FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
WASHINGTON — Diplomatic efforts to save Laos neutrality and head off civil war in the little Southeast Asian nation edged close to a breakdown today in a shift that triggered U.S. military gestures.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Lord Home brought the deterioration of the diplomatic situation fully into the

1,500 GIs Going to Thailand

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
WASHINGTON — The U.S. Army will send a battle group of about 1,500 infantrymen into Communist-threatened Thailand next month for maneuvers.

Although the move had been planned for months, it will come as another show of American force in the troubled Southeast Asian area.

The soldiers will be drawn from the 25th Infantry Division stationed in Hawaii. They will join with military units of other Southeast Asian Treaty nations in maneuvers scheduled for June 11-19.

More than 24,000 men from all SEATO nations are due to take part in the exercises.

The 25th is the division that provided troops for a U.S. show of force in Thailand 11 months ago when Communist forces in neighboring Laos appeared to be driving toward the Thai border.

Washington authorities believe the current threat to Thailand is about as great as the one last year, although an uneasy cease fire appears to be in effect after renewed fighting between pro-Communist forces and neutralist troops in Laos.

At Naha, Okinawa, America's biggest military complex in Asia went on alert today, apparently because of the rising crisis in Laos.

Military spokesmen refused as usual to comment on possible troop movements. But many troop leaves were canceled and normal pass restrictions tightened.

In Vientiane the Laotian government announced that about 300 U.S. officials of helping leftists in the Laotian fighting, will be withdrawn from Laos.

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (UPI)—Two persons died and a third developed an infection today during operations at New Rochelle Hospital. Hospital officials immediately canceled all other operations.

open by accusing the Soviet Union of frustrating British moves to restore peace.

As cochairmen of the international conference which developed the neutrality formula for a "troika" government, combine of pro-Communist, neutralist and rightist forces, Britain and the Soviet Union held a key position.

Home, speaking in the House of Lords, based his accusation on the same Kremlin move that U.S. authorities already had diagnosed as an abrupt hardening of the Soviet line—a demand that Britain join in a declaration that the United States is responsible for the outbreak of fighting in Laos.

Britain already had refused to accept that accusation as part of a British-Soviet call for a cease fire, and the United States had rejected it as patently false.

The U.S. rejoinder is that the root of the trouble lies in the continuing military drive by pro-Communist forces.

President Kennedy met today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, presumably to discuss the tense situation caused by Russia's refusal to join Britain in the Laotian peace appeal.

Although the White House declined to disclose details of the meeting, the Kremlin's tough stand sparked fears of new turmoil in Southeast Asia.

Administration officials speculated that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might be adopting a new hard line on all East-West issues under strong pressure from Communist China.

Vote Nearer on Community College Plan

A June 10 vote on establishment of a community college system in Oakland County was a step closer to reality today.

The State Senate last night approved a bill containing provisions that would enable the county to vote on setting up a community college district without including the Clarenceville School District.

The provisions were included in a substitute bill for a House-approved measure to amend state law on community college districts.

RESOLVE CONFLICT
Milliken said the action was taken to resolve a conflict between a similar bill previously approved by the Senate and a House bill dealing with the same subject. The Senate bill was to be killed in the House, he said.

The new substitute bill was to be returned to the House for approval of the Senate changes. Approval was expected.

Oakland County School Supt. William J. Emerson said today that if the bill is approved as expected, a countywide vote could be held on June 10, the date of regular school election.

If approved by voters then, the county could have two junior colleges in at least partial operation by September, 1964, Emerson indicated.

Although the County Board of Education could initiate action to put the matter on the ballot, a separate board of trustees would be set up to run the junior college system.

Four Prisoners Cracked Jackson Along This Route

Report Escaped Prisoners Are in Benton Harbor Area

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — State police and sheriff's deputies today converged on a wooded area 12 miles north of here after a truck driver reported seeing four men fleeing from a car on U.S. 31.

Police said the truck driver told them the men looked like descriptions circulated for the four convicts who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison yesterday.

The men ran from a car when the truck driver approached to take a closer look, police said. The area being searched is in the Thunder Mountain region.

Meanwhile prison officials questioned an inmate who they believed was left out of the daring escape plot.

In addition, prison authorities said the FBI entered the nationwide manhunt under way for the convicts, described as "dangerous and desperate."

Peter R. Kuch, 22, was placed in solitary confinement after guards found last night that the bars of his cell had been sawed through.

A hacksaw blade and Michigan road map were discovered in his cell, authorities said.

Administrative assistant Charles Egler said the questioning would continue but added that Kuch "wasn't talking."

Prison authorities said they hoped Kuch, who was sentenced to 7½-20 years for breaking and entering in the night time in Grand Rapids in August 1961, would be able to give them some clue to the escapees' whereabouts, and help them determine how the break from the world's largest walled prison was carried out.

Officials said FBI agent Charles Fehr of Jackson had been brought into the case on the possibility the fugitives may have fled across a state line.

Four prison guards were suspended for apparent negligence.

"There is no question but that they were slack," Kropf said. "If they'd been on the ball, these men might not have escaped."

"When making a count (they are made hourly) you're supposed to see a man in the cell, you don't see hair; you don't see a lump in the bed; you don't see shoes. Every guard is taught that right from the beginning," he added sharply after the guards had been questioned.

Two additional Circuit judges were virtually assured for Oakland County this year following last night's approval by the State Senate.

A measure to increase the county's number of Circuit judges from five to seven was passed, 31-1, by the Senate and sent to Gov. George Romney for his signature.

Oakland County resident Romney has indicated he would sign the bill, allowing him to fill the vacancies by appointment when the bill takes effect 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

Since adjournment is slated for June 7, this would put the measure's effective date in September.

Most prominent in the speculation to get the appointments are attorneys James S. Thorburn of Royal Oak and Philip Pratt of Pontiac.

Thorburn is president, Pratt is a former president, of the Oakland County Bar Association.

The bill already had been approved by the House, which also had okayed appropriations for the state's share of the salaries for the new posts.

BILL PENDING
A bill is pending to raise the state's contribution to circuit judges' pay from $12,500 to $15,000.

Oakland County circuit judges currently draw $23,500 a year with the county contributing $11,000.

Total cost to the county of the new judgeships has been estimated at $146,500 in the proposed 1964 budget. This would include staff and expenses in addition to salaries.

The additional judgeships were requested by the present county circuit judges, who said two more were needed to handle the fast-growing case load and additional work required by new court rules.

County Democrats objected to the move, urging more study first and claiming the request was timed to take advantage of a Republican governor being in office to make the appointments.

The new constitution goes into effect Jan. 1 and takes that appointment power away from the governor.

Next Five Days Will Be Warmer in Pontiac Area

A pleasant, tomorrow is predicted for the Pontiac area with temperatures a cool 35 tonight and a warmer 60 tomorrow.

Friday will be partly cloudy with little temperature change. For the next five days, temperatures will average near the normal high of 58 to 63 and the low of 35 to 42.

Thirty-three was the low recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 48 at 2 p.m.

Redistricting, Wages, Buses Are Hot Issues

Legislation Moved to Voting Stage in Yesterday's Session

LANSING (AP) — House members prepared themselves today for a series of battles over three of the most explosive bills of the 1963 legislative session — minimum wage, congressional reapportionment and the so-called parochial bus bill.

All three moved up to the voting stage yesterday, with the bus bill accorded perhaps the best chance of passage.

The House hashed out its arguments over the bus bill but held off a series of amendments to both the minimum wage bill and the congressional reapportionment measure which Gov. George Romney has asked.

Foremost on the list of some 41 bills left on the House calendar was the minimum wage bill, which was in line for a series of administration-approved amendments to increase the number of persons included.

The amendments, which included raising the wage floor in the bill from $1 to $1.15, the same as the federal minimum wage law, also carried the blessing of organized labor.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kalamazoo, an opponent of the wage bill, said he could not estimate its chances for passage.

MAKES PREDICTION
But he predicted the other two controversial pieces of legislation would be through the House without the necessity for a resolution extending the deadline.

At least three amendments to the congressional apportionment plan also were expected as the bill came up for final debate before a vote.

With one member missing, Republicans had 57 votes—one more than needed—to pass any of the bills. But on none of the three was the vote expected to follow strict party lines.

In debate on the bus bill, House members rejected a series of amendments, including one by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Waterford Township, to require students to pay 10 cents for school buses unless their district ruled they are hardship cases.

Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, sought to send the bill to its death by referring it to the ways and means committee but lost on a 58-16 vote.

Both boys and girls in the ninth grade at West Bloomfield High School.

Captain Leo Hazen said the shooting took place inside the home after the boys had returned from firing two rounds on the shore of Green Lake, where the Hazen home is located.

TOOK CLIP OUT
"Michael said they took the clip out of the gun when they came back to the house," said Hazen. "They didn't know that a bullet remains in the chamber of an automatic even after the clip is out."

Hazen said Hazen was shot from a distance of about 15 feet.

"Michael told us that he was bringing the gun to Walter so he could reload the clip and put it back so Walter's father wouldn't know it had been taken," Hazen said.

"Walter was talking on the phone to a girl when he was shot," said Hazen.

The shooting occurred about 7:30 p.m. in the bedroom of Walter's parents, who were out for the evening.

K Gets Big Noise on 'Casey' Castro

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro recently visited his country's Pan-American games delegation and wound up pitching in a baseball game.

He went nine innings, allowed only seven hits, won 8-2 and patted himself on the back thusly:

"Now I won't be able to eat for three days. My arm will be so sore they'll have to feed me."

Returning to his headquarters, Castro's jocular mood disappeared as quickly as a fleeing refugee. Here's an imaginary account of what went on.

CASTRO: Let's eat. I'm as hungry as a bear. Hey, don't jab me with that spoon. That chicken soup's running down into my beard.

And blow it a little, it's hot. Oh, when I get my arm out of this sling.

Never mind, get me Khrushchev on the phone.

KHRUSHCHEV: Yes, Mr. Kennedy?

CASTRO: Niki, baby, it's me, Fidel, your man in Havana.

KHRUSHCHEV: How'd you get my hot-line number?

CASTRO: Never mind that, Niki, baby, did you hear about my pitching? I was great, just great. You should have been there. My catcher was wonderful.

Just wearing that pistol at his side helped. And after I got my brother, Raul, to umpire after the first inning — everything went fine.

White Integrationist Killed Hiking on Southern Protest

ATTALLA, Ala. (AP)—A white crusader for integration was shot to death last night as he hiked across northeast Alabama on a personal mission protesting segregation in the South.

William L. Moore, 35, a mailman from Baltimore, Md., was shot at close range by an unknown assassin as he trudged along a lonely road near this northeast Alabama town. He was bound for Mississippi, carrying pro-integration signs.

Gov. George Wallace, a staunch segregationist, called the slaying a "dastardly act" and offered $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the killer.

Before he started on his mission, Moore distributed copies of a letter he left Friday at the White House for President Kennedy and another he planned to deliver to Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi.

The Baltimore Congress of Racial Equality chapter called upon Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to order a federal investigation of the killing of Moore, a member of CORE.

"Oh God, I don't know why anyone would want to hurt him, he was so kind," said Mrs. Mary Moore of Birmingham, N.Y., the slain man's widow. "He was a crusader for people's rights and freedoms."

Moore had moved to Baltimore last November from their trailer home at Birmingham to be closer to anti-segregation movements, the widow said.

AFRAID FOR SAFETY
"I stayed home because I was afraid for the children's safety," said Mrs. Moore, the mother of three. "I was afraid for Bill, too."

Moore was a Marine Corps veteran and fought on Guam during World War II. He was the author of a book entitled "The Mind in Chains" or

Arraign Pair for Hijacking Store's Safe

Two men accused of carting off a safe containing some $6,000 in cash and checks from a Birmingham pharmacy stood mute at their arraignment Monday before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Norman Collins, 31, of Warren, and Freddie Bledsoe, of Madison Heights, are charged with safe robbery and burglary.

The two were arrested Feb. 24 by Clawson police who stopped their car because of defective lights and an open trunk. Police said the pair was trying "to hide money all over the car."

The safe, taken from the Mills Pharmacy earlier the same day, was recovered by state police from the Big Beaver Creek in Shelby Township.

Two Detroit Youths Sentenced for Rape

The Detroit youths Monday received two- to 10-year terms at Jackson prison for the March 10 statutory rape of a 15-year-old girl in West Bloomfield Township.

Randolph J. Tucker, 18, and James H. Ledbetter, 20, were sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. The youths pleaded guilty April 8.

Jackson State Police Declared Safety Winner

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Jackson District has been declared winner of the state police safety contest for 1962 with an 83.4 per cent reduction in its preventable accidents.

The Marquette District was second with an improvement rating of 61.8 per cent and the Rockford District was third with a 59.8 per cent improvement.

Pontiac Teen Stands Mute at Hearing

A Pontiac teen-ager charged with manslaughter in the Feb. 10 auto-crash death of a Leonard youth stood mute Monday at his arraignment before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Dennis M. Kachinski, 18, of 156 Chippewa Road, was released on $3,000 bond to await trial for the death of Michael S. Collins, 20, of 525 Rowland Road, Leonard.

Collins burned to death after his car was hit in the rear by a car driven by Kachinski. Police said Collins' car burst into flames after the impact ruptured the gasoline tank.

The crash occurred on Adams Road at Stoney Creek Road in Oakland Township.

County Farmers to Vote on Price Support Plan

'Yes' Will Mean Controls; 'No' Allows Open Market

Farmers in Oakland County will vote May 21 in the national wheat referendum. The vote will determine the price program for the 1964 crop.

Wheat growers have two choices. A "yes" vote cast by two-thirds or more of the growers voting will mean "acreage allotments and marketing quotas."

The total U.S. allotment will be 49.5 million acres and a marketing quota of 1,220 million bushels with 80 per cent, or 975 million bushels certificated for a $2 price support.

To the individual wheat farmer, this means a two-price system. The 80 per cent allocation will be known as "certificated wheat."

Farmers will be issued certificates enabling them to get $2 a bushel for 80 per cent of the normal yield on their allocated acres (but not to exceed the normal yield on the farm's planted acres).

All other eligible wheat will be guaranteed a price of $1.30 a bushel or about the current world price level.

If more than a third of the farmers vote "no," there will be almost no limits on production or marketing. The price support will be set at 50 per cent of parity or $1.25 a bushel nationally for those planting within their allotment.

WIDELY GROWN CROP

Wheat is the most widely grown field crop in the United States. It is grown on more than half of the nation's 3.7 million farms.

Approximately 115,000 farms in Michigan grow wheat. Wheat, as a cash crop, brings in about 8 per cent of the state's farm income.

In Oakland County, wheat is grown on about 1,800 farms. The 9,000 acres normally planted means an annual wheat crop of 280,000 bushels.

Sale of wheat brings in about 10 per cent of the county's farm income.

Since 1950, the U.S. wheat crop has averaged well over a billion bushels a year. That's double our annual needs for domestic use.

Even with exports and foreign aid programs, the country maintains about a two-year domestic supply in storage.

Farmers must decide whether they want acreage allotments and marketing quotas in exchange for a guaranteed high price and payments for diverting land out of wheat, said J. Poffenberger, county agriculture agent.

He said the alternative would be almost no limits on production or marketing.

Farmers who plant within allotments will be eligible for price supports averaging $1.25. Others would take their chances on a free market price.

Eastern Star Chapter Sets Friendship Night

DAVISBURG — Austin Chapter No. 396, Order of the Eastern Star, will honor Oakland County Association officers at a Friendship Night program tomorrow.

The open meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

Conservatory Sets Recital for Sunday

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Conservatory of Music will present members of its student body and faculty in recital Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the senior high school.

William Horvath, cellist and James Waring, violinist, will be heard in works of Beethoven and Grieg.

Jane Egger, flutist, will play a Telemann sonata, and Bruce Francis, tenor, will be heard in works of Handel, Mozart, and Roger Quilter.

Piano students from Clarkston, Pontiac, Oxford, Wixom, Rochester, and Walled Lake also will be performing. Admission is free.

Announce Engagement of Davisburg Girl

DAVISBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Morris, 7005 Ormond Road, announce the engagement of their daughter Mildred Tressa Taton to Harvey B. Sayers.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sayers of Tower. A July 5 wedding is planned.

TO RECEIVE AWARD — Rev. Thomas Dunn, pastor of Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church, shows Judy Ragatz, 14, the Christian Youth Crusaders Roberts Award. A ninth grader at Clarkston High School, Judy will receive the award Friday night in ceremonies at the church.

HONOR SUPERINTENDENT — A silver etched photograph of Clifford H. Smart is to hang in the Walled Lake junior high school named for him. Emilie Beaupre, president of the school's 1961 eighth grade class, last night presented the portrait to Smart, superintendent of the school system for 18 years. Epille's class, the first to complete three years at the junior high school, has been working on the gift project for two years.

AREA NEWS

Court Returns Hospital Case

SOUTHFIELD — The court dispute between the City Council and Detroit Osteopathic Hospital Corp. over the proposed construction of a $3-million hospital was sent back to the city yesterday.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore returned the case for City Council's reconsideration in light of a recent State Supreme Court decision.

The high court ruling, Judge Moore explained, confined consideration to whether the proposed hospital would be injurious to surrounding property.

Other factors, such as the opinions of residents of the area, are not to be taken into account.

REFUSED APPROVAL

City Council has refused approval of the hospital on residentially zoned land near 22-Mile and Evergreen roads, although approval was recommended by the city's planning commission.

The council reached its decision after hearing protests by some 75 residents.

The hospital sought a court injunction preventing the city from interfering with its plans to build the new facility.

The city zoning ordinance permits approval of a hospital on residentially zoned land "upon a finding that the use will not be injurious to the surrounding neighborhood."

Four Area Residents Receive Ford Awards

Four area Ford Motor Co. employees are among those cited by the company for outstanding community service at last night's fourth annual Community Service Awards Program.

Presented with engraved plaques were Bernard C. Schmidt, 4315 Orchard Hill Drive, Bloomfield Township; Russell J. Williams, 105 Wabash St., Avon Township; James H. Hough, 7420 Fisher Road, Romeo; and Lester J. Hynnar, 44096 Donley Drive, Utica.

Schmidt, suggestion program coordinator for Ford's Sterling plant, is president of the Friends and Relatives of Mentally Retarded Children of South Oakland County.

