NEW YORK (AP) — More than half of the city's 40,000 school teachers struck today for more pay. Classes were disrupted and many unruly children ran wild.

The board of education said at noon that more than 22,000 teachers had not reported for duty. A number of the city's 840 schools, with one million pupils, closed for lack of classroom supervision. The strikers urged that all be closed "for the protection of pupils and property."

Boys freed from discipline got into wild melee at some schools and tossed articles from school windows. Those who left school pounded parked automobiles and tossed rocks and eggs.

Some 15,000 of the teachers are members of the striking United Federation of Teachers, which is bargaining agent for all. Many non-members headed picket lines set up by the strikers.

Heavy police guards ringed the schools. The police reported 4,300 pickets were marching at 500 schools.

The teachers walked out despite the state's Condon-Wadlin Act, which provides for dismissal of public employees who strike.

Possible impact of the strike on the political fortunes of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner was being watched in GOP and Democratic circles.

Rockefeller and Wagner, who may be a candidate against him for governor this fall, have been blaming each other for the situation.

The situation in the first hour after the school bells rang today was highly confused, with no accurate figures of just how many teachers were off the job.

Charles Cogen, the Union president, called the walkout highly effective and said he believed it would be wise to close the schools to prevent disorder in them.

Reports gave this picture: Rowdiness broke out among some 2,300 gathered in the auditorium of the Seward Park High School in Lower Manhattan. The school was closed after the outbreak.

Similar scenes erupted at Evanston Childs High School in the Bronx and at Stuyvesant High School in Manhattan.

At Tan Hing School in the Bronx, in an hour-long spree, eggs and bag lunches were tossed at picketing teachers.

Ford Cancels Plans to Market Cardinal

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Ford Motor Co. will not build a small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement last night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

Grass to Be Greener After Rain Tonight

Today's sunshine and light showers forecast for tonight will boost growth in gardens and lawns.

Temperatures over the week-end will average near the normal high of 55 and normal low of 35. Thursday will be a little cooler but the rest of the week will be warmer.

Rainfall will total less than .50 of an inch in showers about Sunday.

Thirty-two was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 54 at 2 p.m.

Red Star Paper Accuses West of War Plans

Warns of Resuming Nuclear Race, Blames U.S. for Tension

FROM OUR NEW WIRE
MOSCOW — The Soviet army newspaper Red Star accused the United States today of preparing for war and warned of counter-measures if American nuclear tests are resumed in the atmosphere.

The government-controlled newspaper said the United States was complicating the work of the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva and increasing international tension with an arms race.

Red Star's charges were the latest in a Soviet propaganda campaign against the U.S. plan for resuming nuclear tests later this month unless Russia accepts a test ban treaty with international controls.

In Washington, the United States and Britain appeared to be completely stalled against an unyielding wall of Soviet opposition in their last-ditch effort to get Moscow's agreement to an enforceable treaty.

While formally expressing hope that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will yet reverse his policy against an international inspection system to police a test ban, U.S. officials actually see no prospect that this will happen.

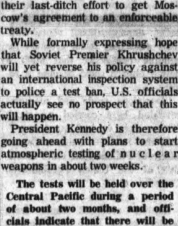

President Kennedy is therefore going ahead with plans to start atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in about two weeks.

The tests will be held over the Central Pacific during a period of about two months, and officials indicate that there will be between 20 and 40 nuclear explosions involved.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London Tuesday that he will go on pressing for East-West agreement on a test ban "to the last possible moment."

Moscow radio and the official news agency Tass last night dismissed as a "distracting propaganda maneuver" the Anglo-American appeal to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to agree to a treaty with adequate verification measures to insure mutual confidence.

Justice Hughes' Daughter Is Proud

STAMP HONORS FATHER — Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills, daughter of American jurist and statesman Charles Evans Hughes, proudly displays a picture of a commemorative stamp of her late father to Bloomfield Hills Postmaster Herbert J. Dyle. The stamp honoring the New York governor and Presidential candidate will be available to the public tomorrow. Hughes died in 1948 at 86. He was the only man ever to return to the U.S. Supreme Court after having resigned from it. Mrs. Gossett, of 420 Goodhue Road, is in Washington today to receive the first issue from Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

Kennedy Seeking Ways to Ease Inflation Impact

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
PITTSBURGH — Two major steel producers followed the lead of U.S. Steel Corp. today and announced price increases.

An angry President Kennedy studied possible ways of easing the inflationary impact of the boosts on the economy.

Bethlehem Steel Co., the nation's second largest producer, said it will hike the price of its rolled steel products by 3.5 per cent, effective tomorrow.

James A. Laughlin Steel Corp., the fourth biggest producer, also announced a price increase, but details on it were not available immediately.

The President met with key advisers during the day in advance of a 3:30 p.m. (Pontiac time) press conference where he was expected to denounce the steel increase actions.

Bethlehem said the increase will affect a wide range of steel products in the high tonnage category — classified as rolled steel. Included in the category are basic steel products for the automotive industry.

Meanwhile, the president of Reynolds Metals Co., a leader in the aluminum field, said the U.S. Steel increase is justified.

Richard S. Reynolds Jr., said, "As I have pointed out many times, the industry cannot continue to have rising costs without increasing prices."

The price hike by U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, was announced yesterday a few hours before it took effect. It added an average of 55¢ to the cost of a ton of steel, which has been selling for a little more than $150.

U.S. Steel customarily sets the pattern for prices in the steel industry.

State Lawmakers Act

Push Rocket Base for UP

LANSING (AP) — The legislature may put the issue to a vote to build a major rocket launching site on the Keweenaw Peninsula in northernmost Michigan.

Six House members teamed up on a resolution yesterday to create a committee to study the possibilities for construction of installation by the Defense Department.

Rep. Gilbert E. Barsley, R-Ann Arbor, the chief sponsor, said rocket experts regard the peninsula as the only acceptable location in the continental United States for orbital shots aimed in a northerly direction.

"It is the only area with a large body of water to the north and with vast stretches of uninhabited territory beyond," he said. "This same area would be excellent for high altitude rocket launching."

The resolution noted that caves and abandoned mines in nearby Ontonagon County offer good possibilities for storage, various types of rocket work and testing.

The Great Lakes, it added, provide ideal water transportation of giant rockets and other supplies to the area.

Barsley said Dr. Richard Morrison, aeronautical engineering professor at the University of Michigan and an authority on rocket-launching sites, has expressed a strong interest in the Keweenaw Peninsula as a potential launching site.

Space science activities at the university, which have resulted in many contributions to the nation's space program, could be put to use in the Upper Peninsula project, he said.

If the Defense Department undertakes the project, he said, hopes for establishing a space science institute at U. of M. would rise with it. The facility also would boost efforts of the Ann Arbor area to establish itself as the ranking science and research center of the Midwest, he said.

"It also would help diversify Michigan industry and certainly boost our economy, too," said Barsley.

News Flash

LANSING (AP) — The constitutional convention voted overwhelmingly today to ban Partisan betting in Michigan, which could have the effect of closing every horse race track in the state.

JFK to Have His Say on Steel Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will say what he thinks of U.S. Steel price increase in a statement at his news conference today. He is certain to say he doesn't like it.

The White House said Kennedy would have no comment on the big steel company's action before his nationally televised conference at 3:30 p.m.

He had said he would make his comments in a statement expected before that time.

That word came from the President at a White House social function Tuesday night.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, said Kennedy received his first word of the 36-per-cent price hike by U.S. Steel from Roger Blough, board chairman of the firm, at a personal meeting in the White House late Tuesday.

Hatcher said Blough requested the appointment, and came from Pittsburgh to see the President. They were together in Kennedy's office for nearly an hour, starting at 5:40 p.m. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg also was present.

There had been no indication at the time that Kennedy had met with Blough.

Kennedy also discussed the surprise move with Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers and several Cabinet officers when he was asked if Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was among them.

Goldberg was among government officials at the White House this morning. Hatcher characterized their meeting with Kennedy as a normal procedure on the day of a news conference. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also were present.

INFLATION PROBES

Two antitrust investigations were initiated immediately after the price rise was announced yesterday.

An administration spokesman, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, sharply criticized U.S. Steel's action at a congressional hearing.

"It could only serve to lessen our competitive position in the world markets," he said. "There is no doubt it will have an inflationary effect."

Ball expressed hope "this would not be followed by similar action by other members of the industry."

Senate Says 'No' to Extra Con-Con Cash

LANSING — An additional $125,000 asked for by the constitutional convention is conspicuously missing in a $12.7-million deficiency appropriation bill passed by the Senate and sent to the House. Items included in the total will make up monies spent by state agencies above their legislative appropriations for the current fiscal year.

NEED $125,000

Constitutional convention spokesmen said they needed $125,000 above their original $2.3-million appropriation to wind up the affairs of the convention in an orderly fashion.

Sen. Garland B. Lane, D-Fleet, among leaders of the opposition, termed the convention "a very expensive operation" and said it should not get another penny.

Sen. Frank D. Bendle, R-St. Clair, leader of the Republican majority, tried to put the sum back in by amendment but could only rally 15 votes, three short of the necessary majority of 18.

The House still can amend the measure to add the money and send it back for another try in the Senate.

Passage vote on the deficiency appropriation package without the convention money bonus was 25-15.

Sen. Charles R. Frenstra, R-Grand Rapids, spoke for opponents.

"The state is broke but we're still handing these agencies a blank check," he said. "I'm just about at the end of my rope on spending."

Largest item in the package is $1 million additional for welfare. Bendle urged passage because he said failure to approve would jeopardize federal matching funds.

OTHER MAJOR ITEMS

Other major items include $1.85 million for veterans' homebased expenses, $1.2 million for medical care and treatment of afflicted children, $500,000 for care of tuberculosis patients and $309,220 for junior and community colleges.

Included in the bill was permission for the Highway Department to shift $1.25 million within the department from highway construction to maintenance funds.

A heavier than usual snow removal bill during the winter made this necessary, the Senate was told.

Democratic senators tried unsuccessfully several times to put back in a $35,000 item for Salk polio vaccine in stockpile in committee. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said later the money wasn't needed by his department since it has enough vaccine on hand to last out the fiscal year.

The Senate killed, by sending back to committee, a House-approved measure that would give delegates to a county political convention more say in selecting their county committee officers. It has approval of the state central committees of both parties.

At present, aspirants and incumbents in county and legislative office have the power in such selections.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, introduced a resolution asking high schools to set up 30-hour courses in comparative government. Such courses would compare the democratic free enterprise system with the teachings of communism.

Such a course, Francis said, would alert every high school student to the dangers of communism.

A bill to make such courses mandatory died in committee when it was decided to postpone the enactment for one year.

"We're now asking that it be done on a voluntary basis instead of by legislative mandate," said Francis, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Slavery was abolished Dec. 18, 1865, by adoption of the 13th amendment to the Constitution.

County Board to Study Budget

Members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors will receive 62 pages of figures to study between now and their next meeting Monday.

The mass of figures comprises the 1963 tentative budget for county government, now totaling $15,680,202.

Copies of the proposed budget were handed out to the supervisors at yesterday's board meeting. There was no discussion of the budget at this time. It will be reviewed as a special order of business at the next meeting.

The latest figure includes a last minute insertion of $6,894 to hire an electronics data programmer in the County Board of Education office.

Once again the supervisors are faced with a record budget proposal. It would require an estimated 6.11 mills of the 15-mill tax limit in the county.

The millage will be set by the County Tax Allocation Board, which ultimately decides what mills go to schools, township government and county government.

County government currently is operating on 5.55 mills.

Income Tax Inevitable, Sen. Roberts Tells Group

A state income tax is inevitable, Sen. Farrell E. Roberts of Pontiac told insurance men in Pontiac this morning.

Roberts, speaking at the monthly breakfast meeting of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association, said Michigan needs money and there is no way to get it except through taxation.

"There are ways of economizing," the senator said, "but when you stand up to be counted the value isn't there."

Roberts said the state has three main problems making tax inevitable—children, children and more children.

SCHOOL NEEDS JUMP

The booming birth rate, he told the underwriters, has greatly increased money needs for higher education, secondary education and mental health.

A tax is needed to relieve pressure in those areas both now and in future years, Roberts said.

Several underwriters questioned him about other possible revenue sources.

One wondered if a state lottery could solve some of the problems. Roberts told him the idea comes up in the senate every year but is opposed by certain religious interests.

How about increasing the take from horse racing, another underwriter asked.

A proposal is now being considered, Roberts answered, which would boost the revenue from $12 to $15 million—but the $3 million increase would not be enough of a slice into the announced $100 million deficit.

An increased sales tax, Roberts said, an increase would have to be from 4 to 7 per cent in order to help. This, he predicted, would send Michigan residents scurrying to other states to make large purchases and load many to buy goods by mail order.

Finally, a man asked if the income tax would solve Michigan's problems permanently. Roberts had his doubts.

"One thing you learn in Lansing," he said, "is that temporary means permanent and permanent means about five years."

Dean at Geneva Tells of Failure

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States warned today it will not submit its own security and that of the free world to a "paper pledge" that Russia will never again test nuclear weapons.

"The motivation for developing new weapons which was strong enough to lead the U.S.S.R. to break its self-imposed pledge not to be the first state to resume nuclear tests would lead it to attempt the clandestine violation of a nuclear test ban treaty," chief U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean warned.

Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference the U.S. and British governments have made one concession after another in an attempt to meet Soviet fears that an inspected nuclear test has treaty would be used as a cover for espionage.

"There has not been the slightest demonstration of Soviet good will or flexibility," Dean went on. "On the contrary, the Soviet Union has made evident, by its conduct last fall, just how much it values the conduct of tests for the development of new weapons."

He read into the record of the 16th plenary meeting the joint appeal to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to reconsider and accept the principle of international verification of a test ban treaty.

"There is no further appeal which I can make here to my Soviet colleagues," Dean said, beyond my oft-repeated plea for them to show some reasonableness, flexibility and political sense."

Lar Daly Cuts Dem Illinois Vote

Man Who Campaigns as Uncle Sam Scores High in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—Returns from Illinois' first-of-the-year primary gave Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen an unexpected bonus and his Democratic opponent, Rep. Sidney R. Yates, a surprise setback today.

Dirksen, a wise and witty veteran of Illinois political wars, and Yates, the handpicked protégé of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, both coasted to senatorial nominations as expected in yesterday's first major primary of 1962.

But a man who campaigns in an Uncle Sam suit and whose middle name is legally "America First" dimmed Yates' showing.

Lar (America First) Daly, a Chicago jobber who habitually runs and loses in Illinois elections, took more than 20 per cent of the Democratic primary vote away from Yates. Most of his unlooked-for total was collected in Chicago, where Yates has been a congressman for seven years and where the power of Mayor Daley is supposed to be unquestioned.

Woman Wins Damages in Airliner Crash Suit

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A district court jury has set a precedent for $55 million worth of lawsuits pending in courts in connection with two airline disasters that killed 97 persons.

The jury yesterday awarded Mrs. Suzanne Quick and her five children $250,000 damages and found Lockheed Aircraft Co. and General Motors' Allison Division negligent in the 1959 aerial explosion of an Electra turbo-prop airliner over Buffalo, Tex.

Mrs. Quick's husband, Charles Quick III, was killed in the crash.

To Succeed Merritt Hill in County GOP Post

Rodley Craighead of Bloomfield Township has been named to succeed Merritt D. Hill as the Republican party's 1962 finance chairman for Oakland County.

Craighead, 46, is a vice president of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. and heads its political participation program. He also serves as vice president of the Torch Club of South Oakland County and is a guest lecturer at the University of Michigan school of business administration.

Married and the father of three children, Craighead lives at 245 Harrow Circle.

Hill resigned as finance chairman after accepting the presidency of the J. L. Case Co. in Racine, Wis.

2 Pontiac Men Honored by Appraisers Society

Named senior members were James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron St., and Richard M. Irwin, partner in the real estate firm of John K. Irwin & Sons, 313 W. Huron St.

JFK to Take 1st Ride in Polaris Missile Sub

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy will take his first cruise aboard a nuclear-powered Polaris missile submarine Friday during two days of naval maneuvers.

He will board the Thomas A. Edison for a one-hour cruise off Norfolk, Va.

It is estimated the human blood stream contains 35 trillion red cells.

Approved as Justice by Senate Unit

OK Whizzer White for Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved today the nomination of Byron R. (Whizzer) White to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

White, now deputy attorney general, was nominated by President Kennedy to fill a vacancy created by the retirement April 1 of Justice Charles Evans Whittaker.

White was highly praised by Colorado's senators, a spokesman for the American Bar Association and others at the judiciary committee's hearing on his nomination.

Then, after a brief closed-door meeting, the committee announced that it had unanimously approved

White's appointment—the first made by Kennedy to the Supreme Court. The nomination now goes to the Senate for confirmation.

Your Best Investment Is In Yourself

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year—unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

U. S. Should Resume Nuclear Testing

Should the United States resume open-air nuclear tests? Why not?

Russia has decided everything.

The international bolsheviks declare there'll be no checks within the borders of a nation. Of course, there won't. The Soviets might be found out and caught "red-handed."

There'd be some form of sophomoric lie as a surface pretext, but it's just easier to say "no" at the outset.

No one thought much of anything would come of this latest peace attempt, anyway. As long as Russia is bent on capturing the world and making us one of her slave nations, no really important, serious steps toward peace will result. It's probably our duty to accept every new gesture seriously—on the surface—and give it polite attention. But down underneath we can recognize and scorn the Red fakery for just what it is.

General Walker Brought Discredit Upon Himself

The General WALKER hearing before the Senate subcommittee merely added to the WALKER tragedy.

General EDWIN WALKER, a genuine American battle hero, has only continued his own destruction. Ever since his troop indoctrination program became public knowledge he has been in Dutch.

At times he seems to be his own worst enemy. This came to light during the hearings, where the Senators even tried to save him from himself.

The general's own statements show him as a man caught in a web of circumstances he cannot even perceive. He hates the Soviet Communists, yet he lashes out at our own country's leaders, who he thinks have double-crossed him and the rest of the Nation.

Apparently, he feels everyone is out of step except Walker. This must be his reasoning, otherwise he would admit his mistake. Obviously he will not do this.

WALKER said: "I was charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing. I have been punished for nothing." The facts are: he was charged with exerting political influence on his 24th Division troops; an inspection general found WALKER had attempted to influence the troops and as a result he was relieved of his command and reprimanded.

Further, he questioned the loyalty of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and State Department planner Walt W. Rostow. Walker continued his charges against a special assistant of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara with having a close connection with communism. The man in question said that at 15 years of age he attended a young Communists' meeting out of curiosity.

In his criticism of the book, "What We Must Know About Communism," WALKER said it followed the Communist line. When questioned he admitted he had not read the book.

Americans have not conspired against WALKER. It has been his own action and words. He should have remained a soldier and stayed out of politics.

Loud Political Outburst Most Undemocratic

A democratic government endures partly because its major contending political elements accept the idea that each is wedded to the basic beliefs and goals of the free system.

Luckily this country has always functioned that way—notwithstanding the verbal excesses of campaigning.

Occasionally, however, somebody pops up to show how not to behave. A perfect model of undemocratic behavior was offered recently by an anonymous shouters at a boisterous Republican gathering in California.

As a controversial resolution came to a vote he hollered: "All Communists are ordered to vote for the resolution."

A man who would seek to hamper free choice by blackening as a national enemy anyone who disagrees with him has gone beyond the limits of a democratic society.

The Man About Town

A Bread Boycott

Created a Big Fuss in Pontiac 66 Years Ago

By JOE HAAS

A clipping from the Pontiac Weekly Gazette, published in March of 1896, shows that local housewives were in the boycotting business 66 years ago. They were resuming the practice of baking their own bread, because Pontiac bakers had announced that their product must be retailed at six cents per loaf, an increase of one cent over the price that had prevailed for a great many years. The sender of the clipping does not identify himself, but writes: "That one cent raise caused more commotion in our city than what all of the 'Mr. K's' do today."

Income tax: What we'd feel worse about if we didn't have an income big enough to make us eligible to pay one.

That avid and superstitious calendar watcher.

Frank Fernee of Rochester, calls up to warn us that we have a Friday the 13th this week.

One of my top keepers of historical facts.

Clarence Kefrick of Waterford, sends word that it was 30 years ago today that President

Herbert Hoover was informed by the inventor about a bomb that could destroy everything within 1,000 miles.

There is every evidence that the past winter was the hardest on our Oakland County highways in many years, both on our 700 miles of pavement and on our gravel roads. The breakups in them are numerous.

Scheduled to attend his 38th consecutive opening Tiger game is Harlow Kempman, of Bloomfield Hills, who wonders if that isn't a record.

My Goodrich correspondent sends word that its new hospital is to be named in honor of the late

Dr. Amos Wheelock, who put the old one—and the village on the map.

Also a native of Oakland County is Mrs. Lillian Magill Russell, now past 90 and still on the job as book-keeper for her own business in Flint. She was born at Commerce.

Today's bouquet of gorgeous thanks goes to Leslie H. Klinger who a few years ago moved from Keego Harbor to Holly. There, almost entirely by his untiring work, the faltering post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been lifted to one of the greatest gains in membership in the state, with a fine post house, and no debt worries. He now has been installed as its commander, and says his work has only started.

Constitution Just a Vote Getter?

