15 Killed as 2 Planes Collide in Air

Kentucky Crash Takes 5 Victims From Michigan

State-Owned DC-3 and TWA Liner Smash Up Near Cincy Airport

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Fifteen persons were believed to have been killed today in a mid-air crash between two large airplanes several miles southwest of the Greater Cincinnati Airport. The airport is 12 miles southwest of Cincinnati.

One of the planes was a Trans World Airlines ship en route to Dayton and Cleveland.

TWA identified the crew members as Capt. J. W. Quinn, 41, Edgement Ave., Belleville, Mich.; R. Childress, co-pilot, 1824 Arch St., Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Pat Stermer, hostess, 731 Towner, Ypsilanti, Mich.

The other plane, a Douglas DC-3, bearing serial number N-999-B, took off from Battle Creek, Mich., with pilot Arthur (Slim) Werkhaven, Sturgis, Mich., and co-pilot Edward Agner, Battle Creek, aboard.

The information came in a telephone call to the airport at Battle Creek.

"I doubt if there are survivors from either crash," John Hedrick, operator of a flying service, told newsmen after a flight over the area.

He said he saw bodies lying over a 200-yard area.

Roy Gannett, Hebron, Ky., fireman, said the planes fell about two miles apart. He said wreckage was strewn about for many yards, and that both planes burned.

Hedrick's information was the same as that given by Gannett. He said only the tail assemblies were visible from his plane.

"We circled it two or three times," Hedrick told a reporter. "There's very little left of it. Wreckage is still smoldering."

Later at Battle Creek, the National Carbon Coated Paper Co. of Sturgis identified the DC-3 as a plane belonging to that firm. The DC-3 took off at 7 a. m. from Kellogg Field at Battle Creek.

The plane was to have proceeded to Lexington, Ky., to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, wealthy Detroit race horse owners. Mrs. Van Lennep, the former Frances Dodge, is an officer in the firm.

The plane then was scheduled to carry the Van Lenneps to Delray, Florida.

Both Werkhaven and Agner are married and each has two children. They were employed as test pilots on bombers produced at Willow Run Airport during World War II.

In New York, Trans World Airlines said these passengers were aboard its plane:

Joseph Cohen, Consumer's Steel Products Co., Cleveland, Ohio;

Ralph Z. Emig, 6523 Crestridge Circle, Cincinnati;

GREETED IN TOKYO—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold (right), and Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu are shown in close conversation at Tokyo airport today, during brief reception. Hammarskjold and his party stopped in Tokyo less than an hour on the trip from Peiping to New York. He is on his way to report to the U. N. and the world on his efforts to free 11 Americans and other U. N. prisoners held by the Communists.

Congress Warm on Pay, Cooler to Postage Hike

May Up Own, Judges' Salaries; Many Oppose Mail Rate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) Congress seemed to be in a mood today not only to give a prompt pay raise to 1½ million federal employes, but also to boost substantially its own salaries.

But a companion administration proposal to increase postage rates was met with marked reserve and some outright opposition.

President Eisenhower sent to the Capitol yesterday special messages urging 5 per cent pay hikes totaling about 339 million dollars annually for one million civil service workers and 500,000 postal employes.

He also called for increases in rates charged for first, second and third class mail to help offset the added postal pay costs.

Leaders in both the Senate and House said they would vote an early federal pay raise.

The only question apeared to be whether the lawmakers would court a veto by passing a much bigger raise than the President asked, and by refusing to boost postal rates as he requested. Eisenhower vetoed a 5 per cent pay raise bill last year on grounds there was no offsetting revenue gain provided for postal operations.

At the same time, a strong movement gathered force for a pay hike for the lawmakers themselves. Eisnhower gave this a big plug in his State of the Union message last week without naming a specific figure.

Congressional leaders apparently felt the time was ripe to raise House and Senate pay because any adverse political effects would be evenly distributed, with Republicans in the White House and Democrats controlling Congress.

Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), prospective chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, announced he would introduce Friday a bill to carry out last year's recommendations of the Commission on Judicial and Congressional Salaries.

This body proposed a $12,500 increase for senators and representatives, to $27,500 a year. It urged similar raises for federal judges.

Some lawmakers said privately that enactment of a $10,000 raise was more likely than the one to be proposed in the Kilgore bill. A measure calling for this figure was introduced in the house last week by Rep. Celler (D-NY), soon to be chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and by Rep. Walter (D-Pa).

Central America in Trouble

Costa Rica Capital Strafed by Raiding Fighter Plane

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—An air raider described as "a Venezuelan pursuit plane which came from Nicaragua" machinegunned San Jose today and then was shot down by antiaircraft fire, the Civil Guard announced.

The raider, which looked like the American-built P47 Thunderbolt of World War II vintage, buzzed the downtown area of this capital city and loosed machinegun bursts at a residential sector. This came as government troops battled in the north to clear a rebel band from the Villa Quesada area, about midway between San Jose and the Costa Rican-Nicaragua frontier.

Three bursts were aimed into the section surrounding the Costa Rican White House, the home of President Jose Figueres.

The plane was climbing rapidly as it passed the San Jose Airport control tower. A lumbering DC3 of the Lacsa Airlines, armed with machineguns in its side doors, took off in pursuit.

A Civil Guard communique said the raider was shot down by antiaircraft artillery and fell in a river called Los Ahogados.

Though the plane aproached San Jose from the south, the command said it came from a Nicaraguan airfield.

Costa Rica's delegate to the U.N. was informed from San Jose that invading forces captured two small port cities on the Pacific Coast. The delegate, Ambassador Benjamin Nunez, identified the cities as Puerto Soley, near the Nicaraguan border, and Puerto

Plan for Dental Hygiene Passed by 7 to 0 Vote

Installation Will Cost $26,000; Funds to Come From Water Department

Pontiac last night joined the mounting list of cities planning to add fluorides to municipal water supplies in an effort to reduce dental decay.

In a unanimous vote, the City Commission authorized City Manager Walter K. Willman to proceed with plans to fluoridate the city's water and purchase necessary equipment.

Willman will not be able to spend any money for the project for 90 days, however.

To give fluoridation opponents opportunity to initiate referendum proceedings calling for a public vote, a clause was inserted in the enabling resolution which prohibits any equipment purchase before April 15.

Under the resolution, financing and completion of the program will be accomplished during the fiscal years of 1955-56.

The cost will be paid solely from water department income.

Actually, the Commission approved a complete health "package" in adopting the measure.

Besides the addition of sodium fluoride (or its equivalent) to the water, the resolution also calls for addition of chlorine, the metering of the city's wells and construction of shelters for the equipment.

The total program will cost $64,500, of which $26,000 will be for fluoride-adding equipment. Continuation of fluoridation will cost $15,000 annually.

The State Health Dept. for years has urged the city to chlorinate all wells. Chlorination is said to reduce possibility of epidemics due to water contamination.

Fluoridation greatly reduces tooth decay and cuts dental cavities in youngsters, particularly, State Health Dept. records show.

A crowd of more than 65 persons overflowed into the hall outside the small municipal courtroom where the commission meets.

Debate and pro and con arguments ran for nearly two hours before a vote was taken.

While the pro-fluoridation forces were well represented, there seemed to be no organized opposition. But a father and son team of Pontiac chiropractors spoke against any Commission action on the proposal.

The two were Dr. Harry Godsell, owner of the Godsell chiropractic Clinic, 178 N. Perry, and his son, Dr. Walter Godsell, a member of the Pontiac Board of Education.

The two said allergies had been attributed to fluoride in areas where water was fluorided, naturally or artificially.

They also charged that certain diseases increased in fluorided areas, and that it has been proved in other cities that most of the

20 Million Given to Protestantism

Rockefeller Takes Only Two Sentences to Make Huge Grant

NEW YORK (AP)—In a casually worded two-sentence letter, John D. Rockefeller Jr. has given 20 million dollars' worth of securities to aid Protestant theological education in the United States.

The gift was made yesterday to the Sealantic Fund, Inc., a philanthropic corporation Rockefeller established in 1938.

Rockefeller sent this note to the fund's trustees:

Gentlemen:

I am giving your corporation as of this date securities having a present market value of approximately $20,000,000. The purpose of the gift is to strengthen and develop Protestant theological education in this country.

Very sincerely,

John D. Rockefeller Jr.

The money—probably the largest single grant ever made for religious training—presumably will be used to strengthen and expand the programs of theological schools.

Mack Square to Be Name for Site of New City Hall

As a memorial to Col. Stephen Mack, who laid out the original plat that is now downtown Pontiac, the City Commission last night voted unanimously to name the new City Hall site Mack Square.

Naming of the site after Mack was suggested by Joe Haas, life-long resident of Oakland County and a Pontiac Press writer.

Colonel Mack "laid the foundation for the present city at a great sacrifice to his health and personal fortune," the commission resolution reads.

A Revolutionary War veteran, Mack organized the Pontiac Co. in Detroit in 1818.

He secured government grants on a tract of land where the Saginaw Indian trail forded what is now the Clinton River.

After arriving here, he platted the present downtown section.

Struck, Pushed and Threatened, He Calls It Quits

PATTERSON, N. J. (AP)—In his Superior Court divorce suit, Albert A. Crisafulli, 33, alleged his wife Rose, 30, during their marriage bombarded him with:

Cups, plates, knives, forks, spoons, a bowl of macaroni, a 20-pound magazine tray, a bottle of milk, ceramic ornaments and a baby bottle.

He also charged she pushed him down the stairs, lunged at him with a vegetable knife, attempted to stab him with a butcher knife, threatened him with a dagger and often slapped and punched him.

Judge William Hagarty granted a divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Nationalist Bombers Hit Red Island Bases

TAIPEH, Formosa, (AP) — Nationalist China's air force headquarters said its four-engine bombers had "excellent results" in a three-wave attack today on Communist-held Toumen and Tienao islands.

The Nationalists said all planes returned to Formosa, 200 miles south of the islands, despite anti-aircraft fire and Red air force fighters.

This was the third straight day's strike against Tienao, which is almost next door to the Nationalists' Tachens, which were attacked by 100 Red planes Monday.

68 Parachute as Planes Burn

GIs Leap From 2 C119s During Airlift to Alaska; 2 Airmen Perish

STEWART AIR FORCE BASE, Tenn. (AP)—Engine blazes in two C119 Flying Boxcars marred a paratrooper airlift to Alaska yesterday with a flaming crash here and a forced landing in Montana.

A total of 68 paratroopers and three airmen parachuted to safety from the two planes, but the pilot and co-pilot of the plane which crashed here were listed as dead.

The Public Information Office identified the two as Capt. John Raspet Jr., 30, of 17 Franklin St., Mt. Clemens, Mich., the pilot and Lt. Ross W. Richards, 30, of 3428 Glen St., Jacksonville, Fla. Their bodies were removed from the burned wreckage.

Thirty - five airborne infantrymen and three crewmen jumped when an engine burst into flames shortly after the twin-engine craft took off here.

Only hours earlier, 33 paratroopers used their chutes when an engine caught fire on their plane near Miles City, Mont. Pilot-Capt. T. G. Johnson of Sewart AFB then guided the plane to the Miles City airport without incident.

The two Boxcars were part of a flight of 80 ferrying 3,000 airborne troops from Ft. Campbell, Ky., to Alaska for Operation Snowbird, a winter exercise. Paratroopers involved in both jumps were members of the 503rd Airborne Infantry Regiment.

Most landed on the base. One man, Pfc. Richard L. Dalton, Benton Harbor, Mich., was hospitalized overnight with minor injuries.

$600 Million Plan Aired for Roads

State Senate Leader's Proposal Is Substitute for Williams Program

LANSING (AP)— Senate Majority Leader Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) today proposed a 600 million dollar highway bond issue and a two - cent gas tax increase as a counter-proposal to Gov. Williams' proposed 500 million dollar bond program.

Coleman said his plan would be "more honest" than the governor's, which he referred to as a "pig in a poke."

Williams has insisted no tax increase is necessary to finance his program despite the recommendations of a highway study committee.

Coleman said the 600 million dollars should be used to finance improvement of roads designed as U.S. highways. Federal funds allocated for those highways could then be used for trunklines, he said.

Coleman said he believes the 600 million dollars would take care of immediate highway needs. U.S. highways should be improved first so they would be in good shape in the event of war, he said.

Hunt 9 Eskimos Adrift on Floe in Hudson Bay

OTTAWA (AP)—Mounted police and the Royal Canadian Air Force are searching for nine Eskimos adrift on an ice floe in Hudson Bay since Jan. 4. A police spokesman said last night the prospect of finding them "doesn't look so good."

The Eskimos were marooned when a chunk of ice on which they aparently were hunting seals broke away from the northeast shore of the Bay. Their dog teams, kayaks and ice boats were found on the shore.

Mountie Supt. H.A. Larsen said here the Eskimos likely could survive on seal or walrus meat if they had matches to ignite the blubber which is their customary fuel. Otherwise, he explained, they would be threatened by exposure to the subzero temperature.

Snow Makes Roads Slippery in County

After almost two weeks without snow, .01 of an inch fell in the Pontiac area last night, leaving the ground partly covered and roads slippery in parts of the County.

The State Highway Department reports widely scattered slippery spots around Saginaw, Bay City, Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Flint, Benton Harbor, Port Huron and the Thumb area. Sanding and grading operations with the help of rising temperatures are expected to correct the conditions by the end of the day.

The forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is for occasional snow and cloudy skies tonight. Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with snow flurries, low tonight 26 to 30, high Thursday 30 to 34.

Tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and colder with the mercury dropping to 14 to 18 degrees. Friday will bring more cloudy skies and cold weather.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac, the mercury ranged from a low of 26 to a 36 high. At 8 a.m. today the thermometer reading was 29, rising slightly to 30 degrees by 1 p.m.

New Location Revealed for Auto License Office

The new Pontiac secretary of state's office will open here tomorrow at 53 N. Parke St., Manager Willis M. Brewer said today.

State auditors, previously expected Thursday, arrived today and are checking the books of outgoing Manager Roy Annett.

"They'll check me in this afternoon," said Brewer, "and I'll move into the office tonight."

Monaghan Says Pontiac's Truck Output Vital to U.S.

This city's truck manufacturing industry is a vital spoke in the nation's hub of economic progress, Philip J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, told Pontiac Kiwanians yesterday.

Speaking at the group's weekly luncheon meeting in the Hotel Waldron after he had been made an honorary member, the young GM executive said:

"I am optimistic over prosperity in the coming year; 1955 should be an excellent year. And the direct conclusion, therefore, must be that progress will be reflected here with increased prosperity and population."

"We have the progress outlook at GM. Engineering innovations being introduced in our new GM trucks are unheard of, especially in styling, beauty and utility," said Monaghan, who is also a vice president of General Motors.

He said the division in the near future will announce revolutionary designs aimed at comfort and premium engineering in GM trucks.

Pointing out the important role of truck transportation, Monaghan said, "Can you imagine what would happen if every truck in

U.N. Chief Wings Home With Report Still Secret

TOKYO (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold flew homeward over the Pacific tonight on his way to report to the U. N. and the world on his efforts to free 11 Americans and other U. N. prisoners held by the Communists.

He is due in New York tomorrow. The date for his report has not been announced.

Hammarskjold and his party stopped in Tokyo less than an hour on the trip from Peiping to New York.

He has refused steadily to give any indication of the results of his four talks with Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

Hammarskjold's U.S. Air Force Constellation was due in Hawaii this morning, Hawaii time. It should arrive in San Francisco later today and New York tomorrow.

At U.N. headquarters, a top aide to Hammarskjold said the Swedish diplomat has made progress but he advised giving the situation "a little time."

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said:

"He has made progress toward the goal set for him by the General Assembly . . . to 'make, by the means most appropriate in his judgment, continuing and unremitting efforts' for the release of the 11 fliers and other U.N. Command personnel still detained."

In London, senior diplomatic officials said the mission apparently has only finished the first step toward winning freedom for men held by the Chinese Reds.

Miss Thompson Discusses Peril

Columnist Tells Pontiac Audience Red Threat Is Overrated

Columnist Dorothy Thompson told Pontiac last night, "Don't sacrifice freedom to fear," admonishing our great civilization to take new stock of the values it lives by, keeping good faith and tradition.

Miss Thompson, talking on "The Crises of the West" in a Kiwanis-sponsored lecture at Pontiac High School, told her audience what could be done to meet the threat of communism which, she declared, "is not as great a 'bogey' as publicity has made it."

The speaker recounted the history of the great West which began over 2,000 years ago in Greece.

She followed it through the decline of the Greek civilization to the present, pointing out that, as each power waned, its next great successor was always from the West. Any attempt to overthrow the great West, she emphasized, has always failed.

Miss Thompson does not take much stock in the term "one world" because of the great differences in the various civilizations of the world.

She pointed out that the West has never been defeated and she advised that we should help cement the ties that bind it to itself. However, she believes that America must avoid military ventures in Asia and that our military position should be "only defensive."

"But, with the revival of the faith and the spirit of our forefathers," Miss Thompson concluded her impressive talk, "who knows, perhaps we can some day become the regenerator of mankind."

Port Huron to Get Slum-Clearing Aid

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich), said today that the federal government had agreed to allocate $2,602,190 to Port Huron, Mich., for redevelopment of a section of the city.

Wolcott, a Port Huron man, said the city plans to remove substandard buildings in a 50-acre area east of the business district. He said 150 families in the area would be moved to homes in other parts of the city, public improvements would be made and cleared land would be sold for public buildings and businesses.

Wolcott said $1,695,096 of the total allocation was a temporary loan while the remaining $907,094 was in capital grant funds.

Weather Clears in Most of U.S.; Midwest Snowy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skies cleared in most of the eastern and western parts of the country today but there was wet weather over wide areas of the mid-continent.

Snow fell during the night in the northern Great Plains, the upper Mississippi Valley and parts of the western Great Lakes region.

Rain areas included the extreme southern part of the Rio Grande Valley on the southern border of Texas and western Washington.

Skies were mostly clear in New England, the middle Atlantic Seaboard, the Southeastern states, the central Rockies, most of the plateau region and in southern California.

Mr. Simons, well known for his efforts in numerous civic and state affairs, will discuss the Tercentenary of Judaism in the United States.

His discourse will follow the regular Friday Night Service which will be conducted by the Men's Club at 8:15 p.m.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein extends an invitation to the public.

Papers Stress Aid to Retailers

Dry Goods Association Is Urged to Cooperate With U.S. Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Retail executives were urged today to cooperate more closely with newspapers on their advertising problems. Such cooperation, they were told, will pay off in bigger profits and increased sales.

The cooperation theme was stressed in speeches prepared for delivery at the 44th annual convention here of the National Retail Dry Goods Assn.

Harold S. Barnes, director of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. (ANPA), told the meeting:

"Newspapers stand as ready and willing to help the retailer (plan his advertising) as the retailer is willing to receive help."

Grove Patterson, editor-in-chief of the Toledo Blade, said newspapers and department stores have much in common.

"Both newspapers and department stores want to do business with all the people," he asserted. "We both want enduring, permanent patronage—not a subscriber or a customer just for today, but for all the tomorrows."

Advertising, the Toledo editor said, "is the continuing promotion of a sound and rugged idea, the idea of goodwill, of confidence and of faith.

"You have so much, so very much to sell, and we now have such extraordinary, such amazing facilities for distribution. Today there are more than 1,700 daily newspapers in the United States with a circulation of more than 54 million. Despite the creation and gains of all other media for the transmission of advertising, newspapers keep on growing."

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Arthur M. Hutchings, 41, of Detroit is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after police said he ran into the path of a car driven by Horace Wolter, 48, of Detroit, on Woodward near Long Lake Road.

Hutchings suffered three fractured ribs, a fractured left arm, a puncture wound and shock.

Police Release Youth on Charge of Attack

BIRMINGHAM—Police Monday released Michael J. Cunniff, 18, of 828 Bennaville. He and two other youths had been held on investigation of attempted statutory rape. A warrant has been issued against the other two for assault with attempt to rape a 13-year-old Birmingham girl.

Waiving examination and bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court when they appeared before Justice John J. Gafill yesterday, were Charles G. Schuman, 18, of 122 Auburn Rd., Pontiac, and Morris L. Howe, 17, of 971 Bennaville. Bond was set at $1,000 apiece.

City Approves Building Permits

Bypasses Current Plat Ordinance to Speed Home Construction

In order to speed construction of a 150-unit housing development, the City Commission last night passed a special motion by-passing the current platting ordinance and authorizing issuance of 60 building permits.

The motion failed by a 4-3 vote once but was re-proposed. It passed by a 6 to 1 vote the second time, with only Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson voting against it.

Patterson, an attorney, said he believed the action was in violation of the new state platting law.

The by-passing motion came after an appeal by Samuel Altschul, representing Green Brothers Builders. Altschul said the company already had $170,000 invested in the project and was losing money each day it could not build.

Holding up according-to-the-rules issuance of the permits was an ordinance allowing the builders to put up a cash bond for $42,000 to guarantee construction of sewers, water mains and streets.

First reading of the new ordinance, changing the ordinance now in effect which allows only surety bonds, was made at the meeting.

The ordinance will become effective 10 days after the second reading, scheduled for next week.

(The permits can be issued under present regulations only after the new plat for the property had been recorded. The new plat, already drawn up but not valid until the ordinance is passed, calls for 50-foot lots instead of the 40-foot lots.)

The development is on N. East boulevard, between Mount Clemens and Perry Sts.

Weapons Board Adopts Revised Arms System

The Oakland County Concealed Weapons Board has adopted a revised system for obtaining weapons permits, according to Robert C. Miller, chief investigator for the prosecutor's office.

Permit seekers must obtain their application plus an affidavit form and instruction sheet from their local police agency or the sheriff's department, said Miller.

The affidavit must be filled out and signed by a notary. It states, among other things, that the weapon will not be used or carried at a place where liquor is consumed or sold. It also states the weapon will not be carried in a car where the driver or any passengers have been drinking.

The applicant's fingerprints are checked through police and federal files for any law infractions. He then must appear before the board. Emergency permits for 30 days and some renewals may be issued without an appearance.

Permit seekers must be 21 years old and have lived in Oakland County for more than six months.

Attorney, Manager Work on Shain Park Proposal

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Having just cleared the way for a 223-car space municipal parking lot on Pierce from Merrill to Brown streets, the City Commission forged ahead this week with latest plans to turn Shain Park into a similar lot, for about 142 cars.

City Attorney Forbes Hascall and City Manager Donald C. Egbert will draw up necessary data for purchasing the block of property immediately south of the park, which in turn would be used for a park or other public purpose. A hearing will then be called to set up a special assessment district.

While Hascall said a public vote on the issue is not legally needed, an advisory vote will probably be put to residents in the April election.

Costa Rica Capital Strafed by Fighter

Cortez, in the southern part of Costa Rica.

He said also invading planes had machinegunned Turrialba and Cartago.

Costa Rican troops launched an attack at dawn upon the armed band which seized the Villa Quesada area yesterday. There were unconfirmed reports—one brought in by a government plane from the front—that the troops had regained the town after a battle of less than three hours. The command headquarters, however, refused confirmation and said the action was continuing.

Costa Rica, lacking an air force, was using a Cessna for observation and requisitioned Lacsa transports for combined machinegun and small arms fire against the foe at Villa Quesada.

The pilot of the DC3 which rose to challenge the strike at San Jose landed angry and chagrined because the fighter had kept going north instead of returning for a second pass. Many streets in the area cleared quickly, but in others people rushed outdoors to scan the sky.

Earlier primary interest had centered on Villa Quesada.

Pair Ask Hearing on Burglary Charge

Two Oakland County men who are accused of breaking into two Waterford Township filling stations Jan. 1, waived examination on the charge yesterday and were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 17.

The pair, Chester Ward, 22, of 3433 Dodd Ct., Pontiac Township, and Alfred R. Adkins, 18, of 4824 Clinton Dr., Clarkston, were unable to furnish $1,000 bond each set by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy, and are being held in Oakland County Jail.

Ward and Adkins, according to Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta, admitted breaking into two service stations in Drayton Plains shortly before they were stopped by patrolmen because one of their headlights was not working.

Sen. Potter Assigned to Committee Posts

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Charles E. Potter, Michigan's senior senator, was assigned yesterday to serve on two Republican legislative committees in the 84th Congress.

Potter, of Cheboygan, was named to the Appropriations and Interstate and Foreign Commerce committees. He won the only GOP vacancy on the coveted Appropriations Committee.

Potter also was one of nine GOP senators appointed to serve on the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee for the 1956 campaign. Fourteen Republican senators will be candidates for reelection in 1956.

Michigan Normal Plans Extension Courses Here

Michigan State Normal College begins extension courses for credit work on Feb. 1 in Pontiac's Washington Junior High School.

Offering geography classes on Michigan, the United States and Canada, additional classes are available in creative art and a graduate course in visual-sensory aids for education.

The only 4:30 class is in Michigan geography. The others are scheduled for 7:15 in the evening.

Registration will be at the school on opening night.

UAW Contract Meetings Open

GM, Ford Locals Start Separate Talks to Plan for Negotiations

DETROIT (AP)—CIO United Auto Workers' delegates representing 500,000 General Motors and Ford workers, began three-day meetings today in the first move of a heralded drive for the guaranteed annual wage.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW and CIO president, was expected to address Ford delegates late today. Unionists from General Motors are meeting with UAW Vice President John W. Livingston, who heads their department.

Some 127 General Motors locals throughout the U. S. and Canada were represented as well as 83 Ford local units from coast to coast.

Ford's huge local 600 from Detroit also is listing a 30-hour work week for 40 hours pay among its demands, but union sources said it appeared highly doubtful that Ford local's recommendation would be added to the list of demands on the company.

The auto industry was kept guessing today over which company—GM or Ford—will be the chief target of the union's fight for the guaranteed wage.

The GM contract, covering some 350,000 auto workers, expires May 29. The Ford contract with 150,000 Ford plant workers, runs to June 1. Negotiations with both companies are expected to open 60 days in advance of the contract expirations.

Commission OKs Fluoride in Water

treated water is not used for drinking purposes.

They said that topical applications, given individuals by hygienists in schools, were superior and could be used by only those who wanted them rather than everyone.

They also claimed that the aluminum industry was pushing fluoridation because sodium fluoride is a by-product of aluminum production.

Speaking for fluoridation, among others, were Dr. J. M. Riley, president of the Oakland County Dental Society, and Drs. Charles J. Donnelly and J. K. Altland, of the State Health Dept.

Dr. Donnelly, who also appeared at last week's hearing on the proposal, refuted opposition charges.

He said tests showed there was no evidence that allergies could be attributed to the presence of fluorides in water and that the rates of cancer, heart and other diseases did not vary greatly in fluorided and non-fluorided areas.

He said topical fluoride applications were more costly and less effective.

"As far as losing a great deal of the fluorinated water for bathing, washing and industry," Dr. Donnelly said, "the same thing is true of chlorination. But you must realize it is still the most practical and inexpensive way."

Charges that sodium fluoride is a by-product of the aluminum industry were also answered by Dr. Donnelly.

"The companies have to buy sodium fluoride to use in making aluminum. It is certainly not an end product."

He said the only ill-effect researchers have found from fluoridation is mottled tooth enamel.

He said this was due to having too much of the chemical in the water supply, either naturally or artificially.

Since Pontiac's water supply comes from wells, it has been pointed out that control of fluoride amounts would be more accurate than if the water were taken from a river or lake.

Pontiac's water naturally contains from .3 to .6 of one part fluoride to 1,000,000 parts of water. The State Health Dept. recommends one part of fluoride to 1,000,000 parts of water.

Should opposition to fluoridation develop, approximately 2,100 signatures would be needed to force a referendum.

A referendum would put the decision up to the public, a move some commissioners considered before the 90-day delay clause was inserted in the resolution.

Under law, legal signatures totaling 15 per cent of the municipal vote in the last election can bring about a referendum.

Since the Pontiac vote in November was nearly 14,000, about 2,100 valid signatures would be needed.

Grand Rapids, Jackson, Bay City, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Muskegon, Ann Arbor, Midland, Mt. Clemens, Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, Marquette and Escanaba are among Michigan cities now fluoridating, according to the State Health Dept.

More than 28,000,000 persons in American cities are now drinking fluoridated water, a department representative said.

Local PTA, civic and union groups supported the fluoridation proposal.

Before last night's vote was taken, letters were read from the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the League of Women Voters of Pontiac supporting the move.

Cold Hampering 30,000 Pilgrims in Mexico Walk

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Thousands of cold and weary Roman Catholics struggled toward Mexico City today, nearing the end of a 3-day, 45-mile pilgrimage on foot during one of the year's coldest northers.

The pilgrims, estimated by newsmen to number 30,000, were en route from Toluca and nearby villages to Mexico's most sacred shrine, the Basilica of the Virgin of Guadalupe on the outskirts of the capital.

The pilgrimage began at dawn Monday and took the marchers along a twisting road that climbs well over 12,000 feet up before it dips into the valley of Mexico. Religious ceremonies were conducted irregularly along the route.