The organization provides two centers of education and training for more than 70 children.

In addition to his activities with the Rochester Kiwanis Club, Williams, an experimental mechanic at the Michigan Proving Ground, participates in local PTA affairs and projects of the Avon Youth Service and Recreation Association.

Hough, superintendent of Michigan Proving Ground's service and facilities section, is chairman of the Romeo Youth Center's board of commissioners.

He is also president of the board of directors of the Community Hospital near Almont and active in hospital work.

Concert Set for Friday by School

WALLED LAKE — "Music for Fun," the fourth annual Melody Circus, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School.

Selections from "Sounds of Music" and "Camelot" will be featured on the program, which will also include classics, popular music, marches and jazz.

Major part of the program will be devoted to the junior high school's band and concert orchestra.

Also to perform are the string orchestra, saxophone quartet, newly formed jazz club and the "Twirlettes," a baton twirling club.

Soloists will be Kathy Crawford, bassoon; Fred Welch, cornet; John Burley, viola; and Marie Burley, cello.

Frank Balaam directs the band and orchestras, Judy Newcomer the baton twirlers and Wayne Francisco the jazz band.

Proceeds from the event will be donated to the school's uniform fund. Tickets can be purchased from any band or orchestra member or at the door.

Extension Fund Will Keep Cut

LANSING (AP) — A move to restore $200,000 to the budget for Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Program failed on a 16-17 vote in the senate after the program was criticized as a "bunny-making" project.

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, said that one woman who called him to urge support for the restoration of the funds said "We have a nice program for making bunnies."

Bowman called on the Senate to resist what he said were the pressure tactics applied by the Farm Bureau, 4-H Clubs, and others to keep the program.

But the state's money could be better spent, he said, for more important needs such as mental health and housing of mentally retarded children.

"If the Senate and House cannot stand up to a little pressure, we might as well go home," Bowman said. "Now that there's a little heat, you want to turn tail and run."

The Senate has authorized a committee to investigate lobbying tactics allegedly instigated by MSU in behalf of the extension program.

Cort-Major Rites

Wed by Candlelight

UNION LAKE — Bouquets of white gladioli and lilies graced the altar of Donelson Baptist Church, Pontiac, for the wedding Saturday evening of Carol Ann Major and Russell W. Cort.

Rev. Lyle Harmon of Pleasant Ridge Bible Church here performed the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Orland F. Major, 9825 Avonlea St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cort, 21395 Inkster Road, Farmington.

For her wedding the bride chose a floorlength gown of white silk satin and seed pearl headpiece that held a fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade of pale yellow roses and a white hyacinth on a white Bible.

Orlanda Lynn Major was maid of honor for her sister.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert J. Cort, stationed with the U.S. Navy in California, assisted him as best man. Ushers were Jay A. and Lloyd A. Drogmiller of Detroit, cousins of the bride.

The reception was held in the church parlors after the double-ring ceremony. The newlyweds will live in Farmington after they return from their honeymoon at Hawaiian Gardens resort motel, Hilly.

Rochester Church Holds Revivals Until May 5

ROCHESTER — Spring revival meetings are being held nightly through May 5 at the Rochester Church of the Nazarene.

Speaker at the 7:30 p.m. sessions is Rev. James Farris of London, Ohio. On Saturday Rev. Russell Burt, a missionary home on furlough, will show pictures of his work.

3 Students Get Scholarships

ROMEO — Three Romeo High School band members were named winners of summer scholarships to the National Music Camp at Interlochen at the annual scholarship concert last night.

They are Lynn Warren, senior, cornet; Cary Kilner, junior, cornet; and Tom Streeter, junior, clarinet.

The three alternates are David Aschman, junior, trombone; Kim Kaiser, junior, French horn; and Jack Spencer, senior, drums. Money for the scholarships comes from concert proceeds and contributions from area clubs, business firms and individuals.

The scholarship winners, who will spend two weeks at the music camp, were picked Monday night by a committee representing the whole school district.

Senators Ready Report on Cuba Build-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Preparedness subcommittee is preparing to issue its report on the Soviet military build-up in Cuba. Reportedly it will blister government agencies for not acting sooner on intelligence reports that the Soviets were bringing in missiles and troops.

The subcommittee is understood to be working out the final wording of the report summarizing what it learned from its investigation of Soviet strength on the island. Well-placed sources said a major problem now confronting the senators is getting agreement with military and intelligence agencies on whether some language in the report should be amended or stricken to avoid tipping off intelligence secrets.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., conducted its hearings in closed sessions. The senators reportedly were in agreement on the gist, but not necessarily the exact language, of a finding that Central Intelligence Agency and State and Defense Department evaluations substantially underestimated early intelligence information that the Russians were placing offensive missiles and thousands of men in Cuba. Photographic evidence obtained by reconnaissance flights over Cuba last October finally confirmed that the reports were true, the administration has said, and President Kennedy then declared a quarantine on offensive arms shipments to Cuba.

The administration has estimated a high mark of 25,000 Russians. At his April 3 news conference, Kennedy said this number had been reduced by withdrawals to about 13,000. There have been reports that the number was and is higher. Sen. Kenneth P. Keating, R-N.Y., has contended that although the Soviet Union has taken out some men it "to get all the facts" after he and some of Congress members cited Nation's Editors Meet in D.C.

Four days in Washington attending a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) leaves many questions unanswered in the mind of your editor.

Views on almost any subject varied, depending on who the speaker was. And these divergent opinions seemed to come from government officials as well as other editors.

Sen. KENNETH B. KEATING, R-N.Y., one of the strongest critics of the Administration's Cuban policy, gave what this editor considered a very calm and calculated appraisal of the situation in Cuba.

"The Senator did not speak as a 'crackpot,' as some would have you believe was his stock in trade. He is an extremely well-educated individual and it was apparent, to us at least, that he was well qualified to speak on Soviet strength in Cuba today.

The crux of his speech has already been reported. In essence he stressed that we should develop a firm and realistic program to get the Russians out of Cuba.

Further, he pointed out that we should develop and support a policy of bipartisanship as existed in the era of the late Sen. ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG of Michigan.

This general idea seemed to meet with the approval of the more than 500 editors from throughout the Nation.

A convention is never without some rather heated exchange. At this meeting it was between W. Averill Harriman, Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs, and an editor from Virginia, who insinuated in a question that perhaps someone like Owen Lattimore was still in the State Department.

HARRIMAN, his eyes flashing, said he remembered the question and went on to tell the editors that all the people who are working for the State Department "are damn good Americans."

The remainder of HARRIMAN's foreign policy views coincided pretty much with those of the Administration.

It was our impression that he was a little out of step with some of the younger members. He lacks the poise that existed with other top Government officials.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk addressed the ASNE and said it was not his purpose to make news, but to make sense. He told what the United States is doing in the diplomatic field in pursuit of a decent world order.

He did not deal with Cuba alone, but touched on many foreign areas. However, referring to the Soviet regime in Cuba, he did say that it is incompatible with the inter-American system and that the Soviet military presence on this side of the Atlantic was not accepted as a normal state of affairs.

He also said that Cuban trade with the West was shrinking as a result of the campaign to isolate the Castro regime.

The Secretary's manner and apparent knowledge impressed us considerably. The old rumor that he may one day replace ADLAI STEVENSON at the United Nations might not be a bad idea.

Some Washington talk has this move taking place with Bobby Kennedy moving over to head up the State Department and Whizzer White becoming Attorney General.

An interesting sidelight to our convention was a poll which showed 80 per cent of the editors seeing Gov. NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER as the 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

A whopping 90 per cent said that if the election were held today, KENNEDY and JOHNSON would win hands down. The editors were divided on who might get the second spot on the Republican ticket.

Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER headed the list, followed by Gov. MARK HATFIELD of Oregon, Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY, Gov. WILLIAM SCRANTON of Pennsylvania and Sen. THOMAS KUCHEL of California.

Goldwater got 12 per cent of the votes for top spot on the ticket and our own Romney received six per cent.

Secretary of Defense ROBERT McNAMARA's speech has been duly reported but we will have to add that he is a fine representative for Michigan and delivered a very comprehensive report on our Nation's overall security.

Another speaker was former Vice President DIKE NIXON who blasted the Administration for failure to come up with a clear-cut policy on Cuba. He pointed out that progressive measures should be undertaken to rid Cuba of the Soviets. And if all these failed, armed conflict might be necessary.

Reactions to this talk seemed to be that such charges were more or less commonplace coming from someone on the "outside" when they did not have to be personally responsible for the results.

Addressing the Friday luncheon, President JOHN F. KENNEDY was well received and did a magnificent job in selling his program.

It was a hard-sell talk, complete with charts. JFK is a convincing speaker and a most charming man before an audience.

In the question-and-answer period he was precise and to the point. He did not sidestep any issues. The Chief Executive merely said in a very hospitable manner that this is our program and we feel after careful study it is best for all America.

Highlighting the ASNE convention was a reception the President held at the White House for the 800 members and wives.

Sporting a beautiful tan (better than our own STU WHITFIELD's), the President offered a warm and cheerful greeting to every guest during the hour he stood in the hot foyer of the White House.

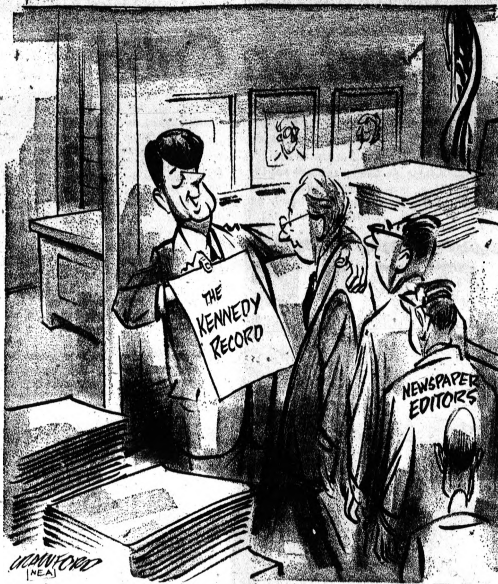

It was without doubt one of the greatest performances of friendship and personality we ever witnessed. We heard one editor sum it up this way: "He just charmed us birds off our high perches."

Walking on cloud nine leaving the White House was my own daughter, SUSAN, who had just had the good fortune to shake hands with JFK. When asked what she thought of the President, her answer was: "Daddy, he's sure good looking." There goes a vote.

What profiteth it the railroads to secure a Supreme Court ruling against feather-bedding? It seems that railroad unions are saying, in effect, "If featherbeds go out, picket signs go up."

A MAN whose membership in the human race ought to be revoked is the doctor who is trying to concoct a cure for spring fever.

LYNDON JOHNSON says he is "very happy" as vice president. Some people enjoy obscurity.

—And As You File Out, Mr. Salinger Will Supply Rose Colored Glasses.

David Lawrence Says:

Cuba as Much a Threat as Laos

WASHINGTON — Most Americans can't pinpoint Laos on a world map.

Yet they read in the newspapers that American Marines are being rushed to the area, that American soldiers have been losing their lives next door in South Viet Nam and that the President of the United States is engaged in serious discussions which are indicative of a crisis.

Lawrence with the Soviet Union about Laos. In contrast, just 90 miles away is Cuba, where the Soviet Union has between 10,000 and 20,000 troops and technicians and the latest weapons of warfare, but the United States hesitates to invade Cuba, though it is apparently ready to threaten the use of military force in Laos.

It isn't explained just why it is an "act of war" to invade Cuba, but isn't an act of war to use troops in Southeast Asia. Nor is it clear to anybody just why "international complications" and the "escalation" from one stage in the crisis to another isn't feared with respect to Laos, but is given as the reason for American hesitation in Cuba.

The strange attitude with reference to Cuba is explained in the hackneyed phrases of diplomacy. In the one case, it is argued that Thailand — next door to Laos — has "invited" American help, while, in the case of Cuba, it is pointed out that Castro has "invited" Soviet help.

But there is in both situations an anomaly. For the government in Cuba doesn't represent the people, and in Laos the "neutralist" government has been threatened from within by a Communist takeover.

There is an unwillingness in Washington, however, to recognize the Communists as the true enemies of the people in both Laos and Cuba.

Although, for instance, the United States has addressed several communications to Moscow about the missiles and the continued presence of Soviet troops in Cuba, there is no inclination to use force to clean up the situation there.

With respect to Laos, however, the United States Navy is moving into the area, and there is a definite threat to take military action. American officials state flatly that the Communists have threatened the trust in Laos.

DEBATE CONTINUES

Meanwhile, the debate inside and outside of Congress continues as to whether "invasion" would mean a big war over Cuba. But for some reason there is little talk of a "big war" arising when the United States undertakes military steps to thwart Communist imperialism in Laos.

In the last few days, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader in the Senate, has come out in favor of an economic embargo against Cuba by all countries in this hemisphere.

The plan undoubtedly is to mobilize sentiment behind the whole idea as the United States begins to urge the Latin-American can countries to organize an economic boycott against Cuba under the auspices of the Organization of American States.

This, however, is a long and tedious process and looks like a temporary scheme to answer the criticism about a "do-nothing" policy. After several months it will become apparent that an economic embargo against Cuba is hardly effective.

Bob Considine Says:

Greece Keeps American in Charge of Allotting Aid

ATHENS — Greece is the only country now receiving United States aid which has retained an American to see that it's properly spent.

For the past three years, the executive director of the Foreign Trade Administration has been a big, easy-going Georgetown University and Harvard-trained Economist Richard Westebbe.

Westebbe, who has followed in the footsteps of two good predecessors, Frank Mahon and James Brooks, fellow specialists in distributing colossal sums and trying to make every drachma count, is one of those living contradictions of the image of "the Ugly American."

He is well-liked in all departments of the Greek government, modestly and with accuracy, is a condition from which he is not likely to think, eat and talk Greek.

This year he will personally, and without any possibility of a veto from anybody in the Greek government, administer about $20 million in grants.

"There is no high level corruption in Greece," Westebbe told us at the formal opening of the Athens Hilton last night. "I'm not sure that can be said of some of the other countries receiving our money and goods."

"Down the line somewhere there is bound to be somebody who is stealing. There's really no way to protect ourselves completely. But on the whole this country has been downright grateful and cooperative."

Westebbe feels that American businesses and industries are missing a great deal by not investing more heavily in Greece, which is an associate member of the European Common Market possessed of a remarkable contract with same.

Greece is permitted for years to come to export her products into Common Market countries at the highly-reduced tariffs that exist within the combination, but is permitted to charge her free-market scale of duties on Common Market country products coming into Greece.

"If an American firm opened up a Greek plant today it could have quick and cheap access to the great markets of Western Europe, through Greece," the economist pointed out. "When and if, as Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has urged, the United States faces up to the Communist threat everywhere and begins to consider a severance of diplomatic relations with the Soviet government, then — and only then — will situations such as have arisen in Laos and in Cuba begin to change from defeat to victory." (Copyright, 1963)

When and if, as Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has urged, the United States faces up to the Communist threat everywhere and begins to consider a severance of diplomatic relations with the Soviet government, then — and only then — will situations such as have arisen in Laos and in Cuba begin to change from defeat to victory.

"There are great fortunes to be made here, it seems to me. Unlike Turkey, for example, which has received much more in U.S. aid, Greece has had a stable government for years, has a good skilled work pool, reasonably priced labor, and lots of enthusiasm for the West."

"Per capita it contributes much more to NATO than almost any of its other members except the United States."

Did JFK Renegé?

The Daily Oklahoman

Refugee Cuban leader Dr. Jose Miró Cardona charges that President Kennedy reneged on a promise to back a second invasion of the Communist island in favor of "peaceful coexistence" with Castro.

The state department brands that "a gross distortion of recent history," a semantic use softer than "untrue." There has been so much news management in this administration that actual truth is concealed like a gold vein in granite.

To assert Dr. Miró's plan would result in war is oversimplification. No person can evaluate results of positive action by us until we pass the line of no return.

That is a gamble feared more in some quarters than fear itself, for war is a condition from which uncertainty has been removed. The October Soviet backdown suggests the success of any unequivocal stand.

There are more serious questions involved now than whether Dr. Miró's statement is correct. They have their basis in known administrative actions to test public opinion. Exactly what wasn't air cover given the Bay of Pigs invasion? Why were refugee pilots sent to bomb Cuba two days before the amphibious landing?

This warned Castro of a possible invasion, but it gave the administration two days in which to test public opinion. Dr. Miró's claim of promised support is given validity by our actions at the second Punta del Este conference. By pressure and by gifts, we sought unanim-

Voice of the People:

'Publisher Misinterpreted Interest in First Lady'

I agree with the publisher that Mrs. Kennedy deserves privacy, but I think he's misinterpreted the "speculation." It's because the public likes her that they're interested, and it isn't really "snooping" when they become excited at the prospect of a new baby in the White House.

Even though having a baby is a personal matter, it's a universal game for a prospective mother to try to keep it a secret as long as possible while her friends try to recognize her "condition" as soon as possible. There's certainly no malice intended, and I'd be disappointed if my friends weren't interested enough to "speculate" and be excited with me.

Mrs. Kennedy should be flattered by the public's concern.

Speaking With Pride

'Bus Amendment Merits Thought'

Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson's approach to the school bus bill may seem a little unusual, but I recognize some real food for thought.

We must realize that with every service our state gives, money for these services must come from us. Therefore, isn't our real bus problem, how we finance the service rather than who rides the buses?

There must be a better way to finance the school buses. I'm not sure if Anderson's amendment would answer the problem, but it is a step in the right direction.

I suggest that we invest some money in sidewalks at a safe distance along busy roads and highways so that our children living in rural areas could walk as safely as they do in cities.

I'm interested in the health, safety and welfare of all of our children and hope we can find ways to provide better schools.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But they flattered him with their mouths; they lied to him with their tongues. — Psalms 78:36.

Flatterers are the worst kind of enemies. — Tacitus.

The London Spectator

Canada's elections almost made up their mind this time. The most important positive result of the Liberals' return to power is the prospect of improved Canadian-American relations.

Mr. Pearson is well aware of the obvious fact that Canada is part of North America. He knows that there is a great deal to be lost by trying to grapple with the Washington Administration, there is something to be gained by cooperating with and trying to influence the United States.

Non-Intervention

The Nashville Banner

Blind devotion to the traditional theory of "non-intervention" by certain Latin American nations was a question of the Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin in a recent speech before the Pan American Society of the United States.