WASHINGTON — "Disregard the Constitution if it gets you more votes—and hold on tightly to the Constitution if you want to block the passage of a law that could lose you votes."

This apparently is the Kennedy Administration's code of political strategy as manifested now with respect to some proposed laws before Congress.

For although the Constitution explicitly and plainly says that qualifications for voting by American citizens shall be determined by the states alone, Attorney General Kennedy now says in effect, in a public statement to a Senate subcommittee, that it is all right for Congress to ignore this constitutional provision.

He takes the position that Congress can pass a law defining "literacy" as completion of a sixth-grade education.

The Constitution does forbid discrimination in voting on the grounds of race or color or sex, and laws have been enacted to enforce these provisions. Voters now can be disqualified on the basis of literacy irrespective of race or color or sex.

No new law really is needed to prevent any discrimination, and only a constitutional amendment can take away from the states the power to fix their own standards of literacy as a qualification for voting.

What becomes then of the mandate that the Constitution should be obeyed even if it contains what some folks think is a cumbersome way of adopting a new amendment? Why should any administration—and for that matter, some Republican senators from eastern states, too—advocate the passage of a bill as a means of circumventing the Constitution?

The obsession for vote-getting—the Negro vote—seems to have seized many Republican leaders.

It might be thought that the attorney general is inconsistent in going out of his way to avoid a move in favor of a constitutional amendment as he concentrates instead on getting a law passed, inasmuch as this requires only a simple majority of both Houses of Congress.

INCONSISTENT?

Yet last year he declined to favor the passage of a law authorizing construction loans to parochial schools at the elementary-grade level—arguing that this is unconstitutional—even though supporting such loans at the college level.

The Country Parson

"A little kindness can make as much difference to a man as a little oil can make to a wheel bearing."

But Mr. Kennedy perhaps isn't really inconsistent, after all, for in this case, as in the matter of literacy tests, he is following the code that you ignore the Constitution when it helps you get votes, and you adhere to the Constitution when you think it might lose votes to do otherwise.

Since President Kennedy was elected in November 1960, despite the campaign issue which charged that he would favor the Catholic Church, he has done everything he could to displease the Protestants of any such ilk.

He has flatly said that aid to elementary and secondary parochial schools for construction purposes would be unconstitutional. The attorney general has publicly espoused that viewpoint, too.

But presumably the real reason for taking this position is that it may mean more votes for the Kennedy Administration in the next election.

It is assumed that approximately 80 per cent of the Catholics will vote in 1964 for Mr. Kennedy anyhow—as they did in 1960, according to public-opinion polls at that time—and that in addition many Protestant voters now will be gained because the Administration is unwilling to sanction either a constitutional amendment or a law which would treat bricks and mortar for construction as the same thing in church schools as in public schools.

Political expediency rules the day, and the only consistency is in the new strategy which says, in effect, "forget the Constitution and win votes by whatever device will appeal to the largest number of voters."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Insect Sting Can Mean Violent Reaction in Some

You may be surprised to know that stinging insects cause more deaths each year than venomous snakes.

Not that everybody is threatened by our assortment of yellow jackets, wasps, hornets, bumblebees, honey bees and related hymenoptera (equipped with membranous wings).

But there appears to be an increasing number of us who react to the sting of a hymenoptera with a violent reaction of allergic hypersensitivity.

If you have other allergies, or if you know by experience that an insect bite will produce more than the usual pain, swelling and redness, you might consider the following suggestions before you meet up with the next insect in your vicinity.

Do not use perfume or scent of any kind. Hymenoptera are attracted by pleasant odors.

Wear fresh linens and dry off promptly if you are sweaty and overheated. Stinging insects are attracted by unpleasant odors.

Don't walk near flowers or a flowering bush if you are wearing jewelry or some bright metallic object. Hymenoptera are attracted by glitter.

SCRAPE STINGER

If stung by a honey bee, scrape off the stinger with any sharp object. If you merely remove the barb with your fingers, you don't leave enough of an opening for escape of infected venom. So after you've scraped off stinger and surrounding skin, flush the area with running water for a few minutes.

If, despite your efforts, the bitten area begins to react, apply cold compresses. And if you begin to feel a bit woozy, perhaps from absorption and a beginning allergic reaction, take a dose of whatever antihistamine you've been supplied with for your other allergic condition.

Or, if possible, get to the doctor or hospital to receive an injection of Adrenalin or some medicinal of similar action.

And if your past experiences justify more drastic preventive measures ask your doctor his opinion of immunization with stinging insect antigen.

Analyze Beau by 'Peacock Test'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 1481: Mary Nell, aged 33, is the beautiful wife of the man who introduced me at the Florida Rotary Club recently.

"Dr. Crane," she smilingly inquired, "don't you find that some men shun marriage?"

"Yes," she thought they register with your interfaith Scientific Marriage Foundation, don't they wish to date many girls but still avoid getting married?"

PEACOCK MALES

Yes, we find a certain number of apparently eligible men who register with us but still toy with the idea of actual marriage. Many of these are bachelors, 35 years old and upward.

Perhaps they have a new car, though the finance company probably still owns most of it.

But the impressionable young women don't see that marriage on the car, so they assume the man owns the car.

These young men dress well and live in a good neighborhood. But almost every cent they earn is required for living expenses, plus the installments on the car, and possibly two dates per week.

As long as they are unmarried, they can still strut their stuff in front of all eligible females and appear happy.

Recent Editorial Prompts Comments From Readers

The Press' editorial "These Accurate Evaluations of Happenings Are Intriguing," is food for thought. All the factors that led to the fall of the Roman empire are present here today.

Correction will not come by legislative process except there be an urgent demand from the people and that we elect statesmen rather than party politicians who put personal ambition and party affiliation above the welfare of the nation. Legislators are a reflection of those who elect them. We put into office people who are like we are. This leads to the conclusion that if we are to correct these situations we must change our concepts. We live selfishly to satisfy our present urges.

Such a condition faced England and then came REV. HOWSON the Wesleyan Revival with its emphasis on a change of heart and conduct. As a result vast numbers were altered for the better and a tremendous uplift was passed on. God grant these come to pass here now.

'Why Big Spread on Liz Taylor'

I've never complimented you but I've enjoyed Dr. Crane, Abby, your coverage of the presidential campaign and Mrs. Kennedy's tour, so I probably shouldn't write complaining. But when I see front page news about people like Elizabeth Taylor, I wonder why such behavior rates front page.

I suppose she is news but doesn't it seem to me that an in-comprehensible career? Now Eddie Fisher rates a series of articles by a columnist who feels he should be sympathetic with because he is not sure if this sexy beauty. Let's sympathize with the children he left fatherless.

I'll not write the revolting thoughts that come to my mind, but I'm trying to raise my children to believe that there is a difference between right and wrong, and I protest against an article which insinuates that such behavior can be excused.

Why must such trash be printed on the front pages?

'Officials Continue to Waste Money'

Sen. Lynn O. Francis has made a very rare statement: Reduce state spending and we have enough tax money. Our officials spend time figuring how to get more tax money, instead of how to reduce the waste.

We are in the same condition where we are before we voted to increase the sales tax. Amazing enough nothing is said about the waste.

Where is that additional one per cent apparently we still need it, although I am under the impression we are paying it. This is a vicious cycle. The more you pay, the more we waste, and it is one of the best signs of internal decay. Elect candidates who are sincere in their desire to reduce this waste. Vote so that your taxes will not be continually increasing. Congratulations, Sen. Francis.

John L. Evans 3812 Elizabeth Road

Examples of approximate loss to school districts: If the .5-mill loss were sustained, Waterford $75,000; Birmingham $179,000; and Pontiac $260,000.

I don't begrudge county workers any money, but the county should ask the voters for an increase if more is needed. Otherwise they would decrease the spending.

Write your superior or mayor and express your feelings.

But his juvenile boasting was such poor taste, that I was rebuffed at the outset. So will you ask the IBM machine to see if it can select another male who is

PEACOCK OR WORKHORSE

Such males often prefer this peacock existence as they absorb the admiring "Oh" and "Aha" of eligible girls, than to get into harness as a stable marital workhorse.

Marriage is a man's job. The peacock role is more juvenile.

Yet thousands of men are emotionally retarded. They never lose their desire to strut, or boast of many conquests and a dream of broad horizons.

As regards their mental ability, we psychologists have intelligence tests that will give us an I. Q. or Intelligence Quotient on a 100.

If he scores under 75 his mental I. Q., we call him retarded or feeble-minded.

By the same token, we should likewise rate a man's Emotional Quotient on an E. Q.

A lot of brilliant college graduates who rate maybe 125 in I. Q., are emotionally retarded and at the moron level in their E. Q.

For example, many cultured, attractive girls will write to the home office of the SMF, saying the man we introduced to them, needed like a teen-ager, though he may have been 40 to 50 years of age.

"Dr. Crane," she started out by telling how many girls he had dated the past couple of weeks.

"Apparently," he would immediately grow jealous and overly prize his companionship.

really mature and beyond the peacock stage?"

Our SMF is introducing about 2,000 per month, most of whom are superior fellows in E. Q., as well as in I. Q. But we still are troubled by juvenility in some persons, both male and female.

However, our divorce rate is well under 1 per cent, so we are far below the national average of close to 30 per cent.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane at the home office of the Scientific Marriage Foundation, 1000 E. 12th Street, Suite 100, Birmingham, Alabama 35202. We will send you a copy of our book "The Peacock Test" and a copy of our book "The Peacock Test" and a copy of our book "The Peacock Test".

Battle Creek Mayor to Seek Lt. Gov. Nod

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Raymond M. Turner has declined renomination as mayor of Battle Creek to campaign for the Democratic nomination as lieutenant governor of Michigan.

Turner, 42, was nominated for mayor by the City Commission last night. In declining, he said, "The demands of a statewide campaign would make it impossible for me to devote the time to the job of mayor that it warrants."

The commission, which selects a mayor from among its members, then named Millard Vandervoort, an attorney, to the post. Vandervoort is now vice mayor.

Judge Stands Firm in Stabbing Case

DETROIT — Juvenile Judge James Lincoln refused yesterday to waive jurisdiction over Thomas H. Ramirez, 16, so that the boy could be tried as an adult.

Ramirez and his stepbrother, Frank Ramirez, 17, once admitted to police they stabbed their cousin, Naomi Basch, 4, to death Jan. 31. Frank later cleared Thomas.

Lincoln said he had a great deal of evidence Thomas Ramirez lied to involve himself and had not stabbed the girl.

Police Recover Stolen Paintings

Find Cezanne Collection in Abandoned Auto in Marseille, France

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Police reported the recovery from a parked car of eight paintings by Paul Cezanne stolen last August from the Aix-en-Provence Museum.

The masterpieces were valued by officials at $2 million, and the haul was the biggest in the wave of art thefts that swept Western Europe and particularly the French Riviera in 1960 and 1961.

Police told an incredible story of the recovery. They said the paintings were found in the back seat of a stolen automobile, carrying false license numbers, that had been left on a Marseille street with one window broken.

Police said they found the car Monday night but left it in place and kept a lookout on it. No one approached the car to recover the paintings.

HELD FOR RANSOM?

Because of the unique quality of the paintings and their fame, experts had assumed all along that the thieves would be unable to sell them to a dealer. There was speculation that they were stolen to be held for ransom or for some unscrupulous wealthy collector who wanted to gloat over them in secrecy.

An art expert authenticated the recovered paintings. He said they had been stripped from their wooden support frames but were all in perfect condition.

The paintings were stolen from a special exhibit being held in the birthplace of the impressionist master. Most of the paintings had been loaned by museums or private collectors. Unlike most art works in public museums, the Cezannes were insured because they were on loan for a special exhibit.

Gen. MacArthur Awarded Medal Bearing Profile

NEW YORK (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur was honored yesterday as the first recipient of a medal bearing his name and profile.

It was awarded to MacArthur for his "achievements as a citizen, statesman and soldier" by the New York Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The medal will be presented each year to a resident of this area "who has contributed to the progress of the community in a nonmilitary field of endeavor, such as business, science or the arts."

MacArthur paid tribute at the ceremony to the "American man at arms." He said "in 20 campaigns and on 100 battlefields I have regarded him then as now as one of the world's noblest figures."

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A mistrial was declared yesterday in the murder conspiracy trial of Mickey Cohen and four others accused of slaying a gangland debt collector.

A jury of 11 women and 1 man reported to Judge Lewis Drucker that it was unable to reach a verdict in the case against Cohen, Joe

WHAT DO 3 out of 4 DOCTORS RECOMMEND for TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

A Survey Also Reveals What Many Doctors, Themselves, Take When They Have Headache Pain.

New York, N.Y. — Medical reports confirm tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind and are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with a special tablet that not only relieves pain but also the emotional tension, mental fatigue and depression that usually accompany such headaches.

Tense, nervous headaches call for the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin. A survey reveals 9 out of 4 doctors recommend the fast, pain-relieving ingredients in Anacin. In fact, many doctors themselves rely on this same type relief when they have a headache.

Anacin Tablets give fast, prolonged and — more complete relief than aspirin or buffered aspirin. You see, Anacin is different and contains special medication not found in aspirin or buffered aspirin. It's this extra medication that not only relieves pain, but also relaxes the tension and releases painful pressure on nerves.

Despite their strength and effectiveness — Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. Anacin Tablets are so safe, they may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting or irritating the stomach.

See if the extra medication in stronger yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you. Change to Anacin for fast, long-lasting and more complete relief.

Ask Record Total for Troy Schools

$1.57 Million Sought by Board; Revenue Not Expected to Meet Figure

TROY — A record budget of $1.57 million for 1962-63 was adopted last night by the board of education here for presentation to the County Tax Allocation Board.

The school district does not expect sufficient revenue to meet the budget, however, according to Supt. Rex M. Smith.

Cutbacks in expected expenditures will be made after the allocation board's verdict is known and information is received on the amount of state aid the district will receive, Smith said today.

The budget is almost $100,000 higher than the 1961-62 budget, which was slashed in January.

Cutbacks are necessary because of the April 2 defeat at the polls of a three-mill school operating tax proposal.

Nature and extent of the cutbacks will depend on the county's allocation and the amount of state aid, Smith said.

POSSIBLE AID HIDE

Smith indicated there was a good possibility of increased state aid for 1962-63.

Some cutbacks will be unavoidable even if increased state aid is received, however, Smith said.

Voters defeated the tax proposal by 1,415 to 887, even though the actual tax increase they faced was only two mills. The school board had promised to decrease the debt-retirement levy by one mill if voters approved the three mills for operating funds.

The same proposal had been turned down in November.

'Wizard of Oz' to Be Staged at Clarkston School

CLARKSTON — Children in the Clarkston school system are raising their piggy banks to buy tickets to "The Wizard of Oz" which will be presented twice Friday at the Junior high school.

The production by the Wayne State University Children's Theatre is being brought here under the sponsorship of the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

Tickets are being sold in the schools to pupils in grades three, four, five and six. Those from outlying schools will be transported in school buses.

The two performances of the play, designed especially for youthful audiences, will be staged at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. It runs about an hour in length.

School Board Delays Deciding Tax Needs

OXFORD — The board of education last night postponed a decision on the amount and duration of the school operating millage it will ask voters to approve in the June 11 school elections.

The board agreed to wait until after the meeting next Wednesday of a citizen's committee formed by the Parent-Teacher Association Council.

Recommendations of the citizens' committee will be considered in reaching a decision at the board's next regular meeting April 24, or at a special meeting before then.

Probable request of the school board will be renewal of the eight-mill operating tax scheduled to expire this year. At least that much will be needed to meet the 1962-63 record budget of $68,000, school officials have said.

SEEK RE-ELECTION

Ted Pearson Jr., school board president, and Louis B. Coryell, treasurer, have announced they will seek re-election to the board in the June 11 elections. Their four-year terms are expiring.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the election is 4 p. m. May 15. A minimum of 50

Christian JC Group States Sale of Hats

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Rochester branch of the Associates of Michigan Christian Junior College is planning a kaleidoscope array of 300 hats for showing and sale Tuesday at the college.

The chapeaus, all different in design and inexpensively priced, will go on sale at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Proceeds from the sale and nominal admission fee, to be charged, will be used to benefit the college at 800 West Avon Road.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Utica's $3.5-Million Budget for Schools Wins an Okay

UTICA — A record $3.5-million school budget for 1962-63 has been approved by the Board of Education here.

Included was provision for payment of the annual 5 per cent salary increments teachers had been scheduled to get, but almost lost to a salary freeze proposed to avert a $300,000 deficit.

The budget, nearly $240,000 higher than last year's, provides for other cutbacks in the school program in order to save the teachers' annual pay raises, which had been promised through 1963.

Damage to the quality of education in Utica if salaries were frozen had been predicted by the United Teachers Club.

Recommendations of the teachers' club for higher starting salaries were not followed, however.

DISPUTED IN COURT

The deficit loomed because of a $300,000 shortage in operating funds caused by a court dispute over taxes initiated by Chrysler Corporation.

Although Chrysler paid its 1961 and 1962 tax bills on the installment plan it operates on Van Dyke Road, its court action put the money in escrow until the dispute is resolved.

Chrysler protested the taxes on demand of the federal government, which is obligated to reimburse Chrysler for taxes paid on the government-owned plant.

Cutbacks in capital outlay for equipment, in allowances to students for supplies, in library and book programs, and in the music program are incorporated in the budget. It was also decided to postpone purchase of new school buses.

Another cause of the fund shortage was a board decision not to levy all the millage approved by voters in January, 1961. Five mills were approved, but only four were levied.

Although the board had promised, during the millage campaign, not to levy more than four, board president Jack Harvey recently admitted, "Maybe we made a mistake."

The school board has also awarded structural steel contracts for the new Shelby Junior High School and the Josephine Switzer Elementary School starter unit, both projected for completion by September 1963.

The new junior high will be located behind the Disco Elementary School on Van Dyke Road.

Both schools are part of the $3.5-million building program approved in a bond issue vote in December 1960.

On Utica Journalism Class

April Fool Joke Backfires

UTICA — An April Fool joke by 11 journalism students and their teacher at the high school here turned out yesterday to have been a big flop.

School officials were not amused by their April Fool edition of the semi-monthly school newspaper that lampooned teachers and contained material considered in "bad taste."

The students, all members of a senior journalism class that produces the tabloid "Arrow," yesterday found themselves with neither a newspaper nor a journalism class.

The teacher, 26-year-old Gerald Somowski, was no longer adviser of the newspaper, was no longer teaching the journalism class, and was beginning a new assignment as a study hall moderator.

SUSPENSE PUBLICATION

Supt. Fred M. Atkinson, on direction of the board of education, suspended publication of the paper and reassigned Somowski. With Somowski gone, the journalism class disbanded for lack of a teacher.

The April Fool edition, called "Error," carried articles describing a beer party in the school cafeteria, announcing

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wells, of 877 Buckhorn St., Lake Orion, announce the engagement of their daughter Sandra Lea to Edward D. Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Kirby of Huntington Woods. No date has been set for the wedding.

PATTERNS — Light and shadow create numerous geometric designs on the Shrine of Our Lady of Orchard Lake now under construction on the campus of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary's College and High School in Orchard Lake. The 650-seater prom arrangements at a Detroit night club and presenting a contest to identify a certain teacher offering a date with her as the prize.

"It is admittedly an example of poor judgment and bad taste to have permitted this kind of thing to be printed," Atkinson said.

Somowski will continue to teach English and another journalism class.

Oxford Studies Tax Increase

Hike to Balance Budget Proposal of $143,000 Would Be 1st in 3 Years

OXFORD — A tax increase, the first in three years, is being considered by the Village Council here to balance a proposed $143,000 budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

Village Manager Robert W. Smalley last night recommended a one-mill increase over the current 18 mills to provide balance pay raises for the village's 14 employees.

Proposed salary increases amount to six cents an hour.

The preliminary budget, which must be adopted by May 8, is approximately $6,000 higher than last year.

The one additional mill will give the village another $2,500 in revenue, or a total of $47,000, if the 19 mills is levied, Smalley said.

The 18 mills have been collected the last two years. The village tax limitation is 20 mills.

While no public hearing on the tentative budget is required under the village charter, the proposed budget will be available for public inspection at the village hall a week prior to its adoption.

The council has one regular meeting scheduled, April 24, before the deadline for adopting the budget.

Revisions, if any, in the proposed budget would be made at this meeting of the council.

Proposed salary increases are about six cents an hour.

The program will add 85,000 new telephones in the state and finance construction of 12 new buildings and 12 additions costing $3 million.

Polish Music Sunday Eve at Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE — The combined choral groups of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary's College and High School will present a program entitled "Song of Lent" at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the campus auditorium.

Drawing chiefly on Polish songs, the program also makes use of liturgical idioms which are based on ancient musical traditions.

Composed and arranged by Father Henry Waraka, the "Song of Lent" takes on a constant form comprised of four parts: Lamentations, Holy Week, Good Friday and Resurrection.

Daniel Durant, choirmaster at St. Michael's Church in Flint, will be the organ accompanist.

This 20th annual Lenten presentation is open to the public with a voluntary donation.

Area in Shelby Also to Decide

Charter Township Idea Stalls Date for Awhile; County Acts

UTICA — Voters in the city and in a 300-acre Shelby Township residential area on its eastern boundary will decide June 4 whether the 300 homes in the area will become annexed to Utica.