Most of the walkers are poor and many barefoot. They spent the two nights of the march huddled around campfires in freezing temperatures, wrapped in handwoven blankets.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. William J. O'Riley

Mrs. William J. (Bessie May) O'Riley, 74, of 78 Mary Day Ave. died Tuesday at Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of two years.

Born in Decorah, Iowa, Sept. 8, 1880, she was the daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Gadway Browne and was married here in 1907.

Mrs. O'Riley came to Pontiac from Detroit 66 years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mazie Crider of Hamilton, Ohio, Mrs. Dorothy Welch and Mrs. Elsie Hinkle, both of Pontiac. Two nieces also survive.

The funeral will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. from the Huntoon Funeral Home with Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. John Henry Rice

Mrs. John Henry (Jennie) Rice, 86, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard (Reina) Adams, 485 Central Ave. after an illness of four years.

The daughter of Herb and Elizabeth Johnson Flansburg, she was born in Mariette April 9, 1868 and was married in Imlay City in 1885.

Mrs. Rice came here from Snover 32 years ago, and was a member of the United Missionary Church on Prospect St.

Surviving are three sons, Homer, Leonard, and Asa, all of Pontiac; two daughters, Mrs. Pearl McGinnis and Mrs. Adams with whom she made her home; 23 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are a brother, Wesley Flansburg of Brown City; three sisters, Mrs. Sara Jones of North Dakota, Mrs. Ada Cuttler and Mrs. Goldie Stevens, both of Berkley.

A prayer service will be held at the home at 1:30 p.m. Friday, followed by the funeral service at the United Missionary Church at 2 p.m. The Rev. George D. Murphy and the Rev. Perry C. Horton will officate with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Arrangements are by the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home.

Ralph A. Rigney

Ralph A. Rigney, 61, of 392 Highland Ave. died Monday at his home after an illness of five years.

Born here in 1894, he was the son of Ben Rigney and had lived his entire life in Pontiac.

Surviving is a stepbrother, William Stratton, of Pontiac.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the William F. Davis Funeral Home. The Rev. Ford B. Reed of the New Hope Baptist Church will officiate with burial following in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Rigney will be at the funeral home at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

December Blood Collections Hit Holiday High

Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross reports that December blood collections reached an all time high for a holiday period.

Pontiac Motor Division was responsible for the swell with 611 of the 829 pint total collected here.

Dr. Ernest Bauer, blood chairman for Oakland County, says that collections like this are unusual during holidays and warns that even though the bank was built up, blood collections must continue because the life of whole blood for transfusions is only 21 days.

A bloodmobile visit to Elks Temple on Tuesday netted 101 pints. Families of employes of Oakland County Road Commission signed for this bank and derive most benefit from it although there were some unscheduled donors.

Sees Rockets Speeding Mail

Ex-Postal Aide Says U.S. on Verge of New Letter Transport Era

CHICAGO (AP)—The mail carrier of tomorrow may put a letter in a guided missile in New York and zoom it over to Liverpool, England, in a matter of hours, John M. Redding, former assistant postmaster general said today.

In an address prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the Parcel Post Assn., Redding said the nation is on the verge of tremendous advances in the transport of mail.

"It is now possible—and I violate no security in making this statement—to use the guided missile for the transportation of light mails over tremendous distances," Redding said. "Such a missile could be guided half way across the Atlantic from a base in this country—have control taken over by radio on the receiving end and safely and securely land in Europe with mails only three or four hours old out of the United States."

"The costs are as yet prohibitive," Redding declared. "Yet experiments are going forward even now. Scattered experiments have been made by other countries in this regard. Germany has tried rocket missiles. So has Italy."

Redding said that Chicago now has a rail bottleneck "that slows the entire transcontinental postal system."

"Bulk mails from New York arrive in the morning — not early," Redding said, "and theoretically connect with afternoon departures the same day for the West Coast."

"Actually," Redding continued, "the connection time is too brief and these mails lay over until the following day thus incurring about a 30-hour delay.

Urge Colleges Lead to End Segregation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Methodist Educators agree that church colleges must take the lead today in helping to end racial segregation in higher education.

"Since church-related colleges and universities profess to stand for Christian principals, there is an obligation here which should be more compelling than the legal compulsion which has been placed on the public schools," the division of educational institutions of the Methodist Board of Education resolved.

The board is one of more than a score of Methodist agencies and commissions which are holding their annual meeting in Cincinnati this week. They will combine tonight and tomorrow for a joint assembly, the first of its kind to be held since three branches of American Methodism merged in 1939.

Liquor Pilferer Faces Thirty Thirsty Days

After quenching his thirst with liquor from two neighboring apartment refrigerators last night, Thomas Roberts, 45, 90 Oakland Ave., will spend the next 30 days in jail—to whet or regret his longing for strong liquids.

He was sentenced this morning on charges of entering two apartments in his building without permission. Tenants said he raided their refrigerators, taking a quantity of liquor—drinking some on the spot.

He pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Nets $3,091

A final totaling of figures has shown that Pontiac firemen and letter carriers collected $3,091 in their recent drive to get funds to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy, according to Charles H. Moore and Norbert B. Kubiak, co-chairmen.

Actually, area residents contributed more because some 800 letters with contributions were received in Detroit from this vicinity, they stated.

Just Have to Keep Using Those Old Spittoons

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Democratic Rep. Daniel J. Mahaney proposed yesterday that ashtrays be provided to protect the new "beautiful rug" in the House of Representatives.

However, Republican Leader Norman K. Parsells objected. He said ashtrays might prove too tempting as missles "in the heat of debate."

The proposal was defeated.

Sammy Davis Back on Stage

Entertainer Who Lost Eye Makes Triumphant Return to Spotlight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sammy Davis Jr., who lost an eye in an auto crash two months ago, made a triumphant return to show business last night before a cheering audience.

"This is more than wonderful; only in show business could it happen," the 28-year-old entertainer told the Ciro's throng, who stood and applauded at the end of his performance. The crowd included Humphrey Bogart, Judy Garland, June Allyson, Dick Powell, Marilyn Maxwell, Donna Reed, Ricardo Montalban and Glynis Johns.

* * *

Upon being introduced by his pal Jeff Chandler, Davis was cheered for 90 seconds. He was accompanied by his father, Sammy Davis Sr., and uncle, Will Mastin, who comprise his act. But they soon stepped aside and let Sammy take over.

He put on one of the greatest one-man shows in Sunset Strip history. He imitated everyone from Cary Grant and Arthur Godfrey to Vaughn Monroe and Jerry Lewis. He danced like the late Bill Robinson and did a piano imitation of Liberace, who enjoyed it in a ringside seat. He sang and danced in his own style, including an aria from "Carmen Jones."

* * *

For a smash finish he played the drums like Gene Krupa, massaged the bass viol and ended with trumpet playing and singing a la Louis Armstrong. He was on stage 70 minutes and left the audience pounding tables and cheering for more.

He wore a black eye patch during the show.

Sheppard's Father in Critical Condition

CLEVELAND (AP) — Shocked and grieving over his wife's suicide, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard was in critical condition today at the Cleveland Clinic.

Under constant guard in an observation cell at county jail was his youngest son, 31-year-old Samuel Sheppard, convicted Dec. 21 of slaying his pregnant wife, Marilyn, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The elder Sheppard, 65, was transferred to the clinic from the Bay View Osteopathic Hospital, where he was being treated for a respiratory ailment when his wife, Ethel, shot herself to death last Friday at the home of another son, Dr. Stephen.

The mother's suicide note said she couldn't "manage" without her husband.

Her funeral and burial last Monday was attended by the convicted osteopath.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Tells of Poverty

Testifies That She Had to Borrow Money for Holiday Dinner in '53

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt says the dinner she and her daughter ate on Thanksgiving Day in 1953 came from $5 given them by a kindly New York City policeman.

Testifying yesterday in her suit for separation from Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., she said she had exhausted her money and had applied for city relief in August of that year.

* * *

"I was without funds . . . I had sold my fur coat and pawned my wedding and engagement rings for $450," she stated.

She said she and her daughter by a previous marriage had been eating at a restaurant where she had left her watch to cover the cost of their food. She continued:

"They were closed on Thanksgiving Day, 1953, so we went to a police station and a policeman gave my daughter and me $5 for food for that day."

Before her marriage to Vanderbilt went on the rocks, she testified, they spent $100,000 a year on living expenses.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, her husband's fifth wife, is suing on grounds of cruelty, abandonment and nonsupport and asks $1,500 a week alimony. Vanderbilt, who married her in 1948, says he got a Mexican divorce in 1953 and she is no longer his wife.

Well, There's Nothing Like Being Optimistic

DENVER (AP)—"How much tax is due on $75,000 income?" the anonymous woman caller asked a government tax expert yesterday by telephone.

About $41,180, not counting deductions, she was told.

"Well, what about $150,000?" she asked.

The bill jumped to $101,980, the experts slide rule showed.

Asked why she inquired, the woman replied:

"I'm just deciding whether to buy one or two tickets on the Irish sweepstakes. Thanks for your help."

Special Program May Offer New Hope for Unemployed in Over-45 Age Group

(Editor's Note: The unemployed who are over 45 claim they are "first to be fired, last to be hired." This is an exaggeration, but federal and state labor departments recognize a special employment problem involving the older worker. This dispatch, the last in a series, describes how labor, management and the government are going to bat for the senior citizen.)

NEW YORK (UP)—A New York state senator is asking the Legislature for $200,000 for relief of the aged. But not a penny of it would be doled out as "relief." It would be used to help men and women past 45 gets jobs so they can support themselves.

State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, chairman of the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging, regards the 45-plus age group as the "hard core" of the unemployed in New York.

The program he is sponsoring would provide for retraining of older workers who need to adopt old skills to new machines, for special counselling to help them find jobs, and for a permanent "educational" campaign to help break down the prejudice against older men and women in the labor force.

The plan embodies some of the recommendations put forth recently by a U.S. Labor Department "committee on the older workers," which urged that both labor and industry pay more heed to the special problems affecting senior citizens.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has warned that the 45-plus, who represent an increasing proportion of the population and a potential political group of enormous power, will force an expensive welfare program into existence if they are not relieved of the discrimination which keeps them out of work.

In Detroit, which is on the government's list of "critical" unemployment areas, the employers association representing a cross-section of local industry has recognized the problem of the older worker as a "grave" one but one not easily solved.

"It isn't the inhumaneness of the employer that prompts him to say 'no' to an older job applicant," Wayne Stettbacher, general manager of the association, said. "It is the general complexity of the picture and higher unit costs."

He said the most significant factor is the cost of pensions. This is a field which the Labor Department committee recommended that a conference of industry leaders explore.

Desmond's New York committee has found that special counselling has boosted the placement of older workers in new jobs by 50 per cent. But this requires more counsellors. While it takes about an hour to find a job for an under 45 applicant, 10 hours is sometimes required to line up employment for an oldster.

The committee is plugging for more "job engineering" in industry to help the older worker. A survey of 250 companies in New York showed that only 40 could cite cases where plant routine or equipment had been adapted to allow older workers to stay on jobs they might otherwise have been forced to quit.

The Desmond program also would include a "technical advisory service" aimed at convincing industry that in many types of jobs age is an asset rather than a liability.

In a recent report the committee described Hollywood as "the archfoe of the nation's senior citizens," and said movie-makers are possessed by a "youth mania" that fosters prejudice against anyone with gray hair.

"The only roles Hollywood associates with later life," the committee said, "are those of the irascible spinister, the garrulous grandpa, the Helen Hokinson-type grandma, the seedy, aged tramp and the meddling aunt."

Production of coal in the U. S. each day of about one million tons would fill a train of 50-ton railway coal cars extending from Pittsburgh to Cleveland.

Jury Orders Death for Convicted Slayer

CHICAGO (UP)—Death in the electric chair was recommended last night by a Criminal Court jury which convicted Vincent Ciucci of the murder of his 9-year-old son.

Ciucci, 29, already has been sentenced to a total of 65 years after being convicted of the murder of his wife Anne, 28, and a daughter, Angeline, 4. A murder charge in the death of a second daughter, Virginia, 8, is pending.

* * *

The state had charged Ciucci had killed his wife and three children so he could marry another woman. Their bullet-pierce bodies were found in the ruins of a fire which destroyed the family's combination grocery - home on the West Side Dec. 5, 1953.

The jury's recommendation of death in the murder of his son Vincent Frank makes it mandatory for the judge to impose such a sentence. However, Judge Arthur J. Murphy set Jan. 25 for a hearing of a motion for a new trial. Ciucci earlier had been tried for the murder of his son, but a mistrial was declared.

California Dem Elected to Fill Congress Vacancy

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Democrat Paul G. Rogers is going to Congress to fill the 6th District seat vacated by the death of his father Dwight L. Rogers.

Complete, unofficial returns from the 217 precincts of the 11-county district gave Rogers, a 33-year-old West Palm Beach attorney, 30,131 votes to 21,515 for his Republican opponent J. Herbert Burke, of Hollywood, in yesterday's special election.

President Eisenhower gave Burke his support.

Rogers' victory gives the Democrats 232 members in the House to 203 for the Republicans.

Deaths Last Night

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—George E. Muehlenbach, 73, former head of a Kansas City, Mo., brewery, builder of the Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City and former owner of the Kansas City Blues baseball club. Died Monday.

WASHINGTON, Pa.—Dr. Henry W. Temple, 91, former congressman, minister and educator, who was elected to Congress in 1912 on the Bull Moose ticket and was re-elected to nine more two-year terms on the Republican ticket. Born in Belle Center, Ohio.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa—Mrs. Clara P. Sammons, 79, first vice president of the Journal-Tribune Publishing Co., widow of W. H. Sammons, long-time publisher of the firm, and sister of W. R. Perkins, present publisher of the Journal-Tribune.

PITTSBURGH—Dr. Richard Taylor Wiley, 98, one of the oldest active newspapermen in Pennsylvania who began his newspaper career more than 80 years ago and was editor and columnist for the nearby Elizabeth Herald, a weekly.

WASHINGTON—Miss Mary Virginia Merrick, 88, an invalid who helped thousands of crippled children to find happiness, and who nearly 75 years ago founded the Christ Child Society, which grew into a national organization with branches in 38 American cities and one in The Hague. Born in Washington.

VENTURA, Calif.—Halvern N. Norris, 58, founder of the Norris Oil Co., who financed early development in the Cuyama Valley oil field in 1948-49 after retiring from the State Department, where he had served in Asia and Europe.

Bar Association to Give Free Aid in Security Cases

WASHINGTON (UP) — The American Bar Assn. announced today the establishment of a special committee to give free legal assistance to government workers involved in security cases.

Some federal workers, although finally cleared, have complained of heavy legal expenses incurred in defending themselves. The government reimburses them for any pay lost during periods of suspension, but it does not pay their attorneys' fees.

ABA President Loyd Wright said the special committee was set up in Washington because it has the heaviest concentration of federal workers.

But he said similar aid would be provided through legal aid clinics and lawyer referral services in the principal cities of the nation. He said the "problem is broad enough to include questions of industrial security matters" involving employes of private firms holding government contracts.

Dog Saves Life of Master, 69

Collie Digs Out Rancher Pinned Under Tractor After Accident

DURANGO, Colo. (UP)—Sissie, a collie dog, was credited yesterday with saving the life of her master by digging frantically in the frozen earth and snow which covered his face after a farm tractor overturned on him.

Frank Montgomery, 69, a farmer of Bayfield, Colo., told from a hospital bed how Sissie saved him from almost sure death by suffocation or freezing. He said he had taken the tractor out yesterday to scrape ice and snow off a road which leads from his farm home to the highway.

When the tractor skidded out of control he was unable to jump clear because of a stiff knee. The machine's steering wheel was jammed into his back and he was pinned, face down, in the bottom of an irrigation ditch.

Almost immediately the dog came running up, Montgomery said, to find her master helpless and nearly unconscious from the pain of a broken back. Sissie began digging at the hard earth and snow around Montgomery's head and within 15 minutes he was able to breathe freely. With Sissie's help, the farmer managed to struggle painfully from under the overturned tractor.

Montgomery then crawled to his ranch home and called a doctor. He was brought to Mercy Hospital here where doctors said he was resting well and would recover.

Movies Are Smoked Out in Singapore Theaters

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singaporeans are avid movie-goers, but they're making so much smoke that they're beclouding the screen. The theaters flash slides before each film performance, telling patrons:

"Reduce the smoke screen and see better the cinescreen."

The appeal doesn't seem to have had much effect. Apparently no one has thought of banning smoking in theaters.

Ex-Marshal Named

Williams Drops Rathnaw From State Liquor Board

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams dropped Anthony J. Rathnaw from the state Liquor Control Commission today and in his place put Joseph L. Wisniewski of Detroit, former U.S. marshal for the eastern district of Michigan.

Rathnaw was partially consoled for the loss of his $9,000 a year liquor post by appointment to the state Economic Development Commission, an unsalaried job.

Williams said "Rathnaw's services are badly needed" on the Economic Development Commission. The governor said it was fortunate that Rathnaw was in such a good financial position he could afford to relinquish the salaried job and go where he could be "of great service".

Thus Williams made good on rumors that Rathnaw would be dropped at the end of his term for publicly advocating that the state get out of the liquor business. Williams, a former liquor commissioner himself, called Rathnaw on the carpet for this recommendation and obtained a promise not to press the issue further.

Williams also named Alfred V. Meyers of Detroit, a school teacher and Democratic chairman for the 17th Congressional District to the state Board of Tax Appeals to succeed Horace Gilmore, the new deputy attorney general.

Mrs. Dorothy McAllister of Grand Rapids, long prominent in civic affairs, was appointed by the governor to the state Board for Libraries to succeed Donald W. Kohlstedt of Grand Rapids. Her term will expire June 24, 1959.

Roscoe A. Walters of Lansing as named to the Employment Security Commission Appeal Board to succeed Calvin N. Smith of Birmingham, who has held office because the Senate has refused to confirm a successor.

Dr. Harry E. August of Detroit was reappointed to the state Mental Health Commission and Paul C. Coussen of Detroit to the state Board of Pharmacy.

Overseas Livestock Planners in Meeting

NEW WINDSOR, Md. (AP) — Directors of Heifer Project, Inc., will decide today how and where they can do the most good in 1955 with their plan for supplying livestock and poultry to the needy of war-torn countries.

A three-day annual meeting of the directors began at project headquarters here yesterday.

More than 100 persons from 13 states, plus government and United Nations officials, are attending. Yesterday they heard reports on projects in Germany, Haiti, Puerto Rico, Afghanistan and the Middle East.

Tomorrow, the directors will try to work out methods of securing the needed livestock and funds for getting the animals overseas.

Okay Alcoholic Aid

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The city commission Tuesday approved $15,000 for operation of a $30,800 program for rehiabilitation of alcoholics in Grand Rapids during the next six months. The rehabilitation center will be in a former brewery acquired by the city last year. The state board on alcoholism Monday granted $15,000 state aid for the program.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1955

YWCA 100 Years Old

This week marked the start of a year-long celebration of the YWCA's 100th anniversary January 11.

Organized in England in 1855 and in the United States in 1858, the Young Women's Christian Association has become a truly international body. With headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, it functions in 66 countries.

In the United States alone it has a membership of 3,000,000. There are 436 community associations, 641 college groups and 166 registered bodies exclusive of branches and USO and United Defense units.

For the Pontiac association, which is participating in the celebration, January 10 also was a red letter day. It marked the 10th anniversary of the YW's occupancy of its Franklin Boulevard quarters. In that decade local membership has increased from 211 to 1,300.

★ ★ ★

When the U. S. entered World War I, the YWCA raised a large war fund. It maintained hostess houses in army camps, provided emergency housing for women and girls in military and industrial centers and extended aid to women uprooted by the war.

Similar services were maintained in World War II and the YW was one of six co-operating national groups which organized the USO recreation services for the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

It is the parent organization of National Travelers Aid, Women's Exchange, Day Nurseries, International Migration Service, Federation of International Institutes and National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Highlight of the anniversary celebration will be a campaign to raise $5,000,000. The money will be used in this country and overseas to further the splendid work of this largest of all women's service organizations.

20 Years of Wirephoto

Because this newspaper was the first in outstate Michigan to use Associated Press Wirephoto, the 20th anniversary of that service is a noteworthy milestone for us.

The service was inaugurated January 1, 1935. At first there were only 39 subscribers in 25 cities. In the two decades since, that number has risen to 500 newspapers out of the 1725 dailies and television stations in the United States and Canada. To give them this fast picture service requires 25,000 miles of wire and the requisite number of receiving-sending machines in subscribers offices.

★ ★ ★

Wirephoto is the marvelous electronic system by which pictures can be transmitted by wire any distance up to the width of the Continent in eight minutes.

Heart of the system is the photo electric cell. Light from that cell shining through a negative in a cylinder of the sending machine actuates a similar cell in all connected receiving sets.

★ ★ ★

At first the differences in intensity of the light emitted by receiving set electric cells sensitized unexposed film in the synchronized receiving sets. This then could be developed and printed as is any film. Today, however, in place of the film in the receiving set, sensitized photographic paper is used thus eliminating one step in the production of a Wirephoto picture.

Long before its 20th anniversary this service had become one of modern daily journalism's most efficient tools. Today the camera is often as close to the news as a reporter's notebook. A Wirephoto can be as hot news as a bulletin.

Thanks to Wirephoto, clear, dramatic and up to the minute pictures of history in the making from all parts of the country and by radiophoto from abroad have become normal fare for newspaper readers. The Press has been in the foreground in this development and will continue to be.

Harlan OK Overdue

One of the first obligations of the Senate the moment its organization is complete, should be to confirm the resubmitted nomination of John Marshall Harlan as ninth justice of the U. S. Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

This matter should have been disposed of during the Senate's special session. The fact that nothing was done about it is handicapping our highest tribunal.

With only eight members, it has been reluctant to hear arguments in important new cases because of the possibility of four to four decisions. Also it was forced to postpone arguments set for December on how its anti-segregation ruling should be carried out.

★ ★ ★

So far, objections to the New Yorker's nomination have been voiced by only two Senators, Langer of North Dakota and Eastland of Mississippi. In both cases the objections are so picayune that they raised no doubt about Judge Harlan's ample qualifications.

No more time should be lost filling the place made vacant by the sudden death of Justice Robert Jackson.

In many a case, when a person says, "I'm a self-made man," he considers the statement a compliment to himself, but his listeners accept it as an apology.

Stevenson Faction Appears to Run National Committee

Life: What when you finally get financially able to take two hours out for lunch your doctor limits you to a glass of milk.

The sentiment among astute political observers is that the forces control the Democrat national committee. This, they say, is proven by its decision to hold the party's 1956 national convention late in August, several weeks later than usual. It puts Michigan's

Adlai E. Stevenson

G. Mennen Williams

in a tough spot, as it would freeze him out of again running for governor, should he fail in his attempt for the national ticket, as the primary on governor is in the first week in August. Oakland County is sure to be in the limelight in Democrat politics next year, as there is no doubt that our own now Lieutenant Governor, is being groomed by Williams to run for governor, should Soapy try for higher honors, which he undoubtedly will. So, if he fails in the national convention, Williams may have to wait until 1958 and then run for U. S. Senator, and Phil will make the Democrat gubernatorial race next year.

Philip A. Hart,

Pennsylvania Turnpike Type of Highway Better Than Bypasses, Says H. W. Fowler

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Your reprint of Harry K. Evans' article on new highways, which appeared in "Nations Business," contained little if any solution to the motorist's or trucker's desire to get from one place to another in the shortest possible time in the most economical manner.

Our present highways are sufficient for local transportation. Freeways and-or toll roads with limited access for through traffic is a must. Mark me down as being opposed to bypasses which eventually have traffic lights, one after another, as far as the eye can see.

The proposed half billion dollar bond issue for highways will get a negative vote from yours truly unless the money is to be spent for new limited access roads with uninterrupted travel. I am thinking of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

I would be happy to pay two to four cents a gallon tax for sensible construction of thruways.

Mr. Evans' article dealt mainly with the benefits to business and increases in property values, which does not solve the transportation problem.

CIO Publication Irks John Hillman

The other day I received through Uncle Sam's mail, part of a CIO publication, dealing with the coming depression during this present administration.

There will be another Democratic Congress, as we had in Hoover's time and we can look forward to the same "rotten deal" to blame the Republican Party as it was done in 1929-30.

There will be, however, a great difference—the CIO will use its Democratic, "American way of life" to bring about this so wanted depression. So, Mr. Eisenhower, better buy those cows for your farm, you will need them.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Mother's Wish for Death of Children Means She Requires Husband's Love

Doris shows you as neat a list of symptoms of "the death wish" as you will ever find, even in psychiatry textbooks. So paste this case record in your scrapbooks and be sure to send for the marriage booklet below. It can save you thousands of dollars you might otherwise have to spend on sanitarium care for such a wife.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-321. Doris M., aged 29, presents the patient's viewpoint in a typical problem.

"Dr. Crane, I feel so mixed up," she began, fearfully. "I've been married six years and have three children.

"For the first few years, I was happy and adored my children. But ever since the last baby arrived, I don't know what has come over me.

"I felt like I was losing my mind, for I was so nervous. I thought I was having heart trouble, but our doctor told me my heart is perfect.

"My health is still so bad, however, I just can't take care of my children. I've never told anybody this before but I often feel as if I'd kill my children.

"Don't ask me why this awful notion comes into my head, but it does. And I can't shake it loose from my mind.

"Maybe I need some religion, for I have never gone to church very often.

"I feel empty inside, as if all love had gone out of me forever. It is a terrible feeling. In fact, I am so mechanical in my feelings that I imagine the children aren't mine. Am I going crazy?"

Doris simply demonstraies a common condition among young mothers. We psychologists encounter it so often, we have named it "The Death Wish."

But because the usual mother thinks it must be a heinous crime to be so irritated by her children as to have a secret wish occasioinally to be free from them, she immediately thinks she must be losing her mind.

And loss of one's mind, as well as a heart attack or a stroke, are the conventional punishments which women believe God will likely prescribe as punishment.

You will notice that Doris thought she had heart trouble. But when the family physician banished this false notion, then she has begun to develop nervousness, a feeling of confusion, etc.

Patients can sprout various symptoms of what they think is insanity, especially when they feel convinced they ought to be crazy.

And her feeling that the children aren't her own, is a cousin to the "foster child fantasy" that strikes thousands of youngsters who dislike their parents and then imagine they are adopted.

Such children do this when they feel irked because their own parents have cramped their style, so to speak, by denying them undue privileges, etc.

Well, Doris feels her children have deprived her of a lot of fun and romance. So she tries to get away from them by thinking they aren't hers. And that thought also helps lessen her guilt, for if they aren't her own offspring, then her crime is not so serious.

In this daily column on applied psychology, I must obviously compress cases and give you terse summaries.

In a nutshell, therefore, Doris is hungry for more love and physical affection from her husband. He used to make over her a great deal, at least till the children came.

Since then, he has shown more interest in them and in his business, so Doris feels jilted. Besides, her next birthday is her 30th and young women dread this date unnecessarily as placing them on the shelf.

Many wives actually end in mental sanitariums just because they feel they ought to be insane, due to their secret jealousy of their children.

Husbands can prevent this by paying their wives daily compliments; by taking them out on a date at least once per week, and by using the sex advice in my booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage." Send a stamped, return envelope plus a dime and insure your marriage by this advice.

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Split Over Question of Government Security

WASHINGTON — The hullabaloo being raised in Congress about the handling of security risks boils down to a simple question. Is the safety of the United States government and of the American people of paramount importance or is it to be superseded by legalistic barriers now advocated to spare government employes the hazards of investigation?

Is even dismissal by the government as a matter of precaution to be subjected to frustrating devices so that ferreting out of subversives is to be made more difficult?

Too many people think the matter of security is an academic question. Many of them, because they dislike Senator McCarthy, now are flippantly quipping that "McCarthyism is a wasm."

But it is turning out to be a grim joke. For "McCarthyism"—which was a word first widely used in the columns of the Daily Worker, the Communist organ—has apparently not yet sufficiently aroused the government to the necessity of taking better security measures.

Thus, in the last few days some tragic exposures have been made, but nevertheless the Democratic Party in Congress remains divided on how to meet the dangers of Communist infiltration. While one group of Democrats in Congress is asserting vigorously that they will not relax their interest in the subject of ridding the government of Communists, another group is about to launch an investigation to prove that the Eisenhower administration has been too drastic with its dismissals of employes.

In the midst of it all, Rep. Keating of New York, Republican, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, has issued the following statement:

"A man by the name of Joseph Petersen, a former code expert in the National Security Agency, has just been sentenced to seven years in prison for espionage. It now has been revealed that the way he was caught was by means of a routine check under the new security program instituted by President Eisenhower.

"Here was a very serious security risk who had been working for the government for years and who would still be on the payroll today, undetected and unapprehended, had this administration not acted promptly and vigorously."

The court proceedings in the Petersen case were mysteriously fragmentary. Again and again the court announced that certain testimony would be heard privately "in chambers." The documents that were presented in open court were few and, it is known, did not compare in their sensational nature with the many withheld from public record.

