July 4 Throng to Top Million

DOG GONE COOL, MAN—Jingles plays it cool, setting an example for the thousands who will flock to Oakland County's numerous lakes to escape what promises to be a hot July 4 weekend. Only Jingles is taking his dip in his master's pool in the backyard. "Who me fight the traffic?" he seems to say.

Oakland County's lakes and recreation areas will welcome well over a million persons arriving here to escape what promises to be a hot July 4 weekend starting today.

Many others will be passing through on the area's highways headed north.

The amazing thing is that nobody has to get hurt, according to safety experts (those people who keep track of such things as the fatality count and what causes accidents.)

Most of the stores and business offices in Pontiac will be closed all day Tuesday for the July Fourth holiday but will remain open during the normal hours on Monday.

Banks, the post office, and county buildings will also follow this schedule.

The heat wave will be their biggest enemy.

Meanwhile "Bring 'Em Back Alive" is the advice of AAA posters appearing in gas station windows and elsewhere.

Aiding drivers in this effort locally will be every available state police and sheriff's department patrol car on maximum traffic duty between now and Tuesday.

All state police passes have been canceled during this period and, in addition, 200 National guardsmen have been assigned to work with the police.

The most hazardous traffic of the long weekend is expected to-

Kennedy Studies Berlin Threat

Consider Beefing NATO

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration was reported today to be considering the dispatch of additional U. S. troops to Europe as a means of reinforcing North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses in preparation for meeting the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

Administration leaders are understood to believe that such action would not only build up Allied military strength, but might also serve to convince Soviet Premier Khrushchev that President Kennedy is determined to protect the Western position in West Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared in a television interview Thursday night that it is important to make clear to the Soviet leadership that the United States and its allies will stand firm on their Berlin rights.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Rusk sounded a parallel peaceful theme, saying there will be Berlin discussions between the West and Russia and pledging that the United States will explore every possibility for "a tolerable peace."

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany met here today to put the finishing touches on a polite but very firm note rejecting Khrushchev's scheme to force the West out of Berlin.

The note, which is the U. S. reply to a memo Khrushchev presented at Vienna, is expected to be delivered to the Kremlin in about a week.

After approval by Britain, France and West Germany, it will be explained to other NATO countries.

MEET IN SECRET

President Kennedy met with the National Security Council for two hours and 40 minutes Thursday on the Berlin crisis. He and his chief military and diplomatic advisers discussed measures for dealing with the Soviet threat to Berlin.

The meeting was held in complete secrecy and the White House would not even disclose the participants.

Thursday night, press secretary Pierre Salinger said that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating the disclosure of defense secrets at the Pentagon.

Other informants said this investigation dealt with a reported program of action for dealing with the Berlin crisis which was prepared for presidential consideration by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Kennedy was represented as feeling the published version was so accurate as to require an investigation on the assumption that

School Operating Budget Over $9 Million Gets OK

The Pontiac Board of Education has approved a record final operating budget of $9,450,462 for the 1961-62 school year.

Approval came at the board's meeting last night.

The budget is $494,809 higher than the record 1960-61 budget and some $150,000 above preliminary budget estimates presented in February.

Tentative budget appropriations were adjusted upward in all areas except administrative costs. The tentative administration appropriation of $211,440 was cut $842.

The biggest increase is in the area of instruction, where the estimated outlay was increased more than $117,000, from the original $6,643,542 to $6,761,436.

"The operating budget is designed to keep the school district running at the same relative level it has for the past year," said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. "It reflects a rise in operational costs as well as costs resulting from quality increases.

It will be financed by a 19.50-mill tax rate approved by the board June 1. Last year's school tax rate was 18.98.

"The rate increase was needed because the equalization factor went down this year. Actually, the taxpayer's bill will be the same this year unless the local assessment on his property went up," Whitmer explained.

Board members voted an increase of $12,834 in appropriations for library books. This upped the total book outlay to $49,421.

FOR 2 PSYCHOLOGISTS

An additional $10,350 was also appropriated for salary and office equipment for two psychologists to be added to the service staff.

A large portion of the total $150,000 increase over preliminary figures is due to wage and salary schedules being set at figures higher than the original estimate.

Teachers' salaries, including a cost-of-living increase, were about $60,000 above what had been estimated.

Personnel changes also affected the final budget.

Several new positions have been added since the Feb. 23 tentative budget and other areas, such as secretarial and clerical classifications, have been revamped.

No Sign of Reported Iraqi Troop Massing

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today reports from Baghdad indicated that Iraq is preparing its Army for an attack on Kuwait.

But there were no signs of massing of troops on the Iraq-Kuwait border, and travelers reported all was quiet there.

Unconfirmed reports that Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem would launch an attack Saturday, coupled with the announcement in London that British warships are steaming toward the Persian Gulf to protect Kuwait, raised fears that the Mideast is heading for its gravest crisis in three years.

At least two British aircraft carriers, four frigates, landing craft and marines were reported heading for the area. They sailed as Iraqi and Kuwaiti troops and armor rumbled up to the opposing sides of their common frontier.

The crisis, worst in the Middle East since U.S Marines landed in Lebanon in 1958, began Sunday when Iraqi Premier Karim Kassem announced that newly independent Kuwait was part of Iraq.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Kuwait has applied for membership in the United Nations, it was announced today. A U.N. spokesman said Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold received a cablegram indicating an informal application and saying the formal bid would follow.

Gas Tank Blast Kills Youth, 17

Detroit Boy Helping Father at Gravel Pit in White Lake Twp.

A 17-year-old Detroit boy was killed in a gas-tank explosion in White Lake Township this morning.

James E. Wilson Jr. of 3871 Belvedere, died in his father's arms shortly after the explosion at 9:30 a. m. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital by deputy coroner Dr. John A. Harrold at 10:20.

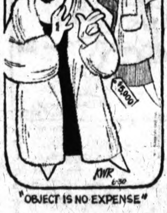
"He was just married a month ago," said his grief stricken father, James E. Wilson Sr. The victim was his only son.

Wilson, owner of the J. E. Wilson Salvage Co. of Detroit, and his son had gone to Richard's Gravel Pit about a mile north of Union Lake Village on Union Lake Road to salvage some large underground gas tanks, the type used at gas stations.

Wilson was cutting one end off a tank with an acetylene torch. Sheriff's deputy Robert Newman said the tank was empty but "fumes had evidently accumulated in it."

"The other end blew off. The boy was standing about 20 feet from it and the blast knocked him about five feet into the front seat of his father's truck," Newman said.

Wilson rushed his son to a gas station in Union Lake Village where an ambulance was summoned. He was treated for shock and lacerations of one arm.



"OBJECT IS NO EXPENSE"

Pact May Lead to Settlement of 2-Week Dispute

4-Year Contract With Immediate Pay Hike Gained by NMU

NEW YORK (AP)—A "conditional" agreement between the National Maritime Union and two shipping groups was announced today. It could pave the way for an end of the two-week-old nationwide maritime strike.

Called for in the agreement is a four-year contract with an immediate four per cent wage increase and increases of 2¼ per cent in the second, third and fourth years. Able-bodied seamen have been getting a basic wage of $369 a month. In addition, they receive $2.28 an hour for overtime work.

★ ★ ★

Under the agreement the controversial question of unionizing the foreign flag vessels owned by American owners would be referred to a fact-finding committee.

David L. Cole, chairman of President Kennedy's fact-finding board, announced the conditional agreement between the National Maritime Union and the American Merchant Marine Institute and the Tanker Labor Committee.

The agreement would go into effect, he said, if a similar agreement was reached with the Masters, Mates and Pilots and the American Radio Association.

★ ★ ★

Other benefits gained by the seamen were:

Equalization of vacations with officer personnel. Seamen now getting a 30-day annual vacation would get 60 days as officers do.

ALLOWANCES

Operators will increase their contributions by 50 cents per man per day to the present pension and welfare funds. It also was agreed that $1 would be given to the pension and welfare system for officer personnel in order to equalize those contributions.

★ ★ ★

Seamen will receive allowances for food, lodging and transportation to bring them up to officers' allowances.

It was agreed that certain NMU demands for changes in working rules would be placed before a union-management committee. Any unsolved demands would go to building arbitration.

Cole said he did not know what the entire cost of the tentative contract would be. He said it undoubtedly would have an "impact" on the government's subsidy program.

Tommy Aaron, former amateur star and now a touring pro, held second place at 142 after shooting his second straight 71.

Country Saved by the U.N.

Infant Congo Nation One Year Old

From Our News Wires

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo —The Congo celebrated the first anniversary of its independence today with a snappy military parade watched by 50,000 persons in a holiday mood far from the terror and violence that marked the first year of freedom.

Thus, after a year of the most chaotic situation it has had to face, the United Nations appeared to have saved the Congo in what Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called "the biggest single effort" of the world organization.

Nineteen thousand men from 15 countries stand guard as the U.N. Force which has prevented open civil war among at least four factions in the Congo.

Patient diplomacy has brought political leaders to the verge of sitting down together again in a parliament suspended by military necessity for almost a year.

A massive civil technical assistance program is under way to give the country a stable economy and a sound administration.

* * *

Emergency efforts by the United Nations and its specialized agencies have averted famine and prevented pestilence in a wide area of the country.

President Joseph Kasavubu, wearing a light brown general's uniform, took the salute from a raised and beflagged dais at the Place Bracconier today as the smartly marching units swung down the broad Boulevard Albert, Leopoldville's main avenue.

Clouds of political uncertainty blew in from the problem province of Katanga, but Congolese in this white-washed capital seemed determined not to let these mar the fun.

* * *

Four days of celebration in the troubled infant nation got under way Thursday with a football game. Other highlights are a competition to select Miss Leopoldville of 1961 and a round of diplomatic receptions.

* * *

Kasavubu was flanked by members of the central Congolese government, the diplomatic corps and United Nations officials as the 5,000 sharply-dressed troops passed in review.

* * *

The uniforms they wore are the pride of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army commander.

They were designed and manufactured by an American of Greek extraction, Maurice Alhadeff, who has lived in this tropical land for 30 years.

Moise Tshombe, Katanga President, at odds politically with the Leopoldville regime but of late an avowed admirer of Mobutu, sent a contingent of 75 gendarmes to take part in the parade.

Kasavubu in the major speech of the day was expected to announce the date for calling the republic's parliament into the first session since it broke up in turmoil last September after the ouster of Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The Soviet Union honored the Congo's first anniversary with a new attack on the "machinery of the United Nations" and particularly on Hammarskjold.

Ball Bats Used by Negro Gang

Breaks Up Game, Puts Four White Men in Kansas Hospital

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two carloads of Negro youths, some of them carrying baseball bats, broke up a practice game between two white teams on a public diamond Thursday night.

Four white men were hospitalized. One of them, Charles Rollins, 36, was knocked unconscious. He and McPherson A. Horner, 57, were in serious condition.

* * *

Also injured were Phillip Davis, 44, and John Core III, 18. Davis' condition was good. Core was treated and released.

Two Negro youths had interrupted the game earlier by pulling a light switch and were chased away.

* * *

They returned with friends. When Rollins remonstrated the intruders started swinging at bystanders and players alike with the bats.

By the time police arrived the youths had fled.

BRACE FOR HOLIDAY TRAFFIC — Local police authorities will take every step possible to make the oncoming holiday weekend a safe one on Oakland County's lakes and highways. The rest is up to you, they said. Coordinating plans for maximum patrol between now and Tuesday are, from left, Undersheriff Don Francis and Sgt. Holiday Drivers Get Advice From Veterans of the Road

"Of course whisky's the biggest cause of accidents, but no use telling 'em that . . . They won't listen."

The words were spoken by a Pontiac truck driver with more than 30 years experience on highways. He was asked what he thought would be the best traffic advice for the coming holiday weekend.

"Tell them not to 'overdrive' —where your eyes are open but your mind is blank," advised Frank Johns, 58. Johns has logged countless millions of miles over the country's roads and highways behind the wheel of a huge rig.

His words of experience were echoed by other veteran drivers who recalled the highway tragedies they have seen.

You have to watch yourself as well as the other driver, and if you get tired stop," another driver volunteered.

"And don't try too long a trip in too short a time," advised Bruce Thompson, 55, who has been driving trucks since 1925.

DRIVERS CRABBY

"You see 'em in the restaurant taking a quick stop — hardly time to eat," he said. "They're crabby, short-tempered and belligerent toward other drivers. If they'd stay cool they wouldn't be so likely to have or cause an accident.

* * *

"If some guy in a hurry comes tearing up, let him in — he may be on his way to an accident — his own."

The truck drivers had other bits of advice:

Drive at a controlled speed, that is, a speed at which you can easily control the vehicle.

Don't "tailgate" (drive too close behind the vehicle ahead.)

Slow up in plenty of time.

* * *

Keep your speed constant with others on the highway, not too fast and not too slow. That way you won't obstruct traffic and be a hazard.

And by all means BE ALERT!

"A good truck driver with their experience is worth listening to," said Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac state police post, "I hope people will listen to them.

* * *

"They get used to hearing the same thing from a policeman to the point where they don't listen anymore — and they are dead."

Henry Charged With Contempt

Flint Judge to Arraign Pontiac Lawyer Today; Jail Term Possible

Pontiac City Commissioner Milton R. Henry was held by Genesee County authorities today for an appearance in Flint Municipal Court on charges of contempt.

* * *

Flint Municipal Judge Donald Freeman said he would arraign the Pontiac lawyer this afternoon. A jail term is possible.

Henry's arrest came as a result of a noisy session in Judge Freeman's courtroom Wednesday. Some 41 persons were on trial for frequenting a Flint gambling house and Henry was present, representing a number of the defendants.

Judge Freeman said Henry was cited for "loudness, antagonism, failure to comply with court orders and a calculated attempt to arouse his clients to riot in the courtroom."

* * *

Judge Freeman said he had Henry ejected from the courtroom twice, the second time after the Pontiac lawyer had reentered "without the court's permission."

* * *

Judge Freeman issued the contempt citation against Henry yesterday. He said that he was told the State Supreme Court yesterday declined to intervene in the matter at Henry's request.

The secretary at Henry's Pontiac law offices said yesterday and again this morning that the attorney was not available for comment.

Soviet Spy Abel, U2 Pilot Powers May Be Traded

NEW YORK (UPI) — Negotiations are under way to exchange convicted Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, the New York World Telegram said today.

The Scripps - Howard newspaper said informed sources reported that one of the conditions holding back the proposed swap was that the Russians wanted the two prisoners released to a neutral country where they would be granted "political asylum."

"This would allow the Soviets to continue the fiction that Abel was not their man in New York," the dispatch said.

The trade was first proposed a year ago by Oliver W. Powers, father of the American airman who was downed over Russia May 1, 1960, and subsequently was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Bank Is Buying School Bonds

Community National Is Only Bidder on Pontiac's $500,000 Issue

Community National Bank was the lone bidder for the purchase of $500,000 worth of Pontiac School District bonds at Thursday night's final school board meeting of the 1960-61 school year.

* * *

Bids were scheduled to be opened at 8 last night. The $500,000 issue will be used to finance school construction, much of which is already near completion.

The bank's bid calls for an interest rate of 1 per cent per annum at par value plus accrued interest to date of delivery.

Although the bonds don't mature for 30 years, the board plans to recall the entire issue within a year.

* * *

The money will finance additions at Emerson and Alcott schools, kitchens at Whitfield and Webster and additions at Jefferson Junior High School.

Most of the construction covered by the bond issue is scheduled to be finished in time for use this fall.

The notification was given by Walter P. Reuther at a news conference today, minutes before the UAW president opened the union's bargaining on a new contract at Chrysler.

Reuther came to Chrysler from General Motors and Ford where he opened new contract negotiations on successive days. At Ford Thursday he declared the pacts with the industry must break new ground and develop new concepts.

In asserting Chrysler could expect no concessions, Reuther said "the problems in Chrysler are those over which labor unions have no control, they are purely managerial in character," and he added later the corporation could not expect UAW worker-members to "subsidize management deficiencies."

Chrysler lost $21.9 million in this year's first quarter and some financial sources estimate it also lost money in the second quarter ending today.

Reuther told newsmen that Chrysler "is not as financially embarrassed as you might think," saying that it had paid out of profits 97 per cent of its $411-million plant expansion since 1947."

"It doesn't need to plow back into expansion anymore," Reuther said.

In insisting the Union would not grant concessions to Chrysler Reuther said that Chrysler President L. L. Colbert's "salary is not below scale," averaging $331,000 a year or 66 times that of a Chrysler production worker.

Seven doctors were in attendance during surgery, including Marilyn's personal physician who had flown in from California.

Under sedation, the movie queen was wheled into her private room where her ex-husband, former baseball great Joe DiMaggio waited.

YMCA Drive Near Goal of $650,000

The Pontiac YMCA fund-raising drive for $650,000 to improve and expand facilities has reached the $611,100 mark.

In a progress report to the board of directors and campaign division leaders, Robert M. Critchfield, general chairman of the campaign, expressed confidence that the $38,900 needed for the success of the drive would be raised.

Critchfield said a number of "unworked prospect cards" have been reassigned. "Once they're in, we have every reason to believe the goal will be reached," he said.

The local artists displaying their works are Dan Radin and Zolton Sepeshy of Bloomfield Hills and Clifton McChesney of Birmingham.

* * *

Over Million to Visit Area During Holidays

day, tomorrow and Tuesday and between 3 and 9 p.m.

Calculations are based on last year's July 4 weekend when 16 died of traffic accidents in Michigan.

DEATH RATE LOWER

"Actually statistics show holiday weekends are safer than normal weekends," noted Jerry Fisher, touring manager of the Michigan Auto Club. "The death rate on holidays are down from 30 to 50 per cent when figured on the total miles driven."

He estimated that 500,000 cars with about 1,750,000 persons will be abroad on Oakland County's roads between now and Tuesday. Altogether 3 million cars are expected to be on the move throughout the state in this period.

"But there's no reason for the driver to be afraid," said Fisher, "Our highways can accommodate easily this many."

Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the state safety commission, said "We are more concerned over the possible increase in water fatalities."

Fifty-eight people already have died in water accidents this year, Hare said.

* * *

Oakland County doesn't share in the alarming increase due largely to a well-organized water patrol on the area's 423 lakes.

OUT IN FORCE

"We'll be doing our utmost to maintain order and safety on the water this weekend," noted Sheriff's Deputy Donald Kratt who heads the water patrol.

Everyone of the patrol's boats will be on the job from now through Tuesday, he said.

Possibility of thundershowers will keep the men especially alert for those venturing out on the lakes at the wrong time.

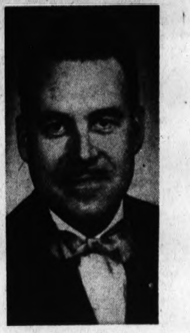
"Celebrate your holiday safely and sanely," urged State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Moderation in weekend activities is especially important when it involves recreation on or near the water, he added.

Proper planning, moderation and constant alertness can help Michigan residents achieve the "Bring 'Em Back Alive" goal, officials agreed.

* * *

They advised motorists not to drive if tired or have been drinking and to drive courteously with regard for the rights of others.



ELDON ROSEGART

Re-Elect Prexy of School Board

Eldon Rosegart First Since Jayno Adams to Retain Waterford Post

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night re-elected Eldon Rosegart president. He is the first person to have been re-elected president of the school board since Jayno Adams held office many years ago.

* * *

He lives with his wife and children at 3007 Lansdowne St., Drayton Plains and is a member of the Michigan State Fair Commission.

Others elected were Mrs. Dorothy B. Barningham of 2658 W. Huron St., who was re-elected secretary; Robert Field, of 147 Avery St., treasurer, and Edmund L. Windeler, chaplain.

* * *

In other business the school board awarded more than $100,000 in contracts on equipment for the two new elementary and senior high schools now under construction.

The two largest single items were a $15,500 machine for the machine shop and $10,650 in physics classrom equipment.

* * *

The board approved a recommendation from the personnel committee that all salaries of custodial, maintenance and engineering personnel will remain the same, but personnel will receive an additional $60 annual payment for Blue Cross Insurance which will be prorated monthly.

* * *

Contracts were awarded to ten new teachers for the next school year. Athletic coaches in the junior and senior high schools were shifted to various positions. This project has not been completed, however.

FBI Agents Learn to Act Fast After Stroll in Hogan's Alley

By PAUL MUSE
Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)— Every new agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation takes a walk down Hogan's Alley.

It's pretty much like many streets, with a drug store, barber shop, cafe, garage, rooming house hotel and other business places.

But danger lurks on Hogan's Alley for trainees at the National FBI Academy.

Here the trainee comes face to face with what Special Agent Henry L. Sloan, academy director, described as "the hardest part of the gun battle—the split second when he becomes the judge, jury and the executioner."

Within a fraction of a second, the trainee must decide whether to shoot or hold his fire in a given situation.

FEARSOME FOUR

Among Hogan's Alley inhabitants are four of the most desperate criminals of yesteryear—John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson, Al Brady and Pretty Boy Floyd.

Their paste-up, life-sized images appear suddenly in doorways or windows as the trainee walks down the make-believe block. But so do figures representing innocent bystanders, fellow agents or youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Before venturing into Hogan's Alley, trainees are shown facial photographs of the four "wanted" criminals. But they don't see the pop-up targets in advance and are not told what to expect.

At one point, Brady and Floyd appear simultaneously at two hotel windows. Both are armed, Brady with a shotgun and Floyd with a revolver.

In a split-second, the trainee must identify both men, then fire first at Brady, since his is the most dangerous short-range weapon. His second shot must reach Floyd before Floyd squeezes the trigger.

FELLOW AGENT

Further on, a man appears in a doorway with a submachine gun in his hands. This is one of the favorite weapons of the gangster, but the trainee must quickly notice a badge on the man's lapel indicating he is a fellow FBI agent.

Encountered also is a man emerging from a hardware store with a shotgun. He happens to be a hunter. The trainee reacts properly: He draws and covers the man, orders him to drop the shotgun and identify himself.

★ ★ ★

A change of pace meets the agent when a child appears at one doorway, a gun in hand. It was one of the wanted criminal's weapons, and the boy happened to pick it up out of curiosity. After a quick assessment, the trainee removes the child from the danger zone.

Eleven emergencies confront the trainee in his one-block walk down Hogan's Alley. He is given two seconds, at the most, to reach a decision and take action on each.

No one knows just how Hogan's Alley got its unofficial name. Officially, it is known as the surprise target course and was a result of studies of hundreds of police gun battles over the years.

It is one of seven ranges which must be mastered by academy trainees and on which the FBI's 5,800 agents undergo periodic training.

The people of the U.S. and Canada spent $1.719 billion in 1960 for heir daily and Sunday newspapers, an average of over $33 million per week . . . $143.3 million per month.

Buys Cadillac Protesting Pay for Idle Land

BIG FLATS, N.Y. (AP)—Farmer William T. Smith hopes taxpayers grow angry at his new $6,100 Cadillac. To make sure, he placed this sign on the car: "We bought this car with money we received for not growing corn."

That's the way Smith is protesting the federal government's crop control program. Paying taxpayers' money to farmers to keep land out of production is not "morally right," Smith says.

Smith, owner of a 1,200-acre dairy and poultry farm in south-central New York state, has received $3,049 so far and is to get another $3,450 for keeping 104 acres out of production.

The payment is under President Kennedy's one-year volunteer program designed to cut production of corn and sorghum, thereby reducing government storage of feed grains.

OK $1.6-Million Loan to Calvin College

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced Thursday the Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency has approved grant of a $1.6-million loan to Calvin College.

The money is to be used for development of the school's new Knollcrest campus in East Grand Rapids.

The funds will help pay for construction of a men's dormitory for 242 students, a women's dormitory for 242 and a dining hall for 500.

Upon completion of the units in 1962, the incoming freshman class of that year will be transferred to the new site.

State School Fund Gets Escheats Cash

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Escheats has transferred some $700,000 from the escheats fund to the state primary school fund. The transfer of the funds from property that has lapsed to state ownership was made by State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, chairman of the board.

The board expects the amount to triple next year, said Secretary Margaret L. Finn, because of a recent state Supreme Court decision giving the state the right to take unclaimed stock and dividends of the Continental Motors Corp. of Virginia.

Senators Will Hear of Misleading Labels

LANSING (AP) — J. L. Littlefield, head of the food and standards division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, was to testify in Washington, D. C., today before the Senate subcommittee on antitrusts and monopolies, the department said.

Littlefield was to inform the subcommittee of instances in Michigan in which foods have failed to meet "conspicuous labeling requirements," and in which labeling and advertising have been misleading.

"Walnut cookies have been found to contain artificial flavor but no walnut. We have found pineapple rolls with no pineapple," he said. "Then we have misleading quantity declarations by referring to a container as being 'big,' 'giant' or 'king size.'"

You Can Help Reduce Holiday Accident Toll

With our long Fourth of July weekend staring us in the face, let's stay off the highways unless we have some urgent traveling to do.

The overabundance of traffic on our already congested highways will make driving precarious at best. Many pleasure seekers will take to the roads for a ride, just to celebrate the Fourth.

With so many autos using our thoroughfares to transport holiday vacationers to and from their place of recreation, it seems advisable for others to remain home and help cut back on our normal heavy holiday accident toll.

To date in 1961 we have had 42 highway deaths in Oakland County. A little caution, and a few less cars cluttering up our highways would be a strong deterrent to not increase this number this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Time after time we have appealed to follow certain safety precautions in order to cut down on accidents. Everyone knows most of them by heart, so now we're appealing to stay off the highways, unless your trip is necessary.

A safe and sane Fourth of July is truly the only happy one.

Hoffa Is Being Endorsed for Teamster President

JAMES HOFFA appears to be riding a tidal wave that will carry him to another five-year term as the sole and undisputed ruler of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Beginning Monday, a special convention will be held in Miami Beach.

All indications are that Hoffa has all the support he needs. Recently, the Teamsters Joint Council of New York, official coordinating body for the 150,000 truck drivers and warehousemen in the metropolitan area, unanimously endorsed Hoffa for the president of the Nation's biggest and strongest union.

★ ★ ★

Other support for the Teamster boss and his hand picked slate of officers comes from Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, St. Louis and half a dozen other major cities.

Hoffa's three principal opponents in the 1957 election all have refused to run again. This is understandable since it was the convention four years ago that brought about the monitoring of the union by a court appointed trio charged with reforming the union while Hoffa chafed under the title of "provisional president."

★ ★ ★

It was charged that the convention in 1957 was rigged. This is past history and the monitors have been dismissed and a new election was sanctioned.

The mere fact that Federal charges hang over Hoffa should hardly alienate the union electorate. He was under indictment for wiretapping when he swept the first ballot in 1957.

But now perhaps he has other troubles. His arch foe through three years of investigations by the Senate (McCLELLAN) special committee on labor and management was its chief council, ROBERT F. KENNEDY.

★ ★ ★

Now KENNEDY is Attorney General and his brother is President.

A showdown may be in the making, with no holds barred.

Tornado Season Here; Heed Bureau Warnings

This traditionally is tornado season in a wide area, and this year is proving no exception.

