could want."

As a researcher for General Motors on the lacquer-base paints currently used in the industry and as a former Tuscola County Sheriff's deputy, Smith still retains much of the vigor that had him launched towards independent paint production when the crash of 1929 hit.

★ ★ ★

Some of that vigor today goes to card playing — "Any game except bridge. I don't understand that game," he reported ruefully.

DROVE A DRAY

Born in Sanilac County several years before the turn of the century, Smith moved with his parents to the Brantford, Ont., area when he was 15. He can recall working with thrashing outfits there and driving a dray for the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railroad.

A member of the Dufferin Rifles, the local militia, Smith was one of those picked in 1908 to attend the then Prince of Wales on his visit to Montreal.

It was in Canada that he married his wife, now dead five years. Together they came back to Michigan and raised three daughters in the Pontiac area.

When offered a chance to purchase a Pontiac area paint shop, he accepted and was doing well until 1929.

PAID CASH

It was then that he decided to weather the depression on property he owned in Tuscola County. Always interested in a deal or a trade, Smith recalls with some suprise that he wound up paying cash for the present pine sheltered home here.

Kept immaculate by his own work, the home is just that to Smith.

"My daughters would like me to live with them, but this is where I belong," he said.

Navy Has 3 'Monsters' in Operation

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy has three monsters in South Vietnam that look like huge water bugs and can skip over water or fly over land on an air cushion.

★ ★ ★

They are Patrol Air Cushion Vehicles. The Navy calls them PACV. But to the crews that fly or sail them they are monsters.

The image is fostered by green and yellow eyes and grinning red mouths with sharp teeth that the crews have painted on.

★ ★ ★

The monsters can travel 60 miles an hour over water or flat land, three or four feet above the surface. The Navy says they are most at home in the rivers and marshes of the Mekong Delta of South Vietnam.

The vehicles, something like the Hovercraft used on the St. Lawrence River at Expo 67, are back in South Vietnam after a tryout last year.

★ ★ ★

The 39-foot PACVs are driven forward by propellers mounted on the rear. The three craft at Dong Tam, part of the joint Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force, are docked in standard helicopter revetments.

★ ★ ★

But according to the skipper of the three-craft force, Navy Lt. Lloyd McIntyre of Berkeley, Calif., the monsters are equally at home at watery moorings.

The PACVs carry twin 50-caliber and 30-caliber machine guns and an automatic grenade launcher as well as a radar scope. A turbine-powered fan beneath the PACV creates the air cushion that keeps it off the surface.

THEY'RE FAST

"They're the fastest things in Vietnam—on the surface," McIntyre said. "The only thing you can really compare them with is a helicopter."

★ ★ ★

The PACV was developed in England, where it is known as a Hovercraft, and is used commercially to cross the English Channel. The modified version now plying the rivers and swamps of the Mekong Delta costs about $1 million each and was developed by Bell Aerosystems of New York.

★ ★ ★

The monsters were tested successfully in South Vietnam last year and returned last week for duty with the riverine force after some modification in the U.S.

McIntyre said the modifications included better controls for side movement, a new skid-proof deck for infantrymen carried aboard and an armament change.

MAINTENANCE CREW

Each monster has a crew of one officer and four enlisted men and there is a maintenance crew of 16.

The craft are capable of clearing 3½—foot vertical obstacles and rounded objects as high as six to eight feet, McIntyre said, "yet they don't disturb rice paddies one bit."

★ ★ ★

A limitation of the craft is that it must be run over relatively flat terrain. It cannot operate successfully over hilly ground or in mountainous areas.

★ ★ ★

Among its advantages is that the PACV is almost invulnerable to land mines because it makes no contact with the surface and most antivehicle mines are contact detonated.

When the monster is hovering, the clearance is blocked from view by a rubber skirt that rings the bottom of the craft.

★ ★ ★

When the motors are started, the air forced downward causes the skirt to bulge out. McIntyre said the apparent vulnerability of the skirt to enemy bullets means nothing: "It's just there to direct some of the air downward, it's going to take more than a couple of bullet holes to stop these monsters."

Small Business Vital to Economy

In recent times, business emphasis seems put on the giants of industry and the huge aggregate statistics of their operations. Almost overlooked is the small business (those employing 50 persons or less) and the small businessman. Indeed, many pessimists see both moving toward extinction.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

A hundred years ago when the divided Country was emerging from the devastating Civil War, some 300,000 businesses in the United States (nearly all of them classified as small by today's standards) served a population of 29 million.

Today, our bourgeoning population of 200 million is served by an estimated 4.8 million small businesses. It is significant, that while our population has increased seven times in the past century, the number of small businesses has increased 15 times.

Now, with the year 2000 (it's just 32 years off) the target date for social and economic projections, what does the 21st century have in store for small business?

Plenty.

According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, as the next century gets under way, the proportion of small businesses to that of the total number of firms operating in the U.S. will be approximately 97 per cent. In terms of total sales, some 35 per cent of the volume will be accounted for by small business.

The department's forecast indicates that 40 per cent of the Nation's work force will be employed in small businesses, and that the ranks of the self-employed will swell to 5.5 million, a gain of 2 million over the 1965 total.

★ ★ ★

It is reassuring to see spelled out that the role of the individual businessman, who played so big a part in the Union's economic development, is not only still a vibrant force in our society but is destined to play an even bigger part in the years ahead.

Hospital Ship 'Hope' Bears Hope to Many Lands

The SS Hope is back in home port in Philadelphia, having concluded the most successful voyage in her young history.

The Hope is the famed white hospital ship whose missions of mercy around the world are made possible by the support of private individuals and industry.

Since she first weighed anchor seven years ago, the ship has visited Indonesia, Vietnam, Peru, Ecuador, Guinea and Nicaragua. For 10 months in 1967, some 280 volunteer American doctors, nurses and technicians from 39 states conducted medical treatment-teaching programs in Colombia. Next March, the ship will sail to Ceylon to begin another 10-month mission.

As Project Hope entered its final month in Colombia, 24,227 patients had been treated aboard the ship or in shore clinics, 1,642 operations had been performed and 162,157 immunizations administered.

A total of 676 Colombian physicians, dentists, nurses and other medical personnel had taken part in formal medical education exchange programs. The Hope leaves behind in Cartagena a shore-based clinic to continue this work.

Student demonstrators who don't like anything about America were notably absent from the pier in Philadelphia.

Superjets Promise Riders More 'Running Room'

For years as airline transports grew larger, they paradoxically grew more cramped as far as most passengers were concerned. Now the pendulum is swinging the other way.

When the new Superjet takes to the air on scheduled passenger flights, air travelers will find themselves in quarters that resemble a large living room or theater instead of a tubular airplane cabin.

★ ★ ★

The seats offer more hip room than the first-class seats in the Lockheed Constellation of the late 1940s. Another thing of interest about the Superjet Clipper that will soon be flying the air lanes of the world is that although the power plant dwarfs previous engines, the noise level will be reduced, and greatly increased thrust will permit the Superjet to take off in a shorter distance than today's jets.

★ ★ ★

What this all adds up to is that overseas traveling in the future will be even more comfortable than at present for the businessman or vacationer air voyaging to far corners of the globe.

Yearly Tax Rate Changes Extolled

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Like the man he will succeed, the designated chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers believes tax rates should be changed every year.

When the economy drags, you can inject zip by reducing tax rates. If it booms too much you can bleed a little excess demand out of it by raising income and corporation taxes.

Annual adjustments up or down as needed, says the young, brilliant Dr. Arthur M. Okum, can strengthen or weaken the spending and lending power of people and businesses, and thus help keep prices and wages reasonably stable.

But by contrast with the day's fashion, it's a lot easier to adjust the tax hemline down than up.

★ ★ ★

And that is where the New Economics — of which Okun and retiring Chairman Gardner Ackley are honored prophets and practitioners — has met a major dilemma.

'FINE TUNING'

Ackley, Okun and their third council colleague, James S. Duesenberry, sketched out their idea of yearly tax-tinkering in the council's annual report last January. Somebody referred to it as "fine-tuning" the economy, a phrase which Okun rejects.

In the vastly stimulative $14 billion tax cut of 1964, as in the less drastic excise tax changes of 1965, "we didn't try to be precise, we just tried to stay in the ball park with the requirements of the economy," Okun told reporters yesterday.

"But the proof of the pudding is in the eating; the tax changes worked as they were supposed to work."

★ ★ ★

Actually, the council has in mind frequent but much smaller changes than those mentioned.

STABILIZATION POLICY

In their report a year ago, the members explained: "Willingness to consider making such small adjustments frequently would contribute substantially to the effectiveness of stabilization policy and to efficient planning of government programs.

Indeed, this willingness seems already established in each of the past six years, Presidents Kennedy and Johnson have called for significant changes in tax laws.

But in 1967 Congress ran out of willingness. It has balked at giving Johnson a temporary 10 per cent surtax to counter inflation and has demanded, as the price of its enactment, deeper budget cuts than he was willing to make.

★ ★ ★

Okun talked about that problem a few hours after his appointment to the chairmanship was announced by Johnson.

AHEAD OF GAME

"It's really hard to convince the public and Congress that if you will accept a reduction in your pay check, you nevertheless come out ahead of the game financially by thwarting inflation," he said.

"It's a much more painful action than cutting taxes. That's why we've had a hard time convincing Congress."

What does that mean for the future of a stabilization program based on tax rates that go up as well as down?

★ ★ ★

"It means that the success we can have in long-range stabilization of the economy depends on our ability to educate the public and Congress that it has to work both ways."

(James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.)

'You're A Little Child . . . So Lead'

David Lawrence Says:

GOP to Feel Rocky's Influence

WASHINGTON — Although Gov. Rockefeller of New York insists he is not a candidate for the presidency, he will have a great deal to do with shaping the party platform at the Republican national convention next summer.

LAWRENCE

So what he has just said, in his annual message to the state legislature at Albany, on the subject of national and international affairs constitutes a significant presentation of the trend of thinking inside and, to some extent, outside his party.

In fact, his statements on current problems faced by the federal government could readily be supported by the Republicans already campaigning for the nomination.

Rockefeller's declarations are realistic. He not only appraises the federal relationship to the states and the effects of the outflow of federal funds within this country, but he deals with the serious impact of our spending outside this country which has created at the moment a crisis in the position of the dollar in international finance.

★ ★ ★

The New York governor points to what might be termed an overgenerosity on the part of the federal government which suddenly has had to be curtailed.

MAKES DISTINCTION

He hints that such impulsive spending and sudden withdrawal of federal funds can hurt the economic condition of the country. He draws a distinction between "what is doable and what is desirable," He says:

"We may well be reaching a point where the level of expectations of the American people is rising at a rate which is outrunning our capacity to raise the revenue on a sound basis — on a basis that will not seriously affect economic growth and increased job opportunities.

"This is not just a state and local problem; it is a national and international problem as well.

★ ★ ★

"On the international scene: Britain has already had to devalue the pound. The United States is overspending abroad, with a serious imbalance in our foreign trade. There is resulting pressure on the dollar, and our gold supply is dwindling.

★ ★ ★

"On the national scene: The federal government is faced with a $30-billion deficit, resulting in an outflow of money, increased inflationary pressures, and high interest rates."

It is interesting to note that Rockefeller puts emphasis on the $30-billion deficit of the U. S. Treasury as a big factor in the creation of the imbalbalance of payments in world trade. He adds:

"What the federal government does at national level affects the economic and financial climate of the states, within which we have to operate, as well as the nation as a whole.

★ ★ ★

"It is essential to us as states, as well as to the nation, to reduce the gap in international trade, to reduce the federal deficit in order to restore confidence in the dollar abroad, to ease the money market and to lower interest rates at home, and to halt the quickening pace of inflation."

Bob Considine Says:

Toots Remembers Days When Whiteman Ruled

NEW YORK — People . . . places . ..

"Paul Whiteman made me a big shot," Toots Shor reminisced when the word came that the band leader had died.

"Pops took a liking to me when I was working for Leon and Eddie's. "I was a fresh punk out of Philadelphia — a kind of day manager and bouncer — and he was the king.

CONSIDINE

"He'd drop by to have a drink with me and when he came through the door, everything stopped dead. There was nobody in show business like him.

★ ★ ★

"He wore white tie, tails and a top hat as if he had been born in them.

"He spent money like it was going out of fashion the next day. Today's big names — from Jackie Gleason down — are 'amachoor night' compared to Pops."

Toots delivered his little eulogy while having a drink in his restaurant at 33 West 52nd St. — where once stood Leon and Eddie's!

If Cuba becomes a democracy, which doesn't seem like the change most likely to occur in the discernible future, an important man around Havana would certainly be Gaston Baquero.

Baquero has lived in Spain since fleeing his native Cuba just ahead of Fidel Castro's take-over. He was at that time chief editor of Diaro Della Marina, long the most respected Cuban newspaper.

His last front-page editorial, which he signed, warned the people that Castro and his first lieutenant, Che Guevara, were Communists.

(In a book subsequently written by Guevara, the now fabled guerrilla wrote "Gaston Baquero was the only one who had printed the truth about us.)

Two years before the Kennedy-Khrushchev eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation, Baquero wrote a series of articles for the Vanguardia de Barcelona predicting that Russia would locate nuclear bases in Cuba.

Three months before the assassination of President Kennedy, Baquero wrote in Punte Europa, the Spanish review, that he must be on constant guard against just such a catastrophe.

Baquero has been decorated by Spain, Portugal, Colombia, Peru, Venezuela, Haiti and Ecuador. He has become a link between those nations and what is left of free Cuba.

Looking at the pictures of the four American deserters as they arrived in Stockholm from Moscow one might venture to say, piously, that America's loss is now Sweden's loss.

The British government unveiled millions of hitherto secret papers the other day — official records of just what transpired behind generally locked doors during the period between 1923 and 1937.

But it was decided not to open to the public the full details of the abdication of Edward VIII and his marriage to Wallis Warfield Simpson.

This arbitrary action upset Laborite William Hamilton.

★ ★ ★

"It is obvious these documents are of interest to historians and research students and politicians, and I can see no reason why they should be withheld," he said.

Then he added, "The Duke and Duchess are old and out of the public eye. I do not think they would be caused any embarrassment."

Comments on Needs of Waterford Schools

Waterford Township needs the schools it is building but I believe our tax money is wasted in the administration phase of our school system. In our junior and senior high schools each principal has at least one assistant and the assistants have assistants.

This is the age of the specialist. Instead of one gym teacher we have from one to three coaches for each sport. We have counselors for our children although no one has ever explained to me what a counselor's duties are. With all our modern methods we still have a much larger theft and drinking situation among our school children than anyone dares to admit.

EDUCATION POOR

I do not understand why other communities who pay half the taxes we do have bus service for their children while we do not. My daughter endangers her life every day walking to school in the dark through rain, sleet and snow. It is not safe walking through all the traffic on Walton to Mason Junior High. In spite of the raise in school taxes, they threaten to close the schools to half a day. Why can't they make the most of what they have instead of building more schools? They don't seem to be doing a very good job of managing the ones they have.

MRS. LAWRENCE AUTEN
4785 MIDLAND, DRAYTON PLAINS

Concerning the story about the proposed school budget cut for Waterford, why can't they just cut down on the building expense for putting up new schools? You don't need a fancy building to get a good education. Someone should look into the rumor that even though Mott High School hasn't been built, there is already a full teaching staff hired for that school, and that the teachers are substituting in schools around the Township.

★ ★ ★

Even though Dr. Tatroe states that cuts must be made in the school budget, he's probably happy that the pay hike he received hasn't been affected by the budget cut. Now is the time to find out where our school tax dollars go.

Reader Has Suggestions for Improvements

Why are signs not placed on dead end streets so traffic can see them before turning into the street? Now that postal rates are going up, wouldn't it help if postal carriers shut their truck engines off when standing over a minute or two? Wouldn't it help if lights were left on in each school room so police could check if they were turned off by marauders?

'Citizens Are Aware of Financial Problems'

Since when do two city employes and an attorney for a city employes' organization or union tell the taxpayers if they will pay a tax or not? I don't think Judge Beer has any business in our City charter and State constitution laws. When we lose our right as citizens to vote, we lose democracy. Vote no on the income tax.

ROBERT E. GRIMMETT
274 W. COLUMBIA

Taxpayers Want Economy in City Spending

The Pontiac Press recently quoted Mayor Taylor as saying the citizens of Pontiac do not realize or do not want to accept the seriousness of the City's financial problems. I am sure the people know and care. I suggest instead that many members of the City Commission aren't listening to what the people say.

★ ★ ★

People want the lid put on new expenditures, not cutbacks in essential services. Passage of the new and dubious Pontiac Area Planning Council and other new future obligations do not indicate much concern for the present financial plight.

★ ★ ★

The spending spree should be stopped, the deaf ears unplugged and the Commission should cease blasting its critics as know-nothings, publicity seekers, outsiders, unofficial spokesmen. The real extremists would appear to be those who continue to buy new obligations when there is no money in the till.

Question and Answer

What is the law on BB guns and air rifles? I read it's against the law for anyone under 18 in Oakland County to carry a BB gun off his property.

MRS. BILLY FORD
428 ALBERTA

REPLY

Patrolman Hayes of Pontiac Police says there is no age limit on owning a BB gun, but it cannot be shot inside the City. Sgt. Doyle of the Sheriff's Department says there is no County law governing age so long as the gun is less than or including a caliber of .177. It would be wise to check city and township ordinances before using such guns, however, because they may vary from place to place within the County.

'Pursuit' Rule Interpretation Means Life or Death to GIs

TOKYO (UPI) — The U.S. rules of engagement in Vietnam say, when, where and under what circumstances American troops can carry the fight to the Communists.

There are some who say they are ambiguous.

How they are interpreted can determine whether GIs live or die.

It is generally conceded that the rules permit field commanders to take necessary steps to protect their troops. That is almost a classic statement of a principle of command, but it also is one that covers a lot of ground.

There is little doubt that something military men call "pursuit by fire" is sometimes necessary to protect troops. This means, in a nutshell, that American units can rain shells on Communist troops fleeing into neutral Cambodia.

But do the rules under any circumstances permit "physical pursuit?" That is, can American GIs actually chase the Communists into Cambodia. Some observers say that on occasion they already have.

American officers of field grade rank have said they would not hesitate to take any action necessary to protect their men—and that includes crossing the Cambodian border both by fire and physically.

But there have been cases where American commanders have passed up making large kills because to do so would have meant violating the border.

In a classic case almost a year ago, an American platoon was virtually wiped out within sight of the border. Hours later a bitter grief-stricken colonel explained that the rules of engagement had prevented him from sending his men across the border into Cambodia and avenging the loss.

That the Communists have used Cambodia as a sanctuary is no longer a seriously debatable proposition.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, has virtually confirmed the Communist violation of his borders by saying he would no longer oppose limited pursuit of the Communists by American troops inside his borders.

There is good evidence to believe that in the past the rules of engagement have been flexible.

Some American GIs state flatly they have crossed over into Cambodia on patrol. It is possible they are mistaken but military maps are less than perfect and such forays, intended or not, are not unlikely.

In the light of what appears to be a virtual invitation from Sihanouk, the rules of engagement may become still more flexible.

If they do, the Communist sanctuary will be marked with Communist graves. But it also will become a battleground where Americans will die.

Dow Purchases Midland Land

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. is the successful bidder for 20 acres of city-owned land, city officials reported. The price offered was $85,000.

Midland City Manager Fred L. Yockey said only one other bid was made by Thomas J. McCann for $80,000.

Sale of the property, once purchased for potential park use, was authorized by voters in a special Dec. 5 election.

Dow expects to use the land as a part of an expansion program in the area.

West Says There's No Place Like Home---to Invest In WASHINGTON (UPI) — Economic conditions in the United States have many economists worried sick. Which probably is a good sign.

Economists are always at the peak of their form when the economy is becoming.

Prosperity gives them a wide area in which to point out trouble spots. Which is their main function.

During a depression, of course, the trouble spots are apparent to everybody. So the economists are forced to point out bright spots. This makes their work a lot harder.

★ ★ ★

As a rule of thumb, it can be stated that the trouble spots during prosperity outnumber the bright spots during a depression by roughly 27 to 1.

WEST

Anyway, after reading a series of cautionary statements on the state of the economy, I decided the boom was certain to continue for a while. So I began looking around for some juicy investments.

Nothing seemed very promising until I came across a speech given by Raymond H. Lapin when he was installed as president of the Federal National Mortgage Association.

Lapin said his agency was thinking about establishing a trading desk at which home mortgages would be bought and sold in much the same way that the stock market operates.

All of a sudden it came to me — the get-rich-quick opportunity I had been looking for.

CONFUSION POSSIBILITES

I resolved that as soon as the trading desk was set up I would buy the mortgage on my own home.

Imagine the possibilities that would offer for financial manipulation. The mind boggles.

Once I become both mortgagor and mortgagee, I will — through mutual consent with myself — be in a position to raise or lower the interest rates, depending on which would be the most advantageous.

★ ★ ★

There remains, of course, the small problem of raising enough cash to buy the mortgage. This I intended to do by taking out a second mortgage, pledging my equity in the house as security.

Later, I may also buy the second mortgage by means of a third mortgage, for which I use the first mortgage as security.

I keep pyramiding this way as long as I can. Then, if the mortgage market goes up, I sell out and make a killing.

If not, I default on my payments, foreclose myself and move into an apartment.

Actress Must Pay Attorney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Corinne Calvet has been ordered to pay $10,596 to a London attorney who represented her in a libel suit against a magazine seven years ago.

Superior Court Commissioner Hyman O. Danoff ordered the 43-year-old actress Wednesday to pay David Jacobs for his aid in a suit against London's Weekend magazine. She said the magazine wrongly accused her of writing two exposes on Hollywood life.

★ ★ ★

The actress was recently sued by chemical firm heir Donald P. Scott for the return of $750,000 in gifts he had given her. They agreed to settle the matter by sharing equally $400,000 in joint assets.

Disposing of worn - out tires is one of the industry's biggest problems. In Great Britain, they are dumped 10 to 15 miles from land at sea.

Last-Born Australian Quint Dies

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The last-born of Mrs. Patricia Graham's quintuplets became ill and died today at the age of four days. There was no indication that any of the other four babies were threatened.

★ ★ ★

The attending obstetrician announced that Geoffrey Roger became ill in the morning and died in midafternoon. A hospital bulletin earlier today had reported all five babies in satisfactory condition.

★ ★ ★

The quints, Australia's first, were born within one hour and 15 minutes Sunday. Mrs. Braham, 36, gave birth six weeks and a few days prematurely but until today the quints had been progressing so well it was thought they might leave the hospital before the anticipated six to eight weeks.

★ ★ ★

Geoffrey had weighed 3 pounds, 10 ounces, the same as his brother Richard Gibson and sister Faith Elizabeth, when the babies were first weighed 48 hours after birth. Annabel Dorothy then was the largest of the five at 3 pounds 14 ounces and Caroline Jean the smallest at 3 pounds 5½ ounces.

The Brahams, who live in Tenterfield, 200 miles from Brisbane, have four other children, including twins born a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Their father, Roger Braham, a 34-year-old lawyer, had his first good look at the tiny quints Wednesday. Their pediatrician reduced the humidity concentration in their incubator cribs, lessening the misting of the glass over the cribs and enabling Braham to take a long, clear look at his children.

Earth Tremor Jolts Nicaraguan Capital

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A strong earth tremor jolted this Central American capital today.

★ ★ ★

No injuries were reported, but fire department spokesmen said several houses were destroyed in a residential area five miles east of Managua.

The tremor was followed several minutes later by a second one that was milder and of shorter duration.

Guard Made Riot Errors, Chief Admits

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— The retiring commander of Michigan's National Guard says his troops made "honest mistakes" in Detroit's July riot, but adds, "If I had to do it over again, I would handle the situation just as I did."

Maj. Gen. Cecil L. Simmons retired Jan. 1 after 34 years in the guard, the last five as commander of the 46th Infantry Division.

His troops were criticized in the press and by regular Army Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, commander of U.S. paratroops sent to help quell the week-long riot, for their performance und riot conditions.

Simmons, 55, said that with new training in riot control, instituted shortly after the riot, that "the Guard is more capable of handling the situation."

But he said the Guard's equipment still is outdated.

Law Enforcing Burden on City Court

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a two-part series on Pontiac's Municipal Court.)

By MEL NEWMAN

Law enforcement is more than a good police department.

Its effectiveness depends largely on the courts.

NEWMAN

In Pontiac, this burden presently rests with the city's Municipal Court.

Once a suspect is apprehended in Pontiac on any city ordinance or state law charge, he faces processing in the Pontiac Municipal Court.

★ ★ ★

How well is the Pontiac Municipal Court equipped to service the city? How strong a link is it in the chain of justice, and how might it be made stronger?

'BEST IN STATE'

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum described his court, without reservation, as "the best of its kind in the state."

If the quality of the Pontiac Municipal Court is to be assessed, it should be reviewed in terms of how well it performs the services for which it was created by the constitution, including services not rendered by other courts of its level in Michigan.

Within its jurisdiction are city ordinance cases which are totally adjudicated at the municipal level.

★ ★ ★

These include everything in the way of misdemeanors from traffic tickets to simple assaults.

STATE LAW VIOLATIONS

At the same time, cases involving violations of state laws — from more serious assaults to murders — first face process in Municipal Court.

Original arraignment on such charges are held locally, followed by preliminary examinations which determine whether the investigation has developed enough evidence against the accused to elevate the case to the Circuit Court level.

Basically, the Pontiac Municipal Court personnel includes two judges, a court clerk, seven employes other than the clerk in the court office, and seven employes in the violations bureau, which operates within the court structure.

McCallum, 66, formerly a practicing attorney, was elected in 1954.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, 62, in his 26th year in Municipal Court, was previously a Circuit Court clerk.

★ ★ ★

Martin J. Keller, 63, court clerk since 1961, was previously a sales manager for a Pittsburgh manufacturing firm.

MANPOWER CHANGE

The only change in the manpower allotment in Municipal Court since 1961 was the addition of two employes in the violations bureau.

Keller, who urged additional personnel for the office in order to provide faster service to the public, said, "We can handle our present load with the present force. We get the job done, though we get busy at times."

He said that "no backlog of unhandled traffic tickets exists," a situation that has been cleared over several years.

★ ★ ★

In a six-month (April through October) sampling of the Pontiac court docket, more than 500 state law cases were scheduled for preliminary examination.

DAY AVERAGE

Since state law cases are normally heard two days a week, this roughly averages to more than 10 preliminary examinations on each of these days.

At the same time, a slightly lesser number of city ordinance cases per day are heard.

Thus, between 50 and 70 criminal cases of both types are brought to Municipal Court in a given week.

★ ★ ★

They are handled almost exclusively by McCallum.

The other municipal judge, Finnegan, presides equally exclusively over civil cases.

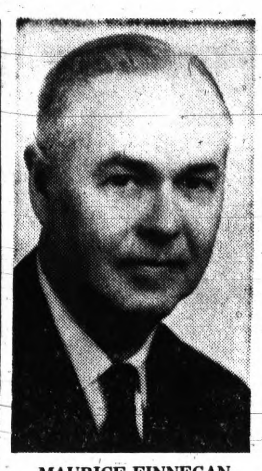
Records show that 8,118 civil cases were processed through the Pontiac court last year.

Of these, 1,500 were contested (came to trial). Many of the contested cases were settled in a matter of minutes by the respective attorneys.

★ ★ ★

McCallum attributes delays in the processing of criminal cases to the nature of the over-all court system.

CECIL McCALLUM



MAURICE FINNEGAN

CAUSE OF DELAYS

"It's rare," he said, "that a case is put over because of our court itself.

"It's usually either because an attorney or police officer whose presence would be necessary here is tied up at Circuit Court. It has little to do with our own volume."

Some say the volume of crime itself is to blame.

★ ★ ★

Aside from courtroom procedures, the Pontiac Municipal Court provides services such as the personal receivership system, which exists to allow the payment of debts to creditors through a court office in lieu of the debtors declaring bankruptcy.

DEBT PAYMENTS

McCallum said that the system paid out over $800,000 in debts last year.

The same arrangement exists to handle nonsupport cases, wherein alimony payments are distributed.

Around $100,000 per year is handled by this service.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the Pontiac Municipal Court is functioning as a public service on several fronts.

The most important question raised is: How might the court better serve the city?

Interest Surges for Kalamazoo Unit of NAACP

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The local branch of the National Association for the Advancement for Colored People (NAACP), thought headed for extinction last week, is showing new signs of life.

Former chapter president Duane Roberts said Wednesday that there has been a "new surge of interest" since an announcement last week that the chapter might be disbanded.

Roberts said plans for the reorganization of the chapter will be discussed at a meeting Jan. 15.

Legislator Nears 92--- or Is It 97?

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — State Sen. Michael Kinney. D-St. Louis, a member of the Missouri Senate for 55 years, retains his sharp memory for every detail except his age.

When asked his age the senator says, "Oh, I don't know. I'll have to look it up."

Kinney wrinkles his brow under his snow-white hair and says, "Some think I'm past 90, but I don't look that old, do I?"

Kinney's birthday is Jan. 12, and the next one will be his 92nd or 97th or one in between those two — depending on which source or whose guess you believe.

The official state manual hasn't listed Kinney's age for years. The 1915-16 edition lists the year of his birth as 1878, but the manual a year earlier lists the year at 1875.

Kinney is believed to have served in the Missouri Senate longer than any person has ever served in any legislative body in the world.

Now, however, his tenure is threatened seriously for the first time in more than 15 years by a rising young Negro politician.

Rep. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, has articulately represented his Negro and white constituency in the Missouri House of Representatives since 1965.

Tests Show Skin Organ of Emotional Expression

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clear proof the human skin is "an organ of emotional expression" has been offered the nation's scientists.

A fixed dose of a bump-raising chemical was injected into the skin of 61 persons on days when they were in different moods.

On the days when they were "calm and secure," the resulting bumps were in keeping with the size of the dose.

On the days when they were "low in energy and spirits," the bumps were much smaller than expected.

★ ★ ★

On the days they were "tense and preoccupied" bump sizes were between the two extremes.

AFFECTED BY ATTITUDE

"This showed in a definitive way how an individual's attitude could affect the physiological response of his skin," said Dr. Minoru Masuda of the University of Washington at the annual meeting of the American Association for the advancement of science.

But not only the skin. A Washington scientist wrote down his changing moods during a workday in his laboratory.

For a while he felt "angry and frustrated." Later he was "anxious." Then came a period of being "agitated."

Each time he wrote down his mood he also wrote down a prediction of what that mood would do to the hormonal secretions of the two parts of his adrenal glands which are controlling regulators of the body. His predictions were correct, verified by urinalysis.

How Much Higher Can Tax Rate Go?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON—Every time the Social Security system is altered to widen its coverage, increase benefits and raise taxes to pay the cost, the question inevitably is heard:

"How long can this go on?"

