Eight-Day Gemini 5 Flight Is Postponed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Technical problems and a heavy thunderstorm combined today to force postponement of the eight-day Gemini 5 flight of astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr.

There was no immediate indication when the flight would be rescheduled, but it was believed that another attempt could not be made before Saturday.

The effort was called off at 12:43 p.m. as Cooper and Conrad tensely waited out the countdown while seated in the cramped quarters of their spacecraft perched atop a fully-loaded Titan 2 rocket.

They had been in the spaceship since 10:42 a.m. when the shot was called off.

The countdown was racing against a thunderstorm moving in from the west and had a good chance of winning, when the count suddenly was stopped at T-minus 10 minutes.

SIGNALS LOST

Mission control center said the count was held at that point because of a dropout in radio signals from a telemetry channel which pipes information from the spacecraft to ground controllers.

They said the trouble appeared to be in a commutator, an electronic switch which changes from one radio channel to another.

The controllers switched to a backup system and it worked fine.

When the primary system was switched back on it was working also. But engineers expressed some concern and they wanted to take an extra 15 minutes to check it.

STORM HITS

In the meantime, the thunder and lightning swept in over the Cape and drenched the launch area.

Even as the rain began pelting the launch complex, Cooper and Conrad said they still were anxious to go. Minutes later, the control center called the shot off for the day.

The astronauts were expected to stay in the craft about 30 minutes to wait for technicians to ride the elevator to the top of the tower to remove them.

Earlier, the shot had been delayed 3 hours, 18 minutes because of a problem with the spacecraft power system.

ORIGINAL PLAN

Cooper, 38-year-old Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, 35-year-old Navy lieutenant commander, originally were to have blasted off at 9 a.m. on man's longest planned space flight, during which they were to attempt a first rendezvous with another satellite.

Cooper, the command pilot, seeks to become the first man to rocket into orbit a second time. He made a 22-orbit trip to close out the Mercury program May 15-16, 1963.

This was the first time during a launch attempt that a Gemini spacecraft or rocket had been affected by technical troubles. On the Gemini 3 and 4 flights, there were delays involving launch pad equipment and tracking gear.

The experience was nothing new for Cooper. He once sweated out more than five hours in his Mercury capsule before a faulty radar system postponed that flight.

FLEW NEXT DAY

He was launched the following day with only a four-minute delay in the countdown.

When told of the postponement, Cooper was quoted as saying: "Aw, gee, you promised a launching today and not a wet mock."

A wet mock is a rehearsal in which the booster is fueled.

On the Gemini 5 wet mock July 23, Cooper and Conrad also had frustrations. When the exercise was over, the service tower failed to raise because of an electrical problem and they were stranded in the spacecraft more than an hour.

Fifteen minutes after today's launch was called off, Cooper and Conrad left the capsule to return to their quarters about five miles from the pad.

Several hours after the first hold began, Cooper and Conrad were awakened, refreshed by the extra sleep and ready for the job ahead.

The marathon Gemini 5 flight is scheduled to set many guidelines for future flights to the moon. Failure to obtain information of any of the planned exercises could lose a roadblock on the lunar expressway.

The planned flight time of 191 hours, 53 minutes approximately equalled that planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing attempt scheduled in 1969.

Medical experts believe it will lay to rest any lingering doubts about man's ability to survive in space for that long.

Much of the action and suspense of the flight is to be packed into the first six hours, when Cooper and Conrad are scheduled to chase a satellite across the sky.

other astronauts at breakfast this morning. Talking with Cooper is Walter Shirra (left) and Thomas Stafford.

Fund Raiser Accused of Swindling

A former Pontiac minister was charged yesterday with bilking a Garden City Lutheran church of $111,613 he had helped it raise through bond sales.

Detroit Recorder's Court Judge John A. Rizzo set examination on Aug. 27 for Harry B. Schlosser, 1946 N. Hammond Lake, Bloomfield Township, on a charge of larceny by conversion.

Schlosser, a professional fund raiser, was pastor of the North East Community Church in Pontiac from June 1957 to May 1961.

Schlosser, 63, is accused of taking money from St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church after he raised $500,000 through bond sales for the construction of a new church building.

He was released on personal bond after pleading innocent to the charge.

COMPLICATED

According to Detective William E. Bethel of the Wayne County prosecutor's bureau, the complicated financial transaction was arranged through Schlosser's Detroit firm, American Church Securities Co.

Bethel said the $500,000 was raised a year after Schlosser was hired and the church building started in August 1964.

However, the contractor ran into difficulty and the church's building committee wanted to make use of the idle cash.

Bethel said Schlosser suggested the money be loaned at 6 per cent interest to an Ohio church firm.

The church gave Schlosser $205,000 and received his personal note. Bethel said. By January, when the contractor resolved his problems with the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Taking a 'Darting' Glance at Chrysler Line for '66

By HOWARD H. HELDENBRAND

BOSTON—The city that gained renown as the scene of America's first and most colorful party—the Boston Tea Party, staged by colonial patriots—is staging another.

This one is the Boston "See" Party, staged by Chrysler Corp. to give a delegation of 375 press representatives from all sections of the country an advance peek at the 1966 autos.

There is one big difference, however, between the two parties separated by 192 years—at this 1965 levee, indications are that nobody's thinking much about tea.

Preceding the showing of the Dodge line yesterday afternoon, Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend addressed a breakfast meeting. Revealing corporation plans to spend $300 million in 1966 model make-ready, he predicted a golden age for the automobile industry.

"The industry," he said, "has reported yearly gains of a half-million cars or better for several years and prospects are good that 1965 will run up an increase of one million units over 1964."

It is the automaker's opinion that the long-accepted cyclical pattern of the industry — good years followed by poor — is a thing of the past.

Square Lake Claims Life of Detroit Teen

A Detroit youth drowned yesterday in Square Lake in Orion Township when he attempted to swim 200 yards from the east shore to a sandbar.

Dead is Eric Chop, 17. His body was recovered by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Medward Tessier in 20 feet of water about 400 feet from shore.

Chop's companion, Richard Karpinski, 19, of Detroit, said that he and Chop were about two-thirds of the way to the sandbar when the youth began to call for help.

Attempts by Karpinski and Douglas Campbell, 15, of Center Line, to keep Chop afloat failed.

The drowning occurred at about 12:45 p.m. The body was recovered an hour later.

17 Convicted of War Crimes

Judge Calls 16 Nazis, Inmate Guilty as Hitler

FRANKFURT (UPI) — A war crimes court here found 17 of 20 defendants guilty today of complicity in the killing of 25 to 4 million persons in Adolf Hitler's Auschwitz death camp.

Life sentences were imposed on six defendants, including Wilhelm Boger, chief Gestapo torturer at the camp, and Oswald Karuk, a guard who giggled while breaking prisoners' necks.

Eleven other defendants were sentenced to terms ranging from 3 1/2 to 14 years.

Three defendants were acquitted.

GUILTY AS HITLER

The judge said they were as guilty as Hitler himself.

The 20 defendants—19 former Gestapo men and an Auschwitz inmate who helped them — clicked their heels and popped to attention when the judgment came after a 28-month trial.

Hofmeyer said Hitler, Hermann Goering and other major Nazi leaders are dead and gone but "there remains the question of the guilt of the others—those who carried out the orders and were essential to the function of the machinery of destruction."

"It would be a mistake to say these men are not as guilty because they were only small cogs in the machinery—their guilt is as great as those who sat behind the desks."

Besides Boger and Karuk, both 58, those getting life terms included Franz Hofmann, 59, a former chief guard at the camp; Guido Stefan Bretzki, 46, who bragged to his mother he worked "in a place where they burn people"; camp medic Josef Klehr, 67, who injected poison into the veins of tens of thousands of inmates; and Emil Bednarek, 58, the inmate who sold out to his Nazi masters for the privilege of a little more food.

'Soviet Missiles Downed U2s'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says that in the past several years Soviet air defense missiles have shot down several American U2 reconnaissance planes.

The Soviet missiles are the types that were deployed in Cuba by the Soviets which shot down a very high-altitude U2, he added during a closed-door appropriation committee hearing last Feb. 25.

McNamara testified then in support of his endorsement of missiles rather than bombers or manned aircraft for future U.S. defenses. The testimony was released yesterday.

The defense secretary did not elaborate beyond the 1962 missile attack over Cuba, as to where or when other U2 incidents might have occurred.

A U2 was shot down over Soviet territory in 1960. The pilot, Gary Francis Powers, was later exchanged for a convicted Soviet spy.

McNamara's U2 comments came after Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., asked: "How effective are these defenses that the Soviets are moving into North Vietnam against bombing?"

NOT SURE

McNamara replied that he wasn't sure the Russians were moving into North Vietnam.

Pressed for an answer, he said: "If they did move missiles into Viet Nam, they would be very effective against our aircraft, bombers or fighters, at certain altitudes."

"One good evidence of that is that these same defenses have shot down several U2s in the past several years."

Because of the greatly improved missile defenses of both the Soviet Union and the United States, McNamara told the senators at another point in the hearings, there is "a greater degree of uncertainty, unlikely as it may sound, in bomber operations than in missile operations."

Denies Threat Against Marina

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Jess Porter, jailed on a complaint by Lee Harvey Oswald's widow 10 weeks after he married her, denies he threatened her with a gun.

Porter told newsmen in a jail cell interview he had never carried a gun. He said he didn't know why his wife, Marina, took action against him "except maybe for publicity."

Mrs. Porter, 23-year-old Russian-born widow of the man who assassinated President John F. Kennedy, swore out an affidavit before a justice of the peace that Porter, 27, slapped her and frightened her with a gun. Porter was jailed on a charge of threatening bodily harm.

He was released early today on $1,500 bond posted by his attorney.

Friday to Be Mostly Fair

Here's good news. The weatherman promises mostly fair with little temperature change tomorrow, the high about 74 to 80. Tonight is expected to be fair and cooler with lows near 58 to 64.

Sunny and mild is the forecast for Saturday.

Rain falling in scattered showers yesterday measured one-tenth of an inch.

A low of 62 was recorded at 5 a.m. today. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 73.

LA Calm; Leaders Probe Riot Causes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With calm restored in the riot zone, government leaders concentrated today on an investigation of the causes and remedies for the violent Negro outbreak that cost 34 lives and $200 million in property loss.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he would announce the members of a special commission charged with finding a peaceful solution to racial strife in the sprawling Los Angeles metropolis. He said a top man has accepted the job as chairman.

Brown scheduled a 2 p.m. television broadcast for a "major extended statement" on the turmoil that began eight days ago in the Watts district of southeast Los Angeles.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was greeted Wednesday by heckling as well as friendly applause when the Negro civil rights leader toured the section.

"Burn, baby, burn," yelled one heckler at a meeting Dr. King addressed in a community center. That was the rallying cry of the burning and looting rioters during the disorder.

Negroes in the crowd told Dr. King they wanted Mayor Samuel W. Yorty and Police Chief William H. Parker to come to their neighborhoods and hear their complaints.

Statements by Yorty indicated bitterness between him and the state and federal leadership over antiriot and relief measures.

Commenting on President Johnson's assignment of Undersecretary of Commerce LaRue Collins to visit Los Angeles for an on-the-spot study of the riot causes, Yorty said:

"I don't believe he can do anything. He's a specialist in civil rights, which is not the issue here."

After Brown announced that 12,000 National Guard troops were being pulled out, Yorty said he regarded the withdrawal a mistake.

"I don't know what the governor's doing," Yorty said. "He's too busy with press relations and press conferences to tell me what he's going to do."

Brown said the withdrawal decision, leaving about 3,000 troops still on riot zone duty, was made after a meeting of state officers with Parker.

FEDERAL MONEY

He said $1.77 million in federal funds has been released for a cleanup and repair program in south Los Angeles.

Collins said he was instructed by President Johnson to remain in Los Angeles as long as he feels necessary to provide all available federal help.

The riot area, where a curfew was lifted Tuesday, remained quiet. The calm had been briefly shattered early Wednesday with a police raid on the Black Muslim sect's Los Angeles mosque.

Fifty-nine Black Muslims were arrested in the raid. It was carried out on a tip that weapons were being taken into the building. Police shot fired from the building hit two police cars. Officers responded with hundreds of rounds of gunfire that rattled the mosque.

NO ONE SHOT

Nine Muslims in the building were cut by flying glass but no one was shot. No weapons were found in the mosque.

Nineteen Muslims arrested inside the mosque were booked on suspicion of assault with intent to murder. Forty others were picked up outside the mosque were booked on suspicion of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The riot zone arrest total was 3,973, including 3,428 adults and 545 juveniles. The injury toll was 892, including 747 civilians, 93 peace officers, 43 firemen, and 10 military men.

The survivors were evacuated to Polvareda, a few miles below the stricken village and 70 miles east of Mendoza City, the provincial capital.

PHILIP O. MASTIN JR.

County Dems Fill No. 2 Post

Oakland County Democrats today announced the appointment of Philip O. Mastin Jr., a Hazel Park city councilman, as county deputy chairman. He will assume his duties Sept. 1.

The appointment to the $12,000-a-year job was made by Democratic County Chairman George A. Googansin, a Pontiac attorney.

Mastin, 35, succeeds James M. McNeely who resigned to become director of the Oakland County Economic Opportunities Commission.

A senior automotive chassis designer at the Chevrolet Engineering Center in Warren, Mastin is a graduate of Hazel Park High School. He attended South Macomb Community College.

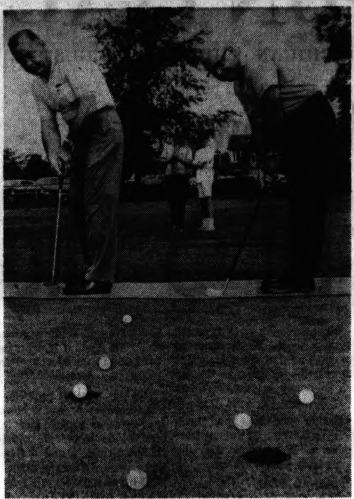

He is serving his second term on the city council and is a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, serving on the boundaries of cities and villages committee.

LAST YEAR

Last year he was elected to the County Democratic Executive Committee and was later named treasurer.

Mastin, his wife, Donna, and their three children live at 526 E. Harry, Hazel Park.

He is a past president of the Hazel Park Jaycees and past Michigan Jaycee retention chairman.

Nearly 400 Pontiac businessmen attended the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce outing yesterday at the Pontiac Country Club.

Area Boater Listed Serious After Blast

A 28-year-old Birmingham man whose cabin cruiser exploded on the Detroit River yesterday is in serious condition in Detroit's Harper Hospital.

Robert Rixom, of 2398 Dorchester, was one of five persons burned in the explosion at a marina in Gibraltar.

Rixom is a teacher in Madison Heights.

His mother, Mrs. Ernest Rixom, said he had taken his 25-foot cabin cruiser to Toledo and had stopped at Gibraltar for repairs. "He touched something that I caused a spark," she said.

The boat, gutted by fire, was taken to the Detroit River to save other pleasure craft docked at the marina.

20 Alleged Gambling Sites Raided

Internal Revenue Service agents, Detroit and State Police raided 20 alleged numbers racket sites in Flint and the Detroit area yesterday, arresting 17 persons, including an Oakland County man suspected as a ringleader.

U.S. District Attorney Lawrence Gubow said the gambling operation had an annual gross of more than $3.5 million and a daily take of about $1,300.

He said Louis Ruggiello, 32, of 5296 W. Doherty, West Bloomfield Township, and Mrs. Arnette Harper Jameson, 58, of Flint were suspected as the ringleaders of the operation.

John Olaszewski, chief of the intelligence division of the Internal Revenue Service, said Ruggiello gave the West Bloomfield Township address as his home but has been living in at 2845 Morningside, Lathrup Village.

Ruggiello was arrested at 18212 James Couzens, the headquarters for the local operation, according to Olaszewski. He said Ruggiello was convicted of gambling charges in Detroit in 1961 and 1962.

GAMBLING EQUIPMENT — The only home in Oakland County where gambling paraphernalia was found was at 21432 Mitchelldale, Royal Oak Township. Arrested there was Imogene Williams, 22.

The arrested persons, nine in the Detroit area and eight in Flint, all were arraigned on federal tax evasion charges. Ruggiello was released on $5,000 personal bond, the others on $1,000 bond.

U.S. Commissioner Frederick Johnson scheduled the court examination for the nine arrested in the Detroit area for Sept. 21.

Government Reviewing Military Pay Hike Bill — WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today the $1-billion military pay bill is under review in the government before coming to President Johnson's desk for action.

This is customary for many bills — they go to the Budget Bureau, and in this instance to the Defense Department, the Civil Service Commission and other interested agencies for review and recommendation.

of the industry market has risen from 10.3 per cent to 15.5 per cent — with July showing a further rise of another percentage point.

KEEPING PACE — To keep pace with the tremendous upsurge of the auto industry, Chrysler's four-year investment program initiated in 1964 totals $1.7 billion.

"Within the past year alone," Townsend said, "expansion or plans for it has materialized for 14 existing plants, with construction, acquisition or blueprinting of 19 new facilities."

Speaking for the industry, he voiced praise for the stability it has contributed to the American economy.

"The consumer price index of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that the average price of new cars has declined by 5.6 per cent between 1959 and 1965.

"Over the past six years, in a very liberal sense, every day has been bargain day at your favorite automobile dealership."

Selling the line for the presentation of Dodge Division products was its 1966 theme: Beautiful Rebellion on Wheels."

Cleverly and entertainingly presented by a running skit, the mechanical models were well-embellished with appealing platitude of live models. There were moments when one's mind was inclined to stray from horsepower to girlpower.

THREE DARTS — The Dart Line, which accounted for more than a third of Dodge sales last year, will be offered in three series — Darts, Dart 270 and Dart GT.

All models except the station wagon have an 111-hp wheelbase.

"Five inches longer is the Coronet, described as a new 'take-note' style. With a higher level of luxury in appointment. "The Coronet is a family-size car which will compete in the fastest growing segment of an expanding automobile market," says Byron J. Nichols, general manager of Dodge Car and Truck Division.

And topping the line are the Polara and Monaco series, both running 121 inches from wheel to wheel and deluxe in every respect.

Tomorrow we'll tell you about the other members of the Chrysler family of autos.

Library Budget Hearing Tonight

The library board tonight will present to the public a proposed $180,542 operating budget for 1966-67, marking a $14,000 increase over this year's figure.

Because property values have gone up, the board can expect to net $171,362 from its 1.1-mill tax, rather than the current $158,475.

The budget will be balanced by state aid, penal fines and other revenue.

Librarian Rose Vainstein said she hoped to be able to hire an additional professional employee and another clerk.

PRESENT STAFF

Her staff now includes the full-time equivalent of 3.75 professional and 4.5 clerical employees.

The additional persons would take the salary category from $59,900 to $74,500.

The amount set aside for books and processing would increase from $27,500 to $33,790.

"We are very anxious to build up our own book stock as quickly as possible," Miss Vainstein said, noting that the core of the library's collection consists of books on a three-year loan from the Michigan State Library.

RISING COSTS

Miss Vainstein also commented on the rising costs of books.

Other figures listed in the budget are furniture and equipment, $955; operating, $35,247; and Baldwin Public Library contract, $46,050.

The last payment is that made to the Birmingham library so that township residents can have free use of the facility.

Miss Vainstein said the figure, based on use made of the library, is tentative.

RENEGOTIATION

The contract calls for the township to pay $72,000 in 1966-67, but Miss Vainstein said the two library boards will meet to renegotiate the base for computing the rate.

Tonight's hearing is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the library, 4036 Telegraph.

Arrest Pair Hoping for Lift-Off Close-Up

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (UPI) — Two youthful tourists hoping for a close-up look of the Gemini 5 firing were arrested today after an impromptu game of "cops and robbers" barely 1,000 feet from launch Pad 19.

Security police identified the pair as Gary Ralph Young, 22, and Theodore L. Ballenger, Jr., both of Beaver Falls, Pa., vacationing in Florida.

Agents held the two young tourists for questioning after their unauthorized visit to the pad area was discovered.

Both were en route to Miami, Fla., on a vacation trip.

One of the intruders was spotted by a television camera randomly surveying the stretches of greenery just beyond the pad's enclosing fences.

RELAXING IN SAND — It suddenly picked up a view of a barefooted, bareheaded young man relaxing in the sand.

Jack Fortes, a public relations man with Pan American World Airlines which is the housekeeping agency at the space center, said the two youths apparently parked their car in a tourist area and walked along the beach to a fence.

At low tide the fence can be skirted by wading through the water.

Both the Pennsylvanians were found behind the Pad 19 fuel farm about 125 yards from the beach and far inside the 5,000-foot safety radius around the pad.

Fly Out Survivors at Avalanche Site

POLVAREDA, Argentina (AP) — Helicopters began evacuating today the 200 survivors of the Andean village of Las Cuevas, partly buried under a huge avalanche Monday night.

The death toll in the storm-swept region of western Argentina near the Chilean frontier rose to 31 when two men injured in the snowslide died. A number of persons are believed still buried under the snows.

The survivors were evacuated to Polvareda, a few miles below the stricken village and 70 miles east of Mendoza City, the provincial capital.

High Draft Call Spur to Cupid

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County marriage license applications jumped 36 per cent following the State Selective Service Board's announcement eliminating married men from the Viet Nam call-up, officials reported.

The county clerk handled 1,583 applications during the first half of August. In the same period last month, 1,156 applications were processed.

License bureau employees said many of those taking the first step to the altar are racing against the draft.

"The draft? That's why I'm getting married," commented a 22-year old musician who arrived at the bureau with his 19-year-old fiancée.

Another prospective bride commented: "It's not because he doesn't want to be in the service for two years; it is the simple fact that I don't want to see him go to Viet Nam and never come back."

Leftist Tries to Form Greek Government

ATHENS (AP) — Elias Tsirimokos, a former left-wing Socialist, began a new attempt today to form a government and end Greece's 35-day-old crisis.

King Constantine chose Tsirimokos after the 58-year-old politician and his ally, Stephanos Stephanopoulos, apparently convinced the king they could line up a parliamentary majority in defiance of ousted Premier George Papandreu.

Tsirimokos said he would go before the 300-member parliament next week to ask for a vote of confidence. He claimed the support of 154 members, a majority of eight.

Papandreu, whose firing by the king July 15 touched off Greece's worst crisis since the 1947 civil war, predicted Tsirimokos would meet with "severe denunciation" in parliament.

Papandreu's son, Andreas, said in a radio interview that if Tsirimokos got a majority, his government "would be brought down by a popular uprising and demonstrations by the end of the year." He added:

Natural Gas Well Erupts; Some Homes Cleared

PLYMOUTH (AP)—A natural gas well erupted near Plymouth Wednesday, shooting a gas and crude oil geyser some 200 feet in the air and forcing evacuation of 26 homes, a Consumers Power Co. spokesman said. One employee suffered minor injuries in the eruption. He was treated at a hospital and released, the spokesman said.

Fumes covered the area with a thin layer of oil. Other residents were warned to turn off pilot lights in their gas stoves and to avoid smoking.

A crew was converting the gas-producing well into a storage well when a rubber diaphragm designed to seal in the pressure—about 1100 pounds—burst, a spokesman said.

"And if King Constantine then resorts to a military regime, the consequences would be quite disastrous. Clashes would follow."

YOUTHS ON MARCH

Several hundred youths marched through Athens Wednesday night shouting "down with Tsirimokos" and "down with the palace slaves."

Tsirimokos and Stephanopoulos were top aides of Papandreu when the crisis started, but they broke from his Center Union party four days ago.

They had support from the 99 National Radical Union and 8 Progressive party deputies on the right, and from the 21 Center Unionists who made up the interim government of George Athanasiadis Novas. They needed 23 more breakaways from Papandreu and claimed 26.

Tsirimokos was a school-teacher who entered politics as a Liberal 30 years ago. His career was almost ended in 1961 by a heart attack, but surgery gave him a nylon artery.

He broke away from the Liberals in 1941 during the Nazi occupation. He formed his own party, the Union of Popular Democracy, which cooperated with the Communist guerrilla organization.

He became national economy minister in 1944 in Papandreu's government in exile. For the next nine years he was secretary general of the small but influential Socialist party.

Tsirimokos ran for parliament in 1956 as an independent allied with the Communist-front United Democratic Left and won. In 1961 he joined Papandreu and others in forming the Center Union party. In 1963 he became speaker of parliament. After the elections of February 1964, Papandreu made him interior minister.

A stout man with a mustache and thick, dark-rimmed glasses, Tsirimokos is the author of several books on politics.

Quarrel in Athletics Goes Before Congress

The running battle between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) over who has the title to and jurisdiction over hordes of American boys running around in their underwear would seem scarcely worth the attention of a Senate committee.

The power struggle has already taken up the time, to no avail, of the late President KENNEDY and Gen. DOUGLAS McARTHUR.

The feud or squabble concerns primarily the sponsorship of "open" track meets in which both college and other athletes compete, as opposed to "closed" meets in which only college athletes participate.

The AAU for years has certified to the International Olympic Committee the athletes to represent the United States. This was logical in the days when the typical track and field athlete was developed in competition among athletic clubs.

But many years ago colleges began sending their stars into international competition. The rivalry between the coaches—the men behind the NCAA—and the AAU dates back at least to 1928, when Gen. McARTHUR was president of the American Olympic Committee.

Three years ago the NCAA established three federations to control track and field, basketball and gymnastics. The U. S. Track and Field Federation now claims to represent more than 20,000 high schools, colleges and junior colleges, and track and field clubs.

The hearings are now under way in Washington. Just what the U.S. Senate can do to resolve the quarrel is questionable. It seems to us that there are plenty of earthshaking events taking place so that Congress would not have time to get mired up in the tussle over the thincads.

Wanton Desecration Mars Nation's Beauty

It's lovely, let's ruin it! Apparently this is a modern concept which we fall to understand.

The United States government is currently pleading anew with its citizens to please, PLEASE not destroy the natural beauty of their national parks.

Why is this necessary?

The fact that such a plea is needed, plus the apathy that has greeted President Johnson's program for highway beautification, prompts the glum conclusion that somewhere along the line in developing "America the Beautiful" we have become so accustomed to litter and ugliness that we now accept them as part of modern living.

You have to see the abuse and destruction of our natural beauty to believe it could happen in an enlightened civilization. But happening it is, and to such extent that it is both frightening and sickening.

There is a depressing number of oddballs who are either too lazy, too sloppy, too selfish, too insensitive to beauty, or too contemptuous of the comfort and welfare of others to clean up their own litter.

They just don't consider extinguishing their picnic embers or campfires, or leaving things neat and tidy for the next fellow. There are others even worse who are not only insensitive to beauty, but are impelled to destroy it by senseless vandalism.

These weirdies risk their lives to plaster their names in huge letters on scenic cliffs. They smear grease and paint on historic markers. They defile and mutilate statues of American heroes.

How can we stop this wanton desecration?

One simple way is for each of us to make sure we leave our picnic spot or campsite as clean and beautiful as we found it—or to report it to the proper authorities if we find it littered or uncleared.

And finally, the guilty parties should get the legal punishment they deserve.

"Youths will soon take over the world," says a sociologist. Considering the condition of the world and the attitudes of many of the youths, one might say they deserve each other.

MANY an American will not worry in the slightest about the war in Viet Nam unless and until it becomes necessary to ration gasoline.

No Letup Seen in Foreign Aid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Not this year but maybe next year, or the next year, or the next, will bring some kind of overhaul in foreign aid which has cost the government $11 billion in the past 20 years.

But the program in some form seems destined to go on indefinitely. Congress is about to authorize spending $3.35 billion more on it for another year.

As it turns out, this is another pretty good victory for President Johnson. Earlier this year in an interview, David E. Bell, head of the Agency for International Development, which handles foreign aid, was asked if he could foresee the day when it would come to an end.

He said: Yes, certainly. But he didn't say when. He pointed out that various programs of aid to European countries have come to an orderly finish. He expects the same to happen elsewhere, he said.

USUAL IRRITATION

This year, there was the usual irritation and agitation about foreign aid in Congress, which traditionally has approved continuing it but on a year-by-year basis.

One of the most discontented was also one of the most powerful men in the Senate, J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Military and economic assistance have always been lumped together, requiring Congress to approve them in a single parcel. Fulbright wanted them separated. The Senate wouldn't buy the idea. Neither would the House.

The Senate, but not the House, did buy an idea of Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat: instead of continuing aid on a yearly basis, let it in two years to force President Johnson to revamp it. Then, revised, it could continue.

NEEDED COMPROMISE

Since there were differences in what the House and Senate authorized, they had to set up a committee to reach a compromise. They met 15 times over two months and finally came to agreement Tuesday because the Senate backed down.

The Senate proposal to end the program in two years was dropped. Instead, the conferees agreed on suggesting a committee be created to think up some new approaches on foreign aid.

The House agreed that next year, when the program comes up again, Congress may consider extending it for "two or more years" at a time. That's about as vague as an agreement can be.