Petersen made a confession which, in part, was placed in the court record. He said:

"I recall furnishing verbal information from this document to Giaccomo Stuydt, whom I knew to be a Dutch national employed at the Dutch Embassy at that time. This information was given to Stuydt at different times and at different places.

"I neglected to return this document to Arlington Hall (National Security Agency) because I was emotionally disturbed as I realized the gravity of my actions to my country in illegally furnishing information from a secret United States government document to an unauthorized foreign national."

What happened after the Dutch government got the data: Was it relayed by someone to Moscow?

Petersen carried away documents from 1948 to 1952, and some of them were of such a vital nature that U.S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan, in referring to them said: "Their disclosure could have, and may have for all the court knows, led to very, very serious consequences to the security of the United States."

Members of Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, are showing unhappiness over another episode—the belated Army report on the case of Major Peress, who, according to a comment in the Senate by Senator Daniel of Texas, was a member of the Communist Party yet was given an honorable discharge after his papers for nearly two years before showed that he had refused to answer a question concerning his Communist connections.

Yet Senator McCarthy was vilified and censure recommended by the Watkins committee because he denounced the general who helped to cover up the case.

Senator Francis Case of South Dakota, Republican, a member of that committee, now says it has been proven that the "Army had weighed the request of a Senate committee chairman against that of a suspected subversive and decided in favor of the latter."

The South Dakota senator, it will be recalled, told the Senate he changed his view when he discovered that the Army had discharged Major Peress after and not before Senator McCarthy's letter seeking a postponement of that step had been received by the Army.

On top of all this there's a left wing drive on to surround government employes with complex procedural devices which would supersede the rights of the American government to protect its own safety.

French vote of confidence is equivalent to throwing a drowning man both ends of the rope.

We told the premier pro tem if the French ever sobered up they'd wonder who he was.

The jug-headed Gauls are as stubborn as a mule on a hill. They don't want to hear the patter of little hob-nailed boots double-timing to Paris.

Both France and Germany have a warm spot in their disgust for each other. The way Napoleon used to make regular stops at Munich, Berlin and Hamburg you might think he was riding a milkman's hoss.

Bismarck squared the rap in 1870 with the EMS telegram and carved Alsace up like a toy maker's bench.

In 1914 Kaiser Billhelm took another whirl at it with an army that Teddy Roosevelt told him was tops for the course. Which started the Kaiser off on a bender like a pretzel-maker.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.—Romans 1:7.

Never Apply Ice or Cold in Any Form to Frostbitten Skin . . . and Don't Rub

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Come now, gather round, children, and we'll endeavor to work out a sensible way to treat frostbite. I've never lived farther north than Canandaigua but I know a fellow who lived five years in the arctic and I think he knows more about first aid for frostbite than anybody else.

He told me about it after he returned home. Another thing he told me was that neither he nor any member of his party ever had anything you mollycoddles could call a "cold," although they endured more exposure to cold and wet than even our hot stove philosophers have experienced.

Don't try to brush this off by explaining that of course my friend and his party were "hardened" to it, for the truth is that "we had been infected as soon as we reached Cape Bathurst and repeatedly during the fall we 'caught cold' afresh from coming to some new settlement of whites or Eskimos. I caught one of these colds while at the house of . . . the Hudson's Bay Company's trader in the delta . . ." (quoted from Stefansson's "The Friendly Arctic").

Now I can't remember whether it was in his book or in conversation that Vilhjalmur (I've known him 30 years but I still don't know how to spell or pronounce his name) Stefansson told me this, but anyway he made light of the question of frostbite.

Just warm your hand under your armpit and hold it on nose or cheek for a moment, then the same with the other hand. Or for frostbitten fingers, hold in the armpit for warmth and gently wash the dry hands for a moment, repeating the warming and "washing" till color returns to the blanched skin.

Never apply ice or cold in any form. Don't rub the frostbitten part. Just knead it gently.

It is well to bear in mind that overzealous first aid treatment may do more harm than good. To continue any active treatment after color returns to the blanched, whitened frostbitten finger, nose, ear, cheek, foot or toe is to invite infection and inflammation.

An old superstition, still entertained by some physicians, suggests that the "frozen member should be thawed out gradually, by immersion in a cold bath (temperature 45 to 60 degrees F), the water being kept cold by adding snow or ice occasionally"—a hair of the dog that bites you. Now don't you cry if the doctor treats your frozen fingers in this manner.

A medical authority, name of Campbell described this treatment in a report of his experience in high mountain regions, published in Schweizerische medizinische Wochenschrift 11-17-32, and explained, in case you are puzzled, that "cold necessary for the freezing of the water on the surface of the skin is withdrawn from the frozen member and the latter is thawed out quickly, safely and as it were, without secondary effects."

That typical German medical hokum somehow doesn't jibe with the elementary physics I learned in high school, Canandaigua Union School, that was, but anyway the German doctor's reasoning is comical, don't you think.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Hormel Jury Continues Dope Case Deliberations

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A jury resumes deliberations today in the marijuana possession case against George Hormel II, jazz pianist and heir to a meat-packing fortune.

The jury took the case yesterday and went to a hotel for the night after deliberating two hours without reaching a verdict.

Hormel, 26, was arrested outside his home last Sept. 19 by narcotics officers John E. O'Grady and Matthew O'Connor, who said they found 13 marijuana cigarettes above the sun visor of his car.

Reckless Driver Fined

David L. Micou, 24, of Lone Pine Rd., Bloomfield Hills, was fined $25 and $25 costs yesterday by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle after Micou pleaded guilty to reckless driving.

Asks Accusers to Electrocution

Police, Lawyers, Jury Decline Invitation to See Killer Die in Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A young convicted killer who had invited to his execution the detectives who caught him, the men who prosecuted him and the jurors who tried him died early today in the electric chair.

* * *

None of those he had invited were there. He did not even bother to read a statement he had written questioning the death sentence.

Donald Hawkins Brown, 24, was brought into the state prison death chamber at 12:02 a.m. while outside the prison walls his young wife, mother of two children, and his mother waited. He surveyed the chamber, a half smile on his face, and remarked:

"I don't see the district attorney or any of the prosecutors here."

Then he was strapped in the death chair. The first electric charge struck him at 12:04 a.m. and he was pronounced dead two minutes later.

* * *

As he stepped to the chair, he handed newsman Don Reid, of Huntsville, a "prepared statement" which he had said earlier he planned to read before his execution.

"Capital punishment . . . has become the great issue here where I have lived among the dead," the note said. It said if the death sentence was to be feared by criminals and the public and was to be a "deterrent to crime" that the public and prosecutors "should be here."

The note questioned the wisdom of the death sentence and said it "made martyrs of these men and placed at the feet of psychopaths an adventure to be desired."

Brown's plea for clemency was turned down by the parole board yesterday!

* * *

Newsman Reid, who has reported hundreds of executions, said Brown, after receiving the news, did not follow the death row tradition of remorse and the brave front but asked that Dist. Atty. Henry Wade and his staff of Dallas, the arresting detectives and the jurors come to the execution.

"This is their party, you know," he said. "I hope they will enjoy it."

Brown was convicted of shooting Edwin Campbell, 26, to death on New Year's Eve 1952 and burning the body in the victim's gasoline-soaked automobile. Testimony revealed Campbell, a loan collector, had been trying to collect back payments on Brown's automobile.

He was arrested 14 days after Campbell's death. Officers found him living in a Fort Worth trailer camp under an assumed name. Although blood-soaked clothes and some of Campbell's personal effects were found in Brown's former residence in Dallas, he maintained a plea of innocence to the end.

Girl Recruits Brother, Boy Friend, Self for AF

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Pretty 20-year-old Patricia Newberry of Rives, Mo., is the Air Force recruiter's dream girl. She stopped by the Memphis recruiting station a month ago for information on the Women's Air Force.

While thinking things over at home, she convinced her brother and boy friend that the Air Force is the place for them. D. L. Newberry, 18, and D. G. Wayne, 19, were with her when she returned.

All htree were sworn in yesterday.

'Trolley Cars' Still Being Used

Holland Store Cashier Feels Old Way to Make Change Is Best

HOLLAND (UP)—As far as Miss Dena Bareman is concerned, the "trolley car" system of making change is still the best way.

Miss Bareman is cashier at a Holland clothing store which is believed to be the last store in western Michigan still using the "trolley car" system of cash carriers.

At one time, there was at least one "trolley car" system in just about every fair sized community in the nation. Today they are a rarity, having been replaced by separate cash registers and pneumatic tubes.

"Trolley cars" were first introduced in 1889 and became popular during the 1890's.

The system consists of several small cash cups which scoot along wires to the cashier's office from different stations throughout the store. They are powered by a spring which sends them to the cashier when the clerk pulls down a handle.

Miss Bareman said clerks in the store like the system, too. They'd rather have one cashier than five or six registers throughout the store, she said.

A Syracuse, N. Y., firm that manufactured thousands of "trolley car" systems years ago still sells parts for the carriers, Miss Bareman said.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

PINOCCHIO, A STORY-BOOK FRIEND

One of the most famous of our story-book friends made his first appearance 72 years ago in Florence, Italy. He was Pinocchio—a little wooden puppet who wanted to be a real boy. The story was written by Carlo Lorenzini, who called himself "Collodi."

Pinocchio wanted to be good, but kept telling things that really weren't so. As punishment, his nose began to grow and grow. It got so long he ran into furniture and into walls. When he promised to be good, it shrank to normal size. But Pinocchio started being bad again. This time his ears grew into donkey's ears. Finally he learned his lesson. But he had to do many good deeds before his ears returned to normal size.

1. Give Pinocchio a bright hat and also color the dots on his collar. Make his face pink, with red cheeks and a red nose. Color the long nose at the bottom of today's picture pink. Make the donkey ears brown.

2. Paste the picture on stiff paper. Cut out the four pieces. Cut through the dotted line on Pinocchio's nose, and punch through the holes in his ears and in the donkey ears.

3. Put the donkey ears behind the head and fasten them to the real ears with small brass fasteners. Push the long nose through the slit in the real nose. Make it grow by pushing it out as far as it will go. Make the donkey ears wiggle.

4. You can punch a hole in the cap, and put a string through it if you want to hang Pinocchio in your window.

Forest fires destroy fish as well as other game, damage shade, increase soil erosion, the filling of holes in streams, and also wash ashes into the water forming poisonous lye.

Lobbyists Set for Legislature

300 in 'Third House' Gathered in Lansing to 'Help' Lawmakers

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's biggest bloc of "lawmakers" had to watch from the galleries when 34 senators and 110 representatives were sworn into the State Legislature today.

They were the lobbyists—members of the Legislature's powerful "third house."

Some 300 lobbyists were expected to register for this year's session, which means there will be at least two lobbyists for every legislator.

State officials say the lobbyists—once pictured as influence peddlers lurking in cloakrooms and trading free dinners and money for passage of legislation—play a vital role in the reflection of public opinion.

"They render a great public service," Fred Chase, secretary of the Senate said. "They come right in and lay their cards on the table." Norman E. Philleo, clerk of the House, said lobbyists "give information the Legislature wouldn't get any other way."

In 1947 a law was enacted to "license ligislative agents, and to regulate their activities."

Lobbyists were defined as any persons engaged "in promoting, advocating, or opposing" any matter pending before the Legislature. They were required to file sworn statements giving in detail the nature of any financial transactions with legislators.

Lobbyists are not allowed in the legislative chambers—or even in the cloakrooms—when the houses are in session.

The very presence of so many lobbyists is a regulation in itself. There's always someone to tell the other side of an argument.

When Texas was annexed by the United States it retained the right to divide itself into five states.

South Korean Leaders Urge Austerity Regime

SEOUL (UP)—Government and social leaders yesterday proposed that South Korean President Syngman Rhee and the State Council approve a rigid austerity code providing a ban on neckties, jewels, rings and manufacture of gold or jeweled trinkets and ornaments.

Also, a bar on importing hats, parasols, handbags, cosmetics, and velvet, nylon and glossy silk clothes. No dance halls, no restaurant parties, no foreign tobacco. And for government workers, no coffee breaks.

Rocket Expert Derides Idea of Building Way-Stations for Outer Space Travel

By ANDREW G. HALEY
President, American Rocket Society

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is certain that in a matter of decades, or perhaps generations, we are going to achieve space travel.

But what are we going to do when we finally propel a space ship into outer space?

That's a question top space flight experts have been discussing for some time now. It's an important one because it obviously includes, in these troubled times, a lot more than mere exploratory operations.

Several top experts have maintained that our prime objective should be the building of a man-made platform, standing out in space, which would circle the earth—and from it, we would have military advantages unknown to present-day armed jockeying.

I maintain this is a waste of time even to think about. If we are looking for some means of getting a foot into outer space, we should use existing celestial bodies on which to construct our space ports.

These celestial bodies—invisible to the naked eye—are the source of a constant search by Army Ordnance experts stationed at Duke University.

Dr. Clyde Tombaugh, discoverer of Pluto, is consultant for the project. If there are any earth orbiting meteors—the bodies which would make ideal space ports for our use—this group should discover them.

Dr. Wernher Von Bran, one of the world's leading rocket power plant engineers, always has maintained that our chief aim should be the building of a huge man-made satellite platform in outer space. This platform would orbit around the earth every four hours.

His views were widely published and were the top subject of a symposium of the second International Congress on Astronautics in London.

Various scientific missions have been ascribed to such a manned platform but a great deal of this data could be obtained from an unmanned prefabricated space vehicle.

Miltary advantages have been claimed for the platform. In this regard, nothing in the field of rocket propulsion is more certain than that the platform would be blown to bits by enemy homing rockets using proximity fuses, even while the platform was being built. The mission of such a platform must be peaceful.

If its function is that of a refueling station, here again it is wholly lacking in utility because a tanker from earth could go out that far in space and refuel a space cruiser much more easily, through the use of techniques being developed on earth at this time, such as the Boeing 707 program.

I also believe that the techniques of initial fabrication of such a space platform are at the present time unknown. We are dealing here in structual components of hundreds and even thousands of tons.

Getting these components together in space would require the same precision as on earth. No technique has been suggested for hundreds of workmen, floating around in space, to accomplish such a task.

If the components are delivered by homing devices, we nevertheless must achieve zero impact of the parts to be fabricated. At the present time this is an impossibility.

As R. A. Smith, fellow of the British Interplanetary Society puts it, the space platform may come after the moon has been colonized, but "the idea of 'docking' a space ship inside, or on, or even alongside, a space station is suicidal lunacy, inviting disaster for no good reason at all."

The manmade basic structure, even if successfully fabricated, would be too fragile for such operations.

The next point of colonization would be the moon. And following the conquest of the moon, we would come to an extremely interesting and valuable family of space vehicles known as minor planets or asteroids.

I believe these small bodies will play an immense part in the conquest of space. Here we have natural power plants waiting to take human beings on trips of distances scarcely imaginable.

The asteroids by name orbit between Mars and Jupiter, but of late small similar bodies, possibly tail-less comets, have been observed in other oribts. We continue, for the sake of simplicity, to call them asteroids.

Some asteroids come as close as 400,000 miles to the earth and have paraboilc orbits that go out beyond Jupiter.

A beachhead on one of these would be established by a great supply misson off the moon which would land construction material, provisions and people, and sightseers would embark on trips from 15 years to 80 years—observing a great segment of the solar system on a free ticket, so far as propulsion is concerned.

Substantial protections could be erected against all sorts of unknown hazards, such as intense heat and cold, cosmic ray dangers, meteor bombardments, and so on. No manmade vehicles could possibly be as sturdy as one of those asteroids.

While ove speak glibly of the coming of space travel, the problems are almost beyond the limits of imagination.

Our present chemical rocket fuels can, within a few years, produce exhaust velocities of up to 35,000 feet per second. With this, a trip to our nearest stellar neighbor, Alpha Centauri, would take 130,000 years.

During the course of this one-way trip, more than 5,000 generations of people would live and die. This means that the most absolutely rigid social order would have to be maintained.

There could be no more or less babies than the slide-rule would indicate.

The air breathed by the original ancestor would still have to be breathed by the last generation.

The same food would have to be recycled and eaten over and over again millions of times.

Even the dead human bodies would have to be recycled and its components used again in the process of life.

If we think in terms of atomic energy, we can conceive of developing speeds through fission reaction of about 35 million feet per second. At this rate we might reach Alpha Centauri in 250 years.

Using fusion reaction we might obtain a speed of about 70 million feet per second. This would halve the time of the fission reaction but would take 175 years or seven generations.

All this speculation is extremely interesting and it is indulged in by members of the American Rocket Society only during hours of relaxation.

A state of national emergency still exists, the real peace is yet unknown to mankind. Our membership recognizes that its first duty is to aid in the work of successfully defending our country and free people everywhere.

Homesick Ex-Con Gets Wish — Returns to Pen

SALEM, Ore. (UP) — The homesick convict is going home: back to Oregon State Penitentiary.

Robert W. McCarn, 58, set fire to the Oregon Pulp and Papaer Co. warehouse here in hopes the action would get him another prison term.

He pleaded guilty to a.son and was given his wish—10 more years at the prison. He had been released only last August after serving 17 years of a 20-year term for arson committed in Klamath county. He said:

"I can't adjust to the world outside. And besides, all my friends are in the pen. I want to go back there."

Leave It on Curb

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—One of the problems discussed by the annual meeting of the Hartford Society of Architects was, "What to do with garbage on a space ship."

And There You Are

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (UP)—A Grand Island businessman blushingly admitted that he recently accepted a check made out in the amount of $5.95, and signed U. R. Stuck.

Turn About Fair Play

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—A cry of pain came from a woman elevator passenger. Bobby Frishhorn, six, explained to his mother: "Well, she stepped on my toes first."

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

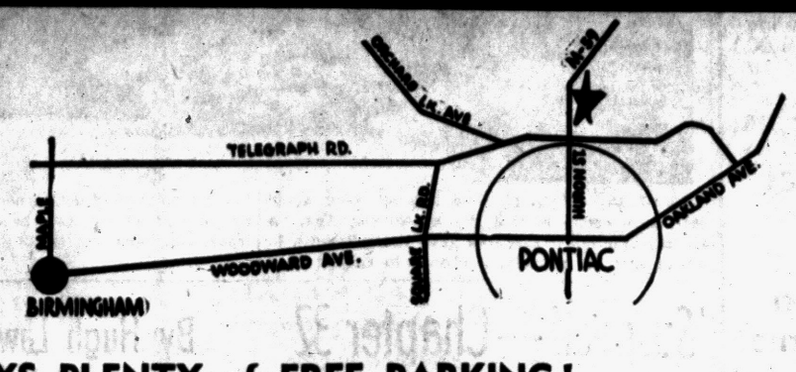

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

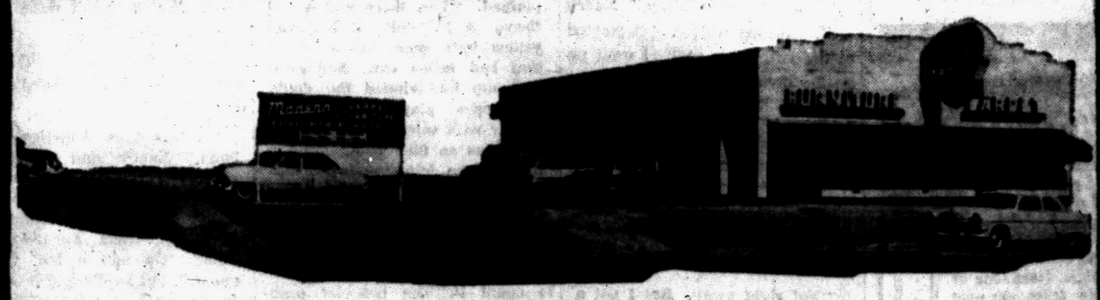

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

SNOW DOWN SOUTH—The unusual thing about this snow scene is that it's in Odessa, Tex. A six-inch snowfall in this area gave young Texans, to whom snow is a rarity, a chance to engage in a favorite pastime of northerners—throwing snowballs. School was let out, too, because of the hazardous travel conditions.

'Suspect'--Chapter 32

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

"I won't go to sleep," Nancy said, yawning widely. "It started at the swimming pool. I went up on the diving platform. It looked so much higher from the top, I decided to come back down the ladder. When I turned around, I saw into the cave where the creek goes in, I saw the path, Jim."

"And you immediately decided that might be a quick way to get to The Spires?"

"Not right away. But I got a little bored waiting for you. And that silly business of getting Mrs. Gelstrap into a bathing suit. Anyway you'd told me to be careful, so I simply had to be careful."

"Of course you did," Jim said. Either the sarcasm was lost on Nancy or completely ignored.

"Being careful was the reason I didn't go into the cavern from this end. If anyone had been watching it might not have been such a good idea. And, after all, if the creek bed was used as a way to get to The Spires, there'd have to be an opening at the other end."

"That I can understand," Jim admitted.

"So I told everyone I was going to walk along to meet you. I walked around by the road and down to where the creek comes out, there by The Spires."

"Didn't you see the deputy?"

"I saw some man go past in an old car."

"Wasn't Miss Wister's car still parked there?"

"Yes. All locked up though. Anyway, I started wading upstream. And Jim, I left your gun on a flat rock. I didn't want it to get all wet."

"I saw it. That's the reason I knew where you'd gone."

She reached out for his hand, held it. "I didn't have any trouble ducking under the first wall into a large sort of cave room. There was a candle burning there, Jim. A huge candle. One of those that'd burn for days and days."

Jim remembered his impression of light, just before something hit his head.

"I was glad of the light at first," Nancy went on. I thought it was cheery, at first. And I saw the doll."

"Doll?"

"Don't yell so," Nancy complained. "Yes, there was a doll there. A big doll. It had had yellow hair once, but most of that had fallen out. And Jim, someone had ripped the doll's body open, pinned it back together with safety pins. I guess that was so they could put the money, the letter and the diamond bracelet inside." Nancy yawned sleepily.

"Twenty thousand dollars," Nancy said. "I had plenty of time to count it. The bracelet probably cost seven or eight thousand. You know, Jim, I've never seen a thousand-dollar bill before."

"Married to a detective, you probably won't again."

"I got scared, Jim—well, I guess you'll say it's silly. But the doll was lying down when I found it. It seemed to have been tossed where it was. The eyes were closed. Jim, I was reading the letter when I got that feeling someone was watching me. I looked around and the doll's eyes were open. Oh, I know you'll say I moved the doll, and I did of course. But it frightened me, Jim. Maybe it was because I felt guilty about reading the letter anyway. The parts of it I could read. Water hadn't done it any good, Jim."

Dunn fought down his impatience. "The letter, Nancy. What did it say?"

"It was from Angelica's husband," Nancy said slowly. "I can't remember all the words, but I can give you its sense. It said he didn't, still didn't, approve of what Angelica was doing. He had a bad feeling about it, but anything she wanted to do was all right with h'm. He—he loves—loved her, Jim. And he wanted to know how soon she would be able to collect the money she felt was due her. He said he didn't want the money, Jim. He—he wanted Angelica.

Jim Dunn drew in a deep breath. Pieces clicked into place. Angelica's actions in returning to the Carlsons were explained clearly now. Her husband's career had been injured. Angelica intended to retrieve losses. Certainly, as a Carlson woman, she had had training along certain lines. Sure evidence of that lay in the $20,000, amassed somehow from the Carlsons in the period of one year. Certainly it explained Angelica's desperate attempts to regain the doll.

"Finally I got up nerve enough to try ducking through the upstream hole. I figured I couldn't be too far from the upper opening. There—there were round stones in the way. They moved a little when I pushed at them, but I couldn't get through the opening. I climbed back out of the water in that candlelit hole, along with the doll. I decided finally I'd go back the way I'd come. And then, I thought I saw something. Some horrible thing was coming up through the water. I—I threw a rock at it and it went away."

Jim's fingers strayed to the lump on his head in an unconscious gesture. He did not realize what he had done until he saw Nancy's horrified and stricken look of understanding.

"Jim, it wasn't you—"

"James Horrible Thing Dunn," he admitted. "You throw too straight. And, for a damsel in distress, I must say you were unappreciative."

When you want to Go -You're gonna Go!

No ifs, ands or buts about it.

When you give the gun to a 1955 Buick with Dynaflow Drive,* you move.

In the instant you push down the pedal, you get the action you've called for—immediate getaway from a standing start, or immediate safety-surge out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's not magic, this thrilling and pulse-quickening response—though it feels like the closest thing to it.

It's a principle of the modern airplane, brought for the first time to an automotive transmission.

Twenty "variable pitch propellers" inside the Dynaflow unit itself can change their angle—like the propeller of the airliner can change its pitch from take-off position to cruising position.

And what this brings to you—at the wheel of a '55 Buick—is the nearest thing to flight on wheels. Far better gas mileage in your normal driving and cruising. Spectacular response when you want it for quick getaway or emergency acceleration.

But all this, mind you, with the absolute smoothness that is constant in Dynaflow Drive.

Surely, a demonstration of Variable Pitch Dynaflow is a Buick must this year. We'll be happy to do the honors—and show you, in the doing, what a whale of a buy you make here. Drop in this week, won't you?

Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Place You Came From Will Always Be 'Home'

By MARGARET LATROBE

Whether you live in Bangor, Portland or Port Arthur or someplace in between, there is nothing funny about the wisecrack—"Well, now, that's a good place to be from!"

Friend, the place you came from is home. There is no other spot like it. Never could be, because it was home.

But the jokers laugh if you're from a little town in the sticks. The place where you found the warmth of friendships with every single one of that "Population: 302." They say "everybody knows your business" in little towns. They sure do. When you are sick or in trouble they know it, and they do something about it.

And the jokers guffaw if you're from the big city. Call you a cave dweller because you lived in a vast apartment building, never knew your neighbors whose living room sofa backed up to yours on the other side of the wall. Where you knew your block as a little village all its own. Where you knew the thrills of city life — the museums, concerts, plays — and had as many friends as could be found anywhere.

Or from the barren plains of the ranch country! "But how ghastly! You mean nothing but horses and sunsets and those quaint rodeos?"

Or from that Yankee New England! "How do you stand the long, cold winters?" Or Florida! "But doesn't that divine weather get awfully monotonous?"

They have a choice detraction for just about any place. Sometimes jokes come from a book or a musical comedy. Your true Oklahoman could never quite forgive John Steinbeck for his literary "Okies."

And you won't get far extolling "Oklahoma" in their midst, even though the play was dandy. Oklahomans, of which I am a proud one, figure it could just as well have been called "Arizona" or any other name. The music! Uh-huh, nice, but as a group we've heard good and plenty about the surrey with the fringe on top.

Georgians have yet to erect any monument to the author of "Tobacco Road." And don't ask a Californian if he is from "Frisco."

Friend, the place you come from is special. It was home. You don't regale new friends with an incessant version of old home week. And certainly you have learned to love your present life, in another place — why not?

But when that band plays "Boomer Sooner," brother, I'm on my feet waving a sprig of redbud and a miniature oil well pinned to my lapel. You from Iowa, from Michigan, from Texas? Mighty good places to be fr-- that is mighty good places, period. "You can't go home again," they say. Maybe it's because you never really left. Or maybe I'm just a little homesick today.

Lame Duck Goes Lame

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — C. Wesley Lyons of Rochester did not seek reelection this year and his term on the governor's council expires this month. He really got himself tabbed "lame duck" when he came to a recent State House meeting on crutches after breaking a leg.

Hypochlorite is the chlorine compound used most for the bleaching of cellulose materials such as wood pulp, many textiles and other related products.

Salt Drillers Bring In Gas Well at Airport

DETROIT (UP) — Drillers searching for salt under the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport yesterday brought in a large natural gas well.

Flow from the well was estimated at 500,000 cubic feet a day. It would have important commercial value if the flow continues at that rate.

The well is on property owned by Wayne County. It had been sunk about 2,000 feet when the gas came in, Henry Baker, airport manager, said.

Leroy C. Smith, county highway commissioner, said the drillers were working for the International Salt Co., under a contract with the county.

Pigeon Goes to School

HOLDREGE, Neb. (UP)—Fourth grader Richard Wehland has a pet pigeon that refuses to stay at home while his master is at school. The bird is not permitted inside the classrooms but waits patiently on the outside window sill. The pigeon rejoins Richard promptly when classes are dismissed.

It is warmer at the North Pole than the winter cold found in Siberia or Montana.

Peter Lorre Says Market for Horror Disappearing

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Murder is like anything else: There's a proper time and place for it.

In real-life, any time, it is frowned upon and rarely indulged in. But in Class B movies, until recently, murder was all the rage. Monsters were the greatest. Torso-dissection was extremely popular. And a good producer had carte blanche on corpses.

Lately, all that has changed are tightening up on murder and the allied terrors, the same way the comic book czars have clamped down on demons in the funnies.

In the past year, we've had nothing more devastating than a creature from the Black Lagoon, and he was a laconic sort—didn't wreak anywhere near the damage the old-fashioned vampire did. Not to mention the zombies.

