

Barry Challenges LBJ to Debate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater challenged President Johnson today to debate foreign policy, and accused him of leading the kind of administration that has tempted aggressors "to plunge the world into war."

The Republican presidential nominee charged Johnson's televised announcement of retaliatory U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam gave the Communists time in which they could have bolstered their defenses for the attack.

And he said a Republican would not have let U.S. policy in Southeast Asia "become so confused" that the Communists would risk torpedo boat attacks on U.S. destroyers.

Goldwater, in a speech prepared for delivery at the Illinois State Fair, said the Democrats want to shelve foreign policy as a campaign issue.

"I say that foreign policy is a major issue in this political campaign," he said. "I say it must be discussed. I only wish it could be debated by both the candidates for the presidency."

"And I am willing," the Arizona senator said, "But I can understand why this administration doesn't want to talk about it and why it's leader won't debate it."

"This nation has gone to war under the leadership of only one party," Goldwater said. "Only under administrations such as this one have we become so weak that aggressors have been tempted to plunge the world into war."

"Only under administrations such as this one have we closed our eyes to reality and had to open them to the sound of gunfire."

Goldwater said his political foes charged he is preoccupied by war "or eager to start one."

"There is no greater political lie," he said.

While in Washington yesterday, Goldwater conferred with 13 college professors about major issues likely to come up in the campaign. Alides said the meeting was off the record—a closed session—and they could not provide details.

In another development yesterday, Gary Kidwell, Goldwater's transportation officer, said newsmen who travel with the senator during the campaign will be required to post $3,600 advance deposits for seats on his plane. Deposits will be required, too, of reporters who travel with Rep. William E. Miller, the vice-presidential nominee, Kidwell said, but the amount has not been determined yet.

LBJ's Holdings Top $3 Million

Figures Released at Johnson's Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — An accounting firm hired at the direction of President Johnson reported today that the Johnson family fortune totals $3,484,096.

The firm of Haskins & Sells said the President and Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines, had total assets of $3,682,770 as of July 31.

On the same date, the family had liabilities of $196,672, which reduced their net worth to $3,484,096.

The accounting firm said President Johnson's assets amounted to $477,417 and his liabilities were $99,336.

The detailed statistical table made it evident that most of the Johnson wealth is held in the name of the First Lady, Mrs. Johnson's assets were said to total $2,225,634 with liabilities of $99,336.

NET WORTHS

This gave Mrs. Johnson a net worth of $2,126,298 compared with $378,061 for Johnson.

Lynda Bird Johnson's assets were put at $490,141. Those of her sister, Luci Baines, were given as $489,578.

The table listed no liabilities for either of the daughters.

BARRY'S BALANCE

Financial figures for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, were given out Aug. 13 by the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., which administers the Goldwater trust accounts.

The holdings of Goldwater and his wife were shown as totaling $1.7 million as of June 30, largely in stocks.

New Wage Scales to Be Implemented

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said last night that full implementation of new wage scales for Pontiac city employees is expected by Sept. 6.

This means that, for the individual employee, the wage hike will first be reflected in paychecks to be issued Sept. 20.

Never Let Go of Line During Long Ordeal

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Battered by a ham sandwich, weary 15-year-old Tom Joyner Jr., battled a 370-pound sting ray for 18 hours.

He finally got it to shore, but with the help of divers.

"I don't care," Tom said, "I got him anyway."

He never let go of the line from 6:45 p.m. Monday until 12:45 p.m. yesterday when two divers ran an oar through the ray's gills and helped Tom haul him to the beach with a boat.

A huge crowd, part of the thousands who came by during the day, had gathered.

In Lake Crackdown To Seek State Help

Local officials tomorrow will appeal to the State Boating Control Committee for help in cracking down on what they have cited as reckless boating on Cass Lake.

An emergency session with the committee was scheduled after the Aug. 3 death of a Keesee Harbor youth who was struck down by a motorboat while swimming in the lake.

Police still are seeking the driver of the boat involved in the death of Alan L. Akerley, 28, of 2184 Park Circle.

Their investigation also has uncovered evidence of nighttime activity at the lake which West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard called "flabbergasting."

Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the Oakland County Sheriff's Water Safety Division, reported incidents of drinking parties and hazardous boat operation at night.

Township officials and area police are seeking the aid of the State Boating Control Committee in halting the situation.

Tomorrow's 2 p.m. session at the Township Hall is to be an exploratory one.

State statutes cover the problem, Rehard said, "if there was some way to provide control other than depending on manpower."

The sheriff's department has 37 men to patrol the county's 500 lakes.

If motorboats were forbidden on the lake after a certain hour, violators could be spotted easily by a patrolman, Rehard noted.

Another suggestion has been prohibiting liquor aboard boats on the lake, the largest in Oakland County.

Akerley was struck about 9 p.m. by a large inboard boat, described by witnesses as possibly a Chris-Craft and brown in color.

The development—climaxing three years of effort dating from the time when such particles were first found in leukemia patients—is a necessary prelude to pinning down whether the particles are truly viruses and whether, indeed, they are directly or indirectly involved in causing human leukemia.

It could also be a first step toward trying to develop a vaccine against leukemia.

Officials of the National Cancer Institute supplied the information when asked by a reporter what the Senate committee was referring to in its report.

U.S., Japanese, Canadian and European interests plan to spend nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with Syncom 3.

Chrysler 1st House to Vote to Unveil Its '65 Models

Apportionment Key as Session Drags On

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. unveiled the most diversified line in its history today as it became the first auto maker to show its 1965 models to the press.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler president, told newsmen at the opening of a four-day preview in New York that Chrysler spent over $300 million in developing its 130 models in nine series. This compared with $125 million spent in engineering and styling the 1964 line.

Townsend said much of Chrysler's emphasis in preparing its 1965 product had been focused on the "great central price range—between compact in the Valiant and Dodge price class on the one hand and so-called medium price cars like the Dodge Custom 880 and Chrysler on the other."

The 45-year-old Townsend, who took over as Chrysler president in July 1961 and directed its comeback in the auto market, said Chrysler's share of the market rose to 12.9 per cent in the first six months of this year, its highest point in four years.

Offered by Rep. William M. Tucker, D-Va., it would remove jurisdiction over state reapportionment cases from the lower federal courts and prevent the U.S. Supreme Court from reviewing such cases decided in state supreme courts.

Both the Senate and House moves are aimed at undoing a Supreme Court ruling that both houses of a state legislature must be based on population.

There is strong opposition in the House to the Supreme Court ruling, but the very toughness of the Tucker bill is causing some misgivings among those who would like to see the ruling overturned.

POSSIBLE VETO

They feel there is more question of the constitutionality of the Tucker bill than there is of the Dirksen proposal and thus more likelihood that it might be vetoed by President Johnson.

There is also the probability that it would attract even more opposition in the Senate than the Dirksen proposal has, making it more difficult to stop the filibuster that would certainly greet it.

Dirksen, for one, has shown no indication he will change or withdraw his proposal should the Tucker bill pass the House. He is talking of sticking it out into October if that's what it takes to get a vote on his proposal.

An attempt may be made in the House to substitute something similar to the Dirksen proposal when the Tucker bill is brought up. But one member who would like to see that happen said it is difficult to get supporters of the Tucker bill to go for such a move.

"They sense a total victory," he said, "and don't realize that in winning this battle they may risk losing the war."

Turks Return Units Pulled From NATO

ANKARA, Turkey, (U)—Turkey announced today it has returned to control of the North Atlantic Alliance, Turkish Air Force units withdrawn during air strikes on Greek Cypriot military positions on Cyprus. It suggested Greece also return its withdrawn military units to NATO.

Greece announced Monday it had pulled out of NATO units of its army, navy and air force because of the Cyprus situation.

To File Suit on Fee Offices

Court Battle Faced by License Bureaus

The Civil Service Commission is preparing to file suit tomorrow against Secretary of State James Hare to stop payment of fees to William M. Brewer and 33 other managers of license plate branch offices.

Brewer is manager of the Pontiac license plate branch office on East Huron.

A commission spokesman said commissioners were signing affidavits today for the suit to be filed in Ingham County Circuit Court.

It's the latest step in a long battle between the commission and Hare over operation of the license plate dispensing offices.

The suit will seek a temporary restraining order, then a permanent order, to prevent payment of fees, or commissions, to branch office managers in nine major cities.

UNDER CONTROL

The commission wants to bring these managers under civil service jurisdiction and standards. This would mean they would be paid by salary rather than percentage of sales.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who has upheld payment of fees, would represent Hare in the suit. The commission would hire its own attorney.

Other affected offices are in Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City and Muskegon.

Turkish Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin told newsmen that since Turkey had returned its units to NATO command Greece should have "no pretense" for withdrawing its forces.

In Paris, a spokesman for the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE) said Turkey informed NATO of its decision early today.

RETAIN UNITS

In withdrawing its air units from the NATO command, Turkey announced last week that it intended to retain them under national command as long as necessary to deal with the explosive crisis in Cyprus.

Greece followed suit Monday and announced it was withdrawing from NATO "the necessary army, naval and air force units" to ward off what it called "a constant Turkish threat against Cyprus."

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, European Allied commander in Europe, has appealed to Greece not to withdraw the units from its command.

The withdrawal of Greek and Turkish units from the NATO defense command posed a serious threat to the alliance's southeast flank, where NATO has maintained a standing strength of 14 Turkish, and nine Greek divisions. In addition, some 1,000 Turkish, Greek and Italian planes have formed a NATO tactical arm in the area.

DECISION

So far, Greece's decision to withdraw forces from the NATO command appears to have been limited to southeast unit headquarters in Izmir, Turkey. A contingent of 150 Greek officers attached to NATO's southeast command headquarters in that Aegean city left Tuesday for Athens, NATO spokesmen said.

Reds Say U.S. Plane Downed by N. Viet

TOKYO (U)—The New China News Agency claimed today a U.S. aircraft was shot down by ground fire in North Viet Nam yesterday.

In a broadcast monitored here, the agency said "U.S. imperialists and their lackeys sent a plane yesterday afternoon to violate the airspace of North Viet Nam in Nghe and Quang Binh provinces."

Other affected offices are in Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City and Muskegon.

The Dallas Times-Herald also published an article yesterday that it said quoted the testimony. Some of the quotes were the same as those in the Journal-American.

The report of the commission, headed by U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren, is expected to be published in mid-September.

Lifer Wants Hearing on Store Killing

One of two Pontiac men sentenced to prison for the murder of a Waterford Township supermarket manager has requested a hearing to appeal his case Aug. 27 in Kalamazoo. He is Charles Hodges, 22, who is serving a life sentence at Marquette Prison for his part in the knife slaying of Robert A. Greene on March 16, 1963. Hodges pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

"He apparently wants a transcript of the proceedings in his case and the court to appoint an attorney to handle his appeal," said Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry.

Barry said Hodges' appeal is similar to many being sought by convicted felons due to recent changes in Michigan judicial rules.

Barry and Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer will both travel to Kalamazoo, where the trial took place a year ago when Judge Beer changed the venue from Oakland County.

CODEFENDANT GUILTY

Codefendant in the murder, Hodges' uncle, Adolphe White, 22, was found guilty after a jury trial on first degree murder charges and is serving a mandatory life sentence.

The two were accused of stabbing Greene to death after they forced him to open the safe of the Kroger supermarket at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads. Some $1,500 was taken in the robbery.

Claim Ruby Admits Killing 'Own Idea'

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Ruby, in secret testimony reportedly given the Warren Commission, said it was strictly his own idea to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

In a copyrighted story yesterday by Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, Ruby is quoted as having told Warren June 7:

"I was never malicious toward this person. No one else requested me to do anything. I never spoke to anyone about attempting to do anything. No subversive organization gave me any idea. No underworld person made any effort to contact me. It all happened that Sunday morning."

The Dallas Times-Herald also published an article yesterday that it said quoted the testimony. Some of the quotes were the same as those in the Journal-American.

Student Challenge Follows Threat by Viet Leaders

SAIGON, Viet Nam (U)—About 200 students challenged Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's right to assume the presidency and accused the United States of interfering in South Vietnamese domestic affairs at a noisy rally in the Student Union headquarters today.

Khanh had broadcast a veiled threat that the youths stood a chance of being drafted into the army if they demonstrated against his government.

Referring to the scheduled meeting, he said the students could control their own destiny, "which are being decided within a few hours."

He suggested the students con-time their schoolwork, but said if they wish "to participate in the struggle of the whole Vietnamese people, the armed forces will welcome them with open arms."

Reveal Happy Lost Children

Terms of Divorce Are Disclosed in Suit

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (U)—The former husband of Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller gained custody of their four children when they divorced him to marry the New York governor, a lawyer disclosed in court today.

She was granted visiting rights at that time in an arrangement not made public before today.

Vincent J. Malone, representing the former husband, Dr. James S. Murphy, made the statement as he fought a suit by Mrs. Rockefeller seeking to gain custody of the children.

Today's arguments before Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. Magliardi technically concerned Murphy's motion to dismiss the suit. Malone said that at any hearing of Mrs. Rockefeller's action itself, his side would require medical testimony.

The New York City lawyer did not elaborate on this reference, but said it was one reason he wanted the hearing delayed at least until next month.

IMMEDIATE TRIAL

Mrs. Rockefeller's attorney, Edward S. Greenbaum, asked for immediate trial.

The case opened with a dispute—Greenbaum seeking a private hearing in the judge's chambers and a sealed record, and Malone opposing it.

The lawyers and the judge went into the chambers to discuss Murphy's move to have the youngest child, 4-year-old Malinda returned to him.

The outcome of this 17-minute conference was not announced.

The suit was filed in this far from the vast Rockefeller family estate, Murphy resides in New York City.

The children, besides Malinda, are James B., 13, Margaretta, 11, and Carol, 8.

Johnson Frank on Race Strife

Rights Unit Hears Demand for Order

WASHINGTON (U)—Saying it is time to speak frankly on racial troubles, President Johnson has declared the nation's fate will not be decided "by street rioters and night raiders."

"We demand — and we are going to have — respect for law and order in this land," Johnson said yesterday in addressing members of the Citizens Committee for Community Relations that will help implement the new Civil Rights Act.

Using the occasion to lecture the country on the racial issue, Johnson spoke sharply about speculation on the effects of the "white backlash" in the forthcoming election.

He said it is time to "cease this cynical guessing of who will be helped — who will be hurt — by disorders and disobedience and disrespect for the decency of our society."

"All will be helped — none will be helped — if responsible citizens sit on the sidelines regarding the stability of our society as a spectator sport."

The question facing the nation, he said, is not how whites or Negroes will vote in November, "the question is how we shall work together and succeed together for the next hundred years."

Americans, he said, can master the racial problem "or we can leave it to master us."

And the question all citizens must ask themselves is "are we prepared to give up our prosperity and peace and let our prejudices make paupers of us all?"

"Are we of this generation to be remembered for allowing America's progress to run aground on the shoals of race?"

A nation of courage, compassion and common sense, Johnson added, "must not and will not allow its greatness to be degraded by those who work only for its division."

Johnson said the nation has chosen to meet the problem "by the answer of law" and explained that the Civil Rights Act does not control human relations.

Bloomfield School Board Closes Private Road

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night moved to close a private road at Walnut Lake, thus completing action started in May during the height of a controversy over school board property there.

Residents living near the 46-acre parcel on the northeast side of the lake attempted to block by legal maneuvers school board plans to use the beach there.

The property was purchased about four years ago as the site for a third junior high school, but was to be used this summer as a place to teach youngsters to swim.

The board won circuit court permission to use the site for a swimming program.

During the controversy, board attorney Lawrence King recommended that a blockaded road running across the property be closed.

SOME FAVOR — Although it is not the only access route to lakefront homes, it does appear to be favored over a gravel one by a half dozen residents.

King noted the road might become public property if allowed to be used for a certain period of time.

Last night the resolution he drew up was approved by the board. Adjacent property owners will be given a 60-day notice of the closing.

Facing the opening of school, the board has scheduled three special meetings within the next month.

Eye Tax Study at Sylvan Lake

Legislation Sought to Limit City Levy

A citizens' committee, formed to study a proposed tax limitation charter amendment in Sylvan Lake, will convene at 8 o'clock in the Sylvan Lake City Hall.

The proposed amendment would change Sylvan's City Charter to provide that future levies for the general fund be limited to one per cent of the city's assessed valuation as equalized.

Presently, the charter provides for a two per cent ceiling, based on "assessed valuation." However, according to Sylvan city officials, the practice has been to equalize local assessed values.

Thus, the amendment being proposed for the November ballot would also iron out a legal question if adopted by voters.

Former councilman Edwin F. Clark is the sponsor of the amendment.

PRESSURE GROUPS

Clark, who served six years on the Sylvan Lake council, claims that the tax ceiling is necessary to answer pressure groups.

"It's good to keep a ceiling so that when pressure groups come calling, you can point out that you're already taxing to the limit."

Clark's amendment, filed for the fall ballot with 90 signatures on the petition, would prevent general fund taxes from exceeding the current levy.

The city is now levying only about half the two per cent limit.

EXPLAINS CHARTER

Leroy Traflet, city manager, explained that the charter now only states "two per cent of assessed valuation" without saying whether the tax limit is based on local assessed valuation or state equalized valuation.

The amendment would put in the charter the words "... assessed valuation, as equalized by the state tax commission," which Traflet said would put into print what has been practiced.

Legal interpretations, according to Traflet, have said that the charter's "valuation" means state equalized valuation.

Driver Tells of Savagery in Congo Deaths of U.N. Officials

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—An account of savagery and murder has been brought back by a Congolese driver who witnessed the death of two U.N. officials on a mercy mission to a Watutsi refugee camp.

The driver reported to U.N. authorities Tuesday that the two Frenchmen were hacked with machetes and hit with a burst of machine gun fire by a mob of Watutsi warriors and Congolese rebels.

As the crowd hurled itself on him, Jean Plique, 32, head of the Bukavu branch of the International Labor Organization, pleaded: "Gentlemen, we are here to help you and not for anything else."

A Congolese rebel then fired a dozen shots at Plique and his companion, Francois Preziosi, 45, Bukavu representative of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees.

INVESTIGATE REPORTS

Plique and Preziosi had gone to the encampment just north of Bukavu on Lake Kivu in the eastern Congo to free 120 refugees held by authorities and investigate reports of threatened reprisals against Watutsi refugees.

The tall and fierce Watutsis have been fleeing Rwanda since 1959 when their former slaves, the Bahutu, gained control of the country. About 60,000 Watutsis are in the Congo.

George Yologero, the Congolese chauffeur of the U.N. officials, said the two men had been warned that the Watutsis sympathized with Communists supported rebels in the area, but that they insisted on carrying out their mission.

As they approached the camp, Yologero said, they saw men armed with submachine guns, rifles and gasoline bombs lurking along the roadside. After continuing a third of a mile, the car was stopped by the rebels and some Watutsis carrying spears and machetes.

WAVED HANDKERCHIEF

"The crowd began to howl, including the women and children who were a short distance away," the driver said. He stepped out of the car, waving a white handkerchief.

Yologero said he tried to tell the crowd that the U.N. officials were there to help. He was told to shut up. Some blamed the United Nations for the Congo's troubles.

The crowd ordered Yologero to kneel and several men searched the U.N. officials. When they found a pistol on Plique, the crowd rushed at the Frenchmen.

Yologero escaped, with only a knife wound in the arm.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

Prof. Bibiano Opojuotafal, head of the United Nations in the Congo, called the deaths a terrible tragedy. He said Preziosi was about to leave the Congo.

Other reports spoke of a "catastrophic situation" in Albertville, the rebel-held capital of northern Katanga. The town was said to be in the hands of drunken young hoodlums of the Bahutu tribe. The reports said that Europeans had been killed, including two Belgian priests.

While the rampage continues, Congolese government forces were reported closing in on Albertville.

In Kenya, a dozen demonstrators marched with banners outside the U.S. Embassy in Nairobi Tuesday protesting American military assistance to Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe's regime. "We won't allow you to turn the Congo into another Viet Nam," the demonstrators said in a letter to U.S. Ambassador William Attwood.

Reap Data From Space Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space scientists expect to obtain a wealth of information about shielding manned spacecraft from the 11-minute space ride a payload of special shielding materials took Tuesday.

The early morning test from Wallops Island, Va., was quickly labeled a success. In fact, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said analysis would take a considerable amount of time because of the large amount of data obtained.

The special shielding materials sent aloft from Wallops are of the kind designed to protect manned spacecraft from intense heat on reentering the earth's atmosphere.

The payload reached an altitude of 130 miles, then was accelerated downward by the firing of the Scout rocket's two upper stages and an extra spacecraft motor.

Warren Man Killed on Road in Georgia

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—Joseph Daylor, 64, of Warren, Mich., was injured fatally Monday in a two-car collision on U.S. 41 in the Marietta city limits. Police said Daylor was a passenger in a car driven by William F. Kunst, 49, of St. Clair Shores, Mich. Kunst, charged with driving on the wrong side of the road, received minor injuries.

Manager Quits Post

WALLED LAKE — Frank C. Derby has left his post as city manager after a year and four months on the job.

The resignation accepted by the City Council last night became effective at noon today.

Also resigning were Councilman Milton A. Parrish and Beverly Alex, administrative clerk for the city.

Parrish vacated his council seat because he has moved outside the city and Miss Alex will leave to attend airline stewardess school.

Derby said he was quitting "for personal reasons."

NO COMMENT

Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr., who is acting city manager, did not comment on Derby's motives.

"We hope to fill the vacancy shortly," he said.

Resigning as city manager Derby also asked to be relieved of his duties as clerk, treasurer, assessor, building inspector, road administrator and civil defense director.

He was appointed to the job in May, 1963 following a rash of resignations by city employees.

OTHER LOSSES

In the previous four months, Walled Lake had lost its city manager, fire chief, deputy clerk-treasurer and building inspector.

Two weeks later, the clerk-treasurer left. Derby came here from the city of Lathrup Village, where he had served as assistant administrator for five years.

Parrish, who has moved to a new home on Commerce Lake in Commerce Township, was Walled Lake mayor last year.

Charles Riffenburg, 406 Common, was appointed last night to succeed Parrish, whose term will expire in April, 1965.

Nab Escapee in Ann Arbor

A 22-year-old escapee from the state prison camp on Pontiac Lake Road in White Lake Township was arrested late yesterday in Ann Arbor after strangling an off-duty officer into unconsciousness.

Jack London of Ann Arbor escaped from the prison camp Sunday. His arrest came after a two-mile chase through a sewer, according to Ann Arbor police.

London was charged with assault with intent to commit murder and escape from prison after he was hauled out of the sewer.

London was spotted earlier and questioned in the old University of Michigan botanical gardens by off-duty patrolman Raymond Landis, 24, who worked in the gardens as part-time caretaker.

In an unguarded moment, London knocked Landis down and strangled him into temporary unconsciousness.

OPEN SEWER

After Landis came to, he noticed the open storm sewer and alerted police who searched above ground and in the city's sewer system.

Two officers found London lying in a section of sewer pipe about two hours later.

Ask Mills for Roads in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Five years ago nearly all the roads in Commerce Township were gravel or dirt. Nearly half of them are paved today, thanks to a 2-mill tax levy approved by the voters in 1959.

Township officials say that a five-year extension of the extra tax, to be proposed on the Sept. 1 primary ballot, will permit paving of the remainder of the township's road system.

Over 16.5 miles of gravel roads in the township have been paved since 1959 at a cost of $27,573. The work was done on a matching-fund basis, which reduced the township's cost to $423,495.

The extra tax money raised by the 2-mill levy provided $253,030 for the road improvement program.

Supervisor John C. Tiley said that after reviewing the results of the five-year program, the township board decided to ask for an extension of the levy so that the remainder of the township's 35 miles of major roads can be paved.

THOSE SCHEDULED

Scheduled for completion by spring of 1965 are Loon Lake Road to the Wixom City Limits and Oakley Park Road from South Commerce to Haggerty.

Our newly paved roads have increased property values, stimulated industrial growth and made financing available where it previously could not be obtained," Tiley said.

$3.8 Billion Allocated for U. S. Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Apportionment of $3.8 billion among the states to continue the national highway program in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1965, was announced today by the Commerce Department.

The apportionment includes $2.8 billion for the 41,000-mile interstate system — scheduled for completion in 1972. The remaining $1 billion is for the so-called ABC program which involves the construction and repair of primary and secondary systems and their urban extensions.