David Lawrence Says:

Trade 'Anarchy' Felt in S. Viet

WASHINGTON—The veterans who have served in three major wars in the last half century are well aware of the hard ships of war, yet they are not pacifists.

They do not favor the surrender of principle, because they know that LAWRENCE was too often come as the result of appeasement.

Mingling with the Veterans of Foreign Wars last Monday at their 66th national convention in Chicago, one was impressed by the support that they give to the American position in the Viet Nam war—a fight for a great principle.

This correspondent does not make public speeches, but in accepting an award from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, he addressed the members on the subject of "international cooperation" and particularly cited economic power as a means of helping to end the war in Viet Nam. Here is an excerpt explaining this viewpoint:

"Perhaps the least-used power to prevent war is economic power. Prior to World War II, attempts were made to put an economic embargo on trade with certain countries but the Western allies did not cooperate with each other.

"Today every nation goes its own way seeking trade in pursuit of the dollar or the pound or the peso or the franc, as the case may be. This is not international cooperation. It is international anarchy.

JUST CAUSE

"If the United States has a just cause, then why should not the other nations of the world support it?

"And if the only way to bring another nation to terms is to impose an economic embargo so that its trade will be disrupted and it will not receive economic aid from outside, then why should not those who say they are sympathetic with our cause maintain their alliance with us and actually cooperate on economic embargoes?

"We need to convince other nations—the free peoples who think as we do—that the cause for which we are fighting is just as important to them as it is to us.

150,000 AMERICANS

"But while more than 150,000 Americans are fighting or are about to fight in Viet Nam, we have not declared formally a state of war.

"If we did, then, under international law, other nations would be required to respect our request that no economic aid be given to North Viet Nam—our enemy in the battle—and its cobelligerent, Red China.

"International law is firm on that point. It is not considered legal to trade with any belligerent power without subjecting such trade to seizure through the interposition of military and naval force.

"International law does not uphold the right of any country to ship contraband goods to a belligerent power.

"The peoples of the allied countries do not seem much concerned. Yet we have sacrificed the lives of our own young men to preserve freedom in these same nations, too.

"Today we are risking the lives of tens of thousands of Americans in Viet Nam, and it is essential that our friends in the allied governments take a firm stand along with us and refrain from trading with the enemy."

Spunky but Serious Luci Developing Cult of Own

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — There's a Luci cult in America, make no mistake about that!

It's true that Luci can Watusi, but a subtler explanation for her tremendous fan mail is that she "identifies" with today's teen-agers who "yearn to feel needed."

"Teen-agers all over the world are trying to find a way to be needed, and Luci has accomplished this on her own," says Elizabeth Carpenter, Lady Bird Johnson's press secretary.

"Luci has the spark and spunk of a normal young person, but she's also serious-minded and intent on finding her own purpose in life.

"I think she represents to today's youth what Princess Margaret Rose of Britain did to the previous generation. She has get-up-and-go."

Shortly before LBJ became vice president, Luci gave the outward appearance of being a spoiled, self-centered youngster.

The poised Luci of today gives no hint of that once-upon-a-time brat, though she maintains a remarkable independence.

With self-assurance, she decided to secure a summer job as an optometric assistant, and she not only adds the hard-earned pay check to her regular allowance, but played a key role in organizing the National Volunteers for Vision, which is an important part of the administration's new Head Start program.

One of the reasons for the Luci cult may be her ability to be both frivolous and introspective.

She donned a blonde wig as a disguise to gain privacy for a gay weekend at the University of Wisconsin. But with equal aplomb she delivered a thoughtful impromptu speech to the Opera Society, when she happened to discover the group meeting on the White House lawn while her parents were away.

She winsomely introduced her father to an assemblage of presidential scholars, and later served as hostess at a White House dance for the college-aged offspring of foreign ambassadors.

She flew to New Orleans to make a speech kicking off the Volunteers for Vision program, visited Washington's Lighthouse for the Blind where she graciously acceded to pleadings from blind children to dance the Watusi for them, and accepted the honorary chairmanship of the Youth for Natural Beauty.

It isn't every debutante-aged girl who would make her parent's interests and projects her own, but Luci seems to have a rather rare quality of combining the best qualities of adult responsibility and carefree youth.

Riots Depict Viet Nam Difficulty

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) The Los Angeles riots should make the difficulties of U.S. and Saigon government troops in Viet Nam a little more understandable to Americans.

Only a very small part of the population took part in the Los Angeles shooting, knifing and assaulting.

The Communist and other extreme left-wing move-CROMLEY movements were caught unprepared and were unable to step in quickly and deftly enough to take over leadership.

The riots, so far as is yet known, were under no coordinated direction. Their members were inexperienced in street fighting against organized forces. The major damage occurred in less than an eighth of the county.

Nevertheless, a considerable body of national guardsmen and police were required to restore peace and order.

Voice of the People:

Reader Says Our Nation Is in Midst of Revolution

We are in the midst of a revolution in America. The Senate will follow the House and approve the bill to eliminate 14B from the Taft-Hartley Act. American workers will no longer be free and their jobs will depend on their union member cards.

No longer can a citizen spend his money as he prefers. He has enforced insurance through Social Security. The money he pays in taxes is poured out wherever government chooses. Freedom of association is being rapidly abolished; freedom to publish and speak are threatened; and property rights diminish daily. Free enterprise is shackled more year after year.

Man can be master of his fate would he but see it and will it.

'Taxpayers Pay Tab for Farnum's Postage'

Isn't it time Mr. Farnum or his office put an end to this deception or misconception of "something for everyone for nothing"? Mr. Farnum is using the Federal franking privilege to mail his material the same as any other elected Federal officer. Naturally, the taxpayers public pays the tab.

'Pontiac Should Develop Self-Help Program'

You expounded the virtues of Congressman Farnum for his help in getting Federal Urban Renewal funds for the City of Pontiac. Although Pontiac may need funds, this takes from 90 per cent of the district to give to 10 per cent. Pontiac should develop a self-help program. This has been done very successfully by other progressive cities. Federally financed programs take more from the people than they ever return. The 19th District includes Livonia, Redford, Northville, Farmington and West Bloomfield Township, among others. Let's take care of our own problems locally.

In reply to the letter from Eleanor Martin on delinquents, I'm sure the parents of boys and girls who do wrong are not proud of them and are hurt as much as the ones they do these things to.

Comments on Violence of Recent Rioting

The riots and unprecedented, malicious destruction of property in Los Angeles and Chicago are the result of the racial policy of the last two administrations.

Now our President wants to change the immigration laws so he can bring even more of these hoodlums into our country to rob, stab, riot and live for generations off welfare funds while our taxes continue to go higher and even higher!

Perhaps the right-wing "extremists" are not as crazy as the left-wing press of the Nation would have us believe. Mr. Hoover, director of the FBI, has warned us time and again of the ever-increasing rise of criminal violence that goes unpunished and unchecked. And if one tells the truth about this violence and those causing it, he is immediately classified as a narrow bigot by the soft-headed "liberals."

FOR LAW AND ORDER

by 80. Make half of the central force territories actually guerrillas and main-line soldiers trained outside the region by experts. Multiply the riot area by more than 1,000.

Add a plentiful source of arms. Pour in skillful outside direction.

Give the rioters long courses of political indoctrination. Train them in the latest assassination techniques. Give them instruction in organizing a small secret cells.

Teach the rioters to promise their neighbors to "right" all their wrongs," to make them "equals" and to swear that "come the day" they'll see that their neighbors get all the material things they're always wanted. Set the rioters, too, to threatening these same neighbors with death if they don't co-operate.

Add local unstable governments and a national government whose control is here today and gone tomorrow with the coming and going of its troops. Add, also, strong religious groupings suspicious of each other.

Then you have some of the elements of a South Viet Nam.

The stark truth is that it does take many men with Molotov cocktails, guns and knives to create a terrorism that can be handled only with difficulty by a very large force.

In Los Angeles, it took about 15,000 well-trained national guardsmen and an unannounced number of police (Los Angeles reportedly has about 5,000 police in all) to adequately handle far less than 2,000 unorganized amateur terrorists and hard core thugs plus upwards of 2,000 lesser rioters and looters.

The guardsmen - and police versus hard-core-hoods-and-terrorists figured out at roughly the 10-to-1 ratio that some people think necessary to win a guerrilla war.

Once you can imagine a situation like that, you can begin to get a small picture of what South Viet Nam is like.

Israelis Protest New West German Envoy

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Paul's car with anti-German placards as he drove through the streets to present his credentials to President Zolman S. Shazar.

The demonstrators read for more than 30 minutes with shouts of "Pauls Raus!" Pauls got out—as the envoy read his presentation speech in German in a low voice. Pauls, whose appointment created a controversy here, was obviously disturbed.

Israel police shoved back the throng, and the mob met the action with cries of "shame" at the thought of Israeli police clubbing the Jews who had survived the infamous concentration camps where up to five million Jews died.

Police arrested about 10 demonstrators. SOME INJURED

A number of policemen were bruised and a number of demonstrators injured, but first reports said none were hospitalized.

Police had set up barriers 300 feet from the presidential palace in fear of demonstrations.

But demonstrators wearing the yellow star of David—a grim reminder of the days of Hitler's "final solution" to the Jewish problem—stormed to within 60 feet of the building.

Demonstrators' shouts drowned strains of the German national anthem which concluded the formal 30 minute ceremony.

ROAR OF ANGER

A roar of anger burst from the crowds as Pauls stepped from his limousine and strode 130 feet along a red carpet laid before the presidential mansion, accompanied by two aides.

Placard-carrying demonstrators burst through police lines about 300 feet away from the mansion and flooded down a narrow street toward the building.

Police forced the mob to a standstill about 60 feet from the Israeli honor guard of 50 tough tank corpsmen, leather helmets strapped to their heads and sub-machine guns cradled in their arms.

Pauls, grim-faced, marched into the building. ANTI-GERMAN

When Pauls left the mansion at the end of the ceremony, police had shoved demonstrators back from the immediate area but continuing anti-German shouts hammered in Pauls' ears.

Demonstrators then hurled a number of placards over the heads of police onto the German's limousine.

A number of demonstrators, mostly women, fainted, but observers believed the police acted with considerable restraint throughout.

Inside the mansion, the ceremony proceeded with participants looking serious.

Paper Mill's Offer Rejected by Union

WHITE PIGEON (AP)—Striking employees of the Weyerhaeuser Co. paper mill Wednesday rejected the company's offer of a new two-year contract. The firm offered a 16 cent package increase Tuesday in the first negotiating session since the strike started July 27.

Some 150 members of Local 1034, United Papermakers and Paper Workers, have been on strike. The firm had 180 employees.

Debris Investigated

Search for Plane Goes On

CHICAGO (AP)—Investigators for the Civil Aeronautics Board delved through a mass of debris today while Navy planes and Coast Guard vessels continued a search for the cabin section of a United Air Lines jet plane that plunged into Lake Michigan Monday night with a loss of 30 lives.

Edward Slattery Jr., a CAB spokesman, said hopes of determining what caused the crash depended largely on locating the fuselage of the Boeing 727 jet.

The search was concentrated in an area 10 to 17 miles offshore between Highland Park and Waukegan, north of Chicago, where the water depth ranges from 80 to 300 feet.

"So far we have found no structure," Slattery said. "All we've got is fluff."

IN SMALL BITS

The CAB spokesman referred to some 3,000 pounds of wreckage from the plane, mostly small bits, collected by searchers in the area where the plane disappeared in a ball of fire.

The plane crashed within minutes of its scheduled landing at O'Hare International Airport on a flight from New York's LaGuardia Airport.

Six bodies have been recovered.

One Big Problem in Middle Age Is Trying to Define It

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Why is being middle-aged regarded in America as if it were a terrible disease?

Millions of men and women dread it. If people fought sin as hard as they do middle age, earth would be a moral paradise.

Actually, middle age is one of man's least troublesome chronic ailments, once he faces up to the diagnosis and learns to relax and enjoy it.

One of the problems about middle age is defining it.

NO YARDSTICK

The dictionary says it is the period of life between the ages of about 40 and about 60, but that is a rough and inaccurate yardstick.

Middle age is only partly a matter of the calendar. It is also a condition of the body, an attitude of mind. It is determined to some extent even by the nature of your job.

To a teenager, middle age is that vast wasteland between adolescence and second childhood. A rock 'n' roll singer is middle-aged at 25, a professional football player at 30. But at 35, a symphony orchestra conductor is regarded as a youthful prodigy, and if a man made the U. S. Supreme Court bench at 45, his colleagues would look upon him as a boy wonder.

For most of us, however, middle age is determined by how we think, act and feel.

FEW GUIDES

In case you are wondering about yourself, here are a few guides. You probably are middle-aged if—

You grunt loudly when your wife sits in your lap.

No neighborhood kid calls you by your first name anymore. The only dance you can do is the fox trot — and you'd rather not even do that.

DAILY COLUMNS

You read the daily medical columns in your newspaper, and no matter what the doctor is writing about, you recognize the symptoms in yourself.

The last thing you do at night and the first thing you do in the morning is take a pill.

You are always waging a battle against some bad habit you are trying to give up.

Are they really yours or aren't they? Only you and your dentist can be sure.

NOT SO WITTY

Taxicab drivers don't seem to be as wonderfully witty as they used to. You wish they'd just shut up and drive.

If your wife throws away your old pair of slippers, you brood about it for days.

You remember Clark Gable fondly, but think Rock Hudson is probably a Canadian hockey player and Dean Martin is on the faculty at Yale.

You get a softer pad for your swivel chair at the office, and you spend less time hanging around the water cooler trading gossip with the other fellows.

At a cocktail party, you no longer talk to strange women until you're deep in your third martini — the one you swore you weren't going to have.

You'd rather pay to have the car washed than do it yourself.

If a long-haired youth with a beard sits next to you in the bus, you move to another seat. You could probably still reach down and touch the floor without bending your knees, but why should you? What does it prove?

Man, that's living. That's middle age.

Earl Gets Negative Reply

LONDON (AP)—Two London newspapers gleefully reported today that Queen Elizabeth's brother-in-law—who works for a rival paper—was not allowed to take pictures which might have included a bird's-eye view of Buckingham Palace.

The Daily Mirror and the Daily Express reported that the Earl of Snowdon, Princess Margaret's husband, was turned down when he asked to shoot some pictures from one of the tall new buildings near the palace.

Snowdon is employed by the Sunday Times as a photographer.

The Mirror reported: "The photographer-earl, who has a 135-pound (378) a week job with the Sunday Times, wanted to snap views of London from the new 21-story Westminster City Hall.

But a receptionist told him: 'We're sorry. Our instructions are that no one representing an unofficial organization, such as the press, may take photos which might include the palace.'

FRET OVER INTRUSION

"Buckingham Palace officials have been fretting for some time about the possibility of intrusion on the queen's privacy by long-range cameras operated from tall new buildings nearby.

"The queen has had a row of trees planted. But the palace insists that no official appeal or instructions about photographs has been issued."

The Express said that the Hilton Hotel, the first tall newcomer to give a view of the palace grounds, discourages people from taking cameras to its top floors. The Express reporter added:

"But the Hilton staff says: 'Of course, we have no control over guests using cameras from their bedrooms.'"

STAGING VESSEL — The Berkoni, specially built mother ship for the Navy's Sealab II, arrives off La Jolla, Calif., where it will lower Sealab 210 feet to the bottom this week. Ten aquanauts are scheduled to enter Sealab next week to launch a 45-day experiment.

Fast for Peace Ends in Death

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The Rev. George J. Strong, 59, died in Butte County Hospital Wednesday after fasting for almost 40 days for world peace.

The Rev. Mr. Strong, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist church in Chico, Calif., was taken to the hospital Monday by his wife, Louella.

A hospital spokesman said he had been fasting for at least 33 days but did not know the exact number.

The Negro minister was fed intravenously when he arrived at the hospital, the spokesman said.

Happiness Is Open Safe to Pennsylvania Lawman

Dussia, 46, head of the state police crime laboratory, happens to be one of the best safecrackers and lockpickers around.

"I learned at an early age that I had the ability to work with safes and locks," the police veteran says.

"After attending Michigan State University for two years more. When I first began practicing at home I taught my wife to change the combinations of locks. It was a way of constantly testing myself."

Dussia is an accomplished lecturer on his favorite subject and teaches at Indiana, Iowa, and Western Reserve universities.

"Once there was a gambling game, a big one, going on," he related. "It was in a basement, and the only entrance was a steel door. There was a guard sitting just inside the door, to warn of police."

"Well, the police knew about the game and wanted to catch the gamblers in the act. So they got me to pick open the lock. I managed to be quiet enough so that when we opened the door, a policeman grabbed the guard before he could yell. The police poured through."

"Another time I was stuck with an officer on a rural road. Our car was disabled and had no radio. There was a phone booth nearby but neither of us had a dime."

"So I picked open the outer box, then the coin box. I took out $1 in change, put in a dollar bill and called a tow truck. A day later, the owner of the independent telephone company in the area called us to tell of finding a dollar bill in a pay phone."

"Once there was a numbers raid. But the numbers were locked in a safe by the numbers writer, who claimed he didn't know the combination. The police obtained a court order to open the safe and gave me the job. The numbers were in there."

"I still don't have the system perfected, though. I have some locks in my quarters at police headquarters where I stay Monday through Friday."

"At home, I have 500 to 600

as a premedical student, I contacted Harry Miller in Washington, D.C. Miller was one of the country's top lock and safe experts.

TYPE OF SCIENCE

"We worked out a system of manipulation, which to me is a type of science. It's a way of opening safe locks by a combination of touch, hearing and seeing—plus a thorough working knowledge of the inner part of the lock."

"The safe burglar doesn't operate by science. He just wants to get the contents. But a legitimate safe repair man has to protect the safe, too."

REWARDING SEARCH—Jerry Smith, 48, of Kansas City, Mo., examines some of his 2,000 toys collected in the last 11 years. His hobby began when he started looking for a toy tractor similar to one he had as a child. The collection covers the period between 1850 and the 1920s, and it will be shown at a New York exhibit and used on a Christmas television show.

Collector Has 2,000

Toy Pile Grew Like Topsy

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Jerry Smith might be the envy of many children. The walls of his home are lined with more than 2,000 toys.

But Smith, 48, says his three daughters, ranging in age from 11 to 17, couldn't care less. They find it "somewhat unbelievable" that beginning Dec. 1 people in New York City are expected to visit a Fifth Avenue gallery to see "dad's toys."

Smith has shipped 1,300 toys for display in scenes of spring on the farm, Central Park, city market, the circus, and the big fire. Others will be placed in a model of an old-fashioned toy store.

"I have dreamed of something like this," said Smith in an interview. "I want to share my hobby with other people and especially with kids."

CHARITY FUND

Smith, a Kansas City motor car dealer, has assigned all funds paid to him for use of the toys to a charitable trust. Most of the money will go to underprivileged children.

Smith became a toy collector about 11 years ago. He was looking for "a little toy tractor similar to the one I had as a kid during the depression. I asked my sister, who is an antique buff, to pick one up. She brought back not one, but several, including one with a wagon just like the wagon we used on the farm."

Smith then began searching for other farm toys, miniatures of equipment he had known as a child.

"It's like a poker game," he laughed. "You get in so far and you can't go home."

HOURS OF WORK

The toys come from rummage sales, junk and antique shops, attics and basements of friends. Smith spends hours on research and repair to restore the toys' original luster and working order.

The oldest toys in the collection date to 1850. They are a tin train, a tin horse-drawn milk wagon, and two iron frogs on an iron base that kick each other when a button is pressed.

"You can almost follow the development of our nation through the toys of the period," said Smith. "They each reflect the condition and technology of the time."

Water Source
in Lansing City Hall Puzzling

LANSING (AP)—In the midst of drought, Lansing's $5 million, eight-year-old city hall is plagued with too much water in the wrong place.

Water mysteriously bubbles up beneath the building, oozing from the base of the walls and cracking and heaving the eight-inch reinforced concrete floors in the subbasement.

It has been seeping in like this for a week, said Public Service Director Robert Backus. No one has found the source.

The city-owned Board of Water and Light ruled out the possibility of a broken water main nearby.

HEAVY RAINS

The water also appeared before heavy rains that hit the city this week, ruling them out as a cause.

Hydraulic engineers from the Michigan Water Resources Commission and experts from the U.S. Geological Survey are to work on the mystery sometime this week.

Although the water cracked the reinforced concrete floor, it has done no structural damage, and apparently is not under any great pressure, Backus said. The floor moves underfoot in places as if it were resting on a sponge, he said. Workmen pump water periodically to keep the water level down and reduce any pressure beneath the floor.

Ex-Wisconsin Governor Dies

Philip La Follette Son of Famed Progressive

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Philip F. La Follette, 66, former governor of Wisconsin, died Wednesday night at Madison General Hospital. He was hospitalized Aug. 3, suffering from a lung infection complicated by pneumonia.

La Follette, son of the late Sen. Robert M. (Fighting Bob) La Follette Sr. and brother of the late Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr., served three terms as the state's chief executive.

He became governor at the age of 33 and served his first term in 1931-32 as a Republican. When new Progressive party was organized in Wisconsin in 1934, he became its first candidate for governor and was elected to two terms, 1935-1939. He lost his bid for a fourth term in 1938 and shortly afterward went into the Army where he spent 34 months in the South Pacific.

But before he entered the service, La Follette was instrumental in the formation of the National Progressive Association. Its purpose was to patch the problems of various liberal groups and bring them together.

A partner in a Madison law firm, he was the uncle of Wisconsin's attorney general, Bronson C. La Follette.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Sunken Cuba Ship Sold

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen has ordered the sale of the former Cuban luxury liner Ciudad de la Habana, which has settled to the bottom of its shallow anchorage in Baltimore harbor.

The liner has been involved in litigation since 1958. Cuba, through the Czechoslovakian ambassador, has fought for custody of the vessel.

LBJ Clears Way for Disaster Relief Funds to 4 Drought-Stricken States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way has been cleared for use of disaster relief funds to help assure water supplies in four northeastern states hard hit by the continued shortage of rainfall.

President Johnson took the necessary preliminary step Wednesday, declaring portions of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware disaster areas. He also ordered specific actions to help North New Jersey and Philadelphia and announced a New York-

Philadelphia agreement to establish a strategic water bank for the two cities.

The disaster declaration covers the New York City area, the four northern counties of New Jersey and the entire Delaware River Basin area. The declaration makes it possible to use disaster relief funds.

To help North New Jersey, the Army Engineers will install an emergency pump-pipeline system at Lake Hopalong and the Interior Department will drill emergency wells in the underground Passaic Lake.

BEING RELOCATED

The Torresdale intake, through which Philadelphia draws its water from the Delaware River, is being relocated so as to make it easier to keep out seawater, which backs into the river when the river flow is abnormally low. Johnson said the relocation will be speeded so as to be completed by Dec. 1.

The New York-Philadelphia water bank, as determined by the Delaware River Basin Commission, will get its reserves from the 200 million gallons of New York reservoir water now released daily into the river to protect Philadelphia from salt water intrusion.

Johnson announced the measures after conferring with the governors of the four states and the mayors of Philadelphia and New York. He said the actions, along with intensified conservation efforts, can meet the emergency. He emphasized conservation especially. "Only if we work together can be overcome the water shortage threat now facing some 25 million citizens in the most populated section of our nation," he said.

If additional actions are needed, Johnson said, "we are prepared to provide an emergency pump-pipeline system from the Passaic Lake wells" for North New Jersey and "to provide an emergency supply system on the Delaware River to insure that the water needs of Philadelphia are met."

As an example of the financial effect of the disaster declaration, Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey said the federal government will pay the entire cost of drilling wells and installing distribution systems in his state — about $200,000 for drilling and $4 million to $5 million for pipelines.

Aluminum, which today is one of our cheapest metals, at one time was very expensive. Only a century ago, a pound of aluminum cost over $500.

Composing Picture Key

By SANDY COLTON
AP Newsfeatures

What is it about a picture that makes it pleasing to the eye? Why are some not pleasing? There may be many reasons but one of the foremost is a thing called composition.

This particularly holds true with photos — views of mountains, the sea or a rural scene.

One method of composing such pictures is known as "the rule of thirds."

To use it, simply divide the picture both vertically and horizontally into thirds by drawing imaginary lines through it so that you wind up with nine equal parts as in our illustration.

Suppose that the picture you want to take is a hay field stretching off to the horizon with a single wagon making its way across it.

To emphasize the hay or foreground of the photo, place the horizon along the top horizontal line you've drawn through the picture so that the bottom two-thirds of the photo features hay.

If you would rather emphasize a cloud-filled sky, place the line along the bottom horizontal line so that the top two-thirds of the photo features sky.

Now you need something to break up the monotony of the field, something for the eye to go to.

AN EYE-CATCHER

Getting back to those lines, this is where the intersections of the horizontal and vertical lines come in — you have four in the picture.

Use one of the intersections, top or bottom, right or left, to place your eye-catcher.

If your picture is a water scene, it could be a boat. In a rural scene it could be a barn. In a mountain scene it might be a tree.

It's important never to divide your picture in half, either vertically or horizontally, by letting a dominant line like the horizon cut the picture right through the middle.

And don't place your eye-catcher in the middle of the picture either. You'll find it more pleasing off center.

In a vertical picture the dominant line might be a road leading off into the distance, a tree or a fence.

Use those lines dividing your picture into thirds as guidelines.

Another technique of adding interest to your photos involves what they call framing.

When you compose your picture, frame it partially or wholly with a doorway, the branches or leaves of a tree or a fence or gate.

You'll find that such framing not only helps set off the main subject, but also creates the illusion of a third dimension.

Speaking of dimensions, remember that a photo has only two — width and height.

There is no depth unless it is created with such illusions. So be careful about your backgrounds.

A ring of lights in a room's background becomes a halo over your subject's head. Branches of a tree or telephone wires in the background can appear to be growing out of his ears.

Watch your background to avoid this.

Another aid to better pictures is called selective focus.

It is used to deliberately throw out of focus that part of the picture which might distract from the central subject, like a bunch of telephone poles in the background.

DEPTH OF FIELD

Most cameras are equipped with a depth of field scale, two sets of f-stops working away from a central point between them, usually written on the lens or focusing knob opposite the distance scale.

This scale tells you how much of your picture will be in sharp focus. You can use it to pick the part you want to be out of focus.

First focus on your subject to get the exact distance it is from you.

To throw the foreground out of focus, move this distance marking to the f-stop you are using on the right or lower foot-age side of the scale.

To throw the background out of focus, set this distance on the left or infinity side of the scale.

Sometimes you may want more or less depth of field.

To increase it, use a smaller aperture and slower speed.

To decrease it use a larger aperture and higher speed.

To maintain the same exposure value during such a change, remember that each time you open the aperture one stop you should double the speed.

Each time you close it down one stop, you should cut the speed in half.

Why not experiment with some of these techniques? Above all, have fun and get good pictures.

Junior Editors Quiz on OCEANS AND SEAS

QUESTION: What is the difference between a sea and an ocean?

ANSWER: The ancient Greeks thought that outside the limits of the known world revolved a vast mysterious body of water, infinite in extent.

The Romans used the word "Oceanus" for this region, and from this comes our "ocean." Because Oceanus was so vast we think of an ocean as a very large body of water.

In reality, except for certain inland seas, all the salt water on earth flows together and we speak of all of it as the ocean. But parts of the ocean lie in different areas, and we also speak of these large divisions as oceans.

Many geographers speak of seven oceans: the Arctic, Antarctic, North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, South Pacific and Indian Oceans. Some do not call the Antarctic a separate ocean, but rather the extreme southern parts of the South Atlantic, South Pacific and Indian Oceans.

A sea usually means a large body of salt water of less extent than an ocean, one partly or wholly surrounded by land, such as the Mediterranean or Caspian Sea.

The words ocean and sea are sometimes used to express the same thing. Bill and his sister Janice have gone to the seashore in our lower picture, but they are looking at ocean waves thundering against the rocks.

FOR YOU TO DO: Open an atlas and check on the names of the big bodies of water. This will help you to understand the difference generally given to the words ocean and sea.

To Keep Firing Balky Rockets

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — Officials of the 16-month-old Athena missile program, with only 11 successes in 22 attempts, hope to fire another 55 Athenas from Utah into New Mexico in the next 16 months.

"We learn by doing," project engineer Jack Marsh said Wednesday at a program briefing.

Project officers said they haven't learned the reason for the most recent failure two weeks ago. The fourth stage of an Athena fired from Green River, Utah, overshot this southern New Mexico range and disappeared in West Texas.

Range safety officer Nathan Wagner said the missile stage apparently disintegrated on re-entry over the El Paso, Tex., area.

The program is a study of missile reentries.

Havana Says Soviets to Aid With Rainfall

MIAAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio says the Soviet Union has agreed to help Cuba make rain. The newscast, monitored here, said the two countries signed a mutual scientific aid agreement which "provides for the cooperation of the Soviet comrades in plans for the Cuban prime minister, Fidel Castro, to produce artificial rain to increase farm production."

