Embezzlement Charge Faces Orion Auto Man

Credit Company Claims Dealer David Dawson Owes $28,862

A Lake Orion auto dealer is charged with embezzling $28,862 from the Universal CIT Credit Corp. in a warrant ordered by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem late yesterday.

Accused is David P. Dawson, 31, operator of Dave Dawson, Inc., a Ford sales agency at 51 N. Broadway, Lake Orion.

The warrant was signed by Carl C. Broom, branch manager of the CIT office in Pontiac. CIT officials yesterday claimed Dawson owes them $87,146, although the smaller figure is specifically charged in the warrant.

The accused man is the son of Hanley Dawson, prominent Detroit Chevrolet dealer.

Under a contract between Dawson and CIT, the dealer agreed to hold new cars in trust. They were delivered to him directly from the factory and when sold he was to pay CIT, Ziem explained.

In the warrant, the credit firm lists four sedans, three station wagons, nine trucks, and one tractor, all 1955 models, which they allege Dawson sold but did not pay them for. The transactions took place between Oct. 27, 1954 and May 18, 1955, the corporation asserts.

The trust agreement stipulated that Dawson was to hold the cars at his business place, Ziem stated. "but one of his employes informed us that some cars had been moved from the lot to Dawson's residence," the prosecutor added.

"We are asking Dawson's attorney to contact him and see if he will come in voluntarily," said Ziem. "If this can't be arranged, an arrest will be ordered."

Next legal step will be Dawson's arraignment before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback.

An auto dealer in Lake Orion for the past three years, Dawson resides in a 12-room, $75,000 home located on 80 acres which he leases at 3316 E. Drahner Rd. between Lake Orion and Oxford. He has three sons.

His dealer's franchise was still in force as of yesterday afternoon. Conviction of embezzlement carries a maximum 10 years in prison and $5,000 fine.

'Air Ride' Comfort

Fast, Lightweight Train Being Constructed by GM

DETROIT (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., announced today that his company has designed and is building a lightweight, low cost, passenger train which can carry 400 passengers in "air ride" comfort reaching speeds of more than 100 miles per hour for sustained stretches.

Curtice said the train, being built at the request of railroad officials, represents a "new concept" in railroad transportation.

It will be demonstrated on all of the major railroad systems of the nation soon after it is shown to the public for the first time later this year, he said.

Curtice said GM is building the low-slung diesel-powered train at the request of a committee of railroad presidents looking for ways to reduce the chronic railroad passenger deficit estimated at 700 million dollars a year.

"General Motors has no intention of going into the railroad passenger building business," he added. "It is primarily interested in the promotion of the use of its diesel motive power, and presents the new cars as a service to its customers in the hope that they may offer a solution to the passenger deficit problem."

The GM train, consisting of 10 coaches and one-unit diesel locomotive, was described as "even more startling" than the "train of tomorrow" which GM designed six years ago. That train introduced many features which have now become standard on a number of well known American trains.

ADAPTED FROM BUS

The cars are adapted from the GMC Truck & Coach Division's 40-passenger inter-city type highway coach, with completely air-ride suspension.

Superstructures for the cars are being built at the Truck and Coach Division in Pontiac.

Doors and steps are arranged so that the entrances will serve either high or low station platforms.

2-Wheel Cars Would Relieve Crowded Roads

DETROIT (INS) — The publisher of Radio-Electronics magazine has unveiled his plan for cutting America's traffic congestion problem almost in half

Hugo Gernsback, speaking before members of the Engineering Society of Detroit, said auto manufacturers should turn out two-wheel cars that are only 60 per cent as wide as present models.

Gernsback proposed that the automobile be kept from toppling by use of a gyroscope.

Gernsback said under his plan, present-day four wheel models would not be eliminated, but kept for use as comfortable family cars.

The magazine publisher also advanced other unique ideas in the building of automobiles. One is radar-operated brakes which would eliminate human reflexes in stopping a car in an emergency situation.

Also in the future, Gernsback sees atomic-powered automobiles which would be capable of both flying and land travel.

Strike-Caused Parts Shortage Affects 60,000

UAW - Company Talks Continue; Firm's Offer Expected today

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. today closed 20 car assembly and body plants idling 60,000 workers because of what it described as strike-caused parts shortages.

National contract bargaining between GM and the CIO United Auto Workers continued, meanwhile, with every indication that the nation's largest auto firm intended to make its bid during the day to stave off a threatened strike at midnight Sunday.

It was learned that GM had made no offer to the union as yet on whether it will go along with the same contract deal that the UAW negotiated last Monday with the Ford Motor Co.

This called for a modified form of the guaranteed wage, plus pay, vacation, holiday and other concessions estimated by the UAW to be worth more than 20 cents an hour per worker. UAW President Walter Reuther said GM's 325,000 UAW workers were ready to strike Sunday night unless GM matched these demands.

GM said the shutdowns were caused by earlier wildcat strikes, in apparent protest against slowness of the national bargaining negotiations, with the walkouts shutting off parts pouring into various GM plants across the country.

John W. Livingston, UAW vice president and director of the union's GM department, said the union did not consider the shutdowns a retaliatory action on the part of the company. He said, "we realize the parts shortage gave them (GM) no other choice."

LACK OF PARTS

This lack of parts, GM said, compelled the company to close down GM Chevrolet assembly and body plants in Detroit, Flint, Bay City, and Saginaw, Mich., and in Buffalo and Tonawanda, N. Y., Indianapolis and Muncie, Ind., Toledo, Ohio, and Baltimore, Md.

GM said all the walkouts violated its expiring contract with the UAW and added, with apparent hope of a contract settlement being achieved before the Sunday night strike deadline, that all workers would be recalled Monday.

Other companies supplying parts to GM plants closed today also

Hatmaker Has Solons in Aisles

Harry Lev Spins Tale of Tangled Dealings With Armed Services

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate Investigations Subcommittee called on two unnamed witnesses for secret testimony today a half hour before resuming public hearings on military uniform contracts.

Subcommittee aides declined in advance of the closed door hearings to identify the two witnesses, or to say how their testimony might tie in with that of Harry Lev.

Lev, a Chicago hat maker, returns for his fourth day of questioning on the means by which he amassed a fortune in the manufacture of caps for the armed forces.

In a sometimes stormy and sometimes hilarious hearing yesterday, Lev conceded that patents he owns on essential parts of uniform caps for the Army and Marine Corps give him "an advantage" over business rivals.

But he swore the patents cover inventions of his own; and disputed suggestions that the ideas for them were fed to him by military procurement and research of-

Average 8.1 Per Cent Hike

Ike Signs Postal Pay Bill, Hailing Great Step Ahead

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower today signed into law an 8.1 per cent pay raise for the nation's 500,000 postal workers.

Eisenhower hailed the measure, approved by Congress Tuesday, as the "greatest forward step" for postal employes in more than a century.

The President, who had vetoed a previous bill calling for an 8.8 per cent increase, said the revised measure grants a fair pay raise to "each and every employe."

He said it will also place the wages for postal jobs in proper relationship to each other, eliminating inequities in the present law.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield promised that the new pay plan will be put into operation "promptly."

He said a general increase of six per cent will be made effective for the payroll period beginning June 16. Retroactive checks for the increase between March 1 and June 16 will be given to employes on July 15.

Summerfield said the additional increases, provided through reclassification provisions of the new law, probably will go into effect in December.

Eisenhower declared in a statement:

"The act represents a major step in the administration's personnel program of providing federal employes with a salary structure and employment benefits comparable to those available in the more progressive companies of private industry."

The bill was a compromise measure worked out on Capitol Hill after Congress sustained the President's earlier veto.

In rejecting the original bill, the President said it would have saddled taxpayers with too heavy a burden while failing to rid the postal pay scale of inequities.

Estimated annual cost of the measure signed into law is 156 million dollars. The vetoed bill would have cost the government about 179 million dollars a year.

Bonanzagram Prize May Reach $1,400

The prize is still growing for some lucky Bonanzagram winner. If no one appears with a correct solution for puzzle No. 13 by 5 p.m. Monday, a winning claim check for No. 14 will be worth $1,400.

There is still time to get the current puzzle to the Pontiac Press. Remember that entries must be brought in by 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 14, or postmarked by midnight the same day.

And don't forget that some of the missing letters have been given to make the solution easier. When completed, the word with the missing letter in the last line should be 'contrast' and the signature should read 'May East'.

The solution for Puzzle No. 13 and Puzzle No. 14 both appear on Page 25 in today's Press.

Vote Monday, Leaguers Urge

Women's Group Warns of Pressure Groups and Possible Effect

Mrs. John Borsvold, president of the Pontiac League of Women Voters, today urged everyone eligible to vote in school elections to vote in next Monday's annual election. Her statement made officially on behalf of the League, follows:

"The League of Women Voters is a national non-partisan organization made up of women interested in good government and in greater participation in government by its citizens. We of the Pontiac League are proud to be a part of this organization.

"In the coming election for the Pontiac Board of Education on June 13 we urge you to vote for the candidates best qualified.

"We believe that the American way is to select the best qualified candidate for office regardless of his religion or race.

"Please consider that a candidate sponsored and promoted by any special pressure group may be obliged to make decisions dictated by that group if he is elected.

"Consider this carefully and vote June 13."

Floridian, Frenchman Gain Links Finale

PARIS (AP) — Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., and Henri DeLaMaze of France won their way into the finals of the French Amateur golf championship today.

Bisplinghoff upset American Walker Cup team captain Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 3 and 1. LaMaze, the defending champion, defeated British Amateur champion JKoe Ccad of San Antonio, Tex., 4 and 3.

Showers Still Predicted for District Today

Sticking to a prediction of "scattered showers tomorrow" which he has made almost daily this week, the weatherman adds that skies will be cloudy and temperatures on the low side.

In a 5-day forecast for the Lower Lakes area of the state, the bureau said temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal. It is expected to be rather cool throughout the period with only minor day-to-day changes. Precipitation, in the form of showers Saturday and Sunday, will average around one half inch.

"Today, in downtown Pontiac, the mercury rose steadily from a low of 56 before 8 o'clock to 76 degrees at 2 p.m.

Parts Shortage Idles 1,600 Workers Here

GMC Truck & Coach Divison's light truck assembly line, closed down yesterday and today by a parts shortage, will resume operations Monday, a division spokesman said today.

The parts shortage, caused by a wildcat strike at a supplier GM plant, threw 1,600 employes out of work.

The remainder of GMC's 11,000 workers continued normal manufacturing operations, as did workers at Pontiac Motor Division and Fisher Body Division plants here.

Cobo May Run for Governor

Asks GOP to Wait Until January 1 for Final Answer

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit promised today to give "very, very serious consideration" to becoming a Republican candidate for governor in 1956.

He laid down two conditions.

1. That he be given until next Jan. 1 to make up his mind.

2. That he not be required to resign as Detroit mayor during the campaign, if he becomes a candidate.

Cobo was guest at a luncheon given him by Republican members of the State Legislature. He was given a petition signed by 24 senators and 33 representatives urging him to run. It was signed by all Senate Republicans and by a majority of GOP House members.

The mayor said that only a few weeks ago he would have scoffed at the idea of his being a candidate for governor, but he had decided that the governorship might afford a great opportunity to "do a job that needs to be done.

"It seems to me that in the governorship there lies a real opportunity to do a job. I would never want to be governor just to be governor; I would want to be governor only to get things done. A year or two ago I would not have thought the governorship offered much chance to do things—being aware of constitutional limitations on a governor's authority which contrasted to our local 'strong mayor' form of government. But I have now become convinced there would be an opportunity."

Allow Pictures in Courts, Brownell Urges Judges

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—U. S. Atty. Gen. Brownell has urged that press photographers be given "their day in court" to demonstrate the ease and discretion with which courtroom pictures can be taken.

"I know you can do it," he told the annual convention of the National Press Photographers Assn. here last night.

"In fact, I am recommending to the chairman of the American Bar Assn. committee that a model courtroom be set up at its forthcoming meeting in Philadelphia so that press photographers can show their stuff; to show that this kind of press photography can be done and protect the interests of justice for all concerned."

Brownell frequently referred to a rule of the ABA, Canon 35, which forbids the taking of photographs in the courtroom during proceedings. Fourteen states have adopted the rule.

"Freedom of the press," he said, "depends on free and constitutional institutions such as an uncoerced court and judicial integrity.

"One of the means of assuring independence to judges is a free press. Both are indispensable for a free society and for its government."

Even as Brownell spoke, photographers worked silently and unknown to him, taking pictures with small cameras and without flash bulbs.

Aviation, Press Free in Austria

Allied Council Agrees to Lift Restrictions on Government

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Big Four occupation powers today lifted all bans on civil aviation in Austria, thus permitting Austria to build up an air fleet of its own.

In other actions, the four-power Allied Council for Austria also:

1. Removed all restrictions on the Austrian press.
2. Eliminated a requirement that the Austrian government submit certain laws and ordinances to the four powers before they go into effect.

* * *

The new alleviations of the occupation of Austria followed signature of the Austrian treaty of independence by the Big Four May 15. Sometime this year, Austria is expected to be free of occupation troops and all Big Four control and the Allied Council decisions today were in step with this.

The air decision will permit Austria to start immediately setting up commercial airlines, if it desires. According to reports in Vienna, the Austrian state will run the nation's airports, but an Austrian airlines company will be left to private finance.

* * *

Abrogation of the press decree removes the right of the Big Four powers to ban newspapers or magazines to which they have objections. The original decree provided that the press should "maintain democratic principles and fight nazism, pan-germanism and militaristic ideology and doctrines." It also forbade the press from printing anything that would endanger the military security of the occupying powers, disrupt unity among the Allies or threaten public order.

In its third action, the Council said Austria need only submit for review constitutional laws and international agreements with foreign states.

Jeannie Suspect Flunks Lie Test

KALAMAZOO (AP)—State Police Detective Sgt. Victor Beck said today a 29-year-old man "failed to pass a lie detector test during questioning about the kidnap-rape slaying of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Beck, of the Paw Paw post, said the polygraph indicated the man was lying when he said he was innocent.

As a result, Beck recommended that the man be detained "and that an exhaustive investigation be made of his every activity on the day of her (Jeannie's) kidnaping."

Beck also recommended that the man be subjected to further tests.

Beck said the sandy-haired man had admitted attempting to entice young girls into his car the day Jeannie disappeared.

The crippled Kalamazoo girl's raped, strangled body was found June 1 in a field 18 miles from her home. She had been missing since May 23.

Candy Makers Over Billion in 1954 Sales

WASHINGTON (UP)—The average American ate 16.5 pounds of candy last year.

The Commerce Department reported today that U.S. candy makers chalked up a record $1,019,000,000 in sales in 1954. But the poundage of candy sold was less than in 1953.

The price of candy was generally higher last year, because of an abrupt rise in cocoa bean prices and the price of chocolate products made from them, the report said.

Police Conduct Search for Missing Boy, 11

Pontiac Police today searched for 11-year-old Robert Pearson Fisher, 460 E. Edith St. who has not been seen since early yesterday.

The boy's mother told officers the boy had not been to school all day, and was last heard of at the Forest Lake Country Club.

Courthouse Building Panel Picks Delegation

The special Oakland County courthouse building committee yesterday named a three-man delegation to meet with spokesmen for a group which opposed construction of a new courthouse in the county service center on North Telegraph road.

The committee held its first meeting since being named May 24 by Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Floyd Andrews.

The group is charged with working out a plan for constructing an adequate legal building. Voters last year twice turned down extra tax millage needed to put up the structure.

A group of Pontiac men, including attorney Glenn C. Gillespie, opposed locating the building outside the city as planned. Special committee chairman Willis M. Brewer yesterday named Harold K. Schone of Oak Park; Harry W. Horton, of Royal Oak; and W. Raymond Ransom, of Pontiac, to meet with Gillespie.

Brewer said the group hopes to set up a citizens committee to help "arrive at a workable plan." David Levinson, of Birmingham, was elected committee secretary.

Area Man Pleads Guilty to Indecent Liberties

Robert J. Braid, 63, of 110 Eagan Dr., Lake Orion, yesterday pleaded guilty to taking indecent liberties and Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for June 20.

Braid admitted making improper advances to a nine-year-old girl last April 21, said Assistant Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue.

Urge Opening Kenya to Native Settlers

LONDON (AP)—The fertile highlands in Kenya Colony, scene of the Mau Mau terror, should be thrown open to rental to Africans and Asians, says a Royal Commission.

The rich highlands are now exclusively the reserve of the 40,000 white settlers in Kenya.

In return, a Royal Commission on East Africa said yesterday in a formal report, the white settlers should be permitted to lease land in native reservations now closed to Europeans.

Parole Woman Jailed in Land Fraud Deals

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Lois Moon Ley of Muskegon was paroled by the State Parole Board yesterday from a prison sentence imposed for participation in a State Highway Department right-of-way fraud.

A real estate dealer, Mrs. Ley was sentenced last June 18 to 1½ to 5 years in the Detroit House of Correction but did not begin her term until last December.

The board said it had released Mrs. Ley ahead of her minimum sentence with approval of Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox of Muskegon, who sentenced her, because she had made full restitution of $36,000 because she had a good prison record and because she has agreed to help clarify abstracts and titles left confused by her offense.

She will remain on parole for five years.

Police Locate Auto Used to Steal Safe

A new car, taken to transport a safe containing $1,000 in cash and checks stolen from a Lake Orion auto agency, was recovered yesterday, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

The safe, taken during a breakin Wednesday night at L. C. Anderson Inc., 209 S. Park St., was not recovered.

Lake Orion Police recovered the car about three miles west of the village at Indianwood and Baldwin Rds.

Hazen said the thieves apparently decided to take the car after an attempt to open the safe with an acetylene torch was unsuccessful.

In two other breakins, at the Lake Orion Motor Sales and the Nutt Manufacturing Co., thieves netted only about $8.

Nashua Tops Eleven Entries for Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Nashua, the Preakness champion, headed an unexpectedly large field of 11 three-year-olds named today for Saturday's running of the Belmont Stakes, third jewel in racing's triple crown.

With this field going in the mile and half test, the value of the race is $122,800 with $86,700 going to the winner.

Dark horse in the race is Jabneh, a mystery colt who changed owners overnight. Jabneh was purchased from Laudy Lawrence, an American living in Paris, by Mrs. Eugenia Bankhead.

Others nominated were: Barclay Stable's Blazing Count, Clearwater Stable's Portersville, J. M. Seider's Uncle Gus, C. V. Whitney's Little Dell, King Ranch's Retamero, Howard Winstein's Mr. Al L., A. B. Gay's Courtship and the two-horse entry of the Cain Hoy stable, Flying Fury and Rajput.

The Day in Birmingham

12 Will Receive Awards at YMCA Annual Meeting

BIRMINGHAM—Presentation of an American Flag, a talk on India, introduction of the new youth activities director and distribution of awards will highlight the ninth annual meeting of the Birmingham YMCA Monday at 7:45 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Y.

The Flag will be presented to the Y by Mrs. Ruby Howard and a drill team from the American Legion Auxiliary. Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary of the Y, will receive the gift.

Dr. John Ormond—recently returned from India—will illustrate his talk on India with color slides. The new youth director, George Ewing, will be introduced at a reception following the meeting.

The awards will be made to 12 people. They are jewelled pins and are being presented to the 12 for the job they did in signing up a total of 750 Y members.

Those who will receive awards include William C. Gordon, Arthur Blakeslee, John Slater, Harold Kalbfleisch, Ted Appel, Wayne Mortimer, Everett Allen, Roland Erickson, Ernest Robison, Del Ingram, Warren Neville and Charles Thurston.

A total of 32 students from this area received degrees this month at commencement exercises at various colleges and universities in Michigan. Twenty were graduated from Michigan State College, four each from the University of Detroit and Albion College, three from Marygrove and one from the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Some residents of Oakland, Madison, Rivenoak, Kennesaw and Mohegan, in Birmingham's northeast section have formed a new organization, known as the Highland View Home Owners Association.

Donald L. Collins, 1095 Kennesaw, was elected president. He said the primary purpose of the organization is to protect all property in the subdivision from loss of value through sub-standard building or due to commercial or other encroachment.

The immediate problem facing the group is the proposed construction of a shopping center at Adams and Derby road, Collins said. The Derby Junior High School is being built on a site adjacent to the spot where the proposed center is to be built.

Bob Hohmeyer and Jay Lewis were elected president and vice president, respectively, of the Birmingham High School Student Congress. Carole Negri was elected secretary and Sandy Skinner, treasurer.

Appointments to the staffs of the school's Piper and Highlander for the fall term included: Ann Gardner, editor of the year book; Judy Van Rosen, editor of the Highlander, and Betty Milligan, advertising manager.

Wynifred Wagner was named business manager for all publications; Dick McHugh and Hank Burdick were appointed sports editors for the Highlander, and Tom Halsted and Frank Mabley, photographers.

Mark VerWiebe

Rosary for Mark VerWiebe, 4, of 4641 McEwen Drive, Bloomfield Township, will be recited at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Huntoon Funeral Home, Pontiac. The service previously had been scheduled for 8 p.m. The child was killed in an auto accident Wednesday.

Judge Attends Reunion

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty is in Ann Arbor today attending the 50th anniversary of his University of Michigan Law School class.

Zhukov to Keep Up Ike Correspondence

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi Zhukov says he hopes to keep up his "very nice exchange" of letters with President Eisenhower, whom he described as an old military friend.

The Soviet defense minister made the statement at a gay British Embassy garden party in honor of Queen Elizabeth's birthday. Premier Nikolai Bulganin wa salso there and tossed off a number of toasts with British Ambassador Sir William Hayter.

Zhukov was in a cheerful mood as he chatted with reporters. He was asked what was in the correspondence, which Eisenhower confirmed at a news conference, in Washington on April 27.

"We have agreed for the time being not to reveal the contents of our correspondence," Zhukov replied.

Warm Penguins Testy at Delays in Trip to U.S.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Six disgruntled penguins, shipped from Lima, Peru, arrived yesterday for the local zoo and promptly started biting hands.

Apparently miffed at a delay that kept them in Mexico City three weeks while congressional interveners persuaded an air line to bring them to Fort Worth without escort, the birds were in a surly mood.

Among those pecked were a zoo curator, park board official, airline hostess, and Ed Willems, Chicago, representative of Kaiser Aluminum, the firm which donated the birds to the zoo.

About 65 per cent of the 1,000 employes at a U. S. Army Ordnance rebuild shop at Boeblingen, Germany, are refugees from countries now behind the Iron Curtain.

Mason's Kin Must OK Reburial Under Capitol

DETROIT (AP) — Two collateral descendants of Stevens T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, must give their consent before Mayor Albert E. Cobo will permit Mason's remains to be moved from Detroit to Lansing.

A 3-member special committee of the State Senate called on Cobo yesterday with a request that he allow the remains to be buried beneath the State Capitol.

Drinks on House for Worthy Cause

OFFUTT AIR BASE, Neb. (INS)—Enlisted men at Offutt Air Force Base may have been startled when Air Police began offering free drinks of whisky but most of the airmen accepted when they learned it was for a "worthy cause."

It was part of an Air Force program to prove to the men that driving and drinking don't mix.

The results were recorded by an electronic gadget called the "Photo Clinic" which measures individual reaction time.

The Air Police demonstrated to the airmen that a normal reaction time of .28 seconds was slowed to .45 seconds after a couple of shots of whisky. After a couple of more shots, reaction time dropped to .55 seconds, almost twice as long as under normal conditions.

The famous Leaning Tower of Pisa was started in 1174 A. D. and began to list long before its completion in 1350 A. D.

Works as Machinist Although He's Blind

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UP)—Raymond Koier of Randolph is a skilled machinist who operates lathes and other intricate machinery as well as his co-workers although he is blind.

In working at his lathe, Koier uses a braille micrometer. This is a standard instrument with raised lines and dots which enables him to measure to a thousandth of an inch.

* * *

Koier, who came to Vermont with his wife from New York city in 1945, was blinded shortly after arriving. After a business venture failed and he was laid off by a local manufacturer, he enrolled in the state vocational school, division of services for the blind.

* * *

From the course Koier learned his present skills and shortly after completing the course was employed as a drill press operator.

Seek Better Method of Hog Slaughter

CHICAGO (UP) — The meat industry is continuing its campaign to make hog slaughtering easier on the animals.

Industry experts are trying to find a replacement for the mallet, used to stun pigs before the actual killing.

Aled P. Davies, director of the department of livestock of the American Meat Institute, said electric shock for stunning was seen as a possible solution.

However, the meat inspection branch of the agriculture department ruled out the method.

"The electrical stunning method caused pathological changes in hogs which made it impossible for the federal meat inspectors to determine the true condition of the animals," Davies said.

Davies said the meatpacking industry is "determined to continue its efforts to improve of dispatching hogs, bearing in mind its humanitarian responsibilities."

Mechanical Hearts Seen for Surgery

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The next major development in the comparatively new field of heart surgery probably will be mechanical hearts capable of reliably maintaining circulation during long operations.

This is the forecast of Dr. Mary B. Olney, clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Such devices, now in the experimental stage, will increase the number of congenital heart and blood vessel defects which can be corrected successfully.

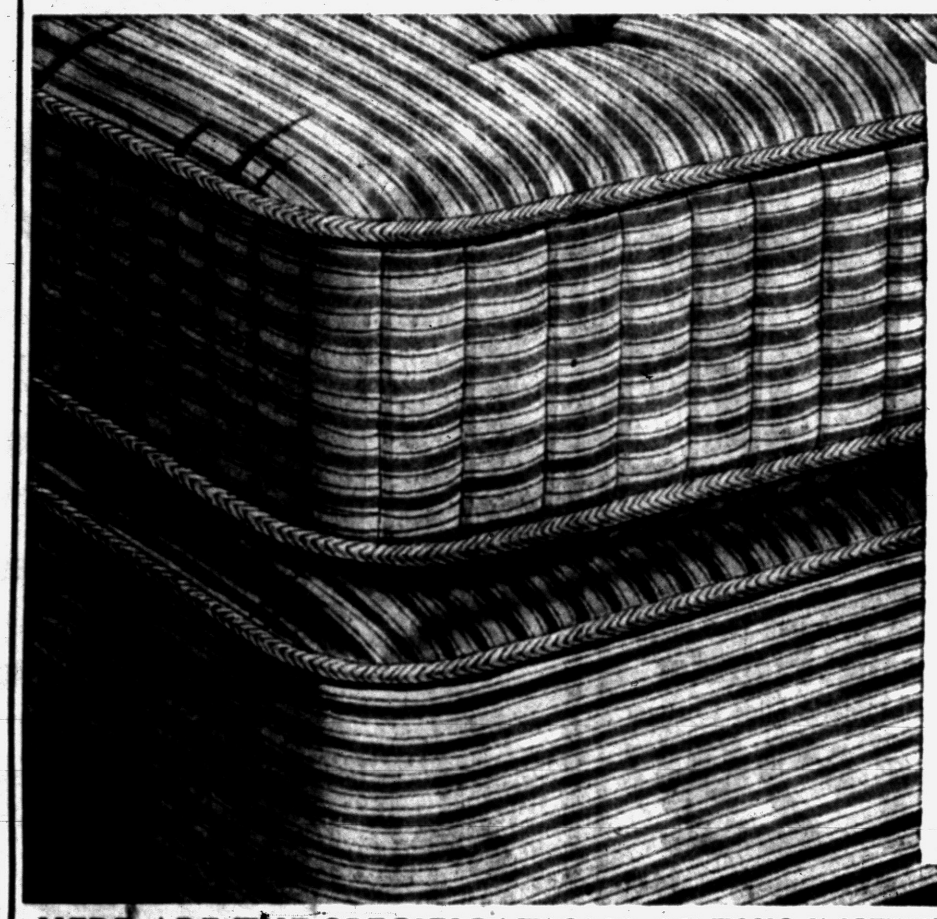

Dr. Olney said other lines of research in congenital heart disorders are aimed at discovering their causes and producing them in laboratory animals. This basic research may make it possible to prevent many of these mistakes of nature, and to predict more accurately the possibilities of treatment.

Bob Considine Says:

Save Money in France--Go to Yellowstone

NEW YORK (INS) — So many prospective travelers to Paris this summer have been warned about the high cost of things there that the French government tourist office has returned an indignant "non!" in the form of a white paper entitled "Six Easy Ways to Save Money in France This Summer."

* * *

Before we get into the six easy ways, the title somehow reminds me of a story about the business acumen of a dear lady friend of mine names Toots Shor, the democratic publican.

An efficiency expert in his organization once reported to him, "Toots, if you close your joint on Sundays you can save $500."

Toots was immediately interested. "Great," he said. "How about closing it seven days a week and saving $3,500."

FRENCH ARE FUNNY

In other words, a trip aboard, I've found, is one of the least likely ways of making money, or saving it. But the French tthey are a funny race. So here it is in six easy lessons from Madam Lazonga:

1.—Pay many of your major expenses — notably hotel and transportation — through a travel agent before you leave the U. S.

This will prevent your running short towards the end of your trip. Also, you can better judge how to divide the rest of your money among sightseeing, entertainment, souvenirs, etc.

2.—Get to know life in the small towns and villages of the provinces. The real French flavor, customs and celebrations can be seen best in places often neglected by tourists, and at much lower prices.

3.—For a long journey, team up with friends and rent a car.

4.—Know the facts about tipping. It is as incorrect to overtip as to undertip. (Ed. note: I've never seen a French waiter object to the former misdemeanor.)

In many restaurants and hotels you will find that a service charge has been added to the bill. When this is done, you do not have to leave anything extra, except if someone has preformed a special service for you. (Ed. note: Like serving the food on a plate.)

Other tipping hints:

(A) When tipping (Ed. note: And breathing) is necessary, leave 12-15 per cent of the total.

(B) It is customary to give 50 francs per person (14 cents) to the usher at the theater.

(C) Tip not less than half of what you would tip in the U. S. for luggage handling at air terminals, railroad stations etc.

(D) Never tip a customs officer.

USE THE SUBWAY

5.—Save on transportation within Paris. Use the metro and buses wherever possible. French government tourist offices in New York, Chicago, New Orleans San Francisco, Los Angeles and Montreal can supply you with folders telling you how to travel by bus and subway in Paris.

(Ed. note: Actually, the visitor to Paris saves time traveling by means other than taxi. You get in a taxi at the TWA office and say "Hotel Ritz." The man at the wheel regards you as someone from outer space, speaking a language composed of undecipherable dots.)

"Comment?" he says. "Hotel Ritz," you repeat. He scratches for a time and repeats "Comment?" This goes on for perhaps 20 minutes, while the motor overheats and the radiator boils over. Then, in sudden and happy comprehension, he says, "Ah, Hotel Ritz," exactly as you've been saying it—and off you go.)

6.—Buy a Michelin guide. The Michelin, which retails in the U.S. for $3.75, is the most comprehensive guide to France ever written, giving prices and ratings of hotels, restaurants and sights to see in every community in the country.

The 1955 edition features an innovation which will be of especial interest to budget-minded tourists: A selection of 74 restaurants which serve good meals for less than 700 francs, which is about two bucks.

(Ed., note: There's one other way to save money in France, Italy, Switzerland, etc., etc., etc., etc., this year: Go to Yellowstone.)

Pontiac Woman Is Found Guilty in Robbery Case

Mable Sheck, 46, of 122 Lafayette St., was found guilty of robbery unarmed by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury yesterday, according to Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang.

She was charged with helping plan a $973 robbery of a Pontiac man in a local bar last Feb. 11. Judge George B. Hartrick set sentencing for June 20.

Duke of Edinburgh Is 34; Spends Day With Family

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, was 34 years old today.

The Duke planned to spend the day quietly at Buckingham Palace with his wife and their two children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

The first school in America was founded by the Dutch West India Company in 1633 on Manhattan Island.

Assets 'Unfrozen'

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Lillian Mofield's "frozen assets" were liquidated by a thief. She told police someone stole $130 from her home while she was out. She had kept the money in a can in the refrigerator.

Finnegan Urges Reform of Jail Release Policy

Municipal Judge Finnegan appears to be on solid ground in seeking an investigation of the manner in which weekend prisoners are being released from Oakland County Jail.

In his written request to Prosecutor Ziem, Judge Finnegan made two things clear. He isn't criticizing Sheriff Irons. Instead, he commends that official for the manner in which he is correcting abuses.

The Judge also emphasizes the fact that his sole aim is to end the inequalities and irregularities occurring in the release of prisoners.

Besides objecting to solicitation by bondsmen, Judge Finnegan says a prisoner now can be released by a judge or justice merely phoning the jail, if a suitable bond is furnished. As he interprets the law, he says that such releases can be made legally only after the prisoner has been arraigned.

The Judge's letter also emphasizes that he isn't suggesting that a weekend prisoner must always remain in jail until Monday morning. He believes the matter of release should be in the hands of the arresting law officer.

It also is his opinion that the majority of prisoners could be released on personal bonds without having to pay "tribute" to professional bondsmen. In any event, Judge Finnegan contends, bonds never should be larger than the maximum penalty for the offense charged.

It is good to know that Judge Finnegan has the complete support of Sheriff Irons in seeking a fair and equitable release policy. In the public interest the Judge's request deserves consideration and Ziem's pledge of prompt action indicates that a full investigation will be forthcoming.

Ike Suffers Setback in Minimum Wage Vote

Senate approval of a bill to increase the U. S. minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour was no surprise but it was a setback for the Administration.

There never has been any doubt that Congress would increase the present rate. The only question was by how much. Naturally there was wide variation of opinion on this point. The AFL and CIO wanted $1.25 and several House Democrats introduced bills calling for that rate.

In his State of the Union message President Eisenhower urged a 90 cent rate plus expanded coverage. Labor Secretary Mitchell, who also urged a raise, said the law's present coverage of 24,000,000 workers should be expanded by 2,200,000.