Date for the annexation vote was set yesterday by the Macomb County Board of Supervisors, who acted on petitions for the vote bearing 250 signatures.

The petitions were presented two months ago by representatives of the Shelby Manor Civic Association, which claims to represent the approximately 300 homeowners in the five subdivisions concerned.

June 4 was the election date recommended to the supervisors by Shelby Township Supervisor Louis E. Evans. Evans had previously tried to stall setting of an election date.

BOTH AREAS TO VOTE

Utica residents will vote on whether to accept the area into their city. At the same time, residents of the area concerned will decide whether they want to join the city.

Annexation of the area would almost double the size of Utica.

Evans has fought the annexation proposal with a suggestion that Shelby become a charter township. This would give the annexation-favored residents the same advantages of belonging to a city, Evans said.

According to Robert W. Hirt, vice president of Shelby Manor Civic Association Council, the main objective of annexation is to solve the area's water problems.

The area is presently served from shallow wells, many of which have been condemned, he said. Other reasons include the prospect of closer fire and police protection and quicker solution to drain and sewage problems, he added.

Ortonville Cuts Budget 40 Per Cent

ORTONVILLE — A 1962-63 budget almost 40 per cent lower than last year's has been adopted by the school district here.

The $24,786 budget is approximately $15,000 lower than the 1961-62 budget. The difference results partly from lower anticipated road improvement costs.

Last year's budget also included completion of a new fire hall.

The council also has granted permission to Consumers Power Co. to extend its gas service into the village. The company plans to complete installation of gas lines by September.

A nine-man planning commission has been established by the council. Tentative plans call for a meeting as soon as prospective members can be contacted, possibly by Monday.

Church at Lake Orion to Sponsor Ham Dinner

LAKE ORION — The women's department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will sponsor a baked ham dinner tomorrow at the church, 531 E. Flint St.

Serving of the family-style meal will be from 5 to 7 p. m. Proceeds will go into the building fund.

This is part of the company's $36.5-million expansion program calling for modernization and other improvements in the Detroit metropolitan area and several outstate regions.

The program will add 85,000 new telephones in the state and finance construction of 12 new buildings and 12 additions costing $3 million.

More Communities Get Direct Dialing

Four area communities, South Lyon, Armada, Romeo and Washington, are included in the 15 to be added to the direct dialing network, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today.

Elect Councilman Village President

WOLVERINE LAKE — Veteran Councilman Oscar Fritz has been elected village president, the second time he has held the office since 1960.

Fritz, 58, of 626 Wolverine Drive, was appointed to the post by his constituents in 1960 following the resignation of James Farley.

He served nine months until the election of Norman Blumman, which Fritz just succeeded.

Serving his third term on the council, Fritz was elected the first time in 1954, the year the village incorporated.

PRUNING TIME — A common sight in orchards at this time of year is workmen pruning the fruit trees to assure a more abundant crop in the upcoming season. Here, Joe Carling.

For Lyon Twp. Schools

Ask Millage Renewal

SOUTH LYON — Renewal of millage that would provide the Lyon Township school system with about $145,000 annually for operations will be made in the school district at a special election May 12.

School district voters will be requested in the Saturday election to reinstate the 6.5-mill levy that expired in December, of which only four mills had been earmarked for operations.

The other 2.5 mills had been designated for building and sites.

School board members said they believe that the conversion of the 2.5 mills into operational funds will allow substantial increases to be made in the teachers salary schedule.

The board already has approved salary hikes of $300 for the 1962-63 fiscal year, in addition to the annual $200 increment, for each of the 69 teachers in the school district.

The salary increases were contained in last year's projected preliminary budget of $75,000, which now must be submitted to the County Tax Allocation Board for its decision on what share of the county 15 mill limitation should be allocated to the school district.

Last year the school system received 8.37 mills, giving it a total operating levy of 12.27.

EYE CONSTRUCTION

If the county allocation remains the same, and the 6.5 mills are approved the school system would receive 8.37 mills, giving it a total operating levy of 12.27.

Extension Units Plan Course in Dressmaking

A daytime class in basic dressmaking will be conducted at Avon Township Hall on Wednesday mornings beginning April 18. Sponsored by the area extension clubs, the eight-week series will be taught by Mrs. Eleanor Zeitz of Detroit, a clothing specialist with a pattern company.

Enrollment fee is $7.50, and reservations may be made by calling Mary A. Hardy, county extension agent, at the extension office.

have 14.2 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation to operate. Another eight mills are levied in the school district for debt retirement.

This tax would provide enough revenue, according to school officials, to build a new high school and one elementary facility in the near future without increasing taxes to reduce a bond issue that would be needed.

Planned are a 700-student high school near South Lyon and a four-room elementary school in Salem Township, Washtenaw County. Cost of the two facilities has been estimated at $1.4 million.

To Talk on Food Protection at MSU Extension Parley

A public symposium dealing with the protection of food at all levels of handling will be conducted in Pontiac Tuesday by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

The county and public interest prompted the advisory council of the Marketing Information for Consumers Program in Oakland County to plan the conference. It will be held at 8 p. m. at Lincoln Junior High School.

Key personnel representing producers, food handlers, regulatory agencies and consumers will explain their contributions to food protection, according to Mrs. Josephine Lawver, Oakland County extension agent in consumer marketing information.

Mrs. Maxine Virtue, head of the state consumer protection division and assistant attorney general, will direct the discussions.

Dr. Stanley K. Rios of the Michigan State University horticulture department will talk on methods producers use to protect wholesomeness and condition of food.

Robert Pelt of the Peters Sausage Co., Detroit, will report on the role of processors in food protection. Jack Rose, manager of the Michigan Chain Store Council, and W. R. Keasey, secretary-manager of the Michigan Food Retailers Association, will explain how food stores contribute to food protection.

Three speakers will explain the roles of federal, state and local regulatory agencies.

FEDERAL LAWS

George T. Daugherty, director for the Detroit district of the Food and Drug Administration, will outline federal laws regulating interstate handling of food.

Describing state laws regulating food sold in Michigan will be Lytle Littlefield, chief of the bureau of foods and standards in the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The program will conclude with suggestions by Mrs. Robert Hague of Birmingham on what consumers can do to protect their food. Mrs. Hague is a member of the advisory council for the Marketing Information for Consumers Program in the county.

A bond issue proposal is being considered by the school board but it is not expected that voters will be asked to decide it until June, possibly at the annual school board election.

PTA Council Members Gather to Honor New, Old Presidents

Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher-Association members gathered at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Tuesday for their Presidents' Breakfast. The affair is observed annually for newly elected and retiring PTA presidents and school principals.

Highlight of the meeting was presentation of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers' distinguished service award to Mrs.

George Gray by Mrs. Howard McConnell, council program chairman.

Mrs. Gray, retiring council president, has served two terms as Lincoln Junior High School PTA president and four terms at various times as Owen School PTA president. She also has held numerous offices and chairmanships in local PTA activities.

A vocal program by Pontiac

Central High School's Choralaires, directed by A. Michael Dempsey, also was presented for the group.

OFFERED INVOCATION

Invocation was offered by the Rev. Theodore Allebach, pastor of the host church.

Special guests introduced by Mrs. Gray included: Mrs. Harry King, past MCTP president; Mrs. William Wright, MCTP program chairman who extended greetings from the state organization; and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools.

Also presented were Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of Pontiac Schools, Lewis Crew, assistant to the administrator for Pontiac Schools; Gerald White, elementary education co-ordinator; and officers of the council.

Mrs. Thomas Bartle was breakfast general chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Henson, PTA council president-elect, was reservations co-chairman with Mrs. Theodore Figa. Other committee chairmen were Mrs. William White, invitations; Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth, decorations; Mrs. Leroy Koch, hospitality; and Mrs. Earl Ottavig, publicity.

Look to the Cape

(UPI) — The cape shape contributes to the spring suit story. Capelets, fly-away backs and capelet sleeves figure in many collections. They help to firm the growing trend toward softness and femininity

Mrs. Leon Stickney of North Francis Street, incoming Pontiac Central High School Parent-Teacher Association president, receives a corsage from Mrs. Thomas Bartle, North Ardmore

Stretch Fabrics Expand Horizons

(UPI) — Stretch fabrics, no longer confined to pants, now appear in active playwear, even casual dresses. Stretch denim is shown in bright colors as well as the familiar navy and faded blue, styled with a Western look and used for hip-slung pants.

COSTUME DRESSES

Doubly smart... dress and matching coat... togetherness... or on its own... a shining example for spring.

Too-Casual Approach Ruins Many Dinners

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Remember way back when if a hostess wanted you for dinner at seven she said "seven" without any hemming or hawing?

That made things simple for everyone — hostess and guests alike. The hostess knew she could serve dinner any minute she liked after seven o'clock — for the guest invited for seven knew that meant he should arrive about five minutes before the hour, certainly not a minute after.

But then came the casual approach to entertaining and women got afraid of naming a definite hour in a definite manner.

So hostesses started saying "sevensh" with its hint of time being completely unimportant. Or if they didn't use that word they would say, "Oh, around seven, I guess" or "Seven, if you can make it then — but don't rush."

It all sounded so casual and easy — this open-handed way with time, this "let's not take this party too seriously" approach to entertaining.

But in reality it has proved anything but simple. The hostess who blithely says "sevensh" is fretting inwardly by eight when several of her guests still haven't arrived.

And the guests invited to a large party are never quite sure just what a hostess means by sevensh. Some hostesses expect guests to know that sevensh means seven.

Others are so used to having guests take sevensh for seven-thirty or a quarter-of-eight that a guest arriving at seven would probably find her hostess frantically waving her hands to dry her nail polish and explaining that the host was in the shower.

Yes, the casual approach to time is a bit confusing and puts no one at ease — hostess or guests. So what's wrong with dropping the "sh" from the hour when we extend an invitation?

Musicale Program Light, Enjoyable

By RALPH HUMMEL

Two pianists and a solo soprano last night mixed seriousness with satire at the annual Men's Night musicale in Pontiac Northern High School's large auditorium.

The evening had a thoroughly enjoyable light-hearted flavor.

Even the piano team of Charles Fischer and Eugene Bossart played some of the "serious" parts of the program with the delicate humor of mischievous boys out of mother's sight but not out of hearing.

To open the program, the two drew from Fauré, Riedl and Milhaud to mix tenderly singing melody and raucous rhythms. The selections were well suited to point up a surprising fact: that two pianists can race with the perfection of machine gears and still keep their individuality.

Fischer's style distinguishes itself by sharp attacks which frequently let each note stand alone to speak for itself. Bossart, the elder of the team, approaches his work with a more mellow touch which rarely becomes interrupted and mostly consists of a continuously integrated flow of performance.

WELL RECEIVED

The two drew heaviest applause with Milhaud's "Brazilera," a piece which begins with a fortissimo outburst of Latin rhythms in which the pianos sounded like an entire native steel band. A more melodious mood follows, and the rhythm returns.

The understanding of the two artists have for each other's style and abilities was best shown in a Sonata by Poulenc. After prelude, which mixes melody with staccato-hammered dissonance, and a pastoral movement culminating in clashing rhythms, the pianos enter the finale like two race horses in a steeple chase.

The race is started by one piano, which soon is chased by the other. The right amount of tongue-in-cheek humor was introduced in the rhythms. In all it was an expert display of how to stay together while playing apart.

The Fischer-Bossart team without doubt is one which conveys its own excitement to the audience, and many a heart galloped merrily along to its beat.

Brahms' well known "Variations on a Theme by Haydn" gave the duo its chance to display individual technique. Like the later Bachmann-Suete (Opus 17), this longer work was handled with competence which instilled confidence in the quality of work being done by Fischer-Bossart as professors at the University of Michigan.

Satire made its grand entrance in gold satin, trimmed by what appeared to be seaweed and draped around the ample and tall form of Soprano Esther Benson as Madam Wozul.

Carrying a green silk kerchief of huge dimensions, Miss Wozul, beg pardon, Miss Benson, was ably accompanied by Audrey Jennings. The coal-raiding of songs operatic, German, French and English found its glowing highlights in sounds which the soprano fan is well acquainted. Among these were the popular

Navy Mothers Hold Meeting

Mrs. Smith will be hostess for the social meeting, April 26 at 7:30 p.m. Members are asked to bring game prizes.

Next regular meeting will be the annual election of officers, May 3. The installation will be at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, June 7.

Sylvia Wallis Wed

Sylvia Jean Wallis became the bride of Robert E. Sigler in an evening ceremony performed by Brother W. W. Hall Saturday in the Church of Christ. Tall candleabra formed a background for baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and snapdragons.

Parents of the newtyeds are Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wallis of East Howard Street and the Wilson L. Siglers of Whitfield Avenue, Waterford.

A beautiful veil of silk illusion accented by pearls and orange blossoms fell to waist length over the bride's tiered gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The bridegroom's jeweled gift pendant necklace accented the modified Sabrina neckline. White roses, carnations and stephanotis comprised the bride's bouquet.

The attendants were identical gowns of pink chiffon matching satin. Matron of honor Mrs. William Sigler, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, carried red roses and white carnations. Bridesmaids, Lara Green and Shirley Bashore held bouquets of red roses.

William Sigler performed the duties of best man. Jerry Sigler, Union Lake, and James Wallis ushered. They are brothers of the bride couple.

After greeting some 250 guests at the church reception, the newtyeds left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan. They will reside on Williams Lake Road. The new Mrs. Sigler is a graduate of First Junior College.

Shoulder corsages of May Day roses complemented Mrs. Wallis' dress of olive green silk crepe and lace and turquoise chiffon over satin chosen by the mother of the bridegroom.

Do Almost Everything

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The cosmetic industry today is a business of near miracles. There seems to be a product for every feminine need in the art of beauty care and self-enhancement. It's a far cry from the days when there was a comparatively limited selection.

There are hormone creams which aid the aging complexion. Then there are the moisturizing creams which can be used underneath your regular makeup. These are especially helpful to the woman who has a very dry skin.

There is lip rouge in a very slender stick. This eliminates the need for a lip brush since you can use it to outline the shape of your lips and then fill in with the same stick.

There is a cream stick with which to cover up blemishes such as pimples and scars. This is useful in covering dark circles and other complexion discolorations. It also minimizes shadows from deep lines.

MAKE-UP IS ART

There is the product which contains oils similar to the ones naturally found in our skin. This is softening to the epidermis. Eye make-up has become an art. Women who never used any of these beautifiers before are taking advantage of the lift they give the face. Eyeshadow comes in all shades. Eyeliners make the eyes look larger, the lashes thicker, and the eyes more expressive.

The list goes on and on. Of course, the primary needs of the complexion are regular cleansing and lubrication, but it is fun and also flattering to use some of the special products.

Soap and water are best for the normal or oily skin, while the very dry complexion will profit by cleansing creams as well as the oilier creams for lubrication. The oily skin does not require cream.

However, as a woman grows older the natural oil in her skin decreases. Therefore, most women should use lubricating creams or oil from early middle age on, even before then, if the complexion is dry. This makes a tremendous difference in the youthfulness of the epidermis.

If you do not need creams over the entire face, you are almost certain to profit by the use of an eye cream. This is patted about the eyes before going to sleep at night.

If all the world's winds should die down, starting then again would require more power than all the United States' electrical plants could generate in a hundred years.

Negro's Family to Join Daughter Living in Russia

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — William Clark, Negro laborer who sent his 14-year-old daughter to Russia last year because he did not want her going to "Jim Crow schools here," announced today that he and his family plan to join her behind the Iron Curtain.

In a personal letter to President Kennedy, the 44-year-old

Clark said he and his wife Carrie planned to "resume their U.S. citizenship and take their five young sons to live in Moscow."

For the last seven months the couple's daughter, Hildah, has been attending school in Moscow under an all-expenses-paid scholarship provided by Soviet Premier and Mrs. Nikita S. Khrushchev. "I and my family would like very much to join my daughter in the Soviet Union so we, too, can escape Jim Crow and injustice," Clark wrote in his letter to the President.

U.S., Canadian Aims on Lakes Requested

TORONTO (U) — The Fifth Conference on Great Lakes Research ended yesterday with a plea for a clear definition of aims by Canada and the United States on the use and conservation of the inland water system.

Martin Fast of the Great Lakes Commission in Ann Arbor said the governments must work out a sound and wise public policy that will establish what he called realistic priorities among conflicting claims on the lakes resources.

Fast told some 200 U.S. and Canadian scientists and technicians attending the two-day conference that the last comprehensive policy statement of the Great Lakes was laid down in a 1909 treaty signed by the two countries. He said it does not cover the expanded demands on Great Lakes resources today.

Ships still carry on from one to three Morse code radio operators,

Son Follows Dad on Murder Path 27 Years Later

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Leonti, 45, will be sentenced May 11 for the same type of crime that sent his father to the electric chair 27 years ago. A jury recommended mercy for the son.

The younger Leonti was the state's chief witness against his father almost three decades ago. Then 17, he testified in the first-degree murder trial of his father, Giuseppe, for the slaying of the youth's sister, Mrs. Anna Natale.

An all-male jury convicted Joseph Leonti Tuesday of first-degree murder in the slaying of his landlady, Evelyn Williams, 63, last May 17.

As a result of rigid conservation practices, there are now about five million times as many buffalo in the United States as in the early 1900s.

Hit-Runner Kills Blind Man, Aide

HIGHLAND PARK (U) — A blind man and a man who was helping him across the street were struck down and killed by a hit-run driver today.

Police said Fred R. Lloyd, 58, of Highland Park, was helping John T. Ruge, 60, also of Highland Park, across the street when they were struck down at Woodward and Division.

Thant Asked to Consider U.N. Industrial Branch

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Economic and Social Council asked acting Secretary-General U. Thant yesterday to consider the possible appointment of a U.N. commissioner for industrial development.

The 18-nation council, in a resolution adopted unanimously, also asked Thant to name 10 experts to study the advisability of establishing a U.N. specialized agency for the same purpose.

How do you measure 30 years?

Necessity, the old saying goes, is the mother of invention. We at Osmun's have seen some pretty good inventions in men's clothing over the past three decades.

For example . . .

Around 1930, men needed something to break up the formal monotony of wearing a suit all the time. Result? The sport coat. Same thing with basic wardrobes.

For years manufacturers have been trying to fill the well-dressed man's need for one basic wardrobe for all occasions . . . at one sensible price.

And now, Osmun's has it. It's called the "Fashion Fiver"

and it's tailored by that master, the Palm Beach Company. You actually get five wardrobes in one: Dress suit, Sport coat, Sport coat and contrasting slacks, Sport coat and other slacks, plus slacks with sport shirt.

Like our man in the photo . . . you can choose from the biggest collection of colorings and spring weights in all of Pontiac.

For over thirty years the new ideas and the famous names have always been found first at Osmun's. (And that's no invention!)

Cuba Feeling Pinch of Communism's Lack of Food

Editor's Note — On an island surrounded by limitless resources of the Caribbean, Cubans can't buy enough beans, poultry and many other staples always abundant before now are rationed. In this first of two articles, Star Press news analyst explains why communism in Cuba and throughout the Red world fails to satisfy the primary human requirement: Food.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Here is the recipe for an indigestible Communist stew:
Mix large quantities of rigid dogma with vast centralized bureaucracy. Spice liberally with fear, adding generous portions of cautious totalitarianism. Garnish with red tape. Bring to a boil over slow-burning resentment.

Ever since it gained power in Russia in 1917, communism in country after country has meant belt-tightening—shortages of food and consumer goods.

Why is a land like the Soviet Union, abundantly endowed with rich, productive soil, chronically unable to solve its farm problems?
Red China, the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland—all Communist-ruled states, confess to dreary successions of agricultural failures. Many in their present Communist days were exporters of food. Why has every country touched by the icy hand of communism had trouble feeding its people?

RATIONING IN CUBA
Why has world communism's latest acquisition, the lush, fertile island of Cuba, been forced to impose rationing in a food crisis? Fanatically, even life on an island surrounded by the limitless resources of the Caribbean—is in short supply for Cubans.

- These seem to be the answers:
1. Communist lust for power. Once having seized it, they require enormous investment in arms to secure and protect it.
  2. A fever for rapid industrialization, with heavy industry which siphons more power, reducing the lion's share of the national wealth.
  3. Ruthless extermination of all vestiges of the past.
  4. Regimentation of the population, and with this the establishment of vast bureaucracies responsible only to the center.
  5. Use of national resources for political purposes abroad.
  6. Frequent passive resistance among farm populations.

Cuba is the latest case in point. As communism tightens on the island's six million people, results show up in shortages. Quickly, the nation is denuded of Red-bait arms. All resources, effort and manpower available are geared primarily to entrenching Red power.

IN RANKS OF MILITIA
These men and women who should be producing are marching in swollen militia ranks, waving guns serving on more than 100,000 defense committees designed as a spy system to prevent counterrevolution, or populating innumerable bureaucratic government organizations designed to keep all power in the hands of the few in the center.

As it did in other states seized by communism, agriculture in Cuba went through a convulsion. The thriving cattle industry was destroyed, farms and plantations were taken over by INRA, the Communist-controlled National Institute for Agrarian Reform. Peasants were paid in scrip and required to trade only in state-run people's stores.

With the rise of the bureaucratic police state, with all the pressure and fears it brought, individual initiative was killed. The middle class was chased out of the country, and with it too many of Cuba's skilled, educated people.