Mr. Martin specifically was speaking about the threat to hemispheric security posed by Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba.

He said: "The principle of non-intervention cannot be permitted to serve as a cloak behind which a state or domestic subversive

Say True Picture Not Given of Drive

I am a cancer drive volunteer for the American Cancer Society. I hope this can be read before I knock at my neighbors' doors, due to the fact that Mr. Girard was not kind enough to give a true picture of the drive for cancer funds by some organization other than his own. Most of the money is used for research, which we need badly.

I'm sorry the American Cancer Society and the Michigan Cancer Foundation are split, but don't begrudge the other organization money in its fight for cancer.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, April 24, the 114th day of 1963 with 251 more to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1877 the North recalled all of its Federal troops from the South.

In 1898, Spain declared war on the United States after refusing to withdraw from Cuba.

In 1945, former Kentucky Senator Albert (Happy) Chandler took over as baseball commissioner, succeeding Judge Kennesaw Landis, who died the previous year.

In 1953, Winston Churchill was knighted.

A thought for the day — German philosopher Georg Wilhelm Hegel said: "Life has a value only when it has something valuable as its object."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

forces can threaten the peace and security of the continent or of individual countries, by associating with and receiving aid from, hostile extracommunist powers and serving as their beachhead."

In these times when U.S. Cuban policy is lost in retreat, confusion, conflict and frustration, this comes as a surprising observation from a Kennedy Administration official.

Mr. Martin makes sense. In fact the U.S. should have intervened with Navy, Marines and Airborne units in January 1959. Each day of U.S. vacillation since Castro took over has meant a loss to the free world and a gain for Khrushchev.

Official Administration policy today proscribes intervention. Admittedly, it would be a costly undertaking, but nothing compared with later on when it will become absolutely necessary to make an overt move.

The Banner wonders: For whom is Mr. Martin speaking? For himself or the Administration. And how in these days of "muzzling" and news management did he ever get this speech through the government censors?

For speaking the truth, career diplomat Martin may wake up and find himself in "Outer Patagonia."

MAGICIANS

QUESTION: How did Houdini and the other magicians do their magic tricks?

ANSWER: Magic tricks may look impossible to perform, but there's always an answer hidden somewhere. Some professional magicians have tables and chairs and trap doors built in them; many use clothes with specially built pockets, in places where they can produce unexpected objects suddenly.

Concealed mirrors can produce startling illusions such as a head seeming to float detached from the body.

In (1), a magician holds a puppet in his lap. By moving a wire with his right hand inside the puppet he makes its mouth open and shut.

This magician is a ventriloquist — he makes the puppet seem to speak. Actually, the puppet's speech is the magician's voice, coming from between his partly opened lips. But all attention is focused on the puppet with his huge flapping mouth, so the sound seems to come from there.

Try trick (2). Hold your left hand a few inches below card and strike card sharply with forefinger of right hand. Trick (3) is to make mouse go inside cage without tearing or folding paper.

Redraw cage and mouse on paper about twice as big as you see it here, making mouse black. Hold up before eyes and bring paper slowly closer; the mouse will go into the cage.

FOR YOU TO DO: You'll want to know what the answer was to Houdini's famous trick where he was chained, put inside a strong roped-up box and dumped into the sea, yet appeared shortly alive and well (4) (5) and (6). Unfortunately Houdini never told the answer to this one. You have to make your own guess—but please don't try the trick!

Democrats Now Envy the Idea

Romney 'Citizen Sessions' Appear Great Success

By RICHARD PYLE

LANSING (AP)—When Gov. George Romney announced his plan for five-minute "citizen sessions," there were predictions that it would flop miserably.

Now the cynics are silent. Romney announced two days after taking office Jan. 1 that he would open the doors of his office every Thursday to the ordinary citizen, allowing each visitor a maximum of five minutes to discuss any subject or personal problem.

"Anything worth saying can be said in five minutes," commented Romney.

Experienced Capitol hands immediately foresaw an army of nuts marching on the governor's office to beleaguer him with crackpot theories, unmarketable inventions built in garages, and axes to grind.

"He must be crazy," one veteran state official said.

But Romney's success with the "citizen session" has other elected officials, most of whom are Democrats, wishing they'd thought of it first.

On a typical Thursday morning some 30 to 40 people turn up in the cavernous hallway outside the governor's office. Some of them are on hand before the governor steps off the elevator about 8 a.m.

A secretary puts the visitors on a numbered list in order of arrival and calls their names in turn. Romney, shirt-sleeved and with a state police aide sitting nearby, hears each visitor, asks questions, and often refers the problem to a staff assistant.

Each interview ends with the sound of a bell on a timer. The bell bears the inscription, "Let not this bell stop the train of noble thought."

"Sometimes the people aren't ready to leave when the bell sounds," said a Romney aide. "When that happens, he just stands up. They get the idea."

FROM ALL OVER

The callers come from cities and towns in all parts of the state, and even outside it.

There was a visitor from Mount Prospect, Ill., a salesman from Louisville, Ky., a university vice-president from Yokohama, Japan, and a student from Jakarta, Indonesia.

Jacob and Noah Schwartz, Amish farmers from Hillsdale County, rode to the Capitol in a neighbor's car to ask Romney's help in solving a teacher problem in their sect-operated community school.

Edward Dunham came nearly 400 miles from Vanderbilt, in northern Michigan, to be first in line at the governor's office at 5:50 a.m. He still holds the record for early arrival.

There have been people asking the governor to give a speech, farmers, tourists, Republican party workers, state employees, political appointment seekers, persons interested in certain legisla-

Foundation Gets Charter

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed yesterday a bill granting a federal charter to the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation which he created to foster the ideals and activities of the woman who lived longer in the White House than any other. Mrs. Roosevelt died last fall and Kennedy took steps soon after to create the foundation.

In a ceremony in his office yesterday he signed the incorporation bill and said it provides "a fitting and effective way to carry on the programs to which Mrs. Roosevelt so ably dedicated her life."

Some of Mrs. Roosevelt's family, many friends and one-time associates, and the board of trustees of the foundation looked on.

So did Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, who will be chairman of the foundation as he was of the committee which developed it.

GOP Passes Ford-Canton Bill, While Dems Yell 'Antilabor'

LANSHING — Senate Republican resolution, must be approved or earlier word that he would veto any Ford-Canton measure that did not meet certain minimum standards.

DEMS BLAST ROMNEY

Romney's support for the Ford-Canton bill drew harsh comment from Democrats, who charged that he was going back on his word.

August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, said labor leaders had been "outrageously betrayed" after trying to cooperate with the governor in drawing up language for the bill.

Scholle was particularly angry over wording which he said complicates the claims of workers who are rightfully entitled to jobless pay.

"While we had a commitment from the governor that fair and equitable disposition would be made of this question, fairness and equity have been sacrificed to the greedy demands of employers who wish to add more millions to their own coffers," he declared.

The four-year controversy over whether Michigan employers, by paying unemployment compensation to Michigan workers killed by labor disputes at their own plants in other states, are financing strikes against themselves.

The dispute stems from a 1959 Supreme Court ruling that Ford Motor Company workers in Michigan killed by a Canton, Ohio, strike were entitled to jobless pay.

Sen. William Ford, D-Taylor, led the main Democratic attack on the bill last night. He said Romney had promised earlier to veto any measure that took benefits away from workers—just as former Gov. John Swainson killed a Ford-Canton bill last year.

It now goes to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments which Gov. George Romney has said are acceptable to him.

Whether the GOP House leadership can muster the necessary 56 votes for passage remained to be seen.

Democrats are expected to vote solidly against it, and the Republican ranks have been reduced to 57 active members because one legislator is in a hospital.

Faced with a calendar of 65 bills, the Senate was in session until 11:11 p.m. for the second straight day.

It whittled the list down to 39 items, which, under an earlier

Will Ask Families to Purchase Bonds

Each Oakland County family will be asked to buy at least one savings bond between May 1 and July 4 as a part of the Treasury's 1963 Freedom Bond Drive, Alfred C. Girard, chairman of the Oakland County Savings Bond committee, announced today.

In addition, leading civic, fraternal, business, labor, veterans', women's and professional organizations throughout the county will be asked to join in the effort.

Girard explained that if the families of 50 per cent or more of the members buy at least one bond during the drive, the organization will qualify for a colorful Treasury citation.

Theft of Boat Motor Ends in Jail Term

Theft of an outboard motor from a boat docked at Orchard Lake landed Donald R. Coon, 21, of 1315 Hendricks St., in Jackson prison for a one- to five-year term yesterday.

Coon, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny April 8, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

The motor was taken April 2 from a boat owned by John Sander of Detroit. The boat was docked at 6765 Fangtall St., Orchard Lake.

Coon had a previous conviction for simple larceny in 1962.

Sudanese to Visit China

TOKYO (UPI) — Sudanese President Lt. Gen. Ibrahim Abboud has accepted an invitation to visit Communist China, Peking Radio said yesterday. No date was set.

Foreign Envoys Get Royal Treatment in Texas

LBJ-Style Hospitality Scores Points for U.S.

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — A bunch of women started it, but a rangy Texan named Lyndon B. Johnson knows a good idea when he ropes it.

As a consequence, by sundown Saturday ambassadors from more than half the world will have sampled the incredible Johnson-style hospitality at LBJ ranch.

The vice president and his energetic Lady Bird think big when it comes to politics, international relations, and party-tossing.

Two hundred Texans from the fields of education, labor, science and business will be on-hand this weekend at the Johnson ranch to greet a dusty band of foreign ambassadors from the united nations.

Before the day is over, the thirty envoys from Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Europe and Latin America will have stuffed themselves on barbecued beef, swapped cracker-barrel talk with hill-country Texans, watched a sheep roundup and a whip-cracking, ridden horseback, toured the working ranch, and stared at the humble little shack where the U.S. vice president was born.

Let's not kid ourselves about this seemingly corn brand of entertainment. It is fruitfully paying off in foreign affairs.

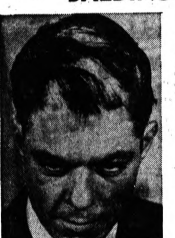

A few days after Lyndon hosted a similar barbecue last October for all twenty Latin American ambassadors to the Organization of American States, the OAS for the first time voted unanimously against Communist Cuba.

CRUCIAL TIMING
The timing was crucial, inasmuch as our blockade of Cuba

GREAT NEWS FOR BALDING PEOPLE!

Before Erickson Treatment
Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with the Erickson representative—saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method.

Erickson HAIR AND SCALP CONSULTANTS

World's Largest Home Treatment System

Will be in Pontiac, Waldron Hotel, 36 E. Pike, Tomorrow, Thursday, April 25 Only—FE 5-6168

The Erickson Hair and Scalp Consultants' District Director, Mr. R. W. Lovedy, on his regularly scheduled visit, will be at the Waldron Hotel between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Erickson method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever. Learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

The majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss is a condition called "male pattern baldness" and no treatment, including the Erickson method, is of any value.

went into effect a week after the Johnson hoodwink.

The idea for giving U.S. delegates a world's-eye-view of rural America originated with a group of New York women, who banded together to provide hospitality for far-from-home envoys.

Realizing that many such ambassadors return to their homelands without ever having visited an "average" American home, of seen our villages, farms and mountains, they enlisted the help of private citizens to finance trips for the delegates.

Two earlier tours of the Far West and Midwest were such colossal successes that Mrs. Ellen Stoutenberg, travel counselor for the group, told LBJ:

"Ambassadors who were slapped on the back and called 'son' by Wyoming cowboys are now planning a return trip with their families. They report that their outlook of America has been completely changed by the experience."

Johnson, who is not about to be outdone by Wyoming cow punchers, thereupon threw his tremendous energies into planning a Texas spectacular.

"I don't want these visiting ambassadors gettin' the idea that New York and Washington are typical America," he drawled. "They've gotta see Austin, Johnson City and our Texas hill country."

As he does with all visitors from developing nations, LBJ will point out that the luxurious working ranch they see today was without running water and electricity a mere thirty years ago. "Yesterday our country was doing what yours is today," is his effective theme-song.

GET INTO ACT

Less affluent ranchers up and down the Pedernales River eagerly get into the hospitality act whenever Lyndon and Lady Bird entertain foreign visitors, from Konrad Adenauer to the ambassadors of Finland or Luxembourg.

As soon as word spreads on the party-line telephone, they begin calling to offer a basket of peaches, a tub of blue-berries, or a home-baked cake.

The 30 U.N. envoys will fly to Austin Friday, inspect the University of Texas, and sleep in private homes. A bus will then drive them 80 miles to the LBJ Ranch for a non-day barbecue, and another 80-mile-lap to San Antonio.

After viewing the Alamo, they will ride in a colorful fiesta parade, again bunk down in private guestrooms.

Houston, not to be outdone, is planning to parade its least "typical," but most illustrious residents—the astronauts.

If any ambassadors feel like turning Communist after a week of such Texas hospitality, LBJ will probably be ready to eat his super-colossal dormat which reads: "All the world is welcome here."

Newspaperwomen gave it to him, because of his king-sized welcome to a lowly Pakistani camel driver.

$4.5 Million Going to County Schools

More than $4.5 million in state aid was being distributed to Oakland County school districts this week by the county treasurer's office.

The money is part of the $42.2 million released last week by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Pontiac School District will receive a check for $441,520, Birmingham, $267,60; and Waterford Township, $415,000.

The state will have issued about 73 per cent of the aid money due Michigan school districts with the April payment, according to Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

The April payment is being made about 10 days early.

Japan Is Ready for Gradual Cut in Military Aid

TOKYO (AP)—Japan is ready for a gradual cut in military aid from the United States, Japanese Defense Agency officials said yesterday.

But they said a drastic reduction in American military aid would have "considerable effect" on the build-up of Japan's defense program and that the Japanese government's budget for 1963 was drawn up in the belief that the United States would not drastically cut military aid for at least one year.

Historians have been able to trace the origins of the bagpipe to Greece in 100 A.D., and believe it may have been known in ancient Persia.

Man Mute in Court on Robbery Charge

A 26-year-old Pontiac man stood mute in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday on a charge of armed robbery in the April 6 holdup of a Clark Oil Station in Pontiac.

Harold Rush, 296 Howard McNeil St., was returned to the county jail to await trial after failing to post $2,500 bond. Rush appeared before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Rush is accused of taking $30 at gun point from Lowell Merrill, 23, an attendant at the station at 328 Orchard Lake Ave.

Rush was arrested shortly after the holdup when he walked into the Pontiac police station to report that his car was stolen.

His car, which matched the description of the robbery car, had already been found by police.

'62 Highlights of UPI Pointed Out at Confab

NEW YORK (UPI) — Outstanding coverage of news at the newspaper and broadcast home and abroad, and emphasis on broadening the spot news file with penetrating analysis and interpretive dispatches highlight the operations of United Press year.

International during the past year.

This was the report yesterday by Mims Thomson, president, at UPI's annual business meeting.

He said the cost of covering the world for UPI subscribers in the newspaper and broadcast fields would exceed $41.5 million during 1963, and that the service has 264 bureaus around the globe and an increase of three since last year's report.

Church Group Plans Report for Tuesday

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Ctanbrook will hear a report on a program of medical aid to other nations at their luncheon meeting Tuesday. Speaker will be Mrs. Lester Auberlin of Detroit, founder and head of World Medical Relief, Inc. This volunteer group collects and distributes surplus medical supplies and equipment to countries throughout the world, working with missionaries and other agencies. Mrs. Auberlin has received national recognition for her work, begun in 1953, and her story was recently written up in Readers Digest.

Send Gift to Home of Bride

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My husband's cousin is marrying a girl from another state. We received an invitation to the wedding and reception immediately following the ceremony. We also received an invitation to a second reception that is being given by the bridegroom's parents one week later. It will be impossible for us to attend the wedding and first reception because of the distance, but we will go to the second reception which will be only an hour's drive from here. Should we send our gift to the bride's house before the wedding, or should we wait and take it with us to the second reception?
A: You should send your gift to the bride's house before the wedding.

Meetings Are Held by Groups

Pilgrim and Standish groups of the First Congregational Church had luncheon meetings. Mrs. Ivan Knight, Mark Avenue, was hostess to the Pilgrim Group, assisted by Mrs. Leon Cobb, Mrs. Donald McIntosh and Mrs. D. D. McDonald. Members sewed cancer pads during the meeting. Guests were Mrs. George Gaches, Mrs. Cecelia McIntosh and Mrs. Orin Lightner. Mrs. Fred R. Conner reviewed "Miss Hew" by Mark Van Doren for the Standish Group. Mrs. Daniel Kellogg, Newberry Street, opened her home, Cobostess was Mrs. Albert Henning. Mrs. Josephine McIntosh, Cherokee Road, entertained members of the April-May Group of the First Presbyterian Church. She was assisted by Mrs. Floyd Mortenson and Mrs. Ida Reeves. Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel was in charge of the program. Plans were completed for a luncheon at the church on May 7. "Who's Listening?" was the subject of the program at Tuesday night's meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church. It was directed by Mrs. Robert Everett and Mrs. Lester Carlson. Members of the Yomar group served dessert before the meeting. Mrs. Francis E. Oak of North Lake, Angulus was hostess Tuesday morning to Mary-Martha Circle of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. "Hong Kong" was the topic for a program presented by Mrs. Charles Esralian.

Married 18 Years

She Should Know Better

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 47 and should have more sense. I've been married 18 years to a man who does not drink or chase and he is good to me. We have a teen-ager who is a joy to both of us. My husband is quiet and reserved, and I am just the opposite, but we get along fine. I didn't love him when I married him, but I wanted a home and family. I met a man at work recently and we were immediately attracted to each other. Before I knew it we were up to our ears in an affair. He wanted to marry me, and I became an emotional wreck trying to make up my mind. Finally I told him I couldn't hurt my husband and child, so we broke it off. Within a week he had someone else. Since then I've spent my nights regretting my decision. Was I wrong? Will time heal the scars, or must I learn to live with my mistake?
STILL CARES
DEAR STILL: Your biggest mistake was getting involved with him in the first place. Your decision was right! When he found a replacement for your "love" in a week, you surely must have realized the shallowness of his feelings for you. That realization AND time should heal your "scars" — and soon.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have been dating this boy, 21, for three months. At first my parents permitted me to see him twice a week, but they have limited me to once a week because they thought we were getting too serious. Are they right in doing this? Please don't say parents know best because they don't always. Isn't it illogical for teen-agers to try to make the most of what time they have together when they are limited?
I would like your opinion.
LIMITED
DEAR LIMITED: Romance progresses a little with each meeting. The more time you spend together, the more serious the romance becomes. Your parents know more about this than you do. Take their word for it. And by the way, a 21-year-old is a MAN, not a boy.

