GM Dealer Says Hearings Give Distorted View

Officials Deny Intent to Squeeze Out Small Automotive Suppliers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lester A. Malkerson, describing himself as a happy and prosperous General Motors dealer in Minneapolis, protested today that Senate hearings have presented "a distorted picture of General Motors-dealer relations."

Malkerson said in a statement put into the record of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee that he believes most of the 17,000 GM dealers are satisfied with their present contracts.

"So far the committee has heard from only a handful of dealers who have testified adversely," Malkerson said, adding that he had expected "a representative cross section" to be called.

Malkerson said he had volunteered to testify but had been told by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), the subcommittee chairman, that there was "no available time." He said O'Mahoney had suggested he file a statement instead.

O'Mahoney put the statement in the record. He told the hearing that Malkerson "was treated in no way different to others" who were late volunteers of testimony.

"We are not suppressing any facts," the senator said, and added, "I am trying my best to do this impartially."

O'Mahoney said he was told last Wednesday by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), a subcommittee member, that Malkerson was in the room. He said that after the recess for the day he called out Malkerson's name, and that Malkerson accompanied him to his office and told him he wanted to testify.

O'Mahoney said there were "many others" who wanted to testify, among them critics of GM, but that as he did in Malkerson's case he told them there would not be time to hear them.

Malkerson said in his statement that he became a GM retail dealer 10 years ago and that Oldsmobile officials greatly aided him in developing a business that "will sell some seven million dollars of cars in service this year, and we are just one of three Oldsmobile dealers in Minneapolis."

The Minneapolis dealer denied that GM representatives had put

Prospects Bright on Bond Issue

Higgins Back From New York City Satisfied With Progress of Toll Road

Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority George N. Higgins returned from New York City yesterday "well satisfied" that progress had been made toward obtaining a revenue bond issue to finance the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw toll road.

With authority members Justin R. Whiting, of Detroit, and Carl Smith, of Bay City, Higgins traveled to New York immediately after the State Supreme Court ruled the turnpike act constitutional Dec. 1.

Members of the roads committees of the State Senate and House also made the trip.

"We conferred with our financial advisers, Blythe and Co.," said Higgins, "and learned exactly what we must do to clear the way for a bond issue.

"Our route must be completely agreed on over the 113-mile span."

The J. E. Greiner Co., MTA consulting engineers, must map the route in final form and the authority's traffic analysists, Colverdale and Colpitts, prepare any alterations in projected traffic use caused by changes from the original location.

"This information must be included in our bond prospectus before Blythe can begin to sell the bonds," Higgins explained.

Major route problems still to be solved are in sections running through Detroit and Allen Park, he added.

"The bonding experts said they could see no reason why we can't get financial support. Our only worry lies in possible construction of too many competing free highways by the State Highway Commissioner (Charles M. Ziegler).

"I'm going to talk with Ziegler to see if we can't agree on a program which will benefit the state by coordinating the toll road with freeway construction.

"If we can't agree, I think the Legislature will step in."

Higgins said that State Rep. Emil A. Peltz (R-Rogers City) was with him in New York. "Peltz (who is chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee) said he wants the turnpike," Higgins stated.

Authority members Smith and Whiting have been named by Higgins to handle the financial arrangements. Authority Chief Engineer E. Thomas Baker and Consulting Engineer Murray D. Van Wagoner will work on route problems along with Higgins who also plans to continue his extensive public relations program.

Fenton Man, 23, Still Being Held by Cook County

Suspect in 3 Killings Was Here at Time, Minister Claims

Despite "inconclusive" results from a total of seven lie detector tests and expressed opinions of his innocence from police here and in Chicago, Owen Moser's ordeal is slated to continue today in further sessions with the polygraph.

The 23-year-old Fenton farmhand, who has been under almost continuous questioning since Saturday night, continues to show no reaction to lie detector questions about his connection with the October slaying of three Chicago schoolboys.

The Rev. Donald Mackintosh, a Holly minister, said today he has contacted four witnesses apart from Moser's family who say they saw Moser Oct. 15 and 16, dates on which police are trying to establish he was in Chicago. Pathologists said the slayings probably occurred on Oct. 16.

Holly Police Chief James Parker said he had phoned Chicago with Mr. Mackintosh's information. Cook County officials, he said, had requested written verification of the witnesses' stories, which were air mailed this morning.

Police officials, who have said privately that Moser's reaction to the lie detector is "normal for a psychopath," say they are convinced he is telling the truth in denying knowledge of the crime.

But they are trying to find out how Moser knew previously undisclosed details of the murders of Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and Anton Schuessler, 11. The boys' nude and beaten bodies were found in a forest preserve outside Chicago Oct. 18.

Moser is being held without charge in Chicago. First arrested on a traffic violation in Holly Saturday night, he was released Tuesday after his first lie detector test proved inconclusive and Chicago police isdicated they had no further interest in him.

He was rearrested Wednesday on orders from Cook County Sheriff's officers, who arrived here the same day and transported him to Chicago after he signed waivers of extradition.

After six lie detector tests yesterday, Cook County Sheriff's Chief of Police Thomas Brennan said the "inconclusive" results supported Moser's denial that he had anything to do with the slayings.

Lt. Patrick Clary, who headed the three-man delegation which came to Pontiac Wednesday to rearrest Moser, said he was being taken to Chicago as part of "a normal check-out" because he had "implicated himself" by his knowledge of details of the scene of the crime.

Chief Parker said today the three Cook County Sheriff's officers had taken a floor mat from the trunk of Moser's car which answered descriptions of an indented pattern found in the flesh of the boys' bodies.

A police officer present during Moser's fourth interrogation said the suspect had "recognized" a picture of Anton Schuessler in a pile of "about 30" photographs of small boys.

To date, Moser has been questioned by Holly police, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, Michigan State Police, and Cook County Sheriff's officers. He has answered questions wired from Chicago by Chicago homicide detectives.

All have said they found "no evidence" linking Moser to the crime.

Your Shopping List

Stuck for Milady's Gift? Diamonds Always Nice

By JANET ODELL

The woman in your life will be thrilled with whatever you buy her for Christmas. How nice it will be, if you can present her with just the right thing. How about a diamond necklace, for instance?

Before you hit the ceiling, read on . . . a local jewelry store has Add-a-Link diamond necklaces that are within many budgets.

You buy the chain and one diamond drop now; you add more drops on other important occasions.

If diamond necklaces are out of your class—for this year anyway—you can still please her with a kitten-soft sweater. If she's the type who won't buy herself a cashmere, you pick one out in her favorite color. Should she be allergic to wool, there are luscious sweaters in man-made fibers.

She'd love a black and silver stole or a filmy plaid one. Stoles come in all colors, light or heavy weight.

She may also like a plastic leather hat box filled with cosmetics.

Do you raise a ruckus when Mama uses your electric razor? You can stop that easily by buying her one of her own, one designed just for women.

A pair of pigskin gloves for driving or capeskin ones for dress are always welcome. Consider a beautiful hand-beaded bag for her gala evenings on the town. How about a new umbrella, one covered in a bright color with a carved wooden handle?

Should you decide on a new robe for her Christmas gift, choose one of the lovely, lightweight nylon robes. She'll wear it oftener if it's a short style, rather than one that sweeps the floor—and all the dust.

Benson Says Farmers Should Pick 1 Path

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson says farmers must choose between individual freedom of action and socialized agriculture.

He expressed confidence they prefer freedom and added, in addressing the Vegetable Growers' Assn. last night, that "a planned and subsidized economy tends to weaken initiative, destroy character and demoralize the people."

"There are now a few people in this country who apparently think it is small politics to capitalize on agriculture's troubles," he said, but added he does not believe farmers will be "easily stampeded . . . by unsound theories and programs."

Specific administration proposals to help the farm situation will be presented to Congress next month, Benson said. He did not outline them but said they will not be "quack remedies."

"Farm people have a right to expect sound and constructive help from their Department of Agriculture and from their political leaders," he said. He forecast "loyal, bipartisan support in the interest of our farmers."

Boys Group Bows to the Inevitable; Schedule Dances

Girl friends of Pontiac Boys Club members will have their way at last.

To the hitherto strictly masculine activities of the club will be added Saturday night dances for high school age couples.

Grand opening of "Club 530" will be tomorrow at 8 p.m., with boys even acting as waiters to serve young couples soft drinks and snacks.

The reason for the capitulation? "The dance is for teenagers on dates who find difficulty doing something attractive that at the same time is geared to their age," explained club director William V. Coulacos.

The girls think it's fine.

AFL-CIO Plans Militant Drive

Campaign to Be Aimed at Nation's 30 Million Unorganized Workers

NEW YORK (INS)—The AFL-CIO is set to launch a militant drive to bring the nation's 30 million unorganized workers under the new labor federation's banner.

AFL-CIO President George Meany announced yesterday, in concluding the federation's first convention, that the drive would not be "any Milquetoast movement."

He said the 15,000,000 man AFL-CIO will use "every legal means" in its organizational drive and declared "no little men with loud voices in either political or industrial life are going to turn us aside."

Walter P. Reuther, head of the AFL-CIO's new Industrial Union Department, urged the federation to take on the job of organizing the DuPont industrial system and other chemical companies, the textile, wood and paper industries, and teachers, white collar workers and distribution and unorganized building trades.

Letter Carriers President William C. Doherty declared an attempt will be made to organize the 2,500,000 government employes between now and the next convention.

Meany said the federation is ready to cooperate with all groups, including industrialists, but that it would not abandon labor's traditional "militant manner."

The AFL-CIO chief previously had said that talks would proceed at the "staff level" to work out a "live-and-let-live" agreement with the National Association of Manufacturers.

But he explained that he had abandoned this attempt after NAM Board Chairman Charles R. Sligh Jr. had denied any such move was afoot.

10 Board Members Resign Their Posts

Ten Royal Oak Township Board members resigned from the board at a meeting last night.

Cause of the mass resignation was the new city boundaries of Madison Heights. The 10 would have had to move from the new city into the township to keep their positions on the board.

Among the resigners are George Horkey, township supervisor for 18 years and Sarah E. Bradford, township clerk for over 12 years. Horkey's resignation is to take effect immediately. Appointment of a new supervisor was postponed until the next board meeting.

No Telegraph Light, Taylor Mothers Told

DEARBORN (INS)—The State Highway Department yesterday informed the Taylor Township mothers they would not receive the traffic light at Telegraph road and Cypress for which they have been crusading.

William L. Marvin, Detroit district engineer for the department, telephoned Mrs. Clara Tharrett, a leader of the women's group, and said the answer on the traffic light is "still no."

Meanwhile, the women said they would continue to blockade the intersection until the state provides them with the traffic light.

The women blocked traffic twice yesterday afternoon to allow school children and buses to cross the embattled corner. They said they would do the same today.

City Man Killed Beneath Trailer

George H. Franz Dead in Telegraph Mishap This Morning

A Pontiac man who drove his car under the rear end of a truck trailer at Telegraph and Maple Roads this morning was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

George H. Franz, 33, of 5918 Dwight Ave., apparently went to sleep and failed to see the truck stopped for the light, Bloomfield Township police reported.

Joseph M. Jaciuk, 31, of Wyandotte, driver of the two-trailer rig, noticed nothing wrong and did not feel the impact of Franz' car.

After he had started from the light, going north on Telegraph Road, he was stopped by another truck driver, who told him he was dragging the wrecked sedan.

Police said Jaciuk's trailer suffered only minor scratches to the paint.

Top Red Tourists Invade Disputed Kashmir Area

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin landed at Srinagar's mountain-rimmed airfield today for a 48-hour visit to disputed Kashmir.

* * *

Kashmir may afford the touring Russians an opportunity for more barbs aimed at the West. India and Pakistan have been contending for the allegiance of this former princely state in British India ever since the Indian subcontinent gained independence in 1947. Pakistan is allied with the West.

The Kremlin's two top men flew here from Jaipur in northwestern India. There crowds hailed the premier yesterday as "Maharajah Bulganin" when he and Khrushchev donned Indian turbans. The two reponded by shouting in Hindi: "Indians and Russians are brothers."

Lansing Blaze Under Control

Fire at the Farm Bureau Warehouse Causes Loss and Ruin of $665,000

LANSING (AP) — A fire in the Michigan Farm Bureau warehouse northwest of Lansing was brought under control shortly after 9 a.m. after burning fiercely for more than two hours.

Farm bureau executives said the warehouse and contents were almost a complete loss. Damage was tentatively estimated at $165,000 to the warehouse and $500,000 to its contents.

Flames shot 90 feet into the air as stocks of feed, seed, fertilizer, farm machinery and tar paper were destroyed. Gusts of wind fanned the fire and the tarpaper sent out black columns of smoke to mark the site of the blaze.

The one story, 200 by 240-foot warehouse is located just off U.S. 16 in Lansing Township. The building, of cement block construction and with a steel roof, caved in from the heat of the flames.

The new farm bureau office headquarters located nearby, a grain elevator and other buildings were not touched by the flames. Lansing, Lansing Township and John Bean Co. Fire Departments joined in fighting the blaze.

Cause of the fire, discovered around 7 a.m., was not immediately determined.

Benny No Longer 39

DENVER (AP)—Just for the record: Comedian Jack Benny announced—in public—he will be 62 next Feb. 14. Benny spoke at a $100-a-plate dinner raising funds for General Rose Hospital here last night.

Yule Brings Out Best, and Worst

The infectious Yuletide spirit brings out the best in most people and, ironically, the worst in a few.

Sprinkled among the hordes of shoppers storming local stores to buy gifts for their loved ones are a number of bad-check passers, pickpockets and purse snatchers.

Their activities were brought to focus yesterday by Chief Investigator for the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office Robert C. Miller and Inspector Clark M. Wheaton of the Pontiac Police.

Faced with a pile of rubber-check complaints, Miller said, "It's a mystery to me why they think they can get away with it, but its stranger still when you consider that most bum check passers sign their own name to the checks."

Every year at this time, he explained, a number of people who stay honest from January through November decide they can write checks without having money in the bank to back them up.

The official name for this is, "cashing checks without an account."

"They seem to think they can take advantage of crowded store conditions and hard-pressed clerks to make purchases with only a scrap of paper," Miller explained.

"A big percentage of checks written without sufficient funds constituted innocent mistakes and are soon corrected," he stated. "But merchants must be careful of persons cashing checks with deliberate intent to defraud."

Conviction on a check-without-account charge can bring up to four years in prison. No crime is involved unless the person knows his check will bounce.

Many deliberate passers of bogus checks sign their own names because a phony signature can result in an uttering-and-publishing charge punishable by up to 14 years in prison.

The detective advised clerks who are asked to cash checks to think to themselves, "If this bounces have I got enough identification to allow me to find this person?"

Ask the customer to write his address under his signature on the check's back, Miller suggests. Then examine the driver's license and compare the physical description of the holder with the customer. Write the number of the license on the check.

Employers should give complete instructions on handling of checks to their staff, the investigator stated, especially new employes hired for the holiday season.

Social security cards are easy to obtain and worthless as identification, he stated.

All checks should be examined carefully to see they are properly filled in and not dated ahead.

Paper Strike Talks Marking 'Progress'

DETROIT (INS)—Mediators reported "great progress" today after the latest negotiating session in Detroit's eight-day-old newspaper strike.

Federal and state conciliators said the meeting, which adjourned at 3:50 a.m. after lasting more than seven and a half hours, was "the most productive so far on both sides."

The next meeting between representatives of the three major dailies—the Times, News and Free Press — and the striking AFL-Stereotypers Union, was set for 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The mediators added:

"Adjournment until tomorrow will serve to advance negotiations further. It gives both sides the opportunity to come back tomorrow with what should be final proposals."

All but one of the issues in the dispute reportedly were discussed during the latest session and the mediators said tentative agreements had been reached on "a lot" of the issues.

Says Hearing Gives Distorted GM Picture

pressure on him to take extra automobiles, or do other things that some dealer-witnesses have complained about.

A debate about the effects of the bigness of General Motors and other powerful corporations went on an overtime basis today.

President Harlow H. Curtice and his platoon of vice presidents and top executives agreed with Sen. O'Mahoney of Wyoming to resume their public hearing a half hour earlier than usual.

The study of the multi-billion-dollar corporation by a Senate judiciary anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee was originally slated to wind up today, and there was still a slight chance it would. So far, only a few of the GM leaders have had a chance to speak.

Yesterday, Henry M. Hogan, GM general counsel, asked for a chance "to rebut the chairman" because he said O'Mahoney has been making statements that amount to testimony.

O'Mahoney promised him a chance.

So far, much of the time has been used by O'Mahoney and Curtice in brisk but friendly clashes about GM policies.

Last night, as the session went well past the windup hour, O'Mahoney and sub-committee counsel Joseph W. Burns were asking if GM was trying to "squeeze out" independent manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers in replacement parts for the more than 24 million GM cars now on the road.

No, said Curtice, Vice President William F. Hufstader and other GM executives. As they pictured it, GM—properly — was trying to get its share of this off-shoot of the motor industry that is a big business in itself.

Although GM has been selling half of all new cars and trucks recently, they said, GM now has only about 20 per cent of the parts business and is trying to get more.

O'Mahoney said this is the trend that he and many others question. Continual concentration of business, he said, finds the small operators getting a lower profit and the largest units a bigger one.

"We don't want a world of political concentration," he said. "We'd better not have a world of economic concentration. The latter leads to the former."

Curtice disputed O'Mahoney's contention that expansion of GM had crowded out other business.

He said GM gets 68 per cent of its goods from some 21,000 suppliers and they, including many small businesses, had all grown and prospered along with GM.

Curtice and Hufstader said GM had been in the auto parts replacement business for many years and recently had broadened its market by selling GM parts to independent jobbers and wholesalers. Formerly, they were sold only to GM dealers.

Curtice said GM had expanded because it had products customers wanted and efficient management.

O'Mahoney said he was not criticizing the efficiency of GM, Ford or other large corporations, or the integrity of their managements.

Hufstader hit back at testimony by various GM dealers who complained they had lost or been threatened with cancellation of their dealerships under GM pressure for bigger sales.

He denied GM dealers were threatened and said those who complained had failed to keep up with the stiffer competition that followed postwar days of easy selling.

Hufstader said one Pontiac dealer who spoke to the Senate group last week, M. H. Yager of Albany, N. Y., made more than a million dollars in 1941-1955 on an original investment of $10,000 but has now shown an "inadequate performance" on Pontiac sales.

Yager, who had described GM as "a bully of the greatest magnitude," last night termed the GM testimony a "personal below-the-belt attack." He added in a statement from Albany:

"If only those who have been broken over the wheel, or who are paupers, are safe to say what they think under subpoena in the U. S. Senate—then we have come to a pretty pass."

Hufstader said A. M. Work of Portland, Ore., put $90,000 into two Pontiac dealerships and a few years later drew out more than two million dollars in profits, salaries and bonuses.

He said "poor performance" by F. W. Fraser, Work's sales manager at the Billingsly Motor Co. of Portland, had caused termination of that dealership. Fraser has testified that GM officials "badgered" Work into investing in Pontiac dealerships of questionable value.

Curtice was drawn into the discussion at one point when O'Mahoney suggested possible intervention by Congress.

Several dealers had complained that GM dictated the manner in which new cars were delivered and refused to let them reduce transportation costs by their own delivery methods.

Turning to Curtice, O'Mahoney said the problem for Congress was to find a plan "so that big industrial management and local business can both live."

He urged that auto manufacturers and retail dealers sit down together and write a fair dealer contract.

"I could not agree more that our business should be in our hands and not those of some bureaucracy," Curtice told O'Mahoney.

Curtice and other GM executives have testified that management alone must be able to decide on terms of sales contracts and must make these agreements with individual dealers rather than groups.

When O'Mahoney implied that GM policies may force government action, Curtice replied:

"Oh, I don't think so."

At another point O'Mahoney asked Curtis whether GM dealers were "misleading the public" by advertising bargain sales of "company executive cars."

Curtice declined to express an opinion. He said he doubted such cars in any quantity could have come from GM executives, but he wouldn't know whether they had been owned and driven by officials of the companies operating the sales agencies.

Hupstader filed a statement that "General Motors categorically denies that it coerces its dealers either directly or indirectly to purchase General Motors replacement parts from it."

Sen. Case (R-SD) suggested that some impartial body be created to review the complaints of dealers who feel they have not been treated fairly. What he had in mind, Case said, was not a new federal agency but a board composed of representatives of various factories and dealers.

O'Mahoney said "it would be easily possible" for the Interstate Commerce Commission to review the findings of industry review boards.

Under O'Mahoney's questioning, Curtice said GM never has canceled a dealer's license for selling cars into bootleg channels.

Rather, he said, when a dealer is detected doing this, his monthly allotment of cars "would be reduced by a corresponding amount, plus a heart to heart talk."

O'Mahoney told Curtice he will be asked in a closed door session soon to tick off the names of dealers "whose allotments were reduced because they sell cars that get into the bootleg market."

Hogan protested that these questions involved legal matters and should have been directed to a lawyer instead of to Curtice, a non-lawyer.

"I'm asking the president of General Motors," O'Mahoney retorted "and he doesn't need any prompting."

"I'm asking 'Red' himself," he added, referring to Curtice by a nickname.

Curtice joined in the laughter and said "And Red will answer."

WORLD'S LARGEST JET 'COPTER — The world's largest jet powered transport helicopter, the 40-passenger Piasecki YH16A, made its first public flight demonstration last Tuesday afternoon. Known as the "Turbo Transporter," it weighs more than 16 tons and has a top speed of about 150 miles per hour. Being nearly 80 feet long, it is large enough to accommodate three jeeps.

Two Officials Warn of Checks, Thieves

"Be on guard," he advised, "when a customer who bought a low-priced article asks to cash a check for a larger amount.

"Honest people never refuse to show identification," said Miller, "but the dishonest person will usually leave the store or change his mind about cashing a check."

Wheaton warned shoppers not to set packages down on counters, and ladies were especially warned to keep a good hold on purses during Christmas shopping.

Wheaton said today that gangs of purse snatchers and pickpockets are expected to arrive in Pontiac this month from other cities.

"They come every year to a place where they are not known. And every year careless persons lose packages and purses," he stated.

As precautions against loss, the inspector advised carrying only small amounts of money and keeping a good watch on possessions.

Pontiac Driver Injured in Two-Car Collision

Donald D. Hale, 29, of 1199 Coshocton St., was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital last night, after his car hit the rear end of another car on West Huron street.

He said he was unable to stop in time to avoid the auto driven by Doris L. Gillespie, 31, of 79½ S. Saginaw St., who told police she was waiting to make a left turn.

Youngster Sends Threatening Note Demanding $2

ROSEMEAD, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies went through the motions today of investigating a threatening letter that was dropped into the mailbox of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doviat.

The note read: "To your husben, if this is his wife: Dear Sir, I wanted you to give me $2 cash by Friday morning at 5 minits to 8 o'clock am. If you don't give me the money by then your wife will be gone by the time you get home. Don't call the police or go to them. You are being followed by my min. Put the money in the grass. (signed) The Dart.

"The Dart," Mrs. Doviat told officers, is an unidentified boy about 6 or 7 years old. She said she saw him drop the letter in the box.

OK Yule Broadcasts

NEW YORK (AP)—The Lutheran Church, Missouri Syriod, says that Radio Prague and Radio Warsaw have agreed to broadcast American-produced Christmas programs for the first time.

6 County Group OKs Road Move

Action Needs Approval of Individual Boards of Supervisors

A six-county highway commission was approved yesterday by members of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee meeting at Port Huron.

Before going into effect, the plan needs approval by Boards of Supervisors in each county involved, West Bloomfield Supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher said today.

Thatcher is chairman of the Roads Subcommittee of the inter-county group which recommended the move yesterday.

Oakland County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt was asked to draft the resolution for presentation to each Supervisors' group plus the necessary contract and organization form for the com-

The commission would be financed by county contributions in the following amounts: Wayne, $2,500; Oakland $2,000; Macomb, $1,000; Washtenaw, $600; St. Clair, $500 and Monroe, $400 — totaling $7,000. The money would be used as needed.

The group would gather all information now available on highways from existing planning and road commissions, Thatcher explained.

Plans would be drafted for a coordinated network of limited-access highways, superhighways and inter-county roads.

School Children's Band Concert Outstanding

The four hundred young musicians that participated in Tuesday evening's Christmas concert certainly deserve a word of thanks for the fine program they presented. Bands from 23 elementary, junior high and high schools in Pontiac took part.

Programs such as these do much to combat some of the restlessness existing in today's school children. Saving fine extra-curricular activities will do much toward stabilizing our young school children and making better citizens.

★ ★ ★

With leaders as DALE C. HARRIS, head of the Music Department of the Pontiac Public Schools supervising these programs better boys and girls will be graduating from our schools. All music staff members should be congratulated on the outstanding work they are doing with our young musicians.