Speeches of Cuban Communist leaders have a familiar, parrot-like sound, echoing the dismal recitations heard year after year in all other Red-ruled states.

The speeches concede developments like these:
REASON AFTER REASON
Production of sugar, always the mainstay of Cuba's economy, is dropping steadily. There is a severe shortage of cane cutters. "Socialist Sundays" have been proclaimed, dragging people into service and forbidding work.

New 'Light Sandwiches'

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — New "sandwiches of light" are playing a key role in the Navy's Polaris submarines.
The lights are flat sheets of plastic coated with a special phosphor, sandwiched between two conductive films. When voltage is applied, the phosphor glows.
About the atomic size, many of these panels are used to form a segmented display board that flashes information to the missile control center.

Always Time to Eat

Distribution has gone haywire. Black beans, a staple of Cuban diet, spoil in warehouses. Beans are rationed, four ounces per person per week. With what beans that finally get into distribution, bureaucrats follow orders out the window. This is some places, said the Communist INRA chief Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, "a degree of negative perfectionism" was achieved when the four ounces was broken up into two ounces of lentils and two ounces of black beans per person.

Distribution of meat is chaotic. There are districts which go without meat for weeks. The same applies to poultry, a favorite item of the Cuban diet.
Communist Hungary delivered refrigerators to Havana on an urgent basis. Rodriguez reported the chief of the "consolidated meat industry" didn't want them, so the "chief of the chicken section" grabbed all of them. Then, suddenly, all bureaucrats wanted the vans. None was available. Food spoiled.

Another Congo Seen in Bleeding Algeria

BY PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Just about a year ago, a French newsmen visited the United Press International office in Algiers and, looking down upon busy Avenue Pasteur, he said to no one in particular:

"It will be another Congo."

His words were prophetic, but in a way he probably did not anticipate.

It was a Sunday and Algerians were voting in the first of the De Gaulle-ordered referendums to determine Algeria's future.

At that time the French Algerian government issued two kinds of passes to working newsmen. One was of the ordinary kind, permitting reporters into government buildings and certain other restricted areas.

The other permitted the newsmen to ignore the strict curfew and to be out on the streets after dark.

These were the hours when the plastic bombers came out and a lighted window was an invitation to a sniper's bullet.

Things were not so bad then as now, for the city was in the iron grasp of tough foreign legion paratroopers.

But even then, unless there were compelling reasons, it was better to stay inside behind shutters at night.

Two weeks ago in Paris, this correspondent heard from Camille Pelletier, UPI's Paris newspaper editor, the story of a personal encounter in Algiers as it is today.

STILL, BAKED

His cheek still bore the traces of the razor slash inflicted by two Europeans one night in the dark shadows of Avenue Pasteur.

He believes the razor was cocked, expending only a cursing of the blades. It was, the two men told him, a warning.

And this brings us back to the man who predicted Algeria would become another Congo.

This man was one of thousands of Algerian-born Europeans who wished desperately that Algeria remain a part of metropolitan France.

But he also was a realist and he knew that the tide of independence sweeping over 10 million Moslem Algerians soon would engulf the whole country and that independence for them, in association or not with France, was his fear.

He did not foresee the midday war now being fought by the secret army of the right-wing OAS nor did he foresee the rigid discipline which leaders of the one-time Algerian rebel forces would be able to clamp upon their followers.

GOAD INTO ACTION
For the Arabs know that an OAS objective is to goad them into an action which the French army would be forced to resist, reopening the old war all over again.

Meanwhile, as the Europeans are forced further and further back into their big city strongholds in Algiers, Oran, Constantine and Bone, a situation is arising which De Gaulle foresaw and hoped to prevent. He once spoke of Algerian partition, but he knows that if such became a reality, it would be the beginning of a total European retreat from Algeria.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two hunters were arrested during Pennsylvania's small game season for shooting a cow, the state game commission reported.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Patrick Henry Elementary School French pupils were visiting Byrd Airport when a private plane requested permission to land because of bad weather in Washington.

The children got a chance to converse in French with the plane's occupants—French Ambassador Hervé Alphand and Madame Alphand.

Both Frondizi and Argentina 'Sick'

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst

On Martin Garcia Island in the River Plate, ousted President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina was reported suffering an illness generally attributed to shock and strain.

Also suffering shock and strain but with the symptoms more clearly defined was Argentina itself.

What to do about them constituted a problem under study in capitals from Washington to Buenos Aires.

It was clear that democracy in Latin America, which the United States is pledged to support, suffered a blow when Argentino military leaders elected to interrupt democratic processes on March 29 and depose Frondizi by force.

Even the move which installed President Jose Maria Guido in office as the man next constitutionally in-line did not disguise the fact that military men were making the final decisions.

In only a little more than six months, military forces in South America's two largest countries, Argentina and Brazil, had stepped in to change drastically the course of constitutional government.

For Frondizi, the crisis which finally toppled him, was his 38th.

In Argentina, the military traditionally have expected to be consulted in government affairs, and since the fall of the Peron dictatorship in 1955 have been especially watchful that there should be no return of the Peronistas to power.

UNDER SUSPICION

Almost from the start, Frondizi has been under their suspicion. While denying any obligation to them, Frondizi was elected with the help of Peronistas acting upon the orders of Juan D. Peron in exile.

Six months after Frondizi's election, a new union organization law virtually handed the labor movement back to Peronist control.

In June 1959, the Peronistas made public a document — denied by Frondizi — in which Frondizi allegedly promised to annul all anti-Peron measures taken by the provisional government which replaced Peron.

Forces not unfriendly to Peron were known factors in the Frondizi regime.

Yet Frondizi was not alone in believing Peronistas should be returned to the national political scene. It was held that so long as the Peronistas remained outlawed, they constituted a "corrupting element without responsibility."

In October 1961, the ban on Peronistas in politics was lifted. It and contributing factors proved Frondizi's undoing. In last month's elections Peronistas won sweeping victories in 10 out of 14 provinces and out went Frondizi.

Contributing factors had been a new and unpopular austerity program, a mounting cost of living and Frondizi's own over-confidence in his ability to handle the military.

The problem for the United States: Certainly it wanted no return of Peronism. But neither could it approve a military coup in a democratic state.

For Argentina: To outlaw the Peronistas and call for new elections at the risk of civil war.

The possibility: Martial law.

Italian Legislators, to Name New President

ROME (AP) — The country's lawmakers will elect a new president May 2, chairman Giovanni Leone of the chamber of deputies, announced yesterday.

President Giovanni Gronchi, whose 7-year term expires May 11, is expected to be a candidate for reelection.

A total of 54 legislators — members of the senate and chamber of deputies, and 10 regional representatives — will do the voting.

2 More Die of Smallpox

CARDIFF, Wales (U) — The Welsh board of health yesterday announced two more deaths from smallpox. This brought the deaths in the latest south Wales outbreak to four.

All were patients transferred from Glamorgan Hospital at Bridgend to Blackmill Hospital when the outbreak started Friday.

Rules on Basis of Pension Pay

Kelley Says Solon's Allowance Not Figured in Retirement Benefits

LANSING (U) — The $1,250 expense allowance each legislator collects cannot be considered salary for the purpose of computing his retirement benefits, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley held today.

The 1957 act setting up the retirement system specifically indicates that only the actual salary of lawmakers — currently $5,000 — may be used to compute pensions, Kelley said in an opinion sought by Rep. Andrew W. Cobb, R-Elsie.

The attorney general also informed Cobb that the legislature may bar escalator clauses in retirement systems of home rule cities which increase the pension of a retired city employee if the salary of the position he held is increased.

The Detroit city charter, as an example, makes such provision for the retirement system of its policemen and firemen, Kelley noted.

A home rule city has no independent constitutional power to operate a pension plan, but must depend on an act of the legislature, Kelley said. It follows, therefore, that the legislature may prescribe the forms a pension system may take.

Tenants Floored as Elevators Halt in Office Building

DETROIT (AP) — All the elevators in the 32-story David Broderick Tower in downtown Detroit went out of commission today.

A reported power failure caused the elevators to become immobile prior to morning opening hours of most offices in the building.

Most of the tenants, including doctors and lawyers, stayed on the ground level rather than trying the stairways to the higher floors and waited for repairs.

Some made a long climb up, however.

One was Richard Desautel, program director of radio stations WJLB and WZZM-FM of Booth Broadcasting Co. Desautel went up the stairs to the company's 31st floor offices. An associate said Desautel declared afterwards he'd "never do it again."

Moral Re-Armament to Get Tax Exemption

LANSING (U) — Moral re-armament is entitled to property tax exemptions on its $5 million center on Mackinac Island, the State Attorney General's Office said today.

The worldwide group conforms to the state definition of a religious, charitable or benevolent organization, said State Attorney William D. Deoster. Its property also conforms to state requirements for exemption from the ad valorem tax, he said.

The conclusion matched that reached by the City of Mackinac Board of Review after a meeting with organization leaders last month, he said.

The attorney general's office, he said, has dissolved a county court injunction prohibiting the levy of the taxes against the group, Dexter said. With some exceptions, he added a county court has no authority to issue a restraining order against the collection of property taxes.

Katangs Threatened by Worst Rains in Years

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (U) — Thousands of Africans living along the Lualaba and Lualaba rivers in south and central Katanga are in danger of losing their homes in the worst floods to hit the area for years.

Torrential storms and almost continuous rain have made this year's "wet season" the wettest in a long time and rivers have risen up to 5 feet. Scores of villages are under water.

Leaders to Talk About Plans for Michigan Week

LANSING (U) — Michigan Week leaders will gather at three regional Upper Peninsula conferences today and tomorrow to discuss plans for the ninth annual celebration May 20-26.

Edwin O. George of Detroit, general chairman, will attend the planning sessions tonight at Houghton, tomorrow morning at Marquette and tomorrow afternoon at Sault Ste. Marie.

George said science and technology will be featured this year to focus attention on this vitally important aspect of the state's economy.

Dr. James T. Wilson, head of the University of Michigan Institute of Science and Technology, will chair a special committee on the subject.

Liz to Be Pitied, Says Evangelist

Billy Graham Favors Merger Sentiment in Protestant Churches

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham said today actress Elizabeth Taylor was more to be pitied than censured for shedding another husband.

"I feel that she is to be pitied and prayed for rather than scolded," Dr. Graham said.

He also told a news conference he feels that present efforts to merge some Protestant denominations, while they might not be fully successful, can lead to better understanding among church groups.

A lot can be gained from such movements, he said, even if they are only exploratory.

Dr. Graham, here for the semi-annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board, said Protestant churches have been carrying on vigorous movements in Latin America.

The next four or five years, he said, could tell whether communism is going to be successful in South America.

Ex-Mau Mau Leader Takes Kenya Post

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Jomo Kenyatta, former leader of the Mau Mau anti-white terrorists, was sworn in yesterday as minister of state of the Kenya government.

Kenyatta takes office under a new constitution agreed upon in conferences last week that is expected to clear the way for independence of this East African colony.

Kenyatta was sworn in by Eric Griffith, Britain's acting governor. Kenyatta was convicted of helping to direct the Mau Mau in 1953. He was finally released from restriction last August.

Returns Money Changer

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A mail collector found an empty money changer with a note in a corner mail box. The note said: "Give this to the bus driver — the one that was held up."

Its 1st in Oakland

Becker's to Open in Mall

The first Becker Shoe Store in Oakland County will be among the new shops opening tomorrow in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

President of the retail shoe firm is Sherman I. Becker, 37, 29225 Everett St., Southfield, who operates another store in Dearborn. Becker will take charge of the Pontiac Mall Store.

Becker's new store, which is 135 feet deep and has 25 feet frontage on the main shopping plaza, is located in the southeast section of the Pontiac Mall near the Hughes-Hatcher-Spiffins Clothing Store.

Danish modern furnishings, contemporary-styled chandeliers, wall fixtures and gold and beige carpeting highlight the shop's interior. Wall colors are dusty pink and soft green.

A stuffed animal cage for children and a rustic styled men's department are special features of the store, which carries a complete line of family shoes.

It also has handbags, stockings and accessories.

Becker, who said the firm has been in business since being founded in Detroit in 1938, expects to employ about eight persons.

Stress and Strain Only Day-to-Day Ordinary Living

NEW YORK — In the opinion of an internationally known psychiatrist, some of the scientific experts on mental health have established standards so false they make normal people look bad.

He even suggested false standards have harmed the mental health of some persons.

The views of Dr. E. A. Aikin were freshly pertinent because of a sociological study which found that the mental health of a majority of New Yorkers probably was far from the ideal, Aikin, who's in English, addressed an international psychiatric congress in Canada last year.

"False norms have been published," he said. "For example, it is said strong emotions are unhealthy, that one should always be relaxed and free of tensions, that one should be happy all the time."

"Some of the so-called propaganda for mental health, well intentioned no doubt, induces many members of the general public to waste time on futile self-scrutiny and introspection, encourages them to concentrate on insignificant variations from the average, and even causes some persons to discover a black cat in a dark room, which isn't there."

CAUSED BY EXPERTS

The psychiatric symptoms and illnesses which result from these reactions to "propaganda for mental health" are thus caused by the experts behind the propaganda, he added.

While the sociologic study did not go into reasons for New York's allegedly poor mental health the implication was plain that crowded city living and the hostile-hostile of urban competition had something to do with it, Aikin countered this, too.

"It is high time that ideas about 'wearing out' the nervous system are discarded and that, on the contrary, patients be warned of the dangers of permitting their nervous systems to rust from lack of activity," he said.

"Much is written about the harmful results of excessive stress, but very little about ill health due to boredom or insufficient stress. Some people have come to believe that stress of all sorts should be avoided lest it induce nervous exhaustion."

"But mental health propaganda should teach the public that stress is a normal part of ordinary living."

"It has become fashionable to prescribe tranquilizers right and left to subdue what are in fact normal emotional day-to-day reactions of ordinary living — worries and anxieties, alternating hopes and fears, irritabilities and vexations that we must all undergo if we are to play a full, active, enthusiastic role as members of society."

He quoted the American psychiatrist, Dr. A. P. Noyes, as follows: "We frequently hear that the intensity and struggle of life in the modern era are potent causes of mental disease. Probably more meretricious (deceiving) is a narrow and restricted life with lack of recreation and cultural facilities."

Fruitport Police Back in Business Despite 'Demise'

FRUITPORT — Back in business yesterday was the nine-member Fruitport Township Police Department after it supposedly was abolished March 31, by popular vote in an economy move.

It was reactivated last night by the township board on advice of attorney Paul Sorenson who told board members the department never had been dissolved legally. The department would continue to exist, he explained, until abolished by formal action of the board.

The township police force was created by the board a year ago to replace the former constable system.

It consists of Police Chief Fred Bates and eight subordinates, four of them parttime deputies.

Byron White Faces Problems — Big and Small — on High Court

(Editor's Note: One of the first tasks confronting Byron R. White when he is confirmed to be a member of the U.S. Supreme Court will be the selection of his robe. But there also will be other, more important, changes in his life.)

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Needed: One judicial robe for a former star halfback, standing six-foot-two.

If the Senate, as expected, approves Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron R. White's nomination to the Supreme Court, this will be one of the first — if not the most important — of his problems.

No doubt White already has received little welcoming notes from his colleagues-to-be, congratulating him on his nomination. There will be many more friendly gestures to ease him into the routine of a Justice.

Unlike some previous nominees,

Trying to Find Methods to Chart Lakes Weather

TORONTO (U) — Scientists working on the Great Lakes are taking up the perennial challenge that everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it.

Meteorologists have long known that the vast lake system has a significant effect on weather in the heart of America. But the Great Lakes have been blind sport in the recording and forecasting of weather.

When a weather system moves across the lakes, forecasters are not always sure what conditions will emerge on the other side.

Canadian and United States scientists now are narrowing the gap in their knowledge with an expanding program of meteorological research on the lakes.

TO IMPROVE FORECASTS

The accumulating data from the research will improve forecasting techniques, providing more accurate information for surrounding residents as well as for shipping.

Delegates at the fifth Conference on Great Lakes Research discussed meteorological work on the lakes at the first session of the two-day conference here today.

The conference, sponsored jointly by the Great Lakes Institute at the University of Toronto and the Great Lakes Research Division at the University of Michigan, brought together some 200 scientists and technicians from both sides of the border to compare notes and progress covering a broad range of research from geology to biology.

Papers read at the conference dealt chiefly with technical details of weather recording devices for use on research ships or weatherbuoys.

Doesn't Foresee Steel Price Hike

Bethlehem Corp. Head Says Competition Will Be Major Factor

WILMINGTON, Del. (U) — The President of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. said today competition in the industry probably will prevent any general increase in steel prices resulting from the new labor contract.

Edmund F. Martin declined to tell stockholders at the annual meeting whether the cost of steel will go up after July 1 when the new two-year agreement goes into effect.

"The 18-cent-an-hour increase in wages comes at a time when we are trying to hold the line on prices," Martin said. "This is unfortunate. We should be trying to reduce the price of steel if at all possible because we have more competition particularly from foreign sources."

Martin told newsmen after the 15-minute meeting that production in the first three months of this year was nearly double that of similar 1961 quarter, which he said was Bethlehem's worst first quarter ever.

The nation's third largest steelmaker had a profit of nearly $8 million in the first quarter last year. For the 12 months its profits were $22,357,000.

Martin, presiding in the absence of Chairman A. B. Homer, who was suffering from a cold, said that since the labor settlement earlier this month business has been falling off and he predicted that production and profits for the second quarter probably won't be as good as the first. He said first quarter earnings will be released April 26.

Now a Clean Conscience

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — The Donald Yates family got an unpleasant surprise when they returned home from vacation recently. A burglar had stolen some of Mrs. Yates' clothing. But they got an even bigger surprise upon returning after another trip a few days later. The house had been broken into again and the clothes — soiled — were returned.

OUR PONTIAC MALL STORE IS OPEN EVERY NIGHT TO 9

At Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin

Store Using Stone Decor

The "outdoors" is brought inside the new Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin Clothing Store in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Fieldstone, wood and other natural materials are used throughout the store to create the unique atmosphere.

Fieldstone is used in a waterfall and fountain just outside the main entrance to the store and in columns which frame the sides of a long line of show windows along the front. Oak planks form the top and bottom section of the window panels.

Individual departments in the family clothing store were designed to create an effect of several separate shops under one roof.

The entire men's department is paneled in hand rubbed walnut with aluminum panel inserts. The massive 36-by-4-foot panels required the use of block and tackle during installation. Dark carpeting with pumpkin colored accents set the main color theme.

IN ANTIQUE WHITE

The women's fashion shop is decorated in antique white with accents of marigold fabrics and gold trim. A wall mural by New York artist William Hankinson and a hand-crafted crystal chandelier are major highlights of the women's shop.

Another large mural by Hankinson hangs in the boys' and students' shop where a 30-foot glass panel set in glass marks the entrance.

The "outdoor" theme is repeated in the shoe department where walls are covered with natural tone burlap. Walnut and brass is used extensively in the furnishings department and a gift shop just inside the 30-foot wide entrance. Walnut of random widths frames the various shops in the store.

A Pontiac man, Gordon H. Beckman of 134 Murphy St., is the assistant manager of the new store while Jerry Silverman of Detroit, former assistant manager of the firm's Northland store, is manager.

Lucille Ball Plans New Series

By DON THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Playing cat and mouse with Lucille Ball:

Q. Is it true you are going to do another television series?

A. That's right.

Q. Tell me all about it.

A. Well, it's a comedy and I'll have Vivian Vance back with me and the same writers who did "I Love Lucy" and "Desi Arnaz" will be the executive producer and we'll shoot it at the Desilu Gower studio before a live audience.

Q. Do you really want to work that hard?

A. Yes, I'm going to tell you.

Q. Why?

A. Because people read you. And I don't want someone else to grab the idea and get it in the air before we come out in the fall.

MAY BE WIDOW

Q. Is it true that you are going to be a widow?

A. Why—Gary (Morton) going to die?

Q. No, no. Aren't you going to play a widow in the series?

A. That's possible. But I'm not going to tell you any more.

'BE HOME SOME'

Q. What is this series going to do to your marriage?

A. Nothing — I hope. Gary (Morton) will work, and I will work. We have our own careers, and Gary is adult about it. His work is mostly out of town. But he'll be home some of the time, too.

Last time out it was "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" with David Niven and Doris Day as the drama critic and wife who lived with their brood of boys in an ancient mansion.

Q. What is this series going to do to your marriage?

A. Nothing — I hope. Gary (Morton) will work, and I will work. We have our own careers, and Gary is adult about it. His work is mostly out of town. But he'll be home some of the time, too.

Old Courthouse Eyed for Display

A special committee was ordered by the County Board of Supervisors yesterday to consider offering the old courthouse site in downtown Pontiac to General Motors for the display purposes.

The board's action follows a resolution by the Pontiac City Commission asking the county to "make available" the property for a showplace of automotive products manufactured in Pontiac.

A motion to form the committee by city attorney William Ewert, who represents Pontiac on the board, carried without dissent.

VOICES OBJECTION

Earlier, board chairman Delois Hamlin of Farmington voiced an objection to the city's resolution. He said he didn't think it would be proper to give GM an edge over the Lincoln plant on the extreme west side of the county.

The city commission urged the property be made available to GM as "a reminder of the importance of these (GM) enterprises to this community."