The apportionment, by states, with total ABC funds and the interstate aid in that order include:

Illinois—$41,730,569 and $145,690,209; Indiana—$22,533,697 and $69,152,550; Michigan—$33,468,927 and $100,802,750; Ohio—$38,450,239 and $190,563,800; Wisconsin—$22,286,793 and $24,691,450.

The event will start at 11:30 a.m. at the Glen Oaks Golf and Country Club on 13 Mile just west of Northwestern Highway, Farmington Township. Entitled "Elegance in Knits," the fashion show will feature the latest styles in knit and winter hand-knit fashions.

Models will be Mrs. Robert Chase, Mrs. Arthur Dykeman, Mrs. Frederick Fess, Mrs. George Fetherolf, Mrs. Richard Fordon, Mrs. Dudley Foster, Mrs. Fred McDonald, Mrs. William Maurer, Mrs. Stuart Meyer, Mrs. Roger Mullin and Mrs. Rod Weekley. The models will be under the supervision of Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. Harry Fritzman will provide piano music background for fashion commentary of Mrs. Vern Severson.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES — A skidding, runaway truck tore through the side of this bridge over the Cass River at the village of Tuscola in eastern Tuscola County a week ago, but the bridge refused to fall until yesterday. The 170-foot span collapsed as expected but caused no injuries, as it had been closed to traffic since the initial accident.

Nab Bandit After Inkster Crime Spree

INKSTER (AP) — Police cornered a knife-wielding bandit following a crime spree in this western Detroit suburb during which three persons were stabbed in less than 24 hours.

Recovering from wounds in Wayne County General Hospital were Edward O. Buck, 19, of Inkster; James Halliday, 36, of Redford Township; and Det. Frank Longhi of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Inkster Police Sgt. Marion Thomas said Longhi was stabbed in the hand when he cornered a man in a field in the Harrison-Michigan area of the suburb. Thomas declined to reveal the suspect's name.

Buck was stabbed in the chest Monday night when he tried to flee from a man who attempted to rob him on an Inkster street, Thomas said.

STABBED

Halliday was stabbed under the right eye and in the chest when a bandit surprised him in his car Tuesday night. Thomas said the holdup man apparently hid in the back seat.

"A few minutes later, we got a call that a man answering the suspect's description snatched a purse in a bar," said Thomas. "We chased him into the field where Longhi caught him."

Women's Club in Lake Orion Slates Benefit

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Women's Club will hold its annual scholarship benefit luncheon, fashion show and card games Thursday.

The "Day in the Country" event will begin at 12:30 p.m. in the Undercroft room of St. Mary's, in the Hills Episcopal Church at 2512 Joslyn.

Mrs. Ray Van Wagoner will be fashion commentator. Reservations or tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Harry Slater, 1150 Seneca, or Mrs. John Lessiter, 501 Baldwin. Mrs. Slater is general chairman for the event.

Shelby Twp. Company Gets Air-Condition Bid

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A contract for air-conditioning of the Shelby Township offices was awarded to a local firm at the regular township meeting last night.

The $2,035 contract was awarded to Walt's Plumbing and Heating.

The program is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

County Dairymen Lead State in Use of Cow Test Methods

Oakland County's dairymen lead the state in the use of testing procedures on herd health, according to Jay Poffenberger, county agriculture agent.

Although Sanilac County has the most cows on test with 6,900 counted, Oakland's dairymen had the highest percentage on test.

Of the 4,797 dairy cows in Oakland County, 43 per cent, or 2,063 have been tested. A total of 36 counties had at least 20 per cent of their dairy cattle on test in 1963.

The number of Michigan dairymen keeping production records on their dairy cattle is increasing each year. In 1963, 22.4 per cent of all Michigan dairy cows were on test, as compared to 19.7 per cent in 1961.

Romney Aide Denies Charge

'Staff Efforts Not at Taxpayers' Expense'

LANSING (AP) — Aides to Gov. George W. Romney said today the campaign activities of four members of the governor's staff are not costing Michigan taxpayers anything. Robert McIntosh, Romney's legislative liaison assistant, said there was no basis for the charge, made in a St. Joseph speech by Romney's Republican primary foe, Ferndale auto dealer George Higgins.

Higgins criticized Romney for a letter which, he said, listed an executive office telephone number for the use of persons wishing to contact McIntosh and others on Romney's staff on campaign business.

The letter in question was mailed to local and county chairmen of the GOP and Romney campaign organizations, explaining that the executive office staff aides could be consulted on special campaign problems.

NORMAL CHAIN

"It simply was designed for problems that can't be handled through the normal chain of command," said McIntosh.

McIntosh, his assistant, Miss Lucille Kappinger, legal aide Robert Danhof and Malcolm Lovell, chairman of the State Labor Mediations Board, are appointed by Romney, paid with funds provided by the legislature but are not subject to the civil service rules barring political activity by classified employees.

McIntosh said he and others use a credit card, paid for by Romney campaign funds, for outgoing private campaign calls.

Barbecue in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — The board of the Ortonville Methodist Church will sponsor its annual chicken barbecue Saturday from 5 to 7 p.m. Take-out orders will be available.

New 4-H Program in State Teaches Scientific Dairying

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan 4-H groups are pioneering a new dairy science program very likely to spread to other states.

Designed in cooperation with dairy scientists at Michigan State University, the program is geared to familiarize 4-H Club members with the scientific reasons behind dairying decisions and practices.

Dr. Louis J. Boyd, MSU dairy scientist, said previous 4-H programs in dairying were viewed as limiting a youth's ability to learn the many and varied aspects of the industry.

Previously youngsters involved in 4-H dairy projects were taught fitting, showing and judging of cattle each year they were involved.

They had little opportunity to increase their knowledge in other areas of dairying.

FOR THE FUTURE

"Our 4-H dairy projects must be upgraded not merely to meet the current scientific challenge, but to better prepare our members for the future," Boyd said.

"The 4-H dairy program being initiated in Michigan has been reorganized to give in-depth science orientation," he said.

"The added depth points out some of the 'whys' of dairying rather than dealing exclusively with the 'how to do it' aspects."

3 From Area to End Nature Study Course

MILFORD — Three area persons are among 28 who will complete a nature interpretation workshop course at Kensington Metropolitan Park Friday.

This is the seventh year the 3-week workshop has been sponsored by the department of biology and division of field services of Eastern Michigan University and the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Those from the area attending this year are Joan M. Esterline, 322 Panorama, Milford; Mrs. Carrie M. Hartland, 2480 N. Wixom, Milford Township; and Mrs. Rachel M. Kidd, 37009 Bonne Terre, Lyon Township.

The group, consisting mostly of teachers, attended lectures and studied exhibits at the Kensington nature center, learned about plants and animals in the park and learned how to conduct field trips and how to plan a nature trail.

Lakes Post for Area Man

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Ira M. Korkigan, 28735 Sunnyside, has been named head of a federal research unit now studying the Great Lakes.

Korkigan was appointed chief of the U.S. Lake Survey's special studies section, hydraulics and hydrology branch. The group currently is working on the solution of engineering problems related to the development and utilization of water resources in the Great Lakes system.

A Michigan State University graduate, Korkigan has been with the Lake Survey since 1961, when he began his career as a cartographic survey aide.

WHERE SUN ROSE FOR FDR — This rustic cottage is where former President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was stricken with polio and began his recovery. The house, on Campobello Island off the coast of Maine, will be a centerpiece of an international park to be dedicated Aug. 20.

As International Park

Campobello to Be Dedicated

CAMPOBELLO, N.B. (AP) — A vagary of treaty-writing made this island, which Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson visits Thursday, a part of Canada, rather than the United States.

The First Lady, and Mrs. Lester B. Pearson, her Canadian counterpart, are coming for the official establishment of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's summer home as an international park.

More than 120 years ago, the United States and Britain were embroiled in a northeastern boundary dispute, which was settled in 1842 by the Webster-Ashburton Treaty. The agreement gave three islands off eastern Maine — Campobello, Deer Island and Grand Manan — to the mother country.

To this day there are those who think the American negotiator, Daniel Webster, was taken.

AUTHOR'S VIEW

Author Louise Dickinson Rich, in her "State O'Maine," put it this way:

"The rumor is that Webster was wine and dined so lavishly by his hosts of the British commission that he was operating with somewhat less than his usual efficiency."

From Campobello's southwestern shore, a good golfer could drop a drive onto Lubec, Maine. A 2-year-old bridge linking the island with the Maine sardine-canning town is only 647 feet long.

All around the wooded island — it's nine miles long and three wide — herring weirs jut into the sea — mute evidence that he 1,300 year-round residents depend largely, as do Lubecers, on the lovely sardine.

HIFT TO TOURISTS

But the economy's base is shifting to tourism. The $900,000 bridge was largely responsible. Since its construction, Campobello has acquired its first restaurant — and hot dog stands.

Campobello has a long, checkered history. It has been the feudal fief of a Welsh family; haven for pre-Revolutionary War Tories from New York; a base for smuggling; summer playground of the wealthy; home to hard-working fisher folk, and now again a playground, this time for motoring vacationers.

A British navy captain, William Owen, acquired the island from the crown in 1767 — in exchange for an arm lost in battle, one legend has it.

For a century the Owens ruled — the last an Adm. William Fitzwilliam Owen who built, among other things, a plank walk around the rim of an island cliff on which he could walk and imagine himself still at sea.

WEALTH GROUPS

In 1881, the island was sold to a group of wealthy New Yorkers and Bostonians who built hotels and cottages. Among them was the late President Roosevelt's father, James.

The red-shingled house, centerpiece of the new park, is nothing fancy. The accent is on comfort. Inside, it's just as if Franklin, Eleanor and their children had gone down to the beach and would be back any moment.

School Report in Waterford

A progress report on the school construction program in Waterford Township will be presented to the school board tomorrow night.

Ted Wicka, superintendent of the building program, will review accomplishments to date and outline work still to be done before the start of classes next month.

In other business, the board will act on a building committee recommendation concerning a septic system change order at the new Riverside Elementary School.

The board also will review final plans and specifications for remodeling an annex building at Waterford Township High School.

Also slated for board attention are superintendent's recommendations relative to staff appointments and resignations.

Contracts for bus insurance, gasoline and motor oil and heating oil will be awarded.

More Hints Russia Plans Space Feat

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two Soviet spacemen today gave fresh indications that the Soviets are planning a new space spectacular — possibly their biggest — in the next few days.

Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich, who orbited the earth two years ago, said in a magazine article that "August is the month of cosmic flights."

"We are waiting for new launchings . . . by pilots who escorted us and our friends to the cosmos," they said in the Red air force magazine.

Their statement followed by a day the launching of three unmanned satellites from a single rocket. Today, the satellites were radiating information to ground stations which could be used in a manned launching.

There was speculation that the manned shot could be the biggest attempt yet made in the conquest of space, perhaps involving two or more men in a single capsule.

HINT SPACE LINK

Nikolayev and Popovich hinted that the planned space flight might be an attempt to link up two capsules in orbit. There has been Western speculation that this is the next step foreseen by Soviet scientists.

They said one of the aims of their 1962 flight was to orbit two capsules extremely close to each other. They got within 4.63 miles.

"Closer proximity of the two spaceships was not foreseen in the assignment," they said.

"But if two years ago, Soviet scientists had only the means to launch spaceships in close proximity . . . now they have created the means to maneuver in space."

They said that at present only unmanned satellites could be maneuvered, but manned spaceships also could be adapted to change course in flight.

TRIPLE LAUNCH

The launching of three "Cosmos" satellites with one rocket was announced yesterday. It was the first Soviet multiple launching.

More American Youth Brainwashed by Fidel

Another expedition of youths who call America home (they couldn't possibly be called Americans) has returned from Castro's "utopia" indoctrinated with the bearded one's ideology.

Deplaining on their return from Cuba, many of the pink punks proclaimed their allegiance to communism. A news release distributed by a cheering reception committee of 40 at the airport bragged that "the sugarcane curtain, imposed by the American Government against Cuba had been broken."

Immigration and Naturalization Service officials stamped the passports of the fellow travelers for "admission," but were not stamped "revoked."

The holders, however, were directed to turn in their passports.

This action led to the issuance of a group statement demanding that all members be hailed before the House Un-American Activities Committee for a hearing to which but three had been cited.

The protest was tantamount to a declaration calling for equal punishment for all. For one, we heartily agree with a bunch of mangy scowflaws. Let's give it to them.

We have one other suggestion affecting those of like persuasion who set out on future crusades to the Caribbean Shangri-La. Why not make it a one-way passage?

Mott Grant Benefits Area School System

Waterford Township is to be congratulated on the $50,000 grant received from the Mott Foundation to implement its community school program.

Although the concept of community participation in the educational process has had limited place in the township's scholastic activities, the grant will provide funds necessary to expand it commensurately with potential objectives.

The community school idea originated in Flint during the Depression-ridden days of the 1930s, when philanthropist CHARLES S. MOTT became concerned about the idled school dropouts roaming the city's streets.

Begun mainly as a recreational activity for the rootless youth, it has progressed to social and educational involvement of the total community, with significant improvement in Flint's school dropout rate and incidence of teen-age crime.

The educational innovation has received nationwide acclaim among educators and sociologists, and its development locally will be watched with keen interest.

Unemployment Rate Showing Decrease

Two significant economic indices were recently breached. Though one showed a decrease and the other an increase, both were good news.

For the first time since early in 1960, the rate of unemployment dropped below 5 per cent — by .1 percentage point. Correlatively, total employment rose to 72.4 million — the highest figure ever.

Although 3,813,000 people are still classified as jobless, the number would be substantially reduced were the chronically unemployable and moonlighters eliminated and a more realistic definition established for "unemployment." It is currently strongly weighted, the effect of which is to fictitiously swell the rolls of the unemployed.

These stirring figures are indeed a far cry from the Depression-ridden year of 1933 when some 14 million Americans were looking for work, representing 24.9 per cent of the labor force.

With the built-in safeguards that now hold our economy within a narrow range of fluctuation, it is doubtful whether America will ever again face such a direful economic and social outlook.

Viet Picture Still Frameless, Foggy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Viet Nam picture is just as murky and baffling as ever, with peace no nearer and the new leadership doing what the old leadership did almost a year ago on a road that runs in circles.

On Aug. 21, 1963, the then President Ngo Dinh Diem, neck-deep in trouble with Buddhists in his own country, South Viet Nam, and Red guerrillas from North Viet Nam, tightened his control by proclaiming a state of siege.

This, in effect, was MARLOW martial law with its various restrictions.

Diem's effort to strengthen his grip didn't work. His generals got fed up with him. In an army coup that ended the government last Nov. 1, Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, were killed.

The new government became the revolutionary council of officers headed by Gen. Duong Van Minh — Big Minh — who was such a poor administrator that the country slid from bad to worse.

There was another military coup on Jan. 30, 1964, this one led by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, 36, who had been on the November coup but later. So Khanh's military junta took over from Minh's military junta.

It was a bloodless coup, like rearranging the furniture of government, and Khanh let Minh save some face by retaining him as an adviser.

The new boss ran the country with the help of a 35-man military council, and made himself premier. Things got no better. The Red guerrillas continued to become more bold and powerful, despite American help.

As the months passed, more American lives were lost in Viet Nam. There was talk that Khanh was in trouble and his regime shaky. Then, in the midst of the excitement two weeks ago, he moved like Diem to strengthen himself.

The excitement began when Red PT boats from North Viet Nam attacked ships of the U.S. Navy in the Gulf of Tonkin. President Johnson ordered retaliation.

American carrier-based planes destroyed or damaged about 25 North Vietnamese PT boats. Four PT boats and an oil depot were damaged.

While the Western world wondered what the Communists would do, Khanh did something himself on Aug. 7. Like Diem of a year before, he declared a state of emergency throughout Viet Nam.

This meant tougher control over the civilian population, censorship, travel, food distribution, stronger authority for arresting people in their homes and searching them, and the death penalty for terrorism.

The announced intention of all this was to strengthen South Viet Nam against the Reds. It also strengthens Khanh's hold on his job, but for how long, remembering what happened to Diem, is uncertain.

Then Sunday his leaders of the armed forces elected him president and voted a new constitution. This is not the same as free elections. Khanh wound up with dictatorial power.

This may have opened the door to greater participation by American military advisers in decisions against the guerrillas. But it also may be the preliminary to a new military coup throwing Khanh out.

Who ... Me?

David Lawrence Asks:

Will N. Y. GOP Back Keating?

WASHINGTON — Politics is sometimes defined as the art of carrying water on both shoulders.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York has just given an example of how it is possible for him to announce his candidacy for reelection as a Republican and still remain silent on whom LAWRENCE he favors for president of the United States — if anybody.

Keating was frank and sincere in stating that, on issues previously before the Senate, his views and those of Sen. Goldwater have differed considerably and that the people of New York State are well-aware of these differences.

He added:

"I seriously doubt that any voter in New York would be impressed by any lip service I might give Sen. Goldwater or he might give me in the name of party unity."

The concrete issue has been brought to a head by Rep. Paul A. Fino, a member of the House for the last 12 years and Republican committee chairman of the Bronx.

He has just announced that he will seek the nomination for the Senate at the New York State Republican Convention later this month, and says that Keating's statement yesterday is "tantamount to bolting the Republican party."

BARRY REPUDIATIONS?

Will the New York State convention ask Keating to say whether he intends to vote for the national nominee of his party?

If the convention doesn't do so, would the nomination of Keating by the convention be interpreted nationally to mean a virtual repudiation of Sen. Goldwater as the Republican presidential candidate?

In the statement issued by Keating yesterday announcing his candidacy, he said that he believes in the two-party system and that he has "never thought of bolting the Republican party."

From this it might be inferred that Keating wants to receive all the benefits to be derived from being named as the Republican party's nominee for the U.S. Senate from New York State without being burdened with any of the alleged disadvantages associated with the candidacy of the man at the top of the ticket.

NOT UNUSUAL

It is not unusual for members of either House of Congress to express dissent from their own party's leaders. Such voters are defended as reflecting the desires of the constituencies back home.

There is no senatorial primary in New York State, so the state convention will have to resolve this question.

Taxes

The Holland Evening Sentinel

The old saying that there is nothing surer than death and taxes will ever be with us. Right here we show as of July 1, a state budget of $27.1 million which is reported to be $65 million more than the preceding year.

What will happen during the Democratic convention? The Republican Platform pledges "Removal of the wartime Federal excise taxes." Retail business would no doubt welcome this kind from the Democrats.

Then the next Congress could do something about necessary legislation to make this come true.

Consumers representing all the political parties would be glad to see some action. We have been paying these kinds of taxes for many years. Most of them were created by war emergency. The question now arises: are we still laboring under the emergency.

'High Court Does Little to Curb Pornography'

Voice of the People writer, Alfred Lynch, properly is disturbed by the obscenity and pornography peddled so openly. But he's on the wrong track in saying "the law is your weapon." Let him and other interested parents examine the evil wrought by the United States Supreme Court in obscenity and pornography cases and in tying the hands of law enforcement officials in search and seizure cases. They will find it no less disturbing than the help accorded by the court to criminals and Communists.

Law will not be a suitable weapon until the courts start looking for ways to protect the rights of all the people as well as the rights of criminals.

The only real weapons against obscene books and magazines are morality, an enlightened and aroused public, faith in God and the election (and appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court) of God-fearing judges who will honor the law, their oaths and the Constitution.

While, babies starving, atomic disintegration, the end of unions, old folks sick and uncared for, a Fascist takeover, etc. etc.

The peddlers of fear speak their lies and hate to mask the real meaning of a Goldwater win... a setback for the socialism they envision for America. They are a desperate lot for they must realize that without their wild hysterics Johnson and his program for extending the welfare state would not stand a chance in November.

Oil Geologist Wins
GOP Senatorial Bid

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — John Wold, 47, a boyish-looking Casper oil geologist, was nominated Tuesday by Wyoming Republicans to oppose Democratic Sen. Gale McGee in the November general election.

Wold, who resigned as GOP state chairman last January, defeated Kenny Sailors, Jackson Hole dude rancher and former professional basketball star, in a close race.

Returns from 606 of the state's 625 precincts gave Wold 22,616 votes and Sailors 21,222. McGee easily defeated I. W. Kinney, former chemist with the U.S. Bureau of Mines laboratory at Laramie, in the Democratic contest.

ATTEMPTS WITHDRAWAL

Kinney had tried to withdraw from the race, but ballots were already printed.

Wold and Sailors both campaigned primarily against McGee and the Johnson administration, criticizing McGee for what they termed a liberal voting record.

William Henry Harrison, Republican incumbent, and Teno Roncallo won nominations for Wyoming's lone seat in Congress. Harrison, unopposed in his bid for a fifth term in Congress, rolled up a vote of 40,340 on the basis of returns from 606 precincts.

Roncallo, the son of an immigrant Italian coal miner, defeated three opponents for the Democratic nomination.

Say Most Indonesians Captured

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysian officials said today most members of the small invasion force from Indonesia have been captured, but new security measures have been imposed on this nervous capital.

"The situation is well under control. We have most of them now," said Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak.

Other sources said two invaders were killed and 18 captured. The government has estimated the strength of the invaders at 30 to 40 men.

Authoritative sources said new security measures in the capital include strengthening of police guards at the homes of top officials and "important installations."

SPECIAL ALERT

The chief minister of Sarawak, Stephen Kahong Ningkan, said today his government has ordered a special alert for a possible increase in Indonesian guerrilla activity between now and Malaysia's Aug. 31 national day.

Jakarta, a spokesman for the Indonesian Defense Ministry ridiculed the Malaysian reports about an invasion.

"We have better things to do than just send 40 people to Abdul Razak to be captured by him," he said.

Cigarette Sales Rocket Back Following Post-Report Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed a government report in January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

U.S. factories shipped almost 5.2 billion cigarettes in June — an increase of about 8.5 per cent over June 1963, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

While cigarettes were making their comeback, cigar sales dropped in June.

Small cigars, to which many switched early this year, took a nosedive. Shipments dropped from 199 million in May to 38 million in June. But the June figure was still double that for small cigars in June 1963.

AFTER REPORT

The slump in cigarette sales had set in right after the government committee headed by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry issued its report in January. There was a considerable rebound in April, but June was the first month to show a sizable increase over the corresponding month of 1963.

June's 8.5 per cent increase compared to a normal year-to-year increase of 2 or 3 per cent.

Total sales for the fiscal year which ended June 30 were $5 billion, $8 billion below the preceding 12-month period. The new monthly report was the first this year to show a decline in cigar smoking. Cigar sales had boomed from January through May.

FISCAL YEAR

For the fiscal year, shipments of small cigars were 865 million, compared to 182 million in the previous 12-month period.

Other cigars shipped during June numbered 699 million, compared to 731 million in May and 509 million a year ago. Shipments of cigars during the fiscal year totaled 7.4 billion, an increase of 1 billion over the previous year.

A report issued by the Council for Tobacco Research — U.S.A., said 10 years of tobacco industry-supported studies had produced no laboratory proof of a link between smoking and lung cancer or evidence that smoking contributes significantly to heart and circulatory ailments or stomach ulcers.

Dr. Wendell G. Scott, president of the American Cancer Society, said Tuesday in New York that the report by the industry group was "self-serving and published without regard for the public welfare."

UNFORTUNATE THING

"The unfortunate, indeed the tragic, aspect of publishing such a report," Dr. Scott said in a statement, "is that many people who smoke cigarettes and find it difficult to quit will seize on the report as justification for their continuing to smoke."

The American Cancer Society has said cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard.

Calls NY Critical in Negro Struggle

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says New York City is the "most critical area" in the struggle by American Negroes for civil rights.

Other key cities, said King, are Philadelphia, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Chicago and Detroit.

King, head of the South Christian Leadership Conference, talked to reporters upon his arrival in New York from Amsterdam, where he attended the European Baptist Federation Conference. He is a Baptist minister.

Junior Editors Quiz on BLUE SKY

QUESTION: Why does the sky—as well as a distant mountain—look blue?

ANSWER: Our earth is covered with a dense layer of the precious air we must have in order to breathe. Suspended in this are countless 'specks of dust and other materials.

It is the sunlight, glancing off these, which makes the sky look light; without an atmosphere containing such particles, the sky would appear black as it does in outer space.