DEAR ABBY: I certainly sympathize with the lady who wrote concerning her loose-tongued minister. I've had the same experience. My confidences dropped up in two of his Sunday sermons. Now I tell it directly to the Lord. BUTTONING MY LIP
DEAR BUTTONING: The shoe fit, so you were it. But don't forget, you aren't the only one with that size foot!

Installation Is Held for '63 Officers

The Business Institute Women's Club installed officers for the year at the Pontiac Business Institute.

Serving with Grace Trapp, president, are Mrs. Don Beuler, vice president; Mary Parker, recording secretary; and Mrs. LaVerne Adair, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Sol Lomerson will handle the treasurer's duties, and Mrs. Charles Garman is historian.

Mrs. C. E. VanTrease Jr. conducted the ceremony. In other business, members completed plans for a benefit sale at The Business Institute, May 4.

Mrs. Adair gave a brief resume of the secretarial workshop of the National Secretaries Association. Mary Parker was hostess.

By Women's Federation

1963-64 Officers Elected

Officers for 1963-64 were elected at the spring meeting of District No. 18, The Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Sunday at Edgewood Country Club.

Hostess clubs with the Pontiac group were Waterford-Clarkston, Keego Harbor, Union Lake, Walled Lake, Milford and Clawson. Rosamond Haerle of the Pontiac unit was elected assistant district director. Others are Catherine Lahey, director; Jeanne Barr, secretary; Florence Johnson, treasurer; Eula Funk, state nominating committee and G. Rowley.

Mrs. John Vis of the Union Lake club, alternate to the state nominating committee.

PEO Chapter CL Told of Convention

Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood heard reports of the 44th annual state convention at its Monday meeting. Mrs. Richard Justice, Farmington was hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. G. Rowley. Elda Suter and Mrs. Harry Chapman were delegates to the convention held April 16-18 at Dearborn Inn.

Tell Nuptials of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Sutton of Camley Drive announce the marriage of their daughter Kathleen Louise to James L. Anderson of Detroit, in Bethany Baptist Church.

Dr. Emil Kontz officiated at the April 6 ceremony. The newweds are students at Ferris Institute.

Resolve to Help Another Toward Beauty

Each time you learn something which increases your beauty, you should impart your new knowledge to someone else. Help a teen-ager — or several — who may be at a loss in the art of grooming, and make-up.

Offer your services to assist groups in your community. Give the feminine members of your family a lift by helping them to become more attractive.

As you study the latest in make-up colors and costumes for others, your own will improve and you will be creating not only an outer beauty for yourself but an inner one as well.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby." Will Install Officers Zonta Club of Pontiac will install officers and welcome new members at the annual spring breakfast Sunday at Devon Gables, 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Dorothy C. Hope, placement director and assistant director of alumni relations for Oakland University, will be guest speaker. She will discuss her work in helping members of OU's first graduating class locate job positions.

Officers include: Mrs. Katherine M. Baker, president; Mrs. Beecher Fawcett, vice president; Dr. Harriett A. Clark, second vice president; Jean Andrews, recording secretary; E. Grace Clark, corresponding secretary; and Margaret Stark, treasurer.

New board members are Mrs. Earl Carmichael, Mrs. Oscar Sorenson and Charlotte McManus. Continuing members are Mrs. Wendel G. Kellogg Jr., Mrs. Dimitri Lazoroff and Mrs. Charles Renwick.

Cochairmen for the annual breakfast are Miss Clark and Mrs. Earl L. Clark. Mrs. T. W. Jackson is program chairman, and Jean Andrews and Mrs. Kellogg are handling ticket sales.

MRS. DOROTHY HOPE

Anniversary Celebrated by Sorority

Eleven local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will celebrate that organization's 32nd anniversary this evening at a banquet at Edgewood Country Club.

Guest speaker for the occasion is Helen Bower, former Detroit newspaperwoman and drama critic. Miss Bower will speak on "Her Life in the Movies."

A summary of local chapter activities during the past year will be presented by Carol Clark, city council secretary. A special message from the sorority's founder will be read by Mrs. Robert Terry. The Senior Girls, Ensemble from Pontiac Central High School will also entertain.

The following officers will serve on the city council for the coming year: Mrs. Elwyn Hall, president; Mrs. Huskell, vice president; Mrs. Robert Lyon, recording secretary; Jovith Benavides, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harold Wedow, treasurer.

MARY FRAN BUCKLEY

August vows are planned by Mary Fran Buckley of Williams Street, daughter of the Francis J. Buckleys, Nanticoke, Pa. and Arden J. Marks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Marks, Monticello Street. She is a graduate of Misericordia College, Dallas, Pa. Her fiancé attends Flint Junior College.

For Health's Sake

Strengthen the Abdomen

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Strong abdominal muscles are important to the thin woman as well as to the fat woman from the standpoint of health. Lat abdominal muscles can cause trouble because they do not provide proper support for internal organs.

Many physical difficulties, such as backache and constipation, may be due to prolapse. Extremely thin women often have trouble because they do not have enough fat on the abdominal wall.

We all know how essential a flat tummy is if we hope to have a pretty figure. There are so many women who would have lovely silhouettes were it not for a pad of fat and an abdominal bulge.

The abdomen happily responds to exercise, however, and will show a loss in inches after a few weeks of faithful effort.

Do this one: Lie on the floor on your back with your toes tucked under, the bottom of a divan or chair and your arms stretched out on the floor overhead.

Raise your trunk and try to touch your toes with your fingers. Return to starting position and continue.

FOR HEALTH'S SAKE

The following exercise is one every woman should take for the sake of her health. It strengthens the lower abdominal wall: Lie on your back with your arms resting at your sides.

Raise your left leg from the floor about five or six inches. As your lower your left leg, raise your right.

One leg moves up as the other moves down. Do not touch your heels to the floor but keep them close to the floor as you make the quick little changes.

Do this exercise a few times and rest, then continue, with rest periods every once in awhile.

A loss of fat under the abdomen and diaphragm is most exciting for a woman who has been struggling with this figure fault for a long time. She may have been so self-conscious about it that she has not worn play clothes or gone in swimming for years.

If you would like to have my exercise for slimming the abdomen, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fake Lashes Fashion Find for Daring

If you have never worn artificial eyelashes and think you are too old to start, give them a whirl and see what happens. The young have thick lashes and as a woman becomes older, lashes tend to thin out.

You want the most natural, youthful look you can achieve for yourself and you can actually help create one with a pair of artificial eyelashes which you cut and fit just above your very own. Suddenly, your eyes are young again and the beautiful fringe will highlight your look of fashion and fascination.

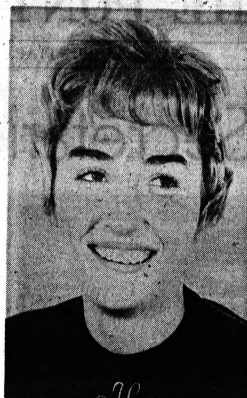

Don't even envy those blessed with the naturally thick, tangled lash look. It can be yours by daring to wear two pairs of these eyelashes at the same time.

Dare to wear a beauty patch in the evening. Spot one with a black eyebrow pencil at a strategic point just above or below the outer corner of one eye or just above or below the outer corner of your mouth — whichever feature is your best.

Add Mineral Oil

After washing plastic shower curtains or tablecloths, add a few drops of mineral oil to the rinse water. It will help make the plastic soft.

Dr. and Mrs. George Keevil of Porter Lane announce the engagement of their daughter Gloria Diane to John Edward Sweeney, son of the Donald E. Sweeney of East Lansing. Both attend Michigan State University and are planning mid-June vows.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 30 naturally balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

USDA Says Suds Help Chase Household Pests

While household insect pests are not as troublesome as in "olden days," their menace to the home has by no means vanished. So the U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued instructions on how to control such pests as bed bugs, flies, fleas, lice, mosquitoes, wasps, cockroaches, ants, spiders, termites, and ticks—and cleanliness is the very first recommendation!

"First, cleanliness is a basic part of successful household pest control. Routinely scrub out hard-to-get-at corners with hot water, soap or detergent, and disinfectant," advises the USDA.

Eye Make-Up Is Important With Glasses

Today's beautifully applied eye make-up has changed the old-fashioned "glasses" adage to "Men make passes at girls who wear glasses," and every girl who must wear this type of eye correction should apply eye make-up with a fashion flair.

There is no excuse today for a woman's eyes not to stand out beautifully no matter what the circumstances.

Eye make-up is especially important when you wear glasses. Take advantage of all eye make-up available—fluid eyeliner, eye shadow stick, fine line eye pencil. Consider your glasses a frame which surrounds a beautiful picture—your eyes.

Make up your eyes in such a manner that when people look at you, they look beyond the frame and see the picture. When you first make up your eyes, forget that you are going to wear glasses.

Then, when you put them on, if the color seems to fade, add make-up. Use bright mascara colors according to your costume such as iridescent green and blue. If your lashes are so long that they brush against your lenses, lightly pinch off the mascara from the very tips of the center ones after you have applied it generously. The three or four center lashes are usually the culprits. By removing the mascara from these tips, you will help keep your lenses clean throughout the day.

Another great innovation of our day is contact lenses. You should give serious consideration to trying them. Not only are they flattering but they are available in a variety of lens colors and you will be able to accomplish a modern-day miracle—matching your eyes to your make-up and costumes.

Wife and Son Both Starved for Affection

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: When I take my 7-year-old boy to visit my sister's family, I come home so blue I can't sleep. I am divorced and, except for sending money, my ex-husband ignores my boy's existence. What kills me is the look that comes into the child's face when he watches his uncle roughhousing with his two little boys. It is a starved look.

ANSWER: You're starved too. It seems to me that getting yourself some psychiatric help at this point could be most productive.

Though we're constantly told that resentment at an ex-husband is the problem of divorced mothers, this is not the case. Their problem is a self-disparagement that has paralyzed hopefulness.

Though their only conscious feeling is resentment at the partner who has wounded them, it is their own self-rejection that gives his rejection the power to maintain them in misery.

So, if we are a divorced mother, we must joyously welcome any advice that we are recovering hope of happiness. Your envy of your sister's married happiness is such evidence.

That's what a psychiatrist would tell you. However, it's never enough to be told. To recognize your envy of your sister's happiness as your wish for similar happiness will take time.

To see that your pain at your little boy's envy of other children's fathers is your wish to provide him with one of his own will take time too.

You may need help to cut through the underbrush of resentment, hurt and self-pity that accumulate in these situations to the truth you are not yet ready to know—your wish to risk yourself again in love for a man.

In the meantime, don't be afraid of your sympathy with that "starved look" in your little boy's face when he watches his cousins roughhousing with their father.

It's fine for a child to want a father. To divorced mothers such a look is painful only because they have chosen not to know that they want husbands.

We must never recoil from envy in ourselves. It is desire which we feel in negative form. Always, in us or in children, envy conceals a reach, a wish, a hope for oneself. What could be better than that?

She Has Trouble With Budget Allotment

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: It is not only with debts that have money problems. Our financial problems lie in just where and how much should be spent.

Since our marriage two years ago, we have not felt we needed a budget as our operating expenses were more than adequately covered by my husband's salary.

However, we have now purchased a $40,000 home with monthly mortgage payments of $172 (the amount of our previous rent) and added another member to our family.

MARY FEELEY

We do not want to use any of our invested capital for household expenses other than the purchase of furniture. Could you provide us with a budget framework for a net weekly salary of $225, keeping in mind our set expenditures of $172 a month mortgage payments, $675 a year taxes, and $40 monthly travel expense?

Starting marriage without a budget has caused many unforeseen problems as we now do not know just how much should be spent to keep us financially sound and provide the most personal enjoyment.

J. W. Northbrook, III.

Dear Mrs. W.: At least you've discovered comparatively early in marriage that confusion about finances can be an unhappy state of affairs.

CLEANS BETTER BECAUSE IT'S LIQUID!

A budget is something like a jigsaw puzzle - unless you fit the various pieces, all the different sizes and shapes, into the right places, the thing never shapes up! However, once you do get it properly arranged, all the pieces combine to make a clear picture.

Here's a framework, set up on a monthly basis, keyed to an income of $225 a week and the expenses you mention:

House, $228 (including taxes); household operating costs, $90; food, $145; clothing, $86; savings, including insurance, $98; personal allowances, $57; gifts, church, etc., $76; recreation, $57; medical costs, $57; education, $19; transportation, $40.

This puts your fixed expenses - housing, household operating costs, food, and clothing - at $8 per cent of your income, which is estimated as a workable figure by Department of Labor statistics for 1962.

If you would like my free budget suggestion leaflet, write for it in care of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped long envelope.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have a joint bank account in the names of my sister, my nephew, and myself. The pass book carries the three names, with the money payable to any one of us, or to the survivor.

In case one of us should pass away, how would payment be handled?

N.C.S., San Francisco

Dear N.C.S.: The money from the account can be paid to either one of the survivors after the death of the third party - to whichever survivor presents the pass book. This is a general ruling, but you might check specifically with the bank you use, for confirmation. It's always well to settle any question in your mind as soon as it arises.

Dear Miss Feeley: I read your article "How Much Board is Fair." This subject has been one of the contentions between my wife and me, concerning our children after each had completed college, taken jobs, and resided at home.

I believe that each person should be taught to contribute his or her proportionate share toward the maintenance of the home in which they live, when they are productive. She disagrees vehemently. Even though I do not need their assistance, I believe that, they should be taught self-support. If nothing else, the money could be deposited and returned to them after marriage.

K.C.W., Miami Shores, Fla.

Dear K.C.W.: You and I see eye-to-eye on this. Supporting oneself is a privilege as well as an obligation. You'll be doing your children a favor to let them start right now learning to manage their own money. They should discover before marriage, not after, how far a dollar will go. Even if they are saving most of their earnings, they still aren't getting the experience of using it.

As long as you don't really need their help, why don't you and your wife set a minimum amount as payment each payday, for room and board. I would also encourage the children to deposit some of their earnings for regular savings and for insurance. Allow for their personal expenses, too. Then base the small payments to the household fund on what's left over.

When you present each one of them with a lump sum, plus the interest their money has earned, after they marry, they'll see the wisdom of your thinking. (You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.)

Campus Notes

Some 150 Kalamazoo College sophomores will spend the next 10 weeks in far distant places such as Guatemala, Puerto Rico and El Salvador.

Placed in positions by the college's service and career directors, the students will have a chance for on-the-job exploration.

One sophomore, Susan Wotila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Wotila of Pontiac Drive, is working in Guatemala as a translator for the tourist bureau. She is interested in Spanish culture and language.

Another is teacher's aide for the Division of Community Education in Puerto Rico.

Students have also been placed in positions as pastor's assistants, social workers' aides and in hospitals.

Richard Kyle Foster, son of the O. F. Fosters, Clarkson, is a laboratory assistant at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Fredrica Harris, Denison University junior, is a member of the Women's Judicial Council for the 1963-4 academic year. Representing Alpha Chi Omega sorority, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Harris, Birmingham.

University of Michigan Law School seniors Richard E. Clark of Pontiac and D. Michael Kratchman, Birmingham, have been named to membership in the Order of the Coif, national law school honor society.

Now to Even It Up! How 'Bout a School for Husbands?

EDITOR'S NOTE—A recent proposal by columnist Hal Boyle that our educational system set up schools to train women for wifehood drew considerable applause from ladies across the land. But they also demanded with measurable feminine logic, "Why not schools for husbands, too?"

learned in his high school course in hygiene. The rest of the vast geography of femininity is a puzzle to him until he marries—and often for many, many years after.

ONE OF TWO IDEAS

He approaches marriage as he does a lottery, blindly hoping chance will give him a winning ticket. He usually has one of two ideas about it: he either wants a girl just like the girl who married dear old dad—or he wants one as unlike her as possible.

This is all wrong. There should be a school he could attend which would teach him how to be a husband instead of letting him learn by trial and error the difficult art of living with a member of the opposite sex.

What good is it to teach a man and yet fail to teach him how to span with human understanding the differences that inevitably arise between man and wife in marriage?

My idea is that we'd have a better world if every young man were forced to spend a year in a school for husbands, staffed by an all-male faculty made up entirely of men who'd celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries.

What would a graduate of such a school be like?

Well, he would know how to burp a baby.

NO MORE MUMBLES

When his wife had something to say to him, he would give her his full attention, and not just sit there reading a newspaper and mumbling "uh huh."

He would be the disciplinarian in the family. If the kids needed a whacking, he'd do the whacking.

Should his wife have a job that paid more money than he earned, he wouldn't whine about it, but graciously help her to spend the dough—with both hands.

When his wife showed up at breakfast with her hair in curlers, he would never, never, never say, "Good morning, Mrs. Dracula. Have a nice night?"

He would give up a poker game to go with her to a PTA meeting. Never would he criticize the job she did of hanging the wallpaper, or annoy her with suggestions while she was fixing a leaky faucet or a balky vacuum cleaner.

NO OLD GALS

He wouldn't leave old photos of his pretty high school sweetheart around for his wife to find and cry over on rainy days.

He would express total admiration of all her relatives at all times, but let her handle the problem of lending them money.

He would light her cigarette in the presence of company.

Once every two months, he would insist on taking her out to dinner no matter how much she protested she'd rather stay home, and at least once every five years he'd take her dancing.

On her birthday he'd wash the dishes—well, dry them anyway.

On every wedding anniversary he'd bring her a red, red rose for every year they've been married, sweep her up in his arms, kiss her firmly and tell her, "Honey, you make my world. If it weren't for you, I'd be nothing but a miserable old bum."

Schools for husbands? Why not? What's to lose?

If they turned out men like that, all wives would bloom like flow-ers—and practically every divorce lawyer in America would go broke.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Schools for husbands?

Why not?
Our present educational system does a pretty good job of preparing young men for the ordeal of earning a living. Research shows that, on the average, the better an education a man has, the more likely he is to break into the higher income brackets.

But, as someone once remarked, "Money isn't everything."