Twisters have caused loss of life and injuries to hundreds, as well as property damage mounting in to the millions, in scattered areas, mainly in the central and southwestern part of the U.S.

★ ★ ★

For several years the United States Weather Bureau has experimented with a warning service in tornado country, but these meteorological freaks strike so suddenly and with such fury that its efforts have not been highly successful.

★ ★ ★

The best the weatherman can do is to warn that conditions are ripe for tornadoes in certain areas, but it is difficult to convince people that they or their property are in danger.

★ ★ ★

They figure the chances are 1,000 to 1 that the funnel shaped twister, if it comes, will pass them by. Pay attention to the warnings, it may well be the difference between life and death.

These hot humid days seem to breed tornadoes, so be alert and take precautions if the warnings are issued.

Somebody's Apt to Get Hurt—Badly!

David Lawrence Says:

JFK Stalls on Testing N-Weapons

WASHINGTON — It is amazing how confusing and inadequate some of the information can be that is given out in a presidential press conference.

All that the newspaper dispatches thus far have really told the American people is that President Kennedy has asked a special panel of scientists to find out for him whether the Russians can carry on underground testing of nuclear weapons without our knowledge.

LAWRENCE

But the truth is that the President's announcement is just a maneuver designed to allay for a while the clamor for a resumption of testing.

Indeed, the United States government knows, and has known for more than two years, that tests can be conducted underground without detection. Even above ground tests are never announced by the Soviets unless they have been detected by other countries.

The real question today is what the President is going to do about it, and whether he will authorize a resumption at least of underground tests, as has been demanded in recent months by public opinion and reflected by speeches by the members of both parties in Congress.

Kennedy's action, however, means more delay and more procrastination.

BYPASSES AEC

Another factor causing a raising of eyebrows in that the Atomic Energy Commission, which is supposed to be the center of the whole nuclear-research problem, isn't mentioned by the President as having any voice in the decisions he is about to make.

The record of what happened under the Eisenhower administration and the conditions under which it agreed to a voluntary suspension of testing of all kinds—above and below the ground—has perhaps not been studied carefully by President Kennedy.

Kennedy, in answering a reporter's question, conceded that the United States has no information on the subject of whether the Soviets have been testing and says what he really wants to know is "if it is possible that they could be testing without our knowing and what the chances are that that might be true."

But the answer to that question has already been furnished to Congress.

A Senate document of hearings on April 16 and 17, 1958, at which scientists testified, tells us that there had been one underground shot by the United States and that it occurred in Nevada. A seismic station in Alaska, which had been notified in advance of the exact time to expect it, picked up the signal of the blast.

The tape recording of that explosion shows that the "wiggles" were smaller than for some earthquakes and other disturbances, and that it would be impossible to differentiate as between underground-nuclear-test marks shown on the recording and those made by an earthquake or other disturbance, such as the winds against the cliffs in the Aleutian Islands.

There is an average of 200 earthquakes a year in the Soviet Union which make the same markings on a seismic tape as do large-scale explosions.

As a matter of fact, six months after the negotiations on the test ban began at Geneva, American experts had to admit to the Soviets that we had been wrong in our previous assumption that underground tests are detectable and could not be concealed.

Will some of these same experts now be asked to decide the all-important questions involving judgment rather than technical matters?

The United States has already made one mistake in voluntarily agreeing to a suspension of testing on the assumption that the Soviets would do likewise and that they could be checked upon to determine if there was any cheating.

In fact, the current negotiations were started entirely in that belief. Now the United States knows that underground tests can be concealed by any nation intent on doing so.

The Country Parson

"Parents who expect their children to be outstanding have overlooked the child's tendency to be like his parents."

Dr. William Brady Says:

With Salt and Ice Water, You Can Beat the Heat

June was a warm month. There were rumors of temperatures as high as 95 to 100 here and there, and these rumors demoralized most of the country so much that many citizens remained in the shade while some hardy souls exercized as usual — no casualties.

DR. BRADY

But it is only fair to say that a temperature of 87 or 90 is harder to endure in the Northeast than a temperature of 95 or 100 is in the Southwest, because "it isn't the heat, it's the humidity."

Perhaps the main reason very hot weather is harder to endure in the Northeast than in the Southwest is that sweat evaporates rapidly in dry air, slowly in humid air. Evaporation of water from the skin surface of a porous water bag cools water in the bag.

★ ★ ★

One who is at all active in hot weather naturally sweats profusely. This excessive sweating is obvious if the atmosphere is humid and scarcely noticeable if the atmosphere is dry. Walking, working, playing in very hot weather, one may lose pounds of weight in an hour or two — the weight of the water lost in sweat. The weight is restored in an equally short time by drinking water to satisfy thirst.

It is practically impossible and certainly unwise to attempt to maintain such weight reduction by restricting water intake.

When sweating is profuse, whether from hot weather or from vigorous exertion or both, it is well to remember that not only water but also salt and some vitamins — particularly the B vitamins — are lost in sweat.

Therefore one should take some salt, say five grains, with every pint of water or other liquid taken for refreshment. Also some B vitamins in addition to the B vitamins (usually inadequate) one gets in food.

In his book "Climate Makes the Man," Clarence A. Mills, M.D., urges the liberal use of (no cracks, please) alfalfa tea for this purpose.

At my favorite bowling green, there is a refrigerator and a supply of ice water. Out on the walk between the greens there is a drinking font.

In very hot weather, a drink from the font is, in my judgment, intolerable, when I know ice water is on tap just a few steps away.

But my preference for ice water is not shared by many — I'm not quite sure whether they fear ice water may cause some dreadful stroke or interfere with digestion or maybe close the pores.

Oddly enough, some of the men who will not take ice water do not hesitate to drop coins into the dispenser for ice cold pop! They seem to think that doctoring up ice water is healthful.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People:

Lists Problems Confronting Constitutional Convention

The most important issue confronting the constitutional convention will be the economic problems of wages, unemployment, migration of business to other states, slums and finding adequate government revenue sources. It is due to these problems that the electorate voted to revise our constitution. The details of governmental forms are all secondary. The best made systems of government will fail if the economic system is not based upon justice for all producers.

★ ★ ★

If we take the land rent fund which is attributable to the presence and economic activity of all the surrounding community and use it for public benefit, while at the same time leaving wages and interest in the hands of the producers, justice will have been served. When we pay the community what it is worth to occupy a valuable site, there would be very little pressure put upon government to provide either dole or jobs.

★ ★ ★

The jobless in Michigan are not going to be highly concerned as to whether the state legislature has one or two houses, etc. All they want is a chance to earn a living. And dividing the wealth is no solution, we must make more of it.

Prosperity is within our grasp if only we understand and act on the land question. To ignore this shall be fatal.

Carl F. Shaw

Drayton Plains

Says Judge Evaded the Real Issue

Judge John Rudd evaded the real issue when he sentenced 10 white and Negro clergymen from New York and New England $500 or 60 days for unlawful assembly. However, he also made a point when he told them, "Stop and think when you go back home and check the records of crime, prostitution and racial strife there compared to Tallahassee. Then clean up your own parishes and you'll find you have more than you can take care of."

It is claimed that there is only one boat rocker in ten million and without boat rockers the world would be a different place and a terrible one. As Judge Rudd no doubt found, they are awkward to have around, but in the end we could not live without them.

Blames World's Ills on Immature Adults

Most of the world's ills are caused by the immaturity, childish selfishness and "gimme, gimme, or I'll take" attitudes of its physically adult, but mentally infantile inhabitants.

Unless human beings grow up to their responsibilities and obligations, evil and corruption may well take over the earth and humans may very possibly destroy themselves, not slowly by pollution of air, food, and water as they are doing, but quickly and finally.

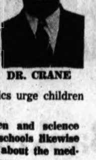
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Encourage Stupid Behavior

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-429: Henry H., aged 37, was recently installed as a new Superintendent of Schools.

"Dr. Crane," one of the parents protested, "Look at Henry's picture in the newspaper.



DR. CRANE

"He is holding a cigar in one hand while blowsmoke out of his mouth.

"Isn't that a disgraceful picture of a school official, especially when you medics urge children not to smoke?

"Our clergymen and science teachers in the schools likewise tell our children about the medical evils of tobacco.

"Yet this new Superintendent vitiates all that scientific counsel our teachers are giving our children. Do you approve of this picture?"

STUPID TEACHERS

No, I certainly do not approve of such a picture.

And that holds true not only of educators and clergy, who often let themselves be photographed prominently holding a pipe, cigar or cigarette in their hands.

But a lot of physicians, dentists and other scientists do the same thing and thus confuse children.

A cardinal rule of child rearing calls for "consistency." Dog trainers likewise know that you dare not confuse a puppy by changing the rules.

"Always reward the right; always penalize the wrong, and permit no exceptions to occur," is thus the basic rule of animal trainers. Children are simply little human animals, so that same law pertains to them.

★ ★ ★

Teachers, medics and clergymen thus place stumbling blocks before all children when they blatantly flaunt their own bad habits as by pictures in the newspapers or magazines or on TV.

We psychologists have repeatedly warned that even the notorious criminals should NEVER have a picture reproduced showing them laughing or smiling happily.

For that subtly creates the impression in a child's mind that crime is fun and pays off well in pleasure.

★ ★ ★

By the same subconscious route, the children rear back and think, even if they don't protest to their parents:

"The preacher smokes, so why tell me not to use cigarettes?"

"The teacher or athletic coach smokes (or drinks) so why tell me those things are bad?"

"Our doctor smokes (or drinks) and he is supposed to be a scientist so how can liquor and tobacco be evil?"

STICK TOGETHER

You educated men and women should stick together with the teachers of the next generation.

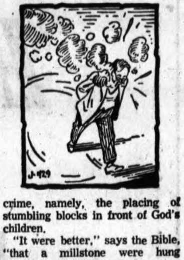
If you wish to indulge in bad habits, that is your legal privilege, but you are NOT supposed to flaunt your own wrong behavior before youngsters.

★ ★ ★

If you must err or break laws, do it in private and keep mum, instead of advertising your violation of such scientific rules.

For millions of good parents and Scout Leaders and Sunday school teachers are donating their time each week to help steer the behavior of children correctly.

If you other adults reverse all the sound moral and scientific education we try to give children, you are guilty of mankind's worst crime, namely, the placing of stumbling blocks in front of God's children.



"It were better," says the Bible, "that a millstone were hung around your neck and you were cast into the sea, than that you should cause one of my little ones to stumble."

Cuban Refugees at Sea 8 Days Bound for Miami

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI)—A disheveled group of 23 Cuban refugees was brought here Thursday, eight days after sneaking out of Cuba in a 24-foot sailing sloop.

* * *

The 12 children and 11 adults earlier had drifted in the Atlantic for five days, steering the ship by oar and hoping to land in Miami.

Dr. Justo Devarona of Camaguey, leader of the group, said the sloop's motor had fallen from the boat and later its rudder was broken.

* * *

The vessel was spotted by a pleasure cruiser Monday near Andros Island in the Bahamas and towed to nearby Pigeon Cay. The refugees were brought here Thursday by freighter.

JFK's Output Plan for Farms Doomed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee Thursday virtually sealed the doom of President Kennedy's controversial plan for setting up new farm production control machinery.

* * *

Some administration officials clung to the hope, however, that the plan to allow more extensive use of producer controls could be resurrected in the Senate.

* * *

The House committee killed a pared-down version of the administration proposal that would have allowed producers of a wide range of farm products to subject themselves to controls and marketing orders. Six Democrats joined 14 Republicans in the 20-15 vote against the compromise.

Rejects Appeal on Angola War

Salazar Turns Down U.N. Plea to End Fight, Criticizes U.S.

From Our News Wires

LISBON — Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar today bluntly rejected a United Nations appeal to stop fighting in Angola and criticized the United States for not supporting his attitude.

★ ★ ★

In a rare "report to the nation" before the national assembly, Salazar described the U.N. Security Council's "invitation to halt measures of suppression in Angola" as theatrical.

He said there was "not the slightest hope that it will be considered."

Salazar, 72, and longtime Portuguese government leader, said the U.N. appeal "gravely offends the rights of a sovereign nation."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, in India, Prime Minister Nehru suggested the United Nations vote economic sanctions against Portugal because of "the tremendous revulsion of feeling all over the world" to the situation in Angola.

Nehru said events in Angola "were almost beyond belief" and the United Nations might be forced by circumstances to some kind of action.

African rebels and Portuguese forces are now locked in a bitter war in the northern part of Portugal's big West African colony.

Both the U.N. Assembly and Security Council have condemned Portugal for repressive measures in Angola. Portugal has refused to admit a U.N. investigating committee to the territory.

ON MUD FLATS—The Polish freighter Polanica burns while stuck on a mud flat on the Camden, N.J., side of the Delaware River. Nuisance Taxes Expire Tonight

Death of Measures to Mean $50 Million Loss Annually to State

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's so-called nuisance taxes will expire at midnight tonight — at a $50 million annual loss to the state treasury.

★ ★ ★

Expiration of the taxes will fulfill an often-voiced but seldom-kept promise that taxes adopted on a temporary basis would not become permanent.

Little of the money is expected to wind up in the pockets of the consumer, however. Most industry spokesmen have indicated they will retain the tax savings to cover rising costs of doing business.

One tax saving that must be passed on to customers is the 4 per cent levy on telephone and telegraph services.

Liquor industry officials said the elimination of a similar tax on their products may be reflected in a slight reduction of consumer prices, and users of snuff and pipe tobacco probably will save some money.

★ ★ ★

Other taxes being lifted include a penny per package on cigarets, $1.25 per barrel of beer and one-mill on the corporation franchise levy.

One tax that is not being lifted is the 4 per cent use tax on rental charges for hotel and motel room accommodations.

In a reminder to operators, State Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said:

"There is some confusion in the hotel and motel industry over the application of the 4 per cent use tax on room accommodations after July 1. This tax is a permanent part of the tax structure."

Lock said the hotel-motel tax was adopted in 1959 several months before the nuisance tax package was signed into law in December 1959 on a temporary basis.

Judges Relief Cheaters on Amount Overpaid

LANSING (AP)—Welfare or relief applicants who misrepresent their resources are judged by the amount of money they got under false pretenses — not by the size of the misrepresentation, says Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

If the applicant bilks authorities out of more than $500 it's a felony. If the amount is less, it's a misdemeanor, Adams said in answer to a query from James B. Parker, chief assistant prosecutor of Hillsdale County.

Woman Lashes Packages, Labels Before Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A National Consumers League representative said today she gets "bothered" and "mad" every time she goes food shopping because of the packaging and labels.

Mrs. Sarah H. Newman, appearing before a Senate antitrust subcommittee investigating deceptive labeling and packaging, said every time she walks into a grocery store, she starts feeling "put upon and cheated."

Mrs. Newman, a member of the league's board of directors, said in prepared testimony the "so-called 'progressive and modern practices' in the market place" were in reality only "hazards and obstructions for the consumer."

"Such simple concepts as the pound and half pound have been thrown overboard," Mrs. Newman said, for net contents such as a 9¼-ounce can of tuna fish for 43 cents or two 6½-ounce cans for 63 cents.

Pontiac School News

Board Okays Hiring of Reading Specialist

Pontiac School Board members last night approved the hiring of Mrs. Doris B. Storer to the newly created position of reading development specialist.

Mrs. Storer is currently a staff member of the reading clinic at the University of Michigan. She holds a masters degree.

Working under Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education, she would develop a broad program of upgrading reading skills and abilities in elementary schools. The position pays $7,693 annually. She will assume her duties Aug. 21.

A new method of classifying secretarial and clerical employes and their salary schedule for the 1961-62 school year was approved last night.

★ ★ ★

The reclassification is the result of a two-year study by the administration and the Municipal Personnel Service of Ann Arbor.

Including newly added positions, the salary schedule represents a $6,000 increase over last year's appropriation for secretaries and clerks.

The new schedule will not reduce the salary of current employes below last year's level, but starting pay for new employes will in many cases be lower than last year.

RAISE OVERTIME PAY

Overtime pay will be increased from 130 to 140 per cent of the regular rate, but must be approved in advance by the superintendent.

Persons employed after July 1 in positions that require less than 52 weeks work annually, will not receive a paid vacation.

Several items concerning school district insurance coverage came up for approval last night.

Student accident and football insurance for 1961-62 will be placed with the Old Security Life Insurance Co., through Albert Knapp & Associates of Chicago. The local representative is Mosher Insurance Agency of Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

The same company carried the policies in the 1960-61 year.

Coverages and premiums offered by the company will remain the same for next year. Continuation of the insurance was recommended by Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management.

VEHICLE INSURANCE

Schiller also recommended that insurance for coverages on school district vehicles this year be awarded to the Nationwide Insurance Co.

Nationwide, with a bid of $1,950.40, was lowest among four firms bidding.

New junior and senior high students will again report to their schools a day early this year. The special orientation session was initiated last September.

★ ★ ★

New students will attend orientation Thursday, Sept. 7. All secondary students return to classes Sept. 8.

The board was notified that the final payment of state aid has been made, enabling the school district to meet its operating costs during July and August.

Therefore, the board voted to transfer $195,000 in the contingency fund to the building and site fund as has been done in past years.

★ ★ ★

The board also adopted a policy for professional leaves of absence for such things as conferences, institutes, conventions and other educational affairs.

The new policy provides that the superintendent may grant a leave of absence with pay when such a move will benefit the school district.

Such leaves will be limited to a maximum of one week, unless otherwise determined by the superintendent, and any remuneration received by the teacher for outside activity on school time, will be deducted from his salary.

Adams Suggests Con-Con Idea

Wants Legislature at Lansing One House on Population Basis

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — A one-house legislature with representatives elected on a population basis should be considered seriously at the forthcoming constitutional convention, says Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

Adams made the proposal at the convention of the Justices of the Peace Association in Charlevoix Thursday.

The attorney general has opposed a suit in U.S. Supreme Court by August (Gus) Scholle, president of the state AFL-CIO, who is seeking to force redistricting of the state Senate. He explained his opposition, saying:

"I feel that the people have the legal right to choose that form of democratic or representative government which they feel will serve them best, even though I might disagree with their coice."

If delegates to the convention to rewrite Michigan's basic charter are opposed to a unicameral legislature, he said, "I would urge the adoption of a mode of apportionment in the state Senate which would be based upon senatorial districts which are essentially equal in population."

Forest Fire Loss Down

LANSING (AP)— Less than 16 acres of forest burned in Michigan last week, the State Conservation Department says. It was the best week in forest fire control since February.

Tokyo Storm Leaves 234 Dead, 177 Missing

TOKYO (AP)—The sun shone today for the first time in nearly a week over central Japan as rescue workers dug feverishly to clear flooded areas of mud and debris from wrecked homes.

One of the worst storm disasters since the war left 234 Japanese dead, 177 missing and 280 injured, according to latest national police counts.

Is Guardian of Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Ann Sothern's sister, Manan Tetley, has won a court order naming her guardian of their ailing mother.

Old Soup-Spoon Line Giving Way to Factories

BOLZANO, Italy (UPI)—Fewer and fewer young men are wearing "soup spoons in their hats—they prefer to work in factories.

And the disappearance of this traditional symbol of the job seeker in the Alpine foothills is causing bad feelings among the German-speaking inhabitants in this Northern Italian area that once was part of the Austrian Tyrol.

In past years at the spring and fall markets held in the main towns — Bolzano, Merano, Brunico and Bressanone — young farm workers would gather on a special corner near the cattle and farm equipment displays.

To show they were looking for work they stuck soup spoons in their hats.

Farmers needing laborers looked the young men over, felt their biceps and offered the men of their choice a contract — food, lodging and a small salary in exchange for spring plowing, sowing or harvesting.

SOLID CONTRACT

If the workers accepted the offer they handed their spoons to the farmer — that was the contract, signed and sealed. And nobody ever broke his word.

But now more and more factories are springing up in the area and available farm labor is becoming scarce.

The factories, usually run by Italian companies with Italian capital — as distinct from local capital — offer benefits not yet available to farm help.

These include medical insurance, one month's extra pay per year—the famous 13th month — paid vacations and severance pay.

In addition many of these factories offer cut-price meals in their canteens and, in some cases, even accommodations at reduced rentals in blocks of apartments the factory owners construct.

And more important than all these — though they are important enough — there are higher wages and an eight-hour day.

The farmers, 90 per cent of whom are German speaking, cannot meet the competition and their resentment at losing their labor is one of the sore points in the local political situation.

Instead of being able to go away to college, the farmers' youngsters now have to stay at home and work.

* * *

And the tragedy for the farmers is that the offer of training in factories at full salary is attracting even their own children.

The irony of the situation was pointed up in an unconscious manner recently.

A steel mill in Bolzano started a workshop for the production of cutlery — including soup spoons.

Reds' E. German Peace Treaty to Follow '59 Draft

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — The peace treaty which Russia announced it will sign with East Germany by the end of the year would doubtless follow the basic lines of the draft treaty with Germany, proposed by the Soviet government Jan. 10, 1959.

* * *

That plan was submitted to the big three powers and all countries which fought Germany in World War II.

Moscow then proposed a peace conference between the 29 allied powers and Germany, represented either by a confederation of East and West Germany, or by two separate Germanys.

If the Allies did not agree, the Soviet Union said it would sign a peace treaty with East Germany with the participation of all other countries so willing — presumably the entire Communist bloc.

* * *

The major political territorial clauses of the draft treaty provided among other things, that:

—Germany would abandon the use of force for settling international problems,

—Germany would not enter into any military alliances directed against the allied powers.

Germany's frontiers would be those of Jan. 1, 1959 — the Oderniesse Line for Poland and Czechoslovakia.

—Germany would recognize those territories annexed by Poland and the Soviet Union (East Prussia);

—Germany would recognize Austria's neutrality and renounce any possible plans for annexing that country,

* * *

—Germany would seek no revenge against her conquerors, nor allow any "paramilitary" organizations.

STIPULATIONS

The military provisions include stipulations that:

—Germany could not possess or experiment with nuclear weapons,

—All foreign troops would be withdrawn within one year after the conclusion of the treaty, and foreign bases liquidated.

The economic clauses in the draft included the question of reparations to be fully settled.

The note accompanying the draft, and later statements by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko indicated the peace treaty with East Germany would declare the nullification of all rights claimed by virtue of the German capitulation, including Western rights to West Berlin.

* * *

All controls to access and exit to and from West Berlin would be handed over to the East German authorities, under the draft.

Western communications by air, water and land to West Berlin would have to be negotiated with East Germany, it said.

WON'T ABDICATE

Though the treaty would probably grant East Germany sovereign rights, the Soviet Union is not likely to abdicate to others the risks of precipitating a world war over a possible conflict over communication lines.

* * *

It is likely the treaty would contain appropriate safeguards.

The question of West Berlin remains negotiable and the Soviet Union is considered unlikely to take a unilateral action, even by the end of this year, if the Western powers submit counter-proposals or express their readiness to negotiate.

Says Con-Con Apathy May Aid Minor Parties

LANSING (UPI) — The timing and "current apathy" surrounding the July primary and September election for constitutional convention delegates could very well give minor parties seats in the convention, Secretary of State James M. Hare said Thursday.

In Hare's monthly letter to election clerks throughout the state, the secretary of state said minor parties must hold conventions to name candidates by July 8.

"With the light vote we anticipate in the primary and with some danger that the current apathy will continue into September, we could very well find some third party delegates in the room when we convene the con-con on Oct. 3," Hare said.

Pentagon Leak Angers Kennedy

Orders FBI to Find Out Who Let Berlin Plans Be Published

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is investigating the leaking of secrets at the Pentagon, the White House says.

News Secretary Pierre Salinger announced the investigation on Thursday night but declined to discuss its nature or what set it off. He said only: "There is an FBI investigation today of leaking of secrets at the Pentagon."

★ ★ ★

But the Chicago Sun-Times in a dispatch from Washington said President Kennedy ordered the FBI and military intelligence agencies to find out how a national publication got secret information on military plans for Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The Sun-Times story by Thomas B. Ross said: "Mr. Kennedy was appalled at reading about the Joint Chiefs of Staff's contingency plan for the Berlin crisis in a national publication before it reached him in the White House.

LEAKED TO PRESS

He immediately directed the FBI and the military intelligence agencies to find out how the highly classified information had leaked to the press."

The Sun-Times added: "The published report on the joint chiefs' contingency plan contained enough accuracy to persuade Mr. Kennedy that it was wilfully disclosed by a high official in the Pentagon."

★ ★ ★

The Sun-Times dispatch did not identify the national publication but it apparently was a reference to a Newsweek magazine edition which went on sale Monday.

Raise Food Standards at Fairs in Michigan

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department said today it has stiffened food handling standards at Michigan fairs, curcuses, carnivals and roadside stands.

Standards already were high, the department said, but a recent revision in state regulations brought them up to date. Such establishments have had a good record in Michigan, the department said.

In a recent two-year period, slightly more than one half of one per cent of those inspected were cited for unsanitary conditions.

Landing System New; to Be Used by French Plane

SANTA MONICA, Calif., (UPI)—Lear, Inc., and SUD Aviation of France announced today a joint project for developing a completely automatic landing system for the new Caravelle jetliner.

H. J. Downes, vice president and general manager of the international division of Lear, which maintains plants in Santa Monica and Grand Rapids, Mich, said:

Our primary objective in this program will be to lower present minimum weather restrictions for aircraft operations and, secondly, will also seek a method of providing safe, electronically-controlled, fully automatic landings."

Lear, a leading U.S. astronics manufacturer, will use a Caravelle manufactured by SUD for flight tests at Toulouse, France.

★ ★ ★

The autoland system, under development by Lear for the past several years, uses either existing or improved signals from ground equipment which are fed by the landing computer into autopilot.

The Caravelle jetliner, scheduled for service in the United States next month, utilizes the Lear 102 autopilot.

FIRE HELISHOT—Dick English makes a leap from helicopter without benefit of a chute in practice for fire fighting in California's Cleveland national forest. Family of Modest Means Is Housing Bill Winner

(Editor's Note—What does the housing bill which President Kennedy may sign today mean to the home buyer? What are its other effects? Joe Hall, veteran AP Senate newsman who covered the bill on its congressional journey spells out its provisions in the following story.)

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials estimated today that the new housing bill could make 3 million moderate income families eligible to buy their own homes.

Other millions may find better housing in moderate rental apartments under the bill's new programs.

★ ★ ★

These tentative estimates came as the housing and home finance agency took a close look at the $5,646,000,000 measure sent to President Kennedy Wednesday.

The White House said there was a chance the President may sign the bill today.

In his March housing message to Congress, Kennedy said, in effect, that the housing needs of upper bracket families had been met in the post World War II boom—mostly in new suburban developments.

He called for legislation to aid the 14 million families he said live in substandard and deteriorating housing. The bill is pointed toward this.

Government housing officials have emphasized the legislation will be administered with this aim strongly in mind.

The chief provision which will make more families eligible to buy homes is the extension of the mortgage term from 30 years to a maximum of 40 years under the moderate income family section.