Give Contracts for School Job

HOLLY—Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac has been named the general contractor for a 19-room addition to Patterson Elementary School.

With the construction cost some $35,000 above estimates, the school board this week decided to award the contracts for the wing.

Board members held for further study bids on an addition to Davsburg Elementary School, which were nearly 10 per cent higher than expected.

The bids need not be awarded for 30 days and the board will use a portion of that time to review alternative methods of financing the project, according to Schools Supt. Russell B. Hadron.

The Patterson addition will cost $17,464 a square foot to build, while bids on the Davsburg unit indicate a $20.35 per square-foot cost.

BUDGET FIGURE

Budgeted figure for the four-room Davsburg addition is $119,000.

Bundy's bid on the Patterson work, the lowest of four, was $336,000.

The other two contracts for the addition will be awarded to Electrical Maintenance Co. of Orchard Lake, whose $60,562 bid was the lowest of four, and Steve Krucko of Waterford Township, who outbid two other plumbing firms with a $160,256 offer.

The new wing at Patterson, to be completed by the fall of 1966, will add 15 regular classrooms and a multiuse area to the building.

ROOMS INCLUDED

Included in the latter will be two multipurpose rooms, a materials center and office area.

A $775,000 bond issue to finance the construction program was approved by district property owners last December.

It added 2 mills to property taxes here, taking the total to 24.7.

The levy consists of 9 mills for debt retirement and 13.7 for operation, 7 of which are voted extra.

The school board Tuesday established a $1,170,792 budget for 1965-66.

The increase over last year's $1,018,586 figure reflects the addition of about six new teachers to the faculty, teachers' raises and a capital improvement program which will include the repair of all school roofs.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES — Sept. 31 has been set as the completion date for Holley Computer Products, a subsidiary of Control Data Corp. The $1 million, 60,000-square foot plant is being built at the corner of Rochester and East Twicken, Rochester. The company will initially employ about 350 persons. It is expected to increase to about 500 when future additions are built.

Case May Be Cracked With Help of Eggs

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Eggs and the deductive abilities of a township police officer led to the arrest yesterday of two township youths on charges of stealing a car.

The two boys, Bryan L. Schuette, 45692 Cornwall and Frank B. Kershaw, 46239 Huling, both 17, stood mute at their arraignment yesterday. Examination was set for Sept. 1.

The boys were picked up Tuesday night for throwing eggs at a teacher's car.

Officer Kenneth Stevens, who along with Officer David Miller, arrested the boys remembered that a car stolen last April 30 and abandoned, had been found full of eggs.

The boys were charged with stealing the car on April 30.

Bible School Put On by Rochester Church

ROCHESTER — The First Baptist Church, 491 Walnut is conducting a Daily Vacation Bible School for two weeks, until Aug. 27.

It meets daily from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The Vacation Bible School is for youngsters five years or older. Three bus routes are in operation. Parents may call the church for more information.

On Shelby Subdivision Developers Granted Extension

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Developers of Lake Arrowhead Subdivision at 25 Mile and Jewell have until Nov. 1 to complete the first portion of a subdivision they were to have started in 1957.

Then they have until July 1, 1967, to complete the second portion.

The Township Board granted the extension Tuesday night as an amendment to a court decree which ordered the developers to finish the subdivision.

In 1957, a subdivision and man-made lake were proposed for the area.

Residents began to complain, however, when it appeared that gravel was being taken out of the section with no signs of any building. They contended that it was a gravel mining operation.

COURT ORDER

The township issued a stop order and the developers took it to court. The court ordered that the subdivision be developed as planned in 1957.

Township Clerk Mrs. Mae Stecker said the developers are now working on the subdivision but not progressing as fast as had been anticipated.

Teens Demand Robbery Exam

Two Rochester Youths Charged in Attack

ROME — Two 18-year-old Rochester boys demanded examination at their arraignment yesterday on charges of unarmed robbery.

Calvin Spent and his twin brother, Clyde, both of 340 E. Third, and John McDonald, 815 Ludlow, all of Rochester, were arrested early yesterday by Romeo State Police for allegedly attempting to steal money from four Ferndale boys.

Charges against Clyde Spent were dropped.

Police have a warrant out for a William Spencer, 22, whose address is unknown.

Police said the four Ferndale boys, Ronald Prowse, Jerry Williams, Kenneth Thompson and Gerald Greenleaf, apparently became lost Tuesday night in the Lakeville area and asked directions of the Rochester youths, who offered to show them the way back to Ferndale.

WERE ATTACKED

They said two of the Ferndale boys were attacked with a beer bottle when it was learned they were carrying about $200.

Thompson and Greenleaf were treated for facial lacerations at Almont Community Hospital.

Examination for Spent and McDonald was set for Aug. 26.

Water Plan Details Due

KEEGO HARBOR — The public will receive information tonight on the proposed program which will bring Detroit water to Keego Harbor.

Details of the $700,000 project and the financing for it will be explained by city officials and representatives of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Roosevelt Elementary School.

Supervisors Act on Allen Airport

ORION TOWNSHIP — Any rumors that Oakland County has lost interest in developing Allen Airport were at least temporarily dispelled yesterday.

Holding its first meeting in three months, the aviation committee of the County Board of Supervisors took initial action on two airport improvement measures.

First, it went on record as objecting to the height of a nearby privately-owned radio tower and agreed to take steps to have the tower reduced from its present 228-foot height to 150 feet.

Secondly, the committee endorsed county participation with matching federal funds in an estimated $100,000 project to blacktop the 2,500-foot north-south runway in 1967.

Committee members termed the radio tower, located 6,700 feet southeast of the center of the airport, a hazard.

RECOMMENDED

Its reduction to 150 feet was recommended by representatives of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics who were present at yesterday's meeting.

Both William E. Hamlen, planning engineer for the state agency, and James R. Capt, zoning engineer, suggested the 150-foot maximum.

The tower, owned by the Clawson Transit Mkt Co., is used in transmitting radio dispatches to the firm's trucks.

Committee members said the firm has not yet been notified of the objection to the height of the tower.

FORMAL REQUEST

Oakland County's formal request to participate in the 1967 Federal All Airport Program must clear the board of supervisors by the Oct. 1 deadline.

The county's share of the $100,000 estimated cost would be $25,000, with the state also paying one quarter of the cost and the federal government paying one-half.

Negotiations between the county and City of Pontiac over the possible sale of Pontiac Municipal Airport to the county still are pending.

The county has ordered an audit of the city airport operation which is expected to be in report form in about a week.

An unanswered question is whether the county will buy and develop the city airport, develop the Allen Airport or eventually utilize both facilities.

Homecoming Set at Brandon Church

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The annual Seymour Lake homecoming will be held Aug. 21 at the Seymour Lake Methodist Church.

The principal speaker will be former resident Mrs. Raymond Whilman of Lansing.

The program will get under way at noon with a dinner, to be served by the church Women's Society of Christian Service.

Oxford poet Stillman Elwell will present some of his verses and vocal music will be provided by Mrs. John Cook of Clarkston and Sandra Miller of Seymour Lake.

Class of 1955 Plans Clarkston Reunion

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston High School Class of 1955 will hold a reunion at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at K-Falls Lounge and Restaurant on Miller Road. Dancing will be featured with Jack Miller and his musical group.

WAYNE N. MCCANDLESS

Two Arraigned in Holly Fight

HOLLY — Two young men were arraigned yesterday on charges resulting from a fight in which a Holly policeman sustained a broken leg.

Phillip M. McLaughlin, 21, is charged with resisting an officer and destruction of village property.

His brother William J., 19, is charged with resisting an officer.

The youths, who live at 118 College, demanded examination before Springfield Township Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib.

Holly police said the fight started about 2 a.m. yesterday when reserve officers John Kister and Jerry Frank attempted to arrest Phillip McLaughlin for being drunk and disorderly on Corbin Street.

LEG BROKEN

Kister's leg was broken in the melee.

Police also allege that Phillip kicked the side of the patrol car, causing an estimated $71 worth of damage.

The two men are being held in Oakland County Jail. Phillip on a $1,500 bond and William on one for $500.

Their preliminary hearing before Leib was set for Aug. 24.

Lions Clubs Set Meeting

AVON TOWNSHIP — Some 80 Lions Club members and their wives from Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Leader Dogs for the Blind School, 1000 Rochester.

Leading the discussion of the tricentennial program for the coming year will be Wayne N. McCandless of Waterford Township, recently elected district president.

Officers and counselors from 56 Lions clubs in the district, representing 2,150 members, are expected to attend the meeting.

Supremes, Hullabaloo Gang Listed Among State Fair Shows

Shows by top stars of the entertainment world will be featured at the Michigan State Fair again this year.

They'll all be free to State Fair visitors.

Music and fun will be the keynotes in the Music Shell and on stage in front of the grandstand.

The first Music Shell show will be at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 27, the first evening of the fair, with the nationally-known Serendipity Singers on stage.

That group also will present shows from Aug. 28, through Sept. 1, at 3, 5:30, and 8:30 p.m. daily.

HULLABALOO GANG

NBC television's Hullabaloo gang will be on hand for shows at 4, 7 and 9:30 p.m. each day from Saturday through Wednesday. Singing and dancing stars of the show include Johnny Rivers, the Four Tops, Lesley Gore, Tony Clarke and the Hullabaloo Dancers.

They'll feature all the latest and most popular dances such as the Watusi, swim, pony, and frog.

On Sept. 2, a new crew of entertainers will come into the music shell.

The Supremes, Detroit's own singing group which has become internationally famous, will take the stage at 2, 4:30, and 9 p.m. on Thursday; at 2:30, 5, and 9 Friday through Sunday; and at 3, 5:30, and 9 on Labor Day.

JACK JONES DUE

Jack Jones and the Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra, will also be on hand those days. They'll go on at 3:30, 6, and 10 Thursday through Sunday, and at 4, 7 and 10 on Labor Day.

Other Music Shell entertainment will include Honors Band concerts and the Miss Michigan State Fair Contest.

In the Coliseum, a long list of amateur, semiprofessional and professional entertainers will be on hand.

Meanwhile, in front of the grandstand, the Barnes and Carruthers Circus, featuring 15 acts, will be presented three times daily from Aug. 28 through Sept. 3. The circus, too, is free to State Fair visitors.

For Old Times' Sake . . . 3 Day Summer Sale At Rose Jewelers

Yes, it's a good many years ago since we opened our first store—forty-three years, in fact. Exciting years, fascinating years. Years made full with the building of countless thousands of friendships. Chances are we knew your grandparents when your Dad and Mom were children. Now, it's your generation. We know so very many of you that we feel like a family institution. We're 43 years old now (and 10 stores with an eleven new opening soon) and it's a time for celebration. SOUTH TELEGRAPH AT SQUARE LAKE ROAD

Malaysian in Emergency Borneo Trip

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — Malaysia's prime minister, Tun Abdul Rahman, made an emergency trip to Malaysian Borneo today amid reports of mounting political unrest there following the break between Singapore and the Malaysian federation.

The prime minister flew to Sarawak, one of Malaysia's two Borneo states, and was also expected to visit the other, Sabah. Rahman announced last week he would send Deputy Premier Tun Abdul Razak to Borneo to explain the Singapore separation and go himself later. However, this had not been expected to take place before the Aug. 31 celebration of Malaysia's second anniversary.

The urgency was underlined by Rahman's departure on the day the sultans of the nine Malay states were electing a new king of the federation. The prime minister had been scheduled to announce the results of the secret royal balloting.

REEXAMINATION

Reports from Borneo said the Sabah state government has decided to study the possibility of reexamining the present Malaysian arrangement.

Sabah leaders were reported resentful that they were not consulted about Rahman's decision to force Singapore out of the federation.

Sarawak's big antifederation faction, the Sarawak United Peoples party, has raised a claim.

See Story, Page C-16

mor for a plebiscite or referendum to determine the popular feeling regarding Malaysia. This group has revived a proposal to form a new Borneo grouping that would include the neighboring British protectorate of Brunei.

There have been persistent reports in Kuala Lumpur that Brunei is seeking entry into Malaysia, but possibly as the controlling unit in a united Borneo loosely linked with mainland Malaya, the core of the present federation.

"DOOR IS OPEN"

Rahman has denied any such negotiations with Brunei are taking place, but he has emphasized "the door is open" for the oil-rich sultanate to come in.

Brunei originally was slated to become part of Malaysia but the sultan of Brunei decided against it because of differences over financial and political details.

There is a feeling in political circles here that bringing Brunei into the federation would help cushion the political effects of Singapore's departure, even if it meant loosening federal ties.

In Singapore, meanwhile, usually reliable sources said an advance party of troops from the Singapore regiment's 2nd battalion left Wednesday for Borneo and the rest of the battalion would follow.

The sources said the troops would join in protection of Sabah from Indonesian infiltrators, an action that could adversely affect the chances of Indonesia recognizing Singapore and resuming trade with it.

Treatment Center for Addicts Has No Home Yet

NEW YORK (AP) — A treatment center for young narcotics addicts run by a Protestant Episcopal priest was still without a home today.

An expected move into a store loft in Astoria, Queens, Wednesday was canceled because of telephone threats to the owner, said the Rev. W. L. Damian Pithcaithly, Anonymous callers said the building would be burned.

"We are witnessing a cruel campaign by a small faction of narcotics bigots who are seeking to drive us out of Astor through the use of Ku Klux Klan tactics," said.

The center has been without a home since the priest moved it from the rectory of St. George's, Episcopal church two weeks ago.

He resigned as rector of the church June 1 after operation of the center estranged him from the congregation.

Amendment Approved by Missouri Voters

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Missouri voters have approved by a wide margin a constitutional amendment which allows a governor to succeed himself.

The first governor who could benefit from it is Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, 42, a Democrat, who sponsored the measure.

Thom McAn knows when not to sell shoes

When the wrong length means poor arch support

When the width cramps

When the ball of the shoe doesn't match the ball of the foot

When the back slips, pinches or rubs

When there's not enough grow room

We would rather lose the sale than sell your children shoes that fit incorrectly. Which is why Thom McAn salesmen carefully measure for the right length and width, make sure the ball of the shoe exactly matches the ball of the foot, check for a sure snug heel, allow for proper grow room.

These five steps guarantee that young active feet will get more than enough support and comfort to grow in. You get the Five-Way Fit Certificate signed in your presence as proof that the shoes have passed all five fitting steps with honors. So never wonder if the shoes you're buying for your children are right—we just wouldn't sell them to you if they weren't. Boys' and girls' shoes—$4 to $7.

Kelley Rules in Drug Case

Board Can Use All SuperX Chain Facts

LANSING (AP) — Attl. Gen. Frank Kelley today ruled that the State Board of Pharmacy may consider all the facts in the SuperX drugstore case up to the date of its hearing to determine if the drug chain should be allowed a pharmacy license.

The company, a subsidiary of the Kroger supermarket chain, has been fighting in the courts for a license for more than two years. If the license were granted to its Battle Creek store, it would automatically apply to its branches across the state.

The State Supreme Court in May ordered the case back to the State Pharmacy Board for a decision. This broke a stalemate and confusion about the two opposing Supreme Court decisions on the issue.

Richard Wilson, president of the pharmacy board, said inspectors making a routine check of the SuperX store in Battle Creek last month found the store open with no registered pharmacist on duty. Wilson said this was an apparent violation of the pharmacy act.

OPERATING

The Battle Creek store was allowed by the Supreme Court to operate a pharmacy until the issue is settled.

Wilson asked Kelley if a report of this inspection could be considered at the administrative hearing on the matter.

Kelley ruled that no restriction was placed upon the board by the court as to the period of time which could be covered by an administrative hearing.

"Therefore," he said, "the board may in its discretion consider at an administrative hearing any or all the facts concerning the applicant SuperX up to the date of the hearing."

DENIED LICENSE

The store originally was denied a pharmacy license by the pharmacy board because of a state law which says a majority ownership of a pharmacy must be registered pharmacists.

The chain claimed exemption under the so-called "grandfather clause" in the law, which exempts stores in existence before the law took effect. The chain brought out the Battle Creek Pharmacy, which it said fulfilled this requirement.

Only One in State as Chief

Negro Heads Dowagiac Police

DOWAGIAC (AP) — George Grady, Dowagiac's new police chief, is a Negro in charge of an all-white force who says "I was determined to work as hard as I could and go as high as I could."

"But I never dreamed I'd become chief," said the 32-year-old Grady, a 10-year veteran of the force who served as acting police chief for 11 months.

His appointment was made permanent Monday night by city manager Edward Simmans. "After observing George, I felt that he was extremely competent and able," Simmans said. "His men have a lot of respect for him."

SOLE DISTINCTION

The Michigan Association of Police Chiefs says Grady is the only member of his race serving a Michigan community as chief of police, although Royal Oak Township has a Negro as director of public safety.

"I've had calls from such places as Grand Rapids and Detroit from people I don't even know who congratulated me on the appointment," Grady said. "One caller said 'You don't know me and I don't know you, but congratulations.'"

Married and the father of three children, Grady became a sergeant on the eight-man Dowagiac force in 1959. He won a citation from the Michigan Law Enforcement Blockade Committee for apprehending an armed suspect in a Niles shooting. The Dowagiac Exchange Club named him Dowagiac police officer of the year in 1962.

EX-COUNCILMAN

Grady is the son of Glenn Grady, a former city councilman who represents this community of 7,800 persons as a member of the Cass County Board of Supervisors.

A native of Dowagiac, Grady left high school in 1950 before graduating and joined the U.S. Navy. He received his high school diploma by completing Navy courses and won three citations as a Navy deep sea diver.

Grady joined the city police force upon return from military service.

He attended a command officer's course at University of Michigan and seminars in police administration.

ACTING BASIS

He moved into office on an acting basis to succeed former chief Richard Wild who resigned in September, 1964, for a similar post at Portage.

The Dowagiac force includes eight full-time officers and three radio operators and is augmented by merchant police and special reserves.

Grady long has been known as one of the area's best investigative officers. His most difficult task in taking over as Dowagiac chief, he said, was the administrative work of making up the department's budget last year.

"But," Grady said, "there has been very good cooperation from other city personnel—I'm very proud to have this job."

Toyko's Leftist-Dominated Assembly Demands U.S. Quit Viet

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's new leftist-dominated metropolitan assembly adopted a resolution Wednesday night demanding that the United States get out of Viet Nam.

Only the pro-Western Liberal Democrats, who control 38 of the assembly's 120 seats, voted against the resolution. It also demanded that the government deny the use of bases in Japan and Okinawa for U.S. air attacks on Viet Nam.

Another resolution opposed the ratification of the treaty normalizing relations between Japan and South Korea.

LONDON (AP) — Britain should have a foreign trade surplus by the end of next year but it will probably be accompanied by a rise in unemployment of one per cent of more, the National Institute of Economic and Social Research said today.

The institute's quarterly economic review said the Labor government's austerity measures designed to stem the 1964 trade deficit of more than $2 billion appear to be succeeding. But it said the restrictions on credit and investment will cause production to "flatten out" in 1966 with a consequent rise in unemployment.

The report said Britain has enough reserves to withstand any further attacks on the pound like the one that began shortly after the Labor government took office last Oct. 16.

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan of Nationalist China returned to Taiwan today after an eight-day official visit to Japan. Newspaper columnists and other political observers generally felt his visit strengthened relations between the two nations but did not convince the Japanese government it should cut back the growing trade with Communist China.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Heavy rains and floods that have battered west-central Mexico for more than three weeks eased today, leaving damage in the millions and at least 11 dead. Thousands were homeless. Crop damage was estimated at almost $6 million.

Hardest hit were the states of Michoacan, Jalisco, Guanajuato and Nayarit. The rivers began flooding three weeks ago after heavy rains in July. At one point, 60,000 persons were reported driven from their homes. Most of the deaths occurred during early stages of the floods. TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Mary broke up against the mountains in Formosa today after killing at least four persons and injuring 71 others. Eight persons were missing, police said.

Soviets: U.S. Plan to Halt N-Arms Spread Is a Waste

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia said today discussion of the treaty proposed by the United States to check the spread of nuclear weapons "would be a waste of breath."

"The treaty makes it possible for West Germany and others to get access to nuclear weapons through a Western nuclear force," Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin told newsmen.

"Before there can be discussions, there must be agreement in principle that no other nations can get access to nuclear weapons through such a force."

"Such discussions would otherwise be a waste of breath," Tsarapkin said that by "access" he means "the whole complex of nuclear sharing."

N-STRATEGY
"Not the right to fire nuclear weapons alone, but sharing nuclear strategy, nuclear training, contact in any form with nuclear weapons, and so on," he said.

"The draft treaty does not prevent this, therefore it is not a basis for negotiations."

Chalfont was the only speaker at today's session of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Tsarapkin made his remarks to newsmen in the corridor after the session.

Besides asking Tsarapkin to spell out what he means by "access" to nuclear weapons in a NATO nuclear force, British negotiator Lord Chalfont warned the world it is "quickly and perhaps irrevocably" passing the point at which the spread of nuclear arms can be stopped.

DRAFT TREATY
He said no nation — especially the Soviet Union — is justified in rejecting America's draft treaty on nuclear nonproliferation as a basis for negotiations.

He said Britain gives the draft treaty "full support" despite believing it contains a weakness over the question of control of nuclear weapons.

But he added "it would be a miracle if (the draft treaty) were flawless."

The question of control has caused considerable friction between the U.S. and Britain at the conference.

N. M. Collision Kills 3, Including State Couple

HAGERMAN, N. M. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Filipiak of Wyandotte, Mich., and Mrs. Louise Pettigrew of Clovis were killed Wednesday in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 285 near Hagerman, state police said. Filipiak was chief prosecutor for the Steel Corp.'s Trenton, Mich., plant, police said.

The automatic weapons were possessed illegally, officers said.

TRIP POSTPONED
Johnson was to have visited Corpus Christi Oct. 18 but his trip was postponed because of the press of other duties. Sheriff's officers said they first feared a possible plot against the President's life after they received a tip about the gun collection. They later said there was no plot.

Object Seen in State Skies by Residents

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Residents and officials agencies in northwestern Lower Michigan sought an explanation today for reportedly confirmed sightings of an unidentified flying object.

Richard Talmay of Flatte Lake called state police here Wednesday night to report sighting the unidentified flying object very high over his area. He said it was traveling in an erratic, but general, northeasterly direction at varying speeds and light intensity and changing from red to green in color.

Grand Traverse, Antrim and Benzie County Sheriff's Department patrols also said they saw the object.

Officers said the Air Force radar station at Empire told the state police post here later that it also had the object in view.

DETAILS LACKING
There was no immediate word on whether it was a radar or visual sighting. The Wednesday night sighting followed one reported Tuesday night by Mark Nelson and eight companions at Aiken. They said they telephoned the Coast Guard air station at Traverse City which took their report without comment.

'Fawning' After Drug
MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — A pair of fawns named "Saturday" and "Sunday" have been born to deer at the Bellevue Zoo. The two mothers and the father which sired both fawns had been given hormone treatment.

Recommend Rezoning Bid Be Refused

The Pontiac Planning Commission recommended last night that a request to rezone one lot on the west side of Auburn near East Boulevard be denied.

The action came at a special meeting of the commission.

The owner of the lot Glenn LaLone, 1745 Walden, Orion Township, asked that the property be rezoned commercial to allow construction of a drive-in restaurant.

The commission said it will recommend denial because area residents are against the change and the added traffic would not be desirable.

In other action last night, the commission said it will recommend approval of a request to rezone 28,000 square feet of property on the northwest side of Mount Clemens, south of Stirling.

Arthur Law, 27 Miami, owner of the property, said he wanted the zone changed from Residential-2 to Residential-3 to permit him to build a small apartment building.

Car Skids Into Tree, Injuring Four Teens

Four teenagers were injured at about 3:45 a.m. today when the car in which they were riding skidded on Oakwood in Brandon Township and struck a tree.

Joyce Stokes, 8, of Flint and Linda Bruner, 18, of Grand Blanc are both listed in satisfactory condition at the Wheelock Memorial Hospital in Goodrich.

The driver of the car, Craig Young, 18, and a third passenger, Bernard Leonard, 19, both of Flint, were treated at the hospital and released.

Toast to the Post

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's public houses will soon be selling postage stamps along with pints of beer. The GPO yesterday lifted its previous ban on the sale of stamps in public houses selling intoxicating liquors.

We Watch-um Tree Until Fire No See

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A lightning-driven giant Sequoia that was 1,000 years old when Christ was born has a guard of two Indians today, employed by the U.S. government and paid together $4.98 an hour. Old Solo, the giant's nickname, is 3,000 years old, 54 feet in circumference and one of the oldest and largest living things on earth. Old Solo is 292 feet tall.

It towers on a lonely peak in Sequoia National Forest, east of Porterville. It was hit by lightning last week at the 120-foot level and a fire started that still smolders.

The Indians will be on the payroll until the fire either goes out by itself or is doused by storms. Snow flies early in the Sierras.

PITCH A TENT
The Indians, Al Peyron and Sonny James, pitched a tent beneath the giant and are watching for changes in the fire and fallen embers. They are on a 5-day week, 8-hour day.

The government is going through all the trouble and expense because Old Solo is one of the irreplaceable attractions of the forest.

Fire fighters have used specially treated water on the fire and bombed it with liquid from helicopters.

The fire is too high for ground attack and too low for the helicopters.

FLYING ARROW
Rangers even tried to shoot a line through the branches with a bow and arrow to guide a hose.

Ben Lyons, fire control officer, said he hopes rain or snow will save the ancient sentinel.

Peyron, a Forest Service firefighter, who is half-Yukon Indian, gets a base wage of $2.61 an hour. James, a full-blooded Yukon, gets $2.37 an hour. Both are in their 20s, unmarried and live on the nearby Tule River Reservation.

Rangers will get supplies to Drop Charge in Car Death

The charge of negligent homicide against a Pontiac man was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Arthur Kohn, 20, of 2433 Auburn was charged in connection with the auto death of a pedestrian, Mrs. James Brennan, 62, of 676 Homestead, on June 25.

Judge McCallum said at the examination yesterday he could find no evidence of negligence on the part of Kohn, the driver.

Hospitalize Boy, 2, Hit by Car in City

A 2-year-old Pontiac boy is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being struck by a car yesterday at 1:20 p.m. while crossing White-more, near his home.

David Hardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hardin, 170 Whittemore, was struck by a car driven by Eddie Anderson, 54, of 462 Bartlett.

Anderson told Pontiac police that he did not see the child prior to the accident.

Church OKs 'Bombing'

ARMITAGE, England (UPI) — Smoke bombs are being placed in the wooden pipes of the 175-year-old organ at the parish church in an effort to drive out woodworm. Disinfecting the instrument for chemical treatment would have cost $2,800.

Hairpieces Come to the Fore

Women Be-Headed in Style

By JEANNE NELSON
Wigs and hairpieces have come into their own at a heady pace.

No longer are they considered just a whimsical luxury for the wealthy or a dire necessity for cases of baldness.

Today's fair lady, because of the active life she leads, has all but made the wig business skyrocket in the past four years.

What kind of women buy hairpieces?
Every kind, and from everywhere in the nation.

PRICELESS

Executives' wives who must dash from an afternoon bridge and pool party to a command performance dinner find them priceless. Career girls by the score, who Watusied at the neighborhood A - go - go till dawn, bless them for the sake of rollerless sleep.

And the blondes who have so much fun they don't have time for a touchup job think they're the greatest.

Naturally there are the unfortunate cases too: victims of disease who have lost their hair either through the sickness itself or the treatment and bedridden patients. The list is endless.

KNOW YOUR NEED

If you have considered buying some kind of hairpiece, here is the first rule to guide you in that purchase. "KNOW WHAT YOUR PARTICULAR NEED IS."

Do you want a full wig? Or just some kind of "extra" such as a wiglet, switch, pouff or pony tail, that will change or enhance your present coiff?

Will you be giving your hairpiece lots of use or just occasional use? Do you want your appearance changed drastically (perhaps with a different color or length) or do you wish to remain the same so that no one knows?

HAND TIED

It is because of the vast differences in hairpieces and the variety of characteristics in their structure, that accounts for the price differences.

Let's start with the most expensive full wig made of 100 per cent human hair. It runs anywhere from $250 up, and features the following: custom-made cap, natural and custom blended color, hand tied to cap, and made always from hair of very young European or American girls.

The second most expensive features the same hair as above and is hand sewn into a mesh cap but is not custom-made. With this hairpiece, the wig has already been made and the customer is then fitted to the wig rather than the other way around.

ORIENTAL HAIR

Another hand sewn wig is one made with hair from the Orient. This type is considerably cheaper mainly because of the hair itself. In many cases, the texture of the hair, its dark color, which wig makers bleach and the processes by which it is treated, adds to its coarseness. To alleviate this, the wig is coated with a plastic to make it appear softer and more supple. However, after several cleanings the plastic will wear off and the texture of the hair will be as luxuriant as before.