A successful career satisfies only one of the main goals of manhood. The other goal is a successful marriage. For this our present educational setup doesn't prepare a fellow.

All he really knows about women is what the big boys told him. And when he was little, or what he

Macmillan Pushes New N-Ban Talks

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, with a general election in sight, is working hard for a new round of Big Three talks to halt nuclear testing and to restore his public image as an East-West peacemaker.

The U.S. and British ambassadors to Moscow were scheduled to see Premier Khrushchev today to explore prospects for a high level meeting to break the deadlock in the negotiations for a test ban treaty.

In continuing personal exchanges with President Kennedy, Macmillan won Washington backing for the latest probe, which began quietly last Thursday.

Ambassadors Foy Kohler and Sir Humphrey Trevelyan have talk then with Soviet Foreign Minister and Andrei Gromyko on the test ban negotiations.

Macmillan has vowed to lead his Conservative followers to a fourth successive victory in Britain's approaching general election—expected within a year. His chances of succeeding depend primarily on more effective policies at home, especially in beating unemployment and reviving the national economy.

FOREIGN POLICY

But a resounding achievement in foreign policy undoubtedly would help Macmillan tremendously.

It would hoist Britain's somewhat battered international prestige. It might lure back disenchanted Tories and attack Liberals whose votes are essential if Macmillan's party is to stay in power.

A test-ban treaty would be a political blessing for Macmillan in other ways. It would silence vocal ban the bomb demonstrators whose persistent campaign embarrasses the government. It would enable Britain to continue as a nuclear power without the cost of expanding that power.

In pursuing his quest, Macmillan faces the big problem of finding a bridge for the gap between Washington and Moscow over procedures to enforce a test ban.

The Kennedy administration, as terent power, could not get congressional approval of a treaty that conceded too much to the Soviets. And Khrushchev has served public notice that he has gone about as far as he will toward meeting the demands of the West-erners.

Actress in Hospital; Suffers From Exhaustion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Anne Baxter, who gave birth to a daughter March 11, is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital suffering from exhaustion.

A spokesman said she is expected to be there two or three days. Miss Baxter is married to Randolph Galt of Australia.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SPREAD YOUR HOME-HEATING COST EVENLY THROUGH THE YEAR?

It takes a lot more natural gas or electricity to heat a home in January or February than it does in July or August. Monthly service bills of customers who use natural gas or electricity for home heating therefore vary considerably as between summer and winter. Many home-heating customers make use of the Budget Payment Plan which makes it possible for them to pay the same amount every month.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS

The budget year begins with May and runs through April of the following year. The total amount to be paid for service during the budget year is estimated on the basis of past usage of other available data. Your monthly service bill then becomes approximately one-twelfth of this amount.

During the first part of the budget year, your monthly payments are somewhat larger than they would be under normal billing. You are thus building up a credit against the winter months when your use of service will reach its peak.

You will be billed for the same amount each month unless the credit you have built up is insufficient, when combined with the amount of the budget payment, to cover the service used, in which case you will be billed for the amount due.

In April, 1964, you will receive a bill for the amount then remaining due, which may be less than the amount of the monthly budget payment. Small over-payments of a year's bills can be carried over to apply against the next year. Larger overpayments can be refunded.

IF YOU ARE NOT PRESENTLY ON THIS PLAN AND WOULD LIKE TO PAY YOUR SERVICE BILLS ON A BUDGET BASIS, JUST FILL OUT THIS FORM AND MAIL OR TAKE IT TO THE NEAREST CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY OFFICE. YOUR FIRST BUDGET PLAN BILL WILL REACH YOU IN MAY.

Ann Miller Gives Party for Chum Kathryn Grayson

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Kathryn Grayson has come back to town as star of her first Broadway show, "Camelot," and film industry signaled the event with one of the most brilliant parties of the season.

The hostess: Kathryn's long-time chum, Ann Miller. The place: the Beverly Hilton's L'Escoffier room. The menu: Fruit served on half coconut in husk, filet of beef, spumoni molds decorated with likenesses of Miss Grayson in spun sugar.

The guests: Glenn Ford with Rhonda Fleming, Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond, Donna Reed, Anna Jeffries, Robert Sterling, Rita Hayworth, Dorothy Malone, Jacques Bergerac, Cesar Romero, Eileen Zimbalist Jr., Peggy Lee, John Wray, etc., etc.

Also three lovely widows, June Allyson, Kay Gable, Edie Adams.

The entertainment was impromptu. Such songbirds as Anna Maria Alberghetti, Kay Starr, Jane Powell, Edie Adams and Rhonda Fleming thrilled a number or two. The guest of honor responded with a Puccini aria.

Kathryn's choice of selection was significant. Having proven herself in films and on the musical stage, she is now eyeing opera. She has a commitment with the San Francisco Opera to make her operatic debut after she concludes her year's run in "Camelot."

OPERA COULD PAY Kathryn believes there is no

Pleds Innocent to Murder of Cabbie

DETROIT (AP) — Theodore Trammell, 26, pleaded innocent yesterday at his Recorder's Court

arraignment on a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of a Detroit cab driver.

Trammell was remanded to jail without bond pending examination May 8. Police said he had admitted robbing Roger Cowan, 45, of suburban Ferndale.

The cab driver was found fatally wounded Friday on a lawn in a residential area. He died later at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital.

reason why opera couldn't be a paying operation instead of being shackled to perennial deficits.

"For one thing, why should the opera bill change every night?" she asked. "It's terribly expensive to carry so many sets and change them after each performance. Why couldn't you run one popular opera for a week or longer? If it is good enough, it will draw."

"I'm convinced that opera can reach a wider audience, with the addition of some showmanship. There is too much tradition in opera. Tradition is just another word for laziness."

As you can perhaps tell, the Grayson gal has positive opinions. That helps explain why she hasn't made a movie in seven years.

DIDN'T LIKE OFFERS "I didn't like the scripts I was offered, so I did other things," she remarked.

Kathryn sang and acted on television, appeared in Las Vegas, did concerts. She performed "The Merry Widow" and "Rosolinda" in summer theaters, then Alan Jay Lerner urged her to take over "Camelot."

MSU Building Renamed

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University's education building has been renamed Erickson Hall in honor of the late provost of the university, Clifford Erickson, who died in March, the MSU Board of Trustees has announced.

Pontiac City Affairs

New Plat Considered

A report recommending approval of a new residential plat in the R20 urban renewal project area was among six planning commission reports before city commissioners at last night's commission meeting.

Commissioners concurred with formal approval of the plat for a future meeting.

The plat is bounded by Center, Whitmore, Perkins and Cottage streets.

A section of Willard Street was vacated to form the new plat. O'Reilly Street was extended north from Cottage to form a court in the center of the plat.

HALF URBAN RENEWAL

About half of the 35 lots in the plat are owned by urban renewal and have been cleared. They will be sold to housing developers.

The total size of the plat is about 6.68 acres. It had been in the planning stage for more than a year.

In a similar move, commissioners okayed a proposed plat of Saltz-Eisenberg-Geer Subdivision, a parcel consisting of some eight lots on Emory and Hollister Streets.

The matter had been tabled at the March 26 meeting to enable developers and city officials to work out technicalities in an accompanying agreement for site walk inspection.

Under terms of the agreement, also approved last night, the developers will construct some 2,745 square feet of sidewalk in the subdivision within two years.

A $170,000 bond will be deposited with the city, and any or all of it will be forfeited by developers if the sidewalks are not completed.

DENY REZONING

Commissioners failed to concur with a planning commission recommendation to rezone several lots at the southeast corner of Glendale Avenue and Telegraph

Board from residential to commercial.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon proposed that the rezoning be denied. His motion was passed by a 6-0 vote of the commission. Commissioner Milton R. Henry abstained from voting.

Harmon had recommended a personal service zoning for the property when the zoning request first came to city officials several months ago.

Another planning commission report recommended denial of a request to divide part of Lot 17 and all of Lot 18, Assessor's Plat No. 102, into four lots.

Commissioners concurred with the recommendation.

Two other reports were accepted and filed. They involved requests to rezone to commercial a parcel on Telegraph Road, between Edna and Hazel Streets, and rezone to manufacturing a parcel at 431-435 E. South Blvd.

A public hearing on the Telegraph Road property has been tabled until the May 1 planning commission meeting.

The South Boulevard matter has been tabled indefinitely by planners.

AUTHORIZE BIDS

City Manager Robert A. Stier was authorized to take bids for various concessions at city parks this summer.

The procedure of awarding concession rights on city park property by bid was first used on a trial basis two years ago.

Last year it became an official approved procedure, but covered only ice cream vendors. This year it will also apply to general food vendors as well.

Also approved last night was an agreement whereby General Motors Corporation will be allowed to build electrical transmission lines across Edgemoor Boulevard adjacent to Plant No. 15 of Pontiac Motor Division.

The installation will be subject to various city codes and restrictions governing the building of overhead electrical lines across city streets.

A public hearing was held on a special assessment roll for a proposed water main in Clara Avenue and work will now proceed on the project.

Several residents on Clara who already get their water from another nearby main, objected to the added cost of a new main.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public hearings were slated for the May 7 meeting on assessment rolls covering construction of a water main on the northeast side of Oakland Avenue near Sarasota Avenue, a sanitary sewer on Grayton-Asterwood streets and curbs and gutters on Ariene Avenue.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neeloping's cost estimates were accepted for five proposed black-topping projects.

Public hearings on the city's intent to blacktop the streets were scheduled for the May 7 Commission meeting.

The following is a list of locations and cost estimates for each blacktop project.

Included are the amount to be raised through special assessments to affected property owners and the amount to be paid by the city.

Harvey Avenue, Ditmar to south end of Harvey Avenue, cost, $1,103.85; city's share, $531.43; total cost, $1,635.28.

Howard Street, Adelaide to Johnson Avenue, cost, $2,029.21; city's share, $978.31; total cost, $3,007.52.

Ingwood Avenue, Oakland to Monticello Avenue, cost, $4,424.28; city's share, $2,212.14; total cost, $6,636.42.

Stanley Avenue, Walton to Chicago Avenue, cost, $699.45; city's share, $1,212.32; total cost, $1,911.77.

Third Avenue, $2,000 to 10th Avenue, cost, $8,186.05; city's share, $1,413.50; total cost, $9,599.55.

Low bid for water main improvements in the R20 urban renewal program came in at about $13,000 under the original estimated cost of the job.

However, the low bid for proposed reconstruction of the Glenwood Avenue sanitary sewer was some $10,000 above the estimated cost for installation.

Tabulations were presented to the City Commission last night and will be subject to study before action is taken at a future meeting.

Low bid for water main improvements was $66,874.40. Engineers estimated the job would cost about $80,000.

The low bid was submitted by Gay Brothers Construction Co., of Bloomfield Township.

COVERS INSTALLATIONS

The contract covers installation of new mains on O'Reilly Court, Cottage to Perkins; O'Reilly Street, Osmon to Cottage; Park Place, Hovey to Center; and Whitmore Street, Parke to Pad-dock.

Other bidders and their bids were Northwest Contractors, Inc., of Livonia, $72,346, and Fama Co., of Detroit, $94,543.

It had been estimated that the Glenwood sewer would cost about $28,000.

The lowest of four bids on that job was $42,429, submitted by Ben P. Fyke & Sons, of Berkley.

SECRETARIAL COURSE BEGINS — Kenneth Ferguson, an instructor of a secretarial class cosponsored by the Michigan Employment Security Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education explains the operation of an adding machine to student Mrs. John H. Peterson, of 603 W. University St., Rochester, while MESCC employment service manager Merrill Walls looks on.

20 Stenos Retrained in Pontiac Program

Retraining of 20 stenographers, those retrained under ARA have been placed, Walls noted.

With this background, he was quick to forecast employment for those who pass the course.

He noted that employers may visit the class at any time, interview the students and even hire them on the spot.

One applicant, whose qualifications met employer standards, has already been hired, he pointed out.

Each girl must be able to take between 50-60 words a minute in shorthand before she is accepted in the program.

In addition, she must pass battery of aptitude tests, including a spelling examination.

Upon completion of the course, she will be able to take dictation, type sufficiently fast, operate office machines, handle bookkeeping and in general be a "Girl Friday," Walls said.

He predicted that at least 100 openings will be available in Oakland County during the next year. Approximately 80 per cent of

Pontiac Firm Gets Contract for Buildings

Melvin Eller, a Pontiac building contractor, was awarded the construction contract for a Perry Park comfort station and storage building at last night's City Commission meeting.

Eller's price for the job is $11,870, the lowest of five bids submitted April 8 for construction of the one-story building.

Engineers previously had estimated the facility would cost $14,000.

The commission voted 6-1 to award the contract to Eller. Commissioner Dick M. Kirby voted against it.

For County Supervisors

Voting May Be Faster

By DICK HANSON

Oakland County supervisors are apt to find the mechanics of voting greatly simplified when they meet as a board at some future date.

He said that his board will recommend the purchase and installation of the equipment at a joint meeting of the ways and means, buildings and grounds, and special building committee Thursday.

Many issues in county government that now come before the board of supervisors require a roll-call vote.

The present method of calling out each supervisor's name in alphabetical order, recording his vote on a long sheet of paper after his name, and then laboriously tabulating the results takes about 10 minutes on each question.

Where there might be 10 questions requiring a roll call vote at any given meeting, voting is time consuming and apt to dampen interest in the over-all proceedings.

In an effort to hold the board's enthusiasm, Chairman D. L. Hamlin had devised a method of asking if an unanimous roll call vote could be attached to the question.

LEGALLY QUESTIONABLE

If no votes were heard it was so done, that is until the county's corporation council, Robert Allen advised that the vote was legally questionable and could result in repercussions, especially where the expenditure of county funds was at stake.

The automatic voting equipment would greatly simplify and often clarify the whole voting procedure, according to Robert Lilly, secretary of the board of auditors.

He said that his board will recommend the purchase and installation of the equipment at a joint meeting of the ways and means, buildings and grounds, and special building committee Thursday.

If the supervisors approve, the equipment would be installed and in use shortly after the new auditorium is completed in June, said Lilly.

The equipment, costing an estimated $38,000 installed, would include two electric buttons on the arm-deck of each supervisor's chair.

As he presses either the "yes" or "no" button a corresponding light would flash on after his name appearing on an electric tally board. The board, having the name of each supervisor, would be plainly visible on the wall of the auditorium.

When voting was complete either yes or no would be after each name of those in attendance.

To insure that all votes had been cast, the chairman would then ask if there were any more to be recorded.

Once satisfied the vote was complete, he would direct the county clerk - register, Daniel Murphy, to push a final, control button and the result would be electronically tabulated in 20 seconds.

Lilly estimated that a total vote would take two or three minutes to complete.

No longer would supervisors have to wait until their names were called alphabetically. Each could vote when he was ready, whether his name be Aachen or Zwilling.

What is more, he could change his vote at any time before the clerk - register pushed the tally button.

Similar voting equipment is being used by the State Legislature and was also used by delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Bake One, Freeze One

Double Your Casserole Recipe

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Get out your roll of aluminum foil again. We're going to bank some food in the freezer. There are many warm days coming when you will want to spend all your free time outside and will appreciate a casserole — all prepared.

In order not to tie up all your casseroles, you line them with aluminum foil before pouring in the food. Double the recipe of whatever you're serving for dinner; serve one portion; freeze the other after it has cooled.

After the food has frozen, lift it out of the casserole. Smooth out and seal the foil. Put a strip of freezer tape across the top of the food. Write the name of the recipe, the number of servings and the date.

Now your casseroles are ready for another recipe. When you want to serve the frozen portion, fit it back into the original dish and heat it.

Veal shoulder is usually an expensive meat. Use it in a casserole that will feed your family twice.

Veal Marengo

4 pounds shoulder of veal
3 tablespoons olive oil
20 small white onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1 pound sliced mushrooms
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

3 tablespoons flour
2 cups canned tomato sauce
1 cup dry white wine
2 cups fresh or canned chicken broth
Bouquet garni (celery, parsley, thyme, bay leaf)

This is a large recipe, ½ to be served immediately; the remainder to be frozen. You will need two 3-quart casseroles, not necessarily the same shape. Line them with heavy duty aluminum foil.

Cut the veal in 1½ inch cubes. Heat the olive oil in a large skillet with the garlic and brown veal, placing just enough in the skillet at a time to cover the bottom. Place the veal in the 2 casseroles, dividing it equally.

Add a little additional oil to the skillet, if necessary; then brown the mushrooms very quickly and lightly; then the onions, and arrange over meat. Add the flour and seasonings to the skillet, stirring them into remaining oil.

Add tomato sauce or 4 good sized fresh tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped; wine and broth. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth.

Pour over veal mixture. Add to each casserole a small herb bouquet consisting of a 3-inch celery stalk with leaves, 2 sprigs parsley, a bay leaf and a bit of fresh thyme. Tie together with stem of the parsley.

Cover casseroles. Bake at 325 degrees F., for 1½ hours. Remove herb bouquets. To freeze, first cool; the place casseroles in freezer until contents are solid. Grasp foil and remove the Veal Marengo, seal foil to make a tight package, mark with contents and date, and store in freezer.

To reheat, fit back into original casserole, cover and place in oven. Solidly frozen, it will take hour at 325 degrees. It will take less time if taken from freezer early in the day and allowed to stand at room temperature until almost thawed.

This second recipe serves four to six people. If you're a twosome, perhaps it will serve two meals. Otherwise, you will want to double it.

Moving Day Casserole

1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon oil

2 cans (8 ounces each, tomato sauce

1 can (9 ounce) tomato paste
¾ cup beer or ale
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon oregano
1 package (8 ounces) noodles
1 cup cottage cheese
8 ounces cream cheese
½ cup sour cream
¼ cup green pepper, chopped
Brown ground beef in oil in a heavy skillet. Stir in tomato sauce, tomato paste, beer, salt, Tabasco and oregano. Remove from heat.

Cook noodles in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Drain and rinse. Combine cottage cheese, cream cheese, sour cream and green pepper.

In a 2-quart casserole spread half the noodles. Cover with cheese mixture, then cover this with the remaining noodles. Pour beef sauce mixture over all. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

To freeze, follow directions in first recipe.

Choose Special Way to Serve New Potatoes

The fresh new crop of potatoes has the taste of spring. Remember, also, they are a good and inexpensive source of vitamin C, an important fact now that the price of citrus fruit (rich in vitamin C) is high because of the recent freeze in Florida and California.

