Lawrence Warns:

Dem Landslide Could Set Off Deep Depression

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Next Tuesday's election of a new Congress is the most important in a half-century. On the outcome depends whether America, after a brief period of boom, will gradually head into a depression perhaps worse than anything experienced in the 1930s.

LAWRENCE

Confidence—the basic influence in business expansion and especially in the building of new plants—may be, temporarily at least, shattered when the election result is finally tabulated, if it turns out that a Democratic landslide in the North has taken place.

Will there be a scramble to build plants quickly under present prices, for fear that runaway costs will follow in the next year or so as inflation picks up more and more momentum? Or will business adopt a "wait and see" attitude?

If the even-up battle between the Republican Party and the Democratic Party in the North in recent years shows this time a sharp decline of Republican strength and the rise to supremacy of the radical faction of the Democratic Party, many businessmen will wonder what the long-range trend is going to be—higher and higher wages with higher and higher prices and then a crash as a buyers' strike ensues?

For the 13 years since World War II, the businessmen of the country have had faith in the effectiveness of the coalition of conservative Democrats of the South with the conservative Republicans from the North in preventing unsound legislation.

In both parties in Congress the conservative representation will be diminished—if the advance surveys are borne out.

As the voters go to the polls this time and elect Democratic candidates for Congress, they have been told very little about the conservative versus radical problem and what it means to them as individuals in the future.

Millions of voters with fixed pensions—in states like California—are apparently not aware of the dangers to them in the coming decline of the dollar's purchasing power when the radicals take command.

Certainly very little has been told the voter about how the new bosses of the Democratic Party in the North—the leaders of the labor unions who have put up most of the money for the Democrats in the present campaign—can be expected to dictate to the newly elected Democrats the course of economic legislation.

Businessmen who know the facts of life in politics are worried. They see a Congress dominated by labor-union influences. If, even after the revelations about racketeering in unions, the electorate still votes against the "right to work" principle and in favor of labor-union monopolies, there will be added discouragement throughout the business community.

This election may prove to be a milestone in the history of American politics. The die may be cast for more and more socialization of the economy.

A healthy economy would, of course, absorb the unemployed by creating more and more new jobs. But a labor-union-controlled economy, with prices fixed by the unions themselves at levels that the buyer must ultimately resist, is not going to bring more employment.

It will mean less employment and also less and less profits for the corporations out of which the government can collect tax revenues.

One of the first things the radical Democrats may propose is higher corporation tax rates and increased levies on the middle and upper-income groups.

Something like this will be urged as the way to overcome the big treasury deficits. Certainly if profits in business go down and tax revenues from corporations decrease, there will be only one way to increase treasury receipts—by higher individual income taxes.

It is not too soon for the Republican Party to begin to mobilize and harmonize all its factions for the big battle of 1960.

For the 1958 election results will show the effects of the internal struggle between conservatism and radicalism inside the Republican Party. Sometimes a defeat provides the sinews for a subsequent victory.

Rescue 12 Buried 6 Days in Mine

Happy to Be Alive After Week Underground

AP Wirephoto

SAFE — Harold Brine, one of twelve men to be rescued from 13,000-foot level in a Nova Scotia mine after being trapped for nearly a week, waves from hospital bed where the men were taken after being brought to surface early today. Hope for the 81 trapped by a rock slide had been almost abandoned when rescue workers suddenly dug through to the 12.

Intense Thirst, Hunger Plagued Entombed Men

Watchers Cheer, Weep; Hope Revives for 55 Still Missing

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Twelve miners who survived hunger, cold and thirst for nearly a week deep in the wrecked Cumberland No. 2 coal mine were brought to the surface early today in a dramatic rescue.

Many had given them up for dead days ago. Their rescue fanned hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths of the coal workings, where 55 men are still missing.

The lifting of the 12 back to life and family brought to 93 the number of men rescued since the sudden upheaval of the mine floor deep underground last Thursday. There were 174 men below at the time, and 26 bodies have been recovered.

The 12 men, trapped in a 100-foot long, 3-foot-high pocket, had nothing to eat from last Thursday until rescued.

Thirst dried their throats. Their lamps went out after a day or so, leaving them in utter darkness. Time was read by the luminous dial of a watch.

No survivors had been found since last Friday night, and hope had waned in this mining town of 7,000 when a rescuer's pick struck Wednesday afternoon 13,000 feet from the mine entrance.

CRY FOR HELP

Through the line came the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37-year-old father of two chidren.

"There are 12 of us here. Come and get us . . . Get us water," he croaked.

The news electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. From every corner came families and onlookers, hoping, fearing, to stand in a steady drizzling rain.

Among them were those who already knew their men had died in the mine.

Even as they waited two more

Top Candidates Make 11th Hour Plea for Votes

Indiana Governor Aids Bagwell, Wives Fill in for Busy Husbands

DETROIT (UPI) — Help came from all quarters as top candidates in Tuesday's election sought votes during a flurry of activity here last night.

Republicans campaigned for Democrats.

Wives filled in for husbands.

Paul D. Bagwell, GOP candidate for governor, cited a telegram from Indiana Gov. Harold W. Handley that claimed Indiana gained 38 industries which moved from Michigan last year "to escape the unfavorable tax climate."

Bagwell's contention that Michigan is losing industry to neighboring states has been a key issue in his campaign to unseat Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Williams and Bagwell appeared on the same platform on two occasions yesterday. On one occasion Bagwell had to leave before the governor spoke. But his wife Edith, stayed behind and took notes on Williams' speech which were used an hour later during a Bagwell television show.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Democratic rival of Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), also got help from his wife, June. She filled in for him when he was unable to make two scheduled appearances.

Nuclear Tests Ending Today

Two Blasts Ring Down Curtain as Ban Goes Into Effect Friday

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — Nuclear weapons testing today reaches the end of the trail—at least for the time being.

Two shots are scheduled to ring down the curtain on a spectacular testing program that began on this southern Nevada proving ground in 1951.

The reason: President Eisenhower's suspension of the tests goes into effect Friday. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

The series winds up, if all goes well, with explosion of the biggest weapon ever fired underground by the United States, and a somewhat less powerful blast from a balloon at 1,500 feet.

These are the 19th and 20th shots of the current series and will bring the total number of tests here since 1951 to 89.

Windup of testing brought sadness to Atomic Energy Commission scientists and officials.

Col. Ernest Tinson, technical director of Defense Department participation in atomic tests, said: "Lots of us who have been in it a long time sure hate to see today be the end."

When the last of the Los Alamos, N. M., scientific laboratory's test weapons was detonated Wednesday night, "Taps" sounded over a loud-speaker at News Nob observation point.

Black Raps Solons for Short Court Funds

By MAX SIMON

State Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black renewed his charges last night that the Legislature is failing to provide enough money for the courts.

In an address before the Oakland County Judicial Assn. at Plum Hollow Country Club, Black said the state's high tribunal has lost the respect of the public since the 1930's.

The court is now attempting to regain the prestige it had at the turn of the century, when its rulings on torts were adopted by the Supreme Court of the United States, Black said.

SITUATION BETTER

"We're not doing as good a job as we should," he said. "But the situation is better now than it was in 1955.

"It takes money to do what should have been started in our state long ago," Black said. "We are trying to integrate all the state's courts into one harmonious system so that we can at least know what the others are doing."

Black said that requests for more money are ignored by the state legislative committees.

"The wonder is that we're doing as well as we are with the sort of financing that we have," he said.

Black pointed out that New

Use of Bonds Illegal With Chain Letters

Delmar V. Cote, state director for the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division, emphasized again today that the Treasury Department does not condone the use of savings bonds in any chain letter scheme whether the bonds are sent through the mails or delivered in person.

The state bond director said that despite the Treasury's efforts, in association with the Post Office Department, the Federal Reserve Banks, issuing agents, and others, to stop chain letter activities involving the use of savings bonds, these schemes continue to reappear and currently are being attempted again in parts of Michigan.

According to Cote, investigations are being made of these schemes as they come to the attention of postal officials, and wherever there appears to be a violation of the fraud and lottery statutes, the matter will be referred to the Department of Justice for possible prosecution.

Set Jury Trials for 7 Students

Accused of Distributing Football Spot Cards on U. of M. Campus

(From Our News Wires)

ANN ARBOR—Two star athletes of the University of Michigan and five other students will get jury trials next month on charges growing out of an investigation of campus football gambling.

At the same time, police disclosed they were providing bodyguards for Barton Huthwaite, one of two U. of M. student newspaper reporters who aided them in gathering information on the ring.

Huthwaite, a 20-year-old junior from Detroit, said he had received several threatening telephone calls.

This morning, a dummy of Huthwaite was found hanging between two trees near the main campus library.

The seven students stood mute yesterday at their arraignment on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation. They demanded jury trials.

Under Michigan law the court automatically enters a plea of innocent for persons who stand mute.

The charges against the students carry a maximum sentence of 90 days in jail and $100 fine on conviction.

Detective Lt. George Stauch said

Local Authorities Outline Several Halloween Perils

Pontiac area parents were warned today by local law enforcement agencies to keep a close watch on their children Halloween night.

Pontiac Police Inspector Clark M. Wheaton warned that children begging door-to-door should not be allowed to cross busy intersections except under the attention of adults.

"If it's at all possible, parents should make the rounds with their children," he said.

He reminded parents that children who are not accompanied by adults must be indoors by 9 p.m. Children accompanied by their parents must be in by 11 p.m.

He also asked motorists to drive carefully tomorrow night because of the large number of children who will be outdoors.

Waterford Township Police Chief Millard Pender urged the use of face makeup by children instead of masks. He pointed out that masks cut down the children's vision. He joined in asking all drivers to proceed with caution.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons warned motorists that it will be difficult to see children wearing dark masks, and urged area residents to drive slowly.

Cool, Bright Weather Will Linger Awhile

The weatherman predicts mostly sunny with little change in temperature for the Pontiac area tomorrow. Tonight will be clear and cool with the low near 36.

Lack of Facilities Causes Raw Sewage to Collect in Pools, Gutters

1,228 Septic Tanks in City Create Health Hazard

By PETE LOCHBILER

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the $3,300,000 sewage disposal plant bond issue on the Tuesday ballot.)

There are more than 1,200 homes in Pontiac without city sewer service.

New homes, possibly hundreds of them, would be built here if sewer service were extended to new, outlying subdivisions.

If property owners don't approve the $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant bond issue Tuesday, the new homes won't be built and the service won't be extended.

There are two reasons why:

First, the city is wary about letting new customers into the disposal system. The present sewage treatment plant is already operating at more than capacity. New customers would mean an undesirable increase in the load.

Second, the outlying areas in the north, east and south of Pontiac do not flow naturally by gravity into the present sewage treatment plant area at East boulevard and Featherstone road.

Erecting a new plant at the city's 47-acre site west of Opdyke road and north of Auburn road would solve both problems.

More facilities would mean new customers could be served. And the Opdyke road site is the lowest spot in the city — sewage would flow there naturally from anywhere else in town.

At the last count, there were 1,228 homes in Pontiac without sewer service, and this number is still going up, according to Charles Cohen, city sanitarian.

A typical example of an area without service lies north of Auburn and east of East boulevard.

In this ten-block area, there are about 140 sewerless homes.

Septic tanks are crowded into small, city-sized lots, and because the soil is mostly clay, a special problem arises.

In many instances, the ground won't absorb any more moisture and as a result, ponds of sewage break out and raw sewage is sometimes seen in the gutters.

This is one of the areas that can't tie in to the present system without the help of expensive pumping stations.

Another lies north of Walton boulevard, while the homes west of Stanley avenue are without sewers because the city can't take a chance on adding that many customers to the present treatment plant.

Even in District 1, an area that has had sewers many years, the neighborhood south of Whittier School is without sewers because pumping would be necessary to overcome gravity.

As long as treatment facilities remain inadequate, the city will have to keep up its constant battle against raw sewage floating up from overtaxed septic tanks, says Cohen.

"When sewers come to a neighborhood, though," he added, "they generally are accompanied by other broad improvements that spruce up that area and the city."

Most of Pontiac's septic tank problem is concentrated on the east side, which can't get sewers now without pumping, even if Pontiac could add more customers to the present load.

In general, the area that could be served by the new plant without expensive pumping lies west of Opdyke between the northern city limits, the Grand Trunk beltline railroad and South boulevard. It also extends westward north of Walton to the Stanley avenue area north of Brooklyn avenue.

If the new treatment plant were constructed, an interceptor would be built north along the beltline to connect into lines running from the numerous new homes that are expected in that area someday.

But the rest of Pontiac would benefit from the new plant, too. A 60-inch line would be built connecting the old plant with the new, funneling much of the flow to the new plant to relieve pressure on the antiquated facilities of the old.

Waterford Fires Laid to Arson

Empty Tourist Camp Damaged by 4th Blaze Since September 25

The State Police Fire Marshal was called in by Waterford Township authorities today after two fires last night struck an unused tourist camp where three other blazes have occurred since Sept. 25.

Township Police Capt. Millard Pender labeled the fires as "definitely the work of an arsonist," who set the fires only a block from the Michigan State Police Pontiac post.

A third fire also occurred last night at a storage house only a few blocks further away.

Damaged were the Kamp Inn restaurant, 2733 Dixie Highway and an unused gas station on the same property, 2725 Dixie, and the nearby storage house on the grounds of Schram Auto & Truck Parts, 2549 Dixie.

Township firemen estimated approximately $1,000 damage to each building. They were able to bring the fires under control.

Police spotted all three blazes. The first was at the storage house about 8 p.m. Cruising township police saw smoke pouring from the rear of the building.

The second occurred about 9:30 p.m. at the restaurant. The same team of policemen, Patrolmen Jack Hart and David Putnam, noticed smoke coming from the northwest corner of an unoccupied second-floor apartment.

Less than three hours after the second blaze was put out, police discovered smoke coming from the rear of the gas station next door. The fire was centered about the rear door.

The fire marshal was asked by Pender today to investigate for definite proof of arson.

"These fires are too much of a coincidence to be anything but arson," the police chief said. Pender said he had "no theories" yet as to who the arsonist might be, but ruled out Halloween vandalism.

The tourist camp, owned by William Feldman of Detroit, is located on the southwest side of Dixie between Silverdown road and Williams drive. Behind the restaurant and gas station are a row of unused overnight cabins along a horseshoe drive.

Seven of these cabins have been destroyed in three fires with a total estimated loss of $800, Pender said. The first blaze was Sept. 25, the second Sept. 26 and the third was Saturday night.

Pender pointed out that a 200-gallon fuel oil tank on the property had been tampered with and suggested that some of the fuel had been drained off to help in setting the fires.

Feldman was not immediately available for comment. Pender said the only connection he knows of between the tourist camp and the auto parts firm was their nearness to each other.

Dry Weather With Chills Rules Most of Nation

By The Associated Press

There were wet spots in some coastal and mountain areas but generally dry weather was the rule in most of the nation today. It was quite chilly in most sections east of the Rockies again this morning.

Snow flurries swirled along the eastern slopes of the Rockies in Colorado and New Mexico. Heaviest fall during the night was about an inch at Colorado Springs.

A narrow belt of light rain and showers extended from southwestern Texas eastward across the Gulf Coast to Florida. Strong northerly winds, with gusts up to 40 m.p.h., swept the western half of the Gulf Coast.

In the Northeast, only wet spots were in northern New England.

12 Nova Scotia Miners Safe After 7-Day Ordeal

bodies were brought out from elsewhere in the mine.

Kempt already had whispered to his nephew Percy Weatherbee, the man who had tapped the air line with his pick, the names of the men trapped with him — Holloway, Brine, Leadbetter, Hunter, Rushton, Milley, Michniak, Maddison, Lowther, Guthro, McDonald.

"I asked 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly,' Weatherbee reported.

The rescuers, some near exhaustion from almost continuous efforts since Thursday, dug again with super-energy.

COFFEE 'PIPED' IN

As the men dug, warm coffee braced with sugar and vitamins was poured down the air line to the thirsty, trapped men.

Finally, a narrow passage was opened and shored up and the imprisoned men began to crawl out.

Slowly the conveyor rake which normally brings up the coal began to turn, this time to bring the rescued men to the surface. There was an unexplained halt for a time, then, at 2:20 a.m., some 13 hours after the discovery, Kempt was the first man brought out.

Completely covered with a blanket to protect him from the weather and to shield his eyes from the glare of television and newsreel spotlights, he was carried to an ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Waiting at the pit head were his wife and two teenage children.

CHEER WILDLY

The crowd cheered wildly.

The big wheels of the cable-operated conveyor moved at an agonizing pace for the crowd.

Rope barriers kept them back. Floodlights bathed the scene. Doctors waited.

Finally, an hour after Kempt was brought out, the man-carrying rake arrived at the top with Joe McDonald, who had suffered a broken leg, Theodore Michniak and Eldred Lowther.

Then in succession came Bowman Maddison, Levi Miller, Caleb Hunter, Wilfred Rushton, Hugo Guthro, who also was injured, Harold Brine, Joe Holloway Jr. and Larry Leadbetter.

The last four were carried out at 4:02 a.m.

At the hospital the rescued men were given plasma and Dr. J. G. B. Lynch, chief medical officer for the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp., reported all were conscious.

"Most of them are just lying there, smoking cigarettes and enjoying the feeling of being human again," he said. "Nothing but their great stamina pulled them through the ordeal."

IN GOOD SPIRITS

Blair Phillips, an engineer who had been testing for gas in the mine and was one of the first to hear the muffled cries, said the men came out in good spirits.

He said they had room to move about a bit in their trap. The poisonous gas which the earth "bump" had sent into parts of the long mine shaft had not seeped into their prison.

Rumors spread during the rescue operation that other pockets of survivors had been contacted, but officials of the company said they could not confirm these.

McDonald and Guthro, brought out today, were also survivors of a 1956 explosion in an adjoining mine in which 39 men were killed. That mine was subsequently closed.

'GOD SENT HIM'

Mrs. Margaret Michniak, when she heard her husband was among the survivors, exclaimed, "I prayed he'd come back. I prayed. God has sent him."

She declared she would never let her 59-year-old husband go back into the pit.

Mrs. Joe McDonald said she had nearly given up hope.

"We went to the funerals of two of Joe's cousins yesterday. They were killed in the bump. But Joe's mother never gave up for a minute. She never stopped praying."

Detroit Area Homes Gladdened by News

DETROIT (AP)—News of the discovery yesterday that 12 of 174 miners trapped in the cave-in of a Nova Scotia coal mine were still alive after almost a week of entombment brought happiness to three Detroit area homes.

The homes are those of Charles Michniak of Taylor Center, son of Theodore Michniak, 57, one of the trapped miners; Mrs. Hilda Hammond of Wyandotte; and Mrs. Agnes Dubensky of Windsor, sisters of the trapped miner.

Michniak and his wife were standing by the Springhill, Novia Scotia, mine when word that the miners were still alive was received.

"They called me right away," said Gregory Michniak, 10. "They told me grandfather was 12th on the list. They were awful happy."

Mrs. Dublensky was almost overcome by the news.

"For a week we've been hoping and praying he would be all right," she said.

"I couldn't believe it at first," said Mrs. Hammond. "I thought there must be a mistake."

the seven were accused of distributing football spot cards.

The cards list up to 40 games. Purchasers pick the teams they believe will win—either giving or taking points, according to a point spread set by the operators of the cards—and may collect on odds up to 500-1, depending on how many games are bet.

The cards were distributed, usually on Mondays and Tuesdays before football weekends, at a cost of $1 each.

Estimates of the money involved in the operation of the cards on the campus ranged from $2,000 to $10,000 a week.

Police said a leak at a key stage of the five-week investigation kept them from making what Statich called "a big kill."

Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien set trial dates between Nov. 12 and Nov. 20. Rio is scheduled for trial Nov. 20 and Lewis Nov. 19.

In Detroit police are investigating reports of football spot card gambling at Wayne State University and Denby High School. A Wayne student had told police the cards are circulated "all over the campus."

Jersey spends $97,400 annually for its court administrative staff of 17 people although it has only half the population of Michigan.

In comparison, he said, Michigan budgets $25,000 for one court administrator, a secretary and a part-time assistant.

PROPOSES STAFF

"We would only need about two-thirds of the amount spent by New Jersey to accomplish administrative reforms — and that's peanuts," Black declared.

He proposed an administrative court staff equipped with field assistants who would work with circuit court judges in administrative matters to attain uniformity of methods of work and elimination of criticism.

Unless courts can regain the respect and confidence of the public which they held in the early 20th century, the judicial branch of government will become subordinate to legislative authority, he warned.

Black declared that a "beautifully financed and purposeful campaign" is being carried on in Washington to limit the appellate jurisdiction of the U.S. Supreme Court.

He predicted a fight in the next Congress over a bill which would curtail the type of cases the high tribunal could review out of state courts.

"If such a bill is pushed through," Black said, "the 14th amendment would have one meaning in Northern states such as Michigan and New Jersey and another in Arkansas.

RECENT REALIZATION

Black said that the courts have just recently come to realize the position they are in, and must make an all-out effort to regain public esteem.

Although refusing to comment directly on the Michigan one-man grand jury system, Black told a questioner he opposed any proceeding, even of a quasi-judicial nature, where a suspect person could not have a lawyer with him at all times.

Amelia M. Krause, 4415 Wayburn Ct., Detroit.

Lucky 10 Men Inc., 440 Burrough, Detroit.

Second horse, Shin (56,000 each):

Joe Amerson, 2921 Hudson, Detroit.

"Mad Russian" Mike and Dorothy Hcheski, 4792 Cortland, Detroit.

Dorothy and Al Sinclair, 4835 Berkshire, Detroit.

Third horse, Aggressor ($28,000 each):

"Leonard Land" Catherine Land, 37 Edgevale, Detroit.

The "lucky 10" are General Motors workers who banded together and bought a book of Irish sweepstakes tickets. Each man put in $3.

Now they are dividing up $140,000—$14,000 apiece minus income taxes—because their horse won.

Mrs. Amelia Krause, 39, said, "A fortune teller told me to buy the ticket because I was going to win some money."

Measure to Protect News Source Urged

STRASBOURG, France (UPI)—The director of the Michigan State School of Journalism said today that law should protect the relationship of the journalist and his sources.

Dr. Fred S. Siebert, the U.S. representative on the executive council of the International Association for Research in Mass Communications, said all fields of journalism should push for legislation to protect the journalist from being forced to reveal his news sources.

Siebert said this right hasn't been generally recognized by law in most countries, including the U. S.

He pointed out that the journalist wasn't concealing information but the source of information although only on "extremely rare" occasions is the journalist called on to keep his source a secret.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield PTO Plans Dedication of 2 Schools

BIRMINGHAM — Dedication ceremonies for two new Bloomfield Hills schools are being planned by the Bloomfield Hills Parent-Teacher Organization.

The Pine Lake Elementary School at 3333 W. Long Lake Rd. will be dedicated Nov. 13, according to Eugene Johnson, superintendent of schools.

He said dedication of the new junior high school probably will take place early in December.

There will be a public inspection of the $300,000 elementary school at 8:30 p.m., followed by a formal program at 8:30 in the school auditorium.

Highlight of the dedication will be the presentation of a plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callow "whose generosity made possible the purchase of the 15-acre school site," Johnson said. This was a part of the old Callow farm.

The bell from the old Pine Lake School will be installed in what will be known as "Callow Bell Tower," located directly in front of the school.

A duplicate plaque will be mounted on the tower, Johnson said.

The program also will include brief remarks by PTO President W. Earl Givens and Johnson. Music students will play several selections.

Birmingham again has been cited by the National Safety Council in Chicago for its traffic safety record.

The city, which had no deaths reported for the first nine months this year, tied for top spot with Whittier, Calif., and Boise, Idaho, in the 25,000 to 50,000 population class.

The only other Michigan city cited was Detroit, which was rated No. 1 in the nation among cities of more than one million population.

Parents of sophomores and junior students at Birmingham High will meet in the school's Little Theater at 7:30 tonight to hear a discussion on the summer and winter program of the American Field Service.

John Butzel, a student at Cranbrook School who spent the past summer in Italy through the AFS program, will show slides and talk on his experiences.

The Senior Men's Club, at its meeting tomorrow in the Birmingham Community House, will hold a discussion on "The National Debt."

Six Birmingham women will leave tomorrow for Indianapolis, Ind., for a two-day conference of the Midwestern Region of Soroptimists Clubs.

Local president Maxine Luscombe will be accompanied by Fern Hotton, Marian Schmidt, Mary Dewey, Mable Sorenson and Helen Larkin.

Mrs. Grace McGuire

Service for Mrs. Grace McGuire, 70, of 2834 Manchester St., will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. McGuire died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, following a long illness.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Earl N. Hoffman of Devils Lake, N.D.; a son, Norman A. of Birmingham; three sisters and five grandchildren.

Edward N. McDaniel

Service for Edward N. McDaniel, 64, of 300 Hickory Grove Rd., Bloomfield Township, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorenson Funeral Home in Grayling, with burial in the Grayling Elmwood Cemetery.

Mr. McDaniel died Monday at his home.

Nelson J. Burley

Service for Nelson J. Burley, 68, of Greenbush, Mich., will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Burley died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Tawas. Surviving are his wife, Katherine; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Smith of Royal Oak and Mrs. Wallace Cripps of Birmingham; a sister and eight grandchildren.

Detention of Tourist Being Soft-Pedaled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is using the soft shell treatment in its efforts to win the freedom of an Ann Arbor, Mich., tourist held by Russian and East German authorities.

"We've giving it the quiet treatment," said a State Department spokesman yesterday. "We think that's the best way to work this out."

The tourist, George S. Milroy, 30, was arrested 13 days ago near Neustrelitz, about 70 miles north of Berlin. Russian authorities charged him with taking photographs of a military installation.

The State Department protested his detention and demanded his release.

"But we don't want to make any more fuss about it right now," the spokesman said. "It would just give them propaganda ammunition. We believe he'll be quietly released before long, as soon as the Soviet and local authorities determine that Milroy was really just a tourist."

Milroy's passport application listed his occupation as salesman.

3 Michigan Men Will Be Honored by MSU Alumni

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Honorary life memberships in the Michigan State University Alumni Association will be be given three Michigan men during MSU homecoming festivities this weekend.

The three are Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of the Pontiac Press; Jack T. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile; and Talbert Abrams, chairman of the board of the Abrams Aerial Survey Corp., Lansing.

The awards will be presented tomorrow night by MSU President John A. Hannah. The three are being honored for contributions to Michigan State's activities and programs.

Negroes Go to Court to Fight Bus Dividing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of Negroes go into U.S. District Court today in an effort to have Birmingham's bus segregation ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The 22 Negroes who filed the suit against city officials and Birmingham Transit Co. were arrested in a mass demonstration against a bus segregation ordinance in December 1956.

Since then, city commissioners have repealed the ordinance which provided for separate seating of Negroes and white persons. But they replaced it with one making the transit company responsible for maintaining segregation.

The Negroes earlier this week filed an amendment to their court suit seeking to include the new ordinance. Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms will be asked to rule on the amendment before the hearing gets under way.

Hunter Wounded Twice —by the Same Bullet

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) —Russell Thompson, big game wounded twice by the same bullet.

Sheriff's officers said Herbert Schmidt's rifle discharged accidentally. The bullet struck a rock, apparently split in two pieces, and wounded Thompson in the left leg and in the chese.

Thompson, 49, aws reported in fair condition at a hospital here.

Pope's Attire Decreed by Ancient Tradition

VATICAN CITY (AP) — When the new Pope puts on his robes of office, he will follow a colorful tradition.

Some items of the Pope's attire date to the middle ages, others to earliest Christian times.

The oldest piece of apparel is the pallium, a strip of lamb's wool about the neck. It is handed down from pope to pope to symbolize the ancient scholastic practice of a teacher handing his mantle on to a successor.

The Pope's crowning glory, the golden tiara, is of Byzantine origin. It is made up of three crowns, studded with precious stones.

The first tiara is said to have been placed on a pope's head by the Emperor Constantine, who reigned 300 years after Christ.

The original tiara was a Phrygian cap with a crown at its base. The two additional crowns, the cross at the top and other ornaments, came later. By the 14th century, the tiara had attained its present size and beehive shape.

The pope wears the tiara only at ceremonies that have a non-liturgical character. At purely religious services, he wears a bishop's miter, symbolizing one of his titles, bishop of Rome.

The miter is red and so by tradition was the Pope's clothing until 1566. Pius V had been a dominican friar. These friars wore white, so Pius V scrapped tradition and retained his beloved white.