MACHINE MADE

The machine made wigs are next. These again are made for the most part of Oriental hair although a few are made from European hair.

With the machine stitching you will find that the cap is much heavier than that of the hand sewn. Also (and this is very important) the machine stitched hairpieces are sewn in a circular fashion which means that the hair cannot always be parted to let the hair fall naturally.

NOT HAIR AT ALL

Now for the synthetics. There is a new synthetic wig available at this writing that actually looks and feels very much like real hair. Its makers, the Reid-Meredith Company, claim its care needs nothing more than a sudsing in a cold water soap. The most advantageous characteristic of this one is its supposed ability to retain the original wave so that only a comb and brush are necessary to restyle it after it has dried.

Clearly, not every woman is adept at styling. However, to have it restyled or combed at the store where it was purchased is about one quarter of the price involved in the setting of a human hair wig at the beauty salon.

Everything above that has been said of wigs also applies to the smaller hairpieces.

CARE AND TREATMENT

Now we will talk about care. It would be most foolhardy to spend money for a lovely hairpiece and not care for it properly. You must have a head block. Not only does this block preserve the styling but is essential in keeping the cap true in shape and size.

Remember always to insist upon the block being your own exact head size. The box, (and these are quite attractive) is a great help in keeping your wig clean when not in use.

When you take your wig to the beauty shop to be cleaned and set, take it somewhere that is recommended for its work with wigs. Many a hairpiece has been ruined by an operator who is not qualified in wig setting.

When you are thinking about a new cut and style, have the cutting done gradually. Remember it doesn't grow back. Experiment with different settings until you find one that feels and looks natural on you.

TENDER CARE

The life of your wig depends on the care it receives. It must be handled with as much care as a precious fur.

George Ann Skurtu of Birmingham, another helper in the workrooms of "Victoria's" is making a chignon or pouff here. The hair is strung on thread first and will then be woven into a small base. These extra hairpieces, like "little furs" have fast become an important accessory in the wardrobe of today's woman.

Proper Food to Serve at Brunch

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I would like to invite several couples for Sunday brunch. Will you please suggest what kind of food to serve?

A: At a brunch a combination of breakfast and lunch dishes are served. For example: a platter of scrambled eggs surrounded with bacon or little sausages, accompanied by hot rolls or toast, and sautéed potatoes and broiled tomatoes.

Or waffles to be covered with maple syrup, or with creamed chicken by those who prefer a heartier meal. Don't forget fruit juice and pots of hot coffee.

PALMBEARERS

Q: My husband's brother died recently and my sister-in-law asked my husband plus his three other brothers to be palmbearers at the funeral.

I never heard of members of the deceased's family acting as palmbearers and I think it was not only wrong but terribly trying on the brothers.

Wasn't this procedure highly irregular?
A: You are quite right. Palmbearers are always chosen from among the best friends, business or political associates of the deceased — never from the immediate family.

TIPPING

Q: I plan to take a vacation trip to the West Coast by train (Pullman accommodations).

Will you please tell me the proper amount to tip the pullman porter and the dining car waiters?

A: Dining car waiters are tipped exactly as waiters are in any restaurant — fifteen per cent of the bill, and never less than a quarter.

The pullman porter receives fifty cents to one dollar on an overnight trip — more if he has given service in addition to making up the berth.

How and when to make introductions seems to trouble many people. The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Introductions" gives information on this subject. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Victoria Gotsha of "Victoria's" in Birmingham, is a leading wigmaker in this area. She does many of the repairs on wigs for the surrounding beauty salons, and is one of the few wigmakers in the Detroit area. Shown here standing, Mrs. Gotsha supervises an employee, Sue Gagnon of Birmingham while Miss Gagnon hand knots the hair into place on a mesh cap. Although Mrs. Gotsha's work is handled mainly through beauty salons, she still has some special customers, mostly show business people, who call for her services. She started her career in Hollywood, Calif., working for many years on wigs for movie stars.

Class of '45 Sets Reunion

Pontiac Central High School's June and January 1945 graduation classes plan a 20-year reunion Oct. 2 at Airway Lanes on Highland Road. The affair will begin at 7 p.m.

Smorgasbord and "surprises" planned by the program committee are on the evening's agenda.

Class members have asked that any information as to the whereabouts of graduates be mailed to Post Office Box 73, Clarkston, Michigan. A few former classmates have not been located.

Beauty Contest Shuns Swim Suit

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—It's one beauty contest without a bathing suit category.

The people who run the event don't ask whether she's 35, 24, 35, or even close to those measurements.

NO PRIZES

As a winner, she cops no returns in cash, cars, movie and television contracts or scholarships. She makes so few in-person appearances that compared with Miss America or Miss Universe on tour, she's a recluse.

Yet she's one of the best known of all those who enter such competitions. Each month, more than four and one-half million persons see her picture smiling at them from photographs.

She's Miss Subways, the pimp girl of New York's underground transit system, and this month she's observing her 25th anniversary.

There have been 138 queens of the turnstiles in those 25 years. The first one, in 1941, was Mona Freeman who went on to stardom in Hollywood.

BRUNETTE REIGNS

The current Miss Subways is brunet Rosealind Cincini, 22, the daughter of a Bronx postal employee. Miss Cincini was a typist with ABC when she was chosen, and since has found modeling assignments.

The contest is administered by the New York Subways Advertising Co., Inc. (NYSA), managers of advertising in the 6,600 cars and 47 stations of the metropolitan subway system. Today, NYSA said, from 200 to 300 young women enter the contest every six months.

Contestants must be subway riders and are chosen by their fellow straphangers. The entries are at least 17 years old, may be single or married, but may not be full-time professional models, actresses or entertainers.

TYPICAL GAL

The contest manager, Bernard F. Spaulding, said the accent is on the "typical" white collar type — the secretary, the clerk, the salesgirl, the airlines stewardess, the teacher, college girl, the receptionist, the girl ambitious for breaking into modeling or acting.

She sends in a photograph (not in bathing suit) with biographical sketch. And from the photographs, usually candid, and accompanying letters, a committee at NYSA chooses 25 semi-finalists for interviews.

FIELD OF 6

Then, the field is narrowed to six who are photographed professionally and whose pictures appear on subway cards for one month to "meet" those who will vote for them by postcard. The two receiving the most votes reign consecutively, each for about two and one-half months.

Official duties of Miss Subways are few. She may help to christen a new train, later she helped open the express route to the World's Fair, or appear at a charity benefit.

Telephone calls and letters to NYSA come from men wanting to meet the miss. The answer is a firm no to such requests. The rule held even during World War II when a petition arrived — signed by 400 men.

"LaPerruque, C'est bonne!" So says Leon, Parisian hairdresser of Leon and Merin Beauty Salon, Birmingham. And he is one who knows if "The wig, it is good" since he and his brother own and operate their own wig factory near Paris, France. His wig setting business runs a close second to regular coiff designs and many of his customers prevail upon him to create three or four hairpieces to enhance their looks.

Scribbling Isn't Always Handwriting on the Wall

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When my husband, our 12-year-old son and I were traveling abroad this summer, we saw a crudely scribbled message on a wall which said, "Yankee, Go Home!"

Our son loves his country, Abby, and he took it very hard. How do you explain this to a 12-year-old?

A CONNECTICUT YANKEE

DEAR YANKEE: Tell your boy that one person cannot speak for an entire nation. I recently saw a "crudely scribbled message" on a building in Saigon. It said, "Yankee, Go Home — And Take Me With You."

DEAR ABBY: "Bugged" could have been my husband. He complained that his wife called him all the time asking him to stop on the way home and pick up a loaf of bread, or to swing around at the cleaners and bring home the cleaning, or stop at the shoe repair shop and pick up her shoes.

I used to do that when we were first married and was my guy ever bugged! It did cure him of a few bad habits, however.

They were: Not leaving enough gas in my car (after he had driven it) for me to get to a filling station.

CURED HIM

Not leaving me enough cash to buy all the items I needed at the grocery or drug store.

Not telling me we were going out that evening in time for me to pick up the cleaning, and to get my shoes from the repair shop.

Donna Scholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scholtz, Illinois Avenue, recently left on a year's teaching assignment in Germany.

Personal News Notes

Recently returned from a month long tour of the West are the J. L. Van Wagons of Andersons Road. Among their stops were Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park.

The Van Wagons also hosted an outdoor dinner meeting at the Russell Lions Club at their home last evening.

Mrs. W. H. Eames of Ottawa Drive will return today from a two week vacation at Lost Lake Woods.

Carol Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Harris of Fourth Street, recently returned from Germany where she spent the summer with a German family.

Former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marion of Clearwater, Fla. are visiting their son and daughter-in-law, the Russell Marions of Bloomfield Terrace. They will return to Clearwater in September.

The Daniel R. Colemans of Harper Woods will host a dinner in the Waldron Hotel Friday following the rehearsal for the marriage of their son, Robert, to Sandra Hilderley. She is the daughter of the William S. Hilderleys of Joy Road.

Rev. Galen E. Hershey will perform the Saturday afternoon ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church.

Connie Crozier has resigned her position in San Francisco and has returned to the home town to pick up Mr. Harold C. Crozier on South Tilden Avenue.

Respecting Child's Fantasy Isn't Easy

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My mother is terrified of mice. My 3-year-old girl and I were visiting her recently when she saw one in her kitchen. I am sure that her excitement over this accounts for our present problem. Every night at bedtime the child insists there's a mouse in her bed.

We've done everything we can think of to convince her that this is impossible. She screams and cries.

ANSWER: You know what child psychologists say about these imaginary bedtime creatures, don't you?

They say that these scary creatures represent the child's fear of some dangerous feeling in himself, often resentment at us.

They say he's so scared of the feeling that he tries to disown it by pushing it down of himself into the form of witches, tigers, snakes, etc.

I think they're right. It is because the imaginary creature represents a real feeling that we can't get rid of it by insisting it doesn't exist.

The more you insist that this mouse in your child's bed does not exist, the more you're going to upset her.

As the symbol substituted for some probable and threatening resentment at you, the mouse DOES exist. And your little girl can do only one thing with your refusals to accept it.

That is to interpret these refusals as refusals to accept her probable resentment of you.

I suggest that you get a friendly cat. At bedtime, install this real creature in your little girl's bedroom as protection against the unreal creature.

In other words, you have to operate with one foot in her symbolic world and with the other one in the world of reality.

I know a highly intelligent little boy who began to be harassed by a huge black bear at bedtime.

For weeks everyone tried to make the impossibility of its existence clear to him. Losing all patience with his mother, finally he yelled, "What's the matter with you? I'm not talking about a REAL bear!"

With that clue she accepted the big black bear's existence and the existence of the anger at her it represented. She gave him a jar of honey to keep beside his bed and said, "You give this bear of yours some honey to eat — and he will forget all about hurting little boys."

And the bear went away.

90-Year-Old Is Still Ridin' High

PANHANDLE, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Maggie M. Weatherly, who came to Texas in a prairie schooner, has traveled over much of the world by various kinds of transportation during her 90 years.

At 84, she toured Alaska, and shortly before her birthday in May of this year, she had her first helicopter ride. From the copter she picked out farms and ranches in the area where she'd visited since horse and buggy days when transportation was a little slower.

WALNUT CREAM TORTE
By Mrs. Herman Kurth

1 package vanilla pudding mix (not instant)
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
1/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring
Prepare pudding, according to package directions. Stir in butter and vanilla. Set aside to cool completely.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add half the sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Continue beating until whites are shiny and stiff.

Without washing the beaters, beat yolks thoroughly. Gradually add rest of sugar and beat well. Stir in crumbs, nuts, baking powder, salt and flavoring. Fold into meringue. Line two 8-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Pour in cake batter and bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool 10 minutes and turn out on rack to finish cooling.

Beat 1 cup cream stiff. Beat into cooled pudding. Put cake layers together with pudding, covering top and sides also.

Chill for several hours. Makes 10 servings.

Birds in Texas Just Moved In HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. George DeMontond Jr. purchased a giant Mexican bird cage for use on their patio, but only to fill the lower portion with artificial flowers for a decorative effect.

A pair of mockingbirds knew a good address when they saw one. They built their nest in the upstairs part of the cage and hatched four juniors — all within 3 feet of plate glass windows opening into the DeMontonds' den.

The DeMontonds tried providing room service for their guests, but the parent birds spurned their offer of sunflower seeds. They got their own food — worms — from the garden.

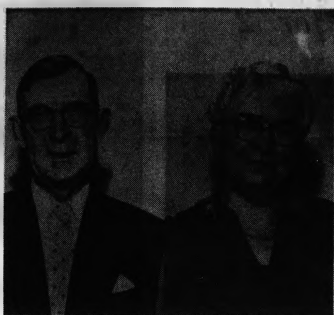

Lady Lawyer, 77, Still in Practice

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — "I'll work as long as I can," says Mrs. Mae M. Ament, who at 77 is the oldest practicing woman lawyer in Texas.

A practicing attorney for 47 years, Judge Mae Ament is the only woman in the United States who has been appointed to serve on the committee of the National Association of Municipal Judges.

The organization embraces 38 states, all provinces of Canada and the Virgin Islands. For the past 15 years she has been tax attorney for Alpine. She served 12 years as judge of the Corporation Court.

An exhibit of new products and inventions is scheduled for September in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Juengel of Rochester will be honored Sunday at an invitational reception commemorating their 50th wedding anniversary. Rochester's First Congregational Church is the setting for the affair honoring the couple whose wedding date is Aug. 26. They have six children and 24 grandchildren.

Royal Ladies Decide Just How Far to Hike

LONDON (AP) — Two royal dressmakers have come out with skirts above the knees. Hardy Amies — who designs for Queen Elizabeth II — was the first. Then came John Cavanagh, dressmaker for Princess Alexandra; her sister-in-law, the Duchess of Kent; and for Princess Marina, the elder duchess of Kent.

AGE IS GUIDE

The royal ladies likely will let their ages be their guides in deciding how far to hike.

Princess Alexandra — with hems already at the knee — can wear even shorter dresses for she is 28.

The same goes for the Duchess of Kent, with the most elegant of royal figures at the age of 32.

Princess Margaret, who'll be 35 Aug. 21, is the most independent of all the royals, and inclined to do what she wants with clothes. She has many of her dresses made in Paris.

CAREFUL QUEEN

The queen is 39. Friends say they can visualize her lifting her hems to the knees on occasion but not above.

At 58, Princess Marina probably will keep her hems where they are, well below the knee. Asked exactly how high his most daring autumn hem had gone, Cavanagh replied: "One inch above the knee. When the wearer walks, of course, it looks higher."

HELD HEMLINE

Only one royal dressmaker, the conservative Norman Hartnell, has held the hemline at the knee in his public showings.

Watch Contrasts

Avoid severe contrasts in brightness in the kitchen. Proper lighting is extra important here. Glare from highly-polished materials should be avoided.

Little Edwin Miller, being held by his mother, Mrs. Edwin Miller of Cameron Street, was born just two weeks ago, enabling this five generation picture to be taken. He is next to his great-grandmother, Mrs. Julia Robideau of

Are Today's Clothes Still Feminine?

NEW YORK — Are the new "Pop" designers conspiring against women?

In an article in the August issue of Pageant magazine, Rudi Gernreich, farthest out of the new far-out couturiers and father of the topless swim suit, takes issue with Oleg Cassini, formerly designer-in-waiting to Jacqueline Kennedy and exponent of femininity and elegance in women's clothes.

Gernreich denies that he and the other "new wave" designers are trying to defeminize women and even make them absurd.

He sees the new fashions as expressions of freedom and independence, of a "so-what" attitude toward life and society which he believes is healthful. "Pop fashions are the clothes of the future, because they are what women want," says this champion of nonconformity, in the Pageant article. Cassini, on the other hand, believes that ladies should keep on looking like ladies, "instead of little boys."

To him, much of "Pop" fashion is shocking, designed simply to arouse controversy rather than to enhance feminine appeal. He agrees with Gernreich that it is a reflection of the times — but he sees it as a sickness rather than independence.

Here is one of Pontiac's five generation families. Standing in the background from left is Mrs. William Brown of Metropolis, Ill. She is the great great-grandmother of eight-month-old Randolph L. Evans shown here with his father, Ronald Evans of Highland Avenue. Sitting next to them is "Randy's" great-grandmother, Mrs. Taft Jackson also of Highland Avenue and standing behind is the baby's grandmother, Mrs. John A. Hillie of Earlmoor Boulevard. Massac County, Ill., was the birthplace of all but Randy.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is so much emphasis placed on beauty and glamour today that it is enough to give a gal a complex if she was not born beautiful. In fact many women write to me and ask, "How can we compete with gorgeous-looking women? I am not homely, but no one would call me really pretty."

It certainly must be wonderful to arrive in this world with long eyelashes, big eyes, a perfect figure, curly hair and classical features. However, few of us do, and if you didn't, it is not nearly so crucial as it once was. Today you can wear false eyelashes which look natural. You can bring out small eyes with makeup. You can surely mold your figure if you really want to do so. You can have a permanent, and irregularity of features often adds verve and fascination to a face.

Some of the most intriguing women of today and some of the most famous ones are not beautiful at all. They have taken advantage of the arts and techniques I have mentioned above. They have also learned how to dress to be most attractive. They are not swayed by extremes in fashion. They adapt it to their own individuality. They have learned how to dress in order to play down any figure defects they cannot remedy.

HIGHLIGHT BEST FEATURE
They have also learned about makeup so that they can minimize their facial defects and highlight their best features. Actually many clever women emphasize any irregularity of feature or unusual feature they may have. For instance, if they have eyes which are a bit slanting, they make them more slanting by drawing a little line with an upweep at the end of each eye. If the mouth is their best feature, they play down the eyes and play up the mouth. If the opposite is true they use a light lipstick and heavier eye makeup.

Needless to say, these women keep their figures in shape and have given their complexion and hair meticulous daily care. They also have lovely posture.

I think it is pretty much agreed that women select their clothes in order to impress women rather than men. However, I am sure that women wish to be beautiful to attract men. Let us consider some of the more elusive aspects of beauty.

DON'T BEMOAN FATE
Surveys and questionnaires have shown over and over again that men fall in love with women who are thoughtful, tender and natural, those who are fun to be with, and most of all, those who make them feel at ease. This no doubt explains, "what he sees in her" or the mousy appearing woman who holds the handsome fascinating man.

So, if you were not born beautiful, don't bemoan your fate, get busy, develop your personality and physical attractiveness. Any woman can be lovely today.

If you would like to have my essential daily routine, leaflet 19, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Polly's Pointers

Clothespin Helper

DEAR POLLY — This hint that my wife uses has saved many a burned finger. Whenever she puts a cover on a skillet or pan being used on the stove, she keeps a spring-type clothespin handy, and snaps it into the ring on the cover.

This keeps the ring away from the hot top as well as making it mighty easy to remove on a moment's notice.

—GEORGE

DEAR POLLY — I put about a folded sheet of paper towel with the napkins in the napkin holder that stands on our table.

If baby or one of the children spills something I do not have to jump up from the table and run for paper towels to mop it up but can take care of any spills immediately and without moving. — MRS. H. F. H.

DEAR POLLY — So many things happening today will go down in history so I am saving all of the newspapers with important events for my children to have when they get to high school.

It will be much more interesting to them to read firsthand accounts of these things and see the pictures than to just get brief facts from a history book.

My mother did this for us and I want to continue the same good idea. — SANDY

DEAR POLLY — My wife and I have a clock that has a wedding present 19 years ago. When it became very noisy I took it to one repairman who refused to even work on it because of its age and another worked on it twice with no appreciable results.

On the advice of a friend who had had a similar experience, I removed the works and with a tooth pick applied a few drops of cigarette lighter fluid to some of the pivotal points. The results were most satisfactory.

It has run smoothly and quietly for several months. I was also amazed at the way the lighter fluid cleaned the type on a 40-year-old typewriter — A MALE READER.

GIRLS AND GENTLEMEN FRIENDS — The lighter fluid worked wonders on the type of my typewriter and being principally naphtha it seems logical that it would clean the works of a clock.

I would only advise such a home remedy in cases where professionals have bowed out or where the home tinkerer really knows what he is doing. Not everyone could get a clock back together again. — POLLY

Spice up your daily work routine with some of the ingenious hints featured in Polly's 32-page booklet. To order, send your name, address and $6c to: Polly's Pointers, care of The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Try Clothesline for Bathroom

An inconspicuous bathroom clothesline, concealed in a chrome disc, is a real space saver.

A grasp knob on the case releases 10 feet of nylon cord which can be attached to a retainer plate on the opposite wall.

When laundered lingerie or other small "wash" has dried, just release the cord which springs back into its case until needed again.

Early November vows are planned by Irene Lura Reed, daughter of the Guy J. Reeds of Sylvan Lake and William Clarence Lukes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Lukes of Wenomah Street.

Miss Davis Weds Soon

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Davis of Walnut Road announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Patricia Aibye to Robert Nye Given, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Keller, Old Lane.

The couple plans Sept. 4 vows. Miss Davis attends the Art School of the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit.

Make Penny Row

Bright, new pennies attached to a child's gift will delight a youngster. Form a row of them across the top of a brightly-wrapped box or around the center of it. Space pennies evenly and cover with transparent tape.

It's Science of Behavior

Psychology Is Defined

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE W-461: Lola G., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I am to make a 5-minute talk at our Science Club meeting next week."

"And my topic is 'Psychology,'" she said. "I could give you a little outline of what psychology really is?"

PSYCHOLOGY DEFINED
Originally, psychology was considered the science of the soul.

"Psyche" was the Greek word for "soul" while the term "logos" meant the "study of" or "the science of." That "logos" is changed to "logy" and thus is the final part of geology, biology, anthropology, etc.

But nobody could tell what the soul looked like, nor its color, shape or area.

Yet the basis of any science must be a self-evident fact, like the axioms in geometry.

Consequently, the definition of psychology was changed to the science of consciousness. But even that word "consciousness" caused debate and confusion.

For instance, where does consciousness end and unconsciousness begin?

And how does "unconscious" differ from "subconscious"? They are not the same, as you can recall, for a boxer knocked out in the ring would not reach down to pull up the covers, if cold air blew across him.

Yet in sleep, you will subconsciously reach down for more covers!

Furthermore, in sleep, if you roll to the very edge of your bed, you then roll the other way next time and avoid falling upon the floor.

If you were unconscious, you would not realize you were on the edge of the bed!

In addition, we find that a hypnotized patient can be given a new name and react consciously to school books and similar problems, yet be totally unaware of her previous personality.

DUAL PERSONALITY

She can thus have a dual personality, so Dr. Morton Prince, former pioneer Harvard psychologist, described this situation as an evidence of co-consciousness.

Therefore, we have four words: conscious, unconscious, subconscious and co-conscious, so in recent years we have discarded the definition of psychology that called it the "science of consciousness."

Instead, we now define psychology as the science of behavior.

This includes not just "deportment" but actions and reactions to heat, light, sound, pain, etc.

It also covers speech and speech symbols, like printed words, musical notes, money, signs, etc.

And "behavior" even extends to the actions of mice, white rats and guinea pigs, which are often used in psychology laboratories for tests on motivation, memory, sexual behavior, etc.

All of you are thus psychologists when you observe your companions and become adept at selling, advertising, public speaking, writing, or winning friends.

In fact, the best Applied Psychologists in the land are often business executives, editors, doctors, politicians and parents, even though they may never have taken a single course in psychology at college.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Greets Guests Wearing a 1915 Wedding Gown

EUSTIS, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Samuel L. Montgomery greeted the guests at her golden wedding anniversary reception wearing her wedding gown. The wedding gown, cherished carefully through the years, has mellowed from white to a soft cream, but still retains its beauty.

1915 STYLE

Styled carefully in the fashion of 1915, the dress is of chiffon crepe de chine and satin. It features a full-gathered ankle-length skirt of crepe de chine, a chiffon bodice with a high-standing collar of ruching and long sleeves ruffled over the hands.

A satin Elton jacket completes the costume.

HIS KEEPSAKE

Montgomery, who has retired from the Department of Internal Revenue in Washington, D.C., still has the gloves he wore on his wedding day.

HIGHLAND APPLIANCE CO.

This AUGUST There's a Method To Our Madness!...

It happens every August... The appliance business gets that "low-down blues feeling." Who needs winter entertainment appliances in August? Not much summer left to enjoy the comfort of air conditioning. Maybe the old refrigerator will hold out. Why worry about it now. Even if you can get a new air conditioner for a mad $79... or a new top-name brand refrigerator for $99 at Highland just because it's August! What other month of the year can you get an RCA Victor Color TV for less than $300 or a G.E. stereo Hi-Fi console for just $89... a Detroit Jewel gas range for $69... or a Hotpoint dishwasher for $109? There's a method to our madness. We've deliberately reduced everything to save you more dollars this August than ever before. That way you may decide to buy that refrigerator or TV RIGHT NOW! Maybe you'll even buy two appliances and save twice as much. Everything is marked down, including new 1966 models. Everything is top-quality and top-name brand. Floor models are priced accordingly. If price is your only reason for not buying at Highland during August—better get a new reason.

Gluten-Free Cookie Recipes Are Given

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

You can't expect a four-year-old to understand why he can't have cookies when the rest of the family does — or macaroni and cheese, French toast and blueberry muffins.

Kevin Movius has celiac disease. This means that he must avoid all foods containing wheat flour, rye flour, barley and malt. His diet must be gluten free.

His mother, Mrs. Oswald F. Movius of Breaker Street, called me for help in finding cookie recipes that she could use for Kevin.

After I found some for her, I referred her to Mrs. Katherine Claus, Oakland County dietitian, for further help.

Mrs. Movius has agreed to share some of her original recipes with Press readers. She says her other two children sometimes prefer Kevin's cookies to regular ones.

Mrs. Movius who has hopes that her son will outgrow his disability says she must be ever watchful in her food buying.

"Gluten is in a lot more food than you would think."

She has learned to read labels on soup cans for instance. All breaded products are out and only certain ice creams are permissible. Even some lunch meats must be avoided.

When the family wants macaroni and cheese, Kevin goes to his aunt's house for dinner. But with special mixes, his mother can approximate almost any food he wants.

These chocolate cookies are a great favorite with everyone. You buy the special flours in these recipes at a health food store.

BROWNIE DROPS

By Mrs. Oswald F. Movius
2 bars Germans sweet chocolate
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 eggs
¾ cup sugar

¾ cup wheat-starch flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup finely chopped nuts

Melt butter and chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat eggs until foamy, add sugar, two tablespoons at a time. Beat until thick.

Blend in chocolate mixture and dry ingredients. Stir in vanilla and nuts.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 8-10 minutes at 350 degrees, until cookies feel set. Let cool a minute or two before removing from pan.

For a variation, chill the dough 1½ hours. Roll in balls and coat with confectioners' sugar before baking. These cookies will have a crackled top.

Blueberry muffins are especially liked in this family. Mrs. Movius makes a batch for Kevin and freezes them. Then when

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
(Gluten-free)

3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 cups rice flour
4 tablespoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cup blueberries
2 eggs, beaten
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift dry ingredients. Add melted shortening. Add beaten eggs and milk. Stir in dry ingredients and blueberries.

Spoon into greased muffin tins. Bake about 25 minutes at 400 degrees. Makes 12 muffins.

We gave Mrs. Movius a recipe for a bake-less oatmeal cookie. Here is a similar one.

Bakeless Chocolate Fudgies
2½ cups quick oatmeal (raw)

¾ cup coconut
¼ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup peanut butter
2½ cups sugar
4 tablespoons cocoa
¼ cup oil
1 stick margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine oatmeal, coconut and nuts. Bring peanut butter, sugar, cocoa, milk and margarine to a boil, stirring until ingredients are dissolved. Boil slowly for one minute.

Remove from heat, add vanilla. Combine with dry ingredients. Mix well and drop by teaspoon on waxed paper. Makes 5 dozen.

Lamb and Ham Mix

Yes, you can team lamb with ham or kabobs, using equal amounts of each. Other go-with foods include cooked or canned sweet potatoes cut in pieces, pineapple chunks, green pepper squares and spiced crabapples or pears.

Chicken and Noodles Make a Salad, Too

A hearty, but cool salad is a welcome accompaniment for outdoor barbecues or family picnics. One that can be made a couple of days ahead to blend the flavors is Chicken Noodle Salad.

Choose wide, medium length egg noodles so that it is convenient to eat. You know how slippery noodles can be on a fork! This salad can be molded in a loaf, pie pan or a favorite plastic container that can travel to the picnic site.