OTHER REASONS

Other reasons offered by the city were:

1. To stimulate statewide and local interest in our industries.

2. To provide a tangible symbol of community appreciation of the products produced by local industry.

3. To stimulate community pride of accomplishment.

4. To create a new interest in the downtown shopping area.

5. To promote a closer relationship between industry and local government.

The county as well as the city derives "substantial benefits" from GM products distributed throughout the world, city commissioners contended.

They pledged city support in underwriting the cost of the project.

County auditors were to open bids today for demolition of the present courthouse and former county prosecutor's office next door, hoping that razing the buildings on Bagshaw street will make it more desirable to any purchaser.

So far, county officials have not been approached by any prospective buyers.

The courthouse and offices have been vacant since last August when functions were moved into the new courthouse building at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

Have Health Insurance

KENT, Ohio (UPI) — Three of four Americans now have some form of voluntary health insurance coverage, the Health Information Foundation reports. But coverage is relatively poor among families whose main earners work in such industries as agriculture, forestry, fishing and construction.

Spruce Is Musical

KENT, Ohio (UPI) — The spruce tree makes some of the world's most beautiful sounds.

Antonio Stradivari used only spruce for the now priceless violins he made. Old-time fiddle makers preferred the spruce for its resonant qualities, says Davey tree researchers.

Early Egyptians desiring air conditioning soaked their walls with water. The desert winds evaporated the water and in the process the houses became cool.

Sportswear Durable, Colorful

Plaid Lad in Style This Spring

Darks dominate in men's suits this season. Blue is revived; black is back; and dark gray reborn. The new "deeps" are serviceable and require less care and cleaning. The handsome gentleman above wears a natural shoulder styling springweave by Palm Beach Company in a smart blend of wool, dacron polyester and kid mohair that offers wrinkle free performance.

Men's wear is making news this season, with fresh offerings in style, color and fabrics.

One exciting line is sportswear in durable blends of wrinkle-resistant material, affording discriminating and tasteful expression of any gentleman's personality.

Included in the New Look for men are bold and subtle plaids in suits and jackets, vivid India Madras plaids and equally bright plaids in slacks and walking shorts.

Bright prints and bold stripes prevail in sport shorts, and an abundance of design and color in knit shirts also is bowing in.

Featherweight sport jackets in a lively assortment of olive tones are brightening the resort scene. Popular combinations are olive shot with blue, olive blended with black, olive mixed with gray and olive tinged with brown.

Dignified darks are dominate in men's suits this spring. For business or after five, the new "deeps" lend dignity and understated qualities. Serviceable blues, blacks and grays present the well-dressed look and give long and useful performance. Accenting the dark tones are bright kerchiefs and handsome neckwear.

Masculine stylings also are going formal in a light way, whether the occasion requires jet black or white. Crisp formal fabrics stay neat through long dinners or formal affairs.

Blends, blends and more blends make spring fabric news. Set in motion by wash 'n' wears, the blend movement continues to grow, as polyester fibers are combined with rayon, cotton or acrylic to fashion cords, poplins and classy mixtures which offer welcome wrinkle resistance and crease retention.

For those whose tastes incline not to wash and wear suits, there are sheer worsted blends, an important factor in lightweight clothing for spring and summer. Mohair and worsteds, meeting the desire for sheen and luster, also are strong.

Spring silhouettes emphasize uncomplicated styling with simple detailing and narrow lapels and slim straight cut trousers — all designed to create a tall, trim look. Jackets are shorter, and vests continue in favor in casuals and suits.

Offering Grants for Nurses

High school graduates of 1962 and registered nurses desiring more education in their profession will compete for eight scholarships announced by the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing.

The list includes two $2,000 competitive scholarships for nurses with diploma and associate degrees and who wish to enroll in the Wayne State University College of Nursing this fall for full time study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in nursing.

For the 1962 high school graduates, the League is offering two competitive scholarships of $2,000 each and four scholarships of $400 each. Winners in the $2,000 category must enroll for study in Wayne State University or Mercy College — the two institutions which offer a BS degree in nursing in the Detroit and Tri-county areas. The $400 scholarships are for study in a nursing or a two year junior college nursing program leading to an associate degree—the schools to be located in the tri-county area.

Applications for all types of scholarships may be secured through the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing, Detroit.

Tips on Ironing Can Ease Chore for Homemaker

CHICAGO (UPI) — The following tips can make ironing easier.

—Adjust the ironing board high enough to reach its back edge without bending and low enough so the elbow doesn't have to be lifted.

—Limit an ironing session to two and one-half hours. Tests have proved efficiency drops after that and more energy is needed to try each additional piece.

—Use the proper iron. Weight has little or no effect on ironing ability, so choose a light one.

—An iron with a large sole plate is best for flat work.

—Listen to music during an ironing stint. This tends off boredom which builds up irritation and fatigue.

Don't Let Neighbor See Test

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I sit next to a girl in school who copies from me whenever we have a test. I know she does this, because I caught her doing so.

This behavior is very much and I'm afraid if we come up with the same answers on our tests, the teacher might think I am the one who is copying.

Can you offer a solution to this problem, short of going to the teacher and telling her, which I don't want to do? To make matters worse, I am quite friendly with this girl and I like her.

A: It will be best to tell her frankly of your fear that the teacher will become suspicious if you both come up with the same answers on your tests. If you do not wish to do this, try to keep your paper out of her line of sight.

Teachers' Sorority in Election

New officers of Epistol Chapter Alpha Delta Kappa, International Honorary Sorority for Women Teachers, were elected at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Norman Underwood, James K. Boulevard.

Heading the 1962-63 officers' list are Mrs. John Landon, president and Mrs. C. N. Crowley, vice president. Officers are: Mrs. H. A. Mitchell, recording secretary; Mrs. Underwood, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Vander-Zee, treasurer; Mrs. Owen Wright and Mrs. Clinton George, chaplains; and Mrs. Gordon Rice, sergeant-at-arms. Keepers of the archives are Mrs. Lewis Cornell, Mrs. Nelson Van Atta and Mrs. Leon Yale.

The evening's program consisted of an Alaskan travelogue by Grant Chapel. Special guest Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley, grand vice president of the north central region, gave highlights of grand chapter meetings.

Reservations were also taken for the state dinner, May 11, in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Mitchell was cohostess.

BLANKET INVITATION

Q: My employer's daughter is going to be married soon and an invitation to the wedding and reception has been posted on the bulletin board for all the employees. We would like to know if it is necessary for each and every one of us to formally acknowledge this invitation. I do not intend to go to the wedding or reception, but I feel it is courteous to answer the invitation. There are others who feel that it is not necessary to acknowledge a "blanket" invitation. Your opinion on this matter will be appreciated.

A: It will not be necessary to answer the blanket invitation to the wedding, unless an answer is requested on the posted invitation.

Q: Several months ago my husband and I opened a lunchette. I have been referring to our customers as "Sir" and "Ma'am." For example: "What will you have 'Sir' (or Ma'am). My husband tells me this is wrong. I have always been taught to say "Sir" and "Ma'am" to anyone older than myself. Will you please tell me if I am wrong, and if so, how should I refer to customers?

A: To address your customers as "Sir" and "Madam" (not Ma'am) is polite and entirely correct.

Spring's in Style Tell Neighbor to Leave

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment building where people are very friendly. It's the kind of place where they just walk in if your door isn't locked and nobody thinks a thing of it.

There is a man living here who works a different shift from his wife. He seems to be a nice fellow, but he has a lot of time on his hands and likes to visit with me. (I am married, and don't work out.)

This man loves to tell me about his "personal affairs" with other women. I can't figure out whether he is asking for advice or what. I know his wife and like her. I would rather not hear all this stuff. How can I cut him off without insulting him?

STUMPED BUT GOOD

DEAR STUMPED: Go ahead and insult him! Tell him you are not interested in his private affairs, don't approve of his behavior, and don't want to hear about it. Men who behave this way usually have plans for their listeners. And lock your door!

and I am told they still sell quite a few.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PAID MY DEBT": Sorry, but you had better learn to live with your record. This should be a lesson to anyone who is tempted to break the law. After you've served your time, if any trouble breaks out within a thousand miles of you, the guy with the "record" is the first one to be rounded up and questioned.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you about a dear friend of mine. She was married at 18, has been married for three years and has had three babies already.

Her husband says he would love to have a baby every year but, Abby, how long can she keep that up? She is a lovely girl, but she has no help with her house or the babies and it's making an old woman of her before her time. What should she do? This is between you and me.

A DEAR FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: You are mistaken. It is between your friend and her husband.

DEAR ABBY: I happen to be married to an extremely handsome man who is 12 years younger than I. From time to time I get anonymous phone calls from women who call to tell me that my husband is seeing someone else. There is never anything to it, because I have had him followed. How can I discourage these anonymous telephone callers?

TIERED OF IT

DEAR TIERED: Say, "If you cannot give me your father's name, please give my your mother's."

DEAR ABBY: If there is a reader somewhere who has caught her husband being unfaithful and has forgiven him and since had a happy marriage, would you please ask her to tell her story? I need it so desperately now. She doesn't have to sign her name.

HURT

DEAR ABBY: My husband's hair is thinning and he says his ears get cold at night. He wants to wear a night cap and I don't like the idea. Do men wear them now or not?

MARRIED 44 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: Night caps are still very popular (both to drink and to wear)

Two Gals With an Idea Spin Records

BY GAILLE DUGAS

NEW YORK (NEA)—In this era of rock 'n' roll, the most unusual record company in this country is one headed by two women still in their early 20s.

Doing nearly three million dollars business a year, the company founded and headed by Marianne Mantell and Barbara Holdridge deals entirely in cultural recordings.

The people who order from the company live in small towns, for the most part.

Richardson and Carl Sandburg.

These and other famous names have recorded the classics of literature. Caedmon is now embarked on recording the complete works of Shakespeare, 38 plays, plus sonnets, lyrics and poems. Casts for these are headed by John Gielgud, Richardson, Burton, Edith Evans, Claire Bloom, Siobhan McKenna and Peggy Ashcroft.

The first famous name ever to record for the two girls was Dylan Thomas. In a sense, he put them into business.

They heard him read his own "A Child's Christmas in Wales" in New York. They persuaded him to meet them at a coffee shop in the Chelsea district and he agreed to record for them.

Laurence Olivier heard about it through friends and volunteered to record a eulogy on the death of a monarch. They had borrowed a studio for the Thomas recording. Now they each borrowed $750 and set out to learn all about the recording business.

Both girls had small jobs paying small salaries at the time. Both had reached the ripe age of 22. And both were willing to take a chance.

They picked the name Caedmon, in honor of the first English poet, and released their first two recordings in April, 1962.

Today, Marianne Mantell says:

"When we went into business, we got lots of free advice. And it was all the same—'Get out of the record business before you lose your shirt!'"

At least some of the people who order Caedmon records border on illiteracy. Others are poorly educated. But they all, in small towns and big cities, respond to the wonder of the beautifully spoken voice reading to them in the language of Chaucer and Milton and Shakespeare.

Caedmon now has a catalogue of over 200 important recordings. The company is adding to this at the rate of 60 recordings a year.

Both Marianne and Barbara see significance in the rise of the cultural paperback book, off-Broadway plays, educational television and increased college admission. They know that there is a real hunger for quality recordings.

But they have their regrets, too. In the beginning, it was only by missing meals with great regularity that they were able to record, months and sometimes weeks before their deaths.

Dylan Thomas, Thomas Mann, Walter de la Mare, Colette, Camus, Mistral and Frank Lloyd Wright.

Foul-Ball Catch Would Have Killed 2-Party Setup

JFK Muffs Golden Opportunity

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — I keep wondering what would have happened to the two-party system in the United States if President Kennedy had made a spectacular catch of the high foul fly that smashed into his box in the fourth inning of the opening game of the baseball season.

The latest national poll shows that 79 per cent of the people (or the red and white jelly beans the pollsters counted after shaking the jar at poll headquarters) already are solidly behind the man who beat Dick Nixon by a lip.

At a shaller depth into his two-term White House voyage, Gen.

Eisenhower, who had won by a considerable margin, showed a 66 per cent stamp of approval from old pro Boss Public.

Suppose JFK had made the kind of dramatic catch that Gianfriddo once made off Dilling in the World Series?

And right in front of TV cameras, the generally adoring press, and 45,000 fans—the biggest sports crowd ever assembled in Washington? Any number of fateful conclusions would have been drawn.

No baseball ever came close to Republican Ike, by golly, and, come to think of it, Republican Ike had to be appealed to by his nervous associates even to come close to a ball.

He preferred golf on days when the Washington Baseball season opened.

If President Kennedy had stuck out his manicured duke and snared that easy chance there is no question that his acceptance quotient would have bubbled out of the top of the thermometer.

What about a picture showing the President boldly accepting the chance, bare hands and all, and Ey Dirksen and Charlie Halleck diving under their seats for protection?

They were in the same box when the Washington Senators rose to the top of the American League and the new $20 million stadium continued to sink majestically into its primordial ooze.

Ey and Charlie could never have gone back on TV. Could have been lynched, to boot.

Reminds us of a thing that happened to Bob Addie, the gifted baseball historian and sports columnist of the Washington Post and Times Herald.

He had just emerged from a rugged Air Force tour during the big war and, still in uniform, took his wife to a ball game in Washington.

A savage line drive was hit into their box. Bob, who had been ducking them for years in unprotected press boxes, dove out of the way just as ballplayers scatter in dismay when a ball is driven their way.

There was a sharp sound of a ball cruelly hitting flesh and bone at just under the speed of sound. Bob looked up, apprehensively. His wife had caught the ball.

It perhaps should be explained that Mrs. Addie is the former Pauline Bets, one of the greatest tennis players of our time. Still, if she had been, say, Betty Betz, the artist, she still would have tried for that ball.

Nonathletes always do. The pros, including tough footballers, know that too many hands will be reaching, the bounces and ricochets can't be depended upon, and let's let it drop, chums.

HE'S A PRO

Which is what the President did. He ducked out of the way, which recalled that once upon a time Del Webb, the co-owner of the Yankees, zipped when he should have zigged and got clunked right on the bean-o during a similar scramble. But it would have been quite a thing, except for the two-party system, if he had fielded it. He had it all the way, as we used to say.

He could have caught it in his hip pocket—and given it to Lao-tiao Khampan, who sweated him out at the White House while the rain-interrupted game dragged on.

It was an instructive game in other ways, particularly in the British correspondent who was seeing baseball for the first time.

When Pierre Salinger informed him the other day that Joe Cronin had presented a gold season's pass to President Kennedy the correspondent asked who Cronin was. He was told that Joe was president of the American League.

Well, now, he asked, what was the American League? He assumed it was a branch of the John Birch Society.

FIRST IN AREA — Officials of Albert's, Inc. chose the new enclosed Pontiac Mall Shopping Center as the site for their first women's apparel shop in this area. The facade of the new shop, located in the northeast section of the main mall, is shown here with one of the center's several floral gardens in the foreground. Both interior and exterior of the store are designed along contemporary lines.

Offer Service, Latest in Fashion

Albert's Comes to Pontiac

Customer service and the latest in fashion will be the trademarks of the new Albert's, Inc., shop in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, according to William B. Kinsky, treasurer of the women's apparel firm.

Kinsky, 1331 Silvercrest St., Southfield, said the newest Albert's shop—the first in the Pon-branch in Detroit. Rovin was a salesman for another women's wear company before joining Albert's last year.

Store hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Kinsky said the new branch will be the 13th in the Albert's chain which was founded by the president, Albert Schwartz, in Detroit 29 years ago.

Albert's carries the latest styles in women's clothes and caters especially to the junior size shopper, Kinsky said.

"Despite the popularity of the gas-price-rack-type store, we believe it is possible to provide service such as delivery and charge accounts while still keeping prices competitive," Kinsky concluded.

tac area—was designed to be "the most fashionable and modernistic store possible."

The contemporary interior of the 5,000 square foot store, he said, features gold and beige tweed carpeting, hanging chandeliers and walls papered in modern apricot and striped gold patterns with mosaic tile accessories.

While shopping in these surroundings, Kinsky continued, women may select from a large inventory of merchandise supplied by the firm's large new office-warehouse at 640 W. 8 Mile Road, Ferndale.

Direct phone lines between the store and the warehouse will help speed service. He said the store will employ about 25 persons.

In charge of the new store will be Marshall A. Rovin, 34, Detroit, formerly manager of an Albert's

Lithuanian Girl 'Dislikes' U.S.

Reportedly Says She'll Not Return to Chicago (in Moscow Paper)

MOSCOW (U.S. — A young Lithuanian girl who returned to her Communist homeland from Chicago to marry a childhood sweetheart was quoted in a Soviet newspaper today as saying she will never return to the United States.

Regina Leonas, 22, appeared to have changed her plans since her return to the Lithuanian capital of Vilnius last March to marry a young music instructor, Stasius Bilevicius.

Before leaving the United States she indicated she planned to try to bring her husband back if Soviet authorities permitted.

The youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda quoted the girl as saying, "I will not go back there again."

Miss Leonas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paulius Leonas of Chicago. They were separated from their daughter during the war and were reunited in 1960.

A DIRTY SENSATION

Komsomolskaya Pravda accused the American press of making a "dirty sensation" out of the family reunion.

It said American propagandists tried in vain to get Regina to slander the Soviet Union. It noted that she was invited to discussion meetings of a Catholic youth group.

The newspaper article said: "But Regina, who was brought up on the principles of a different honest morality, could not understand why the participants in the discussion did not touch on the political and social problems of America."

The article said the girl rebelled against family attempts to interest her in the son of a rich neighbor. It said she also realized that Americans were living in "constant fear."

"She longed for the life in which man is not valued by the size of his pocket book," it continued.

The newspaper said Regina decided to return to Vilnius despite the protests of her parents.

"The lone victory in Chicago of a Soviet girl was, of course, a disaster for the American bourgeois propagandists," it added.

Gromyko to Visit Yugoslavia on Official Business

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U.S. — Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet foreign minister, will arrive here Monday for an official visit, the government announced today.

He will be returning a visit to the Soviet Union last July by Koca Popovic, the Yugoslav foreign minister.

Gromyko will be the first top-ranking Soviet official to come to Yugoslavia since 1957, when Premier Georgi Zhukov visited just before he was deposed.

In Belgrade Gromyko will have talks with Popovic and probably also with President Tito on Soviet-Yugoslav relations and world problems.

The visit of Gromyko is coming at a time when Yugoslav-Soviet relations are warmer than they have been for many years.

PLENTY OF SPACE — The lack of dividers or partitions inside the new Highland Appliance Co. store at the Pontiac Mall allow extra room for displays of stoves, refrigerators and other products. Pastel colored panels such as

Highland Appliance Labels Mall Shop Its Most Modern

The new Highland Appliance Co. retail outlet in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center is "the most modern and best designed store" owned by the firm, according to its manager, Paul P. Kanter.

Kanter, 41, of Detroit, has been with the company for five years, the past four years as manager of the Highland Park branch.

The newest Highland Appliance branch, located in the southwest corner of the main mall opposite the J. L. Hudson Co. Budget Store, is the first one in the Pontiac area and the second in Oakland County. The other is in Southfield.

The store interior features white and beige walls, walnut woodwork, dark brown vinyl tiled floors and large vinyl panels finished in a variety of pastel colors.

The 4- by 8-foot panels form backdrops to the large plate glass display windows which run across the front and along the south side of the 3,000 square foot store. The panels, suspended independently by chrome bars which extend from floor to ceiling, also are used behind groups of gleaming white appliances to add color to the store interior.

The display windows, which are built flush with the floor and run almost to the top of the store, allow shoppers a complete view of the interior at one glance.

A blue-green carpet has been laid in the display area between the windows and multicolored panels.

Sabotage Suspicion Rejected in Crashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigation of fatal crashes of two B-57 bombers in the past year has failed to uncover any evidence of sabotage, Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., said yesterday.

One of the crashes, at Le Bourget Air Field, France, June 3, 1961, took place just after that particular plane had established a transatlantic speed record.

The other, at Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex., occurred March 5, 1962, shortly after other B-57s had been on record-breaking flights.

Wright said Air Force investigators concluded that the fact the crashes followed the setting of speed records was purely coincidental.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Durante and Ella Fitzgerald were added today to the list of entertainers who will perform at a Democratic fund-raising party President Kennedy will attend here May 15.

The party, to be held in Madison Square Garden, is billed as birthday salute to Kennedy although his birthday actually is on May 29. He will be 45 years old.

MEETING DEADLINE — Workmen put in long hours during the past two weeks as the opening date for most stores neared in the Pontiac Mall. Here they are shown finishing off the interior of the Father and Son Shoe Store. Large glass windows such as the ones shown in the shoe shop may be slid back to allow easy access to the inside.

Father and Son Shoe Store

Locale Is Entrance Corner

A Commerce Township man, James F. Parker, will manage the new Father & Son Shoe Store which opens tomorrow in the Pontiac Mall.

Parker, 42, of 8501 Golf Lane Drive, has been with the shoe firm for 18 years, most recently as manager of its Northland Shopping Center branch in Southfield.

Parker said this is the company's first store in this area since a former outlet was closed eight years ago in downtown Pontiac.

The 1,600-square-foot store is located at the corner of the entrance mall and the main shopping plaza. Floor-length display windows run along both sides of the building's exterior.