The white light from the sun holds within it all the colors of the rainbow. But the particles in the air bend or refract this white light and so scatter the rainbow colors.

Blue is the color, which because of its particular "wave length," is more widely scattered than the other colors, and this is why the sky appears blue on a sunny day.

When you look at something distant, you are looking through air with its widely scattered blue rays, so things far away take on a faint bluish tinge.

Since there is always some water vapor in the air, distinct things will also look lighter. When there is a great deal of water vapor, as on a cloudy day, this will overcome the blue rays and everything will look gray.

On a sunny day, the water vapor merely softens and lightens distant colors, and this, together with the air's blue rays, gives to distant mountains their beautiful smoky blue shades.

FOR YOU TO DO: Jack is holding up a bright green leaf and contrasting it with the different color of the distant mountains, which he knows are covered with the same green leaves. Make the same experiment. If there is no mountain in your area, use a distant tree to check the color against.

$1,000 Reward

Pays 'Do-Re-Mi' for Fifi

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—It's costing exactly $1,000 for the return of their 4-year-old pedigreed French poodle, Fifi, but Dr. Marianne Tahl says "she's worth it."

Dr. Tahl and her husband, Henry, also a doctor, left their two French poodles in the care of a friend in Los Alamitos, Calif., when they left to look for a permanent house in Evanston.

On July 1 Fifi walked away.

Mrs. Tahl promptly offered a $1,000 reward in an ad in the Long Beach Independent. "If you have two French poodles and you've grown fond of them, and one disappears—you just got to get it back," she said.

Monday night, Dr. Tahl's California friends received a telephone call from Doug Darch, a tool and die maker who lives in nearby Harborside Beach. He had Fifi.

Dr. Tahl said she would be happy to pay Darch the $1,000.

Try Cloud Seeding for Nevada Fire

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Fire fighters planned to resort to cloud seeding today in hopes of creating more rain to help them control huge fires which have blazed in northeast Nevada since Saturday.

Bureau of Land Management officials estimated that about 350,000 acres of valuable range land have been burned in the fire-stricken region, declared a disaster area by Gov. Grant Sawyer.

Showers late Tuesday helped contain two of the fires, but winds fanned the massive Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek blaze northwest of Elko through 15 miles of grass and brush in a few hours.

The Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek complex accounted for more than 100,000 acres of blackened range in an area 30 to 40 miles west and northwest of Elko.

MORE LIGHTNING

Some lightning flashed Tuesday, but there were no reports of new fires. Nearly all the big blazes of the past five days were set by lightning.

Evening winds pushed the Boulder Flat-Maggie Creek fire toward the old mining town of Tuscarora, 45 miles northwest of Elko, but the blaze was slowed eight miles southwest of the tiny community.

Fire crews totaled about 2,000 men, many of them Indian professionals from throughout the West.

Checked during the night were fires along Sherman Creek, about 34,000 acres, northeast of Elko, and Grindstone Mountain, 3,000 acres, southwest of town.

AID OFFERED

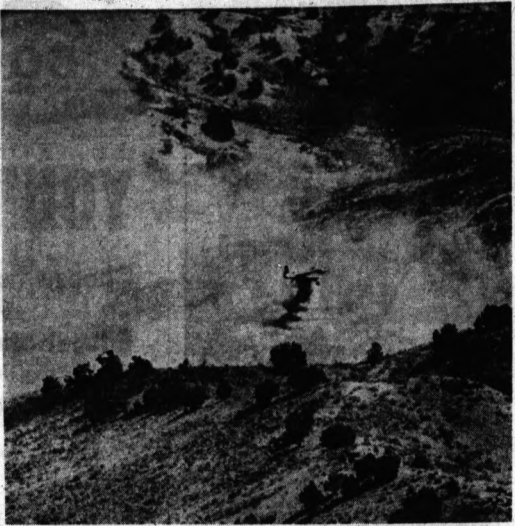

Gov. Sawyer, who was in Washington, D.C., called on the White House to offer all possible aid.

The Air Force directed bases in the West to provide what help they could. Stead Air Force Base near Reno dispatched a medical crew and ambulance and planned to send five jet-powered helicopters to Elko.

Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt visited fire headquarters Tuesday and flew in a reconnaissance plane over the fire area, which flanks Elko on three sides.

Converted bombers dropped about 79,000 gallons of chemical solutions on fire hot spots during the day. More bulldozers were moved in to help cut fire lines.

Robert Wilber, a BLM staff member who flew on a reconnaissance flight, said, "There was scorched earth everywhere. Flying the perimeter around Elko you run from one fire into another fire. There are miles and miles of black earth."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Tumors Usually Present in Blood Cancer

Q — Is leukemia a form of cancer? If a person with leukemia were cured would this prevent his getting cancer?

A — Leukemia is considered to be cancer of the blood. In the victims, tumors of the spleen are almost always present.

There may also be tumors of the lymph nodes and bone marrow.

BRANDSTADT

The newer drugs used to treat this disease may control the growth of the tumors for several years but cannot be considered permanent cures.

Whether successful or not, such treatment would have no bearing on the victim's susceptibility to a different form of cancer.

Q — Three years ago at the age of 30 I had a hysterectomy. Since then I have times when I feel crampy and moody just as I used to when I expected my periods.

Would the operation have anything to do with these symptoms?

Where does the blood go that I normally would have lost with my periods?

A — You have undergone a surgical menopause. This may be partially responsible for your symptoms.

The blood you would normally have lost doesn't go anywhere. Menstrual bleeding is a part of the preparation for the renewal of the uterine wall to receive a fertilized ovum.

With the uterus removed this is no longer possible.

Q — What are the symptoms of hardening of the arteries of the brain? What can be done about it?

A — Cerebral arteriosclerosis may cause a wide variety of symptoms depending on the part of the brain that is damaged.

One of the commonest results is what is known as a little stroke. The victim undergoes a change of personality — becomes untidy, noisy or profane where he was formerly neat, quiet and respectful.

There is no cure for damage that has already been done but steps can sometimes be taken to check the process.

These would include getting more rest, drugs to reduce the abnormally high blood pressure, diet to reduce overweight, cutting out smoking and in carefully selected cases the use of a tranquilizer or drugs to enlarge the smaller blood vessels.

Q — Is it harmful to drink coffee that has been reheated? I have heard that this develops some chemical that constricts the blood vessels.

A — Coffee beans are roasted before you buy them so when you make fresh coffee the grounds are reheated. Reheating does no harm but the caffeine in coffee, fresh or reheated, is a mild blood vessel constrictor.

Proposal Curbs Sellers

DENVER — Colorado is considering a proposal to protect consumers against high-pressure salesmen. Adapted from a new law in England, the proposal would give buyers 48 hours to revoke any installment purchases made in their homes.

BOMBING FIRE — A low-flying Forest Service plane drops antifire solution on the burning rangeland of northeastern Nevada.

About 4.5 million U.S. children between 5 and 17 do not attend school.

Sugar is Hawaii's chief business, producing one-fourth of the world's supply.

Admit Parts in Suffocations

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police say other children have admitted shutting the door of an abandoned icebox in which three children suffocated.

The victims, Howard Banks, 5, Dorene Alston, 5, and Marlene Kennedy, 8, were found Aug. 10, the day after they had disappeared, in an old icebox in a garage behind a house in the block in which they all lived.

Patrolmen Nicholas Wingrove and Frank Wilt said Tuesday they were puzzled because the garage door was closed when the children were found, and so began questioning neighborhood children.

The patrolmen said a 9-year-old boy told them part of the story and led them to three other boys. Police confirmed their story after questioning all four, who have been released in their parents' custody.

Police said the boys told them they were too frightened to say anything when the bodies were found.

'Worthy' Dali Painting to 'Buck' the Trend

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Painter Salvador Dali, whose works get high prices in the United States, is doing a new one called "Defecation of the Dollar."

Dali told the news agency Logos that the painting will be "just dollars and more dollars." The agency predicted it would be his most expensive work.

Pictures to Play Dramatic Role at Dems' Convention

In Farm Bureau Post

LANSING (AP) — Glenn Sommerfeldt, 41, of Grand Haven has been named manager of the Michigan Farm Bureau's field services division. Sommerfeldt is a veteran member of the cooperative extension services staff at Michigan State University.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — In pictures and in words, the Democrats are illustrating in Convention Hall the issues they may discuss during the election campaign. The national convention starts Monday.

The biggest pictures in the hall will be two 28-by-46-foot photographs of President Johnson on each side of the stage. Above the pictures in letters six feet tall will be three words from the first speech Johnson made to Congress after the death of President John F. Kennedy: "Let us continue."

Above these words will be pictures of former Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Kennedy and Harry S. Truman, each 20 by 22 feet.

It will be impossible for anyone entering Convention Hall to miss 18 huge photographs illustrating quotes from Johnson speeches. The pictures, each 12 by 14 feet, and the signs, 8 by 18 feet, are being mounted on the sides of the hall.

NINE PICTURES

Next to each black and white photograph will be the quotes in red or blue letters. There will be nine different pictures and quotes, each repeated once.

Those who watch the convention on television will not be able to miss either the pictures or the quotes.

Here's the theme of the photographs: what they show and what the accompanying quotes will say:

Human rights — A Negro boy about 18. He is the only Negro shown in any of the pictures. "No American can rest while any American is denied his rights."

PEACE FORWARD

Employment — A bare-chested workman in an iron hat. "We must press forward in our efforts to achieve full employment in America."

Strength and peace — A soldier with a rifle. "We must always be strong enough to prevent war . . . wise enough to avoid it."

Opportunities for older Americans — An elderly man and woman. "We must help the elderly people of America secure decent medical care under Social Security."

Housing — A happy couple and child with an apartment house in the background. "Our goal is a decent home in a decent neighborhood for every American."

Education — A teen-age boy and girl holding books. "Higher education for every young American with the desire and capacity to learn."

Agriculture — A farmer with some corn. "We must maintain and improve farm income, strengthening the family farm in particular."

conditional war on poverty."

Prosperity — An executive-type man. "We have created here in our land the most prosperous nation in the history of the world."

AP Photos

DOWN IN FRONT! — A workman in Atlantic City, N.J., Convention Hall puts a deep scallop in the front of the speaker's stand from which President Johnson will speak during the Democratic National Convention next week. The cut was made after it was discovered the stand was so high that many delegates seated in front rows would be unable to see the Chief Executive.

'No Government Job if Dad is Elected'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Barry Goldwater Jr. says there'll be no government job for him if his father is elected president.

"I would have too much self-pride" to accept the 26-year-old son of the Republican candidate told newsmen. "I want to make it on my own."

Annual movement of the nation's wheat crop comprises the biggest transportation job in the world.

6 Killed, 3 Hurt in 2-Car Crash

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A convertible shot over a medial barrier near the Ohio gateway to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday night and slammed head-on into a station wagon, killing six persons and seriously injuring three others.

A truck driver directing traffic around the wreckage was also injured when he was hit by a car.

The dead were: Jerry Tinsley, 14, of Cleveland, Ohio; driver of the convertible, and these passengers in Tinsley's car:

Farness Lewis Days, 17; Morris D. Lanier, 18; Robert Carl Price, 18, all of Cleveland; and Isaac Reznick, 50, of Brooklyn, N.Y., who police said may have been a hitchhiker. Another passenger, Kenneth Francis, 15, also of Cleveland, was listed in serious condition at Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls.

SIXTH VICTIM

The sixth victim was Frank Heinz, 26, of Canton, N.D., the driver of the station wagon.

His wife, Lenore, 24, was listed in serious condition at the hospital. Their daughter, Kyle, 3, was transferred from Providence Hospital to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh in serious condition.

Tass Calls China Anticolonialism Stand Fake

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet South Africa and tolerating News Agency Tass accused Red China today of trading with Hong Kong and Macao.

Denouncing Chinese expressions of support for "national liberation" movements as fake, Tass said: "It is not secret that the British colony of Hong Kong would have perished within months but for China's support."

"The Chinese champions of freedom actually share the profits with the imperialists who exploit the Chinese population of Hong Kong."

Tass charged that foreign ships transported goods from China to South Africa, including "great quantities of dynamite" for use against the African population.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Diplomatic sources speculated today that the visit of Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, may be a prelude to reestablishment of formal relations between Mexico and the Vatican.

The sources said there seemed to be more than just an "archaeological interest" in the Cardinal's 17-day visit. He arrived Monday night and received a tumultuous welcome from 500,000 persons.

Benito Juarez, the Mexican national hero, suspended relations with the Vatican in 1861, accusing the papal legate of interfering in Mexican affairs.

SANA, Yemen (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ahmed Fathi Abdul Ghani, commander of Egyptian troops in Yemen, said Tuesday night that Egyptian and Yemeni government troops have succeeded in excluding royalist forces from the country.

He said the Yemeni government has advised him the "people's army has won a conclusive victory" and completely shut Yemen's borders against the former Yemeni royal family.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Soviet Union was included at the last moment as a participant in an African-Asian patri-atries congress which opened here today.

The Soviet Union was originally listed as an observer. Its elevation to full membership in the congress was made in handwriting on the opening speech by Indonesian Dr. Sudjono Puspungoro, president of the organizing committee.

Efforts have been made—notably by Communist China—to exclude the Soviets from all African-Asian conferences ostensibly on the grounds that the Soviet Union does not belong to Asia.

ROME (AP) — Italy today observed the 10th anniversary of the death of Alcide de Gasperi, the premier who guided Italy through its precarious postwar period.

Pope Paul VI has sent the De Gasperi family a letter hailing De Gasperi's "efforts to bring his nation out of the ruins of war to international dignity."

Beatles' U.S. Visit Delights Former Hollywood Publicist

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — This is the week that the Beatles consolidate their invasion of the United States. Aside from several million teen-type girls, no one could be more delighted than a former Hollywood press agent named Walter Shenson.

THOMAS

Shenson said they will arrive in Los Angeles, causing despair throughout the police force. The bigger the mob scenes, the more Shenson likes it.

I remember Walter as a top-notch publicist for Kim Novak, Rita Hayworth and other local figures. Then one day he disappeared and turned up in London as a producer. He had a rousing success with "The Mouse That Roared" and followed it with "A Matter of Who" and "Mouse on the Moon."

Walter returns to his native California each summer so his two young sons will not become too Anglicized. As he was preparing to return to England last September, a United Artists executive asked if he would like to produce a film with the Beatles. "Who are they?" Shenson asked in all innocence.

Walter agreed to look into the matter and he had the assurance that if the film made a profit only in England, United Artists would be satisfied. After some difficulty, he located the Beatles in London. "They all piled into my taxi and started talking a mile a minute," Shenson recalled. "I found myself in the middle of a scene from a Marx brothers movie. That was when I decided to make a comedy, not a pop musical."

After the preliminary talks for the movie, the Beatles went to America for the Ed Sullivan show. Shenson realized he was not making a movie to cash in on a strictly British phenomenon; the Beatles were worldwide.

Quiet Beatle Frenzy Grips San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A quiet frenzy hung like fog in the air today as thousands of youngsters prepared to storm the Cow Palace for the Beatles' concert tonight.

At the Hilton Hotel the British quartet scheduled a day of rest in preparation for their first appearance on the current U.S. tour.

The Beatles arrived Tuesday and were greeted by an estimated 9,000 teen-agers, far below predicted estimates of between 50,000 and 100,000. About a dozen girls required first aid. None was seriously hurt.

The British group permitted their fans a 40-second audience at the airport before they were whisked off to the downtown hotel. A press conference turned into an autograph session when several young fans slipped into the hotel.

ARRIVE EARLY

Some fans arrived at the airport Monday night. Others began arriving at 6:30 a.m., more than 12 hours before the Beatles' plane touched down.

Police estimated 2,000 fans greeted the singers when they arrived at the hotel.

Within minutes the four were at the window of their room on the 15th floor. A faithful throng gathered.

Youngsters roared each time

YOUNG GIRL

Teens' Shrieks Cover Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A woman was beaten unconscious, shot and robbed in her room at the Hilton hotel Tuesday — her screams for help mistaken by a maid for shrieks of girls waiting for the Beatles.

Gertrude Goodman of Marysville, Calif., about 50, was taken to Children's Hospital in critical condition. Police said a bullet had grazed her head.

Augustine Lewis, a maid, said she heard screams from the room between 2:30 and 3 p.m. but assumed "they had something to do with the Beatles."

About 2,000 fans of the British singing group swarmed around the hotel before the Beatles reached the hotel four hours later.

roamed about in hopes of catching a glimpse of their heroes.

At a news conference later the Beatles obligingly identified themselves for reporters and photographers who seemed to have trouble telling them apart.

The Beatles had landed briefly in Los Angeles, where James Bacon, Associated Press movie-television writer described them as "the oily group which makes a million dollars a year for letting the audience entertain them."

A thousand or more screaming bobby-soxers pounded on the windows of Los Angeles International Airport. Only heroic efforts by a squadron of police

State Dems Withdraw From Convention Team

LANSING (AP) — Two Michigan congressmen have withdrawn as delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. State Central Headquarters announced today.

U. S. Reps. Lucien Nedzi, and Harold Ryan, both of Detroit, withdrew. They will be replaced by alternates Norman Krandall of Detroit and Kenneth Robinson of Grand Rapids in the 102-member Michigan delegation.

NEWS IN DENTISTRY

Why more dentists now recommend Crest Toothpaste than ever before

New test results further confirm Crest's effectiveness against cavities.

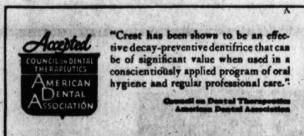

Within the last month, results of the first test of Crest in Canada were announced. The results after two school years: a 42% reduction in cavities among first- and second-grade children vs. a similar group using Crest but without Fluoristan; a 39% reduction among seventh graders.

This study brings the number of Crest clinical tests to fifteen. The Crest Clinical Research Program, which began in 1952, has included thousands of children, teen-agers, and young adults. The Program has also included variations in brushing frequency and duration of tests.

This is why more dentists now recommend Crest than ever before.

Ask your dentist about Crest. Ask him how it can benefit your family's dental health. He may recommend Crest. If he does, it is because he knows you will use Crest as part of a good dental health program. One that includes regular checkups, watching between-meal treats, and brushing often.

"Crest has been shown to be an effective decay-preventive dentifrice that can be of significant value when used in a conscientiously applied program of oral hygiene and regular professional care."

Married recently in New York City were Jennifer Bloomingdale and Gordon Thomas Walker. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Walker of Bloomfield Hills and Lyman G. Bloomingdale of New York City and Rye, N.Y., and Mrs. Harold H. Gaillard of Nantucket, Mass.

MRS. GORDON THOMAS WALKER

Gordon T. Walker Wed in New York

Jennifer Bloomingdale chose a formal portrait of candlelight silk gown de sole for her recent marriage to Gordon Thomas Walker.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Walker of Bloomfield Hills.

A mantilla of Brussels lace extended the length of the bride's court train. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses, white orchids, philips and varigat-d'ivy.

Mrs. Lennie B. Webster and Penny E. Bloomingdale, both sisters of the bride, were honor matron and maid of honor.

They are the daughters of Lyman G. Bloomingdale of New York City and Rye, N.Y., and Mrs. Harold H. Gaillard of Nantucket, Mass.

Attending the bride were Susan Hoadley, Gail H. Gould, Kathryn Koshland and M. Joanne Deer.

Dennis J. Hall was the best man. Ushering were David D. Walker, brother of the bridegroom; Michael S. Gaillard, half brother of the bride; Richard A. Brodie, Howard W. Schuneman, Lawrence C. Erdmann and Frederic Stresen-Teiler.

Judge J. Howard Rossbach performed the ceremony at the Regency Hotel, N. Y., with the reception following.

HER SCHOOLS
The new Mrs. Walker attended Spence School and is a graduate of Rogers Hall in Lowell, Mass. She also studied at Bourne-Boston College.

Her husband attended the University of Michigan and graduated from Tufts University. He will enter Harvard Law School in the fall.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Cambridge, Mass.

By MIRIAM NEAL

The sound of the Meadow Brook Music Festival is the sound of success. After the first concert, which was heard by about 4,000, the average attendance was 4,100.

For each performance, all tickets for pavilion seats were sold out in advance. Most of the "grass space" had disappeared before the concerts.

It was this success that prompted extension of the festival period for next year. Festival manager, Jim Hicks promises concerts of the same high standards running on Thursday, Friday and Saturday from July 8 to Aug. 14. But on the third day after this year's final concert what is the Meadow Brook Music Festival?

The white gates near Walton Boulevard in Avon Township are closed and padlocked. The road past the two old yellow barns is long, hot and dusty.

The parking lots, which festival manager Jim Hicks says will have to be enlarged next year, are empty.

A big wooden sign offers "FOOD" but the tents are empty. A tractor rolls the grass, erasing all traces of footprints. Even the ticket booth is boarded up.

EMPTY CHAIR
You reach the brow of the ravine and below you is the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion. More than 2,000 metal chairs stand empty. On the stage, orchestra chairs are stacked irreverently along the edge.

The only sounds are the clear notes of your own footprints and the performance of crickets singing in the surrounding woods.

Backstage the last signs of the festival are still visible. The festival was never just a beautiful pavilion in a deep, natural amphitheater. It started as a concept shared by Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Walter S. Collins, chairman of Oakland University's music department and Durward B. Varner, OU chancellor.

Her Fiance Is Strict on Rooming

By The Empty Post Institute

Q: I have a room in a private house. The owner is a widow with an unmarried son living at home with her. After her husband's death, she put up two rooms for rent.

I have one and a middle-aged schoolteacher has the other. The owner is going away shortly for three days. It so happens that the teacher will also be away at that same time, leaving the son and me alone in the house.

My fiance thinks I will be jeopardizing my reputation if I remain here while the others are away and thinks I should go to a hotel until they return. I think it's perfectly ridiculous and can't imagine how anyone could find any impropriety in this situation.

Furthermore, I think my leaving would imply mistrust of the son.

A: If the owner's son is a perfectly trustworthy person and you and he of good reputation, I don't see how anyone could possibly criticize this temporary situation and I think your fiance is being overly strict in expecting you to return to a hotel until they return.

Honor Couple at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn C. Weaver of Clinton will be honored by their sons at an open house 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Married Sept. 16, 1914, the couple has two sons, Stanley of Rochester and Frank of Greeley, Colo., and six grandchildren.

Women's Part

UF Division Learns Role

It was orientation day yesterday for many United Fund volunteers who have associated themselves with the women's division of the 1964 Pontiac Area campaign drive.

Some 44 district chairmen met with campaign leaders and staff members at the Holiday Inn for a luncheon meeting. They learned of the role they will play in this year's drive slated to start on Oct. 13.

District chairmen will be responsible for enlisting approximately 500 solicitors who, in turn, will be contacting residences and small neighborhood businesses in their designated areas during the 10-day drive.

Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie, 1964 women's campaign committee chairman, directed the meeting and introduced Bruce J. Annett, general campaign chairman, who commented, "United Fund has grown to the proportion that it is now a year-round job. It takes the efforts of each of us to successfully meet the goal."

Pontiac chairman Mrs. David Saks announced a goal of $9,384.31 for the Pontiac area, with a quota of $6,572.31 set for residential and small neighborhood businesses. A special women's business team who will be contacting smaller downtown concerns will strive for a goal of $632.

AREA CHAIRMEN

Area chairmen who will be working directly with Mrs. Saks are Mrs. John Crowley, Mrs. Richard Wolfe, Mrs. Howard Preston and Mrs. William L. Forsythe. Also assisting are Mrs. Clarissa Peters and Mrs. James Loviska, who will co-chairman the women's business team.

Others attending the meeting were Donald J. Frey, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund; Virginia H. Loveland, women's division director, and Mrs. Richard Vessey, publicity chairman.

Ice Cream Social Is Open to Public

The Pontiac chapter of Psychiatric Attendant Nurse Association will sponsor an ice cream social Thursday on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds. The public is welcome to attend the affair, which will be held from 1:30 to 8 p.m.

Listening to plans for the 1964 Pontiac Area United Fund are three district chairmen. From left are Mrs. Fred Mills, Niagara Avenue; Mrs. Ray Caughill, Dover Road and humanity are clippings about the festival and its conductor, Sixten Ehrlich.

If this were the Meadow Brook Music Festival then it has become a lovely but lifeless skeleton void of meaning and activity. Dead until next summer.

HEART BEATS ON

In reality, only the music is stilled, the heart beats on.