CUTS PAYMENT

FHA figures this will cut the monthly payment on a $15,000 house—the most expensive the agency will insure under the new program—from $82.95 to $74.85. The stretch-out also would increase the total interest the home buyer would pay.

It is this reduction in monthly payments which brought the rough estimates of eligibility under FHA income rules for 3 million more families.

The bill would give the moderate income family a 35-year mortgage as a matter of right. The term could be lengthened to 40 years if the FHA commissioner felt the buyer's income was inadequate to make the payments under a 35-year loan.

The down payment on a $15,000 house would be $450. Closing costs could be included in the loan.

Local advertisers in 1960 invested more money in newspapers than in any other medium. An estimate 61.6 per cent of all local advertising dollars went to newspapers.

Farm and Garden News

Insects Get Upper Hand If You Don't Act Fast

By midsummer many gardeners are ready to believe the fellow who said insects have a better right to occupy the earth than people. After all, bugs have been on the earth for 50 million years, while the human race is only one-tenth as old. There are a million and a half different insect species on the globes. Gardeners know, too well, more than half of these insects are harmful to plants.

Insect ravages in this part of the country are most noticeable in the months of June, July, and August. No one can prophesy when or how severe the trouble will be, but there are definite signs to watch for.

In general, warm, moist weather is ideally suited to insects. One certain sign of insect pests at work is the presence of bird flocks feeding on lawns and growing gardens. Another sign of importance is discoloration of plants and grasses. This may mean insects are damaging plant roots.

What's the answer to the problem? Ideally, plants should have natural defenses against insects. The horse chestnut, aster, pea, lily, larkspur, Virginia creeper, and potato families do contain substances which protect them from certain species of insects.

But this hardly takes care of the problems; so scientists are working to introduce insect killing matter into plants through insecticides put into the soil and taken up through the roots of plants.

Scientists are even attempting to destroy, or at least inhibit insect reproductive ability as a means of cutting down insect hordes.

The most effective means of subduing pests is a garden insecticide which combines a quick-killing power with long-lasting effects. Du Pont, for instance, has a liquid combination of two of the most versatile insecticidal chemicals known — methoxychlor and malathion.

These chemicals provide wide range insect and mite control for use on flowers, ornamentals, vegetables, fruit trees, small fruits, berries, and for outdoor nuisance insects such as flies and mosquitoes.

* * *

Methoxychlor, a relative of DDT, has delayed killing action, but a prolonged residual effect against insects. Malathion has immediate killing power, but an application does not last long. The combination is ideal for home garden pest control.

Because of the exceptionally low order of toxicity of these two chemicals to man and warm-blooded animals, they require no special precautions other than ordinary common sense and the normal precautions recommended on the label.

The garden insecticide is designed especially for water spray applications in a garden hose sprayer. It mixes readily with chemical fungicides for multi-purpose use.

Rockefeller Center's Mall Gives Gardeners Ideas

A visit to Rockefeller Center's mall, one of the nation's best known public garden spots, will provide gardeners with a colorful, useful lesson in how to plan interesting and decorative summer plungings of plants in clay pots.

For June the famous mall featured June blooming lilies, underplanted with soft green cinnamon ferns, which are enjoying a comeback. In July a tropical show will feature giant species of fern and philodendron as a canopy for richly colored bedding plants.

Follow Directions

Once your seedlings come through the soil, and show true leaves, get ready to transplant—to thin according to directions. If the directions say to thin to 9 or 12 or 18 inches apart, they mean just that.

Indoor Plants Like a Change

You go on vacation expecting to return refreshed, invigorated and ruddy. This year, give your indoor plants (those hardy enough to take the outdoor climate) a vacation, too. When danger of frost has ended, bury your houseplants, pot and all, rim-deep in the garden soil.

The natural light, air and moisture are what it needs to give it added strength to go through another winter, and make them more attractive. Porous clay pots permit some natural soil nutrients to pass uniformly inside to help feed the plant.

Scooping a garden hole for your house plant is called plunging. If you sink the plant too deep, soil will wash into the pot, surround the stem and possibly cause damage. Roots may thus develop above the crown. These roots are lost when the plant is lifted and the plant suffers because it has become dependent on them.

It would help to put a fistful of crushed rock or cinders in the bottom of the hole for drainage and to discourage excessive root growth through the hole. Cinders or stones help keep the roots in place and discourage worms from entering the hole.

Plunge the plants where they may be enjoyed during the summer. Borders, walks or terraces will be made attractive. Or sink them where they will be easy to tend. Water, feed, spray and dust them for insects several times during the summer.

Earlier Elderberries

If you know of an elderberry bush that ripens its fruit earlier than other elderberries, the Cornell Fruit Breeders at the New York State Experiment Station, Geneva, N.Y., would appreciate hearing about it.

The station wants to breed earliness into varieties now being grown commercially in the northeast. Other desirable characteristics are yield, large-clusters, large fruit and types that ripen all fruit at once for picking.

Mechanical Spading

An excellent time saver is the powered rotary tiller which can mechanically "spade" up garden space in five minutes that would require more than an hour by a hand spade. Furthermore, gardening experts point out that rotary tilling will "work" the soil so fine and so deep (seven inches), that it is far superior to separate spading, hoeing and raking operations.

Must Have Two Plants

Since the staminate and pistilate flowers of bittersweet are usually on different plants, one must plant both types fairly close to insure fruiting of the pistilate form.

MORE HERBS — Both Cumin and celery are members of the Parsley family; you can grow the former from seed easily. Paprika and Cloves are not apt to be found in the average herb garden. The herbs on the lower section are more familiar ones. Herb growing is fun and a fragrant pasttime. You get benefits from it all winter long if you cut and dry the proper part of each plant.

Pair of New Roses Will Put Beauty in Your Garden

Two new roses, available locally, are sure to be popular. The pink one described below is noted for its fragrance, while the red one joins a small list of scarlet Hybrid Tea Roses.

Underground Sprinklers Need Experts' Hand

For the million or so American families that will buy new homes this year, the care and feeding of lawns will soon become a major problem.

You can turn a potential headache into a pleasure, however, by installing an underground sprinkler system, Sidney F. Cook, an Anaconda home specialist says. And, Cook adds, the best time to install the system is before you start seeding the new lawn.

But, warns Cook, planning and putting in the system should be turned over to a local sprinkler specialist.

"There's a lot more to lawn irrigation than digging some trenches and connecting a few lengths of pipe," he points out. "The sprinkler specialist must take into account the best type of materials for the job, the most economical layout and design, location and size of obstructions, type of soil, pressure and volume of water available, size of available water service and many other factors."

In the long run, brass or bronze sprinkler heads and copper water tubing will prove your best investment. Buried underground, copper tube is rust-proof and resists corrosion both inside and out. It is long-lasting insurance against diminished water flow or clogged sprinkler heads due to rust sediment. The 60 or 100 foot-long one piece coils of flexible copper tube unroll easily and quickly and go around trench obstacles such as trees and shrubbery roots

It's True, Hal Swears, Birds Steal Marigolds

By FRANCIS STILLEY
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — As pumpkinhead amateur gardeners go, I just about went batty—trying to solve the mystery of my vanishing marigolds.

It's a goofy story, though when I tell it, I get the impression people think it's me who's goofy. Here's what happened:

I started some small marigolds in pots in the house. When they got about three inches tall, I transplanted them to the postage-stamp-sized garden in front of my apartment.

I basked in a warm glow of satisfaction, knowing that not only my marigolds but the petunias, zinnias, cosmos, and pansies all were going to do well this year. After all, I put 100 pounds of peat moss, two bushels of humus and gallons of a super-duper liquid-growth mixture into my 1-100,000th of an acre.

A few days after transplanting the small marigolds, I discovered they were disappearing one by one. The peculiar part was that they had been snapped off cleanly at the stem about an inch above ground.

At first, I thought perhaps stray boomerangs from neighbor children had done it. But this is a yo-yo year.

Then, while sitting on the front porch one night, I was sure I had the answer. Several stray cats threw a party in my garden, all but wrecking a fine clump of pinks before I could break up the festivities.

This explanation didn't hold up either, unfortunately. The marigolds kept disappearing—but now, roots and all, without a trace left.

I snorted about this to all who came within earshot, receiving nothing but derision from my fellow man.

At dusk a few days ago came the astonishing revelation. While standing in front of the house, chatting with a neighbor lady who hadn't planted any marigolds in her garden, my eye happened to fall on my own botanical wonderland.

A bird about the size of a robin was just yanking out another of the marigolds. And zoom!—like a Redstone rocket it went whizzing right by me, clutching my marigold in its pesky beak. In a few seconds, it was out of sight behind buildings across the street.

"Did you see that?" I yelled at the neighbor lady.

"See what?" she asked.

"That bird! It grabbed a marigold out of my garden and flew off with it!"

"Are you kidding?"

"No I'm not kidding. I saw it."

"Well. Ha, ha. Think of that."

She didn't need to draw any pictures. It was easy to see she thought the marigold madness had really got me at last.

Just then, that bird whizzed right back, grabbed another, and took off again.

Well, I now have one witness. But when I tell others about this, they smile sweetly, with lifted eyebrow.

Susceptible to Lightning

The following trees are most likely to be struck by lightning, because of the nature of their bark surface, the apparent water content in their internal structure, and their height: oaks, elms, locusts, hickory, tulip tree, poplar, spruce and pine. The least likely large tree to be struck is the beech.

According to Radio Free Europe, radio sets in Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria have almost tripled in the last decade—from 4.2 million sets in 1950 to over 12 million in 1961.

Bicolor Larkspur

Barcelona, a new kind of annual larkspur is a beautiful blue and white bicolor. The single and double blooms make up stately 20 in. spikes that top 4½ ft. plants. Because of the open, well placed formation of its flowers, Barcelona has an airy gracefulness not found in other larkspurs.

Angola Native Refugees Streaming Into the Congo

By DENNIS NEELD

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—African rebels and Portuguese troops are turning a great swath of northern Angola into a desolate battlefield on which the future of Portugal's West African colony is being fought.

★ ★ ★

Refugees by the thousands have fled across the Congolese frontier, leaving thousands of square miles almost uninhabited except for the old and the sick.

Scores of villages have been evacuated and many razed. Farms and huge plantations have been burned.

100,000 FLEE

U.N. officials in Leopoldville estimate that 100,000 men, women and children have reached the Congo from Angola.

About 40,000 of them are eking out a grim existence in half a dozen mud-hut villages in the lower Congo along a narrow finger of territory stretching to the Atlantic Ocean.

Most of the refugees are penniless. They live on a daily handful of rice and dry fish. To meet the threat of famine the United Nations now is shipping 200 tons of food a week to the region.

★ ★ ★

The refugees bring graphic accounts of the bitter war against the Portuguese colonial authorities and tell of ruthless Portuguese reprisals.

There are indiscriminate shootings and frequently the village is bombed by Portuguese planes, the refugees say.

Andre Mateus, 26, is lying terribly disfigured by burns in a mission hospital at Kimpese run by British and American doctors. It took friends 25 days to carry him to safety across the border from his village of Bembe, near San Salvador.

Mateus told how his village had been bombed, probably by Napalm — "fire sprayed out all around."

★ ★ ★

Also at Kimpese is 9-month-old Edouard Antonio from the Angolan village of Kipaku. A bomb wrecked his home and killed his mother. His father was shot in the leg by "bullets from the air."

Edouard's aunt brought him to the Congo after a five-day trek through the dense scrub and elephant grass along the border. She fed him on powdered milk and water out of a dirty leaf. His father estimated that 32 people were killed by Portuguese bombing at Kipaku. "Only three houses were left standing," he said.

AF Command to Be Changed

Gen. Curtis LeMay to Take Over as Chief for Gen. Thomas White

WASHINGTON (AP) — Command of the Air Force passes today from Gen. Thomas D. White to Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

The Air Force arranged a formal farewell for White, veteran of 40 years service, in a ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

★ ★ ★

LeMay takes over as chief of staff when he is sworn in at the White House this afternoon by President Kennedy.

Top command in the Navy changes Aug. 1 when Vice Adm. George W. Anderson Jr. succeeds Adm. Arleigh A. Burke.

BIG SEND-OFF

White's send-off is to include a fly-over of 36 planes, representing a sample of most of the aircraft now used by the Air Force. Assigned to the air parade were planes ranging from the old C119 "Flying box car" transports and trainer aircraft to the F106 supersonic Delta Dart interceptors.

About 1,000 airmen and officers from Andrews and nearby Bolling Air Force Base were to troop in farewell review before White.

Invited to the reviewing stand was Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, LeMay and three non-commissioned officers who have served with White for many years.

Honest Living's OK, Says Abby

Daughter Has Right, Mom

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Ever since our daughter was five years old we sent her for ballet, tap and acrobatic dancing lessons.

ABBY

She became quite good, and danced in many amateur shows around town. She never cared to go to college.

She is 23 and has been working in the city for over a year. She says she is dancing, but she doesn't say where.

My husband thinks it is some kind of girlie show. She is supporting herhelf, and sending a little money home.

If she is in a girlie show, should we let her stay? We raised her to be a virtuous, church-going girl.

BUBBLES' MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter is 23. Many girls in "girlie shows" are "virtuous and church-going." If she is grinding (and bumping) out an honest living, leave her alone.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know you get lots of requests, but I don't know where else to go for this information. I have tried every cook book I could get my hands on, and I can't find a recipe for caviar.

There are recipes which INCLUDE caviar, but how do you make caviar?

WOULD LIKE TO MAKE IT

DEAR WOULD: All right. This sounds like a fishy request, but I'll bite. Caviar is prepared and salted roe of the sturgeon and other large fish. It's more commonly known as "fish eggs." Fish produce it, and people buy it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When I married George I knew he had been married three times before, but now complications have arisen.

I keep getting bills, mail and telephone calls for two of his ex-wives, because they go by the name of Mrs. George Smith.

One of his ex-wives married again, but she divorced her second husband, and went back to using my husband's name. Another ex-wife never gave up his name.

Am I the only one who has the legal right to use my husband's name?

What should his ex-wives be calling themselves? Should I straighten them out, or should I ask my husband to do it? It is all very confusing.

THE ONLY
MRS. GEORGE SMITH

DEAR ONLY: You are the only person who has the right to call herself Mrs. George Smith.

His divorced wives should drop the "Mrs." and use their first names, maiden names and then his last name. Stay out of it. Let George do it.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. B. You didn't "carve" a career—you chiseled it.

What's bothering you? For a personal reply, write to Abby, The Pontiac Press. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Busy with last minute details surrounding Thursday's ground breaking for a new St. Peter's Home for Boys, chairman of the ground-breaking committee Mrs. C. Funds for the new home on ground donated by the late Mrs. Henry Ford have been raised by voluntary contribution, but additional funds are needed to complete the job which will provide housing for boys from broken homes.

Is Foreign Tongue in Bad Taste?

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband's family are foreign born. However, they have been living in this country many years and speak English fairly well.

Every once in a while, when I am visiting them, they will suddenly say something to each other in their native tongue.

I have no understanding of this language and feel very uncomfortable when they do this.

I always feel that they are talking about me or saying something they don't want me to hear. Don't you think that this is very rude on their part?

I think that when I am present they should speak nothing but English. What is your opinion on this?

★ ★ ★

A: They most certainly should not speak in a language you do not understand when you are present, but before letting this offend you, remember that it is a natural thing for them to make an occasional remark to each other in the language they have always used together.

★ ★ ★

Q: My hobby is collecting autographs of well-known people. I would like to know if it is necessary, after receiving their autographs, to write and say thank you?

A: Saying "thank you in advance for your kindness" when requesting the autograph is sufficient and saves a very busy person from opening and reading another letter.

Pick 2 as Solons

Marilyn Jack of Marie Circle and Suzanne Polmear of Bamford Road have been named state senators at Wolverine Girls State's 20th annual session at the University of Michigan.

The offices of state representative and senator, respectively, have been assumed by Kathleen Aho and Nancy Orton, both of Birmingham.

Kathleen Sweeney of Lansing won the governorship in the balloting.

Consider Colors

In choosing dinnerware, give a thought to the food you might serve on it. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest that steak looks appetizing on dishes with brown, green or yellow color. Delicate pink and blue dishes may have a "dessert" look. White seems to go with all foods.

To Hold Dinner at Rotunda Inn

Rotunda Inn will be the setting for the rehearsal dinner for Barbara Wiersema and her fiance Dr. Henry I. Baylis of Los Angeles, this evening, with parents Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersema also entertaining out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Morgan Baylis and Mrs. Donald Saltman of Long Beach, Calif., mother and sister of the bridegroom-elect, with Mrs. Saltman's children, are houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Shelby Baylis of Bloomfield Hills.

A family lawn and beach party Wednesday at the home of the Paul B. Lines of Wards Pointe, Orchard Lake, honored Barbara and her fiance.

Slice the fat off? Sometimes surgeons will perform an operation to remove fat from the abdomen but why not lose the fat through diet and exercise? The "operation" pictured here, trying to hand and foot, seems the best way to lose excess fat.

Have a Double Chin?

Lose Fat by Diet, Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Is there a doctor who removes fat from the abdomen?"

A. Plastic surgeons sometimes perform this operation when there is a real need for it. However, why not lose the fat through diet and exercise? This can be done without surgery.

Q. "If one has a double chin what are some good exercises for this? If you put your head back and chew in an exaggerated manner, won't this stretch the skin and cause wrinkles?"

A. The exercise you describe is a good one. However, you do not have to put your head back so far that you give your skin a terrific stretching. Also, you can apply cold cream to your neck before doing the exercise. Neck muscles have a tendency to shorten.

If any of my readers would like to have my exercises for the neck, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10, "Is Your Chinline A Pain In The Neck?" Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

THINNED BROWS

Q. "Is there anything that will make eyebrows grow back after they have been plucked? I plucked mine pencil-thin 20 years ago and they have never grown back."

A. Your experience was unusual. Generally the brows grow back so that the plucking process must be repeated periodically. I do not know what could have happened unless you injured the roots with treatment which was too rough. More likely, your brows would have thinned anyway. This is sometimes due to some organic or systemic condition such as a low thyroid. I suggest you see your doctor for a physical check-up.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Do varicose veins ever go away?"

A. So far as I know varicose veins do not go away unless they have treatment. They can be removed by surgery and injections are sometimes used. However, if they are given care and treatment in the early stages, they may not become worse.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am inclined to gain weight in the face and nowhere else. What can I do about this?"

A. There is nothing you can do except think of yourself as lucky. As you grow older, your face will keep its bloom and you also will have a slim figure. You can slenderize your face with your hairdo. Wear it high on top and close at the sides.

Q. "I am 21 years old and weigh 130 pounds. I am 5 feet 7 inches tall. I am large boned. How much overweight am I?"

A. You are not overweight, far from it. If you have a medium frame, you should weight about eight pounds more — with a large frame more than that.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet of exercises for the abdomen, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Have You Tried This?

Strawberry Longcake Is Tasty Seasonal Delight

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You've eaten strawberry shortcake often. But have you ever eaten strawberry longcake? Well, you can, if you use Mrs. William Tardugno's recipe.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Tardugno who lives in Lake Orion has a full time job. Her daughter-in-law informs us that she is an excellent sewer and knitter.

STRAWBERRY LONGCAKE
By Mrs. William Tardugno

½ cup sugar
1 quart strawberries
2 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
6 tablespoons sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
1 large egg, beaten
⅔ cup milk

Sprinkle sugar over strawberries and let stand while you make the cake.

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk and stir into flour. Spread out in greased 7x12 pan.

Cream together ¼ cup soft butter or margarine, ¼ cup sugar and 3 tablespoons flour. Drop mixture in bits all over dough. Bake 35-40 minutes at 400 degrees. Serve with sugared strawberries.

Welcome Foreign Students to Pontiac

Pontiac Press Photos

"Welcome to Pontiac," says Ralph Koprince (at left) of West Iroquois Road to Hans Ericson of Sweden. Hans was one of 35 American Field Service Scholarship students from abroad who arrived Thursday evening for a brief stay in Pontiac. The Koprinces were hosts to a student from Uganda.

Karen Classon and her father, Ivar Classon of East Beverly Avenue and Donna Helmkamp of Ogemaw Road welcome Robert Issacsen of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Miguel Di Lernia of Argentina who were among the bus load of American Field Service students from 23 countries to arrive for a visit with Pontiac families before departing for the Middle West.

Teens From Abroad Visit City

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Families of students at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools are hosting 35 teen-agers from abroad who have been participating in the American Field Service scholarsip program.

The 23 countries the young people hail from read like an atlas index — from far-off Aganda, Ethiopia, Kenya and the Union of South Africa; from Iran, Indonesia, Pakistan and Lebanon, Japan and the Philippines.

From remote British North Borneo and Argentina, as well as Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Greece, these ambassadors come. France, Italy, and Germany and the Scandinavian countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland are also represented.

These adaptable, open-minded young people have been living with American families this past school year in New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. Now they are on a bus tour of the Middle West before converging with other groups on Washington, D. C., where they will sight-see and be received by President and Mrs. Kennedy.

This laughing, eager group arrived at Pontiac Central's parking lot at 6 p.m. Thursday to spend a 36-hour stay in Pontiac homes. They were fresh from the wonders of Niagara Falls, driving across Canada yesterday to Pontiac.

This morning they toured the Pontiac assembly line and when they leave Saturday morning they will head for Illinois.

They'll leave bonds of affection wherever they go, for they are a wholesome, chosen group. Our family, for example, still feels attached to our guest of last year, Orin from Turkey. Someday we'd like to see this embryo-architect studying at Cranbrook.

In the meantime, American students participating in the American Field Service exchange program are departing from villages, cities and towns all over the United States for countries as remote and varied as those of our present guests. It's the kind of person-to-person exchange program that former president Dwight D. Eisenhower called an effective means of advancing the peace of the world.

2 Pontiac Women Elected to Posts at Convention

Two Pontiac women were elected to office by the Michigan Department of AMVETS Auxiliaries at the convention in Escanaba.

Mrs. Alfred F. Emsley is senior vice president and Mrs. Harold Willis, chaplain. Mrs. Julian Rutherford of Elk Rapids is president; Mrs. Clifford Wedyck of Detroit, junior vice president, Mrs. Arnold Kloosterman of Allendale, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Hadley of St. Joseph, sergeant at arms.

Delegates from Pontiac were Mrs. Robert Adsit and Mrs. Willis from Bemis-Olsen Auxiliary 113 with Mrs. Orval Russell and Mrs. Emsley from Wright-Fournier Auxiliary 161.

National President Mrs. Lucia Russo of California presided and Marie Peters, Probate Judge of Escanaba, welcomed the delegates.

The department financial trophy was awarded to Wright-Fournier Auxiliary of Pontiac.

Hold Last Luncheon of Season at Home

Sixteen members of Interlakes Extension Club attended the final luncheon meeting of the season Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Quentin E. Sweet on South Avery Street, Waterford Township.

The group worked on fiberglass luncheon sets brought by Mrs. Robert Alspaugh, honorary member, who has invited the group to her summer home on Walpole Island in July.

Garden Club Will Gather

Bloomfield Hills Branch, Woman's National Farm, and Garden Association, has scheduled the midsummer meeting for July 10 at 1:30 in the Brady Lane home of Mrs. Marcus Cunningham.

* * *

Alice Wessels Burlingame of Birmingham will brief the group on her specialty "Horticultural Therapy." Known internationally for her work in this field, she was recently honored in joint citation by University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

* * *

Tea will be served following the meeting.

Radio Free Europe broadcasts to the Communist-dominated people of East Europe over 28 powerful transmitters and relay stations. RFE combines great power and the use of multiple frequencies to overcome the Soviets' jamming attempts.

A series of inter-connected nylon-rubber underwater tanks has been installed in the Gulf of Mexico. These can be used for the storage of fuel, water, food or medical supplies, and are accessible to either submarines or surface vessels.

Fashionettes Install 11

Officers of the Fashionette Club were installed at a meeting in Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Frank Reichert, retiring president, conducted the installation ceremony for Mrs. Jesse Villereal, president; Mrs. William Longton, vice president; Mrs. Matthew Fotheringham, recording secretary; Mrs. Devere Morrison, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Edna Mertz, treasurer.

Others assuming office were Mrs. Leo Strohschein, custodian of the scales; Mrs. Leonard Hebel, custodian of awards; Mrs. Wava Forker, weight recorder; Mrs. Martinus Hanson, program chairman; Mrs. Frederick Root, publicity; and Mrs. James King, historian.

To date, Mrs. Villareal's committee chairmen are Mrs. Frank Reichert, sympathy and relief; Mrs. Albert Lovse, kitchen; Mrs. Charles Spence, contest; and Mrs. Peter Hernandez, hospitality.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Preston won the award Tuesday for losing the most weight. Mrs. Martin Miller was runner-up. Last week's winner was Mrs. Patrick Mason.

Mrs. Hoyt Patterson is a new member of the group which meets each Tuesday (except holidays) from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Shelly Library.

Forty-one members and friends attended last week's annual picnic.

OK Subversion Probe in South Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The three-nation international control commission for Viet Nam has voted over Communist Poland's objections to take up the question of Red subversion in South Viet Nam.

* * *

It is perhaps the most important ruling the group has handed down since it was set up by the 1954 Geneva agreement to supervise the truce which divided this nation with the Communists controlling the north and a pro-Western government in the south.

But the effect of the ruling is considered more psychological than practical in South Viet Nam's war against the guerrilla operations directed from the north.

Oakland County Authorities Cracking Down on Stray Dogs

"THIS WON'T HURT"—Blackie, a stray dog picked up in Oakland County is getting a shot of vaccine from dog warden Dr. Frank F. Bates, as White Lake Township supervisor Edward Cheyz watches. The supervisor happened to be at the dog pound trying to decide on which dog would be the best pet, and it looks like Blackie will have a new home. All dogs are vaccinated and licensed before leaving the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

At least 20 residents in the last month have had to pay Justice of the Peace Court fines and costs because their dogs have not been vaccinated and licensed.

"Enforcing the law is strictly a precautionary measure for the dogowner, pedestrian and property owners," Bates said. "We are doing everything possible to protect the public and have scheduled three additional inoculation clinics in July.

Bates said only about 50 per cent of more than 2,000 owners of delinquent-licensed dogs have responded to a warning sent to them by the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

★ ★ ★

Police throughout the county have received an increasing number of dog-bite calls. They immediately refer these calls to Dr. Bates at the shelter.

If such a dog has been vaccinated and licensed, it will be put into quarantine at home. If not, the dog is taken to the shelter where it is kept for several days for observation. This costs an owner a $1 dog pound fee, plus 60c a day for board.

MUST SEE VET

If the dog is reclaimed, it has to be vaccinated by a veterinarian and licensed, which costs the owner more than the clinic inoculation. Many times, a serious bite may lead to a lawsuit, Bates added.

"We have investigated more than 500 animal bites in the area since the first of the year," he added. "However, we have not had one case of rabies since July, 1954 due to the public's education on the importance of immunization of dogs."

When a stray dog is picked up and has a license, it's owner is notified immediately. "Board and room" for the animal begins, and continues until the owner picks it up.