Books to be mailed in mid-January

This time out, there were seriously offered but finally defeated proposals to lift the earnings base not moderately from $6,600 to $7,800 as was done, but to $10,800.

The approved final new tax rate for those not self-employed is set at 5.9 per cent, to take effect in 1987. But there was talk that the rate might have to be hoisted higher by that time or earlier—possibly to 10 per cent.

For a considerable number of working Americans, the Social Security tax is the only federal levy they pay outside of gasoline taxes and various excises. Their annual incomes are too low to compel them to pay federal income taxes.

LARGE FACTOR

Should the Social Security tax finally reach 10 per cent or more, it will become a large factor in their financial lives.

At the same time, the American citizenry seems to be demanding more and more from the Social Security system.

Benefits are going to be higher. From a few years back, hospital insurance and related protection under Medicare has been included—and with the 1967 law this is somewhat enlarged and improved.

★ ★ ★

The system is in a constant race with the rising cost of living. Since the new benefit levels taking effect with March 2 checks go up an average of 13 per cent for beneficiaries, temporarily this puts the system ahead in the inflation game.

LIVING COSTS UP

Living costs have risen just under 8 per cent since January 1965, the last time higher benefits were voted.

But Social Security specialists and economists do not imagine this advantage will last long. Price rises can be expected to eat fairly quickly into the extra benefit cushion.

No expert in the field dares guess when the moment of truth will come—when taxpaying workers will resist higher Social Security tax rates demanded to pay for still higher benefits, tied perhaps to steady cost of living rises (sometimes talked of now.)

★ ★ ★

Some analysts and public figures, not least Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, are arguing today that the system henceforth should break away from crucial dependence on the insurance principle—with contributions by employe and employer—and turn to the general United States treasury to finance further advances.

ISSUE IN OPEN

The U. S. Senate's largely-squelched more liberal version of the 1967 benefit-increase proposals did not seem, in the view of more conservative congressional types, to face up to the financing problem.

But Kennedy brought the issue into the open.

And he evidently had some company among some students of the present system who think America is now sufficiently affluent to lay a heavy part of the Social Security burden directly on the treasury.

Yet it should be understood we are talking about big money.

Even the Senate's less-than-drastic proposals for higher cash benefits and a more liberal "retirement test" (the amount a man can earn and still get full retirement benefits) would have cost nearly $3 billion in the immediate future and much more later.

Plainly, the insurance principle partly supporting the program will be clung to for a good many years to come.

But the pressure to break loose from it will inevitably mount as demands upon Social Security rise and the taxpayer's Social Security tax dollar looks frailer and frailer as a chief support.

Visual Disorientation a Likely Lunar Problem

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Man has learned to conquer whiteout conditions in the earth's polar regions through communications and navigation equipment.

But will he fare as well when he reaches the moon?

Whiteouts occur when terrifying weather conditions cause the sky and snowfield to blend together and all reference points including horizons, are obliterated.

Photographs taken by the Lunar Orbiter satellite indicate that similar visual disorientation is likely to cause a problem for moon explorers.

★ ★ ★

Consequently, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has engaged the Boeing Co., to investigate possible ways to beat the anticipated phenomenon.

ASSIGNED TO PROJECT

Astronauts Dick Gordon, Frank Borman and Bill Anders and NASA engineer test pilots Neil Anderson and Mrs. Jeanne Lee Bussard have been assigned to the project which is being carried out at the Boeing Space Center in Seattle.

Each will complete 20 hours of simulated moon landings under supervision of Boeing scientists Ty Maki, Norman Hansen and Frank Baird.

To accomplish the simulated missions, Boeing has built a fixed base cockpit in front of a hemispherical screen 30 feet in diameter. The landing scene compiled from Lunar Orbiter photographs is projected onto the screen.

★ ★ ★

When the pilot moves cockpit controls, a signal is sent through a computer system which orders a closed-circuit television camera to move in on the lunar landscape at a preset rate of speed and angle.

PROJECTED ON SCREEN

The image is projected on the screen and it appears to the pilot as if the cockpit were moving in response to his commands.

★ ★ ★

The moon surface models are eight feet square and are covered with a special material which duplicates the strange lunar reflections. The models are lighted by powerful parallel rays similar to direct sunshine in space.

Pancake Supper at Kingswood for Foreign Student Program

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Kingswood's fourth annual Pancake Supper takes place at the school on Jan. 13. Mrs. G. T. Christiansen is the general chairman. Proceeds from the pancake supper support Kingswood's foreign exchange program.

Mrs. Christiansen is well acquainted with the program's usefulness, having had a foreign student in her home, as well as having her daughters, Karen and Peggy, benefit from it as summer exchange students in Europe.

Mrs. Edward Lerchen is chairman of the foreign exchange program. Serving with her on this committee are Mesdames: John Bagby, David Burton, Elizabeth Daunic, Robert Fisher, Herbert Sott and T. F. Walker.

This year's foreign exchange students at Kingswood are Tamiko Shibuya of Japan who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Jean Carpenter of Warner Drive and Laila Temmes of Finland who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Zoltan Horvath of Bloomfield Hills.

In charge of the evening's activities are Mesdames William Mitchell and Charles L. Wilson Jr. who are responsible for the decorations; Mrs. Richard Kelley, publicity; Mesdames James May, William Douglas for the fashion show and ski movie.

Others are Mrs. Frazer F. Hilder and Mrs. William Chisholm, treasurer.

SERVING

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 in the dining room. Here committee members will be working under the direction of Mrs. Richard VanDusen.

Among those assisting her will be Mesdames: Thomas Austin, E. Bryce Alpern, Mark Jung, Lind Wilson, Richard Flannery, Ross Hansen, Richard Jones, Robert B. Knight, Richard Schlegal, Rodkey Craighead, George Derr and Harry Wieting.

In the Wenger Gymnasium each class will have a booth open for some good shopping.

Also in the gym, "The Eccentrics" will play for the sock hop. And, in the auditorium, Kingswood and Cranbrook models will be displaying ski clothes from Don Thomas' Sporthaus.

Employment Expert Talks to Women

Merrill Walls, employment manager for Michigan Employment Security Commission, spoke on "Development of Human Resources" at Wednesday's meeting of Tipacon Charter chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Mrs. Sigmund Fitz introduced the guest at a gathering in the Elk's Temple. Members heard that Nancy Leo, a past scholarship recipient, had accepted a teaching position at Wing Lake School.

Mrs. Elmer Coleman was a guest.

Edgar A. Guest III Tells of OU Theatre's History

The story of the establishment of Meadow Brook Theatre of Oakland University was the program presented by guest speaker Edgar A. Guest III in slides and narration before the members of the Round Table Club Tuesday.

Mrs. William A. Gordon presided at the tea table for the meeting in the YWCA.

Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Bradley D. Scott, Mrs. D. R. Lazelle and Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon.

OU Student Realizes Dramatic Turn of Events

Little did Patricia Carson think when she decided to attend Oakland University that she would be on the professional stage in less than a year.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the Robert L. Carsons of Chapman Street, Pat will be in the production of "And People All Around," the Meadow Brook Theatre play opening Jan. 19. She is a member of the chorus which is like the ones in Greek plays.

★ ★ ★

Although Pat has sung ever since she can remember and took part in all the vocal concerts at Washington Junior High and Pontiac Central High Schools, she has never done any acting

But she volunteered to help when Oakland University students decided to take over the old barn on campus and make a theatre out of it. She worked on the costume committee for the fall play, "Stop the World I Want to Get Off."

John Broome who is codirecting the George Sklar play on civil rights was helping with the choreography of the student play and met Patricia then.

READ

Just before Christmas she was called in to read for Broome and George Guidall, the other director. Two days before Christmas, she knew she had the part.

There have been a few OU students who have had parts in the Meadow Brook plays; but Pat is the first freshman to make the grade. She is still surprised by her good fortune.

Going on the stage, even as a singer, has not been part of her life's plan. True, she loves to sing and intends to continue raising her voice. But she is studying to be a psychologist or a psychotherapist.

★ ★ ★

The Carsons have lived in Pontiac since Patricia was six. They have one other daughter, Berdena, 16.

Their whereabouts on the night of Jan. 19 is in no doubt at all. They'll be in the audience in Wilson Auditorium waiting for Pat to make her debut as an actress.

Unit Will Join Club Federation

Mrs. Hans Schjolin, Oakland County Federation of Women's Club president, will give a special welcome to the newest Federation member, the Hazel Park Junior Women's Club on Friday.

★ ★ ★

The Federation meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Oakridge Women's Club and hosted by this group.

★ ★ ★

Taking part in the program will be Mrs. Mitchell Jonski, Mrs. Ross Rife, Mrs. Thomas Winn, Mrs. Robert Meshew and Mrs. Forbes Hascall.

Others include Mrs. Helge Rognlie, Mrs. Wayne Andrews, Earl Grisdale and William Adams of the "People to People" program.

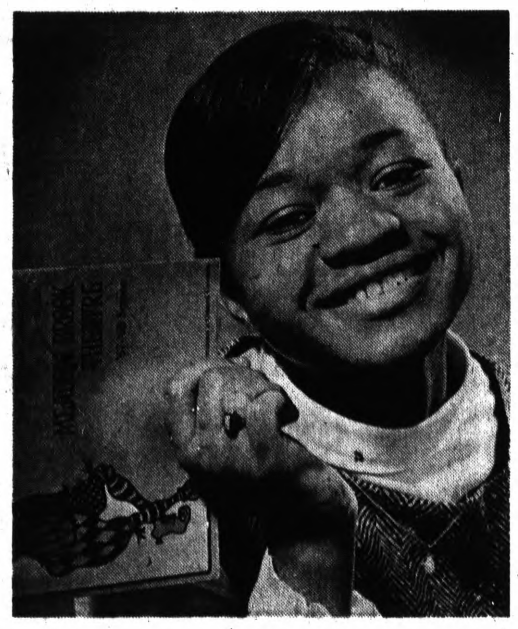
Following a noon luncheon, Mrs. William F. Krueger will introduce Kenneth Earl from the International Salt Company who will describe the huge salt mines underlying the city of Detroit.



Patricia Carson, a freshman at Oakland University, has been chosen to play in the Meadow Brook Theatre production of George Sklar's "And People All Around." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carson of Chapman Street.

Husband Hunts Pretty Strange Game When He Leaves Artillery Behind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you think if your husband could hardly wait for the hunting season to open. And then he took off in the middle of the night for a four-day hunting trip and forgot his rifle? I thank you.

WONDERING

ABBY

DEAR WONDERING: I would think that he did not intend to shoot whatever it was that he set out to hunt.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old woman, facing eye surgery which could cost me my eyesight, but that is not my problem. My problem is my 41-year-old daughter. She is married and lives in the same town, but I have not been able to contact her or see my grandchildren for five years.

My daughter started growing distant toward me when her husband was promoted and they moved into a fine big home. Then she broke off with me completely. When I call her house her maid says she is not in. I have left my number, but she never calls me back.

When I call my son-in-law at his office, his secretary gives me the same story. I have written letters to her, but she never answers. On Mother's day and Christmas I never hear from her.

I am not a drunk or a dope and have done nothing to make her ashamed of me. I go to church and have never interfered in her life. My husband (her father) deserted us when she was a child so I went to work and gave her a good home and put her through college.

I have spoken with my minister and hers too, and they both tell me their hands are tied and their authority is limited. Please tell me what to do. Life isn't worth living anymore.

LONELY IN GREENVILLE, N. C.

★ ★ ★

DEAR LONELY: It seems highly unlikely that this is the whole story. But if it is, your daughter is heartless beyond belief. In any case, your only course is to accept the fact that she has chosen to ignore you. Put all thoughts of her out of your mind as best you can. Not an easy pill to swallow, but it's better than consuming yourself with the pain and sorrow that now dominate your life.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I would like to help all "young marrieds" who find it difficult to address their husbands' mothers as "Mother":

★ ★ ★

When I made my first visit to the doctor's office after my first baby was born the nurse motioned to me, and said, "You're next, Mother." I knew she wasn't addressing me as HER mother.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly I realized that she addressed all of us with children as "Mother." Immediately my vision was broadened, and I came to understand that "Mother" applied to all women with children. That was the moment I was lifted out of the narrow rut of thinking that the title belonged only to my own mother.

★ ★ ★

I soon put this knowledge to practice. When I wanted to attract the attention of friends, neighbors, or even strangers, I would say, "Mother, watch your little one." You'd be surprised how quickly they reacted, having been reminded that they were mothers.

★ ★ ★

The title is rightly theirs, and never interfered with the special meaning it held for my own dear mother.

★ ★ ★

If we would use the term freely, the next generation would learn from our example and thus alleviate a sticky problem.

★ ★ ★

Thank you for the privilege of sharing these thoughts with you.

'A" OF ALABAMA

★ ★ ★

DEAR "A:" And thank you for having shared them.

★ ★ ★

Start Teaching Your Youngster Meaning of 'No'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My 10-month-old daughter and I are often invited to friends' homes for afternoon visits. Though most of them have small children also, none of my friends remove ash trays, magazines, and other objects from their living rooms, as I do.

Although I take toys with me, my daughter is more interested in exploring her new surroundings. I feel I have two alternatives: to remove those things she might break or to hold her on my lap, which limits my visit to about 10 minutes. May I have your suggestion in this matter. — Charlotte O.

Dear Mrs. O.: It is never too soon to start teaching a child the meaning of "No" and "Don't touch," but 10 months is certainly too young to expect her to invariably accept those regulations. Therefore, when your daughter sets her sights on a forbidden object, you must quietly place it out of her reach.

Visiting with babies is never easy, especially if they are not interested in the diversions offered them.

So, until your daughter understands the meaning of "No," plan on short visits, and restrict them to the homes of good friends where you will be less nervous if the baby does create a problem.

Full-Blown Fatties Must Fast for Fashion

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — For two years the fat of the land hid behind tents and shapeless shifts, but now many women face a very tight squeeze as fashion returns to the little middle.

It's no cinch inching under a belt again and, the American garment industry sympathizes. Moreover, the designers, or at least those at the first day of New York Couture Group's press week activities, are doing their best to ease the situation until women are in better shape.

"Women have added two inches to their waistlines," lamented a spokesman for Mignon. "Our Size 10 has abandoned its old waist measurement of 25½ for a more confortable 27½."

Though Ole Borden of Rembrandt has belted his dresses, he has cut the garment comfortably loose to give the wearer a chance to slip a notch or two when facing a tempting dessert.

Elasticized belts were the temporary solution offered by designers for junior sophisticate clothes.

Yet at the cone fabric show styles in stretch fabrics were the answer. They had all the give and take that the ins and outs of the feminine figure could give. A voluptuous example was a stretch denim dress with a plunging neckline worn by a manikin well endowed enough to make the plunge worth while. While expansive in places, the dress also did a dandy job of cinching the center.

It was obvious the way his clothes were extolled here that the working man has won the social revolution, at least in the world of fashion.

Good old denim, the day-to-day uniform of the laborer in fields and factories, was sometimes disguised in pretty pastel combinations. But as often as not it was its rugged dark blue self in jacket and skirt, top stitched and hardware trimmed, frankly imitating the working uniform itself.

How rebellious peasants would be if they could see how designers have dressed up their clothes for the rich. A peasant's blouse for mignon is collared and bibbed and bordered with blinding blue stones. The peasant's skirt, either whacked off at the thigh line, or ankle level, is gathered dirndl style at a miniwaist, in peasant's horizontal stripes and rich man's velvet.

A towel is what a person wears who doesn't have a thing to wear. Still, at the press opening towels of yellow flowers were offered as blotter dresses, ready to soak up sun or water.

Free and easy was the theme of fashion, even though the ironing did not look easy on the many lace dandy shirts that combined with skirts, or even the dresses in angellic white, laced from neck to hemline.

AP Wirephoto

Fraser Home for Couple Follows Canadian Trip

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the John Edward Kniels will make their home in Frazer.

The daughter of the Milner Cooks of Seymour Lake Road, Brandon Township, and the son of Mrs. Louis Kniel of Fraser and the late Mr. Kniel were married recently in Seymour Lake Methodist Church.

ATTENDANTS

Attended by her sister, Mrs. Arthur Bailey, the bride was attired in a knitted ensemble trimmed with satin.

A white fur and velvet headpiece accented her costume.

Red bridal roses were carried on a white fur muff.

Best man honors were performed by Leslie Mann.

A family luncheon in the church parlors followed the candlelight vows.

On Sunday the couple will be honored at an open house hosted by the bride's parents.

Odorous Theater in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — When Mary Maloian buys a bottle of scent she's likely to pick out Wet Dog at $9.20 a pound or a quart of Green Pastures at $51.75.

What is a dark-haired receptionist and tour guide like Mary doing buying smells like these? Well, Mary operates a unique odorous movie "theatre".

The theater, in the Borg-Warner Science Hall, is formally known as the "environment chamber." It features a 25-minute film tracing man's progress in controlling his environment, from the cave to the home of tomorrow.

Temperatures, humidity, lighting panels and doors — 12 in all — change almost instantaneously in synchronization with the picture on the screen. At one point the temperature drops from 110 to 50 degrees and the humidity from 90 to 50 per cent in two seconds!

Susan Carol Meger and Pfc. Randall B. Ratliff, USA, are planning June vows. Their parents are the Chester C. Megers of Oakmont Street, Pontiac Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ratliff of Churchill Street, also Pontiac Township. Pfc. Ratliff is presently stationed in Bonnholder, Germany.

Reception Follows Rite

A reception in Guinn's Banquet Hall followed Friday evening vows for Donna Jeanne Mutz and Gerald Eugene Callender.

★ ★ ★

The bridal ensemble featured a white satin sleeveless sheath with matching coat and elbow length sleeves.

★ ★ ★

To complete her outfit the bride chose a cluster of net forming a petal attached to her illusion veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mutz Sr. of East Beverly Street, was Lillian Sexton. Susan Dunnigan was bridesmaid.

Standing as best man was Brian Black with ushers Wayne Plummer and Dennis and Darryl Schumacher. The bridegroom is the son of the William L. Callenders of Cedar Street.

Two Faces for Shades

NEW YORK (UPI) — Should window shades throughout the house look the same from the outside?

"Yes and no," says Mary Davis Gillies, author of "The Elegant World of Window Shades." The total appearance of the house is the determining factor.

In contemporary homes with windows of assorted sizes, the shades need not match. If the house is traditional and has orderly window placement, shades should be of the two-faced type, with color or pattern on the room side only, and a uniform look from the street.

A cup of borax added to washing water will bring shine to mirrors.

Cranbrook Sets Course

The second semester of classes at the Young People's Art Center, sponsored by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, will begin on Tuesday. Classes are 90 minutes long, last for 10 weeks and are for young people seven through 19 years.

★ ★ ★

Sessions are set for Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. and on Saturdays beginning at 9:30 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Pupils who have completed the first semester are encouraged to continue through the remaining two terms. According to instructor Susan Low-Beer, they have been conceived as a step-by-step development.

This second term will concentrate on three dimensional design and clay.

For enrollment and further information contact the Academy on weekdays.

When making slip covers or when having furniture recovered, make arm and head rests out of a little extra material. These are practically invisible yet they save the furniture no end.

FHA Sometimes Does Pay a Dividend

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I recently heard that the Federal Housing Administration returns some of the ½ of 1 per cent insurance money when your mortgage is paid in full. Is this true?

Please say it is!

Mrs. D. L., Chicago

Dear Mrs. L.: If you're looking for "found" money, cross your fingers and hope. But don't take it for granted. And here's why there can't be a straight Yes or No answer at this point:

MARY FEELEY

Your mortgage insurance premiums have been paid into the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund. When your mortgage is paid in full, if the total premiums you and the other FHA mortgagors have paid amount to more than the proportionate share of FHA expenses, losses and reserves, then FHA will pay you the difference in the form of a dividend.

If such a payment is due you, it'll be made automatically.

Dear Mary Feeley: If a couple buys a house for $32,000 and puts $8,000 down, how much will it cost them each month to carry the house? Does the monthly figure include amortization? Will you please explain how this figure is arrived at?

Mrs. J L. M., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. M.: Under an amortized mortgage arrangement, monthly payments include interest and the reduction of the principal. The earlier monthly installments include primarily interest and only small amounts of principal repayment.

As the principal is gradually reduced, a larger and larger percentage of the monthly payment is applied to repayment of principal until the loan is entirely repaid. Interest — at whatever rate is stated in your contract — is figured on the reducing unpaid balance of the loan.

Figures for monthly payments are set up by mathematical tables which lenders use to determine how much per month is required to amortize a loan at a certain interest rate for a fixed period of time.

Of course, the amount of interest paid for the loan can be established by multiplying the monthly payment by the number of payments involved.

The following table shows you how monthly payments and the amount of interest vary according to the length of time a mortgage is in effect. These figures are based on an interest rate of 6¼ per cent for a $24,000 mortgage.

No. of yrs.	Mo. pymt.	Total Int. Pd.
10 years	$269.48	$ 8,337.60
20 years	$175.43	$18,103.20
30 years	$147.78	$29,200.80

Dear Miss Feeley: Eight years ago my father gave me $3,000 in E bonds with his name and mine on them as joint owners. He died four years ago. It won't be too long before they reach the 10-year maturity value, and I'm wondering what I should do about them. I'm not in need of the money at this time. Please advise me.

V.N., East Coast

Dear V. N.: I suggest you have these bonds reissued in your name or, as the formal wording puts it: "In the name of the survivor alone or in the name of survivor with another person as co-owner or beneficiary."

You will be asked to provide evidence of your father's death, either a certified copy of the death certificate or other evidence. An officer of your bank will provide a form — PD 1787 — which, when filled out, will be sent along with your bonds to the Treasury Department.

Then you'll receive the reissues made out in your own name.

The bridegroom is the son of the Robert C. Howeys of Snow Apple Drive, Independence Township.

'Cosmetics' Aid Corporate Image

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—A big corporation, says Joe Selame, is like a girl. It helps if it's pretty. Selame's field is visual communications: He starts dressing up a business by giving it a trademark and carrying the design to the corporation's stationary, packages, signs, trucks, uniforms and into its building design.

"In that way," Selame said, "the public comes to think of a pleasing design. The lines are simple and bold. The colors are bright. This becomes their image."

It Only Proves---Dawdler Digs Dad

By BETTY CANARY

How does a dawdler do it? Slow down, that is, to exactly the point which guarantees a parent's blowing up?

Never would I infer such a child brings a parent to this stage with malice aforethought. No, I believe there must be some sort of timer pulsing away inside him.

Vaguely, I can remember something a teacher tried to show me about heat in an electric wire, and ratio was the word. One thing he emblazoned on my brain was wattage equals volts times amps. Then there was, "Temperature increases as the wattage increases." All this to help me understand what makes an iron heat up.

If only I had mastered this, I am sure a theory of mine would really make it with parents of dawdlers. I believe there is some sort of inverse ratio at work here. As the dawdler's wattage goes down, the parent's temperature goes up.

STILL IN CONTROL

From the time father first calls cheerfully, "Time for bed, son!" to the moment, 45 minutes later, when he is, although still snarlingly in control bellowing. "Tomorrow night you start an hour earlier!" the child's wattage is decreasing.

Some would say the child is engaging in some first - class torture, especially when he meets a parent's rage with sweet reason.

When, at 10 o'clock, he suddenly remembers his history assignment, he explains, calmly, that he forgot it and he knows you want him to keep up the old grades. What he leaves UNSAID is that he knows you don't dare tell him he should not forget. Because, what he has not forgotten is your lost raincoat and those two trips mother made to your office with your briefcase last month.

★ ★ ★

His answer to the inevitable, "What are you doing NOW?" is, "Brushing my teeth." His tone infers you want his teeth to rot, which is stupid because you have spent all that money on braces.

Others say the dawdling child is resisting parental authority. "Ignore him," those experts say. This newspaper will not print what parents say to such experts.

We must consider that the child wants to hear a father's anguished cries, just to know he is there and caring. Oh, I have just remembered another formula. "Resistance is measured in ohms." I wonder if that word should be "groans"?

A Tree Pantry for Picnic Meals

If you're entertaining outdoors, tie a clean carpenter's apron with several large pockets around the tree nearest the serving area. Store the silverware, napkins, straws and other kitchen utensils in the large pockets until you're ready to use them.

And when the meal is over, throw the silverware and other assorted utensils back into the apron pockets — it's a quick way of separating them before washing.

Avoid Green Potatoes

When you buy potatoes, avoid those that have green spots. These potatoes are likely to have a bitter taste.

Feb. 16 vows are planned by Pamela Mae Mulanix and Thomas F. Doyan. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mulanix of South Cass Lake Road and the John Doyans also of South Cass Lake Road.

To remove film from the inside of a vase, try washing in a solution of ammonia and water or tea leaves and vinegar.

Expert Slates a Talk Tonight

Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, director of children's services for the Waterford Township School System, will speak on "Special Children" this evening.

Sponsored by the Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School Parents, the meeting will take place at 8:30 p.m. in the Lakewood Drive home of the Water Laugerquists.

Congress Calendar Cut Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress spends about $25,000 a year to have calendars printed, some of which are mailed to the folks back home.

It's a practice that has been going on for 20 years or more but at an increasing pace.

Under a new system of limited free distribution put into effect in the House this year, the money outlay could be reduced.

★ ★ ★

The calendars, mounted on heavy cardboard, carry pictures of the Capitol with views from the House and Senate wings. Tear-off monthly calendars are mounted below. The over-all sizes range from 12 by 18 inches to 9 by 9 inches.

TWO VERSIONS

Clearly visible are the words "United States Senate" or "House of Representatives" on their different versions of the calendar.

★ ★ ★

The new House policy allots 100 calendars free to each of its 435 members if they request them—or a total of 43,500. The members then have to pay for anything over that number at the rate of 40 cents each, the amount charged for the work by the Government Printing Office.

★ ★ ★

This all depends on their availability. The House ordered 55,000 this year. The free allotment would leave a stock of 11,500, but House committees also receive a small number free. They are not for sale to the public.

★ ★ ★

In the past each House member got an allotment of 10 free and could ask for more. There was no imposed limit and no provision for members buying the additional calendars. They reportedly were handed out on request in bunches of up to 100 or more.

SENATE ORDERS

The annual order for large calendars in the senate ranges from 8,000 to 8,500 while about 1,500 small ones are purchased from the Government Printing Office.

★ ★ ★

Senators get four large calendars and two small ones free. Other free distribution is made to Senate employes. The small Senate calendars carry no picture of the Capitol.

Film Censorship Clarification Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Distributors of movies banned in Chicago and restricted in Dallas are asking the Supreme Court to tighten guidelines this year on city film censorship.

The Dallas distributor says bans should be limited to films found obscene under tests already set by the Supreme Court —and contends Dallas' standards are unconstitutionally vague and ambiguous.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago distributor says that city's appeal procedure is so time-consuming that films can be arbitrarily kept out of theaters "beyond any permissible constitutional limits."

The Chicago firm, Teitel Film Corp., also claims an Illinois court improperly ruled "Rent-a-Girl" and "Body of a Female" obscene on grounds they are calculated to arouse sexual desire.

'NO TEST'

Teitel argues the Supreme Court already has held that sexual arousal is not a test of obscenity.

The court will hear the Dallas case—and is expected to decide whether to accept the Chicago case—shortly after it reconvenes Jan. 15.

★ ★ ★

Neither case challenges the constitutionality of film censorship itself. That appeared to be upheld, with restraints, in the court's Freedman vs. Maryland decision in 1965.

But they ask further guidelines on just what an obscene film is and how long a city can keep a questionable picture out of theaters through appeal procedures.

Interstate Circuit, Inc., joined by United Artists Corp., contends Dallas was unconstitutionally vague when it restricted the Brigitte Bardot film "Viva Maria" on grounds of sexual promiscuity.

Interstate says film censorship should be permitted only under Supreme Court tests that material is obscene when:

- Its dominant theme, applying contemporary moral standards, appeals to the prurient interest.
- It has no redeeming social importance.
- It patently affronts current community standards of decency.

The Dallas Motion Picture Classification Board particularly objected to a sequence in "Viva Maria" in which Miss Bardot writes the name of a different man on her bedroom wall each morning.

The board classified the film as unsuitable for persons under age 16. It contends it does not censor films—simply classifies them—and therefore does not violate constitutional guarantees of free expression.

New U-M President Says Protests Require Understanding

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming said yesterday that if any major demonstration occurs on the campus it will be handled "as the situation arises."

Fleming, who assumed office on New Year's Day, made his comment to newsmen in outlining his program for the future of the university, its policies and prospects.

"We have been very fortunate in never having had a major demonstration," Fleming said. "There are basic freedoms involved," he added, "and we cannot have a tyranny of either the majority or the minority."

★ ★ ★

GREAT EMOTIONS

Many campuses around the nation have been disrupted by demonstrators protesting the Vietnam war and other major issues.

Fleming said there are great emotions involved in such demonstrations and they "need a high degree of understanding."

★ ★ ★

Such situations, he said, would be handled if and when they arise.

The 51-year-old Fleming left his post as chancellor at the University of Wisconsin to become the U-M's ninth president.

Asked for his views on intercollegiate athletics, Fleming said he felt they make a "real contribution."

"Intercollegiate athletics do have something to say about the morale of the university," he said.

★ ★ ★

Fleming said he hoped the U-M would have great teams "in the same way I hope that our academic program is great and of high quality."

Fleming opened the news conference by listing what he said were some of the major problems facing the university.

FINANCIAL NEEDS

These included what he said were the enormous financial needs of higher education, preservation of the university community, redefinition of the role of students and the need for a building program to avert a lack of facilities.

"How the great need of higher education can be fulfilled at a time when there are other very important competing demands for the tax dollar and for the private philanthropic dollar is a major challenge to all of us in the educational world," Fleming declared.

Speaking of a university community, Fleming said a great social tension exists because of deeply felt differences over such fundamental issues as war and race.

"A major job of every university president," he said, "is to preserve the community without destroying the funamental values which are an essential part of it."

ROLE OF STUDENTS

The new president said the role of students in the academic community needs redefinition. He said many of the traditional approaches to student affairs must now be altered, and that the problem would be tackled early in his administration.

Fleming said the single most important problem facing the university is a financial one. He said this is the No. 1 problem that worries all universities.

As the university grows, he said, it will need substantially higher appropriations—"that is a fact of life we must face; our problem is to try to convince the people how great our problems are."

HEW Tightens Vehicle Pollution Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is proposing tighter air pollution controls for 1970 model automobiles, trucks and buses and diesel trucks than prescribed last year.

★ ★ ★

Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) acted yesterday under the 1965 Clean Air Act to require a one-third reduction in the amount of auto exhaust pollutants permitted for 1968 model cars.

HEW will hear comments for 30 days and then set final standards.