Since Pius V, all popes have worn a white cassock, but the hat, stole and shoes remain red. Also red is the mozzetta, a short velvet cape trimmed with fur and worn over the cassock in winter.

A soft red fur-trimmed cap is worn with the mozzetta. It is similar to the doctors' caps seen in portraits of 15th and 16th century scholars.

Anglers Please Note: Fish Dying of Old Age

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — More fish die of old age in Tenneessee Valley Authority lakes than end up in the frying pan.

That's the complaint of TVA's Fish and Game Division. Its report issued Wednesday said that best estimates are that "no more than 20 per cent of the available game fish crop is harvested in any one year."

Counting Based on 60

The first fully developed system of counting was based on the number 60. Traces of this system still are evident in the way space is divided into 360 degrees and the hour into 60 minutes.

Karami Keeps Rebels in Line

New Prime Minister of Lebanon Used to Brawls and Violence

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rebel leader Saeb Salam was talking to American newsmen. Outside machine-gun-toting rebels were whopping it up in a victory celebration.

The door burst open, and a band of beefy street brawlers burst in carrying a well-dressed little man on their shoulders. They abruptly deposited the Prime Minister of Lebanon on the floor in front of Salam and left the room.

Rachid Karami, Lebanon's new prime minister, is accustomed to this kind of treatment from his boisterous followers. Soft-spoken and smartly dressed, Karami comes from Tripoli, a hotbed of pro-Nasser Arab nationalism, famed for its street brawls and violence. It takes a robust politician to keep such a following in line, but Karami so far has measured up.

He was a key figure in the Lebanese rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun last summer. Karami's rebels took over the old section of Tripoli in threw up heavy barricades all around, and held out nearly five months.

There was almost continous firing and sniping between rebels and army. Tripoli was gripped by a general strike. Garbage was left to lie in the streets. Food and medicines were scarce.

Those were trying months, but rebel morale was kept high, largely by the relaxed, unruffled temper of 37-year-old Rachid Karami.

The rebellion ended with the election of Gen. Fuad Chehab, Lebanese army commander, as president of the republic. Next day he named Karami prime minister.

Vatican Hails Pope's Election

Since the death of Pope PIUS XII some three weeks ago, the Vatican City has been the scene of sorrow, plus becoming the nerve center of some of the biggest news stories in recent years.

The atmosphere in this tiny municipality within a city has now changed. Instead of being shrouded in black and grief stricken, it is once again jubilant with the election of the new Pope, JOHN XXIII.

The pageantry, along with the ancient customs, focused much of the world's attention on religion. This break from the regular arduous problems of the world was a pleasant relief.

Like his predecessor, Pope JOHN XXIII offered a message of peace in his first public broadcast to the world. In these troubled times, with world strife, it is heartening to know that the new Roman Catholic leader will devote much of his experience in diplomacy to world peace.

Like the decision of the Sacred College of Cardinals, the new pontiff has a tremendous task in guiding some 500 million Catholics. His past experience and temperament should be a great inspiration to the Church and the world.

Pope John's background is that of a scholar. With his keen insight into world affairs we feel certain that his reign will add prestige plus confidence to the western world.

His great strength and spirit will be felt by men and women of all faiths. Pope JOHN's divine power and guidance should benefit all nations and be a challenge to our common enemy, communism.

He Made His Job Forward Looking

For nearly 20 years HARRY J. MERRITT was the attorney for Oakland County's legislative body, its Board of Supervisors.

During that period his advice, counsel and municipal concept kept pace with the great development of our area.

He did the job so well that his clients had appointed him for the twentieth year on the very day that he was stricken with his fatal illness.

His position in public life was unique. It was far afield from the mere practice of law. It required advance knowledge. Foresight was its essence.

As the legal representative of Michigan's second largest county in population, industry, resources and otherwise, he must ever be prepared to match brains and wits with some of the smartest minds in our state.

Our county's natural and man-made gifts, such as our lakes and recreational areas, are tops among Michigan's 83 counties.

Envious neighbors would encroach upon them if we did not have laws to protect them.

It is up to our county's legal advisor to foresee and forestall these encroachments, and to have the influence at Lansing to get these laws.

In all of the above, as well as the ordinary functions of his office, MERRITT was an ever diligent student of the legal procedure and proper jurisprudence to accomplish his ends and our protection.

Homestretch in Sight for Political Parties

They're stepping up the pace.
Politics swings into high.

With both major parties facing the stretch run to the wire, the respective camps are sounding off with the heavy artillery. President EISENHOWER has been on a whirlwind tour and is punching straight out. Vice President NIXON has been leading the fight all fall and as the end appears, he quickens the tempo.

Harry S. Truman never did back up an inch from his time honored policy of "give 'em hell." The head man in Independence has swung from the heels without cessation. Adlai Stevenson has been an able campaigner and several state races are witnessing ding-dong battles. These stretch all the way from New York to California.

The closing days promise to be rousing occasions. The welkin will ring (to coin a phrase). It's a healthy sign and a good thing for the advancement and understanding of a democracy.

The Man About Town

His First Story

Famed Chicago Editor Told of West Huron Street Fire

Vote: What your ancestors died for—so you could cast it.

Ever fresh in my recollection is my talk a couple of years ago with

Clement Quirk Lane,

City Editor of the Chicago Daily News, one of the world's greatest newspapers. It was in his editorial room where he supervised a staff of 225.

It was at the most hectic hour of a hectic day in a news gathering plant. He could not be approached, but when I told them I was from The Pontiac Press, he suspended everything else and waved me in.

He wanted to talk about the first piece of reporting he ever did. It was on The Pontiac Press in 1921. He was delegated to follow the fire department to a blaze on West Huron street. He wrote a column about it, and expected to see it on the first page.

But there was bigger news that day, and his story was cut down to three inches and appeared on page 23. His great mantle of white hair shook as he hit the desk in his Chicago office, as he said, "That day I learned the biggest newspaper lesson of my life."

On the job to the very end, Clem died Monday; 61; heart.

A deer with a broken leg is hobbling around the Pontiac area. It was struck by a car driven by of Flint, on Oakland Ave. about two o'clock the other morning. A hind leg was fractured, but it dragged itself away, and has since been seen by several residents in that part of our city.

Bordering the Oakland County line, Fenton is the first town to announce a July 4 celebration next year. In fact, according to top civic leader, it will be a three-day celebration, observing the 125th anniversary of the village's founding.

Ray Hunt,

Your Privilege . . . Their Hope

Case Records of a Psychologist:

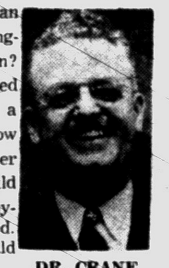

Simple Idea Sparks Homework

Deborah really enjoyed her English theme when she adopted the suggestion below. In fact, she could hardly limit herself to the word-length her teacher had suggested. And the whole class grew enthusiastic when the teacher asked Deborah to list the matching problems on the blackboard. This "packaging" of ideas makes dry English assignments dynamic and fascinating.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 358: Deborah G., aged 12, is in the seventh grade.

"Dr. Crane," she said as I had dinner at her home recently, "can you give me an idea for my English composition?

DR. CRANE

"I am supposed to hand in a theme tomorrow and the teacher told us we could write about anything we wished.

"So what would you suggest?"

'PACKAGE' YOUR IDEAS

"Don't you think your classmates would be interested in the meanings of their own names?" I asked.

"For example, do you know what your name stands for?" and she shook her head.

So I suggested she look in the back of the dictionary where she found a section devoted to first names.

Deborah is a famous Hebrew name used in the Bible. It means "a bee."

I then urged Deborah to "package" her ideas in a quiz format, since this would let the students indulge in "audience participation" as they tried to match a series of girls' names with the meanings thereof, as follows:

(a) Deborah	(v) A ewe
(b) Judith	(w) A bee
(c) Irene	(x) Prosperity
(d) Florence	(y) Praised
(e) Rachel	(z) Peace

She could list the correct answers at the bottom of her theme, as (Deborah-Bee; Judith-Praised; Irene-Peace; Florence-Prosperity; Rachel-Ewe).

In similar manner, she could offer some matching problems for the first names of boys, as:

(a) Daniel	(v) A twin
(b) David	(w) Lover of horses
(c) Philip	(x) Farmer
(d) Thomas	(y) A judge
(e) George	(z) Beloved

Again, she could append the answers as (Daniel-Judge; David-Beloved; Philip-Lover of horses; Thomas-Twin; George-Farmer).

For variety, she could also present a matching problem in which she listed the names of boys at the left, and the girls' names that are derived from them, as:

(a) Alfred	(v) Caroline
(b) Charles	(w) Joanna
(c) Henry	(x) Freda
(d) Frank	(y) Nettie
(e) John	(z) Fanny

The corresponding pairs are (Alfred-Freda; Charles-Carolina; Henry-Nettie; Frank-Fanny; John-Joanna).

Pupils are vitally interested in themselves, so the nearer we can tie-in our education with this basic principle, the greater will be their motivation.

Some of the names cited above have Hebrew origins. Others come from Greek and Latin sources, so this simple theme by Deborah can be the basis for reviving the students' appreciation for those ancient languages.

A superlative English teacher thus tries to pep up the enthusiasm of her pupils by mixing a liberal dose of psychology with grammar.

So send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It contains a section on Prize Contesting, and shows how to use psychology to perk up your writing.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-address envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Mother Reports How Son Got Relief From Asthma

"My son, 14 years old, has been troubled with asthma due to allergies during the summer for the past seven years. For three months of summer he never experienced a single day that he had easy breathing. He had to sit up at night in order to breathe freely, although he had taken shots for this condition for about three years.

DR. BRADY

"This year he started having difficulty early in spring. I wrote you and received the pamphlet 'Relief for Allergy' (available to anyone who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope) and started giving him the tablets you recommend.

"So far this year he hasn't had a bit of trouble and breathes quietly and easily at night. I thank you with all my heart for the relief you gave my son. (Mrs. S. P., Wisconsin)"

Thank you, ma'am. We must remember, though, that one swallow maketh not summer. The addition of potassium and Vitamin C (kalion) and calcium and Vitamin D to the boy's regular diet can do no harm in any circumstance, but manifestations of allergy characteristically come and go abruptly as compared with the development of symptoms of, say, bronchitis, coryza or sinusitis — so we had better wait for a flock of them to come back to Capistrano.

When I wrote the allegry pamphlet, I said that potassium seems to have an effect similar to that of adrenalin, and perhaps complements or supplements the action of adrenalin, both medicinal adrenalin and that poured into the blood stream by your own adrenal glands. Also I mentioned the significant fact that the adrenal glands normally contain more vitamin C than any other part of the body.

To the best of my knowledge we are still right where we were when I wrote the pamphlet, in regard to prevention and relief of allergic disorders. This notwithstanding the questionable practice of experimenting with antihistamines.

I make it quite clear in the pamphlet that Ca & D feeding is for correction of the allergic sensitivity, and therefore should be started weeks before the season, if the allergic trouble is seasonal, and continued daily throughout the season or maybe the year around.

The K & C (potassium and vitamin C) tablets are rather for temporary or emergency relief, to be used from time to time, as you might use adrenalin solution.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Political Topics Inspire Letters of Many Readers

Many usually well-informed citizens seem rather confused about the matter of calling a constitutional convention. Tuesday voters must decide whether or not they favor calling a convention. If a majority vote yes, delegates will be chosen at the April election and will begin deliberations in Lansing in September. Any proposed constitution they draft would be submitted to the voters. If adopted, it would go into effect Jan. 1, 1961.

Our present constitution went into effect in 1909 and isn't drastically different from its predecessor. During these years amendments were made. Isn't it ridiculous for anyone to deride our present constitution as being 50 years old when it has been modified in line with wishes of the voters, some of which changes have been far reaching in character?

We conclude there cannot be any tangible gain for taxpayers of larger municipalities by having a constitutional convention except for delegates who would be elected for it. It no doubt would lead to substantial increases in our taxes.

We urgently urge you will vote against the proposed constitutional convention when you go to the polls Nov. 4. Use your own judgment but please do vote.

B. L. B.

In reply to Disturbed Conservative, it surely should be "disturbed."

I realize England is Socialistic and they're having strikes, racial troubles and food rationing. Most homes are heated with open fire places and that's why smog is so bad in cities. Our form of government was derived from Britain's old form, not as it is today.

I respect Mr. Reuther's intelligence but today he has too much power. I wouldn't like to see him control Congress, as he cannot live forever and I'd be very fearful of men that would come to power under him.

We've witnessed this past year many radicals in the union and how easy has it been to remove them? Now AFL and CIO want to merge. Wake up, citizens, and get out and vote!

Harry Truman and other Democrats have tried to leave the impression that this is the first time unemployment has been this high. But facts are we had 11,369,000 people unemployed as late as 1939 during Roosevelt's administration. We also had more than four million unemployed in 1949 and 1950 during the Truman administration just before the Korean War.

Anyone who thinks business doesn't get slow at times under Democratic administrations as well as Republican is thinking like a small child.

Election Day is facing us with many talks furnished us from candidates, earnestly telling us they will do certain things to assist and please. What we want is temperate men to represent us, who will uphold the Constitution which our great nation has thrived under.

We don't want men who seek to change times and laws, but to uphold the good laws with minds unclouded by intemperance. While citizens are enjoying liberty under our flag and freedom of speech under our charter, we want our representatives to relay our trust in them by acknowledgements portrayed wit' a clear mind and true heart to uphold our priceless heritage.

What about it, candidates?

G. M. D.

I'd rather walk in shame to a GOP bread line than carry a front line musket again for the Democrats.

Ex-GI

How can laws allow labor unions with all their millions to make huge contributions and then deny business the same right? I should be all or none. That's the American way.

Puzzled

If Harriman beats Rockefeller, then he will be our candidate for 1960 and he will beat anyone the Republicans can put up. I wish I could vote in New York for Williams won't need my vote in Michigan.

Susan G.

Governor Williams and the union have chased industry from Michigan, Reuther with his hard-headed dictatorial power over labor and Gov. Williams by taxation and being obligated to Reuther and the CIO bosses.

A writer says the right-to-work law is for turncoats. Well, the law is for you and I and all others in a free country to work and make an honest living without paying dues to anyone. If the union is so good for the working man, why should they try to force a man to join?

From now on I will be a turncoat. And several of your union bosses were turncoats when they were called for Army duty during World War II.

Another Turncoat

The main reason our shop is down as it has been for years now is the fault of big boys running the shop in our union when it comes to bargaining. In a way it was membership at fault. We should have thought the CIO was out for power and prestige when they told us that all business would be back as soon as they forced a settlement out of the company. If companies could pack up like a home renter there would be such an exodus from our CIO-run state that 10-lane highways to Indiana and Ohio could not take the traffic.

During recent years, especially around election time, it's been contended the legislature hasn't appropriated adequately, particularly for mental health, higher education and school aid. Prior to election people should know the amounts of money appropriated and decide themselves whether the general impression is correct.

Five years ago a little less than 46 million dollars was available for mental health, as against this year's budget in excess of 65 million. Five years ago higher education got 51-plus million and this year 87-plus million. School aid is 249 million, compared to 117 million five years ago.

Thus it can be seen the increase in mental health in excess of 40 per cent, higher education in excess of 50 per cent and school in excess of 100 per cent within the past five years.

Theodore F. Hughes,
Representative
4th Oakland District

Squabbling Republicans and Democrats miss the point concerning avoidance of Michigan by industrial plants because of the "political climate." Michigan can get along excellently without these cheap business outfits that dream of low wages and practically no taxes. If they're not civic minded enough to assume their responsibility to the community where they exist, we don't need them and don't want them.

Frank Kerr
Union Lake

Gov. Williams states Michigan troubles are the work of the Republicans. For several months a national digest has given articles on labor unions which are so rotten they stink, and pray what has the Governor done? Williams has corrected no evils in this or taxation and there are many in Michigan.

P. G.

I admit there are many fine Democrats, but there aren't enough of the good ones to control the goons, the radicals, the Reds and the gangsters. If you wanted crooked union leaders running affairs, and if you want the guys on the take in high places, and if you want the government in the hands of the bottom fringe, vote Democratic. The good Democrats are o.k. but they have lost control of the party.

Student Appreciates Dr. Crane Lecture

I'd like to thank The Pontiac Press for sponsoring Dr. Crane's lecture. As I attend Pontiac Central I was able to hear his afternoon lecture, which contained sound advice that was presented in a most entertaining manner. The Press has done our community a great favor. Once again, thanks Pontiac Press.

Changes Made in Tax Return

Expense Account Line Deleted in New Form, Explanation Added.

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has taken out the controversial "expense account line" from 1958 income tax returns and added two new lines in its place.

They ask if the taxpayer was reimbursed by his employer for expenses and, if so, whether he gave the boss an itemized accounting of the outlays.

There is no change in the rule, made final in August, that taxpayers who give their employers an itemized expense account and collect only as much as they spent do not have to give an accounting to the revenue service.

Persons who do not submit a detailed reckoning to their employers, and the self-employed, must itemize their expenses and reimbursement on the tax return.

The revenue service feels the new arrangement will make filing a return easier for taxpayers who square their expenses with their bosses.

It also believes the explicit mention of expense accounts on the first page of Form 1040—the so-called "long form"—and a new printed reference to the instruction booklet will mean tighter enforcement of tax laws and regulations.

This Thief Might Be in Music Business Now

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Police are looking for a thief who may be in the music business by now.

They reported that someone broke into the car of Charles Donneli, a musician, and stole a bass drum, snare drum and a set of tomtoms.

Oh, yes. The thief also took a public address system and all of Donneli's sheet music.

Use Hypnotism to Complete Big Business Deal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sometimes it even takes hypnotism to run big business.

Executives of the Kroger Co., a large Midwest grocery chain, found this out recently when they tried to complete the purchase of a Dallas, Tex., chain.

A problem cropped up — a stock certificate worth roughly $100,000 was missing.

Jacob Davis, Kroger vice president, told how a hypnotist helped track down the missing paper and save an executive $3,500, to boot:

Jack Evans, vice president of Wyatt Food Stores of Dallas, found he had misplaced the stock certificate, probably three years ago.

The paper was essential for Kroger's purchase of the Wyatt chain.

Evans, having no luck with his own memory, met hypnotist Franz Polgar near Dallas, and asked him to help.

In a trance, Evans said the certificate was wrapped around his will in a safety deposit box.

A quick check showed this was true.

The sale was completed, and Evans was saved from paying $3,500 for posting an indemnity bond.

Davis said he hopes that's the last time the firm has to use hypnotism as a business tool.

Local Legion Post to Hold Initiation

Pontiac's American Legion Cook-Nelson Post No. 20 will hold a formal initiation of new members this Saturday at 8 p.m. at the post home, 206 Auburn Ave.

It is expected that over 20 new members will be initiated at the ceremony. Cochairmen for the event are Floyd E. Cremer, commander, and Leo R. Mineweaser, finance officer.

A buffet will be served by the ladies' auxiliary after the initiation and a dance will follow. Ernest Reinke of Royal Oak will be in charge of the ritual team conducting the initiation.

Pulp Trees Fall Prey to Hungry Porcupines

NEW YORK (AP)—The porcupine is making smorgasbord out of newspulp.

The Newsprint Information Committee says these quilled animals take a heavy toll of Canadian pulp trees. For instance, one porcupine on the loss can destroy 2,000 trees in the course of a year, and if half are pulp trees, the raw material for more than 50 tons of newsprint is lost, the committee says.

BIG BUSINESS — More than 4.3 million business firms were in operation in the United States in 1957. This is an increase of 670,000 over the number at the end of 1946, reports the U.S. Department of Commerce. In 1957, nearly 44 out of every 100 concerns were engaged in retail trade. Proportionate sizes of other major business divisions are shown in Newschart above.

Compulsory Course 'a Good Thing'

Traffic Violators Endorse School

By MAX SIMON

A jury of traffic violators has reached a verdict on the Oakland County Driver Safety School.

The decision is a startling one because the jurors are persons convicted for reckless and drunk driving, and other traffic offenses. All were ordered to attend the school by municipal judges or justices of the peace.

Their finding: The newly-established school is educational, interesting and should be continued.

Opinions on the four-week course were given to George N. Stewart, the Pontiac school system's driver education instructor, who taught the classes. The remarks were submitted by members of the school's first class in unsigned statements upon completing the school.

Here are some of their comments:

"I think the school is a good thing and will slow us down . . ."

"I enjoyed the school . . ."

"The school is helpful . . ."

"The school is pretty good . . . I didn't feel I deserved this course so I wasn't too pleased at having to take it. But I learned something from it and can't think of a thing I didn't like about it . . ."

"It's a good refresher course, and very profitable . . ."

Others felt that the school was too short for them to get full value out of it. "It should last eight weeks, not four," declared one enthusiast.

Another said the school should have been started sooner.

Most of the persons attending classes were indignant at being ordered to attend the school, but later participated enthusiastically in discussions, Stewart said.

During the two-hour class sessions, Stewart emphasizes the importance of careful driving, and knowledge of traffic laws.

Students must pay a $4 tuition fee to help cover the school's expenses.

A "report card" on attendance, attitude and achievement of each student is sent to the municipal judge or justice of the peace who ordered the violator to attend.

If the student's record is good, the jurist will usually not impose any further sentence.

If it's not, the jurist is likely to crack down with as severe a sentence as he can.

Visiting Nurses Help in Homes

"I'm so glad you've arrived," the boy said as he opened the door to admit a lady dressed in blue. "My father has been trying to do what the doctor instructed, but he needs help."

Mr. Smith, 50, was afflicted with a disabling disease. He was faced with the problems of limiting his activities, accepting his new and sudden situation, and striving for rehabilitation.

The lady in blue was from the Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association, a United Fund agency. She had been sent to the Smith residence on the recommendation of Mr. Smith's doctor.

Mr. Smith's wife and daughter worked all day. He had been left to the mercy of some kind neighbors who would come in and out during the day to try and assist him until his son got home from school in the afternoon.

Mr. Smith had spent many lonely hours staring into space thinking he was no longer useful. His family tried to comfort and aid him, but it was evident that trained help was needed.

The family savings had been pretty well eaten up by medical bills. The Smiths didn't see how they could afford more bills for medical care and private nurses.

This was where the Visiting Nurse Association stepped in. The association offered a trained nurse to visit Mr. Smith at a very low nominal fee. All medical and other incidental costs were paid by the association with United Fund dollars.

"We are not simply a charity agency," asserts Mary Pauli, executive director. "The association is set up to serve any area residents already under a doctor's care, regardless of their financial situation."

In Mr. Smith's case, after several months of care by a visiting nurse, following doctor's orders, he was taught how to feed himself, shave, clothe himself, and assume a considerable degree of activity and usefullness.

The nurse has educated his family on the important points necessary for his recovery. Now she calls on Mr. Smith twice a week to see how he is progressing and encourage him to a full life once again.

Through the Visiting Nurse Association, Mr. Smith has regained his confidence. He now looks eagerly ahead to the next day, knowing that each challenge can be conquered on his road to recovery.

Pontiac Press Photo

HELP AT HOME — A visiting nurse, Mrs. Joseph Varion, is shown here assisting Mrs. Cleopatra Hatchett (left), of 180 Wessen St., in her struggle to attain an active life once again. Disabled some time ago, Mrs. Hatchett has found the job of rehabilitation much easier through the help of a registered nurse. The Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association, a United Fund Agency, is at work each day giving a happier outlook of the future to many sick, injured, aged, and otherwise disabled area residents.

Nebraska Candidate Dies as Election Nears

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — J. R. Kelly, 70, Democratic candidate for Nebraska state auditor, died suddenly Wednesday night.

His death means his party goes to the polls next Tuesday without a formal candidate on the ballot.

The ballot was certified 14 days ago and printed with Kelly's name on it.

But Democratic party leaders can name another candidate and urge party members to write in his name or voters may write in any name they desire.

Kelly would have opposed Ray Johnson, Republican who has held the office since 1938.

Above: Edsel Corsair 4-door hardtop

An exciting new kind of car!

Makes history by making sense

The car you hoped would happen! Looks right, works right. Priced right. Luxurious without overdoing it. Roomy without useless length. Powerful without hogging gas. Styled to last. Soundly engineered. Solidly built. Priced with the most popular three!

Add it up. You get solid new distinction rivaled only by cars costing much more! Bold new vertical grille. Strong new lines. Graceful new rear flight deck.

You get new efficiency. Wonderfully spacious interiors—with less length outside. Edsel's trim 120-inch wheelbase fits any normal garage, swings easily in and out of tight spots.

You get lots of go for little gas. Pounds of useless car weight are gone. And four new Edsel engines are here! Including a thrifty but powerful six. And a new kind of V-8 that uses regular fuel and wrings big mileage from every ounce of it!

You get all the quality that marks a superior car. Super-smooth ride. Self-adjusting brakes. Rich carpeting, electric clock and four other usual "extras"—at no extra cost.

Yet the challenging new 1959 Edsel is priced with the most popular three! For example, you'll find that a new Edsel Ranger is priced almost exactly the same as many models of Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford. See for yourself—this comparison is actually based on the factory suggested list prices.

It's easy to see why this is the car that makes history by making sense. The new kind of car you've been waiting for. Now at your Edsel Dealer. Ten history-making models!

Dems Seeking to Break GOP Hold on County

Not since 1936 has the Democratic party penetrated the Republican grip on Oakland County elected offices.

This is a fact which fired-up Democrats are out to change on Tuesday.

"This is the year we have the candidates to do the trick," says Carlos G. Richardson, veteran chairman of the county Democratic committee from Waterford Township.

"Seems to me I've heard that story before," answers Arthur G. Elliott Jr., chairman of the county GOP committee from Pleasant Ridge.

The Democrats are optimistic they can snap the 22-year Republican reign, but Republicans aren't sitting idly by feeling their incumbent slate of six officers will merely slide in for another two years.

The voters now must decide Tuesday who will be Oakland County prosecutor, sheriff, clerk-register of deeds, treasurer, drain commissioner, and surveyor for 1959 and 1960.

It used to be that county clerk and register of deeds were two separate offices, voted on in that manner.

But last June the Board of Supervisors decided to merge the two in the interest of efficiency. Incumbent Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr. (Republican) is trying to be the first head of the combined office against John E. Kronenberg, Democrat from Royal Oak.

Voters in the county Tuesday may be voting for the last time for the office of drain commissioner. Supervisors earlier this month decided to consolidate this office into the Department of Public Works, dependent upon needed state legislation to make the shift possible.

The Democratic slate of six hopefuls contains two returnees from the 1956 political wars. They are George D. Hicks, for sheriff, and Wallace E. Rice, for drain commissioner.

Leading the Republicans toward hopes of another two years in office is treasurer Charles A. Sparks, the number one veteran county officeholder who has been head of the county's treasury since 1933.

Democrats point with pride to their "keynoter," James P. Lawson, 33-year-old Farmington Township justice of the peace and candidate for prosecutor.

Ziem, Lawson Vying for Title of Prosecutor

Frederick C. Ziem, Republican
vs.
James P. Lawson, Democrat

The chief law enforcement officer in Oakland County—Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem — would like nothing better than to retain this position for another two years.

The 42-year-old Pontiac attorney will be in the Republican row under prosecutor on the ballot when you step up to vote Tuesday.

Ziem, who makes his home with his wife, Wanda and two sons at 74 Mohawk Rd., first began his employment with the county in 1947 when he was appointed assistant prosecutor.

Three years later he became chief assistant prosecutor, a position he held for two years before he was elected to his first term as prosecutor.

Ziem was re-elected to the office on the Republican ticket in 1954 and 1956, and he hopes 1958 will mark his fourth consecutive re-election.

The University of Michigan is Ziem's alma mater. Here he not only earned his "M" on the football squad, but received his bachelor of arts and law degrees, the latter being awarded in 1941. He prepped for Michigan at Pontiac High School where he graduated in 1933.

The Republican incumbent was admitted to the Michigan Bar in 1941, and practiced law in Pontiac for several years before he entered the army. Shortly after his discharge he started with Oakland County.

If Republicans of Oakland County were to pick "the man to beat" in 1958, they undoubtedly would single out James P. Lawson, Ziem's opponent for prosecutor.

Lawson, Farmington Township justice of the peace, stirred some political clamor into the usual quiet county race when he charged that six unsolved murders in the county might be traceable to assistant prosecutors "working part-time."

Lawson, 33, of 28136 Sybil Ct., Farmington Township, jumped actively into politics when in April of 1957, he ran for and became township justice for four years.

He received his law degree from the University of Detroit in 1952. The attorney specializes in criminal law.