Mothers and fathers should take the time to encourage their children to actively participate in the excellent programs that are offered in our schools.

★ ★ ★

Music is a fine and stimulating activity and Pontiac need not give an inch when it comes to quality.

The PRESS agrees with the rest of the capacity audience that Tuesday night's Christmas concert was outstanding from start to finish.

Honus Wagner

When oldtimers get around to discussing great ball players, the name of HONUS WAGNER inevitably comes in for major attention.

It was pretty generally agreed among fans, players and experts of his time that in the great Pittsburgh Dutchman were combined those qualities which made him the Mr. Short-stop of the Major Leagues. At the same time he was equally famous or more so because of his prowess with the bat.

In his 21 years in the National League, four of them at Louisville and 17 for the Pirates, he compiled a lifetime batting average of .329 and led the league in batting eight years. For 17 consecutive seasons he batted .300 or better.

WAGNER'S last connection with the game he loved so well and to which he had contributed so much was as a Pirate coach. In that capacity he served from the early 30s until the Winter of 1951 when he retired at the age of 77.

★ ★ ★

There is a touch of sadness in the fact that the last out came for HONUS as he slept. The old Dutchman will be mourned by an ever dwindling throng of fans who knew him at the peak of his fame. Fortunately for future generations of fans, Baseball's Hall of Fame forever will keep alive the luster HONUS added to our national game.

Life in Russia Tough

Our Federal Department of Labor has been searching Soviet periodicals and statistics in an effort to present an accurate picture of a Russian unionist's life.

First of all—a Russian worker must belong to a union. But he can't negotiate with his employer, quit his job without permission or strike. His existence in the U.S.S.R. is anything but enviable.

For example, IVAN puts in a 48 hour week—307 days a year—with Sundays and six holidays off. But this doesn't include the hours he "donates" to help exceed goals or meet quotas.

If he is late for work three times in a month, his pay is cut 25 per cent for six months. Three to four weeks of his pay every year has to go into "voluntary" investments in the form of 20 year, noninterest paying government bonds.

The Russian workers' wages have gone up but not as rapidly as the cost of living. On the average he has to work 43 per cent longer now than he did in 1928 to buy the weekly supply of seven foods most important to him.

It's difficult to find a word that accurately pictures life in Russia today. But it certainly doesn't sound much like a paradise for workers.

Tomorrow: To what you should put off doing the things you should not do at all.

That our winters really are getting shorter is the observance of

of Pontiac Trail, who has been keeping tab on them for over 50 years. He says that around the turn of the century the lakes would all be frozen over by Thanksgiving, and you could not depend on any spring weather until after the middle of April. We always had a white Christmas, and the snow often was three feet deep on the level, with drifts ranging up to 10 feet deep. He says, however, that the mercury rarely got any lower than in the present winters.

Something New to Get His Teeth Into

David Lawrence Says:

U. N. Ignores Charter and Approves of 5 Soviet Satellites for Membership

WASHINGTON—At a time when public morals are on the decline and when "expediency" is given as an excuse for condoning immorality in the behavior of aggressive governments, it is a shocking thing to see delegates from 52 governments voting to ignore a decision by the Court of International Justice which brands as illegal any "package deal" for the admission of members to the United Nations.

* * *

Only the United States, Belgium, France, Greece and Isarel refused to participate in the voting on a resolution which asked the Security Council of the United Nations to "consider" the application of 18 nations as a package. Cuba and Nationalist China voted against the resolution itself.

The position, however, of the five who abstained means that they refuse even to agree that such a proposal should be voted upon in the General Assembly.

1948 DECISION DISREGARDED

It was on May 28, 1948, that the International Court of Justice, sitting at The Hague, handed down an advisory opinion—requested by the U. N. General Assembly—and ruled that it is illegal for a U. N. member to make its consent for the admission of one applicant dependent on the admission of another and that "considerations other than those prescribed by the terms and spirit of article IV (of the U. N. charter) could not prevent the admission of an applicant." The ruling said:

"The provisions of article IV necessarily imply that every application for admission should be examined and voted on separately and on its own merits. Otherwise it would be impossible to determine whether a particular applicant fulfills the necessary conditions. To subject an affirmative vote for the admission of an applicant state to the condition that other states be admitted with that state would prevent members from exercising their judgment in each case with complete liberty. Within the scope of the prescribed conditions, such a demand is incompatible with the letter and spirit of article IV of the charter."

How to carry out this decision presents a problem in procedure. The United States has never used and will not use its veto power in the Security Council to bar any applications for membership. But the Soviet Union laws threatened to use its veto power unless the entire group of 18 applicants are admitted.

The position of the United States is that the matter of admission should be left to a majority vote of the Security Council. Since there is apparently an assured majority in the Security Council for the so-called "package deal," the United States will abstain from voting and will explain publicly its viewpoint, which is one of opposition to the admission of the five satellite countries—Albania, Rumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Outer Mongolia.

VIOLATING NATIONS

None of these five countries possesses sovereignty, and each is under the yoke of the Soviet Union. The United States government feels, moreover, that Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary have been found guilty of violating their treaty obligations and that, therefore, none of them can be accepted as a "peace-loving" government under the definition laid down in the United Nations Charter.

The resolution adopted by the General Assembly by a vote of 52 to 2, with five countries abstaining, does not actually request approval of the applications but merely "consideration" by the Security Council of the United Nations. But notwithstanding this wording, the American legal advisers thought it best for the United States to preserve its record of non-participation in any respect whatsoever even to the point of refusing to concede that a resolution should be formally considered which asks, in effect, that a decision by the Court of International Justice be ignored.

It is true that almost all of the 52 nations feel kindly toward the 13 applicants who have hitherto been barred by the Soviet veto and that the "package deal" is the only chance to get them into the U. N., although it means paying the price of admitting the five Soviet satellites. Moscow has made it clear that, unless the five satellites are admitted, the other three non-communist applications would be vetoed.

* * *

The whole thing is an example of how the propaganda of "co-existence" has infiltrated the world to the point where the terms laid down by gangster governments unfortunately are accepted as a "practical" deal by supposedly idealistic and moral governments.

Suggestion Aids or Scares Wives About to Give Birth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In his famous book, Childbirth Without Fear, which every expectant mother should at least read, Dr. Grantly Dick Read quotes with fine restraint two statements made by Dr. Joseph De Lee, author of the textbook Principles and Practice of Obstetrics (a book not available to laymen):

"While I have not used pure hypnotism very often I have used suggestion a great deal, indeed almost constantly, and I am irked when I see how my colleagues neglect to avail themselves of this harmless and potent remedy. It accounts for easily half of the success of local anesthesia."

"It will require several thousand generations before we can train the women back to the state which Grantly Dick Read speaks of as Natural Childbirth."

Dr. Read's book was first published in 1944, but in the preface he refers to his first book, Natural Childbirth, published in 1933. Dr. De Lee's book (seventh edition) was published in 1938.

It is difficult to believe that the author of the statement about hypnotism and suggestion could be the author of the statement about training women back to a state.

ANGUISH OR JOY

Suggestion has a great deal to do with the anguish, agony, throes, descent into the valley — or the miracle and joy of childbirth.

Suggestion works both ways. The poor, ignorant soul abandoned to the tender mercies of the fishwives approaches childbirth anxious, worried, anticipating all sorts of dreadful happenings.

If she is unlucky enough to be "rushed" to the hospital for delivery, the show put on by the men and women in white will complete the illusion that she is undergoing a major operation.

Oddly enough, this "medic" atmosphere appeals to the fancy of the woman of feeble character or personality.

Let 'em put her out completely and perform Caesarean operation or whatever they think necessary.

Or anyway put her to sleep so when she wakes up it will be all over.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Recommends Procedure for Those Tired of Living

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Just thought I'd pass this on as an expression of my philosophy in view of the unnecessary slaughter occurring every day on our nation's highways and in our forests.

Tired of living? Then buy a new and more powerful car. Then buy an untested and unrepaired used automobile, guaranteed to be at least as defective as the nut behind the wheel.

Tired of living? Then join the other loose nuts in the woods who, as those who drive, know that it can't happen to them. Then trust the other guy, guaranteed better than the best mattress to give you a permanent sleep.

Socialist Suggests Ford Pay Men $147 a Day

In his critical analysis of the capitalist system of production, Karl Marx arrived at the conclusion that the wage workers would receive less and less of what they produced.

The Socialist Labor Party of America, which I support, being the only Marxian party in the United States, holds that Marx's conclusion has been and is being confirmed. Many people think otherwise. Let us look at a recent example.

A news item from St. Louis (Nov. 1) quotes Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Company, regarding estimated earnings before taxes this year which, according to Mr. Breech, will "surpass the aggregate earnings of the company for the entire 21 years prior to World War II."

Now in 1914, Henry Ford instituted mass production and paid his workers $5.00 a day. It is reasonable to assume that by 1918 Ford workers were being paid at least $7.00 a day.

According to Mr. Breech, the Ford Motor Company estimates its earnings for this year to surpass all earnings from 1918 to 1939. This means that if the workers had kept pace with the company this year, in point of earnings, they should be receiving in the form of wages, this year an amount equal to what they received in 21 years . . . from 1918 to 1939 . . . or about $147 per day.

Did Marx err? Is the Socialist Labor Party wrong today?

We Should Spread Truth About Commie Failures

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The technique of political blue sky by which the Marxians behind the Iron Curtain wage cold war is illustrated by an anecdote told about the late Gen. Smuts, of the Union of South Africa.

* * *

A day before he was to make a major address before the Parliament he asked his secretary to gather statistical data to illustrate some of his main arguments.

At the end of a fruitless day at the library, the frustrated aide confessed to the general: "No man alive could gather such statistics in less than five years."

Next day, Prime Minister Smuts made his speech. He created a fine impression, and he dramatized his points with an amplitude of statistical detail. Everyone was impressed. None more so than his own secretary.

As the general returned to his office, the bewildered secretary asked: "General, where did you get all of those wonderful statistics?"

Smuts replied: "I just made some estimates. Since you said no one could compile such figures in less than five years, I assume that it will take that long for anyone to check up on me."

IMPORTANT POINT

The story, no doubt apocryphal, drives home an important point about the Communist propaganda. Those who follow the party line, relying on the technique of fear and ignorance, hope no one will check up on them.

Thus party leader Nikita Khrushchev was reported to have remarked to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during the German's recent mission to Moscow: "Your star is waning. It is the star of capitalism. That of Socialism is only beginning but it will shine with a thousand fires."

Bunk!

Khrushchev's prophecy comes after more than a hundred years of failure on the part of Karl Marx and his adherents in calling the shots on the shape of things to come.

Marx misjudged the future when he said that in an industrial society the poor would grow progressively more poverty stricken. The annals of current business in the United States document the extent to which Marx underestimated the capacity for growth and progress in popular living standards of a free-choice economic society.

* * *

Much good could be accomplished at home and abroad by exposing with full documentation the nature of the economic errors which the Marxians have repeatedly made.

BREED CONFIDENCE

Such a refutation of Marxian fallacies would help to breed confidence among free men in their faith that liberty is more productive than slavery.

* * *

Instead of getting into questionable activities, the great foundations, such as the Sloan Foundation, the Falk Foundation, the Ford Foundation and the Rockefeller Foundation ought to finance scholars checking Marxian predictions against recorded subsequent developments.

Such a mobilization of truth would provide a psychological gas mask against the campaign of panic waged by militant Communists. Their capacity to terrify people by dire predictions about the alleged decay of capitalism would be impaired if they were proven to be consistently false prophets in the past.

It would pull some of the fangs from the Soviet preachers of panic to dramatize their record of duplicity, false prophecy and intellectual error.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Acne, Most Common Teen Ailment, Needs Physical, Psychological Care

Norine has the most common medical ailment of teenagers. It probably causes more heartache than any other factor among high schoolers. So learn how to banish this bugaboo and become a gay, popular person. It takes a lot of work to win friends, so follow the double prescription below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-317: Norine Q., aged 16, swallowed 18 sleeping tablets.

"Dr. Crane, I didn't want to live any longer," she explained, after she was convalescing.

"For I don't have any girl friends. And no boy has ever, ever asked me for a date!

* * *

"And you can see why! Look at all these ugly pimples all over my face. They probably think I have venereal disease, don't they?

"I couldn't stand it any longer, so I decided to get away from it all."

TEEN-AGE ACNE

Acne (pimples) is the major cause of medical unhappiness among high schoolers.

But acne is not venereal disease. Nor is it a contagious ailment like measles or typhoid fever.

* * *

It appears during puberty and seems due in part to the plugging of the oil glands (sebaceous glands) of the skin.

Imagine these glands as shaped like a bottle. The neck of the bottle often gets plugged with dried grease, plus dust particles, so blackheads are usually associated with acne.

Sometimes bacteria from the skin get bottled up below the blackhead plug and then red pimples or lumps appear. Occasionally, the center of the pimple may have a white spot of white blood corpuscles (pus.)

So what can a teen-ager do to avoid Norine's unhappiness? Here's the answer:

First, prepare the skin each night the way a barber treats a man's face for a shave.

Lather your skin with a non-irritating variety of soap. Then wrap a hot towel around your face and steam it.

ACNE TREATMENT

Then use a blackhead remover, which you can purchase at the drug store, and press out the observable blackheads.

Do not pinch them between your thumb or fingers! For this makes the little pimples grow bigger. They may then remain for years as red lumps.

After you have expressed the blackheads, take a piece of sterile cotton and wipe the skin with rubbing alcohol. Then shrink the pores with ice water or rub an ice cube over the skin.

Repeat this process night after night. Meanwhile, avoid undue eating of pastries, chocolate, nuts, and any other rich food that seems to cause a skin reaction.

Drink fruit juices and eat enough vegetables to keep your bowels functioning regularly.

Then shift to the psychological treatment, which is the second part of this prescription for acne.

BE AN EXTROVERT

This means, extrovert your attention. Quit thinking about "poor little me," and your lack of dates.

* * *

For even if your skin clears up wonderfully, you still will have the big task ahead of winning friends.

To do that, always remember that everybody you meet has this inscription indelibly tattooed across his chest:

"I want to feel important."

So become a detective of the merits or virtues of your companions. This will automatically turn your attention outward, and thus make you forget yourself.

Select a good point about your companion; then phrase a compliment thereon. And smile freely.

Also, learn how to carry on conversation. And affect a gayety even if you don't feel it, for popular people are good actors.

Send for my booklet "The Psychology & Medicine of the Face," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It gives fuller details for treating acne.

25 Projects Will Cost $403,995 With Money Coming From 2 Sources

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan's committee on budget administration has approved research totaling $403,955 in the past two weeks, including highly classified government work.

The 25 private and government supported projects are in science, medicine, engineering and social science. The projects range from months to two years in completion time.

This is independent research and does not require money from the state. The larger projects include:

$68,926—From the Atomic Energy Commission for investigation of the medical uses of radioactive cesium;

$44,000—Fromthe Air Force for research on Nike rocket systems;

$23,000—From the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for study of the reasons for long distance telephone company;

$20,700—From the Department of Labor to study the demand for school counseling personnel in the U.S.

Hal Boyle Says:

Dandelion Is Dandy but the Rose Isn't Rosy

NEW YORK (AP) — When I nominated the dandelion as America's national flower about a year ago, there was some ruckus.

* * *

The proposal seemed to step on a lot of green thumbs. It was almost as if I'd done something indecent, such as suggesting selling kindergarten children into slavery.

Gardeners all over the land wrote in to denounce me as an idiot and the dandelion as a pest. Most of them agreed that if America picked a national flower it ought to be the rose.

* * *

Well, that seemed like a copy cat idea if I'd ever heard of one. Too many countries already have the rose. But I shut up on the subject, since what I don't know about flowers would fill a mighty big vase.

Today, however, I'd like to present a rebuttal to all the thorny rose lovers in the form of a letter written by Win Haynes of Greenville, Pa.

* * *

Here is what reader Haynes wrote:

"I have been in the nursery business for a number of years and for the life of me, I can't see why anyone would have anything to do with a rose. If you get near a rosebush it goes at you like a wildcat. If you approach it wearing rawhide gloves, thereby avoiding bloodshed, not to say poisoning, it will do its best to give you rose fever or shake off some of its loving insects on you.

"In spite of all the praises sung for it, it is evident that the rose has no use for man. It even refuses to grow for him except on fuses to grow for him except on

"You can't just stick it in the ground and forget about it. It has to be planted just so. Let it get 'wet feet' and it curls up and dies. If you want it to bloom, you have to feed it like a horse, and it is finicky about its food.

* * *

"It has almost as many diseases and enemies as the human race. If you are fortunate enough to start with a rosebush that doesn't already have black spot, you can bet it will rush right out and get some kind of fungus.

"If, through constant dusting and spraying with the whole catalog of fungicides, contact sprays and poison sprays you get your plant to live long enough to produce a bud, let three drops of rain fall and the next day there is a cluster of aphids all over the bud.

* * *

"Again, let it survive that hazard and the thrip may prevent the bud from opening. Once a bud opens into a flower, a myriad of rose chaffers, Japanese beetles and other bugs stand poised like vultures to devour it. Roses? Pfah and Pfutt!

"But take the dandelion. Brother, there is a flower! You not only don't have to plant them, you have to be a genius not to have them if you possess a square foot of soil. They will be with you pronto even if they have to make the journey by air.

* * *

"The dandelion has but one enemy—man. It is thought they furnished the first green food that Adam ate after being banished from Eden. Man has been eating them ever since, but they have continued to multiply and cover the earth.

"There is no race suicide in the dandelion family. Hardy? Man, there just ain't no hardier form of life. Poison 'em. Dig 'em out and burn 'em. Do anything you like if you don't like 'em. But next spring when the snow melts, look out your window and it's dollars to doughnuts a friendly li'l dandelion blossom will be right there smilin' at you.

* * *

"Besides brightening your soul with its sunny bloom, the dandelion furnishes a virtual pharmacopoeia all by itself. The old family doctor book says it is a laxative, diaphoretic, diuretic, expectorant tonic, alterative and aperient, used for liver complaint, constipation, jaundice, dyspepsia (hold it a moment while I go get me a dandelion please), dropsy and blood purifier.

"If you had told your audience half of that, the dandelion would have been named national flower by acclamation!"

* * *

Well, now I have told you. The defense rests.

Russians to Resume Repatriation of POWs

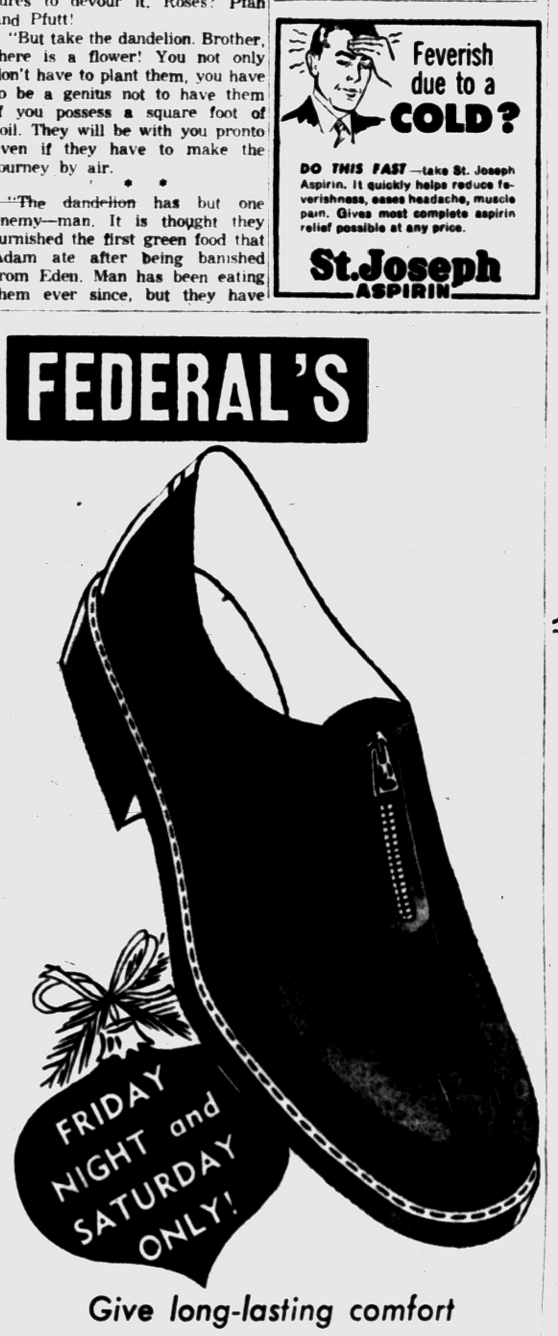

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Russians have promised to resume sending home German war prisoners, the Foreign Office announced today.

* * *

It said the Soviets notified the government 600 prisoners will arrive next Tuesday at the West German border.

* * *

The Soviets promised Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during his Moscow trip they would send home 9,626 war prisoners and persons arrested during the occupation. So far, only 5,836 have been returned.

Spence Attends NAM National Convention

James F. Spence, secretary-manager of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn., is among 3,500 U.S. business leaders currently attending the annual Congress of American Industry in New York city.

The 3-day conference will feature a debate between Charles R. Sligh Jr., chairman of the board of the sponsoring National Association of Manufacturers, and George Meany, newly-named president of the AFL-CIO.

Main speakers will include Sinclair Weeks, secretary of commerce; Harold E. Stassen, special assistant to the President; Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz); Sen. William Knowland, Senate minoirty leader; and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

Theme of the conference is "So People May Prosper."

Gotham Fatties Carrying 41 Million Pound Excess

NEW YORK (INS)—New York City fatties are carrying around about 41,375,550 pounds too many.

This mountain of obesity was shown in a study recently completed by researchers for Tillie Lewis, nutrition expert.

Mrs. Lewis said approximately 2,177,650 of New York City's 8,065,000 residents are overweight.

Religious Christmas Cards Gain Favor as About 400 Million Will Be Mailed

THE MADONNA, from one of the new religious cards.

The "put-Christ-back-in-Christmas" theme stressed by churches and civic groups apparently has wakened the populace to the true meaning of the day.

Some 400,000,000 cards portraying religious scenes compared with 100,000,000 in previous years will be sent this year, say greeting card publishers.

Surveys made a few years ago revealed that reverent Christmas card designs accounted for less than 5 per cent of the 2 billion cards mailed during the Christmas season.

But times have changed. Says S. Q. Shannon, director of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers:

"A great demand for beautiful conceptions of the Christmas story has been in evidence in recent years with Christmas pageants, carol singing and other ways of recognizing Christmas as a true Holy Day.

The six most popular religious cards are the Madonna, the Christ Child, the Three Wise Men, the Holy Family, cherubs and shepherds, their survey revealed.

The Madonna represents 20 per cent of all religious greetings sent while the other five motifs account for from 9 to 7 per cent each.

Cards of Madonnas include centuries old reproductions but more cards are stylized modern versions of artistic portrayals of the Virgin Mary.

There are pink and magenta Madonnas, stain-glass window Madonnas, old world Madonnas and some that look very new-world indeed.

Christ Childs will appeal to mothers particularly, because new designs may seem to transfer her own little cherub to a basket of straw.

There are pink-complexioned Christ Childs that look like ads for soap, some that look truly Pennsylvania Dutch, Chinese, Mexican, Persian, according to the artists conception.

Wise Men ride their camels or go to the stable carrying their gifts. Their raiment is always gay and colorful lending special beauty to Christmas cards.

Cherubs are a special delight and artists really do them up plump and angelic. Wings and halos are not needed to identify them as special little Christmas angels, bringing their charm into the Yuletide home.

* * *

The Holy Family, the fourth most popular greeting card category in the religious group is a more appealing subject than ever this year.

Wayne Offering 7-Month New Teacher Program

College graduates under 50 years of age can qualify as public school teachers in seven months, by taking a course which the Wayne University College of Education will offer in February.

Serving as teachers they will help meet increased needs of Michigan schools.

University coordinator of the intensified teacher training program, Dr. Frank Campbell, said that the program was discussed at the recent White House conference on education, as a means to meet the critical teacher shortage.

He said it was the third year Wayne will offer the course with the cooperation of Southeastern Michigan county school superintendents, deputy county superintendent Kenneth W. Brown said.

Superintendents will recommend applications to the university, Brown said. They will also provide classes for practice teaching and experienced teachers to guide and criticize during practice sessions, which will last one semester, he added.

After completing at least 20 hours of university courses, candidates will qualify for Michigan Provisional Teaching Certificates, which will be awarded after the summer school session, he said.

Dr. Campbell said that many men and women with college degrees are eligible to enroll, who are not now making the most creative use of their higher education and mature abilities.

Presides at Installation

Police Posse Catches Two Young Rustlers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two cowboy fans rustled some mounts and headed west but they had horse trouble and had made only a few miles when the police posse caught them on the outskirts of town.

