Governor to Decide Today

Faubus Mulling Over Legislative Session

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated he would decide today whether to call an emergency session of the Arkansas Legislature to deal with a court ruling which orders resumption of integration at Central High School.

Glenn Walther, speaker of the House, said Faubus would summon the legislators to Little Rock. Walther said the extraordinary session would convene next week.

Arkansas lawmakers said earlier this week they expected Faubus to call the session as a result of the ruling in St. Louis Monday by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals reversing an earlier edict to postpone integration at Central until 1961.

Two attorneys threw additional focus on the situation yesterday when they asked the St. Louis court for a mandate ordering racial integration at Central in time for resumption of classes next month.

The request indicated more than the seven Negro children who helped Central integrate last year might seek admission in September.

More than 200 Negro children are eligible to attend the school this fall.

The Little Rock School Board was expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court within the next few days to uphold the postponement order handed down by U.S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley.

Lemley had called for a delay of integration at the request of the school board, which said it believed a "cooling-off" period was needed to avoid violence such as that attending the end of segregation at Central last fall when U.S. troops were sent in.

But the St. Louis court nullified Lemley's order this week and President Eisenhower supported this action yesterday.

Faubus, who was scornful of Eisenhower's statement, did not elaborate but said he probably would make a decision on the emergency session today.

"Quite a few legislators don't want a special session," Faubus said. "They are afraid a few people might be called in and asked a few questions."

But Walther said there was a popular demand for the session. "A special session of the Legislature will be called for next week," Walther said. "Ninety per cent of the people of Arkansas want it," he claimed.

Officials Seek Motive After Mystery Blaze

Question Harrelson and Waitress in Effort to Uncover Clues

The Pontiac fire marshal and police today are investigating arson of the apartment of a woman friend of Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamster's Local 614 yesterday.

No motive for the fire setting has been discovered as yet but Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said today there was no doubt the fire was deliberately set with some kind of inflammable fluid.

The blaze was discovered at 4:15 p.m. by another tenant on the second floor of the apartment building at 60 Douglas St. It was the apartment of Mrs. Mary Ann Wilson, a waitress at Town and Country Restaurant, Bloomfield Township.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem entered the case immediately and questioned Metz, Mrs. Wilson, and planned to take a statement from Harrelson.

The neighbor, W. R. James, told Metz that he saw a man, who appeared intoxicated, leave the building through the rear door at the time the fire was first noticed.

Metz said, too, that the front door of Mrs. Wilson's apartment was jammed to gain entrance, and a screw driver was used to remove the door jam.

Found in the badly burned apartment was a suitcase of clothing belonging to Harrelson. He said today that he was a friend of Mrs. Wilson's and had a date with her yesterday to go to the races.

Harrelson said he picked up Mrs. Wilson at 6 p.m. after she finished work and drove to her apartment so she could change clothes before going on to the races. He said they arrived at her place at about 6:45 p.m. and learned for the first time of the fire.

Harrelson said neither he nor Mrs. Wilson could think of anyone who would want to commit the arson.

He added he did not have any papers or anything stored there which might have tempted an arsonist. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Where Mystery Fire Threatened Building

INTRUDER LEFT DISORDER — This is how the interior of Mrs. Mary M. Wilson's apartment at 60 Douglas looked today after someone set it afire yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Wilson was absent during the afternoon in company of Teamster local president Leann Harrelson. Both were questioned by Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem today in an effort to find a motive for the arson attempt.

U.N. Bloc Unanimous for Proposal

Arabs Draft Mideast Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulation of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution, drawn up last night in a rare show of unanimity by the 10 Arab nations in the U.N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution, now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower.

But the Arab resolution shied away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U. N. police force or more U. N. observers in the Middle East.

Like the Norwegian resolution, the Arab proposal calls on Hammarskjöld to make arrangements that would permit withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

A new feature is a reaffirmation of the Arab nations' previous pledges not to interfere in each others' affairs, pledges which the Lebanese and Jordanian governments have charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic with ignoring consistently.

The plan was a bled to the Arab capitals for approval. If this last hurdle is cleared, the resolution might be presented to the Assembly today, an Arab spokesman said. If it is adopted, the session might end tonight or tomorrow.

An American spokesman said the U.S. delegation "thoroughly approves the Arab countries' trying to deal themselves with the problem of protecting the independence of each of them. But he stopped short of outright endorsement of the new proposal, saying that the American delegates were giving it close study.

Secretary of State Dulles hastened back to the United Nations last night after a flying trip to Washington for a conference with Eisenhower. He went into immediate consultations with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on the Arab proposal.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was understood to feel the Arab plan would pave the way for ending the session.

Fair, Pleasant Here on Friday

Storm Fells 100 Trees in West Michigan Area

Skies are expected to clear by tonight with the low a cool 60 degrees. This morning's 10-20 mile an hour winds will diminish to light.

The Weatherman promises tomorrow will be fair and pleasant with a high near 75 and a low tomorrow night of 55, fair and cool. The outlook for Saturday is mostly fair with a warming trend.

According to Wayne B. Siefert, Oakland County agricultural Extension Agent, this morning's gentle rain was a boon to home gardens and a blessing to later crops such as sweet corn, peaches and apples.

The temperature dipped from 69 degrees at midnight to a low of 63 at 8 a.m. The mercury rose to 70 at 1 p.m.

A fierce electrical storm, one of several which buffeted parts of West Michigan late yesterday, virtually isolated Paw Paw from telephone communications and slashed off its electric power.

Telephone circuits to the city still were reported out of order today.

Paw Paw, a village of about 3,000 persons, is Van Buren County seat.

State Police said a five-minute blow last night toppled at least 100 large trees in the city and in areas within a mile on each side of the village.

Comparatively little property damage was reported.

However, Cpl. Glenn DeFoe reported high winds knocked a 14-by-14-foot porch from his home.

Lakeview Hospital, operating on emergency power, reported two babies born shortly after the storm struck at 7:29 p.m.

Rains which broke records set in 1956 fell yesterday in Kent County.

Kent City, in Kent County, got six and a half inches of rain during the day. Sparta reported more than five and a half inches. Within one hour's time Grand Rapids received 1.43 inches.