The Democratic hopeful began his law practice in Detroit two years later and moved in 1956 to his present home. Other members of the Lawson clan are his wife, Dorothy and two boys.

Lawson served as a machine gunner for three years in the Army during World War II.

Organizations to which Lawson belong include the Oakland, Detroit, Michigan and American Bar Associations. He serves on the committee on criminal law for the American Bar Assn.

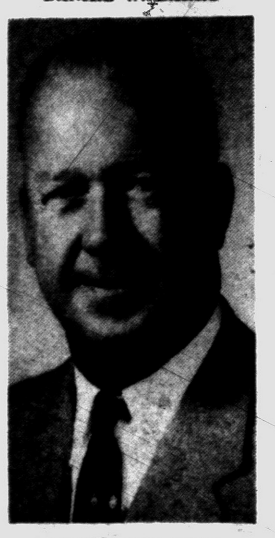

JAMES P. LAWSON

FREDERICK C. ZIEM

DANIEL W. BARRY

WALLACE E. RICE

Barry, Rice Seeking County Drain Post

Daniel W. Barry, Republican
vs.
Wallace E. Rice, Democrat

Barry versus Rice is the identical lineup voters were confronted with in 1956 when they were selecting a drain commissioner. They elected Barry.

Barry, 35, of 7050 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was a car salesman in Birmingham and Pontiac before his election two years ago as head of drain projects in the county.

The lifelong resident of the county is married. The Barrys have one child.

The Republican candidate's educational background includes St. Frederick's and Pontiac Central High Schools, a bachelor of arts degree in 1949 from Michigan State University, and two years in graduate work in public administration at MSU afterwards.

The golf, hunting and fishing enthusiast is a member of the Drain Commissioners Assn., American Society for Public Administration, National Association of County Officials, and the advisory committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Barry's service record includes time in the Chemical Warfare Corps of the Air Force in the Pacific Theater.

Wallace E. Rice, a drainage contractor from Troy, is determined that history won't repeat itself.

Rice, 50, of 6440 Anslow Lane, was on the short end of the tally when the 1956 votes were counted.

Rice was unopposed this past August for the Democratic nomination for drain commissioner and has been campaigning the past several months in an attempt to block Barry's try for a second two-year term.

In 1941 Rice started his own construction company working out of Troy. Up to that time, his employment was in the construction field for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Royal Oak and the Detroit Edison Co. in Birmingham.

He lives with his wife, Loretta, and son and daughter at their Troy home.

Rice was educated at Royal Oak High School, Henry Ford Trade School, and the Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit.

The Democratic candidate has been president of a Troy Half-Pint Football League for youngsters.

Bread for Zoo Taxable

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Supreme Court has ruled that stale bread bought by a Florida zoo to be fed to the animals is subject to the state sales tax. It noted that bread, along with other groceries, is excluded from the tax only when sold for human consumption.

DANIEL T. MURPHY Jr.

JOHN KRONENBERG

Newly-Combined Office Pits Kronenberg, Murphy

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Republican
vs.
John E. Kronenberg, Democrat

With two years under hs belt as register and another six as chief deputy clerk for the county, Daniel T. Murphy Jr. feels he's qualified for the new office of county clerk and register of deeds.

Murphy, 35-year-old Pontiac resident, was chief deputy clerk under the late clerk Lynn D. Allen from 1946 through 1952, and was appointed register of deeds in May of 1956 upon the death of former register Orrin McQuaid.

Sales promotion and personal relations with a builders supply company in Pontiac occupied Murphy's time between this first job and his present appointment.

Home for the Republican candidate is at 344 W. Iroquois Rd. The rest of the Murphy family includes his wife, Carolyn, and five children.

Murphy attended Pontiac public schools, graduated from Pontiac High and Wayne State University.

His other activities embrace positions with the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts, United Fund and PTA work, and past district commander of Amvets and past post commander of Amvets Post No. 12.

Opposing Murphy on Tuesday's ballot will be John E. Kronenberg, 35-year-old manager of the Secretary of State's office in Berkley. Kronenberg is a Democrat living at 711 N. Altadena Ave., Royal Oak.

Active in Democratic politics since 1948, Kronenberg has served as chairman, vice chairman and treasurer of the Royal Oak Democratic Club.

It was in February of 1955 when Kronenberg, then a tool and die maker, was appointed head of the Berkley branch by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Prior to Kronenberg's entrance into the Navy in 1941, he was employed at a Navy arsenal plant in Centerline.

Upon his discharge, and before his present appointment, the Democratic candidate for clerk-register followed a tool and die profession with Burroughs Corp. in Detroit, Fisher Body Division in Pontiac, and the Sherman Products Co. in Royal Oak.

The Royal Oak City Commission once appointed him to a charter revision committee.

Self-Serve Stores Up

BONN — Self-service stores in West Germany at the start of 1958 totaled 3,183, a one-year increase of 130 per cent.

Irons, Hicks Campaign Renewed for Sheriff Job

Frank W. Irons, Republican
vs.
George D. Hicks, Democrat

Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Republican seeking his third term as head of the sheriff's department, has spent some 34 years in the business of law enforcement.

When he was a young man of 25 years he had the badge as patrolman for the Berkley Police Dept. pinned on his chest. It was only 17 months later that this badge was replaced with one reading "Chief of Police."

Irons remained in this capacity until 1954 when he began his first campaign for sheriff on the GOP ticket. During his tenure as Berkley chief of police, Irons served as president of the Southeastern Michigan Chief's Police Assn.

Home for the 59-year-old sheriff and his wife Elsie, is an apartment on the main floor of the county jail, 104 Wayne St. The Irons' have a daughter and a son, both of whom live in Berkley.

The Republican candidate was born in Atlanta, Mich. in 1899 and attended high school there. For six years he worked for the Michigan Central Railroad.

Irons is an honorary member of the Berkley Chamber of Commerce and Berkley American Legion, as well as being a member of the Metropolitan Club of Berkley Spirit No. 22.

The name of George D. Hicks is getting almost synonymous with the race for Oakland County sheriff. Hicks, a Pontiac Democrat, is after the position for the fourth time.

The 52-year-old Democratic nominee for the job went after it in 1952, 1954, and again in 1956. Tuesday his opponent on the ballot will be Irons.

Hicks lives at 16 N. Johnson Ave. and was with the Pontiac Police Dept. for 21 years beginning in 1929. He resigned from the force in 1950 and started with a local furniture company.

Hicks is married and the father of two sons and a daughter.

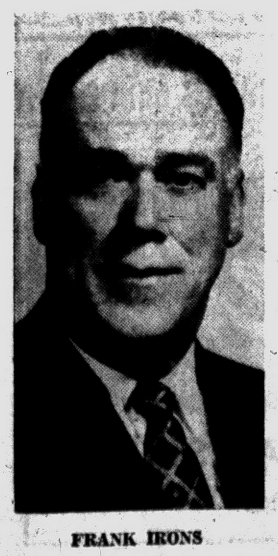

While with the Pontiac police, Hicks worked in the traffic, detective, records and license bureau sections of the force. Later Hicks served as a plant protection officer at a local factory. He also has sold cars for a local automobile dealer.

Hicks is now a route manager for the Pontiac Cigarette Co.

The Democrat was born in 1906 in London, Ontario and his family that same year moved to Pontiac. Hicks received his high school education in Pontiac public schools.

Prisoner at Jail Weeps at Loss of Pet Squirrel

DETROIT (AP) — Jobless and jailed on a bad check charge, Charlie Spurlock wept. But not for himself.

He cried while police carried his pet squirrel away to the dog pound in a sack.

The little squirrel, about four months old and with an injured hind leg, became Charlie's friend about a month ago.

"She goes everywhere with me, clinging to my shirt under my jacket. At night she sleeps in my jacket pocket. I feed her peanuts," Spurlock, 28, told police. "Please don't put her to sleep."

Police said the squirrel would be released to its natural environment.

24 TV Stations in Japan

TOKYO — Japan now has 24 television stations. The first went into operation in 1953. The number of stations is expected to increase to 72 by 1959. Because of the country's mountainous character, which cuts the telecasting range, a large number of stations is necessary for covering a relatively short area. About a million TV sets are in use in Japan.

Court Commissioners Unopposed

There's two men on the Nov. 4 ballot who won't be staying up all hours that night worrying about whether they're in or not. Matter of fact, they probably will return to their offices the next morning regardless of election returns.

The two men are Maurice F. Cole and Verne C. Hampton, candidates for re-election on the non-partisan ticket for Oakland County Circuit Court commissioners. Voters can vote for not more than two and Cole and Hampton are unopposed.

This is nothing new either. Cole, 65, Ferndale attorney, has been re-elected consecutively to his commissioner post since 1938. Hampton, 55, Pontiac attorney, beats his fellow commissioner by one year since he was first elected in 1937.

What does a Circuit Court commissioner do? Their principal work deals with tenancy problems, including such things as eviction of tenants and foreclosure of land contracts.

VERNE C. HAMPTON

Cuts Pork With Plate

MADRID — One of Spain's best-known restaurants, the Antigua Casa Sobrino de Botin, founded in 1725 and located along the Street of the Knifemakers in old Madrid, doesn't use knives on its specialty, roast suckling pig. To prove that the meat is really tender, the waiters won't cut it with a knife. They use the edge of a plate.

Leopard Ranges Far

NAIROBI, Kenya — The spotted leopard is the most widely distributed of the large cats, being found in most of Africa, the Near East, and Asia. It lives in a great variety of situations and climates.

Main, Lowney After Office of Surveyor

Ralph A. Main, Republican
vs.
Robert J. Lowney, Democrat

Ralph A. Main, a graduate of nearly six years as county drain commissioner, liked his first two years as county surveyor so that he decided to try for re-election.

Main is a consulting civil engineer living with his wife, Ann, at 1819 Fairview St., Birmingham. He also maintains his county office in Birmingham.

The former city commissioner and mayor of that city was first elected county surveyor in 1956 after his six years in the drain post. Main also served as supervisor representing Birmingham on the Board of Supervisors at one time.

Republican Main received a bachelor of science and a master's degree in civil engineering from University of Pittsburgh.

The former engineer with the city of Birmingham is a member of a score of engineering societies including the National Society of Professional Engineers, director of the Michigan Engineering Society, Michigan Society of Registered Land Surveyors, American Society of Agricultural Engineers, and the Oakland County Engineering Society.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — Robert J. Lowney, Democratic candidate for county surveyor, has twice declined requests of The Pontiac Press that he submit biographical material on himself and a picture. Because of his refusal, The Press has only the following brief information.)

Robert J. Lowney, 65, of 2417 N. Main St., Royal Oak, is seeking the election as county surveyor after being unopposed in the Aug. 5 primary. The first-time seeker is a retired architect of 40 years experience.

Benson Out to Sidetrack Sparks

Charles A. Sparks, Republican
vs.
William K. Benson, Democrat

Charles A. Sparks is the veteran in Oakland County Republican circles.

If voters turn down more pointers over his name than over his opponent's Tuesday, it will mark the 14th consecutive election in which he has become the victor in the race for county treasurer.

Sparks, 66, first took the oath as treasurer on Jan. 1, 1933.

Sparks is the oldest elected county official in length of service.

The Republican contender, who was opposed unsuccessfully in the August primary for the first time since 1935, makes his home with his wife, Beatrice, at 7010 Hatchery Rd., Waterford Township.

Previous to beginning his long service with the county, Sparks was employed five years with the old Oakland Motor Car Co., four years as a car salesman in Pontiac, and finally as a real estate and insurance salesman in Pontiac.

A lover of hunting and fishing, Sparks is a member of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, and past president of the Michigan Association of County Treasurers. He is also past exalted ruler of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810.

William K. Benson, a millwright at a Highland Park auto factory, is a man that isn't frightened by odds. He is the Democratic nominee for county treasurer despite the many years experience stacked up against him by his opponent.

Benson, 49, of 2569 John R Rd., Rochester, won the Democratic nomination in the primary and has been campaigning for the treasurer's job ever since.

For five years the candidate was a member of the Brooklands School Board. He has been a millwright with the Ford Motor Co. since 1932.

The father of a teenage boy and girl, Benson and his wife, Ruth, moved to their Rochester home in 1947 after a residency in Detroit. It was there that Benson received his education.

Aside from his profession, the Democratic nominee put in five years as chairman of the Avon Township Democratic Club, and directs a group of ushers at his Rochester church.

Like his opponent, leisure hours are often spent with a shotgun or fishing rod.

Plane Collision Kills Movie Actress' Son

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Collision of two light planes over the San Fernando Valley killed three men, including actress Maureen O'Sullivan's 19-year-old son.

He was Michael D. Farrow, first of seven children of the Irish-born actress and movie writer-director John Farrow. The parents are in London, where the elder Farrow is completing production of a picture.

Michael, who had a student flying certificate, was killed Wednesday in one plane iwth David H. Johnson, 21, a flying instructor at a small airport in suburban Pacoima.

The other victim, flying alone in the other craft, was Donald W. Preneville, 39, of nearby Glendale.

The single-engine planes collided at about 600 feet in clear, sunny weather and fell 200 yards apart at opposite sides of a gravel pit near the airport.

Guest Becomes Thief, Pockets $30, Jewelry

DALLAS (AP) — William McCleery, 38, held a dinner party for a group of friends and acquaintances.

After dinner the group settled down to watch a television show.

One of the guests then shoved his hand in his coat pocket and announced he had a pistol. He took about $30, a watch and two rings from the guests, including his host, then fled.

Police launched a search for the man, but no charges were filed immediately.

5 Seek 2 Seats at Sylvan Lake

Menees, Wilhelm Out to Keep Council Posts for Another 3 Years

Five candidates are vying for two seats open Nov. 4 on the five-member Sylvan Lake City Council.

Incumbents Robert S. Menees, a salesman, of 1535 Maplewood St., and Joseph A. Wilhelm, a Pontiac Motor Division superintendent, of 2195 Pontiac Dr., are running for re-election to three-year terms.

Menees, the incumbent mayor, was first elected three years ago. Wilhelm was appointed to fill a vacancy two years ago.

Opposing them are Anthony Kreps, a barber, of 2782 Garland Rd.; G. Richard Jarvis, an accountant, of 2239 Pontiac Dr.; and Kenneth Meredith, a metal worker, of 1615 Maplewood St.

Kreps is a former councilman and mayor; Jarvis was the last village president before Sylvan became a city in 1947.

In another election, incumbent Constable Frank L. Stott, 1489 Glenwood St., is unopposed for re-election.

City Manager Louis G. Barry estimated between 900 and 1,000 registered voters are eligible to cast ballots between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday at the City Hall polls.

Pontiac Dems Planning Roosevelt Hotel Dance

A dance will be put on this Saturday night by the Pontiac Democratic Club at 9 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Honored guests will be Mrs. Sanford A. Brown and Mrs. Frank S. Szymanski, wives of the Democratic candidates for state treasurer and auditor general, and congressional and county candidates.

Government Moves to Halt Child Deaths

Refrigerator Door Law in Effect

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A curly-haired three-year old boy climbed into a refrigerator and the door slammed shut.

His mother found him five hours later —dead. Tiny finger marks on the inside of the refrigerator door testified to his efforts to escape.

A federal law aimed at eventually ending such "ice box deaths" went into effect today.

The law requires that all refrigerators sold in interstate commerce must be constructed so a small child can open them from the inside.

EASY TO OPEN

Refrigerator doors must be built so they will open when:

—Not more than 15 pounds of pressure is applied from the inside where the handle is located.

—or, an inside knob requiring not more than five pounds of pressure is turned.

—or, some automatic device requiring not more than 15 pounds of pressure operates.

Congress passed the law in 1956 and directed the administration to draw up specific requirements. Many refrigerator manufacturers have been installing the required safety features for some time.

Government officials estimate more than a dozen children a year on the average are trapped in refrigerators and ice boxes and die. The death toll in 1953 reached 26.

Most of the deaths have involved children becoming trapped in abandoned ice boxes or unused refrigerators. However some have involved refrigerators in use.

In only two days in 1953 nine children suffocated in two ice boxes in Virginia and Arkansas. In Philadelphia in 1955 one five-year old boy shut the door of a refrigerator in which two playmates were sitting. Both suffocated.

SEEK PERMANENT SOLUTION

A number of states have enacted laws banning disposal of old refrigerators with closeable doors. The federal law is aimed at a permanent solution.

As Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), a backer of the law, said in urging its passage:

"The boxes we manufacture today will —unless we act now—be the coffins of tomorrow."

Debt Delinquency 'Hurts Community'

Delinquent payments on debts represent a heavy economic loss to a community because money which should be in circulation thereby remains idle, John Meddaugh told Pontiac Lions club in a talk yesterday on "Changing Habits in Credit Buying."

Meddaugh, who operates a collection service, said credit is the lifeblood of our economic system when properly used. He recalled that early purchases made almost entirely by cash became credit purchases, and in our present day deferred payment terms have grown from 12-month limits to as much as 36. The advent of the 30-year mortgage is another present-day development.

The speaker, with a picture presentation, discussed ways of keeping credit within safe limits, for the good of both the business community and the individuals.

3 in U.S. Win Nobel Prize

American Scientists Are Honored for Pioneer Work in Genetics

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize for medicine today for their pioneer work in genetics—studies that could lead the way to a cure for cancer.

One-half of the $41,250 award went to George Wells Beadle, professor at the Kerckhoff Laboratories of Biology, Pasadena, Calif., and Edward Lawrie Tatum, professor at the Rockefeller Institute, New York, for their discovery "that genes act by regulating definite chemical events."

The other half of the prize went to Joshua Lederberg, professor at the University of Wisconsin, for his discoveries concerning "genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria."

The awards were made by the staff of Sweden's medical research center, the Karolinska Institute, which said the American discoveries would have a strong influence on the search for a cure for cancer.

Today's announcement completed Stockholm's part in awarding Nobel Prizes this year. However, it was overshadowed by the rejection of the Nobel Prize for literature by Russian writer Boris Pasternak. The Swedish academy will meet later today to discuss the situation created by his renunciation of the award.

The other prizes awarded here during the past seven days included the physics award, which went to three Russian scientists, and the chemistry award, given to Dr. Frederick Sanger of Cambridge University.

The Nobel Peace Prize, if one is awarded this year, will be announced later in Oslo, Norway.

The experiments that won Beadle and Tatum their award confirmed that genes control enzymes and that enzymes control the chemistry of life.

Cardinals Kneel at Feet

Pope Receives Homage

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine Chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

The cardinals made their first act of obeisance to the new Pope immediately after his election Tuesday. Their second homage was performed Wednesday just before Pope John made his first radio address to the world, an appeal for peace.

Officials of the Vatican, meanwhile, were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church, it likely will be televised throughout Western Europe.

It had been anticipated that the pontiff would order the coronation the following Sunday, Nov. 9, in line with custom that a pope is crowned (1) within two weeks of his election, (2) on a Sunday, and (3) as late as possible so that foreign governments would have sufficient time to send representatives.

But Pope John picked Nov. 4, only a week after his election, because it is the feast day of St. Charles Borromeo. The new pontiff has long admired that saint, a leading figure in the Catholic counterreformation who visited Pope John's native Bergamo province in 1575. The new Pope for years has been working on a history of the saint's visit to Bergamo and has completed seven of eight contemplated volumes.

MARGUERITE HOPP

The engagement of Marguerite Hopp to Terrance J. Crue has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Hopp of 42741 Dequindre Rd., Rochester. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Crue of Hastings. The wedding date has not been set.

Pontiac Man Injured in 3-Car Collision

A 23-year-old Pontiac man was slightly injured yesterday afternoon in a three-car collision at the intersection of Saginaw and Pike streets.

Leonard M. Neil, 157 N. Tilden Ave., was treated for abrasions of the back at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

His car, moving west on Pike, collided with one driven by Patricia H. Carpenter, 23, of 164 Auburn Ave., which was traveling north on Saginaw. Her car then struck that of Paul Wallis, 30, of 50½ N. Paddock St. Wallis was driving south on Saginaw.

Police Officers Get OK to Whistle at Operators

When an officer finishes dictating a report from his station to a recording instrument in the office, the whistle lets the girl attending the machine know he is through.

Judy Garland Changes Tune

Denies Own Statement of Beating, Attempted Strangling by Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Judy Garland, who said in an affidavit last March that husband Sid Luft had beaten and tried to strangle her, has denied it on the witness stand.

"I'd say he had a very good disposition," the singer testified Wednesday. She was helping Luft resist the effort of his ex-wife, actress Lynn Bari, to regain custody of the Luft-Bari son, John, 10.

Luft won custody last month on grounds the youngster needed home and family life instead of living in a boarding school. Miss Garland was subpoenaed to answer questions about the boy's adjustment to life in the Luft-Garland home.

Miss Bari's lawyer picked up the divorce complaint Miss Garland filed last March in which she said in a sworn affidavit that Luft had beaten and attempted to strangle her.

"Has he ever attempted to strangle you?" the attorney asked.

"No," the singer replied in a low voice.

"Did he ever beat you?"

"No."

Miss Bari's present husband, Dr. Nathan Rickles, Beverly Hills psychiatrist, testified earlier to a telephone exchange with Luft when the boy was being prepared to go to the Luft home. He said Luft called him an unprintable name and said if the child weren't delivered in half an hour "he would bring four men and take him forcibly."

"I said, 'Look, I don't take swearing from anybody, especially you,'" Dr. Rickles related. ". . . He said he didn't give a darn what my wife's feelings were, that I was a psychiatrist and maybe I should treat my wife. I told him I thought I was treating my wife a lot better than he was taking care of his wife. . . ."

The first professional rodeo was held July 4, 1883, near the courthouse at Pecos, Tex. It was to settle an argument between rival groups of cowboys as to who was best at wrestling steers and riding broncos.

Volunteer Fireman Quits Broadcast to See Blaze

DUNN, N. C. (UPI) — Howard M. Lee, official of the local volunteer fire department for nearly 20 years, prides himself on the fact that he never misses a fire in the city.

In fact, when a local radio station persuaded him to appear on a program to promote fire prevention, Lee excused himself in the middle of the broadcast when the fire alarm sounded.

"Excuse me," Lee told his listening audience. "I have to go."

Canadian Drugs Gain

OTTAWA — Canada's pharmaceutical industry, which has developed at a rapid pace during the past few years, now ranks second in the chemical and allied-products field. Production of medicinal and pharmaceutical products climbed to $137,600,000 in 1957 compared with $71,500,000 in 1949.

By and for Pontiac Residents

Clothing Drive Deadline Friday

Friday is the deadline for the second annual citywide clothing drive by and for Pontiac residents, according to Paul C. Allison, director of the Pontiac schools child accounting department and general chairman of the drive.

The collection, sponsored by the Pontiac Administrators' and Supervisors' Assn., is being conducted at each school in the Pontiac district.

Residents who wish to donate clothing for infants, children and adults have been requested to contact the administrator of the school nearest their home.

Families in need of clothing should do the same.

The agencies, which will distribute the clothing to local families upon requisitions from principals, are the Salvation Army, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Dorcas Society, Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The Parent-Teacher Assns. of the schools as well as school personnel and students are cooperating in the collection program.

Last year's drive, the first to be held for local residents instead of the aid to European nations, resulted in the collection of 6,665 pounds of clothing. At least 200 orders were issued by the schools and were processed by the three agencies, Allison said.

Families or persons having clothing to contribute, as well as bedding, who do not have children in school may call the nearest school and the PTA will collect the contribution at the donor's home.

This year's goal is the equivalent of one pound of used clothing per Pontiac school child or more than 19,000 pounds.

Pentagon Call Helps

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Lenny Koplow had to get in touch with the Pentagon to return a lost wallet. He found the wallet containing $600 and a card with name and serial number but no address. He contacted the Pentagon, received a six-year-old address and made a telephone call. Samuel G. Ransom, 43, happened to be visiting his aunt when the call came. He said the money was his reenlistment pay.

TWA Spurs Efforts to Avoid Walkout

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Prospects of a strike against Trans World Airlines Friday night has spurred last-minute efforts to settle a contract dispute.

The International Assn. of Machinists, which has scheduled a walkout of its 6,700 members, said it had made a new proposal. But in New York, TWA President Charles S. Thomas said he was surprised to hear it.

"We are perfectly willing to negotiate but we cannot do so if the union refuses to change its position," he said.

Mayor H. Roe Bartle offered to arbitrate the dispute, centering around work classifications and functions. The parties said they would study the offer.

Thomas said the company will furlough its 19,000 employes in event of a strike because it can't continue flights without maintenance crews.

Man Takes Dim View of Women Politicos

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — More and more, American women are entering into politics. Their voice still is not as loud as the men's, but it is more piercing.

The handsomer, suaver male candidates for political posts think it's great. Women tend to clamber on the soapbox when soft-soaped by a good looking guy.

But my husband, who currently is running for nothing but cover, says beware the lady politico.

He says that boy, if you think there's a deep-freeze-vicuna-coat-empty-promise-and-kickback problem now, wait till the girls get into high offices. The taxpayer will never know what bit him.

"It is not so much a question of women being greedy—although they are—or that they cheat—although they do." He waved before me the latest report of a business consultant, stating that 75 per cent of America's female workers will cheat on their employers if given the opportunity.

"The big thing is that politics is strictly a game. And women are devious, crafty, malevolent and without conscience when playing games.

"Now pick up your hand," he said, glowering at the gin score, "and we'll resume."

Actually, my dear spouse made the reference to the "game" of politics to cover up a very real sense of alarm he had felt a few moments earlier after reading the business story about women cheaters. Like most male devotees of femininity and tenderness in the other sex, he likes to think of girls as pure, soft, dainty and wearing aprons.

But this is what he read: Behind many a failing business, there is one woman or more with her blood-red fingernails in the till. Women steal money and merchandise for a number of reasons. One is a feeling of insecurity. Another is pride. A third is greed.

If she has no better reason, she will cheat purely for the satisfaction she feels from outwitting her male employer.

When a woman is entering a relatively new field of endeavor for her sex (in this case, the big business world), she tries first to emulate the men who have set the standards of procedure. And then, as she gathers courage, she tries to better them at their own game . . .

This is what curdled my husband's blood and started him visualizing blonde, blue-eyed politicians in public office.

He could see them emulating the politicians' game.

Then he could see them outdoing the males at their own sport.

And then, suddenly, in one great vicuna-colored vision, he foresaw the end of the two-party, two-sex system in the United States. "Chinchilla," he mumbled. "The presidential aide-de-vamp is wearing chinchilla."

Like his image of the male politician of the future, he went on with the rummy game, shaking his head as he blew it.

To Fete Dem Candidates

Tall Beauty Finally Gets Chance to Become Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Constance Towers, who has the dream assignment of costarring with William Holden and John Wayne, should have been a star two years ago.

One of the things that held her back is that producers didn't have the vision that some of the rest of us had. Another is — I beg your pardon for this — that Connie towers.

She stands a delightful 5 feet 9 or 10 in high heels. Though she has obvious qualities for stardom — a natural Bergmanesque beauty, blonde Kelly-like hair and a rich voice that is all her own — her height was against her. Somehow, male stars don't like to look up at their leading ladies.

Fortunately, Wayne and Holden rise above her. Hence she qualified for the leading female role in the five-million-dollar "Horse Soldiers."

She plays a Southern belle who spies on Yankee interlopers Wayne and Holden and is kidnaped by them on their cavalry march through the South.

Why hasn't she gotten to the top faster?

It's a wonder to many who have caught her on the supper club circuit. I recall seeing her on the closing night of the old Last Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas. She was a knockout. But she couldn't get anywhere in films.

Columbia brought her out here after she made a hit in her first big-time date as a singer at the St. Regis in New York.

"I did just one picture — a quickie with Frankie Laine," she recalled. "I didn't have much to do, and Blake Edwards, who was directing his first picture, didn't have much time to devote to me. The picture did nothing for me."

She asked for her release and got it. Then she went back to the clubs.

Says Ike Campaign Hurts Foreign Policy

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—U.S. Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla) told a Tulsa Democratic party rally Wednesday night that political campaigning by President Eisenhower may have caused irreparable harm to America's foreign policy.

Albert, Democratic whip in the House, spoke at a $10-a-plate party dinner attended by 1,100 persons.

Albert accused Eisenhower of "cruel and unfair tactics" against the Democrats, adding that "in the cold war against communism, it is important that America remain united."

Presidential utterances, designed to cast aspersions upon a large segment of our population," said Albert, "are calculated to divide and not unite our people."

He said Democratic leadership in Congress cooperated with Eisenhower, who is the only person who can speak for America in foreign policy.