The pair stole two horses from a ranch, one a lively black mare and the other a steady old sorrel. The mare bucked off the young wranglers so persistently that when the police caught them they both were riding the sorrel and using the black as a pack horse.

In their two packs were eight sticks of dynamite with fuse attachments, 125 rounds of pistol and rifle ammunition, one rusty rifle and two hunting knives.

The boys, 14 and 15, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

GI Loses Bible in War; Returned 11 Years Later

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Eleven years ago, Sam Holloway lost his Bible in the World War II fighting for Aachen, Germany.

City Manager Harold Tippitt said yesterday he had received a letter from Joseph Franck of Aachen saying that he had found a Bible in the rubble of an air raid shelter and wanted to return it. It had Holloway's name inside.

Holloway has since moved to California but his parents live here.

McKay Denies 'Goon' Remark

Interior Chief Adopting Word Stevenson Said He Used for Officials

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Secretary of Interior McKay said last night he didn't remember making the "goon" statement credited to him by Adlai Stevenson, but he immediately adopted it.

"I certainly never said it in any major speech. But what of it? I don't go along with some of the goons in labor—and there are goons—we have had them right here in Oregon," McKay said on a stopover at Portland while flying to Honolulu.

Stevenson's remark in a New York speech had been, "A member of the Cabinet has said he doesn't happen to go along with some of the 'goons' who are 'running things.'" An aide said Stevenson was referring to McKay.

McKay had other comments on Stevenson.

* * *

"He's just a little shopworn, but for a job—somewhat shopwarn, but still looking for a job.

"He's a fine one to talk of Cabinet members splitting the nation. The Democrats did more to make this nation class conscious and divide it with their New Deal than has anything else in the country's history.

"Stevenson needn't worry about the country splitting into classes. There will be none of that under President Eisenhower's leadership."

* * *

Asked if that he meant he knew the President would run again, McKay said:

"No, I don't. But President Eisenhower is the strongest man in the world today for peace. He knows that and it is he who must decide.

"There are only a couple of men who don't want Eisenhower to run again. One of them is (New York Gov. Averell) Harriman and the other is Stevenson."

3 Veteran Groups Seek to Air GI Bonus Gripes

LANSING (AP)—Officials of three state veterans organizations today asked for a hearing before the State Administrative Board to air complaints about payment of the Korean war veterans' bonus.

The administrative board received a letter requesting the hearing to discuss "conflicting" interpretations of the law.

The letter was signed by Sidney Allen, Disabled American Veterans state service officer; Joseph W. Mann, Veterans of Foreign Wars state service officer, and Carleton L. Seaman, American Legion state service officer.

James W. Miller, state controller and secretary of the administrative board, said the letter did not give details of the service officers' complaints.

Honor Medal GI Faces Jail Term

War Hero Is Convicted of Shooting at Woman in Hassle About Girl

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Medal of Honor winner of World War II faced six months in jail today, convicted of shooting at a woman in an argument about a former girl friend.

Junior J. Spurrier, winner of the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's two highest awards for courage, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

He fired a pistol shot into the floor near Mrs. Josephine Neece, who was trying to prevent him from seeing Mrs. Mary Murphy, a resident of the same house.

Spurrier told Magistrate Simon Schonfield he pulled the gun when Mrs. Neece wouldn't let him talk. "I didn't think it was loaded," he said. "I just pulled the trigger. It went into the floor, not even near her."

Mrs. Neece, however, said, "He shot at me."

Mrs. Murphy, who told police Spurrier had been drinking, said she was afraid he would kill someone, so she went with him. She said she escaped when he agreed to let her pawn her watch to get him money.

A former staff sergeant with the 39th Infantry Division, Spurrier was awarded the Medal of Honor for personally liber ating theto of Achain, France. He was credited with killing 25 Germans and capturing 16. For that, he earned the nickname "One-Man Army."

Mrs. Murphy said she and Spurrier met years ago in Bluefield, W. Va., their hometown, and they recently had been keeping company.

Interrupt Big Search for 'Junior' Rescue

HONOLULU (AP) — The Hawaiian Sea Frontier, in the midst of a giant air-sea search for seven missing Navy bomber crewmen yesterday, mounted a "junior size" rescue operation to aid five distressed swimmers.

A Navy sent five helicopters and a Beachcraft plane to the area.

The Beachcraft pilot sighted the swimmers and dropped a life raft.

"The five people got into the raft, waved and started paddling for shore," he reported.

Egypt Expects Western Loans

World Bank to Finance Nile Dam Project; Aid From U.S. Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egypt is expected to be assured within a week of Western loans to help build her long-dreamed-of dam on the Upper Nile River.

Egyptian Finance Minister Abdul Kaisouni has been dickering with the World Bank here for three weeks. He came to find out how much of the project's $1,300,000,000 cost the bank will arrange to cover in loans.

• • •

One official who has been in touch with the talks commented, "He won't go home with both arms the same length" — an old expression meaning one arm would be carrying something, in this case assurance of World Bank capital help.

• • •

How much of the 400 million dollars of outside help he is reported to be seeking will come in the form of a World Bank loan, and how much from grants or loans from the United States and other sources remained uncertain.

One possibility under consideration is that the administration may ask Congress to approve a 10-year program to give Egypt 200 millions, to supplement that amount in World Bank loans. The amount would come from foreign aid funds.

• • •

U. S. officials are understandably anxious to help meet Kaisouni's request. Egypt's failure last July to get arms from the United States caused her to buy 80 million dollars worth from Communist Czechoslovakia. U. S. officials want to avoid a repetition of that in the economic field.

THINK of the money she'll save making her own clothes and drapes as well as mending family garments.

Big Chiefs to Take On Arthur Hill; PHS Seniors Review for Exams

By VICKY MICU

Tonight the Big Chiefs from Pontiac High will take to the basketball court and play the first home and first Saginaw Valley Conference game of the season against Saginaw Arthur Hill. The student body will be out en masse to cheer the team on, with the PHS cheerleaders trying out new cheers.

Seniors got in that last bit of review in preparation for senior exams which start next week. This week, too, sophomores were given reading and maturity tests.

Report cards dominated the scene at Pontiac High in the middle part of the week. They were distributed Wednesday.

With the annual State Retailing Congress fast approaching, the Retailing and Office Club at Pontiac High has been busy electing delegates and working on a campaign for Kay Vallance, PHS retailer who will run for the post of state treasurer. Christmas party plans are also in the air for the Retailers, with club member Elaine Hamilton chosen to head the committee work.

LATIN PAPER SOLD

Sidelighting the news, Latin students report the biannual sale of the Latin paper, Epistolae Scholae, has netted to date $118.01, which will go to various charitable organizations.

Work is soon to start on a new press box for the high school gym from which local radio announcers and visiting announcers will broadcast this season's basketball games. The booth, expected to be near completion in two weeks, will be located in the south side balcony.

Biology club members have been describing their recent trip to New York city with club adviser John Youngpeter, and their visit with world famous woman biologist, Libbie Hyman.

TOUR HOSPITAL

The Future Nurses Club toured the University Hospital at Ann Arbor recently and heard a discussion of nursing as a career in the nurses' residence, Couzens Hall, while the Future Teachers listened Sunday to members of their organization over station their organization over radio in a special panel discussion.

With Christmas not far off, clubs and activities are turning toward the holiday season. Vocal students will have their annual concert soon, and Christmas parties are being planned by all clubs.

The annual Christmas concert by Pontiac public schools' instrumental music department was presented Tuesday.

Some of the hobbies of seniors in American Problems classes are being displayed in school trophy cases, as second and fifth hour students of Edna Forman demonstrate that creative hobbies can be a practical solution to the problem of recreational needs.

Projects ranging from embroidery, car designing and gift wrapping to oil painting, woodworking and baking have been carried out by the 31 students. They have found that hobbies are good things to have as a means to self government and enjoyment.

RING CEREMONY HELD — Three of the 55 St. Frederick High School seniors who donned caps and gowns for the school's first ring ceremony Tuesday night were, left to right, Jacqueline Johnson, Paul Grosse and Gloria Rameriz. The students' class rings were blessed by the Most Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, auxiliary bishop and pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church, in a ceremony in the church. A talk on the symbolism of rings was part of the service.

St. Michael High Enjoys Holiday

Have Yesterday Off; Sophomores Carry Out Mission Supply Drive

By JANET ENGLISH

Books were pushed aside yesterday as St. Michael High students enjoyed a free day, in honor of the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Sophomores of Room 11 stressed sacrifice for the missions as they carried out their successful "Operation Education" this week. Each high school student contributed some school supply which in turn will be sent to a mission in the south by these industrious sophies.

Winner of the poster contest, sponsored by the Catholic Students Mission Crusade, was Mary Singles, a senior. Eighth grader Mary Ann deFager took second place, and juniors Bev Elmy and Carol Cremer made third place and honorable mention, respectively.

Girl's basketball practice started Wednesday under Jo Krout, the new coach.

Friday Avondale felt the blow of defeat when Shamrocks came out on top with a 66-55 score. Looks like the team under Captain John Keller has started the season on the right foot.

Waterford High Students Slate Play, Concert

By JEAN LIMATTA

Waterford Township High School Dramatics Club and the A Cappella Choir were kept active this week presenting a play and preparing the annual Christmas Concert.

Last night a different type of drama—one with audience participation—was presented by the Dramatics Club. "The Night of Jan. 16," a court room trial in which members of the audience serve as jury, will also be staged at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Christmas melodies rang through the school as the A Cappella Choir rehearsed for the annual concert, to be held Wednesday.

Highlighting the concert will be a pantomime of the "Night Before Christmas," and ballet dancing by Diane Erickson, senior, and Waterford Township Recreation ballet classes.

The Skippers were guests of Clarkston High Tuesday evening as they played their second basketball game. Tonight Waterford will meet Van Dyke on the home court.

Is Your High School Represented Here?

Schools wishing to be represented in this weekly high school page should mail or telephone news items Monday or Tuesday, so that they reach The Pontiac Press by 9 a.m. Wednesday, deadline for Friday's paper. Address mail to Wima Greenway, high school editor, or phone FE 2-8181.

Area Highs at Crest of Holiday Events

Students in Pontiac area high schools are riding the crest of a wave of holiday events this week with Christmas concerts and programs in full rehearsals, special assemblies scheduled, and debates and sports drawing their quota of attention.

AT AVONDALE

Christmas music, popular and classic, is ringing through the halls at Avondale High, as the choir and band prepare for next Wednesday's Christmas concert.

All classes will be represented in the program, which will start at 8 p.m., with the public attending. Band director John Neztek and vocal director, Jean Woodworth, are spending long hours with the music students in an effort to give the utmost in Christmas entertainment.

Avondale's first honor assembly will be held next Friday afternoon. Awards for cross country and football will be presented to more than 30 athletes, and a number of students will become members of the National Honor Society. Student council members and commercial honor students also will be recognized.

* * *

Students will be keeping a close watch on balloting in the Avondale School District election Monday. Approval of an $85,000 bond issue will mean extra facilities for both High and Junior High Schools.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

At West Bloomfield Township High, the Glee Club and A Capella Choir are practicing night and day for the Christmas program, to be presented Dec. 20. The A Capella Choir also has two outside appointments—they will sing at Trinity Methodist Church Sunday and at Walled Lake Church on Dec. 18.

Six other schools from the Wayne-Oakland League took part in the volleyball game Tuesday when the Girls Athletic Association Play Day was held at West Bloomfield.

A WBTHS student, Sue Zimmerman, has been elected president of the Wayne-Oakland League Student Council, the first from this school.

AT WALLED LAKE

Walled Lake High played host to the Inter-Lakes Debate League Monday. Four schools debated on the subject of granting federal aid as college funds to worthy high school students.

Walled Lake's two teams beat debaters from Farmington and Van Dyke. Tying them was Southfield High with two wins against Van Dyke and Waterford. Farmington is in second place with one win and one loss; and Van Dyke and Waterford trail with two losses each.

The four schools will meet at Farmington next week for two rounds of varsity and two rounds of junior varsity competition. A dinner will be served by the Farmington squad.

An assembly next Tuesday, the first to be held in the new gym, will feature Dr. Kurt D. Singer, author and former foreign correspondent. He will speak on current world problems and foreign affairs.

AT BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Vocal students of Bloomfield Hills High School brought Christmas cheer to the children at the Maybury TV Sanatorium in Northville this morning. The concert included many carols, as well as such numbers as "Winter Wonderland," "White Christmas' and "Sleigh Ride." A chartered bus, arranged by the General Motors Truck and Coach Division, transported the carolers.

The BHHS Music department will present its Christmas Concert at 8:30 p.m. next Friday in the school auditorium. It will take the place of the December PTA meeting. Clarence A. Luchtman will direct the choir, and instrumental music will be under the direction of Bruce Warnock.

LET THERE BE MUSIC—Without the familiar carols and the great music of the masters, Christmas would lose much of its flavor. At Avondale High, Pat Sullivan and Pat Hiller (left to right, standing) with Nancy Lowery at the piano rehearse for the school's Christmas concert to be given at 8 p. m. Wednesday. All classes will be represented in the program, which is open to the public.

St. Fred Seniors Receive Rings at Church Rite

By ANN SCHACHERN

Today seemed like another Monday to St. Frederick High School students, after yesterday's vacation.

Seniors found it hard to return their caps and gowns today. They wore them for the school's first Ring Ceremony in the church Tuesday. Seniors marched in procession, and the Most Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski blessed their class rings and gave a talk on the unity and oneness which the ring symbolizes.

Yesterday, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, seniors again marched in procession for the 9 a.m. Mass. The whole congregation joined in singing the Mass, which closed with the singing of the Magnificat.

Senior girls will have a taste of college life Sunday when they are guests of honor at Marygrove College. The girls have also formed a dramatic club.

The whole school is elated at the Rams' 40-37 victory over St. Clements, Centerline, in the opener basketball game Wednesday.

Balance of the staff of the Ramrod, St. Fred's first yearbook, was announced as well as plans to start the yearbook sales shortly. Mary Bieri will have charge of art; Dave Jones, sports; Aaron Koenig, advertising and subscriptions; Mickey Carry, activities and organizations; Jo Ann Johnson, classes; Norma Thyle, students; and Peg Humphreys, intorduction.

Some new material has been added to the athletic bulletin board on third floor—articles and bulletins from Notre Dame University. Many SFHS boys are taking advantage of this opportunity to model themselves after their Notre Dame brothers.

Junior Highs Plan Yule Programs

Junior High students planned Christmas parties, plays and programs and still managed to remain sports conscious during this busy pre-holiday season.

* * *

At Washington Junior High, 7B speech students are holding final rehearsals for "The Christmas Oboe," which will be dramatized at a morning assembly next Friday.

Homerooms are abuzz with talk of Christmas parties, and one homeroom, that of John Burton, is praying for the ice to freeze so that they can have the skating party he's promised at his Walled Lake home. Teachers, too, will have their party—a steak or chicken dinner at an area eaterie.

Balloting to change the constitution so that no Student Council officer could run more than one term passed with 460 in favor, 181 against. Bulletin boards are filled with samples of spoiled ballots—there were 219 of them.

"FOUR JOES" AT LINCOLN

At Lincoln Junior High, the "Four Joes," nationally known quartet, sang at an assembly last week while they were in the vicinity on a singing tour.

Three of the quartet members are former Lincoln students, so they came to visit their alma mater.

Woodworking classes are a beehive of activity, as members rush to complete gift projects by the Christmas deadline.

AWAITS YULE PAPER

At Eastern Junior High, students are awaiting the Christmas issue of "The Arrow" which will be out Monday.

The artroom will have open house all next week, so that students, teachers and visitors may get new ideas for the holidays.

BASKETBALL GAME TODAY

Wever Junior High students are looking forward to the first basketball game today, with Lincoln.

But the glint in the eyes of Wever students isn't in anticipation of a victory at today's game. It's because one and all are happy over the decision to "share the Christmas joy" this year.

The fun will be at a series of homeroom parties Dec. 21. Each room will invite a needy child or two as guests of honor, and in place of gifts for each other the money for gifts will buy a fine present for the needy youngster. Good things to eat and a decorated tree will be part of the festivities.

The students made the decision themselves with the help of the Student Council.

JUNIOR HIGH PLANS PLAY — "The Christmas Oboe" is the name of the play to be staged at Washington Junior High School next Friday morning by Janice Rivard's 7B speech students. In this scene, Linda Olds, cast as Marion Spears in the play, enters with the oboe in her hand, to find Mark Petrie as "Beany" and Roger Goltry (right) as his brother "Chalky" discussing the oboe which Chalky hid to avoid playing in a Christmastime statewide contest.

Traverse City Resident Ruled Dead by Court

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—A six-man probate court jury ruled yesterday that Oliver Duplessis of Traverse City drowned Aug. 29 while swimming in Long Lake.

His body has not been recovered and his widow asked the court to declare Duplessis dead in order to clear jointly held property. Probate Judge Harold Hunsberger now will order a coroner to issue a death certificate.

Mrs. Duplessis' motion was filed by Attorney Harry T. Running under a 1951 state law which amended the old "Enoch Arden" law. The old law required a seven-year wait before a missing person could be declared legally dead.

Urban use of water is estimated at about 200 gallons a day per person in the United States.

2 Canadian Ship Men Held on Smoke Count

DETROIT (AP) — The captain and chief engineer of a Canadian freighter were arrested in Detroit Thursday for permitting excessive smoke to billow from the ship for 13 minutes.

Benjamin Linsky, chief of the city's smoke abatement bureau, said it was the first time ship personnel had been placed under immediate arrest for violating Detroit smoke ordinances.

Capt. Locke McIntyre and chief engineer Charles Keleher were required to post $100 cash bonds by Traffic and Ordinance Judge Georg T. Murphy. No trial date was set.

After their release, their freighter Forest Dale, owned by the Roech Steamship Co. of Montreal, sailed for a Canadian port.

Manufacturers Elect President

Cola G. Parker Chosen by National Group; Has Odd Success Story

NEW YORK (AP)—A country boy who made good in the city and then returned to his home state to make good again is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

• • •

Cola G. Parker, director of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis., was formally chosen at the NAM's annual convention last night to succeed Henry G. Riter III, president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N.J.

Ernest G. Swigert, president of the Hyster Co., Portland, Ore., was elected national vice president and president-designate for 1957.

Parker, 65, retired last July as chairman of the board of Kimberly-Clark, a paper firm which expande dand reached record high sales under his guidance.

A native of Monroe, Wis., Parker helped found a New York law firm, which specialized in federal court work, antitrust suits and tax cases, and represented the American Paper & Pulp Assn.

• • •

At the age of 47, he moved back to Wisconsin and became associated with Kimberly-Clark. He moved up to the post of president of the firm in 1942 and chairman in 1953.

Parker has been chairman of the board of the National Industrial Conference Board, and is now chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, president of the Board of Trustees, Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., and a director of a hospital, three corporations and three banks. He has served the Eisenhower administration on several foreign economic missions.

• • •

Swigert, the president-designate, has headed the Hyster Co., manufacturer of lift trucks and other materials handling equipment since 1929. He is 63 and always has resided in Portland.

Active in NAM nationally for more than 10 years, Swigert has been vice president of the association's Western Division and a member of its Executive and Taxation committees.

Much of today's final session was devoted to panel discussions.

Prize Steer Bought for $1,592 by Store

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The west Michigan livestock show's grand champion steer, an Aberdeen Angus, was purchased at auction last night for $1.75 a pound, or a total of $1,592.

The 918-pound prize, shown by George and Fred Buckham of Kalamazoo, went to a Grand Rapids supermarket chain.

The Pantlind Hotel paid $3.25 a pound, or a total of $318, for the grand champion lamb, a 98-pound Southdown shown by Joe Elser of Litchfield. A Grand Rapids packing firm was top bidder at $1.25 a pound, or a total of $310, for the grand champion barrow shown by Raymond Wittenbauch of Belding.

The auctions concluded the three-day show which had attracted 161 top steers, hogs and lambs from western Michigan.

He reported the area has a 12-inch base of packed snow with three to six inches of powder snow topping.

Jap Wife of GI Buried in Soil of Her Homeland

TOKYO (AP)—On a small hill overlooking the green fields she knew so well, a slim, dark-haired girl will return next week to the soft earth of her native Japan.

• • •

The long journey of Fuji Tellier, 31, will end in a grave near the rice paddies of her Fukuoka farm home. Her last trip began and ended in pain. She had cancer.

It started many months ago in Long Beach, Calif., where she lived with Burton E. Tellier, the Air Force master sergeant she met and married at Fukuoka in 1951.

It ceased this week when life ebbed away in Tokyo Army Hospital.

She had come home to die, not knowing to the last that her affliction was fatal.

"I didn't have the heart to tell her the truth," Tellier told a Stars and Stripes reporter, T.Sgt. Sandy Colton. "She thought she had been cured."

• • •

Early this year, a specialist told Tellier that Fuji had only six months to live. He decided to take her home. The Air Force approved his transfer to Japan and provided nurses and attendants for his wife's flight. The Telliers had no children.

She entered the hospital at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., before leaving and was hospitalized again four days in Honolulu.

"At Wake Island I picked her some flowers and told her they were from the mayor," Tellier said. "She always believed everything I told her. It made her smile."

Westinghouse, CIO Renew Strike Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers today renewed efforts to settle the long walkout following company rejection of a union proposal for a strike settlement vote by the workers themselves.

The plan offered by the union yesterday called for the strikers to vote by secret ballot on whether to accept union demands or company offers as the basis for settling the 54-day old strike.

Westinghouse reiterated its proposal made several weeks ago for a secret vote by the 44,000 strikers on whether to accept or reject the company offer.

First U. S. postage stamps were placed on sale in New York City on July 1, 1847.

Report Turkish Boat Killed Greek in Raid

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Press reports today said a Turkish patrol boat machine-gunned a Greek fishing boat near the Greek-held Dodecanese Islands, killing one Greek crewman and severely wounding another.

The dispatches said the fishing boat, reportedly within Greek territorial waters near the Turkish coast, was taken later to a Turkish port, where the crew were jailed.

Greek-Turkish relations have been strained for some months because of Greece's campaign to acquire the island of Cyprus.

Judge Orders Accounting in Tangled Church Suit

A financial accounting was ordered yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick aimed at straightening out affairs of the Providence Missionary Baptist Church at Bagley and Diston Sts.

The action stemmed from a hearing in a suit brought by Albert Branch, who claims to be a church trustee, against the Rev. T. Walter Harris and the minister's wife, Almeta.

Branch alleges the church lands were bought by Rev. Mr. Harris with money donated by the congregation and placed in the reverend's name. "Thousands of dollars" were contributed, Branch asserts, without church members receiving benefit from the money.

Yesterday, Rev. Mr. Harris said the church is not legally incorporated and the only way he could buy lands to build a religious structure on was by purchasing them in his own name. The congregation granted him permission to do so, he stated.

Rev. Mr. Harris and his attorney, Odin H. Johnson, agreed to the financial accounting, saying they were ready to turn the property over to the congregation whenever it is legally able to accept them and pay the reverend debts incurred by him while the church was being built.

"The reverend has indicated he is perfectly willing to turn the lands over if he is personally absolved from financial liability," said Judge Hartrick. "I don't see that you have much to argue about."

The judge entered an order stating that Rev. Mr. Harris and his wife are holding the property in trust for benefit of the congregation subject to an accounting of their debts and obligations plus those of the congregation.

Branch's attorney, Milton R. Henry, said he would file pleadings purporting to show that Branch, as a member of the congregation, could be held liable for debts against the church and should receive legal protection.

"You haven't shown that your client is a legal financial officer of the church or that his rights are placed in jeopardy by this situation," said Judge Hartrick.

Henry said he would present evidence that Branch had a financial interest to protect. "If you can do so," the judge stated, "I'll be willing to carry the case further."

British Historian Finds New Story

Scotsman Had Washington in His Gunsights

New light is thrown on one of the strangest incidents in American history by British Maj. Reginald Hargreaves. In a dusty corner of London's public record office, this British historian came across a letter written in 1776 by a British Major Patrick Ferguson. It told how Ferguson, inventor of a new rifle, once had Gen. George Washington in his rifle sights at close range.

By MAJ. R. HARGREAVES
For International News Service

Although the American Revolution was fought with rare intensity and sometimes with that ruthlessness which a quarrel between kith and kin invariably engenders, it was very far from lacking the saving grace of chivalry.

It was this instinct of chivalry which spared the American commander-in-chief when—unconscious of his danger—he came within range of the rifle devised and wielded with such deadly skill by Major Patrick Ferguson.

The first opportunity for Ferguson's little band of riflemen to show their mettle came with British Commander-in-Chief Sir William Howe's advance on Pennsylvania. Landing at the head of the Elk River, they were assigned to cover the deployment of Knyphausen's division, probing for Washington's main forces, thought to be near Wilmington, Delaware.

