Three-State Twisters Kill Seven, Smash 100 Homes

DRUMRIGHT, Okla. (P)—A rash of tornadoes struck two dozen towns in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri overnight, killing at least seven.

The most furious twister hit Drumright, leaving five dead and a hundred houses smashed in this town of 5,000 about 40 miles southwest of Tulsa.

Two were killed in southeast Kansas, where weather observers said they had reports on 14 tornadoes.

Four twisting funnels hit the extreme southwest corner of Missouri, with police reporting two persons injured and $100,000 worth of damage at Joplin.

The Oklahoma casualty list, along a path from Drumright to Miami in the northeast corner of the state, included 50 injured.

Four members of the C. V. Bevel family were killed in Drumright—Bevel, his wife, and two daughters, Gloria Jean 17, and Virginia, 18.

A teen-age son, at a movie when the storm hit, is the only survivor. Mrs. Elmer Weaver, 51, died later in a hospital.

Mrs. Ethel Whitely, about 70, was killed by the twister which hit just south of Grenola, Kan. Another splintered the home of E. E. Reek near Toronto, Kan., killing Reek and blowing his wife and daughter out of the house. They were not injured seriously.

A dozen were hurt in the storm which hit Miami, Okla., and wrecked a four-block area.

Lesser twisters were reported at Hopeton, Skeeade, near Pond Creek, Davenport, Jacksonville, on the edge of Tulsa, and Freedom, all in Oklahoma.

HITS KANSAS TOWNS

The Miami tornado also struck Quapaw, Okla., and Baxter Springs, Kan.

Other points hit in Kansas included Attica, Maple City, Otto, Florence, Strong City, Fredonia, Howard, Radium, and Ellinwood.

The Drumright blow came at 9:36 p.m.

An estimated 100 houses in a 25-block area were demolished in Drumright.

Russians Test Sixth A-Bomb in 8 Months

WASHINGTON (P)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced last night a sixth atomic explosion by Soviet Russia in the last eight months.

A Russian test series, which included one large hydrogen blast, got under way last summer. Three smaller explosions were detected in August and two more have been reported by the AEC this spring.

There was no word from the AEC on the size of the latest blast.

The announcement followed by a few hours word from the AEC that a small group of newsmen and civil defense officials will be permitted to observe a U.S. nuclear test at the Pacific proving grounds at Eniwetok about May 1.

Spring Arrives in Pontiac Area; High Was 71

Whoever set March 20 as the first day of spring jumped the gun by two weeks.

Despite what the calendar says, spring made its long-awaited 1956 premier yesterday, driving two Sylvan Lake youths into the chilly waters of Sylvan Lake for a dip.

Some convertible tops were lowered for the first time yesterday as the mercury climbed to a high of 71 degrees.

School children on vacation in the Pontiac area had a field day as they played catch on city playgrounds while others roamed around on their bicycles in shorts enjoyed the first real day of spring.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the mercury will hover around 55 degrees tonight with slightly lower temperatures expected for Pontiac and vicinity tomorrow. But the mercury will still remain in the 60's accompanied by cloudy skies.

The usual April showers are expected to appear with the lower temperatures in the form of thunderstorms.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 55 degrees. The mercury registered 65 at 1 p.m.

Arsonist Sought in Florida Fire

$750,000 Blaze Razes Theater, Hotel, Stores in Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (P)—Roaring flames, given new life when a water main burst, destroyed or damaged several downtown buildings early today.

Authorities indicated the fire might have been set deliberately. No casualties were reported. No official estimate of damages was available but it was expected to reach about $750,000.

The fire started about 11:30 p.m. in the 1,050-seat Empire Theater and spread to an adjacent hotel.

About 100 guests in the three-story Orange Hotel were evacuated. About 700 theater patrons had left about 30 minutes before the fire was discovered.

Detective James Haas said police were questioning a man suspected of setting the fire. Authorities would not say immediately why they thought it might be a case of arson.

After a water main collapsed, firemen laid hose lines to the Halifax River, about a block and a half away.

The fire was brought under control at 3 a.m. But by then the 46-room hotel appeared to be almost a total loss.