"We believe politics should stop at the shore line," he said.

"The job of selling the Eisenhower foreign policy as now administered is not an easy job and nobody knows this better than I as Democratic whip."

Sarah Churchill Will Play Lead in 'Peter Pan'

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's 44-year-old actress daughter Sarah is going to come back to the London stage as Peter Pan, the boy who never grew old.

She announced she will play the part in the annual Christmas production at the Scala Theater, not one of London's plushiest but the traditional place for Peter Pan.

Miss Churchill has been appearing sporadically on the stage and in television in America for the past nine years. For the past two weeks she's been playing in repertory in Worthing, on England's south coast.

Peter Pan at her age is not unusual. Mary Martin first played the part at 41 in the United States and was a big hit. Like Miss Martin and all the other Peters, Miss Churchill will wear tights and fly about the stage suspended from a wire.

Said producer Angus Macleod of his new star: "I found she has personality, a strong voice and a figure which will look good in tights."

Wanda Hendrix Signs $175,000 Settlement

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Wanda Hendrix has signed a pre-divorce property agreement that could bring her nearly $175,000 from millionaire sportsman James Langford Stack.

Stack agreed to withdraw his own complaint charging mental cruelty and not oppose his wife's Reno, Nev., suit.

The agreement gives Miss Hendrix $20,000 and, if she doesn't remarry, $1,100 a month

Remote Southern Islands Critical Filipino Problem

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippines has launched a wide-scale drive to secure its southern backdoor from Communist infiltration and to eliminate gradually the lucrative smuggling and illegal entry operations in the area.

For centuries the sea-faring Filipinos of the south — particularly those belonging to the Samal and Tausog tribes—roamed the southern waters unhindered by territorial boundaries and revenue agents.

In their speedy sailboats the "Southerners" struck deep into Borneo ports and surrounding areas bartering copra and sugar for cloth, spices and finished products which fetched high prices in Manila blackmarkets.

Up to about five years ago the government had relaxed its regulations on the "copra barter trade" and had even looked away from minor violations.

Then the sharpies — Chinese businessmen and Filipinos influential with the government — entered the picture.

REVENUE DROPPED

Well-organized syndicates began putting up branches in Sandakan, Jesselton and even Hong Kong, instrumental in smuggling into the Philippines not only embargoed goods, including narcotics, but human beings as well.

In one year the revenue derived from the lush south dropped from one million dollars to $150,000. The nation came face to face with an illegal entry problem that defied solution.

Military officials said some 10,500 Indonesians had slipped through the country, 2,000 of them within the last five months. Some 2,400 "undocumented" Chinese likewise posed an economic threat to the Philippines, still groggy from a dollar reserve which had sunk to an all-time low of $141,000,000.

And the threat to the security of the country could not entirely be discounted.

"Most of the (Indonesian) illegal entries are known Communists," Defense Secretary Jesus-Vargas was told during a two-day inspection tour of the southern area.

RE-EDUCATION NEEDED

The President's Law Enforcement Unit in the Southern Philippines (PLEUSP) firms up the determination of the government not only to secure the nation's backdoor from illicit trade and smuggling but finally to tackle the problem of its remote peoples.

Sulu island, isolated from the central government for countless years, with its predominantly Moslem population, is a prime example of this problem. The inhabitants have their traditions, customs and laws which they find difficult to do away with in the face of newfangled regulations from the central government.

PLEUSP chairman Col. Claviano Olivares and his policy making committee believe the solution lies not alone in the apprehension of illegal entries and the confiscation of embargoed goods but in uplifting the long-abandoned peoples of the southern area.

PLEUSP, in addition to its ships, planes and thousands of foot troops, now has a radio station with which to inform the people that they belong to the Philippines after all. It is setting up more courts in the area with a view to showing the people "the physical nature of justice, and then perhaps the spiritual value will come afterwards."

An ambitious plan is afoot to provide the southern people with concrete "substitutes" for customs, traditions and mores which the government proposes to supplant. Just what these will be has not yet been determined.

Tri-County Construction Up During 3rd Quarter

Building permits were issued for 4,840 dwellings in Oakland County during the first nine months of 1958, according to the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Residential building permits issued in the Detroit region continued to climb after an unusually low first six months this year.

Although the nine-month period for 1958 shows 15.2 per cent fewer permits than January-September for 1957 in Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties, the third quarter points up a four per cent gain over the same period in 1957.

The rise for August-September is seven per cent.

3 IN TOP 10

Three Oakland County communities were among the top 10 of the three counties in the 1958 nine-month total. They are Madison Heights, 854 permits; Royal Oak, 453; and Waterford Township, 447.

Building permits for 207 dwellings were issued for Pontiac during this period.

The 4,840 figure for nine months in 1958 in the county compares with 6,230 in 1957, 8,301 in 1956 and 8,973 in 1955 during the same period.

Oakland County showed the greatest percentage decline of the three counties for the three-quarter priod.

In the last three months, Wayne and Macomb Counties issued more building permits than in the third quarter of 1957 while Oakland County issued 460 less than its 1957 July-August-September number of permits.

Local Elks Assisting at Lodge Ceremony

The Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810 Drill Team and several local Elks dignitaries will take part in the institution of a new Nortwest Detroit Lodge this Sunday in Detroit.

The institution will be conducted by Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Rulers, which include Thomas P. Gilliotte, Austin D. Esler, and Robert M. Owen of the Pontiac Lodge.

The new group will be designated Lodge No. 2097 and will become the 14th Lodge of Elks in the Southeast Michigan District which includes the Pontiac Lodge. A drill team from Royal Oak Lodge No. 1523 will also assist.

When you really need a helping hand

It's been a hard day—the longest and hardest day of your life. Growing up can be awfully tough on a twelve-year-old—when you're suddenly the head of the house.

There's so much to do! Meals to prepare (as best you can). The small kids to take care of. Tidy the house. Fix the baby's formula. If only mother wasn't sick!

It's not that you mind the work. That's not it at all. It's just that, well, the responsibility is just too overwhelming for one so young. Even easy tasks are difficult for untrained hands.

Then, when everything seems blackest, she comes to the door—the Visiting Nurse. Could anyone be more welcome?

The Visiting Nurses Association is just one of the 195 United Foundation services that benefit by the Torch Drive. Last year, Visiting Nurses made over 100,000 house calls, bringing their skill and training to all who needed it—regardless of race, creed or color.

Your contribution to the Torch Drive helps all 195 services in their work. So when you are contacted, give the Detroit way: Give once for all. How much depends entirely upon you—and your conscience.

IT SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

He voted to discontinue state funds to vaccinate children against polio.

He voted against a commission for the aged.

He opposed the establishment of any new child guidance clinics; we now have a six month waiting list in Oakland County.

He voted to reduce the funds for our St. Lawrence Sea-Way commission from $45,000 to a ridiculous $500, thus it cannot function.

He opposed the appointment of Tom Doherty and called this fine christian gentleman a Marxist from the Senate floor.

He gets headlines at taxpayers' expense through his committee on waste, while he occupies a $42.00 a day hotel suite at taxpayers' expense.

USO Lends Helping Hand to Our Youths in Service

NEW YORK (AP)—The war is over — but the USO isn't. Ask American youngsters in uniform who pay 3½ million visits to USO clubs each month.

"But the public is unaware of our work," says Milton Feitelson, assistant director of operations.

"Ask people about USO and 8 out of 10 say: 'It's wonderful. When's it coming back?'

"Ask them how it's financed and they'll says 'Gee, isn't it Red Cross? Or the Army?'"

The USO — short version of United Service Organizations — is financed through volunteer giving. Community Chests and United Funds include USO even though their particular cities or towns have no USO clubs.

"They've all got kids in the service — even if nobody thinks much about them now," says Feitelson.

"Remember — there are 2½ million kids in the armed forces. Half of them are under 25. Half of them have never been away from home before."

USO is a federation of six national agencies: Young Men's Christian Assn., National Catholic Community Service, National Jewish Welfare Board, Young Women's Christian Assn., The Salvation Army and National Travelers Aid Assn. It was formed in February 1941.

USO may use facilities of any member agency in a community or build USO clubs where other facilities are not available. USO is now operating 245 clubs in the continental United States and 22 centers abroad.

"We do everything from helping a fellow find an apartment for his family at a price he can pay to telling him where he can buy a razor or helping him meet nice girls at our dances and picnics," says Feitelson.

The USO also sends constantly changing shows abroad. There were 1,375 such shows — mostly musical — that traveled to camps all over the world last year to entertain bored and lonely service men and women.

Feitelson — "Mr. USO himself" to his colleagues — is a chunky fellow with bushy black hair, gold-rimmed spectacles and boundless enthusiasm.

He started with USO when it was first organized and helped the city of Philadelphia organize its own USO when the national organization went out in 1947.

"The flags had stopped waving, but many cities — Philadelphia was one — felt the kid brother in the armed forces needed help too. The war was over, but we were still shipping thousands of kids to service camps and overseas," he says.

When the USO was brought back with the Selective Service Act of 1948, Feitelson got in it immediately.

The USO's job is the same now as it was during the war — only it has less money and fewer volunteers.

Says Feitelson:

"People go on an emotional jag during a war — like World War II or the Korean War. Then they forget. If you remind them, they are anxious to help. But we have to keep telling 'tm."

Fraternity Blacklisted After Prank at Game

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Western Michigan University chapter of Delta Upsilon fraternity has been ordered dissolved by Dean of Men J. Towner Smith for a half-time exhibition it put on at last Saturday's homecoming football game with University of Toledo.

The fraternity has appealed Smith's order to President Paul V. Sangren and will get a hearing Friday before Vice President Dale Faunce.

At half-time Saturday, Delta Upsilon members paraded around the stadium track carrying a 25-foot-long banner reading "The Drinking 100." Western Michigan's band is known as "The Marching 100."

Smith notified fraternity president Robert Disbolis of Grand Rapids that "use of the banner cast an unfair cloud, reflection and embarrassment over the university, the student body, the inter-fraternity council, the faculty, the administration and the faculty sponsors."

Smith's order bars Delta Upsilon from inter-fraternity council membership and withdraws university recognition.

Educators to Attend MSU Conference

Four Pontiac educators will participate in the program at the Michigan State University conference for the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

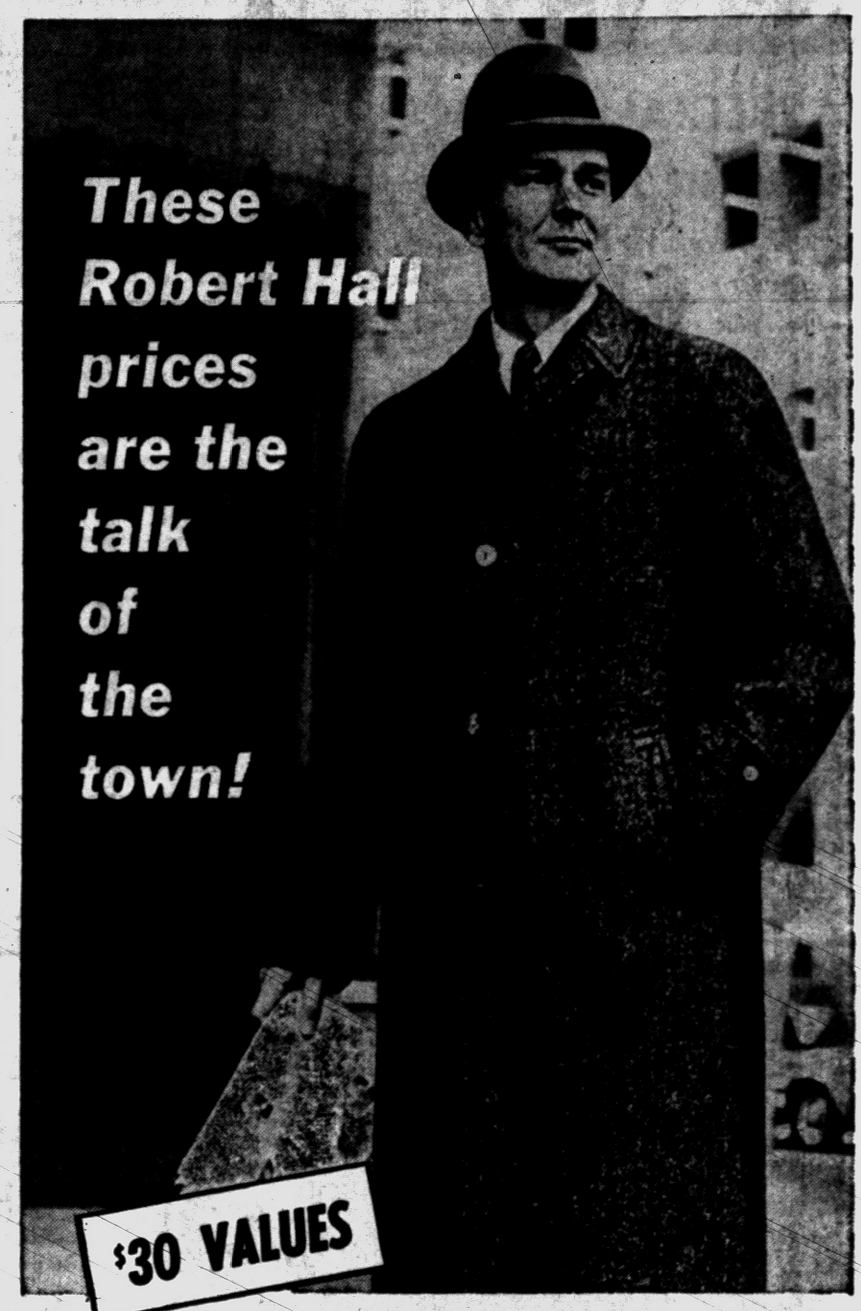

Local residents who will attend the Nov. 6-7 conference are Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education; Dr. Ted Ward, coordinator of the student-teaching program in Pontiac for MSU students; Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education, and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools.

The MASCD and the MSU College of Education are joint sponsors of the conference which will explore the fundamental issues in curriculum with 400 Michigan teachers and school administrators.

Cauliflower Is Buffet Dish

Flavored with tomatoes, made savory with an herb, frozen cauliflower baked in a casserole as directed below is a conversation-making buffet supper vegetable.

The frozen cauliflower goes into the casserole still raw, so that there is no twice-cooking of this delicate vegetable to spoil its texture. Yet the flavor blends delightfully with the other ingredients. Bake at a moderate temperature the last hour that your roast is being readied for the buffet's display.

Savory Baked Cauliflower

2 packages frozen cauliflower
2 teaspoons salt
3 medium tomatoes, peeled and sliced, or 1 1-pound can tomatoes
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dried basil leaves
⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ cup bread crumbs

Prepare greased 2-quart casserole (oblong shape with cover is preferred). Turn frozen cauliflower into casserole (in a single layer with packages side-by-side if casserole shape permits). Sprinkle cauliflower with 1 teaspoon salt. Top the cauliflower with tomatoes and sprinkle them with a second teaspoon of salt, the pepper, and the basil leaves.

Cover and bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Meanwhile, melt buter or margarine and mix with bread crumbs. Take casserole from oven and remove cover. Sprinkle crumbs over and return to oven, uncovered, an additional 30 minutes for continued cooking and browning. Total cooking time is one hour. Serves six.

Spicy Spareribs Cut Into Bits for Finger Food

Finger Spareribs

3 pounds spareribs racks
¼ cup dark molasses
¼ cup prepared mustard
3 tablespoons garlic-flavored wine vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon tobasco sauce
¼ teaspoon brown bottled gravy sauce

Have meatman cut spareribs racks lengthwise into strips that are 2 inches wide. With kitchen scissors, cut rack strips into individual ribs. Place ribs in shallow roasting pan.

Mix molasses and mustard thoroughly; stir in vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, paprika, tabasco sauce and brown gravy sauce. Spread spareribs with sauce. Roast in a moderate (350 degrees oven, spreading ribs often with sauce for 1½ hours.

Drain on paper towels or brown paper and serve in chafing dish or other container that can be kept hot. Makes 12 servings. Note: These may be prepared ahead, wrapped in aluminum foil and frozen or refrigerated until ready to use. To reheat, place foil wrapped package in shallow pan; open foil. Brush with additional sauce. If frozen, spareribs will need 1 hour at 325 degrees; if refrigerated, reheat for 35 to 40 minutes at 325 degrees.

Lamb Filling Varies Sandwich Menu

Sandwiches are, of course, the standby for lunchboxes, but the spreads and fillings can be varied greatly to avoid monotony. Chopped lamb, carrots and Swiss cheese mixed with mayonnaise and chili sauce are a delicious sandwich combination. It's an idea to try when there may be some lamb roast from a previous meal in the refrigerator.

Lamb Sandwich Spread

1½ cups finely chopped cooked lamb
½ cup grated carrot
1 cup grated process Swiss cheese (about ¼ pound)
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon onion salt
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
Buttered bread slices

Combine lamb, carrot, cheese, mayonnaise, chili sauce and seasonings; mix well. Spread on bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 2 cups.

Simmer Chops With Kraut, Apple Wedges

Hearty main course from the top of the range.

Pork Chops With Kraut And Apple

4 rib pork chops (1 inch thick)
1 can (1 pound and 3 ounces) sauerkraut
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
¼ cup dry sherry
Salt, pepper
1 apple (cored and quartered but left unpeeled)

Trim most of fat away from edge of chops. Melt a small piece of the fat in a 12-inch skillet; brown chops on both sides; hold chops with fork or stand around sides of skillet and brown edges.

Meanwhile drain sauerkraut, reserving liquid; mix drained kraut with sugar and sherry. Remove chops from skillet; pour off fat; sprinkle chops with salt and pepper and return to skillet. Spoon kraut mixture around chops; top with apple.

Cover tightly and simmer until tender — 30 minutes or longer — adding a few tablespoons at a time of the kraut juice as needed. Mak 4 servings.

Hearty Main Dishes Tempt Fall Appetites

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Open the door of almost any Pontiac area home at this time of year and what do you find? Dad comes in from the garage, shaking drops of fall rain from his hat, glad to be in out of the chilly night. The children are watching Popeye on television. They have spent the hours after school playing football, rolling in the leaves or perhaps hoola-hooping.

Mom has done the hundred and one jobs any woman faces during the day. Maybe she walked to the store or got in a bit of late garden work.

Everyone is hungry. What are they going to have for dinner?

Gone is the casualness of summer meals. The barbecue is stored away until spring and once again the kitchen stove and oven come into their own.

Hearty main dishes for cool weather eating are on today's agenda. Let's start with a loin of pork.

If the family just loved barbecued pork from the grill, they'll enjoy this roast pork basted with barbecue sauce. Onion soup mix gives the dish a new flavor.

Barbecued Loin of Pork

4 to 5 pounds loin of pork
Salt and pepper
1 recipe Barbecue Sauce

Rub roast with salt and pepper. Place on an open rack, fat side up. Bake at 325 degrees, basting frequently with barbecue sauce until meat is tender. Makes 8-10 servings.

Barbecue Sauce

¾ cup water
¼ cup vinegar
3 tablespoons Onion Soup Mix
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 thick slice lemon
¼ cup butter
½ cup catsup

Combine water, vinegar and Onion Soup Mix (just as it comes from the package). Stir in remaining ingredients, except catsup. Heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir in catsup. Makes 1 pint of sauce.

This time it's Friday night and you just have to serve something different. The children had tuna-noodle casserole at school and your husband hates fish. Try this different loaf that stars—of all things—crumbled potato chips.

Potato Chip Nut Loaf

1 cup cooked tomatoes
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup cooked diced carrots
½ cup chopped nut meats
3 tablespoons chopped onion
½ cup milk
2 cups crumbled potato chips (about one 7-ounce bag)
2 eggs beaten
1 basil leaf
Freshly ground pepper
Pinch of thyme or savoury

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Turn into well buttered loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. May be served sliced cold, or hot with a tomato or cheese sauce.

Hamburgers are good to fall back on; we do it ever so often at our house. But there are so many ways of using ground beef that we really should try some of them, like this Strogonoff recipe.

(We'll let you in on a little secret: If you shy away from using sour cream because of the calories therein, substitute yogurt. We have used it in Strogonoff with good results.)

Hamburger Strogonoff

2 pounds ground beef
½ cup butter
2 4-oz. cans sliced mushrooms, drained
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup flour
½ cup chili sauce
1½ cups dairy sour cream

Brown ground beef in half of the butter. Add remaining butter, mushrooms, onion, garlic, salt and pepper; saute until onions are tender. Add worcestershire sauce. Stir in flour, then chili sauce. Just before serving, blend in sour cream. Serve hot over noodles or spaghetti.

The night you dash in just half an hour ahead of the dinner hour you can whip up this meat and fruit combination in jig time.

Chopped Ham with Spicy Apricots

12-ounce can chopped ham
16 apricot halves
½ cup apricot juice
1 teaspoon cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon

Cut chopped ham into 8 slices and place in a large skillet. Top each slice of meat with 2 apricot halves. Combine juice, cornstarch, cloves and cinnamon. Pour sauce over meat and fruit. Simmer over low heat for 10 minutes. Serve the hot chopped ham slices topped with apricots and the spicy sauce. Serves 4-6.

Olives and Scallions Dress Up Cabbage

Good Slaw

2 cups firmly-packed thin strands-green cabbage (use sharp knife for shredding)
10 black olives
1 large carrot (pared and grated medium-fine
1 scallion (chopped with most of green part)
⅓ cup old-fashioned boiled dressing
Salt, pepper, romaine
Paprika

Turn cabbage into a mixing bowl. Cut olive pulp from pits so it is in attractive lengthwise slivers; add to cabbage with grated carrot, chopped scallion, salad dressing and salt and pepper to taste. Serve on romaine; sprinkle with paprika. Makes 4 servings.

There Are Ways to Cut Down on Food Costs

These suggestions for cutting food costs are for anyone concerned about the high cost of feeding a family.

1. Buy large sizes of products you use frequently such as peanut butter, mayonnaise, oil, cereal, jelly and syrup.

2. Compare the price of chain store products with competitive brands and when comparing prices, compare the weights as well.

3. Read the ads and rely on specials and in-season food. Buy extra for freezing, if practical.

4. Instead of spending extra for ready-prepared products such as French type dressings and spaghetti sauce, try making your own.

Delicate Cookies Call for Special Chocolate

How irresistible they are, those squares and rounds of delectable sweetness we call cookies — so temptingly at hand, so easy to eat! And when they are as pretty and as deliciously crisp as these German's Chocolate Dew Drops, with their gaily decorative peaks of meringue, we defy anyone to resist them.

But these are not the ordinary run of chocolate cookies. Their delicate flavor is out of the ordinary because they are made with a unique sweet cooking chocolate called German's. This, incidentally, is an American product.

The formula was the work of Samuel German, an Englishman who came to this country in the latter part of the last century as coachman to the head of a chocolate processing plant. Eventually—just how is lost to history—Sam German entered his employer's business and in 1882 invented the product that still bears his name.

German's Chocolate Dew Drops

½ package (8 squares) sweet cooking chocolate
1½ cup finely ground walnuts
¾ cup sugar
1 egg yolk
1 whole egg
1 egg white
½ cup confectioners' sugar

Melt chocolate over hot water and stir until smooth. Combine ground walnuts, sugar, egg yolk and egg. Mix in melted chocolate. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Flatten with fork.

Beat egg white until soft peaks are formed, then gradually add sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Top each cooky with a dab of meringue. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Makes 2 to 2½ dozen cookies.

Puff Up Sweet Potatoes

Here's an ego-puffer for the cook of the clan: Whip 4 to 5 sweet potatoes with butter or margarine, salt, pepper and a dash of nutmeg to taste. Beat in 2 egg yolks and then add enough crushed corn flakes (about ½ cup) to shape mixture into puffs. Roll in more crushed corn flakes. Fry in butter or margarine until browned or bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

How wonderful!..

Ivory Liquid
DETERGENT

This is new, you'll say, completely new . . . and you'll be right! This creamy white liquid is entirely different from any other detergent. It'll win your heart with the very first dish you do, especially when you see the rich, long-lasting suds it makes . . . feel their mildness against your skin . . . and see how easily Ivory Liquid cleans even "problem" dishes—grease goes without a trace! Then comes the most wonderful part of all—it actually can leave your hands feeling soft as your face! Try it soon—the only detergent with the famous Ivory name for mildness.

Halloween Treats for All Tastes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Have you decided what you're going to make in the way of special Halloween food for tomorrow night? You probably have small goodies ready to pass out to the goblins. But if you are entertaining, you will want other food.

When you want to give the children something sweet and yet nutritious, make Orange Chiffon Squares. These are a Turkish Delight type of confection which may be cut in the shape of pumpkins, if desired.

Orange Chiffon Squares

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold orange juice
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons corn syrup
¾ cup orange juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup flaked coconut
½ cup cold water
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Red and yellow food color
Flaked coconut or orange sugar

Sprinkle gelatin on ½ cup cold orange juice in large mixing bowl. Combine sugar, syrup and ¾ cup orange juice in 2-quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until syrup reaches rolling boil. Boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat.

Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add cinnamon and coconut. Cool at room temperature to consistency of thick syrup (45 to 60 minutes). Stir occasionally.

Pour ½ cup ice water into mixing bowl. Add instant milk crystals and whip until soft peaks form (3 - 4 min.). Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff (about 3 - 4 minutes). Using same beater, beat into gelatin mixture. Blend until mixture is smooth. Tint with few drops of food coloring.

Pour into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill 1 hour. Cut into 49 pieces or pumpkin shapes. Roll in orange-colored sugar or coconut.

Cookies are always welcome. Spicy molasses cookies like those Grandma used to make will go well with cider. These may be decorated with confectioners sugar icing as befits the occasion.

Soft Molasses Cookies

1 cup vegetable shortening
3 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup molasses
2 eggs unbeaten
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons soda
½ cup sour milk

Combine shortening, spices, salt, brown sugar, molasses and eggs and beat thoroughly. Sift flour with soda. Add to first mixture. Add sour milk and mix well. Chill dough overnight. Turn out on floured board. Roll ¼ inch thick. Cut with large cookie cutter. Place on greased baking sheets.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 8-10 minutes. Decorate some of the cookies with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes about 3½ dozen 3-inch cookies.

While we are on the subject of Halloween food, let me make my annual plea. PLEASE WRAP ALL FOOD YOU HAND OUT AT THE DOOR. Sure, it takes time and costs a little. But isn't it worth it?

Adults who may be coming to your house for a Halloween party will like cheese-flavored popcorn. Making your own is more economical than buying it.

To serve a large group, make up a batch of plain popped corn ahead of time. Heat small amounts in a 350-degree oven for a few minutes and sprinkle with melted butter and cheese just before serving.

Quick Cheese Popcorn

2 quarts hot popped corn
¼ cup melted butter
¾ cup grated American or Parmesan cheese (vary the amount to suit your taste)
Salt to taste

Turn hot popcorn into large mixing bowl. Drizzle butter over corn season with salt. Mix well. Sprinkle grated cheese over corn and mix. Serve at once!

A heavy skin and mealiness are requisites of potatoes used for baking.

Scoop Out Squash for Sweet Stuff

Wash 3 acorn squash. Cut through the center crosswise and scoop out the seeds and fiber. Pour about 1½ inches of hot water in a large kettle. Put in squash, cover tightly and steam for 20 minutes or until just tender. Remove squash from kettle, invert to drain.

Arrange halves in shallow baking dish. Spread each half with ½ tablespoon butter or margarine, pour on about 1 tablespoon dark corn syrup and sprinkle with salt, pepper and nutmeg.

Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until squash is lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Let Cheese Warm Up

Cheese should be served at room temperature? To enjoy the full rich flavor of cheese, remove it from the refrigerator about ½ hour before serving time.

Pecan Crunch Dessert

Cover and cook 1½ cups uncooked white rice and 2¼ cups of milk over a very low heat, until the milk is absorbed, about 45 minutes. Stir occasionally. Do not boil. Stir in ⅓ cup granulated sugar and 1½ teaspoons vanilla. Divide into 6 equal portions. Cool. Cover and chill. Roll into balls with hands moistened. Roll balls in chopped pecans. Cover well. Store in the refrigerator. Serve with a hot chocolate sauce.

ROMAN BLEACH is

Two Cheeses Blend With Pork

Every homemaker has days when meal preparation seems an effort. At such times, quickly made, top-of-the-range dishes are most welcome. Some utilize leftovers, others start with fresh ingredients; but their universal attraction for the cook is the speed and ease with which they can be made.