Under the proposed requirements, cars and trucks would have to control 90 per cent of the evaporation of hydrocarbons from gas tanks and carburetors.

Smoke from diesel trucks would be limited to a faint plume of smoke. Gasoline-powered trucks and buses would have to control 35 per cent of hydrocarbons and 37 per cent of carbon monoxide in their exhausts.

CRANKCASE FUMES

Left unchanged was a 1968-69 standard requiring total elimination of engine crankcase fumes from automobiles.

★ ★ ★

HEW said extensive research has shown that automotive smog contributes to eye and throat irritations and probably to major respiratory diseases.

Youth's Need for Blood Ends

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For 18 years Frank A. Frank Jr. lived on donated blood. He was the victim of Cooley's Anemia. His body didn't produce red cells fast enough.

Every few weeks he went to a hospital for three pints of blood. He was getting along well. He was a freshman at the college of San Mateo.

He died Tuesday in an auto accident.

Arraignment Delay in DeConick Case

The arraignment of a Pontiac man charge with conspiracy to commit armed robbery in connection with the murder of a West Bloomfield Township trustee was postponed yesterday for one week.

★ ★ ★

Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield was returned to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond after his attorney, Milton R. Henry, failed to appear at the hearing.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams denied a request of Asst. Prosecutor Bruce T. Leitman to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of Henry.

Pratt is accused of being one of the four assailants who entered the West Bloomfield Township home of Trustee Edward E. DeConick July 3.

DeConick, 63, was fatally shot, and his sister, Kathleen, 73, seriously wounded and beaten.

Golf Club Victim

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Marc Haskell, 14, was reported recovering today from an operation to remove a golf club head imbedded in his skull. He was hurt when he walked in front of his brother, who was practicing golf swings in the back yard of their home.

U.S. inventors file nearly 100,000 patent applications a year.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

President Johnson took his wife and daughter and son-in-law, Luci and Patrick Nugent, to see one of his favorite shows—"Hello, Dolly" last night.

JOHNSON

The road show production in Austin, Tex., 65 miles from the LBJ Ranch, starred Dorothy Lamour.

Addressing the President and his companions from the stage, Miss Lamour said: "I appreciate the standing ovation of the audience but when I saw you there, Mr. President, that is the greatest honor I ever hope to have in my life."

There was further applause when she mentioned that she has an 18-year-old son in the Marines.

She ended her remarks by throwing President Johnson a kiss and telling him, "My prayers are with you, Mr. President. Thank you for the beautiful job you are doing for our country."

Johnson has seen a number of performances of "Hello, Dolly" which first starred Carol Channing on Broadway. The hit tune from the show became his 1964 campaign song, "Hello, Lyndon."

Famed Violinist to Quit School Post

Efrem Zimbalist Sr. said yesterday he plans to quit in May as director of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

The world-famous 78-year-old violinist has been associated with the Philadelphia school for 39 years and has been its director since 1941.

Zimbalist is the father of TV and film star Efrem Zimbalist Jr.

Self-Styled Patrolman Taken Off Beat

Donald Lane looked like a detective, police say, sitting in his unmarked car complete with two-way radio, shotgun, red light and siren. Even twin aerials were mounted on it.

Lane, a 22-year-old bachelor, drove a lonely patrol through metropolitan Los Angeles for a least a year, police said today—until his arrest.

When he went to a garage Tuesday to pick up his "squad car," real police booked Lane on forgery charges resulting from a false order for badges for the Covina Police Department. He later was released on bond.

Police said Lane made use of police radio bands, picking up the call numbers of an undercover unit not on duty, and carried on brief conversations with other units but never caused trouble "as far as we know."

Actress Wins Divorce From Winery Heir

Actress Gigi Perreau has won an uncontested divorce in Los Angeles from her husband, E. Frank Gallo, heir to a California winery fortune, after testifying that he belittled her in front of others.

"He said he didn't love me and didn't even like me and became engrossed in his business and would exclude me and our two children from his life," she said.

Miss Perreau, 25, and Gallo, 42, a stockbroker, were married Oct. 1, 1960—the first marriage for both—and separated last Sept. 3.

Miss Perreau, who starred in the television series, "Follow the Sun," was awarded custody of Gina, 4 and Robert, 2, the family's Hollywood Hills home, $700 alimony and $300 child support monthly.

AEC Suspects China 'H-Dud'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Christmas Eve explosion in Communist China may have been the nuclear "trigger" of a "dud H-Bomb," according to official sources.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which reported the Dec. 24 Chinese test, disclosed yesterday that the explosive contained materials normally used in hydrogen bombs.

But its energy yield, according to the AEC, was less than 20 kilotons — the equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT. A Chinese H-bomb explosion last June was estimated the equivalent of two to seven million tons of TNT.

China has never acknowledged the Christmas Eve test leading expert observers to believe the test was a failure. The blast was plainly detected by U.S. monitoring systems.

★ ★ ★

This speculation was supported by the latest AEC report which said preliminary analysis of atmospheric debris from the explosion indicated the test device contained uranium-235 plus uranium-238 and lithium-6 — but no plutonium.

DUD POSSIBILITY

Since the test device contained H-bomb materials but was of low yield, one official source suggested it was a "dud H-bomb."

U235 is a fissionable material which can be used either as the prime charge of an A-bomb or the trigger of an H-bomb.

U.S. Stops Short on $100-Million British Arms Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — It appears the United States has stopped short of any ironclad agreement to buy an additional $100 million in arms and equipment from Britain.

★ ★ ★

What this country did was give the Britsh a chance to bid for more orders—in competition with U.S. firms seeking the business.

This became evident in the wake of a Defense Department announcement Monday that it had agreed to add $100 million to "the target" of $725 million in purchases from British manufacturers.

NEW CONTRACTS?

Asked what kinds of equipment the British are likely to sell to the United States, and whether there is a prospect for big new arms contracts for British firms, the Pentagon replied: "While there is no guarantee that the British will obtain the orders, they will be able to bid competitively on such items as ships, electronic equipment, ammunition, communications equipment, aircraft, aircraft engines, tires, etc."

The opportunity to bid competitively can be something less than a blessing, as shown by a recent case involving proposed contruction of nine U.S. Navy minesweepers.

The British defense ministry registered the third lowest of four bids submittd.

When the Navy opened the bids, the British bid of $55 million for the whole package was found to be more than $5 million higher than offers made by two American shipbuilders.

NOT AWARDED

The contract for the minesweepers has not yet been awarded. Whether or not Britain will be selected to build the vessels, even though it did not submit the low bid, remains an open question.

The U.S. agreement tentatively earmarking $825 million in arms purchases from Britain is in the nature of an offset for $2.88 billion in U.S.-made arms, aircraft and other military equipment purchased by Britain.

The Spanish Civil War erupted in 1936 and ended in 1939.

Sen. Dirksen Is 72 Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett McKinley Dirksen, one of the most entertaining public figures since W. C. Fields, celebrated his 72nd birthday today.

President Johnson, for whom Dirksen has shouldered many a burden, was certain to telephone or wire birthday greetings to one of his closest friends on Capitol Hill.

Dirksen, who rang in the new year as grand marshal of the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, Calif., was celebrating his birthday in the old home town of Pekin, Ill., where he was born Jan. 4, 1896.

About 30 couples planned to give a small birthday party tonight at the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria for the Senate's silver-tongued orator.

Dirksen is not expected back in Washington until shortly before Congress returns to work Jan. 15.

★ ★ ★

By that time, the birthday will be just another milestone and, in more ways than one, the bloom will be off the rose. Dirksen must face a variety of problems as a leader of the opposition party in a presidential election year.

Pontiac Trooper Is Cited for Bogus Check Probe

A Michigan State Police trooper stationed at the Pontiac post was one of seven officers recently cited for meritorious service, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director, announced yesterday.

BEADLE

Robert L. Beadle, 31, who has been assigned to the Pontiac post since July 10, 1966, was honored for his successful investigation early last year of a fraudulent check case in Oakland County.

His lengthy investigation led to the arrest of a woman who, subsequently, admitted passing 34 bogus checks which included the defrauding of eight business establishments of $1,573.13 over a two-year period.

Beadle joined the State Police Sept. 28, 1964, and was assigned to the Clinton post after his graduaton from recruit training school. He came to the Pontiac post from Clinton.

★ ★ ★

Among 11 State Police officers gaining honorable mention recognition was Detective Kenneth C. Ruonavaara of the Romeo post.

Ruonavaara and two other detectives conducted an intensive investigation following a series of barn fires last May in the Romeo and Almont areas.

State Police officials said the investigation led to the arrest of 12 persons on arson charges and confessions of setting six fires.

The investigation disclosed three separate groups were setting fires in four counties.

★ ★ ★

A citizen's meritorious citation was awarded to Steve J. Webber, 24, a Trenary construction worker, for his alertness and assistance in the pursuit and capture of two burglary suspects in Trenary last September.

The arrests, subsequently, solved several other burglaries in Alger and Menominee counties.

Trooper Arrests

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police report they made 21,956 arrests in November, assisted 4,810 motorists, investigated 9,688 cars and issued 23,316 oral warnings to motorists. State Police cars traveled 1.83 million miles during the month, 1.07 million on traffic patrol.

Flu Outbreaks Shut Schools Across U.S.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Schools were closed and hospital visitors banned or severely restricted today in some parts of the nation gripped by Asian flu.

The worst-hit areas appeared to be Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahome, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

Schools in at least nine Louisiana parishes (counties) were closed because of flu outbreaks and many other schools reported high absenteeism among students.

In St. Charles Parish, one school reported 11 of 18 teachers sick.

★ ★ ★

Student absenteeism also was high in upstate New York. Dr. John Lyons of the Albany County Health Commission said a spot check Wednesday showed a "rather significant" amount of absentees in schools and industries, possibly indicating the "onset of an influenza" outbreak.

OKLAHOMA CITY

Mrs. Mary Jones, nursing supervisor for Oklahoma City schools, said absenteeism was up to about 30 per cent of total enrollment.

GOP Observers See Taft in Ohio Governor's Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans say the decision by Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr. not to seek Sen. Frank J. Lausche's Senate seat could mean Taft will run for Ohio's governorship in 1970.

Republican Taft's announcement that he won't contest the GOP nomination to oppose Lausche obviously took a load off the mind of the Ohio Democrat, who probably will face a stiff fight in his own party's primary May 7.

★ ★ ★

"I presume that Taft's decision was made after a careful survey of the situation in Ohio," Lausche said in an interview Wednesday. "I am gratified that he decided not to run."

Lausche said he does not expect Gov. James A. Rhodes to become a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination. He added he has no idea about the likely GOP nominee.

FIRM REJECTION

Some Republican leaders had hoped to interest Rhodes in running for the Senate this year, but the governor is reported to have fimly rejected that idea.

Rhodes is serving his final four-year term as state executive and the thinking is that he prefers to take on Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, two years from now.

Taft's decision not to contest Lausche or any other Democratic nominee this year could leave him the choice in 1970 of bucking Rhodes, an acknowledged statewide vote getter, for the GOP senatorial nomination or seeking some other office.

Taft could run for reelection to the House then, as he plans to do this year. But those who know him well say his ambition is to follw his late father to the Senate.

DETOUR POSSIBLE

They say this could involve a detour, with Taft seeking the governorship in 1970 as a possible prelude to a later senatorial race.

The late Robert A. Taft got his political seasoning in the Ohio Legislature, serving five years in the house and two in the state senate before he was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1938 at age 49.

★ ★ ★

Robert Taft Jr., now 50, served six years in the state legislature and is in his second term in Congress after having been defeated for the Senate by Young in the 1964 Democratic landslide.

New York Subway Riders Put on Token Rationing

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City subway straphanger, fresh from weeks of worry over the threat of a transit strike, has new cause for concern. He's been put on rationing—for subway tokens.

★ ★ ★

"Two Tokens Only Per Person. Sorry." read the hand-lettered sign on a subway change booth at Grand Central Station. Inside a clerk politely refused a pretty secretary's request for 50 of the 20-cent tokens.

★ ★ ★

"What's the matter, isn't my money good," she demanded, unsure of the new policy. "Your money's good, but two to a customer is all that is allowed," the clerk replied.

He repeated the explanation given by Transit Authority member John J. Gilhooley who warned Wednesday that hoarding of the half-inch round tokens which operate the turnstiles was creating "a serious problem."

★ ★ ★

Thousands of subway riders have been saving the tokens in anticipation of a fare increase as a result of the new contract agreed upon recently for Transit Authority employes.

Man to Stand Trial on Kidnap, Rape Charges

A 26-year-old Flint man was ordered yesterday to stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court on charges of kidnaping and rape.

No trial date was scheduled, however, for Don C. Olmsted, who stood mute to the charges at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

★ ★ ★

Olmsted, who is free on $10,000 bond, was charge following his arrest Dec. 5 at an area motel, where he had taken his 24-year-old former girlfriend.

He reportedly used a gun to force the woman to accompany him.

LBJ Failure to Ask '66 Tax Hike 'Top Business Blunder'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan survey indicates that businessmen believe the biggest business mistake of 1966 was President Johnson's failure to ask for a tax increase that year.

Some 2,000 businessmen who took part in the survey were asked to list what they felt were the five "business blunders" of 1966.

Results of the survey, taken a year ago, were released this week.

"We waited to see whether the answers would be valid after a year of developments," explained Prof. David Lewis, who conducted the survey for the Bureau of Industrial Relations of the university's Graduate School of Business Administration.

'EXCELLENT PROPHETS'

"It is clear now," said Lewis, "that the 2,000 businessmen were excellent prophets."

Two of the top five "business blunders" listed by the respondents concerned the auto industry.

After Johnson's refusal to ask for a tax increase, the "blunder" cited most often was the wage settlement between the airlines and their mechanics.

★ ★ ★

Next came the investigation by General Motors Corp. of auto critic Ralph Nader, the auto industry's general handling of the safety issue and Douglas Aircraft's bungling of its financial affairs.

As foreseen by many of the businessmen who participated in the survey, one result of the President's delay in asking for a tax boost in 1966 was an inflationary spiral during 1967.

WAGE BOOST

The second biggest mistake was the 5 per cent wage boost awarded by the major airlines to the International Association of Machinists, according to the businessmen surveyed. The settlement was granted despite the administration's guideposts of 3.2 per cent suggested annual wage increases.

The third biggest mistake was GM's investigation of Nader which ended in an apology to the auto critic by the company president before a congressional committee. The probe dealt with Nader's private life as well as his crusading activities.

The fourth biggest mistake was related to the third—the auto industry's handling of the safety issue from start to finish.

In the view of survey participants, the industry virtually invited regulation by failing to respond to public and congressional pressure for improved safety design. Until 1966, the auto industry was the only unregulated transportation business.

Listed as the fifth mistake was Douglas Aircrafts' failure to maintain sound cost controls. Despite a $3-billion backlog of orders in late 1966, the firm lost $27.5 million and needed $350 million to remain solvent.

★ ★ ★

The company was merged into the McDonnell-Douglas Corp. last January after McDonnell Aircraft acquired financial control.

'68 Approval Likely for VA Pension Hikes

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Newsfeature

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed in the final go-home rush of Congress was House passage of a major overhaul of the Veterans Administration pension system. And the Senate seems likely to approve the bill in similar form next year.

BAULCH

It would increase monthly payments for nearly 1.5 million pensioners now on the VA rolls and make eligible for the first time 10,000 newcomers by raising the maximum annual income eligibility requirements.

Included in the raises would be nearly everyone who is eligible for nonservice connected pension — veterans, widows, dependents — and for service-connected dependency and indemnity of parents.

Those still under the pre-1960 VA pension plan were left out of the 1967 pension increase but they would be included in this new system.

In answer to the constant cries for raising the annual income level that determines if a person is eligible if he otherwise qualifies, the bill would jump this by $100 in some categories and $200 in others. Current maximums range from $600 to $3,000.

The most revolutionary change — and a potential major paperwork headache for the Veterans Administration — would do away with the current three plateaus of annual income (five in dependent parent DIC categories) in determining how much pension a person is paid by the VA.

★ ★ ★

For instance, a veteran with a wife at present receives $109 a month no matter where between zero and $1,000 his income hits; he gets $85 if his income is anywhere between $1,000 and $2,000; $50 anywhere between $2,000 and $3,000; nothing with income above that.

WOULD BE CHANGED

That would be changed by the House bill in this fashion. Step-ups or step-downs in pension benefits would be geared to each $100 change in annual income — which would mean as low as a $2 loss or gain, no higher than $8 — rather than the startling $15 to $50 change in income that can occur now.

As many as 28 income limit levels would replace the present three in one category of pensions.

There would be no general increase in pensions, as such, but an adjustment. However, the rates for those in the lowest brackets would go up $4 to $11 a month. And for about 248,000 on the borders of the present plateaus there could be no change.

Pay Hike Bonuses

The pay raise Congress voted for the military services contains some extra Christmas tree stocking goodies for short-termers not provided quarters, for career bachelors and some hard-to-keep medical specialists.

Of course, they also get the 5.6 per cent pay increase in base pay retroactive to Oct. 1, like alll other men and women in service.

Men in the lowest four grades — in the Army, these are recruits, privates and corporals with less than four years' service — who are not provided quarters get about 9 per cent cost-of-living increases in their quarters allowance.

Most of these 270,000 are first-term enlistees or draftees with one or two dependents, who come into service mainly because of Vietnam.

The biggest group is the 73,000 privates first class with one dependent, who were raised from $55.20 to $60 a month. The same amount went to 50,000 corporals.

The raises range from $4.80 a month to $7.50, but there is no increase in the $105 maximum for a man with three or more dependents.

The break for bachelors in the pay bill will go to those in grade E4 — corporals — with four years of service or higher when they're transferred to a new post. No longer will they lose their quarters allowance between permanent changes of station.

Also, a bachelor moving to a new post where government quarters are not furnished will get a dislocation allowance like men with dependents, equal to one month's basic quarters allowance.

The military services were allowed to offer a bonus of up to four months base pay for each year that selected hard-to-get doctors in critical specialties agree to stay in service beyond their obligated duty. A suggestion to include dentists was turned down by the Pentagon, which said the shortage of these isn't so drastic.

In addition, there's a provision for the government to pay the fare home for men wounded in Vietnam, going home to convalesce.

Ice Slips Glazed Belt on U. S. Midsection

By the Associated Press

Severe cold—some of the worst of the season—numbed the northern Plains today while freezing drizzle again glazed the country from Oklahoma to the Appalachians.

The latest in a rapid succession of arctic cold snaps pushed the mercury down to 33 below zero at Williston, in western North Dakota, before dawn. The Weather Bureau indicated readings lower than 40 below were likely.

The new polar invasion was expected to overspread the entire Midwest by Friday.

Driving remained hazardous for residents of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee as the result of an onslaught of freezing drizzle, sleet and light snow which has plagued the region since New Year's Day.

SNOW WARNINGS

Heavy snow warnings were issued for states east of the ice storm belt. The Weather Bureau forecast accumulations of more than 4 inches for mountain sections of the Virginias and Maryland, already coated with ice after Wednesday's sleet and freezing rain.

The Christmas - New Year's holiday continued for many school children in Oklahoma, Kentucky and Tennessee due to ice-coated highways which perlled bus and auto traffic. Kentucky officials reported at least 22 county school systems shut down. Several county school systems also remained closed for the third day in Tennessee, including Nashville.

Business places in some communities in middle Tennessee cut off some work shifts Wednesday due to the ice storm.

Kentucky State Police posted hazardous driving warnings throughout their state and closed down more than 135 miles of U.S. 31W to and from Bowling Green Wednesday night due to severe icing. Three highways out of the city were blocked by jackknifed tractor-trailer trucks. An added hazard was a forecast of an inch of snow with incoming cold weather.

Rain soaked many portions of the Southeast south of the icy belt and ranked northward into southeastern Pennsylvania. Fog blanketed some sections before daybreak.

Florida residents, and vacationers, enjoyed more readings in the 70s with clear skies. Key West reported an overnight low of 76 degrees.

Heavy fog which has shrouded the San Joaquin Valley, in California, produced a series of pileups on U.S. 99 on Wednesday and 10 persons were injured.

Unseasonably low temperatures chilled northern and central California, ranging into the middle 20s.

Some other reports and conditions: Boston 23 clear, New York 34 snow, Philadelphia 33 rain, Washington 34 rain, Atlanta 49 rain, Miami 67 clear, Detroit 15 cloudy, Chicago 2 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul —1 snow, St. Louis 18 cloudy, Kansas City 12 clear, Dallas 34 rain, Denver 13 clear, Phoenix 39 clear, Los Angeles 52 clear, San Francisco 41 clear, Seattle 38 cloudy, Anchorage 21 partly cloudy, Honolulu 72 cloudy.

New Defenses for Secretaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, hub of a military power called the greatest in world history, is setting up new defenses for secretaries who work late there.

Although not citing any specific cases of attacks on women workers—except for one attempted recently just outside the 580-acre Pentagon grounds—the Defense Department has:

- Established a special shuttle bus service described as intended "to assist in providing for the safety of female employes during hours of darkness." Government buses begin before dawn and continue until 10 p.m. shuttling women workers from the massive building to outlying parking lots.
- Made it possible for secretaries to call the Pentagon motor pool after 10 p.m. and be driven to their cars by a chaufferred government car.

FUTURE PLANS

Future plans, said officials, call for installing lights to break the nearly unrelieved darkness around the Pentagon and establishing mobile patrols of the main parking lots.

About 27,000 people, at least half of them women, work at the Pentagon weekdays.

Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles Cut Costs

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodles are favorite foods for extending recipes. With only a small amount of protein, you can have a tasty main dish if you use a stretcher. Most of these dishes will freeze well too.

It is well to remember that when you are going to freeze a casserole containing pasta, it should be slightly undercooked. The baking at the time of serving will finish the process and you won't have a mushy product.

Two casseroles can be prepared almost as quickly as one. And what marvelous insurance it is to have an extra main dish tucked away in the freezer!

Of course, this generously scaled recipe will come in handy for the homemaker who wants a large quantity to serve immediately, too.

TWICE AROUND MACARONI-AND-CHEESE

- 2 tablespoons salt
- 4 to 6 quarts boiling water
- 4 cups elbow macaroni (1 pound)
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 6 tablespoons flour
- 6 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons salt*
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire
- 4½ cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese

Add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, cook onion in butter until crisp-tender. Quickly stir in flour. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly; add seasonings. Cook stirring, until sauce boils 1 minute.

Stir in 4 cups of the cheese; continue stirring until cheese melts. Remove from heat; combine with macaroni. Makes 8 servings.

★ ★ ★

To serve immediately: Turn one-half of the macaroni-cheese mixture into 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with remaining ½ cup cheese. Bake in 400 degree (hot) oven 20 minutes or until bubbling and lightly browned. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

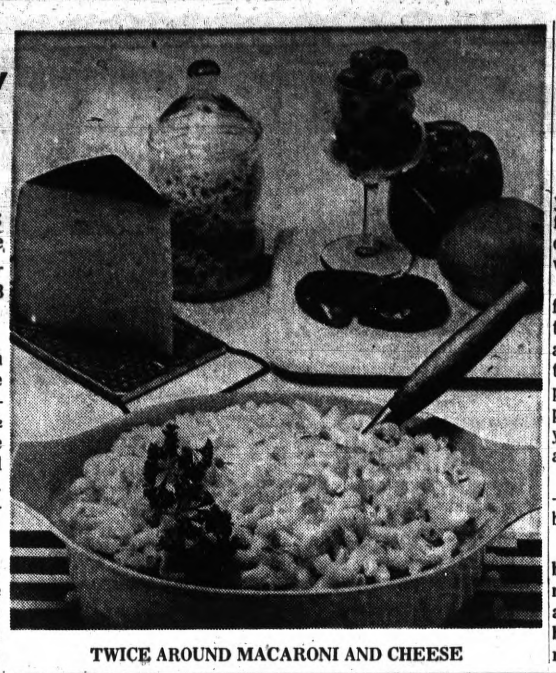
★ ★ ★

To freeze and serve later: Cool remaining macaroni-cheese mixture quickly. Turn into 1½ quart casserole lined with heavy duty foil (allowing extra foil for fold). Seal with double fold. Freeze, then remove casserole.

When ready for use, remove from foil; replace in casserole. Coved. Bake in 375 degree (moderate) oven 1 hour. Uncover, sprinkle with ½ cup grated cheese or 2 tablespoons seasoned bread crumbs.

Continue baking uncovered 30 minutes, or until bubbling hot.

*Salt losses flavor on freezing; increase salt to taste for freezer casserole.



TWICE AROUND MACARONI AND CHEESE

Pantry Shelf Is Source of Stew

Make a quick oven stew from pantry shelf ingredients. In 1-quart casserole combine 1 can (1 pound) potatoes, drained; 1 can (1 pound) mixed vegetables, drained; and 1 can (12 ounces) roast beef, sliced.

★ ★ ★

Mix juices drained from roast beef with 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon garlic salt and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; pour over meat and vegetables, mixing gently. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until bubbly.

You Too, Can Prepare Noodles Like Alfredo

If you've ever been to Rome, you've probably enjoyed the famous Fettuccine Alfredo, at one of the two restaurants which feature the dish.

You can find Fettuccine Alfredo in American restaurants, too, but you'll find it is not an inexpensive dish. The best thing to do is to learn how to prepare the dish yourself and provide an elegant meal for your friends. The ingredients are few, the method simple.

But — and do take warning —the proper procedure must be followed meticulously.

The dish must be hot. The butter must be softened. The noodles must be freshly cooked and still hot. The cheese should be freshly grated. The cream must be at room temperature.

NOODLES ALFREDO

- ¼ cup salt
- 8 to 12 quarts boiling water
- 2 pounds medium egg noodles (about 16 cups)
- 1 pound sweet butter, softened
- 4 cups grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 cup heavy cream, at room temperature

Add ¼ cup salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Place butter in hot 4-quart casserole; add noodles and toss gently. Add cheese and toss again. Pour in cream; toss. Sprinkle with freshly ground pepper, if desired. Makes 12-16 servings.

NOODLES ALFREDO

Hearty Salad Is Full of Bows

Macaroni salad isn't new, but this version is different. Containing mushrooms and green beans, it is hearty enough for a main course when you're having a meatless meal.

BUTTONS AND BOWS SALAD

- 4 ounces bow-shaped macaroni
- 3-ounce can broiled mushrooms
- 1 cup cooked green beans
- ¼ cup well-seasoned French dressing
- ½ cup sliced radishes
- 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon chili sauce
- ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Cook macaroni with a clove of garlic in boiling salted water until barely tender, then drain well.

Drain mushrooms, reserving broth for some future use in gravy or soup. Combine drained macaroni and mushrooms in suitable container. Add beans and French dressing. Toss lightly to mix well. Cover and chill thoroughly.

When ready to serve, drain off any excess French dressing. Add radishes and celery. Blend together and lightly mix in the mayonnaise, chili sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Add more salt if necessary.

★ ★ ★

Serve immediately with crisp salad greens. Yield: 4 generous servings.

LUNCH BOX BEEF AND NOODLES

Send Beef-Noodle Dish in Lunchbox

Nourishing egg noodles mixed with a savory ground beef sauce are a welcome relief from a series of cold sandwiches in the lunchbox.

The meat sauce can be cooked up the night before, refrigerated and then reheated in the morning. The egg noodles are best freshly cooked, but that takes only a few minutes.

Then mix the two and pack in a wide mouth vacuum bottle which has been rinsed with hot water.

LUNCH BOX BEEF AND NOODLES

- 1 pound ground beef
- 4 slices bacon, diced
- 1 small onion chopped
- 1 clove garlic, halved
- 3 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
- ⅓ Cup chopped dill pickle
- ¼ to ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon oregano
- Dash pepper
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, brown beef in skillet, stirring frequently; drain on paper towels. Saute bacon, onion and garlic until lightly browned; discard garlic. Stir in beef and remaining ingredients. Cover and cook slowly 10 minutes.

Mix with noodles. Serve with Parmesan cheese, if desired.

For lunch box, pack in wide mouth vacuum bottle. Makes 4 servings.

Cookie Dough Tops Apple Pie

Next time you bake an apple pie prepare for the bottom shell only. For a scrumptious new top crust just crumble half a package of refrigerated, lemon-flavored cookie dough with ½ cup chopped California walnuts; sprinkle this over the pie filling and bake as usual.

A 15-ounce can of condensed (sweetened) milk yields 1⅓ cups.

Ever add lots of minced parsley to cornbread mix? Nice to serve with chicken or beef stew.

Oriental Meets Italian in This Dish

Make tonight's dinner festive by serving this spaghetti Chow Mein which flavorfully combines round steak, soy sauce, Chinese vegetables and mushrooms with spaghetti.

SPAGHETTI CHOW MEIN

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 pound round steak, cubed
- 2 cups beef bouillon
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 cups thinly sliced celery
- 1 cup sliced onions
- 1 1-pound jar Chinese vegetables
- 1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 ounces spaghetti

In a large saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat; add meat cubes and brown well. Add 1½ cups beef bouillon and soy sauce; cover and cook until meat is almost tender, about 20-25 minutes.

Combine cornstarch and remaining ½ cup beef bouillon; mix until smooth. Add cornstarch mixture to beef and stir until thickened and clear.

Add vegetables; cover and cook 15 minutes, or until meat and vegetables are tender. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Serve chow mein over piping hot spaghetti. Makes 4-6 servings.

Quaker Oats to Sell One Oatmeal

One of the nation's oldest brand name cereals came off grocery shelves this fall.

After more than 74 years as a breakfast institution, Mother's Oats is now sold under the Quaker Oats label. Mother's Premium Oats (offering in-the-box chinaware) will remain in regional markets.

What is perhaps most surprising to some — Quaker and Mother's Oats have been identical products since The Quaker Oats Company acquired the Mother's trademark in 1911. — For 56 years the company has packaged the same oatmeal under two labels. For marketing efficiency it has now converted the Mother's brand to the Quaker nane.

The two brands have an interesting history as major nineteenth century rivals in the milling industry.

The American Cereal Company, marketing Quaker Rolled White Oats in 1891, pioneered in product promotion, packaging and advertising. Its imitative competitor was the Great Western Cereal Company selling Mother's Oats.

By 1893 the companies had gone into serious brand name competition, and their packaged product rivalary taught grocers the advantages of label-and-package over bulk meal sales from barrels.

The Quaker Oats Company evolved from The American Cereal Company and took over the Mother's trademark. The brands were standardized and, according to one industrial historian, have grown to the extent that "an average of 8 million Americans ate a bowl of Quaker or Mother's Oats each day in 1965."

The same historian in fact notes that Quaker and Mother's Oats together supply more than half the total hot cereal marketing in the U.S.

Label conversion indicates a packaging change only. There is no change in cereal product.