Milk Strike Called Off

End of Picketing Eases Situation in Local Area

Fair Share Association Brings End to 9-Day Price Fight

Leaders of the milk strike today called off their nine-day old tieup. The order from the Fair Share Bargaining Committee said all picketing was to end at 1 p.m. today.

Butressed by court injunctions and police aid, milk flowed smoothly into Pontiac and the rest of the Detroit Metropolitan area today, on the ninth day of the strike.

Investigation into the dispute between warring farmers and dairies was asked last night in a senate resolution.

Introduced by Republican Sen. Bert J. Storey, a dairy farmer, the resolution calls for a five-man committee to report to the 1957 legislature, shunted temporarily to a committee, the resolution was expected to pass.

An offer by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to arbitrate the dispute between members of the Fair Share Bargaining Association and the rival Michigan Milk Producers Association seemed doomed.

REJECTS MEDIATION

Earlier Glenn Lake, President of the MMPA, rejected mediation by the State Labor Mediation Board, saying "a very small minority of dairy farmers" were striking against "the large majority."

Fair Share leaders had accepted the Governor's offer in its fight for a price of $6.50 a hundredweight. The MMPA stated it has

Bradley Will Head Board

Sloan Quits Top GM Post

NEW YORK (P)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., 80-year-old pioneer auto maker, has resigned as board chairman of General Motors Corp.

Albert Bradley, 64, member of the GM Board of Directors and an executive vice president, succeeded Sloan in a series of top-level personnel changes announced late yesterday.

Sloan's 38-year career with GM began shortly after the birth of the automobile industry. In the 1930s he led GM through the depression. The firm grew into the world's greatest auto maker and the world's largest industrial corporation.

Harlow W. Curtrice, who remains as GM president, saluted Sloan:

"Of all the men ever associated with General Motors, none has looked forward as steadily as he. Always he has kept his eye on the future."

Sloan was elected honorary chairman of the corporation. He will continue as a member of the board, a member of the Financial Policy Committee and as chairman of the Bonus and Salary Committee.

Bradley, born in Blackburn, England, came to GM as a member of the comptroller's staff in 1919. He was promoted to assistant comptroller and later to assistant treasurer. In 1927 he was named general assistant treasurer. Two years later he became a vice president.

In 1940 in the early days of the defense effort before U.S. entry in World War II, Bradley assumed the post of executive assistant to the GM president. He was elected executive vice president in 1942.

A Dartmouth College graduate, Bradley also holds master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Michigan. His specialty was economics and finance.

Frederick G. Donner, vice president in charge of the financial staff of the giant corporation, succeeds Bradley as chairman of the Financial Policy Committee. Donner was also elected an executive vice president.

Sloan, born in New Haven, Conn., and reared in Brooklyn, N.Y., graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology as an electrical engineer in 1895.

After 17 years with the Hyatt Roller Bearing Co., he joined with automobile pioneer W. C. Durant to form United Motors Corp. This firm became part of GM in 1918.

Sloan was made GM vice president in charge of accessory operations.

In 1923 he was elected president and chief executive officer of the corporation. He became board chairman in 1937.

Planning Expert Outlines 4 Pontiac Area Problems

Four major problems for the Pontiac area were listed last night by a metropolitan planning expert addressing the Pontiac Real Estate Board at its regular meeting.

Paul M. Reid, planning analyst of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, said the four problems are:

1. The local economy is not diversified. "You have most of your economic eggs in the basket of the automobile industry," he said. "This is not all bad, but its possible implications must be considered."

2. The area lacks water services and supply. "This is a serious issue," Reid said. "The long-time solution won't be achieved in a year or two, and not by Pontiac alone. It will most likely come through the efforts of three or four counties acting together."

3. A "rush" of suburban shopping centers is growing outside Pontiac, cutting off the flow of consumer money to city businesses.

4. The population center of the county still is outside Pontiac, with greatest growth centering in the southeastern quarter.

Answering a question from the floor, Reid said the proposed pipeline from Lake Huron to bring water to the area still is in the study stage. He estimated the study now being conducted should be finished in four to six months, after which a selected engineering firm could begin actual planning.