Pressure has been strong at both ends of Capitol Hill for the $1 rate. The Senate's Labor Committee already had approved it overwhelmingly. At the other end of the Capitol the House Labor Committee is holding minimum wage hearings. Latest news is that the committee will follow the example set by the Senate and approve the increase to $1.

On April 26 the President pointed out that since the 75 cent minimum was set, the cost of living had advanced to a point justifying a raise to 86.4 cents. He therefore argued that 90 cents would be a logical and safe new rate.

Representatives of many small businesses, particularly in the South, have argued that any increase above 90 cents would place an undue hardship on them. But next year's election is rearing its head over the Washington horizon. So it is not surprising that the Democratic majority in Congress is determined to top the figure set by President Eisenhower.

Depression in Trieste

All is far from well in Trieste.

In fact conditions since the return of the port city to Italy aren't anything like Italians had expected. Ever since the GIs and British Tommies left last year business has been going from bad to worse.

★ ★ ★

Today this once flourishing port is in the grip of a full scale depression. This is more easily understood when it is realized that up to the time our troops left last October, the U.S. was pouring $10,000,000 a month into the city. Salaries, wages for local labor and purchases by the 4,000 U.S. soldiers and their families made up this sum.

Another $5,000,000 a month was accounted for in similar expenditures by the 3,000 British troops. Withdrawal of trade amounting to $15,000,000 a month would be a devastating blow to any city of 300,000.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the troops' departure, Trieste is suffering because of its dependence on its well equipped port. That port, says U.S. News & World Report, has not been much used since before World War I. Eastern Europe now is behind the Iron Curtain and Central Europe prefers to ship through Genoa.

Triestines think their problems could be solved by making the whole territory a free customs zone. Most Italian parties favor this plan but Communists' enthusiasm for it makes its adoption unlikely.

Grant Established for Soil and Plant Research Activity

So, just as a hint to the U. of M., there's a sentimental reason for doing that research work in this area.

Still a Few Frontiers Left

Wife Fails to Recognize Family Budget Progress

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Perhaps a little of every family's budgetary frustrations are summed up in a case history submitted by a housewife in Ohio, who expresses great disappointment with results.

* * *

The fundamental error which the woman reader makes is that she fails to remember the simple truth that no family income contains more than 100 percentage points.

Thus, each time a decision is made to spend for intangibles, which take care of deferred needs such as ill health and old age, less is left for current necessities and luxuries.

"I am so discouraged about our budget," this family purchasing agent writes. "We seldom have money for recreation. We can never manage to buy curtains, rugs, furniture, bedding as needed, and I have remodeled and 'made do,' thinking for years that this was only temporary. But now I guess it will be this way forever."

GIVES A CLUE

The husband, making more than average wages, supports his wife, two young children, and himself. In addition, the detailed budget submitted shows substantial allowances for insurance, savings and investments.

* * *

This perhaps gives the clue to why some of the neighbors, with no more income, appear to be living better. The neighbors are probably skimping on savings, investment and insurance, living it up at the moment at the expense of poverty in the more remote future.

The discouraged housewife is a member of a family with $20,000 of life insurance on the breadwinner, and $500 each on the other three members of the family.

The family, in addition to buying a car on the installment plan and paying off the home mortgage, has accumulated $370 in cash, and invests $15 a month in shares of the employing corporation, which after five years will add 50 per cent to the funds accumulated by the employe. The housewife says that the stock fund will eventually be used to finance the education of the two children.

NOT DOING BADLY

Thus, while there is little surplus for splurging, and not enough for out-of-town vacations, much entertainment, fancy clothes, or funds for liquor and smokes, the family is not doing badly, particularly since the husband has had a promotion on the job.

* * *

One of the gripes is that the housewife can only afford a babysitter two or three times a year. Some women, in similar circumstances, meet this problem of undue confinement in the home by introducing community cooperation.

Three or four housewives in the neighborhood form a group, and take turns in acting as sitters, bringing the children to a common home while the mothers not on duty are free to go to the movies, play cards, or otherwise seek recreation.

The housewife complains that she has no television, but the family does have a car and is buying a home. Unless the husband finds a motor car indispensable in order to hold his job, it could be that this family is sacrificing too many things to own a car.

* * *

If a car is needed, perhaps the budgetary strain could be relieved by switching to an inexpensive used car. Possibly the impact of operating the car on the family budget could be relieved by creating a car pool, such as was common in wartime.

ETERNAL HOPE

Of course, the housewife gives the key to the matter. She writes: "This looks like a miserable existence on paper but you'd be surprised how happy I usually am. Hope springs eternal!"

* * *

It's not, however, merely a matter of wishful thinking.

This solid family would feel more content if it recognized that in its stock purchase plan, its life insurance, its insurance against accident, ill health and hospitalization, its steady increase of its equity in a home, and its paying off of instalment obligations on a car, it is making some progress.

If the housewife wants a little more gracious living, including more fun, she should explore the possibility of expanding the family income by earning something herself either in part-time employment or sewing or other homework.

If the children are young, perhaps they could spend a few hours a day in a community nursery while mother is working.

Since mothers of young children have reason for wanting to stay close to the home, one item in the budget for re-examination would be the item of $40.50 a month for drycleaning, shoe repairs and haircuts. If necessary, some of this could be done on a self-help basis right in the home.

'Puzzled' Wonders How Some People Hope to Combat Juvenile Delinquency

I don't know how some People expect to help the problem of child delinquency.

My husband and our 15-year-old daughter were enjoying a game of catch in our own yard and the ball went into another yard. My daughter went across the line fence to retrieve it and the lady really jumped on the girl's neck just because she had to put her foot on the fence.

The girl's father was only trying to keep the girl contented by playing ball with her. He was doing his part to help curb delinquency and got scolded for doing it.

David Lawrence Says:

Small Business Soon Will Face Crisis in Pay Guarantee for Work Not Done

WASHINGTON — The mood of a nation is not readily felt after a long absence, but it takes only an elementary knowledge of the economics of American life to perceive that the country has not waked up to the implications of the current controversy over the guaranteed wage.

* * *

The vast power of a labor union monopoly, which can hold up a whole industry unless its demands for money are met, was never more conspicuously demonstrated than in the negotiations between the unions and the auto companies.

The companies have no choice but to accept the program laid down — with costly strikes as the alternative. Under the new agreement, only 60 to 65 per cent of the regular wages are as yet to be paid by the auto companies when their employes are idle, and there are other limitations.

But anyone who can read between the lines knows that the next move will be to raise it to 100 per cent. A start has been made in America toward huge payments for work not done.

IDEA NOT NEW

The idea that a labor union can demand payment for its members for services they do not perform is not a new one. It has been the source of many invisible increases in the costs of production in past years, and it has resulted in many an upward rise in prices.

* * *

The average observer may consider that the automobile industry is comprised of some companies which can well afford to pay idle men. In a sense, the payments will look logical because much of the unemployment is caused by a rearrangement of schedules of production when new models are introduced.

But the public is going to have to pay for the increased costs. The price of automotive transportation, which at one time was steadily reduced by means of quantity production, is now steadily rising and will continue to rise if a labor monopoly has its way.

The real damage will not be done to such successful companies as Ford, General Motors and Chrysler. It will hit the smaller companies hard, and nobody has come forward with a plan to keep them in competition and on a solvent basis if labor unions require them, as they inevitably will, to make similar payments.

STATE FUNCTION

Unemployment compensation has hitherto been handled as a state function, and as a form of relief paid for by all employers and by industries generally. The new development is that each company is being compelled by labor-union coercion to supplement the customary unemployment insurance with added contributions that are to come out of the pockets of the individual companies.

* * *

The problem of what to do about the marginal businesses in America is growing more and more perplexing. It does little good to say that the antitrust laws may be counted upon to keep the larger units from swallowing the smaller ones. If mergers are prohibited, the mortality of the smaller businesses will grow and more unemployment will result.

The competitive system in America has always been praised because no combination of competitors is allowed to fix prices or to regulate or control sources of supply.

But, when the smaller companies are forced out of business by a wage-fixing pattern that is applied uniformly to an industry, the labor-union monopoly helps to abolish competition just the same as if the companies themselves regulated the conditions under which their competitors could operate.

UNIONS EXEMPT

To impose onerous conditions and costs on a competitor is a violation of the antitrust laws for management, but not for labor-union monopolists.

* * *

This is because the political influence of the unions has been adequate to obtain from Congress a special privilege — the immunity of labor-unions from prosecution under antitrust laws no matter how much they may perform acts that are in "restraint of trade".

The automobile industry is the largest in the nation and is a kind of bellwether. Whatever the auto companies do is reflected in the attitudes of other companies which supply materials or parts. Beyond this, the pattern is before long applied to other major industries.

The end result of what is happening is likely to be an inflationary price rise and a steady devaluation of the dollar over the long range. And the possibility of state socialism coming in to pay out unemployment and other benefits in a so-called "welfare state" is growing.

* * *

There seems to be a complacent and acquiescent attitude on the part of the public toward the payment of money for work not done and toward the idea of letting labor costs rise without any corresponding increase in productivity. It's a trend that gives cause for anxiety as to the ultimate effect on the economic future of America.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teenage Girl's Suitor Enlists in Army When She Tells Him She Is Pregnant

Bernice shows the end result that Marilyn might have reached, if she had let her boy friend browbeat her into submitting to illicit sexual affairs. Use these case records for discussion in your Sunday School classes, for they give you the plain fact from which you can come to logical moral conclusions.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-353: Bernice G., aged 19, is an office stenographer.

"Dr. Crane, I am about to lose my mind with worry," she began and started crying.

* * *

"I don't know where to turn or what to do. For I am going to have a baby.

"I've been going with a boy in my town for the last year. He said he loved me and kept insisting that I prove my love for him.

"Well, I told him it was wrong, but he kept insisting I didn't love him unless I proved it. He said he would never marry me unless I first proved my love for him.

"Well, I finally gave in. But as soon as I told him I was going to have a baby, he grew cold toward me.

* * *

"He told me I was dumb and that I couldn't expect him to help me for he didn't love me.

"Now he has left town and I don't know where to find him. Some of his friends told me he joined the Army.

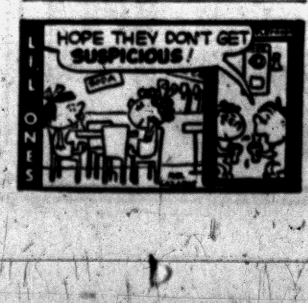

"I'll not be able to keep my job very long. And my parents will be crushed, for they've always been proud and had planned for me to go to college in a year.

"What can I do next? I feel like committing suicide."

PROOF OF THE PUDDING

This is the type of end result that follows cases such as Marilyn's, which I have described at some length this week.

Young fellows are often so afflicted with boyhood inferiority complexes, that they will stampede like sheep in trying to appear grown up or big shots.

That's why teenagers are so vulnerable to the high pressure liquor and tobacco advertising.

* * *

For the skilful advertising experts know they can compel youth to do almost anything if they make such behavior appear he-mannish or typical of big shots.

START SMOKING

Boys thus start smoking cigarettes and overcome the initial distaste or nausea of tobacco, because their basic wish to look like big 21-year-olds when they are still in their teens.

They swill down hard liquor for the same reason and in juvenile rivalry try to see who can drink the most. They actually brag about such things! For they think this makes them seem big men!

By the same token, after hearing a lot of salacious talk from blabber mouthed older men, they think it is also a mark of distinction to seduce girls.

* * *

They may have no sincere affection for the girl at all and may then desert her as Bernice's boy friend did.

Cigarettes, liquor and sexual affairs are the modern badges of the immature male with an inferiority complex who wants to "prove" the adult stature.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

Girls, if a man doesn't love you enough to prove it by acting like a gentleman and by buying you a wedding ring and marriage license beforehand, write him off as a juvenile who wants to use you, as he does his tobacco and liquor, to inflate his boyish ego into adult size.

And don't get dismayed by fearing you may lose him if you don't submit. You don't lose much anyway when you have such a juvenile suitor.

Besides, you can be quite happy even if you never marry, for wives don't hold a "corner" on feminine happiness.

* * *

It's better to be single than the wife of a no-count husband. So send for my "Rating Scales for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Tonsillectomy Can't Help Children With Allergies

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Medical or health authorities (of whom I am not one) estimated fifteen years ago that 1,235,000 tonsillectomies a year were "performed" in the United States.

Drs. Hansel and Chang estimated (archives of Otolaryngology, Jan. '40) that 160,000 of the annual one and a quarter million tonsillectomies were unnecessary.

They believed that, in the absence of hay fever and asthma, nasal allergy and allergic bronchitis frequently eluded diagnosis and that tonsillectomy was often recommended because allergic symptoms were mistaken for those of infectious origin.

Children with nasal allergy, allergic "sinus' trouble or allergic bronchial trouble are not benefited by tonsillectomy.

TEACHES TRUTH

Don't snarl at me, tonsil snatchers. I'm merely trying to teach people the truth, as told by recognized medical authorities.

* * *

I do hope neither Dr. Hansel nor Dr. Chang has changed his mind about it in the intervening years, as a Birmingham health authority did about rabies after he had concluded that "rabies is primarily a veterinary problem.

Regardless of its prevalence among dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient morbidity or mortality among human beings in this region" (the rabies capital of North America) "to allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

The Birmingham man later had dog catching made the prerogative of the county health department. The U. S. Public Health Service likes it that way, and you know the federal boys have something to say about the allocation of federal funds to local health departments.

BRADY ENVIED

Back in the halcyon days of health columning medical colleagues who knew I wasn't using my newspaper publicity to attract patients, as some columnists do, used to tell me they envied me the privilege of speaking out . . . well, this may have pleased some readers but it has made few friends in the medical and dental professions.

* * *

About the allergic manifestations which are so often mistaken for "repeated colds," "sinus trouble," "bronchial trouble" and "infected tonsils," demonstration of eosinophils in the nasal secretion indicates that the trouble is allergic and not infectious, according to these authorities.

Eosinophils are cells similar to or identical with white blood corpuscles, which take a red stain (eosin) in the microscopic specimen.

Although I know precious little about allergy, a good many victims of the hypersensitivity found the remedies I recommend for prevention and relief highly satisfactory. For detailed instructions send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Relief for Allergy.

* * *

Also available are the following pamphlets on allergic ailments: Hives. Hay Fever. Asthma. Eczema. Any one pamphlet is free if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you ask for more than one, inclose ten cents for each additional pamphlet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Politics Losing Game for Restaurant Owner

CHICAGO (AP)—Restaurateur Anton Kerscher now is convinced that politics is a rough road.

In 1946, his place was torn down to make way for a new expressway. He blamed the Illinois Democratic administration and became a Republican.

Now he has quit the Republicans because a new toll road connection between the expressway and the proposed Tri-State Turnpike will cut right through the new restaurant he built in 1951.

Horse Leaves Scene After Crashing Car

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP) — Robert Johnson was brought to court for driving through a stop sign with his horse and wagon, crashing into an automobile and leaving the scene before a patrolman arrived.

Magistrate Ben Maynard concluded the only covering statute was failure to stop at a stop sign. He fined Johnson $12.

No action was taken against the horse, which sat down on the hood of the car after the collision and kicked out both headlights.

Faulty Speedometer Is Ruled No Excuse

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Russell Graham, 43, appeared in Municipal Court on a speeding charge and presented an instrument survey taken on his auto's speedometer to Traffic Judge Philip Bagley. It showed that at 36 miles an hour his speedometer registered only 27.

* * *

"I'd hate to think of all the people who would get out of paying fines if we recognized faulty speedometers," said the judge in fining Graham $14.

Fire Plower Burrows in His Own Furrows

ALLENDALE, S. C. (AP) — Fire-fighting tractor operator Miles Brant saved himself from probable death when he was trapped by a forest fire.

Brant buried himself in freshly turned sand he had plowed trying to stop the fire. He had face and hand burns, but he was dismissed after hospital emergency room treatment.

Parents to Prepare

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UP) — Schools here next fall are going to have "refresher" classes for adults. A lot of parents say they need to brush up if they're going to help their children with homework.

Midnight Racket

BELMONT, Ohio (UP) — When midnight arrives at the Frank Travis home 148 clocks strike 12 at the same time, in varied clangs and bongs. Travis, a retired mill worker, collects clocks as a hobby.

Doctors Demand End Draft Act

Says Excessive Number of Physicians Called for Service Duty

WASHINGTON (UP) — Spokesman for medical and dental associations have called for an end to the "doctors draft act."

They told the Senate Armed Services Committee that the act is unfair and discriminatory. And they said physicians are being drafted in unnecessary numbers to deliver babies and treat civilian dependents.

* * *

Dr. Reuben B. Chrisman Jr. of Miami, Fla., said the draft "discriminates against physicians" and other medical specialists "by singling them out from the entire body of citizenry and subjecting them to special and double liability for military service."

Dr. Chrisman, appearing for the American Medical Assn., pointed out that regular draft age men with children or partial or short-term military service are deferred while physicians in these groups can be inducted.

* * *

Dr. Walter B. Martin of Norfolk, Va., past president of AMA, urged that the doctors draft expire because "it has served its purpose."

Dearborn Industrialist Buys Cheboygan Resort

CHEBOYGAN (UP) — The Top-in-a-Bee Hotel on Mullet Lake was purchased yesterday by Irving F. Imoberstag, Dearborn industrialist.

The 71 year-old resort hotel had been owned since 1935 by Ed Moloney, president of the Cheboygan State Bank. The hotel has 55 rooms.

New Ships on Lakes

MASSENA, N. Y. (UP)—At least half a dozen new ships will ply the Great Lakes this summer. The Finnish-American Line is putting on the Mariefors, the Hamerfors, and the Helsingfors, each 2,500 tons. The French Line is adding the Ville de Quebec and the Ville de Montreal. The Oranje Line will have a new vessel to replace the Prins Willem V. which was sunk last fall.

Say Oil Not Reason for Many Cadillacs

SIDNEY, Neb. (UP)—The editors of the Sidney Telegraph recently published an open letter to a state senator who had said that, due to rich oil deposits in the area, Sidney residents owned more Cadillac cars than residents of any other Nebraska city.

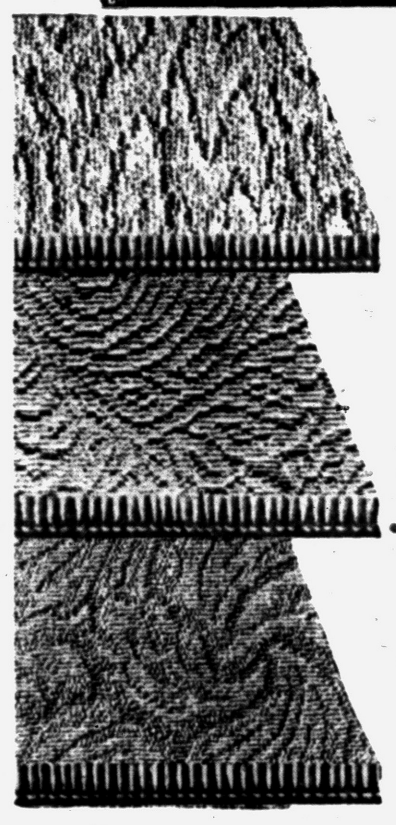

Admitting that what the senator said about the expensive cars may be true, the editors denied that oil was entirely responsible. The letter read in part:

"We had 'em (the cars) before anyone found oil in western Nebraska. This country is and was a mighty good country long before they found black gold. We tilled the soil properly, conserved moisture and saved our money."

Retail sales in Norway last year were 7 per cent greater than in 1953.

Make Refugee Plan Work, Ike Tells New Dulles' Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)— Pierce J. Gerety, general counsel of the Civil Service Commission, has been given the hot spot job of running the refugee relief program.

The 41 - year - old Bridgeport, Conn., lawyer was ushered into the assignment with some ceremony plainly intended to show high-level administration backing for his efforts to get more steam into the program.

* * *

Secretary of State Dulles announced the appointment, then personally escorted Gerety to the White House to be introduced to President Eisenhower. Also in the group was Scott McLeod, State Department security chief whom the law makes over-all administrator of the law for admission of 214,000 refugees to the United States by the end of 1956.

The announcement said Gerety will serve under McLeod but will have "complete authority and responsibility for the operation of the refugee program."

* * *

McLeod's performance in the refugee relief job has been under fire from congressional proponents of a more liberal immigration policy. He was a chief target of bitter criticism voiced by Edward J. Corsi, prominent New York Republican who was ousted in April from a job carrying the same "deputy administrator" title now given to Gerety. Corsi, let out 90 days after he was brought into the State Department as advisor to Dulles on immigration problems, called the refugee program "a complete failure and a national scandal." Dulles said he was let go because he was trying to take over the whole job in place of McLeod.

* * *

A spokesman said the job description for Gerety's assignment is about the same as that of Corsi's post.

At the White House Gerety told reporters the President "assured me of his great interest in the program and his desire to see it succeed, and told me I'm to make it succeed."

* * *

Eisenhower himself has said the job is not going as fast as he had hoped, and only last week he sent to Congress 10 proposals for amendment of the law which he said would make it easier to carry out the plan.

The sharp talk about how the job is going revolves partly around the figures on persons cleared for entry under the program and actually admitted. The latest count given by the State Department today is 30,562 visas issued, mostly to applicants from Italy, and 21,360 actually entered.

* * *

Eisenhower's proposals for liberalization of the law are under study by a Senate Judiciary Committee but Rep. Walter (D-Pa), chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee on immigration, has predicted the House never will take them up. Walter was a target of Corsi along with McLeod.

Gerety said Eisenhower expressed hope for speedy enactment of his refugee law proposals. He stated his own view that they would make success of the program eaier to attain.

* * *

McLeod told reporters the entry of refugees is beginning to catch up.

Gerety is a 1942 honor law graduate of ordham University. Before he went to Fordham he was a reporter on the Bridgeport, Conn., Post. After graduation he worked five years with the New York law firm headed by the late Wendell Willkie, then went to Bridgeport with the firm of Curtis, Trevethan & Gerety. He has been on leave from that partnership since June, 1954, for government service.

For a year before he took the full-time Civil Service legal post Gerety was chairman of the International Organizations Employe Loyalty Board handling loyalty cases of Americans employed by such agencies as the United Nations.

Woman Who Got Diploma at 94 Taken by Death

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Bemis Ranger, 94, who was graduated from St. Johnsbury, Vt., Academy last January, died yesterday.

As a teen-age girl, Mrs. Ranger had nearly completed her four year course at the academy when her family took her to Boston to study music.

* * *

Remembering that she had not received her diploma, academy officials decided her musical career more than made up for lack of an outmoded conception of high school studies and she was awarded her diploma.

Private commencement exercises were held at the nursing home where Mrs. Ranger lived.

She was the widow of Walter E. Ranger, former Rhode Island commissioner of education.

The English based their claims to North America on the discoveries of John Cabot. He discovered the coast of North America in 1497, and took possession in the name of King Henry VII.

Dad Gives Daughter Diploma in Hospital

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — With his daughter in the Traverse City High School graduating class, Douglas Linder as president of the school board had looked forward to awarding the diplomas.

But he was confined by illness in a hospital.

His daughter, Patricia, was in the same hospital recovering from injuries suffered in an auto accident.

So Patricia put on the traditional cap and gown and received a diploma from her father in a little ceremony at the hospital last night.

Actor Walter Hampden Stricken, in Hospital

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Walter Hampden, 75, one of America's most distinguished actors, suffered a stroke today while riding to a movie studio.

The veteran of 54 years in the theater was hospitalized and his condition termed "fair."

Ike Plans Hop to Penn State

Will Give Address at University Headed by Brother

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower takes to the airways again today if the weather is good, to fly to Pennsylvania State University for a commencement address tomorrow.

The school is located at University Park in central Pennsylvania. It is headed by the President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, who signed yesterday an honorary doctor of law degree to be awarded the President and commented: 'You can't imagine the emotion I feel in signing an honorary degree for my own brother."

* * *

Penn State has awarded only two other honorary degrees in its 100-year history, and this will be the first one in 47 years.

A crowd of 20,000 has been forecast for the commencement exercises, to be broadcast by national radio and television networks tomorrow morning.

The chief executive planned to use his new two-engined, four seater Air Force plane on the hour-long flight to Phillipsburg, about 25 miles northwest of University Park.

Bad weather could force a change to travel by special train.

The President plans to spend the night at his brother Milton's home on the campus. After speaking tomorrow, he will leave for his Gettysburg, Pa. farm, where he will spend the weekend.

Attlee Will Remain as Labor's Leader

LONDON (AP)—Clement Attlee has accepted leadership if the Labor party for at least another year.

His long - time Leftist rival, Aneurin Bevan, persuaded him to stay on the job. The decision means the party gets a breathing spell to iron out its internal differences and find a generally acceptable younger leader.

Attlee, 72, told friends yesterday he intended to retire this fall. Associates said this was a firm decision prompted by party demands for young blood at the top.

Last GAR Vet Feeling 'Just as Fine as Ever'

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, last Union Army veteran of the Civil War, returned home yesterday after being hospitalized 10 days with a lung congestion. The 108-year-old veteran reported he felt "just as fine as ever."

A vivavoce vote in the House of Representatives is a vote taken by roll call and answered orally by each member.

Williams-Ziegler Dispute Delaying Roads

LANSING (UP)—The number of factors, disputes and opinions surrounding Michigan's new arterial road program today makes it pretty much of a guessing game when construction actually will start.

* * *

Involved in the guessing game are the factors of how much money will be available how soon, is there or will there be a cement shortage, are there enough engineers to speed up construction and where will federal matching funds fit in.

The dispute arises between Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The opinions of each are as varied as the factors.

Williams has asked for and wants a detailed program of what Ziegler intends to do about the increased revenue provided by the recently adopted gasoline and weight tax increases.

DEADLINE JUNE 24

The governor has set June 24 as the date of delivery for these plans.

Ziegler, long under the crossfire of Williams and his administration insists that he can't give an exact plan until he knows how much federal matching funds will be available.

* * *

The highway commissioner, who says he is putting money into roads as fast as he can, explained that he can't let contracts under a 60-40 federal matching basis if Congress approves the 90-10 ratio.

But the governor insists that Ziegler can make alternate plans on the basis of 60-40, 75-25 and 90-10.

Ziegler replies that he is "150 engineers short" and is staying "just ahead of construction each year" in making future plans.

Ziegler also has stated that a cement shortage has complicated program plans but Williams claims it would be ridiculous to have a cement shortage in Michigan which produces so much cement. Williams has asked the cement industry for a report on cement availability.

AWAITS REPORT

At present, Ziegler is waiting for the attorney general's opinion clarifying the recent legislation establishing a construction program of 4-lane divided highways on the state's trunkline and interstate system.

Ziegler wants to know from Attorney General Thomas Kavanagh how soon the Highway Department will receive funds under the new law, how soon bonds can be sold based on the highway loan fund and can the department enter into a contract with other government agencies.

Kavanagh said he expects to have the opinion as soon as humanly possible.

Ziegler said he is going to let some contracts under the new program by August and that under present plans a number of projects are planned which are included in the new program.

ONE AT A TIME

He said, however, he couldn't do two things at once.

"It takes almost nine months to make up plans," he said.

"Just because we have more money doesn't mean we can start tomorrow," Ziegler added. "We've got to know what we are going to get."

He said money under the new authorization will be given to the Highway Department every three months and that the first sum will be received in October.

Williams insists that Ziegler can and should be planning on a basis that will allow "no lag in getting construction going."

The new program provides about $36,000,000 a year for construction on the arterial system.

Under the legislation the following roads are included in the arterial highway program:

* * *

Separated Twin Off Critical List Today in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Rodney Dee Brodie, the first head-joined Siamese twin to recover from a separation operation, was taken off the critical list today.

A brain hemorrhage which struck the boy early in May apparently has halted spontaneously, doctors at the University of Illinois Research Hospital said.

Rodney has been making steady progress since his parents rushed him to Chicago for treatment from their home in Ferris, Ill.

The boy now has reached the convalescent stage where he talks and plays with his attendants and other children in the ward. He also has been feeding himself.

Rodney has been reluctant to walk alone so far.

Doctors say the cause of the brain hemorrhage is unknown. It apparently had no connection with the separation operation and there is no evidence he suffered a bump or fall.

Age Wins Privilege

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Antique motor car collectors in Montana got a break from the Legislature—no longer do they have to buy license plates every year. As long as one owner has what he considers a collector's item, he need buy only one plate. The only other time the car needs another license plate is when it gets a new owner.

Gasoline has no definite freezing point. It slowly stiffens up like wax at temperatures much lower than those which are commonly encountered in the Arctic.

Strike Forces Mill to Start Liquidation

DOLLAR BAY, Mich. (UP) — David Horner, general manager of the Horner Flooring Mill, states the firm will initiate liquidation action because of a strike which has closed the plant for more than a month.

Horner said losses substained during the strike have been too great for the company to bear. He informed the union that any and all offers for settlement have been withdrawn.

The flooring mill, established in the early 1930's, employed 80 persons and was the largest of three industries in Dollar Bay.

Falls in the Springs

TRACY, Minn. (UP)—Farmer Anton Nelson appears to be having trouble keeping his falls separated from his springs. Last spring he fell from a horse and was hospitalized with a broken leg. This spring he fell from a haymow and was hospitalized with broken ribs, an arm injury and bruises.

U.S. Files Tax Lien on Elizabeth Bentley

OPELOUSAS, La. (AP)—The U. S. Revenue Service has filed a tax lien against Elizabeth Bentley, former Communist who turned government witness.

Records in the clerk of court's office here today showed the lien is for $3,790 in unpaid taxes during 1951.

Miss Bentley, who quit the Reds is a teacher at the Sacred Heart College in nearby Grand Coteau.

Lasting Beauty, 150 Year Life Span Predicted by 1999

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—An Arkansas physician predicted today that by the year 1999 men will have a life span of 150 years and women will stay "young, beautiful and shapely indefinitely."

* * *

He added that human infectious diseases will be eradicated, cancer will be "successfully treated by a virus vaccine," new surgery techniques will restore sight to the blind, the deaf-mute will "speak electronically," and the common cold "will be only a memory" — all within the next half century.

The predictions for medicine on Dec. 31, 1999, were made by Dr. Lowry H. McDaniel, of Tyronza, Ark., in his chairman's address to the section on general practice of the American Medical Association convention in Atlantic City.

Only mental health problems clouded the rosy picture of the future Dr. McDaniel outlined. He called mental illness "the problem for American medicine to solve in the last half of this 20th century."

Dr. McDaniel declared "medicine has made more progress in the first half of the 20th century than in the 6,000 previous years" and recounted the diseases he had seen conquered within his own 33 years of practice.

* * *

Malaria, pellagra, typhoid, cramp colic, dysentery, tuberculosis, diphtheria, and infant cholera, among others. He added:

"How happy the young physician, how happy any physician should be that those former failures, or shall I call them inadequacies, will soon be only a memory."

He then offered these 10 predictions for 1999:

1—A man 90 years old will be considered "young," a man of 135 "more mature" and there will be "a minimum of senility because the heavy cholesterol which determines the age of our arteries will be absent."

WOMEN BEAUTIFUL

2—"Our women, thanks to proper hormone medication, would stay young, beautiful and shapely indefinitely."

* * *

3—The Salk killed-virus vaccine "which is doing a tremendous job now" will be replaced in a few years by a living modified virus vaccine.

4—All human infectious disease, including rheumatic heart disease and venereal diseases, will be eradicated by "use of vaccines, antibiotics and multiphasic screening tests."

5—Cancer will be "successfully treated by a virus vaccine or radioactive compounds."

6—The common cold and "even the more serious respiratory virus infections will be only a memory."

7—"Even greater victories await the highly-trained surgeon" of the future. Eye surgeons will restore vision to today's hopelss cases.

8—Synthetic foodstuffs will bring an end forever to famine and starvation.

9—Electronic devices will enable deaf mutes to "speak." Initial research is underway by the Radio Corporation of America.

10—Insulin will be given in tablet form for the control of diabetes. Medical science will discover an "effective treatment against the blood, heart and degenerative diseases of old age."

Dr. McDaniel added a "prediction and prayer that we have reached the plateau in the problems of mental health." He suggested medical treatment might lie in a "pill" for emotional illness but offered an old-fashioned remedy as well:

* * *

"As a practicing physician, I should prescribe that a return to the former family life of a century ago with the family ties, family love, yes, the family altar, might be the solution for a tense and jittery America after all."

U.S. Report Expresses Faith in Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service said today it was required to develop new and safer standards for Salk polio vaccine after unexpected problems in mass manufacture had threatened to wipe out a "built-in factor of safety."

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele expressed belief, however, "that this vaccine will fulfill its bright promise as a major advance in the prevention and control of a disease that has shadowed the lives of children and young adults for many generations."

And the lessons that have been learned, he said, 'offer promise of solutions to a hitherto baffling group of disease problems.'

Noting that antibiotics and sulfa compounds, the "wonder drugs" of recent years, 'have made little impression on the problems of virus infection," Dr. Scheele added:

"We can expect that potent new biologics will be developed which will have unprecedented application, particularly to control of virus diseases.

* * *

The statements were contained in a comprehensive and highly technical review of the entire polio vaccine program, long promised but released unexpectedly early today. Publication of the document, running 163 typewritten and printed pages, was ordered after the New York Times printed a portion of it.

* * *

Much of the new material reviews the technical data and studies made by scientists behind closed doors, which led to the increased safety standards.

For one thing, it was found that the fewer live viruses there were in a solution, the slower they died. That led to increasing the time allowed to inactivate the viruses.

The vaccine is composed of three types of polio viruses mixed together after they have been inactivated, or killed. But the report said that in some cases live viruses were found in the final mixture after tests of the three component parts had shown none.

* * *

These things showed up, the report said, when the health service made an intensive study of the manufacturers' records. They had not been reported to the service, it said, because the manufacturers had not asked for clearance of the faulty lots.