One-dish skillet casseroles are among the favorite "quick and easys." Creole Skillet Supper combines ground pork and tomatoes; cream cheese and blue cheese are stirred into this mixture to give the dish rich body and unusual flavor. It's delicious served over crisp French fried noodles.

Creole Skillet Dinner

1½ pounds ground pork
¼ cup chopped (1 medium) onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, room temperature
1 No. 303 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon celery salt
1 1-oz. package Blue cheese, crumbled

Brown pork and onions in skillet over moderate heat. Add green pepper. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender. Add cream cheese and stir until mixture is smooth. Mix in remaining ingredients. Cover. Simmer 15 minutes. Serve on heated crisp French fried noodles or buttered seasoned rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

GOBLIN TREATS — Hang a Friendly Goblin on your front door on Halloween night. He's made of tasty bite-size shredded rice biscuits, nuts, and marshmallow creme hung on a coat hanger frame.

Hang a Friendly Goblin on the Door for Ghosts

The Friendly Goblin will be glad to greet your favorite trick or treaters Friday night. If, unfortunately, you are unable to do the honors yourself, they will know you haven't forgotten them. On the other hand, even though you're home, your house will be extra special if you have treats to meet them at the door.

The Goblin Treats don't even have to be cooked and have a delightful flavor. You'll probably have to guard against trick or treaters in your own family before you even get the Friendly Goblin ready to greet his public. Heat marshmallow creme and margarine together until thick and syrupy. Then pour over bite-size shredded rice biscuits and nuts and mix together.

Shape into balls and wrap in saran or cellophane and tie with strings. To make chocolate Goblin Treats, flavor with chocolate bits.

Now, tie the Treats onto the orange circle and tape a picture of the sauciest goblin that you can draw onto the back of the circle. Past training in making jack-o-lanterns will stand you in good stead here. Tie a pair of children's scissors on the top of the ring, and here's as friendly a goblin as you'll ever hope to meet.

He's fun for anyone to make, but the kindergarten set will have an especially fine morning with him.

Goblin Treats

½ cup margarine or butter
1 pint marshmallow creme
½ teaspoon vanilla
6 cups (6-oz. package) bite-size shredded rice biscuits
½ cup chopped peanuts

Heat margarine and marshmallow creme over hot water until thin and syrupy. Stir occasionally. Add vanilla. Beat thoroughly. Put cereal and peanuts into a large greased bowl. Pour on marshmallow mixture. Stir briskly until bite-size biscuits are well coated. Let stand 5 minutes before shaping into balls. Wrap and tie on wreath. Yield: 18 2-inch balls.

Variation: Dissolve 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits in marshmallow mixture before pouring over cereal.

Directions for Making Wreath

Bend a wire coat hanger into a circle. Wrap hanger with tissue paper. Padding should be about 2 inches in diameter. Fasten with tape wherever needed. Cover padding with orange crepe paper. Using 8-9 inch pieces of string, tie balls on to wreath. Form two rows of balls. Fill center space with a picture or cutout of a jack-o-Lantern. Attach a plastic scissors and a bow.

Note: For a 13-inch wreath, about 36 balls (2 recipes) are needed.

Mystery Banana Teases Youngsters' Fancy

Peel banana and scrape off any "strings" with a case knife. Slice the banana in half lengthwise. Spread room temperature peanut butter over one cut surface; press the other half of the banana firmly over the peanut butter.

Now cut crosswise in slices thick enough for youngsters to pick up and eat out of hand. Small fry usually think the striped effect is mysterious; will want to make a mystery banana by themselves.

Curried Shrimp Company Fare

When your company dinner calls for something unusual, here's a recipe that will answer your question of what to serve. It's easy to prepare, and so easy to serve that you can let the guests help themselves. Serve the shrimp in one platter, and the rice in another, and let the guests dig in.

Lemon-Shrimp a la India

1 small onion, chopped
½ teaspoon curry powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
3 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 pound jumbo shrimps, cooked and cleaned

In skillet, saute onion and curry powder in butter until onion is tender. Stir in soup, water, bottled lemon juice and shrimp. Cook over low heat about 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Serve over rice. Makes 4 servings.

Instant Onion Is Great Tear Saver

Onion Burgers

1 pound ground lean beef
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons instant onion
2 tablespoons milk
1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Sprinkle beef with salt, pepper and onion. Add milk and mix lightly. Shape into 4 patties. Heat butter in heavy skillet until very hot. Add hamburgers and brown rapidly on both sides over high heat; reduce heat and cook to desired doneness. Makes 4 servings.

Meat Balls Made With Ground Veal

A pleasant meat dish you may not have tried lately.

Veal Meatballs

1 egg
1 tablespoon cold water
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 pound ground veal
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons peanut oil
2 tablespoons olive oil
¼ cup water

In a medium-sized mixing bowl, beat egg and 1 tablespoon water enough to combine yolk and white. Mix in salt, pepper, grated lemon rind, lemon juice, paprika and nutmeg. Add veal and work together well with a fork.

Taking up 1 tablespoon of the mixture at a time, shape into small balls and roll in flour. Heat oils in 10-inch skillet; add veal and brown thoroughly, by this time the meat should be cooked through.

Remove meat to serving platter; add ¼ cup water to skillet; stir over low heat with a wooden spoon to get up drippings and bring to a simmer; pour over meat. Makes 4 small servings.

Put Insulation in Grill

Placing a layer of vermiculite in the bottom of an outdoor grill is recommended. The material will soak up meat drippings and help prevent blazing flareups while food is being cooked.

Fall Pork Prices Continue Downward

What could sound better than the flavor combination of pork and apples? If you like the sound, let these foods have priority on your shopping list suggests the Marketing Information Agent. This is the season when supplies are large and prices low.

Prices for fresh and cured pork are expected to gradually drop until they reach their seasonal low late in November.

Several pork cuts hold the spotlight at the meat counter. If you like smoked ham, there are good values compared to prices of a month ago. Check to see whether the ham you buy is fully cooked or marked "ready-to-eat." If it is labeled ready-to-eat it really means it is ready to cook.

Consult your cook book or the instructions with your meat thermometer for the proper cooking temperature and the proper "doneness" temperature for ham. Fully cooked hams or cooked hams may be served without further cooking, but most people feel it is safer and everyone will agree that the flavor is improved if it is thoroughly heated all the way through before serving.

Ham slices, cut from the center of the ham, will serve three or four people per pound. For a small family, this can be a pork choice that takes little time and preparation fuss. You might use a glaze of orange or peach marmalade, honey or brown sugar mixed with a teaspoon of prepared mustard. Broil the ham slice on each side until brown, then spread with the topping you wish. Heat until just hot.

Pork cuts that you can find for 20 cents or less per serving this week include ham, Boston butt, rib-end loin roast, picnic, frankfurters, roll sausage.

When small goblins say "Trick or Treat" what will your treat be? It could be a bright polished apple that not only would taste good but would be good for the little goblins. You will find many store features on apples this week. Six to ten cents buys a pound of apples, and that is three medium-sized ones.

Have you tried grated apple added to muffins, waffles or pancakes? Apple slices fried in butter, margarine or sausage drippings until tender are a tastemate with pork roasts or sausage.

Baked apples, hot or cold, always hit the spot. Choose firm, well shaped apples for baking. Northern Spy, Jonathan, Wolf River and McIntosh rate a good to excellent source for baking. The Snow and Delicious are too soft, fall apart when baked.

Of course you will not stop with pork and apples. You need more for menu variety. Other meats that can be served at less than 20 cents a serving include liver, ground beef, tom turkey, stewing hen and lamb shoulder (which can be cut into chops or ground into patties). For about 25 cents a serving you might consider fryers, blade chuck roast of beef, veal or lamb leg. Perch is the economy buy in fresh fish.

Eggs are good protein food, with two large or three small eggs giving the same quota as a serving of meat. Market checks show small and medium sizes ranging from 30 to 37 cents a pound compared to large sizes at 39 to 43 cents a pound this week.

You will find more grapefruit at produce counters. Try it for flavor and don't expect it to be as sweet as it will be later in the season. You might want to compare cost of the fresh fruit with canned slices and juice. A 303 can will have about 2 cups (4 ½-cup servings); a 46-ounce can will yield 11 ½-cup servings.

You can have fresh vegetable variety at reasonable cost if you keep potatoes, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and squash and broccoli on the market list. Consider canned and frozen vegetables also. Most fresh vegetables serve from 3 to 5 people from a pound. Most canned vegetables come in the 303 size can which makes 3 or 4 servings, depending upon appetites. A 10-ounce frozen package serves three people.

400 Leaders to Attend 'University of Scouting'

It'll be back to school tomorrow for more than 400 adult Boy Scout leaders of the Clinton Valley Council as they attend the "University of Scouting" at Pontiac's Madison Junior High School.

The all-day sessions, beginning at 8:30 a.m., will be conducted by 40 "professors" from units in sections from northern Oakland and Macomb counties.

Courses will include cubbing, boy scouting, exploring and commissioner work.

Scout Executive Edward H. Leland said, "The University of Scouting brings together the council's top instructors, enables several normal course periods to be held in a single day and provides fellowship during the luncheon break from the agenda-packed sessions."

"Diploma" certificates will be presented to those attending the courses.

The event was held for the first time last year, drawing 200 leaders. This Saturday's program is more complete than last year, Leland said.

A large attendance is expected at the exploring sessions where the all-new national program for exploring will be outlined, dramatized and made real to the council's explorer advisers and post committeemen.

Chief course "professors" will be Kirk Francis of Drayton Plains, cubbing; Harvey Beach of Lake Orion, boy scouting; William Genette of Milford, exploring; Kenneth Velzy of Drayton Plains, sea exploring; and Kenneth Sanderson of Westacres, commissioner work.

Other training leaders from this area will be James Card, L. G. McKinney, Glenn Lackey, Mrs. Grace Jenks, Farris Stevens, Fred Roe, Gilbert Pierce, Dave Springer and John Fitzgerald of Pontiac;

George McMichael of Waterford; Bud Weber of Drayton Plains; Roy Kibby of Auburn Heights; John Tyson of Rochester; Charles Shull of Walnut Lake; James Montgomery of Walled Lake; Louis Gilson, William Barnum and Tom Blattert of Farmington; Reo Brink of Milford; Dave Vogt of Romeo; Mrs. Olive Sage of Oxford; and John Wings of Lake Orion.

Others are from Mt. Clemens and New Baltimore.

MRS. GEORGE R. SCHUCHARD

Delores Hill Wed in Rite at Clarkston

CLARKSTON — New Hope Bible Church was the scene of the marriage Saturday evening of Delores Yvette Hill to George R. Schuchard. Performing the candlelight rite was the Rev. Elden V. Mudge.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hill of Ocalla street, Warren. Parents of the bridegroom are the George A. Schuchards of North Woodward avenue, Royal Oak.

The bride chose for her wedding a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over white satin. Her fingertip veil was secured by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried an orchid on a small white Bible.

Matron of honor and bridesmaid were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Betty Clemens of Warren and Mrs. Elden B. Mudge of Clarkston. Terry Lynn Mudge, niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

Gerald McGough of Detroit served as best man, and ushers were Ray Phillips of Knoxville, Tenn., and Ray Clemens of Madison Heights.

The newlyweds are making their home at 27386 Brettonwood St., Madison Heights.

Halloween in Rochester

Flares Open Festivities

ROCHESTER—More than 2,000 flares will be lighted at 7 p.m. tomorrow, opening Halloween night festivities for Rochester and Avon Township school children.

Some $1,100 worth of flares have been sold by the Rochester Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring Halloween parties for youngsters throughout the area.

The sounding of fire sirens will be the cue for residents to light up.

Dances at both the Rochester senior and junior highs will be held from 9 to 12 midnight, with music provided by bands furnished by the Kiwanis Club, according to Cyril Borst and Roger Weymouth, Kiwanis cochairmen.

Twelve couples are being supplied by the Kiwanians to act as hosts and hostesses at the parties.

Elementary schools throughout the district will have their parties in the afternoon, with treats by the Kiwanis Club.

The Brooklands Exchange Club is sponsoring similar Halloween festivities for the Brooklands and German Lutheran schools.

Lane Named in Plague

BRISTOL, England—Bristol has a lane called Pitch and Pay, which it's said to have got its name in the 17th Century when the city was plague-stricken. Country people, afraid to carry their produce through the infected streets, "pitched" (deposited) their milk, cheese, and butter at the top of the lane, then waited at a safe distance till the residents collected the food and left their money.

Newlyweds Plan to Reside in Pontiac

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Upon return from their honeymoon in Northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Larry L. Ott will make their home in Pontiac. They were married Saturday evening at Christ Lutheran Church.

The former Ruthann Burt, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burt of 3800 Austinwood Ct. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ott of 4376 Island Park Dr.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Ott chose a gown of white Chantilly lace with a chapel sweep train. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of French lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of carnations and white roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Judy. Bridesmaids were the bride's cousins, Carolyn Proksch of Marion, Ind., and Cheryl Kay Geulke of Pontiac; and Anna Garnett of Pontiac.

James Taulbe of Drayton Plains was the best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Robert of Waterford, James Lang of Holly and Roger Ferguson of Pontiac, cousin of the bridegroom.

The reception was held at the VFW Hall on Walton boulevard.

Romeo PTA to Meet Teachers, Pick Officers

ROMEO — Election of officers and introduction of teachers will highlight tonight's meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization at Romeo Community High School.

The session will be held in the school cafeteria at 8 p.m.

Donald Giese, former high school teacher, will be the featured speaker. He now is a representative of the Michigan Education Assn.

PFC. AND MRS. RONALD S. BENOIT

Lutheran Candlelight Rite Joins Couple in Waterford

WILLIAMS LAKE — In candlelight service Friday evening at Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford, Sally Jo Peterson became the bride of Pfc. Ronald S. Benoit. The rite was performed by the Rev. Arvid Anderson.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson of 2349 Ellery St., Williams Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Benoit of Climax, Mich.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Benoit chose a white, princess style gown, featuring a bouffant skirt which extended into a short train.

Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of lace and tulle trimmed with sequins. She carried a bouquet of fugi mums and ivy.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mary Jean and Dorothy and Barbara Boeneman, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Donald Knowles of Climax, while the ushers were Raymond Nickerson of Boise, Idaho, Norman Stahl from Minnesota and David Robinson and Charles Burgess, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

The newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac while the bridegroom is stationed at the Commerce Nike site. They are planning a November honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Dies of Earlier Injuries

DETROIT (AP)—Edward Ozga, 29, of Hamtramck, died Wednesday of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car Oct. 15.

JWILVA ESTELLE SCHLESSER

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schlesser of 201 College St., Holly, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter JWilva Estelle, to Norman B. Inman. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman E. Inman of Fenton. The wedding will take place Nov. 22 at the First Baptist Church in Holly.

Parade Begins at 1 P.M.

Orion Goblins Starting Early

ORION TOWNSHIP — Little Halloween elves and goblins will get an early start here tomorrow.

Beginning at 1 p.m., some 800 pupils of the Blanche Sims Elementary School will march to the village business district, some five blocks away, in their annual afternoon Halloween parade.

Children at Proper, Carpenter and Webber schools will hold parties in the home-rooms during the afternoon.

There will be a supervised neighborhood trick or treat period from 6 to 7 p.m. Parties will follow.

The Gingellville Community Club will sponsor a party at the Gingellville Center from 7 to 9 p.m. for children 13 years of age and under. Prizes will be awarded for costumes, and refreshments will be served.

At 7 p.m., the Lake Orion Rotary Club will hold a parade for costumed youngsters, led by the Lake Orion Community High School Band.

Prizes, cider and doughnuts will complete the evening, according to Richard Young, chairman.

To Air Southfield Progress as City

Officials to Take Part in Symposium Planned by PTA Council

SOUTHFIELD—Leading officials of the new City of Southfield will take part in a symposium entitled "Progress in Our Local Government," being sponsored next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Southfield High School by the Southfield Area PTA Council.

The discussion panel will feature Mayor Donald L. Swanson, City Administrator Eugene M. Swem; Police Chief Philip J. LaVigne and Councilwoman Mrs. Jean McDonnell.

Moderator will be Municipal Justice Clarence Reid, who is vice president of the Southfield Area PTA Council.

The program is designed to inform residents of the several changes and progress that has taken place in the government of the young city since its incorporation last April.

Miss Margar Garrow, Oakland County public health nurse, will introduce Mrs. Ruth Barkey, who has been appointed by the County Health Service to assist Miss Garrow in Southfield.

They will discuss briefly the health program in the Southfield School District, including the proposed fluoride teeth treatments.

GLORIA OLIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Oliver of 32 East St., Oxford, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gloria, to Thomas M. Angeli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Angeli of 553 Central Dr., Lake Orion. A January wedding is being planned.

She Climbs Tree for Dems, Lands in the Hospital

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Bernice Ashmore, 54-year-old Democratic party worker, tried to climb a tree to do a good turn for the party and wound up in a hospital.

She took on the chore of providing table decorations for a Democratic rally Wednesday night.

She had no trouble providing leaves, red berries and wild corn for table decorations. But in trying to get some persimmons, she fell out of a tree and suffered three broken ribs and a punctured lung.

She is reported resting comfortably.

The Same Fine Flour in a Bright New Bag!

Dem Luncheon in City Honors Gov. Williams

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was guest of honor at a luncheon Wednesday at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. Sponsors of the luncheon were members of the Oakland County Federation of Democratic Women. Mrs. Robert P. Scott (right), president of the federation, and Mrs. Clark J. Adams are pictured with the governor.

Pontiac Press Photos

Among the special guests introduced at Wednesday's Democratic luncheon were (left to right) Leslie H. Hudson, candidate for U. S. House of Representatives; Mrs. Philip A. Hart, and Sen. John B. Swainson, candidate for lieutenant governor.

More than 500 gathered between noon and 2 p.m. to greet the governor at Wednesday's Democratic rally. Early arrivals were Mrs. Louis Golden (left), Mrs. Irene Murphy, and Frank S. Szymanski, auditor general, a candidate seeking re-election.

It Really Did Not Matter

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a friend's house for dinner the other evening. We thought we would be the only guests present, but when we arrived we found that she had invited three other couples. Shouldn't she have told us there would be others present? I certainly would have dressed differently had I known it was to be a 'party.'"

Answer: While there was no requirement that your friend do more than invite you to dinner on a certain day and hour, it would have been more considerate of her to have told you, "I am inviting the Browns, Smiths and Joneses too" or "We will be eight or ten."

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I became engaged to my husband, his relatives and family friends invited us to their houses, usually to meals. Now that we're married, am I supposed to invite all these different ones to our house — to meals?"

Answer: Your return hospitality is not an obligation. Nevertheless, it would be as friendly of you now, as it was of them, to invite them to your house if, and when, you can.

"Perhaps you could manage a buffet lunch or supper and ask several familes at once. Remember that people love to be invited to the houses of young people and are not at all critical of what is provided.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to sign one's name to a note or greeting card simply as Helen S? Does it have any special significance? I was told it implies that the signer wishes to be called, or addressed, by her given name. Is this correct?"

Answer: There is no special significance attached to the signature Helen S. A note to an intimate friend would be signed Helen, or if there is any doubt as to which Helen it is, the signature should be Helen Smith.

Bloomfield Hills News:

Cranbrook Set for Game

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Cranbrook School students are looking forward to a big weekend when the University School of Cleveland will be their rivals Saturday at both a soccer and a football game. Homecoming festivities and a dance Saturday evening will top the festivities.

Members of the three dormitories — Marquis, Page and Stevens — the opposing school athletic teams, Cranes and Tower, and the lower school, are spending every spare moment erecting suitable artistic displays, as collegians do, and vying for the prize to be awarded at half-time Saturday at the football game. Kingswood girls will be guests at a dance Saturday evening for the Cleveland visitors.

Planning far ahead — to Feb. 7 — is a committee headed by Mrs. John B. Hammond and Mrs. Everell E. Fisher for a benefit for St. Elizabeth Home for the Aged, Briarbank.

Already engaged for that date is the ballroom of the Statler Hilton Hotel, Detroit, and it will be a white tie affair.

Assisting are Mrs. James Q. Goudie, Mrs. John MacManus, Mrs. Charles Kleinschmidt and many others.

Mrs. Robert L. Biggers was hostess at a tea Tuesday for her neighbor, Mrs. H. J. Muller. The tea was given in the Biggers' home on Lakewood drive home.

The Robert W. Scripps family has moved in from Orion where they spent the summer months at "Young Eden Farm" and are settled for the winter at their home on Glenhurst drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren G. Keenan of Alameda, Calif., announce the birth of a daughter, Jody Lynn, Oct. 1. Mrs. Keenan is the former Lynn Romney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Romney of Rathmor road.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Matthews, Scott, Susie and Laura, will give a Halloween supper party Friday evening at their Kirkway drive home. They plan to take their little guests "begging" after their early supper.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Llewellyn, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen E. Selby and Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeRango will be hosts at dinner in the DeRango home on Blossom lane.

Guests will include neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Wiegand, Mr. and Mrs. W. Carl Layman, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wintringham, Mr. and Mrs. Willis W. Van Wey, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scherer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hellers, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Miles and the J. O. Murphys.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Newburg are planning two dinner parties for Nov. 7 and Nov. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jordan invited guests to a "50 yard line" party last Sunday afternoon to watch the Lions-Rams game in their home on Pembroke drive.

Baldwin School Recreation Courses Set

An adult recreation program sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department is being held from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock every Monday and Wednesday evening at Baldwin School.

Among courses featured is a course in cake decoration to be held every Monday for the next seven weeks.

Also included are women's gymnasium classes held Monday evenings and gymnasium classes for men every Wednesday evening.

Four Attend Detroit Meeting

Mrs. E. V. Howlett, Mrs. E. G. Clark, Mrs. Lee Dunlap and Mrs. Ray E. Falk attended the annual meeting and luncheon of the Michigan Chapter, National Society of Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America. The affair was held Tuesday at the Women's City Club, Detroit.

Guest speaker was Glenn Stille, curator of Fort Wayne Military Museum, who discussed the War of 1812 as fought in the Detroit area.

Speakers Club Meets in Pontiac

Pontiac Toastmistress Club met Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron with Mrs. George Gaches presiding over the evening's program. Mrs. John H. Eddy was introduced as a new member.

Gwen Polk presented the table topic subject, and the award was won by Helen Lapisch.

Main speakers were Mrs. Robert Bunce who spoke on "Autumn Soliloquies" and Gertrude Foley, whose topic was "Autumn Mysteries." Speech critics were Mrs. Charles S. Chandler and Helen Lapisch.

Mrs. Clayton Rule was grammarian and chief evaluator of the program. Mrs. Mable Group was a guest.

Mrs. Eddy gave the invocation, and the meeting was closed with a Carl Sandburg quotation by Evelyn Cole.

Gerald White Speaker for Study Club

Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education for the Pontiac schools, spoke at the Tuesday meeting of Child Study Club, Group Three. The meeting was held at the Ottawa drive home of Mrs. Hart Morris.

Mr. White discussed the elementary school program, giving emphasis to reading and arithmetic. A question-and-answer session followed the talk.

Mrs. Harry McGrath, Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson, Mrs. E. E. Elder Jr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers assisted the hostess.

Here's Reason Why It 'Hurts'

Ever wonder why fur coats are so expensive? Oe reason is "dropping" or "letting out." The pelts are lengthened by cutting them in narrow diagonal strips.

Then they are arranged in step fashion. One or more mink pelts, for example, may be dropped the entire length of the garment. This gives a narrow line to the skin and fur marking.

Dear Abby . . .

Navy Man, 96 Years Young, Still Can Spot Code Signals

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My neighbor across the court is a sly one and she thinks she is getting away with something. She can fool her husband but she can't fool me. When she leaves her window shades half-up, that means, 'THE COAST IS CLEAR.' When she hangs something upside down on the clothesline it means, 'NOT TONIGHT.' It took me two years to figure this out. I am 96 and if I could see this in print, I would die a happy man."

ABBY

"HAPPY" (U.S. Navy, Retired)

DEAR "HAPPY"—Happy?

"DEAR ABBY: I am a widow aged 44 and am about to marry a man 48 years old. I have a married daughter and a son in service and I don't want to start another family. This man says I have nothing to worry about as he had a bad case of mumps when he was 36. Tell me, do I have anything to worry about?"

GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Don't count on it. Ask your fiance to see a doctor. He will be able to answer your question after a simple laboratory test.

"DEAR ABBY: A very nice boy from school asked to take me to a show on Friday night. My folks said all right if I was home by midnight. We were going to double-date with another couple. The two boys picked me up first and when we went to get the other girl, she was not home.

"The three of us spent the whole evening driving around trying to get a date for the boy who got stood up. When I got home and told my parents we didn't go to a show they got mad and said, 'No more dates.' Do you think this was fair to me?"

JUDY

DEAR JUDY: No. Your parents should give you another chance because when you left the house you didn't know you were going to spend the evening any way other than you had planned. However next time, tell your date that you had permission only to go to a show and a last minute change of plans is out!

"DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married about six months. She handed me a bunch of bills for clothes she bought before we were married. Do you think I ought to pay them? She's a doll and I love her but I hate being . . ."

A SUCKER

DEAR SUCKER: That's like expecting the fish to pay for the bait he was caught with. If you love her—go ahead and pay them.

"DEAR ABBY: Get this. My husband laughed when I said I was going to write to you. In our three and a half years of a happy marriage we were blessed with three lovely babies. But three in 27 months! I am not asking for a medal or sympathy but, believe me, it's been awfully hard on me.

"My husband complains because the place is messy and there are diapers drying all over, (we live in a trailer) and he gives me the dickens because I don't cook his favorite dishes. How can I do anything but take care of these babies? I have nobody to help me. The worst part of it is I think I'm pregnant again."

WORN OUT

DEAR WORN: If it is not contrary to your religious principles, you should look up the Planned Parenthood organization in your directory. You do yourself, your husband and the little ones no favors by multiplying at this rate under these conditions.

State WCTU President to Take National Office

MRS. L. G. ROWLEY

Taking office Saturday as vice-president-at-large of National Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Evanston, Ill., will be Mrs. L. G. Rowley of Waterford. She has also been re-elected for her second term as president of Michigan WCTU.

Mrs. Rowley, the wife of Dr. L. G. Rowley, was elected to the National WCTU office at the organization's 84th annual convention held last month in Washington, D. C. Serving from her home, she is succeeding Mrs. C. V. Biddle of Knoxville, Tenn., who announced her retirement effective Saturday.

A former school teacher, Mrs. Rowley grew up in Iowa and is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Cable.

Both Mrs. Rowley and her husband are graduates of Simpson College, Indianola, Ia. After receiving her A.B. degree as an English major, she taught in Webster City and Boone, Iowa, high schools.

For six years, Mrs. Rowley served as general secretary of the Youth Temperance Council in Michigan. She then took a "narcotics education" course for teachers in Evanston and was National WCTU director of visual education for the WCTU for six years.

She has helped set up narcotic (alcohol) education exhibits for the National Education Association on various levels, and served on Michigan's superintendent of public instruction's committee of 14 to bring up to date the bulletin, "Education and Alcohol," used in state schools.

Mrs. Rowley also is active in the United Presbyterin Church, the Daughters of the American Revolution and PEO Sisterhood.

Halloween Dance Set at Moose Hall

Mrs. Floyd Yeaman, general chairman, and members of the Academy of Friendship, Women of the Moose Pontiac Chapter 360, are planning a Halloween dance to be held at 9 p.m. Friday at the Moose Hall on Mt. Clemens street.

Tickets for the affair will be sold at the door, and those attending have been invited to participate in costume competition.

An area orchestra and singer from Detroit will provide music for the dance.

Chapter 360, members also are planning a bazaar to open at 10 a.m. Nov. 8, at the Moose Hall. Mrs. Clifford Lynch, chairman of the ways and means committee, assisted by coworkers and committee chairmen of the chapter, are in charge of the event. Luncheon will be served all afternoon and evening.

Girl Scout Troop 84 Has Halloween Party

Girl Scouts of Troop 84 held a Halloween party Tuesday evening at the Giddings road home of Mrs. Eugene Hoisington. Mrs. Ray Hartung and Mrs. Anthony Stadler are leaders of the group.

Featured at the affair was a pumpkin centerpiece in which the Scouts placed a penny for each year of their age. The money will benefit the Juliet Low World Friendship Fund.

It's Time We Stopped Pushing Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The summer camp took girls as well as boys. Together they shared dances, swimming, some hiking, dramatics, campfire sings and religious services.