By September 7 the American commander-in-chief's dispositions for barring the passage of Brandywine Creek at Chad's Ford were very well advanced; with the British concentration, four miles away at Kennett Square, still to be completed.

ON SEARCH PATROL

In the broken, wooded country between the rival outpost lines, scouts pressed cautiously forward, industriously seeking intelligence of their enemies' activities.

Ferguson and three of his riflemen were ranging far forward of the British lines when they heard the sound of horses' hooves approaching from the direction of Chad's Ford.

Sinking down in the undergrowth, they looked hastily to their priming as a mounted man in gay Hussar dress rode into the open glade directly in front of them, followed a moment later by another rider in buff and blue, mounted on a bay horse and crowned by what Ferguson was afterwards to describe as "a remarkable large cocked hat."

BEYOND HIS LINES

Obviously, he was an officer of exceptional distinction, and there was, moreover, a look about him that seemed peculiarly familiar.

The Scotsman, of course, had never seen General Washington in the flesh. But there were plenty of prints and cheap woodcuts of him in circulation. Furthermore, it had been rumored in the British camp that, a few days earlier, Washington had ridden out so far beyond his own lines that a sudden storm had forced him to take shelter for the night at a farmhouse hard by Gray's Hill—almost within cannon shot of British headquarters at Kennett Square.

It was more than possible, therefore, that he had again ventured out on one of those personal reconnaissances by which he was always careful to inform himself of the nature of the ground over which he proposed to fight.

Ferguson's first unthinking impulse was to shoot down the two horsemen without more ado; and he signed to his companions "to steal near to them and fire at them." But almost immediately he signaled them to hold their fire.

To an experienced gun, raised on the Highland Grouse Moors in the traditional sporting code, the very idea of taking a shot at a sitting bird was anathema. In his own phrase, even to entertain so shameful a notion was "disgusting."

Furthermore, Ferguson was a typical soldier; and the soldier's mentality is such that he invariably feels a certain sympathy with the man against whom he is professionally opposed. To attack and overpower him in the heat of battle was all in the line of duty; to play the assassin and shoot him down, all unsuspecting, in cold blood, was not part of the tradition of arms in which he had been raised.

(Tomorrow: Does Ferguson overcome his attitude? Is he captured? What happens? Read the answer in the second and last article.)

Sex Offenders Face Quiz on Dates

When known or suspected sex deviates are arrested by Pontiac city police or Oakland County sheriff's deputies, a grim round of "date-questions" begins.

In the hope of solving several of the more notorious of recent sex crimes, the prisoner is asked to place his whereabouts on several days and nights during the past year.

These are the dates that tragedies like the death of 3-year-old Ronnie Weitkamp, found in a field near Crane, Ind.; of Jeannie Singleton, 8-year-old girl who disappeared without trace from her Kalamazoo home last May.

Or Peter Gorham, 12-year-old Boy Scout whose disappearance touched off a nationwide search. The more recent Oct. 16 death of three youths in Chicago is not neglected in the questioning.

High on the list is the name of Barbara Gaca, the 7-year-old who left her Warren Township home March 24 on the way to a parochial school.

She never arrived.

Some of her schoolmates later said they had seen her on the way. They said they had seen her get into a blue car. A gas station attendant said a man in a green car had stopped at his station; the man had a little girl with him, and "she seemed frightened."

An older schoolmate of Barbara's said she had seen Barbara struggling with a man. But these were leads laboriously uncovered by police days after Barbara didn't come home for lunch.

Beginning in the immediate neighborhood of the Gaca home, the search widened and fanned northward into Oakland County. Boy Scouts and volunteer high school students spent two days searching Proud Lake Recreation Area in Commerce Township after a man had been seen there whose actions looked vaguely suspicious.

The hunt was beginning to die down by the end of the first week. And still there were no clues that led anywhere.

Then, on April 1, a section hand walking by a West Bloomfield Township dump lifted the corner of a nearly-new army blanket lying in the garbage and rubbish.

Under it was the stabbed, strangled and raped body of Barbara Gaca.

Her blue snowsuit, described in thousands of newspaper articles and circulars, was lying beside her.

A pathologist who examined the body found traces of candy in Barbara's stomach, and guessed the killer had lured her into his car with chocolate-coated peppermints.

He said she must have been killed within hours of her abduction.

Literally hundreds of arrests were made. Known and suspected deviates were checked for alibis. Thousands of tips poured in to police.

But after six exhaustive days of investigation, police admitted they had no clues except the army blanket, and that they called "one in a million."

In desperation, police and clergy broadcast appeals to the killer to turn himself in. Clergymen offered him asylum until police took over.

Nothing worked. Now, after nearly eight months, new tips are still received daily. They are all checked, no matter how ridiculous they may seem.

To date, there have been no results.

Reds Hate Smoking Khrushchev Reveals

CALCUTTA (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev stopped talking world politics long enough to tell dinner guests here that Soviet rulers hate smoking.

The Communist party chief said that cigarettes and pipes are more or less taboo among members of the Central Committee of the Communist party.

In the Soviet Union as a whole, he added, smoking is discouraged on medical grounds.

Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Bulganin returned yesterday from Burma to resume their tour of India.

First International Postal Congress was held in Bern, Switzerland, in 1874, with representatives of the United States, Egypt, and 20 European countries attending.

Humphrey Expounds Economic Principles

ST LOUIS (INS)—Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey has declared that recent government policies will safeguard the nation from any economic recession.

Speaking at the centennial dinner of the Mercantile Trust Company in St. Louis Wednesday night, Humphrey explained:

"For three years we have been reshaping government policy into the policies required for a strong and forward-looking nation and an economy that will pump a continuous new flow of nourishment into the day to day American evolution of self betterment."

The secretary said the $3 to $4 billions tax cut suggested by some quarters in Washington was out of the question, but that some sort of tax reduction could be worked out.

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

SYNOPSIS: Beanie runs away from home with his sister's clay man called a Dumdiddy. He meets Santa in disguise. Santa brings the Dumdiddy to life to watch over Beanie. In a big city, Beanie sees a redheaded hunchback being chased by a man. Beanie trips the man and the hunchback escapes.

Chapter Five

THE ROBBER

The man shouted at Beanie for tripping him and letting the redheaded robber escape. Then he angrily brushed off his trousers and limped away.

"Whew!" gasped the little Dumdiddy from Beanie's pocket. "That was a close one!"

Beanie strolled on down the street gazing at the sights. Bright Christmas lights glittered above him. Giant red and white stockings hung from the lamp posts. A fat cardboard Santa stood at every corner.

Beanie stood admiring a particularly fine Santa sitting in a cardboard sleigh. Suddenly he felt a tug at his arm. Turning, he saw the redheaded hunchback.

He had glittering green eyes and crooked teeth and short red whiskers sticking from his chin.

"Thanks for saving me," he chuckled.

"I only did what you asked me," said Beanie. "It is true that you are a robber?"

"The best there is," boasted the hunchback. "And now you're a robber, too."

"Why?" cried Beanie in astonishment.

"Because you helped me escape."

"But I've never robbed!" explained Beanie.

"What's the matter?" said the hunchback, growing angry. "Are you afraid of being a robber?"

"N-no!" stammered Beanie. "I'm not afraid of anything!"

"Good," replied the hunchback. "I'm going to let you in on something big I've planned for tonight. I'll do that because you saved me from that man. How'd you like that?"

Beanie's heart fluttered wildly. His throat was dry and he could hardly speak. At last he managed to nod his head. "F-fine," he whispered.

The little Dumdiddy, leaning far out of Beanie's pocket, saw the nod and heard the whisper and his heart fluttered.

"Oh, my! Oh, my!" he moaned. "Now we're in for it."

The robber pulled Beanie into a dark alley and sat with him on a broken box. "Listen," he whispered, putting his arm around Beanie. "Did you ever get all you wanted for Christmas?"

Beanie shivered under the robber's arm. He shook his head. "Not all," he said.

"Well, this year you're going to get all you want!"

Beanie's eyes popped wide open. "How?" he gasped.

"Because," said the hunchback, "you're not going to wait for someone to give you what you want, you're going to Santa's Workshop and take what you want. Unless, of course, you aren't brave enough!"

"Don't worry," snapped Beanie though his teeth were chattering. "I'm as brave as you!"

"We'll see," said the robber. "I know this store called Santa's Workshop. They make all sorts of toys there. We'll just go in and help ourselves."

Beanie swallowed hard. "Let's go," he said. He hoped the robber wouldn't feel him shaking.

"No, we won't go together," said the robber. "I'll go first and leave a trail of arrows for you to follow. They'll lead you right to Santa's Workshop. You'll find me there."

He pulled a piece of chalk from his pocket and drew a small arrow on the sidewalk. "Now, you stay here for one hour and then follow the arrows."

With a wave of his hand he disappeared. Beanie sank back and hugged himself with his arms. He was shivering so he could hardly stay on the box.

"But I can do anything he can!" he told himself fiercely.

"I'LL FOLLOW THE ARROWS OF THE ROBBER" — The redheaded robber had told Beanie how he would rob Santa's Workshop. The robber said he would go first and leave a trail for Beanie to follow. The little Dumdiffy in Beanie's pocket thought he'd better do something. So he jumped out of Beanie's pocket and followed the arrows.

Meantime, the Dumdiddy in Beanie's pocket shook himself. "Well, kitcheroo," he muttered. "I better get busy and do something."

He climbed out of Beanie's pocket, jumped to the ground and fell flat on his tummy.

"Billikins!" he thought as he straightened himself out. "I wish my legs had better feet than these!" He glared at the little clay bumps on the ends of his legs. "Oh, well, I'll have to make the best of them."

And away he hopped, following the arrows of the redheaded robber.

Sheriffs Decide Uniform Change

Michigan Lawmen OK Chocolate Color Coats, Western-Style Hats

LANSING (UP) — When you see that chocolate-type uniform, you'll know you've been arrested by a sheriff's officer.

The Michigan Sheriffs Association, meeting in state convention at Lansing, has agreed on it's own distinctive uniform.

The coat will be dark chocolate, the pants a lighter shade of the same color and the hat western-type felt headgear.

The sheriffs wanted a distinctive uniform and agreed on the color after much argument. Some wanted variations on the blue worn by State Police and most city police. Others argued "anything but blue."

There were proponents of green uniforms and of red jackets.

At one stage in the color argument, a hotel bell boy, in red jacket, was asked to stand on a chair and show his colors.

"Looks like the Canadian Mounties," one sheriff said, and the red jacket was voted down.

On the final vote, with a lot of sheriffs in blue uniforms against, the chocolate color won out.

A Uniform Committee of the association still has to see samples of cloth to decide on the exact color of the new outfit. The color of the western-type hat also was undecided but the majority of the sheriffs like a light grey.

Richard McBride of Bad Axe, president of the association, said the changeover probably would be slow.

"Each county has to approve as the local sheriffs buy new uniforms," he said. "It will take a little time but I think that in three or four years all the sheriffs officers in Michigan will have that uniform dress."

The sheriffs also approved black and white cars for their departments and a six-pointed star as the official badge.

They agreed to a campaign to ask the Legislature for a four-year term for sheriffs instead of the present two years.

Bridge Contract Let

LANSING (INS) — The State Highway Department has awarded a contract for two bridges needed for the proposed Davison-Lodge Expressway interchange in Detroit, to Sugden and Sivier, Inc., of Oak Park, for $249,046. The bridges are to be completed by Oct. 30, 1956.

Parrot Saves Family

KALAMAZOO (INS) — The screeches of a parrot Wednesday awakened the Phillip Corkins family in time for them to flee their burning Kalamazoo home. However, the parrot perished in the smoke.

The Mormons, who read into its extended branches a symbol pointing them to the Holy Land, gave the Joshua tree its name.

THE BUSY BEAVER

You probably have heard it said that someone is "working like a beaver." This means he is especially busy because the beaver is a very busy animal.

Beavers are the largest rodents or growing animals. They are about three feet long and have paddle-shaped tails. Sociable, they often live in family groups. They build dams of mud, stones and tree trunks to make the ponds in which to construct their homes or lodges.

To make a dam, a beaver may gnaw at a tree trunk until it topples across the stream. With the others it then packs small branches and mud around the fallen tree.

In the summer the beavers travel the streams but in autumn they return to repair their lodges or build new ones. The outside mud freezes as hard as stone and is a fine protection against weather and enemies.

The beaver is reddish brown with a gray coloring beneath. Beaver fur is used in making coats and hats.

If you live near a zoo or museum you may get a closeup view of the busy beaver just as this Junior Editor is doing.

Start your own beaver lodge by pasting this picture on thin cardboard and coloring with crayons.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

AEC Scientist Says Reds' Bomb Equal to Ours

KANSAS CITY (INS) — Atomic scientist Ralph E. Lapp has claimed that the U. S. has identified only three of the 14 nuclear explosions conducted by the Russians in the last 14 months.

• • •

He also said this week in Kansas City that the destructive power of the Soviet nuclear weapons are equal to those of the U. S. Lapp explained:

"The latest explosion indicated clearly they (the Russians) have achieved a super-bomb equivalent in destructive power to our most potent weapon."

The top scientist further charged that the Atomic Energy Commission has not presented the "true facts" about nuclear weapons and explosions and claimed the information was withheld because of a "fear of scaring the American people."

Dr. Lapp said the U. S. still is ahead of the Russians in development of smaller nuclear weapons.

Silent Denver Folks Form Unique Group

DENVER (INS) — Persons who are unable to use their vocal cords in speaking have formed a unique club in Denver. In order to belong, members must have lost all use of their vocal cords.

• • •

They employ pharyngeal speech in which the pharynx, or the part of the alimentary canal between the mouth cavity and the esophagus, is used to make sound, rather than the larynx, or vocal cords. Members have named their new club "The Lost Chord."

Trapped Buck Downed by Policemen's Bullets

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — It took more than 20 police bullets to bring down a six-point buck deer found trapped in a wire-fenced lumber yard enclosure in Grand Rapids.

A companion doe smashed to freedom through a window of the lumber yard building. It last was reported in the suburban Cascade area.

Officers said the frantic buck had charged around the enclosure, endangering himself and several persons attempting to capture him. The two deer had raced into the lumber yard pursued by police from Grand Rapids, East Grand Rapids, Wyoming Township and Kent County Humane Society personnel.

Wife Enjoys Living With Film Genius

Despite His Fame, Goldwyn Picks Up Bath Towels

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—This column is written expressly for persons who are married to geniuses with plenty of money.

If you are not in this category, read with caution as you may be ill. Or at least cranky over dinner.

"Yes, when I read all this business about what a wonder he is," said the wife of a genius from Hollywood, "I think, isn't that nice? I take the papers to my husband and I say, 'Look dear, you are a genius.'

"He just grunts about it. But I'm awfully glad to know these things, myself."

This is Frances Goldwyn speaking, the wife of Samuel Goldwyn, the man with the "touch." She married him 30 years ago (before she learned what he was in the papers), and she claims to have found him very normal ever since.

QUITE HUMAN

"For a 'genius,' he is really quite human," says Frances. "No matter how big his latest picture was, he generally responds to simple directions, like 'Sam, pick up that bath towel.'"

And about the money the Goldwyns have, to gamble with on their independent pictures — Frances doesn't object to that either. Many people insist that it's a headache to have a lot of investments going, but not Mrs. Goldwyn.

"Why, it's actually fun," she says, apparently sincerely.

The Goldwyns are noted for investing millions of dollars of their own in movies, in artistic gambles that sometimes pay off and sometimes do not. "Actually, Sam has had as many failures as successes," she explains carefully. But fortunately, the failures do not flop as hard as the successes hit.

"It seems to me that every picture is the biggest jump we've taken yet into an icy pool," and Frances shivers ecstatically as she says it.

"But I wouldn't have it any other way. The gambling is what makes life so wonderful . . . you never know if you're going to lose a million dollars or make a million.

"It's like an exciting, terrible roller coaster ride that you look back on and say, 'Wasn't that fun!' Then you go on in once more and it's as exciting and terrible as ever."

COLUMN COURTSHIP

Mrs. Goldwyn, a petite woman with cinnamon-colored curls, was a budding Broadway actress when Goldwyn met her in 1925. He immediately planted a note in a column which was headlined "Goldwyn to Wed Flapper."

This may have been the first evidence of "the Goldwyn touch," which Frances described as well-calculated, magnificently executed simplicity.

It worked then as it almost always does now, and less than four weeks after they met, Goldwyn did wed flapper.

Since then, Genius and wife have lived in Hollywood—where Frances thinks the people "really behave well, considering all the attention they get."

Phyllis Schreider (left), field director of the Camp Fire Girls, discusses Christmas projects with Blue Bird leaders Mrs. Walter C. Dempsey (center) of Wesbrook avenue and Mrs. Arthur Van Gilder of Tennyson avenue. The open house is being held this evening until 9.

Mercy Students to Stage Opera Over Weekend

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," the Christmas opera by the modern composer Gian-Carlo Menotti, will be presented Saturday and Sunday by the Masque Guild of Detroit's Mercy College in the college's McAuley Auditorium.

Anna Marie Baldwin of Augusta avenue and Mary Marcero of Starr avenue, students at Mercy College, will be members of the chorus.

The opera will be directed by Sister Mary Marguerite of Mercy's Speech and Drama Department. Anthony Marlowe, formerly the lead tenor at Convent Gardens in London, and now the Mercy chorale director, will conduct.

The ballet group will be under the direction of Osvald and Mirzda Tillak Lemanis.

Saturday's performance will be a 3 p.m. matinee. On Sunday, the performance will be given at 8:30 p.m.

Chapter Has Yule Dinner, Initiation

Mrs. Benjamin Sweeney served as general chairman for the Christmas dinner and formal initiation of new members of the Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

* * *

The affair was held Thursday evening at Devon Gables. Red felt Christmas stockings, used as placecards, carried out the Christmas theme.

Mrs. Alex Morris, chapter president, read the vows for the pledges in the candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Frank A. Jalosky Jr., state president, and Dee Brim, state corresponding secretary, assisted and presented each new member with her sorority pin.

Those welcomed into the sorority were Mrs. Fred Mueller, Stephanie Linabury, Mrs. Eugene Burdette, Mrs. James George, Mrs. Earl Smith Jr., Mrs. Edgar Plympton and Mrs. Harry Woodman.

Others receiving their sorority pins were Mrs. Harold Stickley, Mrs. Winston Hopp, Mrs. Joseph Ullom Jr., Mrs. Clem LaBarge and Mrs. Ralph O. Allen.

* * *

Mrs. Edward Hummel, past president, received the jeweled gavel of her office. Mrs. Morris made the presentation.

Secret pals were revealed at the party and gifts exchanged by the 45 members present. Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Mrs. Donald Moore and Mrs. Robert Hasse distributed the gifts.

Oriental Style Mood

Some Persian lamb coats are shown with wide, low half-belts, which are easy to remove when this style goes out. Fur garments, slit about ten inches at the side seams from the hem up are a definite 1956 sign and in the new oriental style mood.

December is membership month for the Fashionette Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department. Three members who are inviting others to join the club are (left to right) Mrs. Edna Mertz of Monroe street, Mrs. Robert Smith of Grandview avenue and Mrs. LeRoy Eastham of Ferry avenue. Mrs. Mertz is secretary and Mrs. Smith is corresponding secretary.

Porker to Visit White House

Washington Gets Hammy

WASHINGTON (INS)—Officials will "ham it up" at the White House tonight when a 230 pound prize-winning hog arrives for future translation into hams, roasts, chops, bacon and sausage for President Eisenhower's dinner table.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson will accept the porcine gift on behalf of the President in a formal ceremony scheduled for 4 p.m.

The purpose is to dramatize the current pork consumption campaign which has been given Benson's official blessing as a means of finding markets for an extremely heavy supply.

On its part, the Agriculture Department is embarked on an 85 million dollar program under which it will buy up to 170 million pounds of pork and lard in an attempt to stabilize faltering hog prices.

Also attending the ceremony will be 19-year-old Donald Hale of Clinton, Wis., who owned and raised the porker to market weight.

The animal—first of its species to make a personal appearance on the White House grounds, so far as anyone knows—won the junior championship at last week's International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Members of the National Swine Growers Council, an organization of hog farmers covering 20 states, took up a subscription to buy the animal for presentation to Eisenhower when it went up for auction.

The hog belongs in a category which Benson's department likes to call "meat type"—that is, it has been bred and fed to produce pork cuts with a minimum of fats and a maximum of lean as today's consumers prefer.

The hog will be slaughtered in Baltimore and the processed pork items will be delivered back to the White House.

Portions will be used by the President, and Eisenhower has directed that the balance be delivered to armed service hospitals.

Keep Cards Clean

Once your Christmas cards are selected, the important thing is to take pride in their appearance. Keep their envelopes free of smudgy fingerprints and inkstains. Print plainly if your handwriting is at all difficult to read. I even like to see each stamp neatly and firmly placed. But give your tongue a break, by using ice cubes or a wet sponge to dampen them.

Baptist Women Hold Ingathering

The annual ingathering and Christmas party of the Women's Society to the Bethany Baptist Church was held Thursday at the church.

* * *

The morning meeting was conducted by Mrs. Forrest Brown, president of the society. Following the meeting, Lydia Circle served a luncheon.

The afternoon program was presented by Mrs. Frank Marsh, program chairman. Christmas carols were sung by guest soloist Mrs. Victor Lindquist.

A Christmas story, "The Little Hunchback, Zia," was presented by Mrs. Fred Tiffany and the program was concluded by a pageant depicting all races joining together for an ingathering service.

Women of Moose Conduct Initiation

Mrs. Eugene Camp, Mrs. Howard McLain and Maureen Crafton were initiated in to the Women of the Moose Chapter 360.

Social Service Chapter Night was held at the recent meeting. Mrs. Harold Finn played several accordion selections for the program.

The group recieved reports on the Christmas bazaar and the dance held by the chapter Dec. 3.

The Pontiac chapter will be hosts at the midnight conference to be held in Janurary at the Moose Temple.

Missionary Group Has Yule Meeting

Mrs. Park Wagg presided at the Pioneer Missionary Society meeting held Thursday at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

The Christmas service was led by Mrs. Richard Kelly with Mrs. William Bradley at the piano. Mrs. Kelly gave the devotions and a Christmas story, and led a question period on the life of Christ.

A story of the celebration of Christmas in the early days of America was read by Mrs. Ralph Osborne.

Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Palmer Mullen were welcomed as new members of the society.

Build Own Ceramic Table

NEW YORK (INS)—A ceramic mosaic table, panel or wall plaque has two advantages—it's high decor fashion, and you can make it yourself.

Ada Korsakaite, artist - employe of a large tile firm who designs high style mosaics for a living, suggests that the handyman go about "doing-it-himself."

"You can use heavy plywood for the table top. Create a pattern—or trace one with carbon paper onto the wood surface. If you've designed your own, sketch it on with heavy pencil.

"Use tile masti · as your adhesive, and be sure to keep the can covered, as it dries very quickly. With a putty knife spread a thin layer of mastic over four square inches and then take a piece of tile and, using tile nippers, cut the tile until it's the proper size and shape you want. You can get both ceramic mosaic tile and nippers from a tile contractor.

"Then," says Ada, "put pieces of tile into the mastic, leaving small spaces between the tiles, as you follow your pattern putting in colors as planned."

When you are all finished, grout it—grout is a cement that fills in the spaces. To "grout," you cover the table top with grouting, wipe off the excess, and allow to dry for 24 hours.

It's a good idea to wait three days for the mastic to set before grouting. After grout sets, allow to stand, covered with wet cloth, for another 24 hours

Postal Money Order Is 36 Years Too Late

WASHINGTON (AP)—It has taken the postman 36 years to deliver a $7.67 postal money order to Rep. Robert W. Kean (R-NJ).

The post office went into belated action today. It notified Kean to come and get the money order, dated June 6, 1919. Kean at that time was an Army lieutenant just out of the trenches in France.

The order was issued at Trier, France, and signed by Lt. R. J. Toptoon, otherwise unidentified in the temporary absence of the congressman.

Kean's office staff had no explanation from the Post Office Department for the 36-year-delay.

Child Makes Successful Debut as Card Designer

NEW YORK (INS)—One successful greeting card designer is only nine years old. She's Carol Stanco, daughter of Lynn and Fred Stanco, both of whom are artists and both of whom design greeting cards for their own firm.

The Stancos decided to go into the business in 1948 because neither of them could find cards they liked in stationary stores. Both had studied art at the Art Students League.

* * *

Little Carol, two years old at the time, was a help right from the beginning. She could always bring cans of paint from one part of the house to another, as the Stanco home was their studio at the time.

BECAME BEST SELLER

The first of Carol-designed cards came about when she was in nursery school.

"She made a design and brought it home with great pride," her mother said. "Her teacher had praised and so did we. It just looked like a good Christmas card."

And it was—it turned out to be a best-seller.

Little Carol has been designing ever since.