PEAR WALDORF SALAD — Everyone loves a Waldorf Salad and they'll particularly like this variation made with fresh winter pears. A touch of curry in the dressing adds mysterious charm.

Winter Pears Are Good in Waldorf Salad

Famous Waldorf Salad takes on new character when made with fresh winter pears. The inviting flavor and juiciness of the pears combines with celery, walnuts, and grapes to create a refreshing salad for winter and early spring meals. A hint of curry gives a mystic touch to the dressing.

For added interest, try using more than one variety of pears in this variation of Waldorf salad. The types available through the winter months include Anjou, Bosc, and Comice.

- The Anjou has a yellowish-green skin and a spicy flavor, perfect for fresh eating as well as cooking.
- The Bosc is distinguished by a long, tapering neck and russet-colored skin, with a rich, sweet flavor.
- The Comice, with a greenish-yellow skin often having a crimson blush, is noted for its excellent fragrance and flavor.

Fresh Western pears are not only a favorite addition to salads, but they are perfect for fresh eating in lunches or as snacks. Baked with sugar and spice, they become a welcome breakfast fruit or dessert. No matter how they're served, fresh winter pears are a treat for appetites of all ages.

You'll usually find fresh Western pears ripe and ready to eat at your favorite market. Ripe pears yield to gentle pressure regardless of color. You can always buy firm pears with confidence. They'll ripen at home in a few days at room temperature, becoming sweet and juicy, the way you like them.

Pear Waldorf Salad

3 fresh winter pears
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sliced celery
½ cup broken walnuts
1 cup fresh grapes
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon curry powder
Romaine

Core and dice pears. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add celery, walnuts and grapes. Mix mayonnaise with curry powder and add to pears. Mix well and chill until serving time. Arrange in salad bowl lined with romaine. Makes 6 servings.

Cranberry Sauce So Easy to Make

Strangely, few homemakers seem to realize how easy it is to make and can cranberry sauce. This may be the reason it sells well at bazaars, and is gratefully received as a gift.

All you need do is select fresh, firm, bright red berries and, unless you have a pet recipe, follow the one printed on the package of berries. Maybe you would like to add a wee bit of ground all spice, cinnamon or some other spice, but use only enough to give the sauce a slightly teasing flavor.

When the sauce is ready, pour it boiling hot to within about ⅛ inch of top of jar; wipe off anything spilled on top or threads of jar. (One tiny seed can prevent sealing.) Put dome lid on jar; screw band or cap tight.

A pound package of dry red kidney beans yield about two cups. During cooking, of course, the beans swell.

CANDLELIGHT SPREAD — Combine one package (3 oz.) cream cheese, one can (4½ oz.) deviled ham and three tablespoons crushed pineapple. Chill. Turn mixture onto plate, form a large ball, and cover generously with chopped chives. Chill. Place small lighted candle in center of top. Serve with assorted crackers. Makes about 1 cup spread.

Little Used Rutabagas Help Give Pleasing Variety to Menus

Rutabagas, often called Swedish turnips, are a thrifty buy for the homemaker who wants interesting and wholesome food. Like turnips, which they resemble, they are a root vegetable.

Bacon-Rutabaga Pudding

1 cup diced fresh potatoes (about 1 medium)
2 cups diced rutabagas (about ¾ lb.)
1¼ teaspoons salt
4 slices crisp bacon
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ cup milk
1 egg
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion

Place potatoes and rutabagas in saucepan. Add boiling water to 1-inch depth in pan. Add salt. Bring to boil and cook, without a cover, 5 minutes. Cover and cook 20 minutes or until tender.

Drain vegetables, if necessary. Mash or beat them with an electric beater. Crumble bacon and add. Stir in bacon drippings, milk, egg, black pepper and sugar. Beat well.

Turn into a buttered 1-quart casserole. Dot top with butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 minutes. Six servings.

French Fried Rutabagas

1½ pounds fresh rutabagas
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons salt
½ inch fat in frying pan

Wash and peel rutabagas. Slice ¼-inch thick and cut into ½-inch strips. Place in a saucepan with the ½-inch boiling water and ½-teaspoon of the salt. Bring to boiling point. Cover and boil gently until crisp-tender. Drain well.

Beat egg with milk and dip rutabagas into egg mixture. Then dip into dry bread crumbs mixed with the 2 teaspoons salt. Fry until golden brown on both sides in hot fat (375 degrees) 2 to 3 minutes.

Drain on paper towels and serve hot. Six servings.

Fade-Out of Mao's Wife Hints at Waning Revolution

News Analysis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's fourth wife, Cihang Ching, has dropped from public view in Communist China. This, along with other developments, hints that the ferocity of the "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution" is on the wane.

Mao Tse-tung now is 74. If his grip on the reins of power loosens, and, at the same time, the cultural revolution gradually fades away, it is possible that moderate elements will command more influence, even to the point of making Peking more approachable by other nations.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Communist press is renewing an appeal to Mao's supporters to "wage struggle by reasoning and not by force." Official press comment suggests an effort is being made to restore some order to the educational system, disrupted since August 1966 by the cultural revolution movement which kept youngsters out of schools and turned them against their teachers.

The movement probably will continue in one form or another for some time. But a year and a half has been a long time even for the most fanatic to keep up a full head of steam.

'HEALTH IMPAIRED'

The failure of Mao's wife to appear at public functions could be significant. A Canton newspaper has said that "arduous struggle (in the cultural revolution) has impaired Comrade Chiang Ching's health." But Russian commentators brushed this aside as unlikely.

"Foreign observers," said a Moscow broadcast in Chinese to China last week, "feel that Chiang Ching's illness was due to outside pressure . . . What is interesting is that it was Chou En-lai who disclosed that Chiang Ching was ill."

★ ★ ★

Premier Chou is credited by some China-watchers with being a voice of moderation in the Mao camp. His conduct of government affairs, by his own account, has been seriously hampered by cultural revolution uproar.

★ ★ ★

Though holding the upper hand, the Mao faction by its own admission has failed to destroy its enemies. The official press still denounces "China's Khrushchev," but still cannot criticize President Liu Shao-chi by name. The Mao group may lack sufficient strength to call a party congress which could legally remove Liu from the chairmanship.

In propaganda and education, the outcome remains in doubt. The press admits many "renegades" remain in authority and "some have even regained ranking positions."

It would be no surprise, should Mao's influence slip, if the contending sides in the struggle reached some form of compromise.

★ ★ ★

Chiang Ching's fade-out could mean that some in high places, even in Mao's camp, have had enough of the former actress and her ambitions. The report of her illness fails to explain the fact that "the masses" are not being exhorted these days to study her speeches and follow her leadership.

MARY LOU MARINO

Honor Society Head Picked as Top Teen

The president of the National Honor Society at Waterford Kettering High School, Mary Lou Marino, has been selected as Waterford Township's Teen of the Week.

Mary Lou, who voluntarily tutors some of her classmates, is a senior who has maintained a straight A average through high school.

The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marino of 2163 Kohler, Waterford Township, Mary Lou has been accepted at Michigan State University where she plans to major in physics.

She hopes to earn a doctorate and teach at the university level. She also plans to do scientific research.

At Kettering, in addition to being a National Honor Society leader, Mary Lou is president of the Future Teachers Association for the second straight year, and is a member of the Math Club and Girls Athletic Association.

LAB ASSISTANT

She also is a chemistry laboratory assistant.

Mary Lou also serves with the Candy Stripers, a group of volunteer hospital workers.

The Waterford Township Teen of the Week is sponsored by the Waterford Township Youth Assistance Committee.

'67 Road Toll for State Is 1st Dip Since '61

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report there were 2,091 traffic deaths in Michigan in 1967, 205—or 9 per cent—below the high of 2,296 recorded in 1966.

It was the first reduction in fatalities since 1961 when the count of 1,567 dropped from the 1,604 the previous year.

Included in the 1967 count were 184 deaths in December, 21 less than the 205 in the same month the previous year.

The 1967 total represented the fourth consecutive year and the seventh time since record-keeping was started in 1933 that the death toll exceeded the 2,000 mark.

Other high years in addition to 1966 and 1967 were 2,136 in 1965, 2,122 in 1964, 2,016 in 1955, 2,133 in 1941 and 2,175 in 1937.

DELAYED REPORTS

Delayed death reports are expected to result in some increase in the provisional 1967 death total.

Page Appointed

LANSING (AP) — Charles Mauk, a 21-year old student in the Michigan State University School of Natural Science, has been appointed a page in the House of Representatives on the recommendation of Rep. Philip Pittenger, R-Lansing. Mauk is the son of Arthur Mauk, head of the department of photography at East Lansing State Police Headquarters.

Head Start Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a grant of $178,600 to the Wayne County Economic Opportunity Committee for a 10-month head start program serving 120 children outside Detroit U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday.

Opening lead—♦ Q

BY OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Good defense may merely be a matter of individual brilliance. Really expert defense requires co-operation of both partners and mutual confidence.

JACOBY

Our favorite hand of this type for 1967 occurred in a New York City mixed pair. Connecticut bridge teacher Sally Johnson sat East and Oswald Jacoby West.

We don't really recommend West's overcall, even though one of us did make it. (Jim says, "The older my father gets, the more he likes to bid.") Anyway the overcall didn't keep South from arriving at three no-trump.

He could have made his contract against any defense at all and would have made it easily without the actual defense that faced him.

The queen of diamonds lead was normal. Mrs. Johnson covered her partner's queen with the king. South took his ace and played ace and another heart. Dummy's jack lost to East's king and the three of spades was led.

South ducked and Jacoby was in with the queen. It was now up to him to make a key play and he did. He was sure his partner had started with exactly three diamonds. If she had only two, then South would have five, if she held four she would not have played the king. Where was the ten of diamonds in that case? In the East hand. Sally would not have played the king from king and two small.

Jacoby led his nine of diamonds and Mrs. Johnson was careful to put on the ten. Then she led her deuce of spades.

South went up with the ace, entered dummy with a club, played the queen of hearts, cashed the rest of his clubs when the ten of hearts failed to drop and settled for down one.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
Dble	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 10 9 5 4 3 ♣ 7 5 4 3
What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner must be prepared to play at two spades with a singleton in your hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You pass. West doubles. North and East pass. What do you do now?

Area Man Held in I-75 Death

Oakland County sheriff's deputies today arrested an Ortonville man on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the traffic death Dec. 20 of a Bay City Marine.

Sheriff's detectives said Jesse A. Hobson, 47, of 100 Viola will be arraigned today before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead.

He was taken into custody after appearing at the sheriff's department.

Hobson's car reportedly slammed into the rear of a car driven by a Flint man which had stopped on the shoulder of I-75 to give Cpl. Michael A. Gwizdala a ride.

★ ★ ★

Gwizdala, who was apparently hitchhiking home for the Christmas holidays, was killed instantly.

Deputies said they obtained the manslaughter warrant after investigating the incident.

FIREMAN INJURED—Emergency workers carry a fireman injured by falling debris from a fire at an abandoned hotel in the French Quarter of New Orleans yesterday. Seven firemen were injured, none seriously. The blaze was out of control for hours.

Area Man Stands Mute in Stabbings

Fred Parkkila, 28, of the Walled Lake area, stood mute yesterday on charges of attempted murder of the Ryan brothers at a New Year's Eve party in West Bloomfield Township.

The suspect is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting examination Tuesday in Township Justice Court. At the arraignment, Township Justice Robert F. Scott set bond at $50,000 on each of two warrants.

Parkkila turned himself in to township police yesterday afternoon through an attorney, according to the police department.

He is charged with stabbing Thomas and Randall Ryan, 21355 Farmington, Farmington, during the 3:30 a.m. melee at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barr, 6551 Drake.

Also injured that early Monday morning were Parkkila's cousin, Charles Parkkila, 25, 67 Drake; Jack Watson, age and address unknown; and another unknown man, according to police.

Township police believe seven males were the attackers in the fight, which is still being investigated.

Two in City Slayings Sent to Circuit Court

Two Pontiac men were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday in separate murder cases stemming from slayings in the city last month.

Both James O. Stovall, 23, of 348 Raeburn and George Reed, 26, of 263 Irwin face arraignment Jan. 18.

Stovall, in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, is charged with first-degree murder in the fatal stabbing of a Royal Oak Township youth Dec. 18.

The body of Arthur Earl Chaney, 19, was found in the back yard of a house at 438 S. Sanford.

★ ★ ★

Police said Chaney had been stabbed in the chest, hands and right arm.

APPEARS AT HEADQUARTERS

Stovall was booked for investigation of murder after he appeared at police headquarters shortly after the slaying and was questioned by a duty sergeant.

Reed, who was bound over on an open murder charge, was remanded to Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish $5,000 bond set by McCallum.

He was arrested after the Dec. 8 shotgun killing of Jessie Lee Hatten, 28, of 350 S. Anderson in Harry's Bar, 568 S. Sanford.

★ ★ ★

Police said they arrested Reed as he was walking on Central near Paddock, on information supplied by a witness.

Hatten died of abdominal wounds, according to investigators.

Two Trains Derailed in W. Michigan

By United Press International

Two train derailments were reported in western Michigan last night and early today, one of them causing injuries to two trainmen.

★ ★ ★

Seven Grand Trunk Railroad cars were derailed at Muskegon early today, blocking traffic on busy Henry Street in a factory area.

A caboose on a 33-car northbound Chesapeake and Ohio freight train derailed at a crossing two miles south of Holland last night and later caught fire.

Conductor Leo Dobe, 60, Grand Rapids, was treated in Holland Hospital for first-, second- and third-degree burns. He was tossed against a coal stove that tipped over during the derailment.

CABOOSE BURNS

Robert Koegler, 34, Wyoming, Mich., was treated for cuts and bruises.

Several hours after the caboose tipped over, it caught fire and was destroyed.

The Muskegon derailment of seven cars occurred at the Grand Trunk freight yards at the Henry Street crossing near the entrance of Campbell, Wyant and Cannon.

★ ★ ★

Traffic was to be rerouted for about 12 to 15 hours, railroad men reported.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the trucks on one of the freight cars came loose and started the chain derailment.

Shooting Case Bond Reduced

Bond was reduced yesterday from $50,000 to $5,000 for a Walled Lake man charged with assault with intent to murder in the wounding of two Walled Lake policemen Nov. 18.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams lowered the bond following the arraignment of Raymond Fugate, 41, of 1392 Appleford.

★ ★ ★

Fugate stood mute to the charge and was ordered to stand trial. No date was scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Officers William Folwell and Robert Snook were wounded by a blast from a shotgun when they went to Fugate's home in response to a call from his family. Fugate was wounded in the stomach during an exchange of shots.

Office Machines Are Stolen From Oil Firm in City

Five business machines valued at about $575 were stolen from a Pontiac firm early today, it was reported to city police.

Hirane H. Smith of 2920 Edgefield, Waterford Township, owner of the H.H. Smith Oil Co. at 590 S. Paddock, told officers the loot included four adding machines and an electric typewriter.

★ ★ ★

Police said a resident near the scene summoned them after hearing glass break about 2:20 a.m.

The building was entered by smashing two windows, according to police.

Officers of Gas Pipeline Firm Elected in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — W. K. Sanders was elected chairman and William C. Keefe president of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. Wednesday.

Sanders, who had been president, succeeds Frederick H. Robinson, who retired as chairman.

★ ★ ★

Keefe had been financial vice president. S. L. Robertson was named to succeed him in that post.

Panhandle is a natural gas transmission company.

North America has more than half of the world's telephones.

U.P. Suspect Is Arrested in Orion Twp.

Pontiac State Police arrested an Onaway youth, charged with assault and unarmed robbery, at the home of the suspect's brother yesterday.

Taken into custody by Troopers Robert A. Benedix and Harry Smith at 673 Beardon, Orion Township, was Ronald W. Dubois, 18. The suspect was taken to Oakland County Jail

★ ★ ★

Benedix said the suspect answered the door at the Orion Township address when he and Smith went there to investigate.

Pontiac State Police had received information from the Onaway Police Department that it was holding a felony warrant for the suspect.

Planners Back Rezoning OK for Fleet Carrier

City planning commissioners recommended approval last night of a rezoning change requested by Fleet Carrier Corp., 586 E. South Blvd.

The change, which has to be approved by the City Commission, would make a one-acre lot on the west side of Tex north of East South Boulevard a manufacturing zone instead of residential.

★ ★ ★

The company said it would use the lot for storage.

A request to place a gas station on the corner of Glenwood and Perry by Borin Oil Co. was withdrawn by the oil company.

Train Fires, Fumes End; Town Residents Return

DUNREITH, Ind. (UPI) — Residents of Dunreith returned to their homes today, after authorities assured them all danger was gone from the flames, explosions and poisonous gas created by the New Year's night collision of two freight trains.

A few of the 236 residents began moving back into the devastated community last night, and officials expected the others to return today.

At least all who left could return. There was no loss of life and relatively few injuries when two Pennsylvania railroad freight trains sideswiped, touching off fires, explosion and lethal fumes that made evacuation of the town a flight for life.

Some returning residents found their homes and their contents unharmed. Others were not so lucky. Two families found their homes completely destroyed. One other was badly damaged and many were scorched or damaged by the force of the repeated explosions.

★ ★ ★

The town's only industry, a fertilizer and cannery complex, was destroyed. Damage to the four-block long Henry County community was estimated in excess of $500,000.

DANGER IN STREAMS

The greatest danger from the disaster developed in streams south and west of Dunreith where deadly cyanide from ruptured tank cars polluted the water. Biologists dumped neutralizing chemicals into Buck Creek but warned that the water was still polluted.

★ ★ ★

At least 25 cattle were reported to have died from drinking polluted water.

Venezuela Seeks to End Tax Loopholes, Evasion

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — "Don't be a half citizen," a television commercial admonishes Venezuelans. "File your income tax return now."

More than two-thirds of the country's revenue is from taxes and the oil and mining industries, so relatively few people pay income taxes. Anybody making 1,000 bolivares or $222 a month or less is exempt.

★ ★ ★

Most who pay hand over about 15 per cent of total income, after family and medical deductions. The scale goes as high as 55 per cent but many of the wealthy find loopholes.

★ ★ ★

There's a story that a millionaire's gardener ends up paying more personal income tax than his boss since profits on dividends are not taxable.

"We'll get to them," warns one tax official grimly.

DEDUCTIONS

Companies must carefully retain from employes a given percentage of pay so the government always ends up collecting a certain amount. Only the income above the percentage withheld by the employer is considered for family and medical deductions.

For a long time evasion was popular among nonorganized income earners. Particularly criticized were professional men such as doctors, dentists, lawyers.

★ ★ ★

"They once could get away with just about anything, but in 1966 we managed to get a law passed which requires that they must have an accounting for their income," says a tax official.

Though the bills for individual taxpayers are relatively small and there generally is no problem in collecting, one detail worries revenue officials. Venezuela has no penalty other than a monthly one per cent fine for tax evaders. Even if the evader fails to pay his 12 per cent a year fine he cannot be carted off to jail.

'WORKING ON IT'

"We're working on that," said a tax official.

He says the current campaign for filing of returns has brought in 60,000 new payers.

The bear, popularly known as the honey bear in Malaysia, is the smallest of all bears. It is found in the forests of Southeast Asia. The adult bear measures approximately 4 feet in length. Few captive births of the sun bear have been reported in American zoos.

Experts Offer Prescription for Slum Ills

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Reform of welfare laws, community unions, self-policed ghettos and termination of many urban renewal projects are among proposals being recommended to stave off city riots.

The recommendations were made by six authorities testifying before the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Most of the witnesses expressed pessimism on the prospects for civil peace.

Dr. Herbert J. Gans, well-known sociologist at the Center for Urban Education, added a qualification.

★ ★ ★

He said the majority of the ghetto is not yet desperate enough to find value in militancy. But if the nation delays action and falls back on repression in the face of unrest, it can "look forward to a long and bloody guerrilla type civil war between the races."

Of 20 high-priority action programs, Dr. Gans put job creation at the top of the list and called for a public works program, backed up with a massive job training program.

Congress this year defeated a Senate-sponsored bill to provide such programs, but President Johnson keeps threatening federal provision of jobs, if industry cannot provide them.

Dr. Gans also called for auxiliary police forces in the ghettos, staffed by the residents themselves, under Federal grants.

Singapore's high birth rate declined sharply during the first four months of 1967.

War Delays Pearl Harbor Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comments on the Hollywood scene—

Plans to stage the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor with a massive two-nation film production have hit a delay because of the Vietnam war. Filming was supposed to have begun this month on the Japanese portion of "Tora! Tora! Tora!," a monumental undertaking by 20th Century-Fox and the company of famed director Akira Kurosawa.

THOMAS

"But the picture can't be made without the cooperation of the United States Navy," reports Richard Fleischer, who is scheduled to direct the American portion of the film. "The Navy has offered to help, but it can't guarantee the use of ships because of the Vietnam situation.

"We'd be in terrible shape if we started filming with the ships and then had them pulled out for Vietnam. So now the picture is postponed until fall, when the situation might be more stable. The plan is to shoot the American part of the story first, and then follow with the Japanese portion."

CODE WORD

"Tora," which means tiger, was the code word used by Japanese pilots to signal the success of their Dec. 7, 1941 mission . . .

Audiences at world's fairs have been dazzled by the use of multiple projections on a single screen—four, eight or more different movies being shown in checkerboard fashion. It was highly effective in the U. S. Pavilion of the Seattle Fair, the Johnson's Wax Exhibit at New York, and in several presentations at Expo 67 in Montreal. The device is going to be employed in "The Boston Strangler" by Richard Fleischer.

APPROPRIATE

He explains: "I think it fits the subject, because I want to show several actions going on at the same time. The screen will depict the levels of investigation that were being conducted, and it will also help to depict the fragmented personality of the strangler himself.

"Actually the device isn't new. It is used all the time in television, especially in sports, when two or more simultaneous actions are pictured" . . .

SYMBOL OF VILLAINY

Dark glasses seem to be the new symbol of villainy on the screen. Mirrored glasses are sported by the sadistic chain gang boss who bedevils Paul Newman in "Cool Hand Luke." The secret police terrorists of "The Comedians" also sport cheaters. Remember when the movie heavies used to wear black hats and ride black horses? . . .

CBS is much relieved to have the signature of James Arness for a 14th season of "Gunsmoke." The tall star's contract was to run out at the end of this season, and network officials feared he would ask for a mint to renew.

★ ★ ★

The strange truth is that Arness likes "Gunsmoke," even though he doesn't show it. He gives no interviews to help plug the series. Between scenes he remains in his dressing room, and as soon as the day's shooting is over, he vanishes. He didn't even attend last year's farewell party, when "Gunsmoke" was prematurely canceled.

★ ★ ★

But his buddies on the show claim that Jim's Garbo-like behavior is due only to his shyness and he feels a deep loyalty to Matt Dillon and "Gunsmoke."

'Lights-On' OK'd

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand Rapids City Commission has adopted a resolution asking residents to keep their porch lights burning at night as a crime deterrent. A resident suggested the action.

Trading Is Active

Stock Market Widens Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market widened its losses early this afternoon in active trading.

Gains outnumbered losses by well over 200 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 6.01 to 898.12.

Wall Street had to reckon with reports of Vietnam peace feelers as well as with this week's uncertainties regarding President Johnson's program for improving the U.S. balance of payments in foreign exchange.

Some of the aerospace defense stocks as well as electronic companies which service the defense effort appeared unsettled by the peace feeler talk.

Meanwhile, airlines and golds, while moving lower on balance, were not as weak as they have been in recent sessions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.0 at 322.0 with industrials off 1.9, rails off 1.1 and utilities up .6.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was more active than on Wednesday. Some of the computer leasing issues continued weak as a result of comment by Equity Research Associates, an investment adviser. Levin-Townsend Computer dropped about 7 points.

BUDGET BALANCED MEALS

WITH THE BASIC FOUR FOOD GROUPS

Having trouble balancing the family budget? Planning economical meals will help. Please your family with delicious, nutritious meals combining the specials at your food store with dairy foods in imaginative new recipes. The best way to balance your meals and your budget is to plan around the Basic Four Food Groups.

Dairy Foods
- 3 to 4 glasses milk — Children
- 4 or more glasses — Teenagers
- 2 or more glasses — Adults

Cheese, ice cream and other milk-made foods can supply part of the milk.

Meat Group
- 2 or more servings

Meats, fish, poultry, eggs, or cheese — with dry beans, peas, nuts as alternates.

Vegetables and Fruits
- 4 or more servings

Include dark green or yellow vegetables; citrus fruit or tomatoes

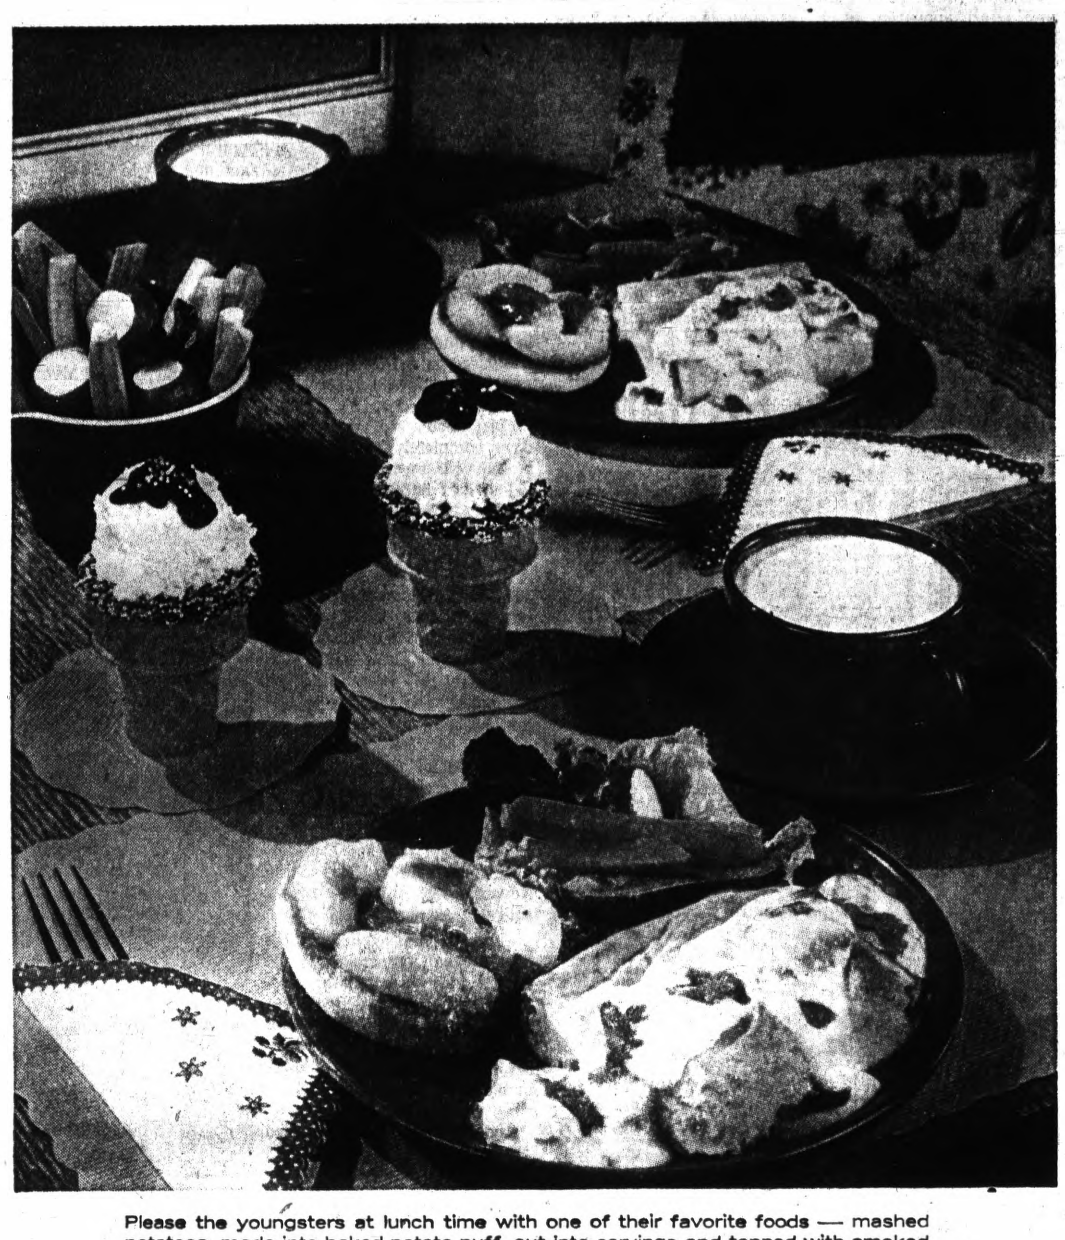
Breads and Cereals
- 4 or more servings

Enriched or whole grain. Added milk improves nutritional value.

For a hearty hot lunch or family supper, try this thrifty meat-and-potatoes menu. Top a crusty light potato puff with Smoky Beef Sauce. It's an excellent way to use up leftover mashed potatoes, or the puff can be made from instant mashed potatoes plus eggs, butter, milk and seasonings.

At dinner time serve your family Meat Balls in Sour Cream Gravy. There's a brand new taste to these savory meat balls mixed and seasoned like a meat loaf. They're browned, then simmered along with carrots and potatoes in the skillet, making an economical one-dish meal that saves you time and money. Round out this satisfying meal with crisp and colorful Cottage-Pineapple Slaw, golden Parmesan Fingers, Cheese Apple Pandowdy and milk.

Check the chart above and see how well-planned meals like these fit into the Basic Four Food Groups. Breakfast and snacks should be planned to complete the Basic Four requirements for the day.



Please the youngsters at lunch time with one of their favorite foods — mashed potatoes, made into baked potato puff, cut into servings and topped with smoked sliced beef in cream sauce. Delicious with relishes and buttery Apple Muffins! Dessert's a festive ice cream cone made ahead of time with a collar and cap of chocolate sauce dipped in multicolor decorettes.

Potato Puffs with Smoky Beef Sauce

6 servings

Buttered baking dish, 1½-quart — Preheated 400° oven

- ½ cup milk
- 2 eggs
- ½ teaspoon onion salt
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups mashed potatoes
- 2 tablespoons butter

In a small bowl beat together milk, eggs, onion salt, salt and pepper just until blended. Gradually stir into potatoes. Turn into baking dish; dot with butter. Bake 30 minutes. To serve: Cut into squares and top with Smoky Beef Sauce*

Smoky Beef Sauce:
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 package (3 oz.) smoked sliced beef, cut up
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

In a 1½-quart saucepan melt butter; add beef and sauté about 5 minutes. Stir in flour. Remove from heat; gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Stir in Parmesan cheese. Serve immediately.