The mother who'd come to see me said, "When Lydia came home from this camp, I remember noticing she'd lost weight. But I thought it was all the outdoor exercise she'd been getting."

But anxiety, not outdoor exercise had caused Lydia's loss of weight.

Her mother discovered this just last week when a schoolmate sent Lydia a birthday party invitation. Lydia didn't want to go. Pressed for her reason, she burst into hysterical tears and sobbed, "I hate boys. There'll be boys at the party. I don't have a steady boy friend so it will be just like it was at camp when the girls in my cabin danced with their boy friends—and there wasn't a boy for me."

I said, "How old is Lydia?"

Her mother said, "Nine years old."

It seems a little young to have been forced into sexual competition. And to have experienced defeat.

The truth is, I have to control my temper when I think about Lydia. For to encourage people of her age to pit their sex appeal against each other is not only cruel but dangerous.

Why do we encourage this precocious game? We are not seeking husbands and wives for 9-year-olds. What then are we seeking?

Child contestants often appear on them. The preliminaries never vary. The smiling quiz master squats down beside some infant any age between three and 10 and says, "Have you got a girl friend, Billy? Why not? Don't you want one? Does your boy friend look like me, Sally? Oh, he's better looking, huh? Well, how about that, folks? Isn't she the little heart-breaker?"

Weekends Are Hazards to Dieters

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you would keep track of your calorie count for a few weeks, you might discover some revealing and helpful facts about why you have trouble keeping your ideal weight or why you seem to gain so easily.

For instance, you might find that you are consuming about one half of your entire calorie count for the week on weekends. Most of us eat more from Friday evenings to Monday morning than during any other two-and-a-half days.

This is natural. We go on weekend trips when good food is part of the fun. We have more time to enjoy good meals. This is the time for family gatherings and conviviality..

Perhaps your life is different, and the times of hazards for you are the two or three days when you play bridge or go to club meetings where soft drinks, candy, lush little sandwiches and cookies are the habit.

We should "give" somewhat and enjoy life at these times, but it is a wise woman who knows where the weak spots in her week are so that she can watch them and be a bit more conservative than has been her habit. She may eat sparsely all week. She may really believe that she eats very little, not realizing how many calories these special times give her.

When your diet is over and you begin adding butter or margarine to your vegetables, meats and bread, remember that you do not have to load it on! A very little bit of butter gives flavor to toast or an egg, and dotted lightly on vegetables, gives them flavor.

Here are Friday's Trick and Treat Diet Menus.

Breakfast
Three-fourths cup dry cereal
Four ounces whole milk
Two teaspoons sugar
One-half banana, sliced
Black coffee

Luncheon
Salad — 12, 5-inch asparagus spears, cut in pieces
Two hard cooked eggs and six green olives cut in pieces
Two or three tablespoons tomato reducing dressing
Two Rye Krisps
Eight ounces skim milk

Dinner
Four ounces of baked fish (brush with just a touch of Olive oil flavored with angostura bitters, plus a little lemon juice)
Two-thirds cup spinach (flavor this with a sprinkling of savory or vinegar)
One small potato, baked or boiled, with salt and parsley
Eight ounces skim milk
Apple Snow (See recipe at back of booklet)

If you would like to have my complete Trick and Treat Diet in a convenient little booklet so that you can repeat it when necessary, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

You may find that you are consuming about one half of your entire calorie count for the week on the weekend. The lady above is an example. Her husband is entertaining her by taking her out to dinner—but this can be devastating!

This subtly shaped princess dress is designed in silk faille. The wide flared skirt flows in a smooth unbroken line from the high waistline. The deep curved pockets are accented with bows and a string of buttons down the side.

Change for Better? May Be for Worse!

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman may waste a lot of effort if she tries to be the kind of wife she thinks her husband wants.

For instance, in England a bricklayer's 240-pound bride, going on the theory that if he loved her fat he'd love her even more if she were streamlined, dieted and exercised until she achieved a shapely figure.

Was her husband pleased? Not at all. He left her, saying he liked her plump.

I'm recounting this little story to stress the point that it isn't what a woman thinks her husband wants that counts. What really matters is what he wants.

The trouble is, most husbands aren't very articulate about the qualities that made them fall in love with the girls they married.

So a bright, gay, vivacious girl often turns into a drab, spit-and-polish housekeeper and serious-minded clubwoman because she doesn't realize that in trying to be what she considers a good wife she is giving up the qualities that her husband thought he was getting for keeps.

Or a companionable, ready-for-fun girl gets so absorbed in her home and her family that her husband, who thought he would always have an agreeable companion at his side, discovers that his wife never can take a business trip with him because she doesn't want to leave the children, and that she would much rather have new furniture for the living room than the vacation trip he has set his heart on.

This kind of misunderstanding on the part of wives about what their husbands expect from them and from marriage causes a great many husbands to feel that the women they are married to are not at all the same persons as the girls they married.

The moral for wives is clear. The fact that your husband married you proves he liked you pretty much as you were. So don't try so hard to be a perfect wife that you are no longer the girl he married.

What Young People Think:

Teenagers Have Strict Ideas on Petting

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Maybe we ought to relax a little on the question of teenage morals.

The thought occurred to me after scanning the returns from a national survey on kissing and petting. Looks to me as if the teeners often set themselves stiffer standards than their elders.

The 600 girls and 600 boys whom we questioned said that kissing and even necking is all right for those going steady—but most took a dim view of petting, even for steady sweethearts.

It's usually understood that necking is limited to caresses from the neck up, although there is considerable overlapping between that term and petting.

Only 11 per cent of the girls and 20 per cent of the boys questioned said that petting was all right for steadies. And only half the teeners would approve petting for engaged couples. Almost unanimously they were against anything more intimate than petting before marriage.

BOYS MORE LAX

As might be expected, boys take a more happy-go-lucky attitude than girls on some of these questions.

The majority of the boys joined with the girls in agreeing that a fellow ought not try to kiss a girl on the first date. But there were plenty of male dissenters.

"A girl can always refuse if she's not interested," shrugged Fred French of Brooklyn.

On petting, 16-year-old Bud Benedict of the Bronx spoke up for one-fourth of the boys when he approved petting for a boy going steady "when and if he can get away with it."

However, two-thirds of all the teeners questioned declared firmly that the same rules about necking and petting should apply to both boys and girls.

A boy is just as responsible for his behavior as a girl is for hers, said 17-year-old Robert Barkerding of New Orleans, adding practically:

"Without one, the other can't do very much necking or petting."

But about one-fourth of the teenagers used the time-honored argument that the double standard may be unfair, but the girl still has the most to lose by overstepping the bounds.

"A boy will try for as much as he thinks he can get, but it is up to the girl to stop," says 16-year-old Carolyn Goetz of Abington, Pa.

GIRLS STRICTER

Oddly enough, however, the survey indicated that boys are more tolerant of a girl's slip than the girls are prepared to be for the fellows.

All the boys said they would marry a girl who had kissed other boys, 98 per cent would marry a girl who has necked with other fellows. And —s urprisingly — 80 per cent would marry a girl who has petted with other boys and 54 per cent would marry a girl who has gone further than petting.

The girls were stricter. They all said they would marry a boy who had kissed other girls and 93 per cent would marry a lad who had necked a bit.

But only 63 per cent said they would marry a fellow who had petted with other girls and only half said they would marry a boy who had gone beyond petting.

Most apparently felt that their schoolmates pretty well agreed with them on these matters. In our survey, 89 per cent of the teeners said their friends held the same views.

NECKING COMMON

The survey showed, however, that while most teeners claim higher standards than some of the "scare" articles on juvenile delinquency might indicate, kissing and necking are pretty much a part of a youngster's social life today.

Only 18 per cent of the teeners said a boy shouldn't go any further than a good night kiss on a date.

Necking on dates was okayed by 65 per cent of the girls and 72 per cent of the boys, although most teeners added the proviso that the couple should "really like each other." Approval of necking rose to 75 per cent from both boys and girls for steady daters.

Chemistry Knowledge Aids Skin

There's one lesson in Freshman Chemistry that pays off in good looks. That's one which clears a teenager's troubled skin, gives her a three-step treatment for correcting the pH balance (potential of Hydrogen, if you're not a Chemistry Major) which permits creams and lotions to get through a chemical barrier.

What happens is that when you put your skin's acidity and alkalinity into proper balance (you can learn more about this in the Chemistry lab!), a corrective lotion can get through to do its work.

The treatment that will help Freshman Susy to put her best face forward in classrooms, at Saturday night gym dances and at Sunday afternoon tea consists of three simple skincare steps:

One is the use of cleanser. But with it you cleanse with a gentle foam to rid skin of oiliness and blackheads with no need of brutal scrubbing.

The second is the use of a lotion that unlocks the chemical barrier, restores the skin's proper balance, and makes it ready for the important third member of the trio.

The third, used consecutively, is a clear-up lotion, nicely tinted to match your skin color. It does its clear-up job so effectively that many dermatologists swear by it; tell their teenage patients to wear it under their make-up where it heals while the blemish is being safely concealed. Containing sulphur, calomine, zinc oxide, among other things, you don't need to be a Chemistry Major to recognize the blessed qualities of this skin lotion as a healing agent.

The Italian-American Club will hold a Halloween Dance from 9 to 1 o'clock Saturday evening at the AIC Hall on North Tilden street. Mrs. Donald Lucarelli (left) and Mrs. Richard Puertas prepare the hall for the festivities. The Woman's Auxiliary is in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Thomas Powers puts finishing touches on the decorations. Refreshments and pizza will be served. The public is invited and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Take to Heels With Vigorous Care for Cure

If your heels tend to get cracked and calloused, here's the ideal way to cure them fast.

Scrub them vigorously with a stiff complexion brush and thick soap lather to dislodge dead cuticle.

Then apply a good emollient and tie on a pair of the new little heelcaps, made of pink white flannel linings.

They fit like gloves and let the cream work while you sleep — without smearing your bed linens. And they can be laundered daily in soap or detergent suds to wash away the oily cream.

Bobbie Anderson was fez bearer and Lynn Anderson and Nancy Parsons were pages.

Hair Washing Tip

Many women shampoo their hair in the bathroom lavatory. As a result drains often clog. To curb this, place a small ball of steel wool over the drain opening to catch stray hairs and keep the pipes clear.

SPORTS

Melvindale Here Friday

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The physical fitness program of the Pontiac school system, primarily on the secondary level, is becoming unique in its own right. This is the feeling of Francis Staley, Pontiac Central principal.

"Our program which is being developed to encompass nearly 100 per cent of the student body, has been progressing wonderfully," said Staley, "we can offer fitness or recreational courses in everything from ping pong to bowling or weight lifting, and for every boy and girl, even those with different physical handicaps."

"It's not the case of wanting or not wanting to take part as in the past. Every student can participate in one of the various activities. Previously, students with medical excuses were left out of the program altogether. Now we discuss the case with the doctor if a physical defect or handicap exists and we arrange for a student to participate in one of the activities which may tend to strengthen or aid handicapped parts of the body."

"This program will also help our varsity teams," said Staley, "especially for 10th graders. Instructors and coaches are able to observe them in the fitness and recreational classes and see where their talents lie and subsequently steer them toward the varsity teams for which they may be best suited."

This may be the first season in many moons that the Michigan football stadium will fail to boast a full house, yet in college football attendance across the country Ohio State, averaging 83,000 per game, and Michigan, averaging 77,400, are the individual leaders.

Overall, college attendance has gone up 3.6 per cent. This is 7,944,105 fans for 322 games or an average of 24,671 per game.

Spartans Meet Rough Badgers in Homecoming

Conference Is Stronger This Year, Point Out MSU Coaches

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football coaches are saying that the Big Ten teams are tougher this year than any they remember.

The Spartans have been finding it rough — not a conference win so far on a record of a tie with Michigan and losses to Purdue and Illinois.

Wisconsin, after its 7-7 deadlock with Ohio State, looks equally dangerous.

To prove their point, the coaches point out what happened to the two opponents State has beaten, California and Pittsburgh.

California has been undefeated since and already is being mentioned as the West Coast Rose Bowl contender. Pittsburgh also has not lost another game and last week tied a strong Army team 14-14.

But there has been an air of quiet determination in the Spartan practice camp this week.

There have been no dramatics like the lineup shakeup of the week previous. But there has been a lot of concentration on installing new plays — coaches figure some are needed after the failure to score against Illinois.

Opponents also have proven they have the Michigan State attack pretty well scouted.

Dean Look, who practically carried the team on his back offensively last week, was running first string at left half although he has not been at top speed.

PCH 11 Meets New Opponent on Wisner Sod

Chiefs Shoot for Fifth Victory of Season in Non-League Action

By BILL CORNWELL

Melvindale High School, the next opponent on Pontiac Central's 1958 football schedule, wears that new look this year.

The suburban city on the southwest side of Detroit is new to the Class A ranks, new to the Huron-Rouge League and new to the Pontiac gridiron slate.

Central plays host to the Cardinals here Friday night in Wisner Stadium at 8 o'clock with the Chiefs pegged as favorites for the the last time this fall.

The Chiefs travel to Bay City next week and then finish their season at home on Nov. 14 against Flint Central and they will be decided underdogs in both Saginaw Valley Conference games.

Melvindale moved into the "A" division this year, dropped its affiliation with the Class B Twin-Valley League and joined the Huron-Rouge circuit.

The Cardinals are still a small Class A aggregation, but there is every indication that they will give a good account of themselves against PCH in the 1st grid meeting between the two schools.

Dale Sawicki, now in his 2nd year as head coach after serving six seasons as an assistant, has guided a team with only four returning regulars to three victories in six games.

The Cardinals have yet to show any sustained scoring punch, but their defense has always been steadfast and their three losses this fall were closely-contested scraps. All of their games smack strongly of defensive play.

Melvindale owns 14-6 triumphs over Allen Park and Ecorse and an 18-6 win over Thurston. Setbacks were at the hands of Edsel Ford, 14-7; Wayne, 14-0, and Lincoln Park, 13-6.

Only against Wayne were the Cardinals outplayed statistically. The Cards have outgunned everyone else to date in first downs and total yardage.

Sawicki's gridders rely mainly on a ground attack to make their yards and quarterback Ray Danyo, a 145-pound senior with a reputation for skill on the "belly" series, directs their slot-T offense.

In addition to being a clever faker and ball-handler, Danyo carries a 35 per cent pass completion average. Melvindale's top running threat is fullback Dan Losacco, a churning 160-pounder with an average of four yards per carry.

PCH will be aiming for its 5th victory of the season compared to a pair of defeats. The Chiefs are still missing the services of fullback-captain Larry Douglas, who is sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Joe McCauley will continue to fill Douglas' vacancy, although Isaac Jones has been performing well in practice this week and may see a lot of action at fullback in tomorrow night's non-league game.

Iowa Big 10 Offense King

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa's Hawkeyes have taken over as the Big Ten's offensive football leaders just as they have the conference standings.

The undefeated Hawkeyes have combined the league's best running game with its most efficient passing attack to hammer out an average of 407 yards in each of their three conference games.

Purdue and Ohio State share defensive honors. The Boilermakers have allowed opponents just 157 yards a game and given up but 9 first downs a game. The Buckeyes, second in the standings, are runnersup in the defense department, allowing opponents just 205 yards per contest.

The resurgent Northwestern Wildcats lead the scoring race with 27 points a game. Iowa is right behind with 26 and the Buckeyes have 25.

Hawkeyes Seek Only 3rd Win in Long Series

Evashevski Has Tried Five Times to Break Wolverines' Spell

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Iowa comes to Michigan Stadium Saturday seeking its third victory over the Michigan Wolverines in a jinx football series dating back to 1900.

A Hawkeye victory also would add another laurel to the almost full coaching career of Forest Evashevski, former Michigan star.

In recent years, Michigan has wrested away four straight come-from-behind victories over the Hawkeyes after trailing by two touchdowns.

But the Michigan spell appeared to lose some of its power last year. Still Iowa surrendered a two-touchdown lead before rallying for a 21-21 tie.

It was the fifth failure for Evashevski in his efforts to beat his alma mater. Beating Michigan is just about the only coaching honor to escape the former running mate of Tommy Harmon.

Evy's 1956 Hawkeyes won the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl. Iowa is a top-heavy favorite this year to repeat these accomplishments and also prove its Michigan jinx is only a myth.

The jinx actually goes back much further than the successful Evashevski era at Iowa. Saturday's game will be the 20th between the rivals and Iowa has won only twice. Two games were ties.

The Hawkeyes won the series opener 28-5 in 1900 and waited until 1924 before winning again 9-2. Particularly painful to Iowa was the 1902 game won by Michigan 107-0. It stands as the blackest mark on the Hawkeyes' record.

Since Iowa's 1924 victory it has played Michigan 14 times and collected only the two standoffs for its efforts.

Evy will get his last opportunity Saturday until 1961 to conquer Michigan. Iowa and Michigan aren't scheduled in 1959 and 1960.

Pressure Off Chips After 40-7

Small College Teams Back to Normal

By The Associated Press

Central Michigan College couldn't have picked a better time to play Eastern Illinois.

The Chippewas not only lost their first game last Saturday (40-7 to Louisville), but lost quarterback Oarie Lemanski, their offensive sparkplug, for at least 10 days with an ankle injury.

Their No. 2 quarterback, Mike Sweeney, is the only extra signal-caller with game experience. And he is sidelined with a leg injury.

That leaves the job up to Jim Ely, a sophomore from Honor High School—and if he runs into trouble, coach Bill Kelly will have to call on Bill Smith, regularly a defensive halfback, or Bob Kelley, who is an end.

At that, the Chips should have easy pickins' against Eastern Illinois in this Interstate Conference clash. The Illinois club never has beaten Central—in fact, never has come closer than 33-6. In seven games, Central has a 7-0 record, and holds a 240 to 60 scoring edge.

This year, the Eastern team appears no better than usual. After winning its opener, Eastern has lost five in a row by at least two touchdowns.

In the other Interstate Conference game, Northern Illinois visits Eastern Michigan, Northern has a 1-3 record in league action.

There are three MIAA games on the weekend schedule. Albion, trying to stay in the title chase, takes on Alma and Olivet goes against league-leading Hope. Hillsdale, not out of the title picture either, goes against the winless Hornets at Kalamazoo College.

Adrian, the other MIAA team, steps out of the league for a game at Ferris. Wayne State, whose Jim MacMillan is averaging 5.5 yards per carry on 64 rushing attempts, goes to the Upper Peninsula to play Northern Michigan, and the boys from up north will be out to avenge Wayne's 26-21 victory last season that come on a final-period touchdown pass. In that game, the lead changed hands four times before Wayne State came out on top.

Ohio University, improved under new coach Bill Hess, takes on Western Michigan in the Mid-American Conference. The Ohio team has the workhorse of the league runners in Bob Brooks, who has carried 74 times—more than any other back in the league. He has gained 283 yards for a 3.8 average. The Bobcats also have the loop's top defensive team, having allowed six opponents only 42 points in compiling a 4-2 record.

In other games, Michigan Tech meets Winona (Minn.) in a Northern States Conference engagement, Marquette visits Detroit for the two clubs' 26th meeting.

Whitewash Toronto, 5-0

Canadiens Lead NHL by 7

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens rapidly are making shambles of the National Hockey League pennant race.

Unlike a year ago when the Canadiens got off to a slow start, the league and Stanley Cup champions have chalked up seven victories and two ties in 11 games this season. And they hold a seven-point margin over the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, deadlocked for second place.

The Canadiens picked up two points last night by shutting out the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0 while the Bruins and Rangers played a 2-2 tie, their third in the young campaign.

Playing their fourth game in five nights, the Canadiens rolled up one of their easiest victories as goalie Jacques Plante posted his second shutout. Dickie Moore, Bernie Geoffrion, Jean Beliveau and rookie Ab McDonald took care of the Montreal scoring in spoiling the seasonal debut of Ed Chadwick, Toronto netminder.

The Rangers apparently had their game with the Bruins won when the clock showed only nine second remaining. But Fleming Mackell took three swipes at the puck and with the last one sent the disc bounding past Gump Worsley for a tie.

Until Mackell's first goal of the season, the Rangers held the upper hand with Camille Henry's goal at 4:26 of the second period giving them a 2-1 edge.

Heavyweight List Altered

Ring Rating Shuffled After Folley, Pastrano Suffer Defeats

NEW YORK (AP)— The heavyweight rankings underwent a big reshuffling by Ring Magazine today as the result of British victories over America's Zora Folley and Willie Pastrano.

Cuba's Nino Valdes moved into the No. 2 contender's spot behind Sweden's Ingemar Johansson. And for the first time in years, two Britons, Brian London and Henry Cooper, were listed in the elite top 10. London was ranked seventh and Cooper eighth.

Following up Johansson's one-round knockout of Eddie Machen, London stopped Pastrano, of Miami Beach, Fla., on cuts, and Cooper outpointed Folley, of Chandler, Ariz.

Here's the way the heavyweight top 10 looks behind world champion Floyd Patterson:

1. Johansson. 2. Valdes. 3, Folley. 4, Pastrano. 5. Machen. Redding, Calif. 6, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, San Diego. 7, London. 8, Cooper. 9, Sonny Liston, Philadelphia, and 10, Pat McMurtry, Tacoma, Wash.

Roy Harris, of Cut and Shoot, Tex., who has been idle since he was stopped by Patterson; Argentina's Alex Miteff, and Canadian champion George Chuvalo of Toronto were ousted to make room for the two Englishmen and McMurtry.

Richardson and Olmedo Net Tourney Favorites

TOKYO (AP) — Japan expects U.S. Davis Cuppers Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo to win the men's singles and doubles in the All-Japan tennis championship at Osaka Nov. 1-8.

Richardson is seeded No. 1 and Olmedo No. 2. Experts predict they will finish in that order.

Leonard's Absence May Be Protested

VANCOUVER (AP)—Al Nelson, president of the British Columbia Professional Golfers Assn. feels B.C. pros will make a "formal protest" against the exclusion of Stan Leonard from the Canada Cup golf team.

The selection of Toronto's Al Balding and Henry Martell of Edmonton as Canada's representatives in the international golf matches Nov. 20 to 23 at Mexico City was announced today.

Nelson said failure to pick Leonard, "Canada's best player," was a disservice to the game.

Leonard appeared not to be disappointed. "It's nice that someone else got a chance to play in that wonderful tournament. I've played in it five times now anyway." He then left on a hunting trip.

Titans Lose Center for Marquette Game

DETROIT (AP) — Center Joe Ivkovich may be lost to the University of Detroit Titans for the rest of the football season.

Ivkovich, a senior 205-pounder with two letters, suffered a knee injury in the Titans' 7-0 loss to Villanova three weeks ago. He missed the Titans' 31-6 victory over Xavier and 27-6 loss to Arizona State.

Coach Wally Fromhart said Ivkovich's knee failed to respond to treatment as hoped and he planned to hold him out of Detroit's game with rival Marquette here Saturday.

In Ivkovich's position will be Ernie Fritsch, a 225-pound junior who replaced him after the injury in the Villanova game.

Lightweights to Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit lightweights, Gene Gresham and LeRoy Jeffrey, will meet in a scheduled 10-round bout here Nov. 11. Both are unbeaten in their brief professional careers.

Gresham, 1957 national AAU champion, is undefeated in 15 pro fights. Jeffrey, 1955 National Golden Gloves champion and a former all-Army champion, is unbeaten in 11 professional fights.

Brothers Grid Rivals Friday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Deiderich brothers of Toronto, Ohio, will be on the warpath against each other tomorrow in the football game between University of Miami and Vanderbilt.

Harry Deiderich, a Miami junior, is newly promoted to starting fullback on the Hurricanes squad. George Deiderich, Vanderbilt senior plays guard.

Harry said he came to Miami U. because "I got tired of following in my brother's footsteps and I wanted to get where people wouldn't be saying that I was George's little brother."

Practice Assignments for Recreation Teams

Practice assignments have been made for the A, B and C basketball teams of the Recreation department program for next week.

Wednesday, Nov. 5 at Pontiac Central—7:00 p.m. (Stack) and Lakeside; 8:00 p.m. UAW 594 and (Johnson team); 9:00 p.m. Shaws and Vikings.

Thursday, Nov. 6 at Pontiac Central—7:00 p.m. (Nosek team) and Glen's; 8:00 p.m. Walled Lake and K. of C.; 9:00 p.m. Police and Royals.

'M'-MSU Both on TV

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Illinois-Michigan football game here Nov. 8 will be telecast regionally throughout the midwest, it was learned today.

Michigan State's game with Wisconsin will be televised nationally this Saturday.

Calhoun Defeats Szuzina Easily

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "This guy is shorter than most. He made it tough for me."

Thus did Rory Calhoun, high ranking middleweight, concede he hadn't looked as sharp as he might last night in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Germany's Franz Szuzina in their televised fight.

All three officials made the 24-year old minister's son from White Plains, N.Y. the winner by a wide margin but Calhoun wasn't satisfied with his performance.

Calhoun's victory was his 37th in a 48-fight career that started four years ago and his fifth this year. Franz, who turned pro in Germany in 1950, has won 46 of his 65 bouts.

17-14 Record for Robin

Comeback Title to Roberts

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — "I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the "Comeback Player of the Year" title in the National League.

Roberts got 59 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

The 32-year-old Philadelphia hurler referred to his dismal 10-22 record for 1957 and said it "definitely made me a candidate for the (comeback) honor, didn't it?"

The strapping right-hander didn't make any excuses after that fiasco; "I just got clobbered. That's all."

But Roberts, who is in Savannah to look after his seafood packing and restaurant business, had a ready reason for his improvement.

"I suppose I made a comeback this year because I felt better and was throwing better," he commented. "I wasn't throwing any different stuff—not too much anyhow—but I was throwing better.

"I can tell you one thing, I'm looking forward to next season and I personally hope to do better. I feel fine and I suppose this feeling comes from winning. It makes a lot of difference the way you feel when you're out there winning."

Roberts also bragged of another feat. "This year I didn't win the gopher ball title. I was second or third—I forget which—but not first. That's a switch." Roberts considers he's thrown more than his share of home run pitches during his 11 years in the majors.

TOP COMEBACK — Robin Roberts, pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies, was voted the National League's comeback player of the year for 1958. He had a 17-14 record the past season after a 10-22 mark for 1957.

One thing is for sure, this must be one of the craziest mixed up football seasons in many grapevine crops. The pro ranks, the college and the high school teams just keep knocking each other off without regard for the swamis.

Looks now like Swami Bill Cornwell is rounding the turn and is about assured taking the presidency from Bruno Kearns who has held the honor for two straight years.

There are another batch of humdingers this week and the poor Swamis just say—grin and pick 'em.

Battered by Olson, Boxer in Hospital

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Don Grant, pounded to a pulp in Bobo Olson's boxing comeback, underwent treatment in Providence Hospital Wednesday for a brain concussion and kidney injuries.

Attendants said the condition of the 25-year-old Los Angeles fighter was good, but he would be hospitalized for several days.

Olson, a former middleweight champion now fighting as a light heavy, had the Tuesday night fight all to himself until Referee Frankie Carter stopped the slaughter in the seventh round.

Bobo didn't see any of his purse. His $3,000 end of the gate was attached by the federal income tax people who still have a decision pending in a tax suit.

Only 45 on Spartan Freshman Roster

29 Frosh Use MSU Tenders

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's freshman crop of footballers is small in numbers but big in size this year.

Coaches still figure some good material will be coming up to help turn the tide of the Spartan recession next season.

"We'll probably have the smallest freshman team in the Big Ten," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "Also, we got back the fewest number of athletic aid tenders in the conference."

Daugherty reported that Michigan State had 41 tenders of aid signed by football prospects this season. All those signing said they intended to come to Michigan State.

But a dozen of the signers defected to other schools, all non-conference institutions. This left only 29 coming to State to use the tenders.

The usual amount of dropouts and boys finding out football is too tough also cut the rookie squad this season. At mid-season, freshman coach Gordon Serr only has 45 active players on his roster.

This compares to 60 or 70 or more the usual season.

"But there are some there that look as if they could do us some good," said Daugherty. "There are a couple of big backs we like the looks of. That's what we need—some pile-driving backs."

Serr agreed that while Michigan State might not have quantity this year, there is good quality.

Coaches like players built along the lines of Tony Kumiega, 205 pound halfback from Chicopee, Mass.

Kumiega brushed aside a couple of blockers while scrimmaging against the varsity recently and threw halfback Roger Donnahoo so hard that he knocked out his victim cold.

State found one of its best prospects this season adjacent to the campus. Art Brandstatter, 6-1, 210-pound end seen as a comer, is the son of the head of the campus police department.