Telephone service in the Lowell area was out for a time because lines were down.

A sharp electrical storm also hit Western Wayne County. Lightning started two small fires. Numerous basements were flooded in Detroit suburbs.

Oakland Sends Largest Delegation

Dems Expect to Rename 4 Incumbents to Ballot

Oakland County's delegation to consist of 161 persons holding 114 votes.

How these votes will be cast — by unit rule or by individual delegate vote — will not be decided until a caucus of the Oakland delegation is held at 10 p.m. Friday.

This matter came up at the county convention in Pontiac a week ago and was tabled until the caucus.

Keynoting a "Victory Target 1958" dinner tomorrow night will be Paul M. Butler, national Democratic chairman.

The first order of business in the two-day convention will be a 2 p.m. meeting tomorrow of the platform committee at which the party will come up with a proposed campaign platform to be presented to the full-state delegation Saturday.

Ike May Give Temporary-Ban Order Today

East-West Scientists Agree on Policing at Geneva Meeting

(From Our Wire Services)
WASHINGTON — The United States is ready to announce a temporary suspension of nuclear weapons tests and a White House statement is expected soon — perhaps today — informed sources reported.

The American decision coincided with an agreement at Geneva between Eastern and Western atomic scientists on methods of policing any formal international ban on further nuclear tests.

The scientists, whose work represents the first significant break in the East-West disarmament deadlock, said they had reached the conclusion that:

"It is technically feasible to set up, with certain capabilities and limitations, a workable and effective control system of the detection of violations of a possible agreement on the worldwide cessation of nuclear tests."

Their final communique said a network of control posts "disposed on continents and on islands, as well as on ships in oceans," would be appropriate for this purpose.

"The experts came to the conclusion that the control system should be under the direction of an international control organ which would ensure the coordination of activities of the control system and the functioning of the system in such a way that it would satisfy the necessary technical requirements," the communique said.

The conference's published findings did not recommend any definite number of control stations, nor a maximum effective distance between the stations.

This is considered one of the technical points with major political implications because of the likelihood that an all-inclusive network would require control stations in Communist China.

The Peiping government did not participate in the conference, which was attended by scientists from the United States, Britain, France, Canada, the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

METHODS LISTED
The announcement listed the following methods to be used by the control stations: "collecting samples of radioactive debris, recording seismic, acoustic and hydro-acoustic waves, and the radio signal method, together with the use of on-site inspection of unidentified events which might be suspected of being nuclear explosions."

A temporary ban presumably would be labeled as a preliminary step toward securing a firm international agreement to ban nuclear testing, backed by difficult-to-evade inspection.

Russia announced suspension of its nuclear testing following a series of red tests last winter and challenged this country and Britain to follow suit. The Soviet Union made it clear it would resume testing. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Baker 'Can't Remember' Where Money Came From

Denies Union's Funds Kept Blonde

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert (Barney) Baker swore today he didn't use Teamster money to support a blonde convicted slayer in luxury in Miami in 1955. He said he couldn't remember exactly where he did get the money.

Baker, a $125-a-week Teamsters Union organizer at the time, said the funds he put out for blonde Mrs. Ruth Brougher were "nothing like" the $20,000 to $25,000 she has testified he lavished on her. He set the figure yesterday at $7,000 or $8,000.

Pressed by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to tell the source of the thousands, the 300-pound Baker pleaded: "I can't remember. I don't want to perjure myself."

Baker, an ex-convict described by police as a onetime musclem on the New York waterfront, said he had no recollection of threatening to kill Mrs. Brougher's lawyer or trying to strangle a Chicago hotel man who had complained about his bill.

But he did not flatly deny he did those things.

He did deny giving money to Mrs. Brougher's lawyer, George Everett, in an effort to fix the courts on her appeal from a manslaughter conviction.

Mrs. Brougher, 44, is serving a 15-year sentence for the July, 1954, Miami parking lot slaying of Murray Dubois, a boy friend. She said he was pistol-whipping her and was shot in a struggle over the weapon.

Baker said he could pin down the source of only $4,000 of the money.

he had spent on Mrs. Brougher in less than a year while she waited out her appeal in plush surroundings.

He said he had borrowed that much from Mert Wertheimer. He identified Wertheimer as a "boss" at the Colonial Inn in Hollywood, Fla., a night club operated by Frank Costello, Joe Adonis, and other mobsters.

As for the rest of the money, Baker said, "I borrowed money from a few people." When asked the identity of the loaners, he replied: "I can't recollect."

He vaguely remembered, he added, borrowing some money from a St. Louis bank. When pressed for details, he replied: "To the best of my knowledge, I don't know."

He flatly denied asking Mike (Trigger) Meyer Copola, notorious Miami mobster, for money to help Mrs. Brougher.

Under examination by committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy, Baker later said: "The only time I talked to him (Copola) was to try to help Ruth Brougher. . . I said she needed some money."

Mrs. Brougher, brought under guard from a Florida prison to testify here, told the committee yesterday Copola had given her $5,000.

She said she had no idea where the money Baker spent on her came from.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) had asked whether it had come from Baker's own funds, the stolen $300,000 Greenlease kidnap ransom, or that he knows who did. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

DENIES HE GOT ANY RANSOM MONEY — Gesturing with his hands, Teamster Robert (Barney) Baker bellows from witness stand before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington. At one point he denied he got any part of the stolen $300,000 Greenlease kidnap ransom, or that he knows who did.

Congress Hopes to Finish Saturday Adjournment Target Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — New fights over Supreme Court bills and other unfinished legislation confronted Congress today as leaders clung to hopes for winding up the current session this week-end.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set Saturday night as the target for adjournment.

Report Living Costs Drop During July

NEW YORK (UPI) — The cost of living declined in July for the first time in more than two years, the National Industrial Conference Board reported today.

The decline — a slight one-tenth of one per cent — marks the first break in the inflationary spiral that began in 1956 after almost three years of price stability.

Declines in food, housing and apparel costs offset increases in transportation and sundries, sending the board's overall index down 0.1 per cent from June to 107.4 per cent of the 1955 base period. The index was 2.5 per cent above July 1957.