Chicken Noodle Salad
2 cups cooked medium length egg noodles
3 tablespoons French dressing
1 tablespoon finely chopped green onions
¼ cup chopped celery
1 4-ounce can chicken spread
1 cup small curd cottage cheese
2 tablespoons French dressing
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Hard cooked egg
Pimiento
Black olives

Cook noodles as directed on the package (left over noodles can be used). Drain. Mix no-dies with dressing, onion and celery. Cool; then put in refrigerator. (This was made in a 9" pie pan). Rub oil on the bottom of the pan or mold. Put a layer of marinated noodles on the bottom; center with cottage cheese mixture and top with another layer of noodles. Garnish with the item of your choice: slices of egg, pimiento and black olives. Sprigs of parsley and watercress will also dress it up.

Let stand, covered with Saran or in poly bag, in refrigerator for at least 24 hours to mellow. Makes 4-5 servings.

To Keep Chicken

Fresh chicken should be refrigerated immediately after purchase. Loosen the transparent film covering or loosely rewrap in waxed paper to permit air circulation around the meat. Use whole fryers within two to three days; cut fryers within one or two days.

Bran 'Burgers Tasty Idea

Hamburgers are to barbecues as barbecues are to summer living... a favorite part. Though long unquestioned in popularity, charcoal grilled hamburgers promise a new flavor delight when prepared with bran.

Grand Bran Burgers

1 pound ground veal
1 pound ground beef
3 tablespoons bacon fat or water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ cup milk
1 cup bran
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chopped caraway seeds
½ teaspoon ground black pepper

Thoroughly blend veal, beef and bacon fat or water. Combine remaining ingredients. Add to meats and mix gently to blend. Shape into 10 patties. Grill to desired doneness over hot coals. Makes 10 servings.

Fresh mint in the garden? Chop a little of it and add to sliced cucumbers mixed with yogurt.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

At Hayes Jones Community Center

Youngsters and Grown-Ups---Keep Busy

FIRST SUMMER — In its first summer of operation, the Hayes Jones Community Center (above) at 435 Wessen has been accommodating an average of 450 patrons a week, most of whom are youngsters. The center offers a variety of supervised recreation activities including swimming instruction, playground sports, arts and crafts sessions and sewing consultation periods.

FINISHING TOUCHES—Shellacking a basket in an arts and crafts class is 10-year-old Mark Walden. Basket-weaving is one of the projects at the center this summer. Area youngsters like Mark get a chance to develop new interests and explore the creative field of art under instructors, with no fees charged.

CHILDREN'S PRIVILEGES — One of the privileges of childhood is climbing. These children find the monkey bars tops for accommodating their boundless energies. Who cares, they say, if a few knees get scraped, as long as it's fun. The bars are part of the playground facilities at the Hayes Jones Center.

ZOOM — The ball flies down the field as Bob Barnes of 187 Norton just finishes his swing in a softball game at the center. Catcher Henry Gamble of 129 Bagley stands ready to catch the ball if it comes his way. Clyde Barkus of 169 Howard McNeil umpires the game on the playground.

PREHISTORIC ANIMALS — Robert Walden, 10, paints a prehistoric dinosaur in an arts and crafts session at the Hayes Jones Community Center, where a variety of craft work is done.

By BETTY CRAWFORD

One of the busiest places on the south side of the city is the Hayes Jones Community Center, accommodating 450 people a week, most of whom are youngsters.

This is the first summer the center has been in full operation, having opened Nov. 16, 1964.

Located at 435 Wessen, the center offers swimming pool activity and instruction, supervised sports, arts and crafts, and a sewing class for the ladies this summer.

The center is open from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon.

Swimming instruction is available from 10 to 11:30 a.m. every weekday except Saturday. There is open swimming from 1 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 in the evening.

ON SATURDAYS

The pool is open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Playground activity bustles with softball, horseshoes, shuffleboard, badminton, and volleyball.

For those who prefer handicraft work or have a flair for art, the programs in arts and crafts such as basket-weaving should interest them.

Thursday nights from 7 to 9 is ladies' night. A sewing consultation program is under way in which anyone who would like to know how to sew or who has a sewing problem can come and get advice.

TIED TO REQUESTS

The type of programs that are planned depend on what the people request, said center supervisor Arthur Johnson.

There is no charge for the facilities or programs, said Johnson.

The swimming pool is staffed with 10 people, while the playground has three leaders.

So, whether it's a splash in a pool, an exciting softball game, arts, crafts, or sewing, the Hayes Jones Community Center is ready to serve Pontiac residents.

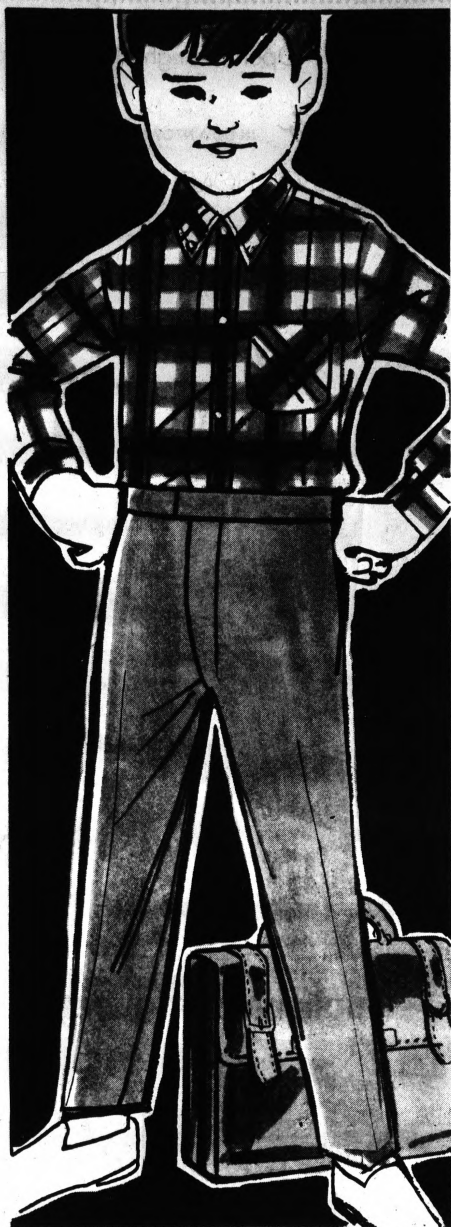

MAKE VASE — What a touch of ingenuity can do with what seems to be a useless item is limitless. Here, Ida Beane of 467 Beaudette, assistant playground director, helps Willie Jones of 303 Howard McNeil, part-time swimming pool locker room attendant, make a vase out of an empty pop bottle. Cord is glued to the bottle to make different patterns.

GETS HELP—Sewing consultation sessions are held at the center every Thursday night this summer. Mrs. Flossie Busbee (right) of 351 Howard McNeil, an instructor, gives some tips on blouse-sewing to Mrs. Hurlen Bowman of 51½ Lull. In the fall, another sewing consultation class will begin.

CUTS FROM PATTERN — Cutting out a dress from a pattern is Sandra McCanta (seated) of 372 Going under the watchful eye of Mrs. Nena McCanta. Sandra is among a score of women who bring their sewing problems to the center for solving.

Wirtz Reports to LBJ

No Agreement Yet in Maritime Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz reported to President Johnson last night that no agreement has been reached to end the 64-day-old maritime strike despite intensive negotiations between ship owners and two striking unions.

Wirtz hoped to achieve an over-all settlement of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the American Merchant Marine Institute.

But he ran into difficulties as talks continued with the Masters, Mates & Pilots and the American Radio Association.

Two special federal mediators joined the bargaining in an effort to end the strike and allow more than 100 ships to resume sailing schedules.

Indications were that the negotiations would continue virtually around the clock in an effort to restore maritime peace on Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

STICKY ISSUE

One sticky issue was the mates' demand for bargaining unit coverage of ships' masters on three of the eight struck shipping lines.

The management of these three lines says the masters are agents of the owners and should not be covered by the union contract.

The mates also are seeking to apply a 3.2 per cent package increase in wages and benefits to their members. They claim some "inequities" should be remedied without deducting the cost from the package.

The radio officers' union is seeking similar wage-benefit increases, but so far has not spent much time at the bargaining table because of the priority given the engineers' dispute.

Police Bill Vetoed by Illinois Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner, Democrat, has vetoed a bill which would have allowed a policeman to stop and question anyone he believed has committed or was about to commit a felony.

The bill also would have allowed an officer who felt he was in danger of attack to search the suspect for weapons.

HOW A FRIENDLY CHAT
COST ME $3,000,000

You remember the comedian's gag line:

"With friends like that . . . who needs enemies?"

One Saturday a year ago, our Clubhouse dining terrace was crowded. We had to turn away numerous fans who wished reservations. A friend of mine, observing the situation, remarked, "You should enlarge the dining terrace." I agreed we needed more space. So, what originated as an idea to merely expand our dining terrace turned into a $3,000,000 construction program for a new Clubhouse.

We open the magnificent new Clubhouse Saturday. Everyone who has had a preview look, terms it one of the finest sports facilities in the United States.

It is a facility I am proud to offer the racing fans of Michigan. It is one, I believe, they deserve.

The amazing growth of racing in Michigan has brought new responsibilities to management. One of the paramount responsibilities is to provide a facility which guarantees comfort, convenience and maximum pleasure for the fans.

This was our ambitious goal when we started our expansion plan. I believe we have attained it. I invite you to visit us soon and make your own judgment.

In our new Clubhouse will be "The Winner's Circle" dining terrace. It is a beautifully appointed restaurant serving the finest food and beverages. It can accommodate 650 persons. We invite your reservations. Call GA 1-7170.

There's a touch of another land in Ye Olde Tired Horse Pub. It has the decor and atmosphere of a true-to-life Old English tavern. Even losers will find it an ideal place to relax.

With the opening of the new Clubhouse, we will make available to our fans a new concept in racetrack accommodations . . . the Grandstand Terrace.

This air-conditioned area has another excellent restaurant in "The Mile Terrace." There are three fine bars and a snack bar.

We have parking for 12,000 cars. A new entrance off Inkster Road supplements our Middlebelt and Schoolcraft entrances and speeds the flow of traffic.

Our Turf-O-Gram board, an electronic message board in the infield, gives fans late scratches, jockey changes and all the other up-to-the-minute information they desire.

Our paddock and walking ring provide a front-and-center view for hundreds of fans of the horses before they go on to the track.

Yes . . . it was an expensive chat with my friend. However, I am happy about the developments it produced. I think you will be, too.

Jack the Ripper: a Mild-Mannered Lawyer?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: NEA European Staff Correspondent Tom A. Cullen wrote the accompanying story under protest and under direct orders of his editors. Accustomed to reporting the news, Cullen was a bit startled to find himself making it when his book on Jack the Ripper was published in Britain earlier this year (under the title "Autumn of Terror"). Major British newspapers headlined his solution of the 1888 Ripper murders as if the crimes had occurred last week.)

By TOM A. CULLEN
LONDON (NEA) — I hate to disappoint all the Cockney old age pensioners who have pined me with cups of tea, but Jack the Ripper was not the wax-moustached villain they think he was.

I talked to the old dears when I was gathering material for my book on Jack the Ripper. (EDITOR'S NOTE: "When London Walked in Terror" is to be published Sept. 9 by Houghton Mifflin Co.)

Nearly everyone of them pictured the Ripper as something that had stepped out of Victorian melodrama.

I hate to explode this sacred British myth, but the Ripper was not even a swarthy-looking foreigner.

Neither was the killer who terrorized London in 1888 a seaman, a barber surgeon, a midwife, a Salvation Army zealot, or a member of the nobility.

WIDELY HELD
All these theories were widely held at one time or another. The man who prowled London's East End by gaslight looking for prostitutes to murder and disembowel was, if Scotland Yard's theory was correct, a mild-mannered

His name was Montague John Druiitt, and he was 31.

Druiitt didn't come from the lower depths of East London's slums. He came from a good family in Dorset, and he was a graduate of Oxford University.

3 YEARS BEFORE
He had been admitted to the bar only three years before the Ripper murders began.

In disclosing the name of Scotland Yard's prime suspect for the first time in my book on the Ripper, I also advance the theory that he may have been a demented social reformer, who murdered in order to call attention to the appalling poverty and vice in the East End.

As many as 14 murders have been laid on Jack the Ripper's doorstep, but I hold that only five can definitely be traced to the one man.

The victims were, with one exception, middle-aged drabs far gone in alcoholism or disease.

COMMITTED SUICIDE
Montague John Druiitt committed suicide by throwing himself into the Thames shortly after the last of the Ripper murders, having carefully weighted his body down with stones.

It is significant that the police investigation of these crimes ceased the moment Druiitt's body was fished from the river, as I point out in my book.

But to return to the Cockneys who helped me in the writing of this book, I feel a little like a poacher in tacking this classic murder mystery.

After all, how would the people of Fall River, Mass., like it if some Englishman were to claim that he had solved the Lizzie Borden murder mystery?

ELABORATELY POLITE
The East Enders I talked to, however, were elaborately polite.

In addition to brewing tea for me, they offered to take me to the sites of the Ripper murders, which have changed little in the 77 years that have elapsed since the crimes.

Miraculously spared by the blitz, many of the streets where the Ripper operated are still gaslit and contain dismal Victorian slums.

My theory is that the madman who called himself the Ripper murdered in order to point up conditions in this area, where poverty had reduced the inhabitants to thieving and prostitution.

One of the things I discovered is that Jack the Ripper has become something of a folklore figure of fun in Cockneyland.

Mothers still frighten their children with, "The Ripper will get you if you don't watch out."

And these same offspring skip rope chanting, "Jack the Ripper stole a kipper, hid it in his father's slipper."

Guessing the Ripper's identity has long been a popular British parlor game.

VARIED CANDIDATES
The candidates brought forward to fill the Ripper's shoes have varied from a Portuguese seaman to King Leopold I of the Belgians (who died 22 years before the crimes were committed).

I have even heard it suggested that the murders were the work of a gorilla that had escaped from a traveling circus.

I do not believe for a moment that my research will stop the speculation concerning the Ripper's identity. In fact, I hope that it continues.

It would be a shame to deprive the Cockney old dears of their favorite guessing game.

A few years ago a man wrote to a London newspaper denouncing his own father as the Ripper, the father, it seems, had committed the murders as a lad of 15.

More recently, two children calmly disclosed the Ripper's identity to a television interviewer. The Ripper was their grandmother.

End to Bridge Toll Favored in Survey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Raymond Clevenger, D-Mich., said Wednesday a poll of northern Michigan residents shows that 77 per cent of those returning questionnaires favor elimination of Mackinac Bridge tolls.

Of the 17,000 persons replying to Clevenger's poll, he said, 19 per cent opposed total elimination of tolls and 4 per cent were undecided.

On other questions, the Sault St. Marie congressman said, 56 per cent favored stronger control of firearms, 66 per cent supported Medicare and 87 per cent favored the recently enacted voting rights bill.

Four-Footed Duckling Can Waddle 10 Years

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Douglas Lancaster, Cornell University ornithologist, says a week-old, four-footed duckling should be able to waddle around for 10 years.

'Race Tension Covers World'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Racial disturbance in America is no longer an internal issue but an "integral part of the worldwide tension," the president of the Lutheran Church in America said Wednesday night.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry told 1,000 guests to the Convention of Lutheran Church Women that those who talk of racial justice in this country as going too fast are "irresponsible... and haven't the vaguest idea of where our world stands today."

"Whether we like it or not, our racial disturbances and racial injustices in the United States are no longer purely internal issues," Dr. Fry said. "What occurred in the riots that happened recently are an integral part of the worldwide tension."

Dr. Fry said nothing but the fraternity of Christians (in the ecumenical movement) remains as a force that ultimately will bind the world together.

More Federal Registrars Ordered Into South

Five Counties Added to List

Say 16,492 Negroes Already Registered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has ordered 10 more federal registrars into the South to register Negroes in five additional counties in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, following the procedures set up by the new Voting Rights Act, designated the additional counties Wednesday night. Ten days ago, he ordered 18 federal registrars into nine counties in the South to register voters without requiring literacy or similar tests.

The new counties are Jefferson Davis and Jones in Mississippi, Perry and Wilcox in Alabama and Ouachita Parish in Louisiana.

In the nine counties where examiners already are functioning, the number of persons they registered reached 16,492 by the close of business Wednesday, including 2,057 registered on that day alone. All of the federal registrars are Civil Service employees.

NO COMPLIANCE

Katzenbach said the five newly designated counties "have continued to discriminate and have given no substantial indication that they will comply" with the voting rights measure.

He added, "When local officials demonstrate their willingness to deal fairly with Negro as well as white applicants, the examiners will be withdrawn promptly."

The Justice Department cited, as examples of failure to comply with the new law, the even more stringent application of proof of residence requirements to Negro applicants, denial of assistance to Negroes, advice to them to return in 30 days to see whether they have been successful, and holding up of registration on the ground there were no application forms.

Each of the newly designated counties, Katzenbach said, "has a long history of discrimination against Negro voting applicants."

City 'Armchair Detective' Is Now Retired

Pontiac Police Department's "armchair detective," Charles Hewitt, 62, of 57 S. Shirley, retired from the force recently after 35 years of service.

Lt. Charles Gale said Hewitt was assigned to the warrant detail and did most of his arrests by telephone, hence the nickname.

"He used to call the suspect and tell him he had a warrant for his arrest. 'Come in or I'll come out after you,' Hewitt would tell the person," Gale said.

Hewitt started as a patrolman in 1929. He was promoted to detective in 1946.

He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge No. 132, Elks Lodge No. 810, and the Masonic Lodge No. 21. Hewitt is also a member of the Metropolitan Club, Spirit 6.

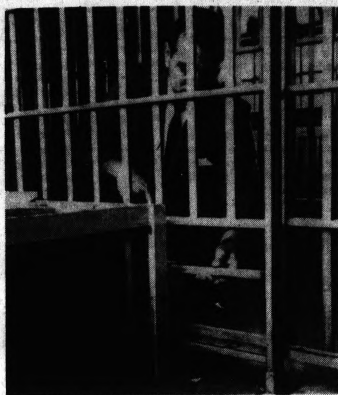

Fellow staff members of the Pontiac Police Department honored him with a party Aug. 6. He was presented with a wristwatch.

Youth Bound Over; Resisting Charged

Thomas Jones, 17, of 522 S. Saginaw has been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Aug. 31 on the charge of resisting a police officer.

Jones was bound over by Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCullum following yesterday's preliminary examination.

Jones was charged in connection with a scuffle with Pontiac police officer Gary Root on Aug. 11.

THE 'HOLE' TRUTH—Washenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey holds one of four steel bars which were sawed almost through in the County Jail and were pushed out early yesterday by Bradley J. Whitaker, 21, of Flint. Whitaker crawled through two 12-inch-wide holes, climbed out a second-floor window and escaped to Whitmore Lake where he was apprehended.

Saws His Way Out for 7 Hours' Freedom

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Brighton Post State Police troopers recaptured Bradley J. Whitaker, 21, Flint, yesterday for the second time in three weeks after he sawed his way out of second-floor maximum security cell in the Washenaw County jail.

Whitaker, who was awaiting trial for having escaped from the Cassidy Lake prison camp near Waterloo, had to go through two sets of inside bars, outside bars and a security screen before he wound up outside—25 feet above ground.

He slid down a pole to seven hours' freedom before troopers Edward Hancock and Paul Palmer spotted him in front of a Whitmore Lake gas station about 10 miles from the jail.

Whitaker told deputies his escape wasn't as difficult as it first seemed. He said another convict told him about some bars in the jail which were partially sawed through, just in case Whitaker should ever find himself in trouble in Ann Arbor.

He found himself in the jail here July 30 when he was captured by Brighton Post State Police troopers after having walked away from the camp where he was a trusty.

FOR ASSAULT

He was transferred to the camp earlier from Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson where he had started serving a 1½-to 10-year sentence from Genesee County May 26 for assault during an armed robbery. He was returned to the Washenaw County Jail yesterday and put in a maximum security cell on the first floor—after guards checked all the bars.

Hope Dwindles for Dying Girl

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Hope of prolonging the leukemia-stricken life of 4-year-old Joy Lynne Evans dwindled today as her chances of catching another ailment—chicken pox—diminished.

Joy Lynne was in critical condition Wednesday, showing signs of having chicken pox after 17 days of waiting.

The girl was deliberately exposed to chicken pox as a last resort, when her mother, Sharon Evans, 24, said she had heard some leukemia cases were arrested when the pox appeared.

The chicken pox incubation period of 17 to 21 days Sunday.

Doctors indicated Joy Lynne was not expected to live more than a month.

Doctors say chicken pox is not a recognized treatment for leukemia.

Nothing Horrible About That

Monster Means Money in Monroe

MONROE (UPI) — Today in Monroe, you can eat monsterburgers, see horror movies, and watch monster impersonators—all stemming from reports of a monster in the area.

Since last weekend when the Monroe monster was spotted by a teen-age girl, who claims it attacked her, the search has been on and this small community 25 miles north of Toledo, Ohio, has its second claim to fame in a century.

Monroe is the birthplace of Gen. George Custer, of Civil War and Indian fighting fame.

Police in the area think the whole thing rather silly. State police and the Monroe County Sheriff's department doubt the monster exists.

However, a ragged posse of nearly 100 men and the woods near Frenchtown Township north of here Tuesday night, armed with baseball bats and rifles, in search of the beast that is described as "seven-feet tall and hairy."

NO SIGHTINGS

So far the posse has made no sightings, but no one seems to care much except the 16 persons who have made official reports with police in the past year. Two have come within the past five days loaded with vivid descriptions of the elusive thing.

Merchants in Monroe couldn't care more. The sudden novelty in the county has spurred one drive-in movie to feature "Curse of the Undead."

A restaurant in the area is serving a monsterburger which offers one pound of hamburger, cheese, tomatoes, relish, onions and lettuce wrapped in a nine-inch bun imported especially for the occasion from Toledo.

Young people in the area are wearing different types of monster garb, and a badly spelled sign greets motorists as they enter the county. It reads, "Your in Monster County."

GOOD WEATHER

The past two nights have brought not only monster hunters, sightseers and doubts from police, but also perfect weather for such things.

A heavy rain and the resultant mist have hidden the moon in the lowlands and swampy areas between I-75 and the Enrico Fermi Atomic plant north of here, where the monster has been cited.

Big GOP Donors Go to Confab

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican party gather today to talk about GOP finances at the farm of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

National GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss called it the first major move in a drive to strengthen the GOP for next year's elections.

Bliss said the conference would be "an important move toward our objective of placing the Republican National Finance Committee fund-raising program on a coordinated basis."

Party officials weren't talking about it in advance of the meeting, but they would clearly like to coordinate away the Republican offshoots' busy collecting money for their own operations.

SPLINTER GROUPS

Bliss has said splinter groups hamper his effort to build party unity. And he put that label on a two-hour early-morning session of the finance committee in Washington.

Clay has said he hopes eventually to get all Republican fund-raising programs under one roof—his.

About 275 persons—among them Republicans who have given the party $1,000 or more—are on the Gettysburg guest list. The party's congressional leaders are attending, too.

NEXT ELECTION

"Much of the emphasis will be on the 1966 congressional elections," Langhorn Washburn, GOP finance director, said. "We're going to set goals and talk about how to reach them. I think the main emphasis at this point is coordination."

But he said the conference does not signal an effort now to put into national committee hands the fund-raising efforts of the Republican congressional and senatorial campaign committees.

Bliss said the Gettysburg session is the first major meeting to line up plans that will permit the national committee and the GOP campaign organizations on Capitol Hill "to move forward with their plans to strengthen our Republican party position, both in Congress and in state houses throughout the nation, in 1966."

Personal Reasons

Scientist-Astronaut Resigns

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Duane Graveline, one of the nation's scientist-astronauts, has become the first astronaut to resign before making a space flight.

Graveline, a 34-year-old former Air Force flight surgeon, had once expressed a desire to set foot on the moon, describing it as "an unclimbed mountain that has to be climbed."

The Newport, Vt., native was one of six scientist-astronauts chosen June 29 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for possible moon excursions.

The space agency announced Wednesday that Graveline had resigned for personal reasons. It said he would remain with the spacecraft center as a medical doctor.

Graveline's wife sued for divorce three weeks after he joined the space team. In the suit, still pending, she called him a man "of violent and ungovernable outburst of temper" and asked custody of their four daughters, ages 7 to 13.

She said today at her home in San Antonio, Tex., she would have no comment on her husband's resignation.

She was granted a temporary order that forbade him from visiting her and the children, but the order was dissolved by mutual agreement. Sources close to Graveline said he does not intend to contest the divorce.

The doctor has been undergoing flight training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. He could not be reached for comment.

Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., resigned also but not until after he became the first American to orbit the earth.

There are 33 astronauts still in the program.

Labor Tie-Up Over for N-Ship

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Savannah, the nuclear powered merchant ship tied up for a year with labor troubles, will put to sea again Friday.

The vessel is due in Norfolk, Va., Aug. 25; Baltimore, Aug. 27, and New York, Aug. 30. It will leave for Europe Sept. 3, carrying cargo to Spain, Belgium, France and Germany, and returning to the United States Oct. 15.

Built at a cost of $55 million, the 20,000-ton Savannah is 596 feet long and has a cruising speed of 22 knots.

The ship was tied up because of a wage dispute involving engineers of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association. Its operation was then taken over by the American Export Isbrandtsen lines to be manned by engineers of the Brotherhood of Marine Officers, an affiliate of the National Maritime Union.

Malawi, formerly called Nyasaland, is rich in natural splendor and considered one of the most beautiful regions in Africa. It is noted for its big lush green foliage.

British Seaport Honors Sailing Newsman

FALMOUTH, England (UPI) — This historic seaport honored Cleveland newsman Robert Manry today for his solo crossing of the Atlantic Ocean in a sailboat.

Grizzled fishermen familiar with the perils of the sea left their nets to join thousands of vacationers in cheering Manry at a civic reception.

Manry, a 48-year-old Plain Dealer copyreader, steered his 12½-foot sailboat Tinkerbell into Falmouth Harbor Tuesday, 75 days after he set out from Falmouth, Mass.

Ex-Aide to Swainson
Named to House Post

LANSING (AP) — House speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, has announced the appointment of Boyd Benedict of East Lansing as administrative assistant to the House of Representatives. Benedict, who recently resigned as executive secretary of the State Municipal Finance Commission, was an aide to former Gov. John Swainson.

Wary and weak at the knees through lack of exercise but otherwise in excellent health, he received a hero's welcome from city officials and 20,000 holiday-makers who poured into this old pirate port to greet him.

Also here were his wife Virginia, and their two children, Robin, 13 and Douglas, 11.

COAT OF ARMS

Mayor Sam Hooper's presentation to Manry of a plaque bearing the Falmouth coat of arms — a gift reserved for the city's most distinguished visitors — was the highlight of today's civic reception in the subterranean gardens. The Manry family headed the list of 250 invited guests.

Tinkerbell, the smallest vessel ever to make the west-east Atlantic crossing, was on display here on behalf of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

Tomorrow, the boat will be displayed in the offices of a London newspaper before being returned to the United States.

There were reports from America that Tinkerbell might be placed in the Smithsonian Institution, on display along with such other historic vehicles as the plane in which Charles A. Lindbergh made the first transatlantic flight.

SIGHTSEEING

Manry planned to go to London tomorrow for a few days sightseeing before taking a plane home Aug. 26. He is expected back at work on the 29th.

More honors awaited Manry in the United States. There was a chance he might be invited to meet President Johnson at the White House and his home town of Willowick, Ohio, planned to present him with the key to the city at a special reception. A similar hero's "welcome home" was scheduled in Cleveland.

Cogdill's Fingers Miniature to Ernie Clark's

Lion Receiver Has Pro Football's 'Biggest Little' Hands

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Gail Cogdill, ace pass receiver of the Detroit Lions, owns a pair of the biggest little hands in pro football. They're skinny and bony, hardly the appearance of a pair of hands one would expect to see on a professional football player. Put them alongside the hands of Lions' linebacker Ernie Clark and they appear miniature in size, three inches shorter in the measurement from the tip of the middle finger to the base of the hand at the joint of the wrist. Small, that they may be, Cogdill's hands are among the surest of NFL pass receivers. Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, one-time great NFL pass receiver who moved around the field like a galleon when he had the ball, sat in the press box of the Lions-Rams game at Tiger Stadium last year and expressed the opinion, "In my book he (Cogdill) has the greatest pair of hands in pro football today."

For several years, ex-Lions' coach George Wilson was known to make the comment, "He doesn't belong on this team. With all the fine pass receivers we have, we have to spread our passing around. With any other ball club Cog-dill would lead the league every year in pass receiving."

RECEIVERS BEST

Prior to the 1964 season, Wilson called the Lions' pass receiver the best in the NFL. The Baltimore Colts, whom the Lions play in the home exhibition opener Friday night, made the same claim with Ray Berry, Jimmy Orr, John Mackey and Lenny Moore, as did Green Bay when the Packers had Boyd Dowler, Max McGee and Ron Kramer as a unit.

As far as the Lions were concerned however, Wilson contended last season that man for man the Lions matched any trio and even had more with four frontliners.