The festival was never just a beautiful pavilion in a deep, natural amphitheater. It started as a concept shared by Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Walter S. Collins, chairman of Oakland University's music department and Durward B. Varner, OU chancellor.

Their pebble of an idea brought an avalanche of support. Mr. and Mrs. Semon E. Knudsen became general co-chairmen of the citizen's committee which made the festival possible. Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, whose generosity provided the location for OU and the new performing arts center was made honorary chairman.

Joining in the effort were Chancellor and Mrs. Varner, chairman of the executive committee; Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis Matthews, vice chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harding Moti and Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Buhl.

Executive subcommittee chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bugas, Mr. and Mrs. C. Allan Harlan.

The list of area ticket chairmen includes: Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart S. Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Colombo Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Van Dusen and Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Skinner.

Sixten Ehrlich is musical director and James D. Hicks is coordinator for the project. THE '68
Almost 400 people on the advisory board, executive committee and the festival committee pulsed the vital money and ideas into the project.

The idea captured the imagination and support of an advisory board composed of: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Abernethy, Detroit Mayor and Mrs. Jerome P. Cavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Arjay R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Reuther, Governor and Mrs. George W. Romney and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend.

The first announcement of the festival came Feb. 2. Groundbreaking was Feb. 29. Financial contributions came from every quarter: private citizens, the Lola Wilson Fund, UAW locals, banks, utility companies and the contractor himself, J. A. Fredman.

Their support lifted the black iron beams and the natural wood roof designed by O'dell, Hewlett and Luchenbach and, most important, lifted the acoustical devices created by Christopher Jaffe.

COMPLETE CONSTRUCTION

Construction was completed by the middle of July but the final touches were still being added on the day of the opening concert.

At 8:30 p.m. that Thursday, Sixten Ehrlich and the Detroit symphony orchestra brought

Invitations Are Received

Pontiac chapter No. 360, Women of the Moose, met Monday evening in the Moose Lodge on Mt. Clemens Street, for their regular business meeting.

Invitations from Farmington, Taylor Township and Grand Rapids were presented to the chapter for star recorder days.

Mrs. Richard L. Smith will be chairman of publicity chapter night to be held Sept. 14.

The sound of success came not only from the music but from people making plans, exchanging ideas, and voicing approval.

Plans are being made now to expand the experiment to include other performing arts and provide a student system where young people can take advantage of good instruction and location in a summer program.

Now only crickets are performing in the pavilion but the festival is still going on in the minds of the community.

Breakfast Is Slated

The Raymond L. Kneisels of Voorheis Road will honor their daughter Christine and her fiance Timothy McGillis of Detroit, at a breakfast Saturday morning in the Waldron Hotel.

Joining the group will be attendants at the couple's four o'clock wedding Saturday in the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Reuben Bishop of Royal Oak will entertain the bride-elect Wednesday at a trousseau shower.

A mother-daughter linen shower was given recently by Mrs. Erwin Greer and daughter Kay in their home on Southward Drive. Mrs. Donald Hinkley and daughter Judy of Illinois Street gave a recent kitchen shower.

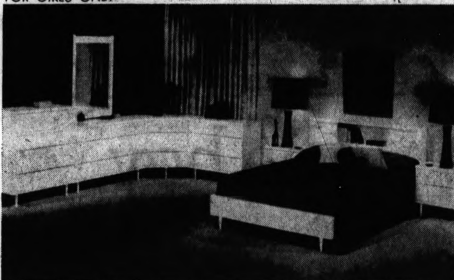

Oksana Derkacz, Julie Baba and Beverly O'Dell honored their Michigan State University roommate at a shower in Lansing.

Four Localities Represent City at Workshop

Mrs. Harvey Bidstrup, Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. E. C. Carlson and Hazel Potts represented the Retired Teachers of Pontiac and vicinity at a workshop in St. Mary's Camp, Battle Creek, Monday.

New Horizons for Retirees was the theme of the workshop, which is sponsored by the Michigan Retired Public School Employees Association.

Monday's session was devoted to legislation. Top priority was given to the problem of securing increased pensions for the earlier retirees who have 30 or more years of service.

Other matters under discussion were insurance and related problems.

Silly Goose Answers

Horn Honker's a Boor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter who rushes outside when she hears someone honk a horn.

I tell her it is not right, that if a boy wants to see her, he should come to the door.

She says I am old-fashioned, and that if she had a date with a boy then she would expect him to come to the door.

But if he just happens to be driving by and wants to see if she's home, there is nothing wrong with honking his horn.

All this horn honking and her running outside is getting to be too much for me.

Maybe if you told her, Abby, she would listen. Or am I old-fashioned?

GIVE UP

DEAR GIVE: You are not old-fashioned. A boy who respects a girl will not "honk" his horn outside her home.

And any girl who runs outside at the sound of a "honk" is a silly goose.

DEAR ABBY: An extremely attractive woman and I have been seeing each other exclusively for the past year.

I am in my early 40s and she is in her early 30s. She has recently begun to pressure me for a marriage date.

She told me that she was a widow, but I learned quite accidentally that she has had three husbands.

Her first she divorced, her second died, and her third she also divorced.

When I confronted her with these facts, she readily admitted they were true. When I asked her why she didn't volunteer the truth about herself in the first place, she said that she had been "counseled" not to.

What kind of a "counselor" would advise a woman to withhold such pertinent information from the man she intended to marry?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: One

without integrity, obviously.

But it's the WOMAN you are interested in, not the counselor.

And any woman who would accept the counsel of deception is no better than her counselor.

What else do you want to know?

CONFIDENTIAL TO DANNY: "If you cannot inspire a woman with love of yourself, fill her above the brim with love of herself; all that runs over will be yours."

These are the words of C. C. COLTON, an English clergyman (1780-1832), and times have not changed very much.

Area Bride-Elect Honored by Parties

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Dorothy Lynn Dawson, daughter of the Russell B. Dawsons of Southfield, will wed Robert Dale Kemp Jr., Saturday, in Christ Church Cranbrook, has been feted at several parties.

Mesdames Lorenzo Browning, Thomas Newton, Charles Ratan and Joy Smith, honored the bride-elect at recent luncheon and kitchen shower in Lochmoor Country Club. Mrs. Harold Turner was hostess at a luncheon and trousseau shower.

Mrs. E. Raymond Shile opened her home on West Twelve Mile Road when around - the clock gifts were presented to Miss Dawson at a luncheon. Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Shile's daughter, Mrs. Robert Scott, daughter-in-law Mrs. Edward Shile, and Mrs. Henry B. Joy III.

Mesdames Lylly Martz, Ralph Center and Ray Ridge were hostesses for a luncheon-shower in the Ridge home in Dearborn.

LUNCHEON SHOWER

Miss Dawson's bridesmaids Mary-Jane Carlson and Janith Jordan, honored her at a luncheon-shower in Rotunda Inn.

This evening, Mrs. Robert Woodruff and Virginia Dawson will give the spinster dinner for their sister in the Woodruff home while Gregg Kemp of Grosse Pointe will host the bachelor dinner for his brother.

On Saturday, Mrs. Dawson's sister and brother-in-law, the Vene Perrys, and her brother and sister-in-law, the Garland Buckeyes of Gary, Ind. will give a brunch in the Perry home for the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

SWIMMING PARTY

Donna Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Richardson is entertaining today for luncheon and a swimming party her former classmates at Bloomfield Country Day School. Donna leaves on Tuesday to enter the University of Michigan School of Nursing.

Her sister Diane has just returned from a trip to St. Petersburg, Florida in time for the party. Mr. Richardson's sister, Mrs. Donna Powell, recently visited here and Diane returned with Mrs. Powell for a 10 day stay.

SMITH-McKOWN

On an AnSable River canoe trip are James Elward Smith and the former Nancy Lee McKown, who were used recently in the Warendale Community Church, Dearborn. Rev. Robert Armstrong performed the ceremony. Their parents are the Cole McKowns of Pontiac Lake Road, Mrs. Laydon H. Smith of Highland Park and the late Mr. Smith. A long gown of ivory satin brocade with illusion veil and pearl crown formed the bride's ensemble. Mrs. Paul E. Ish, Linda Harroun, Mary Hodges, Terri Ish, Herbert L. Smith, Dennis Heffley, Michael Cain, and Mark Ish attended the couple. Both attended Detroit Bible College and will live in Dearborn.

MRS. DUANE HAROLD HEISLER

Trip to World's Fair Follows Recent Rites

After their recent vows and dinner-reception in the First Methodist Church, Romeo, the Duane Harold Heislars (Susan Kay Mendham) left for a honeymoon in New York City.

Parents of the couple, wed before Rev. Charles Dibley, are the David R. Mendhams of McFadden Road, Washington Township and the Harold W. Heislars of Springport.

The bride designed and made her floor-length gown of white sculptured damask, worn with short illusion veil. She carried cascading gardenias and Stephanotis.

Shirley Toles and Marilyn Kutchey, both of Romeo, were

On the esquire side, were best man, Dale Sheltrown of Gladwin and ushers, Gil Tinsley, Port Austin; Grant Bien, Springport; Richard Mendham, Naperville, Ill. and Donald Mendham.

The bridegroom is an alumnus of Michigan State University where his bride is a senior.

Pressure-Packed Travel-Size Lather

No longer than a cigar is a new pressure-packed, travel-size instant lather shave cartridge that takes less than one-fourth the packing space of most aerosol cans.

The cartridge, four and a half inches high and less than an inch in diameter, holds enough lather for 14 shaves.

Susan Kay Mendham, daughter of the David R. Mendhams of McFadden Road and Duane Harold Heisler, son of the Harold W. Heislars of Springport, were wed recently in the First Methodist Church, Romeo.

Festival Set to Begin August 30

The first Interlochen Arts Festival will open Friday and run through Aug. 30.

One of the high points of the festival will be the presentation next Wednesday of a citation to Mrs. George Romney for her cultural activities.

Making the presentation will be Mrs. Vernon L. Venman of Birmingham, president of the Michigan Federation of Music clubs.

GUEST SOLOISTS

Other guest soloists will include Maria DeGerlando, leading soprano of the New York City Opera; tenor John McCollum of the Aspen Music Colony, the New York City Center opera and the NBC-TV opera company; and Ralph Herbert, concert and operatic artist and a principal baritone at the Metropolitan Opera.

Interlochen's festival choir, university symphony orchestra, chamber orchestra, children's choir, double brass and double percussion choirs and arts quintet will also highlight portions of the festival.

A performance of the "War Requiem" by Benjamin Britten will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Interlochen Bowl. Reserved section tickets may be ordered from the concert manager.

Nannekins fashions a navy blue knitted A line top with V shaped white ribbed turtle neck and ribbed cuffs on the long white sleeves for cool afternoons at the zoo. Brass buttons gaily march down each side. Bright green stretch pants complete the outfit for $6. The line is available locally.

Oldest Antique Show Opens

The Redford-Detroit Antique Show will open Aug. 29 at Carpenter's Auditorium on Grand River Avenue.

This will be the 53rd semi-annual presentation of the oldest show in the state.

Some 26 exhibitors will represent five states with every item being for sale.

Exhibits will include small pieces of furniture, European china and French porcelains, early American glass and old paintings.

Primitives of wood, tin, pewter and brass will be shown and stamps, coins, guns, toys and country store items will be displayed.

Lock Horns With GOP on Who's Chicken

Senate Dems Kill Measure to Allow LBJ-Barry TV Debates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats have relieved President Johnson of the burden of deciding whether to debate Sen. Barry Goldwater in a radio-television campaign confrontation.

They locked horns with Republicans over the issue of who is chicken.

By a 44-1 vote the Senate tabled Tuesday night — and thus killed — legislation to suspend equal time provisions of the Communications Act.

The death blow for the measure — similar to the one which paved the way for Kennedy-Nixon debates in 1960 — came after some sharp, loud but unusually good-natured partisan exchanges.

Noxious Gas Hits Hundreds

Weed Killer Drum Explodes in Florida

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Hundreds of persons were routed from their homes by noxious fumes Tuesday night after a 55-gallon drum of underwater weed killer exploded at a chemical plant.

More than 100 persons were treated at hospital emergency rooms for eye and nose irritations, cramps and nausea.

The fumes, from a chemical called acrolein, billowed from open doors and windows into the heavily populated, mostly Negro neighborhood. Mass traffic jams caused by curious onlookers hampered firemen and police trying to reach the area in gas masks.

"First you choke, then you get abdominal cramps and nausea," said Vernon Barchard, photographer for the Tampa Tribune. "I vomited 15 minutes."

2 HOSPITALIZED
Police Capt. L. J. Buchanan and fireman Lionel Hernandez, were hospitalized for observation.

Herbert Friedman, president of Southern Mill Creek Chemical Co., where the explosion occurred, said the chemical fumes were not poisonous.

Friedman said he was in the plant office when he heard an explosion about 8 p.m. He said the chemical apparently built up pressure inside the container, blowing off the top and spewing snow-flake size powder over a store room.

Within minutes, the fumes blanketed the area around the plant.

CAP DRUM
Firemen, wearing gas masks and rubber suits, entered the four-story building to cap the drum. Many were overcome when fumes seeped through loose masks.

Police, using sound trucks, ordered evacuation of a 16-square block area around the plant. Firemen, using hoses, brought the fumes under control shortly before midnight.

Police issued a special bulletin over radio and television stations, advising anyone who had come into contact with the gas or chemical to report to a hospital for treatment.

Made Haul; Lost It All

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two pistol-waving young men wearing cowboy hats and dark glasses made off with $40,000 yesterday from a bank in Westbury Square, but lost every penny of it.

The men apparently got jittery when a teller at the Gulf Coast National Bank followed their getaway car. They abandoned the car, and moments later slatched the money in a garage as they fled between houses and over backyard fences.

The money was turned over to police within 15 minutes after the robbery occurred. The holdup men remain at large.

"You are voting now by order from higher up not to permit this kind of confrontation because somebody has decided it is better to be 'chicken' than to be strong and forthright about it," Cotton added.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., the keynote speaker for the Democratic National Convention opening Monday, voted against tabling the compromise measure which he had supported.

WHY NOT IN SF?

But he tore into Cotton for suggesting the Democrats were chicken. He thundered: "Why did not Goldwater debate with Scranton at the Republican convention? Why did Goldwater say no? Why does Cotton now say that Goldwater says yes?"

"The chickens were hatched in the Cow Palace at San Francisco."

At times, both Pastore and Cotton were shouting.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., Goldwater's floor manager at the Republican convention in San Francisco — said the Republican presidential nominee made the practice of "reserving his debates for the opposition party and not to create strife among the Republicans."

ONCE DECLARED

Pastore said Goldwater had once declared on a television program the president of the United States should not be placed in the position of debating an opponent.

The rejected bill would have suspended for 60 days the requirement that if a network offered free time to any presidential candidate, it would have to give equal time to all, including those of perhaps a dozen minor parties.

Although nobody concerned would say publicly that Johnson wanted the bill killed, the action came after Democratic legislative leaders had conferred with him at the White House.

The House originally had passed the measure in June 1963 after the late President John F. Kennedy said he would be willing to debate his 1964 opponent, just as he had former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

SENATE OKAY

The Senate passed the measure in October 1963, but it was not until last May that a Senate-House conference committee agreed on the final version that the Senate dumped Tuesday.

Challenger for Nomination Claims Keating Should Not Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Paul A. Fino, Bronx County Republican chairman, has challenged Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester for the GOP nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Fino says Keating, who formally announced for a second term Tuesday "cannot and should not" ask for renomination as long as he continues to withhold endorsement of presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Until Fino declared his candidacy in a statement in Washington, Keating had been expected to win unanimous nomination at the Republican State Committee meeting here Aug. 31.

Fino's move raised the possibility of a floor fight at the meeting, but nomination of Keating appeared certain. Keating's announcement won favorable reaction among party leaders, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, State Chairman Fred A. Young and Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

Fino said "Keating's failure and refusal to support the national ticket is tantamount to bolting the Republican party."

Fino declined to estimate how many of the 300 members of the Republican State Committee might support him. He said, however, that he expected backing by two congressmen from Nassau County on Long Island — Frank J. Becker and Steven B. Derounian.

Later, Becker issued a statement in Washington saying he could not support Keating because of the senator's failure to endorse Goldwater and his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

Miller said Tuesday that Keating's announcement that he would campaign independently of the national ticket would not hurt it. Miller expressed confidence that he and Goldwater will win New York State's 43 electoral votes.

Miller, who spoke at an im-prompt news conference, said Keating's decision might cost him some votes. He noted that the New York State Republican organization is supporting the national ticket.

Keating, in announcing his candidacy at a news conference, spoke of "deep differences" between him and Goldwater.

Questioned by reporters, however, Keating said: "I hope very much that I can support the national ticket. I've always left the door open and it's still open. I simply do not know what the future may hold."

A major threat to Keating's chances in the general election is the possibility that Clare Boothe Luce, a staunch Goldwater supporter, will run for the Senate as the Conservative party candidate.

DRAW VOTES

Keating conceded that Mrs. Luce would draw votes that otherwise might go to him.

Mrs. Luce — playwright, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut, ambassador to Italy during the Eisenhower administration and wife of publisher Henry R. Luce — said Tuesday she would have to give more consideration to the Conservative party invitation to run.

The Conservative party, in which there is big Goldwater support, will hold its nominating convention at Saratoga Springs on Aug. 31. The party was formed in the state two years ago mostly by Republicans. In the 1962 election it ran candidates against Rockefeller and Javits, contending they were too liberal to be real Republicans.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is reported to have more than enough delegate votes to win the Democratic Senate nomination at the party's state convention here on Sept. 1.

WAGNER OKAY

Kennedy has said he would not run without "express approval" by New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's top Democrat.

Wagner, while speaking highly of Kennedy as a possible candidate, has withheld an endorsement.

Undies Appear Unsuitable

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese authorities are trying to discourage Tokyo males from wandering about publicly in their underwear for fear of the effect it might have on the tourist trade.

The problem has arisen because of a heat wave and the excellent air conditioning at the recently refurbished Tokyo International Airport.

Reports say hundreds of men have been flocking to the airport terminal clad only in underpants, undershirts and sandals. There they relax in the cool lounges, oblivious to the stares of foreigners.

The situation was brought to the attention of Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, the Asahi Evening News reported.

The matter was turned over to the Transportation Ministry and it decided to close airport doors to persons not properly dressed.

Submit Low Bid for Bond Sale

Braun, Bosworth & Co. of Detroit, bidding jointly with First of Michigan Corp. of Detroit, submitted the low bid of 3.572 per cent on $90,000 worth of bonds yesterday to the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Sale of the bonds will finance construction of the Walton Heights arm of the Oakland University sewage system.

There were four bids submitted on the issue, the highest being 3.5 per cent.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said the general contractor for the project, Loselle Construction Co. of Southgate, is moving equipment into Walton Heights subdivision today and will start work Monday.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Democrats

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

It was unseasonably hot for April in Charleston, S.C., as delegates from every state in the union poured into the seclude, aristocratic city of the South for the 1860 Democratic National Convention—the eighth and most fateful assembly in the party's history.

The issue of slavery was no longer to be put aside. The South was alarmed as it saw its balance of power in Congress threatened by the admission of new, non-slave states.

Its position was clear: The federal government must not only protect slavery where it existed but allow its extension to new territories in the West.

FACE LOSS

The Democrats must stand for that, or lose the South, warned its spokesman, Alabama's William L. Yancey.

The odds-on favorite for the presidential nomination, Sen. Stephen Douglas of Illinois, was equally firm in disagreement: Slavery should be left up to each individual state to decide on the principle of popular sovereignty.

Tensions rose as the delegates debated the platform in the hall at South Carolina Institute.

When, after two days, the Douglas-backed platform was passed, seven Southern states bolted.

LACKED TWO-THIRDS

With the loss of these delegates, Douglas was unable to get the necessary two-thirds of the total delegate vote. Neither could anyone else and, after 57 ballots, the shattered party adjourned to reconvene in Baltimore in June.

By the time the Democrats assembled again, the vigorous young Republican party had nominated Abraham Lincoln on a platform absolutely opposing the extension of slavery.

Another new, but short-lived party, the Constitutional Union party, had nominated John Bell of Tennessee to run on no platform except a vague appeal to moderation.

The Southern Democrats were more adamant than ever, and the bitterness exploded into fights both on and off the convention floor at Baltimore.

NO COMPROMISE

There could be no compromise and the result was another Southern walkout and the appearance of two rival Democratic candidates — Douglas for the regular party and John Breckinridge of Kentucky for the South.

The election results in November showed that the Southern walkout had virtually guaranteed the election of Lincoln, who received 1.8 million popular votes and 180 electoral votes, all in the North.

Breckinridge carried the South with 848,000 popular and 72 electoral votes.

Bell received a surprising 590,000 popular and 39 electoral votes from the border states.

Although nearly 1.4 million Americans voted for him, Douglas, the "Little Giant," could claim only Missouri and 12 electoral votes.

Say Children's Test Spots Future Crooks

LONDON (AP) — Two American criminologists assert that it is possible to spot a future crook on the day a child begins schooling.

In a paper submitted yesterday to the First International Congress of Social Psychiatry, a husband-and-wife team of the Harvard Law School, Sheldon and Eleanor Glueck, said the budding criminal can be ascertained by means of a test.

A test made up of questions put to parents and children, enables the researcher to place his finger on a child with a latent criminal potential. The test is 90 to 95 percent accurate, the Gluecks said.

Eleanor Glueck, who read the paper, said the mother plays a determining role in whether a child is to become a delinquent.

The three vital factors which determine the mother's influence on the child are the amount of supervision she is giving her child, the amount of discipline she is able to impose on it and the amount of cohesion there exists in the family.

40-YEAR SEARCH

In their paper, Glueck, 58, and Mrs. Glueck, 66, said their findings were based on more than 40 years of criminal research and 33 years experience since their first publication in connection with parole were published. They turned their attention to children 15 years ago.

The Gluecks said their method of testing boys, for instance, could establish whether the child who pulled a girl's hair or threw ink pellets was a potential delinquent or just high-spirited.

Of 300 American boys tested in 1953, 23 out of 27 who were charged as potential delinquents had become serious and persistent criminals by 1963. On the other hand, only seven of 103 predicted nondelinquents turned to crime later, she said.

"It is terribly important that a mother should remain close to her children. That raises the whole question of working mothers."

"If mother goes out to work, there has got to be a substitute," she said.

This, she conceded, was more difficult nowadays when very often there is no grandmother, aunt, or elder sister to take mother's place in a home with children.

First of Three Confabs on Small Businesses

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The first of three meetings dealing with small business problems will be held here today by the House Committee on Economic Development.

Two more meetings are slated for this week, said Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, chairman of the committee. The group will meet Thursday in Muskegon and Friday at Traverse City.

Police Auction Slated

EAST LANSING (AP) — More than 1,500 separate items including bicycles, guns, watches and television sets are on the list to be auctioned off at the 10th annual state police auction here Thursday. Proceeds from the sale go to the State Treasury.

Enemy Moving In Weapons at Will

Cong Supply Routes Viewed as Key Targets

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A year ago all the Viet Cong hit had homemade weapons. Now they're using new stuff — Czech, Chinese and Russian machine guns, recoilless rifles, mortars, even the infantryman's individual weapons.

"We know it's coming across the border from Cambodia — brought there down the Ho Chi Minh trail from the North. But we don't have the men or the firepower to stop them from bringing it in."

"They're building up a considerable amount of power here for when they want to use it."

The speaker is an American officer talking to me on the Cambodian border.

This officer regularly patrols with a Vietnamese Ranger battalion. He's a hero to his Vietnamese Rangers. They're a "Tiger" unit, raring to fight.

IN FROM PATROL

When I talked to these men they were just in from a patrol drinking riotously and ready for more action. They frightened the girls they were with by playing games with a live hand grenade.

But back to the American Ranger officer: "Maybe it's like they say—the Reds aren't bringing heavy weapons down the Ho Chi Minh trail. But they're sure hitting us with a lot of new weapons and their firepower is going up sharply."

"From where I sit, we've got to shut that trail off. Otherwise they can do us a lot of damage."

The Viet Cong already move through much of this area at will.

VIETS DELIGHTED

So the American officer and the officers and men of the Vietnamese battalion he works with were delighted when word reached us of the U.S. bombing in North Viet Nam.