The most disheartened man in this whole purge, as you might suspect, is the maniacal killer himself—Peter Lorre.

"I give it to you straight," said Lorre with a confidential snarl. "The market in horror is shot to pieces. There is no money in it anymore.

"And, baby, I'm not scaring anybody for no money!"

That goes, he said, for Mr. Karloff, too. He was sure Boris isn't going to dig up any graves anymore, the way things are.

"What's in it for him?"

Lorre is a squat, sphere-bodied man who started his career by killing little babies in the foreign movie called "M" and he has been sinning professionally ever since. But lately he has had to be nice most of the time, in order to build up a bank account, his latest successful attempt at this task being his role as a benign little man in Disney's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

He describes himself, in the new role, as "a blasted cherub."

But the censors can't be blamed for the veer-from-fear move entirely, Lorre says. "They are the ones who are sweetening up movies, sure," he explains, "but they're doing it because the people who go to movies decided it was what they wanted.

"Blame it on the war, or the Communists, or just bad news in general—Movie-goers don't want to be scared anymore than they have to be. Life is all too real.

"It's sort of sad," and Lorre bugs his eyes nostalgically, "but the public is no longer afraid of ghosts. They laugh at them instead. They've come to suspect that these are sheep in wolves' clothing."

Lorre is not really very unhappy that torture, disfiguration, stake-burning and so on have almost vanished from the movie scene.

"Now that I have an 18-months-old daughter of my own," he admits, "I have to confess that I wouldn't want her to see me—or my ghoul friends—on the screen. Might give her complexes."

Anyway, Lorre doesn't actually need the money. He has plenty of savings stashed away in his coffin—oops, coffer.

Pope Grants Audience for Mendes-France

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII received French Premier Pierre Mendes-France today in the first audience granted by the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church since his grave collapse last month.

The pontiff's reception of the French Premier, who is making a three-day state visit to Italy, was viewed as a heartening sign that the Pope is continuing to gain strength.

Doctor Deplores Tag of 'Bomb' for Device

OTTAWA (AP) — To radiologists, there is no such thing as a cobalt bomb. It's a "cobalt 60 beam therapy unit."

The bomb—or therapy unit — is on display here at the annual meeting of the Canadian Assn. of Radiologists, the specialists who operate the complex X-ray treatment and diagnostic equipment in Canada's hospitals.

Dr. D. L. McRae of Montreal, honorary secretary-treasurer of the association, told reporters yesterday that medical men deplore the popular term of bomb for the giant anti-cancer weapon made by the crown-owned Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd.

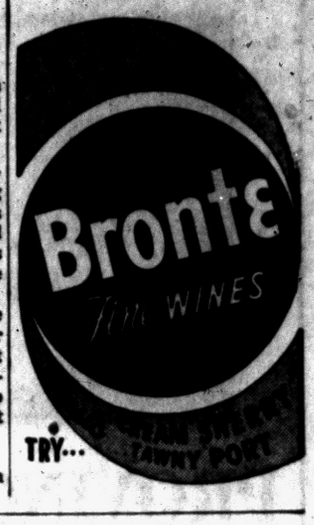

Fishermen Drop Rods to Take Bigger Game

WARREN, N. H. (UP)—Ralph Morgan of Suncook and Marcel Gagnon of Hooksett started out on a fishing trip and got a bear.

They spotted the 200-pound female bruin as their car swung into the driveway of Morgan's camp here. The men hastened into the camp, grabbed shotguns and took separate routes into the woods.

Morgan spotted the bear. The bear spotted Morgan, stood on her hind legs and was a perfect target for a blast from his 12-gauge shotgun. Morgan and Gagnon were so excited that they never did get around to fishing that day.

American Indians used petroleum as a medicine.

Dress Designers Continue Shows in New York Salons

Hattie Carnegie's white handkerchief linen dress has lace medallions worked into the bodice.

This classic version of the silk suit in salt and pepper tweed comes from the Davidow collection for spring. A bow-tied blouse of white satin completes the ensemble. The hat is from John Frederics.

This hipline-molded dress of sheer navy wool emphasizing the silhouette comes from Nettie Rosenstein's collection. The non-torso back of the dress is tied at the normal waistline.

Rosenstein's 'Little Dress' Top Fashion

Davidow Displays Famous Tweeds to Editors

NEW YORK (AP)—Nettie Rosenstein, famous for the "little black dress," features it as one of the most important fashions for spring, 1955, in her current preview for the nation's fashion press.

Mrs. Rosenstein, who has been turning out clothes for American women for a generation, says she believes simplicity is the theme of the era, and the two most important costumes any woman can have are the "little dress" and the meticulously tailored suit. She shows both, in profusion and in understated good taste, adapting the new long lines to her own knowledge of the needs of U. S. women.

* * *

The "little dress" is shown not only in black, but also in navy, prints and neutral tones, and does credit to its designer. It is a dress that is simple enough not to look overdressed in any gathering, but effective enough to hold its own among the most elaborate fashions.

Suits reach a new high in smooth, functional flattery in the collections of Davidow, famous for tweeds, and Arthur Jablow, master of the dress-up suit. Davidow's featherweight imported tweeds are subtle symphonies of color, cut on the long, lean lines so important in the spring picture. Jackets are longer, skirts are slim and tailoring is skillful and effective.

* * *

Jablow shows a relaxed silhouette featuring eased waistlines, longer packets, narrower shoulders and a tubular look. His collection of weather-wise lightweight fabrics include pure Italian silks, chiffon-sheer worsteds and mixtures of silk and cashmere.

Suits are soft, slim and beautifully fitted, with the distinctly ladylike look typical of the house.

A logical grand finale to your bath is a thorough shampoo. After lathering up at least twice, stand under the shower and let a brisk spray do the rinsing job.

Women's Club Hears Talk on Juvenile Delinquency

That there are no more juvenile delinquency problems today than in past eras is the opinion of Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools.

Dr. Whitmer used as his topic, "Juvenile Delinquency — What the Schools Can Do" when he spoke for members of Junior Pontiac Women's Club Monday evening in YWCA.

The speaker explained his opinion with the observance that increased communication media has brought these problems to the attention of the public more so than before.

Dr. Whitmer said that our schools are aware of the problems and that teachers are doing their best to understand and to help students with their problems.

He recognized that human behavior is complex and that every child presents an individual problem. He pointed out that modern movies, television and comic books create varied impressions of how man lives, thus the teenager is confused.

If we were to view the teenager's problem as seen through his eyes, Dr. Whitmer said, we would note that the lack of money is one of the big problems. He referred to the child labor laws that make it difficult to supplement allowances.

Another obstacle is that the teenager often finds it difficult to make sufficient friendships of high caliber and is sometimes lonely. This way he finds it difficult to control his own feelings and to concentrate.

Many young people feel that their parents don't understand them, Dr. Whitmer continued. They are frustrated, also, due to the prospect of military training. Thus it is hard to think about settling down. The unknown future gives them nothing to tie their activities to.

Because our public schools are aware of these problems, the speaker explained, they have student guidance and counseling programs. These are designed so that young people can feel that there is some one who cares.

Margaret Scott was general chairman for the day. Members of the Eastern Junior High School girls ensemble presented selections under the direction of Connie Cole. Diane Beach was soloist.

City Federation Gathers

At the Monday meeting of City Federation of Women's Clubs it was decided that a resolution be sent to the City Commission favoring the fluoridation of city water.

Mrs. Julian Levine was hostess in her Ottawa drive home for the meeting.

The commission has asked that the federation preside, in the near future, at the dedication of the new library to be opened at the corner of Rundell street and Glenwood avenue.

Eileen Muir of Pontiac YWCA spoke on the association's activities in this area. Reports of activities and achievements were given by several clubs in the federation.

Members of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob were Mrs. Levine's assistants.

The federation's next meeting will be held on March 14 in the Ottawa drive home of Mrs. Willian J. Dean. Election of officers will be held at the meeting.

Nominating committee members are Mrs. B. B. Roush, Mrs. Raymond Cole, Mrs. Adolph Magnus and Mrs. C. J. Panter.

Madrigal Singers Entertain Musicale

The Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Club, at its meeting in Grace Lutheran Fellowship Hall Tuesday afternoon was the richer in culture and pleasure for having had a program put on for it by the Birmingham Musicale Club. Featured were the Madrigal Singers and Minoru Yamasaki, pianist.

Appearing in colorful early colonial costumes, the singers gathered around the piano, in lieu of a table, and presented their songs, unaccompanied, in a delightfully simple and direct way.

Mrs. Maurice Garabrant, one of the group of eleven singers, told something of the origin of madrigal singing, how in the early 15th century it was a social requirement to be able to carry melodies and counter melodies, in parts, unaccompanied, while seated around the family table, the words telling a simple story.

There was creativeness in this light, sweet musical form first introduced by Costanzo Festa, in Italy, who was born in 1490.

Their first number was "Down in a Flowery Vale" by Festa, written in 1554, then followed, arranged in two groups, madrigals of Italian, French and English origin, sung in true style, with clear enunciation and a fine balance of tone.

Also appearing on the program was Mrs. Minoru Yamasaki, pianist whose playing of two Brahms' rhapsodies and a romance immediately placed her among young artists of exceptional ability. These compositions were fully within her grasp, played with musicianly feeling for interpretation and tonal color.

Yellow rosebuds centered the green tea table, where members and guests gathered after the program.

Bronze candle and flower holders and green and yellow porcelain cockatoos, complimented the roses, all of which were arranged by Mrs. Fred Voelker and Mrs L. L. Smith.

Instruction Given

Here's the correct way to wash sanforized wools: Use warm water and plenty of mild soap suds. Rinse thoroughly. When machine washing, keep water level high and load light. Two or three minutes agitation in suds should be sufficient, followed by the usual rinses. Press while damp.

Mrs. Thomas E. Folsom is the new president of Fashion Your Figure Club. Others elected recently at a meeting held in Pontiac High School are Mrs. Frank A. Anderson, vice president and Mrs. Park Nique, secretary.

Mrs. Michael Wasik is treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Wojciechowski, weight recorder; Thelma Dietz, scales manager and Mrs. Robert Quinn corresponding secretary.

Mrs. DeVere Games of Bloomfield Terrace (right) and Mrs. Millard James of Williams Lake (left) can see how styles have changed in the last 100 years, as far as top of the head fashions go. Mrs. Charles F. Allen of Watkins Lake road (center) is instructor for a class in millinery that is offered by YWCA as a part of the winter activities. The class meets on Tuesday evenings. YWCA's all over the world are celebrating the centennial this week.

Local Activities Highlight Centennial

Pontiac Chapter of YWCA enters the association's 100th year with an active past and a full schedule for the future.

This is national YWCA week, and as YWCA's all over the world celebrate the centennial, a daily schedule of activities is being introduced to all teenagers and adults in the Pontiac area.

On Tuesday evening young adults of the association traveled to the Detroit Historical Museum to study life of a century ago.

A far cry from the centennial bonnet is the smart spring hats that women can turn out for themselves at the millinery classes held Tuesday evenings under the direction of Mrs. Charles Allen.

Also on Tuesday evening, Mrs. William Herrmann is on hand at the Franklin boulevard headquarters to teach the Goren method of bridge to intermediate players with previous experience.

On Monday evenings she supervises bridge for experienced players who wish to join the Queen of Clubs.

The supper club for young adults meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Newcomers to the city are given a special welcome into this group.

Golden Agers, 65 and over meet every third Tuesday at noon and welcome new members to their group. A committee of volunteers arranges a varied program and provides dessert and transportation.

Every Wednesday is a "Holiday from Apron Strings" for the busy homemaker. The Ladies Day Out program from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. offers women a time free from care.

Pre-school children 2½ years and older can play in a supervised nursery while mother makes new friends and learns new skills in handicraft taught by Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth, Mrs. Eleray Thomas; bridge by Mrs. Herrmann; sewing and knitting by Mrs. John Dawson.

Also included in the program are special luncheons, programs, speakers, music and movies.

Senior high school boys and girls are invited to attend Teen Canteen on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 until 10. This activity opens this evening. There are facilities for table tennis, games, shuffleboard and dancing.

Junior high school students are urged to join the fun on Friday evenings from 7 to 9:30 when Teen Inn is in full swing.

On Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. there is informal instruction in sewing and dressmaking, ceramics, copper tooling, copper enameling, woodenware and textiles. Instructors are Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Ellsworth and Mrs. Thomas.

Saturday mornings, girls from 10 to 14 take over the building from kitchen to recreation room and craft shop. Saturday fun reopens this week. Girls from Kingswood School, Cranbrook serve as volunteer leaders for games, singing, cooking, dramatics and handicrafts.

Throughout the week, Y-Teen clubs meet in Junior high and senior high schools to plan programs of service and social recreation.

Services of the YWCA are supported by the Pontiac area United Fund and are open to all.

Alumnae Has Candidates at Meeting

Scholarships to Be Awarded Top Pontiac Students

Mrs. Collis Scott opened her Franklin boulevard home Tuesday evening to the Pontiac Association of University of Michigan Alumnae and Pontiac High School seniors who are candidates for the University of Michigan Alumni Scholarships.

These scholarships represent a monetary value of approximately $700, providing the student keeps his grades in order.

To apply the student must be in the upper bracket of his class. Through the work of the Pontiac Alumnae group over a period of years the University has granted between 40 and 50 scholarships to Pontiac students; besides several honor awards.

These awards recognize the outstanding rank of a student in his class but do not aid him financially. In recent years men from the alumni group have helped with the tremendous work of the actual interviewing and evaluation.

Mrs. Vernon Abbott is president of the alumnae group and Mrs. Charles Harmon is chairman of the scholarship committee. Assisting Mrs. Harmon are Mrs. John Ashby, Marion Lehner and Mrs. Carroll Braid.

Mrs. William Gordon, chairman of the refreshment committee, was assisted by Mrs. Paul Taylor, Suzanne Robinson, Katherine Baker, Mrs. Donald McCandless, Mrs. Wayne White and Miss Lehner.

Participating from the alumni group were Edward Barrett, Dwight Adams and Dr. W. O. Roeser.

Among the boys who have applied for a scholarship are Russell Anderson, Don Baumgardner, David Decker, Robert Dunn, Richard Floyd, Robert Loncharte, John Moreau, Harold Richards, James Smith and David Tarr.

Girls interviewed Tuesday evening were Alice Bego, Esther Diem, Marilyn Glennie, Frances Hunt, Marilyn Kiser, Phyllis Law, Barbara Schwalm, Jacqueline Spratt, Carol Wray, Patsy Dernberger and Marijane Vollmar.

Married Saturday in Central Methodist Church were Jennet E. Nelson, daughter of the John Nelsons of Maines avenue and Dwight J. Phillips. He is the son of Mrs. J. O. Phillips of Porterville, Calif.

Couple Traveling in South

Honeymooning in the south are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight J. Phillips. The bride is the former Jennet E. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of Maines avenue and he is the son of Mrs. J. C. Phillips of Porterville, Calif.

The Rev. Milton Bank performed the eight o'clock ceremony Saturday evening before 100 guests.

The bride wore a floor length gown of lace and net over satin, topped by a matching lace jacket with peplum. A headpiece of seed pearls secured her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Robert Leibler of Clarkston attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a gown of light blue lace over taffeta. Other attendants were Mrs. Richard Peters and Faye Davis.

Bradley Johnson served as best man and John Swegney of Auburn Heights and Albert Beni seated the guests.

For a reception held at a veterans hall in Drayton Plains the bride's mother wore an egg shell white dress in princess style with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white carnations.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Phillips wore a charcoal wool dress trimmed with pink velvet. Her accessories were black and pink and she wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

IMPORTANCE OF EYEBROWS

The eyebrows are an important part of our appearance, yet we are apt to forget about them. You will agree that the eyes are our most expressive feature and to make them as attractive as possible should be one of our first considerations.

The eyebrows as a frame for the eyes can do much to enhance or detract from the beauty of the eyes.

If you are not sure of the best shape for your brows, just remove the stragglers. This much will make you look neater and better groomed. Get the advice of your beautician as to the best shape for you. A good general rule is to not create a line in the brow which you do not wish repeated in the face.

If your face is too round do not arch your brows in a true semicircle.

City PTA Council Sees 'Teachers in Print' Tuesday

PTA activities this week include a meeting of the PTA Council and a Dads' Night at Baldwin School.

"Teachers in Print" was the theme of the film shown the Pontiac Council of PTA at its meeting held Tuesday afternoon at Longfellow School.

Printed material furnished through the National Congress of PTA was used in the film to illustrate how PTA material should be used to promote the objectives of the organization. Dr. Edith Roach Snyder led the discussion.

Mrs. George Wyman, council health chairman, reported the position of the PTA as favorable to the fluoridation of Pontiac water.

Mrs. Donald North, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Margaret Luther, Lester Stanley and Warren Abbott were named on the council nominating committee.

A meeting to inform the PTA nominating committees was held with Mrs. William Wright, council president, preceding the Council meeting.

The Founders' Day dinner and pageant will be held Feb. 1 at 6 o'clock at Wever Junior High School.

Dr. John J. Lee of Wayne University will be at Lincoln Jr. High school Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. His subject will be the recent trends and developments in special education for exceptional children.

A leadership training course will begin Feb. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Pontiac High School. Eight sessions are planned to develop potential PTA leadership. The Council will send Mrs. Wright and Mrs. William Mihalek, its president and vice president, as its representatives.

A border city Conference on Rearing Children of Good Will is scheduled for an all day session at the Rackham Building, Detroit, on Feb. 17. This is of special interest to adult education and juvenile protection chairmen.

Adeline Hook, principal, and Mrs. Albert Parmenter, council delegate of Longfellow School, presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Edwin Carlson was chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. William Ruhl, Mrs. Richard Christiansen and Mrs. Ivan Pierce.

Baldwin

Tuesday evening was Dads' Night at Baldwin school PTA. James Knott, father vice president opened the meeting with the Lords Prayer.

Plans were made for a money-making project to help sponsor the scholarship fund. A report on the City Council was given by Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury.

Mrs. John Heck, program chairman, introduced Howard Shelley who gave a short talk on the scarcity of rabbits for hunting and then showed a colored film, "Algoma Outdoors" taken by him and Mrs. Shelley in Algoma County in Ontario, Canada.

Mr. Shelley did the narrating. Refreshments were served by the fathers with Sydney Ruff as chairman.

Mrs. Deem Honored

Mrs. Ralph Deem was honoree at a birthday party Monday evening given by Lucky 13 Club. Mrs. Ralph Deem Jr. was hostess for the party in her home on Sterling avenue.

Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Carl Brockman is a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where she underwent surgery recently.

Metallic Yarn Puts Glitter Into Glamor

Today's glamor girls shine after dark, for glitter is the order of the evening.

New uses of non-tarnishing metallic yarns have produced a whole new kind of party fashions which can make wallflowers into golden girls.

The shining metallic fabrics come in many versions, and not only in gold, silver and copper but also in colors, shining like the ornaments on a Christmas tree.

They come in many fabrics, from rich brocades to gauzy paper taffetas. They are used to embroider glitter into plain fabrics, or to add sparkle to such things as knit sweaters and stoles.

There are Paisley prints woven with metallics, and there are crisp sheer nylons striped in gold, silver or colored metallics. Even the fluffy tulles and nets used for dance frocks may be embroidered in glitter.

Important this season are after-5 dresses in pale pink and blue jacquard brocades woven of colored metallic yarns. These look even newer than the deep reds and greens done in the same manner.

They're even putting glitter on negligees, nightgowns and petticoats.

It's a gay whimsy, and nowadays it's practical, too. For the new metallics do not tarnish, can be dry cleaned or washed, resist moths and perspiration and don't fade even in bright sunlight.

So nowadays it's simple for every girl to sparkle.

Noodle Dish Good to Eat With Fish

Lukshen Kugel Is Family Recipe of Mrs. Avadenka

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Do you like to try new foods? Then this recipe is meant just for you. Mrs. Abraham Avadenka shares with us an old family recipe for Noodle Kugel. This dish is meant to be served with meat or fish. Mrs. Avadenka says it is delicious.

Mrs. Avadenka is a member of the Jewish Sisterhood. She is also an enthusiastic bowler and collects fine china as a hobby.

NOODLE OR LUKSHEN KUGEL
By Mrs. Abraham Avadenka

1 pound package broad noodles
1 pound cottage cheese
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup butter
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
4 eggs

Cook noodles in boiling water until tender, and drain. While noodles are warm, add beaten eggs, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Fold in cottage cheese and sour cream.

Melt butter in a 9x12 pan. Pour noodle mixture in pan and bake at 375 degrees for one hour or until brown. Cut in squares. Serve with meat or fish as a side dish. It may be served with additional sour cream. Serves 12.

IF short, full figure—

Your coat should never hang straight but should bell outward from shoulder to some hemline fullness. Square outline shortens.

Mrs. F. F.—Long, lean look is news in coats. There is much less fulness but narrow coats share honors with silhouettes put into motion by back pleats and slight hemline belling out to break the square look for the full figure.

Examine Garment

Examine workmanship in the garment before purchasing. Are the seams taped, or at least given an extra seaming to prevent fabric ravelling. Look at the finishing of neckline or armholes to determine how well made.

Sleek elegance comes in this smooth kid coat which is designed with classic distinction. The smooth kid mule is just the thing you want to greet spring because it's light as a kite.

Guests Share Expenses If Arrangements Made

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "We live in the suburbs and have invited friends of ours who live in the city to spend the week end at our house. We planned to go to a well known night spot out here, to dance, on Saturday night.

"I would like to know if my husband is supposed to pay the whole bill, or would it be proper to allow other husband to share the bill with him. It is rather an expensive place to go and the bill would be a good deal for my husband to have to pay alone."

There is no obligation for you to take your house guests to expensive night entertainment places, but if you invite these friends to the night club then you would, of course, pay the whole bill.

On the other hand, if it was decided among you beforehand to go to this place even when it was understood that you really cannot afford to pay the whole check, it would be entirely proper to go and divide the bill.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Within the next few months we are expecting the arrival of our second child. When our first was born we sent announcements to everyone we know and our friends were most generous in sending the baby presents.

"I would like to send out announcements of our second child but do not want to place our friends under obligation to send another present. Would it be correct to add "no presents please" at the bottom of the announcement?"

An announcement carries no obligation to send a present, and therefore it would be unnecessary to request that no presents be sent.

However, if you think your friends will feel obliged to send presents unless otherwise notified, it would be quite all right to include "No presents please" at the bottom of the announcements.

Dear Mrs. Post: Between my husband and myself we ehave four godchildren. When I give gifts to my godchildren, and he to his, should the card enclosed be signed with both our names, or with just the name of the particular godparent?

It is usually signed with the name of the particular godparent. But there is no reason why both names could not be included if you would like to do this.

Middleman Necessary Sometimes

If He Needs Boost, Make Sure Chance Comes Along

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Though I'm not much for middlemen in a young romance, sometimes it takes a hearty shove from some third party to get two stars whirling in the same orbit. Without somebody else's helpful cooperation, he could go on wistfully wishing he knew her better without doing anything about it himself. And she could go on yearning for him to make the proper move. Yes, getting two people together who've indicated an interest sometimes requires a helpful kibitzer.

And that's what I'd recommend to this girl who wishes she could manage to cross orbits with the boy she likes so much.

"Dear Miss Woodward: He doesn't belong to my crowd—but I've heard from some of his friends that he would like to get to know me, but doesn't know how. He's intelligent, good-looking, well-mannered, but quiet—the sort of boy who needs someone to break the ice for him.

"His pride was badly hurt in a recent romantic entanglement, but friends say that he wants to get to know me and forget her. (She can't see him for dust). But I don't know how to get things started. He goes to an out of town college, and I'm lucky if I see him once a week to say hello.

I guess I could persuade a boy who's always been like a brother to me and who's a good friend of his to bring him to the house. But I'm afraid to show my feelings like this, since the friend might slip and scare my boy away! It all seems so helpless. Can you help me?"

Though you're convinced that a middleman is necessary, you haven't yet realized that halfway measures might be needed too. All you've dreamed up in the way of plot is to have your mutual friend bring the boy you like over to your house. And you're afraid of it. It might look funny to both boys. They might both wonder what you're cooking up.

But you could accomplish much the same end by playing your cards much closer to your chest. You needn't let your personal cat out of the bag. But you could get that ice broken.

It would seem that you have mutual friends, even though they run in separate crowds. The trick would be to create an occasion for merging parts of both crowds at some neutral place.

Say, for instance, some couples from your crowd start planning a skating party. You get in on the planning and suggest that for a change you lift your sights and include some friends who are usually outsiders.

Suggest to one of those boys that he bring your love along. That wouldn't look as though you had any ulterior motive. But I'm sure you could see to it (once you got him to the party) that the only ice around was under your skates!

Selling Job Taught Her Psychology

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many women have had their first experience as salesclerks this past Christmas, and some of their reports to me are most interesting.

In many communities, there was a shortage of sales help for the holiday, and the State Employment Agencies tried to interest the housewives in these temporary jobs.

"I never in my life sold before," Mrs. J. L. writes: "In fact, I never thought I could. But our store kept advertising for part-time help over the holidays, so I finally gave in and applied.

"I was scared to death, and I was sure I could never fill out a sales slip right, or find the correct size or color—or even put up with some of the bad-mannered customers! But it proved one of the most valuable experiences I ever had.

"They put me in the lamp department," she continued, "and I really did enjoy myself. They taught me how to fill out the sales slip, and there was an older, more experienced clerk there to keep an eye on me and help me out.

"The customers were really something! Some were as sweet as could be, and so appreciative of my help. But others just yelled and screamed and were impossible.

The first few nights I came home disgusted with the whole human race, but, after a while, I began to see that if I made a sincere effort, and behaved very pleasantly, I could tame even the wildest of them.

"And I learned so much about people! Really, it was better than a course in psychology!

"Do tell your readers to get some sales experience somewhere along the line. If it does nothing else, it will make them better behaved as customers, the rest of their lives!"

Mrs. J. L. has a good point there. A stint at a sales job does teach you plenty about people, gives you patience and tact, and makes you a pleasanter, and therefore better-treated, customer the rest of your life.

More than that, it is very impressive experience, which will help if you ever want, or need, to get a job after the children are grown. Any employer values the woman who has had over-the-counter sales experience, and it will open doors to you that no other kind of experience could open.

Thought Should Precede Cure for Disobedience

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Four-year-old Larry isn't interested in the effect of sugar on the chemistry of appetite. So he finds his mother's refusal of between-meals candy unreasonable. One afternoon while she's upstairs hanging curtains, he decides to ignore her unreasonableness. He hauls a chair up to the kitchen shelf where she keeps his bottle of after-supper lollipops. Climbing up on it, he reaches for the bottle, overbalances himself, falls and cuts his forehead.

As millions of us do, his mother promptly exploits this injury to demonstrate the evil of disobedience. Applying a bandage to his cut, she says, "If you'd obeyed like a good boy, you wouldn't have hurt yourself. After this . . . "

She is, of course not accurate. Disobedience has not inflicted injury on Larry. What's hurt him is his inexperience in reaching to high kitchen shelves. His cut is not the consequence of sin, but of misjudgment of his four-year old capacities.

When he grows up, obedience to some human authority may be far more hurtful to Larry than disobedience. So to children, we must take care how we condemn all disobedience as evil.

For example, obedience recently threatened a young husband I know with loss of self-respect. He was ordered off on a long business trip by a boss who knew that his not-too-strong wife was expecting her first baby. Without any hesitation, my friend refused this man obedience. He resigned his job—and with good judgment of his own capacities, walked out and got himself a better one.

If Jesus had been obedient to His human authorities, we'd never have heard of Him. If the American colonists had obeyed theirs, this United States would be part of the British Empire. If the Russian people would disobey Mr. Malenkov the world might get on with its work.

There is no morality in obedience. Its morality entirely depends on what we obey. So we are inaccurate to suggest to trustful children that obedience always equals virtue.

They have to obey us because it is protective to their inexperience and undeveloped judgment to do so. So to Larry we say, "You got hurt because you tried to do what you aren't old enough to do. When you are older, you can have candy between meals and reach up to high shelves. Now you have to wait."

Obedience to us is a safeguard to children. By it, they make temporary use of our more experienced judgment until they are experienced enough to themselves judge what is good and bad to obey.

Both Good, Bad Effects of TV Pointed Out

Because most parents use their television set as a baby-sitter, children are failing to develop good taste about the programs they watch. That is one criticism of television's effect on the home.

Children are not to blame for choosing poor television entertainment, experts declare. If parents would watch children's programs and discuss them in the family circle, the youngsters would soon become more viewing conscious.

Are television programs responsible for juvenile delinquency? No, according to the majority of answers. However, some programs, authorities reported, would be overstimulating to children already mentally disturbed.

All felt that though no one program is disturbing to all children, nevertheless it is best to steer them away from anything "unduly anxiety-provoking."

Westerns were found generally acceptable, but many thought that children were seeing too many crime and detective programs. It has been suggested that the latter be programmed later at night or taken off the air entirely.