The conference board's index of consumer prices had risen 25 consecutive months before the July break. With the economy showing signs of recovery from the depths of the shortest but deepest postwar recession, some economists have warned that inflationary forces may pick up steam.

Oil Magnate Getty Flying In for Service

LUGANO, Switzerland (AP) — American oil millionaire J. Paul Getty said today he plans to fly to Los Angeles within a few days for the funeral of his youngest son.

The 12-year-old boy, Timothy, died of heart failure in New York Saturday after plastic surgery. The child is to be buried near his father's parents at Forest Lawn Cemetery, Getty said.

The oil man said he had not returned to the United States to be with his son at the time of the operation because the doctors had told him "it was no more serious than pulling a tooth."

"The fact that I was not there with him has caused me very particular grief," Getty added.

Aunt Outshines Baruch

LONDON (UPI) — Bernard M. Baruch's Aunt Malvina, 102, yesterday, told newsmen: "I love life. I have kept myself busy and have always got something to do." Her celebrated American nephew was 88 yesterday. The aunt, Mrs. Malvina Zimm, spoke to reporters in German. She came here from France 12 years ago and does not yet have full command of English.

Sees Fusion Lighting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cities of the future may some day be lighted by fusion power, predicted by a panel of experts attending the 1958 Western Electronic Show and Convention. But fusion—thermonuclear power—will take 30 or more years before becoming economical enough to light a city, the experts said.

AMC Workers Subject of Row

MESC Halts Benefits in Bonus-Vacation Pay Plan Investigation

DETROIT (AP) — Payments of state unemployment compensation to between 800 and 1,000 American Motors Corp. employees in Grand Rapids, were cut off today in the investigation of AMC's bonus-vacation pay plan.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) ordered the compensation stopped pending an attorney general's ruling on legality of the plan.

This is the AMC arrangement with the United Auto Workers which came under question at a legislative hearing in Lansing. The affected workers are AMC appliance plant employees at Grand Rapids.

AMC, defending the plan and describing it as common in Michigan industry, put $100,000 in escrow yesterday to cover any loss which it said the state might suffer.

At the same time the company said it was being made a victim of discrimination in being called to account on the plan.

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman said the company has been assured by "legal and expert authorities" that the arrangement is "legally sound and ethically proper."

Last month employees who were to be paid off Aug. 8 for model changeover were paid a bonus in lieu of vacation. They were told to apply for unemployment compensation during the shutdown.

The two bonuses, together with unemployment benefits, will equal normal vacation pay.

Ike May Halt Tests for Limited Period

ing if other nations did not join in the ban. Authoritative sources in London said Britain will go ahead with its forthcoming nuclear test series in the Pacific regardless of any U.S. action. But there was general belief in London the new series would be Britain's last, now that an agreement has been reached.

Other related developments: United Nations—U.N. Sec. Gen. Dag Hammarskjöld greeted the "solid accomplishment" of international nuclear experts at Geneva as a big step toward world disarmament.

HIROSHIMA, Japan — Japan, led by the atom-bombed cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, welcomed reports of a U.S. nuclear test suspension. Dr. Fumio Shigetani, director of the Hiroshima Red Cross Hospital, recalled the recent United Nations warning that "contamination of the elements has already reached the danger point to mankind."

Moscow—Moscow radio broadcast a letter from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to the Geneva scientists stating "There can be no arguments at all to justify a refusal to end tests immediately."

London—Britain's opposition labor party protested Britain's planned nuclear tests on the ground that they would jeopardize current prospects for controlled international suspension of nuclear tests.

HAGGERTY NONCOMMITTAL
Asked about the temporary ban last night, White House Press Secretary James C. Haggerty referred to President Eisenhower's news conference statement yesterday on the Geneva agreement and added: "The experts have not yet rendered their report. No conclusion on that report has been or could have been taken."

The President told newsmen yesterday the Geneva agreement "gives ground to hope you can go another step, and every step that you go means you can go another one."

The President said yesterday the Geneva agreement might be signed today. That might make it a logical time to announce a U.S. test suspension. There were other indications the U.S. move might be announced later in the week.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew to Washington from the United Nations session in New York yesterday to confer with President Eisenhower. Dulles indicated he discussed the Geneva meeting at his 90-minute session with the President but refused to say whether the United States was ready to suspend tests.

The apartment manager, William J. Schissler, said he was not at home when the fire started but his wife called the fire department. He said James fought the blaze with three extinguishers before the firemen arrived.

Schissler said Mrs. Wilson has been a tenant for two years and that Harrison had visited her for the past several months.

Assistant Fire Marshal Allen J. Tunney went to Detroit early today with bits of the burned rug and other furnishings of the two-room apartment for analysis.

Metz said Tunney would have the Detroit Fire Marshal's Office test the items to see if they could determine what fluid was used to set the fire.

"It wasn't gasoline," Metz said. "It seemed more like lighter fluid."

Pontiac detectives entered the case at 10 a.m. when Metz formally filed an arson complaint.

The Day in Birmingham

Superintendent Praises District PTA Groups

BIRMINGHAM — Several PTA units in the Birmingham district have been cited by Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent, in his annual report.

At the Bloomfield Village School, the unit contributed $300 for shrubbery in a grounds beautification program. They also assisted in the library and did volunteer work for the principal and the faculty.

At Midvale Elementary School, the quickly-formed unit is credited with helping to iron out many of the difficulties experienced in a newly-opened school.

At Walnut Lake Elementary School, 10 mothers worked as librarians and handled more than 14,000 book loans during the year. Another group of three repaired a total of 310 books, representing a district saving of about $800, according to Ireland.

The newly-organized group at Greenfield Elementary School had an average attendance of 394 parents at its meetings. Members raised more than $500 for library books in the first year.

Denies Union Money Supported Blonde

Teamsters' treasury, or was stolen or kidnap money.

There were signs of strained relations between the 300-pound Baker and his boss — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. Baker, an ex-convict, is an aide to Hoffa in Detroit.

After yesterday's session, Hoffa poked Baker in the back and snapped, "Come with me." Photographers had spotted Hoffa delivering an angry lecture to Baker in a car during the noon recess.

Baker was a subdued witness after a morning performance that delighted spectators in the jammed hearing room.