Inside appointments include cherry red carpeting, walnut paneling, apple blossom pink trim and indirect lighting set in a white paneled ceiling.

Negro U. of M. Coed to Join Big Law Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman student at the University of Michigan Law School, who once wanted to be an FBI agent, is going to work for a big Wall Street law firm. She will be the first Negro attorney employed by the firm.

Amalya Kearse, 34, the student, now is in her senior year. She will join the firm of Hughes, Hubbard, Blair and Reed after she is graduated in June.

A spokesman for the firm said she was chosen solely on the basis of her law school record, plus "an interview and her personality."

"We found her very well qualified," he added.

The firm has about 45 lawyers on its staff. It has had women attorneys in the past, but never a Negro.

Her exact duties haven't been discussed so far, the spokesman said, but work will be assigned to her in the same manner as any other newcomer with the firm.

Miss Kearse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kearse of Yonkers, N.Y.

REVIEW EDITOR

She now is an associate editor of the Michigan Law Review and is employed part-time by Prof. John W. Reed of the law school.

She has a B plus average in her studies. Recently she was elected to the order of Cof, honorary legal society.

"I've been interested in studying law since I was 12," she says. "It originated with a desire to become an FBI agent, but I've long since given that up."

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms—tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jay's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jay's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jay's P-W Vermicide—small, easy-to-swallow tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Oh, My Aching Back Needs Tests, Then Exercises!

By The Associated Press
Back pains, arm pains, and a outside the body, then returned way to help artificial teeth work better are medical topics this week.

MY ACHING BACK!

Psychiatrists, like many other people, do most of their work sitting down.
They don't use many muscles, and a high percentage of them are afflicted with backaches. The reason is mainly too little physical exercise, say Dr. Hans Kraus and Sonya Weber of New York City.

They prescribed muscular fitness tests, and then exercises, for 24 psychiatrists complaining of low back pain and pain in the upper back, neck, shoulders and legs.

After continued regular exercises, eight were free of pain and the rest had definite relief. All improved considerably in muscle strength and flexibility, Dr. Kraus reports.

DENTURE FIT

Now there's a way to help artificial teeth "grow" so they will meet properly with teeth in the opposing upper or lower jaw.

Natural teeth are continuously erupting, and this allows them to keep meeting despite normal wearing down, explains Dr. Bernard Jankelson of Seattle.

When people get false teeth, the original fit may be good, but the wearing process eventually allows a denture to become loose.

In a new technique, porcelain teeth are used in the upper denture, and acrylic or plastic ones in the lower. If wearing occurs so the dentures loosen, a plastic coating can be added to the tops of the lower teeth to bring them into close contact with the uppers again.

CAUSES OF ARM ACHES

Painful conditions of the shoulder and arm seem to be increasing perhaps because "somewhat violent episodes seem to dominate our working life, and leisure," says Dr. Harold A. Seidel of Oak Park, Ill.

We hurry when we go to work, or engage in violent sports occasionally, and such rough treatment causes injury.

"Part of the problem stems from

Wood Lasts Forever if Well Prepared

With modern methods, the performance of lumber as it is permanent under all use conditions. According to the Southern Pine Association, there are two principal means of gaining this assurance.

1. For most uses, including framing, flooring, sheathing, siding, paneling and the like, the state of dryness induced by proper seasoning of lumber meets the conditions of permanence. When such items are purchased, the buyer should request lumber that's properly seasoned.

2. When lumber is used close to the ground, or under conditions of severe weather exposure, additional precautions are necessary. For such applications, the lumber should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives. The chemicals are toxic to termites, may be odorless and impart attractive colors.

our ancestors' determination to walk in an upright position. Our arms swing through a wide range of motion, and tendons are thus subjected to extra wear and tear. When this wear and tear is excessive, tendon fibers degenerate and calcium deposits may occur."

IPPECAC CAUTION

Each year about 600,000 U.S. children manage to poison themselves, largely because about 250,000 products used in the home contain one form of poison or another.

One effective emergency treatment is to give the child ippecac so he will vomit up the poison. But make sure it is ippecac syrup, and not fluid extract, University of Rochester pharmacologists caution.

The ippecac fluid extract is 14 times more potent than the syrup, and can be deadly itself.

REPAIR, REPLACE

Doctors may be able to treat stomach ulcers or stomach cancer by borrowing the stomach from the victim, healing it and replacing it in his body.

This is suggested by work on animals by a team of University of Minnesota surgeons.

Already, they have removed the abdominal organs of dogs, preserved them several hours outside the body, then returned them to the animal from which they were borrowed.

If this is adaptable to humans, ulcers or even cancers could be treated without treating the entire body, or without removing permanently the diseased part.

A stomach, for instance, stricken with cancer, can be treated with 13 times as much radiation outside the body, as it can within.

Dentists Okay $10 Assessment

Money to Go Toward Establishing Prepaid
Care Program in State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Members of the Michigan State Dental Association (MSDA) yesterday approved a $10-per-member annual assessment to get a prepaid dental care program established in Michigan.

The development came at the annual business session held in conjunction with MSDA 105th annual convention in its second day at Grand Rapids.

Spokesmen said the vote was nearly unanimous among approximately 600 members at the business session. The assessment is levied for five years or "until the Michigan Dental Service Corp. becomes financially secure."

Dr. F. D. Ostrander of Ann Arbor, president of the dental care program, has said "it is not a question of whether or not prepaid dental care will exist, but rather a question of when."

NEW OFFICERS NAMED

MSDA last November signed its pioneer contract with Koyden Engineering Corp. at Muskegon. Spokesmen for the dental care plan say the assessment voted yesterday will help provide funds for seeking new contracts.

The business session also named a new slate of officers to govern the state dental association for 1962-63.

Dr. J. Robert Short of Kalamazoo takes office as president at the end of the current convention to succeed Dr. Fred A. Henry of Detroit.

Dr. Edward A. Cheney of Lansing was named president-elect to follow Dr. Short.

Dr. Kenneth J. Ryan of Flint was elected vice president.

Named to the 11-member board of trustees for four-year terms were Dr. Herbert E. Blight, Detroit; Vernon E. Johnson, Escanaba and John E. Nolen, Lansing. Named to a three-year term was Dr. Harry Pearson of Saginaw and to a one-year term was Dr. W. S. Anderson of Detroit.

Toledo Deputies Uncover Plot to Flee County Jail

TOLEDO, Ohio (U) — Deputies uncovered an escape attempt at the Lucas County jail today.

Three bars in a first-floor cell had been sawed through and a fourth was nearly cut through. Filings on the floor of the cell prompted Deputy Joseph Becker to investigate.

A hacksaw blade was confiscated from one of the prisoners in the cell, Robert J. Donkers, 22, of Toledo. Two other hacksaw blades were discovered hidden in a bed.

Both Donkers and his cellmate, James J. Baringer, 30, of Lambertville, Mich., denied sawing the bars.

Throw Hungarians Out of Red Party

BUDAPEST, Hungary (U) — Two former Hungarian cabinet ministers have been expelled from the Communist party—one for his political views, the other for fraud, the official party monthly pamphlet disclosed today.

It published a recent resolution by the party's central committee ordering the expulsion of Imre Doegel, minister of agriculture from 1956 to 1960, and Ivan Altmare, minister of food industries from 1962 to 1966.

The journal said Doegel, who was ousted from the government and expelled from the central committee in 1960, lost his party membership for spreading pseudo-leftist views "in a way detrimental to the party."

In Vienna, Western observers recalled that Doegel was fired for opposing Hungary's high-speed farm collectivization drive.

Japanese Have Influenced Us

More than anything else, the Japanese ideas on space conservation have contributed to the modern efficiency of the American Style.

Japan is a small nation; living space comes at an absolute premium. To compensate for these deficiencies, the natives became expert in engineering home design. With them, the "open plan" was no idiosyncrasy but a practical medium for space conservation.

They engineered wood, trading so there was a minimum of partitioning and a maximum of streamlining. In many instances, sliding panels, screens and movable partitions divided living areas. Good Japanese homes have been distinguished by light, airy structural forms which are anything but fragile.

In many late model homes in the Southern United States, the Japanese influence is strong. Appearing in a striking Oriental guise is an old factory system that built many lumber mills in past centuries. Now known as "plank-and-beam" the method provides the most self-sufficiency essential for simplified partitioning and streamlining overall.

It is an ideal medium for jointly realizing the high strength and golden beauty of Southern Pine lumber. Strong, thick wood members that compose the structure also decorate the interior. Great ceiling beams are the chief focal points of the design scheme under a canopy of thick roof decking.

The beams are usually solid wood members. But in some instances where large clear span interiors are desired, they are of the glued laminated variety, of immense length, and curved or along Japanese lines, tapered at the projecting ends.

Dig Out Treasures Display With Pride

Most homes have at least one treasure hidden away. It may be forgotten or nearly so. It probably isn't museum quality but if it has been saved for color, shape or sentimental value, bring it out into the light of day.

Plan a room scheme to enhance the importance of this treasure. No one can enjoy it while it lurks in the dark corner of some cupboard or closet.

It might be a small picture that would take on new beauty reframed and given a larger meaning. Or, it could be a bit of china or glass, a piece of furniture, a small rug or lovely old quilt made by hand. Too often, things are kept behind closed doors because we fear damage of some sort. The thing to do is get them out and enjoy them.

Glenn Too Busy on Mercury

Declines Foreign Dates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. has had to decline a score of invitations to visit foreign countries. The reason: He's too busy working on the Mercury program.

This was reported today by a space agency spokesman when asked about a report that Glenn has a bid to appear at the 50th anniversary of Danish-American independence day on July 4 at Rebild Hills, Denmark.

The spokesman said the Danish invitation has not been received at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, but added:

"Colonel Glenn has had literally a score of invitations to visit various other countries, and, while he'd very much like to accept all of them, the requirements of the Mercury program are such that he has had to decline all of them. As of now, there are no plans for him to make any trips outside the United States."

The NASA official said all seven astronauts have specific rules to play in connection with preparations for each Mercury astronaut shot regardless of who is to make the actual flight.

The next shot is reported to be tentatively scheduled for sometime next month, although NASA has not made an official announcement.

Governor Signs 8 Bills Into Law

One States Parents Are Liable for Damages of $300 to $500

LANSING (AP) — State Highway Department right of way buyers must specify when fluid, mineral and gas rights are included in a property purchase under a bill signed into law today by Gov. Swainson.

The measure was among eight signed by the governor, most of a minor nature. Other bills approved included ones to:

—Raise the maximum civil liability of parents for damages done by minor children from $300 to $500.

—Require boards of supervisors to determine and maintain normal lake levels on receipt of a petition signed by two thirds of the abutting land owners.

Delete the requirement that an arbitration agreement must be separate from a main contract and signed by all parties to the agreement.

—Permit communities of more than 5,000 population to enter private property along improved streets to cut noxious weeds.

U.S. Reports on Pinching

Surprise! . . . Tomatoes Can Be Bruised

By DICK WERT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Friends, that tomato you picked up, so fair, unblemished and seemingly in the pink of condition, could be a case of beauty being only skin deep.

The poor thing may be suffering from internal injuries.

The theory that tomatoes are highly susceptible to internal bruising has just been resoundingly confirmed by the research laboratories of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A report on the study brings to light some of the most fascinating discoveries that I have seen in many a day.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH

First of all, the researchers established various ways that tomatoes can be bruised. They found that bruising can occur when tomatoes "are squeezed tightly together in a box," when there is "rough handling of the boxes," and "from dropping individual tomatoes on hard surfaces."

As far as I know, nobody had previously suspected that tomatoes can be bruised. They found that bruising can occur when tomatoes "are squeezed tightly together in a box," when there is "rough handling of the boxes," and "from dropping individual tomatoes on hard surfaces."

The researchers then made some laboratory tests "to measure the amount of damage at various stages of ripeness when they were dropped distances ranging from 6 to 18 inches on a hard surface, and when dropped on a surface covered with a layer of foam rubber."

This led to the startling revelation that "injury to those dropped on hard surfaces was much the more serious."

If I interpret that correctly, it means that tomatoes are more heavily bruised when dropped on a hard surface than when dropped on a soft surface. Eureka!

And that isn't all. The researchers also found that "hold onto your hats! — 'The ripest tomatoes were injured most' by the dropping."

That may be hard to believe, but the report states it is a fact.

Furthermore, it says that injury from the dropping "was found to be cumulative; that is, when tomatoes were dropped two or more times, the damage was found to extend to more and more internal parts."

That conclusion especially came as a shock to me. I had always believed that the more you dropped a tomato, the better.

The tomato researchers, valuable though it may be, had what I regard as one serious shortcoming.

Apparently, the tests did NOT establish whether the damage is greater when tomatoes are dropped at 6 inches or at 18 inches.

I trust that point will be cleared up in future experiments. And then I hope the researchers will do some comparable work on the effect that dropping has on eggs.

Ask Ex-Officers to Police Selves

House Unit Requests Code of Ethics Drawn Up by Retired Military

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House Armed Services subcommittee today urged the Retired Officers Association to draw up a voluntary code of ethics covering its members who work for defense contractors.

The suggestion was made by Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., and was immediately supported by Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and other lawmakers on the House group.

The idea was suggested as the subcommittee approved legislation to make laws relating to selling by retired officers the same for all services.

At present, there is a lifetime ban on retired naval officers selling defense items to the Navy. For the other services, it is two years. The bill approved today would make the limit for all two years.

Extensive congressional investigations have been conducted in previous years on charges that some retired officers have used their influence to get defense business for firms that employ them after they leave the service.

The congressmen said they felt the association could make a major contribution to solving the problem by drawing up a voluntary code.

The subcommittee also approved a bill designed to encourage more competitive bidding on defense contracts and to tighten up contracting methods. The same measure has passed the House twice but died in the Senate.

Probe Kingpins in Drug Traffic

1,000 Listed in Report by Narcotics Bureau; Many 'Seem' Legitimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Anslinger, U.S. commissioner of narcotics, said today the government is investigating about 1,000 kingpins associated with the illegal drug trade.

Anslinger told a reporter that several hundred of these have supposedly legitimate business interests which he said are used as a cover for illicit activities.

The commissioner reported that the Narcotics Board has compiled a secret manual with dossiers on more than 1,300 individuals whom he described as key distributors and smugglers of narcotics.

He said about 300 of those listed already have been convicted on criminal charges or deported.

He said some others face criminal or deportation proceedings but that the big majority is still under active and continuing investigation.

Anslinger displayed the manual — a black-bound volume about four inches thick — but would not let a reporter handle it. The commissioner said it was being circulated only within the bureau.

GARMENT MAKERS

He reported that a great many of those on the list are garment manufacturers or night club operators. He listed among other occupations represented:

—Liquor distilling, insurance, real estate, commercial fishing, auto sales, baking, trucking, construction, juke boxes and mining.

Anslinger said the list supplements one prepared by the Justice Department as part of its organized crime and racketeering.

A single page of Anslinger's manual is devoted to each individual on his list. Where available there is a photograph of the subject and a run down on his personal history, his business career, his criminal record (if any) and his apparent ties to the narcotics racket.

At the turn of the 20th century the total motor vehicle production in the United States was only 4,322 cars.

HOW WE MAKE OUR GROUND BEEF

at IGA

Of course we don't have all those gadgets on our Grinders, but you might suspect we did because of the care we give our Ground Beef. Ground Beef, like any other commodity, can be made to sell for any price. Excess fat is only worth about 2½ cents per pound, so naturally, the more fat that is included, the lower the price. There are lean meat items, such as Beef and Pork Hearts that cost less than the Pure Top Grade Beef — that may be included in Ground Beef — and, of course, if they are included, Ground Beef may be offered to the consumer at lower retail. However, whenever you see Ground Beef offered for sale at your favorite IGA Market, you can be sure it is made from Pure Top Quality Beef. Our expert IGA Beef Buyers see to that. WITH MAPLE SYRUP—For a special spring-time flavor to winter-weary meals, spark up simple vegetables and ham with maple-blended syrup or the new maple-y buttered syrup. You'll be pleased with the different taste.

Flavor of Maple Perks Up Vegetables and Ham

Folks are tapping maple trees—it's spring! The very thought of this old-time activity and the resulting delicious syrups makes one hungry—and one of the finest ways to perk up lagging winter appetites is with that favorite spring-time flavor—maple!

Here are a number of ways to use maple-blended syrup to give a delightful fillip to recipes: try it on any of the winter squashes—butternut, acorn or Hubbard. The touch of sweetness is just what these earthy vegetables need to enhance their flavor.

And—if you've not tried baking ham slices with maple-blended syrup, then you've a real treat in store... a delicious, tender and juicy ham steak. For many meats and vegetables, the delicious maple flavor brings out the very best in natural flavors too.

Tasty Turnips
3 medium white turnips, diced (about 3 cups)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Cranberry Juice, Base of Sauce

Here's a sauce that can be served with ham, chicken or turkey. This is made with cranberry juice cocktail!

Cranberry Juice Sauce
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1½ cups cranberry juice cocktail
½ cup pineapple juice (or orange juice)
Dash salt
¼ teaspoon ground allspice

Mix cornstarch and brown sugar in saucepan. Slowly stir in cranberry juice cocktail until mixture is smooth. Stir in pineapple juice, salt and allspice. Cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Lower heat and stir constantly until mixture is clear and thickened (about 5 minutes). Makes over 1 pint sauce. Wonderful with chicken, turkey, ham.

2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup
Salt and pepper
Place turnips in enough boiling salted water to cover them. Cook 15 to 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Toss together lightly with remaining ingredients, according to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Baked Ham
4 to 6 slices (¼ inch thick) fully cooked boneless ham
1 clove garlic, cut in half
1 orange
¼ cup maple-blended (or maple-buttered) syrup
Rub both sides of each ham slice with cut sides of garlic. Arrange ham in baking dish. Cut 4 to 6 slices from center section of orange; cut halfway through each orange slice and twist into an "S" shape. Arrange on top of ham slices.

Squash Juice from end sections of orange. Blend juice with syrup. Pour over ham and orange slices. Heat in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes, basting occasionally. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Baked Squash
1 large butternut squash
1 teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ cup maple-blended syrup
4 teaspoons butter or margarine
Or use ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon basil.
Pell squash; then slice neck of squash into 3-inch thick pieces. Cut remainder of squash and the slices in half. Remove seeds.

Place each serving of squash on a square of aluminum foil or place all the squash in a baking dish. Combine rosemary and cinnamon; sprinkle over squash. Pour syrup over squash; then dot with butter or margarine. Close foil pouches tightly and place on baking sheet, or cover baking dish.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes, or until squash is tender. Makes about 4 servings.
Note: To substitute acorn squash, cut each squash in half and remove seeds. Do not peel.

Gourmet Touch Given to Soup

Here's a new adventure in soup—a creamy cheese soup made with wine and topped with crisp bits of bacon. You couldn't find a better beginning for any meal—family or company. It's excellent, too, as a hearty, warmer-upper for outdoor sports fans. The wine should be light and dry, such as a Chablis or a Rhine wine from California.

Cheese 'n' Bacon Soup
1 (10½-oz.) can cheese soup
½ cup water
¼ cup California Rhine wine, Chablis, or other white dinner wine
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon dried dill
2 slices bacon
Combine cheese soup with water and wine, stirring until smooth. Add green pepper, onion and dill. Cover and simmer over low heat for 10 to 15 minutes or until pepper is just tender. Meanwhile, fry bacon until crisp. Drain well and crumble. Serve piping hot soup topped with bits of crisp bacon. Serves 4.

Lemon Rice Adds to Any Fish Dish

½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons butter
1½ cups pre-cooked rice
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Combine bottled lemon juice, water, salt and butter. Bring to boil. Stir in rice and remove from flame. Let stand 5 minutes. Add parsley. Fluff with fork and serve.

Chocolate Shell Has Creamy Top

A delightful new idea for bridge parties or special-occasion desserts is "Chocolate Meringue Shell" filled with whipped cream and your favorite berries or fruit. The delicious secret of this special meringue shell is chocolate ice box wafers crumbled into an easy blend of beaten egg whites, cinnamon, cream of tartar and sugar. The mixture is then spread over a pie plate and baked until brown and crisp.

***
Filled with whipped cream and strawberries, or any fruit you fancy, it's a treat that truly melts in the mouth. Here's the recipe:

"Chocolate Meringue Shell"
1/3 cup chocolate ice box wafer crumbs (5 wafers)
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 pint heavy cream, whipped and sweetened to taste
1 pint fresh strawberries (or well-drained frozen berries)

Preheat oven to 275 degrees (slow). Crush wafers into fine crumbs between two sheets of waxed paper with rolling pin. Mix cinnamon with crumbs.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Slowly add sugar, mixed with cream of tartar, beating constantly until meringue makes stiff and glossy peaks. Gently fold in chocolate crumbs. Spread over bottom and up sides of well-buttered 9-inch pie plate, making bottom about 1/4 inch thick and sides about 2 inches thick. Do not cover rim as mixture expands on baking.

Bake at 275 degrees about 1 hour, or until meringue is brown and crisp to touch. Cool away from drafts. Meringue will crack and center will fall on cooling... this makes room for filling.

When ready to serve fill with mixture of sweetened whipped cream and sliced berries. Save a few whole berries for garnishing. Makes 6 generous servings.