Apple Muffins

Baking sheet — 12 muffins

- ⅓ cup (⅓ stick) butter
- ⅓ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 6 small English muffins
- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced pie apples, drained

In a small mixing bowl cream butter; add sugar and beat thoroughly; set aside. Split muffins and toast under broiler. Spread about 1 teaspoon butter-sugar mixture on cut surface of each muffin; set aside remainder. Place muffins on baking sheet. Divide apples evenly on muffins; dot with remaining butter-sugar mixture. Broil 4-5 minutes or until butter-sugar mixture melts. Serve immediately.

Chocolate Confetti Cones

Saucepan, 1-quart — 12 cones

- ⅓ cup (½ of 6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 12 ice cream cup cones
- ¼ cup multicolor decorettes
- 3 pints vanilla ice cream

In saucepan heat chocolate pieces and butter, stirring constantly, until melted. Dip tops of cones into mixture then into decorettes; set aside remaining chocolate mixture and decorettes. Chill cones. Fill cones with ice cream; freeze. Warm remaining chocolate mixture; drizzle over tops of ice cream cones and sprinkle with remaining decorettes. Freeze.

Note: Cones may be prepared ahead of time, wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping and stored in freezer.

Meat Balls with Sour Cream Gravy

6-8 servings

Large heavy covered skillet

- 1 pound ground beef
- ½ cup coarse cracker crumbs
- ½ cup milk
- ⅓ cup minced green pepper
- ⅓ cup minced celery
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup regular all-purpose flour
- ⅓ cup (⅓ stick) butter
- 1 envelope (1⅜ oz.) dry onion soup mix
- 2 cups boiling water
- 3½-4 cups peeled, thinly sliced potatoes (about 4 medium)
- 1 pound carrots, peeled and thinly sliced
- 2 cups drippings
- ½ cup water
- 1 cup dairy sour cream at room temperature

In a bowl combine beef, cracker crumbs, milk, green pepper, celery, egg, salt and pepper. Shape mixture into 18 medium-sized balls. Roll each ball in flour; set remaining flour aside. In skillet melt butter; brown meat balls on all sides. Remove meat balls from skillet. Stir onion soup and boiling water into drippings in skillet. Arrange potatoes and carrots in liquid in skillet; place meat balls on top. Cover and simmer 25-30 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Remove meat balls, potatoes and carrots to a warm platter to keep warm. Meanwhile, prepare gravy. Add sufficient water to drippings to make 2 cups. Gradually add ⅓ cup water to remaining flour to make a smooth paste. Stir into liquid in skillet. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sour cream. Heat to serving temperature. (Do not boil.) Yield: 2½ cups gravy.

Cottage-Pineapple Slaw

6-8 servings

- 1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple tidbits
- 2 tablespoons pineapple syrup
- 1 tablespoon white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¾ cup dairy sour cream
- 3 cups shredded green cabbage
- 1 cup shredded red cabbage
- 1 cup cottage cheese

Drain pineapple reserving 2 tablespoons syrup; set aside. In a bowl combine pineapple syrup, vinegar, sugar and salt. Gently blend in mustard and sour cream; fold in pineapple. Cover and chill. When ready to serve, toss dressing with cabbages and cottage cheese.

Parmesan Fingers

Yield: approximately 24

Buttered baking sheet — Preheated 400° oven

- 1 package (13¾ oz.) hot roll mix
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Melted butter
- Grated Parmesan cheese

Prepare roll mix according to package directions adding ¼ cup Parmesan cheese along with flour. Let rise as directed. Pinch off pieces of dough and shape into rolls about 3-inches long and ¾-inches wide. Let rise again as directed. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake 12-15 minutes.

Cheese-Apple Pandowdy

6-8 servings

Square baking dish, 8-inch — Preheated 350° oven

- ⅓ cup (⅓ stick) butter
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 6 cups peeled, thinly sliced cooking apples (about 6 medium)
- 1½ cups prepared biscuit mix
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- ½ cup milk
- Light cream OR half and half

In oven melt butter in baking dish. Combine sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt; sprinkle one-half of mixture over butter in dish. Place apples in baking dish; sprinkle remaining sugar mixture over top. In a bowl combine biscuit mix, cheese and butter. Stir in milk; beat about 20 strokes. Drop mixture in serving portions over top of apples. Bake 30-35 minutes. Serve while warm with cream.

Make meat balls different! Feature them in a skillet meal with potatoes and carrots seasoned with onion soup mix and sour cream. Serve with Cottage-Pineapple Slaw, fresh-baked Parmesan Fingers and milk. For dessert, give a Dutch touch to Apple Pandowdy — cheese it!

Lakers, Romeo Hope to Extend Perfect Marks

A pair of local squads will be looking for help elsewhere while trying to help themselves at home tomorrow night as the preps return to the basketball courts.

West Bloomfield and Romeo, both pacesetters in their respective leagues, are favored to prevail at home and both could find their positions in league races strengthened if some of their other basketball opposition cooperates.

The Lakers of West Bloomfield, unbeaten in five starts, are 4-0 in Wayne-Oakland League competition, a half game ahead of Northville (3-0).

Tomorrow night, the Lakers will entertain Livonia Clarenceville (1-3), while Northville is visiting Bloomfield Hills Andover (3-1).

★ ★ ★

The other W-O games find Holly (2-2) visiting Clarkston, a team better than its 1-3 record indicates, while Milford (0-4) will go after its first victory of the campaign at Brighton.

SPEED, BALANCE

West Bloomfield has thrived on speed and balance in jumping off to its best campaign in recent seasons. The Lakers have four players scoring in double figures — juniors Curtis Britton, Steve Westjohn, Dave Karlson and senior Gary Hahnefeld.

★ ★ ★

Northville owns a 5-2 record, with both losses coming in a holiday tournament. In both setbacks, however, the Mustangs played without their top performer, Jim Peterson.

Peterson, nursing an injured ankle, made only brief appearances during the three holiday games, but coach Dave Longridge said he would be ready for Andover's Barons.

The Northville-Andover game matches a couple of teams who rely on deliberate moves, and past performances indicate it'll be a low-scoring contest.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston has dropped three games in a row, and while the Wolves are favored in this one, they won't have a pushover in Holly.

EYEING GAIN

If all goes well, at least from Romeo's viewpoint, the Bulldogs will be sitting on top of the Oakland A League lineup with a two-game cushion following tomorrow night's activity.

★ ★ ★

The big game, of course, will be played on the Romeo court with Lake Orion's Dragons testing the Bulldogs.

The game lost some of its lustre earlier when Troy upset Orion. The Dragons, picked by league coaches in a preseason poll as the team to beat, go into the game with a 3-1 league mark, while Romeo, with a 6-0 over-all record, will take the floor at 4-0.

The high-scoring Romeo quintet is favored but not by much, and Orion has a better team than the one that dropped that 50-47 decision to Troy.

★ ★ ★

The other games in the O-A will find Rochester (2-2) at Troy (3-1), Madison (2-2) at Clawson (0-4) and Utica (2-2) at Avondale.

Romeo will be looking for some help from Rochester, but the Falcons of Rochester will find no soft touch in Troy, a team that has given up an average of 44.1 points in winning five of its last six games.

Pontiac Press Photo

DRAGONS' LEADER — Versatile 6-5 Bill Foss will be a key figure in Lake Orion's upset plans Friday night as the Dragons invade the pen of Romeo's undefeated Bulldogs. The senior sharpshooter can play forward, center or guard as the situation warrants.

Central Entertaining Loop Cage Leader

A couple of the surprise teams in the Saginaw Valley Conference collide here tomorrow night in what could be a turning point for both squads.

One is Midland, a surprise because it is faring so well, and the other is Pontiac Central, a surprise because of its poor showing to date.

The Chiefs of PCH will be hoping to start a winning trend in the SVC race, and at the same time, they'll be trying to halt Midland's bid for the championship.

Midland, beaten once in five starts, is leading the SVC with a 3-0 record, while PCH has won twice in five attempts and is still looking for its first league triumph.

★ ★ ★

Both teams are coming off surprising performances.

UPSET CITY FOE

While they haven't looked sharp overall this season, the Chiefs were good enough to gain what amounted to an 82-79 upset decision over city rival Northern in their last game.

★ ★ ★

Midland was just as good. The Chemics pinned a 58-57 setback on highly-regarded Saginaw.

CLASSY SHOOTER

Midland will bring one of the classiest shooters in the league to Pontiac tomorrow night.

He's Dave MacDonald, a 6-2, forward-guard, who's averaging 23 points a game, and he gets most of his scoring assistance from teammate Gary Adams who's flipping in the ball at just slightly over 10 points a game.

Coach Fred Zittel, who admitted he didn't know what to expect before the Chiefs met Pontiac Northern, may be in the same boat now.

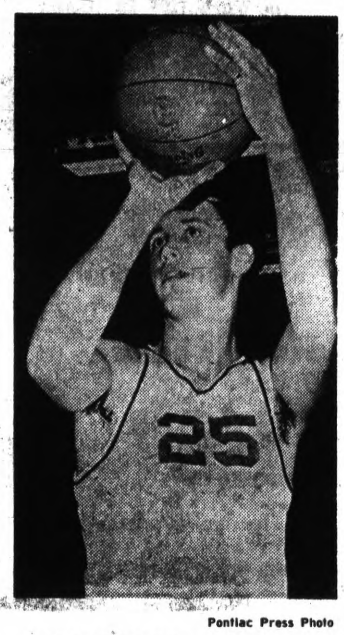
He may be wondering which team is really Pontiac Central: The one that looked good beating PNH or the other that looked bad in dropping three of its first four contests.

The Chiefs turned in a strong performance on the backboards in downing PNH, and they'll need a similar outing to handle the Chemics.

Zittel's three guards produced 43 points last week in the win over PNH.

Frank Russell, who also shifts to forward, pitched in 23 to maintain his role as the team's leading scorer, while Ardell Shelton collected 9 and Louis McNeir 11.

Around the backboards, the chores are handled by Walter Causey (6-3), Alton Wilson (6-1) and either Rudy Churchwell (6-5) or Leonard Cole (6-4).



Pontiac Press Photo

RUGGED LAKER — Junior forward Steve Westjohn of unbeaten West Bloomfield uses his 6-2 frame for both scoring and rebounding. He'll be one of four starters averaging in double figures when the Lakers entertain Clarenceville in a Wayne-Oakland League clash tomorrow night.

Injury Will Delay Debut of Bosox' Ace Lonborg

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox' hopes of repeating as American League champions have been dealt a blow with the word that pitching ace Jim Lonborg's recovery from knee surgery may keep him sidelined for virtually the entire first month of the 1968 season.

★ ★ ★

The big right-hander, who was injured in a Dec. 24 skiing accident, was scheduled for release from the hospital today, but club trainer Buddy LeRoux said he wasn't expected to be back in action until several weeks after the April 9 opening game at Detroit.

"From a realistic point of view he won't be ready for the opener," LeRoux said Wednesday. "The doctors all feel that sometime in May would be the date for him to return to action."

That could mean the loss of half a dozen or more starts for the hurler who bulwarked the Red Sox' otherwise undistinguished staff all through the 1967 pennant drive, finishing with a 22-9 record, earning the Cy Young Award as the league's top pitcher, and winning two World Series games.

CLUTCH PERFORMER

Lonborg was the only consistently effective pitcher on the staff last season, with other starters moving in and out of the rotation while the team's heavy hitting and good clutch performances carried it to the pennant.

★ ★ ★

The next biggest winners were Jose Santiago, 12-4, and Gary Bell, 13-13 for the year and 12-8 with Boston after being acquired from Cleveland.

Even before Lonborg tore two ligaments in his mishap at Lake Tahoe, Nev., the Red Sox had considered their over-all pitching situation one of the major problems for 1968.

★ ★ ★

Lonborg underwent a two-hour and 10-minute operation Dec. 27 at Sancta Marie Hospital in nearby Cambridge.

Ex-Golf Champion Bud Ward Loses Bout With Cancer

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — A requiem mass is planned Friday for Marvin "Bud" Ward, National Amateur golf champion in 1939 and 1941.

Ward, 54, died Tuesday at his home here after a three-year bout with cancer.

★ ★ ★

He twice played on the U.S. Walker Cup golf team. In recent years he had been golf professional at Peninsula Country Club and held the post until seven weeks ago when his son, Bill, took over.

Ward, a native of Olympia, Wash., underwent abdominal surgery last July for the fourth time.

Raiders Impressed by Packer Movies

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The American Football League champion Oakland Raiders looked at films of the Green Bay Packers and Coach John Rauch came away remarking, "I've never seen a perfect team. But, if any comes close, it is Green Bay."

His comment Wednesday was in reply to sports experts' assertions that Coach Vince Lombardi's National League champion Packers constitute a perfect team.

Rauch, Coach of the Year in the AFL, and his champions will take another look at Green Bay films Thursday. That's the only way they're learning about their Jan. 14 foe in the Super Bowl at Miami for the pro championship.

They have not scouted Green Bay.

SCOUTS WATCH

Lombardi had two scouts in the Coliseum Sunday when Oakland crushed Houston 40-7 for the AFL title.

They called the Raider defense impressive, but said they couldn't make comparisons; they didn't know how good Houston was, so couldn't judge the caliber of team Oakland defeated.

The Green Bay scouts also refused to attempt a comparison of Oakland with the 1966 Kansas City Chiefs, whom the Packers defeated 35-10 in last year's Super Bowl.

WORK SECRETLY

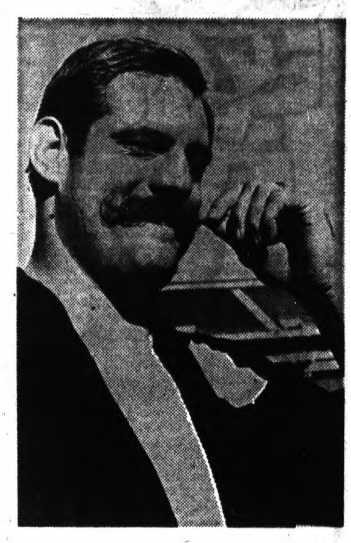
The Raiders worked secretly Wednesday and will repeat Thursday. Rauch said he is making no special preparations for the Super Bowl, confining Raider activities to refining their plays.

The team will have Friday and Saturday off, then fly to Miami Sunday. Rauch plans workouts Tuesday through Friday next week at St. Francis Boys School at Boca Raton.

He wasn't certain whether the Raiders would work lightly at St. Francis or in the Orange Bowl Saturday, Jan. 13.

★ ★ ★

The Raiders have no injuries, except Tom Keating's bruised right foot. He is expected to be okay for the game.



AP Wirephoto

NO WORRY — Big Ben Davidson, defensive end for Oakland's Raiders, twirls his moustache as he contemplates the coming meeting with the Green Bay Packers for the Pro Football Championship. Davidson, who was on the Green Bay roster for a year, says "They sent me down; it's going to be a big thrill to play them." Davidson and his teammates had the best defensive unit in the American League in 1967.

Hot Attack Sparks Chicago Loyola '5' Past W. Michigan

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Loyola of Chicago hit a blistering 72 per cent of its second half shots in overcoming a two-point halftime deficit and went on to wallop Western Michigan 97-76 in a nonconference basketball game Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

With Walt Robertson and Jim Tillman leading the way, Loyola ripped off a string of 12 straight points at the start of the second half to turn a 38-36 halftime deficit into a 48-38 lead.

7-2 RECORD

The victory was Loyola's seventh in nine games.

Loyola hit 29 of its 40 second half shots for a torrid 72.5 accuracy mark and wound up the game with 58 per cent on 43 baskets in 74 attempts.

Western, now 2-5, hit a respectable 43 per cent on 23 of 54 shots but couldn't keep up with the hot-handed Chicago team despite a 41-38 edge in rebounding.

Robertson topped Loyola with 25 points and Tillman added 22. Reggie Lacefield was high for the Broncos with 14 points.

Wings, Ullman Find Groove--- Face Oakland

DETROIT (AP) — Norm Ullman is back in the groove and so are the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings will be going for their fourth straight National Hockey League victory tonight when they take on the Oakland Seals at Olympia Stadium.

SCORING LEADER

Ullman contributed four goals and an assist in those three victories, boosting him to the team goal scoring leadership with 17, one more than Gordie Howe.

"Normie is now playing the kind of hockey we expect him to play," said Manager-Coach Sid Abel. "I don't know what was wrong with him earlier, but he's going real well now."

Oakland has lost seven and tied one in its last eight games and was shut out six times in December, scoring only 16 goals in 13 games.

★ ★ ★

The team has been gutted by injuries and three players are not expected to play in tonight's game. Defenseman Bobby Baun suffered a pinched nerve in the Montreal game Saturday and George Swarbrick and Billy Hicke have been sidelined with other ailments.

The Seals are last in the NHL's Western Division.

MIDDLEMAN LOSES OUT — Boston attacker Ken Hodge (8) seems to have the advantage as the puck bounces at his feet, but New York goaltender Ed Giacomin (on knees) thwarted the Bruin's scoring bid, with help from Ranger teammate Harry Howell (3) Wednesday. The action came in the first period of the National Hockey League teams' wild 5-5 clash at Madison Square Garden.

Minnesota Goalie Keeps Hex on Kings; Bruins, Rangers Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cesare Maniago has the Los Angeles Kings' number and obviously, it's a big, round zero.

Minnesota's Maniago shut out the Kings for the third straight time as Minnesota trounced Los Angeles 6-0 in National Hockey League action Wednesday night.

It was the fourth shutout of the season for Maniago and tied him with Montreal's Gump Worsley for the league lead in that department.

Last month, the lanky Minnesota goalie strung three straight shutouts together, two of them over the Kings.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Oakland absorbed its fourth straight shutout, bowing to St. Louis 4-0, New York battled from behind for a 5-5 tie with Boston and Montreal tied Toronto 1-1.

★ ★ ★

Maniago kicked out 35 shots as Los Angeles dropped its fifth straight game. The victory moved Minnesota within two points of the second place Kings in the NHL's West Division.

Adult Ducats on Sale for Township Game

Chippewas Withstand Hillsdale 'Overload'

HILLSDALE (AP) — Central Michigan didn't exactly shoot the lights out of Hillsdale's fieldhouse Wednesday night, but the Chippewas beat the Dales 85-76 in a game delayed 45 minutes because of a blackout.

The lights went off in the second half with CMU leading 50-34. Hillsdale officials attributed the power failure to an apparent electrical overload.

"The same thing happened to the same two teams last year," a Hillsdale spokesman said.

Willie Iverson topped Central, now 4-7, with 19 points. Dennis Hrcka had 30 for Hillsdale, now 9-4, hitting on 12 of 15 floor shots and six of seven at the foul line.

Winless OU at Wayne Friday

Pioneer Five to Don Road Jerseys

Oakland University's basketball team will end a 23-day layoff tomorrow night at Wayne State in the first of five road games for the Pioneers.

★ ★ ★

Winless in their first four games, the Pioneers hope to break the slump in back-to-back contests against teams that have already defeated them.

★ ★ ★

Wayne State and Adrian (Saturday's foe) inflicted two of the pre-Christmas setbacks.

Hampered by inexperience and injuries, the Pioneers have been forced to rely on good ball handling and shooting to carry them. And this has been the breakdown.

The team is averaging 18.5 turnovers a game. A turnover is when they give up the ball without getting a shot. The field goal percentage is 34.6, well-below the needed 40 per cent.

The only bright spot is free throws where the team mark is a very good 74.4 per cent. But it takes baskets to win.

HIGH AVERAGE

Defensively, OU leaves much to be desired on paper, but the average 99.3 points a game allowed can be attributed to a lack of rebounding that has permitted the opposition to get two and three shots a time.

The fact that guards Gordie Tebo and Gary Lincoln are only a shade behind center Bob Papak in rebounding is indicative of a problem in this area. Papak, 6-4, has averaged 8.8 while Tebo and Lincoln are at 8.5.

OU has given away height in each game and this will plague the Pioneers the remainder of the season.

In addition to being a top rebounder. Tebo leads the team in scoring with a 20.8 mark and is the assist leader.

BACK HOME

The Pioneers play at Alma, Ferris State and Spring Arbor before returning home Jan. 20 against strong Hillsdale.

Injuries seriously hampered the Pioneers in their last game before the holiday break with two players being hindered by bad ankles and one by a twisted knee.

All are expected to be in top physical shape for the resumption of play.

Knicks Finally Topple 76ers

Celtics Defeat LA, Halt Losing Skid

By the Associated Press

The New York Knickerbockers did something they haven't done in almost 20 months, and the Boston Celtics didn't do something they haven't done in 17 years.

New York, which had not won a National Basketball Association game from the 76ers in Philadelphia since March 10, 1965, did it Wednesday night, 129-115. The losing streak had reached 11 games.

★ ★ ★

The Celtics averted losing five straight for the first time since the 1950-51 season by beating the Lakers 113-103 in Los Angeles.

In other NBA action, Chicago whipped Baltimore 113-94 and San Diego outlasted St. Louis 126-124 in two overtimes.

Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett each scored 30 for the Knicks, who not only snapped their Philadelphia jinx but also beat the 76ers for the first time anywhere since last Jan. 5 at Pittsburgh — a six-game streak.

2 Speedsters Set for Duel in Coast Event

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tommie Smith, who holds eight world sprint records, and Lee Evans, a former teammate at San Jose State who believes he can surpass some of them, will clash in the mile relay in the Examiner All-American Games indoor track meet Friday night.

They will anchor two of the five teams entered in the mile relay, with hopes of bettering the 3:17.7 meet record if not the 3:14.1 record for the Cow Palace, where the games will be held.

Smith, who holds a 44.8 quarter-mile world record, will anchor the Santa Clara Valley Youth Village team. Evans, who's done 45.2, will go the final leg for San Jose State. Smith was graduated from San Jose last summer.

Anchoring the other three entries are Dwight Middleton, 1966 NCAA 440 yard champ, the Pacific Coast Club; Larry Hengl, who helped California place in the NCAA mile relay, the Bears, and Ron Whitney, world 400 meter hurdles champion, the Southern California Striders.

College Seniors Preparing for North-South Grid Tilt

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Three hours of drills today, split between the morning and afternoon, were on tap for the North and South squads as they prepare for the 19th annual Senior Bowl clash at Ladd Stadium Saturday.

In Wednesday's action, the Yankees chose Dick Anderson, Colorado's All - America defensive back, as defensive captain. End Haven Moses of San Diego State and lineman Joe Przybycki of Michigan State were named offensive co - captains.

INJURED BACK

Meanwhile, South Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs announced he would use Tommy Smiley, a 6-foot-2, 229-pound running back from Lamar Tech at Beaumont, Tex., to replace injured Ronnie Jenkins, a Georgia fullback.

★ ★ ★

Jenkins injured a knee in practice earlier this week.

Stram used his double session to concentrate on passing with Tennessee's Dewey Warren, a late arrival, tossing to ends Dennis Homan of Alabama, Bob Goodridge of Vanderbilt, Ken Barefoot of Virginia Tech and Freddie Hyatt of Auburn.

★ ★ ★

Warren, as well as center Bob Johnson and lineman John Boynton, were late because of the Volunteers' Orange Bowl tilt.

REPORTS LATE

The North squad, coached by Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots, was boosted by the arrival of Indiana lineman Gary Cassells, reporting late because of the Hoosier's Rose Bowl game.

Holovak, using quarterbacks John Schneider of Toledo and Paul Toscano of Wyoming, said he was pleased with the team's progress.

Outfielder Maris Recovering After Bout With Palsy

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Roger Maris, outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals was reported to day to have recovered almost completely from Bell's palsy in the right side if his face.

The ailment, often the result of an inflammation affecting nerves, has been bothering Maris since Dec. 15. He recieved shots intedned to clear it up.

Maris has said the palsy did not affect his sight and that he plans to move soon to Gainesville, where he has a beer distributorship. He told newsman he hopes to make the move early enough so he can get settled and be ready for spring baseball training.

Sugar Ray Elected to Boxing's 'Hall'

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen years after his first retirement and two years after his last one, Sugar Ray Robinson has made boxing's Hall of Fame.

Five times the middleweight champion and once the welterweight title holder, Robinson was elected to the Hall along with two fighters of another era, heavyweight Joe Jeannette and lightweight Barney "Young" Aaron.

Only Losses vs. Vanderbilt

Tarheels to Test Duke '5'

By the Associated Press

Duke and North Carolina already have one thing in common—Vanderbilt—and the Blue Devils are now casting covetous glances at the Tarheels' place in the college basketball Top Ten.

Duke, unranked as yet, boosted its season record to 7-1 Wednesday night with a comeback 89-84 victory over Davidson, which, until last week, was in the Top Ten itself. North Carolina, No. 3, beat Wake Forest 74-62.

SAME VICTOR

Both clubs' lone defeats were suffered at the hands of Vanderbilt, rated fourth. The first meeting between Duke and North Carolina will come Saturday at Chapel Hill, N.C. The Blue Devils fought back from a 50-43 deficit early in the first half to their victory.

★ ★ ★

"As long as we continue to scratch and claw as we have all season," said Vic Bubas, Duke coach, "this bunch will make a good showing against anybody."

Davidson Coach Lefty Driesell added, "If Duke continues to shoot like they did tonight, they can beat anyone in the country."

The Blue Devils out-rebounded Davidson 55-33 and Mike Lewis and Dave Golden each had 22 points. North Carolina got 23 points from Rusty Clark, 22, from Charlie Scott and 20 from Larry Miller in downing Wake Forest.

BOOST RECORD

Seventh-ranked Utah, boosted its record to 11-1, beating American University 84-77. Merv Jackson had 27 points and Walt Simon had 26 for the Redskins. Ninth-ranked St. Bonaventure, with Bob Lanier scoring 33 points, beat Kent State 80-63, the Bonnies' 10th straight triumph.

★ ★ ★

New Mexico, No. 10, won its 12th straight, beating Air Force 88-60 with Ron Nelson scoring 26 points. Calvin Murphy, second leading scorer in the country, poured in 39 points against Buffalo State, leading Niagara to a 94-79 victory.

★ ★ ★

The nation's top-ranked small-college team, Kentucky Wesleyan, was knocked off by No. 2, Evansville 71-64. The Kentucky club fought back from a seven-point halftime deficit to take a brief lead late in the game, but baskets by Mike Owens and Dave Weeks gave Evansville its final lead.

★ ★ ★

In other games, Marquette ran its record to 9-2 with a 71-50 victory over De Paul, Dayton beat Xavier 83-80, St. Louis topped Drake 89-78, Loyola of Chicago crushed Western Michigan 97-76 and Toledo outlasted Bowling Green 73-67 in overtime.

And in a barn-burner in Washington, George Washington beat East Carolina 71-68 in a game that went to four overtimes.

Sophomore Pete Maravich, the nation's leading scorer who went into the game with a 44.9 average, collected 55 points in triggering Louisiana State to a 76-72 victory over Auburn. LSU leads the Southeastern Conference with a 4-0 record and the Tigers are coached by Maravich's father, Press.

Pontiac Boys Club Holds League Lead

The Bluedevils of Pontiac lead the Southeast Michigan Boys' Club Basketball standings following their 35-30 win over Highland Park.

★ ★ ★

Larry Owens' 14 points and 12 rebounds paced the win, Pontiac BC's second in two starts. Auburn Heights BC evened its mark with an easy win over winless South Oakland.

Ex-Falcon Hits 20 for Albion

ALBION (AP) — Albion, holding the lead all the way, dumped Grand Valley, 77-66 in nonconference basketball game Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Mike Wilson of Farmington had 20 points for the Britons, now 4-3, while Jim Kerr had 17 for Grand Valley, which has lost eight of 10 games this year.

Southern Cal Finishes No. 1 in Scribe Poll

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Southern California took every first-place vote as the nation's top college football team in balloting by the Football Writers Association of America released Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Maury White of the Des Moines Register, president of the five-man panel which conducted the poll, said Oklahoma was second and Tennessee, which lost to the Sooners in the Orange Bowl, ranked third.

Purdue got one vote for second.

Leaders Meet in SEMA

Walled Lake's Vikings Journey to Kettering

The leadership will be at stake in a couple of leagues tomorrow night and a pair of local quintets will battle for prestige as high school players resume basketball action.

The big game on the nonconference slate finds Walled Lake Vikings visiting Kettering, one of the state's top squads last season.

Kettering, one of the teams least likely to succeed according to pre-season estimates, has rolled to a 3-1 record under coach Joe Duby and the team's outlook continues to brighten.

Walled Lake, under new coach John Oswald, is smarting from a 1-3 mark, and the '68 future for the Vikings isn't on the bright side.

★ ★ ★

Settled, at least temporarily, tonight will be who occupies the top spot in the Southeastern Michigan, while one of the leaders will fall by the wayside in the Southern Thumb League.

BOTH UNBEATEN

Royal Oak Kimball and Southfield both own 2-0 records in SEMA action, and they'll meet on the latter's court this evening to decide who remains in first place.

★ ★ ★

Other games in the SEMA find Birmingham Seaholm visiting Ferndale and Berkley at Hazel Park.

★ ★ ★

Much the same picture is seen in the Southern Thumb, where Capac, Anchor Bay and New Haven are deadlocked at 3-0.

One of the three will go since Anchor Bay plays at Capac, while New Haven is expected to retain its share in a game at New Haven.

The other Thumb contests find Richmond at Armada and Dryden at Almont.

★ ★ ★

A full slate of action is on tap in the Northwest Parochial League where Orchard Lake St. Mary will be trying to run its loop mark to 6-0 against a visiting Detroit St. Rita quintet.

TITANS AT ROSM

Elsewhere in the Northwest loop, Pontiac Catholic's Titans play at Royal Oak St. Mary, Ferndale St. James is at St. Francis de Sales and Farmington Our Lady visits Waterford Our Lady.

★ ★ ★

In other games around the area, Ortonville is at Genesee, Grass Lake at Novi, Royal Oak Dondero at Monroe, Dearborn Divine Child at Royal Oak Shrine, Roeper School at Lake Leelenau, Brother Rice at Notre Dame and South Lyon at Chelsea.

Custom Hot Rods Coming to Detroit

DETROIT — The greatest array of custom hot rods and exotic show cars ever assembled under one roof is being prepared for the 16th annual Autorama Jan. 19-21 in Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

Promotions, Inc., and the cosponsoring Michigan Hot Rod Association are lining up a spectacular to open the 1968 show car season.

★ ★ ★

Among the internationally-famed cars to be displayed will be The Spirit of America, in which Craig Breedlove set the world land speed record of 600.01 miles an hour; the Boothill Express, a combination of antique hearse, injected drag racer and elegant custom car; and Don "Big Daddy" Garlits' Dodge-powered, supercharged Wynn's Charger, the car that broke the 7-second elapsed time barrier at the NHRA Summernationals over Labor Day in Indianapolis.

★ ★ ★

Additionally, some 300 nationally-known "one of a kind" custom cars will be on display.

Three of Penn State's 1971 football games will be against Navy, Air Force and Army.