In the forenoon session, Baker roared that the committee was unfair in trying to connect him with the missing $300,000 of what he called "blood-tainted" Greenlease ransom money. He accused the committee of trying to smear Gov. Averell Harriman of New York by linking them.

He denounced his divorced wife Mollie as a "vengeful woman, a woman scorned."

She told the committee Tuesday that Baker was the best of friends with Democrat Harriman and knew the whereabouts of money missing from the $800,000 ransom paid in 1953 for 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City, who was kidnapped and slain.

Baker said he "honored and loved" Harriman but that the New York governor, seeking reelection this year, "wouldn't know me if he saw me." Harriman has said he doesn't recall any contact with Baker, except a possible handshake during a political campaign.

As for the Greenlease money, Baker said flatly he got "absolutely none" of it.

Kennedy charged Baker with losing his memory over the noon recess.

In contrast with his firm denials of the Greenlease and Harriman testimony, Baker said he didn't remember accepting money from employer representatives but could not be sure.

"I wish my memory were a lot better," a grinning Baker said after being asked whether he accepted money from management to settle a Teamster strike against Midwest Burlap Bag Co. in Des Moines, Iowa.

He denied, however, receiving $10,000 to halt a Teamster strike against Esco Co. in McKees Rocks, Pa.

De Gaulle Visits French Africa

Premier Seeks Support for New Constitution in Referendum

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle flew south today on a tour of French African territories to drum up votes for his new constitution in the Sept. 28 referendum.

The general's first destination was Madagascar, an Indian Ocean island off Africa that is larger than France. Then he will visit Brazzaville, Equatorial Africa, where he pledged local self-government to French colonies in a World War II speech as leader of the Free French; Abidjan, Conakry and Dakar, in West Africa; and rebellion-torn Algeria.

In the referendum the people of these territories will vote on an equal basis with Frenchmen for the first time.

De Gaulle favors letting the territories choose between full integration into the French federation, but his Cabinet reportedly has abandoned the idea of federation. However, talks the Premier has with local leaders on his trip are expected to have considerable bearing on his future plans for France's overseas possessions.

De Gaulle is scheduled to return to Paris at the end of the month. Vice Premier Guy Mollet is in charge during his absence.

Russians Claim Fiber Stronger Than Steel

NEW YORK — The Russians claim to have a new synthetic fiber stronger than steel, according to the publication, Chemical Week.

It will be used for knitwear, light fabrics, rugs, lace, machine parts, conveyor belts, and automobile tires. The Russians say they have discovered a way of taking gases and converting them into a material resembling mother of pearl, and the fiber is formed from this.

Look at Them Wave!

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Nearly every passing motorist waved at Robert F. McKenzie, driving a truck load of trash. He discovered at his next stop that the trash was on fire. "I knew I didn't know all those people," said McKenzie.

Labor Reform Full-Blown Campaign Issue in Congressional Election

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor reform—and what Congress failed to do about it—is now a full-blown campaign issue in the 1958 congressional election.

Democrats and Republicans will blame each other for what didn't come to pass. But the fact is neither side looks pretty in this one. President Eisenhower has already rushed to the defense of his Republicans with a statement yesterday. This is how it started and ended:

Last January Eisenhower proposed—as a result of disclosures by the Senate Rackets Committee—a 12-point labor reform program.

The Democratic-run Senate on June 17 passed its own bill which fell short of all Eisenhower wanted. It was sponsored by Senators Irving M. Ives (R-NY) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Republicans and Democrats teamed up to shove it through 88-1.

This bill sought to throttle racketeering by both unions and employers. It would have required detailed reports on union affairs and funds, along with reports by employers on how much money they spent on labor relations activities.

Further, it would have barred convicted crooks from holding union office, required secret ballot union elections for limited terms, and let union members sue to recover stolen union funds or property. And it would have made management representatives take a non-Communist oath, just as union leaders have to do.

Then the bill went over to the Democratic-run House. There the leaders of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, bottled it up 41 days by keeping it on his desk. He finally sent it to the House Labor Committee for consideration July 23. Why the delay?

He explained: He didn't want to get it entangled with another piece of labor legislation the Labor Committee was considering.

But the House Labor Committee is run by Democrats. They didn't want any part of the Ives-Kennedy bill. In fact 16 of them, joined by six Republicans, voted against even considering the bill. The committee also voted against considering a Republican-backed substitute.

Finally, the bill was yanked out of the committee's hands and thrown before the full House for action. Under the special procedure used, the bill couldn't be amended. It also required a two-thirds vote for passage.

But then the Republicans got in their licks. They closed-ranks to kill the bill on the floor. A big majority of them, joined by some Democrats, voted to kill the bill. It was killed.

Yet a big majority of Democrats on the floor voted for the bill. This was a switch for their party since an overwhelming number of Democrats in the Labor Committee had voted against ever letting the bill see the light of day.

Sen. Ives was incensed at what happened in the House. He said he was ashamed of it. But he also said: "A lot of House members were misled by false propaganda by the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the American Retail Federation, the Teamsters, and the United Mine Workers. Can you imagine a more unholy alliance?"

Kennedy also struck out at the NAM. That organization's president, Milton C. Lightner, said it was true his organization had opposed the bill but he denied NAM pressure killed it.

So everything was confused but warming up for a who-struck-John fight in the campaign when Eisenhower issued a statement yesterday. He was highly critical of the Ives-Kennedy bill—although his Senate Republicans had voted overwhelmingly for it. He objected mostly on the grounds it didn't go far enough.

Then he proposed that Congress pass a labor reform bill to his liking before it quits this year. But Congress is only a few days away from quitting, and Eisenhower must know—since everyone else does—no other bill has a chance this year.

Cold Cuts With a Difference!

PICKLE BOLOGNA TURTLES—Add interest to children's parties and mealtimes with Pickle Bologna Turtles, the newest sandwich rage. They're fun and easy-to-make. Serve with fruit and sweet mixed pickles.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Our article last week on the hot dog started something. We have looked into the whole subject of lunch meats and find them fascinating. Historically, they are the oldest known form of processed meat. Some varieties are thousands of years old.