In response to another question, Reid said Pontiac merchants might meet the threat of suburban shopping centers by providing additional parking, "dressing up" all store fronts in the downtown area, and providing specialized services not to be found in the shopping centers.

OK Amendment by Wide Margin

3-1 Ratio of Voters Approve Changing of City Election Date

Pontiac voters yesterday favorably approved of a charter amendment to move future general elections two weeks ahead, by more than a 3-to-1 ratio.

Unofficial returns show 6,448 voted for the amendment while 1,642 cast ballots against the only issue on the ballot.

It received a winning margin in all the city's 44 precincts.

The amendment was called for by the city clerk to shift the election to the third Monday in April instead of the first, in order to allow more registration time between the March primary and the April balloting.

The amendment, after results on the issue are canvassed Thursday night, is to take effect in the 1958 city election.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans expects the amendment to allow around three weeks between the two elections, depending upon which days the elections fall in 1958.

All registrations for the first two 1956 elections were closed Feb. 6 due to a state law which prohibits the clerk from taking registrations after the thirtieth day preceding an election.

British Curfew Cypriot Village

Forces Begin 26-Hour
Restriction in Evrykhov
After Bombings

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British security forces today imposed a 26-hour curfew on the village of Evrykhov, west of Nicosia, after three bombs were thrown at the police station there.

At Limassol, a 12-year-old Greek Cypriot girl died of injuries suffered in a bombing yesterday. The child was standing nearby when a bomb was thrown at a British military vehicle. An elderly British couple was injured by the same bomb.

A curfew was clamped on the southern port city after the bombing.

The girl's death raised the fatality total to 70 since Eoka, the pro-Greek Cypriot underground organization, began its campaign against British rule April 1, 1935. The dead include 24 British servicemen, 8 police officers, 26 civilians and 12 rebel supporters of the union-with-Greece movement.

The island's British government announced that eight Greek Cypriots have been arrested in Vasilia for participation in a riot between Greek and Turkish groups there March 19.

election bid in 1934 as Commissioner Harry W. Lutz, who was not a candidate this year, ousted him in the balloting.

Winning by the largest margins in the unofficial tallies, were Commissioner Philip E. Rowston and John A. Dugan.

Dugan, 46, of 363 Nelson St., received 956 votes, the second largest gathered by any of the 14 candidates, to Pat Stogin's 288.

Dugan, a Pontiac Motor Division employee, walked away with all seven precincts in District 5 to win his second two-year term.

Also winning in all six precincts in District 2, was incumbent Rowston, who received 716 tallies to Frank O'Brien's 323.

Rowston was first appointed to the commission in July 5, 1935, to fill the vacancy left by Harcourt S. Patterson.

District 6 incumbent John E. Curry defeated for the second time former Commissioner J. H. Patrick Glynn, 569 votes to 514 in the closest race of the election.

The victorious Curry won all but one of the district's five precincts. He lost out in precinct 24 to Glynn, 161 to 129 votes.

But he did the unexpected as he captured Glynn's own precinct 22, by the margin of 100 to 64 votes.

The only write-in vote reported was recorded in this precinct also, as Vance L. Hanger, retired Pontiac police officer, received one vote.

Gaining two of seven District 3 precincts was not enough for candidate Earl J. Smith as Mayor William W. Donaldson won another term by a 510 to 433 vote.

Smith, a partner in the Braces-Smith Funeral Home, won precincts 10 and 31 by 11 and six votes respectively, while Donaldson captured precincts 9, 7, 9, 11, and 30.

Norman R. Bolton, a candidate for the District 4 post held by Floyd P. Miles, won half of the six precincts in the district but Miles fought back with wider margins in the other three to win a second term.

Miles received 742 votes to Bolton's 605.

In the last district to report, District 1 incumbent Dr. Roy V. Cooley was triumphant for a third two-year term as he gathered the largest vote for any candidate, 962 to Samuel J. Whiters' 893.

This was a close victory for the Pontiac doctor as Whiters won four of the district's seven precincts but still fell behind in the final tallies.

Whiters won precincts 1, 34, 36, and 37, while Dr. Cooley gained victory in precincts 2, 3, and 38.