★ ★ ★

"It seems to me that we've done everything but scratch our heads in the sand to get people to license and vaccinate their dogs — for their own good," Bates added.

Inoculation clinics slated from 1 to 4 p.m. July 15 at the Oxford Township Hall, July 22 at the White Lake Township Hall and July 29 at the Wixom City Hall.

Clinic fees are $2 for males and unsexed females and $4 for females.

Extend Tours of Duty for Bachelor Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Normal overseas duty tours of bachelor Army officers and enlisted men will be extended from two to three years in Hawaii and 11 European countries starting Aug. 1, the Army announced Thursday.

Officials said the action has no connection with the Berlin crisis or any other international situation.

"Purpose of the extension is to reduce the undesirable turnover and travel of personnel, and to enhance training and combat efficiency," the announcement said.

Savings, Loan Branch to Open in New Name

MILFORD — The first branch office of Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association to begin initial operations under a new name opens here tomorrow with 9 a. m. ceremonies.

★ ★ ★

The new name, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, also will become effective at the five other offices of the 27-year-old organization tomorrow.

Attending the grand opening celebration of the $100,000 structure at 351 N. Main St., the site of the former village office, will be village officials and officers of the loan association.

Visitors to the two-story, aluminum, marble and glass office will receive gifts, including a small potted flower, emphasizing the association's slogan "Plant Your Savings and Watch It Grow."

★ ★ ★

James Clarkson, executive vice president of Pontiac Federal Savings, said the new branch has been designed "for the future" to accommodate $50 million in assets.

James M. Rahl, 27, of 4640 Oakvista Drive, Drayton Plains, will manage the new Milford office.

MANAGED BRANCH

Rahl, a vice president of the association, has been with the organization only 3½ years. Prior to his being named manager of the Milford branch, Rahl had managed the downtown Pontiac branch office for a year and a half.

The young businessman also is the first vice president of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Savings and Loan Controller's League and the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

He and his wife, Jeannine, have a son, Brett, 1½.

An unusual feature for a branch office is a second floor civic room. Its purpose will be to serve community groups in their activities and meeting.

★ ★ ★

The community room will accommodate more than 100 persons and has complete kitchen facilities.

The modern structure has air conditioning throughout, with separate controls for the first and second floor.

DESIGN OFFICE

Parking will be available in the village municipal parking lot and in the rear of the branch building.

JAMES M. RAHL

The office was designed by Heenan and Pullar, Pontiac architects. The Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac was the general contractor.

The branch will employ four persons, including Rahl and Mrs. Louise Gharrity, assistant manager.

The office will be open Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Friday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.; and Wednesday and Saturdays from 9 a. m. until noon.

Planning Group Is Rounded Out

Township Names Four Ending Organization of Avon-Rochester Unit

AVON TOWNSHIP — Organization of the Avon-Rochester Planning Commission has been completed now that the township has appointed its representatives to the new group.

The commission, which will oversee development of a master plan for both the village and the township, is comprised of nine members.

Appointed to serve on the commission by the Avon Township Board of Trustees were William Benson of 2569 John R Road, Dr. Richard Brooks of 6157 Blue Beech Road, Donald Tripp of 320 Gunder Drive and Carl Simon of 1352 Christian Hills Drive.

The other Avon representative is Township Trustee Wayne Y. Holman of 355 Rockdale Drive.

AGREE TO FIRM

On Monday the Village Council announced that James McCarthy, William A. Mitzelfeld, James Norton and Christopher E. Boyle Jr. would represent the village.

Earlier this month both village and township officials agreed to hire Villican-Leman and Associates of Southfield, a firm of professional planning consultants, to complete a master plan for the area.

The village agreed to pay $6,000 over a two-year period for the master plan, which was started three years ago but never completed when political differences between the two municipalities brought the joint effort to a halt.

★ ★ ★

The Township Board did not specify the amount it would pay for the planning work but stated that the township would finance 65 per cent of the total cost.

President Quits Orion Project

Leaves After Dispute Over Rezoning Large Section of Land

ORION TOWNSHIP — Walter B. Schreiber has resigned as president of the Lake Orion Area Industrial Development Corp. as the result of a dispute over rezoning a large section of land here.

In a letter to LOAIDCO officials, Schreiber also said they could inform the Township Zoning Board that the petitions to rezone 92 acres near Indianwood Road would be withdrawn if it would aid the progress of the nonprofit development corporation.

"I had no ulterior motives when those petitions were filed," stated Schreiber, owner of Artco, Inc., at 3020 Indianwood Road.

"They were filed only at the request of a civic-minded group of Lake Orion citizens to start a vitalized nucleus for industry in the community," he wrote.

Wesley B. Allen, vice president of LOAIDCO, yesterday affirmed Schreiber's statements and said the local development group "absolutely would not consider asking Mr. Schreiber to withdraw the petitions."

Allen said plans of the LOAIDCO organization "are entirely dependent on having areas where industry can locate."

"The Indianwood Road area is a logical location for industry," said Allen.

Schreiber claimed that his motives for assuming the presidency of LOAIDCO were "sincere and completely unselfish."

The industrialist said he had been informed that the only objection at a public hearing called to discuss the rezoning "consisted of derogatory remarks directed at me and one of the companies with which I am associated."

Schreiber is a stockholder in the Lake Orion Investment Co., which owns the 92 acres near the Artco plant. Allen said part of the controversy developed over the confusion resulting from Schreiber's association with both the investment company and the community development organization.

Residents from the Indianwood Road area also complained at the June 19 hearing that more industry locating there would lower property valuations and would be a nuisance from the standpoint of noise, health and traffic.

However, the zoning board recommended that 82 acres of the property in question behind the Artco plant be rezoned from business to industry.

The board tabled its recommendation on 10 acres of residential property which the investment company wants rezoned for industry.

The rezoning petitions will be studied by the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee before action is taken by the Orion Township Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

Drivers Go for Extra Services

Trucker Motels Modern Goldmines

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — It used to be a saying that you could always count on a good cup of coffee at a truck stop.

Nowadays, along with the coffee, you're likely to find bowling, tennis, miniature golf, outdoor movies and swimming pools.

With nearly 10 million trucks on the road every year, a whole new kind of truck shop industry has grown up in the past decade, catering to the men who ply the nation's highways for a living.

Some of the accommodations are pretty fancy. No longer does a driver have to pull to the side of the road and curl up for a nap. Now he can pull into an ultramodern truck stop.

This came about largely because of federal laws limiting driving time by commercial truckers. Being forced to stop for rest, regular tourist motels might have suited their purpose, except for one hitch — space. A semitrailer takes as much space as eight cars. Motel operators weren't so happy when trucks crowded out the cars.

So overnight truck stops began growing, with most offering luxury accommodations as fine as those at fancy motels. Prices for meals and lodging are reasonable since the truck stop operators make their money on the big gas and oil bills run up by the big rigs.

One truck stop at Fayetteville, N.C., sells an average of 5,000 gallons a day. Another at Lima, Ohio, sells 20,000. Private rooms for the drivers cost only $2.50 a night. Food in the truck restaurant is also about at cost.

An extra service particularly appreciated by truck drivers is free transportation. Unlike motel tourists, once the truck driver's rig is serviced and parked for the night, he is stranded without transportation. To offset this, many truck-stop operators make arrangements to take drivers to movies and local sports contests.

Even though they may spend several hours at a truck stop, time is important to the drivers, especially those hauling food. A truck will carry as much as $50,000 worth of produce all the way from Florida to New York. There may be as much as $500 difference in value if the truck arrives in New York at noon instead of 4 a.m.

A trucker gets about $600 for the trip from Florida to New York, but he has to bring his load of food in on time. To keep it fresh, sometimes there is a motor-driven refrigeration unit. Or there might be a fan which blows air over solid blocks of ice stacked in the truck. All this is also serviced at the truck stop.

★ ★ ★

It's big business because, unlike tourists, truckers travel the same routes week after week. If a driver is satisfied, he'll stop again, even if only for cigarettes. One truck stop, for instance, sells over $5,000 in cigarettes a month.

Brando Confirms Marriage, Split With Movita

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Marlon Brando has confirmed for the first time that he had married and later divorced Mexican actress Movita.

But Brando, testifying at a court hearing Thursday, didn't elaborate about other details—except to note that he had a son by the actress.

Brando, on a 30-hour visit from Tahiti where he is filming a remake of "Mutiny on the Bounty," was in court as a result of a feud with his first wife, Anna Kashfi over their 3-year-old son, Christian Devi.

Brando claims Miss Kashfi would not permit him to visit Christian on three occasions last April. Miss Kashfi countered with a claim that Brando failed to send this month's $1,000 check for the boy's support.

★ ★ ★

Brando testified that Miss Kashfi "raved and ranted" when he told her of his secret marriage to Movita—known non-professionally as Maria Louisa Castenada—and of the birth of the child, who wasn't identified further.

Maria Schell Lives in Queenly Chateau

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

THOMAS

MUNICH, Germany — You drive to Maria Schell's home through 60 miles of Bavarian countryside, past the green, round hills and stacks of drying hay.

You turn up a country lane, wind among farm houses and come to a walled estate. Once you are announced, the gate swings open and you descend a steep driveway to the Schell Chateau.

The setting befits a queen, and Miss Schell is one of the rulers of the European cinema. The Inn River flows sullenly at the foot of the cliff. You can view miles of wooded slopes in all directions. The house is of native stone and blends into the picture. A Roman pool is on a terrace below.

GLEAMS WITH MARBLE

Maria Schell, tanned from a cruise among the Greek Isles, stood at the front of the house when I arrived for a visit. She showed me about the house, which was gleaming with marble and filled with paintings and art objects she has collected during her travels about the world.

Why does she choose to live in Germany?

"That is strange," she said with the familiar Schell smile. "All the German stars are living in Switzerland now, and I, a Swiss, am living in Germany. I like the life better here. There is more stimulation, more intellectual activity.

"I could probably save money on taxes by living in Switzerland. But taxes are not bad in Germany; you can pay as little as 15 per cent. The German government offered me a deal because of the films I have made here. It's not 15 per cent, but it is a pleasant arrangement."

Although she kept her German residence, she found that going to Hollywood hurt her following in Germany.

"Many people resented it at first," she remarked. "They think that if an actress goes to Hollywood it's because she is attracted by the glamour. And they were convinced of it when I did 'The Brothers Karamazov.' It was a fairly glamorous role, while I had done more earthy things in Europe.

"But I went to Hollywood merely so I could work with fine talent. That was the only reason."

She admitted that "Karamazov" did not turn out well—"something didn't work out in the chemistry." Nor was she content with her two other U.S. films—"The Hanging Tree" and "Cimarron," both Westerns.

Meanwhile she continues to be in demand with German and French producers. She chooses scripts with a keen eye and admitted a reputation of being very tough with producers.

Alter Standards of Qualification for Postmasters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission has announced new qualification standards for persons seeking presidential appointment as postmasters.

The commission said it has canceled all exisitng registers of eligibles from which the Post Office Department has not made selections and all pending examinations for filling postmaster vacancies in first, second and third class post offices.

Persons affected are being notified they must pass a new examination if they want to be considered again.

The new standards grew out of a Post Office Department complaint in February that the old standards did not consistently furnish the caliber of personnel needed to manage and operate modern postal establishments.

The standards had not been changed since 1953.

Michigan's Birth Rate Takes Big Jump in '61

LANSING (AP)—Michigan may re-enter the population explosion this year, says the State Department of Health.

After three years of lower birth rates, the first five months of this year showed an increase of 517 "precious bundle deliveries" over the same period in 1961, the department said.

Some 74,461 were born through May. Michigan's 1960 birth rate per 1,000 population was the lowest in 10 years, the department said.

U.S. Debts, Assets Over Trillion

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Today we are trillionaires. The new status works both ways.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says America's total debt at all levels tops a trillion dollars for the first time.

* * *

But look at the balance sheet of Americans as individuals. Their current assets are put at $959 billion. Add their fixed assets of $607 billion, and U.S. citizens can claim to be worth $1,566,000,000,000.

Of course, Secretary Dillon points out at the same time that individual debt totals $296 billion and continues to rise.

HAVE RESPONSIBILITY

And as citizens we have a responsibility for the $290 billion federal debt and the $69 billion state and local debts. As stockholders they have an interest in corporate debt of $358 billion. (Corporate assets are much higher than this, and governments have financial and tangible assets, $500.)

Can you as American citizens afford to carry all this debt? a lot of people say no. But look at the brighter side of the financial balance sheet.

* * *

At the 1961 halfway point personal income is running at $414 billion a year. And personal savings have been climbing in the first half of 1961. Then there are those financial assets of $959 billion.

That figure is garnered from reports of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Department of Commerce.

* * *

The financial assets include $343 billions in preferred and common stocks, $102 billion in government securities, $46 billion in other securities such as corporate bonds and notes, nearly $67 billion in savings and loan associations and credit unions, more than $181 billion in currency and bank deposits. To that are added more than $149 billion in private insurance and pension reserves and $70 billion in various government insurance and pension reserves.

FIGURING METHOD

The fixed assets are figured this way: $404 billion equity in home ownership and $203 billion in current value of durable goods owned. The durable-goods equity is figured by totalling consumer purchases in the last 10 years, depreciated at 10 per cent annually.

The figuring to reach the total assets of one and a half trillion is subject to debate among accountants. as are all such over-all estimates.

* * *

And the question of whether individuals' assets justify the steadily climbing personal debt — or whether the national economy, growing jerkily but steadily, justifies the rising total of government and private debt—is up for sharp debate in and out of Congress.

* * *

In New York financial circles the majority opinion is that both private and public debt is still on a sound basis. That is, the national and personal assets and the current national and personal incomes can carry the debt load without undue strain.

The points brought up against the increasing load are: 1. debt carrying is costly and budget balancing is more economical in the long run; 2. the trend to ever-swelling debt totals at all levels carries seeds of disaster, because the trend could go beyond the nation's ability to repay; 3. monetary debt tends to lay the base for inflation, and then to feed it in progressive doses.

But at midyear the individual balance sheet in spite of the awesome debt load looks pretty healthy on the whole.

Seems Some Passerby Was Hungry but Honest

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Quentin Stiles prepared her husband's dinner Thursday night, placed it on the table and stepped over to chat with a neighbor while waiting for him to return from work.

When Stiles, an insurance agent, arrived some 30 minutes later, the dishes were empty. A dollar bill was left on the table.

Stiles said he had no idea who could have eaten his meal. "Just a hungry—but honest—passerby, I guess," he said.

Soviets Unveil Giant New Jet

Feel Powerful Bomber May Far Outstrip Best of U.S. Nuclear Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union's giant new jet bomber is more than 40 feet longer — and may be considerably more powerful—than anything in the U.S. long range nuclear bomber fleet.

The new Soviet bomber, a four-jet delta wing craft, was unveiled in Moscow two days ago during practice flights for an air show there July 9.

* * *

It came as no surprise to U.S. officials here. They said the plane — designated by U.S. military authorities with the code name "Bounder"—has been under development for a number of years.

This suggested the Soviets may have the plane in quantity, although firm information was not available.

ACCENT AIRPOWER

Public disclosure of the Bounder could be intended by the Soviets as a way of pointing up Soviet airpower at this time of deepening crisis over Berlin.

The Soviet newspaper Red Star published pictures of the plane without giving details. Westerners in Moscow saw the plane take off.

* * *

It was noted here that the engines appeared exceptionally big.

Officials said there were published reports nearly two years ago that the Bounder would be nuclear-propelled, but that the new Soviet bomber is powered by turbojet engines.

* * *

They said the Bounder is about 200 feet long and has a wingspan of about 80 feet.

Oklahoma Group Pulls Out From U. S. Girl Scouts

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Some 450 Ardmore Girl Scouts and Brownies declared their independence Thursday.

Leaders of the Ardmore Girl Scouts Association said the group had withdrawn from the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and the Sooner Girl Scout Council, Inc.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Crosby Jr., Ardmore, a neighborhood Scout chairman, said the revolt had occurred because of not enough return from financial support given regional headquarters.

* * *

She said the Sooner Council had received $3,850 from the Ardmore United Fund this year but local Scouts received only $80 from the council.

$4 Million for Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — The United States has given Australia $4 million to subsidize development of a guided missile, Defense Minister Athol Townley said Thursday. Work on the missile, designed to deliver the U.S. Navy's Mark 44 homing torpedo against submarines, has been under way for 18 months.

Faces 5 Years in Hit-Run Case

Spencer Padgett Admits to 12 Bottles of Beer Before Accident

A 22-year-old Highland Township man, who admitted drinking "at least" 12 bottles of beer before a hit-and-run accident in the city, faces a maximum of five years in Jackson Prison after he was convicted yesterday.

Spencer E. Padgett, 9650 Highland Road, was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury of 11 women and one man of leaving the scene of an injury accident March 20.

On that date city police said Padgett's car struck two persons in front of the Armory at Mill and Water streets after a Saturday evening dance.

Roger McClintock, 21, of 3134 Eastway Road, Bloomfield Township, suffered a fractured wrist and Jack Gray, 13, of 119 Perkins St., received a fracturad arm when hit by Padgett's car.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero set sentencing for July 31 for Padgett who shook his head when foreman Milton H. Fegley of Berkley, announced the verdict after nearly three hours of deliberation.

Padgett awaits sentence in the county jail.

Chrysler Files Cross Complaint Against Newberg

DETROIT (AP)—Another court action was filed Thursday by Chrysler Corporation against its former President William C. Newberg and his wife Dorothy of Bloomfield Township.

The firm filed a cross complaint to a suit first filed last Jan. 18 by the Newbergs against Chrysler, in which he sought to have voided an agreement to pay the company $455,000 after he was fired.

Newberg paid $200,000 on the agreement last July 29, then filed his suit just before a $65,000 installment came due. His suit is still pending trial.

Chrysler said its cross complaint seeks to recover gains resulting from alleged business dealings in violation of Newberg's fiduciary obligations as an executive and director of the firm.

Newberg was fired as Chrysler president a year ago today.

Should Work Be Done Through Religious Agencies?

Peace Corps in Church-State Controversy

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—The church-state controversy, recurring vexation of the New Frontier, now is threatening to plague President Kennedy's Peace Corps program.

The issue is to what extent the federal government may make use of established American missionary groups overseas to carry out the humanitarian objectives of the corps.

* * *

R. Sargent Shriver, director of the corps, has said the new program should supplement, not supplant, existing governmental and private aid efforts. In fact, of the $40-million budget which the corps has submitted to Congress for approval, $26 million would be spent through universities and voluntary agencies.

But Shriver has made it clear the government should see to it "that no activities inconsistent with the Peace Corps were carried on, such as religious proselytizing or propagandizing."

SOME SKEPTICAL

Still, some staunch church-state separationists are skeptical that groups which have been working abroad for both religious and humanitarian purposes could put aside their religious motives in order to use government funds and Peace Corpsmen in their projects.

Director Shriver has said it would be in the interest of both economy and efficiency to use private agencies already trained in welfare work abroad because it will cost the government about $9,000 a year to train, equip and support each new Peace Corpsman.

* * *

The United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the American Jewish Congress, to name two groups, have expressed opposition to using overseas church agencies.

The Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) and the Roman Catholic Church both have come out solidly in favor of it.

The American Baptist Convention, while encouraging its members to volunteer for the corps, has urged strict caution to see that "no project sponsored by the Peace Corps shall further any religious cause."

LUTHERANS DOUBTFUL

The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Van Deusen, representing the National Lutheran Council at a Senate committee hearing on a bill to make the Peace Corps a permanent government activity, said his church had not yet decided whether it would enter cooperative projects with the corps but that he personally doubted it.

Director Shriver has said the corps would not contract with a religious group which confines its recruiting to members of its own denomination.

A spokesman for the National Catholic Welfare Conference, F. Robert Melina, said his church for one would be willing to accept non-Catholic Peace Corps volunteers on its overseas welfare projects.

* * *

The NCWC, which coordinates American Catholic enterprises, has even established a Peace Corps desk at its Washington headquarters to handle requests of Catholic individuals and agencies who want to participate.

As to the constitutionality of such participation, the Catholic magazine "America" felt the whole discussion unwarranted.

* * *

Noting many religious groups have worked in underdeveloped lands for years on such welfare projects as hospitals, agricultural cooperatives and sanitation schemes, the Jesuit-edited journal commented:

"It looks like constitutional nit-picking to argue that the Peace Corps may not take advantage of this experience and these contacts because of the separation of church and state. There is a job to be done: let's use the people who can do it."

GOP Governors Plan Informal, Regular Meetings

HONOLULU (AP)— Republican governors have agreed to work together in an informal organization that could have a heavy impact on the course of their party.

* * *

Confirming this today, Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii said the idea for continuing consultation among the 16 GOP governors grew out of a series of meetings at the 53rd annual Governors' Conference which ended Wednesday.

"It was the general feeling that it would be helpful to the country and to our party if we could consult regularly about matters of policy and perhaps meet together from time to time," Quinn said in an interview.

Quinn said the Republicans may get together next fall, when a two-day conference of governors on mental health tentatively has been scheduled.

State to Save $25,000 With Gas Credit Cards

LANSING (UPI)—Drivers of state vehicles will be issued gasoline credit cards next month, Controller Ira Polley said today.

A contract with Leonard Refineries, Inc., allowing state vehicles discounts on gas and oil will save the state more than $25,000 annually, Polley said.

State facilities will continue to be the chief source of gasoline and oil for state vehicles, he said. The credit cards will be used by vehicles traveling long distances from state supply points.

Sues Firm for $85,000 for Accident at Work

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Frank Guske of Custer seeks $85,000 in a federal court suit as the result of an industrial mishap Jan. 13 at Ludington.

He claims in a suit filed at U.S. District Court that he suffered permanent injuries while working on a gas-exhaust damper in the plant of defendant firm Harbison-Walker Refractories Co.

Guske contends an exhaust fan was turned off and led to his being enveloped in hot gases.

Campbell's 68 Tops Sikes by One at Warwick Hills

Ex-Purdue Star Sets Pace

By BILL CORNWELL

GRAND BLANC — Freshman-of-the-Year in 1959 and almost a "forgotten man" in 1960 — that's been the story of Joe Campbell's life on the professional golf circuit.

But the 25-year-old Campbell made his fellow touring pros remember him again Thursday by taking the first-round lead in the 4th annual Buick Open golf tournament at Warwick Country Club.

Blonde-haired Joe rifled a four-under-par 68 over the sprawling Warwick giant for a one-stroke advantage as the $52,000 tourney entered its 2nd 18-hole round today.

Dan Sikes, National Public Links champion in 1958 and a newcomer to the PGA circuit, fired a 69 for sole possession of 2nd place at the 18-hole mark.

Two veteran touring pros and a husky Canadian were breathing down the necks of Campbell and Sikes after posting 70s.

Heading the 70 group was defending Buick Open champion Mike Souchak, who did a magnificent job of scrambling yesterday. His partners were Toronto's Jerry Magee and golf's roving ambassador from the Louisiana Bayou country, Lionel Hebert.

Campbell had a "can't miss" label stamped on him when he turned pro April 6, 1958, after compiling a brilliant amateur record at Purdue University.

The stocky well-built Campbell won the NCAA championship as a sophomore in 1955 and pocketed Big 10 titles in 1956 and 1957.

* * *

He also played basketball at Purdue and was a teammate of big Lamar Lundy. Following his graduation in 1957, he landed a berth on the U. S. Walker Cup team.

Campbell got off to such a whirlwind start on the pro tour after joining the circuit-riders early in 1959 that he was voted Freshman-of-the-Year. He never won any big events, but he placed high frequently and looked like a real future star.

Then the bubble burst. After winning $12,500 for shooting a hole-in-one at the Palm Springs Desert Classic in January of 1960, Campbell's game went to pieces.

In 24 tourney starts last year, Campbell pocketed only $8,130 and you don't stay alive very long on the pro tour at that rate. Yesterday's 68 was his finest opening-round score in more than a year.

* * *

Campbell, who stands 5-8½ and weighs 190, claims he plays his best golf in hot weather and Thursday he took to Warwick's steaming heat like a duck takes to water.

Two hole-outs from off the green, 28 putts and five one-putt greens were the highlights of Campbell's 35-33 scorecard. He carded five birdies and bogied just once during his trip around the 7,280-yard course which has a par of 36-36—72.

Campbell holed out a 20-foot chip shot for a birdie three at No. 5 and climaxed his efforts by exploding a 25-foot trap shot into the cup for a birdie three at No. 18.

The former Boilermaker ace, who now registers from Chattanooga, Tenn., has been bothered by an ailing back since early this year. He grinned and quipped that his back didn't bother him yesterday.

* * *

Sikes, a native of Jacksonville, Fla., is currently in his first year on the PGA tour and he's won only $950 so far. He birdied four holes and bogied just one while one-putting six greens and taking 30 putts over-all.

In addition to his 1958 publinx triumph at Chicago, Sikes won the all-army crown in 1955 at Ft. Mead, Va. He turned pro late last year.

Sikes' 35-34—69 card was his best tourney showing thus far. The 30-year-old Sikes, constructed on the lean-and-lanky side at 6 feet and 175 pounds, formerly starred for the University of Florida golf team, is a law school graduate and a member of the bar in that state.

Souchak's round was spotlighted by an eagle three on the 507-yard 13th hole where he blasted from a bunker and the ball landed in the cup on the fly.

* * *

Souchak, putting well but chipping poorly, hit only 10 greens, but kept recovering as he one-putted eight times and had 26 putts altogether. His back nine 32 was low for the day following a 38 on the front side.

Huston LaClair's 33 going out was the best score on the front nine. He slipped to 38 coming home for a 71 to join 11 other golfers at that figure.

Hebert, ex-National PGA champion, had one of his better putting rounds and missed just four greens. He birdied four holes and putted 29 times in a 34-36 effort. Magee, like Hebert, shot 34-36 and birdied four holes.

Yesterday's starting field numbered 159 players, including 11 amateurs. Jack Nicklaus, newly-crowned NCAA champ, posted 74 to set the amateur pace.

Seventeen golfers broke par and another 13 equalled it on the Warwick layout, which was baked hard and fast by the boiling sun. The 72-hole tournament runs through Sunday.

Bone Gets 5 Birdies, Still Has 75

GRAND BLANC — With the exception of Canadian pro Al Balding, Pontiac's Gene Bone had perhaps the oddest and most inconsistent round of anyone Thursday in the opening round of the rich Buick Open golf tournament at Warwick Hills Country Club.

In view of all his troubles, the 29-year-old Drayton Plains resident scored surprisingly well.

Playing with Sam Snead and Fred Hawkins, Bone carded 39-36—75, three above par, over his home acreage.

The weird thing about the young host pro's scorecard is this: He had five birdies, six bogies, one double-bogey and just six pars.

"My tee shots were good today and I putted well, but my game was very bad around the greens — I couldn't do anything right with the short irons," Gene commented.