Cogdill, the 6th draft choice of the Lions in 1960, has caught at least one pass in every game he has played since joining the team. His streak now stands at 65.

He had a great start last year and was looking toward his first 1,000-yard season until a shoulder injury knocked him out of action for the final 5 games.

Rookie of the year in 1960, he was the team's most valuable player in 1962.

In his first four years he grabbed 189 passes for 3,524 yards and last year he added 45 more and 665 yards before his injury.

Ironically, despite his "small" hands which measure 7 1/4 inches down the middle, compared to Clark's 10 1/4 inches, Cogdill is considered the hand and arm receiver as compared to many who are strictly arm and chest receivers.

MANEUVERS WELL

Don Doll, former Lions' assistant sitting in the Philadelphia press box for the Eagles-Lions exhibition contest last Sunday, commented, "He's not only the best in the league but he's one of the smartest when it comes to maneuvering for the ball with the pass defender."

Dave Whitsett, corner back of the Chicago Bears can attest to this.

Cogdill scored one of the most spectacular touchdowns ever seen in Tiger Stadium two years ago against the Bears and he didn't even make the original catch of the ball.

Whitsett and Cogdill went up together for the ball in the end zone, and it was Whitsett who actually caught the ball.

"He had position on me," Cogdill said at that time, "so I let him take it and on the way down I pulled it away from him."

Even the official appeared stunned as did 50,000 fans who thought it was intercepted. But when Cogdill came off the ground with the ball, the official signaled a Lions' touchdown.

This season, Cogdill has as his big aim — to break the 1,000-yard pass receiving barrier which has eluded him for five years.

Can You Match This Big Hand?

The shaded area (smaller hand) belongs to Detroit Lions' star pass receiver Gail Cogdill.

The larger hand (in black lines) is that of Lions' linebacker Ernie Clark.

From the base of the thumb at the joint of the wrist to the tip of the middle finger Clark's hand measures 10 1/4 inches. Cogdill's is 7 1/4 from the same points.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Due to the process used in reproducing and printing, the drawing of Clark's hand measures 9 1/4 inches.) Can you match Ernie Clark's hand?

If so, you may get yourself two tickets to the Detroit

Lions' season opener, September 19 against the Los Angeles Rams.

To measure accurately, place the joint of your hand and wrist at the bottom of the drawing as shown, with the base of the thumb at the wrist on the small black protruding line on the lower left.

All persons who think they have matched the hand should present themselves to The Press sports department before 1:00 p.m. Friday.

The first person or the closest one to match Clark's hand, by the decision of the sports staff, will get the two tickets.

Rain Dampens Tiger Pitching

DETROIT (AP) — The Tigers were on the right track Wednesday night but got no cooperation from the weatherman and will have to try to beat the Minnesota Twins twice today.

Denny McLain carried a 1-0 lead into the top of the fourth inning and had two strikes on the first batter before the umpires called a halt to play because of rain.

The game was finally called after the tarpaulin had been removed once, only to be put back on the field as the rain continued.

"It's just tough luck, that's all," said Manager Charlie Dressen, who faces a tough assignment in getting pitchers ready for a number of games coming up.

Both the Tigers and Twins have doubleheaders scheduled Friday, Minnesota at Los Angeles and Detroit at Boston. But while the Twins will get a break in the time difference, the Tigers are slated to start their first game with the Red Sox at 4 p.m.

"I may have to start a pitcher I haven't started yet this year," Dressen confessed.

TOUGH ON BOTH

He was planning on having Mickey Lolich available for one of the games today. Dave Wickersham will pitch the other.

"It's going to be tough on both of us," Dressen said, "but maybe the Twins will feel it more because they are in first place and this just adds to the pressure."

"But I'm really concerned about beating them Thursday. I'll worry about Friday's pitchers later," he added.

McLain gave up a first-inning single to Tony Oliva and had three strikeouts in the three innings he pitched. All of the records are eliminated by the rain. Don Wert led off the Detroit first inning with a single, moved to second on Jerry Lumpe's sacrifice, to third after Gates Brown flied out and scored on a passed ball.

Dressen said he did not try to make the Tigers play faster—to try to get the required 4 1/2 innings played—because he has seen too many things go wrong. Should the two games today also be postponed, an attempt would have to be made to play them the next time the Tigers are in Minnesota.

If that should fail, then the teams would meet on some date on which both teams are scheduled to have the day off.

Medal Play Includes Saturday Eliminations

A field of 70 golfers will tee off Saturday morning at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course in a battle for 30 berths in the City Men's Medal Play tournament.

The 30 low scorers from the 18-hole round will move into the hole finals, which will be played next Saturday and Sunday (Aug. 28-29), 18 holes each day.

Past champions along with the low five scorers last year are exempt from qualifying.

Dick Robertson of Pontiac won the title last with an even par 70-68-138 and he is expected to be on hand next week to defend the crown.

QB Problem as Wolverines Await Drills

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan football coach Bump Elliott promises a quick start when he welcomes some 73 candidates for the start of drills Monday.

Finding a quarterback to replace graduated Al-America Bob Timberlake and four ends are Elliott's biggest problems in preparing his defending Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions for the 1965 campaign.

"The pace will be fast for the first week since we must get in a lot of conditioning and preliminary work in a short time. Since we're moving into a ten-game schedule this year, the opener... will be only about four weeks off when we start," Elliott said.

CANDIDATES

Dick Vidmer, regarded as a possible understudy to Timberlake when he broke his leg in early fall practice, and Wally Gabler appear to be the prime candidates for the quarterback job.

The Wolverines will hold two-a-day sessions for the first week, then will be limited to single sessions with the start of the following week.

The Wolverines open the season Sept. 18 against North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Spain Tennis Winner

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Manuel Santana, Spain's No. 1 player who led the Spanish team to victory over the United States in the Davis Cup interzone round, pulled out of his final match against Dennis Ralston today after Juan Gisbert had given Spain a 4-0 lead in the series.

Gisbert defeated Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, in today's opening match.

Santana had been scheduled to play Ralston, the U.S. No. 1 player from Bakersfield, Calif., in the final match. He claimed an injury to his hand and after a long, bitter hassle George MacCall, the non-playing captain of the U.S. team, agreed to let Ralston play Juan Manuel Couder, reserve member of the Spanish team.

At one time MacCall had threatened to forfeit both the final day's matches if Santa did not play. But he finally consented to the first match and word went around that Santana would play.

However, a half hour after the first match, Santana's name was taken from the scoreboard. Three doctors — one American, one-Spanish and one Venezuelan — examined Santana's hand and found he had a bruised bone on his racket hand, an old injury.

CHECKS HAND

MacCall continued the argument a while, then asked to see the Spanish star. A moment later he came back and told Ralston: "You are playing Couder. I looked at Santana's hand. It is bad."

Gisbert, who replaced Couder as the No. 2 Spanish player this year, showed great court-covering ability and a wide variety of shots as he won his second match of the series.

The 6-foot-4 Froehling raked the sidelines with his wide-swinging forehands and looked as if he might pull out the match when Gisbert appeared to tie toward the end of the fourth set.

But Gisbert, after dropping the last two games of the fourth, rallied and won three games at the start of the fifth set. Froehling managed to tie it at 3-3 but the young Spaniard ran out the match by winning the next three games.

Defending WPGA Champ Ousted in Tournament

Mrs. John Hume Jr. of Birmingham is often cast in the role of the underdog in her play on the Women's District Golf Association circuit, but she seldom plays like one.

Earlier in the season in the WPGA stroke play tournament at Birmingham Country Club, Mrs. Hume was eight strokes behind Mrs. Keith LeClair of Barton Hills, 2-1.

Everyone gave up but Mrs. Hume. She rallied to win the title by one stroke.

Yesterday, in the quarter-final round of the WPGA match play tournament at Country Club of Detroit, she was expected to lose to Joyce Kazmier, sister of Grosse Ile, the defending champion.

She didn't. She eliminated Miss Kazmier in easy fashion.

ion, 4-3, and she moves to the semifinals today to take on Mrs. Robert Gamble of Lochmoor, who defeated Mrs. Keith LeClair of Barton Hills, 2-1.

OTHER MATCHES

In other matches, Mrs. Anthony Koutas of Dearborn posted a 1 up win over Grosse Ile's Emily Gall in 20 holes, and Mrs. Frank Richard of Barton Hills defeated Mrs. Frank Campsie 1 up in 19 holes.

Mrs. Hume, who started today as the favorite, is bidding for her sixth WPGA match play title.

As Marjorie Row, she won in 1941, 1942 and 1945, and as Mrs. Hume she collected her fourth in 1960 and her fifth in 1963.

Only One Win Shy of Crown

Eyes Third Straight Tonight at Jaycee

Only one victory separates Huron-Airway from its third straight city Class A baseball championship following last night's 5-2 win over Pontiac Business Institute at Jaycee Park.

The rain-delayed, best-of-three men's playoff finally began despite continuing light showers in order to avoid backing the city playoffs into Saturday night's opening game of the state regional tournament here.

Much like the rain, Huron-Airway did most of its damage early in the evening. Five first-inning markers comprised the winner's game total.

Then southpaw Tom Walters led PHI at a safe distance, limiting the regular season leaders to four hits and permitting only two baserunners at the same time just once.

Walters whiffed 15 batters in the nine-inning playoff tilt, finishing with a flourish by striking the last five men on strikes.

WILD STREAK
Wildness was the downfall of PHI starter Larry Frye. The young Pontiac Northern hurler walked four batters in the first inning and each one scored.

Bating leader Al Barkeye actually ignited the rally with a ground single to center with two out that drove in the first run. Three walks later, Mike Dodge ripped a line drive hit to right for the third and fourth runs.

A bases-loaded walk to Chan Simmons and his pilfering of home on a delayed double steal accounted for the other runs.

The business institute squad managed an unearned run in the sixth off Walters — who hasn't lost this season — and a legitimate seventh-inning marker on a walk and Dan Grieger's two-out single.

The second game is slated for 7:30 p.m. today under the lights at Jaycee, and a third game if necessary will be tomorrow at the same time.

OLYMPIANS TESTIFY — Three former Olympic Games athletes meet with Sen. Warren Magnuson (left) of Washington prior to testifying yesterday in Washington, D.C. The three, who were called to comment on the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Association over the control of Amateur Athletics in the U.S., are Harold Connolly (next to the senator), Bobby Morrow (second from right) and Pontiac's Hayes Jones.

Jones Cites Animosity

Sports Writers Have Say on Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating senators called on the press today for perspective on the feud that has been told menaces the careers of brilliant young athletes and threatens U.S. stature as a track and field power.

With no sign appearing of a lasting peace plan between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Senate Commerce Committee called four sports writers to testify.

It listed them as Paul Zimmerman, the Los Angeles Times; Harry Missidine, the Spokane, Wash., Spokesman-Review; Fred Russell, the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, and Morris McLemore, the Miami News.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said he wants newsmen's perspective.

On the one hand, the AAU claims the right to sanction open competition in which collegiate and other talent competes for national honors and berths on track and field teams representing the United States in international competition up to and including the Olympic Games.

The AAU contends the NCAA should have the right to sanction only those meets in which none but collegians from NCAA schools compete.

The NCAA, however, claims a right to grant or withhold its sanction for collegians in which they are AAU or any other meets. It says this is necessary to protect students' welfare and make sure that too many meets don't hurt their studies.

JONES TESTIFIES

Pontiac's Hayes Jones took part in yesterday's hearings and he told the committee, "In all my years of competing nationally or internationally, I have never known of the AAU to misuse an athlete or a representative."

"This feud is causing animosity between the coach and athlete," added Jones, a 1964 Olympic hurdles champion.

Jones suggested "Athletes should be able to choose whatever amateur meet they wish to compete in without stipulation or penalties attached."

Another Olympian, Harold Connolly, gold medal hammer thrower, attacked the AAU by saying, "AAU administrative blunders have always posed a potential danger to U.S. track success," pointing to the recent loss to the Russians.

Bright young U.S. Olympic hopes, the 880-yard speedster Tom Farrell of St. John's University, Jamaica, N.Y., and Gerry Lindgren, fleet distance runner from Washington State University, have testified they may be barred from further college competition by NCAA for defying its boycott against the San Diego AAU meet in which they won places on the U.S. team that lost to Russia recently.

Jesse T. Hill, a member of the NCAA policy making executive committee, testified Wednesday "there is no assurance the NCAA infractions committee is going to inflict any such penalties" on athletes or their schools.

No one asked and he did not say whether there was any assurance there would be no penalties.

Hill stressed that he spoke as athletic director at the University of Southern California, not for NCAA. This group and the AAU will get their official findings on the witness stand next week.

In Recruiting Hassle

Coach Turns to NCAA

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida Coach Ray Graves was expected today to carry his charges of recruiting rule violations against Army Coach Paul Dietzel to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Graves said Wednesday he would ask the NCAA to rule whether Dietzel had been guilty of "unethical practices" in recruiting a Pompano Beach back who had signed with the Gators.

"I know the press is no place to legislate or resolve college recruiting policies," said Graves. "For that reason, I'm going to the NCAA."

Graves had accused Dietzel of luring Ron Essman, a 6-foot-118-pounder from Florida by unethical means to attend a prep school while awaiting a probable appointment to West Point.

"I believe there is enough evidence to bring this and other similar situations before the NCAA for review," Graves said.

Dietzel, a former Louisiana State University head football coach, denied all charges of rule violations or unethical practices. He affirmed that

Birds MVP Spurs Club in 3-2 Win

By the Associated Press
Brooks Robinson must be the only man in baseball who could consider hitting into a triple play a lucky omen.

Baltimore's classy third baseman battered into one a year ago — while in a hot streak — and wound up the American League's Most Valuable Player. He started another triple play with a grounder in his first at-bat Wednesday night but wound up leading the Orioles to a 3-2 victory over Boston, climbing nearer the league batting leadership, and improving his chances for a second MVP award.

Robinson singled on his second trip to the plate and scored, then drove across the winning run with another single in the eighth inning. His two hits raised his average to .327 — a climb of 31 points this month — and left him just one point behind Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who was 1-for-4.

In other AL action Johnny Romano and Pete Ward powered the Chicago White Sox to their sixth straight victory, 8-2 over Washington; the Los Angeles Angels beat the New York Yankees 7-3 with a four-run eighth inning; and Cleveland split with Kansas City, winning 4-1 after a 4-2 setback. Detroit had a 1-0 lead over Minnesota's first-place Twins when their game at Detroit was rained out in the fourth inning.

FOUR RBIS

Romano batted in four White Sox runs with a homer and single, while Ward knocked in three with a homer and single. Bruce Howard blanked the Senators through eight innings, but was touched for two runs in the ninth and needed relief help from Bob Locker.

Willie Smith started the Angels' eighth-inning uprising against the Yankees with a pinch triple off reliever Pedro Ramos and scored the go-ahead run on Merritt Ranew's pinch single. Joe Adcock's single, Bobby Knapp's double and a ground out by Bob Rodgers cashed in three more.

Adcock also hit a two-run homer in the first, off Whitey Ford. Mickey Mantle homered in the third for New York and Bobby Richardson evened it at 3-3 with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Dean Chance, struggling this year after winning the Cy Young Award as the majors' top pitcher last season, pulled his record to 9-9 with the victory.

Jose Tartabull paced the A's over Cleveland in the doubleheader opener with four hits, one run scored and an RBI. But the Indians came back with early cannonading in the second game, getting homers by Rocky Colavito, Fred Whitefield and Pedro Gonzalez in the first two innings for a quick 4-0 lead.

PIRATE CATCHES THIEF — Pittsburgh Pirate shortstop Gene Alley (right) makes put out on Houston Astro baserunner Jim Wynn last night on attempted first inning steal. Wynn broke for second base as pitcher Bob Veale of the Pirates threw to first base and the relay to Alley was in time to catch Wynn before he could slide into second.

49ers' Brodie Healthy

Packers Deal for Redskins' End

DE PERE, Wis. — The Green Bay Packers obtained seven-year veteran Bill Anderson from the Washington Redskins Wednesday, in trade for a high 1966 draft choice.

Anderson, 29, will be attempting a comeback in the National Football League after working last year as a coach. The 6-foot-3, 225-pounder was a Pro Bowl selection as a split end in 1959 and 1960.

Anderson was switched to tight end in 1961 and is expected to remain at that spot for the Packers, possibly as an understudy to second-year man Marv Fleming. Fleming stepped in when Ron Kramer's option expired and he went to the Detroit Lions.

Safety Tom Brown, who filled in for sidelined defensive captain Hank Gremminger last Saturday, intercepted two passes Wednesday while playing against a simulated Chicago Bears offense.

The two squads will clash in the annual Shrine game at Milwaukee Saturday night.

MORAGA, Calif. — San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie was back throwing the football Wednesday at the 49er's pre-season training camp.

A team spokesman said Brodie was back to normal after being sidelined during last Saturday's Cleveland Browns exhibition game with a sore back.

The 49ers stressed defensive drills in preparation for their coming game against the Dallas Cowboys at Portland, Ore.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y. — John Huarte, who will start at quarterback for the New York Jets in Saturday afternoon's pre-season exhibition game against the Buffalo Bills at Rutgers University, went through extra drills as a place-kicker in Wednesday's practice.

The Notre Dame star, most valuable player in the College All-star game, is the No. 2 field goal and place kicker behind Jim Turner.

"Johnny won't do any kicking on Saturday," said Coach Webb Ewbank. "Turner has looked better than ever and thrives on work. We're just keeping Huarte ready."

"I'm more than satisfied with all of our kicking. Curley Johnson is punting better than last year, too. We are far ahead of last year's program."

3 State Golfers Bid for Junior Tourney

IOWA CITY (AP)—John Richard of Ann Arbor was paired with John Whittle of Batavia, Ill., in the Western Junior Golf Tournament today. John Grace, Grosse Pointe Shores, faced Al Bailey, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Toby Burt, Ann Arbor, was matched with Roger Puls, DuBuque, Iowa.

3 Malaysian States Top Targets for Indonesia

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — Suddenly the tiny Chinese clapboard house was surrounded by sea dyak police — their heavily tattooed bodies and artificially lengthened earlobes a reminder of their former headhunting days.

Some carried parangs — the dreaded long knives they used those days to part heads from bodies. Most toted modern burp guns.

They had slipped silently through the lush green lines of pepper trees that edged on the house. Now they ordered the Chinese inside to come out.

The door of the house, covered with Chinese good luck characters faded by the fierce Borneo sun, opened and a Chinese in blue pajamas shuttled slowly out.

SEARCHED HOUSE

The police then searched the house. A report had been received that the Chinese was hiding weapons for the Clandestine Communist Organization — the pro-Peking terror group that has threatened to take over this Malaysian state.

Scenes like this are everyday occurrence in Sarawak — a still largely primitive country the size of England.

With the encouragement given to Indonesia by the separation of Singapore from Malaysia — the first crack in the federation Jakarta has promised to break up — these scenes are likely to be repeated in Malaysia's other Borneo state, Sabah, and the British protectorate of Brunei.

These three states now are likely to be top-priority targets for Indonesian infiltration. British authorities believe the Indonesians will make an all-out effort to stir up internal trouble.

15 PER CENT

In Sarawak, 15 per cent of the 244,000 Chinese are believed pro-Peking Communist and anti-Malaysia. The Indonesians will find these elements willing subjects for revolution. The Chinese make up nearly a third of the state's population.

Already Chinese Communists attacked a police post and left nine dead.

In Brunei, an oil-rich state the size of Delaware, the threat comes from about 1,800 rebels living in the jungles. They tried to overthrow the sultan in 1962.

Sultan Omar Ali Saifuddin, 53, does not help lessen the threat. Despite British pressure he still pockets the greater part of the royalties that come in from the Seria oil fields operated by Shell. This and his autocratic ways have made him unpopular among the Malays who form most of the 90,000 population of the country. His attitude was mainly responsible to the revolt in 1962, which British troops crushed rapidly.

SAID WORSE

One British official said recently that the present situation in Brunei is worse now than it was before the last revolt.

The largest town in the state is Brunei. Except for the imposing gold-minareted Omar Ali Saifuddin mosque and the artificial lagoon that surrounds it, the sultan's palace and a handful of government buildings, the rest of the capital is little more than a shanty town.

At one stage, the Sultanate of Brunei extended over most of the islands of Borneo. The name Borneo in fact is an early variation of Brunei.

It started to decline toward the end of the 18th century. By the 19th century, most of its territory was taken over by the English adventurer, James Brooke, who became the first white rajah and made Sarawak his private domain.

IN SABAH

In the other Malaysian state in Borneo, Sabah, the threat of internal unrest is posed by some 19,000 Indonesians who work in the state's large timber industry.

British intelligence officers believe Indonesia already has tried to make use of these Indonesians for subversion and feel sure that they will now increase their efforts.

Sabah also faces all-out Indonesian aggression along its southern border — especially in the Tawau area.

Tawau is one of the hottest areas of Indonesia's confrontation along a 900-mile border based largely on a natural watershed that divides Malaysia and Indonesia.

BACKWATER

Sabah remained a mysterious backwater for centuries until a group of Americans showed interest in the area.

Exactly 100 years ago, the Star-Spangled Banner was unfurled over "American Colony of Benomi and Kimania" just a few miles from Jesselton. Joseph W. Torrey, an American with the grand title of "Rajah of Ambong and Marudu, Sir Maharajah of North Borneo" ruled with a benevolent but short-lived hand.

Torrey had the power of life and death over his subjects, the right to coin money and make laws, and all the other powers and rights exercised by a sovereign ruler. His colony was never officially recognized by the U.S. government.

The internal threat to Sarawak, Brunei and Sabah is summed up by Britain's director of Borneo operations, Maj. Gen. George Lea.

INFILTRATORS

"The Indonesians will try to infiltrate small parties of saboteurs, terrorists, assassins, subverters and spies to spread alarm and despondency and to lower civilian morale," Lea says.

"We can be sure that the Indonesians will not rest with what they have achieved so far."

Tall and Frosty Fruit Juice Coolers

When simmering from summer heat, it's time to head for a shady nook in search of cooling refreshment. Some of the coolest warm weather props are fruit juice coolers. With a canned juice assortment on hand they can be ready whenever the temperature warrants.

Enjoy them plain or blended... poured over sherbet or cracked ice and garnished with fluffs of whipped cream or skewered tidbits of fruit.

To go with "sippin' refreshment, serve crisp or cake-like cookies and other finger foods.

Following a dip in the pool, you'll most surely enjoy a frosty Grape Shrub. Prepare a pitcher full ahead, and after the swim pour it into tall, slim glasses over finely crushed ice.

Grape Shrub
1 cup water
½ cup sugar

1 bottle (1 pt. 8 fl. oz.) grape juice
½ cup canned lemon juice
1½ cups canned orange juice
Finely crushed ice
Combine water and sugar in a saucepan; heat until sugar is dissolved. Combine chilled juices with water-sugar syrup; mix well. Chill.

Pour over crushed ice and garnish with a sprig of mint or melon ball kabob, if desired. Six servings.

A Honey of a Refresher
1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade concentrate Water
½ cup honey
1 bottle (1 qt.) cranberry juice cocktail

Combine thawed lemonade concentrate with water following label directions. Stir in honey and cranberry juice cocktail and mix well. Chill. Serve over ice cubes in tall glasses. Garnish with lemon slices and strawberries, if desired. Ten servings.

You'll want to prepare Apple Citrus Medley in advance to bring out the touches of sugar and spice. Garnish this one gaily by alternating canned pineapple chunks and maraschino cherries on wooden skewers for "above-the-brim" kabobs.

Apple Citrus Medley
½ cup sugar
¼ cup water
1" stick cinnamon
2 whole cloves
1 can (1 pt. 2 fl. oz.) orange grapefruit juice
1 bottle (1 pt.) apple juice
Combine sugar, water, cinnamon stick and cloves; simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Strain out the cinnamon and cloves; add fruit juices and chill. Pour into tall glasses over ice; garnish with long skewers of pineapple chunks and maraschino cherries if desired. Six servings.

For an afternoon's diversion, relax and contemplate the up and coming activities over a Lemon Scooper. Grapefruit juice with lemon sherbet makes a tangy, but most refreshing treat.

Lemon Scooper
1 can (1 qt. 14 fl. oz.) grapefruit juice
1 cup sugar
Lemon sherbet
Combine chilled juice and sugar, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Serve in tall glasses and top with scoops of sherbet. Garnish with twists of lemon or orange, if desired. Six servings.

A brandy snifter is the perfect glass from which to sip a pastel Apricot Nog. The juice companions are apricot nectar and pineapple juice whipped until foamy with milk and eggs. For the garnish use a light sprinkling of chocolate shot.

Apricot Nog
4 eggs
½ cup cold milk
¼ cup sugar
1 can (12 oz.) apricot nectar
1 can (1 pt. 2 fl. oz.) pineapple juice
½ teaspoon vanilla
Chocolate candy shot
Beat egg yolks until light and fluffy; add milk, sugar and apricot nectar. Blend in pineapple juice and vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into juice. Serve sprinkled with chocolate candy shot. Eight servings.

Try Liver Spread With Mushrooms

You may not have tried this particular combination.

Special Mushrooms
1 can (6 ounces whole mushrooms)
1 can (4½ ounces) liver spread
3 tablespoons dry sherry

Using a small sharp knife or a demitasse spoon, remove the stems from the mushroom caps; chop stems fine and mix with liver spread and sherry.

Using a pastry tube, fill the mushroom-cap cavities with the spread, mounding it as high as possible. The remaining liver spread may be served with crackers.

Sweets Catch Fancy of All

Date-Coconut Fancies come to the aid of any party, and beautifully so. Many hostesses needlessly shy away from entertaining, or even fussing for the family, just as soon as the temperature climbs. But if she lets convenience foods do her work, she'll always be calm and cool regardless of the season.

The Borden Kitchen turned the trick with these confections made so simply with pitted dates, walnut pieces, sweetened condensed milk and flaked coconut.

Date-Coconut Fancies
1 (8-oz.) package pitted dates
½ cup (one-half 15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
1½ cups (one 3½-oz. can) flaked coconut
Stuff pitted dates with walnut pieces. Shape each in a ball about the size of a walnut.

In a small mixing bowl, combine condensed milk and coconut; mix well. Roll each stuffed date in coconut mixture until evenly coated. Place on waxed paper; let stand until firm. If desired, place in fluted paper cups to serve. Makes about 40 confections.

Pie Filling Tops Cherry Dessert That's Yummy

Whatever your preference, Michigan cherries add color, flavor, and complements to meal plans. Here's a recipe from one of the cherry grower's wives:

Cherry Meringue
20 soda crackers, rolled fine
¼ cup butter
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 can cherry pie filling
Whipped cream
Mix cracker crumbs and butter; press mixture on bottom and side of a 11x7-inch glass baking dish.

Beat egg whites until stiff and gradually add sugar. Spread over cracker shell and bake at 400 degrees 10 minutes. Cool. Spread cherry pie filling on meringue and top with whipped cream. Serves six to eight.

If you plan to reheat leftover roast beef without slicing it, be sure to bring the meat to room temperature before you put it in the oven.

HORST FAAS of The Associated Press

Armed only with a camera, Horst Faas has served side by side with combat troops in Viet Nam since 1962—photographing the tragic action of a seemingly endless war. Before that he photographed the turbulent Congo and rebellious Algeria. His achievements in Viet Nam won for him the 1965 Pulitzer Prize for “daring and courageous combat photography” and the Robert Capa Award for “superlative photography requiring exceptional courage and enterprise.” Faas’ pictures and eyewitness stories appear in...

It's Scallop Festival Time!

Each August, when you might expect summer doldrums to put a damper on activity, the port of New Bedford, Mass. comes alive. It's Scallop Festival time!

Into this old whaling port, where the succulent scallop now reigns as king, come inlanders by the thousands to savor this tasty Atlantic Ocean shellfish.

Three days of feasting on scallops, fresh from the sea and fried to a golden brown, culminate a week of bustling activity that has seen the crowning of a festival queen, a highly competitive recipe contest, and a scallop shucking contest that matches the best of New Bedford scallopers with those of Nova Scotia.

Most of the country's scallops are harvested in the cool waters of Georges Bank, an 80-mile stretch of ocean that lies SCALLOP BOAT SUPPER—Popularity of scallops has increased greatly in the past few years and the demand has had its effect on prices. But scallop lovers take consolation in the fact that there is no waste to pay for. Its versatility in unusual dishes is another reason for its popularity. Here's a favorite dish of New Bedford fishing families:

Melon, Plums Make a Jam

The queen of plums, Santa Rosa, and the princely western fruit of the vine, cantaloupe, combine into a burgundy-colored Cantaloupe Plum Jam. This easy to make spread is delicious on bread and topping for ice cream or cake.