They hope the United States is ready to take the steps necessary to put a halt to the flow of arms, equipment and troops coming down from the North.

The Vietnamese Ranger battalion commander exclaimed: "Let's have a drink, because now the war begins."

He and his men are tired of the "half war," where you chase an enemy you never see and you're hit by an enemy you can't find.

SORT OF USELESS

The kind of fighting the Vietnamese and Americans have been doing gets to seem sort of useless to the man on patrol.

The enemy dishes it out from one safe haven in the North and another in Cambodia. The enemy in South Viet Nam kills from ambush. Though he's a poor shot, he still inflicts sizable casualties.

Some officers estimate they're losing 5 to 10 men for every Viet Cong they get.

I talked to officers in some regions on my recent tour who've been out on patrol for six months, have suffered heavy casualties, yet never have seen a live Viet Cong in battle.

CAN'T TELL

You can't tell whether you're hurting the Communists or not. They carry their dead and wounded away with them.

All the U.S. advisers and Vietnamese soldiers I talked to are tired, too, of being on the defense.

As one officer puts it, "You've got to feel you're getting back at the guy who's hitting you."

So the idea that we're at last hitting back gives a lift to the fighting men.

NO. 1

As one rugged Vietnamese Ranger put it, "We're going to be No. 1 Tigers."

An American Ranger officer said the same thing in a different way: "I feel more gung ho."

But for this feeling to catch fire and hold, the men I've been with say the U.S. and Vietnamese governments are going to have to come up with a continuously aggressive policy.

Pontiac City Affairs

GM Requests Sent to Planning Unit

A rezoning request and four proposed street vacations were sent to the City Planning Commission last night by the Pontiac Commission.

The action moved ahead some of the paper work involved in a projected plant expansion in the north end of the city by General Motors Corp.

Final approval by the City Commission is slated for Sept. 22, following public hearings before the planning commission Sept. 2.

GM seeks to vacate portions of Beverly and Tennyson between Highwood and Laurel, Highwood between Madison and First, and Laurel between Mansfield and First.

In addition, the auto firm wants to rezone from residential to manufacturing, property at

First and Highwood, which is to be used for an industrial haul-away company.

OK CHANGES

In other business, City Commissioners agreed to changes in its urban renewal plans to provide for certain different land usage and street patterns than previously planned.

The proposed changes, which will be forwarded to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for approval, will receive their final commission okay on Sept. 22.

The changes include rezoning property bounded by Pike, Saginaw, Orchard Lake Avenue and West Side Track from part commercial and part parking to all commercial.

A similar rezoning is proposed for land between West Lawrence and West Pike along Wide Track.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

City officials explain that the zoning changes would allow future developers to place their buildings anywhere on the land they desired.

This is preferred to insisting that buildings and parking be placed in a predetermined area as previously required by the zoning, city authorities said.

Also in the change in the urban renewal plans is rezoning of property between Whittemore and Cottage along Wide Track.

This land will be rezoned from parking to Residential-3, which would allow for proposed two-story apartment buildings there.

FINAL CHANGE

The final change deletes a portion of Perkins from the previously planned street vacation.

Commission approval was given to the city clerk to advertise for bids for site improvement in portions of the city's two urban renewal projects.

The site improvement bids are to be received at 1:30 p.m., Sept. 8.

After discussing incidents where state contractors have damaged local property, the City Commission authorized a letter of complaint to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

ENTIRE COMMISSION

Proposed by Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, the letter will be signed by the entire commission.

City officials reported that they have been unable to obtain any satisfactory answers from local highway officials on complaints of property damage by state contractors.

Hudson said the letter should list specifics but should also state that the commission is concerned over what has been practice over a period of time.

Because of the primary election, the City Commission last night switched its scheduled Sept. 1 meeting date to Aug. 31.

for Ypsi Greek Theater

TORONTO (AP)—Officials of the American Hellenic Education Progress Association said Tuesday members from Ypsilanti, Mich., are expected to ask the convention for a pledge of about $1 million for a Greek theater.

They said the request has not yet been discussed on the floor, but they expected it to be raised before the convention closes Saturday.

Quinine was just a bitter pill to take until an adventurer discovered it dissolved nicely in gin.

Years ago, the "gin and quinine" helped fight the fevers and made life tolerable in the tropics for many a man.

Today, from Borneo to Boston, Canada Dry Quinine Water makes some of the most refreshing drinks around. It's not the same old hit-or-miss, pop-a-pill-in-the-gin variety anymore.

At Canada Dry, we make Quinine Water in a careful and special way. We use water so pure it's called "polished" water. We make it drier, less sweet tasting, and we give it pinpoint carbonation—which means tinier, longer-lasting bubbles.

One thing we haven't changed: Canada Dry Quinine Water contains real quinine made from the bark of the tropical Cinchona tree. It shows in that glacier-blue color you see. Of course, it doesn't contain enough quinine to fight Malaria, but it sure can cure a thirst fast.

But even with the improvements and everything, we haven't taken out all the fun. You still get to add the gin.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

'Ownership'

By MARY SHARP

Spring rains came early, as his father predicted. "When blizzards blow in November, winter warns her breath in March."

The windshield wipers stopped with the motor as John parked the car beside the farm house. He'd leave the suitcases in the car till morning.

The baggage Trudy gave him for Christmas contained all the worldly goods he owned.

His father opened the kitchen door. The bright rectangle of light cast a welcome glow. Expectancy lit up the old man's face.

Silently they embraced, prolonging the moment of reunion lest a tear or unsteady voice betray emotion.

"Dad, I'm home."

The old man studied his son with a warm eye and nodded approval. This was his flesh and blood. He was proud of John.

"I've been waiting for you, son. Take off your wet coat."

John removed his coat and hung it in the closet. His father watched him silently. Too bad, John thought, that I couldn't live up to all of his expectations.

John sat down and leaned his elbows on the table. "Isn't he going to ask about Trudy?" he thought.

SO BRIEF

Dark-haired, laughing, sparkling Trudy, the bride whom he claimed to brief a time.

John met her the previous summer. She came from the city to vacation with cousins on the neighboring farm. The two families were engaged in joint haymaking operations at the time.

She watched the agrarian drama, she makes hay while the sun shines, and was entranced.

On the green stage under the blue canopy, the shirtless, sun-browned bodies glistened with sweat. The machine's rhythmic formation of holes kept time for fleeing muscles.

STACKED HAY

The men caught and stacked the green 50-pound packages of hay.

On warm summer nights and peaceful Sunday afternoons, the young people took time for fun. They invited John along.

Acquaintance developed into friendship. Friendship fired into love between the rugged young farmer and the refined young lady from the city.

They were married in September. "Too much in love too quickly," the cousins admonished.

TREASURED MEMORIES

John's father treasured memories of his own marriage. His son's happiness brought him contentment. He was the first to notice when Trudy grew restless.

The quiet, rural atmosphere and unburied living of farm routine became her adversary.

The short, grey days of winter and household routine caused resentment. The privacy of country living became isolation.

Her new life was dull, even with the most handsome farmer in the county.

TRIP TO CITY

John's father suggested a trip to the city until spring. Perhaps warm weather and the activity of planting season would rekindle Trudy's interest in the farm.

But she did not want to return. Nor did she recognize the bond between her husband and nature. The cement and brick world offered him nothing.

The sights and smells of the familiar kitchen comforted John now. The feeling of home eased his loneliness.

Sitting across the table, his father said, "John, the farm is yours."

The young man stiffened in his chair. "What?"

KEPT FOR YOU

"My wish has always been for you to have our land. Your grandfather gave me these 180 acres. I kept them for you. You can give them to your son."

The lonely hours of winter had incited this plan. Ever wary of wills, probate courts and inheritance laws, the old man determined to circumvent these procedures.

They were legal maneuvers to complicate handing down property to the next generation.

He didn't trust lawyers. Occupied behind desks, what did they know of the chattering of soul and body through manual work?

HIS REQUEST

The trip to the law office was brief. "Put the farm in my son's name," was his request.

Immortality is having a son

Political Pulse-Taker Is Took

By REIMEN MORIN
Written for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Some years ago, in a Broadway musical, they sang a song called "Leave My Pulse Alone," or words to that effect.

It kidded politicians, pollsters, market researchers and those who attempt to measure trends and discover what people are thinking about. This of course includes newspaper reporters.

In every presidential election year, I try my hand at political pulse-taking. You have some interesting experiences, and frequently they recall that song.

For example, the elderly gentleman in Springfield, Mass., in '56. He was the soul of courtesy when he answered the door bell. I explained that I would like to hear his opinions about candidates, issues, etc., his Yankee features froze.

TOO PRIVATE

"That, sir, is an invasion of privacy," he said. "Why, I wouldn't even tell my wife what I think about those matters. Now, you get off my porch or I'll sic the dog on you."

Another time, in Passaic, N.J., a housewife made a deal with me. "I have some work to do upstairs," she said. "If you will sit here and watch Junior, I'll talk to you."

So I watched Junior for about 19 minutes until she returned. It wasn't a very rewarding interview.

No, she hadn't voted in the previous presidential election. Too young. No, she didn't know how she would vote this time "because I don't know what my husband thinks."

NOT ALWAYS

But it doesn't always work that way. In Dallas, Tex., I questioned a man about his preferences. When he left the room, his wife whispered, "He says he's going to vote for Eisenhower, but don't you believe him."

"Why not?" I asked.

"He knows I always vote opposite to the way he votes. He told you that so that I'd vote for Stevenson. But he isn't fooling me. He will vote for Stevenson and I'll vote for Eisenhower," she said.

Another time, I stood outside a factory gate in Connecticut

ANOTHER FIGHT

"Listen, Mac," he said, not unpleasantly. "I had a fight with my wife this morning. I've just had another fight with the boss. Now I've got a date with a bottle of beer and I don't feel like talking to nobody about nothing."

Frequently, when a candidate tours a factory, I stay some distance behind and then ask the men, who have just shaken I hand, what they think of him. Typical replies in Detroit — "He's all right, I guess,"

"Seems like a nice fella," "I don't trust none of 'em."

How would you count these in your poll?

In Racine, Wis., during the 1960 presidential primary, I picked some numbers at random and tried telephoning. Results — a little girl who said Mommy and Daddy weren't home, a man who talked volubly but with such a heavy accent I couldn't understand much of what he said, and a woman who said, "Both my husband and I have been doctoring"—whatever that meant—"and I haven't paid much attention to the election."

At least 75 special camps are being used in West Virginia as part of a state program to educate 40,000 youngsters, age 12 to 18, in conservation.

Mao Appears in Court
HONG KONG (AP) — Mao Tse-tung appeared in court today. It wasn't the leader of Communist China, however, but a more humble chap of the same name seeking a reversal of a nine-month sentence for smoking heroin.

LBJ Presents: A Musical Tribute to 88th Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Part of the White House back yard was transformed today into a Broadway stage as President Johnson prepared to extend a lavish musical "thank you" to the 1964 Congress that has dealt kindly with his programs.

Johnson invited some 900 Congress members, Cabinet officers and top federal officials to assemble with their wives at the executive mansion tonight for the half-hour show, written especially for the occasion and imported from New York. Republican legislators were included.

The President told a news conference Tuesday he wanted to give Congress "a richly deserved salute."

Mindful of congressional passage of tax cut, civil rights and antipoverty legislation, plus other top-priority administration programs, Johnson said: "When the record of this Congress is completed, it will place the 88th Congress in the record books as the most productive and, I think, the most constructive in the 200 years."

SPECIAL MUSICAL

The Broadway-type musical cooked up for the occasion even featured a tribute to the 88th — a liltin' number called "Jump on the Wagon."

According to the lyrics, if everyone jumps on the wagon of the good old 88th, "We'll all take a ride."

The show, with music by an oversized pit orchestra otherwise known as the Marine Band, had a couple of noisy rehearsals on the White House lawn Tuesday night.

Chorines in black net stockings and short shorts pranced with male dancers in white slacks while Director Bill McDonald shouted directions.

CAMPAIGN SONGS

The production, mounted on a portable outdoor stage, was keyed to campaign songs of yesteryear — "Old Abe Lincoln Came Out of the Wilderness," "Hokey for Bill McKinley," "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge," and "I Like Ike."

There were even a couple of Democratic numbers, like "Yellow Rose of Texas."

ANSWER UNKNOWN

"A definitive answer can't be provided. But it can be reported that, at first, only the parlor lights were on. Then these went out, and the occupants apparently climbed one flight to the solarium on the roof. All that is, except the President. He went to his office. He did, that is, unless someone flouted his standing order to keep the office lights out in his absence."

out, and the occupants apparently climbed one flight to the solarium on the roof. All that is, except the President. He went to his office. He did, that is, unless someone flouted his standing order to keep the office lights out in his absence."

The government issues about 40,000 patents a year.

Stop Hunger Pangs

Serve finger type hors d'oeuvres for the guests to help themselves at a barbecue so the chef can tend to his grilling undisturbed. Cucumber, green pepper, avocado and celery sticks, with hard cooked egg halves to dip in seasoned sour cream make a handsome array.

Always "read" a liquid measurement at eye level.

Assemble Crab Salad With Olive Dressing

Warm weather calls for cooling. Place shredded iceberg lettuce in salad or soup bowls; arrange drained canned crab meat, strips of Cheddar cheese and tomato wedges on top. Cut ripe olives into wedges; mix with salad dressing and a little lemon juice, crushed dried tarragon and chopped parsley and onion. Spoon into center of each salad. Garnish with whole ripe olives.

Freeze Stuffed Spuds

When you go to the trouble of preparing that delicious vegetable dish, baked stuffed potatoes, make an extra batch and freezer - store. They may be unwrapped at serving time, and heated unthawed (on a shallow pan) in a hot oven (400 degrees).

Glaze cooked carrots with molasses just before serving.

There are five times more men than women who are alcoholics.

Keep that bacon, in the closed package it comes in, in your refrigerator meat-keeper.

This Tomato Soup Is Good Hot or Cold

Here's a zippy hot one which is just as tasty chilled. In saucepan, combine a 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup, 1 soup can water, dash garlic powder, and 4 drops "Tabasco" sauce. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish with ¼ cup sliced avocado and serve to 2 or 3. To serve cold, just chill the unopened can of soup for 3 to 4 hours; combine with remaining ingredients and serve in chilled bowls, garnished with avocado.

Don't Waste Them!

The outer leaves of head lettuce, which often are thrown away, contain higher concentrations of vitamins. These coarser leaves should be used whenever possible.

In trimming cabbage, keep in mind that the core, as well as the leaves, is high in vitamin C.

Okra and Tomatoes Good Summer Dish

Have you ever tried serving your family fresh okra? Rapid cooking is the answer to keeping it flavorful and attractive. Drop into a small amount of rapidly boiling salted water and cook quickly just until tender (10 to 15 minutes). Slice and serve buttered or in combination with stewed tomatoes. Chill them and they are delicious in a vegetable salad.

When you grate a lemon or orange for mind, use a light touch so as to remove only the outer yellow skin.

Fish Portions Assume New Gourmet Guise

Practical fish portions take on a gourmet guise in this hearty entree from the Test Kitchens of the United States Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. By using prebattered and prebreaded fish portions, the exotic is made easy with built-in appetite appeal.

Quickly cooked in a hot oven, fish portions are placed atop cooked noodles, subtly complemented with poppy seeds, and topped with a sparkling Stroganoff Sauce that sings with simplicity yet reeks with regality. Available everywhere, fish portions are the American fishing industry's most recent contribution to the convenience-minded consumer. In this new recipe, portioned fish, a tremendous time saver and budget beater, can bring to your table up - to - the - minute convenience with out-of-the-past charm.

Fish A La Stroganoff
6 frozen raw breaded fish portions (2½ or 3 ounces each)
2 tablespoons melted fat or oil
Paprika
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon poppy seeds (optional)
2 cups hot cooked egg noodles
Stroganoff Sauce
Chopped parsley

Place frozen fish portions on a well-greased cookie sheet, 15 x 12 inches. Drizzle fat over fish. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in an extremely hot oven, 500 degrees, for 15 to 20 minutes or until brown and fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Add butter and poppy seeds to noodles. Arrange noodles on a platter and place portions on top. Pour Stroganoff Sauce over portions. Sprinkle with parsley. Serves 6.

Stroganoff Sauce
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
¼ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
2 tablespoons melted fat or oil

Celery Fritters Are Unusual Vegetable Dish

In salads, soups, stews, or almost any meat or vegetable dish, celery excels as a subtle flavoring.

The French probably discovered this first, as they wrote about using it in 1623. They soon learned that the stalks and leaves were delicious in a salad with an oil dressing. And the popularity of raw celery spread through Europe.

Celery is a member of the parsley family, which includes parsley, parsnips, sweet anise, and believe it or not — carrots. All have a distinctive flavor and aroma that comes from oils in the stems, leaves, and seeds.

Celery Fritters
1½ cups sifted soft-wheat flour
¾ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 cups chopped celery
1 tablespoons melted fat

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder; add the beaten egg, milk, celery, and fat. Fry the celery fritters in deep fat or, if preferred, in a skillet in shallow fat.

In either case, drop the mixture by spoonfuls into the fat and fry rather slowly, so they will cook through the center before the outside becomes too brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot.

Blender Can Make Yummy Dressing

To complement a summer luncheon, serve this creamy onion dressing over lettuce wedges. Onion soup mix provides the wonderful flavor.

Onion Cheese Dressing
½ can (½ cup) onion dry soup mix
1 pint cottage cheese
½ cup sour cream
½ cup milk
Paprika
Lettuce wedges

Combine soup mix, cottage cheese, and sour cream. Thin cheese mixture with milk. Beat with rotary beater. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve over lettuce wedges. 6 servings.

Dressing Is Secret of Crab Louis

Canned crabmeat makes a tasty salad under any circumstances. When served with Louis Dressing, it is even better — if possible.

Crab Meat Louis
½ medium head lettuce, shredded, if desired
1-1½ cups canned crab meat, chilled
1 large tomato, cut into wedges
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

8 ripe olives
Pimiento strips
Arrange lettuce in individual serving bowls. Mound crab meat on lettuce. Garnish with tomato wedges, egg slices, olives and pimiento strips. Chill until ready to serve. Serve with Louis Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Louis Dressing
1 cup real mayonnaise
½ cup chili sauce
1½ teaspoons grated onion
1 teaspoon horse-radish
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon tarragon
Salt
Pepper
Blend real mayonnaise and chili sauce. Mix in remaining ingredients. Chill. Makes 1½ cups.

Add Instant Coffee to Angel Food Mix

"Good friends and good fare are always in season," is an old French proverb. When good friends gather, cooks of today can choose from an almost infinite variety of foods to create the good fare.

Convenience foods make it easy to serve almost instant meals. A personal touch can be added with special seasonings, variations, and attractive arrangement of the food.

Such a delightful convenience dessert is Mocha Angel Sundae! The high, light, moist mocha cake is made from white angel food cake mix with powdered instant coffee added.

Serve this, glistening with a Mocha Glaze or on your best cake plate in wedges with rich ice cream. Then crown it with thick chocolate sauce and toasted almonds and you have created a dessert that will be "good fare" for "good friends" in any season.

Mocha Angel Sundae
Prepare angel food cake mix

as directed on package except — blend 1 tablespoon powdered instant coffee into flour mixture (packet 2) before folding into beaten egg whites. Cool. Remove from pan.

Frost with Mocha Glaze (below) or serve wedges with vanilla ice cream and chocolate sauce. Top with toasted almonds.

Mocha Glaze
Mix ½ package creamy white frosting mix with ¼ teaspoon powdered instant coffee, 2 to 3 tablespoons hot water and 1 tablespoon corn syrup. Beat until smooth.

Pour slowly over cake. Glaze will set within hour.

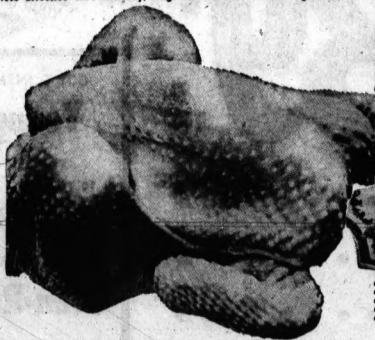

Note: Powdered instant coffee can be stirred into flour mixture in the packet.

Landlocked Switzerland is served by fleets of steamers on Lake Constance, Lake Geneva and Lake Lugano. The ships carry as many as 1,500 passengers each and form an important link between Switzerland and her neighbors.

Pretzels Can Add New Taste Twist to Summertime Fruit Salad Plate

At just the time when summer's heat is tending to make people droop, that's the time to give a small luncheon party. If you serve something that's cool, pretty and low calorie, you'll delight your friends; if you serve something that involves no cooking, you'll also delight yourself.

Cantaloupe Crowns with Ham-Wrapped Pretzel Sticks, Creamy Mint Dressing and a cold drink provide hot weather fare to please everyone and are no chore to fix. Your prettiest china or glassware will add to the festive feeling without adding to the work, so do use them.

Pretty looking as this food is, it's essential to realize that it is also quite low in calories while high in vitamins and minerals.

Everybody knows that fruits rate well with dieters and that pretzels are satisfying nibbles but not everyone knows that pretzels rate lowest in a snack foods in caloric content. And, especially while it's hot, cutting down on heavy foods is a good idea for most of us.

Stuffed Cantaloupe Crowns
3 ripe cantaloupes
1 cup hulled and quartered strawberries
1 unpeeled apple, cored and diced
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained

PRETZELS — For a cool, cool luncheon, Cantaloupe Crowns and Ham-Wrapped Pretzel Sticks are guest pleasers and, because there's nothing to cook, the hostess keeps cool and happy, too.

Fennel Seeds Add Piquancy to Cream Potato Salad

There just can't be another potato salad recipe, but there is. A delicious moist dressing that brings out the best in California long white potatoes. California produces about 65 per cent of the United States late spring and early summer potatoes.

The fresh green onion, celery and radishes add their special flavors to this mixture to make it one of this summer's favorite recipes for outdoor meals.

Kern Potato Salad
6 long white potatoes, cooked
2 tablespoons tarragon or cider vinegar
1-1/4 cups thinly sliced celery

Yogurt Is Base of Olive Dressing

Homemade salad dressings give a new taste twist to crisp salad greens, and "Mogul Salad Dressing" is one of the easiest to whip up. Its a colorful combination of yogurt, mayonnaise, ripe olives, pimiento and seasonings. The ripe olives provide delicate nut-like flavor and interesting texture.

Mogul Salad Dressing
1/2 cup ripe olives
1 cup yogurt
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
Dash Tabasco

Coarsely cut olives. Blend remaining ingredients; stir in olives. Serve on lettuce wedges or with a tossed salad as desired. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

1 cup crumbled pretzels (about 10 thin twisted)
Wash cantaloupes and draw a line around the middle of each as a guide. With a sharp-pointed knife, cut saw-tooth pattern through to inside of melon using line to aid in making even cuts.

Pull melons apart and remove seeds and stringy portion. Fit halves together again and wrap in waxed paper or plastic bags. Chill.

For stuffing, blend berries, apple and pineapple; chill. Just before serving, combine mixed fruits with pretzel bits and fill each cantaloupe crown.

Serve with Creamy Mint Dressing and Ham-Wrapped Pretzel Sticks. Serves six.

Creamy Mint Dressing
1 cup sour cream (or 1/2 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise)

1 tablespoon pineapple juice (syrup from can)
1 tablespoon mint jelly (or fresh, minced mint leaves)
1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice
Dash of ground nutmeg

Blend all ingredients together, then chill. To serve, garnish with fresh mint sprigs, lime slices or chopped ginger as desired. Yield: about 1 1/4 cups.

Ham-Wrapped Pretzel Sticks
Soften 1/2 small (3 oz.) package cream cheese. Spread very thinly on 6 slices of boiled ham. Wrap tightly around a thick Pretzel Stick, cheese side inside. Wrap in waxed paper and chill until ready to serve.

Jack Frost Nips Leaves

Getting tired of summer's gentle breezes and sweltering temperatures?

The Charles Calhouns of 333 Groveland Road, Groveland Township, will guarantee that fall's on the way.

Jack Frost nipped their squash and melon plants Aug. 7, turning the leaf tips black.

Sandwiches Are OK at Breakfast

Everyone likes sandwiches—the cooks who prepare them and the folks who eat them.

One of the tastiest of all breakfast sandwiches uses crisp-cooked bacon as a filler for cinnamon toast.