According to tradition, salami was named because it was the victory meat developed for celebrations following the ancient Greek defeat of the Persian fleet at Salamis. Some kinds of sausage were commonplace in China and Babylon 4,000 years ago.

Each nation has added its favorite to the list: Bologna, Italy contributed bologna; Germany developed a number of sausages. From the British we got corned beef; the Hungarians gave us kolbase. And so it goes from all over the world. But the modern cold-cuts are thoroughly American. They're delightful additions to our diet, especially in warm weather.

Just a word of warning! Keep all cold meats well refrigerated and use them before they are too old. If you have any doubts about their freshness and goodness, feed them to the cat.

Children will love sandwiches that look like little turtles. Even grown-ups will be intrigued by them.

Pickle Bologna Turtles
1 pint cottage cheese
1 cup chopped sweet mixed pickles
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
12 bologna slices
3 tablespoons chili sauce
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Sweet gherkin slices
6 slices white bread, trimmed
Combine cheese, sweet mixed pickles, garlic salt, salt and paprika. Mix well and place by tablespoons on 6 bologna slices.

Top with remaining bologna slices and fasten with toothpicks. Place on broiler rack.

Combine chili sauce and mayonnaise; blend and brush on bologna. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 4-5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Remove toothpicks. Insert gherkins between bologna slices to resemble turtle head and feet. Serve on bread. Makes six.

You've all heard of the Hero Sandwich. Now you can go it one better and serve the Uncle Sam Sandwich. Developed by two home economists, it calls for a gigantic loaf of French bread (for an Uncle Sam Sandwich?) and a great variety of your favorite cold-cuts.

The Uncle Sam
1 loaf French bread, 5 to 8 feet long
Butter or margarine
Prepared mustard with dash of Worcestershire sauce and horseradish
Sliced sharp cheddar cheese
50-100 slices assorted cold cuts and sausages
3 to 4 dozen sweet gherkin pickles sliced lengthwise
8 medium onions, sliced
Cut bread into halves, lengthwise. Spread cut surfaces with butter or margarine. Spread bottom half with seasoned mustard. Arrange lettuce leaves over mustard. Place sliced cheese on bottom layer, then overlap assorted cold cuts over cheese, making certain meat completely covers bottom half of sandwich. Arrange sliced pickles and onions on meat. Place top half of loaf over filling.

To serve, cut sandwich crosswise and diagonally into three-inch lengths.

If your family is tired of scrambled eggs served in the usual manner for breakfast, give them a welcome change by filling bologna cups with the creamy eggs. The Ten-Year-Old loves these bologna cups just plain or filled with baked beans.

Bologna Cups

12 slices of large bologna, cut about 1/2 inch thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
6 to 8 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Brown 6 bologna slices in frying-pan in lard or drippings. As meat heats, it will curl to form inverted cups. Remove from pan. Chop remaining 6 bologna slices. Combine chopped meat, eggs, milk and pepper. Pour into frying-pan and cook slowly until set, stirring occasionally. Fill bologna cups with egg mixture. Yield: 6 servings.

Tender Veal Kidneys Served on Muffins

You may be acquainted with veal kidneys that are cut with chops and sold as kidney chops, but have you tried veal kidneys separately?

If you would like to introduce your family to delicious veal kidneys, use this easy-to-do recipe.

Veal Kidneys With Mushrooms
2 veal kidneys
1/2 cup bacon drippings
1/2 cup diced onions
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 can chopped mushrooms
1/2 cup water
Muffins or toast

Cut fat and membrane from kidneys. Split through center and remove fat and heavy veins. Cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Cook onions in hot drippings until soft; add kidneys and cook 10 minutes longer, or until meat is lightly browned. Stir in flour, salt, and pepper; add mushrooms and water.

Heat to boiling, stirring constantly, then cover and simmer over low heat 20 minutes. Serve over hot muffins or toast. 4 to 6 servings.

Bananas, Coffee Flavor Drink

During the long, hot summer months, teenagers love tall, frosty drinks and Panama Coolers are just the ticket! They can make the coolers themselves by simply combining zesty coffee, smooth banana, cream soda and evaporated milk in a blender. Then listen to their praises—and you'll want to try one yourself!

Panama Cooler

2 cups strong cold coffee
2 ripe bananas
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 quart cream soda
Combine coffee, bananas cut in chunks, and evaporated milk in electric blender or small bowl of electric mixer. Blend or beat until smooth and creamy. Divide equally among 6 tall glasses and fill glasses with ice cold cream soda. Stir gently to mix.

Veal Needs Spicy Sauce

In a large skillet, lightly sauté 1/4 cup instant minced onion and 1 diced green pepper in 2 to 3 tablespoons hot olive oil. Add 1 pound veal, cut into cubes and brown on all sides.

Add 1 cup Spanish type tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon crumbled whole oregano leaves, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes and 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder. Cover and cook slowly until done, 45 to 55 minutes. Serves 3 to 4.

Lemon, Spice Peps Up Bland Blueberries

Lemon and spice give blueberry pie extra-good flavor.

Blueberry Pie

Pastry for a 2-crust 9-inch pie plate.
1/2 of a small lemon.
4 cups blueberries (washed and drained).
1/4 cup sugar.
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca.
dash of salt.
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon.
heavy cream.

Roll out half of pastry and fit into 9-inch pie plate. Grate rind and squeeze juice from lemon; mix with blueberries. Stir sugar, tapioca, salt and cinnamon together; mix gently with berries.

Fill pastry-lined plate with berries. Roll out remaining pastry and fit over berries for top crust, sealing edges. Brush top crust with cream. Cut slashes in top crust to allow steam to escape.

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until juice bubbles. Serve with heavy cream, plain or whipped.

Buttercup Toast Cups

Buttercups demonstrate a new way to toast bread for a "new look" in open-face sandwiches. Trim crusts from slices of fresh enriched bread. Brush lightly with melted butter or margarine. Press into muffin cups. Place in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) until lightly toasted, 10 to 15 minutes. Fill with poultry, meat or seafood salad.

Coconut Tops Colorful Dish

Ice cream has become an everyday family food, kept on hand in the home freezer to create plain and fancy desserts at the drop of a hat. Because ice cream complements so many other foods, it's fun to experiment with different combinations. There are literally hundreds of wonderful, simple-to-make possibilities.