Thick for Stuffing

When planning stuffed pork chops, purchase rib chops at least 1 inch thick. Cut the pocket into the rib side of each chop. If the chop has two rib bones, cut between them. Chops cut from this side hold the stuffing better. Be careful not to cut all the way through the fat edge.

REFRIGERATOR COOKIES — They're the best way of keeping the cookie jar full. You can make several batches at one time to keep in the refrigerator until needed. Then you'll have fresh cookies at a moment's notice. In the upper-left hand corner you see Walnut Refrigerator Cookies and in the lower right hand corner Orange Ginger Cookies.

Whole Pork Shoulder Will Serve Three Meals

The whole fresh pork shoulder butt is a nearly boneless cut that usually weighs from 5 to 7 pounds. You can easily divide this economical cut at home for three fresh-cooked meals, advises the American Meat Institute.

Use the half that contains the bone as a roast for one evening's meal. The small end of the boneless piece can be diced for chop suey or casserole dishes, while the larger end will provide tasty pork steaks for another meal.

Khalid uniforms were begun by British troops in India. They dipped their white uniforms in muddy water for slight camouflage.

Eat With Fingers

Roast fresh pork spare ribs on a rack in a roasting pan in a moderate oven for 1 1/4 hours or until they're tender, basting occasionally with a barbecue sauce. Before serving, cut the ribs into finger food sections. As a go-along—lots of paper napkins!

Try Lamb Shanks Barbecue Style

Lamb shanks are a tasty and thrifty solution to a menu dilemma, especially at this time of the year. You can transform this economical cut of meat into a delightful dinner feature by perking up its flavor with a tangy barbecue sauce.

Barbecued lamb shanks are easy to prepare. Slow, moist cooking is best for developing flavor, so plan to cook the shanks about two hours.

Try this recipe. It's sure to please the man of the house and the rest of the family, too.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks

4 lamb shanks
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Dip lamb shanks in flour and salt. Brown in hot fat. Combine catsup, water, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, brown sugar, monosodium glutamate, and pepper. Pour mixture over meat. Cover pan and simmer about 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Yield: 4 servings.

Lightning starts about 27,500 fires in the United States in a year and in addition kills hundreds of people.

Flooding Ripe Olives Dress Up Tomato Juice

For a refreshing and colorful tomato juice cocktail, heat tomato juice from a 12 oz. can with a lemon, sliced very thin, and a tablespoon instant minced onion. Remove lemon slices and chili juice.

At serving time, thinly slice 1/4 cup pitted ripe olives into rings. Pour tomato juice into glasses, float ripe olives on top and sprinkle with a little minced parsley.

Chill Fat to Remove

Cooking meat stock? When it's finished, cool and chill. The fat will harden and come to the top; it also protects the stock from souring. Before using the stock, remove the fat, strain and reheat or use as the liquid in a sauce.

Lemon Juice Adds Tang to Vegetable Dishes

Vegetables take the culinary spotlight during Lent. Two dishes which will add imagination and spice to any Lenten meal are Asparagus Puff and Nippy Beets. While all are especially happy accompaniments to fish, they deserve a place on the family table the year-round.

Asparagus Puff
2 10-ounce packages frozen cut-up asparagus
3 tablespoons melted butter
6 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika

Cook asparagus in boiling salted water as directed on package. Combine hot asparagus and butter in an 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Beat egg yolks until fluffy and lemon yellow. Add lemon juice and seasonings.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into egg yolks. Pour over asparagus, mixing lightly. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 35 to 40 minutes or until custard sets. Makes 6 servings.

Nippy Beets

1 No. 2 can sliced or diced beets
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 cup light brown sugar

Drain beets and reserve juice. Combine cornstarch, sugar, salt and lemon juice. Add beet juice and cook until thickened. Add butter, horseradish and beets. Heat. Makes 4 servings.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant food contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONADE gives you its special 3-way relief.
(1) COLONADE prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) helps restore flabby colon muscles with unique retraining action. (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon. COLONADE relieves even chronic constipation overnight; in so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

Keep your eyes open for the new Ready-to-Bake cakes. They are completely prepared in a full baking pan. All you do is pop them in the oven for the required length of time. If they are to be frosted, the frosting is supplied. You squeeze it onto the cake from the plastic bag in which it comes. There are seven different batters from which to choose.

Another new condensed soup from the same company is condensed split pea with ham soup. Their regular split pea soup does not have ham in it.

Fruit Mint Sauce Is a New Taste

If your selection is "Lamb with Minted Fruit Sauce," another gourmet's treat awaits Easter diners. Roast lamb is teamed with its longtime partner, mint, in a refreshing fruit cocktail sauce, "lively" in flavor, but less sharp than the usual mint-vinegar sauce.

Lamb with Minted Fruit Sauce
1 leg of lamb (5 to 8½ lbs.)
Salt
Pepper
¾ cup water
¾ cup mild vinegar
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons dried mint leaves
1 beef bouillon cube
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup lamb drippings (optional)
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cocktail

Trim excess fat off lamb. Season lamb with salt and pepper. Place on rack in roasting pan. Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven 3 hours, allowing approximately 35 minutes per pound roasting time.

Meanwhile, combine water, vinegar, garlic powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, mint and bouillon in a saucepan. Boil for 5 minutes, remove from heat and let stand 30 minutes to blend flavors. Bring to boil again, then strain. Blend in cornstarch and drippings.

Drain fruit cocktail. Stir fruit into mint mixture. Heat gently. Serve warm in bowl and roast. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Onions Lend Flavor to Macaroni Dish

A classic favorite among main dishes and an excellent choice for Lenten menus is delicious Macaroni and Cheese. In this version its preparation is greatly simplified without sacrificing one bit of its good flavor.

First add one tablespoon salt to three quarts boiling water. Slowly add one 7-ounce package elbow macaroni and cook until tender, about 10 minutes. Drain and rinse with hot water. Place half the macaroni in a buttered 1½ quart casserole, then sprinkle with ¼ teaspoon oregano. Break two onion slices in rings and scatter over.

Mix one 10½ ounce can condensed cheese soup with ½ cup evaporated milk and pour half of mixture over macaroni. Repeat. Top with ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese and bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Mushrooms Main Course for Brunch

Mushrooms Stuffed with Sausage
Southern Spoon Bread Broccoli
Ambrosia Beverage

Sausage Stuffed Mushrooms
15 two-inch mushrooms
½ pound bulk sausage meat
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Wipe mushrooms with damp cloth; detach stems and chop fine. Mix chopped stems with sausage, crumbs, onion, salt and pepper.

Shape sausage mixture into balls and place in mushroom caps; press down slightly; stuffing will come well over tops of caps. Arrange in baking dish—they'll just fit into one that is 12 by 2 by 2 inches.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 minutes. Fat from sausage will come out and keep mushrooms from drying. Makes 5 servings—3 mushrooms for each portion.

French Toast Spiced Up With Cinnamon

For a breakfast treat that will make getting up seem very worthwhile try this Cinnamon French Toast with a topping of honey. To prepare: beat two eggs well, then beat in a pinch of salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon and 3 tablespoons sugar. Blend in ½ cup evaporated milk. Dip bread slices, one at a time, in mixture, turning once.

Cook in butter in frypan or on griddle until golden brown on one side, then turn and brown on other side. Makes 8 slices. Serve hot with lots of honey.

Vary Basic Sauce

For variations in popular hard sauce served over cakes and steamed puddings, use three-fourths of a teaspoon of coffee, rum, orange juice, or other fruit juice in place of the vanilla and lemon extract called for in most basic recipes. These sauces can be stored in the refrigerator for several weeks.

It's Pink, Creamy and Just Delicious

Cranberry Fruit Sauce
½ cup seedless raisins
1 cup commercial sour cream
½ cup jellied cranberry sauce (optional)
2 teaspoons lemon juice

½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
Rinse raisins in cold water. Cover with water and simmer for 5 minutes. Drain well. Combine remaining ingredients in bowl. Stir in raisins. Serve with sliced ham.

Beating and Straining for Smooth Mixing

The man of your family will enjoy this salad dressing.

Blue Cheese Dressing
¾ cup firmly-packed Blue cheese
½ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon paprika
1 small clove garlic
Worcestershire sauce

Have Blue cheese at room temperature. Gradually beat in the olive oil, then the vinegar with a spoon. Stir in paprika and crushed garlic; add Worcestershire sauce to taste. Press through a fine strainer to make smooth. Refrigerate.

If dressing thickens a great deal in refrigerator, remove about ½ hour before using. Shake well before mixing with salad. Makes about ½ cup dressing.

Use Electric Blender for Apricot Whip

Apricot Whip is a dessert refreshing as springtime itself. To make four generous servings combine 1 cup dried apricots with 1 cup water and heat to boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until tender, about 15 minutes. Cool and drain, saving liquid.

Add water to liquid to make ¾ cup.
Place apricots, the ¾ cup liquid, ¼ cup sugar and 2 tablespoons lemon juice in container of blender; cover and blend until smooth. Meanwhile chill ½ cup evaporated milk until icy cold, then whip until it is stiff and will hold a pea. Fold in apricot mixture. When kept chilled, whip will hold up well from 1 to 2 hours.

Rosy Spring Punch

Mix equal amounts of golden pineapple juice and ruby cranberry juice for a lip smacking refresher. A spicy touch could be added with long cinnamon sticks. Green mint leaves garnish as well as flavor this delicious beverage.

Governor Receives Bill for Early U.P. Deer Opening

Smelt, Fishermen Wait on Weather

Eastern Quarter Above Straits Is Not Included

Swainson's Signature Would Start Hunters Into Woods Nov. 10

LANSING (AP)—An earlier deer season opener for the Upper Peninsula will become effective as soon as Gov. Swainson ink his signature on an enabling bill.

The measure permits shooting to start in the Upper Peninsula on the Saturday before Nov. 15 when the 15th does not fall on a Saturday. This will enable a Nov. 10 season's start above the Straits this fall since the 15th falls on a Thursday.

Exempted from the measure is that section of the Upper Peninsula east of a line running along M-77 from Grand Marais in the north to Gulliver in the south.

The proposal, originated in the Senate by Sen. Phillip Rahol, D-Iron Mountain, passed its first legislative hurdle when the Senate agreed to the House amendment taking out the eastern quarter of the Peninsula.

Senate passage vote yesterday was 30-1 with Sen. Frederic Hilbert, R-Wayland, chairman of the conservation committee, the sole dissenter.

ONE OBJECTOR

Hilbert objected earlier claiming the different seasons for the two peninsulas would create confusion and cause enforcement difficulties.

Rahol and other backers said it would help the Upper Peninsula economy, give a break to hunters because snow comes so early in the north country and mean less disruption of work schedules by hunters eager to start stalking deer the opening.

Hilbert objected there was no inclusion of bear in the special season. Rahol replied the Conservation Department has discretionary powers over bear and could adjust the special seasons if it wanted.

The measure was given immediate effect so it will become law with the governor's signature.

Rahol, who originally ran into some opposition, rose to thank the Senate for passing his pet measure.

"I'll just ask your cooperation," responded Sen. Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing in jesting reply. "I'm picked up for shooting a deer just east of the imaginary line there south of Gulliver."

Trout Fishing Survey Planned in Michigan

Approximately 1,200 of Michigan's 1961 fishing license holders will soon get a chance to give their opinions about the Conservation Department's fisheries program through post-card questionnaires being mailed to them this week.

The fishermen, all selected at random, will be asked to answer questions about their success last year and the department's program of hatchery trout plantings, including its costs as compared with other phases of fisheries management.

Their opinions will also be sought concerning the type of work which should be increased to meet future needs in fishing.

Growing interest in the department's entire fisheries program has prompted the fisherman opinion poll which is the first of its kind in Michigan.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been prepared by John Alden Knight. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times.

Press Trophy to Highest Scoring Obedience Canine

Dogs Face Penalties Sunday

Dogs entered in Sunday's obedience matches at the CAI Building will have to mind their masters or pay a double penalty.

The judges will inflict point penalties every time they see a mistake. Dog owners and handlers may have to resort to a little "persuasion" to correct the errors in practice sessions after the matches.

Judging will get underway in the building on Williams Lake Road in Waterford Township at 11 a.m. The winner is expected to be known between 5 and 6 p.m.

CANINE DEAL — "You're bluffing," growls the Doberman (second from right). "I am not," snarls the boxer (left). "I'm out," whines the golden retriever (right). "You can't beat me," Southern Michigan Obedience Trail Club's matches.

About 125 dogs are expected to vie for The Pontiac Press trophy which will be awarded to the highest scoring canine in the matches.

Judging will get underway in the building on Williams Lake Road in Waterford Township at 11 a.m. The winner is expected to be known between 5 and 6 p.m.

Dogs with all degrees of obedience training—from the rank novice to the most accomplished utility specialist—will go through their paces.

FOUR CLASSES

Novice and open classes will have two divisions. There will be utility and brace matches, also.

The tasks each dog has to perform become more complicated as the dog moves up the classification scale in obedience work.

Spectators will see dogs being walked at heel, being ordered to sit or lie down on command, being left in one place while the handler walks away, retrieving over barriers, making blind scent retrievals and following voice, whistle or hand command signals.

Several breeds will be at the show. Retrievers, poodles, spaniels and German Shepherds are expected to dominate the entry list. In addition to dogs from Michigan, entries have been received from Ohio, Indiana and Ontario.

All proceeds will be turned over to the Leader Dog building fund. Dogs from the Rochester Leader Dog school will be put through their paces during a demonstration starting at 2 p.m.

The dog scoring a perfect 200 points (no mistakes) or the closest to this mark will be awarded The Press trophy. A runoff will be held if there is a tie.

SMOTC will award the second place trophy and Community National Bank the third place honors.

Charles Barnes is match chairman. Mrs. Grace Williams will be chief ring steward. The judges will be Tom Connor, Neil Newman and Eleanor Bennett.

Russian, North American Fowl Trade Homes

No Iron Curtain Problem for Birds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another couple of far-traveling birds have shown that the Iron Curtain is no barrier to their travels to and from Russia.

The Interior Department reported today that recently received data showed:

A long-legged bird known as the common crane of Europe and Asia visited the Bitter Lake national wildlife refuge near Roswell, N.M., on March 10, 1961.

Two and a half months later a lesser sandhill crane, which was banded at Bitter Lake on Jan. 29, 1960, was reported on a visit to Roswell, Russia. Kravenn is about 1,100 miles west of Nome, Alaska, and about 5,500 air miles from Bitter Lake.

These were the latest episodes in records which date back to 1939, when a Russian-banded bird was first recovered in California. In the ensuing years, over 100 American-banded birds have been reported recovered in Russia and over 75 Russian-banded birds have been taken in Alaska and other states.

SNOW GEESE

The majority of the birds banded by the Russian Ringing Bureau and subsequently recovered in the United States have been the lesser snow geese. Many of the American-banded birds have been taken in Alaska and other states.

Revenue Bond Sale Scheduled Thursday

Another $2 million revenue bond sale will be made Thursday by the Conservation Commission to launch additional capital improvements in state parks and recreation areas this spring.

Bonded bids will be opened at 11 a.m. in the office of the Director of Conservation, Steven T. Mason, building, Lansing.

Next week's bond sale will be the second of its size under a $5 million program approved by the Legislature in 1961.

They're High on USC

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The nation's coaches are nearly unanimous in picking the University of Southern California as the No. 1 college baseball team in the nation.

Ask More Crusading by State Sportsmen

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two prominent Michigan conservationists have urged state sportsmen for lacking the "old crusading spirit" in promoting conservation causes.

Michigan United Conservation Clubs directors were the objects of the criticism by Harry R. Gaines of Grand Rapids, former MUCC executive secretary, and Sen. Frederic Hilbert of Wayland, chairman of the state senate conservation committee.

Both Gaines and Sen. Hilbert urged MUCC to select major goals in the conservation field and go all-out for them. Hilbert especially recommended an adequate submerged land and shoreline control setup for the state.

In 1921, state bounties were abandoned, primarily because cheating had become so common that the cost had become prohibitive. Two dozen or so trappers were hired to handle the job of predatory control.

Law Planning Rider to Kill Bounty on Fox

Pontiac Representative Taking Action on Bill Stopped in Committee

Rep. Arthur J. Law of Pontiac is planning a maneuver he hopes will get a bill repealing the fox bounty on the floor of the state House of Representatives.

The House conservation committee last week junked a Senate-passed measure to do away with the $5 bounty.

Law plans to force a floor showdown on the issue by attaching a rider to the Conservation Department's appropriations bill. The Pontiac Democrat is a leader of anti-bounty forces in the House.

The fact that the original bill went as far as it did and attracted 48 favorable votes in preliminary debate on the House floor added incentive for the "bounties are bunk" contingent.

GAME FUND

Bounties are paid from the state game and fish protection fund, which is financed by hunting, trapping and fishing license sales. They have cost more than $3 million since 1935.

The fox bounty is by far the most costly. Last year, it yielded 48 favorable votes in preliminary debate on the House floor added incentive for the "bounties are bunk" contingent.

Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Dearborn, most outspoken opponent of the move to abolish the fox bounty, warned that the bill would injure the state tourist industry by reducing the population of small game that are a big tourist attraction.

Michigan has been paying bounties of one kind or another since 1832, the year after Michigan entered the union. At first, it was only timber wolves.

In 1897, wildcats and lynx joined the "wanted list" and by 1919 the legislature had extended the bounty system to include coyotes, foxes, owls, hawks and weasels, crows and woodchucks.

In 1921, state bounties were abandoned, primarily because cheating had become so common that the cost had become prohibitive. Two dozen or so trappers were hired to handle the job of predatory control.

Smelt, and the people who go after these silvery fish with hand nets, are ready for the annual spring run.

The fish are moving nearer to outlets of spawning streams and the fishermen are waiting for the fish to start their dash upstream.

Man and his quarry may have to wait another week.

Smelt won't run until the water flowing out of the streams into the Great Lakes warms to about 40 degrees. And the netters can't move until the smelt start to run.

Runs could start any day near Pt. Pelee on the Canadian side of Lake Erie and at Port Huron. Smelt probably won't hit their peak in Northern Michigan for another 10 days or two weeks.

Perch are beginning to move up rivers and ditches from Detroit to Bay City. A few walleyes are being taken in the St. Clair river. Ice is gone from Oakland County lakes but fishing is practically nil.

CATCH DROPS

There is no accurate way of measuring how big the smelt run will be this spring, but a recent downward trend in commercial lake indicates that sportsmen may not do as well as they did several years ago.

Conservation Department fisheries men estimate that sportsmen dip nearly as many pounds during the spawning runs as commercial fishermen net during the year. Based on this rule of thumb, sportsmen took only 1,400,000 pounds of smelt last year, compared with about 6,000,000 pounds as recently as 1933.

Much of this spring's smelt dipping success will depend, of course, on weather and stream conditions. Streams which flow into the northern third of Lake Michigan, including the Green Bay region, usually draw the state's biggest runs. Streams and cuts draining into Saginaw Bay are also known to offer good dipping success.

St. Ignace, Mich. tributes along the southwestern part of the state and Lake Huron streams of the

They are also asking consideration of another exchange which would give the state 128 acres in Orionville recreation area for 128 acres in Chubbuck state park.

A third exchange, if approved, would add 73 acres at Bald Mountain to a 58-acre electrical transmission line easement in Pontiac Lake and Proud Lake recreation areas. All three exchanges would consolidate state holdings to boost development plans.

Dog Training Closes

The season for training dogs will again be closed from April 15 to July 15 throughout Michigan to help protect young game animals and nesting birds, the Conservation Department reminds dog owners.

The Commission's two-day meeting will be held at the Albert Pick Motor Hotel with the informal session beginning at 1:30 p.m., Thursday. The formal meeting will start at 9 a.m. Friday.

Train Children to Do Uninteresting Tasks

One of the most challenging education problems is that of the brilliant and creative student who cannot achieve success in school.

GENUINES NEEDED

America needs geniuses now as never before. But first they must succeed in school for that is the basis of their future.

The danger signals appear early.

Donald, 6, has an IQ of 150 but he was unable to attend kindergarten more than two months because of illness. He is in the first grade on trial.

Donald taught himself to read and write at home. He learned to read maps; he learned geography; he explored compasses and clocks. He hates to leave these interests and go to school.

He never completes projects in school. He does not conform to the basic routines of school life. His classmates call him "the absent-minded professor." He prefers creation to routine.

Donald is bound for disaster. He lacks self-discipline. He has not learned to do things because they have to be done. If he is left to his own devices, he will not reach high school or college. A genius will have been lost.

I have met many Donalds in my teaching career. Their outside interests are drives that tear them away from school work. The longer this tendency is left to develop, the more difficult is the remedy.

Many parents have said to me

Children thus trained will enter kindergarten ready and willing to join in activities led by the teacher.

Primary teachers too must lend their efforts to starting children off in school with proper attitudes. It is not enough to encourage students to study. They must be shown how to study as well.

If parents recognize their responsibilities and cooperate with teachers, we can rescue many geniuses from failure in school!

County Plans to Boost Road Building in '62

Commissioners anticipate revenue of nearly $4.5 million from vehicle highway funds, the report says. Of that figure, about $2.3 million will be used for maintenance with $688,500 for road construction.

Another $1.3 million will be used for other expenses such as new equipment, interest on the state debt and administration of programs.