New Potatoes, Rissolo

1½ pounds small new potatoes
1 inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk

¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
Wash potatoes, scrape or pare, or if desired, cook in the jackets. Place in saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Cover and bring to boiling point. Boil until partially tender, 10 to 15 minutes.

Drain if necessary, and place potatoes in a shallow pan and dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake, uncovered, 15 minutes or until tender in a hot oven (425 degrees) turning once.

In the meantime, melt the remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Gradually stir in 1 cup milk. Cook over medium heat until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add remaining salt and black pepper. Pour over potatoes. Garnish with fresh parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Browned New Potatoes

1½ pounds small new potatoes
1 inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Thoroughly wash new potatoes. Do not peel. Cook until almost tender in a covered saucepan containing 1-inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Drain potatoes and place in a shallow baking dish or pan.

Brush with melted butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) until potatoes are brown and the skins are crisp, about 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings, 2 potatoes each.

Fish Will Taste Better

Want that fish to look and taste good? Serve fillets (broiled or fried) with creamed potatoes sprinkled with paprika, lemon-buttered broccoli and sliced pickled beets nestling on small lettuce leaves. Be sure to add twists of lemon to the fish.

OU Leader Hits Research Drag

Says State Potential Not Fully Realized

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner told the Michigan State Science Conference in Lansing yesterday that Michigan has a bulging triangle of research scarcely matched anywhere, but the potential is not paying off.

"Without a strong base of scientists, research-oriented industry obviously won't settle in Michigan," Varner told the conference.

Varner said that Michigan has three major research centers within 75 miles of each other. The centers are located at the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

He said auxiliary research was available at the University of Detroit, Oakland University and at Dearborn and Flint.

The Oakland University chancellor said he believed this potential is not paying off because each university is going its own way, "each interested primarily in its own institutional development with the welfare of the state clearly secondary."

Varner suggested establishment of a Michigan center for industrial research in the Howell-Brighton area, where it would be readily available to all three universities.

The development could either be financed by the state or by a pool of private interest capital, he said.

"Michigan has a set of rich resources in our state universities which it is not utilizing to the fullest," Varner added, "and we need some imaginative approach to harness this great potential."

The safety conference will continue through tomorrow. An attendance of nearly 3,000 is expected.

DR. JOHN D. MONROE

Becomes Head of Health Assn.

Dr. John D. Monroe, health director for Oakland County, tops 27 years of public health service today as he becomes president of the Michigan Public Health Association.

The Pontiac physician is to be installed as president of the public health group on the opening day of its annual three-day meeting in Grand Rapids.

Named president-elect at last year's meeting, Dr. Monroe has served as chairman of the program committee for this year's joint meeting with the Middle States Branch of the American Public Health Association.

Dr. Monroe, who lives at 6546 Wellesley Ter., Waterford Township, helped to organize the Oakland County Department of Health in 1926, making this department the first of its kind in Michigan.

Woman Active in Church Dies

Heart Ailment Fatal to Mrs. L. C. Sheffield

Mrs. L. C. (Jane) Sheffield, prominent in church and club activities in the city, died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital. She had been ill with a heart ailment for several years.

A memorial service of Holy Communion will be observed for both Mrs. Sheffield and former Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland at 10 a.m. tomorrow in All Saints Episcopal Church.

Funeral service will follow at 11 a.m. with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Arrangements are by Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Scholarship Fund of All Saints Church.

Mrs. Sheffield of 4651 Motorway Drive, Waterford Township, was the first woman elected to the vestry of All Saints Episcopal Church.

She was chairman of the Christian Social Relations Committee of the Michigan Diocese of the Episcopal Church and a member of the board of directors of St. Ann's Mead, a home for the aged.

A member of the Altar Guild, she had also served as past president of Guild No. 2 of her church and of the planned Parenthood League of Birmingham.

Mrs. Sheffield was a member of the board of directors of Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association and a past president of the Carol Brooks Section of Pontiac Needlework Guild, Inc.

A member of the Women's Village Club of Birmingham, she had also been active in the Pontiac Branch, Woman's National Farm & Garden Association.

Mrs. Sheffield is survived by her husband, a Pontiac physician.

Dems Fire New Salvo at GOP Districting

Oakland County Democrats—frequent critics of Republican proposals for Congressional reapportionment of the state—today aimed a new blast at the latest GOP proposal.

At the same time, they expressed approval of an entirely new approach, worked out by a Birmingham resident, that would join part of Detroit with southern Oakland County.

Target of the Democrats' criticism is a new plan scheduled to be introduced today in the State House of Representatives by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township.

County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin charged that the plan is "even more indefensible and politically expedient than his (Hogan's) previous measure."

Levin claimed the new proposal "would create districts with very wide differences in population and consistently cut across traditional lines, including county lines."

Hogan termed the new plan only a vehicle to allow Republicans more time to work out a disagreement over alignment of the Thumb area in a Senate-approved bill sponsored by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

The new plan would put part of Oakland County in a district with the southern part of Macomb County; another part of Oakland County would become an 18th District reduced in size against the Waterford Township of the present encompassing of the entire county, and the rest of Oakland County, including Pontiac, Birmingham and Troy, to last into next week. Assistant would join Mount Clemens and the rest of Macomb County into the new 19th.

RADICALLY DIFFERENT

Hogan said this plan was so radically different from the Senate bill that House approval it would be certain to send the matter to a joint Senate-House Conference committee for a final version.

Expected in the final version is a splitting of Oakland County into the 18th and 19th, with the areas of Troy, Royal Oak, Southfield and Bloomfield in the 18th and the rest of the county in the 19th with Livingston County.

Levin and his executive assistant, James M. McNeely, expressed interest in a plan drawn up by Harold Sweeney, of 460 Linden Road, Birmingham, and expected to be introduced today by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac.

Teamster Trial Starts 2nd Day

The trial of Pontiac Teamsters Union official Floyd B. Harmon on charges of embezzlement and making false entries in union books went into its second day in Detroit Federal District Court today.

Harmon, financial secretary of Pontiac Local 614, was indicted last June following an audit of the local's records by federal Labor Department investigators.

Twelve counts of the indictment are for embezzlement, each carrying a maximum penalty of five years and a $10,000 fine.

Twelve other counts charging false entries carry a maximum sentence of one year and a $10,000 fine each.

In today's action, a jury was to be selected and the government was expected to open its case against the Waterford Township man.

The case, being held before Judge Talbot Smith, is expected to last into next week. Assistant would join Mount Clemens and the rest of Macomb County into the new 19th.

Harmon, of 2990 Barnes St., is charged with embezzling amounts ranging from $11.35 to $1,025 between October 1959 and December 1961.

The Labor Department audit began 15 months ago after a series of legal entanglements which culminated in the Supreme Court ordering the Teamsters to open their books to investigators.

A grand jury investigation which led to the indictment began last April following completion of the audit.

and Hamtramck, plus Highland Park, in the 18th with Royal Oak Township and the cities of Royal Oak, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park and Pleasant Ridge.

The rest of Oakland County would make up the 19th.

This plan would keep all districts of the state within six per cent of the "ideal" population per district of 411,000, according to McNeely.

In Hogan's latest plan, districts vary from the "ideal" by as much as 22 per cent.

Hogan says, however, that Republicans hope to end up with districts no more than 15 per cent away from the 411,000 figure.

McNeely said Sweeney sent his plan to Sen. Roberts, but that because the plan was drawn up by a citizen interested only in fair apportionment, neither Sen. Roberts nor any other Republican has taken any interest in it whatsoever.

Fail to Act on Agreement for Urban Site

No action was taken at last night's City Commission meeting on a formal agreement between the city and Charles L. Langs for redevelopment of urban renewal land in downtown Pontiac.

Langs, of 3631 Dorothy Lane, Waterford Township, was named exclusive redeveloper of some 28 acres in the central business district last week.

At that time city officials said a formal agreement with Langs would be acted upon at the April 23 meeting, but the technical document couldn't be drafted and printed in time for action last night.

It is expected to be up for approval next week.

The agreement seeks out terms under which Langs will buy and redevelop land after first submitting building plans to city officials and urban renewal officers for approval.

Plan Network for Improving Defense Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department yesterday announced plans to set up worldwide voice and other communications networks to link U.S. military installations and tighten command control.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric ordered the Defense Communications Agency to modernize and expand the present system.

Two specialized networks are planned to provide automatic switching systems for voice, teletype and data communications among overseas bases and between the United States and overseas points.

They are:

1. A global voice communications network with direct distance dialing features for voice, teletype and data communications among overseas bases and between the United States and overseas points.
2. A worldwide net including automatic switches to relay and deliver teletype and data information between various types and combinations of transmitting and receiving equipment. This will be called Autodin for Automatic Digital Network.

Mayor of Hamtramck to Quit, Seek New Post

HAMTRAMCK (AP)—Mayor Albert J. Zak, now serving an unprecedented sixth term, said Monday he will resign from his $5,000-a-year post to seek election as a Wayne County civil service commissioner.

The $5,000-a-year civil service post recently was made vacant by the death of James A. Burns. Burns had served less than a year of a six-year term.

capital of the nation that is to be born as Malaysia Aug. 31 are so hot under their collars they barely can get their brandy down after dinner. They want President Kennedy to tell off President Sukarno for saying Malaysia is nothing more than a continuation of colonialism.

Actually, President Kennedy has stated America's position—that the gathering of Malaysia, Singapore, North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei under one flag is a good idea.

ONCE IS ENOUGH

But apparently President Kenedy, who would like to get along with President Sukarno too, feels that once is enough to enter into this international squabble.

What Sukarno means by colonialism is that the Royal Air Force will not be leaving its base at Changi, nor will the British warships quit Singapore Aug. 31. The British plan to protect Malaysia until it is able to protect itself, just as the Americans have maintained forces in Japan.

In addition to hoping to soothe Sukarno, President Kennedy and his policy makers have to keep a hand on the brow of President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines whose constituents claim North Borneo.

A visit to Kuala Lumpur, chosen to be the baby nation's capital, is like walking through Independence Square and imagining the time clock turned back 200 years.

EXCITED PATRIOT

"Anyone who can't speak Malay in one year shouldn't be given a license to work or own a shop," an excited patriot declared.

"How about the three million Chinese in the new land of ten million?" an educated man from Peking asked.

It was finally agreed they were too old to learn Malay, but perhaps their children would. Anyway, the constitution stipulates freedom of speech, although Malay is the official language.

Eggheads are here from Stanford, Harvard and Oxford, organizing banks, writing tax laws, discussing export and import regulations.

JUNGLES AND CITIES

Monkeys still hang by their tails from the trees and elephants and tigers haunt the jungles to the north, but in Kuala Lumpur you might think you were in Melbourne or San Francisco, especially in the new districts.

Handsome new houses made of stone are rising from hillsides that up to a few months ago produced rubber or tin.

Proud new owners don't even blush when they ask up to seven years rent in advance.

The big boom began here as soon as the plan for the formation of Malaysia started developing. Land sharks moved in and bought up everything that was loose.

Frozen food is being imported from Australia. The Straits Times, largest newspaper in Malaysia, moved from Singapore a year ago.

AMERICAN STUDENTS

Kids from school rooms in America are talking about "forms," "second standard" and "third form" instead of "grammar" or "high" schools. A hunking lad of 18 who could make any body's freshman team next fall is just to see how it goes.

That's what a lot of people are saying in this nation to be born four months from now.

Sukarno, Macapagal, Kennedy, Chou En-lai and probably Khrushchev are waiting to see how it goes where you can hunt tiger in the morning and sell a warehouse of rubber in the afternoon.

Pass 'Unfit Mother' Bill

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The North Carolina Senate passed and sent to the House yesterday a bill that could have women with three or more children born out of wedlock branded unfit and the children could be taken from her.

Children of unfit mothers could be placed in foster homes. Sen. Robert Morgan of Barnett County said it was an attempt to benefit the children, not to punish the mothers.

That's what a lot of people are

Jobless Rate Up in February

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's jobless rate rose to 6.8 per cent of the labor force in February, Michigan State University's Bureau of Business and Economic Research reports.

The figure was up from the 6.4 per cent reported unemployed in January but was below the 9.1 per cent rate reported in February one year ago.

Lansing, where the unemployed mark remained at 4.3 per cent, was the only major labor area in which the jobless rate did not rise, the bureau reported.

Flint showed the lowest rate, 12 per cent, while the Upper Peninsula was high with 14.3 per cent, the bureau said.

National unemployment in February was 6.9 per cent of the labor force.

PLEASANT SURPRISE — Los Angeles school janitor Samuel Ross and his wife Ruby are surrounded by pupils of the Elysian Heights elementary school who have just presented the pair with a bag of money, a scroll with 500 names and a car. The youngsters heard that Ross' father is very ill in Mississippi and that the janitor had no way of getting there.

'Child Beating Rising Problem'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Child beating by parents, disguised as accidental injury, is an increasingly serious problem in pediatricians, says a Seattle physician.

Dr. Frank H. Douglas, president-elect of the American Academy of Pediatrics, told the academy's annual seminar that in putting on or taking off clothes and more cases are being ing.

An average parent handles between 20 and 30 buttons each day during the annual seminar that in putting on or taking off clothes and more cases are being ing.

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — A doctor at Michigan State University holds the theory that our minds operate much as electronic computers do.

In the human brain, there are molecules which receive, store and use information.

These molecules change shape as the information is fed into the brain, and they do it with such rapid-fire speed that — according to the scientist — the average human brain makes 20 to 25 split-second decisions per second.

A real all-out, working brain can make 30 decisions per second. Dr. Leroy Augenstein, chairman of Michigan's Department of Biophysics, goes further with the theory.

He says the eye relays information to the brain in bursts. Each burst lasts only 33-100ths of a second, and yet sends inward vast amounts of information about the outside environment. Between successive bursts, there is an interval of about 250-1000ths of a second, during which the information is stored where it is temporarily available for processing by the brain's "computer."

This explains why an individual can recall many things about a scene he views for only a fraction of a second.

All those bursts, all those decisions, decisions, decisions. No wonder I can't understand Dr. Augenstein's theory. Brain's too noisy to think.

If you want to quiet the bursts and cut down on the decisions, live like the Arabs do. The non-fighting Arabs, that is.

A British author named R. V. C. Bodley, who once wrote a book called "In Search of Serenity," told me that he was the most serene man in the world, and this was why:

"Some years ago I just disappeared into the Sahara Desert. No one gave it much thought, except myself. There, I learned to live."

Bodley had been in the King's Royal Rifle Corps (a noisy outfit) before he turned his back on civilization to spend seven years as a nomad in the Sahara.

He had had all the usual worries: concerns about social standing, love affairs, world affairs, religion, job.

Most of all he worried about what most of us worry about most of the time: his future.

After the Rifle Corps, what? "In the desert, I learned that worry is a waste of energy. It begets ill-humor, tiredness and insomnia, leads nowhere and does nobody any good," he said.

"I learned this from my Arab friends, the most placid people I'd ever met. They did not so much as allow future occurrences to enter their minds. There is not even a tense in their grammar to express it."

The Arabs, of course, have more advantage than a language which doesn't permit future planning.

They live in surroundings made basically tranquil by nature.

"It is the deserts — and the sea and the rivers and the mountains — which cause men to know themselves best."

Bodley recommended that I take off for a tranquil place immediately it souped rice. Yet I couldn't make up my mind to go. Why?

Solon Aide Cut From Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., announced yesterday he has removed his chief aide, Frank Campenni, from the Senate payroll as of April 1 and paid to the government the $9,007.85 Campenni received as salary since Aug. 27, 1962.

Proxmire also said Campenni will not go back on the government payroll until he comes to Washington to head the senator's staff in June.

Campenni, of Milwaukee, has been working for Proxmire while attending the University of Wisconsin where he is taking graduate work leading to a doctorate degree in English. His salary was at the rate of about $14,500 a year.

Proxmire said that he will pay Campenni at this rate from his own personal funds until Campenni finishes his work in Madison and comes to Washington.

Proxmire was criticized when it was disclosed recently that Campenni was on his office payroll while attending the university.

Cuba Interior Ministry Will Be Reorganized

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's interior ministry will be reorganized in military fashion and all its officers and employees will be assigned ranks, the Official Gazette announced yesterday.

The ministry controls police and security forces. The police and other uniformed personnel wear practically the same olive green garb as Cuban soldiers.

Of every 100 hens' eggs placed in an incubator, from 10 up to two dozen fail to hatch into chicks, but the success factor is said to be improving.

Doctor Believes Brain Works Like Computer

Well, in the half-hour I talked 45,000 decisions... but it never to Bodley-my brain must've made told me what they were.

Trout Season, Press Big Fish Derby Open Saturday

Poor Weather Could Dampen Success Hopes

Area Lakes, Streams May Produce Limits; Pike Opener, Too

Rain (snow, rain (snow) go away, come some other day! This chant is being heard around the state as dedicated trout fishermen prepare for Saturday's opener.

They will assault the lakes come rain, snow, flood, ice, sunshine or any other element nature decides to throw their way.

Rain, snow, sleet and near freezing temperatures Monday and Tuesday may have spoiled predictions of streams being at near normal levels and the forecast of a good opening day catch. The sun could shine the rest of the week and make this prediction come true. Michigan's weather, however, is currently up to its old-trick of giving the experts fits.

A majority of the trout fishermen will travel north for the opener. They will find lakes freshly stocked with rainbows, but those hoping to grab a fast limit of planters from Northern Michigan streams will be heading in the wrong direction.

No streams will be stocked in the north until May.

Southern Michigan lakes have already been restocked from the hatchery and Conservation Department crews are busy this week stocking the streams.

COUNTY STREAMS
Eight Oakland County streams are being stocked again. All will be pounded hard opening weekend with most of the trout being caught.

The Huron above Pontiac Lake contains big brook trout that have escaped the creel over the years and a good number of native fish. There are some big rainbows in the Paint left over from the years when it was a good natural trout stream. That was before home building and septic tanks began to line his lakes in Lake Orion.