Frozen Sunshine will make a hit for either family or party table. Canned peach halves and vanilla ice cream form the base. Sparkling red grenadine syrup and toasted coconut topping add unusual flavor and texture. Try it for that quick-to-prepare dessert or special snack treat.

Frozen Sunshine

1/4 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup moist flaked coconut
6 canned or fresh peach halves
6 tablespoons grenadine syrup
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Mix together the brown sugar and butter; toss mixture with coconut. Brown lightly in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 5 minutes. Cool. To make each serving, place a peach half hollow side up in sherbet or dessert dish; fill hollow with a tablespoonful of grenadine syrup. Top with a large scoop of ice cream; sprinkle with coconut topping. Makes 6 servings.

Quickie Sweet Rolls

Place packaged refrigerated ready-to-bake biscuits close together in a 9-inch pie plate. Sprinkle the tops of the biscuits with a mixture of brown sugar and soft butter. Bake in a hot oven until the tops of the biscuits are brown and bubbly. Serve at once.

BAKED COLESLAW SANDWICHES FOR AMBROSIA SANDWICHES

That sandwich-time favorite, coleslaw, has done an about-face. Most often between two slices of bread, this time it's baked right in the bread. Cheddar Cheese Bread is delicious for sandwiches, and for toast to serve with salads.

Cheddar Cheese Bread

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
2 cups milk
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup sifted enriched flour (about 1 1/2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (6 ounces)

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add 2 cups flour, stirring well. Add softened yeast and cheese. Add enough more flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny.

Shape into ball and place in lightly greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). Punch down. Divide dough into two equal portions. Shape each portion into smooth ball. Let rest 10 minutes.

Shape into loaves. Place in greased loaf pan, 5 1/2 x 9 1/2 inches. Let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes.

Cheese Bread Ambrosia Sandwiches

3 quarts cream cheese, softened
1 cup whole cranberry sauce, drained
12 slices cheese bread, toasted
Lettuce leaves
2 ripe bananas, thinly sliced
6 slices pineapple, well-drained
Mayonnaise or salad dressing
Mix thoroughly the cream cheese and cranberry sauce. Spread on half the toasted bread slices. Cover cranberry mixture with lettuce. Arrange banana slices over lettuce and top with pineapple slices. Spread remaining toast with mayonnaise or salad dressing and cover pineapple slices to close sandwiches. Secure with wooden picks and cut into halves. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Easy Homemade Sodas

If you prefer ice cream sodas — home-style, try this: Into a large glass, put about one third cup of crushed, sweetened fruit — strawberries, raspberries, peaches, apricots, pineapple — or about three tablespoons of syrup — chocolate, maple — any you prefer, then a scant one fourth cup of chilled milk, a large scoop of ice cream, and almost fill with chilled sparkling water. Stir. Add straws and serve.

FESTIVE APPETIZER — To get party diners off to a festive start, serve a colorful tray of small-size South African rock lobster tails in the living room. The Remoulade sauce is flavored with Angostura bitters.

Eat Lobster Out of Hand

It makes good sense, and it's certainly good fashion, to serve the first course in the living room. But the appetizer must be easy to handle and exciting to eat.

Such a first course is South African rock lobster. For living-room service, select the small, three- or four-ounce tails, and allow one for each person. They can be prepared well before-hand and stored in the refrigerator—just waiting to be carried out on a petty tray. Guests help themselves, spoon this delightful variation of a Remoulade sauce over the tender, juicy tails and eat right from the gay, red shell.

To prepare, boil the tails in salted water for not more than 6 minutes. Drain with cold water, cut away the thin undershell and carefully remove meat in one piece. Save the shells and chill the cooked tails. Then slice each tail into medallions and replace pieces to simulate a whole rock lobster tail inserted upside-down in shell.

Remoulade For Rock Lobster
2 hard cooked egg yolks
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon chopped gherkins
1 teaspoon anchovy paste
2 tablespoons heavy cream
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon Angostura bitters
Put egg yolks through sieve. Combine mayonnaise and vinegar with egg yolks and mustard. Blend thoroughly. Add parsley, gherkins. Blend thoroughly. Add anchovy paste, cream and Angostura. Blend thoroughly. Makes 1 cup.

Mild Chocolate Flavor Popular in Cookies

Bake a batch of cookies in an always popular flavor.

Cocoa Drop Cookies
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sifted cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts.
Sift together the flour, cocoa, salt, cinnamon and cloves. Cream butter, brown sugar, baking soda and vanilla together. Beat in egg thoroughly. Add dry ingredients and buttermilk alternately, stirring until smooth after each addition.
Drop by tablespoonfuls, several inches apart, onto a buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 18 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Cool on wire racks.
Store in tightly covered container. Makes 2 dozen large cookies.

Constant Watching Protects Produce

One of these times, you may get acquainted with a new emblem, a red-white and blue shield, appearing on a bag of potatoes or a tube of tomatoes or some other package of fruit or vegetables. When you see it, it will be your guide to quality in whatever kind of fresh produce you're buying. The red-white and blue shield will be the U.S. Department of Agriculture's mark for continuous inspection of fruits and vegetables.

Up to now, government inspectors have inspected fresh fruits and vegetables by taking a representative sample out of several hundred bushels and deciding whether the entire lot should be graded U. S. Number One, or U. S. Fancy, U. S. Grade B, or whatever the quality should be. Recently the Department of Agriculture offered the fruit and vegetable industry a continuous inspection service, in which a government inspector would be at the packing house all the time.

ELEGANT PARTY TARTS — Hidden under the plump red strawberries is a layer of cream cheese. The base for these dainties is a shortcake you buy at the corner store. Nothing to it.

Cake Cups Hold Cheese, Berries

It's easy to make a party of any meal when you serve these dainty, elegant French Party Tarts. Juicy, red strawberries over a cream cheese filling on spongy shortcake dainties from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department will bring spring to your table in a bright big way.
Chopped pistachio nuts garnishing the edge of each tart put the final gourmet touch on this Continental treat.