Pork sausage — links or patties, thin-cut club steaks, broiled ham slices, thin-sliced calves' liver and sliced, canned corned beef hash are hearty open-face sandwiches suggested by the American Meat Institute for eye-opening meals.

An early morning version of that all-American favorite, the hamburger, makes its appearance as ground beef patties in toasted English muffins.

Cooking for One Can Be Fun

By MADEIRA DOHERN
Whether you live alone and like it, or live alone and don't like it, you have undoubtedly found that dinette cookery has a technique all its own.

Even the same utensils may not be used for dinette meals as for cooking for a hungry foursome or twosome.

Heavy metal pots for short-period vegetable cooking and a small pressure cooker that cooks at high heat give an assist to the solo cook.

You can boil a half ham or a beef tongue in an electric deep fat fryer with a minimum of watching. Use it, too, for preparing a tasty stew or ragout.

A Dutch ovenette turns out delicious baked potatoes, custards and apples, and reheats cooked frozen entrées. Follow instructions closely.

TURN OUT WRONG
Have you found that a cut-down recipe has an amazing way of turning out wrong? It may be palatable but not interesting.

One of the principal troubles is evaporation of liquid. This occurs more rapidly when smaller quantities of food are prepared.

So add a wee bit more water or milk to soups, gravies or meat dishes, whether cooked in oven or on top-of-stove.

When purchasing canned foods for dinette cookery, it is well to know just how much each can actually contains.

AVERAGE CAN

The average can on the market and one with which we are familiar is the No. 3 size, containing about 30 ounces of food or two and a half cups.

The No. 1 size (standard for soups) contains about 11 ounces or one and a third cups.

Many fruit and vegetable manufacturers are now putting out an eight-ounce size containing one cupful of food.

The efficient solo cook plans meals ahead. She purchases food in the correct quantity for two which provides for leftovers which are given front place in her refrigerator.

UNEXPECTED GUEST
Then, too, there's a serving for an unexpected guest.

Even baked ham in quarter-ham size is now available.

If Mexican food is your dish, there are tamales, chili con carne, and tortillas.

Bean sprouts, water chestnuts, mixed Chinese vegetables and bamboo shoots give an authentic taste to chop suey or chow mein from left-over chicken or meat seasoned with soy sauce. Incidentally, it's chop suey when served on rice and chow mein if it's over fried Chinese noodles.

SOFT CHEESE
Practically every kind of soft cheese comes in small glass jars, and there's a tasty individual shrimp cocktail in a reusable juice glass.

A few suggested dinette menus are a mixed grill of broiled ham, broiled sweet potatoes, stewed tomatoes, with cole slaw, and baker's cake.

Sliced oranges with coconut (ambrosia) would be a happy ending to a meal of frizzled dried beef, sautéed bananas, whole wheat bread or muffins and salad of chilled canned beans.

DELICIOUS CABBAGE
Parsleyed cabbage is delicious with cheese souffle, creamed potatoes and hot biscuits and jam for dessert.

Grated raw carrot and celery salad and corn bread is good with baked corn beef hash with fruit filled tart for the finish.

Meat cakes, cottage fries, cole slaw and orange cornstarch custard, are equally as good as boiled ham with sliced pineapple, buttered boiled rice and fresh spinach.

New Flavor—Old Favorite

Fresh Vegetable Kabobs
8 small white onions, peeled
8 ripe cherry tomatoes
1 small eggplant, cut in 3 inch cubes
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, washed and cleaned
1 medium bell pepper, cubed
1 package Italian French salad dressing mix

Prepare fresh vegetables and place in pan for marinating. Prepare Italian French Salad Dressing Mix according to package directions. Pour over vegetables and marinate for 2-4 hours.

String vegetables on skewers, combining onions and green peppers or fresh mushrooms, eggplant and tomatoes together. Place on grill 2-4 inches above hot coals, prepared according to barbecue directions, and grill 15-20 minutes or until individual vegetables are done.

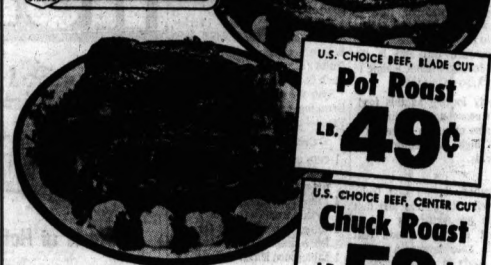

Onions and peppers will require more time than other items. Makes 8 servings.

Creamed Peas Combined With Almond Slivers

Fresh peas are a favorite with just about everyone. Watch their popularity zoom even higher when you serve "Peas Almondine." Toasted slivered almonds provide delightful crunch and flavor in this summer vegetable. Almonds are also a most welcome ingredient in desserts. Sprinkle chopped almonds over your next sundae to give it additional flair.

Peas Almondine
2 1/2 to 3 lbs. fresh peas
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons flour
1/2 cup light cream or half-and-half
1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds
Cook peas in small amount of boiling salted water until tender. If any cooking water remains, boil rapidly, uncovered, to evaporate.
Add butter and sprinkle with flour; mix lightly. Add cream and cook, stirring gently until mixture boils a minute. Stir in almonds; serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Canned Shrimp Convenient to Buy and Use

It takes a full pound of raw unpeeled shrimp to fill a 4 1/2-ounce can. Head, shell and cooking losses account for about three-quarters of the little shrimp that was.

Until shrimp can be raised like broilers (and they're working on it, believe it or not), price will be a factor.

They're up, they're down. The current down-trend began with a whopping fall '58 shrimp season and a bumper spring haul will help hold prices down throughout the summer.

Shrimp, so useful in many ways, can be extended with many other foods.

If you want to find out new ways of using it, write for a free booklet, "Can-Venient Ways with Shrimp". Send to Canned Shrimp, Box 8, Westwego, La. The booklet is a U.S. Special Fisheries marketing bulletin.

Vegetable Cooking Given Tests

Quick and easy dinner to serve on the patio...

Vegetable Skillet

- 1 large potato, pared and sliced
1 large zucchini, sliced
2 cups cooked green beans, cut in 1" pieces
2 cups smothered or one 14 oz. can
2 beef bouillon cubes

1 cup boiling water
6 frankfurters
1 medium size carrot, grated
Arrange potato, zucchini, green beans and undrained trout in skillet. Dissolve bouillon cubes in water and pour over vegetables. Cover and cook over high flame for 10 minutes. Put frankfurters over vegetables. Cover and continue cooking.

ing over medium flame for 10 minutes longer, or until vegetables are tender. Garnish with grated carrot. Serves 4-5.

True Club Style

To make a true Club Sandwich, use a filling of sliced cooked chicken, white meat, crisply cooked bacon, lettuce and mayonnaise. The bread for the sandwich should be white and toasted.

It's Sherbet Made With Avocado

When you have "Avocado Orange Sherbet" in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, the warm weather is quite a bit easier to take. This inviting dessert made with mashed avocado, orange juice and buttermilk should be an especially welcome treat for calorie-watchers.

Despite the appetite - appealing quality of avocados, they are surprisingly low in calories. A 4-inch avocado half-shell weighing 80 grams has only 137 calories, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures.

Avocado Orange Sherbet

- 1 avocado
2 cups buttermilk
½ cup orange juice

- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar

Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Mash or sieve avocado. Add remaining ingredients; stir until sugar is dissolved.

Turn into refrigerator tray; freeze until firm around edges.

Turn into chilled bowl; beat until smooth and fluffy. Return to freezing compartment and freeze to desired consistency. Makes about ¾ cups.

A lighter - than-air craft now undergoing tests may be the first step toward a revival of the dirigible. It has three rigid, parallel hulls and incorporates new ideas in aerodynamic design and materials.

Peachy Cooler

Chill a 1 lb. 13 oz. can of cling peach slices. Drain the syrup into blender, add a can of frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed, and about a pint of vanilla ice cream; whip until smooth. Pour over peach slices, divided among 4 or 5 tumblers. Serve with spoons.

Don't allow cooked poultry to stand around in a warm room. Refrigerate it!

Freeze Bartletts for Winter Variety

Bartlett pears may be frozen successfully. The method differs from that used for other fruits. Select firm ripe pears. If not ripe when purchased store in cool place until fruit turns yellow.

Wash, peel, halve and core. Quarter or slice, then dip into boiling thin syrup for one or two minutes. Chill by putting on trays in refrigerator.

Pack into freezing containers, cover with cold sirup to which ascorbic acid has been added. Insert crumpled cellophane, seal and freeze. Use frozen pears in desserts, salads and sauce.

There are three to five pears in a pound.

Olive Oil Adds Flavor to Creamy Dressing

For a delicious salad dressing that is sure to be a hit with the men, combine one-half cup heavy cream with two tablespoons of olive oil. Keep beating with a fork to emulsify the ingredients.

Add one tablespoon catsup, one-half teaspoon sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, and one-quarter teaspoon monosodium glutamate. Add two tablespoons crumbled American blue cheese and one tablespoon chopped chives. Blend well and serve at room temperature over crisp salad greens.

If you place marshmallows in the bread box they will stay fresh longer since they absorb moisture from the bread.

Can Rôtisserie Big Bologna

There's no baloney about it — a large size bologna sausage makes a good roast for the rôtisserie. It's boneless and evenly balanced so it will turn nicely on the spit.

Ready-to-eat, a bologna roast, weighing about nine pounds for the whole sausage, needs about 40 to 45 minutes cooking time or until heated through.

Dress it up by scoring and basting with barbecue sauce, if you want it for a teen-age party. Slice it thick and serve on buns or rolls with potato chips, pickles, relishes and soft drinks.

Orange Eggnog Is Nourishing Beverage

While the marvelously sweet, juicy fresh Florida Valencia oranges are on the market, try this Orange Milk Flip for a refreshing beverage.

In a blender or mixer, combine 1½ cups Florida orange juice, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons honey and 2 eggs. Blend or beat until frothy and pour into 4 glasses, garnishing each with an orange slice and mint sprig.

Roll to Separate

When you bring bacon home from the grocery store, roll it from the back into a cylinder shape. Store the package in the refrigerator in this manner and see how easily the bacon strips separate into individual slices when you are ready to use them.

Boy Completely Stumped by Arithmetic

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My grandson is in the ninth grade. His grades in arithmetic have been low especially for the last two years. His counselor says he should turn his attention to something else since he is not interested in mathematics and has no ability in the subject.

The boy would be happy to be rid of it. We feel that some math beyond eighth grade is desirable for every child, especially a boy. G.C., Waco, Tex.

All parents have to come to the right idea. The boy should have more training in mathematics but, as the counselor suggests, additional school courses would at present be of little value. You really can't blame the boy. He is not succeeding.

Don't leave the decision to the boy. He is too young. Get some outside help — a person who will start way back where the boy's foundation in mathematics was quite secure and help him rebuild from that point.

As he gains some success in the rebuilding processes, his resistance will fade.

In less time than you might imagine he will be ready for a successful try at high school mathematics.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our third grade daughter "hates" school. Some mornings she seems almost too ill to go. At home she avoids reading anything that has to do with schoolwork.

How can we get our child to want to learn? G. Q., Crystal Lake, Ill.

There may be something in school that is very difficult for your child. Talk with the teacher. Find out whether there is a real difficulty in reading, handwriting or recitation. If so, work with the teacher and help your child solve the problem.

Check your own attitude. Parents are the most important people on earth to children.

Plan the activities of the home so that schoolwork has its place and your daughter realizes that you are considering her needs and problems.

If you give the impression that school can be a pleasant experience there will be a carry-over to your child.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 12-year-old has great difficulty entering into classroom discussions. His teacher reports that he seldom contributes voluntarily to any discussions.

He makes high scores on examinations, which should indicate that he understands the ideas being discussed.

Can we as parents help him overcome his timidity in school? G. M. Brooklawn, N.J.

You can, with the cooperation of the teacher. Encourage him to overstudy his lessons for awhile. Have him get supplementary materials from the library.

Take time to listen. Let him express his ideas to you either individually or occasionally at the dinner table with the rest of the family present.

Suggest that he raise his hand and pass on interesting items to the rest of the pupils. Cue the teacher in so that he will react quickly to the raised hand.

(You can get Prof. Nason's helpful booklet for parents, Help Your Child Succeed in School, by sending $1 to Help Your Child, Box 1277, General Post Office, New York, N.Y.)

'Operation Hippocrates' Is Hemispheric Doctors' Aid

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Six-seventeen a.m., Central Standard Time, Monday.

Dick Cunningham, a petroleum engineer, slips out of his bedroom and heads for the basement of his split-level suburban Omaha home.

Closeting himself in a small room filled with short-wave radio equipment and signs labeling it station K-Zero-HHP, he tunes his receiver to 14330 kilocycles and listens as he sips a cup of coffee.

One by one, other early-rising ham operators in the Western Hemisphere come on the air and check in with KANAA, the Naval Reserve amateur radio station at Arlington, Va., which is Monday's control station on the Intercontinental Traffic Network.

At 7 a.m., Cunningham picks up his microphone.

WE'RE READY
"KANAA this is K-Zero HHP. Omaha. We are ready to make our announcement."

"Go ahead, Omaha."
"This is K-Zero-HHP, Kay Zero Hotel Mike Papa, Omaha. We have medical doctors here, specialists who will be glad to consult with any doctors in Central America or South America who wish to talk to them. Give us a call and we will help you."

"Stand by, K-Zero-HHP, while Mexico City repeats your announcement in Spanish."
In Managua, Nicaragua, Andy Wiesner is waiting for this announcement.

"K-Zero-HHP, this is YNIAW. I have Dr. Luis Favilli here. He wants to talk to an internal medicine specialist."
"Roger, YNIAW. Let's move up 10 kc, Andy, and I will get the telephone patch made."
"Roger, up ten."

DEADLY OMAHA
Cunningham dials an Omaha telephone and Dr. William J. Dickinson answers.

"Doctor, we have our contacts all set up with a doctor in Nicaragua who would like to talk to you."

Then Andy comes back on the air to introduce Dr. Favilli to Dr. Dickinson and "Operation Hippocrates," Omaha's daily emergency medical advisory service, is under way.

Amateur radio logbooks are filled with reports of doctors who have responded to medical emergencies via radio, but originators of "Operation Hippocrates" say it represents among the first attempts to provide daily doctor-to-doctor consultation service by radio.

STANDING BY

From 7 to 7:15 a.m. every day except Sunday, an Omaha ham operator, manning a station powerful enough to reach anywhere in the Americas, stands by to handle emergency medical traffic.

So far, 10 Omaha doctors have agreed to accept these emergency calls whenever their specialties are involved. These include general surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, internal medicine, heart, dermatology, orthopedic surgery, eye, ear, nose and throat, pediatrics, and general practice.

HAVE HOPES

These doctors draw on the facilities of two Omaha medical colleges, a widely known medical library and an expanding complex of research centers.

"We have hopes of being able to call any doctor in Omaha," says Dr. Stanley Bach, the orthopedist and one of the prime movers in the project.

The idea for "Operation Hippocrates" grew out of a medical emergency in April involving a tanker five days out of Caracas with a seriously ill first mate.

Hugh Tinley, a property management executive who developed a disaster radio service for the local Red Cross chapter, intercepted the distress call and made a "phone patch" to the home of Dr. Lynn Thompson — another ham. Dr. Bach was on the air with his own radio and together the two doctors diagnosed the mate's illness and prescribed medication from the ship's well-stocked sick bay.

Dr. Bach says what followed was Tinley's idea and Tinley says it was Dr. Bach's idea. But by July, the plans were completed and ham operators began spreading the word that any doctor in Latin America could reach Omaha doctors for consultation by radio.

Existence of this net was one of the principal reasons the Omahans felt their medical good neighbor gesture would work. Another reason is that many doctors in Latin America practice in remote areas where consultations are hard to come by and radio is the chief source of communication with the outside.

MORAL SUPPORT

"Lots of times it's mostly for moral support," says Dr. Bach of the consultations. "But when you're having trouble today you can't wait for a ship to get there."

Most of the Latin-American operators and doctors as well speak English. But just as a precaution Dr. Bach, who speaks fluent Japanese, is planning to take up Spanish.

If the Latin American station doesn't have enough power to break into the chatter of the

1636-Built House Damaged by Auto

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP) — Specialists today were examining portions of broken wall and several period furniture pieces in the 17th-Century Fairbanks house, extensively damaged Tuesday when a car smashed through its front wall.

The frame house was built in 1636. Its ceiling, made with clay from the Charles River, collapsed. Specialists say it can not be put back together.

The house has been unoccupied since 1902, but descendants of the Fairbanks family have maintained the 328-year-old structure.

Ham 'Hogged' Show, but It Made Him Sick

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A 680-pound barrow won two prizes at the Illinois State Fair, but the strain of competition apparently was too much. It suffered a heart attack.

The hog, owned by Alvin Lehmann of Pleasant Plains, Ill., suffered the attack in its pen Tuesday after taking first place in the open-class for junior yearlings and first in the Land of Lincoln judging. It was treated with adrenalin shots by veterinarians.

In 1962, U.S. economic aid abroad totaled $2,286,650,000, and military aid totaled $1,831,480,000, for a grand total of $4,118,130,000.

SEA BATTLE — Tom Joyner Jr., 15, Satellite Beach, Fla., stands beside the 370-pound sting ray he fought for 18 hours. The marlin battle with the 6-foot wide ray started

Monday night while young Joyner was fishing from a pier and ended Tuesday when he allowed two divers to go into the sea and help land the ray.

County Stays Closed to Hunting 'Any Deer'

Oakland County will remain closed to the taking of antlerless deer during the regular firearms season for at least another year.

Areas covering nine other Southern Michigan Counties will be open to "any deer" hunting during the Nov. 15-30 season. These sections include Livingston, Muskegon, Ottawa, Kent, Ionia, Berrien, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun and Eaton Counties.

Northwestern Oakland County was being considered for this fall because of an increase in crop damage in that area.

The special permit areas in the southern part of the state are expected to be increased in 1965, probably including a portion of Oakland County.

Nearly 200,000 permits will be offered to hunt antlerless deer in 65 areas of Michigan during the regular season.

The Conservation Department has announced that these applications, licenses and copies of the 1964 Deer Hunting Guide will be available about the middle of September.

If combined with good hunting conditions during the November season these liberal shooting controls should put over 130,000 animals in the legal kill column from a herd expected to total 300,000 when hunters take to the woods.

The projected kill figure is above last season's firearm harvest of 124,000 and includes about 60,000 antlerless animals and more than 70,000 bucks.

In this total are some 1,500 antlerless whitetails which hunters are expected to shoot during the state's first major special season in the southern Lower Peninsula.

Elk Permit Applications Hit 20,000

About 20,000 Michigan residents beat the Aug. 10 deadline in applying for licenses to hunt in the state's first elk season, Dec. 5-12.

With all applicants having an equal chance, 300 will be selected for licenses by machines at a drawing to be held Aug. 26 in Lansing. Odds of getting a license are about 65 to 1 against each applicant.

Department workers are busy preparing applications for data-processing machines. As soon as the drawing is completed, checks and money orders will be returned to unsuccessful applicants.

At the same time, licenses will be sent to the lucky 300 who are expected to harvest about 200 surplus elk from five areas in parts of Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego and Montmorency counties.

The planned kill figure represents less than half of this year's anticipated increase in the herd, estimated at 3,500, which has been growing at a rate of 15 per cent annually.

East 5 Nips West Cagers

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Oscar Robertson's long jump shot with less than three minutes to play sparked an East team to a 90-88 victory over a West squad Tuesday night in the sixth annual Maurice Stokes Benefit Game played by stars of National Basketball Association clubs.

The game, played at Kuthers' Country Club, drew a crowd of 2,200 and added $7,500 to the fund for Stokes, a former Cincinnati Royal star who was stricken by a paralytic disease at the height of his NBA career. The game, which attracted 25 of the league's top performers, boosted the Stokes Fund to $32,500.

To Review Deer Rules

LANSING (AP) — Regulations to cover antlerless deer and bow-hunting deer seasons this year will be considered at a meeting Thursday of the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules. The meeting in the Capitol will serve as a public hearing, said Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Charlotte, chairman.

Pre-season sights are set upon an antlerless harvest of 15,400 deer in the Upper Peninsula and more than 49,000 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

CHANGE MADE

Biggest single change for northern Michigan is the extension of special season boundaries to take in an additional 774 square miles in central and southern Menominee County where growing-up timber has meant less winter food for white-tails.

Throughout the special areas, the planned-for kill of antlerless deer averages two animals per square mile.

The per-square-mile figure ranges from about one deer in the Upper and southern Lower Peninsulas to between three and four white-tails in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Angler, Gull Both Losers

Robert Carmichael and his wife, Maria, were trolling on Mill Lake in Orion Township Sunday when it happened.

"We were using shallow running flatfish when this seagull swooped down and grabbed the one on my wife's line," said the 42-year-old Carmichael of 103 N. Tasmania.

There was a definite reaction. Maria, 45, and the seagull went to general quarters. After a struggle of three or four minutes the bird was reeled up to the boat.

"I grabbed one wing and my wife grabbed the other," reported Carmichael. "One of the hooks was in the beak. I got it out and the gull sat there in the water very quiet."

"My wife decided to reach over and pet it. Wham! That bird nailed her good."

The gull flew off and Mrs. Carmichael went home—both nursing similar wounds.

SOMETHING SMELLS — At Santa Cruz, Calif., a sea of thoroughly dead anchovies has flooded the small craft harbor, covering the water with an odoriferous layer of green corpses. Kim Thevenin, II, gives an eloquent opinion. The fish started dying Sunday from the "red tides" and the tide pattern is such that the fish don't wash back to sea.

Fishing Still Good

Sportsmen Dream of Hunting

With the opening of grouse season in the northern half of the state a little more than five weeks away, sportsmen are beginning to fondle the old scattergun and dreaming ahead.

Even the deer hunters are starting to stir. There's increasing activity on area rifle ranges. Already forgotten by many is the fishing tackle that held sway earlier in the summer.

But the old pros in the angling field are still going strong. They send a cricket down deep for bluegills, toss a plug into openings in weed beds for bass or patiently seek out a school of calicoes with small minnows.

And they catch fish.

Only the northern pike is a sulker during August. It's not that he loses his teeth this month, like some say, but the warm water makes old shovels nose lazy.

A big sucker or long deep running plug has been known to sharpen a pike's appetite. Good catches of bluegills are being made in deep water on Elizabeth, Loon, Silver, Crooked, Lotus, Schoolhouse and Lake Orion. Perch are biting on Union, Square and Sugden.

Calico fishermen are doing well on Maceday, Deer, Kent and Proud.

Smallmouths are hitting nightcrawlers with consistency on Cass.

Many area lakes are yielding largemouths. Kent, Oxbow, Louise, Pine and Duck are good bets early and late.

The Pontiac Press' Big Fish Derby has less than a month to run. The deadline is noon, Sept. 8.

The pike division leader is 8 3/4 pounds. This is well below the winning average of recent years. The bass leader has finally topped the six-pound mark by one ounce, but this too is below normal.

The one-pound bluegill that is in front and the leading four-pound rainbow are about average.

Bear Hunts Slated in Upper Peninsula

Sportsmen have a standing invitation from the Michigan Bear Hunters Association to take part in its first organized hunt of the early fall bear season in the Upper Peninsula.

On tap is a Sept. 5-7 hunt out of Brimley.

Another outing is scheduled Sept. 12-13 in the Melstrand area. It will be held primarily for MBHA members, but others are welcome to join the chase. More details on both hunts can be obtained by writing: Michigan Bear Hunters Association, Cadillac.

Coming From Colorado

New Fish Section Chief

Dr. Howard A. Tanner, 41, head of the fish research division of the Colorado Game and Fish Department, becomes chief of the Michigan Department of Conservation's fish section Sept. 1.

He succeeds Dr. James T. McFadden who left July 1 to join the faculty of British Columbia University. M. J. DeBoer has been filling the post as acting chief.

Dr. Tanner is recognized nationally as an authority on fish management. Born in Kalamazoo and raised in Antrim County, Dr. Tanner attended Western Michigan University for two years until 1942 when he entered the Army.

Upon leaving the Army in 1946, he enrolled in Michigan State University where he received his bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degrees.

Field work for his advance degrees was done on projects with the Conservation Department's Institute for Fisheries Research.