'Carriage' Trade Uses Bowl Covers

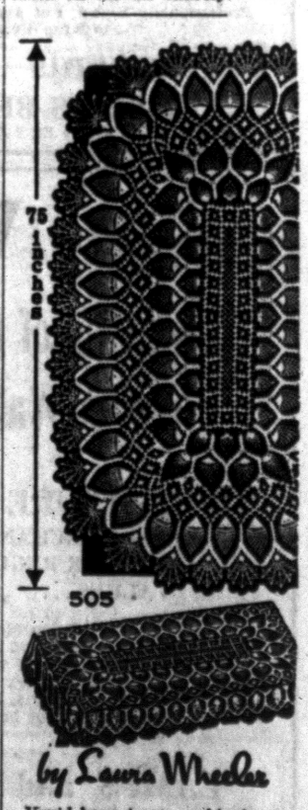

If you think those plastic bowl covers with elasticized edges are handy merely for covering bowls, you've never tried this: Keep four large ones in baby's carriage.

Before you wheel the carriage in after your walk, slip a nice clean plastic cover over each wheel. No mud on the carpets, no tracks on the floors.

Afterwards, just dip the covers into warm soapsuds, rinse, and hang up to dry. Then tuck them back into the carriage for the next outing.

Put Pail on Wheels

If your husband's at all handy, have him make a little platform with castors on each corner for your scrub pail. That way you can push, not pull, your pail with you as you do floors.

McBride Gives Opinion

Advocates International Language

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

The quicker we get an international language the better—preferably one in which as nearly as possible, the mean of each word is so precise that there can be no misunderstanding.

I used to think—when I thought about it at all—that those who beat the drum for Esperanto or Interlingua were faddists at least, maybe crackpots. But lately I have begun to believe that many of the world's troubles come about literally because we don't know what the other person means by the words he uses.

This happens to me all the time: I assume that I have agreed completely with a friend or an employe on something important to us both and then discover we are poles apart in understanding because of a different way of interpreting words.

I listen to debates, read interviews with statesmen in which the question is asked: "Do you think, Senator (or Mr. Prime Minister, or Mr. President, or Mr. Ambassador) that we can achieve a peaceful co-existence?" Almost always the person questioned qualified his answer with: "Well, now, that depends upon what you mean by peaceful co-existence."

I wouldn't need to hedge like that for the words "peaceful" and co-existence" make complete sense to me. Peace is a benign situation, isn't it, implying more than a simple lack of war? And what could co-existence be except the state of existing together. So—"peaceful co-existence" must mean people or nations or groups of nations which have different ideas of government, philosophy and goals going on about their business without constantly threatening to cut one another's throats.

But since apparently the two words mean something different to many of my English-speaking fellows, goodness knows what happens when they are translated into French, Russian, Italian, Chinese or, mercy! Swahili.

My enthusiasm about an over-all language for the world is admittedly a trifle tardy for Dr. Mario Pei, authority on the subject, says that in the past 300 years more than 500 attempts have been made in this direction. Esperanto, constructed 50 years ago by a Pole who borrowed from English, German, the Romance languages, Latin and Greek, is the most successful as well as the easiest to learn and to speak. Interlingua, a more recent attempt, has been built from English, Romance languages and Latin.

With national feeling, national pride, running high as it always does, I begin to doubt that we shall ever be able to adopt one of the established languages for international understanding. So the only hope is a newcomer that belongs to everybody.

Dr. Pei in "All About Language," opines that it wouldn't be too difficult today to introduce international speech to the world. It would first be put in all schools to be learned along with the native tongues. Then it would be pushed by radio, television, motion pictures, newspapers and other printed media.

My hope is that if we all tried learning a universal language with only one precise, unvarying meaning for each word we would understand not only our neighbors better, but even our own families.

Iron It Properly

After a garment has been carefully washed—either by hand or in your machine — it deserves a proper ironing. Take a little extra time to press open the seams on the inside of garments. This does away with a bulky look, especially on gored skirts.

EVERYTHING BUT KITCHEN SINK—You're bedridden in a hospital. You want to wash up. Do you ring for a nurse to bring basin and water? Not if you have one of these new push-button beds, just unveiled at Stanford University Hospital in San Francisco. As the patient in the photo presses a button, a wash basin, completely connected by flexible pipe with the water supply comes up at left. Other buttons will bring forth such comforts as automatic knee, arm and back supports, built-in flush-toilet, baby bassinet, stretcher on wheels, bed-oscillating machinery and built-in scales. The super-gadget was invented by Dr. Marvel Beem, Los Angeles surgeon.

Bob Considine Says:

Many Miracles Produced by Runyon Cancer Fund

NEW YORK (INS)—One Sunday in December, 1946, just after the death of Damon Runyon, his friend Walter Winchell made a brief radio appeal for funds to fight cancer in Runyon's memory. He asked for contributions of $1.

A few minutes after the broadcast Winchell was accosted by Swifty Morgan, the character who inspired Runyon's "Lemon Drop Kid." Morgan had heard the broadcast. He gave Winchell $50, then raised another $20—and the Runyon Fund was born. Last month it passed the $10,000,000 mark.

Not one penny has ever been deducted for operational expenses. Every dollar ever contributed has been put to work, 100 cents strong. Grants, fellowships and research allotments have been made to universities, clinics, hospitals and men of medicine in 15 countries.

The Runyon fund has produced other miracles beyond the accumulation and distribution of millions. It has helped drive the hushed word "cancer" into the open. Last year 40,000 apparently well people passed through New York's Strang Cancer Prevention Clinic, taking cancer detection examinations.

This astonishing total was reflected throughout the country. Cancer was discovered in four out of every 1,000, and 15 per cent of the examinations detected lesions considered pre-cancerous. Those people will live because their unsuspected disease was fought in time.

The battle against the worst of killers continues. Laurence S. Rockefeller president of Memorial Center for cancer and allied diseases, could report 36 advances in cancer research and treatment in his recently issued biennial report.

Numbered among these gains was history's first sustained growth of human cancers in laboratory animals, the emergence of the chemical 6-mercaptopurine as a restraining force against leukemia, remarkably improved surgical methods, the expanded study of viruses as a weapon potentially capable of destroying certain human cancers, and the discovery that cortisone will temporarily control some advanced breast cancer.

Your buck goes a long way. And it's just as well, for it's a long road.

Abba Eban, Israel's brilliant young ambassador to the U. S., yesterday became the first representative of his government to speak before a major Catholic audience in this country. The ambassador addressed the students and faculty at Notre Dame. Excerpt:

"The great issue in this generation is drawn, not between Christianity and Judaism, or between Israel and the Christian nations. The frontier lies rather between those who assert and those who deny the supremacy of faith and of freedom. You and we occupy different areas of tradition, experience and outlook; but we occupy them on the same side of that fateful demarcation."

Evening School Classes to Open Here Tomorrow

Courses Offered in Varied Fields

List Business, Vocational, Industrial Among Many at Pontiac High

Pontiac Public Evening School begins its 1955 term tomorrow offering adult courses in many business fields, citizenship training and a choice of vocational class opportunities.

Held in the Pontiac High School, a class for expectant parents will be given Feb. 10. Tailoring and dressmaking courses will be given on either Monday or Tuesday nights depending upon the class preference.

Announced today by E. C. Russell, evening school director, he said accounting, bookkeeping, comptometer, office machines, typewriting, shorthand, conversational Spanish and modern photography will be available.

Citizenship classes will meet Monday and Wednesday nights at 7:30 with the Americanization course slated for Thursday evenings.

In the vocational and industrial offerings, classes in automotive diagnosis and tune up, shop mathematics, blueprint reading, tool and die design, drafting, sheet-metal layout, electrical maintenance, machine shop and welding, are offered.

Driver education for adults, said Russell, will be given Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 4 to 6 p. m.

With the cooperation of the General Motors Institute, spare time classes in industrial management, drawing and design, will open tonight for the first time from 6 to 10 p. m.

Michigan's Biggest Legislature Taking Seats Today

LANSING (UP) — Members of the 68th Michigan Legislature, largest in the state's history, were sworn in today, raising the curtain on a session which may produce vital changes in the state's highway system, education and taxes.

Slated to take oaths of office shortly afternoon were 110 representatives and 34 senators. Reapportionment voted in 1953 added 10 representatives and 2 senators.

Republicans were in the driver's seat with a 59-51 majority in the House and a 23-11 margin in the senate.

There was a question as to whether Senate Republicans would attempt to prevent Senator-elect Anthony J. Wilkowski from taking his oath.

Wilkowski was refused a seat four years ago because of his conviction of fraud in an election recount in 1934.

Republican Caucus Chairman Creighton Coleman, Battle Creek, said GOP senators discussed the matter thoroughly last night but decided not to take a caucus vote on the matter, leaving it to "individual consciences."

He said a resolution barring Wilkowski was drawn up but he didn't know whether Republicans could produce the necessary 18-vote majority to make it stick. Coleman said there were 10 signatures, including his own, on the resolution when he last saw it.

He said there was "strong sentiment at the caucus to drop Wilkowski," while three GOP senators spoke in the Democrat's favor.

The Republicans already have reelected Harry F. Hittle, Lansing, as president pro tem.

At the House Republican caucus last night, Wade Van Valkenberg, of Kalamazoo, was elected without opposition to his second term as speaker; Andrew Bolt, Grand Rapids, was named speaker pro tem, and Allison Green, Kingston, unseated Harry Phillips, Port Huron, as floor leader.

The opening session today was devoted largely to organization and introduction of bills.

The House was expected to decide whether to order a recount in the election of Rep. James Coulette (R-Iron Mountain) whose 89-vote victory last November has been disputed by his Democratic opponent, Albert J. Wilke, Iron Mountain.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will deliver his message on the State of the State to a joint session of the House and Senate Thursday morning.

The lawmakers face growing pressure for more roads, more educational facilities, more money for operating state government and a possible change in the tax structure.

A bill to offer a $500,000,000 highway bond issue to the voters in April was set for introduction the first day.

Among the bills set for introduction in the Senate are measures which would:

Create fair employment practice legislation banning discrimination because of race, religion, creed, color or national origin.

Increase maximum payments for old age assistance.

Send probationers to probation camps before returning them to society.

Leslie H. Hudson Sworn In Today

State Representative Takes Oath at Lansing; Considers Changes

Pontiac's State Representative Leslie H. Hudson was sworn in at noon today at Lansing as the new State Legislature began its organizing work.

Hudson has taken quarters at the Olds Hotel. Before leaving yesterday, he reported on a meeting with South Oakland County officials who discussed legislation they would like to see passed.

One recommended change would amend the state drain act so property owners directly benefiting from the project would pay the bulk of costs, said Hudson.

At present, drain costs are spread evenly over the entire county, he explained.

"Another suggestion," Hudson stated, "would change the law to permit bonding up to 40 years for money to finance drain construction." The current setup limits the time in which such bonds must be paid off to 20 years.

"Men supporting the time extension argue it would permit more bond issues and, thereby, more construction. They also say it would cut early payments on individual bond issues," the representative explained.

City Managers Harold K. Schone, of Oak Park; E. M. Shafter, of Royal Oak; and W. A. Laking of Ferndale were named ot a committee to draft the proposed drain-acts ammendments, Hudson said.

"We were informed that it has been difficult to get quick action from state laboratories on results of tests of wood samples taken from trees suspected of having Dutch Elm Disease," Hudson stated.

Schone and Laking were asked to get information from city foresters in this area on the fight against the tree killer and pass it on to the county's legislature, he added.

"We were also informed that South Oakland County mayors have gone on record as favoring a statewide census every five years.

"This, they say, would keep closer track of areas with rapid population growth and bring larger returns of such things as the gasoline and weight taxes which are proportioned according to population," Hudson said.

The representative said he would reach no decision on supporting the proposals until he has opportunity to get a complete picture.

GIVERS GO WITH GIFT—Air Force Capt. Cullen W. Irish II, 38, and his wife, Desse, pose en route to Tokyo, Japan, where Irish will be reassigned while the couple "has the pleasure" of watching a $25,000 gift to two Japanese orphanages put to use. The couple recently won $50,000, all of which has gone to charity, in an auto contest held at Vallejo, Calif.

Student Held in Rage-Killing

Report Dorm Proctor Felt 'Persecuted' by Pranks Played on Him

WSARTHMORE, Pa. (INS) — Robert B. Bechtel, 22-year-old proctor of a Swarthmore College dormitory, was held without bail today for the grand jury in the rage-killing of Francis H. Strozier, 19, a sophomore.

Bechtel, who reportedly told authorities he felt "persecuted" by the pranks played on him by students in the dormitory, pleaded not guilty to a charge of premeditated murder, and waived a hearing last night in Swarthmore Borough Hall.

Early yesterday, police charge, Bechtel went on a shooting rampage with a rifle and a pistol in the dormitory, firing seven shots. One of the .22-caliber rifle bullets hit the sleeping Strozier in the temple.

Bechtel surrendered meely following the shooting. Police quoted him as saying he worked himself into a rage because of the hazing by students who had tossed his bed out a window.

College officials said Bechtel was an "above average" student and was majoring in psychology, preparatory to entering the ministry.

Meanwhile, it was reported that he had once been a patient at Norristown State Hospital for a week in 1950, but was "paroled" to his mother, Mrs. Helen Bechtel, of Pottstown, Pa.

Offer Gray Ladies Course

Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross announces a training course for Gray Ladies to begin Jan. 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd. Completion of the 12 hour course will qualify trainees to work in local and military hospitals or on bloodmobiles. Classes will meet every Monday for six weeks.

Tunis Moslems Attack Jews' Shops, Cemetery

TUNIS (AP) — Groups of young Moslems attacked several Jewish shops in Tunis yesterday, forcing the merchants to close their doors and call for police. No one was hurt nor was there any damage.

At Medenine, in south Tunisia, the Jewish cemetery was "desecrated" by attackers, who fled before police arrived.

The nationalist Neo-Destour party in a communique today condemned the attacks, which it termed "provocations."

84th Congress Completes Organization Ready to Begin on Legislation This Week

WASHINGTON (INS) — Organization of the 84th Congress by Democrats was virtually completed today, except for formalities, and the House and Senate prepared to get down to work.

Senate Democrats and Republicans have selected their choices for the various committees—subject to formal and routine approval by the Senate when it reconvenes Friday.

House Democrats have also picked their men for committee work and the Republicans were expected to have their selections ready when the House reconvenes Thursday. Neither chamber met today.

President Eisenhower submits Thursday a special message urging pay raises and other benefits for members of the armed forces and outlining the administration's new military reserve program.

The message officially will have to go to the House alone, since the Senate will not be in session.

Four more special messages will follow from the White House before the month is over. The budget message will be delivered Jan. 17; the economic report follows on Jan. 20.

The administration's health program is to be released on Jan. 24; and the highway construction program goes to Congress Jan. 27.

Eisenhower has already sent up messages urging extension and revision of the recipfocal trade agreements law, pay raises for federal employes, and postal rate increases.

When the Senate reconvenes Friday, it will take up an anti-Communist resolution sponsored by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) and 53 of his colleagues.

The resolution denounces the Communist party in the U.S. as an instrument of the international Communist conspiracy and calls upon Senate committees to continue to expose Red activities "diligently and vigorously."

Most committees are expected to be operating by next week.

Major hearings will be launched Monday by the House Ways and Means Committee on the President's trade program. This calls for a three-year extension of the law, which expires in June, and authority for the President to reduce tariffs by 15 per cent during that period.

There is every indication that the program will be approved by Congress early in the session. The President's effort to win enactment of the program in the GOP 83rd Congress was stymied by Republican opposition. The Democratic leadership is backing the program, which was initiated by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934.

The Dixon-Yates dispute is expected to flare up again next week with the issuance of a report by Democratic members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee condemning the contract granted by the administration for private power in the Tennessee Valley.

Social Security Office Here Served 23,000 Last Year

More than $1,000,000 a month were paid Oakland and Macomb county residents last year under the old-age and survivors insurance benefits of the Social Security Act.

Rex A. C. Atwood, manager of the Pontiac district office of the Social Security Administration, estimated that approximately 23,000 people in the two-county area served by the office received benefits.

At the end of 1954, they were receiving $1,265,000 a month.

Of the 23,000 beneficiaries, about 14,000 are retired workers and their families, Atwood said.

The remainder are widows and minor children of deceased workers and self-employed persons. Some are dependent parents of deceased workers who left no widows or minor chidren.

"Our office serves two of the fastest growing areas in the country and our work load has certainly reflected this growth," Atwood commented.

During the year, 7,300 new claims were filed at the office, located in the Hubbard Building, 18 S. Perry St.

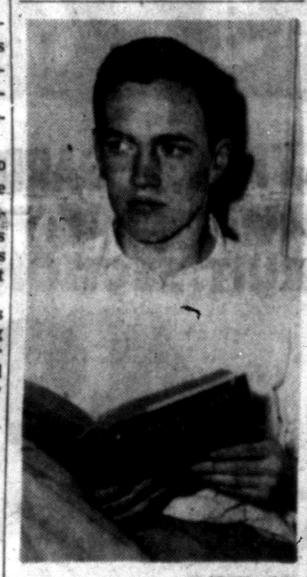

Besides handling claims for social security benefits, the Pontiac office issues social security cards and answers inquiries about the act, Atwood said.

In 1954, the office issued 8,682 new cards and 7,467 duplicates and handled 20,000 questions about social security.

In addition, the office provides itinerant service to many points in the county and will call at the home of an applicant, if necessary, Atwood said.

Representatives from the office make regular visits at the five following locations:

Place	Dates	Hours
Royal Oak South Oakland Center Building 111 S. Troy Street	Tuesdays & Thursdays	10-12 a. m. 1- 4 p. m.
Farmington City Offices	Wednesdays	10-11 a. m.
Holly Town Hall	First Mondays	10-11 a. m.
Milford City Offices	Second Mondays	10-11 a. m.

ESCAPEE—Roger Allen Witt, 19, of Fanwood, N. J., student at Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania, relaxes with a textbook after his roommate, Francis H. Strozier, 19, of Akron, Ohio, was slain in his sleep by a third student, who, according to police, fired into Strozier's and Witt's room. Robert B. Bechtel, 22, of Pottstown, Pa., was being held in the shooting which reportedly grew out of student pranks.

Doty Rules Monday on Retrial Petition

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty is expected to rule Monday on a petition for a retrial of Robert Hearn, 19, of Detroit, sentenced to life imprisonment with three others in December 1952.

The quartet was convicted of the March 21, 1952 stabbing of Alfred Jones, 27, a Ferndale gas station attendant.

Besides Hearn, those convicted were Frank O. Baker, 25, Basil Dupuis, 24, and Peter Imbimbo, 25, all of Oetroit. The attorney seeking the retrial claims the court erred on eight points while instructing the jury.

Glib Thief Makes Off With Cop's Raincoat

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A young Chinese arrested on the streets here at 3 a.m. yesterday convinced the inspector at a police station that he wasn't a thief but merely a playboy.

He was allowed to leave.

Police now are looking for him again — and the raincoat missing from the station.

Flag Freezes Ceremony

METZ, France (UP)—The traditional lowering of the flag at sunset at the Royal Canadian Air Force division headquarters here had to be called off yesterday. A sleet storm froze the flag to the mast atop headquarters building.

French Consul General to Speak at Reserve Meet

M. Jean Beliard, French Consul General in Detroit, will speak at the 9613th Air Reserve Squadron meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Reserve Training Center, 37 W. Lawrence St., it was announced today by Major John L. Underwood, squadron commander.

Another speaker at the air reserve meeting will be Captain Ben M. Snyder, III. Snyder, a member of the squadron, is a teacher at Cranbrook School and recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Beliard was a member of the Free French Forces in France in 1940 and served as an intelligence agent. After capture by the Germans he was held in prison for 26 months.

He escaped in 1944 and joined the Allied Forces in Africa. Beliard served as an intelligence officer with the Seventh U. S. Army in 1944 and 1945.

After he passed the Foreign Service Examination in 1945, Beliard came to Washington, D. C. as an attache at the French Embassy until 1948.

Other posts held by Beliard have been First Secretary to the French Delegation of NATO and Deputy Head of Information on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Observer Corps Here Gets Air Force Aid

To help eliminate loopholes in the invisible barrier protecting the state—and the nation—from sudden bomb attack, the Air Force has assigned a staff sergeant to Pontiac as Ground Observer Corps liason man.

As the first step toward plugging gaps in the combination radar-human eye screen which scans the skies for unidentified planes, S/Sgt. Nicholas Chizewsky has scheduled a meeting for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday on the fifth floor of the Oakland County Office Bldg.

Representatives of civic clubs have been invited to attend the session, which is aimed at recruiting additional volunteers for Pontiac's Ground Observer Corps post.

At present, Chizewsky said yesterday, the post is manned only 14 hours a day, seven days a week. For full protection, it must be operated around the clock every day.

Such manning would require 178 volunteers on duty two hours a week.

Chizewsky explained that radar's limitations prevent it from picking up low-flying aircraft. Thus, a low-level bomber could swoop in from the north, beneath the radar fence — unless upturned eyes spot it.

But, should a ground observer see such a plane (or any unidentified plane) he or she would pick up a phone in the post atop the county office building.

Within seconds, the filter center in Grand Rapids would know the type, altitude and direction of the aircraft.

The nearest radar installation would in turn be notified by the filter center, which at present is the nerve center for all defense against air attack.

From then on, Chizewsky said, it is up to the Air Defense Direction Center to determine further action.

Assignment of Chizewsky is only the first step in a move which will increase the importance of Pontiac in the over-all state GOC picture.

Soon, another filter center will be set up to match the Grand Rapids organization. It will handle the eastern portion of the state, while Grand Rapids will have the western half.

When the new center is established, Pontiac will become a detachment headquarters for the corps, Chizewsky said.

Then, two other Air Force sergeants will join him here. Among them they will have charge of 90 observer posts in eight counties and portions of three others.

Pontiac will become GOC headquarters for Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Lapeer, Livingstone, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe counties. It will also serve some posts in Lenawee, Shiawassee and Genesee counties.

Chizewsky, 26, is a veteran of six years in the AF. Before his present assignment he spent two years in Germany with Air Force intelligence.

MGM Attempts to Improve Durante's English---Then Louses Him Up

By EDDIE CANTOR

In Hollywood, they are talking about filming the life story of Jimmy Durante. I wish they'd quit talking and start doing it.

About a certain actor, someone said, "He hasn't got an enemy in the world, but all his friends hate him." About Durante, it could be safely said, "He hasn't got an enemy in the world, but all his friends adore him."

It was in 1923, at the Club Durant, a kind of speakeasy with entertainment, where Jimmy first discovered that a long nose could bring him fame and fortune. He'd start off his act by pointing at his Schnoz and yelling, "Here it is, folks! Yes, it's real! It ain't gonna bite ya, and it ain't gonna fall off. And any famous people in da audience can come up and autograph it!"

His grammar and diction would send an English teacher to the nearest bottle marked "Poison," if that teacher hadn't already collapsed from laughter. A few years ago, someone explained to him about split infinitives. "I don't split em," he laughed with glee, "when I goes to work on an infinitive, I break it up in little pieces!"

At MGM, where he made 19 pictures, the powers-that-be decided Jimmy's English might be improved a bit—just enough to take off the rough edges. "The Schnoz" didn't object, but it angered him when the studio put him in films with Xavier Cugat, Iturbi and Melchior. But let Jimmy tell it:

"First Metro keeps sendin' me to school to fix up my speakin' and learn me English. So what happens when I learn a little English? They puts me in a picture with Cugat. Bein' around 'Coogie,' I unlearns everything I loin in da school. Then when I improves again, they sticks me in a picture with Itaurbi.

"That really louses me up. Then comes the last straw. They throws me in with Melchior. With him, I forget everything except how to say 'schmorgasbord.' It's a conspiracy!"

Radio Minister Boomed as Head of Presbyterians

NEW YORK (AP) — A movement was developing today to name Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, widely known radio minister, as the head of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Many leading ministers across the country joined in backing the 62-year-old clergyman for the office.

Members of the big presbyteries (districts) of New York and Los Angeles met early this week and named Dr. Bonnell as their choice as the next moderator of the 2½-million-member denomination.

* * *

The election will not be held until the church's General Assembly meets this spring, but Dr. Millard G. Roberts, a New York pastor and spokesman for the presbytery, said:

"In view of the broad sentiment already expressed, it would appear Dr. Bonnell will have the nationwide support of the denomination."

Dr. Bonnell, whose weekly sermon, "Pilgrimage", over the American Broadcasting Co. network is heard by millions, is pastor of New York's historic Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Flier Starts for U.S. With Adopted Baby

PORT LYAUTEY, Morocco (AP)—U.S. Navy Lt. Norman K. (Moose) Donahoe and the baby girl he adopted recently in Greece finally took off here early today for the United States—by way of Ireland.

Donahoe and 17-month-old Roni Marie left Athens last Saturday, hitchhiking their way on military planes to the lieutenant's base at Corpus Christi, Tex. But bad weather over the Azores which blocked all flights stalled them here two days.

The transport which finally took off this morning is flying by way of Sahnnon Airport, Ireland. It is expected to reach Patuxent Naval Air Station, Md., at noon tomorrow.

Announcing a new kind of Automobile Insurance in Michigan at surprisingly low cost:

MOTORIST'S PERSONAL PROTECTION PLAN

Applies in any auto accident in the U.S. or Canada, no matter who is at fault or whether the other driver is insured

THE TRAVELERS, the first company to write Automobile Liability insurance, is proud to be the first to offer this new protection as an addition to its Automobile Liability policy.

There are two important features in The Motorist's Personal Protection Plan:

TOTAL DISABILITY COVERAGE
DEATH INDEMNITY COVERAGE

Here's why the Plan is needed:

1 Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is the only way the insured can protect himself when no one else is at fault.

Each year, thousands of persons are killed or injured in automobile accidents in which the car runs off the roadway, overturns in the roadway, collides with a fixed object or is otherwise involved in accidents which do not involve collision with another car. The driver in almost all of these accidents is the only one at fault.

2 Personal insurance such as this Plan affords is also a means by which the insured can protect himself when someone else is at fault and the other person is not adequately insured, or is uninsured.

Details of benefits and exceptions and information on how you may qualify for the Plan are contained in our pamphlet, "For You, a New and Different Automobile Insurance." For your copy, call the Travelers representative in your community. (There are Travelers representatives throughout the state.) Or send a card or letter to the Travelers office listed below.

Shelley Winters in 'Jagged Edge' at Warner Lot

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Now it's Warner Brothers about to be exposed to our gal Shelley Winters who, today, was signed for "The Jagged Edge" on this lot opposite Jack Palance.

Maybe I shouldn't kid about Shelley's explosiveness considering that she is very calmed down these days and is most reserved —for her.

In this original by W. R. Burnett which Willis Goldbeck will produce and Stuart Heisler direct, Shelley plays a lady on the shady side of the law who meets up with an equally unscrupulous gentleman against a background of the high Sierras.

I went to Palm Springs over the weekend and picked up a lot of news. At the fashion luncheon at the El Mirador I met the widow of the beloved Frank Morgan. Alma tells me she is marrying Werner Till, Czechoslovakian philosopher and graduate of a Berlin University.

"We haven't set our date," said Alma, "it may not be too soon. But I am lonesome and I miss Frank, and Werner is a wonderful companion."

The Richard Fleischer you've heard so much about as the director of "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" is the son of Max Fleischer, who created "Out of the Inkwell," "Betty Boop" and "Popeye."

Now, Richard is directing "Violent Saturday" for 20th Century-Fox, and soon he will form his own company to be called Nautilus Productions, for which he'll produce and direct. The company is named after the submarine in the fabulous Jules Verne story which Richard directed for Walt Disney.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Eddie Fisher planes back in time to escort Debbie Reynolds to the Friars testimonial dinner honoring George Burns and Gracie Allen Jan. 23.

Just heard that Marilyn Maxwell's ex, John Conte, married Ruth Harris, head of a charm school chain, just about the time Marilyn married writer Jerry Davis.

Had forgotten that Marilyn Monroe's attorney, Frank Delaney, is the father of Virginia Leigh, whose coming out party I attended in New York.

Marlon Brando has sessions several times a week with Tito Rodriguez and his Latin band, at New York's Palladium. The girl friend, Josianne, tags along to watch him work.

Ida Lupino is so well since she reconciled with Howard Duff that she has canceled the surgery she was going to have. The El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs went all out to make the Golden Nugget Ball, given each year by the Jimmy McHugh Polio Foundation, a huge success.

Composer McHugh organized the foundation in honor of his mother and has given a number of respirators to the hospitals. This year a new group was included with Dr. Hugo Kersten's cancer clinic sharing in the proceeds.

Seal Comes Calling at California Flat

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Samuel F. Ashbrook and his wife Edith heard a knock at the door of an upstairs apartment. "Why, it's Bootsie," she said thinking of her Persian cat.

When she opened the door, she saw a golden fur seal, which gave evidence it wanted in. Giving a flap and a honk, the animal entered, only to have Ashbrook remove his belt and put it around the seal's neck for a walk back downstairs.