French Party Tarts
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
1/2 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4-6 shortcake dainties
2 cups fresh strawberries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup chopped pistachio nuts
Mix cream cheese, cream, sugar, and vanilla together. Fill center of shortcake dainties with cream cheese mixture. Chill. Mash 1/2 of the berries and add sugar.
Combine cornstarch and water, and stir until free of lumps. Add to strawberry mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until clear and slightly thickened. Set pan in cold water and stir until sauce is cool. Fold in remaining berries halved or left whole.
Top cream cheese with berries. If desired, garnish edge of each tart lightly with chopped pistachio nuts. Serves 4 to 6.
Add enough butter to the pan, when you are frying eggs, so you can taste the yolks with it. Keep the heat low!

Dunk Pretzels in Hot Cheese

Pretzels have been in business ever since the good year A.D. 610, when an imaginative monk in a monastery high in the Alps invented the first looped and twisted treat that has delighted unnumbered millions since. And, though they have never changed their shape, texture, or goodness, there is always something new to go with them.

Hot Diggity Dip! It's a heart-warming, tangy cheese-egg-and-soup mixture that caresses a crisp pretzel as a pretzel should be tenderly taken. Crispness and melting goodness mingle in this rich flavor combination.

Serve Hot Diggity Dip and pretzels at your next party, large or small. Make plenty of the dip and heap the bowl nearby with pretzels. Then dunk away.

In chafing dish or heavy saucepan, heat 1 can condensed mushroom soup and 1 can condensed tomato soup together with 1/2 cup white wine. Simmer, but do not boil. Sauté 2 tablespoons minced chives or green onions, and 2 tablespoons grated green pepper in 1 tablespoon butter. Add 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, plenty of freshly-ground black pepper, and a small pinch of cayenne pepper. Do not overcook chives-pepper mixture.

Stir this into the hot soup mixture, then add 1/4 lb. finely grated sharp cheddar cheese and stir over low heat till cheese melts. Remove from heat and stir into the mixture 1 well-beaten egg.

Keep mixture warm in chafing dish or sauce warmer for dipping crisp pretzels. If mixture becomes too thick, thin with white wine or milk.

FROZEN GRAPEFRUIT CREAM — A rich-tasting dessert for dieters that tips the caloric scales at only 74 calories per serving. Canned Florida grapefruit juice adds the refreshing tang.

Fruity Cream Dieters' Dream

At last a dessert for the dieter! Not a skimpy, unlovely looking one either. This frozen cream dessert is honestly so enjoyable that many a non-dieter will clamor for the recipe.

The juiciest and most flavorful grapefruit are juiced and canned during the sunny winter months in Florida. The sunshine flavor is evident in this dessert which uses a can of grapefruit juice, a product you should keep in good supply during the thirsty months of summer. Its tartness and high vitamin C content make it an excellent refresher.

Frozen Grapefruit Cream
1/2 envelope unflavored gelatine.
1 can (16 ounces) grapefruit juice.
2 eggs, separated.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
2 teaspoons liquid sweetener.
2 teaspoons vanilla.
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg.
1/2 cup evaporated milk.
Yellow food coloring.

Sprinkle gelatine on 1/4 cup of the grapefruit juice in top of double boiler to soften. Stir in beaten egg yolks. Place over hot water and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened.

Remove from heat; blend in remaining grapefruit juice, salt, liquid sweetener, vanilla, nutmeg and evaporated milk. Stir in few drops yellow food coloring. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into grapefruit mixture. Turn into refrigerator tray. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator; freeze, stirring occasionally.

Break up with fork in a large chilled mixing bowl. Beat with electric or rotary beater just until smooth. Return to freezing compartment and freeze until firm. Yield: 6 servings.

If you sprinkle your salmon steaks with lemon juice, as well as with melted butter before broiling, they'll taste especially savory.

Well, if you would like to add that same refreshing quality to your summertime menus, you'll want to try this exciting recipe for Frosted Lemon Cups. A tempting dessert which combines the tropical tartness of lemons and the crunchy sweet flavor of sugar coated corn flakes, this dish is the perfect finale to any dinner menu.

ISLAND BRUNCH — Guests for brunch will be pleasantly surprised by food with an "Islands" flavor. Accompanying the thick ham steak are luscious baked bananas.

Curry Gives Tang to Creamed Onions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vary the creamed onion routine with the tang of curry. Peel and cook 1 pound small white onions in boiling salted water until tender. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, blend in 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon each of curry powder and salt, and 1/2 teaspoon black pepper.

Add 1 1/2 cups milk, cook and stir until thickened. Drain onions, place in 1-quart baking dish, cover with sauce and sprinkle with 1/2 cup grated American cheese. Bake in preheated moderate (350 degree) oven 10 minutes. Serves 6-8.

Melon, Ham Canapes

Mix 3-ounce package cream cheese with 2 tablespoons deviled ham, one-third cup minced fresh cantaloupe, and 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger. Spread on melba toast or crackers. Garnish with small pieces of ripe cantaloupe. Serve with fruit juice or cocktails.

MAKE OVER PAGES^{VE} Entertain at Brunch in Hawaiian Style

If you're planning to entertain guests for the weekend this summer, or like to entertain with brunch on Sundays, try the easy "Islands" style with food. Give a brunch in the beautiful, carefree Hawaiian manner. It's fun, different, yet it's all done with familiar foods.

The main course is a handsome platter of baked whole bananas and thick ham steak, which is cut into individual portions and served with the bananas. The mellow tasting bananas, which give the platter such a wonderful party air, are easy to prepare with a delicious glaze of maple-blended syrup and tender-thin flaked coconut.

A new idea in breakfast first courses is the tempting Sunrise Sherbet. It is made with creamy evaporated milk for richness and velvety texture. Canned tropical punch gives it authentic island flavor and rich, rosy color. (You may wish to make a double quantity of this refreshing and inexpensive milk sherbet to serve all weekend long, either alone or as an addition to fruit cup or iced tea.)

Even the bread in this menu has a Hawaiian touch. Ordinary brown 'n' serve rolls are brushed with maple-blended syrup and topped with a sprinkling of chopped Hawaiian Macadamia nuts, then heated in the oven as directed on the package.