The report said no decision has yet been reached on what caused development of polio in children inoculated with some vaccine produced by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. That firm withdrew its unused supplies on April 26 as the health service started its intensive study.

* * *

The report said "This occurrence may have been due to vaccine which, by deficiency in the tests themselves or by error in the performance of the tests, passed the established safety procedures and yet contained sufficiently large amounts of live virus to infect a small number of recipients. It may also have been due to some break in manufacturing which led to contanination after testing had been completed."

All of the five drug firms which have prepared the vaccine for use have had their troubles, the report said.

* * *

Although some cases of polio have developed in children vaccinated with the product of each of the makers, the report said no significance was seen except after use of the Cutter vaccine and perhaps of one lot made by Wyeth, Inc., of Marietta, Pa.

Higher Prices Not Inevitable

Rising Wages, Costs May Not Be Passed On at Retail Level

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the cost of lay-off pay be passed along in higher prices?

A few years back there would have been little question about it. Today there's a good chance part of the cost will be passed along to the consumer. But some think much of it can't be—at least at retail.

In the last three years, while industrial materials were edging higher and labor costs continuing to rise, the trend at retail has been toward lower prices.

This year's big jump in the size of wage increases—and especially the auto industry's token step in the direction of a guaranteed annual wage—revives fear of another wage-price inflation spiral like those in the years right after World War II.

* * *

The argument for inflation is this: companies have to look to income from sales to pay for this year's higher wage scales and for the unemployment benefit funds some are promising to set up.

Sales income depends on price and volume of goods sold. Companies, therefore, might be more than willing to pass along the higher labor costs in the form of higher prices.

But those who minimize the danger now of a new inflation argue:

* * *

Times have changed. In the early postwar years many goods were in scarce supply. Increased payroll expense could be added quickly to prices without endangering sales volume.

Now most goods are in abundant supply. The capacity to produce them often is in excess of demand. Competition now isn't among buyers bidding for scarce goods, but among sellers of abundant goods trying to entice consumers.

Thanks to the huge buying splurge since the war, the buying public has stocked up on appliances, homes, furnishings and new cars. Higher prices might find demand less than urgent.

WINS EXPERT MEDAL — With a score of 315 bullseyes out of a possible 350, Cpl. Robert Fuller, (right) member of Co. M, 125th Infantry, National Guard, was awarded an expert's medal for his prowess with the .45-caliber Army service pistol. Fuller, of Waterford, set a new regimental record with the feat performed last month at Camp Grayling. Shown presenting the medal at recent ceremonies is Capt. A. J. Largent, commanding officer of the Pontiac unit.

Nehru and Bulganin Toast Each Other as Peacemakers at Dinner in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—The premiers of Russia and India toasted each other as champions of peace last night and chorused hopes the rest of the world would follow in their footsteps.

* * *

The exchange took place at a Kremlin dinner honoring India's Prime Minister Nehru. Russia's top leaders were present.

Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin led off by voicing hope that the joint efforts of India, Russia and Red China could "ease the tension" over Formosa.

"Everyone knows the leadership exercised by Mr. Nehru in the cause of peace," said Bulganin. "The government of the Chinese People's Republic together with our own government is taking all possible measures to ease tension off the east coast of China. This is in the region of Taiwan (Formosa). Lately the news has come to us of the representations made by the Indian representative Krishna Menon. Let us hope that our joint efforts ease the tension."

NEHRU REPLIES

"I hope your hand stretched out for peace will be held by others," Nehru responded. "Since I came to your great country, I have sensed the strong desire and yearning of your people for peace. My people echo that yearning as do other people."

Then Nehru and Bulganin raised their glasses and toasted "all peacemakers."

The Indian Prime Minister will be visiting Moscow or touring in the Soviet Union until June 23.

* * *

In New Delhi, the British-owned newspaper Statesman said Russia already has hinted it is "prepared to offer economic aid to India without strings." The paper's correspondent is accompanying Nehru's party.

HINTS BY OTHERS

Other Indian papers hinted that Nehru and Bulganin might issue a joint statement at the end of their talks echoing Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai's five principles of peaceful coexistence, which Nehru already has endorsed.

Citizens Discuss City's Problems

Meet to Map Plans for Community Council in Pontiac

The vision of a community council for Pontiac came into sharper focus last night when representatives of 32 local agencies met to map plans for organizing such a body.

Following an organizational talk by a community council expert from Michigan State College, the 65 persons present agreed to the appointment of a 5-man committee to name a constitution writing committee.

The participants placed lack of civic pride as the No. 1 fault in the city.

Among 16 other needs, community-wise, the group listed home and family improvement, formation of a community council and additional recreational facilities.

Dr. Claude Bosworth, of the MSC Dept. of Community Services of the Continuing Education Dept. listed three factors which affect civic pride. Chief among these was education.

Other factors are club membership and age. The greater number of organizations to which a person belongs, the greater is his community interest, Bosworth said.

Age-wise, persons in the 20-30, 41-50 and 51-60 age brackets have the highest degree of civic pride, he said. They all rate around 60 per cent.

Appointed to the 5-man committee which will name a constitution committee were William L. Treanor, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Dwight S. Adams, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund; Mayor William W. Donaldson; Fred V. Haggard, Oakland County CIO Council president, and David R. Ewalt, City Parks and Recreation Dept. director.

Constitution committee members will be selected from those who attended last night's session. That committee will also set the date for the next general meeting.

Organizations represented were:

Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Manufacturers Assn., Northside Community Club, Southwest Civic Club, Pastors Assn., the CIO, New Citizens League, American Assn. of University Women, Pontiac Public Schools, the city of Pontiac.

Kiwanis, Lions, Civitan, Optimist, Rotary, Opti-Mrs. and Zonta clubs the PTA, City Federation of Women's Clubs, United Church Women, National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls.

Pontiac Women's Club, Children's Division of Oakland County, Friend of the Court, Pontiac Symphony, American Cancer Society, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Cub Scouts, Visiting Nurses Assn., Michigan Children's Aid.

Animals Are Her Pet Preoccupation

Most youngsters have pets—but few have as many as 12-year-old Tamra Ann Robertson, daughter of D. C. Robertson, a Provo, Utah, sheep raiser. Right now she has 15 and a varied crew they are. There are her horse, Star, and a calf, Betsy, who was born on Tamra's birthday, April 8. There's the big, husky ram, Brownie, that Tamra raised from lambhood. Her dog Sheba loves to ride on his back. Then there's a ewe, called Danny — of all names — that has three new lambs, called Meenie, Minee and Mo. Danny has had 10 lambs in the past four years. Tamra has bottle-fed 32 lambs on her father's ranch. Her pet family includes two Border Collie pups, Tommy the narcissistic canary who continually preens himself in front of the mirror and four goldfishes — Speck, Goldie, Blackie and Pent.

Tamra shows off her newest pets. They are two Border Collie sheep dog pups. They're only a month old. Tamra hasn't made up her mind what to name them.

With "Minee" and "Mo." The lamb's mama's name is "Danny." There's also a "Meenie."

Tamra with her horse "Star." She hopes to have her own ranch some day.

Tamra raised the ram "Brownie" since it was an orphan lamb. She's trained him to pull her cart and also to carry her little black dog "Sheba."

Elks Announce Flag Day Program Plans

Charles Snyder, past governor of Michigan Optimist Clubs, will speak here June 15 at the annual Flag Day services sponsored by Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, according to Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Elks Americanism chairman.

Citizens naturalized during the past year in Oakland will be honored guests. Various veterans and patriotic organizations are cooperating in the program.

On June 14, the Elks have scheduled a contest which will see a savings bond awarded to the family or person flying the best-displayed flag.

A committee will divide Pontiac into judging zones in which outstanding displays will be picked and then compared with those deemed best in other areas.

The Pontiac Camp Fire Girls will aid in the judging, said Allen.

"Pontiac made a poor showing on Flag Day last year with less than 500 national emblems flown," the clerk stated. "We hope to see 5,000 on display this year."

Elks committee members working with Allen in arranging the events are Clifford Maison, Leo Halfpenny, Robert Morris, Albert Games, Leo Buckley, Roman C. Gravilla, Dr Lynn D. Allen Jr., Charles Manz, Don R. MacDonald, Russel Dodd and Lewis Mumbrue.

Tickets for the June 15 dinner slated for 6:30 p.m. in the Elks Temple are available from Allen and all committee members.

Burl Rates as Big Man in All Ways

NEW YORK (INS)—Burl Ives is a big man any way you want to look at him—he's been a top balladier for years, he's the star of Tennessee William's current Broadway dramatic hit and he weighs 255 pounds.

* * *

Ives' career as a folk singer began one bright and sunny day when he looked out the window of a college classroom and decided the countryside was calling him.

He just picked up and left to travel around the nation, singing songs for his supper.

He had learned the folk songs in his youth in southern Illinois from his grandmother who crossed America in a covered wagon.

* * *

"I just took off," Ives said, "and traveled all over the country. Everybody from the Midwest is curious about the ocean. I wanted to see it and I did. Most sailors come from inland for that reason. Like me, they're fascinated with salt water.

BALLADS TO HIM

"I was folk singing but didn't know it. The songs I sang were just ballads to me.

"In college I thought I was going to be a football coach. Then the depression came along and anyway I became disenchanted.

"I knew quite a few people who were in the coaching line. The pressure is terrific. If you don't have a winning team your life is miserable. Besides they didn't pay you much, so I started out as a wanderer."

Ives spent a year washing dishes in a New York cafeteria to pay for singing lessons and in 1938 got his big break as a featured player in a Broadway show called "The Boys From Syracuse.

After a stint in the Army he returned to civilian life and a musical called "Sing Out, Sweet Land" which won him the Donaldson Award for his performance.

* * *

Since then he has been busy doing a radio series, movies, recordings (including Davy Crockett) nightclub tours, concerts and television appearances.

ALSO WRITES BOOKS

He also has written some best-selling books, including an autobiography, and has plans to write three more books in the future.

* * *

Nine years ago he met his wife, Helen. He tells it this way:

"I lived on a houseboat out here in the East River. I liked the water and it was cheap. I was a single man in those days and a houseboat is a fascinating place.

"I met a charming young lady. I was talking about going to California and she said she wanted to rent my houseboat because she wanted to write a book. I took her out to see the boat.

BOAT VANISHES

"I married the young lady and moved off the houseboat. Never saw it again. I wonder if it was the houseboat she was interested in?"

Today they have a handsome blond 6-year-old son named Alexander. Ives chose the name "by rhythm" so that it would sound nice with Ives."

One of the feathers in the Ives' cap is the fact that he was chosen one of America's 10 best-dressed men for 1952, because of his "unique clothes flair" and "flamboyant look."

"This was when colored vests weren't worn so much," explained Ives, stroking his goatee. "I had been wearing them for a number of years. When they came into fashion I stopped. I don't follow fashions. I dress the way I want to dress."

He also started a fad for wearing dress shirts with lace fronts, and today he may be starting another fad—the flat-topped derby.

Ives feels that folk music can stir interest in many other fields.

"For instance," he said, "I hated history in school. It was only after I began singing folk songs that I became interested in history.

"I became interrested in a lot of things. It also helped me when I started to write—I had a simple kind of a style and choice of simple, meaningful words."

LOOKING FORWARD

His future plans depend on what's offered him.

"If I get a good stage part, I'll do that. If I'm offered a good movie role, I'll do that. Otherwise, I'll play the guitar."

When it comes to future plans for Alexander, Ives says his son won't be a musician. "If I can help it."

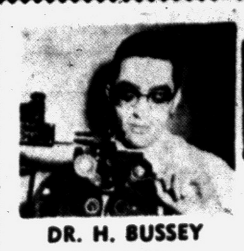

"I got him an adding machine," Ives said, "I want him to be a businessman, not an artist. It's a better racket.

"I think you get more fun out of music if it's a sideline. Then you just do it when you feel like it. I've got him working hard on that mathematics—you know —readin' writin', and 'rithmetic."

Faced With Decision on Own Expense Tab

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas State Senate was considering a bill to increase expense allowances for Lt. Gov. James McCuish, who was presiding. The first vote count showed a 20-20 division.

Chortling lawmakers reminded McCuish he had the tie-breaking vote. Before the embarrassed lieutenant governor acted, however, senators abandoned their practical joke and changed their votes. The bill was passed unanimously.

Much Less False, Superficial, Ridiculous

Who Says Girls Are Inferior and Boorish?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—A distraught gentleman from Pittsburgh has just written in to say that he and other males of his acquaintance—including a sensitive dog and a nasty-tempered mynah bird—disapprove strongly of women.

* * *

The chief complaints, which are carefully tabulated in the form of questions like "Why do women say the oppsite of what they mean?", are widespread. They charge that girls are false, superficial, ridiculous, inferior, boorish, maladroit, and besides they use dope.

Now, now, Mr.——, you are being unreasonable, and that goes for your dog and bird too. Women, as a whole, are not nearly so bad as you think.

In fact, I will go out on a limb so far as to say that I know of no women—mark you, none!—who is both boorish and uses dope. One or the other? Perhaps. But both traits in the same dame? Never.

TRUE PICTURE

Taking up your questions, one by one, I shall attempt to give you the true picture of why a woman does what she does when she does it, so you will better understand female psychology.

* * *

Question I: Why do women say the opposite of what they mean?

Answer: The extremely logical answer is that men rarely believe anything a woman tells them. So a woman, being basically honest, says what she does not mean in order that he will get the truth. This is reverse psychology.

Question II: Why do they resort to camouflage—rouge, nail, stain, false eyelashes and so on?

A: Because men choose the camouflaged girls, two to one.

Question III: Why are they usually unable to shake off acquired bad habits such as smoking, drinking and dope?

A: They are no more chronic about smoking and drinking than males. And the only type dope most girls get involved with is the kind who calls every day and says "How 'bout comin' out f'r lil'l nip?" This dope is, admittedly, hard to shake.

REASON FOR ENVY

Question IV: Why do they adopt every upcoming fashion, no matter how ridiculous?

A: So male sharpies in Paris and Seventh Avenue can make a living.

* * *

Question V: Why are they so envious of what they call man's superior privileges in business?

A: Because man's privileges in business are superior.

Question VI: Why are they governed by "intuition" instead of reason and sense?

A: If you had a woman's intuition, you'd use it too.

Question VII: Why are women always so ready to do spy work?

A: Because they are smart, slick, courageous and ready to heed their country's call. Besides, the money's good.

* * *

Question VIII: Why are they so prone to injure those they love?

A: Doesn't everybody?

LOOK WHO'S TALKING

Question IX: And why do they gossip and snipe at people who would be happier if left alone?

A: Look who is talking. Women gossip less than any other sex in the country. Snoop: Yes. Snipe? No.

Question X: Why do women object so strongly to hair on the sofa?

A: This question was quite obviously submitted second-hand by the dog, and will therefore not be considered here. If this maladjusted beat has any complaints, Mr. ——, tell him to snarl for himself.

Wingless Plane Gets Test Today

Radical Craft Built by Railroad Worker Ready for Air

EMPORIA, Va. (AP)—A festive air hung over this little southeastern Virginia town today as Charlie Pritchard prepared for the first flight test of his radical wingless airship.

A majority of the town's 1,100 residents, as well as folks from the surrounding countryside converged on the Emporia Airport.

Pritchard, a 46-year-old railroad worker, was optimistic his strange craft would get off the ground.

* * *

"I believe it will fly," he said. "I have no fear of the test."

Pritchard, a bachelor, explained to newsmen he was well satisfied with the performance of a small model of his airship, which he experimented with before he began building the real thing.

The airship resembles conventional aircraft in that its tail surfaces are similar, it has a front-mounted metal propeller, tricycle landing gear and conventional flight instruments.

There the similarity stops. The airship has no wings. Pritchard felt six fins, or baffles, several inches high, which extend almost the entire length of the 21-foot long octagonal fuselage will keep the air "flowing in the proper channels over the hull of the ship from nose to stern, creating lift on the entire surface of the ship."

Studio Is Suing Barrymore Jr. for Misbehaving

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A breach of contract suit for $55,750 is on file today against actor John Barrymore Jr., 22, son of the late John Barrymore Sr.

The suit, filed yesterday by Lanny Budd Productions, Inc., charges that he quarrelled with his wife in public, insulted other actors and generally misbehaved while on location in England for a series of television films.

The action was a counter suit to a sealed complaint filed previously by Barrymore demanding an undisclosed sum which he said the producers owed him.

Young Barrymore's quarrels with his wife, Cara, occurred in Piccadilly and in the lobby of London's Hotel Savoy, the complaint said. It alleged that his "loud, abusive and profane language scandalized onlookers and irreparably damaged the producer's public relations."

British education is free and compulsory between the ages of 5 and 15 for boys and girls.

Bonn Clears 1st Hurdle to Join U.N. Air Agency

MONTREAL (AP)—West Germany has cleared the first hurdle toward joining a United Nations agency.

The International Civil Aviation organization, which regulates world air traffic, voted 51-0 yesterday to admit the Bonn Republic. Israel abstained.

Before becoming a member of the U.N. agency, West Germany must get approval of two-thirds of the 60-nation General Assembly and assent of all states the Nazis attacked in World War II.

Mishaps Are Costly to Nation's Farmers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—Farmers could save an average of 20 days working time and $40 in hospital expenses this year by eliminating farm accidents, according to a safety specialist.

Ordie Hogsett of the University of Illinois cited a federal survey which showed these figures as the national averages for lost time and expenses resulting from farm mishaps.

Hogsett said the first big step in preventing accidents is properly servicing and adjusting farm machinery, replacing all broken and worn parts.

He urged special care with tractors, which the Illinois Rural Safety Council says are involved in nearly 75 per cent of all accidents with farm machinery.

Half the world's population over 10 years of age is illiterate, according to the Population Reference Bureau in Washington.

Fewer Birds Winter

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Federal and state wild life agencies report their annual survey disclosed a drop in the number of waterfowl wintering in California as compared with last year. The survey showed 5,297,000 ducks, geese, swans and ccots in the state. Last winter the total was 5,825,000.

First post of the Grand Army of the Republic was established at Decatur, Ill., on April 6, 1866.

Seniors Bid Farewell to High School Days

'ALOHA' — Seniors Beverly Barkeley, 554 Lenox; Jim Stephens, 179 Lake St. and Judy Dickstein, 240 Chippewa, symbolize the city's graduating high school students as they wave farewell from the steps of Pontiac High. PHS baccalaureate service will be Sunday, commencement Thursday.

Class of 1955 Closing Book

Many Upper Classmen Nostalgic, Dewy-Eyed as Goal Is Reached

By VICKY MICU

The final complete week for school at Pontiac High School students has ended, with school being in session only next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are final exam days, and Friday students return in the afternoon for report cards.

Today was the final day for seniors, as they proudly displayed their caps and gowns. They now look forward to Baccalaureate Service and Commencement.

Baccalaureate for the Pontiac High School June graduating class of 1955 will be held Sunday at the Central Methodist Church, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Speaker for the evening will be the Rev. William Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Opening the program will be an organ recital by Lyndon Salathiel, including "Fantasy in A Minor." "Preludium D" and "the Nineteenth Psalm." The processional "Festival March" will be followed by the invocation delivered by the Rev. J. Allen Parker.

Scripture reading by the Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. Johns Lutheran Church will follow the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," in which the audience will participate. After this, the PHS a capella choir will sing "We Praise Thee."

The Rev. Milton H. Bank will lead in prayer, followed by the offertory anthem "Make A Joyful Sound." The main address of the evening, "What Will You Do in the Swelling of Jordan," then will be presented by Rev. Marbach, after which the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" will be sung and benediction by Rev. Marbach will be given. Closing the service will be the Recessional "Ceremonial March."

* * *

Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, president of Albion College, will speak to more than 360 PHS seniors at Commencement exercises next Thursday evening in the PHS gymnasium beginning at 8 p.m. Title of his address will be "Youth Faces Tomorrow."

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education, will preside at the affair, along with Dr. Duncan McColl, pastor of the First Christian Church. Preceding the main address will be remarks by the senior class president David R. Tarr.

Pontiac High School principal, John Thors Jr., will present to the class special awards, with superintendent of schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer awarding the diplomas.

Music will be presented by the PHS Band under the direction of Dale C. Harris. The program will open with the processional "Grand March" by H. H. Hadley, followed by "Concert Tango" by J. Belmonte, "Quick Step March," and the recessional "University Grand March" by Goldman.

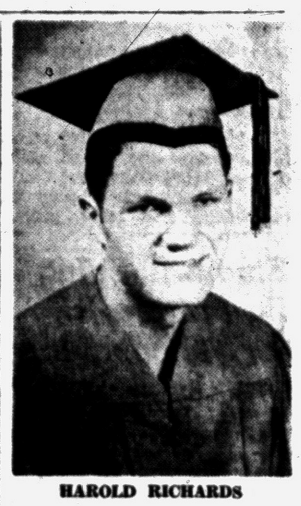

* * *

School clubs this week adjourned with picnics and meetings. Busiest were Y-Teen members, serving at the 1930 PHS Class Reunion and the Senior Prom, both held last Saturday; the banquet honoring retiring custodian "Scotty" Provan Wednesday, and an athletic banquet yesterday.

Good news came to two PHS senior girls this past week. To Patsy Dernberger, recipient of the UM Alumnae Club of Pontiac scholarship and to Virginia Baker, recipient of the PTA scholarship.

With the advent of summer vacation, nine PHS students will journey to Interlochen Music Camp in Northern Michigan. Those going are Darryl Mahan, Jack Hemming, Don Lovse, Phyllis Smith, Karen Lampher, Leon Frayer, Larry Dean, David Lugg and David Grubb.

Also spending part of their vacation away from home will be five students who will attend the UM Journalism Workshop starting June 20. They are Sharon Holland, Charles Williams, Judy Elwell, Helene Prizant and Sonja Ryan.

HAROLD RICHARDS

PHS Student First in Legion Essay Contest

Harold Richards, 17, son of Mrs. Marie Richards, 35 Mohawk, was the winner of an essay contest on the subject "The Master Link—Our Constitution" sponsored jointly by the Cook-Nelson Post No. 20 and the Chief Pontiac Post No. 337, American Legion Auxiliaries.

His essay will be sent to the Department of Michigan American Legion Auxiliary in Lansing to compete in the state wide contest.

Harold, a Pontiac High School senior plans to enter the U. of M. next fall. Science, chemistry and physics are his favorite subjects and he is active in all sports.

Judges in the contest were Robert Beauchamp, of Pontiac High School; Mrs. W. Paetow, chairman of Cook Nelson Post No. 20; and Mrs. Joe Philips, chairman of Chief Pontiac Post No. 337.

Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club Meets

Directors of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club met recently at the George Gray home on Yale avenue and heard William Coulacos outline the possibilities for a Boys Club in the Baldwin-Columbia area.

Coulacos, executive director of the Pontiac Boys Club, said 2,400 boys in that area have reached the eligible age for membership in a Boys Club.

Directors of the Community Club elected two new members to the board, Mrs. Cordie Hereim and Peter Mihay.

Michaelites All Awhirl in Summer Planning

By JANET ENGLISH

"School's out, school's out!" Today, June 10, was the last day of school for Michaelites this year.

The past few days have seen quite a few school activities. Junior Class Officers gave Father Michael J. O'Reilly, our pastor, the money which will buy the gift from the class of '56: it is to be desks for the Biology Room.

Next year's gridiron heroes signed up this week, and by the looks of these boys, I would say, that after some practice, we have an excellent chance of seeing another champion season in football.

Mary Jo McBrearty, last year's Michigan State Junior Girls' Roller Skating Champ, won second place in the Intermediate Ladies' which is a higher division. She also took third place in novice figures.

Another skater, Sharon Moore, who has only been skating about three years won third place in novice dance and took second in novice figures. Both of these sophomores are certainly to be congratulated for their accomplishments.

Walking down the hall Wednesday, we came upon a few faces viewing a map. Upon closer inspection, I found out that it was just another masterpiece belonging to Bob Haak. As a geography student, this freshman was compelled to draw one of these maps and the result was really very good.

Talk about startling results, the sophomore clothing students have been producing some attractive summer dresses. Among those with the best creations were: Nancy Walker, Judy Mellick, Judy Ericksin, Pat Backes, Pat Frazer, Bev Elmy, and Jane Neussendorfer.

"Which is which?" is a question Millie Robinson asked herself before donning her finished project. Much to her dismay her designing and modeling career was shattered when fellow clothing students informed her that her choice as to which was the front of her dress had been erroneous — it was on backwards.

A swimming party was given by Marcia Kramer last Friday night. All the juniors and underclassmen attending confessed that they had a spashing good time.

Many Michaelites are now in a whirl of plans and ideas on how they will be able to spend fascinating summer vacations. Colleen McEnery, Fran Hayes, Mary Singles, and Carol Vantivelt are planning to go to the SSCA (Summer School of Catholic Action) to be held in Chicago this August.

Fred West is looking forward to the time he is going to spend at Interlocken in the near future.

Even the clubs have plans for this summer. M-J's are beginning to map out the two weeks that they are going to spend in Atlanta, Georgia this July.

Croc-a-dolls, who incidentally are giving Franny Hayes a surprise party for her seventeenth birthday tonight, are looking forward to their third anniversary picnic to be held June 25. As soon as Patty Lane's stunning vehicle is given a complete overhauling, these girls intend to embark upon an all-day journey through this section of Michigan.

Members of the faculty, too, are going to have a tight summer schedule. Many of them will return to the Motherhouse at Nazareth, Mich., while others take courses at Notre Dame University and University of Detroit, and some will join the faculty at St. Rita's Summer School in Detroit.

Glenbrook, a summer camp for orphan boys, and Villa St. Anthony, a camp for girls are requiring the services of some of our teachers.

Graham Would Preach in Russia if Reds Ask Him

PARIS (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham wound up his 5-day Paris crusade last night and told newsmen he is ready to conduct a revival meeting in Russia "if the opportunity comes."

Eleven thousand persons — the largest audience of the crusade — turned out despite a drenching rain to hear the North Carolina preacher's final sermon. More than 450 persons came forward when Graham asked for "Decisions for Christ."

Almost everyone else in the huge audience stood up when Graham asked those who did not come forward "if you are ready to rededicate your lives to Christ."

The evangelist said that the proportion of "decisions" to the size of the audiences here was more than double that in any other city where he had conducted campaigns.

Graham said he would go to the Soviet Union to preach "if I were invited."

Attendance at the five-day crusade here totaled nearly 43,000 persons. The total decisions for Christ were 2,254.

State Policeman Dies

LANSING (AP) — State Police Detective Sgt. Richard Tubbs, 69, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in suburban Haslett last night. Tubbs had been a member of the state force for more than 30 years and was attached to East Lansing headquarters.

5 in Mississippi Vow to Keep Segregation

CANTON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's five candidates for governor stood on the same platform last night for the first time and promised to keep Negroes out of white public schools if elected.

The joint speaking engagement was sponsored by the Citizens Councils, a white organization designed to keep segregation despite the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing such practice.

About 800 white persons, including candidates for state and local offices, jammed the high school auditorium to hear the candidates. Cheers and applause punctuated each 15-minute talk.

The speakers were former Gov. Fielding Wright; Mrs. Mary Cain, Summit newspaperwoman; Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman of Ackerman; attorney Ross Barnett of Carthage; and attorney Paul Johnson of Hattiesburg.

The Citizens Councils claims 253 chapters and about 55,000 members in many Mississippi counties.

Fire Can't Find Firemen

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—When garbage collector Clarence Eckelmann's truck caught fire yesterday, he stepped on the gas and drove to the nearest fire house.

But he found it was closed for repairs. He telephoned for firemen to put out the blaze.

Our word "ostracize" comes from the Greek for oyster and, originally, a person who was ostracized was one who had been voted from the community by ballots of oyster shells.

St. Fred Freshies Move Up

Year Becomes Memory for Departing Graduates

By MARLENE GREEN

St. Fred seniors spent Monday morning practicing for commencement and the afternoon enjoying cool water and hot sun at Dodge Park. Underclassmen were deep in review for their exams which they took Wednesday and Thursday.

Tuesday found the entire high school dressed in Sunday-best, in honor of the seniors. A Mass for the seniors' intentions and a processional in cap and gown was first of the agenda. Next came a memorable breakfast in "The Hall," and then the gathering of books and report cards and home to prepare for graduation.

Tonight, another school year will have come to an end. The boards will be bare of any writing, desks will be vacant; books will be packed away in cupboards, and already some of the balmy air of summer vacations will have filled the rooms.

For seniors the year will soon be a memory and when recalling its events some will bring a tear, but more will bring a smile and maybe even a chuckle, while underclassmen are anxiously looking forward to a few weeks vacation and then the return to school for another wonderful year.

Seniors leave behind all their successful accomplishments while new freshies are busy trying to think of something to do that will make them long remembered when they are gone from the halls of old SFS.

We've had fun through the year bringing you all the news and even a few ridiculous things; we hope you've had as much fun reading them.

So, until we find ourselves faced with a new school year, new events, and to be a little different, a new reporter, everyone have a wonderful summer vacation. Take care of yourselves, we'd like you around to read this column next year.

Italian Red Paper Losing Circulation

ROME (AP) — The circulation of L'Unita, communism's most powerful voice west of the Iron Curtain, has been slipping.

This is reported by an authoritative source who cannot be identified but who can cite specific figures. L'Unita itself publishes no circulation figures.

The newspaper is the official organ of Italy's Communist party, which claims a membership of two million. It publishes in Rome, Turin, Milan and Genoa. The source says its total circulation for all its daily editions is 318,000 now against 435,000 a year ago. It sells for 25 lire (4 cents).

* * *

A foreign observer who follows the Communist press closely says the slump reflects at least in part the recent Communist losses in Italian labor ranks. The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) has lost 159,770 members recently.

Communists have begun a nationwide drive to pump up the circulation.

Car Kills Detroiter

DETROIT (AP) — Floyd E. McCreedy, 53, of Detroit, was killed today when struck by a car as he crossed an intersection in Dearborn. Police said Billy Mull, 20, of Garden City, was the driver.

An Engineer

Great opportunity is in store for a boy or girl interested in a career in engineering.

Our future development in industry and commerce depends on the work of present-day engineers and those who will follow them in later years. This is as it has been throughout the world's history.

The pyramids of Egypt still stand as examples of early engineering, designed by men to resist the wear of time. The early Romans also were engineers of great ability, and some of their roads and aqueducts still exist. The great cathedrals and castles of Europe also were designed by old time engineers.

Modern engineers have spanned continents with railroads, designed airplanes and ships, and developed such wonders of communication as the telephone, radio and printing presses.

There are many branches of engineering, such as Civil, Electrical and Mechanical. Work in these fields includes the designing and building of roads and bridges, electronic devices and machines.

To become an engineer, a young man must study many things besides basic engineering courses, and must be especially good in mathematics. Color today's picture of an engineer at work, and add it to your collection of future careers.

Adenauer on Top of World Principally by Own Efforts

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the "old fox" of the German Federal Republic, is sitting on top of the world.

Due largely to Adenauer's own statesmanship, West Germany has become a sovereign nation and has been made a full partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

* * *

And now Soviet Russia, in an attempt to head off West German rearmament, is trying to curry favor with him.

To what extent the Russians may succeed is something for the Western Allies to worry about during the next few weeks.

But it seems safe to predict that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other Allied diplomatic leaders will not lose any sleep over the situation.

The Kremlin's invitation to Adenauer to go to Moscow and negotiate a treaty for the establishment of full diplomatic and trade relations quite naturally caused a diplomatic sensation.

It was, however, a logical move and one that Western leaders had foreseen.

SAY BID ACCEPTED

Dispatches from Bonn, the West German capital, say that Adenauer has accepted the Kremlin's bid.

Russia has two things to offer Adenauer. First is the prospect of uniting the 18,000,000 people of Communist-ruled East Germany with the 50,000,000 people of Adenauer's free West Germany. Second is the prospect of restoring to Germany the rich territory, extending eastward of the Oder and Neisse rivers, which is now occupied by Red Poland.

That is tempting bait. But Russia's price would be a pledge by West Germany to stop rearming, drop all its ties with the Western democracies, and accept the status of a neutral nation. A weak neutral nation, of course, which the Red armies would be free to overrun at will.

Adenauer is not the man, on his record, to pay that price.

Ramrod straight, with a sharp-featured poker face, West Germany's leader is as strong an anti-Communist as is any Western leader. Further, he knows Germany's strength, he knows Russia is afraid of a rearmed Germany and he knows Germany will become a world power again.

Winston Churchill, a tired old man of 80, has just retired from active politics. Adenauer, who was 79 on Jan. 5, is at the peak of his career and is the strongest figure in West Germany.

Adenauer has devoted his entire adult life to politics except during the Nazi regime. He was unknown internationally until he was made chancellor on the formation of the West German Republic in 1949. Since then he has won the respect of the free world and the enmity of the Communists.

Adenauer knows that Russia will have to recognize his West German Republic sooner or later whatever may happen right now.

Pontiac Press Photo

'ALOHA' — Seniors Beverly Barkeley, 554 Lenox; Jim Stephens, 179 Lake St. and Judy Dickstein, 240 Chippewa, symbolize the city's graduating high school students as they wave farewell from the steps of Pontiac High. PHS baccalaureate service will be Sunday, commencement Thursday.

Class of 1955 Closing Book

Many Upper Classmen Nostalgic, Dewy-Eyed as Goal Is Reached

By VICKY MICU

The final complete week for school at Pontiac High School students has ended, with school being in session only next Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday are final exam days, and Friday students return in the afternoon for report cards.

Today was the final day for seniors, as they proudly displayed their caps and gowns. They now look forward to Baccalaureate Service and Commencement.

Baccalaureate for the Pontiac High School June graduating class of 1955 will be held Sunday at the Central Methodist Church, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Speaker for the evening will be the Rev. William Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Opening the program will be an organ recital by Lyndon Salathiel, including "Fantasy in A Minor," "Preludium D" and "the Nineteenth Psalm." The processional "Festival March" will be followed by the invocation delivered by the Rev. J. Allen Parker.