In a portion of the report dealing with departmental activities, commissioners point out the maintenance department employs a worker for every nine miles of roads.

The 676-mile primary road system costs an average of $247 per mile to maintain. The local road system of 1,568 miles costs an average of $632 per mile to maintain.

Another department — forestry and traffic — took care of trimming more than 3,000 trees last year in order to provide right of way for clearance and vision, the report says.

Doctors Have Facts and Figures

GIs Shudder at Possible New Nonfat Diet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Army doctors have sent a shudder through the U.S. armed forces by suggesting that the average soldier eats too much rich food and should put on a diet.

The Army said today that these findings are under review. But there was a horrible feeling that the doctors had armed themselves with facts and figures and were likely to prevail.

Almost as bad as the change in the menu for some of the GIs was the prospect of learning the difference between saturated and polyunsaturated fats. The former predominates in the present chow, but the latter would get a vigorous nod of approval in the new diet.

"This is a reduction in foods such as whole milk, cream, butter, hard cheeses, beef, pork, salad shortening and chocolate, which are high in saturated fats," the doctors explained.

RECOMMENDED FOOD

"In contrast," they continued, "chickens, turkeys and other fowl, fish and shellfish, cottage cheese, cereals, fruits, nuts, and natural vegetable oils are all relatively high in polyunsaturated fatty acids and are therefore recommended."

Not too convincingly, the doctors added that "this does not represent a radical change in the American diet."

"Many of the changes are substitutions: Certain meats are replaced by butter, skin milk for whole milk, vegetable oils for lard, shortening, sponge and angel food cake for richer pastries, more fish and fowl and less beef and pork," they said.

The findings were turned in by Col. Weldon J. Walker, chief of the cardiology service at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, and Lt. Col. Jacques L. Sherman Jr., chief of the medical research branch. They were published in the last issue of "Military Medicine," official journal of the Association of Military Surgeons.

The two doctors began by demolishing the idea that heart attacks affect only senior officers about to retire.

They said the average age of men dying of heart trouble in the Army is 41.

Moreover, they said, 77 per cent of the 22-year-olds who were killed in Korea had some of the symptoms of atherosclerosis, which could lead to a heart attack.

They emphasized that this is a major problem in the Army. In 1958, the last year for which complete figures were available, there were 899 hospital admissions, 320 medical discharges, 166 deaths and 9,915 lost man-days due to atherosclerosis.

A recent Army survey of four camps showed the average daily food intake was 4,365 calories, with 24 per cent being supplied by fat. Between 41 and 46 per cent of the fat was saturated, 35 to 40 per cent was "monounsaturated," and only 15 to 20 per cent was polyunsaturated.

"The decreased death rate from atherosclerosis in various occupied countries during World War II has been attributed to reduced dietary fat and caloric intake," the doctors said.

"This, along with other data, suggests that at least in its early stages atherosclerosis is a reversible process."

"It is therefore recommended that consideration be given to the feasibility of altering the military diet so that dietary fat does not exceed 35 per cent of the total caloric intake, and that a greater proportion of the fats should consist of polyunsaturated fatty acids."

Pentagon Mum on Space Shots

Secrecy Order Is to Prevent Russia Getting Easy Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has quietly curbed even further the already limited information on military space shots.

The new agency move is one more step in a process that began right after the Kennedy administration took over in January 1961.

The stated aim is to deny the Russians any military information that might be of value to them.

"From now on, there will be no advance word on any military space shots—and only the barest details afterward."

The world may be told nothing more than that a rocket has been launched—something which would be almost impossible to hide.

Word was passed to field commanders about a week or 10 days ago.

The policy surfaced on Monday when the Air Force launched a secret satellite rocket from Point Arguello, Calif.

It was announced that the rocket was composed of an Atlas-Agena combination and that the launching was a success. But the Air Force declined to say whether the rocket's second stage went into orbit or to tell much of anything else about the experiment.

Reports have been circulating for some time that President Kennedy was about to issue a new directive virtually blocking out all information on military space shots.

Pentagon officials were vague on where the new and more stringent policy originated.

Expressions along this line came from numerous legislators at a White House reception. The party was the annual affair for all Senate and House members and their wives, and key administration officials.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said he never remembers the words "First I heard it would be an increase of $15.0 a ton, then $26. I said this is any indication it's runaway inflation."

"REGRETTABLE"

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyoming, called the price boost regrettable.

On the Republican side, Sen. Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said the massive increase in oil prices was "a cause of concern mingled with amazement."

He said he would make a statement later.

All along the line there were expressions from senators and congressmen that the price boost was regrettable and unfortunate.

Kennedy first learned of it about 8 p.m. Tuesday, Roger Blough told the board of U.S. Steel, called Secretary of the White House and told Kennedy of the decision to raise the price of steel.

His company contends the increase is only a catch-up on prices paid in the board of U.S. Steel, which will have the effect of cost increases along the price of steel in 1958.

Hiding Fences for Year 1968?

Vice President Goes Literary With Classic Quotes

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is a literary.

Johnson, whose 25 years on the political scene have included some of the most colorful and tumultuous in American history, is turning to his speeches, classical and historical references that seldom found their way into his sometimes blurted-out remarks in the past.

YING JEN

Johnson's vice president makes no issue of equaling the literary accomplishments of Kennedy, who has a couple of best sellers to his credit.

But Johnson could feel that it would be no drawback to a man who might like to run for president in 1968 to be known as one who has delved into the scholarly accomplishments of the past and can apply them to today's problems.

In his most recent speech, before a Pennsylvania State University audience Tuesday, Johnson cited quotations from Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, Alexis Charles Henri Maurice de Tocqueville and H. G. Wells to drive home his points.

EVEN MR. DOOLEY

Four days earlier, in a talk to labor editors, Johnson drew on the wisdom of Edmund Burke, Wendell Phillips, Thomas Jefferson, son, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Justice Tom C. Clark and the 19th century cartoon character, Mr. Dooley.

The literary and historical outpouring might seem to be an adjunct to the general effort to overhaul the political image of Johnson as a once-provincial Texan and to present him as a well-rounded leader in world affairs.

Much as the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan denounced isolationism, Johnson has shed his segregationist label of several years ago to become a champion of equal rights.

As a member of the National Security Council and a frequent conferee with Kennedy, he speaks knowingly on international affairs. As head of the President's space council he was credited by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., with engaging congressional action on space.

BACKPAT JOHNSON

Hart spoke as one of 25 senators who devoted two hours to congratulating and praising Johnson yesterday on the 25th anniversary of his first election to Congress from the 10th Texas District. Previously Kennedy and party leaders had started the back-patting going at a White House conference.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called the vice president "one of the indispensable architects of Democratic victory" in 1960.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Johnson has made "great and lasting contributions" to his country.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., didn't think astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. would have been in orbit if it hadn't been for the vice president. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., tabbed Johnson "a leader who could get things done."

There was more, much more.

At the conclusion, Johnson replied in a barely audible and suitably humble voice of his thanks and his hopes that he could live up to the high esteem of his colleagues.

Daly Cuts Illinois Vote

Who Campaigns Uncle Sam Scores High in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—Returns from the first-of-the-year primary Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen an unexpected and his Democratic opponent, Rep. Sidney R. Yates, a sure setback today.

Dirksen, a wise and witty veteran of Illinois political wars, Yates, the handpicked protégé of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, both coasted to sensational nominations as expected yesterday's first major primary of 1962.

A man who campaigns in an Uncle Sam suit and whose middle name is legally "America First" med Yates' showing.

Dirksen, a jobber who habitually runs losses in Illinois elections, took more than 20 per cent of the Democratic primary vote away from Yates. Most of his unknown-but-for Yates has been a congressman for seven years and where power of Mayor Daley is supposed to be unquestioned.

Do Almost Everything

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The cosmetic industry today is a business of near miracles. There seems to be a product for every feminine need in the art of beauty care and self-enhancement. It's a far cry from the days when there was a comparatively limited selection.

There are hormone creams which aid the aging complexion. Then there are the moisturizing creams which can be used underneath your regular make-up. These are especially helpful to the woman who has a very dry skin.

There is lip rouge in a very slender stick. This eliminates the need for a lip brush since you can use it to outline the shape of your lips and then fill in with the same stick.

There is a cream stick with which to cover up blemishes such as pimples and scars. This is useful in covering dark circles and other complexion discolorations. It also minimizes shadows from deep lines.

MAKE-UP IS ART

There is the product which contains oils similar to the ones naturally found in our skin. This is softening to the epidermis.

Eye make-up has become an art. Women who never used any of these beautifiers before are taking advantage of the lift they give the face. Eyeshadow comes in all shades. Eyeliners make the eyes look larger, the lashes thicker, and the eyes more expressive.

The list goes on and on. Of course, the primary needs of the complexion are regular cleansing and lubrication, but it is fun and also flattering to use some of the special products.

Soap and water are best for the normal or oily skin, while the very dry complexion will profit by cleansing creams as well as the oilier creams for lubrication. The oily skin does not require cream.

However, as a woman grows older the natural oil in her skin decreases. Therefore, most women should use lubricating creams or oil from early middle age on, even before then, if the complexion is dry. This makes a tremendous difference in the youthfulness of the epidermis.

If you do not need creams over the entire face, you are almost certain to profit by the use of an eye cream. This is patted about the eyes before going to sleep at night.

If all the world's winds should die down, starting them again would require more power than all the United States' electrical plants could generate in a hundred years.

There are so many beauty aids today that there is no excuse for a woman to be unattractive. Today Josephine Lowman tells you how to use some of these aids to best advantage.

The first American road map was drawn by an Army mapmaker, Christopher Columbus, in 1492, in Culebra Dam up to the Canadian border.

Negro's Family to Join Daughter Living in Russia

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — William Clark, Negro laborer who sent his 14-year-old daughter to Russia last year because he did not want her going to "Jim Crow schools here," announced today that he and his family plan to join her behind the Iron Curtain.

In a personal letter to President Kennedy, the 44-year-old

Clark said he and his wife Carle planned to renounce their U.S. citizenship and take their five young sons to live in Moscow.

For the last seven months the couple's daughter, Hulish, has been attending school in Moscow under an all-expenses-paid scholarship provided by Soviet Premier and Mrs. Nikita S. Khrushchev. "I and my family would like very much to join my daughter in the Soviet Union so we, too, can escape Jim Crow and injustice," Clark wrote in his letter to the President.

U.S., Canadian Aims on Lakes Requested

TORONTO (AP) — The Fifth Conference on Great Lakes Research ended yesterday with a plea for a clear definition of aims by Canada and the United States on the use and conservation of the inland water system.

Martin Fast of the Great Lakes Commission in Ann Arbor said the governments must work out a sound and wise public policy that will establish what he called realistic priorities among conflicting claims on the lakes resources.

Fast told some 200 U.S. and Canadian scientists and technicians attending the two-day conference that the last comprehensive policy statement of the Great Lakes was laid down in a 1959 treaty signed by the two countries. He said it does not cover the expanded demands on Great Lakes resources today.

Ships still carry from one to three Morse code radio operators.

Son Follows Dad on Murder Path 27 Years Later

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph Leonti, 45, will be sentenced May 11 for the same type of crime that sent his father to the electric chair 27 years ago. A jury recommended mercy for the son.

The younger Leonti was the state's chief witness against his father almost three decades ago. Then it, he testified in the first-degree murder trial of his father, Giuseppe, for the slaying of the youth's sister, Mrs. Anna Natale, 19.

An all-male jury convicted Joseph Leonti Tuesday of first-degree murder in the slaying of his landlady, Evelyn Williams, 63, last May 17.

As a result of right conservation John T. Ruge, 60, also of Highland Park, across the street when they were struck down at Woodward and Davison.

Hit-Runner Kills Blind Man, Aide

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — A blind man and a man who was helping him across the street were struck down and killed by a hit-run driver today.

Police said Fred R. Lloyd, 58, of Highland Park, was helping John T. Ruge, 60, also of Highland Park, across the street when they were struck down at Woodward and Davison.

Thant Asked to Consider U. N. Industrial Branch

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Economic and Social Council asked acting Secretary-General U Thant yesterday to consider the possible appointment of a U.N. commissioner for industrial development.

The 18-nation council, in a resolution adopted unanimously, also asked Thant to name 10 experts to study the advisability of establishing a U.N. specialized agency for the same purpose.

How do you measure 30 years?

Necessity, the old saying goes, is the mother of invention. We at Osmun's have seen some pretty good inventions in men's clothing over the past three decades.

For example . . .

Around 1930, men needed something to break up the formal monotony of wearing a suit all the time. Result? The sport coat. Same thing with basic wardrobes.

For years manufacturers have been trying to fill the well-dressed man's need for one basic wardrobe for all occasions . . . at one sensible price.

And now, Osmun's has it. It's called the "Fashion Fiver"

and it's tailored by that master, the Palm Beach Company. You actually get five wardrobes in one: Dress suit, Sport coat, Sport coat and contrasting slacks, Sport coat and other slacks, plus slacks with sport shirt.

Like our man in the photo . . . you can choose from the biggest collection of colorings and spring weights in all of Pontiac.

For over thirty years the new ideas and the famous names have always been found first at Osmun's. (And that's no invention!)

'OK' 6 Recommendations

City commissioners accepted and tentatively approved six recommendations from the city planning commission at last night's City Commission meeting.

City Engineer James N. Carlie's cost estimates for nine street improvement projects were accepted and public hearings were held on six other public improvement projects during the lengthy session.

Three of the planning commission recommendations were for resurfacing properties covering about 400 acres from a point about 400 feet south of Perry Street to and including Herrington Hills Elementary School.

The lone objection voiced last night came from Edward M. Bader of 1316 Wals Ave., Huntington Woods, co-owner of a 11-acre piece of land at the railroad track and Mt. Clemens Street. He objected on grounds that he'd bought the land nine years ago for industrial use and it was not suited to any other use.

The area to be rezoned is mostly vacant, with the exception of a few small buildings. Planning commissioners said they recommended rezoning because the land has been lying dormant while zoned industrial for more than 20 years and it was now largely surrounded by residential property.

Also accepted was a recommendation to rezone lot 36 and the easterly 37 feet of Lot 37 at the southwest corner of W. Huron Street and Franklin Boulevard. The owners want to build a three-story modern apartment building on the site.

The land must be rezoned from personal service use to residential to allow an apartment building.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. asked for an engineering study to determine if the apartment would create an overload on sewerage facilities in the neighborhood.

The proper zoning ordinances will be prepared for presentation to commissioners at a future meeting.

The land lies immediately east of the Grand Truck Western Railroad Belt line. The recommendations call for rezoning from manufacturing to residential use.

A small, 11-acre parcel within the area described, lying along Mt. Clemens Street, will not be rezoned since some 75 per cent or more of it is currently being used for purposes other than residential.

Airport Protest in Committee

Supervisors Now Able to Proceed With Plans; Lessor Dissatisfied

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday rejected the aviation committee's resolution that would have stymied any further expenditure for a proposed jet airport in Pontiac-Oakland Township.

The Township Supervisor John Lessor, who presented the resolution, was dissatisfied with the action.

He had sought an immediate vote by the board to hold up further spending on the airport until a cost estimate has been completed.

Aviation committee member John L. Carey, Springfield Township supervisor, called for a "thorough study of all financial aid" of the question "because the people involved living in the area of the proposed site" deserve it.

A rider to the resolution, instructing the aviation committee to come up with a cost estimate within five months, was made by William Ewart, supervisor from Pontiac. The motion carried.

In the meantime, the board is in no way prevented from spending money to acquire land within the proposed 3,000-acre site a mile north of Pontiac.

The county is in the process of exercising options on 445 acres that will form a nucleus for further expansion. Included in the nucleus is the Allen Airport, a private field, on Giddings Road.

Approximately 60 residents in the affected area attended today's board meeting to support Lessor's resolution.

They applauded Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller's criticism of the alleged manner in which initial funds for the airport were raised.

Miller stated that the read commission had withdrawn its request for $150,000 for bridge construction and repair so that the money could be used for airport land, with a "promise from the Ways and Means Committee" that the money would be allocated in the 1963 budget.

Ways and Means Chairman David Levinson of Birmingham denied any such promise ever was made.

The committee scratched the request from the tentative budget last month.

Miller said, "My criticism still stands." He called the Ways and Means Committee's action "not conducive to good business" because of the alleged breach of promise.

Troy Mayor and supervisor Robert Ribber asked that the aviation committee's report clarify two points in addition to the cost estimate of the proposed airport. They were:

1. In view of Chicago's reported problem, what Otis Airport is showing a profit and Midway airport a deficit, would two major airports in the Detroit metropolitan area produce the same effect?

New President, Officers Elected by Civitan Club

The Pontiac Civitan Club today announced election of Lloyd S. Smith of 5612 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township, as new president. Named president-elect was Robert Brown of 128 Orchard Lake.

Other new officers are: First Vice President Maurice Thorne, Second Vice President Elton Gardner, Secretary Richard Valenti, Treasurer Dick Beaman and Sergeant-at-Arms Fred Hoenes.

Named to the board of directors for three-year terms were Robert Reynolds, Ray Clement and Herman Stenback; for two-year terms: James White, Fred Thompson and Paul Floyd; for one-year term: Floyd Smith, Claude McGruder and Donald Gilchrist.

Sylvan Lake Hearings Set on Money Issues

Public hearings are scheduled tonight in the City of Sylvan Lake on a projected $26,000 expense for the Woodland stream drain project and $20,000 for the 1962 paving program.

The hearings will be held at the 8 p.m. City Council meeting at Sylvan City Hall, 1320 Inverness Ave.

One of the few remaining Red River residents in North America has been seen at the Emerson Museum, just north of the international border on Highway 75 in Manitoba.

Flint Leaves List of Distressed Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Flint, Mich., was removed today from the list of distressed areas eligible for special federal aid.

The Area Redevelopment Administration said Flint has shown substantial improvement in employment during the past six months.

It was the first area to be dropped from the distressed area program.

Under the regulations, a community is removed if employment statistics fail to meet the criteria for distressed areas for at least six months. It can become eligible for aid almost immediately again if employment conditions deteriorate.

Unemployment in Flint, which had 1960 population of 136,940, has not exceeded 6 percent of the labor force since last September. The city's jobless rate was 3.6 percent in February. During the six months, the national average ranged between 5.8 and 5.6 percent.

Birds of Broadway: No. 2

Liz Ashley Makes Good — She's an Exception

BY DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NWA) — Of all this season's Broadway newcomers, the one who seems destined for the biggest things is a tall and talented girl named Elizabeth Ashley.

She appears in "Take Her, She's Mine" with Art Carney. Critics and audiences find her appealing.

It seemed to happen suddenly to Liz Ashley. The morning after "Take Her, She's Mine" opened, she was automatically one of the insiders. From a nobody, she became a belle.

From now on, parts will come her way, contracts will be waved in front of her. She need never again worry about work or money.

But, it was far from a sudden thing. At 11, Liz has three years of struggling in New York behind her. She flew in with the flock of birds who arrived in 1950, and it's been a tough three years.

Elizabeth Ashley was born in Ocala, Fla., but grew up in Baton Rouge, La. She studied ballet and attended Louisiana State University for one semester, but "I never really knew what I wanted to do."

When she was 18, she "just had to get away." She saved $143 by working one summer in the Baton Rouge post office. And she sent to New York for the brochure of the famous Neighborhood Playhouse school.

"With parents," Miss Ashley says with her usual twinkle, "the magic word is 'study.' If you say you want to go to New York to be an actress, they won't let you. If you say you want to go and study, it's OK."

She arrived in New York in February. Her plans had been made carefully. The next session at the Playhouse started the following September. She had six months to earn enough to cover tuition and her living expenses; the school works on anyone working while studying.

STREAM OF JOBS
The morning after she arrived, she took a job as a model in a Seventh Avenue dress house, and that afternoon she found a room with two other girls. It was on the fifth floor of a walk-up, a cold-water flat.

In the six months before her classes began, she had several jobs. She quit the dress modeling when one of the owners yelled at her "and where I come from, no gentleman yells at a lady."

She got other modeling jobs, but she was a "pooding and posing" model. "I was in it, I was in it, I was in it," she said. "I was in it, I was in it, I was in it."

Then she became the model who represented a beer in up-state New York, and was picked by DETROIT (AP)—R. L. Nixon, director of the Internal Revenue Service, says a woman came to the office seeking help on her income tax return.

She told the agent her husband was blind and entitled to double the normal exemption. When she asked questioned her, Nixon said, she told him:

"I'll have to wait until my husband gets here. He's parking the car."

It's not exactly a phenomenon, but it is a habit.

My own explanation is that many people are still watching puppet shows on habit. Over the years, they grew accustomed to the Paarl show and now find that it's impossible to turn off their sets and go to bed after the late news.

Add to these creatures of habit the large numbers of feminine viewers who have made Lindtner a successful daytime performer over the years, and the result is a sustained rapt.

It is not exactly a phenomenon, but it is a habit.

To Head Genesee Board
—FLINT (AP)—Mayor R. D. Bare of Flint was elected yesterday as chairman of the Genesee County Board of Supervisors. Bare, who succeeds Joseph La Valle of Flint, was the first chairman ever elected unanimously by the cities and towns which make up the county area.

Kim Novak branded as completely phony the talk that Eddie was trying to date her. "He has asked me in the past to have dinner with him," she said, "and Elizabeth."