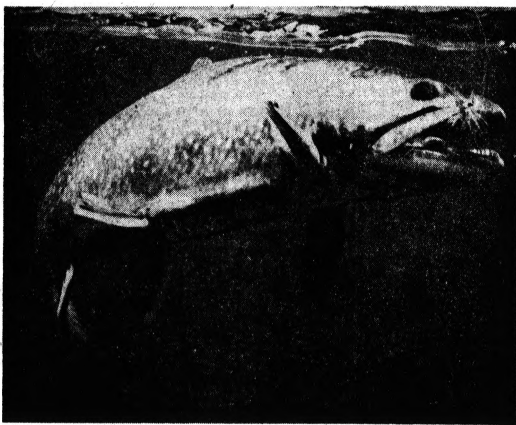

The headwaters of Kearsley Creek in Brandon Township has some lunker browns. The Clinton will occasionally harbor a few lake run rainbows out of Cass Lake that are as large as any steelheads from the Great Lakes. The Davichung and Bald Mountain trout ponds will be fished hard over the weekend. Only flies can be used on these ponds and the limit is two fish daily.

Over 30 lakes in the county contain rainbows, Maccady, Elizabeth and Union will be fished hardest the first weekend.

Brook trout are present in Aljee and Cedar Lakes in LaPeere County. Hunter and Farmer Creeks in the same county have good populations of native brook trout.

Pike and walleyes become legal Saturday on inland waters. Pontiac Lake is closed to pike fishing until June 15, but is open all year for bass. Black bass will become legal June 1 in the state.

It will cost a resident $4 to fish for trout — $2 for the regular license and $2 for a trout stamp. Wives can fish using their husbands' licenses and stamps.

FAVORITE TROUT — The brook trout, shown hitting a fly, is the only trout native to Michigan streams. Brown and rainbows were imported before the turn of the century. Although fading from many of its old haunts, the brookie still is the favorite among fishermen who will open Michigan's regular trout season Saturday.

SAIL TIME — Bob Keathley, 790 Globe St., stands in front of the 9-foot 2-inch, 122-pound sailfish he caught recently while fishing out of Acapulco, Mexico.

Immigrants Main Reason Trout Anglers Can Brag

LANSING (AP) — Some hardy angler and adoptable immigrants will be gathered in California and plant-helpers anglers back their bragging in the Au Sable River in the when the army of fishermen in-late 1870's. There were successives the north country for the steel plantings of what were var-opening of the trout season this isiously called California and Sacramento trout until the term rainbow finally caught on.

The German brown and rainbow trout were originally thought of as exotics. But they've caught hold so well many fishermen now believe they were always around in Michigan trout streams.

The only true native trout to Michigan streams is the brook, well-liked because he is probably the easiest to catch.

The native brooks were at first only common in the Upper Peninsula. They moved into Lower Peninsula streams when the grayling died out. Successive plantings carried the brooks south until they now can be found in almost any good running water that isn't too polluted.

Although not as big as the browns or as flashy as the rainbows, the brooks provide the bread and butter catch for the trout fishermen.

BETTER FIGHTERS
Nearly as many rainbows are caught as brook trout because of the plantings and because they thrive under such a variety of conditions. Fishermen rate them as harder to catch than the grayling died out. Successive plantings carried the brooks south until they now can be found in almost any good running water that isn't too polluted.

The brown wasn't introduced into Michigan until the early 1890's. The browns are hardest to catch and the big ones are figured as prize trophies.

They lie deep and sulk are quick to spit out a hook. Most are caught at night or when heavy rains roll the waters of a stream.

Lake trout are found in a few inland lakes such as Crystal, Elk and Torch. They are being introduced in Higgins Lake, in hopes they will catch on and spawn there.

The sea lamprey infestation took a tremendous toll of lake trout in the Great Lakes, but the experts say they are coming back with better lamprey control.

Plan Deer Autopsies

A fawn that died of starvation and a doe killed by a car will be autopsied by Conservation Department biologists tonight at the monthly meeting of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

The program is part of the deer study program being carried on by OCS. The meeting is at 8 o'clock.

'How to Catch Them'

A new supply of "Michigan Fish and How to Catch Them," a how-to-fisher, is just off the press and available free through the Conservation Department's Publications Room in Lansing.

Rainbow Mark Survived 1962

The rainbow division record was supposed to fall in the Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby last year, but it was the pike dig-gill and rainbow winners who vision that came up with a new mark.

The 29th annual contest gets under way Saturday with the opening of trout and pike seasons and closes Sept. 3.

The contest has four divisions — pike (walleyes, northern pike and muskies), bluegill, blackbass rainbow trout.

Only the weight of the fish is considered. Winners of the pike was supposed to fall in the Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby last year, but it was the pike dig-gill and rainbow winners who vision that came up with a new mark.

Trout Take More Time

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The average Michigan trout fisherman will wait a little over two hours for each trout he keeps this season, says K. G. Fukano, a biologist for the Institute for Fisheries Research at the University of Michigan.

But, if you're short on time, he said, or want a quick return, other species will come quicker and in larger numbers.

The average non-trout angler should catch from 10 to 13 keepable fish in 10 hours of fishing—about twice what trout fishermen can expect.

For early success, try one of the trout lakes in the Upper Peninsula or the northern Lower Peninsula, he recommended.

"However, if you are interested in catching a trophy trout, your best bet would be one of the streams with a spring rainbow run," he advised. Fukano's information was based on creel records collected by the Michigan Conservation Department, which operates the Fisheries Research Institute.

Off-Beat Curiosity Backfires on Pair

An off-beat kind of curiosity backfired recently for two young Gladwin men who decided to see if a wild blaze could be caused by tossing a lighted match from their car.

Their undying came when the two, John Godzik and Frank L. Slabic, returned to the scene of the fire they started and were apprehended by conservation and fire officers.

The officers found that car tracks which swung to the shoulder of a dirt road at the fire site matched tire tracks of the vehicle in which Godzik and Slabic were riding.

Prep Rifle League Ends First Season

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan High School Rifle League, which has just completed its first season — a sort of do-it-yourself rifle tournament.

Ann Arbor High School won the league championship without actually confronting most of its opponents. And, if the school decides it deserves a trophy for its first year's operation at the NRA marksmanship, it is perfectly free to go out and buy one.

Charles Barclay, a long-time rifle enthusiast and coach at Ann Arbor since 1937, is father of the fledgling league.

"Many of the rifle coaches around the state have thought for many years that it would be a good idea to form a league that would allow high school teams to compete just against each other," Barclay said.

The teams compete against each other several times a year in National Rifle Association, indoor and outdoor junior sectional meets, he explained.

But they also compete against many other non-scholastic teams, while the coaches wanted to meet with comparable teams from other schools.

The Michigan junior sectional championships — with the winners going on to national competition.

Ann Arbor was first with 9,113 points, Allen Park second with 8,944, and Pittsford third with 8,941.

Coaches of the member schools — Charles Barclay, a long-time rifle enthusiast and coach at Ann Arbor since 1937, is father of the fledgling league.

The league may expand next year — depending on the response after the league invites all high schools in the State to join.

Only three of the teams — Hillsdale, Pittsford and Ann Arbor — got together last winter to compete directly against each other. Otherwise, the teams kept their own scores on their own ranges and mailed them to Barclay. The best score for each month's match determined the season winner.

Only three of the teams — Hillsdale, Pittsford and Ann Arbor — got together last winter to compete directly against each other. Otherwise, the teams kept their own scores on their own ranges and mailed them to Barclay. The best score for each month's match determined the season winner.

Ann Arbor was first with 9,113 points, Allen Park second with 8,944, and Pittsford third with 8,941.

U.S. Armed Forces Needed to Chase Castro Out of Cuba

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—From a political standpoint the Cuban exiles in this country are organized chaos. They are not united on any invasion of Cuba by them alone looks futile.

If there ever is another invasion of Fidel Castro's island it almost certainly will have to be led by American armed forces. And nothing like that is in sight.

The exiles' hit-and-run raids on Cuba are pinpricks against Castro and the Russian troops there. They're simply a gesture of protest and nothing more.

They might keep alive in the MARLOW anti-Castro Cubans still on the island and hope that some day Castro might be toppled. But the raids wouldn't do the toppling. And President Kennedy said no such raids are to originate from U.S. shores.

MANY ON U. S. RELIEF

There are about 135,000 to 150,000 Cuban exiles in Florida, mostly in and around Miami. About 65,000 of them are getting relief from the American government.

They represent Cuba's poor, middle class and rich. Most of them are from the Cuban middle class. They are united on one thing: their opposition to Castro and their desire to get rid of him.

Before dictator Fulgencio Batista

was thrown out by Castro in 1959, reforms were badly needed. Castro promised them. This country never quarreled with his revolutionary aims—that is, the promised reforms.

But the American government takes the position now that Castro betrayed his promises after he no longer agreed on a program to offer the land expropriated power, just as he lied about himself, first denying he was a Communist and then announcing him.

he'd be one till he died.

If they were able to return to logical moves—if they acted logically, Cuba this week they still have no locally—would be to create a provision of Cuba, backed by the American government, they had political parties and candidates, programs, and elections.

That would be the ideal arrangement—if it worked. If it didn't, Cuba might be dragged down into anarchy or a new dictatorship of one kind or another.

It would seem the exiles' best hope of rallying support among the anti-Castroists still in Cuba—if an invasion were made—would be to agree on a program to replace Castro's, keeping what's good, getting rid of the bad, and continuing to broadcast it to the people in Cuba.

But hope of such agreement among the exile factions seems out of the question.

There are about six million people in Cuba. Castro, even without the presence of the Soviet troops now there, is far better armed than he was at the time he crushed the 1961 invasion, thanks to Russia's help.

CHANCES SLIMMER

Any invasion by the exiles would be in a force far less than their total number of 135,000 to 150,000, since those total figures include women and children. If they tried an invasion with the Russians still in Cuba, their chances would be worse.

Their best chance of returning seems to lie in one of these two directions:

1. An internal Cuban revolt that overthrow Castro and his Communists. That seems far-fetched now.

2. An invasion backed by the United States and led by American armed forces.

If this country did the invading, it undoubtedly would use its armed forces as an occupying force to keep order in the island until a new government could be established in an orderly way.

As of now the exiles are protesting Kennedy's crackdown on their raids. But raids are not invasions. And Castro isn't going to be destroyed by speedboats. Meanwhile, in this country there is no talk of an American invasion.

Fourth Man in Robbery Sentenced

The fourth man found guilty of armed robbery in the holdup last September of Royal Oak station chain owner J. J. Levy was sentenced to five years in prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

James E. Wilson, 27, of Lincoln Park was sentenced to six months to five years in prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Wilson pleaded guilty to armed robbery after a mistrial was declared by Judge Ziem in December in the trial of Wilson and two others.

The two others—Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park, and Joseph Lencar, 35, of Lincoln Park—were sentenced to prison last month by visiting Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane of Port Huron.

Welch, sentenced to 20 to 25 years, and Lencar, to 15 to 22 years, won a stay of execution of their sentences to permit filing of an appeal.

Another of the five involved in the crime, Thomas Kabala, 36, of Lincoln Park, pleaded guilty to armed robbery and is serving a 7½ to 25-year prison term.

The fifth, Joseph Rossetti, 30, of Philadelphia, Pa., was killed by a police bullet while fleeing in a car driven by Lencar shortly after the robbery.

SURRENDERED SELF

Wilson, who had fled to Mexico after the crime but returned to give himself up, testified at the trial of Welch and Lencar before Judge Kane.

Welch and Lencar were found guilty after a 14-day trial. The three originally had been charged also with kidnapping.

Judge Kane presided after Judge Ziem disqualified himself.

Judge Ziem took the action in declaring a mistrial after attorneys for Lencar and Welch claimed their clients' chances for a fair trial were prejudiced because Levy had once contributed to one of Judge Ziem's election campaigns.

Judge Kane criticized the attorneys for "unwarranted attacks on the integrity" of the county's circuit bench.

Levy, owner of the Oakland County Gas & Oil Co. and its 17 stations, was taken at gunpoint from his home to his main place in Royal Oak and was forced to open a safe.

5 Children Die in House Blaze

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Five of the 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gephart Jr., died in a fire that gutted the upstairs sleeping quarters of their two-story brick home last night.

Two more children were burned critically.

Mrs. Gephart and 11 of the children were in the house when the fire broke out about 11 p.m. The father, a salesman, was in the hospital for three weeks with a blood disease.

The 12th child, George III, 17, left yesterday for the Navy. The victims were Gerard, 11; Beryl, 6; Joe, 13; Kathy, 10; and Laura, 5. In critical condition at a hospital were Jack, 13—Joe's twin—and Susan, 13.

Veronica, 20; Mary, 19; Beryl, 6; Stephen, 3; and Mrs. Gephart were not injured. Mrs. Gephart was hospitalized overnight for observation.

Newburgh Manager Exonerated

Acquit N.Y. Official of Shakedown Try

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph Mitchell, the Newburgh, N.Y. city manager, was acquitted of a shakedown two years ago cast into national prominence, has been acquitted in an alleged shakedown of two housing developers of $20,000.

A confederate, Lawrence DeMasi Jr., 42, a Hillsdale, N.J., real estate broker, also was acquitted but was rearrested on a grand larceny charge immediately after the State Supreme Court jury returned its verdict Tuesday.

The new charge stems from the state's claims that DeMasi accepted the alleged $20,000 payoff as a middleman for Mitchell. DeMasi was released later in $5,000 bail.

It was learned that the jury took nearly a dozen ballots.

The 11 men and one woman deliberated 28 hours after getting the verdict that he will reimburse himself as Newburgh city manager. He had suspended himself from the job.

Mitchell, 41, had been accused of demanding $20,000 from twin brothers Stephen and Joseph Walbruff of Monticello, N.Y., in order to get the Newburgh City Council to rezone 11½ acres of property on which the brothers wanted to build a housing project.

If they had been convicted of the bribery and conspiracy charges, Mitchell and DeMasi would have faced a maximum of 20 years in prison.

AP President Is Re-Elected by Directors

NEW YORK (AP)—The board of directors of the Associated Press has re-elected Paul Miller of Rochester N.Y., head of the Gannett Newspapers, as president of the AP.

The board yesterday also elected Kenneth MacDonal of the Des Moines Register and Tribune as first vice president and Harry F. Byrd Jr. of the Winchester (Va.) Evening Star as second vice president.

Harry T. Montgomery was re-elected secretary and Robert Booth was re-elected treasurer.

The elections were at the board's organization meeting following election of directors at the annual meeting of Associated Press members Monday.

Of the more than 17 species of penguins that live in the Southern Hemisphere, only two, the Adelie and the Emperor, inhabit Antarctica.

This is because the older is

But in Newburgh, where the all-Republican council refused Monday night to back Democratic Mayor William D. Ryan's attempt to fire Mitchell "regardless of the outcome of the trial," the mayor commented that he believed the city manager can just walk into City Hall and renege himself. I believe it's a question for the corporation council.

Ryan bitterly fought the welfare proposals advanced by Mitchell. Mitchell had received the backing of the Newburgh Council in his program to remove from the city's relief rolls able-bodied men who refused to work for the city and mothers of illegitimate children who continued to give birth out of wedlock. The courts later tossed out most of his program, which included other crackdowns.

Pair Sentenced in Man's Death

One Admits Shooting Was a Favor to Other

The convicted slayers of an Inkster father of six, whose body was found last October in a shallow grave in Independence Township, were sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday.

One of the two, 21-year-old Richard Drobl of Belleville, was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem to spend his time in solitary confinement at hard labor.

Drobl and his former father-in-law, Stanley Maroley, 46, of 2200 Middle Belt Road, Farmington Township, were found guilty by a Circuit Court jury of first-degree murder in the Oct. 16 death of Peter B. Perva, 44.

Drobl said that he shot Perva as a favor to Maroley, who admitted having an affair with the victim's wife, Vivian, 40.

At his trial, Drobl said Perva was still alive when he buried him in a secluded area in Independence Township, where the body was found the next day by a man exercising a hunting dog.

Drobl, an ex-convict, said he had hoped to get Maroley's help in winning a reconciliation with Drobl's ex-wife, Nina Maroley, 22.

The first-degree murder conviction called for a mandatory prison sentence of "natural life" under state law.

Drobl and Maroley will not be eligible for parole and can be released from prison only through a commutation of sentence or pardon by the governor.

Drobl's defense at his trial was insanity. His ex-wife testified she had once tried to kill her husband. Drobl testified there were "several other people he planned to kill."

Evidence at the trial showed that the gun that killed Perva with one shot in the head was the same gun that Maroley had purchased earlier.

Tells of Fear as Hostage in Court

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—"I was watching, wondering where he was going. I thought maybe he was going to talk to the judge," Miss Constance Coffey said yesterday after going through a harrowing experience.

She didn't have to wonder long where convicted robber Fred Parshay, 29, was going because he grabbed the police court reporter by the neck and put a double-edged razor blade to her throat instead of walking to the witness stand.

Parshay, who had been returned from Jackson Prison to testify against a man who allegedly helped Parshay pull a robbery, said he hoped to use Miss Coffey as a hostage and a shield to escape.

"I didn't want to hurt her. I didn't think she'd fight or resist," the convict said.

But right after Parshay said "don't move" to everyone in the stunned courtroom, Miss Coffey bit him on the wrist. He was rushed by two police officers and was quickly subdued.

The only injury was a slight cut Miss Coffey received on her right wrist which took three stitches to close. She said she didn't know the cut until the whole incident was over.

Parshay, a Detroit man, was sentenced to 12½ to 25 years in prison for the assault and Feb. 22 robbery of a YMCA janitor.

Parshay also admitted a grocery store robbery and had been brought back to Grand Rapids to testify against 31-year-old Cameo Crump who Parshay claims was an accomplice in the robbery.

Parshay claimed he found the razor blade at the Kent County jail.

Pontiac Teen-Ager Convicted in Holdup

An 19-year-old Pontiac youth was sentenced for two to 10 years in Jackson prison yesterday for the armed robbery of a cab driver that netted him $6.

Norman L. Odum, of 163 Elm St., was given the prison sentence by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Ziem.

Odum pleaded guilty April 8 to robbing Taylor Allen at knife point near Bagley and Hughes streets March 30.

Some U.N. Members Willing to Pay Up

BY BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)

—Adlai Stevenson brought back encouraging news from Europe for the United Nations: He found

the world organization and a disposition among some of its members to pay up their financial indebtedness.

The U.N. money problem was

one of the purposes of the U.S.

ambassador's trip to Belgium,

Britain, France, Spain, West

Germany and Morocco.