Scripture reading by the Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. Johns Lutheran Church will follow the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," in which the audience will participate. After this, the PHS a capella choir will sing "We Praise Thee."

The Rev. Milton H. Bank will lead in prayer, followed by the offertory anthem "Make A Joyful Sound." The main address of the evening, "What Will You Do in the Swelling of Jordan," then will be presented by Rev. Marbach, after which the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" will be sung and benediction by Rev. Marbach will be given. Closing the service will be the Recessional "Ceremonial March."

* * *

Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, president of Albion College, will speak to more than 360 PHS seniors at Commencement exercises next Thursday evening in the PHS gymnasium beginning at 8 p.m. Title of his address will be "Youth Faces Tomorrow."

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education, will preside at the affair, along with Dr. Duncan McColl, pastor of the First Christian Church. Preceding the main address will be remarks by the senior class president David R. Tarr.

Pontiac High School principal, John Thors Jr., will present to the class special awards, with superintendent of schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer awarding the diplomas.

Music will be presented by the PHS Band under the direction of Dale C. Harris. The program will open with the processional "Grand March" by H. H. Hadley, followed by "Concert Tango" by J. Belmonte, "Quick Step March," and the recessional "University Grand March" by Goldman.

School clubs this week adjourned with picnics and meetings. Busiest were Y-Teen members, serving at the 1930 PHS Class Reunion and the Senior Prom, both held last Saturday; the banquet honoring retiring custodian "Scotty" Provan Wednesday, and an athletic banquet yesterday.

Good news came to two PHS senior girls this past week. To Patsy Dernberger, recipient of the UM Alumnae Club of Pontiac scholarship and to Virginia Baker, recipient of the PTA scholarship.

With the advent of summer vacation, nine PHS students will journey to Interlochen Music Camp in Northern Michigan. Those going are Darryl Mahan, Jack Hemming, Don Lovse, Phyllis Smith, Karen Lampher, Leon Frayer, Larry Dean, David Lugg and David Grubb.

Also spending part of their vacation away from home will be five students who will attend the UM Journalism Workshop starting June 20. They are Sharon Holland, Charles Williams, Judy Elwell, Helene Prizant and Sonja Ryan.

HAROLD RICHARDS

PHS Student First in Legion Essay Contest

Harold Richards, 17, son of Mrs. Marie Richards, 35 Mohawk, was the winner of an essay contest on the subject "The Master Link—Our Constitution" sponsored jointly by the Cook-Nelson Post No. 20 and the Chief Pontiac Post No. 337, American Legion Auxiliaries.

His essay will be sent to the Department of Michigan American Legion Auxiliary in Lansing to compete in the state wide contest.

Harold, a Pontiac High School senior plans to enter the U. of M. next fall. Science, chemistry and physics are his favorite subjects and he is active in all sports.

Judges in the contest were Robert Beauchamp, of Pontiac High School; Mrs. W. Paetow, chairman of Cook Nelson Post No. 20; and Mrs. Joe Philips, chairman of Chief Pontiac Post No. 337.

Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club Meets

Directors of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club met recently at the George Gray home on Yale avenue and heard William Coulacos outline the possibilities for a Boys Club in the Baldwin-Columbia area.

Coulacos, executive director of the Pontiac Boys Club, said 2,400 boys in that area have reached the eligible age for membership in a Boys Club.

Directors of the Community Club elected two new members to the board, Mrs. Cordie Hereim and Peter Mihay.

Michaelites All Awhirl in Summer Planning

By JANET ENGLISH

"School's out, school's out!" Today, June 10, was the last day of school for Michaelites this year.

The past few days have seen quite a few school activities. Junior Class Officers gave Father Michael J. O'Reilly, our pastor, the money which will buy the gift from the class of '56; it is to be desks for the Biology Room.

Next year's gridiron heroes signed up this week, and by the looks of these boys, I would say, that after some practice, we have an excellent chance of seeing another champion season in football.

Mary Jo McBrearty, last year's Michigan State Junior Girls' Roller Skating Champ, won second place in the Intermediate Ladies' which is a higher division. She also took third place in novice figures.

Another skater, Sharon Moore, who has only been skating about three years won third place in novice dance and took second in novice figures. Both of these sophomores are certainly to be congratulated for their accomplishments.

Walking down the hall Wednesday, we came upon a few faces viewing a map. Upon closer inspection, I found out that it was just another masterpiece belonging to Bob Haak. As a geography student, this freshman was compelled to draw one of these maps and the result was really very good.

Talk about startling results, the sophomore clothing students have been producing some attractive summer dresses. Among those with the best creations were: Nancy Walker, Judy Mellick, Judy Ericksin, Pat Backes, Pat Frazer, Bev Elmy, and Jane Neussendorfer.

"Which is which?" is a question Millie Robinson asked herself before donning her finished project. Much to her dismay her designing and modeling career was shattered when fellow clothing students informed her that her choice as to which was the front of her dress had been erroneous — it was on backwards.

A swimming party was given by Marcia Kramer last Friday night. All the juniors and underclassmen attending confessed that they had a spashing good time.

Many Michaelites are now in a whirl of plans and ideas on how they will be able to spend fascinating summer vacations. Colleen McEnery, Fran Hayes, Mary Singles, and Carol Vantivelt are planning to go to the SSCA (Summer School of Catholic Action) to be held in Chicago this August.

Fred West is looking forward to the time he is going to spend at Interlocken in the near future.

Even the clubs have plans for this summer. M-J's are beginning to map out the two weeks that they are going to spend in Atlanta, Georgia this July.

Croc-a-dolls, who incidentally are giving Franny Hayes a surprise party for her seventeenth birthday tonight, are looking forward to their third anniversary picnic to be held June 25. As soon as Patty Lane's stunning vehicle is given a complete overhauling, these girls intend to embark upon an all-day journey through this section of Michigan.

Members of the faculty, too, are going to have a tight summer schedule. Many of them will return to the Motherhouse at Nazareth, Mich., while others take courses at Notre Dame University and University of Detroit, and some will join the faculty at St. Rita's Summer School in Detroit.

Glenbrook, a summer camp for orphan boys, and Villa St. Anthony, a camp for girls are requiring the services of some of our teachers.

Graham Would Preach in Russia if Reds Ask Him

PARIS (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham wound up his 5-day Paris crusade last night and told newsmen he is ready to conduct a revival meeting in Russia "if the opportunity comes."

Eleven thousand persons — the largest audience of the crusade—turned out despite a drenching rain to hear the North Carolina preacher's final sermon. More than 450 persons came forward when Graham asked for "Decisions for Christ."

Almost everyone else in the huge audience stood up when Graham asked those who did not come forward "if you are ready to rededicate your lives to Christ."

The evangelist said that the proportion of "decisions" to the size of the audiences here was more than double that in any other city where he had conducted campaigns.

Graham said he would go to the Soviet Union to preach "if I were invited."

Attendance at the five-day crusade here totaled nearly 43,000 persons. The total decisions for Christ were 2,254.

State Policeman Dies

LANSING (AP) — State Police Detective Sgt. Richard Tubbs, 69, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in suburban Haslett last night. Tubbs had been a member of the state force for more than 30 years and was attached to East Lansing headquarters.

5 in Mississippi Vow to Keep Segregation

CANTON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's five candidates for governor stood on the same platform last night for the first time and promised to keep Negroes out of white public schools if elected.

The joint speaking engagement was sponsored by the Citizens Councils, a white organization designed to keep segregation despite the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing such practice.

About 800 white persons, including candidates for state and local offices, jammed the high school auditorium to hear the candidates. Cheers and applause punctuated each 15-minute talk.

The speakers were former Gov. Fielding Wright; Mrs. Mary Cain, Summit newspaperwoman; Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman of Ackerman; attorney Ross Barnett of Carthage; and attorney Paul Johnson of Hattiesburg.

The Citizens Councils claims 253 chapters and about 55,000 members in many Mississippi counties.

Fire Can't Find Firemen

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—When garbage collector Clarence Eckelmann's truck caught fire yesterday, he stepped on the gas and drove to the nearest fire house.

But he found it was closed for repairs. He telephoned for firemen to put out the blaze.

Our word "ostracize" comes from the Greek for oyster and, originally, a person who was ostracized was one who had been voted from the community by ballots of oyster shells.

St. Fred Freshies Move Up

Year Becomes Memory for Departing Graduates

By MARLENE GREEN

St. Fred seniors spent Monday morning practicing for commencement and the afternoon enjoying cool water and hot sun at Dodge Park. Underclassmen were deep in review for their exams which they took Wednesday and Thursday.

Tuesday found the entire high school dressed in Sunday-best, in honor of the seniors. A Mass for the seniors' intentions and a processional in cap and gown was first of the agenda. Next came a memorable breakfast in "The Hall," and then the gathering of books and report cards and home to prepare for graduation.

Tonight, another school year will have come to an end. The boards will be bare of any writing, desks will be vacant; books will be packed away in cupboards, and already some of the balmy air of summer vacations will have filled the rooms.

For seniors the year will soon be a memory and when recalling its events some will bring a tear, but more will bring a smile and maybe even a chuckle, while underclassmen are anxiously looking forward to a few weeks vacation and then the return to school for another wonderful year.

Seniors leave behind all their successful accomplishments while new freshies are busy trying to think of something to do that will make them long remembered when they are gone from the halls of old SFS.

We've had fun through the year bringing you all the news and even a few ridiculous things; we hope you've had as much fun reading them.

So, until we find ourselves faced with a new school year, new events, and to be a little different, a new reporter, everyone have a wonderful summer vacation. Take care of yourselves, we'd like you around to read this column next year.

Italian Red Paper Losing Circulation

ROME (AP) — The circulation of L'Unita, communism's most powerful voice west of the Iron Curtain, has been slipping.

This is reported by an authoritative source who cannot be identified but who can cite specific figures. L'Unita itself publishes no circulation figures.

The newspaper is the official organ of Italy's Communist party, which claims a membership of two million. It publishes in Rome, Turin, Milan and Genoa. The source says its total circulation for all its daily editions is 318,000 now against 435,000 a year ago. It sells for 25 lire (4 cents).

* * *

A foreign observer who follows the Communist press closely says the slump reflects at least in part the recent Communist losses in Italian labor ranks. The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) has lost 159,770 members recently.

Communists have begun a nationwide drive to pump up the circulation.

Bridal Bouquet Fashions Change Through Years

Pontiac Press Photos

Gail Nienstedt of South Shore drive, Watkins Lake met Helen Cate of West Huron street while both were shopping for dishes for their new homes. Gail, whose fiance is Tom C. Osstyn, has chosen Hawthorn, a white china with a graceful spray of flowers. Helen's pattern is more modern; Pattern Lace has a pale grey border with pink sprays on it. Helen is marrying Rithard L. Corl.

Whether your wedding trip takes you to a far off tropical isle or on just a tour of Michigan it will be a treasured memory. Marlyn Sherman of Cheltingham drive and Robert Wright of Lakeview avenue (pictured) have spent endless hours with travel folders and road maps planning their trip. The couple will be married June 25.

Margaret Ann Smith looks over possible bouquets for her wedding attendants. The perfect flowers are so important for that big day in a girl's life. Margaret who lives on Windcroft drive is marrying Joseph R. Swengros on June 18.

Cascade Arrangement Now Popular

BY JANET ODELL

Ever hear of a tussie-mussie? We never did either until we started reading up on wedding flower traditions.

A tussie-mussie is a tight little round bouquet that is built up almost to a point in the center. Victorian in nature, it is still appropriate for any bride wearing a Victorian gown.

Time was when the bridegroom chose the bouquet for his bride with little or no consideration for the dress she was wearing. Now it is the bride who does the choosing, but it is still the "prerogative and privilege of the bridegroom to pay for it."

Any white flower is permissible for the bride's bouquet. It is interesting to note how fashion in flowers has changed. Once white roses were practically the only kind used. One florist tells us that rarely are they ordered nowadays; the use of gardenias has also declined.

SMALLER BOUQUETS

Smaller bouquets are also in vogue. We once overheard a bride-to-be who couldn't have stood more than 5 feet tall with shoes on asking for long-stemmed calla lillies in her wedding bouquet. The floral designer was able to dissuade her from this. It stands to reason that taller, larger brides should carry larger bouquets than petite ones.

* * *

Arm and shower bouquets are out of style. The arm bouquet is awkward to manage and may catch in the veil. Shower bouquets dangling ribbon streamers and bows and small flowers have given way to more modernistic cascade arrangement.

Remember when asparagus fern was the only greenery used in bouquets? Designers now try to use the natural foliage of the flower, or at least foliage that is not foreign to the flowers.

Ivy has come into its own. There is an increasing general use of this interestingly shaped vine, both for brides' and attendants' bouquets. Other foliage, such as croton and Pothos leaves, is also used effectively.

LUCK FOR THE BRIDE

A bit of blue in a wedding bouquet is supposed to bring luck to the bride. In fact, color is beginning to have a definite place in a bride's bouquet, especially if she is wearing a pale-colored gown.

* * *

The modern bride links herself to the chain of tradition that reaches back across the centuries when she throws her bouquet to the bridesmaids.

During the 14th Century it was considered a lucky omen to win the bride's garter after the ceremony — she left one dangling where it could be easily reached. Sometimes the bride was hurt in the scuffle.

By the 15th Century "stocking-throwing" was a favorite bridal custom. But then some enterprising maiden threw her bridal bouquet. The custom won instant approval and continues to this day.

Pythian Unit Plans June Social Event

A social gathering to be held June 20 at Knights of Pythias Hall on West Huron street was planned by members of Fanny E. Tompkins Temple 41 when they met at the hall.

Plans were discussed at the recent meeting for sending children to the Pythian recreation center at Burt Lake. An annual steak roast to be held with the knights was also discussed.

The steak roast will take place at the Otter Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith. The sewing club of the temple will meet during the summer months.

Chapter Plans Installation

Putting a ring around the calendar at the spot indicating July 13 are women of the Pontioak Chapter, National Secretaries' Association, for that is the date they've chosen to install their newly elected officers.

* * *

Topping the list of office-holders is Mary Eleanor Lockman, who was elected president of the group at a dinner meeting at Hotel Waldron.

The slate also includes Edythe Perry as vice president; Ula Trevathan as recording secretary; Florence Robinson as corresponding secretary and Loretta Collins as treasurer.

Installation will take place at 8 p.m. in Hotel Waldron. Employed secretaries throughout Oakland County have been invited to the open meeting, which will be followed by a social hour.

* * *

Miss Lockman presided during the business portion of the session held on Wednesday, when plans were laid for a scholarship fund and it was announced that dates for the national convention in Chattanooga, Tenn., are July 20-24.

Members are also planning to attend the fifth annual conference of the Michigan Division of the National Secretaries Association to be held at Michigan State College on June 18 and 19.

Little Black Dress Gives Way to Brown for Fall 1955

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The little black dress so dear to the hearts of American women is going to give way to the little brown dress this fall.

Brown is the new darling of the fashion designers, it appears from current previews of fall ready-to-wear. Every shade of brown, from blond to black coffee is seen in major collections in New York's crowded garment center, now a milling melee of buyers and fashion reporters.

* * *

Christian Dior likes brown. So do Adele Simpson, Ben Reig, Vera Maxwell, Claire McCardell, Oleg Cassini and other top designers who help decide months in advance what American women are going to wear next season.

The new clothes are going to make a lot of women happy, and even please many husbands, because they are flattering, functional, not drastically different in line from current styles—and they will cost no more than they did last year. In some cases prices are even slightly less.

* * *

The costume stands out as the No. 1 favorite for fall. This may be a full-length coat and a matching or coordinated dress, a dress-and-jacket combination or an ensemble consisting of short topper, matching skirt and blouse.

Costumes are highlights of practically every collection, shown in handsome woolens often combined with satin. New looking and highly wearable is the straight, full-length coat with matching skirt and coordinated blouse, being shown in all fabrics, from casual tweed to sleek broadcloth.

* * *

Dior, who usually saves his fireworks for his Paris opening, has done an American collection that continues his "A-line" of spring, but calls it "Alpha" instead. This is the narrow-shouldered, low-belted or jacketed outfit with skirt flaring toward the hemline, either pleated or with bell-shaped fullness.

Suit jackets can be any length for fall. Adele Simpson shows five different suit silhouettes: The "little overcoat" suit, with three-quarter length boxy jacket and matching skirt or dress; the tunic suit; the 26-inch fitted jacket; the 26-inch loose jacket (which hugs the hips), and the costume with brief curving bolero over a matching dress.

* * *

While the slim silhouette dominates the daytime picture, there are notable exceptions, such as Dior's "Alpha" line and Claire McCardell's full-skirted casual dresses.

For after-five wear, many full-skirted styles are shown, but there are more long evening dresses than formerly, these about evenly divided between slim satin sheaths and the "picture" type of elaborate ball gowns with full skirts and even, in some instances, trains.

The tawny tones of blond satin appear again and again in cocktail and dinner fashions, and the same fabric often accents wool daytime outfits.

Many slim, dark, wool dresses achieve a sort of schoolgirl look by the addition of white satin collars and bow ties—a style that will appeal to the tailored career-girl type.

Skirt lengths are slightly shorter, if anything—but only slightly. And the threat of a flat-chested feminine citizenry seems to be past. Busts are not accented as much as formerly, but in practically all collections—even Dior's—the bust definitely is there, slightly raised and rounded, but present and accounted for.

It is sometimes a temptation to finish another person's sentence for him—especially if he seems to be having trouble expressing himself. But tempting though it may be—it is a rude thing to do.

You can't think much of a man's opinion if you aren't willing to wait until he finishes putting it into words.

Plants Given to Junior Gardeners

Club Is Sponsoring Unique Program of Conservation

The Better Home and Garden Club's Junior Gardeners met at the Boys' Club to receive tomato and green pepper plants and flower seeds, which they will plant.

* * *

Lumber for bird houses was also donated for use by the children.

This is the first year the Better Home and Garden Club has attempted such a broad approach to conservation. Other years the club has paid tuition for teachers to attend Higgins Lake Conservation Camp.

Members hope that this year they can bring the true meaning of conservation right home to many individuals through their three-fold program.

SHOW SCHEDULED

This project will be climaxed at the flower show to be held Aug. 27 and 28 in the Waterford CAI building. There will be cash and ribbon awards for junior participants.

* * *

Charles Schad of the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department addressed members at the recent meeting.

Serving on the Junior Gardeners committee with Mrs. C. A. Beamer, general chairman, are Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Ray Field, Mrs. Emery Kaid, Mrs. Harry Armstrong and Mrs. George L. Brown.

Junior gardeners who were unable to attend the meeting may contact one of the committee members for their materials. Mrs. Beamer is in charge of plywood for the bird houses.

Metropolitan Group Discusses Project

Plans were furthered for the money-making project to be sponsored Saturday by the Ladies' Auxiliary to Metropolitan Club Spirit Six when the group met Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Wilson was hostess to the group at her home on Voorheis road. Hostesses were Mrs. James Yaeger, Mrs. John Crawley and Mrs. Howard Gilleland.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John DePauw on Argyle avenue.

Daughters III

Dorreene Deanne and Darrlene Denae Monroe, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Monroe of Forest street, have been confined to their home for the past two weeks due to illness.

Altar Group Makes Fall Bazaar Plans

The Altar Society of St. Michael Church gathered at the church Tuesday to make plans for an annual fall bazaar to be held Nov. 5 and 6.

Mrs. Gayle Coulson is general chairman of the affair. Mrs. Charles Schwartz was named kitchen chairman.

Clean Curtains Freshen Home

Nothing adds more to the clean, cool, ready-for-summer look than crisp curtains at the windows and fresh colorful draperies.

Nylon curtains wash like a dream, with chlorine bleach to retain their whiteness or pretty pastel glow.

Now many of the new window dressings are being made of dacron, another synthetic fiber that's safe in the washtub.

It's just as responsive to the bleach treatment as nylon, cotton or linen.

Now that chlorine bleach is available in the new dry form, and so much more convenient to use than in the heavy liquid bleach jugs, it's just a breeze to wash the curtains regularly and frequently.

Honor and Awards Ceremony Held at Eastern Junior

A candlelight ceremony of honors and awards was held Wednesday and Thursday mornings in a double assembly at Eastern Junior High School.

The students with outstanding scholarship, citizenship and service earn the pins, first the bronze, the silver, the gold, and the gold guard, the latter requiring the highest merits.

David Moreno, president of the student council, introduced the chairman of this event, who is always the student having the highest scholastic record in the school, Joyce Reynolds received this honor.

Harry Moore explained the system of honors and awards, telling the necessary requirements and the time needed to earn these certificates.

Rosemary Fellows lighted the first candle in honor of the pupils who received the bronze award. Ellsworth Sturdy presented the bronze award to 73 boys and girls.

Response was made by J. D. Eagle playing "The Two Grenadiers" a musical solo.

Julie Blank lighted the second candle to honor the students earning the silver "E". She praised them for their service to the school, and their high standard of scholarship and citizenship. Francis Staley, principal, presented the silver pins to the fifty-six students in this group.

* * *

Bill Ruhl responded for them with the reading "Take Time."

Claudia Wasik lighted a candle to honor the group earning the gold "E".

This pin requires greater effort and higher standards. Patsy Brasher, Louise Shaw, Delores Shea and Ellen Taylor as well as Patricia Bergman, Frances Hoopingarner, John Howell, Georgia Humphrey and Peggy Jarrett were in this group.

RECEIVE GOLD "E"

Others receiving the gold "E" were Lona Lambdin, Donald Lucas, David Moreni, Rita O'Camb, Sharon Ostrander, Rollis Rosser, Sophia Skinner, Shirley Snow and Beebe Terry.

The response for this group was given by Ellen Ann Taylor with the recitation "To the Children" by Robert Nathan.

Aileen Farner lighted the last candle to honor the group earning the highest award given, the gold guard. Students receiving this award were Julie Blank, Pat Brown, Lorraine Drake, Aileen Farner, Rosemary Fellows, Judy Gutzke, Ann Hamilton and Barbara Mitchell.

Others were Harry Moore, Donna Pruett, Joyce Reynolds, Sandra Sommerville, Virginia Taylor and Claudia Wasik. Mr. Staley also commended them and made the presentation.

Response for this group was made by Pat Brown and Sandra Sommerville playing a piano duet, Chopin's "Polonaise In A Major".

Joyce Reynolds presented the gold guard to Mr. Staley on behalf of the students. He is completing his stay at Eastern, and will take up his new duties as principal of Pontiac High School in September.

David Moreno, outgoing president of the Student Association Council, gave the oath of office and installed Ellen Taylor as the incoming president of the council. Elwin Beaty is the new vice president.

The program concluded with the audience joining the entire group in the Flag salute and singing the Star Spangled Banner. Connie Kolb was piano accompanist.

Cowboy Outfits Still Popular With Small Fry

NEW YORK (INS) — Anybody who thought cowboy suits had gone out of fashion for small fry better guess again.

A whole new generation of small guntoters is demanding buckskin and fringe. These kids may never have heard of William S. Hart, Tom Mix or even Hopalong Cassidy — but they sure have heard of 1955's western hero — Davy Crockett!

Manufacturers who have been selling Davy Crockett shirts, pants and even coonskin caps like hotcakes are producing even more "wild frontier" numbers for next season.

In fact, this juvenile passion for Davy Crockett has produced one of the most amusing fashion dilemmas of the year:

Should Davy Crockett clothing for girls be identified with Davy or with the hitherto unpublicized Mrs. Davy Crockett?

Children's wear manufacturers are actually doing serious thinking on that point. Just the same, they haven't slowed down in the production of Crockett items — shirts with fringe, frontier pants, polo shirts and girls' blouses, underwear, jackets, shoes, pedal pushers, sweaters and of course — those coonskin caps.

The kids love all these and are happily ignoring a fact that mothers may remember — the very same clothes, plus coonskin cap, were sold just a couple of years ago as Daniel Boone items!

When some people count their blessings instead of sheep, they may realize they've been fleeced.

Irritable? Try Art of Relaxing

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One advantage of being in my kind of business is the opportunity it gives to develop a keen understanding of human nature.

When you see people all day and listen to them, you are soon able to appraise them very quickly.

NOT MIRACULOUS

My friends who are psychiatrists, doctors, personnel directors, newspaper reporters, employment agency interviewers or market researchers, all have this ability.

Sometimes you think they're reading your mind, in some miraculous way.

But it's not miraculous, it's the natural result of seeing and listening to hundreds of people.

I had an example of this myself recently, at a huge dinner given by the Society of Magazine Article Writers, in New York.

AN EXCITING PARTY

There were about three hundred people, in a huge and fashionable restaurant, seated at big round tables — twelve to a table.

There were dozens of waiters weaving in and out, bringing cocktails and then innumerable plates and serving-dishes.

It was an exciting party and the babble of hundreds of voices rose to the ceiling.

Looking around my table, I noticed a nice-looking man, chatting with the lady to his left.

AUTHOR OF THE BOOK

By making a few discreet inquiries, I learned that he was Herman S. Schwartz, the author of a book called, "The Art of Relaxation."

If anybody has a right to do a book on relaxation, it's the man who could practice it in the bedlam of that party!

After that, of course, I read his book and found it to be just as good as I had expected.

Mr. Schwartz speaks practically and knowingly, and his book contains many good points.

It seems to me, that this book would be a gold mine for the busy housewife, tending her house and her children all day and up all night with the baby.

If you find your life so hectic that you get tense and irritable, do read "The Art of Relaxation."

It will add much to your daily life.

Students presenting a recital at Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church numbered 39. Those participating in the program included Shirley Hayward, Linda Dean, Judy LeClair, Cecelia English and Linda Green.

Others were Jeanann Keefer, Dale LeClair, Barbara Williams, Sharon Murphy, Diane Green, Ann Nichols, Lois Long, Sue Franklin, Ellen Hayward, Linda Clancy, Connie Annis, David Sherk, John Nichols, Carolyn Lingle, Martha Wells, Linda Sherk, Mary June Miles and Susan Jones.

Added to names already mentioned were Glenna Hall, Carol Beltz, Marilyn Larson, Jane Chetester, Eddie Harontunian, Joyce Deweese, Tommy Dean, Priscilla Jones, Nancy Jones, Ellen Wood, Stephanie Jones and Eunice Hayward.

Rounding out the list of musicians at the recent program were Diane Williams, David Murphy, Beverly Annis and Margaret Kubiak.

Bus Driver Asks Help of Riders

Worst Offenders Are Last-Minute Change Diggers

By EMILY POST

A man writes me as follows: "I have been driving a bus for many years and I have a pet peeve that I wish you would write about in your column as I believe it comes under the heading of good manners.

"In spite of the signs, 'Please have fare ready,' a great many of the passengers start fumbling for their fares as they get to the coin box, thus holding up a long line of passengers behind them.

"Most of the offenders are women whom I am sure are not aware of their inconsiderateness to the other passengers and I think a word from you on the subject will help a lot."

Answer: I am very willing to print your letter and hope that it will do some good.

I agree with you that such behavior is not only thoughtless but very inconsiderate of the other passengers, as well as the driver.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In what manner shall the dining-room waitress and the chambermaid be given their tips at the end of a two-weeks stay at a resort hotel?"

Answer: You give them each a tip the last time you see them.

You give the waitress hers just before you leave the dining room. You call the chambermaid just before you leave and give her your tip.

If she is not around at the time, it is best to put the amount in a sealed envelope addressed to her and leave it at the desk.

If you leave it lying on the bureau it may very well be found by someone who has done little for you, and the one who gave you especially good service would receive nothing.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married this summer and I am going to give him and his bride-to-be a sizable check for a wedding present.

"I would like to know if it is necessary to give the check to the bride or may I give it to my son and tell him it is for both."

Answer: I think it would be nicest to draw the check to both John and Mary Jones and give it in the presence of both.

Think Twice Before Writing Love Letters

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last week my boy friend and I broke up.

"We had sent love letters back and forth to each other—and I would like very much to have mine back!

"I have reason to believe that he shows the letters I wrote to him to some of his friends.

"I've already tried once to get them back without success. Have you a good suggestion?"

Answer: The next time you can talk to him alone, tell him that you've heard he's been showing your letters to his pals.

Make it clear that in your book a gentleman doesn't kiss and tell. Remind him that you meant every word you wrote when you wrote it, but you meant those words for his eyes alone.

You certainly didn't count on their being published generally. Ask him how he'd feel if you passed out the sweet things he wrote you for all the girls to read?

Then propose an Indian war dance around a mutual bonfire. See what he'd say to a suggestion that you burn up the whole collection together.

He might find the idea of a ceremony intriguing. But keep it private. You can make a joke of it if you keep it between yourselves.

It might get to be something if you have an audience.

And, once burnt, you'd better be shy about putting your tenderest sentiments on paper another time!

"Dear Miss Woodward: For the past five months I've been going steady with a boy who is very nice and five years older than I am.

"I went with the rest of my class on our senior trip, and while away I met Tim.

"He's very different from all the boys around here, and he asked me to write him if I broke up with my steady beau back home.

"Well, I didn't break up, but I did write to Tim. I'd like to go with him but I don't want to break up with my steady.

"Please tell me what to do."

Answer: Well, wait and see if you hear from Tim. Tim is a casual acquaintance that you made while away on a trip.

His strangeness made him seem new and different. The circumstances of your meeting seemed romantic.

But going with Tim may not be on his program. He may be going with somebody already. And he may consider you too far away, inconvenient and inaccessible.

So don't be surprised if you don't hear from him. Or if you get a noncommittal, uninvolving little note from him that promises nothing.

And wouldn't it be silly to break off with a nice, steady beau for the sake of a will-o-the-wisp?

MR. and MRS. W. O. WRIGHT

Planning to mark their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wright of West Rundell street. Married June 11, 1905, in Clarkston, they have four daughters and two sons. Mrs. Benny Ellsworth and Mrs. Alton Bonneson reside in Drayton Plains, Mrs. Peter J. Theis lives on West Rundell street and Mrs. Ray Bennett makes her home in Sikeston, Mo. The sons, Waltrip and Donald live in Campbell, Mo., and Metropolis, Ill., respectively. The Wrights also have eight grandchildren and one great grandson.

Plain Cake Pepped Up With Spice

Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you are looking for an unusual cake to take on a picnic some day soon, why not try Mrs. Leona Yanesh's Cinnamon Cake? With a plain white frosting—or even unfrosted—it will make an excellent dessert.

Mrs. Yanesh is a grandmother with a job (you should hear the pride in her voice when she talks about her grandchild.) In the few leisure hours she has outside of working time she enjoys a little handwork like knitting or crocheting. She gardens a bit. But her chief hobby is cooking.

CINNAMON CAKE
By Mrs. Leona Yanesh

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ cup shortening (part butter)
1¼ cups light brown sugar
2 eggs
1 cup buttermilk

Sift first four ingredients together. Cream butter and sugar together, add eggs. Add buttermilk alternately with sifted dry ingredients. Bake in a greased and floured 9-inch square pan 25 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Frost with seven minute or white butter frosting if desired.

Jeannie Simpson Feted

A pink, orchid and purple color scheme decorated the party table used at a personal bridal shower given Wednesday evening to honor Jeannie Simpson.

Given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gerald A. Simpson of Beach street, the shower is one of several preceding Jeannie's marriage to James J. Kothe on June 18.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Henry M. Simpson of Gladstone place and the late Mr. Simpson, and the Henry Kothes of Birmingham.

To carry out the motif, pink Carol Amling rosettas were arranged around a centerpiece of pink daisies and carnations and orchid and purple delphinium, flanked by lighted tapers.

GUESTS INCLUDED

Invited guests were Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Kothe, Mrs. James T. Bego, Mrs. Alfred T. Delpier, Veronica Jean Simpson, Mrs. James Haggard, Mrs. Paul Harworth, Jeannette DeClerck, Judy Stevenson, Betty Dean, Mrs. Patrick Pennell, Mrs. John P. Sheridan and Mrs. Earl Hotchkiss.

Others were Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. Jean Roy, Mrs. Dennis Steiner, Mrs. Aude Cherry, Carol Ann Simpson, Mrs. August Boucher, Betty Reid, Mrs. Ray Peterson and Mrs. Marshall Jordan.

Completing the guest list were Mrs. John Maxfield, Mrs. Robert Rosenbaum, Mrs. Basil Gaffney, Donna Bauer, Mrs. Herb Leh, Mary Lou Miller and Mrs. Arthur O. Sans.

Emerson Grads Hold Assembly

Sixth graders at Emerson School attended the annual graduation assembly on Wednesday and heard their principal, Ellsworth Sturdy, speak on "All About Eastern."

Wever School's principal, George Yansen, in turn addressed the class on "All About Wever."

Participants in the program included Mrs. Ruth Wait, principal, Evelyn Woodworth, Phillip Williams, Bonnie Plummer, Sandra Rose, Delores Peterson, Larry Fisher and Ruth Balch.

Others taking part were Frank Kay, Lola Wood, Margaret Kayga, William Wright, David Johnson and Mrs. Wilma Exline.

Refreshments were served by Emerson PTA.

Cancer Sewing Unit Makes 2,808 Items

When the cancer sewing unit of St. Michael Church met for its final sewing session on Wednesday, members counted up 2,808 articles which have been completed for the American Cancer Society since January.

Hostesses for the luncheon served to 11 members at the church were Mrs. R. A. Lamb and Mrs. Cedric Davis.

Gatherings Are Planned Before Ball

Cocktail parties will be enjoyed by members of the Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary and their husbands and guests Saturday evening preceding "Artistry in Rhythm."

The dance will begin at 9:30 at Hotel Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss of Fourth avenue will have as their guests before the dance Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thorton, the John Churchills, the Ray Morgans and Mr. and Mrs. John McFarlane.