Local Skaters Take Honors at Rolladium

During the last couple of years, Rolladium Skating Club's art competitors haven't made too much noise in regional and North American meets.

The tide may be turning for the local skaters.

During last weekend's 12th annual invitational roller skating meet at Rolladium, the host club took team honors with six first, eight seconds and seven thirds.

Akron, Ohio, was second and Ambassador of Clawson third. Over 200 skaters from six states competed.

The meet also marked the return to competition of North American champion Scott Harrity.

Harrity made his mark in both juvenile speed and art while a member of the Rolladium team being sidelined two years ago by an injury.

Illinois Golfer Leading Lefties by Two Strokes

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Andy Toth, an amateur, from Arlington Heights, Ill., took a two-stroke lead into the second round of the National Left-handed Open Golf Tournament today.

Toth toured the Diplomat Country Club par 72 course Wednesday in 36-33—69. Three pros from Texas followed the amateur.

★ ★ ★

Ross Collins of Dallas carded a 36-35—71 for second place, followed by Alvin Odom Jr. of Galveston and S.A. Smith of Andrews, both with 72s. Also tied for third place with the two Texas pros was amateur Jack Butler of Atlanta.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Martin Roesink of the Netherlands took a two-stroke lead today after the first round of the New Zealand Professional Golf Championships of Tauranga with a seven-under-par 66 on the par 73 course.

Fines Reveal Cardinal Rift

Report Says Negroes Listed Grievances

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The fines for curfew violations by St. Louis Cardinal players before the last game of the season is only an indication of the rift between players and coaches on the National Football League club, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said in its Thursday editions.

The newspaper said that several days before eight players were fined during a trip to New York for a game with the Giants Dec. 17, Negro players presented a list of grievances to head Coach Charley Winner.

The Negroes on the team held a three-hour meeting to discuss the complaints.

★ ★ ★

Among the demands in a two-page letter given to Winner later in the week was that an assistant coach be fired.

Spencer Loses

3-Way Tie in Rec Loop

Glenn's Auto Sales caused a three-way Continental League tie Wednesday night by surprising defending Waterford Township men's recreation basketball titlist Spencer Floor Covering, 75-74.

★ ★ ★

Day's Sanitary joined Spencer's and Glenn's at 3-1 with a 106-89 verdict over Powell Trucking. Genesee Welding was a 2-0 forfeit winner over Buckner Finance in the other game.

Gary Hayward made his township basketball debut by scoring 24 points, including the winning basket on a field goal with 15 seconds left as Glenn's rallied past Spencer's.

The auto salesmen led through the first half, then fell behind 57-55 as Spencer's posted a 26-19 third quarter edge. Down 74-69 with 56 seconds to play, Glenn's set up the winning shot after Tom Negoshian's two baskets cut the gap.

Jerry Hill's 36 points and 22 by Jim Chamberlain led Day's big victory. Powell's had five players in twin figures with Dave Dodd's 24 leading the way.

★ ★ ★

Three American League games are slated tonight at Crary JHS.

Lutherans Double Up

OLIVET (AP) — Ed Jenkins scored 26 points and Leroy Haywood added 24 as Michigan Lutheran won its ninth game in 11 starts with an 89-71 nonconference basketball triumph over Olivet. Olivet, now 3-5, was topped by Gordon Lofts with 27 points.

Huskie Depth Leads to Win

Pontiac Northern's depth paid off again, as Huskie swimmers gave up six of 11 firsts but still defeated Flint Northwestern in the Flint pool, 61-44.

★ ★ ★

Craig Sanderson won the diving event and was part of the winning medley relay team. Another double winner was Kevin Dushane who took the backstroke and was part of the medley relay team.

The Huskies swept both relays, diving and butterfly events.

Skiers Finding New Look at Area Resorts

Traffic Moving on Area Slopes

Snowmakers at Work Throughout County

By JERE CRAIG

The Oakland County ski resort business boomed back to health last winter after a near-disastrous 1965-66 season and has blossomed again, after a slow start last month.

Hurt by the rainy first three weeks of December, the ski resort operators received a helpful injection of snow and cold weather Christmas weekend and have been progressing ever since.

The snowmaking equipment has been on every day since Dec. 21st, creating generally good conditions at all county area resorts.

Skiers returning to the slopes for the first time since last winter have noticed changes at nearly every area.

CHANGES

Making significant alterations were Pine Knob and Alpine Valley. The longest run in Southeast Michigan — more than 2200 feet — splits the layout at Pine Knob. It is called Mt. Climax.

Serviced by a new chair lift — the resort's second one, the run was built during the summer by moving 120,000 tons of dirt from behind the resort's advanced beginner and intermediate slope areas.

In addition, the beginners area has been moved and enlarged. An advanced beginners slope has been added, too, but still is to be opened.

Ohio State University physical education instructor Harty Meyers, a coach on the U.S. ski team at the Innsbruck (Austria) 1964 Olympic games, has joined the Pine Knob staff to assist with the high school racing instruction program.

The resort is planning an extensive prep racing program this winter for the first time.

3 CHAIR LIFTS

Alpine added a 1,200-foot intermediate run to complement the 1,400 and 1,600-foot runs it already had. Two rope tows were replaced by a third chair lift to service the slope.

Alpine also moved its ticket window to relieve congestion in the lodge hallway. Dave Delpiere, who took over as manager late last winter, has promoted Ron Brown to head the ski school.

Alpine also has doubled its snowmaking capacity to rival that of any in the Midwest.

Mt. Holly continues its bulging high school ski program and has Werner Zanier available to work closely with the prep racing teams. The Mt. Holly Inter-League races have 20 schools entering teams.

While no new facilities were added, the Woodward Slope's vertical drop and length were increased. It is now a 1,400-foot run.

REPLACES JUMP

Mount Grampian has replaced its old ski jump area with a new advanced hill serviced with a J-Bar. John Motzinger and Fritz Stockinger now head the ski school; Roger Drouin is the manager.

Grampian changes also included expanding the main lodge and moving the ski shop into a larger area.

★ ★ ★

Mt. Christie's main improvements were the lengthening of one intermediate run and the replacing of two rope tows. Manager Ron Hutchings confirms that the Christie clubhouse will be available again for group reservations.

NEW SLOPES

Mount Brighton has two new slopes and added distance on the main intermediate slope. It is now a 1,200-foot run. Bill Riskey is the new manager. Brighton, too, doubled its snowmaking potential.

The Teeple Hill slopes in the Highland State Recreation Area continue to be run by the Pontiac Ski Club and are open weekends when there is adequate natural snow.

A new area also depending upon natural snowfall is Bramblewood Country Club west of Holly. Jim Woodward serves as the instructor at the facility which is lighted for nighttime skiing.

The Kandahar Ski Club continues to have its private slopes at the site of the old Summit Area south of Fenton.

Local Facilities Operating

Weather Spurs Winter Sports

The local winter sports scene has to encourage the skaters and sledders as the sub 30 degree temperatures and occasional snowfall accumulations continue.

Both the Pontiac and Waterford Township recreation programs are operating.

★ ★ ★

Murphy Park along East Boulevard in southeast Pontiac, and the Drayton Plains Park off Dixie Highway are the focal points.

The city has a skating pond, a sled run and its old toboggan run operating at Murphy Park. A new toboggan run, paralleling the old one, is expected to open this weekend.

The two runs are approximately 1,100 feet in length, and shaded from the sun to prolong the durability of the ice on the chutes. The runs are supervised.

Generally they will be open weekends, late afternoons and in the evenings.

Definite operating hours — which vary from week to week — are available by calling the city recreation office 333-7131 prior to 4:30 p.m.

The department also has a comfort station operating at the Murphy Park facilities.

In addition, the south course of the municipal golf course is open for sleds and toboggans; and ice skating rinks have been set up at Washington and Lincoln Junior High schools, Rotary Park, Oriole Field, Wever and Owen elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

Waterford's winter activity is limited to skating. The Drayton Park rink is lighted at night, but permits are required by groups and individuals wishing to use it. These are free at the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road.

Other less organized ice rinks are in Highland Estates (M-59 near Dundee), Elizabeth Lake Estates (Riviera at Motorway), Lorraine Manor and along Baybrook near Fairport.

Browns Await Contract Talk With Halfback

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — Halfback Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns says it will be at least two weeks before he starts contract talks with Club President Art Modell.

★ ★ ★

Kelly, winner of the National Football League rushing title last season, has been playing out his 1966 contract option and can become a free agent if he doesn't sign a new contract before May 1.

Modell hopes to have him signed before the pro Football draft starts Jan. 30.

Kelly said Wednesday that he won't meet with Modell until after he plays in the Pro Bowl game Jan. 21 in Los Angeles.

The Browns are in Florida to play the Los Angeles Rams in the NFL's Playoff Bowl game in Miami Sunday.

Swiss Outskis World Champ

Bruggman Has Lead in Alpine Cup Series

OBERJOCH, Germany (AP) — Edmund Bruggmann of Switzerland flashed down the 2,000-meter giant slalom almost a second faster than world ski champion Jean Claude Killy and won the first event of the World Alpine Skiing Cup.

Bruggmann's winning time over the course that dropped 450 meters and included 58 gates was one minute, 51.9 seconds while Killy of France was timed in 1:52.87.

Bill Kidd of Stowe, Vt., was the top American, finishing eighth in 1:54.34. Fred Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., was 21st in 1:56.11; Spider Sabich of Kyburs, Calif., 22nd in 1:56.18; Jim Houga of Squaw Valley, Calif., 29th in 1:56.63, and Harry Ryan of Rutland, Vt., 45th in 1:58.89.

Eighty skiers from 15 countries turned out for the race, the first that counts toward the world championship and also considered a dress rehearsal for the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, next month.

Reveal Payoff

NEW YORK (AP) — Each member of the winning Oakland Raiders received a record $6,321.77 while the losing Houston Oilers got $4,996.45 for their American Football League championship game last Sunday. The Raiders voted 52 shares and the Oilers 53.

Auburn Hills '5' in 86-64 Romp

Nikes Shoot Down Macomb for 8th Win

Smooth Auburn Hills of Oakland Community College rolled to an easy 86-64 triumph over Macomb Community College last night at Hazel Park.

★ ★ ★

The nonconference victory raised Auburn Hills record for the season to 8-2. On Saturday, the Nikes journey to Alpena where they'll try to improve on their 4-1 league mark.

The Nikes held a seven-point lead at halftime, 49-42, and blew the game open in the second half.

Glenn Lenhoff sparked the Nikes with 27 points, while teammate Harold Reiser tossed in 24.

★ ★ ★

Reiser also sparkled on the backboards with 18 rebounds. Along with his scoring, Lenhoff managed eight assists, a figure matched by teammate Ed Holloman.

Young Skaters' Hockey League Set in Waterford

The Waterford Township Recreation Department's Junior ice hockey program is slated to begin Wednesday at the Drayton Plains Park rink.

Three leagues are being organized with action slated three times a week. Boys 12-and-under, 14-and-under and 18-and-under are paired in loop groupings.

At least four teams have been formed in the 14-and-under circuit and the other two leagues are still organizing.

Any Waterford school district boys interested in playing should contact the recreation office or league director Steve Schyck at 363-8246. Players must have their own skates and hockey sticks.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIGERS

QUESTION: Why is a tiger striped?

ANSWER: Many animals have striking markings or colors. There are a number of reasons for this.

The bright markings on many birds are thought to help members of a certain species to recognize each other; perhaps the females are attracted by the brighter markings of the males. But in many cases, such markings are ways by which animals prevent other animals from seeing them. This is called protective coloration.

Notice the plover sitting on her nest at upper left. Her spotted, broken markings make her difficult to see against the patterns of light and dark of the low grasses in which she nests.

The tiger spends much of his time in high grass and jungle growth, where there are many up-and-down lines and shadows. Notice how the up-and-down stripes on his coat tend to conceal him and also to appear to break up the true shape of his body, in which the forms go across rather than up and down.

But why, you will say, does a tiger need concealment since he is so terrifically strong? Because, if such prey as deer and antelope saw him clearly, they would instantly dart away. Many hunting animals, as well as the hunted, need protective coloration—otherwise, they might starve.

Israeli Premier Flies to U.S.

Eshkol Will Request Arms From Johnson

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol left for the United States today to ask President Johnson for U.S. arms to offset the "tremendous Soviet arms supplies to countries in the region."

Eshkol, accompanied by his wife, Miriam, and several aides, planned a two-week tour to United Nations headquarters in New York, the LBJ Ranch in Texas, Canada and London.

★ ★ ★

Several hundred persons saw Eshkol off, including top-ranking Israeli officials, U.S. Ambassador Walworth Barbour and other diplomats.

In a brief airport statement Eshkol said after Israel's victory over the Arabs in the six-day June war, "There has been opened before us the prospect of security and peace, but at the same time we are possibly faced by new dangers."

EXPLAIN POLICIES

In talks with foreign leaders on his tour, he said, "I wish to explain to them the policies and requirements of the government of Israel in order to advance the cause of peace in the region.

"I will also take this opportunity to meet the leaders of Jewish communities together with the Jewish people everywhere who stood by us in the fateful days."

★ ★ ★

In Beirut, meanwhile, the new head of the Palestine Liberation Organization, Yahya Hammouda, was quoted as saying there was nothing to prevent Arabs from sharing a common future with Jews "who have given up Zionism and racism."

★ ★ ★

"We must face facts and not ask for the impossible," Hammouda said in an interview with the newspaper Al Nahar. "It is stupid for us to ask the Israelis to return to their countries of origin.

EQUAL SHARE

"We ask the Jews—all the Jews, even those who came to Palestine after 1948—do you really want peace and coexistence? Then get ride of Zionism as a political and racist ideology and agree to live with the Arabs in an Arab-Jewish Palestinian state where each can have his share," Al Nahar quoted him as saying.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time Hammouda had aired his views on the Arab-Israeli crisis since he replaced the firebrand Ahmed Shukairy as head of PLO last month. Hammouda was interviewed in Amman, Jordan.

Spinster, 72, Leads 'Army' to Vietnam

LONDON (UPI) — An army led by a 72-year-old spinster was flying to Vietnam today. This is a peace army and its weapons are candy, balloons and love.

"We'll camp in tents in the forest, and, if American or Vietcong forces stumble across us, we'll try to talk them into stopping the war," said Miss Peggy Smith, a Quaker and founder of the Movement for Nonviolent Action in Vietnam.

"We'll offer them candy, give away balloons with peace messages, and hope and pray it works," she said.

Among the 25-member group were Rev. Michael Scott, veteran campaigner against apartheid in South Africa; Gwynfor Evans, a Welsh Nationalist member of Parliament; and Cecily Hastings, a college lecturer. They have $16,800 collected for the trip.

★ ★ ★

Evans, Scott and Miss Hastings hope to meet North Vietnamese government leaders during their peace mission, which Evans called "a positive humanitarian act by people who were tired of merely talking about the evils of war."

CAMBODIAN VILLAGERS

Most of the group planned to live with Cambodian villagers near the South Vietnamese border.

"We have applied for visas for North Vietnam," Miss Smith said. "If they are granted, we will move over. We're not frightened about being attacked by Vietcong — we just want to spread the word of peace."

Cubans Warned on Alcohol-in Cars

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban drivers were told Wednesday night that alcohol and gasoline don't mix—in their fuel tanks, that is.

Havana Radio, monitored in Miami, warned Cuban drivers not to try and fill their tanks with alcohol during the gasoline rationing period. The alcohol used by people is not good to mix with the gasoline," the newscast said.

★ ★ ★

Under the cutback, announced by Prime Minister Fidel Castro Tuesday, Cubans are allowed only eight to 25 gallons a month.

By the year 2000, it is predicted, corn production of 500 bushels an acre will be possible, compared with an average yield of 80 bushels presently.

Live WWII Bomb Found in House

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A live fragmentation bomb, powerful enough to blow up a house and surrounding property, has been safely dismantled by a demolition crew from Ft. Rucker.

The 220-pound World War II explosive was found in an upright position Wednesday afternoon by painters working in the den of a house near downtown Mobile. The property is owned by a real estate firm.

Officials said the last people to live in the dwelling apparently forgot to take the "souvenir" when they moved.

TED'S CORNER

Trading your house is the same as listing your house with ONE EXCEPTION, your realtor guarantees the sale. His expenses are similar, if it takes 90 days to sell it could cost the realtor in the neighborhood of $200 for the advertising alone. What can you expect more advertising, you only move once, you stay in your present home until your new home is available, you are sure of a definite price, no offer to ponder. And you're sure that your house is sold after you have purchased your new home. Your deal will not have to wait or fall through because your isn't sold.

TOOTHPICK HOLDER? — This tower in Hong Kong looks like a gigantic toothpick holder after construction workers made a network of scaffolding of bamboo poles.

Case Against Pinup Dropped

GAINESVILLE, Ala. (UPI)— A judge yesterday threw out charges that Pamme Brewer, whose nude pinup poses forced her withdrawal from the University of Florida, had sold obscene literature in her hippie shop.

Alachua County Judge Ira Carter said the charges failed to specify that Miss Brewer had "knowingly sold" the material in her "Subterranean Circus" shop.

Solicitor A. Z. Adkins did not indicate whether he planned to file new charges against the 19-year-old brunette who appeared in court in a miniskirt and net stockings.

Pamme first attracted attention last year when an off-campus slick magazine at the university exposed her 38 - inch bosom for the student body.

★ ★ ★

She was forced out of school and subsequently opened the psychedelic shop specializing in hippie trappings and reading matter.

Then on Dec. 6, Alachua County police arrested the young business-woman at her shop and confiscated psychedelic posters and off-beat poetry they claimed were obscene.

A January 1967 issue of the Charlatan magazine featured Miss Brewer covered only by a pair of earrings, and school officials put her on disciplinary probation. When a later issue of the magazine again displayed her attributes in the buff, she was forced to drop out.

Redistricting Poll Planned in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gov. Roger. D. Branigin said Wednesday he would conduct a telephone poll of state legislators to determine whether a new congressional redistricting plan could be passed.

The state's 1965 reapportionment was ruled unconstitutional by federal court. Despite numerous attempts, members of the politically divided legislature have been unable to agree on a remapping.

★ ★ ★

Branigin said he would call a special session if it appeared there was a possibility of agreement. "We've simply got to do everything humanly possible to operate within the framework of the Constitution which mandates reapportionment by the legislature," he said.

New York Cabbies Exposed to the Best, Worst Riders

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's many a human story that New York cab drivers can tell you . . . and of those that I like, here are two.

A woman hackie told me it was her first day out. She picked up a man who wanted to go in a rush to Grand Central.

"It should be about 70 cents," the passenger said. "If I don't get there fast, I miss my train. Can you change a $5 bill?"

The woman hackie said she could.

"Keep a dollar for yourself," the said said. He held a $5 bill in his hand. She handed him $3.30 change and he ran for his train.

"About 10 minutes later I realized he hadn't given me the $5 bill . . ."

★ ★ ★

It was a Christmas shopping rush with everybody yelling for cabs (a male driver told me) and a friendly cop waved to him and asked him to take a man to Brooklyn. The cop let him make a U-turn to pick him up.

"You sick?" the cabbie asked the passenger.

"In a way," the passenger replied. "I'm an alcoholic.

"And I knew and that cop, who's a friend of mine, knew that if I didn't get a cab quick, I was going to break down and go into a bar and ruin my life all over again. Just at Christmas."

★ ★ ★

He was a successful engineer and had hit bottom twice but now he believed he has won . . . but today, during the Christmas cheer season, he had got the thirst again.

"But here we are at home and I've made it," the passenger said. "How much do I owe you?"

"Three-fifty," the cabbie said.

"Take everything I've got in my pocket," the happy passenger said. "It was worth it, to me and my family."

He handed him about $14.

The passenger's wife came rushing out from the porch of their home to embrace her husband.

"Oh, I'm so glad you've come home like this! I was afraid it would be the other way," the wife said, almost crying. The cabbie told her that her husband had overpaid him by about $10.

"It's not too much," she said. "If you wait till I get my purse, I'll give you some more." The cabbie drove away with a moving story to tell his wife that night.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Gordon MacRaes (Liz Schrafft) are expecting their first, in June. (Gordon says he's following the script of his show, "I Do. I Do"—"in which the guy gets married, has two kids and lives happily ever after.")

Johnny Meyers said at El Morocco he got a Christmas card from zillionaire J. Paul Getty: "It was unsealed, and on the envelope, in Getty's handwriting it said, 'Second Class Mail' — to save postage!"

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Though prices are getting higher, people are buying as much as ever. The only difference is, it now takes them longer to pay for it.

Larry Mathews punished his nephew—sent him to his room without batteries for his Christmas toys . . . That's earl, brother.

A Look at TV

Kind Words for 'I Spy'

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I have this friend, Max, who loves New York. You tell him something terrible about New York and he always has something wonderful to answer you with.

You tell him "traffic" and he tells you "Luchow's." You say "muggings" and he says "East 62nd Street." You tell him "weather" and he tells you "The Plaza."

As you can see, logic is not one of Max's strong points. But we all have our loyalties, and today I would like to put in a few kind words for one of mine: the television series "I Spy," which is doing poorly in the ratings this season, but which is nevertheless still the very best weekly entertainment show in prime time on any network.

It is the best regular program because the boss, Sheldon Leonard, has gone all the way with its cool, contemporary flavor, and because its two stars, Robert Cupl and Bill Cosby, are simply superb week in and week out, individually and as a team.

It doesn't matter whether the stories are all outstanding—the remarkable thing is having such a team of stars giving us such splendid company every week.

FAR AHEAD

Their characterizations are virtually light years ahead of almost every other one in prime time television.

The fact that one of the stars is Negro was historic when the series began; at this point the pleasant fact is that it doesn't matter one way or the other.

Cosby, of course, got most of the publicity in connection with the series, and awards too. But much as I like him, I confess my favorite is Culp.

★ ★ ★

If all of this praise sounds premeditated in purpose, that is because it is.

Decisions are being made about the futures of various series that are wobbly in the ratings—and "I Spy" is certainly on NBC-TV's list of statistical headaches.

Icy Typewriter Proves Her Case

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Edna Smith, town welfare officer, offered in evidence a frozen typewriter to support her plea before the town Board of Supervisors for heat in her office.

She told the board she found the machine frozen when she came to work Wednesday morning after the temperature hit 19 below zero here. The board approved her request.

Job Outlook Is Brighter for '68 College Graduates

EAST LANSING (AP) — The job outlook for 1968 college graduates will be better than ever with average starting salaries expected to increase about six per cent, says a Michigan State University expert.

John Shingleton, director of the MSU Placement Bureau, said demand for this year's June graduates already is up from last year.

Graduates most in demand continue to be those with degrees in engineering, the technical and scientific areas and accounting. A slight tapering off has been noted in the demand for engineering students, probably due to cutbacks in the space program, he said.

Heavy demand also continues for graduates in business administration, education and agriculture-business.

WOMEN GRADUATES

Women graduates are sought for the fields of mathematics, processing, statistics, general business and accounting.

There is at present in use a vegetable picking machine that travels along rows picking produce by radio impulse.

Two-Thirds Pass

LANSING (UPI) —Two-thirds of the nearly 31,000 Michigan high school seniors who are aiming for state scholarships to begin college next fall have passed the competitive examinations.

Ole Miss is the nickname of the University of Mississippi.

Driving Program Slated

The Inter-Industry Highway Foundation of Michigan and the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County will present a slide program at the Jan. 10 meeting of the Northside Kiwanis Club.

The program boosts a recommended plan for improving existing driver education courses and is being presented to service organizations throughout Oakland County.

Illegitimate births have increased 83 per cent since 1950.

'N. Viet Asking for Peace Talk Site'

From Our News Wires

North Vietnam has asked Laos, Cambodia, and Burma if their capitals are available for preliminary Vietnam peace talks, a well-informed Laotian source said today.

U. S. Embassy sources admitted they had heard of the approach by Hanoi, but they were noncommittal.

Meanwhile Chester Bowles, U.S. ambassador to India, was identified by the Washington Post as the man President Johnson will send to Cambodia for talks with Prince Sihanouk about the problem of Red sanctuary in that country.

★ ★ ★

Diplomatic sources in Saigon said North Vietnam has expressed a willingness to accept Indonesia as a mediator in helping settle the Vietnam conflict.

The Laotian source who reported the North Vietnamese overture concerning the three capitals said it was made New Year's Day by Nguyen Chan, North Vietnamese Charge de'Affaires, who was seen in conversation with Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The premier reportedly agreed Vientiane could be the site for talks that might help end the war in Vietnam, but Laotian officials expressed belief Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, was a more likely site.

The report that Bowles would draw the assignment to Cambodia was neither confirmed nor denied by State Department officials in Washington.

At issue in such talks, suggested last week by the Cambodian chief of state, is what U.S. officials term growing use of Cambodia as a sanctuary for North Vietnamese and Vietcong troops battling the United States and her allies in South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The Post said Bowles possibly would be named today. Speculation elsewhere was he would be named at Secretary of State Dean Rusk's Washington news conference today.

The Saigon sources said North Vietnam ambassador Pham Binh told Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik in Jakarta early last month his nation would "promptly enter into peace negotiations with the United States after an unconditional bombing cessation."

They reported Binh told Malik that Hanoi would "gladly accept" Indonesia as a mediator in the Vietnam conflict.

The sources said Washington is presumed to have studied the message for any clue of North Vietnamese willingness for earnest talks.

They said Binh's message basically mirrored a weekend statement in Hanoi by North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh.

WORD 'WILL' USED

Trinh said North Vietnam "will" talk when the United States has "unconditionally stopped its bombing and all other war acts" against the Communist nation, Hanoi radio reported.

In Paris, well-informed sources said North Vietnam had indicated to the French government it is ready and willing to talk peace with Washington as soon as the bombing of North Vietnam is stopped.

North Vietnam's latest stand on the possibilities of talks with the United States is somewhat more precise than previous statements, French officials said.

★ ★ ★

Information Minister Georges Gorse told newsmen that Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville had reported the latest statement "added some precisions, compared with what we already knew about the positions of the North Vietnamese government."

★ ★ ★

Gorse did not go into detail, but in answer to a question said the French government was taking "no particular action" in connection with Vietnam.

Food Poisoning Victims May Total 150 in Area

By ED BLUNDEN

More than 100 persons in the Oakland County area have contacted food poisoning from a Birmingham restaurant since New Year's Eve. Health authorities fear the number may go as high as 150.

The source of the food poisoning has been traced to cooked corned beef sold at Alban's Bottle and Basket, 190 N. Hunter.

Some 3,000 pounds of it was prepared for the holiday and much of it sold for carry-out, health authorities said.

Some of the meat is probably still in refrigerators in area homes and should be destroyed, authorities warned.

Robert T. Coleman, county director of environmental health, said the outbreak was first reported from Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak on New Year's Eve. Four persons who attended a private party all became ill.

A second outbreak was reported by a Waterford Township family and the two cases were linked to the Birmingham source.

This was immediately investigated by environmental health authorities, Coleman said, and the meat and the meat handlers tested.

In order to establish exactly the source of infection cultures have to be studied, a process which will take another two days, he said. However, all possible sources of contamination have been taken care of, Coleman said.

"Alban's has been completely cooperative with the health department," Coleman said. A spokesman at the store said all questionable food sources have been destroyed. The restaurant remains open today with the health department's sanction.

DISCOMFORT

The disease is labeled "staphyloccocal food poisoning" and causes extreme discomfort for seven to eight hours, normally.

★ ★ ★

However, persons with chronic ailments such as heart disease or diabetes may be more greatly affected, Coleman warned.

★ ★ ★

He said hospitalization has been required for some of those affected and other cases were continuing to report today.

OCC Wins Legal Fight With Subdivision Residents

A two-year legal hassle between Oakland Community College and residents of a subdivision in Bloomfield Hills ended yesterday with Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams upholding the position of the college.

Adams ruled that the college was not in violation of deed restrictions in using property in the Hyup Subdivision for its administrative offices.

Some 20 residents in the Opdyke-Hickory Grove area started the suit against the college in December 1965. The suit asked $1 million in damages.

In ruling favorably for the college, Adams also settled another suit brought by the home owners against the former owners of the propeerty, Bee Hive, Inc. The company was accused of violating deed restrictions in selling the property to the college.

★ ★ ★

Adams found that the building used by the college for offices is not subject to subdivision restrictions, though its use as offices is limited under a variance granted to the previous owners years ago.

CHANGES PERMITTED

Remodiling or replacing the building is also permitted under Adams' ruling as long as the present restrictions are followed.

To comply, the building must be no more than one story high, nor more than 275 feet long by 110 feet wide. It cannot be used by more than 100 persons.

The home used by the college president must remain a single-family residence, according to Adams, and the gate house on the premises must not accomodate more than 15 employes.

In mid-November, Clark dismissed a suit brought against the college by Bloomfield Hills. The city had charged that the college was violating zoning restrictions by moving its offices onto the property.

At that time Adams ruled that the city could not regulate a state educational agency.

Romney a Setup for Nixon in N.H.?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, who concedes he trails Richard M. Nixon in popularity polls, "may be a setup" for Nixon in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, says a liberal GOP group.

The Ripon Society said in its current newsletter a Nixon-Romney contest in New Hampshire could be similar to the West Virginia Democratic primary of 1960 in which John F. Kennedy defeated Hubert H. Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

"Romney may be a setup for Nixon just as Humphrey was for Kennedy," the Ripon Society said.

"As John Kennedy demonstrated in 1960, a landslide victory, even over an opponent who never really had a chance, can be made a convincing selling point in the campaign for delegate votes in other states."

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh announced yesterday he has found a successor to Police Commissioner Ray Girardin. Cavanagh declined to name the man but said he has accepted the post.

The mayor said he would name the new commissioner soon.

City Tax Foes Ask to Enter Court Case

A petition requesting intervention in a Circuit Court case involving Pontiac's on-again, off-again income tax was filed yesterday.

Robert E. Cunningham, attorney representing Cecil C. Mullinix of 571 Lowell and a group of city income tax foes, asked permission to enter a case started by a Pontiac fireman and a policeman.

The plaintiffs have asked for a permanent order restraining the city and City Commission, defendents in the suit, from setting a referendum election on the income tax ordinance passed by city commissioners in the fall.

A hearing was held today to discuss the validity of petitions requesting such an election. Some 1,900 signatures were filed at City Hall three weeks ago.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley subsequently verified enough valid signatures to call an election but, before the commission could, the suit was filed.

The suit claims that the petitions are not valid and that a referendum election should not be held, thus allowing city income tax collections.

Judge William J. Beer was to decide on the intervention motion while continuing to hear arguements by City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant and Winston L. Livingston, attorney for the plaintiffs.

U.S. Hit in Viet House

SAIGON (UPI) — Rep. Nguyen The Linh today denounced the United States on the floor of the House of Representatives as "the second enemy of the South Vietnamese people after the Communists."