In September, 1952, he accepted a position with Colorado State University as assistant leader, then leader of the Colorado cooperative fisheries research unit. In 1961 he was appointed to the post he leaves to come to Michigan.

Dr. Tanner has authored and co-authored technical and popular articles on a wide range of fish management subjects.

NY Jets Triumph Over Patriots in Exhibition

LOWELL, Mass. (U) — Dick Wood, picked up by New York at the beginning of last season, came off the bench in the second half Tuesday night and drove the New York Jets to a 23-7 victory over the Boston Patriots in an American Football League exhibition at Municipal Stadium.

Wood set up the first Jet touchdown with passes in the third period and then he passed for two more in the fourth to give the New Yorkers their first exhibition win of the season.

Barefoot Champion Gets Olympic Spot

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Abebe Bikila, Ethiopia's barefoot champion in the 1960 Olympic marathon, has earned a trip to the Tokyo Games this year. Bikila, a member of Emperor Haile Selassie's palace bodyguard, qualified for the Ethiopian team Tuesday by winning a 42-kilometer race in a driving rainstorm. The 32-year-old soldier ran the distance — equivalent to the marathon course of 26.2 miles, 385 yards — in 2:16:18.2. Abebe, running barefoot, won the 1960 Olympic marathon at Rome in 2:15:16.2.

Texas Golfer Top Qualifier in Canada

SASKATOON (AP) — Ron Folk, of Saskatoon, a star of the North Texas State University golf team, fired a three-under-par 67 Tuesday and tied for medal honors in the qualifying play of the Canadian Amateur Golf championship.

Folk, with 74-67-141, shared the No. 1 role with Ed Ross of the University of Saskatchewan. Ross had 71-70-141 for two days of play over the par 70, 6,528-yard Saskatoon River course.

George (Bunky) Henry of Valdosta, Ga., was third with 71-71-142 among the field of 107. Sixty-four qualified for the match play starting Wednesday.

The tournament ends Saturday with a 36-hole final. Gusts that approached 50 miles an hour ballooned many of the scores.

Canadian Grid Team Buys Two Defenders

EDMONTON (AP) — The Edmonton Eskimos of Canadian football's Western Football Conference purchased defensive tackle and end Bobby Jack Oliver of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Eastern Conference Tuesday.

Oliver, 28, also has played with the Montreal Alouettes and Toronto Argonauts. He is from Baylor University.

Railroad Pays Fine of $1,000 After Fire

Under threat of legal action, the Marquette and Huron Mountain Railroad Company this week sent the Conservation Department a check for more than $1,000 to cover costs of fighting a 37-acre fire it started in Marquette county last fall.

The company, which operates a miniature, tourist — catering railroad, was held responsible for fire costs caused when flying sparks from one of its steam engines touched off a blaze along its right-of-way in the vicinity of Big Bay and the City of Marquette.

Urges Vigorous Democrat Rights Plank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leader Roy Wilkins urged Democratic platform writers to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law and give the country a contrast with what he called the "squeamish circumspection" of the Republican plank.

Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared that "the riots which have shaken several urban communities cannot be condoned." He said they must be understood against a background of deprivation and frustration.

Wilkins' testimony was prepared for the Democratic platform committee as it concentrated on the civil rights issue, considered the most difficult to treat in a plank acceptable to all wings of the party.

A trial balloon floated by some Southern moderates for a compromise statement that might avoid a floor fight appeared to have been shot down when Pierre Pelham, a committee member from Alabama, said Tuesday he could accept nothing less than a call for repeal of the Civil Rights Act.

GOP LANGUAGE

The Republican platform language that aroused Wilkins' scorn includes a call for "full implementation and faithful execution" of new and old civil rights laws, improvements as needed and any necessary action to ensure the right to vote. But Wilkins said the slogan, "leave civil rights matters to the states" has become the hallmark of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate. Goldwater has said he accepts the Republican platform and, as president, would enforce the laws.

Wilkins said the Democrats should pledge "appropriation and dedicated staff and particularly to provide for the expansion of the civil rights division of the Department of Justice."

He said further action is necessary because in some areas use of local government power against those who demonstrate and protest amounts to "a new form of nullification disguised as the enforcement of law and order."

ADMIT TO BAIL

So, he said, those arrested "for merely exercising their rights" should be admitted to bail by federal courts.

Wilkins called also for support of President Johnson's anti-poverty program and for reform of congressional procedures to eliminate devices for blocking legislation.

A committee source, who would not be quoted by name, told newsmen he agrees with platform writers to agree without a major fight on a plank calling for "genuine, hard enforcement" of the civil rights law, but not recommending additional legislation for the present.

He said he expects the committee also to approve a plank condemning extremism and advocating continued exclusively civilian control of all kinds of nuclear weapons. Similar planks were proposed by opponents of Goldwater at the Republican convention, but voted down.

'Viet AF Development Stalled by Diem Politics'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Development of the Vietnamese Air Force lagged two years behind schedule because of political restrictions by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime, a ranking U.S. Air Force officer said today.

Brig. Gen. Robert R. Rowland said Diem's political screening of pilot candidates and trained pilots was a key reason. In some cases, pilots who had completed advanced flight training in the United States were disqualified when they returned.

Another restriction was that no Vietnamese combat pilot could take off carrying a bomb weighing more than 100 pounds without authorization by the palace.

Diem's anxiety about his air force resulted largely from the Feb. 27, 1962, bombing of his palace by two of his pilots flying American-made fighter-bombers.

NEARLY DESTROYED

"The palace was demolished, and Diem and his family barely escaped with their lives. Both the palace and the family were nearly destroyed."

Surviving are his wife, Rena; a son, Carl Jr. of Red Bank, N.J.; a brother; a sister; and three grandchildren.

DUANE H. VERBRUGEN

TROY — Service for Duane H. Verbruggen, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Verbruggen, formerly of Troy, now living at 87 W. Barrett, Madison Heights, will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Price Funeral Home. Burial will be in Union Corners Cemetery.

The child died Monday from injuries sustained when struck by a car in Madison Heights.

Survivors besides his parents are two brothers, Peter and Brian, both at home; his grandparents, Mrs. Lloyd Ferguson of Madison Heights and Edward Campbell of St. Clair Shore and Peter Verbruggen of Avon Township.

Lack of cooperation between the U.S. Air Force and the U.S. Army in South Viet Nam has sometimes led to refusal of Air Force pilots to accept missions proposed by Army helicopter pilots without clearance through various control centers in Saigon.

While a draft agreement between the two American services has been drawn up, no final action has been taken.

Pickets Hit Reuther Talk to Lutherans

DETROIT (AP) — Pickets protesting today's scheduled speech of President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union appeared Tuesday night outside the Cobo Hall convention of the Lutheran League.

They declined to identify themselves but passed out copies of a "special unity addition" (sic) of Lutheran Worker containing an article "By the Church League of America" which is sharply critical of Reuther, who, incidentally, is a Lutheran.

The Lutheran League's own public relations department concedes in a news release that "opposition to the scheduling of Mr. Reuther has been voiced in many sections of The ALC (The American Lutheran Church), reaching a crescendo in California."

Lutheran News says in its masthead it is published bi-weekly at Trinity Lutheran Parsonage, New Haven, Mo., and that its editor is Herman Otten. The article attacking Reuther repeats a letter he and his brother, Victor, reportedly wrote while working in Russia in 1934. It praises socialism. The Reuthers have repudiated it.

North Korea Claims U. N. Pact Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea claimed today that true violations by the U.N. Command had increased since the United States struck at North Viet Nam after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents.

The charge was made by North Korean Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-Hwan at a meeting here of the Joint Military Armistice Commission.

Police Capture Florida Cons

3 From State Caught in Alabama Roundup

DOTHAN, Ala. (UPI) — Police flushed three Michigan men who escaped from a Florida prison crew last Friday out of a resort cabin with tear gas yesterday.

The men were among seven convicts who fled from a road gang near Jacksonville, Fla., last Friday.

The escaped convicts were Donald Lilelly Thiede, 267 and Scott Janis, 30, both of Detroit, and James Clyde Harvey, 19, of Battle Creek.

Police also captured a fourth escapee at a roadblock.

The four men checked into a resort at Kelly Springs, Ala., Sunday. The resort owner, S. D. (Red) Thomas, went to police Monday and told them about having a dream in which his four tenants were involved in several burglaries in the Dothan area.

SURROUNDED CABIN

Police surrounded the cabin Tuesday and shouted for the men to come out. After they continued to refuse, officers sent for reinforcements and donned gas masks. One of the men then ran out with his hands high.

Four tear gas bombs were tossed into the cabin. After the men were arrested at the cabin, officers found a pistol inside. A sixth weapon was taken from one of the convicts when he was forced out by the gas.

Police said Thiede was doing 15 years for armed robbery; Harvey, four years for felonious assault; and Janis, eight years for burglary. The fourth escapee was Joseph St. Clair Wellington, 32, of Edgewater, Me.

Officers said the four men were suspected of robbing a motor company overnight, stealing the entire supply of narcotics from a medical clinic and stealing a supply of clothing from a Dothan store.

U. S. Viet Force Grows to More Than 17,200

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Aug. 19 (AP) — Official U.S. military sources reported today the number of American servicemen in South Viet Nam had risen to 17,200 as of last Thursday.

The increase of about 1,200 over the normal figure reflects the continuing buildup of U.S. Forces here announced last month. The figure is expected to rise soon to about 20,000.

Present rate of energy consumption in the U.S. is 10 times that in 1854. Oil is the source of about 64 per cent of modern energy.

Links Antics Tee Off Police Driver Breaks Law, Par

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — "Follow that car," the state trooper told his fellow officers.

And they did. Down the fairway, in and out of the rough, across a putting green and in and out of a bunker.

The police were teed off at the driver they were chasing in their patrol cars last night because he hadn't stopped when a state trooper at the Garden State Parkway's Brookdale service area tried to flag him down because his lights were out.

Instead, the driver put his car in reverse and took off backwards along the parkway, smashing through a guard rail and onto the nine-hole Broad Acres Golf Course.

Foster Son Charged in Pair's Death

MIAMI (UPI) — A young man picked out coffins and colorful sprays of flowers for his foster parents' yesterday and came home to find police waiting to arrest him for their murder.

Richard Worthington, 22, was charged with the murders of Charles Worthington, 51, and his wife, Angela, 47, whose canvas-wrapped bodies, weighted with construction blocks, were found in a canal here Aug. 10.

An autopsy showed Worthington died from a shot in the head and possibly a beating. Mrs. Worthington, police believe, was beaten and strangled.

Young Worthington, 6 foot 3 and touse - headed, denied the charges and said his attorney advised him to say no more. He is an adopted son of the victims.

Both bodies were found by police after fishermen discovered a canvas bag floating in the canal. The bodies had been painstakingly trussed in the heavy material and tied with clothesline rope.

The Worthingtons were last seen by friends Aug. 7, a Friday. The couple's boat was found empty in the Florida Keys and their station wagon found near a fishing cabin at Big Pine Key.

BERNARD BARUCH

Baruch Is 94; Plans Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard Baruch turned a spry 94 today with an off-handed vow to continue the kind of thinking that brought him fame and fortune and had presidents seeking him out for advice.

"I don't want to dwell on the past," Baruch said at a news conference Tuesday. "Today and tomorrow concern me more than yesterday."

The financier, who had earned a fortune by his 30th birthday, added: "It seems to me that our country's problems, domestic and foreign, are today more complex and difficult than any we have known in the past."

"Yet, despite these problems and perils, the future holds out infinite possibilities and promises for the perfection of democracy and for the improvement of life, not only in this country but in every land."

STANDING ERECT

Standing erect and supported lightly by a cane as he walked in and out of a midtown hotel suite for his news conference, the 6-foot-3 Baruch looked many years younger than his 94.

Except for the time it took to read a brief statement, Baruch lightly traded banter with reporters.

Asked what was the greatest lesson he had learned, Baruch smiled and quipped: "To mind my own business."

He said he would vote in the Nov. 3 presidential election but in mock severity warned people not to "ask me how I am going to vote because I won't tell you."

FEW PARK VISITS

He said he seldom goes to Central Park anymore. He gained such fame for passing out advice from a bench there that one was dedicated to him and a statue bearing his name was attached to it. The same honor was given him in a Washington, D.C., park.

A spokesman said Baruch swims three or four times each week and still makes trips to his plantation in South Carolina.

His zest for life was evident in his reply to the question "What are your happiest memories?"

"My childhood in the South, my boyhood in New York City, schools and parks, my life of activity and interest."

Then he closed his news conference with this hope: "In a sense we stand at a fork in the road of history, one path leads to destruction; the other to a bright new future. I hope that in a short time left to me I shall see us well launched upon the right path."

Barker in Earlier Fair, He's VIP Visitor in This

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — When he sits in his Waldorf Towers suite sipping Dom Perignon champagne, Gregory Peck sometimes thinks of the 1930 New York World's Fair when he was a $25-a-week Midway Barker who started his day with a nine-cent Nedick's breakfast . . . or was it seven cents?

He sat back luxuriously in a white Cadillac touring the present fair as a VIP last Saturday.

"I had a $6 room on W. 114th St.," Peck told me, "and it was an hour's subway ride."

"Buck Bookbinder, a real pro of a carnival talker, taught me to be a 'grinder' at the Meteor Speedway . . . across from the Lindy Hopper's, the Parachute Jump, the 'Hot Mikado,' the Aquaduct."

"If you want to get the guys off the Midway, you got to needle them."

"Pick out a guy with a girl. 'HEY BUDDY, YUH GOT ANY SPORTIN' BLOOD IN YOUR VEINS. GIVE 'THAT GIRL A R-E-A-L THRILL!'"

"Twelve people could get in the contraption. It'd crawl up the walls and hang almost upside down."

"It was 50 cents to ride in, but you could pay a dime and look down on the people."

"They found out that by lookin' the other way, you could see over NTG's Nude Farm. At milkmaids running around in their G-string!"

"The word got around. We waved them all in, glad to get their dimes."

Peck was thinking of this as his 36th movie. "Behold the Pale Horse," opened at the Victoria, with a black-tie supper afterward at the Four Seasons.

"I only worked a month," Peck said. "For then I hit the big money. Broadway No. 10, that wasn't till three years later. First, Sixth Avenue. The RCA Building. As a guide. Forty dollars a week."

Bachelor Comedian Ronnie Martin at the Copa is brilliant.

"Your friends invite you to dinner and they always serve the same thing—an ugly girl," he complains. He says southern girls have sugar in their voice, they're so nice. "If a girl down south says 'Aw you go to he-uh-hill, you kinda want to go to."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Such a pity," says N.E. Coan of Norfolk. "I made a hole-in-one and they wouldn't let me dig up the hole and take it home with me."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Middle age is when touch-ups replace push-ups.

EARL'S PEARLS: "Now is the time for all good men to be remembered." (George Schindler).

U.S. Advisers Lower Cong Death Count

HOA MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military advisers today told 10 bodies had been found and there was no evidence of any additional Viet Cong dead in a weekend battle here.

Vietnamese government spokesmen had claimed that 270 guerrillas were killed by artillery fire and ranger attacks. The U.S. advisers said only three Viet Cong rifles were found.

The Communists attacked this Mekong River Delta outpost and Hied Hung, another outpost across a canal, on three consecutive nights.

When a small government relief force finally moved toward the area Sunday night, it was ambushed by the Communists. The column was unable to reach the outpost until the next morning.

The government said its casualties were 30 killed, 60 wounded and ten missing. Five women in the outpost were also wounded.

News From Washington

Claim Satellites Can Spot Space Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — With four U.S. sentry satellites orbiting the earth it is no longer possible for a nuclear explosion in space to go undetected, a Defense Department expert reports.

"If the Russians fired anything we would know about it," Dr. R. L. Sproull, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, told a National Space Club luncheon Tuesday.

The two U.S. satellites launched a month ago 65,000 miles above the earth and two similar satellites put into orbit last October are capable of detecting nuclear detonation more than 200 million miles out in space.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a tax settlement by which the government would acquire the Tarrytown, N.Y., mansion of railroad magnate Jay Gould and open it to the public.

It would also save the estate of Gould's daughter, Anna, Duchess de Talleryrand, about $700,000. She died in Paris in 1961.

Under the settlement the house would be transferred to the National Trust and be deductible as a charitable contribution from the estate valued at $1.3 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon still regards himself as a Republican even though he appears to be working for the election of President Johnson.

Dillon gave a glowing report Tuesday to the Democratic party platform committee on how the economy has fared under four years of Democratic administration.

In answer to a question, a spokesman for Dillon said the secretary "still regards himself as a liberal Republican. He worked like the devil to get Eisenhower elected over Taft. I suppose if he had been a Taft man, he would be for Goldwater now."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman sees unmistakable signs of "Communist Chinese inspiration" in tactics employed by rebels in the Congo.

In remarks Tuesday to the International Congress on French-speaking Africa, the administration troubleshooter called on African nations to take the lead "in helping the government of the Congo restore order and unity in the country."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income in July rose $1.5 billion over June's rate, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said Tuesday.

The rise, due to higher employment and wages, was somewhat below the average gain for the past 12 months. However, the seasonally adjusted annual rate of $490.8 billion hit a new peak.

What is believed to be the smallest nuclear weapon yet made is a 155-mm howitzer shell. TNT.

CANOE TRIP — David Rogers, 538 W. Troquois, and Roger Bergo, 36 Myra, might have journeyed to Upper Michigan to enjoy this canoe trip. Instead, however, the Pontiac youngsters took their craft to Beaudette Park and stroked along the Clinton River enjoying Northern Michigan pleasure in the midst of an industrial city.

New Wage Scales to Be Implemented

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said last night that full implementation of new wage scales for Pontiac city employees is expected by Sept. 6.

This means that, for the individual employee, the wage hike will first be reflected in paychecks to be issued Sept. 20.

Warren made his announcement at the City Commission meeting after day-long meetings with representatives of employee groups.

The city manager told the commission that he would furnish a full report on implementation of the pay plans by next Tuesday.

His report, he said, would cover how to implement the new pay scales, where the money will come from, and how much it will cost.

RESULT FROM SURVEY
The wage scales result from a recent Michigan Municipal League (MML) survey covering the starting and top pay steps for every position on the city payroll.

The MML survey compared Pontiac city employee wages with those of Oakland County and 10 Detroit Metropolitan Area cities.

Pontiac employees, according to the survey, are underpaid. The survey recommends new starting and top salaries for WASHINGTON (AP) — An accounting firm hired at the direction of President Johnson reported today that the Johnson family fortune totals $3,484,088.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater challenged President Johnson today to debate foreign policy, and accused him of leading the kind of administration that has tempted aggressors "to plunge the world into war."

The Republican presidential nominee charged Johnson's televised announcement of retaliatory U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam gave the Communists time in which they could have bolstered their defenses for the attack.

And he said a Republican would not have let U.S. policy in Southeast Asia "become so confused" that the Communists would risk torpedo boat attacks on U.S. destroyers.

Goldwater, in a speech prepared for delivery at the Illinois State Fair, said the Democrats want to shelve foreign policy as a campaign issue.

"I say that foreign policy is a major issue in this political campaign," he said. "I say it must be discussed. I only wish it could be debated by both the candidates for the presidency."

"And I am willing," the Arizona senator said, "But I can understand why this administration doesn't want to talk about it and why it's leader won't debate it."

"This nation has gone to war under the leaders of only one party," Goldwater said. "Only under administrations such as this one have we become so weak that aggressors have been tempted to plunge the world into war."

"Only under administrations such as this one have we closed our eyes to reality and had to open them to the sound of gunfire," Goldwater said his political foes charged he is preoccupied by war "or eager to start one."

"There is no greater political lie," he said.

While in Washington yesterday, Goldwater conferred with 13 college professors about major issues likely to come up in the campaign. Aides said the meeting was off the record—a closed session — and they could not provide details.

In another development yesterday, Garry Kidwell, Goldwater's transportation officer, said newsmen who travel with the senator during the campaign will be required to post $3,600 advance deposits for seats on his plane. Deposits will be required, too, of reporters who travel with Rep. William E. Miller, the vice-presidential nominee. Kidwell said, but the amount has not been determined yet.

Johnson Frank on Race Strife

Rights Unit Hears Demand for Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying it is time to speak frankly on racial troubles, President Johnson has declared the nation's fate will not be decided "by street rioters and night raiders."

"We demand — and we are going to have — respect for law and order in this land," Johnson said yesterday in addressing members of the Citizens Committee for Community Relations that will help implement the new Civil Rights Act.

House Vote on Districts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate keeps talking, but the House votes today on what has become a key issue in the fading session of Congress — apportionment of state legislatures.

A Senate filibuster is holding back action on a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois that would permit states to delay court-ordered reapportionment.

But the Senate and House moves are aimed at undoing a Supreme Court ruling that both houses of a state legislature must be based on population.

There is strong opposition in the House to the Supreme Court ruling, but the very toughness of the Tuck bill is causing some misgivings among those who would like to see the ruling overturned.

Leukemia Breakthrough

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new cancer research development, which a Senate group says foreshadows a likely major breakthrough in pinpointing the cause of the highly fatal leukemia of childhood, became known in detail today.

The Senate Appropriations Committee referred to the development in general terms in a report released yesterday.

Warmer Due; Rain Is, Too

The weatherman reports tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer with temperatures in the high 70s. The low tonight is expected to drop into the 40s.

There is a chance of scattered showers Friday and again Saturday. Rainfall will total about one half inch.

Possible Veto

They feel there is more question of the constitutionality of the Tuck bill than there is of the Dirksen proposal and thus more likelihood that it might be vetoed by President Johnson.

There is also the probability that it would attract even more opposition in the Senate than the Dirksen proposal has, making it more difficult to stop the filibuster that would certainly kill it.

Dirksen, for one, has shown no indication he will change or withdraw his proposal should the Tuck bill pass the House. He is talking of sticking it out into October if that's what it takes to get a vote on his proposal.

An attempt may be made in the House to substitute something similar to the Dirksen proposal when the Tuck bill is brought up. But one member who would like to see that happen said it is difficult to get supporters of the Tuck bill to go for such a move.

"They sense a total victory," he said, "and don't realize that in winning this battle they may risk losing the war."

The member, who asked not to be named, is a leader in the effort to preserve the present apportionment systems in the states.

To Seek State Help in Lake Crackdown

Local officials tomorrow will appeal to the State Boating Control Committee for help in cracking down on what they have called as the "floating bar" of Cass Lake.

An emergency session with the committee was scheduled after the Aug. 3 death of a Kego Harbor youth who was struck down by a motorboat while swimming in the lake.

Police still are seeking the driver of the boat involved in the death of Alan L. Akery, 20, of 21M Park Circle.

Their investigation also has uncovered evidence of nighttime activity at the lake which West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard called "flabbergasting."

Li. Donald Kratt, director of the Oakland County Sheriff's Water Safety Division, reported incidents of drinking parties and hazardous boat operation at night.

SEEK AID
Township officials and area police are seeking the aid of the State Boating Control Committee in halting the situation.

Tomorrow's 2 p.m. session at the Township Hall is to be an exploratory one.

State statutes cover the problem, Rehard said, "if there was some way to provide control other than depending on manpower."

The sheriff's department has 37 men to patrol the county's 500 lakes.

LAKE RESTRICTIONS
If motorboats were forbidden on the lake after a certain hour, violators could be spotted easily by a patrolman, Rehard noted.

Another suggestion has been prohibiting liquor aboard boats on the lake, the largest in Oakland County.

Akery was struck about 7 p.m. by a large inbound boat.

Syncom Sails for Space Station

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Syncom 3 communications satellite, intended to relay television pictures of the October Olympic games in Japan quickly to North America and Europe, rocketed into a preliminary orbit today on route to a planned stationary post high above the Pacific Ocean.

Officials were cheered by the early success of the mission. But the "Olympic Star" satellite must execute a number of complex maneuvers in the next 12 days to shift its orbit and reach its goal as the world's first truly synchronous (stationary) satellite.

While Syncom 3 is a research vehicle and television is not its main job, successful intercontinental transmission of Olympic pictures would be the most dramatic performance so far by communications satellites.

U. S., Japanese, Canadian and European interests plan to spend nearly $1 million to demonstrate Olympic television capability with Syncom 3.

Practically none of the transmission will be live, primarily because of time differences and, ironically, Canadian and European viewers probably will see more of the film relayed by Syncom 3 than will those in the United States.