The Stanton Deyos of Westbrook avenue have invited the James Wilkinsons, Mr and Mrs. Robert Kimmins, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marcum, the Leslie Langfords and the Robert Weddles.

Guests at the Dale Carney home on Mohawk road will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Staal of Oak Park, the Frank Oosterhofs, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rippberger, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Post of Birmingham, the James Jenkins', Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farley and the Marc Eshmans.

Eagles Auxiliary Installs Officers

Members and guests of the Huron Gardens Eagles Auxiliary gathered Wednesday evening at the hall on Highland road for an installation of officers.

* * *

Members of the Flint Auxiliary ritual and drill team officiated as Mrs. Charles DeRousha was installed as president.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Randall Strickland, junior past president; Mrs. Duane Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Devine, chaplain, and Mrs. William VanDruska, secretary.

Mrs. William Paetow, treasurer; Mrs. Grace Smith, conductor; Mrs. Jim Baum, inside guard, and Mrs. Lawrence Nubeck, Mrs. Peter Helland and Mrs. Russell Heller, trustees, are the other officers.

Auxiliary Elects New Officers

The 18th district of American Legion Auxiliaries annual conference was held at the Royal Oak American Legion Home.

An election of officers was held during the afternoon at the Wednesday conference.

Mrs. Normand Weisman of Royal Oak is president; Mrs. Joseph Phillips of Pontiac is first vice president; Mrs. Steward Capron of Oxford is treasurer; Mrs. Norma Palmer of Auburn Heights is chaplain and Mrs. Murray Allison of Berkley is historian.

Executive board members are Mrs. John Sacks of Clawson, Mrs. Melvin Lamphert of Oxford and Mrs. Justin Handen of Royal Oak.

Piano, Accordion Pupils Give Recital

First Church of God on East South boulevard was the setting for a piano and accordion recital given recently.

Students taking part in the musical event included Janet Groves, Helen Groh, Roger Beauchamp, Ronnie Groves, Gregory Hughes, Lenore Schoonover, Jimmy Hartwick and Sharline Groves.

Others were Carolynn Schoonover, Dale Marlowe, David Groves, Danny Marlowe, Pat Crabtree, Glenda Goode, Norma Hartung, Gloria Butler and Carolyn Rabel.

Guest soloist was Mrs. Drell J. Butler.

Missionary Society Holds Discussion

Pioneer Missionary Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church discussed several topics at the Thursday meeting held at the church.

Mrs. Charles Seamon was in charge of the topics and Mrs. Howard Hall led devotions. During the meeting members sewed on cancer pads. Mrs. Park Wagg presided.

Church Unit Meets With Mrs. Wager

The September-October Group of First Presbyterian Church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bartlett Wager on the State Hospital Grounds. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Porter and Mrs. I. R. Hadrill.

Mrs. H. M. Learned gave devotions and Mrs. H. R. Fraser led the Bible study. The next meeting will be held Sept. 16.

Cash Register Rings Up Big Change Since the 70s

WASHINGTON (INS)—The same day that Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reported business was never better in the U.S., a half-dozen cash registers were installed in the Commerce Department building.

* * *

It was only a coincidence, though. Weeks has no intention of cashing in on the booming economy by charging admission to his agency or by setting up a supermarket in its lobby.

The registers are merely part of an exhibit to show how American industry has flourished under the U.S. patent system.

Each register on display is a different model, representing the most important steps which the National Cash Register Co. has taken toward development of today's highly complex, highly efficient machines.

CLOCK REGISTER

First comes a register that looks like a clock. It was made in 1879 under the first of some 2,500 patents which the government has awarded NCR.

* * *

Push the proper key beneath the face of the "clock" and its hands point to the corresponding dollars and cents figures printed on the dial. The purpose of this register was merely to "publicize" the size of a sale, not to record it.

That refinement was achieved in 1882 with the "paper roll" register. The paper was a long strip divided into columns and placed inside the machine.

Each time a sale was rung up, a hole was punched in the paper in whatever column was set aside for that amount. At the end of the day, the merchant would only have to count up holes to find out how much business he had done.

DETAIL ADDER

In 1885 came the "detail adder." Each key was equipped with an adding wheel that told how many times it had been pressed down during the day. The merchant merely had to copy off each key's count, multiply and add to measure his total sales.

* * *

In 1892, NCR manufactured its first cash register capable of issuing a receipt to the customer. It also printed a complete record of each transaction on a strip of paper inside the machine.

All these early models are ornate, most of them made out of cast iron. It wasn't until 1916 that NCR put out a cash register with a simple enamelled cabinet.

The rest is history—hand-operated registers giving way to electric ones; registers becoming more and more streamlined; registers telling not only the size of a sale, but what was sold and who sold it.

* * *

But there had to be progress. The old models just wouldn't do today. None of them could compute sales taxes.

Wever School Holds Annual 'Stardust Ball'

Wever Junior high school will stage its "Stardust Ball" tonight from 8 to 11 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Delores Gustavson has been chairman of the affair with Darlyne Gould assisting. Max Forest was in charge of ticket sales.

The decoration committee, Gerry Coggins and Beverly Williams, engineered a false ceiling of several hundred silver stars suspended in mid-air.

Other committees in charge of this annual affair are: Janet Bolton and Ronnie Bailey, patrons; Barbara Frasa, Barbara Davidson, refreshments; Shelby Murphy and Darlene Humphrey, cleanup and favors.

Teachers assisting with the program were Norman Felt, Melvyn Staebler and Charles Murphy.

City Exchangeites Back From Meeting

Pontiac and state Exchange Club members recently returned from a 4-day convention—touring the Great Lakes aboard the S.S. South America.

The 17-person contingent from Pontiac joined 317 Exchange Club members from all over Michigan.

John Riley of Wyandotte succeeded Elbert Wilmot, 74 E. Iroquois, as new president of the Michigan Exchange.

The steamship traveled through the Soo locks, into Brightfish Bay and Lake Superior. On the return trip, it stopped at Escanaba where the passengers were welcomed by Exchange Club members from Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, before sailing for Detroit.

Three Schools Hold Honors Convocations for Seniors

Awards Given to Top Students

Oxford, Walled Lake, West Bloomfield High Have Ceremonies

Award ceremonies and honors convocations have been held in three area schools during the last few days of classes for graduating seniors.

Events were held in West Bloomfield, Walled Lake, and Oxford schools.

Carolyn Jo Maddy and Richard Murphy were the winners of the cups at the ceremonies at West Bloomfield High School.

Winners of the cups are chosen on the basis of scholarship, moral, physical and social qualifications. This is the second year that Murphy has received the award.

BOTH ACTIVE PUPILS

Both students were active in school affairs. Carolyn plans to attend Michigan State Normal College, while valedictorian Dick will study chemical engineering at the University of Michigan.

Walled Lake high school seniors held their traditional Swing Out exercises today in the school cafeteria.

Narrator Dave Heaps read highlights of the class history, and a variety of entertaining acts performed.

REVEAL CLASS GIFT

Senior class president Pat Sanderson announced the class gift, money to purchase lobby furniture.

Heads of departments announced the subject award winners and presented them with pins. Honored were Toni Horstman, English; Stanley Rock, math; Toni Horstman, journalism; Joyce Graham, speech; Charles Potter, science; Kathleen Kurzwell, Spanish; Beverly Fagerlie, shorthand.

Other winners were Sue Weatherhead, typing; Joyce Graham, future teachers award; Lois Wenz, bookkeeping; Barbara Hosley, band; Patricia Horton, chorus; Rose MacPherson, cheerleader; Kathleen Kurzwell, social science; Ron Johnson, agriculture, and Don Pounds, athletics.

To conclude the program, principal E. V. Ayres awarded Walled Lake pins to the largest number of students in the school's history.

ACTIVITIES COUNT

The points for winning the pins come from scholarship, attendance, athletics, and participation in other school activities.

The Oxford Honor Cup, symbolizing outstanding achievements in scholarship, leadership and citizenship, has been awarded to Oxford High School senior Nancy Sweeney.

Valedictorian Marian McTavish and salutatorian June Rossman received honor keys signifying their top scholarship.

Phyllis O'Dell received the Oxford Ministerial award, and also the Oxford Rotary club scholarship. Kay Jean LaDouceur also received a Rotary Club scholarship.

Richard Geisler and Sue Strong received the dramatic awards, and agricultural awards went to Tom Strong and Larry Spencer.

STUDY BOND BIDS—When bids on the $1,250,000 in bonds to finance the new Milford High school came in last night, it called for some paper work by school officials. Here (l-r) school superintendent Harold Hansen, board president Dr. Ben Bragg, and high school principal Erwin Johnson study one of the proposals. Voters of the 100 square mile school district approved a 3.5 mill tax increase in March to finance the buildings.

Elect Louis Dorman Jr. Head of Waterford Legion

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Election of officers for the coming Legion year was held Wednesday night by Waterford American Legion Post 431.

Louis Dorman, Jr., a former commander of the post, was returned to that office by acclamation. He has held various positions in both district and state Legion organizations and is on a national Legion committee.

Dorman succeeds Ambrose Powers, who was retained as post service officer.

Officers re-named to positions included Roy P. Young, finance officer; William Wagner, historian; G. L. (Pete) Towner, chaplain; Verne Witherspoon, adjutant; and George V. Wells, sergeant-at-arms.

The new senior vice-commander of the Waterford post is Oliver Hessam, and the newly-elected junior vice-commander is Donald J. Beedle. Delegates also were named to the annual state Legion convention to be held in Detroit in August.

Commander Dorman and Towner are delegates. Alternates are Young and Jack Saylor.

LOUIS DORMAN, JR.

Arkansas Trip Follows Rites in Detroit Church

LATHRUP VILLAGE — The Homestead, in Hot Springs, Arkansas, is the scene of a two week honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Birdsall, whose marriage took place Saturday in a candlelight service in Mayflower Congregational Church, Detroit.

The bride, Antoinette Renee DeCary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Langue DeCary, 10½ Mile road.

Her gown was of Chantilly lace and silk taffeta with a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was secured with a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Joyce Dawson was maid of honor. Myrna Birdsall was junior bridesmaid and Mrs. Gerald Nash and Mrs. Robert Gillespie were bridesmaids.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Birdsall, of Royal Oak.

Pick Eugene Swem as Southfield Head

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Township trustee Eugene Swem has been elected township supervisor, filling the post vacated by the recent death of William Roeser.

The Detroit school teacher who was senior member of the board of trustees, was elected by the board last night.

Swem resigned his trustee post to take the job. He will be supervisor until 1957, unless Southfield residents adopt a city charter to complete the incorporation they approved Tuesday.

If a charter is passed, a new group of city officials would be named.

Vacation Bible School Starting at Ortonville

ORTONVILLE—Daily vacation Bible school will begin Monday at 1:30 p.m., continuing through Friday, the Rev. Perry Deyarmond of the Ortonville Baptist Church has announced.

Children of ages five to 15 have been invited to attend. Ilene Dalgleish and Lila Hollenbeck will direct the school.

Milford High Bonds Sold to Low Bidder

MILFORD — Sealed bids for the purchase of the high school site and building bonds were opened last night at the Huron Valley board of education office.

Halsey Stuart Inc. of Chicago was the low bidder for the $1,250,000 bond issue, with an average interest rate 2.6370 per cent.

The successful bid was accompanied by a certified performance check for $25,000.

Three bids were submitted from security companies in this region.

Two Candidates File for Oxford School Posts

OXFORD—Nominating petitions for the Oxford School Board have been filled in behalf of Edmund Unger and Jack Salswedel. Deadline for filling the petitions is Saturday.

At the annual school election to be held July 11, Unger now treasurer, will run for a term of three years and Salswedel, appointed last fall as trustee to fill a vacancy, will seek the unexpired two-year term.

Board at Romeo Lets Contract

Hixon to Lay Sidewalks at South School Site; Election Plans Set

ROMEO—Lob-bidder Peter Hixson was awarded the contract for sidewalks on the South School site by the Romeo School Board last night.

School officials also completed arrangements for the next Monday annual election, and made plans to canvass the vote the following night at 8 p.m.

The date of the next regular meeting was moved up to July 6, at the request of the superintendent.

The election in the Thorington district on the question of annexation to Romeo is scheduled for June 18.

The request made by the Romeo Peach Festival Assn. that it be allowed to use certain school facilities for its activities June 28, Aug. 9, and during the three-day Labor Day weekend was granted.

The only stipulation added was that the association bear the cost of custodian services needed.

Allen Rush and Walter Sewell, members of the custodial committee of the board, plan to meet June 20 with chief custodian George Hoke to discuss pay schedule and other problems.

Imlay City Man Given Gold Pass by Grand Trunk

IMLAY CITY—W. B. Onyon was honored recently with a fifty-year gold pass presented by A. H. Thernstrom of Battle Creek, superintendent of the Chicago Division of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

Such passes, good on all trains of the Canadian National Railway System, are issued to all employees who have been with the road for fifty years or more.

Onyon has been with the Grand Trunk for 53 years. He started in Blue Island, Ill., in 1901, and retired Dec. 31, 1954. He has been agent here for 37 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Onyon expect to make their home in Phoenix, Ariz., where they recently purchased a house.

CLIFFORD — A father and son banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the IOOF Hall.

The Davison Hunt Club will show pictures on brown bear hunting in Alaska. Special speakers, music and singing also will be included in the program.

MR. AND MRS. M. BATOHA

Minnie Kaphengst Is Wed in Saturday Church Rites

LAPEER — Minnie Kaphengst became the bride of Martin B. Batoha Saturday in evening rites at the Grace Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of William A. Kaphengst of Fish Lake Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Batoha of Lapeer are the parents of the bridegroom.

A floor-length gown of white crystalette with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was the bride's choice for the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Virgil Klein was matron of honor, with Grace Kaphengst, and Ervine Vetter as bridesmaids.

Kenneth Harmon was the best man, and Robert and Ralph Kaphengst were the ushers.

After a trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live in Pontiac.

Madison Heights Ballot Canvass Set

MADISON HEIGHTS — Canvass of Tuesday's election which defeated by 82 votes a proposed charter for Madison Heights will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Virginia M. Solberg.

The meeting is for charter commissioners, who retain their office until after the canvass has made Tuesday's vote official.

The present charter commission would be reconvened only if a new charter election is not sought within 10 days after the canvass.

John Archambault, president of the Madison Citizen League, said the petitions would be circulated the day after the canvass asking for a new charter commission to be elected.

The Citizen's League opposed the charter which was defeated. Signatures of 300 registered voters are needed on new petitions.

Daily Bible Schools Scheduled at Almont

ALMONT—Two Almont churches have scheduled 2-week sessions of Daily Vacation Bible Schools this month.

First Congregational Church will hold its classes from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., starting Monday and continuing through June 24. The program will include Bible study, handwork, recreation, stories and songs. Theme will be "Jesus—Our Guide for Daily Living."

At First Baptist Church, the school will be held June 20 through July 1. "Sailing With Christ" will be the theme, with Bible and sea stories to be presented and a handcraft program to fit each group.

All youngsters from nursery through teenage are invited to attend the classes.

Meeting Tonight at Troy

TROY — The charter commission for the new city of Troy will begin its work tonight at 7:30 p.m. They will meet at the township hall for an organizational meeting.

The Pilgrim Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Thompson, with Mrs. Clarence Morse as co-hostess.

'Big Days' Near at North Branch

Complete Final Plans for Festival Centennial Slated June 16-19

NORTH BRANCH — An air of anticipation prevails here this week, as final preparations precede the time when the latchstring will be out for the big days of the North Branch Centennial next week, June 16 to 19.

All events are scheduled to be held at the high school grounds, on South Jefferson street.

The children's pet parade will spotlight the opening, at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Following an afternoon of games and contests, will be Prof. C. Schaefer's balloon ascension at 5:30 p.m.

A banquet at 7 p.m. Thursday will be highlighted by the presence of Gov. G. Mennen Williams. He will crown the centennial king and queen, currently expected to be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilliam of Burlington Township. Fireworks at 9:30 p.m. will climax the first day.

* * *

Friday's emphasis will be on farmers' interests, including a parade in the morning and horse-pulling contests in the afternoon.

PAGEANT IS FEATURE

A real thriller will be the 8:30 p.m. event on the school grounds, in which a cast of 300 will produce the Centennial Pageant, depicting the growth of the community.

At 10 a.m. Saturday a colorful parade will hold the spotlight of the main streets.

This spectacle will include 6 pony teams, 3 clowns, 2 covered wagons, 15 floats, 1 ancient reaper, 4 horses, 2 sound cars, 2 teams of oxen, a midget engine and 14 cars of ancient vintage. Accompanying these will be 7 school bands and 3 drum and bugle corps.

TO JUDGE BEARDS, COSTUMES

A Centennial Tea at 1:30, will include judging of women's centennial costumes and men's beards.

* * *

Mid-afternoon Saturday will be marked by a pageant by a Chippewa Indian Tribe.

A second balloon ascension will take place at 5:30 Saturday; and a prince and princess will be crowned at the big centennial ball starting at the school gym at 9:30 p.m. The day will be climaxed by fireworks at 11 p.m.

Reunions of friends will take place at the various village churches at the morning services Sunday.

All former local students and teachers have been invited to assemble at the school grounds for a basket picnic at 1:30 Sunday afternoon.

Sandra Lea Phillips Wed in Double-Ring Ceremony

ALMONT — The First Baptist Church of Royal Oak was the setting for the double-ring wedding ceremony which united Sandra Lea Phillips and Robert Aitken Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips of Tubspring Farms, Almont. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Aitken of Flint.

The bride wore a gown of pleated nylon tulle with fitted midriff and full, floor-length skirt. Ruffles on the skirt of her gown were enhanced by bands of Venitian lace.

She wore her mother's wedding pearls as her only jewelry, and carried a cascade arrangement of carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

Made of honor was Shirley Lee, and bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Kay Aitken of Flint; Barbara White of Romeo and Mrs. Eugene Mallia of Detroit.

Ralph Ash of Flint was best man, George Jarvie and William LeLonde of Flint, and the bride's brother, William Phillips of Midland, served as attendants and ushers.

Some 250 guests attended the ceremony. A reception was held in the American Legion Hall in Royal Oak following the church rites.

On their return from a short wedding trip, the couple will live in Flint.

Construction Worker Killed in Cave-In

ROYAL OAK — A 24-year-old construction worker was killed yesterday in a cave-in of a ditch along Campbell Road, south of 12 Mile Road.

Alvin Wilson of Detroit, died in William Beaumont Hospital four hours after the accident. He had suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries.

The excavation was made by the L. E. Myers Co., while laying underground cable.

Boy, 4, Strangles Climbing From Car

ROYAL OAK—John S. Coulter II, 4, of 608 N. Blair, strangled to death while playing in his father's car yesterday.

He reportedly lost his footing while climbing out a rear window, and was caught.

More than 2,000 types of lutes are made by master craftsmen in Great Britain.

Farmers to Vote on Wheat Quota Issue

Oakland County wheat farmers will go to the polls to vote in a referendum on June 25 to decide whether marketing quotas will be placed on the 1956 wheat crop.

Any wheat growers who will be subject to marketing quotas is eligible to vote in the referendum. Farmers who have farm wheat allotments of 15 acres or less are eligible to vote if they will have more than 15 acres for harvest as gain in 1956, assures Robert H. Long, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASC).

Quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the voters to go in effect. According to John K. Bray, assistant county agricultural agent, if quotas are approved producers who stay within their alloted acreage will be eligible for the full level of price support.

Those who don't comply will not be eligible for support and will be subject to marketing penalties on excess wheat if they have more than 15 acres for harvest. Any grower will be allowed to harvest 15 acres per farm without penalty regardless of his allotment.

If quotas are not approved, the law provides for a wheat price support level at 50 per cent of parity for complying producers.

If quotas are voted out, farmers can exceed allotments without quota penalties, but they will not be eligible for support prices if they harvest excess acreage.

Farmers must vote in the community where they live, or if a farmer has wheat in a different communitiy than his residence, he may vote in either the community his residence is in or the community his wheat is in, but he may only vote once.

If the grower's wife is a joint owner or a joint lessee, then both can vote. If a son is joint owner or lessee, he can vote, but he cannot vote just by the mere fact that he is a member of the family.

The voting places and the townships voting in those voting places are as follows:

Oxford—Oxford Co-op. Implement Building—Oxford, Brandon, Addison, Orion.

New Hudson—New Hudson Fire Hall—Lyon, Novi, Milford, Commerce and Highland.

Pontiac—Agricultural Extension Service, 1260 West Boulevard, Pontiac—Southfield, Pontiac, Farmington, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Independence, Royal Oak, White Lake, Waterford.

Holly—Farm and Garden Supply Co.—Holly, Rose, Groveland, Springfield, Highland (north of M59)

Rochester — Houghton & Son — Oakland, Avon, Troy.

Festival at Romeo Getting Under Way

ROMEO—The first phase of the annual Romeo Peach Festival to be held Sept. 3-5, will be the contest to choose Miss Romeo.

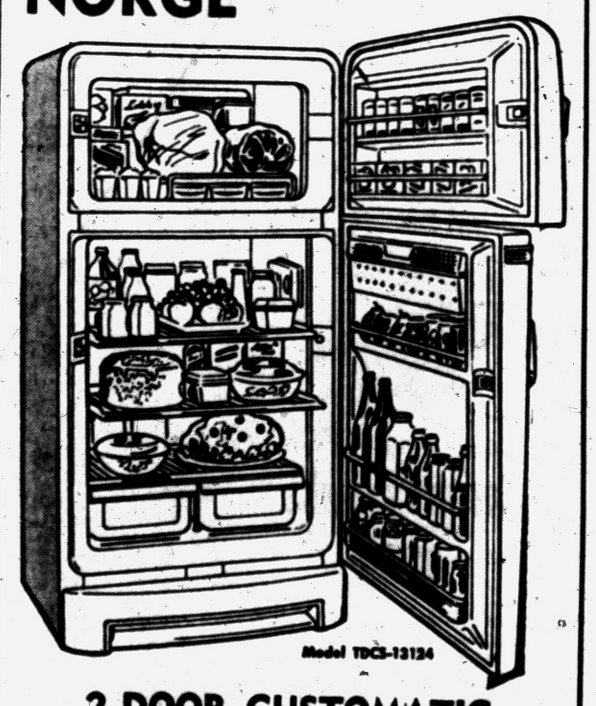

This is slated for the high school auditorium, June 28.

This announcement was made at the Peach Festival Assn. meeting held last night. Plans are also being made for the Queens Contest, to be held Aug. 9.

Festival president H. C. Kernagham is hiring the carnival Cote Show of Utica today. At last night's meeting, chairmen of standing committees were named by the board.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press June 10.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 14 is published Friday, June 14. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 14

At closing time in the New York office of a motion picture company, the chief's secretary, in a hurry to get dressed for a dinner date, teletyped a hasty message to one of their directors in Hollywood. He was supposed to be ready to begin shooting an important new picture, and certain matters had been decided upon during the day that the secretary thought ought to be passed along without delay to her good friend on the West Coast. She had from time to time, through many a year, given him friendly advice and advance tips about the chief's disposition and intentions, eespecially if anything came up that was apt to cause complications for the, talented but somewhat dilatory director. Unfortunately, this evening, there was something wrong with the teletype machine, and no one was around to fix it. So that there were missing letters in the message received in Hollywood. However, the director was able to fill in the gaps, and went into immediate action to cope with the situation. Can you, too, figure out what the secretary was trying to tell him?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, June 14. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, June 14 for Bonanzagram No. 14. Address "Bonanzagram, % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and. If his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Chinese Release U.S. Clergyman

Bishop Donaghy, Held Five Years, Arrives in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—Roman Catholic Bishop Frederick Donaghy of New Bedford, Mass., arrived in Hong Kong today after nearly five years confinement in Red China.

His return leaves only one American bishop in Red China: The Most Rev. James Edward Walsh of Cumberland, Md., who is in Shanghai.

Bishop Donaghy, 52, arrived by train from Wuchow, Kwangsi province, wearing a plain white shirt, shabby brown trousers and black leather shoes.

About 50 nuns and priests greeted him and took turns kneeling and kissing his ring.

"I am very happy to be in Hong Kong and pleased to see all you people," the bishop said. Looking pale and tired, he said he would talk to newsmen after a few days rest.

The prelate, who spent 26 years in China, was named bishop of Wuchow in 1938.

He was arrested on Christmas 1950, and after five months imprisonment placed under house detention. He was tried three days ago, convicted of subversive activities and ordered expelled from Red China.

Inspector Black Deciphers Detective's Message

This is how Inspector Black filled in the missing letters:

GOT THE GOODS. TIP RIGHT. ABOUT TWO-FORTY, FLESHY MAN WITH STOOL CAME. FROM BEHIND DOOR, CERTAIN I SAW HIM. PRY SLAT OVER WINDOW IN REAR WALL WITH BLADE TAKEN FROM POCKET. TOOK SEVERAL SMALL PACKAGES, SLIPPED IN BOOTH AND MADE PHONE PLANS, TO MEET SELLERS AT DESERTED WAREHOUSE NEAR TRACKS. WILL NOW FOLLOW BUT STAY OUT WHERE YOU CAN FIND ME. IS BALD AND NERVOUS GUY. CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL. BRING ALONG SOME HELP. HEROICS NOT MY MEAT. FOLLOW PRONTO. GREY

GOT THE GOODS. The opening words give immediate assurance that this is no wild goose chase. GOT THE HOODS, (i. e. hoodlum's) TIP does not fit because the story clues stated that the tip came to police headquarters. TIP RIGHT underlines the fact that the anonymous caller gave correct information.

ABOUT TWO-FORTY, FLESHY MAN WITH STOOL CAME. TWO-FORTY could refer to the time, shortly after the game had begun; or, since the phrasing is ABOUT TWO-FORTY and not AT TWO-FORTY, it could be an elliptic reference to the weight of the man.

It does suggest that FLESHY is better than FLASHY here. STOOP is ruled out because the STOOL will be seen to have a definite purpose in what happens later.

FROM BEHIND DOOR, CERTAIN I SAW HIM — a dressing room in a new stadium would probably not have a DOOR CURTAIN, and in any case it would not serve as a good hiding place. The use of CERTAIN becomes evident with the reference to REAR WALL, a few words later. It is put in to stress the fact that, even though the man was as far away as the REAR WALL, the detective is CERTAIN of what he saw him do — that is, PRY SLAT OVER WINDOW. TRY would indicate a lack of intimate knowledge of the hiding place. And SLAT is better than SLAB or any other combination here.

The reason for the STOOL now becomes apparent; it is needed so the man can climb up on it to PRY SLAT OVER WINDOW. REAR WALL is more logical than REAR HALL: a HALL would not ordinarily have a WINDOW.

WITH BLADE TAKEN FROM POCKET. POCKET is better than LOCKER; from a practical standpoint it would be easier to bring along a blade than to venture keeping one in a LOCKER. POCKET BOOK is an illogical phrasing here; moreover, POCKETBOOK is one word.

TOOK SEVERAL SMALL PACKAGES, SLIPPED IN BOOTH. TOOK is obvious, since BOOK is ruled out. Considering that the man is FLESHY, SLIPPED is preferable to SKIPPED in describing his action. He did not hide the packages IN BOOTS for it becomes evident that he made a telephone call, and it is probably that, while he is IN BOOTH, the detective is scribbling his message. MADE PHONE PLANS is obviously better than PHONY PLANS.

TO MEET SELLERS is more informative than the slangy FELLERS or any other word here. AT DESERTED WAREHOUSE NEAR TRACKS is the most specific information the detective can give about the meeting place.

WAREHOUSE would be a more logical rendezvous for this illicit meeting than FARMHOUSE, even if the stadium was on the outskirts of the city, and a big enough place to have a Deputy Inspector and a new stadium would undoubtedly have a WAREHOUSE.

NEAR TRACKS is better than the superfluous comment FEAR TRICKS, or any other combination here.

WILL NOW FOLLOW is right. WILL NOT FOLLOW would belie the fact that the detective is gone and has not even waited for the rendezvous with his chief.

BUT STAY OUT WHERE YOU CAN FIND ME. STAY OUT (of the WAREHOUSE) is more meaningful than STAY PUT. WHERE YOU CAN FIND ME follows logically.

The detective is writing in a great hurry, so he omits the pronoun HE and goes on IS BALD AND NERVOUS GUY. BALD is a more useful descriptive adjective than BOLD would be. Also, the story clues indicated that the game in progress was baseball, which would mean that the weather was warm enough for the man to be hatless. NERVOUS fits the situation better than SERIOUS. The detective has been watching this man FROM BEHIND DOOR and could spot him as NERVOUS but hardly as SERIOUS. GUY is of course better than GUN.

CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL is logical. HARMFUL would contradict what had gone before.

BRING ALONG SOME HELP is more apt than BEING ALONE, COME HELP. The Inspector knows that his man is alone on the job and would not need to be told. The Inspector's skepticism was mentioned in the story clues, and accounts for the detective's caution to BRING ALONG SOME HELP.

The message ends HEROICS NOT MY MEAT. FOLLOW PRONTO. HEROIN'S NOT MY MEAT would belie the facts; the writer is a member of the Narcotic Squad and HEROIN would be a routine matter with him. And in spite of the fact that the writer is connected with the police, MEAT, meaning something one especially enjoys, is better phrasing than BEAT, meaning an habitual path.

The signature is not GREG. It stems from the Deputy Inspector's name, Black, and is therefore GREY.

South Africa OKs Senate Packing Bill

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP)—The South African Assembly approved the government's controversial "Senate packing" bill last night, 71-46.

The bill would enlarge the upper house from 48 to 89 members, insuring Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom's government a two-thirds majority in any joint sitting of parliament.

* * *

The government needs such a majority to push through projected constitutional changes removing colored (mixed blood) voters in Cape Province from the general voters' roll.

Removal of the Cape Coloreds has long been a key point in the Nationalists' apartheid (racial separation) policy. The Cape Coloreds are the only nonwhites whose vote is not restricted to balloting for seven "representatives of the natives" in parliament.

Women Aviators Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—Refreshed by an extra night's sleep, 61 women fliers were poised today for a second try at getting started for Havana in the 6th all-woman international air race. The scheduled takeoff yesterday was canceled in midafternoon because of bad weather locally and low ceilings to the south.

Vault in Gas Tank Yields $25.95 in Coins

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C. (AP) — A motorist drove into a service station here and asked that his gasoline tank be taken off.

He said that every time he got gas, he had been putting the change in the tank. Lately his car had been sputtering.

Inside the "bank" was $25.95 in half dollars, quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies. He saved only $21.45, however, because it cost $4.50 to have the tank emptied and put back on.

Celluloir inventor John Wesley Hyatt also invented the flexible roller bearing.

Hollywood Headlines

Travers' Torrid Scenes With Ava Delight Bosses

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—So torrid are the love scenes between William Travers and Ava Gardner in "Bhowani Junction" that delighted bosses at MGM are dangling the lead in "Something of Value" before Travers to lure the London actor to Hollywood.

Believe me, this is a prize. Not only did MGM pay Robert Ruark $300,000 for his Mau Mau best seller, but Grace Kelly, the golden girl, is the woman star.

Travers, who is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, 25 years old, and with an outstanding war record, is the current rave of the London bobby-soxers.

MARILYN SURPRICES

Considering that Marilyn Monroe has acknowledged no contract obligations to 20th Century-Fox since she went on suspension, the bosses were mildly surprised today to receive a request from her new mentor, Milt Green.

He asked permission for Marilyn to appear on a TV show being beamed out of New York on Sunday.

The answer was, "Well she went 'Person to Person' with Murrow without permission." And nobody got shot.

* * *

LOP's final flash out of New York before winging to Istanbul: "'Damn Yankees' is great, gay songs, fascinating choreography, and Gwen Verdon and Bob Fosse are show stoppers. Another big hit for our friend Freddie (Brisson).

"We're all excited about the flight today—the club now numbering Irene Dunne, Diana Lynn, Virginia and Honeybear Warren, Mona Freeman, Sonja Henie, Keefe Brasselle, Nicky Hilton, Merle Oberon, Ann Miller and Lon McAllister. Our host, Conrad Hilton, has made great preparations.

"Lois Wilson is at the airport to wave us off. And, here's some news: Irene Dunne tells me that she, Ty Power, Barbara Stanwyck and others will substitute for Loretta Young on her TV show until she recovers, probably around the first of the year."

PARTY FOR JOAN

Artist John Morris, in Paris, reports that the party for the honeymooning Joan Crawford and Al Steele, at Maxim's was the most. "Earl Blackwell was host to the Steeles and about 200 friends and others who wanted to meet them.

"Joan was dressed richly—I'd almost say regally—in an amber gown with jewels to match. Alfred—she never calls him Al—was warm and ingratiating and it seemed impossible for him to move more than a foot away from the radiant bride.

Tour to Spotlight Bloomfield Area Gardens

Some of the most outstanding and spectacular gardens of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills will be spotlighted this weekend in the last of a series of garden tours in the 1955 pilgrimage of the Detroit Garden Center.

The gardens will be open from noon to 6 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday, rain or shine, and tickets and maps are available through the Garden Center on Belle Isle or at the gardens on tour.

An extra dividend will be the chance to see some of the beautiful churches of the area en route. The approach to one of the open Bloomfield Hills gardens is past the lovely Kirk in the Hills. Christ Church Cranbrook is also on the route.

On the way to Birmingham are Holy Name, Redeemer Lutheran, First Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches, with First Baptist and St. James Episcopal close by.

* * *

First on the Birmingham tour, garden lovers will discover how Mr. and Mrs. W. A. P. John on Tooting lane have used pachysandra, myrtle and Baltic ivy as ground cover with their many rhododendron, azaleas, American holly, and in their interesting wild flower garden.

TERRACE IS FEATURE

The Henry Whiting garden on Lake Park overlooking Quarton Lake is another attraction. This is a well-established garden with many rare birds, delphiniums and roses, including an attractive flagstone terrace.