Five Die in Tragedy Between Seattle, Tacoma

SEATTLE (AP)—The deep waters of Puget Sound today held the answer to what caused a crippled luxury airliner to crash-land and sink between Seattle and Tacoma yesterday with a loss of five lives.

Thirty-three other persons aboard the Northwest Orient Airlines Stratocruiser were rescued from the sound.

The huge double-deck craft, shaking from a sudden and severe vibration, belly-flopped into the sound in an emergency landing described by one survivor "as no worse than the sudden stopping of a car."

The crash occurred just minutes after the plane had left the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport on a flight to New York.

An official investigation was begun by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Efforts will be made today to raise the plane from the 400-foot-deep waters.

Billy Rose Mansion Fire Destroys Valued Art Work

MT. KISCO, N. Y. (INS)—Broadway showman Billy Rose sat in glum silence, brooding over the loss of priceless works of art in a fire today which destroyed his $100,000 country home.

Rose, who has announced his June wedding to Joyce Mathews, refused to comment on the damage in the 28-room mansion, saying bitterly:

"I'd rather not sound off about that, now."

All that was left of the Westchester showplace were the four walls. Servants living in the three-story brick and wood mansion managed to save some silverware, statuary and other valuables, but Rose was reputed to have an extensive and valuable art collection.

Rose and blonde Miss Mathews, who once slashed her wrists in Rose's apartment atop New York's Ziegfeld Theater, arrived at the scene at 5 a.m.

Police reported Rose had given a party Sunday in the treasure-filled house which lasted until 10 p.m. The first fire alarm was turned in at 2:35 a.m. Butler Frederick Hendlander raced a quarter of a mile to the superintendent's cottage to call firemen.

Authorities believe the blaze started in the playroom and living quarters.

Lack of water hampered Mt. Kisco, Armonk and Chappaqua firemen, who were forced to pump water uphill from a small pond 2,000 feet away and later to run hose to Wampus Lake, a mile and a half away.

The showman could not estimate the loss or detail insurance coverage.

U.S. Expects OK on Plan to Send Dag to Palestine

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was expected to win approval today for its plan to send U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on a special Palestine peace mission.

The 11-nation Security Council scheduled morning and afternoon sessions in an effort to reach a vote. Both Western and Arab sources indicated the U.S. proposal would be accepted without further difficulty.

The Arab countries, after indicating some doubts last week, apparently were ready to go along with the plan. "I don't think there will be any trouble," said the spokesman of one Arab delegation.

The U.S. resolution would direct Hammarskjold to confer with leaders of countries concerned with the crisis along Israel's borders and work out agreements to reduce tension along the frontier.

Foreign tourists came to India in 1935 from 60 countries, New Delhi reports.

Robert J. Hayden, 27, who pleaded guilty to stealing the oil from a White Lake Township gas station Feb. 28, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

"It was a pretty expensive quart of oil," Judge Adams commented from the bench.

Four Men Plead Guilty to Farmington Breakin

Four men charged with the $160 robbery March 18 of a Farmington Township grocery store pleaded guilty yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

BIRMINGHAM — Mayor Charles Renfrew retained his commission post with the top number of votes, 1,070, while Carl H. Ingraham tallied 1,030 to secure a commission seat in yesterday's election here.

The two men had the most votes in all 11 precincts, except the 11th, where Donald Fill took the lead. Fill tallied 236 votes and Omar Hansen, 179 votes.

Mrs. Cassius L. Miller won 1,071 of the 1,334 votes cast yesterday, and Supt. of Schools Dwight D. Ireland polled 1,069 votes, as library board candidates. They were unopposed.

Ward and Trainor will ask an opinion of the Pembroke Manor Association, a residential group in the area the buses would serve. One city company operator was present last night, but requested that decision be deferred until other car companies could be represented.

U.S. Expects OK on Plan to Send Dag to Palestine

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was expected to win approval today for its plan to send U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on a special Palestine peace mission.

The 11-nation Security Council scheduled morning and afternoon sessions in an effort to reach a vote. Both Western and Arab sources indicated the U.S. proposal would be accepted without further difficulty.

The Arab countries, after indicating some doubts last week, apparently were ready to go along with the plan. "I don't think there will be any trouble," said the spokesman of one Arab delegation.