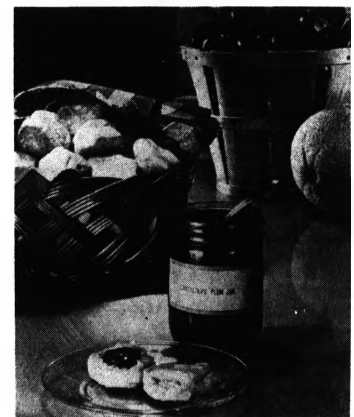

Approximately 35 per cent of all plums produced in this State are the Santa Rosa variety. You will recognize it by the conical shape and purplish crimson color. The flesh is yellow to dark red near the skin with a pleasing tart flavor and plenty of juice.

Cantaloupe on the firmer side rather than ripe for eating stage is best for making jam.

Cantaloupe Plum Jam
2 medium cantaloupe (2 cups puree)
2 pounds red plums (2 cups puree)
4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Remove rind from melons and cut flesh into chunks. Puree in blender or food mill. Remove pits from plums and puree flesh. Put both fruits in a large kettle and bring to a boil. Add sugar and lemon juice.

Gently boil the mixture until the desired consistency, about 30-45 minutes. Remove scum. Pour into sterilized pint jar and seal. Makes 2 pints.

NEW KIND OF JAM—Cantaloupe and red plums are pureed then cooked with sugar for a jam that's really different. Cook a batch now and store for winter when home-made jams are especially welcome. Set some aside for gift giving too.

Lamb on Skewer Can Be Broiled in House or Yard

You can broil this seasoned lamb indoors or out.

Skewered Lamb With Green Pepper
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
1/4 teaspoon dried oregano
1 bay leaf, crumbled
1 1/2 pounds lean boneless lamb (from leg) cut in two-inch chunks
1 medium onion, cut in thin rings
1 clove garlic, peeled and quartered
2 green peppers, cut in large squares

In a shallow container, mix together the oil, salt, pepper, allspice, oregano, cumin seed and bay leaf. Add the meat and coat with the seasonings.

In a tall wide-mouth jar, layer the seasoned meat, onion rings and garlic; cover tightly; refrigerate for 6 hours or overnight.

Insert meat and green pepper squares alternately on 4 long skewers. Broil close to high heat until brown on all sides and cooked through — turning as necessary.

The onion rings may be broiled separately on a small sheet of foil. Makes 4 servings.

Defrost scallops. If frozen: cut in halves, crosswise. Cover with boiling water; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Drain.

Trim crusts from top and sides of bread loaf. With a sharp knife remove inside of loaf in one piece, leaving a shell about 1/4-inch thick. Cut removed bread into cubes.

Brush bread shell inside and out with melted butter; toss bread cubes in melted butter; spread on baking sheet. Brown shell and cubes in 425-degree oven.

Melt 1/2 cup butter in frying pan. Add onion, green pepper and mushrooms; cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned. Blend in flour. Add milk; stir, over low heat until smooth and thickened.

Cut olives in half; add. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir in wine. Add scallops and bread cubes; heat to serving temperature. Spoon scallop mixture into bread case. Serve at once, makes 6 servings.

Sandwiches Man-Sized

Sandwiches are Mother's favorite helpmate for summer meal planning. These easy-to-fix menu headlines are favorites with young and old alike and can offer virtually a whole meal in a single edible "package."

Protein-rich beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce provide the impetus for Patio Bean Sandwiches. These hearty open-face sandwiches also feature cucumber, onion, green pepper, and seasonings of garlic and dill. Hard rolls provide crunch, and mild cheese adds mellow flavor goodness.

Keep a variety of canned bean products on hand for easy summer meals. Serve the beans heated, just as they come from the can, for a convenient lunch or supper main dish. Combine the beans with other ingredients for taste-tempting salads, sandwiches, and skillet dishes.

Patio Bean Sandwiches
1 can (1 pound) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce
1/2 cup cucumber slices cut in half
1/2 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 small clove garlic, minced
Generous dash dill
2 round hard rolls, cut in half
4 slices mild process cheese, cut in half diagonally.

In bowl, combine beans, cucumber, onion, green pepper, garlic and dill. Scoop out center of rolls. Spoon bean mixture into rolls. Broil about 4 inches from heat for 7 minutes. Arrange cheese on top. Broil until cheese melts. Makes 4 sandwiches.

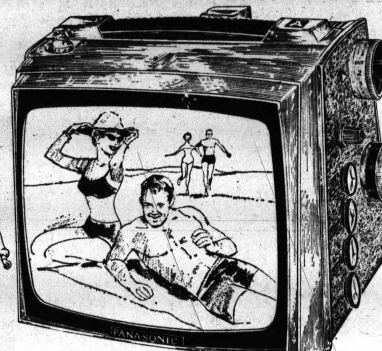

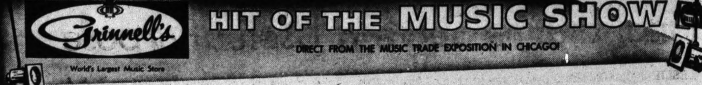

Scallop Kebabs
Cooking lunch outdoors for guests? Alternate scallops and small mushrooms on long skewers; brush with butter and broil over charcoal. Don't overcook the scallops or they will be tough.

Herb-Olive Sauce Aids Vegetables

Glamorize green peas, spinach or green beans with "Herb-Olive Vegetable Sauce." It's an easy-do mixture of vegetable bouillon, ripe olive wedges, onion and herbs.

Herb-Olive Vegetable Sauce
1/2 cup ripe olives
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup water
1 vegetable bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon crushed chervil
1/2 teaspoon crushed basil
1/4 teaspoon crushed tarragon

Cut olives into wedges. Melt butter; add onion and saute until tender-crisp. Stir in flour, water, bouillon cube and herbs. Cook, stirring constantly until bouillon cube dissolves and mixture thickens. Add olives. Serve over hot cooked green peas, spinach or green beans. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Final Exams Serve a Useful Purpose

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: I have three children who will be returning to school in grades ranging from the fourth to the 12th. I have two questions that bothered me last term:

1. What, in your opinion, is the purpose of final yearly exams?
2. If a student misses exams for an adequate reason, should he be given an F or be allowed to take the exams he missed?

Mrs. H. J., Edison, N.J.

I favor semester finals rather than yearly exams. Final exams serve a useful purpose, but a year is too long between show-downs. While a student may cram for unit tests, he must strive for more permanent learning to cope with the longer cumulative final examinations.

This sets up good learning habits to meet the kind of tests he must take in college or other post-high-school training.

Any student who happens to be ill or absent due to an emergency in the family should be allowed to take the examinations he misses.

Dear Dr. Nason: My daughter, five, completed kindergarten this spring. She is a middle child between two boys. She is extremely shy in school, although not that way at home or with friends.

At the end of the term, her class was brought into a new first grade for a welcome by last year's first graders. The children were asked to tell their names but my daughter wouldn't speak.

Is there any way we could help her with this problem when school resumes? Mrs. P.M.A., Albany, N.Y.

Invite some of the children from her school class to your home as often as possible. Arrange games for them to play, in which each child in turn has to speak up as well as play a part. For example, playing school with just a few other children might well break the ice and accustom her to speaking in the presence of others.

With the ice broken at home, she will have more confidence when she sees the same friends in the schoolroom.

Dear Dr. Nason: Is it fair, in your opinion, to wait until the end of the 10th or 11th week of studying a new subject to inform a student that he is failing and will not be allowed to continue the subject the next term? Mrs. T. J., Edison, N.J.

It should be the policy to tell a student at the earliest possible date that his work is unsatisfactory, should such be the case. A student's grade should not rest so heavily upon the final examination but he could be warned earlier if he is in danger of failing. In most cases, an adequate testing program will uncover the problem cases by the end of the fourth or fifth week.

(You can write to Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in his column.)

Take a look at the North and South hands only. You are playing three-no-trump and duck the first two spade leads. You win the third spade and run off five club tricks. Your opponents have a lot of diamonds. If they throw away the last two spades you can afford to go after hearts and will be sure of your contract.

If they hang on to their spades you will need three diamond tricks and will have to pick up the queen to get them.

A good declarer playing against ordinary opponents would have little or no trouble. The chances are that East would have discarded problems and would probably let go the four of hearts first; the three of diamonds next and finally his last spade.

West on the other hand would

WILSON

Price Minister Harold Wilson will fly to New York in late September or early October to address the United Nations General Assembly.

There is little likelihood of a summit meeting in New York with President Johnson and Soviet Premier Kossygin, "authoritative sources said in London.

No date has been set for the Wilson trip.

Island's Doctor Delivers First Baby

Dr. Oscar Watson, first physician in a year in Tangier, Va., has delivered his first baby since arriving on the Chesapeake Bay island a month ago.

The baby—named Richard Watson Pruitt—is the first born on the island since 1957 and the first delivered by Dr. Watson since 1954, when he practiced in Denver, Colo.

The parents of the baby, born this week, are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pruitt.

Japanese Premier Visiting Okinawa

Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato arrived in Okinawa today for a three-day visit aimed at bringing the Ryuku Islands closer to the Japanese government.

He is the first Japanese prime minister to visit the U.S.-administered islands since World War II. Japan has residual sovereignty.

Sato was met at the Naha Airport by Lt. Gen. Albert Watson, the U.S. high commissioner.

Korea Turncoat Broke, Wants to Return

Korean War turncoat William C. White said today he is "flat broke" and has asked his mother in Kansas City to raise money for his passage back to the United States.

White, 35, of Plummerville, Ark., arrived in Hong Kong from Communist China Tuesday with his Chinese wife and two children. He chose to go to China at the end of the Korean War nearly 12 years ago.

"I have only 50 Hong Kong dollars left," White said. "From what I learned, the U.S. consulate here is not obliged to pay my fare back to America."

Bye, Bye, Bad Bison

DELTA JUNCTION, Alaska (UP)—That Anchorage man who had a bad bison in his basement is better now.

Richard Limbocker was baffled when the 1,500-pound bison tumbled down a coal chute into the basement of a vacant house his company owns.

At first it was thought the animal could be pulled out with an auto wrecker. But getting close to a belligerent bison in the basement is basically bad business.

Finally, part of the basement wall was removed, the dirt shoveled away and a ramp built to the ground outside. When no one was around Wednesday, the buffalo stole away.

'Fat Ladies' Remain Popular With Tribes

WASHINGTON — A famed "Fat Lady" carries great financial weight in East Africa and the Arabian peninsula, though she has been dead for nearly 200 years.

The ample profile of the Empress Maria Theresa of Austria appears on large silver coins called thalers. "Fat Ladies," as they are fondly known, are in great demand as a medium of exchange from Ethiopia to Mozambique and from Yemen to Muscat and Oman, the National Geographic Society says.

Though the Austrian coin has been popular for many years, newly independent African and Arabian states prefer to issue their own currency. The republican regime of strifeline Yemen recently outlawed thalers, but opposing royalist leaders pay their troops 15 Maria Theresa thalers a month.

"It is sentiment, custom, and familiarity — the confidence a tribesman has when he feels the great silver coin in the palm of his hand — that give the thaler its true worth," an English observer wrote. "Asked to take a coin which, though equally large, has lost the empress and also some of its weight, they think they have lost a friend."

Viet GI Insurance Bill Now Goes to the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to provide $100,000 in free insurance for American military personnel in Viet Nam and other combat zones has gone to the House after receiving voice approval Wednesday in the Senate.

The legislation results from refusal of many life insurance companies to write policies for men already in Viet Nam or alerted to move there.

Not an Insurrection, Just Drill Inspection

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police received a frantic telephone call yesterday, reporting that nine fire-wearing Negroes armed with rifles got out of three cars near the Anza school yard.

Officers, fearing the worst, rushed to the scene and found a drill team composed of members of the all-Negro Imperial Council of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. They were practicing for a parade.

Man Injured; Hit by Car

Robert Forbush Jr., 39, of 2791 Leach, Avon Township, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being struck by a car yesterday on Columbia.

The driver of the car, Gordon K. Dewey, 27, of 54 E. Princeton is listed in fair condition at the hospital.

Pontiac Man, 21, Bound Over on Robbery Charge

Claude Burnette, 21, of 305 Osburn was bound over to the Circuit Court for a charge of armed robbery.

The action was taken at the close of his examination before Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCullum.

Burnette also waived examination on a charge of larceny in connection with a break-in at Service Laundry, 271 Auburn, Aug. 25 in circuit court on this charge.

Two other men, James A. Wolfe, 21, of 285 Branch and Lewis Freeman, 17, of 289 Osburn, also charged with larceny in connection with the break-in face examination Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Stinging Jellyfish Force Beach Areas to Close

NEW YORK (AP) — Portuguese men-of-war jellyfish forced the closing Wednesday of two sections of Jones Beach on Long Island.

The fish, purplish and gelatinous with tentacles containing poison, have been stinging bathers from Manhattan to Chincoteague, Va.

You are Further Notified that a hearing on the matter will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 24, 1965, at the Court House, 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan. At that time, you will be heard and your views on the matter will be taken into consideration.

You are Further Notified that on said date the Commission intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 94.30 feet above sea level, and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 94.30 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why.

(a) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established; (b) Why 94.30 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake; (c) Why such other and further relief as the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to Complainant.

J. JEROME BRONSON, Prosecuting Attorney, Oakland County, Michigan; ROBERT P. ALLEN, Esq., Oakland County, Michigan; and CHARLES J. LONG, Esq., Oakland County, Michigan.

Office Address: Oakland County Court House, 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan. Phone: 338-4731.

Valachi Still in D. C. Cell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department still has not decided where to imprison Joseph Valachi, convicted murderer who divulged secrets of the nationwide crime syndicate called the Cosa Nostra in 1963.

Valachi, 60, has been in a special cell in the District of Columbia jail ever since he was brought to Washington to testify before a Senate committee.

William J. Hundley, chief of the department's organized crime section, said "there's been no change — we just haven't decided yet where we can put him where he will be the safest."

Hundley said Valachi has few visitors and is in excellent health. Valachi's cell, equipped with exercise equipment and television — is manned around the clock by federal guards.

NO WRITINGS

Valachi hasn't written anything since he turned out a thick manuscript of memoirs of his crime career last winter. The Justice Department still had not decided whether to accede to several requests that the manuscript be published.

Senate Fight Continues for Poverty Veto Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Undaunted by a string of defeats, Senate Republicans today planned to continue efforts to preserve the right of state governors to veto federal anti-poverty projects.

GOP floor fighters suffered five narrow defeats yesterday in their campaign to restore the veto power in legislation to authorize $1.65 billion for the second year of President Johnson's war on poverty.

But they planned to continue offering amendments in hopes of a break in administration ranks. The pending order of business as debate opened today was a move by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to weaken veto restrictions contained in the bill.

Governors now have a total veto over anti-poverty projects in their states. But under the pending measure, the veto could be revoked for community action, adult education and neighborhood youth corps programs.

The Senate began debate last Monday on the legislation. It would double current spending authority for the Job Corps, the domestic Peace Corps and community action programs.

BILL PASSED

The House has passed a $1.9-billion authorization for the same programs.

Prouty's amendment would permit governors to veto a project if it provides a salary larger than the pay of the highest state welfare official; permits political exploitation of the poor, denies the poor a voice on the board of community action agencies; permits a person convicted of moral turpitude to remain on the board; or creates great social unrest and serious disturbances.

Backlog behind the veto amendments are proposals by Prouty to limit the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), which now administers most anti-poverty projects, to the Job Corps, Domestic Peace Corps, and community action programs. The rest would be parceled out to other agencies.

The Republicans came close to their first five attempts to restore the veto. Twice they lost on the votes, twice by one vote, and once by three votes.

DEFEAT AVERTED

In each case, administration forces managed to rush enough senators to the floor to stave off defeat.

In another vote, senators agreed to let R. Sargent Shriver stay on as both administrator of the OEO and Peace Corps director.

They rejected, 59 to 30, an amendment by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., which would have prevented Shriver from wearing two hats in the government.

Earlier this year the Senate included the Javits amendment in a Peace Corps bill. But the provision was dropped during House-Senate compromise sessions.

Yesterday's vote was enough for Javits. "I consider it settled — I'll make the best of the situation," he said after the defeat.

Shigeta Stars With Elvis

Hawaiian Singer Home for Film

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HONOLULU — The view from the 30th floor of the Ilikai Hotel looked good to Jimmy Shigeta. Before him in the twilight glow was the verdant sprawl of his home town.

"I get back here about twice a year," he said, "and THOMAS each time it seems more wonderful than before."

Jimmy had returned this time not for a vacation, but to work. He has played in nightclubs and concerts in Honolulu, but never before had he made a movie here. He is costarring with Elvis Presley in "Hawaiian Paradise," in which they play buddies who operate a helicopter service.

When he isn't working, Elvis is sequestered in his 22nd-floor wing of the Ilikai, surrounded by 14 aides and hangers-on.

TRAVELS FREELY

Jimmy Shigeta is less remote. He travels freely about town, enjoying reunions with old pals and visiting with members of his vast family. "I've got cousins, nephews and nieces all over town," he explained. "They come in all sizes and colors, including blondes."

A third-generation Hawaiian of Japanese ancestry, the singer-actor was born in Kona on the big island of Hawaii and came to Oahu at an early age. As the lights of the city began their nightly sparkle, he pointed out places where he had lived, gone to school, etc.

The most fun I remember as a kid was a sport we would play after a cloudburst," Jimmy remarked. "We would go up in the hills over there and pick a hill with a nice slope to it. Then we would pick a big leaf from a tree, sit on it and slide down the hill like on a toboggan."

Other days were occupied with fishing in lagoons or surfing at Waikiki. Then one day the fun stopped.

THE BOMBING

"I was walking home from Sunday school that morning, not conscious that anything was happening," he recalled. "When I got to my house, my family came running out. They asked if I hadn't seen the bombing."

"What bombings?" I asked. I had seen some planes, but for a week previous there had been lots of maneuvers in the air over our house — we lived near Pearl Harbor.

Belli Opposes Trial News Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former attorney for Jack Ruby says a proposed bill to restrict statements to reporters by attorneys in criminal cases would "strait jacket and stifle" court proceedings.

A letter from attorney Melvin M. Belli of Los Angeles was read into the record yesterday at a hearing by two Senate subcommittees on a bill by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to ban release of certain information not filed in court in connection with criminal cases.

Belli handled Ruby's defense at his murder trial for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The Morse bill, wrote Belli, "would straitjacket and stifle with further unnecessary legislation the inherent power and capacity of our magnificent common law and our good judges to control and patrol their own proceedings in their own court."

In the aftermath of the Kennedy assassination, Belli wrote, the press "had the duty to inform all people of the United States upon Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald's apprehension that he was the lone assassin even though it was obvious that he would have to stand individual trial before talismen reading these pretrial statements."

Then I knew it was no maneuver."

Jimmy attended Honolulu schools and entered the University of Hawaii at 16. Then he transferred to New York University, and that's where he got infected with show business. His father and brothers are engineers.

HOME CHANGED

As he glanced down toward the towering pleasure palaces of Waikiki, Jimmy admitted that his home town had changed outwardly.

'August Quiet' of New York Almost Splits Eardrums

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The hush in New York this August—as everybody knows, New York is very quiet in August—as practically split my ear drums.

While having dinner at a favorite spot, beautiful hatter Shannon Randolph, who's leaving to become announcer on Channel 6 (Teletime), gasped to me that Frank Sinatra, Mia Farrow, the Bennett Cerfs, Jimmy Van Housen, and others—a party of 12—have just sat down. Shannon thinks it a pity that little Mia, the hostess, must sit at the far end of the long table from Frank, the host. Wouldn't Mia be happier sitting nearer Frank than Bennett Cerf and his pipe? I suppose she would. I wouldn't know, as I never sat near Bennett and his pipe.

"Let's go to Arthur. It'll be quiet tonight," I say, apologetically, to staid financier Alfred Strelsin and his wife Dorothy.

"The Beatles are rumored to be coming here tonight!" I'm apprised as I enter. "And Soupy Sales is already here."

Yeah, it sure is quiet around tonight. Alfred Strelsin waits in from the Beatles concert at Shea Stadium and says the Beatles won't be in—it's too scary, they can't get out of their hotel. "I write it in my notebook and a voice says: 'Murray and K and some of the Beatles' bodyguards are just coming in. George Harrison says he's coming over... 'Anyway, we get Sinatra and Mia off our hands,' I say. 'They left...'"

"But Frank's not off your hands!" I'm informed. "He dropped Mia off—and he may join the Beatles and Soupy Sales!"

"Wouldn't that be a quiet little sextet?" I scream. And at 3:30 a.m., George Harrison did go to Arthur, without the other Beatles and without Sinatra, but like I say, it was just a quiet August night in quiet old New York.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

The Richard Burtons move to Northampton, Mass., for "Virginia Woolf" scenes this week, and may visit NY en route back to LA 3 weeks hence. Tennessee Williams is out of the hospital... Henry Fonda's marriage to Shirley Adams won't be much past Jane Fonda's tiep to Roger Vadim; in short, any day... Bert Lahr celebrated his 70th at Seafair of the Aegean.

EARL'S PEARLS: A San Francisco snack shop advertises a "whole boneless chicken dinner" for ten cents. It's a hard-boiled egg.

Jack Benny kids his age at Harrah's in Lake Tahoe, describing his own "rat pack": "We have Edward Everett Horton, Spring Byington and Walter Brennan, and we call ourselves 'Ovaline-a-Go-Go.' That's earl, brother."

Meg Myles and her groom TV producer Bob Duncan, had a one-day honeymoon; then he had to leave for Europe. Anthony George of the "Checkmate" TV'er may head the national company of "Punny Girl" with Marilyn Michaels... Geraldine Page asked for Richard Kiley in her next. "Great Adventure."

Rebel Claims
Iraq to Use Gas'Plan to Wipe Out
Kurdish Resistance'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The leader of the Kurdish revolt in northern Iraq claimed today that the Iraqi government has authorized the use of poison gas to wipe out Kurdish resistance and end the 4-year-old war.

Mullah Mustafa Barzani made the claim in a cable sent from Nicosia to U.N. Secretary General U Thant and General Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana.

He appealed to them to disavow the Baghdad government from its allegedly imminent plan to launch gas attacks.

Identical messages were addressed to President Johnson, French President Charles de Gaulle, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, President Tito of Yugoslavia and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

A Kurdish emissary said he had brought the messages to Nicosia and delivered them to the various embassies because it would have been difficult to send them from any neighboring Arab country.

FIRST ATTACK

Barzani's cable claimed the Iraqi government plans to make the first gas attack in the Rawanduz region in an attempt to extricate the Iraqi army's 1st Division.

The cable claimed Kurdish military intelligence had discovered the plan by deciphering an Iraqi military telegram authorizing the use of poison gas.

The war between the Iraqi government and the fierce mountain warriors has been going on intermittently since 1961.

About 1.5 million Kurds of Indo-European racial stock living in the mountains of northern Iraq are demanding a type of autonomous government for their region and respect for their national language and existence, which they claim is threatened by the government in Baghdad.

The Kurds have managed to retain control of their region despite the Iraqi army's overwhelming supremacy in manpower and equipment, accounted by incessant air raids on Kurdish villages.

Fowler Told to Prod Firms
on Excise Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has directed Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler to prod manufacturers who have not passed on the benefits of the excise tax reduction to consumers to do so immediately.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Wednesday that Fowler told Johnson that the over-all results were promising but that some manufacturers bear watching.

A report to the President by the Council of Economic Advisors said that by mid-July some 75 per cent of the excise tax cut, figured at $1.7 billion on an annual basis, had been passed on to consumers in the form of lower prices.

The result was a 20-year friendship and non-aggression pact. The Russians were the first to give young Turkey economic and technical aid.

Turk Last of Neighbors to Visit Russia

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia, ravaged by invaders from Gen- ghis Khan to Hitler, is a nation that worries about its neighbors.

This is the reason behind the new Soviet leadership's series of invitations to leaders of neighboring countries.

The trip here by Turkish Premier Saad Hayri Urguplu ends the visits, and leaves the Soviet Union on speaking terms with all its neighbors except the biggest, toughest one: Communist China.

East European Communist chiefs, the shah of Iran, the king of Afghanistan, Pakistani President Mo h a m m e d Ayub Khan — all have visited here since ex-Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev fell last October.

If this exercise in hospitality has changed no alliances, it at least has given the Soviet leaders reason to sleep well at night.

FULL CIRCLE
Urguplu's visit brings Soviet-Turkish relations full circle since the days when Lenin and Kemal Ataturk ruled the two nations.

After World War one, the Western allies set up a "cord- on sanitaire" of Balkan states to contain the newly victorious Bolsheviks. More hostility loomed in the Far East, where Japan had humiliated Russia in 1905 in the Russo-Japanese War.

Lenin, casting about for friends, decided to write off centuries of Soviet-Turkish animosity and approach Ataturk, who in the Western doghouse.

Real Estate Complaint

Seek Dismissal of Rights Case

LANSING (AP) — Defense attorney David Seelye moved for dismissal of a civil rights complaint against a Lansing real estate broker Wednesday, contending that a real estate office is not a place of accommodation.

Seelye also presented at a State Civil Rights Commission hearing a letter from complainant William Smith, a Negro Michigan State University student from Wyandotte, asking that the complaint be dropped. The hearing was recessed after an 8½-hour session in which nine witnesses appeared. All but one were called by the prosecution. No date has been set for its resumption.

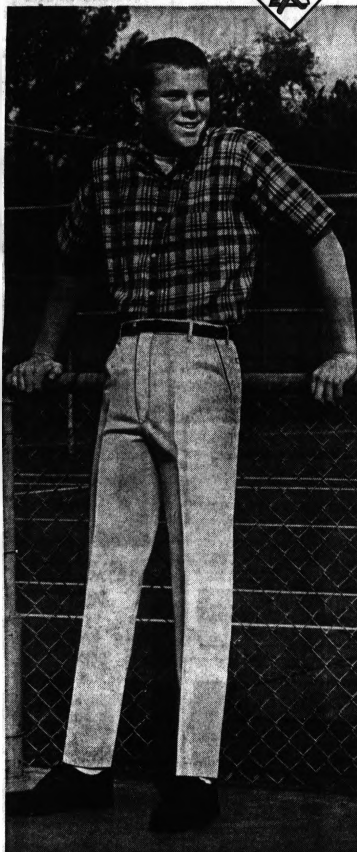

The hearing, conducted by commission chairman Damon Keith and commissioner Mrs. Frank Wylie, dealt with "the alleged refusal of Richard Cauchery, a real estate broker, to show and negotiate for the rental of an apartment in East Lansing because Smith is a Negro," the commission said.

Attorneys for both sides were ordered to present briefs on the applicability of the State Public Accommodations Act to real estate offices.

The commissioners refused to take into consideration a Jan. 25, 1965, letter from Smith to the commission asking that the complaint be dropped.

Gemini 5 Is Poised for Blast-Off

Flight to Be Man's Longest in Space Orbit

Delay Alters Plans; Astronauts Get Three Hours of Extra Sleep

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (P)—With 10 minutes to go before launch, the countdown on the Gemini 5 space mission was halted today because of a telemetry problem in the spacecraft. The hold came with the crew engaged in a race with the weather. Black clouds had advanced on the cape from the west and south.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (P)—The Gemini 5 astronauts climbed into their space ship today and the countdown clicked smoothly on toward a target launch time of 12:18 p.m. Fortified by more than three hours of extra sleep while the rocket crew wrestled with a fueling problem, L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. crammed themselves into the close confines of the spacecraft with 100 minutes to go before blast-off on man's longest orbital voyage.

A delay of three hours, 15 minutes was caused by difficulty in fueling a new power system never before flown in space. When that problem was licked, the crewmen set a record for fueling a Titan 2 rocket. They loaded the propellant in three hours, 24 minutes, more than 30 minutes faster than ever before. At least three hours of daylight is required in the landing area for recovery of the spacecraft. That meant that unless the Titan 2 rocket could be launched by about 2 p.m., the crew probably would have to try another day.

SPASH DOWN
The spacecraft is to splash down on the eighth day at approximately the same time of day that it left the launching pad.

Youth Drowns in Square Lake

A Detroit youth drowned yesterday in Square Lake in Orion Township when he attempted to swim 200 yards from the east shore to a sandbar.

Dead is Eric Chop, 17. His body was recovered by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Merward Tessler in 20 feet of water about 400 feet from shore.

Chop's companion, Richard Karpinski, 19, of Detroit, said that he and Chop were about two-thirds of the way to the sandbar when the youth began to call for help.

Attempts by Karpinski and Douglas Campbell, 15, of Center Line, to keep Chop afloat failed.

The drowning occurred at about 12:45 p.m. The body was recovered an hour later.

HELP FOR LEATHERNECKS—A U.S. Marine, wounded in the head as he fought against the Viet Cong from inside an amphibious tank, is led to an evacuation helicopter landing zone at Van Tuong. American forces may have killed 600 Cong in the battle. The Marines were reported to have taken 50 prisoners.