The beautiful suburban garden of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Buhl on Pilgrim boasts about 200 rose bushes with many delphiniums and peonies. This is a new garden for the tour.

On Argyle, the garden of Mr. and Mrs. John Eckenrode consists of very spacious grounds, beautifully landscaped with choice shrubs and evergreens and a border garden with roses, peonies and delphiniums.

* * *

Last on the Birmingham section of the tour is in the new Rudgate Subdivision, a former apple and pear farm, with rolling terrain and charming vistas. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shenefield at 601 Bennington have opened their new garden, which features a terrace, overlooking a deep ravine with many hardwood trees.

DESIGN EMPHASIZED

On the Bloomfield Hills portion of the tour, the first garden will be that of Mrs. Richard English on Cranbrook road. Here we find careful planning to have continuous bloom from early spring to late fall, all with an outstanding design. Mrs. English's garden features a fine display of peonies and iris.

One of Bloomfield Hill's largest and most beautiful gardens is that of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Norton on West Lone Pine road. A large semi-formal garden of many borders of brilliant color overlooks a lake, including many rare and unusual shrubs and trees and a fine rose garden.

On Kirkway road in Bloomfield Hills, the tour will visit the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wellock. Here the garden has been especially designed, using a lake as a background. The roses are very fine and well planned flower borders extend to the lake.

RESTORED FARMOUSE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Clark on Adams and East Long Lake road, which is a 100-year-old farm house that has been restored, includes a large and informal garden, interesting because of the terrain. A portion of this garden is located on a hillside and the Clarks have achieved continuous bloom throughout the growing season.

Turtle Lake Farms, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green on Square Lake road, overlooks a lake and has many fine roses and an unusually large and beautiful rock garden.

Mrs. C. B. Harman of Birmingham and Mrs. E. Govan Hill of Bloomfield Hills, who are in charge of the tours, remind participants that garden owners will appreciate flat heeled shoes.

GARDEN TOUR ATTRACTION — Mrs. S. V. Norton will conduct scores of fellow garden enthusiasts through her spacious grounds this weekend when the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Garden Tour stops at the Norton home on Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills. One of a number of gardens included in the final 1955 tour of the Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage, Mrs. Norton's semi-formal garden includes rare shrubs and many fine roses. One and a half acres of garden is included in the 3½-acre site overlooking Lake Endicott. Shown in the background of the picture are Mrs. Norton's sister and daughter, Mrs. Ira W. Breneman (left) and Mrs. Norman Hadas, both of Huntington Woods.

Prize-Winning Rose Selected

All-America Award Goes to Multi-Colored Florabunda

Circus, a multi-colored florabunda, has been selected as the only rose to receive the all-America award for 1956.

The rose is the 43rd to be named by the All-America Rose Selections since the first was named in 1940. The selection followed a development program of six to eight years, and two years of testing in special gardens throughout the country.

Circus is the first multi-color rose to be selected for the award. Its colors vary from rich yellow and red in the bud, to orange-buff flushed with apple blossom pink, and end with red when the flower fully opens.

After the first day, the yellow buds change to apricot-orange. They shade into pastel pink and back to red again in cool weather.

* * *

The new winner will be made available for planting in home gardens in the fall of this year for next year's bloom.

TESTS ARE RIGID

Selection of an all-American rose is a rigid process. Practically all of the world's leading new varieties are entered. The test plantings are sent to 22 gardens located in different climate conditions in the nation.

The roses are tested under a variety of soil conditions and must give superior results in all parts of the United States.

Judges check each plant frequently during the two-year period, grading the entrants on 13 different points, scoring on a uniform point system.

* * *

The things the judges look for are hardiness, disease resistance, fragrance, flower form, color and other characteristics.

SCORES TOTALED

The total scores are submitted to a national rose jury.

The flowers which receive the highest scores are considered eligible for an award.

Before the selection system was established, the home gardner had about 5,000 known varieties to choose from, with little knowledge of what they would do. The home tests were sometimes costly and disappointing.

Learn About Weeds in Seedling Stage

Spend some time studying the undesirable garden inhabitants as well as enjoying the invited, welcome plants.

Not only is it part of a gardener's equipment to know the difference between dock and lamb's quarters, but it is also beneficial to learn to identify the weeds when they are seedlings.

As a matter of fact, it's a good idea to be able to identify any seedling — weed or otherwise. Weeds have a nasty sly habit of looking very much like desired plants—and growing as close to them as possible.

A book identifying the different weeds can prove a valuable addition to the garden section of your library.

Heres the Way to Check Cabbage, Onion Maggots

Many gardeners have given up raising radishes, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, and onions because they cannot harvest a crop that is not full of cabbage maggot or onion maggots.

John K. Bray, assistant Oakand County agricultural agent, offers several methods of controlling the pests:

The old standard treatment for the maggot is moistening the soil around the roots with a solution of bichloride of mercury, sometimes called corrosive sublimate, Bray says. The solution is made by dissolving 1 ounce of the poison in hot water and then diluting to 8 gallons with cold water.

Half a teacupful of this solution should be poured about the stem of each cabbage or cauliflower plant at the time of setting out or within a day or two thereafter.

It should constantly be borne in mind that corrosive sublimate is an extremely violent poison — dangerous to all who handle it, Bray points out. It has the property of combining with metals, so that neither the solution nor the crystals should be allowed to come in contact with metal containers.

The solution should be made in a wooden or stoneware or glass vessel. An enamelware dipper should be used in making the applications.

Chlordane, 5 per cent dust, may be used also for controlling cabbage maggot. Apply around the stalk when the plant is first set out; repeat at least once in seven days. Avoid using where root vegetables are to be grown within three years.

Some gardners have had fair results with tar paper discs around the transplants.

A new material, Aldrin, can be used. Use 1½ tablespoons of 25 per cent wettable powder in 1 gallon of water. Apply 1-3 pint to each plant.

An application to the surface of the soil should be made 10 days after the plants are first treated. The first treatment should be at the time they are transplanted. Aldrin can also be used as a 2½ per cent dust.

Rotenone should only be used on radishes and for onion maggots on green onions. Use 1 per cent dust or 3 tablespoons of 5 per cent Rotenone in one gallon of water. This application should be repeated four times at seven-day intervals.

Wilted Branch May Indicate Elm Disease

Sudden wilting of one or more branches is the first indication that your elm tree might have Dutch elm disease.

The wilted leaves eventually become yellow and later turn brown when dead. The dead leaves sometimes hang among the green foliage of the unwilted branches to mark a likely suspect.

If the tree is infected by the Dutch elm disease fungus, the outer sapwood will be discolored and show light brown streaks. Later these streaks become darker brown and involve the entire outer surface of the wood.

The accuracy of the identification laboratory is dependent largely upon a sufficient quantity of good specimens. Since the Dutch elm disease fungus may not be present on parts of the diseased tree, the laboratory specimen should come from the infected part.

BEST SPECIMENS

The fugus dies off rapidly in dead and dry wood, or it may not survive in wood invaded by a decay organism. Consequently the specimen should be from living recently infected branches.

To obtain proper laboratory specimens from living trees suspected of Dutch elm disease, follow this procedure: Collect six discolored twigs or branch specimens, 7 inches long and ½ to 1 inch in diameter, from one or more diseased branches of each tree suspected.

The discoloration should show in the cut end, or under the bark of each piece. The wood should be green—or only recently dead—and not completely dried out. Each set of specimens should be plainly marked with an attached paper tag.

PACKAGE SECURELY

Specimens should be packaged securely for mailing, and should have the following information: name and addres of sender, city and state, and county.

All specimens and correspondence should be addressed to: "Dutch Elm Disease & Oak Wilt Laboratory, Botany Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.".

The control program for the disease is sanitation—to clean up places where the beetles which spread the disease breed, removal of diseased trees, and spraying to kill the beetles as they emerge.

It takes two DDT oil sprays, one applied as a delayed dormant spray, and the other in mid-summer. There are two hatches of the beetle.

Wood cut in summer deteriorates much faster than wood cut in cold weather.

Garden Question

Q—When can one trim spruce and pine trees?

A—Spruce and pines can be trimmed almost any time of the year, but the most satisfactory results are obtained in early summer when new growth is just about complete.

In trimming the blue spruce, the long center growth where side shoots are formed should be removed. This will check the terminal growth for a year or two and force inside growth.

* * *

Q—Are there available any blight-resistant chestnut trees?

A—Both the Chinese and Japanese chestnuts are resistant to the highly destructive blight which destroyed the American chestnut. The Chinese, castanea mollissima, is preferred because the nuts are tastier.

* * *

Q—I have a disturbing insect about many of my house plants. Immediately after watering, tiny white, jumping insects apear on the surface of the soil. What are they and how do I get rid of them?

A—These are springtails and are harmless, living on the decaying organic matter in the soil. Since they are annoying, water each plant with black-leaf 40, using a scant half-teaspoon to a quart of water. Repeat if necessary.

Check on Lawn Before Buying Power Mower

Before buying a power lawnmower, consider the needs of your particular lawn. Take time to check on three things:

1. The kind of lawn you have.
2. The kind of lawn you want: fine, short, sturdy, etc.
3. The kind of care you intend to give the lawn.

For the home owner who is not overly ambitious—one who has a tendency to "let things go" from time to time—landscapers often recommend a rotary type mower. It usually is most satisfactory when a lawn consists of mixed grasses, including a good proportion of the heavy, coarse, quick-growing type.

A conventional reel-type mower is probably preferable for a lawn that's fine, cut often, and is expected to be very smooth and uniformly green.

So, if you're in the market for a new mower, take your lawn into consideration before you decide which type is best for you.

Stake Tall Plants

Keep staking plants which will grow tall and are in danger of toppling from winds or the weight of their blooms. Bamboo sticks and special garden wire tape are the handiest tools in this job.

Best to Snip Flowers

Snip, don't rip, the dying heads of flowers. Annuals will produce for a much longer period if they are not permitted to seed.

Robinson Forces Tigers to Settle for Series Split

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Tigers were too busy trying to forget Eddie Robinson today to worry about the invasion of Briggs Stadium by Ted Williams.

Thumpin' Ted and the Boston Red Sox moved into Detroit to open a three-game series this afternoon but it was doubtful whether Williams could match the exhibition Robinson staged for the New York Yankees.

Robinson swatted a three-run homer yesterday led the Yankees to a 7-3 victory oevr the Tigers in the finale of a four-game series which the two teams split.

Breaking even with the Yankees is quite a feat for any team but the Tigers figured they could have swept the series without the long-ball hitting of Robinson.

Big Ed clouted a pair of two-run homers in the series opener which New York won, 7-5. He wasted another two-run homer in the 2nd game of the series as the Tigers rallied to win, 4-3.

* * *

But his 1st inning four-bagger yesterday proved too big a hurdle for the Tigers to overcome. It came off Steve Gromek after New York had already scored one run on singles by Gil McDougald, Irv Noren and Yogi Berra.

That staked Whitey Ford to a 4-0 lead but Detroit sliced it in half in the bottom of the inning when Billy Hunter fumbled Bill Tuttle's grounder and Al Kaline followed with his 10th homer of the year.

Gromek gave up another run in the 3rd on a walk and Mickey Mantle's double and was tagged for two more runs in the 4th on a walk, Andy Carey's triple and a single by Noren.

Leo Cristante and George Zuverink combined to hold New York hitless for the final 5 1-3 innings but the damage had already been done, Gromek, who had pitched only 12 innings in the past three weeks because of a bad back, was charged with his 3rd defeat against six wins.

Detroit disposed of Ford in the 5th inning, keeping the left-hander from posting his 8th triumph against a single loss, but could do little gainst the relief pitching of Jim Konstanty.

Harvey Kuenn hit his 3rd homer of the year with one away in the fifth and Ford left after walking Tuttle, serving a single to Kaline and throwing three wide balls to Jack Phillips.

Konstanty came in and got Phillips to hit into a double play. A 6th inning single by Harry Malmberg was the lone hit Detroit got off Konstanty.

Duke Maas will try to gain his 5th victory against two losses when he faces the Red Sox today. He will be opposed by Willard Nixon.

State Fishing Conditions Are Reported Good

Trout Streams Likely to Be Close to Normal For Weekend

LANSING (UP)—General good fishing conditions for the weekend were forecast today by the state conservation department.

Field officers reported trout streams are slightly high and colored by recent rains, but are expected to be close to normal and clear by the weekend. Good mayfly and drake fly hatches have been noted.

Other reports:

Trout—Webber and Bear Den lakes in Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties are producing good catches of rainbows.

Perch—Good on Tawas Bay and off piers at Manistee and docks at the Straits of Mackinac, also good in Fletcher Floodwaters.

Panfish—Generally good on all small inland lakes.

Pike—Good on Houghton and Hubbard lakes, Deer Lake in Cheboygan County, Otsego Lake and Fletcher Floodwaters.

Walleyes—Good on the Upper and Lower Herring lakes in Benzie County, and backwaters of Tippy and Hodenpuyl dams.

Roberts Ahead of 28-Win Pace of '52 Season

Ex-Michigan State Ace Racks Up 9th Success on 3-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies is well ahead of the pace he set in his greatest season, 1952, when the magnificent righthander won 28 games and lost only 7.

The 28-year-old Roberts, judged by many to be the top pitcher in baseball today, was superb last night as he set down the hard hitting St. Louis Cardinals with three singles. He faced 30 batters, three over the minimum, and struck out nine as the Phils won 2-0.

Roberts registered his ninth victory as against four defeats in turning back the Cardinals. He didn't gain his ninth win in 1952 until June 24 thus putting him about two weeks ahead of the pace he set that year.

* * *

The 6-1, 190-pounder is seeking to become a 20-game winner for the sixth straight year and barring injuries he appears a cinch to make it. It is doubtful if the Springfield, Ill., native can attain the 30 game victory mark because he isn't with a pennant contender. Roberts doesn't get the hitting support a pitcher like Don Newcombe receives at Brooklyn.

He retired the first 12 batters to ace him last night before Bill Virdon singled. Then he turned back seven more Cardinals. Red Schoendienst broke the spell with a single. Wally Moon collected the final St. Louis hit, another one baser, in the ninth.

* * *

Meanwhile, Del Ennis, clebrating his 30th birthday, gave Roberts the hitting support he needed. Ennis set up the first run with a single and drove home the final Phillies' tally with the third of his three hits.

Roberts won his 22nd lifetime victory over St. Louis against 16 defeats.

Roberts' performance was all the more spectacular since he worked on a night when the temperature was in the low 50's and a biting wind whipped across the field. Only 5,668 fans braved the dismal weather to see the game. They were well rewarded by Mr. Roberts.

Aussies Lead U.S. Golfers in International

Thompson Has 3-Shot Edge Over Harbert in Individual Race

WASHINGTON (UP)—Australia and the United States paced the field into today's second round of the International golf championships.

* * *

Rain was predicted for the second straight day of the 26-nation tourney.

* * *

The Aussies held a 4-stroke lead in the competition for the low team score and Australia's Peter Thomson had a 3-stroke edge over Chick Harbert of the United States for the individual title after 18 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

* * *

Thomson was the only player among the 50 in contention to break par over the 6,510-yard Columbia Country Club course yesterday.

The Australian, who with Kel Nagle is defending the team championship, was the last man in yesterday, and he turned in a 67.

* * *

Harbert, who had one bad hole, a 7 on the par 4 second, was in a four-way tie for second with an even par 70.

The Australians and the U. S. entry were competing against each other today. They were due to take off at 1:20 p.m. (EDT). The second round was scheduled to start at 12:30 p.m.

* * *

In that second place tie with Harbert before today's round started were Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, Flory Van Donck of Belgium and Celestine Tugot of the Philippines.

* * *

Tied for the next spot at 71 were Ugo Grappasonni of Italy, Alberto Salas of Chile and Georg Bessner of Germany. Nagle had a 72 as did Eric Brown of Scotland and 19-year-old Jean Garaialde of France.

Harbert's partner on the U. S. team, Open champion Ed Furgol, scrambled to a 73 for a team score of 143, good for second place four strokes behind the Australian duo.

Downey Slumps but Is Victor

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UP)—Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore was a downcast golfer yesterday even though she won the Women's Eastern Golf Assn. amateur championship for the 2nd time in three years.

"I was terrible," the 29-year-old brunette moaned. "That was my worst round of golf in months and months . . ."

Miss Downey was referring to strokes over par for the 6,197 yard Farmington Country Club course. She had fired previous rounds of regulation 73 and a 74 and had a new record for the 54-hole tournament within her grasp.

YMCA Offers 'Skin Diving' as Interesting New Activity

Having been fortunate in finding an enthusiastic young skin diver, with equipment used in this fast-growing sport, Pontiac YMCA today announced plans for a summer-long series of classes.

Tom Mook, who has worked with the Michigan Frogman's Club, and who is credited with wide experience in the activity, is the instructor.

Classes are for men and boys, 16 years and up. They will begin June 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA pool. Thereafter classes will be held each Monday and Wednesday until July, when only Monday night classes will be held. Further information and enrollment applications may be had by calling the YMCA.

"Skin diving is considered to be the fastest growing sport in the United States," the course instructor says. "If a young fellow has had qualified instruction in the use of his under-water equipment, then there is no more danger involved in skin diving than there is in driving a car, or playing any other active outdoor sport," Mook added.

The YMCA is sponsoring this frogman course in an attempt to make skin diving safe for the youth of Pontiac. Many boys are thinking of taking up skin diving and many others are trying out equipment which belongs to someone else.

In most cases the merchant knows nothing of the equipment and does not know how to assist the enthusiast in his pursuit of the sport. Graduates of the YMCA course will have no difficulty aquiring membership in any one of the various skin diving clubs in the area.

The course will include class periods as well as actual diving in the pool and at a lake. Various types of equipment will be used to round out the course and make the students more familiar with various techniques.

Use of all equipment is free. There is no charge for the course.

Not Hunting Game, Just Losing Wasp

DES MOINES (UP) — Every conservation warden knows how a poacher goes about his business of stealing the public's game:

He drives slowly along the road in game country, stopping occasionally to peer about; car doors open stealthily and close again, the car creeps on.

An air-borne warden spotted just such behavior from his aircraft recently in the Iowa pheasant country. He radioed an officer on the ground, who raced to cut off the suspicious car and question the driver.

Poaching wasn't on the driver's mind. There was a wasp in his car, and he was trying to get rid of it.

Girl's Hens Lay Eggs Easter Bunny Style

Judy's father, C. E. Johnson, farm editor of the Grand Rapids Press says the chemistry of the hen, not the feed, determines the color of the eggs.

Wilson Pitches 1-Hit Shutout in City Loop

Merchants' Moundsman Halts Don Nicholie 9 in 'A' Action

Auburn's Merchants blanked the Don Nicholie Real Estate crew, 4-0, in Class A City League baseball Thursday night at Wisner Stadium. The game was called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

Bruce Wilson hurled a 1-hit shutout for the Merchants, the lone safety a single in the 3rd inning by Arnold Wilson. The Auburn moundsman struck out 10, walked 3 and hit 1 batter.

Albie Roman started on the hill for Nicholie and held the Merchants scoreless for three innings. But Auburn combined 2 hits and 2 runs in both the 4th and 5th innings. That, together with Wilson's pitching, was enough.

Louie's Wins Extra-Inning Battle, Dubats' Hit Decides

Don Dubats' single in the last of the 11th inning gave Louie's Tavern a 3-2 victory over Franklin Products Thursday night at Beaudette in men's city league softball.

Dubats' hit scored Jack Avery from 2nd after the latter had walked and stolen. The winning run broke up an overtime pitching duel between Louie's Pat Carrey and Franklin's Cal Bidwell. Both hurlers allowed eight safeties.

In the nightcap at Beaudette, the Northside Service team bunched seven runs in two innings to defeat Drive-In Cleaners, 7-4. The losers held a 2-0 lead until Northside scored four runs in the 3rd frame and three more in the 4th. Gil Luebke went the route for Northside, permitting six hits.

Verle Sheldon twirled a two-hit shutout as his Stadium Inn mates downed Bicmar, 4-0, at Northside. Both hits were singles in the 1st inning when Bicmar stranded three men, Sheldon was invincible from then on.

In last night's girls' contest, Giles Realty amassed 20 hits to crush Gingellville, 19-0. The winners scored in five of the seven innings to reach the football total. Meanwhile, Giles' Gerry Bender was pitching a four-hit shutout.

NY Doctor Calls Football, Hockey Harder Than Ring

NEW YORK (UP)—A New York physician today called boxing "relatively safe" and rated football and pro ice hockey as tougher contact sports.

Dr. Mal Stevens, chairman of the Medical Advisory Board of the New York State Athletic Commission, defended boxing against charges of "barbarism" voiced by a British physician in a speech to the American Medical Assn. at Atlantic City, N.J.

* * *

"With proper supervision, equipment, coaching, training and officiating, boxing has become a relatively safe sport or business venture, depending on your point of view," said Dr. Stevens, former football coach at Yale University.

"There is an element of danger in all contact sports," he said. "I believe there is more chance of permanent injury in football or pro hockey where the contestants rush at each other from a distance and momentum becomes a factor.

* * *

The British physician, Dr. James Hamilton Doggart of Moorsfield Eye Hospital, London, stressed the idea that a boxer can get damaging "cauliflower eyes" (hemorrhages in blood vessels of the eye nourishing the retina and lens.)

* * *

"Retinal detachment is not peculiar to boxing," said Dr. Stevens. "Any blow in any contract sport can be damaging. While I was at Yale we had three cases of detached retina. One came from football when somebody stuck his finger in a player's eye. Another was the result of a boy being hit by a squash racquet and a third from an exploding seltzer bottle. The smaller the object the greater the chance of a retinal detachment."

Tigers Sign Jersey Lefty as Their 4th Bonus Player

DETROIT (UP)—The youth-minded Detroit Tigers, keeping a constant eye on the future, have added a 4th bonus player to their roster—most of any team in the major leagues.

The Tigers — already owning the youngest team in the American League—shelled out a reported $35,000 yesterday to sign James J. Brady, a 19-year-old southpaw pitcher from Jersey City, N. J.

And here's how high the Tigers are on him:

Manager Bucky Harris — "I wouldn't be afraid to use him in a big league game today."

Coach Schoolboy Rowe — "He's not far from being a big leaguer right now."

Coach Jack Tighe—"He throws harder than anyone we now have."

Brady, a 6-foot-1, 185-pounder, worked out with the New York Giants and Boston Red Sox but chose Detroit "because the Tigers are a young club going places."

"The players are more my own age, and I feel I can do better with them," he said through a wide Irish smile.

Brady joins three other youngsters as bonus players on the Tigers—Al Kaline ($30,000), Bob Miller ($60,000) and Reno Bertoia ($25,000).

Johnny McHale, farm director of the Tigers, said Brady signed a three-year contract. The Tigers probably are paying him $6,000 per year in salary, with the rest in one lump.

Under major league rules, he must remain with the Tigers at least two years. Kaline, Miller and Bertoia all are passing through that two-year period righ now.

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn also signed for a bonus ($5,000) but his bonus period has expired.

'Ancient' Hurler Starring

Jim Konstanty Relief Work Doing Much to Keep Yankees in AL's First Place

CLEVELAND (UP)—At the ripe old (for baseball) age of 38, Jim Konstanty has blossomed out as the newest in a long and feared line of relief aces for the New York Yankees.

The bullpen brigade has been coming to the aid of Yankee hurlers for years, usually with phenomenal success. And Konstanty is following in a line that Johnny Murphy, Joe Page and Johnny Sain helped make famous.

As the Yankees rode into Cleveland in first place by five games, Konstanty could look back on a uniformly fine spring record. He's worked 31 1-3 innings and given up a measly two runs. His 3-0 record shows just a small part of the picture.

* * *

Yesterday in Detroit he worked for the sixth time in seven games. In 4 2-3 innings he gave the Tigers one hit—a mere single—as the Yanks won 7-3.

The young Tigers couldn't understand it.

"Imagine that," said one of the fuzzy-faced Bengals, "we can't even hit an old man like that."

"I can't figure it iut," said another. "I thought he was supposed to be washed up."

But across the dressing room, in the manager's corner, Bucky Harris talked knowingly.

"He's a cutie all right," said Harris, who wanted badly to win the windup against the Yankees. "He throws a l ot of stuff, always mixing it up."

Konstanty came to the rescue of Whitey Ford in the fifth after the lefthander had been rocked for three runs and had a 3-0 count on Jack Phillips. Two men were on base. Konstanty threw two pitches, a strike and a ball that Phillips slapped into a double play.

Dizzy Trout, a former Tiger pitcher who now helps broadcast Tiger games, raved throughout the series about Konstanty's work.

"He's looking good, awfully good," Dizzy said. "That's what I'd call a palm ball. It's nothing really, but they sure can't hit it.

"The way he's working he should be good for years."

Being an effective relief pitcher is nothing new for Konstanty. Back in 1950 he helped the Phillies win the National League pennant by appearing in 74 games. He had a 16-7 won-lost record and was voted the Most Valuable Player award.

He was a surprise starter in the first game of the World Series against the Yankees that year and lost a tough 1-0 game.

Many Preliminary Meetings Scheduled Before IOC Delegates Will Decide Locale for '60 Olympics

PARIS (UP)—Dozens of big and small sports meetings were held throughout Paris today in preparation for the opening of the 50th session of the International Olympics Committee at which the site for the 1960 games will be selected.

The main session opens Monday when French President Coty welcomes the committee members from 42 nations at the Serbonne Amphitheater. The session continues all week.

In addition to the selection of sites for the winter and summer games in 1960, principal business to be transacted includes discussions of the perplexing old problem of just when an amateur becomes a professional if he gets various help in various ways to carry out his athletic activities.

The meetings today, mostly secret, are to decide on the agenda for the big session and perhaps iron out some differences before the delegates sit down to discuss Olympic problems.

Sixty IOC members from a total membership of 69 are due by Sunday night. Representatives from 27 national Olympic groups and 17 sports federations also will meet during the week. Most of them already are here.

Avery Brungage of Chicago, president of the IOC, and other Olympic committee members are scheduled to meet with federation representatives and some national Olympic men today and tomorrow.

* * *

While the delegates gathered and side meetings were in session, most of the activity centered around Cercle Interallie, the International House where the main meetings are being held.

* * *

In the corridor leading to the meeting room, dozen of exhibits were in place and representatives were ready to explain just why the IOC members should vote for their towns for the 1960 games.

* * *

One of the most active buttonholers was Jack Tompkins, airline executive who is telling the story of Detroit. Tompkins will be reinforced this weekend by Fred Matthaei, Richard Cross and Thomas Lane.

* * *

Tompkins said today his only complaint so far is that "We don't have as much room as we need for our maps, pictures and booklets. But neither do other cities asking for the 1960 games so we can't complain."

Other cities bidding for the summer games are Rome, Budapest, Lausanne, Mexico City, Brussels and Tokyo. Rome and Lausanne are considered to have the best chance.

Because the 1956 games are in Australia, it is almost a sure bet the 1960 competition will be somewhere in Europe. For the same reason Detroit's chances may be stronger for 1964 or even 1968.

The applicants for the 1960 winter games are, Innsbruck, Austria; St. Moritz, Switzerland; Squaw Valley, Calif., and Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

The voting on the summer applicants is scheduled for Thursday and for the winter applicants on Friday.

Two former major league shortstops are managing teams in the International League. They are Skeeter Newsome at Syracuse and Luke Appling at Richmond.

Early in his career Jack Dempsey was knocked out in the 1st round by Jim Flynn. A year and a day later Dempsey knocked out Flynn in the 1st round.

A CATCH—Giant catcher Ray Katt appears to be snaring this foul pop with two gloves and an extra hand. The surplus stuff belongs, however, to third sacker up on the ball until he slammed Henry Thompson, who didn't give into Katt.

Halfback Bob Horenschemeyer of the Detroit Lions in the NFL completed three passes in seven attempts in 1954. All three were good for touchdowns.

Dodgers Send Ace Reliefer Back to Cincy

'Fireman' Joe Black and Minor Leaguer Sold for $25,000

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, riding a 8½-game lead in the National League and convinced they have all the pitching they need, sent one-time hero Joe Black to Cincinnati yesterday for an estimated $25,000 and a minor league player to be named later.

* * *

It was Black, now 31, who wrapped up the 1952 pennant for the Dodgers. Moving up from the obscurity of the Negro leagues, he joined the Brooks in the spring of '52 and set off on a brilliant relief record.

* * *

Appearing in 54 games—a Dodger record at the time—the right-hander posted a 15-4 record. He saved 15 other games and had a 2.15 earned run average.

Off that performance, Black was given a starting role in the World Series and beat the New York Yankees 4-2.

The following year, Black slumped, winning only six of nine while his earned run average slumped to 5.30. He opened the '54 season with the Dodgers, but was shipped to Montreal, where his 12-10 record earned him another chance in the big time.

* * *

He had a fine spring this season, but with Brooklyn regulars working well and rookie Ed Roebuck leading the relievers, Black had little chance to work.

Black was 1-0 wit hthe Dodgers, getting the decision in one of six relief appearances.

Quick Chief Boosts Status in 'Brown Jug'

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Quick Chief moved up a notch in consideration for the Sept. 21 renewal of the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, when he paced a mile in 2:02 4-5 at Roosevelt Raceway last night.

The time by the speedy side-wheeler from the Farmstead Acres Farms of Brookville, N. Y., was the fastest clocking of the season by a 3-year-old pacer.

D&W Wins 6th Straight, Drug Holds Second Place

Dick & Wes Sports retained its 1st place position, but Drayton Drug was right on the leaders' heels after Thursday night's double header softball action in the Waterford Township League at Drayton Plains.

Dick & Wes backed up Wayne Janks' 4-hit pitching with perfect fielding to defeat Richardson's Dairy, 4-1. It was the 6th straight victory for loop-leading D&W nine. The winners broke a 1-1 tie with 3 runs in the 4th inning to pin the loss on Bruge Dryer.

Chuck Cooper's single and an error put 2 runners aboard and Jockwig tripled them home before scoring himself on an infield out.

Drayton Drug jumped on Ken Spears in the 1st 3 innings to pile up a 13-2 lead, but had to squelch a rally to whip Gidley Electric, 13-8. The Drug club holds down 2nd place with a 5-1 record.

Lynn Wyckoff with 4 hits, and Cecil Hanes with 3, including a triple, paced Drug's 16-hit attack. Bill Goulet retired after 5 innings of 2-hit pitching and Gidley's staged a 5-run 6th inning without getting a hit.

Arlo Flasher walked 4 and 2 errors were made before Gary Boe came in to call a halt to the uprising. In a single game tonight, Richardson's and Day's Sanitary Service make up a rained-out game at 8:30 p.m.

Cites Importance of U.N. Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United Nations' 10th anniversary commemorative session here later this month will be more than a polite birthday party, says Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand ambassador to the United States.

Sir Leslie told a news conference yesterday developments at the meeting may have a large bearing on future world politics. And, he added, they will reflect the informal meetings of foreign ministers and concern over the approaching "summit meeting" of the Big Four chiefs of state.

The commemorative session opens June 20. Sir Leslie, who is also New Zealand's permanent representative to the United Nations, was the first of the representatives of some 60 nations to arrive here.

THURSDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Robin Roberts, Phillies, beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-0 on three hits—all singles—for his ninth victory.

BATTING — Eddie Robinson, Yankees, hit his 10th homer with two on in the first inning — his fourth clout in four days — to beat Detroit 7-3.

Maglie Credits Luque for Aid in Mound Work

Ex-National League Pitching Star Still Teaching in Cuba

NEW YORK (INS)—Sal Maglie, veteran ace of the New York Giants' pitching staff, was just a thrower when he jumped to the Mexican League.

There, he gratefully acknowledges, he learned all he knows maestro, Adolfo Luque.

We are reminded of this by our favorite Spanish language newspaper, which advises that the Gay Caballero is still going strong, still raising game cocks, and still teaching young fellows how to play ball.

Luque was undoubtedly one of the great pitchers of all time. He had a blazing fast ball, a sharp curve, a fine change-up and marvelous control.

In 1923 he lead the National League pitchers with a 27.8 record with the Reds. He also had the lowest earned run average, 1.93 runs per game. Many years later, he still was good enough to be a winner for the Dodgers and Giants.

We never knew a smarter pitcher nor a more serious one. But once the game was over, Adolfo always stepped out for a little fun.

One night some friends took him on a tour of Coney Island where one of the attractions gave you three cheap baseballs and "a good cigar" if you could hit a target and dump a boy into a water tank. Luque was enraged when he failed to hit the target in 30 attempts.

Rehearsal on Sunday for Old Timers Club

Members of the International Old Timers Baseball club are reminded that a regular practice session has been set for Sunday at 9:30-12 o'clock. It will be held on the Washington Junior High School field.

The club also has arranged a meeting for Monday night in the Veterans hall, South Saginaw street.

Conrad Bisplinghoff and Campbell Join French Player in Amateur Test

PARIS (AP)—Lt. Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., who last week won the British Amateur title, advanced to the semi-finals of the French Amateur Golf tournament today with two other Americans—Walker Cup captain Bill Campbell and Don Bisplinghoff.

The fourth semi-finalist is Henry LaMaze of France, the defending titleholder.

Conrad, continuing to play excellent golf, eliminated Bruce Cudd a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team, 3 to 2. Bisplinghoff, from Orlando, Fla., won over Ken Thom of Britain, 3 and 2. Campbell, from Huntington, West Va., edged out Arthur Perowne of Britain, 1 up.

LaMaze defeated Lt. Jim Gray of Jacksonville, Fla., in the most one-sided match of the day, 9 and 8.

Campbell meets Bisplinghoff and Conrad faces Lamaze in the afternoon semi-finals.

The gangling Campbell almost let Perowne escape after grabbing a three-hole lead on the return nine. He lost the 12th and 13th, missing an 18-inch putt on the latter hole. He won the 14th but lost 17th when he sent his second shot over the green against a tree.