A call to the animal shelter brought an understanding officer. He escorted the grunting animal to the ocean — at nearby Seal Beach. Apparently unwelcomed ashore, the seal plunged into the ocean.

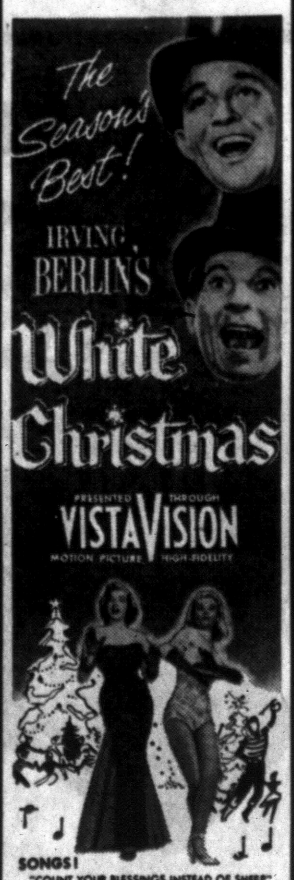

Jail Headline Hunter for Attempted Murder

IONIA (AP)—Robert Van Dyke, 45, called the Grand Rapids Herald and invited the newspaper to send a reporter and photographer to "cover a good murder." He said he was going to kill Howard Clagg, a hardware store owner, for dunning him about an overdue $75 bill.

The newspaper called sheriff's officers. Deputies said Van Dyke was waving a loaded shotgun at Clagg when they arrived.

Officers arrested Van Dyke and held him for investigation of attempted murder.

Roz Russell's Shiner Blamed on Husband

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Roz Russell had a black eye.

"Who gave you that?" I asked her when I saw her hurrying along the Paramount sidewalk at lunch time.

"My husband belts pretty hard, doesn't he?" She ran a finger along the edge of the shiner, a real beauty. "After giving me this New Year's present, he took off for New York —the rat!"

★ ★ ★ ★

"Lissen," boomed a very obese party, coming up to us. "Freddie Brisson didn't give her that mouse—I did!"

"Why, Shotgun!" I said.

It was "Shotgun" Britten, the football star from Stevensburg, Tex., who became a famous makeup man.

"Just when I was going to get some nice publicity by faking a story about a family fight!" moaned Roz.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Shotgun had painted it on her for a scene in "The Girl Rush." Roz, roz-like, was proudly wearing the discolored optic to lunch so everybody could see how her old man beats her.

★ ★ ★

In "The Girl Rush" — about Las Vegas—Roz continues to dance as she did in "Wonderful Town" on Broadway.

ROZ RUSSELL, EARL

She's still amazed that she's been able to become a hoofer in her forties.

"I have three big numbers," she told me later on the set, with Eddie Albert and Gloria De Haven nearby.

Roz showed me her cufflinks, supposedly of freshly-mined Nevada gold, right out of the gold mines. "How do you like my nuggets?" she asked.

★ ★ ★ ★

"When I come back to New York in March," she said, "I hope to do another Broadway show."

SUSAN CABOT

"Another musical?"

"Nope! A straight play. Van Druten has something I'm not supposed to talk about. And there's 'The Mask of Queens,' by Maxwell Anderson. It's a costume play and I look kinda funny in costumes. It's not in blank verse, thank God."

"Why not another musical?" I asked her.

"I'm scared to death to try it! I couldn't top myself. And let's face it. I was so lucky to get away with my singing and dancing."

"I'd just be afraid," Roz said, "I couldn't fool 'em twice!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. .

Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes had lunch and dinner with Harry Cohn at the Sands in Las Vegas. Dick wore a beard ("To keep me warm at Lake Tahoe," he said) and a spectator cracked, "Rita's back where she started —Orson Welles had a beard, too."

Eddie Fisher rejected a song written by a N. Y. disk jockey. Title: "Darlin' Debbie" . . . Philip Pine and pretty Susan Cabot display their acting talent in "A Stone for Danny Fisher."

Jimmy Stewart says he was once called for a role in "The Good Earth": "Not that I looked Oriental—but I was the only guy who naturally looked like he went through a famine" . . . El Morocco duos: The John Waynes, Joan Fontaine with Shipwreck Kelly.

James T. Farrell said at Chez Carlo he turned down Jerry Wald's offer to film "Studs Lonigan." (Sam Spiegel wants it for Brando, too) . . . Paulette Goddard's flying in from Switzerland to star on NBC-TV's "Producer's Showcase" Feb. 7.

Mrs. Luce Reported Urging Aid for Italy

WASHINGTON (AP)— Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce was said today to be urging continued military and economic aid to Italy to help Premier Mario Scelba's government in its fight to overcome native communism.

Mrs. Luce, now home for consultations, was reported arguing any substantial cutback in American assistance would jeopardize Italian development projects which she says promise to reduce Italy's critical unemployment problem.

As a result of her plea, the Foreign Operations Administration is expected to announce shortly a new aid allocation for Italy from available funds instead of ending such assistance as had been planned.

Dog OK, Boy Drowns After Ice Gives Way

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Jeff Yost, 15, heard a splash in Pleasant Lake last night. A dog began to yelp. Investigating, Jeff found that a cocker spaniel had fallen through the ice.

The boy called for help. Rescuers came and pulled the dog from the water.

Later, Jeff noticed that his skating buddy, James Burkhardt, 14, was missing. Sheriff's officers and firemen recovered James' body from the lake.

3rd American to Be Released

'Happiest' Mom Plans Party When Reds Free GI Held 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pvt. William Verdine, a prisoner of the Russians for five years, may soon be back in Starks, La., with the "happiest mother there ever was."

The State Department announced late yesterday that the Soviet government had agreed to turn over the 28-year-old soldier to U.S. authorities in Berlin. The date for Verdine's repatriation will be set later.

Less than two weeks ago, the Russians said blandly Verdine's whereabouts were not known. But since that time, two other Americans freed by the Soviets after years in captivity have reported seeing Verdine at the notorious Vorkuta slave labor camp in arctic Russia.

One of these newly freed Americans, John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, told a Berlin news conference yesterday he believes eight American Navy airmen shot down over the Baltic Sea nearly five years ago may be alive in Soviet prison camps. The Navy has listed them as dead.

Noble, who spent 9½ years as a Red prisoner, and Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30 of Norristown, Pa., who like Verdine was held for five years, were freed by the Russians last Saturday.

A four-engine Navy Privateer vanished April 8, 1950, while on a training mission over the Baltic. The United States charged Russian fighters had shot down the unarmed craft. A year later, the Navy announced that it considered the 10 missing crewmen legally dead.

But Noble said it was common knowledge at Vorkuta that some Americans who came down in the Baltic were in a Soviet prison.

When news of Army Pvt. Verdine's impending release reached his home town, Mrs. Willie Verdine, a 55-year-old widow, exclaimed she was the "happiest mother there ever was." She promised a "big party . . . when he comes home."

Mrs. Verdine, mother of six, said she had given up hope of ever seeing her soldier son again until eight months ago when she said she received a card from him. She said she got another card about six weeks ago and that Verdine told her then he was "well and hoped to be home soon."

Marchuk and Verdine were picked up by the Russians in Soviet-occupied East Germany in 1949.

Marchuk now is in Army detention, facing a possible court martial for being absent without leave. Noble said Marchuk "told me he got picked up in the Soviet sector (of Berlin) while drunk."

Birth Card Delivered Via Detour to England

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A birth announcement mailed here more than a month ago has been delivered to the intended recipient, also in Philadelphia, after being routed via England.

The letter sent by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Adler after the birth of a daughter on Dec. 6 became attached to a package bound for Kent, England.

The English recipient sent the letter to a pen pal in Philadelphia and the pen pal forwarded the letter, now minus its stamp, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moss, for whom it had originally been intended.

Self-Styled Informer Inflicts 16 Slashes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police report that David Brown, 49, Civil Rights Congress official who claims he was paid FBI informer, slashed himself with a razor in a downtown hotel room last night.

He was treated for 16 cuts on his wrists, arms and temple, then released.

Officers, answering a call from the hotel, said that as they entered a room Brown told them: "I haven't anything to live for, so I tried to kill myself."

Brown disappeared Jan. 3, turned up Jan. 6 and told police he had been kidnaped, then released. Last Monday he said the kidnaping story was a hoax and claimed that since 1950 he had been a paid informer for the FBI. The FBI declined comment.

The Civil Rights Congress, of which Brown was Los Angeles chairman, has been listed as "subversive and Communist" by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Jane Russell Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Jane Russell, appearing tired, arrived home last night by airliner after four months in Europe, where she completed a movie for her own production firm.

Canada has resumed the production of nickel coins which are made of nickel. For a time the nickel coins used by the Dominion were made of a steel substitute metal.

Skippers Dump Avondale for 1st Victory

Waterford's Skippers had their first victory of the season, Keego Harbor and Oxford marked up wins, and Rochester and Lake Orion suffered defeats in Tuesday's prep cage action in the county area.

League play was scarce, but the Oakland-B was thrown into a turmoil in the only conference game played as Troy nipped unbeaten Roseville, 51-50, in overtime. It left four teams tied for the lead with 2-1 records.

Waterford surged in the second half to down Avondale, 51-45, and present Don Beedle with his first victory as Skipper coach. Waterford let an early lead get away as Frank Crowell's Yellowjackets took a 22-19 halftime advantage.

Jerry Kruskie sparked the Skippers after intermission. He looped in three baskets to put Waterford ahead, 31-30 midway in the 3rd period and Avon never caught up.

Kruskie's 14 points were high, but Chuck Gillis and Joe Umphrey added 10 each. Don Krupp had 13 and Larry Herron 10 for the 'Jackets.

Keego ran away from Ortonville in the 2nd quarter and romped to a 69-31 win. Bill Nicholson tallied 10 points in the 2nd period as the Presidents assumed a 31-10 lead. Frank Rogers paced Keego with 19 points. John Craig collected 14 and Nicholson, 13. Ken Harrison had 15 for the Blackhawks.

Oxford pulled steadily away in the 2nd half to hand North Branch a 66-50 setback. Larry Spencer and Ken Witherspoon led the Wildcats to their 3rd straight win with 15 points each.

Rochester bumped into a red-hot South Lake club and absorbed an 87-45 drubbing. The St. Clair Shores team hit better than 50 per cent from the floor and added 27 of 33 foul shots. The halftime score was 45-15.

Lake Orion's game with Fitzgerald was closer to football than basketball as the Spartans triumphed, 57-37, in a roughhouse battle. Orion's Rod Wiley had a broken nose to show for his efforts.

In the Troy-Roseville tilt, Jack Acton's tip-in was the decisive basket in the Colts' overtime success. The score was 47-all at the end of regulation. Jim Murdock led Troy with 15 points.

Sophomore Dave Hannaford tallied 6 points in the final minute as Clarenceville wiped out a 5-point deficit and nipped Holly's luckless Broncs, 56-54. Bob Grose scored 20 points for the winners.

In other games, Patterson edged Cranbrook, 62-61, despite Shaw Emmons' 26 points; Berkley routed Clawson, 79-20; and Utica knocked Warren from the unbeaten ranks, 52-49.

Shrine stretched its undefeated streak to four games by beating St. Gregory, 58-40, as Hugh Kirtek bagged 26, and Almont whipped Brown City, 70-51, for the Raiders' 8th straight win after one defeat.

Foul Shots Prove Decisive

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

People yelling foul over college basketball's free throw rule have something to argue about today. The winners in six major contests last night scored fewer—or at best, one more — field goals than the losers.

* * *

Duke, Yale, Wake Forest, Nebraska, Oklahoma A&M and Niagara all won without a clear-cut verdict from the field:

Duke defeated Clemson 75-66, but had only a 25-24 field goal edge; Yale picked up its first victory of the season 73-63 over Brown, but was outscored 26-25 from the field; Wake Forest toped Seton Hall 71-63, but trailed the Pirates 23-21 in field goals; Nebraska surprised Kansas State 69-59 with a mere 21-20 field goal edge, and Niagara beat Canisius 68-64, although outshot 24-20.

* * *

But the biggest talking point for those protesting the rule was the Aggie-Wichita game. The Cowpokes and Wichita were even-up with 13 field; Wake Forest topped Seton won it in a waltz by 16 points, 69-53.

Oklahoma A&M defending champ in the Missouri Valley Conference, upset the Shockers, previously unbeaten in the conference, with 43 free throws. The Aggies' high scorer, Mack Carter, had 16 points—all on foul shots.

* * *

The present collegiate foul rule grants a 1-and-1 stipulation (the shooter gets a second shot if he makes his first on fouls not resulting during a field goal attempt) and awards an automatic pair of free throws for fouls during the final three minutes.

In all, the six games cited totaled 255 field goals — but the winners claimed only 125 of them.

Even where the field goal allotment was in more orthodox alignment, the extra free throws popped up to send scores bursting past the 100-point mark.

North Carolina State, No. 2 team in this week's Associated Press poll, ran up a 105-81 victory over high-scoring Furman.

* * *

St. Louis' Billikens set a school record with a 102-82 triumph over Drake, despite Willie Cerf's 31 points.

Westminster (Pa.) hit 50 per cent of its shots to whip West Virginia 102-80—highest score ever against the Mountaineers at home. And Rhode Island made it 107-75 over New Hampshire in a Yankee Conference game.

One scoring record was missed. Texas Christian's Dick O'Neal had 40 points with four minutes remaining, but Texas went into a freeze to protect ex-Longhorn Slater Martin's one-game Southwest Conference mark of 49 and O'Neal wound up with only 42. TCU won it 79-64. O'Neal, a sophomore, did break his own Southwest free throw record, however, with 18.

No. 2, No. 3 Contenders for Bobo's Title Meet Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani, the No. 2 contender for Bobo Olson's middleweight title, meets the No. 3 man, Holly Mims, tonight in a 12-round bout at Cleveland Arena.

Castellani, who now lives in Cleveland, lost to Olson on points in a bout at San Francisco last summer and is now ranked behind Joey Giardello, the No. 1 contender.

Mims, a 25-year-old from Washington, D. C., has never been knocked out and is working on a string of 12 straight bouts without a defeat. Since October, 1952, he has won 11 and fought one draw.

Castellani, 27 years old, has 57 victories on his record, 6 losses and a draw. Mims' record: 35 victories, 11 losses and 5 draws.

Bettors favored the Clevelander by 6-5 but there were indications the odds might even off by 10 p.m. (EST) when the bout is scheduled to be televised over the Columbia Boardcasting System.

* * *

Prize fights in Cleveland are scored on a point basis by two judges and the referee. The winner gets 10 points and the loser anything through nine, with deductions for fouls.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, says the winner will be considered for a shot at Olson's title. But Norris added that Giardello and Charley Humez will also be considered.

* * *

Castellani won over Moses Ward by an eighth-round TKO Dec. 1. The Clevelander's manager, Al Naiman, says his boy will win by a knockout this time.

Castellani, who does not have much of a reputation as a slugger, did not believe it when Naiman predicted he would floor Ward, but this time he declared:

"I guess Al knows me better than I know myself. This time I say nothing."

Shaw Figured as Ram Choice

Ex-49er Coach Now Top Contender With Erdelatz Out

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Buck Shaw, late of the San Francisco 49ers, has moved back into the top contender spot for the head coach job for the Los Angeles Rams, following announcement that Eddie Erdelatz has signed a contract to remain at the Naval Academy.

Erdelatz was believed to have been the No. 1 choice of president Dan Reeves to succeed Hampton Pool as head coach of the Rams.

Close observers of the football scene said indications are that Ed Pauley, Fred Levy, Hal Seley and Bob Hope, co-owners of the Rams, will press for Shaw's appointment when they meet with Reeves who returns from New York today.

* * *

There was also speculation that Blanton Collier of Kentucky could be a compromise choice.

Navy's Beagle Awarded Maxwell Football Trophy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Navy's All-America end, Ron Beagle, received the Maxwell Football Club's 18th annual award Tuesday night as its choice for the outstanding college football player of 1954.

* * *

Beagle, a junior, accepted the award by paying tribute to "my Navy teammates whose ability and great spirit helped me to be here tonight."

On hand for the presentation was former Yale halfback Clint Frank who received the inaugural award in 1937.

WHERE'S THE BASKET?—Skipper Chuck Gillis makes ready to get off a shot against Avondale. The Waterford forward is trying to find the basket for a shot, while being closely guarded by Avondale's Toby Aldrich in the 3rd period of Tuesday night's game in the Waterford gym. Number 11 is Don Krupp of Avondale. Skippers won their first game of the season, 51-45.

Tulane Plans 'Cat, Mouse' Tactics Against Wildcats

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane Basketball Coach Cliff Wells pins his hopes for his first victory over the top-ranked Wildcats Saturday night on a pet "Cat and Mouse" play.

Wells believes Tulane can whip Kentucky and his contention that the Wildcats are not invincible was proven last week when lowly Georgia Tech accomplished the seemingly impossible by beating Kentucky on its home floor 59-58. Tech's victory stopped a Kentucky home-floor winning streak at 129 straight games.

The personable Wells brought Tulane out of the basketball doldrums into a perennial contender for Southeastern Conference honors. The Green Wave has been a runner-up to Kentucky for the SEC title three times.

And the closest Tulane has come to beating the Wildcats during Wells' nine-year tenure was a 51-47 loss in 1949.

Unranked Tulane shows a 7-2 record this season and the Green Wave is rated a good chance against the Wildcats Saturday. At least, as good a chance as any team in the SEC.

Home Folks Honor Orioles' Richards

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP) — Paul Richards, manager-general manager of the American League Baltimore Orioles, returned to the scene of his baseball childhood today for a testimonial dinner in his honor.

Richards began playing professional ball at the age of 17 with the Crisfield Crabbers of the old Class D Eastern Shore League in 1926. The Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs of Crisfield and Marion Station planned the dinner.

Kentucky Prep Cagers Playing 'Hide-and-Seek'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Henry Clay High School's basketball games with Madison-Model seem to be veering toward hide-and-seek.

Tuesday night, Henry Clay called time out after 40 seconds of play. Paul Plunkett reported more than half of a front tooth missing.

Play resumed after a futile search for the tooth.

Nearly four minutes later, Madison-Model called time because Ed Ritter's ear was bleeding—there was Plunkett's tooth.

The last time the Richmond team played here, Madison-Model's Gene Ballinger went in for a shot and lost his glasses.

Play resumed after another futile search—then a player spotted the specs.

They were caught in the net on Madison-Model's goal.

Lack of Winter Is Hurting State's Recreation Areas

LANSING (UP) — State tourist and conservation officials admitted today what little boys with sleds have known for a long time: Michigan's winter got off to a poor start.

* * *

For little boys it meant no sliding or snow forts.

But to state officials it was a loss of pride and money.

Michigan's Water Wonderland is supposed to become a winter wonderland about this time of the year.

Yet conservation officials reported a decline in recreation area attendance, rabbit hunting and ice fishing — and business was slow at winter resort areas.

Comparatively mild and rainly weather forced many commercial skiing centers to close last week and slopes at other areas were reported in generally poor condition.

Skiing, tobogganing and ice skating acitvity slumped in late December and early January because of "a lack of winter," state park director Arthur C. Elmer reported.

But you're bound to get some winter enjoyment in the Traverse City, Manistee, Cadillac, Alpena, Cheboygan and Petoskey areas.

He'll Stay With Navy

Security Is Sentiment Behind Erdelatz Decision

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Ah, security!

That sentiment did the mombo behind the smile of Eddie Erdelatz yesterday as he boarded a plane for his native California. Articulate Eddie had just signed a new five-year contract as head football coach of Navy.

All the informed sources agreed —though Navy and Erdelatz kept quiet — that it called for about $17,000 a year.

Erdelatz, a long-recognized defensive tactician who graduated magna cum laude last season from the post-graduate school of advancing the ball, has been summarily successful at beating Navy's archrival.

* * *

Four of his five Navy teams have whipped Army.

Last Nov. 27, an undersized bunch of athletes Erdelatz dubbed "the team named desire" did it again, 27-20. Then they smeared a little icing on the cake with a 21-0 victory over Mississippi New Years Day in the Sugar Bowl.

The team finished with a 7-2 mark.

Erdelatz said yesterday he had a desire . . . a desire to end his head coaching career where it began, at Navy. "I am very happy and proud to continue as head football coach at the Naval Academy," he added.

* * *

Within the last month, printed rumor had him headed first to the San Francisco 49ers and as late as yesterday morning to the Los Angeles Rams.

Erdelatz said he had talked with President Dan Reeves of the Rams, but no offer was made.

Capt. Elliott Loughlin, Navy's director of athletics, said yesterday: "Eddie's value to the Naval Academy is not confined to the mere winning of football games but also to the manner in which he coaches and the fine leadership qualities demonstrated in his handling the squad."

Sylvan Glen's Sale Doesn't Change Status

New Owner Robbins to Continue Course on a Semi-Public Basis

Improvements are planned, but Sylvan Glen Golf Club will continue in its present status as a semi-public course.

That's the word from Jim Robbins, Royal Oak plastics manufacturer and sportsman, whose purchase of the popular Troy Township layout from Walter Gehrke was revealed Tuesday. The 38-year-old Robbins reportedly paid $225,000 for the club.

Bill Catto, who has been manager and pro at Sylvan Glen for 10 years, will be retained in the same capacity. Robbins and Catto have already spoken of possibilities of lengthening the course with an eye toward holding a major tournament in the future.

A fairway watering system is being planned as well as a 7-foot fence around the property. Sylvan Glen is one of the oldest semi-public courses in the area.

* * *

"We plan to make it more of a 'golfer's golf club'," Robbins stated.

The deal for the 18-hole layout on Rochester Road off East Square Lake road was revealed with the approval of the Troy Township board for the transfer of the liquor license from Gehrke to Robbins.

A long-time golfer himself, Robbins has interest in many sports. He has piloted his own plane since he was 16 and at one time was active in outboard motor racing. For the past four years, Robbins has had a car entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile Classic.

Johnny Parsons drove the "Robbins Special" to victory in the abbreviated 1950 race and Mike Nazaruk finished second in the same car in 1951. His 1954 entry finished 10th.

Robbins doesn't plan to abandon his interest in automobile racing. In fact, he is working on an entry for this year which will be a combination of his previous two cars. He has not yet settled on a driver.

* * *

In addition to his plastics firm, Robbins also owns a sporting goods store in Ferndale.

Sparrow Rates Third in MVC

Titan Ace Trails Don Boldebuck of Houston, Tulsa's Patterson

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Guy Sparrow, University of Detroit basketball star from Pontiac, Mich., currently is the Missouri Valley's number three scorer and top man on the Titans' best team in five years.

Titan coach Bob Calihan calls the 6-5 Sparrow "one of the fastest players in the game today." He's averaging about 20 rebounds a game to rank among the nation's leaders.

Sparrow's 22.3 scoring average puts him a strong 3rd behind Don Boldebuck, Houston's 7-footer, with 26.6, and Bob Patterson of Tulsa, 25.8.

Next in line is Dick Boushka of St. Louis, 19.5; Cleo Littleton of Wichita, 18.9; Jim McLaughlin of St. Louis, 17.4; Jack Foster of Houston, 15.3; Dick Courter of Tulsa, 14.6; Ralph Goldstein of Detroit, 14.5; Bob Hodgson of Wichita, 14.0; and Mack Carter of Oklahoma A&M, 13.5.

All-Time High NL Night Tilt Card

CINCINNATI, O. (UP) — The National League will play an all-time high of at least 250 night games next season, led by the St. Louis Cardinals who scheduled a record 56 games, it was revealed today in the official 1955 slate of games.

The 1954 schedule showed the previous high of 239 night games but because of postponements and rescheduling, the actual total was 250. Invariably, the original total goes up each year.

'Devils' Beat Hoosiers

DETROIT (AP) — Lawrence Tech downed Huntington College of Indiana 94-83 last night despite a 28-point spree by the Hoosier team's Tom Rethlake.

Forward Stan Sylvester got 21 points for the Detroiters, who now have a 4-9 won-lost record.

'Soapy' Hopes 'M' Will Attempt to Find Trophy

LANSING (UP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams said yesterday he assumes the University of Michigan "will take all steps to assure the return" of the Paul Bunyan statue stolen from a Michigan stadium locker room sometime last weekend.

The two-foot statue was part of a trophy donated by Williams two years ago to the winner of the annual Michigan . Michigan State football game.

Williams said the university might be embarrassed if Michigan State won the trophy back and the university couldn't produce the statue.

The governor said he "hopes the recovery of the statue would be even more colorful than the theft.

"Any more publicity on the trophy might go a long way in putting the Little Brown Jub (symbolic of the traditional rivalry between the University of Michigan and the University of Minnesota) in a shadow."

Three Proposals to Football Rules Committee Concern Restriction of Linemen's Movement

NEW YORK (AP)—Three football rule proposals were under considerations today by a sub-committee of the NCAA Football Rules Committee. The proposed changes centered around how much the movement of linemen can be restricted without interfering with modern offensive football.

Tuesday's committee discussion involved:

1. The false start and "sucker shift."

2. The movement of linemen into the backfield to protect the kicker on spread formations.

3. The "tackle eligible" forward-pass formation.

Committee chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler of Michigan referred the proposals of the main body to the sub-committees, whose job it is to clarify the new rules in such a way that they will not conflict with the current rules.

* * *

The sub-committees are due to make their reports and the committees will vote on the proposals today. Crisler said they hoped to have the task finished shortly around noon.

The chairman indicated that some over-all changes in the rules could be expected. "However," Crisler added, "I don't think we'll have any fundamental changes, such as an unlimited substitution rule."

Most of the discussion was devoted to false starts and whether they can be abolished without damaging the modern varied offenses and hurting the game.

"We could say a lineman can't move, but that would do away with the shift entirely," said Crisler. "There is some belief on the committee that the present language covers the situation. The difficulty is that when a play is outside the spirit of the rule, the officials have trouble administering the rule."

* * *

The rules committee of the Football Coaches Assn. had recommended an addition to this ruling. This stated that a lineman, once he had assumed the stance for his usual charging position, could not move again before the play started. A shift could be made only if linemen took a two-point stance, partly erect or with hands on knees.

Marion Exudes Optimism Over 1955 AL Season

Chisox Pilot Visions Hose as Champs, NY and Tribe Next in Line

CHICAGO (AP)—Somehow a cold January day seems to make for baseball optimism and Chicago's major league managers appear no exception.

Marty Marion, who officially signed a one-year contract Tuesday to manage the Chicago White Sox, said he believes the Sox will win the American League pennant, that Cleveland has a better chance than New York of finishing second.

* * *

Stan Hack, manager of the Chicago Cubs—a team which has not finished in the first division since 1946—said the Cubs are destined for a top spot this year.

"We're figuring on the first division—and not necessarily fourth place," said Hack.

Hack is enthusiastic about the Cub rookie crop. "We could go all the way if a lot of our kids came through, especially in the outfield and on the mound, and if four or five of our guys had outstanding years."

* * *

Marion is banking on added power and bench strength to pull the Sox up from third place where they've finished the last two years.

He specifically referred to first baseman Walt Dropo and outfielder Bob Neiman, both acquired from Detroit in a trade for Ferris Fain.

Marion called Dropo "a moody fellow when he doesn't play regularly" and said the big guy will be given every chance to measure up to his known ability.

* * *

Dropo enjoyed his greatest year in 1950 with the Boston Red Sox when he batted .322 in 136 games, slammed 34 home runs and knocked in 144 runs.

While Marion believes his team is the one to beat for the American League pennant, Hack picks Milwaukee as having the inside track to the National League title.

Badger Star to Be Honored in Hometown

Ameche Will Be Given Dollar a Yard For His Accomplishments

KENOSHA, Wis., Jan. 12 (AP)—Alan (The Horse) Ameche's gridiron accomplishments will pay off at a dollar a yard tonight in the climax of Kenosha's officially proclaimed "Ameche Day."

The University of Wisconsin's All-America fullback will be honored at a civic banquet by his hometown followers.

Since Ameche broke the collegiate rushing record, citizens hereabouts have been conducting a drive to match his yardage dollar for dollars. He ended his college career with 3,212 yards. The money, along with official title to a Kenosha-built (Hudson) automobile he got last week, will be handed Ameche tonight.

Keys to the city and a scroll naming him the No. 1 citizen will be presented Ameche by R. Merrill Rhey, president of the city council.

Scot Curlers Win 1st Chicago Test

CHICAGO (AP)—A team of Scot curlers is one leg up on the Chicago Curling Club in their attempt to retain the Commander Herries Maxwell Trophy.

The Scots won two of four matches and drew in a third Tuesday, in the first of the series of seven test matches for the cup.

The trophy was won by the Scots in 1952 against an American team and is being defended for the first time.

Cats Beat Spartans, Cut Knot for 'D' Second Place

Thrice-beaten Bad Cats knocked the Spartans out of a tie for 2nd place in City Basketball League Class D standings, 29-23, last night.