The U.S. resolution would direct Hammarskjold to confer with leaders of countries concerned with the crisis along Israel's borders and work out agreements to reduce tension along the frontier.

Algeria Unloosening Grip of Control From the French

(First of 3 in series)
By PRESTON GROVER
ALGIERS, French North Africa—The rebellion in Algeria has progressed so far that to people on the spot it seems only a miracle can save it for France.

And even if it is "saved" for France in one shape or another, it is sure to be a vastly changed relationship. It will not be the "part of France itself" which has been the boast of French legislators and officials for many years. But unless the passage toward the new relationship is made more smoothly than now seems likely, there could be a nasty civil war—and no clear indication of how it would turn out.

That is the shape of things, in the rough.

It could mean a change of great importance to America and the Western world as well. For years the French have assured the West a friendly shore south of the Mediterranean. An Africa where French influence is reduced or eliminated could present the same complex problems as the Middle East.

REDS MAKE OVERTURES

The Russian gestures in Egypt which trouble the whole Western world could also be made in North Africa. Communists can be counted on to gain quick control of the labor unions. After that, no port or airport is a secure base.

After 10 years during which Arabs were promised, but never given, a real voice in Algerian government, the French Assembly has voted to give enormous powers to the new left-of-center Republican Front government to remedy the Algerian situation. Socialist Premier Guy Mollet has proposed a new plan, a three-decker job:

1. Arabs will be brought more largely into the government and financial help will be extended to make jobs for some of the two million jobless among the nine million population.

2. The rebellion will be put down. Two more divisions have been ordered to Algiers and military authorities have been given wider powers to deal quickly with Fellagha rebels caught bearing arms.

3. Within three months after peace is restored, elections will be held to choose Arabs with whom the French may negotiate a new relationship.

The two first operations go on together. The reforms are intended to make pacification easier.

NO HOME ELECTIONS

Elections? No Arab would dare run for office. The rebels operating in the mountains have already done that much in Algeria. The rest of the Arabs are either helping them or staying out of it altogether.

As to the "men in the bush," or "men in the mountains," as the Fellagha often are referred to, they already have laid down their conditions, unofficially:

1. Agreement upon immediate independence for Algeria.

2. Release of all political prisoners, rebels included.

3. Algerians, not French will decide when and whether there will be elections.

4. Frenchmen who take out Algerian citizenship will be treated like other Algerians. No favors.

It amounts to a demand for outright capitulation by the French.

In terms of sheer power, France probably could put down the rebellion. With planes, guns, ruthless treatment of prisoners, and destruction of villages which failed to cooperate, they could probably break it. But it would raise a storm of protest in the Arab world which the West would have a hard time facing, and it would bring a storm of protest from within France, which is a bit fed up with sending its sons abroad to save its overseas colonies.

GRADUAL ESCAPE

Already vast parts of Algeria—at least a third—have passed completely out of control of the French. In that respect it is much like Indochina. Bit by bit Indochina was taken over by the rebels and the cost of keeping the rest grew so high that even with American help the French could not hold out.

One of the clearest statements against it. They have made it clear of what the problem is in Algeria already that they are not "a part of France," as the French say.

Algerian soldiers, who long have fought alongside the French, have begun to turn their guns on French soldiers, killing them and fleeing into the hills to join the rebellion, carrying guns and ammunition.

That sort of thing began to happen in Indochina in the brief months before the end.

Florida's Okeechobee Nears Record Low

CLEWISTON, Fla. (AP)—The water level in Lake Okeechobee is down to 11.96 feet and still falling, officials report.

W. Turner Wallis, executive director of the central and south Florida flood control district, said the level may even surpass the record artificial low of 1932 when the water was drained off so dikes could be built around the big lake.

The prolonged dry weather, which is making it difficult to get irrigation water from the lake, has affected spring crops on thousands of acres.

4 Incumbents In at Walled Lake

2 Newcomers Also Win Council Posts; Liquor Proposal Passes

A number of cities and villages held general elections yesterday, with many sections reporting heavy voting and keen competition for vacancies.

Among communities reporting results of balloting are Walled Lake, Keego Harbor, Wolverine Lake, Hazel Park, Pleasant Ridge and the City of Lathrup Village.