600 Reds Believed Killed

Marines Finish Cong Mop-Up

CHU LAI, South Viet Nam — While Viet Cong survivors fled, a U.S. Marine officer said today American forces may have killed more than 600 of the Red enemy in the battle of the Van Tuong peninsula.

Marine spokesmen said 552 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and casualties were light among the Marine regimental landing force that struck the entrenched guerrillas yesterday.

But a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said the Americans, fighting their biggest battle of the Viet Nam war, had suffered their heaviest loss of any single engagement in that war.

Maj. E. N. Snyder of Oceanide, Calif., operations officer for the 7th Regiment, said the estimate of more than 600 Viet Cong dead was based on aerial observation plus the body count.

The Marines were reported to have taken 50 prisoners. "The Viet Cong who survived pushed out to sea or infiltrated around and through positions in the rear," Snyder said.

The weatherman promises mostly fair with little temperature change tomorrow, the high about 74 to 80. Tonight is expected to be fair and cooler with lows near 58 to 64.

Sunny and mild is the forecast for Saturday.

Rain falling in scattered showers yesterday measured one-tenth of an inch.

A low of 62 was recorded at 5 a.m. today. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 70.

"I think some slipped out," said Col. Oscar F. Peatross of Raleigh, N.C., commander of the regiment. "However, the Viet Cong are no longer effective as fighting units in the area."

Snyder said several junks were seen taking on supplies and that one U.S. destroyer requested permission to fire on the junks. He said the request was denied because it was feared the gunfire would strike the pursuing Marines.

Snyder said both sides suffered their heaviest casualties yesterday, the first day of battle.

"We called in every available supporting source such as artillery and naval gun fire," he said.

Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, the Marine commander, termed the action "very successful."

"We accomplished our mission," he said.

Walt said the area had been cleared of Viet Cong by nightfall and was quiet.

'Soviet Missiles Downed U2s'

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says that in the past several years Soviet air defense missiles have shot down several American U2 reconnaissance planes.

The Soviet missiles are the types that were deployed in Cuba by the Soviets which shot down a very high-altitude U2, he added during a closed-door appropriation committee hearing last Feb. 25.

McNamara testified then in support of his endorsement of missiles rather than bombers or manned aircraft for future U.S. defenses. The testimony was released yesterday.

The defense secretary did not elaborate, beyond the 1962 missile attack over Cuba, as to where or when other U2 incidents might have occurred.

A U2 was shot down over Soviet territory in 1960. The pilot, Gary Francis Powers, was later exchanged for a convicted Soviet spy.

McNamara's U2 comments came after Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., asked: "How effective are these defenses that the Soviets are moving into North Viet Nam against bombings?"

NOT SURE
McNamara replied that he wasn't sure the Russians were moving into North Viet Nam.

Pressed for an answer, he said: "If they did move missiles into Viet Nam, they would be very effective against our aircraft, bombers or fighters, at certain altitudes."

"One good evidence of that is that these same defenses have shot down several U2s in the past several years."

Because of the greatly improved missile defenses of both the Soviet Union and the United States, McNamara told the senators at another point in the hearings, there is "a greater degree of uncertainty, unlikely as it may sound, in bomber operations than in missile operations."

COULD DIRECT
"No U.S. bomber has had to face the kind of defenses that exist today," he said.

"Nor has any U.S. bomber force ever had to survive a missile attack of the kind that the Soviet Union could direct against this country and to which we would be responding, presumably with our bomber force," he added.

McNamara's censored testimony was released as the committee approved a $46.8-billion defense money bill.

17 Convicted of War Crimes

Judge Calls 16 Nazis, Inmate Guilty as Hitler

FRANKFURT (UPI)—A war crimes court here found 17 of 20 defendants guilty today of complicity in the killing of 2.5 to 4 million persons in Adolf Hitler's Auschwitz death camp.

Life sentences were imposed on six defendants, including Wilhelm Boger, chief Gestapo torturer at the camp, and Oswald Kaduk, a guard who giggled while breaking prisoners' necks.

Eleven other defendants were sentenced to terms ranging from 3 to 14 years.

Three defendants were acquitted.

GUILTY AS HITLER
The judge said they were as guilty as Hitler himself.

The 20 defendants—19 former Gestapo men and an Auschwitz inmate who helped them—clicked their heels and popped to attention when the judgment came after a 20-month trial.

Hofmeyer said Hitler, Hermann Goering and other major Nazi leaders are dead and gone but "there remains the question of the guilt of the others—those who carried out the orders and were essential to the function of the machinery of destruction."

"It would be a mistake to say these men are not as guilty because they were only small cogs in the machinery— their guilt is as great as those who sat behind the desks."

Reporters Get a Peek at New Chrysler Line

By HOWARD H. HELDENBRAND
BOSTON—The city that gained renown as the scene of America's first and most colorful party—the Boston Tea Party, staged by colonial patriots—is staging another.

This one is the Boston "See" Party, staged by Chrysler Corp. to give a delegation of 375 press representatives from all sections of the country an advance peek at the 1966 autos.

There is one big difference, however, between the two parties separated by 192 years—at this 1965 levee, indications are that nobody's thinking much about tea.

Preceding the showing of the Dodge line yesterday afternoon, Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend addressed a breakfast meeting.

Revealing corporation plans to spend $300 million on 1966 model make-ready, he predicted a golden age for the automobile industry.

"The industry," he said, "has reported yearly gains of a half-million cars or better for several years and prospects are good that 1965 will run up an increase of one million units over 1964."

It is the automaker's opinion that the long-accepted cyclical pattern of the industry—good years followed by poor—is a thing of the past.

He saw as the major ones the four million youngsters now annually attaining the driver's licensing age and the continuous migration of American people to the suburbs that makes

LA Calm; Leaders Probe Riot Causes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With calm restored in the riot zone, government leaders concentrated today on an investigation of the causes and remedies for the violent Negro outbreak that cost 34 lives and $200 million in property loss.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he would announce the members of a special commission charged with finding a peaceful solution to racial strife in the sprawling Los Angeles metropolis. He said a top man has accepted the job as chairman.

Brown scheduled a 2 p.m. television broadcast for a "major extended statement" on the turmoil that began eight days ago in the Watts district of southeast Los Angeles.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was greeted Wednesday by heckling as well as friendly applause when the Negro civil rights leader toured the section.

"Burn, baby, burn," yelled one heckler at a meeting Dr. King addressed in a community center. That was the rallying cry of the burning and looting rioters during the disorder.

Negroes in the crowd told Dr. King they wanted Mayor Samuel W. Yorty and Police Chief William H. Parker to come to their neighborhoods and hear their complaints.

Statements by Yorty indicated bitterness between him and the state and federal leadership over anti-poverty and relief measures.

Commenting on President Johnson's assignment of Undersecretary of Commerce LeRoy Collins to visit Los Angeles for an on-the-spot study of the riot causes, Yorty said:

"I don't believe he can do anything. He's a specialist in civil rights, which is not the issue here."

After Brown announced that 12,000 National Guard troops were being pulled out, Yorty said he regarded the withdrawal a mistake.

"I don't know what the governor's doing," Yorty said. "He's too busy with press relations and press conferences to tell me what he's going to do."

Brown said the withdrawal decision, leaving about 3,000 troops still on riot zone duty, was made after a meeting of state officers with Parker.

FEDERAL MONEY
He said $1.77 million in federal funds has been released for a cleanup and repair program in south Los Angeles.

Collins said he was instructed by President Johnson to remain in Los Angeles as long as he feels necessary to provide all available federal help.

The riot area, where a curfew was lifted Tuesday, remained quiet. The calm had been briefly shattered early Wednesday with a police raid on the Black Muslim sect's Los Angeles mosque.

Fifty-nine Black Muslims were arrested in the raid. It was carried out on a tip that weapons were being taken into the building. Police said shots fired from the building hit two police cars. Officers responded with hundreds of rounds of gunfire that rattled the mosque.

NO ONE SHOT
Nine Muslims in the building were cut by flying glass but no one was shot. No weapons were found in the mosque.

Nineteen Muslims arrested inside the mosque were booked on suspicion of assault with intent to murder. Forty others picked up outside the mosque were booked on suspicion of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The riot zone arrest total was 3,973, including 3,428 adults and 545 juveniles. The injury toll was 892, including 747 civilians, 42 police officers, 43 firemen, and 10 military men.

Trouble with the fuel cell storage tank delayed completion of fueling of the rocket about an hour and a half. It was this tank that lost hydrogen excessively yesterday and had officials worried about a possible postponement of five to ten days.

But they announced that the problem had been solved, only to have it crop up again. They are trying to fill the bottles of 104 per cent, a spokesman said. "So they'll have 100 per cent capacity at liftoff."

County Dems Fill No. 2 Post

Oakland County Democrats today announced the appointment of Philip O. Mastin Jr., a Hazel Park city councilman, as county deputy chairman. He will assume his duties Sept. 1.

The appointment to the $12,000-a-year job was made by Democratic County Chairman George A. Googasian, a Pontiac attorney.

Mastin, 35, succeeds James M. McNeely who resigned to become director of the Oakland County Economic Opportunities Commission.

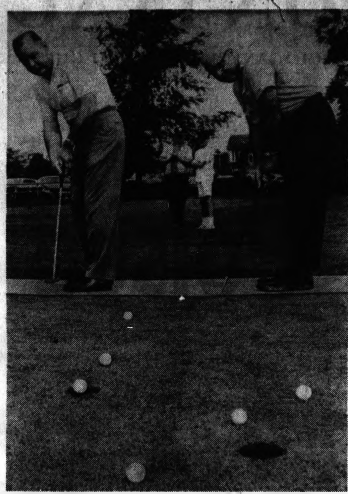

A senior automotive chassis designer at the Chevrolet Engineering Center in Warren, Mastin is a graduate of Hazel Park High School. He attended South Macomb Community College.

He is serving his second term on the city council and is a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, serving on the industries of cities and villages committee.

LAST YEAR
Last year he was elected to the County Democratic Executive Committee and was later named treasurer.

Mastin, his wife, Donna, and their three children live at 326 E. Hazel, Hazel Park.

Area Boater Listed Serious After Blast

A 28-year-old Birmingham man whose cabin cruiser exploded on the Detroit River yesterday is in serious condition in Detroit's Harper Hospital.

Robert Rixom, 28, of 2398 Dorchester, was one of five persons burned in the explosion at a marina in Gibraltar.

Rixom is a teacher in Madison Heights. His mother, Mrs. Ernest Rixom, said he had taken his 25-foot cabin cruiser to Toledo and had stopped at Gibraltar for repairs. "He touched something that caused a spark," she said.

The boat, gutted by fire, was cut loose to drift in the Detroit River to save other pleasure craft docked at the marina.

KEEPING PACE
To keep pace with the tremendous upsurge of the auto industry, Chrysler's four-year investment program initiated in 1964 totals $1.7 billion.

"Within the past year alone," Townsend said, "expansion or plans for it has accelerated for 14 existing plants, with reconstruction, acquisition or blueprinting of 19 new facilities."

Speaking for the industry, he voiced praise for the stability it has contributed to the American economy.

"The consumer price index of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that the average price of new cars has declined by 3.5 per cent between 1959 and 1965."

"Over the past six years, in a very liberal sense, every day has been bargain day at your favorite automobile dealership."

Setting the tone for the presentation of Dodge Division products was its 1965 theme: "Beautiful Rebellion on Wheels."

Library Budget Hearing Tonight

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Increased property valuations will help the Bloomfield Township Library buy new books and hire two additional employees.

The library board tonight will present to the public a proposed $180,242 operating budget for 1966-67, marking a $14,000 increase over this year's figure.

Because property values have gone up, the board can expect to net $171,362 from its 1-mill tax, rather than the current $158,475.

The budget will be balanced by state aid, penal fines and other revenue.

Librarian Rose Vainstein said she hoped to be able to hire an additional professional employee and another clerk.

PRESENT STAFF

Her staff now includes the full-time equivalent of 3.75 professional and 4.5 clerical employees.

The additional persons would take the salary category from $59,500 to $70,500.

The amount set aside for books and processing would increase from $27,500 to $33,750.

"We are very anxious to build up our own book stock as quickly as possible," Miss Vainstein said, noting that the core of the library's collection consists of books on a three-year loan from the Michigan State Library.

Longest Space Flight

bring a postponement would be the heating up of fuels in the rocket and spacecraft under the broiling Florida sun, and a consequent loss of efficiency.

Delays are nothing new to Cooper, who made a 34-hour flight to close the Mercury program on May 15-16, 1963.

He had crawled into his Faith 7 spacecraft early on the morning of May 14 for an intended blastoff and sat there for five hours 50 minutes before the shot was called off because of a balky diesel engine on the service tower and a faulty tracking radar.

FOLLOWING DAY
The following day he was in the capsule for only two hours 32 minutes as his Atlas rocket blasted off only four minutes behind schedule.

Trouble in the new power system developed when excessive boiloff of liquid hydrogen frustrated efforts to test the system in the desired level.

At 7:18 a.m., mission control said the problem had been solved and the astronauts were awakened at 7:50, more than three hours later than originally planned.

In the new fuel cell system, replacing the bulkier and heavier storage batteries used in earlier Gemini flights, hydrogen is mixed with liquid oxygen to produce electrons which are converted into electrical power.

An attempt was made to overload the fuel system to assure capacity at liftoff for the long mission.

Finally, it was announced that the system had reached 101.5 per cent and this was judged acceptable.

The fuel cell system was installed in the spacecraft last July 23, after an earlier system failed to pass its tests.

The final countdown for man's longest space voyage was to have started at 8 a.m. The mission of the astronaut was to prove the ability of man to live in space as long as it will take to fly to the moon, explore its surface, and return.

They also were to attempt the first rendezvous with another satellite.

FUEL SYSTEM
The fuel cell system was in the Gemini capsule, sitting high atop the nine-story Titan 2 rocket that was to hurtle Cooper and Conrad on an orbital journey of more than three million miles.

Trouble with the fuel cell storage tank delayed completion of fueling of the rocket about an hour and a half. It was this tank that lost hydrogen excessively yesterday and had officials worried about a possible postponement of five to ten days.

But they announced that the problem had been solved, only to have it crop up again. They are trying to fill the bottles of 104 per cent, a spokesman said. "So they'll have 100 per cent capacity at liftoff."

Youngsters and Grown-Ups---Keep Busy

FIRST SUMMER — In its first summer of operation, the Hayes Jones Community Center (above) at 435 Wessen has been accommodating an average of 450 patrons a week, most of whom are youngsters. The center offers a variety of supervised recreation activities including swimming instruction, playground sports, arts and crafts sessions and sewing consultation periods.

By BETTY CRAWFORD

One of the busiest places on the south side of the city is the Hayes Jones Community Center, accommodating 450 people a week, most of whom are youngsters.

This is the first summer the center has been in full operation, having opened Nov. 16, 1964.

Located at 435 Wessen, the center offers swimming pool activity and instruction, supervised sports, arts and crafts, and a sewing class for the ladies this summer.

The center is open from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon.

available from 10 to 11:30 a.m. every weekday except Saturday. There is open swimming from 1 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 in the evening.

ON SATURDAYS

The pool is open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Playground activity bustles with softball, horseshoes, shuffleboard, badminton, and volleyball.

For those who prefer handicraft work or have a flair for art, the programs in arts and crafts such as basket-weaving should interest them.

Thursday nights from 7 to 9 is ladies' night. A sewing consultation program is under way in which anyone who would like to know how to sew or who has a sewing problem can come and get advice.

TIED TO REQUESTS

The type of programs that are planned depend on what the people request, said center supervisor Arthur Johnson.

There is no charge for the facilities or programs, said Johnson.

The swimming pool is staffed with 10 people, while the playground has three leaders.

So, whether it's a splash in a pool, an exciting softball game, arts, crafts, or sewing, the Hayes Jones Community Center is ready to serve Pontiac residents.

Swimming instruction is

FINISHING TOUCHES — Shellacking a basket in an arts and crafts class is 10-year-old Mark Walden. Basket-weaving is one of the projects at the center this summer. Area youngsters like Mark get a chance to develop new interests and explore the creative field of art under instructors, with no fees charged.

CHILDREN'S PRIVILEGES — One of the privileges of childhood is climbing. These children find the monkey bars tops for accommodating their boundless energies. Who cares, they say, if a few knees get scraped, as long as it's fun. The bars are part of the playground facilities at the Hayes Jones Center.

MAKE VASE — What a touch of ingenuity can do with what seems to be a useless item is limitless. Here, Ida Beane of 467 Beaudette, assistant playground director, helps Willie Jones of 303 Howard McNeil, part-time swimming pool locker room attendant, make a vase out of an empty pop bottle. Cord is glued to the bottle to make different patterns.

GETS HELP — Sewing consultation sessions are held at the center every Thursday night this summer. Mrs. Flossie Busbee (right) of 351 Howard McNeil, an instructor, gives some tips on blouse-sewing to Mrs. Hurien Bowman of 514 Lull. In the fall, another sewing consultation class will begin.

PREHISTORIC ANIMALS — Robert Walder, 10, paints a prehistoric dinosaur in an arts and crafts session at the Hayes Jones Community Center, where a variety of craft work is done.

CUTS FROM PATTERN — Cutting out a dress from a pattern is Sandra McCants (seated) of 372 Going under the watchful eye of Mrs. Nema McCants. Sandra is among a score of women who bring their sewing problems to the center for solving.

MAKE OVER PAGES More Federal Registrars Ordered Into South

Five Counties Added to List

Say 16,492 Negroes Already Registered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has ordered 10 more federal registrars into the South to register Negroes in five additional counties in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, following the procedures set up by the new Voting Rights Act, designated the additional counties Wednesday night. Two days ago, he ordered 18 federal registrars into nine counties in the South to register voters without requiring literacy or similar tests.

The new counties are Jefferson Davis and Jones in Mississippi, Perry and Wilcox in Alabama and Ouachita Parish in Louisiana.

In the nine counties where examiners already are functioning, the number of persons they registered reached 16,492 by the close of business Wednesday, including 2,057 registered on that day alone. All of the federal registrars are Civil Service employees.

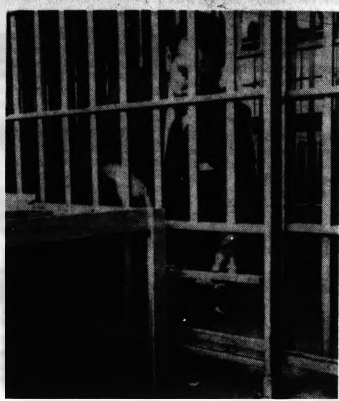

NO COMPLIANCE

Katzenbach said the five newly designated counties "have continued to discriminate and have given no substantial indication that they will comply" with the voting rights measure.

He added, "When local officials demonstrate their willingness to deal fairly with Negro as well as white applicants, the examiners will be withdrawn promptly."

The Justice Department cited, as examples of failure to comply with the new law, the even more stringent application of proof of residence requirements to Negro applicants, denial of assistance to Negroes, advice to them to return in 30 days to see whether they have been successful, and holding up of registration on the ground there were no application forms.

Each of the newly designated counties, Katzenbach said, "has a long history of discrimination against Negro voting applicants."

THE 'HOLE' TRUTH—Washienaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey holds one of four steel bars which were sawed almost through in the County Jail and were pushed out early yesterday by Bradley J. Whitaker, 21, of Flint. Whitaker crawled through two 12-inch-wide holes, climbed out a second-floor window and escaped to Whitmore Lake where he was apprehended.

Saws His Way Out for 7 Hours' Freedom

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Brighton Post State Police troopers recaptured Bradley J. Whitaker, 21, Flint, yesterday for the second time in three weeks after he sawed his way out of second-floor maximum security cell in the Washienaw County jail.

Whitaker, who was awaiting trial for having escaped from the Cassidy Lake prison camp near Waterloo, had to go through two sets of inside bars, outside bars and a security screen before he wound up outside—25 feet above ground.

He slid down a pole to seven hours' freedom before troopers Edward Hancock and Paul Palmer spotted him in front of a Whitmore Lake gas station about 10 miles from the jail.

Whitaker told deputies his escape wasn't as difficult as it first seemed. He said another convict told him about some bars in the jail which were partially sawed through, just in case Whitaker should ever find himself in trouble in Ann Arbor.

He found himself in the jail here July 30 when he was captured by Brighton Post State Police troopers after having walked away from the camp where he was a trusty.

Big GOP Donors Go to Confab

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican party gather today to talk about GOP finances at the farm of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

National GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss called it the first major move in a drive to strengthen the GOP for next year's elections.

Bliss said the conference would be "an important move toward our objective of placing the Republican National Finance Committee fund-raising program on a coordinated basis."

Party officials weren't talking about it in advance of the meeting, but they would clearly like to coordinate away the Republican can offshoots busy collecting money for their own operations.

SPLINTER GROUPS

Bliss has said splinter groups hamper his effort to build party unity. And he put that label on the Free Society Association, the conservative organization set up with Barry Goldwater as its honorary chairman.

Lucious D. Clay, the party's new finance chairman, was to preside at the talks here and at a two-hour, early-morning session of the finance committee in Washington.

Clay has said he hopes eventually to get all Republican fund-raising programs under one roof.

About 275 persons—among them Republicans who have given the party $1,000 or more—are on the Gettysburg guest list. The party's congressional leaders are attending, too.

NEXT ELECTION

"Much of the emphasis will be on the 1968 congressional elections," Langhorn Washburn, GOP finance director, said. "We're going to set goals and talk about how to reach them. I think the main emphasis at this point is coordination."

But he said the conference does not signal an effort now to put into national committee hands the fund raising efforts of the Republican congressional and senatorial campaign committees.

Bliss said the Gettysburg session is the first major meeting to line up plans that will permit the national committee and the GOP campaign organizations on Capitol Hill "to move forward with their plans to strengthen our Republican party position, both in Congress and in state houses throughout the nation, in 1966."

Personal Reasons

Scientist-Astronaut Resigns

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Duane Graveline, one of the nation's scientist-astronauts, has become the first astronaut to resign before making a space flight.

Graveline, a 34-year-old former Air Force flight surgeon, had once expressed a desire to set foot on the moon, describing it as "an unclimbed mountain that has to be climbed."

The Newport, Vt., native was one of six scientist-astronauts chosen June 29 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for possible moon excursions.

The space agency announced Wednesday that Graveline had resigned for personal reasons. It said he would remain with the spacecraft center as a medical doctor.

Graveline's wife sued for divorce three weeks after he joined the space team. In the suit, still pending, she called him a man "of violent and ungovernable outbursts of temper" and asked custody of their four daughters, ages 7 to 13.

She said today at her home in San Antonio, Tex., she would have no comment on her husband's resignation.

She was granted a temporary order that forbade him from visiting her and the children, but the order was dissolved by mutual agreement. Sources close to Graveline said he does not intend to contest the divorce.

The doctor has been undergoing flight training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. He could not be reached for comment. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. resigned also, but not until after he became the first American to orbit the earth.

There are 33 astronauts still in the program.

ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING—Mrs. Lucy Bianca Ybanez de Franco of Bolivia is helped by her husband in hiding her face from a photographer as she leaves a hearing yesterday in Miami. She is charged with smuggling 18 pounds of cocaine into the U.S. The hearing was recessed until Monday. U.S. officials estimate the cocaine is worth more than half a million dollars on the illicit drug market.

Nothing Horrible About That

Monster Means Money in Monroe

MONROE (UPI) — Today in Monroe, you can eat monster-burgers, see horror movies, watch monster impersonators—all stemming from reports of a monster in the area.

Since last weekend when the Monroe monster was spotted by a teen-age girl, who claims it attacked her, the search has been on and this small community 25 miles north of Toledo, Ohio, has its second claim to fame in a century.

Monroe is the birthplace of Gen. George Custer, of Civil War and Indian fighting fame. Police in the area think the whole thing rather silly. State Police and the Monroe County Sheriff's department doubt the monster exists.

However, a ragged posse of nearly 100 carried the woods near Frenchtown Township north of here Tuesday night, armed with baseball bats and rifles, in search of the beast that is described as "seven-feet tall and hairy."

NO SIGHTINGS

So far the posse has made no sightings, but no one seems to care much except the 18 persons who have made official reports with police in the past year. Two have come within the past five days loaded with vivid descriptions of the elusive thing.

Merchants in Monroe couldn't care more. The sudden notoriety in the county has spurred one drive-in movie to feature "Curse of the Undead."

A restaurant in the area is serving a monsterburger which offers one pound of hamburger, cheese, tomatoes, relish, onions and lettuce wrapped in a nine-inch bun imported especially for the occasion from Toledo.

Young people in the area are wearing different types of monster garments, and a badly spelled sign greets motorists as they enter the county. It reads, "You're in Monster County."

GOOD WEATHER

The past two nights have brought not only monster hunters, sightseers and doubts from police, but also perfect weather for such things.

A heavy rain and the resultant mist have hidden the moon in the lowlands and swampy areas between I-75 and the Enrico Fermi Atomic plant north of here; where the monster has been sighted.

One State Police trooper who has spent the last two nights

Frustration on Vacation

PUEBLO, Colo. (UPI) — There's nothing like a vacation in the beautiful Colorado mountains. That's what Francis Sudholt, his wife and their seven children thought.

Driving a station wagon and camper trailer near here yesterday, the St. Louis family had trouble with the brakes on the wagon. A wheel caught fire.

The father tried to beat out the flames with a pillow, but it caught fire, too. Then the gas tank exploded, destroying the wagon.

So there they were on scenic Colorado Highway 96, a family of nine with a trailer but nothing to pull it with.

CHARLES HEWITT

City Armchair Detective Is Now Retired

Pontiac Police Department's "armchair detective," Charles Hewitt, 62, of 57 S. Shirley, retired from the force recently after 35 years of service.

Lt. Charles Gale said Hewitt was assigned to the warrant detail and did most of his arrests by telephone, hence the nickname.

"He used to call the suspect and tell him he had a warrant for his arrest. 'Come in or I'll come out after you,' Hewitt would tell the person," Gale said.

Hewitt started as a patrolman in 1929. He was promoted to detective in 1946.

He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge No. 132, Elks Lodge No. 810, and the Masonic Lodge No. 21. Hewitt is also a member of the Metropolitan Club, Spirit 8.

Fellow staff members of the Pontiac Police Department honored him with a party Aug. 6. He was presented with a wristwatch.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The lull in New York this August—as every body knows, New York is very quiet in August—has practically split my eardrums.

While having dinner at a favorite spot, beautiful hatchback Shannon Randolph, who's leaving to become announcer on Channel 6 (Teleguide), gasps to me that Frank Sinatra, Mia Farrow, the Bennett Cerfs, Jimmy Van Heusen, and others—a party of 12—have just van steamed. Shannon thinks it a pity that the end of the long table from Frank, the host. Wouldn't Mia be happier sitting nearer Frank than Bennett Cerf and his pipe? I suppose she meant, I wouldn't know, as I never sat near Bennett and his pipe.

"Let's go to Arthur. I'll be quiet tonight," I say, apologetically, to staid financier Alfred Strelsin and his wife Dorothy.

"The Beatles are rumored to be coming here tonight!" I'm apprised as I enter. "And Soupy Sales is already here."

Yeah, it sure is quiet around tonight. Alfred Strelsin waits in from the Beatles concert at Shea Stadium and says the Beatles won't be in—it's too scary, they can't get out of their hotel. I write that in my notebook and a voice says: "Murray and K and some of the Beatles' bodyguards are just coming in. George Harrison says he's coming over . . ."

"Anyway, we got Sinatra and Mia off our hands," I say. "They left . . ."

"But Frank's not off your hands!" I'm informed. "He dropped Mia off—and he may join the Beatles and Soupy Sales!"

"Wouldn't that be a quiet little sextet?" I scream. And at 3:30 a.m., George Harrison did get to Arthur, without the other Beatles, and without Sinatra, but like I say, it was just a quiet August night in quiet old New York.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

The Richard Burton move to Northampton, Mass., for "Virginia Woolf" scenes this week, and may visit NY en route back to LA 3 weeks hence . . . Tennessee Williams is out of the hospital . . . Henry Fonda's marriage to Shirley Adams won't be much past Jane Fonda's leap to Roger Vadim in short, any day . . . Bert Lahr celebrated his 70th at Seafair of the Aegean.

EARL'S PEARLS: A San Francisco snack shop advertises a "whole boneless chicken dinner" for ten cents. It's a hard-boiled egg.

Jack Benny kids his age at Harrah's in Lake Tahoe, describing his own "raz pack." "We have Edward Everett Horton, Spring Byington and Walter Brennan, and we call ourselves 'Ovaline-a-Go-Go.'" That's earl, brother.

Meg Myles and her groom, TV producer Bob Duncan, had a one-day honeymoon: then he had to leave for Europe. Anthony George (of the "Checkmate" TV'er) may head the national company of "Funny Girl" with Marilyn Michaels. Geraldine Page asked for Richard Kiley in her next. "Great Adventure."