"The number depends on how many Girl Scout meetings and things like that she has. She does a lot of painting at home," Lynn Stanco said, "but I want her to feel that she has to work to have something published. She's always coming up with ideas."

She's becoming very conscious of her cards now," Fred Stanco added, "and I don't think that's something I want."

"She's becoming more observant, too, Lynn said. "But most children are natural artists. We're just careful not to tell her a tree can't look a certain way, or something must be in proportion. She'll develop her own powers of observation."

INFORMAL TREND

The seniod Stancos have some observations of their own on the greeting card industry, and particularly their own field of the more sophisticated "studio" cards.

"I don't think greeting cards will ever again get away from the informal style popular today. People's way of thinking is informal," Lynn explained.

"But one thing about radio cards—the trend today is toward a better type of card, a friendly card interpreted in modern fashion, as opposed to cards expressing hate thoughts, smutty thoughts or rude thoughts.' "

One trend that is very marked in the studio card field, they say, is that toward more picture and fewer words. Verse is seldom used, lettering is often informal or even script, and those sentences used are usually informal and almost like speech.

* * *

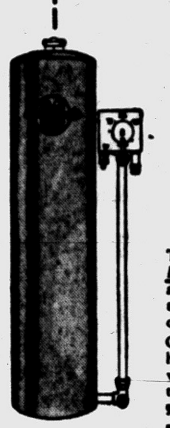

Lynn concluded: "Can you imagine the effect if you walked up to somebody and said "roses are red, violets are blue, sugar is sweet and so are you?"

Buick's 1956 power-packed CENTURY hardtops—the 2-door Riviera, Model 66R (at top), and the 4-door Riviera, Model 63.

It's practically no effort at all for a sprinter to walk.

It's a breeze for a weight-lifter to pick up a child.

And so it is with the 1956 Buicks in cruising—for these are the mightiest powered Buicks yet built.

It's almost a loaf for this beauty to cruise a superhighway at a legal 50 mph. At that point it's using less than 10% of its pedal-to-the-floor power.

And that's just the reason for the record-high power and compression ratio in your big 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. You and your engine can take it easy so much of the time.

You have no qualms about the response at your command. Your power plant has no need to breathe hard—so it saves gas, stays young, lasts longer.

So when you take the wheel of a '56 Buick, you take it easy, and still lead the parade.

You know you can call out the reserves with a touch of your toe.

And you find you silk through a whole day's driving with the flowing ease of today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

For not only does this advanced new Dynaflow give you stepped-up gas mileage and brilliant new getaway response at only part throttle. Not only does it permit you to switch the pitch for full-power safety-surge take-off.

It also gives you absolute smoothness in acceleration and deceleration like you get in no other car in the world.

Drop in on us this week for a sampling of the best performance yet—and for a first-hand look at what else goes with the best Buick yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Blaze Ravages Admiralty Sites

300-Year-Old Buildings in London's Whitehall Severely Damaged

LONDON (INS) — A 300-year-old section of the British Admiralty buildings in London's Whitehall was damaged severely by fire yesterday.

* * *

The cause of the blaze was not known, and security officers launched an investigation.

The top civilian and uniformed men of the Navy joined a crowd of several hundred who watched firemen fight the blaze for two hours.

Earl Mountbatten of Burma, the first sea lord, and J. P. L. Thomas were routed out of their beds and stayed on the scene until the fire was put under control.

Mountbatten's wife also was present.

The old section of the block of Admiralty buildings was under repair and had been stripped of all equipment.

No injuries were reported immediately and it was believed no valuable records were damaged.

About 30 rooms on the upper floors and the roof were damaged. The old building is known as Nelson's wing, in honor of the great British naval hero Lord Nelson.

Rolling small articles, such as doilies, dresser scarves and table mats, on cardboard tubes prevents creases and saves storage space.

Paul V. Sangren, president of Western Michigan College, will head the group with the Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, University of Detroit president; William Spoelhof, Calvin College president, and Eugene Elliott, Michigan State Normal College president.

Parents Cautioned to Give Safe Toys

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department today cautioned parents to choose Christmas toys with an eye toward safety.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said some apparently harmless toys may be deadly.

An example, he said, is a toy coated with a lead base paint. By chewing on it a child can contract lead poisoning.

A child under 3 shouldn't be given stuffed animals with button eyes which can be twisted off and swallowed; toys with sharp, pointed or rough edges should be avoided, and youngsters under 3 should not receive toys with small removable parts.

Air rifles, chemistry sets and bows and arrows should be given "only when you're sure they will be used under parental supervision," Dr. Heustis said.

Court Denies Claim to Groesbeck Estate

DETROIT (AP) — Julia Dubuque, self-styled confidante, companion and social hostess to the late former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, has been denied a $121,200 claim against his estate.

In addition, Probate Judge James H. Sexton overruled a recommendation of a court-appointed referee that Miss Dubuqe be given $60,868 from the Groesbeck estate.

Judge Sexton ruled there was insufficient proof of Miss Dubuque's claim that she was entitled to share in the estate under a promise she said groesbeck made to pay her $500 a month

Mrs. Mary Parks, a cousin of the Royal Oak dress shop owner, told the probate referee that Goresbeck had asked her to spy on Miss Dubuque to determine whether she was livingup to her agreement to be his companion, excluding all other men.

Groesbeck was a bachelor. He left an estate valued at more than $1,395,000 to relatives when he died in March 1953 at the age of 79.

Seek Okay of Reduced Fare on Europe Flight

WASHINGTON (INS) — North American Airlines yesterday applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to inaugurate, on April 1, 1956, New York-to-Europe air coach flights at fares as low as $125.

North American management told the CAB that it is prepared to begin transatlantic flights at fares 43 per cent lower than the lowest existing air coach fares.

The program calls for the use of 10-passenger DC-6B aircraft which would make the New York to Paris trip in 13 hours.

Driver Training Classes Learning by Riding in Bus

The six driver-training classes at Pontiac Senior High School toured the city yesterday by bus to become familiar with local driving problems, according to Instructor Arthur Tyrrell.

The idea was tried for the first time since the program began four years ago, Tyrrell explained.

The 194 driver-training students piled into the bus at intervals throughout the day to be shown how the vehicle was maneuvered through various traffic situations by Tyrrell and Instructor John Benaglio.

The pupils were shown how to pass through an ordinary intersection and also how to cope with unusual traffic patterns, such as those at Lafayette St. and Oakland Ave. and at S. Saginaw St. and Orchard Lake Ave.

"We stressed the necessity for staying in the proper lane and looking before changing lanes," Tyrrell explained. "Blinker lights were pointed out and demonstrations given of how to pass through them.

"Time limitations don't allow taking each student on an individual tour, but we feel the students gained considerable safe-driving knowledge from the group program."

The classes start each semester with three weeks of classroom instruction pointing up the physical qualifications for driving and traffic regulations plus some work on the mechanical aspects of an auto.

Then classes are broken into groups of four students who are taken out for road instruction once a week. Classroom movies are shown to supplement road work and refresh students' minds on traffic regulations.

Machine Increases Consumption of Milk

Milk consumption among students at Lincoln Junior High School jumped a reported 300 per cent in recent months when automatic dispensing machines were installed to replace the manual-distribution method.

Before the devices were put in, students at the school consumed an estimated 5,000 bottles a month, according to Louis Arvay of the Vendo Co., distributor of the machines.

The current rate is 17,000 bottles a month, Arvay said, a figure which he said is substantiated by Principal Phillip Wargelin.

The main reasons for the increase in milk popularity, he states, is convenience and the fact that the bottles remain cold.

The milk is provided to the students at five cents for a 10-ounce bottle, a price made possible by government subsidy.

Michigan Soldier Dies in Georgia After Mishap

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Pvt. Russell Nivison of Coldwater, Mich., a military policeman at Camp Gordon who was shot in the head Wednesday, died yesterday.

Being held on a manslaughter charge in the county jail is Pvt. Charles Montgomery. He told authorities he didn't know the gun was loaded.

Authorities said they are still investigating the shooting, but they added it apparently was an accident.

The two MPs were inspecting a .22 caliber pisto lwhen Montgomery squeezed the trigger.

GINGELLVILLE

Retaliatory Power, Bolstered Alliances Meet Soviet Challenge, Dulles Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Western countries, to meet Russia's new challenge to their security, most bolster their alliances and maintain "selective retaliatory power," says Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

Stating that the Russians have had no change in purpose but "merely in tactics," Dulles said last night, "Our capacity to retaliate, must be, and is, massive in order to deter all forms of aggression."

* * *

"But if we have to use that capacity," he added, "such use would be selective and adapted to the occasion."

ADDRESSES BUSINESS GROUP

The secretary of state repeated his massive retaliation theme in a major foreign policy address at a dinner meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers Assn. When it was first advanced some two years ago it frightened some Europeans but Dulles stressed it was "a firm foundation for peace."

Dulles, dressed in a pin-striped suit and wearing a green and white striped tie, sat between tuxedo - garbed guests at the speaker's table. Some 2,000 guests attended the dinner in the Conrad Hilton Hotel's grand ballroom.

He asserted last night the policy of collective security—backed by an "arsenal of retaliation"—will form "the ultimate deterrent" against the possibility of full-scale attack by the Soviet Union.

"What I have just been saying is what I said five years ago," he said.

Dulles, who helped form the collective security program under the Truman administration, added:

"That program has now become a reality."

ADVANCED IN 1954

The massive retaliation theme was first advanced by Dulles in a speech Jan. 12, 1954. He said the United States would depend primarily on "a great capacity to retaliate instantly by means and at places of our own choosing" to any Communist attack.

Fears were voiced that this might touch off World War III if the United States reacted in such a way to a minor Communist assault.

Dulles later clarified, qualified and expanded his statements. In substance, he said the United States had no intention of depending merely on its capacity for massive atomic retaliation to scare off possible Communist aggressors. Instead, the United States would deal separately with each case in the most appropriate manner and would make full use of local defense forces.

Ex-Convict Held on Check Count

Detroit Man Arrested on Federal Charges in Joplin, Mo., by FBI

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — James P. Taylor, an ex-convict, was arrested here Thursday on a federal charge involving some of the checks missing after the apparent kidnaping and slaying of a Thief River Falls, Minn., bank cashier.

After the 30-year-old Detroit man was taken into custody here, the FBI in Kansas City said he had been charged with interstate transportation of part of the travelers' checks missing from the Northern State Bank of Thief River Falls. The charge was filed in Detroit.

Kenneth J. Lindbergh, the cashier, was found slain Nov. 26 near Clear Lake, Minn. He had been missing since Nov. 12, after keeping an appointment with a stranger.

SERVED PREVIOUS SENTENCE

Taylor was released from the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 29, after serving a sentence for violation of the Dyer Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

The prisoner, also known as Charles J. Kenwell, waived a removal hearing at his appearance before U.S. Commissioner Eugene R. Crooker.

Unable to supply the $10,000 bond, the prisoner was taken to the Newton County Jail at Neosho, Mo.

The complaint accused Taylor of unlawfully transporting from Detroit to San Francisco Bank of America travelers' checks amounting to more than $5,000. Taken from the Thief River Falls bank were $14,000 in travelers' checks and $1,850 in silver dollars.

Taylor, reported to have been here several days, was neatly dressed but had a two - day growth of beard when arrested. He looked dazed in his appearance before the commissioner.

When Commissioner Crooker set bond at $10,000 Taylor said he had been told "there is a whole bunch of charges against me," and asked if the other charges would be filed if he posted bond. Crooker said he had no knowledge of the other charges.

Goff Sanity Hearing Delayed by Illness

A Circuit Court hearing which will decide whether a Flint man accused of first degree murder will be declared insane has been postponed to Dec. 16, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said yesterday.

A sanity hearing for Ray Goff, 32, of Flint, was canceled yesterday becaause one of the psychiatrists who examined him is ill, Ziem explained.

Goff is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, of Flint, in a car parked on M87 near Holly Aug. 26.

Four psychiatrists, who have examined Goff, will testify at the hearing before Judge George B. Hartrick, who will decide whether to commit the accused to Ionia State Hospital.

11 Inductees Leave for Armed Services

Eleven inductees from Pontiac and Oakland County reported for induction into the armed forces Thursday.

From board number 65 were Leonard E. Lada, 439 Valencia Dr., and Robert E. Warman, 33 Gingell Ct.

From board number 67 were Robert T. Call, 2959 Avalon St.; Larry L. Berry, 42 Victory Dr.; Richard L. Baumgartner, Drayton Plains; Henry J. Potter, Holly.

William F. Burmeister, Milford; Gail A. Wickstrom, Laurium; Robert K. Andrews, Walled Lake; Charles F. Toothacker, Leonard; Timothy J. Thomas, Farmington; Keith E. Spear, Lake Orion and Earl D. Trimbath, Holly.

Motorist Fined, Jailed for Drunk Driving

Calvin T. White, who crashed head-on into a Pontiac policeman's car Tuesday night, was found guilty on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor by Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finegan yesterday.

White was fined $100 and sent to jail for 10 days.

Another warrant, charging leaving the scene of an accident, was issued against White by Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge.

White is accused of sideswiping another car while passing on E. Walton Blvd. a few minutes before the collision on Perry St. in downtown Pontiac, which hospitalized Sgt. Carl P. Colando.

Holdup Attempt Foiled by Royal Oak Man

ROYAL OAK — A 38-year-old Royal Oak motorist last night foiled a holdup attempt by two youths.

Frank Dawe of 501 Lafayette South picked up the youths at John R and State Fair. He said one of the passengers soon after pulled a revolver and ordered him to keep driving.

Dawe swerved his car suddenly, throwing both of the bandits off balance. He stopped, grabbed the ignition keys and jumped out of the auto, escaping through backyards.

He reported the holdup attempt to police and then retrieved his car, which was still where he had abandoned it.

This Year's Rate $69.12

Tax Bill Mailing Date Saturday in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Tomorrow is the tax bill mailing date for some 33,000 property owners of Waterford Township. Their tax rate this year will be $69.12 per $1,000 assessed valuation, an increase of almost $4.00 over last year's figure.

* * *

However, the $69.12 is quite a bit less than the estimate of $76 made last spring. At that time Supervisor Lloyd Anderson took the township's cause before the State Equalization Board, pointing out the tremendous increase in population since 1950, the date of the last state assessment study.

Both state and county figures were revised in October, but remained somewhat higher than the township's. The equalization factor for Waterford Township last year was $1.69; this year it is $2.09 and is the reason for the $4 increase.

Of the 15 mills levied for school, township and county operations within the township, 1.38 mills this year for the first time will be allowed for township improvements. This amounts to $2.88, of the $69.12, and will take care of road improvements, the construction of the new police and service building, and ten new voting machines.

Allocated for county expenses is $9.10 and $1.04 will go into the special education fund for exceptional children, a countywide project. Two rooms for these handicapped youngsters are included in the elementary building now under construction on Pontiac Lake road.

RAPID GROWTH

The balance of $56.10 goes toward school costs, with $29.00 marked for operation, $9.40 for high school bond retirement, $9.20 for junior high school bond retirement, and $8.50 for elementary building and site fund.

Because of the rapid growth of the township, the high school bond issue will be paid off with the 1957 taxes instead of nine years later as anticipated. But this same rapid growth also means that more schools will be needed.

The School Board plans to present to the voters in February a request for a $3½ million bond issue to cover the purchase of six sites—four for elementary schools, one for a second high school and one for a third junior high—and the construction of a second junior high on the site already purchased plus four more elementary buildings and possibly additions to existing buildings.

* * *

Because of recent legislative action, the retirement of the bonds can be spread over a longer period of time, making annual tax levies smaller.

Sashabaw Group Plans Saturday Smorgasbord

SASHABAW PLAINS—The Sashabaw Presbyterian Church smorgasbord will be served Saturday, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The public is invited.

Pruning Meet Slated Dec. 16

County Agent Invites Orchardists to Attend Demonstration

There will be an orchard pruning demonstration Friday, Dec. 16, at 10 a.m. at Erwin's Blood Farm orchard, New Hudson. The orchard is located on the corner of Pontiac Trail and Silver Lake road.

According to John K. Bray, assistant county agricultural agent, "This is the time of the year to start pruning fruit trees, because next spring there will be other jobs that need the orchardist's attention."

Karl D. Bailey, district horticultural agent, will conduct the demonstration.

Erwin's orchards have a wide variety of trees, all the way from two-year-old to mature trees in apples and peaches.

* * *

"If you have a pruning problem, it will pay you to attend, as pruning is one of the most important factors in the life of the tree and the size and color of the fruit," Bray advises.

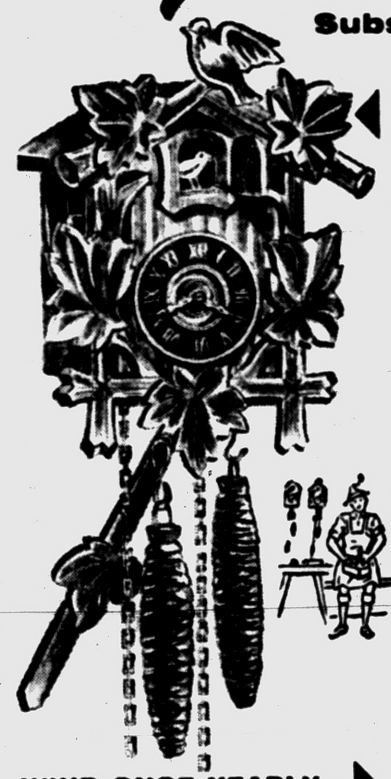

"Pruning is an exact science and does not just consist of taking a pruning shears and chopping off limbs, helter-skelter. All fruit growers in the Oakland County area are invited to come out to the Blood Farms and see how the experts prune their fruit trees."

To Cast Votes Monday on $850,000 Bond Issue

AVONDALE — Balloting on a new $850,000 bond issue by the Avondale School District will take place Monday.

Confronting the voters will be two separate propositions. One is the bond issue itself for the purpose of providing additions to the present buildings and also new facilities. The second is a three-mill tax increase in order to meet the added expense of operating and maintaining the new additions.

Supt. Raymond N. Baker pointed out that the debt millage will drop from 19 to 12.5 mills next year, even with the new bond issue. This is due to an 11 mill drop on the 1949 high school bond issue.

Extra space and facilities are planned for Avondale High, Avondale Junior High, Stone, and Stiles schools.

Provisions for a cafeteria, an increase in the size of the kitchen, and doubling the size of the shop are included at the high school. Added classroom space, including an art room and an English room with a small stage, are also necessary to handle the increase of 140 students coming into the high school next year. Total capacity after the additions will be 850-900 students.

8 CLASSROOMS

Shop space, cafeteria, library, music room and other class rooms are slated for the junior high. Enlarged heating systems are going in at both Stiles and Stone.

Stiles will also get new special and regular classrooms, while eight or more classrooms are planned for Stone School.

With property developments in the school district on the rise, a possible increase of 1,000 homes is anticipated by Baker.

Two precincts will have polls open in the district from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. All qualified voters west of Adams Road will cast their vote at the Auburn Heights School, 260 Squirrel Rd., while voters east of Adams will go to Elmwood School, 2751 Auburn Rd., to do their balloting.

U. N. Group Pressing Vote to Air Ike Inspection Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. N. Political Committee pressed for a vote today on a four-power arms plan to give priority in disarmament negotiations to President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection proposals.

* * *

Indications were the resolution, submitted by the United States, France, Canada and Britain, would win string approval despite Soviet objections. But unless the Soviets give in, the Eisenhower plan can't operate.

* * *

The Western plan would have the big-power U.N. Disarmament subcommittee begin a new round of discussions concentrating on the Eisenhower plan and Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for ground inspection teams.

The Russians have put in an amendment which would instruct the subcommittee to give priority instead to the over-all Soviet disarmament plan of which the ground inspection proposal is only a part. The plan also calls for cuts in standing forces and a ban on nuclear weapons.

The arms debate through the past week showed no relaxing of the adamantly opposed East-West positions spelled out at the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva.

The Russians contended the Eisenhower plan has no bearing on reduction of arms or cutting taxes levied for military purposes. They argued that, instead of freeing people from the fear of surprise attack, it would increase international mistrust.

Ike to Receive Award

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has been chosen to receive the Franklin Award for distinguished service at the annual Printing Week Dinner here Jan. 16, it was announced yesterday. It was not known whether the President would attend personally. The dinner is sponsored by the Printing Industry of America, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and 59 other organizations.

Machine 'Repair' Costs Store $7,455

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — A man who spent two hours repairing an adding machine in a Whittier department store got $7,455 for his efforts.

When he was just about finished with the adding machine he asked cashier Lela E. Thompson if a cardboard box of checks and money on her desk constituted the day's receipts. She said they did.

To her amazement, the man began stuffing the funds into a briefcase. She protested, but he told her he had a gun, and made his getaway.

It developed that nobody had called for an adding machine repairman.

French Politicos Jockeying as Alliance Deadline Nears

PARIS (AP)—With less than 48 hours until final filing time, political leaders throughout France jockeyed feverishly today for alliances to improve their chances in the election of a new National Assembly Jan. 2.

* * *

The legal period for posting electoral alliances expires at midnight tomorrow in each of the nation's department (province) capitals. In many cases leaders held back until the last moment for local tactical reasons.

Two main currents already are visible, however.

One is based on a "Republican Front" grouping unveiled yesterday by Guy Mollet, secretary general of the French Socialist party, and former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, leader of the leftist wing of the Radical Socialist party.

SOCIALISTS HAD 104

The Socialists had 104 seats in the Assembly dissolved Nov. 30 by Premier Edgar Faure's Cabinet. The Radical Socialists had 70 members, with about half of them controlled by Mendes-France.

The left wing of the Social Republican (Gaullist) party and the Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance (UDSR) also are considered part of the "Republican Front."

* * *

Another lineup in the works is expected to include the followers of Faure, leader of the rightist wing of the Radical Socialists; the rightist Independent Republicans led by Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay; and the slightly left of center Catholic Party, the Populace Republican Movement (MRP).

The Independent Republicans had 54 seats in the last Assembly and the MRP controlled 85. The independent peasant groups, which had 28 seats, also may line up in the alliance.

ALLIANCES BIG

Alliances are important under the present French election law. If an alliance receives more than 50 per cent of the vote in any department, it gets all the seats from that department. Otherwise, the seats are divided among the parties on a proportional basis.

The Communist party, which had 98 members in the last Assembly, made a bid to the Socialists for a "popular front" electoral coalition but the Socialists turned it down.

The splinter parties of the extreme right also are expected to be isolated in the alliance maneuvering.

The bitter political feud between Faure and Mendes-France is leading the Radical Socialists to an outright split. Mendes-France now dominates the party machinery, but Faure has been tightening his grip on the Rally of the Republican Left (RGR), a loose grouping of several political parties, including the Radical Socialists.

15th Annual All-Star Tournament Under Way in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — America's top competitive bowlers—160 men and 64 women—roll in a "Parade of Champions" tonight to touch off the 15th annual all-star tournament.

The real battle for national individual match game titles will start tomorrow and continue through Dec. 18.

The preliminaries tonight carry some $3,000 in prize money with 32 5-man teams going in a 2-game competition and the women divided into 16 4-player units.

The 1st five days of the tourney on a total pinfall basis will determine the field of 16 in each division for the match game finals leading to the championships Dec. 18.

Defending champion Steve Nagy of Detroit and ex-titlist Don Carter of St. Louis, winner two years in a row, are exempt from qualifying but will meet in a special 36-game match during the 1st five days.

Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, the 1954 women's winner, and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., winner of five straight crowns before her 3rd place finish last year, also are exempt and will compete in a special 24-game match.

All previous men champions except Andy Varipapa of New York, double winner in 1946 and 1947, will be in action. Varipapa withdrew from the event last week because of illness.

In the men's division, the tournament demands a total of 100 games, including 64 in the final four days.

Also returning is husky Ed Lubanski of Detroit, 1954 runnerup who lost out when Nagy swept the final 4-game match.

ECAC Advised to Delay Any TV Policies

NEW YORK (AP)—The sprawling Eastern College Athletic Conference, whose 101 members make it the biggest such body in the nation, held its annual meeting today and, as usual, the reports it would hear were a secret.

* * *

Reports had it, however, that the television committee again would present a resolution calling upon the colleges to wait for the formulation of an NCAA TV plan for 1956 before making television commitments of their own.

Ken Norton, athletic director and basketball coach of Manhattan College, was expected to put into the record a resolution allowing practice scrimmages with other institutions in basketball before Dec. 1. Such scrimmages now count as part of a team's limit of 26 games per season under NCAA regulations.

Ballad of the Gamefish!

By GRANTLAND RICE

"Only the gamefish swims upstream."—Col. John Trotwood Moore

Where the puddle is shallow, the weakfish stay
To drift along with the current's flow;
To take the tide as it moves each day
With the idle ripples that come and go;
With a shrinking fear of the gales that blow
By distant coasts where the Great Ports gleam;
Where the far heights call through the silver glow,
"Only the gamefish swims upstream."