Walled Lake

Four incumbents were returned to the Walled Lake City Council yesterday in an election in which 689 of the 900 registered voters went to the polls.

Re-elected were Mayor Harry W. Thomas, 358; Joseph Wilite, 348; Marshall E. Taylor, 427; and Robert M. Thibideau, 398. Two newcomers also were elected. They are John Secunda, 396, and William A. Mercer, 323.

The final candidate Kenneth McBroom (not elected) had 309 votes. By virtue of having received the largest number of votes, Taylor, Thibideau and Secunda will serve for two years. The others will serve one-year terms.

Herman Roth, with 394 votes, defeated incumbent Logan Sparks for justice of the peace for a four-year term.

Voters granted tavern owners permission to seek Class C liquor licenses by a vote of 491-132.

The final meeting of the present council will be held at 8 tonight. The new council will meet and name a mayor on April 9.

Keego Harbor

The proposal to sell liquor by the glass in Keego Harbor was voted in yesterday, with 603 votes as opposed to 107 no votes.

Lydia Ross defeated Wayne Voegelburg in the vacancy for the Council. Lydia had 443 votes and Wayne had 268.

A total of 573 votes put James Southart in the office of Justice of the Peace. He was unopposed.

Glenn Munger's 374 elected him as constable. He was running with George Stocker, who had 278 votes. There was a total of 737 votes cast during the day.

Wolverine Lake

Oscar Fritz and James P. Farley were re-elected to posts on the Wolverine Lake Village Common Council, while Victor Green took the other vacant seat in an election held yesterday. Exactly 316 of the village's 460 registered voters cast ballots.

Green replaces V. W. Bierley, who was not a candidate.

Of the seven candidates for the three positions, Fritz collected the biggest number of votes, 91 more than his closest rival. The other six participated in an extremely close race.

The final tabulation of votes gave Fritz, 187; Victor Green, 86; Farley, 91; Mahlon D. Green, 88; Carl J. Hawkins, 88; James R. Brown, 78 and Richard R. Miller, 64.

Fritz, Farley and Green will serve four-year terms. The other four positions on the council, held by village president Clifford Cottrell, George Belprez, Walter Dawes and Ed Sims, will expire in April, 1958.

Pleasant Ridge

Voting was heavy at the polls in Pleasant Ridge yesterday.

Of the 2,400 registered voters in Pleasant Ridge, 1,048 cast their votes for three seats on the city council.

C. Stanley Johnson retained his seat with 651 votes. His opponent, Mrs. Eleanor J. Giulio, trailed with 358 votes. Richard E. Seed received 584; Martin A. Nelles, 563; Harold H. Hunter, 451, and Wendell E. Morris, 427.

Hazel Park

In Hazel Park of the 10,397 registered voters 3,829 cast their votes.

Louis E. Elias, running for mayor, chalked up 2,333 votes; incumbent Zigmund J. Niparko, 1,445.

For council, incumbent Joseph Vrabel received 2,066; Oscar S. Beamer, 1,756; Omer Taylor, 1,754; Lloyd H. VanBuskirk Jr., 1,264.

For constable, Ray Albaugh took 1,580, with William Ragsdale trailing at 1,392.

LaVeta Fern Foust Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

LaVeta Fern Foust of Pontiac became the bride of Richard C. Brodie of Almont in a candlelight ceremony recently at the Church of God, Pontiac.

LaVeta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Foust of 2295 Ridge Rd., Pontiac. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brodie of Almont are Richard's parents.

The bride's floor-length gown of Chantilly lace swept into a cathedral train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline decorated with pearls and sequins, and long tapered sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of illusion silk was secured by a cup of Chantilly

BOARDING HOUSE

John Morris

A cartoon illustration by John Morris. It depicts two men in a room with a window and a ladder in the background. One man, wearing a suit and a fedora-style hat, stands and speaks. The other man, wearing a short-sleeved shirt with a star pattern and dark trousers, sits on the floor, looking up at the first man. A speech bubble from the standing man contains the text "I CAN SEE WHY!". The artist's signature "John Morris" is in the top right corner.