* * *

He birdied the 1st hole by putting twice from 40 feet after two drives carried the green. Tree trouble brought him a bogey five on the 2nd hole and he double-bogied the par three 3rd after overshooting the green and taking two more knocks to get home.

An errant iron approach and a wobbly chip forced him to bogey the 7th and he swallowed another bogey at No. 8 where he located a bunker. He rallied to sink a 15-foot birdie putt at No. 9.

Bone birdied three holes coming home — Nos. 10, 12 and 16 —with putts of six, two and six feet. Spotted among them was a bogey on the 11th where he found another trap, a bogey at No. 14 where he pitched over the green and a bogey at No. 18 4where he visited another bunker.

Balding's erratic round included six birdies, an eagle three, two double-bogies, three bogies and six pars. They all added up to a one-under-par 71.

* * *

Cary Middlecoff, who shot 36-35—71, posted five birdies and four bogies.

Balding's eagle three was one of four made yesterday. The others were notched by Ken Still, Mike Souchak and Jim Ferree.

All were carded on the 13th hole except Ferree's and he got his on the 16th. Balding claimed his eagle by hitting a 4-wood blow within two feet of the cup while Souchak canned a 40-foot trap shot on the fly.

Michigan's leading pros moving into today's 2nd round were Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake and Washtenaw's Tom Talkington, both of whom posted 36-38—74. This must be considered somewhat of a surprise.

The state's top amateur after the first 18 holes was 20-year-old Pete Green of Orchard Lake, who shot 40-37—77.

The estimated attendance Thursday was 2,500.

McAuliffe's 2-Run Triple Beats Chisox for Lary, 5-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers took their two-game American League lead onto the road today, hoping to pick up some more ground in a three-game weekend series with the Orioles before invading New York for a key Fourth of July doubleheader with the second place New York Yankees.

* * *

The Detroiters' brief road trip — they return to Tiger Stadium July 7 — began with happy memories of yesterday's 5-2 decision over the red hot Chicago White Sox before 22,921 Detroit fans. The triumph came while the Yankees were having a day off.

Rookie shortstop Dick McAuliffe was presented with a wrist watch yesterday in pre-game ceremonies for being the most valuable player in the American Association in May. That was before the Tigers tapped him for major league duty.

The newly-arrived infielder then ran his hitting streak to nine games as he came up with the big wallop — a seventh inning two-run triple — that broke up a 2-all tie game and gave the Tigers their win yesterday. Moments later he scampered home with the final run on Billy Bruton's sacrifice fly.

* * *

McAuliffe's drive, a towering fly ball that fell near the 400-foot mark in dead center, heped Frank Lary to his 11th win against four losses.

Larry, who had failed to finish his last two starts against the Yankees and Cleveland, was locked in a 2-2 pitching duel with the veteran Cal McLish through six innings until McAuliffe came to his aid.

* * *

Both pitchers had been touched for homers — Lary for a solo clout by Floyd Robinson (No. 5) in the fourth inning and McLish for a two-run blast by Bruton (No. 7) in the third inning.

Jake Wood opened the Tiger seventh with a drive off the left field wall and when outfielder Minnie Minoso — whose 13-game hitting streak was snapped — threw wild, Wood took second. Catcher Mike Roarke topped out to the left of the pitching mound for an infield hit, sending Wood to third.

Manager Al Lopez of the White Sox decided that the 95 degree heat was too much for McLish and he called on his ace reliefer, Turk Lown, to take over. Lown fanned Larry for out No. 1, but McAuliffe then came up with the big triple.

* * *

The White Sox, whose 12-game winning streak was snapped by the Tigers Wednesday, thus had to settle for a split of the four-game series. It left the Chicagoans with a record of 19 wins in their last 22 games and they were hopeful of starting a new winning streak as they set out for Los Angeles and the opener of a series tonight.

Jim Bunning (7-6) will work for the Tigers tonight at Baltimore.

Scandal Grand Jury Gets New Extension

NEW YORK (AP) — Extension of the grand jury term to Dec. 29 increased speculation today that District Attorney Frank Hogan's investigation of fixes in college basketball would move on to college football.

The DA's office, as usual, would make no comment or expand on the announcement of the third extension of the grand jury's term, which came in the wake of the indictment of New York lawyer Charles Tucker as a ninth alleged fixer in the three-month old basketball mess.

* * *

Reports, however, have been circulating that football would—or has—come under scrutiny ever since the arrest of convicted football fixer Aaron Wagman of New York as a basketball manipulator back on March 17.

Wagman, since indicted on 37 counts of bribery and attempted bribery in the basketball scandal, was free on bail when Hogan first moved. The 28-year-old New Yorker was preparing an appeal from his conviction in Jacksonville, Fla., on charges of trying to bribe a Florida football player for a game with Florida State last September.

Dave Budin, another alleged basketball fixer and former Brooklyn College player, last fall was arrested in Michigan after a University of Oregon halfback reported a bribe attempt concerning Oregon's football game with the University of Michigan. Bribery charges against Budin eventually were dismissed but he was convicted on a charge of registering under a false name at a motel.

* * *

Thursday's basketball disclosures, which brought the current scandal to a count-down of 37 players from 22 colleges involving 48 games, named Tucker on three counts of bribery and one of conspiracy involving players from Connecticut, Detroit, Columbia and New York University. The indictment of Tucker, who played basketball at Kalamazoo, Mich., College in 1956, also described an alleged attempt to reach players at the University of Oregon.

Named were Charlie North and John Morgan, the No.'s 2 and 3 scorers last season for the University of Detroit; and James Granata, 21, of New York, a substitute for Oregon in 1959 and 1960.

Hogan said Lou Barshak, Michael Siegel and Budin—all of the New York area—conspired to bribe North and Morgan for $1,000 a game for four games, including one with top-ranked Ohio State.

Pittman Hurls One-Hitter

Sarko Investment's Bill Pittman hurled a one-hit shutout to beat St. Joseph Hospital 4-0, Big Bear Construction hammered the Northend Rockets 11-2 and St. Paul Lutheran defeated Stadium Inn 12-9 in Continental League softball play last night.

Pittman walked three and struck out 10. His mates got only three singles off Mike Montgomery but they all came in the 3rd inning when the runs were scored.

Gene Lund of Big Bear had a one-hitter until allowing another and both runs in the 7th. Jim Wheatley belted a two-run homer and Dick Smith had a solo clout in the victory. St. Paul came from behind twice and then broke a tie with three in the 8th on four hits including the 3rd for Al Campbell.

* * *

Dixie Bar rallied from a 3-0 deficit to take State Hospital 5-3 in and International contest. A three-run 5th highlighted by Ray White's double and a triple Bruce Coryell won it.

A National makeup tilt tonight will match Griff's Grill and Pontiac Police at Northside at 7.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

People with healthy backs who go to bed on soft "comfy" mattresses should appreciate that privilege in view of Joe Campbell's predicament.

Campbell, whose four-under-par 68 grabbed the first-round lead Thursday in the Buick Open golf tournament at Warwick Hills, doesn't havethings so comfortable when he retires.

Joe, it seems, lies down on a six-foot plywood board when it's time to have some shuteye. This is under doctor's orders, you understand.

An ailing back has plagued Campbell for the past year and it's no doubt affected his play on the PGA tour. After a fast start on the circuit, his production—and money—have taken a sharp drop.

Joe had back troubles during his college days at Purdue University where he starred in basketball as well as golf. But it wasn't until this year that his back really began to bother him.

Early this year he bent over his son's bed to pick him up and found that he was unable to straighten up. This little incident put his back in traction for a four-day period.

During his college career, his back would bother him on occasions on the basketball court, especially if he landed wrong on his feet following a jump.

At that time his trouble was diagnosed as a "sacroliac condition" but now Joe's doctors know that this isn't the case. They've discovered that he has an unusual bone structure on his spine and this results in various complications for the blonde toe-head.

His difficulties can be corrected through surgery but physicians recommend that the operation not be undertaken until the age of 30 or older. Campbell is 25.

Joe has tried his hand at many different occupations during the years, including a fling at selling cars in Knoxville, Tenn., and a whirl as an insurance salesman.

Right now the 1955 NCAA champion is trying to make a comeback on the tour. His biggest claim to fame on the tour to date is a $12,500 ace, but Joe wants to be remembered for more than just a profitable hole-in-one. A tournament victory or two would certainly help.

In the meantime, when Campbell goes to bed—he sleeps on wood.

MORE BUICK NOTES

Jerry Barber's comment on Mike Souchak's first round: "I never saw anyone play so lousy and score so well." Souchak scrambled to a 70.

Buick will award a check for $5,500 to any pro scoring a hole-in-one in the tourney . . . A strong crosswind bothered the entire field yesterday, particularly on Warwick's tough par three holes . . . Bob Duden, professional from Portland, Ore., was arousing much interest Thursday with his croquet-style putting . . . Duden calls his specially-made putter the "Dude" and he putts just like you would shoot a croquet ball.

MORE WESTERN NOTES

Who said the modern touring pro was a slowpoke? In the final round of the Western Open at Grand Rapids' Blythefield Country Club, Bob Rosburg and Al Atkins whizzed around the course in one hour and 48 minutes, which probably stands as a new PGA record.

Bob Goetz' closing 63 was the 2nd in Western Open history. Dr. Cary Middlecoff shot a finishing 63 in the 1955 Western at Portland, Ore. There's one big difference between the two scores—Middlecoff won the tourney with his scorching effort while Goetz tied for 7th place.

DOG'S NOT INTERESTED—Mrs. Jack (Lynn) Fleck and son Craig watch intently as their favorite professional golfer putts on the 18th green to complete his first round Thursday in the Buick Open at Warwick Hills. Their toy poodle appears to be a disinterested bystander. Fleck shot 77.

Only Two Match Par in Open for Women

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It was a battle of survival today as the 82 pros and amateurs competing in the 16th annual women's National Open Golf Championship went into the second round. The field is due to be cut to the low 40 and ties by nightfall for the final two rounds Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Based on the opening round scores Thursday it appeared a 36-hole total of 164 might make it, so rugged is the 6,372-yard, par 36-36—72 yard Baltusrol Lower Course with its rolling, tree- and placid ponds.

Only two players were able to match par in the first round and only 17 of the 82 starters could break 80. The 80 or over performers included such tournament-seasoned pros as Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge, Betty Jameson, Patty Berg and Beverly Hanson.

Mickey Wright, whose powerful driving astonished nobody, and JoAnn Prentice, whose long tee shots astonished even herself, were the par shooters on a sunny, humid day. Mickey, second to Louise Suggs as top money winner this year, had 37-35—72, and JoAnn, a slim sharpshooter who has yet to win a tournament in five years as a pro, carded a like score.

Both the par shooters combined accuracy with their long game. Each hit 15 greens. Miss Wright had three birdies and three bogies, Miss Prentice two bogies and two birdies. JoAnn sank a birdie putt on the final green to earn her tie.

Two amateurs and defending champion Betsy Rawls were tied two strokes behind the leaders.

Sally Sharp Regains Title

The Forest Lake shotmaker fired a one under par 75 over the Detroit Country Club's north course to win the Women's District Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament for the third time.

Miss Sharp downed Mrs. John Hume, the defending champion, by one stroke with a 237 total. Mrs. Hume, of the Essex Country Club in Windsor, had gone into the final round with a five-stroke advantage. She fired an 81 Thursday.

Winner of the tournament in 1958 and 1959, Miss Sharp has had difficulty with her game until this tournament.

Mrs. Samuel Gawne of Bloomfield Hills finished in a tie for fourth with a 248. Mrs. Bruce Hilkene of Indianwood Country Club was seventh with 256.

Mays Leads Giants into Second Place

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays is back to beltin' the ball again, and the San Francisco Giants are back in second place in the National League race.

Since Manager Al Dark gave Mays a rest 10 days ago (the day the Giants dropped to third), Willie has batted a fat .442 for 11 games with 19 hits — seven of them homers—in 43 at-bats. He's knocked in 12 runs in that span.

★ ★ ★

Mays, no longer the "Say Hey" kid who became a star overnight a decade ago, but still a guy who says "I just like to go out and play," looked like he was ready for another rest when he went 1-for-7 in the Giants' 7-7, 15-inning tie at Philadelphia Wednesday night. But Willie walloped the bejabbers out of that idea.

The amazin' Mays rapped six hits, five for extra bases, and drove in seven runs as the Giants from the Phils Thursday night. Willie hit three homers in the opener, winning it 8-7 in the 10th with the 299th home run of his major league career. Then he tagged a triple and a double in the 4-1 second game victory.

★ ★ ★

That put the Giants in second place by .002 percentage points over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost 4-2 at Pittsburgh. It also put the Giants within 2½ games of first place Cincinnati, after the Reds dropped their third in a row, 15-8, to the Chicago Cubs in the only other NL game scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Mays upped his batting average 13 points to 331 in the sweep and drove in five runs with his three homers in the opener. His first two, both two-run shots, were off reliever Dallas Green and gave the Giants a 4-4 tie after three innings. He won it with his 20th home run of the season, off of Frank Sullivan (3-8).

In the second game, Mays tripled home the Giants' first run as they scored three in the fourth inning off loser Art Mahaffey (7-8) Ed Bailey capped the burst with a homer. Billy Loes (5-5), winless for more than a month and knocked out as a reliever in the opener, took the nightcap with a five-hitter.

Lehman started, gave up a single and a walk—and left. O'Dell started for the Giants, faced one man (who singled)—and gave way to Jones in a four-run first. Juan Marichal (6-4), working in relief for the first time, was the winner.

The seventh place Cubs, who lost only the opener of the four-game series, kissed the Reds goodbye with 17 hits, four of the hits homers, and beat Jim Maloney (4-4). Don Cardwell (7-5), was the winner, although giving up 11 of Cincinnati's 12 hits, including three home runs. Cardwell slugged one of the Cubs' homers along with Billy Williams, Al Heist and George Altman — who was 8-for-13 in the last three games and now leads the NL with a .352 average.

★ ★ ★

Earl Francis (1-2) and reliever Elroy Face checked the Dodgers on three hits while the Pirates, blanked on four hits for seven innings, came from behind and beat Sandy Koufax (10-4) with four runs in the eighth. The rally began with two out, after Koufax added his 10th and 11th strike-outs. Bill Virdon and Johnny Logan singled and scored on a tieing double by Roberto Clemente before reliever Larry Sherry came on and gave up a clinching single by Dick Stuart and a triple by Don Hoak.

★ ★ ★

All three Dodger hits were off Francis, who struck out 10 in his eight innings, and gave up both runs on three walks and a single inning.

McKinley and Crawford Roll On at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON (AP) — America's main hope in the 75th Wimbledon Tennis Championships is husky Chuck McKinley, who says he's sworn off throwing tennis rackets and plans to win titles from now on.

McKinley, 20, from St. Louis, was suspended for six months after a racket throwing episode in the Davis Cup Inter-Zone finals in Australia last year. But looking every inch the serene young gent, he has progressed to the last 16 of this name pulling tournament showing virtually no temperament at all.

★ ★ ★

Recalling his suspension by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, Chuck said: "Sometimes I don't know whether that was necessary or not.

"But this is for sure. It's all in the past. I don't throw tennis rackets any more."

Chuck added: "I think we have a lot of very good players over here, all capable of playing good tennis. None of them has ever won the big tournaments but they're all tough to beat."

This assessment has been borne out by the week's events. McKinley Thursday reached the last 16 with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2 triumph over Poland's Vladimir Gasiorek.

Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., upset all the odds by spilling Italy's third-seeded Nicola Pietrangeli 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

Crawford and McKinley are the only American representatives left in the men's singles, but other Americans have provided most of this tournament's major shocks.

Mimi Arnold's contribution Thursday was elimination of Australia's fourth seeded Lesley Turner 7-5, 6-4. And long after the gates close on this championship, Whitney Reed's gallant losing fight against the reigning champion Neale Fraser of Australia plus Nancy Richey's near miss against second seeded Australian Margaret Smith earlier in the week will be remembered.

★ ★ ★

There have been disappointments, too, from the American point of view. California's Dennis Ralston was two sets up against Michael Sangster of Britain Thursday and then lost in five sets. Another Californian, Bill Bond, had match point against Billy Knight of Britain in the 10th game of their fourth set and also let the chance slip.

Raston, 18, was beaten 6-8, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 and Bond, also 18, went down 12-10, 5-7, 2-6, 9-7 6-0.

Take on Tigers in Three-Game Series at Home

Orioles Have Won Five Straight, 10 of Last 14 Contests

By The Associated Press

The first place Detroit Tigers, after chilling Chicago's White Sox now run into the Baltimore Orioles, who happen to be the hottest team of the moment in the American League.

The Birds are perched in fourth place, 7½ games behind the Tigers and just a half game out of third. But after winning eight of their last nine, the Orioles will be bucking a Memorial Stadium jinx as well as the league leaders when they return home for the opener of a three-game set with Detroit tonight.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore has only a 15-19 record at home, while playing 25-15 ball on the road. The Tigers, 4-1 over the Orioles in the season series, are 3-0 at Baltimore.

The Orioles ended a 10-4 road trip by winning their fifth in a row Thursday night beating Kansas City and bonus baby Lew Krausse 6-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Dick Hall.

Detroit handed the White Sox a second straight loss, 5-2, for a two-game bulge over the idle New York Yankees. Third place Cleveland dropped six games behind with a 3-1 loss to Washington, the Indians' 10th defeat in 12 games. Boston beat Minnesota 9-5.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles came from behind against Krausse (1-2), the $125,000 right-hander who gave up eight hits and five earned runs in 5⅓ innings. A single by Jim Gentile and an error tied it 2-all in the fifth inning, and Baltimore then broke it up with a four-run sixth triggered by Russ Snyder's two-run triple.

Hall (4-3) a right-hander acquired from Kansas City in a trade, walked but one and struck out eight while putting away his second two-hitter of the season. The walk and Wayne Causey's double scored a run in the third inning, and the A's made it 2-0 in the fourth on a single by Jerry Lumpe and a three-base error by Marv Throneberry.

★ ★ ★

Washington clipped Cleveland on home runs by Billy Klaus and Marty Keough behind the six-hit pitching of winner Johnny Gabler (3-2) and reliever Dave Sisler. Wynn Hawkins (5-7) was the loser for the Indians, who scored in the seventh inning on two errors.

Frank Malzone hit a pair of home runs for the Red Sox, one a three-run shot that clinched it as they came from behind with six runs in the fifth inning off Bert Cueto (0-3). Arnie Early, recalled the day before from Seattle, was the winner in relief.

Second Place Teams Gain at Waterford

Second place teams closed in on the leaders last night in Waterford softball play.

Pontiac Rockcote moved to within a half game of first place by downing front running Hobby Painting 8-3 in National League action. Stroh's is now the same distance out of first in the American after clipping Five Spot, 6-4. Spencer Floor Covering is first.

Harold Johnson paced Rockote's easy triumph over Hobby with a double and two singles. He batted in three runs.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning shot Stroh's past Five Spot. Bill York of the losers was the top hitter with a double and two singles.

State Boxers Rated

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Two Michigan boxers were listed today in the National Boxing Association's monthly ratings.

Kenny Lane of Muskegon was ranked eighth in the lightweight division and Detroit's Teddy Wright was rated fifth among the welterweights.

Lane meets John Robertson in a bout at Muskegon tonight.

BIG SHOT — This trap shot gave Joe Campbell the first-round lead in the Buick Open at Warwick Hills. Campbell exploded from the bunker and holed it out from 25 feet for a birdie three at No. 18 to complete his opening round with a four-under-par 68 yesterday.

Piersall Fined $100 for Fight, Charge Hale $50

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Jim Piersall was fined $100 and teammate Bob Hale $50 by the American League for their actions in Sunday's fight with pitcher Jim Bunning of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Piersall started the disturbance after being hit on the wrist by a Bunning pitch. He charged out to the mound after Bunning and soon players from both sides were on the field in a wild scramble.

"I have to pay a hundred hogs," Piersall told newsmen Thursday night, "I'm gonna see Joe Cronin the American League president in Boston and tell him what I think."

★ ★ ★

Said Hale: "For 50 bucks I should have got my money's worth. I didn't land a punch."

Gladding Joins Tiger Pitchers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit pitcher Fred Gladding, 25, Thursday from their Denver farm club in the American Association. He will report at Baltimore Friday.

To make room for him, the Tigers optioned pitcher Jerry Casale to Denver.

★ ★ ★

Gladding, who lives in Flat Rock, Mich., has been in the minors for six years and has had a couple of spring training tryouts with the Tigers. This will be his first time on a major league roster.

★ ★ ★

He has a 7-2 record and a 2.70 earned run average at Denver this year.

★ ★ ★

Casale was acquired from Los Angeles recently. He had no decisions with the Tigers and had a 1-5 record at Los Angeles. Casale was used mostly in relief in Detroit.

Back Ailment Fails to Stop Bosox Pitcher

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Left-hander Arnold Earley was one of the most promising pitchers in the Boston Red Sox training camp last spring, but he just couldn't seem to get started.

Plagued with a sore, stiff back, the 28-year-old prospect finally learned from doctors that he had a curvature of the spine—"simply three vertebrae grown together."

"You'll never pitch again," the doctors told him.

This he refused to accept, and his brilliant relief performance Thursday wrapped up one of baseball's most astonishing recovery stories as he posted his first major league victory—a 9-5 decision over the Minnesota Twins.

First String Runners

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns completed the signing of their first string backfield today when quarterback Milt Plum and halfback Bobby Mitchell accepted terms for the 1961 season.

Cawley Tops NCAA Report

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rex Cawley, University of Southern California sophomore, topped National Collegiate individual track and field statistics for 1961, the NCAA's final report for the spring campaign showed today.

Cawley, from Farmington, Mich., had the best time in the 220-yard low hurdles, a :22.5 clocking, to edge Ray Cunningham of Texas and Ron Ablowich of Georgia Tech by one-tenth of a second. His :49.9 was fastest for the 400-meter hurdles.

★ ★ ★

The Southern California flash shared the 440-yard dash time of :46.2 with Earl Young of Abilene-Christian and Adolph Plummer, New Mexico's NCAA champion. Cawley also anchored USC's mile relay team to an intercollegiate record of 3:07.6, matched later by Abilene Christian.

Ralph Boston of Tennesse A&I, world record holder in the broad jump, was first in two events and barely missed surpassing Cawley when his :22.2 in the 220 low hurdles at the Pelican Relays was disallowed because of excessive wind.

During the spring competition Boston set a world record of 27½ feet in the broad jump and was fastest in the 120-yard highs at :13.7.

All 10 pole vaulters listed cleared heights of 15 feet or better. George Davies, Oklahoma State sophomore, bettered the world record at 15-10¼ in the Big Eight meet in Boulder, Colo.

Athletes in Red on Russian Trip

NEW YORK (NEA)—The finest athletes in the world, representing the richest country ever known, will once again make shoddy appearances where they will do the most harm to the U. S.

Because a willfull group of American Colonel Blimps insist on keeping their feet firmly planted in the past, our guys are going to dual meets in Moscow, Stuttgart, London and Warsaw, July 15-29, second class and without full strength.

The stuffed shirts in charge of our amateur runners, walkers, jumpers, throwers and strong boys obviously are not aware that the day of the dollar steak dinner, 25 cent haircut, five cent fare and nickelodeon are long gone forever. That's the only conclusion that can be drawn from their niggardly treatment of the sterling competitors who are under their self-imposed dictatorship.

By international agreement, traveling athletes who are not fed as a group are allowed only eight dollars a day for meals and two dollars for incidentals and walking around money. This will barely buy a decent steak and tip the surly servitor, who fetches it in New York.

★ ★ ★

Because the Amateur Athletic Union is cutting corners, eight young men who in the National Championships qualified to represent this country will not appear in Russia, July 15-16; West Germany, July 18-19; England, July 21-22; and Poland, July 28-29.

Three are champions and the one-two finishers in the shotput, Dallas Long and Parry O'Brien, and the hammer throw, Harold Connolly and Al Hall, are included. The other titltholder is Ronnie Morris, the 15-8 pole vaulter.

The reasons in most cases are purely financial. The men simply cannot afford to take a month off from their jobs.

But Al Oerter, the two-time Olympic discus champion who finished second to Jay Silvester in the national meet, gives you another reason.

★ ★ ★

"I don't want any trips where the AAU is concerned," says Oerter, a junior executive with an aircraft engineering corporation on Long Island. "They're not for the athletes. They give you a runaround and the accommodations are terrible. There are many other athletes who feel the same way, but won't say so."

The huge Oerter, who has been there before, spoke of five-foot beds at the Leningradski Hotel in Moscow and the Russian food. Connolly and Morris commented on the AAU flying the athletes and customary freeloaders on a propeller plane instead of a costlier and much faster jet.

The European junket points out the fact that it is time for the AAU brass to liberalize amateur allowances and awaken to the higher cost of living.

The excuse often given for the miserly treatment is that the AAU hasn't the money to treat the lads and lassies like the high class athletes they are. A smattering of good promotion would remedy this situation in no time.

★ ★ ★

American athletes should go first class, or not at all.

Michigan Archer in Second Place at NFAA Shoot

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—Carl Heinrich, former National Field Archery Association champion from Richmond, Mich., was second in the men's instinctive division of the NFAA tournament after the second day of competition here.

Heinrich gained briefly on the division leader, Lon Stanton, of Lake Ozark, Mo., then slipped back when Stanton shot a score of 966 to break Heinrich's record of 928, set in 1959.

Robert J. Kadlec, of Rochester, Minn., held a slim lead of 1537 to 1513 over Gene Ellis, of Elkhart, Ind., in the men's free style division. Ellis is well known in Michigan archery circles, having won several state tournaments.

BOSTON (UPI) — K. C. Jones of the Boston Celtics is one of the few collegians ever drafted for both pro football and basketball. The Los Angeles Rams once had the gridiron rights to the Celt star.

St. Louis Will Have New Sports Stadium

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The way has been cleared for an $89 million downtown sports stadium here with the announcement by an insurance company executive of a $31 million loan commitment.

★ ★ ★

Major item in the project is a 50,000-seat stadium, to be the home of the St. Louis baseball and football Cardinals.

Hamtramck Tennis Ace in Girls Final Today

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—Peaches Bartkowicz, a 12-year-old from Hamtramck, Mich., today faced top-seeded Susan Gerber, of Middletown, Ohio, for the 15-year title of the Southern Girls Tennis Tournament.

Peaches yesterday defeated Becky West, of Jackson, Mich., 6-4, 6-2, to win the 13-year title. Miss Gerber, meanwhile, was teaming with Jean Evans, Belton, S.C., to win the 15-year division doubles crown.

Big Black Bass Almost Causes Fatal Accident

CADILLAC (UPI) — A strike by a four pound bass almost cost Mr. and Mrs. Camillio Bissomette of Saginaw their lives last weekend.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bissomette hooked the fish while they were in a boat on the south shore of Lake Mitchell.

When her retired husband stood up in the boat to net the fish the boat capsized.

★ ★ ★

Two Cadillac men fishing nearby in separate boats rowed to the rescue. Bill Gorham rescued the unconscious Mrs. Bissomette and her husband was saved by Carroll Nichols.