There also are some hefty linesmen among the hopefuls. Among the standouts in workouts have been Pete Kakela, 210-pound tackle from Toledo; Jake Levandowski, 199-pound center from Braddock; Dave Manders, 209-pound guard from Kingsford, Bill Timm, 220-pound tackle from Coldwater and Tom Winiecki, 225-pound guard from Chicago.

Best among the quarterback prospects appear to be Leroy Loudermilk, 190-pounder from Wilkinsburg, and Don Stewart, a 185-pounder from Muskegon.

As usual, State is drawing heavily on local talent. The squad has 25 Michigan entries and good delegations from such proven hunting grounds as Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Ohio.

Other Michigan entries on the squad include Mike Biondo, guard, Detroit; Carl Charon, fullback, Boyne City; Larry Hudas, halfback, Detroit; Ken King, guard, Lansing; Don Kopach, fullback, Detroit; Larry Lomako, tackle, Clawson; John Luplow, guard, Saginaw; Fred Maceachron, halfback, Grand Rapids; Gerald Ohngren, guard, Pontiac; Roy Parrott, center, Detroit; Dale Ruojomaki, tackle, Ishpeming; Bob Suci, halfback, Flint; Brian Vidosh, tackle, Warren.

Hope College Is State's Lone Unbeaten-Untied 11

By The Associated Press

If Ron Bekius of Hope College and Walter Beach of Central Michigan are going to catch Western Michigan's Lovell Coleman in the state college scoring race, they need to hurry.

Though he played less than half the game against Toledo Saturday because of a hip injury, Coleman scored his team's only touchdown and ran his point total to 82.

He is 16 points ahead of Bekius, who is another six ahead of Beach. Bekius has scored 11 touchdowns and Beach has 10. Coleman got his 82 points with 13 touchdowns and two runs for extra points.

With most of the teams past the halfway point in the season, there is only one unbeaten-untied team in the state — and Hope College should stay that way at least until Nov. 8. The Dutchmen meet hapless Olivet this Saturday on their home grounds — a breather before taking on Albion the following Saturday in the game that could decide the MIAA championship.

Michigan teams have a 24-23 record against out-of-state opponents, while home teams have a 40-33 edge in games played so far.

Here's the way the state's college football teams have fared:

11 Hits, Down Japanese, 7-2

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four Japanese pitchers for 11 hits, including two home runs, to crush the Japan All-Stars 7-2 today. It was the Cards' fourth win in five games played thus far in their 16 game tour of Japan.

Stan Musial, who earlier held baseball clinics for fans at one of the city's university grounds, went hitless in three official trips to the plate. He walked once.

Flint Wins JC X-Country Run

JACKSON (AP) — Flint Junior College placed five runners in the first 11 finishers and won the Michigan Junior College Conference cross country meet yesterday.

Flint JC won with 40 points. Grand Rapids JC was second with 56. Other finishers included Bay City JC 83, Jackson JC 89, Northwestern JC of Traverse City 111, Alpena JC 143 and Henry Ford JC of Dearborn 195. (Low score wins in cross country meets.)

Jackson JC had won the meet every year since it was inaugurated in 1953.

Grand Rapids' John Haslem was the individual winner, running the 2½-mile course in 13:22.2.

Michigan State's cross-country team captain is Forddy Kennedy who succeeded his brother Henry in the post.

Avon Can Clinch Title Tie Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

Six games having important bearings on league championships and several others matching familiar rivals should make for an interesting prep football schedule tomorrow.

Farmington and Port Huron are in position to clinch titles in their respective loops while Avondale, Northville and Almont can be assured of at least a final tie for first by winning.

Van Dyke is expected to give Farmington little trouble in the Inter-Lakes final for the Falcons. Northville is heavily favored at Clarkston in the Wayne-Oakland as is Almont at Capac in the Southern Thumb.

Avondale's unbeaten league record gets its biggest test at Clawson. Port Huron will have the home field advantage in attempting to eliminate Birmingham.

The biggest actual loop showdown will be at Oxford where the Wildcats of Dick Figg take on defending South Central champion Imlay City. Each has yet to lose in the SCC.

Heading the remaining long list of contests will be the annual Walled Lake-Waterford clash at Walled Lake. Berkley travels to Southfield in the other I-L game.

Battered Lake Orion goes to Troy in the only other Oakland B tilt as members Madison and Fitzgerald host outside foes Garden City and Royal Oak Kimball, respectively.

West Bloomfield attempts to try to stop red-hot Bloomfield Hills in an afternoon game, Milford goes to Holly and Clarenceville is at Brighton rounding out the Wayne-Oakland.

East Detroit is guest of Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park visits Ferndale in the Eastern Michigan. Ortonville is at home against Millington in South Central as North Branch takes on non-loop foe Mayville.

Lapeer appears to have the Tri-County crown sewed up but there still will be considerable interest in the Romeo at Rochester contest. Lapeer will host Flint Tech.

Dryden is at New Haven and Brown City at Armada in a pair of Thumb contests. Memphis plays at New Baltimore Anchor Bay.

Oak Park tackles Grosse Pointe University School, Utica is home to meet Warren and Madison Lamphere closes its season at Huron in other Friday action. Saturday, Cranbrook will make its sixth try at posting a win meeting University School at Cranbrook.

Avondale has been one of the surprise teams in this area. The Yellowjackets have won three straight in the league despite dropping two of three outside. Clawson has one of the outstanding backs in Oakland County in Newt Acton.

Birmingham will have its work cut out but the speed of Ed Busch & Co. could tell the story. Imlay City is figured to have too much scoring power for Oxford but the Wildcats have been unpredictable all season.

Walled Lake is favored to win with ease but Viking coach Dave Smith has been warning his charges all week about being overconfident. He has said all season that the weak Skippers will probably "play their best game against us."

West Bloomfield, still hoping for at least a share of the W-O crown, has a lot of respect for the Bloomfield Hills. The Barons are strongest defensively and have been drilling hard in hopes of being the first team to throttle John Lucadam.

Rochester could help save face on an otherwise dismal season by whipping Romeo. Neither has been a consistent performer.

Syracuse University's last losing football campaign came in 1949.

Cornell's 1956 and 1957 football teams scored exactly 100 points each.

The great Exterminator raced 12 times at Laurel during his career. He won six times.

37 for Pettit as Hawks Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball Assn. it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points last night to run his total for three games to 91 as the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 112-100 and took over first place in the Western Division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

THINKING OF TITLE — That's what the Avondale gridders have been doing this week while preparing for tomorrow's invasion of Clawson. A victory would clinch at least a share of the Oakland B crown for the Yellowjackets. Shown accepting "good luck" wishes from coach Frank Crowell are line star Bill Jennings, left, and halfback Larry Douglas.

Area bowlers and fans are still talking about an outstanding husband-wife performance turned in by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pickett in the Land-O-Lakes Sunday Mixed Doubles loop.

Ignoring the fact that their team name is Seldom Strikes, Bob and Nola kept the pins toppling and the crowd cheering. Their "hot" showings sparked the team to a new season high game in the league of 903.

Bob totaled 11 strikes in a sparkling 279 game and had a series total of 647. He started his big game with two strikes, got a bad break, and then was perfect the rest of the way.

Both his scores are tops in the league. His wife, Nola, took high game honors with a 211 during the same time Bob was going wild. Mrs. Pickett has an earlier 237 to her credit.

Bob was runnerup in the first Pontiac Press Bowlerama tournament held two years ago. Last year he failed to survive the qualifying round. The Picketts are Waterford Township residents.

Rochez Brothers of Pittsburgh fired a 3,655 in that city last night for the highest score in the nation this season. St. Louis Budweiser had the previous top mark with 3,535.

Speaking of high scores, the Huron Classic keeps turning them out. A total of 24 keglers bettered 600 last Friday for the 2nd straight week. Eight members have been over 700 already.

PIN NOTES

The Lakewood Lanes 59ers League had a 253 game the other night. J. Mellema did the rolling . . . One of the tightest city league races is in the Motor Inn B where the 7th place team is only six points behind the leader. The league has 20 teams . . . Former St. Michael coach Bob Mineweaser is the newest local merchant handling bowling equipment.

A Hazel Park man scored the first 300 game reported this season in Oakland County last week. E. J. Simons, 55-year-old bookkeeper, fired his perfect score during open bowling at the Wayside Bowling Alleys in Madison Heights. It was his first 300 in 40 years of trying and was sandwiched between a 229 and 164 for a 693 series.

Saturday is the deadline for reserving an entry in the 1959 ABC tourney. Final deadline for all entries is Jan. 13 . . . Secretary of the local Bowlerettes League is June Paddy, wife of West Bloomfield High coach Art.

The Bicmar Inn entry in the Motor Inn B loop dropped 300 pins from one game to another recently . . . ABC Hall of Fame great Joe Wilman, whose column Strikes and Spares is carried daily by The Press, is back on his feet following last spring's heart attack and hopes to begin limited team bowling after Christmas.

Flint has come up with a good idea in forming a Bowling Council. The group combines proprietors and participants with the intention of creating harmony from the manufacturer to the bowler. Pontiac could certainly stand some improvement along those lines, especially among the proprietors.

Warren Spahn wasn't the first southpaw who stopped Hank Bauer. In the final game of the 1955 World Series, Dodger Johnny Podres stopped Bauer. Hank then hit safely in 17 straight World Series games until stopped by

Michigan, Michigan State, U. of D. Looking Ahead

State College Quintets Shaping Up

Don't look now but the college football season has passed the mid-point and in three weeks the regular season activities will shift to the basketball courts.

"That opening game is just around the corner," said Michigan coach Bill Perigo, "before you know it we'll be in the thick of another Big Ten basketball race."

Of course Perigo doesn't mean his Wolverine quintet is expected to be a top contender, he pins the favorites' role on Northwestern and Purdue, two teams with their entire starting teams returning.

Forddy Anderson at Michigan State agrees. "This should be a real topsy turvey race in the Big Ten, with any one of five teams capable of grabbing the title," said Anderson.

Michigan colleges, under NCAA rules, started their practice sessions two weeks ago, Oct. 15. The early date was allowed since spring practice was discontinued.

The state's three major cage teams—Michigan, Michigan State and U. of D.—are all faced with problems of experience.

Perigo has lost Tillotson, Terrier and Wright from last year's squad and the loss of transfer Terry Miller, 6-6, from Western Michigan leaves the Wolverines with only M. C. Burton at 6-5 as the big man.

"We may have to move him to the pivot spot," said Perigo, "we are hurting for height." Fred Lee is another returnee but the status of captain Jack Lewis is still uncertain as the result of recent gambling raids. "If the boy is proven not guilty, I would be inclined to protect the boy, he's a fine lad and I feel sorry for him," said Perigo.

Others whom Perigo looks to for help this year are Dale Kingsbury, a junior from Flint Central at 6-feet; guard Rich Robbins of Port Huron, who stands 6-1, and Lovell Ferris, a 6-3 junior who was injured last year.

One of the best prospects is sophomore John Tidwell, a 6-3 185-pounder from Herron, Ill. Other newcomers include Charles Andrews, 6-1, from East Grand Rapids; Gary Kane, 6-3, from Elgin, Ill., and Dick Donely, 6-6, from Big Rapids.

At East Lansing, the big name is jumping Jack Green who leads the five returning lettermen.

The Spartans, like Michigan, do not have the big man, but as Perigo cites MSU's situation, "With a guy who jumps like Green, who needs a big man."

Coach Anderson will have good overall height with 6-3 Bob Anderegg of Monroe, Wis., and 6-3 Horace Walker of Chester, Pa. His guards are Tom Rand, 6-2, and Lance Olson, 6-4, both of Green Bay, Wis. Only Walker did not letter last year.

"We will depend heavily on our speed," said Anderson, "we won't have the height of other conference teams." Big losses were Jack Quiggle, Chuck Bencie and Larry Hedden.

Top newcomers include Dave Fahs, 5-9, of MDonroe, Wis.; Jim Stouffer of Pierceton, Ind.; Art Gowens of Lansing and Harry Turak of LaPorte, Ind.

Anderson is looking toward his Dec. 6 opener against his old rival coach Bob Calihan of U. of D. The two have been teammates and rivals most of their basketball careers.

At U. of D., Calihan will field the tallest team in the school's history. "But it will be one of the most inexperienced," he said. "There are 12 sophomores on the 17-man squad."

Returning varsity men include Ralph Ucheson, 6-2; captain John Belohlavek, 6-2, and guard Ray Albee, 5-9, for starting roles. Other returnees are George Heger, 6-4; Dan Potter, 6-3, and Ron Troy of Shrine, 6-1.

The newcomers are 7-foot Pete Corbett; Dick Dylus, 6-8; Larry Hughes of Walled Lake, 6-4; Frank Osojnicki of Harper Woods, 6-3; Bob Alexy, 6-6, of Detroit; Tom Williamson, 6-5, and the best prospects for starting roles, Bob Wright, 6-4, of Center Line and Tom Smith, 6-0, of Detroit.

Playing an independent schedule, the Titans have NIT champ and runnerup Xavier and Dayton in Detroit, plus Notre Dame, Michigan State, Duquesne, Bradley, Seton Hall, Canisius, Nebraska, Marquette, Boston College and Fordham on the schedule.

Highlight of the season is the Motor City tournament with University of Michigan, Army, Princeton and Detroit as the entries Dec. 29-30.

FOSTER GRANDPARENTS — Charles H. Kuhn, artist who does "Grandma" which appears in The Pontiac Press, and his wife were honored recently when they were named Foster Grandparents of the Year. The award was in recognition of the work they have done through their cartoon character in showing that there's still plenty of pep and ideas in our senior citizens.

The award was made by the Grandmother's Clubs of America — through the national awards committee at the group's national convention in Chicago on Oct. 12.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Judge John R. James objected Monday when two armed guards were posted in his courtroom for the trial of Earl Ward on a second-degree murder charge.

Ward wasn't going to run away, said the judge, and there was no need for th guns. Sheriff Arvid Owsley argued that Ward was a dangerous character, and the judge agreed to let one deputy, with pistol, remain.

Wednesday, as the jury deliberated Ward's case, he asked for permission to step into a corridor for a drink of water. Once there, he broke for freedom. The judge, at that instant walking down the hall, shouted for him to stop.

"He stopped, looked at me and walked back," Judge James said.

It's probably that Ward also saw Deputy Clyde Hatfield's leveled gun when he stopped.

Ward, 41, of Tulsa, was convicted of stabbing an airman and sentenced to 12 years imprisonment.

Polio Fatality Count Reaches 23 in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit area's 1958 polio death count has climbed to 23, compared iwth three at this date last year.

The latest victim was Margaret Lesperance, 40. Health officials said she had received no Salk antipolip shots.

Three new cases in Detroit brought the 1958 total to 620 for the year compared with 177 last year.

Shows Fatigue, Irritability

Nixon Finds Going Rough

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, determinedly striving to push the Republican elephant into a stretch gallop, has found the going heavy and the footing slippery.

The durable Nixon was showing fatigue and irritability when he stopped here between tours this week. He had taken some rude blows. He was obliged to defend and explain the damaging words and actions of other Republicans. And he had seen new threats develop to his own political future.

His temper frayed out in Minneapolis, where he barked an angry denial to a charge that hadn't been made — that he had avoided a stand on civil rights. Earlier, in Chicago, he had glared at a photographer who miscalled him "Mr. Truman." The impolitic glare was captured on film.

As the vice president took off Wednesday for a final grueling, hop-skipping tour to Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Washington state and Alaska, it seemed to some of his supporters that sheer bad luck was dogging his footsteps.

For Nixon, a record of success in this campaign is important to his own presidential aspirations in 1960. Any outcome short of a Democratic sweep would be credited partly, at least, to his talents as a vote-getter.

Certainly his efforts have helped to revive dispirited Republican organizations in many spots. Further, he has helped to add more than a million dollars to GOP finances by his fund-raising appearances and his personal efforts.

But there was still doubt whether any significant shift in voter sentiment has been wrought by Nixon or by President Eisenhower in their strong attacks on "radical" and "spendthrift" opponents.

An Associated Press check across the country indicated that neither the Republican headliners nor their opposite Democratic numbers, former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, had changed the minds of many voters.

So it was uncertain whether, as Nixon proclaimed in Lincoln, Neb. and elsewhere, that the GOP has rebounded from what looked like sure defeat and that the campaign has become a brand new contest.

Utah Blast Blows 2 Workmen to Bits

SPANISH FORK, Utah (AP) — One thousand pounds of jellied explosives blew a shed and two workmen to bits Wednesday.

American Cyanamid Co. officials listed the two employes as "missing." The victims were Ross J. Jex, 40, Spanish Fork, and John David O'Neal, 30, Springville, Utah.

They were Aetna powder men on the company's plant near here. The shed was one of several — embedded in a hillside for safety reasons — making up the plant's gelatin packing unit.

Cause of the blast was not known. Probers said identification of the pieces of clothing and bodies they found was impossible. No one else was hurt.

College Readies for Status Shift

Central Michigan Puts Wheels Into Motion for Change to University

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Looking toward the day when it will become a university, Central Michigan College is making organizational changes.

Judson W. Foust, vice president for general and academic administrations, said the school recently added two vice presidents, making a total of three, and upgraded directors of five divisions to the rank of dean.

Central's hopes of getting university status may get a big boost next year.

Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) says he is going to introduce a bill in the 1959 legislature that would change the name of the school to Central Michigan University.

Foust said the school's official began eying university status because of the increase in the institution's size, a wider offering of courses and a gradually decreasing emphasis on preparing teachers.

He put campus enrollment at about 4,500, including 4,000 full-time students. There are about 2,000 off-campus students. He said enrollment has increased about 500 students a year in recent years.

4 Major Companies Cut Gasoline Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Four major suppliers yesterday announced a two-cents-a-gallon price reduction in a new wave of gasoline price cuts in the Detroit area.

The new reduction announced by Sun Oil Co., Shell, Standard, and Socony-Mobil, followed a 1.7 cent a-gallon cut by Sinclair.

Other major companies in the Detroit area were expected to follow suit. Spokesmen said they expected the price cut to be passed along to customers.

Prevailing prices for Standard, Shell and Mobil gas now are 27.9 cents a gallon for regular and 31.9 for premium. Sun Oil prices are 27.9 for its standard grade; Sinclair sells for 28.2 for regular and 32.2 for premium.

Sees Increasing Use of Aluminum in Cars

SHEFFIELD, Ala. (AP) — An all-aluminum automobile was described today by a leading aluminum manufacturer as "no pipe dream."

Abram D. Reynolds, vice president of Reynolds Aluminum Sales Co., made the assertion in an address prepared for delivery at a press showing of Reynolds and Ford Motor Co. aluminum operations here.

He said the car "would be competitive in cost with current production, weigh 60 per cent less, and set off a chain reaction of improved performance, economy, and beauty not otherwise available."

Reynolds said that during the period of 1955 to 1959 model cars, the average amount of aluminum per passenger car increased from 30 to 57 pounds. He said indications are that aluminum consumption in automotive use will more than triple in the next decade.

C. H. Patterson, Ford vice president in charge of its power train group, predicted that within five years the average car will contain from 100 to 120 pounds of aluminum. Just after World War II, he said, the average car contained six or eight pounds. Today one Ford model (4-door Fairlane 500) contains 68 pounds.

Market Nears Record Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced vigorously toward its record peak in heavy early trading today.

Leading issues rose from fractions to a point or more. A few selected issues took losses.

The ticker tape was late for a prolonged period.

Higher quality steels and motors resumed leadership while the smaller motor firms were less prominent than recently.

The market was taking off from yesterday's rise, the year's second biggest, in an attack on the nearby historic high.

GM was up about a point and U.S. Steel a fraction. Goodyear rose about 2.

Loew's rose more than a point as directors voted to spin off the theaters and radio stations. Parmelee dropped 2 points or so and Checker Motors 3 following their recent rise. The Checker president denied rumored plans to sell taxi-cab licenses held by affiliated companies.

Saul Pett Substituting for Hal Boyle

That Knowing Leer Originated in Paris

By SAUL PETT

PARIS (AP)—The last time I saw Port Washington, N.Y., the Boulevardiers on the 8:05 were leering.

"Going to Paris, I hear," said a fellow commuter on the Long Island Railroad, with a knowing elbow in my ribs.

"Man! Paris! Man, oh man, oh man!" another man groaned. No one actually said "oo-la-la!" but up and down the car men seemed to be leering, whistling, rolling their eyes, drooling.

Thus, long before I got my first look at the Champs Elysees, I already felt sinful. Long before I took my first walk in the narrow streets of Montmartre, I felt a heavy sense of national obligation, as though it were part of the franchise of American manhood, to be thoroughly wicked in Paris.

Now I know where this national leer comes from. It comes from Paris.

"Are you alone, monsieur?" asked the hotel clerk when I registered.

"I am alone."

"Ah, yes, monsieur, you will enjoy Paris."

On the Rue de la Paix, the lady in the perfume shop refused to believe I wanted perfume for my wife.

"Mais oui, monsieur," she said, snickering.

And sure enough, going into the Louvre, I was stopped by a man in a beret who laughed like a muffled hyena. He flashed some postcards; and when I shrugged him off, he laughed again. By the time I got inside the museum even the Mona Lisa's smile seemed unduly familiar.

Inside Sainte Chapelle, a jewel-eled 13th century chapel, a group of tourists came by to admire the beautiful stained glass windows. On a bench along the wall a young Frenchman and his girl were necking. He wore a beard, leather jacket and tight pants. The tourists stared at the lovers, but they continued to neck.

Coming out of Notre Dame I noticed a funeral on a side street, the mourners walking solemnly behind the hearse. In front of the cathedral another man in a beret tried to sell me postcards.

That night I joined a group of eight American men on an American express bus investigating "Paris by night." We made three stops and at each were served single glass of champagne, no more, no less.

The first stop, the guide said in Brooklyn-accented English, was "to get us in the mood." This was a tiny Russian restaurant where the eight hell-raisers grimly watched a Russian soprano and a Hungarian guitarist.

Things picked up at the second stop, a night club called La Nouvelle Eve, where we saw some strippers. The last stop was Moulin Rouge, full of acrobats, dancers, and pantomine comics. No sex.

Returning to my hotel I was given the big sell by two ladies of the Protect Paris' Reputation for Sin Society. They were waiting on the curb.

Curiously they did not whisper like the postcard salesmen. They shouted, or I felt as if they were shouting, their promise of an interesting nightcap, complete with prices in francs and dollars. I said no thanks—I have witnesses—and kept on going.

The girls laughed, and I thought I heard a few slanders about my manhood.

Inside the hotel clerk seemed amazed I was still alone. Then his expression changed to sadness and finally, to hope.

"Bon nuit, monsieur," he said, handing me my key. "But tomorrow is another day, n'est-ce pas?"

They'll never believe me back on the 8:05.

Buyers of Steel Build Up Stocks

USS President Says 15-Month Liquidation of Inventories Over

NEW YORK (AP) — A 15-month liquidation in steel inventories is now at an end and steel consumers are starting to build up stocks, Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said yesterday.

Blough made his comments at his regular quarterly news conference. He said steel inventories dropped one million ingot tons a month for 15 months and are now at the lowest point since 1950.

"I don't see how the economy can operate with the stocks of steel many of our customers now have on hand," Blough said. "I think something will have to be done about the inventory situation."

What will be done, Blough predicted, will be a building up of inventories. He predicted steel operations will run in the 70 or low 80 per cent of capacity range in the fourth 1958 quarter and said the first 1959 quarter should be just as good.

Center Looking for Annexation

Shopping Area Tieup Would Hike Income of Sylvan Lake

Annexation of the $200,000 Sylvan Shopping Center in West Bloomfield Township is being eyed in Sylvan Lake.

The shopping center, about eight acres in size, is on Orchard Lake road, south of the city, between Middlebelt road road and Woodrow Wilson street.

Representatives from the center have already broached the possibility of annexation with the city council and the city planning commission, approved the move.

City Manager Louis G. Barry said it is up to the owners of the center to petition the Oakland County Board of Superisors requesting a change in boundaries and an election, at which Sylvan Lakers would vote on the question.

He estimated that taxes from the shopping center would increase the city's operational income by six to ten per cent.

"The increase in commercial tax base would go far in stabilizing the city economy," Barry said.

It would cost the shopping center abut $34,700 to tie in to Sylvan Lake water and sewer facilities, Barry figured.

Reuther Gives Assist

All GM-UAW Strikes End

DETROIT (AP) — After four weeks of production paralysis, General Motors and the United Auto Workers are cleared away on local strikes.

The last of the UAW strikes ended with an assist from UAW President Walter Reuther.

After production workers refused to ratify a proposed agreement on local grievances at the GM Fleetwood plant in Detroit, Reuther ordered them to go back to their jobs while negotiations continued.

The 3,800 UAW members at the plant withdrew their picket line yesterday and said they would report for work today.

Mrs. Roosevelt Airs Opinions

'Food and Spirituality' Weapons Russia Lacks, She Says in Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK — This country has two weapons which Russia lacks, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt told some 700 women yesterday in Royal Oak.

"One is food, the other is spirituality. We could win the war with communism if we had the sense to use them."

Mrs. Roosevelt opened the lecture series of the Royal Oak Woman's Club at the Main Theater in Royal Oak.

Following her talk, a reception and tea were held for her at the Royal Oak Woman's clubhouse.

Mrs. Roosevelt seemed tireless after greeting the vast audience as they passed down the line. She talked with 31 students from the Clara Kimball High school which included five exchange students from foreign countries.

She was given a standing ovation when she was introduced to the audience by Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley.

Papers Getting Half of Auto Advertising

DETROIT (AP) — A Ford Motor Co. executive says newspapers get more than 50 cents of every automotive advertising dollar.

"That is good and I hope it will increase," Edward E. Rothman, Ford general manager of advertising and sales promotion, told the National Newspaper Promotion Assn. yesterday.

At the same time, Rothman advised newspapers "to tell advertisers of your impact in terms of circulation and area coverage," adding:

"Newspaper advertising men should get better asquainted with research personnel of the auto companies and their advertising agencies for the purpose of better all-around promotion."

Rothman cautioned the group that newspapers must remain competitive in circulation and advertising costs to other media, such as television, radio and magazines.

"Auto advertising cost has increased more than labor and raw material costs," he continued, "and auto managements do not like this trend."

New Marine Abuse Case at Parris Island

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—This Marine Corps training center has another case of alleged recruit maltreatment.

Six young Lisbon, Ohio, trainees charged they were slapped around and forced to contribute to a $690 payoff to three drill instructors.

A formal investigation is under way and the instructors, now at Camp Lejeune, N.C., have been relieved of duty and restricted to base pending the outcome.

They were identified as S.Sgt. Ralph A. J. Grant, Racine, Wis., Sgt. Ronald J. Heller, Milwaukee, and Sgt. William B. Poss, Augusta, Ga.

The six recruits told their parents the incidents took place during 12 weeks of basic training here last summer. The recruits graduated after four weeks of advanced training at Camp Lejeune and now are home on leave.

They said they were slapped and pushed by the instructors and also charged that each of the 69 trainees in their platoon had to shell out $10 to the trio. Instructors are prohibited by military regulations from taking gifts from recruits.

The accusations were made by Arthur Lynn Brownen, Richard J. Koffeln, John W. Coie, Robert L. Tafini, Roger A. Mayaffick and John R. Hull.

Tapestry Craft Unchange

MADRID — New ways have not taken hold at Madrid's Royal Tapestry Works. Tapestries are woven there exactly as they were four centuries ago when the factory was established. Everything is done by hand. It takes a skilled weaver four month to complete a square yard of tapestry, using threats of as many as 5,000 different colors.

Bartlett Urges Teachers' Code

Certification Standards Outlined at Area Parley of Catholic Educators

ORCHARD LAKE — Speaking before the annual meeting of Michigan Association of Catholic Colleges yesterday at St. Mary's College here, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn H. Bartlett proposed a code of standards necessary for a fully qualified and certified teacher.

Bartlett's talk followed the morning session address by John Dale Russell, director of the Legislative Survey of Higher Education in Michigan, recently concluded.

A 17-member committee appointed by the State Education Board is studying the teacher certification code and is charged with recommending any needed revisions in it, Bartlett told some 100 representatives of Michigan Catholic institutions at the conference.

He said he personally believed a fully qualified and certified teacher must:

Possess a thorough knowledge of his subject field and be generally well educated.

Understand the nature of the world's total society and be able to teach effectively in that society.

Know how to teach effectively and know the factors affecting the learning process.