One up and one to play, Campbell managed to halve the 18th when Perowne, a semi-finalist in the Brish Amateur, missed a 60-foot putt by two inches.

Cudd, from Portland, Ore., had trouble with his drives throughout was in the rough twice on the ninth hole and strayed from the fairway again on the 12th to go two-down to the little Texan.

On the 15th, Cudd was short with his approach and took a five while Conrad shot a steady four to go three-up. Conrad played consistently well from tee to green.

Lamaze was eight up after nne holes in his match against Gray and closed it out on the 10th for one of the most one-sided decisions in the tournament's history.

Bisplinghoff three-putted the first green to take a double bogey seven but he collected himself and managed to survive without playing spectacular golf.

He shot a 42 on the front nine but was one under four's for the six holes coming back. He sank a 25-foot putt for a birdie deuce on the 14th.

Shocked Clevelanders Now Oppose Yanks

By ED WILKS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are the New York Yankees being conned into a false sense of security, or is that really a bunch of dead Injuns back there in third place in the American League?

The next three days may tell. The Yanks move into Cleveland tonight for a four-game series against the Tribe.

Having disposed of a two-game losing string and Detroit 7-3 Thursday the Bombers barge into Municipal Stadium with a fat 5-game lead over the second place Chicago White Sox and a 5½-game spread over the Clevelands, who lost their third straight to Boston 4-2.

* * *

That's the best Yank margin yet, and it comes as a surprise. A week ago, when they were three games up, it looked like New York would be lucky to reach Cleveland still in the lead. The Yankees had eight games to play against Chicago and Detroit, both first division clubs, while the Indians were entertaining two second-raters, Washington and Boston, for seven games.

But the Yanks split the two series, playing .500 ball, while the Indians won just once.

All of which leaves Cleveland in a state of shock. Washington hadn't won in Cleveland since Aug. 25, 1953, losing 14 straight. And the Red Sox had beaten the pennant-winning Indians only twice all last season.

* * *

Manager Casey Stengel goes into Cleveland playing the percentages. He needed a victory yesterday, so he called on Whitey Ford (7-1), presumably passing him over for the Indians' series, while naming Ed Lopat (3-4) to face the Tribe tonight. Lopat, only 14-20 lifetime vs. Detroit, is 40-13 against Cleveland.

Ford didn't go all the way. Jim Konstanty won it in relief, but Stengel got the victory he wanted, gaining a half-game on the White Sox who were rained out of a doubleheader with Baltimore.

The other AL game was won by Kansas City, 4-2, over Washington.

In the National, Chicago's Cubs beat Pittsburgh 6-2 and Robin Roberts beat St. Louis with a three-hitter 2-0 for Philadelphia.

* * *

Rain and cold postponed Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Milwaukee at New York.

Three errors beat Cleveland and Herb Score, who was knocked out in the first inning by Boston, Tuesday night. Only one of the Red Sox runs was earned, driven home in the fourth on a double by Frank Sullivan—who shut out the Tribe on four hits until the ninth when he needed help from Ellis Kinder to win his sixth.

Score, lifted for a pinch-batter in the fifth, fanned nine to boost his league leading strike out total to 101.

* * *

Washington's second straight defeat at Kansas City pulled the Senators into sixth behind the Red Sox. Four runs in the fourth on just two hits did it for the A's. Pitcher Art Ditmar singled home the final two runs to win his third.

Paul Minner tossed a six-hitter for the Cubs. Walker Cooper's home run broke up a 2-2 tie in the seventh as Chicago tagged Bob Purkey for 13 hits and his seventh defeat.

Prime Baseball Lesson

Boys' Clubber Learns About 'Fast' Pitching

"There's always a 1st time for everything" as Bill Coulacos of the Boy's Club remarked the other day. And the BC athletic director explained his remark by telling the story of 7-yearlold Jerry Tucker who wanted very much to play baseball.

Bill had put Judy off for a long time believing him too young. He had excuses to fit his rejection of the lad's pleas until the day Jerry filled all the answers.

"So," says Coulacos," I had to put him out in right field."

That was Jerry's 1st objective—to get into a game. His next was to get at bat. Out in the field Jerry had noted how fast the pitcher was throwing the ball to the batter. That was the 1st time he had ever realized the swiftness of the pitches.

* * *

When he went to the plate, Jerry took no chances. He stood 5 feet back from the rubber. Even then, when the ball came in Jerry felt he was the target and turned and ran back further. Next pitch found Jerry back at the plate — he discovered the ball was not being thrown at him, but to the catcher. Now, he's got his confidence and feels he's going to be a real ball player.

FIRST TIME UP! — What a fellow thinks about the first time he faces a pitcher in a regular ball game, and his reactions, were discovered by 7-year-old Jerry Tucker (above), Boys' Club recently. Jerry had never faced a pitcher before.

Twilight Show Set at Gay-Day

First twilight program of modified hardtop racing at Gay-Day Speedway, 386 North Lake Angelus Road, will be held Sunday with time trials at 5:30 p.m. and the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Nine events are set with Chuck Partello and Butch Marshall seeking their 2nd feature event victory of the season. Among the challengers will be Bennie Howell, Joe Doyle, Len McAbe, Rusty Kelly, Dude Carrie, Marv Main and Cliff McKinney.

Canadian Jimmy Wilson and Dorris Sanders, who holds the one-lap track record, also are expected. All events are sanctioned by the Land O'Lakes Racing Association. A field of 45 cars was on hand for last week's races.

Gay-Day also has scheduled its 1st week-night card for next Wednesday with old models and hardtops running at 8 p.m. (trials at 6:30). An announcement will be made Sunday regarding the Midd Gay Day contest to be held.

Larry Parker, University of North Carolina's top golfer, also is the star halfback on the football team.

Precise Intelligence Data Is Important

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Thomas D. White, vice chief of staff of the Air Force, says technological intelligence must be precise to be effective.

White told the Military Intelligence Reserves Society last night that it is not enough to know the approximate performance of an enemy plane.

* * *

"If, for example," he said, "information over-estimates the speed of an enemy bomber, be it merely by a few per cent, we might be induced to conclude erroneously that our entire inventory on interceptor planes is obsolete and must be replaced at a cost of many billions of dollars.

"If, by contrast, we underrate the speed performance of a hostile attack plane by an equally small margin, we may find ourselves the victims of illusory security."

Forest Fire Nearing Small Georgia Town

WAYCROSS, Ga. (AP)—A huge forest fire, which slowed down overnight, inched toward Fargo, Ga., today as fire-fighting units fought desperately to control it.

* * *

District Forester G. W. Lavendar said the fire, moving along a three-mile front, was a definite threat to Fargo, a town of 1,100 population near the Florida line and on the west side of famed Okefenokee swamp.

* * *

The fire started Tuesday night near Thelma, Ga., and has swept 18 miles south, burning over more than 30,000 acres.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)— Dudley Field in this border city claims two distinctions:

It is the only park in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League where visiting teams don't dress at the park. They put on their duds at the hotel and ride 15 miles to the park.

It is the only field in the league where beer is sold.

GOOD BREAK — The White Sox were cheered when Minnie Minoso started to work out after being in the hospital with a hairline fracture of the skull. The Chicago Americans kept right on moving without their star.

Tiger Notes

DETROIT (AP)— Ted Williams makes his 1st appearance of the season at Briggs Stadium today when the Boston Red Sox pay a three-game visit to Detroit.

Remember when Williams played for the 1st time in the Tigers' ball yard last season? He pounded out eight hits in nine times at bat in one of the greatest one-man batting shows in the history of the game.

Although he lasted less than four innings against the Yankees, Steve Gromek reported that his back didn't bother him on the mound. He should take his regular turn next week.

After all kinds of rumors and speculation, the Yankees left town without making a trade with the Tigers.

Duke Mass, Utica rookie, was slated to pitch against Boston's Willard Nixon today.

Columnist Seeks New Trial in Libel Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A motion for a new trial has been filed by attorneys for Los Angeles Examiner sports columnist Vincent X. Flaherty, against whom a $35,000 libel award was returned in favor of former boxer Lou Nova June 1.

The jury assessed the award against Flaherty and the Hearst Publishing Co. after three hours' deliberation. The trial lasted five days. In its verdict the jury held Flaherty erred in calling Nova a coward for his actions in a fight with then heavyweight champion Joe Louis, Sept 29, 1941.

New Rider for Swaps in Californian Race

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Swaps, the Kentucky Derby winner, will have a new rider when he runs against older horses Saturday in Hollywood Park's $100,000 Californian at a mile and one-sixteenth.

Dave Erb, currently riding in Chicago, will fly here Saturday morning to fill the pilot seat left vacant by the 5-day suspension of national riding champion Willie Shoemaker. Shoemaker was set down by the stewards for careless riding in Wednesday's eighth race and will not be eligible to ride again until next Thursday.

DeMarco Bucks 'One Defense' Jinx

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Welterweight champion Tony DeMarco bucks the "one-defense" jinx that has plagued 10 other modern 147-pound kings when he faces favored Carmen Basilio, the hometown pride, at the War Memorial Auditorium tonight in a 15-round title bout.

The chunky, 23-year-old Bostonian is familiar with the hex. He knocked the crown off Johnny Saxton's brow by stopping the Brooklyn defender in the 14th round in the Boston Garden, April 1. That was the first time Saxton had risked the title he had won from Kid Gavilan.

Jimmy McLarnin and Barney Ross, two greats of the division, were among the 10 to lose their title in their first defense.

* * *

Although he did a thorough job of demolishing Saxton, who never had been stopped before, Tough Tony is a 17-10 underdog to the more experienced, 28-year-old ex-Marine from nearby Canastota.

This hasn't bothered either the young champion or his handlers.

"He was a 4-1 underdog against Saxton," points out manager Bobby Agrippino, "and you know what happened. Tony is a greatly underestimated fighter. He'll knock out Basilio, you'll see. Sure, I know Basilio hasn't been kayoed before but neither had Saxton."

From the other camp came the same confident tones.

* * *

"Carmen will flatten him," said co-manager Johnny DeJohn. "I've never seen him more determined or in better shape. He should have had it from Gavilan and now he'll make sure."

DeJohn referred to the split decision victory Gavilan, then the welter ruler, was awarded over Basilio here on Sept. 18, 1953. Basilio, who can do no wrong in these parts, dropped the granite-chinned Cuban with a left hook, becoming the second man to turn that trick.

The fans around here long ago gobbled up the 9,100 tickets for the arena, paying a total of $115,000.

* * *

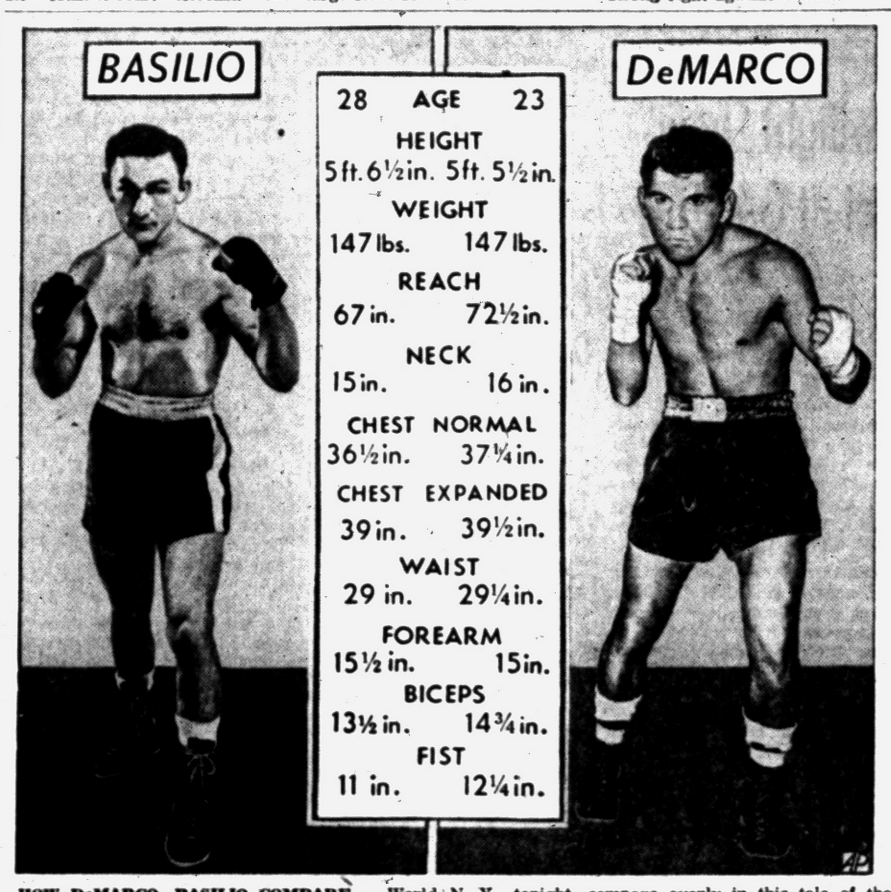

One reason for the quick sellout is the blackout of Syracuse, Rochester, Binghamton and Utica in the coast-to-coast telecast. The bout, starting at 9 p.m. (EST) also will be broadcast around the country, including the local area.

To take care of some of his other regular customers, promoter Norm Rothschile, working on this show with the International Boxing Club, is having the telecast piped into the nearby State Fair Grounds Coliseum over a closed circuit. He expects about 6,000 to pay $3.50 a head to watch the fight on two large sized screens.

From all this, DeMarco, who hardly made a dime against Saxton, will collect about $60,000 on his 40 per cent. Basilio will get in the neighborhood of $30,000 with his 20 per cent.

* * *

On form and styles, the fans should get their money's worth. Both are good punchers with solid left hooks. DeMarco, a converted southpaw, displayed a surprisingly strong right against Saxton.

HOW DeMARCO, BASILIO COMPARE — World welterweight champion Tony DeMarco and challenger Carmen Basilio, scheduled to meet in a 15-round title bout at War Memorial Auditorium in Syracuse, N. Y., tonight, compare evenly in this tale of the tape. The champ's only big advantage is in reach. DeMarco is from Boston; Basilio, from Syracuse.

Target of Foul Balls

HAMTRAMCK, Mich. (AP)—Dennis A. Shado brought 42 baseballs and softballs to the city council meeting yesterday. He said they represented two weeks collection from his house and yard—which adjoins the Memorial Park baseball diamond.

Councilmen ordered the city recreation department to build a higher fence or better backstop.

Indians Two Short of Shutout Mark

BOSTON (AP) — When the Cleveland Indians shellacked the Red Sox 19-0 they fell two runs short of the modern major league record for the most lopsided shutout.

The Tigers and Yankees are co-holders of the mark, 21-0. The Tigers pasted the White Sox in 1901 while the Yankees did their job against the Athletics in 1939.

Salas Beats Velarde by Unanimous Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former lightweight champion Lauro Salas gained the unanimous decision over Gil Velarde in the main event at the Olympic Auditorium last night. Sallas weighed 129, Velarde 130. Both are of Los Angeles. The bout went the full 10 rounds.

Salas finished fast to gain the nod. He was warned four times by Referee Lee Grossman for low blows and one round was taken away from him for a foul. There were no knockdowns.

American Association Has Healthy Attendance Rise

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Attendance at American Assn. baseball games through May 31 increased 120,000 this year over last year.

Denver and Omaha, both playing their first seasons with the league, led in the number of paid admissions and accounted for a big portion of the increase.

* * *

But President Ed Doherty attributed the increase to the fact that "We have the best minor league in the country now."

"There's a lot more interest due to the good tight race for the league lead," he said. "The new clubs have had a lot to do with the increased interest and Minneapolis has shown a good gain in attendance due to its first-place standing."

* * *

Denver had 99,538 paid admissions at 22 games, Omaha 92,650 at 21 games.

Total attendance at 166 games this year was 454,291. Last year, 334,027 fans had attended 154 games. The average attendance per 1955 game was 2,737. Last year it was 2,169.

Nashua Picked in Belmont Test

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons Seeking 6th Victory in $100,000 Classic

NEW YORK (AP)—Names will be entered and post positions drawn today for the 87th running of the Belmont Stakes, and Nashua is going to be an odds-on favorite to bring trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons his sixth victory in the $100,000 added classic.

* * *

The mile and one half "test of the champion" will be raced at Belmont Park tomorrow afternoon, and a field of seven and possibly eight 3-year-olds is expected.

A late checkup on trainers showed the following willing, if not able, to meet Nashua, the beaten Kentucky Derby favorite who regained prestige two weeks ago by copping the Preakness:

C. V. Whitney's Little Dell, Barclay Stable's Blacing Count, Laudy Lawrence's Jabneh, Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury, Clearwater Stable's Portersville, and the King Ranch's Retamero. Another horse who may be entered, but scratched later, is J. M. Seider's Uncle Gus, a fugitive from the claiming races. In fact, Uncle Gus is entered in the seventh race this afternoon.

Orioles Sign Pair of Spartan Players

CHICAGO (AP) — Infielder George Smith and 1st baseman Chuck Matthews of Michigan State college have signed contracts with the Baltimore Orioles.

General manager Paul Richards said yesterday Smith, brother of Oriole catcher Hal Smith, and Matthews will be optioned shortly to clubs in the Baltimore farm system.

"It's not likely that either one will be sent to a club higher than Class B," Richards said. "Each has real promise but each also needs a lot of polishing yet."

All-Star Balloting Under Way Today

CHICAGO (AP)— America's baseball fans start voting today to name starting National and American League lineups for the 22nd inter-league All-Star scrap to be played in Milwaukee County Stadium July 12.

The Chicago Tribune, which originated the poll and the All-Star game in 1933, again will be the clearing house for the nation-wide voting which ends at midnight July 1. For this year's polling the Tribune will have 761 newspaper, radio and TV outlets taking part in the 22-days of voting.

Chisox Brass Say Busby Deal Was Smart One

Jim Will Help Hose Defense While Boosting Slumping Bat Average

CHICAGO (AP)—Only time will tell, but the Chicago White Sox front office insists it made a smart deal for the slumping player it had to recapture, outfielder Jim Busby.

Busby was acquired last Tuesday from the Washington Senators in exchange for outfielder Johnny Groth, catcher Clint Courtney and pitcher Bob Chakales. Busby is in a plate slump, while Groth and Courtney are hitting vigorously.

Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey today backed up the manipulation of General Manager Frank Lane bringing Busby back to the club which broke him into big time in 1950 and then traded him to Washington.

* * *

"We needed a center fielder in the worst way," said Comiskey. "Certainly Groth was hitting well, but he was not our regular center fielder and we can put our finger on at least five games lost because of poor fielding in that field.

"Sure, our pitching is thin, but departing with Chakales did not make it much thinner. He was a reliefer without record.

"With (Sherm) Lollar hitting and catching the way he is, a second string catcher like Courtney was far better trade bait than an asset to our club.

"The way to measure this deal is over the entire season. We fully believe Busby is a .280 hitter (he's batting .225 now). But even while he is shaking his slump, he will be a tremendous boost to our defense."

* * *

Comiskey said the White Sox would like to work a deal or two more, especially for pitching, before the June 15 trade deadline.

"But it takes two to tango," said Comiskey, "and every club except Cleveland seems to be shopping for pitchers."

Rogers Hornsby, former Major league batting champion and much traveled big league manager, said he believed the acquisition of Busby was a smart Sox move.

Said Hornsby, almost a daily visitor in the Sox press box:

"I think Busby is one of the best outfielders in the majors today. It's just a matter of time before he starts hitting. When he does, the White Sox will have something in the way of an outfield."

Miller, Draper Win Blythefield Medal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Hermie Miller of Grand Rapids and Tom Draper of Detroit took medalist honors with an 8-under-par 64 in the 13th annual Blythefield Invitational golf tournament yesterday.

Their nearest rivals, former Blythefield champions Lou Wendrow and Bud Reniger of Lansing, followed 1 stroke back.

Yesterday's qualifying round over the 6,670-yard course cut a field of 114 into six flights.

Twenty-four duos, who shot 72 or better, compete in the championship flight on a medal basis. Rest of the field goes into match play today.

Three teams are deadlocked at 67 moving into the 72-hole tournament.

College Series Opens at Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—The annual NCAA college baseball World Series was set to get underway here today with a late morning game pitting Colgate against Wake Forest, the latter one of the top bracket favorites.

This was to be followed by Southern California and Colorado State in the afternoon game on the Omaha Municipal Stadium diamond.

Night games were to see the two top favorites—Arizona and Oklahoma A&M, both blessed with pitching depth and free swinging hitters, in action.

Arizona was slated to go against Western Michigan and the Oklahoma Aggies against Springfield (Mass.).

Fred Haney, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was the radio broadcaster for games of the Hollywood Stars in the Pacific Coast League from 1943 through 1948.

Balanced

Everything it takes to be "TOPS"

STANDARD GASOLINES

...balanced for top power, economy, and all 'round performance ... and raised to the Highest Octane levels in our history

STANDARD WHITE CROWN and RED CROWN Gasolines have been stepped up to the highest octane ratings in our sixty-six year history ... designed to give smooth, knock-free performance in the most modern of high compression engines—and older cars too. But important as octane is, good gasolines need something more. They must be balanced to give you top performance with controlled volatility—the right gasoline for the right season; no vapor lock even in the hottest summer weather, and clean-burning for efficient, economical performance.

Try a tankful today, and drive away convinced that these gasolines have everything it takes to be tops.

Are all gasolines pretty much the same?

NO, THEY'RE NOT. Standard's research brings you the best in gasolines. And we guard their quality from refinery to your car through exclusive terminals, lake tankers, river barges, pipelines, tank cars and trucks. No gasolines arrive at or go out of our terminals but Standard Gasolines. That's why they are distinctly different!

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!

Too Much Wind May Injure Chances for 2 World Marks

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—The wind was blowing here today—and two bids for world track records could suffer tonight as a result.

The recognized marks in the half-mile and in the mile relay were considered in danger, at the annual Pacific Association (AAU) meet, but wind over the allowable 4.47 miles per hour could wreck the attempts of both Wes Santee and Arnie Sowell in the 880 and of the Oklahoma A&M mile relay quartet.

Santee, the Kansas cowboy who has tried but failed repeatedly to run a four-minute mile, and Sowell, the University of Pittsburgh star, are two of the top 880 men in the country but never have raced each other. Both have been clocked in brilliant times—Santee in 1 minute 48.5 seconds on May 21 at Modesto, Calif., and Sowell in 1 minute 49.1 seconds one week later at New York. Santee's time was the second fastest half-mile ever run by anybody, Sowell's the speediest in history by a collegian.

The world record both will be shooting at is Mal Whitfield's recognized 1953 figure of 1 minute 48.6 seconds. Santee, en route to his startling time at Modesto, whipped soundly the only man who ever ran the distance faster—Lon Spurrier, former University of California track captain who did a 1:47.5 in an open triangular meet March 26. The time is up for consideration.

Advance plans called for staging the special 880 at about 10 p.m. EST, but they could be changed. Unless conditions improve, officials said, the race will be shoved back two hours because the wind customarily slackens during that period regardless of its velocity during the day.

* * *

Running with Santee and Sowell, whenever the race is held, will be another pair of ace half-milers—Bill Heard of Oklahoma A&M, who has done a 1:50.5, and Fresno (Calif.) State's Dave Casper, who has a 1:50.7 to his credit.

Heard also is down for the second leg on the Aggies' relay team which has announced it will go for the world mark of 3 minutes 8.8 seconds in the four-man mile. Jack Hays will lead off, with Fred Schermerhorn and J. W. Mashburn handling the third and anchor legs.

* * *

"That's what we're here for," said a spokesman for the quartet.

Arrangements have been made to give the Aggies an excellent chance. A "Meet Directors' team" of Santee, Sowell, Casper and Herb Turner, speedy Fresno State quarter-miler, will set the pace as the four try to better their best previous time of 3:10.9.

LEARN TO SWIM—That's what the two youngsters, Vernon Crowe, 11, and sister Rhonda, 9, were doing in the YMCA pool, when the Pontiac Press camera recorded the scene. Floyd Wainscott, YMCA athletic director, supports Vernon while instructing him how to make simple strokes. George A. Heenan looks on. The youngsters were among the 1st signers for the "Y" "Learn to Swim" campaign.

4 Seek 2nd Win at Pontiac Track

Four drivers will be bidding for their 2nd feature race victories Sunday in the NASCAR-sanctioned hardtop races at Pontiac Speedway.

Mickey Katlin, Jack Conoley, Bill Kourt and Ronnie Duman each have collared one feature this far this season. The field of drivers looking for their 1st wins includes Felix Brooks, George Cooper and the 1954 hardtop champion at the track, Joy Fair of Pontiac.

Kourt's Victory came in the Memorial weekend 50-lapper, while the others were in 25-lap events. The feature of Sunday's 9-race program is a 25-lapper.

Time trials are slated at 5:30 p.m. with the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Last Wednesday night's old model stock show was cancelled because of the weather, but the night series of races at the M59 oval will begin next Wednesday with trials at 7 p.m. and races at 8:30.

The track is located 3 miles west of Pontiac Airport on M59.

GMC Hopes to Snap 7-Game Loss Skein

General Motors baseball team will be seeking to snap a 7-game losing streak Sunday when the Coachers play host to Grand Rapids in the Michigan State Baseball League double header at Wisner Field.

Game time for the 1st end of the twin bill is 1:30 p.m. GMC's lone league triumph in 8 games was a 5-1 win over Dearborn in the opening MSBL game. Since that time, Paul Parks' club has dropped a return game at Dearborn, 4 games to Battle Creek and another pair at Saginaw.

Bogart Leaves Kazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Joe Bogart, head track coach at Kalamazoo College and also assistant football his resignation Thursday. He will take a post as director of food service at St. Mary's College, South Bend, Ind. Bogart came to Kalamazoo in 1953 from Battle Creek Lakeview High School.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

This is a full shot with wood so the ball is played well forward. Notice that this player's hands are high. They bisect the distance between the back of his head and right shoulder. This is all to the good. The bad point here is that he has overswung! So he'll find it hard to get the clubhead to the ball at the right instant. His right side is straight as it should be.

* * *

This player has kept his eyes on the ball. He has made a full shoulder pivot so that the back of his shoulders "faces" the hole and he's made a complete hip pivot. Now he's all ready to go! And let's hope that overswing doesn't spoil his shot.

Toledo Pacer Hangs Up Record at Hazel Park

DETROIT (AP) — Warpath and Knox Hanover of the Saunders Mills' stable of Toledo, Ohio, finished one-two in the $10,000 Detroit Pacing derby at Hazel Park last night.

Warpath, driven by Jimmy Fitzpatrick, paced the mile and a quarter in 2:34 4-5 for a new track record. Warpath paid $5.80.

Only two teams have jumped from 7th place finish one season to a pennant winner the next. The Yankees were 7th in 1925 and 1st in 1926. The Red Sox leaped from 7th in 1945 to 1st in 1946.

Downpour Stops Fight

SAGINAW (AP) — A 10-round middleweight bout between Al Andrews of St. Paul, Minn., and Duke Harris of Detroit has been rescheduled for Monday night. A downpour five minutes before the 1st preliminary postponed the Andrews-Harris bout last night.

A crowd estimated at 3,500 to 4,000 had gathered at St. Andrew's field when the postponement was announced.

New Chute Device Pinpoints Airdrops

BLOOMFIELD, Conn. (UP) — Navy researchers and the Kaman Aircraft Corp. have developed a new parachute device which may prevent American air-drops from ever falling into enemy hands.

* * *

The new instrument is called a Rotochute and was developed for the Marines to enable them to pin-point drops to troops in small ares.

During the Korean conflict many supplies intended for trapped American troops fell into Communist hands when air currents caused parachutes to drift.

The Rotochute will permit aircrafts to drop equipment and supplies from lower altitudes at higher speeds and with far greater accuracy than is possible with a parachute.

The Rotochute is carried like a bomb. When dropped, two rotor blades, resembling the rotor of a small helicopter, unfold and guide the device to earth. The Rotochute descends at a slow rate of speed much like the autorotation (power-off) landing of a helicopter.

Thirteen per cent more trees were planted in 1954 than in the preceding year in the United States.

Congressional Directory Has Some Short Ones

WASHINGTON (UP)—The shortest biography — 24 letters — in the Congressional Directory for the first session of the 84th Congress in that of Rep. Brady Gentry (D-Tex.). It reads simply: "Brady Gentry, Democrat, Texas."

Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.) is a close second with 28 letters. His biography is "Dewey Short, Republican, Gelena, Mo." Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) disposed of her biography in 37 letters. It reads "Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, Skowhegan."

Biographies in the directory are written by the members of the House and Senate.

Grains Pushing Faintly Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—After an indecisive start, grains and soybeans pushed slowly upward in a dull market on the Board of Trade today.

Lard held steady. Soybean oil eased a little more following the new trend established in the previous session, but meal gained slightly.

Nearby wheat contracts led the small advance on receipt over night of additional harvest-delaying rains in the Southwest.

During the first hour wheat was ¼ to ½ cent higher, July $1.98¼; corn was ½ to ¾ higher, July $1.42½; oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, July 66¾, and rye was ¼ to ½ higher, July $1.05. Soybeans were unchanged to ⅞ higher, July $2.43⅜, and lard was unchanged, July $12.25 a hundred pounds.

Skilled Workers Seek Own Local

Men in 6 GM Plants Ask Separate UAW Unit for Representation

FLINT (AP)—Skilled workers in six General Motors locals of the CIO United Auto Workers today sought a meeting with top union leadership in search of recognition as a separate UAW unit

A rump meeting of 500 skilled craftsmen voted yesterday to ask UAW president Walter Reuther for a special local charter.

They said they compose such a minority in their present locals that "we lack any real representation" in labor contract negotiations.

They want to bargain with GM as a separate unit.

About 4,000 tool and die makers and other skilled craftsmen would be affected.

International union officers in Detroit indicated the request would be denied.

"This has come up on occasion in the past," one said. "Union policy is not to grant separate charters for skilled workers. The policy has not been changed.

"The Ternstedt men who led this movement make up a very small minority of the skilled workers in Flint."

The craftsmen asked to meet today with Richard T. Gosser, union vice president in charge of skilled trades.

Their meeting was barred to Robert Carter, their UAW representative.

"We are not protesting against General Motors or a new contract," one speaker said. "We are only speaking our minds on a matter of representation."

Drive Expecting the Unexpected, Experts Cautions

CHICAGO (AP)—William C. Hatten, a truck driver who has won day completed 1½ million miles of driving in 20 years without a serious accident.

"I always drive as if everyone else on the road is going to do the unexpected," Hatten said. "You just can't let down for a minute when you have a wheel in your hands. But even so, there have been some close ones. I guess the Lord has been with me on a lot of trips."

Leonard A. Meisner, safety director of the Midwest Transfer Co., Chicago, where Hatten has been employed for 16 years, said Hatten had scored "an unbelievable record." He said a formal ceremony honoring Hatten will be held later.

Hatten, 37, lives with his wife, Ruth; daughter, Judy, 15, and son, William C., Jr., 11, in South Bend, Ind.

Two Persons Injured in Headon Collision

Two persons were hospitalized with broken bones early today after a headon collision of two cars on M59 near Crescent Lake road, Waterford Township Police said.

The pair, Paige R. Tear, 25, of 439 Union Lake Rd., and Miss Carolyn Cooper, 17, of 232 W. Longfellow Ave., were reported in fair condition by Pontiac General Hospital authorities. Tear suffered a broken right leg and Miss Cooper a broken nose. She was a passenger in a car driven by Rudell Abney, 26, of 212 Del Ray dr. Abney was unhurt.

Tear told police that Abney seemed to lose control of his eastbound car on a curve and swerve to the westbound lane. Abney said he was unable to remember what happened.

Solon Mad at Wife Voted Against Union

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Attorney Dow Heard said the Texas Congress approved annexation by the United States, 55-1. That lone holdout, he said, was a fellow named Sache, who explained:

He'd had some trouble with his wife in the States and when he left for the independent Republic of Texas, "I told her I'd never again live in the same country with her."

Conservatives Sweep Ontario Parliament

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Running on their record of 12 years in power, Premier Leslie Frost's Progressive Conservatives swept the boards in yesterday's election of a new Ontaraio provincial parliament.

The party, which has held sway since 1943, elected 83 members to the 98-seat one-chamber legislature. The result was generally expected. The party had held 78 places in the old 90-seat house.

The Communists lost the lone seat they held in the old house.

Mart Absorbs Spate of Selling

NEW YORK (AP)—An initial spate of selling was absorbed today by the stock market; and prices were able to hold a mixed position in early dealings.

* * *

Offerings were heavy at the opening and sent prices down between 1 and 2 points at the outside.

Within a short time, however, demand for the railroads and some steels imparted an improved tone to the market and brought up enough prices to create a mixed list.

Up with the rails and steels were the oils and some rubbers. Tending lower were some aircrafts and airlines. Non-ferrous metals were mixed. Motors held steady. Aluminum issues were mixed.

Among opening blocks were Goodyear 1,100 off 1 at 63¾, Western Union 1,500 up ¼ at 27⅞, Baltimore & Ohio 4,000 up ⅞ at 49. Kaiser Aluminum 3,900 up ⅛ at 36⅛, Braniff Airlines 1,000 up ¼ at 17¼, Republic Steel 1,500 off ⅜ at 44⅜, and Aluminum Ltd. 1,200 off 1⅜ at 103½.

Higher stocks included Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central, and Texas Co.

Lower were General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Admiral Corp., Kennecott Copper, General Electric, American Can, and Eastern Airlines.

Woman Reports Accoster in Downtown Pontiac

A Pontiac woman told police she was accosted last night while walking on South Saginaw Street.

According to police, the man, who was described as about 30 years old, jumped from an alley, grabbed the woman by the arm, and asked to talk with her.

Police said the woman jerked away and ran until she found a patrolman. Investigating officers could find no trace of the accoster.