Mrs. Bissomette was revived by a resuscitator and admitted to Mercy hospital for observation.

Cadillac deputy sheriff Bob Hill later rowed out to retrieve the capsized boat. He found the fishing rod, with bass still hooked, inside the boat.

Rain in Northwest Brings Grain Sales

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was mostly mixed in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

★ ★ ★

Some light scattered overnight moisture in the drought-stricken Northwest and a forecast for additional light amounts brought selling of wheat and feed grains into the pits.

In wheat, scattered commission house buying encountered hedge selling. There was some early demand for soybeans, but buying interest was not great.

In corn, government selling of the cash product continued to weigh on the futures market. The mostly of a local character. Receipts of corn at Chicago today totaled 118 cars.

★ ★ ★

Weekly Car Output to Top '60 1st Time

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car production this week will exceed the comparable week of 1960 for the first time this year, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

★ ★ ★

The statistical service estimated output at 126,389 cars this week against 125,868 in the similar week of last year. Production last week totaled 128,216 cars.

Truck production was estimated at 25,323 compared with 22,906 last week and 23,825 last year.

★ ★ ★

Ward's said car production for June ran about 62,000 units, best of the year but about 8.3 per cent behind June of last year.

New Trial Ordered for Arthur Mooney

A new trial has been ordered by the State Supreme Court for former Waterford Township teacher Arthur C. Mooney, who was convicted two years ago in Oakland County Circuit Court of gross indecency with one of his students.

★ ★ ★

The high court yesterday reversed a May 6, 1959 jury conviction and sided with Carlton S. Roeser, Mooney's attorney who argued that the prosecutor should not have been allowed to introduce testimony regarding the teacher's behavior with youths other than the one who filed the complaint.

★ ★ ★

"The impact upon the jury of this evidence was unquestionably considerable," said Justice Harry Kelly in a unanimous opinion.

Mooney, who was sentenced to 2 to 5 years after the conviction, also faced a similar morals charge in Edmonton, Alberta.

Market Getting Duller, Duller

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market slipped even further into indifference early this afternoon as the Independence Day weekend approached. Prices were mixed.

Most prices showed fractional changes as trading became progressively duller. The stock exchange will be open on Monday but many Wall Streeters were obviously preparing to make this a four-day weekend.

A few stocks responded to special news or developments but the trend was mixed among motors, oils, chemicals, rails, utilities and aircraft. Tobaccos leaned to the upside and steels showed a slightly lower tendency.

The business news background reflected a continued improvement but the Washington hearings on a possible stock trading investigation continued to produce hesitancy.

★ ★ ★

The international tension over the shiekdom of Wuwait where Gulf Oil has large interests continued to upset this stock which was fractionally lower on a big opener of 1,000 shares and stretched its loss to nearly a point in later trades.

International Nickel provided a spark on the upside as it advanced well over a point following news that it had boosted the price of refined nickel.

National Airlines rose on successive blocks of 3,600 and 4,000 shares, later extending its advance to more than a point. Street sources said an advisory service had recommended purchase of this issue to a special account.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in slow trading. Mead Johnson picked up a couple of points while Beau Brummel and All-State properties rose more than a point each. Losses were shown by Wilson Brothers, Stelma and Electronic Assistance, the latter off more than a point.

Won't Discuss Report on DMA

Leaders Admit Move On to Settle Affairs of Downtown Merchants

Mainstays at the Downtown Merchants Association (DMA) meeting today to round out the association's books, declined comment on reports that the group has decided to disband.

★ ★ ★

But leaders conceded there is a move now to settle the association's financial affairs, indicating the group might become dormant if not disbanded.

It was reported that last week the association voted to break up. Lack of operating capital was listed as a factor.

Formed in 1957 as an outgrowth of the now defunct Pontiac Retail Merchants Association, the DMA membership averaged 60 to 70 representatives of downtown retail outlets.

★ ★ ★

The group sponsored many important downtown features including Christmas decorations and street lighting. The more than 200 American flags that lined Saginaw and Huron Streets during the Centennial celebration were a DMA contribution. They were purchased this spring.

One of the most successful promotions of the DMA came last fall when Downtown Farm Days and Downtown Festival Days were combined during a September sales period.

The group also sponsored Downtown Tempest Days in honor of Pontiac Motor Division's new automobile.

★ ★ ★

Other annual sales events included Downtown Back to School Days and Downtown Spring Value Days.

Tense Students Turn Car Into Sloppy Jalopy

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Ever had that feeling during mid-term exams of wanting to bust someone? East Mecklenburg High School students found a good way of letting off steam.

★ ★ ★

During the examination period the school's Hi-Y Club towed an old jalopy onto the grounds and allowed students and teachers to take a swing at it — for a price.

A swing with a full-sized sledge hammer cost 15 cent (four swings for four bits); a wallop with a medium-sized sledge hammer cost a dime. For the girls, a solid thump with an ordinary hammer was five cents. The money went for a club project.

Scotch Prices Irritate Scots

Duty Increases Shoot Shot's Cost to Double Its Retail Value

LONDON (UPI) — When Scots toss back a slug of scotch they pay the British government about double the actual retail price of their whisky for the privilege. Across the border Britons get the same treatment.

Now, after six duty increases on the spirits since 1939, the industry says that scotch is so "punitively and rapaciously taxed" that home demand may sag and send the business into a slump.

Despite the heavy tax there is still a very considerable thirst for the drink in these islands, but the Scotch Whisky Association says that at current prices the home market cannot absorb all the scotch available for release.

★ ★ ★

A recession in scotch would mean unemployment and a loss of revenue both at home and abroad.

The men who make and sell scotch have come out with this in the hope of getting the attention of the chancellor of the exchequer. His April budget program normally sets the tax pattern on such items.

Today the Customs and Excise Department rakes in $29.50 on every proof gallon.

On each bottle sold retail it works out this way: the government takes $3.45 of the normal price of $5.25. This leaves only costs — including the whisky itself.

★ ★ ★

The United States is easily the biggest single foreign market and board of trade figures put the value of combined scotch and Irish whisky exported there last year at nearly $100.8 million.

Youth, 18, Told It to the Marines —by Mistake

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Sgt. Charles Blasi, Marine recruiter, almost had decided the recruiting business was getting pretty easy.

An 18-year-old lad walked into the Marine recruiting station, adjacent to the selective service office, and announced:

"I want to sign up."

"Don't you want me to explain anything about the Marines to you first?" Blasi inquired.

"No, I just want to sign up," the youth said.

Blasi told the youngster he would have to take a test. The youth looked a bit skeptical, then sat down and took the examination. He passed it.

"It's the first time I ever knew you had to pass a test to sign up for the draft," the boy said.

Blasi sadly tore up the examination paper and directed the youth to the nearby selective service office.

No Gum to Keep Mum

DENVER (AP)—Colorado barbers no longer can hand out free gum to small boys as an inducement to sit still. It's unsanitary, the State Board of Barber Examiners ruled.

One Satellite Working Okay; Two Sticking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today two of the three satellites fired aloft in a single rocket Wednesday night apparently have not separated and thus are working at reduced efficiency.

The third—the Navy's experimental navigational satellite Transit 4A—has separated and is "working perfectly," the announcement said.

"Signals received from Injun and GREB satellites indicate that they have not separated from one another, although Transit 4A has separated from the other two," the Navy said.

★ ★ ★

The 55-pound sphere called GREB was designed to measure X-ray radiation from the sun.

The Injun, a 40-pound drum-shaped vehicle, was sent up to measure radiation in what are called the Van Allen Belts around the earth.

Chrysler Missile Plant to Test Saturn Parts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported today it has adarded Chrysler Corp.'s Missile Division a $1,227,138 contract for testing of engines and structural components of the Saturn Missile.

The work will be done at the Chrysler plant in Sterling Township, Macomb County, and at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

The first books printed by hand-set type were known as incunabula, the Latin word for cradle. They were printed before 1501 A. D. Some of these "cradel books" are still in circulation.

Resume Talks at Baldwin as Strike Deadline Nears

A strike deadline loomed as contract negotiations resumed today between management and labor representatives of Baldwin Rubber Co.

★ ★ ★

The strike, affecting some 550 of the company's 650 employes, is scheduled to begin at 7 a.m., tomorrow, when the present one-year contract expires, according to Michael McAleer, president of Local 125, United Auto Workers.

But McAleer, heading toward the 10 a.m. negotiating session at Hotel Waldron, expressed some optimism that the strike might be avoided.

"I think we may be able to settle on a contract today," he said. McAleer said the local is asking the company to follow the pattern of benefits set in the industry this year.

★ ★ ★

He said the pattern involves raises of 3½ cents an hour the first year and 4 cents the second.

PREXY HEADS TEAM

The company team was headed by Milo D. McLintock, newly elected as president of the Baldwin Rubber Division of the new Baldwin-Montrose Chemical Co.

McLintock and McAleer both scoffed at reports that the Pontiac plant might shut down as an aftermath of the recent merger with Montrose Chemical Co. of Newark, N.J. and Centlivre Brewing Corp. of Fort Wayne, Ind.

"There's nothing to these reports," said McLintock, who held the post of president of Baldwin Rubber before the merger.

McAleer said that recent improvements to the South Boulevard plant and installation of new machinery indicated to him that the factory would remain in operation.

★ ★ ★

Both sides agreed that a possible cutback in the labor force was not a factor in the present negotiations.

But McLintock foresaw that "reductions may be necessary as a result of a fall off" in business.

★ ★ ★

Harry M. Pryale, who served as chairman of the board of Baldwin Rubber Co., has now been elected vice president of the Baldwin-Montrose Chemical Co.

Kennedy Orders Prison Release of Sick Commie

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today ordered the release from prison of Henry Winston, former organizational secretary of the Communist party, U.S.A.

★ ★ ★

The Justice Department explained that Kennedy commuted Winston's sentence to the time he has served, because Winston is blind and faces possible surgery for a brain tumor.

Winston is one of 11 top Communists convicted in 1949 of conspiracy to teach and advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

★ ★ ★

He went into hiding and failed to surrender in 1951 to begin a five-year sentence imposed on him. After he finally surrendered March 5, 1956, he was given an additional three-year term for contempt because of his flight. The Justice Department said he would have completed serving his sentence, with credit for good behavior, on Jan. 4, 1962.

Sues Distributor of Fireworks

County Man Says Son Was Injured; Company Denies Sale

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A West Bloomfield Township man, who claims his 8-year-old son was severely injured by an exploding firecracker, is seeking $170,000 damages from a Toledo fireworks distributor.

★ ★ ★

Charles B. Rudell, 4154 Blackburn Drive, filed suit in U. S. District Court Thursday against the Sunset Fireworks Co., 4625 Detroit Ave.

Rudell claims a firecracker exploded in the hands of his son, Charles Jr., two years ago.

As a result, all five fingers on his right hand and the thumb and index finger on his left hand had to be amputated, the petition states. The boy also suffered chest, face and eye injuries, Rudell contends.

The father said the fireworks were sold by Sunset to a John Owens, and they came into possession of a John Girk on July 1, 1959.

★ ★ ★

On the date, Rudell contends, Girk left a firecracker on the ground, where the Rudell youngster found it along with a lighted cigarette. The petition claims the firecracker exploded when the boy attempted to light it with the cigarette.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Alma Cicerella, vice president of Cicerella Co., of which Sunset is a division, denied any responsibility. She said Sunset sells fireworks only in wholesale lots for public displays or to other wholesalers.

Claim GM Position Due to Own Financing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Witnesses told a House judiciary subcommittee Thursday that General Motors Corp's strong competitive position in the auto field is due in great part to the fact that it owns its own financing subsidiary.

★ ★ ★

Thurmon Arnold, a former head of the antitrust division of the U.S. Dept. of Justice, said GM has "life and death power" over its dealers, and is immune from antitrust laws because of the subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

The House subcommittee is considering a bill by Rep. Celler, D-N. Y., that would make it illegal for an auto firm to finance or insure its own products.

U. S. and Russia Halt Arms Talks Until July 17

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and Russia today adjourned the "first phase" of their talks designed to arrange East-West general disarmament negotiations later this summer.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger announced that the discussions here had ended and that they would be resumed in Moscow July 17.

Salinger made the announcement shortly after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin called on President Kennedy for what was described as a "courtesy" visit connected with the disarmament talks.

★ ★ ★

Zorin was accompanied to the White House by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and John J. McCloy, Kennedy's disarmament adviser who has been meeting with the Russian delegate.

JFK, Family to Leave for Long 4th Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and his family fly to Hyannis Port, Mass., this afternoon for a long Fourth of July holiday weekend at their Cape Cod home.

Kennedy plans to return to Washington next Wednesday morning. Mrs. Kennedy will not return to the capital until July 11 and their children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 7 months, may remain on the Cape for the rest of the summer.

Other members of the Kennedy family, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, also will spend the weekend at Hyannis Port. The President's physician, Dr. Janet Travell, will accompany him.

Merger Is Approved

DALLAS (AP) — Stockholders of Chance Vought Corp. and Ling-Temco Electronics today approved a merger of the firms into a $195-million diversified aerospace concern. The shareholders held separate meetings.

Social Security Bill Is Inked

JFK Signs Measure 'With Great Pleasure' Benefiting 4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed "with great pleasure" legislation increasing Social Security benefits for about 4,420,000 Americans and permitting men to draw their benefits at the age of 62.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said the new amendments will make the Social Security System "a more effective instrument for the well-being of our people."

Only seven members of Congress, members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, showed up for the ceremony.

"You must be the only members of Congress left in Washington," Kennedy remarked, alluding to the Fourth of July holiday that has all but shut the Capitol down.

The bill cleared both the House and Senate Thursday with little debate after Senate-House conferees had resolved differences in the various bills passed earlier by both chambers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 4,420,000 Americans would draw larger Social Security benefits.

Men would be permitted to draw them at 62, instead of waiting until they reach 65. Women already may do so.

REDUCED BENEFITS

If a man chooses to retire at 62 he'll receive for the rest of his life 80 per cent of the benefits he would get if he waited until 65. If he retires sometime between 62 and 65 he will receive a pension proportionately larger than 80 per cent.

The new program is expected to cost $825 million in its first year. This is to be met by an increase in the payroll tax. Both employer and employe will have to pay one-eighth of 1 per cent more on the first $4,800 of the employe's annual income. The self-employed will have to increase their Social Security tax by one-fifth of 1 per cent.

Harrelson Pleads Guilty in Assault

Leaun W. Harrelson pleaded guilty to assault and battery, stemming from a barroom scuffle with a woman, moments before his trial was scheduled to commence in Oakland County Circuit Court today.

★ ★ ★

Harrelson, 26, will be sentenced Aug. 14 by Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Now a resident of Chicago, Harrelson faces a maximum of 90 days in the county jail or $100 for tearing the dress off a woman in an Aug. 2, 1960 brawl in the Town and Country Bar, 1727 S. Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township.

He was convicted by a Justice Court jury, after an earlier Justice Court trial ended in a hung jury, and sentenced to 60 days in jail, fined $75 and assessed $25 court costs.

He appealed to Circuit Court.

Harrelson continued free on a $200 bond after the plea this morning.

Food Packaging Means Little to Pontiac Area Housewives

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Most Pontiac area housewives are not too concerned about food packaging. In fact, the majority questioned in a random telephone survey admitted rarely check weights.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. is presiding over a three-day hearing of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee dealing with packaging and labeling of products sold in grocery stores.

First witnesses have charged that consumers are being hoodwinked by deceptive packaging and labeling.

Mrs. Harry Powers, 114 Virginia St., said she didn't read labels too often, but that she would like weight in terms of even pounds, not odd fractions. She doesn't like prepackaged fish.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roger B. Ulrich of Drayton Plains looks for brand names she has come to rely on. But she would like more standardized packages.

DISLIKES PLASTIC

Mrs. Oliver Meredith, 399 Kenilworth, usually checks labels, but hadn't thought too much about the current flurry over deceptive packaging.

Mrs. Arthur Heaton, 74 Forest, doesn't like clear plastic packages that burst open at the slightest touch. She doesn't like to get a big package that is only partially filled. But she doesn't read labels too often.

Mrs. Wendell Wilkinson, 8982 Wise Road, Commerce, agrees with what the congressional group is trying to do, but doesn't pay too much attention to labeling. However, when her husband shops with her, he does.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Beecher Bevington, 121 Exmoore, says there is no such thing as an "economy" package. She often finds that two smaller packages give her more for less money than the advertised larger one.

NOT SPECIFIC

Mrs. Curtis Cheek, 61 W. Fairmount, says that labels are not always specific and she doesn't always know what she is getting. But she keeps looking until she finds a brand she knows and one on which she can rely.

The chief complaint of Mrs. Harvey Hahnefeld, 2129 South Hammond Drive, is that the printing on labels is too small and that she has to hunt all over a package some times to find the weight.

She would like larger numbers so that she doesn't waste time figuring out whether she is getting a bargain.

Mrs. George Morrow, 1426 Glenwood, isn't too upset about the problem. She has confidence in the governmental group controlling weights and measures.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norman Cheal, 2751 North Lake Drive, thinks that packaging is less deceiving than advertising. She thinks that stores play up giant, jumbo and economy sizes, making them sound like real bargains when they aren't.

A former home economist, she is also upset by some of the ingredients that go into foods like cookies.

Rocket Failure Stops Study of Space Dust

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) — Rocket failure apparently cut off today an effort to make the best study yet of the space dust that constitutes a possible lethal threat to spacemen.

A Scout rocket lifted off a seaside launching pad here at 12:06 p. m. (Pontiac time) in an apparently perfect launching.

On its nose rode an instrument package designed to learn more about the tiny space bullets that might erode or even puncture a space vehicle as they strike it at speeds up to 45 miles a second.

But at 12:19 p. m. the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the fourth stage of the booster failed to ignite.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said "it looks bad."

All four stages of the rocket were to have been fired in about eight minutes after the launching.

The first stage of the Scout appeared to perform perfectly. The second stage, according to plans, was to be fired at one minute and 16 seconds after the launching and it apparently behaved okay.

The third stage was due to ignite at two minutes and 20 seconds after the launching.

The 72-foot, 36,600-pound rocket was intended to put the 125-pound "micrometeoroid satellite" into an orbit ranging from 240 to 620 miles up.

Labor Market Quite Improved

Drop Nine Areas From Unemployment List and Add Only One

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improving job opportunities caused nine major labor market areas to be dropped this month from the labor department's list of areas of substantial unemployment. One was added.

Six other areas also showed significant improvement, although their unemployment rate remained above the 6 per cent level which marks the department's dividing line between substantial and moderate joblessness.

The labor department compiles the list each month from reports made by affiliated state employment security agencies.

★ ★ ★

Chicago and Cincinnati led the areas removed from substantial jobless lists after dropping below 6 per cent unemployment during the month, a report showed today. Others were Wilmington, Del.; Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Lansing, Mich.; Dayton, Ohio; and Kenosha and Racine, Wis.

Reading, Pa., moved in the other direction and was added to the substantial unemployment category.

Detroit, which had been in the top jobless group with more than 12 per cent unemployment, improved to the 9-12 per cent group, and these other cities were changed from 9-12 per cent to 6-9 per cent: Lowell, Mass.; Atlantic City, N.J.; and Battle Creek, Flint and Saginaw.

Find Boy Near Dead on Raft in Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Two dead men and a 14-year-old boy were found tossing on a raft on the Pacific Ocean 90 miles southwest of here today.

A fishing boat sent word by radio to the Coast Guard of the find and tentatively identified the boy as Terry McClellan, Huntington Beach, Calif. He had lashed the bodies of the two men to the raft, the message said.

Young McClellan was reported in a state of shock and near death from lack of food and water.

The radio message identified the dead men only as Bradford and an "Al."

It indicated they had been dead three days, Coast Guard Lt. Cmdr. Richard Ragan said.

Danish People Enjoying Every Minute of Life

By EARL WILSON

COPENHAGEN — The Danish Ladies still puff their cigars as they have for generations. Grayhaired ladies tilt cigars jauntily out of the corners of their mouths as they have tea at the great amusement park, the Tivoli.

WILSON

It still astonishes me — the thought of a beautiful young girl's kiss being cigar-flavored.

But here in this "Paris of Scandinavia," where blondes are really blondes and everybody sounds like Victor Borge, it continues—for there's nothing melancholy about the Danes in this year when trouble threatens Berlin.

"The Danes are entertainment-mad and spending furiously," is the word.

The hardier ones slug down aquavit-and-beer for breakfast, which is a potion even Toots Shor might find deadly.

On a Sunday afternoon, they rush to see the great Schumann one-ring circus, then swing over to Tivoli to feast on cotton candy, "Yankee style hamburgers," and open-faced sandwiches.

★ ★ ★

The point is that there's no tension among the Jensens, and no sweat among the Swedes about Mr. Khrushchev. There are so many American tourists in Europe that it's a joke. I heard one Swede quip, over his aquavit:

"When in Rome, do as the Americans do."

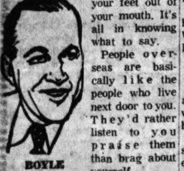
Tell People What They Want to Hear

How Not to Overstep Overseas

By HAL BOYLE



BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—So you're going abroad this summer, and you want to make friends.

Well, you can—that is, if you manage to keep your feet out of your mouth. It's all in knowing what to say.

People overseas are basically like the people who live next door to you. They'd rather listen to you praise them than brag about yourself.

They won't mind if you overdo it a bit. They understand exaggeration is a typical American trait.

* * *

Avoid making unfavorable comparisions. If you must speak about the United States, be humble. This will cause the startled natives to respect you—or conclude you are too ill or tired to brag. In any case they'll like you better.

SAMPLE GLOSSARY

Here is a sample glossary of the kind of remarks that will get you red carpet treatment abroad.

In GREAT BRITAIN:

"That was a dirty trick George Washington played on Lord Cornwallis — attacking just at teatime. It really wasn't cricket at all."

* * *

"Ever since we quit being your colony, we've had nothing but trouble, trouble, trouble."

"What wonderful summer weather! Here, let me lend you my umbrella."

"M-m-m-, what delicious tasting mush. Oh, they're boiled potatoes? My what delicious tasting boiled potatoes. I'm never able to get so much water into mine. Could I have your recipe?"

"Of course—bur-r-r-p!—I'll have another helping of brussels sprouts. I can't seem to get enough of them."

"We did our best to be of some help to you in the second World War, but, my, we were awfully late getting into it, weren't we?"

"If our trained diplomats had as much training as your trained diplomats, the world wouldn't be in such a mess."

* * *

In FRANCE:

"You mean we're having snails in garlic butter sauce again tonight? goody, goody, goody."

"The service has been so wonderful, a 15 per cent tip doesn't seem enough. Please let me make it 25 per cent."

"You certainly are right, monsoor. American women are too bossy. They make slaves of their men. French women are much more feminine."

"We did our best to be of some help to you in the second World War, but, my, we were awfully late getting into it, weren't we?"

* * *

In RUSSIA:

"Da, comrade Khrushchev, it is a marvelous new steel plant. I wish we had a few like that back home."

"Here's a present: A brand new shovel—so you can bury us faster."

"Is that really a peasant? my, he's so well dressed—with those football shoulders and those wide, wide lapels. We sure could take a few fashion hints from you."

"We did our best to be of some help to you in the second World War, but, my, we were awfully late getting into it, weren't we?"

* * *

In GERMANY:

"Why, of course, I realize a swell fellow like you never could have been a Nazi."

"It's a mystery to me why the other countries envy your progress. After all you work hard—and have discipline."

"You're absolutely right. We shouldn't have fought each other at all. We should have all simply ganged up on the Russians—just as you say."

* * *

Here are a few general phrases that will help make you popular in any foreign country:

"What a tremendous cathedral! Why, it would hold 50 of our churches."

"Now that I have been here, I realize we have done far too little for your country in the past. But believe me, when I get home, I'm going to write to my congressman and tell him we got to do a whole lot more."

"Keep the change."

U. of D. Reveals $25-Million Drive

DETROIT (AP) — A $25-million master plan for expansion of the University of Detroit campus and operations was announced here Thursday.

The program was termed "tentative and subject to revision" in the announcement at a luncheon for business, industry and civic leaders sponsored by Walker Cisler, president of Detroit Edison and a member of the U. of D. Board of Lay Trustees.

Cisler said a drive for funds from private donors — apparently directed chiefly at business and industry — may start before the end of the year.

Baptists Vote to Hold '62 Meeting in Spain

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (UPI)—The executive committee of the Baptist World Alliance voted Thursday to hold its 1962 meeting in predominantly Roman Catholic Spain.

* * *

The 70-member committee voted on either Madrid or Barcelona at a three-day session here.

Dr. Josef Nordenhaug, the world alliance general secretary, and Dr. Erik Ruden of London, associate secretary for Europe, will seek clearance for the meeting in Spain Aug. 28-30, 1962.

Aeschylus, (525-456 B.C.) the Greek dramatist, who wrote "Agememnon," was also a soldier in the Persian Wars at the battles of Marathon and Salamis.

Military Forces May Be Hiked to Protect Berlin

Kennedy Busy Talking With Security Council; Plans Kept Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may increase its military forces in Europe in preparation for a possible showdown with the Soviet Union later this year over Red threats to West Berlin.

Such a move is understood to be one of the measures being studied by Kennedy administration policy makers for dealing with the Berlin crisis.

President Kennedy met with the National Security Council for two hours and 40 minutes late Thursday to discuss steps that may be taken.

The White House kept the discussions secret, and, the news secretary, Pierre Salinger, declined even to say which officials attended.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and the chief Soviet disarmament negotiator, Valerian Zorin, made an unsheduled call at the White House today. Asked if they were seeing President Kennedy about the situation in Berlin, the Soviet envoy told newsmen, "It's a courtesy call."

SOME REDEPLOYMENT

It was not disclosed when final decisions may be made and action initiated. It is known, however, that top officials believe some redeployment of U.S. forces may be necessary because of the threat posed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, speaking in a television interview Thursday night, said one thing which is necessary in the developing crisis is to try to avoid any "miscalculation"—by the Soviet Union—of what the Western Allies will do if and when their vital interests are threatened.

Rusk predicted that a number of steps will be taken "aimed at the avoidance of this kind of miscalculation." He did not make any reference to military measures but said there would be "points of clarification, of purpose and procedure and issue."

★ ★ ★

The United States is understood to have been urging its NATO allies to increase their own military strength in Europe so that if a showdown with the Soviet Union develops and a conflict threatens it may be dealt with, at least at the very outset, by nonnuclear means. Kennedy administration officials were cheered by the recent decision of French President Charles de Gaulle to shift a division of French troops from Algeria back to France.

Rush Ships to Meet Rising Kuwait Crisis

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — British warships steamed for the Persian Gulf and Red Sea today amid reports of a weekend crisis over oil-rich Kuwait.

At least two British aircraft carriers, four frigates, landing craft and marines were reported heading for the area. They sailed as Iraq and Kuwaiti troops and armor rumbled up to the opposing sides of their common frontier.