Baked Bananas Oahu With Coconut

1 ripe banana
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
1/4 cup tender-thin flaked coconut

Peel bananas and place in a well-greased baking dish. Brush thoroughly with butter or margarine and syrup. Sprinkle bananas with coconut. Bake in a 450 degree oven 8 to 10 minutes... or until bananas are easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with syrup. Yield: 6 servings.

Sunrise Sherbet

1 cup evaporated milk
1 can (8 ounces) frozen concentrated tropical punch
1/2 cup sugar
Few drops food coloring (optional)

Chill evaporated milk in freezer tray of refrigerator until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into chilled bowl and whip with rotary beater or high speed of electric mixer until milk is stiff.

Combine frozen concentrated tropical punch, sugar and salt; add to milk 1 tablespoon at a time, whipping until very stiff. Add food coloring, if desired.

Turn into freezer tray or loaf pan and freeze until firm. Use ice cream scoop to make "sunrise" serving. Garnish in "sunrise" style with canned pineapple slice.

One of the secrets of really fine fried chicken, Southern style, is to use small birds that get tender quickly.

MACARONI SALAD LOAF — This unusual main course salad is made with macaroni, chicken, mushrooms and cheese. Although it has to be baked, it is served cold. Try it for a summer buffet.

Macaroni Loaf Served Cold

A cold macaroni loaf, baked and then chilled makes an attractive summer luncheon or Sunday night supper. Like molded gelatin salads, it's a fix-ahead dish... just slice and serve.

Since the main course is fairly substantial... why not serve a bowl of mixed fresh fruit for dessert? Could be strawberries and pineapple or cultivated blueberries and peaches. For an added touch, garnish the fruit with canned flaked coconut.

Chicken Macaroni Salad Loaf

1/4 cup butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 oz. can chopped, drained mushrooms
4 oz. processed American cheese, diced
2 cups cooked elbow macaroni, drained
1/2 cups finely sliced cooked chicken
1/2 cup sliced almonds
Melt butter in skillet over moderate heat. Add onion and saute 1 minute. Stir in flour. Add milk, chicken bouillon cube, mustard and contents of can of mushrooms and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add cheese and continue to stir until cheese is melted.

Combine macaroni and chicken in large mixing bowl. Add diced pimiento. Pour in cheese sauce and mix thoroughly. Place in well-greased loaf pan, 8x4 inches. Bake in preheated oven, 350 degrees until lightly browned and done, about 40 minutes.

Cool in pan then refrigerate. When thoroughly cold, invert on cold serving platter. Garnish and serve, cutting loaf in slices like your favorite meat loaf. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Just a Peachy Dessert

A couple of extra egg whites in the refrigerator? Roast them until frothy with a dash of salt, then gradually beat in four tablespoons of sugar and a few bits of vanilla. Continue beating until very stiff and glossy. Spoon the meringue into the cavity of fresh peach halves and bake in a slow oven about fifteen minutes or until the meringue is lightly touched with brown.

Peaches and Cantaloupe Lead List of Food Buys

The "season's the reason" for so many food choices at such reasonable cost. Homegrown fruits and vegetables added to those shipped from other areas assure plenty for the market basket. Retail meat prices show little change with the exception of pork. Some pork cuts are lower. Fryer supplies are about one-fifth larger than a year earlier. Small size eggs are more abundant at this season.

PRODUCE DEPARTMENT — Peach, plenty! That is the peach story for the balance of August and most of September.

Peaches must look good to be good. Ripeness is your clue. Peaches should be left on the tree until firm-ripe. Full flavor-goodness develops only on the tree.

Firm-ripe peaches have natural peach goodness and near-mellow texture and can be held 3-4 days for fresh use. Firm-ripe peaches become full-ripe at room temperature in 3-4 days.

Full-ripe peaches are full-flavored, juicy and mellow. These are the only peaches for the best in fresh peach eating.

What about under-ripe peaches? Under-ripe peaches may get soft, but will never develop sweet-peach flavor; mellow texture and juiciness; bright, natural color. Peaches with green in the "ground" or background are under-ripe. Pick a peach with yellow or yellowish-white background color.

Michigan's cantaloupe harvest is under way Honey Rock, one of the favorite varieties, is large with netting that is raised and coarse.

It is the smart shopper who knows the clues to selecting good cantaloupe. Ripe melons are heavy for their size. The stem end should be slightly sunken, smooth and well calloused. The netting should be raised, coarse, dry and grayish in color. The color beneath the netting varies according to variety, but should not be dark yellow or orange as this may mean over-ripeness. The odor should be musky-like, fragrant and sweet.

Softness at the stem end is no guide to choosing cantaloupe.

If probably means another shopper thought this a good way to test cantaloupe and pressed the end, causing it to become soft.

Growers report green beans have passed their peak in quality and production. If you still plan to can or freeze beans, action is the word to follow.

All sizes of cucumbers are available for all sizes of pickles and relish.

You will find price changes on pears and bananas this week. Larger supplies bring slightly lower cost.

MEAT REPORT—A look in the pork department will find special emphasis on picnics, chops and roasts from the loin, bacon and hams.

Canned hams weighing between 3 1/4 to 8 1/2 pounds range from about 85 cents to slightly over $1.00 a pound. When cost per pound is divided by four (the number of servings canned ham yields)—the cost is less than that of many other meat cuts.

To be assured of the best flavor in ground beef you buy, use it within a day after purchase. If you cannot use it within that time, shape into the form in which you wish to cook it, wrap in foil and freeze. No thawing necessary when time to cook.

EGGS — Good things sometimes come in small packages. This is the case with eggs at this season. Young hens, which begin to lay in late summer and early fall, first lay small eggs.

Allowing for the weight difference, the smaller eggs offer as much food value as large eggs. In recipes, substitute three small eggs in place of two large eggs. The small size is the economy buy when large eggs of the same grade are 15 cents a dozen more.

Vary French Dressing

Here are some of the good tid bits you can add to French dressing to add extra interest: minced hard-cooked egg, minced drained canned beets, minced pickles or pickle relish, sliced stuffed olives, minced parsley, minced green pepper and canned pimiento and grated onion (pulp and juice).