'TRANSFER' ORBIT
A three-stage TAD (Thrust Augmented Delta) rocket barreled away from Cape Kennedy at 7:15 a.m. EST to propel the drum-shaped satellite into the "transfer" orbit—a great egg-shaped route ranging from about 700 to 23,300 miles above the earth and requiring about 11 hours for each pass.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported 30 minutes after launching that all three rocket stages had performed as planned and the 145-pound package of communications instruments was on course and sending strong signals.

Syncom 3's next hurdle will be reached about 28 hours after launching—about 11 a.m. tomorrow—when it reaches the 22,300-mile high point of its orbit for the third time.

Then a small rocket is to be fired by ground command to jockey the satellite out of its wide-swinging transfer path into a circular orbit about 22,300 miles up.

SOME GROANS
While Syncom's early success brought cheers, there were also some groans at Cape Kennedy when it was learned a series of lightning bolts which caused considerable damage on the Project Gemini launching pad apparently has erased any possibility of a two-man orbital flight this year.

Officials said the mishap (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Never Let Go of Line During Long Ordeal

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Battered by a ham sandwich, weary 15-year-old Tom Joyner Jr., battled a 370-pound sting ray for 18 hours.

He finally got it to shore, but with the help of divers.

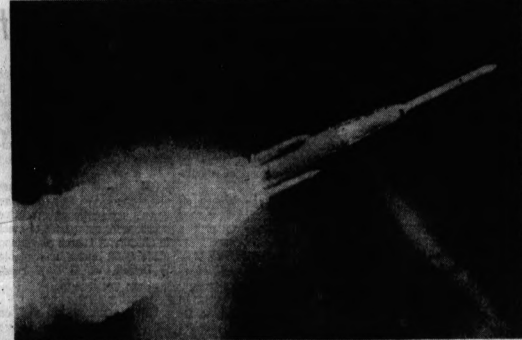

"I don't care," Tom said, "I got him anyway."

He never let go of the line from 6:45 p.m. Monday until 12:45 p.m. yesterday when two divers ran an oar through the ray's gills and helped Tom haul him to the beach with a boat.

A huge crowd, part of the thousands who came by during the day, had gathered. Tom wouldn't leave the 600-foot-long Patrick Air Force Base pier after he hooked into the ray, a round, flat-bodied creature with a whip-like tail capable of inflicting severe wounds.

Turks Return Units Pulled From NATO

ANKARA, Turkey, (AP)—Turkey announced today it has returned to control of the North Atlantic Alliance, Turkish Air Force units withdrawn during air strikes on Greek Cypriot military positions on Cyprus. It suggested Greece also return its withdrawn military units to NATO.

Doubt Greeted Makarios Offer

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriots waited with skepticism today for President Makarios to fulfill his promise to allow food, fuel and medicine to enter blockaded Turkish Cypriot areas.

A Turkish Cypriot spokesman welcomed the pledge as "an encouraging first step." But he accused Makarios, a Greek Cypriot, of breaking agreements before and said, "Therefore, we will have to wait and see."

Makarios' pledge to the U.N. Command Tuesday to allow movements into some beleaguered communities could eliminate a source of trouble, but other developments indicated the Cyprus crisis could come to a boil again.

After another round of talks with Greek leaders, Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou disclosed in Athens Tuesday night that he would fly to Moscow to negotiate an arms deal with the Soviet Union.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inönü warned that his country would act again if the Greek Cypriots renew attacks on Turkish Cypriots. The new warning came in a message to heads of government released by Turkey's U.N. delegation in New York.

Turkey underscored Inönü's words with a series of air and naval maneuvers off eastern Turkey, 118 miles from Cyprus. In Nicosia, Lt. Gen. George Grivas told newsmen the Greek Cypriots had captured Turkish documents indicating that the Turks planned to land troops in the northwest of Cyprus Aug. 13.

Grivas, the former anti-British underground leader who now commands the Cyprus armed forces, said the Greek Cypriot drive on the Turkish Cypriot beachhead around Kokkina a few days earlier prevented the Turkish invasion.

NATIONAL WEATHER—Showers are due tonight in parts of south Atlantic coastal states and from Great Basin eastward through parts of Plains and Plains into lower Mississippi Valley. It will be cooler in northern and central Rockies and northeastern corner of the country. Temperatures will be on the mild side in parts of the Plains and southern Gulf coast states.

GOOD TV COVERAGE—A police command post, employing closed circuit television, has been set up at Atlantic City, N.J., Convention Hall to help state police in keeping a tight security watch on President Johnson at next week's Democratic National Convention. A New Jersey state trooper is shown manning the battery of monitors which are trained on the stage, the boardwalk and the screens from major TV networks.

Lifer Wants Hearing on Store Killing

One of two Pontiac men sentenced to prison for the murder of a Waterford Township supermarket manager has requested a hearing to appeal his case Aug. 27 in Kalamazoo.

He is Charles Hodges, 22, who is serving a life sentence at Marquette Prison for his part in the knife slaying of Robert A. Greene on March 16, 1963.

Hodges pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

"He apparently wants a transcript of the proceedings in his case and the court to appoint an attorney to handle his appeal," said Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Berry.

Berry said Hodges' appeal is similar to many being sought by convicted felons due to recent changes in Michigan judicial rules.

Berry and Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer will both travel to Kalamazoo, where the trial took place a year ago, when Judge Beer changed the venue from Oakland County.

CODEFENDANT GUILTY—Codefendant in the murder, Hodges' uncle, Adolphe White, 22, was found guilty after a jury trial on first degree murder charges and is serving a mandatory life sentence.

The two were accused of slaying Green to death after they forced him to open the safe of the Kroger supermarket at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads. Some $1,500 was taken in the robbery.

Claim Ruby Admits Killing 'Own Idea'

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Ruby, in secret testimony reportedly given the Warren Commission, said it was strictly his own idea to kill Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

In a copyrighted story yesterday by the Warren Commission columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, Ruby is quoted as having told Warren June 7:

"I was never malicious toward this person. No one else requested me to do anything. I never spoke to anyone about attempting to do anything. No subversive organization gave me any idea. No underworld person made any effort to contact me. It all happened that Sunday morning."

The Dallas Times-Herald also published an article yesterday that it said quoted the testimony. Some of the quotes were the same as those in the Journal-American.

Student Challenge Follows Threat by Viet Leaders

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—About 200 students challenged Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's right to assume the presidency and accused the United States of intervening in South Vietnamese domestic affairs at a noisy rally in the Student Union headquarters today.

Khanh had broadcast a veiled threat that the youths stood a chance of being drafted into the army if they demonstrated against his government.

Referring to the scheduled meeting, he said the students could control their own destinies, "which are being decided within a few hours."

He suggested the students continue their schoolwork, but said if they wish "to participate in the struggle of the whole Vietnamese people, the armed forces will welcome them with open arms."

Evidently heeding that warning, students stayed inside and did not demonstrate. Police kept the building under surveillance.

INCLUDES MARCHES—The meeting was first of a series scheduled this week and next that is expected later to include street marches.

Student leaders declared the ruling military council, in which Khanh moved up from premier to president Sunday, is not representative of the people.

"The revolution of Nov. 1 (in which Nov. Djin Diem was overthrown) was a revolution of true revolutionaries," a speaker said. "There were too many nonrevolutionaries in the (Khanh) revolution of Jan. 29."

ACCUSE YANKS—Others declared that American officials instigated Khanh's election as president, in which he supplanted the popular Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh as chief of state.

Authorities were braced for possible antigovernment demonstrations by Buddhists.

As a precaution, they quietly dismantled a monument to the late President John F. Kennedy. The U.S. embassy was reported to have concurred in this removal of a potential target for street mobs.

The concrete slab was removed Tuesday night from a main square in Saigon, where it had stood in front of the city's Roman Catholic cathedral.

ANNIVERSARY—Authorities tensely awaited Thursday's observance of the first anniversary of the bloody pagoda riots when hundreds of Buddhist monks and nuns were rounded up by security forces of the late President Nov. Djin Diem.

A foreshadowing of trouble came Monday when Buddhist students staged an antigovernment rally in Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon.

Dispute Opens Happy's Suit

Rocky's Wife Seeking Custody of Children

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—The custody case involving the children of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's wife by her previous marriage opened today with an immediate dispute.

Her attorney asked that the case be heard in the judge's chambers and the papers sealed. The attorney for Mrs. Rockefeller's wife by her previous marriage opposed the bid.

Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. Magliarducci recessed the hearing to confer with the lawyers—Edward S. Greenbaum, representing Mrs. Rockefeller, and Vincent J. Malone, representing Dr. James S. Murphy.

Mrs. Rockefeller sought to gain custody of the four children, Murphy, whom she divorced in order to marry Rockefeller, asked dismissal of the suit and that the couple's 4-year-old daughter, Melinda, be returned to him.

The suit was filed in this Westchester County suburb, not far from the Rockefeller family estate. Murphy resides in New York City.

"The children, besides Melinda, are James B. 13, Margaret, 11, and Carol, 8."

Attorneys for both parties have declined to detail what custody arrangements have prevailed since the divorce papers were sealed by the court.

Rockefeller and Happy Murphy were married the next month.

Last May 30, Mrs. Rockefeller gave birth to a son, Nelson A. Jr.

Murphy married Victoria Thompson last June 10. He is reported to be on a vacation in Maine.

CONTINUED BENEFIT—When Mrs. Murphy and the governor were married in May 1963, her lawyer said that under the separation agreement with Murphy the children were to receive "the continued benefit of the companionship, guidance and affection of both their parents."

The lawyer also said that property interests were amicably settled.

LITTLE CAR Gets 1 Extra Horsepower

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Some men in sleek, little convertibles pick up girls.

Gordon F. Buck Jr., 29, picked up a horse.

One minute, Buck was doing 60 miles an hour in his little German Porsche on Highway 101.

The next, he had a passenger in the front seat—a horse named Gambler.

Buck's car hit Gambler in the rear, flipping him into the seat, said the California Highway Patrol.

Buck swore off the road. Gambler got out and galloped off.

A veterinarian said Gambler, who lives on a nearby ranch, suffered only a few bruises and slight emotional upset.

Birmingham Area News Bloomfield School Board Closes Private Road

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—The board of education last night moved to close a private road at Walnut Lake, thus completing action started in May during the height of a controversy over school board property there.

Residents living near the 46-acre parcel on the northeast side of the lake attempted to block by legal maneuvers school board plans to use the beach there.

The property was purchased about four years ago as the site for a third high school, but was to be used this summer as a place to teach youngsters to swim.

The board now circuit court permission to use the site for a swimming program.

SOME FAVOR—During the controversy, board attorney Lawrence King recommended that a blacktopped road running across the property be returned to him.

Although it is not the only access route to lakefront homes, it does appear to be favored over a gravel one by half a dozen residents.

King noted the road might become public property if allowed to be used for a certain period of time.

Last night the resolution he drew up was approved by the board. Adjacent property owners will be given a 60-day notice of the closing.

Facing the opening of school, the board has scheduled three special meetings within the next month.

Trustees will convene at 8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Sept. 2.

LONG-AGED Birmingham Col. PAGE TWO—The newest of the books published by Cranbrook Institute of Science, "The Web of the Spider," won a certificate of award at the recent 15th annual exhibit of the Chicago Book Clinic.

Written by Laura Barr Lougee, the book is a non-technical introduction to the marvels of spider webs.

It is a study which the author first undertook five years ago when, as a designer in charge of exhibits at the Institute, she was asked to prepare an exhibit on trap-door spiders.

Mrs. McCain died yesterday after a long illness.

She was a past president of the Detroit New Century Club, a member of Christ Church Cranbrook, and a member of the Foxcroft Garden Club.

Her body is at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Survivors besides her husband are a son, George L. McCain Jr., of Redwood City, Calif.; two

Eye Tax Study at Sylvan Lake

Legislation Sought to Limit City Levy

A citizens' committee, formed to study a proposed tax limitation charter amendment in Sylvan Lake, will convene at 8 to 9 p.m. in the Sylvan Lake City Hall.

The proposed amendment would change Sylvan's City Charter to provide that future levies for the general fund be limited to one per cent of the city's assessed valuation as equalized.

Presently, the charter provides for a two per cent ceiling, based on "assessed value." However, according to Sylvan city officials, the practice has been to equalize local assessed values.

Thus, the amendment being proposed for the November ballot would provide that future levies for the general fund be limited to one per cent of the city's assessed valuation as equalized.

Former councilman Edwin F. Clark is the sponsor of the amendment.

Anthony Kreps, former mayor and charter commission member, was asked to convene the nine-member citizens group.

PRESSURE GROUPS—Clark, who served six years on the Sylvan Lake council, claims that the tax ceiling is necessary to answer pressure groups.

"It's good to keep a ceiling so that when pressure groups come calling, you can point out that you're already taxing to the limit."

Clark's amendment, filed for the fall ballot with 90 signatures on the petition, would prevent general fund taxes from exceeding the current levy.

The city is now levying only about half the two per cent limit.

EXPLAINS CHARTER—Leroy Traflet, city manager, explained that the charter now only states "two per cent of assessed valuation" without saying whether the tax limit is based on local assessed valuation or state equalized valuation.

The amendment would put in the charter the words "... assessed valuation, as equalized by the state tax commission," which Traflet said would put into print what has been practiced.

Legal interpretations, according to Traflet, have said that the charter's "valuation" means state equalized valuation.

Market Is Mixed

Cigarettes Are Active, Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarette stocks were active and higher today in a mixed stock market. Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

The cigarette issues, which have been gaining lately, received a further spur from a government report that cigarette shipments have rocketed back from the slump that followed the official report in January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

Fractal gains were made by Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, American and Reynolds Tobacco.

STEELS PUSH

Hoffa, Board

Fireworks May Erupt Over Legal Expenses

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Teamsters Union Executive Board and Union President James R. Hoffa met today for what could be a showdown on who pays Hoffa's legal expenses.

Hoffa agreed several weeks ago to stop using union money to pay his attorneys. Since then, he has been convicted in Chicago of conspiring to defraud the union's pension funds in a $30-million loan scheme.

He was sentenced to four years in prison for the same crime. Hoffa has been convicted of the same crime during the life of the agreement.

Hoffa has denied there is a move afoot to oust him as Teamsters president. "I don't hear of any problems except what I read in the papers," he said.

Harold J. Gibbons of St. Louis, Teamsters vice president who resigned last winter, is in Miami Beach for the executive board meeting and has been mentioned as a replacement for Hoffa.

Gibbons commented: "There's no vacancy so how could I be a candidate for one?"

A move to get rid of Hoffa needs 10 of the 15 votes. Hoffa could appeal an executive board decision to the membership.

General Motors' proposal to the United Automobile Workers union is a three-year agreement providing higher wages and increased vacation and holiday pay, greatly increased retirement benefits (including an early retirement incentive), widows' benefits, company-paid improved group insurance, and a tuition-free educational opportunity.

The new agreement would be effective Sept. 1, 1964, for approximately 350,000 employees covered by the current GM-UAW National Agreement if all national and local issues have been settled and the corporation and the union have reached mutual agreement by midnight Aug. 31, 1964.

MAJOR POINTS
Major provisions of the 22-point proposal are:

• Annual wage increases ranging from six to 15 cents per hour (averaging more than eight cents an hour, when applied to overtime, night shift premium and vacation and holiday pay for GM employees) for each of the three years of the agreement. This would mean an average total increase of more than 24 cents per hour during the life of the agreement.

• An improved pension plan, including:

(1) The basic retirement benefit increased from $2.50 per month per year of credited service to $3.25.

(2) A new incentive benefit for early retirement which provides the employee who is retired on a mutually satisfactory basis at age 60 retirement benefit.

• Good Friday to be added as a paid holiday, in addition to the six full holidays and two half-day holidays now provided.

INSURANCE BENEFITS
• Improved life insurance and sickness and accident benefits which will be fully paid by the company. In addition, a new supplementary survivor benefit of $100 a month for up to 24 months for a total of $2,400 would be paid to an employee's widow or to his dependent children or dependent parents.

• A fund to adjust wage differentials at certain plants. The distribution of this fund, which would mean extra income for some employees, would be determined by the company.

• A new incentive benefit for early retirement which provides the employee who is retired on a mutually satisfactory basis at age 60 retirement benefit.

• A new incentive benefit for early retirement which provides the employee who is retired on a mutually satisfactory basis at age 60 retirement benefit.

Urges Vigorous Democrat Rights Plank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leader Roy Wilkins urged Democratic platform writers today to pledge vigorous enforcement of the new civil rights law and give the country a contrast with what he called the "squeamish circumlocution" of the Republican plank.

Wilkins, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared that "the riots which have shaken several urban communities cannot be condoned." He said they must be understood as a sign of a new kind of deprivation and frustration.

Wilkins' testimony was prepared for the Democratic platform committee as it concentrated on the civil rights issue, considered the most difficult to treat in a plank acceptable to all wings of the party.

A trial balloon floated by some Southern moderates for a compromise statement that might avoid a floor fight appeared to have been shot down when Pierre Felham, a committee member from Alabama, said Tuesday he could accept nothing less than a call for repeal of the Civil Rights Act.

GOP LANGUAGE

The Republican platform language that aroused Wilkins' scorn includes a call for "full implementation and faithful execution" of new and old civil rights laws, improvements as needed and any necessary action to ensure the right to vote.

But Wilkins said the slogan, "leave civil rights matters to the states" has become the hallmark of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate. Goldwater has said he accepts the Republican platform and, as president, would enforce the laws.

Wilkins said the Democrats should pledge "appropriations to insure an adequate and dedicated staff and particularly to provide for the expansion of the rights division of the Department of Justice."

He said further action is necessary because in some areas use of local governmental power against those who demonstrate and protest amounts to "a new form of discrimination" as the enforcement of law and order.

ADMIT TO BAIL

So, he said, those arrested "for merely exercising their rights" should be admitted to bail by federal courts.

Wilkins called also for support of President Johnson's anti-poverty program and for reform of congressional procedures to eliminate devices for blocking legislation.

A committee source, who would not be quoted by name, told newsmen he expects the platform writers to agree without a major fight on a plank calling for "genuine, hard enforcement" of the civil rights law, but not recommending additional legislation for the present.

He said he expects the committee also to approve planks condemning extremism and advocating continued exclusively civilian control of all kinds of nuclear weapons. Similar planks were proposed by opponents of Goldwater at the Republican convention, but voted down.

'Viet AF Development Stalled by Diem Politics'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Development of the Vietnamese Air Force lagged two years because of political restrictions by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime, a ranking U.S. Air Force official said today.

Brig. Gen. Robert R. Rowland said Diem's political screening out of pilot candidates and trained pilots was a key reason. In some cases, pilots who had completed advanced flight training in the United States were disqualified when they returned.

Another restriction was that no Vietnamese combat pilot could take off carrying a bomb weighing more than 100 pounds without authorization by the palace.

Diem's anxiety about his air force resulted largely from the Feb. 27, 1962, bombing of his palace by two of his pilots flying American made fighter-bombers.

NEARLY DESTROYED

The palace was demolished, and Diem and his family barely escaped with their lives. Both pilots were trained in the United States.

While national security screenings of Vietnamese pilots continue, Rowland said, those now out of Communist ties are not considered politically eligible.

He said Vietnamese pilots are flying every type of tactical aircraft in Viet Nam although Americans continue to go along "in a training capacity."

The acute shortage of pilots in the past resulted in Americans flying Vietnamese planes on most of the combat missions in the country.

NO RUB-OFF

Rivalry between the U.S. Army and the U.S. Air Force has not rubbed off on the Vietnamese air force, he said.

Harold Smith of 850 Pleasant Ridge told deputies that the thieves had broken a small porch door window to enter the house.

The jewelry, which included a diamond ring and a pearl necklace, was taken from the bedroom.

Pickets Hit Reuther Talk to Lutherans

DETROIT (AP) — Pickets protesting today's scheduled speech of President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union appeared Tuesday night outside the Cobo Hall convention of the Lutheran League.

They declined to identify themselves but passed out copies of a "special youth addition" (sic) of Lutheran News containing an article "By the Church League of America" which is sharply critical of Reuther, who, incidentally, is a Lutheran.

The Lutheran League's own public relations department concedes in a news release that opposition to the scheduling of Mr. Reuther has been voiced in many sections of The ALC (The American Lutheran Church), reaching a crescendo in California.

Lutheran News says in its flagship it is published bi-weekly at Trinity Lutheran Parsonage, New Haven, Mo., and that its editor is Herman Ott.

The article attacking Reuther reprints a letter he and his brother, Victor, reportedly wrote while working in Russia in 1934. It praises socialism. The Reuthers have repudiated it.

North Korea Claims U.N. Pact Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea claimed today that truce violations by the U.N. Command had increased since the United States struck at North Viet Nam after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents.

The charge was made by North Korean Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-Hwan at a meeting here of the joint Military Armistice Commission.

Police Capture Florida Cons

3 From State Caught in Alabama Roundup

DOTHAN, Ala. (UPI) — Police flushed three Michigan men who escaped from a Florida prison crew last Friday out of a resort cabin with tear gas yesterday.

The men were among seven convicts who fled from a road gang near Jacksonville, Fla., last Friday.

The escaped convicts were Donald Lilelella Thiede, 287 and Scott Janis, 28, both of Detroit, and James Clyde Harvey, 19, of Battle Creek.

Police also captured a fourth escapee at a roadblock.

The four men checked into a resort at Kelly Springs, Ala., Sunday. The resort owner, S. D. (Red) Thomas, went to police Monday and told them about having a dream in which his four tenants were involved in several burglaries in the Dothan area.

Police surrounded the cabin Tuesday and shouted for the men to come out. After they continued to refuse, officers sent for reinforcements and donned gas masks. One of the men then ran out with his hands high.

Four tear gas bombs were tossed into the cabin. After the men were arrested at the cabin, officers waved a pistol inside. A sixth weapon was taken from one of the convicts when he was forced out by the gas.

Police said Thiede was doing 15 years for armed robbery; Harvey, four years for felonious assault; and Janis, eight years for burglary. The fourth escapee was Joseph St. Clair Wellington, 32, of Edgemoor, Me.

Officers said the four men were suspected of robbing a motor company overnight, stealing the entire supply of narcotics from a medical clinic and stealing a supply of clothing from a Dothan store.

U. S. Viet Force Grows to More Than 17,200

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Aug. 19 (AP) — Official U.S. military sources reported today the number of American servicemen in South Viet Nam had risen to 17,200 as of last Thursday.

The increase of about 1,200 over the normal figure reflects the continuing buildup of U.S. Forces here announced last month. The figure was expected to rise soon to about 20,000.

Present rate of energy consumption in the U.S. is 10 times that in 1854. Oil is the source of about 64 per cent of modern energy.

Driver Breaks Law, Par

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — "Follow that car," the state trooper told his fellow officers.

And they did.

Down the freeway, in and out of the rough, across a putting green and in and out of a bunker.

The police were teed off at the driver they were chasing in their patrol cars last night because he hadn't stopped when a state trooper at the Garden State Parkway's Brookdale service area tried to flag him down because his lights were out.

Instead, the driver put his car in reverse and took off backwards along the parkway, smashing through a guard rail and onto the nine-hole Broad Acres Golf Course.

Police chased him into Brookdale Park where he crossed a baseball diamond, rounded third base and disappeared into the night.

Police, who still don't know why he was in such a hurry to avoid them, issued an alarm for the driver.

Japanese housewives give their homes a vigorous holiday cleaning on Dec. 13, a day deemed auspicious for sustenance, or soot sweeping.

Richard Worthington, 22, was charged with the murders of Charles Worthington, 51, and his wife, Angela, 67, whose canvas-wrapped bodies, weighted with construction blocks, were found in a canal here Aug. 10.

An autopsy showed Worthington died from a shot in the head and possibly a beating. Mr. Worthington, police believed, was beaten and strangled.

Young Worthington, 6 foot 3 and touselé-headed, denied the charges and said his attorney advised him to say no more. He is an adopted son of the victims.

Both bodies were found by police after fishermen discovered a canvas bag floating in the canal. The bodies had been painstakingly trussed in the heavy material and tied with clothes-line rope.

The Worthingtons were last seen by friends Aug. 7, a Friday. The couple's boat was found empty in the Florida Keys and their station wagon found near a fishing cabin at Big Pine Key.