Cats trailed 13-12 at halftime, but outscored the Spartans 17-10 in the 2nd half. Bowers paced the victory with 10 points.

All other games went according to form in "D" play at Eastern Junior High.

Elks remained deadlocked with Police in 1st place after winning their 4th consecutive start, 46-28, over Blue Devils. Brooks' 13 points were high for the game. Lakesiders, sparked by Stallsmith's 22 points, won their 4th victory in five starts, 35-33, over Lakers. Thrasher collected 12 points to lead Boys Club to a 43-23 win over Slaybaugh's.

TONIGHT'S GAMES—Class B exhibition (PHS, 7 p.m.); Class A exhibition (PHS, 8:30); Elks vs Keego Kiwanis (Class D, Lincoln, 7); Wolverines vs Irwin-Rose (Class D, Lincoln, 8:30).

Nebraska Fans Ask Glassford to Quit

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—A group of 160 Nebraska football fans have sent a petition to the state legislature calling for the resignation of Husker football coach Bill Glassford.

* * *

It was the 2nd straight year that Glassford was under pressure to resign. Last year team players and university officials called for Glassford's resignation, but he refused to quit and led Nebraska to 2nd place in the Big Seven conference and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Barkeley Scores 14, but Broncs Lose Out

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan basketball team was upset 75-67 last night by a free throw-minded Valparaiso team.

The Indiana team scored its last 17 points from the foul line as the Broncos fouled repeatedly in the closing minutes in a desperate effort to catch up.

Jim Howard and Bob Jarm each scored 17 points for Valparaiso. Alan Barkeley (Pontiac) led Western Michigan with 14.

First Block for Worst

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Worst, world's three cushion billiard champion, last night captured his 1st block in his 600-point exhibition match against Joe Camaco, 59-50.

Camaco, former world's champion from Mexico City, had defeated the champion from Grand Rapids, Mich., in three blocks during two days of play.

Changed Positions

Two of pro football's best ends, Elroy Hirsch and Pete Pihos, played in the backfield during their college days.

Ex-Cubs Shortstop to Pilot 'C' Nine

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bobby Sturgeon, former shortstop for the Chicago Cubs, is the new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies' Salt Lake City farm team in the Class C Pioneer League.

Sturgeon signed a one-year contract Tuesday.

* * *

Sturgeon managed Edmonton of the Class A Western International League last year. He succeeds Charles Gassaway at Salt Lake City, which finished first during the 1954 Pioneer League season.

Chiefs End Long Layoff Against Trojans

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's basketball team, which hasn't seen action since Dec. 17, finally returns to competition here Friday night against Saginaw High.

* * *

A quirk in the Chiefs' 1954-55 schedule left them idle for four weeks, and the long layoff could prove detrimental to Coach Art Van Ryzin's crew.

"I'm a little concerned about the fact that we haven't played a game in four weeks," Van Ryzin said yesterday. "It will have some effect on us . . . there will be a little tension."

Saginaw, a dangerous opponent despite its poor 1-3 record, will pit its usual race-horse brand of play against Pontiac's more deliberate style. Trojans' fast-break offense has produced a scoring average of 59½ points per game, but their pressing man-to-man defense apparently has not been too effective.

* * *

Coach Larry Laeding's outfit has yielded 256 points in losing to Lansing Eastern, Arthur Hill and Bay City Handy and beating Bay City Central.

* * *

Mainstay of the Trojan team is J. T. Landrum, 6-foot 2-inch senior forward playing his 3rd season as a regular. Landrum has piled up 89 points in four games for a sparkling 22.5 average. In the past, however, the high-scoring Saginaw ace has had a notable lack of success against PHS defenses.

In the four games he appeared in against Pontiac during the last two years, Landrum was limited to an average of only 5.75 points.

Ably supporting Landrum in the Trojan attack are forward Chuck Lyon, who is averaging 13.25, and guard Jerry Hamling, who has a 10.25-point mark.

Pontiac's Dick Blacklaw will be out to protect his lead in the Saginaw Valley Conference's individual scoring race Friday. In two SVC starts, the 6-foot 4-inch center has averaged 21.5 points for a 2-point lead over runnerup Landrum.

Pontiac Archers Seeking 2 Important Tournaments

With its regular winter indoor activities under way this week, Pontiac Archery Club is also pointing for two important state tournaments.

The club is seeking the Michigan Archers Assn. event and the Metropolitan Assn. Championships. Both are rated at the top of the sport for Michigan. Bids have been submitted for both events.

The club's 12-team indoor league swung into action first of this week. It is an 80 per cent handicap affair, always producing a close race, usually decided only in the last couple of weeks shooting. Second league shoot takes place tonight.

Last night marked the start of beginners' classes, held every Tuesday night in the quarters at the city hangar at the Municipal Airport.

There are able instructors, and equipment is provided for those desiring it.

On Jan. 16 first indoor tourney takes place. Others follow on Feb. 6 and March 6. All are 28 target shoots, and can be shot starting those dates at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Bahama Beats Kennedy

DETROIT (AP) — Yama Bahama, 149, of Bimini, Bahamas, won a unanimous decision over Alan Kennedy, 147¾, of Bay City, in a 6-rounder last night at the Motor City Arena.

In a 6-round co-feature, Eli Leggett, 136, of Detroit, scored a unanimous decision over Stan Kursa, 136, also of Detroit.

Boston Celtics Division Leaders

High-Scoring Quintet Outlasts Ft. Wayne, 119-110

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The prolific-scoring Boston Celtics are the new leaders of the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

* * *

The Celts, who have been averaging over 100-points-per-game this season, outlasted Fort Wayne's Western Division leaders 119-110 Tuesday night to take over the top slot in the Eastern section by one percentage point over the Syracuse Nationals.

* * *

In other games the Nats bowed to the Minneapolis Lakers 93-82 and the Milwaukee Hawks turned back the Rochester Royals 93-90.

Boston's 119-point outburst broke the Fort Wayne Coliseum scoring record. Sharp-shooting Bill Sharman paced the Celtics' attack with 37 points, hitting effectively with one-handed sets. Sharman connected for 12 field goals and sank 13 of 14 free throws.

* * *

Larry Foust excelled for the Pistons with 33 points.

County Gunners Defeat GL Team

Oakland County Gun Club defeated Great Lakes Steel team, 1,004 to 994, in a rifle match at Detroit last weekend.

Kjell Danielson led the winners with 203, followed by E. Teefey 201, and T. LaPorte, M. LaPorte and H. Collins with 200's. High gun for Great Lakes was E. Turner with 201.

Teefey won actual score honors with a 193.

Series Marks Fall

Dusty Rhodes of the champion New York Giants set seven world series records for pinch hitters in the 1954 classic. His six runs driven in were the most in 51 years of series history.

When the pro football Lions shut out the Baltimore Colts 35-0 in the 1954 season, it was the first blank for the winners since 1945.

Goebel...first American beer to win acclaim in England

Consultant Brewer to 300-year-old Barclay Perkins Brewery, London, says Goebel "merits a place among the world's fine beers"

Brewer Henius enjoys a glass of Goebel in the ancient board room of the Barclay Perkins Brewery. Shown is the favorite chair of Dr. Samuel Johnson, who wrote many of his famous works here.

"We have had occasion to sample Goebel Beer at our brewery in London, England. In our opinion it is brewed to the high standards which we traditionally follow in making Barclay's Beer at our 300-year-old Brewery.

"Goebel Beer has a light, dry character combined with a smoothness of flavor which gives it excellent balance. Its distinctive qualities merit it a place among the world's fine beers."

New Gadgets for Sportsmen

By JACK PATTERSON

For some reason not entirely clear the manufacturers of ice-fishing gear customarily wait until the season is about over to introduce new items to the public. Thus it is we're surprised to see on the market a new device and the season only barely frayed.

PATTERSON

This gadget was dreamed up by one of the big companies and consists of a glass ice rod with a novel line winding arrangement. Butt of the rod itself projects through the bottom end of the grip and ends in a small handle, so that the entire rod turns, within the grip as the handle is turned. A small arm on the rod just forward of the grip lays the line, as it is retrieved, around a groove in the front end of the grip, much in the fashion of the line-winding arrangement on a spinning reel.

* * *

This item should prove useful to the fisherman because it does away with separate reels or the alternative of a clumsy hand-over-hand retrieve. It's available locally for about three and a half of Sam's dollars.

Gun and ammunition makers are somewhat more farsighted in regard to new merchandise, and for some months have rumbled mightily about astonishing things to come. Maybe we don't astonish easily but we can't get tob excited about the stuff that's already in the mill.

Gun builders plan to market about half a dozen "new" models in '55 but for the most part the newness will be confined to the model numbers. Pretty much the same old stuff with a little face lifting here and there and a new I.D. card.

* * *

One manufacturer, at least, is bucking the trend to the extent of bringing out something a little different. Remington, with its model 740 is resuming the manufacture of large-bore autoloaders.

* * *

Thus will be available at first in caliber .30-06 only, in two or three different grades. Presumably other calibers will be available later, if the gun goes over, which it should, because the discontinued Remington autoloaders are still in good demand.

Of course, one never knows about guns. The much bally-hooed autoload shotgun, of a big outfit, hasn't secured a very firm hold on the public imagination (or pocket book).

In the ammunition line shooters can look forward to much simplification and the discontinuance of many loads, both in metallic cartridges and shotgun husks. This is a logical forward step and should be helpful to the average shooter, although gun bugs and outdoor writers, who like to have something to argue about, can be expected to take a dim view of any such business-like gesture.

But the fact remains that the basic tenet of shooting is independent of how precisely the load is tailored for the job at hand. The important thing is where you hold, and a somewhat more limited choice of stuff to throw at the intended victim shouldn't prove to be catastrophic.

Winter Sports, Fun Flourish in State

By MORT NEFF

There's little excuse for those who love Michigan Outdoors to go into semi-hibernation in the winter time! Each month is filled with thrills in the snow country of the north as well as the lake country of the south where ice fishermen make a holiday of their sport. Even those who concentrate on hunting need take no respite when the snow flies. Bobcats, cottontails and snowshoe rabbits are widely hunted, and coyotes and foxes are legal game the whole year through.

NEFF

Resorts catering to winter sports enthusiasts have mushroomed into activity over the last few years. Today almost every part of Michigan boasts a well-equipped winter-sports area within easy drive of every community.

Many of these winter holiday centers offer skiing, skating and tobogganing close to comfortable hotels and motels, making it easy to plan an entire week end or more enjoying the wholesome, invigorating air that goes with our winter wonderland.

This looks like the year of the "big snow," with an early fall of soft, powdery tracking snow made to order for coyote, fox and bobcat hunters. Coyote hunts are held regularly on Beaver Island where huge drives keep these predators stirring until they eventually get into the line of fire. Elsewhere specially trained hounds are used for tracking. Wildcats are hunted by still another classification of hound that owners have trained to be "rabbit and fox proof." This development of a specialized nose is a proud triumph with any hunter!

It's all part of the winter sports parade in Michigan Outdoors.

Michigan Men Find Hunting Good in Korea

There's good hunting in Korea. At least one group of Michigan army men has found it to be just that, according to a note the editor of this department has received from Pyong Teak, Korea. An accompanying picture was unsuitable for reproduction.

Donald W. Short, Pontiac boy, writes that he and Larry A. Ellis of Flint and David I. Reid of Deerton, Mich., have been hunting together around the Pyong Teak area and find the sport good.

"Bird hunting (pheasant) is very good this year. Average kill has been between 4 and 7 birds per man. We are serving with the Seabees in Korea. We have formed a sportsmen's club, called the Pyong Teak Rod and Gun Club.

"We all enjoy the outdoor section of The Pontiac Press. Keep up the good work."

State Offers Outdoors Jobs

Applications Are Now Being Taken for Park, Forest Work

LANSING — Apply now if you want spring, summer and fall employment as a conservation department forest fire lookout or park ranger.

Applications may be obtained from the state civil service commission or from the conservation department, both in Lansing, and must be filled out and postmarked not later than Jan. 28.

Applicants for the position of park ranger must be at least 18 years of age and must have completed the 8th grade of school. Fire lookout applicants must be 18 and must have graduated from high school. The work is open for men only.

A written test for the work will be given Feb. 12 at several cities in the state.

For additional information, write either of the two agencies.

Maryland Racing Body Gives '55 'New Look'

BALTIMORE (AP)—With the dexterity of a juggler, the Maryland Racing Commission shuffled dates Thursday and came out with a 1955 horse racing schedule worthy of a "new look" label.

In the biggest change, Bowie was given just one 33-day meet. That one, in the spring, will open March 9 and close April 16. For years, Bowie has closed out the Maryland racing schedule in the cold, competition-free air of late November and early December.

3 States Represented in Fisheries Confab

LANSING — From 75 to 100 fisheries workers from Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin will exchange fish management information at Higgins Lake training school on Jan. 17-18 during the 10th annual Tri-State Fisheries conference.

Representatives from the conservation departments of the three states and from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service are expected to attend.

Training Season Starts Jan. 20

S. Michigan Obedience Group to Hear Lecture by Dog Authority

Winter activities for the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club gets under way Jan. 20, with a demonstration and a lecture. Speaker will be a well known authority on dog training and dogs, according to John Eicher, in charge of this year's club program.

Meeting is set for Daniel Whitfield School, 2000 Orchard Lake avenue and begins at 8 p.m. All persons interested in dog training are invited, but they are informed not to take their dogs at this time.

First regular training class is set for Jan. 27 in the same location. There is no charge for attendance at the Jan. 20 program.

Those interested in the training classes may secure full information by calling FE 2-4867.

Fishing Derby at Met Beach Is Postponed

Saturday, Jan. 22, is the new date for the ice fishing derby at Metropolitan Beach. Third annual perch contest has been postponed from Jan. 15 because of unseasonably warm weather.

Information on ice fishing and skating conditions may be had by calling Metropolitan Beach WO 3-3022

Several thousand anglers, men, women and children, are expected to compete for 18 trophies in the perch derby to be held from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Frank "Curly" Burch, member of the State Conservation Commission and executive secretary of the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress, is chairmen of the judges. Printed rules with maps of the beach and entry tickets are available at the beach headquarters and the bait and tackle shop.

OCSC Browse Work Finished

Twenty-eight members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club participated in the organization's annual deer browse cutting project last weekend.

The group cleared areas in northeastern Gladwin County selected by forestry men of the Michigan Conservation Department.

An interesting sidelight to the project was the observation by OCSC official Howard Shelley that he sighted more deer tracks in the area then on any previous trip in the past three years.

Poor Weather Cuts Use of State Parks

LANSING (AP) — Winter use of state parks has fallen off this year because weather has been poor for outdoor sports, the conservation department said today.

Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the department's parks division, said skiing, tobogganing and ice skating activity was below normal during late December and early January.

Kentucky Drops Size Limits on All Fish

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Fishermen in Kentucky received an unexpected gift for 1955 with the removal of all size limits on fish and ponds. The new regulation was effective Jan. 1.

The sweeping change in the state's new fishing regulations was recommended to the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Commissioners by Minor Clark, director of the state's fisheries division.

Kansas City was once a member of the American league.

Auburn Remains Only Unbeaten Major College 5

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—An undaunted group of "little guys running around and giving it all they've got all the time" make up the nation's only major unbeaten basketball team, the Auburn Tigers.

They have won seven games already, and that's more than most experts thought they'd take in the whole season. Some guessers predicted they would be lucky to win even one Southeastern Conference victory.

* * *

The quotes above are Coach Joel Eaves' explanation of what happened to confuse the oddsmakers. Auburn was ranked in the lower portion of the SEC's second division in a pre-season poll. Thus far, the Tigers have won both SEC starts and also have a December tournament victory over Tennessee in a game which does not count in the conference title race.

A big test comes Saturday night in Montgomery's Cow Coliseum against highly-rated Alabama. The Tigers, again, will be underdogs by many points.

* * *

Auburn's pre-season publicity sheet on the basketball team was headed simply:

* * *

"A long, cold winter predicted."

That was because big Bob Miller, center and major star of last year's moderately successful club, and most other regulars, were gone and no hot-shot sophomores were around. Only Jim O'Donnell, 6-3 forward, and Bill Kirkpatrick, 5-10 guard, of this year's squad saw enough service last year to score more than 50 points in a 24-game schedule. Kirkpatrick averaged 9.7 points and O'Donnell 8 last year.

* * *

Eaves says this team has been "moving the ball better than a year ago, but the big thing has been the hustle."

In SEC games against Mississippi State and Mississippi, both favored to take the little Tigers, Auburn opened with a rush and netted more than 30 points in the opening 10 minutes.

Mississippi, however, overcame this early advantage and Auburn had to win in the second half of a tight game, 85-81.

In this day of 7-footers, the Auburn team is one without that big, good man. Tallest of the players who saw action against Mississippi are Gordon Mummert, a 6-4 center, and Kay Slayden, also 6-4 and Mummert's replacement for a few minutes.

* * *

Next in height comes O'Donnell at 6-3. Henry Sturkie, the other forward, is 6-1. Kirkpatrick, at 5-10 and Brownie Nelson, 5-11, are the regular guards. Top reserves are Jim Diamond, 6-2 forward, and Byrd Whigham, 5-8 guard.

Kirkpatrick has been the top scorer, but against Mississippi when Bill cooled off in the second half, O'Donnell hit for 29 points, most of them in the last half.

Against a big, good man like Jerry Harper, Albama's 6-8 center, hustle and desire may not be enough. But after what has happened thus far, the Auburn fans are hopeful.

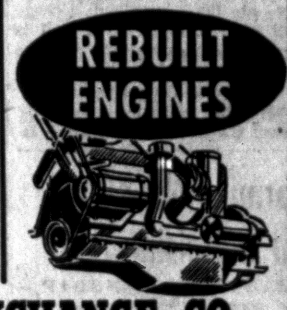

Polo Associations Announce Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Polo Assn. and the Indoor Polo Assn., of America will operate as one governing body for both outdoor and indoor polo. The merger was announced Tuesday. The new organization will retain the U.S. Polo Assn. name and will be headed by the officers of that body. They are Devereux Milburn, chairman; George C. Sherman Jr., vice-chairman, and Henry Lewis 3rd, secretary-treasurer. Separate outdoor and indoor handicap ratings will be issued yearly and separate committees will conduct the indoor and outdoor seasons.

Grimm Names Braves' Lineup for '55 Season

Bobby Thomson Picked for Cleanup Spot on Milwaukee Team

MILWAUKEE (AP)—With fingers crossed, Braves Manager Charlie Grimm has his starting lineup all set for the 1955 baseball season which opens locally against Cincinnati April 12.

* * *

In an announcement Tuesday, Grimm picked Bobby Thomson for the cleanup spot—the same position he was slated for last year before he broke his ankle in spring training. Reports are that Thomson's ankle is just about fully mended.

* * *

Danny O'Connell is ticketed to bat second, back of Billy Bruton, followed by Eddie Mathews and Thomson. Joe Adcock will hit fifth and in the next spot, as well as in right field, will be either the veteran Andy Pafko or Hank Aaron. Aaron is recovering from a broken ankle and spring training will determine how soon he will be ready to play.

Del Crandall is the No. 7 batter, followed by Johnny Logan and the pitcher.

Dads, Sons to Greet Sports Stars Tonight

Expected to provide the winter's biggest "roundup" of metropolitan area sports stars, tonight's annual Elks lodge Father and Son banquet takes place in the clubhouse on Orchard Lake avenue with a score or more luminaries in attendance.

The list of guests includes major league baseball, college and Lions' football, basketball, Red Wings hockey, bowling and golf figures of prominence.

Budd Lynch, Detroit sports announcer is the master-of-ceremonies. Banquet starts at 7 p. m. with the program following. Tickets are still available at the Elks club.

Win Harvard Awards

Two Oakland County freshmen at Harvard University were among 176 major and minor athletic award winners announced recently by the Cambridge, Mass., school.

Henry W. Vaillant of Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, won a major numeral for participation in freshman soccer. Vaillant prepped at Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire. Daniel C. Fricker, of Wellington Road, Franklin, who prepped at Mt. Hermon, Mass., won a minor numeral for frosh cross country.

The 1949 Yankees were in first place 164 days out of the 167-day playing season.

City Parochials Win

Both Pontiac entries in the Suburban Catholic League basketball league came through with victories last night.

St. Michael kept its share of 2nd place by mauling Center Line St. Clement, 37-22, here.

Shamrocks trailed 11-10 early in the 2nd period, but scored nine straight points to move into a 19-11 halftime advantage.

A 14-point splurge in the 3rd period wrapped up the victory. John Keller paced the win with 11 points. Dick Fortin, who scored his team's 1st seven points, led St. Clem with 12.

St. Frederick moved into 4th place by dumping St. James, 54-40, at Ferndale. Rams jumped into a 21-6 1st period lead, saw their margin dwindle to 39-34 at the end of the 3rd quarter and then iced the win with a 13-point drive in the finale.

Lionel Bradley's 14 points were high for the game.

Orchard Lake St. Mary trampled St. Rita, 56-33, with Ted Kopacki scoring 15 points and Vince Pernicki adding 14. St. Benedict extended its undefeated string to five games with a 46-39 triumph over Royal Oak St. Mary.

Joey Giardello Pays Fine, Averts 75-Day Suspension

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello, No. 1 middleweight contender, was back in the technical good graces of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission today after paying a $500 fine in lieu of a 75-day suspension.

The commission Tuesday suspended Giardello, then reinstated him on payment of the fine—resulting from an assault on a gasoline station operator last Oct. 29. Giardello, now awaiting trial on the charge, denies he was involved in a brawl at the South Philadelphia service station.

* * *

Frank Wiener, commission chairman, said the brief suspension and fine that replaced it were decided on because it was felt Giardello's actions had been detrimenal to the best interests of boxing.

* * *

However, Wiener said, the commission decided to grant the boxer another chance to prove himself.

"Giardello has been set up as an example to the youth of America," said Wiener, "and since he is a very young man, he still can become a very useful citizen by showing repentance and by resolving to show the people of this nation, where he is widely known, that his escapades with the law are ended."

Giardello now is in training for a 10-round bout with Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., at Norfolk, Va. Jan. 26.

Campo, Tezaki Clash

TOKYO (AP)—Tanny Campo of the Philippines and Hiroyuki Tezaki of Japan each weighed in at exactly 112 pounds, the flyweight limit, today for their 12-round Orient championship bout tonight.

They had sweated and strained to pare off extra ounces.

Campo's crown is on the line in the indoor battle. He is a 2-1 favorite.

The Secret...that isn't Secret

Again . . . in 1954 . . . Budweiser outsold every other beer on Earth. I make this announcement in a spirit of deep gratitude to our friends everywhere.

What is the secret of Budweiser's continuing popularity?

There's really no secret at all. Let me simply tell you that Anheuser-Busch is proud to be first in sales . . . only because we are known to be first in quality.

In Budweiser we proudly offer you the finest beer that superior ingredients and a century of brewing leadership can produce.

Someone aptly summed it all up this way: "Budweiser outsells every other beer on Earth . . . because it's Budweiser."

Details of Superhighway Subject of Public Meeting

Just how will Michigan's first toll superhighway, running from below Detroit north to Saginaw affect Oakland County?

That is one of the questions to be answered by E. Thomas Baker, chief engineer of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, at a public meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the Groveland Grange Hall east of Holly. The hall is located 1½ miles east of U.S. 10, on Grange Hall road.

Baker will discuss the where, what, when and why of the proposed 115-mile turnpike, which is expected to extend north from Rockwood, paralleling Telegraph road in south Oakland County, then crossing Wooward north of Birmingham and continuing east of Pontiac to Flint and Saginaw.

"This turnpike should be of vital interest to the people of Oakland County," said Sherman Kendall of Ortonville, master of the Groveland Grange, and Lyle Abel, Oakland County Agricultural agent, who invited Baker to explain the proposed road.

The building of the road is expected to affect business in the area, as well as farmers and residents.

Engineers, hired at a cost of $160,000 to make aerial and ground surveys for the road, are expected to come up with an exact route by March 1.

It is hoped that construction of the $154,000,000 toll highway will begin by next April, turnpike chairman William E. Slaughter Jr. said.

Forming New Club for Exercising Plan

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Following numerous requests from township women for the formation of an exercise group, the recreation department has started such an organization according to recreation director Thomas Belton.

"Exercise for Health" classes will be held every Thursday from 7-8 p.m. at the CAI building, under the direction of Carol Wolfe.

Waterford township women interested in muscle toning and limbering up through such exercise have been asked to register with the recreation department or at the first meeting of the group tomorrow.

U.S. Challenges Mushroom Co.

FTC Smells Rat in Ads Promising High Profits Without Odor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mushroom raising is no bed of roses, says the Federal Trade Commission, and it doesn't smell like one either.

The commission filed false advertising charges today against the Washington Mushroom Industries, Inc., of Seattle, a firm which sells mushroom spawn and fertilizer.

The FTC challenged the company's claim that mushroom beds have no odor and can be placed satisfactorily in a spare room. These beds produce "a very disagreeable odor," in the view of the FTC lawyers.

Neither is it true, said FTC, that mushroom growing is a "pleasant, easy occupation," providing a substantial income even to those without experience; nor that the firm's mushroom spawn will produce "extraordinary financial returns" to buyers.

On the contrary, the commission said, successful mushroom operations require a high degree of skill and amateurs "cannot earn extraordinary profits, particularly in view of the company's charges for spawn and fertilizer."

The company and its president, Arthur T. Lelles, were given 20 days to answer the complaint. A hearing was scheduled for March 1 in Seattle.

Showboat Set for 2 Day Trip

Variety Show Readied by Waterford Juniors in Annual Tradition

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — High school junior class members are up in the air over their production of "Showboat Calendar" scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday nights at 8 p.m.

Even a tightrope act will be part of the two-hour festivities this year which is packed with students anxious to display their talents.

Director Patty Looman, speech and dramatics instructor, has predicted success for the show. "It is different from past 'Showboats' and contains a good deal of novelty," she stated.

Buck Farnum, junior class vice president, is student chairman of the show. Roxy Merritt, Nancy Johnson and Randy Beedle are three seniors chosen to assist Miss Looman with the program.

Helping the students with the several popular musical numbers is music instructor Helen Davis.

Joel McCreas Expect Baby After 18 Years

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Actor Joel McCrea and his actress wife, Frances Dee, have announced that they are expecting a baby after 21 years of marriage.

The McCreas, whose youngest child is 18 years old, said they were surprised when they learned of the expected birth.

"I wanted another child for a long time but I had given up hope. When you're in your early 40s—and of course, Joel is seven years older than I—you don't look for another baby."

Dispute at Carver School Erupts in New Violence

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Police today investigated the reported beating of a woman member of the controversy - ridden school board in Oakdale Gardens.

Mrs. Loretta Baker, 47, secretary of the George Washington Carver board, yesterday told police she was beaten and left tied and gagged by three masked men who forced their way into her Oakdale Gardens home last Friday night.

She said the men entered her home demanding: "Where are the Harrison recall petitions?"

Mrs. Baker and another board member, the Rev. Chester Carter of Oakdale Gardens, have been named in recall petitions filed by a third board member, James E. Harrison.

Harrison heads a two-man minority on the school board which has been seeking reforms in the administration of the school.

Other board members, including Mrs. Baker and Carter filed a recall petition against Harrison.

Mrs. Baker told police she believed the three men were looking for the Harrison petitions. She did not disclose where the petitions are.

Police said Mrs. Baker told them she managed to knock the telephone off its hook after her assailants left. The operator notified authorities.

Mrs. Baker was treated for bruises and shock by her family physician.

George Taylor, Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, said his office also is investigating the reported beating.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty has set Jan. 18 as the date for a show cause hearing on whether the school board should order the recall election against Mrs. Baker and Carter.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Magnolia Simms, a teacher at the Carver school, yesterday pleaded innocent at her federal court arraignment on a charge of forgery.

She is accused of cashing a $307.70 government check issued to a boarder in her home.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard released her on personal bond pending examination at a later date.

Convicted Commies Start Prison Terms

NEW YORK (AP) — Twelve second-string Communist leaders were behind bars today starting to serve prison terms for conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Rounded up after the U. S. Supreme Court turned down their appeal, the 12 were denied further bail late yesterday.

The nine male defendants were taken to the Federal House of Detention and the three women to the City Women's House of Detention. From there they will be sent to federal penitentiaries to serve terms ranging from one to three years.

A 13th-string U. S. Communist leader convicted with them—Louis Weinstock, 49— was not involved yesterday because he is on trial in Washington, D. C., on charges of making false statements to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

After the Supreme Court refused on Monday to review the case, Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman revoked bail of $25,000 each on the 12 and issued warrants for their arrest.

Mott Honored as Big Brother

Ike Presents Scroll to Flint Philanthropist for Work With Boys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles S. Mott, 79-year-old Flint, Mich., philanthropist known for his aid to fatherless boys, received his "Big Brother of the Year 1954" award at the White House yesterday.

President Eisenhower presented Mott with a scroll from Big Brothers of America, Inc., and read a citation recognizing Mott's humanitarianism. Mott thanked the President and said:

"We consider you the biggest brother of them all . . ."