The crisis, worst in the Middle East since U.S Marines landed in Lebanon in 1958, began Sunday when Iraqi Premier Karim Kassem announced that newly independent Kuwait was part of Iraq.

Kuwait, a shiekdom the size of New Jersey sits atop the largest lake of oil in the world. It supplies nearly half of Britain's oil.

In London, the British government refused to reveal if Kuwait had asked military aid under the friendship agreement between the two countries.

But it announced it had taken "normal precautionary measures" in face of a threat of Kuwait's annexation by a more powerful neighbor.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan also called the British cabinet into session to consider the new Mideast crisis.

The foreign office, however, refused to comment on press reports quoting a U.S. State Department official in Washington that a weekend Iraqi attempt to seize Kuwait by force was possi-

Area Explosion Kills Teen-Ager

Was Helping Salvage Gasoline Tank at White Lake Twp. Gravel Pit

A 17-year-old Detroit boy was killed at a White Lake Township gravel pit this morning when a large underground gas tank he and his father were salvaging, exploded.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies identified the victim as James E. Wilson Jr. son of Mr and Mrs. James E. Wilson of 3871 Belvedere.

The father was not injured but deputies described him as suffering from shock.

Although full details are not known, Deputy Robert Newman said Wilson evidently owned the Wilson Salvage Co. of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

He and his son were salvaging a supposedly empty underground gas tank at Richard's Gravel Pit on Union Lake Road.

Wilson told deputies he was cutting one end of the tank with an acetylene torch when the other end blew out.

The boy was standing about 20 feet from the five-foot steel plate when it blew out. He suffered extensive injuries and was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Deputies theorized that there was a considerable amount of gas vapor in the tank.

"It evidently was empty, but a tank filled with fumes is more dangerous than one with liquid gas," said Newman.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred shortly before 9:30 a.m. Deputies said the victim was blown about 5 feet into the front seat of his father's truck.

Win Local 653 Posts in Runoff

Union Officers Elected by Narrow Margins in Two-Day Voting

Official results of the final runoff at Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW, saw Cecil C. Mullinix elected president, defeating incumbent Charles A. Beach 1,911 votes to 1,668.

★ ★ ★

Mullinix, 571 Lowell St. has been employed at Pontiac Motor Division since 1942 and has held various positions at the local.

Beach, who has held office four years, defeated Mullinix two years ago.

Other tallies after the two-day runoff saw John B. Maye elected vice president with 1,803 votes to 1,715 for his opponent Douglas Gravelle.

★ ★ ★

In the contest for chairman of the shop committee, Bill Ward pulled 1,862 votes to 1,478 for John Olszak.

Winners of the three trustee posts were Frank O'Rourke, 1,889; Gerald Curry, 1,887; and Oscar Shelton, 1,680.

Other posts were filled by an election early this month.

Oakland County's lakes and recreation areas will welcome well over a million persons arriving here to escape what promises to be a hot July 4 weekend starting today.

Many others will be passing through on the area's highways headed north.

The amazing thing is that nobody has to get hurt, according to safety experts (those people who keep track of such things as the fatality count and what causes accidents.)

Most of the stores and business offices in Pontiac will be closed all day Tuesday for the July Fourth holiday but will remain open during the normal hours on Monday.

Banks, the post office, and county buildings will also follow this schedule.

The heat wave will be their biggest enemy.

Meanwhile "Bring 'Em Back Alive" is the advice of AAA posters appearing in gas station windows and elsewhere.

Aiding drivers in this effort locally will be every available state police and sheriff's department patrol car on maximum traffic duty between now and Tuesday.

All state police passes have been canceled during this period and, in addition, 200 National guardsmen have been assigned to work with the police.

The most hazardous traffic of the long weekend is expected today, tomorrow and Tuesday and between 3 and 9 p.m.

Calculations are based on last year's July 4 weekend when 16

Warm Temperatures Expected to Continue

Partly cloudy and continued warm temperatures are forecast for tonight and over the weekend, the weatherman says. A few afternoon and evening thundershowers are likely.

Tonight's low will be a mild 72. Saturday the mercury will climb to the 90 mark again.

Precipitation will total about three-quarters of an inch in thundershowers this weekend and again on Wednesday.

Morning winds were west to southwest 10 to 20 miles per hour.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 71. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 92 degrees.

DOG GONE COOL, MAN—Jingles plays it cool, setting an example for the thousands who will flock to Oakland County's numerous lakes to escape what promises to be a hot July 4 weekend. Only Jingles is taking his dip in his master's pool in the backyard. "Who me fight the traffic?" he seems to say.

Strike Report Monday

Fact Finders Optimistic

NEW YORK (AP) — A "conditional" agreement between the National Maritime Union and two shipping groups was announced today by David L. Cole, chairman of President Kennedy's fact-finding board.

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — A presidential fact-finding board concluded public hearings into the nationwide maritime strike today amid optimism that the board's emphasis on mediation may bring a settlement.

At the final session, board chairman David L. Cole requested all parties in the dispute to hold themselves available until Sunday night for further efforts to end the tie-up.

Cole said the board's report will be filed with President Kennedy at 9 a.m. Monday.

He noted that no extension of time to file the report had been granted but emphasized that mediation still can be pressed if no agreement has been reached by then.

PART OF T-H LAW

Such a report is part of the Taft-Hartley Law process under which the government can ask a court injunction for an 80-day cooling off period in which the strike would be halted.

Negotiations had been speeded up today on the most hopeful note since the strike started two weeks ago.

The fact-finding board reported "very good progress" in talks with shipping company representatives and the National Maritime Union (NMU), largest of five striking unions.

Then Max Harrison, ship company representative, asserted after a parley with the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union:

"I think we'll have a Fourth of July at home."

The fact-finding board was obligated only to investigate the situation and report to President Kennedy whether it believed national interests were affected.

EYED MEDIATION

From the start, however, it devoted its efforts chiefly to an effort to mediate the dispute.

Coles also had reflected optimism in an earlier statement.

He said some items remained to be settled in the contract dispute between the NMU and the American Merchant Marine Institute, the major industry negotiating group. "But I am not concerned," he added.

Some employer sources said they were certain that agreement between the NMU and the Institute would pave the way for quick general agreement between the ship companies and the other striking unions.

Hawaii is without basic fruit and produce stocks today as a result of the maritime strike, according to Gov. William F. Quinn.

In a special affidavit requested by Kennedy, Quinn reported to Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg Thursday "that almost all suppliers indicated that their stock of perishable foods from mainland sources will be completely depleted between July 15 and July 20."

However, Quinn said potatoes, onions, carrots, lettuce, tomatoes and citrus fruits would be depleted today. He said most wholesale supplies of meat and frozen vegetables would be gone by Tuesday.

School Operating Budget Over $9 Million Gets OK

The Pontiac Board of Education has approved a record final operating budget of $9,450,462 for the 1961-62 school year.

Approval came at the board's meeting last night.

The budget is $494,809 higher than the record 1960-61 budget and some $150,000 above preliminary budget estimates presented in February.

Tentative budget appropriations were adjusted upward in all areas except administrative costs. The tentative administration appropriation of $211,440 was cut $842.

The biggest increase is in the area of instruction, where the estimated outlay was increased more than $117,000, from the original $6,643,542 to $6,761,436.

"The operating budget is designed to keep the school district running at the same relative level it has for the past year," said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. "It reflects a rise in operational costs as well as costs resulting from quality increases.

It will be financed by a 19.50-mill tax rate approved by the board June 1. Last year's school tax rate was 18.98.

★ ★ ★

"The rate increase was needed because the equalization factor went down this year. Actually, the taxpayer's bill will be the same this year unless the local assessment on his property went up," Whitmer explained.

Board members voted an increase of $12,834 in appropriations for library books. This upped the total book outlay to $49,421.

FOR 2 PSYCHOLOGISTS

An additional $10,350 was also appropriated for salary and office equipment for two psychologists to be added to the service staff.

★ ★ ★

A large portion of the total $150,000 increase over preliminary figures is due to wage and salary schedules being set at figures higher than the original estimate.

Teachers' salaries, including a cost-of-living increase, were about $60,000 above what had been estimated.

Personnel changes also affected the final budget.

★ ★ ★

Several new positions have been added since the Feb. 23 tentative budget and other areas, such as secretarial and clerical classifications, have been revamped.

Kennedy plans to return to Washington next Wednesday morning. Mrs. Kennedy will not return to the capital until July 11 and their children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 7 months, may remain on the Cape for the rest of the summer.

Other members of the Kennedy family, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, also will spend the weekend at Hyannis Port. The President's physician, Dr. Janet Travell, will accompany him.

Infant Congo Nation One Year Old

From Our News Wires

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo—The Congo celebrated the first anniversary of its independence today with a snappy military parade watched by 50,000 persons in a holiday mood far from the terror and violence that marked the first year of freedom.

Thus, after a year of the most chaotic situation it has had to face, the United Nations appeared to have saved the Congo in what Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called "the biggest single effort" of the world organization.

Nineteen thousand men from 15 countries stand guard as the U.N. Force which has prevented open civil war among at least four factions in the Congo.

Patient diplomacy has brought political leaders to the verge of sitting down together again in a parliament suspended by military necessity for almost a year.

A massive civil technical assistance program is under way to give the country a stable economy and a sound administration.

* * *

Emergency efforts by the United Nations and its specialized agencies have averted famine and prevented pestilence in a wide area of the country.

President Joseph Kasavubu, wearing a light brown general's uniform, took the salute from a raised and beflagged dais at the Place Bracconier today as the smartly marching units swung down the broad Boulevard Albert, Leopoldville's main avenue.

Clouds of political uncertainty blew in from the problem province of Katanga, but Congolese in this white-washed capital seemed determined not to let these mar the fun.

* * *

Four days of celebration in the troubled infant nation got under way Thursday with a football game. Other highlights are a competition to select Miss Leopoldville of 1961 and a round of diplomatic receptions.

* * *

Kasavubu was flanked by members of the central Congolese government, the diplomatic corps and United Nations officials as the 5,000 sharply-dressed troops passed in review.

* * *

The uniforms they wore are the pride of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army commander.

They were designed and manufactured by an American of Greek extraction, Maurice Alhadeff, who has lived in this tropical land for 30 years.

Moise Tshombe, Katanga President, at odds politically with the Leopoldville regime but of late an avowed admirer of Mobutu, sent a contingent of 75 gendarmes to take part in the parade.

Kasavubu in the major speech of the day was expected to announce the date for calling the republic's parliament into the first session since it broke up in turmoil last September after the ouster of Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The Soviet Union honored the Congo's first anniversary with a new attack on the "machinery of the United Nations" and particularly on Hammarskjold.

Bank Is Buying School Bonds

Community National Is Only Bidder on Pontiac's $500,000 Issue

Community National Bank was the lone bidder for the purchase of $500,000 worth of Pontiac School District bonds at Thursday night's final school board meeting of the 1960-61 school year.

* * *

Bids were scheduled to be opened at 8 last night. The $500,000 issue will be used to finance school construction, much of which is already near completion.

The bank's bid calls for an interest rate of 1 per cent per annum at par value plus accrued interest to date of delivery.

Although the bonds don't mature for 30 years, the board plans to recall the entire issue within a year.

The money will finance additions at Emerson and Alcott schools, kitchens at Whitfield and Webster and additions at Jefferson Junior High School.

* * *

The Day in Birmingham

Pick Rev. Penner to Head City Council of Churches

BIRMINGHAM — Rev. Raymond A. Penner, pastor of the Congregational Church here, has been named president of the Birmingham Council of Churches.

* * *

Other recently elected officers are Rev. Roy Pitts, Beverly Hills Baptist Church, vice president; Rev. Donald Pendell, First Presbyterian Church of Troy, treasurer; and Rev. John Root, St. Andrew Evangelical Lutheran Church, secretary.

* * *

The new officers will assume their duties in September.

The paintings of three area artists will be exhibited at the 26th annual Midyear Show at the Butler Institute of American Art at Youngstown, Ohio, July 2 through Sept. 4.

The local artists displaying their works are Dan Radin and Zolton Sepeshy of Bloomfield Hills and Clifton McChesney of Birmingham.

Radin has been awarded $500 for his oil painting, "Water Quarry," which will be retained by the Institute for its permanent collection.

A total of 300 paintings representing artists from 50 states will be exhibited during the two-month show.

Mrs. Helen Hulbert

Service for Mrs. Helen Hulbert, 82, of 2756 Buckingham Drive, will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be Monday at Sunset Cemetery, Galloway, Ohio.

Mrs. Hulbert died today after a short illness. She was a member of the Indianola Methodist Church in Columbus, Ohio. Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Laydorf dren; and a great-grandson.

Ball Bats Used by Negro Gang

Breaks Up Game, Puts Four White Men in Kansas Hospital

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two carloads of Negro youths, some of them carrying baseball bats, broke up a practice game between two white teams on a public diamond Thursday night.

Four white men were hospitalized. One of them, Charles Rollins, 36, was knocked unconscious. He and McPherson A. Horner, 57, were in serious condition.

* * *

Also injured were Phillip Davis, 44, and John Core III, 18. Davis' condition was good. Core was treated and released.

Two Negro youths had interrupted the game earlier by pulling a light switch and were chased away.

* * *

They returned with friends. When Rollins remonstrated the intruders started swinging at bystanders and players alike with the bats.

By the time police arrived the youths had fled.

Thunderstorms Fail to Wipe Out Heat Over Plains

By The Associated Press

Rain fell in widely scattered areas of the nation today, but did little to wipe out the muggy heat that lingered east of the Rockies on the final day of June.

Bismarck, N. D., had a heavy thunderstorm and there was thunderstorm activity in the northwest plains, eastern Montana and the Dakotas. And, thundershowers sprinkled an area near the Mississippi River from southwestern Wisconsin into west central Illinois.

BRACE FOR HOLIDAY TRAFFIC — Local police authorities will take every step possible to make the oncoming holiday weekend a safe one on Oakland County's lakes and highways. The rest is up to you, they said. Coordinating plans for maximum patrol between now and Tuesday are, from left, Undersheriff Don Francis and Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac state police post, while Arthur J. Bogue (at right), AAA manager in Pontiac, shows to Pontiac policeman James Lafner the type of poster the auto club has been displaying.

Holiday Drivers Get Advice From Veterans of the Road

"Of course whisky's the biggest cause of accidents, but no use telling 'em that . . . They won't listen."

The words were spoken by a Pontiac truck driver with more than 30 years experience on highways. He was asked what he thought would be the best traffic advice for the coming holiday weekend.

"Tell them not to 'overdrive' —where your eyes are open but your mind is blank," advised Frank Johns, 58. Johns has logged countless millions of miles over the country's roads and highways behind the wheel of a huge rig.

His words of experience were echoed by other veteran drivers who recalled the highway tragedies they have seen.

You have to watch yourself as well as the other driver, and if you get tired stop," another driver volunteered.

"And don't try too long a trip in too short a time," advised Bruce Thompson, 55, who has been driving trucks since 1925.

DRIVERS CRABBY

"You see 'em in the restaurant taking a quick stop — hardly time to eat," he said. "They're crabby, short-tempered and belligerent toward other drivers. If they'd stay cool they wouldn't be so likely to have or cause an accident.

"If some guy in a hurry comes tearing up, let him in — he may be on his way to an accident — his own."

The truck drivers had other bits of advice:

Drive at a controlled speed, that is, a speed at which you can easily control the vehicle.

Don't "tailgate" (drive too close behind the vehicle ahead.)

Slow up in plenty of time.

* * *

Keep your speed constant with others on the highway, not too fast and not too slow. That way you won't obstruct traffic and be a hazard.

And by all means BE ALERT!

"A good truck driver with their experience is worth listening to," said Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac state police post, "I hope people will listen to them.

"They get used to hearing the same thing from a policeman to the point where they don't listen anymore — and they are dead."

The UAW already has put Chrysler on notice it will not listen to a plea of poverty and will expect Chrysler to meet terms of contracts it is negotiating sitors Corp. and Ford Motor Co., others of the big three.

* * *

Chrysler lost $21.9 million in this year's first quarter and some financial sources estimate it also lost money in the second quarter ending today. The UAW argues the wage contract is not to blame, since Ford, GM and American Motors rolled up profits with similar ones.

John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for industrial relations, said in a statement: "The outcome of these negotiations is important not only for the future well-being of Chrysler, but also will have a direct bearing on the future well-being of its employes, its dealers and its suppliers.

"We feel that all interests can best be served by an agreement that will fully recognize the cost pressures which so heavily influence the production and sale of consumer products."

* * *

UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who led the union's bargaining team at Chrysler as he had in openings on successive days at General Motors and Ford, declared at Ford Thursday that "new ground will have to broken and new concepts developed" in contract settlements this summer.

* * *

Meanwhile at General Motors, the UAW was presenting one of Annual salaries instead of hourly wages for production workers.

GM Vice President Louis Seaton said the annual salary proposal was presented in vague terms and would require study before he commented on it. Seaton is GM's chief negotiator.

Soviet Spy Abel, U2 Pilot Powers May Be Traded

NEW YORK (UPI) — Negotiations are under way to exchange convicted Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, the New York World Telegram said today.

The Scripps - Howard newspaper said informed sources reported that one of the conditions holding back the proposed swap was that the Russians wanted the two prisoners released to a neutral country where they would be granted "political asylum."

"This would allow the Soviets to continue the fiction that Abel was not their man in New York," the dispatch said.

* * *

The trade was first proposed a year ago by Oliver W. Powers, father of the American airman who was downed over Russia May 1, 1960, and subsequently was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Vital statistics will say Stephany Rachel Moore was born in Portsmouth, Va., but she can honestly say the event occurred 80 feet below the surface of the Elizabeth River.

Stephany is the daughter of sonarman I.C. James Moore of Streator, Ill., and Mrs. Moore. She was born in a Navy ambulance in the tunnel under the river which connects Norfolk and Portsmouth.

Social Security Bill Is Inked

JFK Signs Measure 'With Great Pleasure' Benefiting 4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed "with great pleasure" legislation increasing Social Security benefits for about 4,420,000 Americans and permitting men to draw their benefits at the age of 62.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said the new amendments will make the Social Security System "a more effective instrument for the well-being of our people."

Only seven members of Congress, members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, showed up for the ceremony.

"You must be the only members of Congress left in Washington," Kennedy remarked, alluding to the Fourth of July holiday that has all but shut the Capitol down.

The bill cleared both the House and Senate Thursday with little debate after Senate-House conferees had resolved differences in the various bills passed earlier by both chambers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 4,420,000 Americans would draw larger Social Security benefits.

Men would be permitted to draw them at 62, instead of waiting until they reach 65. Women already may do so.

REDUCED BENEFITS

If a man chooses to retire at 62 he'll receive for the rest of his life 80 per cent of the benefits he would get if he waited until 65. If he retires sometime between 62 and 65 he will receive a pension proportionately larger than 80 per cent.

* * *

The new program is expected to cost $825 million in its first year. This is to be met by an increase in the payroll tax. Both employer and employe will have to pay one-eighth of 1 per cent more on the first $4,800 of the employe's annual income. The self-employed will have to increase their Social Security tax by one-fifth of 1 per cent.

Ships Race to Meet Rising Kuwait Crisis

ble. The U.S. official was said to have attributed the report to diplomatic sources that could not be ignored.

REPORT OTHERS INVOLVED

In Cairo, the press today bannered reports claiming that Jordanian and Saudi Arabian troops also were involved. It carried reports that Iraqi forces opened fire on Iranian ships carrying food supplies across the Persian Gulf to Kuwait.

With Britain moving ships and men into position to help defend the little nation to which it just granted independence, Arab League Secretary General Abdel Khalek sought to achieve a peaceful settlement.

He was expected to fly to Baghdad to confer with Iraqi Prime Minister Abdul Karim Kassem. Baghdad radio said in a broadcast heard here he would be welcomed there Saturday.

It was reported in Beirut that he then would fly to Kuwait and talk with Sheik Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah who has been moving troops to the northern border in anticipation of an attack from Iraqi.

British naval forces headed for the Persian Gulf.

EVIDENCE OF SUPPORT

The warships represented the the massive support Kuwait has received since Prime Minister Abdul Karim Kassem of Iraq claimed it as part of his own country.

Britain agreed June 19 to give the shiekdom complete independence.

The admiralty in London announced Thursday that the aircraft carrier Bulwark, carrying 600 royal marines, had been dispatched to the Persian Gulf. The aircraft carrier Victorious and two frigates sailed for the Red Sea from Hong Kong, a spokesman said.

YMCA Drive Near Goal of $650,000

The Pontiac YMCA fund-raising drive for $650,000 to improve and expand facilities has reached the $611,100 mark.

In a progress report to the board of directors and campaign division leaders, Robert M. Critchfield, general chairman of the campaign, expressed confidence that the $38,900 needed for the success of the drive would be raised.

Critchfield said a number of "unworked prospect cards" have been reassigned. "Once they're in, we have every reason to believe the goal will be reached," he said.

There Were Lots of Supposed Insanity Causes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Longview, a state mental hospital, is marking its 100th year of service. Among its records, present staff members found these "Supposed Causes of Insanity" listed 1902:

Death of president (James Garfield, who was assassinated), death of lover, opium eating, religious excitement, disappointed affections, intemperance, war excitement or fear of draft (Spanish-American War of 1898), cigarette habit, laughing gas, excessive use of tobacco, slander political excitement and women's rights (a woman).

died of traffic accidents in Michigan.

DEATH RATE LOWER

"Actually statistics show holiday weekends are safer than normal weekends," noted Jerry Fisher, touring manager of the Michigan Auto Club. "The death rate on holidays are down from 30 to 50 per cent when figured on the total miles driven."

* * *

He estimated that 500,000 cars with about 1,750,000 persons will be abroad on Oakland County's roads between now and Tuesday, Altogether 3 million cars are expected to be on the move throughout the state in this period.

"But there's no reason for the driver to be afraid," said Fisher, "Our highways can accommodate easily this many."

* * *

Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the state safety commission, said "We are more concerned over the possible increase in water fatalities."

* * *

Fifty-eight people already have died in water accidents this year, Hare said.

* * *

OUT IN FORCE

"We'll be doing our utmost to maintain order and safety on the water this weekend," noted Sheriff's Deputy Donald Kratt who heads the water patrol.

Everyone of the patrol's boats will be on the job from now through Tuesday, he said.

Possibility of thundershowers will keep the men especially alert for those venturing out on the lakes at the wrong time.

* * *

"Celebrate your holiday safely and sanely," urged State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Moderation in weekend activities is especially important when it involves recreation on or near the water, he added.

Proper planning, moderation and constant alertness can help Michigan residents achieve the "Bring 'Em Back Alive" goal, officials agreed.

Welcome Foreign Students to Pontiac

"Welcome to Pontiac," says Ralph Koprince (at left) of West Iroquois Road to Hans Ericson of Sweden. Hans was one of 35 American Field Service Scholarship students from abroad who arrived Thursday evening for a brief stay in Pontiac. The Koprinces were hosts to a student from Uganda.

Teens From Abroad Visit City

Families of students at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools are hosting 35 teen-agers from abroad who have been participating in the American Field Service scholarsip program.

The 23 countries the young people hail from read like an atlas index — from far-off Aganda, Ethiopia, Kenya and the Union of South Africa; from Iran, Indonesia, Pakistan and Lebanon, Japan and the Philippines.

From remote British North Borneo and Argentina, as well as Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Greece, these ambassadors come. France, Italy, and Germany and the Scandinavian countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland are also represented.

These adaptable, open-minded young people have been living with American families this past school year in New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. Now they are on a bus tour of the Middle West before converging with other groups on Washington, D. C., where they will sight-see and be received by President and Mrs. Kennedy.

This laughing, eager group arrived at Pontiac Central's parking lot at 6 p.m. Thursday to spend a 36-hour stay in Pontiac homes. They were fresh from the wonders of Niagara Falls, driving across Canada yesterday to Pontiac.

This morning they toured the Pontiac assembly line and when they leave Saturday morning they will head for Illinois.

They'll leave bonds of affection wherever they go, for they are a wholesome, chosen group. Our family, for example, still feels attached to our guest of last year, Orin from Turkey. Someday we'd like to see this embryo-architect studying at Cranbrook.

In the meantime, American students participating in the American Field Service exchange program are departing from villages, cities and towns all over the United States for countries as remote and varied as those of our present guests. It's the kind of person-to-person exchange program that former president Dwight D. Eisenhower called an effective means of advancing the peace of the world.

Delegates from Pontiac were Mrs. Robert Adsit and Mrs. Willis from Bemis-Olsen Auxiliary 113 with Mrs. Orval Russell and Mrs. Emsley from Wright-Fournier Auxiliary 161.

National President Mrs. Lucia Russo of California presided and Marie Peters, Probate Judge of Escanaba, welcomed the delegates.

The department financial trophy was awarded to Wright-Fournier Auxiliary of Pontiac.

Campbell's 68 Tops Sikes by One at Warwick Hills

Ex-Purdue Star Sets Pace

By BILL CORNWELL

GRAND BLANC — Freshman-of-the-Year in 1959 and almost a "forgotten man" in 1960 — that's been the story of Joe Campbell's life on the professional golf circuit.

But the 25-year-old Campbell made his fellow touring pros remember him again Thursday by taking the first-round lead in the 4th annual Buick Open golf tournament at Warwick Country Club.

Blonde-haired Joe rifled a four-under-par 68 over the sprawling Warwick giant for a one-stroke advantage as the $52,000 tourney entered its 2nd 18-hole round today.

Dan Sikes, National Public Links champion in 1958 and a newcomer to the PGA circuit, fired a 69 for sole possession of 2nd place at the 18-hole mark.

Two veteran touring pros and a husky Canadian were breathing down the necks of Campbell and Sikes after posting 70s.

Heading the 70 group was defending Buick Open champion Mike Souchak, who did a magnificent job of scrambling yesterday. His partners were Toronto's Jerry Magee and golf's roving ambassador from the Louisiana Bayou country, Lionel Hebert.

Campbell had a "can't miss" label stamped on him when he turned pro April 6, 1958, after compiling a brilliant amateur record at Purdue University.

The stocky well-built Campbell won the NCAA championship as a sophomore in 1955 and pocketed Big 10 titles in 1956 and 1957.

★ ★ ★

He also played basketball at Purdue and was a teammate of big Lamar Lundy. Following his graduation in 1957, he landed a berth on the U. S. Walker Cup team.

Campbell got off to such a whirlwind start on the pro tour after joining the circuit-riders early in 1959 that he was voted Freshman-of-the-Year. He never won any big events, but he placed high frequently and looked like a real future star.

Then the bubble burst. After winning $12,500 for shooting a hole-in-one at the Palm Springs Desert Classic in January of 1960, Campbell's game went to pieces.

In 24 tourney starts last year, Campbell pocketed only $8,130 and you don't stay alive very long on the pro tour at that rate. Yesterday's 68 was his finest opening-round score in more than a year.

★ ★ ★

Campbell, who stands 5-8½ and weighs 190, claims he plays his best golf in hot weather and Thursday he took to Warwick's steaming heat like a duck takes to water.