Where the shore is waiting, the minnows play,
Borne by the current's undertow;
Drifting, fluttering on their way,
Bound by a fate that has willed it so;
In the tree-flung shadows they never know
How far they have come from the old, brave dream;
Where the wild gales call from the peaks of snow,
"Only the gamefish swims upstream."

Where the tide rolls down in a flash of spray
And strikes with the might of a bitter foe,
The shrimp and the sponge are held at bay
Where the dusk winds call and the sun sinks low;
They call it Fate in their endless woe
As they shrink in fear when the wild hawks scream
From the crags and crests where the great thorns grow,
"Only the gamefish swims upstream."

Held with the current the Fates bestow,
The driftwood moves to a sluggish theme,
Nor heeds the call which the Far Isles throw,
"Only the gamefish swims upstream."

PHS Shoots for 1st Valley Victory

Young Chiefs Face Veteran Hills Quintet

Fowler's All-Senior Five Here Tonight in First '55 Title Defense

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High's young basketball club tonight sets its aim on its 1st Saginaw Valley Conference victory, and its 2nd straight win of the season.

The contest in the big PHS gymnasium marks the start of conference play for both the Chiefs and their opponents, Saginaw Arthur Hill. The Chuck Fowler club is the defending champion of the state's toughest Class A circuit.

Fowler today confirmed the probable starters, named in these pages yesterday. He said his club, as far as regulars go, is an all-senior outfit. On the other hand, Art Van Ryzin's quintet is composed of youngsters, mostly juniors and sophomores.

* * *

Promise of a hot battle is seen in the remarks of the upstate mentor, concerning attitude of his crew, after its Tuesday night loss to Lansing Sexton." I think we still have a good ball club," Fowler declared. "Sexton banged in its 1st 6 shots for a 12 point lead that stood up at halftime. We barged back in the 2nd half and several times got within two points, but never quite caught up.

"Now we've got to get by Pontiac, if we stay in the SVC race."

The Arthur Hill coach looked for "a regular Arthur Hill-Pontiac scrap" tonight, and expected to win. He tabbed his club, and the Flint Northern Vikings, as the top title contenders."

Tonight's starters will include; for Pontiac, Dewalt and Treais, forwards; Ray, center; Peet and Diehm guards. For the 'Jacks, Knippel and Dygert, forwards; Alexander, center; Lee and Kanary, guards.

A junior varsity game is set for 6:30, with the varsity tilt following at 8 o'clock.

'Doaker's Day' Closes Season for Lion Club

Upwards of 45,000 Expected for Star's Final Pro Game

DETROIT — Upwards of 45,000 fans are expected to watch the Detroit Lions close their 1955 season against the New York Giants in Briggs Stadium Sunday, Dec. 11, and at the same time honor halfback Doak Walker as he bows out of the National Football League. Kickoff is 2 p.m. (EST).

By proclamation of Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Mayor Albert E. Cobo, Sunday is "Doak Walker Day" in Detroit and throughout Michigan, and the flashy little former Southern Methodist star will be honored at halftime by a presentation of mementos from his many friends, including league officials, players, and fans, from coast to coast.

Walker, an all-pro choice in 4 of his 5 years in the NFL, currently is the 4th leading scorer in the history of the game and needs only eight points against the Giants to move up a notch in the all-time league standings. To date, Walker has tallied 523 points in professional football. His season total of 128 in his rookie year in 1950 is the 2nd highest ever compiled in the NFL.

Meanwhile, Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions is seeking a victory in the finale in hopes of moving out of the cellar in the Western Division. Detroit is tied with San Francisco with 3-8 records. However, the New York Giants have their eyes on a 3rd place finish in the Eastern Division and can clinch same if they can down the Lions.

Reserved seat tickets are still available at the Lions office. Bleacher tickets will go on sale at noon Sunday at Briggs Stadium.

Syracuse Fans Pledge Support

Climax Campaign to Keep Franchise With $54,840 Pledge

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (INS) — Syracuse fans met a midnight deadline tonight to pledge financial support of the Syracuse Chiefs and keep the International League franchise from going to Miami, Fla.

Climaxing a four-day campaign by a citizens' committee, 400 fans gathered at the county war memorial building and pledged $54,840 in stocks, exceeding the goal of $50,000 set by club president Martin Haske.

Sidney Salomon, Jr., a former executive vice-president of the new defunct St. Louis Browns, had disclosed plans yesterday for moving the franchise to Florida after a conference with Haske.

But the transfer was contingent on the failure of Syracuse fans Dec. 8; approval of league presito raise $50,000 by midnight, dent Frank Shaughnessy, and approval of the Miami city commission, which holds a two-year lease on Miami Stadium, proposed home of the team.

Dislike No-Return Rule

Post-Season Survey Shows Opposition to Conference and Bowl Game Tie-Ups

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four of the college football teams that will play in major bowl games, Jan. 2, were chosen "automatically" when they won conference championships. Another, a second place team, was designated when the title-winner was a team ineligible to return a second time.

* * *

These conference-bowl tie-ups have been a controversial subject in football ever since the Big 10 and Pacific Coast conferences signed their first Rose Bowl agreement. They're no less controversial this year, the annual Associated Press post-season survey indicated.

The 149 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the survey expressed some decided opinions but very little agreement on the subject. The count of ballots showed a 67-56 margin in opposition to the tie-ups and 22 non-committal replies. But about the only point on which all hands seemed to agree was that the games themselves would be better and more interesting if the champions were allowed to go to a bowl every year.

Both Rose Bowl conferences—Big 10 and PCC—have a rule that the same school can't play in the post-season game. The Big 7 has a similar regulation in connection with the Orange Bowl, in which it opposes the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Southwest Conference has a tie-up to send its champion to the Cotton Bowl without such restrictions.

As a result, Michigan State instead of champion Ohio State will play in the Rose Bowl next January and last winter Nebraska, a weak second in the Big 7, was slaughtered by Duke. A substantial number of those who voted against the tie-ups based their objections on these "no repeat" rules and a good many who favored them also entered the same objection.

The principal arguments in favor of the tie-ups were that they eliminate "shopping around," competitive bidding for the top teams and a wild scramble at the end of the season.

Opponents of the agreements argued just as vehemently that the bowls should be open to everyone and only the top teams should compete. Tie-ups, they say, don't give the strong "independent" teams a chance to play in the biggest bowl games and often send second-rate conference representatives in their place.

* * *

At least a dozen of the experts strongly advanced the "best team only" argument and an equal number maintained that the reduction of pressure, both on colleges and sponsors, outweighed any disadvantages the tie-ups may have. About one fourth of those casting ballots proposed elimination of the "no repeat" restrictions.

PGA May Cut Days Off Meet

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—The Professional Golfers Association's annual championship tournament may be cut from a week to five days before the annual PGA convention ends today.

The executive committee was urged yesterday to eliminate qualifying rounds at the site of the annual classic.

Rules now require qualifying play in each of the PGA's 31 sections around the country. The qualifiers from each section must qualify all over again at the site of the championship tournament.

If the executive committee approves the elimination of this secondary qualifying, with the players going right into match play at the championship site, the tourney will be cut to five days.

Scheduled will be an 18-hole match on the 1st day, two 18-hole matches on each of the 2nd and 3rd days and 36-hole matches on both the 4th and last days.

Yesterday's session also saw the re-election of Harry L. Moffitt, of Toledo, to another one-year term as president.

Eaglets Begin League Action

Orchard Lake St. Mary Faces St. Rita in SCL Attraction Tonight

Orchard Lake St. Mary's basketball team will open its 1955-56 Suburban Catholic League campaign tonight in a game with Hazel Park St. Rita at Hazel Park.

Rev. John Rakoczy's Eaglets, who lost their season opener to West Bloomfield last Friday in a non-league tilt, are the "sleepers" of this season's SCL race.

The OL cagers were slow getting started in their effort against Keego, but should develop into one of the strong league powers before the season is over.

Tonight's contest will be the 1st of the season for St. Rita.

Ferndale St. James, which looked impressive in its 72-49 non-league win over Oak Park Tuesday, takes on SCL foe St. Mary of Royal Oak at Ferndale tonight.

Defending champion St. Michael, winner of a non-loop game with Avondale, is idle until Jan. 3 and the pre-season favorite, St. Benedict of Highland Park, is not scheduled tonight. The remaining league teams, Center Line St. Clement and St. Frederick, met Wednesday with the Rams victorious.

Sunlife Quintet Hangs Up First Victory in Class A

Sunlife chalked up its 1st victory of the season in Class A and Griff's Grill triumphed in its B opener in city league basketball games Thursday night at Pontiac High School. Sunlife thrashed Stadium Inn, and Griff's Grill downed the Independents, 48-39.

After being held to a 28-28 deadlock at intermission, the Sunlifers erupted with a 23-point 3rd quarter to grab a commanding 51-39 lead. They coasted the rest of the way, adding another 22 points in the final stanza.

Hal Trott scored 24 points to lead Sunlife and partner Mell Taylor was right behind with 23. Homer Harrison tallied 14 points to pace Stadium, which suffered its 1st loss after an opening win.

Griff's forces jumped off to a 17-12 1st period advantage, but garnered only three points in the 2nd stanza to fall behind at halftime, 24-20. They rebounded with an 18-point flurry in the 3rd quarter to regain the lead, which they never relinquished.

Walter Latozas accounted for 14 points and Marvin Holler contributed 10 to spark Griff's to its comeback win. The Independents, who dropped their 1st decision last night, were led by Merril Taulbee and Bennie Stafford with 13 and 11 points respectively.

No games are scheduled the remainder of this week. Action will resume next Monday at PHS when two American loop Class A games are on tap. General Motors will face Booth Homes at 7 o'clock and Shaw's meets the Keego Merchants at 8:30.

Wismer Picks Rams, Browns in Title Tilt

Also Sees Lions on Winning End in Doak Walker Day Scrap

By HARRY WISMER

The lowly Chicago Cardinals settled the Western Conference race of the National Football League two weeks ago.

That weekend, you remember, they snapped the Chicago Bears' six-game winning streak, 53-14.

The Halasmen have been trailing Los Angeles ever since and should finish that way at season's end Sunday.

For the Rams should triumph over the visiting Green Bay Packers by something like, 30-28, and go into their 1st title game—with Cleveland—since 1951.

Even a tie can clinch it for Los Angeles whether the Bears win or lose. Just in case the Packers turn the tables, the Bears will be going all-out to beat Philadelphia at Wrigley Field, and should by a 31-17 score.

Cassady Indefinite About Grid Career With Detroit

NEW YORK (AP) — All America Howard (Hopalong) Cassady will not decide until he graduates from Ohio State next June whether he'll play professional football or baseball for a livelihood.

* * *

"I won't sign until the end of the baseball season," said the 21-year old back who lugged the ball 958 yards and scored 15 touchdowns in leading Ohio State to its second straight Big Ten title.

* * *

"I'm eligible for another year of baseball. If I do well and the scouts come around, maybe it will be baseball. I really don't know which sport I like best."

He is a center fielder and hit .327 last spring but it was football that brought him and his coach Woody Hayes to the big city. Cassady received the Heisman Trophy last night as the outstanding player of 1955 at a dinner attended by 800 at the Downtown Athletic Club.

Cassady has been drafted by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League but hasn't had any definite baseball offers.

Wayne Drubbed by Louisville

The University of Louisville gave Wayne University a basketball lesson, 80-52, last night at Detroit as the Kentucky Cardinals posted their 3rd straight victory of the season.

Louisville dominated the 2nd half throughout, although able to run up only a four-point lead to halftime. Charlie Tyra, 6-foot-8 Louisville center, scored 25 points, 24 of them on field goals.

Hillsdale evened its season's basketball record at 2-2 last night with a 75-60 home court victory over Assumption College of Windsor, Ont. John Wood got 23 Hillsdale points, 13 of them on free throws.

Alpena Community College ran up a 49-38 1st half lead and then hung on to defeat Highland Park 76-73 in a Michigan Junior College Conference game at Alpena last night.

Braves Trim Crary, 48-21

Erh Ghianni's Washington Junior High School basketball team won its season opener Thursday afternoon, defeating Isaac Crary in a non-league affair at Crary, 48-21. Harrison Munson sparked the Braves with eight field goals for 16 points.

Just a Joke

$400,000 Offer for Kaline Reported False

DETROIT (INS) — A report from Chicago that the Detroit Tigers had been offered $400,000 for Al Kaline, the 1955 major league batting champion, was labled "completely false" by Tiger president Walter O. "Spike" Briggs today.

Briggs, who was reported to have received the offer from Kansas City Athletic president Arnold Johnson, said on his return from Chicago today:

"We talked with Johnson Monday and Tuesday concerning other deals. However, the name 'Kaline' never came up in our discussions."

Briggs said the story apparently stemmed from a report last summer that Johnson had offered Detroit a blank check for the brilliant young outfielder, whose, .341 batting average led both major leagues last season.

Briggs said the "offer" last summer was meant as a "joke" by Johnson.

Campy Tops in NL

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Campanella, baseball's Comeback Man of the year, today joined one of the sport's most exclusive clubs when he was named the National League's Most Valuable Player for the third time.

* * *

Only five players have won the coveted Most Valuable trophy as many as three times. The 34-year-old Brooklyn catcher and Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals are the only National Leaguers.

* * *

Jimmy Foxx, that great slugger who played for the Athletics and Red Sox; Joe DiMaggio of Yankee fame; and Yogi Berra, New York catcher are the three in the American League. Berra received his third MVP award a week ago.

One might think that Campanella, who is used to hanging up Kenesaw Mountain Landis plaques (the official trophy given by the league) in his St. Albans, N.Y., home, would be a little blase about receiving another. But not so.

"I get a bigger kick out of this one than I did the other two (1951-53)," said the big Negro catcher who beat out teammate Duke Snider by five votes. "I didn't look forward to this one and it is a wonderful surprise."

But immediately Campy said he has no intention of resting on his laurels.

* * *

"I think I've got a few good seasons left," he said. "The worst has happened," referring to an injured hand of 1954 which held his batting average to .207 in 111 games. He didn't receive a single vote in 1954, when the Dodgers fell apart and finished a poor second to the Giants.

Campy zoomed back to .318 this year, hit 32 homers and drove in 107 runs as the Dodgers easily won the National League pennant and then beat the Yankees for their first World Series title.

* * *

The Campanella-Snider voting was one of the closest since the Baseball Writers Assn. took over the poll some 25 years ago.

The Brooklyn catcher, receiving eight first-place votes from a 24-man committee, polled 226 votes compared wo 221 by wSnider. The Duke also had eight first-place votes.

Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' shortstop, was first on six ballots and wound up third with 195. Willie Mays of the New York Giants didn't receive a first-place vote but was fourth with 165, six more than the Phillies Robin Roberts.

Montreal Still Leads, Rangers and Red Wings in 2nd and 3rd Places

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The standings in the National Hockey League had a slightly different look today but the fast-skating Montreal Canadiens still held command of first place by a margin of 6 points over the New York Rangers.

* * *

Faced with a loss to the Toronto Maple Leafs last night, the Canadiens rallied for three goals in the last period and a 3-1 victory. The loss left the Leafs alone in the cellar since Detroit and Boston played a 2-2 tie. The Wings took undisputed possession of third place while the Bruins moved out of the cellar, which they had occupied with the Leafs.

Sid Smith gave Toronto a goal in the first period and it held up until the final session when Floyd Curry, Maurice Richard and Henri Richard blinked the red light for the league leaders.

Olson in 4th Title Defense

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, a 3-1 favorite, makes his fourth middleweight title defense tonight against a man who has whipped him twice, aging Sugar Ray Robinson, at the Chicago Stadium.

* * *

This scheduled 15-round battle brings together a 27-year-old Olson who was flattened last summer by Archie Moore trying an upward climb and a 35-year-old Robinson at the peak of a questionable comeback.

* * *

NBC will telecast and broadcast at 10 p.m., EST.

The chief reason for this International Boxing Club-sponsored bout is that Olson lost considerable prestige in his third-round KO by light heavy champion Moore last June 22 and that Robinson made a quick return from an erstwhile song-and-dance career.

Olson was knocked out as a 22-year-old rookie by Robinson in 1950 in 12 rounds at Philadelphia, and dropped a 15-round decision to him in a 1952 middleweight title bout at San Francisco.

* * *

Olson was regarded a terrific battler until he tried to match blows last summer with Moore.

In the second of his six comeback fights, Robinson nearly was chased back into retirement by Ralph (Tiger) Jones at the Chicago Stadium last Jan. 19.

But Sugar Ray, who abdicated the 160-pound crown Dec. 18, 1952, clawed back into contention with victories over Johnny Lombardo, Ted Olla, Garth Panter and Rocky Castellani.

That set up tonight's battle even though Robinson has not fought since winning over Castellani in 10 last July 22 and Olson has been idle since a slim decision over Joey Giambra last Aug. 26.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said it appeared a crowd of about 12,000 would pay $140,000 into the stadium tills. Another $75,000 will come from TV-radio fees.

Olson gets a 35 per cent hunk of all revenue, against 25 per cent for Robinson. If Robinson defeats Olson, a contract held by Bobo's manager Sid Flaherty calls for a rematch in 90 days.

First Major Basketball Tourneys Open Tonight With Alabama and Duquesne Aiming for Titles

The Associated Press

The first major tournaments of the college basketball season open tonight with Alabama, the second-choice pride of Dixie, defending its Birmingham Classic title while Duquesne tries to improve on the runner-up role it took in the Steel Bowl last year.

* * *

'Bama, ranked No. 6 in the Associated Press poll and unbeaten in its two starts, sends 6-8 Jerry Harper against Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, who are just 1-2 despite the high scoring of 6-7 Dick O'Neal, in the big game at Birmingham, Ala.

* * *

Houston and Valparaiso, which gave Marquette a fit for 20 minutes or so before bowing Wednesday night, fill out the four-team clash. Alabama, best bet to give Kentucky a tussle for the Southeastern Conference crown, and Houston are favored to meet in the final tomorrow night.

At Pittsburgh, Duquesne's Dukes, who whipped Carnegie Tech in their only game this far, meet Geneva while Pitt and Westminster (Pa.) round it out. The Dukes, beaten by George Washington in the title game last year, and Pitt (2-0) are expected to play for the crown tomorrow night.

* * *

Very little went on among the collegians last night. Seton Hall nudged Western Kentucky's youngsters 87-85 in overtime at Madison Square Garden. Maryland disposed of William & Mary 52-51 as Nick Davis hit a set shot with five minutes left and Oklahoma A&M struggled to a 70-66 overtime decision against winless Arkansas.

* * *

Dick Gaines and Ed Petrie scored 51 points between them for unbeaten (3-0) Seton Hall after Western Kentucky, only a 9-point loser to Alabama this season, constructed a second-half surge with sophomore Owen Lawson scoring 35 points.

* * *

The Aggies came from behind to tie Arkansas 64-64 on center Ron Peier's free throw with eight seconds left in the regulation game. Then the Cowboys hit three field goals in the overtime while Arkansas made two free throws.

* * *

Elsewhere last night: Joe Durrenberger scored 20 points as Rice made it four straight with a 62-47 breeze against Oklahoma. NYU handed Georgetown its first defeat 74-69 in the other half of the Madison Square Garden double-header with 5-11 Tom de Luca scoring 28. Unbeaten Louisville rolled easily against Wayne (Mich.) 80-52 behind the 25 points by 6-8 Charlie Tyra.

The finest gift container is the one that contains the finest whiskey

One thing is sure about a gift of fine whiskey: the shape of the container adds nothing to that moment when the whiskey is poured . . . and tasted.

That is the reason we at Seagram concentrate our time and money first, last and always on the distilling of fine whiskey.

This must make sense to the American public for, year after year, SEAGRAM'S 7 CROWN remains America's most popular gift whiskey by an overwhelming margin. That is why you can be sure you are giving the most welcome whiskey gift of all when you give SEAGRAM'S 7 CROWN.

Big Ten Will Press Iowa TV Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—If Big Ten athletic directors have their way, the state of Iowa will have access to regional football telecasts next season from several directions.

They have recommended that Iowa be made an overlapping state for TV purposes. One athletic director, Doug Mills of Illinois, said that this fall Iowa was a "displaced state."

Recommendation today goes before the joint meeting of directors and faculty representatives. If endorsed, assistant commissioner Bill Reed said that the Big Ten "will press the matter before the NCAA."

Problems arose this year for Iowa under the NCAA rule prohibiting regional boundary hopping of telecasts. The state belongs to District 5 which includes Iowa State and other Big Seven Conference schools.

This technically puts the state out of the Big Ten territory, District No. 4.

Regional television thus posed a ticklish problem for the University of Iowa, which has a wide following throughout the state as a Big Ten member. A compromise was made, but Reed tabbed it as "obviously unrealistic."

Part of the compromise involved telecasts of District 4 games only when no District 5 games were being played within 90 miles. A conflict arose when a Des Moines station telecast the Minnesota game at Iowa City Nov. 5 while some 40 miles away at Ames, Iowa State was playing Nebraska.

Under the new recommendation, Iowa TV stations could choose which games they want to carry in case of regional conflicts—those involving Iowa State or the University of Iowa.

The Big Ten eligibility committee granted additional varsity eligibility to Gerald Eisenberg and Ken Wellen, Minnesota football players; Clarence Krueger, Northwestern football; Jim Weaver, Ohio State pole vaulter; David Richards, Ohio State, football; Tony Turner, Michigan, swimmer, and John Sundin, Wisconsin, football.

They rejected a petition for Henry Cryer, 880-yard star and captain-elect of the Illinois track team. He already had been ruled ineligible, based generally on a scholastic deficiency during part of his sophomore year, and had appealed the case.

But although he participated only during the 1st semester of his sophomore year, the committee ruled he had completed his allotted three years of competition.

Trucks Is Back in Bengal Fold by Inking Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Virgil Trucks, a 36-year-old right hander who started his major league career with the Detroit Tigers in 1941 was back home today.

Trucks, supposedly traded into oblivion with the old St. Louis Browns in 1952, signed a 1956 Tiger contract yesterday. Nobody would say what figures were on it.

Trucks was traded back to the Tigers last month by the Chicago White Sox, who got him from St. Louis. Detroit gave up Bubba Phillips, a promising young outfielder, to get Trucks.

"I feel good as ever," Trucks said after signing his contract. "I'm sure I still can win a lot of games."

The big Alabamian was traded to St. Louis after hitting both the peaks and depths in 1952. He won only five games and lost 19, but two of his victories were no-hitters.

In three seasons away he won a total of 52 games.

Trucks was the 2nd Tiger signed for next season. Al Kaline, the brilliant young outfielder, was signed several weeks ago.

One of Tartars' Best

Wayne University's cross-country squad posted one of its finest seasons this fall with five wins in seven starts. It marked the 23rd season that David L. Holmes has handled the coaching for the harriers.

Old Argument Still Goes On

Howe Versus Richard Question Unsettled by All-Star Picks

MONTREAL (AP) — An all-star hockey team selected by the general managers of the six National Hockey League clubs has failed to settle a running argument over the comparable abilities of Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Gordie Howe.

Montreal's Richard and Howe, Detroit Red Wing ace, were tied in the voting for the right wing position on the team of post-World War II stars picked for a hockey publication. Each player received three 1st place and three 2nd place votes.

Others named to the 1st team were Bill Durnan, Montreal, goal; Red Kelly, Detroit, and Doug Harvey, Montreal, defense; Milt Schmidt, Boston, center, and Ted Lindsay, Detroit, left wing. Lindsay was the only unanimous choice.

Muskegon Back Named Captain of '56 Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A Michigan youth will captain Notre Dame's 1956 football team. He is Jimmy Morse, a 20-year-old halfback from Muskegon, Mich.

Morse's selection by 24 letter winners was announced last night by athletic director E. Krause. He is a junior.

A 175-pounder, Morse has been a regular Notre Dame halfback the last two years. A sprained ankle limited his play in the 1st two games this year, but he averaged 32 minutes a game in the final eight Irish contests.

Steel Bowl Cage Tournament Starts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Pittsburgh schools aiming at national ranking compete tonight in the Steel Bowl Basketball Tournament.

Pittsburgh (2-0) takes on little Westminster Pa. in the opening game and traditionally tough Duquesne (1-0) gets its second test of the year against Geneva (2-0).

Pitt, whose victories include one over Michigan, is expected to face Duquesne, its neighbor, tomorrow night in the finals.

Heavyweight boxer Bob Baker was discovered by his trainer, Lou Ledbetter, in a Pittsburgh YMCA where he was working out as a weight lifter.

Races Begin for Loop Titles

Heaviest action of the young cage season fills the prep courts tonight with title races getting started in four leagues.

The Inter-Lakes circuit has a full schedule of games which includes Farmington at Southfield, Walled Lake at Berkley and Van Dyke at Waterford.