The Big Brother of the Year award is made annually as part of the observance in the United States and Canada of Big Brother Week, now being observed. Last year's big brother, aviator Eddie Rickenbacker, also was present at yesterday's ceremony.

Mott told Eisenhower the recognition accorded him was "not simply for myself, but for the thousands in Flint who participate in the work in behalf of youth."

Flint is one of the nation's few communities to show a decline in juvenile delinquency and Big Brothers said it is the result of work by the Youth Bureau, one of Mott's beneficiaries. The organization guides problem children to responsible citizenship.

Similar Youth Bureaus have been organized in Bay City, Saginaw, Lansing, Port Huron and Pontiac under Mott Foundation leadership.

Old Cleaning Equipment May Be Worth Vacuum

NEW YORK (INS)—Next time you're cleaning out attic or cellar check what old cleaning equipment you uncover: Feather dusters, wire rug beaters, ancient carpet sweepers or vacuum cleaners.

A New York firm, with an eye on publicity, bankers to start a "museum of household cleaning implements." And so it is willing to swap one of its brand new 1955 vacuum cleaners—it's the make which has the "big wheels"—for any old cleaning tools householders come across.

The "museum" will be housed in headquarters of the Lewyt Corp. which manufacturers vacuum cleaners of the same name.

13-Year-Old Boys Throw Party . . . Even Invite Girls

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—A young man I know has gone through quite a change recently.

He used to be strictly a man of action, tough, virile, fearless beyond measure, a bold hunter of adventure. Now he appears to be the gay boulevardier, the dapper sophisticate who has seen everything and done everything. A few more years at his present pace and they'll be calling him a worn-out old roue.

But at 13 Bob has a little time left.

* * *

The change came suddenly.

Just a few weeks ago his life was devoted entirely to football and baseball, to the settement of disputes on a field or street or back lot of honor, to roaming the world on a bike, to the exclusive company of men who were men.

Just before the change came, he and his cronies built a club house of lumber "borrowed" from nearby construction projects. It had a two-foot "picture window," a grand entrance through which you crawled and an "attic" big enough for one member to lie down in, without breathing.

* * *

When the members fell into disagreement, each would leave with his part of the clubhouse. Thus, on some days, the headquarters was bereft of a roof or a door or a whole side wall. But one thing was never removed—the sign on the front which said, "Private—No Girls."

Suddenly one day Bob told his mother he and his associates would like to throw a party in the basement recreation room of Bob's home. It would be all their own doing and adults were not to interfere. Besides, there would be GIRLS, Mother agreed.

One other stipulation: Bob's younger brother was not to show his face anywhere. Agreed.

* * *

The six joint hosts worked on the party for a week. Each day another member arrived with an item—soda, pretzels, crackers, records. They decorated the room in blue and white crepe paper. The basic motif was not quite clear. On one wall was a large sign saying, "Go—Go—Go." On another, a larger sign: "No Smoking."

Bob's mother bought a couple dozen doughnuts, just in case.

The men arrived first—four in charcoal black suits and pink shirts and two in tweeds. The girls properly followed the new, long, flat look. As the girls went down to the basement, one boy was heard to whisper, "look at that low-cut dress!" Her dress opened all the way down to her collar bone.

* * *

At one point in the party, a freckled, red-haired young man came up to the kitchen. He noticed the doughnuts and asked if he might take a few. He could, and took more than a dozen.

"Do you happen to have any peanut butter and jelly?" he asked Bob's mother.

"Why, yes. Why?"

"We thought we'd make a few hors d'oeuvres."

Halfway through the evening, the six males trooped upstairs to examine Bob's new microscope set. In some cipoles the fact that they left the women alone in the basement might be considered unchivalrous, but in this set it was all matter of fact. No questions asked, no female recriminations.

Later, the red-haired young man came up again.

"Happen to have any candles around?" he asked.

"Yes, why?"

"Oh, we thought we'd dance a little by candlelight."

At the end of the evening, the girls all thanked the host's mother quite properly. The red-haired boy said he had a wonderful time "and what I liked best was that you didn't interfere."

When they were all gone, Bob's father, who had been restless all evening, asked his son what they had done at the party.

"Oh, talked."

"What else?"

"Danced."

"That all?"

"Oh, we played a few kissing games. You know, pop, it's kinda fun."

And with that Bob picked up a baseball glove which happened to be under a chair and threw it in the closet, and went up to bed whistling a tune of his own making.

Tasty Too, No Doubt

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — A scientifically prepared, high-protein food developed at the California Institute of Technology is reported to have been saving lives in countries hit by typhoons, floods, wars or other tragedy. More than 35,000,000 of the "three-cent" meals have been distributed in Okinawa, Japan, Korea and India alone, according to the Meals for Millions Foundation, a non-profit group in Los Angeles. The group has shipped the "multi-purpose food" to more than 100 countries to date.

Canada is larger in area than the United States.

Selling Forces Grains Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Mild selling pressure forced most grains down slightly on the Board of Trade today.

At the outset the 1955 crop wheat contracts, which have been quite weak in recent sessions, attracted some support and advanced about ½ cent. The soon reversed themselves when it became apparent the rest of the market wasn't going up with them.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $2.29¾; corn unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $1.54½; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March 76⅞; rye ¼ to ⅝ lower, March $1.19½; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅝ higher, January $2.79¾; lard 8 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $12.62.

Court Decision Overrules City

3 Hazel Park Officers' Rank Ordered Restored by Judge Holland

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland today issued a mandamus writ ordering Hazel Park to restore former rank to three policemen demoted last year.

The city demoted Harvey D. White from captain to lieutenant and Harold J. Hill jlus Robert B. Law from lieutenants to sergeants last July in what was termed an "economy" and "efficiency" move.

The civil service commission rejected the changes, but they were put into effect anyway by the city contrary to laws governing civil service, Judge Holland ruled.

The city's proper action would have been to appeal the board's decision to a higher civil service authority, he stated.

One questiton, said the judge, was whether a city could overrule a civil service board's decision. He found that if a board is to operate successfully, it must have the right to investigate any discharge or demotion no matter what the alleged reason is.

Another question, he said, was whether a city can ignore a civil service board order. When a city has adopted civil service, then the act governing it requires that its rulings be followed, the judge found.

Attorney J. Shanley Haggerty, clerk for Judge Holland, pointed out that whether the city's "economy" move was justified was not a question before the court.

The issue was to look at laws governing civil service and determine if a city could ignore a board's decision, said Hagerty. A mandamus writ, he explained, is simply an order to act as the law requires.

If Hazel Park wishes, it can appeal Judge Holland's decision to the State Supreme Court, he added.

White was promoted to captain Dec. 20, 1950. Hill to lieutenant Dec. 18, 1952 and Law to lieutenant June 16, 1953.

Sports Car Show at Ford Museum

The "New Look" in European and American sports car styling will be displayed beginning Friday at Henry Ford Musuem, Dearborn, with the opening of "Sports Car Internationale."

Over 25,000 square feet of floor space will be devoted to this year's show, third to be held at the museum.

Models from France, Spain, Italy, Germany, England and the U.S. will be exhibited.

An innovation for the '55 exhibit will be fashion shows featuring clothes to be worn for various sports occasions. The shows will be presented at 8 and 9 p.m., Jan. 14 and 15.

Mixed Market Swings Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market swung down lower today after a mixed start.

Prices in early trading ran from between 1 and 2 points lower to fractions higher in key divisions.

Pfizer opened up 2⅛ at 41 on a block of 5,000 shares after the company announced it had a patent for tetracycline, new antibiotic which has been the center of conflicting discovery claims. It improved a little more in later dealings.

Railroads slumped more than other major divisions today, but also lower were steels, motors, coppers, chemicals, airlines, and electrical equipments.

New York Central, at the top of the most active list for the past five sessions, opened off ¼ at 35½ on 3,000 shares, and then it quickly moved lower. It lost 1¾ yesterday after a run-up of 4¾ in the previous four days.

A block of 30,800 shares of electrical & musical industries traded unchanged at 4.

Truck Firms, Drivers Agree

Michigan Is Included in 12-State Pay, Mileage Rate Settlement

CHICAGO (AP) — Trucking companies and their drivers in 12 Midwestern states have agreed to three-part wage and mileage rate increases during the next three years.

In addition to the states wholly covered, the areas of Tulsa, Okla. and Louisville, Ky., also are included. The states are Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Kansas.

An agreement was reached yesterday covering 54,000 long-distance truck drivers in the AFL Teamsters Union and 4,000 truck-operating companies.

The contract will go into effect Feb. 1. It calls for an hourly wage boost of 10 cents to $2.07 on that date, followed by another 8-cent-an-hour hike a year later and an additional hourly increase of 8 cents on Feb. 1, 1957.

On the same dates mileage rates will increase one-fourth cent a mile each year. The present rate is 7.125 cents. Drivers making 202 or fewer miles a day will be on an hourly basis; those above that mark will be paid on a mileage basis.

A minimum of $75 a week is a part of the agreement, which also provides for a four-week vacation after 20 years instead of the present maximum of three weeks after 12 years.

AEC Scientists Will Scrutinize Security Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The heads of the eight Atomic Energy Commission laboratories will meet here next week to review the commission's personnel security program.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said yesterday the scientists will meet with an "open mind" but won't necessarily recommend any changes.

"My personal feeling is that it is okay as it is now," Strauss told a National Press Club luncheon.

* * *

Strauss indicated the meeting was prompted largely by controversy over the security risk firing of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer as an AEC consultant.

He said the AEC thought its security program "was fair. . . but in spite of this some people feel an injustice is occasionally done."

The meeting, starting Monday, will last two or three days.

To Sift Fiscal Policy in Inflation of Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex) declared today government fiscal policies will get a close look in connection with what he termed the "accelerated inflation of stock prices."

Patman, a member of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said he will go into the stock "inflation" matter as a committee member or as chairman of a subcommittee he expects to head on general credit control and debt management.

The full committee is expected to start hearing government witnesses Jan. 21, the day after President Eisenhower sends his economic report to Congress. Other members have said the group will look into the surge of stock prices.

Pontiac City Affairs

Officials Accept Reports From Plan Commission

Only two of four reports from the City Plan Commission were accepted by the City Commission last night.

One of the other two was tabled until the commissioners get a chance to view the property in question, while the other was referred back to the plan group for further study.

The Commission concurred with a report approving rezoning to commercial 1 classification the west side of Baldwin avenue from Merrimac street to a point 200 feet south.

The same action was taken on the report denying a request to rezone to commercial 1 property at 448 Auburn Ave.

Unsatisfied with a negative report on a request to rezone to commercial 1 property at 56-58 Bagley St, which has bounced back and forth four times, the commission tabled action on it until the property is seen first hand.

Referred back was a report denying a request for vacating the alley east of Stanley avenue, between Sheffield and the Belt Line Railroad.

In other action, the Commission heard reports from the city attorney on a lease with Gordon Air Service for hangar space at Pontiac Municipal Airport and transfer of a restaurant concession lease at the field.

Both leases were approved.

A public hearing was held on intention to construct a water main along W. Columbia avenue and a resolution passed authorizing the city assessor to prepare a special assessment roll.

Tabled for a week was a food application filed by Arnold Capogna, of 157 Auburn Ave. The City Health Dept. had disapproved the licensing.

The director of finance was authorized to redeem $50,000 in bonds March 1. A total of $364,000 in bonded indebtedness will be paid off March 1.

The commission approved transfer of a tavern license from William and Gertrude Wall to Mary Ann Gabriel.

Approved was a plat for property on Kettering avenue.

A resolution was passed authorizing execution of a quit claim deed to Hugh C. Lee for four lots in Mount Clemens Hills subdivision.

Referred to the planning board was a communication from Harold Dudley requesting rezoning from residential 1 and 2 classification to manufacturing 1 property on the northwest side of Perry street at the intersection of Arlene street.

News in Brief

Norcliff Pumphrey, 52, of 150 Wessen St., was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday when he waived examination before Pontiac Judge Cecil McCallum on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was returned to the county jail when unable to furnish a $1,000 bond, pending arraignment Monday.

James Powell, 58, of 436 Branch St., was arrested by Pontiac Police yesterday on two traffic warrants, charging driving without an operator's license and failure to yield right of way.

Pontiac Police yesterday arrested Ausie Templeton, 24, of 45 Hibbard Court, for ignoring two traffic violations tickets which charge creating excessive noise and having a wrong address on his operator's license.

Business Notes

Pontiac Credit Bureau, Inc., shareholders will meet Jan. 24 at Hotel Waldron to elect directors and conduct a business meeting. The session is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m.

General Motors common and preferred stock holders numbered 487,874 during the fourth quarter of 1954, the firm reported today. This compares with 490,372 during the same period last year. Common share holders stood at 559,099 while preferred holders were totaled at 28,775.

The Pontiac agency's contribution of more than $1 million in business last year helped the Michigan Life Insurance Co., Detroit, record its greatest business growth in 27 years. The year's $38,000,000 increase boosted the firm's assets to more than $150,000,000. A convention, celebrating the boom year opened today at Detroit's Park Shelton Hotel. It will run through Saturday. Attending from the local agency are M. E. Daniels, R. E. Erickson and H. E. Curtis.

Or Maybe He Should Name It 'Snafu Law'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has discovered a new law of nature.

"I hope," he told the National Press Club yesterday, "it will be known as Strauss' law. It goes to the effect that 'if anything bad can happen, it probably will.' "

NOTICE

Public hearing—A public hearing will be held at the West Bloomfield Township Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Road, Thursday, January 20, 1955, at 8:30 p.m., regarding the question of changing the zoning for Sections 21 and 22, West Bloomfield Township, from Residential Zone 2 to Residential Zone 4, excepting the subdivision of Roma Park, and the area included in the Village of Orchard Lake. In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MABEL Farrell who passed away Jan. 12, 1953.
We do not forget, we love her too dearly;
For her memory to fade from our lives like a dream.
Or lips need not speak when our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.

MOTHER NATURE

And man, teamed up to make this home one of the real showplaces in this area. Setting high above the Shiawassee River and surrounded by towering Oak trees, is this very stately six room home and 35 acres of land. Near enough to Pontiac and yet far enough to have the quiet and restful living that only a country home can give you. Located in the village of Holly, one which we will be proud to show anytime. $29,500.

TWO FAMILY

Four room apartment down with a part bath for the owner; and a four room apartment up with full bath which is now rented for $80 a month. Clean gas heat in the full basement. Almost new siding on the outside of this home. A good investment for the income buyer. $1,750 down.

MORE PEOPLE

Go home than any other place, do you own one? Two bedroom home with nice living room and well arranged kitchen, full basement with plenty of space for the children to play in bad weather. Oil heat. Here is your chance to become a home owner with only $1,050 down.

WHY NOT?

There are a lot of people who do. You can buy a little chunk of this state you live in with only $850 down. There is a cute little three room home on this piece of property. Partly dug out for a basement and a two car garage here to protect your car from the weather. See this one.

Patricia Barry Has Daughter, 4

NEW YORK — Patricia Barry, star of the TV Daydrama, First Love, has no trouble understanding her role as Laurie James, a young woman who is a devoted and highly domestic wife. For in real life, Pat is just that, as well as a mother of a four-year-old daughter.

A passionate devotee of homemaking and all it means, Pat is engaged in writing a guide book for brides, in addition to redecorating her apartment. This means a great deal of sewing, painting and wall-papering, as she is adept at all of these and insists on doing them herself.

Before her marriage in 1950 to producer-director Philip Barry Jr., son of the late playwright, Pat was under contract to Columbia Pictures in Hollywood, where she made 18 movies including "Undercover Man" with Glenn Ford. But she was extremely unhappy during her three years on the West Coast, and when her studio sent her on location to New York to make "Tattooed Stranger" she decided to stay East.

During this time she met and married Barry and worked with him until the birth of their daughter Miranda Robin in 1951.

Barry then decided to run his own Palm Beach Theatre in Florida, and they remained south until early in 1953, when they dropped the venture and returned to New York. Philip took an assistant producer's assignment on a TV network, and Pat began a succession of roles in various television dramas.

She got wonderful notices in "Pink Elephant," a Broadway play which, however, was a "sort of popular flop." She had even less luck with her next starring vehicle, "The Paradise Question," which folded in Philadelphia, but again her reviews were excellent. She played the lead in "The Moon Is Blue" last year in summer stock, and recently returned from Ann Arbor, Mich., where she appeared in "The Crucible."

Pat was born Patricia White, Nov. 16, 1930 in Davenport, Iowa. Her father, Dr. Paul E. White, owns several Iowa clinics.

She attended Stevens College before going to Hollywood when she was 17.

Pat's favorite sport is tennis, but she has to play it indoors. Her fair complexion is the sort that "burns, freckles and peels miserably."

Maitland Welcomes Aeronautics Probe

LANSING (AP) — Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland said today he would "welcome" an investigation of the State Aeronautics Department, threatened with a probe in the midst of a dispute over allocation of federal funds for airport inprovements.

"We not only welcome a probe," Maitland said, "but we are very much in favor of all the people knowing the facts."

Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he would ask for an investigation of the department aimed at finding out why federal matching funds for certain Michigan communities were cut.

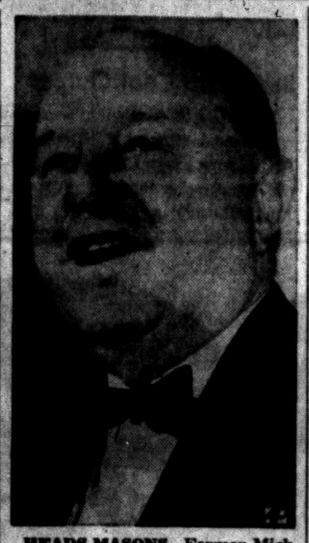

Maitland denied that the department had attempted to deprive any community of funds. He said the changes were made after the Civil Aeronautics Administration invited the department to provide a break-down of proposed allocations that would "best serve the aeronautical interests of Michigan."

Hunting Area Towns Start Deerlight Time

MILLINOCKET, Me. (UP)—This town and nearby Woodland, enthusiastic hunting centers, instituted "deerlight time" this fall.

"Deerlight time" was daylight saving time extended a month longer than in the rest of Maine.

Millinocket continued daylight time until Nov. 28 and Woodland until Dec. 1 so workers in their big paper mills would have more daylight hours after work to hunt deer.

HEADS MASONS—Former Michigan Supreme Court Justice George E. Bushnell (above) has retired to take a Boston job as sovereign grand commander of the Supreme Council, 33rd Degree, Scottish Rite Masons of the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction—the No. 1 office of Scottish Rite Masonry in the world.

Nixon Defended by GOP Chiefs

Four Midwestern State Leaders Slap Dems for 'Below-the-Belt Attacks'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican high command again defended Vice President Nixon against Democratic criticism today, issuing a statement in his praise signed by four GOP Midwestern state chairmen.

"We believe we speak for the vast majority of Americans who resent below-the-belt attacks currently being made upon the vice president," the statement said. said. "People in general are getting pretty sick of these pitiful cries of 'smear' which lack any trace of proof."

* * *

The statement, distributed by the GOP National Committee, bore the names of these four state party chairmen: Ray C. Bliss, Ohio; Alvin C. Cast, Indiana; Morton H. Hollingsworth, Illinois; and Don C. Pierson, Iowa.

All four were among the guests at a stag dinner given by President Eisenhower at the White House Monday night.

* * *

In what looked like a campaign by the GOP to counter the criticism, the four state chairmen said they wanted to thank Nixon publicly for his service to the party and the American people in the campaign.

"The Democrats engaged in these attacks would better, serve their country if they gave more time and attention to supporting President Eisenhower's legislative program and less to assaulting the character of the vice president."

Nurse's Slayer Ordered to Ionia

Committed as Criminal Sexual Psycopath Till Proved Cured

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Louis Maurice Smith, 19, confessed killer of a student nurse at Kalamazoo State Hospital, yesterday was declared a criminal sexual psychopath and committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

At a hearing in Kalamazoo County Circuit Court, Judge Raymond W. Fox ordered Smith confied at the hospital "until such time as he is proved not to be a danger to society."

Smith admitted the brutal rape-slaying of Marilyn Kraai, 21-year-old student nurse from Holland, who was in training at Mercy Hospital, Grand Rapids.

Miss Kraai was attacked Nov. 5 in a basement laboratory of the Kalamazoo hospital where she was undergoing special training. Police said Smith apparently lured the girl to the laboratory on the pretext of obtaining something he had left there. He was an inmate of the hospital at the time.

In ordering Smith confined, Judge Fox said he was acting on the recommendations of three court - appointed psychiatrists, Drs. Edwin M. Williamson, Kalamazoo, David B. Davis, Grand Rapids, and F. O. Meister, Battle Creek.

Smith's mother, testifying at the hearing, said he son had committed numerous sexual misdemeanors for two years prior to his confinement at the Kalamazoo hospital.

She said she and her husband, Harry, had taken him to a physician several times, but the doctor advised them that the youth would outgrow his criminal sex tendencies.

Farmer Drowns in Lake as Tractor Breaks Ice

HOUGHTON (AP) — One farmer was drowned and another was thrown clear yesterday when their tractor broke through three inches of ice as they were crossing Otter Lake, about 15 miles south of Houghton.

William Nimi, 28, who operates a farm near the lake, went down with the tractor in about 12 feet of water. His companion, Paul Myllyla, about 30, was thrown onto solid ice.

Sheriff Fred Paulson of Houghton County said the ice-covered lake apparently offered a shortcut between their two farms.

Name Medical Examiner

CADILLAC (AP) — The Wexford County Board of Supervisors Tuesday named Dr. Millard R. Posthuma as the county's chief medical examiner and appointed seven deputies under him. Wexford voters last November abolished the county coroner system. The new medical examiners will serve three-year terms and receive a fee of $10 a call plus travel expense.

Idaho Car Plate Violators to Get Refund on Fines

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Police here are asking motorists who paid fines or forfeited bonds because they didn't have their 1955 license plates on time to please come take their money back.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie requested last Saturday that arrests of motorists who missed the Jan. 1 deadline be stopped until Jan. 20.

* * *

The only trouble is that Smylie, who took office Jan. 3, made his request a week after the deadline. In that time, a lot of tickets had already been handed out.

The mayor of Boise, Idaho's capital city, has openly defied Smylie and ordered police to continue making arrests. But over most of the state, law officials are going along with the request, albeit reluctantly.

Pocatello is the only city to start refunding fines already levied. It announced the move Monday, but only a handful of refund-due motorists showed up to collect their money yesterday.

Foe of Mendes Is New French Assembly Chief

PARIS (AP)—Pierre Schneiter, a member of the opposition to Premier Pierre Mendes-France, is the new president of the French National Assembly. Though his election last night was considered a slap at the Premier, Communist voting tactics put him into office.

Schneiter defeated the incumbent Assembly president, Socialist Andre le Troquer, on the third ballot because the Communists withheld from Le Troquer the support they had given him a year ago. Instead, the Reds voted throughout for their party's elder statesman, 85-year-old Marcel Cachin.

* * *

The decisive vote was Schneiter 232, Le Troquer 188 and Cachin 86. Schneiter, 49-year-old former minister from the Champagne region, is a member of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), which has opposed the Premier since he refused to fight last summer for ratification of the European Defense Community.

His election, however, is not likely to affect the Premier's legislative program. The Assembly president is a neutral officer who does not even take part in voting.

1954 Liquor Sales Down 2 Per Cent

LANSING (AP) — Michigan liquor sales for 1954 were about 2 per cent less than 1953 sales, the State Liquor Control Commission said today.

Frank Blackford, chairman of the commission, said 3,817,261 cases were sold in 1954, a drop of 2.29 per cent from the 1954 total of 3,906,882.

Blackford attributed the decline to unemployment and a general tightening of economic conditions.

He said December 1954 sales totaled 577,589, an increase of 3.41 per cent over the December 1953 total of 558,564 cases.

Sales picked up last December, he said, because more decanters were on the market, distilleries stepped up their advertising campaigns, and many people bought liquor in preference to more expensive gifts.

To Vote on Building

PETOSKEY (AP)—Emmet County residents will vote April 4 on whether to build a $350,000 combination courthouse, jail and sheriff's quarters here. A proposal to raise tax levies one mill for the next 10 years would bring an estimated $35,000 annually to the building fund.

Revolt of Lepers on Island Colony Quelled by Police

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Police have quelled a revolt by 300 inmates of the Chacachacare Island leper colony, but the patients are on a sitdown strike protesting the removal of the doctor who gave them a Christmas holiday in Trinidad.

The police took over the 151-acre islet, 13 miles west of here, yesterday after the inmats sized control in an effort to prevent the removal of Dr. Michael Corcos, superintendent of the settlement.

* * *

Corcos was returned to the mainland last night by a police launch and Dr. Young Lao was put in charge. Trinidad officials said Corcos is on "compulsory leave" pending an answer from the British goverment to their request that he be fired.

The Trinidad government wants Corcos ousted because he let the patients come to the mainland during Christmas despite a protest from the governor of the British colony. The colony's inmates issued an ultimatum, "Dr. Corcos or nobody," and took over. The Sisters of Mercy, from Baltimore, Md., who care for the patients, appealed for police help.

3 Fathers Fined in Curfew Case

Minister and 2 Others Convicted of Allowing Kids to Disobey Law

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Three fathers—a minister, a toolmaker and a wallpaper cleaner—were convicted yesterday of permitting their children under 16 to violate this city's 10 p.m. curfew.

Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien upheld constitutionality of the curfew ordinance in fining all three fathers, two of them $50 and the other $10.

* * *

The Rev. William Landers, a Pentecostal minister, and Louis Karnes, the wallpaper cleaner, drew top fines because Judge O'Brien said he was convinced they had been "something less than forthright" in their testimony. Toolmaker Jesse R. Nodine, the judge held, had been "frank and honest."

The ordinance requires parents to control their children and force them to obey the curfew.

* * *

Nodine's 15-year-old daughter, 14-year-old son and 13-year-old nephew, with Landers' son and Karnes' son, both 15, were arrested last June. Police said they chased them up to 100 miles an hour in a stolen car.

About 21,000 Americans are killed by accidental falls each year, and one-half the victims are 75 or more years old.

$1 Minimum Wage Floor Said Favored by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) said today he is "sure" the Senate would favor boosting the minimum wage to $1 an hour "if it comes to a vote."

Ives said in an interview: "I would say that a $1 minimum has a real chance in this Congress, although there is likely to be some heavy opposition from some Southern states."

Sen. Hill (D-Ala), prospective chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, which will take up President Eisenhower's recommendation to raise the 75-cent pay floor to 90 cents, said in a separate interview he would not "rule out" congressional approval of a $1 minimum.

Reports Climb in Chicken Pox

County Health Dept. Also Records Mumps on Increase List

Chicken pox cases in the county more than doubled last week and almost five times as many cases were reported in Pontiac.

The Oakland County Department of Health reported in a weekly summary that 166 cases were reported, as compared with 78 the previous week. Pontiac, which reported 11 the previous week, had 53 new cases last week.

The department also said mumps rose from 62 cases the previous week to 110 in the county. Only two were reported in Pontiac, as compared with the previous four. Scarlet fever also doubled from five to 10 cases.

The report by the department follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Dec. 31, '54	Jan. 9, '55
Chicken pox	166	78	45
Measles	6	2	243

Whooping cough	1	4	6
Mumps	110	62	53
Rubella	2	0	0
Diarrhea	2	7	3
Influenza	4	0	1

The city's report, prepared by Dr. John D. Monroe, acting director of public health, follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Dec. 31, '54	Jan. 2, '55
Chicken pox	53	11	2
Measles	1	1	0
Mumps	2	4	0
Scarlet fever	4	0	2
Syphilis	1	0	1
Tuberculosis	0	0	1
Whooping cough	0	1	2

Slayer Electrocuted for Holdup Shootings

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Visibly frightened, 45 - year - old Eugene Monahan went to his death in the electric chair last night for the tavern slayings of a bartender and a patron.

Monahan, who had trained his teen-age son as an accomplice in a wave of robberies, was electrocuated for the fatal shootings which took place during a $53 holdup of the tavern in Elizabeth last year.

His son Michael was with him during the holdup, but trial testimony brought out that the father had fired the fatal shots. Young Monahan, now 16, is serving an indefinite term in a state reformatory.

British Up Coal Output

LONDON (AP) — Britain's state - owned coal mines turned out 223,802,300 tons of coal last year—283,000 tons more than in 1953, the Fuel Ministry said today.

U.S. Is Under Table in Milk Consumption

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—With all this recent talk that Frenchmen should drink more milk and less wine, you may be surprised at the figures reported by Oregon State College dairy experts.

They said yesterday the Frenchmen already consume more milk and milk products than Americans.

The per capita consumption was 703 pounds in France in 1953, compared with 682 pounds in the United States, the college reported.

In fact, 11 other countries led the United States in per capita use of milk. Ireland and New Zealand headed the list with 1,382 and 1,349 pounds, respectively.