Possess intellectual fitness, a personality acceptable to the role of a teacher, a good moral character, a correct understanding of the problems underlying the American tradition, and be loyal to the principles of democracy.

Bartlett said implementing these principles is the difficult task—not spelling them out.

"But," he added, "I am certain that it can be done."

Presiding over yesterday's meeting was the Very Rev. Philbert Ramstter, O.F.M., president of Duns Scotus College, Detroit, who served as association president during the past year.

Record High Sales Reported by Gerber

FREMONT (UPI) — Gerber Products Co. announced today that consolidated sales of the company reached a new record high of $65,367,185 for the first six months period ending Sept. 30.

This compared to $59,813,111, a gain of $5,554,074, or 9.3 per cent over the same period a year ago, the company said.

Consolidated net earnings for the first six months were $3,982,969. This compared to $4,013,629 for the same period a year ago, or a decrease of $60,670. Per share earnings were $1.88 compared to $1.92 for the same period last year.

Believe Girl's Death Caused by Polio

An autopsy of an 18-year-old Walled Lake girl believed to have died this morning of bulbar polio was being performed today by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital pathologist.

Charlotte E. Phelps of 153 Eubank St., Walled Lake, was believed to be the first fatal polio victim this year in the county.

Hospital authorities and county health officials report the girl did not receive any vaccine shots prior to the onset of the disease. The girl died at 2:13 a.m. this morning in the hospital after she had been admitted in critical condition Monday at 1 p.m.

To date 33 cases of polio have been reported to the county health department this year. This compares with 27 during the same time last year. Polio was also reported as the death of two county residents last year.

The girl, a June graduate of Walled Lake High School is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Phelps of 1134 Pine Crest Dr., Milford.

Fleisher Stands Mute on Charge

Ex-Purple Gang Boss, 3 Others Accused of Cleaners Conspiracy

Louis Fleisher, Oak Park resident and former boss of the "Purple Gang" of Detroit, and three other men stood mute yesterday in Detroit Recorder's Court when arraigned on conspiracy charges in the attempted burning of a dry cleaning store.

Judge George Murphy set $20,000 bonds for each man and set examination for Nov. 6.

Nabbed with Fleisher early Monday was Joseph Anielak, 40, of Detroit. They were caught while attempting to pour gasoline into a new dry cleaner's branch store at 1348 E. Seven Mile Rd.

Arrested later by Detroit police were Chester Tutaj, 51, and Stanley Sobo, 40, owner of their own cleaning shops. Two others that were arrested then also were later released.

It was Fleisher, Anielak, Tutaj and Sobo that were arraigned Wednesday charged with conspiracy to place explosives, breaking and entering to place explosives, and intent to destroy property with explosives. Detectives said the four had been under surveillance for several weeks.

Police have yet to find any connection with the attempted burning and a like burning of a Flint dry cleaning establishment in which they believe Teamsters business agent Frank Kierdorf lost his life in August.

Shall We Rewrite Our State Constitution?

Taxes and Spending Another Big Issue

(Ninth of 10 articles on constitutional conventions)

By ARTHUR W. BROMAGE
Professor of Political Science, University of Michigan

Money issues facing any constitutional convention called in Michigan will be thorny. Restrictions on the state's fiscal capacity have been added one by one. The total effect has put the state in the red.

To borrow more than $250,000, except for emergencies like repelling invasion, the state has to take drastic steps.

Loans of any size, such as the straits bridge necessitated, have to be secured on revenue bonds—that is bonds pledging merely the revenue of the particular project.

The only way to float general obligation bonds above the set amount is to pass a separate amendment.

As a result, amendments to borrow have been frequent: Highways, veterans' bonuses for the two world wars and Korea, hospitals, a loan fund for school districts.

About two-thirds of the state's income is earmarked in advance. The legislature has little room to turn in making both ends meet.

Motor fuel and vehicle taxes are, for instance, assigned to highway use. As to the sales tax, two out of every three cents goes into the school aid fund, an additional ½ cent is distributed to counties for division among other local units by population.

There also is restriction on state income.

Unless special levies are authorized locally by the voters, the property tax cannot exceed $15 on every $1,000 of assessed value. The 15 mill limit was initiated as an amendment during the 1932 depression.

This has to be shared by counties, townships and school districts.

The constitutional limitations which have pyramided are almost insuperable for the legislature and local governments in planning an adequate fiscal program. The elected representatives of the people are bound by complex directives as to taxes, revenues and debts.

The call of a convention cannot relieve the immediate shortage of money. It can pave the way for legislative latitude in bringing order out of Michigan's tax muddle.

Ford Plant Explosion Kills One, Injures One

DETROIT (AP) — One man was killed and another critically injured yesterday in an explosion at Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant near Detroit.

Leo Cabanaw, 59, of Inkster was dead on arrival at a hospital. He was a millwright and had worked for Ford for 35 years.

Herschel Daly, 60, of Detroit was hospitalized in critical condition with third degree burns over most of his body.

A Ford spokesman said it was believed the explosion occurred when a spark from a welding torch set off coal dust while the two were repairing a broken conveyor on a coal bunker.

ADM. ELLIS M. ZACHARIAS
Former Navy Intelligence Chief

Plots Gleaned From Reality

Adm. Zacharias (Ret) Taps Knowing Sources for TV Stories

HOLLYWOOD—"I keep my files, for the most part, in my head," says Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, U.S.N. (Ret.), who provides the background material for the counter-espionage series "Behind Closed Doors" on NBC-TV Network, Thursdays.

Zacharias' material is not the kind of thing to be left lying around on a desk or in an unlocked drawer. He has gleaned it from interviews with escapees from behind the Iron Curtain, from high-ranking political exiles, espionage agents, atomic scientists and others he is careful not to name.

The experiences of these shadowy fighters of the cold war are being spotlighted in "Behind Closed Doors." Its first program told the story of an American agent who fitted out a fishing boat with radar and depth charges and scared off a Russian submarine spying on U.S. missile operations at Cape Canaveral.

"This sort of thing is actually going on," says Zacharias, consultant for the series. "It has not been publicized to a great extent, but Russian submarines have been sighted repeatedly off our coasts. This is called 'hovering,' and it's a violation of international law.

"Thanks to the Russians, we have enough material to keep the series going for five years.

If we ever do run out, we can go back to some of the secret missions in World War II. Just the other day I looked up a man I sent into occupied Italy. He's got one of the most exciting stories of the war."

Zacharias made an enviable record in World War II both as a combat commander and an intelligence chief. Congressional hearings have since brought out the fact that as early as March, 1941, he warned of the impending Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and even gave many of the details, though not the date, of the Japanese plan.

On sea duty, he commanded the heavy cruiser Salt Lake City as escort vessel of the carrier from which Gen. James Doolittle launched his raid on Tokyo. He later commanded the battleship New Mexico in the invasion of Guam.

He was then called to Washington, where he was made deputy chief of Naval Intelligence. He created the psychological radio warfare aimed at persuading the Japanese to surrender unconditionally.

His work brought congratulations from the commander-in-chief of the U.S. Fleet, who praised him for "making the Japanese see the light and bringing unconditional surrender."

Since he retired from the Navy in 1946, Zacharias has kept up his contacts with the world of espionage and has written two books on the subject.

Last year, at his home in New Hampshire, he received a telephone call from TV producer Sam Gallu suggesting a counter-espionage series.

"I realized that the program could be of great importance to national security," Zacharias says. "I agreed to go ahead with it, and I've been commuting between New Hampshire and the West Coast ever since. There's not much glamor to it — it's all hard work."

Pals Too Realistic

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A bunch of the boys were giving a bachelor party for Donald Bloomer, who will be married Saturday. To symbolize marital bliss, they took a 16-pound bowling ball and chained it to his leg. During the festivities the key was lost. Bloomer was finally freed by police.

Exclusive Watermelons

TABSCOTT, Va. (AP)—Nathan and Wallace Payne think they have about the sweetest watermelons grown. Variety? Guess you would have to call them Paynes. The family has kept growing them for 84 years from seed obtained in 1874.

Expense Report for Hart Wrong

Lists Campaign Costs $34,000 Above Limit for Senate Race

By The Associated Press

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart has reported personal campaign expenses of $59,000 in his race for the Senate, but he's not likely to get into hot water for exceeding the $25,000 limit.

"It's obviously an error," an aide to the Secretary of the Senate said today. "They've listed committee expenses instead of personal expenses."

The Democratic lieutenant governor is seeking to unseat Republican Sen. Charles E. Potter who listed personal campaign contributions of $5,333 and expenses of $5,333.

Senate candidates may spend no more than $10,000 personally in a campaign, or, alternatively, they may spend three cents for each vote cast for that office in the preceding general election, this figure not to exceed $25,000.

The personal campaign reports almost never reflect the actual amount of money spent in behalf of a candidate. In virtually all such cases the bulk of campaign expenses is funneled through committees, which do not have to account for their expenditures.

Hart listed contributions of $11,845 from the Hart Revolving Fund, Lansing; $43,719 from the Hart Committee, Pontiac; and $12,219 from the Friends of Philip A. Hart, Detroit. This totals $67,783 but a transfer of $8,500 from one committee to another reduced the total by $8,600 — to 59,283.

Hart listed campaign expenses of $12,766 fro mthe Revolving Fund, $36,919 from the Pontiac Committee and $9,412 from the Friends of Philip A. Hart. Total such expenditures came to $59,097.

Potter's $5,333 in contributions included $2,500 from the National Republican Senatorial Committee and $1,357 from the Committee for Sen. Charles E. Potter.

Each candidate must file a final financial report with the Senate secretary by Dec. 4, win or lose.

Brigitte Bardot Issues Warning to Biographers

PARIS (AP)—Movie sexpot Brigitte Bardot warned today that she would take legal action against anyone trying to publish an unauthorized biography of her.

The 23-year-old French love kitten said in a statement to Paris newspapers that at least 10 people are now pestering her to write the story of her life and loves.

Her warning may have been designed to protect the market for a more or less official account now being revised by her mother.

That volume was almost ready for publication but was withdrawn when Brigitte announced her engagement to guitar player Sacha Distel. The book had proclaimed the film star's determination never to marry again after her lively but unsuccessful marriage to movie director Roger Vadim, who made her unclad curves famous.

TV Critics Demand, Then Shun Education

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The trouble with critics of television is that they talk one way and dial the other, a New York advertising executive says.

"People like to imagine themselves as more erudite than they generally are," John P. Cunningham told the San Francisco Advertising Club.

Nation's Traffic Deaths Below 1957 Totals

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll continues to run below last year's totals, says the National Safety Council.

Up to Oct. 1, the toll was 26,180, six per cent lower than the 27,770 for the first nine months of 1957.

The September toll of 3,300 compared with 3,330 for September 1957, a decrease of 1 per cent, and the 21st month in the last 22 to show a drop in traffic deaths from the same months of the preceding year.

Kentucky Town Ending Witching Hour Early

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — The witching hour for Harlan youngsters is going to end early Halloween.

Police Chief Jim Howard yesterday ordered a 9 p.m. curfew for the trick-or-treaters, commenting:

"We want everyone to have a good time, but we don't want them to overdo it."

Titled Ladies' Pursuit Fails to Turn His Head

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Although Frank Sinatra's been taken up by the British ladies in London, he certainly hasn't been acting lordly to we commoners who knew him when he was fresh out of Hoboken.

WILSON

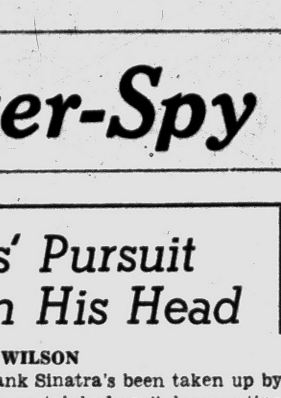

"Will this have gone to his head?" I wondered in London the other day when I got into the Dorchester "lift" to ride up to his penthouse suite, where he was giving a small cocktail party.

A moment later a servant, answering my ring, said, "Mr. Sinatra is still in the bawth." I feared the worst.

But suddenly there was Frank—inserting studs in his tux shirt — asking a British columnist and me, "Can I get a drink for you kids?"—a kindly remark to two old warhorses. As the dozen guests arrived, not a title among them, Frank sat beside a burning fireplace nursing a Jack Daniels bourbon and led the conversation into non-regal paths.

One British friend who knows Frank can take a kidding said to him, "On your last album, you sounded a lot like Julius La Rosa." Frank grinned, and later paid a fat compliment to Vic Damone. "He's got the best set of pipes of anybody singing today," he said.

SINATRA

Frank's amazed, I believe, by his London popularity. "I thought I got a lot of mail at home, but here——!" he remarked.

That's why some British papers — completely without conscience in their glamour reporting — practically shadow him, and if they find no tidbits, compose fiction about him. great London columnist, Cassandra, should blast that part of the British press which happily prints lies about American stars if it can find no truth that's exciting.

A woman at the party told Frank, "I'm going to Hollywood to write your life story."

"Your papers have already written it—they even had me married!" Frank said. (He told me privately he and American-born Lady Beatty both resented stories they will marry.)

"We'll continue to see each other because we're friends but we both have friends all over the world," he said. Suddenly Frank told the party guests, "Hey! I forgot to tell everybody there's food out there."

Frank led the way, especially to the caviar, shouting that his dad and mother had brought him up on this stuff. I had to go catch a jet. Frank said he goes next to Miami to film "Hole in the Head."

"I'll be in New York 10 days seeing some shows," he said. He wasn't really much changed from 18 years ago when he was Tommy Dorsey's skinny little band singer out at Meadowbrook, where the kids of the year 1940 used to quit dancing and crowd round the bandstand to listen.

EARL'S PEARLS: Suggested safety slogan for drivers: "Instead of one more for the road, have one less for the traffic."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: No matter how the college alumni travel to the football game, they all end up riding the coach.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The reason so many married women are working today is that they can't stand watching daytime TV. . . . That's earl, brother.

Is Dog Entitled to 1 Bite Before Law Steps In?

OWOSSO (AP) — Is a dog entitled to one bite before a legal complaint can be made against the owner?

If so, does biting livestock count?

Those points of law and others are involved in a Shiawasse County case that is going to the attorney general for clarification.

Prosecutor Jay M. Terbush Jr. said yesterday he will seek an attorney general's opinion on whether he is required to defend a county official against civil suits.

The confusion started when Garfield Temple, county dog warden, turned some dogs over to the Humane Society and they were destroyed. He said he caught the dogs attacking sheep.

The owners of the dogs, William Carpenter of Flint and Gerald E. Harrison of Bancroft, were miffed and they filed suit against Temple.

The county's supervisors took the problem under advisement. Glen Moore said he believed a dog caught attacking livestock could be killed legally on the spot. Floyd F. Dysinger said a dog "is entitled to one bite" before a complaint can be made against its owner.

But Prosecutor Terbush said he believes it can be assumed an owner doesn't know his dog is vicious until it bites a human.

Terbush said he recognizes his duty to defend the county in any civil suit but questions whether he must defend a county official as an individual.

$100,000 Blaze Guts Detroit Supermarket

DETROIT (AP) — Fire destroyed the interior of a supermarket (The Shopping Bag Market, 11146 Mack) here last night. Three firemen were overcome temporarily by smoke and seven persons were routed out of their apartments above the market.

Emil Weiss and Sam Katz, owners of the market, estimated damage at $100,000.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Ford Plant Explosion Kills One, Injures One

DETROIT (AP) — One man was killed and another critically injured yesterday in an explosion at Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant near Detroit.

Leo Cabanaw, 59, of Inkster was dead on arrival at a hospital. He was a millwright and had worked for Ford for 35 years.

Herschel Daly, 60, of Detroit was hospitalized in critical condition with third degree burns over most of his body.

A Ford spokesman said it was believed the explosion occurred when a spark from a welding torch set off coal dust while the two were repairing a broken conveyor on a coal bunker.

ADM. ELLIS M. ZACHARIAS
Former Navy Intelligence Chief

Plots Gleaned From Reality

Adm. Zacharias (Ret) Taps Knowing Sources for TV Stories

HOLLYWOOD—"I keep my files, for the most part, in my head," says Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, U.S.N. (Ret.), who provides the background material for the counter-espionage series "Behind Closed Doors" on NBC-TV Network, Thursdays.

Zacharias' material is not the kind of thing to be left lying around on a desk or in an unlocked drawer. He has gleaned it from interviews with escapees from behind the Iron Curtain, from high-ranking political exiles, espionage agents, atomic scientists and others he is careful not to name.

The experiences of these shadowy fighters of the cold war are being spotlighted in "Behind Closed Doors." Its first program told the story of an American agent who fitted out a fishing boat with radar and depth charges and scared off a Russian submarine spying on U.S. missile operations at Cape Canaveral.

"This sort of thing is actually going on," says Zacharias, consultant for the series. "It has not been publicized to a great extent, but Russian submarines have been sighted repeatedly off our coasts. This is called 'hovering,' and it's a violation of international law.

"Thanks to the Russians, we have enough material to keep the series going for five years.

If we ever do run out, we can go back to some of the secret missions in World War II. Just the other day I looked up a man I sent into occupied Italy. He's got one of the most exciting stories of the war."

Zacharias made an enviable record in World War II both as a combat commander and an intelligence chief. Congressional hearings have since brought out the fact that as early as March, 1941, he warned of the impending Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and even gave many of the details, though not the date, of the Japanese plan.

On sea duty, he commanded the heavy cruiser Salt Lake City as escort vessel of the carrier from which Gen. James Doolittle launched his raid on Tokyo. He later commanded the battleship New Mexico in the invasion of Guam.

He was then called to Washington, where he was made deputy chief of Naval Intelligence. He created the psychological radio warfare aimed at persuading the Japanese to surrender unconditionally.

His work brought congratulations from the commander-in-chief of the U.S. Fleet, who praised him for "making the Japanese see the light and bringing unconditional surrender."

Since he retired from the Navy in 1946, Zacharias has kept up his contacts with the world of espionage and has written two books on the subject.

Last year, at his home in New Hampshire, he received a telephone call from TV producer Sam Gallu suggesting a counter-espionage series.

"I realized that the program could be of great importance to national security," Zacharias says. "I agreed to go ahead with it, and I've been commuting between New Hampshire and the West Coast ever since. There's not much glamor to it — it's all hard work."

Pals Too Realistic

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A bunch of the boys were giving a bachelor party for Donald Bloomer, who will be married Saturday. To symbolize marital bliss, they took a 16-pound bowling ball and chained it to his leg. During the festivities the key was lost. Bloomer was finally freed by police.

Expense Report for Hart Wrong

Lists Campaign Costs $34,000 Above Limit for Senate Race

By The Associated Press

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart has reported personal campaign expenses of $59,000 in his race for the Senate, but he's not likely to get into hot water for exceeding the $25,000 limit.

"It's obviously an error," an aide to the Secretary of the Senate said today. "They've listed committee expenses instead of personal expenses."

The Democratic lieutenant governor is seeking to unseat Republican Sen. Charles E. Potter who listed personal campaign contributions of $5,333 and expenses of $5,333.

Senate candidates may spend no more than $10,000 personally in a campaign, or, alternatively, they may spend three cents for each vote cast for that office in the preceding general election, this figure not to exceed $25,000.

The personal campaign reports almost never reflect the actual amount of money spent in behalf of a candidate. In virtually all such cases the bulk of campaign expenses is funneled through committees, which do not have to account for their expenditures.

Hart listed contributions of $11,845 from the Hart Revolving Fund, Lansing; $43,719 from the Hart Committee, Pontiac; and $12,219 from the Friends of Philip A. Hart, Detroit. This totals $67,783 but a transfer of $8,500 from one committee to another reduced the total by $8,600 — to 59,283.

Hart listed campaign expenses of $12,766 fro mthe Revolving Fund, $36,919 from the Pontiac Committee and $9,412 from the Friends of Philip A. Hart. Total such expenditures came to $59,097.

Potter's $5,333 in contributions included $2,500 from the National Republican Senatorial Committee and $1,357 from the Committee for Sen. Charles E. Potter.

Each candidate must file a final financial report with the Senate secretary by Dec. 4, win or lose.

Brigitte Bardot Issues Warning to Biographers

PARIS (AP)—Movie sexpot Brigitte Bardot warned today that she would take legal action against anyone trying to publish an unauthorized biography of her.

The 23-year-old French love kitten said in a statement to Paris newspapers that at least 10 people are now pestering her to write the story of her life and loves.

Her warning may have been designed to protect the market for a more or less official account now being revised by her mother.

That volume was almost ready for publication but was withdrawn when Brigitte announced her engagement to guitar player Sacha Distel. The book had proclaimed the film star's determination never to marry again after her lively but unsuccessful marriage to movie director Roger Vadim, who made her unclad curves famous.

TV Critics Demand, Then Shun Education

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The trouble with critics of television is that they talk one way and dial the other, a New York advertising executive says.

"People like to imagine themselves as more erudite than they generally are," John P. Cunningham told the San Francisco Advertising Club.

Nation's Traffic Deaths Below 1957 Totals

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll continues to run below last year's totals, says the National Safety Council.

Up to Oct. 1, the toll was 26,180, six per cent lower than the 27,770 for the first nine months of 1957.

The September toll of 3,300 compared with 3,330 for September 1957, a decrease of 1 per cent, and the 21st month in the last 22 to show a drop in traffic deaths from the same months of the preceding year.

Kentucky Town Ending Witching Hour Early

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — The witching hour for Harlan youngsters is going to end early Halloween.

Police Chief Jim Howard yesterday ordered a 9 p.m. curfew for the trick-or-treaters, commenting:

"We want everyone to have a good time, but we don't want them to overdo it."

Titled Ladies' Pursuit Fails to Turn His Head

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Although Frank Sinatra's been taken up by the British ladies in London, he certainly hasn't been acting lordly to we commoners who knew him when he was fresh out of Hoboken.

WILSON

"Will this have gone to his head?" I wondered in London the other day when I got into the Dorchester "lift" to ride up to his penthouse suite, where he was giving a small cocktail party.

A moment later a servant, answering my ring, said, "Mr. Sinatra is still in the bawth." I feared the worst.

But suddenly there was Frank—inserting studs in his tux shirt — asking a British columnist and me, "Can I get a drink for you kids?"—a kindly remark to two old warhorses. As the dozen guests arrived, not a title among them, Frank sat beside a burning fireplace nursing a Jack Daniels bourbon and led the conversation into non-regal paths.

One British friend who knows Frank can take a kidding said to him, "On your last album, you sounded a lot like Julius La Rosa." Frank grinned, and later paid a fat compliment to Vic Damone. "He's got the best set of pipes of anybody singing today," he said.

SINATRA

Frank's amazed, I believe, by his London popularity. "I thought I got a lot of mail at home, but here——!" he remarked.

That's why some British papers — completely without conscience in their glamour reporting — practically shadow him, and if they find no tidbits, compose fiction about him. great London columnist, Cassandra, should blast that part of the British press which happily prints lies about American stars if it can find no truth that's exciting.

A woman at the party told Frank, "I'm going to Hollywood to write your life story."

"Your papers have already written it—they even had me married!" Frank said. (He told me privately he and American-born Lady Beatty both resented stories they will marry.)

"We'll continue to see each other because we're friends but we both have friends all over the world," he said. Suddenly Frank told the party guests, "Hey! I forgot to tell everybody there's food out there."

Frank led the way, especially to the caviar, shouting that his dad and mother had brought him up on this stuff. I had to go catch a jet. Frank said he goes next to Miami to film "Hole in the Head."

"I'll be in New York 10 days seeing some shows," he said. He wasn't really much changed from 18 years ago when he was Tommy Dorsey's skinny little band singer out at Meadowbrook, where the kids of the year 1940 used to quit dancing and crowd round the bandstand to listen.

EARL'S PEARLS: Suggested safety slogan for drivers: "Instead of one more for the road, have one less for the traffic."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: No matter how the college alumni travel to the football game, they all end up riding the coach.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The reason so many married women are working today is that they can't stand watching daytime TV. . . . That's earl, brother.

Is Dog Entitled to 1 Bite Before Law Steps In?

OWOSSO (AP) — Is a dog entitled to one bite before a legal complaint can be made against the owner?

If so, does biting livestock count?

Those points of law and others are involved in a Shiawasse County case that is going to the attorney general for clarification.

Prosecutor Jay M. Terbush Jr. said yesterday he will seek an attorney general's opinion on whether he is required to defend a county official against civil suits.

The confusion started when Garfield Temple, county dog warden, turned some dogs over to the Humane Society and they were destroyed. He said he caught the dogs attacking sheep.

The owners of the dogs, William Carpenter of Flint and Gerald E. Harrison of Bancroft, were miffed and they filed suit against Temple.

The county's supervisors took the problem under advisement. Glen Moore said he believed a dog caught attacking livestock could be killed legally on the spot. Floyd F. Dysinger said a dog "is entitled to one bite" before a complaint can be made against its owner.

But Prosecutor Terbush said he believes it can be assumed an owner doesn't know his dog is vicious until it bites a human.

Terbush said he recognizes his duty to defend the county in any civil suit but questions whether he must defend a county official as an individual.

$100,000 Blaze Guts Detroit Supermarket

DETROIT (AP) — Fire destroyed the interior of a supermarket (The Shopping Bag Market, 11146 Mack) here last night. Three firemen were overcome temporarily by smoke and seven persons were routed out of their apartments above the market.

Emil Weiss and Sam Katz, owners of the market, estimated damage at $100,000.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Vatican Smoke Question Is Cloudy Issue

By BOB CONSIDINE

ROME—There was a cartoon in a Roman newspaper the other day showing the Sistine Chapel's ballot-burning stove sitting in a doctor's chair and looking very unhappy about the diagnosis. The doctor is saying "Lack of appetite. Dizzy head. Loss of memory. These symptoms are clear. You smoke too much!"

Smoke has been discussed here more since last Sunday than any other topic. The confusing vapors which rose from that slender chimney jutting out a window of the world's most famous chapel replaced Gina Lollobrigida as Rome's chief conversation piece.

We continued our research into the origins of papal smoke signals today. L'Osservatore Romano was a great help. So was John Casserly, our Rome correspondent, and Father Michael Mayor of the Philippines, who is studying at the Vatican.

Seems that for centuries the sight of smoke rising from the voting room of a papal conclave had only one meaning—no Pope had yet been chosen. It didn't matter what shade it was. Smoke simply meant the burning of ballots and attendant memoranda and that was that.

It was actually not until 1939 when Cardinal Pacelli became Pope on the third ballot that the Vatican cooperated with the myth which had gathered credence through the years that black smoke meant disagreement and white smoke success.

In very olden times the ballots were burned in an open fire pit believed to have been placed in the center of the balloting room or place.

The stove appears ot have come into use in 1559 to keep the smoke from fogging the great new paintings of Michaelangelo in the Sistine Chapel. The chimney might have been added at the conclave of 1565.

Whatever the real facts, the world ever since then has looked to the smoke over that fabulous chapel as the sign—as misinterpreted in the past as it was last Sunday—of the outcome of the secret voting.

The semi-official Vatican paper blamed "foreigners and journalists" for creating what it crossly calls the "butterfly" myth of black versus white smoke — though the paper neglects to add the myth became such solid fact that the cardinals laid in a supply of black and white smoke bombs Monday.

As the population of Rome increased with the Renaissance, the crowds which gathered outside the walls of conclaves increased.

Newcomers to the Eternal City were apparently first to spread the tale that much could be learned from the color of the smoke. But it plainly was never an exact science.

For example, on Feb. 21, 1878, St. Peter's Square was emptied at 12:30 p.m. when smoke appeared at the tip of the chimney. At 1 p.m., however, the big doors of the loggia over the entrance to the Basilica were opened and out stepped one of the greatest popes in the history of the Church—Leo XXIII. Another vote had been taken after 12:30. Simple as that. Leo's first blessing to the city and the world was given to an all but deserted square.

No smoke, black or white, immediately preceded the appearance on the loggia in 1903 of Pius X, who has since been canonized. He had been chosen by the cardinals as a gesture of defiance to Emperor Franz Joseph, who had tried to dictate the selection of one of his favorite cardinals, but Pius X turned out to be one of the jewels of the papacy.

The conclave that produced Benedict XV, successor to Pius X, created much advance confusion for which "new families" were to be blamed—L'Osservatore Romano scolded. It added "since then newspapermen from abroad have create dthe myth of the white and the black smoke."

The paper also recalled a false report on the election of Pius XI in 1922. "The news spread that the pope had been elected because somebody had said 'The clear smoke, not black, means an election has been reached' a big crowd came running toward the square but had to go back disappointed."