Two hole-outs from off the green, 28 putts and five one-putt greens were the highlights of Campbell's 35-33 scorecard. He carded five birdies and bogied just once during his trip around the 7,280-yard course which has a par of 36-36—72.

Campbell holed out a 20-foot chip shot for a birdie three at No. 5 and climaxed his efforts by exploding a 25-foot trap shot into the cup for a birdie three at No. 18.

The former Boilermaker ace, who now registers from Chattanooga, Tenn., has been bothered by an ailing back since early this year. He grinned and quipped that his back didn't bother him yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Sikes, a native of Jacksonville, Fla., is currently in his first year on the PGA tour and he's won only $950 so far. He birdied four holes and bogied just one while one-putting six greens and taking 30 putts over-all.

In addition to his 1958 publinx triumph at Chicago, Sikes won the all-army crown in 1955 at Ft. Mead, Va. He turned pro late last year.

Sikes' 35-34—69 card was his best tourney showing thus far. The 30-year-old Sikes, constructed on the lean-and-lanky side at 6 feet and 175 pounds, formerly starred for the University of Florida golf team, is a law school graduate and a member of the bar in that state.

Souchak's round was spotlighted by an eagle three on the 507-yard 13th hole where he blasted from a bunker and the ball landed in the cup on the fly.

★ ★ ★

Souchak, putting well but chipping poorly, hit only 10 greens, but kept recovering as he one-putted eight times and had 26 putts altogether. His back nine 32 was low for the day following a 38 on the front side.

Huston LaClair's 33 going out was the best score on the front nine. He slipped to 38 coming home for a 71 to join 11 other golfers at that figure.

Hebert, ex-National PGA champion, had one of his better putting rounds and missed just four greens. He birdied four holes and putted 29 times in a 34-36 effort. Magee, like Hebert, shot 34-36 and birdied four holes.

Yesterday's starting field numbered 159 players, including 11 amateurs. Jack Nicklaus, newly-crowned NCAA champ, posted 74 to set the amateur pace.

Seventeen golfers broke par and another 13 equalled it on the Warwick layout, which was baked hard and fast by the boiling sun. The 72-hole tournament runs through Sunday.

Bone Gets 5 Birdies, Still Has 75

GRAND BLANC — With the exception of Canadian pro Al Balding, Pontiac's Gene Bone had perhaps the oddest and most inconsistent round of anyone Thursday in the opening round of the rich Buick Open golf tournament at Warwick Hills Country Club.

In view of all his troubles, the 29-year-old Drayton Plains resident scored surprisingly well.

Playing with Sam Snead and Fred Hawkins, Bone carded 39-36—75, three above par, over his home acreage.

The weird thing about the young host pro's scorecard is this: He had five birdies, six bogies, one double-bogey and just six pars.

"My tee shots were good today and I putted well, but my game was very bad around the greens — I couldn't do anything right with the short irons," Gene commented.

★ ★ ★

He birdied the 1st hole by putting twice from 40 feet after two drives carried the green. Tree trouble brought him a bogey five on the 2nd hole and he double-bogied the par three 3rd after overshooting the green and taking two more knocks to get home.

An errant iron approach and a wobbly chip forced him to bogey the 7th and he swallowed another bogey at No. 8 where he located a bunker. He rallied to sink a 15-foot birdie putt at No. 9.

Bone birdied three holes coming home — Nos. 10, 12 and 16 —with putts of six, two and six feet. Spotted among them was a bogey on the 11th where he found another trap, a bogey at No. 14 where he pitched over the green and a bogey at No. 18 where he visited another bunker.

Balding's erratic round included six birdies, an eagle three, two double-bogies, three bogies and six pars. They all added up to a one-under-par 71.

★ ★ ★

Cary Middlecoff, who shot 36-35—71, posted five birdies and four bogies.

Balding's eagle three was one of four made yesterday. The others were notched by Ken Still, Mike Souchak and Jim Ferree.

All were carded on the 13th hole except Ferree's and he got his on the 16th. Balding claimed his eagle by hitting a 4-wood blow within two feet of the cup while Souchak canned a 40-foot trap shot on the fly.

Michigan's leading pros moving into today's 2nd round were Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake and Washtenaw's Tom Talkington, both of whom posted 36-38—74. This must be considered somewhat of a surprise.

The state's top amateur after the first 18 holes was 20-year-old Pete Green of Orchard Lake, who shot 40-37—77.

The estimated attendance Thursday was 2,500.

McAuliffe's 2-Run Triple Beats Chisox for Lary, 5-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers took their two-game American League lead onto the road today, hoping to pick up some more ground in a three-game weekend series with the Orioles before invading New York for a key Fourth of July doubleheader with the second place New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

The Detroiters' brief road trip — they return to Tiger Stadium July 7 — began with happy memories of yesterday's 5-2 decision over the red hot Chicago White Sox before 22,921 Detroit fans. The triumph came while the Yankees were having a day off.

Rookie shortstop Dick McAuliffe was presented with a wrist watch yesterday in pre-game ceremonies for being the most valuable player in the American Association in May. That was before the Tigers tapped him for major league duty.

The newly-arrived infielder then ran his hitting streak to nine games as he came up with the big wallop — a seventh inning two-run triple — that broke up a 2-all tie game and gave the Tigers their win yesterday. Moments later he scampered home with the final run on Billy Bruton's sacrifice fly.

★ ★ ★

McAuliffe's drive, a towering fly ball that fell near the 400-foot mark in dead center, heped Frank Lary to his 11th win against four losses.

Larry, who had failed to finish his last two starts against the Yankees and Cleveland, was locked in a 2-2 pitching duel with the veteran Cal McLish through six innings until McAuliffe came to his aid.

★ ★ ★

Both pitchers had been touched for homers — Lary for a solo clout by Floyd Robinson (No. 5) in the fourth inning and McLish for a two-run blast by Bruton (No. 7) in the third inning.

Jake Wood opened the Tiger seventh with a drive off the left field wall and when outfielder Minnie Minoso — whose 13-game hitting streak was snapped — threw wild, Wood took second. Catcher Mike Roarke topped out to the left of the pitching mound for an infield hit, sending Wood to third.

Manager Al Lopez of the White Sox decided that the 95 degree heat was too much for McLish and he called on his ace reliefer, Turk Lown, to take over. Lown fanned Larry for out No. 1, but McAuliffe then came up with the big triple.

★ ★ ★

The White Sox, whose 12-game winning streak was snapped by the Tigers Wednesday, thus had to settle for a split of the four-game series. It left the Chicagoans with a record of 19 wins in their last 22 games and they were hopeful of starting a new winning streak as they set out for Los Angeles and the opener of a series tonight.

Jim Bunning (7-6) will work for the Tigers tonight at Baltimore.

Scandal Grand Jury Gets New Extension

NEW YORK (AP) — Extension of the grand jury term to Dec. 29 increased speculation today that District Attorney Frank Hogan's investigation of fixes in college basketball would move on to college football.

The DA's office, as usual, would make no comment or expand on the announcement of the third extension of the grand jury's term, which came in the wake of the indictment of New York lawyer Charles Tucker as a ninth alleged fixer in the three-month old basketball mess.

★ ★ ★

Reports, however, have been circulating that football would—or has—come under scrutiny ever since the arrest of convicted football fixer Aaron Wagman of New York as a basketball manipulator back on March 17.

Wagman, since indicted on 37 counts of bribery and attempted bribery in the basketball scandal, was free on bail when Hogan first moved. The 28-year-old New Yorker was preparing an appeal from his conviction in Jacksonville, Fla., on charges of trying to bribe a Florida football player for a game with Florida State last September.

Dave Budin, another alleged basketball fixer and former Brooklyn College player, last fall was arrested in Michigan after a University of Oregon halfback reported a bribe attempt concerning Oregon's football game with the University of Michigan. Bribery charges against Budin eventually were dismissed but he was convicted on a charge of registering under a false name at a motel.

★ ★ ★

Thursday's basketball disclosures, which brought the current scandal to a count-down of 37 players from 22 colleges involving 48 games, named Tucker on three counts of bribery and one of conspiracy involving players from Connecticut, Detroit, Columbia and New York University. The indictment of Tucker, who played basketball at Kalamazoo, Mich., College in 1956, also described an alleged attempt to reach players at the University of Oregon.

Named were Charlie North and John Morgan, the No.'s 2 and 3 scorers last season for the University of Detroit; and James Granata, 21, of New York, a substitute for Oregon in 1959 and 1960.

Hogan said Lou Barshak, Michael Siegel and Budin—all of the New York area—conspired to bribe North and Morgan for $1,000 a game for four games, including one with top-ranked Ohio State.

Pittman Hurls One-Hitter

Sarko Investment's Bill Pittman hurled a one-hit shutout to beat St. Joseph Hospital 4-0, Big Bear Construction hammered the Northend Rockets 11-2 and St. Paul Lutheran defeated Stadium Inn 12-9 in Continental League softball play last night.

Pittman walked three and struck out 10. His mates got only three singles off Mike Montgomery but they all came in the 3rd inning when the runs were scored.

Gene Lund of Big Bear had a one-hitter until allowing another and both runs in the 7th. Jim Wheatley belted a two-run homer and Dick Smith had a solo clout in the victory. St. Paul came from behind twice and then broke a tie with three in the 8th on four hits including the 3rd for Al Campbell.

★ ★ ★

Dixie Bar rallied from a 3-0 deficit to take State Hospital 5-3 in an International contest. A three-run 5th highlighted by Ray White's double and a triple Bruce Coryell won it.

A National makeup tilt tonight will match Griff's Grill and Pontiac Police at Northside at 7.

Acquit Slater in Rival's Death

Defendant Weeps at Innocent Verdict in Shotgun Slaying

A Circuit Court jury of 11 women and one man yesterday acquitted Donald Slater of the shotgun slaying of his wife's suitor.

Slater, 29, wept openly as the jury returned after 2 hours and 15 minutes of deliberation to find the Oak Park truck driver innocent. Edward Stoner, 31-year-old former jockey, who was courting Slater's wife Nancy, 25, was slain May 21.

Mrs. Slater was also hit by pellets from the 12-gauge shotgun.

Slater said he "blacked out" on the night that his wife, the mother of four children, brought Stoner to the Slater home, 8610 Saratoga Road. He said Stoner announced that he wanted to adopt the Slater children.

Slater's defense attorney Clarence L. Smith pleaded temporary insanity.

Tourists Are Drawn by Battleship Texas

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The success of the battleship Texas as a tourist attraction has led other states to consider similar historic enterprises.

Lloyd Gregory, chairman of the Texas Battleship Commission, said representatives from North Carolina and Alaska have asked for information on how the Lone Star State operates its namesake ship.

In a dozen years, more than 3 million visitors have paid to tour the Texas at its berth near the San Jacinto Monument. An annual budget of $50,000 is available to maintain the ship, which was given to the state by the U. S. Navy.

The business pace perked up in Pontiac during May.

Reports showed activity was reviving on all levels, from industrial payrolls to bus patronage.

Even North Central Airlines patronage was better. Although April with 76 outbound passengers is the record month so far, the total included two large groups of youngsters on field trips. Last month the airlines carried 68 passengers with no field trips.

Market Drowsy Planning for 4th

NEW YORK (AP) — A drowsy stock market continued to display a mixed price pattern in preweekend trading early today.

* * *

Fractional gains and losses were the general rule for most key stocks.

Although the exchanges will be open for trading on Monday, the sluggish behavior of the market recently has persuaded a number of Wall Streeters to make the Independence Day weekend a four-day holiday.

International Nickel contributed a spark of life by advancing around 2 points following news of a price boost in refined nickel.

Gulf Oil dropped ½ to 37 on 7,000 shares, the largest early block, as tension continued over the shiekdom of Kuwait where Gulf has large interests.

* * *

The market was backgrounded by government reports showing renewed signs of business expansion but the Washington hearings on a possible stock market investigation continued to dampen trading.

The trend seemed slightly higher on balance among motors and utilities, lower among steels, chemicals, coppers and drugs.

National Airlines rose ⅞ to 12¾ on blocks of 3,600 and 4,000 shares, later trimming its rise.

* * *

Small gains were posted by Chrysler, Boeing, American Telephone, Public Service Electric & Gas, General Electric and Lorillard.

A bit lower were U.S. Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Southern California Edison, Kennecott, Westinghouse Electric and Chesapeake & Ohio.

* * *

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Gainers included Chesebrough - Pond's, Oak Manufacturing and H. L. Klion. Among losers were Polarad Electronics, Fox Head Brewing and Leesona.

NATIONAL EARNINGS—The American standard of living still climbs upward, despite increases in consumer prices. Average income in 1960 was $2,242. This was a 4 per cent increase over 1959 and a 50 per cent jump above 1950. Per capita incomes were the highest on record for every state except New Mexico. They ranged from a high of almost $3,100 in Delaware to about $1,200 in Mississippi. States in the Mideast and Far West recorded the biggest incomes, with states in the Southeast and Southwest the lowest. But the low-income states increased their totals faster than the country as a whole during the 1950-60 decade.

Won't Discuss Report on DMA

Leaders Admit Move On to Settle Affairs of Downtown Merchants

Mainstays at the Downtown Merchants Association (DMA) meeting today to round out the association's books, declined comment on reports that the group has decided to disband.

* * *

But leaders conceded there is a move now to settle the association's financial affairs, indicating the group might become dormant if not disbanded.

It was reported that last week the association voted to break up. Lack of operating capital was listed as a factor.

Formed in 1957 as an outgrowth of the now defunct Pontiac Retail Merchants Association, the DMA membership averaged 60 to 70 representatives of downtown retail outlets.

* * *

The group sponsored many important downtown features including Christmas decorations and street lighting. The more than 200 American flags that lined Saginaw and Huron Streets during the Centennial celebration were a DMA contribution. They were purchased this spring.

One of the most successful promotions of the DMA came last fall when Downtown Farm Days and Downtown Festival Days were combined during a September sales period.

The group also sponsored Downtown Tempest Days in honor of Pontiac Motor Division's new automobile.

* * *

Other annual sales events included Downtown Back to School Days and Downtown Spring Value Days.

Claims Court Is Conscience

It Rights the Wrongs Inflicted by the Federal Government

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Did you know the U. S. government has a conscience?

* * *

Its voice is neither still nor small, but loud and insistent. It is lodged in the U. S. Court of Claims. The court's job is to right the financial wrongs — legal and moral — suffered at the hands of the federal government by individuals and businesses at home and abroad.

The court relies on the principle laid down by President Abraham Lincoln in whose administration the tribunal got its real authority.

Lincoln said: "It is as much the duty of government to render prompt justice against itself in favor of its citizens as it is to administer the same between private individuals."

* * *

Members of the court have voiced this philosophy with some dexterity down through the years. Their jurisdiction follows the flag.

* * *

For years the Claims Court has been housed in a museum-like red brick structure, formerly the Corcoran Art Gallery, located a stone's throw from the White House.

It served during the Civil War as a storage place for ammunition.

Plans now are under way for construction of a new home, which also will accommodate other federal courts.

* * *

Aggrieved parties may file their own cases with the Claims Court, and Congress can refer claims there for fact-finding and recommendation. No claim is too small and no subject matter too bizarre for consideration.

New Trial Ordered for Arthur Mooney

A new trial has been ordered by the State Supreme Court for former Waterford Township teacher Arthur C. Mooney, who was convicted two years ago in Oakland County Circuit Court of gross indecency with one of his students.

* * *

The high court yesterday reversed a May 6, 1959 jury conviction and sided with Carlton S. Roeser, Mooney's attorney who argued that the prosecutor should not have been allowed to introduce testimony regarding the teacher's behavior with youths other than the one who filed the complaint.

* * *

"The impact upon the jury of this evidence was unquestionably considerable," said Justice Harry Kelly in a unanimous opinion.

Mooney, who was sentenced to 2 to 5 years after the conviction, also faced a similar morals charge in Edmonton, Alberta.

Resume Talks at Baldwin as Strike Deadline Nears

A strike deadline loomed as contract negotiations resumed today between management and labor representatives of Baldwin Rubber Co.

* * *

The strike, affecting some 550 of the company's 650 employes, is scheduled to begin at 7 a.m., tomorrow, when the present one-year contract expires, according to Michael McAleer, president of Local 125, United Auto Workers.

But McAleer, heading toward the 10 a.m. negotiating session at Hotel Waldron, expressed some optimism that the strike might be avoided.

"I think we may be able to settle on a contract today," he said. McAleer said the local is asking the company to follow the pattern of benefits set in the industry this year.

* * *

He said the pattern involves raises of 3½ cents an hour the first year and 4 cents the second.

PREXY HEADS TEAM

The company team was headed by Milo D. McLintock, newly elected as president of the Baldwin Rubber Division of the new Baldwin-Montrose Chemical Co.

McLintock and McAleer both scoffed at reports that the Pontiac plant might shut down as an aftermath of the recent merger with Montrose Chemical Co. of Newark, N.J. and Centlivre Brewing Corp. of Fort Wayne, Ind.

"There's nothing to these reports," said McLintock, who held the post of president of Baldwin Rubber before the merger.

McAleer said that recent improvements to the South Boulevard plant and installation of new machinery indicated to him that the factory would remain in operation.

* * *

Both sides agreed that a possible cutback in the labor force was not a factor in the present negotiations.

But McLintock foresaw that "reductions may be necessary as a result of a fall off" in business.

* * *

Harry M. Pryale, who served as chairman of the board of Baldwin Rubber Co., has now been elected vice president of the Baldwin-Montrose Chemical Co.

Predicts Early War; Is Nikita Bluffing?

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — National Commander William R. Burke of the American Legion says that unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "bluffing on Berlin or we surrender, we will be at war by the end of this year."

★ ★ ★

He told about 7,000 delegates at the opening of the 43rd annual convention of the California department of the Legion Thursday: "We should prepare for what appears to be inevitable war.

"If in order to insure that the United States survives it is necessary to destroy Castro and Khrushchev and communism, I say, let us get on with the task."

Housewives of Area Rarely Look at Labels

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Most Pontiac area housewives are not too concerned about food packaging. In fact, the majority questioned in a random telephone survey admitted rarely reading labels.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. is presiding over a three-day hearing of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee dealing with packaging and labeling of products sold in grocery stores.

First witnesses have charged that consumers are being hoodwinked by deceptive packaging and labeling.

Mrs. Harry Powers, 114 Virginia St., said she didn't read labels too often, but that she would like weight in terms of even pounds, not odd fractions. She doesn't like prepackaged fish.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roger B. Ulrich of Drayton Plains looks for brand names she has come to rely on. But she would like more standardized packages.

DISLIKES PLASTIC

Mrs. Oliver Meredith, 399 Kenilworth, usually checks labels, but hadn't thought too much about the current flurry over deceptive packaging.

Mrs. Arthur Heaton, 74 Forest, doesn't like clear plastic packages that burst open at the slightest touch. She doesn't like to get a big package that is only partially filled. But she doesn't read labels too often.

Mrs. Wendell Wilkinson, 8982 Wise Road, Commerce, agrees with what the congressional group is trying to do, but doesn't pay too much attention to labeling. However, when her husband shops with her, he does.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Beecher Bevington, 121 Exmoore, says there is no such thing as an "economy" package. She often finds that two smaller packages give her more for less money than the advertised larger one.

NOT SPECIFIC

Mrs. Curtis Cheek, 61 W. Fairmount, says that labels are not always specific and she doesn't always know what she is getting. But she keeps looking until she finds a brand she knows and one on which she can rely.

The chief complaint of Mrs. Harvey Hahnefeld, 2129 South Hammond Drive, is that the printing on labels is too small and that she has to hunt all over a package some times to find the weight.

She would like larger numbers so that she doesn't waste time figuring out whether she is getting a bargain.

Mrs. George Morrow, 1426 Glenwood, isn't too upset about the problem. She has confidence in the governmental group controlling weights and measures.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norman Cheal, 2751 North Lake Drive, thinks that packaging is less deceiving than advertising. She thinks that stores play up giant, jumbo and economy sizes, making them sound like real bargains when they aren't.

A former home economist, she is also upset by some of the ingredients that go into foods like cookies.

New Naval Chief Sees Battle Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., picked to lead the Navy, told senators Wednesday the United States and the free world are "up against tough opposition."

"We must be very alert, very imaginative, very flexible and very, very determined," Anderson, nominated by President Kennedy as the new chief of naval operations, told the Senate Armed Services Committee.

After the brief hearing the committee unanimously recommended Senate confirmation for Anderson and also approved retirement in four-star rank for Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, the retiring chief of naval operations.

★ ★ ★

It also approved the rank of permanent rear admiral for Floyd B. Schultz and Emerson E. Fawkes.

Leftists Riot Again Against Mososcso

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP)—Leftist anti-American demonstrations followed U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso to this big oil port Thursday.

As Moscoso was getting a friendly reception from officials at the airport, leftists demonstrated against his arrival in the center of town. Police dispersed the mob with tear gas.

Two weeks ago, leftist-led students burned the ambassador's car in front of Caracas University while he was inside talking with officials. He discounted that attack as insignificant in U.S.-Venezuelan relations.

Claim GM Position Due to Own Financing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Witnesses told a House judiciary subcommittee Thursday that General Motors Corp's strong competitive position in the auto field is due in great part to the fact that it owns its own financing subsidiary.

★ ★ ★

Thurmon Arnold, a former head of the antitrust division of the U.S. Dept. of Justice, said GM has "life and death power" over its dealers, and is immune from antitrust laws because of the subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

The House subcommittee is considering a bill by Rep. Celler, D-N. Y., that would make it illegal for an auto firm to finance or insure its own products.

Says Teamsters to Alter Constitution at Confab

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Teamster boss James R. Hoffa said Thursday his union will amend its constitution of a convention here next week preparatory to organizing municipal employes across the nation.

Hoffa said in an interview that the constitutional change will be a "no strike" provision for government employes.

Southern Clergy Want to Inspect Bias in Dearborn

ATLANTA (UPI) — A biracial group of Southern clergymen notified Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn, Mich., Thursday it would like to look into integration policies in the Detroit suburb.

★ ★ ★

The Atlanta-based Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity dispatched a telegram to Hubbard saying the ministers "would welcome an oportunity to learn if Dearborn has set aside restrictive housing policies in favor of one of open occupancy."

The 37 ministers will arrive in Dearborn on Sept. 16 en route to the episcopal church's general convention in Detroit that month.

Danish People Enjoying Every Minute of Life

By EARL WILSON

COPENHAGEN — The Danish Ladies still puff their cigars as they have for generations. Grayhaired ladies tilt cigars jauntily out of the corners of their mouths as they have tea at the great amusement park, the Tivoli.

WILSON

It still astonishes me — the thought of a beautiful young girl's kiss being cigar-flavored.

But here in this "Paris of Scandinavia," where blondes are really blondes and everybody sounds like Victor Borge, it continues—for there's nothing melancholy about the Danes in this year when trouble threatens Berlin.

"The Danes are entertainment-mad and spending furiously," is the word.

The hardier ones slug down aquavit-and-beer for breakfast, which is a potion even Toots Shor might find deadly.

On a Sunday afternoon, they rush to see the great Schumann one-ring circus, then swing over to Tivoli to feast on cotton candy, "Yankee style hamburgers," and open-faced sandwiches.

★ ★ ★

The point is that there's no tension among the Jensens, and no sweat among the Swedes about Mr. Khrushchev. There are so many American tourists in Europe that it's a joke. I heard one Swede quip, over his aquavit:

"When in Rome, do as the Americans do."

The real music lover is the woman who applauds when her husband comes home singing at 4 a.m. That's earl, brother.

Rusk Fills Timeslot Parrying Questions

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk normally avoids TV studios so last night the TV studio came to him.

In order to launch its newest interview show, "At the Source," CBS-TV sent a couple of cameras, crews and three reporters to Rusk's office.

Was the show, a sort of "Meet the Press" with upholstery, worth the fuss? From a news standpoint, no. From the standpoint of giving the public an insight into one man who figures in vital decisions, a partial yes.

Paul Niven, Howard K. Smith and Bill Downs of CBS news brought up current questions about Berlin, nuclear testing, disarmament, etc. Rusk, of course, wouldn't and couldn't be drawn into making diplomatic boo-boos and easily parried all questions with fresh-sounding, literate platitudes.

★ ★ ★

Rusk even sidestepped a question about whether anything funny ever happened to him on the way to a crisis. With that question, coming as it did so early in the show, I wondered if CBS wasn't deliberately trying to grab a few extra viewers by jazzing up the format with some gags. Rusk replied that yes, funny things do happen occasionally and dropped the subject.

The TV cameras stayed on Rusk most of the time, in fairly tight close-ups. Two different views of the office also were shown for variety.

The format apptars to date back, at least, to last fall's CBS-TV series, "Presidential Countdown," in which Walter Cronkite visited busy politicians in their offices. The idea, I suppose, is to interview the fellow in a familiar setting, get him out of the hot seat atmosphere of a panel format, and thereby achieve a more relaxed, natural dialogue. It makes for a more interesting program.

★ ★ ★

But since it is virtually a foregone conclusion that the dialogue isn't going to break fresh ground, wouldn't it be better to have the star discuss his daily routine and take us on a tour of the office but then we'd be right back to "Person to Person," wouldn't we?

Film Director of 'Tess' Dies of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Paul Guilfoyle, character actor and movie-TV director, is dead of a heart attack at the age of 58.

His body was found in his Playa Del Rey apartment Tuesday, friends reported Thursday.

Guilfoyle began his career in the theater, in 1935. He directed the film "Tess of the Storm Country," and in later years directed more than 150 television features

'Only Executed Bosses' Orders'

Eichmann on 9th Day Goes Into Dutch Ordeal Under Hitler

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann said today he was the man called in when the Nazis needed transportation to ship Jews out of Holland and Denmark to the death camps. But the former SS officer refused once more to accept any further responsibility for the mass slaughter.

★ ★ ★

Defense counsel Robert Servatius explored the Dutch and Danish ordeal under Nazi occupation with Eichmann on the stand for the ninth straight day and elicited a flood of explanations adding up to only one thing: Eichmann never conceived an order but only carried out his superiors' bidding.

NOT ACCURATE

Illustrative of this was Eichmann's repudiation of a document naming him as the man who "ordered" evacuation of a mental hospital in Holland so it could be turned over to SS military units.

★ ★ ★

"This could not be accurate at all," said the defendant, claiming that Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Nazi governor of Holland, had full "legislative authority" and did not need to come to Eichmann's bureau in Berlin for such action.

★ ★ ★

"It was quite obvious they only needed a train," said Eichmann. "And that is how it was referred to my section."

The mentally ill Jews and even the staff of the hospital were shipped out to destruction.

Bombing in Parking Lot Damages Cars in Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—A bomb believed to have been planted by foes of Premier Fidel Castro exploded in a parking lot here Thursday night, damaging two cars but causing no reported casualties.

It was the second bombing reported here this week. An explosion Tuesday night, attributed by radio Havana to "political differences," blew out the windows of a downtown print shop.