While Stevenson was on his trip, Eugene R. Black was on a quiet tour of the Middle East, talking money to financial authorities of delinquent countries there.

Black returned Monday.

His report to Secretary General

Thant was not as well publicized

as Stevenson's findings.

The U.S. ambassador said three of the countries he visited

"remedy their delinquencies," if not immediately, at least by the end of the year.

Since France has refused to pay for the Congo, West Germany is

is paid up, it was obvious that he referred to Belgium, Spain and Morocco.

Actually, Morocco paid up its share for the U.N. Middle East operation (UNEF) almost as soon

in Rabat. It still owes $117,523 for the Congo operation, however.

NBA May Tap Conn. Mayor New Leader

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — J.

Walter Kennedy, 49-year-old mayor of Stamford, said today he would accept the post of commissioner of the National Basketball

Association under certain conditions.

"It would be awfully hard to turn down one of the top three sports administrative jobs in the country," he said.

Kennedy said he was contacted by the NBA about taking over the post from retiring Maurice Podoloff,

73, in January and again in February.

He said he had told the owners in January he could not leave his post in Stamford in time to take over Podoloff's job April 1, the date set by the major pro basketball league. He said he had a long, detailed discussion with the nine club owners in February but has not heard from them since.

The NBA is expected to take the job to Kennedy at the annual meeting of the league in New York Monday, a day ahead of the NBA draft of college seniors.

K Gets Big Noise on 'Casey' Castro

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro recently visited his country's Pan-American games delegation and wound up pitching in a baseball game.

He went nine innings, allowed only seven hits, won 5-2 and patted himself on the back thusly:

"Now I won't be able to eat for three days. My arm will be so sore they'll have to feed me."

Returning to his headquarters, Castro's jovial mood disappeared as quickly as a fleeing refugee. Here's an imaginary account of what went on.

CASTRO: Let's eat. I'm as hungry as a bear. Hey, don't jab me with that spoon. That chicken soup's running down into my beard.

And blow it a little, it's hot. Oh, when I get my arm out of this sling...

Never mind, get me Khrushchev on the phone.

KHRUSHCHEV: Yes, Mr. Kennedy?

CASTRO: Niki, baby, it's me, Fidel, your man in Havana.

KHRUSHCHEV: How'd you get my hot-line number?

CASTRO: Never mind that, Niki, baby, did you hear about my pitching? I was great, just great.

You should have been there. My catcher was wonderful.

Postman Killed Heading South for Racial Plea

Shot From Ambush While Hiking Toward Mississippi City

From Our News Wires

GADSDEN, Ala. — Authorities said today that a vacationing Baltimore postman hiking to Mississippi to plea for racial moderation apparently was ambushed and shot to death from a parked car.

The body of William L. Moore, 35, was found sprawled on a desolate stretch of U.S. 11 in front of a roadside park.

Moore had been shot once in the forehead and once in the neck with a 22-caliber weapon.

On the body of Moore, who was walking to Jackson, Miss. to deliver a personal letter on civil rights to Gov. Ross Barnett, were placards reading "Eat at Joe's, Both Black and White" and "Equal Rights for All (Mississippi or Bust)."

The white postman had passed through the northeast Alabama city around dusk yesterday and told a radio newsmen that he was not afraid of violence on his anti-segregation trek.

"I don't believe the people in the South are that way," he said.

About two hours later, a motorist discovered Moore's body 10 miles from here near the crossroads community of Keener. The body was brought here for autopsy.

'CIVIL RIGHTS CASE'

Elihu C. Cornett, U.S. Attorney General, said today the killing of the postman was a "civil rights case" and said he thought racial demonstrations in Birmingham were involved in the act.

"I personally don't think this was a local matter," he said.

Yokum said it appeared the killers were waiting for Moore at the roadside park and shot him as he walked by.

"From the angle of the bullet and the size of the hole, I'd say he was fired from a car at close range," he said.

Gov. George Wallace offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of the killers.

Merchants Plan Appeal to High Court

Merchants opposed to the state law that would close their stores every Saturday or Sunday today ready an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

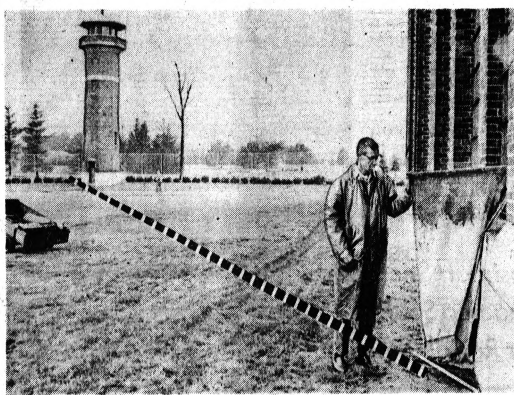

Yesterday Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid granted a 30-day stay of enforcement of the law to the protesting merchants in Oakland and 10 other counties.

The judge ruled that the law is unconstitutional, then granted the stay to give the plaintiffs an opportunity to apply for an injunction from the Supreme Court. This would be the first step in seeking an appeal.

The plaintiffs include 61 department stores and 39 independent merchants in Wayne, Oakland, Bay, Calhoun, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Kent, Macomb, Muskegon, Saginaw and Washtenaw counties.

The law, which prevents stores from remaining open both on Saturday and Sunday, was to have gone into effect March 28.

Rashid had issued an order preventing the law from going into effect in the 11 counties until after April 21 pending the outcome of litigation in his court.

Four Prisoners Cracked Jackson Along This Route

About Jackson Escape

BENTON HARBOR — (AP) State police and sheriff's deputies today converged on a wooded area 12 miles north of here after a truck driver reported seeing four men fleeing from a car on U.S. 31.

Police said the truck driver told them the men looked like descriptions circulated for four convicts who escaped from Jackson.

Southern Michigan Prison yesterday.

JACKSON (AP) — Southern Michigan Prison authorities today continued the questioning of a prisoner they believe was "left in the lurch" in yesterday's escape of four long-term convicts from the prison's maximum security block.

A hacksaw blade and Michigan road map were discovered in his cell, authorities said.

Administrative assistant Charles Egler said the questioning would continue but added that Kuch "wasn't talking."

Prison authorities said they hoped Kuch, who was sentenced to 7½-20 years for breaking and entering in the night time in Grand Rapids in August 1961, would be able to give them some clue to the escapee's whereabouts, and help them determine how the break from the world's largest walled prison was carried out.

Officials said FBI agent Charles Fehr of Jackson had been brought into the case on the possibility the fugitives may have fled across a state line.

Four prison guards were suspended for apparent negligence.

"There is no question but that they were slack," Kropf said.

"If they'd been on the ball, these men might not have escaped."

"When making a count (they are made hourly) you're supposed to see a man in the cell; you don't see him; you don't see a lump in the bed; you don't see shoes. Every guard is taught that right from the beginning."

He added sharply after the guards had been questioned.

College System Vote Is Closer

Clarenceville District Excluded in New Bill

A June 10 vote on establishment of a community college system in Oakland County was set closer to reality today.

The State Senate last night approved a bill containing provisions that would enable the county to vote on setting up a community college district without including the Clarenceville School District.

The provisions were included in a substitute bill for a House-approved measure to amend state law on community college districts.

Drafted by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, the provisions accompanied others prepared by Sen. William G. Milliken, R-Traverse City.

Milliken said the action was taken to resolve a conflict between a similar bill previously approved by the Senate and a bill dealing with the same subject. The Senate bill was to be killed in the House, he said.

The new substitute bill was to be returned to the House for approval of the Senate changes.

Approval was expected.

Oakland County School Supt. William J. Emerson said today that if the bill is approved as expected, a countywide vote could be held on June 10, the date of regular school election.

If approved by voters then, the county could have two junior colleges in at least partial operation by September, 1964, Emerson indicated.

Although the County Board of Education could initiate action to put the matter on the ballot, a separate board of trustees would be set up to run the junior college system.

The senate refused to accept a provision asked by Roberts that would allow the county school board to operate the colleges.

Expect Battles in Lansing on 3 Measures

Parochial Bus, Wage, Reshuffle Legislation Set for Crucial Tests

LANSING (AP) — House members prepared themselves today for a series of battles over three of the most explosive bills of the 1963 legislative session — minimum wage, congressional reapportionment and the so-called parochial bus bill.

All three moved up to the voting stage yesterday, with the bus bill accorded perhaps the best chance of passage.

The House hashed out its arguments over the bus bill but held off a series of amendments to both the minimum wage bill and the congressional reapportionment measure which Gov. George Romney has asked.

Foremost on the list of some 41 bills left on the House calendar was the minimum wage bill, which was in line for a series of administration-approved amendments to increase the number of persons excluded.

The amendments, which included raising the wage floor in the bill from $1.15 to $1.35, the same as the federal minimum wage law, also carried the blessing of organized labor.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, an opponent of the wage bill, said he could not estimate its chances for passage.

MAKES PREDICTION

But he predicted the other two controversial pieces of legislation would be through the House without the necessity for a resolution extending the deadline.

"I saw 50 votes on the board against sending the bus bill back to committee," Green said. "I assume it will pass."

At least three amendments to the congressional reapportionment plan also were expected as the bill came up for final debate before a vote.

With one member missing, Republicans had 57 votes—more than needed to pass any of the bills. But on Monday, if the vote was expected to follow strict party lines.

The congressional reapportionment plan accepted was a GOP-authored compromise plan so designed that it virtually assures the measure of going to a joint House-Senate conference committee for final shaping.

NIX ANDERSON AMENDMENT

In debate on the bus bill, House members rejected a series of amendments, including one by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Waterford Township, to require students to pay 10 cents for school bus rides unless their district ruled they are hardship cases.

Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, sought to send the bill to its death by referring it to the ways and means committee but lost on a 38-16 vote.

U.S. Battle Group Going to Thailand for Maneuvers

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Army will send a battle group of about 1,500 infantrymen into Communist-threatened Thailand next month for maneuvers.

Although the move had been planned for months, it will come as another show of American force in the troubled Southeast Asian area.

The soldiers will be drawn from the 25th Infantry Division stationed in Hawaii. They will join with military units of other Southeast Asia Treaty nations in maneuvers scheduled for June 11-18.

More than 24,000 men from all SEATO nations are due to take part in the exercises.

The 25th is the division that provided troops for a U.S. show of force in Thailand 11 months ago when Communist forces in neighboring Laos appeared to be driving toward the Thai border.

Washington authorities believe the current threat to Thailand is about as great as the one last year, although an uneasy cease-fire appears to be in effect after renewed fighting between pro-Communist forces and neutralist troops in Laos.

At Naha, Okinawa, America's largest military complex, Asia went on alert today, apparently because of the rising crisis in Laos.

Military spokesmen refused as usual to comment on possible troop movements. But in a many troop leaves were canceled and normal pass restrictions tightened.

In Vientiane the Laotian government announced that about 300 North Vietnamese, accused by U.S. officials of helping leftist in the Laotian fighting, will be withdrawn from Laos.

USDA Says Suds Help Chase Household Pests

While household insect pests are not as troublesome as in "olden days," their menace to the home has by no means vanished. So the U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued instructions on how to control such pests as bed bugs, flies, fleas, lice, mosquitoes, wasps, cockroaches, ants, spiders, termites, and ticks—and cleanliness is the very first recommendation!

"First, cleanliness is a basic part of successful household pest control. Routinely scrub out hard-to-get-at corners with hot water, soap or detergent, and disinfectant," advises the USDA.

Eye Make-Up Is Important With Glasses

Today's beautifully applied eye make-up has changed the old-fashioned "glasses" adage to — "Men make passes" at girls who wear glasses," and every girl who must wear this type of eye correction should apply eye make-up with a fashion flair.

There is no excuse today for a woman's eyes not to stand out beautifully no matter what the circumstances.

Eye make-up is especially important when you wear glasses. Take advantage of all eye make-up available — fluid eyeliner, eye shadow stick, fine line eye pencil. Consider your glasses a frame which surrounds a beautiful picture — your eyes.

Make up your eyes in such a manner that when people look at you, they look beyond the frame and see the picture. When you first make up your eyes, forget that you are going to wear glasses.

Then, when you put them on, if the color seems to fade, add make-up. Use bright mascara colors according to your costume such as iridescent green and blue. If your lashes are so long that they brush against your lenses, lightly pinch off the mascara from the very tips of the center ones after you have applied it generously. The three or four center lashes are usually the culprits. By removing the mascara from these tips, you will help keep your lenses clean throughout the day.

Another great innovation of our day is contact lenses. You should give serious consideration to trying them. Not only are they flattering but they are available in a variety of lens colors and you will be able to accomplish a modern-day miracle — matching your eyes to your make-up and costumes.

Old Leader Hits Research Drag

Says State Potential Not Fully Realized

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner told the Michigan State Safety Conference in Lansing yesterday that Michigan has a built-in triangle of research scarcely matched anywhere, but the potential is not paying off.

"Without a strong base of scientific research in the state, industry obviously won't settle in Michigan," Varner told the conference.

Varner said that Michigan has three major research centers within 75 miles of each other. The centers are located at the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

He said auxiliary research was available at the University of Detroit, Oakland University and at Dearborn and Flint.

The Oakland University chancellor said he believed this potential is not paying off because each university is going its own way, "each interested primarily in its own institutional development with the welfare of the state clearly secondary."

Varner suggested establishment of a Michigan center for industrial research in the Howell-Brighton area, where it would be readily available to all three universities.

The development could either be financed by the state or by a pool of private interest capital, he said.

"Michigan has a set of rich resources in our state universities which it is not utilizing to the fullest," Varner added, "and we need some imaginative approach to harness this great potential."

The safety conference will continue through tomorrow. An attendance of nearly 3,000 is expected.

Approve Another Proposal

Dems Fire New Salvo at GOP Districting

Oakland County Democrats—frequent critics of Republican proposals for Congressional reapportionment of the state—today aimed a new salvo at the latest GOP proposal.

At the same time, they expressed approval of an entirely new approach, worked out by Birmingham resident, that would join part of Detroit with southern Oakland County.

Target of the Democrats' criticism is a new plan scheduled to be introduced today in the State House of Representatives by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township.

County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin charged that the plan is "even more indefensible and politically expedient than the (Hogan's) previous measure."

Levin claimed the new proposal "would create districts with very wide differences in population and consistently cut across traditional lines, including county lines."

Hogan termed the new plan only a vehicle to allow Republicans more time to work out a disagreement over alignment of the Thumb area in a Senate-approved bill sponsored by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

The new plan would put part of Oakland County in a district with the southern part of Macomb County; another part of Oakland County would become an 18th District reduced in size from its present encompassing of the entire county; and the rest of Oakland County, including Pontiac, Birmingham and Troy, would join Mount Clemens and the rest of Macomb County in the new 19th.

RADICALLY DIFFERENT
Hogan said this plan was so radically different from the Senate bill that House approval of it would be certain to send the matter to a joint Senate-House Conference committee for a final version.

Expected in the final version is a splitting of Oakland County into the 18th and 19th, with the areas of Troy, Royal Oak, Southfield and Bloomfield in the 18th and the rest of the county in the 19th with Livingston County.

Levin and his executive assistant, James M. McNeely, expressed interest in a plan drawn up by Harold Sweeney, of 400 Linden Road, Birmingham, and expected to be introduced today by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac.

This plan would put parts of Detroit north of Highland Park

Teamster Trial Starts 2nd Day

The trial of Pontiac Teamsters Union official Floyd B. Harmon on charges of embezzlement and making false entries in union books went into its second day in Detroit Federal District Court today.

Harmon, financial secretary of Pontiac Local 614, was indicted last June following an audit of the local's records by federal Labor Department investigators.

Twelve counts of the indictment are for embezzlement, each carrying a maximum penalty of five years and a $10,000 fine.

Twelve other counts charging false entries carry a maximum sentence of one year and a $10,000 fine each.

In today's action, a jury was to be selected and the government was expected to open its case against the Waterford Township man.

The case, being held before Judge Talbot Smith, is expected to last into next week, Assistant U.S. Atty. William Merrill said today.

Harmon, of 2900 Barnes St., is charged with embezzling amounts ranging from $11.32 to $1,012.25 between October 1959 and December 1961.

The Labor Department audit began 15 months ago after a series of legal entanglements which culminated in the Supreme Court ordering the Teamsters to open their books to investigators.

A grand jury investigation which led to the indictment began last April following completion of the audit.

Woman Active in Church Dies

Heart Ailment Fatal to Mrs. L. C. Sheffield

Mrs. L. C. (Jane) Sheffield, prominent in church and club activities in the city, died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital. She had been ill with a heart ailment for several years.

A memorial service of Holy Communion will be observed for both Mrs. Sheffield and former Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland at 10 a.m. tomorrow in All Saints Episcopal Church.

Funeral service will follow at 11 a.m. with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Arrangements are by Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Scholarship Fund of All Saints Church.

Mrs. Sheffield of 4651 Motorway Drive, Waterford, was the first woman elected to the vestry of All Saints Episcopal Church.

She was chairman of the Christian Social Relations Committee of the Michigan Diocese of the Episcopal Church and a member of the board of directors of St. Ann's Mead, a home for the aged.

A member of the Altar Guild, she had also served as past president of Guild No. 2 of her church and of the Planned Parenthood League of Birmingham.

Mrs. Sheffield was a member of the board of directors of Pontiac Visiting Nurse Association and a past president of the Carol Brooks Section of Pontiac Needlework Guild, Inc.

A member of the Women's Village Club of Birmingham, she had also been active in the Pontiac Branch, Woman's National Farm & Garden Association.

Mrs. Sheffield is survived by her husband, a Pontiac physician.

Fail to Act on Agreement for Urban Site
No action was taken at last night's City Commission meeting on a formal agreement between the city and Charles L. Langa for redevelopment of urban renewal land in downtown Pontiac.

Fail to Act on Agreement for Urban Site
Langa, of 2631 Dorothy Lane, Waterford Township, was named exclusive redeveloper of some 20 acres in the central business district last week.

Fail to Act on Agreement for Urban Site
At that time city officials said a formal agreement with Langa would be acted upon at the April 23 meeting, but the technical document couldn't be drafted and printed in time for action last night.

Fail to Act on Agreement for Urban Site
It is expected to be up for approval next week. The agreement spells out terms under which Langa will buy and redevelop land after first submitting building plans to city officials and urban renewal officers for approval.