Linh said the United States planned to contact the Vietcong and possibly make a deal with the Communists without the concurrence of the South Vietnamese government.

Arctic Cold Wave Is Tightening Grip

The frigid forecast in the Pontiac area is part of a national weather picture that has an Arctic cold wave blanketing most of the Midwest.

Snow or snow flurries are expected in most of the state today, with winds and falling temperatures expected to sweep through Michigan late this afternoon.

The low tonight will range from zero to five above in downtown Pontiac, and zero to 10 below in outlying areas.

Mostly cloudy and cold with a chance of scattered snow flurries is tomorrow's prediction. Partly cloudy with possible snow flurries is Saturday's outlook.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight and tomorrow 10.

A low of 9 above was the recording in downtown Pontiac at 8 a.m. The mercury had edged up to 14 by 12:30 p.m.

Pontiac Div. 1967 Sales a Record

Pontiac Motor Division sold more cars in 1967 than in any other year in the division's history, John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and divisional general manager, said today.

★ ★ ★

A record 836,937 units were sold in the year compared to 834,843 in the previous year.

Related Story, Page C-15

DeLorean also pointed out that this marked the sixth consecutive all-time record for Pontiac.

"We're proud to be the only manufacturer in the industry to have increased both our sales and market penetration every year since 1962," he added.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac currently is selling in third place in the industry for the eighth consecutive year.

SALES BREAKDOWN

In 1967 the division sold 441,234 regular-sized Pontiacs; 295,847 Tempests and 99,856 Firebirds.

DeLorean also said that 64,658 cars were sold in December compared to 66,647 the previous year. In the final 10 days of 1967 a total of 20,100 units were sold.

En route to its best year ever, Pontiac established five monthly and 11 ten-day all-time sales records.

Legislature to Get Crime Issue?

LANSING (AP) — The problem of crime and riots may be added to the already heavy agenda of controversial issues facing the Michigan Legislature in 1968.

The lawmakers already have before them bills on open housing—defeated by the House of Representatives in a special session in December—and lower court reorganization.

★ ★ ★

Now the governor's commission on crime has asked that its recommendations in a 40-page report issued Wednesday be submitted to the Legislature for action.

Acting Gov. William Milliken, who accepted the report for Gov. George Romney on the eve of his return from his world tour, declined to predict what action the governor would take.

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES

At least three of the recommendations made by the 57-member citizens group would be certain to generate considerable heat if they emerged in the legislative session which begins Jan. 10.

The group, appointed by Romney in July 1966 as "another weapon in this armory of defenses" against crime, Wednesday called for new laws which would:

● Permit police, with circuit court permission, to use electronic eavesdropping devices in probing cases involving organized crime or corruption of public officals.

● Allow a county prosecutor, again by petitioning a circuit court, to grant immunity to witness in criminal cases and compel them to testify about self-incriminating matters.

★ ★ ★

● Revive the system under which all judicial vacancies in courts of record would be filled by appointment of the governor.

Missing from the list of 25 commission recommendations were "stop and frisk" and subpoena powers for prosecutors.

TO STUDY PROPOSALS

Milliken stopped short of saying the Romney administration would recommend exactly the legislation the 40-page document proposed.

"Both the governor and I will study the commission's recommendations thoroughly before submitting this administration's proposals to the Legislature," he said.

★ ★ ★

The commission predicted its eavesdropping proposal, which would include limited authority for law officers to listen in on telephone conservations, would be held consitutional under recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

The commission proposal would require a prosecutor to certify to the judge that electronic eavesdropping is the only reasonable way of getting the needed evidence. The request would have to spell out the type of conservation sought and the telephone line or place to be "bugged."

IMMUNITY POWER

Immunity-granting power for prosecutors was approved by the state House of Representatives last year, but didn't emerge from committee in the Senate.

A companion bill, also advocated by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, to allow prosecutors to subpoena witnesses, still is in committee.

★ ★ ★

Designed to skirt the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination, the immunity grant could require a person to testify about a crime in which he was involved but would make it impossible to prosecute the person using evidence he revealed against himself.

★ ★ ★

The commission also suggested amending the state constitution to allow the governor to fill all vacant judgeships and to appoint persons to all new judicial posts—including the proposed new district court system.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS

Under the 1908 constitution the governor filled judicial vacancies. Since the 1963 constitution was adopted, vacancies are filled in special elections.

Likely to win legislative approval without too stormy a battle are other commission recommendations dealing with racial riots.

★ ★ ★

Those included outlawing possession of incendiaries, making it a crime to interfere with an on-duty fireman, and granting to mayors, sheriffs and the state police director authority to declare states of emergency.

The commission also called for a vigorous attempt by police to recruit Negro and other minority officers, coupled with "a greater effort by minority group community leadership to bring forth police recruits from among their own youth."

Realtor Tickets Still Available

Tickets still are available for Wednesday's 47th annual Pontiac Board of Realtors banquet, at the Elks Lodge, 114 Orchard Lake.

Main speaker for the 6:30 p.m. dinner will be Dr. Thomas Stephens Haggai, noted lecturer and radio personality.

Dr. Haggai, a former Baptist minister, has averaged a speech a day for the last five years. He ran his own syndicated daily program, "Values for Living."

Banquet tickets are $6.50. Contact any Pontiac realtor or Warren Newton at First Federal Savings of Oakland, 761 W. Huron, for additional information or tickets.

★ ★ ★

The realtor of the year award will be given that evening, and new officers will be installed.

Roof Falls In on Grand Jury

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — The grand jury was discussing a series of recent bombings Wednesday, when suddenly there was a loud crash and part of the ceiling went thundering to the floor.

It wasn't another bombing—just a workman in the attic above who stepped on a weak section of the flooring and crashed through. The unidentified workman wasn't injured.

Board Under Fire Again on Teacher Negotiations

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education has again drawn fire from district residents on teacher negotiations.

James Norris, 1278 Lakeside, rose, after regular business had been transacted, to ask if the board were "presiding over the destruction of the school system."

Board President Pell Hollingshead said he felt that the board was doing all in its power to prevent harm to the system and pointed to situations developing in other area school districts due to millage losses and cutbacks, such as Troy and Waterford Township.

In response to questions from residents on the possibility of a millage election to raise additional funds for salaries and supplementary pay, one board member replied that the first requirement for such action would be an agreement with the Birmingham Education Association (BEA), so that the board could give specific information to the community on millage needs.

★ ★ ★

During the regular meeting, the board heard a curriculum report from Mrs. Louise Couture, coordinator of the foreign language department.

AVAILABLE IN 4TH GRADE

Since September 1964, Birmingham has joined other districts in making foreign language instruction available at the fourth grade level.

Mrs. Couture's presentation showed that in French, the most popular language, the new program has resulted in increased participation at the high school level.

French is the only language which is offered as an elective in the fourth grade. Spanish is offered in seventh grade, and German and Latin in 10th grade.

★ ★ ★

The board scheduled a special meeting for Monday night at 8 to receive and discuss a report on high school facilities. The meeting will take place in the Baldwin School gymnasium, at Chester and Martin.

★ ★ ★

According to officials, the board has received a partial proposition from the BEA, and is presently awaiting the remainder, which may be given at a negotiating session slated for tonight.

Yule Tree Burning Is Hazardous

Pontiac fire officials warned area residents today to use care burning Christmas trees.

Fire Marshal Charles Metz cautioned that most trees are too large to burn whole in fireplaces and such practice could create a heat hazard.

"Igniting the entire tree at once gets a pretty hot blaze going," he said, "and since the tree is probably too big to fit in the fireplace completely, the burning area can't be screened in to prevent sparks from escaping."

Sawing the tree into small parts and burning it slowly would be best, he said.

★ ★ ★

Metz pointed out that a city ordinance requires burning outside to be done in containers large enough to hold the entire material being burned.

"Also," he said, "Pontiac residents can simply put their trees out at their front curbs for trash pickups."

U.S. War Dead Up Despite Yule Truce

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam War increased during Christmas week despite ceasefires proclaimed by both sides, but the number of wounded dropped sharply, the U.S. Command reported today.

South Vietnamese government casualties decreased slightly, the number of enemy killed dropped, but those of other allied forces increased over the totals reported the week before.

The U.S. Command said 185 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 166 the week before. The number of wounded was 437 last week, compared with 1,361 the previous week.

★ ★ ★

Of the 437 wounded, the U.S. Command said, 130 did not require hospitalization.

NEW TOTALS

The new totals raised to 15,997 the number of Americans killed in action in the Vietnam war and the number of wounded to 99,742. Another 878 Americans are listed as missing or captured.

More than half the American combat casualties were recorded in 1967: 9,353 killed and 72,209 wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 227 government troops killed last week, 556 wounded and 63 missing. The previous week 234 were reported killed, 629 wounded and 26 missing.

Other allied forces reported 37 men killed last week and 47 wounded, compared with 20 killed and 34 wounded a week earleir. None was listed as missing.

RED TOLL DIPS

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported a total of 1,438 enemy killed last week, down from a readjusted total of 1,674 a week earlier. Of the combined count for last week, 815 enemy were reported killed by South Vietnamese forces and 623 by U.S. and other allied forces.

The U.S. Command said American military strength in South Vietnam climbed to 486,000 last week, up 8,000 from the 478,000 reported a week earlier.

GETTING READY FOR SUNDAY — A roll of freshly printed six-cent Franklin D. Roosevelt postage stamps is examined by Chester Harucki, superintendent of the postage stamp division of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. The Post Office Department has about four million of these stamps on hand, as well as some 1.4 billion penny stamps, to meet the higher postal rates. Starting Sunday, it will cost six cents for domestic first class mail.

Area Man Hit by Car, Killed

A 72-year-old pedestrian died after being struck by a car last night on Cora Street east of Nine Mile in Farmington Township.

★ ★ ★

James W. McCracken, 72, of 22415 Haynes, Farmington Township, was believed to be walking home from work at Quigley Industries, 30966 Grand River, when the accident occurred at about 9:45 p.m. township police said.

Driver of the car, Richard R. Kelm, 18, of 21741 Purdue, Farmington Township, told police he was passing another car on Cora when his car hit McCracken who was walking in the middle of the lane.

The victim, who was dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital, was dressed in dark clothing, police said.

The accident is still under investigation by township police.

Waterford Woman Saves Boy, 3, From Drowning

A Waterford Township woman rescued a 3-year-old boy from a canal yesterday afternoon after the child apparently had slipped into the water while trying to feed ducks.

The boy, Thomas C. Chester III, son of Thomas C. Chester Jr. of 3388 Coseyburn, Waterford Township, was kept overnight at Pontiac General Hospital, but was discharged today.

Thomas fell into the canal, which flows into Loon Lake, and the current carried him underneath a bridge, according to witnesses.

Mrs. Joyce Horton of 3383 Coseyburn, who was summoned by the boy's playmates, pulled Thomas from the water after sighting his coat.

★ ★ ★

Thomas's father then applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and revived the boy. A rescue squad from the Waterford Township Fire Department also gave oxygen to the boy for five minutes.

The mishap occurred at about 2:30.

Heart Valve Transplanted; Patient Dies

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mrs. Ona Churchman died Wednesday night—unable to survive the operation in which doctors had transplanted a human valve into her heart.

★ ★ ★

The 72-year-old seamstress from Newberg, Ore., died about five and a half hours after the operation. Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland said she suffered a sudden heart irregularity, known as ventricular fibrillation.

★ ★ ★

The doctors who performed the transplant said the new valve functioned properly at all times. The hospital said that "both the patient and the doctors were aware of the risks of open heart surgery in any form in this age group."

SIX-HOUR OPERATION

Dr. Melvin Reeves, who headed the surgical team, had warned that the first 24 hours after the transplant would be the most critical. The operation lasted six hours. Soon after surgery, Mrs. Churchman was reported in good condition, but then she became worse.

Petition Filed for Inquest in Teen's Death

A petition requesting an inquest into the death of Jimmie King was filed yesterday with the Oakland County Health director, Dr. Bernard D. Berman, by Julian Cook, a local attorney.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Berman said he will have to have advice from the county's corporation counsel before deciding on his next move since King's body was sent to Oklahoma for burial shortly after his death.

King, 17, was shot early Dec. 7 by two Pontiac police officers after a chase. Officers said King was driving a stolen car when they spotted him.

The youth tried to escape in the car, then on foot, and was shot after being warned to halt, the police said.

★ ★ ★

State statutes allow the county medical examiner to order a coroner's inquest into any violent death.

ONE INTERPRETATION

But, according to at least one interpretation, the inquest must be held in view of the body. Since King has been buried, his body presumably would have to be exhumed for an inquest ordered by the county medical authorities.

Robert P. Allen, corporation counsel, said he was not able to say today just what legal steps would be necessary to conduct an inquest.

San Francisco has the highest suicide rate of any of the U.S. cities; 98 per cent of the suicides are local people.

$33.3 Million to State Roads

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The state of Michigan will receive $33.3 million in federal funds for highway construction during the next three months, the Transportation Department announced yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The money is the state's share of $1.1 billion allocated by the department for projects across the country.

★ ★ ★

The funds will enable the state Highway Department to schedule projects and let contracts as well as to reimburse contractors for work already performed

TB Skin Tests Offered to 11,000 Pontiac Pupils

About 11,000 Pontiac public and parochial school children are eligible to participate in the tuberculosis skin testing program to be held Monday through Feb. 2.

Parents must sign consent cards and return them to school in order for tests to be given to students in grades one, five, nine through 12 and special education, according to Miss Josephine Bulla, coordinator of school health services.

"The tuberculin skin test is a safe and reliable method of detecting exposure to tuberculosis," says Miss Bulla.

"A positive reaction does not necessarily mean that a person has tuberculosis but only that some germs have entered the body at some time."

★ ★ ★

The local health department will arrange for all positive reactors and members of their families to have a free chest X ray.

Pontiac's program is sponsored by the Pontiac Schools Health Services, Oakland County Health Department and Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project.

Heart Recipient 'Fine;' NBC Fights for Photos

CAPE TOWN (AP) — South Africa's second man to get a transplanted heart was reported getting along fine today. Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to Court in an attempt to protect a contract for exclusive television coverage of the historic medical event.

McKENZIE

In a morning bulletin, Groote Schuur Hospital said the condition of Dr. Philip Blaiberg, in whose chest the heart of a young factory worker was grafted Tuesday, "is very good."

★ ★ ★

"He is making satisfactory progress," the bulletin said. "He is fully conscious. He has had no solid foods yet, but generally he is in very good spirits."

The bulletin gave no other details, but Dr. Jacobus Burger, medical superintendent of the hospital, said chances that Blaiberg' body would reject the alien heart were "very remote."

TAKING FLUIDS

A hospital spokesman said the 58-year-old retired dentist began taking fluids by mouth Wednesday, less than 24 hours after the five-hour operation. The spokesman said he might be given some soft-boiled egg today.

Blaiberg is expected to remain in an oxygen tent for another three or four days. He was under constant observation, with checks being made on his pulse rate and blood pressure at least every half hour. His blood gases are analyzed twice daily, and the chemical content of the blood is tested every four hours.

CAN'T SEE WIFE

The hospital spokesman said to guard against infection and too much emotion, Blaiberg would not be allowed to see his wife for several days.

The spokesman also said that radioactive cobalt treatment to counteract the body's natural tendency to reject a foreign object—the transplanted heart—would begin within a few days.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who headed the surgical team for the transplant on Blaiberg and for medical history's first recorded heart transplant Dec. 3 on Louis Washkansky, had indicated that Blaiberg would be given less antirejection treatment than Washkansky. The treatment was believed a factor conducive to the pneumonia which killed Washkansky 18 days after the operation.

Meanwhile, the National Broadcasting Company went to court in an attempt to block a South African photographer who it said threatened to infringe on its contract with Blaiberg and his wife for exclusive photo coverage and interviews before, during and after the operation.

PAYMENTS

NBC said it contracted with Dr. and Mrs. Blaiberg last Friday to pay them $9,000 for exclusive films and interviews before the operation, $25,000 for "publication of the first exclusive film or pictures of the operation," and $16,000 for exlusive coverage afterward.

Dr. Barnard refused to permit NBC to photograph the operation, and court sources said this apparently would reduce the Blaibergs' take $25,000. But NBC in an affidavit to the Supreme Court said photographer Don McKenzie slipped into the gallery of the operating theater and made photographs of the operation before Dr. M.C. Botha, a member of the surgical team, ejected him.

★ ★ ★

Justice Basil F.J. Banks issued an order temporarily restraining McKenzie from selling or disposing of photographs relating to the operation. He was ordered to appear for a hearing Jan. 17 to determine whether the restraining order should be made permanent.

NBC said McKenzie flew to Johannesburg Wednesday, and the court order was sent after him. The Cape Times said he was a fashion photographer well known in social circles.

★ ★ ★

Lucy Jarvis, the NBC producer preparing a documentary on heart transplants, said in New York Dr. Barnard had given the network full cooperation until he returned from the United States, then "we found ourselves completely shut out, and we were not able to do our coverage."

"We went to the Blaibergs to protect ourselves, and they agreed," Mrs. Jarvis said.

"They needed the money—the costly illness had cut into their savings—if they did not sell it to us, they would have sold it to someone else."

There was no indication whether the Blaibergs planned to pass along any of the NBC money to the widow of Clive Haupt, the 24-year-old factory worker whose heart was transplanted to Blaiberg. He died of a stroke several hours before the operation.

Dow Purchases Midland Land

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. is the successful bidder for 20 acres of city-owned land, city officials reported. The price offered was $85,000.

Midland City Manager Fred L. Yockey said only one other bid was made by Thomas J. McCann for $80,000.

Sale of the property, once purchased for potential park use, was authorized by voters in a special Dec. 5 election.

Dow expects to use the land as a part of an expansion program in the area.

Husband Hunts Pretty Strange Game When He Leaves Artillery Behind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you think if your husband could hardly wait for the hunting season to open. And then he took off in the middle of the night for a four-day hunting trip and forgot his rifle? I thank you.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I would think that he did not intend to shoot whatever it was that he set out to hunt.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old woman, facing eye surgery which could cost me my eyesight, but that is not my problem. My problem is my 41-year-old daughter. She is married and lives in the same town, but I have not been able to contact her or see my grandchildren for five years.

My daughter started growing distant toward me when her husband was promoted and they moved into a fine big home. Then she broke off with me completely. When I call her house her maid says she is not in. I have left my number, but she never calls me back.

When I call my son-in-law at his office, his secretary gives me the same story. I have written letters to her, but she never answers. On Mother's day and Christmas I never hear from her.

I am not a drunk or a dope and have done nothing to make her ashamed of me. I go to church and have never interfered in her life. My husband (her father) deserted us when she was a child so I went to work and gave her a good home and put her through college.

I have spoken with my minister and hers too, and they both tell me their hands are tied and their authority is limited. Please tell me what to do. Life isn't worth living anymore.

LONELY IN GREENVILLE, N. C.

★ ★ ★

DEAR LONELY: It seems highly unlikely that this is the whole story. But if it is, your daughter is heartless beyond b e l i e f. In any case, your only course is to accept the fact that she has chosen to ignore you. Put all thoughts of her out of your mind as best you can. Not an easy pill to swallow, but it's better than consuming yourself with the pain and sorrow that now dominate your life.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I would like to help all "young marrieds" who find it difficult to address their husbands' mothers as "Mother":

★ ★ ★

When I made my first visit to the doctor's office after my first baby was born the nurse motioned to me, and said, "You're next, Mother." I knew she wasn't addressing me as HER mother.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly I realized that she addressed all of us with children as "Mother." Immediately my vision was broadened, and I came to understand that "Mother" applied to all women with children. That was the moment I was lifted out of the narrow rut of thinking that the title belonged only to my own mother.

★ ★ ★

I soon put this knowledge to practice. When I wanted to attract the attention of friends, neighbors, or even strangers, I would say, "Mother, watch your little one." You'd be surprised how quickly they reacted, having been reminded that they were mothers.

★ ★ ★

The title is rightly theirs, and never interfered with the special meaning it held for my own dear mother.

★ ★ ★

If we would use the term freely, the next generation would learn from our example and thus a l l e v i a t e a sticky problem.

★ ★ ★

Thank you for the privilege of sharing these thoughts with you.

'A" OF ALABAMA

★ ★ ★

DEAR "A:" And thank you for having shared them.

Start Teaching Your Youngster Meaning of 'No'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My 10-month-old daughter and I are often invited to friends' homes for afternoon visits. Though most of them have small children also, none of my friends remove ash trays, magazines, and other objects from their living rooms, as I do.

Although I take toys with me, my daughter is more interested in exploring her new surroundings. I feel I have two alternatives: to remove those things she might break or to hold her on my lap, which limits my visit to about 10 minutes. May I have your suggestion in this matter. — Charlotte O.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. O.: It is never too soon to start teaching a child the meaning of "No" and "Don't touch," but 10 months is certainly too young to expect her to invariably accept those regulations. Therefore, when your daughter sets her sights on a forbidden object, you must quietly place it out of her reach.

Visiting with babies is never easy, especially if they are not interested in the diversions offered them.

So, until your daughter understands the meaning of "No," plan on short visits, and restrict them to the homes of good friends where you will be less nervous if the baby does create a problem.

A Son for the Bronsons

A son, Stephen David, was born Dec. 22 to Cpl. and Mrs. Daniel Bronson.

Cpl. Bronson is stationed with the United State Marine Corps in Saigon, Vietnam and Mrs. Bronson is staying with her parents, the Frank Saylors of Bloomfield Hills.

Paternal grandparents are the Donald Bronsons of Oxford.

Pancake Supper at Kingswood for Foreign Student Program

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Kingswood's fourth annual Pancake Supper takes place at the school on Jan. 13. Mrs. G. T. Christiansen is the general chairman. Proceeds from the pancake supper support Kingswood's foreign exchange program.

Mrs. Christiansen is well acquainted with the program's usefulness, having had a foreign student in her home, as well as having her daughters, Karen and Peggy, benefit from it as summer exchange students in Europe.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edward Lerchen is chairman of the foreign exchange program. Serving with her on this committee are Mesdames: John Bagby, David Burton, Elizabeth Daunic, Robert Fisher, Herbert Sott, and T. F. Walker.

This year's foreign exchange students at Kingswood are Tamiko Shibuya of Japan who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Jean Carpenter of Warner Drive and Laila Temmes of Finland who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Zoltan Horvath of Bloomfield Hills.

In charge of the evening's activities are Mesdames William Mitchell and Charles L. Wilson Jr. who are responsible for the decorations; Mrs. Richard Kelley, publicity; Mesdames James May, William Douglas for the fashion show and ski movie.

Others are Mrs. Frazer F. Hilder and Mrs. William Chisholm, treasurer.

SERVING

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 in the dining room. Here committee members will be working under the direction of Mrs. Richard VanDusen.

Among those assisting her will be Mesdames: Thomas Austin, E. Bryce Alpern, Mark Jung, Lind Wilson, Richard Flannery, Ross Hansen, Richard Jones, Robert B. Knight, Richard Schlegal, Rodkey Craighead, George Derr and Harry Wieting.

In the Wenger Gymnasium each class will have a booth open for some good shopping.

Also in the gym, "The Eccentrics" will play for the sock hop. And, in the auditorium, Kingswood and Cranbrook models will be displaying ski clothes from Don Thomas' Sporthaus.

Edgar A. Guest III Tells of OU Theatre's History

The story of the establishment of Meadow Brook Theatre of Oakland University was the program presented by guest speaker Edgar A. Guest III in slides and narration before the members of the Round Table Club Tuesday.

Mrs. William A. Gordon presided at the tea table for the meeting in the YWCA.

Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Bradley D. Scott, Mrs. D. R. Lazelle and Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon.

OU Student Realizes Dramatic Turn of Events

Little did Patricia Carson think when she decided to attend Oakland University that she would be on the professional stage in less than a year.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the Robert L. Carsons of Chapman Street, Pat will be in the production of "And People All Around," the Meadow Brook Theatre play opening Jan. 19. She is a member of the chorus which is like the ones in Greek plays.

★ ★ ★

Although Pat has sung ever since she can remember and took part in all the vocal concerts at Washington Junior High and Pontiac Central High Schools, she has never done any acting

But she volunteered to help when Oakland University students decided to take over the old barn on campus and make a theatre out of it. She worked on the costume committee for the fall play, "Stop the World I Want to Get Off."

John Broome who is codirecting the George Sklar play on civil rights was helping with the choreography of the student play and met Patricia then.

READ

Just before Christmas she was called in to read for Broome and George Guidall, the other director. Two days before Christmas, she knew she had the part.

There have been a few OU students who have had parts in the Meadow Brook plays; but Pat is the first freshman to make the grade. She is still surprised by her good fortune.

Going on the stage, even as a singer, has not been part of her life's plan. True, she loves to sing and intends to continue raising her voice. But she is studying to be a psychologist or a psychotherapist.

★ ★ ★

The Carsons have lived in Pontiac since Patricia was six. They have one other daughter, Berdena, 16.

Their whereabouts on the night of Jan. 19 is in no doubt at all. They'll be in the audience in Wilson Auditorium waiting for Pat to make her debut as an actress.

Unit Will Join Club Federation

Mrs. Hans Schjolin, Oakland County Federation of Women's Club president, will give a special welcome to the newest Federation member, the Hazel Park Junior Women's Club on Friday.

★ ★ ★

The Federation meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Oakridge Women's Club and hosted by this group.

★ ★ ★

Taking part in the program will be Mrs. Mitchell Jonski, Mrs. Ross Rife, Mrs. Thomas Winn, Mrs. Robert Meshew and Mrs. Forbes Hascall.

Others include Mrs. Helge Rognlie, Mrs. W a y n e Andrews, Earl Grisdale and William Adams of the "People to People" program.

★ ★ ★

Following a noon luncheon, Mrs. William F. Krueger will introduce Kenneth Earl from the International Salt Company who will describe the huge salt mines underlying the city of Detroit.

Employment Expert Talks to Women

Merrill Walls, employment manager for Michigan Employment Security Commission, spoke on "Development of Human Resources" at Wednesday's meeting of Tipacon Charter chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Mrs. Sigmund Fitz introduced the guest at a gathering in the Elk's Temple. Members heard that Nancy Leo, a past scholarship recipient, had accepted a teaching position at Wing Lake School.

Mrs. Elmer Coleman was a guest.

Patricia Carson, a freshman at Oakland University, has been chosen to play in the Meadow Brook Theatre production of George Sklar's "And People All Around." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Carson of Chapman Street.

Odorous Theater in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — When Mary Maloian buys a bottle of scent she's likely to pick out Wet Dog at $9.20 a pound or a quart of Green Pastures at $51.75.

What is a dark-haired receptionist and tour guide like Mary doing buying smells like these? Well, Mary operates a unique odorous movie "theatre".

The theater, in the Borg-Warner Science Hall, is formally known as the "environment chamber." It features a 25-minute film tracing man's progress in controlling his environment, from the cave to the home of tomorrow.

Temperatures, humidity, lighting panels and doors — 12 in all — change almost instantaneously in synchronization with the picture on the screen. At one point the temperature drops from 110 to 50 degrees and the humidity from 90 to 50 per cent in two seconds!

Susan Carol Meger and Pfc. Randall B. Ratliff, USA, are planning June vows. Their parents are the Chester C. Megers of Oakmont Street, Pontiac Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ratliff of Churchill Street, also Pontiac Township. Pfc. Ratliff is presently stationed in Bonnholder, Germany.

Reception Follows Rite

A reception in Guinn's Banquet Hall followed Friday evening bows for Donna Jeanne Mutz and Gerald Eugene Callender.

★ ★ ★

The bridal ensemble featured a white satin sleeveless sheath with matching coat and elbow length sleeves.

★ ★ ★

To complete her outfit the bride chose a cluster of net forming a petal attached to her illusion veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mutz Sr. of East Beverly Street, was Lillian Sexton. Susan Dunnigan was bridesmaid.

★ ★ ★

Standing as best man was Brian Black with ushers Wayne Plummer and Dennis and Darryl Schumacher. The bridegroom is the son of the William L. Callenders of Cedar Street.

The newlyweds left for a Niagara Falls and east coast honeymoon.

Two Faces for Shades

NEW YORK (UPI) — Should window shades throughout the house look the same from the outside?

"Yes and no," says Mary Davis Gillies, author of "The Elegant World of Window Shades." The total appearance of the house is the determining factor.

In contemporary homes with windows of assorted sizes, the shades need not match. If the house is traditional and has orderly window placement, shades should be of the two-faced type, with color or pattern on the room side only, and a uniform look from the street.

A cup of borax added to washing water will bring shine to mirrors.

Ice Slips Glazed Belt on U. S. Midsection

By the Associated Press

Severe cold—some of the worst of the season—numbed the northern Plains today while freezing drizzle again glazed the country from Oklahoma to the Appalachians.

The latest in a rapid succession of arctic cold snaps pushed the mercury down to 33 below zero at Williston, in western North Dakota, before dawn. The Weather Bureau indicated readings lower than 40 below were likely.

The new polar invasion was expected to overspread the entire Midwest by Friday.

Driving remained hazardous for residents of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee as the result of an onslaught of freezing drizzle, sleet and light snow which has plagued the region since New Year's Day.

SNOW WARNINGS

Heavy snow warnings were issued for states east of the ice storm belt. The Weather Bureau forecast accumulations of more than 4 inches for mountain sections of the Virginias and Maryland, already coated with ice after Wednesday's sleet and freezing rain.

The Christmas - New Year's holiday continued for many school children in Oklahoma, Kentucky and Tennessee due to ice-coated highways which perilled bus and auto traffic. Kentucky officials reported at least 22 county school systems shut down. Several county school systems also remained closed for the third day in Tennessee, including Nashville.

Business places in some communities in middle Tennessee cut off some work shifts Wednesday due to the ice storm.

Kentucky State Police posted hazardous driving warnings throughout their state and closed down more than 135 miles of U.S. 31W to and from Bowling Green Wednesday night due to severe icing. Three highways out of the city were blocked by jackknifed tractor-trailer trucks. An added hazard was a forecast of an inch of snow with incoming cold weather.

Rain soaked many portions of the Southeast south of the icy belt and ranked northward into southeastern Pennsylvania. Fog blanketed some sections before daybreak.

Florida residents, and vacationers, enjoyed more readings in the 70s with clear skies. Key West reported an overnight low of 76 degrees.

Heavy fog which has shrouded the San Joaquin Valley, in California, produced a series of pileups on U.S. 99 on Wednesday and 10 persons were injured.

Unseasonably low temperatures chilled northern and central California, ranging into the middle 20s.

Some other reports and conditions: Boston 23 clear, New York 34 snow, Philadelphia 33 rain, Washington 34 rain, Atlanta 49 rain, Miami 67 clear, Detroit 15 cloudy, Chicago 2 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul —1 snow, St. Louis 18 cloudy, Kansas City 12 clear, Dallas 34 rain, Denver 13 clear, Phoenix 39 clear, Los Angeles 52 clear, San Francisco 41 clear, Seattle 38 cloudy, Anchorage 21 partly cloudy, Honolulu 72 cloudy.