On the Jay court it will be the battle of the winless as both teams go onto the floor with two losses. Farmington has lost to Bently 59-51 and Wayne 39-36, while Southfield has fallen to Ferndale 56-48 and Bently 62-51.

Southfield is defending champion of the league and coach Bob Watts is disappointed in the showing of his team thus far.

Top game in the league is at Berkley where coach Niles Freeland of Walled Lake is ready for an early showdown with the Bears. These two teams were considered as the leading contenders for the Jays.

Berkley is 0-1 with a 44-40 defeat to Fordson, and Walled Lake is 1-1 in non-league play.

Waterford, the only unbeaten team in the league is host to Van Dyke, which lost its opener 66-40 32 points.

Oakland B teams open circuit play with Troy visiting Avondale, Madison at Lake Orion and Fitzgerald at Clawson.

This is the season opener for Madison and Lake Orion, which makes its debut in the league, against the title-favored Eagles. Madison's attack will be headed by seniors Jim Simer and Jim Myers, two of the top scorers last year.

Fitzgerald got off on the right foot by surprising Rochester 50-40 last Friday. Troy fell to Shrine and Avondale lost to St. Michaels in the openers.

Competition in the Wayne-Oakland league is on the upgrade with three loop games on tap. Top encounter is at Clarkston where defending titlist Milford and the runnerup Wolves tangle.

The edge has to go to the Redskins of coach Jack Minzey who have the height and experience advantage. Both teams fell to Waterford in close games.

Northville, a team expected to move in the title circles this year, plays host to West Bloomfield. Mustangs lost a poor shooting to a strong Mt. Clemens quintet. Skipper wins were 52-51 over Milford and 41-37 over Clarkston with big Chuck Gillis getting a total of game 42-26 to Plymouth last week while the Lakers were opening with a 50-41 win over Orchard Lake St. Marys.

Holly, 62-49 winner over Hartland Tuesday, gets into league play at Clarenceville and Brighton is host to Fenton in a non-loop game.

Almont and Dryden get together in a Southern Thumb League game at Dryden. Almont (1-1) presently has the area's top scorer in Larry Kersten who has banged through 57 points in two games.

In other encounters a neighborhood scrap takes place at Birmingham high school where the Maples (0-1) meet Cranbrook (1-1). Another scrap will take place at Rochester with Romeo the visitor, while Oxford plays host to Imlay City. Lapeer is at home with Flushing, and Bloomfield Hills travels to Mt. Clemens St. Marys.

TONIGHT'S SCHEDULE

Farmington at Southfield, Walled Lake at Berkley, Van Dyke at Waterford, Cranbrook at Birmingham, Troy at Avondale, Madison at Lake Orion, Fitzgerald at Clawson, Eastland at Roseville, Mt. Clemens at Hamtramck, Midland at Port Huron, Flushing at Lapeer, Romeo at Rochester, Almont at Dryden, Imlay City at Oxford, Bloomfield Hills at Mt. Clemens, St. Marys, Holly at Clarenceville, Milford Clarkston, Fenton at Brighton, West Bloomfield at Northville.

Another for Yale

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—The Yale swimming team extended its phenomenal victory string to 128 last night by defeating Amherst, 65-19.

Baumholtz Goes to Philadelphia

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who failed in an attempt to peddle him out of the National League last year, today sold veteran outfielder Frankie Baumholtz to the Philadelphia Phils.

The Cubs declined to reveal the price tag for the 36-year-old Baumholtz, whose "sale" to the Chicago White Sox a year ago collapsed when the Cubs failed to ask proper waivers.

* * *

Baumholtz last season completed his fifth full Cub campaign by batting .289 in 105 games and hitting .405 as a pinch-hitter with 15 safe clouts in 37 AB's.

A Cub spokesman said Baumholtz "just doesn't figure" in Cub future plans with eight other outfielders, most of them much younger, on the roster.

Meets Pancho

Trabert Begins Pro Net Career Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—To Trabert, No. 1 man among the amateurs this year, launches his professional tennis career tonight at Madison Square Garden with the Dick (Pancho) Gonzales, king of the pros, furnishing the opposition in the first of some 100 matches to be played in a worldwide tour.

* * *

Rex Hartwig, one of Australia's lesser lights, also makes his debut against little Pancho Segura but it is the Trabert-Gonzales rivalry that promoter Jack Kramer is relying on to pull the fans through the turnstiles.

* * *

Trabert, winner of the French, Wimbledon and U.S. titles in 1955, reportedly deserted the amateur ranks for an $80,000 guarantee. Gonzales, 1948-49 U.S. amateure titleholder and best of the pros since Kramer gave up playing for promotion, is said to be collecting about $25,000.

* * *

There is little to choose in their ages or styles. Trabert is 25, Gonzales 27. Both feature the "big game." Gonzales has had more experience on indoor courts. Kramer has promised the winner a $25,000 bonus and a crack next year at Australia's Lew Hoad providing the latter turns pro.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

ANGLING THE BALL — Top bowlers have two ways of changing angles on slick and on slow alleys, and in shooting right-side spares. As sketch shows, they do it simply by allowing the right shoulder to pivot or turn during the backswing.

On a slick-surfaced alley they hold the right shoulder in-line, straight-on, all the way, so that the ball is delivered more directly at the No. 3 pin or right into the pocket between the 1-3 pins (strike pocket), depending on how slick the alley is.

With the slight shoulder pivot the ball swings into an "inside arc," closer to the body, as the right hip clears out of the way to a greater degree, and the angle is naturally more to the right.

Actually the pivot is a simple little movement, but a valuable one. In using it, keep this in mind: Be relaxed throughout. No rushing. In angling to the right, don't over-turn the hand or you'll drive the ball high on the head pin. Let the alley take the ball to the left. Finish the swing smoothly;

Go Up Notch After 2-2 Tie With Boston

Highest Position in NHL Standings This Season

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings were in undisputed 3rd place in the National Hockey League today—the highest the defending seven - time consecutive champions have been all season.

* * *

But the Red Wings could do no better than a 2-2 tie in their Detroit Olympia encounter last night with the 5th-place Boston Bruins who hadn't scored against the Red Wings in four previous games this season.

That one point that goes with a NHL tie lifted the Red Wings to 23 points one above the idle Chicago Black Hawks but a fat 10 below 2nd-place New York and a whopping 16 behind league-leading Montreal.

Boston ended up with 21 a point ahead of tail-end Toronto which lost a 3-1 decision to Montreal.

The Detroit-Boston tie incidentally was the 11th for the Red Wings in their last 21 games. It gave Detroit a record of six wins 11 ties and nine losses.

Last night was the 1st time in seven years that Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe, heretofore regulars on Detroit's famed "production line" had played on different units.

* * *

They were split up in an effort to spread Detroit's power but neither showed his effectiveness with the stick although Lindsay came up with a performance at fisticuffs.

Lindsay tangled with Cal Gardner in a spirited encounter in the 1st period and Gardner was penalized again for renewing the feud when he came out of the penalty box.

Rookie Norm Ullman put Detroit in the lead with his 3rd goal of the season in the 1st period. But Doug Mohns' 10th of the season brought Boston to a 1-1 tie with a second left in the 1st period while Lindsay and Gardner were in the penalty box.

Alex Delvecchio moved Detroit to 2-1 with his 10th goal of the season as Gardner was setting out his 2nd penalty.

Big Ten Cage Teams Battle Non-Loop Foes

Iowa Encounters SMU, Purdue Invades UCLA in Top Attractions

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten basketball campaign steps up momentum tonight with defending champion Iowa hosting Southern Methodist and Purdue invading UCLA.

Iowa, a prime favorite with Illinois in the forthcoming title race, may have its hands full against the Mustangs. They are figured to make a successful defense of their Southwest Conference crown this season.

The Hawkeyes, who opened with a fairly simple 60-51 trimming of Nebraska, have a 67-game home floor winning streak against non-conferpnce foes to protect.

SMU is led by 6 foot 8 Jim Krebs, touted as the best scorer in the school's history. Mustangs have three other returning regulars, including an excellent rebounder, 6 foot 3 Joel Krog.

Iowa's veterans were led by Carl Cain, Bill Logan and Bill Seaberg against Nebraska. The trio combined for 44 points.

Purdue's test against UCLA, coached by the former Boilermaker ace, Johnny Wooden, opens a 2-game series on the west coast. Purdue takes on Southern California there tomorrow night.

Boilermakers already have one victory to their credit, a 62-58 decision over Missouri.

Illinois travels to Missouri in a full night of action for Big Ten teams tomorrow. Other games include Kansas State at Indiana, Nebraska at Michigan, Notre Dame at Northwestern, Kansas at Wisconsin, SMU at Minnesota and a Chicago Stadium doubleheader of Ohio State vs. Loyola of Chicago and Penn State vs. DePaul.

Scott Frost Wins Headliner Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Just as he did in most of his races, Scott Frost trotted away with the balloting today to capture the seventh annual Headliner Award of the United States Harness Writers Assn., for 1955.

Owned by Saul Camp of Shafter, Calif., and trained and driven by Joe O'Brien, the Hambletonian winner received 40 first-place votes out of a possible 62 to roll up 264 points for the honor.

Packer Aiming 'Boot' for Ram Title Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dick Deschaine, the Green Bay Packers rookie who does nothing else but punt and almost got the ax because of it, will match kicks with the Rams' Norm Van Brocklin Sunday for the punting championship of the National Football League.

• • •

Van Brocklin holds a slight edge over the 24-year-old product of the semi-pro ranks.

• • •

The stylish quarterback has punted 58 times for an average of 44.5 yards while Deschaine's record shows 52 punts and an average of 43.4 yards. Only .1 back of Deschaine is Philadelphia's Adrian Burk.

Deschaine, a quiet-spoken lad with a crew cut and an unassuming air, is carried on tthe Packers' roster as an offensive end, but he has yet to play the position.

• • •

In answer to a phone call from coach Lisle "Liz" Blackbourn Deschaine quit his job in a Marinette chemical plant and joined the Packers in training camp last summer.

His only recommendation was his kicking and for a time even that—as sparkling as it was—didn't seem to be enough. More than once Blackbourn and his aides were on the verge of cutting Deschaine. The club just couldn't afford the luxury of a punting specialist who did nothing else.

Deschaine's last brush with the cutting ax came a month or so ago when the Packers added quarterback Paul Held. At the time the Bay had what amounted to three specialists—Deschaine, Fred Cone for conversions and Charlie Brackins for kickoffs. Brackins was cast adrift.

• • •

If Deschaine is on Sunday he might not only win NFL punting laurels, but help the Packers to their best won-lost record since 1945 when they won 6 and lost 4. Their record now is 6 and 5.

SE Conference Considers Applications of 4 Schools

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The presidents of the 12 member colleges of the Southeastern Conference met here today with a proposal to enlarge the membership as the hottest question on tap.

Houston, Miami, Mississippi Southern and Florida State have applied for membership. Houston and Miami are given only a slim chance of admission and the chances of the other two were considered nil.

• • •

Representatives of the two big independent universities let it be known yesterday while SEC coaches were meeting that they would foot the extra costs of minor sports programs that their entry might entail.

• • •

The travel problems were expected to prevent the necessary two-thirds vote needed for admission of either school. Western members of the loop objected to traveling to Miami and Easterners looked askance at the distance to Houston.

Three From State on All-Frat Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Sigma Sigma Chi's, topped by Ohio State's All-American Howard Cassady, were named to the all fraternity All-America announced today by the National Interfraternity Conference.

Ron Kramer and To Maentz of Michigan and Bob Pellegrini of Maryland are the three other Sigma Chi's.

The team, chosen by sports writers from the major wire services:

Center—Pellegrini. Backs—Cassady; Jim Swink, Texas Christian, Phi Delta Theta; Jon Arnett, Southern California, Kappa Alpha; Charley Sticka, Trinity (Conn), Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Wisconsin has not lost an opening football game in seven years under Coach Ivy Williamson.

Rains Wash Out Miami Tourney

Play Under Way When Downpour Starts to Force Delay

MIAMI, Fla. (INS) — Embarrassed tournament officials late today cancelled out all play in today's opening round of the $12,500 Miami Open when drenching rains made part of the course unplayable.

The washout of the 1st day's play was the 1st in the 31 years that the tournament has been held.

PGA tournament director Ray O'Brien ordered all scores null and void when five of the greens on the back nine were unplayable because of the unseasonable downpour.

O'Brien later announced that the 72-hole tourney will be cut to 54 holes, with the final 18 being played on Sunday.

Of the field of 154 in the event, 115 players had already finished the 18 holes.

Some of the favorites, including Sam Snead, Bob Troski and Mike Souchak, were still on the course when play was cancelled.

A Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference also that the Bonn government refuses to set up diplomatic ties with Communist China or any of the Soviet satellite states, even though West Germany and the Soviet Union have agreed to establish diplomatic relations.

Mobsters Shoot Ex-Capone Man

Alex Greenberg Third Victim of Gang-Murder on Chicago Street

CHICAGO (AP)—Assassins' bullets killed another associate of the old Capone crime syndicate last night.

* * *

Alex Louis Greenberg, wealthy 64-year-old brewer and reputed onetime mob financial adviser, was the victim of the third gangstyle rubout of syndicate buddies in 17 months.

Greenberg was slain on a South Side street as he and his wife prepared to enter their car after dining at a restaurant.

Mrs. Greenberg said she knew of no reason why her husband was killed, but Police Capt. Thomas McLaughlin said, "It appears as though he was paying someone and might have muffed a payment."

Police began rounding up known hoodlums for questioning.

* * *

Mrs. Greenberg, 43, told investigators she and her husband had just walked out of the Glass Dome Hickory Pit, a restaurant at 2724 S. Union Ave., and were standing at the door of their car when two men whose faces she did not see walked up.

She first related that the men engaged her husband in a brief conversation, then:

"I heard several shots and saw flashes."

Later, however, she signed a statement in which she said no words were exchanged before the men opened fire.

She said Greenberg staggered after the men as they fled on foot, then collapsed in the street about 12 feet from the curb.

* * *

Mrs. Greenberg ran back into the cafe, screaming, "Call the police. A man's been shot."

The first officer to arrive found her lying across her husband's body, sobbing.

Capt. McLaughlin said he based his belief that Greenberg had been paying money to someone on entries found in his checkbook. The police captain said they totaled $4,627.83 between May 26 and Oct. 4.

Pennsylvania County Epidemic Continuing

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Twenty-seven new cases of paratyphoid were reported in Lancaster County yesterday, raising to 81 the number of persons known to have been stricken.

Health authorities said they could not predict when the outbreak would reach its peak. The majority of the victims were children.

A program of mass inoculations against the disease and of treatment with antibiotics was being continued by family physicians under state aid.

Paratyphoid is a communicable bacterial disease with symptoms similar to typhoid.

Bob Considine Says:

Unique GOP Club Sifts Grass-Roots Ideas

NEW YORK (INS)—All 21 Republican governors will turn in an account of how they feel the Eisenhower administration has worked out in their states.

* * *

The reports, in the form of speeches to a comparatively limited but sensitive group, will be delivered to meetings of the National Republican Club of New York City. Few will be televised or reported on.

Vermont's flinty, snow-topped Gov. Joseph B. Johnson, a machinist and engineer who won by the smallest majority ever in that granite-slabbed citadel of Republicanism (5,200) was the fourth and latest of the governors to speak at the semi-official club of which the President is an enthusiastic member. Johnson preached "peace and prosperity."

"What has the Eisenhower program done for Vermont and New England?" he asked. "Just as is true throughout the country, the New England area is now enjoying the greatest peacetime prosperity in its history.

"Since the Republican administration took over in Washington in January 1953, the confidence of business in general has heightened immeasurably. More venture capital is being put up to attract private industry, which in turn through its own expansion is making more jobs available."

SURE HE'LL RUN

Gov. Johnson feels pretty sure that Eisenhower is going to run again. Else why would National Chairman Len Hall talk so confidently?

He couldn't say for sure whether Hall actually had asked the President about a second term. And he couldn't think of anybody else who might run, if Chief Justice Warren doesn't yield to a draft. "They say those California fellows are strong. . . , Nixon, Knowland and Knight," he said, his voice trailing off a mite.

The National Republican Club is the sort of "halfway house" of the party. It has no official status, though every Republican President since Benjamin Harrison has been a member of it.

For 77 years it has enabled Republican leaders to speak their minds without sponsorship by or the permission of the Republican National Committee.

* * *

Tough-talking young Fred Hall's speech of Nov. 16 was a case in point. The zestful governor of Kansas, after quoting Churchill ("A successful politician is a person who can predict what will happen today, next week, next month, and next year; then explain why it did not happen"), tartly reminded the GOP that it is losing strength even though Eisenhower's popularity remains about the same.

* * *

"The Republican Party is in trouble today because not enough Republicans are going the President's way," Hall said. "They do not agree with the President's philosophy and program. They are out of step with the President and with the people who voted for the Republican Party in 1952. They insist on going a different way.

LOSING SUPPORT—

"We are alienating the support of millions of Americans, particularly those of labor and agriculture, whose support we must have if we are to continue to lead the government of this country. We are fighting the farmers. We are fighting with labor.

"The farmers and labor are the vast majority of the people. Instead of giving them aid and comfort and helping them solve their problems, we are going around the country telling them what is good for them and that they have never had it so good."

California Gov. Goody Knight dissented before the same group. He said there's no such thing as a labor vote; that most California labor people profess to be Democrats but vote Republican.

Gov. Johnson dissented, too. He said Vermont farmers are happy as clams and want things left just as they are.

* * *

Daniel J. Riesner, president of the club, which pays its own way through its bar, restaurant, limited number of rooms and 48-state membership, forwards an analysis of the governors' speeches to the Republican National Committee for study and possible action.

He and other members feel that this is a super poll of grass-roots opinion, a true "pulse of the nation."

Gov. Johnson's speech generally ignored the main cannonading of the Democrats: That the Eisenhower foreign policy has been bungled.

He chided the Democratic Congress for passing only nine of Eisenhower's 13 "must bills," despite professions of cooperation, and was upset over the blocking of Eisenhower's atomic-powered peace ship. His opinions go in the general bin, to be stirred by those who'll come up with the eventual GOP platform and maybe its candidate.

Henry Fonda, 3rd Wife Reveal 'Trial Separation'

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Henry Fonda and his third wife have announced mutual agreement on a "trial separation."

* * *

Fonda, 49, and his wife, the former Susan Blanchard, 27, were married five years ago.

The announcement, issued yesterday through a publicity firm, said Fonda returned here Tuesday from Europe, where his film work had kept him from his wife for some time.

The wife, stepdaughter of song writer Oscar Hammerstein II, will have custody of the couple's child, Amy, 2.

* * *

Fonda has two other children, Peter, 15, and Jane, 17, by his second wife, the former Frances Seymour, socialite daughter of a wealthy Colonial family. They were married 14 years. She committed suicide while under treatment at a private sanitarium for a nervous breakdown.

* * *

She had consented to a divorce from Fonda, who at that time was reported linked romantically with Miss Blanchard. Miss Blanchard became Fonda's third wife about eight months after his second wife's death. Fonda's first wife was actress Margaret Sullavan.

Wild Slingshooters

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Police said three boys ranging in age from 10 to 12 broke plate glass windows at five stores in Traverse City by firing lead pellets from sling shots. Damage was estimated at $2,500. The boys, arrested Wednesday, were turned over to Probate Court.

America's traditional gift-whiskies in decanters of surpassing beauty

JUST as America knows no finer bonded bourbons, the art world knows no more beautiful decanters than the Classic Decanter for OLD GRAND-DAD and the Presentation Decanter for OLD TAYLOR.

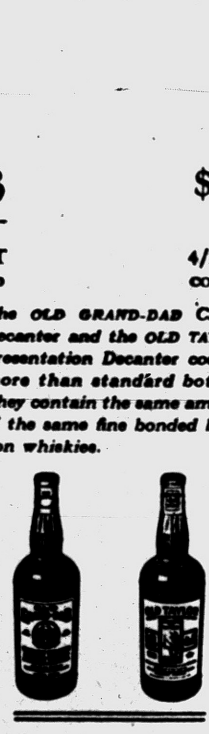

And just as your friends would have difficulty deciding which of the two deeply mellow and richly flavorsome bourbons they would prefer, so they would be hard put to judge between the distinctive beauties of the two decanters.

If you decide to make a truly handsome gift, why not favor your best friends with both these rare bourbons in their artistically perfect decanters.

Whether you give one or both, you may be sure that you can give no more flavorsome—and welcome—bonded bourbons, nor art devise decanters in finer taste.

Pick Monday for Merger Talk

County CIO Council to Discuss Aspects of Union Joining

Board members of the Oakland County CIO Council will meet Monday night at 7:30 to discuss the recent CIO-AFL merger meetings just concluded in New York.

Fred V. Haggard, president of the council, returned this week from the meetings.

He said the major effect the merger of the two organizations would have on local union affairs would be that within two years one central body instead of two must be established.

Within the county, there is presently a central labor party of the AFL and the CIO industrial council.

Haggard said the merger constitution states that in such cases both would merge into one governing body.

This local merger will be discussed at a future joint meeting between the two groups, Haggard stated.

Mules Showing Big Sales Appeal for Car Dealer

HAZARD, Ky. (AP)—Nancy is a mule with sales appeal.

When Steve Reaves decided to trade her in on a car yesterday, he drove her into town and talked to used-car dealer Steve Taulbee.

Reaves drove away in a 1946 model car and Taulbee tagged Nancy with a sign he used on his cars—"For Sale or Trade."

Joe Neace walked by the lot, saw Nancy, decided he liked her and bought her.

Commented dealer Taulbee:

"That little mule kinda has a way with people. I hated to see her go."

Ike and Cabinet Meeting Today

Chief Executive Again Motoring to Retreat in Mountains

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower planned to motor to Camp David again today for a regular meeting with his Cabinet.

Eisenhower put in a full day yesterday at the Catoctin Mountains retreat near here, including morning and afternoon sessions with the National Security Council. He left his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home for the camp, a 22-mile drive, at 8:15 a.m. and didn't get back until 4:40 p.m.

Tomorrow the chief executive motors to Washington for a medical checkup and meetings with congressional leaders next week.

In Washington the possibility that a squeeze play might sideline them for weeks while President Eisenhower delayed a second term decision apparently plagued some Republican presidential hopefuls today.

They would want to run only if the President doesn't. But they were said to feel that if Eisenhower doesn't act before early 1956 filing deadlines, they might find themselves boxed out of GOP delegate and preferential primaries.

Dependents in Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The naval transport Gen. E. D. Patrick docked at Keelung, Formosa, today with 210 dependents of officers and enlisted men of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group.

Paint-Filled Eggs Used

DENVER (AP) — Something new has been added to the arsenal of a band of vandals: eggs filled with paint. J. A. Davidek told police yesterday two such eggs were thrown at the front porch of his home. He said the vandals apparently puch a small hole in the shell, drain the egg, and fill the shell with paint.

Asking Federal Law for Plane Assaulters

LANSIN (AP) — A committee of top law officers and judges in Michigan asked Congress today to make it a federal offense to feloniously assault a passenger in an interstate airplane.

The request was made in a resolution adopted by the legislative committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, sheriffs, judges, prosecutors, State Police and the attorney general's office.

The group said the request was prompted by the death of 44 persons in Colorado when the plane in which they were passengers was blown up by a time bomb.

Federal authorities arrested a 23-year-old gas station attendant and charged him with sabotage. Later, the state charged the suspect wih the murder of his mother, a passenger on the plane.

Under present federal statutes, conviction for sabotage carries a maximum penalty of five years. The officials said there is no federal law governing felonious assault on interstate airplanes.

Ontonagon Admitted

ONTONAGON (AP) — The Copper Country Vacationist League has voted to admit Ontonagon County as a member. The league promotes the northwestern Upper Peninsula as a resort area.

Court Dismisses '37 Theft Indictment

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A grand theft indictment returned 18 years ago against Earle Hall Gordon has been dismissed.

Gordon was indicted in 1937, charged with the theft of $14,234 from a Santa Monica market he managed, but which now is out of business. He never was brought to trial. The market went through bankruptcy, and its records eventually were destroyed. Several persons connected with the case have died and possible witnesses scattered.

Gordon was arrested on the old warrant last Oct. 24. Neither the district attorney nor the sheriff's office opposed the motion for dismissal yesterday nor was any explanation given in court as to why Gordon was not prosecuted.

JOHN C. NAPLEY

Exchange Club Set to Man Army Posts

To provide Christmas baskets for the needy as well as toys for children the Pontiac Exchange Club will continue a 25-year tradition of manning Salvation Army posts in downtown Pontiac.

The club appointed John C. Napley as chairman of the campaign from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Dec. 15.

He said the entire club membership will help solicit contributions and sell copies of the Army magazine War Cry.