Raising Funds So Hero's Mother Can See Widow

CRESAPTOWN, Md. (AP)—People of Cumberland and Cresaptown are planning a unique tribute to the memory of the late "Bull" Evans, once known as "the "One Man Army of the Marine Corps."

A drive for about $1,000 has been launched to send Evans' mother, Mrs. Rosa Evans of Cresaptown, to Japan to visit Bull's widow—a Japanese girl—and his son.

The marine, a native of nearby Cumberland, earned a niche in corps history for his exploits during World War II on Bougainville, Midway, Tulagi, Makin, Guadalcanal and during the Korean fighting.

He won the bronze and silver stars, two Presidential citations and has been recommended for the Navy Cross—highest award the Navy can give and second only to the Medal of Honor.

He died, however, of a heart attack in the spring of 1954 while on a beach outing with his wife Chiyoka Matwsoka and son n Japan.

The fund so far has reached $200.

Dulles Asking Senate to OK Austria Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles goes before a receptive Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to ask quick approval of the Austrian peace treaty signed at Vienna May 15.

Sen. George (D-Ga), committee chairman, said he knows of no opposition to any phase of the long-sought treaty. He predicted a smooth course for it through the committee and, possibly next week, the Senate itself.

Dulles was the only scheduled witness. It was he who signed the document, sought by the Big Three Western powers in scores of sessions with the Soviet Union going all the way back to April 1946. The Russians suddenly abandoned their opposition this spring.

Spellman Undecided on Argentina Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, who has denounced the anti-Catholic measures of Argentine President Juan D. Peron, is reported undecided about a scheduled visit next month to Buenos Aires.

The trip was planned months ago.

On Wednesday the Roman Catholic archbishop said Peron's activities against the church suggest "a torrent of terror" and a "renaissance of Nazism."

Last night a spokesman for the archdiocese said the cardinal had not yet made up his mind about visiting the Argentine capital.

Jungle Cat Shakes Up Tame Toms in Night Out

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Diabla, a 14-pound margay from Nicaragua, had the neighborhood tomcats in quite a dither for 24 hours.

Diabla—translated that she-devil—unhooked a window screen and fled from her home. Her owner, Mrs. Beverly Caughey, was able to trace her by the yowling of neighboring felines.

A margay is the Central American cousin of the ocelot—hardly a gentle tabby.

Finally a neighbor spotted Diabla perched on a garage roof last night. Succulent celery stalks brought her down.

Annual fur sales in the U.S. have reached one-half billion dollars in some years, figures far greater than during the days of the explorer-traders.

Michigan Bell Plans to Expand

Requests State Okay on Sale of Stock to Raise $125 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. asked the State Public Service Commission today for permission to sell 125 million dollars more of common stock to finance a 3-year expansion program.

Clifton W. Phalen, company president, estimated the company will add 390,000 phones in its territory in the three years. It now serves 690,000 families—representing 85 per cent of the families in its area, he said.

Phalen said the new capital is needed to convert most of the company's remaining manual exchanges to dial service, for new buildings, to wipe out a backlog of orders for new or higher grades of service, and for direct distance dialing equipment in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Pontiac and Saginaw.

The program would start next January.

Mihcigan Bell will sell the new stock to its parent, American Telephone and Telegraph Co., Phalen said.

Twelve Pontiac Piano Pupils in Mass Concert

Twelve Pontiac students will participate in this Sunday's mass piano concert at the annual Michigan Music festival at Detroit's Olympic Stadium.

They are Sharon Talbot, Sandra Brooks, Nancy McKown, Mariann Engelhard, Frances Spencer, Sarah Jo Faxon, Joan Whems, Marilyn Wagner, Linda Libby, Diane Hewett, Lillian Casper and Jack Horner.

Performances will be given at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Free tickets are available at Grinnell Stores.

America's Pocket Money Increasing, With Industry Paying Higher Wages

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—America's pocket money is on the rise. Private industry is paying out eight billion dollars more this year than last in wages and salaries.

* * *

Businessmen are competing fiercely for their share of total personal income — now running at an annual rate of around 296 billion dollars, some 11 billion more than a year ago.

Wage scales — like those being hammered out in the auto and steel industries — are taking bigger jumps than last year. Hundreds of companies have signed labor contracts and the majority have hiked pay by 7½ cents to 10 cents an hour—a 3½ per cent increase over last year's 5 to 7-cent pattern.

* * *

Whatever else it may do, the Ford Motor Co. agreement to supplement state unemployment benefits during periods of layoffs will relieve the minds of merchants in many cities where auto industry payrolls are a mainstay of retail trade.

More people had jobs last month than in any May in history, the Census Bureau reports. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics adds that 61,000 persons found new jobs in factories during the month. And the factory work week averaged a half hour longer. The average weekly pay in factories rose to a record $76.11. This was $1.34 higher than in April.

* * *

As a result of the big boom in business in general, the public has more to spend today than ever before. It is now spending at an annual rate of 248 billion dollars, according to government figures. Optimists think this may grow to 251 billion next year.

After spending what is necessary for food, clothing, shelter, transportation and the like, the public now has about 140 billion dollars a year it can spend or not as it chooses. Before World War II people had 30 billion dollars they could spend over and above necessities.

'False Alarm' Found to Be Real Thing

The burglar alarm at George's Newport Department Store, 74 North Saginaw Street, sent both police and the store manager racing to the store at about 11:30 last night.

However, the building was apparently sound, and police could find no evidence of any forceable entry.

The store manager, Harry Serwin, reasoned the alarm must have been out of order, and according to the police, he disconnected the alarm for the night.

It wasn't until early this morning, when the manager was making a search through the store, that Serwin discovered a small hatch on the store's roof had been forced sometime during the night. Nothing was reported stolen from the store.

Young Defends Deal for NYC Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert P Young emphatically defended today a transaction in which two Texas milionaire friends acquired 800,000 shares of New York Central stock without putting up any cash of their own.

Young told a Senate Banking subcommittee that "it was the cleverest deal in my financial history."

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said he wasn't "interested in clever deals but in facts."

Young told Lehman:

"The public has never got the story straight and you are confused right now."

The private and public debts of the U.S. combined comprise a burden of about $4,300 to be carried by every man, woman and child.

Police Seeking Man for 'Borrowing' Car

Pontiac Police today are looking for a 50-year-old driver who has apparently thought up a new angle to borrow a car.

According to the complaint, which was filed by Forsythe Motor Sales in Lincoln Park, the wanted driver began his operations several days ago by taking a used car from a city lot for a test drive.

That car was recovered at another used car lot, where the elderly man had left it while trying out still another car.

The pattern has continued since Tuesday. Police describe the man as "about 50, short, 140 to 150 pounds, and when last seen, was wearing plaid brown shirt, dark trousers, and glasses.

Industry Fights Noise Problem

Cleveland Study Shows Effects on Workers, Possible Remedies

CLEVELAND (UP) — Businessmen in this highly industrialized area became so concerned over noise that they asked help of the Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center of Western Reserve University.

The latter, in turn, invited Helmut Ormestad, Swedish physicist and acoustical expert, to spend a year here for study and recommendation on reducing the huge annual loss in health and efficiency due to noise.

"Noise is increasing every day, along with industry and production," Ormestad said after listening his way through several industrial plants. "The demand is constantly for more production, and this, naturally, is followed by more noise."

He suggested two things: that noise be reduced and that something be done to make existing noise less damaging.

The first he left up to the companies themselves, and as for the second, "a pair of properly-fitted ear plugs will do wonders."

DIFFERENT RESPONSES

Ormestad and George Fortune, director of the center, advocate individual "ear-tests" of all prospective employes, as well as those already working. They say jobs could be classified as to noise level and the employe placed hwr th xisting sounds had th last possibl effect on him.

The Swedish scientist sid each individual is responsive to a different type of noise. Just as a dog whistle can distress canine ears, so a particular sustained note can make a human leave the room to keep his head from splitting.

"If a worker's efficiency is cut down by the noise level, he could br transferred to another, less objectionable place," Ormestad said. "He'll be a more efficient workman, and if his hearing has been impaired, it is quite possible it will return to normal with the relief a change brings."

Grand Rapids Zoo Refuses Free Lion

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The local zoo director, Frederick Meyer, put the lion house before the lion when he turned down an offer of a free lion because of a housing shortage at the zoo.

"Some day we'll have a lion in Grand Rapids, but a heated house has to come first," he said.

"We can get a lion anytime. They're the most available animals in the world."

There is a suspicion that Meyer may have been influenced in his rejection by another factor. Animal trainer Clyde Beatty offered the lion, Caesar, because the animal put him in a hospital with a clawed leg.

Truck Tieup in West Ends With Agreement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Federal conciliator John L. Fenton early today announced that Western truckers and AFL Teamster representatives have reached an agreement to end the three-week long haul trucking tieup in 11 Western states.

The agreement, terms of which were not immediately disclosed, is subject to approval by various teamster union locals.

Fenton said details will not be released until after locals have voted later today.

Smoldering Ship Towed to Holland Port by Tug

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A Dutch tug steamed slowly toward Rotterdam today with the smoldering wreckage of the Swedish tanker Johannishus, gutted by fire in the English channel early yesterday.

The 10,788-ton tanker was swept by flames after colliding with the 7,256 - ton Panamanian freighter Buccaneer. Nineteen of the Swedish vessel's crewmen were missing and feared dead. One body was recovered.

MODERN SKIPPER — Omer Darr, 36, pictured aboard the 134-foot sailing vessel Te Vega with his wife Harriet, will realize the dreams of a modern sailing skipper today when his schooner begins regular passenger service to Tahiti. The initial voyage will begin at Newport Beach, Calif., but subsequent trips will start at Honolulu at two-month intervals. His ship will carry 19 crewmen, and six passengers whose fares on the luxury sightseeing schooner will be about $65 a day.

Compliments Fall Faster Than Raindrops

Senate Filibuster by Mutual Consent Closes With Spree of Back-Slapping

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Down through the years the Senate has had some unusual filibusters, including a filibuster on filibustering.

Now it can add another to its imposing list: A filibuster, by mutual consent, to allow time for Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) to come down to earth.

* * *

The behind-the-scenes situation was this: Humphrey was deeply interested in a housing bill, which came up for decision Tuesday. He had told his friends he would fly back from Minneapolis in time to cast his vote. He would leave at 7:30 a.m., and arrive here at 2:30 p.m. Plenty of time, he figured to be on hand for the final verdict.

Everybody understood this except the elements. His plane ran into a storm and arrived at 4:45.

* * *

Well, the Senate seemed to be dawdling, but even an expert can't distinguish unerringly between a hurrying and a loitering Senate.

Then Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) let the cat out of the senatorial bag.

During parliamentary skirmishing with the Democratic leader, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Capehart said:

"I know the purpose of the request (by Johnson) is so that the senator from Minnesota may reach the chamber in time to vote. I wish to get credit for going along."

* * *

More palaver, and Capehart repeated: "I merely wish to get credit for cooperating, so that the able senator from Minnesota may reach the chamber in time to vote."

"The senator from Indiana," Johnson observed, "always wishes all the credit he can get—and he gets it."

But still no announcement on what had become of Humphrey.

* * *

So the Senate stalled along, and stalled along, and finally Humphrey rushed in, the vote was taken, and Humphrey explained:

"The delay in the vote until my arrival," Humphrey said, "could only have come about as a result of cooperation from both sides of the aisle, and I am grateful to my colleagues.'

* * *

Humphrey kept on being grateful for a couple of hundred words. Especially, he said, was he grateful to Lyndon Johnson. "The senator from Texas," Humphrey said, "is a genius in the art of legislative process."

Capehart bobbed up to remind Humphrey that he had cooperated. "We knew all the time where the senator was," Capehart said, "but we did not know when he was going to arrive."

* * *

"Neither did I," Humphrey said.

Whereupon, its wandering member safely home, the senators became so carried away with the wonders of senatorial courtesy that compliments fell faster than the raindrops on Humphrey's plane.

Everybody seemed happy. Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) summed up the senatorial attitude with a quote from Justice Holmes.

"It is extraordinary," Holmes once said, "with what fortitude a man can listen to excessive praise of himself."

Kiwanis to Sponsor Second Kids' Day

CHICAGO (UP) — Kiwanis International will sponsor the annual Kids Day celebrations in the United States and Canada for the second year running, according to President Don E. Engdahl.

The event, scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 24, will be observed in most of the 4,000 communities where Kiwanis clubs are located.

Last year the Air Force threw open houses at 153 of its bases and entertained 352,964 children. Special exhibits were set up for them, parades were held and refreshments were served.

The twin objectives in Kiwanis sponsorship of Kids' Day are entertaining youngsters and raising funds for youth welfare projects.

The purpose of Kids' Day is to recognize the part played by youngsters in present-day society and to combat juvenile delinquency by stressing the achievements of youth.

Mosquito-Breeding Areas at Golf Course Sprayed

A Parks and Recreation Dept. crew today finished spraying mosquito - breeding areas at the Municipal Golf Course.

DDT was sprayed in the low areas, along the lake front and around the club house, City Forester William Aho reported.

Three city parks — Beaudette, Murphy and Oakland — were sprayed with the mosquito-abating solution this year for the first time, Aho said.

For Long Life, Cincinnati Profs Advise Siestas

CINCINNATI (UP) — Viva la siesta!

That brief afternoon nap is not the refuge of the lazy, but the premium a wise man pays for a long life, says two University of Cincinnati professors.

Dr. Clarence A. Mills, expert on the effect of climate and weather on man, and Dr. Robert Kirsner, associate professor of romance languages and literature, both laud the siesta.

Ten minutes of sleep will do it. A short nap is better, says Dr. Mills, than a long slumber, which makes one groggy.

* * *

America, Dr. Mills, continues, has the highest heart disease rate in the world. This is because Americans rush around all day without getting the proper rest.

In many cases sudden and extreme temperature changes often stimulate people to great spurts of productive energy.

These people keep right on going without sufficient rest and collapse eventually from exhaustion.

The siesta is the answer. "When knocks and creaks begin to appear in our bodies, it means that we need longer and more frequent periods for repair forces to do their work," warned Dr. Mills.

* * *

"Proper hours of sleep at night are essential, but a short afternoon nap is equally important."

Adenauer Assures West of Solid Allegiance

(Editors Note: United Press vice president Jack Bisco has obtained an exclusive interview with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in which, for the first time, the German chancellor gives publicly his own frank views toward Russia's sudden offer to give diplomatic recognition to the new West German Republic.)

By JACK BISCO

Copyright 1955 by United Press

BONN, Germany (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today assured the United States and the Western Allies that West Germany will stand solidly with them.

He said he was willing to attend a top level conference with the Soviet Union under proper circumstances, but he added with great determination:

"One thing is certain: We will faithfully observe the obligations taken up under the treaties with the West.

"On the other hand, we would be pleased if a contribution to the reduction of world tension could be achieved by an exchange of views with the Soviets."

Adenauer received me in the same carpet-covered office where I met him three years ago. He said that a meeting such as the one proposed by Russia must be preceded by an exchange of views with the Soviet Union.

He said that his government's reply to the Kremlin's bombshell note of Tuesday, inviting Western Germany to establish full diplomatic relations with Russia and calling for a conference with the 79-year-old chancellor, would "take some time."

HAS QUESTION

"Several questions will have to be clarified first," he said. Recalling that the Soviet note spoke of diplomatic, cultural and trade relations with Germany, Adenauer said:

"We must first have an exchange of views with the Soviet Union on these questions before I can go to meet them.

"For that reason there will be no immediate German-Russian conference."

I asked the chancellor whether he would go to Moscow himself or whether he would prefer to meet the Russian leaders in Bonn or in a neutral place like Geneva.

He leaned back and smiled "That is a technical question, and of no great importance"—obviously implying that he would not refuse to travel to Russia if a conference is held.

He said he would explain his position in full to President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden when he meets both next week—if he was asked to explain by the two Western statesmen.

WILLING TO TALK

"I do not know what questions they will ask me, but if they want to talk about this subject, I will certainly do so," he said.

"A reply to the Soviet Union, however, requires the prior clarification of a number of questions," he explained, because the Soviet note's reference to the establishment of normal relations with Western Germany was "too general."

Adenauer spoke of the new Soviet move when I read to him a statement which he made to me three years ago, a statement which already seems prophetic.

On October 2, 1952, the German chancellor told the United Press: "I am firmly convinced that (the late Soviet Premier Josef) Stalin—once the West had united and the Atlantic community becomes strong enough—realizes that the cold war does not pay in the long run. Then he (Stalin) will be prepared to negotiate. If we continue our way followed during the past two years, then I am convinced that the day for such negotiations of the West with Moscow is not far away."

Adenauer recalled having made this statement and said that "Every word of it is still true."

He supported President Eisenhower's remark Wednesday that a four-power meeting with Russia could serve as a means for establishing peace in the world. He said he was in full agreement with Eisenhower that Germany would stand by her treaties with the West.

Ferndale Boy Uninjured After Being Hit by Car

Robert Richardson, 11, of 2852 Dashwood, Royal Oak, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after being hit by a car at 15 Mile and Dequindre roads.

Driver Frank Taylor, 59, of Highland Park, said the youth dashed in front of his car as he started up at the intersection, according to Troy Township police.

Examination of the boy revealed he was uninjured.

How to Handle Your Money: 5

Dollar-Averaging Urged for Individual Investors

Following is the fifth installment of a ten-part interview with Benjamin Graham, security analyst and Columbia University professor who answers questions on the hows, whys and whens of investing your money.

Q—Do you think the dollar-averaging plan for an individual is sound?

A—Yes, I think it's the soundest and most simple plan open to everybody that I know of.

Q—About how long does it take for dollar averaging to produce results?

A—Over past experience, it's generally felt that a seven-year period is a kind of minimum. A 10-year period is usually the one that is talked about.

Q—That being the case, one could start at any time?

A—Yes. The reason you talk about a 10-year period is that past analaysis shows that had you started at any time, even at the top of the market in 1929, you would have done all right by 10 years later.

Q—Then the man of moderate means has two alternatives in buying stocks: If he hasn't a lot of time and know-how, he is well advised to buy conservatively, either to buy investment shares or to buy well-known stocks when they are at reasonable prices. Of if he has a lot of time, then he can go into it with more detail, take more risks, buy lesser-known shares, and not be so conservative about it. Is that the sum of it?

A—I would question, in a way, your expression. You mention the fact that he would take more risks, and that is the usual concept where one buys securities that are not so well known. But when you consider the matter carefully you'll see that the purchase of securities that are not so well known at low prices—which is what a man wants to use his particular skill for—does not really involve more risk. It involves less risk on the whole. It only appears to be riskier.

Q—Still, the point is that, if he doesn't have the time to think about it or the know-how, he's got to buy something like investment-company shares or the standard blue chips—isn't that right? He has no other choice, has he?

A—Yes, that's true. And, when he departs from those procedures, the chances are that he will make mistakes, and perhaps very serious mistakes by buying the kind of thing that's called to his attention by salesmen or others who operate by tips.

Q—When a man is planning to use dollar averaging, the first thing he wants to do is to select a group of stocks that he's going to buy. Now, maybe he'd prefer to invest directly rather than through an investment company. What should he do? Should he go to his broker to seek advice?

A—I don't want to disparage the service that brokers can render. I think they can render good services in many circumstances. But I don't believe that on the whole the service they can render for this particular man would turn out to be best. Because his limited objective is to buy sound securities over a period of years, and it's easier for him to follow that general principle than it is for him to get good specific advice.

The broker is likely to have his thoughts pretty much on what seems to be good at the moment, and that would not fit in too well with this long-term investment plan.

4 Counties Are Home of Raisin

Growers in California Supply United States and Much of the World

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Do you have raisins on your winter menu? It's almost a sure bet they came from a small, four-county area in the San Joaquin Valley.

The growers there say they produce 40 per cent of the world supply of raisins and almost 100 per cent of the U. S. tonnage. Now they are working in their own research organization to get you to use more raisins.

The industry got its start in 1872 when William Thompson sent east for cuttings of a hothouse grape he remembered from his boyhood in England.

He grafted the cuttings to three muscat vines at his Sutter County ranch. He did not dream that he was on the way to turn a luxury item into a household staple—and a huge industry that now returns upwards of 40 million dollars to growers annually.

Raisin variety grapes are grown primarily in what is known as the raisin belt — Madera, Fresno, Kings and Tulare Counties — because of the semi-desert climate, rich soil and because the flat valley floor is ideal for irrigated farming and mechanized operations.

Several other varieties of grapes are dried for raisins on a smaller scale but Thompsons are by far the most popular.

The raisin growers have had a long battle to control the marketing of their business.

In 1912, a cooperative called The California Associated Raisin Co. was formed. That organization, later renamed The Sun-Maid Growers of California, today is the largest raisin packing concern in the world.

In recent years the raisin men have joined in setting up a federal raisin marketing order. All raisins termed surplus are removed from competitive channels and are placed in a pool for export or sale to a non-competitive agency.

The raisin growers and packers have established a packers have established a California Raisin Advisory Board. The job of this agency is to carry on an educational and research program.

Research has resulted in such new products as raisin ice cream, raisin pie filling and others. And the research goes on.

Eisenhowers Extend Congratulations to Lad

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dale Mote, 18, thought his graduation from Brookville High School was important enough to tell President Eisenhower.

So Dale sent Ike an announcement. Yesterday he received a letter from the White House in which the Eisenhowers' offered their congratulations. "It was the best graduation gift of all,' said Dale, who starts working for the United States next Monday—in naval boot training.

Tennessee Lad Likes to Sew, Whip Up Meals

MICHIE, Tenn. (UP) — Elmer Ray Counce is a husky lad who sews his own clothes and can whip up a tasty meal.

* * *

Elmer, a junior at Michie High School, is the first male ever to be awarded a homemaker degree by the Tennessee Future Homemaker Association.

It all started when Elmer decided he'd like to learn about cooking. The next thing he knew he was the only boy in a classroom of girls and was learning to sew as well as cook.

"It took a lot of nerve to attend that first class," Elmer said, "but after that it was fun."

He makes his own sport shirts, pajamas and bathrobe.

* * *

Elmer took "home ec' because he plans to become a chef or food inespector when he finishes college. He thinks other lads should take a fling at sewing and cooking too.

"I believe home economics is a field that offers great opportunities for boys," he said. "It has meant a great deal to me."

Founder of Arbor Day Started Huge Program

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Department of Agriculture figures J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska City, Neb., really started something when he founded Arbor Day.

The department said the tree-planting holiday has spread from Nebraska to the other 47 states, and the program broke all records in fiscal 1954.

The department said 6,997 acres of trees were planted in Nebraska during the year, and the total national acreage was 811,066, compared to 715,548 acres a year earlier.

Texas, the largest state, has 253 counties while Rhode Island, the smallest state, has only five.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR RELATives, the doctors & nurses at St. Joseph's Hospital, also our neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our bereavement in the loss of our loved one, Grover C. Ames. We also wish to convey our thanks to the Rev. Wm. Hill Collycott and Mrs. Vernon Vie of the Salvation Army for their comforting messages, and the Huntoon Funeral Home for their many acts of kindness. The Grover Ames Family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR husband and father, Floyd E. Speer Sr., who passed away June 14, 1954.
It is lonesome here without you,
Sad and weary the way.
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by wife, Bernice, Children and Granddaughter.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF AGNES M. Warden who passed away June 9th, 1952.
You're not forgotten, mother dear,
Nor ever shall you be.
As long as life and memory last,
I shall remember thee.
Sadly missed by children.

ONE YEAR HAS PASSED SINCE God has taken our dear loved one home, whom we miss so much and can't forget.
The family of Thomas C. Sisk.

Advertising Executive Would Debunk Concept of 'Glib Huckster'

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Lawrence Valenstein is breaking a tradition in hopes of setting the record straight about advertising agencies and executives.

The president of Grey Advertising Agency particularly wants to debunk the concept of the typical ad agency executive as a fast-stepping, smooth-talking huckster who transacts his business on the golf course or over a Martini.

So he is permitting TV to take viewers inside his agency for NBC's telecast of Mr. Executive tomorrow to see how ad campaigns for newspapers, magazines, radio and TV are planned. The show is one of a series on various business fields.

* * *

Heretofore, ad agencies have carefully kept in the background and avoided publicity although they handle billions of dollars worth of it a year. But Valenstein says he thinks it's time for ad agencies to tell their own story.

"The impression of the business as wild and fabulous, has been drawn entirely, it seems to me, from bad books, bad motion pictures and bad plays," declares the veteran of 37 years in the field. "The people in advertising, by and large, are as sincere, hard-working individuals as you'll find in any other field.

* * *

Another impression he hopes to reverse is that the public pays extra for advertising.

Advertising, he says, creates sales which make possible the economies of mass production and actually brings lower prices.

Convict Gets Life for Slaying Another

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A circuit court jury last night convicted Donald W. De Lapp, 19, in the slaying of a fellow convict during last September's riots at the Missouri Penitentiary.

The jury recommended life imprisonment.

De Lapp was one of seven convicts accused in the fatal stabbing of Walter Lee Donnell. He denied complicity.

Donnell, 22, reportedly marked out for convicts' vengeance as a "squealer," had been placed in the prison's death row for his own protection. He was slain during the height of the bloody riot which claimed four lives and left a score of prisoners wounded.

TB Patient Receives Diploma at Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alice Westbrook couldn't make it to her high school graduation—so the graduation came to her.

Alice, 16, had to leave Claremont High in April with tuberculosis. There wasn't a chance that she could leave the sanitarium to attend the senior exercises tonight.

So Principal Lyle C. Martin and her 81 senior classmates drove 37 miles to her bedside last night, and Alice received her diploma and a trophy naming her "as the outstanding member of the class in athletic sportsmanship and scholarship."

B'Nai B'Rith Lodge Names New Officers

The new slate of officers elected by the B'Nai B'Rith Lodge at the meeting held Wednesday are:

President, Mark Davis; 1st vice president, Fred Niedelson; 2nd vice president, Malcolm Kahn; secretary, Sherwin M. Birnkrant; treasurer, Charles Jacobs; warden, Arthur Benson; trustees, Morris Kampner, Dr. Utley.

During the meeting, Abe Lapides gave an interesting and informative talk on his recent visit to Israel.

The installation dinner will be held on June 22 at the Rotunda Inn with Dr. Maurice Thome acting as installing officer.

Boy Falls Under Car Trying Latch on Door

MADISON, Neb. (AP)— Frank Thomas Geary, 2½, exclaimed, "Look mommy, I can lock the door" as his mother, Mrs. John Geary backed the family car out of the home driveway.

Frank twisted the latch. The door flew open and he fell to his death.

Hop on 'Flying Carpet' for Journey to Istanbul

By EARL WILSON

On a flying carpet—want to come along to Turkey?

Toting along a Davy Crockett cap and a can of Brooklyn-made halvah as a friendly gesture, I flew out on a Pan-Am Stratocruiser, "The Flying Carpet," for the grandiose opening of the Hilton Hotel Istanbul.

★ ★ ★ ★

So hang on, you-all! I lugged a ton of stuff for my wife which she forgot when we whipped over to Venice last week.

"Better bring me some tissues, more cigarettes, nylons, my rain hat, the Polaroid," she commanded.

EARL and CAP

"Where'm I gonna put all my camera stuff . . . the Nikon, the Voigtlander, the Mighty Light, the Tri-X film . . ." I argued.

"Not to mention a photographer to take pictures for you!" she snorted.

She's been in Paris a week — that's a switch . . . a wife being in Paris without her husband. Such emancipation!

It looks like this trip'll make this Texas feller Conrad Hilton the greatest of all hosts.

We had on our plane such nobodies as Irene Dunne, Mona Freeman, Merle Oberon, Ann Miller, Mimi Benzell, Keefe Brasselle, Victor Borge, Ted Straeter and Tex and Jinx.

"The girls are trying to outdress each other," one writer said.

★ ★ ★ ★

I saw some of 'em around town and believe me, they were trying to out-undress each other.

Everybody was drinking Turkish coffee on the plane. (They were, too! Especially just before we got there.)

There's another plane load, too, but I couldn't worry about it. I had to worry about the Davy Crockett cap he gave me, after wearing it on "What's My Line?"

★ ★ ★ ★

I won't be going this time to Bulgaria as I did in '51. (Bulgaria and Turkey have a local rivalry; they're sort of the Dallas and Fort Worth, the St. Paul and Minneapolis, of the Middle East.)

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jean Pierre-Aumont sent a gift (jeweled earrings?) to Grace Kelly via Betsy Blair, the "Marty" luminary just back from Europe. Jean's popular with Americans, who hope Grace'll say yes.

Haleloki—though fired by Arthur Godfrey and now a consultant with "Orchids for Hawaii"— says, "Godfrey and I are still friends. He's been very good to me and the people of Hawaii."

Busty Betty George turned in her notice at "Ankles Aweigh" to do cafes; Marilyn Bradley of Boston takes over . . . Jackie Gleason's around in a new pink and purple Buick; he'll sell his plaid-topped Cadillac . . . Gregg Sherwood Dodge and two girl friends left for Paris; a friend said, "Hide the Eiffel Tower!"

RCA Victor signed Jaye P. Morgan's four brothers as a quartet, "The Four Morgans" . . . Marguerite Piazza's fine act is the Cotillion Room's last offering for the season.

MARGUERITE

Ex-Mayor Bill O'Dwyer's planning a European tour soon (with a stop at the Vatican) . . . Monique Van Vooren, finishing a Montreal singing job, will dash right back to Paris and her boy friend . . . Gloria Grahame arrives this week to publicize "Not As a Stranger."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Willie Bryant paid tribute to a recent show-stopping performance by Sammy Davis Jr.: "The only thing that can follow that act is World War III!"

Russian Visa Okayed for British Newsman

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Soviet Embassy informed a British newsman yesterday he has been granted a visa to visit Russia. It appeared to be the first fruit of Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev's invitation to corespondents covering the recent Russian-Yugoslav talks.

The Briton is Eric Bourne, a correspondent for the London Daily Express and the Christian Science Monitor of Boston, Mass.

* * *

Khrushchev's promise was made June 3 to newsmen clustered around the dining room at the farewell Soviet reception here as the Russian Communist leader staggered homeward after a long evening of wining and dining.

The next day the Soviet Embassy here received about 14 applications for visas from foreign correspondents and photographers, many of them American. None of the others has yet received a reply.

Ex-Secret Police Chief Dies in Cuba Gun Fight

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Police shot former secret police chief Jorge Agostini to death in a gun battle last night. Agostini, an associate of deposed President Carlos Prio Socarras, had sneaked back into the country from exile under an assumed name.

Hal Boyle Says:

Billy the Kid Brought Delinquency to West

LINCOLN, N. M. (AP)—The Old West had its juvenile delinquents, too.

The most famous was William H. Bonney, better known as Billy the Kid.

Historians still argue over the real character and actual criminal record of this buck-toothed frontier lad.

* * *

Legend has it that in his brief 21 years he killed 21 men, "not counting Indians and Mexicans." But that is only legend.

Was Billy, a Brooklyn tenement product left fatherless at three, a born mobster with murder in his heart? Or was he just a victim of his wild environment, a "crazy mixed-up kid?"

* * *

Unfortunately, Billy didn't live to an age in which he could die down on a psychiatrist's couch and give his own version.

But nearly 75 years after his death the souvenirs of his controversial career have made him one of New Mexico's greatest tourist draws. Not up to the Carlsbad Caverns, of course, but still a major attraction.

* * *

Nobody had heard much about Billy until the opening of the celebrated "Lincoln County War," which has since inspired countless Hollywood horse operas.

The war was a struggle for economic and political power between two rival factions of frontier rangers, general storekeepers and politicians.

It began Feb. 18, 1878, when a posse, deputized to serve legal papers on John Tunstall, an English-born rancher, met him on a road and, instead of the papers, served him two bullets. The second one went through his head.

* * *

Before the war ended battles between the two factions left 14 men dead in this small town alone.

Only one man besides Billy ever stood trial, and he was acquitted. Billy, who had been promised a full pardon by Territorial Gov. Lew Wallace, did surrender. But he became suspicious of the situation and rode away unhindered.

* * *

Later, brought to trial for a subsequent slaying and sentenced to hang, the Kid recalled the earlier bargain with Gov. Wallace and complained he was being given a raw deal. When Wallace pointed out that his promise had been given at a different time for a different crime, Billy killed his two guards in the courthouse jail and galloped off.

Exactly 77 days later at midnight on July 14, 1881, Sheriff Pat Garrett, who had taken the deaths of his two deputies as a personal insult, caught up with Billy.

Sitting in a blackened room, the sheriff ambushed Billy. He shot him above the heart as the Kid, half dressed and shoeless, stood uncertainly at the doorway and called in Spanish, "Who is it? Who is it?"

They buried Billy in a borrowed white shirt too big for his thin small frame, and an Indian girl put a wooden cross above his grave inscribed "Sleep well, beloved."

* * *

There were some hard feelings against Sheriff Garrett. Some held he could have taken the Kid alive. Billy had his friends as well as critics. The Democrats, perhaps annoyed at losing a potential voter so young, denied Garrett renomination, and he moved on to other parts.

* * *

Some students of frontier culture hold Billy's reputation as a bad man was blown up by Garrett himself in his memoirs to justify the way he killed the Kid. They say only three killings can be pinned on him with absolute certainty two of them in his jailbreak to escape the noose.

"There weren't any heroes in the Lincoln County War," says one present resident. "They were all pretty rough characters."

But, misunderstood, or not, everyone agrees Billy the Kid was a juvenile culprit. And his short bloody career and lonely death did much to bring law and order to a wild area where the nation's military services now placidly test rocket projectiles far vaster than the Kid's simple single action 44-caliber Colt revolver.

Heat Kills Woman

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—One of the earliest hot spells in desert annals has brought death, police said, to Mrs. Lulu N. Brelan, 37. She was the victim of the 117-degree heat, highest ever recorded on June 8 here.