New Defenses for Secretaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, hub of a military power called the greatest in world history, is setting up new defenses for secretaries who work late there.

★ ★ ★

Although not citing any specific cases of attacks on women workers—except for one attempted recently just outside the 580-acre Pentagon grounds —the Defense Department has:

- Established a special shuttle bus service described as intended "to assist in providing for the safety of female employes during hours of darkness." Government buses begin before dawn and continue until 10 p.m. shuttling women workers from the massive building to outlying parking lots.
- Made it possible for secretaries to call the Pentagon motor pool after 10 p.m. and be driven to their cars by a chauffered government car.

FUTURE PLANS

Future plans, said officials, call for installing lights to break the nearly unrelieved darkness around the Pentagon and establishing mobile patrols of the main parking lots.

About 27,000 people, at least half of them women, work at the Pentagon weekdays.

Fade-Out of Mao's Wife Hints at Waning Revolution

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's fourth wife, Cihang Ching, has dropped from public view in Communist China. This, along with other developments, hints that the ferocity of the "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution" is on the wane.

Mao Tse-tung now is 74. If his grip on the reins of power loosens, and, at the same time, the cultural revolution gradually fades away, it is possible that moderate elements will command more influence, even to the point of making Peking more approachable by other nations.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Communist press is renewing an appeal to Mao's supporters to "wage struggle by reasoning and not by force." Official press comment suggests an effort is being made to restore some order to the educational system, disrupted since August 1966 by the cultural revolution movement which kept youngsters out of schools and turned them against their teachers.

The movement probably will continue in one form or another for some time. But a year and a half has been a long time even for the most fanatic to keep up a full head of steam.

'HEALTH IMPAIRED'

The failure of Mao's wife to appear at public functions could be significant. A Canton newspaper has said that "arduous struggle (in the cultural revolution) has impaired Comrade Chiang Ching's health." But Russian commentators brushed this aside as unlikely.

"Foreign observers," said a Moscow broadcast in Chinese to China last week, "feel that Chiang Ching's illness was due to outside pressure . . . What is interesting is that it was Chou En-lai who disclosed that Chiang Ching was ill."

News Analysis

★ ★ ★

Premier Chou is credited by some China-watchers with being a voice of moderation in the Mao camp. His conduct of government affairs, by his own account, has been seriously hampered by cultural revolution uproar.

★ ★ ★

Though holding the upper hand, the Mao faction by its own admission has failed to destroy its enemies. The official press still denounces "China's Khrushchev," but still cannot criticize President Liu Shao-chi by name. The Mao group may lack sufficient strength to call a party congress which could legally remove Liu from the chairmanship.

In propaganda and education, the outcome remains in doubt. The press admits many "renegades" remain in authority and "some have even regained ranking positions."

It would be no surprise, should Mao's influence slip, if the contending sides in the struggle reached some form of compromise.

★ ★ ★

Chiang Ching's fade-out could mean that some in high places, even in Mao's camp, have had enough of the former actress and her ambitions. The report of her illness fails to explain the fact that "the masses" are not being exhorted these days to study her speeches and follow her leadership.

Head Start Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a grant of $178,606 to the Wayne County Economic Opportunity Committee for a 10-month head start program serving 120 children outside Detroit U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday.

MARY LOU MARINO

Honor Society Head Picked as Top Teen

The president of the National Honor Society at Waterford Kettering High School, Mary Lou Marino, has been selected as Waterford Township's Teen of the Week.

Mary Lou, who voluntarily tutors some of her classmates, is a senior who has maintained a straight A average through high school.

The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marino of 2163 Kohler, Waterford Township, Mary Lou has been accepted at Michigan State University where she plans to major in physics.

She hopes to earn a doctorate and teach at the university level. She also plans to do scientific research.

At Kettering, in addition to being a National Honor Society leader, Mary Lou is president of the Future Teachers Association for the second straight year, and is a member of the Math Club and Girls Athletic Association.

LAB ASSISTANT

She also is a chemistry laboratory assistant.

Mary Lou also serves with the Candy Strippers, a group of volunteer hospital workers.

The Waterford Township Teen of the Week is sponsored by the Waterford Township Youth Assistance Committee.

Selections are made with emphasis on citizenship and community and school service.

'67 Road Toll for State Is 1st Dip Since '61

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report there were 2,091 traffic deaths in Michigan in 1967, 205—or 9 per cent—below the high of 2,296 recorded in 1966.

It was the first reduction in fatalities since 1961 when the count of 1,567 dropped from the 1,604 the previous year.

Included in the 1967 count were 184 deaths in December, 21 less than the 205 in the same month the previous year.

The 1967 total represented the fourth consecutive year and the seventh time since record-keeping was started in 1933 that the death toll exceeded the 2,000 mark.

Other high years in addition to 1966 and 1967 were 2,136 in 1965, 2,122 in 1964, 2,016 in 1955, 2,133 in 1941 and 2,175 in 1937.

DELAYED REPORTS

Delayed death reports are expected to result in some increase in the provisional 1967 death total.

Page Appointed

LANSING (AP) — Charles Mauk, a 21-year old student in the Michigan State University School of Natural Science, has been appointed a page in the House of Representatives on the recommendation of Rep. Philip Pittenger, R-Lansing. Mauk is the son of Arthur Mauk, head of the department of photography at East Lansing State Police Headquarters.

Area Man Held in I-75 Death

Oakland County sheriff's deputies today arrested an Ortonville man on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the traffic death Dec. 20 of a Bay City Marine.

Sheriff's detectives said Jesse A. Hobson, 47, of 100 Viola will be arraigned today before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead.

He was taken into custody after appearing at the sheriff's department.

Hobson's car reportedly slammed into the rear of a car driven by a Flint man which had stopped on the shoulder of I-75 to give Cpl. Michael A. Gwizdala a ride.

★ ★ ★

Gwizdala, who was apparently hitchhiking home for the Christmas holidays, was killed instantly.

Deputies said they obtained the manslaughter warrant after investigating the incident.

FIREMAN INJURED—Emergency workers carry a fireman injured by falling debris from a fire at an abandoned hotel in the French Quarter of New Orleans yesterday. Seven firemen were injured, none seriously. The blaze was out of control for hours.

Area Man Stands Mute in Stabbings

Fred Parkkila, 28, of the Walled Lake area, stood mute yesterday on charges of attempted murder of the Ryan brothers at a New Year's Eve party in West Bloomfield Township.

The suspect is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting examination Tuesday in Township Justice Court. At the arraignment, Township Justice Robert F. Scott set bond at $50,000 on each of two warrants.

Parkkila turned himself in to township police yesterday afternoon through an attorney, according to the police department.

He is charged with stabbing Thomas and Randall Ryan, 21355 Farmington, Farmington, during the 3:30 a.m. melee at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barr, 6551 Drake.

Also injured that early Monday morning were Parkkila's cousin, Charles Parkkila, 25, 67 Drake; Jack Watson, age and address unknown; and another unknown man, according to police.

Township police believe seven males were the attackers in the fight, which is still being investigated.

Two in City Slayings Sent to Circuit Court

Two Pontiac men were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday in separate murder cases stemming from slayings in the city last month.

Both James O. Stovall, 23, of 348 Raeburn and George Reed, 26, of 263 Irwin face arraignment Jan. 18.

Stovall, in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, is charged with first-degree murder in the fatal stabbing of a Royal Oak Township youth Dec. 18.

The body of Arthur Earl Chaney, 19, was found in the back yard of a house at 438 S. Sanford.

★ ★ ★

Police said Chaney had been stabbed in the chest, hands and right arm.

APPEARS AT HEADQUARTERS

Stovall was booked for investigation of murder after he appeared at police headquarters shortly after the slaying and was questioned by a duty sergeant.

Reed, who was bound over on an open murder charge, was remanded to Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish $5,000 bond set by McCallum.

He was arrested after the Dec. 8 shotgun killing of Jessie Lee Hatten, 28, of 350 S. Anderson in Harry's Bar, 568 S. Sanford.

★ ★ ★

Police said they arrested Reed as he was walking on Central near Paddock, on information supplied by a witness.

Hatten died of abdominal wounds, according to investigators.

Two Trains Derailed in W. Michigan

By United Press International

Two train derailments were reported in western Michigan last night and early today, one of them causing injuries to two trainmen.

★ ★ ★

Seven Grand Trunk Railroad cars were derailed at Muskegon early today, blocking traffic on busy Henry Street in a factory area.

A caboose on a 33-car northbound Chesapeake and Ohio freight train derailed at a crossing two miles south of Holland last night and later caught fire.

Conductor Leo Dobe, 60, Grand Rapids, was treated in Holland Hospital for first-, second- and third-degree burns. He was tossed against a coal stove that tipped over during the derailment.

CABOOSE BURNS

Robert Koegler, 34, Wyoming, Mich., was treated for cuts and bruises.

Several hours after the caboose tipped over, it caught fire and was destroyed.

The Muskegon derailment of seven cars occurred at the Grand Trunk freight yards at the Henry Street crossing near the entrance of Campbell, Wyant and Cannon.

★ ★ ★

Traffic was to be rerouted for about 12 to 15 hours, railroad men reported.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the trucks on one of the freight cars came loose and started the chain derailment.

North America has more than half of the world's telephones.

Shooting Case Bond Reduced

Bond was reduced yesterday from $50,000 to $5,000 for a Walled Lake man charged with assault with intent to murder in the wounding of two Walled Lake policemen Nov. 18.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams lowered the bond following the arraignment of Raymond Fugate, 41, of 1392 Appleford.

★ ★ ★

Fugate stood mute to the charge and was ordered to stand trial. No date was scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Officers William Folwell and Robert Snook were wounded by a blast from a shotgun when they went to Fugate's home in response to a call from his family. Fugate was wounded in the stomach during an exchange of shots.

Office Machines Are Stolen From Oil Firm in City

Five business machines valued at about $575 were stolen from a Pontiac firm early today, it was reported to city police.

Hirane H. Smith of 2920 Edgefield, Waterford Township, owner of the H.H. Smith Oil Co. at 590 S. Paddock, told officers the loot included four adding machines and an electric typewriter.

★ ★ ★

Police said a resident near the scene summoned them after hearing glass break about 2:20 a.m.

The building was entered by smashing two windows, according to police.

Officers of Gas Pipeline Firm Elected in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — W. K. Sanders was elected chairman and William C. Keefe president of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. Wednesday.

Sanders, who had been president, succeeds Frederick H. Robinson, who retired as chairman.

★ ★ ★

Keefe had been financial vice president. S. L. Robertson was named to succeed him in that post.

Panhandle is a natural gas transmission company.

U.P. Suspect Is Arrested in Orion Twp.

Pontiac State Police arrested an Onaway youth, charged with assault and unarmed robbery, at the home of the suspect's brother yesterday.

Taken into custody by Troopers Robert A. Benedix and Harry Smith at 673 Beardon, Orion Township, was Ronald W. Dubois, 18. The suspect was taken to Oakland County Jail

★ ★ ★

Benedix said the suspect answered the door at the Orion Township address when he and Smith went there to investigate.

Pontiac State Police had received information from the Onaway Police Department that it was holding a felony warrant for the suspect.

Planners Back Rezoning OK for Fleet Carrier

City planning commissioners recommended approval last night of a rezoning change requested by Fleet Carrier Corp., 586 E. South Blvd.

The change, which has to be approved by the City Commission, would make a one-acre lot on the west side of Tex north of East South Boulevard a manufacturing zone instead of residential.

★ ★ ★

The company said it would use the lot for storage.

A request to place a gas station on the corner of Glenwood and Perry by Borin Oil Co. was withdrawn by the oil company.

Men between 30 and 39 years of age who smoke heavily, have high blood pressure or high cholesterol levels may be as prone to heart disease as men 15 years older, studies indicate.

Train Fires, Fumes End; Town Residents Return

DUNREITH, Ind. (UPI) — Residents of Dunreith returned to their homes today, after authorities assured them all danger was gone from the flames, explosions and poisonous gas created by the New Year's night collision of two freight trains.

A few of the 236 residents began moving back into the devastated community last night, and officials expected the others to return today.

At least all who left could return. There was no loss of life and relatively few injuries when two Pennsylvania railroad freight trains sideswiped, touching off fires, explosion and lethal fumes that made evacuation of the town a flight for life.

Some returning residents found their homes and their contents unharmed. Others were not so lucky. Two families found their homes completely destroyed. One other was badly damaged and many were scorched or damaged by the force of the repeated explosions.

★ ★ ★

The town's only industry, a fertilizer and cannery complex, was destroyed. Damage to the four-block long Henry County community was estimated in excess of $500,000.

DANGER IN STREAMS

The greatest danger from the disaster developed in streams south and west of Dunreith where deadly cyanide from ruptured tank cars polluted the water. Biologists dumped neutralizing chemicals into Buck Creek but warned that the water was still polluted.

★ ★ ★

At least 25 cattle were reported to have died from drinking polluted water.

Stock Trading Active

Market Is Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to work irregularly lower early today in active trading. The ticker tape was late.

Losses outnumbered gains at a ratio of about 4 to 3.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 3.82 at 900.31.

After a mixed opening the trend settled to the downside.

Airlines and gold mining issues put on a steadier performance following their weakness of the past couple of sessions.

Weakness continued, however, among pivotal blue chips. Du Pont dropped 2 and Eastman Kodak 1.

Doubts about President Johnson's program to improve the U.S. balance-of-payments in foreign exchange continued to unsettle Wall Street despite a background of otherwise favorable economic news.

Opening blocks included:

Speery Rand off ⅜ at 57¼ on 16,500 shares; A. J. Industries, unchanged at 12½ on 11,300; American Telephone, up ⅜ at 52⅜ on 15,000; and Beneficial Finance, up ⅝ at 33 on 10,800.

Wednesday the Associated Press 60-Stock Average declined 1.1 to 823.0.

BUDGET BALANCED MEALS

WITH THE BASIC FOUR FOOD GROUPS

Having trouble balancing the family budget? Planning economical meals will help. Please your family with delicious, nutritious meals combining the specials at your food store with dairy foods in imaginative new recipes. The best way to balance your meals and your budget is to plan around the Basic Four Food Groups.

Dairy Foods
3 to 4 glasses milk — Children
4 or more glasses — Teenagers
2 or more glasses — Adults
Cheese, ice cream and other milk-made foods can supply part of the milk.

Meat Group
2 or more servings
Meats, fish, poultry, eggs, or cheese — with dry beans, peas, nuts as alternates.

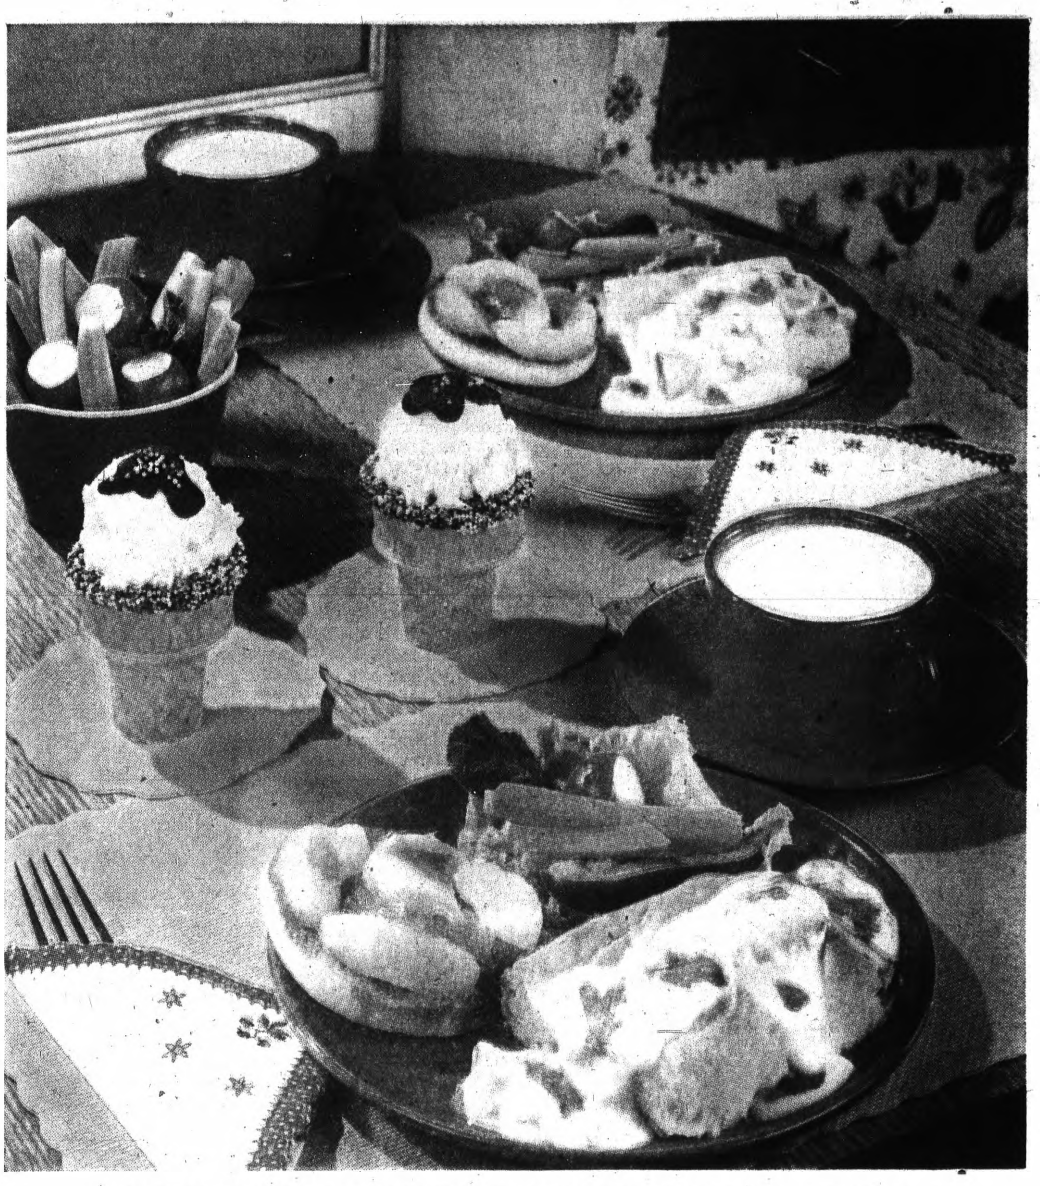
Vegetables and Fruits
4 or more servings
Include dark green or yellow vegetables; citrus fruit or tomatoes

Breads and Cereals
4 or more servings
Enriched or whole grain. Added milk improves nutritional value.

For a hearty hot lunch or family supper, try this thrifty meat-and-potatoes menu. Top a crusty light potato puff with Smoky Beef Sauce. It's an excellent way to use up leftover mashed potatoes, or the puff can be made from instant mashed potatoes plus eggs, butter, milk and seasonings.

At dinner time serve your family Meat Balls in Sour Cream Gravy. There's a brand new taste to these savory meat balls mixed and seasoned like a meat loaf. They're browned, then simmered along with carrots and potatoes in the skillet, making an economical one-dish meal that saves you time and money. Round out this satisfying meal with crisp and colorful Cottage-Pineapple Slaw, golden Parmesan Fingers, Cheese Apple Pandowdy and milk.

Check the chart above and see how well-planned meals like these fit into the Basic Four Food Groups. Breakfast and snacks should be planned to complete the Basic Four requirements for the day.



Please the youngsters at lunch time with one of their favorite foods — mashed potatoes, made into baked potato puff, cut into servings and topped with smoked sliced beef in cream sauce. Delicious with relishes and buttery Apple Muffins! Dessert's a festive ice cream cone made ahead of time with a collar and cap of chocolate sauce dipped in multicolor decorettes.

Potato Puffs with Smoky Beef Sauce

6 servings

Buttered baking dish, 1½-quart — Preheated 400° oven

- ½ cup milk
- 2 eggs
- ½ teaspoon onion salt
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups mashed potatoes
- 2 tablespoons butter

In a small bowl beat together milk, eggs, onion salt, salt and pepper just until blended. Gradually stir into potatoes. Turn into baking dish; dot with butter. Bake 30 minutes. To serve: Cut into squares and top with Smoky Beef Sauce*

Smoky Beef Sauce:

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 package (3 oz.) smoked sliced beef, cut up
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups milk
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

In a 1½-quart saucepan melt butter; add beef and sauté about 5 minutes. Stir in flour. Remove from heat; gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Stir in Parmesan cheese. Serve immediately.

Apple Muffins

Baking sheet — 12 muffins

- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter
- ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 6 small English muffins
- 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced pie apples, drained

In a small mixing bowl cream butter; add sugar and beat thoroughly; set aside. Split muffins and toast under broiler. Spread about 1 teaspoon butter-sugar mixture on cut surface of each muffin; set aside remainder. Place muffins on baking sheet. Divide apples evenly on muffins; dot with remaining butter-sugar mixture. Broil 4-5 minutes or until butter-sugar mixture melts. Serve immediately.

Chocolate Confetti Cones

Saucepan, 1-quart — 12 cones

- ½ cup (½ of 6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 12 ice cream cup cones
- ¼ cup multicolor decorettes
- 3 pints vanilla ice cream

In saucepan heat chocolate pieces and butter, stirring constantly, until melted. Dip tops of cones into mixture then into decorettes; set aside remaining chocolate mixture and decorettes. Chill cones. Fill cones with ice cream; freeze. Warm remaining chocolate mixture; drizzle over tops of ice cream cones and sprinkle with remaining decorettes. Freeze.

Note: Cones may be prepared ahead of time, wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping and stored in freezer.

Meat Balls with Sour Cream Gravy

6-8 servings

Large heavy covered skillet

- 1 pound ground beef
- ½ cup coarse cracker crumbs
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup minced green pepper
- ¼ cup minced celery
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup regular all-purpose flour
- ⅛ cup (½ stick) butter
- 1 envelope (1⅜ oz.) dry onion soup mix
- 2 cups boiling water
- 3½-4 cups peeled, thinly sliced potatoes (about 4 medium)
- 1 pound carrots, peeled and thinly sliced
- 2 cups drippings
- ⅓ cup water
- 1 cup dairy sour cream at room temperature

In a bowl combine beef, cracker crumbs, milk, green pepper, celery, egg, salt and pepper. Shape mixture into 18 medium-sized balls. Roll each ball in flour; set remaining flour aside. In skillet melt butter; brown meat balls on all sides. Remove meat balls from skillet. Stir onion soup and boiling water into drippings in skillet. Arrange potatoes and carrots in liquid in skillet; place meat balls on top. Cover and simmer 25-30 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Remove meat balls, potatoes and carrots to a warm platter to keep warm. Meanwhile, prepare gravy. Add sufficient water to drippings to make 2 cups. Gradually add ⅓ cup water to remaining flour to make a smooth paste. Stir into liquid in skillet. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sour cream. Heat to serving temperature. (Do not boil.) Yield: 2½ cups gravy.

Cottage-Pineapple Slaw

6-8 servings

- 1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple tidbits
- 2 tablespoons pineapple syrup
- 1 tablespoon white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¾ cup dairy sour cream
- 3 cups shredded green cabbage
- 1 cup shredded red cabbage
- 1 cup cottage cheese

Drain pineapple reserving 2 tablespoons syrup; set aside. In a bowl combine pineapple syrup, vinegar, sugar and salt. Gently blend in mustard and sour cream; fold in pineapple. Cover and chill. When ready to serve, toss dressing with cabbages and cottage cheese.

Parmesan Fingers

Yield: approximately 24

Buttered baking sheet — Preheated 400° oven

- 1 package (13¾ oz.) hot roll mix
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Melted butter
- Grated Parmesan cheese

Prepare roll mix according to package directions adding ¼ cup Parmesan cheese along with flour. Let rise as directed. Pinch off pieces of dough and shape into rolls about 3-inches long and ¾-inches wide. Let rise again as directed. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake 12-15 minutes.

Cheese-Apple Pandowdy

6-8 servings

Square baking dish, 8-inch — Preheated 350° oven

- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter
- ⅛ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 6 cups peeled, thinly sliced cooking apples (about 6 medium)
- 1½ cups prepared biscuit mix
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- ½ cup milk
- Light cream OR half and half

In oven melt butter in baking dish. Combine sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt; sprinkle one-half of mixture over butter in dish. Place apples in baking dish; sprinkle remaining sugar mixture over top. In a bowl combine biscuit mix, cheese and butter. Stir in milk; beat about 20 strokes. Drop mixture in serving portions over top of apples. Bake 30-35 minutes. Serve while warm with cream.

Make meat balls different! Feature them in a skillet meal with potatoes and carrots seasoned with onion soup mix and sour cream. Serve with Cottage-Pineapple Slaw, fresh-baked Parmesan Fingers and milk. For dessert, give a Dutch touch to Apple Pandowdy — cheese it!

TOOTHPICK HOLDER? — This tower in Hong Kong looks like a gigantic toothpick holder after construction workers made a network of scaffolding of bamboo poles.

Case Against Pinup Dropped

GAINESVILLE, Ala. (UPI)— A judge yesterday threw out charges that Pamme Brewer, whose nude pinup poses forced her withdrawal from the University of Florida, had sold obscene literature in her hippie shop.

Alachua County Judge Ira Carter said the charges failed to specify that Miss Brewer had "knowingly sold" the material in her "Subterranean Circus" shop.

Solicitor A. Z. Adkins did not indicate whether he planned to file new charges against the 19-year-old brunette who appeared in court in a miniskirt and net stockings.

Pamme first attracted attention last year when an off-campus slick magazine at the university exposed her 38 - inch bosom for the student body.

★ ★ ★

She was forced out of school and subsequently opened the psychedelic shop specializing in hippie trappings and reading matter.

Then on Dec. 6, Alachua County police arrested the young business-woman at her shop and confiscated psychedelic posters and off-beat poetry they claimed were obscene.

A January 1967 issue of the Charlatan magazine featured Miss Brewer covered only by a pair of earrings, and school officials put her on disciplinary probation. When a later issue of the magazine again displayed her attributes in the buff, she was forced to drop out.

Redistricting Poll Planned in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gov. Roger. D. Branigin said Wednesday he would conduct a telephone poll of state legislators to determine whether a new congressional redistricting plan could be passed.

The state's 1965 reapportionment was ruled unconstitutional by federal court. Despite numerous attempts, members of the politically divided legislature have been unable to agree on a remapping.

★ ★ ★

Branigin said he would call a special session if it appeared there was a possibility of agreement. "We've simply got to do everything humanly possible to operate within the framework of the Constitution which mandates reapportionment by the legislature," he said.

New York Cabbies Exposed to the Best, Worst Riders

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's many a human story that New York cab drivers can tell you . . . and of those that I like, here are two.

A woman hackie told me it was her first day out. She picked up a man who wanted to go in a rush to Grand Central.

"It should be about 70 cents," the passenger said. "If I don't get there fast, I miss my train. Can you change a $5 bill?".

The woman hackie said she could.

"Keep a dollar for yourself," the said said. He held a $5 bill in his hand. She handed him $3.30 change and he ran for his train.

"About 10 minutes later I realized he hadn't given me the $5 bill . . ."

★ ★ ★

It was a Christmas shopping rush with everybody yelling for cabs (a male driver told me) and a friendly cop waved to him and asked him to take a man to Brooklyn. The cop let him make a U-turn to pick him up.

"You sick?" the cabbie asked the passenger.

"In a way," the passenger replied. "I'm an alcoholic.

"And I knew and that cop, who's a friend of mine, knew that if I didn't get a cab quick, I was going to break down and go into a bar and ruin my life all over again. Just at Christmas."

★ ★ ★

He was a successful engineer and had hit bottom twice but now he believed he has won . . . but today, during the Christmas cheer season, he had got the thirst again.

"But here we are at home and I've made it," the passenger said. "How much do I owe you?"

"Three-fifty," the cabbie said.

"Take everything I've got in my pocket," the happy passenger said. "It was worth it, to me and my family."

He handed him about $14.

The passenger's wife came rushing out from the porch of their home to embrace her husband.

"Oh, I'm so glad you've come home like this! I was afraid it would be the other way," the wife said, almost crying. The cabbie told her that her husband had overpaid him by about $10.

"It's not too much," she said. "If you wait till I get my purse, I'll give you some more." The cabbie drove away with a moving story to tell his wife that night.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Gordon MacRaes (Liz Schrafft) are expecting their first, in June. (Gordon says he's following the script of his show, "I Do. I Do"—"in which the guy gets married, has two kids and lives happily ever after.")

Johnny Meyers said at El Morocco he got a Christmas card from zillionaire J. Paul Getty: "It was unsealed, and on the envelope, in Getty's handwriting it said, 'Second Class Mail' — to save postage!"

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Though prices are getting higher, people are buying as much as ever. The only difference is, it now takes them longer to pay for it.

Larry Mathews punished his nephew—sent him to his room without batteries for his Christmas toys . . . That's earl, brother.

A Look at TV

Kind Words for 'I Spy'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I have this friend, Max, who loves New York. You tell him something terrible about New York and he always has something wonderful to answer you with.

You tell him "traffic" and he tells you "Luchow's." You say "muggings" and he says "East 62nd Street." You tell him "weather" and he tells you "The Plaza."

As you can see, logic is not one of Max's strong points. But we all have our loyalties, and today I would like to put in a few kind words for one of mine: the television series "I Spy," which is doing poorly in the ratings this season, but which is nevertheless still the very best weekly entertainment show in prime time on any network.

It is the best regular program because the boss, Sheldon Leonard, has gone all the way with its cool, contemporary flavor, and because its two stars, Robert Cupl and Bill Cosby, are simply superb week in and week out, individually and as a team.

It doesn't matter whether the stories are all outstanding—the remarkable thing is having such a team of stars giving us such splendid company every week.

FAR AHEAD

Their characterizations are virtually light years ahead of almost every other one in prime time television.

The fact that one of the stars is Negro was historic when the series began; at this point the pleasant fact is that it doesn't matter one way or the other.

Cosby, of course, got most of the publicity in connection with the series, and awards too. But much as I like him, I confess my favorite is Culp.

★ ★ ★

If all of this praise sounds premeditated in purpose, that is because it is.

Decisions are being made about the futures of various series that are wobbly in the ratings—and "I Spy" is certainly on NBC-TV's list of statistical headaches.

Icy Typewriter Proves Her Case

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Edna Smith, welfare officer, offered in evidence a frozen typewriter to support her plea before the town Board of Supervisors for heat in her office.

She told the board she found the machine frozen when she came to work Wednesday morning after the temperature hit 19 below zero here. The board approved her request.