Other contributions made by corporations and individuals directly to the club are being forwarded to the Salvation Army which acts as a clearing house for all pre-Christmas campaigns for the needy, Napley said.

Boy, 4, Plays Santa for Less Fortunate

CHICAGO (AP) — Four-year-old Raymond Geist is guaranteed an ample supply of Christmas presents. So yesterday he played Santa Claus himself.

* * *

Raymond received a guarantee of toys each Christmas for 10 years for being the one-millionth visitor to a manufacturing company's exhibit two year's ago.

This year he told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Geist, that he wanted to give his gifts to other boys and girls "who might be missed by Santa Claus."

Yesterday he and his parents took sleds, tricycles, wagons and various other toys to the nursery of Hull House, famed West Side community settlement house.

The sponsor of Raymond's subsidized Christmases had increased his allotment and moved up the delivery date when it learned of his generosity.

* * *

Mrs. Geist, whose husband is an appliance salesman, said she believed Raymond got the idea of sharing his gifts in Sunday school.

'I Got Me Lotsa Friends,' but Judge Isn't One of 'Em

DETROIT (AP) — Gus Pearson explained he had "many friends" when federal tax agents found in his basement:

* * *

A 60 gallon copper still, 10 barrels of wiskey mash, two gallons of moonshine, 200 pounds of cracked corn, 400 ponuds of sugar and a number of empty sugar bags.

Pearson pleaded guilty to possession of an unregistered still but told Federal Judge Frank H. Picard he was making wiskey "just for friends and personal use."

He was released under $1,000 personal bond pending a presentence probation report.

Martin Funeral Today

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Funeral services were scheduled today for aviation production pioneer Glenn L. Martin with six boyhood friends as pallbearers. Martin, 69, died last Sunday in Baltimore. His first plane was constructed and flown here in 1909. The pallbearers for the services at the First Presbyterian Church are A. H. Allen, Roy Deal, Harry Hanson, George E. Lewis, Myford Irvine and Carson Smith.

Detective Guilty of Wiretapping

All-Male Jury Convicts New York Private Eye on 16 Counts

NEW YORK (AP)—Private detective John G. (Steve) Broady was convicted last night of illegal wiretapping.

* * *

An all-male jury found him guilty on 16 counts stemming from a Feb. 16 raid on a Manhattan wiretap center which had access to 48,00 to 60,000 telephones on the East Side between 36th and 96th streets. This area includes the United Nations, diplomatic establishments, fashionable homes and rich business headquarters.

* * *

He was convicted on 11 instances of specific telephone wiretapping.

Broady could be sentenced to as much as 27 years. His lawyers announced they would appeal, saying no such conviction had ever stood under appeal in New York state.

The jury acquitted Broady of one specific wiretap charge and three others were thrown out during the four-week trial.

Broady's bail was placed at $15,000. Sentencing was set for Jan. 13.

Camera Catches Christmas Capers

Christmas should be a camera fan's field day for it offers countless activities and innumerable opportunities to take memorable pictures. It's a picture series of joyful children's faces, of sparkling household decorations, of happy family gatherings and reverent solemnity that together make up the full round of holiday festivities.

* * *

Christmas is a photogenic subject which literally pursues every would-be photographer. It invades his city and neighborhood, sprinkles red and green lights on his very street then comes through the front door or window, leaving a wreath, and settles in his own home.

Christmas is a photographic target that heralds its approach weeks in advance, reaches its peak for a full day then spends another week saying farewell.

In that time almost any photographer, from talented genius to first-time novice is likely to hit several personal bulls-eyes if he or she just keeps shooting enough. Even if you shoot for a series of pictures and come out with one good one, that's still a good score.

YULETIDE MEANS PICTURES

It's hard to think of any one facet of Yuletide that doesn't bring to mind a series of pictures. The Christmas tree, for instance. It evokes a mental movie of shopping at the open lots, lugging the tree home, setting it up, trimming, lighting and setting the gifts under it. Then comes its moment of glory when the youngsters race to it on Christmas morning, its day of splendor, its week of old age and, finally, its discard.

Focus on another facet, the children. In anticipation and expectation, their halos shine brightly as they write to Santa Claus or talk to him at the department store. Comes the magic of the morning itself and a camera fan will have to get up extra early and be all prepared to catch close-ups of their expressions when they first see the transformed tree.

Then there's the hectic confusion of unwrapping their gifts followed by their immediate use whether toy or something to wear. With children, one activity follows another, indoors and outdoors, until they fall asleep with their halos slightly askew but clutching a new doll or football helmet.

* * *

These, and all the other facets of Christmas, are picture situations which can be shot as a series in home movies. At the same time, any one incident makes an effective single movie sequence or individual picture whether as a result of photographic accident or calculated choice.

This Yuletide season offers camera fans a higher percentage chance for successful pictures than ever before due to technical advances and improvements in photographic equipment and materials. New, faster films in both black-and-white and color make picture taking possible for the more economical cameras with slower lenses. Some of the new color film (three times faster for outdoor shooting) is now available for home movie cameras for the first time.

For indoor shooting, new photo light bars which hold four flood lamps are said to give enough light to shoot color movies with subjects up to 18 feet away. For closeups, another switch on the light cuts out two of the lamps.

Indoor lighting for still cameras for black-and-white and for color is no longer a major problem. There is a flash unit made for practically every camera now in a photographer's hands. And every new camera, no matter how inexpensive, can be had with its own synchronized flash unit. With flash on the camera, the camera brings its own light as it follows picture possibilities into every corner indoors.

Distance from flash to subject is the most important factor involved in indoor shooting. Especially with color, it will determine whether the results are good or bad. You must read the instructions which come with the specific film and the flash bulb you use.

* * *

Having learned the speed of your film, you find the guide number of your flash bulb from a chart on its carton. Then by simple arithmetic (divide guide number by the distance in feet) and you arrive at the correct lens opening which will insure proper exposure.

* * *

Now that you are imbued wth the proper Christmas spirit along with some photographic knowledge, how about getting started on this holiday season's picture story?

A CHRISTMAS PICTURE puts the family in focus for the season's spirit throughout the year. Here Mother does the shooting with an inexpensive flash camera.

Hollywood Headlines

Peggy Lee Is Considered for Role of Helen Morgan

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Right in Warner Brothers own backyard is Peggy Lee, who won the "most promising actress" award at the Audience Awards.

Now Peggy is being whispered as a choice for the Helen Morgan role. For years, Warners has been trying to make the Helen Morgan picture with dozens of actresses rumored, but no one qualified.

Now they have a girl who can sing and act, and while she doesn't look anything like Helen, that isn't important. She can play the part.

With just hours to spare, Fred MacMurray and June Haver will catch a plane for Las Vegas after the premiere of "Rains of Ranchipur" on Dec. 16 to attend the marriage of June's sister, Evelyn McNamara, to jet pilot Edward Dosch on the 17th.

ONE 'MISTAKE'

Jack Warner was in such fine fettle when Warners captured four out of five awards at the Audience Awards that he said, "Shows how Warners stands with the audiences. The fifth award we didn't get was a mistake, but anyone can make a mistake."

I heard at the banquet that Sarita Monteil, who with Joan Fontaine shares femme honors in Mario Lanza's picture, "Serenade," was due for another good role.

She'll have the femme lead in "Burning Hills," the Louis L'Amour story, and she'll get for her co-star Tab Hunter, who captured the award as the "most promising actor of the year."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Columnist George Skolsky's son, Eric, and Madeleine O'Donnell, niece of Bob O'Donnell, theater man, have discovered each other.

One of the happiest people at the Audience Awards was Ella Unger, widow of Arthur Unger. She has marriage plans. The lucky man is theater owner Burton Jones of San Diego who was with her.

Rosalind Russell's red Dior gown, with a "bug" hat and eye-filling necklace, also from Dior, had all the women enviously eyeing her.

Dorothy Malone was escorted by her former boy friend, Scott Brady. They went on to the Mocambo and had themselves a time.

Judy Garland told me that she and Sid Luft had come all the way in from Palm Springs. She and Doris Day and June Allyson were all very good sports and applauded loudly when Jennifer Jones won. Doris and June were at the same table.

Imogene Coca is contributing her talents to the dinner following the "Rose Tattoo" premiere for the benefit of the City of Hope.

Townsend Reported Romancing Countess

LONDON (INS) — RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend is reported without confirmation to have started a new romance after his unsuccessful attempt to marry Princess Margaret.

A London Daily Sketch columnist quoted the Duesseldorf newspaper "Neue Post" as saying that the romance is witha beautiful Dutch-Belgian countess, Aline Van Limburg.

"Peter has found happiness with Countess Aline," the paper was quoted as saying.

"Brussels and Amsterdam social circles say Peter has decided to make a speedy marriage after his love for Princess Margaret tcame to nothing."

YOU CAN'T TELL 'THE PHENIX CITY STORY' WITH KID GLOVES!

The city we show you on the screen is so incredibly wicked you can hardly believe it's real!

Look on the map. Phenix City, Alabama, is real all right. Look at its notorious 14th Street, its gaudy-lighted night spots, its noisy, dark interiors—where every marked card, every false-bottom glass, every taxi-dancer was there to fleece the sucker. You'll see the grafters, the cheaters, the crooked politicians. You'll see how lawyer Albert Patterson bucked the crime ring to run for Attorney General—and was brutally killed before he could take office.

We went to Phenix City, Alabama, to film this picture, under the protection of the State Militia, Some of the people you see in it actually lived through the reign of terror. Other roles had to be played by professional actors because the characters they portray are dead, or in jail, or hiding out—viciously waiting to bring mob rule back to Phenix City.

We don't think you'll let them—in Phenix City or anywhere else—once you see 'The Phenix City Story' in all its shocking truth!

Volunteers' Expenses Ruled Tax Deductible

Civil defense volunteers may deduct from their income taxes expenses incurred in the performance of official duties, under the terms of a ruling recently handed down by the U. S. Treasury Department.

The ruling's wording states in part that services, such as traveling in the performance of duties, ". . . constitute contributions or gifts within the meaning of section 170 of the Code of 1954 and are deductible . . ."

C. F. van Blankensteyn director of the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, advised state volunteers this week to consult the Bureau of Internal Revenue for an interpretation of the ruling.

"The cruel sea — I love it. I can see it from my bedroom window and I think it is wonderful," said Jacob Malik, Russian Ambassador to Britain, at Blackpool.

Profit Taking Restrains Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — A fair amount of profit taking at the end of an advancing week kept grains under restraint on the Board of Trade today. Losses were not large and occasionally some contracts pushed above the previous close.

Dealings proceeded at a fairly active pace. There was some early buying in March and May wheat but they quickly gave up their gains. New crop wheat futures suffered from mild liquidation at the start but soon stabilized.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅝ lower. December $2.08⅜ corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower December $1.27½; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, December 63⅛; rye unchanged to ¾ lower, December $1.12½; soybens ¼ to 1 cent lower, January $2.37, and lard 10 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $10.22.

Stocks Advance With Caution

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead today in early trading with a substantial degree of cautiousness.

Aircrafts were out in front of the rise as they were yesterday when the market was up moderately.

The rise carried prices up around a point, and losses were small with a few exceptions.

Chance Vought started on 5,000 shares up 1⅞ at 44 and then dropped back from its best. The stock has gained 6⅛ in the past two days on the strength of Navy orders and high performance of its new models.

Announce Longer Hours at Post Office Window

An extension of Post Office hours at stamp and parcel post windows will go into effect tomorrow when employes will be on duty between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr. said today.

Similar hours, with the exception of Sunday, Dec. 18, will be observed at the Huron Gardens, Perry St. No. 1 and Union Lake branches, the postmaster said.

Dean issued an appeal to mailers to ease pressure on postal employes by transacting business before 10 a.m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Two Children Perish in Blaze

Mother's Efforts to Pull Tots From Flaming Arkansas Home Fail

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Two small Negro children perished yesterday in a fire which destroyed their home while their mother held their hands through a barred but partly opened door.

* * *

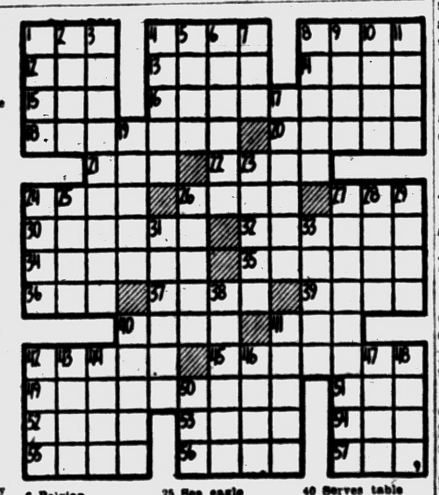

The mother, 30-year-old Mrs. Ira gett, said she had left the children, Bera, 4, and Billy Ray, 2, in the house here while she went to a neighbor's home. She said that by the time she noticed the fire, the front part of the house had collapsed. She ran to a back door, but it was bolted from the inside.

* * *

She managed to force the door enough to get her hands inside, but could open it no further. She said that she held hands with the children until the house crumbled.

She suffered burns on the hands and wrists.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Campbell said cause of the fire is unknown

Stars Sunday in 'Dream Girl'

$64,000 Question MC and Vivian Blaine Will Share Honors

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Hal March claims he's "the best publicized no-talent guy in the business."

"I still have to prove myself," March said. He was referring to his bids for dramatic roles.

* * *

March had been in show business, including radio and movies, for 18 years before he became known at the man who gives away the money on "The $64,000 Question," and now he's branching out again—toward dramatic roles, he hopes.

On Sunday, for example, he'll co-star with Vivian Blaine in the "Maurice Evans Presents" NBC-TV version of "Dream Girl."

"During the first dream sequence," March says, "I'm supposed to wear a crown. I tried it on today and it's about five sizes too small. Apparently they hadn't heard of my success."

* * *

March is both happy and unhappy about his fast and funny appearance as a punchy fighter in "It's Always Fair Weather," a picture filmed in his pre-quizmaster days. He's happy because, since acting is his first love, experts like Shirley Booth congratulated him on his portrayal.

* * *

"She told me it was one of the funniest comedy hunks she had ever seen," he said, obviously delighted. "And she doesn't even know me.

"But I wish they hadn't shrouded the whole thing in a veil of ridiculous publicity and billing.

SMALLEST ROLE

"They billed it as my first important movie role and made trailers about it. Actually it's the smallest movie role I've ever done."

* * *

The actor-turned-emcee-tunred-actor is delighted with script, cast, director and producer of "Dream Girl," however.

"I'm really living," he said, "even if I do have a 24-hour beard and a 36-hour headache. I'm enjoying every minute of it.

"As far as heavy drama is concerned, I've had lots of offers from about every big TV dramatic show and I've got a few plays lined up.

"There's also a play by a man I think is one of the best playwrights in the country — Robert Alan Aurthur — that I'm being considered for.

"It won't be produced until next fall. If I'm doing the quiz show then, they (the play) would have to go dark on Tuesdays — I mean, no show, I'd be on television. So if they don't want to, I'll have to pass it.

"But let me tell you, when I read the third act I was lying in bed, crying."

* * *

Until a producer popped the $64,000 Question to March, he also was a writer.

NO TIME TO WRITE

"Lately, I haven't done any writing at all — I just haven't had the time.

"Maybe I don't have the temperament for a writer — all the writing I've done has been for a reason. I think most dramatic writers are frustrated actors, and vice versa. I'd rather be a frustrated writer.

* * *

"I guess now you could call me a writer without a pencil," concluded Hal March, the actor.

Detective Stops Shopping Spree to Arrest Three

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Detective Oscar O'Lear started out to do his Christmas shopping yesterday but junked it to arrest a juvenile auto theft triumvirate.

O'Lear saw an elderly auto being driven by a boy so small he had to peer through the spokes of the steering wheel.

"Where did you get this car?" he asked the 14-year-old driver.

"I bought it last night for 75 cents. The guy wanted $10 but I had only six bits so he said I could pay him later."

A check by O'Lear developed that the driver had bought it from a 16-year-old, who had stolen it. Questioning implicated a third teen-ager. All three were jailed for investigation.

O'Lear's going shopping again today.

A popular belief that the golden eagle eats carrion only when live prey is not available has been challenged by wildlife experts who report instances in which carrion was eaten even while live prey was available.

Benny Practices Violin 'Just to Play Lousy'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jack Benny was being very serious—he was discussing his violin.

"Do you realize you have to practice the violin three hours a day"—he was staring me right in the eye—"just to play lousy?"

He's sawing away at his Strad that much . . . in his hotel suite here, in dressing rooms or at home when he is at home . . . because as he approaches 62, he wants all of us to know his fiddling's no gag. Jack burns to do a 1956 U. S. concert tour—even though Fred Allen once said, "Jack couldn't wet the finger of the guy who turns the sheet music for the Hoosier Hot Shots."

★ ★ ★ ★

Jack's set to do one concert here for the "Save Carnegie Hall" fund campaign.

"They could raise more money," says his friend Georgie Jessel, "if they'd change the slogan to 'Save Carnegie Hall From Jack Benny's Fiddling'."

VIRTUOSO

Jack told me of his ambition when he was toastmaster at a March of Dimes $100-a-plate dinner to Spyros P. Skouras.

To the audience he mentioned playing with the Philadelphia Symphony Sunday night.

"Me playing with the Philadelphia Symphony is the equivalent of Toots Shor being narrator on 'Omnibus'," he added.

He was in excellent form as the VIPs of Our Town honored Skouras, the ex-St. Louis bartender who became the popular boss of 20th Century-Fox.

"They told me I was the greatest comedian in the world, that without me this whole thing'd be a flop, and that they'd cancel it if I couldn't appear," related Jack.

★ ★ ★ ★

"I said, 'How about Bob Hope?'" he said.

"They said, 'We tried to get him'."

Jack maintained they considered getting Jack Warner. "He would rather tell a bad joke than make a good movie," he said. "Jack Warner often proved this. He's the head of a major studio and he envies Pinky Lee."

Introducing Mayor Wagner, Jack said, "He has the third toughest job in the U. S. First, of course, is the President, and second is the headwaiter at the Copacabana."

JANN

The Mayor neatly replied to that: "Both do better financially than I do."

That's the kind of dinner it was, neatly wrapped up by Jack, even without his violin. Georgie Jessel added something to the levity by saying when Skouras had finished his remarks, "May he live as long as his speech."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

A hot underworld tip: "Lucky Luciano's got to go! the "boys" have decided he's got to be done away with . . . L. B. Mayer wants Nashua . . . Garson Kanin watching his wife Ruth Gordon star in the hit, "The Matchmaker," from stair steps, explained, "Me get seats? At opening night prices!"

N. Y. cafe owners are moaning — there'll be no all night liquor licenses on New Year's Eve . . . Eddie and Debbie bought $10,000 worth of jewelry as Christmas gifts for friends . . . Red Buttons opens at the Miami Beach Beachcomber Dec. 20 . . . water ski champ Jann Holden is featured in a sports short at the Music Hall.

Gant Gaither took Rita Gam to a dance, then couldn't find her—she'd changed gowns during the evening . . . Bobo Rockefeller wrote a song, which'll be recorded by Orlando Robinson . . . "Scarface," the old Paul Muni movie, is currently a big hit in Paris.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Navy Quitting Search for 7 in Plane Crash

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy called off massive air searches last night for seven men missing in the crash of a P2V Neptune patrol bomber Wednesday night in two attack bombers off Oahu.

* * *

But in a limited search today two Neptunes were to take off from the naval air station at Barbers Point for the Kauai Island area and a flight of Marine Skyraiders will search 9,900 square miles south of Oahu.

* * *

The pilots are squadron mates of the missing men.

The Neptune crash was the fifth in this area in eight days. All available aircraft and surface vessels have been on around-the-clock alerts in fleets reminiscent of wartime.

The Royal Canadian Mounted police was organized in 1873. It is a civil force for enforcement of law and is maintained by the Dominion government.

Report Turncoat to Be Released

GI Traitor Seeks Exit From China; May Be Freed on Dec. 13

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Tenneson, a prisoner of war who first chose to remain in Red China and then asked to return home, may be released Dec. 13.

Aspokesman for the American Red Cross said last night a Red Cross representative will go to the contact point between Hong Kong and Red China on that date to meet him.

The spokesman, declining use of his name, said, "We have agreed by cable with the People's Republic of China to meet on the 13th of this month," when regular food parcels to American citizens detained in China will be delivered.

* * *

Mrs. Portia Howe, Tenneson's mother, said in Alden, Minn., yesterday her son had written that his release Nov. 30 had to be postponed when a Red Cross official refused to accept responsibility for receiving him.

The spokesman said Red Cross headquarters here does not know whether Tenneson was at the contract point on that date. He said American Rec Cross representative in Hong Kong had not been informed of plans to release Tenneson at that time.

Together 12 Years Without Speaking

OMAHA (AP)—A story on how two Omaha brothers—an attorney and a doctor—lived in the same house for 12 years without speaking was revealed yesterday in a will contest.

The story came out when Dr. Frank C. Karlovsky went to court to contest the will of brother James W., who died two weeks ago.

James W. Karlovsky left $1 to the doctor and rest of his $6,000 estate to a cousin, Emma Kalcik. Dr. Karlovsky's petition said Emma moved in with them in 1943 and a dispute over her presence started the long silence.

He charged Emma had "undue influence" over his brother.

Pastor Heads Union

PAWCATUCK, Conn. (AP) — The Rev. Elmer B. Naylor, pastor of nearby Wood River, R.I., Six Principle Baptist Church, last night was chosen to head Lodge 627, International Assn. of Machinists. He runs a milling machine on the night shift at the C. B. Cotrell and Sons Co. and conducts Sunday services at his church.

Ignores Own Warning

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Jones wishes someone who stole a dozen doughnuts from his bakery truck yesterday had heeded his own warning. Jones' search of the truck disclosed a metal bracelet which apparently had been torn from the thief's arm on a metal rack. It had a medallion which bore the words "stop thief."

Earliest civilization of the Egyptians included dancing and its invention was ascribed by them to their god Thoth.

Jackson Inmates Hear Home-Grown Jazzmen 'Break Up the Joint'

JACKSON (AP) — They're playing "If I Had the Wings of an Angel" with a boogie beat.

". . . Over these prison bars I would fly" comes out in hot licks when the Southern Michigan Prison jazz band lets go.

* * *

As a matter of fact, the same melody may come out in six different renditions. There are that many separate instrumental bands at the huge prison.

One is a 40-piece concert band. Another is a 16-piece dance band. The Dixieland band and progressive jazz band have 10 men each. There are also an eight-piece hillbilly group and a seven-man polka outfit.

The prison's music program does not just aim to suit the tastes of the varied inmate population. It's a way of easing tension for player and listener alike. And it's a constructive tool for prisoner rehabilitation.

Don R. Young, director of music at the prison, says nearly all the men in the various instrumental groups had musical training before they went behind bars.

Some were professional musicians who played in "name" bands. Young himself is aided by a staff of 10 inmate instructors — one of whom taught music in public schools for 18 years.

The prison also offers music for beginners. Each fall two groups of 35 men each who have had little or no musical training enroll in classes where they learn to play the instrument of their choice.

The prison itself is a far from limited area for musical performance. In the fall and winter the various bands tape-record weekly half-hour radio broadcasts. These are broadcast over one station in the state and others are being sought for additional outlets.

* * *

SMALLER GROUPS TOOT

The smaller groups play for inmates in the mental wards and shut-ins in the hospital and other cellblocks. They also toot away in special holiday programs and at inmate boxing matches.

Right now, all bands are getting ready for the annual show that is presented to inmates three times on Christmas Day. Also at Christmas time, any inmate may, for two dollars, prepare a recorded message to be sent as a gift to his family or friends. On the opposite side is a Yule song recorded by one of the inmate bands.

"Recording Day" is another highlight of the prison music program. On Friday an inmate may make a recording to be sent to friends or relatives. He may perform solo or with a group.

Chief purpose of the musical groups, Young said, is to teach the men to work together. Most, he said, have been on their own on the outside and need to learn to cooperate with one another.

Man Admits Killing Missing Illinois Pair

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP)—Clinton County authorities said early today a 34-year-old Carlyle man admitted killing a Lebanon, Ill., couple missing from their home since Nov. 27.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as Philmore Young. He was held without charge. They said he gave no reason for the double killing.

* * *

The missing couple is Harold Smith, 30, a carpenter, and his wife Arlene, 35. They were reported missing Nov. 29 after relatives noticed bullet holes in windows and a door of their blood-spattered home.

The deputies said they investigated a report several days ago that Young had been acting strangely on a country road near Carlyle early Nov. 28, several hours after the Smiths were believed to have been taken from their home.

* * *

A bloody rag was found alongside the road. The blood was the same type as that in the Smith home.

Authorities said Young five years ago was acquitted in Clinton County of murdering his wife. Since then, Young said, he had lived with his father, operator of an egg and poultry business.
